Digby Town Councillors Vote Themselves $500 Annually

For the first time in its history Digby is paying its Town Councillors a salary. By regular motion it was decided on Tuesday evening by the councillors that town councillors would receive $500 a year retroactive to January 1, 1972. No decision was made on a mayor's salary on Tuesday evening.

Town workmen, by motion on Tuesday, were given a general raise of ten percent in wages. Town police were also given a raise.

Gerald Walsh, president of the Digby Kinsmen Club, addressed Council and showed drafts and sketches of the proposed park to be erected on town property on Church Street if it is obtainable from the town. The Kinsmen were commended for keeping the welfare of Digby citizens in mind when choosing activities and projects for their club.

It was decided that if the Nova Scotia Housing Commission did not accept the property for a Senior Citizens Home, then the property would be turned over to the Kinsmen Club for a three year period to develop a park with the option to renew the deal after three years or turn the property back to the hands of the town.

Mayor Glen Smith said that a meeting had been held by the Home for the Aged Committee with the Minister of Health, Minister of Welfare, Fire Marshal and architect and final plans would be made after Thursday regarding a Home for the Aged and Infirm to be built in town.

Permission was given to the Digby Water Commission to install complete automatic chlorination services within the town at a cost of $16,600.00 subject to the approval of the proper authorities, Department of Health, municipal affairs and the Department of Water Resources.

Discussion arose on the matter of mobile homes within the town and it was generally accepted that at present there are no regulations regarding this and no action to prevent these can be taken until a by-law is drafted up regarding the same.

Permits were granted to the Siesta Motel to build a furnace room on the motel and to Mrs. Evelyn Thibodeau to build a house on West Street.

It is understood that an agreement has been reached with the Department of Highways for the maintenance of Victoria Street. A continued special effort is being made to get hot asphalt for repairing patches on pavement on the town streets. Council decided to obtain garbage cans to be put on the front streets.

A request for an increase in the V.O.N. grant was not approved but the usual grant of $650.00 was given approval on Tuesday evening.

Discussion arose on the confusion about the holiday on Monday when Mayor Glen Smith had declared a holiday, but most of the town stores remained open. It was noted that no closing by-laws exist for the town and it is actually up to each individual store to carry on as he sees fit.

A request by the Digby Historical Society to have a ditch filled in by its property on Montague Row was turned down because of the parking problem which would arise. No definite date was set for the Historical Society Tag Day.

A complaint had been received from the Siesta Motel about the loud blowing of the train whistle when going by its property. This was to be looked into.

"LITTLE CINEMA" HAS GRAND OPENING

Wilbur VanTassell, a man who served as manager at the old Capitol Theatre for 34 years, cut the ribbon when the newly renovated structure, the Little Cinema, admitted a "full house" on the Grand Opening night on Tuesday.

It was in 1938 that the Capitol Theatre, now Little Cinema, was built and opened in Digby by Charles Walker, who had owned and operated the Bijou Theatre previously. It was then that Wilbur VanTassell became manager and he has continued until his retirement a few months ago due to ill health.

Mr. VanTassell, a carpenter and plumber by trade, also continued in this line of work.

Wilbur, as he is known by all Digbyites, was born in Digby, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Archibald VanTassell. Other than some years spent out West and in Canada's North, he has spent his life in Digby.

Having just been released from Hospital, Mr. VanTassell will be re-admitted to hospital in Halifax on July 9.

Mr. VanTassell is married to the former Mrs. Irene VanTassell, of Saint John, N. B.

On Tuesday evening Mr. VanTassell was presented with a pair of binoculars by Mr. Saunders in recognition of his services, as well as with a lifetime pass to the Little Cinema.

D.G. HOSPITAL RESTRICTS PATIENT DAILY CENSUS

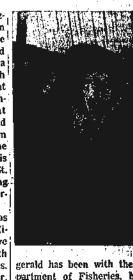
The executive of the Digby General Hospital in regular session in July reviewed the serious financial situation which has arisen out of budgetry cuts which place the hospital in the position of having to operate at a substantial deficit at the end of the year or to seriously curtail services. The five percent increase over the 1971 approved budget, it was found, does not provide sufficient revenue to maintain existing services and to provide for normal staff increments. To provide services to 1971 level could result in an operating deficit of $25,000 to $30,000.

In order to control costs, the hospital board executive on Thursday decided that through July and August they would restrict the daily census to sixty patients. This, they felt, will enable the board to operate without relief staff and at the same time provide normal vacation periods for the nursing staff. The board expressed the hope that the public will understand and cooperate with its efforts to operate within the limits proposed by the Nova Scotia Hospital insurance budgetry restrictions.

The only acceptable alternative would be for the board to substantially reduce services during November and December and consider the possibility of the laying off of hospital personnel. However, with cooperation of the public and the medical and hospital staff it is anticipated that an acceptable level of service can be maintained without serious inconvenience.

The board wanted to assure the public that all emergencies would be attended to.

New Doctor Arrives

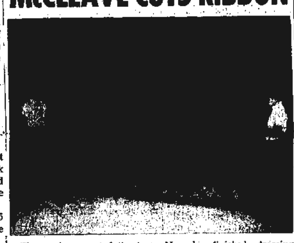


Dr. James Matthew Fitzgerald (right) arrived on July 1st to join the McCleave Medical Centre. Dr. Fitzgerald was born in Antigonish, Nova Scotia; received his high school education at Saint Patricks, Halifax; his Bachelor of Science degree at Saint Francis Xavier and graduated in medicine from Dalhousie University at the May convocation. He did his internship in Halifax and St. Johns, Newfoundland. During his school life he was interested in sports.

Dr. Fitzgerald, who has taken up residence at Hi-View Apartments, will serve as a general practitioner with special interest in pediatrics.

Dr. Fitzgerald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Fitzgerald, reside in Halifax. Mr. Fitzgerald has been with the Department of Fisheries, being a former chief protection officer.

McCLEAVE CUTS RIBBON



Those who accepted the invitation to view the newly renovated and decorated Digby Forum on Thursday evening saw a marked improvement in the appearance of the building both on the exterior and interior.

Cutting the ribbon to mark the opening was Dr. J. R. McCleave, past chairman of the Digby Recreation Commission seen in the picture. Holding the ribbon are Stacy Daley and Darrell Daley, Rossway, whose father "Rit" Daley was foreman of the LIP project which enabled the commission to attempt the project.

Dr. McCleave paid tribute not only to those who worked at this particular project for the Forum, but also those through the years who had made the Forum a beneficial place for the youth of the communities. He mentioned Reider Berntsen, Clayton Snow, Herbert Daley and Bernard Bell, to name only a few. The ceremonies were chaired by V. G. Cardoza, who said that a great deal of work had gone into the Forum but to those who had worked, it had been a pleasure to see the benefits of their labours affecting the fine youth of the area. His Worship Mayor Glen Smith commended those who had the foresight to take opportunity of the LIP grant and named the originators as Buddy Barr, Fulton Logan and Bernard Bell. He said the Digby Forum now takes second place to none in the province. He hoped it would be used and not abused.

The project, done during the winter, paid out $12,720.00 in wages plus vacation pay, Unemployment Insurance, Canada Pension and Workmen's Compensation and $8,163.38 for materials and supplies, making a total of $22,033.63 expenditures. Received from government was $14,638.00 and from the Digby Recreation Commission $4,375.00 for a total of $19,013.00, leaving a balance of $3,020.63 still to be paid.

Newly finished dressing rooms for men and women and visitors rooms have been attractively panelled and the canteen relocated and renovated. Bleachers in the balcony have been painted grey and walls surrounding are green. Green is also used in the corridors on the ground floor where a white fence, blue benches make the whole setting attractive. The advertising signs throughout enhance the interior with their novel and unique approach as well as beauty. The entire building has had an exterior face lifting with a coat of red paint.

Six walkers for the walkathon sponsored to raise funds for the new youth center at Clementsvale, came up with $1,750 in pledges.

The walkers left Yarmouth on Wednesday, June 28, at six o'clock in the morning, and arrived at their camp site anywhere between 12:30 and four o'clock p.m.

Two nights were spent at the Anchor Inn Trailer Park in Meteghan and the third night they stayed at the Maple Tree Trailer Park.

The walkers averaged 25 miles per day to make the total of 75 miles.

Special thanks was extended to Mrs. Clyde O'Neil at the Maple Tree Lodgings.

DR. PURDY GETS 50-YEAR JEWEL

At the regular communication of The Keith Lodge #16, Bear River, on Monday evening, July 3rd, the District Deputy for Digby-Annapolis, Rt. Wor. Willis Mullen, made the presentation of a fifty year jewel to Bro. (Dr.) Robert A. Purdy.

In making the presentation, Mr. Mullen said that Bro. Purdy was born at Deep Brook, January 20, 1896, and received his early schooling at Deep Brook and Bridgetown.

On November 7, 1921, he was initiated into Freemasonry in The Keith Lodge #16, passed to the degree of Fellowcraft on December 5, 1921, and raised to the sublime degree of a Master Mason on January 2, 1922. He is also a member of the Benevolent Order of the Shrine. Bro. Purdy by profession is an Osterpathic Doctor and although retired, still keeps active. Bro. Purdy is a member of the Deep Brook Anglican Church and just recently celebrated, along with his good wife, their forty-eighth wedding anniversary. In awarding the 50 year jewel, Mr. Mullen said it is awarded to all Brothers who achieve the record of fifty years of continuous membership in the Masonic order. Across the clasp at the top is inscribed 1921-1971, while pendant to

Vacation Bible School

Members and friends of the Digby Church of God are looking forward to July 9-16, when they will be holding their 5th Maritime Conference and Vacation Bible School.

The Bible School, which is open to all with classes for nursery through adult, will be conducted by the Knapps, a very talented family that is well known throughout the Church of God for their Sunday School work. They have a unique and different way of presenting stories and lessons that is enjoyed by all.

Revival messages will be presented nightly and on both Sundays by Rev. David Krogh, guest minister.

The public is cordially invited to attend all of these services.

WEYMOUTH DAY SUCCESS

Despite inclement weather, festivities went on in Weymouth on Saturday when the Weymouth Kiwanis Club sponsored Weymouth Day. Over $3,000 proceeds was taken in, it is understood.

A large crowd watched the parade, which marched to the AAA Grounds to the strains of lively music although bands were not present for the occasion and quality of floats had to make up for lack of quantity in comparison to previous years.

Midway, baseball, barbecues and ox pulls provided entertainment and needs. Results of the pulls are as follows:

Medium Class: 1st, Roland Hurlburt, 9400 lb. - 3.37, of Carleton - highest percentage; 2nd, Ernie Bent, 3.18; 3rd, George Hall, 3.16.

Heavy Class: 1st, Oran Veinotte, team weight 3350, pulled 10650 lbs., 3.17, of Caledonia, heaviest load; 2nd, Ken Hebb, 3060, 9400, 3.07; 3rd, Ralph Whenton, 3065, 9200, 3.00.

About 30 teams took part in the contest.

Elected To Boards

Art Rice, Weymouth Service Station operator, was recently elected by his colleagues to represent them on Imperial Oil's Sales Area Board for the coming year.

The first board meeting was held at the Citadel Inn, in Halifax. At this meeting he was again elected to the Atlantic Region Advisory Board for Imperial Oil.

"Art" has been elected to the Sales Area Board each year since 1962, and has served on the Atlantic Region Advisory Board (with the exception of two years) since 1964.

Presenting a dance concert with over 100 children and teenagers is not an easy task as much work behind the scenes occurs that the audience does not see. Things may run smoothly in the stage presentation but behind the scenes it can become a bedlam. In the photo is seen Mrs. Agnes Saulnier, of Salmon River, combing the hair of a little dancer in readiness for her turn on stage. Photo was taken behind the scenes at the annual presentation of step dancing, as well as ballet dancing at the Clare District High School held recently at Meteghan River. (Melanson photo)

Enjoying Summer Sun

Mr. Erhard Weyhe, age 90 years, who had recently suffered a bout with the flu, is now able to be out at his summer home in Acaciaville to enjoy the summer sun. Mr. Weyhe, who operates an art and book store in New York City, has been coming to Digby and area for the past 40 years. He's known throughout the area for his generous and kind personality and his intelligent conversation in many fields, particularly in the field of horticulture. Mr. Weyhe has one daughter Gertrude (Mrs. Zeth Dennis) and one son, Arthur, both in New York. There are three grandchildren.

BE A SPORT

Jack Nichols president of the Digby Fish and Game Association has appealed to the general public to "be a sport." Mr. Nichols said that the Digby Fish and Game Association has been in operation for sixteen years and through this time it has tried to promote good sportsmanship, safety in swimming and canoeing, use of firearms and in general all around good sportsmanship with their motto being "Be A Sport."

Mr. Nichols has found that in all organizations there are always the few who do work and they will likely continue to do so but the workers and directors of the Digby Fish and Game Association are making a special appeal to the people of Digby municipality and surrounding area and are contacting membership committees to urge people to take out membership. The price of membership is $5.00 per family per year which includes the man, the wife and the children. For this membership the family is allowed use of the grounds free of charge at such time that the grounds are rented or in use by another organization. Mr. Nichols felt that a good many people had been going to the Fish

— ABOUT THIS AND THAT —

Welcome, Welcome, Welcome Friends

July 4th is over and as usual when Independence Day has gone by our American and Upper Canadian friends come to Digby to spend the entire summer, the annual short vacation or stop in passing through. While we cannot see any particular reason to fly the American flag in Nova Scotia as a special gesture to Americans, we do want to say to them and other visitors, "welcome, friends, welcome."

There are many simple ways in which we can make the Americans and "other Canadian" visitors welcome other than flying the American flag. (Let them do that on their property if they want to.) We can greet visitors with a smile, show that we are interested and that we want to serve them to the best of our ability. We can be co-operative and informative. We should not have the attitude "we can charge plenty, they are tourists." People will not return when they feel they are being "fleeced" and may we say right here that a couple from Montreal visited our shop on Monday and named some of the items which were of much lower price in their own city. They, however, were enjoying their visit but exorbitant prices could send these people to a more economical vacation elsewhere.

How often we've heard the expression "I'd like to live here. The air is fresh. It is so quiet and peaceful."

Shall we, then, make our country noisy to make the tourist feel at home? Shall we then deliberately pollute the air? No. These and others are the things vacationers want to leave behind them. They want to have a complete change, even to forgetting for a brief few days that there is an American flag. As we want to see how others live when we vacation so our visitors want to see how we live as us. They are not interested in how much we can be like them. They want to feel at home in our way of life.

So let's be ourselves. Let's show our own colours and here's a welcome, thrice welcome, to our visiting friends.

Hodge Podge

Digby surely was a lively looking town on Monday despite Monday being proclaimed a holiday by His Worship.

— There are a few things people just gotta learn about driving cars. Hills make no excuse for accelerated speed. The police might admit to the rate being 60 or under at the top of the hill, but acceleration to 64 at the bottom calls for a fine. What are brakes for? Then, there's the guy who thinks a yellow light gives permission to "go". Not so unless it is deemed safer to continue on a yelow light than to stop. You just don't start on a yellow light. That, too, calls for a fine.

— A man from Maryland, U. S. A., got the name of our newspaper from an information office in New York. Having passed through Digby while on vacation two years ago, he decided that Digby area would be a good place to retire. He subscribes to the Courier in order to see what is on the market for homes.

— Remember when we were encouraged, and tried to encourage everybody else to plant lupins along our highways to enhance the beauty of the countryside? Now we can see that an order-in-council, dated May 17, 1972, placed lupins on the noxious weed list of the Nova Scotia Weed Control Act.

— Add this to your list of occupations. If you can't you are not really, truly a Christian. You are a Lemonade Maker. So a Grade XII youth reasons in her short article on "Who's A Committed Christian?" Lu Ann Wunderlich writes: "Actually a committed Christian is a maker of lemonade. In other words, a Christian, by profession, is a maker of lemonade. He searches through his lifetime, not looking for anything in particular except that of aiding others."

— We heard an organization remark the other night that their subject of study this year will be on population. The inflection seemed to suggest it was a new thought and this was seemingly strange. Haven't we been worried about population explosion for the past few years? Why get so excited now? We think we tumbled after we read this in another weekly newspaper: "But if the population rate continues downward, there is a real risk that the nation might 'overswing'. The population rate may decline too rapidly with too few babies being born. This is certainly a kind of population problem — one closely related to economic stability and social planning — development of schools, housing, transportation systems, jobs." So, here we go again. The pendulum is likely to be ready to swing the opposite direction again! The quotation came from a newspaper article regarding a study of the birth dearth in U.S.A. and we quote further: "Any businessman knows that his business, as well as the nation's economy, relies on growth and an increase in customers. Expansion of his business is not only a sign of potential and optimism, but also creates more jobs for more people."

— "If the total number of customers should suddenly stabilize, could the economy adjust to the change? Could an economy hard-pressed to find customers provide additional jobs for the millions of now-young people who will be entering the labor force in the next decade? If not, how would these young people consume enough to keep productive industries running smoothly, even at a reduced level? Of course there is always distribution of population to consider.

— Quote from Alvin Tofler's "future shock" is "change in our day is so rapid that we are literally unable to differentiate among changes and make appropriate judgements and adjustments, and our whole society is headed for a nervous breakdown."

— Always remember a Teachers College principal saying that if you want to chew gum do it in your bedroom when you are alone. Probably that is why it grates on our nerves to see persons in prominent functions chewing gum or the jaws of anyone rapidly exercising while performing work in front of people. Of course, the exercise might be done to calm the nerves in stress or times, including etiquette, might change with the years. Strangely, though, the lack of dignity neither seems to become the modern prince nor princess and cannot carry off in the same manner that the mod clothes attempt to do.

Letters To The Editor

P. O. Box 1705,
Digby, N. S.

Mrs. Edith Wallis,
Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

When I came to live in Digby in April, I surely did not expect to become a patient in your very fine hospital quite so soon.

May I, through the medium of your paper, convey my thanks, firstly to Dr. N. Bissel and nurses, for their considerate attention during my stay. Also to the Rev. Mr. Stevens, and ladies of the U.C.W. of Grace United Church, and many others who sent in wishes of good cheer to a somewhat embarrassed newcomer.

If any good has transpired from my illness, it has made me very happy to have chosen Digby as my "Home Town." Thank You.

Edith M. Walker.

July 1, 1972.
Digby, N. S.,

Editor,
Digby Courier.

Dear Mrs. Wallis,

Mr. Brian Meagher, Deputy Minister of Fisheries for Nova Scotia, has accepted a request to meet with the Digby Board of Trade on Tuesday, July 11. Mr. Meagher will speak in the interests of fisheries and, it is hoped that people generally will be interested in hearing him, particularly those persons directly connected with fisheries. The fish and fishing industries, as many people know, have been, and are, very important to the economy of Digby and area. Mr. Meagher has also consented to discuss problems relating to the fishery.

As one looks back over the years, it is remembered that, a number of members of the Digby Board of Trade, working together, have from time to time brought about significant accomplishments for Digby and area, such as: the Digby Forum; port development with improved ferry service and improved docking facilities for both ferry and the fishery; promotion of tourist interests by: literature; road signs; floats in street parades and running of fairs; organizing of meetings with government officials and civil servants relating to business affairs in the interest of all citizens. For instance, when some particular new act or law was passed by government and needed to be explained directly to the people through presentation and discussion, the Board of Trade engaged the appropriate official to meet with all interested persons. Such acts were: Wartime Price and Wage Control; Hospital Tax; Unemployment Insurance, etc.

Pressure for the establishment of CFB Cornwallis in the Digby-Annapolis area was effectively exercised by organized members of the Digby Board of Trade. One such important occasion was when the Board met with the then Canadian Finance Minister, the late Hon. J. L. Ilsley, who politically represented the Digby-Annapolis area.

The Board, over the years, has, from time to time, been very active in either operating or assisting in many events, all the way from collecting freight car loads of salvage for the war effort to running a dance hall for raising funds toward a recreation centre consisting of rink and ball field; July 1st parades and fairs. The Board also operated a hostel for Service Personnel for a short time during the last World War until the then newly formed Digby Branch of the Navy League took over. Answers were given by Board of Trade members to certain surveys made of industry and community for sake of information and future reference.

When the Digby-Saint John ferry service was disrupted for a lengthy period of time, on one occasion, some members of the Board worked hard and long to have the service restored, by greatly helping to finally bring about a settlement between railway management and labor union leaders.

Many other things have been done over the years. Thoughts for what is now the Kejimkujik National Park were first mentioned in a Digby Board of Trade committee meeting and immediately pressure began to rise for establishment of such a park in the Tobeatic Game Sanctuary area, Kedgemakooge finally being the area chosen by government authorities.

Yes, the Board of Trade, or, Chamber of Commerce, has been, and, always can be an important organization for community welfare and development, and it should never close shop at any time. There is always something of Board of Trade interest about which to be concerned and active. One thing necessary to make the Board viable is to have a few members working together to make the effort to keep it alive. There should be at least one committee working at any given time.

Please keep in mind Tuesday, July 11, for a meeting with the Nova Scotia Deputy Minister of Fisheries in the interests of our Board of Trade and our important fish and fishing industries. Do not forget that, the second Tuesday of each and every month is the regular Board of Trade night in Digby.

Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.

Dear Sirs:

Hope you can print this letter. Just heard about a causeway going across the Sissiboo River. Too bad!

It will just be another mess, spoiling our beautiful rivers and causing nothing but floods to other people's property, etc.. Like the one in Windsor, just a big mess. The river stinks and will never be any good again. Water now runs with the Cornwallis River in Kentville flooding people's basements, also the roads there, which never was done like it before. Overpasses and "clover leafs" just a hindrance to all.

Why not put these roads back of the town like Hantsport, Wolfville and Kentville did, with a road leading off them at each end of town? They're much better off. Hantsport is now one of the growing towns. Wolfville and New Minas are too. Weymouth and Weymouth North could be the same if they will put the main road back of Weymouth, saving cost of causeway, etc., and have roads leading in to the town. There's plenty of woods to develop instead of cutting up what is already developed now.

Save our rivers, lakes and good beaches, please.

I used to live in Weymouth North some years ago; was born there, by the way, so really hate to see it hacked up. Just take a look at Avon River in Windsor, N. S., and see what a mess they made here and spent thousands of dollars on, ruined people's homes and moved others off their land they owned and loved, all for the present, smelly mess which we have now.

Cars and trucks going all hours of the night one can hear for miles away. So put all main highways as far in the woods as possible, where we don't hear or see them.

Develop the center of the Nova Scotia province. Let the people before us have what they worked hard for and finished to a pretty picture worth a good painter's delight to paint.

I for one have painted many of the lovely scenes along these shores, beaches and coves, rivers and by-roads, etc.

Thanks for your time and space.

Best wishes, from

Teen Amirault.

Looking For Music Teacher

Digby Board of School Commissioners is still looking for a music teacher for the grades, it was learned at a meeting of the Board. A full-time physical education teacher is also being sought and Digby school elementary it is doubtful with a growing school and progress changes that the Digby Regional High School physical education instructors Wynn Meldrum and Victor Doucet will have time to instruct in physical education for the elementary grades.

Requests for maintenance for the school for the Mount Street, Saint Pat's and elementary schools by C.C. McInness were passed including painting of St. Pat's and Mount Street if time permits and an air conditioner was ordered by the elementary school costing in the vicinity of $330.00. A letter was read from Ann Whaily advising that the Department of Welfare was establishing a head start program this summer at Acadiaville. It was left to the chairman of the school board, Mrs. Ina Dillion and C.C. McInness to make a decision on the requests of the letter. It was decided to request the establishment of credit with transport companies for shipments to the new Supervisor of Curriculum for Digby and municipality, Jack Ritcey for supplies coming to his department of the schools. Mr. McInness had requested a $50.00 petty cash account for Mr. Ritcey as he said the Supervisor of Curriculum this year, Keith Chappell always had to dip into his own pocket to pay trucking charges or the arrival of supplies at his office. Rather than establish a petty cash account, it was felt better to establish credit if possible.

Singing Galileans In Digby Area

The Singing Galileans of Saint John, N. B., once again thrilled their listeners this past weekend as they presented sacred concerts in the area.

Saturday evening, July 1st, a sacred concert was presented at the Clementsvale Baptist Church to a capacity audience. Again on Sunday the group led in the morning service of the church, and, at the conclusion led the congregation in singing as all walked to the pool in the creekback of the church where a baptismal service took place, Lic. D. F. Miller, pastor, officiating.

On Sunday evening The Galileans presented an inspiring concert at the Drive-In Service held on the grounds of the Smith's Cove Consolidated School, with over 40 in attendance. Rev. Charles M. Milbury brought the message from God's Word.

The Galileans, Norman Baynes, leader, a group of fourteen dedicated, talented young people, testify that "born of a burning desire to see souls saved and believers stirred, the Galileans come presenting Jesus Christ as the answer. Each of our lives has been changed because of a personal experience with the 'living' Saviour. It is our hope that we may die daily to the flesh, and seek God's will for our lives. It is our desire that through our songs and testimonies, our love for Christ will be felt by all who hear us, that Jesus will become a living reality to others."

Gary Whitaker, of Saint John, came along with the group this time and witnessed of the change in his life since Christ had become a reality to him. Among the testimonies, David Green's solo, "Thanks to Calvary I'm Not the Man I Used to Be," graphically portrayed his gripping testimony of the change in his life from a dope addict to his present life. Also the beautiful renditions of trumpter, Steve Denton, of violinist, Ruth Flewelling, and her brother, Don, pianist, and each soloist or group impressed upon their hearers the sincerity of the testimonies of these young people.

While The Galileans were in the area for the weekend, they enjoyed relaxing with their families, who were with them this trip, at Sandy Bottom Lake as guests of members of the sponsoring churches.

Juniors Play At Greenwood

Six junior members of Digby Pines Golf Club went to Greenwood on Tuesday to play in Zone 3 Field Day for Juniors. Accompanying the boys were Jack Harris, Chairman of Junior Development and Bruce Hutchins. Despite the heavy rain and the wet course, these young golfers, Tom Cleveland, Linden Garron, Tom Lawley, David Oliver, Imran Sumad, and Stephen Saulnier acquitted themselves exceptionally well, bringing back four prizes. In the first division, Linden Garron won second low net; in the second division two prizes went to Digby-second low gross won by David Oliver and second low net won by Steve Saulnier; fourth division who came in with first was topped by Tom Lawley, low net.

On Monday, July 9, Jack Harris plans to enter twelve of his juniors in competition at Oakfield for team play in best-ball tournament. Besides the six fine players who represented the club at Greenwood, six more promising young golfers will represent Digby: Don Black, Mike Doucette, Paul Doucette, Randy Oliver, Barry Snow, and David Stewart. The best wishes of the club go with them.

In the Ladies Division play was held on Tuesday evening, followed by supper and a business meeting. Winner of the evenings play was Helen Daley, and prize for the fewest putts went to Tistie Dakin. With president Muriel Smith in the chair, plans were made for entertaining two visiting golfers, who will come from Halifax on Thursday, July 6, to rate the course for ladies play. Jean Armstrong and Frances Mann, representing the provincial branch of Canadian Ladies Golf Association will tee off at 9:30 with local players Helen Daley and Jean Burnett, and will be the guests of the club at luncheon.

Other plans made at the supper meeting included a twoball foursome on Thursday June 13, for both male and female players of the club followed by supper after the play.

RED CROSS means People Helping People

AUNTIE LITTER says KICK THE LITTER HABIT

Digby's fullbacks Jim Drew, Linden Garron and Dan Haight prepare to tackle Middleton's Charles Hunter. Murray Baxter tends goal.

Lose To Middleton

Undefeated Middleton of the Metro League handed Digby a disappointing setback on Saturday past. In spite of the apparent evenness of the early part of the match numerous break throughs and scrambles in front of the net resulted in an eight goal lead until David Wong scored in the final minutes. Digby seemed plagued by poor shooting and conditioning although plays were executed well occasionally.

On July 5th the team ferries to New Brunswick for a game against Saint John Moosheads of the southern N.B. Soccer League.

Digby Wins At Liverpool, Cornwallis

The Senior Soccer Club made its first trip to the South Shore and returned with a solid 4-0 victory over the Liverpool club. The team has made several adjustments of their line-up with former forward Mike LeBlanc switching to the back line and Chris Thibault to center forward. Playing a long passing game, forwards Rick Robbins, Ken Wagner, Lindsay Peck and Dave Banks scored Digby's goals.

Thibault Leads Scoring

Chris Thibault took a hold on the team scoring lead in the first game against Cornwallis, leading and kicking no less than five goals for Digby in a 12-1 rout of the host team.

Again in the following week's game Thibault contributed two outstanding headers to raise his total to seven goals. Unfortunately several cracked foot bones have sidelined the speedy centre temporarily and weakened the team's scoring punch. This second game featured a shut-out by goalkeeper Murray Baxter and backs Linden Garron, Danny Haight and Mike LeBlanc. Rick Robbins scored in this third straight game to follow Thibault with six goals.

Jim Drew clears the ball from Digby's end as Steve Durling tackles.

YOU BETTER BELIEVE IT!

HALF A CENTURY AGO!
Nova Scotia changed its "rules of the road" in 1922, requiring drivers of motor cars to use the right, rather than the left hand side of the road. Until that date, Nova Scotia followed the English practice of left-lane driving.

FROM WHITE TO YELLOW!
In 1972, Nova Scotia joined the nation-wide trend towards yellow centre-line markings. White is now used to denote only the pavement edge and climbing lanes.

BECAUSE IT'S SAFER!
A yellow centre line was adopted because it's more visible. You better believe that when your car crosses this line, your life is in danger. Between 1967 and 1971, improper passing injured 3886 and killed 102 Nova Scotians.
IF IN DOUBT - STAY RIGHT.

IN MEMORIAM

OUTHOUSE — In loving memory of our dear parents, our mother, Luella S., who passed away July 5, 1971 and our father, Frederick R. Outhouse, who departed Oct. 7, 1952.

God saw the road was getting rough,
The hill was hard to climb;
So he closed their weary eyelids
And whispered, "Peace be Thine".

Lovingly and sadly remembered by their children, Milton and Melba. 47:1ic

SANDERSON — In loving memory of my mother, Mary Sanderson who passed away June 25, 1959, 19 years ago.

Her tired heart is sleeping
Her hands are at rest;
For a mother who suffered far too much
She is resting on God's breast.
You never said good-bye to us
Perhaps it's just as well.
For we never could have said good-bye
To the one we loved so well.

— She will always be remembered by her daughter, Mrs. Ronald Payson, and granddaughter, Peggy Sharon. 47:1ic McCLAFFERTY — In loving memory of my husband Wilbur F. McClafferty who passed away July 8th, 1972.

He is gone but not forgotten,
And, as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always near;
Days of sadness will come over us,
Friends may think the wound
is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within the heart concealed.
(Wife) Lena. 47:1ic

MARRIAGES

D'Ambrose — Conrad

The Grace United Church in Digby was the setting for the lovely wedding when Elnora Jean Conrad, Smith's Cove, daughter of Mrs. Hazel Weir, of West Concord, Mass., and Donald Michael D'Ambrose, Brighton, son of Mrs. Bessie D'Ambrose, Brighton, were united in marriage at a double-ring ceremony by Rev. Ronald Stevens. Mrs. Elton Arnold was the organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Roland Weir, Jr., Conway, wore a long white lace gown with empire waist and chapel train and shoulder length illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of red carnations.

Maid of honor for her sister was Mrs. Edith Saulnier, of Fredericton, N. B., who wore a long pink gown with white accessories and carried pink carnations.

Mrs. Susan Conrad was junior bridesmaid for her mother and wore a floor length yellow gown with white accessories, and carried white carnations.

Dee Saulnier, niece of the bride, was the charming flower girl, and John Amon, Brighton, was ringbearer.

Thomas J. Amon, Brighton, was best man, and ushers were Peter Amon, and brother of the bride, Harley Weir, Sr. Paul Smith, nephew of the bride, of Conway, was junior best man.

The bride's mother wore a black gown with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The mother of the groom wore a pink suit with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Fish & Game Association, Haines Lake, The centre of the pink and white decor of the bride's table was a three-tiered wedding cake. Serving the bride's table were daughters of the bride, Mrs. David VanTassel and Miss Marilyn Conrad, both of Smith's Cove. Music was provided by Ronald D'Ambrose, brother of the groom, and Mrs. Ronald D'Ambrose, of Hampton, N. B.

For her wedding trip the bride wore a mint green suit with white accessories.

For her wedding trip to New Brunswick the bride wore a mint green suit with white accessories. The couple will reside in Smith's Cove.

Out-of-town guests included an aunt of the bride, Mrs. John Olson, of Maynard, Mass., and relatives and friends from Bridgewater, N. S., area.

Flewelling — Welch

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Tuesday evening, May 30, 1972, at the Grand Bay United Baptist Church, Grand Bay, N. B., when Rev. M. C. Steeves united in marriage Ada M. Welch, formerly of Westport, N. S., to Herman G. Flewelling, of Saint John, N. B. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Gibbs, of Saint John, N. B.

For her wedding the bride chose a two piece suit of powder blue with white accessories and corsage of white carnations. The bride's attendant chose a two piece dress ensemble of turquoise blue with white accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a small reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril C. Urquhart (daughter of the bride), Ingleside, N. B. The toast to the bride was proposed by her son-in-law, Cyril C. Urquhart, to which the groom responded. Refreshments were served by Debbi and Linda Urquhart, granddaughters of the bride, and Mrs. Ronald Marsden.

Musical entertainment followed with George Hector and Mrs. Laurence Calvin, Jr., participating.

Mr. and Mrs. Flewelling will be residing at 40 Bellevieu Ave., Saint John, N. B.

Jefferson — Ritchie

The Bayers Road Baptist Church, Halifax, was the scene of a quiet wedding when Rev. George McCrady united in marriage Phyllis Edith Ritchie, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Thomas, Smith's Cove, to Joseph Earl Jefferson.

The couple were attended by the Bride's youngest son, Thomas Ritchie, and Miss Carolyn Blackmore, both of Halifax.

Mrs. Ritchie's dress was an off-white and silver ernet jersey with brown accessories and corsage of pink roses.

Miss Blackmore was dressed in navy and white with navy accessories and corsage of yellow roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the "House of Mei Mei", Bedford highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson will reside in Smith's Cove.

Leonard — Sears

A pretty summer wedding was solemnized at the Digby Baptist Church on June 3rd when Judith Avis, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Avery R. Sears, Digby, was united in marriage to Mr. Terry James Leonard, of Digby, son of Mrs. M. S. Leonard and the late Mr. Leonard. Rev. Donald Robertson officiated at the ceremony; Mrs. Robertson was the organist; Mrs. Patricia Wilson soloist. She sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "Because".

The bride, entering the church on the arm of her father, looked radiant in a flowing gown of white chiffon with sheer puffed sleeves. Her chiffon veil draped to the floor from a large white picture hat. Pink and white ribbons cascaded from her basket of pink roses, stephenotis and baby's breath fern.

Mrs. Marion Savary, friend of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Joy Leonard and Miss Lee Hall. They wore delicate pink crimplene gowns of a "little girl" style identical to that of the bride. Their white picture hats were sashed with the same candy pink. Their dainty baskets held pink and white mixed flowers and baby's breath.

David Leonard, brother of the groom, was best man; Howard Leonard and Nathan Savary were ushers. They are all of Halifax.

The mother of the bride looked lovely in a silk jersey gown of sunshine yellow with white accessories. She wore yellow sweetheart roses on her dress and in her hair.

The groom's mother was charming in a rose crepe gown, pastel mink stole and white accessories. Her corsage was of deep pink roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall. At the hall Mrs. Karen Woods, sister of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Robert K. Smith, of Port Maitland.

The happy couple left on a short honeymoon.

They will reside in Digby.

Wagner — O'Connell

Holy Cross Roman Catholic Church, Plympton, Digby County, was the scene of the wedding of Gloria Ann O'Connell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Connell, Plympton, to Robert Joseph Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Wagner, Plympton. Rev. Jules Comeau, Comeauville, officiated at the ceremony. Mrs. Clifford Doucette, Gilbert Cove, was the organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original floor length gown of peau de soie, fashioned with an empire waist, with trim down the centre of the dress and on the sleeves and a floor length train. Her veil was held in place with a white rose headpiece and she carried a bouquet of red and white mums.

Mrs. Elaine White, Halifax, was matron of honor and wore a short A-line mauve dress of crimp material and designed with a ring collar and short sleeves. She carried a bouquet of mauve and white mums.

Keith White, Halifax, was best man and the ushers were Randy O'Connell, brother of the bride, and Brian Wagner, brother of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wagner, Barton. The bride's mother wore a pink gown and the groom's mother chose a blue dress with matching coat.

Sullivan — Roth

The marriage of Terry Roth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Roth, Clementsport, to Robert Sullivan, son of Mrs. H. A. Berend, Truro, and Alvin Sullivan, Brookfield, took place in the House of Roth, Clementsport. Rev. George Brydon, Chegoggin, officiated at the ceremony. Miss Randy Roth, sister of the bride, was the organist.

The bride wore a long white crimplene dress and picture hat of nylon lace with a shoulder length veil. She carried a white Bible covered with flowers.

Miss Gwendolyn Roth, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a long rose pink crepe dress with smocked bodice and sleeves and carried a single long-stemmed rose.

The best man was Eldon Blackmore, Truro.

The bride's mother chose an ecru two piece coat and dress ensemble with ecru lace trim and lilac accessories. The mother of the groom wore a soft aqua crimplene dress.

A reception followed the ceremony.

Richardson — Sutherland

The wedding of JoAnne Beverly Mary Sutherland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Sutherland, Clementsport, Annapolis County, to Larry Andrew Richardson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Richardson, Dartmouth, was solemnized in Immaculate Conception Church, Woodside.

Entering the church with her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white lace over satin, fashioned with full skirt on train, long sleeves, fitted waist, scoop neckline and all with inserts of satin. She carried an arm bouquet of American Beauty roses. Her shoulder length veil was of lace and was held by a crown of orange blossoms and pearls.

Mrs. William Sawler, Dartmouth, was matron of honor. She wore a full length gown of pale green taffeta and large brimmed hat. Her bouquet was of yellow centered white daisies with yellow rosebuds. William Sawler was the best man.

The bride's mother wore a street length dress of rose crimplene with gold trim, muskrat jacket and matching hat. Mrs. Richardson wore a dress of fine grey wool with black accessories.

A reception was held at the home of the couple on Jackson Road, Dartmouth.

Boudreau — Auby

The marriage of Mrs. Christyann Auby, Clementsport, to Master Corporal Gerald Simon Boudreau, Greenwood, was solemnized in the Baptist parsonage, Deep Brook. Rev. Charles Milbury officiated at the ceremony. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boudreau, formerly of Clementsport, now of Dartmouth.

The bride wore a long gown of powder blue crimplene with silver trim and carried a posegay of pink rosebuds and white daisies.

The attendant was Mrs. Wayne Auby, Hamilton, Ontario, who wore a yellow crimplene gown with silver trim. Her nosegay was of yellow rosebuds with white daisies.

William Gardner, CFB Cornwallis, was the best man.

Marriage

Durand — LeBlanc

St. Bernards Roman Catholic church was the scene of a pretty summer wedding on July 1st at 3 p.m., when the Rev. Mg. J.N. Theriault, united in marriage, Regine Claudette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis LeBlanc of Belliveau Cove., to Charles Louis Durand Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Durand Sr. of Lorettevile, Que. The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of mums, roses, and mixed summer flowers for the occasion. Jocilyn LeBlanc of Little Brook was organist, and Irene Boudreau of Concession was soloist.

As the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, Pierre Durand, brother of the groom sang, and accompanied himself on the guitar, an orginal composition composed by him for the occasion. He also rendered another solo during the Communion.

The bride was charming in a gown of white dotted swiss, trimmed with pink lace. It was fashioned with a high neckline, bouffant sleeves to the forearm with wide cuffs. The skirt flowed into a long train. She wore a white picture hat and carried a bouquet of pink roses and baby breath.

Her twin sisters were her attendants, Louise, as maid of honour, gowned in pink, and Denise as bridesmaid in a gown of blue, made in the same material as the bride's gown. They carried baskets of pink roses, and work picture hats to match their dresses.

Groom's men were Louis Durand, cousin of the groom, and Neil LeBlanc, brother of the bride. Ushers were Maurice Robicheau and Michael LeBlanc.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Legion Hall at Saulnierville. The bride's table was decoratel with tapers and flowers, and centered with a three-tier wedding cake. Rev. Msg. Theriault proposed the toast to the bride, and the Hon. Beniot Comeau, and Bernard LeBlanc, warden of Claire, also gave congratulatory address.

The bride's mother chose a dress of mint green, poie de riis, with a beaded bodice, and wore a corsage of white chrysanthemums on her purse.

The groom's mother chose a formal suit of shell pink, with pink and brown striped jacket. Her corsage was of deep pink chrysanthemums.

They left on a trip throughout the province, following the reception, for which the bride chose a coral pant suit.

The happy couple will reside in Dartmouth, where they are both employed.

Among the outside guests were Mr. and Mrs. Denise Soucie of St. Foy Que., Mrs. Cecile Belliveau of Lexington, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Melanson and family of Halifax; Doris MacDonald, Mary Murphy, Mary Evans, Mrs. Vaughn of Halifax, and numerous relatives from Quebec City.

BEST WISHES ARE EXTENDED THE "LITTLE CINEMA"

Digby scored another goal on Tuesday evening when the newly renovated theatre, now known as The Little Cinema, opened its doors to special guests and friends. The theatre once known as The Capitol, has been closed for more than a month to have extensive renovations and minor repairs. The special opening film, "Diamonds Are Forever", began shortly after the official opening ceremonies when Wilbur VanTassell cut the ribbon. Mr. VanTassell had been manager of The Capitol Theatre from the time of its opening, about 35 years ago, until the present time when ill health prevents him from taking on strenuous duties.

The Little Cinema building, with its new look, is a definite asset to the appearance of downtown Digby. Staggered British Columbia cedar shingles cover the entire front face of the building which also harbours the Rosco Handspiker insurance office and Capitol Barber Shop. A shingled canopy with fluorescent lighting runs above the sidewalk for the entire length of the building with an extended portion over the Cinema entrance. The second storey of the building remains as before, in brick finish.

Inside the front entrance is the lobby with the ticket booth. This has wall to wall carpeting in red and black and the walls are finished in shingles and brick. The ticket booth is done in the cedar shingles also and red chairs are placed in the lobby for convenience of those who wait or wish to enjoy conversation. Wrought iron candle chandeliers add to the attractive decor of the lobby, which features archways for entrance into the adjacent corridors.

To the left of the lobby are two entirely renovated and enlarged washrooms. The ladies' washroom is done in red and white tiling, while the other has sand and white as predominent colors.

Entering the corridor from the lobby, one steps again on a red and black figured wall to wall carpet which extends over the stairs into an exit in the rear. Again the staggered light and brown blended cedar shingles combined with brick effect cover the walls. This is enhanced by concealed amber lighting over the counter, where can be bought Pepsi-Cola, hot popcorn with butter and candy. Colonial style lamps are also used in the corridor where billboards announce succeeding films to be shown.

Most important in all the renovations is that of the auditorium which along with the other assets classified Digby's Little Cinema as "nothing like it on this side of Montreal" for a town of its size. Seating capacity in The Little Cinema runs into 440. Provided for this audience are comfortable chairs with black frames and red cushioned seats. Trackers of red and black carpeting enhance the aisles as light reflects from the colonial style black lamps on the red walls.

A complete new sound system has been installed with an eight track stereo recorder which provides quiet music for those who will await the start of the show.

The stage has been enlarged and newly lighted so that it will readily accommodate live shows, meetings and other functions. The screen which will be hung with velvet curtains is one of the latest and is in pearl essence. The front of the platform is done with the staggered cedar shingles.

The projection room has been enlarged with all new equipment.

MORE PROGRESS IN DIGBY

On "Little Cinema" Staff

Patrons were turned away from the show "Diamonds Are Forever" when the newly renovated theatre, now the Little Cinema, opened its doors on Tuesday evening. Shortly after eight o'clock the capacity of 440 had been filled. All in their places after the special ribbon cutting ceremony were the staff of the Little Cinema, which included David VanTassell, projectionist; Mrs. David VanTassell and Robyn Graham, canteen; Mrs. Wilbur VanTassell, cashier, and Roger Marshall, floor manager.

Proprietors of the theatre, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Saunders, were on hand to greet the guests amid the luxury of wall-to-wall carpeting, soft amber glow and baskets and vases of flowers presented by MacGregor Bedding and Steele Furnishings Ltd.; Major and Mrs. Alfred Boutilier; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Levy; Mr. and Mrs. DeMille Raymond; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stonehouse and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. MacInnes.

The unique staggered shingled walls with imitation brick combination, the pronounced red and black decor, the attractive lighting, sound effects and space arrangements for lobby, wicket, corridors, canteen and main assembly were all the product and imagination from the minds of Mr. and Mrs. Saunders.

Mrs. Saunders was the former Jacqueline (Jackie) Schumacher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schumacher, of Toronto, who finished her education in that city. Graham is a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Saunders, Digby, who after finishing high school was employed at Wallis Print Ltd. and then joined the Air Force. Later he studied at the Ryerson School of Technology. Mr. and Mrs. Saunders are both varied in their interests and possessions. They own the Saunders Jewellery, the Cue Pool Room, Little Cinema, High Rise Apartments and other properties and are real estate dealers.

Mr. and Mrs. Saunders have three children: Cheryll, Mark and Scott.

Mrs. K. Daw and daughter Cheryl, travelled to N.B., a week ago where they attended the celebrations at New Denmark. Mrs. Daw is formerly form that town.

Mr. and Mrs. Ceci Solkenis, Saint John, N.B., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tibert. That week Mr. Tibert was relieving officer at Weymouth. Mr. and Mrs. Tibert were also recent week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Prime and family, Kentville.

Mrs. Vera Crocker and Mrs. Aaron McKinnley, Dartmouth, were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Watson Crocker and family and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crocker.

Lloyd Thurber, Halifax, visited his mother, Mrs. Charles Thurber for a weeks' vacation.

Mrs. Jean Weir, who has been spending the last few months at Yarmouth, he has returned to her home here. She has as her guest her brother, Dr. Andrew Weir, Yarmouth.

Dr. Robert Mellanson Cape Cod, Mass., is spending a few days at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Acherman, Orrow, Ohio and four grandchildren, have arrived in Freeport to spend some time at their summer home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Thurber recently spent a few days at Port Maitland where they attended a wedding.

Miss Betty Macintyre has been transferred from Halifax-to-Moncton for a short time where she will be working at the "Next To You" store.

Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams, and son and daughter, Maryland, have been spending a few days at the Doles' house.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Bower, Halifax, were the week-end guests of Mrs. Bowers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Hooper.

Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Howard and daugsiter, Laura, Halifax, were also visiting at Freeport with Mrs. Howard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crocker, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Crocker, son, Scott, Sprayfield, were visiting with Mr. Crockers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Watson Crocker.

Glad to see Mrs. Horace Levi is home and also Mrs. Gilbert Bates home from the hospital.

Congratulations to the newly-weds, Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Crocker (nee Heather Pyne) who were married on June 21st at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Ideson where Rev. Ideson performed the ceremony.

Word was received today by Mr. and Mrs. Alton MacNeill of the death of their son-in-law, Edgar Voinette at the Victoria General Hospital May we at this time extend our sympathy to them and to their daughter, Mrs. Voinette (Venna) and Dens. Ed's many friends here on the Islands will join us in sending sympathy to the family.

Mrs. Myrtle Leard, North Burnaby, Vancouver, B.C. visited with Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Outhouse, for a few days recently.

Mrs. Vera Crocker, spent a few days with her brother, Malcom Stevens, Mrs. Stevens and family, Dartmouth, due to a serious accident in which one of Mr. Steven's son was badly injured. We are glad to learn that this young man is on the mend and extend our best wishes for his recovery.

The meeting held on Thursday evening at the Islands School concerning Ferry problem was well attended by approximately 300 persons from the three communities. All the speakers who had been asked to attend were unable to for various reasons except that the M.L.A. Mr. Casey was on hand to explain to the best of his knowledge the ins and outs of the ferry situation. Also we were glad to see the Digby Courier Editor, Mrs. Edith Wallis in attendance, showing interest in the very worysome situation. Everyone is much concerned and we hope that when the Ferry is finally returned to Petite Passage that all will be well. The question was raised as to the best ways to make the Government aware of the seriousness of our crossing and what ways we can put it across that a Ferry is not the best means of getting from the Island to the Mainland especially during high winds and storms and that a Permanent Crossing is definitely needed.

Our sympathy this time goes out to Norman Perry, daughter, Ruth (Mrs. Ian Mailman), Mr. Mailman and grandson, Steven in the passing of Mrs Perry. We shall all miss Jemmie and there will always be a place for her among our memories of a wonderful person and friend.

The graduation Prom was held at the Islands Consolidated School on Friday evening with the Countrymen from Digby supplying the music. The dance was formal with most of the young people in long dresses and suits. The official chaperones for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crouse, Mrs. Diana Mallison, Mrs. Linda Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. Watson Crocker. Mr. Keith Manzer was present at the beginning of the evening.

Calls For More Discipline

The Islands Home and School held their last regular meeting of the season until September, on June 5th at the school, with quite a large gathering of parents, friends and members. Mrs. Linda Elliott, President was in the chair with Robert Johnson, acting as Secretary. The meeting called for by the Home and School with the Trustees did not materialize and displeasure was expressed over this. Some matters were discussed with the Principal, Keith Manzer over the courses to be given grade 11 and 12 students in the fourth coming year, also comments made by various parents concerning conduct of pupils on the school buses and also at the school. It was felt that more disipline needed in both instances.

The H & S expressed their thanks to Robert Johnson for the way which he has conducted Physical Fitness for the Elementary Students at the School and a purse of money was presented to him to at least help defray his gasoline expenses.

Money was voted to be given to Mr. Johnson to buy ice-cream for the field day that he is holding for the Elementary students at a later date. A list of new officers for the coming season was presented by the committee. President Robert Johnson, Vice-President Mrs. Gail Sollows, Sec't. Mrs. Virginia Crocker and Treas. Mrs. Norma Outhouse.

The H & S is once again sponsoring children at Johnson's Chrisham Park this summer. They are as follows: Lorna Crocker, Gary Stanton, Everett Pyne and Wendy Thurber. The H & S is paying $10.00 for each child and the rest of the families will provide. The group has been quite active this year and has provided help of money etc. for the good of the children and school when ever deemed necessary. A report will be later.

Trailer Provided For Nurse

A meeting was held in the Freeport Community Hall recently concerning a nurse to replace Mrs. dePlisses for the Islands. A statement was read from the Department of Health and Welfare saying that a nurse had been procured and that the Department of Health and Welfare will provide accomodations for the nurse. This will be a mobile home with living quarters for a nurse together with 2 hospital beds for patients. The three villages must provide a site for a trailer and provide water and sewage facilities.

A small number of citizens from Freeport, Westport and Tiverton attended this meeting. All were in agreement that this would be a wonderful thing for the Island residents and the Committees from the three communities were to meet the following day and view sites for the trailer to be located. These had to pass inspection by the Department of Health before finally being decided on.

A number of sites were looked at the following day and a few days later Dr. R.V. Rideout, Public Health Officer, Yarmouth, was in the village looking over the places chosen. However, the one that they thought was the most centrally located (along the new road) they were unable to obtain, so as far as can be ascertained, at time of writing, no definite location has been located. It was stressed that time was a factor in getting these facilities for the Islands. A few other sites had been offered for this purpose but were not suitable.

Married 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Warren MacIntyre Freeport, recently spent a few days at Upper Kennetcook where they attended the 50th Wedding Anniversary of Mrs. MacIntyres' parents Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clarke Mr. and Mrs. Clark's three daughters, and husbands, Dr. and Mrs. O'Donoughue, Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Willard, Dartmouth and Mr. and Mrs. MacIntyre, were all there to help their parents celebrate this happy occassion as well as a number of other relatives. Congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Clark, and many more "Happy Anniversaries".

OBITUARIES

Coleman Woodman

Word has been received of the sudden death in North Reading, Mass., of Coleman Eveleph Woodman on June 6. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Woodman, Digby, and was sixty-seven at the time of his death.

Born in Conway, he had lived away from Digby County for the past fifty years. He is survived by his wife, Louise Denton Turnbull Woodman, and a daughter, Cynthia; three brothers: Kenneth, Digby, Edmund (Duke), Saint John, N. B., and Curry, Digby. There are six sisters surviving (Connie) Mrs. Claude Connell, Conway; Cynthia Woodman, Digby; (Violet) Mrs. McCara Cameron, Wolfville; Phyllis and Frances, Montreal, and (Beatrice) Mrs. Austin Lutz, Conway.

Jennie Maud Perry

The sudden death of Jennie Maud Perry, wife of Norman Perry, at Annapolis Royal, where she was visiting her daughter, Ruth Mailman, and her son-in-law, Ian Mailman, came as a sad blow to her many friends and relatives.

A cheerful and kindly woman, Mrs. Perry had a happy smile for the many customers who came each week to the Riteway Store she and her husband owned and managed. Mrs. Perry had been active for many years in the Fair Isle Rebekah Lodge, of which she was Past Noble Grand, and a former Degree Instructress.

Until recently she had held the office of treasurer of the United Baptist Sunday School, and she had been for years choir leader and organist in the Freeport church. She will be long remembered for her beautiful soprano solos.

Besides her husband, Norman, she is survived by a daughter Ruth (Mrs. Ian Mailman), Annapolis Royal, and a grandson, Stephen.

Funeral service was held Saturday, June 24, at 2 p.m., in the Freeport Baptist Church, with Rev. K. Daw officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery, Freeport.

The many and beautiful floral contributions testified to the esteem in which she was held.

Mrs. William Theriault

Mrs. William Joseph Theriault, 82, Belliveau Cove, Digby County, died at Villa Saint Joseph du Lac.

Born at Weymouth Mills, the former Edna Grace Melanson, she was a daughter of the late Theophile and Mary (Comeau) Melanson.

Surviving are her husband; two daughters, Jeanne (Mrs. Jean Gagnon), Villa laVal, Que.; Therese (Mrs. Guy Cousineau), Lucerne, Que.; two sons, Rev. Louis J., Cure of Saint Ambrose Cathedral, Yarmouth and Rev. Edouard, Cure of Saint Michael's Church, Wedgeport; two sisters, Mrs. Dixon Rice, Weymouth and Mrs. Nelson Rice, Washington, D. C.; and four grandchildren.

Funeral service was held Monday at 10 a.m. from Saint Bernard Church, Bishop Austin Burke and her two sons officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Alvah Howe Outhouse

Alvah Howe Outhouse, 72, passed away at Tiverton recently.

Born in Tiverton, he was a son of the late Erward and Annie (McCormack) Outhouse.

Surviving are three brothers: Thomas and Hugh, of Tiverton, Curtis, of Freeport; two sisters: Violet, of Tiverton, and Genevieve (Mrs. Samuel Veegeli), of Cheshire, Conn.; several nieces and nephews.

He was predeceased by two brothers, Ronald and Lloyd, and a sister, Elsie.

Funeral service was held in the Tiverton Baptist Church with Rev. K. Daw officiating. Interment was in Tiverton.

JOGGIN BRIDGE

Mrs. Marshall Gorham, New York, spent last week visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. George R. Bell. Recent guests also at the same home were their son, Gerald, Mrs. Bell and Kimberly and Misses Janet Adamson and Marjorie Treakston, all of Halifax.

Mrs. Raymond Brinton was hostess to the regular meeting of the Society of Friends Club on Tuesday evening.

Capt. and Mrs. Ernest Lowen and family, Allandale, Va., are spending a vacation at their summer cottage and visiting her father, Capt. James I. MacPherson.

H. E. Simpson was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thomas last week. On his return to Dartmouth, he was accompanied by her son, Mitchell, who has spent the past few months with his grandparents to finish his school year at the Digby Regional High.

Mrs. E. Peck and sons, Timmy and Tracy, Bear River, were recent over-night guests of her sister, Mrs. Raymond Brinton and family.

Congratulations to Valerie Joudrey and Ronald Harris son who were recent grade XII graduates for the Digby Regional High School.

NEW EDINBURGH

Mrs. Artenise Amirault who has been spending the past few months with her son, Gerald, Mrs. Amirault and daughter, Angela of Bedford is spending the summer at her home here. Mr. Leander D'Eon of Haverhill is spending the summer with his sister, Mrs. Antenise Amirault.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Melanson and son, Reginald of Lower Concession and son, Lloyd of Ottawa visited relatives recently.

Mr. Allen Amirault employed on the "Gypsum Queen" is spending two weeks with his father Mr. Elai Amirault.

Mrs. Elna Doucette employed in Kentville spent the week-end with friends. She attended the marriage of her cousin former Miss Elsie Doucet to Mr. Medric Deveau on June 24th at the St. Bernard Church.

Smith's Cove

Jim Dingle and young daughter, Rachel, of New York, arrived on Thursday, June 1, to spend vacation days between Smith's Cove and Halifax. While in the Cove they will reside at his parents' summer place. He and his daughter motored to Halifax after their arrival to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dingle, and returned for the week-end accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cosgrove of Halifax.

Mr. and Mrs. Derrel Warren, of Wolfville and Smith's Cove, who are leaders of a summer youth project in bus tour of New Brunswick with fourteen youth of the Wolfville area.

Mission Band Has Closing Party

Mrs. Arthur Titus was hostess to the Womens Missionary Society of the United Baptist Church on Tuesday evening. In the absence of Mrs. Shaw the Vice-President presided. The devotional was conducted by Mrs. Lawrence Welch Sr. Her theme God's Ways are not Grievous". Circle of prayer was led by Mrs. George Sharpe. Members responded to roll call with a Biblical verse containing the word "Witness".

Mrs. Sharpe reminded the group of the meeting in Toronto in October of the Convincental Assembly of the North American Baptist Women's Union.

Mrs. Earl Webber Superintendent of the Mission Band reported that a successful closing meeting of the Band was held in May. Mrs. Lawrence Shaw assisted at the party when she and Mrs. Webber served the children refreshments.

The Spiritual Life Study was based on the Biblical "As We Sow, so shall we reap" and presented the question what has the influence of your life and mine been down through the years? What is the Gospel, according to you?

The Programme was presented by Mrs. Albert Bailey and was taken from our study book "The Kosieeta Still Blooms in Bolivia" telling of the evidence of Evangelical enthusiasm and the promotion of Christian Witness and of the steady growth year by year of members and new churches in the Bolivian Baptist Union Mrs. Sharpe invited the group to her home for the July meeting, weather permitting a lawn party will be enjoyed followed by the regular WMS meeting.

Mrs. Gorge Clements was co-hostess with Mrs. Titus at the Social hour.

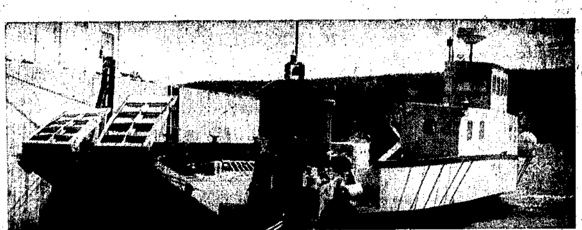
Ferry Reconstruction Progressing



According to Captain Joseph Casey, MLA for Digby, progress is being made on making the new Petite Passage ferry suitable for the waters of the passage. Two steel crews are now working on the ship and according to information given to Mr. Casey by the Department of Highways, the new ferry should be in operation shortly. Change has been made in the steering controls and in the propellers so that both motors will be used as had been planned at the beginning of the change-over to a self-propelled ferry service.

The ferry which had been put on trial runs over Petite Passage early in May did not prove satisfactory to the ferry operators and had caused much concern among the people of Long and Brier Islands. More than three hundred people had attended a Board of Trade meeting to discuss the ferry with a special guest at the meeting, Captain Casey.

In the interview with The Digby Courier on Monday, Captain Casey informed that night service had been started across the passage with quite a number taking advantage of the service and crossing had been successful on some quite foggy nights. Mr. Casey said that every effort is being made to find a man available to instruct the operators of the new ferry when she is available for service on the Passage.

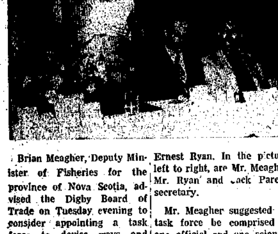
SEES ADDITIONAL DOLLARS IN CLAM INDUSTRY



Brian Meagher, Deputy Minister of Fisheries for the province of Nova Scotia, advised the Digby Board of Trade on Tuesday evening to consider appointing a task force to devise ways and means of correcting pollution and to study all aspects of the clam industry so that it will enrich the entire Digby area by many additional hundreds of thousands of dollars. Mr. Meagher gave the advice at a dinner meeting held at the United Church Hall, and presided over by Ernest Ryan. In the picture, left to right, are Mr. Meagher, Mr. Ryan and Jack Parent, secretary.

Mr. Meagher suggested the task force be comprised of one official and one scientist from environment Canada, one from the Nova Scotia Department of Fisheries, one from the Nova Scotia Water Resources Commission, a clam processor and a commercial clam fisherman. Closed clam areas in the region, he agreed, have a potential to double or triple the product of the open areas. He felt two chief sources of pollution are the Cornwallis base and the town of Digby. He assumed that the Cornwallis condition will be cleaned up and then, he said, it is obvious that Digby must follow suit. The main problems, he said, to overcome are to try to design a plan to eliminate pollution, and ensure a safe product in human consumption and rotating areas to be harvested after a clean-up.

Mr. Meagher gave the clam landings from the Annapolis Basin for the past 10 years which indicated the importance of the clam fishery and that the peak clam industry in the Annapolis Basin was reached in 1969. In that year the clam industry reached 4.2 million pounds at a price paid to the fishermen of $322,000.00. He estimated that the net value to the 250 diggers and 70 shuckers in the area adds over one-half million dollars to the economy, besides salaries to employees, cost of heat, light and taxes.

Mr. Meagher dealt with fisheries in general, which comprise a high percentage of exports from Nova Scotia

MARRIED 55 YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lambertson, Barton, were honored by a party on Saturday evening in celebration of their 55th wedding anniversary.

Two Major Events To Close July

Two major events in Digby County will bring the month of July to a close in this area. Beginning the month on July 1 with a most successful Weymouth Day event, the month proceeds with the Acadian Festival at Church Point and Meteghan on July 14, 15 and 16. The month closes with the Bear River Cherry Carnival on Saturday, July 29, and Digby Natal Day on Monday, July 31.

The Cherry Carnival, besides the usually successful grand parade and children's parade, water and land sports, dinners, suppers and entertainment, will have as added features this year the Thomas Shows, a group from Acadia University with their Mermaid Theatre of puppets and pet show 6:00 p.m. and the will be chosen to reign over the Carnival. Entries for this must be in by July 17, to be chosen July 22.

The Digby event, as former years, begins with fire truck rides and bicycle rodeo for children at 9:30 a.m.; children's parade at 11:00 a.m.; pet show 11:30 a.m., and the afternoon beginning with a grand parade at 2 o'clock. In carrying on the tradition of

On July 22 at the Oddfellow Hall in Bear River the Bear River Cherry Carnival Queen will be chosen to reign over the Carnival day and through the year 1972-73. The queen will be chosen at two in the afternoon. The Queen and all the princesses will be in the Grand Parade at the Carnival on July 29.

On July 26 in the evening a Queen will be chosen from the Pines Hotel staff and she will partcipate in the Grand Parade in Digby Natal Day July 31. A variety show and dance will be the occasion for choosing the queen.

Digby town has already chosen Digby's Queen in Miss Dorothy Halliday who was chosen prior to the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival.

Bazaar Raises $530.00

Mass cooperation and community spirit at its best contributed to the overwhelming success of the big Country Bazaar at the Forrester's Hall and Vestry at Clementsvale on Saturday afternoon (June 24). In spite of uncertain weather right up to the last minute there was a good turnout for the parade and the auction and bazaar that followed. The bazaar, a joint project of the five separate communities of Bear River East, Clementsvale, Virginia, Princedale and Waldec, netted $530.00 for the proposed Clementsvale District Christian Youth Centre. Chairman of the Publicity and Fund Raising Committee, Gini Proulx, expressed great pleasure with the financial success of the venture, the largest ever attempted in these communities. She placed the credit for success with the fine cooperation and hard work of the heads of committees and their workers and also with the generosity of

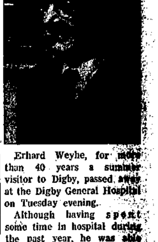
Mr. Weyhe Passes



Erhard Weyhe, for more than 40 years a summer visitor to Digby, passed away at the Digby General Hospital on Tuesday evening.

Although having spent some time in hospital during the past year, he was able during the past weeks to enjoy his summer home in Acacia Valley. During the past week he was again a patient in the Digby General Hospital, where death occurred.

After serving in the war of 1914-18, Mr. Weyhe came from Germany to the United States, where he opened a book and art store in New York. His pet hobby was horticulture and one of the joys of his life was to come to his summer home in Acacia Valley to enjoy the things of nature.

He was predeceased by his wife. Surviving are his daughter, Mrs. Seth Dennis, and a son, Arthur, of New York. There are three grandchildren.

The body is resting at Jayne's Funeral Home, and a graveside service will be held at 2 p.m. on Saturday at Woodman's Cemetery, [illegible] Bridge.

Instead of flowers, [illegible] may make donations [illegible] Digby General [illegible]

Weymouth Delegation Meets Highway Minister

A proposed southern alignment for the Weymouth bypass portion of Trunk 101 is being considered by the Nova Scotia Highways Department.

Highways Minister A. Garnet Brown advised a delegation of Digby County representatives of the further study at a meeting in Halifax Thursday. The delegation, including Arthur Rice, A. H. Bradford of Weymouth, deputy Warden Wilfred Swift, Westport and Joe Casey, MLA, Digby, met with both the minister and deputy minister, W. P. Kerr.

The Digby County representatives expressed local concern that a projected crossing of the Sissiboo River would disrupt planned growth in the Weymouth area and requested the minister to give every consideration to a proposed southern alignment for the highway.

The delegation was advised that a feasibility study on a route very similar to one which they proposed was in the planning investigation phase and almost complete.

Following this detailed study and a projection of costs of the alternate southern alignment, a decision will be reached by the minister concerning the feasibility of proceeding with field surveys and test borings to obtain completely accurate test data re a location south of Weymouth.

The delegation expressed pleasure with their reception and the minister's assurance that alternate lines are under active consideration.

More Than Ninety Register

More than 90 registered at the Bear River Children's Art Centre which opened at 9 a.m. on Monday. The children are between the ages of 6 and 16.

Instructors and helpers at the Opportunities for Youth project include Joy Adams, Loreen Isles, Debbie LeFurgey, Carol Beals, Terri Bluguerman, Gene Samson, Raymond LeBlanc, Raymond Volotaire, Donald Rice and Max Woolaver.

Makes Exchange Visits

Nine 4-Hers left, Halifax airport on July 4 to participate in the 4-H Interprovincial Exchange. Before departure they were given a buffet supper by the Royal Bank of Canada, the sponsors of the entire trip. Among the visitors were Phyllis Gaudet, who is visiting in New Brunswick.

At the samo time, nine young people from other provinces are visiting in Nova Scotia. Sandra Taylor from Newfoundland is visiting at the home of Mrs. Ira Deveau of Mavillette.

School Plans Auto Course

By regular motion at the Digby Regional High School Board meeting on Monday night plans were made to institute an arts mechanics course at the school on the senior level, this being in lieu of a power mechanics course planned earlier. The need of the course was realized since the vocational school in Digby-Annapolis is fifty miles away. It was felt the power mechanics course was not a prerequisite of the auto mechanics. The power mechanics course would be in the vicinity of $6000 to institute and it was felt the auto mechanics would be in the same vicinity.

The meeting was presided over by the chairman, Mayor Glen Smith and attending besides the Board members were supervisor, C.C. McInnis; principal, Jack Ritcey, prin-

Ste - Annes Renunion

The graduates of 1962 held a reunion at College Sainte-Anne on July 1, 2 and 3. It is a long standing tradition at College Sainte-Anne that former students meet at their Alma Mater ten years after graduation.

The class reunion provides an opportunity to visit the College and reminisce on student days.

The officers of the class are: Mr. Louis Lapierre, Mr. Gilles H. Picard and Rev. Gregory Sampson.

Successful Candidates

Glen Pitman, Digby Town Clerk and William MacMillan, Municipal Clerk were both successful candidates in the correspondence course in municipal administration conducted by the Institute of Public Affairs, Dalhousie University. Thomas LeBlanc, Dartmouth won top place in the four year correspondence course and in the fourth year examinations as well as in the examination of all four years of the course. Also winning second and third place were Allison Chymist, Lockeport and Donald Grant of Annapolis.

Mr. Pitman was successful in the second year examinations and Mr. MacMillan was successful in the first year examinations.

Appointed To College Board

Mr. Clifford E. Edwards, Inspector of Schools for Annapolis-Digby, has been appointed to the Board of Directors of College Sainte-Anne.

The College will benefit from Mr. Edward's varied and challenging career in the field of education, as a teacher, principal and supervisor of schools. He was regional representative for the Adult Education Division from 1947 to 1952. In 1952 he became Inspector of Schools.

Mr. Edwards received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Acadia University and his Master of Arts in French from McGill. He also participated in national and international conferences on audio-visual education and is an Honorary Life Member of the Canadian Home and School Federation.

IN MEMORIAM

GOSSON — In loving memory of Richard Wayne Gosson who was killed in a car accident, July 13th 1971.

However long my life may last
Whatever land I view
Whatever joys or grief be mine;
I will always think of you.
Grandma Frost 48:1ic

LENT — In loving memory of Mae Haines Lent who passed away July 4th 1969.

When family ties are broken
And loved ones have to part
It leaves a wound that never heals
And also a broken heart
But looking back with memories
Upon the past we have trod
We bless the years we had with her
And leave the rest with God.
Sadly missed by Rube, Wilda Sheila and family. 48:1ic

HERSEY — In loving memory of my dear husband, Lyon Conrad, who passed away July 13th 1968.

He wished no one a fast farewell,
Nor even said good-bye.
He was gone before I knew it,
And only God knows why.
My heart aches with lonelliness and memories
My eyes shed many tears
God knows how much I miss him
And will throughout the years.
— Sadly missed by wife, Gertrude. 48:1ic

COSMAN — In loving memory of husband and father Scott Cosman who passed away June 28 1969.

We watched you suffer day by day
And could not help in any way
But just stood by and saw you pass
Into the Saviour's arms at last — Remembered by wife, Vera and daughters, June and Anita. 48:1p

SPECHT — In memory of Orrie William Specht who died on July 14, 1969.

Ever remembered, ever loved by wife and family. 48:1ip

GOSSON — In loving memory of our son, Richard Wayne Gosson who was killed in a car accident July 13th 1971.

The blow was great, the shock severe
We little thought death was so near
And only those who have lost can tell
The sadness of parting without farewell.
Off and off our thoughts do wander
To the grave not far away
Where we laid our dear son
Just one year ago today
Allways remembered by mother, step-father, Wilfred, brothers and sisters. 48:1ic

GOSSON — In loving memory of our dear brother, Richard Wayne Gosson, who passed away July 13th, 1971.

Deep in the hearts lies a picture
Of a loved one laid to rest
In memory's frame we shall keep it
Because he was one of the best.
Allways remembered by sister, Beverly and brother-in-law, Joe; sister, Rena and brother-in-law, Terry and kids. 48:1ic

Art Show In Digby

A one-man show of paintings by Commander Anthony Law, RCN retired, will be held at the Digby Branch Library from Friday, July 14, to Wednesday, July 26. The exhibition is being sponsored by the Western Counties Regional Library in cooperation with the St. Mary's University Art Extension Service.

Commander Law was born in London, England, in 1916, and came to Canada in 1917. He studied painting under Franklin Brownell, Frederick Varley and Percival Tudor-Hart; during World War II he was appointed official naval war artist in 1943, 1945 and 1946. From April, 1969, until October, 1970, Commander Law was Chairman of the Atlantic Provinces Art Circuit; presently he is artist in residence at St. Mary's University, Halifax.

Commander Law had his first one-man show in Quebec in 1938, and since that date, he has had numerous exhibitions throughout Canada, including one at the National Gallery in Ottawa(as official War Artist) in 1946. In 1952, he became a member of the Nova Scotia Society of Artists. His most recent exhibits have been at the Centennial Art Gallery in Charlottetown (1968) and the Nova Scotia Museum of Fine Arts, in 1971-72 he had a touring exhibition at Atlantic Provinces Art Circuit institutions.

In the oil paintings on exhibit at the Digby Branch Library, many will be aware of a Group of Seven influence. The paintings show the Canadian landscape (Nova Scotia and the Algonquin Park Area in Ontario), especially the trees and the water. A vibrant use of color is a characteristic of all the works, many of which are fall scenes.

Commander Law's shows will be in Digby until July 26. Opening hours of the Digby Branch at 90 Montague Row are Monday 12:00 - 1:00, 3:00 - 5:00; Tuesday 12:00 - 1:000, 2:00 - 5:00; Wednesday 7:00 - 9:00; Friday 3:00 - 5:00, 7:00 - 9:00; and Saturday 10:00 - 12:00.

MARRIAGE

Langdale — Weaver

Bethel United Baptist Church in Ashmore was the scene of a pretty summer wedding on June 24th at 3 p.m., when the Rev. Willard Clayton united in marriage Deborah Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burgess Weaver of Weymouth North to Stephen Anthony Langdale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Langdale of North Range.

The church was decorated with baskets of lupins and mixed flowers about the chancel and windows. Vernon Sabine played the nuptial music and Mrs. Margaret Wagner was soloist.

The bride looked lovely as she entered the church on the arm of her father, who also gave her in marriage. She wore a white crimplene gown, fashioned with empire waistline, which was accented with daisies. A lace panel edged with daisies, matched the floor length train which was also edged with smaller daisies. Her veil was a crown of white net, and she carried a red rose and white Bible with roses and ribbon.

Carla MacWeaver the bride's sister was maid of honour, and wore a gown of pink crimplene, fashioned similiar to that of the bride, trimmed with lace and silver thread. She carried a white chrysethemum and white Bible with pink ribbons. Two bridesmaids, were the groom's sisters, Diane and Pamela Joy Langdale. Diane's gown was of green crimplene, with empire waist and lace trim. Pamela Joy wore an identical gown of yellow.

The third bridesmaid was the bride's sister, Pamela Gay Weaver, who was gowned in an identical dress of blue crimplene.

Randy Langdale, brother of the bride, was best man, and the ushers were Cleve Langdale, Dean Langdale and Brian Wagner.

A double ring ceremony was performed. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Church Hall. The bride's table was decorated with streamers, and flowers matching the attendants dresses. Tapers flanked the three-tier cake, and wedding bells were centred over the table.

The bride's mother chose a dress of black and grey metallic material, with silver shoes and purse. Her corsage was of white chrysanthemums.

For travelling around Nova Scotia the bride wore a blue lace pant suit. They will reside in North Range. The groom is employed at CFB Cornwallis, and the bride is a recent graduate of the secretarial course from Digby High School.

and he favored the way of life in the fishing villages as he compared it with some aspects of city life. He said centralization has been found to not be the answers to all problems. He was much in favor in keeping and maintaining "viable inshore fishing communities in Nova Scotia." He referred to the herring industry which could be most profitable and advocated that the Digby Board of Trade look into the fact that there is no representative of the industry in the herring management commission. During a discussion period it was noted that herring are most plentiful at this particular time. Mr. Meagher was introduced by Vincent Snow and thanked by His Worship Mayor Glen Smith. Joseph Casey, MLA, led in a toast to the Queen; Rev. Isaac Butler asked the blessing and Mrs. Butler presided at the piano for "O Canada".

During a short business meeting Mr. Ryan said that the trade board was endeavoring to put out a brochure for the summer tourist season, although time did not permit doing an elaborate job. The matter of rates on the Princess of Acadia was brought up but nothing concrete was done since the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade is awaiting a reply from Don Jamieson, minister to correspondence.

The next meeting of the Board of Trade is set for the second Tuesday in August.

donors, both commercial and private. Pastor David Miller thanked Bruce Davey, Bear River, for an able job of auctioneering and Norman Tipping, of Cornwallis, who livened up the afternoon with his clown antics. The young people for whom the Youth Centre is planned played a large role in the event.

The auction, the main event of the day, netted $200.00 from some new and second-hand items. The fish pond and white elephant tables, the home baking booth, home-made candy and Kool-Aid booth all were successful and added to the funds of the day. There was a green thumb booth, a book and magazine booth, canteen and sale of handicrafts. As amusement and fund raising were dimerama games, fortune telling, poster booth and balloon sale. Winner of the door prize was Mrs. Wilfred Riley.

Appointed Constable

At a recent meeting of the municipality of Annapolis, Russell MacIntosh of Granville Ferry was appointed Municipal Constable.

Several notices under the Unsightly Premises By-Law had been meted out to residents of Annapolis County who had allowed their premises to become unsightly. Councillor Lawrence Snell had viewed these properties and reported at the meeting on their condition.

To Hold Reunion

An alumni reunion will take place at College Sainte-Anne on July 14 and 15. The President of the College, Mr. Louis R. Comeau, will host the guests on Friday evening, the following day there will be a dinner at the college for former students and their families, followed by a business meeting of the Alumni Association. A social evening will close the session.

The class of 1954 will hold special activities during the general reunion. The officers of the class are Dr. Benoit Robichaud, president; Dr. Alphonse Gaudet, vice-president, and Mr. Jean R. Doucet, secretary.

Mr. William Deveau, Mavilette, is president of the Alumni Association.

SCHOOL PLANS

ipal for 1972-73, Lester Hannah and industrial arts teacher, Fred Giles.

Disappointment was felt that $200 per student grants for business education would not be received from the education department. This, it was felt would make a difference of some $10,000 to $12,000 in the operation of the course in Digby. A letter of protest with facts and figures will be sent to the Minister of Education, showing Digby's unique position and asking to have some-one from the department come to Digby to look into the situation.

Staff appointments made were Rupert Haley and Thomas Shmiel, vice-principals; Sandra Conrad of Lunenburg, High School English; Jean (John) Pierre Vallee, Quebec and Meteghan and Mrs. Judy Johnson. Vacancies still exist in the senior auxiliary class and in business education.

Plans were made to hire students to aid the janitors in summer maintenance work when required. The gym floor is to be redone. The Board decided to purchase aluminium scaffolding at a cost of $952.

There are more than half a million retarded people in Canada today.

Windsor Male Choir To Sing In Digby

The Windsor Baptist Male Choir was formed five years ago for the purpose of having a fellowship in which a group of men could enjoy singing together to the glory of God. During their years together the choir has been privileged to sing, not only regularly in their own church, but in many other churches throughout Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. For the past four years the choir has attended, and provided special music for, the Delvay Men's Retreat in Prince Edward Island.

The Director of the Choir is Mrs. E. Megan Church, of Windsor (above). There are twenty men in the choir.

This coming Sunday the men and members of their families will board a chartered bus and make the trip to Digby, where they will present a concert of sacred music in the Digby Baptist Church at 7:30.

Digby extends a warm welcome to these visiting friends from the opposite end of the Valley.

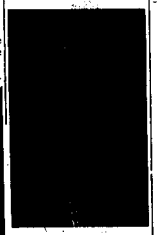
She has been accepted at Acadia University for the fall term.

Extended Program

The Local Initiative Program undertaken at College Sainte-Anne during the winter months has been extended for the month of July.

An additional grant of $5000.00 will be used to complete the major renovation program begun as a LIP project and at the same time provide employment for 12 men.

Comeau Questions Rate Increase



In a letter to Hon. Don Jamieson, Louis R. Comeau, MP for South West Nova, said he was appalled at the recently announced increases in fares aboard the Digby-Saint Ferry, the "Princess of Acadia".

This service, he said, was instituted last year and the fact that reasonable rates existed made the service worthwhile and very much occupied during theh last tourist season. This was so much so that this year, a third run has been announced and is operating, he wrote. Surely it is the competitive rates that dictate the volume of traffic to a large extent.

He asked that the Department consider this matter and make the point to the CPR that a 50% increase after one year's operation is absolutely ridiculous and does not lend to the development of the area.

Captains Melbourn and Denis Deveau, of Je Reviens, sports fishing boat, are seen holding the prize cod weighing 31 pounds landed by Larry Amirault, of Digby's entry in the Cape St. Mary's Anglers Association's inter-club deep sea fishing tournament held at the Cape recently. Mr. Amirault was not present when the other boats returned from the fishing grounds and though was not known at the time when his boat arrived that he had caught the largest fish, a cod. Full Program For Acadian Festival

The Acadian Festival Committee has released its program for 1972 which shows that the Acadian Festival of Clare will take place July 14, 15 and 16 of July. The program items are as follows:

On Friday, July 14, at College Ste Anne, Church Point, there will be an Exhibition of Arts and Crafts and sale by the Clare Arts Council - exhibition of 4-H Clubs of Clare. At the Legion Hall in Saulnierville is the Festival Dance - official opening of the festival by His Excellency Mgr. Austin Burke, Bishop of Yarmouth, and selection of Evangeline and Gabriel to rule over the festival.

On Saturday, at Comeauville, will be the Invitational Golf Tournament at the Clare Golf & Country Club, which will be of two days duration. At College Ste Anne, Church Point, continuation of Arts & Crafts and 4-H exhibition; children's parade of doll carriages, carts and decorated bicycles on the college campus grounds; children's program by the Mermaid Theatre, consisting of puppet show (in French language), children's plays, etc., which will be given free of charge and held in Le Chateau, and pate-a-la-rapure, famous Acadian dish, will be served in the college cafeteria. At Legion Hall, Saulnierville, a chicken barbecue will be served until 11 o'clock near the hall; square dance and fun dance sponsored by Les Danseurs square dance club of Clare, and fireworks display.

Golf tournament continues at Comeauville on Sunday and at College Ste Anne, Church Point: continuation of exhibitions; opening of a grand bazaar on the campus grounds of the college; parade of floats, decorated cars, etc., will start at Little Brook and wind its way to Ste Anne's College campus grounds; buffet service in cafeteria of Ste Anne's Collge until 2:00 a.m. Monday morning, and variety concert, Talents de Chez Nous, in Le Chateau, with entrance near where the bazaar will take place and also may be reached by the main entrance of the college wooden building. Local talent will be presented.

Jesse Saunders, 78-year-old maker of hand-crafted snowshoes, has a real helpmate in wife Hazel. She is holding the self -processed rawhide which is the really crucial raw material for a good snowshoe. Jesse will be demonstrating his art to the public in the forthcoming Western Nova Scotia Demonstration and Sale of Handcrafts in Bridgetown July 20 to 22.

Repair Westport Breakwaters

A $39,245 contract has been awarded to Woodlawn Construction Ltd., Dartmouth, N. S., for repairs to the breakwater at Westport, Brier Island, N. S., Public Works Minister J. E. Dube has announced.

The successful contractor submitted the lowest of five tenders. High bid was $49,900.

Under this contract, the final section of breakwater will be rebuilt to provide shelter and facilities for fishermen in the community. Some 8,000 board feet of untreated plank, 11,000 board feet of of creosoted dimension timber, and 29,800 cubic feet of creosoted cribwork will be used in the work. Completion of the project is expected in two months.

Retiring Teacher Honored

Left to right: Melburn Blinn, principal of the Gay school in Saulnierville, presenting a gift to Mrs. Marguerite Saulnier, vice-principal of the school, in appreciation of her 35 years service as a teacher in public schools in the Municipality of Clare.

Mrs. Marguerite Saulnier, of Saulnierville, was pleasantly surprised recently when she was presented with a gift, a cut-glass vase, by Melburn Blinn, principal of the school, on behalf of the principals and inspector of the Clare schools. The presentation was made immediately following a meeting of principals of all schools in the municipality, which was held at the Gay school in the afternoon.

Maurice Belliveau, superintendent of schools of Clare, presented a testimonial of esteem to Mrs. Saulnier, who retired from the teaching profession at the end of June. She has served the Municipality of Clare for thirty-five years in this capacity.

The principals and vice-principals of the schools in Clare, as well as the inspector of school and the director of orientation are united here today to render a testimonial of the highest esteem to Mrs. Saulnier, stated Mr. Belliveau. Mrs. Saulnier has devoted her

Clare Municipality Planning Several Projects

Plans have been drawn up for the Municipal Council but not yet approved for a diagnostic and treatment centre in the Municipality of Clare, stated Warden Bernard LeBlanc when interviewed recently. We are working on this project, said Mr. LeBlanc, and we would recommend the following facilities when and if the project is approved: emergency, diagnostic and treatment services on an out-patient basis. Minimal radiological laboratory services would also be recommended.

A varying number of at least two observation beds, doctors' offices and offices for public health personnel operating in the area, are also recommended in addition to the above paragraph, said Mr. LeBlanc. Such a centre would require that a doctor be on hand at all times, with the possibility that doctors will alternate.

Another project that is in the planning stage by the Municipal Council is the establishing of a Senior Citizens' Home in the Municipality. The Municipal Council is working with the government

Gets Music Prize

Miss Barbara Fickes, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fickes, Annapolis Royal, N. S., has been awarded a prize donated by the Oxford University Press, "The Junior Companion to Music".

Each year four copies of this book are awarded to students receiving the highest mark in a certain grade. Miss Fickes, who is a student of Mrs. Eric Adams, Deep Brook, qualified by passing her Mount Allison Grade V. Exam in piano with High Distinction.

Blessing Of Fleet At Meteghan

The annual blessing of the fishing fleet was held at Meteghan wharf with a very large attendance. Fishing boats from along the shores of St. Mary's Bay, numbering over 50, were on hand for the ceremonies. A parade of fishing boats, decorated with pennants and flags, were stationed approximately a mile off in St. Mary's Bay, and at 2:00 p.m. they started out in single file in a parade of decorated fishing boats which was quite a spectacle to see.

The parade had just terminated and the fishing boats were moored at the wharf readying for the official blessing of the fishing boats by Mgr. Nil Theriault, of St. Bernard parish, assisted by the pastor of Stella Maris parish of Meteghan, Rev. Louis Comeau, when the rain started. It fell quite steadily and the people, along with the officials, had to race for shelter in cars or whatever they could find to get out of the rain. A bus handy to the ceremonial platform served for the officials, the queen and princesses. The blessing was done at a later time when the rain had subsided.

Those on the ceremonial platform, besides Rev. Mgr. Nil Theriault were: Queen Athenius VI, Miss Maureen Johnson, of St. Alphonse, and her two princesses, Miss Claudette Tufts, of Saulnierville, and Miss Jennifer Vroegop, of Salmon River; Hon. Benoit Comeau, MLA for Clare and Minister of Lands and Forests, and Warden Bernard LeBlanc, of Belliveau Cove.

Welcoming the hundreds of people on the wharf awaiting the blessing ceremonies, Warden Bernard LeBlanc told the group that he was very pleased to see such a good turnout at the annual blessing of the fishing fleet. The Meteghan Lions Club must be congratulated for organizing the blessing of the fleet of fishing boats on an annual basis, as it is a very good project. Besides the religious portion of the blessing of the fleet, it draws attention to the fishermen of Clare who work so hard at fishing.

Hon. Benoit Comeau told the large audience that the fishing industry is an import-

C. L. Illsley, Provincial Commissioner of Canadian Red Cross, Halifax, was in Digby recently to show films, present awards and address the Digby Branch Canadian Red Cross.

He advised the Digby branch to do different things, exciting things and interesting things and not the same thing all the time. He emphasized doing the kind things which make people's lives pleasant and which are not done by other organizations. He made particular mention of the senior citizens' program which is expanding in the province. Mr. Illsley was introduced by Mrs. Allan Harris, president, who presided. He was accompanied by Mrs. Illsley.

Highlight of the meeting was the presentation of awards to special workers Mrs. Barbara VanTassell, Mrs. Fred Daley and E. B. Tufts, who had done such an excellent job as chairman of the Blood Donor Clinic. Special mention was made by the president of the excellent contributions of Mrs. Oscar VanTassell and Mrs. Daisy Ruggles who had been treasurer of the organization.

A tea followed the business meeting and address, when Mrs. Percy Robert poured. Mrs. Raymond Lent, of the Ways and Means Committee, was in charge.

Gets Award

Robin Morehouse, 36 Broadholme Lane, Halifax, has been awarded an Assistantship of $2,400 for graduate study in the Communication Studies at the University of Florida. The appointment involves working in an underwater research program.

Mr. Morehouse received his education at Hants North Rural High School, Kennetcook, and Halifax West High School. He received his Bachelor of Science degree from Dalhousie University.

He is the son of Mrs. Grace Morehouse and the late Dr. Charles Morehouse, of Halifax and Noel, Hants County.

Robin is a grandson of the late Embree and Ada (Cossaboom) Morehouse, Centreville, Digby Co., and has many relatives and friends in Digby and on "The Neck".

Society To Enter Natal Day Parade

Twenty members attended the monthly meeting of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society at the home of Mrs. Louise Stephen in June, with Mrs. Jack Keen, vice-president, presiding.

Mrs. Keen spoke of the Society's great loss upon the passing of Mrs. Daisy Comeau and asked for a moment of silence in her memory.

Prior to the regular meeting, several members took part in a work party at the Admiral Digby Park and considerable work was accomplished with weeding and trimming being done and flowers placed in the planter.

It is hoped a plant booth can be arranged for at the society's participation in the Natal Day events and the possibility of a float being entered in the parade.

Mrs. Keen secured information regarding ideas for such an occasion and it was learned young people from the Opportunities for Youth program would be available to assist with decorating a float, at a very reasonable cost.

It was decided that a float be considered and Miss Marjory Tupper and Mrs. Alex Wentzell were appointed to form a committee.

Mrs. P. Robert and Mrs. Keen were appointed as delegates to the annual convention of N. S. Garden Clubs, held at Truro in August.

It was reported an Executive and Directors' meeting was held on May 18th, and plans for the August Flower Show are well advanced.

Benches at the Admiral Digby Park have been repaired and transferred to the area. Mr. Wilfred Como agreed to construct a permanent and indestructible bench for the park if materials were supplied. He would donate the cost of labour.

Flowers planted in the library window boxes by Mrs. Robert are showing a profusion of blooms.

At the close of the business meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Stephen, assisted by co-hostess, Mrs. Helen Anthony.

Bear River Brownie News

Hello Brownies — Another season of Brownies completed and what a way to finish up! Thanks to the Digby East Fish and Game Association for the use of the DEFAGA lodge we were able to have a pack holiday.

To have a successful pack holiday, one needs help, and we had the best available. Thanks Mrs. Joan Donnelly, Sue Cobham, Joan Acker and Many Darres.

Brownies love to swim, and Raymond LeBlanc made this possible by Ele guarding. Thanks Raymond.

Also a thank you goes out to the LA and parents for their support and donations.

The Brownies seemed to enjoy the busy programme which included nature walks, games, crafts and FOOD! The girls earned their craft badge while at camp.

Brownies, have a good summer, and we'll see you in the fall.

Bible School At Bear River Baptist

A successful Daily Vacation Bible School was held at the Bear River United Baptist Church the week of July 3rd. Miss Beverly Ilsley of Dorchester, New Brunswick and Miss Vivian Leddicote of Margaretville, Nova Scotia were the two ladies in charge of the school. The program for each day consisted of a devotional period, mission study on Bolivia singing, bible study, recreation and crafts.

MARRIAGES

Nixon — Morgan

A beautiful summer wedding was held at Grace United Church, Digby, on Saturday afternoon when Patricia Catherine Morgan, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Morgan, of Digby, was united in marriage to Mr. James Ernest Nixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Nixon, of Fredericton, formerly of Digby. Rev. R. Stevens performed the double ring ceremony, and Mrs. Elton Arnold played the wedding music.

The bride, entering the church on the arm of her father, looked radiant in a floor length gown of white nylon with daisy medallion trimming. She wore a shoulder length tulle veil which was held in place with a bandeau of daisies. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and Marguerite daisies.

Her bridesmaids were Miss Faye Turnbull and Miss Thibodeau, friends of the bride. They were dressed in identical floor length gowns with pastel colored flowered skirts and white nylon blouses. The waists were accentuated with wide mauve and yellow satin ribbons. They wore bandeaus of yellow, mauve and white daisies in their hair and carried nosegays of mauve and yellow carnations.

Mr. Rodney Bell, of Digby, friend of the groom, was best man. The ushers were John and Robert Morgan, brothers of the bride, Greg Nixon, of Fredericton, brother of the groom, and Tom Mailman, Bridgewater, cousin of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Morgan wore a deep mauve ensemble with white accessories. Her corsage was of yellow tinted carnations.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Nixon, wore a pink ensemble with white accessories. Her corsage was pink tinted carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held on the lawn at the bride's parents' home. The bride's table was centered with a three tier wedding cake topped with pink rosebuds and baby's breath. Rev. R. Stevens proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded. After the traditional cut was made by the bride and groom, the cake was cut by the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. R. Cameron, of Nuford Station.

Serving the bride's table were Jill and Shelley Cameron, cousins of the bride. Joy Fleet, of Digby, looked after the bride's book. Mrs. Donald Fleet was in charge of the buffet lunch served to the guests. John Morgan and Tom Mailman served the punch.

For going away, the bride chose a turquoise and white double knit ensemble. Her corsage was of white carnations.

After a short honeymoon trip to Prince Edward Island, the couple left for Pembroke, Ont., where they will reside.

Deveau — Doucet

A pretty summer wedding was solemnized in a double ring ceremony in the Roman Catholic Church in St. Bernard by Rev. Nil Theriault on June 24 at 3:30 p.m., when Elsie Marie, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Doucet, New Edinburgh, became the bride of Medric Joseph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Deveau, Meteghan Station.

She was given in marriage by her father, looking lovely in a long white dress of peau de sole, long lace sleeves and a shoulder veil. Her bouquet was red roses and white carnations with fern and streamers. She entered the church with Mrs. Clifford Doucet, Gilbert Cove, playing the Wedding March.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Catherine Dugas, as matron of honor, wearing a yellow floor length dress of peau de sole and rachel coat of lace with long sleeves to match. She wore a small bouquet of yellow daisies in her hair and her bouquet was of yellow roses and white carnations with yellow ribbon.

The bridesmaid was Mrs. Thomas Comeau, Ohio, sister of the groom, wearing a mint-na green long dress of peau de sole. The bouquet she carried was white carnations dyed in mint green.

The flower girls were Misses Paulette and Diane Dugas, nieces of the bride.

The ring bearer was Gerald Dugas, nephew of the bride, wearing a brown suit. Mr. Louie Theriault and Mr. Ronald LeBlanc were ushers.

Mrs. Raymond Cosman, of Weymouth, sang Ave Maria and Allez Dans La Joie.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of peau de sole, peacock blue, a rachel coat of peacock blue. She had for her corsage red roses, fern and silver accessories to match.

The groom's mother chose for her son's wedding a dress of lilac, peau de sole, rachel lace coat of lilac and long sleeves. Her bouquet was white carnations tinted purple and white accessories.

The reception was held at Le Cave Restaurant, Church Point, following the wedding, where there were 170 guests. The bride's table was decorated with flowers and three bells on a three tier wedding cake in the center. The toast was proposed by the groom's uncle, Mr. Denny Deveau, and responded to by the groom. They received money and many useful gifts.

The bride chose for travelling a blue lace pant suit and white accessories. They spent their honeymoon in P. E. I.

The groom is presently employed with a construction company and they plan to live in Halifax for a while.

Out of town guests were from Kentville, Sackville and surrounding areas.

Mrs. James R. Pinette, Richmond, Virginia has guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hunt at their cottage on Muckle haney.

Fishing At Westport

This week there is good fishing at Southern Point. As the ebb tide occurs the men gather to try their luck at fishing. Local fishermen use line and feathered jig, standing on the rocks whirling the line arround their head and letting it fly in the air usually landing half way across the passage. If the fish are running either a perlock or a cod fish can be pulling on the other end.

But the fishermen who like fishing for sport try their rod and reel and when a fish strikes their line they have quite a pull to land their fish.

Joe Hunt of Maryland who with Mrs. Hunt were at the cottage has been fishing whenever the tides suits and has caught some nice fish. On Sunday when Dan Hunt and family arrived, he started fishing and before dark he had caught two nice pollock.

Through the past months a number of other anglers have tried their luck at fishing and brought in a few.

C. C. G. 102 Gets Calls

On Thursday evening, approximately 8 p.m. the C.C.G. 102 received a call for assistance from the carrier Leona S. 2. The boat in company with the Miss T were on their way to the fishing grounds when just north of the harbour the Leona S. somehow in the fog hit the Northern Point Bell Buoy. The stem was ripped out, a hole below water line was punched in.

A call was placed to the C.C.G. 102 which shortly arrived at the scene and towed the boat into Westport, stern first, so as not to fill. On the way in pumps were kept going to keep the water level low and when arriving in port more pumps were put aboard with the result that no water got to the engine. As the tide came up the men hauled the boat up farther in the dock so that at low tide a patch could be put on the boat enabling a run to Meteghan where the boat was repaired to go fishing again.

Capt. Fred Shaw, Sandford, Yar. Co., is the owner of Leona S.

Monday morning a seiner "Cape Shaul" swung in from where she was moored and went ashore on the flat below the Government wharf. She was lying on the side but luckily was not damaged. As the tide came up she righted and was later dug up at the wharf. The C.C.G. 102 stood by in case of need. The C.C.G. 102 has had other calls also in the past few weeks and with the scallopers and seiners fishing there is most always someone needing assistance.

entire life to her pupils, especially the young pupils of the primary class.

She also has rendered services besides in the capacity as vice-principal of the Gay school in Saulnierville as well as principal. She has always been a model teacher. She has been a model for her pupils firstly because she has given a good example by keeping order in her work, cleanliness in her classroom, patience without boundaries, kindness without limits, sincerity without equal and love for others, said Mr. Belliveau, superintendent of schools.

She has also been a model for other professors, and for the administrators because she always gave a good example of a person who does her duty without faltering, who has cooperated with her superiors, who gave herself with all her capacity and developed all of her talents, even as an artist in oil painting, said Mr. Belliveau.

For her contribution so excellent, we honor today Mrs. Saulnier and wish her a very enjoyable retirement with a well earned rest and will give her time to follow many new hobbies, concluded Mr. Belliveau.

CLARE MUNICIPALITY

authorities concerned, both federal and provincial, said Warden LeBlanc. No particular site has yet been selected. Progress in this field has been very satisfactory to date, said Mr. LeBlanc, and a number of applicants have already been received by prospective senior citizens who wish to enter such a home if and when it is built.

The project concerning a consolidated school for the Concession school system in conjunction with the present Church Point School Section number five consolidation is not forgotten stated Warden Bernard LeBlanc. The Council is expected to ask the Clare Municipal School Board the number of classrooms that would be required for a new consolidated school covering the areas mentioned. Plans would then be able to be drawn up and if approved by the provincial authorities, work could be started.

The council has engaged or selected the architects for the project. When the required information from the School Board is received the council may ask the principals of the schools in Clare to meet with them before finalizing the plans for the consolidated school. The project cannot be started this year, it is believed, but upon approval by the government authorities when plans are presented, then the council can continue further on the project such as calling for tenders and other business, stated Warden LeBlanc.

The above are the three main projects of the council, said Warden LeBlanc. A careful study must be made of all three projects. The council re-assessed the problem of public dump sites in the Municipality at their June meeting. Some problem have arisen in certain areas of the Municipality which must be regulated.

We are continually running into the problem of availability of funds, stated Warden LeBlanc.

BLESSING OF FLEET

ant industry for the province and also for the Municipality of Clare and fishing ports along St. Mary's Bay shores. Over 22,000,000 pounds of fish were landed in 1971 at a value of over two million dollars. It is hoped that fishing will become stable following the work of the International Commission on fishing which includes twenty nations.

Lobsters were at a record high price during the season just finished in St. Mary's Bay. The provincial and federal departments of fisheries are quite aware of the necessity of safeguarding the fishing and steps are being taken to provide these safeguards.

The Department of Fisheries will purchase dog fish to sell on the English market. There is a good market for this type of fish, which has been of no value to the fishermen in the past. A project in Irish moss will be established as a pilot project at Meteghan this year. With diversity in fishing, encouraging the use of herring for food instead of for fish meal, encouraging of developing oyster farming is the wish of the department.

King Lion Ernest Theriault, also a member of the famous Clare shipyard of A. F. Theriault & Son Ltd., at Meteghan River, told the group that fishing is certainly Clare's most important industry. It is an industry to provide work in other industries such as boat shops, shipyards, fish factories and others, among which we must not forget the box factories in the area.

Six boats were entered in the boat race, which, by the way, took place in the rain. It was noted that quite a number of boats were entered which were from Digby Neck and the Islands. The winners were Clarence Comeau, of Meteghan, in first place, and Merle Dixon, of Tiverton, in second place. The race was for fishing boats, which did not include draggers or seallop boats.

A chicken barbecue was organized on the grounds to serve the large gathering and despite the rain, which lasted possibly ten minutes and then cleared off, the barbecue continued until they were all sold out. Many persons ran to their cars and remained there until the rain stopped and thus were able to partake of the nice juicy chicken barbecue in charge of several members of the Meteghan Lions Club.

Despite the inclement weather for a spell, the affair was not a complete washout, but it did cut the ceremonies short. The races were to terminate the activities at the wharf. On Saturday evening the fishermen's ball saw over 300 persons in attendance and it was at the ball that the present Queen Atlantus VI was chosen by votes from the audience. The Man and Peace orchestra furnished the music and a very good time was had by all.

Many Attractions Planned For Digby Natal Day — July 31st

When the fire whistles sound in Digby at 9:00 o'clock on the morning of Monday, July 31st, they will not signal a holocaust but will alert the people that Digby is beginning this year's celebration of its Natal Day.

It was in the summer of 1783 that the first of the United Empire Loyalists from New York and the New England States settled in what was to be known later as the Town of Digby. These settlers were convoyed to their new home by Admiral Digby and it was for this distinguished British Admiral the new settlement received its name.

This year's celebration of Digby's Natal Day promises to be one of the biggest in the history of the event, according to Digby's Mayor, Glen W. Smith, who originated the idea of an annual birthday celebration for the town only a few short years ago.

The Natal Day celebrations in Digby this year, scheduled for Monday, July 31st, will get underway with rides for the kiddies on the pumpers and trucks of Digby's volunteer fire department, beginning at 9:00 o'clock in the morning.

The fire engine rides will be followed by a Bicycle Rodeo, sponsored by the Digby Kiwanis Club, at 9:30 a.m. At 11:00 o'clock the Children's Parade, sponsored by the Digby Leo Club, will be held.

A Chicken Barbecue will get underway at noon and will continue the rest of the day. This will be operated by the Digby Kiwanis Club. Refreshment canteens will be operated by other local organizations as will also a Midway. Bingo will be held in the Digby Forum under the auspices of the local Knights of Columbus.

At two o'clock the Grand Street Parade will be held through Digby's main business district. It is expected the parade will be the largest ever this year, judging from the number of entries already received.

During the Grand Parade the annual Fishermen's Memorial Service will be held on the grounds of Digby's federal building. It is expected this service will be attended by many notables from the local area and other parts of Nova Scotia.

Following the memorial service and the parade, canoe races will be held on the town's waterfront. These races will mark a resumption of a sporting event for which Digby gained a great deal of fame many years ago. They are scheduled to get underway at 3:00 p.m.

A variety show featuring "The Pepper Tree", a well known Halifax group, as well as local talent, will be held at the Digby Forum at 4:00 o'clock and this will be followed by a Pet Show at 6:00 p.m.

Sports will also be a part of the Natal Day program in Digby. In the sports department there will be a Little League baseball game between Digby and Liverpool at 7:30 p.m.

The Fundy Frolikers, local square dance group, will present a demonstration and square dance on the grounds of the federal building at 8:30 p.m. and there will be dancing, featuring music by The Pepper Tree at the Forum, at 9:00 o'clock.

The day will come to an end with a gala display of fireworks at 10:00 o'clock.

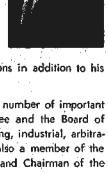
Digby Town Councillor Passes



Charles Frederick McBride, age 63, Digby Town Councillor, passed away at the Victoria General Hospital in Halifax on Monday after a short illness. Born in Digby, Mr. McBride was the son of Mrs. Caroline (Ellis) McBride and the late C. Frederick McBride, of Digby.

As a young man, at the age of 16, Mr. McBride entered the employ of the Canadian Pacific Railway at the Digby wharf and had commenced his retirement leave only two weeks prior to his passing.

Extremely interested in community affairs, Mr. McBride was active in many local associations and organizations in addition to his membership on the Town Council.

As a member of the Council, he was Chairman of a number of important committees, including the Fire Committee, Police Committee and the Board of Health. He also served on the finance, streets, town planning, industrial, arbitration and civil defence committees of the Council. He was also a member of the special committee for the Home for the Aged and Infirm and Chairman of the Town Hall committee.

Mr. McBride was also active in the Digby Kiwanis Club, of which he was a Past President, and for many years headed the work for crippled children carried out by the club. He also acted as liaison for the club with the Sea Cadets.

Until his retirement from the position a short while ago, Mr. McBride served for many years as Commanding Officer of Sea Cadet Corps Cornwallis and was awarded the Canada Decoration and the Coronation Medal in recognition of his service in this connection.

Possessing a deep love for the sea and all things nautical, Mr. McBride was an active and devoted member of the Royal Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club of Digby. He served for several years as Commodore of the Club and was among those most actively responsible for the restoration of some of the early and historic trophies as well as the provision of the yacht club building and mooring dock.

Mr. McBride was also greatly concerned with the history of the area and was among those primarily responsible for the establishment of the Memorial Cairn and Bell on the grounds of the federal building. This cairn and bell honours the memory of those from this area who "went down to the sea in ships" and did not return.

Responsibility for the arrangements for the memorial service at the cairn and bell, which has been a part of Digby's Natal Day program each year was willingly accepted by Mr. McBride and carried through in excellent form.

His deep interest in local and area history led Mr. McBride to take a concerned interest in proposals for establishment of a museum here. He also was an avid collector of historical material, particularly relating to the maritime history of the area. He had an impressive collection of photographs dealing with ships and shipping from the port of Digby as well as a notable collection of photographs dealing with early days of railroading. In addition, as a hobby, he constructed many replica scale models of vessels.

In connection with Mr. McBride's keen interest in history, the sea and railroading, he was an active member of the Scotia Railroad Society of Halifax, one of whose purposes is the restoration of historic artifacts connected with railroading. Mr. McBride was instrumental in the society securing an early locomotive to add to its collection.

For many years Mr. McBride was an active member of the Digby Civic Band. He was also an active curler and former President of the Digby Curling Club. He also was active in the Digby Board of Trade and a number of other local groups concerned with development of the area and the welfare of its people.

In addition to his mother, Mr. McBride is survived by a son, Graham, of Halifax, and three grandchildren. The funeral service will be held this afternoon (Thursday) at 2:00 p.m. from Grace United Church. The Rev. George Bell will officiate and interment will be in the United Church cemetery.

In lieu of flowers donations may be made to a chosen charity.

New Manager At Forum

David Matthews of Halifax has been engaged by the Digby Recreation Commission to be manager at the Digby Forum and has arrived in Digby to take up his duties. Mr. Matthews comes to his new field with wide experience having been past president of the Minor Baseball Association, on the executive committee of the Minor Hockey and Baseball, on the executive committee of the Nova Scotia Lawn Tennis Association, worked at the Atlantic Bowl and St. Mary's University collating athletic programs and was the original producer of Camp of Champions Athletic Magazine. He also worked in Newfoundland at Harbour Grace for the Premier of Newfoundland. He had five years experience with the S.S. Kresge Company as advertising manager.

In an interview with the Digby Courier, Mr. Matthews stated that one of his chief desires is to obtain the co-operation of everybody in Digby and vacinity in his new job.

Craft Exhibition At Festival

The Clare Arts Council sponsored the Art & Craft exhibition and sale at the Acadian Festival. It was a huge success both in the amount of various crafts displayed and also sold during the three day exhibition. Many fine comments were made by the visitors to the exhibition on the fine quality of crafts on exhibion. The fine old art of quilt making was one of the highlights of the exhibition with the largest display of hand made quilts of extremely fine patterns and designs, that has ever taken place in the Municipality of Clare.

Ceramics, wood carvings, decoupage, many fine garments, doll dresses, handmade dolls including Evangelines & Gabriels, fancy work, articles of interest such as lobsters of huge size as items of display and table lamps, boat model, tables and a very large display of oil paintings and charcoal drawings. The paintings were displayed on hinged panels of four feet wide

DUBE TOURS REGION — $75,000 TO DIGBY COUNTY WHARVES

Speaking at a banquet in Yarmouth on Saturday evening, the Hon. Jean-Eudes Dube, Federal Minister of Public Works, announced four new projects for southwestern Nova Scotia, two of which are for Digby County wharves.

Receiving $45,000 will be Sandy Cove, to build a 25 foot by 50 foot extension to their present wharf, while $30,000 has been allocated to facelifting the Racquette wharf in the Town of Digby.

Mr. Dube arrived here at the Pines Hotel early Friday evening in order to attend the official opening of the Acadian Festival of Clare with Bishop Austin Burke.

Saturday was devoted to his public works tour of the Digby, Annapolis, Shelburne and Yarmouth county facilities, accompanied by Bruce Angus and Don Sutherland of the regional offices for public works in Halifax. This was followed by his speaking engagement at the banquet in Yarmouth, where he made his official announcements.

After church on Sunday, the Hon. Minister Dube attended a banquet, buffet style, where he made a few short remarks before adjourning to watch the colorful array of floats in the Acadian Festival's annual parade.

Minister Sees Wharf Needs

The wharf in Digby needs protection from the sea and also needs redecking, said Hon. Jean-Eudes Dube, Minister of Public Works when he visited Digby on Saturday morning. Seen above discussing the federal wharf needs are Joseph Casey, MLA; Hon. Mr. Dube, Mrs. Fulton Logan; Mr. Logan and Bernard LeBlanc of Belliveue Cove, Warden of the Municipality of Clare and president of Clare Liberal Association.

Tenders Called For Tiverton Wharf

Tenders have been called by the federal department of public works for wharf repairs at Tiverton, Digby County.

In making the announcement today, Nova Scotia's representative in the federal cabinet, Allan J. MacEachen, said that repairs are necessary to replace a badly deteriorated and damaged section of the public wharf.

This is the first phase of work planned for the wharf. It consists of reconstruction of a 118-foot by 20-foot section of the wharf including installation of creosoted crib-work and a reinforced concrete deck. It is expected that work will be completed three months after a contract is awarded.

Mr. MacEachen said that tenders are due August 2.

Crowds Attend 17th Acadian Festival

The Acadian Festival of Clare 1972 was a huge success and it has been said to be one of the very best festival programs since its inception seventeen years ago. A large attendance marked the successful program with the Festival Dance being one of the highlights on the program when His Excellency Mgr. Austin Burke, Bishop of Yarmouth, officially declared the Acadian Festival open in special ceremonies held at the Legion Hall in Saulnierville. At this dance Miss Bernice Robichaud, Saulnierville, and Hector Doucet, of St. Bernard, were chosen Evangeline and Gabrielle.

The walls were bursting at the seams, with the hall being filled to capacity as far as the Festival Dance was concerned. Saturday was children's day during the afternoon, when a children's parade was held on the campus grounds of Ste Ann's College at Church Point, which started at 2:00 o'clock. The parade took place in the four court tennis court, and a large audience was on hand to applaud the entries.

At 3:00 p.m. the Mermaid Theatre group from Acadia University, at Wolfville, presented a puppet show to the small children in Le Chateau of the college. This show for children was of high calibre and enjoyed by the youngsters. In the evening, the Square Dance Jamboree and fun dance was held in the Legion Hall in Saulnierville, and at the same site an outdoor chicken barbecue was held, followed by fireworks.

Sunday was the great day. It started out cloudy and remained cloudy all afternoon until the parade reached Church Point, when the sun came out from behind the clouds and shone in all its splendor for the balance of the afternoon. The parade started at Little Brook and wended its way along the main highway and finally reached Ste Anne's College campus grounds. Beautifully constructed floats, ox teams, decorated cars, clowns and actors attired in stage costumes of the Acadia Child Participation Theatre of Acadia University, of Wolfville, took part, the famous goat team of Mr. Watson, of

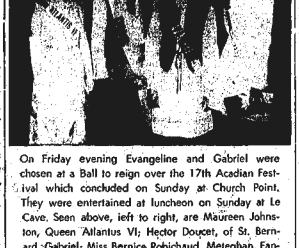
Chosen Evangeline & Gabriel



On Friday evening Evangeline and Gabriel were chosen at a Ball to reign over the 17th Acadian Festival which concluded on Sunday at Church Point. They were entertained at luncheon on Sunday at Le Cave. Seen above, left to right, are Maureen Johnston, Queen Atlantus VI; Hector Doucet, of St. Bernard, Gabriel; Miss Bernice Robichaud, Meteghan, Eangeline; and Miss Sally Robinson, Queen Annapolisa XXXX. The new Evangeline and Gabriel represent the parish of Saulnierville.

Quebec Girls Band At Festival

Les Emeraudes, trompett band of Senneterre, Quebec, who were in the area for a few days participated in all three days activities of the Acadian Festival furnishing special numbers at Friday's banquet held at Ste Anne's college at 6.30 p.m. and again later in the evening at the opening Festival dance at the Legion hall at Saulnierville as well as taking part in the

— ABOUT THIS AND THAT —

Digby Loses Councillor

Digby Town Council and all Digby residents were shocked on Monday to learn of the sudden death, in Halifax, of one of their members, Councillor Charles McBride. As late as the July regular meeting of the Digby Town Council, Councillor McBride occupied his regular seat at the end of the council table opposite His Worship Mayor Glen Smith.

Councillor McBride, always diligent in his duties, will be missed for the tasks he was able to accomplish for the benefit of the town and for his able counsel most accurately and readily given in many fields of town management.

Being a town councillor is an arduous task which definitely takes its toll when performed with diligence. This Councillor McBride always did and shall be remembered for it, but we are reminded that Mr. McBride gave of his life in other areas for the benefit of mankind with one most important being that of serving youth in many capacities such as Scouts and Sea Cadets.

Our sympathies are extended to Mr. McBride's mother and his son and family and all who will feel his loss so greatly.

In Memory Of Walter Wood

(Contributed)

The small villages along the upper St. Mary's Bay are sorrowing over the loss of Walter Wood. One young friend wrote me, "He was such a special friend and such a special man to all who knew him."

Able, strong, resourceful, he was not only helpful, but so sensitive, so aware of any need for help, that he responded without being asked in a special cheerful way that made life happier and easier. I remember, many years ago, he and another young Brighton man called a meeting on village improvement. That was in the anti-organization days. I thought then they were courageous, but we know now that courage had nothing to do with their decision to call a meeting. It was simply that these very young men saw a need; so they took care of that need. As village neighbor, county councillor, road builder, farmer . . . whatever, Walter did what was needed. Even in very small things, the pattern maintained, like taking an old lady to see gorgeous fall trees on the Bear River hillsides . . . and always with such an understanding smile.

We recount pleasant but poignant memories today in our grief and realize he will always be with us.

Our deepest sympathies go out to all his family.

Signed,
"An Old Friend."

Bring Them Back Alive

Highways Minister Garnet Brown has announced the launching of a special summer-long highway safety promotion campaign on the theme "Bring Them Back Alive!"

The safety drive is specifically targeted at vacationing Nova Scotians and tourists, and Highways Minister Brown hopes it will be successful in reducing the annual holiday upsurge in highway deaths created by the sudden influx of thousands of additional motorists on provincial highways.

The summer campaign includes a strong promotional emphasis on such factors as pedestrian safety of young people who are out of school.

With the rapid development of Nova Scotia's new controlled access highway system — permitting legal speeds of 65 miles per hour — the need for emphasis on slow moving equipment has become quite evident. Rapidly travelling vehicles now overtake such equipment with little warning of the much slower speed being travelled, often requiring dangerous evasive action to avoid collision.

The safety campaign also emphasizes the hazard of the "Sunday driver" and other types of slow moving vehicles which travel well below posted speed limits and often obstruct long lines of traffic. Emphasis will be placed on the need for curtesy in granting right-of-way to following vehicles, or and in utilizing other than controlled access highways for travel at slower speeds.

A new program this year is an educational effort targeted at the anticipated large volume of summer tourist traffic. This program attempts to inform visitors to Nova Scotia of Motor Vehicle Act regulations which may vary from those in the province or state in which they reside.

Hodge Podge

— Maybe Digby misses the boat by not having a Scallop Festival. We see where Richibucto, N. B. has such a festival.

— He was from the State of New York. He subscribed to The Digby Courier as he sauntered down the street. In conversation he told us "This is the third time I've been to Nova Scotia. One trip was to Cape Breton, the next on the South Shore and this time in the Digby area. My boy has one more year in high school. After that I'm definitely going to come to Nova Scotia to live. That is why I subscribed to your paper. I want to be able to buy a property."

— One of our vacationing families from Digby area returned home with the expression "everybody must be vacationing in Nova Scotia". Traffic was no problem in any other province except Nova Scotia. Was their comment on return. This was not meant in any disrespect to Nova Scotia highway facilities, but simply that many visitors seem to be in our province.

— Highways Minister A. Garnet Brown has urged Nova Scotia businessmen to deal "fairly" with United States visitors. Should anybody, really, have to be urged to do this?

— There are some people in this world who do not neglect to pass on a good word when they feel it is warranted. And how happy these expressions of appreciation make one feel. For instance, a man hospitalized in a U.S.A. hospital while vacationing there was homesick for Nova Scotia. Someone passed him The Digby Courier to read. The following is the comment he wrote to us, "And believe me it was wonderful. You still publish a genuine weekly newspaper which is close to the heart, while that editorial page is worth the price of admission alone. I get tired of reading canned editorials about Siam or those written with a pair of scissors which say nothing anyway. You still have the touch and I hope the Lord will bless you for many years to come so that the Courier will continue to do the job right. I have to admit the old breed are fast disappearing but the new breed will disappear even faster because they have nothing solid or substantial to offer."

Nova Scotia

Did it ever occur to you that the Creator may have left this little sea-girt peninsula until the last? That He may have reserved for it many of the treasures of His work shop? That after He finished His great masterpiece He may have spent aeons in moulding those features of this Province which possess such delicacy of beauty, such subtety of charm that, travel the world over, we find them unexcelled, and without peer?

Did you ever think that when this world was coming out of chaos the Creator might have set aside ever so little of the congealing mass upon which to imprint His own special design? Have you not thought of the Divine Hand pressing a finger upon the soft clay, and behold, a valley here, another there? Have you not seen in the wonderful contour of hills and mountains of this land the Divine imagery of what hills and mountains should be?

Have you never heard in the babble of its brooks and the murmer of its tides and surge of its surf, the music of a divine choir which sang praises while the Creator worked? Have you never yet heard through the forest, through the orchards, over fields and meadows, the Breath that gave it life?

Did it never seem strange to you that this is a land without tempest, or flood, or drought, or gale or pestilence; and if you did, did you ever think that the reason may be, because it is God's land?

Horatio C. Crowell.

Confidence

By: A. Warren Lewis

We live today and come what may
Its not ours for the choosing,
So be content with things that's sent
In which we may be losing
The benefits that grieve us much
And God's way may be confusing.

One thing is sure there is a cure
For all our ills besetting,
In God we trust and so we must Thank God for what we're getting.

The beauty we see can only be
A shadow of God's kindness,
And in the light of what is right
We'll press our way to that great day

That ten fold love sent from above
Sustains us in trial or sorrow,
And heavenly light dispells the night
And gives us hope for tomorrow.

Then let's not complain if we don't gain
The victory we so much desire,
For in God's good time and love sublime
Will bring the heavenly fire.

To burn the dross and then the loss
Will be the consummation
Of faith and trust for then we must Accept His consolation.

God's love is true for me and you
And in His love abiding
God always will remind us
For in heaven we'll be residing.

Fish & Game Sports Days Success

The Digby East Fish and Game Association Sports Day held at Defaga Lodge, Haynes Lake on Saturday and Sunday resulted in a tremendous success. Jack Nichols, president, in an interview with The Digby Courier expressed himself as being well satisfied with the two day event when the sportsmanship, the contestants and the workers were "terrific".

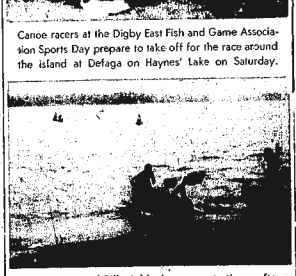
As in preceding years John Nichols Jr. and Fred Smith dominated the canoe events winning all canoe finals on Sunday. John Nichols Sr. and his son John also won the father and son finals with Rit Thomas and his son Greg coming in second. All remarked that they are looking forward to the Bear River Cherry Carnival on July 29 and Digby Natal Day, July 31 when they will again enter canoe sports event.

Winners of the events at Haynes Lake on Saturday and Sunday were Grease Pole Boys 12-16 Barry O'Neil, first, and Glen Hall and Fred Lombard, second (tie). Grease Pole Girls 12-16, 1st Liz Haight, second Toby Comeau. Grease pole free for all 1st, Billy Adshade, Champion, the sly one to get the flag, 2nd Larry Thibodeau. Girls Swimming 12-16 1st Barbara Warren, second Liz Haight; Boys Swimming 12-16 Gerry Thibault, second Tim Robichaud. The special raffle draw on Saturday night was won by Stan White and drawn by Joseph Casey, M.L.A. Charlesfall won a special draw among the workers. The decorated cane was won by Mrs. Thelma Jordan and was drawn by Ann Comeau; Money doll valued $40.00 was won by Jimmie Melanson, drawn by Mrs. Bernie Haight, Hill Grove; Poncho Set won by Nola Titus, drawn by Portia Barton. Doll lamp won by Laura Nichols, drawn by the winner of the money doll Jimmie Melanson.

Mr. Nichols extended his thanks to all the workers for their great effort and hard work during the last weeks which made the years sports days a success. He especially mentioned Allison Denton and Bruce Davey who were masters of ceremonies and to the judges who are "still trying to decide who told the tallest story". Mr. Nichols advised that a final financial statement on the sports day would be submitted within the next few weeks.

Start And Finish

Canoe racers at the Digby East Fish and Game Association Sports Day prepare to take off for the race around the island at Defaga on Haynes' Lake on Saturday.



Ken Wagner and Billy Adshade prepare to tie up after coming first in the race. Other canoes can be seen in the background.

Ladies Division Digby Pines Golf Club

On Tuesday, Ladies afternoon at the Digby Pines Golf Club, the competition took the form of a twoball foursome. Winners of the event were Joan Burnett and the newest member, Jo Ann Outhouse. Runners-up in the twoball were Laura Nichols and Eleanor Rice. Supper and a planning session followed the play.

Secretary of the Ladies Division, Helen Daley reported that ten golf clubs have accepted the invitation to play in an interclub tournament on August 2. Forty-five entries have been received from Paragon, Greenwood, Eden, Kew-Wo, Annapolis, Clare, Yarmouth, Tiverton, and Liverpool, and Shelburne. Twelve or more members from the Digby Club will also play in the tournament, and plans are underway for entertaining the visiting golfers with a morning snack and an evening meal.

Successful Bicycle Rodeo

A successful bicycle rodeo composed of pupils of the St. Bernard school was held on Saturday, June 17th, on the paved grounds of the St. Bernard church, starting at 10:30 a.m. The program was slated to start at 9:00 but due to rain falling in other areas, some of the judges thought that the rodeo would be called off and did not leave their homes. When it was found that rain was not falling in the rodeo area, they were called and it took some time before they could arrive at the scene of the rodeo and prepare markings, thus delaying the start.

The rodeo consisted of rules tests of ten questions, bicycle inspection with only one of the fifty registered for the rodeo disqualified, pedalling and braking, signalling, turning and stopping, straight line tests and obstacle tests.

The winners were: age group 7 to 8 years - 1st prize, Marc Belliveau; 2nd, Paul Roth; 3rd, Miss Marlene Long; 9 to 10 age group - 1st prize, Miss Joanne Blinn; 2nd, Clarence Doucet; 3rd, Miss Odette Dugas; 11 years and over group - 1st prize, Miss Lottie Theriault; 2nd, Danny Amirault; 3rd, Brian Amirault.

Mr. Melvin Perry motor vehicle instructor, of Port Maitland, was in charge of the rodeo, and he was assisted by RCMP Gilles Desautels of the Meteghan detachment, Edmond Amirault, New Edinburgh; Victor LeBlanc, St. Bernard; Larry Mullen, Havelock, all of the teaching profession in Clare. Miss Simone Comeau, of the St. Bernard school teaching staff, was leader of the rodeo.

Fifty bicycle riders from the school were entered in the rodeo and all went through their paces quite successfully.

The rodeo ended at 12:30 p.m. when prizes were distributed to the winners and pop and ice cream were handed out to all contestants for taking part in the rodeo.

Digby Girl Gets Certificate Of Merit

Stella Robertson, of Digby, receives Certificate of Merit from "Sharky" MacDonald, chaperone at the Leadership Training Course held at Acadia University from July 1 - 10. Stella was sponsored by Digby Branch No. 20, Royal Canadian Legion.

Digby Junior Golfers In Trophy Play

A record number of Junior Golfers turned out last week at Digby Pines Golf Club in Competition for major trophies.

The Reigh Jayne Trophy for boys 15-18 years of age was won by Stephen Saulnier with an 83. David Oliver was runner-up with 91, followed by Lindon Garron with a 95.

The Drs. Black and McCleave Trophy for Junior Boys, who have not reached 15, was won by Paul Doucette with a sparkling score of 82.

Randy Oliver, only 13, who helps out at "Nick" Nickerson's Pro. Shop .. and a great young Golfing prospect .. was runner-up with 92, followed by Alan Frankland at 119.

Considering the strong winds that prevailed Paul Doucette Gross Score of 82 was remarkable ... it was his best over.

The "midget-midget" Division ended in a saw-off between Andrew Prescesky and Michael Lynch. At last count both were 213 .. and a bit tired!

This week 5 Digby lads — Paul, Lindon and Randy, together with two of the Samad boys — Imram and Osman — are competing at Truro Golf Club for the Provincial Junior Championship against 130 of Nova Scotia's best.

While no one of our boys has ever competed in such a Major Tournament and while they will be giving much away in age and experience, all of our lads have an abundance of enthusiasm and desire and will certainly do their best.

Soccer Juniors To Play Series With Bridgetown

Bridgetown's O.F.Y. program is sponsoring a summer soccer program for youths in grades 7 and 8 (1972-1973 season). Digby has accepted an invitation to play a home and home series beginning Monday in Bridgetown at 3 p.m. Digby's youngsters have been away from the game since June, but will begin practicing mornings from 10:30 to noon. All players who will be in grades 5-8 this year are invited to the school field mornings. It is expected that many of last year's Peewee team will compete.

IN MEMORIAM

McDORMAND — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, George F. McDormand, who left us July 31st 1971.
We miss you now our hearts are sure,
As time goes by, we miss you more,
Your loving smile, your gentle face,
No one can ever fill your place.
Wife, Hazel, son, Albert, daughter-in-law, Helen and family. 49:1ip

SANDERSON — In loving memory of Alfred Sanderson who passed away July 19, 1967.
We little knew when we wake that morn
The sorrow the day would bring
For the call was sudden the shock severe
To part with one we loved so dear.
Sometime its hard to understand
Why something has to be
But in his wisdom God has planned
Beyond our power to see,
God gave us strength to fight it
And courage to bear the blow
But, what it cost to lose you
Dear Brother no one will ever know.
We will always be remembered by sister, Mrs. Ronald Payson. 49:1ic

FROST — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, "Dolly" Louise Frost, who passed away July 22, 1965.
There is someone who misses you sadly,
In the house where you used to be,
There is someone who wanted to keep you,
But God willed it not to be;
You left us beautiful memories
And sorrow too great to be told.
But to us who loved you and lost you,
Your memory will never grow old.
Lovingly remembered by husband, Emdon and children Barbara, Nancy, David, Ann, Leslie and family. 49::1ic

FADELLE — In loving memory of our baby daughter, Kimberlee Karen, aged 4 months, who was killed in an auto accident July 22nd, 1958.
What we would give if we could say
"Hello Kimmie" every day
To touch your little face, and see you smile
Or to sit and hold you for just a while.
So to you who have a baby girl
Cherish her always with loving care
For you will never know the heartaches
Until one day she isn't there.
— Sadly missed and always remembered by Mommy and Daddy, Norma and Bob FADELLE, Digby, N.S. 49:1ip

GIDNEY — In loving memory of Larry Walter, who was drowned July 11th 1949, at Centreville,
The golden gates were opened
Twenty-three years ago today
You gently went away.
You couldn't say good-bye to us
Perhaps it was just as well
We never could have said good-bye
To the one we loved so well.
Not a day do we forget you
In our hearts your always near,
God alone knows how we miss you
Bringing many a silent tear.
— Always remembered by Mom and sister, Brenda. 49:1ic

NOVA SCOTIA

Halifax Antique Auto Club, Tuesday they proceeded to Kentville, and from there, visited Digby, Weymouth and Yarmouth, returning to U.S. A. on Thursday.

The group, headed by Dr. and Mrs. Bob DeHart, stopped at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Hankinson in Weymouth, for lunch, and to see the antique cars here. The Nova Scotia Trek presented the Hankinson's with an engraved plaque on marble, as a souvinier of the visit. In this tour were nine antique, including a 1914 Model T coupe, and a Chrysler Dual cowl phaeton which is one of four, in the world. Others varied in ages in types up to 1939.

Dr. De Hart and his group commented on the Nova Scotia hospitality, wherever they went, he said everyone went out of their way to make their travelling and leisure times memorable in every-way. Their enthusiasm for Nova Scotia and its scenery, as well as its people, was unanimous throughout the group.

Rolland Martin Gaudet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gaudet of St. Bernard, received his diploma in Engineering from St. Mary's University at their convocation exercises. He will further his studies this fall at Nova Scotia Technical College, in Electricity. He is presently employed with the Bedford Institute of Oceanography.

YOU BETTER BELIEVE IT!

MOTORCYCLES HAVE BEEN HERE A LONG TIME ....

One of the first builders of motorcycles was the Excelsior Works in Coventry, England. Their first machines were manufactured in 1896. This company built the largest single-cylinder motorcycle ever mass-produced. It had an 680c.c. motor.

In 1924 there were only 137 motorcycles registered in Nova Scotia. Today, the Registry of Motor Vehicles reports 5,000 of varying sizes and types.

....BUT NOT ALL THE DRIVERS

The Canada Safety Council says the risk of death in a motorcycle accident is 40 times greater than in a car accident. Chances of limb injury, facial disfigurement and permanent brain damage are also high.

The Motor Vehicle Act now requires all motorcycle drivers and passengers to wear an approved protective helmet.

STATISTICS CANADA COMPUTER DRAWS A MAP TO SHOW CANADA'S POPULATION PATTERN – This is the way Canada's population distribution looks to a computer that has all the facts. From basic population data stored in its memory, the computer produced the map above, indicating population change by census division, shading each area according to the percentage of increase or decrease recorded in the 1971 Census of Canada. Southern Ontario and part of southern Quebec are left white on the main map and shown in larger scale in the inset at lower left.

Philip Comeau President

Philip Comeau, president of the Acadian Festival, especially thanked those who helped make the Festival a success in 1972 and invited all back for 1973 when he gave a short talk at the luncheon held at Le Cave on Sunday. Master of ceremonies was John Doucet. Left to right above are the Princess of Berwick; Mr. Doucet, Gabriel, Evangeline, Mr. Comeau and Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival Queen.

Honourable T.A. Hickman, Minister of Justice. Over four hundred officers attended private councils prior to the public rallies. The public rallies were held in the St. John's Memorial Stadium.

The Captain toured various Army facilities during his visit to Newfoundland including the Salvation Army Grace General Hospital in St. John's. The Grace is one of the finest hospitals in the area, providing accomodaion for 424 adult patients, and 72 babies. Capt. Zimmerman was able to talk to patients using the haemodialysis department which operates the only Renal Dialysis Unit in Newfoundland - (four artificial kidney machines are in constant operation). The Captain also toured the ultra-modern coronary care unit, as well as seeing one of the only eye banks East of Montreal.

One of the high-lights of the Congress was the Commissioning of twenty-four officers, trained at the Salvation Army Training College in St. John's.

by eight feet tall hinged together to form a zigzag pattern with oil paintings hanging on both sides of the panels. The new method of presenting oil paintings proved to be an interesting one and many fine comments were made on the system by admirers of many fine paintings by the Acadian artists of Clare. The very large attendance at the Arts & Crafts exhibition and sales as well as the Clare 4-H Club exhibition, and Church Point scouts display, encouraged the various groups to continue the exhibitions.

CROWDS ATTEND

Hebron, marching unit from CEB Cornwallis, majorettes from Yarmouth and Digby, two bands, the Cap Pele band from the village of the same name in New Brunswick and "Les Emeraudes de Sennetere" trumpet band made the parade an interesting one.

Queen Annapolisa XXXX, Miss Sally Robinson, of Middleton; Princess Glooscap, Miss Susan Roger, New Minas; Miss Shelly Murphy, Kentville, Miss Ann Miller and Miss Berwick, Miss Mary Magee and Queen Atlantus VI of the Fishermen's Fishing Fleet, Miss Maureen Johnson, all graced the festival parade and added an extra pomp and beauty.

Winners of the grand parado were: most outstanding float of the parade, A. F. Theriault & Sons Ltd. shipyard float; most original float, "Premier Mariage Acadiens" (first Acadian marriage), by the St. Bernard Youth Club. The Credit Unions of Clare (Meteghan, Saulnierville and Church Point) won the industrial float prize; Bernie Saulnier's ox team with float "Un timeux du temp passe" (a sawfiler of old times) won the best historical float prize and Les Danseurs Acadiens de Clare square dance club's float "La joie de vivre" won special prize.

Other outstanding special entry prizes were won by Robert Watson with his goat team, of Hebron, and another special prize went to Mike Blinn and his ox team hauling a load of hay. Best decorated car prize went to Concession, with Charles Meade in charge. Decorated bicycle prizes went to: 1st, Thomas Griffin, Little Brook; 2nd, Clayton Saulnier, Little Brook and 3rd, Gary Thibault, Grosses Coques.

Winners of the children's parade were: 4 to 6 years age group: 1st prize, Miss Rheanne Gaudet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Gaudet, Saulnierville Station; 2nd prize, Misses Yvette and Renette Belliveau, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Alain Belliveau, of Belliveau Cove.

Age group 7 to 9 years: 1st prize, Miss Denise Thimot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Thimot, of Meteghan; 2nd prize, Misses Janice and Alice LeBlanc, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Denis LeBlanc, Saulnierville.

Age group 10 to 12 years: 1st prize, James Doucet, "Bad Luck", son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Doucet, of Saulnierville Station; 2nd prize, Misses Patricia and Jocelyn Aucoin, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Aucoin, of Little Brook.

Judges for the grand parade on Sunday were Miss Muriel Comeau, of Petit Rocher, N. B., who is following the summer courses at Ste Anne's College at Church Point; Camille Gaudet, from around Boston but presently visiting in the area; and Dr. Julien Comeau, of Church Point.

Judges of the children's parade were Mrs. Emelie Belliveau, St. Bernard; Mrs. Marguerite LeBlanc, Little Brook; and Mrs. Juliette Thibault, of Church Point.

Judges for Evangeline and Gabrielle were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chiasson, Halifax.

QUEBEC GIRLS

Festival's parade. This group of 58 girls, ages 10 to 19 years, naturally dressed with dance costumes presented a beautiful sight and they helped to make this year's festival the success that it has been. This group wanted to take active part in the Acadian Festival and they did just that, taking every advantage possible to present music for several events. The group as well as members of the Cap Pele band, were placed in the homes of the Acadians where the young people would come to know the ACADIANS of Clare better. The Sennetere group from the Province of Quebec were an exchange students group and they invited the young students from Clare to return the visit next year when they would be graciously welcomed by the present group, in their homes.

The band was accompanied by Claude Traudel and Paul Mallot music director. While here the group enjoyed fishing and touring the area.

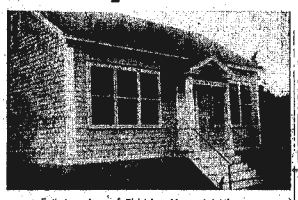
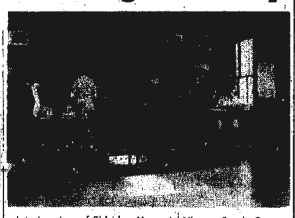
Library Has Interesting History



Exterior view of Eldridge Memorial Library.



Interior view of Eldridge Memorial Library, Sandy Cove.

The Eldridge Memorial Library of Sandy Cove, Digby Neck, was opened on May 6, 1936. The first book on the list of over 3,000 are those written and given to the library by Lord Tweedsmuir, John Buchan, then Governor General of Canada. His wife, Lady Tweedsmuir, also an author, sent several autographed books as also did Lord Tweedsmuir's sister, an author whose pen name is O'Douglas; Miss Emily Taylor of Germantown, Penn., U.S.A., a librarian and a summer visitor at the tourist home of Mr. and Mrs. Amaca Eldridge, gave of her time and talent and many dozens of books. She also gave thirty beautiful pictures, copies of famous paintings, nursery rhymes, etc., The Gleaners, The Tom Hat and The Age of Innocence, etc.

The Sandy Cove Stories were written by Miss Alice Dalgiesh, an author of more than 40 books. The first Sandy Cove Story Book, 1935, was "The Blue Teapot", a portion of which is being used in the Ontario school books, Grade IV. A copy of the Ontario school book is in our library (given with other books by the Rev. Edgar Bull and their children who have a summer home here.)

"Reliefs Rocker", the second Sandy Cove Story Book, name taken from a grave stone (Relief Tucker) date 1813, in the Church of England graveyard, and "Roundabout", the third Sandy Cove Book, so called because it was the home of Miss Alice Dalgiesh and the only way to get to it was 'round the beach (no road) or up the Church Hill and down over a very steep bank.

"The Silver Pencil", another book written by Miss Alice Dalgiesh, tells how she happened to come to Sandy Cove and to "Roundabout", a cosy Cape Cod house built by Capt. Dakin, a great uncle of the Sandy Cove Poet, Lawrence Dakin, who has written many books.

Another book given recently, "Nineteenth Century Pottery and Porcelain in Canada", by Elizabeth Collard of Montreal, an authority on Canadian pottery and porcelain, was awarded an honorary degree at Mount Allison University in the fall of 1971. Mrs. Collard has won international recognition for her book. This book was given by Mrs. F. Ronald Morehouse in memory of her father-in-law, Dr. F. G. Morehouse.

Besides giving books, visitors have shown slides in the Community Hall. Mr. Starr Fairweather, Ottawa, showed slides on the Incas Indians of South America taken while on a world tour and Dr. Ronald Morehouse showed slides on weir fishing, etc., and also views of historical Montreal.

Distinguished visitors have come to the library. Lady Peel (Beatrice Lillie) visited us in August 1971. Her book, "Every Other Inch A Lady", recently published, is not as yet among our collection. (We are hoping.)

At a recent meeting in the Community Hall, Dr. Ronald Morehouse was appointed president of the library committee; Mrs. Emden Morehouse, vice-president; Mrs. Jack Morehouse, secretary; Mrs. Percy Harris, Jr., treasurer.

The library is open on Tuesday and Friday afternoons 3 to 5 p.m. Membership is free to all, including visitors.

Mrs. Morehouse.

Amanda Gets Farewell Gifts

Mrs. Amanda Marshall, the former Amanda Cromwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cromwell, Acaciaville, was tendered a surprise party at the Acaciaville-Conway Community Centre recently. The party was given by the youth choir of the Acaciaville Baptist Church and their leaders, whom Mrs. Marshall had assisted during her several months vacation here. Mrs. Marshall has since returned to Barbados.

Mrs. Marshall was presented with an electric clock by the leaders of the choir, with embroidered pillow cases by the Auxiliary and on the following Sunday the congregation of the Acaciaville church presented Amanda with a hymn book.

Mrs. Marshall was thanked by the church for the interest she had taken in the choir and church during her stay here.

At the party the choir sang a number of spirituals and served refreshments.

Raise $315.00

Upwards of 250 toe-tapping, hand clapping people jammed the auditorium of the Oakdene School, Bear River, for 2½ hours of music and good fun on Thursday evening, June 22. The Musical Variety Show put on by the Clementsvale District Christian Youth Centre Committee, netted $315.00.

Variety was supplied by Reg Baird and his singers and musicians as they swung from Country & Western to Gospel, to a rocking rendition of Elvis Presley's "Blue Suede Shoes". They were ably assisted by "The Silvers", of Tupperville, Nova Scotia. A touch of Scotland was supplied by Jack McCurdy with his bagpipes and Shelly Morency danced a Highland Fling to the skirl of the bagpipes played by Mr. H. S. Cunningham, of Annapolis Royal.

Linda Wamboldt and Helen Zillman really brought down the house with their comical version of "Frankie and Johnnie". The versatile duo also sang "Amazing Grace". Twenty-seven House of Roth Teen Dancers presented a colorful history of dancing with narration by Gloria Roth. This was followed by a fascinating "Black Light" act by Gloria

Local Witnesses To Attend Convention

There is nothing unusual about a summer influx of tourists to South Western Nova Scotia. This week, however, a larger than normal number of visitors is evident. The reason: the Thursday opening of the "Divine Rulership" Convention by about 2,000 Jehovah's Witnesses.

This gathering at the Yarmouth Exhibition Grounds promises to be one of the largest conventions of any type to be held in the tri-county area.

Richard Buzza, of Digby, a local businessman, who serves as the presiding minister of the Digby Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, stated that "conventions are a part of the Witnesses' way of life."

"Never before has the family unit had such an urgent need for the Bible's practical counsel", said Buzza. "Our convention program fills that need with information pertaining to solving the problems of contemporary life, bridging the communication gap in the family and raising children to responsible adulthood."

For Mr. Buzza, this convention will prove a challenge

Dance For Senior Residents

Young Karon Comeau and Andrea Comeau, of Salmon River doing the parasol step dance routine for the boarders of St. Mary's Home at Meteghan Centre, when a group of the step dance class of Mrs. Frances Peters, instructress, of Digby, presented a special concert at the Home. Melanson Photo)

A special treat was handed out to the boarders of St. Mary's Home at Meteghan Centre when a group of dancers of Mrs. Frances Peters dance group presented a concert of dancing and songs. Due to lack of sufficient space, which was the main dining room of the Home, all the dancers of Mrs. Peters' class who followed courses during the winter months were not able to take part. The show was of an hour's duration and started at 6:30 p.m.

Cindy Deveau, of Mavilette, provided folklore singing in French, rendering several numbers before the actual show began while waiting for some of the dancers to arrive. Miss Debra Comeau also sang several songs for the audience and Cindy Deveau and Aline Cottreau rendered a duet, with Cindy accompanying on the guitar.

The dance group presented the Hungarian dance with two dancers, Misses Theresa Robichaud and Adrienne Doucet, dancing the first portion, and sisters Carol and Christine Muise, dancing the second part. Others presenting step-dancing routines were young Karon and Andrea Comeau, of Salmon River; Marion and Vivian Titus, sisters; Francine Thimot and Yvette Melanson. A short skit with dancers and actors took place, terminating in everyone step-dancing.

The concert was enjoyed by all those present, and a treat was handed out to the boarders of the Home, which was donated by Deveau's store at Meteghan. Mrs. Adrienne Comeau, of St. Alphonse, was in charge of presenting the concert. This is the second year that Mrs. Comeau has asked to have dance students perform for the boarders of the Home.

Other groups or individuals who wish to assist in the entertainment program for the boarders at the Municipal Home at Meteghan Centre are asked to get in touch with Albert P. Melanson, Church Point (telephone 769-2429), so they can be scheduled for an appearance at the Home.

Let us not forget the older folks. They need entertainment of local nature which is live.

Evangelistic Services Close

A unique experiment in evangelistic work at Freeport, N. S., came to a close on Sunday evening, July 2nd, when Rev. Mel Moody and his team of young singers from the Dublin Christian Academy, presented an impressive service of song and testimony, followed by a forceful sermon. The team had been holding services for the last ten evenings in the United Baptist Church there, and services on Sunday at Tiverton and Central Grove.

The five girls with the team, Gail Wyse, Vt., pianist, Debbie Crabb, N. H., Elaine Ruschmann, Mass., Sheryl Benner, Vt., and Verna Lynch, Mass., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allison Morehouse and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Tibert. The four boys, Dave Chickering, N. H., organist, Bob Brenton, Wis., Kevin Moody, N. H., and Robbie MacNevin, Mass., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Avery Finigan, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tibert and Rev. and Mrs. Kitchiner Daw. Rev. Moody stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hewitt.

Mrs. Ernest Powell was in charge of hospitality. As these young Christians' work was voluntary and without remuneration, she organized the schedule which provided hostesses and lunches every noon at the vestry, and an evening meal at a number of different homes. Each house in the village had been canvassed and the whole community cooperated wholeheartedly with more than enough money for their lunches besides the efficient and faithful services of the ladies who prepared and served them, and the fine hospitality of the people who took them into their homes for their suppers.

The community was richly rewarded by the inspiring music and sermons brought by these young people and their leader, and they won the hearts of young and old alike. Many thanks were extended to all those who helped in any way to make this evangelistic thrust a success.

Passes With Recognition

A certificate received from the Annapolis Regional Vocational School issued to Robert William Vroom, Deep Brook, stated that William has passed with the subject assessment code V.S. (very satisfactory).

Accompanying this certificate was the much prized "Recognition of Merit" certificate, which qualified William for the cash award.

Billy's many friends in Annapolis and Digby Counties will be pleased to learn of this recognition and will follow his career with interest.

Here is an example of the contribution the Vocational School is making in education. Young men and women not keen about the academic life of the university are finding worthwhile courses in Vocational Schools to fit them for their future.

May Be Maude's First

When Ellis Doucette obtained a picture from the late Mrs. Maude Lewis, Digby's famous primitive artist, she had told him it was the "first picture she had done". The picture, dated on back 1935, is different from her latest works in that it is more detailed and more proportioned. There is a lake, river or bay with trees surrounding the shore line and a plump little girl in bathing attire and arms in position to make the plunge. On the grass near the water is her red dress with dark buttons. Mountains or hills lurk in the background, while the same mountains and trees reflect in the still water.

Mr. Doucette, who lives in Oshawa, Ontario, was home visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Doucette, Marshalltown, when he entrusted the care of his picture to The Digby Courier editor. He has no intention of selling the painting or relinquishing it in any way, neither does he feel it should be "lost" in his basement in Oshawa. He brought the picture back to Digby and Nova Scotia where he feels a historical society or an art gallery might wish to have it on loan.

Definitely the picture is one of Maude's earlier ones, done back in the years when she first made herself known by the paintings on the windows, doors, stove, stairs, mirrors, blinds, etc. of her home. Mr. Doucette can only take her word as he remembers it being sold to him, that it was her first painting. In any case, Mr. Doucette's painting, a genuine Maude Lewis, revealing her own personality, on canvas, as well as the scene and instance she wished to convey, is a valuable piece of art memorializing Digby's famous primitive artist. The fact that Mr. Doucette is concerned about having her work and memory preserved by loaning the picture where it can be seen and admired by the public is an admirable quality in a Digby native son and shows the esteem which Digby's sons hold for the home-town and county.

Mr. Doucette is with the Legal Aid Assessment branch in the Department of Welfare, Oshawa. He is married and has one son, Mike, age four.

Honor Sister

On Sunday June 18th at Holy Cross Church in Plympton and Sacred Heart Mission in Doucetteville, parishioners took this opportunity to express their appreciation to Sister Rita (Noella) Surette, who has served these parishes for the past 12 years. Sister Noella was among the first Sisters to come to live in Plympton. Her activies, far too numerous to name, were from teaching catechism, social work, preparing children to receive the sacraments and directing both choirs at Plympton and Doucetteville.

Gifts were extended to Sister Noella at Holly Cross. On behalf of the Parish a gift was presented by Mr. Walter Thibault, on behalf of the C.W.L. by Mrs. Norman Teabo, on behalf of the C.Y.O. by Miss Yaule Robicheau, and on behalf of Holy Cross Choir, Mr. Walter Melanson. At Sacred Heart Mission the presentations were made on behalf of the Parish by Mr. Arnold Sprague on behalf of Sacred Heart Parishoners by Mrs. Reed Melanson and on behalf of Sacred Heart Mission Choir by Mrs. Sheila Amero.

Sister Noella was deeply moved by this show of affection and to expressed her sincere thanks to all. Her new posting is in Quinnan, Yarmouth County. Good luck is extended to her.

90 Years Old

Mrs. Clara Pratt of Lexington, Mass., who is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Sydney Amero and Mr. Amero celebrated her 90th birthday recently. She was joined at the home of her sister by Mrs. Frank Thibideau and Mrs. Edwin Elliott and Mrs. Hiliare Amirault where they all enjoyed a rapare supper and a lovely birthday cake. Many happy returns are extended to her.

MARRIAGES

Day — Parker

On July 15th, Manning Memorial Chapel, Acadia University, was the scene of the wedding of Mary Lou Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm C. Parker, Bear River, Nova Scotia, to Peter George Day, son of Mrs. Estelle Day and the late Mr. Day, Moncton, New Brunswick.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. M. R. Cherry and Rev. Dr. I. J. Levy. Alan Fraser, Halifax, Nova Scotia, was the organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length empire style gown of imported silk "mira mist" with stand up collar and full puffed sleeves. Swiss Guipure lace was featured on the bodice and French cuffs, with a circular chapel train extending from the waist. Her short bouffant veil was of imported silk illusion tulle and she carried a bouquet of white mums, red sweetheart roses and baby's breath.

Doreen Atkinson, Halifax, Nova Scotia, was maid of honour. She wore a floor length gown of imported sheer ganza. It was designed with white bodice and long sheer sleeves, with ruffle collar, bodice trim and skirt of floral tone on tone red berry print. She carried a matching floral parasol.

Steven Parker, Ottawa, Ontario, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

James Keech, Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, was best man and the ushers were Michael Parker, brother of the bride, George Day and Robert Day, brothers of the groom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Mac Keen Room, Student Union Building, Miss Mary Miles, Sydney, Nova Scotia, and Miss Brenda Deale, Bedford, Nova Scotia, poured. Presiding at the guest book was Malcolm Parker Jr., Edmonton, Alberta, nephew of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Day will reside in Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Spencer — Thibault

Mary Queen of Heaven Church, Waterford, was the scene of a pretty summer wedding on July 1st, when Joanne Grace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Thibault, of Rossway, was united in marriage to Perry Weston Spencer, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Spencer, of Digby. Rev. Lee Mallett, of Digby, officiated at the ceremony. Mrs. Hugh Morehouse, of Sandy Cove, was the organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long empire dress of white Georgette, trimmed with lace. Her shoulder length veil was held in place with a white rose headpiece, and she carried a bouquet of blue and white carnations.

Miss Mary McCabe, of Yarmouth, was matron of honor. She wore a full length gown of blue crepe with long full sleeves and apron of Swiss dot. She carried a nosegay of blue and white carnations.

The best man was William Smith, of Halifax, friend of the groom. The usher was Leo Peters, brother-in-law of the bride.

The mother of the bride chose navy crimplene with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The groom's mother chose pink crepe with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The reception was held in the church hall where a buffet luncheon was served by Mrs. Darrell Lewis, Miss Vera Gidney, Mrs. Leo Peters and Mrs. Malcolm Mullen.

Leo Peters proposed the toast to the bride, which was responded to by the groom.

Ann Mullen and Annette Peters, nieces of the bride, were in charge of the guest book.

For going away the bride chose a navy blue dress and coat with a corsage of white roses.

They will reside in Halifax, where they are employed.

Gaudett — Ford

The Havelock Wesleyan Church was the scene of a pretty summer wedding on Saturday evening, July 8th, 1972, at 7:00 p.m., when Rev. Lawrence Corey united in marriage Rhoda Joyce Ford, daughter of Mrs. Joyce Ford and the late Francis Ford, Hassett, and Stanley Alphonse Gaudett, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gaudett, of New Tusket.

The church was beautifully decorated with red roses and nosegays of red rosebuds decorated the seats.

As the bride entered the church on the arm of her mother, Mrs. Joyce Ford, who gave her away, the wedding march was played by Mr. Ivan Shaw.

The bride was charming in a long white gown of chiffon and lace with elbow length veil and she carried a white Bible with red rosebuds from four streamers of ribbon.

The maid of honor was Miss Gail Lewis, cousin of the bride. She wore an orange lace crepe gown and her bouquet was a wristlet of white roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Johann Ford, sister of the bride, who wore a gown of green crepe, made of the same style as the maid of honor's gown and her bouquet was a wristlet of pink roses. They both wore rosebuds in their hair.

The flower girl was little Miss Linda Nickerson, niece of the groom. She wore a gown of green crepe made like the other attendants' gowns and she carried a basket of pink roses and white carnations. The ring bearer was Master Allen Mullen, cousin of the bride, who carried the rings on a satin cushion. The double ring ceremony was used.

The best men were Terry Harding and Larry Sabine, friends of the groom, and the ushers were Sankey Mullen and Walter Gaudett, Jr.

The bride's mother wore a floor length gown of yellow lace and her corsage was white carnations, and her accessories were silver.

The groom's mother wore a street length dress of pink crimplene and lace with a corsage of white carnations and her accessories were white.

During the signing of the register, a recording by Hank Snow, "With This Ring" and "Marriage Vows", was played.

A reception followed at the Havelock Consolidated School with around 200 guests present. The bride's table was centered by a beautiful three tier wedding cake, with silver candleholders and red roses also decorating the table.

Refreshments were served and after the wedding cake was cut in the traditional manner, the bride passed it around to her many friends. The groom's cake was individually wrapped and passed by the groom.

The happy couple enjoyed a motor trip to Halifax, returning later via the South Shore.

They are residing in New Tusket.

Annual Roll Call Services Of Hill Grove Baptist Church

Always a special day in the yearly history of the Hill Grove Baptist Church is the annual Roll Call which this year was held on Sunday, June 18th with services in the afternoon and evening in the Church and a Fellowship Supper and social hour in the Church Hall.

The well attended afternoon Worship Service opened with a Devotional period led by the Pastor Rev. D.E. Robertson, who also welcomed all visitors to the special services. A Memorial Service in memory of Mrs. Tracey Milner who had passed away during the year, and in memory of all deceased members and friends of the Church was also conducted by the Pastor.

As the Clerk, Mr. Lloyd MacNeill, called the roll of members, responses were given in person or by proxy, and several non-resident members were present at the service to respond to their names.

The special music for the afternoon service was by a trio of talented young peo-

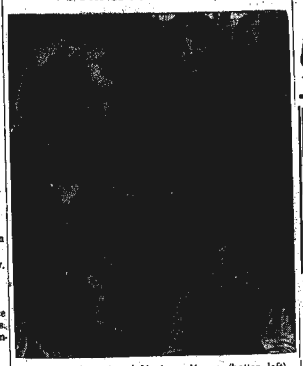
Folk & Rock Music



Bruce Cockburn (top left), Anne Murray (botton left) and Chilliwack, among the cream of Canada's Middle of the Road, folk and rock artists whose concert performances were taped recently by CBC Radio. Two programs attempting to characterize the Canadian musical identity resulted. The first, titled Maple Music — Ahead of the Record, was aired Saturday, July 1; the second was heard on The Entertainers, Friday, July 7. The shows were also taped for telecast sometime in the fall.

ANNUAL ROLL CALL

ple; the Misses Rosalind Lovesay and Kathy Porter of Wolfville and Dani Davidson of Hantsport and their selections were "Spirit of God" "In the Stars" when I Survey", "Amazing Grace" and "Holy, Holy, Holy". It was a great inspiration to all to see and hear these young folks as they sang with such genuine pleasure the message of song they were bringing to their audience.

The evening service opened with a Hymn-sing led by Mr. Arnold McCullough of Bear River and a Worship Service by the Pastor and a cordial welcome to the visitors from many areas.

Special music for the evening service was by the men's choir of the Bear River Baptist Church, and their selections were "Constantly Abiding" "A New Name in Glory" and "The Regions Beyond". A quartette from the choir sang "Keep on Praying", and "Thrive for Service" Mrs. R.R. Winchester was organist for all of these selections, which were greatly enjoyed and appreciated by the large evening congregation.

The guest speaker for both afternoon and evening services was Rev. Daniel Dryer of Saint John, Executive Assistant to the General Secretary of the Atlantic Baptist Convention, who is a dynamic speaker and both of his inspiring messages were listened to with close attention by all in attendance.

A very impressive Communion Service closed the services of the 51st Roll Call of the Church.

Flowers were placed in the church in memory of Mr. William C. Franklin by his wife and family.

Many contributions were received from both resident and non-resident members as well as gifts from friends of the church which made the offering for the day $921.

The music - loving Five Dutchmen, as usual, had the audience wishing they'd never stop their fine old time music. The program was emceed by Roscoe "Biscuit" Cress. There was a sale of fudge and pop at intermission.

Mr. David Miller, pastor of the Clementsvale United Baptist Church, thanked Mrs. Carl Wambolt and her Variety Show Committee for a job well done. He also thanked those who participated in the show and expressed great satisfaction with the large turnout for the show. He felt that this was a very good indication of support for the proposed Christian Youth Centre to be built at Bear River East. The Centre will serve all youth of the Bear River East, Clementsvale, Princedale, Virginia and Waldec area, regardless of religious affiliation.

The Bear River Cherry Carnival Committee has asked for a repeat performance of the show for the night of the Cherry Carnival.

MUNICIPALITY PUTS TEETH INTO UNSIGHTLY PREMISES ACT

Digby Municipal Council at its regular session on Monday afternoon put teeth into the dangerous and unsightly premises act by moving to incorporate such a clause in its by-laws with the finance committee having authority to see it enforced. The by-law when passed, will require demolished property or deteriorated property to be removed and have ashes, junk, parts of automobiles, other wreckage, etc., which are dangerous or unsightly to the public removed from properties. The clerk will be required to serve notice on the property or owner and if not complied with after 30 days, the property may be entered and conditions rendered satisfactory at the expense of the owner. The owner would be liable to a penalty of not more than $20 or not more than 30 days for each offence, with each day of non-compliance being a fresh offense.

Byard Marshall, councillor from Bear River, reported that he had been approached regarding a repaired sewer in Bear River being left at high water mark. He said the sewer in question was sanctioned by the government, he understood, because it had already existed and had been damaged when the federal building had been constructed. Most councillors felt that open sewers should not exist at all and if so they should definitely be low water mark or treated sewers. Councillor Mrs. M. P. Gott offered to take the matter up with Mr. Tupper of the Department of Health.

The municipality has plans to begin a garbage collection service and hopes to have something concrete to offer by October or January. Plans include calling of tenders for the collection of garbage.

SAULNIERVILLE MAN DROWNED

Twenty-four years old John Joseph Walsh, of Saulnierville, lost his life by drowning on Friday evening at Lake Rohicland, when the canoe in which he was a passenger capsized. His companion swam to shore.

Metephan RCMP were called and dragging operations recovered the body on Saturday.

Makes Announcement

Mayor Glen Smith, Chairman of the Natal Day Committee, at a special meeting of the Digby Town Council on Thursday announced that Honourable Gerald A. Regan, Premier of Nova Scotia, will be a special guest in Digby on Natal Day, July 31.

The Premier, it is expected, will address an audience at the Digby Forum following the parade and festivities.

Dr. T. W. Hodgson Digby Citizen Of The Year

Rev. Dr. T. W. Hodgson was on Thursday selected Digby's citizen of the year at a special meeting of the Digby Town Council. Special ceremonies will be held on Digby's Natal Day, July 31 to recognize the honour bestowed on Dr. Hodgson.

Dr. Hodgson was born in Durham, England, and came to Canada in 1920. His early education was in England and after coming to Canada graduated from Mount Allison University and with a Ph.D. from Lincoln Jefferson University, Chicago, U.S.A. He held pastorates in The United Church of Canada at Hantsport and Canning and came to Grace United Church, Digby in 1934 where he preached until he retired after 17 years.

During his stay at Digby he had been president of the Victorian Order of Nurses for 18 years, the Children's Aid Society for 6 years and the Digby Branch Canadian Red Cross for 20 years.

Dr. Hodgson had been honourary president of the Nova Scotia Branch Canadian Red Cross and received an honourary membership in this society.

During the war Dr. Hodgson was supervisor of the Red Cross Hostel at C.F.B. Cornwallis and he organized visiting committees in Bear River, Smith's Cove and Digby for visiting patients at the Cornwallis hospital. He supervised Christmas presents and Christmas Carols for the Cornwallis hospital and was Padre for the British Submarine men during the war. At the end of the war he was given a citation from the government for his efforts and also a citation from the Red Cross for his efforts.

He has taken great interest in the Masonic Lodge and has been past district deputy grand master for Nova Scotia and past grand chaplain.

Dr. Hodgson lives on Carleton Street, Digby. He has one daughter, (Margaret), Mrs. A. L. Robinson, King Street and two grandchildren, Mary Robinson, Digby and Frederick Robinson, Saint John, New Brunswick.

Art Show At Digby Library

On Friday, July 28, the second in the Meet Your Artist series opens at the Digby branch of the Western Counties Regional Library. The exhibit of paintings by Lucy Jarvis and Helen Weld will be on view until Wednesday, August 2nd.

The artists will be at the library for some time on opening day, July 28, to talk with interested viewers. The library is open from 3:00 to 5:00, and from 7:00 to 9:00 on Friday.

Emerson Family Reunion

Bay View was the scene of a four day reunion when the members of the Emerson family gathered in early July. Approximately 10 members of the family gathered bringing together three generations. The reunion began on Sunday, July 2 with a welcome cookout held at the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Merrill. Monday a beach party was enjoyed. Tuesday, a banquet was attended by the family at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Emerson. Wednesday, the final day of the reunion, the family gathered on the grounds of the Harold Emersons to enjoy a coffee party. The varied and interesting program for the reunion featured one event each day which allowed the family to gather and yet be allowed time to enjoy car rides, shopping and sight seeing. They

AWAITS COSTS FOR HOME FOR AGED

When tenders for the proposed Home For the Aged and Infirm for Digby are opened, the Municipality of Digby will then make its final decision whether or not to go ahead with the venture. Should the costs spiral too far above the $85,000 they had anticipated for the municipal share, the concensus of opinion was that it would be too much to expect of the taxpayers.

Councillor Mrs. M. P. Gott gave her report at Tuesday afternoon's session of the Municipal Council. She mentioned that the committee from Digby and areas had met with authorities in Halifax early in June and again on June 28 when plans which had previously been drawn up were pronounced unsatisfactory and a whole complete new set of plans proposed. The new plans which were made to accommodate more extensive washroom and bath facilities were readily seen, Mrs. Gott said, to involve greater expenditure. The committee, however, she said was not given any encouragement that the provincial grants would be increased to offset this expenditure. Mrs. Gott said that authorities were told that it would be impossible for the municipality to raise the necessary increased funds and a motion by a meeting on July 6 advised that if the province would not cover the extra cost it might be necessary to scrap the whole idea of a home for the aged in Digby following the opening of tenders, when the exact cost would be realized.

The municipal council on Tuesday afternoon passed a temporary borrowing resolution of $185,000 for an addition to the Weymouth Consolidated School. It was stated that a split of classes is now being arranged for the Weymouth School for the opening of the school year which could possible prove a satisfactory procedure of operation. The new split shift of classes involves a different bus schedule using three buses and six drivers.

Committee Arthur Rice of Weymouth moved that vote of thanks from the municipal council be extended to Amery Bradford of Weymouth North and New York; the warden Malcolm Balcom, Annapolis municipality; Mayor Robinson of Middleton and Lloyd Hill of the AVABT for their assistance in expressing to the government Weymouth's needs regarding the proposed new road through the village.

Councillor Mrs. Helen Robinson felt the municipality should bring to the attention of the Provincial Highways Department the hazardous conditions at the intersection of the new road at Conway. She said that some accidents have already happened there and there have been several near accidents. Mr. Rice said he had seen as high as 22 vehicles stopped at the stop sign at one time at that particular point. Mrs. M. P. Gott pronounced the proposal for approach and exit from the new Bear River bridge to be a "death trap" which should be brought to the attention of the Department of Highways. By motion these highway matters were to be brought to the atention of the departments concerned.

Mrs. Gott also scored the lack of Nova Scotia road maps and other literature available for tourists and also deplored the fact that private brochures which cost motels and other services much money to produce were not well distributed through Government sources.

The municipal council by resolution went on record as being in favour of establishing a regional planning commission for Southwestern Nova Scotia. On a committee to look into establishing such

Denton Heads Cherry Carnival

Allison Denton, Bear River, above, is well pleased with the progress of events lined up for the 76th Bear River Cherry Carnival which gets under way on Saturday morning July 29 with the grand parade at 10:30 o'clock. Highlight of the parade will be the float with new queen and the princesses.

Another highlight of the day will be the Children's Parade at 1 p.m. in charge of Mrs. Jack Harris.

Other features of the day will be land and water sports with swimming races, canoe races, greased pole events and running races. The land sports will be at 1:30 and the water sports around 3:30 when high tide will facilitate events.

One of the newest attractions this year is the Mermaid Theatre drama with puppet show featuring Acadia University student talent. One of these is Miss Cheryl Brennan, Bear River.

Midway and booths, bingo and chance games will make up part of the day's program with noon dinner open to the public at 11:30 and supper at 5 o'clock p.m.

The day closes with a variety show in Oakdene School Auditorium beginning at 8 o'clock, with the newly se-

Recreational Survey

Darrell Warren, a student at Acadia University and son of Mr. and Mrs. George Warren, Smith's Cove, has made a recreational survey of the Town of Digby under approval of the Mayor of Digby, Glen Smith, and the Digby Recreation Commission.

The survey is an independent study by Mr. Warren as part of the requisition for a degree this fall in Science in Recreation and a Bachelor of Education. Mr. Warren took opinions of citizens, physical survey of facilities, and will make recommendations.

This is Mr. Warren's third year at Acadia University. His summer employment is with the Flower Cart, for mentally retarded youth, located at New Minas, where he and seventeen other Acadia students carry on the Poppy Project. The Poppy Project is a program of preparing productive youth (P.O.P.P.Y.).

Mr. Warren is married to the former Linda Paxton, daughter of Stan Paxton and the late Mrs. Paxton, Smith's Cove.

Graduates With Honors

Anne M. Emerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Emerson, recently graduated Magna Cum Laude from Colby College, Waterville, Maine.

A member of Phi Beta Kappa, honor society, a Charles A. Dana Scholar, she received a Bachelor's degree in English, with "special honors" in that subject.

Captain Tilley Gets New Posting

CFB Cornwallis Base Commander, Captain (N) Harold R. Tilley, CD has been posted to Canadian Forces Headquarters, Ottawa, Ontario effective 17 August 1972.

Captain Tilley entered the Royal Canadian Navy as a cadet at Halifax in 1941. Wartime training and service was in ships of the Royal Navy and the Canadian Destroyer Huron. After the war he specialized in Navigation-Direction and was Navigating Officer on the destroyer Nootka during a tour of duty in the Korean theatre.

Since then he has commanded the Ocean Escort Johnquiere and the Destroyer Escort Saguenay and has held staff appointments afloat and ashore in the Atlantic Command and at Headquarters in Ottawa. In January 1965 he was appointed to command the 7th Canadian Escort Squadron at Halifax then Deputy Chief of Staff (Combat Readiness) at Maritime Command Headquarters in Halifax. From his position in Halifax he was posted to the United Kingdom where he attended the Imperial Defence College at London, England. Prior to taking up duties as Base Commander, CFB Cornwallis, he was Senior Naval Liaison Officer with the Canadian Defence Staff, London, England.

Succeeding Capt. Tilley as Base Commander is Captain (N) T.E. Conners, who is currently serving at Canadian Forces Headquarters, Ottawa.

The official Base Handover Ceremonies will commence at 3:30 PM, Thursday, 17 August.

Lawrence Henshaw, chairman of the Blood Donor committee, reported that approximately 150 donors at two clinics.

The following report was given by Mrs. Howard Cress, chairman of the Women's Work Room. Articles made and shipped to headquarters during the year with work done by approximately twelve ladies were: 178 terry cloth diapers, 143 baby cotton nightgowns, 67 flannelette nightgowns, 54 baby blankets, 40 terry towels, 32 face cloths, 24 girls' cotton dresses, 52 baby vanta vests, 14 afghans, 8 quilts, 4 prs. socks (children's), 4 prs. slippers, 2 prs. booties, 5,025 swabs, 21,170 wipes.

Re-opening date was set for September 2nd. Plans for open house were discussed, to be held in the fall.

The list of new officers for the year 1972-73 is as follows: President, Mrs. Lawrence Darres; Vice President, Mrs. Seldon Chesley; Secretary, Mrs. Allister Milner; Treasurer, Mrs. Vernon McCormick; Work Room Director, Mrs. Howard Cress; Sick Room and Disaster, Mrs. Willis Buckler; Campaign, Jack Harris; Blood Donor, Lawrence Henshaw; Ways and Means, Mrs. Charles Coombs; Awards, Mrs. William Morine.

An invitation was extended to the ladies of the community to join in the fall to resume work for another year.

Susan, a grade XI graduate of Annapolis Royal Regional Academy looks forward to being an airline stewardess. She enjoys tennis, horseback riding and likes to read. Her sponsors are Froot's Irving Station.

Miss Riley was chosen on Saturday at an afternoon tea held at the Oddfellow's Hall, Bear River and attended by over one hundred. Judges were Mrs. Kenneth Paul, Mrs. Percival Tobe and Constable Brian Thorne, R.C.M.P. The judging became a really difficult proposition when a final decision had to be made from five beautiful, intelligent and well poised maidens, Miss Riley, Nancy Burrell, Brenda MacNichol, Carol Mullen and Gloria Morine. Each were judged on parade, at tea and in conversation.

Heading the Bear River Cherry Carnival Queen Contest committee was Bruce Devey. Also on the committee were Mrs. Harold Nichol, Mrs. Thelma Buckler, Mrs. Hilda Harris, Mrs. Pauline Milner, Mrs. Pearl Darres, Mrs. Mary Darres, Mrs. Betty Parker.

Floral arrangement was by Mrs. Elveretta Harris. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Clinton Miller, Mrs. Myrtle Isles and Mrs. Alfred Rice.

The newly chosen queen was presented with a bouquet of red roses by Miss [illegible] and gifts on behalf of the department were presented by Mrs. Allister Milner and Miss Buckler and Miss [illegible].

Each of the contestants were recipients of gifts from their sponsors presented by Allison Denton.

Accident Claims Life

Mrs. Beatrice Cottreau, of Wedgeport, formerly of Massachusetts, lost her life on Saturday evening in a three car collision at the corner of Victoria Street and Prince William Street (Neck Road), in Digby.

Harry Miller was the driver of the vehicle coming East on the Digby Neck Road which collided with a car driven by Elmer Doucette, of Chelsea, Mass., bound South on Victoria Street. The impact of the collision drove the Doucette car into a car driven by Peter Schnare, Lighthouse Road, which had stopped at the stop sign on the corner of Victoria and Prince William, while heading North. It is alleged the Doucette car failed to stop at the stop-sign while proceeding South at the corner.

Mrs. Cottreau was a passenger in the Doucette car, as was also Mrs. Doucette. With Mr. Schnare in the car were Weldon LeKing and Mrs. LeKing, who moved here about two months ago. Mr. LeKing is employed at I.G.A.

Mrs. Cottreau died at the scene of the accident, and all other occupants of the cars

ABOUT THIS AND THAT

Cherry Carnival And Natal Day

It would be difficult to combine them. They are distinctive celebrations. The Cherry Carnival at Bear River on Saturday directs one's attention to a one-time flourishing crop of cherries; it is an attraction for tourists and not least of all it is a money raising affair for the necessary Bear River Volunteer Fire Department.

The Digby Natal Day on Monday will accept all monies which come its way, but it has prided itself on the fact that it is not meant to be a commercial venture. It commemorates the Founding of Digby and gives citizens opportunity to express pride in their home-town. The committee also see in Natal Day an attraction for tourists, a day for tourists and home-folk to enjoy and make them want to return or stay and tell all their friends about it.

Cherry Carnival Day and Digby Natal Day are days when the village and town residents all roll up their sleeves for work. There's a place for everybody. Make the day, in each case, a day which can be worthily shown off with pride to visiting friends. What is good enough for our Premier to attend should be good.

Support the Cherry Carnival and Natal Day and extend your praise to those responsible for making the days successful.

Congratulations Doctor

To be chosen Citizen of the Year in Digby is an honor. No one gets the honor without deserving it and so we extend our congratulations to Reverend Doctor T. W. Hodgson in having the honor of being Digby's Citizen of the Year, 1972.

What does it entail? To some, the honor would seem to be justified for the person who has made valuable contribution in a specific year as 1972 or 1973 or whatever. This is not necessarily so and Digby has favoured persons who have made a continuous contribution to the town during the years. So often, after a retirement, the enormous contributions made by these persons are forgotten in the rush and excitement of the present. It is well to remember these contributors who have, through so many years, added to life's betterment for all. Such a person has been Dr. T. W. Hodgson.

In other columns of this edition we have named some of the obvious contributions made to the life of Digby and surrounds. More especially with a man-of-the-cloth than others, maybe, there are deeds of kindness and counsel done for individuals and groups which remain secrets locked in the hearts of those involved, yet, which have made their contribution to the total order of things.

Picturesque Religious Service

A forest of trees stood in the background for miles. The visible tall white church building stood stately as we counted ten steeples, little and big. The make-shift altar, not lacking in beauty itself, was flanked by a beautiful green leaf tree. In this setting the purple casual costumes of the Way-Marks added still more harmonious beauty as gulls and small birds softly made their flight to chimney and roof.

Such was the setting when more than a hundred cars gathered around Smith's Cove School yard to hear the Way-Marks of New Brunswick. There were six of these young people who testified and brought inspiring and pleasant music to the listeners. Rev. Charles Milbury preached that Christ is the door out, through, in and up. It seemed appropriate for the occasion.

One hundred and more cars. Without the drive-in service, the outdoor setting, would there have been another evening service to which all these people would have made their way? Another proof that there are new ways of 'going into all the world". More power to those who use the new ways and congratulations to the young people, the Way-Marks, for their method of presentation.

Letters To The Editor

In Remembrance Of A Very Good Friend

As a young boy in Digby, I grew up with some very special people. The late Mr. Charles McBride was one of these. During the 2nd World War, the Navy League of Canada started a Sea Cadet Corps in Digby. One of my most pleasant memories of the "Corps" is of "Charlie" McBride as Corps Officer. Through his guidance and that of the Navy Instructors, hundreds of young men like myself received a helping hand and moral guidance. Most of these young men left Digby for greener fields, when they became of age. I joined the Canadian Army, now known as the Canadian Armed Forces. The guidance of Charlie McBride has made my military career easier, especially in the earlier years as a young soldier.

Now that Charlie McBride has passed on to Flanders Fields, he will be greatly missed by my family and myself. No visit to my family home in Digby was complete without a visit to Charlie McBride, to talk about old times. This I will miss.

On behalf of hundreds of young men who had the benefit of his helping hand — Thank you, Charlie McBride.

Yours truly,

Dudley (Duke) Winchester

Legion Trounced 17-6

The Lions defeated a Legion team by the score of 17-6. The Lions scored twelve runs after two out in the first inning and never looked back. The game was halted after three innings with the consent of both coaches. Sylvain Rioux was the winning pitcher for the Lions, he displayed good control and showed that he will be improving with every outing. Barry Vanassel had a double and single in three trips for the Lions and Peter Thomas had a perfect day at bat, with a triple and single in two trips for the Legion. Line-ups (Legion) — T. Dennisoh, M. Chute, M Burnham, G. Melanson, P. Thomas B. Speichts, B. Wong M. Melanson, D. O'Neil, (Lions) & Brian Wong, S. Rioux, C. Seeley, B. Vantassel, B. Burgoyne, C. Page, C. Halliday, K. Handspiker, J. Jefferson.

Many improvements to the Little League Field are planned and some will be realized this week. REMEMBER, Liverpool will be the visiting team on Natal Day, July 31st.

Track And Field Clinic At Digby

For all those interested in track and field in the Annapolis-Digby county areas, a top notch track and field clinic will be held at Digby Regional High School field on July 31 August 1 at 9 a.m.

This clinic will be conducted by a group of Nova Scotians best senior athletics in the track and field arena. The group consists of such noted track and field stars as Bernie Chisholm (Distance Runner) Colin Patrick MacDonald (sprinter), Bill McKinnon (sprinter), Wayne Thompson (shot put, discus, long jump), and others. The group is financed by an Opportunities for Youth grant, and are travelling throughout the province giving clinics in areas where this type of coaching is needed.

The clinic is open to all age group both boys and girls, at no cost. All participants will be able to receive instruction in at least four track or field events. Films will also be shown.

The clinic is being sponsored by the Digby Legion Track and Field Team. This team has begun to function this summer under the auspices of the Royal Canadian Legion, Digby Branch. The team has participated in the Highland Games, Antigonish and the Charlottetown Track and Field meet and has a number of meets throughout the summer. Anyone interested in joining the team may attend practices on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at D.R.H.S. field, or contact Ron Fraser, Vernon Simms of Bob Wood.

Summer Games Competiton To Be Held In Berwick

For the second consecutive year, Berwick is to be the site of the Summer Games Tennis competition. The tournament, open to all players not ranked in NSLTA listings for 1972, will be spread over two week-ends, August 19-20 and August 26-27. Events to be held are mens singles, ladies singles, mens doubles and ladies doubles.

Deadline for entries for the tournament is Thursday, August 17. These should be mailed or phoned to the regional administrator. Paul Bethune, Berwick prior to that date. Four men and four women will be selected at the regional tournament to represent the Valley region during the Provincial Festival competition in Halifax September 9-10.

The winner and runner up in the singles events and the winning teams in the doubles events will comprise the eight player valley contingent for the provincial meet. Winners at Halifax will represent Nova Scotia at next year Canada Games in British Columbia.

Game Forfeited

The game scheduled for July 19th between Legion and K of C had to be forfeited to Knights of Columbus because of insufficient players for the Legion.

Incidentally, only four Legion players turned up, the regular coach of the Legion has been away for the past two weeks, and there has been a slight mixup, this will now be remedied as Peter Leblanc will take over the Legion team.

Plympton

George and Evelyn Melanson, of Brood Brook Conn., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Blinn.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Blinn left via Air Canada for Vancouver, B.C. where they will visit their sons, Ronald and family and Donald for two weeks.

Mrs. Francis Whitworth of Mass., U.S.A. has returned home after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Blinn.

Junior Golfers At Truro And Winsor

Five of Digby's young golfers competed last week at Truro Golf Club in the Nova Scotia Junior Championship.

While out-classed by older boys with a great deal more tourpament experience, the Digby entry performed well and served notice that they will be strong contention in future years. Scores for the two day 36 hole event:

Linden Garron 84-93-177
Paul Doucette 04-04-168
Randy Oliver 94-95-189
Inram Samad 111-111-222
Osman Samad 116-146-232

While the Digby lads did not win any trophies, they were singled out by Head Table officials at the Annual Banquet as the most properly dressed group.

All the Digby group wore shirts, ties and jackets — a far cry from the attire of of most of the other 100 young golfers in attendence.

The guest speaker at the banquet was Peter Hope the new president of the Nova Scotia Golf Association who is well known in the Digby area.

Earlier this week Windsor Golf Club hosted a zone 3 field day; Digby was represented by Lindon Garon 77 Stephen Saulnier 84, Paul Doucette 84, and David Oliver 87.

All the Digby scores were close to the best in the various age groups and Lindon particularly had a great chance to win it all. He birdied the first and ninth holes and, after 9-with a super 34 was just one stroke behind the eventual winner.

However, as with most young golfers, un-seasoned in tournament play, the "yips" set in and Lindon double-bogied to a seemed nine 43.

Dr. Samad and Jack Harris accompanied the lads to Truro. The latter was also chauffeur for the Windsor trip.

This golf column in last week's COURIER reported that in trophy play Michael Lynch and Andrew Prescesky had scored 213.

These precocious pre-teenagers have voiced their intention to sue this correspondent for scandal and defamation of character.

The original claim for damages was $10.00, since reduced to $2.00 with an indicated cash discount of 50% for prompt settlement.

To avoid the cost of a lengthy law-suit, this writer has decided to retract, as it cannot be proven beyond reasonable doubt that their scores had actually reached 213 at the conclusion of their abbreviated 9 holes of play.

Again this week, it's a junior invitational at Eden where Billy Nickerson is the new pro.

EMERSON
also enjoyed a boat ride and a visit to the Port Royal Habitation.

Members of the family present included: Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lee Emerson, Demarest, N.J., Mr. and Mrs. James R. Emerson, Lavender Hill Ranch, Lyons, Colo., Prof and Mrs. Thomas Emerson, Yale University, North Haven, Conn., Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Emerson, Somerville, N.J., Mr. and Mrs. Harold Emerson, Digby, N.S., Mr. and Mrs. Russell Merrill, Willisley, Mass., Miss Anne Emerson, Digby, N.S., Mr. Peter Emerson, Lavender Hill Ranch, Lyons, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Emerson, Rutherford, N.J., Master Timothy Emerson, Rutherford, N.J., Master Andrew Emerson, Rutherford, N.J., Master Michael Emerson, Rutherford, N. J.

Capt. and Mrs. George Dunn of Pearl Harbour navel base, Hawaii, were unable to attend the Emerson family reunion which brought the family together after many years of being separted.

As the happy reunion ended, some of the family expressed their desires to return to the area for future visits and more good times.

a commission are Mayor Fred Emin, Yarmouth; Mayor Glen Smith, Digby and Mayor G.A. Dauphinee, Shelburne.

Futher investigation into the enforcement of taxi by-laws in the municipality will be made immediately. It was decided to call a special meeting of the arbitration committee from Digby town, Clare and the Digby municipality to look into the purchase of a furnace for the jail and courthouse. It was decided that if the three municipal bodies could not get together the Digby municipality would proceed to purchase the furnace and charge each municipal unit with its proportionate share.

Permission was given to Byard Marshall, Bear River to have an extra mercury street light installed in the village.

The warden Ronald Morehouse presided over the session on Tuesday which began with prayer led by councillor Eugene Outhouse. A minute of silence was observed in memory of a former councillor, Walter Wood, whose death occurred recently.

HILL GROVE

Mr. and Mrs. William Cowper of Ottawa, and Miss Patricia Cowper of CFB Cornwallis were July 15th weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Kingsley Collins.

IN MEMORIAM

COOK — In loving memory of my father, Aug Cook, who passed away July 29, 1962.
Sometimes it's hard to understand,
Why some things have to be
But in His wisdom, God has planned
Beyond our power to see
In the land beyond tomorrow
There will surely be a day;
When we will once more see our loved ones,
Who have only passed away.
We know they now abide in Heaven,
Surrounded by God's loving care
And find comfort in His Promise
Someday we'll meet them there.
— Always remembered by daughter, Verlit. 50:1c

AMERO — In memory of our dear cousin, Lloyd J. who passed away July 25, 1971.
He wished no one a last farewell
Nor even said good-bye
He was gone before we knew it
And only God knows why.
Sadly missed by Connie and Carol. 50:1ic

EVERETT — In loving memory of my father, James Everett who passed away July 29th 1962. Ever remembered by son, Edgar and daughter-in-law, Ethel. 50:1ip OUTHOUSE — In memory of Grace Alberta Outhouse who passed away July 27, 1968. Remembered by her husband Sylvanus, daughter Lawna, son, Winston and grand-children.

"Sweet is the word, Remembered
And Dear is the one who is gone.
In memory we will always keep her
As long as the years roll on." 50:1c

IN MEMORIAM

GREEN — In loving memory of my dear sister, Edith Green, who passed away July 28th 1965.
Just a little but it means a lot
To say dear sister I haven't forgot.
Remembered by sister, Ruth and brother-in-law, Wilfred. 50:1ip

PARKER — In loving memory of mother who passed away August 6, 1971.
God knew that she was suffering
And the hills were hard to climb
So he closed her weary eyelids
And whispered peace be thine.
Always remembered by her sons, George, Claude, Raymond and John. 50:1p

TITUS — In loving memory of Mrs. Albert Titus who passed away July 21, 1968 and Albert Titus who passed away July 23, 1968.
More and more each day we miss them
Friends may think the wound is healed
But they little know the sorrow
Lies within our hearts concealed — Lovingly remembered by daughters, Esther, Ruth and Georgina. 50:1ip

Road Race For Natal Day

The Digby Legion Track and Field Team will sponsor a Natal Day Road Race in conjunction with Natal Day activities. It was hoped that this will become an annual event. The race will be run at 6 p.m. on Monday, July 31, Natal Day.

The race will cover a route approximately 6 miles in length, and will be run entirely within the town limits, starting at the Forum on Church Street to Victoria Street, Racquette, Carleton Street, Maiden Lane to Water Street, Montague Row, Saint Mary's Street, left on King, Saint George Street, around the block to St. Mary's, to Victoria and repeat.

The event is open to all interested male and female athletes. The race is especially suited to people who are active joggers and it is hoped a large number of contestants from the area will show up for the contest.

Prizes will be given to those who come first in their age category, as well as the top three finishers.

Anyone interested in competing should report to the Digby Regional High School by 5:15 on Monday, July 31. If further information is needed, contact Ron Fraser at 837-5787.

PROCLAMATION

July 31 Civic Holiday

Monday, July 31, will be a public holiday in Digby. This was decided upon at a special meeting of the Digby Town Council on Thursday. The day was proclaimed Digby's Natal Day at the January session of the Digby Council but nothing had been arranged regarding the holiday.

Permission was granted to W. E. Cosman & Son Ltd. to erect an Ericson modular home for Mrs. Freda Balser on King Street and situated between the Garron and Halliday homes in the area.

Approval of an increase in salary for certain members of the police force retroactive to particular dates was given at Thursday's meeting, as was also approval for raise in salary for the superintendent of streets.

A motion was made to share in expenses for the Digby Majorettes to participate in the parade at Saint John, New Brunswick, for Loyalist Day, as well as to pay the transportation for Mayor Glen Smith, Digby Princess and a float. It was remarked by councillors that it is most important to keep relationship of Digby and Saint John at a very high level.

It was noted by the Mayor that provincial foundations to Digby had risen from 38.85 percent participation to 42.62 percent retroactive to January 1, 1972.

Premier Will Be Here Natal Day

Honourable Gerald Regan, Premier of Nova Scotia, will visit Digby as special guest on Natal Day. His Worship Mayor Glen Smith will welcome the Premier both as Mayor of the Town of Digby and as Chairman of the Natal Day committee. Others invited are John Buchanan, Leader of the Opposition, and cabinet ministers. Among the dignitaries present will be Mayor Robert Lockhardt, Saint John, N. B., and mayors from various points in Nova Scotia.

Six bands will be in the parade, with the possibility of the seventh. They come from as far afield as Gagetown, New Brunswick. Also marching will be Digby and Yarmouth Majorettes. Queens and princesses from the Annapolis Valley and Bear River, along with floats, are expected to be in the parade, as also will be Evangeline and Gabriel of the Acadian Festival. An added feature of the parade will be the Pepper Tree team who will be giving out their records.

Besides having a dress parade from C.F.B. Greenwood, there is expected to be a fly past performance.

Another new feature of the day will be the Mermaid Theatre, a drama group with puppets, from Acadia University.

The Natal Day celebrations will begin at 9:00 a.m. on Monday, July 31, with rides for the kiddies on the pumpers and trucks of Digby's volunteer fire department.

The fire engine rides will be followed by a bicycle rodeo, sponsored by the Digby Kiwanis Club, at 9:30 a.m.

Soap Box Derby will be held at 10:00 a.m.

At 11:00 o'clock the children's parade, sponsored by the Digby Leo Club, will be held.

A chicken barbecue will get underway at noon and will continue the rest of the day. This will be operated by the Digby Kiwanis Club. Refreshment canteens will be operated by other local organizations, as will also the midway. Bingo will be held in the Digby Forum, under the auspices of the local Knights of Columbus.

At 2:00 o'clock the Grand Street Parade will be held through Digby's main business district. It is expected the parade will be the largest ever this year, judging from the number of entries already received.

During the Grand Parade the annual Fishermen's Memorial Service will be held on the grounds of Digby's federal building. It is expected this service will be attended by many notables from the local area and other parts of Nova Scotia.

Following the memorial service and the parade, canoe races will be held on the town's waterfront. These races will mark a resumption of a sporting event for which Digby gained a great deal of fame many years ago. They are scheduled to get underway at 3:00 p.m.

A variety show featuring "The Pepper Tree", a well known Halifax group, as well as local talent, will be held at the Digby Forum at 4:00 o'clock, and this will be followed by a Pet Show at 6:00 p.m. and road race at 6:00 p.m. Also in the sports department there will be a Little Lesgue baseball game between Digby and Liverpool at 7:30 p.m.

Honourable Gerald Regan, Premier of Nova Scotia

The Fundy Frolikers, local square dance group, will present a demonstration and square dance on the grounds of the federal building at 8:30 p.m., and there will be dancing, featuring music by The Pepper Tree at the Forum, at 9:00 o'clock.

The day will come to an end with a gala display of fireworks at 10:00 o'clock at the Cannon Banks.

Miss Debbie Ferguson of Yarmouth is a guest at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Thiebert Read and Mr. Read for a week's vacation.

Another Great Bear River Cherry Carnival

Extremely large crowds are expected on July 29 to witness another great Bear River Cherry Carnival. The parade will be one of the greatest, starting at 10:30 a.m., highlighted by the 1972 Bear River Cherry Carnival Queen, Miss Susan Riley, and her princesses. This will be followed by a children's parade at 1:00 p.m. The afternoon will feature land sports at 1:30 p.m. and water sports at 3:30 p.m. An added attraction this year will be the Mermaid Theatre, a talented drama group from Acadia University. Their entertainment will be held at the school auditorium at 1:30 p.m. A variety show will entertain visitors in the evening. Throughout the day the Queen will participate in all prominent functions. A midway will give enjoyment to both the young and the young at heart.

Where The Cherry Carnival Is Held

Bear River, snugly nestled among the hills and noted for its marvellous beauty, has for seventy-six years been the home of the Bear River Cherry Carnival. The people from all directions converge on this "Switzerland of Nova Scotia" for this special event. Some arrive by ferry from Saint John, N. B., some come through from Yarmouth or from the other direction up the Valley or possibly Digby Neck. Bear River is easily accessible from all directions and the beauty of the unique village recompenses for any effort which might be exerted to climb the heights and wind the bends.

Several stories surround the founding of Bear River, but the one generally accepted is that an apothecary in the deMonts expedition to Port Royal, whose name was Louis Hebert, had settled in Bear River in the period 1605-1607. Louis Hebert had returned to France but British soldiers released from Port Royal were given grants of land and along with other British settlers established homes in the community.

There were actually two communities — Bridgeport on the Annapolis County side and Hillsburg on the Digby side. Lumbering and ship-building were two important industries with as high as 22 boats of various sizes under construction at one time. Six shipbuilding yards were in the village around 1870-80, and as high as 10,000,000 board feet of lumber had been shipped during a peak season.

Bear River has been noted for its cherries, a fact which is kept in evidence by the annual Cherry Carnival. Few reminders of the ship-building days are left for visitors who come to the village whether as tourists, shoppers or as participants and observers at the Cherry Carnival.

However, Bear River of today has its own charm, interests and attractiveness.

Guest Band In Digby Parade

The Sea Cadet Military Band will be participating in the Digby Natal Day Parade July 31, 1972.

The thirty-seven man band consists of cadets from Eastern Canada who are attending the Six Week Military Band Course at Sea Cadet Camp Cornwallis 72.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF NEW INDUSTRY OCT. 5 — REGAN

Premier Gerald Regan, who visited Digby on its Natal Day and addressed an audience at the Citizen of the Year ceremonies at the Forum, announced that the government had acquired land in the vicinity and an announcement is expected to be made by the fifth of October on an industry which will be located on that property. Mr. Regan, in introducing the subject, said that there is a soft spot in this area in employment and every effort is being made to rectify this.

The premier made the announcement when towns people and their leaders and dignitaries from the valley and other provinces gathered at the Forum to bestow upon Dr. T. W. Hodgson the honour of Digby's Citizen of the Year 1972. Dr. Hodgson was presented with a certificate and the key to the town by His Worship Mayor Glen Smith.

The ceremonies were presided over by V. G. Cardoza, and others who spoke were Mayor Jackson, CFB Cornwallis; Captain H. R. Tilley, Cornwallis; Mayor Robert Lockhart, Saint John, N. B.; Deputy Mayor Jack Trask, of Yarmouth; Councillor Wilfred Swift, Westport; Leader of the Opposition, John Buchanan; Joseph Casey, MLA, and Miss Dorothy Halliday, Digby's Apple Blossom Festival Princess.

The ceremonies at the Forum followed the grand parade and memorial service at the cairn and bell on the lawn of the Federal Building, Water Street. Here, Dr. T. W. Hodgson laid a wreath in memory of fishermen of the area who had lost their lives while at sea.

Mr. Cardoza was also Master of Ceremonies at the memorial service which began with invocation by Rev. Isaac Butler and benediction by Rev. Father Albeni d'Entremont. Guests who spoke at the ceremonies in charge of Mayor Glen Smith were Mayor Lockhart and Captain Tilley. Among the special guests were Premier Gerald Regan, Opposition Leader John Buchanan, Joseph Casey, MLA, Dr. T. W. Hodgson, Citizen of the Year, Colonel Creelman, Greenwood, Deputy Mayor Trask, Yarmouth, Mayor Robinson, Berwick and Mayor Jackson, CFB Cornwallis. Prior to the ceremonies Greenwood had performed a fly past.

Mr. Cardoza made mention of the recent death of Councillor Charles McBride, who had taken such an active part in the memorial service each year.

The parade, which halted in front of the cairn for the memorial ceremonies was one of the largest ever staged in Digby. Heading the parade was the parade marshal, Mrs. Gerald Stark, escorted by an

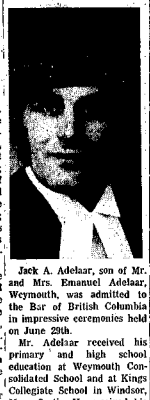
Dr. T. W. Hodgson Lays Wreath

Above Dr. T. W. Hodgson, Digby's Citizen of the Year, lays the wreath at the cairn and bell when a memorial service for fishermen of the area lost at sea, was held on Monday, Digby's Natal Day. He is assisted by Captain Tilley, commander at CFB Cornwallis. Dr. Hodgson came to Canada in 1912 from Durham, England, where he was born. He received his higher education in Canada and U.S.A., after which he held pastorates in Nova Scotia. One pastorate was at Grace United Church, Digby, where he served for 17 years, after which he retired and has lived in Digby since. During his stay in Digby he served on volunteer organizations as president of the Digby Branch Red Cross, V.O.N. and Children's Aid. He also served in various capacities during she war in adding to the comfort of sailors stationed at Cornwallis. For these he had been given honors and citations, as well as receiving honors from the church he served. Dr. Hodgson was a Mason of high degree and had been presented with a 50 year jewel.

Admitted To Bar



Jack A. Adelaar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Adelaar, Weymouth, was admitted to the Bar of British Columbia in impressive ceremonies held on June 29th.

Mr. Adelaar received his primary and high school education at Weymouth Consolidated School and at Kings Collegiate School in Windsor, Nova Scotia. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree at Kings College and took his law course at Dalhousie University.

Mr. and Mrs. Adelaar now live in Vancouver, where he is employed with a law firm.

Mrs. Adelaar was the former Miss Maryon Smith, of Kelowna, B. C. They have a son, Dana Alexander Galt, born July 25.

Digby Natal Day Parade Largest Yet

Sunny skies and the promise of an exciting program brought tremendous crowds to Digby at the celebration of its Natal Day on Monday. Streets were still lined with cars as fireworks and whistles from the Fire Department brought the day to a close at approximately 11 o'clock on Monday night.

The day began with hundreds of children taking advantage of the firemen's offer of engine rides. This was followed by a children's parade which proved to be one of the most successful parades held in Digby for some years. In charge of the parade was Miss Lorraine Winchester, of the Leo Club. Judges were Mrs. Fulton Logan and Mrs. Ted Dakin.

There were 40 entries in the children's parade and over 50 children marched up and down in front of the Digby Regional High School Monday morning in costumes whose subject matter ranged from the traditional storybook characters and historical figures to modern day individuals and television personalities. Special mention was made of the twenty participants from the weekday arts and crafts youth project, who fashioned their own theme costumes.

Thanks also went to the chairman of the parade.

Prizes were won as follows:

Doll Carriages: 1st, Miss Cheryl Donnelly.

Bicycles and Tricycles: 1st, "Digby Farm Girl", Laurie VanTassel; 2nd, "Mod Marriage", Shauna and Ricky Halliday; 3rd, "Miss Digby 1982", Bonnie Hutchins.

Announces Wharf Extensions

Tenders have been called by the federal department of public works for repairs to the Raequette Wharf at Digby and a wharf extension at Sandy Cove, Digby County.

Privy Council President Allan MacEachen Thursday announced that work on the Raequette Wharf will include construction of a 110-foot concrete retaining wall and fill area in order to repair the shore section of the existing wharf. Tenders are due August 23rd. The work will take about three months to complete after a contract is awarded.

A 25-foot long extension to the existing wharf is to be built at Sandy Cove. This work is necessary to provide increased wharfing and more protection to the mooring area. Tenders are due August 16th. Work is expected to be finished two months after a contract is awarded.

95 Years

Mrs. Cyrden (Gertrude) Tufts, Digby, presently living at the Balsee Nursing Home in Barton, was 95 years old on Saturday. Mrs. Tufts is well, enjoys reading, conversing, watching TV if the program is good, braiding rugs and knitting. Her outlook on life, her vitality, vivacity and contagious smile throughout her conversation denies her 95 years by at least 20. Occasionally she enjoys a car ride and until very recent years was a regular church attendant.

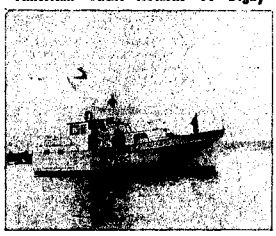
American Yacht Returns To Digby



A welcome visitor to the town anchorage is the American motor yacht "Able Slave" out of Georgetown, Maryland, on the Chesapeake. The vessel is owned and skippered by Bob and Ellen Scott. Aboard are their guests, Joanne and George Reed, who are no strangers to Digby, having been here on three previous trips with the boat. Seen on the bridge is Mr. Scott and on the bow, Mr. Reed.

The Scotts have cruised to Digby eight times during the past fifteen years and are welcome each year around blueberry season. The yacht, being a member of the Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club, wears the burgee of the Royal Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club at the jack staff.

The "Able Slave" is a Bristol offshore 42' fiber glass cruiser, which was shipped from Bristol, R. I., to Robin Hood Marina, Maine, where she was completed. She is 42' long, beam 13', draft 4' 3".

The Scotts left the Chesapeake on July 1st and spent a few days in Digby before continuing on to Digby Neck and Islands and thence to Saint John, returning home by August 10th.

Previous to having the "Able Slave", the Scotts have cruised this coast with their family in the ketch "Willing Slave".

It was generally that the Scotts had been welcomed to Digby by Charles McBride, whose recent death occurred.

Exhibition Plans Progressing

At a meeting of the Digby County Exhibition Association division, addition of yearlings in the sheep section and to create a new class for goats. It was also decided to have three grand prize ribbons for light horses and ribbons and trophies for the gymkhana games. Another change was to have exhibits brought in at 6 p.m. instead of 8 p.m. on the night before the exhibition opening. Today the prize list booklets are being distributed.

Men have been working on the exhibition grounds building and repairing fences, erecting a new canteen and building a sound booth at the ring. Steven and Ken Trimper had offered to build the sound booth and those names on the canteen and building committee.

— ABOUT THIS AND THAT —

In Keeping With Our Progress

Down town Digby one morning recently looked like a miniature New York or Chicago. Cars were lined both sides of the street and cars were coming and going in the centre as far as you could see while cross entry streets were lined with waiting cars ready for the mad dash when opportunity presented itself. This is progress we figured. This is the progress we're clamoring for, which is just a miniature of what New Yorkers and Chicagonians are clamoring to get away from. We like progress, but progress can sometimes run away with us and engulf us. We think we have some distance to go for that, but let us not despise our simple life and urge too much faster motion.

Progress comes upon us sometimes when we are unprepared. Maybe Digby streets are unprepared for the traffic we witnessed. Or, for instance, going down the Shore Road on Saturday evening, when the boat arrived, we counted one hundred cars and they still kept coming. Someone estimated about two hundred and fifty from boat and all. On our return there was still a long line of cars at the stop sign. The boat is progress, completely changing that Shore Road, but is the highway ready to absorb the progress. For instance, at the Racquette stop-sign turning left to the town, we get the feeling we're not going to make the turn before we are over the humped-up band. A railing or guard rail would save some frustrations if not lives.

Then, there was the horrible accident at the corner of Victoria and the Neck Road on Saturday evening. Progress of a new ferry possibly calls for a signal light there.

Our attention was called to the immense amount of traffic at the corner of Warwick and Victoria at boat time. We hope an accident won't be needed to speed up a better intersection there.

Another place which is receiving comment from Bear River to Weymouth is the new intersection at Conway. That lonely red flashing light hasn't always revealed just where the left turn is when coming East. Sometimes you have to retrace steps. Anybody who isn't familiar with the turn could easily go over the bank, too, which is worse than retracing steps.

We also heard remarks at a council meeting about the approaches to the new Bear River bridge in relation to the Smith's Cove and Bear River road intersection. It is difficult to visualize how the authorities will overcome hazards there, but it is hoped they will see ahead.

Insignificant, maybe, but we were confused on Saturday when coming off the first Neck crossroad to the old road around the flat iron. No sign pointed left nor right to Digby, yet coming from Weymouth direction to Digby, a sign says 'no left turn" or "do not enter". To avoid being picked up for violations on Saturday we turned right off the Neck crossroad to the main 101 and then left into Digby.

Looks as though our highways will have to be "In Keeping With Our Progress".

Hodge Podge

Mr. Brian Meagher, Deputy Minister of Fisheries, wonders why other schools besides Barrington have not picked up the idea of fisheries courses in school. What could be more appropo for Digby?

Gee Whiz! The author's name escapes me but the lines go something like this: Alive and well and living in Paris." Or, is it the Racquette Hill?

They're doomed,
Those knobby trees;
Poorly featured,
Knobby knees
But, nature's most sepulsive blobs
Must be doors with "messy" knobs.

— Congratulations go to Miss Susan Riley, Bear River, the Cherry Carnival Queen. We go along with the suggestion that the Bear River Cherry Carnival Queen should, at least, have an invitation to the opening of the Bear River bridge when it happens. We don't think Hon. Garnet Brown will be difficult to convince. After all, that's tourism.

— Sure restore the blockhouse, so we were told. But put it in its right place. It was on top of the hill somewhere between the property of Joe MacDormand and the Salvation Army building. What was on the property where the Kinsmen hope to make a park. A cemetery and a school.

— Not only do Digby scallops get to the California newspaper. We see where Mrs. Leadabrand has a beautiful picture on the Anglican church in Lunenburg and a nice bit of copy about the church in the July 2 edition. We were amused about Leadabrand's encounter with non-English speaking people in Quebec. All he wanted was a drink of water but his lead took him to a tavern.

— It is unbelievable what The Digby Courier gets credit for. One lady gave the Courier credit for finding her a husband. It was this way: The two were attending the same university and she was much attracted to him, but she had to have an excuse to meet him more. Then, the solution came. Her father was a subscriber to The Digby Courier and his father knew people in Digby. His father should appreciate seeing the Digby newspaper. Each week she diligently delivered The Digby Courier to the father by his son. Sure enough, it worked. A beautiful friendship and courtship ensued and the couple were married. Last week, along with their eight children, found them back to one time familiar territory and familiar faces.

— Hearing the remark that one knot faster on that almost fatal day would have turned her turtle just reminds us when those few weeks for the new Petite Passage ferry will be up.

— Heard the other day that what is wrong with our society is that there are too many chiefs and no Indians. No reflection. Just an expression.

— When Hill referred to the experts on highways, he was referring to the "grass roots" people, not the higher echelons. And you always hear from the higher echelons how important those grass roots people are. Let it not be true only in theory then. Put it in practice.

— Speaking of the unsightly premises act seemed to suggest farm. We wonder why. Then someone comes up with the question 'Is there any law to move a ship?

— We doubt that the operation could have been that upsetting. We can only blame it on the printer's devil when the card of thanks appeared in the paper upside down. We assure it was not a deliberate political attention catcher by our customer, nor have we any prophetic revelation of a political upset.

— Proof that we need a new bridge over Bear River replacing Victoria Bridge was seen when 20 cars lined up at the red stop light going East.

— Visitors to the Pines from Vermont had every word of praise for the hotel. Hotel comfortable, scenery beautiful and good food. They thought the musical entertainment provided by the six young people was excellent.

— Nothing like a little pressure. Even the Premier admitted the Mayor has a forceful personality. That new industry might come earlier with the Mayor's insistance. The Premier also admitted there were soft spots in employment around here. Anyway, keep up the "squeakin' wheel" Your Worship.

— Had it become a habit over Natal Day or was Natal Day just too much. We'd hate to see all his subjects arriving 24 hours too early for breakfast. Of course, if each wore a red night-shirt marked "Do Not Disturb Until Natal Day", that would make an excellent parade.

Notes from Bird Haven

The Bird That Sang In Church

It is a long time since I wrote any bird notes. It was not from lack of interest, but lack of space.

Since writing last time I have had a delightful trip to the West coast by motor coach, stopping at many points of interest. We were disappointed by the few birds we saw enroute. However there were quantities of Violet-green Swallows (a first for me), a few Western Blue Birds at Jasper, lots of all kinds of Ducks in the lakes, but the highlight of the bird world was my Clark's Nutcracker. I had a stray one in my yard many years ago. How it got here I will never know. This time he was up 7500 feet above sea level, on top of Sulphur Mountain. I am sure he posed for us on the top of a spruce tree and I got a lovely picture of him. They are a lovely soft grey bird with black and white wings, very striking, something like our Canada Jay, but larger.

Now I must tell you about the Cat bird that went to Church. I was arranging some flowers in a small room at the Church one day and heard a beautiful song that seemed to fill the Church. Going out in the Nave of the Church, there was a Cat bird sitting on the Cross on the Altar. From there he flew to the Lectern, then the Pulpit, each time singing a song when lighting.

I followed him to the Back of the Church, and finally got him out the door. He had made several stops enroute, singing at each stop. If I had only had a tape recorder for others to have enjoyed his heavenly voice in the huge Church.

I have had some Tree Swallows brought to me lately. Their mother had been killed and the father deserted them. Unfortunately I didn't have the good luck with them as I had with my Barn Swallows several years ago. I lost them all. No doubt they had gone too long without food before being rescued.

Have just received my copy of "Bird Ways", by Dr. Tufts. Just thumbing through it, it looks most interesting. Have waited a long time for this book.

So long.

The Bird Lady.

Little League Baseball News

By BOB McVEIGH

Liverpool Downs Digby 14 - 9

On Natal Day Liverpool played a picked Little League Team and downed them by the score of 14 - 9. The game was a real crowd pleaser and saw excellent ball playing by both teams, the Liverpool Beavers pulling off some outstanding fielding plays in the outfield, especially on two line drives to David Lingley playing short stop. David with two triples and two doubles and a walk in five trips for Liverpool was by far their leading hitter. Brian Clark pitched four innings for Liverpool. He gave up thirteen hits, struck out three and issued one walk, thus allowing all Digby's runs. Derek Warrington, a fire baller, took over in the fifth inning and faced seven batters. He struck out five and gave up a single. David Riley started for Digby. He allowed nine hits, struck out five and issued five walks, accounting for eleven runs. Brian Comeau took over with two out in the third inning. His control was off and he gave up three runs on three walks and a single. Brian entered the game with the bases loaded. Liverpool pushed over eleven runs in the third inning. Sylvain Rioux took over in the fourth. He allowed one hit, a double by David Lingley, then he struck out Greg Melanson, made Fred Westlake ground out from second to first, walked David Wagner and ended the inning by having Darren Roberts pop out to Kevin Locke. In the fifth he faced Derek Warrington, Sherman White, David Nickerson and retired all three on ground balls. In the sixth with two out and Lingley and Greg Melanson on second and first, Rioux made Colin Williams ground out pitcher to first, thus ending a scoring threat. Sylvain turned in a solid pitching performance and with a triple, double and scoring three runs for Digby was the star of the game. This game showed that our Little Leaguerers need not take a back seat to anyone. Digby will be heard of in the future.

Lineups —

Merchants Lose 18 - 15

The Dougie VanTassel coached Merchants dropped a very close and exciting game by the score of 18 - 15 to the Lions. This game was played on July 25th and had all the earmarks of a playoff contest. The Merchants jumped into an early lead when they scored five runs in the first inning, but gave up ten runs in the fourth on six hits and nine walks, a total of twelve walks were issued by the Merchants. Sylvain Rioux and Brian Wong shared mound chores for the Lions and were quite effective in holding the Merchants in the late innings. Mark Melanson and Butch Wong saw pitching duty for the Merchants. Butch Wong with a homer and Darrel O'Neil and Keith Haynes with triples were the leading batters for the Merchants. Barnie Burgoyne with a double and two singles in four trips led the batting attack for the Lions.

Kiwainis Drub K of C 26 - 6

The K of C had and off night and were drubbed 26 - 6 by the Don Brown coached Kiwanis. In this game the K of C issued a total of twenty-four walks and added to this the Kiwanis got eight hits, four of which were for extra bases. Paul Scott blasted a home run in the fourth inning and stayed on the mound for the Kiwanis. Rory Rogers played a sound game on first and poled a long triple in helping his team's cause. Frank Jefferson, Clinton Boodosingh, Greg MacDonald and David Margolian received twelve of the twenty-four free passes issued by the K of C. Brian Comeau took over from Paul Scott and turned in a solid pitching job for the Kiwanis. This was the third straight victory for the Kiwanis and they never were extended. The game was halted with the Kiwanis still batting in the top of the sixth.

Lions Down Firemen 14 — 11

On July 28th the Firemen went down to defeat by the score of 14 - 11 at the hands of a bolstered Lions team. Again, this game had all the appearance of playoff ball and featured good base running as well as solid hitting by both teams. Kevin Locke with a home run, triple and double for the Lions was the difference between these teams. Danny Harvieux with a double and single and two walks counted four runs in a losing cause. David Riley who handled the mound chores for the Firemen had a perfect day at bat with five for five, including two triples, a double and two singles.

Goalkeeper Tim Robicheau, of Brighton, puts the ball into play against Bridgetown. Digby won 4-3. Next game is Tuesday at 4:00 p.m. in Digby.

Juniors Lead In Bridgetown Series

With a week of practice behind them, a team of boys, ages 9 - 14, from Digby visited Bridgetown for a soccer match. Although most of the team are still elementary school students, they showed some dazzling ball control and passing ability from last year's competition.

MELANSON SCORES PAIR . . .

Rick Melanson of Brighton scored twice from his left inner position as Digby easily kept the ball in the opponent's half of the field. Kevin Locke and Mark Halliday raised the score to 4 - 0 at half time. Most Bridgetown attacks were cut down quickly by Gary Comeau, of Hill Grove, playing center half and two new fullbacks, Mark Melanson and Ken VanTassell of Digby, who showed good kicking ability. Goal keeper Tim Robicheau of Brighton, cut off most shots far short of the goal and retired with no goals against to let the substitutes into the game. Bridgetown played their best players and showed good hustle to score three goals to finish at 4 - 3 for Digby.

Every member of the team played well, and included Brian Comeau (RW), Mitch Belliveau (F), Butch Wong (LW), Danny LeBlanc (LW), Chris Halliday (HB), Brian Wong (F), Charles Cosman (HB), Rick Wheeler (H). Several players missed the game but new players are welcome at the practices which will be held Monday and Tuesday at 10:45 a.m. to prepare for a game on Tuesday at 4 p.m. against Bridgetown.

Flower Arranging Workshop For Juniors

On Wednesday, July 26th, at 1:30 in the afternoon, a group of members of the Admiral Digby Garden Club invaded the Youth Project being held in the cafeteria of the Digby Regional High School and conducted a demonstration of Flower Arranging under the leadership of Mrs. Peggy Wentzell. The demonstrators brought with them a supply of fresh garden flowers, wild flowers — which can be gathered in great abundance in Digby, drift wood, dried materials, shells, seaweed, etc., fruit, vegetables, baskets, trays and containers such as a child's toy or an egg cup.

Having been forewarned, there was a goodly number of children on hand in both age groups, 9 to 15 years, and 8 and under, and they and their Youth Group Leaders gave close and interested attention to the advice being offered to them, and they also contributed some ideas, which they put into action later on when they tried out some arrangements on their own, especially of miniatures, which must not be more than six inches high or wide.

The demonstrators who took part in the program were Mrs. Peggy Wentzell, Mrs. Louise Warne, Mrs. Louise Stephen, Miss Mary Marshall and Miss Mabel Marshall.

It is the hope of the Club that the young people will bring many interesting arrangements to enter in the Junior Section of the Flower Show being held at the Digby High School on August 9th, and it is very important to have them there before 10:30 in the morning in time for the judging.

LIZZIE WITH THE LAMP

Standard lighting equipment on most autos built up to 1910, consisted of three oil lamps — two at the dash with a tail lamp at the rear. (Headlamps, probably oil or kerosene-fired and also a speedometer, were "extras".) However, the "Apple Electric Company" installed "electric" lights probably by converting existing acetylene headlights and kerosene headlights as early as 1907.

U.F.O.'s

Many motorists still don't realize the importance of properly using vehicle head lights.

- Turn headlights on when dusk or atmospheric conditions prevent clear visibility of a person 200 feet ahead.
- Do not use parking lights for highway driving.
- When approaching traffic, dim to low beams 500 feet before meeting oncoming vehicles.
- When overtaking a car, dim headlights at a distance of 200 feet behind the vehicle you are following.

IN MEMORIAM

SULIS — In memory of our dear daughter, Frances Carrie Sulis, who passed away August 3rd, 1945.
Quietly remembered every day,
Sadly missed along the way,
No longer here our lives to share
But in our hearts you are always near.
— Always remembered by the family. 51:1p

COOK — In loving memory of our mom and grandmother, Mrs. Zoie Cook, who passed away two years ago on August 4th, 1970.
Two years have passed and gone
Since one we loved so well,
Was taken from our home on earth
With Jesus Christ to dwell.
The flowers we place upon her grave
May wither and decay,
But the love for her who sleeps beneath
Shall never fade away.
— Always loved and sadly missed by son, Gordon, daughter - in - law, Laura and grandchildren, Kevin and Wendy. 51:1c

DUKESHIRE — In loving memory of a beloved father who passed away July 27, 1967.
Those whom we love go out of sight,
But never out of mind,
They are cherished in the hearts
Of those they left behind.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just in all his days,
Sincere and true in heart and mind
Beautiful memories he left behind.
— Lovingly remembered by son, Garth and daughter-in-law, Grace. 51:1p

PETTIS — In loving memory of a dear mother, Annie Pettis who passed away August 8, 1970.
— Always remembered and sadly missed by son, Sydney Morine. 51:1p

R.C.M.P. and followed by approximately 105 other entries, including bands from six areas, majorettes from Digby, Annapolis and Yarmouth; Evangeline and Gabriel of Clare; Queen Annapolisa; Queen of the Cherry Carnival; Queen of the Pines; Digby's Princess and Princesses from other valley towns.

Judges of the parade, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Arthur, Virginia, U.S.A., awarded prizes as follows:

Most Original, Digby Pines; Most Outstanding, Opportunities for Youth; Best Commercial, Nova Scotia Light and Power; Best Decorated Vehicle, Zelma Rebekah Lodge; Best Local, Fundy Frolickers Square Dance; and the Best Parade Horse, Joy King.

Following the viewing of the parade, all the Natal Day committee and dignitaries were guests of the Bank of Nova Scotia at a reception held at the newly opened Barnacle Bill's Lounge at the Fundy Restaurant. The official opening was conducted by Joe Casey, MLA.

Immediately following the parade was also a canoe race when the prize winners were: Father and son entries, Watson and Josh Peck, first; Clayton and Barry Snow, second; MacLeod and John Rogers, Third. In the free-for-all, winners were Eddie and Josh Peck, first; Duffer and Gordon Wilson, second; and Roderick Fredericks and Gordon Robinson, third. Winners in the forty year old and over class were: Watson Peck and MacLeod Rogers, first; Clayton Snow and Bud Winchester, second.

Winners of the Lions Club sponsored draw were holders of ticket 1605 (dishwasher) and ticket 2964 (first line tires).

Other features of the day were a variety show, various booths, midway and finally a square dance and teenage dance and fireworks.

for singing, participates in the musical program given at the Pines. She is also a highland dance teacher at Antigonish and Guysborough.

Mrs. Hayden has been working at the Pines for the past six years. The crowning of the queen was held at a dance which followed a variety show. Performing in the show were Miss Debbie Cameron, Miss Gerada MacDonald and Miss Nancy Nunn, all students of Saint Francis Xavier. Also performing was John Chaisson, Bill Drapper and Richard Wenaus, who was in charge of the program. Their numbers included modern folk songs, war songs to their own arrangement and Scottish numbers. Master of ceremonies for the dance was Grant Stonehouse. Music for the dance was provided by Don Scott and his orchestra.

The evening's function was enjoyed by the employees of the hotel, as well as by many of the hotel guests. Not to be outdone by the other departments of the hotel the bellhop staff provided much merriment when they introduced Orlie Veinotte as their chosen Queen of the bellhop staff.

Mrs. Hayden's selection was made by popular vote of the entire staff of the hotel,

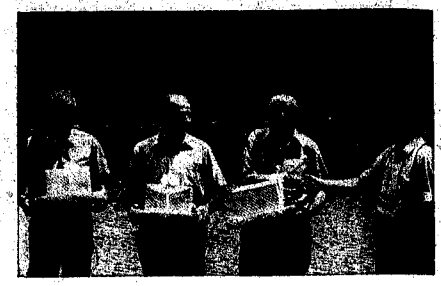
Weymouth Motors Ltd. Celebrates Anniversaries



Gus Melanson, Ralph Cosman and Willis LeBlanc, being presented with engraved silver trays and goblets, by Mr. Ken Hankinson, in recognition of 25 years service with the company.

Ivan Burton and Nellie Nesbit being presented, by Ken Hankinson, with lovely AM-FM Combination stereo-radio cabinets, for 20 years service with the company.

The annual picnic for the staff of Weymouth Motors Ltd. was held at Hankinson's Resthaven recently. Three men celebrated their 25th anniversary with the company, and were presented with a gift of silver. Two others were presented with AM-FM stereo-radio cabinets for 20 years with the company. Mr. Hankinson presented certificates from General Motors Technician's Guild to mechanics and body men who had completed examinations with the institute.

During the afternoon skeet shooting was one of the highlights, and prizes were awarded to Larry Smith, Owen Hankinson and Ted Robicheau for 1st, 2nd and 3rd best shots respectively.

Warren Cromwell and Pat LeBlanc were cooks for the occasion, and the staff sat down to a dinner of barbecued steaks and vegetables. Soft drinks were donated for the occasion by Jones Bottling Co.

EXHIBITION

tee to draw up plans were Mrs. Mabel Oickle, Steven Trimper and Ken Trimper.

A letter from the Nova Scotia Exhibitions gave four main objectives of an exhibition: to be an education, to improve urban and rural relations, improvement of products, entertainment and a market place where buyers can get to know and find products.

The meeting was presided over by LeRoy Warner, president, and Jack Harris gave the treasurer's report, which showed a bank balance to be $2431.00. Mr. Harris also gave a report on the Winter Works Program carried out in 1972.

Owing to the fact that the Bear River Volunteer Firemen need the rooms in the fire hall on Tuesday evenings, meetings will be held each third Wednesday of the month. The August meeting was set for August 8 at the exhibition grounds to prepare for the Exhibition days.

The four day exhibition begins with 4-H Day on Wednesday, August 23, by the official opening and country music in the evening. Tractor tilts for juniors will also be held on Wednesday evening.

On Thursday a team from CFB Cornwallis will perform gymnastics and there will be novelty ox pulls with ladies as drivers. The seniors will conduct a tractor tilt on Thursday night and Billy Whalen will be putting on two shows of western music.

Perry Freeman, who is head of the entertainment, has scheduled an old time ox haul for Friday. There will be chariot races and a parade of champions. The evening will see Terry Lohnes and his group perform.

Saturday will continue the chariot races, there will be a pony pull, a round-up of live stock, a free-for-all ox pull and musical concert in the evening. The Pictou Highland Band will be in attendance on Saturday.

CARNIVAL

rs, 3rd. The double canoe race saw Watson Peck and Lindsay Peck come 1st; Eddie and Josh Peck, 2nd; and Gary and Jim Harris, 3rd.

Winners of the 50-50 draw draw were Lillian Davey, Lorna Hunthack and Ray Burns.

Among the visitors to all the day's events were John Buchanan, leader of the opposition in Nova Scotia, and Joseph Casey, MLA, Digby. Bear River Cherry Carnival Queen, Miss Susan Riley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Riley, Bear River East, reigned over all the festivities. Majorettes from Digby and Annapolis Royal were in the parade, as well as band from nearby.

A midway provided fun for all ages, while baskets and boxes of cherries were being bought by visitors. Both dinner and supper at the Oddfellow's Hall were well patronized.

A Variety Show in Oakdene School auditorium brought the day to a close. The Variety Show began with the presentation of the 1972 Cherry Carnival Queen by Mr. Casey, MLA. Bruce Davey was master-of-ceremonies and the talent was in general local, drawing from Clementsvale, Digby and Bear River. Father Albert d'Entremont favoured the audience with several numbers.

Proceeds from the show, over two hundred dollars, was to be divided between the Carnival and the Clementsvale Youth Centre.

Gertrude Tufts, whose mother was a school teacher, was born in Caribou, Maine, to Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Jordan. She took up dress making in her early years which she said came in handy when she married and brought up three children. The children are two sons, Irvin in Middleton and Ernest in Digby. There is a daughter, Mrs. Eva Ogilvy, Aylesford. It was Aylesford where Mr. and Mrs. Tufts spent their married life. There are two grandsons.

On Sunday, Mrs. Tufts' family visited with her at the nursing home where birthday cake was enjoyed. She had received many cards and gifts.

Mrs. Tufts who had been nursing a slight cold and sore throat, recalled the days when the rind of salt pork was used to clear up a sore throat. She also recalled transportation by horse drawn "road cart" instead of motor.

AMERICAN

Mr. Mebride had taken cruises to Bar Harbour with the Scotts. On their present trip to Digby the Scotts were welcomed by the late Mr. McBride's son, Graham, of Halifax.

Tomato Tuna Stacks Are Super Salads

What a great thing it is to have fresh, red-ripe, juicy tomatoes in good supply at market. Serve a platter full of tomato slices for an easy way to deal with salad. For a fancier fresh tomato dish, try Tomato Tuna Stacks, a fine luncheon or supper idea. Tomatoes are sliced, each slice piled with tuna salad and stacked. Fun, thrifty and nourishing, tomatoes have excellent nutrition. One medium size tomato provides 57% of the recommended daily allowance of vitamin C for an adult for a day, more than a fourth of the vitamin A and a twelfth of the iron, but only 35 calories.

Tomato Tuna Stacks

1 can (6½ or 7 ounces) tuna
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup crumbled blue cheese
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon minced garlic
½ teaspoon pepper
½ cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon chopped fresh onion
6 fresh tomatoes
Chicory

Drain and flake. Mix with celery, cheese, salt, garlic, pepper, mayonnaise and onion. Remove stem ends of tomatoes and cut into 3 crosswise slices. Put together in layer cake fashion, using tuna mixture as filling. Serve on a bed of chicory. 6 servings.

Ruth Wainwright Art Show Here

On Friday, August 4th, a one-man show of paintings by Ruth Wainwright opens at the Digby branch of the Western Counties Regional Library.

Ruth Wainwright, who was born in North Sydney and who graduated from the Halifax Conservatory of Music, is a well-known Maritime artist. She has exhibited with the Canadian Society of Painters in water colour, the National Gallery Travelling Exhibition, the Hamilton Art Gallery, the Beaverbrook Art Gallery, and others.

Miss Wainwright's work was chosen to make up part of the "7 East Coast Painters" show, a nationwide travelling exhibition sponsored by the National Gallery of Canada.

The Wainwright exhibition of abstract paintings will be at the Digby branch until August 9th. The show is presented by the Western Counties Regional Library with the co-operation of the St. Mary's University Art Extension Service.

Cherry Carnival In 1908 Much The Same

Looking at the programme of the Bear River Cherry Carnival of 1908 given us by Watson Peck, the first to catch the eye was the Grand Parade. What the Bear River Cherry Carnival opened with at 9 a.m. on Tuesday, July 21, 1908, was the Grand Calithumpian and Polymonphian Parade which took the route around the head of the tide. How about a Calithumpian and Polymonphian parade in 1972, although most of us wouldn't know what we are heading for.

Field sports started at 11 o'clock with prizes running from $5 first for the half mile race down to $2. The afternoon saw horse races and Farmer's Race and baseball match.

Boat races and other water sports started at 5 o'clock in the evening and at 8 o'clock "Our Folks" was put on in Oakdene Hall by local talent. The Bear River Brass Band furnished music all day.

In all, the Cherry Carnival of 1972 followed a similar pattern, minus the Bear River Band.

Names of persons involved in the Cherry Carnival program of 1908 were G. T. Tupper, chairman; G. I. Brooks, secretary and manager; W. M. Romans, treasurer; William Morgan, A. W. Dunn, J. C. Berry, J. C. Harris, Harry Harris, F. B. Rice, J. W. Freeman, Cervantes Dunn, Clarence McLaughlin, W. E. Miller, Reginald Berry, Dr. C. C. Archibald, George I. Tupper, W. W. Clarke, M. Armstrong, S. B. Davis.

GILBERT COVE

Mr. George Partridge, of Northboro, Mass., visited Mr. and Mrs. David Doucette.

Mrs. Roger Sulis, Craig and Judith, of Cornwall, P. E. I., called at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Clifford Doucette, recently. Mr. and Mrs. Sulis and family are visiting at the home of his parents at Digby.

Miss Betty Melanson left on Wednesday to live with her sister, Mrs. Joe Sisted, and Mr. Histed, in North Vancouver. Good wishes are extended to her.

Mrs. Joseph Thibault and daughter, Mrs. Lillian Taylor, called on Mrs. Nellie Doucette, who lives at the home of Mrs. Charles Blinn in Ashmore.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Comeau, of Tracy, N. B., Mr. Denis Comeau and Mr. and Mrs. David Doucette visited Mr. and Mrs. Irving Comeau in Belliveau's Cove recently.

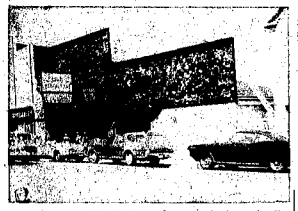
On the left is the block—long building of The Christian Science Publishing Society, home of The Christian Science Monitor, the dingmination's international daily newspaper. The 26-story Administration building (top center), the five-story Church Colonnade (adjoining the Publishing Society), and the Sunday School (right) are all of architectural concrete. A privately owned and financed apartment complex (foreground) is being built on land sold by The Mother Church to provide needed housing for the community.

BARNACLE BILL'S LOUNGE OPENED AT FUNDY



An addition to Fundy Restaurant, known as Barnacle Bill's Lounge, was officially opened on Monday afternoon by Joseph Casey, M.L.A. The official opening took place following the occasion of a reception sponsored by the Bank of Nova Scotia there for Premier Gerald Regan, and other dignitaries attending the Natal Day ceremonies; Dr. T. W. Hodgson, Digby's Citizen of the Year, Queen and Princesses and Natal Day Committee members.

The extension is 33 x 72 feet overall and is done on the exterior in staggered shingles and stone, harmonizing and matching pleasingly with the exterior of the former Fundy Restaurant area.

The spacious air conditioned lounge is done on the interior with rough sawn spruce walls in natural color and large supporting weather-worn beams and posts in deep brown stain. The floors are carpeted wall to wall in red, navy and black and decorations take on the nautical vein in keeping with the decor of the restaurant.

Six large plate glass picture windows give full view of Digby Harbour and Annapolis Basin, giving patrons an opportunity to watch the scallop and ground fishing boats, as well as yachts and speed boats plow the water. Recessed lighting and lantern style lamps add to the dramatic sea atmosphere at night.

Wash rooms and coat checking rooms area available and an attractive bar has attendants in costumes of red jackets, white shirts and black trousers and tie.

Tables are round with figured copper tops. Each table seats four and accommodation for 110 can be given at one time. Dress and age have their restrictions.

William Troupe Jr., educated in Digby and at Acadia University, where he obtained degrees in Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Education, began his interest in restaurant work back in September 1957. For three years he also taught at the Digby Regional High School, returning full time to the restaurant in 1969 and making an extensive expansion to the dining room in 1970. It was at that time that the banquet room was also constructed. Mrs. Troupe, a talented woman of pleasing personality who features in all the progressive business steps and the attending social functions, was the former Miss Sheila Walker, of Montreal. Mr. and Mrs. Troupe have three children: Billy, 12; Cathy, 10; and Doreen, 8.

Petition Sissiboo Road Be Paved

R. K. Purdy, Bear River, attended a luncheon meeting held in Middleton on Wednesday, which was attended by Hon. A. Garnet Brown, Minister of Highways of Nova Scotia, and Joseph Casey, M.L.A., representing the government of Nova Scotia.

During the meeting Mr. Brown was presented with a petition asking that Sissiboo Road be paved from Bernard Fraser's home to Milford Corner. Along with the petition, which included one hundred and four names, was a letter from an industrial user of the road, and photos showing the single track up Sissiboo Hill.

Mr. Casey made further representations to the Deputy Minister of Highways on Saturday regarding this matter.

Saulnierville Plant Given $122,512 Grant

Privy Council President Allen MacEachen announced that Comeau's Seafoods Limited of Saulnierville has been awarded a $122,512 grant by the federal department of regional economic expansion.

The company has undertaken a $370,000 expansion to begin the processing of frozen and pickled herring which will be exported to Europe.

Expansion is well under way and commercial production will begin this month.

The company will obtain herring from Saulnierville, Chedabucto and Prince Edward Island. The company owns five seiners, two mid-water trawlers which can be used to create 67 new jobs. The DREE incentive represents 15 per cent of approved capital costs and $1,000 per job.

"This particular expansion fits in very well with the current policy of the federal fisheries department to encourage herring processing for human consumption", commented Mr. MacEachern. 'In the past herring reduction was a common process. The trend to produce herring for food will bring increased financial benefits to the fishermen and the processors", he added.

Make First Appearance

A space of 12 x 12 feet with shag wall acoustic features in the new Barnacle Bill's Lounge at the Fundy Restaurant is given over to a stage for orchestra and a dance area. On the opening night a crowded lounge gave a standing ovation to the "Vehicle", who supplied the night-club music from 9:30 to 1 o'clock.

Steven Strum, Roger Theriault and Gary Daly of Dartmouth made their first appearance in Digby and according to Steven, the spokesman, they were as highly impressed with the people of Digby as the Digby people were appreciative of their music. He spoke well of the management and staff of Barnacle Bill's.

The members of the "Vehicle" have played at the Lobster Trap, Coachman Lounge, the Zodiac Lounge and surf clubs. They have unpublished original songs of their own and also provide a variety of western, modern or more classicals of others compositions.

Obituary

Mrs. Newton Lewis

The community and surrounding area of Weymouth was saddened to hear of the death of Marjorie Emma Lewis on Sunday, July 30. She was the daughter of the late Harry and Mary Isobel (LeBlanc) Lord, of Hassett, and was 52 years of age.

Although ailing in health for some years, Mrs. Lewis kept cheerful and uncomplaining. She was active until a few weeks ago, when she entered the N. S. Sanatorium in Kentville for treatment, and from whence she died.

Throughout the years she represented various "home sales" companies, including Avon, Studio Girl, and some others. She was well known throughout the area, both from these activities, church activities and community affairs. She was noted for placing floral bouquets in church for Sunday services as long as health permitted her to do so. She also worked in Sunday School, women's groups, and was a member of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Legion. The ladies and legion members were well represented at the funeral service, which was held on Monday afternoon from the Church of Christ, with the pastor, Merle Zimmerman, officiating.

She leaves to mourn three sons: Clayton, of Canning; Ivan, of CFB Petawawa; Michael, at home; one daughter, Marilyn, at home; one brother, Hector Ford also survives, as well as several grandchildren.

Her husband, Newton, predeceased her two years ago.

Interment was in the family lot in the church cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, friends were asked to give donations to the Cancer Society.

Norman Corwin Presents

Noted American impresario-playwright Norman Corwin hosts a new series of half-hour taped dramas under the title, Norman Corwin Presents, for telecast Fridays at 8:30 p.m. on CBC-TV in color. He will introduce the teleplays, some of which he wrote himself, and which will star actors of international stature, both American and Canadian. The anthology series will range from comedy to tragedy, with the accent on imaginative scripts.

MARRIAGE

Marshall — Wilson

A pretty summer wedding was solemnized in West End Baptist Church, Halifax, at 7:30 Thursday evening, July 27th, when Janet Mae Wilson became the bride of Alfred Leigh Marshall, both of Digby. The Rev. Theo. Gibson officiated at the ceremony.

The bride was charming in her floor length gown of gold and yellow brocade poie de soie. She wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Jane Merry, of Halifax, was maid of honour, and wore a floor length gown of navy and white, with bouffant trim. She wore a corsage of red carnations.

John Merry was best man.

The happy couple will reside in Digby, where the groom is employed with the Digby County Power Board.

His grandson and family Mr. Fred Hanson and children from Dartmouth were here to help him celebrate his birthday. His daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Phil Nixon of Berwick came in the evening. So, pop had a grand day for himself and ended up with three birthday cakes.

Rev. Roberson was present and played "happy birthday". Father D'Entremond came and played and sang which was enjoyed by all, so everyone had a grand time helping pop celebrate.

BARTON

We extend a welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Haight and son, Lloyd, who have returned to Barton. They are residing with Mrs. Haights' uncle, Frank Lewis and Bobby.

Henry Shortliffe of Brighton and Misses Hilda and Melda Shortliffe visited their aunt, Mrs. Jennie Tibert at the Aberdeen Hospital in New Glasgow on Monday. Mrs. Tibert, formerly of Freeport and a guest at the I.O.O.F. home in Pictou has undergone surgery. We join in wishing her a speedy and complete recovery.

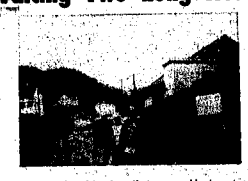
Rev. and Mrs. William Cook, sons David, Richard, Stephen, Sendel and Allen of Hillsburgh, Ontario, spent several days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Shortliffe.

Kevin and Kent Ellis sons of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ellis, are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Ellis, Lighthouse Road, Digby.

The willing workers of the United Baptist Church met with Mrs. Russell Shortliffe on Tuesday evening of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Shortliffe, son, Michael and daughter, Michelle of Hammond Plains are spending a three week's vacation at her parents cabin at Porter's Lake in South Range.

Waiting Two Long Hours



Waiting at the Tiverton ferry for two long hours are, above, Mrs. Bernard Robbins and Mrs. Emmerson Outhouse, both of Tiverton.

It was 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning when the ladies first arrived at the ferry. It was 12 noon before they were able to get an opportunity to cross to East Ferry on the 5 vehicle ferry transportation being presently used.

Noted in the picture is the long line of vehicles stretching far from the Tiverton wharf.

JOGGIN BRIDGE

The regular meeting of the Society of Friends Club met with Mrs. Sibyl Jean Lowen and family on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. George Noel and children of Medford, Mass., are visiting their uncle, Robert Winchester and aunts Sue, Ada and Hilda Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thomas were visitors of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. H.E. Simpson in Dartmouth on the week-end. They were accompanied to Dartmouth by Miss Candra Simpson who has been visiting her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wright and daughters of New Minas were week-end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Brinton.

Clayton Woodman and Ronald Harrison were visitors to Saint John on Friday. On their return they were accompanied by Miss Susan Woodman who had been visiting Mrs. Douglas Woodman and family in Campbellton, N.B.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald McAusland of Halifax were week-end visitors of her father, Capt. James I MacPherson and sister, Mrs. Ernest Lowen and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Heath, Newburyport, Mass., are spending their vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Woodman and other relatives.

Mrs Raymond Brinton entertained on Tuesday, July 25th for her son, Bruce, who was celebrating his seventh birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Woodman and Susan, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Heath and Ronald Harrison spent several days in Berwick this week attending the Camp Meetings.

Bay View

Mr. and Mrs. Wendall Goodwin of Mass., arrived in Bay View recently to spend the summer months. Visitors at their home are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Young and three children of Mass.

Miss Linda Sampson of Massachusetts is a guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wendall Goodwin.

It would appear that visitors at Point Prim Lighthouse have been numerous during the past week. During the week American Tourist were plentiful while on Sunday the N.S. cars were more plentiful than the American ones.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ritcey accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ellis to Bridgetown on Sunday. They were guests at Mountain Lee Lodge visitors of Mrs. Ellie Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Doerr Jr. of Doylestown Penn. and Bay View were called home to the U.S.A. recently due to the passing of his father, Herbert E. Doorr, Sr. May we take this opportunity to extend to the Doerr family most sincere heartfelt sympathy.

Recent callers and visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ritcey at the Birch Villa were Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Ritcey, Halifax N.S. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Currie. Bridgetown, N.S. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Routlier, St. Margaret's Bay, Mr. and Mrs. Laurie-Hart, Ottawa, Ontario.

Acaciaville Church Roll Call

A special yearly event of the Acaciaville Baptist Church is the annual roll call service which this year was held on the afternoon of July 9.

Guest speaker was Rev. Wenfred Bryant and many visitors were present from Digby, Cornwallis and Saint John, New Brunswick.

Rev. Donald Robertson, pastor of the church welcomed the visitors and Mrs. Mary Borden, church clerk called the roll to which people answered with a Bible verse.

Mrs. Bryant rendered two vocal selections, When I Kneel Down and The Mercy of God To Pray. The youth choir sang many spirituals during the service and following the service.

The Lord's Supper was administered by Rev. Donald Robertson after which a fellowship supper was held at 5 o'clock sponsored by the ladies of the church.

Start Shopping Mall Construction In September

Construction of the new one and one-half million dollar shopping centre in Digby's south end will commence by September 15th, it was announced in Digby by Pat Rocca, President of Rocca Construction Ltd. of Saint John who are building the centre for National Leaseholds Ltd., also of Saint John.

The new shopping centre which will have some 70,000 square feet of merchandising space, will also have an enclosed shopping mall and car parking facilities for some five hundred vehicles. The centre will be of masonry and steel construction and will be located on the south side of Warwick Street near Victoria Road.

It is understood there will be a minimum of fifteen stores in the new centre. Among the tenants will be Metropolitan Stores Ltd., Save Easy Ltd., a national drug firm and a branch of a national bank.

Present plans are that the new shopping centre will be open for Easter of 1973.

OVER 800 AFFECTED BY CLAM BAN

CASEY ADVISES — APPLY FOR BENEFITS IMMEDIATELY

Clam diggers and plant workers put out of work by the Federal Government's ban on clams in the Annapolis Basin area were advised Wednesday night by Joe Casey, Liberal Member of the Legislature for Digby, to apply immediately for unemployment insurance benefits.

First reports indicated that only 400 persons were affected but this number has gone to nearly 800 diggers and plant workers as the banned area was enlarged to include several more beaches. Mr. Casey said he had been assured by officials of the unemployment insurance commission that most of the diggers and plant workers would be eligible for benefits if they applied at their local U. I. C. offices.

In the meantime Mr. Casey said the Cabinet was considering to plan today to provide alternative employment for those who are not covered by the unemployment insurance act.

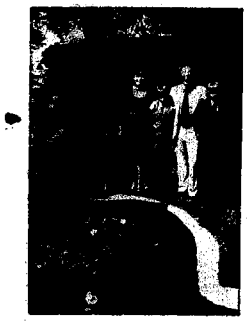
Clam diggers in the area effected by the Ottawa ban due to toxicity in the clam beds would be classified as year around fishermen in most cases for unemployment insurance.

"It is therefore probable that most of the clam diggers put out of work would be eligible for benefits if they had made their required number of payments into the unemployment insurance fund while they were working." Mr. Casey added. He also voiced fears that the ban area might be extended further by the federal government.

Dr. T. W. Hodgson, Digby's 1972 Citizen of the Year, dedicated a tree in the Loyalist Cemetery on the South end of town, in memory of the late Delbert Forrest. The tree was planted by the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society and the plaque reads "In Memory of Delbert Forrest, 19 . In the picture above are, left to right, Dr. Hodgson, Aubrey Forrest, Mrs. Forrest,, Mrs. Brent Chipman, Saint John, N. B., Mrs. Burton Ellis and Mrs. George MacNeill.

The ceremony was presided over by Miss Marjorie Tupper, president of the Society who referred to the late Mr. Forrest as one who was ever ready to help with any problems and had been one of those to initiate the cemetery project. Dr. Hodgson referred to the late Mr. Forrest as one of the charter members of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society, a valued Red Cross member and one who gave his life in service to others.

At a tea prior to the ceremony and held at the home and garden of Miss Tupper, tea service was presided over by Mrs. Marion Sutcliffe. Those who assisted Miss Tupper in serving were Miss Mary Marshall, Miss Mable Marshall, Mrs. H. M. Warne, Mrs. Daniel Comeau and Miss Edith Wightman.



Among those who attended the afternoon tea at the home of Miss Marjorie Tupper, Montague Row, on Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parent and two sons. In the picture above are left to right, Mrs. Parent, Jamie, Mr. Parent and Peter. The tea was held prior to the dedication of a tree in the Loyalist Cemetery in memory of Delbert Forrest, who was a valued member of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society which sponsored the project. Miss Tupper is the Mrs. Burton Ellis and Mrs. George Winfield.

Fair Planned At Deep Brook

Displays and activities for young and old are planned for Saturday and Sunday in the parish of Clements at the parish fair to be held at the hall in Deep Brook.

The two-day event will be launched Saturday at 2 p.m. with a flower show, followed by a variety of amusements for the youngsters attending.

For the adults at the fair, there will be stalls of handwork by guild members and home cooking displays, as well as other attractions.

A buffet-style supper will be served in the hall with an evening dance rounding out Saturday's schedule.

On Sunday the annual memorial service will be held at 3 p.m. in St. Edward's Anglican Church, when local residents and visitors will pay tribute to their ancestors for their part in the history of Annapolis Valley.

Rev. D. D. M. Sharp will conduct the service and Rev. A. F. Sheward of Musquodoboit Harbor is guest preacher.

Offers $50 To Find Rustlers

LeRoy Warner, Bloomfield is offering $50 for anyone who can give information leading to the conviction of rustlers who attacked his valuable Kerry Hill sheep on Sunday night or early Monday morning. In the meantime, the Digby County Exhibition can count on one less sheep on display August 23,24,25 and 26 and Mr. Warner is personally poorer by $500.

The Kerry Hill sheep owned by Mr. Warner are rare in these parts and could be the only ones of their kind registered in Canada. The loss of the sheep is a definite set back in a research program on Mr. Warner's farm. Having bought his first Kerry Hills in 1968 he hopes to build up a flock of twenty ewes. Presently he has seven ewes and three rams.

Digby detachment R.C.M.P. are investigating the robbery.

Tenders For Home Opened

Tenders for a home for the aged and infirm in Digby were recently opened revealing a possible three, it was reported, at a regular meeting of the Digby Town Council on Monday evening. Although the three tenders were reported as being high it was understood that the architect was confident that the tender price could be cut by a few ommissions to satisfy the spending powers of the councils. It is expected that a tender will be decided upon within the next ten days.

A letter from H. G. Marshall, Digby, was read at the council meeting, in which he requested to purchase the property now owned by the town around the bandstand. It was also felt that the council should get in touch with the owner of Meals on Wheels to see if some arrangement could be made which would be better than the present arrangement he has on the property.

A letter was read from A. L. Robinson of MacDonald Motors Limited which advised that detailed building plans for the new shopping centre were ready and the company was seeking information on water, sanitary sewers and storm sewers. The council felt there was no immediate problem.

It was reported that a joint meeting of the Digby Water Commission and Town Council had been held and that a water study for Digby as to supply and quality had been conducted by the Nova Scotia Water Resources. The study is expected to be ready within two weeks. Deputy Mayor Paul Winchester, also of the Streets Committee, reported that West Street was now practically finished between Brad's Grocery and Saint Mary's Street.

It is understood that a special meeting will be held between the Town Council and the Digby Planning Committee to study and update the Digby town by-laws.

The Digby Fire Department presented several requests to council by means of letters. Decision was delayed on giving permission on holding Crown and Anchor games on Friday nights. Regarding a donation to the new fire hall, council decided to look into the wants and also see what is forthcoming by means of fund-raising campaigns. Permission was given to hold a Labor Day Fair on September 4. No definite decision was made to the request that the fire chief and the deputy chief be given reimbursements of $500.00 and $250.00 each year for services in fire prevention.

Child Welfare Conference

The Child Welfare Division of the Digby District Office of the Department of Public Welfare is planning a Foster Parents Conference to be held at the Digby Legion Hall on August 25.

Guest speaker will be Redge Craig, Professor at the Maritime School of Social Work. Panel discussions and general discussions, like those which made the 1971 conference at the Pines Hotel so sucessful will be carried out.

Bride-To-Be Honoured

A surprise bridal shower in honour of Miss Sandra Comeau, Smith's Cove, was held at the home of Mrs. Bradford (Loretta) Flemming of Deep Brook on Thursday evening, August 10.

Games were played and refreshments were served by Mrs. Flemming, Diane Garber and Mrs. Doug Speichts.

The bride-to-be received many lovely and useful gifts. Sandra thanked one and all for their thoughtfulness.

Discuss Perpetual Care

Members of the community who owns lots in the Rossway Cemetery adjacent to the United Baptist Church met June 20, 1972 to discuss the need to improve the grounds in preparation for perpetual care for all lots in the cemetery. They found it will be necessary to chop down a few trees, cut away overgrown shrubs and bushes, remove part of a stone wall, level the ground, bring in top soil, apply weed killer, fertilizer and grass seed.

This is going to cost money, take time and a lot of labor, so the members are asking people who own lots to donate money toward the project, both for improvement of the grounds and for perpetual care.

Cheques can be made payable to : Rossway Cemetery Improvement Fund, c/o Thurston Banks or Vera Gidney R.R.4, Digby, N.S.

Board To Investigate Route From Ferry

With the realization that the present route through Victoria Street has created traffic hazards in and around Digby town, the transportation committee of the Digby Board of Trade headed by A. L. Robinson will be asked to seek information regarding the present route from the Princess of Acadia Ferry to Highway 107. Concern was expressed at the Digby Board of Trade meeting on Tuesday evening regarding the dangerous situation at the foot of Raquette Hill, the Victoria Street and Digby Neck intersection, the Victoria Street and Warwick Street intersection and the corner of Conway Road and Highway 107 intersection. Safety for children on Victoria Street was expressed since there are no sidewalks and heavy transport vehicles use that route from the ferry.

By regular motion the Board of Trade decided to have a committee to attend Town Council meetings in order to keep abreast of activities there and to voice their opinions on matters of concern to people of the town. Heading the committee is Vincent Snow. It was noted that the town is operating on by-laws dating back to 1912 and it was the hope of the Board that the town would see fit to update these.

The matter of publicly owned land was discussed with displeasure voiced at the use of the bandstand area for private business purposes. It was also felt that the property known as the Acadian Lines should have been purchased by the town to develop a parking area or an attractive park.

The Board of Trade felt justified in becoming interested in the town by-election but felt that not enough time was left to do an effective job in securing candidates or promoting interests. Mrs. Eileen Chipman who became a member of the Board expressed deep concern and stated that the Town Council needs new blood drastically and that the "present Town Council is a disaster."

It was suggested that a letter go forward from the Board of Trade to Premier Gerald Regan and the Department of Development expressing pleasure in the announcement of a new industry for Digby and showing interest in learning more about the type of industry to be located here.

Concern was again expressed should the rumors be proven correct that mail service across the Bay of Fundy

T. V. Interviewer Misled

An interesting side-light in the well publicized Digby school crisis of 1970 is contained in an interview with Charlotte Gobeil, well-known T. V. interviewer, in the Ottawa Citizen of Saturday August 5th.

Miss Gobeil, who will shortly join in C.B.C. Weekend program, has been widely known as the "Something Else" girl for her broadcasts over C.B.O.T., Ottawa. She will be recalled by many in this area as the interviewer in the national C.B.C. coverage of the school situation in Digby in 1970.

According to the interview with Miss Gobeil in Saturday's Ottawa Citizen, her advocacy for the underdog, for which she became noted in her T.V. work, did not always work out that way.

Referring to the school crisis situation in Digby, the Ottawa Citizen interview says, "Not all such advocacy for the oppressed turns out. She made a special trip to Digby, N. S., to interview a young American teacher charging the school principal and town people with persecution leading to his dismissal. Too late came the realization that he had misrepresented the facts to suit himself."

Plaque To Honour Sam Langford

A memorial plaque, honouring Sam Langford, probably Nova Scotia's most famous boxer will be unveiled in his home community, Weymouth Falls at three o'clock Sat. afternoon. The plaque will honour the "unrowned heavyweight champion of the world".

Born in Weymouth Falls March 4, 1883, Langford fought 642 fights in a 21-year span. His last fight came when he was blind and was only able to hit his opponents by listening to the movement of their feet.

He died in Cambridge, Mass., Jan 12, 1956.

Mrs. Ralph Jarvis, who spearheaded the campaign to raise money for the special plaque, said she hopes to turn the remainder of the money into a Sam Langford scholarship fund. In pursuit of this, Mrs. Jarvis will be meeting former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey early in October when she goes to New York.

While in the city, she expects to talk with Sugar Ray Robinson and other fighters to see if they will give moral support to the scholarship fund idea.

Langford left Weymouth Falls when he was 14 years old to seek his living in the eastern United States. His first job was in a brickyard in Cambridge, Mass.

At the peak of his fighting career, he stood five feet six and a half inches and weighed 162 pounds. He was commonly known as the "Boston Tar Baby."

He made several trips back to his home community, visiting relatives and friends. His last surviving brother, Walter, died July 12.

The idea for the plaque came from Reginald M. Richardson, of Windsor, Mrs. Jarvis said. Several years ago Richardson visited the area and talked to the people regarding some memorial to the boxer who is ranked seventh in the heavyweight boxing division [illegible] present, in the world.

— ABOUT THIS AND THAT —

Liveth Long

The hymn writer, speaking of persons, wrote "He liveth long who liveth well." As we turn to volume XCIX number 1 of The Digby Courier this week we are inclined to compare a newspaper's life similarly as a person's. Counting 52 issues, including this one, should bring us to August 16, 1973 when we turn those Roman Numerals of XCIX into C, in other words 100. That will mean the paper has been in operation fully 100 years as it would have been in operation a full year when it turned from Volume 1 to Volume II. Those are impressive figures in years, but as the hymn writer tried to get across; it isn't so much the number of years as how well the years were spent which counts most.

Naturally, we glanced back to services rendered by The Digby Courier through 99 years and find that in the early days of not-so-easy communication, The Digby Weekly Courier, as it was called, provided a useful means of communication between village and village as well as bringing news of a broader aspect into the village homes. It does the same thing today.

Through the years the Digby Courier has taken its stand on issues which matter. Maybe it was not always correct in its opinions but again, like people, a newspaper has the privilege to express its views and correct or change them in a free democracy if necessary. Methods of getting across ideas and leading the people in thinking out community problems and issues vary from one editor to the other but the service was always with every effort to be of benefit to the people.

What supported the newspaper in its early years until the present time was its advertising revenue. Advertising, however, is also a means of communication. It gives readers an opportunity to take advantage of the best buys for their needs and pleasures. Courier advertising aided in the building up of Digby and the county villages by directing the attention of the readers to those places of business within its trading area and was a protection to the shopper in disclosing the best prices available.

Whatever value The Digby Courier has been and whatever contribution to the area which the Courier has made in the past 99 years, has been attained only by co-operation of many people involved. There were and are those who were directly and full-time staff members while others have made their contribution in free or part-paying services graciously rendered. Without co-operation from many, a newspaper could not successfully attain 99 years for while a newspaper must be business-minded enough to keep its head above water financially there is much which is simply a free but valuable service to the community.

As we look back over the 99 years, we are convinced that The Digby Courier has "lived long," not so much in its number of years, but, as the hymn writer suggested of people, by its "living well."

Council Seat To Be Filled

Notices have been posted around town regarding nominations for candidates to fill the vacancy on Digby Town Council made vacant by the death of Councillor Charles McBride. Providing there is more than one nomination of a qualified candidate, there will be an election on September 12, 1972.

We hope there is an election. Not because a person elected by acclamation cannot be as fully a good councillor as one who succeeds in an election, but simply because an election shows more interest by the entire town or it involves the entire town almost through necessity.

Whether or not people of the town realize it, the type of person put on the town council is important. The best obtainable should be sought. Town councillors must be fair and just in all their dealings so a man or woman of strong character should be sought. To be fair and just, however, does not mean being easily persuaded so a person of firm convictions of right and wrong is necessary.

Town council covers many aspects of life. A person of wide experience would be an asset or a person who specialized in an important phase of town planning should be considered. Town administration and town business is terribly big business these days. Do you know someone who is good with figures and who can handle them in all justice and honesty to the best advantage of the most concerned? There are important and expensive issues to be faced.

Who becomes your town councillor is important to you and Digby is not short of good, capable men and women to fill the vacancy now on Digby Council. Are these good, capable men and women willing to sacrifice their pleasure and ease to help make Digby the best place possible in which to live. Will each and every citizen of Digby have done his homework by the time nominations close on August 29 for a candidate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Councillor McBride?

Toxicity

This week's paper has a news story on concern expressed by Hon. Gerald Regan, Premier; Hon. Benoit Comeau, Minister of Fisheries and Joseph Casey, M.L.A. in the closing of clam beds in the Digby area. Not that these men are objecting to the closing for they are also concerned for the health and safety of the people. Their concern regarding the closing is that through no direct fault of their own, clam diggers, shuckers and others are without work because of the closure. These people depending on clams for a livelihood and others are deserving of assistance when "nature" causes them to suffer.

As was pointed out in last week's news story this is an annual occurance brought about when water temperatures reach the point whereby marine organisms rapidly increase in growth. These minute organisms are absorbed by clams and mussels and any person eating the infected shellfish could become seriously ill.

No doubt there will come a day when this almost natural toxicity complication in the shellfish industry will be eliminated. In the meantime the fact of the closure of clam beds due to toxicity should make all our readers conscious of dangerous toxic contitions and urge that pollution of any kind be eliminated as rapidly as possible. One of the first things should be to urge the federal government to protect our Annapolis Basin by proper sewage disposal at C. F. B. Cornwallis. That would be a major correction in our polluted Basin and harbours waters. Then, too, our own town and village sewage disposals would need to be modernized to protect the waters.

We urge the people in Digby County and other places to watch for the toxicity warning signs and guard their own safety by not using shellfish from toxic areas. In the meantime, also consider the general pollution problems of the area and discuss them with other concerned people, including your nearest Chamber of Commerce or Board of Trade. Improper pollution control can hamper industrial promotion, one of the aims of Trade Board, Councils and business men of the area.

Letters To The Editor

The Editor

Dear Sir,

I would like to express through your paper my most sincere sympathy to Mrs. C. F. McBride over the loss of her husband, "Pop" to me, and now her son, Charles.

I have just received two newspaper cuttings on Charles' rather sudden demise and it has brought back to me very happy memories of the times I spent with both him and his Father and Mother, for which I will ever be grateful.

Many was the time Charles came to R.A.F. Greenwood during W.W.2 to pick me up by car and take me to his parent's home for the week-end where I was always made more than welcome, in fact it is true to say I was treated more like a son than a visitor.

I was single in those days and have very happy memories of the times spent with the McBrides, nearly every week-end for almost two years. The Wrens from HMCS Cornwallis: Christmas Dinner on board the "Princess Helene", walks and car trips in and around Digby, Christmas presents, Birthday presents, and many other kindnesses all made my stay in Nova Scotia among the happiest days of my life and will always be remembered. There really are not sufficient words I can use to say how pleasant the McBrides made my stay over there.

I am 57 years old now, married with a wonderful wife, four children of my own, two of them married with children of their own making my wife and I grandparents four times and I always love recounting to them the very happy times I spent in your part of the world, and showing them all the snapshots I took while over there.

I consider I was very lucky to meet the McBride's and once again I can only offer my heartfelt sympathy to "Mum" McBride at her two very sad bereavements.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mrs. Wallis,

Further consideration of Board of Trade matters brings to mind that such subjects as: traffic problems and use of publicly owned or controlled lands are subjects for Board of Trade consideration and discussion.

If such subjects and their related problems are properly discussed and debated by interested and concerned people, we then know that best results can then be obtained as years go by. Such problems, of course, occur every now and then and, are presently with us.

Please let all concerned be reminded that the next Board of Trade meeting will be held at the regular time and place for which notice will be given.

Hospitality Of Islanders Praised

Mrs. Robert MacAllister of Berlin, Mass., who with her husband and family have a summer home in the Tiverton area, highly praised the courtesy and hospitality of Islanders who assisted her during a recent unfortunate incident.

She related "Our children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelsey Jr. and their children of U.S. were visiting us for several days. One evening I took them through the Island to Freeport for a drive. We stopped in to the cemetery and jokingly I said, Come on, I want to show you where your ancestors are buried. We got up there alright, but in turning around, the van slid into the ditch. I didn't know what to do, I didn't know anyone I could call. I was frightened, in fact I was trembling! Then in a matter of minutes some folks had spoted our difficulty and cars began arriving. Where they all came from so quickly I can't tell you! They got planks and boards from somewhere and began working to get the van out of the ditch. A Lady, a Mrs. Cann who lived near by took the children to her home to get warm. They were dressed in shorts and were chilly in the frosty evening air."

Mrs. MacAllister said she found it hard to realize that twenty minutes they were out of the ditch and on their way home again.

She said in praise of the people, "I have never seen such goodness and hospitality in my life as I have seen among the Island people. It is a way of life with them and something other people miss. I feel I cannot thank and praise these folks enough, they were so kind to me even though I was a complete stanger to them - they were just wonderful."

Sympathy is extended to the members of the family of the late Mrs. Eugene (Erma) Outhouse whose funeral service was held from the Christian Church on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Merl A. Dutton and daughters Bobbie, Marie and Betsy from Orlando, Florida also Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Francis from Bath, Main spent several days with Mrs. Ella Sollows.

Notes from Bird Haven

This is good birding weather now, you can go to the woods and not pick up a tick.

Had a delightful afternoon with some birders from Toronto and Arizona. It was a perfect day and we had tea in the garden, it gave them a chance to exchange experiences. They had been here for over a week and had enjoyed every minute of their trip.

Have had several cat victims brought to me lately but none have survived.

Yesterday was D day for the female Purple Finch brought in several weeks ago with an injured wing. When I opened the cage to let them out for their bath she flew around the kitchen at such speed I thought she might be able to fly outside. I took her to the door and away she went happy to be in her own environment again.

A beautiful male Cardinal has been seen at Smith's Cove. These birds are gradually working their way farther north each year. Several years ago I had a female spend the winter in the house with me.

The Swallows are beginning to gather on the wires and will soon be heading South.

Lots of Song Sparrows around the yard, the young ones are trying out their voices and often end with an unfinished song.

Five children arrived at my door one day with a huge box with a little fly catcher. One girl was carrying the youngest bird watcher I have ever had, just one year old. She was very interested in the caged ones, no doubt she will be a real birder when she grows up.

The Blue Heron are coming back from the lakes where they have nested. It is hard to believe these birds build their nests in the top of spruce trees. They can be seen feeding on the beach at low tide.

Baltimore Orioles have been seen in different parts of the town. Wonder how many have reservations for their trip South or will they be looking for free lodging at Bird Haven.

So long.

THE BIRD LADY

NOTICE
1972 School Opening 1973
Digby School System

Schools at Barton, Sandy Cove, Smith's Cove and those schools located within the Town of Digby will reopen on Wednesday, September 6, 1972 when all students of school age are expected to be in attendance. September 6 will be a full teaching day with school buses making return trips at 3:00 p.m. The school lunch program will operate at the Digby Regional High School on the opening day of school.

Teachers only will be in attendance on September 5 to attend a pre-school conference.

Students registering in the Digby Regional High, Digby Elementary and St. Patrick's FOR THE FIRST TIME, regardless of age or grade, are advised to register early. Children who have not attained the age of five years on or before October 1, 1972 will not be registered at any time during the current school year. The Office of the Supervisor of Schools at the Digby Regional High School will be open to receive registrations between the hours of 10:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday, August 29. Advance registrations will close on August 29 and all other registrations will be deferred until after the first week of school.

Municipal students not residing in the area served by the Digby Regional School and seeking admission to special classes at that school must have their applications aproved by the Municipal School Board. Requests for application forms should be directed to the Supervisor of Schools, Box 968, Digby, N. S.

Commercial Students will be accepted at the Digby Regional High School according to their qualifications. Stenographic, clerical and accounting courses will be offered in 1972.

LOCAL SUPPLEMENTARY EXAMINATIONS (not provincial examinations) will be written Tuesday, August 29 at the Digby Regional High School.

Students of grades 9 - 12 wishing to take advantage of the text book rental plan for 1972-73 should come on September 6 prepared to pay the five dollar rental fee.

Before pupils may be admitted to the Public Schools of Nova Scotia, they must comply with the Department of Public Health regulation regarding vaccination. Students entering primary will be required to be vaccinated or present certificate showing vaccination done within the last three years.

Hodge Podge

— Digby Natal Day was July 31. We carried the story on August 3rd. Once in a while our copy gets late, too, and we beg forgiveness of our correspondents. —

— A legitimate gripe by a university student was his gripe that his earnings for the summer to support him in next year's university term were being whittled away by taxes which go to providing shelter and food for bums who want to tour the country. Nothing wrong with touring the country but on your own, he says. —

— Things to be thankful for in 1972: 1. That you have any kind of a job that brings a living unless you'd rather go on unemployment and 2. that you are not handicapped with too much education. Heard of one young man who had recently earned his doctorate in long years of study who sent 200 unsuccessful applications for a job. —

— From the time the Princess of Acadia left Saint John on Sunday night until a half hour before docking, there was a line-up from counter to door in the cafeteria. By the way, those stairs are still as steep as ever and mighty hard to climb. Sure getting good loads across the Bay for three trips a day, both in vehicles and passengers. —

— Guess the younger generation has stamina. We are told that last week 11 year old Greg Skinner was hit in the face by a carelessly swung golf club. Despite a nasty cut and some obvious swelling and pain, Greg was still raring to go and played the 18 hole match in credible fashion. A few minutes after arriving home that evening Greg was pitching in his Hard-Ball League, pitching a shut-out and whacking out two 3-baggers. —

— It's a small world. The Maccrackens from California, who are looking up ancestry in Digby were mentioned in Hodge Podge last week. Mrs. Paul Snow picked up the Courier and at once noted that they were the same people who are relatives of her brother-in-law in Montreal.

— Surely there must be a lot of people who have poor eyesight or are illerate. Or is the vehicle speed coming down Victoria Street to the Raquette just too great to stop. There is a stop-sign there. Could it be too inconspicuous? Somebody's going to get hurt. —

— Who goes to Sandy Cove beach? Grandmothers and their grandchildren, mom and dad and all the kids, babies in little sitting beds, children of all ages. There are visitors from far away places, visitors from nearby places and Sandy Cove people. As you hear some New York kids complaining that they cannot come to the beach again because they have to pack up to go back to New York, you are mighty glad Digby County has such a lovely beach to share.

HILL GROVE

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Minard of Fredericton were week-end visitors with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orbin Minard and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gates.

We are glad to report that Thomas Chandler arrived home* from Digby General Hospital on Monday, July 24.

Misses Sheila and Joanne Roope accompanied by their mother Mrs. John Roope, were guests at a birthday party in honor of the 11th birthday of Miss Jill Ellis at Banton on Saturday, July 29th.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Morley accompanied their daughter, Mrs. Ivan Jodoyin and her two children, Timen and Lisa to Halifax International Airport on Sunday, July 30th when they returned to their home in Timmins, Ontario, after visiting for two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Morley.

Mr. and Mrs. William Silver and Mr. and Mrs. Myles Drew, all of Springfield were week-end visitors with Mr. Fred Haight and Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Haight.

Visitors at the Sunday Morning Service at Hill Grove Baptist Church were Mr. and Mrs. William McElroy of Massachusetts, and Mrs. McElroy's father, Mr. Joseph Franklin of Victoria Beach who lived at Hill Grove for many years, also Mrs. George Noel and three children of Winchester, and Mr. Robert Winchester of Joggin Bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. John Roope attended a reception for the former Miss Beverly Melanson at Plympton on Saturday evening July 29th.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Haight, Miss Dianne Matheson, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thibeault returned to their homes in Newmarket, Ontario on July 28th after spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Haight and family.

Allan Minard of Port Joli spent the week-end of July 29th with Mr. and Mrs. Orbin Minard and on Saturday evening they all visited Miss Reuetta Kinney and Mrs. Awanda Brooks at Ashmore.

Mrs. Ralph Marshall, Miss Genevieve Keen, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Keen of Halifax and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vincent of Saint John visited with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur MacKay and Miss Susie Nichols during the week-end of July 29th and also attended the Memorial Service for all deceased members of St. Paul's Church, Marshalltown held on Sunday July 30th. Also a recent visitor at the same home was Mrs. Robert Boulton of Halifax.

Miss Christene Gaunce of Saint John was a July 22nd week-end visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Haight, and attended the Haight — Matheson wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Croes of Windsor were visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Kingsley Collins for several days recently.

The weather on Sunday, July 23rd was ideal when a Church picnic sponsored by the Sunday School of the Hill Grove Baptist Church was held at Savary Park with about 39 people in attendance. Swimming and other activities were enjoyed by the younger folks while the others enjoyed relaxing and being together in a wonderful area of the great out-of-doors. A barbecue supper with Cecil Murley and Carl Franklin as "cooks" was heartily partaken of by all present along with other "goodies" supplied by the ladies of the group.

The Mission Band of the above Church under the leadership of Mrs. Nichols also held a meeting and picnic for the numbers of their group and their mothers in the tent and yard at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Franklin, on July 5th with about 20 being present. During the meeting, Mrs. John Roope, Sunday School presented Five Dollars to the Mission Band as a gift from the Sunday School after the closing of the devotional and business meeting, races and games were participated in by the young people. A supper prepared by the mothers was enjoyed by all in the tent of Stephen and Jeffrey Franklin. The hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin in extending the use of their grounds for this outing was greatly appreciated by all present.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence wells have returned from a three week vacation of touring Nova Scotia and camping in several areas.

Mrs. Eldon Wyan of New Germany visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Franklin on Thursday, and upon her return home was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Franklin who spent two days with Mr. and Mrs. Wynn. Mr. Franklin also attended the Bridgewater Exhibition.

COME AS YOU ARE.

IN MEMORIAM

VANTASSELL — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Oscar VanTassell, who died Aug. 10th 1953.
It is sad to walk the road alone
Instead of side by side,
But to all there comes a moment
When the ways of life divide.
You gave us years of happiness
Then came sorrow and tears,
But you left us beautiful memories
We will treasure through the years.
— Always remembered and sadly missed by wife, sons Earl and Eric and daughter, Edna Stark. 1:1ic

FROST — In loving memory of my father Earl Elmer Frost who passed away Aug. 14th, 1970.
Death is such a final thing
He says we all must part
But memory keeps the one we love
Ever close, within our, hearts
Early one summer morning
He paid our home a call
He took away my father
More sorrow I can't recall
Your earthly cares are over dad,
God knew you stood the test
He sent a guardian angel
To take you home to rest.
God knows how much we miss you
And the ache within our hearts
I pray someday we'll meet again
In a place where we never will part.
Ever remembered by daughter, Beverly and son-in-law, Eric. 1:1ip

LONGMIRE — In loving memory of Ritson H. Longmire, who passed away on August 19th, 1963.
The rolling stream of life goes on,
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the time, the voice, the smile
Of him who once sat there.
— Sadly missed by wife, Maude, and family. 1:1ip

YOUNG — In loving memory of our mother, Joan Elaine Young, who passed away Aug. 13th, 1960.
We do not need a special day
To bring you to our mind
For the days we do not think of you are very hard to find
Now looking back with memories upon the path you trod
We bless the time we had with you, and leave the rest to God.
— Sadly missed by sons, Danny and Carey. 1:1c

FIENDEL — In loving memory of Samuel Fiendel who passed away August 2, 1970.
The rolling stream of life rolls on,
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile
Of the one who once sat there.
Fondly remembered by daughter, Carrie, son-in-law, Charles and grandchildren. 1:1ip

COMEAU — In loving memory of our daughter, Mary Lou who passed away August 25th 1969.
Her memory is our keepsake
With which we'll never part.
God has her in his keeping
We have her in our hearts.
— Always remembered by sister, Angeline, Mom and dad, Deanna and Raymond Comeau. 1:1c

AMERO — The family of the late Jeremiah Amero, wish to express their thanks to all those who sent cards, and flowers, and helped in any way, during their recent bereavement of their husband, father and grandfather, also to Dr. Lewis for his understanding and to the kind nurses of the third floor. The family. 1:1ip

CARD OF THANKS

VANTASSELL — I wish to express my sincere thanks to all who kindly sent cards and flowers to me while I was a patient in the Digby General Hospital. Special thanks to the nurses on third floor. Special thanks to Dr. D.E. Lewis. Thanks to Zelma Rebekah Lodge for the beautiful basket of flowers and many thanks to my family for flowers and goodies they brought all the four weeks that I spent there. Mrs. Alice (Oscar) VanTassell. 1:1ic

GOSSON — I wish to thank all my friends who sent cards, and visited me while I was a patient in D.G. Hospital. Special thanks to Dr. Black, and to the nurses and orderlies on second floor who were so kind. Basil Gosson 1:1ic

SANFORD — I wish to express my sincere thanks to my relatives and friends, for flowers, letters cards, gifts, and those who visited me while I was a patient in the V. G. Hospital Halifax. Mrs. Ida Sanford. 1:1ip

HARVEY — We wish to thank friends and relatives for cards and gifts received at our recent wedding. Special thanks to the Home-league Ladies, Mr. and Mrs. Dexter, and Brenda Vidito for their kindness. Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Harvey. 1:1ip

THERIAULT — My belated but sincere thanks to all those who sent me cards and flowers, while I was a patient at the Digby Hospital. Also the many friends who visited me. Special thanks to Dr. Birsel and nurses on third floor who gave me such wonderful care. Also Pastor and Mrs. Jagoe, Rev. H. Waugh and Mr. and Mrs. Milliage Tidd, Mrs. George Theriault for their prayers and kindness. May God Bless You All. Mrs. Georgia Theriault. 1:1ic

OUTHOUSE — The family of the late George W. Outhouse wish to express their sincere thanks to all friends and relatives who sent flowers, cards or assisted in any way during our recent bereavement. Special thanks to the doctors, nurses and staff of the Digby Hospital, also to 16 in Roman Catholic Church, Mrs. Avery Finnigan and the Tiverton Choir. 1:1c

WAGNER — My sincere thanks to relatives and friends for cards, flowers and visits while I was a patient at Yarmouth Hospital. Special thanks to Drs. Burton and Balmanno, nurses and staff on the 3rd floor. Mrs. Lois Wagner. 1:1ip

Kiwanis Clinch First Place

The Kiwanis unleased a twenty-one hit attack on the Merchants and walloped them by the score of 29-6 to end the regular schedule in first place with a no loss record. This game was postponed from July 31st and was played on August 9th. Greg Skinner took over from Paul Scott in the first inning and completed the game. He allowed eight hits, struckout twelve and gave up six walks in gaining his first victory. Brian Comeau with three singles a double and two triples lead the hitting attack for the Kiwanis. Chafferty, Arnold Haynes, and Gary Rogers added to Kiwanis power at bat. Butch Wong went four innings for the Merchants and was touched for ten singles and a double and walked eleven accounting for nineteen runs. Joseph Hattie relieved him in his outing as a pitcher, he was not too effective but showed steady improvement in his fielding. Joe is normally a third baseman. Coach Wood used Chris Halliday in the fifth inning and he showed promise as a pitcher. He allowed one run struck out three and was effective in holding a rampaging Kiwanis nine. Joseph Hattie with a single and double and Butch Wong with two singles and a double lead the offensive of the Merchants. Defensively, this game was well attended and as usual Umpires Vantassel and Smith turned in excellent performances. Line Score:

Merchants	4	0	0	1	0	1
Kiwanis	4	5	1	9	9	1

Legion Drops 5th

Firemen defeated the Legion by the score of 26-12 on August 11th. This game was a postponed game that was to have been played on July 14th and was rained out. A total of six home runs by Harieux, Riley, Mosher and three triples (Francis, Phillips, Mosher) was the main reason for such a win by the Firemen. The game was shortened to four innings by consent of the coaches. David Riley went three innings for the Firemen, he allowed two runs, struckout seven and issued one walk to gain the victory. Marc Phillips took over and gave up ten runs on two hits, nine walks and struck out one and hit three batters. Michael Burnham and Brian Speicts did the mound chores for the Legion and although Burnham was touched for several long balls he can be brought along and should be heard from in future years. Line-ups LEGION - B. Speicts, M. Burnham, J. Skinner, P. Thomas, Jeff Vantassel, R. Gidney M. Chute, M. Turnbull, G. Melanson, Brian Wong. FIREMEN - Nelson Francis, D. Harvieux, M. Phillips, D. Riley, K. Mosher, Kirk MacIntosh, B. Germaine, W. Burgoyne, T. Robicheau. Attention Little Leaguerers

The Little League Ball Diamond is yours and it is up to each and everyone of you to see that it is not destroyed or misused. Recently, dugouts were built to give you better facilities to operate your League, now someone saw fit to knock out practically all the knots in both dugouts, leaving several holes which are eyesores. Remember the adults who are trying to improve your field do not take to such "going-ons" but above all there are many Little Leaguerers coming up and if this procedure continues what facilities will they have?

6 Mile Natal Day Road Race

The Digby Legion Track and Field Natal Day Road Race ended up with a tremendous finish. The top three finishers in the senior division were Jim Naugher of Halifax, followed by George Piccott and Bernie Chisholm.

The junior Juvenile race was won by Case Michielson of Antigonish, followed by two members of the Digby Legion Track and Field team, David Larramore and Mike McCarrie.

The Midget, Bantam race was won by Bob Wood (Digby Track) followed by other members of the team, Pat Theriault and Garnet Stacey.

This year Digby Natal Day Road Race was a great success and we hope to continue with this event for years to come.

Jr. Golfers Do Well At Greenwood

Eleven young golfers were at Greenwood last week to compete against 50 others from the Valley in a Junior Invitational Tournament.

Five of the Digby lads won major prizes in their handicap groups.

David Oliver was Best Net in Division 1 and Steve Saulnier and Randy Oliver were 1st and 2nd Low Gross in Second Division. Digby also had two winners in the 36-handicap group - Osman Samad and Michael Lynch - 1st and 2nd Low Net.

Others competing were Jon Duff, Brian Woof, Andy Prescesky, Inram Samad, Darren Daley and Greg Skinner.

The boys were accompanied by Don Brown, Mary Lynch, Jack Harris and Don Duff of Montreal, who is spending some time at his summer home here.

Tomorrow - Friday - Digby Pines G. C. will be hosts to 70 or more young golfers from clubs, Windsor to Clare. Tee off time is 2 o'clock and spectators are welcome.

This coming Monday will be a big day for Juvenile Golfers - up to 14 years of age. The Nova Scotia Championship is being played at Clare G. C. and every one of the young lads eligible to play for Digby Pines has signed up to compete.

her parents, Cst. and Mrs. Freeman Sheppard, Woodbine Trailer Park, Lower Sackville, the above four-generation photo was taken. Mrs. Sheppard is the former Deborah Winchester.

Mr. Shaw, a native of Portland, Maine, spent his growing up years in North Bay, Ontario — from 4 to 17, returning to the States where he has lived in Indiana, Massachusetts and New Hampshire. He enjoys spinning yarns of his experiences as a youth fishing and hunting in the North Bay area.

While here Mr. Shaw met many of the people in the area and enjoyed watching the progress of the new Fire Hall which is directly in front of the Winchester home as he sat on the sunporch and could look out over the Annapolis Basin to the Digby Gut. He expressed many times how beautiful it is in this area and that he would like to return for another visit. Mr. Shaw left for home on Sunday, August 13.

is to be discontinued. It had been heard that the Windsor Station in Montreal was to be closed out and the mail routed by C.N.R. to Moncton and Halifax instead of Saint John through Digby. This would cause some unemployment in the Digby area, it was noted. Fulton Logan was asked to find out what he could about the reports and if the reports are true the Board of Trade will protest the move.

It was also felt by the Trade Board that the rumor of more wells to be drilled in Digby should be investigated. It was understood that a surplus of water had been provided when the present two wells were drilled.

The treasurer reported balance in the bank of $246.00 after the bills had been all passed for payment.

Vincent Snow, head of the membership committee reported that several new members had been secured bringing the list of promises and paid up members to approximately 50. On the committee with Mr. Snow was named John Englehutt, The committee was given power to advertise meetings of the Board of Trade in the local press when they felt it necessary and had consulted the treasurer.

It was decided to pay the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade an amount of $50 as membership dues. A letter was read from the AVABT advising the Board that tourist incentive grants would again be paid and that in order to take advantage of these, applications had to be in before January 1973.

A report from the AVABT executive manager revealed that Honourable Don Jamieson, Minister of Transport had taken up the matter of increased fares in the Saint John-Digby ferry and said that he understood the rates would be back to normal for the winter season and that there had been a great improvement in travel frequency by the ship.

The next meeting of the Digby Board of Trade was set for September 19.

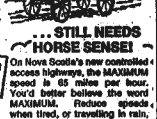
THE HORSELESS CARRIAGE

Driving has changed a lot since 1896 when the 2-cylinder "Victoria" was built in the Annapolis Valley by a blacksmith and carpenter. It is believed to have been Canada's first horseless carriage.



...STILL NEEDS HORSE SENSE!

NOVA SCOTIA'S FIRST MOTOR VEHICLE ACT...

was established in 1907. The first legal speed limit was one mile in eight minutes in Town and one mile in four minutes on "open" road.

Then... 8 Miles Per Hour.

Now... MAXIMUM 65

On Nova Scotia's new controlled access highways, the MAXIMUM speed is 65 miles per hour. You'd better believe the word MAXIMUM. Reduce speeds when tired, or travelling in rain, fog, sleet and snow - or if your vehicle has mechanical defects.

MAXIMUM MEANS YOUR SPEED TO BE USED FOR "IDEAL DRIVING CONDITIONS"

Here After 29 Years

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bernard left for California to earn a living nearly 30 years ago. Last week they arrived back in Digby for their first visit here since then and are visiting old acquaintances and relatives in the area. Mrs. Bernard was the former Cynthia Morrell, of Westport.

So pleased are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard with their visit that they are considering returning to retire some day. They feel that Nova Scotia in general and particularly the Digby area is not receiving the amount of publicity it should have. It is difficult to obtain publicity material they claim and it is two and three years old when you find some.

District Eight Fire Commission Hall Progresses

The District Eight Fire Commission in Smith's Cove was given a "shot in the arm" toward the completion of its home for the fire truck and equipment when two events were held this past weekend for the purpose of raising funds for this project.

Friday afternoon, August 4, an Art Show, Tea, Bake Sale and Handicrafts Sale was held at the home of Mrs. Irene Speichts. One room in the home was given over to the display of art work by Mrs. Speichts which lined the walls of the room, and the work of local craftsmen was displayed on a table and included dolls, aprons, knit and crocheted articles, items from seaside findings, and liquid embroidery. Also on display was a large painting of the view atop Sunset Hill Road looking toward Bear Island in the Annapolis Basin. Mrs. Speichts has donated the painting to the Commission for the fund raising purposes.

Assisting Mrs. Speichts during the afternoon were Mrs. Karl Abott and Mrs. Thomas Francis Jr. Serving tea were Miss Elizabeth Winchester and Miss Darlene Thompson. Mrs. Oakley Smith was ticket chairman.

Saturday afternoon a successful auction was held in the Casino of the Harbour View Motel with three auctioneers sharing the spotlight: Rev. George Bell and "Bud" Winchester of Smith's Cove, and Rev. Earl Waterman of Bear River. Cashiers were Oakley Smith and Lawrence Comeau. Sales of the odd bits of furniture and appliances came to $630.05, reported Harold A. Sulis, Fire Chief, 10 % of which will be donated to the Hope Fellowship Sheltered Workshop.

During the week Mr. Sulis, Mrs. Thomas Francis Jr., and Irvine Brooks, President of the Company, were busy collecting items from the members of the community for the auction, and Mr. Brooks was ably assisted by Art Hill and several of the young lads of the community.

Thus the project originally started in August 1954 with meetings held off and on during the following years, and finally organized in January of this year, has been given a big boost through these two events. And as one passes by the site of the "home" of the Company one can see that the building of the Fire Hall, an addition to the former Temperance Hall, is coming along nicely.

Night Travellers

The Freeport correspondent reports that quite a number of Island residents and visitors are taking advantage of the 24 hour ferry service at Petite Passage by using the ferry at night. Its a "real big deal" to be able to cross evenings as well as in the day light, and especially on Sunday evenings the loads are very many with cars piling up on the East Ferry side up around the horseshoe turn on occasions, all waiting their turns to cross.

Successful Bazaar

George Barton, president of the Acadiaville-Conway Community Betterment Association which sponsored a bazaar at the Community Centre on Saturday, reported that the amount of $450 was cleared on the day. Mr. Barton extended thanks to all who helped to make the day successful.

Games, grabs, bingo and a chicken barbecue provided the program of the day. The funds will help defray costs of the Community Centre improvements.

Belliveau Cove Girl Gets Award

Linda Cecile Amirault, of Belliveau's Cove, will receive the prize for highest aggregate in the School of X-ray Technology when the graduation exercises for the six schools at the Halifax Infirmary are held at Saint Patrick's High School, Halifax, on Sunday, August 27, 1972.

BEST IN SHOW AWARD TO MRS. SHAW

The Weymouth Garden Club held a successful flower show under the convenership of Mrs. E. A. Adelsar, assisted by the following: Mrs. Harry Lewis, Mrs. Dan Hankinson, Mrs. R. Cottreau, Mrs. E. A. Ferguson Wm. LeFort, Gordon Cameron and O. Bavelnar.

The award for the best in the show went to Mrs. John Shaw. Quality awards went to Richard Wagner, Mrs. E. A. Ferguson and Mrs. John Shaw. Champion award for house plants went to Mrs. H. Lewis. Special creativity award went to Miss Marcia Comeau. Special prize went to Dr. J. E. Comeau for his orange tree.

In the junior division the following had firsts. Allan Dugas, Susan Irvin, Katheryn Otley and Karen Brown.

Attractive posters were made by Kenn Sweeney. Registering exhibits was carried out by Mrs. Wm. LeFort, Miss F. Lent and Mrs. D. Hankinson.

Mrs. G. Cameron was responsible for the raffle table. Prize winners of the raffle were Mrs. George Keane, Mrs. H. Warne, Mrs. G. Cameron, Mrs. Anne Kaye, Miss Marion Kaye, Joanne Irwin, Katheryn Otley, Miss Frances Lent, Miss Madeline Comeau, Miss Polly Shields and Mrs. Lloyd Potter.

Memberships were received by Mrs. J. E. Comeau and Mrs. E. A. Ferguson was in charge of tea tickets.

Visitors to the flower show enjoyed a tea convened by Mrs. O. Bavelaar, assisted by Miss Leota Lewis, Miss Helen Weaver, Mrs. Sweeney, Misses Madeline and Jessie Comeau and Mrs. C. Granville.

Pouring the tea were Mrs. G. Fielding and Mrs. A. Henderson and Mrs. C. Granville.

Serving the tea and refreshments were Miss Sandra Height, Miss Joy Cosman, Miss Coral Dugas and Miss Anne Powell. The tea tables were beautifully decorated with roses arranged by Mrs. Ferguson.

The floral decoration of the auditorium were arranged by Mrs. G. Cameron, R. Morton of the Department of Agriculture was the judge. Mrs. A. Dennison was responsible for the publicity and her help is gratefully asknowledged.

Commended For Reporting Fires

Several Digby County residents have received letters of commendation for their prompt action in reporting fires this spring to Department of Lands and Forests field staff.

In the letters, Gordon R. Maybee, co-ordinator of operations for the department, states "we in the Department of Lands and Forests must depend to a large extent on the general public to give assistance in both the detection and supression of forest fires".

Residents who have received letters to date are Mrs. Betty Lou Pictou, Bear River;; Robert Ellis, Jr., Digby; Mrs. Murray Bunker, R.R. #1, Sandy Cove; William Walker, R.R. #4, Digby, and Mrs. Lawrence Graham, Lake Midway.

Annual Memorial At North Range

Bright sunshine and soft breezes greeted the worshipers on Sunday afternoon, August 6, as they gathered at the little grey Methodist Church at North Range to participate in the annual Memorial service. A profusion of roses and Queen of the Meadow adorned the chancel rail making an attractive setting for the service. A feeling of awe seemed to pervade the little building as the Weymouth Falls choir sang impressively, "Precious Memories" and when the Saints Go Marching In".

Arnold Marshall of the Men's Christian Fellowship conducted the well atended service and introduced the special musical numbers presented by the choir and by a trio made up by Mrs. Irean Bain, Miss Brenda Bacon and Scott Haight, who accompanied them with the guitar. A duet, Its Supper Time was beautifully rendered by Mr. Haight and daughter, Donna Lee.

The speaker for the occasion, Rev. Floyd Gale, of Dartmouth, delivered a challenging message to the overflowing house.

Friends and relatives of the departed members of the old Methodist Church came from far and near to have a part in this yearly memorial service.

The offering and other contributions amounted to well over $200.00. This will be used for upkeep of the adjoining cemetery. Mrs. Florence Bacon of Barton had charge of the day's arrangements.

Message From President

I would like to thank at this time all the exhibitors and spectators who last year made our exhibition a most successful one.

An exhibition of this type should draw together the people of Digby County in a friendly competitive spirit and develop a co-operative feeling throughout the county.

A great deal of hard work goes into an event like this to make it possible, so it is my wish that a large attendance will be on hand so we can again say this has been a most successful exhibition.

It is indeed a great pleasure to extend a warm welcome to everyone who comes and supports the annual event.

LeRoy Warner

In Readiness

According to LeRoy Warner, president of the Digby County Exhibition, everything is in readiness for the big event to begin on August 23. Included in this issue of The Digby Courier is the program for the entire four days. Perry Freeman, who has been in charge of entertainment has provided something for all times and all ages and capable cooks have provided plenty to satisfy the hunger of all those who spend the entire day on the grounds.

4-H Trophy

The Digby County Exhibition opens its doors again with a 4-H Day. Again a trophy will be awarded for best display with Clare Hog Shipping Club as donors. Quality of work and attractiveness of display will be considered.

Mrs Switzer Presides

The monthly meeting of the W.M.S. Bear River, was held in the vestry, August 3. Mrs. Violet Switzer acted as president. The devotional period was led by Mrs. Neva Rice. Mrs. Laura Ruggles read a poem "If We Only Knew". The Scripture was taken from Samuel 11:17:23 with Spiritual Life reading by Mrs. Rice. Prayers were offered by Mrs. Joyce Porter, Mrs. Vera McCormick, Mrs. Laura Ruggles and Mrs. Violet Switzer. The members responded to their names by a verse of scripture with the word, "Praise" in it.

During the business period the Baby Band picnic was discussed and seven new members were added. September meeting to be held in vestry.

Mrs. Nadine Parker had charge of the programe which was - A poem," Things Just Don't Happen". An interesting article was read about a young Russian Communist who persecuted the Christians and was won to Christianity by the faithful witness of the ones he persecuted. Meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Carlene Porter.

Sunday School Picnic

The annual Sunday School picnic of the Bear River Baptist Church was held at the Johnson Christian Camp. Transporation being provided by a truck owned by George VanTassell.

After arriving at the camp the group went for a swim and various interesting games, races and scrambles were held. Pastor Donald Switzer and Elmer Porter were in charge of these activities. The ball game was organized by Mr. and Mrs. Dave Banks.

Several more families joined the group at the camp for supper and the evening. Supper was served picnic style by the ladies of the group.

An outdoor chapel service was held in the early evening for all to enjoy. A Gospel hymn - sing and testimony time was held and conducted by Pastor Switzer who also read a true story of the coming of Jesus into the heart and life of a business man.

The day closed on a note of Christian fellowship as all returned to their homes.

Several of the Bear River Baptist Young People have attended "The Truth for Youth" Bible Camp held at Lower Blomidon, N. S. During the first week of Junior Camp Misses Terri Taylor, and Gladdy Milbury attended. During Teen Camp those attending were Debbie Taylor, Peggy Benson, Kim Owen, Debbie Switzer and Debbie Freeman of Conway. Those attending a second week of Junior Camp are David Switzer and Terry Porter.

ANSWER THE PASTOR

Que. Why are there so many interpretations of gospel truths that do not agree?

Answer: Jesus said not knowing the scriptures ye do err! We might also add, not knowing or understanding the King's English ye do err. The following list gives a number of false statements that do not agree with the Holy Bible (K.J.V.). In months to come the Lord willing each statement by No. will be compared to the Holy Scriptures for errors. Please clip out this insert if interested. Each statement is false.

1. The earth came from the explosion of a gigantic ball of gas.
2. No mention of evolution in the Bible.
3. God planned children to be born in Eden.
4. Cain married a prehistoric woman.
5. Noah could not escape from the ark.
6. Nimrod the mighty hunter was evil.
7. Lot was evil.
8. The soul of Rachel went into the grave with her.
9. Saul and the witch, a parable.
10. British Israel, descendants of Zedekiah's daughter.
11. 70th week of Daniel still to come.
12. The soul after death is not in existance.
13. Man started in a STONE AGE.
14. HELL a hole in the ground.
15. HELL FIRE a fable.
16. SOULS after the cross go direct to HEAVEN.
17. 144,000 only, rise in the resurrection.
18. Jesus does not reign on the earth in person in the kingdom on this earth.

Upgrading Centre

Work has been going on during the summer upgrading the facilities at the Weymouth Falls Community Centre. Recreation facilities such as swings, teeters, ball facilities and track fields have been constructed.

Approximately 30 students from the Weymouth Falls area have been involved in the improvement process this summer, working on a federal grant of $16,000 as an Opportunity For Youth grant. This is one of the largest grants given in Western Nova Scotia.

Sometimes A Great Notion

• A family of independent loggers in a Oregan community refuses to participate in a local strike action, the big lumber companies, and deep economic depression in the town is catastrophic. In Panavision and Color. The review is very good. Adult entertainment.

Snow Queen

This picture is a release from Universal and is a full length feature cartoon in Eastman Colour. Miracle Magical Musical Entertainment for all ages of the heart! It is a wonderful animated picture for children. Prologue starring Art Linkletter.

Young Graduates

This is a columbia release. Stars: Patricia Wymer, Marly Halliday, This is a contemporary young adult film. Restricted. In color.

Pocket Money

This picture is an outdoor comedy and is adult entertainment. A First Artists production, and is a contemporary western. Stars; Paul Newman, Lee Marvin, Strother Martin. Orginal (Novel): A cattleman, down on his luck, is sent to Mexico to buy rodeo bulls for a shady entrepreneur. In Mexico, he enlists the aid of an old friend whose dree-wheeling, fast-talkaig style lands the cattleman in jail. In color. This picture was released in February 1972.

Diary Of A Mad Housewife

This is a Universal release and is a comedy-drama. In despair over her phony, social-climbing husband, two obnoxious little daughters and her superficial social life, a New York housewife has an affair with a writer, only to discover that he is a sadistic, egotistical boor. Carrie Snodgress, Richard Benjamin, Frank Langella. The review is good on this movie. Restricted.

North Range

Sunday night with their son, David and family at Berwick, en route to Halifax where Mr. Thomas will enter the Victoria General Hospital for observation.

Rev. Alfred Barker, Point Clair, Quebec, is spending a vacation at the summer home of John E. Andrews.

Deacon Cyril Middleton, Weymouth Falls, conducted the Worship Service at the Baptist Church on Sunday Morning. He was assisted by Rev. Alfred Barker who gave the invocation and benediction; and by Kenneth Wagner who read the scripture lesson. Mr. and Mrs. Middleton were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bragg.

Friends will be pleased to hear that Charles Bragg of Lawrencetown is receiving satisfactorily in the Soldiers Memorial Hospital, Middleton, following a heart attack at his home two weeks ago. He formerly resided in North Range.

Cherry Blossom Chapter No. 46, Order the Eastern Star, met in the Masonic Temple in Bear River for their July meeting with the Worthy Matron Sister Verna Paul and the Worthy Patron Brother, Kenneth Paul, presiding.

The Chapter was honoured by the presence of our Worthy Grand Matron, Sister Sarah J. Doty; our Worthy Grand Patron, Brother Charles H. Thompson; Past Grand Matron, Sister Leah Cohn; Past Grand Patron, Brother Winthrop Doty; Associate Grand Conductress, Sister Jessie Levy; Grand Chaplain, Sister Dorothy Wuksman; District Deputy Grand Matron, Sister Irene Liggins; Grand Committee Members, Sisters Thomasine Breen and Sister Dorothy Miller; and Sister Emma Balser, Grand Rep. of New York; Worthy Matrons, Sisters Lillian Crosby of Keystone Chapter No. 55, and Marjorie Cranton of Port Royal Chapter No. 1; and Brother Walter Milo, Worthy Patron of Port Royal No. 1.

A very warm welcome was extended to our guests by Sister Verna. The response from each in turn expressed the feeling of friendliness and gracious hospitality shown them by the members of Cherry Blossom.

A brief resume of the Grand Chapter Session held at Bridgewater in July was given by Sister Emma, expressing, in her own opinion, what she considered were the highlights of the Session. Mention was made of the presentation of a cheque for $3,700 by Mrs. James Bayers, immediate Past Grand Matron, to Vernon Toole, potentate of Philae Temple, to be used in the transportation of crippled children to the Shriner's Hospital, Montreal. She reminded the Chapter that our contribution was helping in this worthy cause.

Sister Emma also commended those in charge of decorating the assembly hall which depicted the close fraternal ties between the Eastern Stars and Masonic Brothers; with General Grand Chapters, the Most Worthy Grand Matron's special project of which was Light a Candle for Cancer; and with Philae Temple, Ancient Order Nobles of Mystic Shrine, the recipients of the cheque representing Sister Ada Bayers' special project for the past year.

She also praised the Housing Committee for the excellent accomodations arranged for herself and for her retinue, Sister Jacqueline Alexander of New York, and Mrs. Alexander's family, and for all visitors and delegates.

Sister Dorothy Miller, newly appointed chairman of the Education Committee of Grand Chapter, approached the East and in her gracious manner, expressed her appreciation and the appreciation of the chapter as a whole, to W.M., Sister Verna and W.P., Brother Ken for the spirit of fraternal friendship shown by their many visits to other Chapters in Nova Scotia. She presented them with a gift, a small contribution for the honour which she felt they were bringing to our Chapter.

The Chapter now closed in due form and all retired for a time of socializing and refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Ramsay, Carolyn and David of Dartmouth N. S., spent the weekend with Mrs. Ramsay's parents Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Rice Recent guests at the same home were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Higgins of Arlington, Mass., with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cossar of Port Maitland, N. S.

VOLUME XCIX, NO. 2

DIGBY COUNTY EXHIBITION NOW ON

Digby County Exhibition got away to a good start on Wednesday at Bear River under blue skies and sunshine which brought out as good a crowd as might be expected on the first day. Judging of many entries still went on until late Wednesday afternoon.

In the evening Dr. Stanley Curtis of the Department of Agriculture officially opened the exhibition during a program arranged by LeRoy Warner and presided over by Allison Denton.

Other items Wednesday evening included the Junior Tractor Tilt 14-20, folk singing and country music. The entire day had been given to 4-H program.

There were two exhibitors less in 1972 than in 1971 but the number of entries were the same, 989. The most increase in entries was in fancy work while cooking was down somewhat and fruit entries were definitely down.

Mrs. William Deveau of Clare was judge for the fancy work and Mrs. Allison Pierce, Kingston was judge for cooking. In the cooking, Miss Helen Woodworth had 33 entries in which she won 25 first and five specials.

The flower booth looked attractive with its arrangements and bouquets all marked with first, second and thirds by attractive seals. These also vividly displayed flowers of quality and effort. The best arrangement was entered by the Bank of Canada, Digby, the most outstanding exhibit by Hill n' dale.

Sheep judging was completed on Wednesday afternoon with LeRoy Warner getting the grand champion ram (Kerry Hill), the grand champion ewe (K. H.), the reserve champion, Leicester ram and the reserve champion Leicester ewe.

Others winners announced were Dairy cow, three years and up, reserve and grand champion, Cameron Johnson, Bear River; Charlois cow, one year old heifer, grand champion, Cameron Johnson, Bear River; Grade Hereford, reserve champion, Buzz Trimper, Grand champion, John Alcorn; Grade Shorthorn, reserve and g. c., Earl Morrell, Digby; Leary draft horses, r and g. c., Jack Connell, Granville and medium draft horses, r and g. c. Harvey Dukeshire, Clementsvale.

On Friday evening there will be a presentation of trophies by the Cherry Carnival Queen.

The program at the Digby County Exhibition continues today with judging of bred stock, working oxen, poultry and pets. There will be livestock parader, ox hauls with ladies and amateurs, gymnastics, tractor tilts and singer Billy Whalan.

On Friday there is the free-for-all horse pull, horse show ox haul, pony pull, chariot races, dancers Terry Lahnes will be featured in music.

On Saturday the exhibition closes with the 9:30 p.m. chariot races after a day of pony and ox pulls, livestock parade and pipe band.

Dinners and suppers are served through the entire exhibition.

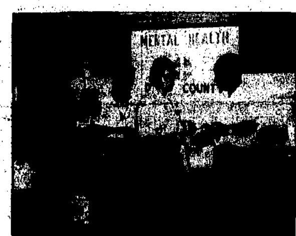
Straining under a 8100 pound load, the oxen of Roland Hurlburt, Beaver River, demonstrated their strength at the Digby County Exhibition in Bear River on Wednesday.



One of the educational booths at the 1972 Digby County Exhibition is that of Mental Health, Digby. Above Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Cardoza explain to tourists the Mental Health program carried out in Nova Scotia and Digby in particular. Left to right are Mrs. Cardoza; Mrs. Siyeta Baron of New York; Betty Levin, Cambridge, Mass., and Mr. Cardoza.

Brush Cutting Employment For Clam Diggers

The Hon. Peter Nicholson announced on Tuesday that approximately two months work would be available for 100 of the unemployed clam diggers in the Annapolis, Digby and Clare areas. This unemployment will be in the form of special roadside brush cutting.

This temporary employment offered to the clam diggers who were thrown out of work when the Federal Government closed down contaminated clam beds, was agreed upon following discussions with Joseph Casey, MLA Digby and Hon. Garnet Brown, Highways Minister.

The brush-cutting program will be conducted by the highways department and will be focused on rural roads in the tri-county area.

The statement said the temporary employment program is expected to ease the financial blow to the families involved, and to provide a beneficial service in trimming and cutting brush which reduces visibility on rural roads as it reaches full growth at the end of the summer season.

The program is starting immediately and will continue until the end of October.

Old St. Edwards Holds Memorial

On Sunday the annual memorial service was held at 3 p.m. in St. Edward's Anglician Church, when local residents and visitors paid tribute to their ancestors for their part in the history of Annapolis Valley.

Rev. D. D. M. Sharp conducted the service and Rev. A. F. Sheward of Musquodoboit Harbor was guest speaker.

Ferry Delayed

The Princess of Acadia Ferry from Saint John, N. B., to Digby was delayed in her 7:30 docking on Tuesday evening. It is understood that troubles were experienced with the bow thrusts and the ship had to circle before attemping to dock.

Unveils Plaque At Weymouth Falls

Weymouth Falls honoured two of their native people on Saturday afternoon, when plaques were unveiled for the late Sam Langford and the late Irma Jarvis, in the Weymouth Falls Community Centre. Reg. Richardson and Alex Nickerson of Halifax unveiled the plaque for Sam Langford — which read:

"History watches hands, not lips."
In memory of
SAM LANGFORD
Seventh ranked heavyweight Boxer of all times.
Internationally hailed the "uncrowned champion" of the world.
BORN WEYMOUTH, NOVA SCOTIA
March 4, 1883
Died Boston, Massachusetts
January 12, 1956
A gentleman of proven skill and courage in the boxing ring, he maintained this courage during his later years of adversity.

Reg. Richardson, who founded the plan for having the plaque in memory of Sam Langford, thanked all who had helped, especially Mrs. Doris Jarvis, whose untiring efforts had finalized the plan. Mr. Richardson's father, spoke of having known the great Sam Langford. He said that he had followed boxing since he was 13 years of age, and said that Sam Langford was one of the best — whenever Sam hit them — they fell.

Joseph Casey, MLA, said in his remarks that this was a great occasion, and that proper recognition should have been shown years ago. He said that as a young man, Sam Langford's name was a household word in their home.

Warden Ronald Morehouse said that he was honoured to share in one of the greatest events in the community. He believed these were the first to be so honoured in the area and felt that more people who work for the betterment of a church and community, should be honoured more frequently.

One of the highlights of the afternoon was a visit from Dave Downey, nephew of Sam Langford, and one of the foremost boxers in Nova Scotia. He said he hoped he could follow in Sam's footsteps. His manager, Murray Langford stated that if Dave kept at it, as he was now —

Above left is Reginald Richardson, Windsor and right Alec Nickerson, editor of the Mail Star, who unveiled the plaque at Weymouth Falls on Saturday in memory of Sam Langford who was a noted figure in the boxing world. Mr. Langford had been a native of Weymouth Falls and the community centre where the plaque was hung had been the Sam Langford School.

Legion Awards Presented

Alvin Deveau, Belliveau Cove, new No. 11 Zone Commander and Eugene Outhouse, Tiverton, retiring Zone Commander were present at the regular meeting of Digby Branch Canadian Legion No. 20 on Thursday evening when special awards were presented to Ralph Wright and CKDY radio station. Jerry Campbell, president presided and extended a welcome to the guests after a minute silence in memory of fallen comrades.

The application of Ernest Ryer for membership in Branch 20 was accepted and Mr. Ryer, escorted to the platform by Sergeant at Arms, Lloyd Durling, was installed by Mr. Campbell assisted by Joseph Curry who explained the symbols and Joseph Tanner who reviewed the purpose and objectives.

The CKDY media award was presented to Leigh Everett on behalf the station by Eugene Outhouse in grateful recognition of valuable assistance to the Royal Canadian Legion program by CKDY.

Ralph Wright was presented a meritorious award by retiring zone commander, Eugene Outhouse, in recognition of his long length of service to others. Mr. Wright, in his reply said he would wear the award for the people for it really belonged to those who had given so much service.

The Branch by regular motion accepted a metal flag pole donated by the town for their new Legion Hall and presented on Thursday by Mayor Glen Smith. Mr. Smith commended the Legion for the leading role they play in town, especially in youth activities, for their initiative in erecting a new building and he congratulated the award winners.

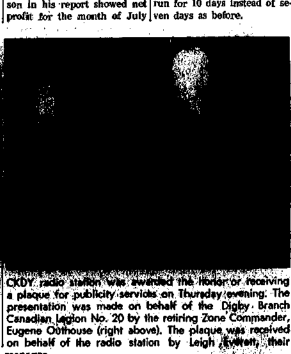
Reports showed much activity in youth groups where Track and Field teams hockey, baseball and basketball to the extent of $400 were sponsored among High School students and trophies presented to Little League Hockey to the extent of $50. Miss Stella Robertson had been sponsored by the Digby Branch to take a leadership training course.

The treasurer, Carl Melanson in his report showed net profit for the month of July to be $924 and the Poppy Account to have a balance of $156. Correspondance showed $200 had been donated to the Camp Hill Veterans Hospital. Bingo report was given by Guy VanTassell. Work on the Legion Hall grounds are expected to be complete by Spring.

Mr. Outhouse remarked on the advancement made by the Digby Legion during his 25 year term as Zone Commander. About ten or fifteen, he said, attended a meeting in the building at the Canon Bank on Maiden Lane. He referred to the advancement made in securing such fine hall facilities.

Mr. Outhouse announced that the Poppy Sale would run for 10 days instead of seven days as before.

The Digby Branch Canadian Legion on Thursday evening honored Ralph Wright with a meritorious award. The presentation was made by retiring Zone 11 Commander, Eugene Outhouse. In the picture seated is the new Zone Commander, Alvin Deveau, Belliveau Cove; standing (left) Mr. Wright and (right) Mr. Outhouse.



CKDY radio station was awarded the honor of receiving a plaque for publicity services on Thursday evening. The presentation was made on behalf of the Digby Branch Canadian Legion No. 20 by the retiring Zone Commander, Eugene Outhouse (right above). The plaque was received on behalf of the radio station by Leigh Everett, their manager.

Connors Takes Over

Colonel T. E. Connors took over the command of Canadian Forces Base Cornwallis Thursday afternoon, August 17, at official and graduation ceremonies.

Capt. Connors saluted his first march past during the afternoon as he took over officially as base commander.

Earlier in the afternoon Captain (N) H.R. Tilley, CD Capt. inspected graduating class, course no. 7222, saluted the march past of the candidates for the last time, and stepped aside as Commanding Officer of CFB Cornwallis, in his farewell address.

Capt. Tilley paid tribute to CFB Cornwallis and the men and women under his command to the personal of the base and families and guests at the ceremony.

Capt. Connors expressed his own pleasure at returning to CFB Cornwallis, where he had trained, this time as base commander.

He had been stationed at Canadian Forces Headquarters in Ottawa prior to his posting here.

Capt. Tilley takes up a posting at OFHQ in Ottawa.

At the reception, Mayor Glen Smith presented Captain Tilley with a set of book ends on behalf of himself, the council and the citizens of Digby and he expressed special thanks to Captain Tilley for everything he had done for the betterment of the town. Captain Tilley expressed great joy in having associated with the people of Digby.

Raise $100 At Afternoon Tea

The home of Mr. and Mrs. McLeod Rogers, First Avenue was beautifully adorned with summer flowers when an afternoon tea on Tuesday brought in a sum of $100 for the benefit of the Admiral Digby Historical Society. Floral arrangements were by Mrs. H. M. Warne.

Visitors were received by Mrs. V. G. Cardoza, Mrs. Ian Anderson while Mrs. A. J. Dillon and Mrs. George Winfield poured for the first hour and Mrs. Harold Emmerson and Mrs. H. B. Warren for the second hour.

Serving the guests were four young girls, Miss Ann Rogers, daughter of the hostess; Miss Sharon George; Phillippa Kirby and Heather Dyas.

Others who assisted Mrs. Rogers were Miss Marjorie Tupper, Miss Mary Marshall, Mrs. Kenneth Harris, Mrs. Warne, Mrs. Webster Dunn, Mrs. Hyson Sutherland and Miss Louise Daley.

Victims Of Vandals

On more than one occasion, Frost's Irving Station, Bear River has recently been vandalized causing hundreds of dollars damage in Bear River's Down Town section. At Frost's, gas pumps were ripped off foundations and the door to the pit broken. On another occasion two windows were broken in and a 1964 Buick car was burned. The car, it is understood, belongs to Arnold Banks.

Some $150 damage was done to the wall of Bear River Home Furnishings and at the Bear River Drug Store, window frames were broken as were also windows broken in Sanford's Meat Market. While of no consequent damage, the building of Bernard Fraser's was attacked, also cars parked near the taxi stand of Arnold Francis.

Former Sandy Cove Man Honoured

County Court Judge, K. L. Crowell was honored on August 16 at Annapolis Royal when his portrait was unveiled and will hang in the Court House within the town. Judge Crowell retired after serving on the County Court Bench for 24 years. Family, friends and collagues gathered for the unveiling of the portrait.

Mr. Crowell was born in Sandy Cove, Digby Co., into a family whose occupation followed the sea. He served in World War 1 and later studied law at McGill and Dalhousie Universities. He took up practice in Bridgetown where he still resides with his wife, the former Harriette Anderson.

The functions at the unveiling were presided over by Warden Malcolm Balcom and Judge Hanson Dowell introduced Mr. Crowell and remarked on his career.

Guests at the ceremony were entertained at the Ope... ell's Cottage, Clementsport.

— ABOUT THIS AND THAT —

Thankless Job

Whether or not the small remuneration recently granted will entice more citizens of Digby to seek nomination for a seat on town council is not known as this is being written. Nominations have not begun at point of writing and since a seat on town council has always been a thankless job, we doubt if $500 a year is going to entice too many to throw their hats in the ring. Count up the hours of service, the out-of-pocket money for gas to arrive at all the meetings and other small expenditures and we doubt if town councillors will be reaching the "minimum hourly wage" at $500 a year.

No, those who go in for service on town council must have a higher motive than seeking praise or looking for thanks or much remuneration. Serving on town council remains in general a thankless job except in the sense of the councillor's own satisfaction that he or she has given the best possible service under existing circumstances. Then he graciously accepts the appreciation expressed by the few. Without meaning to discourage any candidate this is generally the reward.

Considerable interest has been shown in Digby town council affairs recently engendered, we believe by the Digby Board of Trade. Their idea of having representatives from the Trade Board visit Digby Town Council in order to keep abreast of the activity is a good one. Both bodies are representatives of the people and it is well that each knows what the other is thinking in order to avoid duplication and to facilitate successful conclusions to projects planned. The Town Council is the proper place to hear the facts and thereby come to understand without a biased or distorted viewpoint. Councillors, we are sure, welcome this interest when meant to be helpful and constructive and in no way hampers the council members from freely expressing their own views in necessary discussion on matters at hand.

Town councillors, no matter who they are, cannot be perfect anymore than the ordinary person who resides in the town can be perfect. Mistakes have been made and will be made again. Nevertheless, it is right and well to appreciate the best efforts of any council so that the town will not fear the disaster of "no town fathers." At best, with some remuneration, it remains a thankless job, only for those whose chief concern is the best interest of the town in which he lives. As we go on the street on Thursday we hope to report that a number of these concerned persons have been found.

Look Before You Leap

In an editorial "Reins of Caution" in the Chronicle-Herald on Tuesday the paper added its own caution to others regarding putting in deep water ports and such like to the expense of coveted shorelines and the like. They commended Premier Gerald Regan for expressing his caution by saying to officials of Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, Baltimore and Ohio and Western Maryland Railroad who toured the South Shore and saw the superlative waters in Nova Scotia for deep water ports" we must make sure any development must be compatible with residential areas." The shoreline and residents might refer to another industry or plant in some other instances.

What is true of all Nova Scotia is true of Digby and area and certainly none wants to stand in the way of progress; one wants to see greater opportunities for employment and brand new spots in the economy but most of us have also seen the folly of "jumping" into new and exciting things while the old, tried and true are left to wither and die or the new project simply bursts like a bubble and is gone, leaving the place the poorer for its having come. Digby area has had its share. All to often in the pride of adding another industry, or project, the whole situation is not thoroughly thought out. Will the new effect the old to its detriment? Does the economic potential afford the luxury of a second or third similar industry or did the potential indicator advise that one could survive with ease but two or more could exhaust the potential causing hardship for both or all. Speaking to a man on Saturday who had undergone an experience of this sort, he remarked "When a flea bites a dog, which one suffers most?" That was his consolation with his small business and it proved correct but he just might have been a lucky one.

The premier's caution in the above instance is a reminder for small towns and villages when they are faced with the question of progress. Will it really mean progress in the long run? Will the mechanism diminish employment so that make-shift jobs have to be sponsored. Will others be adversely effected in their operations? Will the accustomed "good way of life" become a missing quality?

Yes, with those in command of progress must always be the caution "Look Before You Leap."

We Wait Too Long

"We wait too late to honor those people who have given so much to the community" was an expression heard frequently on Saturday afternoon at the unveiling of plaques in memory of Sam Langford and Irma Jarvis at Weymouth Falls. In other words, we should be more ready than we are to observe merits of a person during this lifetime. This is very true but there is much to honoring a memory when a short span of life provides the honoring of the person while life is at its fullest. It is akin to the life still shedding its influence and the good works continuing to live after him.

The plaques unveiled on Saturday were deserving to the memory of two great persons, one who brought recognition to the area by boxing and one who "gave herself" for others in her devoted and capable teaching experience. Many have been the lives influenced by Irma Jarvis and the honoring of her memory will more than likely influence others to spend of themselves in a similar fashion. What higher service can you render.

Let us keep in mind this caution "we wait too late" mentioned several times on Saturday but we must certainly extend our admiration to those whose initiative brought about the memorial ceremonies on that day.

Letters To The Editor

Editor
Digby Courier
Digby, N. S.
Dear Madam:

We want to express our gratitude to a bunch of youngsters in Digby who have given us new confidence in upcoming generations.

Visiting friends in Digby, we misjudged a culvert going into our friends driveway and found our car hung up over a ditch.

Within a minute, two cars full of teen-agers saw our situation, stopped, jumped out of their cars and said, "We'll lift you out!"

In seconds they lifted up and pushed out my 2½ ton car, waved good-bye, and laughingly got into their cars and drove off.

Your Nova Scotia ambassadors are wonderful.

Gratefully
Phebe and Dick Tonseth

K of C Edge Kiwanis 13 - 12

In the first game of the Series "A" Quarter - Finals the Bates' coached K of C handed the Brown coached Kiwanis their first defeat of the season by the score of 13-12. Incidentally, this game was the first of a two out of three series and was played before a large and jubilant crowd. Both teams displayed excellent ball handing and base running, stolen bases were the order of the day. Kevin Locke stole home in the first and second innings for the K of C. The K of C won the toss and took the field to start the game. A single by Rodgers and a triple by Greg Skinner produced two runs for the Kiwanis in their half of the first inning. Paul LeBlanc opened the first inning. Paul LeBlanc opened the top of the first inning for the K of C with a home run to centerfield and a double by Danny LeBlanc and a triple by Kevin Locke combined with walks to Jamie Turnbull, Rusty Chute, Mark Hudson, Billy Robicheau accounted for five runs. The K of C added four runs in the second and two in the third to lead by the score of 11-6.

The Kiwanis came to the plate in the fifth trailing by the score of 11-6, Michael McClafferty was put on by a walk, Wamback drove a hard hit ball between first and second advancing McClafferty to second, Frank Jefferson was walked to load the bases than Locke walked in McClafferty when he issued a free pass to David Margolian, Paul Scott was called out on strikes, Rogers was hit by a pitch and Wamback scored, with the bases still loaded Greg Skinner came through with a long triple to centerfield scoring Jefferson, Margolian, and Rodgers, Brian Comeau got a double scoring Skinner than Rioux singled and with runners on second and third Locke struck-out K. McClafferty and Wamback to end the inning. The Kiwanis by virtue of their six runs in the fifth went ahead of the game 12-11. In the bottom of the fifth Comeau retired Turnbull and Chute by the struck-out route and had Locke fly out to the pitcher. In the top of the sixth Kiwanis were unable to score and the K of C came to bat in the bottom of the sixth trailing 12-11, Comeau proceeded to hit successive batters (Robicheau, Page) Paul LeBlanc beat out a slow hit ball to the pitcher thus loosding the bases, with a two and one count on him Jamie Walsh sent a fly ball into right field scoring Robicheau and Page to win the game by the score of 13-12 and was the hero of the game for the K of C. Pitchers Comeau and Locke turned in stellar performances on the mound.

LINE SCORE —

Kiwanis — 2 2 1 1 6 0
K of C — 5 4 2 0 0 2

Digby's Mike LeBlanc heads clear against Horton.

Horton Wins Summer Games

Horton defeated Digby and then Windsor to qualify for a provincial tournament. Bridgetown was eliminated by Windsor earlier in a close match. In spite of a very good first half, Digby's defense crumbled when it became necessary to replace a full-back with an additional forward to make an effort to overcome a 2-0 deficit. With more room to shoot, Horton fired seven unanswered goals in Digby's worst defeat in two years.

Lions Take First In Quarter Finals 7 - 6

In the first full nine inning game in the history of the Digby Little League the Firemen dropped a very close decision to the Lions by the score of 7-6. Coaches Cummings and Locke had their respective teams turn in outstanding performances in this contest, it had all the ear-marks of a Little World Series. Tied after regulation time(six innings) at 5-5 the Firemen opened the top of the ninth inning with Harvieux being walked and stealing second, third and finally home before Rioux retired the side strucking out Phillips, Riley and Mosher. In the bottom of the ninth the Lions combined two walks and a single to push across two runs, the winning run being scored by Slyvain Rioux when he stole home on a ball that got away from the catcher, this same lad had a home run, triple single and walk and scored four runs for his team. Harvieux, Riley and Mosher lead the batting attack for the Firemen. David Riley allowed seven hits, struck-out twenty and walked seven in going the full nine innings for the Firemen. Sylvain Rioux were the distance for the Lions he allowed six hits, struck-out fifteen and walked five in fashioning his win. Chris Theriault pulled off the outstanding catch of the game when he snagged a line drive off the bat of David Riley in the seventh inning, which was labelled for extra bases. The game was handled faultless by umpires Skinner and Smith. It was indeed an excellent game to win and a very heart breaking one to lose but someone has to lose (remember its the way one plays the game that counts).

Merchants Jump Into Lead By 19-1

In the Series "C" best of three, played on August 19th the Merchants slaughtered the Legion by the score of 19-1. This game from the beginning was no contest and was called after three innings(agreement of the coaches and umpires). Neverless, the Legion although outclassed never gave up and showed true sportsmanship, these same two teams will meet again on Friday, August 25th.

Kiwanis Even Series By Walloping K of C 23 - 4

Behind the brilliant five hit pitching of Greg Skinner and unleasing a fifteen hit attack the Brown coached Kiwanis downed an outclassed K of C by the score of 23-4 to even the best of three series at a game a piece. Among the fifteen hit attack were a grand slammer by Greg Skinner also a double, four doubles and a triple by Brian Comeau three singles and two walks by Clinton Boodoosingh added to this Kiwanis received a total of eighteen free passes. Both sides came up with exciting plays in the infield and on the bases. This game was not in the calibre of the last one when the K of C won 13-12. Frank Jefferson, David Margolian, C. Jeffrey and Greg MacDonald played well for the Kiwanis and combined for eight runs. Kevin Locke went four full innings for the K of C and had all twenty-three runs scored off him, his control was off and he issued a total of seventeen walks and fifteen hits. Kevin scored two of four runs his team got and had a single and triple in a losing cause. Danny LeBlanc took over in the fifth and in facing four batters, gave up a walk, struck-out two and had Rogers ground out from second to first. He contributed a triple and scored one run. Paul LeBlanc opened the game for the K of C with a long poke to right field which ended in a clean cut home run. These teams are more even than this score would indicate and on Monday, August 28th anything can happen: Line-ups: K of C — P. LeBlanc, 2b; J. Walsh 2b; K. Locke p & C; D. LeBlanc, M. Hudson 1b; R. Chute cf; B Robicheau lf; R. Kynock, M. Page ss; Kiwanis — P. Scott 1b; R. Rogers c; G. Skinner p; B. Comeau ss; J. Rioux 3b; F. Jefferson 2b; C. Boodoosingh cf; D. Margolian rf; C. Jeffrey lf; G. MacDonald lf.

Winning second prize in the Natal Day Children's Parade were Shaunde and Ricky Halliday for their Mod Marriage entry. In the rear is Bonnie Hutchins dressed for Miss Digby 1972. She won third prize.

Rose Bowl Returns

Digby golfers brought the Rose Bowl back to the home club when Lunenburg played a tournament here on August 13. Fifty men, seventeen juniors, and six ladies made up the competitive field, led by Don Fleet with a gross of 77. Coming in with low gross in second division was Fred Christenson also playing for Digby, and Linden Garvin carried the low gross honours for the juniors. The ladies' section was won by a Lunenburg golfer, Mrs. Nauss, with a low gross of 102.

Digby players also took the low net prizes: Don Brown with a 73, Bruce Hutchins, the second division winner with a six-below-par 64; O. Samad's 65 was low net for the juniors, and Mrs. Nauss, who had the best gross also had the best low net among the ladies.

All the golfers were supper guests of the Digby Pines Club members, who served a sumptious Chinese meal. Hosts and hostesses for the event were Mr. and Mrs. K. V. Young, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Snow, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Rice, Mrs. Woolaver, Mrs. Nickerson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wightman, Mr. and Mrs. Dove Daley.

On Tuesday, August 15, ladies day at the Golf Club, the members competed for the Robertson Trophy. This nine-hole, low net competition, was won by Joan Burnett; and Laura Nichols, the 1971 winner, was a close second. The putting competition on the same evening was tied by Mrs. Nichols and Mrs. Hutchins.

On Thursday evening, eighteen players turned out for the mixed two ball foursome, and for the first time this season the players felt the approach of autumn. All were glad to reach the nineteenth hole and the supper of hot casseroles served by the ladies. The combination of Fred Christenson and Helen Young tied for the win with Tom Cleveland and Joan Burnett. The course is still in excellent playing condition, and the new tee and direction markers are an attractive addition to the club area.

North Range Wins After Overtime At Digby

The North Range Bushwackers defeated Digby's Juniors on three goals by Chuck Cosman. This team has been self-organized and played in North Range, Johnston's Christian Park, Digby, and Cornwallis this summer winning most of their games. This game went into an overtime period and finally a penalty kick shoot-off won by the Bushwackers.

Osman Samad Wins Major Prize At Clare

Nine of Digby Pines Youngest Golfers competed this week at Clare G. C. in the Nova Scotia Juvenile Championships.

Osman Samad won Low Net with a sparkling 62.

Others players from Digby Pines - Randy Oliver, Darren Daley, Andrew Prescesky, Michael Lynch, Jamie Theriault, Mark Saunders and the O'Neil twins, Steve and Stuart.

Transportation was provided by Mary Lynch, Tom Mathieson and Jack Harris.

Julie MacIntosh Outstanding Valley Bantam

Julie MacIntosh has been the proud recipent of three trophies and seventeen ribbons for her participation in summer games. Her Latest feat was that of becoming the valley regions outstanding bantam with a collection of first in the 100, 200 and 400 metre event in the Nova Scotia Summer Games held at Dartmouth. Miss MacIntosh had also won trophies in Prince Edward Island and in Trenton, N. S.

Miss MacIntosh was chosen to represent the valley area in the summer games in Dartmouth at a regional track meet held at Bridgetown. Her Latest achievement being at the Nova Scotia Track and Field Event at the Nova Scotia Festival Sport, Dartmouth. Julie is looking forward to the Canada Games at a late time had also won trophies in her life.

Horton's Neil MacKenzie clears the ball against Windsor during Saturdays game. Horton won the tournament.

Soccer Team Wins At Cornwallis

The past week saw Digby win two more games against the Cornwallis Soccer Team. David Wong, Lindsay Peck, Don Haight, Rick Robbins and Jack Robinson scored Digby's markers.

A 2-1 victory on Monday featured accurate passing and good defense by the backs, Robert Dugas, Jim Drew and Tim Robicheau, a younger player whose fearless heading is proving valuable. Lindsay Peck's hard shot off a defender gave Digby a temporary lead until keeper Murray Baxter was caught out of position on a rebound that was back-heeled through to tie the game. Near the end, Jack Robinson broke away on a long pass and clinched the win for Digby.

RED CROSS means People Helping People

and of Randolph, Mass., and Miss Lydia Flarell of Briantree, Mass., are visiting the former's brother, Charles Howard and Mrs. Howard.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Outhouse accompanied Alfred Cann Jr. on a motor trip through the Ridge Road, the Haines Road and to the Fish and Game.

Each days session began Worship Time which featured scripture reading and thought-provoking Bible truths as explained by puppets, Happy and Scrappy operated by Rev. Robert Johnson. Choruses consisting of Are You A "C"? Turn Your Radio On, Singin' Songs Of Praise the theme song, We Worship God and many old favorites were enjoyed. Then followed prayer and class assembly.

After recess singing was enjoyed and Mr. Johnson thrilled teachers and students with his narration of the heart-warming story of "Yuji of Japan". Students then turned to handcraft projects.

The closing program featured the students singing hymns and reciting bible verses learned during the week. Psalm five was read by Vincent Outhouse of Intermediate class and his class mates read verses learned during the week.

Following the program a display of arts and handcrafts fashioned by students during the week were on display in the vestry of the church. A lunch was served the guests.

Out-of-town youngsters who are visiting in the area and attended VBS were from Dartmouth, Sandy Cove, St. Catherines Ont., Brampton Ont., Central Grove, Freeport and Mass., U.S.A.

Proceeds derived from the event are to be forwarded to Austria where a missionary station is being started.

Tiverton

Mrs. Barbara Moran and Mrs. Nellie Robbins spent Friday at the Lawrencetown Exhibition.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Robbins during August have been Mr. and Mrs. David McLean and son of Moores Mills, N. B.; Lt. and Mrs. Hilton Zutz (nee June Robbins) and children, Brenda and Brian, of Victoria, B. C. who were on transfer to Dartmouth, N. S. and Cpl. and Mrs. Lindsay Robbins and children, Mark and Shannon of Fredericton, N. B.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Campbell and children of Blacks Harbor, N. B. recently visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Leeman.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Edwards, U.S.A., and family are visiting relatives and friends while camping on their recently acquired property in the area.

Ralph Wagner of Plymouth, Maine spent several days with his cousin, Mrs. Ella Sollows last week. From the visit they derived both pleasure and disappointment. Pleasure in that they had not seen each other in quite a number of years and disappointment that because of ill health Mrs. Sollows was unable to accept his invitation to accompany him on his return to U.S. Nostalgic memories were created for Mr. Wagner when he accompanied a young friend on a ride in a jeep. Said this 75 year old gentlemen, "Riding the jeep brings back memories of my army life during the world war I. My buddy and I drove one all over the place."

Mrs. Mary Munroe, Digby called at the home of Mrs. John Outhouse and family Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Howard of Randolph, Mass., and Miss Lydia Flarell of Briantree, Mass., are visiting the former's brother, Charles Howard and Mrs. Howard.

COME AS YOU ARE

IN MEMORIAM

HARRIS — In loving memory of my dear wife, Kathleen Mary who passed away Aug 24th 1969.
Though tears in my eyes do not glisten
And my face is not always sad
There is never a night or morning
But I think of the wife I had
Not a day do I forget you
In my heart you are always here
For I loved you and I miss you
As it ends three years to-day.
— Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by husband, Carleton. 2:1c

JOHNSON — In loving memory of a dear husband, Elmer Johnson who passed away August 31, 1963.
Nine years have passed since that sad day.
God called the one I loved away
Forget him, no I never will
As years go by, I miss him still.
— Always remembered and sadly missed by wife, Florence. 2:1c

HILL — In loving memory of my Dad, Percy Isaiah who passed away August 31, 1970.
Two tired eyes are sleeping,
Two willing hands are still,
For one who suffered too much,
Is resting in God's will.
— Always remembered by daughter, Florence and family. 1:1ip

HARRIS — In loving memory of a dear daughter, Kathleen Mary who passed away August 24, 1969.
There is always a dear face before me
A voice I would love to hear
A smile I will always remember
Of a daughter I loved so dear.
To me she was someone special
Someone set apart
Her memory will linger forever
Engraved within my heart.
— Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by mother, Florence Johnson. 2:1c

Kinsmen Start To Develop Park

The initial effort to develop a park was carried out on Saturday morning for the Digby Kinsmen when five of their members cleared brush on the property owned by the town between the jail and Church Street. It is understood most of the trees are being left standing and it is a matter of deciding which few to take down. The Kinsmen hope to have as much of the clearing done as possible before the winter's bad weather sets in. Already plans have been drawn up and these will be thoroughly checked before work advances. It is the hope of the Kinsmen to develop flower beds, erect benches and tables and to install a water fountain. Heads of the project are William McMillan and Larry Hicks.

Above Clifford Edwards unveils a plaque in memory of the late Irma Jarvis. The plaque was unveiled in the Weymouth Falls Community Centre which had been originally a school where Miss Jarvis had taught.

Inspector Clifford Edwards, who unveiled the plaque in memory of Irma Jarvis, said that this was a unique excitement to him. He looked back with pride and thankfulness for having known a person such as Irma Jarvis. Every generation, he said, has people who stand out with special ability. Irma had in her way, helped to raise the standards of the community. She was one of the first to participate in adult education in Weymouth Falls, — she was the first teacher in the Sam Langford School, having from 70 to 80 pupils from primary to grade 11. Half were taught in the morning, half in the afternoon. Miss Jarvis was a quiet person, he said, but strong, she carried weight in her community. She was the pillar foundation on which Weymouth Falls rests today. She gave of herself, to her community, her school and her church. Her life should be an inspiration to all.

THE PLAQUE READS:

In memory of

Irma Claudia Jarvis

First Principal of

The Sam Langford School

and

Community Worker

Born September 9, 1925 — Died March 1, 1952

Two women prominent at the unveiling of the Sam Langford plaque at Weymouth Falls on Saturday afternoon were Mrs. Charlotte Wade, daughter of the late Sam Langford, and Mrs. Ralph Jarvis who was in many ways responsible for bringing the acquiring of the plaque to a successful conclusion. Mr. Jarvis, president of the Weymouth Falls Community Council, welcomed the guests and Mrs. Jarvis was master of ceremonies.

UNVEILS

he could be one of our greatest boxers.

Mrs. Doris Jarvis introduced Mr. A. Savage, managing editor of the Chronicle-Herald. Mr. Savage had donated the beautiful plaque, and had encouraged her throughout the preparatory period. Other monies collected were used to bring Mrs. Charlotte Wade, Sam Langford's daughter, here from Cambridge, Mass., and the remainder will be put into a Sam Langford Trust Fund.

Mr. Reg. Nickerson paid high tribute to Sam Langford. He said he had met him at a match in New Jersey. Langford at that time, was blind, but could still call the shots — being directed by the footwork. Mr. Nickerson said that Langford weighed about 165 pounds, 5' 6" — waist 32" and a chest span of 46". He said at the height of his career, he was no doubt, the best fighter, pound for pound in the world.

Louis Comeau also gave a short talk, mentioning the fantastic work that was being done at Weymouth Falls. He offered a $500 scholarship to a student of that community, from St. Ann's College.

Mrs. Charlotte Wade thanked those present for the wonderful tribute they had paid to her father. Perhaps the highlight of the afternoon, was her presence at the unveiling.

Councillor Arthur Rice thanked all who had helped to make the occasion so successful, and the Rev. E. C. Irwin, before the benediction, spoke of the unique occasion this had been, and hoped that it would not be just a memory, but a force to keep the aims and ambitions high in the community.

Mr. Ralph Jarvis chaired the celebrations, and Harry Lewis gave the invocation, following the singing of O Canada.

St. Anne's Offers Scholarship

Louis R. Comeau, president of College Sainte-Anne announced here Saturday the college has offered a $500 scholarship to a student from Weymouth Falls community.

He made the announcement during the ceremony honoring Sam Langford, the boxing great, who was born in this community. Mr. Comeau said he hopes there will be several applicants for the award.

VBS Closing

A program and display of arts and handcrafts marked the closing of Vacation Bible School held in the Tiverton Christian Church under the direction of Rev. Robert Johnson.

"We Worship God" theme of a week of Bible study and christian fellowship shared between teachers and students of Vacation Bible School took them on a wonderful tour through the Garden of Eden, with Abraham; with Moses while leading God's people through the wilderness; with Paul and Silas who were in prison and with John, who, while in prison was given an inspirational, God-given account of Heaven for the purpose of recording it to give hope and comfort for those Christians who follow God's way on earth.

Teachers taking part in the various classes were, Nursery, Miss Roberta Caun; Mrs. Roberta Elliott, and Mrs. Janet Pyne; Kindergarten, Mrs. Elaine Outhouse and Mrs. Gail Sollows; Young Peoples Class, Rev. Robert Johnson and Mrs. Eva Outhouse; Boy's Primary, Mrs. Sheila Dixon and Intermediate, Miss Phyllis Hersey, Mrs. Verona Munroe and Mrs. Irene Outhouse.

Prizes awarded for best behaviour and for paying most attention in classes were captured by Randal Prime of Nursery, Angela Prime and Eldred Guier of Kindergarten, Tracy Leeman and his sister Shelly of Intermediate and Bill Adams of the Young Peoples Class.

In Nova Scotia's New York office at 45 Rockefeller Plaza, Department of Tourism staff members look over a stack of more than 1,000 inquiries which arrived over a two-da y period this week. As a result of an intensified advertising and publicity program mounted by the Department of Tourism, the number of inquiries is 25 per cent greater than this time last season. In addition, approximately 50 New Yorkers are visiting the Nova Scotia office daily. Shown are Department of Tourism personnel Mary C. Munroe, Linda Hyland, and Joan Kelly.

Latter Day Saints Hold Display

A pictorial display of beliefs of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Mormans) will be held at the Oddfellows' Hall, Mount Street, Digby, on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, August 29. According to Elder Steven Twiss and Elder David Thompson, this is a way of acquainting the general public with the beliefs and purposes of their religion. Musical numbers will be heard and a display of projects done by the local women's organization of the church will be shown.

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints meets each Sunday in the banquet room at the Fundy Restaurant. Approximately sixteen attend with five being official followers.

O.F.Y. Students Learn Pottery

The Digby Opportunities For Youth project will come to a close on Friday after eight weeks of drama, arts and crafts. Headed by Miss Rebecca Brown and other high school students the young children have been tought plays, skits, make-up and set design; the art of picture making, paper mache, jewellery, decorating glass bottles, etc. The Opportunities For Youth project entered two floats in the Digby Natal Day parade and were successful in receiving second prize for one.

Mr. Bryan above, found the group of students to be most capable and responsible in the clay project. They had learned how to prepare the clay and had made and dried several useful items.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bryan came to Canada in 1953. Mr. Bryan had been stationed at C.F.B. Cornwallis twice during his period in the Navy and had been also stationed at Dartmouth. Mr. Bryan was born in France and met his wife who is from England while serving in the Navy. they were much taken with the Granville Ferry area and eventually bought The Log Cabin Restaurant which has been turned into the Riverdale Pottery.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Kenney Jr., Westport, were together for the first time in five years, during the month of July. Those present were parents, Mr. Austin Denton Sr., Little River, Mrs. Kenney's father, and Mrs. D. B. Kenney Sr. Westport. Visiting for the summer months were daughters Mrs. Linden Thurber and children, Logan Lake, B. C., and Mrs. Gary Titus and girls, Winnipeg, Manitoba. Other children living in Westport are Nancy Swift, Kenny Graham and Danny Kenney and families.

Mr. Dan Fields, Weymouth, N. S., was present to photograph the family and grandchildren on July 18.

Bride-To-Be Honoured

A surprise bridal shower was held in honour of Miss Cheryl Titus of Brighton on Sunday evening Aug., 13th at the home of Mrs. Linda Connelly of Culloden. The evening was spent by making a Bride's Book and refreshments were served buffet style. The bride to be received many lovely and useful gifts.

Coffee Party At Bay View

Thursday, August 10, a coffee party was held on the lawn of Harold Emerson, Bay View when about 30 guests were entertained. A time of fellowship was enjoyed by all present including a number of children who played close by. The oldest guest present was Eryil Hoare who recently celebrated his 82nd birthday, while the youngest was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Dunphy. Punch, coffee and other goodies were served.

Recalls Visit

It was way down in California that Michael Ritkin met up with Archie MacElroy and happened to mention that he was to be in Bear River, Nova Scotia, Canada on a summer project. Right away Mr. MacElroy recalled his visit to the area in 1935 and the fish he caught. He remembered the story about it in The Digby Courier. He and his bride returned to the area in 1938 on their honeymoon when they stayed at the Casey's in Victoria Beach. Well, he remembered the picturesque Bear River.

Bear River Man Wins Bravery Award

Canadian Forces Headquarters, Ottawa, has awarded the Medal of Bravery to Tpr. Robert Lester Harris, Bear River, for his courageous action during an incident on December 15, 1966 in Rimouski, Quebec.

Part of the acknowledgement reads: "Tpr. Harris returned to a flaming, overturned truck loaded with exploding cans of gasoline to pull his co-driver to safety. Both were doused with gasoline and their clothes afire. After pushing his way through the truck's broken windshield Harris returned to the truck. With nothing to protect his hands, he pulled off his co-driver's outer clothes and beat out the flames burning his hands in the process."

The Medal of Bravery, one of Canada's new bravery decorations, is awarded to those exceptional people who run the risk of losing their own lives or sustaining injury in attempting to save the lives of others.

Chat From EMOH

Here we are again, with the weather certainly making our friends here receive the full benefit of the warm sunshine which has at long last arrived. Some sit in the garden, others in the verandah and our rhumatic friends lapping up this sunshine which beats all the medicines in the world.

The residents all had a wonderful view of the "Cherry Carnival" and enjoyed the activities very much. Those who could, walked among the many hundreds of people and so fully enjoyed every minute of this fine annual affair, when all committees do an excellent job in keeping this carnival an annual affair. It is most unfortunate there had to be a few staff changes, but this happens everywhere and at all times, but Emoh are happy and contented with good medical attendance supplied by Dr. Brennan. Should anyone be in doubt as to the owner and administrator, it is Rev. John Stokoe, and all correspondence or telephone calls should be addressed to Rev. Stokoe.

There has always been a guest book in the lounge, yet so few seem to know about it. The residents would be very happy if they would sign their names when visitors come to Emoh.

Recently a new carpet was laid in the diningroom and it is gay and light giving, this important room a wealth of warmth. Not too long ago the lounge also had a new carpet laid which is in excellent taste with the decor of the room. "August 1 will be the first anniversary of Emoh" and it is hopeful that friends and relatives will pop in for a wee visit. Much has happened in that one year and we all hope and pray that Emoh will continue to be a home to be proud of for many years to come in Bear River.

Rev. John Stokoe will be quite a busy man as he is at present doing quite a few necessary alterations. The residents and staff we know will give him their fullest cooperation as it is for their benefit.

A new toilet has already been attended to and new shelves downstairs in the cool room for the surplus canned goods so as one knows it all takes time but eventually Rev. Stokoe will accomplish what he has in mind. Lastly we wish all a very jolly summer.

Digby Town Council Election To Be Held September 12

Philip Robertson

Stewart MacNaughton

Atlee Cornwell

Three candidates had submitted their names by Tuesday 5 o'clock for Digby town councillor to be chosen by vote on September 12. The candidates are Philip Robertson, Stewart MacNaughton and Atlee Cornwell.

Philip Robertson was born in Port Mouton, Queens County and took his high school education in Yarmouth. He moved to Digby in 1948 where he worked for his father, Bruce Robertson, at the Canadian Tire Corporation store. In 1960 he went into partnership with his father and took over the business in 1968.

President of the Digby Hockey Club, Mr. Robertson is also a director of the Digby Recreation Commission. He enjoys golfing.

Married to the former Marilyn Denton of Little River, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson live on Montague Riw. They have six children.

Stewart Alfred MacNaughton P. Eng is a native of Stellarton, N. S., a graduate of Dalhousie University with a Science degree, Mr. MacNaughton subsequently graduated from N. S. Technical College with a B.E. in Electrical Engineering. He joined ALCAN as a project engineer in the Electrical Engineering Dept. at Arvida, P.Q., and in '62 returned to New Brunswick as Superintendent of the Electrical Dept. for Ocean Steel in Saint John. For the past eight years, and at present, he is Superintendent of the Digby County Power Board.

Since returning to Nova Scotia Mr. MacNaughton has been active in public and community affairs. He was Deputy Mayor of the Town of Digby, secretary and president of the local Kiwanis Club, Vice-Commodore of the Royal Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club (as well as official Ice Master). He was transferred as a member to APENS from APENB, and subsequently served as Zone Representative for Digby where he has been active in promoting Zone activities, especially in the Student Guidance field. At present he is Zone Rep. for Annapolis-Digby-Yarmouth.

Mr. MacNaughton, his wife and son, Douglas live in a picturesque home overlooking the beautiful Annapolis Basin on Montague Row.

His hobbies are gardening, sailing and curling.

If elected to council Mr. MacNaughton wants to see that all get a fair deal and things done on an equitable basis for everyone.

Atlee Cornwell was born at Smith's Cove in 1925 to the late Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cornwell. He lived and was educated in Smith's Cove until the age of 21 when he moved to Digby and studied bookkeeping and typing at St. Patrick's Business School.

He was employed with the Bay of Fundy Fish Co. Ltd for three years, the Digby Dairy for seven years and at MacDonald Motors Ltd. for 13 years.

Because of a physical handicap Mr. Cornwell has not entered sports but has as his hobby woodworking.

He served on the Board of Stewards of Grace United Church. Mrs. Cornwell was the former Annie Comeau and they have four children. They live on King Street.

EXHIBITION ATTENDANCE UP

Dr. Stanley Curtis, Professor of Animal Science at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College, Truro, on Wednesday officially opened the Digby County Exhibition which members of the Association and workers considered one of the most successful and best attended exhibitions in the county for some years. Dr. Curtis remarked on the number of improvements made at the exhibition grounds to which he had been coming for several years.

Dr. Curtis said that county fairs are images of the agriculture in the area and the exhibitions should be looked at in the light of what it can do for agriculture. He asked his audience to take a look at where the Digby County Exhibition fits in the image of agriculture in Nova Scotia and Canada. If you have not moved out, he said, then you have not the right image.

He commended the 4-H clubs who are part of the exhibition and part the community and add to the food stuff of Canada. Continuing, he remarked that everybody can't be big in everything so there is a difference in the size of farms. The question, he said, is what do we do with the small farms we have. County programs, he said, must fit in to the province program and be adjusted to fit in so that they can develop better and faster. Dr. Curtis was keen on promoting products in Nova Scotia.

The opening ceremonies were presided over by Al Denton and Dr. Curtis was introduced by President, LeRoy Warner, who extended a welcome to the 4-H clubs, guests and exhibitors. In a few words, he remarked that he had noticed a great lack of leadership from adults for the young people, who he said needed guidance and teaching if they are to be worthwhile farmers of the future. Dr. Curtis was thanked by Jack Harris, treasurer of the Exhibition association. Also on the platform was Mrs. Mary Darres.

In the heavy pony class Clarke Rowter came first with 1110 lb. pony hauling 4000 lbs. 3.60 percent; Sam Newcombe, 2nd, 1150 - 3600 - 3.13; Pat Daniels, 3rd 1110 3000 - 2.70.

Light pony 1st, Sonny Garnett, 960 - 3800 - 3.96; 2nd Franklin Salon 840 - 3200 - 3.79; 3rd Martin Sarty 965 - 3600 - 3.72.

Light pony (not over 1000 lbs.) 1st Franklin Jalsman, 840 - 3000 - 3.57; 2nd Sonny Garnett 960 - 3400 - 3.54; 3rd George Newcombe 800 - 2800 - 3.50.

In the double horse haul, first prize winner was Harvey Dukeshire of Clementsvale. His team, weighing 2,760 pounds, pulled 6,100 pounds for 2.21 per cent. Second place went to the team owned by Jack Connell of Granville. The team weighed 3,680 pounds and hauled 5,725 pounds for 1.53 per cent.

Grand championship in grade market cattle went to Ralph Connell of Bridgetown. Reserve award was won by Earl Morrell of Digby.

The Ken Sanford Memorial Trophy for the best beef steer, four years and under, was won by Mr. Connell.

Trophy for best dairy calf was won by Cameron Johnston of Bear River. Earl Morrell won the trophy for the grand champion Hereford bull. He also took the top award for the best beef heifer calf.

The trophy for grand champion Hereford female was won by Perry Freeman, Bear River.

Other winners in August 24th issue.

The first day's program featured 4-H Day with Herbert LeBlanc of Saulnierville taking top honors for the best handcraft exhibit. Roger Freeman of Bear River took the top awards as best allround calf member and top livestock judge. Gloria Morin of Bear River was winner as best homemaker judge and she also placed first in the homemakers section of 4-H.

The Hereford bull owned by Earl Morrell, Brighton, became grand champion at the Digby County Exhibition last week. Above is Mr. Morrell proudly displaying the bull as well as all the ribbons won by the bull and other entries.

Greg Longmire of Hillsburn was winner of the largest number of points in the showmanship and judging competition. The best allround woodworking award went to Conrad Doucet of Saint Bernard, and the Cloverleaf Club of Bear River took top honors in the 4-H club display.

Arnold Adams, Bear River won the senior tractor tilt, most vegetable points went to Rog Warner, Conway and the trophy for the best bird in the show went to Michael Warner of Bloomfield.

One of the most exciting items on the exhibition program was the ox-pulls teamed by women. So exciting was Thursday's haul that the women's feat was attempted again on Saturday. First place winner on Thursday was Joyce Hurlburt of Carleton. Her team, belonging to Roland Hurlburt, weighed 2,755 pounds and pulled 7,715 pounds for 2.80 per cent.

Second place went to the team owned by George Hall, Beaver River, driven by Agnes White. This team weighed 2,515 pounds and pulled 6,900 pounds for 2.74 per cent.

Third place winner was the team owned by Ernest Bent, Granville Ferry. This team, driven by Susan Bent, weighed 2,575 pounds and pulled 6,100 pounds for 2.37 per cent.

Another interesting haul was on Friday when the seniors or old timers' ox-haul contest was held and 72-year old Clifford Robbins of Smith Cove, Digby County came first.

Driving a team owned by George Hall of Beaver River and weighing 2,515 pounds Mr. Robbins pulled 6,700 pounds for 2.66 per cent.

Placing second in the old timers' ox haul was Fred Haight, 84, of Hill Grove. Driving Roland Hurlburt's team, weighting 2,755 pounds, Mr. Haight pulled 7,100 pounds for 2.57 per cent. Third place went to Hugh Sarty, 65, of Port Wade. Driving Ken Hebb's team, weighing 3,036 pounds, Mr. Sarty pulled 7,700 pounds for 2.53 per cent.

In the free-for-all horse pull, Wilfred Marshall of Kingston placed first. His team, weighing 2,780 pounds, pulled 8,100 pounds for 2.91 per cent. Second place went to Claude Lloyd of Waterville. His team, weighing 2,505 pounds, pulled 7,100 pounds for 2.83 per cent. Third place went to Harvey Dukeshire of Clementsvale. His team, weighing 2,760 pounds pulled 5,500 pounds for 1.99 per cent.

In the steer-pulling contest Ernest Bent's team from Granville, weighing 2,575 pounds pulled 6,900 pounds for 2.68 per cent. Ralph Connell's team from Bridgetown placed second. Weighing 2,700 pounds, this team pulled 4,500 pounds for 1.68 per cent. Third place went to Lawrence Hebb of Granville whose team, weighing 2,430 pounds, pulled 3,300 pounds for 1.33 per cent.

Blind Evangelist Speaks On Middle East

Dr. Alexander Marks, blind Jewish Evangelist of the American Board of Missions to the Jews, New York City. He will speak in the Baptist and the Advent Christian Churches Bear River on Sunday He was born in London, England in January 1910. Dr. Marks lost his sight while preaching in a large church in Canada about twenty-four years ago. In spite of blindness Dr. Marks travels thousands of miles each year with his German Shepherd guide dog.

The work of this blind evangelist is to bring the Gospel to the Jews and to attain a better understanding between Jew and Gentile.

Dr. Marks has visited the Middle East six times and relates events in that area to the Holy Scriptures. He teaches that there can be no political or military solution to the Middle East. Only divine intervention by the coming of Christ can bring peace.

Dr. Marks has recently returned from Northern Ireland where he was in the midst of bombings. He believes that only a strong British stand can bring order to Ulster.

Digby Firemen's Day Labor Day September, 4, 1972

Dear Friends:

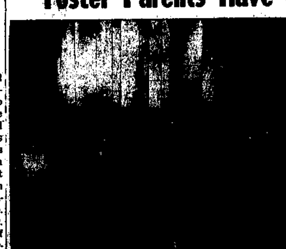
Once again another year has rolled around and it is time for our Annual Fair which we hope this year will be another improvement with some added attractions. As usual we will be operating our traditional " COUNTRY STORE" which has been popular and which depends on you for its success as we solicit such things as groceries or any item that can be used along this line to operate this booth with. WILL YOU SUPPORT US WITH YOUR DONATION THIS YEAR WHEN WE CALL AT YOU DOOR? WE certainly hope so and will be calling for your donation on AUGUST 31st in the evening and would appreciate you having your donations ready at that time. If you get missed call 245-4328 or leave it at the Fire Station.

Our efforts are again going toward our new fire hall which is needed more than ever and as you see, the first phase of this improvement has been completed. Work has started on the second phase and all funds will be earmarked for this project. To date we have spent approximately $16,000.00 on the first phase and collected donations of $3000.00 towards the building itself. We still have a long way to go so we say PLEASE help all you can.

See you on the evening of AUGUST 31st. Thank you.

Yours very truly,
Digby Firemen's Day

Foster Parents Have Conference



One of the most valuable and interesting parts of the Foster Parents Conference held in the Digby Legion Hall on Friday was a panel directed by Professor Reginald Allen Craig, Halifax with foster children as participants. The conference was sponsored by the child welfare division of the Digby district office of the Department of Public Welfare and was directed by Gerald Walsh.

Prior to the panel discussion Professor Craig was guest speaker and introduced by Robert McVeigh of the welfare department. He was thanked by Lucille Tufts of the Digby Welfare office.

Professor Craig emphasized the importance of children learning how to give love and affection and also how to receive love and affection. Some of the most important things in life are people getting along together, respecting each other, understanding each other and caring for one another. Children must know the meaning

Parents Protest Split Session

Irate parents of students attending Weymouth Consolidated School have been circulating a petition protesting the proposed split sessions at school whereby the total enrollment for the school can be accommodated pending the completion of the proposed extension. The chief objection voiced by the parents is that children of tender years have to be prepared to board the school buses at the early hour of 7 a.m. The parents, according to the petition, are prepared to keep their children from school unless different plans for the accommodation for students are made.

As a result of the petition a public meeting of [illegible] ers at Weymouth [illegible] 8:30 tonight. Mrs. [illegible] is chairman of [illegible] school board [illegible] sented to call [illegible] and give the [illegible] ortunity to [illegible]

— ABOUT THIS AND THAT —

Take A Hand In Safety

This issue of The Digby Courier has been given over in part to Child Safety or Back To School Safety and one motif in the advertisement shows a mother taking her five-year-old by the hand as she accompanies him to school on that first all-important day.

Yes, that first day is so important to the beginner whether mother takes his hand or if he travels the path alone. He is wrapped up in himself and his adventure. And not only is the beginner wrapped up in his adventure, so are the sixes, sevens and eights and on. They are so wrapped up in their return or start in school that they forget about cars and traffic. This is why the sponsors of the advertisements appeal to you to keep the children safe. This is why we ask you to Take A Hand In Safety during this first day of school and through the weeks ahead. One loss of life or one maimed child is one too many.

While motorists are urged to Take A Hand In Safety, we must remind our readers that we have a two-way street in more than one sense of the word. Not only has the motorist responsibility but so does the child. Here is where parents fit into the picture. Unless the parents Take A Hand In Safety, the children will not be aware of their responsibility. The rules of the road are simple. Take A Hand In Safety by teaching them and practicing them before the children.

School opens shortly after Labor Day in most areas. Watch that weekend. Will you have one of those children not return to or not start school at all. Or would you have him go motherless or fatherless or sisterless or brotherless. Take A Hand In Safety on the weekend too and cut down the highway accidents to nil if possible. Take A Hand in happy motoring on the Labor Day weekend.

Best Exhibition

There is still plenty of work to be done by the people in Digby County to make the Digby County Exhibition the best it can be but none will deny that the 1972 exhibition can be ranked possibly the best held for some time. Credit goes to all, the president from Bloomfield and Digby, the workers whom we must admit come mostly from Bear River, those who participated by entertainment or other skill, by entries and booths and those whose labor and ideas made so many notable physical improvements.

Congratulations are in order to all and we'd like to particularly mention a most successful entertainment. Never did we arrive at the grounds to find a dull moment. This will bring people back for the 1973 exhibition.

Hodge Podge

— Encouraged by the turn-out when The Right Honourable John Diefenbeker was invited to the Annapolis Valley, the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival committee has been brave enough to invite Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip to the 1973 festival at Windsor, N. S. Her majesty will be in P. E. I. for the province's centennial. —

— There must surely have been a prophecy about proof reading a newspaper which goes something like this: "And the last state shall be worse than the first." Maybe we had better eliminate proofreading and leave those simple mistakes. Corrected mistakes so often turn out to be bigger errors like "Miss Tupper is the Mrs. Burton Ellis and Mrs. George Winfield." Changing one name caused the disruption of a complete sentence, and the last state was worse than the first. —

— Mrs. Charlotte MacCraken of New Jersey passed through Digby on Tuesday and brought word on Wallis relatives, Aunt Hazel and Aunt Hilda, in Florida. It has been 15 years since Mrs. MacCracken visited Nova Scotia and she reported she saw many improvements. She found the country beautiful, the people friendly, accommodations and food both excellent and the highways good. —

Board met following the Board meeting to decide on a music teacher.

The treasurer of the Board of School Commissioners was authorized to set up a petty cash fund of $50 for Jack Riteoy, Supervisor of Curriculum for Digby Municipal and Town Elementary Schools to have available for frieght charges on supplies etc.

It was moved that $200.75 be paid to St. Patrick's Parish representing insurance on the St. Patrick's School which amount covers until October. Action was delayed on rental for the Trinity Anglican property used by the school for a play field in order to get information why the rent was increased from $200 per year to $350.

Bills to the amount of $2454 were passed for payment. The Board decided to pay twenty-per cent of the cost of staging equipment for cleaning and painting which had been ordered by the Digby Regional High School Board.

An amount between $25 and $50 was voted to help defray expenses at an Inservice Training Program to be held in Digby, October 5 and October 6. The program was designed by Inspector E. C. Edwards for teachers of Annapolis County and Digby district.

A new bus shelter and driveway to St. Patrick's School had been completed affording a greater measure of safety for the children. An air conditioner was installed in the elementary school on Queen St. and maintenance will be completed by school opening day, according to the supervisor's report. Wednesday, August 30 was set aside for the Board to visit the building or at the Board member's convenience.

It is expected that from 70 to 80 beginners will be attending school. While there was some confusion as to whether or not vaccination is necessary, it has been found that this ruling is still in force and children will be expected to be vaccinated as soon as possible.

A special course in drugs was submitted by Mr. MacInnis for consideration. It was decided to leave this in the hands of the school principal's for decision on its merits.

of love in order for them to grow in all ways to discover they are human beings and to discover who they are.

Concern and caring will result in meaningful messages from one person to another. Professor Craig said and remarked that a child cannot believe anyone cares if it seems that his parents do not care. Love, respect and caring, he said, are essential goods for childs growing up. It is important that foster parents know how to send out messages of love that children can believe.

The members of the panel were introduced by Donald LePurjey of the Department of Welfare, Annapolis Royal. Prior to the afternoon conference a luncheon was held when Captain Joseph Casey, MBA extended a welcome and stressed the importance of the foster parents to the children. The foster parents were entertained by two vocal selections by Father Albenie d'Entremont and Mrs. Gerald Walsh.

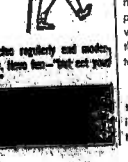
GUARD YOUR HEART



Keep fit

Exercise regularly and moderately. Have fun—"but eat your eggs."

Pickles, Pearls & Postcards

All the sneakers have holes in them. The soles of all the summer socks have a texture similar to mosquito netting. No matter what their original color, the seats and knees of all summer pants are green, and the fronts of all our shirts and dresses read like a chronology of berry ripening in the Maritimes.

I was pondering these facts as I ironed the other night, taking some comfort in the thought that the kids would soon be back to school, and that I would not have to replenish their summer wardrobe until next April, when the significance of this observation crashed on me. Within three weeks, the kids will be back to school, summer will be over, and the money I won't spend on sneakers and T-shirts will go on boots, jackets, mitts, scarves and long stockings.

Expenses for new clothing aside, I enjoy the oncoming of autumn. To me, Autumn, more than spring, signifies a new beginning, a time to renew human contacts, a new crack at life. Even the kids are aware of the transitional excitement of a new season. Before I was aware of the impending opening of school, they were devouring the fall catalogues, which arrived in July, planning their school wardrobes. If they live up to one-third of their resolutions about how they will conduct themselves in school next year, they should be model students. Last night, I heard the unprecedented suggestion that they might spend next week's allowance on school supplies.

Maybe, with the end of summer, and new inspirations, a certain sporadic column writer might get down to more regular production.

I heard a man, the other day, complaining about what a rotten summer we've had. To listen to him, one would think that July and August had been a succession of damp, cold days, during which the thick grey fog of morning only lifted to admit the fall of late afternoon rain.

Has the weather been bad? I hadn't noticed. We've had a great summer.

In May, a dream of ours came true, when we bought a Volkswagen camper. For a short time, it was the pride of the neighbourhood. People knocked at our door to ask to see it. We stopped total strangers who might be passing on the street to show them through. However, after about two weeks, our star lost its glow, when the next to next door neighbours got one of those $10,000.00 motor homes, complete with kitchen, full bathroom, and shower.

Undaunted, we put on a creditable display of one-downsmanship, declaring to all who would listen, that ours was a truly superior vehicle. At a modest cost, we had all our camping equipment contained in a space three feet shorter than the average car. What's more, ours was easy on gas, did not have to be stored in the winter, and, we pointed out, you can't take a motor home on house calls.

We took the camper on two "practise runs" in June, preparing for our vacation, the first one in two years, in July. The first one, to a camp ground outside of Yarmouth, was semi-successful. All five of us slept in the van, and although we were a bit crowded, we were reasonably insulated from the June chill outside. The kids, excited by their first night camping for the season, yapped until midnight.

The second expedition, to Merigomish Beach, had its problems. We took the tent, hoping to have more room. The kids bunked in the bus, and continued their babble from the previous trip. We adults took the tent. Father slept fitfully, emphasizing his wakeful periods with a bellow in the direction of the chattering children. I merely shivered. About dawn, I braved the cold long enough to put on his highness's sweater, and a pair of socks. I think I drifted off then, because I remember waking, up to a glorious symphony of bird song, which almost made shivering through the night worth while.

We must have got rid of some bugs with our preliminary sessions, because the real vacation, around the Gaspe and into Quebec, was highly successful. Except for several thunder storms near Quebec, and one cold night in New Brunswick, the weather was close to perfect. We did surpsisingly well with our high-school French. We even managed to purchase a pair of shoes for Michael without lapsing into English. The children tried out French phrases and especially numbers, with far less self-consciousness than their elders. I think it may have been the best travel experience our kids have ever had.

On the second from the last night we were away, we passed a van like ours at a campsite. The tailgate was down, and I could see into their open back cupboard neatly stacked with canned goods. Suddenly, all the packing mistakes we had made flashed into my mind with brilliant obviousness, and I had a mental picture of the proper way to pack a camper. It was too late then to repack.

Next year, we hope to make another dream come true. Maybe, next year, an orange Volkswagen, efficiently packed, of course, will take us on our longest trip across Canada.

Lions Defeat Firemen 6-4

In the second game of the Quarter-Finals in Series "B" played on August 23rd the Lions eliminated the Firemen by the score of 6-4, thus taking the series by virtue of their 7-6 win in the first game. These teams were evenly matched and only the breaks in the games made the difference. After three innings the score was 0-0 and Riley for the Firemen had eight strikeouts and Rioux had seven. The difference between the teams was the issuing of free passes. Riley gave up a total of ten walks while Rioux only hit a batter and gave up no walks. The Lions scored three runs in the fourth after two were out (Theriault, Seeley) Riley hit Abell, walked Rioux and Burgoyne singled scoring Abell and Rioux, successive walks to Cummings, VanHassel and Jeffrey Skinner produced another run. In the bottom of the fourth the Firemen were held to two runs although Rioux gave up three singles to Harvieux, Riley and Phillips, Kelly Mackinlosh was struckout and Timmy Boodoosigh flied out to Rioux who doubled up Phillips on third to end the inning. Four walks were converted into two runs in the fifth by the Lions and they held the Firemen scoreless, when Rioux faced Kirk Mackintosh, Hazelton and Germaine and struckout them all out. The Lions were able to push across another run in the top of the sixth when Theriault reached first on an error by Mosher, he stole second, Seeley and Abell went down swinging then Rioux singled scoring Theriault and Riley struckout Burgoyne to end the inning. The Firemen in the bottom of the sixth sent up Mosher who was retired on strikes, back to back triples by Harvieux and Riley produced two runs when wild throws allowed them to score. Phillips was hit by a pitch, Kelly Mackinlosh was struckout and Timmy Boodoosighn flied out to Rioux thus ending the game and the Series. Riley went the route for the Firemen, he allowed two singles walked ten and struckout fifteen, a very creditable job. Sylvain Rioux gave up a total of eight hits, which were well scattered he hit one batsman and issued no walks while strucking out fourteen. Line Score.

SOCCER CLUBS TO VISIT DIGBY

Saint John Schooners Champions of the Southern, N. B., Soccer League are expected in Digby Sunday afternoon for a post-season exhibition game with Digby on the High School field. There is the possibility that the Schooners will be unable to make the trip, but on Monday the word was go, and Digby will be out in force to revenge an earlier 8-2 loss in New Brunswick in which an early 1-0 lead had disappeared quickly. Ball control and speedy forwards make the Schooners a tough matitch, and Thursday night a practice will be held.

Merchants Take Two Straight

The Legion were walloped by the score of 17-5 by the Merchants in Series "C" and were eliminated in two straight games; this game was played at August 25th. The Merchants scored 5 runs in the first and third and six in the second, they added one in the fourth. The Legion managed two in the first and three in the fourth. Timmy Robicheau had four for four with three singles and a double for the Merchants, David Handspiker, and Joseph Hattie had a single and triple. Butch Wong a homer all for the winners. A total of twelve walks were issued by Butch Wong and Joseph Hattie for the Merchants the only hit off Merchants' pitching was a single by Brian Wong. The Merchants now await the draw to decide who goes into the Finals. Line-ups MERCHANTS - D. O'Neil, D. Handspiker, J. Hattie, Butch Wong, Jamie Baxter, K. Haynes T. Robicheau S. Hudson, K. Porter.
LEGION - B. Speicts, M. Burnham, Brian Wong, K. George Kelly Mackinlosh, K. Mosher, M. Chute M. Turnbull, G. Melanson.

K of C Eliminate Kiwanis 20 - 15

In the Series "A" Quarter-Finals an inspired K of C won the deciding game played on Monday, August 29th by the score of 20-15. They deserved their victory on the strength of a fifteen hit attack which included two home runs, (Lock, Hudson) two triples (Danny and Paul LeBlanc) and four doubles (Locke, Walsh, Hudson, Paul LeBlanc). The Kiwanis mustered ten hits which included a home run (Greg Skinner), two triples (Rogers, Skinner), and three doubles (Skinner, Comeau, Jefferson) Paul LeBlanc playing third for the K of C turned in a sound game on a number of well hit ground balls. Kevin Locke went the distance for the winners and was touched for ten hits, struckout fourteen and was tough when he had to be especially in the bottom of the six (the Kiwanis had scored ten runs in the bottom of the fifth). Line Score — K of C 1 4 6 0 8 1
KIWANIS — 3 0 2 0 1 0 0

Halifax Pee Wees Challenge Digby

Digby's PeeWees will have their hands full Sunday as the current N. S. Champions from Halifax meet them in a match also to be held on Sunday. It was intended to play on Saturday, but the visitors will not arrive until Saturday afternoon enroute to New Brunswick. Joe Ritter coaches the Metro team and will have a strong contender for the N. S. title again this year with hundreds of youngsters competing in the city leagues. Digby ranked fourth in 1971, but must add new players as they must have been under 12 on New Year's Day, 1972.

North Range and Digby town have supplied most of the talent in former contests, but boys are welcome as a new team is made up. A practice will be held Thursday evening at 6 p.m. in Digby. All interested boys should come or call 245-2056 and inquire.

K of C Gets Bye Into Finals

In the regular draw for a bye into the Finals the Fred Bates' coached Knights of Columbus won the bye and are in the Finals. Merchants vs Lions in the best out of three semi-final series. Games on Wednesday, Friday and Monday (if necessary) the Finals will begin either Monday (Sept. 4th or Wednesday (Sept. 6th)

Saulnier Golf Winner

At The Digby Pines Invitational Junior Golf Tournament on Friday, Steve Saulnier of Digby Pines was the winner. Eight clubs were invited: Avon Valley (Windsor), Paragon (Kingston), Greenwood, Hillsdale (Annapolis Royal), The Islands (Tiverton), Eden (West Paradise) and Clare (Comeauville) and there were 102 entries — quite likely the largest turnout for such an event in Nova Scotia and the largest ever for this part of the province.

Tom Cleveland Sr., President of Digby Pines Golf Club welcomed the young golfers and their escorts.

Jack Harris, Chairman, Junior Golf Development, announced the prize winners and said "Thank yous" to: Roy Forhan, General Manager of the Pines Hotel for his co-operation in making the course available for this event; Jones Bottling Company of Weymouth for providing the Pepsi. Others for their assistance included Club Professional "Nick" Nickerson and Club Members Florence Snow, Tistie Dakin, Helen Daley, Bruce Hutchins, Jack Keen and the Norman Drydens of Moncton, summer visitors at the Pines, who donated the No. 1 prize.

The competition was keen in all handicap groups and many of the winners were determined by retrogression — a system used in golf to resolve tie scores.

One such occurred in the Championship Flight in which Digby's Steve Saulnier, who was tied with Don Kaulbach of Eden, became the winner with Don Kaulbach as runner-up.

Other prize winners were:
1st Division:
1st Net: Ric Banyard, Greenwood
2nd Net: Lindon Garron, Pines
2nd Division:
1st Gross: Imran Samad, Pines
2nd Gross: Dale Dryden, Pines
1st Net: Gary Smith, Greenwood
2nd Net: Steve Roberts, Greenwood
3rd Division:
1st Gross: Remi Comeau, Clare
2nd Gross: Al LeBlanc, Greenwood
1st Net: Mike Doucette, Digby Pines
2nd Net: Osman Samad, Digby Pines
4th Division:
1st Gross: Danny Collins, Greenwood
2nd Gross: Chris Beasley, Greenwood
1st Net: Steve O'Neil, Digby Pines
2nd Net: Wayne Crosby, Eden
5th Division:
1st Gross: Jeff Johnson, Greenwood
2nd Gross: Peter Outhouse, The Islands
1st Net: Jerry Elliott, The Islands
First in the Young Ladies Division — Debbie Marshall, Greenwood.
Second Lessie — Heather Millett, Avon Valley.
Aaron Lund of Greenwood with a score of 190 was judged to be the golfer with greatest room for improvement. He was awarded practice golf balls and an illustrated map of the Pines Golf Course!
Others playing for Digby Pines were Andy Pressey, Darren Daley, Michael Lynch, Jamie Theriault, Greg Skinner, Don Black, Brian Wood, David Oliver, Paul Doucette and Tim Cleveland Jr.
Others from the Islands included John McCormick, Tommy O'Hagan, Chris Outhouse, Brian Fury and Christopher Outhouse.

HOLE-IN-ONE

David Dexter of Halifax, 18 year old son of Dr. Dexter made a hole in one while playing on the Pines Golf Course, Digby on Monday. He, playing with his father and Miss Lynn Sawyer aced the 16 hole, 130 yards long, with a 5 iron.

IN MEMORIAM

GARRON — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Leonard Garron, who passed away August 24, 1967.
No need for words except to say
Still loved still missed in every way.
Wife, Viola and family. 3:1ic

BREMNER — In loving memory of our dear father and grandfather, James Esma Bremner, who passed away August 24th, 1970.
Quietly remembered every day,
Sadly missed along the way
No longer here, our lives to share
But in our hearts you are always near.
— Lovingly remembered and greatly missed, by son Reg, Daughter-in-law, Valerie, and grandchildren, Cindy, Tony and Adam Wade. 3:ic

BOSWELL — In loving memory of my dear husband, Eric Boswell, passed away Sept. 4th, 1970.
Memories are treasures no one can steal,
Death is a heart ache no one can heal
Some may forget you, now that you're gone
But we will remember no matter how long.
— Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by wife, Lillian and son, Robert and family. 3:1ip

MARRIAGES

ROBICHEAU — AMERO

Shirley Mary, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gifford J. Amero, and Rosco Joseph, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Robicheau, all of, Plympton Station, Digby County, were united in marriage in Holy Cross Roman Catholic Church, Plympton. Rev. Rene LeBlanc officiated at the double ring ceremony. Organist was Mrs. Clifford Doucette, Gilbert Cove.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of nylon lace over nylon net peau de soie, fashioned with long lace sleeves, and trimmed with seed pearls. Her shoulder-length veil was of matching net and lace, and she carried a bouquet of carnations, and roses with white streamers.

Mrs. Eugene Silver was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Delores Amero and Mrs. Ervin LeBlanc. Miss Karen Amero was junior bridesmaid and Miss Peggy Amero was the flower girl. They wore floor-length gowns of peau de soie in shades of mintina, and yellow and wore matching headpieces. The matron of honor and bridesmaids carried bouquets of white and yellow daisies and the junior bridesmaid and flower girl carried nosegays of daisies.

The groom was attended by Eugene Silver and ushers were Ronald Amero, Dennis Amero and Jerry Amero. Ring bearer was Danny Amero.

The mother of the bride wore a turquoise dress and coat ensemble with white accessories, and the groom's mother chose a blue lace dress and white accessories.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Holy Cross Parish Hall.

Gifts in ... were a source of joy to the guests.

WILKINS — VIDITO

A quiet evening wedding was solemnized at the Salvation Army quarters on August 5th, 1972 when Roberta Marie Wilkins and Eugene Clifford Vidito exchanged marriage vows in a double ring ceremony. The officiating clergyman was Captain H. Zimmerman.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Wilkins of Grand Bay, N. B. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Vidito, Digby, N. S.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white mini-length dress, empire waist styled of crimplene with long bell sleeves and wore a corsage of red roses.

The matron of honor was Mrs. John Craft of 119 Guilford Avenue, West Saint John, N. B., sister of the bride, who wore a mini length red double knit dress with a corsage of white mums.

The best man was Mr. John Craft of West Saint John, N. B.

The bride's mother wore a long pink plain and flowered gown, while the groom's mother chose a street length dress of light blue polyester knit with long sleeves trimmed in white. They both chose a corsage of pink roses.

A reception was held in the hall for about 80 guests. The bride's table was set with a three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, which was a gift from the groom's aunt, Mrs. Marjorie Joudrey. The wedding cake was cut in the traditional manner. The hall was decorated by Miss Brenda Vidito, sister of the groom and Miss Audrey Hudson, with pink and white streamers. The bride's table was served by Mrs. Lois Van Tassell, aunt of the groom.

Mrs. Beatrice Vidito, grandmother of the groom, Mrs. Viola Dexter, Mrs. Gertrude Lettney, and Miss Audrey Hudson, all members of the Salvation Army Home League, helped serve the luncheon for the occasion.

The happy couple received many useful gifts and money. Mr. Robert Andrews, uncle of the groom, read the cards while the bride and groom opened their gifts.

Out-of-town guests were from Halifax, Saint John, Grand Bay, Grand Manan, Bridgetown, Seabrook, Ashmore, Plympton and Bear River.

Many blessings and good wishes followed the happy couple, who will reside in Grand Bay, N. B. The bride is employed as a secretary for E. T. Rogers and Son, Saint John, N.B. and the groom is employed at Marine Services, Northern Electric Co., N. B.

SCHOOL BUS SCHEDULE
ANNAPOLIS ROYAL SUB-SYSTEM
School Year 1972 - 73
Opening Day SEPTEMBER 5th, 1972

Due to the over-crowded situation at the High School level, the Board of Trustees of the Annapolis Royal Regional School, in conjunction with the Annapolis Municipal School Board, has directed that the High School will operate on two sessions during the school year 1972-73.

The Senior High School, Grades 10, 11 and 12, plus the Adjusted Program Classes Grades 7, 8, 9 will be in session from 8:45 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. The Junior High School, Grades7, 8 and 9 will be in session from 1:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

This change in hours at the High School level requires modification of the School Bus Schedule. The modified schedules are outlined below. The opening hour for the Elementary Schools will be 8:30 a.m.; however, in most cases, the elementary pupils may be arriving home in the afternoon a little earlier than last year.

This change in the hour for the High School students is an interim measure designed to relieve the over-crowded situation at the Annapolis Royal Regional Academy.

Parents and students are requested to study the bus schedule to ensure that they know on which bus the student is to travel.

Elementary pupils will have a noon hour period as usual. Senior High Students will have a recess during which they will be able to eat a lunch if they wish to bring one.

Should there be serious problems related to transportation, you are assured that corrective action will be taken where indicated. The good will on the part of all concerned will be greatly appreciated.

Pre-Registration: Students coming to the Annapolis Royal Regional Academy for the first time from other High Schools may register at the Academy August 31 or September 1st, between 9:30 a.m. and 11:30 a.m.

Students of Grades 9, 10, 11 and 12 should come prepared to pay the book rental fee of $5.00 on September 5th.

John C. Johnson
Supervisor.

Immersion Course At College Sainte Anne

Twenty-five English speaking students have just spent six weeks here studying writing, acting, singing and conversing exclusively in French.

They were participants in a French language "immersion course" at College Sainte Anne, a bilingual college in the heart of Nova Scotia's Acadian community.

College Sainte Anne was one of 35 Canadian universities and Colleges to offer immersion courses in one of the country's two official languages under the Summer '72 Language Bursary Program.

"The students arrived here with different levels of ability and instruction requirements," said Billy Tally, one of five course instructors at the College. "Some had an adequate reading knowledge of French but needed to improve their command of the spoken language, whereas others needed instruction in the grammar and structure as well as verbal practice."

To meet the varying needs Sainte Anne developed a comprehensive syllabus offering basic to advanced instruction in conversational phonetics, grammar and literature.

An important instructional tool was College Sainte Anne's new language laboratory — individual soundproof booths equipped with tape recorders and linked to a central console. Here groups of students or individuals working on their own could practice to improve their pronunciation and command of spoken French.

To assist students gain confidence in using French in everyday situations, the college also offered a range of "extra curricular" activities that proved to be as valuable as classroom and language laboratory practice.

Depending on their interests, students could participate in theatrical productions, discussion groups, vocal ensembles or contribute articles to a daily French Language Bulletin produced for the duration of the course.

A typical project was the video tape recording of a one act Ionesco play.

A purpose of the Language Bursary Program is to encourage students to learn something of the culture associated with the language being studied. For many students their stay at College Sainte Anne was their first opportunity to become familiar with a French Language and bilingual milieu.

In addition a French Canadian literature course was offered to introduce students to such great works as Germaine Guevremont's Le Survenant and Yves Theriault's Ashini.

Maybe not the "Littlest Angel" but definitely the littlest calf at the Digby County Exhibition. Here Charlie Sabean holds the small animal belonging to Earl Morrell, Brighton.

Heads Arthritis Campaign

Mr. Phillip Comeau is the campaign chairman for the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society's forthcoming fall campaign in the District of Clare.

In making the announcement today, Mrs. H. M. Patton, President of the Society's Nova Scotia Division, expressed her pleasure that Mr. Comeau has undertaken such a responsible task and welcomed him to the ever-growing number of community leaders who see the need for an all-out effort to achieve "Arthritis Control — The Immediate Goal."

Voted To Have Permanent Nurse And Still No Doctor

A public meeting was held at the Community Hall recently, called by the Village Commissioners to decide on the wishes of the people concerning having the Public Nurse here permanently and also on a site for a Mobile home for her. Very few people seemed concerned indicated by the low number in attendance, but the people attending were mostly in agreement that it would be to the best interests of all the residents to take advantage of having this nurse and it was so vited.

A piece of land around the Cove belonging to Kingsley Campbell has most graciously been made available for the Mobile home and since the meeting this has been approved for the site.

With the Island Doctorless at present since Dr. Godbole and family have moved to Cape Breton, no medical attention is available except on the days a nurse comes from Digby. It will be a relief at least to know the Islands have a nurse available to help with medical problems. It is hoped to soon see both nurse and her home here as a permanent fixture.

BYF Enjoy Youth Retreat

The young people of the Church of God, known as the Berean Youth Fellowship, enjoyed a retreat at a cottage on Tim's Lake, Friday night and Saturday. There were 20 who attended including Mrs. Leta Handspiker and Mrs. Eunice Pearson.

After supper Friday there was a period of getting acquainted, and putting up the tent for the boys to sleep in, followed by a time of devotions, led by Nancy Lee Rice and the popping of corn.

In spite of the hard rain Friday night, everyone was up and ready for breakfast of pancakes and sausage, after devotions at 7:30 a.m. Two Bible classes each were taught by Elaine Handspiker and Eunice Pearson on Abraham and his faith. At noon there was a Sacrificial Dinner, when only spiritual food was served. This fast lasted until 3 o'clock, when supper was provided.

Hiking, swimming, volleyball and chess were a part of the recreation.

A work shop was held at which time plans were made for International Youth Week, which will be observed next month.

Saturday evening a weiner roast was enjoyed at 8 o'clock. This was followed by a period of devotions, led by Elaine Handspiker, and a Communion Service around the camp fire.

This retreat was the culmination of a year of hard work, fun and spiritual growth for the BYF. Many hours were spent selling nuts and candy, picking raspberries, blueberries and dulce and doing odd jobs to make money for the group. Although some of this money was used to send some to the International Youth Camp at Camp Mack, Milford, Ind., U. S. A., some of it was used to buy Bibles and to help in mission work.

This group, under the able leadership of Elaine Handspiker, meet once a week for a time of prayer and each Saturday night for a time of study, singing and recreation.

A Junior Berean group is being started for those going into grades 4, 5, and 6. They meet at the Church of God each Wednesday evening at 7:00. Everyone in this age group is invited to attend.

Shower Held

A pink and blue shower for Mrs. Leigh Everett; Digby was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Everett, Victoria Beach when a number of family and friends gathered to extend best wishes. Many lovely gifts were presented to Sandra.

The evening was enjoyed by slides of the Canadian West which were shown by Mr. Barteaux.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Titus, Mrs. Wylie Everett, Mrs. Percy Johnston, Mrs. Barteaux, Mrs. Lawrence Taylor.

W.M.S. At Westport

The August meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Baptist Church, Westport was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Frost with fifteen present. In the absence of the President she Vice President presided. The Devotional was conducted by Mrs. Harold Denton her theme "What Life Is All About".

Circle of Prayer was led by Mrs. Ervin Thompson.

Mrs. Earl Webber presented the program using a lesson from the study pocket based on the book "The Kootuta Blooms in Bolivia."

Two guests Mrs. Charles Swan and Mrs. Jean Campbell were warmly welcomed.

Mrs. Frost was assisted at the Social hour by Mrs. Edwin Frost.

Digby Scallops Mentioned

Digby and its scallops had the honor of being mentioned in one of those 20 plus series of cook books put out by Time-Life. The latest, American Cooking — New England, contains Canadian features, especially Newfoundland and Nova Scotia, and includes a reference to Digby and a recipe for Baked Scallops.

The book, written by Jonathan Norton Leonard and the editor of Time-Life Books have a section on scallops in general and quote "Canada has the Digby scallop which is intermediate in size between the sea and bay scallop."

Beautifully illustrated in color, the copy loaned to The Digby Courier by Mrs. Leslie Crumbaker of Needham, Mass., has the following recipe for Baked Digby Scallops:

Preheat oven 350 degrees;

Spread tablespoon butter over inside surface of 6 large scallop shells or the bottom and sides of a 10 by 6 by 2 inch baking dish. Arrange shells side by side in a jelly roll pan. Place scallops in bowl, sprinkle with salt and liberal grinding of pepper and toss with a spoon to season the scallops evenly.

In a heavy 8 to 10 inch skillet, melt the 6 tablespoons of butter over moderate heat. When the foam begins to subside, add the cracker and bread crumbs and stir for 4 or 5 minutes until crumbs are crisp.

Spread about half the crumbs in the scallop shells or baking dish and scatter the scallops on top. Sprinkle the scallops with the remaining crumbs and pour in cream. Bake in middle of oven for 30 minutes or until the cream bubbles and crumbs are golden. Serve at once.

Above is Joy Leonard, daughter of Mrs. M. S. Leonard, Birch Street, and the late Mr. Leonard, who recently graduated from the Victoria General Hospital School of Nursing. Miss Leonard (left) is seen with the assistant supervisor. Miss Leonard will attend Dalhousie University this Fall to study public health nursing.

Meets Relatives

Ferris Woodman of Port Moody, British Columbia, is in Digby at the home of Roy and Hilda Campbell from where he is visiting his Woodman and Campbell relatives for the first time.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Woodman left Digby in 1908 for Edmonton, Alberta and later moved to Cloverdale British Columbia. Their son Ferris was born after they had moved to Edmonton and neither of the parents had returned to Digby. This visit is the first for their son.

Archibald Woodman was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Woodman of Woodmans Hill. He had a brother Frank Woodman. Ferris Woodman, a lumberman and plumber by trade, visited The Digby Courier on Friday to express appreciation of the town newspaper which his mother received each year from 1908 until her death a short time ago.

Ferris Woodman, whose wife and four sons live in British Columbia, will spend a month amongst relatives before returning home.

A special birthday celebration was given to Captain Calvin Granville at the "Sea Shell" in Annapolis Royal, August 27th following a surprise party at his home on the 26th. Roses surrounded a beautiful decorated birthday cake which was brought in after dinner, and the many guests in the dining room gave a hearty ovation to the Captain for it was 84th anniversary.

Judge Cowell of Middleton, also a guest at the "Sea Shell", congratulated Captain Granville, saying that he had just passed his 65th.

The surprise party tendered Capt. Granville on the 26th, was held at the Granville's her in Weymouth. Mrs. Edis Flewelling of Montreal, staying at her summer place in Plympton, and Miss Greta Journeay hosted a most delighted evening for about 20 close friends those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Rice Kinney, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smiley, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Cameron, Mrs. Edis Flewelling, son, Mark, Miss Greta Journeay, Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Smith, Mrs. George Fielding, Mr. Donald Filleul, Col. and Mrs. Stanley Halliolt, Miss Ruth Goodwin, and Mr. Harrison Jones.

The Misses Jeanne Merrill and Diana Haddad, proprietesses of the famed restaurant, offered their warm wishes to the Captain with kisses; and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Warne and Miss Dora Warne, (distant relatives of Mrs. Granville,) joined the celebrants.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cameron, Crowberry, Weymouth, North, were the hosts on the occasion of the birthday dinner.

Little Leagures See Expo Baseball Game

On Sunday, August 20th, eighteen members of the Weymouth Little League baseball team left for Montreal to see an Expos baseball game. They were accompanied by Rodigue Lefort, Clifford Thurber and Dwayne Cromwell. Crossing on the St. John ferry, they travelled to Bangor, Maine where they camped in tents for the night.

Early Monday morning they continued through New Hampshire and Vermont arriving in Montreal in the late afternoon, just in time to experience a Montreal rush hour. After eating and washing the boys were taken to Jarry Park to see the Expos play the Cincinnati Reds. The boys only disappointment turned out to be the score of the game as the Expos took 4-1 despite the 18 new cheerleaders that night.

The following day after enjoying some swimming at the YMCA where they stayed, they departed for Bangor and again camped there Tuesday night. There they enjoyed some swimming again as well as other amusement facilities on the campsite.

On Wednesday morning, the boys packed their bedrole for the last time and headed for St. John where they again crossed to Digby on the ferry. They arrived home in the early evening, weary but with many tales to tell their parents and friends.

The trip to Montreal was the end product of hard work all summer by the boys, as well as the benevalance of their parents and various organizations in the community. The boys raised money selling tickets, organized a pantry sale and were helped financially by groups such as the Kiwannis Club of Weymouth, Jones Bottling Co., Stedmans of Weymouth; Amirault Rileway and Gaudet Red and White. The help of these organizations provided a wonderful outing and many experiences, that the boys will never forget.

Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Height of Bedford were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. George Height and family.

Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps, Cornwallis, at their recent annual inspection. The Corps was inspected by Lieut-Col. Terry Burns.

Bay View

The trip was taken by means of slides shown by Mrs. George Woollett of a trip she took with her husband and children in April. Movies of the same trip were shown by her mother, Mrs. Everett Ritcey. The group gathered at the Birch Villa the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ritcey and spent an enjoyable evening.

Bay View Folks Well Rewarded

The Admiral Digby Horticultural Society Flower Show was held on Wednesday, August 9th at the Digby Regional High School.

The full time residents of Bay View as well as the summer residents and the visitors to the area who participated in this event enjoyed themselves a great deal. Some gave a helping hand while many attended the tea, exhibited beautiful garden flowers as well as wild ones.

Numerous Blue Ribbons for 1st prize, Red Ribbons for 2nd prizes and Yellow Ribbons for 3rd prizes were received by folk in the area for their flower exhibits.

It was pleasing to note that the folk of Bay View were so well rewarded at the flower show but even more remarkable to note that two high awards were received by the folk of this area.

The award of merit was won by Mrs. Paul Emerson and a Special Creativity award for a collection of Wild Flowers was given to Mrs. Harry Adams.

In the Specimen class 1st Prize Winners were: Mrs. Paul Emerson one or more; Mrs. Herbert E. Doerr and Mrs. Harry Adams each received 3 Second Prize winners were Mrs. Herbert E. Doerr 1 or more, Mrs. Harry Adams at least 2. Third Prize winners were: Mrs. Richard Joudrey 1, Mrs. Herbert E. Doerr, Mrs. Harry Adams at least 1 each perhaps more.

Admitted To Society

Owen M. Taylor, B. Comm., R.I.A., Ottawa, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Taylor, Digby, has been advised by the Society of Industrial Accountants of Ontario that he has successfully completed the academic qualifications of the society and has been admitted as a registered member and authorized to use the designation "Registered Industrial Accountant".

Mr. Taylor completed his high school education at Digby Regional High School and graduated from Acadia University in 1968. He is married to the former Elizabeth Cardoza of Digby.

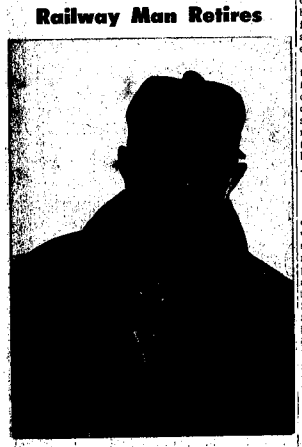
Perfect Water Report

Councillor Gordon Ellis, at the regular meeting of the Digby Town Council on Tuesday evening said there was lots of water and lots of pressure in the Digby town water system. All the water tests proved good and there is seventy inches of water in the canal in the lake. Quoting Councillor Ellis "It's one hundred per cent". Neighboring towns, Councillor Ellis said, are having water difficulties.

Presiding Officers

Presiding officers for Digby's by-election on Tuesday are Harry Titus and Hubert Warne and the poll clerks are Mrs. George Winfield and Patrick Comeau. The appointment were made at the regular town council meeting on Tuesday.

Railway Man Retires



Fred Taylor, of Sydney St., assistant roadmaster with the Dominion Atlantic Railway, began his pre-retirement leave on August 26th and will officially retire after 41 years service with the railway on November 1st.

Mr. Taylor first entered the service of the Dominion Atlantic Railway on May 1st, 1931, as a sectionman at Bridgetown. He was promoted to section foreman in June, 1962, and to assistant roadmaster in April 1962.

He joined the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees in 1935 and received a Certificate of Esteemed Merit some years ago from the Union.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor moved to Digby in 1962 and have lived here since that time. They will celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary on November 23rd.

The Taylors have 3 children: John, with Manufacturer's Life in Toronto; Freda (Mrs. Charles Lawson), Courtney, B. C.; and Owen, with the Department of Indian Affairs, Ottawa.

They also have 4 grandchildren.

TOWN GOES AHEAD WITH POLLUTION CONTROL

— PHASE 1 —

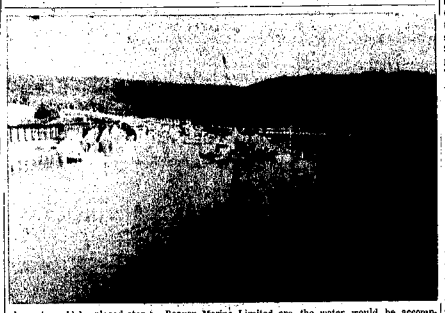
Mayor Glen Smith at the regular meeting of Digby Town Council on Tuesday evening told council members that he had been advised by Bennoit Comeau, Minister of Lands and Forests and Fisheries for Nova Scotia that Digby was granted $40,000 for a pollution control system. This money will be applied directly for the treatment plant and is forthcoming on the grounds that fishing is a viable industry in Digby. It is understood that the Nova Scotia Water Commission approves of starting a phased program on sewage disposal at once and a full program be carried out in the realm of the town's financial possibilities. Along with the $40,000 there is a 20 per cent federal grant and municipal grants. The amount suggested to be raised by the town is $75,000.

Since the town can borrow up to $100,000 without permission of the rate payers. Councillor Ina Dillon moved that a resolution be passed to seek authority to borrow $80,000 to construct the first phase of the sewage disposal. This was seconded by Deputy Mayor Paul Winchester and passed. It was also moved that Horner Associates have permission to call for tenders for the construction. A rate payers meeting will be called soon to advise the people on the various stages for which further monies will be needed.

The sewage track followed by the first phase of Digby's pollution control will be Victoria Street, across Warwick where it gathers up Warwick Street; St. Mary's, West Street, King Street and cut across to the treatment plant to be located at the gulley on St. George Street. It will be serving the Home for Aged and Infirm, Senior Citizens, McCleave Medical Centre and Shopping Centre along with other businesses and private homes.

Mrs. Eileen Chipman of the Digby Planning Committee, who was given permission to speak before Council complained that according to her knowledge the Planning Committee had not been consulted on this first phase of the proposition. She termed the method underhanded and also asked why the people should be trapped into spending $80,000 and then go to the rate payers.

Mrs. Emerson Graham expressed her problems with the Warwick Street sewer but felt that phase one as this need would not be of any relief to the situation on Warwick Street.



Beaver Marine Limited are general contractors for this $3.3 million bridge, which will replace the present one-lane bridge built in 1889.

Much interest has been shown by the people in the area, as well as tourists and residents of other areas, regarding the construction of the new Bear River Bridge, especially speculating as to how the construction over the water would be accomplished. On Friday, September 1st, this question was answered.

As seen above, the 200-ton capacity crane and one of the hammerheads, which had been placed aboard a specially built barge earlier that day, were towed to the channel of the river at approximately 5:20 p.m., there to await the rising tide when the 100-ton element would be placed atop pier #3. On Tuesday of this week the first lift was made and caught by our roving reporter.

From this barge Owen Rioux, veteran operator of the crane will lift a hammerhead atop each pier and each segment that makes up the spans between the piers, as an able crew of men work to set the elements in place.

Still Investigating Thefts and Vandalism

Digby R.C.M.P. and town police are still investigating breaks, thefts and vandalism which struck the area last week.

The worst of the series happened at the Co-op store on a Saturday morning when the sum of $1128 had been taken from the store safe during open hours. An identical instance happened at Annapolis Royal the same day, it is understood.

Other places broken into or became victims of vandals were the Nova Scotia Western Yacht Club, Manor Hockey Canteen, Cue Pool Room and Pines Golf Course.

FIREMEN'S DAY GROSSES $2,000

Despite the weather on Monday which threatened to wipe out the annual Firemen's Day Fair, the Fair was more successful than ever, realizing $2000 gross. This year, changed location to site of the proposed new Fire Station into which the firemen are putting their efforts these days. While it was necessary to move the operation into the present fire station away from the elements of the weather. This did not dampen the enthusiasm of the patrons although things got off to a slow start. There was the exception of the fire truck rides for the children who were right on hand on schedule to get their free ride on the fire trucks and shortly after this the operation began to pick up.

The Ladies Auxiliary are to be congratulated this year for their efforts in putting on a delicious seafood chowder supper which was very successful even though disruptions were involved due to having to use the same location for bingo but all worked out well in the end.

Prize winners were on the special draw which saw Harry Turnbull taking first prize with Joe Doucette winning second. The winner of the $50.00 cash prize went to Mr. A. Joseph Casey and $25.00 second prize went to Winning Wong. Winner of the cake was Louis Stark.

Financially the Country Store topped the list of booths. It took in over $735.00 which included cash donations from a great number of individuals, the largest donation being $150.

All funds cleared from the day will be placed in the Building Fund for the construction of the new fire hall which will require approximately $80,000.00 to complete.

The Fire Department thanked all who made the day such a success even though the weather man did not cooperate fully. A further report will be forthcoming when the final net results are known following the payment of bills etc.

Visitors At Council

Mayor Glen Smith on Tuesday evening welcomed eight visitors besides the press at the regular Town Council meeting, and expressed appreciation that so many were showing interest in town affairs. Present were V. S. Snow, C. D. Snow, Rev. Ronald Stevens, Mrs. Emerson Graham, Mrs. Dorothy Emin, Ernest Ryan, Emanuel Adelaar and Mrs. Eileen Chipman. Snow, Snow and Ryan were a committee from the Digby Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Snow explained the function of the committee to keep in touch with town matters and to voice opinions for the good of the town. Town by-laws, use of public property and Highway safety were the subjects discussed by Mr. Snow. He felt, this being a tourist town, the band-stand area should not be used by private concerns but to have used leisurely by visitors and the general public, amidst shrubs and flowers.

The particular highway concern was with the road at the Racquette Bridge enroute to the ferry terminal.

Mayor Glen Smith assured Mr. Snow that all these matters were being looked into

Try Bus System For Week

More than 100 citizens of the Weymouth Consolidated School District and members of the Digby Municipal School Board agreed to try out the newly proposed school bus schedule for one week and then meet again to decide on the matter. This decision was made at a meeting of Board and citizens called to meet at the Weymouth School on Thursday evening. The meeting was chaired by the school board chairman, Mrs. M. P. Gott and Councillor Arthur Rice represented a group of citizens. Also on the platform were school board members Mrs. Helen Robinson, Mrs. Eleanor Elms, Warden Ronald Morehouse, William McMillan, secretary, Roger Hankinson, supervisor of school buses and Supervisor of Weymouth Schools, James Hanscomb. Mrs. Gott welcomed the citizens and said the only way to come to an understanding was to talk it out.

Concern among parents arose during the week previous when it was learned that the new school schedule for split shift sessions required some beginners and primary pupils to leave on a seven o'clock morning bus (after walking to the bus stop from home) and high school children would be getting home at 5:30 in the afternoon. As Fall set in these times in the morn-

Despite the agreement at Thursday night's meeting of parents and citizens at the Weymouth Consolidated School (see story) parents continued their protest on the opening day of school when they gathered at the entrance to the school grounds to halt the operation of the buses. The protest was against the Digby Municipal School Board's decision to have buses pick up primary school children at seven a.m. and high school children at 5:30 p.m. to accommodate split-shift classes until the proposed new extension is finished. The parents demonstrated on Wednesday morning in an orderly fashion were cautioned by RCMP Digby detachment who arrived, it is understood, that the demonstrators could not impede the flow of traffic or get out of hand in their demonstrations. Between 50 and 75 parents demonstrated and RCMP had been called in on the grounds of breach peace.

Breaks Arm

Brian Stark, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Stark has a broken arm as the result of a fall. Brian along with Perry Daley, Shore Road and Steven Redman, Halifax, were returning from an early show on Friday evening when a car occupied by three young persons stopped near Brian's home. One boy was pushed and grabbed and the three took to running when Brian fell and broke his arm.

Federal Election October 30th

Fulton Logan

South West Nova Liberals have already chosen their candidate to represent them in the October 30 federal election called last Friday by Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau. Fulton Logan, Digby, was chosen at a Liberal meeting held at Meteghan River on May 20. Also with their names before the constituents were John Nichols, Digby; Emanuel Adelaar, Weymouth and Mr. L. LeRoy Quinlan, Shelburne.

Mr. Logan was born in Halifax and came to Digby at the age of eleven. He graduated from the Digby Regional High School in 1960 and in 1961 obtained a certificate as a Certified Drug Clerk from the Maritime College of Pharmacy. He graduated from Dalhousie University in 1964 with a B.A. degree, majoring in political science, also from Dalhousie.

Mr. Logan became a lecturer in political science at Mount Saint Vincent University and was faculty President in 1968-69. In 1970 he left the university to take up residence again in Digby where he entered employment with Smith's Drug Store (Digby) Ltd.

Deeply interested in community affairs, Mr. Logan is Vice-chairman of the Digby Urban School Board; a member of the board of the Digby-Annapolis Mental Health Service Board Inc.; Vice-president of the Digby Ravens Hockey Team and a member of the Digby Recreation Commission. He is also a member of the Emergency Welfare Council and is a Director of the Digby Liberal Association.

Mr. Logan is married to the former Katharyn Judy Boyson of Halifax and they have a year old son, Robert.

Objects

A letter from B. L. Everett of Everett's Store, Church St., read before Digby Town Council on Tuesday evening objected to a canteen being opened at the Digby Forum to accomodate school children at noon hour. He felt his private business would suffer by this public establishment doing that type of business and that the Forum should not be commercialized during business hours.

It was moved that the letter be forwarded to the Digby Recreation Commission for consideration and also moved that the Town Council recommend to the Commission that they rescind the motion which gave permission to operate the canteen.

TO SEEK NOMINATION

Charles E. Haliburton

Charles E. Haliburton, Digby barrister, will seek the Progressive Conservative Nomination for Southwest Nova at a meeting to be held in the Clare District High School on September 14th. Mr. Haliburton will seek the seat held by Louis R. Comeau, M.P., now president of Saint Annes College.

He is one of five sons of E. R. Haliburton, a former member of the Stanfield and Smith administratives.

Mr. Haliburton has lived in Digby since 1962 and has been active in the Progressive Conservative Party during all that time as well as in prior years. As a student of law at Dalhousie University Mr. Haliburton was national president of the 2500 strong National P.C. Student Federation. Since his arrival in Digby he has served as secretary and president of the P.C. association of Digby and also as secretary of the Southwest Nova Association.

Besides his political pursuits in Digby Mr. Haliburton has served Digby as a

— ABOUT THIS AND THAT —

Election Stir Is Needed

With the federal election having been announced for October 30, it might be expected that the election within the small confines of Digby town could be over-shadowed and neglected. This should not be. It is on the grass roots level that governments are most important. What, for instance, would be the benefit to us of grants from higher governments if there is not someone on the grass roots level to take advantage of these to the benefit of the town people or municipal people. Yes, grass roots government, such as in the town of Digby, is very important and it is all important, too, that the citizens of the town be interested and follow the red tape and procedures to which the Mayor and Town Councillors have to go both for the advancement of our town and people as well as for their protection. The latter, we emphasize, being equally as important as the former.

As read in the news last week, there are three candidates running for one seat on the Digby town council. This is good. This creates an interest in the town and makes people conscious that there are men and women giving of their time and substance to see that Digby has the best obtainable for its people, young and old.

The first prerequisite of the townspeople is to show their interest by getting out to vote on September 12 and after that continue the interest by attending council meetings and offering praise or constructive criticism as warranted. The same would apply to the people in the municipality when they are called on for selecting councillors to represent them.

There are three prominent and good men who have placed their names to be voted on in the town election. Each has his special talents and merits. It is up to the people to find out all they can about the persons offering and then vote for the one seemingly most suitable for the job ahead.

While others are moving into the federal arena rapidly, Digby town has its obligation to put first things first, in this case the town election within the next week. Make it a wide-awake town and get out to vote, one and all who are eligible.

Hodge Podge

— Little can be added to the story which appeared a week ago when it was announced that bush cutting employment would be made available to those who lost work due to the federal closing of clam beds. We have an idea that Joe Casey was instrumental in that move which no one can fault. Much better that men be given a useful piece of work mentioned is a necessity for both insurance. Work should instill more pride than idleness and the particular work mentioned is a necessty for both safety and beauty.

— The taxi stand of Arnold Francis is in Digby. It is Bear River where he is proposing to open a hotel or motor-hotel. And so we set the record straight. Excused, are we?

— Quote: "May I say how much I enjoy the home paper every week as Jimmie has since he joined the army nine years ago. I had always sent the paper on to Jim when he was in Manitoba, four and a half years in Germany and back to Ontario. Jimmie always enjoyed the paper from home and passed it on to the other boys in camp, which was enjoyed by all."

— We took some Saint John people to the Digby County Exhibition. They had never seen ox pulls and horse pulls. They were fascinated. In fact, they felt Digby County Exhibition was fabulous for a small centre. And they go to the Saint John Exhibition too. Oh yes, the Chariot Races captivated them, too.

— How times change! Back in 1942, S. C. Gordon, inspector of schools for Kings County, announced that some 600 Kings children would be without teachers when the school term began officially. There were 18 vacancies in 17 school sections. Today teachers are looking for positions.

— Digby's Board of Trade, or now more rightly Chamber of Commerce has been in the news all its sixty-odd years. Back in 1942 at a meeting of the Digby Board of Trade, held at the Pines Hotel, Lloyd Fraser, supervisor of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board's Wolfville office, explained the workings of the board and its regulations. Another speaker at the meeting was Major Rev. G. Ambrose, senior chaplain, Military District No. 6, and son of a former rector of Digby. R. B. Murray presided at the meeting.

— Judge Charles T. LeBrun has said that the greatest danger to public safety is a marked increase in impaired drivers. A lot of these places where liquor is sold late at night, he said, are very lax in the amount of liquor they sell to individuals who leave these places when they are not fit to drive a vehicle. How do you get around that. Post a police at the door or gate with a breathalizer and let it decide on who drives after drinking or who doesn't.

— Even the churches feel the pinch. Reading from one area of the Atlantic Baptist Convention, "Government regulations and demands for services were increasing and the amount of work placed on staff increased annually because of new regulations that have to be complied with." They were considering whether or not to continue one phase of work.

ing and at night would be in darkness and parents objected to both primary children and high school children travelling in the dark on a dangerous road. A petition against this was circulated amongst the parents resulting in the meeting called on Thursday.

Prior to the agreement to try out the schedule a motion was made by Walter MacAlpine, seconded by Grant Sabino and passed that the meeting send a resolution to the Digby Municipal School Board requesting three extra buses be placed in service to alleviate the situation and change the early morning bus time from 7:00 o'clock to 7:15 a.m. and the extra costs of the same be borne by the Municipality of Digby and not by the Weymouth area.

The split shift and resulting controversial bus schedule came about when the $87,000 extension to the Weymouth Consolidated School did not become constructed on time for school opening. Teachers have been engaged for general courses including Home Economics, Industrial Arts typewriting, T.V. and film facilities, but there are presently not enough classrooms to accommodate all the classes at one time. There appears to be government hold-up and health regulations deterring the construction of the extension and the only solution the supervisor and Board could come up with was a split shift in which the students would have the required number of hours schooling each day. There are approximately 800 students.

Suggestions were made to use the two vacant rooms at the Havelock School or investigate the possibility of the Weymouth Falls Community Centre.

There was divided opinion amongst the citizens as to the merits of the commercial course, T.V. programs, films, household science, etc., and some questioned the wisdom of the expense of a school extension. The Board was accused of putting the importance of the school program before the importance of the people. The Board was chided for reducing the buses from six to three and Mr. Hankinson agreed that six buses would take care of the situation.

Mrs. Gott, Warden Morehouse and Mr. Hanscomb assured the citizens gathered that they are doing their best to meet the needs of the Weymouth high school students and accepted the proposal for general courses since there are many of the Weymouth area students adapted to general courses and not to the strictly academic. This has resulted in school drop-outs which the supervisor and board wish to rectify. The split-shift, Mr. Hanscomb said, made more work, used up more time and gives more abuse to himself, but he felt it was the only viable solution. Mrs. Gott said the Board wanted Weymouth students to have the same advantages as the Digby students have. She told the citizens that they were fortunate to have a supervisor to fight for their benefit and that of their children so that they have the same opportunities as others.

MARRIAGES

Nolasco — Smith

The marriage of Maureen Claire Smith, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Glendon W. Smith, Digby, Nova Scotia, to John Peter Nolasco, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Hermes Nolasco, Grafton, Ontario, took place in St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, Digby. Rev. Father Albeni d'Entremont officiated at the double ring ceremony. Organist was Miss Mary Lynn Theriault, vocalists were the Misses Debbie Cameron, Geranda MacDonald and Nancy Munn.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of jacquard textured crimplene with train and long bell sleeves. She carried a bouquet of gladiolus, centered with small blue carnations.

Matron of honor was Miss Deidre Smith, sister of the bride, and bridesmaids were the Misses Barbara Nichols and Theresa Maas, friends of the bride. Their gowns were of two-toned blue striped velvet knit. Their bouquets were of tiny white mums and blue baby's breath.

Best man was Richard Nolasco, brother of the groom, and ushers were Clyde Thornhill, of Halifax, N. S., friend of the groom, and Ronald Smith, brother of the bride.

The groom and his attendants were grey Edwardian styled tuxedos, with pale blue shirts.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of pink and white flowered crepe. The groom's mother chose a gown of navy and white silk knit.

Following the ceremony a lovely buffet lunch and dancing were enjoyed at the Digby Pines Hotel.

Attending the guest book was the bride's sister, Mrs. Russell Livermore. Master of ceremonies was Mr. James (Kie) McIsaac, of Halifax. The toast to the bride was given by Father David Stokes, of Middleton, and responded to by the groom. The best man, Richard Nolasco, gave the toast to the bridesmaids.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were from Kwajalin, Marshall Islands; North Carolina, Ontario, Halifax, Dartmouth, Prince Edward Island, Antigonish, Yarmouth, Wedgeport, Bridgewater, Middleton, Annapolis and Meteghan.

For their honeymoon to Cape Breton and Prince Edward Island, the bride wore a pant suit of Grey Glen Plaid black with black pants. Her corsage was of red and white carnations.

McVeigh — Trask

The marriage of Rebecca Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Trask, and Frances Bernard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McVeigh, all of Digby, was solemnized at Saint Patrick's Church, Digby, on Saturday, August 5, 1972. Father d'Entremont performed the double ring ceremony and the organist was Miss Mary Theriault, Digby.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white crepe covered by a white lace coat. Her shoulder-length veil was of matching lace. She carried a bouquet of pink and white rosebuds, and blue cornflowers which surrounded a single red rose.

Miss Marcia Trask, Truro, sister of the bride, was maid-of-honor. She wore a floor-length gown of deep pink peau de soie satin and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Best man was Tom Ritchie, of Halifax, and the ushers were Harold Denton, Digby, cousin of the bride, and Kevin McVeigh, Digby, brother of the groom.

The mother of the bride wore a turquoise chiffon dress with white accessories. The groom's mother wore a printed jersey dress with white accessories.

Following the ceremony a reception was held on the lawn at the home of the bride's parents. Harold Denton, cousin of the bride, gave the toast to the bride. Leo LePort, Dartmouth, uncle of the groom, proposed the toast to the bride and groom. Karen Trask, sister of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. During the reception Father d'Entremont sang a number of solo selections from "The Sound of Music".

For travelling the bride wore a pink crepe dress accented by a corsage of pink rosebuds.

The happy couple will reside in Halifax, where both are employed.

by council. The proposed new by-laws are open for public scrutiny.

Mrs. Emin appeared before Council with the question as to whether Council had decided upon anything to recompense her mother, Mrs. Manzer for damage done to her home and sewer when the sewer backed up on Warwick Street. It was found this had not been discussed at Council but was in the hands of David Waterbury, barrister, acting for Mrs. Manzer and MacLeod Rogers on behalf the town council for which he is the solicitor.

Emannel Adelsar's presentation, he said, was not so much because of money as a matter of principle. The $60,000 assessment on the Rudolph Vanderwalde property had been lowered by $6,000 by his appearing before the Appeal Court. He was much surprised, he told Council, to get a letter from the town solicitor that the town would appeal the decision of the court and ask for an increase. This is one way, he said, to turn business away from the Town of Digby and he wanted the councillors to know about it and to make known that he was not satisfied with the treatment from the town and those they hire on assessment. Mr. Adelsar also reviewed events in the pulp shipping business since 1970 when the federal wharf in Digby had been closed to shipping. A misunderstanding had brought the councillors to feel the Vanderwald assessment had been cut in half by the Appeal Court. The case is to be considered further by the Council.

Mrs. Chipman requested that advance notice of regular council meetings and the agenda and as many as possible of special meetings be published through the news media. She took exception to the method in which a metal flag pole was obtained as a gift to the Digby Legion. She read a clipping from a newspaper which indicated that the matter had been voted on by council but Mrs. Chipman did not believe it had been voted on and asked who made the motion. The mayor felt that the item was reported wrongly in the newspaper and that he had presented the flag pole with the stipulation that if the Council did not see fit to purchase it, he would do so himself.

Mrs. Graham's problem was also regarding the sewers backing up on Warwick Street flooding her basement. She felt proper sewage facilities should be provided before buildings are constructed.

It was found that Warwick Street sewers are pested with tree roots, doll heads, sneakers and clothing.

IN MEMORIAM

BAIN — In loving memory of a dear mother, Annie B. Bain whom God called home, Sept. 5th 1970.

There's a long and winding road
Along which each must go
It leads beyond the hills of time
Into the sunset glow.
But only for a little while
Our loved one's leave our sight
For just beyond the hills she waits
In God's eternal light.
From our happy home and circle
God has taken one we loved
She is borne away from sin and sorrow
To a nobler rest above.
No one knows how much we miss her
None but aching hearts can tell
Lost on earth, but found in Heaven
Jesus doeth all things well.

— Lovingly remembered by daughter, Sylvia and son-in-law, Randal Lewis. 4:1c

FLYNN — In loving memory of the Kentville Advertiser aldine, who passed away at home, Sept. 28th, 1970, age 3 mos. 2 days.

She was only a little white rose
A sweet little flower from birth,
God took her home to heaven,
Before she was soiled on earth.

Forever loved and remembered by Mommy, Daddy, brother, Patrick, sisters, Ann, Marie and Marion. 7:1ic

FROSST — In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Gerald (Edith) Frosst, who passed away Sept. 8th, 1960.

You hold a spot deep in my heart
There the sun will always shine
For there will never be another to me
Like that wonderful mother of mine.
Always smiling, happy and content
Loved was my mother wherever she went
Too beautiful a life, a sudden end;
She died too soon, everyone's friend.

Ever remembered and always loved, daughter, Audrey (Mrs. Kevin Flynn) 4:1ic

HANDSPIKER — In loving memory of our mother, Mrs. John C. Handspiker, who passed away Sept. 10th 1940.

Though her smile is gone forever
And her hand we cannot touch
Still we have so many memories
Of the one we loved so much.
Her memory is our keepsake
With which we'll never part
God has her in his keeping
We have her in our hearts.

Sadly missed and always remembered by her two daughters, Bessie and Della. 4:1ic

PYNE — In loving memory of a dear daughter, Paula Pyne (Mrs. Jim Hall) who passed away in Derby, England, Sept. 4, 1954.

Those whom we love go out of sight
But never out of mind.
They are treasured in the Hearts of those they leave behind.

— Always remembered by mom, sister, Dora and husband, Joe, brothers, Harold, James and Carl. 4:1ip

Lions Take Opener In Semi-Finals

On August 30th the Lions outscored the Merchants 16-8 to take a one game lead in the semi-finals. Again, it was the pitching of their ace hurler Sylvain Rioux that was the difference. Stan Locke handled the Lions in the absence of their regular coach Randy Cummings. The Lions won the toss and took the field. Rioux allowed one run in the first and second innings and four on three walks (Melanson, Handspiker, Hattie) and two doubles (O'Neil, Keith Haynes) in the third, he retired six in the next two innings and allowed no runs and gave up two runs in the sixth when he made Keith Haynes fly out to Abell, then he walked Timmy Robicheau and Shaun Hudson, Mark Melanson drove a hard hit fly into centrefield scoring Robicheau and Hudson but was caught off third in a run down when he tried to stretch it into a home run. Butch Wong hit a double and was caught off second thus ending the inning and game.

Mark Melanson started the game for the Merchants, he allowed three runs in the first and six of eight runs scored in the second when the Lions combined three singles (Abell, VanTassell and Rioux) and three doubles (Brian Wong, Skinner, Abell) and a home run by Seeley. They also added three runs in the third and were only retired in order in the fourth, another two runs were scored by the Lions in the fifth. Gary Abell with a single, double and home run, Barry VanTassel with a triple, two singles and Charlie Seeley with two singles and a home run lead the batting attack for the Lions. Chris Halliday took over from Mark Melanson in the second with one out and put out the uprising which netted the Lions eight runs. Mark Melanson with a double and triple for the losers was their leading batter. Sylvain Rioux went the distance for the Lions, he allowed five hits, struckout thirteen and walked eight. Timmy Robicheau pulled off the best catch of the game on a line drive off the bat of Brian Wong.

Merchants Even Semi-Final Series

The Merchants facing elimination saw a 17-8 lead disappear when the Lions scored nine runs in the fifth to deadlock the score 17-17, but combined two singles (Hattie Haynes) and two walks (Baxter, Handspiker) to score two runs in the bottom of the fifth and take the lead again.

In the top of the sixth Barry Vantassel opened it with a long home run to centrefield but the Lions although Burgoyne singled, he was caught trying to steal when Melanson threw to Baxter, Charlie Seeley singled but was tagged out by O'Neil when he tried to steal home, walks to Handspiker and Theriault put runners on first and third and Brian Wong pop out to Butch Wong who doubled Kenny Handspiker at third to end the game and sent the series into the third and final game. Mark Melanson (three singles and triple), Chris Halliday a triple, O'Neil and Baxter with double and Keith Haynes with two singles and double were the power at bat for the Merchants. Gary Abell was by far the best batter in the game, he scored four runs drove in three more and had a perfect day at bat getting two home runs, (one a grand slammer) he also had a double, walk and got on base on an error by Handspiker. Brian Wong, Jeff Skinner with two singles and triple also singles and a double respectively gave the fans plenty to cheer about, although in a losing cause. Probably the best act of sportsmanship ever shown in the Little League was demonstrated by Sylvian Rioux when he showed up for the game, realizing he could not pitch, (as each pitcher in Little League is only allowed six innings a week) he caught until his parents came for him to leave on the boat as he was returning to Montreal and back to school. Both teams gave him a round of applause, incidentally Rioux reached first on an error and scored in the first inning and tripled in the second for the Lions. These teams are evenly matched and the third game should be a real thriller. The winner of this series will meet the K of C in the Finals.

Digby Opens High School Soccer Season

Wednesday night D.R.H.S. opened its season against C.F.B. Cornwallis. The promptness of an opening day game was made possible by the steady competition during July and August. Scores and statistics were not available at press time, but the game was used mostly as a try-out competition to help Dave Banks select the Varsity team for the next game against Annapolis High.

Practise is held every day at 3:15 after school.

Seniors Bow To Schooners

A spirited Digby Senior Club opened last week-end with a fine attack on the Saint John goalkeeper resulting in a two goal lead. Saint John was kept off balance in the early minutes while Rich Robbins and Chris Thibault scored on short shots. Salvatose Schiba with good speed at centre scored three of the Schooner goals in spite of a good defensive effort by Digby's backs. Final result was 5-2. Saint John.

Dennison Scores Against Halifax

Previous to the Schooner game, Halifax PeeWees visited our field and held a 1-0 lead over Digby during second half of the match. With thirty seconds left in time, Terry Dennison of Smith's Cove resumed the ball through so send the game into overtime. After two overtime periods the teams gave up, shook hands and retired with a 1-1 draw.

Lions Eliminated In Deciding Game

Merchants dumped the Lions by the score of 26-15 in the deciding game played on September 5th and thus qualified to meet the K of C in the Finals. The Merchants combined a fourteen hit attack with thirteen walks to score eleven runs in the second, six in the third and fourth and three in the fifth. Mark Melanson (single, double and triple), Joseph Hattie (single and triple), Chris Halliday (double and triple), Keith Haynes (three singles and a double) and Timmy Robicheau (single and two doubles) lead the Merchants to their victory. Brian Wong (single and triple), Jeff Skinner (three singles), Gary Abell (grand slammer and single), Charlie Seeley (single and triple) were great in a losing cause. Butch Wong went the first three innings for the winners gave up three hits, struck-out six and walked six giving up eleven runs. Chris Halliday took over in the fourth struckout one, gave up three hits and walked two giving up four runs (two of the four unearned) Gary Abell started for the Lions and pitched three innings he allowed nine hits, struckout three walked nine giving up seventeen runs (six unearned), Brian Wong took over in third with none out he gave up five hits, walked four and struckout four giving up nine runs (four unearned).

During the past week-end Digby Pines Golfers were in competition for the Vernon L. Bent Memorial Trophy donated by Wallis Print Ltd.

This much sought after prize is awarded each year for the best net score by the combination of a Junior and a Senior Golfer.

This year the winners - with a total if 137 - were Linden Garron and Don Brown.

Runners - up were David Oliver and Phil Robertson. Third, fourth and fifth were: Randy Oliver - Don Fleet, Imran Samad - Tic Collins and Osman Samad - Jack Harris, in order.

The regular competition at the Pines and elsewhere have been just about completed, but there are Tentative plans for a wind - up day to include a match involving Juniors, Ladies and Regular and Senior Men members.

RECALLS

Day to lay a wreath at the cairn in memory of Digby area fishermen who had lost their lives at sea. In 1972, Dr. T. W. Hodgson, Citizen of the Year, laid the wreath because Mr. Handspiker was not in good health.

On Friday, September 1st, Mr. Handspiker was around to cut his birthday cake made by his daughter Faye, Mrs. Eric VanTassell, and to share it with others. Of keen intellect, Mr. Handspiker not only reminisced on his younger years but also conversed fluently on current subjects. Although partly bed-ridden at present and with failing eyesight, Mr. Handspiker enjoyed his gifts, phone calls, cards, visits and radio programs.

It was on September 1, 1881, when Wallace Handspiker was born in Culloden to David William Handspiker and Henrietta Adams Handspiker. He was born in the house later occupied by his brother Jud and family and later by the Sypher Morrell family. It still stands as one of the oldest, if not the oldest house in Culloden. His father was Pennsylvania Dutch, being a descendant of James Handspiker who with the Johnsons, Daleys and others arrived here the latter part of the seventeenth century.

Recalling his young life, Mr. Handspiker said he came from a big family. He started school in Culloden but after he was ten years old he left school and began to work for a living. Today, he said, young folks have it "made" but in his day everybody seemed happy. Mr. Handspiker besides following the sea, enjoyed gardening and up until recently he had planted and cared for the home garden.

Mr. Handspiker married Lidy Cora White, whose death occurred just a few years ago. There are five living children: Gerald of Culloden; Herbert, Toronto; Muriel, Mrs. Fred Fogg, Brantville, Mass.; Faye, Mrs. Eric VanTassell, Mount Pleasant and Gwen at home with her father. There are 10 grandchildren and 24 great grandchildren. Although unable to be present for their father's birthday, his daughter, Mrs. Fogg, and his son, Herbert, each spent three weeks at home this summer. Among those around on Friday to wish him a happy birthday were Gerald, Faye and Gwen, Miss Elsie Robertson, Mrs. Mary Robert, Mrs. J. M. Wallis and others.

In the summer Wallie Handspiker followed the sea in schooners, but in winter he stayed home on the "farm". He recalls the early 1900's when there were five firms in Digby each owning at least one or two vessels. Prices were low, too, he said. For instance in 1914 the fishermen were getting four cents a pound for halibut.

Despite his reaching the good age of 91 years, fishing was a rugged life, according to Mr. Handspiker. Two and three nights at a time without sleep and exposed to the weather. He saw storms of hurricane force, 108 to 110 miles per hour, around Cape Sable and Brier Island when two men had to be lashed to the wheel for four and five hours at a time when the weather was so cold that men could stay at the wheel only a few minutes at a time. In the early days there was no wheelhouse on deck so a man could get under cover and in many cases the sea would wash a man overboard.

Mr. Handspiker, himself, lost a finger while working on ship. He was about 20 years old and he was "heaving up" to get under sail at five o'clock a.m. After being landed at Port Wade, he walked six or seven miles to Granville Ferry where Dr. Smith took care of his injured finger all without going under ether. Later he was cured for by Dr. Morse.

Mr. Handspiker compared the fine radar equipment of today with the facilities available in his day at sea. There was a barometer, a sexton, a chart, a log and dipsy lead to find the depth of the water. But men were used to the sea and operated on experience. One place where experience was needed, he said, was in loading a boat. The inexperienced would overload and the boat would flounder.

Mr. Handspiker recalled that at the age of 17 years in 1898, he was on the Annie M. Sproule out of the Bay of Fundy under Captain Joseph Hersey. There was the Parnell under Captain William Snoell in 1900. The Annie M. Sproule, later sold to Newfoundland parties, was still going in the vessels 80th year. Then he recalled the famous award winner, the Albert J. Lutz, a year round fishing schooner with one of her biggest trips landing 82,300 lbs. of fish in two and a half days. Mr. Handspiker was on the Albert J. Lutz when she was sold in 1917. There was the Loran B. Snow in 1918 manned by Captain Percy Rocs which put in a tough winter but landed 112,000 lbs fish. Another vessel on which he sailed was the J. W. Cousins and to name others there were the Quick Step and the Daisy Lindon.

Mr. Handspiker said they went 100 miles southeast of Shelburne to fish and that was all under sail and not horse-power. He talked about the 150 sailing schooners at Lunenburg and the genuine skipper, Angus Walters, with his genuine crew. He knew how to sail, said Mr. Handspiker, who then reminded that in the 1930's and 1940's there were 108 scallop fishing boats in Digby.

Of his tales of the sea, Mr. Handspiker saved some of the most interesting for the last. It seems that nowhere around Digby or Saint John epuld this Digby schooner he was on get ice, so the captain decided to sail the 250 miles to the American coast to pick up ice and return. Gannet Rock warning had been by firing cannon every twenty minutes but during the days Mr. Handspiker and others of the crew were away with the schooner the cannon warning was shifted to a whistle alarm. No one had told them about it and they nearly lost the ship in a storm on a ledge near Grand Manan because they had been trying to get their bearings from the cannon which had ceased to be. They eventually discovered their peril and made it back to Sandy Cove.

While Mr. Handspiker cannot remember the incident of his birth in 1881, he cannot forget the year of his birth as he heard often about the Princess Louise out of Parrsboro with a crew of six which went ashore one stormy night in November 1881 near Culloden and Bay View. The Nufield, a government steamer was towing the Princess Louise, according to Mr. Handspiker, when four miles off and little power the tow dragged the Nufield where it went ashore on Christopher's Point. Two men of the six were saved, having got ashore and walking to the lighthouse occupied then by William Ellis. A monument was erected in memory of the lost and the two who were saved had made yearly visits to to see the place where the ship went ashore. Around the monument was coiled the two fathoms of hawser used in towing.

NICHOLSON CUTS WHARF RIBBON

Saturday, August 26, at High Noon, High Tide was a High Auspicious Day in Annapolis Royal. Dignitaries of Church and State followed by a crowd of interested and happy people from town and surrounding districts attended the colorful ceremony of the cutting of the ribbon marking the opening of the restored railway wharf. H. S. Cunningham, with his bagpipes, led the procession onto the wharf, where a platform was erected. Mr. Joe Casey was the genial master of ceremonies, and with him on the platform were Harry Miller, Halifax; Emmanuel Adelaar, Weymouth; T. H. H. Fortier; Hon. Peter Nicholson; Rev. M. G. Butler; Capt. Collins; Joe Casey, MLA; Mayor R. B. Edwards (not shown); Hon. Glenn Bagnell and Hon. Benoit Comeau.

The Honourable Mr. Nicholson, in cutting the ribbon and formally opening the new wharf, spoke with pride of the workmen in his home town. He said that they had put in slightly over 16,000 man hours on the wharf; used 16 tons of 7/8" bolts, from 16" to 30" in length; 2 tons of spikes; 4 miles of piles and poles; slightly over 250,000 board feet of lumber supplied by the Fortier Lumber Company and the cost will be under $12,000.

Mr. Casey expressed his personal pleasure at this wonderful new wharf, speaking not only as a member of the legislature, representing the County of Digby, but as a ship's pilot, as his grandfather and father had been before him and as one of his sons is now. No one knew just how precarious it was to pilot one of the large pulpwood boats to anchor safely at the rotten old railway wharf these past few years. Especially did he praise Mr. T. H. H. Fortier for his indomitable faith that a new wharf would eventually come to Annapolis Royal.

Plan Safer Access To Town

Plans for an improved eastern access to the Town of Digby from Trunk 101 highway were announced recently by Digby area MLA Joe Casey.

Mr. Casey said he had been advised by Highways Minister Garnet Brown that a new intersectional treatment was being planned by the Department of Highways to facilitate increasing traffic flow in the area.

The improvements will include an additional 600-foot traffic lane for eastbound traffic turning onto the Digby access road from Trunk 101 and another 600-foot lane for westbound traffic turning off the access road onto Trunk 101.

Mr. Casey said he was pleased that the work was being planned and felt that it would improve the safety and efficiency of vehicular traffic movements to and from Digby.

Preliminary engineering for the project design has been completed and work will be completed at an estimated cost of $47,000, in conjunction with an awarded contract of $171,000 on Trunk 101 between Bear River and Joggins Bridge.

Completion date for the lighting requirements at the intersection, the results of which are expected shortly, according to Mr. Casey.

The office of Dr. P. C. Outhouse will be closed September 2 to September 23 inclusive.

Cancel Business Education Grant

The Digby Regional High School Board stands to lose $4,000 this year and $8,000 next year due to cancellation of Business Education Grant. A letter from Peter Nicholson, Minister of Education said the change is related to the general financial position of the province and represents an effort to use the funds available wisely and to avoid possibility of duplication. The matter came before the Board at its regular meeting on Monday, August 21 which was presided over by the chairman, Mayor Glen Smith. Mayor Smith stated that they might find it necessary to charge the student separate tuition to take business education at D.R.H.S. He also said that a protest would be made if another Board or Boards received a grant.

It was noted that Weymouth Consolidated School extension was near completion and the D.R.H.S. Board had not been advised by the Digby Municipal School Board what effect this would have on the total student enrolment at D.R.H.S. School Board member Arnold Marshall was requested to get this information.

In his report, C. C. MacInnes, Supervisor, noted that nothing more had been done regarding a power mechanics course at D.R.H.S. The importance of the subject was noted and plans made to look into the matter further. It was decided to engage a new administrator for Adult Education courses next winter and a pilot project in Grade XII Economics will be instituted.

Mr. Smith welcomed Principal Lister Hannah and two vice-principals to the Board meeting. They thanked Mr. Smith and stressed the importance of being there. Two new teachers had been engaged for the staff, Miss Kathleen F. Pretty and Neil Gillis.

It was agreed that informal meetings of teachers and parents would be a good idea to cement relationships. These would preferably be held in private homes or church halls with the D.R.H.S. Board bearing the expense. It was also suggested that teachers and principals teaching students of the same grade levels might get together for informal discussions on a students participation, studies and classroom behaviour.

It was agreed that more educational trips should be arranged for students during the school term and Mr. Hannah was questioned on the plan of students learning on the job. He said that approximately ten to twenty students were interested and several companies indicated they would like to enter the scheme.

Two quotations had been submitted for sanding, sealing and painting lines in the gym but the Board considered $1,553 and $1,500 both high and decided to go to public tender.

It was reported that the students hired to help in maintenance during the summer had proved excellent workmen and the plan will be taken on again in 1973.

Bills passed for payment amounted to $6,492.

Sandy Cove Wharf Extension

The Federal Department of Public Works has awarded a $32,248 contract to L. G. and M. H. Smith Limited of Port Hood Island to extend the wharf at Sandy Cove East, Digby County.

Allan J. MacEachen, Nova Scotia's representative in the Federal Cabinet, made the announcement Monday. He said the work is expected to be finished by the end of October.

The contract provided for a 25 foot extension to the wharf so that there will be increased wharfage as well as more protection for boats moored there.

Three tenders were received for the work, the highest being $49,690.

50th Wedding Anniversary Celebrated

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Bertram Morehouse were at home to their friends and neighbours on August 21st, the occasion being their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

Hostesses were their daughter Mrs. Albert E. Everett Jr., of Little Rock, Arkansas and Mrs. Clifford Jackson, Hamilton, Ontario, sister of Mrs. Morehouse. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Osborne Morehouse, Mrs. Ralph Morehouse, Miss Anna MacKay, Miss Elizabeth MacKay, Mrs. Weldon Trask, Mrs. Frank Jeffrey, Miss Ada Johnson, Mrs. Victor Titus, Mrs. Homer Brayton of Mass., and Mrs. Walter Hinchman of Pomfret, Conn.

Dr. and Mrs. Morehouse (formerly Alice McCullough) were married in St. Luke's Church, Annapolis Royal and had lived in U. S. A. and South America until Dr. Morehouse retired in 1961. Since then they have resided in Sandy Cove, former home of Dr. Morehouse, spending the winters in Arkansas and Florida.

The honoured couple were the recipients of many lovely gifts, including a beauti-

MOVIE REVIEW

Play Misty For Me

This motion picture is a Universal Production starring Clint Eastwood who is one of the most popular male stars of today. It is rated as being a restricted movie and full of suspense with sex. A super-cool disc jockey meets and beds down with a pretty, devoted fan, who really is obsessed with him and determined to possess him completely or destroy herself, him and anybody in between. In color. A very exciting movie.

Citizens Of Digby

We need a strong willed Council.

We are proud of our heritage.

We certainly want improvements, but we cannot afford give-aways.

We do not want to sell ourselves down the drain.

No promises can be offered before the facts are known.

No "yea" or "nea" vote will be issued until all the homework has been completed.

On Sept. 12th vote MACNAUGHTON.

Thank you.

Highway Accident Claims Life

Peter Andrewman Langford, age 37 years, of Weymouth Falls lost his life on Monday evening in a car accident at Belliveau Cove on highway one. Mr Langford was alone in the car when the accident occured around seven o'clock.

It is understood that the accident happened when Mr. Langford attempted to pass another car. The vehicle he was driving slipped off the shoulder and overturned.

Mr. Langford is survived by his wife and two children. R.C.M.P. of the Meteghan detachment were called.

Plaque Presented

Cecil Harris of Boston and Kenneth Harris, Digby, presented to St. Luke's Anglican Church, Annapolis Royal on Sunday morning, a plaque in memory of their parents.

The father, Frederick Wheelock Harris was vestry clerk at St. Luke's for 45 fears and the mother, Mrs. Kathleen Eleanor Harris was a choir member for 35 years.

The plaque was received and dedicated in their memory by Rev. A.G. Peters, rector.

STUDENTS EARN $650

In his report to the Digby Municipal School Board on Tuesday evening, C. C. MacInnes, supervisor, complimented the students and staff of Smith's Cove Consolidated School for their tremendous effort in raising $650 for playground equipment.

Mr. MacInnes reported total staff filled in each of the schools under his supervision and felt the enrollment in the feeder schools to be slightly decreased. He presented the names of Barbara Outhouse, Angela Gower, Mary Thompson and Brenda Guier, who have requested to take commercial courses at the Digby school. These were agreed upon by the board and the board will pay up to $15 room and board or provide transportation.

It was decided to call tenders for a furnace for the Digby Neck Consolidated School.

Permission was given to close the elementary schools on October 5 in favor of an Annapolis-Digby teachers' conference. The board is invited to meet for an evening session in Annapolis Royal when Dr. Nason, deputy minister of education, will be the speaker.

The board is invited to meet in Freeport for the regular October meeting and they also received an invitation to Weymouth.

Keith Manzer, supervisor at the Islands, reported all staff appointments made but they are short on supplies. He regretted that there was no audio-visual room when this phase of education is so important, but he was improvising a classroom for the pur-

Vandals Destroy Garden Bench

The regular monthly meeting of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society, was held at the home of Mrs. Louise Stephen, with Miss Marjory Tupper, president, presiding. Twenty-one members were present.

A report of an August Executive and Directors' meeting was given. It was agreed to have a plant booth at the Hospital Fair as had been requested by the Board of Directors of the Digby General Hospital. This event will come under the direction of the Garden Club Ways and Means Committee. Several residents have already been contacted to donate plants. Anyone wishing to have donations picked up, please phone Miss Tupper or Mrs. A. Wentzell.

It was reported that a new bench at the Admiral Digby Park was badly damaged the night of the day it was placed there and will have to be removed to be repaired. Another damaged bench has been temporarily repaired.

Miss L. Daley, Park Committee, stated the area was still showing considerable bloom but more weeding will be necessary before the Park is prepared for winter.

Several roses at the Loyalist Cemetery were winter-killed. They will be replaced next spring. In the meantime plants donated by John Igoe have added a colorful appearance to the cemetery.

Mrs. Jack Keen gave an interesting account of the 19th annual convention of N.S.A.G.C. in Truro, which she and Miss Mabel Marshall had attended as delegates.

Much useful informtion on subjects relating to the many phases of gardening, was given by speakers along with business programs, social events were held.

The Digby Garden Club came fouth in the Activities Contest for 1972, receiving a prize of $15. The club was

Blood Donor Dates Announced

"Blood Donor Week" for Digby and area has been arranged by E.B. Tufts, District Red Cross Chairman, who has announced the date of the Digby Clinic to be Wednesday, September 20th with clinics to be held in Saulnierville on the preceeding day and in Bridgetown on the following day. The Digby Clinic is again being held in the Lions Club Hall, under the sponsorship of that organization, and will be in three sessions 10-12 in the morning, 2-4 in the afternoon and 6-9 in the evening. The Red Cross Mobile Team from Halifax will be assisted in the operation of the Clinic by local nurses and workers from the Digby Red Cross Branch.

The success of these clinics in meeting their quota is vital to the maintenace of the Red Cross Blood Bank, which depends on each week's clinics for its supply of whole blood. Coming at the end of the vacation period with its high accident rate which has inevitobly made increased demands on the Blood Bank, Mr. Tufts points out the great responsibility resting on this area to support the clinics and thus maintain the Provincial blood supply at a safe level to meet regular needs, as well as providing for any unforeseen emergencies.

The Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service was set up over 25 years ago and now, a quarter of a century later, blood transfusions are accepted by Canadians as a normal form of hospital treatment, free and readily available as required. However, Red Cross officials who are connected with the Transfusion Service warn the Canadian public against any such complacency. A recent report from the Nova Scotia Blood Donor Committee states: The level of help which we can expect or demand of our hospitals relates directly to the number of blood donations that we can provide to these hospitals. Thus it all comes back to the individual donor who must make the decision, himself or herself, to attend the Blood Donor Clinic and give "the gift of life".

The Digby Clinic serves a widespread area from Bear River and Cornwallis to Weymouth, Digby Neck and the Islands, and many donors travel long distances to attend. Those wishing further information or transporation may contact the nearest member of the following Blood Donor Committee and area representatives: E.B. Tufts, District Chairman, Mayor Glen Smith, Stewart MacNaughton, and Claude Westcott, Lions Club President, all of Digby; Lawrence Henshaw, Bear River; W/o MacKenna, C.F.B. "Cornwallis"; Robert Ecker, Deep Brook; Mrs. Francis Berry, Smith's Cove; Mrs. Lloyd Grant, Barton; Mrs. Walter Melanson, Plympton; Mrs. Elicee Thibault, Doucetteville; Ralph Cosman, Weymouth; Mrs. Waters Comeau, Rossway; Mrs. Keith Raymond, Centreville, Mrs. Juanita Morehouse, Sandy Cove; Mrs. Eldred Frost, Little River; Mrs. Gordon Therianlt, East Ferry; Mrs. Warren MacIntyre, Freeport.

The quota set for the Digby Clinic is 300 donations. This was exceeded in the Spring Clinic and the committee is hoping to go "over the top" again. To do so they will need, and welcome, a crowd of donors. However, those who wish to avoid the rush and could conveniently attend in the afternoon between two and four o'clock might help relieve the hoped-for waiting line in the evening.

Please support your Blood Donor Clinic. Remember - "Someone lives because someone Gives".

Bus Situations Occupy School Board Members

Two motions which passed at the regular meeting of the Digby Municipal School Board on Tuesday evening will help to alleviate the busing problem which has existed at Weymouth Consolidated School since the split-shift arrangement for classes was made a few weeks ago. The first motion provides an extra bus on a temporary basis and to advertise for a spare driver on a temporary basis. This would provide for transporting school children at Weymouth North back road and at Weymouth Mills on a temporary basis.

The other motion followed the report of James Hanscomb, Weymouth School Supervisor, in which he recommended that the split-shift of the Junior and Senior High School grades be from 12:45 p.m. to 5:00 o'clock p.m. instead of 1:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. The motion in agreement was regularly passed.

When plans progressed for an extension to Weymouth Consolidated School providing commercial courses for the students, teachers were engaged for the purpose. The school extension, however, was greatly delayed, which required the supervisor and School Board to make alternate arrangements for accommodation. This, according to the Board and supervisor, necessitated a split-shift until the extension is constructed. The schedule decided upon was 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 for the primary and elementary grades to attend school and 1 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. for the junior high and seniors.

A parents meeting with the school board was called on Thursday, September 7, when a resolution was adopted to go before the school board requesting three additional buses for a total of six buses. Arthur Rice, Weymouth, represented a section of the parents and shared in conducting the meeting with Mrs. M. P. Gott, chairman of the Municipal School Board. The chief objection was the early morning hour in which the younger children would have to leave for school while still dark. Before the people had disbanded for the evening it had been understood by press and others that an agreement was made also to try the proposed bus schedule for a week. Other parents felt they gave no consent to this and parents were on hand at the opening of school to boycott the school buses at the school entrance. The boycotting was orderly.

It was learned at the board meeting on Tuesday that a half hour had been cut from the starting out time of buses in the morning but Mr. Rice presented the resolution of the parents to the board. Upholding the resolution on Tuesday evening was Roy Thurber, one of some twenty Weymouth visitors at the meeting. Mrs. Alex Lombard also appeared before the board requesting bus service on the Lombard Road in Weymouth where there are five year old pupils and two students who are physically handicapped. Mr. Thurber was most appreciative to the school board for their many efforts for the good of students, teachers and parents. He also spoke highly of Mr. Hanscomb.

Weymouth parents at the board meeting were reminded that children in other areas living on the St. Mary's Bay, Bay of Fundy, Long and Brier Islands, Smith's Cove and Barton also have to walk distances, leave home early and arrive back late.

A letter from Harry Adams, Bay View, advised the board that he would not be available to transport certain children to the school bus stop or from Bay View to school this term. The regular school bus does not pick up these children because there is no bus turning point. Mr. Adams felt his four door sedan was not large enough for eight children and not safe. He urged a speedy resolving of bus difficulties in Bay View.

Five Generations

Miss Sherry O'Neil, age three, and sister, Laureanne, age two months, sit proudly by great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Archie Wagner, who resides at Sissiboo Falls, Weymouth. In the background are Sherry and Laureanne's mother, Mrs. Tom O'Neil, Digby; maternal grandmother, Mrs. Robert Hewey, Conway; and maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Spurgeon Newcombe, Weymouth North.

Dredge Removed

The unsightly dredge on the beach at Weymouth North has been removed. As he had done several times previously, Councillor Arhur Rice, Weymouth complained at the July 24 regular session of Council that the dredge was an eyesore to the beach and residents were concerned about having the beauty of their community marred.

Mr. Rice, with encouragement from Council, got in touch with Deputy Minister of Lands and Forests, R.H. Burgess who contacted the Department of Transport and who in turn photographed the scene.

Work on the relocation of the dredge started Tuesday.

Hamilton To Appear In Digby

George Hamilton IV will be appearing in Digby for a show in benefit of the Digby Forum sponsored by the Digby Recreation Commission.

George is described as a tall, skinny, soft spoken singer from Carolina qualified with the experience from a crazy quilt career plus the added advantages of grass-roots common sense and a college education. He appeals to people because of his easy and honest approach.

Born in the city, a grandfather in a mountain town influenced the life of George Hamilton IV, helping him to appreciate the rural environment. The grandfather was a county music fan as was the grandson. Fame came to George early and success followed rapidly.

Mr. Hamilton believes success of country music today is due to young people seeking ways to get back to the roots and truth. They feel they have been given an unreal, untrue world. While there are those who think the young people are lost, he has great hopes for them. He has a great interest in young people and appeals to them and can easily communicate with them.

Mr. Hamilton travels 100,000 miles a year but he remains strong and firm as a family man.

The Countrymen from Digby who also expected to be on the show have disbanded through illness and other reasons and will not be appearing.

Digdon — Butler

The marriage of Barbara Elizabeth Butler, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Isaac Butler, Digby, and William Augustus Digdon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby Digdon, Mulgrave, was solemnized in Trinity Anglican Church, Digby, by the bride's father on July 29. Bernard Butler, Montreal, brother of the bride, gave her in marriage. Stephen Butler, the bride's nephew, and Shane Mackay, the groom's nephew, were ring bearers. Alan Frazer, Halifax, was the organist.

A special choir preceded the bridal party to the chancel singing the hymn "Christ Is Made The Sure Foundation" to the tune "Westminster Abbey". The bride's dress was of white lagoda silk, styled on princess lines with chapel train, the scooped neckline and sleeve cuffs were trimmed with French lace and seed pearls. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a headpiece of pearls and lace petals. Her only jewelry was a gold cross and chain necklace set with rubies — a family heirloom. She carried a spray of red roses and baby breath and trailing star ivy. The bride's sister, Mrs. Ken Mackenzie, Halifax, was matron of honor, the groom's sister, Mrs. Ian Mackay, New Glasgow, was bridesmaid. Both wore identical gowns of white silk organze over taffeta with red rosebud trimming and white crochet picture hats. They carried bouquets of red and white roses. George Mackay, New Glasgow, was best man for the groom. Geoffrey Butler, Ken Mackenzie and Ian Mackay were ushers. The register was signed in the presence of the congregation, during which time the organist played soft appropriate music. The choir sang Psalm 67 as the bridal party approached the altar for the final blessing. The service ended with the hymn "Praise My Soul The King Of Heaven", followed by the recessional "Fanfare" by Healey Willan. The bride's mother wore blue and the groom's mother pink.

A garden reception followed on the grounds of Trinity Church Rectory. Mr. F. C. Purdy was master of ceremonies. Mr. Harold Emerson proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded. Miss Anne Emerson was in charge of the guest book. The catering was done by the ladies of Trinity Church Guild. Flower arrangements for the church and rectory were by Miss Louise Daley and Mrs. Gordon Cameron; cake decoration by Mrs. William Troupe Sr.; photography, Mr. Bryson Denton.

The bride and groom left for a short honeymoon to New England, the bride travelling in a blue summer dress and sleeveless coat ensemble and wearing a corsage of white roses.

They will reside in Mulgrave where the bride will teach music at Mulgrave Regional High School and the groom as manager of F. W. Digdon & Sons.

DIGBY DOCTOR GETS CERTIFICATE AT CONVOCATION

Dr. D.G. Black, Digby received his Diploma of Certification in Family Practice from the College of Family Practice of Canada, Toronto, Ontario during the past weekend. There were five others from Nova Scotia centres, Wolfville, Halifax and New Glasgow, who received the diplomas and about 125 in all Canada

Dr. Black wrote the examination at Master's University in Hamilton in June and the Convention was held at the Inn-On-The-Park at Don Mills, Ontario.

Dr. Black was accompanied to Don Mills by Mrs. Black and they visited in Brockville, Ontario with their daughter, Mrs. Leonard Mish, Mr. Mish and Sandra enroute.

Dr. Black was born and educated in Prince Edward Island, graduating from Prince of Whales College and also attending Mount Allison University. He taught school for two years before entering Dalhousie University to study medicine. After graduating from medicine in 1944, he joined the Air Force and in 1946 took up practice in Digby and has remained here with the exception of one year when he took a post graduate course in surgery in Connecticut, U.S.A.

Dr. Black is presently president of Medi-C Limited which sponsors the McCleave Medical Centre. He served on Digby Town Council for five years and was Deputy-Mayor. He is presently on the Digby Regional High School Board and is past president of the Digby District Home and School Association. He has shown interest in the Digby Kiwanis Club, being a past president, and he serves in several capacities at Grace United Church. He is past president of the Digby Curling Club and enjoys a round of golf.

— ABOUT THIS AND THAT —

Where Will The Bikes Go?

The bicycles will soon be put up for the winter. Rarely do you see anyone driving a bicycle even with a mere covering of white snow on the ground. But there's another Spring coming in 1973 and if the highways continue to produce bicycles as they did in 1972, there should be something done.

Did you ever come up to 10 or 20 cyclists spread half way over the road in front of your four wheeled vehicle while a string of vehicles came towards you on the opposite side. Or, even one bicycle can hold up the traffic if there isn't a proper lane for it to travel. Suppose you are in a speed zone. You just don't try to pass, now do you?

A bicycle has many assets to its credit. It is much more economical than a car, both in the initial cost and the upkeep. They claim cycling is healthful exercise while transportation by car adds to a person's weight and other resulting detriments to health because of lack of exercise. Bicycles do not pollute the air with either carbon monoxide or noise, while cars are guilty of both.

Yes, bicycles are fun to ride and more and more children and adults are taking up the sport. But, for many years this has been a four-wheel vehicle oriented world that isn't going to be easily turned from its accustomed ways for the mere revival of the two-wheeler custom. Both bikes and cars and cyclists and motor drivers are vulnerable to accidents and it appears there will be more vehicles of both kinds for the highways to accommodate in 1973. Will it come to the highway providing a special lane for cyclists in the name of safety?. Think about it. If not, where will the bikes go?

Hodge Podge

— The tables turned with appreciation. Most of us enjoy being guests in someone else's home and make a point of saying so through a bread-and-butter letter to the hostess after arrival home. But, what makes the visit twice as pleasant is to have a six year old co-host write the letter "Thank you for coming to visit".

— That presiding officer for the town election was not H. M. Warne, it was Herbert Warren. One thing about a confusion in names, you get twice as much publicity.

— Whew! Does it ever pay to advertise in The Digby Courier, said a lady on Friday as she paid one dollar for her advertisement. It did the trick the same day the Courier came out and I counted 94 replies to the advertisement. Can't beat that for money well spent.

— Canada census in 1961 showed Nova Scotia population 737,007, of which 680,233 were English and 39,568 were French and 17,206 others. In 1971 the figures were 788,961, an increase of 51,954; English 733,560, an increase of 53,227; French 39,330, a decrease of 238 persons and 16,070 others, or a decrease of 1,136. The census for Digby County in 1961 was 20,350: English, 12,495; French 7,730; German 35; Indian and Eskimo 10; Italian 10; Netherlands 15; other 65.

NEW HOUSE DESIGN:— Architect J. Bryan Crawley of Winnipeg designed this unique three-bedroom bungalow.

The house combines a well-arranged plan with an interesting exterior in which the flat roof is offset by the bay windows. Ample unbroken wall space permits convenient arrangement of furniture in the living-dining room, while the sliding doors to the patio provide a pleasant "indoor to outdoor" area. If not required for sleeping purposes, the smaller bedroom would make an excellent study.

For best lighting, the house should be sited so that the living room faces south.

The floor area is 1,425 square feet excluding the carport, and the exterior dimensions are 42 feet by 41 feet. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 2334, can be obtained from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at a moderate cost.

ADELAIDE DANIELS SAYS

OBESITY AND PREGNANCY

In this age of the slick, sophisticated young mother, there is no reason for anyone to be a fat mama. The choice is up to you.

Some women have troubles with their diet during pregnancy. It's very easy to gain weight without eating too much. However I've noticed that if a woman already has the tendency to be obese she will usually become more obese.

There have also been cases of young women who wanted to have babies and could not become pregnant. They have gone to gynecologists for help only to find out there's no reason for not conceiving, with one possible exception — overweight.

Obesity before pregnancy sometimes can exaggerate the normal problems of pregnancy and can cause some problems in motherhood that would not occur with a woman who was at normal weight.

Doctors claim that an overweight woman who becomes pregnant runs a greater risk of suffering from hypertension and cardiac problems. She is also more likely, they say, to suffer from varicose veins or other vein diseases than is a woman of average weight.

According to a study by a top gynecologist any weight gain above 20 pounds during pregnancy is usually a permanent weight increase.

In addition some women retain a great deal of weight after the birth of their child. For instance, if a woman has been working before her baby was born and is sitting home after, she has more chances to nibble — and many women do just that.

Obesity and childbirth can go hand in hand for both the overweight and normal-weight woman. Yet, if a woman is concerned about her health and looks, she can reduce at any point before, during or after the birth of a child without any danger to herself or the baby if she follows a sensible nourishing food program.

Notes from Bird Haven

September 2nd and 3rd were bird watching days at Brier Island by members of the Nova Scotia Bird Society. Some sixty members were present. We were divided into several groups, some going out by boat to study sea birds, others covered the shore and woods. We all met for lunch and compared notes. A total of 102 species were recorded and everyone expressed their thanks to those who arranged such a delightful trip.

In the last issue of the N. S. Bird Society News Letter it referred to the bad snow of April 9th and the blizzard of May 9th and 10th being so hard on the birds arriving at that time, especially robins, fox sparrows, swallows and geese. Some 2,300 geese were fed at Amherst Point by the Canadian Wildlife Service, who distributed 1500 pounds of grain transported over the marsh by snowmobile; at Pugwash a field was ploughed by the R.C.M.P. and grain distributed. Similar feeding was carried out by private citizens throughout the province.

It also contains a picture of a fox sparrow talking to a robin — the caption being "Didja ever see such awful weather?"

This shows the growing interest being taken in our birds. The more birds we have the fewer bugs and weed seeds we have to combat.

I will tell you a story of how dependent birds can become on humans. One day a tree swallow was fluttering in front of a window. I noticed it but paid little attention to it. After some time the bird was continuing to fly in the same manner. I went out and found one of her babies caught in a ladder, standing against the house. After being released they continued on their way.

A lot of birds are passing through the yard now and the nuthatches and woodpeckers have returned to their winter feeding stations.

A few days ago a friend and I took our breakfast to a side road in Smith's Cove to watch for birds and were well rewarded — saw Myrtle, Blackburnian, Tennessee, Nashville, Parula Warblers, Towhee, Catbirds, Rose Breasted Grosbeak, Bohemian and Cedar Waxwings, Baltimore Orioles, Song and White Throated Sparrows. Quite a list for two hours.

So long.

The Bird Lady.

Merchants Outlast In First Game Of Finals

The Wood coached Merchants took the first game of the Finals, which was started on Wednesday, September 6th and stopped at the bottom of the fifth (Merchants leading 24-19) on account of darkness. This game was completed on Thursday Sept. 7th and the Merchants finally won it by the score of 31-25. It was a real slugfest first one team coming up with a big inning and then the other. Mark Melanson with a grand slammer, two singles, double, triple in six trips; Joe Hattie with four singles and a triple in five at bats. Chris Halliday with two triples and two doubles in six trips; Keith Haynes with a single, double and triple in six tries and Darrel O'Neil with three singles lead the batting attack for the Merchants. Paul LeBlanc with a triple, double and two singles; Mark Hudson with two doubles, triple and single; Rusty Chute came through with a key single in the fifth with three on to score two runs; and Danny LeBlanc, who was hurt prior to the game returned to the line-up and added a triple and single in two trips; these players lead the offensive power of the K of C. Each team used a number of pitchers, the Merchants were harder pressed as they had completed a semi-final series with the Lions earlier in the week and they used Butch Wong, Chris Halliday, Joseph Hattie, and Mark Melanson. The K of C, who incidentally were coached by Stan Locke in the absence of Fred Bates, sent Kevin Locke to the mound for three innings and he was relieved by Paul LeBlanc. The combined pitching of the Merchants issued a total of fifteen walks struckout ten and gave up sixteen hits in a winning cause. The K of C pitching staff gave up twenty-one hits, walked fifteen and struckout nine in a losing cause. The game was as usual handled well by Umpires Steve Vantassel and Junior Smith.

K of C Bounce Back To Even Finals

Behind the clutching pitching of Danny LeBlanc and a real team effort on the part of the K of C the Finals were all tied up with a game apiece, this game was immediately started at the completion of the first game, which had been won by the Merchants. Danny LeBlanc gave up a total of fourteen hits (eight in the fifth when the Merchants scored eight runs). He had a perfect day at bat with a triple, double and two singles in four trips. Each team were able to score four runs in the first inning. Danny LeBlanc blanked the Merchants with no runs in the second, third and fourth innings while his team scored four in the second on singles by Kynock, Hudson, Locke and a double by Jamie Walsh added to this an error by Handspiker and Rusty Chute hit by Butch Wong two more runs in the third (singles by Locke, D. LeBlanc plus two walks (Hudson, B. Robicheau and Paul LeBlanc hit by pitch); in the fourth with Kynock and Hudson on second and third Paul LeBlanc came through with a double to left field scoring them both and Walsh flied out to pitcher making two out and immediately after catch Paul LeBlanc now on third stole home, Danny LeBlanc hit a double stole third and home with the other run before Billy Robicheau fanned out in the top of the sixth three more runs crossed the plate for the K of C.

The Merchants trailed from the second inning on and made a real fight of it when they scored eight runs in the fifth, on singles by Melanson, Hattie, O'Neil, a single and double by Halliday, double by Timmy Robicheau, single by Haynes, and triple by Butch Wong. Two home runs were hit, Locke drove a long hit ball to centrefield in the first inning with no one abroad and Keith Haynes opened the top of the sixth for the Merchants with a clean poke to right field, his also came with no one on the base pads. This game saw sparkling fielding at times by both teams but the base running left much to be desired. The Merchants were only able to manage one run in top of the sixth and thus set the stage for the deciding game on Monday, September 11th at 6:15 p.m.

K of C Wins League Championship

In a real team effort the K of C downed Merchants in a game that began on September 11th and was completed on September 12th by the score of 22-19 to win the Little League Baseball Championship. The Merchants lead at one stage in the game by the score of 12-0 but Fred Bates coached K of C never gave up and fought back on even terms only to trail by one going into the bottom of the fifth and scored four runs while holding the Merchants scoreless in the top of the sixth to win the Championship. The game was halted by Umpire Steve Vantassel in the bottom of the fifth with one on and none out for the K of C because of darkness on September 11th and was resumed September 12th. Kynock received a walk putting runners on first and second then Hudson got a double to score Robicheau and Kynock, Locke followed with a double scoring Hudson and scored on a single by Paul LeBlanc, Danny LeBlanc singled and Paul LeBlanc was caught trying to steal home, Rusty Chute was out from pitcher to first and Jamie Walsh struckout to end the bottom of the fifth for the K of C. This set the stage for a due or die effort by the Merchants, after running the count to 3-2 Mark McLanson drew a walk, he stole second, David Handspiker was called out on a 3-2 pitch, Joe Hattie received a walk and with runners on first and third Darrel O'Neil grounded from Danny LeBlanc to Hudson, Melanson chose to remain at third when he easily could have scored, Butch Wong was walked by LeBlanc and with the bases loaded Chris Halliday was called out on strikes to end the game. Butch Wong went the full game for the Merchants allowed thirteen hits, walked thirteen and struckout eight, at bat he had a home run, two singles, two walks; Joe Hattie had a triple and four walks in five trips scoring three runs; Chris Halliday had two singles, triple and walk in five bats; Keith Haynes had a home run, triple, double, single in four trips; all these hits came in the portion of the game played on September 11th and the Merchants were not able to muster and attack in the top of the sixth, played on September 12th thus losing the Championship. Big guns for the K of C were Mark Hudson with three doubles, got on base in fourth on error and later scored, he scored four runs in five at bats; Kevin Locke had two doubles, single and two walks in five trips; Paul LeBlanc had two singles and triple in five trips; Danny LeBlanc (winning pitcher), had two singles and a double in four trips; Rusty Chute had a key single (scoring two runs) also a walk and later scored. Players Billy Robicheau, Gordon Adoms, and Ricky Kynock scored nine runs on walks and were a real boost to the winners. All in all it was a fitting final to the ball season. CONGRATULATIONS to coach Fred Bates and his K of C and to coach Tommy Wood and his Merchants my Sincere thanks for giving it everything — remember it's how you play the game that counts.

Guide To Fall Angling Success

Cool weather brings better fishing, but—as always—the best success goes to those who know where to fish and what lures to use.

To help you select the best fishing areas, and the most likely lures and baits, Red Fisher of Mercury outboards has prepared the following tips.

For largemouth bass fish the shorelines near lily pads and moss beds. Fly rods with popping bugs, light action spinning rods with surface lures, and live bait (minnows and frogs) fished shallow beneath a bobber are good bets.

If you're a musky fan, try big minnows and frogs, shallow running plugs that dart to and fro, and bucktail flies on stiff tackle. These will often produce around the edges of weed and lily beds.

Walleye like to run in large schools in water with a rock or sand bottom. Trolling medium-running plugs and spoons will produce hits, as will minnows fished along underwater bars or around rocks and ledges.

Crappie take readily to live minnows, small spinners, and bright-colored jigs fished near flooded trees and underwater brush. Some good fishing occurs at night, beneath the lights of a dock.

Flies and popping bugs fished along the shore will tempt scrappy sunfish out of their daytime resting places. Best poppers are those which have rubber legs. Move the lure rapidly, stopping for a few seconds between pops.

To get those hard, tackle tearing strikes out of northern pike, work spoons, plugs and minnows near the mouths of small streams feeding into a lake. Real hotspots are where dense weed beds grow near feeder streams. Trolling alongside these often produces big fish.

Whatever your favorite fishing, don't let the cooler days of fall keep you from going out on the lake or river. For even if it's late in the year, it's not too late for some real fishing fun.

Mr. Manzer felt that fifteen percent more students had been successful in last year's school program on the Islands as a result of some of the modern methods introduced.

James Hanscomb's report brought the board up-to-date on the split-shift bus situation (see other column) and complimented the Weymouth Consolidated School's dedicated staff for co-operating beyond duty in these difficult times. He also said the parents and staff were appreciative of the board's efforts regarding the split-shift bus situation.

Mr. Hanscomb brought to the attention of the board the fact that the secretary and janitors put in longer hours with the split-shift. The board recommended secretary assistance from the student body and staggered hours for janitors.

Mr. Hanscomb was finding it difficult to get instructors for the Continuing Education Classes at $5 per hour when Clare was paying $7 per hour. It was pointed out that Clare gets a bilingual grant.

There are 41 on the Weymouth Consolidated School staff, but there is a lack of teaching area. There is a music teacher for the elementary grades, but no music material with which to teach.

Six rooms had been painted during the summer by the janitors and help of high school students. Drainage on the sports field is a problem, Mr. Hanscomb advised.

Mr. Hanscomb was granted permission to attend an Administrators' Conference in Halifax on September 29 and 30.

also complimented on their attractive year book displayed at the convention.

Miss Mary Marshall reported for the 1972 Flower Show and Tea, held in August. Miss Marshall thanked Miss Tupper co-ordinator, for the time, hard work and thought she had given to make the Flower Show a success.

Appreciation was also expressed to Mrs. Geo. Winfield and her tea committee, the club members for their co-operation and to the young ladies who efficiently assisted with the serving.

At the close of the business meeting refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostesses, Mrs. Fred May and Miss Mary Marshall.

Tiverton

Rev. Robert Johnson, Lou Outhouse and Tommy Osborne spent an enjoyable week-end of fellowship, singing and an all-around good time with quite a number of Christian young people leaders and councellors at Johnsons Christa'n Park, South Range.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Outhouse are visiting relatives and friends at Mrs. Outhouse's former home at Grand Manan, N.B.

IN MEMORIAM

BRAGG — In memory of my father and mother, Edward and Clara Bragg who passed away, Father, Dec. 25th, 1948. Mother, Sept. 15th, 1960.
Lovingly remembered by their daughters, Bessie and family Mrs. Arthur Lamberton. 5:1p

ROBICHAUD — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, John Robichaud who passed away Sept. 15th, 1955.
Time goes on with many changes,
Joys and sorrows, smiles and tears,
But his memory we shall cherish with the passing of the years.
Missed always, daughter, Grayce and family. 5:1ip

BREMNER — In loving memory of Clyde Maxwell Bremner who passed away September, 14, 1966.
Those whom we love, go out of sight,
But never out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts
Of those they leave behind.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just in all his days;
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he left behind.
— Lovingly remembered by his wife, Hilda, son, Carl and daughters 5:1c

PULLEY — In loving memory of my husband, Valentine Pulley, who passed away Sept. 17, 1966.
I have lost my soul's companion,
A life linked with my own
And day by day I miss him more
As I walk through life alone.
— Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by wife, and family. 5:1c

THERIAULT — In memory of our father, Wilfred, who passed away on Sept 26, 1955 and our mother, Ruby who passed away Sept 17, 1970.
"Blessed are the dead who in the Lord Christ die!
They live where sorrows end and tears are dry
They live and love in sweet patience wait
To bid you welcome when you reach the gate.
— Always remembered and sadly missed by daughter, Patricia and son, Walter. 5:1c

CARD OF THANKS

PARKER — I would like to thank those who sent letters, cards, gifts and visited me while I was a patient at Victoria General Hospital. Peter Parker. 5:1c

IN MEMORIAM

PORTER — In loving memory of Mrs. Laura Belle Porter, who passed away on September 7, 1969, and who is RESTING ETERNALLY IN JESUS.
Always remembered by her family. 5:1ic

McCULLOUGH — In loving memory of our father, Hearl McCullough who passed away Sept. 13, 1963.
His memory is our keepsake
With which we'll never part.
God has him in his keeping
We have him in our hearts.
— Always remembered by daughter, Beulah, Jimmie and family. 5:1ic

RAYMOND — In loving memory of our dear cousin, Kevin, who passed away Sept. 12.
We did not stand beside you to see your life depart,
But when we heard that you were gone, it nearly broke our heart.
We have only your memory, dear Kevin, to remember our whole life through,
But the sweetness will linger forever, as we treasure the image of you.
— Loved and sadly missed by Cindy, Dwayne and Randy 5:1ic

POWELL — In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Ray Powell who passed away Sept. 16th 1967.
God knew about the suffering
You tried so hard to bear
And it is hard to believe,
You have been gone for five whole years.
We who love you sadly miss you,
And we always will
For you left behind a loneliness
The world can never fill.
In Heaven we'll be together
Never again to part
God has you in his keeping,
We have you in our hearts.
— Always remembered and sadly missed by wife, Maude, daughters, Helen, Barbara, Doris and Marlene and families. 5:1c

RYAN — In loving memory of a dear son, and brother, Richard Calvin Ryan, who passed away Sept. 15th, 1956
Through tears we watched you suffer
We saw you fade away
Our hearts were almost broken
You fought, so hard to stay,
But we know you are sleeping
So peaceful and free from pain
We could not wish you back to suffer so again.
Our hearts still ache with sadness and several tears still flow
For what it meant to lose you Dick
No one will really know.
— Alway remembered by mom and dad, brothers and sisters. 5:1ip

NICKERSON — In memory of Edna M. Nickerson who passed away Aug. 25, 1969.
Three years have passed and gone
Since one we loved so well
Was taken from our home on earth
With Jesus Christ to dwell
The flowers we place upon her grave
May wither and decay
But the love for her who sleeps beneath
Shall never fade away.
— Still missed and lovingly remembered by her family. 5:1c

THERIAULT — In loving memory of a dear father, Wilfred Theriault who passed away Sept. 26, 1955., and mother Ruby (Theriault) Gidney who passed away Sept. 17, 1970.
Your end was very sudden,
It made us weep and cry,
But the saddest part of all
You never said good-bye.
Each time we see your picture
You seem to smile and say:
"Don't cry, I'm only sleeping,
We'll meet again someday".
— Lovingly remembered by daughter, Edith son-in-law, Henry and grandchildren. 5:1ip

YOM KIPPUR
DAY OF ATONEMENT

September 18, 1972
Hebrew Date: Tishri 10, 5733

In Jerusalem, Jews gather at the "Wailing Wall" (The only remnant of an ancient temple in that city) on Yom Kippur, the final day of the Ten Days of Penitence. Here at the site of religious pilgrimages down through the centuries, worshippers observe Yom Kippur. This scripture from The Living Bible is the authority for observance of Yom Kippur.

"This is a permanent law: You must do no work on the tenth day of the seventh month (of the Hebrew calendar), but must spend the day in self-examination and humility. This applies whether you are born in the land or are a foreigner living among the people of Israel; for this is the day commemorating the atonement, cleansing you in the Lord's eyes from all of your sins. It is a Sabbath of solemn rest for you, and you shall spend the day in quiet humility; this is a permanent law. This ceremony, in later generations, shall be performed by the anointed High Priest, consecrated in place of his ancestor Aaron; he shall be the one to put on the holy linen garments, and make atonement for the holy sanctuary, the Tabernacle, the altar, the priests, and the people. This shall be an everlasting law for you, to make atonement for the people of Israel once each year, because of their sins."
(Levitcus 16:29-34)

"Nine days after the Festival of Trumpets, all people are to come together before the Lord, saddened by their sin; and they shall offer sacrifices by fire to the Lord. Don't do any work that day, for it is a special day for making atonement before the Lord your God. Anyone who does not spend the day in repentance and sorrow for sin shall be excommunicated from his people. And I will put to death anyone who does any kind of work that day. This is a law of Israel from generation to generation. For this is a Sabbath of solemn rest, and in it you shall humble your souls and be filled with remorse; this time for atonement begins on the previous evening and goes on until the next evening." (Levitcus 23:26-32)

from
The Living Bible

YOM KIPPUR is the most solemn day of the Jewish New Year. It is a day of fasting and prayer. Yom Kippur is the highest of all holy days in the Jewish Religion.

REUNITED — Air Canada Captain J. A. McKay, 39, as a navy pilot 19 years ago, stood in a similar position on the wing of this ex-Royal Canadian Navy Avenger aircraft minutes before it sank to the bottom of Bedforn Basin after an emergency landing causedby mechanical difficulties. The aircraft was recently recovered by the Canadian Forces Diving Establishment at Dartmouth, N. S., as a training exercise and returned to air station at CFB Shearwater where Capt. McKay inspected the remains. Capt. McKay is now an Air Canada first pilot and lives in Montreal. (Canadian Forces Photo)

Correction To $500

In the Courier of August 24th, on page 7, under the item of "Acadia Scholarship", it was stated that Arthur John Smith, of Weymouth, was awarded $50 as special entrance scholarship from Acadia University. This was an error. It should have stated he was awarded a $500.00 (five hundred) scholarship.

Sorry the linotype dropped a zero.

Employed In Hawaii

George Conrad, Digby, has been employed by the U. S. National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration to do deep sea photography on a special project out of Hawaii. They will be working off the University of Hawaii ship "Kana Keoki" on a 20-day cruise. The object of the cruise is to study the effects of deep sea mining on marine biology. Many countries are interested in these studies and they have scientists from Japan, France, Germany and the U. S. A. aboard.

The ship has been held up by several hurricanes in the area but the weather in Hawaii, according to Mr. Conrad, has been beautiful.

George spent all his time on the main island, Oahu, and has been doing a lot of touring while staying at the Ala Mana Hotel, the biggest and newest hotel in Honolulu.

Road Paving Announced

A section of the Sissiboo Road in Digby County from the Village of Bear River west to Clarke Road will be paved shortly, it has been announced by MLA Joe Casey, of Digby, and, Highways Minister A. Garnet Brown.

The paving will be undertaken on a one-mile section extending from the end of pavement in Bear River west to Clarke Road. This section of highway has been susceptible to washouts over the years because of the hilly terrain.

The decision to pave the road will improve its safety and reduce maintenance costs.

Architects At Smith's Cove

Architects from the Atlantic provinces, who met at Mountain Gap Inn, Smith's Cove for a fall session hosted by the Nova Scotia Association of Architects, are giving consideration to a consumer advisory program similar to one presently being conducted in British Columbia. The program, which is manned by volunteer architects and architectural students, was explained during the three-day session by architect John Dayton, of Vancouver.

"The program", said Mr. Dayton, "provides free architectural advisory service to the community through Saturday morning meetings. Appointments are necessary and advice in the program ranges from help in choosing paint colours to working on complex environmental problems."

President of the Royal Architectural Institute of Canada, Mr. Fred Rounthwaite, Toronto, commended the Maritime Associations for their initiative in recognizing the value of regional co-opeation. He added that "only through program co-ordination will better use be made of the profession's resources in resolving priorities affecting planning and development of his community."

Another speaker at the session, Mr. Peter McNeil, president of Architects Association of Prince Edward Island, said, "in order to be truly responsible in the proper development of our towns and cities, the architect must involve himself in the decision-making process."

Man and Resources
PUBLIC HEARINGS

If you are concerned about the environment, natural resource management, pollution, ecology or any other aspect of the natural world that surrounds you, we want your views.

Under the auspices of the Canadian Council of Resource and Environment Ministers, a series of public hearings will be held in six provincial centres during September to obtain the views of Nova Scotians.

Individuals and organizations, including business and industry, organized groups and educational associations, are invited to attend the meetings to discuss the problems which most concern them, whether provincial or national in scope. Written briefs or verbal presentation (or both) may be made.

Individuals or organizations intending to make a presentation are asked to inform the Nova Scotia Co-ordinating Committee, P. O. Box 1087, Halifax, telephone 424-4321, prior to the start of the public hearings.

Former Air Cadet, Premier Gerald Regan, was back on parade August 18. However he was not performing his old duties as flight sergeant but was inspecting officer for the final graduation parade of the CFB Greenwood Air Cadet Summer Camp for 1972. Premier Regan, who for four years had been a member of the 106 Windsor Squadron, was accompanied on his inspection by Commodore R. W. J. Cocks, Chief of Staff, Logistics, Maritime Command and George Adams of the Nova Scotia Branch of the Air Cadet League. (Canadian Forces Photo)

Hardship and hunger are constant companions to children in the developing countries, and family responsibility is learned very early in life. This boy is making sure that his baby sister gets a share of Canadian milk provided by the Unitarian Service Committee through USC distribution centres overseas. Last year the USC supplied over 4 million cups of milk to undernourished little ones at only 2 cents a cup. Countless children were saved from starvation and death. Contributions to the USC Cup of Milk Fund are welcomed at USC Headquarters, 56 Sparks Street, Ottawa K1P 5B1.

Mavilette Beach Protected

That provincial government has acquired ownership of the large and beach and some adjacent land in Digby County.

Over a period of several years, the government has been buying up the land bordering on the nearly one mile long beach. It has been learned from Halifax that the government secured complete control earlier this year.

It is understood the province can now protect the beach and nearby sand dunes while it carefully looks at the area to see how the beach should be developed.

There have been rumors that the government plans to establish a provincial park in the area along the beach but the government spokesman said a decision has not been made yet on that possibility.

The government got complete ownership earlier this year when it was able to buy a piece of property bordering the beach from a United States citizen.

90 Years Old

On August 19th Stephen Mullen, New Tusket, celebrated his 90th birthday with the following members of his family present: Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Dickinson with whom Mr. and Mrs. Mullen reside; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marr and family; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Mullen, Gaylene and Russell; Mrs. Frederick Blackhorn and daughters, Dianne and Sharon of Port Williams; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Marr and family and Miss Jean Spavold of Granville Ferry.

A buffet supper was served and the evening was spent in singing.

On the 23rd of August, Mr. and Mrs. Mullen celebrated their 56th Wedding Anniversary.

Celebrates 90th Birthday

August 29th was a most important day for Mrs. M.H. Porter of Halifax when she celebrated her 90th birthday. Mrs. Porter will be remembered in Digby as the former Mrs. M. H. Winchester where she operated the Winchester Hotel for many years.

Her four children, Edith (Mrs. Fred Harvie), Halifax; Raymond, Smith's Cove; Lovell (Mrs. Joseph Manuel), Halifax; Paul, Dartmouth were all present for the occasion. A daughter, Verne (Mrs. William VanJoost), passed away in 1971.

Many friends and neighbors came to visit in the afternoon. A special visit was made by a grandson, Philip VanJoost, and his bride, the former Christine Elizabeth Bain, who were married that same day and came with their bridal party directly from the church service.

Mrs Porter was presented with a "Money Tree" made of 90 one-dollar bills which was from her four children, seventeen grandchildren and twenty-four great-grandchildren. One of the latter being just 48 hours old. She also received phone calls from Montreal, P.Q., Yarmouth and North Carolina . . . all wishing her many happy returns and continuing good health and happiness.

W.M.S. Takes Service

The Freeport Baptist W.M.S. on July 30th, 1972 had charge of the morning service. The President, Mrs. Harold Crocker chose as the theme of the service "The Road to Samaria". She was assisted in the various readings and prayers by Mrs. Charles Young, Mrs. Curtis Outhouse, Mrs. W. Ideson, Mrs. Judson Haines, Mrs. Leonard Hewitt, Mrs. Carl Newell, Mrs. Thelma Finigan and Mrs. Charles Cann. A solo was beautifully rendered by Miss Peggy Prime.

On Aug. 1st 1972 the W.M.S. Group met at Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Thurber's summer camp for their yearly picnic and meeting. All members took part in the program by giving readings and poems. At the supper hour, the members and guests partook of a delicious supper, and enjoyed a time of fellowship.

The September meeting of the W.M.S. was held in the vestry with the President, Mrs. Harold Crocker presiding.

The Devotional was given by Mrs. Marguerite Chapman and was entitled "Martha the Most Misunderstood Woman in the Bible". She was assisted by Mrs. Avery Finigan, Mrs. Thelma Finigan, Mrs. Leonard Hewitt, Mrs. Judson Haines, Mrs. Charles Young and Mrs. Theodore Teed. The Lesson presented by Mrs. Daw was in the form of slides of Bolivia. She was assisted by Miss Cheryl Daw. These slides gave a glimpse of the people, their habits and costumes. They showed the work that has been done and is being done by dedicated workers in that country.

RECENT MARRIAGES

Deviney — McCullough

Preceded by two charming maids in pastel shaded gowns, Miss Allalie McCullough, beautiful in her graceful wedding gown, entered Trinity Chapel with her father to become the bride of Edward Deviney, in a double-ring ceremony performed by Padre MacAvany, on Saturday, August 5, 1972. Miss McCullough is the daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Russell McCullough, Sandy Cove, Ont., granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Gidney of Sink Cove, Nova Scotia. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Deviney, of Toronto, Ontario.

Stately palms and snow-white chrysanthemums decorated the chapel for the service.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of sheer organdy in traditional white, fashioned along princess lines, accented by inserts of alencon lace and satin, featuring a stand-up collar, buttoned wide cuffs on long billowing sleeves, deep frilled hemline and graceful chapel train. Her veil of illusion cascaded from a halo of lace and satin. She carried a bouquet of pink and white roses.

Miss Debra Kilby attended the bride as maid of honour, wearing romance pink nylon crepe with bodice of burgundy velvet and lace, full bishop sleeves, complemented by matching romance pink leghorn picture hat. She carried white carnations sprayed pink.

Miss Terry Slezak, as bridesmaid, wore lavender nylon crepe with bodice of satin and lace, full bishop sleeves and matching leghorn picture hat. She carried white carnations sprayed mauve.

Peter Bulford attended as best man and the usher was Mario Berube.

A reception for sixty guests was held immediately following the service at Dakota Mess. Mrs. McCullough received, wearing a black and white ensemble with white accessories. Her corsage was of red and white roses. The mother of the groom chose mauve crepe. Her corsage was of white mums.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Deviney will take up residence at 9 - 8th Street, Borden, Ont., where the groom is stationed.

Guests were present from Toronto, Halifax, Alliston, Niagara Falls, Trenton and Sault Ste. Marie.

MacKinnon — Grant

On Saturday, May 27th, at 3:00 p.m., the marriage of Sandra Gail, younger daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Alered M. Grant, of Digby, to Ernest Francis MacKinnon, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyne MacKinnon, of New Waterford, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, was solemnized at the Digby Wesleyan Church.

Rev. Charles N. Bain officiated at the double ring ceremony. The wedding music was played by Mrs. C. N. Bain and the soloist was Miss Vivian Doherty, of Saint John.

The bride, given in marriage by her father and mother, looked lovely in a floor-length gown with white daisy trim and styled with an empire waist with matching train. The shoulder-length veil was held in place by a headpiece of daisies. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses and shasta daisies.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Miriam Donnelly, sister of the bride, who wore a floor-length gown of yellow and bronze print on a white background styled with an empire waist and matching sash. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white shasta daisies.

The bridesmaids were Miss Vivian Doherty, of Saint John, New Brunswick, and Miss Donna Watts, of Digby, who wore identical yellow floor-length gowns also styled with an empire waist and contrasting print sashes. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow and white shasta daisies. The attendants were chokers and white floppy hats with bands of contrasting print material.

The flower girl, Miss Cathy MacKinnon, sister of the groom, looked charming in her yellow floor-length gown. She wore yellow and white daisies in her hair and carried a basket of yellow and white shasta daisies.

The ring-bearer was Master Robert Donnelly, nephew of the bride, who carried a white pom-de-soie pillow trimmed with roses and streamers.

The best man was Cpl. George H. MacDonald, of CFB Greenwood. The ushers were Mr. Hugh MacKinnon, brother of the groom, of New Waterford, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, and Pte. Rick Bennett, of CFB Greenwood.

The bride's mother chose a navy and white street length ensemble with matching navy and white accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations tipped with pink.

The groom's mother chose a pink and white street length ensemble with matching white accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Digby United Baptist Church hall. Mrs. Gordon Grant, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Maynard Mullen, friend of the bride, poured, and Miss Pamela Chute had charge of the guest book.

The happy couple spent a honeymoon in Cape Breton, after which they took up residence at CFB Greenwood, where the groom is a member of the Canadian Armed Forces and the bride is employed at Soldier's Memorial Hospital, Middleton, N. S.

Mossman — Rummel

The marriage of Marion Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heins Rummel, Naughton, Ontario, to Lieutenant Charles Edward Mossman, son of Chief Supt. and Mrs. Harris V. Mossman, Ottawa, Ontario, took place in the Trinity United Church, Lively, Ontario, on July 22, 1972. Rev. Robert Munro officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Mr. Graham Laporte was the organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of cloud pink nylon taffeta, trimmed with white lace and embroidered pink roses, with a hood of the same material. Her bouquet was of red, white and pink carnations.

The maid of honor was Miss Susan Elliott, of Bowmanville, Ontario. She wore a pink gown with floral skirt and long sleeved plain pink bodice. She carried a bouquet of shasta daisy mums.

Richard McKenzie, of Ottawa, was best man, and Thomas Rummel, brother of the bride, was the usher.

Following the ceremony, a dinner was held at the Billmur Inn and the reception at the bride's home, 18 Lawrence Street, Naughton, Ontario.

Out of town guests at the ceremony included Mrs. John W. Murley, of Digby, N. S., grandmother of the groom; Miss Marjorie Murley of Somerset, N. S., and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Murley of Exeter, Ontario.

The bride is a graduate of Queen's University and the Ottawa Teacher's College. The groom is a graduate of the Royal Military College of Canada.

The happy couple will reside in Calgary where the groom is stationed with the Canadian Armed Forces.

Bigelow — Adams

A lovely summer wedding was solemnized at the Smith's Cove Baptist Church on Saturday evening, July 29, when Valerie June, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Adams, Smith's Cove, was united in marriage to Frederick Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bigelow, Kentville.

Rev. Charles Milbury officiated at the double ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. Freeman Fenerty, Kentville.

Mrs. Bernice Adams was organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked radiant as she entered the church in a floor-length gown of white peau-de-soie with an empire waist, lace bodice and long puffed sleeves trimmed with lace. Her train and veil, of nylon net tulle edged with nylon lace, was held in place by a two-tier crown. She carried a drop cascade of pink roses, white carnations and baby's breath.

Attending the bride as maid-of-honor was her sister, Miss Marianne Adams. Bridesmaids were Mrs. LaVerne MacLennan, sister of the groom, and Miss Cathy MacNeil, friend of the bride. All wore identical blue gowns of dotted Swiss and white hats. Each carried a single pink rose.

Kenn Bigelow, Kentville, attended his brother as best man.

Ushers were Edward Adams, brother of the bride, and Mel Pynch, friend of the groom.

The bride's mother chose a lilac dress and coat ensemble with matching hat and white accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses and white carnations.

The groom's mother wore a blue and white dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses and white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church vestry. The bride's table was decorated with pink roses, ivory candles and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Anna Ford, cousin of the bride, served.

Guests were served by the Misses Debbie Corkum, Joy Adams and Cathy Adams, cousins of the bride; Mrs. Marilyn Robinson and Mrs. Barbara Sanford, cousins of the groom; Miss Duetta Pulley and Mrs. Dianna Smith, friends of the bride.

A toast to the bride was given by the best man, to which the groom graciously responded.

For her wedding trip to New Brunswick the bride chose a brown and white crimplene dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses.

Out of town guests were from Yarmouth, Middleton, Kempt, Maitland Bridge, Kentville and Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Bigelow are now residing in Smith's Cove.

Morehouse — Gibson

A pretty summer wedding was solemnized at St. Patrick's Church, Digby, Saturday, July 29, when Doreen May, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Gibson, Digby, became the bride of John (Johnnie) F. Morehouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Morehouse, Centreville.

Father Mallet performed the double-ring ceremony with Henry Gibson, brother of the bride, as organist.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father and wearing a long white gown of peau-de-soie with shoulder-length veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Maid of honor was Elaine Hall, sister of the bride, who wore a floor-length pink dress of crepe with pink roses in her hair and long white gloves. She carried a bouquet of pink mums.

The flower girl was Sue Ann Crosby, niece of the groom. She wore a long pink dress of fortrel and cotton with puffed sleeves, lace trim, carrying a basket of white and yellow daisies.

Best man was Everett Hall, brother-in-law of the bride. Ushers were Allan Morehouse, brother of the groom, from Toronto, and Johnnie Sproule, Bridgetown, cousin of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a blue crepe dress with silver trim. The groom's mother wore a two piece blue and white dress of cotton, while both wore corsages of mums.

Carolyn Gibson was in charge of the guest book.

The reception followed at the Lions Hall.

Out of town guests were from Saint John, Yarmouth, Annapolis Valley and Halifax.

After a trip around the South Shore, they will reside at Valley View Village, Marshalltown.

Pyne — Banfill

On the afternoon of August 5 the century old Morton-Dakin homestead in Centreville was the site of the solemnization of vows between Violet Pearl Dakin Banfill and Beecher Lyman Pyne. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Harry Waugh, assisted by Lic. Jackson Willett.

The setting for the ceremony was the old parlor, beautifully decorated with wild green fern and roses, gathered from nearby fields and woods. The old parlor organ, played by Mrs. Paul Ferry, furnished the music.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ingram Dakin. The homestead is her birthplace.

The bride entered the room on the arm of her brother, Harley Dakin, who gave her away in marriage. She wore a blue crepe dress and lace coat ensemble and carried a white Bible with ribbon and rosebud streamers, presented to her by her son.

Matron of honor was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Harley Dakin. She wore a pink crepe sleeveless dress and a corsage of rosebuds.

Mr. Hilbert Banfill, of Anaheim, California, son of the bride, was best man.

A reception was held on the lawn of the homestead, buffet supper served by hostess Mrs. Reginald Berry, assisted by Mrs. Guy Marshall, Mrs. Louis Doucette, Mrs. Arnold Lombard and Mrs. George Marshall, nieces of the bride.

The guest book was attended by Mrs. Guy Marshall.

Out of town guests were the brother of the groom, Mr. Arlington Pyne, of Sudbury, Ont., and friend, Mrs. Sigrid D. Angole, Mrs. Thomas Edmondston and her two children, Sandra and Sharon, of Winnipeg.

After a trip to California the couple will make their home in Worcester, Mass.

Ryan — McGeachie

Rev. J. B. Jackson officiated at the wedding in St. Patrick's Church on August 4th, 1972, at 6:30 p.m., when Shannon Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick McGeachie, 2511 Kilgary Place, Victoria, B. C., exchanged vows with Allen Joseph Ryan, RCN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ryan, of Marshalltown, Digby Co., N. S.

The bride was given in marriage by her father in marattended by maid of honor, Miss Gail McGeachie, and bridesmaid, Miss Ann Snow.

Claude St. Louis was best man, and ushers were Frank McGeachie and Michael Parker, RCN.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

After a wedding trip across Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Ryan will make their home in Nova Scotia.

Raymond — Larsen

A pretty summer wedding was solemnized at St. Peters Church, Saint John, N. B., August 5, when Margaret Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Larsen, became the bride of Nelson Leigh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Raymond, of Rossway, Digby Co., N. S.

Father Johnson performed the double-ring ceremony and Mr. Walter Kinsella played the wedding music.

The bride, entering the church on the arm of her father, looked radiant in a floor-length gown of lagoda, with skirt falling in a sweeping chapel train featuring a matching hood of cluny lace. The bodice, sleeves, high neckline and deep cuffs were also made of cluny lace.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. John Cook, as matron of honour, wearing a floor-length gown of mint green featuring a hood trimmed with lace. Green and white carnations complemented her gown.

Bridesmaid was Miss Dianna Stackhouse, friend of the bride, wearing a yellow floor-length gown complete with hood trimmed with lace.

The flower girl, Penny Brooks, wore a white floor-length gown with hood trimmed in green lace. She carried a basket of roses and yellow and white daisies.

Mr. Ralph Raymond, of Ottawa, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Brian Raymond, brother of the groom, and Michael Larsen, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a pink suit with white accessories and a corsage of baby pink roses.

The groom's mother chose for her son's wedding a mint green dress with white accessories and a corsage of baby pink and white roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Oak Room of Fairville Fountain, Saint John, for approximately 150 guests. The toast was proposed to the bride by her brother, Robert Larsen, and responded to by the groom.

Miss Tina Larsen, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

For their wedding trip to the eastern U.S.A., the bride chose a dress of mauve and white with mauve vest and matching accessories. She wore a corsage of baby pink roses.

On their return they will reside in Oromocto, N. B., where the groom is a member of the Canadian Armed Forces at C.F.B. Gagetown.

Out of town guests were from Boston, Toronto, Ottawa, Oromocto and Digby, N. S.

Amero — Amero

A pretty summer wedding took place at the Holy Cross Roman Catholic Church in Plympton on Saturday, August 12, 1972, at 2.00 p.m., when Father Rene LeBlanc united in marriage Mary Esther Amero, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Van-Tassell, Digby, and David John Amero, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Amero, Plympton.

The organist was Mrs. Mary Doucet.

The church was decorated with roses.

The bride, given in marriage by her step-father, wore a floor-length white gown with empire waist and lace overcoat with attached train. Her headpiece was a tiara. Her wedding bouquet was twenty-four red roses and baby's breath.

Maid of honor was Mrs. Louise Amero. Her gown was floor-length of lilac peau-de-soie with lilac lace trim.

The flower girl was Suzette Amero. Her gown was of lilac peau-de-soie with white lace trim.

Their headpieces were bows. They carried bouquets of white and lilac carnations and baby's breath.

Ring bearer was Gerald Amero, nephew of the groom. Stewart Amero, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Stanley Amero, brother of the groom, and Dennis Amero, brother-in-law of the groom.

The bride's mother wore an aqua dress with lace overcoat and white accessories and a corsage of white and aqua carnations and baby's breath.

The groom's mother wore a hot pink dress and white accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations and baby's breath.

Following the ceremony the wedding party went to the Cornwallis Cafe for supper.

After the supper there was a reception held at the Holy Cross Church hall with Father Rene LeBlanc proposing the toast to the bride. Mrs. Jerome Amero and Mrs. Jenses Sullivan served the bride's table and friends of the bride and groom served their wedding guests.

Following this there was music played by Gerald Amero, Mervin Height, Sherwood Sabean, Edward Melanson and Peter Bradley.

After the reception the happy couple left on a trip to Truro and visited parts of the South Shore. For travelling the bride wore a mauve with white and mauve daisy trim hot pants suit with white accessories.

On their return they will be residing at Plympton. The groom is employed at the Pines golf course, Digby.

Hankinson — Wagner

The Church of Christ, Weymouth, was the scene of a lovely summer wedding at 4:00 p.m. on Saturday, August 23rd when Deborah Lynn, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Wagner, Riverdale, became the bride of Bruce Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hankinson, of Weymouth.

Merle Zimmerman, pastor of the church, officiated, and was assisted by the Rev. Willard Clayton, pastor of the United Baptist Church in Weymouth. Floyd Gale presided at the organ, and vocal solos, the "Song of Ruth" and "True Love Comes From God", were rendered by Mrs. Audrey Zimmerman.

The bride was radiant as she entered the church on the arm of her father. She wore a floor-length gown of silk organza and lace. The bodice said collar were overlayed in lace and beads, and the full sleeves were flanked with lace capelets, finishing at the wrist with wide cuffs and tiny buttons. A train flowed from the waist, and her veil, held by a tiara, was also floor-length. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses, daisies, baby's breath and ivy.

Diane Wagner, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Heather Hall, of Dartmouth, Joan McCullough, of Digby, and Donna Wagner was junior bridesmaid. They were identical gowns of yellow taffeta with overlay of white Swiss, flocked with yellow daisies, fashioned in the peasant girl style. They carried baskets of yellow daisies and wore scattered daisies in their hair.

Little Angela Hebb, cousin of the bride, of Dartmouth, was flower girl, and wore a floor-length gown of yellow satin with white daisy trim around the empire waist line. She also carried a basket of daisies.

The best man was Hantford Lewis, of Weymouth, and ushers were Douglas Hankinson, brother of the groom, and Peter Wagner, brother of the bride. The bride's brother, Robbie Wagner, was ring-bearer.

Following the wedding, a salad lunch, prepared by the ladies of the church — and reception — was held in Weymouth Consolidated School. The bride's table was decorated with white tapers and bridal flowers. It was centered with a six tier cake, made by the bride's neighbour, Mrs. Florence McCullough. Three tiers were joined by a bridge carrying a bride and groom. Under the bridge was a lake, complete with swans and water-lilies. Graham Saunders, of Digby, proposed the toast to the bride, which was responded to by the groom. Hanford Lewis proposed a toast to the bridesmaids, Willis Hall, of Digby, proposed the toast to the bride's mother, and Wilfred Cosman proposed a toast to the groom's mother. Linda Hall, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book, and the couple passed their cake to their guests.

The bride's mother chose a street-length gown of floral sheer over pink polyester, with white accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses.

The groom's mother wore an ensemble of aquamarine, with silver accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Three grandmothers, Mrs. LeRoy Wagner, of Riverdale, Mrs. Fred Hebb, of Granville Ferry, and Mrs. Joseph Sabean, of Riverdale, were also present, as well as many out-of-town guests from Nova Scotia and United States.

For travelling the bride wore a dress of beige and white, with mauve trim. Her corsage was a mauve orchid.

The happy couple will reside in Dartmouth.

Woolnough — Olsen

On Wednesday, August 23, the Digby Baptist Church was the scene of a quiet but lovely wedding when the Rev. H. S. Hartlin united in marriage Barbara Elizabeth Olsen, daughter of Mrs. L. G. MacMillan and the late Herman W. Olsen, and Kelvin Vanstone Woolnough.

Miss Lina Baxter, of Digby, attended the bride, and Michael Woolnough, of Toronto, was best man. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Bill Olsen.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at Mountain Gap Inn.

Dr. and Mrs. Woolnough will reside in Newmarket, Ontario.

Church Women Support Project

On Thursday Sept. 7, the Woman's Home and Foreign Mission Society of the Bear River Advent Christian Church held its first monthly meeting for the fall. Hostess for the evening was Mrs. Raymond Brinton, Joggin Bridge and the program, entitled "Gateway to Concern" was conducted by Miss Goldie Henderson. The program sought to examine our Christian commitment; to enlarge our horizons of service beyond the four walls of our church; and to create a greater sensitivity to the needs of others and the desire to become more directly involved in meeting these needs." As evidence of their concern for the needy people of India, the ladies voted to give their offering of $40.00 to the Advent Christian work in that land.

On Sunday morning the Rev. Marvin Casey of the American Advent Mission of Madras, India spoke in the Advent Christian Church. He told of developments in the efforts of the missionaries to enable the church in India to be self-governing, self - supporting and self-propagating, and brought a report of the achievements of the various departments of the work. He then brought a short exposition of the Great Commission as recorded in Matthew 28: 18-20. The church voted $50.00 toward the work of India.

At the Sunday School hour, Rev. Marvin Casey and his wife, Lorraine, showed slides of the work in Madras India, and in the state of Kerala. He also taught the children a simple Tamil song.

Over the years the church has contributed annually to the support of the Casey's daughter, Brenda, who this year is a Freshman at Berkshire Christain College, Lennox, Mass. The Sunday School gave an offering of $60.00 toward her college expenses.

While in Bear River, the Rev. and Mrs. Marvin Casey were overnight guests of the Misses Helen and Ethel Woodworth, and were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. C.P. Henderson and daughters

W.M.S. Earns $994

The regular September meeting of the "Muriel Bent" W.M.S. of the Bear River United Baptist Church met in the vestry Thursday evening with twelve members present.

Mrs. Vi Henshaw presented the Spiritual Life study on Delilah, showing the wages of a sinful way of life. A brief discussion was followed by a circle of prayer.

The President, Mrs. Myrtle Selig, conducted the business session. A fine report to the end of August was presented by the treasurer, Mrs. Neva Rice, which showed the amount received to be $994.43. This includes a substantial bequest left to the Society by a former member, Mrs. J L. Warren. A pot-luck supper is being planned for the October meeting which is to be held in the vestry.

Mrs. Tibbetts read the biography of Miss Sandra Ricketts, Missonary in India. She also gave some of the high lights of the recent U.B.W.M. U. Convention recently held in Wolfville.

Mrs. Winchester showed slides of the trip she and Mr. Winchester took across the United States and Canada during their summer holidays.

Meeting closed with prayer

Shower Tendered

A pre-nuptial "trousseau shower" was tendered Miss Linda Cummings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barrie Cummings of Annapolis Royal at the home of Miss Zena Miller, Bear River on Saturday, September 2nd.

The dining room was tastefully decorated with white and gold streamers interspersed with tiny gold umbrellas. The many gifts were placed on the table, and as Linda opened her gifts, assisted by Zena reading the cards, some of the remarks were jotted down and read later by Mrs. Richard Smith, which caused a lot of happy laughter.

Linda graciously thanked all of her relatives and friends for their beautiful gifts, after which refreshments were served by Mrs. Reginald Miller and Zena, assisted by Mrs. Wayne Clayton, Miss Judith Taylor and the Misses Sandra and Sheila Cummings.

Linda will be married on Saturday, September 16th to Mr. Rodney McCaul, son of Mr. and Mrs Burton McCaul of Delaps Cove at the United Baptist Church, Annapolis Royal.

DON'T LOOK BACK . . . The tiny Lockheed 10A Electra appears to have been overtaken by the Air Canada Boeing 747. The photograph dramatizes how Trans-Canada Air Lines' first aircraft looks next to the 747. Thirty-five years ago, on Sept. 1, 1937, the 10-passenger Lockheed flew TCA's first route Vancouver to Seattle. It was 38 feet long and flew at 175 m.p.h. The 747, which is 231 feet long, carries 365 people and flies at 550 m.p.h.

MARRIAGES

Robicheau — Daley

Laura Louise Daley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Daley, Digby, and Roderick LeRoy Robichcau, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Robicheau, Digby, were united in marriage at Trinity Anglican Church, Digby. Rev. Isaac Butler performed the double-ring ceremony and "Bud" Winchester and Miss Cathy Bilmore were soloists.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown with a long train. The dress was satin and lace and the bride carried an arm bouquet of red and yellow long stemmed roses with baby's breath and yellow ribbon.

Maid of honor was Miss Julie Warner. Bridesmaids were Miss Peggy Daley and Miss Margot Daley. The flower girl was Miss Trindy Daley and the ring bearer was Master Spencer Daley.

The girls wore long-sleeved gowns of pink flowered sheer crepe, pastel shades, with matching wide mauve brimmed hats trimmed with matching material completed their gowns and each carried white baskets of daisies, roses and mums.

The bride's mother wore a floor-length, long-sleeved, yellow crimplene gown with white accessories.

The groom's mother wore a floor-length polyester crepe gown, multi-coloured, with white accessories.

The best man was Paul Frost, and ushers were Roger Denton, Cleveland Theriault, Billy Patterson and Cecil Robicheau. Each wore white tuxedos with pink dress shirts.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Digby Lions Hall.

Durling — Maas

St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, Digby, was the scene of a lovely late summer wedding on August 26, when Theresa Margo Maas, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy M. Maas, Digby, became the bride of Ronald Gordon Durling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Durling. The ceremony was performed by Father Alboni d'Entremont.

Given in marriage by her brother Stephen, Halifax, the bride looked lovely in a floor-length gown of imported sheer ganza with a short bouffant veil of imported silk. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Maureen Nolasco, Grafton, Ontario. She wore a floor-length gown of pink dotted Swiss with short puffed sleeves trimmed with lace and carried a basket of summer pastel flowers. Bridesmaid was Miss Joan Durling, sister of the groom, Toronto, Ont. Her gown was similar to the matron of honor's. She carried a basket of summer pastel flowers.

The groom was attended by Daniel Doucette, Digby. Ushers were Roger Denton and Stephen Dunphy, both of Digby.

The mother of the bride wore a floor-length gown of aqua lace on satin with gold accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The mother of the groom wore a floor-length gown of floral chiffon with navy accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations with blue ribbon.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

Toast to the bride was made by the bride's employer, Robert Belec, Halifax.

Out-of-town guests were from Annapolis Royal, Greenwood, Dartmouth, Halifax, Newfoundland and Ontario.

They will reside in Halifax where the groom works for Canadian General Electric and the bride is on the staff of Office Overload.

Charlie Gets PC Nomination

With a comfortable margin, Charles Haliburton won the nomination for PC candidate for South Western Nova in the October 30 federal election. The only other who sought the nomination for candidate was Martin Cottreau, a fisherman from Wedgeport.

The nomination for Mr. Haliburton was made by James Reardon, Yarmouth, and seconded by Dr. Julius Comeau, of Weymouth. The nomination for Martin Cottreau was made by Alex McIntosh, Yarmouth, and seconded by Mrs. Gerald Gaudet.

In accepting the nomination, Mr. Haliburton said that he wanted to be elected to support a government led by Robert Stanfield, a government which will restore dignity to parliament, respond to the hopes and needs of Canadians and not be dominated by a clique of highly trained professionals in the Prime Minister's office and he wanted to be a supporter of a government which would promote incentive and promote needs of South Western Nova Scotia.

Among the needs Mr. Haliburton mentioned were adequate wharves for fishermen and protection of fishermen's rights, better transportation and better communication.

More than 700 persons took up seating and standing room at the Clare Regional High School where the nominating convention took place in Meteghan River.

Mr. Haliburton is a 34-year-old lawyer in the Town of Digby. He was born in Wolfville and attended Acadia University where he was a gold letter student. After graduating with a Bachelor of Laws from Dalhousie University, Mr. Haliburton came to Digby and has been practicing law here for ten years. He is the son of the Honourable E. D. Haliburton and Mrs. Haliburton of Wolfville.

Mr. Haliburton was president and secretary at different times of the Digby Progressive Conservative Association, secretary of the South Western Nova Progressive Conservative Association, second vice-president of the Progressive Conservatives in Nova Scotia and had been president of the Canadian Student Progressive Conservative Association of more than 25,000.

Mr. Haliburton has been president of the Digby Board of Trade, Digby Branch VON and has served on the Digby School Board and Digby Town Council. He has been a member of the Digby Kiwanis Club and has been interested in the Fish Packers Association.

Left above is Francis Cook, Yarmouth, congratulating Charles Haliburton who was successful in getting the Progressive Conservative nomination to contest the South Western Nova Constituency in the federal election October 30. Also standing nearby is Kenneth Green, of Annapolis Royal.

Speaks At Progressive Conservative Meeting

Mr. Cottreau was the other candidate for nomination.

Seminar On Transportation

The Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade will sponsor an Action Seminar on Atlantic Provinces Transportation, to be held at Acadia University, Wolfville, Nova Scotia, commencing at 9:00 a.m., 5 October, 1972.

The Seminar is being called to focus attention upon the urgent need for firm federal and provincial policies on transportation for the Atlantic Provinces, designed to improve the transportation situation for regional industries and producers, and to provide a forum for industry and governments to express their position on an effective transportation policy for the region. Invitations are being mailed out to some 300 top industrialists in the Atlantic Provinces, as well as government and political representatives, urging them to attend the Seminar and to lend their voice and presence towards the necessary action required to solve a situation which is now considered to have reached the crisis stage. A panel of top businessmen will conduct the Seminar, headed by Mr. A. E Calkin, General Manager of Scotian Gold Co-operative Limited, Kentville, N. S. A manifesto will be presented at this Seminar, and it is anticipated that the final outcome of the day-long deliberations will result in a definite resolution being brought forward which will indicate what the area must have in the field of transportation and the specific means to attain it.

In permitting continued freight rate increases for the Atlantic region, the Federal Government has shown discriminatory practices against the region, and far too long now our Provincial Governments have played a stalling, tactical game, said Lloyd Hill, AVABT executive manager in the press release. Early in April, the Minister of Transport advised this organization as to his thinking regarding the transportation situation in the Atlantic region. Mr. Hill said that the minister stated that as a major objective, he felt that it was more important that we recognize the endeavours in which this region has advantages and strengths and apply our energies towards the development of these fields, such as the Industrial Complex around the Cabot Strait area, the Churchill Falls Development, the container ports at Halifax and Saint John, and the refineries in Newfoundland. These, he indicated, served to illustrate that the Maritime area stands its best chance of economic improvement. He also indicated that it was his belief that resource goods produced within the area should be upgraded to the maximum extent possible, and pointed out that the Federal Government is in fact providing capital towards this end through programs such as DREE.

Mr. Hill and those planning the Seminar, feel, however, that these developments do little to assist the economy of outlying areas and further consider that the most important factor for the region today is a transportation policy

BOARD AWAITS OCTOBER 5

October 5 is the day when Premier Gerald Regan is to make an announcement about an industry for Digby, reminded some members at the regular meeting of the Digby Board of Trade called for Tuesday evening. Rumors have it that a hardwood plant to employ 400 is to move in.

The meeting, presided over by president Ernest Ryan, did not have a quorum, so the time was spent in discussion only and not decision making. Plans did progress to have a supper meeting in October with John Englehutt and H. M. Warne in charge. Suggestions for a topic and speaker were requested.

H. M. Warne, in making his report for the agricultural committee, said that agriculture in the area is at a low level with very little development.

The postal service survey regarding mail carrying between Saint John and Digby was delayed for report at a later time when more members are present. There had been rumors that the service was to be deleted.

Letters from Lloyd Hill, executive manager of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, indicated that too little emphasis is put on tourism in the area. The presiding president, Ernest Ryan, agreed with Mr. Hill's letter and asked for suggestions for tourist promotion. Mr. Hill also suggested wash rooms and changing houses be built on the beaches in the AVABT area.

Town matters came up for discussion with the remark that too much chlorine is being used in Digby town water. Water sources came in for discussion also with disappointment voiced at the failure of the town to give ratepayers the amount of costs involved in the drilled wells.

The proposed sewage treatment plant, stage one, came in for discussion with a Board member present, Mrs. Eileen Chipman, voicing disapproval at the ratepayers not having an opportunity to air their views on the matter. It was pointed out by others that the town is permitted to borrow up to $100,000 without seeking authority from ratepayers. This rule was thought to apply to succeeding years but the answer was not definite at Tuesday evening's meeting.

A letter from Vernon Everett, of Everetts Grocery, was read. It disapproved of a noon hour canteen to be established at the Digby Forum as this would be detrimental to his business.

VON Patient Load Increases

According to the report of Miss Dorothy Crawley V.O.N., there were 149 nursing care visits made by the nurses in July 1972 compared to 88 in 1971. In August there were 139 nursing care visits and a patient load of thirty-nine. Mrs. Phyllis Brennan of C.F.B. Cornwallis took on the V.O.N. nursing in Annapolis town and part of Annapolis County on September 15.

The meeting held in the municipal office in Annapolis Royal on Tuesday, was presided over by the president, Charles Haliburton.

Accounts receivable for August were $2237.85 and expenses 1575.69, balance Aug. 31 of $661.96. It was reported that the June Drive netted $17.49.

It was decided to borrow money to purchase a new car for the V.O.N. with tenders issued to all recognized dealers in the area. L. Snell and Stewart MacNaughton were named on the committee to look into the purchase.

WANT BETTER COMMUNICATION

By mid-October, school supervisor, C. C. McInnes, members of the Digby Regional High School Board and teachers hope to start a series of visits to parents in various villages and areas served by the school. The parents will be requested to meet in a home or hall or some place other than school and discuss problems and ask questions relating to the school. These plans were made at the D.R.H.S. Board meeting on Monday.

For some time board members and administrators have been conscious of a lack of communication between parent, teacher and board.

Lester Hannah, principal of the D.R.H.S. who was given permission to speak before the board said that already contacts on a social basis have been made with the Jordantown — Acadiaville area where a problem in communication seemed to exist.

The meeting was presided over by the chairman, Mayor Glen Smith.

No mention was made on Monday regarding write - off of any expenses concerning the visits.

Four Spent 1½ Hours In Water

Lawrence Banks, Smith's Cove and his crew of three on the 30 ft. motor fishing boat, Sheila Ann, spent one and a half hours in the waters of St. Mary's Bay on Saturday afternoon until they were rescued.

In a gale of wind, about a mile from shore the Sheila Ann hit a stake, part of the weir the men were tending. The punctured boat soon began taking water and sunk below surface. Harold Simms Jr. of Marshalltown risked the small dinky to go ashore for help and was able to bring an outboard motor boat to the rescue of Mr. Banks, Gerry Ryan and Fred Smith.

The punctured boat was brought to the surface on Monday and repairs will begin immediately. None of the men suffered ill effects from the near tradegy.

$200 Fine And Two Months

Peter Douglas Thibault, 18 years, Weymouth, N.S. was on Tuesday at County Court in Digby sentenced to two months in jail and a $200 fine. Thibault was convicted of dangerous driving at Weymouth on September 2. Digby Highway Patrol had investigated. John Nichols placed the circumstances before the court and Thibault pleaded guilty to the charge.

The Crown stated that Thibault drove the motor vehicle over the railway track at such a speed that it left the road surface and that pedistrians had to jump across ditches to avoid the car.

Judge Charles LeBrun, who sentenced Thibault, issued also a warning to other young people that such incidences in the future would be severely dealt with in the courts.

In another case before the Court, Bernard Joseph Belliveau, Weymouth was found in illegal possession of liquor and fined $25. The judge again passed on words of wisdom for youth in general.

Haliburton Campaign Digby Headquarters

Charlie Haliburton, Progressive Conservative candidate for South Western Nova, announced his plans to visit all of his constituency polls within the next two weeks. At a campaign committee meeting held in Digby district headquarters on Tuesday evening Mr. Haliburton stated that he had already been to polls in Annapolis, Bear River, and all polls between Barton and Weymouth.

Preliminary plans have been made to have Charlie visit high schools in the area pending approval by the principals of the respective schools. At one of the schools contacted the spokesman stated that he would prefer to have all candidates present at the same time, to which the P.C. nominee heartily agreed.

In discussion with Ben Robichaud, Yarmouth, who is overall campaign manager, Mr. Haliburton was asked about the visit to this area by Hon. Mr. Davis, Minister of the Environment. Mr. Haliburton was quoted as saying "If the Minister of the Environment is coming to the area for the purpose of meeting with the fishermen, I hope that the Minister will be prepared to honour the commitment made by the Prime Minister, and to explain to the fishermen the results of the governmental review of the effects of the offshore lobster fishing industry which was supposed to have been completed earlier this summer".

It was also agreed at the Tuesday meeting that Killam Noah, of Yarmouth, would continue as chairman of the finance committee and would handle the finances of the campaign out of the Yarmouth headquarters. The constituency will have five headquarters in operation for the duration of the campaign: one in Digby, Yarmouth, Annapolis, Barrington and Clare.

MAYOR COMMISSION CHAIRMAN

Mayor Glen Smith was on Thursday evening elected president of the Digby Recreation Commission to fill the vacancy caused by Wellington Halliday's move to Halifax. About twenty were in attendance and the directors for 1972-73 include Bernard Bell, Reginald Hazelton, Philip Robertson, Donald Hattie, Buddy Barr, Ernest Ryan, Glen Pitman (treasurer) and Mrs. Jackie Handspiker (secretary).

Peter Hewitt was named the new ice machine operator for 1972-73.

The new manager, Terry Matthews, put forth new ideas for the Forum which would require total expenses of $12,700. A new ice making machine is required, which costs approximately $10,000, making $22,700 needed altogether.

It was reported that $16 per hour for the Children's Minor Hockey at the Forum was only a rumor. Parents, it is understood, were perturbed about the high price. There is free skating for students Monday to Friday at noons and at other times the rate runs at 1½ cents per hour per person.

In the plans are a Winter Carnival, a figure skating school and a skating club.

Wynn Meldrum, physical education teacher at the Digby Regional High School, will negotiate with Mr. Matthews on ice time and Donald Brown,

TOP TAGGER

The Digby Fire Department Auxiliary raised $240 by tag days September 15 and 16. The highest seller of tags among the taggers was Vance Hazelton, above, whose proceeds amounted to $16. He is seen above being presented with his prize by Mrs. Ronald Ward who was chairman of the project.

Those assisting Mrs. Ward were the president, Mrs. Vaughn VanTassell; Mrs. Ronald Winchester and Mrs. Arthur Sullivan and Debbie.

Approximately 100 containers were used with several still to be heard from.

View History On Slides

An interesting and informative showing of slides of Digby was presented to the Admiral Digby Historical Society at the September meeting Tuesday evening by Gary Dunn who is at present doing practice teaching in the Digby school system.

The slides, which were taken by Mr. Dunn as part of a project as a student at the Nova Scotia Teachers' College, showed many changes over time in the landscape of Digby and in the replacement or maintenance of some

PILOT INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL PROGRAM UNDERWAY

Some 22 students of the Digby Regional High School started out on Wednesday to experience the business and industrial phases of life in a practical manner. They will spend one school day out of six on-the-job in town. Each eight weeks they change employment in order to get a variety in experience and to realize their own aptitudes, likes and dislikes in the working world. Some 32 jobs were available in the town for the Grade X students who started the program on Wednesday.

Head of the program given approval by the Digby Regional High School Board are a teacher, Ronald Fraser and the guidance councillor, Mrs. Nola Jeffrey. Other teachers have aided in making plans for the project.

In appearing before the D.R.H.S. Board meeting on Monday evening Mrs. Jeffrey and Mr. Fraser thanked the employers in town for their co-operation. The Grade X class, they said, is a starting point this year but they hoped soon to have all the high school classes to participate.

Mrs. Jeffrey said that the Department of Education provides vocational schools but not all students want to go to them, the academic course does not always fulfil the need and D.R.H.S. doesn't have what it takes to satisfy some of the students. Frequently they become disinterested and drop out. The teachers had felt that this program would help stimulate interest, tie in with the history of the area and give a real life experience. This, she said, was the reason D.R.H.S. started such a project with the Guidance Department as co-ordinator.

Herring Seiner Sinks

A well known southwestern Nova Scotia herring seiner, the Lady Brenda, owned by Comeau Seafoods Ltd., of Saulnierville, sank Wednesday, September 13, while on her way back from the fishing grounds to Saulnierville.

Captained by Wentworth Porter, Jr., the boat had run into a heavy school of herring and was on the way to the Comeau plant when she began leaking while about half-way between Port Maitland and Cape St. Mary.

An hour later the four-man crew had to take to the lifeboats and were picked up shortly after by the Tommie and Arnie, which is skippered by Bobby Porter, Capt. Porter's son.

Nobody was injured but everything on board ship was lost, including the expensive seine nets and about 45 tons of herring.

Formerly the All Five, the vessel was built for a Rockville, Yarmouth County, group headed by Capt. Porter. He remained skipper after the sale to Comeau Seafoods Ltd.

Memorial Service For Sisters

A Memorial service was held at the Westport Church of Christ for Mrs. Mary Gertrude Randlett who passed away in February and twin sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Marion Mugridge who passed away in August. They were both residents of Danvers, Mass.

They were born in Westport, N. S., on December 27, 1894 daughters of Alva Buckman and Salathiel Garron.

Rev. J.W. Deby officiated at the service assisted by Rev. George Shupe. Members of the immediate family attended. The deceased were both members of the church.

Mrs. Mugridge is survived by a son, Earl of Danvers and they both leave two sisters, Mrs. Cynthia Remon, of Salem, Mass; Mrs. Perry Thurber, Freeport, N. S., one brother Winford Garron, Digby a number of nieces and nephews.

Mr. Earl Mugridge and his wife of Danvers attended the service. The ashes of the deceased were sprinkled on the waters off Southern Point in the area where in October 1934 a brother Austin Garron was drowned. This was a request of the sisters.

Dr. Lewis Accepts Units

Cystic fibrosis units known as electronic sweat producer and a chloridometer have been installed at the Digby General Hospital, the only machines of the kind on this side of Halifax. The units are gifts from the Digby Lions Club and are being accepted above by D.E. Lewis, Chief, of the Medical Staff. The presentation is being made by the Lions past president Norman Keanedy, right, who is passing the cheque for the machines to Dr. Lewis. The Lions, with the help of the Leo Club, are also providing a special cystic fibrosis test which has not yet been delivered to the hospital.

Miss Leonora Fudge took a special course in Halifax on the operation of the units.

There are more than [illegible] cases of cystic fibrosis in the area, it is understood.

ABOUT THIS AND THAT —

Interesting Election For Digby

Nowhere in this constituency will the federal election on October 30 be of so much interest as in Digby town and vicinity. For he who — wholly a Trudeau follower or a Stanfield follower or who is a dyed-in-the-wool Liberal or Conservative, the decision in casting the vote will be easy. Those in Digby who vote for the man and not the party might find it more difficult to choose from two well known, likeable and up-and-coming young men from the same town. The men are Charles Haliburton, Conservative, and Fulton Logan, Liberal.

Ere long, however, each man will be out on the hustings, holding meetings, and each with his special conviction will expound on what he thinks is good for South Western Nova, Nova Scotia in general and for all Canada. This is as it should be. This is where the voters ought to show up whether Liberal, Conservative or N.D.P. Each candidate wants opportunity to convince the voters that his platform or his plans for South Western Nova are the best.

It is the duty of each voter to attend the meetings, read and listen to the news, listen to the candidates and weigh the truth of the issues in order to cast an intelligent vote. As we said above, there are those who will vote Liberal or Conservative because their fathers were Liberal or Conservative and that is what they intend to be. It would seem more intelligent, more useful to Canada and more profitable for all Canadians to cast a vote honestly and sincerely for what they conscientiously think is best for Canada irrespective of what their fathers were. Besides being good for the election, this method is good to keep Canadians interested in Canada and all Canada stands for.

We in Digby are justly proud to know that two ambitious men, Haliburton and Logan, are from our own small town. South Western Nova is a large constituency with other more-thriving towns and other good size villages. Yet Digby offers two candidates. The election throughout the constituency will be interesting, but nowhere will it be of more interest than right here in town and round about.

Irrespective of where you live, however, remember it is your duty to learn all you can before you vote and then VOTE. It is a Canadian's privilege as well as a duty.

Your Hospital

The Digby Kiwanis Club is sponsoring the Digby General Hospital Fair on September 30. There are possibly those who will question why we need a Fair. Doesn't M.S.I. foot the bills? Aren't there grants to cover most expenses? Yes, there are but there are other areas where the interest of the community and the financial assistance of the community are both most necessary. Without them the hospital probably would not exist or services might, at least, be somewhat curtailed.

Suppose, just suppose, that our medical and surgical facilities were in Yarmouth, Kentville or Halifax instead of Digby. That would be a long distance for a seriously ill patient to be transported and it would be a long distance for relatives and friends to visit. This is so often imperative to a patient's progress.

There are many reasons why the Digby General Hospital Fair should be supported by the community. Enough to say that the hospital in Digby which receives the proceeds is efficiently run, extremely necessary and is a structure that symbolizes care and mercy to humanity in its highest form. It cares for the sick and helpless.

Our Beef

We have a beef against councils and school boards, each and every one in Digby County. That "newspaper", "The 4th Estate", might be extremely sure of secret meetings around here, we're not that certain ourselves about anything, but we do wish Council and Board members would open their mouths wide and speak audibly at a meeting. This for the sake of arthritic ears if for no other reason.

Maybe we shouldn't tar everybody with the same brush. The Mayor of the town and the chairman of the Digby Regional High School Board can readily be heard anywhere and generally he repeats motions with the proper names in an audible fashion so that visitors and press can easily discern the business of the hour. The chairman of the Municipal School Board can speak distinctly except on rare occasions. But not so with the majority of council members and school board members. Are they afraid? Don't they want to be heard? If visitors are present, they'll scarcely return if they can't follow what proceeds. Why give the impression that this is something which shouldn't be heard. When press or individual reports, for instance, are a bit misleading, could it be that it wasn't heard distinctly enough to report accurately?

Speak up there, councillors and board members. If council meetings and board meetings are open to the public as they are claimed to be, then let not only those around the table hear your voice, but remember visitors come to hear as well as see.

And that's Our Beef from the Cour-ageous Digby Cour-ier.

Hodge Podge

— According to statistics quoted recently, wages and salaries earned by Canadians in 1972 were up 55 per cent over what they were in 1968 and that Canada's national production is up 26 per cent from 1968 to 1972. Maybe that's why small businesses have so difficult a job to make a profit. Production doesn't keep pace with wages and salaries.

— The mother groaned when she took twenty-one dollars out of her purse to pay for two pairs of back-to-school shoes. "Don't cry right here in the store, Mommie", seriously said the six year old. We understand the clerk laughed so hard he could hardly wrap up the boxes. Of course, if the shoes had been bought in Digby they mght not have caused any tears. Who'd ever know.

— Facetiously, no doubt, we were asked what is meant by courageous journalism. Innocently we defined courageous journalism as that which, devoid of malace or contempt, waits in patience and silence until facts are known and then courageously without fear or favor or bias presents the facts fairly and squarely. Then we have another name to add to your title, he remarked. It's Digby Courageous and rates close watching by Fundy fishermen and farmer Brown. What they don't see might not be "the whole truth and nothing but the truth, so help me God."

— We were extremely pleased at a meeting the other night to hear our local newspaper being admired for its remarkable rate of advertising. We pointed out afterwards to some of those concerned that they are not dealing only in low cost advertising but also in wide coverage for their needs. For example, if you want to reach parents of Digby County school children you don't advertise in a Cape Breton newspaper. You go where the readers are. Besides low cost and good coverage there is also the full time employment factor for twelve, plus casuals. While the plant is in town, six of the staff presently are in the municipality.

DANGER OF THE OCCULT

Occultism is gaining ground. It is characterized by a trust in fortune telling, magic practices, false religious cults, horoscope columns, astrology, and such.

Scripture condemns such false beliefs and sets them beside demon worship and darkness. When problems come it is not right to resort to such incantations, but rather if is right to turn to the all-powerful God in prayer for relief, in Jesus' Name. Here is all the help we need. To put one's trust in occultism is to make it a god, in place of the real Lord. It is a form of idolatry.

Chronic fear, depression, unpredictable and violent behaviour, uncontrolled perversions, enslavement to drugs and all negative personality traits cannot be relieved by sorcery and evil. It is alone in confession of faith in Christ as Saviour that evil powers can be broken. To believe that these fantastic mediums can give hope and pardon from sin is preposterous. It may be this trend which is spoken against in I Timothy 4:1, "Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits and doctrines of devils."

Our confidence is in the true and the living Lord and in His Son Jesus Christ. Anyone who is bound by reliance on any other foundation is due for more problems rather than fewer. That person should confess faith in Christ and be delivered. "Resist the devil and He will flee from you". James 4:7.

Letters To The Editor

Mrs. Wallis
Editor: Digby Courier
Digby, N. S.

I wonder what happened to the rate payers meeting we were supposed to have earlier this year in regards to borrowing money for a new sewer system. Was it shot down before it got off the ground? Or could it be that our great master minds have not come up with enough under the table answers.

I think it would be nice to know just what this fabulous amount of money will pay for. Will it give the whole town a complete sewer system or will it just be enough to install a glorified septic tank?

Is it for the people in Town or just for the proposed shopping centre?

Most everyone knows by now what a mess our master minds made in the new highway, from the dock on Shore Road, by having it go along Victoria Street instead of where it should have gone. (They sure worked hard enough on that). These master minds could possibly make another mess with this sewer system.

I would suggest that all you other tax payers consider this vey carefully before you make a decision.

Editor: Mrs. E. M. Wallis
Digby, N.S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis, Editor:
My letter today written for me by a friend. I hope you may find a spot or space in the Courier for my thoughts on the nursing service supplied by the VON.

I am a chronic MS sufferer. We welcomed the coming of the VON service last year and since then have been a part of their patient load.

Speaking as a patient, I am most grateful for the help they give-in my case on a by-weekly basis. Only those who are handicapped in this fashion, perhaps, will understood the patient's feelings. Firstly I acknowledge and thank all those who have so helped me. I have found their nurses to be all efficient, cheerful and pleasant to deal with.

The savings in patient care with the patient keeping out of hospital must be tremendous. The savings by the patient are also very great. If one pays the maximum it is still small in comparison with other charges, such as a graduate nurse daily.

I whole heartedly congratulate the far sightedness shown by the municipalities to avail themselves of this great service for those who need the treatment. I do sincerely believe the aid given for a patient at home, the nurses advice helps with the doctors patient home care at a greatly reduced cost to the MSI. Surely this feature must be a predominate thought with medical care cost ever increasing.

In closing, my thanks to the Courier for their space and my sincere good wishes to the VON Order.

Most sincerely,
W. C. Curphey

Dear Sirs:
I am writing to you hoping you may be able to help me contact someone in Nova Scotia willing to correspond with me.

I am interested in Canadian life and I collect stamps and postcards.

I would be very grateful if you can help me.

Yours sincerely,
Terence Meed

Edith M. Wallis,

The Digby Courier,
Digby, Nova Scotia.

It was a pleasure, Mrs. Wallis, lis, to meet you at the Digby Fair at Bear River a fortnight ago. The fair itself was a great deal of fun, and both my wife and I are completely captivated by Digby Neck.

Catherine had stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Morehouse at Sandy Cove two or three years ago and insisted that we return there for a week of our holiday. I am very glad she did because it must be one of the pleasantest and most unspoiled spots anywhere in the world.

I envy you your task of publishing a vigorous and interesting weekly in such pleasant surroundings, and much look forward to an extended return visit at the first opportunity. (Meanwhile should you ever visit either Montreal or Toronto, I hope that you will look us up.

Sincerely,
R. David Spielman
General Manager.

Sea Appreciation

I realize I am a loner
Here I sit on the seashore,
With a deep trembling feeling inside of me.
I am deeply absorbed in watching the waves,
Dashing to and fro;
The seagulls sit placidly knowing here is home.
This is where I belong.
The sea is beautiful,
Just like a song.
As I sit and watch this breath-taking beauty,
I feel possessive of the place I belong.

Pickles, Pearls & Postcards

There was a Digby Courier waiting for me when I returned from my holidays on July 13th. I was so incensed by an item in that paper, that I immediately began an irate letter-to-the-editor. Perhaps, I was not angry enough, because, what with visiting relatives, beckoning beaches, sunny afternoons in the backyard, weekends in the camper, and the occasional dinner invitation, the letter never reached completion. Now, I no longer have the paper which contained the offending quote, and I cannot remember the date, so, instead of a letter, I shall express my indignation in this column.

The item which so dumbfounded me was a quotation in Hodge Podge, attributed to "another weekly editor." Its author felt, that with a decrease in the birth rate, the population was in danger of declining so rapidly that we shall have "problems" in "economic stability and social planning — development of schools, housing, transportation systems, jobs." The most chilling bit of philosophy was: "Any businessman knows that his business, as well as the nation's economy, relies on growth and an increase in customers. Expansion of his business is not only a sign of potential and optimism, but it also creates more jobs for more people."

This, it seems to me, is a perfect example of the type of shallow, superficial, business-oriented thinking which has brought our poor little planet to its present state of ill health. "Another weekly editor's" concept of the economy is at best old-fashioned. In these days of environmental crisis, it is downright dangerous. Business growth is a luxury we can no longer afford. We must, in fact, if we are to survive, curb expansion.

I shall not preach to "another weekly editor" the facts, predications, and dangers of our present population growth. He probably isn't reading this column anyway, but, for the benefit of anybody who may have been swayed by his falacious arguments, or, as argumentative ammunition against others of "another weekly editor's" mentality, I shall refute a few of his economic arguments.

There is no hope, much less danger, short of wars, pestilence, and natural disasters (all of which are distinct possibilities) of the population declining to manageable level in the forseeable future. Should we ever get down to an optimum population, however, "another weekly editor", it will be very nice to have the accompanying problems of economic stability and social planning rather than the ones we have now.

Let us begin with schools. Imagine, if you will, that we had achieved a state of stable population, or one with only slight fluctuation. You could build a school next week, which, if you built it well, would still be adequate a century from now. The only changes you would need would be long lasting improvements. In a century you would spend no tax money on cheap, hastily constructed rooms, erected because the school population is outgrowing its space. A century may be a conservative estimate. I have stood in churches, still in constant use, in Europe, which are nine times that old.

So, "another weekly editor", with a smaller population, we could save millions of tax dollars. Want more? Well built houses will last for generations. We will not have to cut up our hillsides for subdivisions. Towns will not sprawl into unimaginative suburbs. Maybe in some undisturbed forest of the future, a tree will grow large enough so our descendants can, as our ancestors did, make a thirty inch wide table top of a single tree. I realize that the arguments in the above paragraph are not very convincing to "another weekly editor". His mentality equates urban sprawl with economic expansion, and to him, that is good.

All the arguments used before go for transportation. When there is not an ever-increasing number of people trying to get down town, who needs some buses? Even if every family does own two cars, if we know that the number of cars on the highway will remain relatively stable, highway systems can be planned, and remain that way. Like the hypothetical schools, tax dollars will go only for upkeep and improvement, not for expansion. We will no longer bury valuable farm land under asphalt.

"Aha", said "another weekly editor", "you have defeated yourself. By not building schools, and houses, and roads, you have just put hundreds of people out of jobs!" But we didn't. With a decrease in population, the number of people does not outstrip the number of jobs available. Even if we should have more leisure, due to our increased technology, we could enjoy idleness more in a world which is not overcrowded.

Here are some of the "inelienable rights" which Dr. Paul Ehrlich lists in his book, "The Population Bomb":

The right to eat.
The right to eat meat.
The right to drink pure water.
The right to live uncrowded.
The right to avoid regimentation.
The right to hunt and fish.
The right to view natural beauty.
The right to breathe clean air.
The right to silence.
The right to avoid pesticide poisoning.
The right to be free of thermonuclear war.
The right to educate our children.
The right to have grandchildren.
The right to have great-grandchildren.

How many of these rights will belong to humanity in 2025, if, as "another weekly editor" thinks "business as well as the nation's economy relies on growth and an increase in customers"?

Little League Baseball News

By BOB McVEIGH

LITTLE LEAGUE ENJOYS SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The successful completion of another Little League Baseball season came to an end on September 12th when the Knights of Columbus coached Fred Bates culminated a team effort to win the League Championship. Incidentally, Kiwanis were League Leaders and this is exactly how these teams ended up last year, the only difference is that the make-up of each team was completely different. Write would like to make a few observations.

There were eighty-six boys registered with Little League this year and seventy-five played regular. A total of fifteen league games and thirteen play-offs games were played bringing it to a total of twenty-eight. Your coaches, Don Brown, Tommy Wood, Stan Locke, Ted Nicholson (now in Kentville) Randy Cummings, Fred Bates, Stan Perry and Dougie VanTassel deserve a lot of platitudes for a job well done, they were real dedicated men and gave their respective teams plenty of support. Probably, the most essential group in an undertaking like this is the umpires. This is a thankless job and at times very frustrating but our hats go off to the umpire-in-chief, Steve VanTassel and his associates, Junior Smith, Sgt. Abell, Ken Skinner, and two former Little Leaguerers, Robert Dugas and Bruce Marsha'l who handled the chores behind the plate and the bases respectively doing very creditable jobs. At times over the season as high as fifteen adults were involved with Little League. To anyone overlooked our sincere "thanks" for your help.

We were fortunate in getting two dugouts up this season and our thanks go out to Clyde Everett Limited (1972) of Bridgetown for donating the cement and wire mesh needed to make the foundations for the dugouts. DONATIONS — a dozen new baseballs were received from Tommy Wood; a $10. donation to the operation of the League by a person who wishes his name not to be given; two gallons of paint given by the Paint Spot to help paint the Dugouts; cans used in collecting monies on Little League Tag days donated by Graves Limited of Berwick; Wilson Limited of Digby gave a ten per-cent discount on all purchases; to all the above our most humble "thanks". To the Mayor of Digby, His Worship Glen Smith, who has been one of the main backers of Little Leaguerers over the years and through whose efforts the Little League Ball Field has become a reality, a very special "thank you". To all the clubs that have helped over the years and again this year, namely, Legion, Kiwanis, Lions, Merchants, Firemen, Knights of Columbus our sincere "thanks". To Mrs. Edith Wallis and her Courier staff especially Murray Baxter for their help and support and to Radio CKDY and its staff many "thanks".

Finally, Little Leaguerers, you have made this season a success all seventy-five of you, by your sportsmanship, dedication and assistance over the year. There was a resurgence of fans this past season and the League wishes to compliment those fans that turned up to cheer for the Little Leaguerers. Next year, our team, will bring new faces and personalities as well as some of the old ones and writer is looking forwarded to it with a great deal of interest and anticipation. LOOK FOR — Banquet Date — it will appear in this paper at a later date.

Perfect Patio Platter

A molded salad, made with unflavored gelatine to allow the full flavor of fresh raw vegetables to come through, is a cool and colorful summer entree. When ready to serve, dip the mold in warm (not hot) water to the depth of the gelatine. Loosen the edge with the tip of a paring knife. Place a serving dish on top of the mold and turn upside down. Shake, holding the serving dish tightly to the mold.

Vegetable Patio Platter

3 envelopes Knox Unflavored Gelatine
2½ cups cold water, divided
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup vinegar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup mayonnaise
1½ cups finely shredded cabbage
1½ cups chopped celery
1 cup grated carrot
½ cup chopped green pepper
2 pimientos, diced
Sliced Swiss cheese
Sliced liverwurst, bologna, ham and spiced ham

Sprinkle gelatine over 1½ cups of the water in medium saucepan. Place over low heat; stir constantly until gelatine dissolves, 4 or 5 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in sugar and salt. Add remaining 1 cup water. Gradually stir vinegar and lemon juice into mayonnaise; blend into gelatine mixture. Chill, stirring occasionally, until slightly thickened. Stir in vegetables. Turn into a 6-cup mold; chill until firm. When ready to serve, unmold onto large serving platter. Fill the center with cherry tomatoes, and arrange salad greens, Swiss cheese slices and cold cuts around mold.

YIELD: 6 servings.

Abel Heads Minor Hockey Financing

Headed by Bud Abel, the Minor Hockey Club Finance Committee was formed at a meeting of the club in the Digby Fire Hall on Tuesday evening. On the committee with Corporal Abel are Donald Hudson and Tony Saulnier with power to add either male or female members to the committee. It will be the duty of the committee to plan up ways and means of securing finances to operate the Minor Hockey. Total budget needed for the year was estimated to be about $7000. Indications were promising that this can be raised. It was left to the finance committee to make a decision on the method of fund raising.

Registration fees were set at $4 per person with a maximum of $10 per family.

The controversy which had arisen among parents regarding the cost of ice time was reported to have eased off by making a deal with the Recreation Commission which could amount to $2260 for the season. Discussion arose on the wisdom of having the Minor hockeyists pay personally for games and practice at the Forum. The general concensus was that it involved the child more if a fee was charged. John Nichols remarked that the rink is now in the best shape it has been for sometime and children should have pride in the rink.

According to the Digby Recreation Commission statement there had been $1915 taken in gate proceeds at Minor Hockey in 1971-72 season. Members of the Minor Hockey Club found this figure difficult to accept considering the few parents who attended the games and the number of boys who played hockey.

Sweaters in blue, gold and maroon amounting to $600 had been purchased for the boys. These will be kept by the boys and new ones issued the following year.

Trophies for 1971-72 had been supplied by the Digby Kiwanis Club, Digby Branch Canadian Legion and the Lions Club.

In his financial statement Corporal Abel reported $624.66 in the general account and $721.61 in the canteen account with bills outstanding to the amount of $180. From June 22 to the present time the canteen fund has been $203.84 to Minor Hockey and $115.95 to the Digby Recreation Commission.

Approximately 45 attended the meeting presided over by Captain Reginald Hazelton, president. Present in an official capacity were Mrs. Donald Hudson, secretary; Bud Abel, treasurer; Captain Hazelton; Don Hatfie; Frank MacIntosh and Luke Dugas.

Middleton Falls — Bridgetown Visits Friday

Digby High's Varsity Soccer team defeated Middleton 2-1 on Saturday to open what should be their best season in the history of the school. Herb Taylor headed post Middleton goal tender Don Marshall at the 10 minute Mark and Jack Robinson followed with the winner at 30 minutes. Looking sharp from opening whistle, D.R.H.S. hit the posts and passed around the Middleton backs throughout the game to be robbed by Marshall, one of the provinces best SENIOR LEAGUE keepers. Middleton managed several shots but the goals came on a penalty near the end of time to spoil Baxter's claim to a shut-out in nets. Next week a report on the forwards.

Nineteen Years Of Winning

That is the story of Bridgetown's development as a soccer power.

Provincial champions in their division in 1971, they have been undefeated by Digby since 1954. Last year's final game ended 1-0 in their favour, but big things are cooking for them on the hill this Friday as they meet Digby's 1972 Varsity — team.

Hockey Coach School

Captain Reginald Hazelton announced at a meeting of the Digby Minor Hockey Club on Tuesday evening that Hockey Canada will be sponsoring a Coach School at CFB Cornwallis for three weeks beginning October 1st. There will be 16 hours of instruction, four in class and twelve on ice. The school will be run by Wallie Travis, CFB Cornwallis by rules laid down by Hockey Canada.

There will be three levels of courses with the first this year. Certificates will be issued to those who pass the requirements. The courses are $20.

By regular motion the Minor Hockey Club decided to send the head coach to the school and pay his way.

The meeting was presided over by Captain Hazelton, president.

Question: We are very proud of the new barbecue we bought in the spring. However, our repeated use and enjoyment of it this summer has burned off most of the paint, and now we have an eyesore.

Is there an easily applied paint I can use that will improve the appearance, protect it from rust and not burn off when we put the unit back in use next summer?

Answer: There is a new line of Tremco Heat Resistant Enamels that are packaged in convenient aerosol cans for easy application. The enamel has been especially formulated for use on any metal surface that is subject to temperatures of up to 650°F, but not to direct flame. It would be ideal for the hood and the exterior of your barbecue. In fact, any surface that is not heated to more than 650°F. This does not include the grille itself. It can also be used to protect and beautify the heat-subject metal surfaces of camping equipment or home heating radiators that discolor when conventional coatings are used.

To get the best heat resistance and durability, the colours available are limited to flat black, orange, metallic aluminum, and metallic gold. However, this selection should enable you to satisfy your aesthetic needs.

SPRAY ON CLEAN SURFACE

To get a lasting finish, you should prepare the metal by removing any rust down to bare metal with a wire brush and make sure the surface is free of oil, grease, dirt and wax. When the surface is clean and dry, spray the heat-resistant enamel directly on the metal without a primer. It will dry to touch in 3 to 5 minutes.

For information on the use or application of Tremco Heat Resistant Enamel, write to Tom Tremfix, The Tremco Manufacturing Company (Canada) Ltd., 220 Wicksted Avenue, Toronto 17, Ontario.

The Cossitt family in Digby graciously entertained Arnold Graham, Sherry Thomas and Mrs. Beatrice Morehouse last Sunday evening.

A number of folks from the village attended the special service at Little Rifer Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon to hear the Gospel Notes bring their wonderful message in Songs of the Gospel.

Glad to report that Mrs. Beatrice Walker is improving nicely after having undergone surgery at Digby General Hospital. Also Mrs. Donald Amero the former Peggy Payson of this village is improving in Halifax at the V. G. Hospital after having been rushed there from Digby General Hospital.

CARD OF THANKS

RUSSELL — I would like to thank Dr. Black, Dr. Birsei and nurses on second floor. Also thanks to friends and relatives who sent me cards and letters during my stay in hospital. Mr. Lloyd Russell.

MELANSON — The family of Louise Melanson, lighthouse keeper at Gilbert Cove would like to thank those who helped in any way during the time of the bereavement. Melanson family. 6:1ic OUTHOUSE — The wife and daughter of the late Curtis Outhouse wish to express sincere thanks and appreciation to relatives, neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy during their recent bereavement. To those who sent floral tributes, letters, cards, memorials to Bible Society Hymn Book Fund and Bibles.

Special thanks to Rev. Daw, organist and choir of First Baptist Church and to all who assisted in any way. Signed: Mrs. Curtis Outhouse and Mrs. Anna Young. 6:1p

IN MEMORIAM

GRIFFITHS — In fond memory of Milledge Griffiths who passed away on September 23, 1971.

Only a memory of bygone days
And a sigh for a face unseen
A constant feeling that God alone
Knows best what should have been.
Kindy remembered by Peggy and Thelma Rice. 6:1ic

TIDD. — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Delbert V. Tidd who passed away September 24, 1970.

There's someone who misses you sadly
And a house where you used to be
There's someone who wanted to keep you
But God willed it not to be
You left us some beautiful memories,
And sorrow to great to be told
But as us who loved and lost you
Your memory will never grow old.
To us you were someone special
A husband and father we loved so dear,
Wishing today as we wished before
That God had spared you many years more.

Always remembered by wife, Sip, son, Gary and daughter-in-law, Carolyn, daughter, Linda, and son-in-law, Roland, and sons Allan and Terry. 6:1ic

ADELAIDE DANIELS SAYS

MEN HAVE WEIGHT PROBLEMS

Many men have their own special weight control problems. For instance, there is the junior executive who gets to the airport only to find that his flight has been delayed for a couple of hours. To kill time, he goes into a snack bar for a bite to eat or perhaps to the bar for a liquid interlude.

To the weight-conscious man, business lunches can be a bombshell — whether he is being entertained or doing the entertaining. Another danger is the ever present banquet round where there is no choice of the menu.

The results are pounds, bulges and in some cases a career that reaches a dead end plateau. Let's face it, some companies are prejudiced against fat people. I know of men who received long awaited promotions only after they had lost on a planned weight reduction program.

In one instance a young man of 28, who was a dock worker, lost 100 pounds and was promoted to the sales desk. His whole life has changed.

Men join classes for weight watchers because they realize they will follow a liveable diet for people on the go. They know that weight loss increases their life expectancy.

When I visit a class, I am always so pleased to hear and see the successes of the many male members. They are so pleased with their losses that they volunteer information.

It usually goes something like this: "I used to wear a size 50 but now it's a 40 slim," or, "My wife really loves the guy she married," or, "I'm no longer rated on my life insurance and I just received a cheque for $400.00." Overweight men really want to do something about it and that's what matters.

Men want to lose weight for the same reasons women do. They usually start by saying, "I don't care about my suit size. I just want to lose weight."

But after they have shed a few pounds the first thing they will tell you is: "I've lost 4 inches on my waist, 2 inches on my neck; I'm now wearing a size 15 collar when I used to wear a 17 and I'm wearing a size 42 trousers when I used to wear a size 46."

Vanity is a girl given to both sexes.

Your questions are invited.

of the historic structures in the town.

Presented under various headings such as education, religion, commerce, industry and scenic attractions, the slides provided a graphic account of the development of the town over the years since the early Loyalist settlement in 1783.

Mr. Dunn was assisted in the commentary on the slides by Victor Cordova who had spoken at a previous meeting of the society on the history of the area.

Mrs. R. MacLeod Rogers introduced Mr. Dunn to the large audience gathered for the program and the thanks of the group were expressed by Mrs. Percy Roberts.

Following the program many of those in attendance gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. MacLeod Rogers for tea and an informal discussion of the evening's program. During the discussion Mr. Dunn was urged to continue and expand his project. He stated it was his hope to do this and a number of those present volunteered photos of earlier years in Digby.

to assist the growth and development of our present small industries. The original commitment of Confederation was that Canada would have a military access to the Atlantic Ocean through the Maritime Provinces, and in return there should be a commercial route to allow products equalized transportation costs on Canadian markets. The rule of thumb adopted by economic planners in Ottawa seemed to be that if transportation costs constitute 5% or less of your selling price, you don't have a problem. They don't seem to realize that in a manufacturing or processing industry, the profit margin expressed as a percentage of earning may be only 3% of sales; a difference in transportation costs of 1 or 5% can be the difference between profitable industry and one that goes bankrupt or never gets started.

Trudeau Computer Fails Rural Communities — Nowlan

The Trudeau computer has failed to appreciate that small rural communities form the backbone of this land and have a very vital part to play, said Pat Nowlan at Meteghan River on Thursday evening when Charles Haliburton, Digby, was voted the South Western Nova Progressive Conservative candidate in the October 30 election. While lip service is paid to rural development and programs that are supposed to reduce economic disparity between the regions of this land, this government's pre-occupation with constitutions and culture ignores the practical necessities of every day living, he said. One only has to look at the unbelievable increases in the cost of living, the record-breaking interest rates, let alone the human misery in unemployment figures to know that something is wrong. It seems that the Trudeau policy of neglect, deterioration and abandonment questions the future of many small communities, he continued. The neglect, deterioration and abandonment, isn't only confined to transportation and wharves, it is seen and practiced in the very halls of Parliament, he remarked as he scored the practices of Information Canada and O.F.Y.

He charged the Trudeau Government has been short ed and those on low or fixed changing Canadians these past incomes with a serious prob- four years and even in more lem, he said. If he were running again, he said, there would be three issues, viz., high cost must come down; Canadian identity must be enriched and a strong well-financed physical fitness and sports program designed to keep young people occupied and healthy.

Martin Cottreau, Wedgeport, who was seeking nomination, stressed improved fishing, agriculture, deep water ports and transportation as objectives.

Jerry Redmond, president of the Young Progressive Conservatives, said that the young people demand a Canadian confederation that will preserve a sense of community among all Canadians. They demand a Federal Government and a Prime Minister who will speak honestly and directly to all the people.

Votes of confidence in Robert L. Stanfield and John Buchanan were moved by George Snow, Yarmouth, and Mrs. Ina Dillon, Digby, respectfully. The meeting was chaired by William Caster.

The renovation program, started at CFB Greenwood last November, will brighten over 1,000 bathrooms on the base when completed this year.

Tiverton Church To Host Convention

Having as its theme "Awake To Watch and Pray", the Maritime Christian Missionary Society will meet in its 118th Annual Convention in the Tiverton Christian Church, September 29 to October 1. The Society is the regional body of The Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in Canada, and represents seven churches in Nova Scotia and two in Prince Edward Island. Area residents will be familiar with the summer camping program at Johnston Christian Park, South Range which the Society operates.

Under the leadership of Mr. W. E. Cosman, M.C.M.S. President, plans have been finalized for what looks to be an excellent Convention of inspiration and fellowship. Local arrangements have been directed by Robert Johnson, Pastor of the Tiverton Christian Church. Guest leaders for the Convention will be Rev. John Bergman from Edmonton, Alberta and Dr. Allan W. Lee from New York City.

The Rev. John Bergman has had a long and fruitful ministry with the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in Canada. For thirty years he has offered his services in four Pastorates in Alberta and one in the U. S., as well as being a staff worker for the Church across Canada from 1956 to 1962. At present he is in his 10th year as Pastor of the First Christian Church, Edmonton, and serves as President of the Church of Christ-Development Co. Rev. Bergman will speak at the Friday and Saturday Services, to be held in the Christian Church beginning at 7:30 p.m., and will bring the message in the closing session of the Convention, Sunday morning at 11:00 a.m.

The Rev. Dr. Allan W. Lee is General-Secretary of the World Convention of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), a position he assumed in September 1971. A native of the State of Washington, Dr. Lee has served the Christian Church as Pastor of four Churches, the last being First Christian Church in Seattle, Washington. An author, teacher and world traveller, Dr. Lee will speak at the Missions Banquet Saturday evening and preside over the Convention Communion Service Sunday morning.

Other Convention leaders from Nova Scotia and P.E.I. will be Mr. Kenneth MacDougall, Past-President of the M.C.M.S.; Rev. Kenneth McCullough, Halifax; Rev. Byron Hoylett, Dartmouth; Rev. Fred Gordon; Milton; and Rev. Arthur Willis South Lake, P. E. I.

Sainte-Anne Colors For College

The president of College Sainte-Anne, Mr. Louis R. Comeau, and the president of the Student Association have announced that a contest is being held to select official and distinctive colors for the college.

Contestants must send their entries in a sealed envelope to: Contest of Colors, College Sainte-Anne, Church Point, before 5 p.m., October 6.

The jury will give particular attention to the reasons behind the contestant's choice of colours.

The contest is open to the public, students and adults, who may submit as many entries as they like.

A ten dollar prize will be awarded to the winner.

SUKKOT
FESTIVAL OF SHELTERS
September 23-24, 1972
Hebrew Date: Tishri 15, 5733

During Sukkot special emphasis is placed upon the family as a unit. The holidays are a time of rejoicing. A shelter is built or simulated to remind Jews of the booths erected by their forefathers during the years of wandering in the wilderness. This scripture from The Living Bible is the authority for the observance of Sukkot.

"Five days after the Day of Atonement on the fifteenth day of the seventh month (of the Hebrew calendar), is the Festival of Shelters to be celebrated before the Lord for seven days. On the first day there will be a sacred assembly of all the people; don't do any hard work that day. On each of the seven days of the festival you are to sacrifice an offering by fire to the Lord. The eighth day requires another sacred convocation of all the people, at which time there will again be an offering by fire to the Lord. It is a joyous celebration, and no heavy work is permitted. (These, then, are the regular annual festivals—sacred convocations of all people—when offerings to the Lord are to be made by fire. These annual festivals are in addition to your regular weekly days of holy rest. The sacrifices made during the festivals are to be in addition to your regular giving and normal fulfillment of your vows.) These last days of September, at the end of your harvesting, are the time to celebrate this seven-day festival before the Lord. Remember that the first and last days of the festival are days of solemn rest. On the first day, take boughs of fruit trees laden with fruit, and palm fronds, and boughs of leafy trees—such as willows that grow by the brooks—and (build shelters with them), rejoicing before the Lord your God for seven days. This seven-day annual feast is a law from generation to generation. During those seven days, all of you who are native Israelites are to live in these shelters. The purpose of this is to remind the people of Israel, generation after generation, that I rescued you from Egypt, and caused you to live in shelters. I am Jehovah your God." (Leviticus 23:34-43)

from
The Living Bible

SUKKOT begins five days after Yom Kippur, the most solemn day in the Jewish Religion. The Sukkot celebration encompasses a week of both worship and festivities which include feasting.

Funeral service was held in St. Matthew's Anglican Church, Weymouth Falls, on Monday, with Rev. E. Ingraham, of Yarmouth, officiating.

Mrs. Leta M. (Gavel) Raymond

Mrs. Leta Raymond, age 90, died in Westwood, Mass., on August 24. She was born in Brighton, the daughter of the late Isaac and Margaret Hutchinson.

She leaves to mourn one daughter, Ruth (Mrs. Charles Redferern), of Bradenton, Florida.

Funeral services were held in Barton, with the Rev. George Bell officiating.

Edmond Comeau

The community of Weymouth was saddened by the death of one of its citizens, Edmond Joseph Comeau, who died on Sunday, September 10, at his home.

He was 84 years old, born in Comeauville, the son of the date Eusebe and Rose (Robichaud) Comeau, and lived most of his life in Weymouth, where he was a barber by trade, and for many years ran a little store in connection with his shop. Mr. Comeau was a friend to all, and always had time to chat with his customers and friends.

Surviving besides his wife, the former Marie Rose Babin, are three brothers: Emile, Beaver River; Leger, Comeauville, and Linus, of Kentville; three daughters: Sister Mildren, of North Sydney; Frances (Mrs. Charles Stiven), Halifax, and Louise, of Weymouth; seven sons: Linus, of Hamilton; Lawrence, Palm Springs; Emile, St. Jean, Que.; Delbert and Russell, of Halifax; Eric and Andrew, both of Lower Sackville.

The body rested at Sweeny's Funeral Home until Wednesday, when the funeral service was held from St. Joseph's Church.

Lester D. Mullen

Lester Douglas Mullen, 65, of Lawrencetown, Annapolis County, died recently at Soldiers Memorial Hospital, Middleton.

Born in Hassells, Digby County, he was the son of Mrs. Rachel Aldride and the late Douglas Mullen.

Surviving besides his mother are his wife, the former Jessie M. Wile, Lawrencetown; three daughters: June (Mrs. Russell Hanley), Glenna (Mrs. Philip Hope) and Pressetta (Mrs. Peter Thompson), all of Halifax; seven grandchildren; two sisters: Florence (Mrs. Raymond Smith), Port Maitland and Hazel (Mrs. Arthur Owens), Centreville, N. S.; two brothers: Donald, B. C., and Rev. W. Stillman, Rochester, New York.

He was predeceased by a daughter.

Funeral service was held at 2:00 p.m. Tuesday from the Lawrencetown Baptist Church, Rev. John Beers officiating. Burial was in Fairview cemetery.

G. W. Mills

Surviving besides his wife is a daughter, Ann (Mrs. Edward Young), Freeport; two brothers: Thomas and Hugh, of Tiverton; two sisters: Violet of Tiverton, Genevieve (Mrs. Samuel Voegeli), Cheshire, Conn. He was predeceased by three brothers and a sister.

His body rested at Jayne's Funeral Home, Digby, N. S.

Funeral service was held on Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. from the Freeport United Baptist Church. Rev. K. Daw conducted the service and interment was at Freeport.

Prof. Jean A. Benoit

Mrs. E. J. Theriault received word recently of the death in hospital of her father, Professor Jean Alphonse Benoit, M.A., of Sydney, N. S.

Professor Benoit was 97 years of age in March 1972, having been born in 1874 in D'Escousse, a village near Arichat, C. B., the son of Remi and Delvenia Benoit. His father was a great French patriot before him and Prof. Benoit followed in his footsteps organizing bilingual classes at Normal College after teaching hours, as the subjects he taught there were physics and physical geography.

Prof. Benoit was instrumental in an "Acadian Conference" held in Halifax in 1922, at which it was resolved that French readers should be provided for students in grades 1-4 of the provinces bilingual schools.

Mr. Benoit was principal of Clare Co. Academy, Church Point, which was affiliated with St. Anne's College. He taught mathematics, science and physical geography for the next four years.

In 1900 he joined the staff at the Normal College in Truro and stayed until 1926 when he was appointed Inspector of Schools for Richmond and South Inverness Counties. He then lived in Arichat and retired in 1941.

Prof. Benoit married in 1902 to Marie Helene Comeau, of Saulnierville, who predeceased him over 40 years ago. In 1957 he married a second time to a widow, Mrs. Mary Aucoin, living in Sydney.

Besides his widow, he is survived by a daughter, Clotilde (widow of Senator E. J. Theriault) and a daughter Delvenia (Mrs. Ron Demers), Sydney River. There are three sons, Remi and Edouard, in New York City, and Emile, in Arichat.

Funeral service was held at Saulnierville, and burial was by his first wife in the Saulnierville cemetery.

Mrs. Marion Greene

Word was received by relatives of the passing of Mrs. Marion (Bailey) Greene, of East Greenwich, R. I., in the latter part of August.

Mrs. Greene was born in Westport November 20, 1887, a daughter of Annie (Bingay) and Albert R. Bailey, of Westport. She was widow of Walter Greene, and she had no children.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Frances Chilson, of Plymouth, Michigan, and a brother, H. Gerald Bailey, of Westport.

Burial service was held at East Greenwich Rhode Island.

Peter A. Langford

Peter A. Langford, 37, Weymouth Falls, Digby Co., who died as the result of a car accident at Bellivean Cove Monday evening, was buried Thursday afternoon, September 14, following service in the St. Matthew's Anglican Church, at Weymouth Falls, with Rev. I. Butler, Digby, officiating.

He was born in Weymouth Falls, a son of Mrs. Maisie (Cromwell) Langford and the late Kenneth Edward Langford.

Surviving besides his mother are his wife, Leona; one son, Thomas, 8; one daughter, Sally, 7, both at home; two sisters: Mrs. Iris Austin, Weymouth, N. S.; Bell (Mrs. Bonnie Williams), Seattle, Wash.

Gilbert McGowan

Gilbert McGowan, 92, Weymouth North, N. S., who died at the Annapolis Rest Home, was buried in the Riverdale Baptist Cemetery following service at the Weymouth Funeral Home, with Rev. W. Clayton officiating.

He was born in Easton, Digby Co., a son of the late Michael and Mary (Mullen) McGowan, and had resided in the United States for several years.

His wife, the former Emma Grant, is dead.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Leona Weir, Scotts Village, and several nieces and nephews.

North Range

Mrs. Hubert Shortliffe has returned home after spending a week with her son, Alfred, Mrs. Shortliffe and family at Riverview, N. B. While there she attended the wedding of her granddaughter, Miss Paula Shortliffe, and David Little. She spent the holiday weekend at the summer cabin on Shediac River. The new bride and groom will reside at Dartmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. George Carman and family of Freeport spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Thomas.

Rev. George Bell, Smith's Cove, conducted the worship service in the Baptist Church on Sunday morning. The service next Sunday will be conducted by the Rev. W. P. Clayton in the evening at 7:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Langdale of Asnore called on his aunt, Mrs. Clyde Haight, Mr. Haight and family on Tuesday.

RECENT MARRIAGES

Rockwell — Prime

The marriage of Margaret Ann, daughter of Mrs. Curtis Prime and the late Mr. Prime, Freeport, N. S., to Raymond Frazer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rockwell, of Halifax, took place in the Freeport United Baptist Church. Dr. Eric L. Titus, uncle of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony. Organist was Mr. Joseph MacDonald, of Dartmouth, and soloist was Francis Campbell, also of Dartmouth.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, James Prime, and wore a floor length, empire style gown of peau de soie, fashioned with high neckline, long sleeves, with lace edged ruffles at the wrists and ruffles on the skirt. Her full length tulle illusion veil was trimmed with lace and fell from a Juliette cap. She carried a cascade bouquet of garnet pink roses and baby's breath with long satin streamers tipped with rosebuds.

The maid of honor was Miss Patricia Grant, of Dartmouth. Bridesmaids were Miss Jean Ann Mitchell, of Wolfville, and Mrs. Harland Elliott, Freeport. They wore floor length gowns of dotted Swiss in shades of blue and carried cascade bouquets of yellow and white gladioli.

Best man was James Rockwell, Halifax, brother of the groom, and ushers were Robert Rockwell, Halifax, and Lindsay Titus, of Claremont, California.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of pink crimplene with matching coat and white accessories. The mother of the groom wore a dress and coat ensemble of aqua with matching accessories.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the church vestry. Mrs. Eric Titus, of Claremont, California, and Mrs. Hedley Doty, Halifax, poured. Meredith MacSweeney was in charge of the guest book.

Later the happy couple left for a honeymoon in the White Mountains, New Hampshire, and in Quebec City.

Ritchie — Blackmore

Manning Memorial Chapel, Acadia University, Wolfville, was the scene of a recent wedding, when Carolyn Hazel, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Blackmore, Moncton, became the bride of Thomas Earle, youngest son of Mrs. Joseph Jefferson and the late Thomas J. Ritchie, of Smith's Cove.

The marriage was solemnized by Rev. Donald Dormand, Moncton. Nuptial music was played by Mrs. Donald Jackson, Moncton, with Timothy Blackmore, brother of the bride, as soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white polyester crepe, with imported Swiss guipure lace bodice and trim, with full length sleeves gathered in a narrow wrist band. Her shoulder length scalloped tulle illusion veil was held in place by a single flower and she carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses.

The maid of honor was Miss Patricia Johnson, Toronto. She wore a floor length gown of pale pink imported voile with matching ribbon trim and pale pink picture hat.

The bridesmaid was Mrs. Carolyn Blackmore, sister-in-law of the bride, and she was similarly attired in pale green. Both carried nosegays of pink and white mums.

The best man was Harold Ritchie, Digby, brother of the groom. Ushers were Hugh Brittain, Digby, and James Blackmore, Wolfville, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother chose a street length dress of rose crepe with white accessories and corsage of pink roses.

The groom's mother chose a beige and brown suit with brown accessories and corsage of yellow roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Paramount Hotel, Wolfville. The toast to the bride was given by Rev. Donald Jackson and responded to by the groom.

For their honeymoon trip around the South Shore the bride chose a pale green and grey knitted pant dress outfit with matching accessories.

They will reside in Halifax.

Out of town guests attended from Moncton, Bathurst, Saint John, Digby, Montreal, Sydney, Bridgewater, Reserve Mines and Halifax.

Haight — Matheson

Sharon Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus D. Matheson, of New Market, Ontario, and Earl Reginald Haight Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Haight, were united in marriage in the Hill Grove Baptist Church. Rev. Donald Robertson performed the ceremony. Mrs. Darcy Roope was the organist.

Sharon was given in marriage by Mr. Wayne Thibault, a close friend of the family.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie. Her veil of nylon illusion was held by a white satin headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Sandra Haight, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and Miss Marlene Haight, sister of the groom, was the bridesmaid. They wore floor length gowns of pink peau de soie and carried bouquets of pink and white mums.

Best man was Barry Haight, brother of the groom, and Daniel Haight, cousin of the groom, was groomsman. Rodney Haight and Rustin Haight, cousins of the groom, were ushers.

The mother of the groom wore a dress of blue crimplene trimmed with white lace and wore a corsage of white carnations.

A reception and dance was held at the Knights of Columbus hall, Digby.

The happy couple will reside in New Market, Ontario.

Thibault — Melanson

On August 19th, at 3 p.m., at Sacred Heart Church in Doucetteville, a lovely wedding was solemnized when Lorena Ann, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thibault, of Doucetteville, and Edward William, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Melanson, of Lewiston Road, were united in a double ring marriage ceremony. Father Rene LeBlanc, p.p., officiated at the ceremony. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Clifford Doucet.

The bride looked charming as she entered the church on the arm of her father. Her gown was of empire style with acetate taffeta, a stand-up collar. Light blue ribbon through gatton lace accented the gown. Her cathedral train also matched her gown with lace and a flounce on the back of the gown.

Her veil was held in place with a pill box and was floor length.

Her bouquet was a cascade of red roses and baby fern.

The bride was attended by Marilyn MacAlpine, maid of honor; Brenda Thibault, sister of the bride, and Ann Melanson, sister of the groom. The flower girls were Janet Thibault, the bride's sister, and Yvette Belliveau and groom's god-child.

The attendants wore identical floor length gowns of polyester crepe powder blue with stand-up collars trimmed with white lace. They each carried a basket of white and blue mums.

The groom's attendants were Michael Belliveau, Victor Belliveau and David Melanson. The ring bearer was Terry Thibault, brother of the bride. Randy Thibault was an usher.

The brides mother looked charming in a yellow dress with white accessories and corsage to match.

The groom's mother looked lovely in a floor length gown of royal blue brocade with white accessories. She wore a corsage of white mums.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Legion Hall in Weymouth, with about 200 attending. It was followed by a dance in the evening.

For going away the bride chose a purple and white ensemble.

They spent their honeymoon travelling through the province and Cape Breton.

They are now residing in Halifax.

Royale — MacAlpine

The Church of Christ, Weymouth, was the scene of the wedding of Betty Lou MacAlpine, Hassett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis MacAlpine, and Robert Harold Royale, Chester.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Merle Zimmerman, Weymouth. Organist was Mr. Vernon Sabean, New Tusket, and Mr. Richard Wagner, Weymouth North, was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor length gown of polyester crepe in empire style, trimmed with lace. Her train was also edged with matching lace. She wore a three-tiered bouffant veil which was held by a flowered headband. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and carnations.

The bridal attendants were Miss Marilyn MacAlpine, maid of honor; Miss Anna MacAlpine and Miss Gail MacAlpine, all of Hassett, were bridesmaids.

Miss Cheryl MacAlpine was flower girl and Kevin MacAlpine was ring bearer.

The maid of honor wore a floor length gown of peau de soie, empire style, with short puff sleeves and was trimmed with white and silver lace. She wore a floppy brimmed hat and short white gloves. She carried a bouquet of white and yellow daisies.

The bridesmaids wore identical gowns to the maid of honor's in green peau de soie and carried bouquets of yellow, white and green tinted daisies.

The flower girl wore a floor length gown and carried a basket of white and yellow daisies.

The groom was attended by David Corkum, East Chester, as best man. Howard and Alston MacAlpine, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

The mother of the bride wore a two-piece blue dress and coat ensemble, with white accessories. The groom's mother wore a blue crepe dress with brocade top and white accessories.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Havelock School auditorium.

They are residing in Chester, N. S.

Allen — Newton

Fourteen Briefs Presented At Hearing

Dr. Edward Brown, chairman of the Man and Resources Public Hearing, in Digby on Monday afternoon heard fourteen briefs, oral and written.

First to make a presentation was Dr. Allison Pickett, Deep Brook. Others were Mayor Glen Smith, Digby; Mayor Robinson, Middleton; Tom Caltkin, Liberal candidate for Annapolis Valley federal constituency; Rev. A. J. Findlay, Annapolis Royal, Anglican clergy; Robert Allen, Carleton, Yar. Co.; Fred Barrett, Annapolis Royal; Mrs. Eileen Chipman, Digby; Miss Barbara Donak, Bear River; Miss Yvonne Cole, Weymouth; James Martin, Weymouth; Robert Liegirman, Port Lorne; Dan Parker; Mrs. Robert Allen. Hon. Glen Bagnell, future Minister of Mines and Environment, presently responsible for water resources, was present as an observer.

The briefs presented will be studied and summarized for meetings in Halifax, Quebec and a conference to be held in Toronto in 1973. The new Environmental Protection Act for N.S., assented to in May '72.

Western Nova Scotia would be better if it concentrated on a place to live, said Dr. Pickett in his presentation. Industry makes jobs, he admitted, but care must be given to where and how. He advocated use of landscape architects instead of putting it all in the hands of technologists and scientists who often have little regard for environment.

Mr. Pickett leaned towards establishment of land banks or farms bought by the government and put to use by renting to young people. He said there is a trend to back-to-the-land and young people feel the desire to escape artificial environment.

Dr. Pickett urged a pollution control program for the Annapolis Basin and a more careful study of pesticides before they are allowed for use.

Mayor Glen Smith suggested greater provincial or federal assistance for pollution control systems and took Digby as a case in point where an $850,000 sewage control system is needed. This, he said, would serve to re-open the closed clam beds which have provided employment for approximately 400 people. These people when working earn $45, $55 and up to $100 and more a week with landed value of clams $994,312 and processed value $1,996,000 in the last four year period.

Mayor Robinson spoke of preserving good land for other use instead of using it for highways. He felt that an effective pollution program is needed, but municipalities cannot bear the financial burden. He also asked for more authority over water supplies and water sheds and stiffer regulations on dumping. He urged planting of trees by Lands and Forests both for water conservation and beauty for citizen and tourist.

Mr. Calkin felt that development should take place without pollution and that the balance of nature should not be disturbed unnecessarily. He also urged that people be educated to conservation and pollution control and remarked that electricity is now treated like air and people could in time be deprived of this.

Rev. Mr. Findlay stressed the importance of our responsibility to future generations in our stewardship of the things God gave us. He spoke of the misuse of resources and said that the greatest resource we have is manpower. The unemployed, he urged, to be put to a job for productivity. Greater recreation planning and care for wildlife were mentioned.

There is more to life than the economic aspects of making a living, said Robert Allen, Carleton, a former government official, when he presented his brief dealing with lands, forest, education financing. He felt that appreciation of natural resources should be taught in all levels of school and that a greater co-ordination should exist for financing conservation and pollution control.

Mr. Barrett deplored the destruction of environment in the name of progress and industry. He was not convinced, he said, that life standards are lifted by industry or even tourism where the employer spends the winter in Florida and the employee goes on unemployment. Slash and herbicides, he argued, cause blots on the landscape.

Another who deplored the chemical destruction of green foliage was Mrs. Chipman, who reminded that a law in 1970 had a heavy penalty for water polluting. Also she scored the unrestricted use of bulldozers, misguided pursuance of progress and the lack of protection for wildlife.

Miss Cole indicated that officials are not doing their jobs when sawdust is allowed to deposit on Weymouth beaches, sewage at Annapolis and Digby to go in the Basin, Weymouth sewage washed out by the Sissiboo tide or open in the village and Clare garbage deposited in the St. Mary's Bay.

James Martin, also of Weymouth, referred to sawdust, old cars, hay, oil, tin cans and refuse from pig pens lying on beaches. He also felt that Americans should be stopped from buying up property here, and felt that the 1,000 acre bird sanctuary on Brier Island should be government owned.

Dr. Pickett and Dr. Brown both congratulated Miss Donak for her presentation and Dr. Pickett explained the difference, as he saw it, in a land trust and a land bank. Land trust, he said, is of private ownership to develop for the community, while land bank involves government. He expects to see a great movement by young people to small farms and ended his discourse with the quotation "the most potent force in the world is an idea whose time has come."

When the Man and Resources Public Hearing was held at the Fundy Restaurant in Digby on Monday afternoon, fourteen briefs, oral and written, were presented to the chairman, Dr. Edward Brown, a retired professional engineer, of Halifax. Among those presenting briefs were Dr. Allison Pickett, Deep Brook, and Mayor Glen Smith, Digby. Left to right in the picture are Dr. Brown, Dr. Pickett, Hon. Glen Bagnell and Mayor Smith.

STUDY STUDENT TRIP

William Paton, history teacher at the Digby Regional High School, on Monday evening advised the Digby Regional High School Board of a nine day history and geography study trip to Europe sponsored by the Society For The Study Of The Heritage Of Canada at the price of $270 to London, England, and $290 to Paris, France. The trip would be made by Air Canada or BOAC. The Board agreed in principle to DRHS students taking the trip along with chaperones and will seek further information on the proposed trip. Besides trips at various dates the Heritage Society offers secondary school students university entrance scholarships and supports research on topics within the realm of Canadian Heritage.

C. C. MacInnes, supervisor, in his report advised the Board that Mary High School in New Hampshire had extended an invitation to the DRHS. Band for an exchange visit. The Board agreed to this in principle and Mr. MacInnes will pursue the matter further. While a number of former good band students are not now in DRHS, it was learned that the number of members will be greater than previous and will hopefully soon become experienced.

According to Mr. MacInnes' report the DRHS enrollment at present is 877, a decrease of 15 from the 1971-72 term.

Between sixty and seventy students want driver education, while provision so far can be made for only 20, Lister Hannah, principal, felt the time-table had been made up for the year utilizing every teacher for all time and that further program would necessarily have to be held over for the future. It was decided, however, to re-survey the time-table and circumstances with C. C. MacInnes, Lister Hannah and Rupert Haley on the committee.

C. C. MacInnes will carry on as administrator of the Adult Education Classes in Digby until another administrator can be found, it was learned. Other subjects than those advertised can be offered, Mr. MacInnes said, if there are enough students to warrant them and if they are approved by the Board and Department of Education.

A Grade XII pilot project in Economics for university preparation is being carried on at DRHS according to the supervisor's report.

Sanction was given by the Board for teachers to attend various conferences, viz.: seven teachers to a Business Education conference, Halifax, Oct. 13; Learning Disability conference, Halifax, Oct. 19, 20, 21; School Administration conference, Truro, Oct. 17 and 18, and an In-service program in Digby and Annapolis on October 5 and 6.

The Board accepted a tender of $1,443.55 for sanding and marking the DRHS gym floor, to be done during Christmas vacation.

Bills to the amount of $6,889 for the month of August were passed.

An appraisal of school property will be made for rate of insurance purposes.

John Buchanan, Leader of the Opposition in Nova Scotia, was one of the speakers at Meteghan River when Charles Haliburton was nominated for the P. C. candidate for the October 30 federal election in South Western Nova.

Niven Miller To Appear In Digby

This coming Sunday night, at 7:30, Niven Miller, the renowned Scottish baritone, will present a concert of sacred music in the Digby Baptist Church.

Niven Miller, who is known to many through the Senator Emerson Foundation (Saint John) television and radio programmes, as well as in public lectures and concerts, was born in Fife, Scotland, in a little village where his forebears have been boat-builders since 1747. Niven Miller was expected to follow in the family tradition, but after qualifying as an engineer in Glasgow he won two scholarships which gave him a training as a singer with the best teachers. Following the completion of his training in England and abroad, Niven Miller gave concerts for three consecutive years in the Royal Festival Hall and made a series of recordings for Decca Records. He pursued a long series of recital tours in New Zealand, Australia, South Africa, United States, Canada and Europe.

Niven Miller is a gifted and versatile singer, his range of music stretching from light to classical. His specialty, however, Scottish folk songs. In 1972 Niven Miller gave a concert in Royal Albert Hall, London, England, and went on to a month's concert tour in Russia at the invitation of the Russian government.

Deep Brook Woman N.D.P. Candidate

Virginia Pickett, wife of Dr. Allison Pickett, Deep Brook, was nominated N.D.P. candidate of the Annapolis Valley constituency at a meeting at Middleton on September 17.

Mrs. Pickett was the former Virginia Tufts born and educated in Wolfville.

Her first marriage was to a naval officer, J. H. Phurrott, after which she spent two years in England. Later when her husband became a diplomatic officer she spent two years in the Soviet Union, six in Belgium, several months in Geneva, Switzerland and six years in Ceylon.

After her husband's death, Virginia Tufts Phurrott returned to Nova Scotia where she married Dr. Allison Pickett, Deep Brook, in 1958. From 1964 to 1968 Dr. and Mrs. Pickett spent in West Africa and West Indies where Mrs. Pickett has always taken an interest in the Caribbean economy.

Mrs. Pickett, now 56 years of age, has added another interest to life in her pursuit and interest in betterment of

Victim Of Car Accident

Mrs. Robicheau, wife of Lloyd Robicheau, died Friday night in a single car accident at Marshalltown. Born in Conway, she was the former Ferne Grace Woodman, daughter of the late Frank and Mary Woodman.

The accident occured when Mr. and Mrs. Robicheau were driving towards Digby at about 10 to 5 and Mr. Robicheau lost control of the car. The car went across the road near the home of Everett Lewis and struck a culvert.

Surviving besides her husband are six sons, Peter and David of Edmonton; James, Conmore, Alvin; Richard, in Georgia, and Timothy and Randy, at home; five daughters, Brenda (Mrs. Dudley Griffiths), Digby; Sandra (Mrs. David Taylor), Bridgetown, and Nancy, Susan and Pamela, at home; a brother, Donald, in Conway; two sisters Alda (Mrs. Alden Smith), Conway, and Verna (Mrs. Paul Wilson), Victoria; two half brothers, Harry, of Rochester, Mass., and Alvin, of Saint John; and three half sisters, Mary, in Florida; Marjorie and Vera, both of Concord, Mass.

The body was at Jayne's Funeral Home, Digby. Funeral service was held Tuesday at 2 p.m. from Marshalltown Roman Catholic Church with burial in St. Patrick's Cemetery.

Smith Hearing

Preliminary hearing for Leonard Wallace Smith, age 18, of Mount Pleasant, on a charge of unlawfully causing the death of Terry Guy Adams by criminal negligence, contrary to Sec. 203 of the Criminal Code got underway under judge Charles LeBrun September 26 in Digby.

The charge against Smith arose as a result of the highway death of Terry Adams, of Smith's Cove on the night of August 5th, 1972.

The hearing, which was not open to the public, continues in Annapolis Royal today.

Grave Concern

Miss Barbara Donak Bear River, especially interested in Land Trust, appeared at the Man and Resources Public Hearing in Digby on Monday with a last-minute thought of grave concern. She was perplexed about the amount of land in the earth which is given over to the dead as cemeteries. She changed that if all the money put into tombstones could be otherwise used there could be built a palace for a lot of poor people.

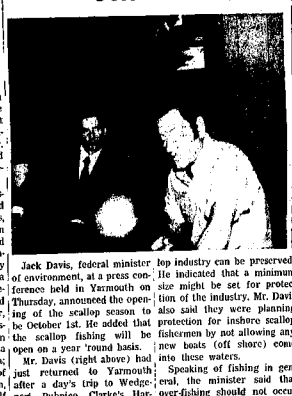
Scallop Season Opens October 1



Jack Davis, federal minister of environment, at a press conference held in Yarmouth on Thursday, announced the opening of the scallop season to be October 1st. He added that the scallop fishing will be open on a year 'round basis.

Mr. Davis (right above) had just returned to Yarmouth after a day's trip to Wedgeport, Pubnico, Clarke's Harbour and Newellton with Liberal candidate for South Western Nova, Fulton Logan, Digby. They talked with fishermen, inspected wharves and took general note of environment. The preceding day they visited Digby Neck, Soulnierville, Meteghan, etc. Mr. Davis said that the complaints of run-down wharves, poor docks, absence of lighting were in most cases well founded.

Mr. Davis expects to discuss with fishermen how the scallop industry can be preserved. He indicated that a minimum size might be set for protection of the industry. Mr. Davis also said they were planning protection for inshore scallop fishermen by not allowing any new boats (off shore) come into these waters.

Speaking of fishing in general, the minister said that over-fishing should not occur to reduce or deplete the stock. Speaking of the continental shelf, the minister noted that we have the biggest shelf in the world, but it should be controlled for conservation purposes.

Mr. Davis said the United States is the biggest problem regarding the 12 mile limit. He said the Russians have an immense investment in vessels and gear and rather than

— ABOUT THIS AND THAT —

No Fault Of The Ferryman

"Get low to the church on time" was a favourite expression on Saturday afternoon at East Ferry. But they didn't all get to the church in Freeport on time. Some thirty or forty arrived just on the dot or two, or came fifteen minutes late or when the ceremony was finished or just in good time for the reception. And that wasn't the fault of the ferrymen. They did a good job in transporting with a scow capacity for five cars. And it wasn't the fault of guests. Some went the night before, some started from Sandy Cove and Digby at 11 a.m. to avoid the rush and nobody risked starting after twelve noon. That allowed them two hours, at least, to drive 30 miles to East Ferry, cross ¼ mile passage and then drive 12 more miles to Freeport. Should have been plenty of time. But, not with one five-car ferry to transport all those cars.

No one is suggesting the Islands young people rush into the sea of matrimony just to hasten better transportation across the tidal waters of Petite but more incidents like Saturday's blockade of traffic might urge the powers-that-be to put a permanent crossing over Petite Passage.

The return trip was more casual. Few had to make their destinations at specific times and with special courtesy to the bride and groom all went well. But something else gave us concern about the Islands people. Before all the wedding trips across the ferry had been completed, along came the ambulance with a patient for the Digby General Hospital. Naturally, the ambulance was given preference but that couldn't absolve that waiting period for the ferry's incomplete trip East and its return for the ambulance and back to East Ferry again. On the mainland the patient would not have been detained that extra time. On the Island a bridge or causeway accommodation would have caused no waiting.

Which all reminds us, when are those three weeks going to be up for the new ferry to come into service on Petite Passage. As far as we remember, it should have been eight weeks ago. We understand the ship has been on practice and trial runs on Grand Passage for nearly three weeks and from all we've been able to gather, the expectations are good. "She's good and suitable but just 'gotta' get the hang of 'er'." We did hear a few remarks as "why don't they try her with a load" and "might be different in blowy weather", but in general the Islands people seem to anticipate quite an improvement by shorter time consumption and also in accommodation when the new ferry gets into service.

In the meantime we'll still push for a bridge or causeway across Petite Passage. The ferries are fun when you are not ill, when you don't have business engagements to attend or you don't have to "get me to the church on time". Just too bad the ferrymen couldn't have been around when the bride threw her bouquet on Saturday. They are deserving of a bouquet for a job well done with a five-car scow. We extend the courtesy by paper instead.

Another thought. How about those medical and nursing units the Islands were supposed to get?

Good Turn Out

There could have been more, of course, but we were quite pleased to see somewhere in the vicinity of thirty at the Resource and Environment Hearing on Monday in Digby. Twelve or more briefs showed a wide interest. The news stories will reveal some of the opinions expressed and give subjects for ponder and debate.

Among the most enthusiastic and with bright ideas for the future were several young people who took part in the discussion or presented briefs.

Judging from the presentations, the trend is changing. People want to be free of the rat-race, the money-grabbing, the hustle and bustle and pollution of industrial life. The great emphasis on industrializing has changed to a more cautious note of protecting the environment for a place to enjoy life and secure a worthwhile heritage for future generations. A back-to-the-farm attitude has been adopted and not before a necessity for such action has been seen.

Environment is a much-thought-of subject today and definitely needs to be considered by each individual. Give it some thought now before our children are deprived of the best the earth affords.

Hodge Podge

— So we made a mistake in the sponsors of the Hospital Fair. Wonder where we could ever get that impression when it's the D. G. Hospital Board which sponsors the Fair. Well, O. K., we'll let the Hospital Board make the announcement and then we'll give them credit for sponsorship. At any rate, no matter who sponsors the Fair, this Hodge Podge is just one more opportunity to urge everybody to ATTEND THE HOSPITAL FAIR.

— One of our subscribers paid his subscription account the other day with the remark "I get a lot of papers but none can take the place of the Digby Courier". And we could see that he meant it, too.

— We take it that Digby County is not a much-recreation minded county. Not any of the $690,000 grants handed out for recreation by Provincial Secretary, Garnet Brown, went to Digby County.

— Among visitors in Digby last week were Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Viall, of Maryland, U.S.A., and Owings Mills, M.D. Mr. and Mrs. Viall are thrilled with the site of land they purchased at Ashmore. They hope to have their new home completed by 1974 and are looking forward to enjoying their retirement here. They are looking forward also to entering community life when they arrive. A big hand of welcome is extended to such people who fall in love with our country and want to really "live".

— You don't often see it anymore. But there it was, down there in Belliveau Cove. A great big pile of fire wood and a real man (not a machine) splitting up the wood by axe. There was a cosy feeling to the sight of that pile of wood.

Finish OFY Project

A playground, ball field, track area and a skating rink became a reality this summer at Weymouth Falls when the $16,340 Opportunity For Youth project was completed on the Community Centre property. Approximately 30 students were on the project sponsored jointly by the Weymouth Falls Community Council and the Youth Council.

The playground accommodates children of all ages with swings, see-saws, balls and climbing feats to be tackled. A volleyball court was constructed near two horse-shoe pits recently dug. Also on the property is a large picnic area with tables.

Besides constructing new features, the OFY workers also put on a beautification program for the property already in use.

Pink And Blue Shower

Mrs. Danny Kenney, Westport, was hostess to a pink and blue shower in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Penny Graham. The rooms were tastefully decorated and the evening was spent playing games, which were prepared by Mrs. Crystal McDormand.

The gift table was decorated with pink and blue streamers and centered by a stork carrying a tiny bundle of joy.

Following the games, the guest of honor opened her many lovely gifts, assisted by Mrs. Crystal McDormand.

At the end of the evening a delicious buffet lunch was served and also at this time Penny was presented with a beautifully decorated cake trimmed in pink and blue, made by the hostess. The cake was cut and served to the guests, which marked the end of a very enjoyable evening.

WHERE DID I GO WRONG?

The young person weakened in body and mind by drugs or alcohol may feel like asking, "Where did I go wrong?" The person who has been outwardly moral but inwardly empty but busy, successful, well-to-do, but without friends, and with little love in his heart for anyone, may ask such a question. Someone coming to the end of life, and finding that he is afraid of death and the hereafter, and that all his achievements have brought little lasting ease of mind, may ask, "Where did I go wrong?"

It is safe to say that multitudes make their fatal mistake by counting God out of their lives. They are not full of rejection or bitterness toward their Maker. They just ignore Him, year after year.

It is not sensible that we can live a full life and be out of harmony with the Maker of life. It is when we fit into His purposes and plans for us, like a hand fits into a glove, that we feel right about things.

Christ came to give meaning and depth to our lives, but if He is not included in our thinking, then it is little wonder that we feel cheated and empty. There are two different ways to go, and every person must choose to trust himself or to trust God and His Word. The wise course is to believe the Bible, and receive Christ joyfully into one's heart.

Here is a challenge: "See, I have set before thee this day life and good, and death and evil ..." Deuteronomy 30:15. Many go wrong by going away from their only hope.

DISTRIBUTORS VISIT AMWAY FACTORY

Grant and Seretha Sabine of Riverdale were among the direct distributors attending a three-day seminar at the home office of Amway Corporation in Ada, Michigan on Sept 12-14.

Grant and Seretha are distributors of over 150 homes, cars, and personal care products manufactured by Amway Corp.

The title direct distributor is awarded by the fast growing direct selling firm in recognition of the attainment of high level sales volume. Every distributor can reach this award and the Amway sponsored trip in this Free enterprise Musiners.

The purpose of the seminar is to find the new direct distributors an opportunity to see the Amway offices, and plant, and to learn new techniques which will help in the operation of the independently owned direct distributorship.

Amway manufactures a full line of household cleaning, maintenance and safety products including liquid oxanie cleaning concentrates powdered laundry products and personal grooming aids and all products re sold on a person to person basis, by independent distributors.

Mr. and Mrs. Sabine have two children, Timila and Lowell Grant who is a mink rancher and Seretha a registered nurse, have now sponsored several distributors in many parts of the Maritimes Provinces and they are only the second direct distributors in Nova Scotia.

FALL DANDELIONS AT BEAR RIVER EAST

The Old Homestead

Prologue:

On sunny southern hillside fair I stand,
Emblem of love and toil within a new dear land;
With chimney red upraised to azure skies
Amid the sugar maples I arise.

The homestead old and grey and weather worn
Stands like a soldier of all medals shorn
Defying summer heat and winter's blast
Staunch is the veteran brave until the last

The waiving fields of daisies and of hay
Slopes down to where wild strawberries lay
All red and sparkling near the little brook
Or hidden large and luscious in a sheltered nook.

The boiling spring refreshing and so cool;
A joy to every child returning home from school —
Still bubbles there 'mid black upheaving earth;
Still proves in crystal freshness all its worth.

The June rose-bush growing by the cellar door
Has donned its dress of green and pink once more,
But loving hands that taught it where to stand,
Are gathering rosebuds in a fairer land.

Familiar things which did my heart delight
Have now forever vanished from my sight;
The bridge no longer spans the little stream;
Gone is the pine 'neath which I used to dream.

No more we watch the rythm of the scythe,
As in the field each mower with his brother vies.
No more the cow bells tinkle in the vale;
Nor horses canter down the well worn trail.

The beauty of the sunset has grown strangely dim,
We see it only faintly through the forest's rim,
Above, about and all around is silent, calm;
A harmony as tranquil as a psalm.

Sue W. Bragg,
1972.

Brief Presented On Development

The Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade held its regular directors meeting in Meteghan at the Bluefin Restaurant-Motel with president Clair Durland in the chair. This is the first time that such a meeting has been held in the Municipality of Clare in Digby County. The Clare Chamber of Commerce is a member of the AVABT.

A brief was presented by Willard Bishop on behalf of the Waterville airport, which is privately owned, which referred to the development of aviation at the airport. The runways should be extended to a distance of 6,000 feet so licensed carriers could use the airport. Being privately owned, the airport is not eligible to receive government grants for its improvement.

The brief went on to state that Nova Scotia was not receiving its share of flying tourists. The Waterville airport is within flying distance of eleven states of the United States, with a potential of half a million flying tourists. Airports need not be of a complex nature, but must be made attractive, stated the brief, with lights and services available. The airport could be made available to general aviation. Reasonable brochures should be printed and distributed letting the flying tourists know of the availability of airports in the province.

Lloyd Hill spoke of the successful Rambler Trailer Holiday Convention held in Kentville in the month of July, spending a week in the valley area. Favorable comments were heard from the trailer owners coming from forty-seven states of the United States and they will spread the word about the hospitality of the people of Nova Scotia along with its many beautiful scenic regions.

The entertainment and recreation incentive programs for tourism will again be available for grants as in 1972. The Clare area received in the vicinity of $5,000.00, stated Mr. Hill, with the Acadian Festival of Clare, Cape St. Mary's Anglers Association with its Inter-Provincial Tuna Tournament and the Meteghan Lions Club with its project, Blessing of the Fleet, as a few who took advantage of the program in 1972.

The AVABT selected the following members to serve on a committee to investigate the Waterville Airport and to a municipality which would be in favor of owning the airport, so grants can be obtained to improve it; Willard Bishop, chairman; Willis Kinsman, Lloyd Hill.

Mr. Hill announced that a Transportation Action Seminar will be held on Thursday, October 5th, starting at 9:00. It will be held at Acadia University in Wolfville. Several industrialists have consented to speak at the Seminar and Mr. Hill stated that the N. S. Federation of Labour will be represented by John Lynk, president, and his topic will be "Transportation and Labour".

A meeting with the premier and his cabinet was held during the summer of 1972, at which the AVABT presented priorities required for the area covered by the board.

Ottawa born Charlotte Gobeil will be one of the faces seen on CBC-TV's one-hour current affairs magazine show Weekend when it returns for its fourth season Sunday, October 1, at 10 p.m. Miss Gobeil is a graduate of Ottawa University with a BA in political science. She is described by producer George Robertson as "a woman who exhausts all adjectives . . . she can be charming, abrasive and elegant, with an ability to communicate her vast employment of life and people".

Digby On Top Of Soccer Standing

The dream came true on Friday as Digby's Mike LeBlanc banged home two penalities to defeat Bridgetown 2-1, taking over the high school soccer league lead. Hustle and a sticky defence kept the pressure on Bridgetown for ninety minutes as the forwards bombed them with long throw-ins, corners, and over twenty shots. Packing the penalty area at times to block shots, the visitors remained dangerous right to the end, scoring once on a chip over Digby's wall. It was the thrill of a life time to hear the whistle signal time and see the players receive congratulations from the three-hundred plus fans on hand for the contest.

On Monday, Oct. 2, Digby travels to Bridgetown for a 4 p.m. contest. A win would clinch first place for the D.R.H.S. squad, the first occurance of that since the early 50's.

Robinson tips one of his three goals past the rolling Clare goalie in Wednesday's game. Digby won 11-0. Robinson leads the scoring with four goals in three games.

Sports Field

An engineer from Lawrencetown has been to see the sports field concerning drainage and erosion. He has advised that it would cost approx $1500.00 to trench, pipe and backfill the entire field.

Hopefully this project can get started in the next two weeks. Funds are presently lacking but the Student Council hopes to solicit funds from various sources in the next few weeks and I am sure the required sum will be realized. It is imperative that the drainage be done soon before too much fall rain.

Varsity Defeats Clare

Ball control and experience paid off Wednesday as Digby rolled on toward the league title with an 11-0 victory over Clare High School.

Jack Robinson, the club's top scorer, and Chris Thibault managed hat tricks, while Dave Wong, Rich Robbins, Ken Wagner, Mike LeBlanc and Herb Taylor tallied one each. Digby showed its passing ability all through the game.

Mike LeBlanc, co-captain and center back, played forward and led the DRHS scorers in 1971. With more emphasis on team defence, success depends heavily on his ability to keep the goal area cleared.

Western Valley Intermediate "C" League Formed

On 8 September 1972, at Canadian Forces Base Cornwallis, the new Intermediate "C" Hockey League became a reality, consisting of four teams: The Digby Ravens, Bridgetown Hawks, Les Acadiens de Clare (Clare Acadians), and CFB Cornwallis Cougars.

The groundwork for this league was begun in January by Lorie Joudrey when it became obvious to himself and Phil Robertson that the Digby Ravens and CFB Cornwallis Cougars were experiencing difficulty in the Valley Intermediate "B" League. At that time contact was made with Harry Verran and Brother Louis and the blueprint for the new Intermediate "C" League became a reality.

The objects of the new league are to afford local hockey players the opportunity to play for a community team, provide spectator interest in local players in a local league and finally to enable the local arenas to realize a larger profit.

Spectators will recall that in the 1950's a' league similar to this operated most successfully throughout western Nova Scotia. The new league representatives fully agree that this will happen again if the level of hockey improves satisfactorily and if communities support their teams. A league cannot possibly survive unless all interested hockey fans support their team.

Pee Wees Defeated Centre

Centre Pee Wees visited Digby on Saturday but met defeat of hands (or feet?) of the local talents, 6-1.

Butch Wong and Kevin Locke scored pairs while Dan LeBlanc and Brian Comeau secced singles for Digby. Special thanks go to Don White and Ken Wagner who managed Digby's teams to victory and to referee Robert White of North Range.

An under-10 game was played to a 0-0 draw.

IN MEMORIAM

TRIMPER — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Edna Beatrice, who passed away Sept. 30, 1964.
Just a prayer from us who loved you,
Just a memory fond and true
Just to say how much we miss you
Because we thought the world of you.
— Always loved and sadly missed by husband, Norman and daughter, Edith. 7:1p

TRIMPER — In loving memory of our dear mother and Grandmother, Edna Beatrice, who passed away Sept. 30, 1964.
When ties of love are broken
And loved ones have to part
It leaves a wound that never heals
And a sad and lonely heart.
The memories we have of our dear Mother
No length of time can take away
For in our hearts she is always near Still loved, still missed and very dear.
— Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by daughter, Viola, son-in-law, Lewis and grandchildren. 7:1ip

IN MEMORIAM

JORDAN — In loving memory of a dear friend, Reginald, who left us September 30, 1971.
We who loved you sadly miss you
As it dawns another year;
In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of you are ever near.
— Sadly missed by friends, Clarence and Theresa Chute. 7:1ic

AMERO — In loving memory of Jamie Amero who passed away Sept. 27, 1964.
Darling child, along life's way,
We miss you more each day,
Your grave a shrine, death a shroud
Of sorrow in our hearts endowed.
— Sadly missed by mother and dad, Myrna and Clifton Amero.

Just a thought of sweet remembrance,
Just a memory sad and true,
Just the love and sweet devotion
Of one who thinks of you.
— Sadly missed by uncle, Eric and Aunt Carolyn.

Only a memory of by gone days
And a sigh for a face unseen;
A constant feeling that God alone
Knows best what should have been.
— Sadly missed by grandmother and Grandfather, Jennie and Anson Amero. 7:1ic

GERMAINE — In loving memory of dear wife and mother, Mary who passed away Sept. 29th, 1971.
One lonely year has passed
Since ou great sorrow fell,
The shock that we received that day,
No one can ever tell
God gave us strength to meet it
And courage to bear the blow,
But what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.
Its lonely here without you,
We miss you more each day
For life is not the same to us
Since you were called away
You hade no one a last farewell,
Not even said good-bye.
You were gone before we realized
And only God knows why.
It broke our hearts to lose you
But you did not go alone
For part of us went with you
The day God called you home.
— Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by husband, Bill and son, Wayne. 7:1ip

GERMAINE — In loving memory of a dear sister, Mary Germaine who passed away September 29, 1971.
We watched her suffer,
We heard her sigh,
But all we could do was just stand by
For when the time came we suffered too.
For she never deserved what she went through
God took her hand and we had to part.
He erased her pain but broke our hearts
We mention her name and think of her often
God Bless you, Dear Mary, you're never forgotten.
— Sadly missed and always remembered, by sisters and brothers. 7:1p

GERMAINE — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, Mary Kathleen, who passed away Sept. 29th, 1971.
Her tired heart is sleeping
Her hands are at rest
For a mother who suffered far too much
She is resting on God's breast
You never said good-bye to us
Perhaps it's just as well
For we never could have said good-bye
To the one we loved so well.
— Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by daughter, Lorraine son-in-law, Mike, grandson, Mike Jr. 7:1ip

BEAR RIVER EAST

On September 2, Pauline, George and Nancy Burrell motored to Halifax and Sunday attended a church service at Mulgrave Baptist Church where Rev. John Bartol is Pastor. Monday they motored to North Sydney, from there they took the ferry to St. John's and Bonavista, Newfoundland; returning to Cape Breton by ferry the following Sunday, then to Fort Louisburg and home on September 11.

Gail Baxter entered Mount Saint Vincent, Halifax on Thursday where she will study in Political Science.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Hopkins, Hamilton, Ontario called on Mrs. Leora Baxter on Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Frost spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Munro and family, Kentville. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hayden and family, Rossway were guests at the same home on Sunday.

On Saturday evening the Mite Society held a Bridal Shower in the Church Vestry in honor of Valerie Wagner. Many lovely gifts were received. A lunch was served at the close of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Haley were over night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Young, New Minas on Friday. On their return home they called on Rev. and Mrs. Elmer Brewster, Centreville Kings Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Emmerson, Sandy Cove called on Mrs. Leora Baxter on Friday evening.

INTRODUCES NEW PRODUCT

Twin Cities Co-Operative Dairy have announced the introduction of a "Canada First" Fifty-Fifty Spread.

This product is fifty percent number one Butter and fifty percent of the finest of pure Vegetable Oils. It has been over one and one-half years in the development stages, and has undergone tremendous marketing teste before reaching this final stage of readiness for consumer acceptance.

It looks like butter, tastes like butter, but has the spreadability of margarine. It is extremely economical and will go a long way in easing the budget of Mrs. Consumer. Its similarity to butter is such that it is practically impossible to tell the difference between the two products.

Fifty-Fifty is foil wrapped for greater consumer protection, thus ensuring the consumer receiving this fine product in a manner to which she is entitled.

Fifty-Fifty Spread has been available in all areas of Nova Scotia since September 18th, 1972.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL MUSIC TEACHER

The report of C.C. MacInnes, supervisor, at the Board of School Commissioners on Monday night advised the Board that Sister Ludovina Gallivan has offered to teach music in the three elementary schools in Digby.

He also reported that reorganization within the elementary school system is taking place so that students will have more individual help. Teachers can make use of their remedial skills and their minor co-ordination skills for the benefit of the students. While this pattern has been used to some extent in the past few years, the program will be intensified, it was learned.

Mr. McInnes's report revealed that air conditioners had been installed in the elementary school.

The meeting was presided over by the chairman, Mrs. Ina Dillon.

EXERCISE STRONG EXPRESS — Maritime Command's fleet replenishment ship Protecteur refuels USCG Dallas at sea during Exercise Strong Express in the Western Atlantic. The ships are taking part in the multi-nation exercise which ended September 26. The exercise was designed to practice maritime force commanders, headquarters and elements in their assigned tasks within the NATO framework.

LIBRARY OPENS FALL PROGRAM

The fall program has started at the Admiral Digby Library and facilities will be available to evenings and to noon hours each week to accomodate students. In general, the library is open from 12 noon to 1 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday for the benefit of students. The evening hours are Wednesday to Friday 7 to 9 p.m. In all there are 2669 books classified at the building and approximately 1900 members have joined the Admiral Digby Library. Books that are not available at the building can be obtained by request.

One of the most interesting features at the Digby Library is the story hour which reconvened on September 20. Ages 2 to 8 have story hour on Wednesday from 3:30 to 4:30 until Christmas. After Christmas both story and film will be shown for the 9 to 12 years old. Admiral Digby Library hours are:

Monday 12 noon to 1 p.m.

ADELAIDE DANIELS SAYS

THE VACATION TRAP

o you are going on vacation, and the price includes meals — ots of them . . . all big . . . all rich and with second porions available, especially desserts.

rapped! You are trapped between all that food you have ready paid for and your diet programme.

hat are your choices? Firstly, forget the diet, you tell yourelf you only live once so why not enjoy? You can start your et when you get home. After all, it won't be the first time ou quit and started over again.

r, you can say to yourself that you've been so good up to ow you deserve a reward. Keep on giving yourself pats on he back and by the time your holiday is over, there should e at least ten extra pounds to pat.

hen there's another alternative. Don't go on vacation. Be martyr and stay home.

he choice I recommend is to go on your holiday and stick ith your diet. You might say: how can I possibly do this? have found it's all in one's attitude. Learn to enjoy holidays ithout making eating the highlight. If you keep food in its roper perspective, you can enjoy eating, enjoy holidaying nd keep on losing weight.

he meal plan I recommend for weight watchers contains oods and choices that should present no difficulty in hotels. he important part of dieting, when dining out, is to be prosic. Tell your waiter how you want your food prepared and on't succumb to his offers of more. He will honour your equests but you must ask. Once your waiter or waitress nderstands that you really mean business they will usually o out of their way to help.

ple in the world. She brought before the public the extreme amount of money spent for embalmers fees and other funeral costs which could be eliminated.

Miss Donak's presentation dealt chiefly with land trusts and told of the land trust which is being formed in Bear River where land would not be owned but only leased. This she said would get away from so much competition in the world and people would have more respect for one another.

She advocated organic farming and save the land for future generations.

Miss Donak was supported by Robert Liedgemon, Port Lorne who made a plea for a land bank or government financing of small farms. Dan Parker also said that the government could do a service by making land and resources available so that the area could develop into a self sustaining area and avoid disaster.

beh.if the hospital and Lion, Arthur Everett, secretary.

Mr. Applejchn demonstrated how the sweat of a person is collected by filter and weighed and tested for salt content. Normal reading would be 0 to 50 miligrams per leder.

The procedure in which the patient is stimulated to produce sweat (usually from the arm's) is called Ionotphoresis the apparatus used to accomplish this is called an electronic sweat inducer. This was made by the IWK hospital in Halifax and paid for by the Lions Club.

The apparatus used to measure the salt in sweat is called Chloridometer being, the one bought by the Lions Club being a "Direct Reading Buchler - Cotlove Chloridometer".

CHRISTIAN CORNER ANSWER THE PASTOR

QUES.: Did this universe come from an exploding ball of gas?

ANS.: No. The Bible tells us (K.J.V.) that the earth we live on came from the lower half of a big planet of water with darkness surrounding it and the Spirit of God moving upon the surface of it(Gen. 1:2). The planet of water was cut in halves horizontally by an air space, v. 6. The lower half was then formed into a sphere, v. 8, and the mountains and the land arose out of it, v. 9. All loose water was caught up in the hollows, making lakes and seas, v. 10. The other part of the universe came into existance 7 billion years later, 4 days of light and 3 nights of one billion years is allowed for each day of God's time, v. 14.

deplete stocks they want to come back again for their share of the fishing. Their big investment is one of our safeguards, the minister felt, and they have a sustained yield approach.

Questioned on environment and ecology, Mr. Davis spoke of his efforts to bring fish plants up to standard and he has been in discussion with fishermen on the matter from coast to coast.

Following the departure of Mr. Davis, the press conference continued with Mr. Logan, who felt that Western Nova Scotia is relatively free of pollution but there are still some pollution problems. Regarding the establishing of industry, Mr. Logan said there has to be a balance of benefits in terms of employment and developing the economy in relation to and damage to the ecology. Standards have to be kept, he said, yet we must make it attractive for industry to locate. He felt tourism had a great potential in Western Nova Scotia and related programs should be carried out to enhance tourism.

Mr. Logan realized the tremendous cost to cleaning up pollution, but felt every effort should be made to do so and that Canadian Forces services should be one of the first to guard against pollution.

Mr. Logan said his aim is to solidify the fishing industry, farming and forestry and to develop communications so people can make known their needs.

PREPARE FOR BLOOD DONATION

When Digby Blood Donor Clinic is on, it can be depended upon that Digby Neck and Islands will be well represented.

In the picture above, Mrs. W. A. MacIntyre, of Freeport, N. S., has just left Red Cross Nurse, Miss Norma Lattie, where she received her donor card of acceptance. Next in line was Ronald Stark, centre, just awaiting the result of the test which will accept or reject him as a donor.

More than two hundred attended the clinic at the Digby Lions Hall on Wednesday, when the nurse in charge was Miss Bernardine Cameron. E. B. Tufts is district supervisor and the Lions Club provides accommodation and transportation.

C.F.B. Cornwallis, both service personnel and civilian, had contributed substantially to the clinic.

Two presentations were made on Wednesday. A presentation of a scroll was made to Norman Wright at the Upgrading School under Manpower for donating 35 pints of blood. Rev. George Bell also received a scroll for 35 donations.

LIGHT KEEPER PASSES

The community of Gilbert Cove was shocked and saddened by the death of Miss Louise Melanson, light keeper at Gilbert Cove.

Age 58, Miss Melanson was the daughter of the late William and Mae Melanson.

The light was kept on Gilbert Cove by the Melanson family for the past 68 years, Miss Melanson succeeding her father in the responsibility. She made many friends and was well known for her hospitality.

Her body rested at Sweeney's Funeral Home, in Weymouth North, with the funeral Mass celebrated on Saturday evening at 7:30 p.m. and burial at 12:30 p.m. on Sunday.

She leaves to mourn one sister, Alma, of Kentville, and three brothers: Percy, of Campbellton, N. B., Joy and Ivan, of Gilbert Cove.

OPINIONS OF INDIVIDUALS AND ORGANIZATIONS SOUGHT

VICTOR CARDOZA

V. G. Cardoza, Digby, provincial president, presided at a meeting of Branch President, Mental Health at a conference held in Halifax. Also attending were program chairmen and public education conveners. Accompanying Mr. Cardoza from Digby were Vernon Wessell and Reverend George Bell.

Local branches of Mental Health Nova Scotia will be urged to take the lead in mobilizing and co-ordinating the concerns of individuals and organizations in their areas in order to secure speedier and more effective action in the implementation of recommendations of the Report of the Commission on Emotional and Learning Disabilities in Children, it was decided at the conference.

It was noted at the conference that this year's program thrust for Mental Health Nova Scotia is "Services to Children" and it was pointed out that action programs in this connection, as in other areas of mental health services, often require the involvement of many other organizations in addition to Mental Health Nova Scotia.

The need for leadership training, particularly in the area of achievement, of change and community development, was also stressed at the conference. It was pointed out that there appears to exist a real need for the creation of a greater understanding of constructive approaches to social action.

The conference dealt with program emphases, implementation of programs, project co-ordination and the promotion of improved public relations at the community level.

Opinion was expressed at the conference that, although public attitudes concerning mental illness have greatly improved over the years, there is still a good deal of stigma attached to this illness. It was decided to urge branches to step up their public education activities in order to further combat this feeling.

A suggestion that local branches of Mental Health Nova Scotia should conduct community studies to determine high risk situations and areas of need, as well as resource possibilities received approval at the conference. The conference also approved the implementation of efforts to secure staff personnel at the branch level in order to assure continuity of programming. Training sessions for staff were also suggested, as was the exploration of funding sources for projects on a direct basis rather than through general support of the association.

Raise Bursary From $250 To $700

Following the Fall meeting of the executive of College Sainte-Anne Alumni Association, the president, William Deveau, announced some of the activities foreseen for this year.

A reunion of all members will be held at the college during the Acadian Festival of Clare in July. This reunion is to be an annual event.

For several years the Alumni has been giving a $250.00 bursary to a student. The Bursary Fund investments totaling $12,825.00 will now provide a $700.00 bursary.

The annual meeting last Summer agreed to redecorate and furnish a conference room and lounges at the College. The architects have prepared plans and an estimate of the cost will be studied at future meetings of the executive.

Family Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stokes, Art Stokes of Brampton, and Gene Stokes of Byron, Ont., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stokes, son Mel, and Mrs. Stokes, Bear River East, bringing together members of the Stokes family.

Mr. and Mrs. Stokes make a habit of coming to Nova Scotia every two years, and missed only once in 1951.

Maude's Painting

Another early painting of the late Mrs. Maude Lewis, Digby's famous primitive artist, was brought to The Digby Courier by Donald Marshall.

Decidedly different from her later oils is this painting, with the centre of attraction being a man operating a tractor in a ploughed field. The tractor, being bright red in color, is the first object to catch the eye. In the background are two white horses under the shade of trees.

Bridal Shower

A second surprise bridal shower, in honour of Miss Sandra Comeau, whose marriage to Gary Speichts took place Saturday evening, September 16th, was held at the Smith's Cove United Baptist Church vestry on Monday evening, September 11.

The evening was spent making a bride's book. The couple received many lovely and useful gifts.

Refreshments were served by the friends of the bride-to-be.

America On $2.50 A Day!

New Concept In Bus Travel

Travel America for $2.50 a day? Can't be done? It can now—using Ameripass, Greyhound's new unlimited 60-day ticket.

For $149.50, a traveler can go anywhere in the U.S.A. over Greyhound's 100,000 miles of routes for 60 days.

James L. Kerrigan, president of Greyhound Lines, Inc., said, "Ameripass is our way of making it easier for Americans to see this great land of ours. Our buses serve 40,000 cities and towns in America and can take a traveler not only to the more popular tourist attractions such as the national parks, historic sites and exciting metropolitan areas, but also to the lesser known places of great beauty and national significance."

Available beginning Sept. 15, Ameripass will be honored in all 48 continguous states and in some areas of Canada.

Ameripass holders will also be eligible for special discounts on hotels, automobile rentals, sightseeing and other travel services. To obtain the discount, all they need to do is show their Ameripass.

The 60-day ticket offers complete freedom and flexibility of travel. There are no limitations on the time of day or day of week when it may be used during the 60-day period — including weekends, weekdays, holidays, day or night.

Travelers will be able to stop whenever and wherever they wish—for as long as they want. They may also take side trips, crossovers, switchbacks or revisit places they like. As an additional benefit, Ameripass will be honored by almost 100 other intercity bus lines in the United States and Canada.

Kerrigan said Ameripass is one of several new programs being launched as a special salute to the nation's upcoming 200th anniversary. Others include a new red, white and blue paint scheme and special service to the most desirable American tourist attractions.

A free folder providing complete details on Ameripass as well as valuable bus travel information is available at any Greyhound terminal or representative as well as many travel agencies.

Look For Robinsons And Lewises

P. Neal Robinson, 541 East Market, York, Pa., U. S. A., and his nephew Walter Robinson, of 32 Chestnut, Lynn, Mass., were in Digby on Tuesday of last week, where they attempted to locate relatives.

Frank Robinson, of Granville Ferry, and Isabello Lewis were married in Digby back in 1888. P. Neal Robinson is a son from that marriage, but contact with the Digby people had been lost. There was also the Fielding name in the family, his sister having married a Fielding.

Mr. Robinson comes from a family of sailors and says he would be happy to make contact with descendants of the Robinson family, to which he belongs.

RECENT MARRIAGES

Speichts — Comeau

On September 16, at 7:00 p.m., Smith's Cove United Baptist Church was the scene of a lovely fall wedding, when Sandra Jean, eldest daughter of Albert Comeau, Halifax and Helena Banks, Smith's Cove, and Gary Nelson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Speichts, Digby, were united in holy matrimony. The wedding march was played by Laura Brown.

The bride looked radiant as she entered the church on the arm of her father, Albert Comeau. Her gown was an A-line floor length of white peau de soie with silver daisy trimming around the neck and on the sleeves.

Her cathedral style floor length veil was held in place by a Juliet Cap embossed with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of deep red and white carnations.

The bride was attended by Pamela Comeau, Toronto, as maid of honor. She looked lovely in a floor length gown of multi-colors. Her bouquet was of pink carnations and shasta daisies.

Best man was Michael Francis.

The bride's mother chose a floor length gown of mintina, Chinese style, with self elbow-length cape, with silver accessories.

The bride's step-mother chose a floor length gown of orange ice with an over-coat of orange ice. Her accessories were silver also.

The groom's mother chose a street length dress of deep gold with black accessories for her son's wedding.

During the signing of the register, "Saviour Like A Shepherd Lead Us" was beautifully played by Laura Brown of Digby.

Miss Susan Turnbull was in charge of the guest book.

Ushers were Jimmy Rudolph and Fred Raymond.

Following the ceremony a reception for some 90 guests was held in the vestry of the church. The bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. Serving the bride's table was her friend, Miss Cathy Adams, of Smith's Cove. Pouring at the tea table was Wanda Tibbetts, of Smith's Cove. Assisting in serving were Brenda Brooks, Barb Warren and Wendy Hill.

For going away the bride chose a maxi-length gown of deep salmon with silver accessories, wearing a corsage of salmon carnations.

Relatives and friends from points of the province outside the Smith's Cove area were from Halifax, Debert, Great Village, Kingston, Lawrencetown, Bridgetown, Round Hill, Digby and Concession.

Following a short honeymoon trip to Halifax, Mr. and Mrs. Speichts will reside in Digby.

James — Sabean

The Church of Christ, Weymouth, N. S., was the scene of a pretty wedding on August 26th, when Carol Elaine, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sabean, Barton, exchanged marriage vows with John William, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter James, Pleasant Harbour, N. S.

Mr. Mddle Zimmerman, pastor of the church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Sherwood Barr presided at the organ. Soloist was Mrs. Merle Zimmerman.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of peau de broche, featuring empire lines, with long sleeves and trimmed about the neckline, sleeves, and in front with pearl-beaded lace. The train was also edged in the beaded lace. Her elbow length veil was of nylon tulle and was held in place by a pill box headpiece. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white stephonotis.

Mrs. Frederic Cosman, sister of the bride was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Anne James, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Reginald Sabean, sister-in-law of the bride. They wore identical floor length gowns with plain pink moss crepe skirts and pink flowered chiffon bodices, with long sleeves. They wore pink velvet bows in their hair and carried bouquets of shasta daisies, tinted to match their gowns.

The best man was Ray Webb, Pleasant Harbour, and the ushers were Reginald Sabean, brother of the bride and Reynold James, brother of the groom. The groom and his attendnts wore white coats with red carnation boutonieres.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church hall. The brides table was decorated with candles and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Arnold Marshall, Barton, proposed the toast to the bride, which was responded to by the groom. Ray Webb proposed the toast to the bridesmaids.

Serving the brides table were the grooms sister, Mrs. James Cameron, Mrs. Stewart Sabean and Juanita Cosman, sister-in-law, and niece of the bride.

Peter James, brother of the groom was in charge of the guest book.

The brides mother wore a street length dress of pink crimplene with black accessories. She wore a corsage of white roses.

The grooms mother chose a street length dress of ajua fortrel. She wore navy accessories and a corsage of white roses.

For travelling, the bride chose a pink ensemble with long sleeved dress and matching sleeveless lace coat and a white corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. James will reside in Fairview, N. S.

HILL GROVE

Mr. and Mrs. Orbin Minard visited with Mr. Willis Minard at Caledonia on Sunday.

Miss Carol Marshall left Halifax International Airport on Sept. 14th for Saint Johns, Newfoundland, where she is visiting for ten days with Mr. and Mrs. Scott Marshall and family. Mr. Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Marshall, has recently been appointed to the Board of Councellors of Vocational Guidance in Newfoundland. While on vacation Miss Marshall also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin K. Marshall in Dartmouth for a few days, and with friends in Caledonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Keysall of Dartmouth were week-end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Warner and other relatives in the area.

W.M.S. Honors Mrs. Vernon Rice

The September meeting of the Hill Grove Baptist Church Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Vernon Jones on Thursday evening, September 7th, with 17 members and one visitor present.

The meeting with Mrs. Jones, president, presiding opened with the hymn "Work For The Night Is Coming" and was followed by Scripture reading from Exodus 20:1-17 being read responsively, with Mrs. Seddie Balser as leader, and by Mrs. Shirley Clayton reading Matthew 22:37-40, and prayer by Mrs. John Murley.

A Dominion Life Membership in the Womens Missionary Society of the United Baptist Church was presented to Mrs. Vernon Rice. The Presentation Charge was read by Mrs. Roy Warner, with Mrs. John Murley reading the Certificate and presenting it to Mrs. Rice. The meaning of the Ewblematic pin was given by Mrs. Daisy Roope and the pin was presented and pinned on Mrs. Rice by Mrs. Cecil Murley. This part of the service closed with the singing of "Blest Be The Tie That Binds", and prayer by Mrs. Warner. Mrs. Clarence Wells then presented Mrs. Rice with a beautifully decorated "Life Membership" cake Mrs. Rice expressed her thanks and appreciation for the honor bestowed upon her by the Society members.

Mrs. Jones gave an interesting report of the 66th Convention of the W.M.S. of the Atlantic Provinces, held recently in Wolfville.

The Bible Study was conducted by Mrs. Frank Gates as leader with several members assisting her.

The story of the life of Miss Lavinia Wilson who was born at Hill Grove in 1886, and later became a missionary to Bolivia, was read by several members and was most interesting. Miss Wilson was forced to give up her work in Bolivia because of ill health, and she died in Digby in 1933. A estained loss window in the Hill Grove Baptist Church was dedicated in memory of Miss Wilson, several years ago. A poem written by Miss Wilson in 1914 entitled "I Am The Vine, Ye Are The Branches" was read by Mrs. Orbin Minard.

Following the Business Meeting and Roll Call, the Benediction was given by Mrs. Benjamin Marshall.

A social period followed the meeting with refreshments being served by Mrs. Jones assisted by several of the members.

Dulse Said Best Of Natural Food

A claim that "dulse" the marine delicacy much in demand by Maritimers where ever they are located, is richer in "heart-giving, vital important elements" than any other natural food and a challenge to anyone to produce a natural food that contains as many if these elements does dulse have been issued.

This claim and challenge have been issued, not by anyone connected with fisheries or marine interests, but, of all things, by a publication of an Ontario Seed House.

This publication claims that, since dulse is a marine plant, it gets its food nourishment from the bottom of the ocean. Because of this, it has the widest choice of food elements. Since time began, it says, the elements found in the soils from the highest mountains to the lowest valleys have been floating into the rivers, lakes and streams until they eventually find their way into the ocean.

These food elements are absorbed into the marine plants. Dulse is one which has its roots embedded into the soils of the ocean floor. When dulse is gathered and dried for human consumption these elements are made available to man.

The food value of dulse, the publication says, can be broken down into 25.3 per cent protein 4.2 per cent carbohydrates, 26.7 per cent mineral salts, 3.8 per cent fats.

What is more important, the publication says, "is that many of these elements are not found in other foods."

It is made up of potassium, sodium, calcium, phosphorus, iron, magnesium, iodine, fluorine, copper, arsenic, manganese, zinc, nickel, cobalt, molybdenium, chromium, strontium, titanium vandium. Salts are present mainly as chlorides, sulphates, phosphates. Other Foods

The publication goes on to say that while it is not making any effort to compare dulse with other foods, it does challenge anyone to produce a natural food that contains as many "health-giving, vital, important elements as does dulse.

We all get plenty of elements into our bodies that are found in land-grown plants but few of us get enough sea-food and therefore the addition of dulse to the diet can make the difference between sickness and good health.

The article printed above is one which I found some time ago and have forwarded to the Digby Courier to be reprinted. I found it very interesting and thought it might be of some interest to those who reside in the Maritimes and other places.

Pot Luck Supper

On Tuesday evening Sept. 12th the Interdominational Bible Class met at the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Carman Frankland, Mallets Lake.

Approximately fifteen ladies were present to enjoy a delicious Pot Luck Supper, after which they held their regular meeting.

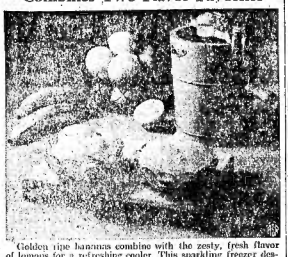
In two weeks time the next meeting will be held at Point Prim Lighthouse home of the leader Mrs Carman Frankland.

Rev. John Hayden, rector of an Anglican Church in Connecticut, has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. Wendall Goodwin and Mr. Goodwin for a ten day period.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Goodwin who have been residing here during the months have now returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ritcey have recently returned from a brief visit to New Brunswick. They were visitors of his brother Phillip Ritcey and family.

Fresh Banana-Lemon Freeze Combines Two Flavor Favorites



Golden ripe bananas combine with the zesty, fresh flavor of lemons for a refreshing cooler. This sparkling freezer dessert is a beautifully refreshing addition to your menu. A simple freezer tray and a hand or electric beater will bring the smoothest results too. When selecting bananas, look for fruit that is plump, firm and bright in appearance, and free of bruises. Once bananas have reached the desired ripeness, they may be stored in the refrigerator. Although the skin may turn brown, the eating quality will not be affected. Bananas are recommended for low fat diets since their fat content is negligible. And, 100 grams edible portion of raw bananas contain only 85 calories. Good news for many banana lovers!

Fresh Banana-Lemon Freeze

1½ cups sugar
¾ cup light corn syrup
1¾ cups water, divided
½ cup fresh lemon juice
1 cup mashed banana
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon grated fresh lemon rind
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 egg white

In large saucepan, combine sugar, corn syrup and 1 cup water. Mix well. Place over medium heat and cook to soft ball stage—238°F. Remove from heat. Add remaining ¾ cup water and lemon juice. Cool. Add bananas, vanilla and grated lemon rind. Mix well. Pour into freezer tray. Freeze to a mush. Turn into a bowl and beat with a rotary or electric beater until fluffy. Combine salt and egg white in small bowl, and beat until soft peaks form. Fold into beaten frozen mixture. Pour into freezer tray. Freeze until firm. Makes: 1 quart.
