Welcome to the Digital DIGBY COURIER

1877-1978

100th Birthday

The hundredth anniversary of the Digby Weekly Courier has brought to mind some fond memories as contained in the following historical chapter of the writer. But first, I wish to congratulate the current editor of the Courier, Mrs. J.M. (Edith) Wallis, for a job well done over the years and still being well done, good service rendered with great fortitude.

According to any record, I have at hand, the Digby Courier, in one hundred years of publication, was controlled under the same family management for 42 years, 1931 to 1973, under the control of Wallis Print Limited. The late J.J. Wallis became editor of The Courier the second time, in 1929, and at the same time of the business, which he had been running for some time previously and which became Wallis Print Limited sometime between 1929 and 1931.

I well remember the last year of the twenties when I worked in the office of the son with the husband and father of the late J.J. Wallis, the Courier. Sometime in 1928 or early 1929, the late J.M. Wallis (Mac), son of "J.J." engaged me to work every day after school hours, Saturdays, and for some months after full time. The place of work was in the building of the present Digby town hall on First Avenue. J.J. Wallis then worked occasionally at the print shop but mostly across the street at the Courier office which was then located on land in the general area where The Royal Bank of Canada is now.

Wallis Job Print operated in 1929 with a staff of four consisting of J.J. Wallis, J.M. Wallis, Miss Eva Haynes, who later became Mrs. George Kicup, and myself. I was in the staff in early 1929.

Eva's job was in the left up-stairs. "J.J." occasionally printing plant but mostly at the Courier office. "Mac" worked nearly full time at all the different jobs at the Job Print, and I worked at various duties, most of the time being spent at operating printing presses.

We worked ten-hour days, six days a week. "J.J." and "Mac" sometimes worked overtime. I worked only the regular hours being paid a weekly wage which was comparatively good for those times and my lack of experience. I received four or five dollars a week for working after school hours to six o'clock and on Saturday all day, and nine dollars a week for full weeks after finishing school. A two or three dollar a week raise was offered to me in the fall of 1929 for me to stay on at printing, but I had made up my mind to enter a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, starting salary of $300. The bank salary figured out about the same per hour as for the printing job. Nevertheless, the congenial atmosphere of the printing plant those days, and, experience however short, were helpful and appreciated by me.

"J.J." was very jovial in his occasional trip to the Job Print and did considerable kidding all in good fun. "Mac" was a witty person who mixed in a good natured sarcasm now and then for one reason or another. Eva most always had good answers to all the kidding she was called upon to take, and, generally held her own in a quiet sort of way, always busy setting type. We four all got along very well indeed. However, I do remember that some days did seem long and weary because of the monotony of some repetitious jobs.

In spite of the great demand for printing those last boom days of the twenties, business generally being brisk, it looked to me that people had to work long and hard to make any decent profit. There was including treatment of the hands. However, nails and finger ends were used and I was soon back to work.

Now and then a printing job had a dose on parchment paper which required a special kind of printers' ink which smelled very bad those days. I always dreaded it when "Mac" would do that job on the largest press, in spite of the fact that we always opened an outside door to lessen the effects on the constitution.

One of the jobs I had to do, being the junior and printers' devil on the staff, was to clean up now and then. One day not long after I started my job at the printing plant, I decided to clean the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned in some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily, he thought the remark pretty good and suitable.

Sometimes the gasoline engine or a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and after "Mac" the fix-it man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results, "Mac" would then stand back and cuss quite strenuously, then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of cussing."

On other occasions when some gadget refused duty for me and, seemed to be broken, "Mac" would say, "use a little oil," and sure enough, often that is all it took. How often since, have I thought of the value of that remark and the actual need of "oil" in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and, in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I told "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1929 got together just before dark one evening and decided to initiate the newly built outdoor Pines Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just east of the pool; nobody else seemed to be around except the four boys; no thought or time for bathing suits up to the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in, the rest quickly followed and across the pool they swam. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Scouts Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the four? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars (second world and Korean), was awarded the Victoria Cross; Sidney L. Smith, now prominent druggist for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale lobster king merchant; and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day "Mac" said to me "how about writing your version of the story told about 'The Marooning of Jerome'." I had heard and read at least two somewhat different stories about the man who was found marooned on a beach at some point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Digby County. When found this man's tongue had been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome" appeared to have been a man of some considerable social standing and possibly of some considerable wealth. However the only thing the man could or would ever say after being found and cared for by some family in the French shore was, something that sounded like the word "Jerome". He either could not, or, would not, write anything about who he was or why he was left the way he was. Well, it was, and is, one of Digby County's mystery stories, and, different ideas have been expressed over the years concerning this man. However my response to "Mac" was, I felt no urge to write anything more or different about this man. The mystery seemed to have been very well explored in the mind of many people, and, he was a sort of curiosity for many people who visited where he lived in many years.

Three years later I was quite a bit older and was in the street that I lived back and forth, I had a boat clanking noise, powered by a small engine, and I was a "plur", and as I remember it, I was a "plur". "J.J." was noted for his sense of humor and his sense of humor.

Digby 172 Years Ago

Compiled by David Sanford

From the files of the Courier of January 23, 1867, the following account has been copied concerning Digby in 1800.

"Among a number of old newspapers kindly sent to us by friends is a copy of the Saint John Gazette of May, 1802, says the Telegraph and among other advertisements contained in the issue before us is one describing the town and township of Digby, and offering for sale certain lots in the town. In this area we are told the township of Digby extends from the Gulf of Annapolis westward to the extremity of the province of Nova Scotia, and contains about 130,000 acres." The town plot is thus described:

"The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles across land from the head of St. Mary's Bay. This laid out from the water's edge, partly on level ground and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect, a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in where it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth of that name. It was settled by Loyalists from New York in 1783, the most of whom went early to farms, or, moving to older countries, left the whole side to be bought proved by about who now reside detached, built dwellings with orchards, and some fishery and. It has communal parts of the communal provisions in a cheap, built readily to be from many circumstances, probability of place of some shipbuilding, the West India a cheap and of residence.

This advertisement, dated at Digby, December, 1800, were to be a No. 100.

free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students one of which was "J.J.'s" daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Melvin O. Tibert, Freeport, Digby Co.) Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters; I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print". I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like: embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and trimming paper stock, mixing inks for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "pi", the printers name for a confused mess.

There was a taste of trying to sell job printing outside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried it, made several calls around town, spent most of the time at one particular house, and got an order, but,

THE DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, January 3rd, 1908.
LIFE SAVING POWER BOATS.

The first life saving power boat along the Atlantic sea board was one fitted out and used at Westport, Brier Island, by the authority of Mr. Parsons, of Halifax, the Nova Scotia agent of Marine and Fisheries. This boat has proved a success and been the means of saving property on several occasions.

Power life saving boats on Canada are now beyond the experimental stage and will no doubt become a regular feature at the larger life saving stations at least, if not at the smaller ones.

The United States authorities were not slow in introducing gasoline power among their enormous fleet of life saving boats. A dispatch from Chatham, Mass., says:

"The efficiency of the Life Saving Service along the coast, having considerably strengthened by the placing in commission of power life boats, the success of this means of reaching vessels in distress through tumbling seas, which boats manned by our men would have been lost, has been effectively proved within the last year and the department has already authorized the establishment of several additional boats on the New England Coast."

We think, however, that a number of Canadian engineers are still more or less sceptical and that the American engines, on an average, are far more reliable and in every case develop the horse power for which they are rated, while the Canadian engines have in many cases fallen far short of the power for which they were sold.

This deception, although perhaps not intentionally, has done much to discourage the sale of Canadian engines among our fishermen and yachtmen, the majority of whom now favor the machines built in the United States.

A Change in Business.
As will be noticed by referring to our advertising columns, a change in management in the firm of Dakin Bros., although there is no change in the name of the firm, perhaps a little establishment might be interested to know that the name of Dakin Bros. (more than 25 years ago), Messrs. Charles A. and Henry W. Dakin, has been changed to the name of Dakin Bros., consisting of Messrs. Charles A. and Henry W. Dakin, who did business on First Avenue (known as the old site) in the building now used as an electric light station.

Messrs. Dakin Bros., leased the present building which the firm now own and occupy. Their business has been steadily increased until they practically did all the business in their line in the town. In April 1907, Mr. C. A. Dakin, brought out his brother's interest in the firm and a new firm, H. W. Dakin, carried on a plumbing business in the Dillon block. He afterwards moved to the Western Canada Hotel. Mr. C. A. Dakin's son Fritz in the meantime married the daughter of Messrs. Dakin and his father-in-law, like the man who taught him, a good salesman, a well informed hardware man with excellent business qualities and a careful buyer. By paying strict attention to honest dealing and the liberal use of printers ink, the two of them, with their employees, have worked up a business that is a credit to any firm and have today one of the most attractive and best kept hardware stores in the maritime provinces.

Jan. 1, 1908, Mr. Dakin took in partnership with him his brother-in-law, a young man above referred to, and we believe the present firm will do even a bigger business in the future than they have done in the past.

They have the confidence of the people, the right kind of goods to sell, and a host of friends in Digby and throughout the community who will join the latter in wishing the new firm every success.

A TRULY IDEAL WIFE

HER HUSBAND'S BEST HELPER

Vigorous Health is the Great Source of Power to Inspire and Encourage All Women Should Seek It.

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this century, in a recent article, has said, "Whatever I am and whatever money I have attained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration, and the greatest helpmate of my life."

Mr. Basil Anley

To be such a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, to inspire him to make the most of himself, should be a woman's constant study. It is not a matter of chance, but of skill, for the wife who gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has headache, nervousness, irritability, and the blues, she should at once take the most reliable of all remedies, a tonic with specific powers, such as Dr. F. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Following is a letter, by request, a letter from a young wife:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as if how few women ever have, with nervousness, headache, nervousness, irritability, and the blues, she should at once take the most reliable of all remedies, a tonic with specific powers, such as Dr. F. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bear River.

SPECIAL TO THE COURIER.

BEAR RIVER, JAN. 3, 1908.

Mr. James Hancock left for Boston Wednesday.

Mr. F. B. Miller returned to Boston, last Saturday.

Mr. Valere, Anthony, arrived from Boston, Sunday.

Miss Margaret M. Harris returned to Greenfield, Mass., last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dunlop, of Newville, spent Christmas with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Phinney.

Mr. and Mrs. Brock and daughter Lena and Vera, of Bridgewater, N. S., spent Sunday with their brother, L. J. Brooks.

Stunt, Ross River, Yarmouth, arrived from St. John, Sunday and sailed again Tuesday morning for Clementsport and Digby.

Messrs. Hendry, Leeson and Parker, with a full survey party, started Tuesday on the preliminary survey of the Bear River Goldmine.

Do you know the world is full of kindness that is never spoken, and that is not much better than no kindness at all. The fuel in the stove makes the room warm, but there are great gifts of fallen trees lying on rocks and tops of hills where nobody can get them; those do not make anybody warm. You must freeze to death for want of love in plain sight of these fallen trees, if you had no love in your heart, you would be making a fire with it. Just so in a family; love is what makes life pleasant and happy. If it were a crime, it would not be happier than it is for that was not any love among them; the house still would be cold, even in the summer, and the life of the family would be a life of suffering.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Hamilton, a daughter.

Christina passed very quietly.

Capt. Herbert Wain's family are all well.

We wish all the readers a bright and prosperous New Year and many of them.

Mr. W. W. Wain, of Boston, Mass., is visiting his father Mr. H. C. Wain, of Newville.

Our teacher Miss Munnell is spending her holidays at her home in Clementsport. She will probably return Saturday.

Miss Annie McDonald came from Yarmouth last week, and in the company of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. McDonald.

Miss Annie and friends, who were on the excursion to Boston, and spent time with their children in Lynn.

Mr. Joseph Potter and family spent the day with their sister, Miss Potter.

Mr. Harry Wain and family took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. J. Potter.

Mr. W. S. Smith and son, John, visited Mrs. A. H. Bates.

A few of the young people attended the concert at Boston in the evening.

The home of Capt. and Mrs. C. T. Wain was made joyful Christmas day by the arrival of their sons, Messrs. O. E. and C. W. Wain from Boston, Mass.

It has been twenty years since the former visited his native village. There he found many changes. Though their stay was short, they enjoyed every moment, and everyone was glad to see them.

To friends and customers for patronage bestowed on us during 1907. We would respectfully solicit a continuance of same during 1908.

Wishing all a Prosperous and Happy Year.

CLARKE BROTHER

ARRESTED A 2 YEAR OLD BOY.

Pittsburg, Pa.—George Shaffer, 2 years old, was arrested on a warrant and charged with trespassing. A neighbor swore that George tore up his lawn and flower beds. But Shaffer declined to hear the case. The little son of Mrs. John Cline of Arden, Ont., was only a year old when his mother, when his mother noted that he suffered with severe attacks of Bismuthism. She tried everything she could think of, but the boy grew steadily worse. It cannot be said that the boy was "highly" praised. "Fruit-cakes" too "highly" writes Mrs. Cline. "I have tried so many medicines for him, but I cannot say he has had better attacks since he was three years old, and since he began to take 'Fruit-cakes' he has been so well." "Fruit-cakes" are the ideal medicine for children, as well as grown folk. They are pleasant to take and mild in action, being made of fruit juices and tonic. See a box. At all dealers.

Many people seem to forget that character grows that it is not something that can be taught, but it is something that grows with the growth of the body.

Look at a man of business—prompt, reliable, conscientious, yet with a heart that is as big as the world.

When he was a boy, let us see the way a boy gets up in the morning, works, plays, studies and anyone can tell you just what kind of a man he will be.

The boy who is late at school sends a poor chance to make a prompt man. The boy who neglects his studies, grows up small, and then excuses himself by saying, "I forgot, I didn't think," will never make a prompt man.

And the boy who finds pleasure in the sufferings of weaker things and has no respect for the grey hairs of old men, will be a noble, generous, kindly man—a gentleman.

The Town Horse and Economy.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR:—As we are to have an election for Councilors next week, and as the Councilors are to be elected, the question arises as to the best method for the position.

There are many who are of the opinion that the Councilors should be elected by the people, and not by the Councilors themselves.

In looking over the Year Book just out, I noticed on page 13 the name of the Councilors for the year 1907.

More than double what it cost for the previous year, when it was only $1.00.

If the promoters of the town horse were to have a town horse, it would cost more than double what it cost for the previous year.

It would cost more than double what it cost for the previous year, when it was only $1.00.

Desperately clinging to the wave swept deck, which but a few days before was their staunch schooner, the crew of the Arona were rescued from a perilous fate. The schooner was seen by the British bark Osberg, Capt. Hatfield, which arrived at Digby on Thursday night.

The story told by the men is one of privation and suffering such as rarely finds its way into the pages of a newspaper. The schooner was seen by the British bark Osberg, Capt. Hatfield, which arrived at Digby on Thursday night.

long excitement of the storm and while clearing away the spurs and deck cargo the men had not given serious consideration, and in the struggle to save the ship had not thought of the fact that they had gone for many hours without food or drink or sleep. But now they had been more concerned to their perilous position and began to feel the lack of the necessities of life.

On Monday there was no improvement in the condition of the weather and the men began to lose hope. All they could do was to cling helplessly to the wreck, and they clung together to the lee of the main cabin in the mute companionship of despair.

It was while the ship lay at the mercy of the raging storm that a young Danish sailor in his ruthless grasp carried him seemingly to an inevitable death. But the strange fate of the sailor came to his rescue. The wave broke and the schooner lay down in the rough sea.

Swashed to and fro in the cabin waves and the crew of the schooner were in a state of despair. The crew was in high spirits and the schooner was in good luck.

At about 10 o'clock the schooner was run aground on a rocky shore. The crew was in high spirits and the schooner was in good luck.

Be Careful What You Say.

In speaking of a person's faults, first forget your own.

Remember those with whom of glass should not be thrown a stone, if we have something else to say.

The better we commence at home, and from that point begin to speak of others.

We have no right to judge a man until he's fairly tried.

Should we not like his company, we know the world is wide.

Some may have faults—and we have not.

The old adage is—

Perhaps we may, for "ought" we know, have fifty to one.

I tell you of a better plan.

You'll find it works full well.

To try my own defects to cure.

Before of others tell.

And though I sometimes hope to be.

No worse than some I know, my own shortcomings had met.

These let us all when we commence.

To slander friend or foe.

Think of the harm the word would do.

To those we little know.

Remember, curses sometimes like our children, "crawl at home."

Don't speak of others fault, until we have none of our own.

His sleigh upset and the mail service was stopped two days between here and the station. It is the worst kind of weather we have seen for many years.

Aggravated Piles

ITCHING, BLEEDING.

Women are peculiarly subject to piles or hemorrhoids before and after childbirth, but can be cured by the use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Many thousands of women have been cured of Dr. Chase's Ointment under the most difficult conditions.

The ointment of piles is almost beyond remedy, but Dr. Chase's Ointment will cure it, itching, bleeding, or protruding variety, they can be cured by

Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment

From almost the first application this treatment, by its marvelous soothing power, brings relief and cures the piles. Although for a long time subject to attacks of bleeding from the lungs, he had kept around and engaged in his usual work. The hemorrhoids of his departure came very unexpectedly. Female Weakness in Women.

Many women suffer untold tortures from nervous debility arising from disorders of the feminine system. Day by day they grow weaker. A false sense of modesty prevents them using a good remedy like Perseus,—a weak woman's friend.

Some of our young people attended the concert at Sandy Cove last Saturday night. It was a very good time.

Not a Miracle But Medical Science

Dr. T. A. Bloomfield, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"Some time ago I began to lose flesh and failed every day until I had to quit work. My physicians and all my friends said I had contracted consumption. I failed from 165 pounds down to 119. I was told to go to the Rockies or to the coast. I went to both places under heavy expense. I continued to fail, but was advised by the doctors to come home as nothing more could be done for me. Hope seemed to have fled.

"I tried Perseus and since starting it I have gained from 119 to 165 pounds. I have used $1000 worth of the medicine. I am a well man and I can say to you that Perseus is the greatest medicine I have ever used. I sincerely hope and trust that you will continue your good work of saving men from the ravages of Perseus. I am a grateful patient. Waiting your word and Perseus continued success. I remain, one of Perseus's ALEX. McRAE.

"I had been suffering for over two months with an obstinate cough, as had also my little girl. We tried several remedies common to any drug store without obtaining any apparent relief, in fact we were growing worse. I got a bottle of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and after taking two days the cough was stopped, and the results so permanent and rapid that we decided to keep it in our home continually."
