Special New Year Service At Hillgrove Church

A large audience gathered at the Hillgrove Church on Sunday afternoon last for a special service, in which the new bell, the crowning glory of the repairs and improvements on the Church was dedicated with suitable ceremonies.

The service was conducted by the Pastor, Rev. D. E. Hatt. After the invocation and a hymn, Psalm 118 was read and the choir sang "Hark, Hark, My Soul." Deacon J. A. H. Nichols, at whose solicitation the bell was given, told of the steps leading up to the gift and read from letters written by the donors. He then formally presented the bell to the congregation on behalf of the donors, and the following resolution was moved by D. C. McKay, seconded by Goudy Niffen and passed by the congregation with a standing vote.

Resolved that the Hillgrove Baptist Congregation do here and now gratefully accept this gracious and timely gift, expressing to the donors their very hearty thanks for the same, praying that the blessing of God may rest upon them and theirs. And further be it

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the donors, that a copy be published in the local press, and that a copy be entered upon the minutes of the Church as a permanent record of the gift.

The pastor offered a prayer of dedication and then called for the ringing of the bell. Ross Bell officiated at the ringing, after which the choir sang to the tune "Boylston" the following hymn, written for the occasion.

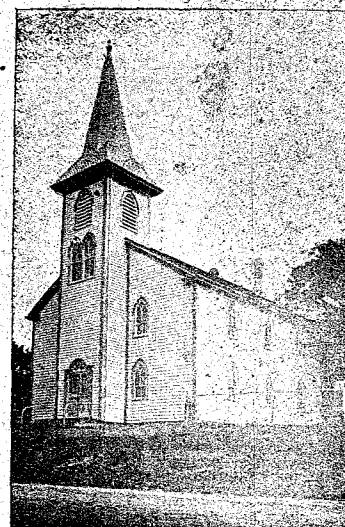

Accept, O Lord, we pray,
This bell, and let it be
To generations yet unborn
A witness unto Thee

As over hill and dale
Pulse forth its cheerful tone,
May thoughts be turned from things of earth
To Thee upon the throne.

May all who hear and heed
This bell's persuasive call Find this the very House of God,
A Place of Prayer for all.

Refine our souls from sin
And mold us to Thy will
That from Thy Church redeemed may sound
A sweeter music still.

The Pastor's address was on "Metal, Mold and Music," containing many thoughts, lessons and illustrations suitable to the occasion.

The address was concluded by the reading of the following original poem.

Bell in the steeple, ring out your glad message,
Tell of the love that has ransomed our race,
Peal forth the praises of Him who has brought us
Perfect salvation and riches of grace.

Ring, that the people who hear may assemble,
Fervent in spirit, to worship their God,
Ring, that the careless may know God
Beholds them.

Where for their pleasure they wander abroad,
Bear to the shut-ins a message of comfort
Tell them your tones, though they carry afar, Fainter must grow, but God's fulness of blessing Reaches to where His most lonely ones are.

Gather the children to learn the great lessons
Jesus would teach them, revealed in the word
That in their hearts there may ever be A ringing
Far the best music that earth ever heard.

Joyously ring when chaste vows have been plighted,
And from the altar of marriage we turn,
Pour forth your music, O bell in the steeple,
You must be joyful when happy hearts burn.

When our dear dead to their last resting places
We bring, with hearts that are ready to break,

Over the limits that are layed down
With workings Tender and slow be the music you make.

Ring, and, perhaps, in some far distant place,
Dreadful of those in the lining of their youth
Dear ones will hear the sweet sound and be guided Into the way of the unadorned truth.

Ring, and it may be that some noble perfect
Out of the sufferings here below, Heaven, will smile as they draw closer to be
And the dear ones that they loved long ago.

Ring for the King of men, God incarnate,
Naked and poor, who came to die,
Ring for His triumph over sin, death and hell,
Ring in the day of His eternal dominion,
Christ the Lord over all, ring, O bell.

A thank offering was taken for the funds of the Church, during which Fred Rodop said, "The Gospel Bells," the choir joining in the chorus. The Doxology and the benediction closed the unique and interesting service. A suitably inscribed tablet commemorating this splendid gift is to be placed on the bell stand in the belfry and another in the vestibule of the Church. The donors may feel assured that their gift is a very valuable and timely one, greatly appreciated by all the residents and friends of the community.

The Railways of Canada Draw to Your Attention the

NEW RAILWAY RATES!

FOR PASSENGERS

The advance on sleeping and parlor car tickets authorized in 1920 has been cut in half—the advance made on ordinary fares at that time having been completely taken off many months ago.

FOR SHIPPERS

The percentage of advance granted to the Railways in 1920 has been reduced ten points. In addition to a five point drop at the first of the year.

These changes became effective December 1st.

Your cost of Living

YOUR cost of living should be directly affected. If it is not it is because (1) as the railways have pointed out before, the actual money paid for their services is an almost negligible factor in making prices, and because (2) even the huge sum now cut out of the railways' revenues and amounting to approximately—

$25,000,000.00 *

annually—becomes a very small fraction of a cent when split up among the billions upon billions of small and large articles which constitute the freight traffic of Canada during a year. And because

(3) the Court which has the power to control railway rates is not able to direct who is or is not to get the benefit of reductions. In other words, whether these savings in railway charges are passed on to you—or whether they are absorbed in marketing, cannot be controlled either by the railways or the public.

BUT this fact remains: a very great sum of money—enough to build every year a small city, or a Quebec Bridge, or four hundred and fifty of the newest and most powerful locomotives—is now removed from the revenues of the Canadian Railways and should be reflected, at least to some extent, in the family budgets of all Canadians!

WHETHER your railways can continue to function without the revenue thus lost to them, is an experimental problem facing the various managements. It depends largely on whether traffic keeps up or falls off—and whether costs rise or decline. But the managements are attempting the problem cheerfully and with determination to keep Canada's railway service the cheapest, mile for mile, and among the most efficient in the world!

Questions and Answers on Forestry

by the Canadian Forestry Association

Q. Where can I obtain a good bulletin showing me how to care for the bush lot on my farm?

A. Ask both the Dominion Forestry Branch, Ottawa, and the Ontario Forestry Branch, Toronto, for their special bulletins on this subject. They are excellent.

Q. I am a Saskatchewan resident and want to learn more about tree planting for shelter belt purposes.

A. Write the Tree Planting Division, Indian Head, Sask., for their free book on "Tree Planting on the Prairies."

Q. I have five acres of woods at my summer cottage in Quebec. Can this be made self sustaining? Can't want to destroy it but would like to get some revenue from it.

A. Put full particulars in a letter to the Canadian Forestry Association, Ottawa. They will be glad to help you without any charge.

Q. Is it not a fact that Esparto grass, and other fibrous plants will some day put the spruce tree out of business as a factor in paper making?

A. One man's guess is as good as another's. Nobody has made much headway yet in finding a substitute for wood for paper making. A spruce log is the most compact form of fibre yet found. It is easily transported by floating, and does not deteriorate when stored for long periods.

Q. How much of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Quebec and Ontario represents non agricultural soil and therefore adapted best to the growing of timber?

A. About seventy per cent. of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. The percentage is higher for Quebec because the enormous territories of Ungava are included. For Ontario about two thirds is non-agricultural but excellent for the production of tree crops.

Q. Is Canada losing more of her forests by fire than she is gaining from new growth?

A. Decidedly so. Part of the Rockies the nation's timber assets are rapidly declining. Forest fires sweep much larger areas than are touched by lumberjacks each year. This degenerative tendency, of course, can be rapidly remedied by vigorous public policies.

Elmer G. Woodard, of Vernon, Connecticut, claims to hold a greater weight at arm's length—215 pounds—than any other man in the world. He holds 100 pounds at arms' length with one leg, lifts 2500 pounds clear of the ground and walks with 1500 pounds. He refuses all publicity and claims officers.

J. H. Norman, of Fairville, Conn., captured 10 snakes in a night. Their tails are worth $51, making a total of $24. Norman has earned in this fashion during the season. But he has had to hurry all but one sort of snake's profits are still in doubt.

A total of 8,292 crates of live lobsters were shipped from Yarmouth to Boston from Nov. 2nd to Dec. 17th according to a statistician, and the value is estimated at $235,922.

Fishermen and buyers were in Yarmouth to ship for the last time on Tuesday and on account of the rising market the total is estimated to reach $265,000. The output of the canneries is estimated for the four weeks at $200,000, bringing the grand total of nearly a half million dollars circulated in this Western district. The eastern sections did not fare so well. Mr. M. H. Nickerson says this sum ought not to be belittled in these times of money-tightness. Four weeks fishing in one district had one-third the earning power of 8 months fishing in the combined eastern or eight districts into which the Nova Scotia coastline is divided. It is a remarkable showing and may influence future regulations.

Before Magistrate Jaffrey, of Devon, Tuesday afternoon information against a resident of Fredericton for violation of the prohibition act was withdrawn. The case arose out of a raid on a residence in St. John street on Friday last, in which a quantity of bottled and draught liquor was seized. The chief inpector said that the case was withdrawn because of the doubt of the ability to try a charge arising out of an offense committed in Fredericton before any magistrate but one depended upon to supply the demand for Springhill coal which the Company stated, when the two idle slopes were closed, is not sufficient to warrant the operation of all the workings.

"You are sentenced to be hanged by the neck until you are dead, within the confines of the county jail in the city and county of St. John on Thursday, March 30, 1922, and may God in His infinite pity have mercy on your soul." These were the words which greeted John Paris at St. John when he stood up Thursday afternoon shortly after five o'clock before Judge W. B. Chandler to receive his sentence for the murder of little Sadie McAuley on the wooded slope leading down to Marble Cove on Tuesday, August 2. He was convicted of that revolting crime on December 2 at his second trial, after a session which lasted for ten days. The jury at the first trial disagreed, but stood seven to five in favor of conviction.

Yarmouth's Fire Department performed another good piece of work Friday when they stopped a fire which started in the large wooden block owned by W. L. Harding, Limited, and occupied on the lower floor by that firm's tinware and graniteware departments, and Harry MacKinlay's news stand, while on the second and third floors are tenements occupied by Albert Fraser and Ross Ralston. The blaze started around a chimney, creating a dense smoke, and when the firemen arrived and located the fire they found it making rapid progress up the southern wall of the building. Fortunately they got at it early, and with the aid of the chemical soon had it under control, but not before considerable damage was done to the building, and also to Mr. MacKinlay's stock of stationary, etc., a quantity of which was removed. The damage to the building is covered by insurance, but Mr. MacKinlay had very little insurance on his stock.

Fanned by a northerly gale, fire which destroyed the Seldon Block on Main St., threatened for a time to wipe out most of Liverpool. Much difficulty was experienced by the firemen getting their apparatus through the snow drifted streets, and only herculean efforts prevented the fire from spreading through the heart of the town. The buildings on the block were two storey wooden structures and the four tenements burned out carried about $40,000 insurance.

Lunenburg's tribute to the sea during 1921 was "thirteen lives." The schooner Independence lost two men who went out in a dory during a summer fishing trip. The schooner Shepherd King had two men washed overboard and drowned during a heavy gale while out on a fall fishing trip. The schooner Vicolla, lost with all hands, added a total of seven lives. Two other men met tragic ends.

On Wednesday evening the community was shocked to hear that only about an hour after having had a tooth extracted John Otis Brooks, second son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Brooks, had passed away at his home in Cape Town, N. B. The young man, who was in his twenty-first year, had always seemed to be in the best of health. He had had toothache for a few few days. On Wednesday evening came up to the local doctor's to have the tooth extracted. After having it out he went down the street to the home of his aunt, Mrs. T. W. Law, spent a few minutes and then drove home, a distance of about a mile. After entering the living room, where the family were gathered, he lay down on the lounge and after replying in answer to a question that his tooth had not hurt much, he suddenly straightened out and fell off the sofa dead.

Rev. R. F. Allen, pastor of the Glace Bay Baptist Church, has accepted a call from the congregation of Nictaux, Annapolis County, N. S., and will be leaving Glace Bay early in the New Year. His last service in his present church will be on Sunday, January 8th. He is the late at Nictaux on the following Sunday. Mr. Allen came to Glace Bay in 1918 from Chester, N. S., and has been in charge of the local Baptist congregation for going on four years.

Beauty Hint for Women

When food is only imperfectly digested, it gives rise to fermentation, clogs the bowels, and renders the blood impure. This results in dull eyes, muddy skin, blotches, pimples and other disfiguring marks. Beecham's Pills act immediately on the stomach, liver and bowels; regulate them and keep them in a vigorous condition. They are mild, harmless and dependable. They are compounded of remedies of vegetable origin having great medicinal value.

Ghosts of Drury Lane

Drury Lane! What a wonderful story is woven about England's largest and most famous theatre! Surely, if there are such things as ghosts, then the great playhouse in Covent Garden must be thronged with the spirits of bygone men and women who are famous in English history.

Drury Lane, from the time of Charles II. to the present day, has had a career as romantic as any building in London.

The present theatre was built about one hundred years ago, two of the three previous erections having been destroyed by fire. King Charles II. granted a royal patent to the first theatre, and thus exempted the owner from paying taxes.

Charles II. was what we should call a "great higher" "gallerier" would hardly be correct—and he often went to the play three or four times a week, as that chatterbox, Samuel Pepys, records in his diary.

It was outside the "Lane" that the King first made the acquaintance of Nell Gwynn—the orange-girl who became an actress and one of the most influential women of the period. Whether the King was properly introduced to Mistress Nell cannot be said. Probably they managed little affairs of that sort just as we do to-day.

Nell Gwynn is described as having been a "small blonde, with a round, beautiful face, with saucy blue eyes, and upturned nose."

Samuel Pepys records the following in his famous diary:

"Went to see 'The Humorous Lieutenant.' Here in a box-seated Mrs. Pierce, and going out, they called to us, so we staid behind for them and Knipp, who took us all in and brought to me a most pretty woman, who acted the great part of Coelia to-day. I kissed her, and so did my wife; and a mighty pretty soul she is."

Like most theatres, Drury Lane has had its good times and bad.

In 1707 it was owned by a Sir Thomas Skipwith. This gentleman found it something of a white elephant, and one evening, being deep in debt—and rumor hath it he was drunk as well—he sold the theatre to a Col. Brett for the magnificent sum of ten shillings.

Just eighty-four years later it was sold again for £10,000.

A curious custom—which was kept up until 1855—was the posting of soldiers outside the theatre at every performance.

King George II. was at the "Lane" one evening when a riot broke out. The soldiers were ordered from the doors and were doing about as well as bottles, bricks, various defunct animals, and overripe fruit, and the King himself narrowly escaped injury. And henceforth his Majesty ordered troops to keep guard outside the theatre—just in case it happened again.

Even a hundred years ago huge sums were paid for boxes at Drury Lane. An old lady recalled in 1855 that she had paid £420 for his box, the Prince Regent £525, and the Duke of York £315.

There is no theatre in England that can boast of such a goodly list of famous players who have at one time or another drawn an enormous audience.

David Garrick was one. Besides being an actor of genius, he was something of a pioneer in removing the conditions of English theatres. At the "Lane" he introduced footlights for the first time, and also the "proscenium" stage, and was the official who has sole charge of the stage dresses and effects.

In 1809 Sheridan owned the theatre, and despite a safety-curtain made of sheet-iron, the building was burnt to the ground. Sheridan tried hard to enter the blazing theatre, but was held back by the soldiers. He merely shrugged his shoulders in the end and said, "It is a pity a man cannot warm himself before his own fire."

That great actor, Kemble, received thirty guineas a night when acting at Drury Lane, but he was always drawing something on account. Mrs. Siddons—a name to conjure with when talking of the theatre—received £250 18s. 6d. for the last two nights of her last season.

"Blood and thunder" was the real goods in the old days of Drury Lane, and the plays produced for the benefit of a public who liked a thrill would make our present day "Grand Outing" blush for envy.

Some of the titles were: "We Fly by Night," "Love and the Toothache," and "The Jealous Wife."

The theatre is at present undergoing a complete renovation, and when the workmen have done, Drury Lane will not only be the most comfortable theatre in the world, but will give its patrons the very best view of the stage from every seat in the house.

Mysterious London

Hidden Village Is Just One of Many Secrets.

Is London the most mysterious of the world's great capitals? asks a writer. "A few days ago I passed a house in a narrow street in Western London by which I have walked frequently for the last twenty years. The door was open, and I looked through it into a garden some hundred yards long and thickly set with grey statues—a garden the existence of which I had not even suspected."

I pointed out to a friend who had lived in the neighborhood a long time a thin vertical slit in a blank wall near this garden, and he asked him if he knew what it was. He did not know, and when I told him that it was a little door specially built through which the artist, Sir E. Burne-Jones, used to pass out his "large" pictures, he was amazed.

London is full of these strange surprises. How many Londoners know that behind St. George's Hospital lies a hidden village which has merely been surrounded by the grey wave of London and has been forgotten? How many Londoners have looked through a tall iron gate in Melbury road, West Kensington, and seen a wide country view of rolling meadows and leafy lanes?

Not one-tenth of the millions who pass the grim grey building of the Bank of England every week know that behind these frowning, sooty walls is a cool, quiet garden with a huge green tree in it.

London is a city of shut, mysterious doors behind which lies anything.

A reporter went in search of the forgotten habit, which has been surrounded by the great grey wave of London. He walked up Knightsbridge from Hyde Park Corner and turned to the left up Old Brompton road. He was immediately rewarded by finding an old posting inn, which was clearly built in the days of Queen Anne or George I. This inn gathered round it two streets of small houses, whose date is about 1790. These streets seem curiously out of place as the magnificent mansion of Belgrave, and which they lie, are quite twice as high and probably fifty years later in date.

The two streets stretch from Knightsbridge to Wilton Crescent and now accommodate the horses and motor cars of the district.

The Bulwark

The last and greatest of her line of battle ships, though she never sailed of the seas or engaged an enemy, stood her moorings at Devonport, where she had been tied up for sixty years, and was towed up the Thames recently to be broken up in the shipyard there. Without smelting powder for all these sixty years, she bore the name of Impregnable, but last year she became known officially as the Bulwark, because an unseasonal Admiral wanted her name for something that was more impregnable.

Tens of thousands of seamen have as boys undergone preliminary training at her, but few of them had much less the British public, know she has made only two trips in all her history. Even on those trips she touched the coast and was in charge of tugs.

The first was just after her launching at the Pembroke dock, when she was towed to Devonport. The second trip she has just completed around the south coast. She has never fired a shot in battle. And yet when her keel was laid in 1856 she was intended to be the greatest and most powerful ship in the whole British navy, having been designed to rule the waves.

But she lapsed into a "show ship," and her name has been changed to that of how some European disputes of long ago, when she was building were settled immediately when visiting representatives of the countries concerned saw her. Her majestic proportions, they say, were in those days so different to a quietness on quayside neighbors.

Counted Out

A brawny son of Erin was acting as timekeeper in a rough-and-ready fight between a mate and a negro in South America. In the course of the fight, a well-planted blow by the black sent the Irishman earthwards.

"One," cried the timekeeper, in a loud voice, watch in hand.

"Two," he murmured hoarsely. "Pat, ye fool, git up! There's only eight seconds left!"

The inert mass did not move.

"Three!" shouted the timekeeper, desperately. "Think of ye old mother, Pat! What's it she'd be saying to ye, 'Bate by a black!'"

Slowly he counted up to eight, bucking up his mate with patriotic ejaculations between each second. When eight had been called, Pat staggered to his feet and, with a mighty lunge, succeeded in knocking down the grinning negro.

Desperately fearing lest he should revive in time, the timekeeper set off at top speed.

"One, two, three, four, five, and six's ten! Ye're out!"

Sharks Off British Coast

Several varieties of large dogfish and small sharks also found around the British coasts. The fox-shark, or thresher (known to scientists as Alopias vulpis) follows the shoals of herring, mackerel, and sprats, destroying great numbers, and often doing much damage to nets. It often attains a length of fifteen feet, including its long narrow tail, which often exceeds in length the remainder of the body. The Greenland shark (Lamna borealis), which sometimes grows to twenty-six feet, occasionally strays from Arctic waters to the latitudes of Great Britain, common on the coasts of England and Ireland. It is of a slaty grey color, and attains a length of ten feet.

Queer Peacocks Blunders

Lord Glerawly, son and heir of Earl Annesley, takes his title from a small town in Ulster, but no Irish character, however complete, would show any place called Glerawly. But there is a Glenawley, in County Fermanagh, and this was the place chosen for the title by the first Earl Annesley.

The clerk who engrossed the patent of nobility, however, misapprehended Glerawley as Glerawly, and the baron had to adopt the wrong spelling, as no alteration can be made in a peerage patent once it has been issued.

The title of the Earl of Arlington permeates a similar blunder, having been taken from the name of a Harrington, between Hounslow and West Wycombe.

Soil and Sun

India is many times the size of Nova Scotia, and Ceylon many times the Annapolis Valley.

It is not enough to know that it is India or Ceylon. Tea—Cape Breton apples don't compare with Annapolis Apples, nor does ordinary India or Ceylon Tea compare with Blue Bird which is grown where sun and soil unite to make the most fragrant and flavorful of teas.

Brings Happiness

The Advantages of Dry Storage For Your Auto Battery

will be plainly seen the following driving season. By storing dry all wear is immediately stopped in the battery giving it the extra life of the dry period. In the spring all new insulation and acid is used, making your battery much quicker in action than with the old dirty acid and insulation. In handling fully charged Negative Plates they must not be allowed to heat as they will be ruined. You can guard against this by bringing your battery to us, as we have the largest capacity, most fully equipped Service Station between Keitville and Yarmouth. For batteries with good straight plates we are using, this year, the WATER CURE for the negatives. There is no possibility of the plates being heated through this method. It also automatically cleans the plates of any impurities, not metallic, that may have been in them.

YO-O-O-HEAVE! NOW ALTOGETHER FOR BETTER TIMES

Some years ago, when the framework of barns and houses was usually made of timbers of generous size, the spirited cry of "Yo-o-o-Heave!" was frequently heard in the land. When the timbers of any such building had been framed by the carpenters the call would go forth for the men of the neighborhood to gather and help with the raising. Some of the women would go along too, to help prepare and serve the primitive banquet which formed no unimportant part of a "raising." A bent, or section of the timbers would be assembled and pinned together, and the eager men gathered about in readiness to hoist it into place. No easy task, for generally the stuff was of hard wood and very heavy. But at the word of command from their chosen leader the lusty fellows would seize the huge section of framework, their noisy comments would be stifled, and when the cry came, "Yo-o-o-Heave!" their muscles would strain in unison with each repetition until the limit of ability to lift with their arms was reached. Then the ever ready pole pikes would be brought into play and with continued cries of "Yo-o-o-Heave!" the huge frame would be thrust up to its place in the structure to be completed. If rope and tackle were used the men pulled in concert with the same cry of "Yo-o-o-Heave!"

That same cry and a similar spirit should prevail throughout our land today. Our industry is pretty well flattened out and a new frame is needed—something sturdy enough to stand the winds of adversity. We all know, of course, that there is strength in unity, but most of us are inclined to wait and let George do it. There should be a general awakening to the pressing needs of the hour. There should be set up the clarion cry of "Yo-o-o-Heave!" and willing hands should give ready response.

Leaders of industry and finance are strong in their belief that there can be no return to normal conditions until everybody settles down to earnest work, economy and saving. We are all anxious for the day to come when everyone will have a job, when the wheels of the cars and ships shall once more be busy in the lucrative employment of production and transportation. There is no use crying over the waste resulting from the great war. It is another case of spilled milk. Mourning can not save it now. But good honest work can put us back on the road to better times.

A western farmer returned from a trip to the distant town one afternoon to find his wife and two lusty sons sitting on the ruins of their home and bewailing their fate. The cyclone had even flattened out their pig pen, and the half dozen porkers were running about in high glee over their unexpected freedom. With renewed wails the trio of disconsolate home-mourners started to tell the farmer about it. "Hell! The storm has gone on," he broke in. "Grab up the splinters and fix a pen, while I catch the shoats."

POULTRY WORLD HALL OF FAME

(Experimental Farms Note.)

A short time ago the death of White Wyandotte hen No. B-162 occurred. Since this hen has had so much to do with the present high production in our strain of White Wyandottes now kept at this Station, her name deserves a place in the "Hall of Fame" of the poultry world, and her achievement is told in story.

No. B-162 was hatched May 1st, 1917, and laid her first egg October 30th, 1917, being 132 days old. Her total record was: 1st year 257 eggs, 2nd year 153 eggs, 3rd year 107 eggs, 4th year 4 eggs, making a total of 521 eggs. Of these 83 were laid in the winter of the first year, 34 during the winter of the second, 34 during the winter of the third, and 4 during the fourth. At time of laying her first egg, her body weight was 5 1/4 pounds. Her eggs averaged 25 ounces to the dozen.

That her pullets inherited her high producing qualities was evidenced by their production. In 1919, twelve of her pullets gave an average of 232 eggs, the individual production being from 176 to 289 eggs. Of two pullets hatched in 1920, one gave 288 eggs and one gave 243 eggs, with two months to complete her year. The second year averages for her pullets were also good, but as yet are not complete. B-162 was never broody. She was attending so strictly to her business of egg production, that she had no time. It would seem that this character was also transmitted, for only three of her daughters have ever lost time because of broodiness.

Much has been said and written concerning the importance of the male in the flock from the standpoint of high production. He does occupy an important place, but we are more and more convinced with the years that if we are to obtain high production, and to hold it, that the trait must be in the blood of the dam as well as in that of the sire.

Experimental Station,
Sidney, C. B.

We got to make the most of what's left. That is just our case today. The war is over and we've got to make the most of what it has left us. With a hearty "Yo-o-o-Heave!" let us set to work hastening the adjustment of wages and prices and conditions, so that the wheels of industry may once more hum merrily throughout the land. The past we can not change. The future we can make. Let's prove our mettle. Grab hold of it, boys. Now then altogether—YO-O-O-HEAVE!

WHERE CHRIST TAUGHT

Ruins of Synagogue in Which He Preached Found in Capernaum.

A discovery of unique interest has been made in the Holy Land. Hitherto there has been no building known to have been conspicuously associated with the life of the Saviour. At last this deficiency has, it seems, been remedied. Prof. Lucian Gauthier, of Geneva, a very eminent Biblical archaeologist, reports that the actual synagogue at Capernaum, where the Saviour preached, has been found.

Capernaum, situated on the western shore of the Sea of Galilee, and near its northern end, was the scene of no less than five miracles performed by the Saviour mentioned in the New Testament. It was in this region that He began His Ministry, and bore most of its important events before His entry into Jerusalem occurred.

The gospel of St. Mark begins by telling us how the Saviour came from Nazareth to Galilee, and there called the apostles, who were working as fishermen. Then we read in chapter 1, verse 21, of this gospel:

"And they went to Capernaum and straightway on the Sabbath day He entered into the synagogue and taught."

On this occasion our Saviour performed His first miracle. A man who was possessed of an unclean spirit was present in the synagogue, crying out in torments. Christ sent the unclean spirit out of the man.

Further important information about this synagogue is given in St. Luke, chapter VII. There it is stated that a Roman centurion's servant was dying, and the people came to the Saviour in Capernaum, and begged Him to save the man, for he was a dear friend of his.

The ruins now found on the shore of Sea of Galilee are very extensive. Although the building is largely in a ruinous state, it would not be difficult to restore it to its original condition. It must have been a remarkably rich and handsome synagogue. The arches and doorways and roof are very heavy and magnificently carved. Several of the doorways are still standing. The synagogue was ornamented with fine carvings of lions the symbol of the tribe of Judah, with lambs and with eagles bearing garlands in their beaks. These stone carvings have been found in profusion among the ruins. In view of the fact that such carvings were forbidden among the ancient Hebrews because they were "graven images," the finding of these objects at Capernaum is particularly interesting. Their occurrence is strong evidence that the synagogue was not of very early date, and that it was built about the time of Christ. The strictness of the old Jewish law had been considerably relaxed at that time. There is also much in the style of architecture and the solidity of the building to support the belief that it was built by a Roman centurion.

Mrs. W. A. Siddall, who has been elected a city commissioner in East Cleveland, is the first woman in Ohio to hold such a position.

WHERE SHALL I SPEND MY EARNINGS?

(Published by request.)

WHILE it must be conceded that as a general principle one has a right to spend his money as he pleases, there are considerations that should exercise certain restraint upon one. But really, is it "my money" that I earn? If I can earn $2,500 a year, I may think it mine to do as I please. But as I may be thinking that way, along comes the Government and says to me: 4 per cent. of what you earned over $2,000 is mine in the shape of income tax. I may feel like objecting, but on second thought I say nothing and fork over. Hardly am I through when along comes the assessor and tells me to go and hand some of "my money" to the support of the school. Now, I kick of course, but I hand it over, only to be told by the collector that it is not enough. I must hand over some more of "my money" to the keeping up of roads, bridges, electric light, county house, etc., etc. I kick worse than ever, but I have learned I must pay, and I pay. That part of it is not "my money." Thinking I am through, paying out "my money" without getting any tangible returns, I bundle up what I have left and as I get ready to tie up the stocking I was going to hide in, along comes the church treasurer and tells me about one-tenth of one per cent., or more is required to pay preacher's salary and heat the church during the winter. I move this must not be collected by law, but a member of the church sometimes or I might want to have my funeral there some day, so I pay. Then comes the lodge, the community picnic, the help to Mrs. Black whose husband died and left her six children, the choral school and club and other social functions. True I did not have to "pony up" to any of these institutions but I want to be a good citizen and my civic pride did not permit me to be a slacker. I had now contributed of "my money" to almost everything in the town except to the temperance league, the fire which makes the town, that without which there would be no town—its business institutions.

I had sent my washing to the next town because I did not like the way the laundryman's children talked to my children. I had sent my glasses to "the city" to be repaired; our own optician being a neighbor, don't know anything.

I had sent to Halifax for a carpenter to fix up my sidewalk, because our home carpenter lived in John for my house, I sent to Moncton for my chicken feed and groceries. I wasn't going to let our business men have any of "my money" because they were all charging too much, they didn't carry a good quality of goods and they were not a bit accommodating. I sent to Moncton for my dry goods because our stores at home do not keep any assortment. In fact, I had sent "my money" anywhere I wanted to because I earned it and it was "my money." But now it is "my money." If I am under obligation to give up part of it to the government, the school, roads and bridges, churches and the hundred and one different things that are a part of my community, then why am I not under equal obligation to the very heart of my town—that without which there would be no town. If there was not a blacksmith shop where I could spend it for repairs, a tailor shop where I could spend it for work and cleaning, a grocery store where I could spend it for food, a dry goods store where I could spend it for dry goods, a school where I could spend it for learning a bank where I could leave my valuables for safe keeping, a printing office where I could have my printing done, a dentist where I could get my teeth fixed, a lawyer where I could buy legal advice—if there were none of these and other institutions, where would be the town? And if all the people in town did all their business affairs "anywhere they pleased" meaning, "anywhere except home" where would all these business institutions be?—and if I am under obligation to support the street, why not the institutions by the street? If I must contribute to the support of the village light, why not to the business house in front of the light. If I am obliged to contribute to the health department, why not to the home doctor, who is there on the job? Am I not under moral obligation to play fair with every institution which makes the town? If I want to be a good citizen, can I truthfully say that is "my money" and I am going to see that no one of our home institutions gets the handling of it? Can I be honest with myself and waste my money by making use of the church and take everything out without putting anything in?

NEW BRUNSWICK SELLING BONDS

New Brunswick, it was stated Thursday would probably make an issue at an early date of $1,500,000 of bonds. The funds, Premier Foster said, were for expenditures for the development of the province and had been authorized by the Provincial Legislature in the act dealing with hydro-electric development in the province. Whether the bonds will bear 5 1/2 or 6 per cent. interest, and whether they will be sold to private citizens or to the province, the Premier said, would probably be decided by the government later.

Two delegations from Moncton were heard by the government, A. E. Trites, president of the Moncton Chamber of Commerce, Limited, headed one delegation who asked for financial assistance for the company to extend the scope of their work, suggesting a loan or guarantee of bonds of $10,000 or $15,000.

Alderman Stone headed a civic delegation who asked the government to take steps to assist employment in the city of Moncton, suggesting that the government should make a further allotment to that city from the Housing Act funds and also assist a project for the erection of a modern, large public market for the city. No decision has been reached as yet in either matter, consideration being promised.

FISHERMEN OF THE BREED THAT BUILDS EMPIRES

National Fish Day Commemorates Brave Men of The Calling—Look to Public to Help Them Build Up The Industry.

While it is true that the vast marine fishes automatically produce their harvests of fish, does it occur to the average man how the fisherman must toil to garner the crop? National Fish Day—February 1—commemorates these brave citizens of the nation—these indomitable men of the deep, these reserved, staid and brave souls who consecrate their lives to the calling. It is appropriate, particularly at this season of the year, to reflect upon the life of the fisher folk.

Those of us who live in maritime communities know of the hazards of the deep. The weekly list of disasters of missing ships and missing men, is too familiar to this day to require iteration. But the great masses of people, scattered throughout the Dominion, what do they know of the fishermen? How are they able to estimate the value of the most physical and valuable of the work?

The expression "lowsy fishermen" has been bequeathed to us from antiquity. Whether it was truly applicable to the status of the calling in those days, it is difficult to say. Webster defines "lowsy" as "low in rank, humble; modest." To employ the term today in a tone of sympathy or of derogation is a reflection upon one's intelligence. Neither does the fisherman need sympathy nor deserve approbation. On the contrary it is difficult to find a calling which exacts such courage, strength of will, resourcefulness and stick-to-itiveness. No body of men has a greater faculty for work and few, execute it with more willingness and thoroughness. That they are humble and modest is true in the sense that they are reserved and retiring. But lowly? Well, we shall see.

Did you ever read a description of deep sea fishing on our North Atlantic banks? Any of you who happen to be depressed in the belief that you are overworked, slip on a banker—one of those Lunenburg schooners—just for one trip, if the skipper will be lenient enough to tolerate such a soft-fleshed, bloodless, nerveless and generally useless individual. Just one trip is guaranteed to cure. A winter trip is not advisable. An early death is too severe a price for experience.

In the place back fishermen must be sailors, they are the orthodox sailors, from which class they exclude "seamen" and "stevedores." Their schooner is only a small one, possibly a hundred feet, and she needs handling in North Atlantic gales and seas. But that's only a diversion from the real business of the trip, but think you that it does not require brawn, courage, nerve and skill?

When the schooner gets to the banks the business is fishing, and fishing to the exclusion of virtually everything else, including sleep. Perhaps eight hours are carried with two men to each. Every dory lays eight trawls, or long lines if they should properly be called. One man takes charge of four. A trawl consists of two thousand feet of line to which are attached about eight hundred hooks. One man assigns the work involved in rigging and baiting one of these. Baiting three thousand two hundred hooks, possibly three times a day! That is the work preparatory to fishing, but it requires skill and speed. Do you think that it means to lay and pull these trawls, and when the fish are running, working for twenty or twenty-two hours at a stretch? And that is not all. Returning to the parent ship the fisherman must get about to split and salt the catch. Two hours sleep, then the same thing again.

This is not illustrating extremes, but a usual thing. It is unnecessary to recall the many cold blustery nights fighting the elements aboard ship and in the dory, nor need one speak of the many who each year succumb to the hardships of the rigorous calling. Nor on the other hand, need one touch upon the uncertainty of the livelihood from unstable demand. After struggling for his fare the fisherman must take his chance with the market.

Financial brokers in Wall Street are pragmatically grey, yet the uncertainty of their enterprises is rarely more precarious than those of the fisherman because his actual livelihood is at stake. He is not a speculator, but he gambles with nature; he is not a manipulator, he is a producer. His calling requires the finest physical attainments and high moral character.

In what respect then is he lowly. He lives, perhaps, in inexpensive comfort according to his chosen standards. Fine feathers make fine birds in a material sense; but when you come to measure a man in the code by which men should be measured, what is the fisherman's stature? These hardy folk are the men to whom we entrust the development of our great fishery resources. They bear the great burden. All they expect of the balance of the people is the reasonable use of the product of their work. It is up to the public to assist them to develop the industry.

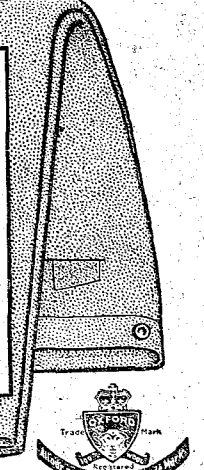

WIDOW WON DISPUTED PROPERTY

Recently Judge Mellich filed his decision in the case of Wile vs. Veinot, the trial of which at Bridgewater, N. S., attracted more than local interest. It was an action brought by the brothers and sisters of William Veinot, who was murdered at Hemford over a year ago, for the homestead of the deceased William Veinot; it being claimed that in the tragedy the son and only child Havelock Veinot died before his father, in which event the plaintiffs would have a share in the property. If the father died first, the homestead would go to the widow of William Veinot, who was the defendant in the case. It was during the trial that the claim of one of the plaintiffs committed suicide in the basement of the Court House. The decision is in favor of the widow, defendant, the claim of the eight plaintiffs for the property being dismissed with costs. The plaintiffs, who were Counsel for the plaintiffs, were Arthur Roberts, K. C., Counsel for the defendant.

Questions and Answers on Forestry

by the Canadian Forestry Association

Q. I have a son just graduated from high school who wishes to take a training in Forestry. What schools are available in Canada?

A. There are Forestry Schools at University of Toronto, Laval University, Quebec, University of New Brunswick, Fredericton, and University of British Columbia, Vancouver. Write to the nearest one for a calendar. The usual course is four years and the summer vacations are usually spent in actual woods work. In the employ of government or private concerns.

Q. I have had some little experience as a woodman and would like to qualify for a position in the Government Forest Service. Is there any short course available?

A. Nearly all the senior executive officers in the government forest service are graduate foresters who have spent at least four years in a college of forestry. We have not as yet any Canadian schools to train men for the junior branches. You might write the College of Forestry, Syracuse, N. Y., for particulars regarding the State Rangers School at Wanakena, N. Y. The latter provides a short course as you desire.

Q. I have heard somewhere that it takes several hundred spruce logs to produce a single edition of one of our large daily newspapers. Have you the figures for this?

A. It has been estimated that a newspaper with one hundred thousand circulation will require about 225 average size spruce and balsam logs for a single issue.

Q. Would you advise planting Manitoba Maple as a shade tree?

A. As you are living in Eastern Canada you had better choose a native tree variety, such as the Manitoba Maple is a quick grower and that is about its only worthy feature, particularly when you have the choice of a dozen far superior shade tree species. Why not a Norway Maple?

Q. Is it true that the people of Canada are the legal owners of nearly all the forest lands in the country? It is true indeed and a fortunate fact for the Canadian people. While a considerable part of the standing timber is leased to corporations and put to good use, the title to the land itself remains in the name of the people. This means that the most of Canadian citizens and not primarily lumbermen or pulp manufacturers are responsible for the management of the timberlands and will be answerable for handing on to the next generation the forest asset in as good or better condition than we ourselves have found it.

THE DOMINION CABINET

There are eight lawyers in the new Dominion Cabinet. The new cabinet had its name placed on the ballot paper a year ago, although its experience was confined to a year on the globe. Counting on him as a journalist are three journalists, three farmers, one doctor, a manufacturer, miller, capitalist and labor agent, Senator Bostock, while a lawyer, by profession, has been a rancher and fruit grower in British Columbia. He has never been regarded as a practical farmer. The new cabinet contains:—

Lawyers (8)—Sir Louis Gougeon, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Ernest Lapointe, Hon. Charles Murphy, Hon. James Robb, A. E. Cope, Senator Bostock, Senator Dandurand.

Journalists (3)—Hon. MacKenzie King, Hon. W. S. Fielding and Hon. G. P. Graham.

Farmers (3)—Hon. Charles Stewart, Hon. W. R. Motherwell and Hon. J. E. Sinclair.

Manufacturers (1)—T. A. Low.

Miller (1)—James Ross.

Capitalist (1)—C. Kennedy.

Labor Agent (1)—James Murdoch.

Doctor (1)—Hon. Dr. Beland.

The new cabinet contains seven Roman Catholics, six Presbyterians, two Anglicans, two Methodists and one Baptist. Hon. James Murdoch is not included in this list. They are:

Roman Catholics—Sir Louis Gougeon, Hon. Dr. Beland, Hon. James Robb, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Hon. Charles Murphy, Hon. W. C. Kennedy and Senator Dandurand.

Presbyterians—Hon. MacKenzie King, Hon. W. S. Fielding, Hon. D. D. MacKenzie, Hon. A. E. Cope, Hon. John E. Sinclair and Hon. James Robb.

Anglicans—Senator Bostock and Hon. Charles Stewart.

Methodists—Hon. G. P. Graham and T. A. Low.

Baptist—Hon. W. S. Fielding.

GOOD HOCKEY GAME

At the Victoria rink on Wednesday a spectacular and fast game of hockey was witnessed by an enthusiastic crowd when the local sextette defeated a fast aggregation from Yarmouth.

The game was fast and furious from the first blast of the whistle until the last and was well refereed by Mr. McCready who handled the game to the mutual satisfaction of all concerned irrespective of the penalties inflicted on both teams.

Two minutes after the whistle Misses sagged the net for Digby on a pass from Warrington and repeated the operation one minute later. Some fast rushes and numerous shots scored one goal for Yarmouth after eight minutes' play and they again scored when Keyman bounced the puck off Syda into the Digby net. Warrington penalized five minutes. Score 2-1.

Period—Warrington led for Yarmouth after three minutes' play, which was again followed up by Comeau seven minutes later. Melanson then made two individual rushes and tallied both times and for a third time sent the puck past the Yarmouth goal man scoring three in five minutes. Just before the bell Misses made the score six to four in Digby's favour.

The final period roughened up somewhat, no casualties were reported. A few penalties were imposed and much individual playing was witnessed. Misses scored for Digby eight minutes after play commenced, then Warrington evened up the number. Score 8-4 in favor of Digby.

The line up—

Goal, H. Deveau.
 Point, R. Durkee.
 C. P. W. LeCain.
 Centre, J. Ward.
 L. W. F. Comeau.
 R. W. C. Haywood, Capt.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTATION.

Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Payzant, of Nova Scotia, who are in charge of a large church in Cleveland, Ohio, received a great surprise on Christmas. They were attending the annual Christmas entertainment given to the Sunday School and Mrs. Payzant was asked to reach a chimney which had been erected and to pull down a box. This she did, and opened it, only to find another inside. This continued until eight such boxes, all done up with tissue paper and ribbon, had been opened. In the last box was a tiny automobile to which a string was attached. They were instructed to follow this string and they did. It took them all around the room, through the church vestibule and out to a beautiful limousine which the congregation had bought for them as a Christmas present. Needless to say the recipients were very much surprised as they had not had an inkling of it. Mrs. Payzant is the daughter of W. W. Payson, of Deep River.

OFFICERS INSTALLED.

The officers of Zelma Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F., were installed on Monday evening by District Deputy President Bernice Peters, P. G., as follows:

Everybody looking for a good time come along, as we want to see the ball rolling. There will be a good display of pies so bring a good pocket full of money.—Com.

The pupils of the various departments of Digby Academy will be highly honored on Wednesday morning to have Dr. MacEachern pay them an informal visit, as he left town. His talks as he went from room to room were very pleasing and instructive. Not every Academy has the privilege of listening to instructors from Dalhousie College free of charge.

'Twas the day before Christmas, and all through the house, the children had eaten each chocolate mouse; the stockings were hung with care, the turkey all gone, they were living on eggs. And all of the house was full of Christmas cheer, the children were all snoring, the Santa comes once and then goes in a flash, and the bird of the Yuletide is down into the hall.

CANADIAN CLUB LECTURE.

The Canadian Club opened its series of lectures for the season in the Court House on Tuesday evening. Rev. Wm. Driffield occupied the chair and introduced to full house the speaker of the evening, Professor MacEachern of the department of English Literature in Dalhousie University, Halifax.

The theme of the evening was considered as in the king's succession of great poets was ably and convincingly depicted. The lecturer illustrated his points by selections from the writings of the great poets, and his interpretation being one of the finest things in his lecture. The great delight of the audience was heartily expressed on motion of Rev. D. E. Hatt, seconded by Mr. H. B. Short. This course of lectures is a means of culture which full advantage should be taken.

Coming Events.

In reply to several requests we have resumed this department temporarily—but conditionally only. We will continue it until the end of January at least and if, during that time, we find the clergy, and all others interested in the work of the societies of the town and county will take hold, we will keep it up. On the other hand, if we find they will not keep us posted we will drop it again. Remember we make no charge for notices of any kind published in this department—but the notice must be brief and follow the usual style.

Boxed Stationery

We have just received a fine line of Boxed Stationery retailing at 25, 35 and 50 cents per box. The beauty of it is that the value is in the paper and envelopes and not wholly in the box although the boxes are pretty. Sent by mail for 3 cents extra.
 Scribblers, Exercise Books, Pencils, Pens, Erasers—everything for the school boy or girl except books.

We have a number of pictures—framed and unframed—which belong to customers and were in the stock when we took it over. We will hold them a little longer and if they are not called for in a reasonable time we shall place them on sale.

We want a man to take charge of our back shop. He must be a good cobbler, know something about harness repairing, and if he can frame a picture and cut glass so much the better. He has his choice of three alternatives: (1) to rent the shop and machinery, as it stands, we paying light, fuel, water and taxes; (2) to take charge on a commission basis; (3) to hire his services by the week.

"For Home and Country"

Listen!

Have you heard about Peps? Peps is a scientific preparation put up in a simple form, which provides an entirely new and effective treatment for coughs, colds, chest and throat troubles.

Peps contains certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapor, and are breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and at once commence healing.

FREE TRIAL Cut out this article, write across it the name and date of this paper, and mail it (with 1c stamp to pay return postage) to Peps Co., Toronto. A free trial packet will then be sent you. All druggists and stores sell Peps, 50c. box.

LONDON BRIDGE.

Structure Has Been Celebrated In Song and Story.

Of all the world's bridges it is safe to say that none is better known than London Bridge. For centuries has been celebrated in song and cry, and to-day, wherever English-speaking children are found dancing and in a circle, or up and down lines, or back and forth, or how not, dancing the dance of London Bridge, and singing, in some form or other, the famous refrain—

London Bridge is broken down,
 Dance o'er my lady lee,
 London Bridge is broken down,
 With a gay lady."

The origin of the old song is, like at of many another folk song and children's rhyme, "wrapt in mystery," but those who know anything of the long story of the bridge sadly understand how the fact of its destruction has entered and its echo lies in the folk songs of the people in all parts of England, and, indeed, of Ireland and Scotland, too. For, as one authority has put it, "Old London Bridge had a fault, was 'its habit of occasionally falling down." When anything happened to this bridge, it was commonly any other cause fell on evil omen, the situation thus created often became a matter of national concern. Thus King John, after the partial destruction of Peter's Bridge by fire

1212, granted certain tolls, levied on foreign merchants, for its repair. Whilst Henry III., some forty years later, gave his "especial sanction" to certain monks called the Brethren of London Bridge to collect all oyes in England and collect alms. They doubtless went everywhere, these brethren, after the slow, leisurely fashion of seven hundreds of years go, taking months to a journey which now could be accomplished in many days, but doing it all with thoroughness to-day undreamed of. From village to town and from town to village they would carry the story of London Bridge and its many classitudes—

Dance o'er my lady lee,
How shall we build it up again?
With a gay lady."

Well, of course it was built up again, and again. Its annals are full of records of this and that being done to shore it up, to strengthen it.

repair it, and to guard it. Each succeeding century witnessed strange changes. London Bridge had its time of prosperity and grandeur, and its pinched times of neglect. It witnessed, moreover, many gorgeous pageants, as in the famous November of 1415, when Henry V., returning from the victory of Agincourt, was received outside the gate-tower by the lord mayor and all the aldermen, and the citizens, on horse and on foot.

London Bridge reached the height of its glory in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, when the city built a gate and tower three stories high at Southwark end, and the wonder of London, Nonsuch House, "a huge

The whole bridge, in those days, was one wonderful street of shops and dwelling houses, with a chapel ult or restored "with great splendor." Yot, but a hundred years or so later, the scene is changed indeed. The old structure did service to London through the centuries, till it could suffice no longer, and a new London Bridge was opened a few years before Queen Victoria came to Scholar's Idea of Education.

Not all youthful intellectual prodigies remain remarkable in adult life. Among the precocious children who did not disappoint the expecta-and their brilliancy around was the fact that they were students who entered the university at the age of eleven and who was professors of natural philosophy at the age of thirteen. When I was asked where he outlined, as probably he had often outlined before, the plan of a course of study, he said, "By the way, I learned," said he, "a boy should have learned to write his own language before he enters a university. He should have a reading knowledge of French, should be able to translate from French into his own language and should have some acquaintance with German. Having learned the meaning of the words, he should study logic. I never found that the small amount of Greek I learned was a great advantage. I learned a little knowledge of natural philosophy," some knowledge of it. There indeed was a little knowledge of natural philosophy, and a little knowledge of natural logic. Kevin?

The Oyster Seas.
The oyster seas at Colchester.

England, was opened with quaint ceremonies. The mayor and corporation traversed the fishery grounds in a dredger and the mayor made the first haul of oysters. The mayor and corporation then consumed gin and ginger bread, a custom which has prevailed since the fishery was first opened under royal charter in the reign of Richard I. A telegram expressing dutiful devotion was sent to the King at a luncheon afterward.

on Peewit Island. The early Saxons so appreciated the Colchester fishery that they took three oyster knives for their arms, and this device still forms the arms of the Count of Essex. The Colchester fishery lost all its continental customers during the war, but the British public consumed all that it could supply.

It Creams As It Cools

That's the sign of aristocratic quality in Blue Bird Tea, Orange Pekoe Flavor. Watch the sparkling amber of the next cup you pour "cream" to a cloudy texture—one sign out of many of its goodness.

Blue Bird Tea Brings Happiness

You Need More Than A Laxative

To correct constipation, all organs of digestion and elimination should be helped. Try NR and see how much better you feel.

NR Today—Keeps the Doctor Away

To live and be healthy, your body mechanism must properly digest your food, extract all the nourishment from it and promptly throw off the waste that is left. This is accomplished by the processes of digestion, assimilation and elimination—the work of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. The failure of any of the vital organs to do its work properly affects the action of all the others. A constipated bowel movement does not help constipation; it only retards it for a few hours the condition that constipation brings about.

Now if you are used to taking so-called laxative pills, oil, purges and the like, you know exactly what you've got to be taking them all the time. Moreover, if you stick to any one laxative, you've got to be increasing the dose all the time. This can do you a lot of harm.

Stop doing yourself with such things just long enough to give Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) a trial, and let the results show the difference. NR Tablets are not just a laxative; they are a medicine to correct the condition that produces constipation and give you real, genuine, lasting benefit.

To improve your digestion and assimilation, give you a good hearty appetite, regulate your liver and bowels, tone up your body, and give your poison-clogged body, a good cleaning out.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is not harsh, it is mild, easy, pleasant in action; no griping or pain ever follows its use. Just a few tablets and you, by the action on the digestive organs, will find your food, which means extraction of full nourishment from your food, and thereby gives you new strength, energy, better blood, better appetite.

By toning and purging your liver, NR sends bile into the intestines, improving intestinal digestion. Laxative pills merely encourage more violent bowels and kidney action. NR drives poisons impurities out of and cleans up your body.

Try Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and just see how much better you feel in every way. It's a fact today and take one each night for a week, and you will see the difference in your life. NR is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

Last Week In The Maritime Provinces

City Engineer G. C. McDowell, of Fredericton, has received news of the death of an eight-year-old nephew residing in Vancouver, who, according to the despatch, was killed while coasting, having been run over by an automobile on Dec. 22nd. The nephew is a son of Mr. McDowell's brother, F. L. McDowell. In addition to this sad news, there followed the information of the death by drowning of John Christie at Berkeley, California, a brother of Mrs. F. L. McDowell, also of Fredericton, on Christmas Day. The late Mr. Christie leaves a wife and two children.

Mrs. C. A. Robinson at one time a resident of Fredericton, but who is now living in California, sailed from San Francisco last month for Yokohama. She will visit mission stations in China and Japan and will be absent until spring. Mrs. Robinson, who is a daughter of Capt. J. A. Read, has been a traveler in many lands. She was with her father on several trips to sea and later accompanied her late husband on numerous voyages to distant parts of the world. Writing to her father from Honolulu, she says the trip from San Francisco was marked by boisterous weather, but her long experience as a sailor saved her from the pangs of sea sickness.

The dwelling house of Frank Gilman, Campbellton, situated in the rear of the Canadian Bank of Commerce was completely destroyed by fire on Sunday. The building is a total loss, as is also the contents, some of which were removed, but in a bad condition. The insurance upon the building is $3,000 and upon the contents $5,000, including some furs which were stored therein.

The blizzards of the past week, which have paralyzed traffic in certain parts of the province, are responsible for a big crimp in the attendance at the short courses for men and women at the Provincial College of Agriculture at Truro. Only forty six students have arrived, or about one-third of those who would have been there but for the big snowfall. From the eastern part of the province there is but one student and he because he thought the course began a day sooner than it did. About forty students are reported on the trains which are tied up in the drifts in Antigonish county, where the snow is said to be eighteen feet deep in places.

Three pairs of twins in one family is exceptional, but they may be found in the parsonage of the Victoria Street Baptist church in St. John. On Dec. 26 Mrs. G. D. Hudson, wife of the pastor of that church, presented to him twins. This is the third pair, and on each occasion there was a boy and a girl. Mother and children are doing well. There are in all nine children in the family. Mr. and Mrs. Hudson are receiving hearty congratulations from their very wide circle of friends.

It is reported in Halifax that that plans are on foot to have Dalhousie University absorb certain departments of King's College, Acadia University, St. Francis Xavier and Mount Allison, the four latter retaining their identity for purposes of theological education only. This plan would make Dalhousie one of the largest universities in Canada in point of registration, and greatly enhance its prestige in the educational world.

The Chesnut Canoe Factory, Fredericton, which was burned out a short while ago, was, it is claimed, the largest canoe manufacturing establishment in the British Empire and, it is announced, will be rebuilt immediately on a larger scale than ever.

The development of Prince Edward Island is symbolized in the growth of the business of R. T. Holman, Ltd., Summerside, claimed to be the province's largest small town departmental store, which recently celebrated its 65th birthday by a considerable addition to its property. The annual business of the establishment approaches in volume the $2,000,000 mark.

A delegation of Italians and other friends were at the Sydney station Friday to extend a welcome to Tony Pucci, who has just been released on ticket-of-leave from Dorchester penitentiary. Later, a celebration in honor of the homecoming was held at the residence of his brother, Jimmy Pucci, at the Coke Ovens. Tony Pucci was sent to the penitentiary last summer for shooting a Russian named Moseychuk and had served only a few months of his five-year sentence when he was released after the circulation of a petition which was signed among others by members of the city council and city officials.

Conductor C. J. McDonald, Engineer Hubert MacPherson and Brakeman Wiggs were painfully scalded when a Sydney and Louisburg railway locomotive turned turtle while bucking a snowdrift near Birch Cove Thursday afternoon. It was learned when long distance phone communication with Birch Cove was established. The track at the time, was wrecked. The men will all recover.

Falling from the platform of a moving passenger coach at the Ocean Terminal at Halifax Friday evening Brakeman James Hanlon, 250 Maynard street, suffered fatal injuries when the wheels passed over his legs almost severing them at the knees. He was taken to the Victoria General Hospital where he died at 10:15 about three hours after the accident happened. Hanlon, who was 28 years old, and married was an employee of several years standing and popular among his fellow workers. He was on "evening trick" having come on duty at four o'clock in the afternoon.

Chauffeurs to the number of 2,900 were sent to jail during 1921 for violation of the New York traffic laws. 1,020 of the chauffeurs were given straight jail sentences, while 1,880 were committed in default of fines. The court tried 40,191 traffic cases during the year and collected $340,000 in fines.

THE FISHING BANKS OF THE NORTH ATLANTIC

Con. Cregan, Lever's roving character, was disappointed on crossing the Atlantic that he could not see the Grand Banks. It had been his notion that the fishing banks on the North Atlantic consisted of mounds of sand sloping into the sea. Perhaps he was even entertaining the idea of escaping to one of these "sandy islands." A good many are possibly just as ill-posted on the subject as the irrepressible Con Cregan, but are not so willing to admit their ignorance. The fishing banks are not exposed above the surface. They are actually banks or mounds on the bed of the ocean but are perceptible only by the aid of sounding devices.

The Grand Bank of Newfoundland, the largest, located south-easterly from the Ancient Colony, covers an area about 330 miles north and south and 200 miles east and west and it is generally traversed by ships crossing the North Atlantic ocean between European ports and ports in Nova Scotia or on the Bay of Fundy. The general depth of water on the Grand Bank varies from thirty to forty-five fathoms and the bottom is usually sand, gravel, or broken shells. The water surrounding drops off to anywhere from sixty to one hundred and forty fathoms. The only dangers to navigation on the bank that have been verified are the Virgin rocks and banks and the Eastern rocks. The area covered by the Grand Bank really includes St. Pierre and Green Banks, which are separated only by narrow channels.

The approach to the Grand Bank is generally evidenced by an increasing number of sea-fowl around the vessel. The great shearwater, well known to the fishermen as hag or hagen, is seen all across the Atlantic, but on the banks it, as well as divers and other sea-birds, becomes very numerous. The shearwater, by the way, derives its name from its skimming or shearing the water when flying.

One will observe by studying a chart of the North Atlantic how close our maritime ports are to the chief fishing banks as compared with American ports, yet it is an actual fact that our neighbors to the south take from these areas between two and three times the quantity of fish we do, and are serious competitors in our foreign trade. It seems logical from an economical and geographical standpoint that the business should be centralized in our Maritime provinces, excluding possibly supplies destined for consumption in Portland, Boston, New York and American centres conveniently at hand. Undoubtedly fish may be landed sooner in our ports and it intended for the fresh fish trade will be on the way to interior markets much sooner than when travelling circuitously via Boston. Furthermore, the proximity of the port gives the fishermen more actual time on the banks. Naturally, when the distance to port is shortened the fishermen can produce more in a stated time and consequently should be able to meet

THE CRACKER-BARRELS

In the lamented "good old days" every corner grocery had its group of cracker barrel politicians who devoted their time to discussing national and international politics. Home concerns troubled them not at all, but they were always mighty sharp with the "goverment." As a rule, their wives were overworked, their children shabby. Their houses needed attention and their gardens needed weeding. They were honest in their way, though they generally owed the butcher, and the grocer whose crackers they nibbled. They were not without a certain shrewd wit in the big matters they harangued about, but they never gave any constructive service to the home town. Their opinions never got them nor the world any further along. The poor farm herded them in at last. The trouble with this country today is that we have become a nation of cracker-barrelers. We are so busy talking about Europe and Japan and the Arms Conference and telling the Government what to do that we haven't any time for our own concerns or the encouragement of local prosperity, and we are not getting ourselves or the world much further along. Intelligent opinion on outside affairs openly expressed when it can be effective, is an excellent thing. But after all, it is in the same ordering of our own affairs that most of us can best promote our own and the common good.

ANNUAL MEETING OF HILLGROVE CHURCH

Best Year So Far in History of the Church—New Officers and Committees Elected.

That the year 1921 was the very best in its history thus far came out in the reports given at the annual meeting of the Hillgrove Baptist Church held on Thursday evening last week in H. H. Nichols' Hall. The pastor, Rev. D. E. Hatt, presided. After devotional exercises the reports of various officers, committees and heads of departments were called for. All these were of an encouraging nature.

The clerk reported the addition of thirty-one members by baptism and three by letter and experience. This gain of thirty-four members was a net gain, as not one member was lost during the year either by death or by letter.

The treasurer's report showed all bills paid to the end of the year on current account and all expenses on building repair and improvement account either met or provided for by good pledges which will be paid shortly. The whole amount of money raised for all purposes during the year was nearly thirty-six hundred dollars.

The election of officers and committees for 1922 resulted as follows: J. A. H. Nichols, Clerk, Treasurer and Sunday School Superintendent; Goudey Nichols, Assistant Clerk; George Hinman, Assistant Treasurer and D. C. McKay, Assistant Superintendent. Auditors, W. C. DeLong, Goudey Nichols and D. C. McKay. Trustees, Thomas Woodman, R. A. Bell, and J. A. H. Nichols. Deacons, R. A. Bell, W. C. DeLong, and J. A. H. Nichols. Officers, Otis Bell, Harry Gates, Charles Delong and Brandon Roope. Communion Committee, Messrs. R. A. Bell, John Franklin, Byron McNeil, John Nichols, John Franklin and W. C. DeLong. Finance Committee, Messrs. George Hinman, Goudey Nichols, Perry Porter and John Nichols. Building Committee, Messrs. W. W. DeLong, Goudey Nichols, George Hinman, Jas. The Clerk was instructed to send the greetings to absent members and to some who were detained at home by sickness. A vote was passed thanking H. H. Nichols for the financial assistance and encouragement given to the work of repairing the church. The following were appointed a deputation to meet with the Digby Church at the annual meeting: Messrs. Byron McNeil, Otis Bell, Goudey Nichols, D. C. McKay, George Nichols and John Murley. At the conclusion of the business the Chairman, on behalf of the Church, presented to J. A. H. Nichols a teacher's Bible and a Hymnal, as a mark of appreciation of his many faithful labors in various departments of church work and especially in connection with the church repairs. Refreshments were served by the ladies and the meeting closed with singing and prayer.

ICE SUPPLY ON THE FARM

(Experimental Farms Note.)

One day last summer I met a farmer who had been to the station with his cream. He had just received his cheque for July and showed his account with the Company for the same month. It credited him with 52 pounds butter fat at 47 cents from first grade cream, and 224 pounds butter fat at 37 cents from second grade cream. When I asked him how he came to have so much sour cream, he said he had no ice and that his well water wouldn't keep his cream sweet, especially over Sunday. Then I asked him why he hadn't put up ice. "Well he said, 'It was too much bother.'"

A glance at the figures in this man's account will show that he lost $22.40 that month by not having ice. Outside of its use in the dairy, ice is essential in the farm home for supplying the refrigerator, in which meats, butter and other perishable foods can be kept fresh for a number of days.

To know how much ice to put up the following is a safe rule to follow. If engaged in the city milk trade the farmer should put up two tons of ice per cow. If supplying cream, one ton per cow is sufficient, and four tons for household use.

In putting up ice, one foot below the ice, one foot along each side and two feet above should be allowed for the sawdust. If the weather is cold, it is a good plan to pack damp snow between the ice. This prevents the air from melting the ice.

Ice may be stored in the corner of a woodshed or outbuilding, but it is better to have a building especially built for the purpose, because the dampness is apt to rot sills and walls. In building, two things are essential, drainage and ventilation. Unless the soil is sandy, a few inches of gravel under the ice, with a drain to carry off the water, is necessary. By having openings in the gables a draught can be secured which will carry away the warm air under the roof. Plans

DIAMOND WEDDING

Above are the pictures of two of the oldest residents of Weymouth North, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Hankinson, who celebrated their Diamond wedding, December 5, 1921 at their home, amongst a number of relatives and friends. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hankinson were born in Weymouth and were married by Rev. Charles Randall Dec. 5, 1861. They were received into Riverdale Baptist church by Rev. Mr. Randall, who was a great friend of the family during his fifty years of ministry in Weymouth. Mrs. Hankinson is the only surviving member of the late William and Eleanor Leut and Mr. Hankinson has one brother living, Deacon William C. who has had the honor of being a guest at the marriage, the Silver anniversary, the Golden and Diamond anniversaries of this happy couple.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hankinson are enjoying splendid health, and are still able to attend to their home duties. They spent Christmas at their nephews, Mr. Fred Lent's, "Bayside Farm" and New Year's Day with another nephew, Mr. Warren Lent, "Sunset Cottage." Their genial and homelike manner has endeared them to many hearts, and near and they are known to relatives and friends alike, as "Aunt Sarah and Uncle Tom."

A most enjoyable evening was spent. Several vocal solos were rendered, two which deserve special mention were those sung by their pastor, Rev. J. H. Copeland. One was "Crown Him" the other "Go Home and Tell." Another pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation by Rev. Mr. Copeland of a beautifully decorated cake, and on it were the words "Happy Love and Rejoice them to Ps. 91:16. Mr. and Mrs. Hankinson very fittingly expressed their gratitude for this token of appreciation.

Refreshments were then served and very much enjoyed. A request by Mrs. Hankinson was made that the Pastor read Ps. 103 and offer a word of prayer. A most appropriate hymn, "God be with you till we meet again" was then sung by all present. Thus ended a most memorable and joyous evening. We hope Mr. and Mrs. Hankinson may live to see many more of their anniversaries.

MOST DEATHS OCCUR DURING FEBRUARY

Precautions Declared to be Necessary.

Beware of February. Canadians should consider carefully the order of their going during the first three months of the year, for vital statistics for the Dominion just published show that the most fatal months of the year are the first three, most deaths occurring in February, March being the next in the list, January third. In practically every province this is the order, and your correspondent thought it well to-day to find out what enemies Canadians should prepare against during these months.

Dr. J. A. Amyot, Deputy Minister of Health, in answer to queries along this line, said that the main causes of the heavy death list in February were pneumonia and bronchitis.

"The human system becomes peculiarly susceptible to these diseases about February, because that is the month of greatest exhaustion after the hard winter. I imagine also that people about then are getting on a fixed diet in which there is not enough green stuff, such as lettuce, cabbages and so on. The cattle at that time also are probably getting less green feed than at any other time, and so the milk does not supply the lack. The vital resources are getting exhausted after the hard fight against the cold."

"What can be done?" he was asked.

"The best precaution to take is for a man to go home to bed as soon as he gets a cold. He will save time by doing it. A few days then will save a week later, and possibly prevent a condition that may develop into bronchitis or pneumonia. In the army we did not work about the barracks in summer time, but in the winter time bronchitis or pneumonia often developed after it. The protection adopted by us was to put the men to bed where it was possible, and I am certain that many men were saved from death by pneumonia by that timely precaution. The attempt to fight it in the field with a cold is dangerous business."

"Prof. Vaughan of Ann Arbor University medical faculty, says that every man of more than forty years of age should have himself vaccinated against a common cold as early in the winter months as possible. I think it a protection worth recommending."

"Not especially dangerous in this regard, but things important enough to warrant every household's attention are the evil effects from leaky gas jets and lack of humidity. Even if the leak in a gas jet is only enough to make itself perceptible, it has an undoubtedly deleterious effect. The excessive dryness in houses is also bad, irritating as it is to the mucous membrane of nose and eyes. The great fault of our heating systems is the absence of humidity in the air."

The choice of emeralds of Princess Mary's engagement ring has caused a boom in those stones in England. The square cut emerald is the most fashionable and the most expensive. Emeralds are dearer than diamonds, and run from 70 pounds to 80 pounds a carat up to 600 pounds a carat for stones free from flaws, which are extremely rare.

SCOUTS AND GUIDES DELIVER ADDRESS TO SCOUTMASTER HATT

The Boy Scouts and Girl Guides held a joint gathering in the Baptist Vestry on Friday evening of last week. Nineteen scouts and thirteen guides were present, with the leaders in this work. For supper a delicious hunter's stew was cooked and served piping hot, and the Guides saw to it that there was a generous supply of cake and cookies, with delicious hot cocoa. After supper a merry hour was spent in games. An appreciative address, signed by the Scouts and Guides, was presented to Scoutmaster Hatt, Patrol leader Douglas Baxter reading the same. Chief Guide, Mrs. W. E. Tipper, was tireless in her efforts to give the boys and girls a good time.

Following is a copy of the address: Digby, N. S., January 12, 1922. Reverend Mr. Hatt, Organizer and Scoutmaster Boy Scouts Association, Digby, Organizer and Captain Girl Guides Association, Digby.

DEAR MR. HATT:— Having heard recently that you meditate leaving Digby, I, we, the undersigned members of the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides of the Troops, Digby, not only desire to express our most sincere appreciation for the deep interest you have taken in the welfare of the boys and girls of this town, but dare to express the hope that you will reconsider your intention of leaving us.

We are well aware that it was due to your energy and untiring efforts that the Troops of Boy Scouts and Girl Guides were organized in Digby.

Further, we deeply appreciate the fact that from the date our local units were formed you not only devoted to us a very generous share of your time, allowing us to call upon your services at almost any hour of the day, but exhibited at all times a patience which we feel we frequently did not deserve. Should it be impossible for you to reconsider your intention of leaving Digby, we regret that we cannot do more than assure you that you carry with you our sincerest expressions of loyalty and regard.

Last Week in the Maritime Provinces

With a great hole in his breast and part of his clothing burned away, Marley, eighteen-year-old son of Mrs. Rufus Theal, of River Hebert, was found dead in the woods near here Friday. While out hunting he had apparently stumbled on his gun, causing it to explode against his chest.

Ten dollars per family for immediate relief has been granted by the town council of Glace Bay which is facing a serious situation as a result of extensive unemployment in the coal mines of the district. A committee will interview the Dominion Coal Company with a view to obtaining co-operation in relief work. Hon. James Murdoch, minister of labor, has wired asking what provincial and municipal assistance is being given.

The management of the British Empire Steel Corporation announced a general reduction in the selling price of coal in the Maritime Provinces. The Bunker coal has been reduced one dollar per ton at the ports of St. John, Halifax and Sydney. Reductions have also been made in mine prices, and local sales are fifty cents per ton. This action is consequent upon the withdrawal of the restraining order granted last month by the courts, which prevented the corporation from decreasing wages. Application was heard in appeal against this order on Tuesday last, resulting in its being temporarily suspended.

Each of six men who pleaded guilty in the Halifax court Friday morning to trespassing on C. N. R., property were sentenced to four hours of the afternoon in jail. They spent the night in a box car and claimed they had no other place to sleep. Deputy Stipendiary Magistrate O'Hearn, in sentencing them to jail from noon until four o'clock, declared he could not blame the men for wishing to get in out of the cold and expressed the hope that they would enjoy their dinner. Two Russians, charged with deserting from their ship, were sentenced to one hour each in jail, after which they were to be handed over to the immigration authorities.

A serious fire at Edmundston, N.
B., which started at 3 o'clock Friday morning totally destroyed the Queen Hotel near the C. P. R., station with a loss of $25,000. D.
O'neille, the proprietor, said Friday that the insurance amounted to $7,000. Philip Wilson, whose grocery store was on the ground floor, suffered a loss of $2,000. He has $800 insurance. Thirty boarders in the hotel lost all their effects, as did the proprietor. The fire burned briskly until 6 a. m. and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon it was necessary to put more water on the ruins as the flames had started up again. The grocery warehouses of A. F. Randolph & Co., of Fredericton, and of G. E. Barbour Co. Ltd., of St. John, were threatened but were saved.

After last week's heavy storm, 230 unemployed men eagerly grasped the opportunity to earn a few dollars by working for the city of Sydney clearing the streets of ice and snow. When they went to the city hall to get their pay, many of them were tendered receipted bills for poll and other taxes accompanied occasionally by a small difference in cash. One man's envelope was fifteen cents short of the amount of his taxes and he had to make up the difference before being allowed to leave. City Clerk Curry declares the city charter compels officials to make such deductions.

Charged with setting the $75,000 fire which two weeks ago burned out three large buildings on Ferry street, Sydney, rendering fifteen families homeless, Abraham Nathanson was arrested Thursday afternoon at the instance of Major John Rudland, Chief Provincial fire Marshall. Nathanson was lessee of one of the buildings, in which he conducted a provision store. The information sworn out by Major Rudland charged arson with intent to defraud. Nathanson was arraigned before Magistrate Campbell and released on $10,000 bail. The hearing commenced on Monday last.

A terrific gale raged at Lockport last week. The sudden rising of the gale in the night, as the wind hailed to the west, was the indirect cause of what might have been a serious accident on board the schooner Douglas B. Conrad. This vessel was lying at the wharf, and five members of the crew, namely,
Will Mackay, John Stewart, James Crowell, Edward Bell and Raymond Nickerson, spent the night on board. The weather took the form of a driving blizzard, and the men kept a good fire in the cabin stove. However the wind changed

WHEN WE GET THE RAILROAD.

(Republished by request from the Digby Courier.)
The full-rim poem was committed to memory by a 14 year old youth while "setting" type in the printing office of the Free Press, a newspaper published at Bridgetown, in the year 1866. The "Free Press" was a paper conducted by A. M.
Gidney, and Mr. Gidney, long since passed to his reward, was the author of the poetry.

We're going to have a railroad
The first and best has been turned,
Bring out your tallow candles,
And let 'em all be burned:
Make a glorious illumination
And let the rumblers see,
For if we're not a nation
Why we're just a going to be.

We'll bridge the Avon over,
Were it broader than the sea,
In spite of all the farmers,
We'll cross the Grand Pre.

We'll dam the Halloway river
If it comes across our way,
And blast the bit of Horien,
If they try to cause delay.

We'll pass the folks at Wolfville,
Along the ringing rail,
We'll tap the rich Cornwallis
And call it Kentville jail.

Now quiet folks of Aylesford,
The time is drawing nigh,
Don't, I beg you go and tell us
That the railroads in your (joke).

The pleasant shade of Wilmot,
Shall echo "all on board,"
And the sleeping sons of Bridgetown
Shall startle at the word.

The ancient town Annapolis,
With Royal title blest,
Again shall be metropolis
Of all the mighty west.

Away, away to Digby,
Along the ringing rail,
Away, away to Digby,
Through meadow and through vale.

Thither the course victorious,
Were the iron horse to be,
With half a dozen passengers
And half a chest of tea.

There, stop that easy secondrel,
Who says it will not be,
That there's not sufficient travelling
To run one coach a day.

For when we get the railroad Securely in our grip,
There's a mother's son of us
But that will take a trip.

So now we've got the railroad,
The first and best has been turned,
Bring out your tallow candles
And let 'em all be burned.

(The youth referred to above is
Mr. J. E. Connell, a native of Bridgetown—and the railroad referred to, it is needless to say, was the old Windsor & Annapolis, now the up to date Dominion Atlantic.)

Nearly two million dollars worth of radium, or about one-third of a quantity missing from Axtel Hospital, Newton, Kansas, has been recovered from three hundred pounds of ashes by eastern chemists. The radium disappeared about two months ago and investigation prompted the theory that it had found its way to the furnace in bandages removed from patients.
More ashes will be shipped to the

at night to a different quarter and rose to great strength, causing the stove to give off gas. The cabin being shut up, the men suffered considerably from the fumes.
Raymond Nickerson was the first to go on deck very early in the morning, and feeling overcome by the sudden gust of fresh air, he fell back into the cabin. Doctors were immediately summoned. Dr. T. C.
Lockwood and Dr. H. O. Blauvelt arrived on the scene and found that Nickerson had suffered a broken shoulder with internal injuries. The other men fortunately suffered no serious effects from gas, and congratulated themselves on their lucky escape.

VOL. XLVIII No. 25

Proceedings of the Council for the Municipality of the District of Digby, January 1922

The Council in, and for the Municipality of the District of Digby met at the Court House on Tuesday, the 10th January at 2 p. m.

Present H. P. Bowers, warden; Councilors R. C. Gidney, Andrews, Crocker, Cornwell, Young, Fitzgerald, Hankinson, Marshall.

The report of the chief fire ranger was read and discussed; ordered that this report and accompanying bill in the table for further information; ordered that under the amended assessment act of 1921 the poll tax for men from the ages of 18 to 60, not assessed for any property, shall be $3.00; and that the poll tax for men from 18 to 60, who are assessed for property, shall be $1.00; and that the poll tax of 30 cents for all men of 21 years and over shall stand as at present; these resolutions annulling all previous orders and resolutions relating to poll taxes.

The report of Dr. F. E. Rice, Medical Health Officer for the past year, was read and on motion was received.

A letter from the Society for the prevention of Cruelty asking for the donation from the Municipality was read; Resolved, that the sum of $25.00 be sent to this society from the Municipality.

Resolved that the annual fee of $10.00 be paid the Union of Municipalities and that the Warden and Clerk be appointed delegates to attend the convention to be held at Kentville in 1922.

Mr. Spurgeon Wier addressed the Council on the matter of their paying a bill for an operation for a pauper child that he is caring for; it was moved and seconded and passed that the sum of $28.00 be paid to Mr. Wier; it was also advised that if any time further medical or surgical attendance is required for this child the Warden shall be consulted.

Mr. F. P. Goodwin, chief fire ranger, came before the council to give information on the bills of the sub-rangers. The Council agreed with Mr. Goodwin that the rate for day fighting fires should be fixed at $2.25 per day for 1921 and at $2.00 per day for 1922.

Resolved that the clerk be instructed to send a bill to Mr. Edwin A. Haines of Freeport for 1921 rates, his name having been omitted, by mistake, from the assessment roll. Ordered that Mr. Leslie Ruggles, Weymouth North, be refunded $5.30, his poll tax having been paid in Kentville and in Digby for the same year. Ordered that any assessment rolls for 1921-1922 not satisfactory to the clerk be returned to the assessor for revision.

The report of the assessment committee followed; Moved, seconded and passed that the amounts below be cancelled in the various districts and the collectors relieved.

The tender of Dr. W. R. Dickie for the position of medical health officer for the municipality for the present year was read, and on motion was accepted, according to the Health Act.

Dr. Jost of the dept of Public Health addressed the Council on the subject of Institutions for Insane, it being the desire of the Government to establish centres where all the insane, now in local institutions, can be properly cared for; the Government are asking for the co-operation and support of the Municipalities before beginning this work.

The Sheriff addressed the Council asking for ten tons of soft coal for the heating of the jail.

Moved, seconded and passed that no action be taken at this session of this Council regarding the Public Health Nurse.

The matter of revising the by-laws of the Municipality was taken up and it was resolved that the clerk secure the assistance of the municipal solicitor, F. W. Nichols and have the by-laws revised.

Moved, seconded and passed that the Warden and Councilor Crocker be appointed a committee to investigate the placing of the Lewis children of Freeport and report at the next meeting of the Council.

Moved, seconded and passed that the clerk secure prices of badges for police constables and report at the next session of the Council.

The following appointments were, on motion passed.

That Dr. W. F. Read be jail surgeon for the year 1922.

That Herbert Bacon be Court clerk for the year 1922.

That David Hazelton be Court constable for the year 1922.

That J. Milton Sabeen be appointed inspector under the Nova Scotia Temperance Act, at a salary of $100.00 per year.

Moved, seconded and passed that the sheriff be given coal to the amount of $100.00 for the heating of the jail.

Moved, seconded and passed that F. W. Nichols be appointed solicitor for the Municipality for year 1922, at the usual fee.

On motion the auditors' report was received and approved.

To The Warden and Council of the Municipal District of Digby,

GENTLEMEN:

We have pleasure in handing you herewith Financial Statement of the year 1921 for your district, together with our report of audit for the period and a resume of the work covered.

The statement appended is a detailed summary of all cash income received by the Treasurer for the period and in the manner in which it was expended, leaving a balance in funds in the Bank of Nova Scotia; this is complete accounting for cash incomes and out-go.

It was our intention to compile statements showing all the expenses for the period as well as all income; whether the expenses were paid or not, or whether the income was all received or not; this is the ideal in accountancy whether municipal or commercial, but your Council suggested that the statements be prepared on the same basis as in past periods, viz. on the inflow and outflow of cash, and this we have done.

Our detailed audit reveals that all municipal cash income received by the Treasurer was deposited in the bank funds and that any withdrawals therefrom were authorized and ordered for legitimate expenditures and properly supported by vouchers; also the remaining balance shown by the Bank of Nova Scotia account is correct; we are pleased to certify to this effect.

The clerical work and accounts were in a most satisfactory condition and a pleasure to work with; all the duties of the Clerk and your Chairman of Finance Committee that came under our notice have been efficiently and carefully performed, and the work is in a much better condition than we usually find in municipal administrations.

We wish to make the following recommendations and comments. In our report of last year we called attention to the fact that, in our opinion the Stipendiaries, Inspectors, etc., concerned with the handling of funds with which the municipality has a claim should place on file in the proper place a detailed statement of the matters handled by them in their several capacities, and a signed income and expenditure account of all cash which they have handled in connection therewith; we do not find this procedure has been carried out and the statements are not available.

Our duties carry us into municipalities where this recommended course is the rule observed, and a most satisfactory one it is. The balance of monies, if any, is carried in a special bank account capable of identification.

In making your budget for 1921 many of the larger expenses were accurately estimated; the amount required by the N. S. Hospital somewhat exceeded your figure, as did the expenditures to the Victoria General. Contingent Account was very much in excess of the estimate and no provision was made for Public Charities which is an ever growing item and amounted to more than $600.00 in the last period.

It may not be outside our duties to recommend to your Council a consideration of possible benefits from a re-valuation of assessable property within this district, and also to the end that a more equitable and efficient way of administering and applying the existing act. In Westmorland County,

N. B. last year there was a thorough re-valuation and the amount of extra property brought upon the roll, alone resulted in income sufficient to pay for the cost of the work and to insure a larger extra income to the Municipality for years to come with a lower rate; the chief points gained were the listing of properties never before on the rolls, the comparing of first-hand information and the discussion of valuations and taxation with most of the larger tax-payers with a view to make the procedure equitable; this resulted in much satisfaction to the tax-payers when they saw that the whole thing was being done upon a business-like method and a basis of equality.

In closing we might state that we have not been but duties with a sense of our responsibilities; the time consumed was in

The report of the Committee on Roads and Bridges was read and received, as follows. We our committee on Roads and Bridges hereby recommend the following: That road section No. 21 in the District of Brighton, No. 2, be made into two districts, the new district commencing at Aymer's corner and running to the Joggins Bridge; new district to be known as No. 25.

Councillor Marshall, chairman of the Committee read the report of the Committee on Tenders and Public Property which on motion was received and accepted, as follows.

To the Warden and Councilors of the Municipality of the District of Digby, GENTLEMEN:

Your committee on Tenders and Public Property begs leave to present the following report for the year 1921.

Court House. The Janitor, Mr. David Hazelton, was re-engaged for the year and his salary raised at $40.00 per month.

The ladies of the Canadian Club of Digby engaged in relief work have continued to use the Chambers room gratis.

Your instructions to have arch-way in front of building repaired have been carried out, also around each window frame the shrinkage has been filled full of cement.

The order passed for Court House maintenance, including Janitor's salary, during the year amounted to $1044.33.

The sum of $1200.00 was voted last year.

Your committee would recommend a vote of $1500.00 for the present year.

Jail. The total amount of orders issued during the year 1921 was $471.93. We have had no further trouble with water since the laying of the new drain, but water still comes in thru the cellar wall. This is not very satisfactory at times for the janitor. The cost of running the jail, with the Janitor's salary, was $203.97. The vote last year was $900.00. Your committee recommends a vote of $900.00 for the coming year.

Poor Outside. Your Committee spent on the support of the Poor, Outside the House, during the year 1921 the sum of $1323.25. Last year you voted $1200.00. Your committee recommends a vote of $1200.00 for the coming year.

Poor Inside. Orders for $811.18 were issued during the year 1921 for the poor and farm-houses inside the House. In this particular, we still have a full house and expenses have not fallen to any great extent. You voted $5500.00 for this service in 1921 and your committee would recommend a vote of not less than $4500.00 for 1922.

It was moved, seconded and by vote carried that Chapter 7 of the Act of 1921 re Institutions for the Insane be not accepted by this Council.

The report of the Committee on Roads and Bridges was read and received, as follows. We our committee on Roads and Bridges hereby recommend the following: That road section No. 21 in the District of Brighton No. 2, be made into two districts; the new district commencing at Aymar's corner and running to the Joggin Bridge; new district to be known as No. 25.

Councillor Marshall, chairman of the Committee read the report of the Committee on Tenders and Public Property which on motion was received and accepted, as follows:

To The Warden, and Councillors of the Municipality of the District of Digby, GENTLEMEN:
Your committee on Tenders and Public Property beg leave to present the following report for the year 1921.

Court House.
The Janitor, Mr. David Hazelton, was re-engaged for the year and his salary remains at $40.00 per month.
The ladies of the Canadian Club of Digby engaged in relief work have continued to use and Chambers' room gratis during the year.
Your instructions to have arch-way in front of building repaired have been carried out, also, around each window frame the shrinkage has been filled with cement.

The orders passed for Court House maintenance, including Janitor's salary, during the year amounted to $204.33.
The sum of $1200.00 was voted last year.

Jail.
The total amount of orders issued during the year 1921 was $411.93. We have had no further trouble with water since the laying of the new drain, but water still comes in thru the cellar wall. This is not very satisfactory at times for the janitor. The cost of running the jail, with the Janitor's salary, was $203.75. The vote last year was $200.00. Your committee recommends a vote of $200.00 for the coming year.

Poor Outside.
Your Committee spent on the support of the Poor, Outside the Home, during the year an amount of $132.25. Last year you voted $1200.00. Your committee recommends a vote of $1200.00 for the coming year.

Poor Inside.
Orders for $511.18 were issued during the year 1921 for the poor and harmless insane inside the Home. In this particular the sum of $400.00. Your committee have not fallen to any great extent. You voted $500.00 for this service in 1921 and your committee would recommend a vote of not less than $400.00 for 1922.

Memo. of stock on Farm, Jan. 1st, 1922.
1 horse, 6 cows, 2 pigs, 13 hens and 1 calf.
The products raised during 1921 were:
25 tons hay, 30 bu. oats, 2 loads of straw, 350 bu. potatoes, 10 bu. table beets, 200
bu. turnips, 15 bu. carrots, 12 bu. parsnips, 4 tons food grain, green peas, beans, cucumbers, squash, radish, lettuce, butter, milk, and eggs to supply the Home.

Sgd. WM. H. THOMAS.
Marshalltown, Jan. 1, 1922.
P. S. The pigs raised on farm, weighed, 237, 241 and 301. All consumed on the farm.

Alms House.
Your Committee would recommend that a fighting plant be installed, and thus do away with the lamps and candles, eliminating the danger of fire, and bring the institution up to a standard of efficiency.

If the Council decides to install plant above recommended it will be necessary for a vote of $600.00 extra.
Your committee has expended during the last year $132.18 on this account, and would recommend a vote of $300.00.
Since the new pipes were installed we have had no trouble with our water system. We have had considerable trouble with or by the escape of the inmate from the inside of the house, and to avoid further trouble we should at once have new and proper fastenings

SO MANY PEOPLE ARE NERVOUS

"Fruit-a-lives" the Greatest of All Nerve Remedies

This Fruit Medicine Restores Health

The increase in the number of persons suffering from Nervousness is world-wide; due, in a measure, to the modern following the war. Sleeplessness, Headaches, Nervous Depression, Rheumatism, Nervous Dyspepsia, Bad Heart Action, are the results of a disturbed condition of the Nervous System.

The nerves and the blood are so intimately connected that the condition of one is bound to affect the condition of the other. If the blood is laden with impurities, it is impossible to have strong, steady nerves.

The first essential in treating nervous troubles is to purify the blood. This "FRUIT-A-LIVES" will do. "FRUIT-A-LIVES" stimulates the bowels, kidneys and skin and purifies the blood. "Fruit-a-lives" improves appetite and digestion and insures food being properly digested, thus enabling the blood to carry wholesome nourishment to build up the body, particularly the nerves.

Men and women who take "Fruit-a-lives" for some form of nervousness—because they cannot eat or sleep or work or enjoy life—say that this fruit medicine is simply marvellous in its action.

Box a, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

DEEP BROOK

Miss Mary FitzRandolph, of Round Hill, is the guest of Mrs. Frank Ruggles. Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Hutchinson accompanied their daughter Ruth, from Nova Scotia, Kentville, to Halifax, where she is to undergo a serious operation. Reports so far are encouraging.

Miss Gertrude Curtis, who is employed in Digby, spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Wm. Curtis.

L. J. Nichol attended the Nova Scotia Growers' Association at Kentville on Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Woodworth, of Midton, have been to Deep Brook to make their home with their daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Page.

Miss Pauline Spurr left on Wednesday for Windsor where she will take up studies at Edgillville. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. S. A. Spurr, who before returning will spend several days with her son Albert in Kentville, and also visit friends in Bridgetown.

Miss Ethel Mackay returned to her home in Newport, Hants Co., last Monday after a pleasant visit with her friend, Harriet Nichol.

T. K. Phil, chief electrician at the P. & N. Mill, has returned to his home in Wallace, on account of work being discontinued.

Mrs. Jane Hoyt is visiting friends in Bridgetown.

The St. Matthew's Guild recently held a cloth pin social which afforded a pleasant and profitable evening.

BEAR RIVER EAST

Forest Fraser returned to Halifax, on Wednesday of last week.

A number of our young people enjoyed a sleigh drive to Deep Brook on Friday evening.

Mrs. T. Douglas has been confined to her bed with a severe attack of rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Howard, spent Sunday with Mrs. Howard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Ruggles.

Miss Ruby Waterman spent the week end with Mrs. A. J. Johnson.

Owing to the severe storm Sunday evening, Rev. E. O. Steeves was unable to hold the usual monthly service.

B. Y. P. U. SERVICE Local and General

The service on Friday evening, Jan. 20th, was conducted by Group A, under the leadership of Miss C. A. Hall. This meeting was of very special interest; the subject "World Fellowship," being treated in an original manner, a number of papers having been prepared on this subject by the members. The paper published below was prepared and read by Miss Edna Peck, and will be of interest to all those who remember the B. Y. P. U. in its early beginnings.

In the preceding papers we have been told a little of "the young people of other lands, but how much, I wonder, do we know about ourselves, not individually, but collectively as a Union."

I suppose the moment I tell you that I am going to give you the history of our Union many will take the next few minutes to make up that long list of sleep. However, I am going to venture, and as the facts obtainable were very few, your nap must needs be very short.

Our Union began while Mr. Nobles was pastor, twenty-seven years ago. It was not brought into being because the young people did not come to the mid-week meetings, they did come and in large numbers too, but in those meetings they were not learning leadership, they were depending on the older members.

After considering several courses Mr. Nobles decided to have a meeting for young people only, of which they were to take the lead and carry on all business of the organization, thus better to train them for church leadership in future years. This was the first step.

The first meeting was held on a mid-week night, 1895. The vestry was crowded with young people and they were prouder than that night, rather higher than the ceiling in spite of the fact that they had only the old mezzanine, which now stands discarded in the corner, to guide them.

"During the first few years the Union was conducted on the same plan as the Wednesday evening meeting, the only exception being that a member of the Union led the meeting instead of the pastor. With the advent of Mr. Schumann came the introduction of a specified course of study in the form of an official called 'Syllabus of the Sacred Literature Course of the B. Y. P. U. A.' These were found to be very helpful and the Union continued to grow for several years, but when Mr. Corbett was here he thought it advisable to have only one meeting during the week, and the Union was reunited with the Wednesday evening meeting.

When Mr. Crandall came the Union was reorganized and the group system introduced. When Mr. Bone succeeded Mr. Crandall, another reorganization took place and the group system was prepared for, but never carried out on a working basis.

Today our Union is well organized and it remains with us alone to make it a growth in the life of the church.

In order to make our Union a success we must feel that it is an individual matter. Every Union Meeting is just what you make it. It does not rest with the group leaders alone, for of what value is a well prepared programme if no one comes to listen, and if they do come and don't listen, what then? Walls never were the source of very great inspiration to a leader.

If this winter is to count as a success in our Union we must all stand prepared to back up the Union, and we must be glad even if we haven't much to give, when I say give, I do not mean money alone, time and talent are what we need in the Union. If we should choose a motto which will make our meetings a success and help us to sub. duce the self in service let that motto be "Others."

World Fellowship among young people, which can be obtained by establishing throughout the world this common link, the B. Y. P. U., can only be made possible by each Union of the Christianized world being strong enough to help, give themselves, and then to reach out a hand to a struggling brother. Are we as a Union strong enough to bring about this World Fellowship?

Wedding Bells

RICE-ADAMS
A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, Jan. 18, at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Adams, Deep Brook, when their eldest daughter, Ruth Evelyn became the bride of Willie D. Rice, of Bear River.

S. S. Grogan, of the Bear River Baptist church performed the ceremony. The bride who looked very charming in a white tulle and lace gown, also wearing a seal skin scarf, the gift of the groom, entered the parlor on the arm of her father, to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March rendered by Miss Hilda Adams, sister of the bride. Both bride and groom were unattended, the single ring service being used. Immediately after the ceremony a delicious buffet lunch was served to about forty of the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The happy couple left by train on a short honeymoon trip. On their return they will reside in Bear River. The many beautiful gifts of glass, silver and linen show the high esteem in which the young couple are held by their many friends.

"Faddy" Appetites
When the digestive organs are out of order you need the help of Bayer's St. John's Syrup. The herbal medicine which is the basis of this Syrup is made to restore tone and strength to jaded stomachs, make food yield nourishment and save from the many ills which indigestion brings. Bayer's St. John's Syrup is now sold in 50c. and $1.00 bottles at drug stores.

That's a Nasty Cough YOU SHOULD USE

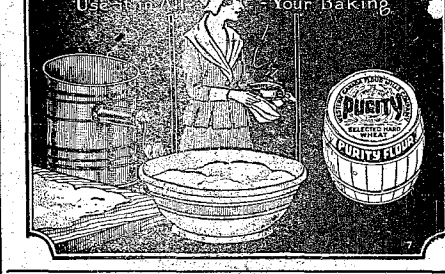

"I used it last winter when I had a rasping, hacking cough that nearly shook me to pieces. NADRUCO Syrup of Tar with Cod Liver Oil Compound stopped the cough, healed my throat and bronchial tubes, and I have not had a cold since. There's a drug store - get a bottle and take a dose as soon as you get home. No - there's no taste of oil about it - it's pleasant to take."

Minard's Liniment For Garget in Cows

Wood's Peppermint Cure

The Great English Remedy. Cures and relieves the most distressing coughs, colds, and whooping coughs. It is a most valuable remedy for all respiratory troubles.

One of the best known guides in Nova Scotia gives this testimonial of MINARD'S LINIMENT:

"I have used Minard's Liniment in my home, hunting and lumber camps for years, and consider it the best white liniment on the market."

"I find that it gives quick relief to minor ailments, such as sprains, bruises and all kinds of wounds. Also it is a great remedy for coughs, colds, etc., which one is liable to catch when log driving and cruising during the winter and spring months. I would not be without MINARD'S LINIMENT and cannot recommend it too highly."

Is Now a Healthy Boy

"From a puny, delicate child, my little Johnny has become a strong sturdy boy."

One mother writes—"If you had seen my little Johnny four months ago you would never believe that he is the same boy. Then he weighed only 40 pounds. Today he weighs 60 pounds, almost double what he weighed four months ago. His trouble first started with a cold, which we never noticed because he was strong and like all boys of his age occasionally caught cold. After a while we began to notice that his cough, instead of getting better, was getting worse, that he was looking pale and losing weight. He seemed to be tired all the time, had no energy to do any thing. Before he caught this cold he had no trouble with his lessons and remained cheerful in his class without much study. But we began to notice a change. He didn't seem to care whether he knew his lessons or not and didn't seem to interest him. He coughed so much and so hard at times that his face would become purple and he would surely burst a blood vessel. Medicines and cough mixtures didn't do him any good. Finally, in desperation, we began to think of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In a short time his cough had almost disappeared. His appetite was returning and he was beginning to like school in his studies. And, thanks to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, he has become a strong and healthy as he has ever been."

Carroll is told by your druggist and if you can conscientiously say after you have tried it that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle and we will refund your money. 1-122

AMBERMAN-CONDON.

A very quiet but exceedingly pretty home wedding took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Condon, Karsdale, when their youngest daughter, Miss Libby, was united in marriage to George W. Amberman, an enterprising and highly esteemed resident of Granville Ferry.

The ceremony was officiated by Rev. W. G. Fowler, the pastor of the Lower Granville Baptist Church. The bride was beautifully attired in navy blue embroidered silk and looked exceedingly attractive. Mrs. Harry Mills played the wedding march in her beautiful voice.

The bride was accompanied by her father, Mr. T. B. Condon, and her mother, Mrs. T. B. Condon. The wedding party consisted of the bride, groom, best man, maid of honor, bridesmaids, flower girls, ring bearer, and ushers.

The reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents. The guests included friends and relatives of both families. The evening was spent in a most enjoyable manner.

The wedding party was accompanied to the church by a procession of friends. The ceremony was a most beautiful one.

Self-Raising

Not many things in this world are self-raising. Can you think of any? Oh yes, say you, self-raising buckwheat. Oh hush—I am sorry I spoke—I smell them now—BUCKWHEAT PANCAKES. My pallet is beginning to whiggle. Red hot pancakes with Jersey corn's butter and molasses. Yes sir, molasses, none of your syrups, Bardoos molasses, the sugary kind, on them. Oh my, bring them along quick, quick I say. But it's not about self-raising buckwheat I desire to speak to you about, but self-raising blinns, window blinds, you know, the religious kind, always wanting to go up. How different to the old pin—the sinful kind always wanting to go down—had to fasten to restrain them or they would depart before their time. Can we sell you any of the kind that let a little sunshine in?

PROCEEDINGS OF MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

over the windows. This should be done at once as it has been postponed for some time already. The Committee met at the Alms House for the above purpose during the war, and it was thought owing to the high price of material, to put it off, but it is costing entirely too much money looking up the inmates who escape, to delay any longer.

Your Committee advertised for Tenders for supplies and medical attendance for the year 1922 in the Digby Courier and on the 17th of December, 1921, met at the Court House in Digby and awarded the contract.

Tenders were received from A. A. Shortliffe and A. R. Turnbull for groceries. The tender of A. A. Shortliffe being lowest was accepted.

Only one tender for dry goods was received, that of J. L. Peters, which was accepted.

Also tender of Dr. W. F. Read for medical attendance at Alms House was accepted.

Tender for wood was given to James A. Rice.

And tender for boots, shoes and rubbers to M. Webster & Sons.

In August your committee advertised for tenders for a new Keeper at the Alms House. Several tenders were received and opened on August 4th. The tender of William H. Thomas, being the lowest, was accepted and he was appointed Keeper of the Alms House at a salary of $600 per year.

Your committee finds that during the last ten years the cost per day per inmate, including their food and clothes, heat, light, medical and other attendance has been as follows:

1911	$ 0.238
1912	0.234
1913	0.224
1914	0.224
1915	0.195
1916	0.178
1917	0.227
1918	0.238
1919	0.278
1920	0.30
1921	0.30

Councillor Crocker read the report of the Committee for poor and harmless insane, which on motion was received and accepted.

100 years of Success

Many a volunteer nurse in remote sections has given heartfelt praise to this grand old andryne. Its timely use insures speedy relief and safety against complications. Generation after generation of happy users have proved it to be the greatest of all family remedies for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Grippe, Cramps, Colic, Chills, Strains, Cuts, Burns, Etc. All dealers 25 and 50 cents.

We, your committee on matters regarding the Poor and harmless insane, tender the following: we find the expense for the year 1921, Jail $473.93, Court House $204.38, Poor Outside $1323.85, Poor Inside $5811.18.

We have gone over all your vouchers and book and find them correct as stated above, and would recommend that the amounts below mentioned be voted for present year; Jail $400.00, Court House $1500.00, Poor Outside $1200.00, Poor Inside $4500.00.

Moved, seconded and passed that the list of officers for districts Nos. 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 13, 15, 16, 17, 22, be accepted.

Resolved that the proceedings of the Council and the list of officers be published in the Digby Weekly Courier, as usual.

Resolved that the Committee on Tenders and Public Property be instructed to secure estimates on the cost of necessary repairs for the Court House and to report at the next session of the Council.

Councillor Hankinson read the report of the Committee on Finance and Public Accounts, recommending that certain bills be paid and giving the estimates for the current year, which on motion was received and adopted.

Report of the Finance Committee.

We, your Committee on finance and public accounts, hereby recommend that the following bills be paid to the several persons mentioned below; and that the same, with any estimates named herein be assessed upon the Municipality, according to law:—

Listen!

Have you heard about Peps? Peps is a scientific preparation put up in pillule form, which provides an entirely new and effective treatment for coughs, colds, chest and throat troubles.

Peps contains certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapor, and are breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid could get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps pills get there direct, and at once commence healing.

FREE TRIAL. Cut out this coupon, write across it the name and date of this paper, and mail it (with 1c stamp to pay return postage) to Peps Co., Toronto. A free trial packet will then be sent you. All druggists and stores sell Peps, 50c. box.

S. S. CLASS HAD VERY GOOD YEAR

The "Unity Class" of the Weymouth United Baptist Sunday School held their annual meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. Arch Thurston. The meeting was opened with prayer by the pastor, Rev. J. H. Copeland. The President Mrs. Cornwell presided.

The report submitted showed good work accomplished during the year. The report of the Secretary is as follows: Since last annual business meeting, Fellowship Class has had nine members. Members enrolled at the beginning of the year, twenty-nine. Average attendance, seven.

We have added to our membership roll during the year, six new members, two members have withdrawn, others have left the community, but we trust our members may increase during the coming year. Absent members are kept in touch with through our corresponding committee.

Special offerings have been given to the Foreign Mission Board, the Sunday School Board and the Grande Ligue Mission.

Class also furnishes their own lessons and whenever called upon to give the class has very readily responded. It has also furnished flowers from the Florist in a beautiful manner, which has been voted and given towards a gift for the Superintendent and Assistant Teacher.

This came out of the class funds. Personal gifts have been given on different occasions.

Class held two socials and one picnic during the year.

In February a musical social was held at the home of the teacher Rev. J. H. Copeland. The proceeds of the evening, $17.40 which went towards paying of the debt on the Bethel.

In June a picnic was held on the grounds of Alderfield.

In November a social was held at Bay-side Farm for the purpose of bringing the members and friends together for a social evening.

Receipts received during the year $75.65. Expenditures $66.00.

Great credit must be given to the teachers for the interest they have taken and in the able manner they have tried to help through the teaching of God's Word.

Much credit is also due the President for her interest and faithfulness, having assisted only one session during the year.

We feel that God has blessed us as a class and that it is increasing in interest. We trust and pray that greater interest may be manifested that each member may become more and more interested each session we meet, and let us strive during the coming year to make our class so interesting, that our members will not want to be absent, and may Fellowship Class prove to be a blessing to the community in which we live.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows:

Mrs. J. Cornwell, President, (re-elected). Mrs. Blackader, Vice President. Mrs. Fred Lent, Secretary, (re-elected). Mrs. Albert Grant, Treasurer.

MRS. FRED LENT, Secretary.

DODGE BROTHERS PRICES REDUCED.

Fifteen hundred Dodge Brothers Dealers were surprised to learn that the prices of Dodge Brothers Motor Cars were reduced in effect on January 1st. Official announcement of the reduction, the time and nature of which caused a sensation in automobile circles, was made by F. J. Haynes, president and general manager of Dodge Brothers, at the annual meeting and luncheon of Dodge Brothers Dealers in the Pennsylvania Hotel, Detroit.

The reduction made by Dodge Brothers is decidedly unusual in that it is both retrospective and indicative of the future. To the announcement, the new prices of Dodge Brothers cars were made public February 1st, and will apply on all cars sold after January 1st. This means, of course, that persons who have bought Dodge Brothers cars since the first of the year will be entitled to a rebate, the amount of which is still unknown to the public.

TIVERTON

David Outhouse was host at a very jolly birthday party yesterday afternoon. Master David had attained the age of six years as a big birthday cake bright with candles testified. There were a number of boys and girls present and the old waiter interfered not at all with their enjoyment. Games and prizes were passed very quickly. Ice cream and cake were served for refreshments. When the guests retired, Master David was very tired, and that Master David had several birthday cakes, and that he would entertain them again next January 29th.

Railway News in Brief

Monroe, Jan. 3.—Good progress has been made during the past month with the work of finishing the interior of the C. P. R. Office Building, connection with the station here. The contractors expect that the building will be ready for occupancy by April 1. This will complete one of the finest stations west of Winnipeg.

Vancouver, B.C.—The Committee of the Board of Trade was told by W. B. Langman, traffic manager of the C. P. R., that the freight classification No. 17 which was prepared in 1919 has been shelved, and an entirely new list is at present being prepared.

There was considerable discussion in regard to the retention of the existing trade list, under which shippers can mix certain commodities in the same cars for shipping. Local business men were afraid that the present trade list would be interfered with to the detriment of their business, but Mr. Langman gave an undertaking that they might have a modification in the existing arrangements, but it would not be of any great importance, in any material way with business.

Much satisfaction was expressed by the Board members at this assurance.

Kingston, Ont.—The Royal Military College at Kingston has received some interesting relics presented by prominent C. P. R. officials. Mr. E. W. Beatty, K.C., President of the Canadian Pacific Railway has sent two splendid war relics in the form of a Prussian helmet and a regimental flag captured from the enemy during the late war. Mr. Beatty, who is a member of the college, has been very much interested in its progress and his gifts have been placed in the staff mess.

A number of very interesting and serviceable articles have been handed over to the college by Colonel F. L. Wanklyn, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, one of which, an umbrella stand made from a massive shell-case is in the possession of the college.

Colonel Wanklyn has also given the college a splendid picture of a battle scene, a group of composite photographs taken of fighting and an express train. These gifts are being placed in the staff mess-room.

Mr. A. D. MacTavish, of the C. P. R., has also presented an engraving of the "Princess Louise" to the college. This wonderful Scottish picture has been much admired by the college.

The kindness of these friends of the Military College is appreciated by all connected with the college. The gifts are being placed in the staff mess-room.

Vancouver, B.C.—The "Princess Louise," all-British Columbia built and newest addition to the coastwise passenger fleet of the house, will be ready for commission shortly, it was stated by Capt. C. D. Harcourt, manager of the British Columbia Coast Steamship Service.

"Princess Louise" will first be operated, Capt. Harcourt states, on the route between Victoria and Vancouver, which will be in the hands of the "Princess Louise" machinery before she is sent north to Alaska for which service the "Princess Louise" is designed.

Alaska service between Victoria, Vancouver, Prince Rupert and Skagway will be maintained by the "Princess Louise" from the time she is put into commission for the northern run until June next, when the summer schedule of the Alaska route will go into effect.

The first of the sailings under the summer schedule will be taken by the "Princess Louise," leaving Victoria June 9 at 11 p.m., and clearing from Vancouver at 9 p.m., June 10. The "Princess Louise" will be operated to Alaska this summer in conjunction with the "Princess Alice." These two splendid ships will give the coastwise service the finest steamship service they have ever had. It will amount to approximately a semi-weekly service.

The summer schedule of the "Princess Louise" from Victoria to Alaska is as follows: June 10, June 23, July 6, July 19, August 2, August 15, August 28, September 11, September 24, October 7, October Dominion War Veterans To Meet at Digby In September

The Provincial Executive Considers Important Matters at All Night Session.

Digby will be the convention town of the Dominion and the Provincial G. W. V. A. late in September of this year. The national and Nova Scotia conventions will be held on contemporary dates. This was decided by the Executive of the Provincial Command meeting at Truro on Saturday. It was on the recommendation of the same Executive that the Dominion G. W. V. A. will come to Digby this year. The date has not yet been set.

After sitting all night the Provincial Executive of the Nova Scotia Command of the G. W. V. A. adjourned early Saturday morning. Some discussion vital to the interests of the Provincial members and two of Dominion interests were arrived at. Delegations were appointed to lay the opinion of the Executive before the next parliamentary committee at Ottawa and the Government at Halifax. The Nova Scotia convention and the Dominion Convention, which meets in Nova Scotia this year will be held at the Pines, Digby, in the latter part of September. The date will be fixed by the Dominion Executive. Digby was chosen for the Dominion meeting by the Provincial Executive on account of its proximity to St. John, the eastern terminus of the C. P. R. in order to facilitate the journey for the western delegates.

It was also considered that as the majority of the delegates will be residents of inland places, a good impression of the province would be given by holding the meeting at a summer resort. The invitation to hold the provincial convention at Truro this year was laid on the table and will probably be accepted for 1923. The decision to hold the Nova Scotia convention concurrently with the Dominion meeting was made chiefly on financial grounds and the provincial work will probably be done at Digby caucus.

Dr. Whitman, of Stellarton, vice President of the Nova Scotia Command, was appointed to meet the Parliamentary Committee at Ottawa on March 7th. Among other matters he will lay before them a strong criticism of the political tactics during the last Dominion election, particularly the interview given to the press by General Secretary McNeil, in which the Quebec "bloc" was charged with conspiring to hand the Government railways over to the Canadian Pacific interests. The Provincial Executive were unanimous in their expression on this point.

Vice President Whitman, Secretary Hamilton, Rev. A. E. Andrews, and Mr. Power were appointed to meet the Nova Scotia Government to discuss the unemployment situation. Several suggestions are to be placed before the Government.

The work of the Soldiers Settlement Board was discussed and it was decided to move for a return of the Nova Scotia work under an independent Provincial office with headquarters at Truro or Amherst.

Questions and Answers on Forestry

by the Canadian Forestry Association

Q. As a school teacher I have been recently asked the question why a tree should ever die. Can you answer this for me?

A. Theoretically a tree should never die for while the old central part of the trunk may decay, this is of little moment so long as new layers are regularly put on at the circumference. The growth of a tree is entirely in the cambium layer at the outer edge and not at the heart. The fact is, of course, that trees succumb always to external causes. Insect, fungus diseases, fires, excessive cold or drought, are factors that limit the actual life of trees. The redwood trees on the California Coast, some of them thirty feet in diameter, have attained an age of from three thousand to four thousand years. There are also trees on the island of Teneriffe, off the African coast, which are believed to be equally as old.

Q. Some people claim that forest fires have actually increased the fur bearing animals in the far north. Is this true?

A. The Hudson Bay Company declares such a theory emphatically untrue. They state that repeated forest fires have gone far to extinguish for commercial purposes the fur bearing animals such as fox, ermine, fisher, and others in Northern Ontario which unlike the beaver and muskrat are unable to take refuge from forest fires by entering the water. It is a curious fact that the marten in face of a forest fire will climb a tree for safety and usually of course falls victim. Canada's fur trade is decidedly menaced by the present plague of forest fires.

"Saved My Little Girl!"

Mother tells how her little Ethel's life was saved.

That is what one woman wrote us recently, and then she goes on to say:—"Ethel, who is just past eight, caught a bad cold last August. The child is of a highly strung, nervous temperament and could not be kept quiet in bed. We tried everything we could think of to cure her cough. But, the cough became worse and from a rosy, healthy, sturdy girl she became pale and thin. Nothing we did seemed to stop the cough and by this time regular spasms had completely taken hold of her. Her coughing spells left the child weak and completely tired out. I believe that in a short time the cough would have reached the child's lungs. After trying everything I could think of, I saw an advertisement for Carnot, saying that this preparation would build one up. I got a bottle from the druggist and before it was half finished my little girl had almost completely shaken off her cough. Her cheeks began to get back their old colour. She started to put on flesh again and would run and play all day without being tired. Today, after having taken two bottles of Carnot, she is looking and feeling better than she ever felt in her life."

Carnot is sold by your druggist and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle and he will refund your money.

A. According to the Provincial Forester, Quebec lost twelve hundred square miles by fire last year. This of course represents an enormous loss and it is the duty of every citizen who enters the forests of Quebec to join hands with the fire rangers in making a repetition of such loss impossible in 1922. The great majority of fires doing such damage to one of Quebec's great resources were due to human carelessness and the attitude of "don't care."

Q. Is there any way of estimating financially what a shade tree in good condition in front of my residence is worth? Has there been any court decision establishing such a point?

A. In New York State the court established a record by handing down a verdict of $500, each for destruction of a tree by a construction company. In this case an arbitrary value was placed on the tree by means of its diameter, as for instance, $2 per inch. That is, a tree eighteen inches in diameter would be worth $36. There is a second method which takes in an arbitrary value per square inch of basal area taken at breast height or four and a half feet from the ground. In Massachusetts the usual figure used in this case is one dollar in which case a tree having a basal area of 234 square inches would be considered worth $234; the latter figure however is generally regarded as being far too high.

SPECIAL MEETING OF TOWN COUNCIL

BUY IN NOVA SCOTIA

Buy at home. Every dollar spent at home helps to keep the wheels of industry in your own city or town turning. Every dollar spent in your own city or town helps to give some other person employment. And it helps the man or woman who does the spending.

People forget about the efficiency of the dollar bill. The big enterprises grow from small beginnings. Business success is never attainable unless the small details are carefully watched. Economy in small things spells success in great things. So it is with the spending of money by the people of a city or town. There are two ways of spending. One way is to spend it so it will bear fruit in your own community. The other way is to spend it so it will give employment in other places and do good to the people of another city or town.

In this town, for example, we have to keep up our schools, build our streets, provide our water supply, and fire protection, pay for light and power, maintain our churches and charitable institutions. These matters call for dollar bills. One dollar bill may not look very large. It may not seem to be of much importance. But if you have thirty or forty thousand men and women spending dollar bills every day the total sum grows into a big pile.

If the most of these people, or half of them, or quarter of them are spending their dollar bills outside of their own city, they are leaving it to the others to maintain the essential work of the city.

Let your dollar bills be working every day for the benefit of your own city or town. Every time you put one in circulation you stimulate your own community help others to earn wages, and assist in building up your city or town. If you send your dollar bills out of the province, when you can buy at home, you add to the payrolls of some other community. Help give employment to people there, and set back your own city or town to some extent.

Thousands of dollar bills go out of Nova Scotia for goods that citizens can buy at home. The goods from abroad seem better because they come from Winnipeg or Boston or New York. They are no better just as good value can be got on Barrington, or Granville or Gottenberg streets, and on other streets of your town or city. Why not buy there, and put your dollar bills at work at home?

This is one of the great secrets of city building. Patriotism, civic pride should impel every citizen to give first consideration to his or her own city. And every one should think about the small things. These when put together make the big successes. Write this down—BUY AT HOME—and begin to practise it at once, and keep on practising it.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held in the Town Hall on Friday evening the 10th inst when there were present the Mayor H. T. Warne, Councillors T. E. G. Lynch, F. L. Anderson and S. A. Keen together with the Mayor and Councillors elect.

The report of the Town Clerk and Presiding Officers at the recent election was presented which showed the result of the poll—after a re-count demanded by Mr. Westhaver.

Messrs McBride, Abramson and Carly were duly declared elected Councillors for the ensuing two years.

There was only one nomination filed with the Town Clerk for Mayor, namely Edward DuVerne M. D. and he was declared elected without a poll.

The newly elected mayor and councillors subscribed to the oath of allegiance and office and took their seats at the council table. The Mayor, ex Mayor and Councillors made suitable speeches and a friendly talk ensued relative to Town's matters and finances.

The following Standing Committees were then appointed for the ensuing year, with Councillor F. L. Anderson as presiding Councillor.

School.—The Mayor and Councillors Anderson and McBride.

Finance and Tenders.—Councillors Troop, McBride and Abramson.

Public Property and Streets.—Councillors Anderson, Abramson, and Carly.

Poor and Temperance.—Councillors Carly, Lynch, and McBride.

Police.—Councillors McBride, Anderson and Abramson.

Fire and Water.—Councillors Lynch, Anderson and McBride.

Licenses and Lighting.—Councillors Troop, Carly and Lynch.

Assessment Appeals.—Councillors Abramson, Lynch and Carly.

Revisers of Jury Lists.—Councillors Lynch, Troop and Abramson.

Arbitration.—The Mayor and Councillors Troop and Anderson.

"For Home and Country"

"For Home and Country"

A Lesson FROM Ancient Rome

Two thousand years ago the athletes and fighting gladiators of the Roman Empire, to secure perfect health, used of various, strong and lasting medicinal herbs and oils.

Taking a lesson from the Ancients, an eminent firm of manufacturing chemists undertook a search to recover these lost secrets. Certain rich herbal oils and essences were at last found and a scientific means of blending and refining them was devised.

After lengthy and costly experiment a superior ointment was evolved which contains these potent herbal oils in the most perfect form. To this new discovery was given the name Ram-Buk, to indicate the highest achievement yet attained in the healing art.

Treatment of skin diseases and injuries has been revolutionized by Ram-Buk. Its healing and antiseptic power is enhanced by the complete absence of crucial animal fats that distinguish ordinary salves. Eczema, ringworm, itches, piles, hemorrhoids, rashes, redness, chaps, chilblains, children's scaly troubles, etc., yield rapidly to Ram-Buk.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" SAVED HER LIFE

This Fruit Medicine Always Gives Relief

917 Dorset St., Montreal.
I suffered terribly with Dyspepsia. I had it for years and all the medicine I took did not do me any good. I read something about "Fruit-a-tives" being good for all Stomach Troubles and Disorders of Digestion, so I tried them.

After finishing a few boxes, I was entirely relieved of the Dyspepsia and my general health was restored; and I am writing to tell you that I owe my life to "Fruit-a-tives".

Local and General PERSONAL MENTION

The Baptist Women's Circle was positioned this week on account of sickness. The Division entertained the Smith's Cove Division Tuesday evening and out a nice social time was held among the young people.

The Methodist Epworth League held a sleigh drive to Bear River East on Friday night, Feb. 10, and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Ruggles.

The ladies have been exceptionally high this week, overlooking the unexpected various places, and even flowing into the cellar of the Royal Bank on Monday.

S. B. River arrived from St. John on Thursday, but was unable to get through the ice in the river until Friday evening. She sailed for St. John via Digby, on Monday.

The B. Y. P. U. were unable to hold their regular Friday night meeting last week on account of so much sickness. But this week it will be held under the leadership of Miss Cornwall's group.

INSTITUTE VALENTINE PARTY

A most delightful Valentine party was given in Oakdene Hall on Tuesday evening, Feb. 14th, by the members of the Women's Institute as a farewell in honor of their President, Mrs. L. J. Lovett, who with Dr. Lovett will leave shortly for Ottawa. Each member brought a guest, and about sixty-five people were present. The stage was artistically decorated in Valentine design, and presented a very pleasing sight.

A short programme was presented as follows:

Piano Solo—Mrs. Harry Anthony.

Valentine Tableau—Scott Lassie—Mrs. Snow, The Musical—Mrs. A. G. MacIntyre, Miss Cornwall, An Irish Collection—Mrs. Arthur Gregson.

Vocal Duets—Mrs. C. M. Mack, Mrs. Fred Harris.

Reading in costume—Over the hill to the Poorhouse, and Over the hill from the Poorhouse to the Poorhouse.

Piano Solo—Mrs. A. G. MacIntyre.

During the programme a handsome bouquet of red carnations was presented to Mrs. Lovett by Mrs. Gregson, who expressed in rhyme the regret of the members over her departure.

Mrs. A. G. Lovett responded in a short speech and expressed her appreciation.

Refreshments were then served and an enjoyable social time spent until after the evening concluded with a letter from Mrs. Lovett, and the National Anthem.

SLEIGH DRIVE AND FRATERNAL VISIT TO BEAR RIVER

A team load of members of Home Division of Smith's Love, paid a fraternal visit to Royal River, Bear River, on Monday night of this week, and to say that they had a good time is putting it mildly. Notwithstanding other special attractions which were a boon to the town, there were nearly sixty members of Royal and Home Divisions present. After the opening exercises an interesting program was presented consisting of musical offerings, dialogues, contests and games, which were heartily enjoyed by all present.

During the evening a very bountiful and tempting supply of refreshments was served. At a late hour the members departed feeling that they had had a "Royal" good time.

A Famous Sea Captain

Late Commander of the "Empress of France."

The Canadian Pacific recently lost by death in England, one of their popular sea captains, when Captain Ebenezer Cook, late commander of the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of France," passed away at his residence at Great Crosby.

After conveying Mr. A. J. Balfour and other prominent delegates across the Atlantic, Captain Cook was taken ill on arrival at Quebec. He was lying in the hospital when the steamer on his return voyage, and a while later the steamer reached Liverpool he was removed by ambulance home, but too late to recover.

The late Captain Cook, who was 63 years of age, was a man of high appearance, and possessed a most commanding presence. He was looked upon as one of the most capable commanders sailing from the pier, and he performed a brilliant service during the war.

Captain Cook was born at Tay, being conducted by the Rev. J. port, and joined the Atlantic line in 1888 as fourth officer of the "Carthage." Within four years he was member of the Masonic Brotherhood.

According to Kieu Lung

"You can taste and feel but not describe the state of happiness produced by such a beverage."

"—This the Emperor Kieu Lung more than sixteen centuries ago, extolled the virtues of good tea."

He might well have been describing the day deliciousness, the bracing full bodiness of Blue Bird Orange Pekoe."

Railway News in Brief

Windsor, Ont.,—E. C. Rice, C.P.R. ticket agent, has relinquished his duties here, after 11 years' service and has gone to Florida for a three months' vacation, as he has not enjoyed the best of health of late. He is succeeded by W. A. Armstrong, for 17 years in the ticket service of the railway company in Toronto.

Kentville, N.S.—The Dominion Atlantic Railway has moved 105,000 barrels of apples to Halifax for export. There are still approximately 350,000 barrels left for export. From the beginning of the season 1,490 more cars of apples were moved than for the corresponding period last year.

St. John, N.B.—During the present season the Canadian Pacific has shipped 4,285,903 bushels of wheat, which have been unloaded to the elevators at West St. John, as compared with 3,048,545 bushels during the corresponding season last year. The elevators at West St. John ship about a million and a half bushels of grain.

The new Canadian Pacific Steamship "Montcalm," which sails between St. John and Liverpool, is equipped with motion pictures. The showing of motion pictures on board ship has proven a big success ever since its inauguration last summer, and has met with the same popularity and appreciation by passengers as other Canadian Pacific features. The films are distinctly and characteristically Canadian in subject and treatment.

Victoria, B.C.—There are no better known golf courses in the Dominion than those at Victoria on Vancouver Island, no doubt due to the fact that the game is played every day in the year. It will, therefore, come as a pleasant announcement to know that the Canadian Pacific Railway has completed arrangements whereby guests of the Empress Hotel at Victoria will be accorded playing privileges on the excellent 18-hole Colwood course.

Winnipeg, Man.—Miss Hazel Tompkins, candidate of the Canadian Pacific Railway employees, is queen of the Winnipeg winter carnival. When the voting contest closed Miss Tompkins had 27,255,000 votes to her credit. Miss Kathryn McLaughlin, candidate of the Canadian Pacific employees, ran second with 14,362,000 votes and Miss Esther Cummings of the T. Eaton Company third with 12,434,000. There were 26 candidates. Bonds were sold to finance the carnival, each bond bearing a voting coupon.

There has been more than usual interest manifested since the announcement, first made by the Canadian Pacific in December, of the next International Eucharistic Congress which is to be held in Rome in May. The Canadian Pacific, associated with La Compagnie Francaise de Tourisme, is organizing a personally-conducted pilgrimage for the spiritual direction of a well-known Canadian priest. The pilgrimage will include the famous shrines of Italy and France, with special optional tours to the Passion Play at Ober-Ammergau and the battlefields of the Great War.

STOMACH ULCER AND GALL STONES

After Suffering 25 Years, Completely Relieved by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. EDWARDS

MAPLEHURST FARM, HILLBUSH, P.Q.

"I am in my 78th year. About 25 years ago, I began to have trouble with my stomach. One doctor said I had Cancer; another said, Ulcer of the Stomach; another, Gallstones; others, Ulcers of the Liver and Inflammation of the Gall Bladder.

Three years ago, I consulted one of the best specialists in Montreal. He said I must go to the hospital, have an Ulcer cut out of my stomach and gall stones removed. I was then 74 years old. I said "NO."

Then, I began to take "Fruit-a-tives". I found they helped me a lot, and I still take them occasionally, and I am so much better that my old friends often ask me what I have done to myself to look so well. I am gaining in weight and enjoying life very much."

BEFORE BABY COMES

Watchful Care Necessary

Lidia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine and should be taken by the expectant mother. It will assist her in keeping well and strong. This is very necessary, not only for her own comfort but for the future as well.

Read the experience of Mrs. Barton of New Brunswick, which bears in mind that every letter published recommending Lidia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is genuine and uncoloured. It is the expression of gratitude from women who have been helped.

Cumberland Bay, N. B.—"I was troubled with weak feelings, headache, all the time, a constant fainting spells and pains in my back and side. I could not do a single bit of work and had to be helped out of the hammock when I lay in the fresh air from morning until night and I had to be carried up and down stairs. After other medicines had failed a friend advised me to take Lidia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she said it was excellent for anyone in the family way. Before the first bottle was taken I could walk alone and as I kept on with it I got stronger, until I was able to do my work. My headache is now six weeks old and is a big fat healthy fellow. I am sure Lidia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done wonders for me and I recommend it."—Mrs. MURRAY, J. BATES, R. R. No. 1, Cumberland Bay, N. B.

A Bad Case

Eczema All Over His Body—His Legs—His Arms Covered

John Clark of Brookville, N. B., crowds a story of great suffering into a few words.

"I was troubled beyond words. I could not sleep and did not get a pin on my body. I tried several doctors. They said I was serious. Three bottles of D. D. D. did it. I have not had a sore for five months."

Each week we are selecting a letter from some Canadian sufferer to show what can be done by D. D. D. for the most stubborn cases of eczema, purifying lymph, D. D. D.

Stop that itchy today. You are not asked to use D. D. D. for weeks before you receive results. If you don't get relief from the very first bottle we will refund your money back. D. D. D. is a cure. Try D. D. D. Soap, too.

Distinctive-Exclusive

IN the higher grade of tea there should be something more in its appeal than merely quality. There should be that distinctive character which separates it from the mass. King Cole Orange Pekoe has a richness of flavor entirely its own. It is the King Cole judgment of what is delicious in a cup of tea.

SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL

To the Editor of the Courier:

SIR—Even popular centres are finding it difficult to raise suitable soldiers' memorials. Difficulties arise not only as to the form the monument should take, but as to the site, cost, etc. The chief trouble seems to be that many of the schemes are too elaborate and expensive, impracticable, mainly on financial grounds in these days of necessary economy.

With the return of industrial prosperity, however, such communities will very probably find an easy solution of the problem. Their gratitude, civic pride, feelings of patriotism and reverence for the memory of their noble dead will impel the living to perpetuate their memory in a manner befitting the magnificent services they rendered their country and the world.

One should be more concerned for the keeping great of the memory of the splendid men who came from the remote and sparsely peopled settlements from the lonely coast, far and mine and gave their all for their country with a splendid patriotism that must never be forgotten.

Such poor and thinly settled communities may find in the following suggestion a means by which they may permanently perpetuate the memory of their local heroes and their country.

All there is needed is a spirit of cordial co-operation on the part of a few men and women who are interested. These should get together as soon as possible and arrange for the removal of a large natural rock or boulder, the bigger the better, to the district school grounds or nearby cross roads for the church or grave-yard if easy of access.

On Arbor Day (about May 7) the children of the vicinity should plant a maple tree, assisted by the teacher and school children, with appropriate ceremonies, near the rock or boulder, hereafter the cenotaph of the soldiers whose memory the community desires to perpetuate.

At the foot of each rock or boulder thus planted, place a sealed bottle or crockeryware vessel containing a brief record of each soldier's name, signed by the mayor, school commissioners, councilors, teachers, neighbors and other interested persons. Such a record should be placed beneath the cenotaph.

And in the schoolhouse (church or lodge room) on the same day, an official Roll of Honor, surrounded by a small altar, the whole of which should be placed in the schoolhouse, church or lodge room. The roll should be unveiled and the whole cenotaph, maple trees roll of honor and flag entrusted to the children for safe keeping. It is being impressed upon them that it is at once a duty and a privilege to cherish the memory of our country's heroes. 70,000 lives died for the cause of humanity and right.

It may be added that the rock or boulder used as a cenotaph should be large enough and of such sort as would allow of the soldier's name, etc., being cut upon it at the time the services of a capable mason are available; if not, this could be done better by a modern Old Mortality who reverences the glorious memory of Canada's noble dead.

Care should be taken that the rock selected for the cenotaph should be of a time-dwelling character, withstanding sort, not a rock that readily splits or crumbles. There are competent men in every locality who would advise wisely as to the choice of a suitable boulder.

Empty Barrel

The male clerk at Letteney's asked a man if he had heard about the empty barrel. "No," said he, "what about it?" "Why," he answered, "it's empty."

"You heard," said the man. "Sure," declared the clerk. "One hundred or more persons in my town will tell you the same thing, but they will always admit that Letteney's store is full of beautiful goods—garments for ladies—why 'sir,' I could tell you wonderful stories about those garments. You know Tom Moor?"

Well, Mrs. Moor's wife, is very fond of her garments. No Israelite will except ever 'haunkered' after yarkies as much as Mrs. Moor did for raw, 'haunks' it was her besetting sin. But Tom could not bear them. The very smell made him sick. Why, when ever he came home to his meals and sniffed onions, he marched out the back door, down to the Waverly Hotel, and ate. Mrs. Moor was very sad over this and thought over many plans to overcome this domestic disturber, so she wrapped them in a napkin and hid them under the bed in the 'haunks' room. One day Mrs. Moor said: "My dear, I will be great to dinner." So Mrs. Moor put on her beautiful new dress, bought at Letteney's, sat down in the parlor and ate raw onions from 12 o'clock on. But horror of horrors, Tom came home for dinner. What would, what could she do? She burst into tears, gathered up the fragments, and ran—she hid them under the bed in the 'haunks' room. "Oh Tom," she cried, "Gather up the onions!" "What for?" "Oh Tom," she said, "I care for onions when you look like an angle in that beautiful dress."

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, FRIDAY, MARCH 3, 1922

VOL. XLVIII No. 30

CURRENT HISTORY AS IT IS BEING MADE IN THE WORLD TODAY

With dramatic suddenness a peace agreement, reached at the eleventh hour between Free State and Republican leaders, was sprung on the Ard Fheis, of National Sinn Féin convention in Dublin and the huge gathering of delegates, impatient of any delay likely to endanger the treaty with Great Britain, gave it unanimous approval and adjourned for three months. The general feeling was that in preserving intact the party organization, something like a miracle had been worked. The net result of the two day's meeting of the Ard Fheis is to insure that no election can be held in Ireland for the next three months, and when it is held the issue will not simply be for or against the treaty, but to determine the judgment of the Irish people on the actual terms of a constitution in which the treaty will be embodied. Supporters of the Free State have enabled Ireland to frame for herself a constitution giving all the essentials of freedom, but the Republicans have denied this and have quoted interpretations placed upon the treaty in speeches by Prime Minister Lloyd George and other British cabinet ministers.

Threats of insurrection in Lisbon have led the members of the government, together with President Almeida, to remove to the citadel of Cascais, outside of Lisbon. The insurrectionary threats came from the extreme left, and were produced by the recent arrests of officers in connection with the revolutionary movement of last October. The attitude of the republican guard was considered doubtful, and in consequence the government decided upon the precautionary measures of proceeding to Cascais. The crisis is continuing, but the city remains quiet.

The future policy of the Unionist party, particularly with regard to the question of coalition, was discussed at a meeting of the National Unionist Association, held in Central Hall, Westminster. The Rt. Hon. Austen Chamberlain, Government leader in the House of Commons, in a speech, said the chief hope of their opponents was in disunion in the Unionist party. He stated that while there would be no coalition after the next election, there would be a distinct understanding between the Unionists and the followers of Lloyd George who had agreed upon all their great principles affecting the Empire.

French aviation circles are expressing astonishment at the United States' definite refusal to adhere to the international aviation convention. The question came up at an aviation conference at Monaco recently but a definite reply has been only lately received to the effect that the United States cannot adhere to the international convention about aerial navigation because this convention is the result of the activity of the League of Nations. It appears that the convention was signed Oct. 10, 1919, by twelve Powers of which the United States was one of five accorded preferential standing.

Replying to a question in the House of Commons, Sir Robert Horne, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said that Great Britain had not yet received a penny of war indemnity from Germany. The cost of maintaining the forces occasioned amounting to over a thousand million gold marks had been repaid to the extent of 970,000,000 marks. Of this sum 22,640,000 pounds had been paid to Canada and Australia.

To come back to the lands of plenty after being in famine-stricken Russia is like waking from a frightful nightmare, says Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, The American people have been generous and prompt in aiding the Russian sufferers, but they can't possibly visualize the extent of the calamity. The lands along the great River Volga, where famine followed drought, have an area and population approximately equal to that of all France. Of these people the great number of nineteen millions is directly menaced with death and millions—no matter what frantic effort be made now—are doomed to die. Every time the clock ticks dozens of wasted skeletons, that were once men and women and children, are tottering over dead.

Sir Samuel Hoare, member of the British Parliament, who has been delegated by the Relief Commission of the League of Nations to assist in aiding the Russian refugees in Constantinople, recently expressed some of his views while in Prague. He said of the Russians in Constantinople, the number of the refugees is actually 36,960. A portion of them earn their livelihood by begging in the streets of Constantinople and lie down during the nights in nooks and corners, under the open sky. Not only on account of humanity, but of public security as well, an end should be put to such a situation.

Although Premier Lloyd George refuses to admit officially as yet the postponement of the Geneva conference as evidenced by his statement in the Commons the diplomatic current of the exchanges between the British Foreign Office and the Quai d'Orsay carries matters in the direction making it almost certain that April, rather than March, will be the date of the assemblage. France, it is understood will raise an objection to the latest procedure suggested by the English Government, that England and France, through their experts, discuss the interpretation of the Geneva call issues at Cannes. The English idea was for these two groups to meet first and then have the Belgian and Italian representatives called in to consider what had been done.

Lord Grey of Fallodon, in a strong speech at Bristol recently, dealt with some of the major problems of world peace—the Washington Conference and French security in the Cannes conversation and the entente, the proposed Geneva conference and the League of Nations, Russia and the restoration of Europe. Lord Grey spoke as president of the League of Nations Union, and emphasized the non-partisan nature of his address by stating that some of the opinions he expressed were not shared by the political party to which he belonged. Lord Grey gave wholehearted praise to the Washington Conference, not only for its immediate success, but because of its value as an example for future conferences of a similar kind. The United States Government deserves the gratitude of the world, not only for having called the Conference but for the manner in which it had conducted it.

by the Canadian Forestry Association

Q. I am told that artificial silk is made out of Canadian spruce wood. What is the difference between artificial and real silk?

A. Artificial silk is practically the same substance chemically as natural silk, the resort and test tube of the chemist having been called upon to convert woodpulp into cellulose and then into silk by mechanical processes, just as the silk worm within its body converts the mulberry leaf into cellulose and then spins its cocoon. The artificial silk goods are sometimes harsher in feeling than the natural, but advanced manufacture is rapidly eliminating this defect.

Q. How many men are employed in Canada's lumber industry and what are they paid in wages?

A. There are about sixty thousand men and their wages run to sixty million dollars a year. There are approximately four thousand wood manufacturing establishments in Canada, outside of the pulp and paper industry.

Q. Is it possible for this Ontario municipality to obtain free trees from the Ontario Government Nursery, and to get free supervision of the planting work?

A. At the last session of the Ontario Legislature, provision was made for supplying townships with free trees. The township in possession of an area of waste land free tree stock from the Government Nursery and supervision of the planting work at the government expense. It is also provided that the timber from such land at maturity shall be the property of the municipality. The government gets nothing out of it except the performance of a highly important public duty.

Q. Is there much likelihood of lumber and wood products in general becoming cheaper in the next five years.

A. There probably will be variations in the present market but the prospects for what our grandfathers would call cheap lumber and cheap paper are rather dim. We are using up our forest wealth in Canada far faster than nature is growing it and forest fires are destroying many times what we annually cut. To keep our forests in productive condition mere money must be spent upon forest protection, upon the burning of debris, the combating of forest insect diseases and other constructive measures. The product of the forest must stand this increased cost so that it is very doubtful if we will ever see again Canadian lumber and pulp and paper products at old-fashioned prices. The trouble is that we Canadians have been living not on the annual increment of interest of the forest, but taking a large slice of capital as well. This of course must stop or the nation will face actual timber bankruptcy.

operative and previously served a term at Halifax for theft. He had several skeleton keys in his pocket when he was arrested, and also had a number of other forged checks in his pockets.

Because a boy driver refused to take his horse to the stables at the end of his eight-hour shift, several hundred men are idle at No. 12 colliery, New Waterford. One of the standing claims of the drivers has been that they should be allowed to knock off work and stable their horses within the limits of the eight-hour shift.

The New Glasgow Town Council held a rather sensational meeting last week and as a result of their deliberations two of the leading members of the police force were dismissed. The action came in the course of appointing officers for the year. When the item of police was reached, Mayor Mason opened an attack upon Chief of Police Francis and his Sergeant, Officer Don Macaulay. He demanded the dismissal because he could not work with them. They had entirely ignored him as the chief official of the town. It has to be them or him, and he requested the Council to take action.

Frank Ambrose Mitchell and Mitchell Mitchell of New Brunswick, the Indian Tom Thumbs of America, are dead. These two little Millicent Indians after a short illness of pneumonia, passed by last week, their deaths being only three days apart. Frank Ambrose Mitchell was 68 years, his weight 38 pounds and 30 inches in height. His brother, Mitchell, was 65 years old, weighed 34 pounds and was 28 inches in height. These two little men without doubt, were the Indian Tom Thumbs of America. They were little known, except in their own

AMATEUR SPORT MUST BE MADE CLEAN

A Crisis Has Been Reached In Amateur Sports And All Amateur Athletic Clubs Should Back President Covey In His Fight To Have Clean Sport.

A crisis has been reached in the matter of clean amateur sport in the Maritime Provinces. Since professionalism has permeated what has generally been supposed to be clean amateur sport to a very marked degree, schemes of all kinds have been concocted to hoodwink the authorities in sport and pay money to players. There must be an end of this kind of thing. It is a fraud, pure and simple, and no right thinking lover of good clean sport for a minute should stand behind it.

The various clubs and associations affiliated with the Maritime Branch of the A. A. U. of C. should back President A. W. Covey to the drop of the hat, in his fight for a clean slate. It is known that Mr. Covey has been spending his own money to carry out what, as an honest leader, as a promoter of pure sport, he believes to be his duty.

This is not a matter for Mr. Covey alone, but all fathers who are interested in their boy's welfare. Our boys should be encouraged to play the game for the game's sake, and not be the tools of mischief-makers and gamblers in sport. It is not up to Mr. Covey and his colleagues of the A. A. U. of C. to play this game alone. It is everybody's business at a time when the people are so glad to see a revival in amateur athletics. For the sake of the boys who are coming up and showing such a keen interest in sport, for the sake of the moral standards we should have them observe, the line between the amateur and professional should be sharply drawn.

All who are interested in good clean sport and the development of our boys along the proper lines, should get behind the officials of the A. A. U. of C. and encourage them to have the line.

Mr. Fredericton Mail is commenting on amateur sports in a recent issue, said:—

The pro-amateur question which has bobbed up again and disturbed sport in the Maritime Provinces, is nothing new. It seems to be like the poor always with us. Jimmie Lithgow, of Halifax, who some years ago occupied the position which Bert Covey of St. John does now, made pilgrimages all over the three provinces trying to straighten out tangles caused by athletes who were out for what there was in any line of sport in which they were proficient, but who at the same time wanted to be classed as amateurs and howled at suspension or any attempt at discipline passed by the amateur governing body. After Mr. Lithgow retired from the office, parties in Charlottetown carried on the work. Conditions did not alter materially. During the war any attempt to govern sport and make a distinction between professionals and amateurs was abandoned. As a matter of fact the conditions during the period of the war are responsible for the present upheaval to a great extent.

For some time past there has been talk of independent hockey in Fredericton. If suspension or professionalization seriously interferes with the game as it now is, independent hockey would mean practically professional hockey and it is doubtful there would be big enough gates to support it. It would be pretty good guess that one season would finish it. After that amateur hockey would have to be reorganized.

One of the great advantages in having the C. A. H. A. rules adopted in the Maritime Provinces was to have the game of hockey so systematized that challenges for the Allan Cup could be made by teams from this section of Canada. Abandonment of amateur hockey means that such can never take place and maritime teams will not get a chance to enter the elimination series which for several years back has decided which is the best hockey team in the world, outside the pro leagues.

Permitting amateurs and professionals to compete with and against one another in sport will not solve the problem. The Athletic Federation of Canada, tried that. The result in two or three years was that the great majority of athletes were professionals and those who were not had left the Federation which then died a natural death, there being no further reason for its existence. If the experiment should be tried again history will merely repeat itself. The A. A. U. of Canada

DIGBY'S ELECTRIC PROBLEM

To the Editor of the Courier:—
SIR.—It seems to the writer that very little interest is being taken, by the average ratepayer, in the Electric Light and Power future of Digby. The writer gathered sufficient information to convince him that with efficient operation of the present plant after thorough cleaning of the boiler, change in the grate surface, tightening of steam leaks, minor repairs to the Feed Pump, Water Heater and Engine, together with considerable drop in the prices of Fuel and Supplies, that the present plant can be operated at a profit and sell current at 20 cts. per kilowatt. The future of any town, at the present time, is tied up with Electricity. As a Tourist town, Digby must have a good Electric plant and be able to furnish a reliable all night service, at least during the summer. We will never begin to grow in an industrial way until we can have power to sell at a reasonable price. Think it over.

James C. Inness, a prominent merchant of Liverpool dropped dead while walking between his store and stable Tuesday. People on the street saw him drop and ran to his assistance. He was carried to a neighbor's house, and Dr. J. W. Smith was called, who immediately pronounced him dead. Mr. Inness had not been ill and his death was a shock to the whole community in which he and his family are highly esteemed, and with a wide circle of friends. He was sixty-four years of age. He had been engaged in business for many years in this town; and at the time of his death was conducting a grocery and crockeryware business, his son Rogers being associated with him.

A request to the Attorney-General of Nova Scotia to postpone the trials of the 24 persons held at Sydney in connection with the recent New Brunswick riots, is embodied in a strong resolution adopted by the 1500 miners' of Mechanics and Caledonia locals of the U. M. W. and forwarded to the authorities at Halifax. The resolution prays the Attorney-General to postpone the hearings until the Crown can obtain further information as to the circumstances. The resolution points out that Frank McIntyre, one of the first men to be arrested, was allowed his freedom after the preliminary hearing although it is asserted that he was the "head and front" of the raiders and that he took two or three times as much as some of those still held.

Rev. E. B. Spurr, of Windsor has accepted a call to St. John's Episcopal church Bangor, Me., as its permanent rector and will arrive there to assume his duties early in March. Mr. Spurr preached there for five consecutive Sundays preceding last Sunday and made such a favorable impression that he was given a call. He goes directly from King's College, of which he is treasurer. He was born in Nova Scotia forty-one years ago and was graduated from King's for ten years he served as rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church in Windsor, and at the end of that period was called to the treasurer's chair at the college.

Fred Doucette, charged with uttering a false check with the name of E. O. McDonald, a Fredericton music store keeper, forged upon it, was sentenced by Police Magistrate Limerick in that city to serve five years in the Maritime Penitentiary at Dorchester for the offence. He had pleaded guilty. The prisoner, who has claimed Cape Breton and a place near Halifax as his home, also has a suspended sentence of five years for obtaining money under false pretences at St. John, which will thus become

PITTIABLE WRECK SAVED FROM EARLY GRAVE

"I couldn't sleep, my nerves were all unstrung,
I was steadily losing weight."

"My husband is a mechanic and earns good wages," writes one woman.
"We have six children between the ages of seven and fifteen.
Both my husband and myself have been ourselves, actual necessities to give our children the best schooling we could afford. I have often stayed up all night making clothes for them or doing mending. Besides this, I have always done the washing and ironing for the eight of us.
I also do the scrubbing and the cooking. The outcome of this was that I was doing more than my human being could stand and so broke down. I became a complete nervous wreck. I was reduced to a skeleton. I was in such a nervous, high strung condition that the least excitement would start me on a crying fit which I couldn't control.
This breakdown meant keeping my children from school to help in the housework. Because I couldn't do anything as the least exertion left me a wreck. I was the finest example of a complete nervous breakdown that you ever saw. Everything was wrong with me—I couldn't sleep, I couldn't sleep, I had that terrible feeling which I cannot describe but can only be understood by those who have had it.
I was so weak that I was ready to catch anything that was going.
I tried several preparations but none of them did me any good. Then my husband came in and said,
"I see a preparation in a drug store called 'Carrol.' No extraordinary claims are made for it and I have an idea it might do you good. Why don't you get a bottle? They say if it doesn't do you any good, you will return your money." I believe that advice of my husband's saved my life because seven weeks later I started taking Carrol I was doing more work than I had ever done before and was feeling strong. I was more like my life. Mrs. T.

CONCERT NEXT WEEK.

There will be a grand concert in the Methodist Hall next Thursday evening at 8 P. M.

Percy Appleby, of Lunenburg, has been engaged for the concert. He has a rich sweet tenor voice and those who wish to hear good music should not miss hearing him. He has studied at Miss Allison and made quartettes with the best American teachers.

We have also on the program Rev. Mr. Mack, of Bear River, who is a gifted reader of rare ability and who has kindly consented to help us. Mrs. Mack will also be one of the accompanists. Miss Knicker will play the violin.

The 21-year-old and Frances Phillips will be heard in solos, duets and in a quartette. There will be piano duets and made quartettes making up an evening's entertainment. The program includes: The last number is a quartette "Good Night Beloved" by P. Minuti, sung by Misses M. & F. Phillips, Mr. Appleby and Mr. Warrington.

Sale of home made candy during intermission.

Come and bring your friend and enjoy a musical treat. Admission 35c. children 15c. Proceeds for choir funds.

MONDAY'S DANCE

The social dance held in the Bijou Dream Monday night, and which was a great success, was through an error marked as a benefit dance in the "Coupling Events" column of last week's Courier.

The advertisement stated that the admission charges were merely to cover the expenses. The following statement will show that the expenses were made very reasonable through the kindness of those interested and Mr. Leslie.

Cash received $73.58
Phone calls in connection with music 1.80
Notice in Courier and paper for posters and tickets 1.08
Paid for having coffee made and dishes washed 1.00
Sandwiches coffee etc. 9.62
(The young ladies kindly donated the cake)

Hall and war for floor 13.00
Orchestra including hotel 47.00
(Mr. Leslie's usual price, including hotel is $55.00)

Thanks are extended to all those who helped make this dance a success.

A bill to change the rule of the road in Nova Scotia to "drive to the right" is expected to pass the legislature at this session. New Brunswick already has legislation providing for the adoption of the "drive to the right" rule, as soon as Nova Scotia adopts it.

THE FUEL OIL ENGINE AND THE ELECTRICAL FUTURE OF DIGBY

SIR—Through your kindness in furnishing space for these letters, I hope to bring to the attention of the readers of the Courier, the seriousness of the electric light problem, and to enable them to get some idea of the matter that will be called upon to decide at the coming public meeting.

I am by no means a M. E. but have made the figures given below from data furnished by reliable concerns. One fact stands out prominently and that is, aside from inefficient operation, that the present plant has too great a capacity for a town of this size. This plant is capable of generating seven hours a day for three hundred and sixty days, a total of 252,000 kilowatts at full load while the production for the past year was only 40,000 kilowatts.

The figures show that we have been paying for the turning over of the dead load weight which I might say figures up to something like sixteen cents per kilowatt hour. The above is how we stand at the present time and in the figures, I have shown, that allowing for more efficient operation, which means less coal and a lower price for same, we cannot produce current at less than 18 cents per kilowatt hour which covers the cost of the fuel.

Now for the remedy. The Fuel Oil Engine, called by the name Semi-Diesel operating at the figures given below, which are interesting full load data.

150 horse power Semi-Diesel (barged to meet Generator) now in operation will produce in the period given in the first part of this letter (7,355 hours) 155,500 kilowatts at a cost of 3.73 cents per kilowatt.

85 horse power belted as above will produce 143,000 kilowatts at a cost of 4.99 cents per kilowatt.

60 horse power belted or direct connected to a 37-1/2 kilowatt Generator will produce 85,512 kilowatts at a cost of 6.64 cents per kilowatt hour. The sale of the present complete plant except stock is allowed in capital statement.

50 horse power belted or direct connected to a 34 kilowatt Generator will produce 100,000 kilowatts at a cost of 6.01 cents per kilowatt hour.

You will note that the cost of the fuel oil engine is very low and this is due to the fact that the same attendant would operate both machines and not having any steam boiler to look after, the time and expense to keep them both in good shape. In case of a night load, that is after twelve, it might be necessary to have relief men to add slightly to the cost. The increase can be figured by dividing estimated, or actual, load by the number of men to be on duty. This is something long winded but as an amateur it is the best I can do and trust that it may be interesting to some of our readers.

AN INTERESTED RATEPAYER.

CAPT CHUTE ONCE SAILED OUT OF DIGBY

Captain Joseph N. Chute, master of the four masted schooner Lewis Brothers, was found dead in his vessel, which was floating helplessly in the Florida Straits, and in connection with whose wreck the crew of the schooner are being held at Key West, was born in Digby, N. S. From his relatives in Digby, it is understood that he left this place for the United States in 1916. He was a seaman and was in the service of the United States Navy. He was a member of the United States Navy and was a member of the United States Navy.

Records at the Shipping Master's office at Digby show that he was in command of the barkentine schooner, when she was wrecked in 1916. He was a member of the United States Navy and was a member of the United States Navy.

PERSONAL MENTION TOWN WILL VOTE ON ELECTRIC LIGHT MATTERS

The regular monthly meeting of the town council will be held on Monday, the 13th inst.

The mayor and all the councilors were present. A delegation from the Digby Board of Trade, consisting of H. B. Short, P. C. R. Harris and W. V. Nichols attended and presented a petition signed by fourteen ratepayers requesting the council to call a public meeting of the ratepayers for the purpose of voting on the question of the town purchasing the electric light plant.

All the members of the delegation spoke in favor of the petition which, they stated, had the unanimous approval of the board of trade.

Coun. Lynch moved and Coun. Anderson seconded the following resolution: "Whereas, Messrs. John Daley & Son have offered to supply the town with electric light plant as a going concern to the Town of Digby for the sum of eighteen thousand dollars."

It is resolved that a meeting of the ratepayers of the Town of Digby be held at the court house on the 15th day of March, 1922, at 8 o'clock P. M. for the purpose of discussing the question and deciding whether or not to accept the proposal.

The following officers were appointed: Medical Health Officer—Dr. W. F. P. Chief of Police and C. T. A. Inspector—R. C. Ellis (for one month at $75 per month).

Superintendent of Streets and Water—W. V. Hayden (at $75 per month). Special Constables—George Post, Stephen Wilson, and Chas. I. VanTassel and Frank Alcorn.

Firewardens—A. D. Daley, A. L. M. Swabey, H. L. Woodman and W. S. Winchester. Weighers and Measurers—J. J. Dillon, A. R. Turnbull and W. E. VanBourbon.

Surveyors of Wood and Lumber—A. A. Shortt, James Franklin, Sam. Cosman and T. J. O'Connell. Constables—George Post, Stephen Wilson, and Chas. I. VanTassel and Frank Alcorn.

Cattle Reeves—Frank Hutchinson and Walter Marshall. Pound Keepers—Harry Baxter and Horton Stacey.

Fire Viewers—J. O. Dakin and Osborne Turnbull. Firewardens—A. R. Turnbull, W. F. Young and J. F. Milbray.

Board of Fire Escapes—Fritz Dakin, G. W. Wightman and J. F. Milbray. Caretaker of Town Dump—Clarence Bischoff.

Deputy Town Clerk—A. L. M. Swabey. The Police committee reported that they had carefully considered the ten applications for the position of Chief of Police and C. T. A. Inspector. They recommended that R. C. Ellis and Chas. I. VanTassel were the most suitable, and the appointment be from month to month, and not by the year.

The report of the Superintendent of Streets and Water was as follows: "There has been no work done on the streets during the month of February, except breaking roads on the 17th and 18th, and the work was done in a reasonable manner. The streets are in good condition and the ice is melting and sidewalks during the month."

The water service at W. E. Tupper's house was a great success. The record of the location of the standpipe shut-out, with two feet of frost in the ground, it took considerable time to make the necessary repairs.

TOWN WILL VOTE ON ELECTRIC LIGHT MATTERS

The regular monthly meeting of the town council will be held on Monday, the 13th inst.

The mayor and all the councilors were present. A delegation from the Digby Board of Trade, consisting of H. B. Short, P. C. R. Harris and W. V. Nichols attended and presented a petition signed by fourteen ratepayers requesting the council to call a public meeting of the ratepayers for the purpose of voting on the question of the town purchasing the electric light plant.

All the members of the delegation spoke in favor of the petition which, they stated, had the unanimous approval of the board of trade.

Coun. Lynch moved and Coun. Anderson seconded the following resolution: "Whereas, Messrs. John Daley & Son have offered to supply the town with electric light plant as a going concern to the Town of Digby for the sum of eighteen thousand dollars."

It is resolved that a meeting of the ratepayers of the Town of Digby be held at

OUR NEW FOOD SUPPLY.

First Herd of Reindeer Brought to Canada.

A representative of the Hudson Bay Company recently paid a visit to Finland and bought a herd of 100 reindeer, which are to be shipped to Digby, N.S.

A number of Laplanders were also engaged to take care of the animals, which will be despatched in September.

A plan for converting the Arctic and South Arctic regions of Canada into a great wool, milk and meat producing area was presented to the Canadian Government by Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the Norwegian explorer of the Canadian Arctic, more than two years ago.

His project involved the introduction into the Canadian North of large herds of reindeer, and also the domestication and development of great herds of musk ox. He estimated that there were from 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 square miles of land available for grazing in a climate too severe for cattle, but where reindeer and musk ox could exist all the year round. In proof of his argument, he cited the introduction of reindeer herds into Alaska. The explorer declared that the growth of these animals in the far north would help to solve the food shortage then existing.

The Canadian Government appointed a committee to investigate his project. It was represented that there is an abundant growth of vegetation in the Arctic regions of Canada in the summer, and that the musk ox and reindeer could graze on it throughout the entire year.

Will Use Radio.

From the remotest, most inaccessible spot on earth, the North Pole, a wireless message will be dashed to the civilized world, if the plans of Capt. Roald Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole and famous Arctic explorer, are carried out.

Capt. Amundsen's schooner Maud, on which he hoped to drift past the pole with the ice flow, was disabled by a broken propeller off Cape Serdze, Siberia, after he had spent two years in pushing around the eastward Arctic passage from Norway. The explorer left his vessel and his crew to await a break in the ice, and proceeded to Nome.

The Maud has no wireless apparatus, but Capt. Amundsen expects to install one. Capt. Amundsen explained that his party had been cut off from communication with other human beings for two years, with but one break—his trip out to Nome last year. Two years of ice-bound horizons, of bitter cold, of almost endless night.

"The war was in its most critical period when we left the world," he said, "and for many months we speculated in vain on the course of events." It was in December, 1919, more than a year after the signing of the armistice, that we finally met a Russian trader, who told us what had happened. Then I determined that we would carry wireless.

Capt. Amundsen will spend the next year in Canada. He will strike back for Cape Serdze, trying to meet with better luck than the furlous Arctic storm, which last year hurried the Maud into an ice back on the Siberian coast.

Raiding the Icebergs.

The danger from icebergs in the North Atlantic is becoming so great that a destroyer has been sent out to see if it is possible to disperse some of these floating masses by means of torpedoes.

Although this is a new development, iceberg-hunting is a regular part of the work of American navy vessels. Each year vigorous raids on the icebergs are carried out.

The International Ice Patrol, as the fleet is called, came into existence as the result of the sinking of the Titanic by striking an iceberg in April, 1912.

Since then it has done much good work. On more than one occasion ships have been saved from danger by the patrol's wireless warnings.

The cost of the work is borne by all maritime nations using the Atlantic, in proportion to the number of ships sailing under their respective flags.

Shadows and Solid Objects.

Few persons realize how much shadows help us to judge the form of solid objects and how much we depend upon them. In looking at photographs of the moon, for example, it is only the shadows that tell us whether what we see is a hill or a hole. If the shadow falls away from the right, we see a hole; if it falls towards the light, a projection. But the eye is easily deceived. Showing a picture of the moon in which the light comes from the left immediately after showing a number of pictures in which it comes from the right will change a crater into a mountain peak even to the experienced eye.

Vulgar Truth.

A well-known literary man had been asked to propose the toast of "Beautiful Woman." He spoke with patronizing condescension—a rather disagreeable thing to do—saw her go down the road-master called upon a dainty little lady to propose the toast of "More Man." She rose, and began demurely: "Ladies and Gentlemen—Man is but clay in the hands of a woman—and she generally makes a mule of him."

Hope for Gassed Soldiers.

A Paris physician is treating gassed soldiers with a new bacterioid composition. This anti-toxic gas is forced into the lungs, penetrating those parts affected by poisonous gas, spreading slowly over the wounds and healing them. It is stated that there is not a single gassed man, that he has treated, who has not been completely cured.

City Point, Belfast, Me., was recently electrified by a regular circus feat when Robin, a chestnut horse owned by Fred A. Bilious? Take NR Tonight

Nature's Remedy is Better and Softer Than Calomel. Cleans Out System Without Griping. Stops Sick Headache. Guaranteed.

Bilious attacks, constipation, sick headaches, etc., are in the great majority of cases due to digestive trouble. It is no reasonable person who expects to obtain real or lasting benefit until the cause is removed.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is a vegetable compound that acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys. The prompt and healthy action of all the organs disposes of the cause. It acts promptly and thoroughly, yet so mildly and gently that there is never the slightest griping or discomfort.

That is not all. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) have a beneficial effect upon the entire body. By improving the process of digestion and assimilation, the nourishment is derived from food, the blood quality is enriched, vitality is increased and the whole system is benefited.

Once you get your body in its normal condition, you need not take medicine every day—just take an NR Tablet occasionally when indigestion, biliousness and constipation threaten, and you can always feel your best. Remember keeping well is easier and cheaper than getting well.

Get a box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and try it. It is guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

The Canadian Professional Speed Skating Championships were held in St. John on Friday, Feb. 24th and Saturday, Feb. 25th. Eleven thousand people in all turned out to see the sports which brought together the fastest field of skaters ever known to Canada. Among the competitors were Arthur Staff, of Chicago, International Professional Champion; Everett McGowan, of St. Paul, National Professional Champion; Edmund Lamy, of Saranac Lake, former Professional Champion; Bobby McLean, of Chicago, former world's champion; Donald Brooklyn, crack speed skater, also started; Gladys Robinson, of Toronto, the woman marvel on the blades, was billed as an added attraction. Arthur Staff won the meet, Edmund Lamy was second with Bobby McLean third and Everett McGowan fourth.

James L. McNulty of St. John was promoter and manager of the classic. Mr. McNulty is well known through out Nova Scotia through his connection with hockey. Many Digby hockey fans will remember Mr. McNulty as the manager of the St. John hockey team. Mr. McNulty is a prominent St. John young man and is a frequent visitor in this town.

Miss Hazel D. Montague, 24 years of age, a native of Nova Scotia, who went to Lynn, Mass., with two other girls of about the same age from Antigonish, was found dead in bed in her room at a summer street rooming house Thursday afternoon. No official report has yet been rendered. Miss Montague, at the time of her arrival, secured employment with a Saugus family, but remained there only a short time, going to Lynn, where she secured work in a factory. Miss Montague left no note and everything seemed to appear normal in her room. She was found in her nightclothes with the bed clothes not disarranged. A gas jet, one of three in a small chandelier, was open and death was caused by gas poisoning. No cause can be given for her death other than that of late she appeared extremely homesick.

The meeting of the provincial legislature at Halifax, Friday, was featured by demonstrations of the unemployed. Premier Murray, D. G. Mackenzie, leader of the opposition, and Mr. Way, the three principal speakers, were repeatedly interrupted. When Mr. Way referred to the heads of the British Empire Steel Corporation as "financial pirates" there was an outburst of applause.

Byron Atkinson, manager of the Atlantic Lumber Co., made the statement at Truro last week that the freight on a car of lumber shipped from South Maitland to Amherst was $88.00. From South Maitland to Truro $36.00. Truro to Amherst $52.00 or $6.30 a thousand for the entire distance of 91 miles. Mr. Atkinson said that this was a sample of what the people were up against in respect to freight rates on their own roads, and a sample of how the railway was encouraging industry.

Peter Mosychuk, a Russian, and the tenth man to be convicted of complicity in the January riots at New Aberdeen, was found guilty of theft in Supreme Court at Sydney last week. At the request of D. CURRENT HISTORY AS IT IS BEING MADE IN THE WORLD TODAY

The Vap treaty was ratified without reservations or amendments last week by the United States Senate. The vote for ratification was 67 to 22. Senator Lodge, Republican leader, immediately after action on the Vap treaty, called up the four power Pacific pact.

Reduction of the size of the United States regular army to 115,000 enlisted men has been tentatively agreed upon by the sub-committee which is drafting the army appropriation bill. The present strength of the army is approximately 157,000 men.

Numerous clashes occurred again in the Dail Eireann last week, the feeling running high. Mr. DeValera continued to press for recognition of the Dail's supremacy, but the ministers of the Provisional Government held firmly that they were supreme and responsible only to the Irish people. Divisions continue to show there is no doubt that Griffith is in control. Observers expressed the opinion that the net result of the two days' debate has been to strengthen the hands of the Provisional Government and increase public confidence in their ability to handle the situation. In the course of a long debate on the election machinery, Mr. Griffith maintained his determination to hold the elections as arranged three months hence and on the old register. The members of the Provisional Government displayed intense impatience at the tedious debates, which they call an appalling waste of time. They have much work to do in connection with getting the Free State established and are eager to get on with it.

Mr. Collins, on adjournment, bitterly reproached his opponents for failing to display intense impatience at the tedious debates, which they call an appalling waste of time. They have much work to do in connection with getting the Free State established and are eager to get on with it.

Since the return to Cairo of Field Marshall Allenby, the British High Commissioner, the ministerial crisis has been solved. A new cabinet has been formed with Abdel Ezhalek as Premier and Minister of the Interior, and Sarwat Pasha as Foreign Minister. It is expected that negotiations now will begin looking to an agreement abolishing the British protectorate. The Ministerial crisis was solved after a long delay, owing to the refusal of the Egyptian statesmen to form a ministry while relations with Great Britain were considered unsatisfactory.

The British government could not insist upon a reduction of the personnel of the British navy below 90,000, it was announced in the House of Commons by Sir Robert Horne, chancellor of the exchequer, speaking with regard to the report of the Economy Committee headed by Sir Eric Geddes, which recently recommended a cut of 35,000 officers and men in the navy and 50,000 officers and men in the army. The chancellor said the government had recommended the cancellation in the army of 24 battalions of the line, equivalent to five cavalry regiments, and a reduction of the artillery by 40 per cent.

The blockade of the Moroccan region of Alhucemas by Spanish forces began Thursday with the expiration of the time limit set by the Spanish Government's ultimatum to Abdel Krim, the Moroccan rebel chieftain. Preparations were made to land Spanish troops at that point.

Austen Chamberlain, government leader in the British house of commons, in an address at Oxford announced that after counselling his colleagues in the cabinet he had given Prime Minister Lloyd George an unanimous reply that they considered it necessary in the national interest that the premier should continue to carry on the government. Mr. Chamberlain said that when Premier Asquith resigned during the war Mr. Lloyd George had not sought the premiership but desired to serve under Arthur Balfour and Andrew Bonar Law. Both these men thought it in the national interest that Mr.

of Mr. Griffith the Dail adjourned until April 25.

The central committee of the socialist revolutionary party of Russia together with a number of active members of the party who for a long time has been in the cheka prisons will be handed over to trial. They are charged with having been involved in the plots of 1917-18 to assassinate Nikolai Lenin, Leon Trotsky and other Soviet leaders. The new state political police have published a review of the new evidence against the men. It is based largely on a pamphlet published abroad by one Semenov the alleged leader of the Social Revolutionary Terrorist Group, and a document written by a woman, Lydia Konopova, who it was asserted, was chosen to take over the killing of Premier Lenin. The Premier was to have been taken to death by poison placed in his food or a doctor was to have been sent to both Lenin and Trotsky to inoculate them with some fatal disease.

Laborite and Socialist candidates were badly worsted in the London municipal election last Thursday. The result is a fact as have been announced give the municipal Reformers 67 seats, the Progressives 17, and the Laborites 10. In three constituencies Laborites defeat by narrow margins but elsewhere they were swamped by majorities varying from 1,000 to 8,000. The composition of the last County Council was Reformers 68, Progressives 33, Laborites 17 and Independents 1.

ARCHBISHOP WORRELL'S LENTEN PASTORAL

A Lenten Pastoral from the Archbishop of Nova Scotia was read in the churches of Trinity parish on Sunday, February 26th, as follows: To the Members of the Church of England in the Diocese of Nova Scotia.

My dear brethren:

During the War it was often said that one good thing to emerge from the mass of surrounding horror would be an arousing of the world from the indifference into which it had been slipping and an awakening from its religious slumber.

Amid the fearful catastrophe of that war, the wrecking of human fortunes, the destruction of happy homes, and the maiming and killing of useful men, to say nothing of the wanton butchery and barbarous treatment of women and children we were brought face to face with the reality of life and death and compelled to take account of the relative value of our surroundings.

The Church then in all faith and earnestness opened wide the door and pointed out the never failing satisfaction which the Incarnation gives and ever can give to questioning humanity.

Now that three years have passed since the close of the war we have to acknowledge a large measure of disappointment and regret that the hopes which at one time were so high have not been realized to the extent expected. But in the midst of the unsatisfactory condition of the world today the Church holds out the message of the Gospel as the one ground of confidence that all will yet be well. That Gospel points not only to the present and the past but to future. It bids us ask ourselves whether we are serious questioners. Is the material side of the world all we have to work for and live for? Is man to be only what, unaided by spiritual or supernatural power, he can make of himself? And when his physical and mental strength fails has he nothing to depend upon? Is that the end?

"Strength and spirit upholding all creation. Who ever doth so moved abide."

When a leading scientist acknowledges that "personality persists beyond bodily death" we can feel that it is not mere poetry to say "where shall never be one lost good. What was shall live in others. The evil is null, what was good shall be good. On earth the broken are. In Heaven a perfect world."

Keen mentality, human experience and the art of genius, no less than deep spirituality, find inspiration, comfort, explanation and content as Holy Scripture draws aside the curtain and reveals the truth. "God giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ" for "So God loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, to the end that all that believed in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." Therefore it is worth while to struggle and suffer and endure for the cause of right, which alone shall endure forever.

In holding this out, the Church calls us to make use of these well-tried means of grace which she received from Christ and has faithfully preserved since. She calls upon us especially in the Lenten Season to truer worship, more earnest prayer and deeper devotion, not because it is Lent, nor because the Church so directs, nor because it is the fashion, but because it is an opportunity for a closer walk with God. If prayer implies fellowship with Him, let us use it much as we can, and let this House be the House of prayer; let us be there whenever we can, for the oftener we are with Him and under His pilotage the less likely are we to take a wrong course and the more likely to strive for the things that are of the greatest value.

During the war there was an eagerness to read about and hear about the historical and economic questions involved, and ever since a new interest in books that were hitherto neglected has been aroused. The calamity eclipsed every other subject, and gripped the world. Amid the shower of books that has been descending upon the hard dry facts and stern realities and unsolved problems, let us turn to the Word of God for enlightenment, refreshment, and perhaps the true cause for existing conditions may be found either in the fact that a genuine struggle with the great enemy of our souls, the Prince of evil, is being avoided, or we are allowing ourselves to be totally unprepared for entering on any Lent is a time for refreshing this

A REPLY TO AN INTERESTED RATEPAYER

To the Editor of the Courier:

SIR—The writer is pleased to learn that one of Digby's ratepayers is taking a great interest in the electrical future of Digby. This shows good common sense on his part. No doubt he has noticed the rapid growth of other Canadian towns both industrially and financially, who have had cheap electrical power placed at their disposal.

But it appears that the chief argument some of our ratepayers are holding out on with regard to the proposed purchase of Daley's Electric Light Plant by the town of Digby is, (not the most important point in the problem, which is the installation of the proper central station equipment for generating current to retail at from 5 cents to 10 cents per kilowatt hour which would mean a saving of 50 to 80 per cent. to the light users), but the price asked for the Daley plant, viz., $18,000.

As we all know a reliable engineer came here from Halifax and made an appraisal which was $18,000, and right here I should like to state that after going carefully over engineer Roland's figures and comparing them with cost of present plant when it was installed, also the cost now today, taken from figures supplied me by various manufacturers, that some items appear high but the majority are fairly low; also when you add to the estimate the value of the franchise and deduct $800, the price asked seems fair to all concerned.

The writer has heard people argue that the Daley plant is old and obsolete. This is not correct, because both boiler and prime mover are of late design and built by reliable manufacturers. This part of the plant is perhaps out of repair at present. The station electrical equipment is of good design and can not be improved upon very much with regard to the service intended for, and this part of the plant is in first class condition.

Others say look at the old times, they would have to be replaced. Don't think because they are out of repair that they are useless, because with a small amount of capital, plus a little labor, this part of the system can be put in first class condition.

But to get back to ratepayer's letters. In the first one he says that with efficient operation this plant we have at present can sell current at 20 cents per kilowatt hour and operate at a profit. Now this is the rate the present owners adopted the first of the month. He goes on to say that the boiler must be cleaned, steam leaks must be stopped (which is a very small consideration), repair to pump, water heater and engine which I think are more worthy of consideration, but the point that is not quite clear is why the change in the grate surface? However these are mere details. Although I am of the opinion that the present plant can be operated at a profit and sell current at 17 cents per K. W. I do not believe that we can ever hope to develop a load of any size with a rate this high. Therefore can we expect the Nova Scotia Power Commission to invest $500,000 to $900,000 to develop the Bear River project mainly for our benefit when we only have a possible $50,000 K. W. a year to offer as our part of their revenue?

Then some people say, "Run the steam plant for a year and see how we stand." All I can say to this is that we will be just one year behind.

In his second letter Ratepayer tells us that the present plant is too large for the load it has to carry. This is very true. He goes on to state that the dead load weight figures up to 16 cents per K. W. hour. If he goes over this carefully he will discover an error.

Then he gives us the solution to our problem in the form of the Fuel Oil Engine. Now the only oil engine has a mechanical efficiency of 80 per cent. so you may see from this basis of rating that Mr. Ratepayer's 30 H. P. engine would develop 24 H. P. or an average of 45,000 K. W. hours a year under full load which would be out of the question. We shall also consider his medium sized plant or the 60 H. P. engine at 80 per cent. efficiency. This engine would develop 48 H. P. and would be operating at an average of 15 per cent. overload in summer months. Here we should like to state that the installation of a small and a medium sized oil engine, especially these two sizes, with regard to the way we are situated at the present time, would not be considered good engineering, not only because of the increased rate due to an increase in depreciation or the fact that a fairly large Diesel engine could be purchased for approximately the same

LOBSTER FISHERMEN!

In a few days only Lobster Season will open. We are still at our old stand, and expect to do business as usual.

We would like to make a few suggestions, and we think that most of the fishermen who have been in a great many cases are not handled as carefully as they might be to the mutual benefit of the shippers and consumers.

As you know it is quite a common occurrence to crack the small thumb joint of the claws, after hitting each other. Don't do it. This practice is bad, as it is the cause of many deaths when they arrive in Boston. Those who plug their lobsters will tell you it pays them to do so.

Another bad practice—loosening lobsters in the sea and wind without being covered. They are liable to get in bad order, and the better they are handled, the better satisfied you will be with your returns. Reason pays for your crates, as the freight costs so more.

We advise you to take care of your lobsters, and will assure you when we put out good returns we feel as good as you do when you receive them.

We wish to thank all those who have shipped us in the past, and respectfully advise a change of course.

COMPLETELY FREE OF CONSTIPATION

Tried for Years to Find Relief

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" GAVE IT

Chronic Constipation or insufficient action of the bowels, is one of the great causes of disease. Some authorities even claim that Constipation cannot be permanently corrected. This is a great mistake, because here is the proof that constipation can be cured and the bowels made to act regularly and naturally.

YARMOUTH, N.S.

"For years, I was troubled with Constipation, and had to take laxatives and purgatives all the time. If I neglected to take these, the bowels would refuse to do their work."

About two years ago, a friend advised me to try "Fruit-a-tives," which I did. The first box helped me so much that I obtained further supplies of the remedy and continued the treatment. After using about eight boxes, my bowels were able to perform their particular function without aid.

The relief in my case has been lasting, as up to date, I have never had any further trouble. I can recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to all suffering as I did and I am sure they will derive equal benefit."

A. W. FRANKLIN.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 4 for $2.00, trial size 25c, or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

SMITH'S COVE LIBRARY.

On the 24th of last October at a general meeting of the committee of Smith's Cove, it was unanimously decided to have a library and reading room. Accordingly on the 4th of November, following the Smith's Cove Reading Room was opened.

The inception of this project was due to a summer resident, who donated as a nucleus for a library, a number of books, beautifully bound and illustrated and of a high literary standard, including fiction, biography, history, poetry and books of reference.

The library is situated in a pleasant building, and is open to all. The collection of books is growing, and the library is a most valuable asset to the community.

The following program was then given: Piano Solo—Miss Power. The Tale of Marguerite, deReberval from "Stories of New France"—Mrs. A. B. Marshall.

Twenty persons then answered to the Roll Call, and the meeting adjourned.

The Library Committee begs to submit the following report for the month of February.

The collection has been continued during the month, and we have received 85 qts of milk and served 516 pupils.

Thanks are due Dr. and Mrs. Lovett, Mr. W. L. Read and A. B. Clarke for donations of cocoa and sugar. The work has been carried on with very little trouble and the children seem to appreciate the cocoa.

Submitted in behalf of the committee, GRACE E. CLARKE, March 5th, 1922.

DIGBY COURIER NOTES

The Publicity Committee of the Women's Institute wishes to make a short statement to all readers of their paper, the Digby Courier, in endeavour to gather all news items of interest not only to Institute members, but to all persons resident in the town and vicinity. It is not always easy to fill our page, and we would greatly appreciate having persons send in personal, etc. as we are not paid reporters, and are merely doing this to bring home news to those who may enjoy it, and to show that the efforts of the Institute are in the interests of this town and community. We are ready and willing to do the work, but would be glad of a little kindly assistance, instead of the proverbial "knock."

PRESENTATION TO MRS. ANNIE BOGART.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Annie Bogart, on Tuesday night, when a surprise party given by the members of the choir of the Baptist Church. The visitors gathered in the evening of the church at eight o'clock and went in a body to Mrs. Bogart's home. They were welcomed there by Mrs. Bogart, assisted by Mrs. Carl Miller. Musical singing was the principal feature of the evening, after which refreshments were served.

Before breaking up a presentation was made referring to Mrs. Bogart's long period of faithful service as choir leader and included a gold piece contributed by the members of the choir as a small token of their appreciation of Mrs. Bogart's efforts. The evening was brought to a close by singing "Auld Lang Syne" and "Bless be the Tie that Binds."

Questions and Answers on Forestry

by the Canadian Forestry Association

Q. I am told that the Pennsylvania State has given a great impetus to planting by private individuals. Is this so?

A. In the whole State of Pennsylvania last year seven hundred and ninety-one tree planters set out 3,139,000 forest trees. The coal mining companies planted over 290,000 forest trees in a single year. This makes a good record indeed.

Q. I own considerable land in Ontario, no agriculture value. What trees would you advise me to plant?

A. Where your object is the production of fuel, farm lumber, etc., in the greatest quantities in the shortest possible time, such species as birch, and Carolina Poplar form a rapid wood crop which, while of inferior quality provides good summer wood and brings a fair price on the market. Black Locust in Southern Ontario is without an equal for posts and poles making an exceptionally rapid growth and possessing excellent durability. If you are looking for a timber crop of high grade commercial wood, white, Scotch and red pine excell.

Q. What trees are advised for planting in order to prevent land slip and erosion? Several hillsides on my property are rapidly disintegrating.

A. The deeper rooted hickories and oaks excel in preventing erosion. You must however take into account the nature of the soil where the planting is to be done. All trees grow best on deep, porous, moist soil with rich humus and mineral nutrients. Hemlock, pine and spruces are the best windbreaks for Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick conditions.

Q. Is there anything in the story that the "Naval Stores" industry, the extraction of oils, pitch and other resinous products promises to become one of the great branches of British Columbia production?

A. As yet the Naval Stores industry of British Columbia is in its infancy but seems assured of a great future. The samples of Burgundy pitch from British Columbia submitted to British manufacturers accustomed to use the German articles have brought most favorable comment which places the British Columbia article on a par with the finest European pitch. Other B.C. oils secured by tapping Douglas fir, larch and other trees have been declared by British manufacturers of artist materials to be the best they have ever seen. This may mean great things for the coast province.

Q. Why don't the Canadian railway companies do more to prevent forests fires being set by the locomotives and their night-of-way employees?

A. As a matter of fact the railways of Canada are now a very minor factor in the annual forest fire loss. This is due to a growing appreciation by railway executives that their interests are identical with forest protection. The final statistics for last year prove conclusively that both the government and private owned railway lines accounted for a very small fraction of the actual timber loss. Last year was unfortunately distinguished by the large number of fires caused by hunters and campers. Most of the large fires in Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick were due to settlers, fishermen and hunters.

CatsSHE DIDN'T WANT TO LIVE"I felt so ill and wretched that I didn't care whether I lived or not."This was Mrs. W.'s experience.
If you are not feeling well you should read every word of her letter. She says, "Unless you have actually experienced what it means to be ill, really ill, you don't know what suffering is. I felt so ill and miserable that I didn't care whether I lived or not. I am naturally of an active temperament and as a result I must have overworked myself, because I began to feel tired and weak after the least exertion. One day I must have taken on a deadly pallor. I was all over it. I was troubled with dull pains which at times produced nausea. My body felt as if somebody had been pounding it—every bit of it pained. When I laid down at night
I could not get into a comfortable position and the consequence was I got very little sleep. This pains, which followed me in every position for any length of time, gave me frightful dreams from which I awoke weak and perspiring. I consulted doctors and they told me that I was completely run down and needed something to build me up.
Their prescriptions helped me for a while. One day I found a circular about Carbol and the statements in it sounded so honest and true and free from any exaggeration that I decided to try it. In six weeks after taking the first bottle I was as well as ever. If any one had told me that Carbol would do what it did for me I wouldn't have believed them."Carbol is sold by your druggist, and if you can not conveniently buy after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 7-123

price as these two small Semi-Diesel engines which would operate much cheaper, but mainly because, if the load should grow any appreciable amount (which it surely must if the rate is decreased from 20 or 25 cents per K. W. to 6 or 8 cents per K. W. hour) the small engine would be useless.
Now I am not an agent for oil engines but would recommend an 80 H. P. full Diesel type oil engine direct connected to a 33.33 K. V. A. or in other words a 47.75 K. W. 3 phase, 2300 V. 60 Cycle, A. C. Generator. This plant is capable of generating 122,000 K. W. a year at a cost of 3.99 cents per K. W. hour. Compare these figures with Ratepayer's two unit plant, which will deliver 143,080 K. W. which should be 130,000 K. W. I am also including in my figures a new generator, which he is not because he proposes to belt the 85 H. P. engine to the present generator which would not be good practice.
There is one other solution to our lighting problem. This is the installing of the present equipment in H. T. Warne's mill and by the use of the by product in the form of waste wood and sawdust for fuel, with the addition of a medium sized unit, a fairly cheap 24 hour service would be possible. However, the writer thinks that any town lighting system should be an independent plant.
Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the use of your valuable space, and hoping that more of Digby's ratepayers and citizens will take as much interest in this matter as the interested Ratepayer, I am,
Yours for a better and more prosperous Digby.
G. A. ROBINSON.
P. S. If you noticed in his last letter Ratepayer proposed to drive a 37.5 K. W. Generator with a 60 H. P. engine. This should be 37.5 K. V. A. which is 33.75 K. W. or 45.23 H. P. under present condition of loading, and would generate 86,232 K. W. hours a year.

Its discipline can make us strong in the Lord, and in the power of His might, for it brings us to self-examination, which will convince us of the real menace to our lives that lurks around, and how perilously near we are sailing to the area of deadliest mines; it brings us to prayer and sacrament which can best fit us for service against the enemy.
For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places. Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day and having done all to stand.
I earnestly invite your consideration of the list of services in your church, and urge you to resolve to attend some of them, not spasmodically, but regularly and systematically. While still enjoying in moderation the good things which God has given us, let us take some time from our pleasures, to rest with Him, and learn how "His greatness flows around our incompleteness, Around our restlessness His rest."
I hope therefore that through the Diocese the Lent of 1922 will be kept sincerely and sensibly, and at its close, one and all may feel they have received a blessing and have been a blessing to others.
Very truly yours,
CLARE L. NOVA SCOTIA.

Railway News in Brief

Vancouver.—Flags of twenty-nine nations affiliated with the International Association of Railway and Blue-and-gold colors will be seen from the C. P. R. station on Canville Street to the Capital Theatre and the Hotel Vancouver, down Georgia and to the Arena, during the Rotary conference in April. The Hon. Robert Shafer, of the decorations committee of the conference has completed all plans and expects to have the city dressed in his Sunday best. The delegates, numbering nearly 2,000, will arrive by boat and train over the C. P. R., C. N. R. and G. N. R. These three companies have promised to have their depots suitably decorated. The Hotel Vancouver will be the headquarters and the management will have the Rotary emblems and colors in prominence everywhere.

Vancouver.—When the Canadian Pacific "Empress of Asia" sailed from Vancouver for the Orient she carried in her hold a shipment of wireless equipment made up of a number of sets of instruments which are to be used by oil prospectors for one of the large companies now endeavoring to locate oil fields in the Orient. These instruments are the highest quality procurable and are valued at several million dollars in the aggregate. Lack of transportation facilities and means to get information from one point to another in the Orient has forced the larger concerns to use wireless telephones as a means of communication.
Several of these wireless sets have already been in use about a year in China and the superstitious Chinese have a great fear of their power. In one province they claimed that the family had been caused by the "devils" in these instruments, and local troubles are always ascribed to the unseen spirits in the wireless telephone instruments.

Vancouver.—That the new Canadian Pacific steamer "Princess Louise" is easily the queen of the coast in performance, size, construction and fittings is the opinion of the passengers who came from Victoria on her first trip.
The steamer has commenced regular service, under command of Captain T. Rippon, formerly of the steamer "Princess Royal", and will continue on the Victoria-Vancouver run until early summer, when she will go on the Skagway run under command of Captain Slater. The engine-room is in charge of Chief Engineer James Pettigrew. The "Princess Louise" is a source of especial pride to the people of the Coast owing to the fact that she is entirely the product of British Columbia craftsmanship. The hull, engines, were built by the Wallingford Shipbuilding Co., and the superstructure, cabins, fittings and decorations are all local work. The only parts that are not the product of British Columbia are some of the furnishings which were taken out of the steamers "Irene" and "Princess Margaret."

NAVY LEAGUE NAMES ITS NEW OFFICERS
The first annual meeting since the opening of the new Navy League Building, Halifax, was held by the league last week with a large attendance. The financial report, included the statements of expense with regard to the running of the new building which was considered by those present to be low. Financially, the League is said to be in excellent condition.
Mr. E. Warren, president, in his report on the work of the past year, dealt with the pension cheques which had been issued and the relief work which had been done. Shipwrecked crews which had been taken care of during the year included the crew of the Esperanto, the City of Brunswick, the Lady of Castro, and others. Since June last, when the building was opened, 6,000 men have been taken care of, and 10,000 men have had the use of the building. At times, the capacity of the hall has been taxed to the limit.
The election of officers resulted as follows:
Honorary President—S. M. Brookfield, President—Mr. E. Warren, re-elected.
Vice-President—Captain Decarier.
Secretary-Treasurer—R. Wolfe.
Committee—Messrs. Alsopp, Major, Edwards, Joseph, Haliburton, Joseph, Williams, Lieutenant Commander Wood, and Ralph Hendry.

Purina Calf Chow
Is Different
Yes, it's unlike any calf meal on the market.
1st. It's different because it's better.
2nd. Every ingredient is a pure feed of recognized value, no "phony" products of unknown worth. It does not contain any, or any appetizer. Calves eat it as greedily as they do whole milk.
3rd. It does not scour; blood flour is one of the important ingredients, which insures freedom from scours.
4th. Easy to feed, no boiling, just mix with warm water.

CHARMING WEYMOUTH HAS BOUNDLESS OPPORTUNITIES FOR DEVELOPMENT

Back of It Lies a Great Resource of Virgin Timber, Through It Flows a River With Great Potential Power, In Front Of It Coastal Waters Teeming With Wealth.

"Steadfast in allegiance to his King, he exchanged his native country for the wilderness of Nova Scotia, and by the blessing of God upon his industry and judicious economy was enabled to live in it comfortably, hospitably and independently."—From an Loyalist epitaph.

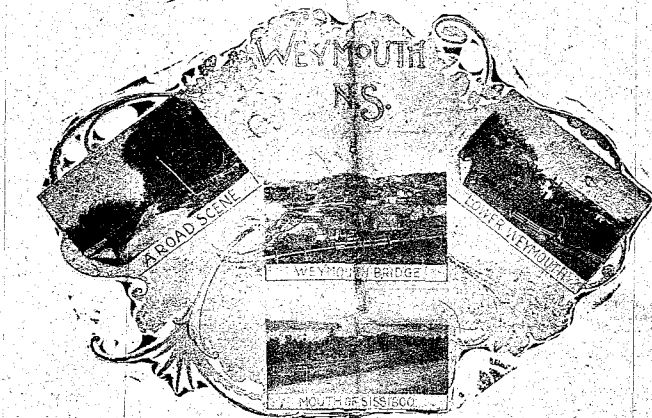

What more does a man desire than to live comfortably, hospitably, and independently? That seemed to be true today, as it was when that epitaph was written, so far as the people of Weymouth are concerned. The only trouble is they are just a little too satisfied with living comfortably, hospitably and independently, but in that respect they are not different from thousands of their compatriots. Self satisfaction is one of the evils of Nova Scotia—otherwise we might have double the population, double the wealth, double the industry, double the commerce that we have today. If it was not so easy to live so comfortably, so hospitably, so independently, if it were not so easy to turn to one resource when another fails us, it is quite possible that there would be greater energy expended in the development of some one great industry. At present we are content with scratching.

IF A NEW DISCOVERY!

Let us imagine for a minute that in this year of our Lord, Nova Scotia had just been discovered. New Brunswick and every other part of Canada were, as they are, prosperous, developed, with a speculative and investing and adventurous public. England is as she is, with people seeking the larger activities of a new land, with her capital looking for new fields of investment. What would be the attitude of the whole world toward this province of virgin wealth of untouched resources, mineral, land and sea? It is quite easy to see that the announcements would be throughout all Canada, all Great Britain, all over the United States—"The richest part of the earth's surface now discovered." That would be one. Another, "Room for millions of people to develop, and yet another, 'The last great bonanza of productive wealth. One could go on an infinitude, if we had just discovered this Province and were announcing it to the world. That of course was pure imagination. Well, was it after all, for why not have a discovery of Nova Scotia, and announce to the world what here. For has Nova Scotia really been discovered? If it has, the people in Great Britain where Nova Scotia is you soon learn that this Province of Canada is almost as unknown as Baffin's land. And what has all this to do with Weymouth? First of all because I found that very striking and applicable text on a tomb in Weymouth; secondly because Weymouth is one of those numerous places in Nova Scotia that make one believe that there should be some sort of regenerating force injected into what ever is responsible for the development of this Province—and come down to the final responsibility—the people themselves are the responsible ones.

THE THREE BANKS OF WEYMOUTH.

Weymouth has three banks. Not only one, you say. But I repeat, Weymouth has three banks. One is the Royal Bank, an institution paying, I was told, three and half per cent. on one million and a half dollars, deposited by the good people of Weymouth. The other two banks are the banks of the Sissiboo river, which if dammed and controlled would generate far greater dividends than any financial institution in this country. And the smiles which they think of the delusion of some people. Some of those dear souls think their money is right there in that little red brick building, earning every day the three and half per cent. Some of those people have not the slightest idea that their money is not there at all. They perhaps do not know that it is away out west helping to build up farms and industries and towns and cities with the banking company putting into their own dividends the difference between that three and half per cent. and what the man out west is paying for the money. Again you ask why do I pick on Weymouth. Because Weymouth has buried its talent—talents, I may say for certainly there is more than one opportunity for development in the Sissiboo valley. To begin with Weymouth is one of the most beautiful places in Nova Scotia. No place in the Province has more pleasing natural prospect. It is the centre of a rich country capable of enormous development in some branches of agriculture. Back of it lies one of the largest resources of virgin timber remaining in the Province of Nova Scotia. Through it flows a river with enormous potential powers, as rivers go in Nova Scotia, and in front of it lies one of the great coastal waters of the Province, affording access to fishing grounds and giving open water transportation to any part of the world. Weymouth is still unincorporated. It still burns the oil lamp, except in those few houses where private electric plants have been installed. This river has been dammed but by a pulp company that exports every pound of pulp in its raw state. As to its timber limits adjacent to the town, I was told that they had been practically exhausted and no plan of conservation had been adopted to restore the wealth. These are plain facts about Weymouth, and I feel free in mentioning them because citizens of the place spoke with great regret that these resources of the community had not been developed. There are men who recognize that there should be electric energy developed for not only Weymouth, but for that great prosperous French settlement of ten thousand people which lies adjacent to Weymouth. There are men there who recognize the blind folly of allowing the raw resources of this Province to be sent to other countries, to be made into the finished article. There are men there who recognize what it would mean to Weymouth if instead of a pulp mill employing, at no time more than two hundred men, there should be instead a paper mill, employing not less than five hundred men; that there should be industries developed because of cheap power and good shipping facilities; and that there should be some policy of agricultural development and settlement, more than the non-method system, which has prevailed for generations. Of course it is not fair to blame the people of Weymouth for all this lack, but at the same time one does think that something could be done with that million and half dollars deposited in the little red brick bank, for after all why could it not be doing exactly at Weymouth what it is doing for Toronto and Montreal and in the western provinces.

A PLACE OF GOOD DINNERS.

"We may live without friends,
We may live without books
But civility man cannot Live without cooks."
"He may live without love,
What is passion but pining;
But where is the man that Can live without dining?"

I am quite sure that Owen Meredith never did ride on the railway from Halifax to Weymouth, yet he wrote exactly what must be in the minds of everyone when riding from early morning with only counter-bites at stations, they arrive at Weymouth late in the afternoon. The index to any town is the hotel, as far as visitors are concerned, and the index to the hotel is the dinner. But the dinner is made many times better if within fifteen minutes of your arrival at the hotel, the proprietor comes hospitably forward and suggests a motor ride and you go with him on a sort of foraging expedition: among the farm houses for fresh blueberries and fresh vegetables and among the fisher folk for fresh mackerel and haddock and cod and buckets of clams. And then just as you get back to the hotel and are alighting at the door you notice that the hotel proprietor is looking at you in a sort of contemplative way, and you look at him inquiringly, and he looks away and then you turn away and suddenly look back and he is looking at you again very quizzically, and he says something, and it sounds so pleasant, but yet so strange, that you are a little surprised for the moment, and he repeats it and then you, oh well you know just as well as I do what happens—the sum and substance of it all is that you have a very excellent appetite for dinner. And then came the dinner. There was nothing elaborate about it, just plain simple country hotel dining room scrupulously clean—and then the maid approaches you—a neat trim maid in a monocle, and she cites the decolour, or the litaney, or perhaps it was the menu—any way

It was a sort of intoned performance—all in a monotone, and this is what it was—Fish cakes, finnan haddie, (repeated slowly, monotone and full stops between), fried mackerel, fried clams, lamb chops, cold roast lamb, cold roast beef, cold mutton, ham and eggs, fried eggs, bowled eggs, (just why the egg were thus pronounced I do not know unless it was some reflection upon the physical deformities of the hen.)

My surprise to find such a varied menu was such that by the time the maid had finished the recital, I had forgotten the beginning and when trying to remember the beginning, I had forgotten the end. So in order to get anything at all I did mentally what I many a time did when a child at a Christmas party, closed my eyes and dived into the grab bag, for the priceless prizes lay hidden there. Sufficient it is for me to say that I ate at Goodwin's hotel that night one of the best home cooked typical country suppers that I have had in any country hotel in Nova Scotia and far surpassing in hominess of flavor anything that the epicurean chef of city hotels can produce. Will you believe me that I woke up in the night, in the great empty silence of the night and like a man saying his beads, I recited that menu with a clear mind and a full stomach. I recited it with a prayer that it might be repeated the following night, when in a state of preparedness, I should be able to make a more judicious selection of the delectable viands. If I ever go back to Weymouth of my own free will, it will be because of the hotel as one factor.

A PICTURESQUE SETTING.

The other way to Weymouth itself, Weymouth is physically different from most other towns of the Province. The Sissiboo River flows through a gorge, between deep, steep banks, and not until it reaches a mile or so of its estuary do the hills give place to intervals. The town is built on either side of the river, piled up on two hills, the main highway dropping very steeply down to the river level, crossing by an iron bridge, and climbing the opposite hill.

It is a picturesque setting, not unlike a mountain village; the houses sit upon the hill sides, like people in box seats at a theatre. Some appear to be standing on tip-toes, eager to see what is going on in the world, peering over their ornamental trees like dowagers squinting over their fans. Others in a supercilious attitude hold their heads high above their neighbors very high and mighty in their exclusive attitude, looking down at the bottom of the hill sit little old cottages, vine covered cottages, cottages with gabled windows and peaked roofs, with picket fences, and old fashioned flowers along the walks. They sit there like those genial old gentlemen out for a night, whom we see sometimes with florid faces and rouslets sitting in the bald headed row at ease with the world, the flesh and the devil.

A PLEASANT PROSPECT.

Weymouth does not display itself to the train. The railway comes out of a wilderness, rushes across the river, stops a moment at a station with a very unkempt yard and surroundings, and rushes out again passing into another wilderness of woods. But approach Weymouth from Digby and you motor along a road that opens to you far stretches of land and sea scape, hills

"France must have three men to one for Germany as a standing army when the zero hour sounds again," said General de Castelnau, Chairman of the Army Commission, in the Chamber of Deputies last week in advocating the eighteen-months service bill as sponsored by the commission. "Germany," General Castelnau continued, "has seven divisions of infantry and three of cavalry, and these forces can be trebled overnight. The League of Nations has not yet realized militarily that the great American nation absolutely refuses to cross its threshold. We are a great pacific nation, but we cannot vouch for others. Thus we must remain attached to the principle of an armed nation."

The eighteen-months bill now before the Chamber provides for thirty-two metropolitan divisions ready for immediate action.

"France," General de Castelnau declared, "must proceed slowly and prudently in the reductions in the army, which we desire with all our hearts, in view of the economic interests of France and of the entire world. The danger of war will obtain as long as Germany does not abandon her policy for revenge and the crushing of France's power."

Some of these are very not only on numbers, but greatly upon morale, which is only achieved and fields, a land many tinted with summer's coquettish coloring. The road, reveals to you what you do not see from the railway, the results of man's labor in the comfortable and beautiful homes that line the wayside. North Weymouth, a section of the Weymouth district, is a community of some of the choicest homes of the Province, and ideal in situation. Some of these are very modern homes, built of recent years, of bungalow architecture, with terraced and well laid out grounds, neatly cropped lawns and tastefully arranged shrubbery, a refreshing fountain playing in the centre of an encircling drive way. Then there are still standing, in the groves and statelier trees, old homesteads whose very windows reflect the dignity of their age, old homesteads about which there is something of the immortality of man, something of the character of the generations which have lived in them. There are three of these houses side by side. They are the homes of the members of the Jones family, one of the most distinguished families of Nova Scotia, a family who as Loyalists brought to this Province those high ideals of in that day an invaluable asset to the country, and have in succeeding generations won for some of loyalty, service to the state, and intellectual qualities which made them the highest positions in the gift of their countrymen.

On the other side of the road, almost opposite from the homestead, is the home of Mr. H. St. Clair Jones one of the most distinguished country seats in the Province. The house is not large, but of pleasing architecture, and sits in spacious and really beautiful grounds. There is an open view from the gardens a panorama of great beauty—St. Mary's Bay—with a variety of hills and fields and woodland and coves and beaches all thrown together in that promiscuous manner in which nature seemed to have dumped a little of everything on Nova Scotia.

Last Week In The Maritime Provinces

The cost of the ocean terminals at Halifax to date, including the cost of land expropriation, breakwater, docks, station accommodation, cost of excavation and laying tracks from Waverley to the present station and terminals, was $16,646,286. It was stated in the House of Commons Friday in reply to a question by William Duff (Liberal, Lunenburg).

Word has been received of the death in Cambridge, Mass., by accidental poison of C. W. Tuttle, a native of Cumberland County, and five members of his family. Mrs. Tuttle was Miss Harrison, of Wentworth. The dead are: Hazel, twenty-five, school teacher; Harriet, fourteen, in whose honor the dinner was given; Bryan, twenty-six, school teacher; Edward, twenty-eight; Charles W.

Tuttle, sixty, carpenter, and father of the boys and girls; Randall, twenty. Canned greens that had developed "botulism," a bacterial disease, is blamed for the wholesale poisoning. The fatal vegetable was eaten at dinner, and the first victim was Miss Hazel, who died Monday evening. She was followed in rapid succession by Harriet, Byron was the next to go then followed Edward, then Randall and last the father. Four physicians worked day and night to try and help the unfortunate family, but to no avail. There were eleven children in the Tuttle family, and five of them are gone in one fatal blow.

Lumber prices, which it had been feared would be slow in lowering in the movement to bring about lower building costs, and thus assist in stimulating building activities are already being materially lowered. The Fraser Companies, Limited, Fredericton, have issued a new local price list which W. J. Glenn, their manager said, showed a reduction of from 50 to 60 per cent. below the peak prices of two years ago.

One particular line of material was instanced which in 1920 had sold at $35 per thousand, was reduced to $32 at this time last year, reduced again last fall and now is offered at $20. Similar reductions, although not so pronounced in all material, have been made, and it is said that the local lumber trade is most anxious to go as far as possible in taking such action as will stimulate building activities.

It is also understood that in the ranks of the building trades workers there is a steadily growing sentiment in favor of taking such action as is needed to stimulate industry in Fredericton and vicinity.

A sensation was created in the village of MacLean last week, when the remains of an infant were found buried on Indian Island, only a few hundred yards from the village proper. A party of men who were digging loam struck a small box and upon opening it discovered the body of a baby. On investigation Wednesday it was ascertained that the child was stillborn. The father of the baby at the time of the birth was distracted by the precarious condition of his wife, and being in financial straits did not secure a burial permit, but interred the body himself to save expense.

Our Golden Nugget

THE longer I live the more I feel that, though intelligent matters a very great deal to one's happiness in life, and though I am not going to run down the value of cleverness, I think if we look round in all the business we are connected with we shall agree that the men who really hold the world together, and whom we trust and therefore follow, are not the people who are simply clever, but the people in whom cleverness is really brought into subjection to moral self-control, to sympathy, to courage, and to fairness; the people with humanity, with character, in their own hearts, in the long run.—Sir Michael Sadler.

BUSY WEEK FOR THE C. G. I. T.

Last week was a busy week for the Canadian Girls in Training here. Miss Mary Allison, Maritime Secretary for Girls Work was here from Thursday to Saturday. The girls gave a Mother and Daughter Banquet on Thursday, in the Methodist vestry which was really the formal and public introduction of the girls to their mothers and to the teachers and leaders in their Sunday School. After supper, the following toasts were proposed: "Our King and Country"—proposed by Dorothy Turnbull (president of group), and responded to by "God Save the King." "To the Church"—proposed by Evangeline Gaines and responded to by Mr. Watts. "To Our Most Honoured Guests, Our Mothers"—proposed by Louise Van Tassel, and responded to by Mrs. J. J. Wallis. "To our Glorious Canadian Girls in Training programme"—proposed by Miss Jessie Wallis (group leader) and responded to by four girls, representing the four sides of the Canadian Girls in Training programme. Helen Hayden for the Physical side, Ruth Sellers for the Spiritual side, Rosalie Hutchinson for the Social side, Miss Allison then addressed the meeting, giving most especially to the mothers and leaders present, on the general programme of Canadian Girls in Training, and its purpose and influence in the life of the teen-age girl. After Miss Allison's address, a vote of thanks to the ladies who helped in making the ladies' luncheon was moved and carried by Dorothy Turnbull, seconded by Edith Van Tassel, passed, and presented to the ladies by Miss Wallis, who acted as toastmaster. Six of the girls then waited, and gave very efficient service. After this, Miss Allison led the girls in a sing-song and games. The girls left for home after singing the C. G. I. T. "Taps." On Friday afternoon, Miss Allison addressed a few of the older girls on C. G. I. T. work. Friday evening the "Hustlers" group put on a demonstration meeting in the Methodist vestry. The meeting opened with a service of worship, the president, Dorothy Turnbull in the chair. After that, the initiation service was put on, and a member introduced. Miss Allison then addressed the girls on their programme and explained to them just what they should do for them, if they left the school. On motion of Dorothy Turnbull, a vote of thanks was tendered Miss Allison for her work here. The meeting closed with benediction by Mr. Watts.

THAT APPEAL CASE

The following notice of motion has been given by R. W. E. Landry, counsel for the appellant, in the case of the King v. Cyril Raymond: "Please take notice that His Honor J. A. D. J. in the County Court, District No. 3, sitting at a special term of the said court, on the 27th day of April, A. D. 1921, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, will be moved for an Order that the Appeal herein be set down for hearing, on the 27th day of May, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the appeal will be heard by Judge, or as he may have leave to be, and that the appellant be allowed to be heard in support of the appeal, and that the said appeal be heard and disposed of, before the said Judge in pursuance of the provisions enacted in that behalf, and on the following grounds: 1. That the Notice of Appeal given herein and dated the 12th day of November, A. D. 1921, is not defective by reason of a Bond having been filed by the appellant, Appellant. 2. That Section 750 of the Criminal Code of Canada does not require a Bond to be filed by the appellant, Appellant. 3. That pursuant to said Section 750 of the Criminal Code of Canada, no section 750 of that Code is to be taken into consideration in the case of an appeal, and that the said appeal is not subject to the provisions of said section 750 of the Criminal Code of Canada. 4. That the said appeal is not subject to the provisions of said section 750 of the Criminal Code of Canada. 5. That no provision is made under said Criminal Code whereby the appellant Appellant is liable to be committed to prison. 6. That no Bond is required in this case, and thereby the appellant is properly before the Court and that said Appeal should be heard at the date fixed by the learned Judge of this Honorable Court, in view of said provisions or section in the Criminal Code of Canada, enacted in that behalf. Dated at Yarmouth, N.S., this 27th day of March, A. D. 1922. To Frank Jones, C. J. Digby, N.S. Solicitor for Cyril Raymond, Respondent. R. W. E. LANDRY, Solicitor for C. A. Jordan, Agent-S. P. C. Informant, Yarmouth, N.S. The Bridgetown Monitor has been leased by Frank H. Beattie, and Edmund Stratton, of Sydney, and the paper came out this week under their management. The building formerly occupied by the Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club and leased by Fred Stratton has been sold by John Daley to J. W. Nichols and will be used by Frank Beattie as a pool room.

Are they fighting in Ireland again yet? Look at Letteny's scriums, marigoldettes and various other things. All the world's a stage and just as present it's putting on a bum show. Letteny's pullover sweaters for women in different colors at $1.39 also the backs at $2.39. Character is made by the things you stand for; reputation is made by the things you talk for. Eggs are way down. So it's no longer a sign of wealth to have a bit of eggs on the lapel of your coat or on the tip of your chin. H. T. Varne will carry stock at his men South End, a full stock of flour and feed. The reduction in overhead expenses will enable him to sell cheaply. There will be a meeting of all those interested in Athletic Sports, in the Town Hall Monday evening at 8 o'clock to discuss organization and to make up a programme for the coming summer. Offering will be received in the Baptist Church at Digby and Hillgrove next Sunday for the "Save the Children" fund of the Russian Famine Relief Committee. The need is enormous and the response should be generous. The body of Mrs. Caroline Marshall who died at Lunenburg, is being brought to Hillgrove by her daughter, Mrs. Bessie J. M. Bacon, for interment in the old home cemetery. A memorial service will be held in the Hillgrove Church on Tuesday afternoon, April 4, at three o'clock. On and after tomorrow the rates of postage on money orders, addressed to place within Canada, the Empire, the United States and Mexico will be prepaid, for each subsequent order, or fraction of an ounce. The registration fee of ten cents is also to be prepaid. M. M. Woodman, general superintendent of the C. P. R. It's the girl with the prettiest ankles that sees the mouse first. Marjorie's girls' stockings are not as black as they're painted. That Antigonish ghost came in like a wind and went out like a liar. Build up your system and feel fine all the time by taking Tanlac. P. W. Holdsworth. The boats fishing along the Gut are making some good stops of cod. The scallopers are also doing well. The fishing schooner Dorothy M. Smart has been sold by the Maritime Fish Corporation to parties in Halifax. Why move around, half sick and listless when health and strength are yours for the asking? Take Tanlac. P. W. Holdsworth. About the best advice we can give at this time of the year is: When you get ready to take off your winter underwear, leave it alone. Rogers Halliday, John A. Craig, Yarmouth, and Peter McGowan, Moncton of the committee who are seeking a site for Maritime Old Fellows Home, were in Yarmouth, Tuesday and Wednesday and looked over several properties. If you suffer from biliousness, constipation, headache, nervousness, allow consumption, loss of sleep, indigestion, flatulence, heartburn, and all the other troubles which Tanlac and Tanlac Vegetable Pills will certainly straighten you out. P. W. Holdsworth. The D. G. steamer Aberdeen, Capt. Keeney, arrived in Yarmouth Monday evening from St. John, which port she left that morning. The ship stopped at Lunenburg and took a buoy of the shore which had gone adrift and stranded there, while at Lunenburg, the ship was taken by the States automatic buoy marked "L. R." supposed to be from Little River, Maine, was located on the shore. The Aberdeen had a case of automatic buoy which will be put out at Blonche Road, taking the place of the one gone adrift. The ship also has several cane and conical buoys to place at points along the shore. The Yarmouth schooner, Annie L. Spidder, Capt. Wm. Snow, put into Halifax Thursday for fuel and provisions. She took in 3,000 pounds of fresh halibut and 7,000 pounds fresh cod which were sold at a profit. Captain Snow reports fish plentiful on the Banks, but to get them is another question. Weather conditions, he says, are such that it is not safe to send the men out in the dories, the winds being so tricky and the heavy seas running making it very hazardous. The Spidder got away Friday for the Banks. Several times within the past month the Spidder, along with the fishing vessels, has been stopped at St. John's Harbour or Liverpool for shelter. Barney Doucette, of Tusket Hill, who was aboard all while the vessel was at St. John, said at Halifax and sent to his home, Capt. Snow was fortunate in securing another man and the vessel, sailed with full complement. PERSONAL MENTION Mrs. Janet Minard is visiting her old friend Mrs. Jordan, at Bangor, Me., for a couple of days. SEED TIME AND THE OAT SUPPLY

in 1921 in many parts of Canada, more especially for oats, led the Seed Purchasing Commission of the Seed Branch at Ottawa, to hold in reserve considerably more than half a million bushels of No. 1 seed oats for this spring's seeding. This grain was stored in government interior terminal elevators at Calgary and Saskatoon. Early in March about 400,000 bushels of this grain had been disposed of, a considerable proportion of it going to Ontario, Quebec, and more eastern points.
The Seed Purchasing Commission supplies seed oats in car loads only and at the net cost of the re-cleaned seed. It is understood that during recent months bankers and others have persisted in encouraging merchants to be cautious. Reports reaching the Seed Commissioner indicate that seed merchants have been so guided by these precautions as to have in many cases an insufficient supply of seed grain to meet the full requirements. So much of the success of a crop depends on the quality of the seed sown as well as the promptness of getting it into the ground when the proper seeding time arrives, that farmers who have not already secured their full requirements of seed should see to it without further delay.

HUMANE INSTI- TUTIONS

From the annual report of Humane Institutions (Dr. W. H.
Hattie, inspector,) laid on the table of the House of Assembly on Thursday last, we find that institutions coming under inspection for the year ending Sept. 30, 1921 numbered forty-three, classified, as follows:
Provincial institutions, 3; local general hospital, 3; maternity hospital, 1; local asylums for the chronic insane, 23; local alms house
3. One new institution, the Pictou County Home for the Poor, has been added to the list, while one, the Pictou (town) Alms House, has been struck off. In the various institutions inspected, care of treatment was provided for a total of 14,365 persons. In the general hospitals 10,787 patients were treated. At the Nova Scotia Sanatorium, the number of civilian patients under treatment amounted to 240. The Salvation Army Maternity Hospital and Children's Home provided care and treatment for 248 mothers and 235 children.
In the institutions for the insane and poor, 2,855 persons received treatment or custodial care.

In the general hospitals, the hospital days totalled 214,327, and the surgical operations numbered 5,822. These figures are considerably in excess of those of any previous year. The enlargement

"GREEN FEED FOR EVERY FARM"

(Experimental Farms Note)

Perhaps no other plot on the farm will give such large returns for the amount of time and labour expended, as a small area of feed grown for soiling purposes. Green feed is raised during the summer months by cutting, hogs and poultry (if they are in inclosed yards) but without doubt proves the most profitable when fed to milch cows.
Soiling crops are found to assist very materially in maintaining the milk flow during the hot summer months when pastures are short and dry.

Corn, oats, peas and vetches;
oats, rape, and sunflowers in the order named, are all valuable for this work.

Corn is one of the best crops for this purpose, and gives a large yield of succulent feed, much relished by both cattle and hogs. Planted before June 10th, it should be ready for cutting about August 10-15, and has reached a height of from 5 to 8 feet, with an average yield of 18 tons per acre. "Longfellow" has been used with some degree of success over a period of years. Unless pastures are of extreme fertility, one-half acre with fair crop should be sufficient for ten or twelve cows.

Oats, peas and vetches mixed, oats five parts, peas four parts, vetch one part, should be cut and fed while at the rate of three to three and one-half bushels per acre, will give large amounts of excellent feed.
This should be cut and fed while the oats is in the milk or soft dough stage. This will necessitate two or three seedings, if soiling crop is to be fed over any great length of time.
Two seedings, or at the most three,
ten days apart, should be sufficient, and one acre should supply plenty of feed for fifteen cows.

Oats sown thickly also provides good succulent feed, and should almost equal oats, peas and vetches in yield per acre.

Rape is generally used as a pasture crop. It is particularly valuable for hogs, and when used for such must be seeded in several plots with about ten days intervening between each seeding. If allowed to make good growth before stock is turned in on it, and then pastured, say, for an hour per day, plants will throw up new shoots, and continue to grow even after being partly eaten.
Rape may be sown at the rate of three to six pounds per acre, in drills, or on the flat. It has been grown with fair success when seeded broadcast, but this plan is not recommended, as it is generally found necessary to use a harrow or plow to allow it to make its best growth. With successive seedings and careful handling, an acre should supply sufficient feed for at least fifteen cattle.

The Experimental Station at Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, reports that sunflowers were used as a soiling crop during the latter part of the season of 1921, and were eaten with apparent relish by beef steers. They were refused by hogs, and eaten but sparingly by dairy cows. These sunflowers (Mammoth Russian), were sown on the flat in rows thirty inches apart, and gave a yield of about twenty tons per acre.

A seeding of oats, or oats peas and vetches, for early cuttings, with corn for use as a soiling crop during the latter season is to be recommended. A small area of rape used as pasture during late autumn will be found very valuable.

HISTORY OF PULP AND LUMBER INDUSTRY OF THE SISSIBOO RIVER

Sir Frederick Becker Has Been On A Tour Of Inspection During Last Week.

(From Tuesday's Halifax Chronicle)

Sir Frederick Becker, head of Becker and Company, of London, the largest pulp firm in the world, accompanied by Lady Becker, wife, party, spent yesterday in Halifax. They arrived in Halifax on the private car "Boston," attached to the Oceanic Limited, and were met by Sir Frederick's representative, Mr. H. I. Mathers, Sir Frederick's representative, and Mr. Frank Oulter, superintendent of the pulp mills at Yarmouth, the party left Halifax at midnight on a special train for Port Sydney, Queen's County, where today they will inspect the mills there, going on to Yarmouth this evening and proceeding then to Weymouth. At Yarmouth, they will come back to Halifax, and are due to arrive here on Thursday night. It is expected that Sir Frederick Becker will remain in Halifax for a day or two before leaving for Montreal.

PULP INDUSTRY AT WEYMOUTH.

WEYMOUTH, March 31.—Weymouth, a pretty village with a population of a little less than a thousand souls, possesses two great industries, viz., the lumber and pulp industries. For the size of the place, there is no doubt that the volume of business which these two industries create surpasses many a larger centre and reflects credit on the wide-awake, up-to-date business men of the locality. Surrounded by a large country district, whence timber and pulp wood grow in abundance and where large quantities are cut, and situated close to the great water transportation facilities, Weymouth is naturally located for the purpose of its two chief industries. For many years, and even today (although the market is low and the outlook not very promising at the present, but which is bound to better with time), the lumbering industry has been perhaps the chief industry. In days gone by it was a customary sight to see two, three, four and even more horse-drawn barges, laden with logs and timber, being towed up the river, and vessels at the wharves taking on large cargoes of timber, which was being shipped to the West Indies, American ports, and even to ports in South America. But gone are those days, days that were so full of activity and business in the timber line. Still, in spite of all the fluctuations of the market, and of the low prices for the exportation of timber, timber is being cut this year in large quantities. We are not, however, desirous of writing about the lumber industry. Rather are we endeavoring, in this article, to give, as best we can, an historical outline of the pulp industry, which, for over a century, has been one that has engaged the minds of the leading men of the business world, here and elsewhere, and one which has undergone many changes since its first inception, and whose future is very bright.

One day, about twenty-seven years ago, a man from Philadelphia (one of a party of American tourists who were in those days, as well as now, delighted in the pleasure of trout fishing for which the village is famous) was enjoying a picnic excursion on the placid waters of the Sissiboo River, with its many streams and rapids. He came to the little falls, known as Sissiboo Falls, on the river, and the powerful run and fall of water impressed him. He was suddenly struck with the happy thought—what a grand, splendid chance for a pulp industry. This man spent several days in this terrestrial spot, so won to the scene, and the thought that surrounded him and so impressed him with the possibilities of the place, afforded him the promise. And so he safeguarded the thought that had entered his mind. He followed the river a little further on. He came and saw where thirty-five lakes were flowing into that same river; saw, too, an abundance of thriving growing timber of the finest quality for making spruce pulp. He bordered these lakes and the numerous little streams.

Built a Mill.

This gentleman, a business man with the natural instinct of the business man, duly fostered the idea that had so suddenly came upon him. He went back to Philadelphia and miles away was the railway, and down the river, a few miles distant, was the water, which made transportation an easy matter. He returned to his native city, but the following spring made another trip to the delightful little spot, where his mind fully determined on the course of action. Mr. S. Fawcett Smith, fourth son of this gentleman's name, on his own initiative, purchased land and erected a three-grinder pulp mill, with four wet machines, and shortly after the mill was erected and operating, four grinders and five wet machines took the place of the first installed. A year or two later, the mill was enlarged, making the head of water thirty-five feet. A very successful little business was carried on through the local manager, Mr. N. Stedman, who later moved to Digby, where he entered the furniture business. A general failure, for the accommodation of the workmen and residents, office, cook-house and boarding houses were erected, transforming the once quiet little town into a busy, thriving centre. Mr. Smith purchased many acres of timberland from the Crown and from private owners, about ten thousand acres in all.

conducting the general store for a while, also went west, where he entered the employ of the L. C. R., with offices at Moncton. Both these gentlemen, whose influence is felt, and who have left an indelible impression on the business life of the community, have since departed this life.

took Over Property

In 1904, an enterprising citizen, Mr. G. D. Campbell, who was then doing an extensive lumbering business, with the assistance of a Montreal friend, Mr. George Khol, and the Royal Bank of Canada, took over the property of the Sissiboo Pulp and Paper Co. and formed the Campbell Lumber Company with a capitalization of $75,000.00. The new company consisted of G. D. Campbell, Sr., President; G. D. Campbell, Jr., Vice-President and Secretary; H. P. Fillet, Assistant Vice-President; and George Khol, Cashier. Gen. Man., with the following directors: G. D. Campbell, Sr.; Donald Kemp; and George Khol. The company successfully operated the property for two years as a lumbering concern. The mill at Weymouth Mills Pulp Mill was repaired and put into operation with the assistance of Mr. Stillman Jones, a modern hand saw mill was built by Mr. Campbell adjoining the Pulp mill and the saw from the saw mill electric utilization in the manufacture of pulp. The heart of the timber was sawn into lumber and the slabs made into pulp. This proved a valuable asset to the company, as everything being conserved and utilized, even to the edgings from the sawed timber, which was far ahead of the old method, and proved a mighty factor in the operation of the plant. With this scheme in working order Mr. Campbell was able to pay off the debt expenses incurred in the erection of the hand saw mill as well as to pay off the expenses of repaying the lower mill.

Increased Facilities

After Mr. Smith had conducted his business for a few years he was bought out by a company formed by Mr. Charles Barrill, at that time one of the greatest business men of Weymouth, and who, with his brother, Israel Barrill, conducted a large general store with a good trade. Mr. Barrill was profoundly interested in the pulp industry and foresaw great possibilities and so secured a syndicate of the new company, which purchased the interests of Mr. Smith. The syndicate inaugurated the Sissiboo Pulp & Paper Co., which was a short while did a greater business than did Mr. Smith, but which finally went under. The new company greatly increased the output of the mill and Mr. Sam Barrill, by installing a new water wheel, new grinder, two extra wet machines and hydraulic presses. With business steadily improving, the new company built another large mill at the Lower falls, as it is more familiarly known, Weymouth Falls. This mill was a six-grinder plant, with six wet machines, hydraulic and balling presses and had a capacity of 60 moist tons per twenty-four hours. A butt dam was built, with six turbines, increasing the head of water to 60 feet and giving a total water power of about 3600 horse power.

The new mill and dam cost the new company about $250,000.00. The dam which they had built by the "engineering firm of Messrs. Eaton & Brownlee, of Weymouth, still exists, a monument of their work. The dam gave the company a great volume of water for the operation of their mill and the water was conveyed from the pond to four turbines through a large steel flume. An up-to-date saw mill was also built at the dam site for the purpose of saving the lumber and timber for the new plant as well as for the cutting of the material used in the construction of a large dam, and the dam was a large and expensive structure. Dean Gay Way

Shortly after the construction of the new lower mill, one of the dam and the water taken away from the spring freshet of water to a flood. The breaking of the dam added force to the freshet, with the result that one end of the dam on the Weymouth Mills side of the lower or Weymouth Falls mill, was galled out by the freshet, leaving a huge body of water right onto the new mill. Large quantities of freshly made pulp were washed away and considerable damage done. This loss, together with the enormous expense the company had gone to in the erection of its new mill and the falling or low market which prevailed at that time, forced the company to close its mill. Altogether the Sissiboo Pulp & Paper Company operated for twenty years. The dam and mill were practically a complete failure, but the upper mill continued to turn out good pulp. In fact had not the dam been the cause of the failure of the lower mill, the operation of the upper mill would have been sustained by the Sissiboo Pulp & Paper Co. would have been much greater.

Employed 200 Men

The Sissiboo Pulp & Paper Co. acquired thousands of acres of land and employed in the woods and at the two mills, about 200 men. The wages of the employees ranged from $1.50 to $1.75 per day. Carl Dennis, now of Rhodes Curry, Ltd., Amherst, was chief bookkeeper for the company, and Harrold Jones, at present with the Sissiboo Pulp & Paper Co., was also in the office. The cost of manufacture increased somewhat from the days of Mr. Smith and pulp sold from $15.00 to $22.00 per ton, a price scarcely even then dreamed of. After the cessation of the operations of the Sissiboo Pulp & Paper Co., Mr. Charles Barrill retired to other fields of business activity. His brother Israel, after Several friends of Capt. and Mrs. Donald Barkhouse gathered at their new residence on Tuesday evening of last week and presented them with a complete aluminum set, as a token of the esteem and affection which they are held by all who know them. Mr. and Mrs. Barkhouse were completely taken by surprise, but quickly realizing the gist of the crowd, threw open their house. A very lovely and enjoyable evening was spent, in cards, games and amusements. Capt. Barkhouse, in a very neat little speech, thanked those who had so generously presented him and his wife with the presents. An address was presented to the happy couple, on behalf of those who had gathered for the occasion, by L. H. Potter. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Potter, Mrs. John McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. V. Silver, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hallett, Miss Evelyn Grosvenor, Miss Daisy Hallett, Miss Edna Journeay, Miss Ruth Goodwin, Miss Allison Kilham, Miss Nellie Journeay, Miss Phyllis Journeay, Miss Jessie Bartlett, Miss Pearl Prime, Miss Margaret Eiderkin, Miss Gladys Gates, Miss Alabine Sabhan, Miss Evelyn Ellis and Miss Corbin, Miss Gertrude Journeay, and the Messrs. Pearl and Ephraim Gates, Geoffrey Journeay, Irving Jakes, Ralph Hallett and Fletcher Bartlett. Capt. and Mrs. Barkhouse moved into their new residence on Friday last. They are very much pleased to have their friends wish them the greatest success in life.

Destroyed By Fire

Just as things were beginning to hum and business on a good sound footing, with a promising market and reasonable rates of exportation, a disastrous conflagration destroyed the saw mill and the pulp mill in 1911. The fire originated from the saw mill, which was a very old building. The company had very little insurance and the loss by fire was heavy and irreparable. Mr. Smith, who was not undaunted or dismayed, he immediately set about the erection and construction of a new mill on the old site. He had the same capacity as the old one that was burned. The new mill had the same capacity as the old one. After he built the new mill Mr. Campbell operated the business solely for pulp manufacture until 1914 when the war broke out and six of his sons, who were connected with the business, answered the call of their King and Country.

In spite of the great handicap Mr. Campbell continued to run the plant until the year 1918 when he decided to dispose of some of his interests to a large British concern that was to take it over on shares. But shares were then scarce and after considerable dickerings a company, the Sissiboo Pulp & Paper Co. Ltd., leased the lands and the mill and are operating the plant solely as a pulp business at the present time. During the time the Campbell Lumber Co. was operating the business, the dam was repaired and large tracts of timber lands were acquired. The storage of water in the lakes was also increased. The Campbell Lumber Company employed from 200 to 300 men in the woods and at the mill.

Employment was given a large number of men with teams as a lot of the pulp was hauled from the mill to the wharves of the company at Weymouth, during the winter season as well as during the summer. The company also purchased saws (Continued on Last Page)

Dr. H. A. Chisholm, of the Provincial Health Department, Halifax, was in town a couple of days this week in the interest of public health movement and particularly for the maintenance of a provincial health nurse in the municipalities of Annapolis and Digby.

He examined the school children and addressed a public meeting held in the Red Cross room on Thursday evening in reference to the necessity of a local health centre for the education of the children in regards to health. The Women's Institute here have undertaken to open a health centre in their rooms in the Red Cross Rooms and have a clinic monthly. The local doctors and dentists have agreed to give their support and co-operation to this project.

Mr. Henrietta Jones, was president of the meeting which was also addressed by Dr. E. J. Elderkin, who expressed his hearty endorsement of the work. After the meeting was over a vote of thanks was tendered Dr. Chisholm. The provincial health nurse for the municipalities of the districts of Annapolis and Digby has a large number of schools to visit and it is impossible for her to look after them properly, thus the formation of the local health centre.

NURSE THINKS NOTHING BETTER

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Advised for all Women in Poor Health

Toronto, Ontario.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years and it is the only patent medicine I ever recommended. I am a nurse and if I find a woman is in poor health I always tell her to take it. Although you know that doctors and nurses do not use patent medicines I must say that I think there is nothing better than your Vegetable Compound. When I first took it many years ago, I was so tired when I got up in the morning that I could not get out of bed. I was so weak and when I went to bed I was so tired to sleep. My mother-in-law told me that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was just what I wanted so I tried it and only took two bottles when I felt better. Since then I have found that there is nothing that makes me feel so well, for it seems to build my system right up. I don't know any other medicine that has done so much for women."—Mrs. W. H. PARKER, 19 Wellesley Ave., Toronto, Ontario.

Women testify again and again that they have been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after other medicines have failed. It has been tried for nearly fifty years and not found wanting.

If you are suffering from any of the various ailments which accompany female weakness try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

HIAWATHA TABLEAUX

Sixty Tableaux illustrating the most important parts of Longfellow's beautiful Indian poem "Hiawatha" was given on Monday evening, March 27th, in Oakdene Hall, Bear River, under the auspices of the choir of the Methodist Church.
The tableaux were explained by quotations from the poem, and accompanied by appropriate music.

Reader—Mrs. W. W. Wade.
Pianist—Mrs. C. M. Mack.
CAST OF CHARACTERS.
Hiawatha the Boy, Miss Mary Romans.
Hiawatha the Warrior, Harry Purdy.
Brother-maker, George Tupper.
Iago, Douglas Wade.
Mondamin, Joseph Langley.
Nonomia, Mrs. Fred Harris.
Ninicheah, Miss Kathryn Purdy.
Fever, Miss L. VanBuskirk.
Pamino, Miss Hardacre.

Set I—Hiawatha's Childhood—16 Tableaux.
Hiawatha is cared for and taught by Nokomis. Presented with bow and arrows by Iago. Shoots a deer and brings it home.

Set II—Hiawatha's Wooing—22 Tableaux.
Hiawatha meets Minnehaha, a lovely Ojibwa maiden and, disregarding the warning of Nokomis, wooes and wins her.

Set III—The Famine—7 Tableaux.
A long, cruel winter causes Famine and Fever. Hiawatha prays and hunts, but Minnehaha sickens and dies.

Set IV—Hiawatha's Fasting—15 Tableaux.
Realizing the uncertainty of the food supply Hiawatha fasts, wrestles with Mondamin and finds the Loon's corn.

Set V—Hiawatha's Departure—6 Tableaux.
Hiawatha blesses his people, gazes westward, enters his canoe and paddles into the setting sun.

The above programme was presented to a most appreciative audience on Monday evening, March 27th, when the auditorium of Oakdene Hall was filled to capacity.
The tableaux presented were of a very high character, and evidenced a great care in preparation. The scenery was most realistic, and proved a splendid background for the varying scenes portrayed.

All persons seemed admirably suited to their part, and the costumes were most attractive.

Particular credit should be given Mr.
Mack who had complete charge of the posing and scenery, and their himself whole heartedly into the play.

Mrs. Wade, who read the poem so admirably, was also responsible for the selection of a number of passages which were enacted in the tableaux.

The music which was rendered by Mrs.
Mack gave added charm to the picture, and the whole performance was one well worth witnessing. The net proceeds amounted to $95, which will go to swell
the Methodist choir funds.

Seems that worms are getting scarcer, and I can't find enough."

What's become of all those fat ones is a mystery to me.
Those were thousands through that rainy spell—but now where can they be?

The old black hen who heard him didn't grumble or complain.
She had gone through lots of dry spells, she had lived through floods of water, and so she flew up on the groundstone, and she gave her claws a whet.

As she said, "I've never seen the time when worms were so scarce to get by."
She picked a new and undug spot: the earth was hard and firm.

The little rooster jeered, "New ground!
That's no place for a worm."
The old black hen just spread her feet,
she dug both fast and free.

"I must go to the worms," she said: "the sorry to report Mrs. Hiram VanBlarcom still confined to the house."

The rooster vainly spent the day, through habit, by the ways.
Where fat round worms had passed in squads black in the rainy days.

When daylight found him on top of the groundstone, he grieved in accents rough.
"I'm hungry as a fowl can be. Conditions sure are tough."

He turned then to the old black hen and said, "It's worse with you.
For you're not only hungry but you must be tired too."

I rested while I watched for worms, so I feel fairly pet.
But how are you? Without worms too?
And after all that work?"

The old black hen hopped to her perch and dropped her eyes in sleep.
And murmured in a drowsy tone, "Young man, hear this and weep.
I'm full of worms and happy, for I've dined both long and well.
The worms are there as always—but I had to dig like hell!"

Oh, here and there red roosters still are holding sales positions.
But as soon as things get right again they'll sell a hundred firms—Meanwhile the old black hens are out and gobbling up the worms.

PORT WADE
Capt. John W. Snow went to St. John last week on business.

James Ellis is building an extensive addition to his house, Chas. Budrow is haul-

NEW LINER ARRIVES IN HALIFAX

Commanded by Capt. Morehouse, of Sandy Cove.

An otherwise splendid voyage ending in gloom being cast over the ship by the death of one of the passengers after she entered Halifax Harbor, the handsome new White Star Dominion liner, Captain William A. Morehouse, of Sandy Cove, Digby County, arrived at Halifax at nine Friday morning after passing inspection as Quarantine where she dropped anchor half an hour after midnight. She disembarked 101 cabin and 253 third-class passengers and had for Portland fine cabin and thirteen thrifless passengers.

A death occurred aboard the ship on the way up from Quareante, that of William Strapp, of Vancouver, who was climbing home from a holiday trip to England. He was of years of age, and the body was embalmed and sent forward to Vancouver. Mr. Strapp, succeeded from an attack of heart trouble. He was feeling quite well throughout the voyage.

Captain William A. Morehouse, the commander of the Regina, is a Nova Scotian and was born fifty-one years ago at Sandy Cove, Digby County, where he mother still lives. He took to sea faring life when sixteen years of age, sailing for eight years out of Digby in barques and full-rigged ships with his father, the late Captain J. Henry Morehouse, of Sandy Cove. His father always sailed in the employ of William, Thomson and Company, of St. John. After the death of his father, Captain Morehouse joined the White Star line and gradually climbed the ladder of promotion. He went to Halifax for several years as chief officer of the Canada and last summer made one trip to Montreal as the Canada's commander.
Previous to that he was in command of the Craig in the Mediterranean trade out of New York, also in command of the Canopic to the Mediterranean. Captain Morehouse has been 28 years in the White Star line. His home is now in Liverpool where he has a wife and two children. His wife is an English lady.

MEIFORD.

Reid-Orde is engaged at Lequille doing some carpenter work.

Miss Minnie Dares, has returned from visiting her sister, Mrs. Robert Wood.

Miss Helena Floyd has returned from visiting relatives and friends at Annapolis spent the week-end in this place, conducting service here on Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Thon will soon have their first son, expected to open in the latter part of the month.
They have made many improvements in this commodious building and some new beds will be erected on the grounds near the lakes.

A well attended Sing was enjoyed by the young folks on Sunday evening, at the home of Mrs. Charles Charlton.

 16. Ave Maria Stellar—"God Save the King" and the "Admiral", by the Band.
- Rev. Father Superior in his remarks spoke on the self sacrifice and exertions of the teachers and staff towards their pupils and expressed in flowing words his great affection for the children and pupils confided to their care. Mr. Cote spoke of the necessity of receiving a good sound education so as to prepare oneself for the future and for the profession to which the students might be called. He extended his thanks and the thanks of the outside friends of the college for the kind invitation given by the Superior. Father Paul directed the band the French plays while Father DeNouent had charge of the English. The acting of the students seemed to be of the highest quality to the work as well as the great care and instruction given them by their teachers.

WEYMOUTH WEL-COMES SIR FRED-ERICK BECKER

Sir Frederick Becker and Lady Becker and party consisting of J. H. Mathers, of Halifax, manager of the Beaver Company of America; A. W. Irvine, of the Montreal branch of the Beaver Co.; Mr. Phillips, of London, England, solicitor; and Frank Ouellet, manager of the Sissiboo Pulp & Paper Co.'s mill at Weymouth, who met Sir Frederick upon his arrival in Halifax, arrived Wednesday night in their special car, the "Boston", from Port Clyde, where they spent the day inspecting the pulp mill there. At ten o'clock Monday morning a committee of the Board of Trade waited on Sir Frederick in his private car and presented him with an address of welcome on behalf of the board and the residents of Weymouth and vicinity. Mr. Ouellet, the genial manager of the pulp mill here, introduced the members of the committee to Sir Frederick and other gentlemen of the party. Your correspondent also had the pleasure of meeting the distinguished visitor. J. F. Buggan, chairman of the committee, appreciated at a special meeting of the Board of Trade, held last Friday evening for the purpose of welcoming Sir Frederick upon his arrival, after the introduction, with a few words welcoming Lady Becker to the town. He then read the following address of welcome:

SIR—On behalf of the Board of Trade and residents of Weymouth and vicinity, we most cordially welcome you to this part of the Maritime Provinces and trust your visit will be a time when kindly nature adds a smiling welcome to ours. In these days of unrest and unemployment we deeply appreciate the benefit of having a part in your large interest, and hope your investigations here may develop and extend. You, sir, an English merchant prince, will pardon our pointing out that Weymouth is linked up to the Mother Country by name, and through the very large percentage of our finest menhood who took active part in the Great War. We take the opportunity to state we are of opinion, that the appointment of the present manager has benefited the company inasmuch that he has succeeded in obtaining the utmost goodwill of the community, with a few words wishing for your financial success here and elsewhere. We are, Sir, Sgd., J. F. Buggan, Chairman; L. H. Potter, Louis Stehelin, Counselor; E. F. Hankinson, A. P. Hogan, D. S. E. R. Gaudet, H. J. Fother, M. D. C. M., George O. Hankinson, W. G. Blackadder, and Sir Frederick graciously replied to the address of welcome and thanked the committee for their cordiality, saying it gave him a great pleasure to come to Weymouth. He regretted to learn the town was not incorporated, adding that with incorporated he would put in an electric light system for the benefit of the townspeople at cost to the consumers. The Elaborate arrangements for the capture or destruction of the anachronistic creature, reported to have been made by the expedition which left Buenos Aires Thursday night for Patagonia, under the auspices of the Buenos Aires geological garden. The members of the party are all well armed, carrying elephant rifles and lassos. A quantity of explosives is also being taken with which to mine the lake and thus scare out the monster, but it pleiosaurus, glyptodon or megatherium, as variously reported.

During the House of Commons debate on the air force estimates last week, Winston Churchill, Secretary of State for the Colonies, studiously defended the need of a separate air ministry and said that Great Britain's insular position had largely disappeared, making progress in air navigation of the highest consequence, not even second to the navy. The vital sea battles of the future would, he said, be fought by aeroplanes from ships.

of Prince Edward Island last year produced a revenue of $1,240,000, or nearly as much as the Island's fish and dairy production combined. About 5,000 pairs of breeding foxes are held in the various ranches of the province, and last year the increase was 7,500 young foxes. The ranchers sold 400 pairs of breeding foxes at an average price of $600 a pair, and also disposed of 5,000 pelts at an average price of $200 each.

The 1919 industrial census figures record the location of 66 manufacturing establishments in New Glasgow, capitalized at $6,597,278. These employed 1,284 persons, paid $1,218,796, and produced goods valued at $7,347,266. Since the 1917 census the city's capitalization in industry has doubled, and its annual production increased by 125 per cent.

The sale of angling leases in salmon and trout waters will be held towards the end of the month, when some valuable leases will be sold. At the last sale eleven salmon leases on the Restigouche River for five years were sold; the highest price paid being $3,500. Of the ten year salmon leases the most valuable annual rental was $2,010. The province secures an annual revenue of $25,021 from the angling licenses.

The establishment of a provincial tax commission to gather information about assessments and taxes, report to the provincial secretary after every fiscal year and otherwise regulate taxation and assessment in Nova Scotia, was foreshadowed in the provincial legislation last week when Hon. H. H. Wickwire, minister of highway, introduced a bill to establish such a body.

The commission would be called the Nova Scotia tax commission and would be composed of not more than three members, to be named by the lieutenant governor-in-council, who would fix the remuneration of the members. The commission would have the same powers as provided for by the Public Inquiries Act, of 1919, and would have authority to enter in and inspect any land in the province.

The commission would also study, investigate, and report on assessment and tax laws of this and other countries. It would assess property and income and act as a court of revision and review its own assessments and those of other assessors in the province, and also act as a board of equalization to equalize in a fair and equitable manner, the valuations and assessments of property and incomes in the province liable for taxation.

Why hens go on a strike!

The feed elements that make whites of eggs are entirely different from those that make yolks. When hens aren't fed both the white and yolk making elements, they can't lay.

Missouri Experiment Station tests prove that 100 lbs. of wheat, corn, oats, barley and kafir corn make (above bodily maintenance) an average of 224 yolks to 154 whites. Based on data from the same experiments, Purina formulas produce, (above bodily maintenance), as follows:

Purina Scratch Feed	247.49 yolks	142.11 whites
Purina Chicken Chowder	182.05 yolks	292.22 whites
Combined Ration	429.54 yolks	434.33 whites

These Purina feeds not only make a practically equal number of whites and yolks but more of both than ordinary feeds.

Note that Purina Chicken Chowder contains the necessary white-forming elements to balance up the yolk-making grain ration. That's why it makes hens lay so heavily. Instead of the yolks being absorbed by the hen's system, Purina Chicken Chowder makes the whites to complete the eggs and the yolks are laid. Thus we can absolutely guarantee more eggs or money back on Purina Chicken Chowder if fed with Purina Scratch Feed. You take no risk.

LOBSTER FISHERMEN!

In a few days our Lobster Season will open. We are still at our old stand, and expect to do business as usual.

We would like to make a few suggestions, and we think that most of the fishermen will agree with us, that lobsters in a great many cases are not handled as carefully as they might be—to the mutual benefit of the shippers and consumers.

As you know, it is quite a common occurrence to crack the small fourth joint of the claw to keep the lobsters from biting each other. Don't do it; this practice is bad, as it breeds them, and most of them are dead when they arrive in Boston. Those who plug their lobsters in the sun and wind without being covered, they are almost sure to go to land order. The better they are handled, the better satisfied you will be with your returns. It also pays to fill your crates, as the freight costs no more.

We aim to please our shippers, and will assure you when we put out good returns we feel as good as you do when you receive them.

We wish to thank all those who have shipped us in the past, and respectfully solicit a continuance of the same.

and much of the manufactured pulp was floated down the river to the wharf at Weymouth North, where large steamers carried it to the United States. About thirty dry tons were manufactured daily. The purchase price of pulp wood was a little higher than in previous years as were the wages, which ranged from $1.50 to $2.00 per day according to the work done.

Bee Hive of Industry.

The upper or Sissiboo Falls mill was not operated by the Campbell Lumber Co. which devoted all its work to the lower mill. During the later years of operation by the Campbell Lumber Co. the mill was not run on full capacity. The new machinery installed, the higher price paid for wood and the wages, made the cost of manufacture a little greater, but this was well offset by the greater increase in the selling price of the Pulp. Mr. D. D. Campbell, Sr. has practically retired from active business but still retains a profound interest in the pulp industry as well as in anything that tends to the betterment of his home town. The acquisition of timber lands, the cost of building a new mill together with the coming of the war were the chief factors in the disposition of interests held by Mr. Campbell to the British concern.

Large exportations of pulp were made by the Campbell Lumber Co. to New York and Atlantic ports and for a time the village was a regular bee hive of industry. Since the Sissiboo Pulp & Paper Co. was established the operations of the upper mill has not been used and is gradually going to decay. At the upper falls where the industry was first established by Mr. Smith there exists a splendid opportunity of a hydro power plant and the Sissiboo Pulp mill is desired. It is to be hoped that some day in the not far distant future a hydro plant will be installed there, as the want of one is urgently felt and needed.

Becker and Co. in Control

For a short while before Mr. Campbell first disposed of his interests in Mr. Becker, the latter took over the business on lease and operated the plant for a short time. However, the Sissiboo Pulp & Paper Co. was first established by the lease and a Mr. R. A. McIntyre of St. John was sent here as Manager of this company. Mr. McIntyre is under the control of the Becker Company of America Ltd. of Halifax, which is controlled by the Becker Co. of Halifax, and of which Sir Frederick Becker is the principal owner and shareholder. It was May of 1911 that the Sissiboo Pulp and Paper Co. began repairing the plant of the Campbell Lumber Company. New machinery was installed, the plant was enlarged and a new and larger boiler put in. The new company which is under the direction of J. H. Mathers, of Halifax, has been in operation since the Becker Co. of America, went to great expense in putting the new machinery in. Several months were spent in repairing the plant, and several expert machinists and mechanics were engaged to install the new machinery. The plant is now in new and working order. With the coming of the war the cost of material went to the skyrocket prices and this high cost has been a considerable time after the termination of the war.

Revived the Industry.

As soon as things were ready the mill began operations. At a small scale which was gradually increased until today it has a daily output of 50 dry tons and will soon, with the addition of more hydraulic presses, which are being installed, have a daily capacity of 45 to 50 dry tons. While the mill was getting into shape the company purchased large quantities of pulp wood, at a good figure, from the people from outside places. This supply of pulp wood, the old industry gave an incentive to the business. Owners of woodland were cutting spruce pulp wood and hauling same to the mill. Besides purchasing the wood the company has, since taking over the business, bought a considerable number of acres of timber land. The mill had at present, 6 grinders; 8 wet machines and 4 hydraulic presses. Another will be installed at an early date. The company employs about one hundred and fifty men at the mill and in the woods. In connection with the mill they have a large general store for the benefit of the employees; large, roomy cook houses and offices. Mr. Arthur G. Hett, formerly of the Port Campbell Co. is the mill superintendent and H. E. Wagner, one of the best lumbermen of the County, has charge of the wood department. Much of the wood used is rafted down the lakes, streams and river to the mill. About 60 cords of wood are ground into pulp daily, requiring 1 and 1-8 cords to the ton. Since the plant resumed operations it has been running night and day and the company has made several large shipments of pulp. The first shipment was made in July, 1919, when about 100 cords of pulp were shipped by rail to Halifax, then by steamer to the Old Country. Another shipment was made in January, 1920, of 200 tons. In April 1920 tons were shipped by rail to Halifax. All these shipments were hauled from the mill to the station at Weymouth. This mill is a great deal of employment, to a number of team owners and men.

In 1908 the Sissiboo Pulp and Paper Co. asked the D. A. R. to build a spur of railway from Port Campbell to the pulp mill, a distance of approximately 10 miles. This spur was constructed. The Co. of North Sydney having the contract for building it and when completed was put into operation. Cars of pulp are loaded at the mill and hauled to this crossing where they wait the first freight and car loads of pulp wood, which the company buys along the railway, are hauled from the siding to the mill to be ground into pulp.

Many Cargoes of Pulp.

In December last the steamer Keyingham, belonging to a steamship line controlled by Mr. Becker, arrived at Digby and a shipment of about 3100 tons made from this mill, the balance of the cargo being made up with pulp from Port Clyde pulp mill which is also controlled by the Becker Co. and from the mill at Chicoutimi, P. Q. In January, 1922, the steamer Donira, another of the Becker steamers, arrived at Digby and loaded about 1600 tons that were manufactured here. In the month of March the Keyingham returned for another cargo and 2000 tons, or 5500 bales, were taken on board. All of these shipments were made by rail to Digby. In the list of the New Year honors, Mr. Becker was created Sir Frederick Becker, by His Majesty, the King. The company has a considerable amount of pulp on hand, the quantity for about two years' operation, and they are daily buying more. It is supposed the plant will be in operation for at least ten months of the present year.

The lake dams have been repaired and in places new ones built, so that the volume of water which will be available will be sufficient to keep the mill going for that length of time each year. There is enough water power both at the lower and upper falls to run two pulp mills, if necessary, electricity the railway from Yarmouth to Halifax, and operate other industrial factories.

Sir Frederick Becker has arrived from England and is making a tour of inspection of the plants and mill owned by him in America. It is understood he will visit Weymouth in the very near future. What is greatly to be regretted is a war which does not mean a mill that will turn out the very best quality of paper, though that could be done if desired, but a paper mill that would turn out paper for use as wrapping paper, paper bags and other uses. This is every natural advantage of having one here. It would mean employment for experienced workmen; it would enhance the popularity of the mill, and, undoubtedly, a benefit to the community.

Natural Advantages.

The wonderful natural advantages, with which a bounteous Providence has endowed and enriched the place, can and should be turned into commercial use. A traveller once day and truly described the little village of Weymouth when he called "One of those spots of earth which are blessed," but he added with a sigh, "One which the people do not seem to value, else they would grasp at the splendid opportunities within their reach." There are many, many places in the country, much smaller than Weymouth, that would be of great value, if only they were properly developed. We propose within a short time the magnificent water fall and power will be converted into commercial advantage and use.

There is not only room for a pulp industry here, there is plenty of places along the banks of the Sissiboo River where, factories could be erected, factories that would manufacture most anything. There is an abundance of hardwood growing back in the country. It is not difficult to get this and a furniture factory could be operated here for years and years without using up all the available products that would be used. We trust that Sir Frederick Becker will be indelibly impressed with the beauty of the village and that he will see the wonderful advantages for the pursuit of any sort of industrial activity.

Charming Weymouth Has Boundless Opportunities

thing of the interesting land marks of Weymouth and hear something of its history Mr. Jones showed us upon his own grounds the site of the home of Col. James Moody, who settled at Weymouth at the close of the American Revolution. Col. Moody was one of the heads of the British Secret Service during that conflict and performed distinguished service for the British Army. He established at Weymouth an estate of considerable acreage and did much to clear and develop the country side. This part of Nova Scotia was very fortunate in the type of Loyalist it received, and perhaps more than any other part of the Province, has today more of the descendants of the Loyalist families living on their original properties. Such names as Campbell, Cosmans, Dunbars, McConnell, Hankinson, Jones, Taylor, are still there. And they are there in more than name, as proven by the late war, when in the Campbell family, for instance, six sons enlisted and in smaller families all there were to serve, rendered full account to their country. The site of the Old Moody House, a house which in its day saw many brilliant social functions, entertained many distinguished guests, including the Duke of Kent is still very distinct. The apple trees planted by the original Moody, are standing yet, are bearing yet, though gnarled and twisted by the years and storms. Two trees planted near the house are leaning over the cellar hollow as to shelter it from changes of time. They look as if in some flood of memory they had bowed low to each other, and their age had never permitted them to stand erect again.

THE VILLAGE BURIAL GROUND

The character of a community is often indicated by the manner in which the citizens maintain their churchyards. There are so many horrible examples of neglect in provincial towns, and for that matter the conditions of Halifax cemeteries are none to boast about, so it was gratifying to visit the little plot of land in which the citizens of Weymouth bury their dead. There is no plot of ground, but a plot of the stones that have been erected to mark the last resting place of many of the Loyalist founders of the country, are still marked and plainly read. It was from the stone marking the grave of Josiah Jones, Esq., son of Hon. Eliza Jones, of Weston, Mass. that I obtained the epitaph which I made the text of this article. It read in full as follows:

Steadfast in allegiance to his King, he exchanged his native country, A. D. 1785, for the wilderness of Nova Scotia, and by the blessing of God upon his industry, and judicious economy was enabled to live in it comfortably, hospitably and independently; his several duties as neighbor, husband, parent, citizen and magistrate were fulfilled with a steady, temperate and conscious perseverance, worthy of imitation.

"Humbly confiding in the merciful presence of God in Christ, he departed this life in peace, 10th day of June, 1825, in the 81st year of his age."

I was privileged on that morning with a visit to the Church of England, which stands on the same site as the original parish church erected by the Loyalists. It is one of the noblest little bits of church archi-ecture that the country possesses. The interior is altogether finished with wood, finely grained and toned. It is one of the most prayerful sanctuaries, a chapel for meditation. All its windows are memorials to the Campbell family, being particularly rich in the funeral decorations of the church have recently received a most valuable addition, by a tablet erected by this family to the two sons killed at the front. In the inscription on it is as follows:

To the glory of God and in loving memory of Lieut. Kenneth Archibald Campbell, bombing officer of the 42nd Canadian (infantry) with the Black Watch, killed in action, Jan. 24, 1917, at Vimy Ridge, buried at Mount St. Helier, Jan. 23, 1917. Also Lieut. Col. P. Campbell, M. C., R. F. A., Wounded at La Bassée, June, 1915, wounded at "Death Valley," July, 1916, decorated on his birthday, Nov. 1916, by the King, mortally wounded Oct. 10th, buried at Godswaersveld, October 10th, 1917.

Brothers and brother officers in the Great War.

"Grant them rest on Lord and let light perpetual shine upon them."

A CENOTAPH OF GRANITE.

In a neat triangle of land beneath several wide spreading trees in the centre of the village where two main roads meet, the Weymouth citizens, assisted by those of the adjacent villages, have erected one of the most commendable memorials in the Province—a plain simple cenotaph of granite, flanked on each side by marble globes, and surmounted by a machine gun, captured from the enemy. The names of the leading battles in which Canadians participated are inscribed on the four sides of the Cenotaph, and the names of the men killed are engraved deep upon the granite. The inscription on the monument is as follows:

1914—1919

Erected by the citizens of Weymouth and vicinity in honor of those who served in the Great War, and in memory of the following who gave their lives:

THE STORY OF ROMANCE.

Spending an hour with Judge Crozier at his delightful home on the other side of Weymouth, the side of the river as one passes out by road toward the French Shore, I had the pleasure of looking in his fruited garden, with the branches of trees laden with the ripening gravenstein, and other trees laden with luscious peaches. This will give you some idea of what Weymouth is good for. Looking over old books which the Judge placed at my disposal I read the love story of Miss Fitzrandolph, the daughter of one of the early Loyalist settlers. Unfortunately Miss Fitzrandolph was accidentally killed by her lover but as we cannot help that I shall refer to the part of the story which may be some further inducement to visit Weymouth. The story reads thus: The amiable and lovely daughter, Jane—whose bright smile and winning manner soon won the admiration of young Solomon Bunnell whose manly bearing, agreeable style, gallant attentions, were reaped, by Jane, (just plain Jane).—It is intersected by the. Intimacy ripened into love; love begot mutual contact, brightest anticipation of conjugal bliss animated their lives and irradiated their happy countenances." And now if all that happened in Weymouth a hundred and fifty years ago, I do not see any reason why it should not happen now.

Taking it all in all Weymouth is one of the most enticing places in Nova Scotia. It is a community of beautiful homes with every attraction of outdoor life. Excellent motor roads in every direction, water facilities of the best, fishing and hunting in close proximity. It is a village of orchards, lawns and hedge rows of modern garden and quaint, alluring nooks. It is just such a place where one longs to be able to spend a few years of life before passing on—it is such a place that if there be re-incarnation, one might desire to come back to it and live the ideal we cherish but never attain.
