

Welcome to the Digital DIGBY COURIER

100th Birthday

The hundredth anniversary of the Digby Weekly Courier has brought to mind some fond memories as contained in the following historical chapter of the writer. But first, I wish to congratulate the current editor of the Courier, Mrs. J.M. (Edith) Wallis, for a job well done over the years and still being well done, good service rendered with great fortitude.

According to any record, I have at hand, the Digby Courier, in one hundred years of publication, was controlled under the same family management for 42 years, 1931 to 1973, under the control of Wallis Print Limited. The late J.J. Wallis became editor of The Courier the second time, in 1929, and at the same time of the business, which he had been running for some time previously and which became Wallis Print Limited sometime between 1929 and 1931.

I well remember the last year of the twenties when I worked in the office of the son with the husband and father of the late J.J. Wallis, the Courier. Sometime in 1928 or early 1929, the late J.M. Wallis (Mac), son of "J.J." engaged me to work every day after school hours, Saturdays, and for some months after finishing school. The place of work was in the building of the present Digby town hall on First Avenue. J.J. Wallis then worked occasionally at the print shop but mostly across the street at the Courier office which was then located on land in the general area where The Royal Bank of Canada is now.

Wallis Job Print operated in 1929 with a staff of four consisting of J.J. Wallis, J.M. Wallis, Miss Eva Haynes, who later became Mrs. George Kicup, and myself. I was engaged as a printer in the left Eva's job was to run the printing plant but mostly at the Courier office. "Mac" worked nearly full time at all the different jobs at the Job Print, and I worked at various duties, most of the time being spent at operating printing presses.

We worked ten-hour days, six days a week. "J.J." and "Mac" sometimes worked overtime. I worked only the regular hours being paid a weekly wage which was comparatively good for those times and my lack of experience. I received four or five dollars a week for working after school hours to six o'clock and on Saturday all day, and nine dollars a week for full weeks after finishing school. A two or three dollar a week raise was offered to me in the fall of 1929 for me to stay on at printing, but I had made up my mind to enter a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, starting salary of $300. The bank salary figured out about the same per hour as for the printing job. Nevertheless, the congenial atmosphere of the printing plant those days, and, experience however short, were helpful and appreciated by me.

"J.J." was very jovial in his occasional trip to the Job Print and did considerable kidding all in good fun. "Mac" was a witty person who mixed in a good natured sarcasm now and then for one reason or another. Eva most always had good answers to all the kidding she was called upon to take, and, generally held her own in a quiet sort of way, always busy setting type. We four all got along very well indeed. However, I do remember that some days did seem long and weary because of the monotony of some repetitious jobs.

In spite of the great demand for printing those last boom days of the twenties, business generally being brisk, it looked to me that people had to work long and hard to make any decent profit. There was including treatment of the hands. However, nails and finger ends were used and I was soon back to work.

Now and then a printing job had a dose on parchment paper which required a special kind of printers' ink which smelled very bad those days. I always dreaded it when "Mac" would do that job on the largest press, in spite of the fact that we always opened an outside door to lessen the effects on the constitution.

One of the jobs I had to do, being the junior and printers' devil on the staff, was to clean up now and then. One day not long after I started my job at the printing plant, I decided to clean the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned in some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily, he thought the remark pretty good and suitable.

Sometimes the gasoline engine or a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and after "Mac" the fix-it man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results, "Mac" would then stand back and cuss quite strenuously, then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of cussing."

On other occasions when some gadget refused duty for me and, seemed to be broken, "Mac" would say, "use a little oil," and sure enough, often that is all it took. How often since, have I thought of the value of that remark and the actual need of "oil" in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and, in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I told "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1929 got together just before dark one evening and decided to initiate the newly built outdoor Pines Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just east of the pool; nobody else seemed to be around except the four boys; no thought or time for bathing suits up to the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in, the rest quickly followed and across the pool they swam. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Scouts Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the four? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars (second world and Korean), was awarded the Victoria Cross; Sidney L. Smith, now prominent druggist for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale lobster king merchant; and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day "Mac" said to me "how about writing your version of the story told about 'The Marooning of Jerome'." I had heard and read at least two somewhat different stories about the man who was found marooned on a beach at some point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Digby County. When found this man's tongue had been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome" appeared to have been a man of some considerable social standing and possibly of some considerable wealth. However the only thing the man could or would ever say after being found and cared for by some family in the French shore was, something that sounded like the word "Jerome". He either could not, or, would not, write anything about who he was or why he was left the way he was. Well, it was, and is, one of Digby County's mystery stories, and, different ideas have been expressed over the years concerning this man. However my response to "Mac" was, I felt no urge to write anything more or different about this man. The mystery seemed to have been very well explored in the mind of many people, and, he was a sort of curiosity for many people who visited where he lived for many years.

Three years later, I was quite a young man, and I was back in the street that I had lived in, and I was clanking my powered up car, and I was thinking of "Jerome", and as I remember it, I was thinking of "Jerome". "J.J." was noted for his sense of humor and his ability to make people laugh. One day in 1928 during the time Mr. Wallis was editor of the Scott Act (Prohibition Law) he was about and advocated by some people, and I was attending a boys' conference in the town of Digby.

Digby 172 Years Ago

Compiled by David Sanford

From the files of the Courier of January 23, 1867, the following account has been copied concerning Digby in 1800.

"Among a number of old newspapers kindly sent to us by friends is a copy of the Saint John Gazette of May, 1802, says the Telegraph and among other advertisements contained in the issue before us is one describing the town and township of Digby, and offering for sale certain lots in the town. In this area we are told the township of Digby extends from the Gulf of Annapolis westward to the extremity of the province of Nova Scotia, and contains about 130,000 acres." The town plot is thus described:

"The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles across land from the head of St. Mary's Bay. This laid out from the water's edge, partly on level ground and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect, a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in where it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth of that name. It was settled by Loyalists from New York in 1783, the most of whom went early to farms, or, moving to older countries, left the whole side to be bought proved by about who now reside detached, built dwellings with orchards, and some fishery and. It has communal parts of the common provisions in a cheap, built readily to be from many circumstances, probability of place of some shipbuilding, the West India a cheap and of residence. This advertisement, at the December, 1802, were to be a No. 100.

free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students one of which was some "J.J.'s" daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Melvin O. Tibert, Freeport, Digby Co.) Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters; I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print". I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like: embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and trimming paper stock, mixing inks for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "pi", the printers name for a confused mess.

There was a taste of trying to sell job printing outside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried it, made several calls around town, spent most of the time at one particular house, and got an order, but, it was much time and got an order, but,

Power Board to Engage Expert To Investigate

Organization Of Board Completed and Survey To Be Made

The Digby Power Board held its first meeting, Sat night for the purpose of organization and was attended by representatives from each party to the Hydro scheme, H. H. Marshall representing the Municipality of Digby, Mayor F. L. Anderson, Board member of the Town of Digby, and L. Stehelin, one of the Commissioners of the Village of Weymouth, representing that place. H. H. Marshall, Board member of the Municipality of Digby was elected chairman of the Digby Power Board.

The Board will immediately secure the services of a well-known and reliable hydro-electric engineer, who will proceed at once with an investigation of the three sources of energy in Digby County—Bear River, Sissiboo River and Meteghan River. The Board will get a full and comprehensive report on these sources, with the estimated cost of development. There has been a great deal of discussion throughout the country relative to the merits of the different rivers, and the Board is starting out right in having that contentious question settled by expert opinion.

Just as soon as the report is in, the Board will begin operations, because it is realized that a great deal of progress can be made during the next few months, when the weather is most favorable. It is reported on excellent authority that the Municipality of Clare, in the County of Digby, will become a party to the scheme and be represented on the Digby Power Board in the near future.

Bear River Mission Band Concert And Presentation

On Wednesday evening, June 23rd, the Mission Band of the United Church gave their annual concert in the Vestry. Beside the usual choruses and recitations a very interesting review of the Mission Band Study Book was carried out, each child giving a review of a separate chapter of the work covered during the year. Three prizes for perfect attendance were presented to different members of the Band.

The program also included the presentation of a purse of money from the church to Miss Withrow, who is permanently leaving town as the chieftess of the school year, accompanied by the good wishes of her many friends. This feature of the program was particularly appropriate at a juvenile entertainment for Miss Withrow's work with the children of both day school and Sunday School throughout her stay in Bear River, has been of a very high order. Her resignation from the teaching staff of the Oakdale School is regretted by both the school and parents as Miss Withrow has been universally regarded as a most clever and conscientious teacher.

United Church Meeting

On Tuesday, June 29th the Annapolis Presbytery of the United Church met in Bear River. Twelve ministers and a number of laymen were present. The afternoon session was devoted to business. Reports from all the circuits showed the first year of the United Church had been a good one. The spirit of union had proved an inspiration for more faithful work for the Master. Thoughtful consideration was given to the work of the present year, and plans were made for advancement in every department of the church. At the evening public meeting, both at which women's dresses were given by some of the visiting clergymen.

Obituary

MISS BERT RAND CHUTE
On Monday morning Miss Bert Rand Chute, daughter of Obadiah Chute, quietly passed away in the 62nd year of her age. For some time she had been in failing health, but no fears were entertained concerning her until about two weeks ago, when she was taken suddenly ill. She grew rapidly worse, eventually became unconscious and never rallied.

For a number of years the deceased has lived with her brother William, and sister Nettie. The household was a very happy one from which she will be sorely missed. Beside the relatives mentioned above she leaves the sympathy of a large circle of friends. The funeral was held on Wednesday and was conducted by Rev. C. M. Mack, assisted by Rev. J. E. Barras.

Weddings

EARLE-FANCY
A quiet wedding took place last Thursday, June 24th, at the Commercial House, Bear River, when Mary Louise Fancy became the wife of Fred Wilton Earle. The bride, attired in navy blue, was given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Samuel Berry, and the ceremony solemnized by Rev. C. E. Durkee, was witnessed by Mrs. Chalmers and Mr. Ryerson.

Popular Digby County Citizen Passed Away

Former Member of Provincial Government Succumbs To Illness—Funeral On Wednesday

Angus M. Gidney, for many years an outstanding personality in Digby county, died on Tuesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Francis Boutiller, in Centreville.

Mr. Gidney was born in Black Cove, in this county, of Loyalist descent, and spent the greater part of his life in that village. He represented Digby county in the local legislature several terms and took a very active part in the business of the House. Afterwards he was made Collector of Customs for the port, and at that time took up his residence at Smith's Cove, where he opened Walmode Lodge, one of the pioneer summer hotels. A few years ago, owing to failing health, he was superannuated and moved to Weymouth, where he lived for a year or two, but later returned and made his home with his daughter in Centreville. Mr. Gidney was a gentleman of great intelligence and keen wit. In the public life as he was met his deeds of people, and reminiscences of his personal career made an evening spent in his company one of great enjoyment. He leaves to mourn their loss his widow and daughter.

The funeral took place under Masonic auspices on Wednesday, interment being at Sandy Cove in the Church of England cemetery, Rev. Wm. Driffield, rector of Holy Trinity, officiating.

Tea Room

Riverview tea room will be open to the public next Wednesday July 7th from four to six and will be open every day, excepting Sunday, during the summer months.

Bear River has long felt the need of such a place and this very attractive tea room should prove most popular with passing motorists.

Institute Meeting

The July meeting of the Bear River Women's Institute will be held Monday afternoon and all members are requested to be present.

Citizens Have Asked Attorney General To Act

Thorough Investigation To Be Made Over the Disappearance Of Wm. Comeau

No new developments have occurred in the mysterious disappearance of William Comeau, and despite efforts of relatives and citizens of the town, no trace whatever can be found of the man, or anything leading up to the time he left the home of his aunt, Mrs. Madeline Goodman, at Weymouth Mills, on the morning of June 2.

No person in the village saw William Comeau leave his home the same morning that Walter Sprague left on a lumber drive. Both are said to have left at the same hour, and Walter Sprague arrived at the Mill at 7:30, and William Comeau disappeared. The last person to see Comeau alive was Mrs. Goodman's maid, Leonie Doucette, and the latter claims that William told her, when leaving the house, to get a boy to go after the milk, as he would not be home until that evening.

The story of young Cromwell, who is said to have seen Comeau at Weymouth, going about the Boston beach, is not taken very seriously by citizens, as Cromwell is understood to have told several different stories during the past week. The grey suit which Cromwell says Comeau was wearing, does not extend according to the story of Comeau's brother, Isaac, and his aunt, Mrs. Goodwin. While the vest was found, the trousers and coat had been destroyed some time ago.

Shortly after Comeau left home, the maid Leonie Doucette was ordered to seek new quarters, and is at present working at Gulliver's Cove. In an interview with The Morning Chronicle representative, Leonie positively stated that she was sure it was Comeau who came to the door of her room early in the morning, and that he was going away for the day, and would be back later that evening. She said he was dressed in an old blue suit when he left.

Asked if she knew anything about Comeau's life being threatened by Sprague, she stated that once she heard Sprague state that if Comeau did not stop paying attention to his wife, he would shoot him. The evening previous to Comeau's disappearance, Sprague had called at the home of Mrs. Goodwin, and warned Comeau again to keep away from his woman.

It was after Comeau left, that morning, that Mrs. Goodwin found that the money she had locked in a drawer had disappeared, and only left $2 in change. A note she stated was also found missing. But Leonie Doucette did not see Comeau after he left that morning, and could not tell whether he went near the Sprague home, or whether he went to Weymouth.

No person in the village can tell what direction Comeau went. After gathering certain information, citizens believe that Comeau was making plans to get out of Canada, previous to his disappearance. The alleged changing of the will made by his aunt, the attempt said to have certain birds changed, which were made payable to Mrs. Goodwin and also the disappearance of certain documents all lead to the suggestion of such plans. Whether Comeau became frightened at the threats of Sprague, and left the country, or whether he met with foul play, remains a mystery.

Bearing Up

It is easy to give way; it is difficult to bear up; but bearing up pays.

By keeping a stiff upper lip, and smiling, we lessen our troubles and increase the sympathy from others which is so helpful. Tommy learns this lesson during the war. Was he not continually singing—

Pack up your troubles in your old kit-bag
And smile, smile, smile!

We all have troubles. Some times they are almost unbearable. And we are all subject to the temptation to tell others of our troubles.

It is a form of self-vanity, and should be checked. There may be times when a gush of pent-up suffering, poured out to an intimate, with tears, in a secret hour, may relieve the strain. But such openings of the flood-gates should be rare—very rare.

Our world of acquaintances and friends is not interested in our grievance. Spare them: When you are asked how you are, and you are suffering, give a cheerful answer, smile, and rub your hands; in other words, kick the fiend of depression out of our path, and much of your suffering will disappear. For we are governed by hidden laws of which some know more than others; and the wise ones are aware that "bearing up" is better than a bottle of medicine.

Why do some people who are not clever get on better than others who are very clever? Because they know that cheerfulness is the best tonic.

How does one learn this useful and beautiful aid to living—for oneself and for others—which has been called "Bearing Up"? Sometimes it is a matter of temperament, but usually, I think, it is the result of inward virtues won alone.

There are many names in history of great men and women who have suffered and have not told. R. L. Stevenson was an example. But the millions can fight the fight for

A Simple Beauty Secret That Every Woman Should Know

According to the old adage "Beauty is only skin deep," but it would be a transient thing indeed if it did not have behind it a strong, healthy body with all of the organs functioning properly. Just as warmth is radiated from intense fire so is beauty of face and figure the expression of glowing health. Without good health there can be no lasting beauty. Every woman has an inherent beauty, but so many unconsciously handicap themselves in the effort to look their best. Any physician will tell you that the basis of good health lies in keeping the system free from those poisons that accumulate so quickly if the body does not function naturally every day. Unfortunately, six out of ten women it is estimated, are risking their good health constantly because of the fact that these toxins do not naturally move out of their systems. And the result is that their health is impaired, not to the extent of putting them into a sick bed, but through little headaches, a constant feeling of fatigue, a heaviness that makes them dull and creates a listless attitude toward life and its duties. Their beauty is seriously affected. The color of the skin becomes sallow because of these poisons, circles appear under the eyes, the complexion goes to a yellowish green, a condition it is imperative to rid the body of this waste material. For over twenty years women have been aided by Sal Lithofa, a gentle cleanser and pleasant laxative which has been highly recommended by leading physicians for this purpose. A spoonful in a glass of water before meals is all that is required. Results are really marvelous. Health is restored, appetite returns, that heavy feeling disappears, the circles under the eyes vanish, complexion becomes natural, and full of vitality, mind alert, one's beauty is recaptured and enhanced.

Bearing Up. The rewards are certain. Try. And remember—

Laugh and the world laughs with you,
Weep and you weep alone.

An Appreciation

The writer of the accompanying article, with his wife, was standing outside the display window of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Montreal some years ago. They were admiringly expressing their admiration of the beautiful display which was on exhibition in the window, when a lady standing asked the question if they were Nova Scotians, the reply was "yes" they were on their way to Digby; the lady at once became interested and said, "If you go to Digby you must certainly visit one of the most beautiful spots on earth, which is a little village called 'Deep Brook,' you must also pay a visit to one of the leading tourist hotels, 'The Sea Breeze Hotel'."

It has been the writers privilege to be closely acquainted with the village of Deep Brook for some time, and as a consequence he has come in close touch with the popular proprietor of the Sea Breeze Hotel, and his charming wife. One would have to travel a very long way to find more ample evidence of what sheer determination, perseverance and pluck combined with plenty of hard work and good organising can do in the way of building up a first class summer hotel connection.

Some twenty years ago, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Dimars entered their newly erected residence, poor perhaps at first, but the world's goods are concerned, but richer than the richest millionaire, in that they were blessed with an abundance of optimism without which all business ventures are a failure. Starting the first year with the small number of five guests, they have climbed steadily upward until at the present time they possess one of the finest plants of the district, and are able to accommodate about 65 or 70 guests. They have on the grounds surrounding the hotel, cabins to the number of 16, these with the large number of bright well furnished rooms in the hotel are filled during the season, and extra rooms are usually rented in the immediate neighborhood to accommodate the ever increasing number of guests. One might well ask the question, how have all this been attained?

No such solid success can possibly come in one, two or even three years, the secret of the hotel, the well kept grounds, the all-sufficient and high class quality of the food prepared by the expert chef, who has held the same position for a number of years, the liberality of situation, over-looking as it does the celebrated Annapolis Basin, Trout, Salmon and general fishing opportunities, the magnificent views of the surrounding country, the nearest to the churches, (Episcopal & Baptist) in the district, the old town of Annapolis Royal, with its Fort and rooms of old relics.

All of these things have been but stepping stones to the pinnacle of success, to which the genial host and hostess have risen, their fine courtesy coupled with personal interest for the comfort of their guests have won for them their well merited success.

They have the best wishes of guests and friends that they live long to enjoy the fruit of their labour.

The writer was privileged to go through the hotel and cabins a short time ago, and he is very safe in saying that he has rarely seen such a splendid example of perseverance in the face of almost insurmountable obstacles, together with wise economy and thrift can accomplish Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Dimars with their worthy son and his wife occupy a deservedly high place in the esteem of the summer guests, some of whom have been coming every summer for many years which is, in itself, a tribute to the popularity of the "Sea Breeze Hotel."

Mr. and Mrs. George Burgoyne, Sanford, Yarmouth, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wagner, recently.

A record single shipment of Indian motor-cycles, consisting of 36 cases, from Arizona, Mass., recently arrived in Tokyo, Japan, having come forward by Canadian Pacific Rail and steamer lines. The demand for motor-cycles in Japan is a steadily increasing one, but a cheap and convenient method of locomotion and well suited to the somewhat narrow roads of that country.

Twenty-one British Rotarians recently came over to Canada on the Canadian Pacific liner "Montcalm" en route to the International Rotary convention at Denver. On their return trip they came back through Canada, travelling to Winnipeg and Fort William, and taking the Great Lakes trip on P.R. steamboat to Port McNicoll. They returned to the Old Country by the C.P. liner "Montcalm."

The Canadian Pacific Railway has just added two of the new Mount Class observation cars to those running on the coast of Montreal. They are just about ready to run and the balance of four cars will be ready for service shortly after these. They are all-steel cars, made up of three compartments, and one drawing room with a parlor room and observation platform. They will be feature of long-run trains on the C.P.R.

The English football team now touring Canada had one of the most strenuous work-outs in the history of any athletic body, staying for a week-end at the Chateau Lake Louise where they had a practise at an altitude of a mile and a half above sea level, where the thinness and dryness of the air had a wonderful effect upon them. Their captain thought it remarkable that prize-fighters in training had not utilised the marvellous properties of this training camp.

Donovan, Assistant Attorney-General of the U.S., and several financial specialists of New York's leading newspapers.

While Canadian Pacific train No. 87 was standing on public crossing preparatory to taking passing track, an automobile, occupied by four persons, ran into the side of the train, badly damaging the auto. In another case, a driver said he saw the train and heard the whistle signals sounded, but too late to avoid running into the side of the engine. Yet again, a touring car, travelling about 35 miles per hour, ran through the crossing barriers at a public crossing in Montreal but did not stop. No injuries were reported in all three incidents.

WEYMOUTH MAN MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARED

Crowded out last issue

Excitement reigns in the Village of Weymouth and surrounding sections over the disappearance of a man, named William Comeau, and despite efforts of friends to locate him no trace whatever has been found and citizens are beginning to fear that Comeau has either met with foul play, or strayed away to some part of the county, got lost and died.

The man disappeared some weeks ago. At the time a number of friends became alarmed and started a search, but without avail. Comeau, who was 38 years of age, a widower, was seen to wander in a certain section of the town and go into the home of a man named Sprague. At four o'clock in the morning, some friends called at the Sprague home for the visitor, according to the story gained by friends, and from that day up to the present no trace can be found of the missing man. He had his working clothes on, and when he did not arrive back at his home that day his family became alarmed.

Five small children have been patiently waiting for the return of their father. Telegrams and letters were sent to Massachusetts, where a sister and brother live, as several of their opinion. That the man might have been found to have his town for some reason, but word came back a day or two ago that nothing whatever had been heard of him.

That some action should be taken by the Attorney General's Department, a Halifax, is the opinion of leading business men of the town. The man was the owner of a Chevrolet car, and this remains in the garage untouched, as well as household furniture, clothing, etc. Five children are being looked after by friends.

We are only the very best of materials, our work is done by skilled and experienced workers. ## The Right To Thrive

We now have a breathing space to listen to explanations and excuses concerning all that has happened recently at Ottawa. Soon we may hope to be in a position to winnow the actual truth from the actual chain of obvious subterfuges. But what does it come to? No more than we all knew from the start that neither Liberals nor Conservatives could, under the circumstances, function without the help of the Progressives. They were the unknown factor.

At the start of the session the Progressives set themselves to secure legislation, according to their party ideas. Later half of them crossed over to the Conservatives on the moral issue of the customs enquiry, the other half, presumably, holding material considerations the more important. Then the constitutional issue of the status of Mr. Meighen's ministers shattered their ranks once more. This time, apparently, the county's business could not be held to weigh against an admitted expedient which, technically at any rate, violated the law.

Now the fight is to be transferred from the floors of the House to the hustings. We shall all hear plenty of abuse of opponents, but to that we are used. Perhaps this may turn out to be the Maritimes' great opportunity.

In the turmoil of an impending general election we must not allow our thoughts to be diverted from the subject of Maritime grievances. Indeed, now is the time to redouble our activities. A number of voters have had their faith in both the great parties shaken. Down by the sea the issues which will be raised as national questions pale into insignificance beside the necessity of securing for ourselves the right to thrive. What pledges are we to secure from those we shall presently send to represent us at Ottawa? Our interest in purely Dominion politics must remain academic until our condition is remedied sufficiently to allow us to lift our eyes from the wretched state into which we have been plunged by Confederation.

PAINS ALL OVER BODY

Two More Cases of Feminine Illness Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Barrington, N. S.—"I had terrible feelings, headaches, back and side aches and pains all over my body. I would have to go to bed every night and nothing would do me good. My husband and my father did my work for me as I have two children and we have quite a big place. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then got a little book about it through the mail, and my husband sent to Eaton's and got me a bottle, and then we got more from the store. I am feeling fine now and do all my work and am able to go out around much. I tell my friends it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that makes me feel so well."—Mrs. VICTOR RICHMOND, Barrington, Nova Scotia.

Dull Pains in Back

St. Thomas, Ont.—"I took four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and found great relief from the dull, heavy pains in the small of my back and the weakness from which I suffer. For two years after my boy was born, After taking the Vegetable Compound and using Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative I am feeling better than I have for the past seven years, and advise my friends to take it. Mrs. JOSEPH MOORE, St. Thomas, Ont. C.

This is not sectional. We Maritimers can think as imperially as any part of the Empire. Let us look at this. A strong contented Empire must have for its components strong contented Dominions. Canada cannot be happy and united while sectional disabilities exist. We labor under such disabilities. Let us then see that they are removed as our contribution to Imperial strength and unity. Maritime right to thrive—let that be our watchword in the coming election campaign.

A Nova Scotia Example

"I think that the individual business man should get out after business more, and depend less on the Government doing so much for him."

The above remark, made last week by K. L. Pineo, Secretary of the United Fruit Companies of Nova Scotia, to the Halifax Chronicle, was justified by his company's experience last year. He testifies that "despite a really bad year, the United Fruit Companies had, by very careful management, and aggressive efforts to extend business in more than one direction, been able to close their books with the best statement yet made."

Mr. Pineo gave two illustrations. Last year they shipped 8,000 cases of canned apples to British Columbia, compared with 2,000 in the previous year, and added:

"We have done that by getting out after the business. We have now a contract with people in Saskatchewan to send out 4,000 gallons of concentrated cider, which is equivalent to 24,000 gallons of fresh cider, and we have shipped to Great Britain 20,000 gallons of the concentrates, or a total amount of 185,000 gallons of pure cider."

The forty-nine branches of the companies operate fifty-two warehouses, and last year handled nearly 400,000 barrels of apples. Not only have they proved the benefit of going out after business, but the value of co-operation. They have set an example that should not be lost on New Brunswicks, which can raise as good apples as are produced in Nova Scotia, and which, with real enterprise and co-operative effort, can be made a greater orchard province. While we talk of what governments should do for us, a great deal more attention should be given to what we may do for ourselves, and the orchard and small fruit industry offers one profitable field for exploitation. We must "get out after business more" and justify our claims regarding the rich resources of the province.

Yearly Report of Digby High School Good

School Board, Town of Digby.

Sirs:—I beg to submit for your approval, my report of the Digby Academy for the year 1925-1926.

The pupils in the common school showed marked progress in their work. The more regular attendance and increased study reflected greater maturity on the part of the pupils. There were relatively few failures in the grading examinations.

The Academic department was also very successful. With two teachers doing high school work entirely, the pupils were given the proper attention. All of the high school pupils were eligible to compete in the Provincial Examinations. There were 310 pupils enrolled in all departments of these 36 were High School students. This indicates a slight decrease from last year, the enrollment then being 325.

The opening of a new room and the addition of a teacher to the staff eliminated congestion in the rooms entirely. The school building was in a good state during the entire year. The sanitary conditions were the best at all times.

Some work on the grounds in the line of cleaning and grading was done by the pupils. This added materially to the general appearance of the school property. It is regrettable that we are losing this year two teachers, whose training and efficiency are the best. Both Miss MacAloney and Miss McCabe have given unexcelled service to the school. I am taking pleasure in expressing to thank the members of the Board, on behalf of the teaching staff, for their earnest co-operation at all times.

Bernard Chisholm.

AN INTERNAL BATH DAILY RECOMMENDED

A prominent physician made the remark recently that if people were half as particular in regard to internal cleanliness as they are about external appearance three quarters of our ordinary ailments would be eliminated. This medical man kept the system just as clean as one is careful to keep hands, face and body. The result is that the mucous tract becomes clogged and waste material which should leave the body daily stays there for an indefinite period doing harm few people realize. So many ills are traceable to these clogging poisons! An internal bath sounds novel, but it is much easier to take than any other kind! A spoonful of Salt Lixir before breakfast (or any other meal), dissolved in a glass of tepid water acts as a gentle cleanser of the bowels—provides a soothing internal bath that rids the body of dangerous toxic poisons and gives and well-being. A further advantage of the internal bath lies in the fact that a healthy body ensures an alert and active mind. It makes for greater efficiency and happiness in one's daily work.

JAMES DURANT
The community of Weymouth North was saddened on Friday by the sudden death of James Durant. Mr. Durant on Friday morning went out in St. Mary's Bay fishing with Capt. H. B. Fitzgerald and there he was suddenly taken by a stroke. He was immediately brought ashore and Dr. Eldon Kin was summoned at once, but upon examination pronounced him dead. The burial service was held in St. Peter's Episcopal Church on Saturday afternoon. Rev. Dr. Vroom assisted and active music was given by the service. Mr. Durant will be greatly missed by many friends and acquaintances.

ADAMS-HOWLES

An event of more than ordinary interest, took place in the little white church on the hill, Wednesday evening, June 30th, when Miss Valérie, youngest daughter of Charles Adams, became the wife of Aubrey Leonard Howles, of Waterville, Elgin Co.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father and took her place by the groom, while the wedding service was being played by Miss Marjorie Ellis. She wore a gown of rosewood crepe, and carried a bouquet of pink peonies, bridal wreath and maiden-hair fern.

The officiating minister was Rev. Jabez Appleby of Digby, and the double ring service was used.

The ushers were James Ellis and Leran Adams.

The church was tastefully decorated with greens and flowers, with a touching touch of color. It was packed to the door with friends from Bay View, Digby, Culliton and Port Wade.

After the ceremony, the couple received the congratulations of their friends, then left in their car, amidst a shower of confetti and the tooting of car horns, on a motor trip to points of interest in the happy land of the Province.

Their many friends wish them a long and happy wedded life and feel sure that Bay View's loss will be Waterville's gain.

Professor Laird's Third Cross-Canada Tour

Lower right—Famous Salt Lake Pool at Bend.

Professor Sinclair Laird, Dean of the School for Teachers, Macdonald College, makes his third annual tour "Across Canada and Back" with a party of Easterners leaving Toronto by Canadian Pacific Railway on July 19. Professor Laird's remarkable success with the two previous tours evoked such large demands for another of these "nonpareil" trips to the land of majestic peaks and people made that the third tour becomes a necessity, a national requirement.

A personal acquaintance with Canada's provinces is considered essential for every Canadian's citizenship. Travel is a sound investment which not only maintains its value throughout life but adds continually to daily pleasure and efficiency. Nothing can take the place of the personal experience that comes through travel, leading educationalists the world over agree. In the realm of Canadian literature, history and geography, reading and viewing are enhanced and brightened by personal familiarity after the subjects have been seen and admired.

Long after the trip has been completed there will remain in the hearts of those who have made the journey the imprint of quiet valleys, wooded forests, and nature's diversified gladdens. As Edith Johnson sang of the Rocky Mountains:

Farther than vision ranges,

Farther than science tries,

Stretches the land, I beauty,

Arches the perfect sky.

Itemmed through the purple mists afar

By peaks that gleam the star on star.

The trip to the West covers the Muskoka district, and the world-famous mining region of Sudbury, Lake Superior is then skirted as far as Port William, and thence to Winnipeg with a side trip to Winnipeg Beach, the Manitoba summer resort, and on to Indian Head, Regina, Moose Jaw and Calgary where the Canadian Pacific Rockies are entered through the Banff and Jasper vertical walls of dizzy height, steepened and capped with snow and ice. Here we come to Banff, headquarters of the Rocky Mountains Park, a wonderful region of 2,751 square miles embracing rivers, lakes and noble mountain ranges.

From Banff to Windermere, 104 miles, the party under Professor Laird will go by automobile. Then from Windermere to Kootenay, through beautiful Kootenay Lake to Nelson. Leaving Nelson they pass through the Doukhoboy country to Penticton, skirt Okanagan Lake, cross Fraser River at Hope and proceed to Vancouver. After two days at Vancouver the party sails to Victoria, affording an opportunity of seeing the famous Crystal Grottoes.

Traveling back to the East the trip takes in the Fraser and Thompson River Canyons, and in especial the marvellous Lake Louise district. At the latter may be seen the white smoke of avalanches that go thundering down from the glacier four miles away. Lake Louise is about a mile and a quarter long and nearly half a mile wide. The Indians say its waters are distilled from peaches' tails and paved with mother-of-pearl, and into them pour these wild blue waters whose colors are mixed on the slopes of the glaciers.

On the journey back East the trip is varied by calls at Edmonton and Saskatoon, while the awe-inspiring Devil's Gap near Kender is also taken in. A full day is spent at each of these places. From Fort William the party engages on a Canadian Pacific steamboat on which they traverse Lakes Superior and Huron to Port Menicott whence a short trip to Toronto ends the journey.

While the trip is under the leadership of Professor Sinclair Laird it is by no means confined to travellers who belong to the teaching profession, and in former years a large proportion has been composed of people drawn from industrial, business and municipal circles who desire to increase in this pleasant and unique manner their acquaintance with the facts of their own country.

Acid Stomach Is Dangerous

The Real Cause of Indigestion

Acids in the stomach irritate and inflame the delicate stomach lining, sour and ferment the food, prevent proper digestion and lead to nine-tenths of all Dyspepsia and Indigestion. Pepsin and other artificial digestives are only temporary relief and do not correct the cause. Stomach acids should be neutralized daily, and the stomach kept sweet and clean after eating by drinking a glass of pure Magnesia water made from a teaspoonful of four tablets of Bisulphate of Magnesia, obtainable at any reliable drug store. This prevents food fermentation and your meals digest naturally and without pain. By following this plan you may eat almost anything without fear of Indigestion.

No. Wonder Canadians are Handsome

Canadian men and women owe their good looks and beauty to their country, says Paul G. Fann, of Shanghai, alias Paul G. Fann, of Montreal, who believes that environment is the chief factor in the evolution of the human species. On the whole, this young Chinese philosopher thinks, Canadians considered collectively, are much better than the Chinese because of their association with more beautiful surroundings.

"This is a very old theory," said Mr. Fann in a recent interview, "and a very well-founded one." He pointed out the fact that the inhabitants of the vast barren areas of China were an ugly people, while a native of the Province of Kiangsu, the most fertile and beautiful of Chinese provinces, could be recognized anywhere for their great beauty.

"Make your country beautiful, and the rest will take care of itself," that is Mr. Fann's recipe for good looks. Candidates, he says, have carried out this theory unconsciously with the result that their country has not only great natural beauty, but many fine cities, and thousands of acres of beautiful farm land. The Canadian Pacific Railway with which Mr. Fann has been associated for the past two and a half years has played a great part in beautifying Canada by says, as well as assisting in the country's development in many other ways.

Paul G. Fann, as he is known in Montreal is a graduate of Chinese universities the son of a Mandarin, and just 26 years old. For two and a half years, under an arrangement between the Governments of China and Canada, he has been making a study of the Canadian Pacific Railway System with the idea of acquiring practical knowledge that he hopes to apply to the railroad problems of his own country. He and several other young Chinese students arrived in Montreal in December 1923, and since his stay in Montreal, Mr. Fann has been employed in the Angus shops and various departments of the Railway in Windsor Street Station, Montreal. He has also been a student at McGill University, where he took an M.Sc. degree, and is at present working for the degree of M.A., which he hopes to receive in the Fall, before returning to China in October. Mr. Fann leaves the Canadian Pacific Railway Company at the end of this month and will travel through Canada during the summer. ### Committee to Call Upon Citizens First Week In August--Golf Only Attraction For Tourists In Digby

Arrangements have been completed for the "Big Drive" to secure funds for the purchasing of land on the Digby Golf Company, which is at present under lease. The campaign will start the first week in August and all will have an opportunity of contributing to this cause. The Directors believe that the time has now arrived when something must be done by the citizens of the town, if Golf is to be a permanent feature for tourists.

The campaign, which will be opened to the general public, will be to secure sufficient money to purchase land as it is put on the market. All money received will be used strictly for this purpose, not for the maintenance or operation of the course.

The Digby Golf Company was organized some two years ago, and citizens very generously contributed and assisted the Directors in every way possible. Golf at present is the only inducement offered to tourists to come to Digby, and the course is claimed to be one of the best in Eastern Canada. It has meant the bringing of many to this town, and if Digby is to be a tourist centre then Golf must be a permanent feature.

In order to place, golf on a permanent basis and give the community enough money to buy all lands available, the sum of $14,000 must be raised.

This And That

The inevitable has happened.

The Liberal leader having raised a constitutional issue, the Conservative press responds with the trusty battlecry, "Under Which Flag?" It is probable that the constitutional question will ever be settled by argument. Precedents are dragged out by alternate sides and shattered one after another. The fact of the matter is that constitutions are only written in skeleton, the bones are clothed by precedents which become incorporated as Common Law. Precedents are created by acts performed to meet situations which have not arisen hitherto and have not been foreseen. Since it is seldom that circumstances admittedly alter cases, new precedents are continually being created.

If the constitutional question cannot be settled by reason—and of all times to arrive at unbiased national judgement, the federal period anterior to a general election is the worst—it would be much better to shelve it and if anybody really thinks of such importance that its eventual decision is to the benefit of the country, it were well to have it referred to an Imperial committee of legal and constitutional authorities. We say Imperial because it is universally conceded that the precedents of one self-governing portion of the Empire are binding on all. It is, however, improbable that the Liberals will retreat from the position they have taken up, the more so if there be truth in the statement of Mr. Lucas, Progressive, that the Liberal manoeuvre is only an attempt to bring the real issue before the people.

Conservatives, of course, agree with Mr. Lucas and with those of the Progressives for whom he speaks and superficially this appears true when it is considered that the Liberals fell avoiding a vote of censure and that the Conservative defeat—while on a constitutional question of the status of the acting ministers—was but remotely connected with the issue now raised by Mr. Mackenzie King and his followers. It is noticeable also that beyond a declaration that the validity of the acts of ministers appointed by Mr. Meighen will be called in question, Mr. King has not told the country what he intends to do about this constitutional matter, assuming for argument that he receive a mandate from the country at the coming general election.

Does he intend to sever the Imperial connection? If not, what then? The country is entitled to a clear and unequivocal answer to the question and until it is received the Conservatives who wave the flag in reply are fully justified in so doing. If Mr. King is not preparing to go the limit, he is unchain, ing forces which may well get be-

Just Talks-On Common Themes

On "Success Or Failure."

YOU hear a whole lot of what Ed Howe, the eminent American editor, used to call "Hookworm Talk." And that is talk by people who are, too lazy to live and too useless to hope and too cowardly to believe.

There are heaps of people in Digby who just will not see anything ahead but darkness and the night. They don't seem to have comprehended that there is a law of averages. Insurance companies run by it. Actuaries make up their tables of it and it proves to be absolutely a winner in the long run.

There are curves, up and down, in every business—wood, iron, steel, shoes, etc. Chance applies only to the individuals. Averages of consumption of food, fabrics, fuel, structural material go on and on and on. Cities that have attained 15,000 population are all doomed to increase of population according to an inevitable law of averages. Only when a community deliberately commits suicide by listening to "Hookworm Talk" does it have any serious complaint of civic anaemia.

There is a paragraph that I have heard read until it gives me the bellyache. It is read to me every month or so by some chap trying to sell me life insurance, when he ought to know—I have told him often enough—that I am sold up to the limit on both insurance and time period. They don't insure a person after he gets to be 150 years old.

This paragraph is carried in the pocket book of life insurance men and read occasionally from the platform about the number of men who are able to buy their chewing tobacco when they get to be 60 years old and how many are being supported by their sons. It is hookworm talk.

Failure is the exception in life. Lots of men die; some are run over by automobiles; some go Florida. But few join the down and out club. There is always a way—if you will take the opening. Raise your umbrella; duck, climb the fence, hedge, side step; jump yourself. Defeat is for the hookwormer.

Life itself is a dangerous business because it kills all of us. Death in life is as we say about it. Given all of our bodily organs with health and nobody is doomed to defeat. Those who are run over by the train are those who deliberately go to sleep on the track.

There is no such thing as absolute success. There is no such thing as failure. It is said, for instance, that there were so many failures in business in Canada last year—I forget how many. These came along at the rate of so many a week. If you look it up, you will find that there is always about the same proportion to the number of men doing business year by year. Some years there is a very slight increase; other years a very slight decrease. One year a certain line of business may have a depression due to overcrowding. A good year or two may set up too many houses in that especial line. Down some of them go and the adventurers go swinging along into some new business—whistling down the highroad.

In ninety per cent of the financial failures, something other than business was the cause. It was either hookworm disease; Gollits; moral astigmatism; non advertising; or preliminary moral bankruptcy. Slip shod service ruin more business than anything else. When I asked a man why he didn't attend to his line of customers better—not keep them waiting so long, he answered: "It would take another clerk." His reaction should have been "Horray, we NEED another clerk."

Usually the man whose business is going bad fails to see any reason in himself. He lays it to what he calls "General Business." He gets into the habit of seeking consolation from his customers about "Business is lousy." Customer agrees that it is bad and just as he is pulling out his fifty cent piece, feels again, and cuts it to a dime. Loss forty cents to "General Business."

There are some people who go over into the bone-yard and weep if a store is vacant on Water Street. But when there are so many applicants for stores that they can't be met, except by raising rents, in the slip shod service ruin more business than anything else. Plagues, blight, damns and spend thousands, and if his sales don't leap into the region of his wildest dreams, inside of a week, he asks: "What good is all this building doing for the town?"

Now it is nothing but an attitude of mind. Success hides its cash in the bank for fear of tax assessors and wagescales. Failure proclaims itself thru the courts and is published by order of bankruptcy procedure. Happy, successful people go along saying nothing. And these are in the vast majority in every community. Else there would be no community.

Idle boasting amounts to little. Puffing yourself up with a sense of importance accomplishes nothing. Steady work; clean products; good goods; good clean shops; plenty of faith; lots of courage; abundant cooperation to enhance the values of all effort—these will succeed.

We pity the naturally incompetent especially those whose minds never did and never can coordinate with the work of making a living. Some minds are not of that sort. Success may, however, be quite as much in other sort as riches. Humanism; service; fellowship; kindness may lay up riches better than bonds and stocks.

In the still watches of the night when you lie awake, usually you can tell whether or not YOU have been a success. You will know your own limitations and may perhaps be able to answer the question: "Have you done as well as could have been expected. Have you made use of your full equipment?"

yond his control and force him to rebel against the Crown. It is a dangerous game and Canada has a right to know just to what point the Liberals are prepared to go. On the other hand, Mr. Meighen might also present to us his exposition of the election issue. He is certainly allowing his opponents the advantage of the initial attack and it is to be presumed they are using it to the full. One may risk a guess that his platform will be the customs enquiry despite the fact that the people of New Brunswick hold the two parties equally responsible. But who, one might ask, was responsible for Mr. Boivin's worst predicament?

Concerning this customs enquiry, it is not time that the people of Canada were told the worst?—If worse there be. The enquiry by a committee of Parliament was an enquiry by the representatives of the people and the people have a right to be told every detail elicited. This withholding of information, with the presumable intention of divulging it at the moment when it will create most effect, is not in the best interests of Canada and indicates only too plainly that ministers and members are inclined to forget that they are merely the servants of the people. The details which, according to Mr. Lucas, are "too horrible to permit of discussion from the public platform" must be made known and then Canada can judge. We are not children whose characters are likely to be injured by tales of depravity and until we know its plot, we are deprived of all opportunity to estimate the story's bearing on the election. This is no time for evasion and subterfuge. If public men are to be ruined and their families suffer, it is unfortunate, but better that than the country continue in ignorance.

It is now up to the Conservatives to give us that report in full and it is up to the Liberals to say without reservation just what are their proposals on the question of the constitution.

Making Nova Scotia Tuberculosis Free

The Nova Scotia Tuberculosis Commission is meeting with encouragement.

Everybody or nearly everybody is interested.

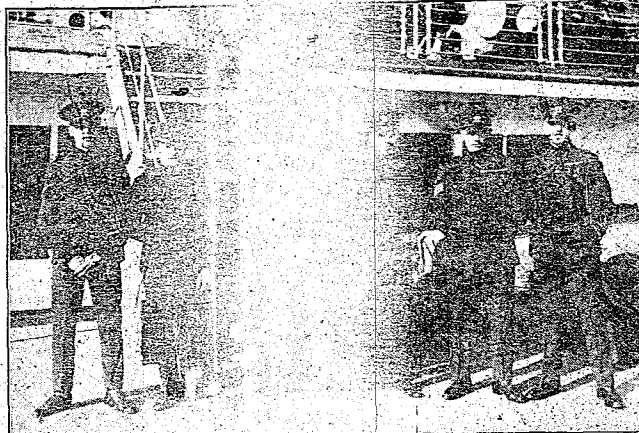

ARE YOU?

If every man, woman and child in Nova Scotia would give twenty cents each to the Commission that would mean $160,000.00.

What a wonderful demonstration could be made with that money.

Tuberculosis is a preventable disease.

To hospitalize the cases in need of isolation, to make provision for the cases that should go to the Sanatorium, in short, to give the little children a chance of life freed from a disease which at present is killing many and crippling many more, is the first concern of the Commission.

MONEY IS NEEDED. HEALTH IS PURCHASABLE. As was said last week a Community can have as much HEALTH as it is willing to pay for.

The Athletic Heart

Proof that athletics—even of the most strenuous variety—are not inimical to long life is offered, by the famous Yale crew of 1886, all 10 of which, counting coxswain and substitute, met recently to muse on past triumphs.

All these men are past the 60 mark, but doubtless at the time of their triumphs there were few who thought the crew would be hale and hearty 40 years after graduation.

A lot has been said about "athletic heart," which is supposed to make such inroads on men who spend a physically strenuous youth. You have heard time and again that the athlete's chances of reaching a ripe old age were not as good as those of his more sedentary brethren.

Apparently, however, the heritage of a sound, well-muscled body does mean something. One swallow, of course, doesn't make summer, but the Yale crew of '86 offers some refutation, at least, to the theory that "athletic heart" is such a dreadful menace.

The Reckless Driver

The dumbest of human beings is the reckless auto driver. Safety campaigns have been tried on him to no avail. Crossing gates are built for his benefit; nice large white signs are painted for him; policemen stand ready to greet him. Still he insists on killing himself and others.

It is proposed now to install steel curtains at a few dangerous crossings as an experiment. This ought to work, but something tells us it won't. It sounds too good to be true. When a train is due, the curtain automatically lowers, thus saving the strain on the driver's mental machinery and his car's brakes. It is thought that a few headlong plunges into his elastic steel curtain will ultimately persuade him that his neck is worth saving. A better way would be to deprive him of his automobile.

AN INTERNAL BATH DAILY RECOMMENDED

A prominent physician made the remark recently that if people were half as particular in regard to internal cleanliness as they are about external appearance three quarters of our ordinary ailments would be eliminated. This medical man said people did not stop to think of the importance of keeping the system just as clean as one is careful to keep hands, face and body. The result is that the intestinal tract becomes clogged and waste material which should leave the body daily stays there for an indefinite period doing a harm few people realize. So many pills are taken for these clogging poisons! An internal bath sounds novel but it is much easier to take than any other kind! A spoonful of Sal Lihofos before breakfast (or after any meal), dissolved in a glass of tepid water acts as a gentle cleanser of the bowels—provides a soothing internal bath that rids the body of dangerous toxic poisons and gives one that feeling of freshness, vigor and well-being. A further advantage of the internal bath lies in the fact that a healthy bowel ensures an alert and active mind which makes for greater efficiency and happiness in one's daily work.

Why Physicians Recommend Magnesia For Dyspeptics

"Take a little magnesia after meals" is now a favorite dyspeptic prescription among thousands. The reason for this lies in the fact that practically ninety per cent of all stomach trouble is due to acid which irritates and inflames the delicate mucous membrane lining of the stomach and makes natural digestion impossible. Medicines that destroy the acid are not a drug in the ordinary meaning of these words, it is the fact that it neutralizes the acid and the food is then able to pass such as the oxides, carbonates, milks and fluids, the best is undoubtedly Bismuth. Bismuth is a natural substance, it is in the form of a little white powder, after meals, instantly neutralizes the acid, and thus insures painless, natural digestion. Pure Bismuth Magnesia can be obtained from any reliable druggist and stomach sufferers should give it a trial.

The Wool Industry in South Africa

Letter from E. S. Burdett, Department of Agriculture, South Africa.

Underwood & Underwood
Rearing wools with primitive looms in Africa.

The Union of South Africa is rightly classed among the great wool producing countries of the world.

Climatic conditions there are admirably adapted to breeding and raising of the Merino type of sheep with a strong, elastic wool.

A large part of this country is suitable only for the raising of sheep, and the government is making progressive and intelligent efforts to improve both the sheep and the manner of preparing the wool for market.

Jackals being a strong menace in South Africa, long-time government loans are extended to sheep owners for the erection of flock-proof fencing.

Government sheep experts are maintained permanently in allotted districts so that their services and advice may be assured at a nominal fee.

The mutton sheep of South Africa is the fat-tailed, black-headed Cape—a non-wooled sheep. As no cross-breeding for mutton lambs is done, the wools are purely Merino in character.

Progress in this South African industry is particularly noticeable in the harvesting. Despite the fact that Kaffir labor can be secured at the equivalent of $3.50 per month, there is a trend toward the modern shearing machine as against the age-old hand blades, which, even on the best of sheep, are discarded by many otherwise entirely progressive wool raisers.

A study of this fact, however, readily reveals the reason for it. While there is a first cost for the machine, the unskilled black adapts himself to its use much more readily than to the hand blades, and soon does a remarkably smooth job of shearing with the machine.

Once adapted to the use of the machine, its economic value is demonstrated in the materially greater number of sheep shorn daily, the better market value of the wool, the fewer maimed sheep, and not least important, the additional 5% to 12% more wool obtained with the machine over and above the amount of wool secured with the hand blades.

As a consequence, the machine resolves itself into a small investment with certain and big returns.

Steadily, the science of wool-marketing in South Africa is fast approaching the scientific efficiency of the Australian marketing plan, which, without doubt, the most practical and efficient in existence to-day.

Considering that the four provinces, Natal, Transvaal, Orange Free State and Cape Province, which comprise the Union of South Africa, have over a million square miles less of territory than the populated Provinces of Canada, it is surprising to note that they contain over ten times as many sheep as the whole of Canada.

The Union of South Africa ranks about fourth among the countries of the world in sheep population. These points alone put that country in line as a strong contender for future leadership in the wool industry.

It is interesting to note, however, that the great bulk of their production is due to the outgrowths of observing the advantages of modern implements and machinery and up-to-date methods and discerning the old ideas that are not nearly so profitable.

In view of the wonderful progress the wool industry has made in South Africa in a comparatively short time, that industry is surely destined to take a large and important place in the economic progress of the far distant Union of South Africa.

Salts Fine for Aching Kidneys

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, rheumatism, headache, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then get functioning.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder troubles.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By so doing they have their physician examine their kidneys at least twice a year.

Digby To Hold Big Regatta On August Sixteenth

Smith's Cove Women's Institute

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the summer home of Mrs. H. S. Ford on the afternoon of July 19th. The President presiding. After the regular routine of business, a meeting of the Executive Committee was appointed for Friday evening of this week to make arrangements for an entertainment to take place in the near future.

The usual enjoyable feature of the afternoon was a very interesting talk by Miss Gertrude Thomas, Prov. Con. of Agriculture, on Ricks and their relation to Agriculture, which was greatly appreciated by the members, and the several visitors present.

The next meeting will be with Miss Jaeger Aug. 11th, and will take the form of a picnic for the members and their friends.

The afternoon was greatly enjoyed by all, especially as the fact that the summer rain prevented more than a fleeting glance of Mrs. Ford's beautiful garden, which at this season is at its best.

After adjournment delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

The many friends of Alfred Boden, Town Clerk were pleased to see him out again this week after being confined to his home through illness.

Mrs. James Collins of Digby, spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Emma Stark.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ryan of Marshalltown, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walton Post.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Emdon Stark on the arrival of a baby girl July 6th.

Pock's Tonsorial parlors have been removed from Woodman's Garage to the building adjoining. A visit to this store last week found considerable improvement over the old stand. New and up-to-date fixtures have been installed. A Ladies' Parlor has been provided and a lady, to take charge, is expected to arrive from Boston this afternoon. Visitors and citizens would be well repaid if they visited Pock's Tonsorial parlors and see for themselves the many changes made.

Conservatives Again Selected H. B. Short As Their Standard-Bearer

Delegates From Digby-Annapolis Attended Convention At Court House Wednesday Afternoon—Speeches Delivered By Several Prominent Men

H. B. Short, who represented Digby-Annapolis in the House of Commons during the last session of Parliament, was unanimously nominated Wednesday afternoon to again contest the constituency in the interest of the Conservative Party. No other name was placed before the meeting, and the nomination was made by a standing vote. A. L. Davidson, ex-M.P., President of the Conservative Association acted as chairman. The meeting was held at the Court House and was well attended.

Previous to the nomination Mr. Davidson gave a short address, outlining the policy of the Conservative Party, after which the Nominating Committee retired to select a candidate. G. A. Hawksworth, of Annapolis, was appointed Chairman of the Committee.

Clarence Jamieson, a former member for the County, and late of the Civil Service Commission, asked permission to make a statement. Mr. Jamieson stated that a report had been circulated some time ago that his name was mentioned as a probable candidate, and that he had immediately said to Mr. Short that he should be Short again be a candidate, he "Jamieson" would give him hearty support. Mr. Jamieson believed that a more suitable representative than Mr. Short could not be found.

Mr. Hawksworth then made his report, stating that with not one dissenting voice, H. B. Short had received the nomination. A delegation, composed of Messrs. Couch, Theriault and Corbett, were asked to notify him of the decision. On entering the room Mr. Short was heartily applauded, and expressed his keen appreciation of the favor bestowed upon him.

This was his second nomination in a year, stated Mr. Short, and he was prepared for the fray and would accept. He would be a coward and a quitter if he laid down at the present time, declared Mr. Short. Chances for reelection he thought, were better today than they were on October last. The speaker dwelt at length with the policy of his party.

Mr. Short stated that he would go to the polls on September 14 with full determination to carry the constituency by a much increased majority. Regarding improvements for the constituency the candidate said it was impossible for any member to do anything at the last session of Parliament, when the only legislation was for the benefit of Western Canada and nothing had been done for the Maritimes on the budget.

Mr. Short stated his party did not vote against the budget. McKenzie King had made certain statements in the speech from the throne, which he failed to carry out, and it was that, more than the budget, that his party opposed.

Had the Conservative Party been returned to power, the duty on automobiles would have been reduced, said Mr. Short, the same as mentioned in the Robb Budget. The income tax, receipt tax, stamp tax, were only war measures, he said, and should have been taken off the list some time ago. The income tax was only hitting the rich man, declared Mr. Short, and it was the man who was earning $3,000 and upwards who should be called upon to bear the brunt of the country's expense.

"The Customs probe was also referred to at length.

Mr. Short asserted that McKenzie King had done nothing for the Maritime Provinces. "We must have adequate protection, or we cannot exist or live," he declared. Mr. Meighen has promised that the Maritimes would be treated as the other Provinces of the Dominion, if he is returned to power. This has been proven in the appointment of W. A. Black as Minister of Railways. Confessed that this appointment had come to Nova Scotia, and the speaker believed that Nova Scotia would at last get an adjustment on freight rates, so that her products could go into the markets of Quebec and Ontario, where they belong.

Prosperity is in sight, declared Mr. Short, in closing, and, if elected, he said, he would give the best that is in him, and would see that the Maritime Provinces received their just due.

Two resolutions were passed, the first declaring confidence in Premier Meighen, and the second expressing appreciation of the good work done by Mr. Short during the one year term at Ottawa.

Mrs. Frank Scragg,
Bear River, N.S.

Dear Mr. Scragg:
You may be interested to know that I was at Greenwood on Thursday the 24th inst. and called at the home of Norman Trimper, but did not find the condition that I had been led to believe it would. The children seemed as well clothed as average children in families the size of his living in country communities. In this respect they were comfortable at least. I went through the house and saw no indications of poverty or need. There was ample sleeping room, with comfortable beds provided. Mr. Trimper is the agent for Rawleigh Co., which in itself is a good thing, as the company have confidence in his integrity, through the guarantee of friends or the personal investigation of the company.

I am afraid the suspicions as to the non-attendance of the boy at school are hardly borne out by the facts of the case. Since the word had reached Mr. Trimper apart from the remotest suggestion from me that you had made complaint concerning the conduct of his home, I volunteered to state as I have done, the case to you, and to send him a copy of my letter. My investigation, at the home leads me to suspect that there may have been consciously or otherwise, some other motive prompting the complaint than the welfare of the children concerned.

I am Yours truly,
J. J. PROSSER,
Children's Aid Society.

Many Outstanding Canadian Oarsmen To Be Asked To Compete In Events In August

Monday, August 16, will be the gala sport day of the season and many seasons here, for on that date a big regatta will be held. This regatta, which is expected to attract the "rowing" talent of the Maritimes, is open to the world.

The events will be staged on the Digby Basin. A strong committee has been appointed to look after the events, schedule, etc., and the members will get busy at once to make the event the greatest of its kind ever attempted in this part of the Province.

The business men of the town will be asked to donate prizes and money, and all funds secured will be spent for suitable awards.

Water sports, including canoe races, swimming, yacht races, novelty races, shell races and other events will be featured on the big sport card for the day. These events will be held on the Basin in the afternoon. The day will be declared a public holiday. In the evening music will be furnished by the local band, and a beautiful display of fireworks will be shown on the waterfront.

All the leading athletes in the Maritime Provinces and Canada will be invited to partake in the sports. Among those who will be asked to come will be Hilton Belyea for years Maritime singles champion and Canada's representative in the 1924 Olympic games at Paris.

Many single and four oared shells are expected from Halifax to compete, while St. John is also expected to send along senior and junior single scull oarsmen.

Many years ago water sports were a big feature on Digby Basin, and a regatta was held annually.

Owing to the decline in water sports in the last few years, and the fact that a number of those greatly interested in the regattas have departed from the town, nothing has been done in this line for some time.

But this season the young men of the town banded together and decided to try to bring the great game back to the interest it enjoyed in former years.

Several yachts have been seen off the Basin lately while many canoes and rowboats are making their appearance daily.

The extent to which First Aid instruction among C.P.R. teams is growing is indicated by the fact that the McAdams, N.E., team was recently awarded the Wallace Nesbitt Trophy, in which competition Michigan and Maine also sent contestants.

Definite indications of the largest building year Canada has had in more than a decade are now shown by the record of the first six months of this year. The very large and untold total of $19,653,000 worth of new construction for the first half of the current year, and contemplated new work to the value of $24,508,500 forecasts great activity for the remaining months. During June contractors awarded total $2,140,100, an increase over June, 1923, of 63 per cent.

Net profits of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the month of May, at $2,418,976, compare with $203,913 in the corresponding month of last year, an increase of $1,639,062, tying the last showing in this respect since 1921. Gross earnings for the month are shown at $15,492,758, an increase of over three millions, when compared with May of last year, and the highest gross shown by the road for any May since 1920. Working expenses for the month under review are shown higher by 12 millions.

Two officials whose tenure of office was peculiarly contingent with the existence of the Canadian Pacific Railway, have recently retired from that company. They are J. J. Flanagan, auditor of freight receipts, and J. H. Porter, auditor of passenger receipts. Mr. Porter, who was presented with a suitably engraved certificate of appreciation, and Mr. Flanagan a travelling bag, a gold band engraved with an inscription of the esteem of his staff.

Mayor Thomas Foster, of Toronto, and Mayor Madeline Martin, of Montreal, took advantage of the newly inaugurated Canadian Pacific Railway "The Rideau" and "The York" to make their respective cities "change" letters of greeting. "The Rideau" pulled out of the station at Toronto on its initial run, the engineer carrying a letter from Mayor Foster, conveying his greetings to Mayor Martin, who replied the following day in the same manner. "The York" pulled out of Montreal on its initial run, the engineer carrying a letter from Mayor Martin, conveying his greetings to Mayor Foster.

Fires At Clementsvalle

During the heavy storm Sunday night, shortly after midnight, the home of Harriet Potter, Clementsvalle, was struck by lightning, immediately breaking into flames. Mr. Potter, who was stunned by the stroke, on regaining consciousness, realized the seriousness of the situation, and removed his family. The upper floor of the house was occupied by Mrs. Potter, an elderly lady, and some difficulty was experienced in getting her removed to safety, as she was confined to bed. Much sympathy is expressed for the family.
Earlier in the evening, about six o'clock, the home of Walter Sand, at Clementsvalle, was also destroyed by fire, this being caused by a defective fuse in the upper story of the house, but the fire was quickly extinguished. The fire was caused by a defective fuse in the upper story of the house, but the fire was quickly extinguished. ## New C.P.R. Cold Storage Cars

Under old conditions there was always a certain amount of risk in shipping fruit. The entry of dust or chills, or the high temperature of the car, was frequently the cause of fruit becoming spoiled during transit. But under present conditions, fruit not only retains its coloring, freshness and firmness when it is shipped from one point to another, but it is actually improved. For many months officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Dominion Express have been carrying on experimental work with a new type of ventilated express car to be used in the handling of soft fruits by express to prairie points, and they have recently arrived at an entirely new method of ventilating express equipment, which is known as the "B. G. Ventilator".
This device allows the air to be received into the car through two efficient intakes located at the ends of the car at the roof, carried to the floor without decreasing in velocity and effectively distributed through the lower sections of the car. Three times a minute there is a complete change of air, 10,476 cubic feet of air per minute being recorded through the intakes and 8,322 through the exhausts.
The new type of ventilator was tested under full load conditions.

Dissatisfied With Work at North Range

The old slogan "to the victors belong the spoils," came into disfavor several decades ago, in all the leading democracies of the world. Now Scotia and Digby County, especially seems to have been unable to keep up with the march of progress enough to rid itself of that curse.

Common law holds that the principal is responsible of the agent. Therefore I presume that instead of blaming the incompetent roadmasters in charge of various works, we must look higher up to place the blame.

The road work that has been done in North Range so far this year, has been a waste and a total loss. Earlier in the year a small scrape which had been proven a complete failure in communities where good roads are a feature was hauled over the rocks and collected all the small stones which were raked into small heaps and allowed to remain on the shoulder of the road nearly two months now.

Last week a gang of men and four yoke of cattle were put to work on the road, which was in fair condition then. After putting in a day's work, which amounted to the complete destruction of the road bed for this year, owing to the fact that the gutters were cut out so crooked that they will not drain the road properly and the shoulders of the road cut away so that the roadbed is narrowed so much that two heavily loaded vehicles would be unable to pass. All the mud, sand and stone which had been cut out of the gutters and banks was allowed to remain in the road over night. Leaving the road in a very dangerous condition for travel.

The money spent on this job was a curse as the road is unfit for heavy traffic now. And where we had plenty of mud, in the wet weather before the scraping, we shall have eight or ten inches more of it now, besides a road bed at least six feet narrower.

No sane person would ever begrudge a man a day's work. But economy demands that the man be capable of doing the work. Several persons observed too much stalling among the workers on this job. Perhaps it is well that the workers were not over zealous as the road might have been destroyed more.

Premising that there was only a small amount of money to be expended in this section, it would have been far wiser to have hauled good gravel on the road. A quarter of a mile of road built up with good gravel is far better than a mile of road built of mud. And the road in question has never had a shovel full of gravel on it in the last fifty years, if ever before that.

After our experience with mud last fall it would not be amiss to give gravel a trial. Not wishing to take up too much of your valuable space, I shall refrain from mentioning several concrete examples of the value of gravel for road construction.

Thanking you in advance for your valuable space, I will remain

"An Advocate of Better Roads."

Has Your Husband Got Indigestion?

Nothing creates domestic discord quicker than an attack of indigestion, and nothing gets rid of indigestion quicker than Bisulphate of Magnesia. No man can be sweet tempered, good natured or even fair minded when his stomach is constantly sick, sour, gassy and upset with alternating distress. If your husband has stomach trouble neither scold nor pity him, but help him by seeing that he has a supply of Bisulphate of Magnesia (either Powder or Tablets) constantly at hand. A teaspoonful of powder, two tablets taken in a little water after meals will instantly neutralize the acids in his stomach that are causing his troubles and he can enjoy his meals with no more fear of indigestion. Bisulphate of Magnesia is the special form of Magnesia used by thousands to neutralize stomach acidity and quickly overcome indigestion—do not confuse with Milk, Carbonate, Bismuth or Citrate of Magnesia. Insist on Bisulphate. Its action is safe, prompt and sure and it can be obtained at small cost from any reliable drug store.

Former Grit Member Is Unanimous Choice

At Liberal Convention Wednesday Afternoon—Able Addresses By the Candidate, Dr. L. J. Lovett.—Wm. Duff, L. J. Forsythe

At one of the largest and most enthusiastic conventions ever held in the Town of Digby, Dr. L. J. Lovett, of Bear River, was Wednesday afternoon the unanimous choice of the Liberal party to contest Digby-Annapolis at the coming federal elections. After the nomination an outdoor meeting was held, the spacious court room being too small to handle the crowd. Speeches were delivered by the candidate, Dr. Lovett, Hon. Wm. Duff of Lunenburg and L. J. Forsythe of Windsor.

Dr. Lovett, in accepting the nomination, stated that it had only been eight months since the Liberal delegates had assembled to nominate a candidate to contest a Federal election. All realized what had happened after election and another general election was inevitable. Dr. Lovett reviewed the history of Parliament up to the time of dissolution, and said that the landslide which had occurred in the last Provincial election had something to do with the defeat of the Liberal candidates in the Federal contest. "But big change had taken place since that date. The catch cry of Maritime Rights was a thing of the past. Those nominated on the Maritime Right ticket last year and elected to Parliament," declared the speaker, "had ruthlessly violated their promises and cast them to the winds, and instead of standing up for the Maritime Provinces, they stood up for party and sacrificed their Province. Every member of the Tory party from the Maritimes had voted against the Robb Budget, and this budget was a real benefit to Nova Scotia. Mr. Short declared at his nomination speech, 'that he could do nothing for the constituency at the last session of Parliament. It seemed strange that a member could not secure appropriations, while he (Lovett) had been able, during the past year to get appropriations through for Digby-Annapolis county, and estimates for many needed repairs to breakwaters, etc., had been passed. But when the Conservatives assumed charge all work had been suspended." Dr. Lovett pledged the delegates that all that he possessed would be put into the fight and that a huge Liberal majority would be rolled up on the evening of September 14th if all got behind him in his fight. "The Liberals," declared the speaker, "should be proud of the important measures which the McKenzie Govt. had brought down. The Robb Budget was a masterpiece. It brought relief to the working man, and it should have been heartily supported by every member from the Maritimes. Let us go to the polls not half heartedly, but whole heartedly. Face the situation with a determination to win and the outcome will be satisfactory," declared Dr. Lovett in closing.

Hon. Wm. Duff, of Lunenburg, as he arose to address the gathering, was greeted with hearty applause. He appreciated the opportunity of again coming to Digby to address an audience, and said that Liberals in all parts of the Province would be pleased to hear that Dr. Lovett had again been re-elected the unanimous nomination of the Liberal party. Dr. Lovett had done noble work for his constituency during his term at Ottawa, and was well liked by members of both parties. The speaker said he had a great deal of respect for Mr. Short but believed that Dr. Lovett was the best man for Digby-Annapolis. Mr. Duff gave several reasons why the electors should vote for the Liberal candidate. "The Conservatives had done nothing but block legislation during the last session of parliament. Members from the opposition benches were reading lengthy speeches, written by some person on the outside and holding up the business of the house. Mr. Duff also spoke of the Customs scandal and claimed that Premier McEwen was trying to embarrass the former government. When Mr. Stevens submitted his charge to the House the Minister of Customs, Mr. Davin, at once appointed a committee to hold an investigation. "In every town, city, village in Canada, you will find smokers," declared Mr. Duff, "but I honestly believe that the Tories are in the minority. Five months had been spent to drag into the limelight prominent Liberals but no attempt had been made to get the Tory members. Mr. Duff claimed that Mr. Stevens had been a receiver of stolen goods. He had deliberately accepted from a man named Knox a copy of these called Duncan report which was intended for the Minister of Customs and the Government. Other places besides Montreal and Quebec where smuggling goes on should have been investigated, declared Mr. Duff. If the Tories had been perfectly honest they would have gone outside of the province of Quebec. A. J. Doucet, a member of the Committee investigating the Customs probe had made certain charges during his visit to Nova Scotia, which had proven to be untrue.

McLean's Magazine

Canada's National Magazine has a first class article in its June 1st issue on Maritime conditions and problems.

The author, William Boyd Macdonald, sketches conditions before Confederation, sets forth the promises of that pact, shows the progress between promises and performance, lists some definite drawbacks, in railway tariffs and otherwise, and then offers suggestions.

Incidental reference is made to Moira, among others, as having "accomplished miracles with odds set heavily against them."

A Word To Subscribers

Some time ago we got our statements to our subscribers. A large number have responded, and "come across" with the annihilation that is sometimes called a necessary evil. To those who have failed to pay up to this time we are sending another reminder. No doubt many have overlooked the matter and will remit at once upon receipt of their reminder.

We respectfully ask our readers to bear in mind that we are constantly boosting Digby and environs and the interests of all concerned and that by paying promptly you are helping to make the paper an effective instrument for the common good. We have our payroll to meet, our paper bills to pay, not to mention electricity bills, rent, etc. While the price of a yearly subscription is but little in itself, less than four cents per week, yet take our list in the aggregate, and the figures are quite impressive.

We know that our paper has its limitations, but we are constantly planning and figuring on how to improve it. The extent of the improvement must of necessity, depend somewhat on the support we receive from our public which we serve. We realize fully that this rule works both ways, and that the support we receive depends on the service we give. It is therefore a fifty-fifty proposition, and we ask you again dear reader, if you have not already done so, to send in your "dues."

"Making Nova Scotia Tuberculosis Free"

In spite of the old truism, "An ounce of Prevention is worth a pound of Cure," human nature is such that it takes a spectacle, something big, or harrowing, to move us to action.

Almost anyone, when they see their neighbor sick and suffering, will give and do, even at the cost of sacrifice, to help him or her get well.

But few will sacrifice, or even exert themselves, to PREVENT SICKNESS.

Think of the waste of time, money, and happiness, that is caused by sickness which could very easily have been prevented.

AN INTERNAL BATH DAILY RECOMMENDED

A prominent physician had the remark recently that if people were half as particular in regard to internal cleanliness as they are about external appearance three quarters of our ordinary ailments would be eliminated. This medical man said people did not stop to think of the importance of keeping the system just as clean as one is careful to keep hands, face and body. The result is that the intestinal tract becomes clogged and waste material which should leave the body daily stays there for an indefinite period doing harm few people realize. So many ills are traceable to these clogging poisons! An internal bath sounds novel, but it is much easier to take than any other kind. A spoonful of any other meal, dissolved in a glass of tepid water acts as a gentle cleanser of the bowels—provides a soothing internal bath that rid the body of dangerous toxic poisons and gives a feeling of freshness, vigor and well-being. A further advantage of the internal bath lies in the fact that a healthy body ensures an alert and active mind which makes for greater efficiency and happiness in one's daily work.

One of the most valuable things this Tuberculosis Commission must undertake to do is to put INFORMATION AND EXAMINATION within reach of all.

Does this appeal to your commonsense as a good use of your money?

DO NOT WAIT FOR SOME TERRIBLE VISITATION OF DISEASE TO MOVE YOU!

Much of the indifference of the people to public health is due to the fact that—CURE, YOU CAN SEE, BUT PREVENTION, YOU CAN NOT SEE.

Once you, or your child, or your best-beloved, is in the fatal grip of tuberculosis, what would you pay for quick deliverance?

PREVENTION IS WORTH MORE THAN THAT, TO YOU. Realize the supreme value of the thing YOU CAN NOT see.

Do not wait to have your heart torn by the thing you CAN see.

LEARN! INFORM YOURSELF! GIVE! ACT NOW! AND HAVE NO REGRETS.

Ever changing are the currents of business. That this is true is abundantly evidenced in the evolution of the barber shop. In other times the undisturbed meeting place of the "words of creation," today a mere man is indeed fortunate to find a chair not occupied by a customer getting bobbed. Truly, as Premier Rhodes remarked the other day at a public gathering, anything may happen in "these days of short-haired women and long haired men."

Digby in common with all other small towns would be a much cleaner and much pleasanter place in which to reside if the use of profane language on the public streets and the indiscriminate throwing out of waste paper and other refuse was rigidly prohibited and enforced. This may seem a trifling matter but it would make a vast difference in the appearance and attractiveness of a town.

Rubs by Rambler

The writer regrets that he gave the impression that our educational system was the sole cause of the exodus. That is not true. But it is one of the contributing causes. It has given our young people, especially in the rural districts, wrong ideas of life. Ideas that they can only be realized in the city. It glorifies the white-collared job. The country boy, instead of being taught to love the country, learns very little about its charms, and regards it as a dull, drab, uninteresting place in which to live. The "man with the hoe" and their other implements of agriculture is still regarded as "brother to the ox" in the most of our school-book literature. The great deeds are achieved by the boy who leaves his humble country home and goes to the city. The farmer and country life are patronized and treated with a certain amount of condescension. And it all has its effect upon the impressionable school boy.

But the main cause of our exodus is because young people belong to the Anglo-Saxon race, which is a race of adventurers—and because they are young. This country was colonized by people in whom the love of adventure was so strong that they left their homes and crossed three thousand miles of trackless sea to make new homes in a wilderness. And it is not strange that their posterity should feel something of the same restless urge. That is why thousands of Nova Scotians are to be found in every corner of the world. The writer can recall that he had the wanderlust fever at 18, in its most aggravated form, and the only cure for it was to go over to the United States, and spend some time there. And then in such a vast and prosperous country as the U. S. there are opportunities for our young people that they cannot find at home.

Our geographical position is another handicap. We stick out into the Atlantic like a wart on the continent of America. We can never expect to become a great manufacturing province, for the most of our raw material would have to be imported, and then the manufactured article would have to be exported to find a market. Despite the fact that we could use the cheaper water route, the distance is so great as to make competition with more favorably situated countries impossible.

Just Talks-On Common Themes

On "Peculiar People"

IN MY TRAVELS about town, meeting the older residents, for instance in that dimly hour of reminiscence, I find nothing more frequently lamented than the deadly average of modern life.

It is said that there are no longer any "peculiar" people. That once common "town-character" or "village character" is no more. But I doubt it. While he seems yet in memory to be jolling in the soft sunshine of the village street, uttering his wisdom from the obscurity of some shop; or holding the attention of loungers in the barber shop; still it is only a dream. But you may search for him in vain in the flesh. He is not there.

Cultivation has ruined all but the commonplace. Those others were weeds of human vegetation: perhaps more nearly what the horticulturalist calls "sports," like guarded and twisted trunks of trees that take grotesque forms; like nature's humorous forms where she is not made serious and solemn by the interference of systems and rules.

But I started out to talk about "peculiar" people in Digby. So many seem to appear before me that it is almost impossible to mention any one person. That Digby's population contain many peculiar people is a foregone conclusion. Some "so-called" leading lights are a hindrance to the town and any of the old-fashioned ideas are forcing Digby to take a back seat in the onward swing to progress and prosperity. They think they "know it all" and are not willing to listen to the advice of the younger generation. I have in mind a man who should be a leading light in this town. True, he is what one may call prominent, but his ideas are so antiquated and his policy of construction so narrow that he is doing more harm to the town than good. All great men can stand constructive criticism, but this man believes that he should not be criticized, and that he is the "Great I Am."

There is another man in Digby who really believes that the town's existence depends upon him. For years he has been dictating a policy for the town, and his fellow citizens in his destructive campaign. Every new proposition placed before the ratepayers has received opposition from him, and unless the citizens of this town arise from their lethargy and fight for their rights nothing will be accomplished. Personal interest is more to this man than the interest of his fellow beings.

Then we have the gossip. Of all the people to be despised is the person whose lying tongue is distributing slander day after day about his fellow citizens. Digby has a number of these so-called citizens and it is amusing to hear them talk. The writer has heard many complaints and at times believed that the names of those who distribute filth should be broadcast throughout the town so that respectable people would be warned. But those who scatter lies are not worthy of recognition hence the reason why we pay no attention to them and keep on our way rejoicing. It is said that the world is full of these people, but we believe that a great number must have wandered to Digby.

Digby has turned out a number of famous men, and these are to be found in all parts of the world. Some have made a success, and are famous. Should they drift back to the home land, we hardly think they would be satisfied with conditions as they exist at present. Their policy of construction would receive support from citizens of this town, or at least from citizens who seem to control affairs.

Things were different, so it is said, fifty years ago. Little wayside wagonwrights; little ox and horse shoeing shops; little cooper's shops; little soap-making places; little tanneries; little carding mills; little red shops; little cabinet shops—all gone. Quiet loafing places where men gathered to talk and while away the hours and where peculiar people met.

All gone. Is the world happier. Old times do not say so. They dream of shaded streets; tall elms; checkered shade; peaceful hours of noon; quiet stretches of country road; dreamful fair hours of peace. Today peculiar people ride in cars; dress alike; dance alike; have radios alike; go to school alike; study alike and die alike.

And fifty years hence, some familiar writer will also bemoan these happy days when people were so peculiar; when there were so many strange trades and customs—and so on and on. "All the world seems peculiar" except thee and me, and sometimes I think that there is a little peculiar.

—B. S.

And if we were to secede from the Dominion, and throw in our lot with the United States, the exodus would continue. The only difference would be that we would not have to submit to a lot of red tape in getting across the border. Nor would union with the United States alter very materially our commercial and industrial condition. Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire and Massachusetts have made no greater progress proportionally in the last fifty years than Nova Scotia. The West and South have grown and are still growing at the expense of these States.

There are a few things that fundamentally handicap Nova Scotia, and none of them are Confederation. Ontario is not sucking our blood. We haven't much to suck. We never did have, and never will. What we have to contend against in trying to achieve our destiny is not the Upper Provinces, but nature. As a general thing we have a fine climate in July, August and September. But these are only three months out of the twelve which go to make up the year. From December to May we have to suspend all other activities and go on our undisturbed attention to the task of keeping warm, and digging ourselves out of the snowbanks. It takes all we earn in the few months of summer to feed us while we hibernate, and keep the fires going. We had nine months of good weather a year, we could get ahead. But winter wipes out all our summer progress.

Nor are we a great agricultural country. A man can make a living on our farms, if he is willing to work hard, and not expect too much. The soil is good and fertile spots in the province, but they are small in comparison with our whole area. Now, I do not want to "knock" my native province; but these are facts.

In regard to the tourist travel it should be remembered that the bulk of this comes, so far as Canada is concerned especially, during these months when schools and colleges are closed, and when consequently more children and young people are on the highways. For this reason the suggestions made by the National Safety Council of Massachusetts may very well be remembered in Canada, and by Canadian drivers as well as those for whom they are primarily intended. These are:

1. Make sure that you have plenty of gas and oil.

2. Do not try to mix your own motor.

3. Remember to watch out for children.

4. Drivers will do well to test their brakes before starting out on their week end trips.

5. Be sure to signal when you are going to stop, slow up, or turn.

6. Look before you turn and send your horn these times.

7. Cross crossings cautiously.

8. Do not depend too much upon the common sense of the other driver.

9. Exercise special care in crossing in front of a street car.

10. Be it noted that contesting the right of way cost thousands of lives each year.

"These things," said a driver to whom they were submitted, "are all well known and have been said over and over again; the trouble is that they are not acted upon."

Too many drivers think they can get by. To these suggestions he added another, "that these simple and elementary suggestions should be printed and displayed in every garage and service station."

"A statement," would not be a bad idea with place is displayed in the garage and on the streets and in the highways. Greater education and more care on the part of the driver are becoming necessities."

One who reads the popular Canadian with their week end accident statistics, a majority of which might have been averted had the driver remembered some one of these suggestions, can see it. It should be remembered that careful as should be the driver, a certain obligation rests on the pedestrian for co-operation in making the highways safe for travellers. The roadway belongs to the vehicle, and the pedestrian is not justified in breaking his side of the regulations governing traffic any more than a driver for ignoring the same regulations, or in not observing precautionary efforts on behalf of the public travelling on foot. Together, by a concerted effort, street accidents may be reduced wholly just as by adding carefully to the many safety rules dictated by the knowledge of the motor driven vehicle and of the rules of the road, by the exercise of common-sense and by a regard for human life, the automobile accidents on the highways will diminish.

C.P.R. Opens Public Golf Course

A magnificent new "public" golf course, costing in the neighborhood of $150,000, has been constructed by the Canadian Pacific Railway at South Vancouver, and was opened with an extensive programme on June 26th.

Besides being an outstanding golf course, from the sporting standpoint, it rivals all others in the extreme beauty of its outlook, which is over the Delta of the Fraser River and the Gulf of Georgia. It is called by a lovely municipal word, "Langara," for that is the name which early Spanish explorers gave the beautiful peninsula of Point Grey, on which the new course is situated.

"Langara" Golf Course extends over 100 acres of gently undulating land, and the aggregate length of 18 holes is 6,580 yards with a par of 74.

There is a fine club house on the grounds, which cost $12,500 and is splendidly equipped throughout with spacious dining room, dressing rooms, shower baths and lockers. But the most interesting feature of the new South Vancouver course is that it is public, and thus within the reach of the man of moderate means. A full round of 18 holes costs only 60 cents, with monthly or yearly rate of $2.50 and $20 respectively.

"Langara" is said to be very similar to the famous "Westward Ho" course near Bideford, Devon, England, and is only four miles from the heart of Vancouver City.

Start the Week With a Smile

"Hell, there ain't no such animal!" snorted the 1930 farmer as he entered the sidewalk and looked at a horse.

So live that when you come to die, your death notice will not appear in the newspapers among the list of town improvements.

"Take longer strides, Sandy," said a Scotch father to his growing boy. It didn't wear out yet, but it didn't.

Restaurant Guest (after long and fruitless struggle with dark object on plate): "Waiter, you made a mistake. I did not say rain check."

"What kind of fellow is he?" "Well, when he gets into a taxi, they leave the 'Vacant' sign 'up.'"

"Have any of your childhood ambitions been realized?" "Yes, when my mother used to cut my hair, I always wished I hadn't say."

George: "I hear Albertson is always setting traps for his wife." "Harry: 'How awful! Jealousy, I suppose.'"

George: "No Mice."

"I have a mind to give you a whipping," exclaimed the exasperated father. "Well, dad," replied the athletic youth, "maybe you can; but if you succeed, it will be some time for the sport page."

"I say, y'know, all these bills are dated months before we were married." "Yes, darling, I know they are."

"Well, it's a bit thick to expect me to pay for the bait I was caught with."

Mistress "Eliza, have you seen Miss Edith's fiancé?" "Eliza (looking up from her washbowl): 'No ma'am; it ain't been in the wash yet.'"

Mrs. Johnson: "So you dispensed with your radio machine?" Mrs. Pannell: "Yes, on account of its bedtime stories. They came on at least three hours before Mr. Pannell and I were ready for bed."

"Can't you wait on me?" asked the impatient customer. "Two pounds of liver, I'm in a hurry." "Sorry, madam," said the butcher, "but two or three are ahead of you. You surely don't want your liver out of order."

Precious Offspring: "Pa, may I ask just one more question?" Patient Father: "Yes, my son—just one more."

Precious Offspring: "Well, then, pa, how is it that night falls, but 'tis the day that breaks?"

AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Mrs. Dayman Gives Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the Credit

Colborne, Ontario.—"When I was first married, I was very thin and weak. The doctor said I was weak and would never be able to have a child, but I did, and from the time my baby came I suffered all the time and doctors and took medicine. Life became a burden, and doctors said an operation could help me, but my husband was opposed to it. I had seen Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine advertised, so I told my husband that I thought I would try it, that it might get some relief, if it didn't, I had not taken one bottle when I felt it was helping me. I took five bottles and had better health. Now I have three girls and a boy and have done my work up to confinement. I am now at the Change of Life and owe my good health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I take a bottle when I think I need it."

In a Western town, the attorney, for a horse company was making a popular dress. "Think of the good the gas company has done," he cried. "If I were permitted to pun, I would say, in the words of the poet 'Honor the Light Brigade!'"

Whereupon a snail voice came from the rear: "Oh, what a charge they made!"

It was a hot day and seven cars were waiting their turn at the filling station. The first one was a steaming little 1917 Rattler, with six rattles and a buston. Finally, it came its turn and the peevish attendant yelled, "How many gallons?"

The driver of Elizabeth held up one finger.

Said the attendant: "What in blazes are you tryin' to do? Wean it?"

Artillery Rookie (about to take his first lesson in horseman ship): "Sergeant, please pick me out a nice, gentle, peace-loving horse."

Stable Sargeant—"D'ja ever ride a horse before?"

Rookie—"No."

Sergeant—"Ah! Here's just the animal for you. Never been ridden before. You can start out together."

"Nigger" warned one, "don't mess wid me, 'cause when y' does y' sure is stirrin' wid de beans."

"Don't pestericate wid me, nigger," replied the other, shaking his fist, "don't let me to press dis on you, 'cause if I do I'll hit y' so hard I'll separate y' ideas from y' y' habits; I'll jest knock y' from amazin' grace to a floatin' opportunity."

"Ef y' mess wid me, nigger," continued the other, "I'll jest make one pass an' dere'll be a 'man patta' y' in de face wid a spade tomorrow mornin'."

Abraham Goldstein was almost reduced to tears when he met his old friend, Patrick O' Brin, on the Broadwalk, Atlantic City.

"They won't let me in at any of these swell hotels and I can't find any place to stay. Oy, what can I do?"

"Sure and ye aren't using the head the good Lord gave you. When ye go to register, sign the name of the finest Catholic ye know and there'll be no difficulty."

A few hours later Patrick came across him again. Abraham's nose was gory, his eyes were blacked and his clothes torn and dusty.

"Oy, yot, a terrible business. I registered as you said and now look on me."

"I don't understand. What name did you sign?"

"Archbishop Corrigan and Vile."

Refresher Course For Physicians

For several years past the medical faculty of Dalhousie University has been giving a short summer course for medical practitioners, which has become very popular because of its eminently practical nature. The course is given free of charge, as an indirect way of rendering a service to the public. This year the course is to be shorter than usual, but an unusually attractive programme has been arranged. Through the kind cooperation of the Canadian Medical Association and the Canadian Tuberculosis Association, the Dalhousie faculty is to have the support of Sir Henry Gauvain, an eminent English surgeon, Dr. Stuart Pritchard, of Battle Creek, Michigan, and Doctor John, Fraser, W. F. Hamilton and L. J. Rivest of Montreal. These gentlemen all stand high in the medical profession and each will contribute several lectures and demonstrations. Several members of the Dalhousie faculty will also take part. According to the custom the mornings will be devoted to clinical instruction at various hospitals in Halifax while the formal lectures will be given in the afternoon. The course will begin on the 23rd and continue until the 27th of August. Any qualified practitioner, irrespective of his school or residence, will be welcomed.

Death of Popular Digby Citizen

Outram Dakin, Life - Long Resident of Digby, Passed Away Tuesday

In the death of Outram Dakin, at his home here, Tuesday morning at eight o'clock, Digby loses one of its most valuable citizens. Mr. Dakin had been a sufferer for some time of heart trouble, but it was only about three weeks ago that he was compelled to retire from his business, and since that date had been confined to his home.

The late Mr. Dakin had been a life long resident of Digby, and was a son of the late Daniel Dakin, a former shipbuilder of Digby. He was 70 years of age, and during the past number of years had been a sailmaker in this town. He leaves four sons—John, of Boston; Ralph, of Los Angeles, Calif.; Frank and Ted, employed at Boston; and three daughters—Mrs. Gertrude Mahoney, of Halifax; Mrs. R. Manning of Los Angeles; and Marjorie, at home; also two sisters, Mrs. John MacPherson, Newton, Mass.; and Mrs. Anna Fuller, of New York.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon interment being in Forest Hill Cemetery. Rev. Wm. Driffield, Rector of Trinity Church, officiating.

Mr. Dakin was a very prominent citizen of Digby, and took a deep interest in all things appertaining to the welfare of the town. He was well liked by all with whom he came in contact. For a number of years he held the position of wharfinger at the C. P. R. sheds, here, but resigned some years ago and conducted a sail making business.

The Courier extends sympathy to the bereaved.

Leading Athletes to Take Part On August Sixteenth

Arrangements for the Regatta which is to be held in Digby August 16th are progressing rapidly, and the Committee in charge have prepared a program of sports, etc., which will eclipse anything ever held in this County.

It is expected that Hilton Belyea, of St. John, and Mr. O'Connor, of Halifax, will take part in the senior Shell race. Invitations have been extended to these two popular athletes and final word is expected this week. Two juniors from St. John and one from Halifax will take part in the junior shell race.

Other famous athletes will be in Digby on the sixteenth and will participate in the many events on the program.

The Commodore of the Royal Kennebecs Yacht Club, St. John, has been asked to send two yachts to Digby to take part in the Yacht Races on the Annapolis Basin.

The Committee have also engaged the Annapolis Band to furnish music during the afternoon and evening.

His Worship Mayor Anderson has been very much interested in the Regatta, and has been calling upon the merchants and business men of the town to close their places of business at twelve o'clock on the day of the Regatta, so that employees may have an opportunity of taking part in the sports.

The merchants of the town have donated generously, and many valuable prizes will be offered to the winners.

In the afternoon a horse race will be held on Water street, and eight entries have been received for this event.

It looks as if Digby will again be the forefront in Water Sports, etc., on the sixteenth. Some years ago an Annual Regatta was held, and this event was looked forward to by many visitors from all parts of the world. But the removal from our midst of all those who were responsible made it impossible.

Canada's National Magazine has a first class article in its June 1st issue on Maritime conditions and problems.

The author, William Boyd MacDorm, sketches conditions throughout the federation, sets forth the promises of that pact, shows disparities between promises and performances, lists some definite drawbacks, in railway tariffs and otherwise, and then offers suggestions.

Incidental reference is made to Moira, among others as having "accomplished miracles with odds set heavily against them."

Summer Advertising

There are some business firms that make it their practice to let up somewhat on their advertising in summer. Sometimes they may argue that many of their townspeople are away.

But if that is the case, it is also usually true that a great many visitors are in the region at the time, and are carefully looking over the newspapers, and making such purchases of things as they want. When people are away on vacations, they have considerable time in which they can put in shopping, and often buy more than they do at home.

Frequently they like to carry some articles home as a kind of souvenir of their trips. The firms that keep their advertising up through the summer draw in a lot of transient trade of people who are visiting in the locality or who pass through it as tourists.

A great many firms have goods in stock at this time that will be a source of expense if carried over to another season. Styles may change, money has to be borrowed to carry goods that do not sell readily. A great many enterprising firms find that they gain the best results by cleaning up their stock very largely as they go, and getting fresh goods on their shelves. They accomplish this result by advertising freely through the summer.

It is tremendous help to a firm if it can give the impression that it is pushing for trade every day and week in the year. The firm that advertises constantly gives that impression. It makes the public feel that it is alert all the time to pick up goods at a bargain, and pass its goods values on to the public.

Metropolitan department stores know the game of merchandising, and it is noticeable that they keep up a great deal of advertising through the summer. If it pays for them, it will pay for the stores in Digby.

Friendly Towns

Small cities and towns that do not have a "Welcome" sign on every main road leading into the place are regarded as "slow" and out of date.

As a rule, the signs emphasize friendliness regardless of whether the community has it.

Once upon a time, it is related, there was a man who believed in signs, and taking the one at the edge of a strange town literally, he drove in and prepared to be real friendly. He sat on the curb for an hour and not one person even looked friendly, much less asked him any questions about what luck he was having among strangers.

This is a mistake common to us all. We boast of our friendliness and advertise the fact to the world, but we never exercise our shaking arm on strangers, and never discommode ourselves in order to give them pleasant remembrances of their visit.

The touring season is at hand. Thousands of motorists are going to be passing through. Some of them will stop here if they get the right kind of a reception; more of them will be our guests if we show ourselves hospitable.

If we are going to be friendly, let's loosen up and act human when a stranger comes within.

August

What is the matter with August? It is the only long midsummer period of hot days few showers and no-holidays. There is not even a suggestion of a national celebration between Independence Day and Labor Day.

August was not always the forgotten month of the year. In early times the name was unknown. When the year was divided into ten months by the Romans the period of heat and humidity marked by dry rivers, lakes and creeks was called Sextilis. History says it was Cæsar who changed the season and gave us the month of August, now shortened to August.

Why not consult the goddesses, Ceres, Pomona and Flora, and a proclamation naming some day in August for a national festival, in commemoration of the cereals, fruits and flowers? Or why not get some fabled mermaid-nymph to set apart a day for national aquatic sports and liven up the month of August? There are enough days to share, the time between light and darkness is long and the danger in outdoor revelries is not so great as in some other seasons. August days and vacation-time are too bright to be passed in the humdrum of every-day existence.

The Home Newspaper

If there is anything in your town worth talking about, ten chances to one your own newspaper had a hand in putting it there.

Every town gets its money's worth through the newspaper. It's the wagon that carries all your goods to market. It ought to be kept in good repair. It will pay to grease it, paint it and keep its running gears in good shape and shelter.

It is the guardian and defender of every interest, the forerunner and pioneer of every movement and the sturdy advocate of law and order.

Keith Lodge is noted for its good work and it excelled itself in the grand way in which they conducted the work here. At the close of the Lodge there were refreshments.

On Sunday, Aug. 8th, there will be a special service held in front of the Baptist Church where the Monument for our Soldiers Boys is being placed. This will be the unveiling of that stone and a large or credit expected to attend. We wish to take the opportunity to thank each and everyone who have so freely given for this noble cause.

Magnesia Best For Your Indigestion

Warns Against Doping Stomach With Artificial Digestants

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically, from indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful of two tablets of Bismarck Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bismarck Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and without the slightest pain or discomfort, try this plan yourself, but be certain to get pure Bismarck Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.

Red Cross

Annual Report

The 1925 Annual Report of The Canadian Red Cross Society, Nova Scotia Division has been received. It is an interesting booklet of fifty odd pages in a neat attractive cover, and is a credit to those responsible for its appearance and content. Annual Reports are chiefly for publicity purposes and this Report gives in a readable manner, an excellent account of the doings of the Nova Scotia Division in 1925.

"The Foreword" from his Honor Lieutenant Governor Torrey, expresses pleasure that Nova Scotia has led the other provinces in Red Cross Health Work. "Good health is an important factor in improving economic conditions." The Premier, Hon. Edgar N. Rhodes, in a note of "Appreciation" indicates that outside the cities and some of the larger towns "all district health work by especially trained nurses, owes its initiation to your Society." He also announces the appointment of a Health Nurse to the staff of the Normal College to emphasize to the pupil teachers the importance of good health in school children.

While all the reports financial, ex-soldiers, relief, Junior Red Cross, Home Nursing, etc., cover the full field of activities, the spirit of the service is well summarized in the concluding paragraph of the Commissioner's Report.

"Peace, Time Work, that is Health Work, is an obligation placed upon the Red Cross by the Government of Canada, under the Covenant of the League of Nations.

Canada is one of fifty-four nations pledged to support Red Cross activities. When article 25 of the Covenant was adopted perhaps some of those present in that famous Council Chamber in Versailles, failed to appreciate the enormous possibilities for nation building in carrying out its terms in these nations. In the History of the world there has never been anything comparable to it in scope and fundamental value, save the advent of Christianity itself, and nothing with similar promise of the early realization of its aims, as indicated by its achievement of the past five years. Red Cross Health Work may be welcome as one of the few blessings which come to stricken humanity out of the blighted losses, horrors and anguish of War. It ministers to the needs of millions of individuals and thousands of communities, in promoting health, happiness, good will, good citizenship and cooperation for the well-being of home and nation."

The GREATEST McLAUGHLIN -BUICK EVER BUILT

An Engine Vibrationless Beyond Belief

The McLaughlin Motor Car Company, Limited, today presents the 1927 McLaughlin-Buick, with an engine vibrationless beyond belief.

This achievement, we earnestly believe, will rank as one of the most important in all motor car history.

Our engineers, working in conjunction with the engineering staffs of General Motors Research Laboratories, and General Motors Proving Ground have divorced the annoyance of vibration to a point never before attained.

They have given McLaughlin-Buick motor cars a new luxury of quietness at every speed, exceptional among all cars, no matter what their price.

Never in all the twenty-two years of McLaughlin-Buick success has there been offered such convincing proof of engineering and manufacturing leadership. McLaughlin-Buick offers you today a brilliant example of the quality of McLaughlin-Buick craftsmanship—

Confident that acquaintance with its performance and value will fix in mind the conviction that money can buy nothing finer.

Certain that you will discover, in this great new car, further evidence of the deep meaning in the longstanding pledge: "When Better Automobiles are built, McLaughlin-Buick Will Build Them."

Other Vital Improvements

Another revolutionary improvement in the 1927 McLaughlin-Buick is the vacuum-cleaned crankcase. Crankcase moisture, the vicious foe of engine efficiency, is now drawn out of the crankcase before it has an opportunity to harm. The crankcase is cleaned and kept free of sludge by the McLaughlin-Buick Vacuum Ventilator, a new device, operated by the air flow positive and certain in action, and without a single moving part. The oil in the crankcase of the 1927 McLaughlin-Buick need be changed only four times a year.

McLaughlin-Buick performance is now made more certain, more pleasant and more economical.

Control by thermostatic control in the cooling system. Water circulation is prevented and the heat held in the engine, until the proper operating temperature is reached. Once more is removed by McLaughlin-Buick's new giant-tooth transmission, which is quiet in all of its speeds. Further quietness has been obtained by a new muffler design. And in this remarkable new car McLaughlin-Buick introduces balanced wheels, another contribution to better driving.

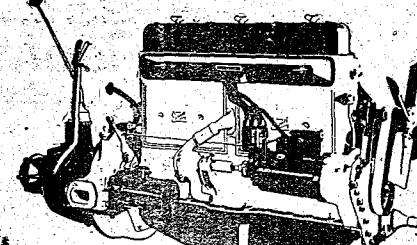

The privacy beauty of the new Fisher body is in thorough keeping with the unusual and incomparable performance standards now attained.

The Most Remarkable Fact of All—Value

This Greatest of all McLaughlin-Buicks is the Greatest of all McLaughlin-Buick values. McLaughlin-Buick volume has permitted engineering research and development on a scale far beyond the reach of most manufacturers.

Constant improvement has leveled one price barrier after another, until now you are offered, in this new McLaughlin-Buick, a car as fine as money can buy, at the price of cars of very ordinary quality.

This car will convince you, as no other car can, that money can buy nothing finer—no matter how much you may be able to spend!

Here and There

A total of 800,000 trout fry from the Banff hatchery have been placed in Sylvan Lake and 900,000 in Buffalo Lake, during the past week. A further consignment is to be placed in the tributary waters of the Red Deer River.

Export of pilchard oil to Europe will commence in bulk in September. Producers have contracted to ship 600 tons on each ship of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Co. for several months. The market is in Rotterdam. The company will have about two ships per month. Pilchard oil is used in preparing foods and medicines.

Another step forward in the effort to restore to Montreal its leading position in the live stock industry was taken recently when members of the Eastern Cattle Market Exchange met to reorganize their operations on the basis of new changes made calculated to improve Montreal's standing in the industry.

Duke Dmitri, of Leuchtenberg, Count de Beauharnois, lineal descendant of Charles, Marquis de Beauharnois, who governed Canada in the name of the French King Louis XV. between 1738 and 1747, is visiting for the first time the country in which his ancestor made history. He is taking part in the Grand Polo-Pow, the Canadian Trail Riders which is being held in Parnagian Valley, near Lake Louis, in the Canadian Rockies.

The English football team have finished their seven weeks' tour of the Dominion and they were greatly impressed with the generous hospitality tendered to them by the people in the cities they visited. Joe Smith, captain of the team, said: "Canadian football will, in a few years, in all probability be on a par with the brand of soccer played by the major leagues in Great Britain." According to him, the object of the tour has been fully accomplished.

Coming from all parts of Great Britain and Ireland twenty-five thoroughbreds were unloaded from the Canadian Pacific liner Metagama when it arrived in Montreal lately. They are for Mulan's breeding and training ranch near Winnipeg, and comprise one stallion, 16 mares and eight geldings. Nellie's Pet, 3-year-old, by Cygnus (Sire of winner of Scottish Derby last year) out of La Lis; and Denton, two-year-old, who comes of the same breeding as Cognach, winner of this year's English Derby, were among the horses arriving.

Captain Kilroy Harris, lecturer and radio talker in the United States on Australia and New Zealand, recently passed through Montreal on his way to the west where he will take part in the Trail Rides in the Canadian Rockies. He is already possessor of a silver medal for having completed 100 miles of trail riding and hopes this year to earn the gold medal, the testifies to the completion of 500 miles riding trail in that district. Capt. Harris is gathering material from Canadian sources for his lectures, and radio talks.

Reports from the Banff Springs Hotel and from agents along the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway from Banff to the Pacific Coast received at C.P.R. headquarters, state that the forest fires in the Kootenay Park region at their nearest point are eighty miles distant from the hotel, and that they are nowhere near any of the tracks of the railway. Guests at the hotel and travellers on the railroad have been in no way inconvenienced by the fires and these are now stated to be well within sight of control. Banff Springs Hotel is at the present time enjoying the busiest season in its history.

Start the Week With a Smile

"Henry says we're in the car!"
"Sure, as soon as we've paid for it!"

Uplifter: My good man, you should have made your light shine before men. No. 17. No mum—'I'd oughter used a dark lantern'."

"My husband bought a table and six chairs at auction today," asserted Mrs. Betts proudly.
"I suppose he already has the chairs," suggested her neighbor.

"Is this a respectable place, ma'am if you'll pardon me for asking?"
"It is. We had only two slugs in our telephone last month, sir."

Hewitt: "George Washington could not tell a lie."
Jewett: "Well, statesmanship was only in its infancy in his time."

"In giving my wife a parter purse," "Polish my lady's ought to hide their money."

Willie Holzenlocher (after Berlin fell—But, mein friends, I want to write a letter to you).
Yankee Guard—Nothin' doin' Heine it. We can't have asbestos stationery around here.

A professor formerly occupied this room sir. He invented an explosive." "New Roomer—" Ah, I suppose those spots on the ceiling are the explosive, what?"
Landlady: "No, that's the professor."

He—If you hadn't taken so long getting ready we should have caught that train! She—Yes, and if you hadn't hurried me so, we shouldn't have had so long to wait for the next one!

Florin—"Sally, yo' husband has been bickin' on the road and a 'bout 'Callic'—'Goodness! Does he wish me to bring home a doctor?"
Florin—"No, he says to bring home a horse-shoe."

Old Speedster's Limousine (going 60 an hour)—say, neighbor, do you believe in this here transmigration theory?
Young Speedster's Roadster (going around him at 70)—Sure do. I think I'm gonna turn him in a minute.

"Why do you feed every tramp that comes along?" said the husband irritably. "They never do anything for you?"
"No," replied the wife, "but it is a great satisfaction to me to see a man eat in a meal without finding fault with the cooking."

"Ruins," said the judge, "you're charged with stealing a chicken. What have you to say to the jury?"
"Jes, this, Yo Honah," explained Rufus, "Dat Ben had been in mah gran'-dun, fo' five years. Ah, jes mah-berry takes her to rest."

"If you're not very careful you're goin' to have trouble with a brunette," warned the fortune teller.

"Hm," mused the patron. "That's my wife. What makes you think I'll have trouble with her?"
"There's a blonde hair on your coat."

The movie actress had been playing cards and losing heavily.

"Brooks," she exclaimed in disgust. "Nothing left but my husband!"
"Isn't that too bad dear?" answered her sympathetic friend. "If you only had two of them now. I might play you my Alredale against the pair."

The foreman was going from one man to another with a sheet of paper.

"When he came to Sandy McKie he said: 'Sandy this is a subscription to get a wreath for Jock Stuart, who died last week. All your mates have given a dollar towards it.'"

"Och, mon," replied Sandy, "that'll make me an' Jock square. He owed me a buck."

During an examination a scholar was asked to write a short story introducing the words "calm and collected." This is what the schoolmaster read:

"One day an absent-minded professor was crossing a busy street when to his consternation he discovered traffic bearing down upon him from two directions. With great presence of mind he stood quite calm. The traffic passed—and he was collected."

They were discussing a wedding present, a silver butter dish that they were sending off that morning.

"What shall we put on the card?" asked the wife.

"Oh," said the husband preoccupied with his paper and coffee, "just the usual dope, I suppose: 'Anything you like'."

A few moments' thought followed and then she handed him the card. It was inscribed: "For butter—or worse."

Although the lovers had known each other only three days, they had to part. "Come along, please," shouted the brakeman and the young couple lingering on the edge of the platform, started. "It'll be heastly without you," he observed.

"And I'll miss you, too," she said. "I never was so happy and all because we met three days ago."

"But think how dreadful it's going to be," he wailed.

"You'll write?" she called from the window.

"Every day," he answered.

Then suddenly he tore after the train and as he almost overbalanced on the extreme end of the platform he made a trumpet of his hand and cried:

"Darling, Darling, What on earth did you say your name was?"

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of our dear mother, Ada Thieriault, nee Perry, who was taken from us July 1925. Dearest Mother, how we miss you. Since from earth you passed away, And our hearts are aching sorely As we mourn for you each day.

No one knows the silent heartaches, Only those who have lost can tell; Of the hours of grief and sadness For the one we loved so well. As we mourn for you each day.

A happy home we once enjoyed, How sweet the memory still. But death has left a loneliness That world can never fill.

Over shadowy miles of distance, Your voice comes to our ear, As gentle and caressing, As though you were standing near.

Your tender smile, your pleasant face Is printed in our hearts, Some day together we shall be, Then ne'er again to part.

No one knows how much we need you No one knows the bitter pain. We have suffered since we lost you, Life will never be the same.

With broken hearts we watched you, And say you pass away. Although we loved you dearly We could not make you stay.

What is home without a Mother When the family gather there? But her children often wonder If some day her joys they'll share.

The sunshine of our happy home Will ever be clouded by But thou O Lord has sent this cross We bear it all for thee.

We have smoothed her dying pillow, We have kissed her marble brow, And in our aching hearts we know, We have no Mother now. Remembered by her children who knew and loved their lost. 52-1

Power Plant Merger Is Planned in Digby County

Maritime Electric Company, Limited, Plans Economies In Operation

A special meeting of the Digby Town Council was held Monday afternoon, to consider the proposition of the Maritime Electric Company, Limited, for the purchase of the Digby electric light plant. Mayor Anderson and all councillors, except Councillor McKel, were present.

Roderick D. Donaldson, Vice President of the Maritime Electric Company, addressed the council and read his proposal to purchase the Digby electric system for $32,500.

He proposes to introduce into the town of Digby, hydro electric power from such a plant already in operation, and to sell electricity at retail at twelve cents per kilowatt hour to stores and householders, and to put into effect such other and lower rates as are equitable and fair for larger lighting, heating, cooling and power consumers.

In case there is an electric bond issue now outstanding, his company will assume the interest charges on such bond issue always providing such issue is less than the total of $31,500 and pay off the bonds, in cash, as they come due. The remainder of the purchase price will be paid in cash. That is, should there now be a bond issue against the electrical system of $18,000 his company will assume such bond issue and pay the remainder of the purchase price in cash, or $14,500, in such a case.

He further proposes to sell to the Power Commission of Digby-Weymouth, at a suitable place on the outskirts of Digby, electricity for the use of Weymouth and territory intervening between Digby and Weymouth, and elsewhere, at a price of three cents per kilowatt hour. Should the Digby-Weymouth Power Commission prefer his company will extend its lines to supply Weymouth and territory intervening between Digby and Weymouth, the same rates as proposed for Digby.

His company proposes to render twenty-four hour service, and to immediately proceed to construct such lines as are necessary to render such service as soon as approval of the parties concerned has been obtained to this proposal.

After reading his proposal Mr. Donaldson went fully into the matter of purchase, and said that this was the first step towards consolidation of the different power plants in Annapolis County. Lawrence town had been approached, and a offer was made to purchase the plant in that town, and his company believed that their offer would be accepted. Other places in the valley would be approached in the near future, with a view to purchasing, and the source of supply, at Weymouth, was capable of developing 700 H. P., declared Mr. Donaldson. With increased business, and a decrease in operating expenses, and everything run on a uniform system a much lower rate than twelve cents would not be an impossibility.

After the councillors had asked several questions, the proposition was referred to the Electric Light Committee for consideration, they to report back to a special or next regular meeting of the Council. Should the Light Committee report favorably on the proposition, the matter would be referred to a meeting of the ratepayers for their approval.

Miss Hilda Wilson Halifax is a guest at Osey Cottage.

Freeport's Memorial to Heroes Is Unveiled

Largest Assemblage in History of Village Witnesses Ceremony

The largest number of people ever assembled in Freeport on one occasion witnessed on Sunday the unveiling of Freeport's memorial to her heroes of the World War. Ideal weather conditions prevailed and many visitors were present from Westport, Tiverton, and points farther distant. The exercises took place on the church lawn. Miss Maud Lewis Haines was the organist.

W. V. Perry, chairman of the Memorial Committee, formally presented the monument to the people of Freeport which was accepted by Rev. E. C. Prime, of the First Baptist Church, Bridgewater, Mass., and formerly of Freeport, who presided throughout the service.

Rev. A. H. MacLeod, pastor of the Tiverton Baptist Church, offered the prayer of dedication. The choir sang two memorial anthems, and the Westport Male Quartette sang a very appropriate selection. The dedicatory address was delivered by Rev. P. M. Hamilton, pastor of the Freeport Baptist Church, who said active service overseas. While he did not have the spirit of war, he paid honor to those who were willing to give their lives for the cause of freedom. To Capt. George A. Thurler, father of Lieut. S. Walton Thurler, was given the honor of unveiling the monument. Sgt. Bernard Busbie, second son of Mr. and Mrs. David Busbie, who served overseas in the 219th Battalion, receiving the Military Medal and Bar, read the names of the fallen men, as the

Plane Smashes At Beach

Winnipeg Pilot Dumped In Lake

Making a nose dive, about three miles out on the lake near Victoria Beach, Hydro plane, E. W., of Lac du Bonnet station, came a cropper and plunged into the lake, about 10.30 o'clock this morning. The pilot was Roy Sleeman, a north Winnipeg boy. The name of the mechanic could not be learned. Through glasses from the shore it was difficult to tell what had happened, but no sign of either pilot or mechanic was visible. Their fate so far is unknown. Numerous boats immediately pulled out from the shore for the plane to investigate the calamity.

The above is a clipping from a Winnipeg paper. The pilots name was Dunning and the Mechanic was Horace W. Torrie, of Digby. They were rescued by boats from shore. No serious injury was sustained by either pilot or mechanic.

A few days before this mechanic Horace Torrie, in a flight, happened to notice a coupling pin loose and nearly out. He asked the pilot to hold the machine steady, while he climbed into the back seat and took off his life belt parachute and flying coat, then climbed out on the wing, and up to the bolt and repaired it, thus saving a bad smash. The machine was travelling about 100 miles an hour at the time. Young Torrie is receiving congratulations from all his friends at Lac du Bonnet, on his heroic accomplishment.

Canada's Agricultural Plant

It is curious to contemplate the lop-sided situation of the whole British Empire in respect to agriculture. The United Kingdom, Canada, New Zealand, South Africa and Australia, which comprise about one-quarter of the entire habitable area of the globe, only contain a total white agricultural population of about 14 millions, while European Germany alone can boast of a farming population of over 20 millions. There seems to be something basically wrong with an educational and social system which leads to such a result. The complaint has been made by a profound student of world affairs that the British and colonial political economy has for many years been glaringly urban, almost to the exclusion of rural interests. That this has been the case in Canada is only too evident. One need but to discuss the propaganda of our political parties at election time to be impressed with the total absence of constructive agricultural policies. The whole appeal revolves around urban problems.

Proper allowance must, of course, be made for the fact that we are living in an industrial and commercial age, but it does not demand any great power of imagination to grasp this basic fact, that owing to the enormous agricultural resources of Canada, overwhelmingly greater than all others combined, the sound policy for us—and it may not necessarily be sound for other countries differently situated—is to build up a great consuming and producing population on our extensive, unoccupied agricultural areas which will buy and sell in support of a dependent, proportionate urban population.

Largely as a result of Canada's vigorous urban policy, our town population during the past 30 years increased 183 per cent, while our rural population, in spite of our enormous area of vacant land, increased only by 34 per cent. This cannot be regarded as a healthy development. Our gross agricultural plant last year was worth 712 billion dollars with a production of 1.716 million. This represented solid, new wealth. These are imposing figures and should

A prominent physician made the remark recently that if people were half as particular in regard to internal cleanliness as they are about external appearance three quarters of our ordinary ailments would be eliminated. This medical man said people did not stop to think of the importance of keeping the system just as clean as one is careful to keep hands, face and body. The result is that the intestinal tract becomes clogged and waste material which should leave the body daily stays there for an indefinite period doing harm to every part of the system. So many ailments are traceable to these clogged bowels. An internal bath sounds novel, but it is much easier to take than any other kind! A spoonful of Sal Laxos before breakfast (or any other meal), dissolved in a glass of tepid water acts as a gentle cleanser of the bowels, provides a soothing internal bath that rids the body of dangerous toxic poisons and gives a well-earned feeling of freshness, vigor and health. A further advantage of the internal bath lies in the fact that a healthy body ensures an alert and active mind which makes for greater efficiency and happiness in one's daily work.

I had thinking men to speculate on the possible performance of Canadian agriculture were we in the happy position where more than a mere fringe of our agricultural area was on a producing basis.

The whole of the United States has an arable area of 345 million acres. The three western provinces alone contain an arable area of 175 million acres, 37 million of which only are now under cultivation. We evidently have room, without crowding, for a population of, at least, 50 million people in Canada. We are, however, making deplorably slow progress in filling up this Inland Empire of ours, and until the "man on the street" in Canada arrives at an intelligent appreciation of the folly of avoidable delay in this nationally important task, there is little hope of improvement.

Your Philosophy

You, at some time or other in your life, have sat late at night on a veranda with a group of friends. Conversation drifted into an exchange of philosophical views—why were we here on earth, why so many fail, and what constituted success.

Out of such discussions, like a mocking jinn, rises a glaring truth—that every individual develops a personal philosophy of life to fit his degree of success or failure.

Aesop's fox, who could not leap high enough to pluck the grapes, comforted himself with "The grapes are sour."

The man who has accumulated so much money that it makes him uneasy, has for his alibi: "It doesn't matter how much wealth a man has, as long as he doesn't misuse it."

Mrs. Wiggs of the cabbage patch, in dire poverty, hypnotized herself into a philosophy that she was happy without riches.

Socrates and his soap box orators, not having much material wealth, philosophized that nothing matters except pure intellect.

The prize in this line goes to the celebrated Athenian philosopher—loafer who, when a king heard of his wisdom and promised him any gift he wanted, answered, "Then stop to one side. You are obstructing my sunlight."

One of the finest temperance lectures of all time was delivered by a speaker who was so drunk he almost had to be propped up.

Actually, he did not believe in temperance, otherwise he wouldn't have kept the distilleries working overtime.

But, realization that he was not of normal temperance, he crated his "don't drink" philosophy, as an alibi for his failure, and hypnotized himself into believing that he really believed it.

Similarly, you are apt to hear a great speech on honesty, by a man who wouldn't hesitate to rob an orphan asylum.

This development of elastic philosophies, to fit personal failure, is a dangerous form of alibi.

Unless a man constantly guard himself, he is apt to fall into a state of auto-hypnosis in which he shudders the blame, for his short-comings, to something other than the real cause, which is—himself.

It's a good idea, occasionally, to pick your philosophy by the nape of the neck, and submit it to the acid test or Emerson's Law of Compensation—that all conditions are the logical results of definite causes.

Build And Let Build

As far back as history begins there have been persons who have stood in the way of progress, some for reasons mercenary, others because of a real lack of vision or natural narrow tendencies. It is a matter of record that the builders of the ancient cities and public monuments, some of which still exist were met by hundreds of obstacles placed in their way by visionless men, who did not have the future interests of their communities and the world at heart.

This same condition may be applied to our own community today. We see opposition to things which would expedite business or cause an economic improvement or would in humanity's sake afford protection against sickness or the killing of hundreds of motorists or pedestrians. Here there should be no room for the obstructionist. We are building pages of history and there should be nothing at this time to hamper its progress.

The TEA before it Reaches your Cup

The truly great men of all time is the builder, the one who produces or helps to produce. The parasite who does nothing for himself or fellow man is a cheat and the one who interferes with progress is little better. "Build and let build" should be our motto and the future will comfortably arrange itself. There are many things to be considered in the building of a community. Ten men can do more than one and when these 10 men are arranged in team formation, their work cannot only count much more than 10 times but, in fact, 20 times as much.

College Feet

Somebody's always taking the joy out of education—and there is little enough joy in it at best. That the feet of college girls are steadily increasing in size is the latest bomb to be hurled in the line of march of fair ones on the way to knowledge.

The girls feet should not act that way. There is no call for them to swell out just because their owners are crowding their brains with learning. The size of the shoe is not a variable that moves with the size of the hat. Mental understanding and physical understanding should not necessarily be commensurate. It's all wrong.

A girl from a telephone exchange fell asleep while at church. The preacher, announcing the hymn said, "Number 428." At that moment the girl awoke. "I'll ring 'em again, she murmured. "I'm trying to complete your call."

Restrictions On the Export of Pulpwood from Nova Scotia

A Few Observations On Some Aspects Of the Question

The Proposal is that the Export of Pulpwood from Crown Lands be Prohibited, and that a Tax of Two Dollars ($2.00) per cord be levied on all Pulpwood cut within the Province, the same to be remitted in the case of wood manufactured within the Province. Or, expressed in another way, Embargo on Pulpwood cut on Crown Lands and a Tax of Two Dollars ($2.00) per cord on Pulpwood for export, cut on Freehold Lands.

The Measure is urged on the ground that pulpwood is an unmanufactured product and that the imposition of such Restrictions will result in the manufacturing in Nova Scotia of the wood that is now being exported.

A typical specification of Pulpwood for export, which will give a clear understanding of what pulpwood really is, reads as follows:

"First quality spruce and fir, not to exceed 25 p. c. fir, cut from live trees free from rot, heat, or hollow centres; not less than four inches in diameter at the small end, full four feet long, square sawn at both ends, entirely free from bark and either sappeeled or rossed."

This specification precludes the possibility of the cutting of saplings, as seems to be the popular impression in regard to pulpwood operations.

The popular belief that pulpwood may readily be distinguished from saw timber on the basis of size is incorrect. So far as the spruce and fir forests of Nova Scotia are concerned, there is no distinction in the standing tree as between lumber or pulpwood.

The impression that lumber is a manufactured product and pulpwood is not, is also incorrect, the former being simply the fallen tree cut into flat pieces of wood of various lengths, widths and thicknesses and the latter being the same fallen tree with the bark carefully removed by hand or spudders, and the logs then cut, either by hand or machinery into shot round blocks two or four feet long. Besides hand peeling by spudders there are two mechanical processes of preparing pulpwood—viz., removing the bark by hand or drumming.

The advocates of Restriction have, purposely and cleverly, so involved the question with Conservation and Pseudo Patriotism that scores of earnest citizens have been misled: where as the question is really a very simple one and may be examined by applying to it three questions that go to the very heart of the subject.

'1' Does the preparation of wood in the form of pulpwood by hand labor for export to paper making companies abroad yield a smaller financial return to the Province than the preparation of the same quantity of wood by saw-mill for export as lumber?

This question must be answered in the negative.

Does the preparation of wood by hand in the form of pulpwood for papermaking, utilize our Forests more or less effectively than its preparation by saw-mill for export in the form of lumber?

An examination of this question shows that from the standpoint of Conservation of our Forest Resources a pulpwood operation is more desirable, and that the Province as a whole receives as much revenue from it as from lumbering.

Mr. Roland D. Craig, Forestry Engineer and Chief Statistician of the Forestry Branch at Ottawa pointed out in a paper entitled "The Present Status of Canada's Pulpwood Resources and the Progress of Silviculture in the Dominion," that "p. c. of the tree, against only 23 p. c. in a pulpwood operation."

The fire hazard attendant on a Pulpwood Operation is, also less than in lumbering, and in Nova Scotia there is also another, most important factor to consider, and that is that we are gradually losing our markets for lumber and it is particularly advantageous that, at such a time, a new and profitable market should be opening up for the product of our woodland owners.

Not a single Conservation Body in Canada endorses a pulpwood Embargo or Export Tax on that or any other score and The Canadian Lumbermen's Association condemns both as economically unsound.

'3' Is there anything in the distribution among our people of the income from the one or the other method of utilization, which would provide any valid reason for penalizing the one while encouraging the other?

Considering this question, we find that a pulpwood operation is better, from the standpoint of the individual because it enables the small owner to himself, get the benefit of the market price for his finished product which he is able to prepare by hand; whereas a lumber operation requires him to expend about $5.00 a thousand feet; the fee of the local mill for sawing. Neither is there any detriment in the case of the larger owner who is financially able to own a sawmill, since he would be able to provide himself with a Rossing mill if he should decide to turn his timber into pulpwood instead of lumber.

A pulpwood operation is also better from the standpoint of the country because the same quantity of trees which, when converted into lumber, will fill only one box car, will, when converted into pulpwood, fill two, so that the freight return to the country is as great in the case of pulpwood as it is in the case of lumber. Moreover, the lumber business passes through periods of depression where a pulpwood operation is the only salvation of the "little man" and the opportunity of putting his wood into pulpwood should not be denied him.

If interests ostensibly planning pulp-mill development in the Province are willing to pay open market prices for wood and can use all the wood produced, there is no reason why the Province should not encourage these Mills their supply for no man would refuse to sell locally for the same price that he can get for export. If, however, these promoters really depend upon the Tax being imposed on the possible reason is in order that they may be able to force the producer to sell to them at a lower price than now obtainable. Whatever one may think of bounties or concessions to industries from the total public purse, it is not a healthy policy of the single group of producers of raw materials for that industry—a group of hard working, native citizens at that—is most unfair.

That such a Measure will not compel American Pulp and Paper Mills to come to Nova Scotia is evident from the facts that the Mills which produce wood from this Province get only 1-8 of their total annual wood requirements here, and but 1-6 of their total raw material requirements, and that there is sufficient wood in the United States to supply these mills full requirements for many years to come.

Angus McLean of Bathurst, New Brunswick, President of the Maritime Board of Trade, a past President of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association, a past President of the New Brunswick Lumbermen's Association, and a member of the Executive of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, in a letter written a few months ago says:

"I do not believe that placing an Embargo upon the Export of wood from Canada would bring one single mill into the country, notwithstanding all that has been said to the contrary. You cannot force a pulp or paper mill to come to Canada unless conditions are right."

"I admit quite freely that if an Embargo were imposed, I would probably buy my pulpwood from the farmers for 50 p. c. of what it cost me today."

"But one thing is very sure, and that is there is no difficulty in keeping the pulpwood at home, if one is willing to pay the price."

"In the district surrounding my mills and my timber limits I have voluntarily placed an Embargo on the shipping of pulpwood to the United States by the simple device of paying the Settler as good a price as the American could pay. Any other Pulp or Paper Mill owner can do likewise."

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color. It is so simple, sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage. Always, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy making at home. All drug stores sell ready-to-use preparations with White Sage and Sulphur Compound. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your hair with water and draw out a small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delight in the results with White Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces the soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

A girl from a telephone exchange fell in love while at church.
The preacher, announcing the hymn said:
"Number 428."
At that moment the girl awoke.
"I'll sing 'em again, she murmured.
"I'm trying to complete your call."

Here and There

Mayor Martin, of Montreal, on behalf of 100 pilgrims to the Eucharistic Congress at Chicago, recently presented a handsome engraved gold watch to Edward P. Whelan, city ticket agent of the C.P.R., at Windsor Station, Montreal, in appreciation of the care and attention bestowed upon them by Mr. Whelan, who accompanied the party on their journey to Chicago.

The second greatest half-year in the history of the Canadian Pacific Railway has been completed with the month of July, the official financial statement for this period showing an increase in the gross earnings over the preceding six months of $10,071,986.58. The increase in the net profits for the same period, amounted to $8,159,041, or an increase nearly double that of the previous half year in 1925.

Following a slight recession in April the production of automobiles in Canada continued its upward trend in May to reach a new high level of 24,934 units, valued at $15, 761,615. This output compares with 21,502 units, worth $12,754,390 in the previous month. For the five months ending May the cumulative production was 103,127 units, valued at $62,858,162, against 78,727 units valued at $49,792,312 in the corresponding period last year.

Canada leads the nations of the world in the proportion of years of prosperity to years of depression, says a report now in preparation by the National Bureau of Economic Research, Ltd., an American organization. Covering the period 1884-1924, Canada shows 1.88 years of prosperity per year of depression.
The United States comes next on the list with 1.70 years of prosperity per year of depression, covering the period 1890-1923.

Definite indications of the largest building year Canada has had in more than a decade are shown by the record of the first six months of this year. The very large and unusual total of $194,543,000 worth of new construction for the first half of the current year and contemplated new work to the value of $404,698, 500 forecasts great activity for the remaining months. During June contracts awarded totaled $54,136, 400, an increase over June, 1925, of 63 per cent.

One of the greatest foundations upon which the Canadian national spirit rests was laid by the Canadian Pacific Railway was the conviction uttered by J. D. Cameron, of Glasgow, in an address before an audience at Pembroke recently. "Not indefinitely did this railway act," he said, "as a bond between all the provinces of the Confederation, but it was, by its conception and final completion, a greater force than anything else for the unification of the scattered provinces."

The sea-faring settlers of the Ho-brides are not all fishermen as one might expect, but farmers in a small way known in the rugged northern Islands as crofters. Father R. A.
Macdonnell, the clergyman in charge of the immigration of these hardy folk to Western Canada, disclosed this interesting point recently on route to his headquarters at Red Deer, Alberta. Father Macdonnell has been in Canada about fifteen years and has been engaged in immigration work during that time.

The Earl of Clarendon is responsible for the statement that of the 25 families who he personally interviewed, sent out to Canada under the Overseas Settlements scheme, he has not met with one who is not entirely satisfied. He is making a study of the immigration problem as he travels to Banff, Lake Louise, and other points west in the Dominion.

YOUNG WOMEN SUFFER MOST

These Two Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ayer's Cliff, Quebec.—"I have been teaching for three years, and at the end of the year I always feel tired and have no appetite. I was so full of sick each month, too, having pains in my back until sometimes I was obliged to stop working. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me, and I bought a bottle. I thought it would help me, and it did. Now I take six bottles every year and recommend it to others."—DONALD FANFUE, Ayer's Cliff, Quebec.

"Unable to Work" Canning, Nova Scotia.—"I had irregular periods and great trouble at those times, the pains causing vomiting and fainting. I was teaching school and often for some time I would be unable to attend to my work. Through an advertisement in the papers I knew of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has been of great benefit to me, the trouble being completely relieved."

County, Nova Scotia.

thing hard and instead of the second yolk a perfect small egg, fished, shell and

Aching Kidneys

When Back Hurts, Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean
Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, must be kept clean and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull aches in the loins, rheumatism, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the loins, region between drinking lots of water.
Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take three or four times a day, with each meal in a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your system will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity.
It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a pleasant, refreshing drink, gets rid of everything everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean, bright and healthy.

Did your other doctor take your temperature? he asked.
"I don't know, boss," replied the negro,
"I've missed nothing," but my

Here and There

"There is no chance of another general strike in Great Britain for a generation and perhaps longer," is the view of Victor Shtar, news editor of the Evening News, London, who spent a short vacation in Canada recently. He thought the miners "the only great British would not be settled for the fall and perhaps not until the winter."

The fishing season opened again
August 10 on Lesser Slave Lake and Lake La Biche in Alberta. There are approximately 100,000 pounds of white fish to be shipped during the season from Lake La Biche and over half a million pounds from Lesser Slave Lake as well as a considerable quantity of jackfish and pickerel from both.

Canada's estimated wheat yield as indicated by crop conditions on June 29 is 344,000,000 bushels. The yield estimated for the Prairie Provinces according to the Bureau of Statistics report is 327,236,000 bushels and for the rest of the Dominion 21,400,000 bushels. Total estimated yield for oats is 48,840,000 bushels and for barley, 10,924,000 bushels. For rye the total estimated yield is 11,762,000 bushels and for flaxseed, 8,419,000 bushels.

The Manitoba Government has commenced an agricultural survey of uncultivated lands in the province, which when completed will provide the incoming settler with all available information on such lands. A total of 2,474 homesteads have been taken up in Western Canada this year. All post-war immigration records were broken recently when 1,684 immigrants passed through Winnipeg recently in 48 hours.

The Earl of Clarendon, British Under-Secretary for Dominion Affairs, and T. Macnaughton, chairman of the overseas committee, are making a tour of Canada to investigate conditions under which the 8,000-family scheme is being handled in this country. They are issuing glowing reports of what they have seen. The full three thousand families will have been brought over here by the end of next year.

A civic vacation party arranged by the Kiwanis Club of Shenandoah, Iowa, recently passed through Toronto and Montreal en route to London, England. There were 600 who availed themselves of the trip and most of these had never travelled outside the United States before in their lives. They will pass through Stratford-on-Avon and Oxford on their way to London and will make a side-trip to Paris and the French batteries during their stay.

"Association football in the Dominion of Canada bids fair within the major leagues in Great Britain," was the comment of Joe Smith, captain of the All-England Association Football team which has just completed its seven-week tour of Canada. The team travelled close on to ten thousand miles over its tour and played twenty games against all kinds of teams. They did not lose a single game and scored 105 goals in all with only 19 registered against them.

University men, municipal and government representatives, lecturers, prelates, notaries, lawyers and newspapermen made up the majority of the party of 100 people who took part in the across-Canada tour of the Universite de Montreal recently completed. They were feted and welcomed by civic, university and government leaders throughout.
They took their rest and recreation with a far clearer notion of the problems of the West than when they started. The tour was run on C.P.R. lines under the auspices of the University of Montreal, and was the second annual trip that has been made.

An old lady was taken ill and called in a physician of his own race. After a time, as there was no improvement, he called in a white doctor, who soon felt the old man's pulse and then examined his tongue.

"Did your other doctor take your temperature?" he asked.
"I don't know, boss," replied the negro,

Drugs Excite the Kidneys, Drink Water

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food.
Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminating tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night, if you suffer with headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, add stomach, or if you have a itching urine, make a habit of drinking a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then be free.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and bonuses in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a glass of Jad Salts any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

The Norwegian Ship Crashed On C. B. Coast

The Ringhorn, From Parsboro, With Lumber, Wrecked During Storm Early Saturday, And Five Of The Crew Lost Their Lives.

Scatterie Island's cruel, jagged reefs, and a merciless tropical hurricane, sweeping north from Bermuda, demanded the toll of five lives, members of the crew of the Norwegian ship Ringhorn; the serious injury of another man; and the total destruction of the ship, when she struck on the rocks off Tin Cove at 11.30 o'clock, Saturday night. And it all occurred only one hundred yards from land, where a life-saving station's crew was held at bay by the rage of the storm. The ship had been driven upon the most exposed section of the coast, where the most desperate heroism availed nothing when attempts were made to rescue the remainder of the crew, who had been left aboard the stranded ship. Of the ship's company, twelve were saved, but one of them was seriously injured. Who they were and what were the circumstances which led up to the destruction of the ship, and details of their rescue, were not procurable in the meagre dispatches seeped through from the hurricane swept coast of Cape Breton today.

The flare and boom of rockets some distance from shore, borne landward by the roaring wind of an unusually heavy easterly storm penetrating the thick night, aroused the men of the life saving station on Scatterie Island, probably the most exposed and dangerous section of the Eastern Nova Scotia coast, about 11.30 Saturday night. It was a hopeless condition from the very first, for the wind and breakers made the sending of any aid to the ship impossible, although she was thrown up by the waves within one hundred yards of the shore. How the twelve survivors were rescued was not told in the conflicting reports that came through from Scatterie during the day and last night, but it was suggested that the Life Station may have been able to get a line to the ship, and thus were able to get that portion of the crew ashore, but that the ship broke up before the work of rescue could be accomplished, and those who were standing by the ship went down with it, and either drowned, or were pounded to death in the breakers on the reefs. It was also intimated that H. M. C. S. Patriot, sent from Sydney, had been able to make the rescue. When dawn came, there were only scattered sections of the ship on the spike-like rocks as evidence of the night's grim work. It was but a brief time after the Ringhorn struck that her deckload of lumber went by the board, carrying with it the ship's spare and smoke stack. Lifted like a cork she was raised from one jagged ledge only to be flung against another, and by morning the steamer was a mass of wreckage almost beyond identification.

The Ringhorn, a tramp liner, of about 1700 tons, registered in Bergen, Norway, sailed from Parsboro Roads, Nova Scotia, for Garston and Manchester, Great Britain, with 920 standards of spruce and hardwood peels, or about 1,800,000 feet of lumber, shipped by the Bay of Fundy Lumber Company, on Friday morning. How she became so caught in the northbound hurricane that she should have been driven in upon such a dangerous section of the coast, is not yet known, unless it were that she was seeking Louisburg Harbor for bunker coal.

Immediately she struck, her rockets went up, calling for assistance from land, and her wireless summoned her to the sea. With the life saving station crew standing impotently by, the Canadian Revenue Cutter Constance and the Patriot were rushing from Sydney, but the heavy weather and tremendous seas, it is believed, made it impossible for them to participate in any attempts to rescue. In fact the Patriot herself was disabled and had to make out of the storm proceeding to Halifax at full speed. The first message received at Louisburg this morning was to the effect that five men had been saved and the twelve remaining of the crew were still aboard the ship. Later reports were that twelve men were rescued, and that five were drowned, and that one of the rescued was badly injured. The severe storm interfered with telephone communication to some extent, and thus prevented but the most meagre accounts of the sea tragedy from reaching the mainland. It was not known whether or not Captain Johannsen was saved.

Many Pollock In Digby Gap

Tourists Enjoy Treat of Their Lives -- Fishermen Reap Rich Harvest

The tourists who were salt water fishing in Digby Gap Friday evening, had the treat of their lives. The pollock were "running" in through the Gap, by thousands and the "breaking" of the sporting fish could be heard by residents on both sides of Gap. The water was literally boiling with them, and one party of tourists hauled in thirty-five big ones in less than fifteen minutes. The residents of Bay View, who live near the shore have been reaping a harvest. There is no expense to this kind of fishing. The men merely push off in a boat and five minutes from shore they are in the midst of thousands of fish.

At the Light House Friday the fish were so numerous that one man standing on the rocks, gaffed sixty-six large fish in less than two hours. The pollock are more plentiful around the Gap than for the past twelve years.

Digby County Man Takes Own Life; Ill-Health Cause

Two Lives Saved By Quick Turn Of Schooners Wheel

The Norwegian Steamer H. G. Myvig Rammed the Schooner Regina C. When Fog Lifted Huge Ship Was Bearing Directly Down Upon Little Vessel

The Bay of Fundy was the scene of a serious marine accident Tuesday evening, when the Norwegian steamer, H. G. Myvig, collided with the schooner Regina C. Capt. W. L. Comeau, of Meteghan River, and forced the latter and his mate to lower and escape was too small to stand the tempestuous seas of the Bay of Fundy. When taken on board the steamer, the Capt. of the Myvig did everything possible for their comfort, and spent considerable time in trying to locate the damaged schooner. It was purely an accident, declared Capt. Comeau, and the fog was so thick that one could not see five feet away.

The Norwegian steamer Myvig, which collided with the schooner Regina C. Tuesday evening off Bear's Head, was released by the customs officials Wednesday afternoon and allowed to proceed to Bangor, Maine, with her cargo of pulpwood for the Lincoln Pulp Company. Capt. C. W. Collins, of Granville Ferry, who looked after the interest of the steamer, arrived in town early this morning and after a consultation with the different officials had the Myvig released with a promise that the schooner would be back in port on Monday next when an investigation into the accident will be held. Capt. W. L. Comeau, of the Regina C., had his schooner towed to Meteghan yesterday by the tug Blisdon, where he will place her on the Marine slip for repairs. The Regina C. is leaking badly but temporary repairs were made so that the schooner was able to proceed on her journey.

V. O. N.

The accident occurred six miles off Bear's Head. The Myvig left Bangor, Cans Tuesday afternoon bound for Bangor, Maine, with a load of pulpwood for the Lincoln Pulp Mills.

Capt. Comeau stated that very little wind was blowing at the time of the accident, and this was the cause of their being alive today.

Don't forget that music will be furnished by the Pines Hotel orchestra on the bandstand, Sunday afternoon.

MONDAY'S REGATTA A BIG DRAWING CARD

Five Thousand People Witness Different Events --- Hilton Belyea Stages Great Comeback in Shell Race

Between four and five thousand people witnessed Hilton Belyea, of St. John, defeat Art O'Connell, of Halifax, in the single shell race Monday afternoon on Digby Basin. It was one of the prettiest races seen on the water front for years and the weather was ideal for water sports. Monday morning people from all parts of Nova Scotia began to arrive in Digby by auto or train to attend the regatta and hotels were taxed to their capacity.

At two o'clock sharp those taking part in the water sports received word to get ready. The first on the programme was a double pleasure boat rowing race in which there were three entries. A course three quarters of a mile in length had been marked out for the events. The first to cross the line was the boat in charge of Com. J. W. Merkel and Chas. McBride. Gerald Tupper and C. Tibert came in second.

The boys' swimming race was won by Reg. Vansell, with J. Cowans second and Jiggs Cowans third. Considerable interest was taken in the canoe race double. Four canoes faced the starter. The boat in charge of Charles Tidd and James Harlow crossed the line first with Charles McBride and Gerald Tupper second.

In the barrel race Shirley E. Inger, of Bear River, won first prize. David Daley second, Eric Armstrong, Digby, third. L. Harlow, of Bear River, won the Indian canoe race. Considerable trouble was experienced in this race as several motor boats attempted to follow the athletes and in their confusion the Indians had considerable difficulty in making the course; two of the canoes being obliged to fall out of the race owing to coming in contact with motor boats. The judges in charge made every attempt to keep the course and after this unfortunate event everything passed off quietly.

Joe Lewis and John Labrador, two Indians from Bear River, won the bottle race, and Frank Wood and Shirley Eissner second. The two main events, the junior and senior shell races, were the last on the programme.

The junior race with three entries, Penny, of Halifax; Ingraham, McEvoy, of Saint John, was the first called. As the athletes faced the starter they were given ovation by the large crowd present. At the shot of the gun Penny, of Halifax, shot in the lead with Ingraham and McEvoy, of Saint John, following very closely. The course, one and a half miles, was like a sheet of glass. On nearing the first turn Penny began to weaken and had considerable difficulty in getting around the buoy. It was at this turn that Ingraham, of Saint John, took the lead, followed by McEvoy. Penny found the strain too great and was obliged to drop out of the race, giving away to the two Saint John boys. Ingraham began to creep away from his opponent and crossed the line fully three lengths in the lead. The distance was covered in 10 minutes and 37 seconds.

Big Program Arranged For Sunday Ev'g

C. C. Jones, manager of the Pines Hotel, has made arrangements to have the Yarmouth choir of 18 voices, under the direction of Roy Williams, to give a concert in the Casino on Sunday evening next, immediately after the church services.

Tuana Knebel, dramatic soprano from Brooklyn, N.Y., and the Pines Trio will assist at the Community Sing.

Mr. Jones is to be congratulated on the excellent program furnished in the Pines Casino each Sunday evening, and the program arranged for this week is one of the best ever put on in Digby.

A special invitation is extended to visitors who are stopping at the different hotels in town, as well as citizens, to visit the Casino on Sunday evening next at 8.30.

While waiting for the senior shell event the men's swimming event was held. Six faced the starter and Walter Powers, of Montclair, New Jersey, crossed the line with good lead. Wilson Stamper, Clemensvale, second, and Shirley Eissner, Bear River, third.

The girls' swimming race was won by Miss Ellis, of Digby, with Myrtle Vansell second. The large crowd present were eager to see the contestants in the senior shell race, especially Hilton Belyea, of Saint John, who had gained world fame. As the athletes faced the starter they were given an ovation. At the shot of the pistol O'Connell took the lead, being followed closely by Belyea. Within one hundred yards from the first turning point both athletes were going neck and neck, but Belyea seemed to be taking it easy. Both oarsmen turned the first buoy and started on the three quarter of a mile home stretch neck and neck.

A half mile from the finish Belyea, with a little spurt, forged ahead of his opponent. With a ten foot lead Belyea when a quarter of a mile from the finish gave a sharp sprint and crossed the line twenty yards ahead of his opponent. Both were heartily applauded. The time for the distance one mile and a half was 10.31, which was considered good.

During the races music was furnished by the Annapolis Band. The large crowd present far exceeded the committee's expectations. People were present from all parts of the world and the day was ideal. It was one of the best regattas ever held in the town of Digby and the committee intend to make it an annual event. Great credit is due the committee in charge, Council J. W. Merkel, Fritz Dakin, Frank Hayden and others for their energetic work in putting on this regatta. It was the opinion of visitors present from outside points that Digby Basin is ideal for water sports and many annual events will be held in Digby during the year 1927. Town clerk Alfie Boden, T. E. G. Lynch and Charles Powers acted as judges. Fritz Dakin, Councilor J. W. Merkel, P. W. Holdsworth, Frank Hayden had charge of the sports. The yacht race was won by Frank Hayden's boat which was sailed by Capt. Ernest Dakin with Ned Hayden and Benjamin Webber as members of the crew.

One thousand people witnessed horses races which were held Monday afternoon on the bay road. Two events were held. In the first event the horse owned by Rube Alcorn, of Bear River, crossed the line first. The other event was won by Marcell Melanson, Marshalltown. This was the first time in twenty years that a horse race has been held on the main highway in Digby and the course Monday was the same used previous to the opening of the old trotting park which has long since passed into history. The races were very interesting and well contested and greatly appreciated by the large crowd.

Weddings

TITUS-CANN

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Titus was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday evening, August 18th. Miss Margaret Titus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Titus, was united in marriage to Herman Charles Cann, both of Westport, N.S.

Rev. H. H. Philpney officiated, performing the double ring ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and very handsomely gowned in white tulle, with a full train, veil, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern.

The couple were unattended. The bride and groom, little daughters of the clergyman, acted as ring and train bearers, and were very charmingly gowned in pale blue silk. The couple stood beneath an arch of evergreen and white roses, with a white wedding ball suspended from the center, and there they took the solemn vows which they meant man and wife.

The stairway was interlaced with evergreen and hollyhocks, forming the bridal path, while the dining-room was decorated in white crepe paper and moss roses.

Only the immediate relatives of the couple were present. The gifts were very beautiful, including linen, silver, china, furniture etc.

Refreshments were served and the wedding cake, made by the bride's mother, was cut up by the bride and served to the guests.

Centreville Man Dies As Result Of Gunshot Wound

Reuben Morehouse Shoots Himself To Death --- Coroner Keen Empanels Jury And Verdict Of Accidental Death Given

"That Reuben Morehouse came to his death by shooting himself accidentally while temporarily insane."

"Such" was the verdict rendered Tuesday evening at Centreville by a jury which was empanelled by Coroner S. A. Keen to inquire into the death of Reuben A. Morehouse, farmer, of Centreville, who was found dead Tuesday afternoon.

According to the evidence given by Sherman Graham, who found the body of Morehouse, the deceased, the witness stated that he was informed by young Morehouse that his father had a shot gun and it was feared by the family that he intended to do away with himself and asked for immediate assistance. Mr. Sherman stated that he immediately rushed to the house and was going up stairs when he heard a report of a shot gun. At first he could not tell where the report came from, as he was not acquainted with the house. However, he investigated and found Morehouse lying on the floor in a pool of blood.

Poised Like Bird Against Mountains

Lydia E. Fulcher, champion of the Calgary Swimming Club, has shown Lake Louise, its yellow, white and blue popples, its distant, silent mountains and gay tourist throngs, how the swimmer is doing. She is a true mermaid of the Canadian West, schooled in the aquatic art in the Canadian government's great pool, the Cave and Basin, at Banff, where she has many times swum since her youngest days.

Miss Fulcher became a champion last year at the Banff Winter Carnival when swimmers dove into the Cave and Basin, filled with hot sulphur water from Sulphur Mountain, while the temperature outside through the open roof of the Basin was sinking below the zero mark. This fancy diver has also demonstrated her ability as a speed swimmer. The above photograph shows Miss Fulcher poised in mid-air in the most graceful of dives, with an excellent view of Mount Victoria in the distance—some six and one-half miles away. With the diver is shown also the glacier as well as the foreground in sharp detail despite the fact that the exposure was timed to the infinitesimal fraction of a second. The new pool, situated at Lake Louise, is one of the most popular in the Canadian Pacific Rockies. It is about 90 feet in length and eight feet in depth at the deepest point. There are springboards at various heights to suit the expert or amateur diver, and the water is warm enough to attract those not wishing to venture into the cooler depths of Lake Louise itself.

DRAGGING-DOWN PAINS RELIEVED

Woman Suffered Nearly a Year. Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound Brought Her Health

Moose Jaw, Sask.—"I am going to try to tell you what Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered very badly with dragging-down pains and inflammation, also pains in my right side over my hip and down my whole side into my leg. I had it nearly a year when I went to a doctor and he said I would have to have an operation. But my mother said to take Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound and it saved her life years before. I took two bottles and I found I was better, so I kept on taking it and I also used Lydia E. Finkham's Sensitive Wash. I have had two more children since then and am perfectly well. I used to have to lie down two or three times a day, and now I do all my housework without trouble. I always keep the Vegetable Compound in the house as I find it is now and then helpful. I am willing for you to use this letter any way you see fit and I will answer letters. If I can help another woman I'd be only too glad to try."—Mrs. ESTHER HOBERTON, 712 Athabasca W., Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan.

Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for all women's troubles. For sale by druggists everywhere. C and family, recently motored to Little River, Digby Co. and spent the day with Mrs. Longmire's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wright, of Carleton, Var. Ca., were recent guests of her mother, Mrs. Martha Wright, having made the trip by motoring from Carleton around the South Shore to Halifax and down thru the valley, thus spending a very pleasant vacation trip.

Miss Edna Clayton, Young's Cove, has accepted a position at the Evergreen Tea Room for the remainder of the summer.

The Milford House is just about filled to capacity, it being necessary to room some of the guests out. Everything presents a very busy appearance. Preparations are now under way for a cabaret to be held in the Casino about the middle of August.

The Casino has been greatly improved by the addition of a large extension, the roof having been altered so as to make the building

Dominion Express

A Thing Of The Past

After forty-four years of operation during which it has grown up with the country and contributed in no small way to Canadian development, the Dominion Express Company will no longer be known by that name. After September first next that great transportation agency will be known as the Canadian Pacific Express Company. In all parts of Canada and the United States and throughout the civilized world signs on the windows of many a hundred of branch offices will be changed, and thus will be forged a still closer link with the great parent company whose railroad, steamships and hotels are known around the world.

To mark the change of name the Company has issued an attractive little booklet giving a short history of its career and a synopsis of its present wide-spread activities. The Dominion Express Company was incorporated in 1873, but it was in 1882 that Mr. VanHorne, then president of the C.P.R., took it over as an operating part of the Canadian Pacific Railway. N. G. A. Kirkpatrick, later Sir George Kirkpatrick, Lt.-Gov. of Ontario, was its president, and Mr. W. S. Stout, a young but thoroughly experienced express man became its superintendent. Mr. Stout is today president and has for many years guided its fortunes in that capacity.

For some years he and his assistants had a hard and uphill fight. They not only moved traffic but helped create it by finding Canadian and foreign markets for Canadian products and by scientific rate making encouraging the farmer, fruit grower and others whose markets were far away. The growth of the company over these many years is an interesting story and it is an important chapter in the commercial history of this country and its present position where it is daily entrusted with hundreds of millions of dollars in goods and treasure by the public, business institutions and the government is a matter for justifiable pride. The booklet is handsomely illustrated and is being widely distributed wherever the Company operates.

Here and There

Following a recent tour of western Canada, W. L. Smither, former editor of the "Farmer's Sun", writes that he will be surprised if the aggregate wheat crop of the Prairie Provinces falls below 400,000,000 bushels. "It will not be surprising if the 500,000,000 mark is nearly reached," states Mr. Smith.

Eleven hundred farms will be needed next year to accommodate the British settlers who will be brought to western Canada, according to Major E. J. Ashton, commissioner of the Soldiers' Settlements. So far this year 1,450 families were placed on farms in the prairie provinces by this organization.

Hogs to the value of $400,000 were shipped from the Prince Albert district in 1923. This sum was far in advance of that received the previous year and the increase was due to a considerable extent to the activities of the agricultural society boosting hog production. This year the hog raisers' slogan is one million dollars worth of hogs, and from present indications the mark is more than likely to be attained.

Arrangements for the export of large quantities of British Columbia seed potatoes to California are being made by a potato grower of that state. The British Columbia potatoes are desired in California for seed purposes, because they introduce new strength into the southern strain. Experiments were made with Canadian grown seed last year in California and growers were well satisfied with the results.

A flock of 45 sheep, comprising 35 ewes and 11 rams, has been purchased by an official of the Dominion Government under instruction from the Soviet Government for dispatch to Vladivostok, as soon as arrangements can be made for their shipment. Last year quite a number of prize-winning cattle were shipped from British Columbia to Russia and this new order indicates that previous shipments have been satisfactory.

Many valuable shipments of furs from the great trapping areas of the Hudson Bay Company are arriving through the Dominion Express at Montreal. These unimpaired furs, piled high on the trucks often represent a total value of $200,000. After being collected at the various Hudson Bay posts along Hudson Bay and James Bay the furs are brought down by canoe in summer and dog team in winter to the northern terminus of the T. and O. Railway.

Remarkable expansion of passenger traffic into and out of Montreal has been reported during July and August by the passenger department of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The "Red Wing" and the "Alouette" on the Boston run and the "Rideau" and "York" to Toronto, four new trains de-luxé trains, have been placed on these routes early in the year have been running with capacity loads. Eastward to Quebec there is heavy traffic for the Ancient Capital, while trains running north into the Laurentians, it is stated, have never been so filled as in the case this summer.

A muscalunge, 35 pounds in weight, with a length of 50 inches and a girth of 21 inches, was taken from the French River near the French River Bungalow Camp recently, according to information received by the tourist department of the Canadian Pacific Railway. This fine fish was taken by E. A. Farintosh of New York with a 20-lb. silk test line and using Chubb Minnow bait. To date this is the largest fish caught this year to be entered in the annual French River Bungalow Camp Trophy competition.

We were all glad to welcome back again, Malcolm Outthorpe, who has spent the past year in Tennessee. He occupied the pulpit here on Sunday morning.

Mrs. Etta Trask, of Little River, and Mrs. W. Perry of Mattapan Mass. spent last week with Mrs. C. F. Delaney.

Forest Fire On Monday Cause Much Damage

Three Days' Conflagration Drives Out Residents With Furniture And Movable Belongings

A forest fire, which has become serious, is raging at Lake Jolty, about ten miles back of Bear River and Wednesday citizens were called upon to render all possible assistance to extinguish the blaze. Residents nearby have become panic-stricken, and in some cases furniture and household belongings have been removed to safer quarters.

The fire has been raging for three days, and is spreading in the direction of several houses and unless checked many people will be rendered homeless.

Ex-Chief Ranger W. S. Troop, of Digby, has been called to render all possible assistance, and left early today for the scene of the fire. Citizens who passed nearby state this evening that the blaze has become a veritable conflagration, and unless something is done at once serious consequences will result.

Citizens of Bear River and vicinity have organized themselves, and are making an attempt to check the spread of the fire. Special apparatus has been secured, and this will be used in an attempt

Interview Given Courier re Light Proposition

Vice-President is of the Opinion That It Would Be Waste Of Money To Develop Sissiboo

Roderick D. Donaldson, Vice-President of the Maritime Electric Light Company, Ltd., with headquarters at Halifax, was a visitor in Digby yesterday afternoon en route to St. John, and in a conversation to The Courier stated that there was nothing mysterious about the offer made to the Town of Digby, whereby his Company offered to purchase the present Electric Light Plant and franchise for the sum of $32,500.

"You may state," declared Mr. Donaldson in an interview, "that the offer is subject to analysis by the Engineer employed by the Power Commission and if, after a thorough analysis the Power Commission Engineer, treating the matter impartially proved, that the development at Sissiboo Falls is a better proposition for Digby and Weymouth, I would be the last person to stand in the way of the Commission getting the best service. My analysis of the situation convinces me that to build another power plant in this vicinity is an economic crime; that the day is coming when all of this section will be supplied from one large Power Plant and one uniform transmission and distributing system. That day cannot be very far off and when it means that any money that is now spent at Sissiboo Falls, and in the 6 or 7 miles of dead transmission line from the Sissiboo to Weymouth, will be wasted. For this reason I am convinced that spending the taxpayers money on the Sissiboo Falls is an economic crime. The proposed hydro development at Sissiboo Falls is certainly vastly superior to the present method of generating power in Digby. I am firmly convinced, however, that my offer to Digby and the Power Commission represents a still better proposition than Sissiboo Falls. For the reason that it will ultimately result in a lower lighting rate to domestic consumers and a great deal lower power rate to the power consumer."

"However, the Power Commission Engineers report should give residents of this community a true unbiased light on the subject and I am willing to abide by such a report."

Citizens of Digby will have an opportunity of hearing this matter discussed at next Monday's meeting of the Town Council.

A meeting of the Electric Light Committee of the Town Council was held Wednesday afternoon, to consider the proposition submitted to a special meeting of the Town Council some three weeks ago, by Roderick D. Donaldson, Vice-President of the Maritime Electric Light Company, with headquarters at Halifax, when the town was offered $32,500 for the present light plant and franchise.

While no information will be given to the public until the regular meeting of the Council, Monday night, it is understood that the committee will recommend that the offer be not accepted by the Council. The reason given is that the Town of Digby has given authority to the Digby County Power Board to issue bonds to the extent of $75,000, for the development of hydro on the Sissiboo River, and in view of this, the committee did not think it feasible to sell the franchise to the town.

Had the proposition been presented to the Council, some months ago, it is the opinion that it would have been accepted, but under present conditions the offer is left in abeyance for the time being.

When Mr. Donaldson appeared before the Council he explained the offer very fully, and stated that his company owned plants at Bridgetown and other sections of the valley, and were making an attempt to consolidate the power plants in Digby, Annapolis and Kings Counties, in order that citizens would have an opportunity to purchase hydro power at a reasonable rate, and promise to supply Digby at the rate of twelve cents per K. W. hour and was prepared to furnish the Digby County Power Board with power at the switch-board for the sum of three cents.

Some citizens believe that the town should carefully consider the matter before arriving at a final conclusion, but after considering the question from every possible angle the committee, it is stated, came to the conclusion that it was impossible to even consider the proposition of Mr. Donaldson, at this late date.

Liberal Leader Address Digby Co. Audience

Arrived in Digby Yesterday Morning and Spoke to Large Gathering at Band Stand

Hon. W. L. McKenzie King, leader of the Liberal party in the forthcoming general elections arrived in Digby yesterday on his speaking tour through the province. He was met at the pier by prominent local Liberals and a large number of townspeople and summer visitors who took the opportunity to welcome a distinguished Canadian, though perhaps not of their political faith.

Arrangements had been made for Mr. King to deliver an address from the bandstand and there for an hour he discussed the "constitutional question", and the record of his government up to the time of its resignation.

Perfect Digby weather welcomed the party to Nova Scotia. A brilliant sun was tempered with fleecy clouds and the basin, formed a beautiful background for the stand wreathed in flags and surrounded by several hundred interested spectators. Mr. King and party left in the afternoon for Annapolis where he spoke in the interests of the Liberal candidate for that county.

Laughter Laden Heart

The brook that dances merrily, Across a meadow place, Rejoice the joy of many a tree, Of many flower, face, But oh, somewhere the brook may wind, Through a forgotten town, Where everything is tinted gray, And dark, and brown.

The brook that dances merrily, With laughter in its voice— May have small reason to be gay, To carol and rejoice. It may see much of misery, And wait and fear and care, Its voice may be the old glad note Upon the air.

God grant that I may watch the brook, And take its dream for mine, Until my life may be as bright, And wonderful and fine. As the slight silver stream that sings, Its song on hill, God grant to me a heart that sings Until I die.

Deep Brook

A number from here attended the Baptist Tea meeting at Clamport on Wednesday of last week.

The annual S. S. Picnic was held at Martins Point on Thursday. The weather was very fine and a large number were present. From three to five o'clock all entered into games and sports. At 5:30 a bountiful supper was served, to about 75 persons. The games were in charge of Sydney Chipman, Harold Archibald and Miss Helen Archibald.

Friday evening the W. M. Aid Society of the Smith's Cove Baptist Church gave a very interesting play at the Hall. They were assisted by ten little people from the Deep Brook Sunday School. After the play, refreshments were served from prettily decorated booths. The hall was filled to capacity and $32.00 received at the show.

"Au Revoir"

There is usually something sad and rather wistful in one's "last days." In the late, misty I remember walking up and down, one late June, in front of the Model School, wondering what High School would be like in September. Four years later I passed on, and pondered on the mysteries of University life. Time rushed on, and in less than a decade undergraduate activities ended and life loomed up.

So, from position to position, from city to city, from one country to another, one travels, ever peering restlessly, eagerly and hopefully into the future, but still with a distinct tinge of regret that there must be so many partings. It would be so easy and pleasant to remain, but there seems to be no such thing as permanency for those touched with "the itch of the wandering foot."

This is my final issue, the last of one hundred and sixty-three. And so, this is probably my last opportunity to scribble these few lines, which have constituted a weekly chat between reader and editor.

For more than three years it has been my privilege to control the editorial destiny of The Courier and to converse on this page with thousands of friends and acquaintances, many known only through their correspondence. It has been a wonderful and stimulating contract for me, the editing of a newspaper is a very personal thing. Nova Scotia is not yet so thickly peopled but that it is quite a neighborly place, and thousands of letters have poured into my sanctum to prove this. A vast percentage has been heartening, showing a personal touch in an effort to produce an up-to-date weekly.

There are some things in this world that can—and should—be delegated. The selection of the editorial contents of a newspaper is in my opinion, distinctly not one of these. I have made it a policy that nothing of an editorial nature shall go in The Courier that I have not read and, if the results have not measured up to the desired standard, I can merely say, in Princess Bibesco's words: "I have only myself to blame."

I would like to bid a personal adieu to all those who have contributed to the making of The Courier since I took over the management. During the past few weeks I have had letters and calls from several scores, and the warmth of their genial friendship will add a glow to my departure.

"Le Roi est mort, vive le roi!" would perhaps be a natural feeling, but when an editor departs, and contributors still say kind things to him, one must be convinced of their genuineness.

I would like, too, to bid adieu to many, many readers who have heartened me on my path, changed a job into a privilege, a duty into a pleasure, even doubt into faith but, of course, I cannot be. All I can say is:

"AU REVOIR"

Weston, The Walker

That was a sad story we read on Sunday about the wanderings of Edward Payson Weston. The fine old man has fallen on evil days. His physical vitality has lasted longer than his mind. Tired and hungry he was discovered in Brooklyn after a flight and disappearance from Philadelphia. With men of his age such excesses are generally the signal for the end. The career of Weston, the walker, is nearly over. He was a strong and notable athlete in his day.

When he was already an old man he walked across the continent in record time. His hair was white, but an abounding vitality held him up. His progress from California was made a feature of the front page. His admirers followed his course. One notable day his entrance into New York City was heralded and crowds gathered to see him. Traffic on Broadway was impeded. We shall never forget the appearance of the splendid old man as he strode into Columbus Circle while the crowd cheered. He seemed of medium height and not of powerful build. He had the countenance of the old time American. He looked wiry and strong but there was nothing in his physical make-up which explained his wonderful walking power. It seemed then, as it does now, that his powers of heart and muscle were abnormal in the sense that they far surpassed the average. Anyone who has walked 20 miles a day for several days knows what a strain it is. This man walked far more than that for weeks. His style of walking was quick and graceful and evidently sustained by tremendous nervous force.

There was nothing unnatural or forced in it. He walked, as it seemed, absolutely without friction. Edward Payson Weston in his day gave a great impetus to walking a pleasure and exercise which is fast dying out. The auto has destroyed street railroads and injured the morals of the young. It incidentally has put walking all out of vogue. We get out the car to travel a hundred yards. Some of those who have used motor cars for years are seeing the error of their ways and are walking more. We, who admired Weston, the champion walker in his prime, are sorry to learn of the misfortunes of his old age.

Digby's Week

Digby entertained a great crowd on August 16 with a fine series of water races and other sports. These brought out oarsmen, who showed very good form in the contests in which they entered. One was Hilton Belyea, who has a record as Olympic sculler, and champion of Canada. He came back to the sport, and gave the large gallery of spectators a splendid exhibition of rowing in his race against Art O'Connell, of Halifax.

It is of interest to have a revival of sculling races. They were formerly prime features in Nova Scotia of water sports, but in other parts of the province have gone out to a large extent. They have more sports now to compete against and this probably accounts for decreased interest in them. Halifax clubs still encourage them. We are glad to note Digby's interest in them.

Another event which is making Digby a centre of attraction this week is the opening today of its Hospital Fair. This is being staged in Victoria Rink, and as might be expected the ladies are in the forefront in having made preparations for the affair.

The Fair will be many-sided, providing entertainment of many kinds and opportunities to contribute to the Hospital Fair in many other ways. The Fair has become a yearly event; it draws great crowds of people and is a substantial aid to the Digby General Hospital. Halifax Herald.

Remarkable, If True

Can a man who is placed in a sealed metal box sink to the bottom of a swimming tank and kept there for one hour and thirty minutes, come out of the box alive? If a newspaper report from New York can be believed, it can be done. Harry Houdini, worker of magic, is said to have come through the ordeal. He was prompted to make the trial by a futile attempt on the part of a Russian Bey, the Miracle Man, who went down in the Hudson River in a similar box, but had to be brought to the surface in nineteen minutes. In these experiences telephone connection is installed between the box and the shore so that the man in the box can communicate and be communicated with.

The story states that the experiment of Houdini was carried on under the supervision of Dr. J. W. McConnell, of Philadelphia, a physiologist of the United States Mines Department. That gentleman, it is said, was amazed at the demonstration and believes that the result may cause important changes in safety methods in mines. One might very well think it will, if authentic, cause the revision of more things than mine safety.

Houdini's view is that any person can do what he is alleged to have done who can believe that he is safe, does not breathe deeply and does not make any unnecessary movements. It is computed that the box contained 34,398 cubic inches of air and the oxygen in it would be used up in three or four minutes.

Houdini was brought up following his own telephone signal. When the box was opened he was hardly able to speak.

The demonstration is remarkable, assuming that the story is true.

An Engine Vibrationless Beyond Belief

The McLaughlin Motor Car Company, Limited, today presents the 1927 McLaughlin-Buick, with an engine vibrationless beyond belief.

This achievement, we earnestly believe, will rank as one of the most important in all motor car history.

Our engineers, working in conjunction with the engineering staffs of General Motors Research Laboratories and General Motors Proving Ground have divorced the annoyance of vibration to a point never before attained.

They have given McLaughlin-Buick motor cars a new luxury of quietness at every speed, exceptional among all cars, no matter what their price.

Never in all the twenty-two years of McLaughlin-Buick success has there been offered such convincing proof of engineering and manufacturing leadership. McLaughlin-Buick offers you today a brilliant example of the quality of McLaughlin-Buick craftsmanship.

Confident that acquaintance with its performance and value will fix in mind the conviction that money can buy nothing finer—

Certain that you will discover, in this great new car, further evidence of the deep meaning in the longstanding pledge: "When Better Automobiles are built, McLaughlin-Buick Will Build Them."

Four Vital Engine Improvements

To produce the silent power-flow in the 1927 McLaughlin-Buick, McLaughlin-Buick engineers have made four fundamental improvements in the structure of the famous McLaughlin-Buick Valve-in-Head engine, including a Counter-Poised Crankshaft and a Torsion Balancer, new light weight pistons; and then a Completely Cushioned Engine insulated and isolated by rubber mountings, fore and aft, from all metallic contact with the chassis.

Other Vital Improvements

Another revolutionary improvement in the 1927 McLaughlin-Buick is the vacuum-cleaned crankcase. Crankcase moisture, the vigorous foe of engine efficiency, is now drawn out of the crankcase before it has an opportunity to do harm. The crankcase is cleaned and kept free of dirt by the McLaughlin-Buick Vacuum Ventilator, a new device, operated by the air flow, positive and certain in action, and without a single moving part. The oil in the crankcase of the 1927 McLaughlin-Buick need be changed only four times a year!

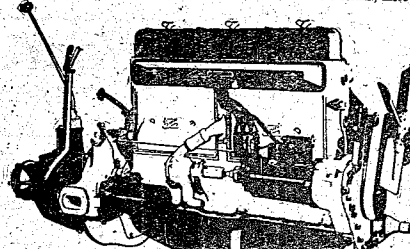

McLaughlin-Buick performance is now made more certain, more pleasant and more economical by thermostatic control in the cooling system. Water circulation is prevented and the heat field in the engine, until the proper operating temperature is reached.

Grain noise is removed by McLaughlin-Buick's new giant-torch transmission, which is quiet in all its speeds. Further quietness has been obtained by a new muffler design. And in this remarkable new car McLaughlin-Buick introduces balanced wheels, another contribution to better driving. The princely beauty of the new Fisher bodies is in thorough keeping with the unusual and incomparable performance standards now attained.

The Most Remarkable Fact of All—Value

This Greatest of all McLaughlin-Buicks is the Greatest of all McLaughlin-Buick values. McLaughlin-Buick volume has permitted engineering research and development on a scale far beyond the reach of most manufacturers.

Constant improvement has leveled one price barrier after another, and now you are offered, in this new McLaughlin-Buick, a car as fine as money can buy, at the price of cars of very ordinary quality. This car will convince you, as no other car can, that money can buy nothing finer—no matter how much you may be able to spend for it.

The delegation is going to assist in the celebrations in connection with the opening of the new Australian capital, but at the same time an intensive study of conditions in that Dominion will be made. They will obtain first hand knowledge on economic problems and trade development and a study of the Dominion's affairs as a whole will be made. Conferences of a similar nature will be held every two years following an agreement reached at the 1924 South African meeting.

The members of the party from left to right are: Top row—E. M. O. Clough, secretary of the South African branch; Sir Frank Nelson; Sir Howard Piggott, Rt. Hon. J. Macpherson, K.C.; Rt. Hon. McCarthy: "I see by the figures sent out from London that Ireland has lost 76,284 population in the last ten years."

O'Brien: "Well, how can you expect her to increase in population when she has to supply most of the statesmen, judges, lawyers, politicians, generals, and nobs for nearly every other country?"

A small boy visited his grandfather's farm. While out walking, they saw a cow.

The child asked his grandfather what that thing was that the cow was doing.

"Oh, those are her horns," he answered.

"Which cow began to moo?"

"Grand, which horn did she blow?" demanded the child.

Mrs. O'Brien: "Have you any ancestors, Mrs. Kelly?"

Mrs. Kelly: "And what's ancestors, Mrs. O'Brien?"

Mrs. O'Brien: "Why people you've got them."

Mrs. Kelly: "Listen to me, Mrs. O'Brien, I come from the stock of Dan Rogers, that spring from nobody till the spring at them."

Newly married Mr. Gray entered the kitchen where his new bride was preparing pies from the oven. One pie was about eighteen inches long and twelve inches wide, at least.

"Peggy, dear, why on earth have you baked such a funny shaped pie, and so long too?" asked Mr. Gray.

Peggy's reply was, "I could not buy any shorter buttermilk."

Mike applied at a large cattle ranch for work. He had a heavy growth of beard.

He walked into his bunk early and while he was sound asleep, the boys decided to shave his beard off.

Next morning he was roused from his bunk early. Reluctantly Mike sauntered to the wash room.

Looking into the mirror in bewilderment he exclaimed "Faith and bejays, an' they've called the wrong name."

Murphy had just been presented with a triplet and was so choked over the event that he called in everybody to see them.

Among the visitors was Hogan.

"An' what do you think of that?" demanded the proud father, pointing to his row of offspring.

"Well, I'm afraid Hogan, judiciously looking the babies over carefully and pointing to an especially healthy specimen, 'I'd be keepin' that one.'"

The young mother was bathing her baby when a neighbor's girl came into the room carrying a doll, and stood watching the operation.

"Dolly was the worse for wear, being minus an arm and a leg. 'How long have you had your baby?' she said to the mother."

"Three months," said the proud young mother.

"My, but you have kept her nice," replied the child with an envious sigh.

A near sighted man lost his hat in a strong wind. He gave chase, but every time he thought he was catching up with it, it was whisked away from under his hands.

A woman screamed from a nearby farmhouse.

"What are you doing there?" he mildly replied that he was trying to retrieve his hat.

"Your hat?" exclaimed the woman.

"There it is over there under the stone wall; that's our little black hen you've been chasing."

A wealthy motorist, while travelling through a Mississippi town approached a gasoline station, only to find the attendant a black country boy.

"Here, boy," said the motorist, "I want some gasoline. And get a move on you. You'll never get catfishes in the world unless you push. Push is essential. When I was young, I pushed and that got me where I am."

"Well, governor, replied the boy, 'I reckon you'll have to push again, 'cause we ain't got a drop of gas in the place.'"

An inspector visiting a provincial school was much worried by the noise of the scholars in the next room.

At last, unable to bear it any longer, he opened the door and burst upon the class. Seeing one boy taller than the rest talking a great deal, he caught him by the collar, carried him to his own room, and planted him in the chair, saying, "Now sit there and be quiet!"

An Irishman, while walking down the street was stopped by a gentleman who asked him for a match.

"Gentleman—Thank you. You know, I am a man of importance at home! I am Sir John Ball-Burley, Knight of the Garter, Knight of the Iron Cross, Knight of the Golden Fleece and Knight of the Eagle; And what's your name, my man?"

"My name's Michael Murphy, sir, night before last, last night, to-night, to-morrow night and every other night."

WOULD EXPORT TAX OR EMBARGO ON PULPWOOD START MILLS

A Few Pertinent Observations By One Who Has Made An Intensive Study of the Industry

In the raw state, lumber and pulpwood are one and the same thing; the cost of production is equivalent; the return to the country is as great as from the others; and pulpwood offers four manifest advantages.

2—It leaves less fire hazard behind.

3—It enables the small owner to himself, get the maximum out of the product of his wood lot; and thus, provide employment at home for himself and his son.

4—If shipped wholly or partially by rail, the freight return from pulpwood is, for the same given quantity of raw material, double the freight on lumber.

There is only one reason for the suggested discrimination, and that is that certain very clever interests see in embargo or export tax an opportunity to make tributary to their mill, at whatever price they care to pay for it, all the wood in Nova Scotia. They are moving Heaven and Earth in order to bring it about; are misleading the public into believing that some great patriotic motive is involved; that the pulpwood operator is a menace to the country and that prohibiting the export of pulpwood would conserve our forests and, at the same time, bring about an influx of American mills to manufacture the wood in this country.

The advocate of embargo or export tax would have us believe that he who turns his trees into boards to sell to Cubans or South Americans to build a shack with is a citizen to be looked up to and respected; while he who turns his trees into pulpwood to sell to an American paper manufacturer is a traitor to his country. Was ever more ridiculous poppycock served up to an intelligent people?

Will such a measure compel American pulp and paper mills to come to Nova Scotia? In other words, are those American mills that are now obtaining wood from this province so dependent on us that they would be compelled to move their plants, or portions of their plants, to Nova Scotia, in the event of the present importations from this province being cut off?

This is one of the questions one cannot answer categorically; it is therefore advisable to put a few facts before you, and leave it to you to do your own thinking and draw your own conclusions.

There are only half a dozen American Mills that secure any substantial portion of their wood requirements from this Province; and it is particularly interesting to note what the total annual wood requirements of these Companies are, and what proportion of these requirements they get from Nova Scotia.

Total Annual Wood Consumption—830,000 cords. Procured from Nova Scotia—103,000 cords. Nova Scotia, therefore, supplies but 12 p. c. of the total annual wood requirements of these Companies.

But even this does not give us the complete picture, for wood is not the only raw material required by a paper plant; in fact, the other essentials, such as coal, chemicals, etc., total in value per ton of output almost as much as wood; so that in reality, we furnish but 6 p. c. of the total raw material requirements of these plants.

From the above it should be abundantly apparent that preventing these American mills from getting this small percentage of their wood requirements from Nova Scotia will not compel them to move their plants here.

To carry our examination of this phase of the question through to the ultimate conclusion, however, you may ask, where would they get the wood to replace that which they now take from Nova Scotia?

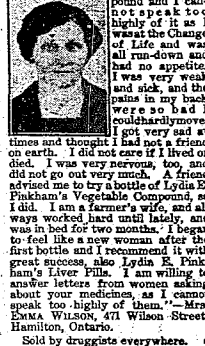

For many years to come they will be able to get it in their own country. If that source of supply should cease, and the price become too high, they can buy pulp from Scandinavia; and in the mean time, their chemists and other technical experts will be bending every energy to discover some other type of native wood to take the

TO WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Mrs. Wilson's Experience a Guide to Women Passing through the Change of Life

Hamilton, Ontario.—"I have taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I can't speak too highly of it. It was the Change of Life and was so bad. I was very weak and sick, the pains in my back were so bad I could not get up. I got very sad at times and thought I had met a friend on earth. I did not care if I lived or died. I was very nervous, too, and did not get out very much. A friend advised me to take a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I did. I am a farmer's wife, and always have been. I have been in bed for two months. I began to feel like a new woman after the first bottle, and I am now feeling great. I am also taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills. I am willing to answer letters from women asking about my medicine, as I earned so much of it."—Mrs. Sarah Wilson, 471 Wilson Street, Hamilton, Ontario.

Sold by druggists everywhere.

Spurge.

That this letter is reasonable and likely of accomplishment is best illustrated by the fact that, within the last few years, the manufacturers of Kraft paper have discovered how to eliminate the resinous and other foreign substances from long leaf Southern pine, so that they can now successfully manufacture Kraft paper from it. The result is that the centre of this enormous and important branch of the paper industry will soon be in the Southern States.

In connection with this discovery and the adaptation to the manufacture of paper of a species of wood heretofore regarded as impracticable for that purpose, experience has shown that there are other manifest advantages in manufacturing in the South. Better weathering conditions, year around making their woods operations easier and more dependable—cheaper labor, cheaper and unheated buildings required for plant, etc., etc.

A significant news item appeared in the daily papers a few days ago. It described the successful outcome of a test in the Forest Products Laboratories at Madison, Wisconsin, on the use of Eucalyptus wood from America for manufacturing newsprint. A few days later the technical experts who had charge of the test left for South America to take charge of further investigation and actual development work there.

Eucalyptus wood reproduces itself to pulpwood size in from ten to fifteen years. Southern labor is only one-half to one-third as costly as labor in this country. The conditions enable operations to be carried on the year round at low cost; and the necessary buildings may be of the cheapest and flimsiest construction.

Compare these things with the conditions under which the paper industry has to function in our northern climate, and you can readily appreciate how it may revolutionize the situation if force of circumstances drives this industry to the tropics.

Those amateur economists, who, by the mere waving of a legislative wand, would compel the removal of an important branch of the paper manufacturing industry from the United States to Nova Scotia, overlook the fact that there is a twenty-five percent duty against fine paper. They could not manufacture their produce in Canada at a profit today, if they wanted to, for every pound of paper they make in this country would have 25 p. c. added to its cost before it reached the only market in which it can be sold. The best illustration that this is, after all, the controlling factor is shown by the fact that Fraser's in New Brunswick, recently built their paper mill in the state of Maine in order to overcome this very handicap.

You may also ask: "What would they do with the wood that they own here if we established such restrictions?"

That question, again, cannot be answered in a positive and unconditional way, but I can suggest some things that they reasonably might do. They could put it into lumber or lath and strip their present holdings so fast that it would make your head swim.

As a concrete illustration, let us take the case of the S. D. Warren Company. This Company has been gradually building up timberland holdings in this province with the idea of ultimately putting in an operation for pulpwood on a sustained yield basis—that is, an operation that will run in perpetuity. This company uses 10,000,000 feet of box boards a year to manufacture the cases in which they ship their paper. Of course, the writer cannot speak with authority for the S. D. Warren Company, but would it not seem feasible to you if you were a director of that company, and the Province of Nova Scotia enacted legislation which prevented you from taking your wood out of the Province in the form of pulpwood, to put in a few portable mills and strip your lands as rapidly as possible, at least at the rate of ten million feet a year, and, thus, provide your own crating stock?

The theorists would have us believe that the enormous development in the manufacture of newsprint in Upper Canada was due solely to the embargo on the export of wood from Crown Lands in these provinces; whereas, the fact is that that development was due, primarily, to something like the reverse, namely, the granting by the United States of free entry of newsprint into the great market to the south of us.

Canada could place all the embargoes she liked upon Crown Lands and freehold lands, but let the United States place a tariff against us on newsprint and we could no more manufacture newsprint at a profit in this country—except for our own use or export purposes, than we could fly. And since eighty percent of our newsprint is sold in the United States, you can see what an important factor this is.

In all this clamor and claptrap for embargo and export tax, have you ever stopped to realize that the United States, although its own forests have been proportionally much more heavily depleted than our own, has no restriction against the free export of wood in the raw state, that there is nothing to prevent a mill in New Brunswick or Quebec from buying wood in Maine as some of them actually do; and finally, that with all its marvelous industrial prosperity, that of the total annual exports of the United States, 29 p. c. still goes out in the unmanufactured form, and if raw foods and animals be counted the percentage of products exported in the crude state is found to be between 40 and 50 percent.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1926.

One of the first improvements to be undertaken by the Courier under its new management is an improved news service of local happenings. The editor believes that news of what happens in the Courier's constituency is of more interest to its readers than accounts of world interest could be and a sincere effort will be made toward making the Courier a real, lively and companionable paper. The assistance of readers is invited. No one person can know all the interesting little happenings of a week, no reporter, devoting his whole time to it, could get all the news. Much less can one whose time must be divided between directing and assisting the mechanical staff, soliciting advertisements, writing to manufacturers and advertising agencies, collecting accounts, getting new subscriptions, writing editorials, dunning past due subscriptions, reading proofs, collecting accounts, interviewing visitors, and the hundred and one things that make up the life of a newspaper.

Our telephone number is 100. The editor or his assistant has always time to answer the telephone and we will be happy to receive news items by telephone. When you have friends come to visit you and their friends will like to know about it. The Courier is the one medium of telling all your friends of your success, your pleasures, and by your help the Courier can be made a better paper than it is today.

turny that only Liberal governments have surpluses.

"The budget brought down has been accepted as one of the most popular of budgets. It brought relief to the common people and deserved the support of Conservative members from Nova Scotia. He forgot to tell you that it provided a general reduction."

"Today he says he stands behind Meighen. A year ago he said he was a Maritime Righter. He pledged himself to put Province before party. And the first chance he got he put party before Province, deliberately broke every promise that had been made. In his election card of 1925 he said: 'I will put Province before Party every time.' This is what he said in parliament: 'I have been designated by Hon. Members opposite as one of the Maritime group, but I support the policy of the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen.' The Halifax Herald, discussing the Robb Budget, reminded the conservative members from Nova Scotia of their pledge to Maritime Rights and condemned them for having voted against the budget."

"There is a proper time and a proper place to deal with these questions—the place is at the polls and the time is September 14."

Dr. Lovett then dealt with the Customs Scandal investigation, quoting from a speech by Mr. Meighen, former Attorney General of Ontario, who has said that he engaged in the rum trade had assurance from Mr. Stevens after he became Minister had advised them that they would not be interfered with, and that facilities were given them to engage in export to the United States and to supply Canadian bootleggers.

Certain charges had been made by Mr. Stevens against the government. These had been investigated by a parliamentary committee composed of four Liberals, four Conservatives and one Progressive. The Duncan Report was produced before that committee and this report had been made to the government before Mr. Stevens had started. It was submitted to Parliament and in the whole report could not be found one line of censure of the government. Mr. Bovin, when he became Minister of Customs, had engaged Mr. Duncan to investigate and make report. Mr. Duncan was given a free hand, to investigate, to imprison smugglers and to make return of the result of his investigations. Mr. Bovin had instructed Duncan to look into this man Bisillon and he did. He seized his office and removed him from the service. And after the parliamentary committee had examined Mr. Bisillon, Mr. Bisillon bragged about what he could tell about the Tory party. The Doctor was not going to defend Bureau, nor to defend anyone, but before he would condemn anyone he wanted the full facts investigated and the evidence for and against produced. This would be a notice that Mr. Bureau had not been called to give evidence. The whole scandal was "formulated as a smoke screen."

"You have the record of the King government, you know what it has done. Did my friend tell you any part of the story? Read Mr. Meighen's speech, delivered in Ontario. It has not a constructive plank in it. All it did was abuse Mr. King. They have nothing to offer, so they talk scandal."

"You did not hear my friend talk about the railways. Last election he was full of it. But nothing this year because the National Railways under Sir Henry Thornton this year have the greatest operating surplus ever known. Last year my friend talked about extravagance on the railways. He has nothing to say this year of a new hotel in Vancouver the contract for which was given to a friend of the Tory party without any tenders were called for."

"I am proud to stand here as the Liberal candidate and proud to be a follower of McKenzie King, who has reduced the public debt 64 millions of dollars who has effected trade treaties that have developed Canada's export trade who has given Canada a balanced budget, obtained a most favorable trade balance and reduced taxation."

Firms now being sued for the amounts defrauded by them from the country, are contributing huge sums to elect King candidates.

Canadian women have never failed their country in a crisis.

GOOD TIMES CANDIDATE

WHY HAS PROSPERITY BEEN DELAYED

BECAUSE. During the post-war reconstruction period, Canada has had a government too busy in keeping itself in office by compromise with its opponents to give leadership to the country.

In opening his election campaign in 1925, Mr. King stated that he was appealing to the people because he had found, dependent as he was upon Progressive support for power, he could not give constructive government. The election reduced his following from 141 to 101 and made his government still more useless.

Since 1921 Western lobbyists have dictated the policy of Canada and no one has known one day what the next would bring.

Business has been alarmed. Capital has been afraid to invest. Factory after factory has closed its doors.

After the Conservatives came into power in 1911 the United States immediately reduced its tariff wall and let in Canadian exports upon most favourable terms.

After the Liberals came into power in 1921 the United States showed its appreciation of the pro-Yankee sentiments of the Canadian Liberal party by putting into force in 1922, the Fordney Tariff, whereby Canadian goods are practically shut out from the U. S. markets by the very high duties imposed.

The King Government met this attack by weekly lowering the Canadian duty on iron and steel and allowing United States competition to drive the Nova Scotia steel industry to the wall.

King allowed the United States farmer to enjoy three times as much protection as the Nova Scotia farmer enjoys with the result that one-third the butter, eggs and beef used in Nova Scotia are brought in from outside.

Why Has the High Cost of Living Kept Up?

Ordinarily when times are bad prices are low. However in the present serious period of depression the lot of the unemployed is rendered intolerable by the high price of everything he has to buy.

There are two reasons for the present high prices of manufactured goods.

1. THE SALES TAX, which King has increased from 3 to 6 per cent, raises the cost of practically everything the farmer and fisherman has to buy.

2. By arbitrarily lowering the freight rates in the West by Act of Parliament, King has obliged the railways to increase their charges in the East. The increased freight rates increase the price of the goods carried.

Why Has Not the Poor Man Been Relieved of War Taxes?

Because the King Government has aided the smugglers in cheating the country out of more than $35,000,000 annually.

Because to relieve the rich, the King Government has reduced the income tax and removed the excise tax on automobiles thus reducing the revenue by $25,000,000 annually.

THE REMEDY

1. STABLE PARTY GOVERNMENT. King has formed an alliance with the Progressives in the West which makes it impossible for him to win in dependency of their parliamentary support.

Hon. Mr. Carlin speaking in Quebec admitted that his party could not win without the support of "our old friends the Progressives."

Those who wish to see a return to responsible party government and to avoid another election must vote for Meighen.

2. LOWER FREIGHT RATES. Meighen will reduce the freight rates in Nova Scotia, if necessary by direct money grant.

3. TARIFF. Meighen will by the establishment of coal ovens in Montreal and Toronto and by increasing the duty on coal, cause a large part of the $100,000,000 now spent annually by central Canada on coal to be expended in mining coal in this province.

More coal mined in Nova Scotia means larger local markets for our farmers and fishermen and more coal royalty paid to the province. More provincial revenue means more money upon our roads.

Meighen will give our farmers and fishermen the same protection that United States farmers and fishermen now enjoy.

4. REMOVAL OF SALES TAX. By collecting the revenue now lost by smuggling, Meighen will be able to remove the Sales Tax and reduce the Cost of Living.

5. Meighen promises a scheme for enabling the fisherman and farmer, with government support, to market his products.

H. & S. W. TRAIN SERVICE

Through the unfortunate action of Dr. Lovett, the train service between Bridgetown and Port Wade has been lost and the service between New Germany and Middleton threatened.

The only remedy now lies in an appeal to the minister of Railways.

Under Meighen the Minister will be Mr. Black, the loyal Nova Scotian.

Under King it would be Mr. Dunning, the narrow westerner, who declared he was only entering federal politics to build the Hudson Bay Railway, and who spends his time in jeering at Nova Scotians.

To which would Annapolis County rather appeal?

Worth a Thousand Million to the People of Canada

The following statement made by Mr. Murray E. Williams, a prominent financial leader in Montreal, should wake up any Canadians who are not already awake. Mr. Williams is not a politician, and not a partisan. He is engaged in financial affairs and reaps his benefits from the prosperity of every line of business from planting potatoes to making steam engines.

This is what he has to say:

"I have voted Liberal more than I have voted Conservative, and therefore I feel that I can speak with an open mind. I honestly believe that if the Conservative party is elected with a working majority, Canada will have a boom, the like of which this country has never seen before. If not elected, we shall witness another period of tariff uncertainty and stagnation in many lines of industry and business. Surely the people of Canada are not so blind to their own interests, and the interests of their country, that they will reject prosperity and progress and again vote for slow suicide. Lord Atholstan put it in a few words when he said that a Conservative victory would mean a thousand million dollars to the people of Canada."

VOTE FOR SHORT AND CANADA'S GOOD NAME

ELECTION CARD

To the electors of Digby Annapolis:

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Having been nominated as the standard-bearer of the Liberal Party in the Election to be held Sept. 14th, I hereby place myself in your hands and solicit your suffrages. The issues of the campaign are clear-cut and definite.

The Liberal Party stand for lower tariff, cheaper living costs and wider markets. The Tory Party stands for increased protection, which means higher living costs and therefore restricted markets. Under the Liberal Government during the last four years, business has increased, and taxes diminished. We have seen the result of the Liberal Policy in the operation of the Canadian Government Railways, where an operating deficit of eleven million in 1921 was turned into an operating surplus of thirty two million in 1925, and this Railway, regarded as a liability in 1921, has become a most valuable asset. Under the same policy an adverse trade balance of over thirty million in 1921 was changed to a favourable trade balance of over four hundred million in 1925, placing Canada in the proud position of having the largest, favorable trade balance of any nation in the world. Such achievements as the foregoing have no parallel in the world's history. Do you want the good work to go on? If so honor me with your support on Sept. 14th, and I pledge myself to advance by every legitimate means the interests of the people whom I serve.

Sincerely Yours,
I. J. LOVETT

A leading Tory paper, "THE HALIFAX HERALD," of May 22, 1926 published the following:

"Our Representatives and the Budget Vote"

"The adoption of the Robb Budget was generally anticipated, but we confess to more or less disappointment in the fact that the majority was not larger. It, the Budget, was one which in many ways recommended itself to the people generally, for it was the first Budget given the people during the past years that brought anything like a measure of relief. And for that the people were devoutly thankful. It was therefore keenly disappointing to learn that the 11 gentlemen" (this includes Messrs Black and Quinn) "who had been sent to Ottawa from this province---the representatives known as Maritime Righters---had voted against the adoption of the budget and in doing so, expressed condemnation of its provisions. There was absolutely no justification for their pursuing the course they did. They were sent to Parliament, not as Conservatives to support a hide-bound Conservative policy, but to work for and if possible secure a measure of relief for the over-burdened tax payer. And if they are laboring under the delusion that they can do otherwise with impunity they are making the mistake of their lives. The electors, Grit and Tory, will deal with them in the proper place and at the proper time. Having voted against the budget and against the relief it affords the taxpayer solely as a political measure, they surely calculated on paying the price when they came back again to face their constituents.

Government Defeated

The Meighen Government, formed after the resignation of the King government in July of this year went down to defeat at the polls in the general election on Tuesday and McKenzie King, leader of the Liberal party will have the largest group in the new Parliament, sufficient with the support of Independents and Progressives to form a government and resume control of the government of the country. It is not unlikely that the Conservatives will follow the procedure adopted by Mr. King following the election in last October and endeavor to meet Parliament before resigning.

Six Ministers of the Meighen government were defeated and in Portage La Prairie Hon. Mr. Meighen was among the slain, being defeated by his former law partner, E. A. McPherson. Liberal. In Quebec four ministers went down, leaving only Sir George Perley. The standing in the Province of Quebec is 60 Liberals, four Conservatives and one Independent.

In the Maritime Provinces the Liberals made a net gain of three, with 3 representatives in Prince Edward Island, 4 in New Brunswick and 2 in Nova Scotia, Yarmouth and Kings-Hants. The Conservative representation in the Maritimes will number 20.

The standing in the next Parliament will give Mr. King 116 Liberal supporters and 11 elected as Liberal Progressives. With the support of these assured the new government should have sufficient majority to obviate the necessity of resorting to political expedients for support for its legislation. Detailed summary of the election gives the following:

Liberals	119
Conservatives	91
Progressives	8
Liberal-Progressives	11
U. F. A.	11
Labor	3
Independent	2

Total so far reported 245
In Doubt

The defeat of A. DeWitt Foster in Kings Hants was not unexpected, the Liberal organization in that constituency was in perfect order and local factors had much to do with the result. In Lunenburg, Queens, W. G. Ernst defeated Wm. Duff, sitting member by a majority of 895, transferring a Liberal majority of 373 in October of last year to Conservative gain.

In Yarmouth—Shelburne Paul Hatfield, Liberal, increased a majority of 352 in the last election to 1327. His opponent, Patterson ran his first election, the candidate last year being the late Mr. Spinney.

Short Was Elected!

Mr. Harry B. Short, Conservative, was re-elected representative for the constituency of Digby-Annapolis at the Federal Election on Tuesday with a majority of 374 over his opponent, Dr. L. J. Lovett, Bear River. The victory was a personal one with the influence of the Provincial government and the campaign for Maritime Rights being factors.

Shortly before nine o'clock in the evening the results of the voting were known and Mr. Short, who had been at home all day resting from a strenuous campaign, and so it turned out, a successful one, was sent for to address the throngs which gathered around the Conservative headquarters. In a brief speech he thanked the party workers who had given so much of their enthusiasm and time toward the success of the campaign and the voters who had honored him with a renewal of their confidence in his ability to work for the best that could be had for the province and the constituency. It was a victory for himself, one that he appreciated, but it was above all a victory of the men and women who had voted Conservative and up until the hour of closing the polls had worked for the success of the party. Cheers of appreciation followed the conclusion of the address and Mr. Short was surrounded by crowds eager to congratulate him personally on his success.

Consider Paper

It is nice to know that even the paper used in wrapping Moira Chocolates is analysed before being accepted, and bought on rigid specifications. For example, Canadian practice permits the use of coal tar dye to produce a blue paper. The United States laws won't permit it.

—Moira won't either. Their standards are even higher than the official ones.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1926.

The action of the Digby Town Council to keep faith with its associates on the Digby Power Board and decline to sell its franchise and plant to a private company is one that will meet with general approval. The legislation enacted to bring the Board into effect seems to be sufficiently comprehensive in scope to cover any situation which may arise, and apart from any question of advisability to develop new hydro projects it seems unwise to release to private ownership a franchise such as that held by the town of Digby. The present system of developing electrical energy from steam driven machinery is costly and rates for energy are high. This will not always be so. The hydro project under consideration at Sissiboo Falls is capable of developing far more than present prospects of consumption can require and the first thing the Power Board will have to do is find a market for its surplus. The market is capable of development.

Digby has suffered in times past from private ownership of its electric light service. The franchise now held was acquired as a means of obtaining relief from insufficient and inadequate service. To relinquish the franchise, even under such safe guarantees as are provided by the Board of Public Utilities, would at the price offered, be folly. The Digby plant is of little value, being only sufficient to serve as a reserve. The franchise, as operative under the Digby Power Board, is of great value, worth far more than has been offered for it.

All things considered, the action of the Council is one that should meet with general approval. A wise policy of sacrifice for present profit, with untold possibilities for trouble in the future could not be approved.

DIGBY COUNTY POWER BOARD

Tenders for Electrical Transmission Line

SEALED TENDERS will be received at the office of the Chairman of the Digby County Power Board, Digby, N.S., until 5 o'clock P.M. (Atlantic Standard Time) September 23rd, 1926, for the construction of an Electrical Transmission Line from the proposed generating station, at Upper Falls, on the Sissiboo River, Digby County, to the Village of Weymouth, and thence along the Main Highway, to Digby and Bear River Station.

Tenders must be made on the blank proposal forms furnished by the Board, and in accordance with the conditions contained therein. Specifications, Drawings, Forms of Contract, and other information may be obtained on application at the office of the Chairman of the Board, Digby, N.S., and at the office of J. L. Allen, Engineer of the Board, 10 Portland Street, Dartmouth, N.S.

Tenders for Transmission Line Called for by Board

First Step Toward Fulfillment of Plan for Hydro Development at Sissiboo Taken and Will Continue

With the calling for tenders by the Digby County Power Board for the construction of a main transmission line from a proposed hydro generating station at Upper Falls, Sissiboo River, to the village of Weymouth and thence along the main highway to Bear River, the first practical step toward the construction of a plan to provide hydro electric energy for power and lighting to the lower half of Digby County has been taken. Tenders will be opened on Sept. 23 and construction begun as soon as possible as a contract can be drawn up and materials assembled.

The Digby County Power Board was incorporated in March, 1926, as operating authority of the Town of Digby, the Municipality of Digby and the Village of Weymouth, under provisions of the Village Supply Act, to develop and supply at central switchboards for distribution by the parties to the agreement, electric energy from Sissiboo or such other source as they see fit. The plan was made in the Act of Incorporation for the inclusion of the Municipality of Digby under like conditions. Each of the parties to the agreement is represented by one member on the Board, that of Digby being Mayor Anderson, of the Municipality of Digby, and that of the Village of Weymouth Mr. Louis Lang, J. Lorne Allen, of Halifax is engineer of the Board. The function of the Board is to install and operate a central generating station, supplying high voltage current at switchboards at convenient localities for distribution. Each of the parties to the agreement is authorized under the act to provide for expenditures on capital account for the purpose of installing equipment for distributing. The Board is empowered to issue on joint security of the parties thereto public utility securities to the extent of $75,000 for installation and erection of main transmission lines.

A contract has been entered into with the Sissiboo Pulp Co., for continual rental of the upper dam and site of the pulp mill power house at Upper Falls. The foundation for turbines is in house for accommodation of resident engineers and staff already erected and the dam all set to connect up to a new flume. With part of the construction already provided the cost of turbines and generators will be in the vicinity of $20,000. Transmission lines will require another $30,000 leaving a balance for extensions and future development. The proposals have been investigated by engineers called into consultation by the board and ample flow of water for the purpose is assured without recourse to storage waters for which a storage dam will be erected on Mistake Lake, with an area of five thousand acres, to increase the head on this lake five feet to provide against possible contingencies.

Consumption of electric energy in the town of Digby during the past year was 70,000 kilowatts, at a 20 cent rate on peak time service. It is expected that this consumption will be doubled in the first year of hydro. The consumption for Weymouth is estimated at 40,000 kilowatts and another 40,000 for the remainder of the municipality. A surplus of 300,000 kilowatts will be available for extension of the service, sufficient to supply all requirements.

ments of municipalities of Digby and Digby and that section of Annapolis-up as far as Lawrencetown, excepting Bear River which is supplied by the Digby plant of the Bear River Pulp Co., and Annapolis which now has hydro. The surveys made of the potential market are very encouraging assuring sufficient demand to secure reasonable rates for domestic and power users.

During the past two months proposals of the Maritime Electric Company, operating at Bridgetown, have been made for the purchase of the town of Digby plant and franchise. The proposals of the company were attractive, including almost double the capital investment of the town for electric light equipment and containing tentative proposals for a maximum rate of twelve cents per unit for domestic lighting service and proportionately lower rates for power users. The company also proposed to deliver electricity at some point within the district covered by the franchise of the town, for distribution through the municipality, either to the Digby County Power Board or direct to the Municipality.

At the last meeting of the Town Council the recommendation of its electric light committee not to accept the offer of the company was adopted without division. Getting the plans of the Power Board under way immediately followed.

The present electric service of the town of Digby is a steam generated plant, a civic ownership. It is operated under contract, the contractor, H. L. Warren, supplying energy at the main switchboard for distribution at a fixed monthly sum. The boilers are fired with by products of the contractor's saw mill and wood working factory. Some years ago the town undertook the operation of the plant as well as distribution, using coal, but this was found to be more costly than the present arrangement. Partial service only is given; from sundown till one o'clock all the year round with a six to eight weeks period of all night service in the tourist season. Because of the inconvenience of this partial service there are many private lighting plants which will be discarded when hydro is ready for service.

Weymouth Girl Graduates at Waltham Hospital

With the Florence Nightingale Pledge, "Love and Service," as a basis for their future service and class motto, the Sept. class of 1926 of the Waltham Training School for Nurses were awarded diplomas at their commencement exercises at the school, which were held at the school, Sept. 2nd, at 8 o'clock. The school was filled to capacity with relatives and friends of the eight young ladies, Vivian Falkman, Forest Hills, Mass.; Alice McDewett, Waltham, Mass.; Mabel Patch, Arlington, Mass.; Gertrude Lyne, Waverly, Mass.; Ethel Grant, Weymouth, Nova Scotia; Elizabeth Ritchie, Halifax, Nova Scotia; Mildred Kennealy, Watertown, Mass.; Mabel Petre, Watertown, Mass.

Dr. Conrad Bell, speaker of the evening, gave an inspirational and encouraging address.

Rev. Charles McClean, pastor of Beth Eden Church, offered prayers. The school was decorated with flowers in blue and gold, the class colors, while in a setting of evergreen the class motto was written in gold letters on a shield of blue.

The eight young ladies received many flowers.

Dr. C. B. Fuller presided. The exercises opened by prayer, followed by class song after which Dr. C. B. Fuller gave an address based on the motto: Diplomas were awarded, the Florence Nightingale Pledge was taken by the graduates, then the singing of "America the Beautiful," the benediction was pronounced. Congratulations were extended to the girls.

Pines Hotel Had Good Year

The Dominion Atlantic Railway service summer hotel at Digby, "The Pines," operated under the management of O. C. Jones, closed on Monday after a most successful season, which began on June 25th. Up to the first of September the Pines has been operating at capacity, with rooms and adjoining cottages booked to the limit. The usual first of September slackening off was not so pronounced this year and the season had to be extended an additional week.

The outlook for next season is more than gratifying. All of the cottages have been booked for the full season of 1927 and reservations of rooms by annual visitors indicate the popularity of the hotel as a summer vacation headquarters and that of Digby as a summer resort.

Plans for enlarging and improving the hotel are being considered by the hotels department of the railway and these include provision for a programme of development covering a period of years, based upon annual increase in tourist business and necessity, from a view point of service to guests, of more nearly fire-proofed buildings.

Throughout the season dances have been held in the Pines Casino four evenings weekly and these were most popular, being attended not only by guests at the hotel itself but by townspeople and visitors residing at all of the other summer resort houses.

This year Sunday evening, "Community Singing" were instituted, being held in the Casino, and were most popular.

The advertising campaign conducted by the New England and Atlantic States newspapers by the Dominion Atlantic service has been the means of attracting larger numbers of visitors to Digby yearly and all the summer hotels report capacity business during the months of July and August. Caterers to tourist requirements for pleasure and service have shared in general with the hotels, dealers in novelties, antiques and such like, fishermen and motor boat owners all reporting a successful season.

Weddings

SULLIVAN-CLEVELAND

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Tuesday evening in the Baptist Church on Bear River, when Pearl Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sullivan, became the bride of Rev. Philip J. Cleveland, of Beverly, Mass.

The church was beautifully decorated by the friends of the bride with quantities of cut flowers in white vases of gold and silver and golden rod predominated. The bride, charmingly gowned in white crepe-de-chine, with pearl trimmings worn with the conventional veil caught with orange blossoms and carrying a bridal bouquet of sweet peas and maidenhair fern, looked the personification of girlish grace as she entered the church on the arm of her father at seven o'clock. The bride was attended by her two sisters, Miss Melda Sullivan, wearing a gown of peach crepe-de-chine, and Miss Winifred Sullivan, gowned in salmon pink crepe, and little Miss Geraldine Curry as flower girl, very daintily gowned and carrying a basket of sweet peas.

The groom was attended by Allen R. Hittle, of Norfolk Downs, Mass. The ushers were Miss Jeanie Peck in a gown of grey crepe-de-chine and, Miss Kathleen Henderson wearing sand colored, flowered crepe-de-chine.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. J. Barry in the presence of a large number of invited guests, the wedding march being played by Miss Harriet Marshall, organist of the church.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Sullivan, mother of the bride, becomingly attired in black satin received with the bridal couple, and delicious refreshments were served to the assembled guests. Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Hittle, Cambridge, N. S. and Mrs. Perry, Freeport.

Among the numerous and beautiful gifts was a purse of forty dollars in gold presented by the church in recognition of the bride's services in the choir.

The groom was formerly the pastor of the Advent Church in Bear River and is at present pastor of a church in Corey, Penn.

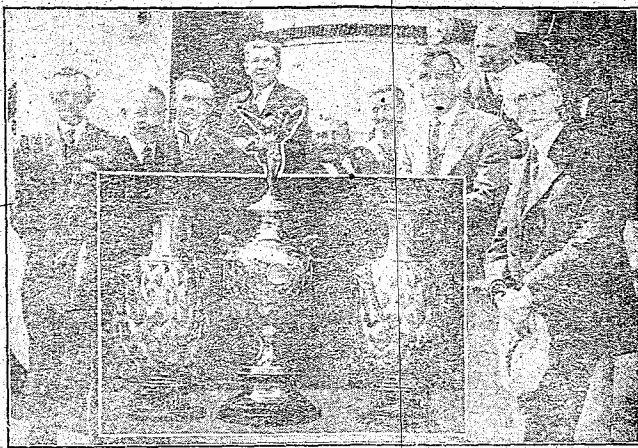

The bride's traveling dress was of navy blue, worn with gray coat and hat. After spending their honeymoon in Beverly, Mass., the happy couple will make their home in Corey, Penn.

Victorious Again!

This picture shows the famous Kolapore Cup, and in the centre, the Canadian-Smith trophy, all of which were brought back to Canada by the victorious Canadian Biathlon Team, on the Canadian liner Algonquin. Many of the members are shown grouped around the trophies on the right in Major C. B. Crowe, Commandant; and on the left, Major R. O. Wheatley, M.C., Adjutant of the Team. Cash prizes won by the team amounted to $2,000. Against a very large number of contestants composed of the Empire's best crack shots, the Canadians certainly more than upheld the prestige the Dominion enjoys for the encouragement of rifle shooting.

OBITUARY

JULIAN GAUDET

The village of Weymouth was saddened on Wednesday last when the report reached here from Yarmouth that Julian Gaudet, only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Gaudet, had passed away. Stricken on Monday his illness failed to respond to the best efforts of the attending physician and nurse, and on Wednesday morning he was taken to Yarmouth to the Clinic Infirmary. Shortly after his arrival his condition grew rapidly worse and in spite of everything possible that was done to relieve him, he passed peacefully away at 4 o'clock. His brief illness was born with perfect resignation to God's Holy Will and with Christian fortitude and he departed this life fortified with the Sacraments of his religion. The young boy, who was only fifteen years of age, was on the verge of leaving for St. Francis Xavier's College to further his studies, having this year successfully passed the Provincial Grade X exam. His passing under such tragic and sad circumstances makes his parents' grief doubly hard to bear. His taking away from them at his tender, is a heavy blow to his fond parents and an irreparable loss to them. In their sad bereavement the parents have the sympathy of the entire community and the great consolation of the knowledge that their dear departed embodied all the characteristics of a model boy loving, obedient, true, honest and trustworthy. He was an example for others in the words of his pastor "Influence itself" on every side were heard words of praise, words of respect, mingled with expressions of sorrow at his passing. The body was brought home from Yarmouth Wednesday evening and until the day of the funeral was viewed by a throng of people, not only from the community in which he lived but from other places where he was as familiarly known and loved as in his home place. On Saturday the funeral was held from the home of his parents to St. Joseph's Church, the body being carried from his late residence to the church by the pallbearers, with the Cross bearer leading, followed by the altar boys, of whom the deceased was one, and Rev. Fr. Louis LeBlanc, the funeral procession moved at the church and chanting the Miserere marched to the church where a solemn Requiem High Mass was celebrated by the pastor of the church, Rev. P. C. Thibault, assisted by Rev. Louis LeBlanc as deacon and Rev. Adolphe LeBlanc as subdeacon. The church was filled by people who by their presence paid respect and honor to one who in life they loved so well. Special music was rendered and continues on page 4.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Vynch's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

Well-known druggists say everybody uses Vynch's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it cures so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so simple. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

Salts Fine for Aching Kidneys

When Back, Urts Flush Your Kidneys and You Clean Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the lungs, stomach and gut, get clogged and need a flushing occasionally. We have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel in ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean. A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By all means have any physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Although only three years old the Oliver Grain Elevator of British Columbia has already become noted for its production of very fine cantaloupes. This year the production is expected to be about 25 to 26 carloads.

The 1,250,000-bushel Government Terminal grain elevator being built at Prince Rupert, B.C., will be completed by November 1st, when a test shipment of ten carloads of grain will be made through it.

Notification has been received by R. M. Palmer, S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, that his showing of white Wyandottes at the New York State Fair at Syracuse, has captured the trophy for the best display for the twentieth consecutive year.

By a recent Order-in-Council of the Lieutenant-Governor, premiums for clearing land, which had previously been set at $8 an acre, were increased to $8. The Order also provides that the premium will be paid for a maximum of twenty acres of land, and as a result of it, a settler may obtain a grant of $160 from the Government as a reward for his work.

Considerable progress has been made during the past few years by R. M. Palmer, S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, in the cultivation and propagation of new species of gladioli. In his garden, Mr. Palmer has at present growing about 150 different varieties, bulbs having been secured from all parts of the world, even Central Africa contributing its quota to this wonderful collection.

Having completed their tour of Canada as the guests of E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the ten British journalists left Canada early in October for England, to relate the story of their experiences and to give their readers the impressions they have gained of the Dominion.

Since the opening of navigation 767 ocean-going vessels, representing 3,468,968 net tons, have entered the port, are compared with only 649, representing 2,280,672 net tons last year; these figures being up to the midnight of September 5th.

F. F. Norcross, a well-known Chicago lawyer, had an amazing experience recently while staying at the Banff Springs Hotel and playing on the golf course there. His approach to the ninth hole was disrupted by a huge bull elk which tossed its antlers and started pawing the ground with evident hostility at the lawyer prepared to play his ball. Mr. Norcross was about to observe the better part of valor when the bull's attention was distracted by the appearance of a cow elk which made an effective substitute for the golfer and both animals disappeared into the neighboring bush.

Travelling in a five-passenger 1926 improved model Ford touring car from Halifax to Vancouver, J. L. S. Scrymgeour and E. Pickering are performing a feat. In the annals of motor travel in this country, from France, near Saint Ste. Marie, they travelled on the tracks of the Algoma Railroad to Fort William, having been granted the use of the lines by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The whole run of about 4,500 miles took nearly eight weeks and a series of still and moving pictures were taken en route to commemorate the adventure.

The First Theatre in North America

Arched entrance to Old Fort. Inset—Cairn on site of first French Fort commemorating the birthplace of Canadian Drama.

To commemorate the first theatrical performance on the North American continent, a simple stone cairn and tablet has been placed on the site of the first French Fort at Annapolis Royal, Nova Scotia, the birthplace of Canadian literature and Drama.

Here the first American play was written and acted 320 years ago. Although it was unlike the kind of dramatic performances one sees today from comfortable orchestra stalls, it was from all historical accounts, a "pretty good show." It was called "Neptune's Theatre" and was staged on the waters of Annapolis Basin, the actors performing on a movable and precarious stage of canoes, and the actors themselves, men of opposite extremes in social and intellectual condition, some gentlemen of France, and others aboriginals of Nova Scotia.

The author of this unique production was Marc Lescarbot, a French lawyer and poet, who came with Poutinacourt to Port Royal in 1608. During his first winter he was in charge of the Fort during the absence of Poutinacourt on an exploration expedition. If Lescarbot must be credited with the distinction of being the author and producer of the first North American play, he is also responsible for inaugurating a short hours day for his men and the first experimental farm in the country. Moreover he was one of the most prominent members of the "Order of Good Cheer," an epicurean organization established by Champlain for the purpose of setting a record in the variety and excellence of food, which members washed down with a plentiful supply of rare old wines.

Lescarbot was as particular in "throwing" a good party. To add a still further "touch of gaiety," as Lescarbot put it, to the return of Poutinacourt from his voyage of discovery, Lescarbot composed an original masque called "Neptune Theatre," which was enacted in the presence of Poutinacourt aboard ship. After it was over the merry company went ashore, entered the "habitation" and home of the "Order" and the banquet began. Later Lescarbot returned to France and wrote the "Histoire de Nouvelle France," and the Old Fort fell into the hands of the British.

It is the most peaceful spot in the world now. A beautiful bronze tablet, bearing the arms of France at Annapolis Royal, above the inscription:

"Site of the first fort or 'Habitation' of Port Royal, built by the French under De Monts and Champlain, 1608. Attacked and partially destroyed by a British force from Virginia, 1613. Reoccupied and occupied by Scottish Colonists, 1629. Laid waste on their retirement from the country, 1632. Home of the 'Order of Good Cheer,' Birthplace of Canadian Literature and Drama."

With a simple ceremony the tablet was unveiled recently by the Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia before members of the Historic Monuments and Sites Board of Canada, who were responsible for its erection, and prominent architects from all over the Dominion. It is just one more interesting landmark at Annapolis Royal, surely the most romantic centre of Nova Scotia on the Dominion Atlantic Railway with its park and museum, and beloved of travellers.

Unofficial estimates prepared by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics of Commerce, Washington, estimated that Americans visiting Canada this year would spend approximately $100,000,000. Beausvais states that, while wolves have endurance, they have not the "heart" of a huskie dog.

Two world's swimming records were established at the Crystal Gardens swimming pool at Victoria recently, when Ethel McGarry of New York, swam 880 yards in 12 minutes and 41 seconds, or nine seconds better than the previous woman's record for this event. ### USE SULPHUR TO HEAL YOUR SKIN

Broken Out Skin and Itching
Eczema Helped Over Night

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment. Declare a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Mentho-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Mentho-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up.

Get a small jar of Bowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

AN INTERNAL BATH DAILY RECOMMENDED

A prominent physician made the remark recently that if people were half as particular in regard to internal cleanliness as they are about external appearance, the quarters of our ordinary ailments would be eliminated. This medical man said people did not stop to think of the importance of keeping the system just as clean as one is careful to keep hands, face and body. The result is that the intestinal tract becomes clogged and waste material which should leave the body daily stays there for an indefinite period doing harm few people realize. So many ills are traceable to this clogging poison! An internal bath sounds novel, but it is much easier to take than any other kind! A spoonful of Sal-Lithol before breakfast (or any other meal), dissolved in a glass of tepid water acts as a gentle cleanser of the bowels—provides a soothing internal bath that rids the body of dangerous toxic poisons and gives one that feeling of freshness, vigor and well-being. A further advantage of the internal bath lies in the fact that a healthy body ensures an alert and active mind which affords greater efficiency and happiness in one's daily work.

STOMACH TROUBLES THAT ARE DANGEROUS

(Cut This Out)

Some forms of stomach trouble, if neglected, often lead to dangerous conditions—ulcers or cancers—then, a surgical operation is the only hope. For this reason, even the most simple stomach ailments should be given prompt and careful attention. So, don't neglect acid stomach, sourness, gas or bloating! And don't waste time with unknown or unreliable treatments. At the very first signs of distress, go to any good drug store and obtain a few cents' worth of pure Bismarck Magnesia. This special Magnesia Compound is safe and pleasant to take—quickly, almost instantly, effective and does not act as a laxative. Be sure and ask for BISMARCK Magnesia for stomach troubles only.

"Then, I Learned How to Shave."

"I had developed the habit, like lots of fellows, of shaving year after year with the same old 'safety'."

"I was out camping with a chap who used a Valet AutoStrop Razor and was very enthusiastic. 'Just try it,' he urged."

"Results! What a difference! It is all in the stropping, I learned."

"I'll never go back to the ordinary 'safety' because I'll never be content with the blade giving only a few shaves, the blade getting duller with every shave. Believe me, those two weeks convinced me that I had been in a rut as far as shaving is concerned."

This is the experience of many men. Maybe you are in a habit rut. Have you tried the Valet AutoStrop Razor which automatically sharpens its blades without removal—cleans too, without removal?

Why keep to old-fashioned ways? Just try a Valet AutoStrop Razor. Note its superiority.

Indigestion and Bilious Spells

Mrs. Kempton Crocker, Hantsport, Binghamville, Kings Co., N.S., writes: "My husband suffered from kidney and liver ailments and lame back for two years. Nothing seemed to help him. We read in Dr. Chase's Almanac of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and he tried them. By the time he had taken two boxes he was quite well again."

PERHAPS it has never occurred to you that your troubles from indigestion are really caused by torpid liver action and consequent constipation of the bowels. Bismarck tablets and lotions sometimes afford temporary relief, but they do not get at the cause.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills positively remove the cause of trouble by their direct and combined action on the liver, kidneys and bowels. A single box will convince you of their efficiency.
