CIGAT come to the

100th Birthday

The hundredth anniversary of the Digby Weekly Cower has brought to mind some fond memories at cytained in the following historical chapter of the other. But first, I wish to congratulate the current shows a finer of the Courier, Mrs. J.M. (Edith) Wallis, for a job wall done over the years and still being well done. According to any record. I have at hand, the Digby Courier, in one hundred years of publication, was controlled under the same family management of Wallis Print Limited. The late J.J. Wallis became didner of The Courier, the second time, in 1929, and at the same time of Courier the second time, in 1929, and at the same time of Courier the second time, in 1929, and at the same time of Courier the second time, in 1929, and at the same time of Credits spanes. which he had been running in and which became With between 1929 and 1931

We worked ten-hour days, six days a week.

J.L. and "Mac" sometimes worked overtime. I worked only the regular hours being paid a weekly wage which was comporatively good for those times and my lack of experience. I received four or five dollars a week for working after school hours to six o clock and on Saturday all day, and nine dollars a week for full weeks after finishing school. A two or three follar a week raise was offered to me in the fall of 1925 for me to stay on at printing, but, I had made up my mind to enter a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, starting salary of $500. The bank salary ingred out about the same per hour as for the printing job. This laid out from the water's edge, partie on level of that name. It was settled by Loyalists from New York in 1783, the most of whom went early to farms, or, moving to older countries, left the whole free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students one of which was a J.J.'s' daughter. Florence (now Mes. Melvin O. Tibert, Freeport, Digby Co.) Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters; I had the impression that his man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well. I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print" I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some learning eabout things like embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and trimming paper slock, mixing inks for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "pi", the printers name for a confused mess.

that the town of Windsor was burn- valuables they held as most precious this morning, with the additional intelligence that everything was wiped

The fire began at about 1.30 o'clock Sunday morning. A small house on Water street was the origin and the heavy gale which was prevailing soon fanned the blaze into a roaring, ungovernable mass of fire. From the starting place on Water street it spread over the entire town and the business and residential sections were in an amazingly short time in a seething flame. The scene can be imagined better than described. At such an hour and on such a night the consequences could be nothing less than terto find the very beds in which they were at rest on fire. > The Windsor Fire Department wa faithfully on hand and at work, but the odds were too great, and it was soon seen that the case was hopeless Men turned their attention to an effort to save their families.

It was a sorry beginning of the Sabbath.

It was hoped at first that a part of the town could be saved. But the and they are both gone. banks, stores, offices and factories were one after another laid in ashes. The demon of fire was raging angrica every moment.

Meanwhile the alarm spread to the neighboring towns. The telephone rible. People were aroused from sleep operator went into her office to send a message, became lost in the flames, were soon on the spot, and carried the homeless victims away to places of safety.

Two and a half thousand persons are without homes

Daylight on Sunday showed a chastly scene. The wind was still blowing at a terrible rate, but there was little more damage that it could do. The town was gone. Ruined and homeless. people walked through as much of the streets as were not blocked up with debris and still burning. A few short hours had wiped out many thousands of dollars.

Every church but the Episcopalian is gone; every factory but the Cotton Mill is gone, all the hotels are gone. The College buildings and the Railway station are left and a few houses on the hill, but these are all. The town as an entirety is in ashes, save where a few brick walls still stand.

We cannot at this hour ascertain that any lives were lost. There is a report that six persons were burned, bat whether fatally or, not we cannot learn. Telephone wires are burnt and communication is difficult. There is, however, a large list of injured.

There is not a town in the province whose loss could have more disastrous, results. A large town and admirably laid out, it was one of the most prospersus manufacturing centers, as well as a model residential town. The furniture Factory and Foundry, alone represent a large amount of capital, Happily the college buildings are spared. These historic structures could ill be lost to the province.

The fire is one of the most disastrous n provincial history and the results will be long in working themselves out.

A number of Weymouth people were in Windsor at the time several oung people in attendance at the schools, Mrs. Henry Dakin, and Mrs. G. A. Jordan, of Digby, were visiting Hotel and Professional Cards.

Telephone No. 24 J. L. PHTHRS A GREAT CONFESSION.

We have always been ashamed to admit it and it is only when it is over that we do admit it, that Duffy has never been able to sell Furniture right; consequently she has never had the stock to self (save some very cleap chairs and tables) and the reason for this has been 'that no one person could sell enough to warrant them in buying by carload lots from the large manufacturers, but this is ever in our case for we have extended our business with New Brunswick, establishing agencies in different parts and the result is we buy from the best manufacturers in such quantities as to sompete with wholesale furniture houses in any clay of the Dominion. We expect this week a car load which will include Bedroom Suits from '88 90 and upwards and all kinds of Fruit ure Special prices on lots.
