DEATH AND DESTRUCTION.

A TORNAO'S AWFUL WORK AT LOUISVILLE, KY.

Various Estimates of the fearful loss of life and destruction of property—Heartrending scenes in connection with the dreadful calamity.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 28.—A tornado visited the vicinity of Louisville, Ky., last evening, creating fearful havoc and destruction of life. It is estimated that a thousand lives were lost. All the wires in that direction are down. The Falls City hotel, in which two or three secret societies were holding meetings, was laid flat on the ground. In the main hall dance was in progress at the time and it is believed that fully three hundred lost their lives in this building alone. Sluts at the Seventh street depot were blown down covering a locomotive and the southern train, which was crowded with people, injured large numbers of people. The street cars were blown from the tracks in many cases, and crushed against the walls of buildings. When the fire broke out in the ruins on Seventh street, a man, his wife and little girl were seen wedged under the debris, and although the spectators made heroic efforts to release them they slowly burned to death in the presence of helpless hundreds. None of those who came through on the train could estimate the extent of the disaster in the time given them for observation, but everywhere that the fire served as a beacon light everything seemed to be swept clean. In the streets through which the passengers were to reach the depot were dead and dying, and from known facts and floating rumors there was reason to believe that the number of dead would reach fully a thousand.

LOUISVILLE, March 28.—The central and western parts of the city are badly wrecked. Portland a suburb, has been swept away. The indications are the loss of life will be 250 to 300. 400 business blocks, besides dwellings, were demolished.

CHICAGO, March 28.—The associated press last night despatched a special train, with a select corps of reporters, to the scene of the catastrophe at Louisville. The train was due at Louisville about 6.30 this morning.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 28.—Conductor Roberts of a train of the Jefferson, Madison and Indianapolis road, left Louisville about 9 o'clock and reached Indianapolis at 3.15 this morning. He gives a graphic story of the main points of the disaster, and says that in all probability fully 800 lives were lost. Robertson says he was at supper in the Metropolitan hotel at 8 o'clock when there came a crashing and roaring on the outside and all the diners made a rush for the street. There the air was full of flying bricks, signs and iron. To add to the horror of the scene everything was in ink darkness for the moment. The roaring, crushing sound then seemed to pass into the darkness and in a track left by it, there sprang up in every direction long flashes of light by which the scene could be examined. Then from the masses of ruins came shriels and cries of the wounded, and terrified. The confusion caused by the tornado was soon succeeded by that of the people running to and fro, tumbling over the debris with which the streets were strewn. For a time everybody seemed paralyzed with fear, and apparently in doubt whether to flee or wait their fate. The work of rescue was at once begun, and along that part of the town in which Robertson was the slaughter was soon piled high with the crushed and mangled, and the dead, victims of the storm. Wagons of all kinds were pressed into service, and the dead and wounded hauled away as rapidly as possible to houses outside the path of the cyclone. Robertson remained in the town only an hour, after the storm struck it, and consequently had but very little opportunity for observation. What he saw, however, is sufficient to show that when the full extent of the catastrophe is known it will be one of the worst in the nation's history. The storm came from the south-west and seems to have been a veritable cyclone. The force of the wind was hardly felt above the Gal house, but below that so far as could be seen by the light of the blazing ruins, everything was laid flat. A large number of ruined buildings were on fire when Robertson left.

A relief committee of the Indian apoli-board of trade left to-day for Louisville with a corps of surgeons and surgical appliances.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 28.—The tornado enveloped the south-eastern portion of the city at 8 o'clock, blowing diagonally, reaching in a ragged line to Seventh street and leveling every building in its path, probably 2,500 houses. A rough estimate puts the killed at 500, with thousands of injured. The city is filled with a crazed mass of people, wildly seeking friends. A large force of men are at work on the ruins and about 100 bodies have been recovered. Such desolation no city has known in this century. Every building, tree and telegraph pole in the district struck was leveled. The cyclone was predicted by the signal service bulletin yesterday afternoon, but no heed was paid to the warning, and in all the buildings struck the inhabitants were engaged in their usual avocations when their homes collapsed. The district and waste comprises an area of the city three miles long and nearly half a mile wide. Fifteen bodies are lying in heaps at the city hall, and other heaps lie all over the city. Many bodies were carried away by friends and it is impossible to estimate their number. The fires have all been extinguished. Hundreds of the wounded are in hospitals.

Probably the greatest loss of life occurred at Falls City hall, where a large number of children and relatives were attending a dancing school, and other persons who were present at a lodge meeting on the upper floor. When the terrible wind came the structure was crushed to the ground and in less than five minutes was a shapeless mass of brick and mortar, burying 200 helpless victims, of which number few escaped uninjured. THE BEST PILLS.

Mr. Wm. Vandervoort, Sydney, Crossing, Ont., writes: "We have been using Parole's Pills, and find them by far the best pills we ever used."

Delicate and Delicately Constituted these Pills are like a charm. Taken in small doses, the effect is both a tonic and a stimulant, mildly exciting the secretions of the body giving tone and vigor.

ONE LITTLE PIGGIE—I owned a litter of pigs. They thrived until a month old, when their throats swelled, and spite of all remedies they all died except one, which was nearly dead. Longingly I said I would try Yellow Oil, and gave it a thorough application. He improved at once, and soon was all right.

WILLIAM WINDSOR, Brinsley, Ont.

A TRIP TO MONTICELLO.—Last year I went to Monticello on the C. P. R. At Rat Portage I got sick, and at Winnipeg I was so weak I had to be assisted off the train. I got a bottle of Barlock Blood Bitters, and after the first dose felt better. When I got to Bismarck I was as well as ever. The Bitters cured the bad effects of the surface water of the prairies. DONALD MONROE, Bolsover, Ont.

C. C. RICHARDS & Co., Gents.—I was cured of a severe attack of rheumatism by using MINARD'S LINIMENT, after trying all other remedies for 2 years.

GEORGE TINGLEY, Albert Co., N. B.

C. C. RICHARDS & Co., Gents.—I had a valuable colt so bad with mange, I feared I would lose it. I used MINARD'S LINIMENT and it cured him like magic.

CHRISTOPHER SAUNDERS, Dalhousie, 20 Im.

Nothing so suddenly obstructs the perspiration as sudden transitions from heat to cold. Heat rarifies the blood, quickens the circulation and increases the perspiration, but when these are suddenly checked the consequences must be fatal. The most common cause of disease is obstructed perspiration, or what commonly goes by the name of catching cold. Coughs, colds, sore throat, etc., if attended to in time are easily subdued, but if allowed to run their course, generally prove the forerunner of more dangerous diseases. Nine-tenths of the consumptive die from the effects of a neglected cold, and the diseases that are caused by wet feet, pleurisy, or exposure to more or less cold, are generally supposed. One of the most efficacious remedies for all diseases of the throat and lungs is Bickel's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It promotes a free and easy expectoration, which flows the lungs from viscid phlegm by changing the secretions from a diseased to a healthy state.

AN INDICTMENT OF MR. GLADSTONE

Going for the G. O. M.

(From the Scots Observer.)

Look at the man's career from whatever point you may, the effect of it is invariably, Mr. Gladstone has lived to exhaust the capacity of change, till beside him mutability looks constant and the frailty of women is firmness itself. There is scarce a principle but he has tried and found it wanting an adaptability; there is hardly an opinion but he has entertained it first and then kicked it out of doors. He has lived for himself and the hour, and he found it pay. To the dignity of the rarer immortality he has wilfully preferred the cheap, heroic effects which are as it were the halfpenny journalism of renown; and after a lifetime in the service of humanity he is now supremely happy in the alliance of "traitors to the Queen and rebels to the Crown."

But an influence he has always been, and an influence he will remain until the end. He has made more and greater mistakes than any living man; but he has survived them all; he has broken up majority after majority, yet he can still talk and talk honestly, as we think of a flowing tide; he has parted with more convictions than anybody outside the Capitol of Washington has ever entertained and lived; and he is still regarded as a monument of consistency. He has never bogged at misrepresentation, nor shrunk from calumny, nor hesitated at apology, nor reticence from identifying his own peculiar interests with the own peculiar interests of humanity, and to the faithful he remains the type and the exemplar of all the virtues. It is impossible to admit that his intellect is more than third-rate; for he has said no word that is worth remembering—has said no word, indeed, that the most valiant of his dukes can recall—on any of the thousand and one subjects with which in his language to be up and doing in the sight of men he has chosen to concern himself.

You reflect that Mr. Gladstone has ever truckled to the mob; has sometimes said the thing which is not; has never hesitated to prefer himself to his country; has never interfered in the affairs of humanity without humanity having to suffer for it; has never been able to resist the opportunity of a Bulgarian agitation; has allowed himself to be bamboozled (always in the interests of mankind and never in the interests of Britain) by such shallow intelligences, such caricatures of authority as Mr. de la Rochelle and Mr. W. O'Brien; has broken up his party time and time, and time after time has exterminated his majority. And you find yourself wondering if, after all, the generality of mankind is anything but an aggregation of folly; vanity, dishonesty, mental incapacity, and supreme selfishness. There is Gordon of Khartoum, there are Penjic and Majors Hill, there is the Special Commission; and Mr. Gladstone is still a power! So desperate is the dilemma that one is almost persuaded that the great governing Anglo-Norman race has declined upon a future of vulgarity.

His brains are those of a third rate ecclesiastic; his conscience is that of the man who reasons through appetite, and for whom whatever he wishes the gods wish also; his theory of duty excludes whatever it opposes to the pursuit of a course of "conscientious" self-advancement; it is nothing if not self-religious, self-sufficient, self-conscious; he is the hero; incarnation of mediocrity, the complete expression of whatever is least civic and most personal in the British race. For—(his secret is not far to seek)—he has the genius of temperance. In him is much of the strain of conquerors—he is of the stock of them that have subdued the world, and it is written perhaps with his abounding gifts of voice, presence, magnetism, strength of self, capacity of illusion, superiority to every consideration but the main chance—he shall so pervert them from their ancient religion of duty that unborn generations shall curse his very name. But, also, it is not perhaps so written.

FIVE DAYS IN A DORY.

Frozen Sailors Picked Up At Sea.

Capt. McLaughlin of the schooner Sarah H. Prior says that on Friday, March 23, when at home, he made close reefs he discovered a speck on the water fully two miles to leeward. Thinking it might be a man clinging to a spar he went down on the object, and as he neared found it to be a dory containing two men. As his vessel neared them an oil-jack was waved for a moment, then the signal dropped as though the one who waved it was in an exhausted condition.

The sea was rough and huge combers were breaking over the unfortunate occupants of the dory, but notwithstanding that, three volunteers manned one of the dories and were off to the rescue.

They took the last dory in tow and on arriving at their vessel the men, who were overcome by fatigue, were hauled on board as carefully as possible.

They were found to be somewhat frozen, and were rubbed with the soft ice that was picked up from about the deck.

After three hours of work one of them was brought to his senses, but he could not speak and in answer to the question as to how many days they had been in the dory he could only say "three."

Capt. McLaughlin took the utmost care of the men and hastened to Shelburne in the face of the gale.

The authorities took charge of the men, who were unable to give any account of themselves or vessel.

Singing School Surprise Pleasible.

(Published by request of Wm. H. Chute.)

The members and friends of the singing school at Brookstown, North Weymouth, conducted by Mr. Wm. H. Chute, gave on Friday evening, March 23rd, at the school house, to show their appreciation of his vocal services, by tendering him, in his declining health, a friendly donation to help sustain his wife and family, now residing in Salem, Mass., until he returns thither. After a short session of the school, the varied collection of baskets, freighted with choice pies and rich dainties, were auctioned off by Mr. Wentworth Sabean, with humorous vigor and perfect satisfaction, bringing fair prices, the bidding being mainly led by some small boys, making business quite brisk for a time. The estates being all disposed of, the lucky purchasers with their smiling partners, began munching their rich repast, sitting or reclining here and there, including in much friendly chat.

With smiling face in glad surprise, Feasting upon the ladies' pies, All passed the pleasant time, And sang the songs they met, Our loving friends immortal greet, And well redemption's chorus sweet, In "Helen's blooming sunny bowers."

After the masticating programme was ended, and "Helen's crav'ling desire" had been fully satisfied in the capricious bosom of each fair blooming lassie, and rosy cheeks gladdened, the proceeds of the sale were reckoned up, amounting to the net sum of $5.18. Mr. Sabean, then, in a few kind words, in behalf of the school and community, presented the tender with $4.36 as a small token of the respect and esteem in which he was held to, which, amid becoming decorum and very marked attention, he cheerfully responded in substance as follows:

RESPONSE.

Dear Scholars and Friends:

I am very agreeably surprised, with the welcome token of your Christian sympathy, which you have presented to me on this occasion, as it is a true index of your kindly feelings toward me and mine, and I thankfully accept your free gift and heartily reciprocate your loving presence, and as heretofore, will endeavor with my limited ability, to perform my duty to you all in a vocal capacity, with renewed zeal and faithfulness. I sincerely hope that God's special blessings, may most abundantly replenish you in basket and store, and humbly pray that His richest gifts of heavenly grace in Christ Jesus, may distill upon you, giving you spiritual refreshing, like the early and the latter rain. Remember, Christ our Elder Brother, once said: "Inasmuch as ye have done unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me," consequently, if I am what I profess to be, one of the Lord's brethren, and a follower of God as a dear child, each humble offering, if a cup of cold water in the name of a disciple, will not fail of a future recompense, at the resurrection of the just. My Christian brother and sister don't forget to reciprocate the wondrous love and sovereign grace of our Heavenly Father, in whom we live, move, and have our being. Who, with much pity and compassion gave his only begotten Son, without money and without price, to die for our sins, to rise for our justification, to intercede for us on high, and to come again to receive us to Himself. As we eat and drink daily to sustain our natural existence, so we must eat and drink by a living faith of Jesus, who is the resurrection and the life, and also the true bread of life which came down from heaven, for he says, "Whoever eateth my flesh and drinketh My blood, hath eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day." I truly wish that each of you, by repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ, and cheerfully doing his commandments may ultimately meet in the general assembly of the church of the first born, whose names are written in heaven, and of life's healing tree, blooming forever in the Paradise of God, and drink the pure, sparkling water of life's crystal river, proceeding from the throne of God and the Lamb. May it be a happy lot at last, to escape immortal hands from the friends of long ago, who in Christ's righteousness, with glory crown our brow, and angelic harps in our hands, to mingle our voices with the countless host of the redeemed, old and young, when with "weeping Rachel's little ones of yore, They shall come again from the land of the enemy," and wake remembrance's sweet, new song of victory, which forever will reverberate through the blossoming bowers of Eden's sunny clime, where on streets of shining gold, we shall reign with the King in His beauty, inherit His heavenly kingdom, and dwell in His house of many mansions, emancipated from the power of the last enemy death, free from sin's suddening blight, safe in the Holy City, New Jerusalem, when the tabernacle of God shall be with men, and His loving hand will wipe sorrow's tear drops from off all faces. How blessed to be joint-heirs with Jesus Christ, here, so far as to be kings and priests unto God, over there, where the redeemed shall walk, and through endless ages, to dwell with Jesus and dwell with the King, "David's Royal Heir" will reign. His throne from the rivers to the ends of the earth renowned. Again, I most heartily thank you for your most acceptable offering, and wish you Heaven's choice benediction in time and eternity, even "The life that now is, and especially that which is to come."

The school then sang "Good Night," an appropriate closing "round," after which the varied crowd dispersed to his home, carrying in their minds happy thoughts of extra season of mirth and innocent enjoyment not soon to fade from memory's page.

Scholars and friends, good-bye till you see, Perhaps we then will sing our do, mi.

Uncle Sam's Border Line.

Do any of our people ever query how the dividing line between the United States and the Dominion of Canada is marked, and how travellers in those wild regions northwest of the Great Lake can tell when they step from the domain of Uncle Sam into those of Queen Victoria? For many years the question of boundary between the United States and the possessions of Great Britain was discussed, and at last, at the convention of London, held in 1813, the 48th parallel of north latitude, low ever, being an imaginary line, is a poor guide to a traveller, the next thing to do was to mark that line so that all who passed that way should know where it was located.

Accordingly the country in that vicinity was surveyed, and monuments were set up at even mile intervals, the British placing one between every two of ours. These extended from the Lake of the Woods to the Rocky Mountains. Where the line enters forests, the timber is cut down and the ground cleared a road wide, where it crosses small lakes, stone cairns have been built, sometimes having 18 feet under water and eight above; in other places, earthen mounds, seven to 14 feet, have been built. The most of these monuments, which number 388 in all, are of iron.

It was found that the most solid wooden posts were not proof against the ravages of the Indians, prairie fires and the weather, so that nothing but iron would do.

These pillars are hollow iron castings, fitted over solid cedar posts, and well bolted through, and are sunk four feet in the ground. They are eight feet high, eight inches square at the base and four at the top, and upon opposite sides, facing north and south, are the inscriptions cast in letters two inches high, "Convention of London," and "October 20, 1818." The pillars weigh 285 pounds each, and were made in Detroit, Mich. So far as Uncle Sam's border line is ever distinctly marked all the way from the lakes to the summit of the Rocky Mountains.

Last winter left a legacy of impure blood to many people, causing tired feelings, lack of energy, indigestion, constipation, biliousness, etc. From 1 to 4 bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters never fails to cure any of the foregoing diseases by unlocking the secretions and removing all impurities from the system.

WINNIPEG, April 6.—Six thousand settlers have come to the Northwest this spring to locate, and special trains, heavily loaded, are arriving daily. About a thousand French Canadians were among the number.

Can You Do Better?—When attacked by cough, sore throat, colds, rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica, bruises, burns or any kind of pain or soreness, can you do better than use Yellow Oil? It is a medicine which never fails to give satisfaction. It is magical in its power over pain, and is the safe and best remedy where sores and inflammation exist.

Private advices received here state that a French syndicate has put up $150,000 to build the Hudson Bay railway, provided and is given by the Canadian government which amounts to a four per cent guarantee on ten millions.

LIVING IN A FOOL'S PARADISE.—Many neglect slight symptoms of disease, hoping that nature will restore health. True nature will aid, but she must also be aided by using Burdock Blood Bitters, from 1 to 2 bottles of which is sufficient to cure any ordinary case of impure blood, constipation, dyspepsia, liver complaint, kidney complaint, debility, etc.

FOUND HANGING IN AN ATTIC.—BATH, Me., April 4.—Mrs. A. G. Mallet was found hanging from an attic to-day. The attic was to low for her to stand upright. She was in apparent good health and no cause for the act is known. Her husband is in Maryland and her son in California.

How DYSPEPSIA IS CURED.—I suffered from dyspepsia, and was weak and miserable with what the doctor said was nervous debility. Seeing Burdock Blood Bitters advertised I tried it, and after taking three bottles feel perfectly restored to health.

Mrs. J. H. SNIDER, Kleinburg, Ont. 2

Oh March 28th, a man named Belanger tried to elope with another man's wife, Mrs. Laframboise, both residents of the town of Lancaster, Que. While endeavoring to cross over to Port Louis on the ice they broke through, and both were drowned in the south channel of the St. Lawrence river.

A CURE FOR RHEUMATISM.—I can recommend Haggard's Yellow Oil as a sure cure for rheumatism, not only for some time, and I was cured by using part of one bottle. I can also recommend it for chilblains, burns, frost bites, sprains, bruises, etc.

Mrs. M. PAUL, Lord, Que. 2

VISCOUNT BOYLE MISSING.—LONDON, April 3.—Hon. Henry Boyle started to day for Canada in search of his elder brother, Viscount Boyle, who, through their father's sudden death, has become Earl of Shannon. Seven years ago Viscount Boyle resigned his commission in the army, when he was joined by his brother Henry in purchasing a ranch in Western Canada. The undertaking proved a failure, and the latter gentleman returned to England. Viscount Boyle has since been unheard of, except through an ink-stain, who saw him once two years ago in a mining camp. He was once a well-known member of the Canadian North-West Council.

The king of Urvandi has three wives, whom he pounds unmercifully when he gets drunk. His course is approved by Boyle, we believe. A king full always beats three queens.

C. R. Hall, Grayville, Ill., says: "I was sold at retail, 15¢ a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, guaranteeing every bottle. I must say I never used a medicine in my life that gave such universal satisfaction. In my own case, with a badly ulcerated throat, after physician pencilling it for several days to no effect, the Electric Oil cured it thoroughly in twenty-four hours, and in the threatened croup in my children this winter, it never failed to relieve almost immediately."

The household furniture, liquors, etc., of the St. Julian hotel, at Halifax were sold by the sheriff Saturday for $113. The proprietor, J. P. Mear, has shipped. He fitted up the most gorgeous bar room and small hotel in this part of Canada. He ran it six months and then collapsed. There are claims against him for $17,000 in addition to mortgages.

J. H. Earl, W. Shefford, P. Q., writes: "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, which gave me immediate relief, and I would say that I have tried it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horse in case of cuts, wounds, &c., and I think it equally as good for horse as for man."

Mr. J. G. Weoley: "In Luke 4:40 we read: 'Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto Him; and he laid his hands on every one of them and he healed them.' There were little teething babies, and scrofulous and leprous and palsied old men. There was no more difficulty in healing one than another. It is as easy for God to

There are two troubles; the drunkards try to save themselves; and they do not realize that they are lost. Almost all the temperance effort has been, not to save men, but to help them save themselves. For the last twenty years, I have been in the habit of signing a temperance pledge; I, J. G. Wooley hereby pledge myself, God helping me, to be a sober man! As well might and resolve to be honest. You have been helping men to get along without God; but the sooner you let them know that there is no help but in God, the better. Twenty times I have broken off for two, six, ten months, in the love of my wife and children; and then would come the breath of the saloon, and I would fall. 'You say to a man, 'This is a disease, you need a physician; you must go to a reformatory.' It is more than a habit or a disease; it is

"Let us quit helping men, and try to save them. I had all the help I wanted; I wanted to be saved. If Jesus Christ had come and said, 'I will help you,' I should have said,

'No, thank you; I don't want to be helped; I want to be saved.

'It is almost impossible to make a drinking man believe that he is lost. The devil of the drink is a liar like his father. He says to the man, 'Oh, you can leave off when man please. When you can make a man believe that he is lost, he cries out for Jesus Christ. It is hard to make a man let go all and trust in Christ.

"I tried medicine and imprisonment. Finally, I was in New York, away from my wife and children. I had gone from city to city, trying somewhere to find deliverance. I had been sober three or four weeks; I felt encouraged. One morning I woke up with more than a thirst.

with a feeling that something must happen, that I should be sure to drink that day. But I determined to fight it. I walked up Broadway to Forty-seventh street and back, two or three times. I kept saying,

"Yes, I will take a drink; but not till half-past seven (it was then seven);" then I would say, 'not till eight.' As I stood at a corner fighting the demon, a procession was going by; there were carriages full of men, well dressed with jewels on their fingers and in their bosoms. I thought it was the aldermen of some city on a visit to New York. But no; it was the Bar-keepers Union on a celebration. As I looked, I seemed to see captives chained to the wheels. I could see the idols of wives and mothers crushed beneath the wheels. I could see my wife and children in the procession. Before the procession came, I was ready to fall; I should have had a drink in another minute. But now

I felt that I should not drink that day. I said, 'I will war with the saloon; the fight will save me.' I sent for my wife; she came; but before she came I was lying in the gutter. I said to my wife, 'Mary

The enterprising citizens of America, S. S. are endeavoring to assist in their turn the necessary for the manufacture of orange from flax. It is to be hoped the full-blown success will attend the efforts. The flax is a crop of the North. It does not require the same care and in ordinary seasons the people will be given for the labor spent upon it. The seed flax is by far the strongest flax is grown in Canada, containing 35 per cent. of fat, which is a higher whole, with the Zeigler's church, near here, took place to-day, and was attended by about a thousand people.

In the attic of the meeting house are beds and cradles with bedding for the women who come a long distance and wished to remain during the day, and also for those who remain all night, as the love feast lasts two days. The elders, with long hair parted in the middle, occupy a table in the main sanctuary room. The cooking is done in the basement room. A large ox was slaughtered to-day for meals and for the Lord's Supper. The slaughter of the lamb was omitted.

Bishops David Kitter and John Hartman, and Elders Cline and Shuckler officiated. Under the heads of the seats were transferred into tables for the celebration of the holy communion. Upon each table were water bowls and twenty spoons. Then each member present was appealed to to forgive the sins of the community.

The question of the Behring Sea fisheries was considered at a recent Cabinet meeting, and it was decided, so it is understood, to adhere to the policy of last season, which was practically the same as the position taken on this question by the last and previous administrations. The revenue steamer Bear is now at Seattle, Washington, awaiting instructions for her guidance in Alaskan waters, and it is expected that her sailing orders will be soon at once. The revenue steamers Rush and Corwin are fitting out at San Francisco for their annual cruises in the same waters.

An abundance of young cod are reported this spring along the northern coast of Massachusetts. Herring (spratling) are also remarkably plentiful along the coast and squid are also present. Cod taken in the Church

The Senate Committee of the United States on Interstate Commerce recommended that so long as the price of 50c. or $100 over an American vessel visits a foreign port, on the great lakes or tributaries, is demanded, all foreign vessels be required to pay a fee in the ports of the United States.

First feet washing was indulged in by the brethren right about the time the washed and wiped each other's feet. The women, arrayed in black dresses and white caps, also washed each other's feet while hymns were sung. After this the Lord's Supper was spread, consisting of white bread and beef soup, with rice. Every set of four brethren and every set of four sisters ate soup out of one dish, two sitting on one side of the narrow table and two on the other, so that four could easily dip their bread into the bowl and use their spoons.

Then came the "holy kiss," the brethren and sisters kissing each on the lips. Unfermented grape wine was drunk. The fermented bread in strips was passed by one brother to another, but the bishops broke bread for the sisters.

The St. John Daily Sun says: The harbor fishermen are reaping a great harvest now. The catch of capelin is very large and that of shad equally so. No fewer lot of shad have been seen in St. John at this season for years than those now being taken in great numbers. Several salmag were taken in the harbor Tuesday.

The shad fishery has been phenomenally good the present season, which is approaching its close. It is reported that some of the fishermen on the Delaware have stocked as much in a few weeks as they usually do in a whole year's fishing.

James Patterson received Tuesday a consignment of fresh salmon from British Columbia. They were shipped on the 13th inst., making the trip in seven days. They are very handsome fish and arrived here in first condition.

Some other ways often put as much worry and anxiety into a loaf of bread, a pie, a cake, as it takes to get it into the weekly washing and ironing, and would suffice for much sadder matter. Suppose these things go wrong today; then follows are coming in which worry is, and the thing is not worth finding your own faults and those of your neighbor, and you, injuring yourself and in physically—for in mind as in the body—and for such a trifling as a thing is beyond repairing, and no useless regrets over it, and no alleluia! CELEBRATING DOMINION DAY.

Below will be found the programme prepared by the committee for celebrating Dominion Day. Our readers will see that it embraces every variety of amusement common to such celebrations, and is sufficiently comprehensive to fill the entire day, while in the evening the concert by the Glee Club, of Deer River, will very pleasantly conclude what should be, if the weather is at all favorable, a successful celebration.

It is intended to keep the places of business open as usual, so that any visitors who may wish to transact business, as many will, may be enabled to do so.

We believe the necessary steps have been taken to preserve order, so that no one will be subjected to any annoyance.

The supply of creature comforts will be afforded by the ladies of the Baptist and Methodist churches, whose advertisements appear elsewhere. The former will attend to the wants of all who wish refreshments or tea, in the room over the store of Turnbull & Welsh, while the Methodists will offer to the public refreshments on Water street, and tea in their own hall. Both will doubtless be well patronized.

The Rev. R. McArthur, who has been stationed here during the past three years, will preach his farewell sermon on Sunday week. During the time of his residence among us, Mr. McArthur has won the respect and esteem of the entire community, regardless of creed. Honest and straightforward in purpose, he has worked earnestly and zealously in his Master's cause, and will regret his departure. He has done what he could to assist the temperance cause and to strengthen the hands of his friends. From here he removes to Annapolis, where all will wish him and his amiable family the largest measure of happiness. His successor here will be Rev. J. M. Fisher, lately of Yarmouth.

The Acadian Recorder says:

A repeal of the Canadian Union and the formation of the three Lower Provinces into a federated whole, regulating their own trade and exercising their own control over their affairs, would, without doubt, be a move in the right direction. These three Provinces have nothing to gain, by remaining in the hands of Upper Canada. One year after uniting their fortunes they would have an absolute free trade with the United States. That would mean the doubling of our wealth and population in ten years.

The above paragraph shows what a set of narrow minded creatures the Nova Scotia repealers are. They would abandon all the bright prospects which Nova Scotia has as the great manufacturing province of Canada in order to make it a sort back kitchen to the United States. The idea that the United States would grant a united Maritime Provinces free trade is utterly absurd.

An article in the Free Press of last week, attempts to criticize our comments on the debate in the U. S. Senate, which we quoted. It does not appear to us that the writer, whose style is very different from that of the editor, has made very much by this effort, and we don't care to be drawn into a wholly unnecessary discussion of the subject.

The Dominion Government have decided to operate a pigeon service between Halifax and Sable Island. Birds will be imported from Belgium for the purpose. At present the only communication with the island where so many wrecks occur is by steamer or sailing vessel.

The death is announced at Yarmouth, on Sunday last, of Thomas V. Bingham Esq. He was born in Shelburne in 1814, and was admitted to the bar in 1835. Since then he has held the office of justice of the peace and collector of inland revenue, and many other positions of trust.

Three railway navies were sent to jail on Monday evening for being drunk and disorderly. On the following morning at ten o'clock they were arraigned before the stipendiary magistrate and fined each four dollars and costs or fifteen days in jail. Not having the wherewithal to satisfy ordered justice they remain in custody.

The cricket match at Annapolis on Saturday last between the juveniles of Annapolis and Digby resulted in Digby winning by five wickets and one run. Judging from the racketeering youngsters made on their arrival home Saturday, they must have enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. They complained of having two or three heavy weight bowlers to bat against, which made good all round scoring impossible.

ENTERTAINMENT BY THE YOUNG FOLKS.—Some of the younger members of Trinity Church Sunday School, under the management of Mr. Geo. Ambrose, propose holding an entertainment in the Sunday School house, on the 4th of July. The programme, which is to be carried out entirely by the little ones, will consist of the popular minor drama "Beauty and the Beast," followed by a very laughable pantomime tableaux, etc. Doors open at 7.30, performance to begin at 8. The St. John says: "Messrs Troop & Son have been in communication lately with the department of marine, in regard to having established at the light house on Prier Island, a signal station, and the government has it now under consideration, and this is a good move and the station should be put in working order immediately. Now that the island has telegraph and telephone communication with the mainland, vessels in distress or otherwise can signal the station, and be reported to owners or agents."

About 200 pastors and delegates attended the Association. The weather was all that could be desired, and the session, which closed on Monday evening, was one of the best ever held.

British Consignments in France.
London, June 18.—The insistence of France that resident British subjects, of the second generation in that country, shall be armed has it now under consideration, and this is a good move and the station should be put in working order immediately. Now that the island has telegraph and telephone communication with the mainland, vessels in distress or otherwise can signal the station, and be reported to owners or agents."

The Leary Raft Towed into Rockland with Two Sections Gone.

ROCKLAND, Me., June 21.—Large numbers of people visited the Leary lumber raft to-day. The raft left St. John last Tuesday and encountered considerable fog. In the Bay of Fundy two of the sections, the forward and next to the rear one, were lost, caused by the chafing of the connecting chains. The sections were not missed, owing to the fog, until too late to rescue them. The raft will be repaired here.

Notice to Mariners.
Boston, Mass., June 23.—The light house inspectors have issued the following notice to mariners: The spar buoy, known as the "Fiftieth foot shoal buoy," red, No. 4, Nantuxet road, Boston harbor, has been moved 300 feet southward-eastward of its position. The light is 15 feet over it at low water. By order of the light house board, George W. Wilder, commander U. S. N., inspector or 2nd district.

The rowing match between James Stanbury of N. S. W. and Wm. O'Connell of Toronto, Canada, the champion oarsman of America, which took place on the Parametta River, on Monday last, was won by Stanbury.

Blackford & Co. of Heston, N. S. are building a large vessel at McGeach, N. S. The "Fiftieth foot shoal buoy," red, No. 4, Nantuxet road, Boston harbor, has been moved 300 feet southward-eastward of its position. The light is 15 feet over it at low water. By order of the light house board, George W. Wilder, commander U. S. N., inspector or 2nd district.

The proof of the pudding is the eating, and the proof of the extraordinary power over pain of Polson's Nervine is in using it. Polson's Nervine never fails to get rid of the worst kind of neuralgia, and it cannot fail, for it is composed of powerful pain subduing remedies. It goes right to the bottom and pain is banished at once. Nervine cures all kinds of neuralgia, and it is a good thing to have a bottle, and be delighted by its promptitude in doing its work.

Correspondence.

The editor of this Courier is responsible for the views expressed in editorial notes and articles, and for such only; but the editor is not to be understood as endorsing the contents, expressed in the articles contributed to this journal. Our readers are capable of judging of the propriety of any part of an article or contents of the paper, and after carefully reading the same, to what is to appear in our columns we would have the rest to their intelligent judgment.

"Take the only path that opens lies. For modern works which would have to rise. For some persons, indeed, it is by bit. For all the merits of his word and wit."

Hint certain fallacies, and before unknown, to give forgotten this and add your own. Thus shall the world, quite undevoted at last.

Clear to their present wit, and quit their past."

These devoid of the grace of sincerity, or those who assume character to which they are unwelcome, are universally looked upon with distrust and suspicion. Therefore it is first a standard of conduct at once the most exacting, true to nature, truth, and equity, should be considered as the best recommendation for every man, woman and child.

The existence of such principles gives a power, which carries with it conviction. In all they do or say, so true it is that the heart instinctively clings to that which it believes sincere. But if we lack the charm of sincerity, the most winning address, the most capable language, and the most attractive exterior, will but serve to exhibit the deformity, the ugliness, that assumes their every thought and act. Then for sincere in all you do, and never write a letter to a friend (if you can write true).

To the Editor of the Courier.
Sir,—The interest manifested in the affairs of others by certain parties in this town would be really flattering, if indulged in to a more moderate extent; but as at present indulged, is becoming a source of annoyance.

That to which I refer to at present, is an anonymous letter writing. Through modesty a correspondent to your paper waiting for the eyes of the community to read his name, and I think, with propriety. Not so in private correspondence, where a friend always signs his name.

No one needs a letter, perhaps concluded with "enough said" and signed a "Friend" (P) can avoid very forcibly conveying a message with the author, though one can scarcely be expected to appreciate to the fullest extent the lower order of truth, but his by his unknown friend. A word to the wise would be sufficient. Trusting that the parties finding the shoe a fitting one, will not hesitate to wear it, I remain, Yours, etc.,

Care of the Invalid.

The quarters of the invalid should be kept well ventilated, and when possible to open the windows, some agreeable disinfectant should be used. Any drugist will put up the following mixture, and it is inexpensive and very effective: Take one and one-half parts nitric acid in thirty parts of water. Add ten parts of oil of rosemary, two and one-half parts of oil of thyme, two and one-half parts of oil of lavender. Bottle the mixture and shake well before using. One or two spoonfuls should be used at a time, according to the size of the room. Put it in a porcelain cup and allow it to slowly evaporate. The odor is grateful to the invalid and the preparation is far preferable to carbolic acid and turpentine which are often recommended. Ice is a wonderful comfort to the sick, especially those burning up with internal fever. Years ago, ice, cold water and even milk were denied to fever patients. Swallowing ice freely, in small lumps, is the principal remedy for inflammation of the stomach. Stewed prunes are a specific for the same disease being cooling in their effects, and acting as an internal cooling poultice. Inflammation of the brain and kindred head troubles, headache, and all inflammations are relieved by the application of pounded ice, in a linen bag. Many kinds of sore throat will yield to the persistent use of ice, allowing the pieces to melt slowly in the mouth. It is safe home treatment for any inflammation to use ice till a physician can be brought, and for any pain it is helpful and safe to use hot wet cloths, till medical aid arrives.

A bottle of ammonia and a bottle of spirits of camphor should always be kept where they can be brought out at a moment's warning, in case of fainting or accident. How often these remedies are in the house, yet no one, in an emergency, knows where to find them! Have a place for linen pieces and flannels, for any unexpected call or need.

Eggs, poached or boiled, are frequently allowed the sick, for they are nutritious; and, if the patient will take them raw, they are a powerful tonic. A more appetizing form is to beat the white to a stiff froth, add a large teaspoonful of powdered sugar, and beat more, then add the yolk of the egg and beat again, and lastly add a number of drops of milk, and three spoonfuls of wine. It should be sipped slowly. A little grated nutmeg added gives variety.

"Boston crackers," split open, toasted dipped in instant in boiling water, and then smothered in sweet cream, with a pinch of salt, are tempting to a convalescent. Raw oysters, with plenty of lemon juice, salt and pepper, will sometimes relish when nothing else will. Acids are very apt to be acceptable to the sick, in almost every form.

Cream toast is often inviting to them, and oranges cut up and sugared, are relished. All foods and drinks should be approved by the attending physician, but without acute care should exercise his own reason as to common sense.

Beef, mutton and chicken broths all are supposed to know how to make, to extract in all its strength the juices of the meat. A bit of chicken breast or a broiled bird will often please a sick person, when an expected aspic, trifles often assume a good deal of consequence to those who are ill and dependent.

Two fair tart apples prepared in the following way are good: Pare and halve the apples and remove the seeds. Put in a buttered baking dish and sprinkle plentifully with sugar. Take a large spoonful of butter, and rub it into a small spoonful of flour, add a small cup of boiling water, and pour over the apples and bake them till tender.

A dainty dish, and inviting, is made in this wise: Soak one spoonful of gelatin in half a cup of water an hour, add two spoonfuls of sugar, and dissolve over the fire. When nearly cold and stiff, beat in the frothed white of an egg, the juice of half a lemon and of one large orange. Beat well and cool in cups. Make the dish before wanted. Gruels of all sorts require to be more salted than for people in health, and the longer the summer the better they are—they are never boiled. Rice nicely boiled and served with cream is apt to be acceptable and relished by the sick.

Mint julep for an invalid is made by adding a few sprigs of mint to a glass of port wine, sweeten it to the taste and add a few bits of cracker.

Port-wine jelly is nourishing and refreshing. Put one ounce of gelatin and one large spoonful of sugar in one glass of cold water. Allow this to heat gradually, and when dissolved, take it from the fire and add one pint of port wine. Cool it in molds.

A plain jelly gelatin, made very acid with lemon juice, is sure to relish when a person is ill, and lemon juice itself is one of the best of Nature's regulators.—N. Y. Independent.

He Got Scared.

"When the phonograph was a newer invention than it is at the present time Edison put one of the machines in a clock and placed it in a guest chamber. Being a great lover of a practical joke he also placed a friend in the guest chamber one night. Just as the friend was disrobing he heard one voice exclaim: "Eleven o'clock, one hour more." It is needless to say that alarm did not descend upon the eyelids of the visitor during that hour. At midnight the voice exclaimed: "Twelve o'clock, prepare to die!" This was too much for the visitor, and he sprang from his bed and rushed to the library, where Edison and his friends were waiting patiently expecting his appearance. The invention was soon explained and quiet restored."

The people of this country have spoken of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, that they believe it to be an article of genuine merit, adapted to the cure of rheumatism, as well as relieves the pains of fractures and dislocations, internal injuries, corns, bunions, piles, and other maladies.

The Trained Elephants of India.

A traveller writing of some trained elephants which he saw in a seaport town on the Bay of Bengal in India, thus describes their intelligence in Golden Days: "Here you see the trained elephants at work piling up teak timber in the numerous timber yards that line the river. Their knowledge and intelligence are simply wonderful. They are guided by a native mahout, who is perched on the neck, and who gives all the necessary orders, assisted by his heel and an iron sharp pointed stick much like a small pick axe. The elephants thoroughly understand what is required of them. Think of them piling up square timber to the height of forty feet, every stick of which is in line and in its proper place, each piece weighing from two to three tons. They carry the timber on their tusks, holding it in place by their trunks, to the place of piling."

Mr. Findlay, owner of one of the largest yards, had his force of elephants put through their various forms of work, such as piling up the logs and tumbling them down, as well as drawing by chain, harness and pushing with their trunks and tusks from three to five of these logs, end to end, tandem fashion. These elephants are at times very troublesome and dangerous, and great care is taken to keep strangers at a respectful distance. They are immense in size, and cost from 1,500 to 2,500 silver rupees each; that is to say, from $900 to $1,250 each. When the bell rings for dinner or quitting the thing at once they are at hand, and cannot be induced to go on, but belt immediately to their quarters for their meal. We do the feeder should any of them be cut short in their food. They never forget it and revenge themselves at the first opportunity. They bathe in the river every evening, and know as well as man when Sunday comes. On that day they make for the mud pits, and, like pigs, wallow there all day.

Marriage of two Giants.

It was a grotesque wedding that was celebrated the other evening in the dining room of a boarding house on West sixth street that is patronized almost exclusively by museum performers and freaks. The high (extra) contracting parties were Fred A. Shields, one of the Texas Tall Brothers, who is a hand's breadth over seven feet in height, and Mrs. Anna O'Brien, nee Parsons, the German giantess, who doesn't yield an inch to husband in height. She is the widow of the late lamented Patrick O'Brien, the Irish giant. When they faced the minister, good Dr. Henderson, of the Trinity M. E. Church, who never dreamed of claiming over five feet and a couple of inches, the sight was simply ludicrous. When he asked the needful questions he shouted upward, and their responses were whispered down in the modest tones of bashful giants, making it seem as if the conversation was being carried on by two big people in a second story window and a little man down on the doorstep. He did not attempt to hold his hands over their heads in benediction, as no kisser was convenient, and the posture would be ungraceful. After the ceremony, Next Tommy and Thomas Wright signed the certificate, and the party sat down to a wedding supper, the ponderous lovers at the head of the table, serving the guests as if they were grown up children. The giant honeymooners start out on their bridal tour with a circus.

Exhausted Her Patience.

An old Scotch lady who lived at a considerable distance from the parish church was in the habit of driving over to the service. Her coachman, when he considered the service nearly at an end, would slip out quietly for the purpose of having the carriage ready by the time the service was concluded. One Sunday John returned to the church, and after hanging about the door for a considerable time grew impatient, and, popping in his head, discovered the minister haranguing as hard as ever. Creeping down the aisle toward his mistress he whispered in her ear: "Is he no done yet?" "Dune!" returned the old lady in a high state of indignation, for her patience had long been exhausted; "he's done half an hour since, but he'll no stop!"—Ex.

NOT GOING THAT WAY.—A Florida steamer got into a dense fog while on her way down the river. A tourist, anxious to go ahead, went up to the captain, who was at the wheel, and asked why they had stopped. "Too much fog; can't see the river," replied the captain. "But," said the tourist, "you can see the stars overhead." "Yes," said the captain, "but until the boiler bursts we are not going that way." The passenger went to bed.—San Francisco Argonaut.

D. Sullivan, Malcolm, Ontario writes: "I have been selling Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for some years, and have no hesitation in saying that it has given better satisfaction than any other medicine I have ever sold. I consider it the only patent medicine that cures more than it is recommended to cure."

EDITOR, FARMINGTON.—Of the Delhi Reporter—a well-known journalist says: "I consider Burdock Blood Bitters the best medicine made, and would not be without it on any account. It should be kept in every house in the land."

JOSEPH A. SNOW,
Norway, Me
33 Im.

The citizens that will not look beyond the contracted limits of his own little business and seek to do something for the general good of the community is a narrow souled miser and the community would be better off without him. Do you see him in Digby?

PLUCKING VIOLETS.—A "violet" plucked will never grow again; so a good name once lost we never can regain. An article which extended trial won great fame and as time rolls on by good deeds still increase, it is Burdock Blood Bitters the best cure, for dyspepsia and all blood diseases.

The best newspaper is that one which gives its readers the most information and the most enjoyment. The advertising columns are by no means the least important feature to be considered. A prosperous community advertises its advantages by its liberal support of its representative papers.

TIOBORNE, K. & P. R. R. Co.—"I take pleasure in certifying that I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in my family for years and find it a sure cure for diarrhoea and summer complaints both for children and adults."
Mrs. John McHAON,
Tiorborne, Ont.

Experiment with English cavalry horses show that gray and dun colored animals are the most easily frightened. The blacks are the most obstinate, the chestnut the most intelligent, and the bays are the most docile. These facts probably hold good the world over and are a guide to purchasing.

POETIC SENTIMENT.—To apply the poetic words "a medicine that's able to breathe life into a stone" to B. B. B. savors of exaggeration, but considering its countless cures and wonderful work even exaggeration seems justifiable if it convinces those who hesitate to try B. B. B. and be cured.

WHAT'S THE REASON?—The causes of summer complaint, diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera morbus, etc., are the excessive heat, eating green fruit, over exertion, impure water and sudden chills. Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry is an infallible and prompt cure for all bowel complaints from whatever cause.

FORWARDED IS FORWARDED.—Many of the worst attacks of cholera morbus, cramps, dysentery, colic, etc., come suddenly in the night and speedy and prompt means must be used against them. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the remedy. Keep it at hand for emergencies. It never fails to cure or relieve.

ONE ON THE DRUMMER.—I never was bluffed in so pleasant a way as on my last trip," said Joblots, the drummer, lately. "I was just about to enter an office when I saw a stairway with a sign, 'This way for commercial salesmen.' I supposed the stairs led to a counting room, so I went up, and found myself in a long hall with walls where pointing boards directed the way. I passed through the hall and came to a stairway leading down as another board pointed. I descended, and opening the door at the lowest step found I was—in the street again!"—True Flag.

Dr. Geo. A. Pickles
A very eminent doctor of Mahone Bay, N. S., says: "I had a patient who had been sick a long time. I tried all the remedies I could think of, but failed to reach his case. He then tried Canadian Bitters and other patent medicines which failed also. At last he tried a bottle of Dr. Norton's Dock Blood Purifier; imagine my surprise that in less than one week after he commenced to take the medicine he was very much improved in health, and by the time he had finished the second bottle he was cured man. Since that time he has used Dr. Norton's Dock Blood Purifier, which in the case mentioned, proved itself far superior to any bitter or blood purifier I have ever known." 34

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you distressed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering with crying with pain of teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Beware of cheap imitations; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children Teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

Nothing so suddenly obstructs the perspiration as sudden transitions from heat to cold. Heat rarifies the blood, quickens the circulation and increases the perspiration, but when these are suddenly checked the consequences must be bad. The most common cause of disease is obstructed perspiration, or what commonly goes by the name of catching cold, coughs, colds, sore throat, etc., if attended to in time are easily cured, but if allowed to run their own course, generally prove the forerunner of more dangerous diseases. Nine-tenths of the consumptive die from their affliction from a neglected cold, and the disease that is caused by wet feet, damp clothes, or exposure are more numerous than are generally supposed. One of the most efficacious medicines for all diseases of the throat and lungs is Dr. Norton's Dock Blood Purifier, which promises a free and easy expectoration, which frees the lungs from viscid phlegm by changing the secretions from a diseased to a healthy state.
