

THE DIGBY COURIER

CENTENNIAL EDITION

SEPTEMBER 18, 1974

Welcome to the Digital DIGBY COURIER

1877-1978

100th Birthday

The hundredth anniversary of the Digby Weekly Courier has brought to mind some fond memories as contained in the following historical chapter of the writer. But first, I wish to congratulate the current editor of the Courier, Mrs. J.M. (Edith) Wallis, for a job well done over the years and still being well done, good service rendered with great fortitude.

According to any record, I have at hand, the Digby Courier, in one hundred years of publication, was controlled under the same family management for 42 years, 1931 to 1973, under the control of Wallis Print Limited. The late J.J. Wallis became editor of the Courier the second time, in 1929, and at the same time of the business, which he had been running for some time previously and which became Wallis Print Limited sometime between 1929 and 1931.

I well remember the last year of the twenties when I worked in the office of the son with the husband and father of the late J.J. Wallis, the Courier. Sometime in 1928 or early 1929, the late J.M. Wallis (Mac), son of "J.J." engaged me to work every day after school hours, Saturdays, and for some months after finishing school. The place of work was in the building of the present Digby town hall on First Avenue. J.J. Wallis then worked occasionally at the print shop but mostly across the street at the Courier office which was then located on land in the general area where The Royal Bank of Canada is now.

Wallis Job Print operated in 1929 with a staff of four consisting of J.J. Wallis, J.M. Wallis, Miss Eva Haynes, who later became Mrs. George Kicup, and myself. I was engaged as a printer in the left Eva's job was to run the printing plant but mostly at the Courier office. "Mac" worked nearly full time at all the different jobs at the Job Print, and I worked at various duties, most of the time being spent at operating printing presses.

We worked ten-hour days, six days a week. "J.J." and "Mac" sometimes worked overtime. I worked only the regular hours being paid a weekly wage which was comparatively good for those times and my lack of experience. I received four or five dollars a week for working after school hours to six o'clock and on Saturday all day, and nine dollars a week for full weeks after finishing school. A two or three dollar a week raise was offered to me in the fall of 1929 for me to stay on at printing, but I had made up my mind to enter a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, starting salary of $300. The bank salary figured out about the same per hour as for the printing job. Nevertheless, the congenial atmosphere of the printing plant those days, and, experience however short, were helpful and appreciated by me.

"J.J." was very jovial in his occasional trip to the Job Print and did considerable kidding all in good fun. "Mac" was a witty person who mixed in a good natured sarcasm now and then for one reason or another. Eva most always had good answers to all the kidding she was called upon to take, and, generally held her own in a quiet sort of way, always busy setting type. We four all got along very well indeed. However, I do remember that some days did seem long and weary because of the monotony of some repetitious jobs.

In spite of the great demand for printing those last boom days of the twenties, business generally being brisk, it looked to me that people had to work long and hard to make any decent profit. There was including treatment of the hands. However, nails and finger ends were used and I was soon back to work.

Now and then a printing job had a dose on parchment paper which required a special kind of printers' ink which smelled very bad those days. I always dreaded it when "Mac" would do that job on the largest press, in spite of the fact that we always opened an outside door to lessen the effects on the constitution.

One of the jobs I had to do, being the junior and printers' devil on the staff, was to clean up now and then. One day not long after I started my job at the printing plant, I decided to clean the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned in some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily, he thought the remark pretty good and suitable.

Sometimes the gasoline engine or a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and after "Mac" the fix-it man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results, "Mac" would then stand back and cuss quite strenuously, then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of cussing."

On other occasions when some gadget refused duty for me and, seemed to be broken, "Mac" would say, "use a little oil," and sure enough, often that is all it took. How often since, have I thought of the value of that remark and the actual need of "oil" in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and, in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I told "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1929 got together just before dark one evening and decided to initiate the newly built outdoor Pines Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just east of the pool; nobody else seemed to be around except the four boys; no thought or time for bathing suits up to the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in, the rest quickly followed and across the pool they swam. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Scouts Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the four? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars (second world and Korean), was awarded the Victoria Cross; Sidney L. Smith, now prominent druggist for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale lobster king merchant; and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day "Mac" said to me "how about writing your version of the story told about 'The Marooning of Jerome'." I had heard and read at least two somewhat different stories about the man who was found marooned on a beach at some point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Digby County. When found this man's tongue had been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome" appeared to have been a man of some considerable social standing and possibly of some considerable wealth. However the only thing the man could or would ever say after being found and cared for by some family in the French shore was, something that sounded like the word "Jerome". He either could not, or, would not, write anything about who he was or why he was left the way he was. Well, it was, and is, one of Digby County's mystery stories, and, different ideas have been expressed over the years concerning this man. However my response to "Mac" was, I felt no urge to write anything more or different about this man. The mystery seemed to have been very well explored in the mind of many people, and, he was a sort of curiosity for many people who visited where he lived for many years.

Three years later I was quite a young man and I was back in the street that I had lived in, and I was clanking my powered up car, and I was thinking of "Jerome", and as I remember it, I was thinking of "Jerome". "J.J." was noted for his sense of humor and his sense of humor.

Digby 172 Years Ago

Compiled by David Sanford

From the files of the Courier of January 23, 1867, the following account has been copied concerning Digby in 1800.

"Among a number of old newspapers kindly sent to us by friends is a copy of the Saint John Gazette of May, 1802, says the Telegraph and among other advertisements contained in the issue before us is one describing the town and township of Digby, and offering for sale certain lots in the town. In this area we are told the township of Digby extends from the Gulf of Annapolis westward to the extremity of the province of Nova Scotia, and contains about 130,000 acres." The town plot is thus described:

"The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles across land from the head of St. Mary's Bay. This laid out from the water's edge, partly on level ground and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect, a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in where it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth of that name. It was settled by Loyalists from New York in 1783, the most of whom went early to farms, or, moving to older countries, left the whole side to be bought proved by about who now reside detached, built dwellings with orchards, and some fishery and. It has communal parts of the communal provisions in a cheap, built readily to be from many circumstances, probability of place of some shipbuilding, the West India a cheap and of residence.

This advertisement, dated at Digby, December, 1800, were to be a No. 100.

free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students one of which was "J.J.'s" daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Melvin O. Tibert, Freeport, Digby Co.) Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters; I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print". I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like: embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and trimming paper stock, mixing inks for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "pi", the printers name for a confused mess.

There was a taste of trying to sell job printing outside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried it, made several calls around town, spent most of the time at one particular house, and got an order, but,

Years and experiments with. The last time I saw of personal interest, after one day when he sent and talked with him was, after one day when he had a week he wanted me to visit him at his home. He had recently returned from the States after a long absence. I made the visit and stayed for a week and experienced with him.

TEMPERANCE MOVEMENTS IN THE STATES.

A Pennsylvania correspondent writes with a great deal of enthusiasm about the great good that is being accomplished in the cause of temperance by the labors of one Murphy, who it seems, is carrying all before him in Pittsburgh and the surrounding country. This Mr. Murphy, it further appears, is a native of Ireland, who was at one time the proprietor of a large hotel in the States, but through intemperance sank down to the level of a low school. In putting a drunken man out of his place Murphy was so much and inflicted so much injury that the man died, and as a consequence Murphy got three years in the penitentiary. In prison he was brought under the influence of religion, and came forth with the intention of doing all he could to advance the cause of temperance. He has been very successful in his work—more than one hundred thousand persons it is alleged having through his influence become total abstainers. It is a notable fact that some of Mr. Murphy's most efficient co-workers are those who were tavern keepers till he persuaded them to abandon the traffic. One feature of his mode of operation is worth noting, and speaks in temperance work for the better for acting on the plan. He has no harsh words for the drunkard, but treats him in a friendly, conciliatory manner, so as, if possible, to induce him to give up his business and take the pledge. In this he is worthy of all commendation. We have no greater admiration of reformers than of such persons, in order to attract increasing attention and fill people with words of hope and inspiration. The time, it is quite possible that such persons may do a great amount of good when once thoroughly changed, and Mr. Murphy seems to be one of that class.—Toronto Mail.

In England in 1873 iron and steel rails were selling at £15 and £22 per ton respectively; now they may be had for £5 6s. and £7 6s. Digby has fallen to less than half its price in 1873.

Half the folks in the United States think that the doctor is wrong in telling the sick; two-thirds of them are sure they can beat the minister preaching the gospel; and all of them know they can beat the editors running the papers.—Boston Sentinel.

How Tweed has been released from prison, a restored property, valued at $240,000, and a large number of Garvey and Ingersoll are as good as settled. Similar actions are expected in regard to Sweeney. Connolly's son-in-law is now in Europe, probably to arrange terms for his father's return. The fee of one of Tweed's lawyers is said to have been $150,000.

to see his skipper on special business?

They would be sailing before morning, and he knew me well enough when I was a lad, and wanted badly to see him. So I went. I was. Would I come at once?

"I'll be back in half-an-hour, Mar-get. Bolt the door; and here take my purse. I don't want to get muddled with my first night's sleep."

So I pitched her my purse, and we went off to the Jolly Cook-bout. We sat out on the bar-parlour. Seth had just gone out, but would be back in a twinkling.

"Sit mate, sit down, and take a whiff till he comes. What shall it be?

Give it a name."

"Old Tom."

"We got on talking of all the changes that had taken place since I was there

the first time I had but one glass here on the mantelpiece, which of the two is? Can any of you hold a glass as steadily as this? Not a drop—look!

Just this! Just this!—no is mine; I can hold it better than you. Come, let me show you. Here, let me show you three of them? Never mind; the first that comes. Drink, by Jove; can't get hold of it? drunk as a piper, as a king, as a mummy; roaring drunk!

Well, I'm off to sleep. Good-night. I got and little Nell. Lend a fist, Jack,

you brought me here; lend me a hand back, my hearty. Hang! Hang! We've waited long enough. Come on out.

Ha! this air is fine and fresh; it was just in there, and I got it. Come, here again—Nellie's waiting. Come, here again."

So on through the streets, with great misty and dark; on through down-street into deep, deep, deep dreamless sleep.

When

Apportionment of the County Road Money for the year.

[To the Hon. Council.]

When I came to Halifax after the election of 1874, and when making up the Road Scales for the County of Digby, I found we were in debt about one thousand dollars, which debt was repaid from the General and Special Road Grant for the current year, but had, during that year, to ask advances again, as many bridges were out of repair and others required rebuilding, as has been the case from year to year since, and during the summer months, as necessities required, had to ask advances to be repaid from the next year's advance.

This year (1877) we find government cannot give any extra grants, and requires 25 per cent. of all advances made during the last year to be repaid, and no further advance made during the year. Thereby we have only the ordinary grant of $2,200 for the whole county, out of which Digby District (which includes Brier and Long Islands, Digby Neck and Digby, the township of Hilsburgh and Weymouth) gets $497.60, less advances $299.60, making the amount to be expended during 1877, say $497.60, which will be seen is almost impossible with that sum to keep the numerous roads and bridges in good repair. I have, however, done my utmost to try and apportion each district and section a fair share of what there is, and annex a copy of the road scale for the year, that all who read the Courier may see what the whole amount is and where to be expended. Yours very truly, have been in operation for her benefit for years. Her position is most beautiful. Her prospects are bright; all that is wanting is that a fair trial be made. Let hotels and schools and public buildings be erected; let there be less whining about railroad or other taxation; let a liberal spirit prevail and Digby will grow to be the chief city of the Province.

PRINCIPLES GOVERNING THE PRODUCTION OF MILK.

I understand very well, as probably every man does who handles milk, that there is a wide difference in the composition of pure milk, especially in the matter of the percentage of fat. All milk is richer in September than in June, and it varies in this respect in different parts of the country, and in the cow. The circumstances which lead to this are many. The cow that is fleshy gives milk richer in butter than the cow that is thin and poor. One that has calved recently gives more milk than one that has just calved. One that has been milked gives better milk than she did before she reached that age; a cow that is gaining flesh day by day gives richer milk than one that is losing ground usually. The condition of the pasture has also much to do with the quality of the production. This condition

I understand very well, as probably every man does who handles milk, that there is a wide difference in the composition of pure milk, especially in the matter of the percentage of butter. All milk is richer in September than in January, and this is the case in respect to different seasons in the same herd of cows. The circumstances which lead to this are many. The cow that is freshly gives milk richer in butter than the cow that is tired and poor. One that has reached her full maturity gives better milk than she did before she reached that age; a cow that is gaining flesh day by day gives richer milk than a cow that is losing weight daily. The condition of the pasture has also much to do in the quality of the production. This condition is governed in turn by the season. Experience has taught me that a cow with milk very deficient in butter often has a very rich cream. If this is the first class butter cow. When a cow has what a splendid fat calf she cow always rears. I do not wish to purchase for a butter cow. A man cannot afford to keep a cow without first having one with good, sound, highly-nutritious food. The cow has been likened to a machine. It requires a certain amount of food to supply the demands of her body, and the amount which she will take and assimilate will be converted into milk and flesh. The heifer should be kept warm in winter, and fed with regularity. Their diet should be varied as much as convenience will allow. They should be fed with hay and vegetables, should be incited to the bill of fare, and we shall then be rewarded with milk, rich in the valuable components of the fluid. On the other hand, the heifer that is poorly fed and starved will give but a poor quality of anything but watery milk, almost worthless for butter or the table.—T. Ellsworth, in Scientific Farmer.

When a man tells me what a splendid fat calf his cows have weaned, I do not wish to purchase a cow from him. He may expect to produce milk profitable for any purpose without feeding his cows liberal food. The cow has been likened to a pig, and it is not an inaccurate comparison. To supply the certain amount of food to supply the demands of nature; all above that amount which she will take and assimilate will be converted into milk and flesh. The herd should be kept warm in winter, and the cows should be kept dry. The feed may be varied as much as convenience will allow. Early cut hay, shorts, cornmeal and vegetables, should be included in the bill of fare, and we shall then be able to produce milk rich in the valuable components of cream. On the other hand, the herd that is poorly fed, carelessly housed and cared for, may give anything but watery milk, almost worthless for butter or the table.—T. D. Ellsworth, in Scientific Farmer.

HINTS ABOUT WORK.

PLOWING.—None but a fertile soil should be turned over very deeply. At this season, this should be well remembered, because there is no time for the weather to mellow the fresh soil. Plowing crops this month should be turned up shallow and rich, so that the soil may push into active growth at once.

FERTILIZERS.—For the reasons just mentioned, fertilizers for use on spring crops should be such as are quick and soluble, and readily taken up by the plant.

YOUNG STEAKS.—As the change of feed comes on, care must be exercised to keep the young steaks in good condition to turn them out to graze for an hour or two daily, before the pasture becomes full. Well-conditioned yearlings are in more danger than poorer ones, and with them greater care should be taken.

PLASTER.—One bushel of ground gypsum per acre will be found a very useful application for young clover, and for oats when they are a little above ground. Gypsum is useful for its own sake, and also for the reason of its absorption of ammonia from the soil. All the ammonia we get that way will be a very poor help. At 50 cents per bushel, plaster is a cheap fertilizer for clover, oats, or corn.

DOGS CROSS.—Flowing should be done in the month of November. It is a better plan to turn the dogs out to graze for a few days, or two daily, before the pasture becomes full. Well-conditioned yearlings are in more danger than poorer ones, and with them greater care should be taken.

The conditions, however, may have also much to do with the quality of the production. This condition is governed in turn by the season. Experience has taught me that a cow that is in the best of condition gives a tons a finer calf than that of the first class butter cow. When a man, then, wants a splendid fat calf his cow may rear, I do not wish to pur-sue this matter any further, must produce milk profitable for any purpose without feeding his cows liberally with good, sound, highly-nutritious food. The cow has been likened to a machine. It requires a certain amount of fuel to supply the demands of nature; all above that amount which she will take and assimilate will be converted into milk and flesh. The herd should be kept warm in winter, and cool in summer. The ration should be varied as much as convenience will allow. Early cut hay, shorts, cornmeal and vegetables, should be included in the bill of fare, and we shall then be able to furnish milk, rich in the valuable compound, butter. The milkman, on the other hand, the herd that is poorly fed, carelessly housed and cared for, cannot give anything but watery milk, almost worthless for butter or the table.—T. Ellsworth, in Scientific Farmer.

FERTILIZERS.—For the reasons mentioned, fertilizers for use on spring crops should be such as are quickly soluble, and readily taken up by the plant.

YOUNG STOCK.—As the change of feed comes on, care must be exercised in regard to young animals. It is better to have a few extra feeds than to let them go two daily, before the pasture becomes full. Well-conditioned yearlings are in more danger than poorer ones, and with them greater care should be taken.

PLASTER.—One bushel of ground gypsum per acre will be found very useful application for young clover, or for oats when they are a little above ground. Gypsum is useful for its constituents without depending upon its action on the soil. The farmer should know. All the ammonia we get that way will be a very poor help. At 50 cents a bushel, plaster is a cheap fertilizer for clover, oats, or corn.

ROOT CROPS.—Flowing should be done in this month for turnips. No root crop should be sown in June. Choose a piece of clean corn stubble, plow the ground, or drill, in which drop the manure at the rate of eight or ten tons per acre, cover with the plough, and sow the seed in rows, leaving the drills so as not to offend the soil; then, sow the seed over the manure with a hand or horse-plaster, and scatter a little guano or blood fertilizer along the row. Four pounds of Yellow Globe will give you 100 tons, or 100 bushels per acre. At this rate a bushel costs five cents less. Sow as soon as possible.

GREAT YIELD OF POTATOES.

The quantity of potatoes that can be grown from one pound of seed is astonishing when every eye is attuned to its utmost capacity. I have long known that 500 or 700 pounds can be readily grown from one pound of manure. I have seen this done for several successive years go beyond that production. Messrs B. K. Bliss & Son, seed merchants in New York, offered prizes in 1876 for the largest yield from one pound of seed of the Alpha—new varieties. There were prizes of $100 down to $10, and the successful competitors produced from one pound of the Alpha. In the order of prizes, 1,793, 1,653, 1,535, 1,511, 1,474, 1,437, 1,392, 1,352, 1,312, 1,272, 1,232, 1,192, 1,152, 1,112, 1,072, 1,032, 992, 952, 912, 872, 832, 792, 752, 712, 672, 632, 592, 552, 512, 472, 432, 392, 352, 312, 272, 232, 192, 152, 112, 72, 32, 12, 1. The Alpha is the greatest superior in these varieties, and it is the best.

It has been thought me that a cow which yields a moderate amount of milk gives a finer calf than that of the first-class butter cow. When a man tells me what a splendid calf his cow has borne, I say, "I do not wish to purchase a better cow. A man can expect to produce milk profitable for any purpose without feeding his cows liberally with good, sound, highly-nutritious food. The cow has been likened to a man who is required to produce a great deal of food to supply the demands of his nature; all above that amount which she will take and assimilate will be converted into milk and flesh. The herd which should be kept warm in winter, and fed to keep her from becoming too fat, varied as much as convenience will allow. Early cut hay, shorts, cornmeal and vegetables, should be included in the bill of fare, and we shall then have a cow that will give a milk of the most valuable components of the fluid. On the other hand, the herd that is poorly fed, carelessly housed and cared for, will give anything but watery milk, almost worthless for butter or the table."

YOUNG STOCK.—As the change of season comes on, care must be exercised in regard to young animals. It is best to turn them on to grass for an hour or two daily, before the pasture becomes full. Well-conditioned yearlings are in more danger than poorer ones of becoming much greater carcasses should be taken.

PLASTER.—One bushel of ground gypsum per acre will be found a very useful application for young clover, or for oats when they are a little above ground. Gypsum is useful for its power to retain the moisture of the soil, and its absorption of ammonia from the air. All the ammonia we get that way will be a very poor help. At 50 cents per bushel, plaster is a cheap fertilizer for clover, oats, or corn.

BARNS.—If the plowing should be done this month for grass, the farmer should pay better than this. Choose a piece of clean corn stubble, plow the ground, and then sow the seed on a level with the light harrow turned over of the drills, so as not to obliterate them; then sow the seed over the manure with a hand or horse-plaster, and then cover with a layer of manure or fertilizer along the rows. For a pound of seed for an acre is required. We prefer Yellow Globe. Don't aim to get big roots, but a full crop of fat sized ones. We are satisfied with 2 bushels of seed per acre. The cost of seed this row a bushel costs five cents or less. Sow as soon as possible.

GREAT YIELD OF POTATOES.

The quantity of potatoes that can be grown from one pound of seed is astonishing when every eye is utilized to its utmost capacity. I have known a bushel of seed (one can buy it for less) grow from one pound or more in any variety; but the experiments of later years go far beyond that produced by Messrs B. K. Bliss & Son, seed merchants in New York, offered prizes for the greatest yield of potatoes from one pound of the Ruby or the Alpha-two new varieties. There were six prizes won from $100 down to $10, and the successful competitor produced from one pound the prizes, 1,703, 1,668, 1,529, 1,511, 1,465, and 1,280 pounds. The Ruby went up to 1,382 pounds for the first premium, and for the others not varying much from the product of that variety. The Alpha-two was second, as showing the great superiority of these varieties over others as yielders; but rather as proof of what can be done with one pound of seed in skinning the soil, and as a means of the management of cultivation, the report of the committee on prizes shows that it is almost impossible to manure land too highly for potatoes; and that artificial watering may be more beneficial to the crop than any other treatment, when there is no drought. The manure of the above cases was applied three or four inches thick to the land, and water

WIT AND HUMOR.

THE BOSS RAT-KILLER.

A tall man with a nose like a mufin went into a Main street boarding house, one day last week, and asked for a dinner.

"Owing to the general depression of business and consequent scarcity of the rhine," said the proprietor, looking at the tall man over a dinner "will you thirty-five cents in advance."

"I have nothing with me but a check on a Boston Bank," observed the tall man.

"Checks on Boston Banks aren't worth a copper," remarked the landlord; "I guess you'd better go to dine more substantial elsewhere."

"Can't I do something for my dinner?" asked the tall man, as a hungry pang gripped him.

"You can pay," said the proprietor impressively.

"I'll give you my dinner," said the tall man, "and I'll agree to clean your house of every rat in it. I have your

The proprietor accepted the bargain,
as a most advantageous one to himself, and the tall man seated himself at the table, and ate his dinner, and he was among the victuals. He finished his dinner in half an hour, picked up his teeth with a fork, called for a cigar, and proceeded to smoke.

"Now then," said the proprietor, when the tall man had finished his smoke, "let's get to business. Go for-

"Ah, yes," returned the tall man, "I will please. Procure me a light iron bar about four feet in length and I will proceed to business."

"You can't give me my man," said the tall man, and I'll agree to clean your feet of every bit in it. I have performed the feat in many hotels throughout the country, with most satisfactory results."

The proprietor accepted the bargain, as the modest and unassuming one to himself, and the tall man seated himself at the table, where he did fearful execution among the victuals. He finished his dinner in half an hour, picked up his towel and proceeded for a cigar and then proceeded to enjoy it.

"Now then," said the proprietor, when the tall man had finished his smoke, "let's get to business. Go for the money."

"Ah, yes," returned the tall man; "with pleasure. Procure me a light iron bar about four feet in length and I will bar about business."

The proprietor then produced an iron bar, which he handed to witness the interesting proceedings.

"Now, begin," said the proprietor.

"Where'll you commence first?"

"Right here," replied the tall man, as he placed his hands on the cuffs, as he placed his hands, and grasped the iron bar firmly, while the proprietor stood by with great anxiety depicted on his countenance.

"Now," said the tall man impressively as he slowly elevated the bar.

"are you all ready?"

"All ready," returned the proprietor, excitedly.

"Then," said the tall man, bring on your money."

The iron was produced and the ladies gathered round to witness the interesting proceedings.

"Now, begin," said the proprietor.

ATLANTA, GA., April 9.—A special on Conyers states that the federal that was burned to-day, and three negro prisoners perished in the flames, the door to the jail was on the second floor, the first story being a solid division which opened from the top by a trap door. Before the fire was discovered and it had hurled away the steps and cut off all communication with the prisoners. There was no engine in the town and the fire had its own way: the heat was so intense that it was impossible to approach the building; at length an axe was forced through a aperture to the prisoners, and they upper floor and sent a shower of cinders and lurid blaze on the wretched ones below. In this horrid illumination they could be plainly seen by the owl outside. Crazed with pain and fear they capered about like mad men, rushing themselves against the walls and screaming in the most fearful manner. Their attempts to cut through the walls, while furious, had no intelligent direction. They hacked about wildly, frequently fighting like brothers the possession of the axe. At length the whole upper floor gave way, and the three wretched men, clutching the outer logs, stretched their hands to the crowd on high, and were lost in a blinding sheet of flame.

The prisoners talked with the crowd during the progress of the fire, and

As they heard a match struck, approximately an hour before the fire was visible, and supposed it was the jailer, was certainly incendiary, and believed to have been done by the friends of the prisoners. It commenced at the door on the second storey. The prisoners were put in jail just a day

A good anecdote is related of a lady, at a party whose dress and form were faultless. Just before dinner, an ader offered her a flower from his button-hole. The dress being fasten'd blind, the lady had to be adjust'd with a pin. Just then they went down to dinner, and the gentleman thought he heard a noise as though wind were escaping from a bellows. The lady had soon lost her fair proportions, and to a tightly fitting dress was most lucky. It appears that the latest fashion for thin, light dresses is airtight lining blown out to the proper size. The pin put to keep the flower had penetrated the air-tight lining and caused a grand collapse.—*British

BEAUTIFYING FINGER NAILS.—The finger nails of fashionable French women are professionally attended, and this is a description of the method of operation: First, a sharp instrument cuts the nails, sloping them on the side with a point in the centre; then a tiny, fine-tipped tool, worn and smoothed off

...the pieces of dry skin around the nail, commonly called by the natives "the skin of the nail," then a steel file was used to raise the skin up and push it back so as to show the half moon on the nail, which is considered a part of its beauty; then a liquid was poured over it and dried; and then, dried, but not made spread thin, rubbed off with a fine yellow powder, which caused them to shine. It took about half an hour, and cost the magnificent sum of sixty cents. There are women nail doctors in Paris who obtain as high as $2 a Professor "Scapling,"—Rev. Robt. Sears, in a recent historical lecture at Valparaiso, Ind., gave a comical account of the style of courting 40 years ago, the first indication of the tender passion being made manifest at singing school, where, at the end of the exercises, the "nuptial knot" formed.

himself into two long rows and waited for the "old-fashioned gals," who feigned a pretty indifference to come out. It was then the intention of the ardent swain became apparent. On reaching the parental roof he bade her good night at the gate, but the second time the family receiving one

THE GREAT RHINO-RHES REMEDY

The success that these medicines have met with since their introduction to the public some years ago, proves plainly to the most skeptical that they are medicines that perform what they are advertised to. The virtues of these medicines have been well tested and have withstood the trial in the most satisfactory manner. For diseases of the Blood, Liver, Lungs, &c., they are unassailable. We have testimonials of miraculous cures of these diseases, and of many others. If any one is afflicted, let him try a box of the Remedy and a box of Pills. No litigation effects will follow their use to the most delicate person, as they are purely vegetable, there being no mineral matter in them. The cost is small, while the advantages derived from their use will doubly repay you for your expense and trouble. The medicines are widely known throughout the Dominion, and are for sale by the principal druggists. Try them, and be convinced that these medicines are no humbug. No one who has tried the Rhinoceros Pills has ever pronounced an unfavorable opinion of them. No family where they have been used will be without them. Full information may be had on all particulars touching their use, and the experience of those who have used them, by writing to the Trustees of the Circular from any Druggist in the Dominion, free. Price of the Remedy in pint bottles $1; Pills 25 cents a box.

POETRY.
THE NOTE OF HAND.
Hans and Fritz were two Dutchmen who lived side by side.
Remote from the world, its delect and its pains,
With their pretence and their spare moments were spent.
And fruits of their labor were peace and content.

MISCELLANEOUS.
PUT YOURSELF IN HER PLACE.
The long summer day had crept slowly away, and it was nearly five o'clock.
The hours at the railway station were marked as by some gigantic clock that told the hour by the sound of the whistle and the clanging bells. The 4.30 accommodation had gone east, and the western express, due there at 4.55, had thundered through the village, gone over the great trestle, and disappeared around the vast curve beyond.

THE CITY OF BRUSSELS.
Liverpool, May 29. - The long-loved City of Brussels arrived here today, and was heartily welcomed.
Judging from the immense crowd which gathered to witness her coming.
For several days past she was expected, and many have been on the lookout for her. It was not till early this morning that it was known that the disabled ship had actually been found by the tug sent out in search of her.
As soon as the intelligence spread there was some cheering, but the captain, the great crowd drew near, hemmed about by four powerful tugs, whose thick smoke at times almost obscured from sight what every one was anxious to see. The disabled ship of the authorities was in readiness,
with a select number of passengers, put off to meet her. Among those on board was ex-President Grant, who evidently was greatly interested in the event of the hunt for a long time.
The Brussels looked as though she had come through a rather hard time, but a coat of paint will soon put her,
at least outwardly, all right again.
The hearts of most seemed too full for the usual demonstration.

THE CITY OF BRUSSELS.
The pilgrims will have no time in getting to Rome, where the great event of the jubilee takes place on September 6th.

THE CITY OF BRUSSELS.
The passengers of the City of Brussels have landed all well.

THE CITY OF BRUSSELS.
The Liverpool Roman Catholic Society went out to welcome them.

THE CITY OF BRUSSELS.
The pilgrims were conducted to the hotel, to be entertained by the Roman Catholic Club.

THE CITY OF BRUSSELS.
The Mass will be sung at the Cathedral.

THE CITY OF BRUSSELS.
The pilgrims will then proceed directly to Rome.

THE CITY OF BRUSSELS.
Those who have any doubt about the hardness of the times in San Francisco, need only look at the few nights the appearance of the unfortunate men who are provided with lodgings in the city prison, having no other place to sleep. Many of them are a very different class from those who were once in the city.

TRIPLET.—Last week the wife of Mr. John M. Kinney of St. John, N. B., presented him with triplets—a boy and two girls.

The schooner E. K. Miller from St. John, N. B., March 6th, for Liverpool with a cargo of deals, has not been heard from, and it is feared she has been lost.

Trains were much delayed on the Monday, near London, Ont., by millions of swarming caterpillars on the track. The Port Stanley road had to shorten the trains.

An attempt was made near Quebec to wreck a train on the North Shore Railway, containing the Quebec Local Government, several members of Parliament and the Mayor of Quebec.

DEATH OF A PRIEST.—The Rev. Joseph H. Poirer, C. P., died at his residence, Marguerite, C. P., on Monday evening last, of bleeding of the lungs. He had been in delicate health for a number of years.

CHANGES IN THE CABINET.—Mr. Blake has been sworn in as President of the Council; L. H. Macdonald as Minister of Justice, and Cassin as Minister of Land and Marine. The change is generally well received by Blake's friends.

The result of the coroner's inquest at St. John, Ontario, on the body of Albert A. Wale, who died at St. John, Ontario, by an attempt to prevent a collision, made by Albert Smith, assisted by Wilson and Murray. The prisoners were committed for trial.

We are informed by an old fisherman that while crossing the river late in the evening, he witnessed what he had not seen in the Miramichi for 20 years, viz: large quantities of young salmon, called "chubs," were going down the river on their way in sea.—Chatham Observer.

PARDON SEEKER.—A man named Bradley, who was formerly a soldier in the 47th Regiment, and who was in the penitentiary undergoing a sentence of imprisonment for life, was released on Saturday after 10 years' incarceration. He was granted a pardon for his good conduct while in prison.

What a Fool I was!
This expression we often heard last fall
from people who had bought their supplies in St. John, when we were selling the same goods here. We have heard the remark so often lately, that we feel this opportunity to impress on the public mind that there are a few of the merchants who belong to Digby, in a position to allow no one from far or near to sell cheaper than they. We are selling very many Goods cheaper than in St. John. Please call.

from my husband's departure, and locked the outside doors, all except the SUMMER TRAVEL.

Accretion, in these days of ascending scientific knowledge, is found to be not only a luxury, but one of the actual necessities of life. The low condition of the sea, the elasticity of the atmosphere, and the mild relief of the stress of care, are all things which, in the opinion of those who have been to the coast, are not only a luxury, but one of the actual necessities of life. The low condition of the sea, the elasticity of the atmosphere, and the mild relief of the stress of care, are all things which, in the opinion of those who have been to the coast, are not only a luxury, but one of the actual necessities of life.

To this well-earned need of useful recreation may be ascribed the fact that, notwithstanding the unwelcome summer of the times, the stream of summer travel has not materially decreased during the years of the present business panic and will doubtless assume increasing proportions with the increase of commercial prosperity which must shortly return.

"Yarmouth," as it is styled by the back-slash American tourist, is now nearly as well known to him as the United States. The provinces of our Dominion are therefore becoming more and more attractive, and of those the Maritime countries, with their cool and invigorating climate, are now claiming an increasing share in the guide-books. Cousins in their lively look on "Baldhead" and that sort of thing, has shown the American travelling public how many be found in thorough enjoyment may be found in even a month's travel along the main thoroughfares from John N. B. to Digby, to the further end of Cape Breton.

But, after all, Cousins saw a more nothing of what is to be seen, and his eulogium among the Highlands of Cape Breton and the empty Pictonians could afford him but a very poor idea of what might be heard among the rural population of our Province. Digby he saw from the deck of the Empress, and the mere glimpse of our town was all that was known to him of the hospitable scenery of this beautiful county. Longfellow never saw Grand Pre, and yet his "Evangelical" has drawn thousands of his countrymen and women to that ancient Acadian village. Would that some of those well-known writers could be induced to spend but a couple of months in the county of Digby! With a competent guide, a good horse and wagon, and a suit and tent, enough might be seen and heard to brighten many a gloomy page, and draw hordes of health seekers in future years to our shores.

In the first place, Digby itself is not seen from the steamer, nor even from its streets. What does the more passing traveller know of the loveliness of "Loa's Valley," or the magnificent views which are to be had of the Basin, Granville, Clementsport, the Neck and St. Mary's Bay, from the "Ridge" or the Mountain, or the hills behind Smith's Cove, or the Church at Marsh-shaugh? What of the views of the Bay of Fundy and the shores of New Brunswick, from the hills at Broad Cove? What days of pure enjoyment may be had in boating off our town, around the shores of Bear Island, Bear River, Granville, and the inlets around the Basin.

The truth is our own people do not know their own county. Not many have seen the magnificent cascade, nearly 700 feet high, at Sandy Cove, or have, from the top of the cliff in that village, enjoyed the view extending in the blue atmosphere of a clear summer day from the further end of Annapolis County to the neighbourhood of Yarmouth, and from South Range to beyond Grand Manan. How many are there who have never seen the basaltic columns on the South side of Long Island, like the famous "Giant's Causeway" with their pinnacles looking in the distance like some magnificent cathedral.

But comparatively few have seen the grandeur of the cliffs of the same formation at Petit Passage, or joined upon the sea-side attractions of Westport and Westport.

Again, leaving Digby on the Yarmouth road, after passing the pretty suburban cottages and farms, and driving through the park like new round to Foulton's, we have, one may say, one continual village street to Yarmouth. Weighing in its hand some residences scattered around its beautiful cove and along its winding river, gives the traveller an impression of thrift and solid comfort. Its scenery is of the finest, and the view from the hotel of St. James, Esq., looking across St. Mary's Bay into Sandy Cove, is surpassingly beautiful.

But there would fall us to tell of the district of Clare with its well-to-do Acadian French people—descendants of a brave and patient race, or to describe the smiling and fruitful hills and valleys of Bear River.

Let the lover of seafaring, boating and driving, who would vary his amusements by indulging in a superabundance of luscious fruit and above all of cherries; and last, but not least, enjoy these pleasures for a very moderate charge, let him and his wife, visit Digby County, and explore it. Let the invalid who would enjoy the purest air and water, and as Frederick Allison, Esq., the Halifax meteorologist assures us, the most equable and healthful climate in the Dominion, come to Digby.

THE GREAT FIRE IN ST. JOHN.
It will be seen by particulars in another column that a most terrible calamity has overtaken our neighbors in the city of St. John, N. B. A fire—the most disastrous, in proportion to the size of the place that has yet been known in the Dominion—broke out on Wednesday last at noon, and continued raging probably until quenched by last night's rain, sweeping in its resistless course not only wood but brick and stone, as in the great fires in Chicago and Boston. But a paragraph reaches us which at once points to our duty in this time of distress:

"Thousands of people wander through the streets, homeless and in despair. The destruction of provisions of all kinds seems to point to famine, and relief must come in speedy, or many must perish from want. Few save one have their relatives left."

"He who gives quickly gives twice," says an old proverb. Yarmouth, with the most praiseworthy promptitude and liberality, despatched assistance to the distressed, even whilst the fire was still raging. Let us be up and doing. Digby, in many ways is most closely connected with St. John. When we reflect on our own helpless condition in a town of wooden houses without one fire engine, and are thankful to God for our preservation until this time, how can we better show our thankfulness than by assisting our distressed neighbors, and proving that our sympathy for them extends beyond mere cheap words.

We would suggest that a public meeting should be called immediately by the Caster or the High Sheriff, and subscription lists opened and sent around for contributions. Local committees at the surrounding villages should be set to work, and with all delay as possible the results should be forwarded to St. John.

THE SAINT JOHN FIRE.

A Public Meeting Called.
In accordance with a requisition unanimously signed, the Sheriff has called a public meeting to be held at the St. John fire for Monday next, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the Court House, Hill-bank and other outlying districts are requested to take part.

Mrs. C. H. SPENCER, of Burton, is now preparing to give lessons to a few pupils on the Cabinet Organ.

BERWICK CAMP MEETING.—The camp meeting at Berwick will commence on Wednesday, July 4th, at 2 o'clock p. m.

PERSONAL.—The widow of the late Hon. Joseph Howe, accompanied by her grand-daughter, Mrs. C. C. 152, Wednesday, and intend remaining for a short visit. They will be guests of R. S. Fitzmaurice, Esq.

LAWRENCE.—At Belliveau's Cove June 18th the ship Chloe, 152 tons, registered, owned by W. D. Lovitt, Esq. She is classed for 8 years at Bureau Veritas, and will be commanded by Capt. J. A. Durkee.

RAILWAY APPRAISEMENT.—The only difference in the aggregate amount between the first and second appraisement of the Western Counties Railway damages from Annapolis to Bear River is $392.62. Chance for another year.

Owing to the high winds that have prevailed during the last few days, there has been a considerable quantity of pulverized rock lying about our streets, causing much annoyance to the traveller, as well as injury to the wearing apparel.

TEA MEETING.—The energetic ladies of Mount Pleasant will hold a Tea Meeting in the Methu list Vestry on the coming Wednesday. Proceeds are to be applied to the debt on the new School-house commenced at that place a short time ago.

SUPREME COURT.

In addition to that published in our last issue, the following is a report of the cases disposed of, which occupied the Court till late in the afternoon of Saturday.

The Gold vs. Journey trial ended on Friday, the Jury returning a verdict for the plaintiff. A rule was at once taken out and the case goes to Halifax for judgment. The criminal trials were then taken up in a Liverpool case as follows:

Joseph and Walter Jarvis were found guilty of larceny and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Anthony Perry was found "guilty" to an indictment for obtaining money under false pretences and was sent to the penitentiary for three years. John Welsh and William O'Neill found guilty of larceny, to be flogged by the County for eighteen months.

The Jury rendered a verdict "not guilty" against Heber Small. The indictments against Joseph and John Jarvis were not tried for want of time, but parties are under recognition and will be tried at Clare in September and will try again.

The Railway appeals were all ordered to a jury and will be placed on the Declaration Docket in their order next (see Judge Wilkins granted an extra term or setting to commence at Digby on Tuesday, 18th September next, there being a large amount of business on the docket this term. The only appeal case disposed of was that of Denton vs. Saunders in which a judgment was entered up for defendant.

After hearing motions and settling up the business of the term, the Court adjourned without date.

NEW VESSEL.—W. S. Kitchen, Esq., of Liverpool, N. S., has in his yard, ready for launch, a schooner of 550 tons, building for W. H. Moyle, Esq., of Yarmouth. She is intended to class 8 years at Bureau Veritas.

GOOD TEMPER.—Queen's County Degree Lodge No. 5, L. O. G. T. met at Liverpool on the 18th. The Secretary reported eight lodges with five hundred and fifty members, and the order generally in a flourishing condition in Queen's County.

THE SHEPARD JUBILEE SINGERS advertised in another column, will give one of their performances in the Hotel, Tuesday evening, the 19th inst. Judging from the unanimous support accorded them by the Press, an entertaining and instructive evening may be expected.

ASTHEN COINCIDE.—The Baptist Choir, assisted by friends, promise the lovers of music an Anthem Concert next Thursday. The proceeds are to be appropriated to a good cause, namely, the purchase of a Sabbath-school library, which will no doubt ensure a well filled hall.
