Story of the Veteran Compiler of Nautical Almanacs.

HOW THE ASTRONOMER PLACES A PATH ON THE TIDES.

WEEKLY PRACTICAL SCIENCE—CAREER OF PROF. SIMON NEWCOMB OF WASHINGTON.

One of the visitors expected in this city next month at the annual convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, is Prof. Simon Newcomb.

He has been in charge of the American Ephemeris, the American form of the Nautical Almanac, on which navigators rely for determining their time at sea, and from that their longitude.

This sort of book is a modern invention, but it has been one of the most striking things to the popular eye to command the study of science.

There is, perhaps, no line of study more purely abstract than astronomy, a sufficient answer to all criticism among hard-headed merchants and legislators on the necessity for providing money for observatories has always been the usefulness of the knowledge to navigators.

The intensely practical side of astronomy has been the chief reason why it has been so successful in obtaining the support of the public.

Astronomy, so far as observation is concerned, is almost entirely a study of positions of the heavenly bodies, and the describing of their positions.

It is the study of the positions of the stars, and the planets, and the moon, and the sun, and the other bodies of the solar system.

THE DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, Oct. 5, 1900.

ELECTRICITY, according to those who delight in figures, is shown to be in its present stage, one of the grave perils of the age. It is certainly a prolific cause of fires and the estimate by insurance men run from 25 to 50 per cent. Last year it is affirmed that the underwriters were able to trace directly to electricity 750 fires with a total loss of $6,000,000.

Electricity destroys not only property but life also. Statistics are being gathered on this subject, but have not as yet been made public. The report of a single day, and it is probably an unusual day for such disasters, showed that sixty persons were killed within twenty-four hours in the United States by accidents for which electricity was directly responsible. One can hardly pick up a newspaper without reading the account of the killing of some one by the falling of a trolley wire or by contact with a line which has crossed another of high voltage. In addition to this, electric wire have become a source of great danger to firemen in the occupation. The network about a burning building, as always liable to come down upon the men who are working to check the flames.

Electrolysis, resulting from the presence of heavy ground currents, is another trouble. Water pipes and all under ground iron and steel work are frequently attacked and slowly disintegrated by the electric power.

But all the disadvantage from the use of this subtle power are of minor importance in comparison with the fact that it has become a menace to be in mind that railroad trains are wrecked occasionally with great loss of life, yet people prefer to travel by rail, although they might walk with greater safety. If no lamps were used, nobody would be killed by the explosion of kerosene gas, but mankind does not therefore go to bed at dark.

Still, there is undoubtedly a great waste of human life through the careless use of electricity. If trolley, telegraph and electric light wires were all underground, which they ought to be, they could not kill people by falling on them. If better methods of insulation were devised and more care taken in the stringing of wires through buildings, fewer fires would result.

The public is beginning to appreciate these facts and to insist on more precaution. Electricity is rapidly getting beyond the experimental stage in which it really has been since its practical uses were first discovered. It is to be expected that the next few years will mark a great advance in the safety of electrical appliances and add greatly to its effectiveness as one of the greatest powers which man has.

At present its power seems unlimited.

—Perhaps it is not generally known that the Sabbath, or day of rest, is necessary to the well being of man, is unknown by the Chinese. It has been said that their backwardness in civilization and general poverty can be traced to the want of a day of rest to the mind and body and that this accounts for their unwillingness, or perhaps inability, to improve their condition with affairs which do not immediately concern them.

This, war in Africa may now be said to be at an end and Lord Roberts is arranging to send the bulk of the troops home. A large number will be required in South Africa to police the vast stretch of country. General Baden-Powell will have charge of that work and already 17,000 troops are being supplied for the purpose.

The number required there will be equal to a good sized standing army.

—It is officially announced that Lord Roberts has been appointed commander in chief of the British army. He will undoubtedly construct a powerful fighting organization out of the material given him.

A Digby Boat Wins.

We copy the following from the Montreal, N. H. Evening Free Press, a recently organized Penacook Lake Boat Club, held its first regatta for the season on Friday afternoon. The winners were W. H. Schur Quicker in Port

ANOTHER BIG ADDITION TO THE DIGBY FISHING FLEET.

The largest and perhaps fastest schooner belonging to the Digby fishing fleet made her first appearance in our harbor on Thursday last week and is now at the Quicker. We refer to the schooner Quicker, which was built in the United States in 1892 from a Havens plan and is considered one of the fastest vessels that ever sailed out of Gloucester, Mass. May, while entering Atlantic harbor, she struck a rock and filled. Only part of the hull was salvaged and the vessel was sold to the Quicker. The Quicker was built by Messrs. D. & O. Sprout, of Digby, purchased the vessel. A diver was employed and after discharging her cargo, she was easily floated and taken to Port Hawkesbury, B. N., where she was placed on the marine railway. After being made as good as new, she was fitted out at Canoe for a bank fishing trip. She arrived here on Thursday of last week in charge of Capt. Stephens, with a crew of 150 men, of cod fish, she was fitting out for the haddock fishery and was commanded by Captain Arthur Longmire. We trust the new vessel will capture large flocks.

Boys' Accident.

Mr. Weston, the popular representative of the Canada Insurance Company, General Insurance Company, met last night at the Town Council room next Monday evening.

There will be degree work in the local lodge of Oddfellows this evening.

The fishing fleet is at the Quicker. It is said that work on Digby's new boat will begin this morning.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new Methodist Parsonage, Prince William street.

It will be completed before cold weather sets in.

It is said several new buildings are erecting at present.

Work on the new school is being delayed on account of scarcity of lumber.

Tuesday and Friday were quiet days at Digby.

The John boat or Suburban train on the above days makes one round trip on the tourist season is over.

It has been a profitable one for Digby.

There is a rumor that many tourists, but it is said they were a small number and that those who came up the line.

Chapman brought a large number of the "Landing Club" to the province this season.

The law is good on people.

Leland House, throughout the United States, has been a popular with the tourists and we trust that the one about to be built here will be equally so.

Mr. Ordle, one of Digby's popular citizens, is visiting in the city.

Rev. F. H. Bales of Canoe will preach at the Baptist church, Sabbath next, 7th inst. Seats for all.

Wedding Bell.

A charming wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Chapman, Esq., on Saturday, Sept. 22nd, when their only daughter, Miss Alice Chapman, was united in marriage to Mr. H. Marshall, of Hill Grove.

The bride was attended by Miss Marshall, of Hill Grove, and the bridesmaids were Misses Marshall, of Hill Grove, and Misses Marshall, of Hill Grove.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. L. Parker, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of guests.

The bride was becomingly attired in a dark, low colored tulle gown, and the bridegroom wore a tuxedo.

The presents were numerous, useful, and elegant.

The bride and groom left for their new home in a carriage, and the guests were entertained to a sumptuous dinner.

The ceremony was a most successful one, and the guests were much pleased.

The bride and groom are now residing at Hill Grove.

Death of Mrs. Hervey.

The death of the late Mrs. Hervey, wife of Capt. Hervey, Digby, was announced on Saturday, Sept. 22nd, after a long illness.

Mrs. Hervey was born in England and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hervey.

She was married to Capt. Hervey in 1860 and they had three children.

Mrs. Hervey was a devoted wife and mother and was much beloved by all who knew her.

She was buried in the Catholic cemetery on Sunday, Sept. 24th.

Digby People Move.

Several changes have recently taken place at Digby, Mr. and Mrs. Jenner have moved to the new house on Queen street.

Mr. and Mrs. Munn have moved to the new house on Queen street.

Mr. George Bice, proprietor of the "Hawthorne" has moved to the new house on Queen street.

Mr. and Mrs. Bice have moved to the new house on Queen street.

Our New Water Superintendent.

As will be seen by the minutes of the Town Council which appear in another issue of this paper, the Council has appointed Mr. A. V. V. as the new water superintendent.

Mr. V. has been in the position of superintendent of streets and water for the town of Digby.

He is a very capable man and is well qualified for the position.

He will take up his duties on Monday, Sept. 24th.

The Baited Louvins.

A cable dispatch, dated London, Sept. 23rd, says: A cable dispatch has been received from St. Michael's, Azores, which states that a life boat marked "Louvin," was found near Ferrara.

The vessel was the "Louvin," a small boat, which was found near Ferrara.

New Barber for Digby.

Mr. J. A. Vantassel, who has returned from his trip to the U. S., engaged while in Portland, Me., Mr. Joseph Townsend, now employed in Mr. Vantassel's tonorial room, Water street.

Mr. Townsend is said to be a first-class barber as well as quite a musician. He will probably play an instrument in Digby's new band.

Appointed Local Agent.

We understand from Mr. G. W. Clements, the traveling agent for the M. Co., that Mr. Chas. Gavel, late of Digby, has been appointed local agent for that celebrated Sewing Machine. He has our best wishes for success in his new line.

Card of Thanks.

Capt. Lord Hervey and family wish to thank their many friends who kindly assisted them through the long illness of their dear wife, Mrs. Hervey, who died on Saturday, Sept. 22nd, also those who have expressed their kind sympathy in the time of bereavement.

Out of Season.

Miss Daisy McKinnon presented us last Monday with a handsome rose full blown, picked from her flower garden. This is certainly remarkable for the month of October.

Barque Inaugural.

The condemned barge Inaugural, referred to in our columns last week, was sold at Annapolis yesterday afternoon and was purchased by Mr. Lantano, of St. John for $225.

Contract Awarded.

A special dispatch to the COURIER announces that the contract for Digby's new post office has been awarded to Mr. Jas. Reed, of North Sydney.

Ploton's New Paper.

We have received this week a copy of the Ploton Courier, a new Canadian paper published weekly which will be published every Thursday by Mr. C. Hamilton, of that town. It is well written, contains good reading matter, and is appreciated by the merchants. It will be seen by the large local advertising patronage. It is singular that it should be named after Digby's old newspaper, but circumstances have conspired to bring it to the same name of the week. We trust, therefore, that it will be a success. It is a paper with better success than the Digby Canadian Printing and Publishing Co. in reference to its eight pages, the Canadian says: "From the paper in the old 'Hanket' form, as we had become used to the same and preferred but circumstances have conspired to bring it to the same name of the week. We trust, therefore, that it will be a success. Plymouth

Capt. Geo. Mallett went to St. John for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McDermott returned to Yarmouth on Saturday.

Sch. Gaselle sailed on the 27th ult., loaded with hard wood for Rockland.

Capt. E. E. Warner returned home from Malden on Wednesday of last week.

Mr. Harry Everett, of Bridgetown, was the guest of his aunt, Mrs. C. T. Warner, last week.

Mrs. H. B. Fitzgerald and Miss Hattie Thorne, of Little River, are visiting their brother, Mr. J. R. Thorne, at Mrs. S. Milbray's.

We regret to hear of the death of Mrs. Louis Conner which occurred on Sunday of last week, after a short illness of pneumonia.

The deceased was fifty-nine years of age and leaves four children, two sons, two daughters and many friends and relatives to mourn their loss.

Just a word about the Plymouth Union Mission will not be out of place at this time. It was organized in July, 1899 and has since that time been doing good work.

The officers are as follows: Mrs. J. R. Gaultier, Supt. and Treas.; Harry D. O'Neill, Secy.; Mr. Thorne, Asst. Secy.; Miss Hattie Thorne, Miss Riel Warner, boys' class and W. M. Warren, girls' class.

Sch. A. B. Parker is loading fish for Portland, Me.

Rev. H. H. Munnay preaches in the Christian Church, Sunday.

Byron Blackford and wife attended the exhibition in St. John.

Sch. Yacht, Capt. Church, Church Sallows, is from haddock fishing.

Mr. A. Handparker has 3 boys, one of which is 6 ft. 6 in. He expects him to weigh 600 lbs.

Some of our people have been up to the wrecked steamer, Newfield getting out at $2.00 per ton.

Mrs. Geo. Casselman has returned home by train, having also been visiting Eld. H. A. DeVoe, of South Rensselaer.

Miss Jennie F. Bell, of Boston, who has been spending the summer with her aunt, Mr. John A. Smith, returned home Tuesday.

Quite a display of hunting was flying through the island to-day in honour of the 10th anniversary of the wrecked Newfield at 9 in the morning.

Every body hopes it may never change again, as it makes so much noise, and a great inconvenience to the people. It was generally midnight when it reached Westport.

Westport.

Accident on the D.A.R.

Word was received here Wednesday of a serious accident which occurred on a D. A. R. special that morning.

Among the men who were on board a construction train in charge of Conductor John Baker of Yarmouth was a young man named Jos. Amio.

Amio belongs to Harlow, a village back of Yarmouth. The unfortunate man fell between the cars, the wheels passed over his body.

Mr. Amio was immediately taken to Yarmouth, and was attended by Dr. W. C. Thorne, who was on duty at the station.

Amio's leg had to be amputated. A telephone message to the doctor yesterday afternoon stated that Amio was dead.

The train was stopped at Yarmouth on yesterday's train and will be interred in the Catholic cemetery.

A despatch from Yarmouth to the St. John Telegraph says: A shocking accident happened this morning at Yarmouth on the D. A. R. ballast train, by which Joseph Amio, son of Isaac Amio, 29 years of age, was killed.

The train was just stopping to unload ballast when Amio was applying the brakes, when he lost his balance and fell under the train.

The body was found lying on the track, and was immediately taken to Yarmouth on a flat car and Doctors Warner, Harris and Putnam summoned.

Wedding Held at Yarmouth

The Yarmouth Herald says: "A quiet home wedding was celebrated at Yarmouth, N. S., on Wednesday, Sept. 27th, at 11 o'clock, by Rev. J. R. Gaultier, officiating."

SLOW STARVATION.
The Condition of These Afflicted With Indigestion.

PLATYSPOND, SICK HEADACHE, OBSTINATE BRUITS AND ERUPTIONS, INFLAMMATION OF THE STOMACH, AND WEIGHT OF THE STOMACH ARE AMONG THE SYMPTOMS.

Dyspepsia, or indigestion, as it is so frequently called, is one of the most serious ailments that afflict mankind. When the stomach loses its craving for food and the power to digest it, the person so afflicted is both mentally and physically in a condition of wretchedness. The symptoms of the disorder are manifold, and among them may be noted a feeling of weight in the region of the stomach, sick headache, offensive breath, a disagreeable taste in the mouth, irritability of temper, disturbed sleep, etc. The condition is in fact one of slow starvation, the blood, nerves and body, and on the first symptoms, treatment should be given. The Williams' Pink Pills should be taken. Mr. William Birt, a well-known blacksmith at Piquet, P. E. I., is one who suffered from dyspepsia, and after many years of the most of similar sufferings, Mr. Birt says: "For many years I was a victim of indigestion, nervousness, depression, palpitation of the heart and other distressing symptoms. My appetite was irregular, and what I ate felt like a weight in my stomach. I was constantly tired, a feeling of stupor or sleepiness, and yet I rarely enjoyed a night's sound sleep. When I would retire, a sleeping sensation would come over me, with pains and fluttering about the heart, and then when I awoke in the morning, I would feel as if I had been up all night. I was continually taking medicine and tried, I think, almost everything recommended as a cure for the trouble. Occasionally I got temporary relief, but the trouble always came back, usually in a still more aggravated form. All this, of course, cost me a great deal of money, and my expenditure seemed useless. I was very much discouraged. One day, one of my neighbors, who had had some experience with the Williams' Pink Pills, advised me to try them, and I decided to do so, thinking nevertheless that it would be but an unhelpful course, or, at best, a great gratification. However, I had only been using the pills a few weeks when I felt decidedly better and began to look brighter. I continued taking the pills for several months, with the result that my health was as good and my digestion better than it had ever been. One of the most flattering results of my treatment was my increase in weight from 125 pounds to 150 pounds. I was more than a year since I had continued to use the pills, and in that time I have not had the slightest return of the trouble. We always keep the pills in the house now, and my family has had no other ailments with the same gratifying results."

These pills may be had from any of our medicine stores, or sent by post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The United States Invaded
A NEW FEATURE TO THE AMERICAN CAMPAIGN.

New York, Sept. 30.—Sexto Lopez, formerly secretary and assistant of General Aguinaldo, arrived here at the invitation of Fisk Warren, president of the Philippine League, to explain to the people the Filipino side of their fight with this country.

Lopez gave out the following signed statement: "My object in visiting the United States is not to interfere in American politics but solely to tell the American people what the Filipinos desire in reference to the future government of our country. This has been said by my coming to America in the interest of certain persons, but I am a Filipino, know no parties in the United States. We have only one desire, viz to seek justice for our country."

"Those who desire to give us justice will not doubt be glad to know the wants and conditions of the Filipinos. All we want is peace with honor to both parties and I hope to be able to show that the conditions of our country are such as to fit us for the maintenance of that independence."

Another Flood.
Austin, Tex., Sept. 24.—Governor Bayers wired tonight to all points north of here warning notices that the most terrible flood in the history of the Colorado river, which flows by this city, is now surging down through the mountain gorges to the northwest of here and is expected at this place by tonight.

DIAMOND DYES
Are the Most Profitable Agents Used in the Home.

No other article used in the homes of the Dominion of Canada are as popular as the Diamond Dyes. These indispensable helps in economical house-keeping make new friends every day. This popularity is gained by the excellence of colors and ease and convenience in the use of these dyes. Just think of it! One package of the Diamond Dyes will color from one to six pounds of good standard shade of the shade desired. This is wonderful when the small expense is considered.

Your last year's jacket, cape, blouse, dress skirt and your children's dress and children's clothes may be soiled, faded and discolored. Buy a ten cent package of Diamond Dyes. You can wash, bleach, and make them look as bright as when new. One effort in this work of true beauty will convince you that Diamond Dyes are money savers to the family.

"Oh, Guy? Elsa started up and away from him, and he sprang to her side in an instant.

"Elsa, it isn't so, I love you," he said, getting her trembling hands in his. "I don't think I have for a long time. And Elsa let herself be drawn into his arms, and listened with hidden face to his pleadings and confessions.

"But uncle Day; what will he say?

she whispered.

To her surprise, Guy broke out laughing.

"He has only himself to blame, he said, if he had let it alone. But I'll tell you all about it, if you'll let me say we're glad, too, we're not brother and sister."

"She must have told him enough to satisfy him, for presently they sat down again, and Elsa heard the story of the Squire's scheme. She was dismayed, though she could not help laughing. Guy was full of youthful triumph.

"I believe you're so glad to tell him, as anything else, said she, with such a reproach.

"He isn't a pretty little fellow."

"I'm not, dear; but I can't help seeing the fun."

They rose on air, so delighted by the happy news, and the Squire

the ingredient of mischief, that even Lady Milwood's serious reception of their news could not discourage them.

"I don't know," said the Squire,

"I don't know," said the Squire,

"I don't know," said the Squire,

"I don't know," said the Squire,

"I don't know," said the Squire,

himself back in his chair till it cracked and groaned. Guy studied up holly.

"I don't understand," he began,

"Very dignified."

"Oh, Guy - don't! you'll make me laugh. The Squire, in a fresh paroxysm that nearly choked him.

"But, what is there to laugh at?

Perhaps I had better go."

"No - stay - my dear boy - it's too delightful. I mean, I'm not done

yet. Oh, dear, I must laugh!"

A cold chill went through Guy,

"I should like to understand you,"

he said laughingly.

"There don't be huffy!" said the Squire, sitting up. "You're just gone and done the very thing - fallen into the trap. Oh, you young simpletons and you think you are so wise!"

Guy stood speechless, hot and cold.

"Begin to understand, eh?" said the Squire, cheerfully. "It's my turn to triumph, isn't it?" The winner from the talk with our old friend go - which I intended you to hear - that last letter that brought you home, it's been all planned thing."

"A planned thing?" repeated Guy helplessly. Then he turned sharply away, and stared out of the window.

It was humiliating - the laugh was with his uncle and he was the disgraceful creature.

"Come, my boy," said the Squire,

following him, and laying a kind hand on his shoulder. "I want to hear a little of the old uncle who wanted

nothing so much as to see his two children husband and wife." Guy stood speechless, hot and cold.

"They'll never have come to it if they had grown up as brother and sister.

I knew you to be rather a perverse creature - you'd be bound to go opposite to where I seemed to lead you to come home; I settled it all with

Lucy, and I came here where you did

"Here!" said Guy, with an uncon-fortable recollection of Lady Mil-wood's favourite post at the window.

Had she been signalling!

"Kiss me, my boy," said the Squire, and he walked in the air into the enemy's camp. What had brought the Squire here? He wondered, as he followed a water upstairs; probably to look at the old uncle who wanted

nothing so much as to see his two children husband and wife."

Guy started away. The Squire

Steele!! I remarked, "What curious coincidence.

"Oh, no," he answered, smiling.

"It is a coincidence," I will tell you the truth. Don't be startled. You are at this moment in Richard Steele's drawing room, on one of Richard

Steele's chairs, drinking Richard

Steele's tea and stirring with Richard

Steele's spoon.

"Impossible!" I exclaimed, with a

A Tragedy for Annapolis Co.

LAWRENCE, Oct. 25.—The little village of North Annapolis, near Annapolis, was the scene of a shooting affray last Friday, which may result in a tragedy.

The injured man is Mr. Charles Shaw, his son-in-law, Grey. During the morning the two men were seen together, and it was known that they were in a quarrel. Shaw, a quarrelsome man, was the aggressor, and he was the one who fired the shot which wounded Grey.

Grey, who was shot in the back, was taken to the hospital, and he is now lying there, his condition being very serious. It is supposed that he will not survive his wounds.

Grey's condition is such that he is not expected to survive his wounds. It is supposed that he will not survive his wounds.

God's Messenger

At the time of the fall,

Wondering if the world of ours

Was worth the living at:

Trying to see the pleasure

Overbalanced in any way.

The path, the sorrow and heartache

That come to us every day.

I tell the stars came peeping

From their hiding place in the sky.

And I told him wings just then,

To be a bird and fly.

And a bird sang out in the darkness.

So near that I felt afraid:

It seemed like a loud voice saying,

"All things will be made new."

If I never would exist,

Should we have to die the flowers?

And I said to myself, "I will not."

Had we never been under the showers?

And so, if we had no sorrow,

Could we know when our joy to part?

And I said to myself, "I will not."

The sweet could we recognize?

If there were no acts of kindness.

If there were no acts of love,

How would we know what we were made for?

When we speak of the world above!

Two sweet angels in the darkness.

And I said to myself, "I will not."

But another angel came and said,

"I will be with you."

And I said to myself, "I will not."

And I said to myself, "I will not."

And I said to myself, "I will not."

And I said to myself, "I will not."

TONS OF COSTLY GEMS

Most Complete Description of the Diamond Mines at Kimberley.

THE ACTUAL WEALTH OF WHICH IS

UNKNOWN—AN ARMY OF LABOR-

ERS KEPT EMPLOYED AND EVERY

PRECAUTION USED AGAINST THE

HOBBY OF DIAMONDS.

The news has just been called around the world that the mines of Kimberley are about to be again in active operation, since the war in the Transvaal has practically come to a close.

These mines are the most marvellous in the world. It is estimated within ten years of diamonds at a value of almost a thousand million dollars, and it is impossible for the average mind to form any idea of what it really means.

Kimberley has monopolized a great deal of attention during the past few years, and it is not surprising that South African war, and with its fortunate name, one is inseparably connected, that of Cecil Rhodes. It was Rhodes, indeed, by one of the most fortunate of the country, Alfred Beit, who wedded together the whole diamond industry of the Kimberley district in the De Beers Mining Company, and formed a corporation, whose grip of Kimberley and its gems is more absolute than any other commercial trust in the world.

What the actual wealth of Kimberley may be no one can accurately guess.

Millions upon millions may be stored away in the offices of the De Beers

Company. No one knows. No secret has ever been better kept. What is known is that the business of the De Beers Company is to keep the price of diamonds up. Once let the supply increase to any extent and prices would drop. Therefore, only a limited number of diamonds find their way into the market each year—their remainder never leaving Kimberley.

Like many other great sources of wealth, the discovery of the diamond mines of Kimberley was due to an accidental discovery. In the late 'sixties,"

James W. De Beers, a British-born man, happened to take shelter one night in a Kaffir kraal. Some of the native children were playing with bits of iron and steel, and they were tracing O'Brien's notice, he offered to exchange a few leads and other trifles for them.

THE DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, Nov. 2, 1900.

A New York paper has the views of a druggist and a physician about the ownership and control of prescriptions. They agree that the person who pays for it has no rights whatever. The druggist says he must keep the prescription for his own protection, and that law recognizes his right because pharmacists have been required to bring original prescriptions on file. The physician says: "The pharmacist should keep the original prescription, as a protection to himself, but he should also give a copy of it to the patient. No prescription should ever be filled from this copy, which should be so designated, and no prescription whatever given by a doctor should be refilled except by his signature, and there should be a law to that effect."

The people of France are reported by cable to be alarmed over the success of the Conservative party in England, and more especially in consequence of the prominent position Hon. Mr. Chamberlain occupies in the Government. The elections are regarded in France as a triumph for Chamberlain and his policy, which is to settle down to business in England and France over Newfoundland. The modus vivendi passed last winter by the Newfoundland Government, has been a success. An attempt to settle the vexed question between England and France? Will there be war over the Newfoundland question?

MAINE is quite a potato state, but there are others. A dozen states raise potatoes. The Maine does, some of them three or four times as many. The potato crop of the United States for 1900 approximates 250,000,000 bushels, of which Maine raises 5,720,000. In 1899 the total crop was 6,525,000, and in 1898 the total crop was 5,925,000. Maine's share being 2,850,000 bushels. This year New York leads with 1,850,000 bushels, and the other states producing more than Maine, are Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska.

The speech recently delivered by a prominent Russian General is causing some excitement in Europe. The speech was delivered on the occasion of the gathering together of a large body of Russian troops which were about to sail for China, and just before embarking on the steamer were recalled. In addressing the troops the General said: "The czar decided that it was necessary to keep you in your own country, so that you will be ready to join us against a foe we shall be ordered to meet. The foe is either Great Britain or Germany."

There are five constituencies in Canada in which the elections will likely be held on a later day than that fixed for the general election. Two of these are in British Columbia, one in Ontario and two in Quebec. The constituencies in British Columbia are Burrard and Yale and Carleton; in Ontario, Algoma; in Quebec, Gaspé and Saguenay and Chicoutimi. For these five constituencies the writs have been forwarded to the returning officers, and they will fix the dates. The statute provides for this.

The Illinois Audubon society is about to checkmate the milliners by securing an amendment to the game laws that shall make it an offence, with penalties, for any one to possess any part of the bird skins now protected by the law. Heretofore some of the milliners have contended that a part of a bird was not a bird, and in consequence have escaped the penalties of the law.

AN exchange says: President Kruger, having shaved so that the British braves could not lodge in his beard, is now growing a new crop. He is not a beautiful object when full bearded, but a man with a beard can wear a soiled shirt longer without observation than one who shaves. Kruger was always economical.

Deserted his Wife
A young man, by the name of Lloyd Borden, of Windsor, N. S. was arrested in Halifax this week by Detective Power, for deserting his wife, Mrs. Borden, wife of the accused, told an interesting story of her married life and the hardships she and her children had had to endure. She accused her living with her wife for a time, met Miss Kate McDonald, Borden and Miss McDonald, who was a widow, Mrs. Borden, left in a destitute condition, started out to find her husband. She was followed by her children. At last she traced him to Halifax, and there had him arrested.

A Serious Charge
Rev. E. C. Burgess, formerly pastor of the Westport Baptist Church, was arrested by Detective Power at Moser's River, Halifax county, on Wednesday, on a warrant charging him with the abduction of an eighteen year old girl whose home is in Dorchester. Mr. Burgess, who was doing missionary work in Halifax County, left the girl in Halifax while he attended his work. She, too, was under arrest. Burgess is 31 years of age, and was, by his last residence, at Wolfville, where he owns a farm. —Tarmouth Times.

Killed on the Rail
James Hayes, a hickman on the Pictou branch train, was killed by a passenger train on Monday morning. He was standing on the cow catcher, riding to the point where he slipped with the result that he was jammed up against the guide rail at the point, and he was crushed to death. It is supposed he was only about five minutes' ride from Pictou. He was about 35 years of age, and belonged to South River, Antigonish.

Don't Crowd.
Don't crowd; this is a large enough
place for you as well as me.
The doors to all are open wide.
The realm of thought is free.
Of all earth's places you are right
To choose the best you can.
Provided that you do not crowd.
To crowd one other man.

What matter though you scarce can count
The things that come to you?
While he can hardly strive to keep Guilt from his door,
Of all the things that come to him,
Alone should men be proud.
Then give him all the room he needs,
And never try to crowd.

Don't crowd; this is a large enough

ENGLAND'S GENERAL.

Incidents in the Life of General
Lord Roberts.

THE COMMANDER HAS FORGOTTEN
FROM A JUNIOR SUBALTERN TO THE COMMAND OF THE ENGLISH
ARMY—HAS BEEN WOUNDED AND HAD HIS HOUSE SHOT UNDER HIM.

From a junior subaltern to command of England's glorious army is a long road, and one that is not often traveled without the influence of a name connected with the nobility or the nobility through the influence, but that it is possible for every soldier of the queen to achieve this distinction is proven by Lord Roberts' promotion.

A little less than half a century ago Lord Roberts entered the British military service in India. True he was not a soldier, but a nobleman, and his service since his birth, for he was born in the army, the son of a soldier, it was not until 1851 that he was commissioned as an officer in the service he had followed so long.

He is a son of Gen. Sir Abraham Roberts, of the Indian service, and was born in 1818. It was as an officer of his father's command that he first entered the military service. Six years after he had entered the service he came to the relief of Strickland in India, and in the campaign that followed the young officer proved himself worthy of the trust placed in him by the government that had commissioned him.

Through the memorable siege of Delhi he served as a lieutenant of artillery, and in the campaign that followed this siege he was wounded and had his horse shot under him. After the fall of Delhi he took part in the campaign for the relief of Lucknow, and also served with distinction in other campaigns during the mutiny.

Acts of great personal bravery were not the exception during those terrible years in India, however, and while he like any number of other officers, was not a soldier, he was a nobleman, and his bravery, it was not until 1860 that he received his promotion to a captain.

In 1867 he left India for a tour of duty in the Indian service, and in 1871 he was promoted to a major.
It was not until the campaign against the Afghans in 1879 that he was given command of a division of the British army, and place him in the list of the century's greatest soldiers.

It was in the Afghan campaign that Gen. Roberts achieved the success that has made his name famous in England, and gave him a title that is the more valued, both by himself and the English people, because well earned, and the men for whom he is working, and the men for whom he is working.

Not matter whether he sympathizes with England's cause in South Africa or not, it must be admitted that the service he has rendered to his country and country entitle him to the promotion he has just received.

ROBERTS' BAKING POWDER.

No other aid so great to the housewife, no other agent so useful and certain in making delicious, pure and wholesome foods, has ever been devised.

There are imitation baking powders, sold cheap, by grocery stores. They are made of alum, a poisonous drug, which renders the food injurious to health.

A Mother's Heart.

A little dreaming, such as mothers know:

A little lingering over daily things.

A little hope, when the dawn breaks

And a little that is all.

A little clinging to the morning breeze:

A little musing over future fears:

A little that says, "Dear Lord, Thou knowest best. Spare my flower life's bitterest rain

And that is all.

A little sighing over the passing years:

A little hope, when the dawn breaks

And a little that is all.

PREY OF THE SEAS.

Thrilling Escape of the Crew of the Schooner Lena Pickup.

THE VESSEL BATTLED ELEVEN DAYS WITH FURY CALS - STRUCK IN THE DARK - BEAT CAPTAIN MATSON ATTEMPTED TO CARRY A LINK ASHORE THROUGH THE SUBMERGED SHIPWRECK.

The three masted schooner Lena Pickup was wrecked on a rocky shore near Black River, fourteen miles from St. John at six o'clock Wednesday morning.

Her crew of six men, one was drowned and the others had miraculous escapes from death.

On the schooner were Captain William Matton, of Lunenburg; Howard Farrell, mate; Digby; Henry Goddard, steward; of Lunenburg; Edward Wilton, seaman; of Lunenburg; William Groves, seaman; of Lunenburg; Stephen Shiffon, a seaman; of Lunenburg; (drowned).

The schooner sailed from Halifax for Port George, N. S., to load eleven days has been battling with gales off the coast of the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

On Wednesday night the schooner was driven ashore between Mippee and Black River. At this point the schooner is a straight cliff, with a ledge of boulders at the base.

It was pitch dark, a thirty mile gale was blowing on shore, and a heavy rain was falling.

The schooner was driven ashore, and the crew was left to their fate.

your nails as long as any other man's. You think of it as a manly instrument. When you trim your nails with the nail file, you hroise them, and of course you make the edges uneven. You should always file your nails. You think it requires too much time, but your objection will be seen to be absurd when you consider that two minutes a day will be long enough to permit you "shape the edges." The scraping of the underside of the nail in order to make it clean roughens it. This makes the white rim that extend a little beyond the finger tips a good receptacle for dust, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. You should always have a blunt instrument for scraping the nails. Purified Beds.

Unpurified beds are a novelty asserted by the Duke of Uzès. It is said that when the ancients had a house party the contrives to find out what is the great friend of Lord Gages, and the admiral of the old world, were not to me and say, "Do you, sir, account of St. Iant's shipwreck?"

"Yes it is the appointed law of the sea," said the admiral, "but it is that if any captain in her service handled his vessel as fast of that ship did he would not court death, nor need he dismissed the stomach."

A Good Stomach.

It is essential to health and happiness to have the stomach for biliousness, and the stomach is the most difficult to remain in the blood clean, healthy and irregular action of the stomach. Dr. Clarke's pills regulate the liver, kidneys and bowels. They clear the blood, and are prompt and lasting cures of biliousness, headache and all kind of a full or slow stomach. Price 25c.

Luey's Troubles.

Janet, in the noble self-humiliation of her confession, in her generosity, was going straight to the core of the matter.

"I am so long ago now, that I am almost a stranger to you," she said.

THE DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER.

Digby, Dec. 7, 1900.

A leading promoter and organizer of trusts is quoted as saying that the recent presidential election in the United States was just as clearly a victory for the trusts, as it was a triumph of sound money, and that it settled the question of free and more restricted combination of capital and corporations for business purposes. This was disputed by the vast number of those who voted the Republican ticket, seeing that trusts were condemned with equal vehemence by both parties. It may, however, be so understood by the money power, which was certainly on the McKinley side in the late contest. Had there not been a more tangible peril in the silver theories of Mr. Bryan, it is probable that the relations of the Republic to trusts would have been different. This subject has been thrust upon in all its bearings, and the conclusion seems to be that there is no legislative check upon the power of the system of free industry, by which such combinations can be prevented or even controlled. Free competition implies combination, and trusts are the natural result of the system of limited liability, by which the whole fabric of modern commercialism has been built up. Vast aggregations of capital are necessary for carrying on the enterprises in which the world is now engaged. Abuses are inevitably where the supreme purpose is profit, but it is not the fault of the system, but of the hour, may trace a beneficent purpose in a movement which now assumes the form of protectionism, yet which, in the end, will rebound to the advantage of the world, if evolution be not interrupted by revolution.

—This situation in China continues to be a puzzle to everyone, not excepting the persons who are actually engaged in the operations. In China, all through four or five great nations are included in these operations, they seem to be running them to a large extent without any method or regular program. We hear of expeditions going here and there, and of Chinese being killed and property looted, but there seems to be no prospect of an end being reached, at least an end that will be satisfactory. It is evident that the powers have gone into this Chinese business for very different reasons. The object of Great Britain and also the object of the United States would seem to be to have the country pacified and commerce restored as quickly as possible. The object of Russia, however, is to break down the power of the allies may become dispossessed with their work, and Russia's position be strengthened. In this of course Russia is aided by the German and Japanese, who are going in for glory and revenge, and although the German parliament appears to be likely to condemn the policy of the German Empire, it is supported by the Emperor himself, it will probably be maintained. It is very unfortunate that the powers have taken no action to combine for any useful object in China, and we think it will be some time before Great Britain will again allow herself to be involved in such a Chinese puzzle as the present one.

—The fate of the message of President McKinley which will reach the people of the United States, which relates to the Alaska boundary, the president is anxious that the boundary question should be settled as soon as possible, and that if the government of the United States is willing to refer the matter to arbitration, a conclusion will soon be reached. Canada has always been willing to arbitrate, but it has been otherwise with the United States.

The good relations that exist between the United States and Great Britain are prominently referred to in the president's message, and the slight difficulties which arose during the war in regard to the carrying of seals to the Canadian are lightly passed over. It is evident that the present condition of amity is one that is quite as satisfactory to the American government as it is to that of Great Britain.

The demand for authority to enlist 100,000 men, which is based on the need of keeping an army of 60,000 men in the Philippine Islands, will interest the American taxpayer, and give him a clearer idea of the cost of glory and a vigorous foreign policy. On the whole the president's message is a sensible and satisfactory state paper, and there can be no serious objection taken to it.

—The following paragraph reprinted from the Digby correspondent to last week's Weymouth Free Press deserves special attention:

A Yarmouth man, a Prince Edward was several hours late on the return trip on Wednesday. The vessel was delayed because the Yarmouth man had several bags of sealion blubber on board. The sealion blubber was found to be of the highest quality and was sold at a high price.

The correspondent evidently wished to inform that the sealion blubber was of the highest quality and was sold at a high price. The sealion blubber was found to be of the highest quality and was sold at a high price.

The Storm at Digby

HIGH TIDES CAUSED CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE ALONG THE WATER FRONT.

A north-easterly gale accompanied by heavy rain and high tides prevailed here from Tuesday evening until early Wednesday morning. Considerable damage was done along the water front. The J. L. Peters' wharf was entirely destroyed. The waves also smashed in the back door and windows of his furniture warehouse, but fortunately no goods were damaged.

Water broke over the front street on Tuesday night, and the sea was up owing to a considerable amount of driftwood which the waves pointed heavily against their foundations. It was difficult to take the shipping at the wharves.

The schooner Silver Cloud, which was sailed up at the wharves, dragged off shore quite a distance. The yacht Cynthia, owned by Mr. & Mrs. J. L. Peters, parted her bow line and swung around with the sea. No damage was done to the ship or the boat. The high wind crossed nearly all the telephone lines around town and telegraph communication was cut off from the outside world. The only communication was by the Valley Telephone Co. messengers, arrived here Wednesday afternoon and soon had the Digby wires in first-class shape.

The S. S. Pioneer did not leave St. John for Digby, it being too rough to cross the bar.

The Yarmouth-Boston boats experienced rough weather. The S. S. Boston was blown off the coast of Yarmouth, under the command of Mr. S. S. Prince Arthur did not arrive until 11:30 Wednesday evening.

The schooner Silver Cloud, which was sailed up at the wharves, dragged off shore quite a distance. The yacht Cynthia, owned by Mr. & Mrs. J. L. Peters, parted her bow line and swung around with the sea. No damage was done to the ship or the boat.

Good Enough

When a thing gets to be good enough it is hard to find anything better. Jenner's Headache Cure is good enough.

And that is not all. It is so easy to take. Just a little tasteless wafer, that slips down your throat almost before you realize it. No bad taste, no bad smell, no bad, throat-burning capsules. But it DOES THE WORK QUICKLY and it is safe.

Most people keep a box in the house all the time so they will be ready to drive away headaches.

You can never tell when a headache is "going to come," but if you have Jenner's Headache Cure you can tell just when it is "going to leave."

Jenner's Luna Fruit Tablets in a good laxative, it helps the wafer to get their work in. Price 40 cents per bottle.

Under the Straits of Gibraltar. FRENCH ENGINEER BELIEVES HE CAN CONNECT EUROPE AND AFRICA BY RAIL AT MODERATE COST.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The state department has received a report from a French engineer, M. Berlier, who has been in the Straits of Gibraltar, claiming that it presents no insurmountable obstacles to the construction of a railway across the Straits of Gibraltar.

On the other hand, Mr. Murphy, states that the ventilation of a submarine tunnel and removal of the constantly accumulating water is very formidable and expensive obstacles to be overcome.

Nevertheless, Mr. Berlier believes that by a secret process of his own, he can keep the water out of the tunnel and keep the cost of the work at a figure which would make the project a profitable enterprise at St. Gothard and Aigle, or St. Gothard and Aigle.

THE DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER.

Digby, Dec. 14, 1900.

Among our Advertisers.

A WORD ABOUT DIGBY'S UP-TO-DATE NEWS.

Messrs. Burnham & Holdsworth, proprietors of the Central Grocery, have doubled their advertising space this season. They are doing this to give the public a better chance of getting the goods for the Christmas trade.

Messrs. Fairweather Bros., our leading meat merchants, are among our regular advertisers. They believe in keeping abreast the times, and with their telephone connection and delivery team, are able to handle their large Christmas business in first-class style.

Mr. C. F. Dunham has more than doubled his advertising space, having at present a half column. He has thoroughly renovated the interior of his store and it presents an attractive appearance in the new coat of paint and handsome ceiling. Mr. Dunham, at this time of year, makes a specialty of children's toys and games, and we are safe in saying that he has the largest assortment in this line of any being shown in this county. Instead of the Santa Claus attraction in his window, which was the feature last season, he will, this year, have a large display of the latest toys with holiday gifts.

Mr. J. L. Peters' dry goods and grocery business is well known to require any special notice. He has the largest and best equipped store in the county, and with his large assortment of holiday goods and grocery staff of clerks, we know that he will get a big share of the Christmas trade.

Mr. J. E. Saunders' millinery establishment is displaying a large and well selected line of holiday goods. The windows are tastefully trimmed and the whole store presents a holiday appearance.

Mr. T. W. Mudge, our popular meat merchant, has a change of ad. in this issue, and is very busy in his tailoring department as well as handling a large quantity of game fowls in our harbor. Mr. J. Chalmers, Druggist, is advertising Christmas goods in this issue. He has been one of our regular advertisers for many years, and his store, at a large business throughout the town and county.

We referred last week to Mr. J. A. Clinton's new advertising space. He is prepared to handle the Christmas trade in the confectionery and the fruit line.

Mr. J. H. Bell, proprietor of the Digby Boot and Shoe Store, has an interesting advertisement in this issue. He handles a large assortment of foot-wear and always makes special cash discounts for the Christmas trade.

Mr. Edmund Jones, apothecary, is one of our life advertisers, who keeps fresh reading matter in his regular "space." He makes a specialty of his own preparations and informs the COURIER representative that he believes in the use of patents. His sales are continually increasing.

Mr. G. L. Lexton, who has purchased the entire stock remaining unsold, Wednesday evening, of Messrs. F. M. Lexton & Co. He has a large advertising space in this issue.

In the Lexton House will also be found the New High confectionery store. Mr. O. H. Warr is the proprietor of this establishment, and is better prepared than ever to cater to his large holiday trade. Mr. Warr manufactures a fine quantity of his goods. He also handles Gansong Bros. G. B. Chalmers, who will pay to read his advertisement, which appears in another column.

Mr. Russell, who is in charge of Mr. B. T. Warr's branch store at Digby, reports business good. He is making a special offer in his ad. this week, which will no doubt help to increase the trade in the grocery department. Mr. Russell believes in cash sales only, and often refuses a sale where he is asked to run an account.

Mr. H. G. Turnbull, of the Smith and Groceries, is a regular advertiser. His change of ad. did not reach us in time for this issue.

Death at Digby.

MR. WALTER E. STEWART SUDDENLY EXPIRED MONDAY AFTERNOON.

We regret to chronicle this week the death of Mr. Walter E. Stewart, who died suddenly at his home on the Bay Road Monday afternoon. Mr. Stewart has been down with illness of long standing, and his death was the result of heart trouble.

Mr. Stewart was a well known and respected citizen of Digby, and had reached the age of 50 years, and was the youngest son of the late Henry Stewart, Esq., United Empire Loyalist, who lived in Digby during 1783 and was many years deputy sheriff for the western district of Annapolis county which comprised the townships of St. Clements, Falmouth, Digby, Weymouth and Clare.

The deceased married Louise, only daughter of Capt. Jas. F. Raymond, who with one son and four daughters survive him.

Two half-brothers, Susan, widow of the late W. H. Dakin, of Digby, and two sisters, Mrs. Geo. E. Corbett, of Annapolis, and Mrs. W. Wood, of this town, are among the survivors.

The funeral, which was well attended, took place yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by the Rev. F. J. MacFarlane, of the Digby Baptist Church. The Communion extends its deepest sympathy to all who have been saddened by the loss of a relative and friend.

Entertainment for Tourists. Many additional accommodations will await the arrival of next season's tourists. Several summer hotels will be enlarged, and other improvements made for the entertainment of guests. With another excursion steamer in our harbor, the Digby Cornet Boat, the International Yacht Race, as well as local races, the golf links, new park, improvements on the public grounds opposite the Maritime Hotel, and many other new features, Digby should entertain her visitors in the best style.

The principal thing that should receive the attention of the public is first-class sewerage. One main along Montague, Water and Birch streets, emptying in one or two places at low water mark, would prevent small private sewers from emptying on our beaches in various places along our waterfront. The principal thing that should receive the attention of the public is first-class sewerage.

Mr. Cann, of Yarmouth, owner of the tug Maria and several other steamboats, including the large freight steamer Usher, now under construction on the Clyde, has recently purchased the property near the government pier and will have a large wharf there next spring, containing coal sheds and two boat offices. At the end of the wharf will be a slip, where small steamers can float at low water.

It is said that his steamer Nevada will run excursions on our harbor next summer. This sort of thing has been much needed in the past, and we do not doubt Mr. Cann's enterprise will be much appreciated by our citizens.

Arch Connors and John West, two colored men, were arrested Wednesday evening by Chief Police Bowles, Constable Miller. It is said that the two prisoners opened a D. A. R. box car Tuesday evening, which was at the downtown station, and took from there two barrels of flour belonging to Mr. H. T. Warr. Their examination will take place to-morrow morning at the court house.

Recovering Slowly. Corp. Fred W. Coombs, brother of Mrs. Geo. W. Coombs, of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Netley, Hants, England, to a friend at St. John, that he is slowly recovering, and although he is allowed to be up three hours daily, he can rarely stand more than two, owing to extreme weakness. As soon as possible he expects to take a trip through England and Scotland and return to St. John.

Since the big coal strike ended the demand for hard coal has been so great that dealers are having much difficulty in obtaining sufficient supply. Demanders are very scarce and prices are high. This week all the dealers in St. John were out of the smaller sizes, stove and out. A large number of vessels with coal on board but the weather has been so bad that they are making very long trips.

Free Xmas Confectionery. With our annual Xmas sale we will again present this year each customer who spends $1.00 or upwards with us, with a box of choice Xmas confectionery. Visit our store and buy something useful in Footwear for a Xmas gift and get a box of candy, free.

OF A LOCAL NATURE.

Little Paragraphs Which Tell of the News Round About Town.

NEWS GATHERED DURING THE WEEK AND RECORDED IN BRIEF FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE PUBLIC.

The merchants of Digby intend keeping their stores open every night next week.

They will also be open Monday evening, December 24th.

Mr. C. Jamison, local agent for the Annapolis & Crown Insurance Co., has our thanks for a pretty calendar. It has a number of memoranda for office use.

The S. S. Prince Rupert, which arrived here on time Monday did not leave for St. John until 7.30 Tuesday morning, owing to the rough weather which prevailed.

The Digby Baptist Sunday School is a successful one. A concert on Sunday evening, Dec. 22nd.

A tea meeting will take place at the Marlborough on the 21st, which will be a favorite affair in winter.

See ad. in another column.

Considerable extra space has been crowded out this week, and our editorial matter has been crowded out.

Our advertising columns contain much interesting reading matter.

A change of ad. for the South and West will be received yesterday, will appear next week.

Business Boom at Barton.

To the Editor of the Courier:

Dear Sir:—Will you kindly allow me a little space in your valuable paper to tell Digby county what is going on in Barton? It is supposed to be the coming under the heading of the "Barton Boom" at about a 1000 ft. level, that is taking place in that pretty village. The property known as the Barton Boom, now belongs to a very energetic man, Messrs. H. T. Warr, John Balser and Wm. DeLong, all of Digby county, with Goldsmith Bros, to manufacture their lumber with their steam sawery mill.

Mr. B.M. Goldsmith is rather an expert in sawing lumber to suit the markets of the world. It was on the 12th of November, 1900, that three men might have been seen standing their way to Barton. The parties were Messrs. Goldsmith Bros, and Mr. John Balser, the respected foreman of the company, to commence operations in the heart of the forest.

The road was used by the family of parties sixty or seventy years ago. Mr. Goldsmith's men have got a fine boarding place at Mr. E. G. Warr's, and made their men at home. Foreman Balser's men feel at the Barton Boom, so well and favorably, that they have decided to stay. The kind homes made the men feel at home. Tuesday we called the roll and out for the road from the mill. There were one man and a half from the mill, and one man from the mill.

The next work was to cut out the road and clear the ground for the mill. The building is 22x44, and is a very fine building. In six days Goldsmith's men have built their kitchen. The next building was a store for the mill. The building is 34x32 feet to accommodate eight yoke of oxen and one horse. It was completed in about a week of time and now the dumb beasts are well cared for. The next building was a store for the mill. The building is 34x32 feet to accommodate eight yoke of oxen and one horse. It was completed in about a week of time and now the dumb beasts are well cared for.

Mr. Balser's kitchen, built after his orders to accommodate forty men, was completed in about a week of time. It is a very fine building. In six days Goldsmith's men have built their kitchen. Baby's Crocheted Mittens

A baby's crocheted mittens for which the designer gives instructions, requires as materials, one skein of white cotton yarn and a skein of pink silk or cotton yarn. Begin with a chain of 10, joined to form a ring. Make a h. d. in each of the 10 loops, and work 10 rows around the mittens, and work 10 rows around the thumb and index portion and then narrow off for the end. Take up 4 st. for the thumb and work 10 rows until it is the desired length, narrowing the end quite sharply. Finish the wrists with a row of shells and edges them with a row of pink. The mittens may be made any size and is easily worked.

The King of Corn Cakes

At Father's Palace Corn Extract, brewed by secret process, is a most valuable and unparelleled, holding a place in this country equal to its popularity in the United States. It is sold by all druggists or sent by mail to R. C. P. & Co., Kingston, Ont., on receipt of 25 cents.

Always Useful

A pretty and useful footstool is made of a board cut the proper size and shape, with four self fasteners fastened on the under side of the board for it to stand on. Cover the top with several thicknesses of old quilt, or with hair cloth as is used in a mattress, but of good, hard ticking, or other heavy goods, and tack down smoothly all around. Over this put a cover of plush or broadcloth, and finish with fringe fastened with brass headed tacks. This is very strong and durable, and can be worn out, it may be taken off and replaced by a new one.

Baby Humors—H. Agnew's Ointment

Agnew's ointment, which is a most valuable remedy for all the ailments of infants, is sold by all druggists or sent by mail to H. Agnew & Co., Kingston, Ont., on receipt of 25 cents.

Kissing Under the Mistletoe

While we must thank the Druids for suggesting the mistletoe as a Christmas decoration, we are not indebted to them for the pretty custom of kissing under the mistletoe. That had its origin with the ancient Babylonians. The Babylonians, however, did not restrict the license of the mistletoe to mere kissing. A man who was fortunate enough to kiss a woman under a suspended branch of this mystic plant was privileged not only to kiss her, but to take her to his home, and to have her as his wife for the rest of his life. The old historians that of those days took very kindly to the custom.

Storm on American Coast

CHATHAM, Mass., Dec. 21.—One of the worst storms of the season is prevailing here to-night, the wind blowing from the east at a velocity of fifty miles an hour. Fortunately, but few vessels have been out, and the few that have been out, have been blown back before doing much damage. The few vessels that have been out, have been blown back before doing much damage. The few vessels that have been out, have been blown back before doing much damage.

Woman Doctors

Since 1852, when for the first time two women obtained medical degrees, the number of those who have fully qualified themselves as physicians has steadily and largely increased year by year. Now there are a number of medical appointments held by women in England, Scotland and Ireland, and women doctors are to be found in all quarters of the globe—in Egypt, Australia, India, Ceylon, Jamaica and Tangier.

Live Longer Than Men

Women live longer than men. Statistics of the various countries are remarkable on this point. In Germany many 113 out of 1,000 males, reach the age of fifty, while more than 300 out of 1,000 females reach that age. In the United States there are 2,538 females to 1,035 males. In France, of 100 males, seven are women and only three men. In the Empire of 21 centuries, 19 are women.

U.S. Cruiser Ashore

MANILA, Dec. 21.—The United States cruiser Albany, while returning from Sulu Bay, a few days ago ran aground on a reef which had not been charted and for a time her position was perilous. With high water, however, she slid off and proceeded without having suffered any serious damage.

Little but Searching—Dr. St. John's

Agnew & Co., Kingston, Ont., on receipt of 25 cents.

The Bedroom

The simplest and most economical plan for purifying the air in bedrooms, is to place a few drops of Agnew's Life Pills on a small dish, and place it in the room. The pills will evaporate, and the air will be purified. This is a most valuable remedy for all the ailments of infants, is sold by all druggists or sent by mail to H. Agnew & Co., Kingston, Ont., on receipt of 25 cents.

Dr. Chamberlain's

MANILA, December 18.—The home-ward movement of the U.S. volunteer ship, the Albany, which was sent to Sulu Bay, a few days ago ran aground on a reef which had not been charted and for a time her position was perilous. With high water, however, she slid off and proceeded without having suffered any serious damage.

The French Building Air Castles

The French are still building air castles in regard to invading England, and think that such is possible. Now that that country is excited over the visit of Old Kater, it is in all probability that the speech made by Gen. Mercier before the French Senate was done to cause trouble. Protests were raised, and M. Lanesman, minister of marine, followed the President's speech, and the motion was out of order in the present debate, by declaring amid cheers that the Government could not possibly accept it.

But such an idea of invading Eng.

But such an idea of invading England is impossible. The late Gen. Molke, the great German general, is credited to have said in regard to this matter, "that he didn't think it at all impossible to get an army into England, but he could not see a way of getting out after they got in."

General Mercier in speaking, asks the Government to introduce into the army mobilization plans, methods for the rapid embarkation and debarkation of an expeditionary corps to invade England. If they intend to make the invasion all that will be necessary is to have some one to look after the embarkation as the British have done, we would advise him to read Bonaparte's invasion into England, and to solve the problem of getting his corps back to the shore, again, that it is successful in entering England.

Bright's Disease! Insidious!

Deceptive! Relentless! has fallen upon the people of this country. It is a most valuable remedy for all the ailments of infants, is sold by all druggists or sent by mail to H. Agnew & Co., Kingston, Ont., on receipt of 25 cents.

Holder For Hatpins

One of the latest devices in fancy work is a holder for the always necessary hatpin. Cut a triangular piece of cardboard for the hatpin, and cover it with silk or satin. Cut another triangular piece of lighter cardboard or crinoline about twice as wide, but the same length. Cut this also with silk, and cover it with a different material. The holder is made by gluing the cardboard to the crinoline, and the hatpin is held in place by the cardboard.

Steel Ship-Building For St. John

It has been reported in Montreal that Mr. Charles Burrell, of Weymouth, who in connection with the late Mr. Burrell, promoted the steel ship-building plant at St. John. It is estimated that he has the support of the Whitney syndicate.
