Pl. Galloway on the Bayonet.
"The most ridiculous weapon own to modern warfare is the bayonet," said Col. Michael Gallahay. "Civilians seem to suppose that the bayonet plays an important part in all battles—that the tide is variably turned by this romantic, amp-shouldered frog sticker. Now, a matter of fact, you could bury a ten-acre lot all the way into

THE UNCANNY BARR.
No one was so really alarmed as David's unanny remark and its consequences as David Galbraith himself. His grandmother, a highland woman, had had the second sight, and his father had told him she had been becoming the owner of her family. Her prophecies of death and calamity were fulfilling, and the spirit within her was as to how the impending evil might be averted. She was simply the medium of announcing approaching doom. What if her ghostly gift had descended to her grandson, a barren heritage that would make him shudder by his kind?

Little River Notes.
The Mission Band gave a very interesting concert on Tuesday evening, 25th. The choir consisted of seven little girls who were given with sweetness and effect. The exercise by nine young ladies was also well received. Collection $21. Much credit is due Mrs. Jones, president of the choir, and the young ladies who have worked so faithfully to keep up an interest in mission work. They have taken a share in the Paledonia building which is nearly paid for. A large street lamp has lately been erected in front of the church, which is a great benefit to our old folks and perhaps our young ones too going to and from services on dark nights. Misses Kate Walsh and Lizette Trask left here on Monday to take charge of their respective schools. Sch. Loyd, Capt. Trask, arrived from Yarmouth on Saturday with a cargo of coal.

Columbus Day at Swampscott.
The first fruits of autumn came last week and now the leaves are falling, and the fruit hangs on the trees and vines, especially apples, pears and grapes. The 40th anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus, was celebrated with great interest in the New England States. In New York City the celebration was held on Friday last. In our little city the children of the four public schools, led by members of the Grand Army of the Republic, marched to the city hall, and the streets were lined with the people and the strains of martial music. The Mayor, Mr. John F. Johnson, presided over the ceremony. The children sang the "Star Spangled Banner" and the "Marseilles." The Mayor then gave a short address, and the children sang the "Marseilles" again. The celebration was a most successful one, and the children were very happy.

Freepoint Notes.
The Sch. Windsor Packet, owned and commanded by Capt. Wm. Wynn, of this place, is at Haines Bros., wharf discharging a cargo of coal from Spring Hill Mines. Capt. Albert F. Johnson has been appointed postmaster to take the place vacated by the sad death of Capt. S. T. Haines who was taken away so suddenly in June last. The new postmaster is a most capable and efficient man, and will be a great benefit to the community. The Western Star Division, S. of T. is flourishing. Over 60 members were initiated during last quarter. Capt. George Haines who returned from sea some weeks ago will remain home for the winter. Mr. Fred Tilley, who has been the principal of our grammar school for the last month, has returned to his home, Melrose Square, Annapolis Co. He will be much missed in the Division and in the social circle. His place has been filled by Mr. Morse who is a student of Acadia University.

Clementsport Notes.
Sch. E. E. Potter, LeCain, arrived at this port on Monday, from Boston, in ballast. During the past three weeks there have been three fishing trips from Long Island at this port trading fish for produce. This seems like "Carrying coals to Newcastle," but the complete failure of the herring fishery in the Basin this season has compelled our people to purchase their supply from abroad. Can we blame the N. P. for this? The election for Councillor for this ward takes place on the 10th. Warden Roper and Mr. Herbert H. Hicks are the candidates. The contest bids fair to be a sharp one. Mr. and Mrs. Handford VanBarrow and daughter, of Boston, have been visiting at this place—the guests of W. C. Jones, Esq. Capt. W. B. Cr. well, the proprietor of the Clementsport Hotel, is around again after a severe attack of lumbago. The Clementsport school, under the continued efficient principalship of Mr. Frank Bishop, has opened for the lengthened term. Several pupils come from the neighboring schools. Miss J. Roper, daughter of Deacon Joseph Roper, has taken charge of the school at Young's Cove. Two sections in Clements have failed to make provision for school for the present term. We are indeed sorry for the children.

Plympton Notes.
Wedding Bells.
There was quite a chatting among the people of Paradise when it was known that Mr. H. D. Marshall, of Nantasket, Mass., and Mrs. M. E. Marshall, had issued invitations to a wedding and fifty friends and relatives to a reception on Monday evening, 17 inst, in anticipation of an event for which invitations were out for the following Wednesday, when he was to be married to Miss Lettice, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abner Bauman, of the town. On the expected day, Wednesday, 19th, quite a company assembled at the residence of the bride's parents to witness the marriage, and at the appointed time, Rev. R. B. Kinley entered the room, book in hand followed by the bride leaning on the arm of the groom, Mr. Lewis H. Marshall, groomsmen, and Miss Ada, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and her little sister Edie as bridesmaid. The bride wore a handsome dress of pearl white with a train, trimmed with satin, and carried a magnificent bouquet of white roses and carnations, the gift of her elder sister Mrs. F. Vidito. The bridesmaid and maid of honor also carried bouquets. After the ceremony and congratulations, the bride changed her dress for a pretty travelling suit of pearl grey, accompanied by a number of friends, drove to the station and took train for their new home; and judging by the quantity of rice strewn about the platform of the station, there has scarcely a couple left Bridgetown followed by more or less good wishes from Mr. and Mrs. Marshall—Bridgetown Monitor.

The bride is a granddaughter of Mrs. Bina Everett of this place. And her many acquaintances join her relatives in hearty congratulations. Capt. C. T. Warren is expected home from Boston on Wednesday. Sch. Belmont, Horton, arrived Monday night from Rockport. Sch. Alpharetta, sailed Tuesday morning for Rockland. Mrs. James Smith, is visiting her parents Capt. and Mrs. R. H. Warner.

The wisest course in politics is to vote for the best man, and you cannot be mistaken. So, in the use of blood-purifiers, you can't be mistaken if you take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, because all parties agree that it is the best—The Superior Medicine. Try it this month.

From our Regular Correspondent.
Washington, Nov. 14, 1902.
There seems to be a very important question at present, and that is, whether the Department of an approaching election. The forces in the pay of the government, regarding a party that will win the election, are very much divided. Wedding Bells.
There was quite a chatting among the people of Paradise when it was known that Mr. H. D. Marshall, of Nantasket, Mass., and Mrs. M. E. Marshall, had issued invitations to a wedding and fifty friends and relatives to a reception on Monday evening, 17 inst, in anticipation of an event for which invitations were out for the following Wednesday, when he was to be married to Miss Lettice, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abner Bauman, of the town. On the expected day, Wednesday, 19th, quite a company assembled at the residence of the bride's parents to witness the marriage, and at the appointed time, Rev. R. B. Kinley entered the room, book in hand followed by the bride leaning on the arm of the groom, Mr. Lewis H. Marshall, groomsmen, and Miss Ada, sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and her little sister Edie as bridesmaid. The bride wore a handsome dress of pearl white with a train, trimmed with satin, and carried a magnificent bouquet of white roses and carnations, the gift of her elder sister Mrs. F. Vidito. The bridesmaid and maid of honor also carried bouquets. After the ceremony and congratulations, the bride changed her dress for a pretty travelling suit of pearl grey, accompanied by a number of friends, drove to the station and took train for their new home; and judging by the quantity of rice strewn about the platform of the station, there has scarcely a couple left Bridgetown followed by more or less good wishes from Mr. and Mrs. Marshall—Bridgetown Monitor.

The bride is a granddaughter of Mrs. Bina Everett of this place. And her many acquaintances join her relatives in hearty congratulations. Capt. C. T. Warren is expected home from Boston on Wednesday. Sch. Belmont, Horton, arrived Monday night from Rockport. Sch. Alpharetta, sailed Tuesday morning for Rockland. Mrs. James Smith, is visiting her parents Capt. and Mrs. R. H. Warner.

The Mission Band gave a very interesting concert on Tuesday evening, 25th. The choir consisted of seven little girls who were given with sweetness and effect. The exercise by nine young ladies was also well received. Collection $21. Much credit is due Mrs. Jones, president of the choir, and the young ladies who have worked so faithfully to keep up an interest in mission work. They have taken a share in the Paledonia building which is nearly paid for. A large street lamp has lately been erected in front of the church, which is a great benefit to our old folks and perhaps our young ones too going to and from services on dark nights. Misses Kate Walsh and Lizette Trask left here on Monday to take charge of their respective schools. Sch. Loyd, Capt. Trask, arrived from Yarmouth on Saturday with a cargo of coal.

Columbus Day at Swampscott.
The first fruits of autumn came last week and now the leaves are falling, and the fruit hangs on the trees and vines, especially apples, pears and grapes. The 40th anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus, was celebrated with great interest in the New England States. In New York City the celebration was held on Friday last. In our little city the children of the four public schools, led by members of the Grand Army of the Republic, marched to the city hall, and the streets were lined with the people and the strains of martial music. The Mayor, Mr. John F. Johnson, presided over the ceremony. The children sang the "Star Spangled Banner" and the "Marseilles." The Mayor then gave a short address, and the children sang the "Marseilles" again. The celebration was a most successful one, and the children were very happy.

The Sch. Windsor Packet, owned and commanded by Capt. Wm. Wynn, of this place, is at Haines Bros., wharf discharging a cargo of coal from Spring Hill Mines. Capt. Albert F. Johnson has been appointed postmaster to take the place vacated by the sad death of Capt. S. T. Haines who was taken away so suddenly in June last. The new postmaster is a most capable and efficient man, and will be a great benefit to the community. The Western Star Division, S. of T. is flourishing. Over 60 members were initiated during last quarter. Capt. George Haines who returned from sea some weeks ago will remain home for the winter. Mr. Fred Tilley, who has been the principal of our grammar school for the last month, has returned to his home, Melrose Square, Annapolis Co. He will be much missed in the Division and in the social circle. His place has been filled by Mr. Morse who is a student of Acadia University.

Clementsport Notes.
Sch. E. E. Potter, LeCain, arrived at this port on Monday, from Boston, in ballast. During the past three weeks there have been three fishing trips from Long Island at this port trading fish for produce. This seems like "Carrying coals to Newcastle," but the complete failure of the herring fishery in the Basin this season has compelled our people to purchase their supply from abroad. Can we blame the N. P. for this? The election for Councillor for this ward takes place on the 10th. Warden Roper and Mr. Herbert H. Hicks are the candidates. The contest bids fair to be a sharp one. Mr. and Mrs. Handford VanBarrow and daughter, of Boston, have been visiting at this place—the guests of W. C. Jones, Esq. Capt. W. B. Cr. well, the proprietor of the Clementsport Hotel, is around again after a severe attack of lumbago. The Clementsport school, under the continued efficient principalship of Mr. Frank Bishop, has opened for the lengthened term. Several pupils come from the neighboring schools. Miss J. Roper, daughter of Deacon Joseph Roper, has taken charge of the school at Young's Cove. Two sections in Clements have failed to make provision for school for the present term. We are indeed sorry for the children.

THE BOTTOMLESS PIT.
A Tale of an Old Man's Strange Presentiment.
"I tell you, no good will come of it," declared Uncle Hiram. "You mark my words, that railroad can't no more go through the bottomless pit than it could well, no more it could the one Scripture speaks about. It wasn't named for nothing I can tell you. Many and many's the time my father's lost cattle in that swamp, until it was forced in."

THE SHIPWRECKED POTLATCH.
The shipwrecked potlatch was a story of a man who had been shipwrecked and was now in a state of distress. He was looking for help and was in a state of despair.

A DEADLY POISON.

THE PHYSICAL CONDITION

of the human body is a subject of great importance.

It is the foundation of all health and vitality.

Without it, the body is a mere shell.

It is the basis of all strength and endurance.

It is the source of all energy and power.

It is the key to all success and achievement.

It is the secret of all happiness and contentment.

It is the essence of all life and existence.

It is the heart of all truth and wisdom.

It is the soul of all love and compassion.

It is the spirit of all hope and faith.

It is the mind of all knowledge and understanding.

It is the will of all determination and resolve.

It is the power of all action and achievement.

It is the force of all creation and destruction.

It is the energy of all life and death.

It is the light of all truth and darkness.

It is

A PERFECT CURE FOR CHRONIC BRONCHITIS.

Digby Weekly Courier.

Digby, November 25, 1892.

A short time ago E. Burnham of Digby shipped a lot of potatoes to the West Indies by the Pickford & Black line of steamers, Captain Chas. W. Burns of Digby going out as supercargo. The freight on these potatoes, some of which were shipped from St. John and some from Halifax, was 75 cents per barrel from either port. This is the latest freight rate on potatoes. But consignments of flour, peas and beans shipped by other provinces dealers to their West India customers were carried for a trifle over this cost, being listed at 40 cents per barrel. On enquiring into this discrimination against the Nova Scotia product, the supercargo discovered that there being no competition possible on the St. John and Halifax West India routes, the line was enabled to charge whatever figure in its management's opinion the potato trade was able to bear without breaking. When the management had quoted figures for the local Ontario combines, it was reminded that the Nova Scotia West India line would carry flour for 40 cents, and that could accept those figures or let them alone. The line accepted, and is now carrying flour, peas and beans for 40 cents per barrel. Now comes the query: If these products can be carried at that rate, why cannot potatoes, shipped in smaller barrels be carried for at least the same figures? Or, on the other hand, 75 cents is not an excessive rate, and surely Messrs. Pickford & Black will not admit it is, who pays the remaining 35 cents per barrel freight on the Ontario export? The maritime exporter will be delighted to know that the Dominion Government assumes this duty. And the Nova Scotia potato raiser has the satisfaction of knowing that he not only pays an exorbitant freight on his own export, but actually has to contribute to the freight of the Ontario miller, by paying his share of the $5,000 a trip given in subsidy to this line, that it may the better discriminate against maritime exports.

This whole iniquitous steamer subsidy business was fully ventilated in parliament a few years ago when the scandalous Baird appropriation was exposed. It had been shown too, and again, that the subsidy was carrying trade and to the interests of exporters. For, sailing vessels are crowded out of the trade by the pimper steamship line, and once the present government, "mean and once ago for work it never did, or for that matter never claimed to have done. But the appropriation preceded an important election in Halifax, and the machine had to be kept oiled.

A GREAT FREE EXHIBITION.

Should next Sunday night be fine the inhabitants of this prosy old sphere are promised a treat in meteoric display such as probably they never were favored with before. The entertainment will be furnished by a comet, the promised distance of which on that night is variously estimated at from 1,000,000 miles to a point of actual collision, with the weight of scientific opinion in favor of the latter.

The approaching comet, which was discovered by Prof. Holmes on the night of Nov. 6th, and again by the Dudley Observatory on the 13th, is supposed to be identical with the Biela periodic comet, which broke in two in 1846. The comet was seen at that time to divide into two separate parts, which kept moving side by side till they disappeared. When in the autumn of 1852 they again appeared, the distance between the nuclei had considerably increased. From that date to this, although twice due, the comet has not been seen, and whether the coming visitor is Biela's or not is not yet known.

Speaking of the approaching comet, Mr. G. P. Serviss said in the Park Theatre, New York, last Sunday night:

"We have had an experience with this comet—if it is indeed Biela's—before. The comet broke in two in 1846 before the very eyes of the astronomers who were watching it, and it was confessed to their intense astonishment. In 1855 it came back still double, and then it disappeared, but in 1872, when it was due again, there came suddenly out of the north, from the constellation of Andromeda, where the approaching comet now is, a flying swarm of fiery sparks, a rain of meteors, one of the most brilliant on record, and there seemed the best of reasons to think that these meteors were part of the debris of the broken up and missing comet. Yet none of these meteors reached the ground. Although they pointed into the atmosphere so rapidly that it was impossible to count, they were distributed like the flying sparks of a roman candle. In 1885 we had another meeting with Biela's comet, and although a meteoric storm which fell in Mexico was thought by some to have come from the same source its identity has never been satisfactorily proved. For my part I should be glad if the comet should suddenly come into collision with the earth full tilt. Then we should have a sight worth looking at, and I believe we should all survive to discuss it afterward and tell the story to our children's children. Perhaps after that people would be cured of the idea that the heavens are only interesting when they seem to threaten danger to the earth. And if this comet comes as close to our globe as it promises to be, we shall not be unlikely to find things that we never knew before and perhaps never suspected about these 'Isidimities of space.'"

The diameter of the comet, even at the distance of 1,000,000 miles, will be many times as large as the moon when full. Observations of it are already growing very interesting. There is a central condensation, but an entire absence of solid nucleus.

In 1866, on the 13th of November, a meteor shower approached within the limits of the earth's atmosphere, but was not within the established orbit of any known comet. The display at that time will probably never be forgotten by those who witnessed it. A shower of brilliant meteors, continued in numbers at 250,000, commenced shortly before midnight, proceeded by centesimal degrees, then in flocks, and gradually in larger numbers.

THE CHARGES AGAINST EDGAR.

Edgar's Reply to the Attorney-General's Charge.

THE WRONG CORRESPONDENCE.

During the late presidential campaign Chauncey Depew told an audience that when the annual dinner of the New York Chamber of Commerce came around, he and Mr. Cleveland would be present, and he intended to have such a elegy prepared for the deceased Reformer, as would suit his funeral services. The dinner came, and Chauncey and Grever were present, but instead of the elegy, the witty after dinner orator delivered himself as follows:

I suppose that I am the only person present here tonight who is not an embarrassment position. A man upon a platform in the heat of a political canvass makes a speech which it is difficult for him to fulfil. The trend of events does not create the conditions for which he has prepared his speech. I expected to be here tonight attending the obsequies of a distinguished friend of mine. And I had prepared an eulogium which would have been satisfactory to the spirit of the deceased, and moreover, it would be premature for me to enter into criticisms of the course of council for the crown, or of the rulings of the commissioners, until the proceedings are reported in the hours of commons.

You quote from your letter to me of 5th September last, in which you offer to place your professional services at my disposal to enable me to designate the charges to be investigated by the royal commission. I give my reasons for not complying with your invitation by enclosing a copy of my letter to the commissioners, dated 19th September. I need not repeat them now. I will say that my general view, to which I still adhere, was that some very important charges were wholly omitted from those referred to the commission, while others were garbled beyond recognition.

For reasons, at which I can only guess, no reply whatever was vouchsafed to this letter. I fear that your views were concurred in by either the commissioners or the counsel for the crown. I was allowed to remain completely in the dark until yesterday, when, all too late in the day, you dispute some of my positions, and say that the Howell charges were even broader than my own. Why you did not announce these to be the views of the commissioners and yourselves until the latest possible moment, I cannot understand, and I do not attempt to explain.

I confess to unqualified surprise at your statements that Mr. Howell's charges were more serious than mine, that they were at least as broad, and that they went so far beyond my accusations that I shrink from even appearing to support them. I fear that your enthusiasm over your briefs has somewhat affected your imagination, for it can scarcely be believed that Sir Adolphe Caron's colleagues intended their charges to be more serious, or that accusations against him to be more serious than mine. To state such a proposition is to refute it.

It was given that I had supposed would have been warranted by their language, I was frankly acknowledged it. It seems to be very deplorable that so many alterations were made by Mr. Howell in his revision of my accusations, as not only to have led me to believe that he intended to retract, but that he had been called, my letter to the commissioners fully stating my doubts as to the admission by them of evidence, which I might produce in support of my original charges, it is not until everyone of the witnesses I have named have been examined that I have received the slightest intimation from either yourselves or the commissioners that any such evidence was admitted.

Without a wish to impute improper motives to anyone, I cannot help feeling that those who are uncharitably disposed may be inclined to doubt the frankness of your statement on this point—a silence that was carefully maintained until evidence of those witnesses had been examined. When that safe passage has been reached, I am told that the evidence has a wider scope than was supposed, and I am now asked if I have any other witnesses to name. It seems to me that even the tactical step of your silence is a confession, because it so manifestly comes too late. I may add that I am not at present aware of any material witnesses in support of my original charges beyond those named in my letter of 19th September last.

I gather from the hasty glance I have been able to give the evidence that even the restricted nature of the enquiry, and the unexpected character of the proceedings, have not prevented some startling revelations of a portion of the facts upon which my charges were based. For these exposures you are not indebted to the list that I gave of witnesses whom I would have called in support of my original charges. If I had furnished that list, it would have been impossible for you (even if you so desired), to refrain from calling them.

When even the imperfect evidence elicited shall be made public, no one will be at a loss to perceive why political exigencies required that I should have been released from an investigating committee of commons. I am much mistaken if an aroused public opinion will not insist that the full, fair and open enquiry which I demanded upon my place in parliament be granted at the next session, and that the partial disclosures made shall be brought to the bottom.

I have honor to be, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
(Signed) J. D. EDGAR.

Blair and Chesley Carry the Election in New Brunswick.

Two had Tory "Backs."—Mr. Blair and Mr. Chesley. Great interest was taken here in the result of the Queens county election and general expressions of delight were heard at Attorney-General Blair's magnificent victory. His majority over Mr. Chesley was eight hundred and thirty-seven with Brunswick to hear from, which will probably increase it to about nine hundred, a total pool of less than two thousand. The opposition candidate, Messrs. Blair and Chesley, a majority in every poll in the constituency. All efforts to stampede the Liberal vote or even the Liberal Orange vote from Blair failed. He was elected by a large majority. He was elected by a large majority. He was elected by a large majority.

When Engineer Allison was Deputed Last April to consult the voice of Digby on the matter of a change in the location of the new pier, we expressed an opinion that the government would in all probability make the change, if the people expressed a desire for it, a basis for cancellation of the contract with the Nicholson estate; but we did not dream at the time that the material would be disposed of and unceremoniously shipped out of the country without a word of explanation from the government to the people of this town and county. And yet this is exactly what the government is doing. The long and short of this story is, Digby pier appropriation was promised in the beginning as an election bribe, and has been elected since. And now that the favor of the bait may not be destroyed, the nucleus of what probably was intended for a pier is picked up, body and bones, and carried off to await another general election.

The Halifax Herald went almost frantic during the late municipal contests in its endeavor to infuse political life into the struggle, and has succeeded to a certain extent, as can be witnessed by the large increase in Liberal Councils throughout the province. And now the Chronicle says it is:

On Dr. Blair—That the Conservative party in the provincial legislature will shortly be advertised for a new organ and a new leader. They feel that the kind of organ and leadership which has dumped them into that awful municipal elections' ditch cannot be tolerated any longer.

If Buck is of the right political faith—and his principles seem to point that way—there is probably a bright future ahead of him yet. He is timbered right for an Ottawa departmental head, and if his fingers prove as light on the treasury as they did on the trigger, there is a prospect of a brilliant future.

Nova Scotia Gold.—The tunnel upon which Waverly miners have been at work for some time in the attempt to reach a new and more extensive vein, is a large one. They remarked yesterday that it would not take 250,000 for his chances on it.—Halifax Herald.

A FROSTY WELCOME.—Visitors from the cold and frozen regions of Hantsport, Nova Scotia, arrived by the steamer Pongona yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, and were met by a large number of the local people.

The Old and Home and Amusement.
The wicked, through the pride of his countenance, will not seek after God: God is not in all his thoughts. Psalm 10, 4.

Then there is the tendency of our day to legalize the immoral use of women. France and Germany, and some other European countries, have such a law, and had it not been for a noble band of women workers, such law would not have been the statute books of "Mother England." Americans in high places advocate it, and in our own Canada we have the same law advocated by a writer in our medical journal.

We have an Anthony Comstock in Canada with whom to work for the suppression of immoral literature, unless, indeed, we claim our Mrs. Todd as his representative; but she is a woman. We have laws regulating the foreign article. It is for us to see that they are carried out.

I have mentioned some of the evils that are supplanting the morality of our youth. They are found in the country districts as well as in the city, but in a less degree. To me it is not a necessity for a paper legislator; men have shown us that they will not give it to us. Vice and crime have been prevalent rampant at the capital. I think you must decide with me that the ballot in the hands of women is a necessity. Many shrink from the very thought of such a state of society. But what mother can think of her girls and boys, and say that society as it now is, is a safe place for them. Not only should women not shrink from the ballot, but should pray for it. When they pray, "Thy Kingdom come," they should be willing to aid their prayers in whatever way seems the most efficient. Praying and doing, or faith and works, go hand in hand.

If we want statistical facts to show the necessity of work in these lines, we can take the Canada year Book, a governmental compilation of facts, then we will see the necessity of all moral and religious organizations doing with their might whatever their hands find to do.

As civilization advances, evil becomes organized and powerful. If we would stem the current, we must also organize. As evil is more national than good, so it is more easily learned. Let not women shrink from the ballot box, their duty lies there. Let them work for it with out regard to the conventional dates of society. Let them acknowledge the necessity of working for God and Home and Humanity through the franchise.

A Dexterous Throw of a Lasso.

The prettiest throw of a lasso I ever saw was down in New Mexico last summer," said D. G. Smith, a Western cattleman to a New York Tribune reporter. "I had gone out to look at a bunch of cattle I thought of buying and was standing in front of the owner's house discussing the proposed trade. A two year old child was playing about the lawn, when suddenly it clapped its hands and cried out as though highly elated. I turned my head and saw to my horror, that it was amusing itself a monster rattlesnake that had just coiled to strike. It was shooting its forked tongue almost into the face of the child, and it was this action that attracted the child's eye. At my side stood a Mexican cowboy with a lasso on his arm. Quick as a flash it went whizzing through the air and around the neck of the serpent just as it drew its head back for the fatal stroke. The father of the child nodded his head, remarking that was a capital throw, and resumed our discussion with imperturbable gravity. Your Mexican is nothing if not stoical. It is the result of his Indian blood."

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.
South American Rheumatic Cure for Rheumatism and Neuralgia radically cures in 24 hours. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It cures at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits. 75 cents.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

Has no equal for the prompt relief and speedy cure of Coughs, Croup, Hoarseness, Loss of Voice, Preacher's Sore Throat, Asthma, Bronchitis, La Grippe, and other lung affections of the throat and lungs. The best known cough-cure in the world, it is recommended by eminent physicians, and is the favorite preparation with singers, actors, preachers and teachers. It soothes the inflamed membrane, loosens the phlegm, stops coughing, and induces repose.

taken for consumption, in its early stages, checks further progress of the disease, and even in the later stage it is the best and most refreshing cough and promotes refreshing sleep. It is agreeable to the taste, needs but small doses, and does not interfere with digestion or any of the regular organic functions. As an emergency medicine, every household should be provided with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"Having used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for many years, I can confidently recommend it for all the complaints it is claimed to cure. Its sale is increasing yearly with me, and my customers think this preparation has no equal as a cough cure."—S. W. Everett, Druggist, B.

ONE EFFORT

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken, is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever prepared, and is pleasant to the taste and is accepted by the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, and only from the most healthy and agreeable substances in its many excellent qualities commends itself to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 75c bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Manufactured only by J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., U.S.A.

New Hampshire's Folly.

How the White Mountain Region is Demanded as Trees.

New Hampshire, says the Manchester Mirror, has played the fool's part in disposing of the magnificent stretches of forest, which but a few years ago clothed and beautified her northern mountains and valleys, and were the unfailing reservoirs for her streams, the haunts of her fish and game and the sanctuaries to which people came from far and near for rest and recreation and recuperation. Some of them she sold for a song, and others she gave away as if they were of no value. In one way and another the title to them had passed into the hands of others, generally not residents of the state, who have become wealthy in trading upon them and turning them over to the lumbermen to be destroyed.

Not only the timber in the valleys and upon adjacent slopes has been cut and carried away, leaving nothing but repulsive barrens, but now this is gone the work of destruction has been pushed far up the gorge and mountain sides, and no tract which was supposed to be inaccessible and therefore safe. One such tract south of Gorham, which was nearly worthless five years ago, has just been sold for ninety-seven thousand dollars and is fast being stripped. To another a tramway ten miles long is being built from Bemis station in the Crawford notch and the township of Success is being invaded by another starting form Berlin.

Even Dartmouth college, of which something besides reckless greed might be expected, has turned over her splendid grants upon the Androscoggin to the tender mercies of George Van Dyke's Canadians, and the Concord and Montreal railroad has spent five hundred thousand dollars and made it profitable for somebody to denude the town of Randolph and the base of Mount Adams.

Worse than this even are the preparations to extend the railroad from North Woodstock to the Profile and to build another up the east branch so that some millionaire can turn the spruce trees there into money. Within five years at the present rate the supply of spruce will be exhausted, and the hard wood in townships reached by railroads will not last more than ten or twelve. When spruce is removed it is followed by wild cherry and poplar, and even where the cleared lands in the White mountains not overrun by fires nearly every year, as they are, the forest could not be replaced.

The case is a bad one. What can be done about it? To do anything is very much like looking the stable after the horse has been stolen. The Boston Herald's remedy is to have the state exercise its right of eminent domain, and retake the lands which it threw away, paying their owners of course their value. This involves an enormous expenditure, and is, at best, an inadequate remedy, but it is about the only one offered. If it is to be applied at all, no time can be lost, and the next legislature must act. The subject is worth careful consideration and earnest discussion even in the midst of a national campaign.

Rebecca Wilkinson, of Brownsville, Ind., says: "I had been in a distressed condition for three years from Nervousness, Weakness of the Stomach, Dyspepsia and Indigestion until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nerve, which did me more good than any $50 worth of medicine I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to try this valuable and lovely remedy; I consider it the grandest medicine in the world." A trial bottle will convince you.

Warranted by John Chalmers, Druggist, 15

One of the most curious stones in the world is found in Finland, where it occurs in many places. It is a natural barometer, and actually foretells probable changes in the weather. It is called semikair, and turns black shortly before an approaching rain, while in fine weather it is mottled with spots of white.

Some water-plants, whose leaves float on the water, have a very simple contrivance to keep the upper surface of the leaves dry. This consists of a great number of minute hairs covering the tops of the leaves. Water cannot penetrate among these hairs, even when the leaves are forced down beneath the surface.

Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers is a popular preparation in one bottle, and colors evenly a brown or black. Any person can easily apply it at home.

Green Infantrymen were always trained in stone throwing.

A Dangerous Cold.

Dear Sirs—My little girl last winter had a very bad cold which almost resulted in the loss of the lungs. After doctoring her with every medicine in the market, and using every remedy, she died. I am now writing to you to tell you of the power of this medicine to prevent such a result, and to cure every case of cold, cough, and asthma, and to strengthen and invigorate the system.

The dry land of the globe equals 55,000,000 square miles, and the area of the ocean 137,300,000 square miles.

Cold and Kidney Difficulty.—Mr. J. W. Winder, J. P., Lawrence, N.Y., writes: "I am subject to severe attacks of Cold and Kidney Difficulty, and find Paroquet Pills most efficient relief, while all other remedies have failed. They are the best medicine I have ever used. In fact so great is the power of this medicine to cleanse and purify, that I distrust almost every name and assure are driven from the body."

M. B. Bleed of Paris has invented an apparatus by which the driver of a vehicle can release a carriage from runaway horses. The action takes place in the traces.

Thousands of lives are saved annually by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. In the treatment of colds and whooping cough, the Pectoral has a most marvelous effect. It cleanses the throat, frees the obstructed air passages, and controls the desire to cough.

St. William Thompson has calculated that the quantity of fuel required for a horse to perform the same service would be no less than 13,500 pounds of coal per hour—equivalent to the work of a steam engine of 63,000 horse power! This enormous expenditure of fuel would be sufficient to melt a thickness of about 40 feet of ice per minute at the sun's surface.

Uric acid in the blood is the cause of nearly all disease. It visits every part of the body and is able to cause disease in any organ. The duty of the kidneys is to extract wastes from the blood; a cold will stop this action, a pain in the back follows, and unless relief is obtained, permanent disability of the kidneys to perform their functions follows, which may terminate in liver complaint, dyspepsia, blood disease, dropsy, diabetes or Bright's disease. Doctor Kidney Pills assist in the removal of uric acid, and cure all complaints and results arising from same.

The recent application of electricity to tanning in France has resulted in reducing the time of tanning a large ox hide from 16 to 18 months in pit tanning, and from five to six months in liquor tanning, to 90 hours in both cases and also does away with continuous hand labor and the disagreeable odor so characteristic of tanneries. Electricity seems in some unaccountable way to accelerate the absorption of

O that dull, depressing headache, That won't wear off; That hawking and this spitting, And this hacking cough, I've lost my sense of smelling, And can't get going, I know catarrh's what ails me, But what shall I do? My hacking and my hawking Keeps up a steady din; I'm haunted by the fear that Consumption may set in. I feel supremely wretched, No wonder I'm blue, I know my health's failing, But—what can I do?

Do? I'll tell you what to do, my friend, I'll tell you what to do a minute. Go down to the drug store and buy Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and take it according to directions given, and you'll soon find that this miserable headache is a thing of the past; the hacking, hawking and spitting, so disagreeable to others as well as yourself, will come to an end, and in a short time you will feel like a new man. A new man—think of that—and all for fifty cents, which is the price of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, the unfailing cure for this terrible disease.

Washington Letter
[From our Regular Correspondent, WASHINGTON, Nov. 18, 1892.]
Very few of the leading Democrats in Washington place any dependence in the assertion of Mr. Cleveland that he will not call an extra session. Senator Carlisle, who was in the city, said yesterday that he did not believe that the President-elect had reached any decision in the matter. A number of the opponents of the extra session idea have urged an argument in support of their position the possibility of the passage by the Senate of the various tariff bills which have been sent out from the House. There are many reasons for believing that this result will not be reached. The passage of these bills at the approaching session of Congress would mean the loss of $30,000,000 to the Government. In the present state of the strained national finances, when the expenses are running ahead of the receipts, it will be impossible for either party to seriously consider such a large subtraction from the treasury. Any view of tariff legislation which would require the passage of the House tariff bills by the Senate is manifestly absurd. In this state of the case the necessity for an extra session is removed. The Democrats are now free to the city realize that an extra session would mean the precipitation of a Speakership fight and would occasion considerable annoyance to President Cleveland, to say nothing of the expense which would be incurred. At the same time a tariff bill must be framed with deliberation and care, and this work, in the opinion of many Democrats, cannot be postponed to soon.

Trade and the Flag.
It would seem as though at times the Government organs were seized with a kind of spasmodic loyalty, and though they fire upon the Union Jack in their protectionist campaigns at home they are inclined to vote in favor of a Canadian policy when the subject is raised in the House of Representatives. As far as possible, the imports from the Mother Country, our restrictionist contemporaries, when they desire England's markets for our own imports, are all compact of natural wool, and with a shout that the trade follows the flag, and what is brought forward in support of their theory that trade follows the flag? The fact that they themselves to their loved best, the Canadian tariff, and the old flag. Oh, no! they simply quote the remarks of somebody who spoke in favor of imperial free trade in conjunction with protection against foreign countries to the effect that "Canada is a natural market for our goods, and the extent of eight dollars per head of our population; Australia, thirty dollars; the West Indies, eleven dollars and sixty-five cents; and Canada, twenty-five dollars." As opposed to two dollars per head, the United States; two dollars and six cents for Germany; thirty-one cents for Russia; sixteen cents for Austria, and so on. This may be very patriotic in appearance, but, carried no further, is entirely misleading; for in the first place, it simply shows, for the most part, that the colonies, with comparatively younger and less developed resources, are not so much to be regarded as products than the older foreign nations. Great Britain does not measure her trade by the amount taken per capital of a population, but by the total sum she exports to each market, and can hardly be expected to do so. Canada takes eight dollars per head against the United States' two dollars, when the total trade is forty millions to Canada and twenty millions to the United States, and fifty millions would be nearer the mark, our custom is worth more than our neighbors'.

When the so-called fair traders argue in favor of free trade, they are in a disconcerting way overlooking the fact that the latter is a British-made product, and that it is not business, and, applying it to the maximum to the present case, when a fair trade is in the first place is not to be kept at that, but to the detriment of his dealings with others, among them perhaps another importer, and all very much larger customers in the bargain. Turning to the British Trade Returns for 1890 we find the total exports of Great Britain to be $33,252,128 sterling, and her imports $43,002,067 sterling, which is equal to the total value of only $94,254,195 and $93,161,285 respectively, the vast remainder belonging to 100 foreign countries. Comment on these figures is hardly necessary, but it certainly does not appear that the "free traders" are in a position to follow that flag policy, especially while the Canadian protectionists do their best to keep the flag from being shot out of her trade. When England gave her colonies the right of self-government in commercial matters it was on the understanding that they were no longer children, but men, and men we could not support without, and there is no reason why this should not be so, if the colonies will only imitate the parent and not delegate to a handful of politicians the management of their national trade and manufactures and hamper their exports by excessive taxation on the imports which pay for the imports. If Canada wants to export more to England, Canada must reduce her tariff on Canadian goods and import more from England. If trade is to follow the flag there should be no protectionist barriers against one another under the name of the flag, but men we could not support without, and there is no reason why this should not be so, if the colonies will only imitate the parent and not delegate to a handful of politicians the management of their national trade and manufactures and hamper their exports by excessive taxation on the imports which pay for the imports. If Canada wants to export more to England, Canada must reduce her tariff on Canadian goods and import more from England. Catarrh Not Local But Constitutional.

Dr. Dio Lewis, the eminent Boston physician, in a magazine article says: "A radical error underlies nearly all medical treatment of catarrh of the bladder. The disease, showing itself in the urine—a Local exhibition of a Constitutional trouble." Therefore he argues, the use of rubric and other local applications is wrong and while they seem to give temporary relief, they really do more harm than good. Other leading authorities agree with Dr. Lewis. Hence the only proper method of cure for catarrh is by taking a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which reaches every part of the body, does eliminate all impurities and makes the whole man healthy. It removes the cause of the trouble and restores the diseased membrane to proper condition. That this is the practical result is proven by thousands of people who have been cured of catarrh by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Bessie" said the young man pleadingly, "This is the fourth time I have called at your home since I saw you last. Is there any way by which I can always be sure of finding you in, or at least of always knowing where you are when I call for you?" "You might ring me up, you know," responded the pretty telephone girl, looking dreamily at her shapely fingers. And he went next day to the jeweller's.

For pity's sake, don't growl and grumble because you are troubled with indigestion. So good was ever elected by doctors and letting. Be a man (unless you happen to be a woman), and take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which will relieve you, whether man or woman.

Adoring Pains Removed.
Gentlemen, I cannot but praise B.B.R. for it has relieved me wonderfully. I was completely run down, had aching pains in my shoulders, a tired feeling in my limbs, nervousness, in fact I was in misery. Being recommended to try B.B.R. I did so, and with the use of only one bottle I am today strong and healthy. I prize it highly.

Towards When in the Dark.
"It has been said that all men are cowards in the dark," remarked Peyton Truitt, when called upon by the Story Teller's Club of the Laclede to do his turn. "I am half inclined to believe the saying true. I was in the British army when a young man, and was stationed for some time in India. Our colonel, an old campaigner who had won his spurs in the Crimea, became involved in a difficulty with a fellow officer who was well high damned with a wife, and a duel was the result. The colonel, being the challenger at party, selected pistols for the war, and elected that the affair should occur in a dark room. We secured a room twenty feet square, closed every crevice that would admit light, placed our men in corner diagonally opposite and with drawn. Each man was provided with three charges, and when these were exhausted we rushed in to gather up the mutilated remains. Each man stood erect and soldier-like in his hand at the head of the agonized husband, and the three bullets holes were by the colonel's pistol. 'How is this?' said a grizzled old major. 'Had you been standing here when these shots were fired you would have been killed.' The culprit was compelled to admit that he had dropped a one knee. 'You are a coward, sir, and unfit for the company of soldiers and gentlemen,' snorted the major. 'Hold on, major, said the colonel. 'It is a stand-off. While he was on his knees in one corner I was on my stomach in the other.'—Globe Democrat.
