The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles across land from the head of St. Mary's Bay. This laid out from the water's edge, partly on level ground and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in where it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth of that name. It was settled by Loyalists from New York in 1763, the most of whom went early to farms, or, moving to other countries, left the whole

There was a taste of trying to sell job printing outside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried it, made several calls around town, spent most of the time at one particular (small) town, spent much time and got an order, but...

The first wireless telegraph coastal run in the world was made by the U. S. S. Albatross. The equipment was installed on her trip to the Hawaiian Islands in December 1890. The new light house on the island of Hawaii was put into service on January 15, 1914. The lighthouse was built by the U. S. Navy and is one of the most beautiful in the world.

Loss of the schooner "W. Coombs" is a tragedy. The schooner, of Jamaica, was wrecked on the ship struck the rocks in Cuba Bay some 10 miles from the shore, and was carrying a cargo of iron. All the crew were rescued, but the vessel was shipped. The schooner was estimated at $10,000.

Fishery Officer G.E. Torrie Retired On Superannuation

Mr. G. E. Torrie, Fishery Officer for Digby County, has been retired on superannuation, dating from June 30th. Mr. Torrie entered the service on February 12, 1912. "Reorganization of the Department" is given as the reason for Mr. Torrie's retirement, which comes several years before he would naturally be retired because of reaching the age limit. The Courier has not learned what the proposed changes are to be or who is to be appointed to succeed Mr. Torrie.

When he entered the service Digby County was famous as a district where breaches of the fishing regulations were rife, and the first few years of Mr. Torrie's duty as Fishery Officer were devoted to impressing on the fishermen the need for their own benefit, of complying with the regulations as to close seasons and conditions of catching fish. So successful has he been that on several occasions he has been sent to other districts to straighten out difficulties which arose over one matter or another and in an official capacity has visited practically every fisheries district in the province.

His retirement at this time, when changes in the regulations and closer inspection of fish catches is being inaugurated, will be a matter of real regret for all the fishermen and fish packers whom his duties brought him in contact with. In times past as new regulations were issued Mr. Torrie took his duty to mean the explanation of them to the fishermen and his advice and assistance at such times have always won for him and his department the support of the fishing interests. Particularly in relation to the regulations respecting the season and catch of lobsters in the Bay of Fundy district, Mr. Torrie has made an intensive study and his recommendation in that regard, and in regard to the scallop industry, which latter he was instrumental in having exploited for the benefit of the fishermen has always been approved by the fishermen and at most times adopted by the department.

Mr. Arch Thurber of the Frank E. Davis Fisheries, Freeport, in conversation with the Courier voiced what we believe is the opinion of all who came in contact with Mr. Torrie in his capacity as Fisheries Officer. Mr. Thurber expressed a sincere regret that Mr. Torrie is leaving the service and "doubted that whoever succeeds him will be his equal as an efficient, courteous and obliging officer, who never let personal friendships or dislikes affect his duties and who was at all times ready and willing to assist in any way in which it was possible."

The first intimation Mr. Torrie had of his retirement was when on July 1st he received the official notice of his having been retired from June 30th.

Visiting From Halifax

Mr. B. B. Archibald, Inspector in the Canadian National Railways Dining and Sleeping Department, Halifax, with Mrs. Archibald and their son, Mr. Laurie Archibald, motored from Halifax last Saturday to spend the Dominion Day with Mr. and Mrs. Archibald's aunt, Miss E. A. MacKenzie and his sister, Mrs. Robert C. Mills.

Enroute to Digby they were guests for supper of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, Lawrencetown.

This was their first trip to Digby and they were delighted. Motor trips to Bear River, to Bay View where through the courtesy of Major M. C. Denton they visited the new summer home Mr. Denton is finishing for Messrs Reiger and Rider of Philadelphia and along the Shore Road to Bishop Cook's cottage, under construction; gave them a fair idea of the attractions Digby has for tourists, and made their visit an enjoyable one.

Scouts Are Back From Camp

The scout camp at Porter's Lake is over for another year. The boys got back this week after ten days glorious outing, and are fine, brown and fat on camp cooking. The camp this year was under direction of Dr. Tobin, who was popular with the boys and they are all wondering if he will take them again another year.

Twenty boys attended the camp all but one learned to swim and all had daily exercises, hikes, ball games, and so on. A feature of the camp was the formation of an "Indian Tribe," in which all the boys were initiated.

On Dominion Day the camp was visited by Scoutmaster and Mrs. Wright and on that day and on Sunday many friends called to see how the boys were getting on and to deliver contributions of fruit and candy, which were very acceptable and for which the boys have asked the Courier to extend their thanks.

King's Scout Earl Anderson was one of those attending the camp. Earl leaves on Sunday for Montreal where after a week's intensive training with other scouts on their way to the Big Jamboree, he will sail for England as Digby's representative on the Canadian Scout Troop.

Grace Church Missionary Society Held Picnic Meeting

The annual picnic meeting of the Missionary Society of Grace United Church was held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Campbell, Mount Pleasant. There was a fair attendance. The business meeting was held at three o'clock, and was followed by a picnic supper on the lawn, at which the members were treated to real old fashioned home made ice cream, made by Miss Campbell and accompanied by cakes, sandwiches and cookies brought by those attending. The afternoon was perfect after the rain and a most successful and enjoyable time was spent.

Four hundred thousand babies have been born at Banff during the past fortnight. It is not the fine mountain air that accounts for this phenomenon, but the mountain water, and the babies are rainbow trout from the Dominion Government Fish hatchery on the banks of the Bow River. They will be placed in the lakes and streams of the Rocky Mountain Parks.

Canadian Pacific Railway Police, Ontario No. 1 team, are champion revolver shots of the Dominion. After winning the Chief Constables Association Trophy in May, the team shot against the Lethbridge detachment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police which had won the championship for Military forces, and defeated them 1412 against 1370. Possible score was 1500. The victorious team is composed of Investigator E. O'Brien, Sudbury; and Constables H. H. Gyves, Port McNicoll; J. H. MacDonald, Toronto; D. Prendergast, Sudbury, and W. E. Tugman, White River, Ont.

With a population that ranks 28th among the countries of the world, Canada is fifth in total exports and third in total turnover of trade.

Charles Olsen and Raffaele Matullari, rival round-the-world racers, are trying to make a trip circling the globe in less than 30 days using only "regular means of transportation." Olsen left Victoria on Canadian Pacific greyhound Empress of Asia, June 15, and Matullari arrived at Vancouver on the Empress of France June 22. Airplanes came within the term of the contract since both men have already used them. The race at time of writing is very close.

A problem that has defeated the learned for centuries—the squaring of the circle—has apparently been solved by L. W. Hartman, Canadian Pacific Railway timekeeper at London, Ont. Hartman claims he devised a geometric method by which to reproduce the exact area of a circle in the shape of a square. University professors are now examining his solution. He was born in Rumania and never saw a college, but speaks English, French, German and Rumanian fluently.

Adelard Goulet, head barber of the Banff Springs Hotel, had what he regards as a close shave on other day when he was off duty. He topped his drive and the bear bent a hasty retreat. Wild animals are very tame in this district this year.

Of the 2,750,000 acres taken up by settlers in Canada in 1928 eighty per cent. was in such northerly districts as Prince Rupert, Saskatchewan, and the Peace River district, Alberta. The migration northward was most pronounced in the Peace River region, where 1,000 homesteads were taken up last year. In this district, there are still available 10,000,000 acres of fertile land, capable of adding millions of dollars to the annual value of the Dominion's crops.

Musical bath charms to soothe the savage breast, and jazz has now exerted its well-known effect on animals, since the deer at Banff have been listening to the dance strains from the orchestra at the Banff Springs Hotel. Three mule deer were seen the other night listening with astonished ears to the symphony within. Both deer and elk are unusually tame this season and guests are going hunting with cameras in lieu of firearms.

Aviation is coming into its own in Canada and Canadians are becoming thoroughly air-minded. Three airports were opened early in June at Ottawa, Kingston, and Hamilton, at which a great assembly of airplanes took place and large crowds witnessed the proceedings. Many took advantage of the opportunity to send mail and parcels by air express during these functions and the Canadian Pacific Express Company used the planes to advantage.

Richard Barthelmess, moving picture star, accompanied by his bride, made a three-day honeymoon stay at Banff Springs Hotel early in June. He says he will be back in the Fall to get some big game hunting in the Canadian Rockies.

Dock dues on parcels from Cherbourg are now lifted under an order from the French Government and there will be consequently a great increase in despatch of these parcels from France to Canada, according to word recently received by the Canadian Pacific Express Company. Prior to this, parcels from France had to be shipped from Southampton causing a loss of a couple of days' time in reaching Canada.

Spotless Power Plant Burns Maritime Coal

The pictures show: No. 1, a view of the power plant showing ash and coal storage bins at left; No. 2, unit coal pulverizers with instrument board which indicates coal consumption, water consumption and pressure; No. 3, lower floor level showing header of water cooled wall and ash conveyor duct. When this photograph was taken the plant was in use, the indicator indicates the cleanliness of the method of using coal; No. 4, is a close up showing ash doors and air cooled panels; No. 5, shows the complete power plant.

DESIGNED specially to burn Sydney slack, the new power house of the Canadian National Railways at Montreal is the last work in plants of this character in the Dominion. The plant forms one of the units of the new shops being built at Point St. Charles. The locomotive shop has already been built and will be soon in operation and car shops are to follow. Some of the original shops which are being replaced date back to the late 50's.

The Power Plant is constructed of red brick with reinforced concrete foundations. The floors in the entire plant are constructed above ground level, the firing floor and engine room floor being 14 feet above ground level. The coal is taken in through a coal hopper, cars being placed on this coal hopper outside the Power House, and dropped down through the coal crusher;

this is only used when using lump coal. As a general rule Sydney slack coal is used, the coal then passed by a reciprocating feeder through a magnetic separator and is elevated to the coal bunker which is 55 ft. above ground level, and has a capacity of 500 tons of coal, which is fed by gravity from the coal hopper, passing through weighing scales which dump 200 lbs. at each operation. The coal passes from the scales by gravity down into the pulverizers, passing through the pulverizers to the boilers. Each boiler is equipped with two motor driven pulverizing machines and two burners to each pulverizer. This makes it possible for the plant to be operated from 60% of rating to 360% of rating. The ash is taken out from the bottom of the furnace which is located on the

Closing Exercises of Deep Brook School

The closing exercises of the public school was held on Thursday June 20th, after a very successful year work done by the teacher Mr. Garnet Wright. A good number of parents were present to enjoy the exercises in which all pupils did well. The sum of $2.00 was offered for prizes. The program consisted of readings, prize essays and a debate. "Resolved that the horse is more valuable to the country than the automobile." Walter Clayborne was the leader for the affirmative. He presented his points in a very strong and humorous way, with his ready wit he kept the audience in laughter. Robert Spurr led the negative and brought forth strong points in favor of auto trucks for business purposes and cars for pleasure.

The affirmative side were the winners. Bernice Purdy led the school. Jean Benson was awarded prize for the best all around student. Lillian Burrell for the greatest improvement during the last quarter. Freda Adams for neatness in all her work. Summer Home

give a most charming bell effect to conform with the pagoda belled roof.

The hardware used in construction of the building is a noteworthy feature. Mr. Denton selected for this a type of forged iron, of a style similar to that which was probably manufactured by the old French and English settlers for their homes in the early days. Door knobs, hinges and all such are all of this type and set off the building immensely.

There must have been thousands of stones used in the construction of the building. To begin with the front verandahs are solid stone, to a height of about four feet. Flag walks lead from every entrance and the walls and five fireplace chimneys are also built of stone. All were gathered from fields and brook beds nearby and the collecting of them occupied a long period of time. Over each fireplace is a single slab of stone as a mantel, in the bedrooms as in the living room.

The logs were cut a year ago, from the lands of E. Hart Hayden. They were peeled as cut and permitted to dry out well before being hauled to the site of construction.

The lime, cement and sawn lumber used were supplied by H. T. Warne, Digby. The mill work was done by A. Walker & Son, Middleton; the inside kiln dried lumber supplied by J. H. Hicks and Son, Bridgetown; the Bird's Massive Shingles for the roofs came from T. P. Calkin, Kentville and the forged hardware, manufactured in the United States was secured through W. H. Thorne and Company, Saint John.

W. L. Holdsworth, Digby supplied and installed the plumbing, and the artesian well was bored by A. V. Kenney, Bridgetown.

Messrs Reiger and Rider were expected to arrive in Digby this week to take over the keys of the house, and we know that they will compliment Major Denton on the excellent job he has done. From the stone pillars of the gateway to the spare batten doors for closing up the house in winter, everything is in good taste, a true interpretation of the architect's idea, and the whole is blended into a beautiful building.

An indication of how tasteful the job is done is seen in the pile of slabs stored away for the construction of a garage when one is required. A plain board garage would strike a jarring note so Maj. Denton got out enough logs to give slabs to match the cottage for the outside of the garage when it is built.

This magnificent cottage, with a number of smaller ones which are being erected in that section are transforming Bay View into a little principality of summer homes, and when the hydro lines extend to give service along the Shore Road and the Highways Board gets the roadway rebuilt, this will be one of the most populous summer sections of the County.

New Steamers Will Help Digby's Trade

Coinciding with the Canadian Pacific Railway giving a contract in Scotland for the building of the new liner for the Bay of Fundy service between Saint John and Digby, comes an announcement from New York that the Eastern Steamship Company contemplates ordering three new steamers, for which plans are now under way in the offices of Theodore E. Ferris, naval architect, of New York, who designed the company's steamers Evangelina and Yarmouth.

According to the New York announcement, two of the steamers will be of comparatively large size, having a speed of nineteen knots, while the third will be of smaller dimensions. The two larger boats will be used in the summer on the route from Boston to Saint John and would make close connections with the new C.P.R. boat to Digby.

At a meeting of the Executive of the Annapolis Presbytery held recently in Middleton a motion was unanimously adopted "that we place ourselves on record as being strongly opposed to the Government Control of the liquor traffic and urge the women in this Presbytery to do all in their power to further the interests of the Nova Scotia Temperance Act."

CATTLE RUSTLERS FOILED

A bold attempt at cattle rustling—a pastime usually confined to the southern and western states—was frustrated Wednesday afternoon at Smith's Cove. During the afternoon Herbert Woodman started for the pasture to get his oxen for hauling hay. As he neared the place he saw someone driving in cattle away—a man of medium size wearing a khaki shirt. He was too far away to tell whether the man was young or old. When he saw he had been discovered the man made for the woods and disappeared. He probably had a companion as when he left the cattle he whistled, no doubt to signal the other. It would be a wise plan for people who have cattle in the pasture to check up on them.

The first shipment of gold from the King Fissure Mine, Queen's County, was made last week. The yellow matter was turned in to the Royal Bank of Canada at Liverpool, to be forwarded to the Royal Mint at Ottawa. The fact that the mine has definitely gone into production, has aroused much interest, and is particularly gratifying to the Directors of the United Goldfields of Nova Scotia Limited, who are operating the mine.

A convention of the funeral directors of the district of Annapolis and Digby counties, was held at Middleton on Monday. Stanley A. Keen, of Digby, was presiding officer.

Power Board Acquires Property

A deal of far-reaching importance to the county of Digby, involving the sum of $50,000 and the transfer of lands, water and machinery, was brought to a close last week when the Digby County Power Board accepted the offer of the Sissiboo Clyde Pulp and Paper Company for the purchase of the same. The Power Board had been negotiating for several months with various interests in connection with securing the water rights on the Sissiboo River and have now acquired not only the rights but sole ownership of dams, turbines, pen stock, dam site, riparian rights and lands necessary for development of power.

Weddings

WATSON—WESTHAVER

A wedding of interest to their many friends took place at Digby on July 2, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Westhaver, Queen street, when their daughter, Amy Kathleen, was united in marriage to David Watson, of Portsmouth, N. S. The bride entered the room on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She was dressed in greenorgette and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Rev. E. W. Forbes, pastor of Grace United Church officiated. Miss Viola Collins violinist, accompanied by Mrs. F. K. Hayden on the piano, rendered the wedding march. A dainty luncheon was served following the ceremony. A few hours later the happy couple left on a motor tour of Nova Scotia. The bride is very popular in Digby and has spent some time in the United States, where the groom is a drugist in the Portsmouth Naval Hospital. They will reside in Portsmouth.

The Talkies Come to Town

Few patrons of the Bijou Dream Theatre who enjoyed the "Talking Pictures" in programs on Friday, Saturday and Monday nights realized how nearly equipped for the presentation of Talkies Manager Walker has made his theatre.

The mechanic operator who travelled with the company presenting the talkie programmes told the writer that Mr. Walker has as nice a little theatre as there is anywhere in towns of similar size in the Maritimes, and the reproducer, amphotone and wiring Mr. Walker uses in the presentation of musical programs for regular pictures is perfectly adapted to the production of talking pictures. So much so that he had no need to unpack and erect nearly a ton of travelling equipment, but had merely to hook on the pick-up of the sound disk rotor to Mr. Walker's equipment and everything is ready.

With his present equipment, Mr. Walker needs only to add the attachments to his projection machine, two sound disk rotors geared to each machine and the theatre is ready. These rotors are synchronized to the picture, rotating as the reels move through the projector, the electric pickup transmits the sound to the amplifiers and the reproducer, just as any electric Radio-Gramophone combined instrument.

Within a few years the production of talking pictures will have reached the stage where their price is within the reach of small theatre operators, and when that time comes it will find Mr. Walker's theatre all ready connected up for business. At the present time the spread between the silent films and those with sound disk accompaniment is so great averaging $50 to $75 on a single picture that the cost of programs is too great for theatres with a seating capacity of less than 1200 patrons. Mass production and improved methods of distribution will catch up with this spread in time and Talkies will be as common as pies in the old standby slap stick comedies.

Divisional Young People's Secretary Will Visit Digby Corps

Major Eastwell, newly appointed to take charge of Young People's Work in the Halifax Command of the Salvation Army will be a welcome visitor to Digby on Saturday and Sunday. She will address meetings on both days and a large turn out of the Army is expected to welcome her on her first visit to Digby.

The new Divisional Young People's Secretary of the Halifax Division is quite a bit of an "internationalist." Born in the Old Country, she came to Canada early in life, and it was from an Ontario Corps that she entered the training Garrison in 1908. From this Territory she went to New Zealand, then to Australia, from whence she has recently returned to the Land of the Maple.

Considerable variety has entered into the nature of her appointments as well. She has served on the Women's Social Work and had some experience as a Corps Officer but most of her career has been spent on Training Garrison work.

OBITUARY

REV. W. A. SNELLING

Rev. W. A. Snelling, of Boylston, who was pastor of the United Baptist Church at Fiverton a few years ago, passed away last Saturday after an illness of but seven days. He was born in England 68 years ago and has held a number of important pastorates in the province. He leaves two daughters and one son.

MRS. GEORGE HAIGHT

The death occurred at Rossway on Monday, June 10th, of Mrs. George Haight, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hadden Westcott of Waterford, at the early age of 29 years and 2 months. The deceased had been failing in health since last fall with consumption. She leaves to mourn besides a sorrowing husband, two small children, Audrey, age 5 and Winthrop, 2, a father and mother, 4 sisters and 4 brothers. (Florence) M. S. Kenneth Merritt of Mink Cove, Daisy, Imelda and Alda at home, Leigh in Chicago, Wilfred, Sidney and Aubrey at home.

The deceased was a member of the first Digby Neck Baptist church.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. T. Dimock from the Baptist church at Ross way. Interment was in the Baptist Cemetery at Rossway.

FRANK E. COSSITT

The funeral of Frank E. Cossitt a prominent resident of Smith's Cove, who died at the Digby General Hospital on the second instant took place on Friday last at 2:30 p.m., and was largely attended. Interment was made in the Thomas burying ground at Smith's Cove the service being conducted by the Rev. W. G. Hiseley. Mr. Cossitt at the time of his death was fifty eight years old. He was born at Smith's Cove the son of the late Charles and Cynthia Cossitt, and had lived there all his life. He was one of those now too few, who had devoted their lives to farming and made it pay. His passing is a loss as well as a sorrow to the community. Mr. Cossitt left a widow, one daughter and two sisters surviving, to whom the Courier extends its sincere sympathy.

DALEY JOHN

Daley John, resident of Smith's Cove, and one of the outstanding citizens of Digby County, passed away at the Digby General Hospital after an illness of several months. The deceased, who was 52 years of age, was the son of the late Amos John of Barton and widely known through Western Nova Scotia as a contractor and a builder, and some of the finest homes in this section of the province are examples of his ability. The beautiful summer resort at Smith's Cove owes much to his ability as it was he who had built practically all of the summer colony and was preparing to erect a number of splendid homes through out the county when stricken.

He spent several years in Western Canada and the United States

HAD THRILLING EXPERIENCE

Mr. and Mrs. James Hayden have received a letter from their daughter, Goldie, who was a passenger on the "steamer Prince George" last Saturday. She writes "interestingly" of her experience. She felt the collision but she did not feel frightened until she heard the life boats being lowered. The transfer of passengers she describes as rather "shaky", but she says the sailors on the coastguard which took them off were wonderful to them. The whole ship was thrown open, beds stripped of their blankets for the comfort of the passengers and everything done that could be done for their comfort.

Ground has been broken for the foundation of George Morrell's new house, on Queen Street, next to F. W. Nichols' residence. The new bungalow of E. E. Comeau, a few yards farther north, is well advanced.

Rev. A. M. McIntosh, who was pastor of the Baptist churches at Deep Brook and Smith's Cove a few years ago, preached his farewell sermon at Springhill last Sunday and will take a new charge at Brookfield, New Brunswick, on August 1st.

before finally settling in Digby County, where his labors were much sought. He was gifted with a most pleasing personality, which won for him the friendship and respect of all with whom he came in contact. He took a deep interest in civic affairs and in politics was a staunch Conservative.

He leaves to mourn his wife, who was formerly Miss Della McGuire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McGuire of Smith's Cove, and brothers and sisters residing in the United States.

"Welcome" Signs Out for the Tourist

The people of Nova Scotia, particularly of this western part the pioneer section—are awakening up to the possibilities in the business. There has been a big change in the last two years. Previous to that time a motorist could drive through the country and would only see an occasional sign to indicate that someone was willing to cater to his needs. Service stations were few and far between—only the towns and villages having them. But now, one does not have to go very far between stations; tourist overnight camps have commenced to come into existence; more and more the farm houses, those which have a spare bedroom or two, are reaching out for the passing stranger; refreshment booths, canteens and farm stands in ever-increasing numbers are being erected. When lunch or supper time is reached the traveller does not have to "step on her" to get to the nearest town which may be some distance away, but just watches the signs and in a few minutes may put his feet under a dainty table in a comfortable farm house with a well cooked meal in front of him. Yes, our people have begun to realize the immense possibilities of tourist travel.

Cherries are ripening up in this vicinity, and the prospects are for a fair crop this year, which will make up, somewhat for last year's "cherry crop failure. Already the cherry trees about the town are being invaded by the smaller boys, and several of them are suffering from over-indulgence in half-ripe cherries.

About Ourselves

The Courier is going through a period of change. A few weeks ago it was announced that Frank Jones, K. C., in association with J. J. Wallis, had acquired the shares owned by the Jameson estate which gave them the control. The Digby Printing and Publishing Company was reorganized with Mr. Jones as president and Mr. Wallis as Secretary. At first it was their intention to let the business go through the summer without change and to make other arrangements in September. But matters, more or less of a private nature in connection with the business forced their hands and, as a consequence, on Monday an arrangement was entered into with Mr. Wallis and his son, J. M. Wallis to print and publish the Courier weekly for one year at least. The plant of the Courier has been placed at their disposal for the purpose. Mr. Wallis will assume active management of the paper from the practical end and Mr. Jones will look after its financial interests.

Take Precautions

At this time of the year water attractions are most inviting—everyone wants to be either bathing, canoeing or boating. But unfortunately, these pleasures can not be indulged in without a certain amount of danger. This is recognized by everyone and the Ontario Safety League has just issued certain rules which behooves everyone to heed. They are as follows.

1. Learn the prone pressure method of resuscitation
2. Bathe in protected areas only
3. If you have heart trouble do not go in swimming.
4. Wait two hours after eating before going into the water.
5. When diving make sure the water is deep enough to ensure safety.
6. Do not bathe or swim alone. It is safer to have companions with you in case of an accident.
7. Unless you can swim, unless you can keep a cool head—stay out of a canoe.
8. After starting, do not change seats and do not stand up, in either canoe or rowboat.
9. If you have a passenger who wants to "rock the boat" put him ashore.
10. You take a "fools chance" if you ride the waves of a steamboat. The chance-taker is the accident-maker.
11. If upset lay your hands on the canoe or paddle; either will keep you afloat until help arrives.
12. Do not attempt to use a canoe or rowboat in rough water.

MELANSON—TEBO

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Croix R.C. church when Rev. Father J. M. Doicette united in holy matrimony, Miss Augusta Tebo of Sissiboo Falls and Otto J. Melanson of Plympton. The bride looked very pretty in a dress of powder blue flat silk crepe while the bridesmaid, Miss Margaret Thibideau, of Plympton Station, was dressed in Byrd blue satin. Mr. Adolph Thibideau, of Gilbert's Cove, was best man.

After a dainty wedding breakfast at the groom's home, Mr. Theophilus Melanson's, the happy couple motored to Yarmouth for the day. On their return a big reception was held for them at which there were more than one hundred invited guests.

VROOM—WALKER

The many friends of Philip Vroom will be interested to learn of his recent marriage to Miss Effie Walker, both of Pittsfield. The ceremony took place on Saturday evening, at 7 o'clock, June 15th at the Methodist parsonage, Maddison, Rev. L. K. Lord officiating. The young couple were attended by Miss Nedra B. Idgham and Merion Walker, brother of the bride. The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Charles Walker of Himmewell Ave., is a graduate of M.C.I. in the class of 1925 and for the past four years has been employed in the office of the Pioneer Mill of the American Woolen Co. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert S. Vroom of Deep Brook, N.S. and is employed by the Western Union Telegraph Co. The happy couple left immediately after the ceremony on a short wedding trip to Boston, Waltham and Nashua. A large circle of relatives and friends in Nova Scotia and Maine extend sincere good wishes and congratulations.

Wightman—Hubley Nuptials

Charlottetown Guardian

A very pretty social event took place in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Montague, P.E.I., at 8 o'clock on Monday evening. The occasion was the marriage of Miss Josephine Wightman, youngest daughter of the late Mr. Joseph Wightman and Mrs. Wightman of Lower Montague, to Mr. Milford Specht Hubley, younger son of the late Mr. E. Hubley and Mrs. Hubley of Brighton, Mass., formerly of Centerville, Digby Co., Nova Scotia.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Bruce-Muir of Charlottetown, Moderator of the Maritime Synod of the Presbyterian Church in Canada; the Scripture being read by Dr. F. S. V. Bruce-Williams, Montague.

The bride who was given away by her uncle, Mr. C. B. Fraser.

Medford, Mass., wore a gown of gorgette with lace applique, veil and orange blossom wreath, and carried a bouquet of roses.

The Matron of Honor, Mrs. H. Davidson, sister of the bride, was gowned in orchid lace with black picture hat.

Two flower-girls preceded the bridal procession, Jan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Dickie of Moncton, N. B., and Marjorie, daughter of Mrs. H. Davidson, Lower Montague.

The groom was supported by Cyril H. rton, Lower Montague. Mr. A. F. Campbell and Mr. Allison McLean were ushers.

The church, which was thronged to capacity, had been magnificently decorated by some of the ladies of the congregation and formed a perfect setting for the bridal tableau. A delightful solo was rendered during the ceremony by Mrs. E. Fields of Attleboro, Mass.

The organist of the church, Mrs. A. F. Campbell, played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin as the procession entered the church and Mendelssohn's Wedding March during the signing of the register.

An interesting feature of the event was the presence of four aunts of the bride, Mrs. C. B. Fraser, Medford, Mass.; Mrs. T. F. Reeves, Sydney, N. S.; Mrs. H. E. Graves, Moncton, N. B.; and Mrs. M. J. McDonald, Montague.

The reception at which a buffet luncheon was served, was held at the home of Mrs. Wightman, the bride's mother. The receiving line stood in an alcove, against a background of silver bells, ribbon and massed flowers.

The ceremony was unique in that it was the first wedding to take place in the new Presbyterian church, in view of which fact, the Session presented the bride with a handsome morocco bound Bible suitably inscribed.

The popularity of the bride and groom was attested by the numerous and splendid gifts, a large room being required to display them. Mr. and Mrs. Hubley will reside at Brighton, Mass., and will take with them the best wishes of a host of friends.

THE FORD CAR STEEL SPOKE WHEELS

Greater Strength and Durability

THE Ford Steel Spoke (Drop Centre) wheel is an advanced step in engineering and the result of exhaustive experimental tests. It is smart in appearance, extra strong, having a lasting finish, easy to clean and provides a simple method for mounting and demounting the tire without tools and in a fraction of the time previously required.

The steel rods or spokes, 1/4" in diameter, are electrically welded to rim and hub shell. The finish is enamel baked on steel. Possessing great resiliency and being one solid piece, these wheels have a sturdiness not approached by any other type.

The Ford wheel eliminates loose, squeaking spokes and rims, pinched tubes, chipped or peeling finish, necessity of tire flaps, misalignment of tires due to carelessly mounted rims, and a host of other wheel and tire ills formerly encountered. It permits of easy steering and no drumming sound is created by the wheel.

There is an enormous amount of careful work necessary to build strength and service into the Ford Steel Spoke wheel, and the results justify the engineering study and skill devoted to this feature of the Ford car.

OBITUARY

MURRAY Y. HARRIS

The tragic death of Murray Young Harris, who was killed by being thrown from a truck on Wednesday morning, removes from the town of Bear River, one of its best known and most benevolent citizens.

"Murray" as he was familiarly known, had innumerable friends, not only in the town and vicinity, but all over Canada and the United States, as through his many years of Public service as proprietor of a livery, taxi, and mail line, he had come in contact with a host of tourist, commercial and local travelers.

Always courteous and affable, always ready to respond night or day, the late Mr. Harris leaves a record of unexcelled service to the travelling public.

The funeral of the late Murray Y. Harris who met his death Tuesday night of last week in an automobile accident, was held Friday afternoon from the United Baptist church. Mr. Harris was the son of the late Manning C. and Mrs. (Harriet-Pigott) Harris, was forty years old, born and lived his entire life in Bear River. He is survived by his wife and three small children, one brother, Harry E. Harris, of this town; two sisters, Mrs. C. C. Archibald, of Charlottetown, P. E. I., and Mrs. Norman McClintock, of Bear River. The service was conducted by Rev. E. J. Barrass assisted by Rev. J. W. Smith, and the music was furnished by a male choir.

The members of Keith Lodge, A. F. and A. M., and members of Friendship Lodge, I. O. O. F., of which lodges deceased was a prominent member, marched in a body to the church. Interment was in Mount Hope Cemetery where the service at the graveside was in charge of the members of the Masonic Lodge.

GEORGE STEWART

On Thursday evening, July 4th, a particularly sad drowning accident occurred, when George, the three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart, lost his life in the mill pond near his home.

The child had been missing for several hours and large numbers of men had been searching for him, thinking he might have wandered to some out-of-the-way place, but late in the evening his body was discovered in a deep hole in the adjacent pond.

The funeral services were held at the Stewart home on Saturday afternoon, conducted by Rev. E. J. Barrass, assisted by Rev. P. Henderson, and quantities of beautiful floral pieces, evidenced the sympathy for the bereaved parents.

Mr. Stewart is employed at the Rice Monument Works at Nictaux, Annapolis Co., and was absent at the time of the accident. Three brothers and a young sister survive little George, who was the "baby" and pet of the family.

EDWARD MILLER

Word was received on Monday of the sudden death of Edward Miller, a former resident of Bear River. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Miller and leaves to mourn his passing, two sisters, Mrs. Noble Sanford of Clementsvalle and Mrs. Allan of Brocton, Mass., and two brothers, Atwood of Lansdowne and Charles. The remains were taken to the Baptist church on the arrival of the train on Wednesday where a funeral service was conducted by Rev. E. J. Barrass. Interment in Mount Hope Cemetery.

The members of the church and congregation who have cars are going to make a special effort to bring out all the members who are unable to attend service regularly. Getting the "Edge On" is Sometimes a Good Thing

Just now when the liquor plebiscite is the chief topic this tale of a law mow will be interesting. It is the story of a mow that got "oiled" and "had an edge on." And say that mow surely cuts a swath right up and down the lawn, taking in the edges and clean down the middle, until there wasn't any grass left to mow. And this right in the middle of a "dry" spell.

Called in to give an account of itself the mow pleaded "guilty." It had got its "Edge" at Trohon's Blacksmith Shop, and that was so good that it took a little "oil" as well. It pleaded justification—that familiar excuse of all old timers, that it had to have a little "edge" before it could work properly; and that a little "oil" was good for its works. The court discharged the prisoner and commended Mr. Trohon for having served the community so well.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Extensive repairs are being made on the Government pier.

Holy Trinity Church is the first of the local churches to have a supplied choir. This innovation came into effect on the last Sunday in June.

It is rumored that the Shreve property, on the corner of Queen and Warwick streets, has been purchased for an up-to-date service station.

Two men drowned in Prince Edward Island, one boy drowned and a young Indian murdered in New Brunswick were part of the week end happenings in the Maritime Provinces.

Robert C. Swim, Mr. Churchill's predecessor as principal of the Digby Academy, was married in Saint John on Saturday afternoon to Miss Helen Louise Simms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Simms.

On June 22nd G. E. Torrie, fishery overseer, supervised the placing of 12,000 No. 2 fingerling trout in Syda's Lake, 8,000 in Anderson's Lake, 12,000 in the Tom Wallace Branch, and 8,000 salmon fry in Round Lake.

Capt. Leslie E. Comeau, a Digby County skipper, is master of the veteran schooner, Sarah Eaton, now at Windsor from Boston for lumber.

This schooner is 55 years old and has been engaged in the coasting trade ever since she was launched in Calais, Me.

There were quite a number of Digby County people on the vessel when it was in a collision off Boston on Sunday morning. The weather was fine and help was at hand so there was no great danger at any time, but no doubt they got quite a thrill out of the experience.

A car occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Morehouse and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nesbit, of Centreville was forced into a ditch at Ashmore on Saturday. They were all quite seriously injured, and the car was badly damaged. On Tuesday, when the car was being towed to Weymouth for repairs it "tripped" over the low rope and was thrown over the Bingay bridge at Barton, becoming a total wreck.

The dentists from Shelburne to Middleton met in convention at Weymouth last Friday. It was the seventh annual convention and was well attended. Papers were read by Dr. MacGregor of Digby, and Dr. Crowe of Annapolis Royal. At the election of officers Dr. Allen of Yarmouth, was appointed president, and Dr. Turnbull of Digby, secretary-treasurer. A banquet was held at the Goodwin Hotel following the convention.

The officers of Zelma Rebekah Lodge were installed at the regular meeting on Monday by D.D.P. Mrs. Leta Turnbull. They are as follows:

Mr. Torrie Expresses Appreciation

To The Fishing Interests of Digby County

I would be ungrateful at this time, when I am entering on superannuation, if I did not express to all the fishermen and fish packers of Digby County my appreciation of the cordial relations which have always existed between us in the performance of my duties as Fishery Officer for this district. Always I have found everybody to be ready to cooperate in the enforcement of whatever regulations were in effect to control the fishing industry, and always the information and assistance required in performing my duties have been willingly given, making my duty a pleasure. I take this opportunity of expressing my sincere thanks for the courtesies which have been extended to me over a period of 17 years. I believe that those years have seen a wonderful development of the fishing industry of this county and in extending my thanks I would also express the wish that all the fishing interests of the county may come a period of prosperity in the industry.

Five Wolfville People Killed by "New Yorker."

A shocking fatality occurred on the D.A.R. near Falmouth on Tuesday evening when the fast express, the "New Yorker" struck an auto containing five Wolfville people, instantly killing all of the occupants. They were C. H. Wright, well known contractor, his father-in-law, N. W. Eaton, Jean Wright and Graham Wright, daughter and son of the driver, and Mrs. Frank Houston, daughter of Mr. Eaton. The car was struck amidstships and so badly crushed that its original length of about ten feet was reduced to about three. Mr. Wright is well known in Digby where a few years ago he built the Royal Bank building. Mr. Wright and Mr. Eaton were two prominent citizens of the province, both engaged in big deals, public spirited, active, and devoted to the welfare of the province. They will be greatly missed in the community they served so well.

C.P.R. Acquires Land for 18-Hole Golf Course

E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway arrived by special train at Truro on Wednesday and came on to Digby over the Dominion Atlantic Railway on the first leg of his tour of inspection of Canadian Pacific properties in this part of Canada. His visit assumes unusual importance by reason of the fact that he is accompanied by a number of the company's directors who are leaders in the business life of the Dominion. Among those travelling with him are Sir Herbert Holt, president of the Royal Bank of Canada, Sir Charles Gordon, president of the Bank of Montreal, Mr. F. E. Meredith, director of Canadian Pacific Steamships and Mr. J. W. Hobbs of Montreal. The party was met at Truro by the mayor, the officers of local service clubs and by a large gathering of business men who expressed their appreciation of Mr. Beatty's visit and also that of the important group of Montreal business men who were thus enabled to familiarize themselves with conditions and opinions throughout the Maritime Provinces. A brief stop was also made at Windsor where another large gathering of business men awaited them. As the train pulled out the party was heartily cheered.

Upon arrival here Wednesday evening Mr. Beatty and his party made a thorough inspection of the New Pines Hotel and all expressed themselves as being delighted with its location and appointments. Its importance to the tourist trade of Nova Scotia was pointed out by Mr. Beatty who expressed himself as being particularly pleased by the large patronage which the new hotel was already enjoying.

Mr. Beatty announced tonight that the company has purchased 250 acres of highly desirable land immediately adjacent to the Pines Hotel upon which will be constructed an eighteen hole golf course that promises to be one of the outstanding courses in Canada. The gently rolling terrain overlooking the wide expanse of the Digby Basin is splendidly suited to this purpose. The course will be planned and constructed under the direction of Stanley Thompson who is responsible for the famous course at Banff and is now working on the new course being built in connection with the Royal York Hotel at Toronto. Work on this new course will be begun almost immediately and at least nine holes will be in shape for playing next season. The present nine hole course here which is built partly on ground owned by prominent citizens and partly on leased land will be continued in use during the present season and it is expected that the major portion of it will soon afterwards be broken up into subdivisions consequent upon the demand for building lots that has followed upon the opening of the New Pines Hotel.

Yesterday the party went by train to Yarmouth and from there motored to Kentville where the Board of Trade gave them a dinner at night. They were accompanied throughout the tour by George E. Graham, vice-president and general manager of the Dominion Atlantic Railway.

On Wednesday evening the following gentlemen of the town called on the visitors at the New Pines: H. B. Short, M. P., Mayor; T. E. G. Lynch, H. T. Warner, F. W. Nicholls, F. L. Anderson and R. H. Lockward. Following introductions a pleasant hour was spent talking over the improvements which have been made and the prospects for the future. Yesterday morning before their train left the visitors "took in" the town and Sir Herbert Holt made a visit to the Digby branch of the Royal Bank, of which he is the head.

Digby Neck Ideal for Sheep Raising

A correspondent to the city papers from Centerville, in this county, is drawing particular attention to the adaptability of the Neck for sheep raising. There are quite a few flocks in that territory and the owners are finding them profitable. One Digby Neck farmer is mentioned as having recently sold four lambs for $40. The writer, whose knowledge of the Neck goes back as far as the fall of 1896, can remember when a great many more sheep would be seen than at present. But prices were low and the farmers for many reasons became discouraged, and discontinued raising the "woolies". But here again the tourist business comes in. With such a splendid local market as Digby right at their doors with high class hotels filled with tourists craving for "Roast Spring Lamb, Mint Sauce or Brown Gravy" to say nothing of the fleeces which are demanding good prices—there should be great money in the industry.

Weddings

MULLEN-SMITH

On July the 11th, at 8 o'clock in the evening, a very pretty and interesting event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doug-Mullen, Hassets where their youngest daughter, Florence Esther, was united in marriage to Raymond C. Smith, Port Maitland.

The bride looked charming in a gown of white crepe and satin wearing a veil and carrying a shower bouquet of pink and white roses, as she took her place beneath an arch of fern and roses, to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Harvey Mullen.

She was attended by her sister Miss Hazel who wore a gown of rose satin and carried a bouquet of sweet williams. Little Bessie Sabcan, flower girl, wore white crepe and carried a basket of assorted flowers. The groom was supported by Arthur Owens of Centerville, N. S. Rev. S. A. Mullen, brother of the bride performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. H. E. Mullen, in the presence of two hundred and fifty guests. The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with cut flowers, potted plants and wedding bells. After spending a few happy moments with friends and relatives amid showers of rice and congratulations, refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. They were the recipients of many beautiful and costly gifts including linen, silverware, china, glass, furniture and a generous sum of money which shows the high esteem in which the young couple were held. After the company dispersed the couple left for their home in Port Maitland where they will reside. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Smith extend to them their best wishes for a long and prosperous life.

Will It Come True?

"You mark my words. Digby will have a population of 5,000 in ten years," was the expression of a well known professional man who resides in this county, a few days ago. He went on to say that in the years he has known the town there has been a slow but steady growth, but now, with the C.P.R. behind it and with the tourist business commencing to come into its own, the town is just entering on a boom which is going to put it in front. And it looks reasonable, too, when we look back over the past winter and spring and check up on the building operations which have been going on, the real estate transfers which have taken place at prices which, ten years ago, would have given the old owners heart failure. Although a few dealers in non-necessities complain that business is not very brisk all those engaged in selling building material, groceries, clothing or other necessities have all they can handle. There is no unemployment except from choice. There is work in abundance for all who want to work but the man who wants to loaf can still find an excuse for doing so. Never in the history of Digby has there been so much work for everybody as there is at present. Besides the town workmen there are dozens here from all parts of the county engaged in carpentering, mason work or something of that nature. And from present appearances next winter will be just as busy a winter for our local men as last, even though there is no Pines Hotel under construction. Perhaps the prophecy of 5,000 in ten years is not so far out of the way after all.

An Historic Cemetery

Digby county is one of the counties of Nova Scotia rich in history. There are historical landmarks, historical incidents, historical building sites and historical cemeteries. And it is with one of these latter—the old cemetery at Barton—with which this article is concerned. Neglected for a great many years steps were taken a few years ago to cut away the undergrowth and straighten up and beautify the grounds. Much work has been done but the lack of money prevents a complete job. As near as can be ascertained this cemetery was started considerably over 100 years ago, almost 150 years ago and the site was presented to the community by Thomas Trevo, one of the early settlers who measured off a generous portion of his property and set it aside for cemetery purposes. At that time it served the whole countryside of St. Mary's Bay, a territory very sparsely settled—there were no villages of Brighton, Barton and Plympton in those days. However, the land set aside by Mr. Trevo was, in the course of years, filled up and it has been found necessary on several occasions in the long history of this cemetery to add to it, and today it is much larger than at first. A study of the inscriptions is interesting. It shows that many families, once prominent in the county, have either died out altogether or moved away. There is one family of Trevoys, descendants of the original founder, still on the Bay, prosperous farmers, highly respected and honored. The founder himself was buried in the cemetery but all trace of his grave is gone. The oldest tombstone is that of Thomas Smith, born 1777, died 1817. A daughter-in-law, of

Mr. Trevo, Martha Trevo, born 1784, died 1876, shows that she had reached a rather advanced age. The family names of Clements, Marr, Copeland, Saxton, Lockwood, Urquhart, Grafton have all gone. Besides Trevoys there are still Smith's, Seeleys, McNeills, Lambertson, Johns Abbotts, Van Blarcoms, Worthylakes and Thomases. Some of the Christian names are unique and old fashioned. For instance there is Uriah Worthylake and his wife Ursula. Keziah, Jane, Sarah, Matilda, Eliza, Mary and Martha, are found frequently.

In 1919 a committee consisting of Mrs. Miriam Bingley Smith, Miss Hattie M. Perry, Mrs. Mary O'Neill, Mrs. B. P. Specht and Mrs. Fred Hutchinson were appointed to look after the cemetery and endeavor to straighten it up. They have had a man employed every summer since but their funds are limited as they are depending entirely on voluntary subscriptions.

There must be a number of relatives and descendants of the old families still living who would like to help in the work. The Courier will be glad to receive subscriptions on behalf of the committee or they may be sent direct to Mrs. Miriam Bingley Smith, Secretary Barton Cemetery, Barton, N.S.

Drowning of Five-Year-Old
Roy Gidney

Shortly after he had been reported missing by his elder brother the body of Roy Gidney, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gidney of Sandy Cove, was found floating near the shore at Sandy Cove last Friday. The little fellow had been playing around the several boats which were moored at the beach and it is thought that he missed his step in jumping from one boat to another and fell to the water, drowning. First news of the child's disappearance was reported by his brother, Earl Gidney, aged 7 who after an unsuccessful search for Roy began enquiring for him. The victim of the accident was last seen about four o'clock and it was fully two hours later when he was missed. The father of the children who was in one of the fish houses was called and after a brief search along the waterfront by a group of men who had collected, the lifeless body of the child was recovered.

The victim of the accident is survived by two elder brothers and one younger.

Nova Scotia Exhibition Will Be Aug 21-31

Thousands have heard with eager interest that the Nova Scotia Exhibition will be held this year from August 24 to August 31 and are arranging their holidays accordingly.

The Exhibition will be on a larger scale than ever before. The new Industrial Building will be completed in time and permit of a larger number of exhibits, better display, and increased catering facilities for the thousands who will dine on the grounds.

The extent and nature of the entries for the horse racing is assurance that this part of the program will eclipse other years in interest and excitement. Races will be held on five different days of the Exhibition, a big program for each of them, with purses totalling $8,000.

More vaudeville acts than last year are on the program—nine acts in all, with 24 different performers taking part in them. The feature act involves aerial stunts 100 feet above the ground by the most daring performers in the world.

Midway, fireworks, and other features all add interest to the greatest holiday event in the life of Nova Scotians.

No Danger With Refrigerators

C. M. MacLean, Manager of the commercial department of the Digby County Power Board, in conversation with the Digby Courier referred to the recent deaths caused by a noxious gas developed from electric refrigerators in Chicago. "There is no such danger connected with the General Electric Refrigerators," asserted Mr. MacLean, "nor with any other higher priced refrigerator that is using the liquid sulphur for the cooling process."

He asserted that the machines responsible for the deaths in Chicago were of a cheap make, and used an entirely different chemical compound.

LAVID use of ball and roller bearings in the Ford car greatly reduce friction and contribute to easier operation and longer life of the car. Note the coasting ability of the Ford car as compared to any other automobiles in its weight class.

Examination of the chassis will at once show the advantages of these bearings. On the rear axle pinion and differential all the taper roller bearings are held to such close limits that adjustment is unnecessary, pinion and ring gear always being held in proper mesh.

Spiral roller bearings are used in the rear hub because of their large bearing surface and ability to carry heavy loads. One is also used on the drive shaft at the universal joint end, to assure perfect alignment.

Taper roller bearings in the front wheels have a simple adjustment. Roller thrust bearings on the spindle bolts make for easy steering. Two bearings, one above and one below, take up the thrust on the steering worm.

The fan shaft operates on a roller bearing. The generator, the transmission, the connection between the spline and drive shafts, the clutch, the flywheel—all these important parts are made more efficient and enduring through the use of ball and roller bearings.

These bearings form a striking illustration of the engineering skill and care used in building the Ford car.

Philathea Class Picnic

The regular monthly meeting of the Philathea Class of the Baptist church took the form of a picnic on the grounds of Mrs. Roy Snell, Morgantown, on Thursday, July 11th.

Supper, to which everyone did justice, was eaten out of doors after which the business meeting of the class took place in the house. A short program of songs and readings ended one of the jolliest outings ever held by the Class.

The Church of England and the United Church held a united service of Thanksgiving for the restoration of the health of King George, in the St. John's Church of England on last Sunday afternoon. Rev. Frederick Sawdon preached the sermon and music was rendered by the united choirs. The sum of five dollars was set aside from the offering to be donated to the Digby Hospital Fund.

Garden Party

The Guild of St. John's church under the able leadership of Mrs. B. C. Clarke, held a most successful Garden Party on Wednesday afternoon, July 10th, on the grounds of River View Lodge.

The grounds were decorated with an abundance of flags and the Annapolis Royal Band furnished music from 4 to 8 o'clock which added materially to the enjoyment of those present.

Besides being generally patronized by the people of Bear River the affair was well attended by many outsiders from Digby, Smith's Cove, Deep Brook and Clementsport and also by our summer visitors.

Attractive booths for the sale of ice cream, candy, fancy work, toys, etc. had been erected for the occasion which added considerably to the proceeds.

One of the special attractions for the kiddies was the "Fairy Well" in charge of Mrs. E. Robinson.

The proceeds, together with the donations from generous friends, amounted to $232.00 and are for church purposes.

The success of this affair was due in a large measure to the assistance given by those who are not members of St. John's congregation and the members of the Guild wish to express their appreciation of the many favors extended to them and desire to thank all those who in any way assisted them in their undertaking.

Institute Tea

Last Friday afternoon the Women's Institute held another fifteen cent tea and sewing party at the home of Mrs. A. B. Marshall. Mrs. W. J. Wright and Mrs. A. B. The entire proceeds this year will go to the General Carnival Fund, which will be used to procure fire fighting apparatus.

The tea this week will be held at the home of Miss Blanche Purdy, when Mrs. L. V. Harris and Miss Muriel Kinney will assist Miss Purdy in serving tea. All Institute members are urged to be present and bring a guest.

"They may look the same but the taste is different." How true this is of tea. You have seen those that look quite a lot like MORSE'S but when you tasted them they were quite different. They lacked the strength and also the delicious flavor that you find in MORSE'S; in fact their appearance was as far as their similarity to MORSE'S went. It is safer to stick to MORSE'S if you wish to be always sure of a good cup of tea.

Driving EASE and Riding Comfort

THE Ford car has established new principles in motoring comfort, proving that a light car of convenient wheel base can be made to ride with the same effortless, smooth ease as any of its weightier and more expensive road companions. The unique combination of transverse springs with an Houdaille shock absorber to each wheel, is one of the secrets of this remarkable performance—added to perfect balance and a body and chassis joined like one piece. This accounts for the tendency of the Ford car to hug the road at all speeds.

Peculiarly restful driving is a direct result of this riding comfort. The feather-light steering wheel, that is rock-firm in the hand under any road conditions, gives the driver perfect control. Gears shift with silent precision and the change down from high to second, so often of use in traffic emergency, may be effected in one smooth motion.

Another unusual advantage offered by the Ford car is its

Model "T" Owners

So that you may continue to enjoy the advantages of Ford ownership coupled with new standards of quality and performance unequalled in the light car field, Ford Dealers are prepared to take in your Model "T" Ford Car at a fair market value.

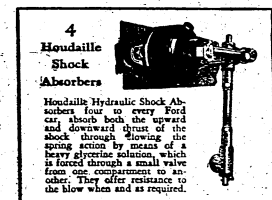

Drive in your Model "T" to be appraised and ask for a demonstration drive in the Ford Model "A".

turning ability. It is a narrow street indeed in which the Ford car will not turn completely without backing. Think what this means in city parking. A space little longer than the car itself may be used without tiresome manoeuvring.

Demonstration—Ask your Ford dealer to let you drive a Ford car. He will be glad to take you out. Select the steepest hills, the heaviest going—you will be amazed at the power at your command.

A demonstration will convince you of the outstanding merit of the Ford car. Also request your Ford dealer to show you the hidden inbuilt quality features of the car.

Time Payment—If you prefer to buy out of income, you will find the authorized time payment plan offered by all Ford dealers most attractive.

Houdaille Hydraulic Shock Absorbers. Four to every Ford car, absorb both the upward and downward thrust of the shock throwing the spring action by means of a heavy hydraulic solution, which is forced through a small valve from one compartment to another. They offer resistance to the blow when and as required.

She was one of the passengers on the Church Holds

Roll CallA special service was held last week at the North Weymouth United Baptist Church, when the annual Roll Call of the church was held following the Sunday School hour.The Roll Call was conducted by Deacon William Lent in the absence of the clerk of the church, Mrs. J. C.
Cowan, The pastor, Rev. M. B.
Whitman, presided. A solo, "God's Tomorrow," was sung by I. R. Porter, of Hebron. The Roll Call address
"The Church for the Times" was given by the pastor's brother, Rev.
A. H. Whitman, of Hebron, following which a number responded to the calling of the roll of membership.This Weymouth church was organized in 1779 and is the third oldest Baptist Church in Nova Scotia, the

Wins Honor as EducationalistAmong the many Nova Scotians of the younger generation who have attained success, Prof. G. C.
VanTassel, B. A., M. A., is to be counted. Born at Digby, Nova Scotia, twenty-seven years ago, educated at St. Anne's College, Church Point, where he received his B.A. degree in 1924, he consistently worked his way through a career as teacher, accomplishing much toward the welfare of those under his charge. Upon his graduation the reverend president of St. Anne's college, seeing in him a man of duty, great ability and initiative, offered him the position of professor of English classics which he accepted.Taking a leave of absence in 1926 to study at Harvard university, he made another stride in the acquisition of knowledge on educational problems. The following year he returned to St. Anne's College where he wrote a thesis on American and English literature which won for him his Master's degree.Eager to learn the modern tendencies in education in the United States, he found his desire realized when an opportunity came to him to teach in the northwest. This was at Columbus college, Sioux Falls, South Dakota.For two years Professor Van-Tassel made the second milestone of his success as associate professor of English and forenics and head of the French department at this institution.During these two years in the United States west, he wrote many articles on criminology which appeared in the Gazette, official Catholic newspaper of the archdiocese of Halifax. He is also an author of many topics on educational technique and psychology.Mr. VanTassel is back in Nova Scotia and will teach at the Sacred Heart college, Bathurst, New Brunswick, next September.Attending the

Made on
New ChurchSplendid progress is being shown on the new Roman Catholic church under construction at Doucetville, which is to replace the church which was burned to the ground after being struck by lightning late last March. The corner stone of the new edifice was laid by Bishop MacDonald several weeks ago.The new church is being built along the same lines as the originalchurch of the Sacred Heart, which was built during the years of 1914 and 1915 under the direction of the late Rev. Father P. Thibault, then parish priest at Plympton.
Doucetville is in the Plympton vicinity.The work on the new construction is giving employment to a number of men, and no doubt it is the largest and most important building under construction in this vicinity. The frame is now up and boarded in.

The Toastmaster Automatic Electric Toaster

THERE is no need to watch this Toaster and you can do other things while the bread is toasting. There will be no scorched toast and never any scraping to make the toast edible. For with this new toaster the current is turned off automatically when the toast is done. The Toastmaster toasts the bread on both sides at once, just alike, an even golden brown, and you will not have to look for the best side to butter.

The enclosed oven seals the flavor, the toast is piping hot clear through, and the taste—you will be surprised at the difference. We will be glad to have you try the Toastmaster at home for a day or two. Telephone and we will send one up, or call when you are down town.

A Booster for Tourists From "Way-Back"

Probably if we hunted through the files of the Courier thirty years ago we would find that George F. Parker, then of Yarmouth, had been in town on publicity matters in connection with the tourist business. He was then travelling passenger agent with the D.A.R. On Tuesday of this week we were delighted to see the genial George Parker again—but this time he came from St. Petersburg, Florida, where for eighteen years he has been using his talents to try and induce tourists to travel like a shuttle—backwards and forwards—winter in Florida, summer in Nova Scotia. And he has seen his efforts well crowned with success. He has now ceased active work with any railroad or steamship line, but is still boosting the tourist business and probably no man living is better qualified. His talk with the editor was largely of a personal nature as it naturally would be considering that he has known the present editor of the Courier since the latter was a boy of twelve years of age, but in his talk he threw out many useful hints. One thing he said: "You spend hundreds of dollars in trying to get tourists to come to Nova Scotia, and you are getting them. But you are doing nothing for them after you get them here. They don't all want to go autoing or sight-seeing. In Florida we make a specialty of providing them with the means by which they can amuse themselves—croquet, shuffle board, tennis—you do not seem to have done anything along those lines. There should be a community centre of some kind for them where they can meet and talk over their trips with their countrymen, write letters or do anything they wish to pass the time." He has travelled up and down the Atlantic coast for years, visiting the resorts and keeping in touch with the travelling public, so is in a good position to talk of hotels. On Tuesday he remarked that he had seen some wonderful hotels—but that day he saw another, a D.A.R. hotel magnificent in its architectural harmony, throughout, blending in adjustment to its grand setting among the trees

Three Minor Auto Accidents In Few Hours

Several car accidents of a minor nature took place in town on Wednesday—all within a short time of each other. The first was in front of Herbert Comeau's cobbling shop when Comeau's car, which was parked there, was struck by a Massachusetts car and had its front bumpers torn off. The other two took place early in the evening at the corner of King and Warwick streets. In one case a car undertook to pass a truck and at the same time turn into King street, but another car coming down King street, unnoticed by the first driver until too late, compelled him to take the ditch to avoid a collision. Before he could stop he struck a tree and was slightly damaged. The other, a Smith's Cove car coming into town, tried the same stunt under similar conditions. He crashed through the fence around the MacGregor lot and struck the house inflicting slight damage. No one was hurt.

The showers of rain which fell last Friday night and Saturday morning, after a long spell of dry, hot weather, were a great boon to the farmers of this locality. The growth of the root and field crops had halted on account of the drought, and there was great danger of these crops proving a failure, but the welcome rain has saved the situation for the present.

Word has been received that the Canadian National Railways are considering the use of the term "Atlantic Provinces of Canada" as suggested by W. F. Burditt, in all their advertising touching the Maritime Provinces and shimmering broad sea front. These were his words on his return from the New Pines. He also added that he was delighted to see the splendid efficiency with which the hotel was conducted under Manager Jones, and reminisced back to the times when he and Mr. Jones were co-workers on the railroad. Mr. Parker's visit to the Courier was a bright break in the dull monotony of the week and we were glad to renew his acquaintance

VERNON EISENOR KILLED

In an accident which took place at about three o'clock this morning Vernon Eisenor, aged 22 years, a machinist in his brother's garage, lost his life, and Charles Hyson, a fellow employe, is in a serious condition through loss of blood. The accident took place when their car, a Buick touring, left the road about fifty feet the other side of the transformers in the Town Hollow, on Warwick street, breaking off one of the supports, then turning over about one hundred feet this side of the transformer. Eisenor's head was crushed beneath the steering wheel and death was instantaneous. An inquest will be held today.

Organizes for Canvass In Aid of Hospital

Organization of the central committee to conduct a $60,000 building fund campaign for Digby General Hospital was completed this week when a sub-committee of the hospital board rendered its first report at a special meeting held for the purpose of completing details of organization.

Dr. E. Duvernet is chairman of the building fund committee and Dr. Walter R. Dickie, Councillor M. C. Denton, Councillor George W. Wightman and C. F. McBride, president of the hospital board, are members. S. S. Aymar is secretary to this committee and Robert C. Mills has been appointed campaign director. R. H. Lockward is treasurer.

The present Digby General Hospital was organized five or six years ago as an experiment in hospital service. Through the Ladies' Hospital Aid and a committee of business men who from time to time have served on the board of management, the hospital has fulfilled its expected functions and has outgrown present rented quarters.

The territory which it serves extends from Annapolis west to Yarmouth and it forms an important link in the chain of hospital accommodation in western Nova Scotia.

For the past two years the hospital board has been giving serious consideration to the need for a new building. The proposed building will have a minimum bed accommodation for seventeen patients in public and private wards, with operating theatre, maternity wards, nurses' quarters and service rooms in accordance with modern hospital design. The building will be of semi-fireproof construction.

Local sub-committees of the building fund committee will be organized in every section of the territory served by Digby General Hospital and it is expected that when the campaign opens all will be ready for the work of collecting the amount of money which is required and the committee is confident that the full objective will be reached. Appeals will be made to every former resident of this section. The Hospital has many friends among summer residents and regular tourist visitors and already some of these have invited the committee to call upon them for a contribution.

The annual hospital fair is to be held on August 21 and it is believed a large part of the amount required will be subscribed before the date, enabling the committee to announce at that time a likely date for the commencement of construction.

Mass will be celebrated at the Roman Catholic Chapel at Rossway on Sunday at 10 a. m.

Many Flowers Blooming In Memorial Plot

A very interesting sight in town at this season of the year is the memorial garden plot of the monument. Mr. Boden, who has taken the garden under his personal care, has done wonders with it and today it is a riot of color. The garden is small, it is true, but every inch of it is made to "do its bit" and the town certainly owes much thanks to Mr. Boden for his painstaking care. Following is a list of the flowers:

Alyssum-sweet.
Antirrhinum Majus.
Aster.
Candytuft.
Cyanus Major-Cornflower.
Geranium Scarlet Double.
Helichrysum. Straw flower.
Larkspur-Annuul.
Malope Perfoliata. Mallow.
Marigold French.
Nemesis dwarf.
Portulaca.
Petunia Single.
Phlox Drummondii.
Salpiglossis.
Stock-sweet-scented.
Verbena.
Zinnia.

With the exception of the Geraniums all the plants have been grown from seed this year and were transplanted from June 6 onwards. The flowers are almost at their best now, although the Asters and Verbena are not in bloom yet.

The Central Meat Market has installed a Wallace Refrigerator showcase—the first to be installed in town. It makes a decided improvement to the market.

First Woman R. C. Missionary Is Digby Girl

To a former resident of St. Alphonse De Clare, belongs the distinction of being the first Roman Catholic sister from Nova Scotia to take up the work in the mission fields of Africa. Sister Mary Loretta, formerly Miss Fedora Saulnier, of St. Alphonse De Clare, has won the honor and has left her home here to engage in the duties of a missionary sister at Beges, Africa.

Miss Saulnier is well known in Digby county. For a period of nine years she taught in the public schools of this district and in the fall of 1926 entered the convent at Levis, Quebec, to train for the work of the Roman Catholic church.

In August of 1927 Miss Saulnier left the convent and sailed from New York for Algiers, Africa, where she began her work as a missionary and remained until May of the present year.

On May 1, 1929, Miss Saulnier received the name of Sister Mary Loretta and ten days later left for Beges, Africa, to take up her life work.

Sister Mary Loretta has proved herself a brilliant scholar and during her studies has mastered the language used by the natives in the area in which she will labor and is greatly enthused in her noble work of teaching the people of that country to know God.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Ladies' Hospital Aid will be held at the court house on Thursday, August 1st at 3 o'clock. This will be the last meeting before the summer fair and a full attendance is requested.

Pleaded Guilty Before the County Court

Two criminal cases were disposed of at a special sitting of the County Court held at the Court House at Little Brook, Clare, on Thursday of last week, Judge O'Brien presiding. Those in attendance from Digby were H. R. Bishop, sheriff; J. A. Taylor, clerk of the crown, and F. Jones, K. C., prosecuting officer.

The first case, the King vs. Harvey Amerault, for house breaking and stealing, the prisoner pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the penitentiary at Dorchester, N. B.

In the other case, the King vs. Otis J. Comeau, for entering the house of Maggie Doucet, near Meteghan Station and assaulting the owner, the prisoner also pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two months' imprisonment in the jail at Little Brook.

The condition of Haddon Westcott of Waterford, who was so seriously hurt last Friday afternoon, when the blade, which he was carrying in his hand, was struck by a passing car and driven upwards inflicting serious scalp and head wounds, and otherwise injuring him, is considered very grave. Mr. Westcott is at the Digby Hospital where he was taken immediately after the accident.

Gertrude Patrie entertained the Red Wing Club on Tuesday at Harry Harris' farm, Lansdowne. Dinner and supper were served on the lawn and a very enjoyable day was spent. After dinner a beautiful gift was presented to Mrs. Patrie by the president, Miss Blanch Morine.

Be Careful!

We have had a delightful summer so far, but we have had very little rain and as a consequence the country is abnormally dry.

Otto Schierbeck, chief forester, has again issued a warning calling upon all and sundry to exercise reasonable precaution in the matter of preventing forest fires. The warning is timely, and should be seriously taken to heart.

A very small woods blaze might become, without warning, a great forest fire that would lay waste miles of valuable timberland.

Most fires are caused by carelessness. A burning match or cigarette butt is carelessly thrown into the dry brush, a camp fire is not properly extinguished, grass fires are permitted to get beyond control—these simple things are the causes of many of the most disastrous fires.

Mr Schierbeck remarks that at the losses from forest fires in Canada are a disgrace to the people. It is quite easy to agree with him in this.

The Tourist Business

It is peculiarly gratifying to Nova Scotians to learn, through Mr. Beatty, that the expenditures which the Canadian Pacific Railway has made on the line of the Dominion Atlantic for the encouragement particularly of tourist travel have been more than justified by the results. Mr. Beatty stated, for example to the citizens of Digby who met him on Wednesday evening of last week, that the business at the New Pines Hotel in Digby has surpassed all expectations and that it was probable that extensions thereto would be required in the near future. As evidence of the Company's faith in the growth of the tourist business in this section of Nova Scotia it has acquired property for a fine new golf course in conjunction with the Pines Hotel, proceeding with the projected extension of the line to Kentville.

Church To Honor Memory of First Rector and Wife

Clementsport is fast becoming one of the popular summer resorts of the Province, and it is to be the scene of an interesting ceremony on Thursday, August 22, when a tablet will be unveiled at old Saint Edward's Church in memory of the Rev. W. M. Godfrey, the first rector of the church and his wife.

St. Edward's is one of the oldest Protestant churches in Canada. Built in 1786 by Dutch, Hessian and other German loyalists as a Lutheran church, it was consecrated in 1788 by Bishop Inglis and transferred to the Church of England. A condition of the transfer was that a hymn in the Dutch language should be sung every Sunday before the regular morning service and this was adhered to faithfully until only two persons were left to sing the hymn of the old laud.

In 1837 many alterations were made to the old edifice and later its altar and altar rail were taken to furnish the new St. Edward's built further down the hill. When the present rector, Rev. A. W. L. Smith, came to the parish, the ancient shrine was rapidly falling into decay. The roof was leaking, plaster had fallen into the aisles, the doors were off the venerable square pews and a dense thicket of shrubbery had grown up in the old churchyard. Under Mr. Smith's direction all that was changed. Aided by voluntary contributions for the purpose, he has succeeded in restoring the ancient edifice to its original state and it is now one of the most interesting churches, historically, in Canada.

The 84th Battery Band, of Yarmouth, consisting of sixteen musicians, is open for engagement at any time, so the bandmaster, Penn Spicer, writes us.

Beatty Was Given Fast Ride Over Road

The D.A.R. management and employees, gave President Beatty of the C.P.R. a fast and a safe run over their mileage last week. Every precaution was taken to prevent accident. A man on a velocipede preceded the train between Truro and Digby, running a couple of hours ahead of the train. The order engineer and conductor received at Truro carried the official train right through to Digby. Regular trains, especially freights, were side tracked in good time for a clear track for the official train. The train did not stop at Kentville, but went through that yard with all switches locked. The run from Truro to Digby, well on to two hundred miles, was made in five hours. Conductor Crosby, mayor of Kentville, was in charge, with locomotive engineer, Walter Dill at the throttle. The C.N.R. management also gave the president's train splendid runs.

Rotary Meeting Opened Yesterday

Automobile traffic along all roads leading into the cherry country was heavy but no serious accidents, however, have been reported.

Here and There

It is a good thing we left the tent flap open or he would have ruined the tape into the bargain," said Belmont Brown, well-known artist who has been painting and sketching in the Rockies for a number of years. He was forced to return to Banff when a bear ransacked his provisions. Brown took the cases out of the tent to be could open and devour them at his convenience. It was possibly the same bear that tore the tent to bits a previous year when Brown thought he could safeguard his supplies by closing his tent.

Dr. Wang Chung Hui, member of the judicial department of the Government of China, who arrived at Vancouver recently on the Empress of France, en route for the court of international justice at The Hague, of which he is a deputy judge, said when interviewed that China was now completely unified and the Nationalist government firmly in the saddle. The main problem now before the government was that of transportation, he added.

Canada's national wealth is increasing at a rate of nine hundred million dollars a year, according to a computation recently made by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Ontario leads in total wealth with $5,650,775,000. Other provinces follow in this order: Quebec, Saskatchewan, British Columbia, Alberta, Manitoba, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. While eastern provinces lead in absolute wealth, the western provinces rank highest in wealth per capita.

Canada, it was stated at a recent convention of the International Circulation Managers at Ottawa, has the largest foreign trade per capita in the world, the two greatest railways and the cheapest electricity. Canada ranks third in the production of the world's gold, third in silver, first in nickel and first in asbestos. More paper is handled in Canada than anywhere else.

A fast 20-foot quarter mile race track built up and surfaced like a good tennis court will be ready for the 4th annual Dominion track and field championships to be held at Banff next Labor Day. The infield has been specially prepared and resown and the grand stand enlarged. This will be the first time the Dominion championships have been held in Alberta since 1922.

Situated in the heart of the Rockies and of a huge natural game reserve and refuge, the animals at Banff are naturally very tame. Recently a bull elk who had been following with keen interest a one of golf played by Lou Gehrig, charter member of the Banff Golf Club, picked up the ball after it had been played onto the 14th green, chewed it and finally dropped it in a bunker. Mr. Crosby is willing to take his affidavit that this occurred as described.

Opening of the Pines Hotel at Digby, Nova Scotia, late in June, marks the interest taken by the Canadian Pacific Railway in Maritime Provinces tourist traffic. The hotel is handsomely appointed with special swimming and golf facilities and is a new from which many interesting trips through the Evangeline country and all over Nova Scotia can be made.

WITHIN TWO YEARS

Here are the chief developments, achieved or projected for the Maritime Provinces by the Canadian National Railways, within the past two years.

1. Approximately fifty million dollars are to be spent within the Atlantic Region for maintenance, improvements, repairs, operation, wages and purchases.

2. Construction of the "Nova Scotia" Hotel and Railway station with plaza, at Halifax.

3. Enlargement and improvement of Pictou Lodge log cabin resort, near Pictou town.

4. Relaying of mainline with hundred pound rails, half of which will be completed this year.

5. New car ferry for Prince Edward Island, together with improved terminals at Borden and Tormentine, involving the expenditure of between three and four million dollars.

6. New stations at North Sydney, Spryfield Junction, and Shubenacadie completed, and new station at Yarmouth projected.

7. Establishment of the Canada-West India service, with five of the finest ships sailing in tropical waters.

8. An all-Canada White Star and Cunard Lines, that brought to Halifax the heaviest winter port and business in its peacetime history, and brought to the Atlantic Region one of the heaviest periods of traffic movement in the annals of the railways.

9. A new freepool high-class hotel for the city of Charlottetown, P. E. I. Summerside, including station, roundhouse, powerhouse and yards.

10. New terminal facilities at Charlottetown.

11. New building at Saint John station for baggage, express and mail.

12. Twenty-nine per cent. of the total amount of coal used by the Canadian National Railways purchased from Nova Scotia mines.

13. Halifax made Atlantic headquarters for the Canadian National Steamships.

14. Opening of a new ticket office in Halifax. The finest railway ticket office in any city east of Toronto.

15. Standardization of gauge in Prince Edward Island.

16. Saint John Harbor bridge—projected.

17. Building locomotives at Moncton.

18. Special advertising of the Maritime Provinces throughout the continent, with a special exhibit of the Maritime Provinces being prepared for the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto.

19. Colonization Department at Moncton, in co-operation with the three provincial governments, assisted in bringing in 1752 immigrants.

20. Industrial Department at Moncton has assisted in establishing a number of new industries.

21. Taking over of the Saint John Valley Railway, Kent Northern, Quebec Oriental & Atlantic Quebec & Western Railways.

22. What the Canadian National has been able to accomplish for the Maritime Provinces within the past two years is an example to the Maritime people themselves. Who, residing in these provinces could fail to have faith in the Maritime Provinces, when faced with the task of character in evidence on every hand.

Of the three thousand odd miles of railway in the Maritime Provinces, the Canadian National Railways own and operate 2819 miles.

With that large mileage of railways, with the expenditures already made, and those projected, can there be any one who is so blind as not to see the vision of what the Canadian National Railways will do for the Maritime Provinces in the years to come? The recent visit of Sir Henry Thornton, President of the Canadian National Railways, to the Maritime Provinces, has been an inspiration alike to the people and to the railway, and truly had C. H. Wright, the President of the Halifax Board of Trade, declared in Halifax, that Sir Henry was a friend of the Maritime Provinces.

HADDON WESTCOTT

There passed away late Friday evening at the Digby General Hospital Haddon Westcott, one of Watford's most highly respected citizens, at the age of 61 years and 10 months. Deceased was born at Watford a son of the late Handley and Sarah Ann Westcott and resided there all his life, a farmer and weir builder having been a shareholder in Griffin Cove Weir Co. for over 35 years. He was well known throughout Digby and Digby Neck and was enjoying his health until a week before his death. He was laying at the time and after spending the forenoon in the hay field, went to a neighbor and when returning home with a mower knife, was hit by a car and rushed to the hospital where he never regained consciousness and, after a week of suffering, passed away.

Deceased was a member of the First Digby Neck Baptist Church, where he will be greatly missed having held several offices in his church work. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. J. T. Dimock from the Baptist church at Centreville with interment in the Baptist cemetery at Centreville.

He is survived by his wife, Annie and eight children living, his eldest daughter, Lena, wife of George Haight, having predeceased him by only six weeks and three days, Florence, wife of Kenneth Merritt, of Mink Cove; Daisy, Imelda, and Alda at home, Wilfred and Sidney at home; Leigh in Chicago and Aubrey at home. One sister and two brothers also survive. Mrs. Ida Hunt, Centreville, Charles, Centreville and Edward in Vancouver, B. C. also three grandchildren.

MRS. JANE TIBERT

Mrs. Jane Tibert, widow of the late G. N. Tibert, passed away at the home of her son, Clarence, at Central Grove, on Thursday of last week at the advanced age of 88 years and 7 months. She was born at Watford and was a daughter of the late William Cromwell, a United Empire Loyalist. The last of a large family, she became a Christian when quite young.

Brave Act of 13-Year-Old Boy Scout

Ernest Fritz, a thirteen year old lad, son of Mr and Mrs. Fritz, 100 Columbus Avenue, Tuckahoe, N. J., a visitor in Digby, performed an act of bravery a few days ago, when, fully dressed he jumped of the boat slip and rescued little Geraldine E. Syda, seven years old, who, while wading, had got into difficulties and was floundering beyond her depth. Quite a number of spectators were on the shore watching the child but they did not realize the serious danger she was in. Young Fritz saw her and knew at once she was drowning and without hesitation jumped in and brought her ashore. Little Geraldine is the daughter of Gerald and the late Idella Syda, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. M. Hayden, and her father and grandparents are indeed grateful to young Fritz for his brave action.

was baptized by the late Dr. J. C. Morse, and united with the Digby Neck First Baptist Church. She married Mr. Tibert, and went to Central Grove to live nearly 70 years ago. Her first and last thought was for the church, and missionary cause. She was a member of the Womens Missionary Aid Society for nearly 40 years, and was president for some time. She was also a life member of the U.B. W.M.U.

She leaves two sons to mourn, Weld, of Bridgewater, and Clarence with whom she lived; also twenty-four grandchildren and sixteen great grandchildren. Her husband, three daughters and two sons predeceased her some years ago. The funeral was attended by her pastor Dr. Greenwood. Four of her grandchildren acted as "pall-bearers": Karl, Gillman, Melvin and Robie Tibert.

Her passing was very sudden; only one day ill. On Sunday July 21st she attended church at Freeport in the morning and the home church and Sunday School in the afternoon. Every one who knew her can say: a loving mother, a kind friend and neighbor; a Christian woman in the truest sense, has been called into higher service. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful, testifying of the high esteem in which she was held.

TALK OF THE TOWN

The Sunday School picnic of Grace United Church will be held at Bayview next Tuesday.

A T. B. clinic was held in the Court House yesterday afternoon. Dr. Miller, of the Sanitarium, Kentville, was in attendance.

Capt. George Morrell this week sold the trawler Somor to Montreal parties, who have already taken delivery. She will be retained in the fishing business.

A Travel Talk on the Highlands of Scotland was given in the United Church at Bayview on Tuesday, which was much enjoyed by the good audience present.

Ben Tebo, a longshoreman employed in discharging the steamer Ruby L. on Wednesday evening, fell from the wharf striking on the steamer's guard inflicting painful but not serious injuries.

The anniversary services of Grace United Church will be held on Sunday. The special preacher will be Dr. G. J. Trueman, president of Mt. Allison University. There will be special music at both services.

The town council has been considering the question of the watering troughs at both ends of the town. Their usefulness has practically ceased and they will be done away with in the quite near future.

The 58th annual camp-meeting of the United Church meets in Berwick today and will continue until Sunday Aug. 11th. The principal speaker will be Dr. W. C. Poole, of London Eng. A grand temperance rally will be held on Wednesday afternoon next. The Lotus Male Quartette of Boston will furnish the music.

As a direct result of the coroner's verdict on the death of Vernon Eisner last Friday the town and power board will jointly bear the expense of putting in heavy posts at the transformer, and will plank them on the eastern and western sides. All of the protective structure will probably be painted white.

Someone told the editor yesterday that Tupper Warner had a bargain sale on mill wood. We called him up and were surprised to find that he was selling this wood, in five-load lots, at $1.25 a load. In taking our order he remarked: "Believe me, you are getting a bargain—that only figures out $2.50 a cord." We are passing this information on for the benefit of others.

H. M. S. Capetown has been in port since Tuesday and has been visited by a great many people in that time. Capt. Tait and some of his staff were guests of the town at the New Pines on Wednesday and yesterday they were taken on a drive to Annapolis Royal. On special request the band very kindly consented to play at the United Church garden party yesterday.

Three $1,000 Subscriptions Start the Drive

Monday, August 5th, is the opening date of the Building Fund Drive for Digby General Hospital and the Drive will begin under most favorable auspices. Three subscriptions of $1,000 each, from Dr. DuVernet, Dr. W. R. Dickie and from the Digby Ladies' Hospital Aid, will start the fund off with a $3,000 beginning. These contributions came on Wednesday and other large amounts have been partly promised so that with the full cooperation of all friends of the hospital it is confidently expected the full amount required will be secured.

In every section visited by the campaign organizer, Robert C. Mills, offers of help have been made and the work of organizing local committees is proceeding rapidly.

A meeting of the Drive Committee was held on Tuesday night when progress was reported and very favorable reports submitted.

Preliminary work of the committee consisted of circulating every village and section of the district served by the hospital. Nearly three thousand circulars have been sent out, and others are being mailed to summer residents and to Digby people now living in other parts of the country.

Word of the drive has been broadcast as far as British Columbia from where a former resident of Digby has written to a member of the Drive Committee, requesting that a pledge card be sent, with particulars as to

TALK OF THE TOWN

The Soangetaba Sunday School class, of the United Church, and several invited friends had an enjoyable motor boat trip on Thursday of last week. They left the boat slip about 8 o'clock and went out the Gut as far as Point Prim. Returning they landed at the Pines boat slip, built a bon fire and spent a pleasant hour or two in a social way, roasting marshmallows, talking, singing. It acted as a "get together" session of the class and it is hoped will have the effect of augmenting the regular attendance.

A large audience greeted the Yarmouth Male Choir at their concert in the Bijou Theatre on Friday evening last. The choir, consisting of eighteen voices under the direction of Prof. Roy Williams, lived up to its fine reputation as a body of talented singers, and greatly delighted the audience by their choice and varied programme. The soloists, Mr. Raymond and Mr. Gardner, received hearty encores, and the humorous readings by Mr. Gray were listened to with much appreciation. Before the concert the choir and their friends were entertained at a supper in the Church Hall provided by the Ladies Aid.

The country is in great need of rain. The field and garden crops are all suffering and at present it looks as though they would be a partial failure. The prolonged draught has parched everything growing, has dried up the streams and wells and the country generally is in a serious condition. The weather has been ideal from the standpoint of the tourist and pleasure seeker—we have not had better in years—but the farmer and those who live here the year round and are dependent on him for their vegetables are looking at things from a different point of view. In very many of the prayer meetings throughout the province this week prayers have been offered up for rain.

the plans so that this former Digby boy may do his bit towards the cause. Instances of this kind have been common, making the work a pleasure and the committee is encouraged in their faith that the full amount required will be raised.

Organization of committees of canvassers for Digby town will be completed tonight and the real work will begin on Monday when a systematic canvass of every house and place of business will be started.

The committee commends this drive to the favorable consideration of all residents and visitors in Digby. A new and up to date hospital is the need. It can only be obtained by the whole hearted support of all who at some time may need its service.

Weddings

At the Baptist Parsonage, Digby, by the Rev. F. E. Bishop on Wednesday of last week, Miss Gertrude M. Theriault, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Theriault of East Ferry, was united in marriage to Leo Rose of New York.

The bride, who was unattended looked charming in an orchid crepe de chene dress with hat and shoes to match. The happy couple will reside in New York.

A very quiet wedding took place at All Saints' Rectory, Whiteby, Ont., on July 26th, when Charlotte Elizabeth, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Gulliver, of Whiteby, became the bride of Mr. Goodwin Kiew Sturgeon, eldest son of Mr. Robert G. Sturgeon, of Peterboro. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. Crisall, rector of All Saints' Church, Whiteby. The bride wore blue georgette ensemble, with hat and shoes to match, and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses and baby breath. She was attended by Miss Eva Sturgeon, sister of the groom, and the groom was supported by Mr. Joseph Gulliver, brother of the bride. After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, when a dainty luncheon was served, and later the bride and groom left on an extended motor trip.

Rural Deanery

Regrets the Many Motor Accidents

A meeting of the Rural Deanery was held at Granville Ferry on Wednesday afternoon. There was a full attendance of all the clergy of the Deanery with the exception of Rev. Canon Underwood, of Bridge-town who is in England on leave of absence, from whom an interesting letter was read. Archdeacon Vroom read a paper on "The Psychology of Religion", which evoked considerable discussion.

The following resolution was passed unanimously:

"We, the clergy of the Annapolis District, in chapter assembled, view with alarm the frequent motor accidents and fatalities that have occurred in the district under our care, comprising Annapolis and Digby counties, during the month of July, and we feel that immediate action should be taken to end this deplorable condition. We further ask for a report of investigations and inquests held in relation thereto, with a view to solving the moral problems arising from these accidents.

We ask this with a view to following up the matter to some satisfactory conclusion in the interests of those for whom we are responsible and to the public at large.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 2, 1929

Digby's Night Life

Digby is one of the most—if not the most "wide-open" town in Nova Scotia. There is something doing, twenty-four hours a day, Sundays included. And what does it all mean? Cars and trucks roaring through the principal streets in the early hours of the morning, a menace not only to the peace and quietness of the town, but to life and limb, as evidenced by the very lamentable accident on Friday in which a promising young man lost his life—and his errand on the face of the facts evoked at the Coroner's inquest, was not a necessary one. We can understand a few cars being called out to meet the morning train, or for a doctor to be called out to a sick call, or a belated touring car to arrive during the night, but what other legitimate business has Digby to call cars out by the dozen? Surely they do not come out just to go around the head of the Bay and back again—people are not fools enough to believe that—there is something behind it all and we are afraid that whatever it is it is not creditable to the town. We had an example of late hours last summer resulting in the death of a man at Mount Pleasant and another last week. Young men cannot work all day and drive cars all night and keep their wits about them. Something should be done and must be done to protect the young life of the town.

"Marty" Will Be At Helm In Classic

Captain Martin L. Welsh, a Nova Scotian and born in Digby, probably the most famous of Gloucester fishermen racing skippers, may return to the game which won him national fame when coming racing series for United States fishing vessels is held off Gloucester on August 31st and September 2nd. At a meeting of the fishermen's racing committee in Gloucester last week, the schooner, Progress, a reputed fast sailer, was entered and it was also announced that unless something unforeseen, develops, Captain "Marty" will be at the helm of the Progress when the starting gun booms for the first race.

Freezer Plans Available to Fishermen

G. E. Torrie, overseer of fisheries has received the following letter from the department, under date of July 15:

"You will please make it as widely known as possible among the fishermen of your district that plans and specifications for a ten ton freezer are now available on application to the Fisheries Branch, Ottawa. The plans provide for a frame building thirty-six feet long, twenty feet wide and fifteen feet high in the past which should contain an ice storage room, a cold storage room and a freezing chamber, as well as an entry room and shed. The plans also show a suggested extension of the building with twenty tons of storage capacity."

The largest catch of fish ever taken into Clarks Harbor by one boat was taken there one night last week by The Friendship II, Capt Robert Blairs. She had 17,000 pounds and had been out two days. She carried two dories and a crew of five men.

Rotarians Gathered at the New Pines

Every Club in the District was Represented at the 1929 Conference

Featured by an inspiring address delivered by Lieutenant Governor Tory, the 1929 assembly of District No. 32, Rotary International opened its sessions last Thursday at the New Pines hotel, with a full attendance of presidents and secretaries from the fourteen Rotary clubs of the Maritime provinces and Newfoundland. The presence of the Lieutenant Governor was of a semi-official nature and the distinguished visitor was greeted by the delegates standing. Officials of the conference were then presented to his Honor.

The Lieutenant Governor stressed the fact that the principals of Rotary stood for the best two forces in the world—Friendship and Goodwill. The Rotarians of the world exercised a healthy influence. He said that the principals of Rotary were never better exemplified than by the feature despatches in the press that, wherein President Hoover of United States and Premier Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain declared that in future relations between those countries shall be governed by considerations of friendship and good will rather than considerations of jealousy and naval rivalry.

Another feature of the session was the presence of Don Adams, of New Haven, Conn., who is a past president of International Rotary.

The assembly opened with a call to order by George E. Graham, Rotarian Governor of District 32. He was followed by Major T. E. G. Lynch of Digby who welcomed the Rotarians. Though not a Rotarian himself he nevertheless was aware of the great amount of good accomplished by the clubs whose watchword he understood, was true service to all mankind.

A statement of the purpose and scope of the meeting and of the Rotary governor's contact with various Rotary clubs was delivered by District Governor George E. Graham.

Papers on club administration were read by Laurie Ellis, president of the Kentville club; aims and objective plans by William A. Hart, president of Halifax Rotary; club service, by Karl Baker, president of Yarmouth club and a paper on Rotary extension by Percy Bentley of Truro.

Two invitations were received for the district conference that is to be held in 1930, one from the Sydney club and one from the Kentville club, which extended an invitation to have the conference held next year at the New Pines hotel, with Kentville Rotary in the role of host club.

Praise was given for the assistance of A. B. H. Chely and George C. MacDonald of Kentville Rotary, whose organizational ability was a factor in assuring the success of the meeting at Digby and also to Rotarian A. H. Morash, song leader and soloist.

"The great unsolved problem of our higher schools of learning is not to get boys and girls to attend them but to keep those who should not attend. Not every boy and girl should go to a high school. We have at Yale university many hundreds enrolled in our classes whose education will never be any good to them. They should be at work." Such was the rather startling declaration of Don Adams, past president of International Rotary and lecturer of Commercial Law at Yale university, in the closing words of his address at the final session of the 1929 assembly. Mr. Adams urged however that Rotary clubs everywhere assist in opening the road to a higher education for boys and girls fitted to receive it. In passing from the discussion of boys' work, and on the aims and objects of Rotary, Mr. Adams said: "It is almost overwhelming to consider the things we stand for, what we pretend to, what we say to the world we are. If we do not live Rotary and practice it, then what Mencken and Sinclair say about us is true. If we live and practice Rotary we don't need to care what Mencken and Lewis or anyone else say about us."

Another forceful and inspiring address was delivered by District Governor, George E. Graham of Kentville, who emphasized the personal responsibility that Rotarians in the district realize those responsibilities and with them the principles and opportunities that come to them as a body 150,000 strong, organized to promote the high ideals which are incorporated in the aims and objects of Rotary International. "You are all marked men," he said, and closed with the promise of his support and personal aid to any Rotary club when that assistance should be necessary. Mr. Graham closed his remarks with an expression of appreciation to Clifford G. Baker of Kentville, who at his personal request took charge of the secretarial work of the conference.

Papers were read on "Vocational Service by George J. Smith president of the Saint John club; on "Boys Work" by George Armstrong, secretary of Fredericton Rotary; and on "Community Service" by J. A. MacMillan, president of the Charlotte-town club.

On motion of Rotarian Herbert Russell, president of the Newfoundland club, seconded by Harry Matthews, president of the Sydney club, a vote of thanks was passed and extended to the Governor of the district and to Laurie Ellis, president of the Kentville club, which club made arrangements for and were hosts at the conference.

The big dredge Leaconfield was in port over Sunday on her way from Saint John to Liverpool. She was accompanied by two towboats and the steam hopper, Foremost 17, Capt. Cunningham. It is estimated that this dredge will come to Digby as soon as her work in Liverpool is done to do some dredging in preparation for the new steamer.

Mrs. Sulis Celebrated 92nd Birthday

The ninety-second birthday of Miss Minerva Sulis, of Smith's Cove, was quietly celebrated a few days ago at her home—the same pretty cottage home to which, on a June day 69 years ago she came as the bride of the late Captain Geo. Sulis.

Although somewhat enfeebled in health, by advanced years, Mrs. Sulis was still able to see her friends who called to present felicitations. She was assisted in receiving by her daughter, Miss Bessie Sulis and Miss A. L. Jagger. For several years a special feature of the day has been the presentation of a birthday cake by the Women's Institute of Smith's Cove. The cake is always prepared by Mrs. Oscar Morgan and Mrs. Arthur Sulis, members of the Women's Institute. Birthday messages were received from relatives and friends both at home and abroad.

Mrs. Sulis, or Aunt Minerva, as she is more affectionately known, retains her memory to a marked degree. She is one of the few remaining links between the past and the present and her reminiscences of the pioneer days of this country are of great interest.

Her parents, Edward H. and Elizabeth Snow Sypher, were United Empire Loyalists. Her father helped to build the first church at South Range, and was the first Sunday school superintendent there. Rev. Mr. Bullock was the rector at that time.

As long as her health permitted Mrs. Sulis, who is a member of the United Church, took an active part in the work of the church. She was superintendent of the Sunday School for many years, and it was largely through her efforts that the Methodist church at Smith's Cove was built. The land on which it stands was a gift to the church from her husband, the late Captain Sulis.

Mrs. Sulis has three children. Avery Sulis and Mrs. Slocum, in the United States, and Miss Bessie at home. She also has three step-children, a number of grandchildren and step-grandchildren, and several great great grandchildren.

An Indian grave, discovered by accident by Canadian Pacific employees at work near Brooks, Alberta, last May, is considered by experts to be between 600 and 400 years old. It is thought the grave was originally above ground but the passage of centuries had buried the grave below the soil. An irrigation ditch was being constructed when the grave was discovered.

Tri-motored airplanes are being launched in one of the most spectacular fights in the history of aviation. War has been declared by the Canadian Government on the spruce bud worm and the airplane is to be the principal arm of the service. Planes each carry 1,500 pounds of powder, and will dust it while flying low, over the tree tops.

The blueberry industry is showing much improvement in Yarmouth and Shelburne counties, Nova Scotia. Last year there were only 4,000 acres of crown land burned for blueberry growing; this year 10,000 acres have been burned. Value of crop last year was $65,000 and it is estimated that the crop's value could be increased to half a million dollars.

The province of Alberta has adopted Old Age Pensions, the funds for which are provided by co-operation between the federal and provincial governments. The scheme had been adopted by all Canadian provinces from the Quebec boundary westward.

Though crops in several parts of Western Canada would be benefited by rains, crop outlook on the whole is very promising. Reports from all sections of Saskatchewan are generally encouraging. The Alberta report is good, especially the Peace River country where present prospects indicate one of the best crops on record. About 25,000,000 acres are sown to wheat in Canada this year. Last year the Dominion harvested over 533,000,000 bushels of wheat, the largest crop in the country's history.

The fourth annual midsummer gathering of the Swedish-Canadian League held a two-day convention at Lac du Bonet, Manitoba, recently and decided to build a home for Old Swedish folk at Winnipeg. Another feature of the gathering was a concert of old Swedish folk-dancing and songs presented in old-time costumes. Many of the dancers were the same who appeared at the Regina festival held earlier in the year at the Saskatchewan hotel in that city.

A list of extraordinary accidents has recently been published occurring to motorists at level crossings and included the following—One driver parked car on tracks and went to sleep. 44 motorists drove into the sides of moving trains, 34 drove into the sides of standing trains. One tried unsuccessfully to drive between railway cars while they were switching. Seven went for a drive along the tracks and met express trains. One driver left his car on the tracks while he went to search for something he had dropped on the road when he returned there was nothing left of his car. Eleven found out too late that their brakes needed relining.

Death Closes Career of Loved Priest

Very Reverend Monsignor Thomas Grace, for fifty seven years a priest, and for the greater part of that time serving at Annapolis Royal and Digby, passed away early Saturday morning at the Halifax infirmary, where he had made his home for the past several years.

The funeral took place Tuesday morning at Annapolis Royal.

One of the most interesting figures among the Roman Catholic clergy in the province of Nova Scotia was Rt. Rev. Monsignor Thomas Grace of Annapolis Royal. Father Grace had given 53 years of his life to further the work of the church, the greater portion of which he had spent in the Annapolis section of the province.

Great strides in the advancement of the cause of the church marked this period of time and in this forward movement Father Grace took no small part.

Among his greater achievements, are numbered:

The completion of the exterior of St. Croix Church, Digby, a church commenced by the late Monsignor Driscoll.

The starting of the old St. Thomas church at Joggins Mines, Cumberland county.

The erection of a Glebe House at Annapolis Royal and also one at Herring Cove.

The completion of the church at Ketch Harbor, Halifax county.

The erection of a new church at Annapolis Royal and the purchase of a new Glebe House.

Honored alike by all people, regardless of race or creed Father Grace occupied an exalted position not only in the Annapolis Royal district but throughout the entire province.

One of the most striking results of his work is the splendid church of St. Thomas which serves the community of Annapolis Royal and vicinity, a church which is numbered among the real treasures of this historic old town and which for many years has been a center of interest for visitors and home people.

Looking back over the 53 years he had spent in the services of his church, in an interview, just prior to his retirement, Father Grace saw only the progress which had marked the passing of the half century of time. The difficulties and the many obstacles which beset the long journey were forgotten. In the later years of his life, his enthusiasm was not lessened as is shown in the following paragraph taken from the same interview:

"There is an unmistakable ring of pride in his voice as he enumerates the new temples of God which have raised their steeples dotting a district, which in the days of his youth, contained but few rude structures wherein the gospel was taught."

The passing years failed to dim the brightness of his eye, failed to becloud the keen mental faculties which had championed the cause of the church throughout the years. Father Grace was a truly remarkable man. His work in the church was known throughout the length and breadth of Nova Scotia. His name was a household word from Halifax to Yarmouth and with it were associated courtesy, kindness, courage and a devotion to duty of a quality that is rare in these twentieth century days.

Born in St. John's Newfoundland, in 1848, Father Grace left his home when but a youth, journeyed to Montreal where he entered on his studies in the Grand Seminary there. It was in 1864 that he came to Nova Scotia serving from then until his ordination 1872 in St. Patrick's parish, Halifax. From Halifax, Father Grace came to Digby and shortly after his ordination was sent to assist Rev. Father Donohue who had charge of the mission at Eel Brook, Yarmouth. Tusket Wedge and Quinan, then called The Forks.

After a few months there he was given charge of the mission at St. Croix in Digby County. This mission included Plympton, Doucetteville, Digby Neck and Long Island. In addition to this he had also to attend to Annapolis Royal for two years. His next mission was Annapolis Royal. After some years at Annapolis as first president priest after the expulsion of the Acadians, he went to Herring Cove, returning later to Annapolis where he remained until his retirement from the service of the church.

On Sunday, Dec. 27th., 1925, Monsignor Grace retired from the church and that occasion was marked by a demonstration on the part of the citizens of Annapolis which gave striking proof of their love for the pioneer priest.

The Pipers Helped Out the Carnival

Pipe Major Wallace Roy, Drum Major William Breen, Pipers Alex McDonald, Byron Stewart, Frank O'Brien, Walter Roy, Norman McLeod and Alex Nicholson, also Drummers David Matheson and Danny Matheson, arrived on Thursday after attending the Scottish Festival at Annapolis Royal and were guests of Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Campbell over the Carnival. The music which these members of the Pipe Band of the Pictou Highlanders so kindly rendered during their stay contributed greatly toward the success of our annual celebration. And on leaving Saturday, they expressed appreciation of the friendliness and hospitality shown them throughout their visit.

An Appreciation

The Chairman of the Parade Committee of the Bear River Cherry Carnival wishes to thank all those who entered the parade. The entries were a credit to the community and the judges had a difficult task in selecting the prize winners. As usual, the "Old Stand-bys" furnished most of the entries. Their efforts are known and appreciated by all. In addition, thanks are due to out of town friends, especially W. R. Harris of Weymouth, H. T. Warne of Digby and "Ted Mitchell" who furnished the Commercial Floats. Next year we hope our local firms will enter the competition.

The community wish to thank the judges, Mrs. Livingston, Reginald Hardwick, and Dr. Croscup for their impartial decisions.

The ladies of the United Baptist church are planning to hold their annual Garden Party on the church grounds on Thursday afternoon, Aug. 8th. Reserve this date.

Cherry Carnival Was a Big Success

By unanimous consent, the Cherry Carnival of 1929 has been voted the best ever held in Bear River. The weather was beautiful, the cherries were plentiful, and the tide served excellently for the water sports. But all of these things, as important as they are, would not have made a successful Carnival if it had not been for the splendid spirit of co-operation on the part of the entire community.

The proceeds from the Carnival this year are to be devoted to procuring fire-fighting apparatus for the town, and with this object in view, everyone put forth their best efforts to make it a financial success.

The work was well organized under the Chairmanship of Dr. L. J. Lovett with L. V. Harris acting as Secretary, and Committees were appointed to look after the different departments of the day's activities.

The biggest job of the lot was given to the women who had to attend to the feeding arrangements for the crowd, and this was carried out in a most excellent and efficient manner.

The Women's Institute, as usual conducted a Gift Shop and turned over their entire proceeds for the general fund.

The Parade Committee, under the Chairmanship of Carey Henshaw produced the finest parade ever witnessed in Bear River, and the sports both land and water, contained a number of novelties which had not usually been included in the Carnival programs in the past. The crowds attending were larger than usual, both in the morning and afternoon, and the visitors all seemed pleased with the entertainment and provision furnished for their benefit.

An unusual feature this year was the music furnished by the Piper's Band, made up of Highlanders from Pictou and Cape Breton. This music was furnished in addition to that provided by the Annapolis Royal Brass Band.

The evening's entertainment was provided in Oakdene Hall by the Weymouth players who staged an excellent 2-act comedy, "Fixing It For Father".

(329) New style backless seats for first class coaches on Canadian Pacific fast trains have been introduced on regular trains, of the company and are proving very popular. The seats are upholstered in a cool moquette material and are provided on their backs with a pocket for a first class ticket and check holder for the convenience of passengers.

The store recently visited Canadian Pacific train No. 51 between Langan and Saskatoon and left a daughter to Mrs. Mary Alexander on her way with her husband to settle on a farm near Edmonton. Miss Blinning, government conductor of the immigration department at Quebec, was on the train. She said that a first class ticket from Quebec to a point in the west, and back, cost $10.00. Mother and daughter are doing well.

Sixth annual trail ride in the Canadian Rockies will start from Banff August 1, and end a few days later at Calgary. The trail is a "glacier" trail, and the riders will form half of the long desired High Line trail from Banff to Lake Louise. The second half will also skirt several glacial lakes. About August 8 the long distance trail ride from Lake Louise to the Columbia Icefield will make a start. This icefield covers the largest and most spectacular body of ice left on the North American continent surrounded by peaks as high as 12,000 feet. The second half of the ride will take nearly three weeks.

The only gold trophy offered on the continent by the Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales Cup, presented to the Banff Spring Golf Club for annual competition by some 150 amateurs, of the course there, will be among the outstanding prizes of gold when members of the "Canadian Golder" tour special train which is crossing Canada from Toronto to Victoria and back this summer, arrive at Banff early in September.

Scotland and Glasgow are proud of Canada for the part she is playing in trans-Atlantic shipping, said T. A. Duff, well-known shipowner and broker, when interviewed at Banff recently. "The building of a ship directly employs about 5,000 craftsmen on the Clyde," he added, "and the supplying of the materials and fittings required in construction indirectly benefit industries throughout Scotland." Mr. Duff said that Scotland felt that the Canadian Pacific whose recent ship orders had done so much for Scottish industry, was as much Scotch as Canadian, the founders having been Scotchmen, and as many of the ships of Scottish construction.

During the past five months all milk production records at Strathmore farm have been broken. Strathmore, Sylvia, in the mature class by producing 29.27 pounds of milk moved the mature class record up 4.821 pounds. In the four-year-old class, Strathmore, Terrence, Sylvia, produced the 160-pound record by producing 23.568 pounds of milk, a record of 23.636 pounds. Strathmore, Lassie, Sylvia, in the three-year-old class, finished on February 22nd, 1928, with 23.568 pounds of milk, or 3.568 pounds more than the former record. To Francey, in the two-year-old class, however, belongs the premier honor—she broke the farm record of 5.315 pounds. Although only a two-year-old when placed on test, she produced 22.222 pounds of milk, which was sold to the T. M. W. Company for $564.05. Her calf, now one year old, is priced at $100.

TÉJERO of Barcelona—beauty specialist by appointment to three reigning queens prescribes to his exclusive clientele regular, twice-a-day cleansing with Palmolive soap. "The effect of the pure palm and olive oils in Palmolive soap is to penetrate gently but deep down into the pores, to remove all accumulations and to soothe and rejuvenate the tissues," says Téjero. He recommends this treatment: Massage Palmolive soap and warm water carefully into the skin. Rinse with both warm water and cold.

Riding on the Roof of the Rockies

SHADOW LAKE UNDER THE SHADOW OF MT. BALL

Among the most spectacular of the Trail Rides ever attempted in the Canadian Rockies will be the one proposed to start August 3 and lasting 18 days, to take in a long distance ride to the Columbia Icefield from Lake Louise. This icefield is the largest body of glacial ice left on the North American continent covering 150 square miles and surrounded by peaks from ten to twelve thousand feet in height. The ride will be from Lake Louise up the Bow Valley to Bow Lake, over Bow Pass and by the Mistaya Valley past Waterfall Lakes to the North Saskatchewan River, then up the Alexandra River Valley to Castle Guard and the Columbia Icefield. Only Trail Riders holding at least the silver button, emblematic of completion of 100 miles of trail riding, will be permitted to join the expedition, since all taking part must satisfy the committee that they will not prove a burden to the rest of the party.

For less experienced Trail Riders, or those who cannot spare the time, there will be a four-day ride starting from Banff August 1 and ending at Castle Mountain Bungalow Camp. It will take in the Egypt Lake district, which will be accessible for the first time this summer, so that those participating in this ride may regard themselves as pioneers. Beautiful Shadow Lake under Mount Ball will be the camp site of the riders on the second day out and, in all, seven glacier-fed lakes will be on the route of the trail.

Many Paid Last Respects to Eisener

The funeral of Harold Vernon Eisener, age 23, the victim of Friday morning's automobile tragedy in the Town Hollow, was conducted Sunday afternoon from the Clementsport United Church, with Rev. Dr. Hancock, of the United Church at Annapolis Royal officiating, assisted by Rev. F. E. Bishop, of the Digby Baptist Church.

The funeral procession left the home of Forrest Eisener, Digby, a brother of the deceased. From Digby some forty cars followed the remains fifteen miles to the church at Clementsport where they were joined by many others. The funeral was probably the largest ever held in that place.

The young man was one of the best known and most popular of the Digby young people, and had a host of friends in both Digby and Annapolis Counties. He has been employed at his brother's garage here for several years. His untimely passing was a blow to the whole community.

The floral contributions were numerous and beautiful.

Guy Dunn, Webster Dunn, Joshua Haight and Frank Wood, all fellow employees with the Digby Motors, acted as pallbearers. The interment was in the cemetery adjoining the church at Clementsport.

On Friday evening at 8 o'clock an inquest was held in the rooms of Funeral Service Registered, First Avenue, before S. A. Keen, a Coroner of the County of Digby. W. H. Farnham was foreman of the jury. Three witnesses were heard—Dr. Du Vernet, Charles Hyson and Curtis Denton. The following verdict was returned:

"That Harold Vernon Eisener came to his death by being pinned under the automobile he was driving which left the rear hitting the fence of the electric transformers and turning turtle, on Warwick Street, near the Digby town line, at or about three o'clock on the 26th July, 1919."

The jury also brought in a recommendation that the transformers be raised ten feet, and the supports be painted white and to be illuminated by an electric light.

The evidence did not bring out the direct cause of the accident. In Dr. Du Vernet's evidence he states that there was a little fog but the visibility was fairly good. Denton on the other hand says it was very foggy. Both were no doubt right. The doctor was in town where fog is never a great detriment, but Denton was just coming in from down the Bay where fog is often very dense, as it was that morning. Hyson had mentioned the fog but thought the accident was caused by Eisener's driving at the wheel. The actual cause of the accident will probably never be known but Hyson's explanation seems logical. Eisener was known to be a very careful driver.

In conversation with the editor of this paper, with whom he made his home, only a week before, he had volunteered the statement that 30 or 35 miles was plenty fast enough for him and if he went over that it was on a piece of road that he knew to be good. In the same conversation he also said: "When a man is driving at 30 or 35 miles an hour he is boss; when he is driving at 40 miles the car is the boss." In view of this Hyson's explanation looks reasonable. Eisener had been out of bed since seven o'clock Thursday morning on the go almost twenty hours. Naturally he would be sleepy—nature can only stand a certain amount of abuse. If he dozed his body would slump forward over the wheel thus causing a little more pressure on the accelerator and the car would jump ahead. From our knowledge of the young fellow we are inclined to think that this is what happened.

Gas Tanks In Shop Explode

The shore property of Captain George Denton at Westport was completely destroyed by fire last week. The captain, who is seventy five years of age, had been out fishing with his grandson, Wilfred Dakin, and coming in went into his gasoline shop with a lighted lantern accompanied by his grandson, to draw gasoline for the next day's use in fishing. The gasoline shop was a small part of the larger shop partitioned off. It was a very warm day, there was a leaky gasoline barrel, and the shop was full of fumes. When the captain began to draw the gasoline there was a terrible explosion, which staggered the men, and the captain was badly burned and hurt. They rushed out and almost instantly the whole place was ablaze, and explosion followed explosion, as there were five full casks of gas-line and some empty ones in the shop.

In the long outer shed was fishing gear of all kinds, all his lobster traps, ropes, buoys and 314 new buoys that had never been used, twenty-five casks of fish, two barrels of cylinder oil, two gasoline engines, bins of salt, and in fact the accumulations of a life time as captain of vessels and motor boats. There were heavy anchors blown about 150 yards from the tops of empty gasoline casks. The people came from far and near and worked valiantly to save the surrounding houses and shops, the heat being too intense to try to save Captain Denton's, and although it was perfectly calm, the burning ember fell a half mile away from the scene of the fire. A young man, Murray Peters, had his arm injured, and Colin Thompson fell from the roof of a building.

Many houses and shops were ignited and only by heroic efforts was a terrible loss of property averted. Many women in the homes had their personal goods all packed and ready to move out. Having no fire apparatus in this place, and being low tide at the time, it was strenuous work for the bucket brigades. The loss to Captain Denton was estimated at about $20,000 and no insurance. The fire burned all night until 8 o'clock in the morning. The rising tide saved the under part of the wharf and men are trying to save some of the fish from the bottoms of the casks which had not boiled to pieces. The people in Westport today are thankful that the wind was not blowing a gale as it has been so much this summer or the whole southern end of the island would have been swept away.

Weddings

CROCKETT-RAYMOND

"In the shade of the old apple tree," standing widely branched and inviting, in a field near Beeler and Peters' mill on the Morse Road, and amid the glories of a perfect mid summer afternoon, the young bride and groom, Vesta Pearl Raymond, of Centreville, Digby County and George Willard Crockett, now of Amherst, pledged their sacred vows. Rev. L. E. Ackland of Bridgetown spoke the magic words that made them one for life, and Rev. H. L. Kinsman (by happy coincidence a former pastor of the bride's parent) together with A. L. Smith of the mill staff, witnessed the romantic event. The latter furnished on the spur of the moment from the resources of the nearby cook house, a wedding luncheon in quality most fitting to the occasion. Not every romantic bride and groom-to-be have the good fortune to find at the psychological moment on the mountainside highway, two parsons, an apple tree arch with the summer wilderness for a background, and a wedding feast all served and waiting on the cook-house table. May the same good fortune follow the travelers on the voyage of life.—(Bridge town Monitor)

As a rule the tin with copper bottom are a poor investment for they rust just above the copper bottom due to chemical action. Our all-copper boilers have a coating on the inside of Pure Tin, making a bright clean surface for the clothes to come into contact with. Pure tin does not rust as does the sheet tin, which is a steel sheet coated with tin. The rust comes from the steel underneath. The all-copper boiler overcomes this.

Acadian Picnic To Raise Money for New Church

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 20, 21 and 22 will be gala days in the Acadian section of Digby County, the Municipality of Clare—for during these three days the annual Pic-Nic in aid of the new church at St. Bernard's, which has been under construction since 1910 will be held.

The construction of this church in reality a cathedral, was commenced in that year by the Rev. Father Edward LeBlanc, then Parish Priest at Saint Bernard, and now Bishop of the diocese of Saint John, and has been carried on by the priests who have had charge of the parish since then.

During the past few years rapid progress has been shown on this beautiful edifice and today the magnificent exterior is about completed, the windows are in, and the roof covered, and as it stands, even in its uncompleted state, it is by far the most imposing building of any kind in the western part of the province of Nova Scotia.

It is estimated that when completed the cost will be a quarter of a million dollars and more, and during the nineteen years that the church has been under construction over half of this amount has been expended.

The church is being built of an excellent quality grey granite, quarried near Shelburne. At Saint Bernard it is cut and laid stone upon stone by willing workers. Each year a grand picnic is held on the grounds adjacent to the new church, which is attended by thousands, not only from the vicinity, but from all parts of Canada and the United States. At this picnic there are interesting booths of all kinds, games and various other kinds of amusement. One booth which is always popular among the tourists is the fancy work booth, where are on sale many beautiful things made by the Acadian women of the Parish.

This year the picnic will be carried on in an old fashioned Acadian way, and is hoped that it will prove an even greater success than in years gone by.

Charles DeLong Badly Hurt In Fall From Pole

Seriously injured, Charles DeLong, lineman of the Digby County Power Board, is at the Digby General Hospital battling for life as a result of an accident which occurred about noon Saturday, while he was engaged at his work near Plympton.

DeLong, in company with Alvin Williams, chief operator at the hydro station near Weymouth, had been engaged in checking up the transformers on the transmission lines, several of which had been affected by the recent storm. The two men had climbed a pole near Plympton and had apparently repaired the transformers. DeLong was making preparations to descend and Williams reached over and turned on the current. In some manner DeLong came in contact with the high tension wire, the shock of which tore him loose from the pole. He fell 35 feet to the ground, striking on his head and shoulders. Williams immediately descended the pole and rushed to the assistance of his companion, who was conscious and trying to rise. Williams lost no time in getting Dr. Harris to the scene. The injured man was taken to Digby, where an X-ray examination was held in the office of Dr. W. R. Dickie. It was disclosed that a part of the spine was fractured and had narrowly missed tearing the spinal cord. DeLong was then taken to the Digby Hospital.

At a consultation held on Sunday the doctors agreed that DeLong had a good fighting chance for recovery. He is young and clean living and he is in good physical condition to make a fight. His incapacity will be a long one, but already his condition shows improvement.

The United Baptist church will hold its annual garden party on the parsonage grounds next Wednesday afternoon. On the same day St. Clements Parish will hold its garden party at Deep Brook, and the day following St. Patrick's Church will hold theirs on the grounds around the Pavilion, opposite the Manhattan Hotel.

There will be the usual Book Table at the Hospital Fair August 21st. Kindly remember it when you are looking thru your book shelves, and make it a donation of one or two books that you have read.

The tern schooner Frederick H. in command of Capt. G. M. Morris of Bear River, has just arrived in Saint John with 300 tons of hard coal. She made the passage from Port Reading in three and a half days.

Through a typographical error in the advertisement of the sale of the steamer "S. E. Jordan", which is to take place on Saturday, August 17, the length of the vessel was put at 82 feet. This should have been 32 feet.

The receipts of the Church of England garden party on Wednesday were $720. This sets a new record for garden parties in the town of Digby, and we congratulate our friends of Trinity Church for their wonderful success.

The schooner Annie, Capt. Fred Clark, arrived in port on Wednesday and was at once chartered by the Mersey Paper Co., at Liverpool, to proceed to Gilbert's Cove to load pulpwood. She has since cleared for that port.

The tern schooner Souvenir, Capt. Oscar Outhouse, arrived in port from Beaver Harbor on Wednesday evening, en route to Annapolis Royal with fish for Robin Jones & Whitman. She will then proceed to Port Wade to load lumber for Eastport, Maine.

The largest yacht to visit this port for years was at anchor off the Racquette yesterday. She is the Vanda Capt. H. A. D. Cameron, owned by Ernest B. Dane, of Brookline, Mass. She has fourteen passengers on board one of whom is Albert McCabe, formerly of Annapolis Royal, but who has not been here for thirty years. He is a brother of B. McCabe, of the C. P. R. office, in Saint John. The Vanda is of steel construction and registers 1279 tons. She is 240 feet in length and is propelled by Diesel engines. Her crew consists of 33. She arrived here from Seal Harbor, Me., and cleared for Southwest Harbor, Me. Dr. and Mrs. Baldwin, who have been guests at the New Pines, joined her here.

Drenched and chilled to the bone, four men of the two-masted schooner Valdare, landed at Narraguagus light-house, Pond Island, Maine on Monday afternoon all-night pull on the oars over a gale-swept six-mile stretch of water from Petit Manan Bar.

Leaking badly, and her masts gone the Valdare rammed hard and fast on the Bar. Captain W. H. Tupper and his three men crew abandoned the vessel when it began to break up on the rocks. The men pulled against head winds all night until they reached Pond Island.

The Valdare was headed for Boston from Nova Scotia with a cargo of piling and cordwood for the William Smith Company of Boston and the J. C. Pickering Company, of Salem Mass.

The 100-ton craft pounded her way into the wind for hours. Her masts bent under the force of the gale and both sticks snapped as Captain Tupper headed her in for shelter. The gale carried her toward the bar.

Helpless in the face of the wind and the churning sea, the crew clung to her until she jammed on the rocks. After a long struggle the crew succeeded in launching a dory. In the small boat they were at the mercy of the elements. All four pulled at the oars. The dory withstood the furious seas which threatened again and again to swamp her. At times she was nearly half filled with water.

Ten hours after they abandoned the Valdare, Capt. Tupper and his men neared the Narraguagus Lighthouse.

Culloden

The following are recent arrivals at Bay of Fundy House: Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Luther, Cambridge, Mass.; Miss Ives Foster, New York City; Rev. and Mrs. Lester Riley and children, Elizabeth and Christopher, Douglaston, L. I., Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Gillies, Arlington, N. J. and Mr. and Mrs. George Gillies, Newark, N. J.; J. L. Post of Boston, Mrs. H. H. Higgins and Gertrude H. Jordan of Burlington.

The rain of Saturday night and Sunday morning was a welcome boon to gardens and fields and glad news to the farmers who had seen their vegetation slowly withering. The clouds had mostly disappeared and the sun was shining before the hour for the union service in the Baptist church. There was a good many present of old and young. Rev. C. D. Crane conducted the service and preached a sermon on "The Gospel of Hope". He also gave a short address to the children. Mr. Riley sang a solo and Mrs. Hawker of Saint John presided at the organ.

On Sunday evening there was another community sing at the Bay of Fundy House with a good attendance. Mr. Riley acted as chorister and Mrs. Hawker was accompanist. Interspersed with the singing were readings. Mr. Crane gave a dramatic rendering of "The Lost Boy" by Henry J. Vanoyke, and "The Legend" by Henry J. Vanoyke, and proved herself an expert in that line.

On week day nights it is a jolly group that gathers about the blazing open fire in the spacious parlor of the Bay of Fundy House and past of laughter, great jokes and amusing stories that follow one another in rapid succession. Toasting marshmallows has been one of the evening pastimes.

Miss Letitia Bayne, of Everett, Mass., left on Monday to attend a camp meeting at Berwick.

Rev. C. D. Crane has gone to Sandy Cove to spend a few weeks. He plans to return to Culloden if possible and to conduct a union service in the Methodist church on Sunday, Sept. 1. Mr. Crane will return to the States Sept. 6 by way of Saint John.

Mr. B. J. Hawker of Saint John is expected at Culloden on Saturday to spend the week end with his family.

V. O. N.

Dance—Through the kindness of Mr. O. C. Jones, manager of The Pines Hotel, a Dance will be held on Monday evening Aug. 12th, at the Casino for the benefit of the Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada, Digby Branch. Price of tickets 50 cents. Your patronage is solicited.

The Benefit Afternoon Tea at the Golf Club House will be held as usual tomorrow, Saturday, with Mrs. Frank Nichols as convenor.

The monthly meeting of the Digby Branch of the V. O. N. will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Court House.

In charge of Captain C. E. Sherman Captain Sherman poured warm drinks into the chilled men and then made an attempt to reach the schooner in a power boat. He was beaten back to the shelter of the island.

Captain Tupper said the schooner began to break up almost as soon as she hit and probably will be a total loss. Members of her crew were William Lovey, Parrsboro; Leo Lucan, Annapolis; and Leonard Lloyd, Port Wade; and Captain Tupper's home is in Annapolis.

Hospital Drive Progressing Favorably

Monday morning, August 5th, opened the Big Drive for Digby General Hospital's Building Fund campaign and reports from every section of the county yesterday indicate that the canvassers in every locality are out and working, getting subscriptions. Reports from the canvassers in Digby Town are most encouraging, and on Wednesday night a total of practically eight thousand dollars had been pledged. In addition to the four one thousand dollar subscriptions already reported there have come in the subscriptions of H. T. Warner for $1,000; The Maritime Fish Corporation, through Mr. E. B. Short, M.P., manager of Digby Branch, contributed $1,000 to the cause, and to this was added Mr. Short's personal contribution of $500 and $100 from A. H. Brittain, of Montreal, a director of the Maritime Fish Corporation.

Other subscriptions included: Captain George Morrell $500, C. F. McBride 450, A. R. Turbull 250, S. A. K'ea 100, F. W. Nichols 100, Mrs. Howard Anderson 100, Capt. Joseph Snow 100, Jonathan Lettency 50.

Summer residents and tourist visitors are taking an eager interest in the drive and several tourist subscriptions have been received at headquarters. Charles Robinson, of Hartford, Conn., who with his family is again spending the summer in Digby after an absence of several seasons, handed the Drive Committee a $100 contribution. Mrs. Maryette Cox, also of Hartford, who is a regular summer guest at Lour Lodge enclosed $25.00 in a letter of encouragement to the drive committee and M. White, of Seabright, N. J. who has a cottage at the New Pines Hotel, added a brand new sample of the new issue of United States $20.00 notes to the swelling total.

Everywhere the canvassers are meeting with sympathetic reception and as the campaign progresses interest is being aroused. It is a common thing to be met with the expression "You need a lot of money to make up $60,000" and immediately the balance required becomes a little less as each adds his or her bit to the credit columns of the Drive Ledger.

Last Sunday was Hospital Drive Sunday in most of Digby County churches and the pastors presented to the congregations an appeal

Grace Church Celebrates Anniversary

The anniversary services of Grace United Church last Sunday were well attended and inspiring. The special preacher was Dr. G. M. Trueman, Ph.D., president of Mt. Allison University. His text in the morning was "Thou art Peter, and on this rock I will build my church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." The building of the church, he said, is always going forward. It is a necessary and permanent institution in society. In developing the theme he spoke of the church's teaching, fellowship, worship, mission, leadership and power. In the evening Dr. Trueman's text was "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." To know the truth it is necessary to have a desire for it, to develop the truth knowing capacity, to live up to the light that is given and to have charity for those whose views are different. The music of the day was particularly good. At the morning service there was a duet by the Messrs. Sutherland, of Trenton, N. S. and a solo by Miss Dolly Sutherland. In the evening the soloists were Miss Nettie Sutherland and Cuthbert Holder.

The Junior Sewing Circle of St. Patrick's church held a successful garden party on the grounds of Clifford Barton last week, realizing almost $100.

that all join to help along the cause. This pulpit message was delivered in every church from Weymouth to Clementsport.

The Drive enters into its second week on Monday next and canvassers are urged to make good use of the enthusiasm which has been created.

At Plympton the Women's Institute has commenced a systematic house to house canvass under the direction of its President, Mrs. Joseph Melanson, and at Bear River the Women's Institute there with Mrs. A. B. Marshall as President, is presenting the claims of the hospital to the people of that community.

If every man and woman in the whole territory served by the Digby General Hospital will give as liberally as their means will permit the success of the Drive is assured. It is our Big Opportunity to do something which will be a credit to this part of the province; to add a permanent improvement to living conditions in our native province; and to be worthy of citizenship in this native land.

The Grade Crossing Agitation

The Wolfville Board of Trade and the citizens of Wolfville generally have started an agitation which is intended to be province-wide, to abolish grade crossings. Their aim is a laudable one, but it will entail enormous expense, and the most of this expense, it seems to us, will fall upon the innocent party—the railroads. If a study should be made of all the grade crossing accidents which have taken place in Nova Scotia since the invention of the automobile it would be found that ninety per cent. of them were the faults of the drivers of the cars. Carelessness, absolute carelessness, is responsible for most of them, and foolhardiness for the remainder. We have heard a few car drivers say that the Quebec law that all drivers must come to a full stop before crossing a railroad track, is going too far and that it could not be enforced. Even so, what is there to hinder a driver from slowing up and approaching a track with caution, no matter if he knows that no train is scheduled to pass that particular spot for hours. It would only increase the length of his journey a few seconds—or minutes in the case of a long run, say from Digby to Halifax—and the chances are that he would reach the end of his journey in safety and not have to be carried somewhere else. The business of no man on earth is so paramount importance that he has to run all kinds of chances with his life in order to save a few seconds—the world goes on just the same whether he is killed or not. Then why run chances? It is far easier for the car driver to slow up his comparatively small car than for the locomotive driver to slow up his heavy train—which has the right of way in any event. If the Wolfville men who are behind this movement would get after the car drivers and teach them how to use common sense they would save just as many lives as they would if they succeeded in getting all the level crossings eliminated.

Visitors and Parking

Now that parking laws are being enforced we know judgment will be used as to visitors, and we will not have such happenings as have occurred in some other parts of Canada.

The serious assertion has been made by reputable men, says the Toronto Globe, that Municipalities in Ontario are deriving a good deal of revenue from fines imposed on touring motorists. W. G. Robertson, Secretary of the Ontario Motor League, declares tourists visiting Ontario in automobiles are unfairly fined for violation of the traffic regulations.

Speaking before the Essex and Kent Counties Automobile Clubs, Arthur L. Thompson, City Manager, Chatham, Ont., deplored legislation that permitted what he termed taking of tolls from travellers, and warned of the inevitable reaction which would result in a large loss of revenue. Tourists who fancy themselves victimized are unlikely to return to the scene of what they regard as their petty prosecution. Mayor C. E. Jackson Windsor, Ont., also emphasized the importance of giving a cordial welcome to visitors from other countries.

No doubt many local regulations are violated by touring motorists who know nothing about them, but it savors of petty prosecution to hale these visitors to court and impose fines. Thousands of visitors are now in this country to enjoy themselves, and they should be made welcome. This need not mean license to break the law, but those who enforce local regulations

As Good as King Cole
Tea

REPUTATION is a frail and fragile thing. It takes years to build, but it can be shattered and broken over night.

King Cole Tea has earned an enviable reputation. When we first marketed coffee we did not dare to name it King Cole, for if the coffee proved to be anything but the best, it would dim the precious reputation of King Cole Tea.

Now, however, after exhaustive tests under other names, we know we have a coffee as good as King Cole Tea. Ask for it by the name it has so proudly earned:

KING COLE
Coffee

should interpret in a generous way the fine old spirit of hospitality, and as long as Chief Cowan and Officer Bowles are on the job the visitors to Digby will receive every consideration.

RELATIVITY

A few months ago the influential papers and magazines of the United States—even including the Literary Digest—were howling about the fact that some 135 people had been killed in ten years in the attempted enforcement of the Volstead Act, and shed crocodile tears over this fearful loss of life and consequent suffering of dependents. It was held up as a powerful argument for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution. In going over our exchanges this week we found in an obscure corner of a small paper a press despatch from Washington saying that the Department of Commerce had, on July 28, issued a statement that since May, 1925, in seventy-eight only of the large cities of the United States, 29,403 people had been killed by automobiles. But we do not hear any howl going up for the repeal of the motor traffic laws. Why the difference? Joone case in ten years 135 people were killed and the law which was the indirect cause immediately becomes a crime, an incentive to murder, a curse on the people generally; in the other case in four years 29,403 people are killed and only a casual comment is made. Surely our minds must be biased.

OBITUARY

(Published by request)

It was with a sense of shock that the citizens of Tiverton learned that Frank Ruggles, keeper of Boars Head Light and Fog alarm for many years had passed. He had been confined to his home about two weeks but his immediate death was not expected even by those who knew of his physical condition, but while walking the street was suddenly stricken and after entering his home a few minutes later passed quietly away. Death was due to angina pectoris.

As a friend he was faithful to the end, ever ready to lend a helping hand to those in need, and he will be greatly missed, for he had many friends.

He was a member of Rainbow Lodge No. 113, I. O. O. F., a member of I. O. F. and K. O. T. M. Lodges of Tiverton, also a member of Freeport Masonic Lodge, and a member of the Christian Church at Tiverton. In politics he was a Liberal.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Philip Myers, Boston, Mass., Mrs. Gordon Cossaboom, Smith's Cove, N. S. Two sisters, Mrs. Elsworth North Boston, Mass., Mrs. H. Marshall, North Range, one brother Harry, two grandchildren, Glendon and Helen Farnsworth, Tiverton N. S.

Funeral took place at his home and was largely attended. Service at the house was conducted by Rev. Dr. Greenwood, after which he was given in charge of Masonic Lodge.

Both I. O. O. F. and Masonic members escorted the body to Pleasant Hill Cemetery where the Masonic Rites were conducted.

Floral tributes, which express the love and esteem for the deceased were many and beautiful.

Thus amid heart aches and tears he was laid to rest, there to await the coming of him who hath said "I will not leave them, nor forsake them." To all who mourn sympathy is extended.

As the day had ended And the evening had begun, An Angel whispered softly Thy work on earth is done.

We miss thee from our home dear, We miss thee from thy place, A shadow o'er our life is cast, We miss thy smiling face.

We miss the touch of thy loving hand Thy fond and earnest care, The world is dark without you, For we miss you everywhere.

Hectanooga To Celebrate 100th Anniversary

During the summer of 1829 the late Bonnie Deveau left his native village of Salmon River and laid the foundation of what is now the village of Hectanooga. He was the first settler to fix up his abode there and it took them three days to go from the village of Salmon River, a distance of ten miles, through the dense wood.

It is this anniversary that is going to be commemorated by the holding of a bazaar on the church grounds during the last week of August. Some years ago a little chapel was erected there which is not quite finished and the proceeds of the bazaar will be for that purpose.

The community is small and so it was thought it would be the best way to celebrate the founding of the village. There will be a sale of fancy articles and home made goods, something our United States friends would like to take over as souvenirs. There will be amusements of all sorts on the grounds with dinner and supper. If possible there will be something to amuse the tourists, the French Acadian women dressed in the garb of old, with the spinning wheel and if possible with the weaving looms. A meeting will be held during this week to appoint the usual committees.

OBITUARY

SAMUEL BOWEN DAVIS

The death of Samuel Bowen Davis occurred at his late residence in Bear River at 10 o'clock on Monday morning, August 5th. The deceased was born in Upper Clyde, Shelburne County and he was eighty years of age, having passed his last birthday the seventh of last May. Some months ago he suffered a slight paralytic shock and had since been in failing health, being confined to his bed during the past few weeks. Mr. Davis moved to Bear River forty-six years ago and from that time until within the last few years was identified with the lumbering industry of this locality, which was in a flourishing condition at that period having been a partner with the firm of Clarke Bros. in the Lake Tom Wallace development. His genial disposition earned for him a large circle of acquaintances and friends. He is survived by his wife, who before her marriage was Miss Ada Sutherland, eldest daughter of Robert Sutherland of Clyde River; one daughter, Brenda, now Mrs. J. W. Milbury of Concord, Mass., and two sons, Harold L. living in Bear River, and Murray S. of Calgary, Alta. It will be recalled that the latter was a prisoner of war in Germany for more than two years, during his Overseas service. The funeral of the late Mr. Davis took place from his residence on Wednesday. Interment at Mount Hope Cemetery.

I WONDER

I wonder if you know since you have left us, That I have kept your roses, crumpled now.

I wonder if you guess that I am thinking Of that look of pain or pleasure on your brow.

I wonder if you dream as dusk is falling, Of how I read your note you sent to me I wonder if you think since you have left us, Of all the happy days that used to be.

I wonder if you smile since you have left us, That smile you used to give us when all went right.

Or if you sometimes think of me a little, You seem so near, so very near to night, I wonder if that last fond kiss I gave you Can make you lonely just a bit for me.

I wonder if you long since you have left us For all the golden place that used to be.

Shipbuilding Active In Digby County

An indication of the general prosperity which is being experienced in Nova Scotia shipyards is seen in the announcement by W. J. Foley, of Salmon River, Digby county, that he will reopen his shipyards which have not been in operation since 1926, shortly. Many well known sailing vessels have been launched at these yards, which previous to closing had been in operation for over 40 years.

Reports state that shipyards in Meteghan, Liverpool, Mahone Bay, Lunenburg, Shelburne, Day-spring and at other provincial ports are being kept busy in the construction of vessels with a number of orders booked for the future. Many of the new craft are motor vessels or are equipped with auxiliary power.

Mr. Foley bears a splendid reputation as a shipbuilder, and among the craft turned out at his shipyards are listed vessels which have established for themselves splendid reputations as fast sailers.

Included in the ship built at the Salmon River yards by Mr. Foley are the Bonhomie in the year 1885, the Bertha Gray, in 1889 for E. K. Spencey. Following the launch of these vessels the Viola was built for J. W. Smith, of Saint John; the Rivola and the schooner Canary for George Cushing, also of Saint John; and the schooners Annie and Hattie P., built for Alfred Perry.

Among other vessels built were the schooners Invictus and Edna V. Pickles for L. D. Shaffner, of Annapolis; and the Industrial and Bernice M.

The last craft constructed at the yards was the well known schooner Mary B. Brooks.

beauty advisor to royalty tells why he recommends Palmolive soap

Ngay Vienna, in romantic Budapest—there is one name in beauty culture which has been heard over a hundred years—the name of Pessl.

Pessl recommends the twice daily use of Palmolive soap for skin beauty. He says, "I earnestly recommend to my patrons that they use only Palmolive soap. Its gentle action cleanses the skin thoroughly, and at the same time leaves it in a healthy, smooth, normal condition which is the very foundation of a beautiful complexion."

Early Vegetables

In spite of the dry season for which the farmers are blaming the poor showing of their crops, our good friend, W. A. Bacon of the "Ridge" still manages to raise some good looking stuff. He was in town yesterday with as fine looking load of vegetables as one could wish to see. Included in the load were quite a number of squash, a vegetable we do not look for until later. He says he marketed the last of last season's crop in May, and the first of this season's on August 6th. He also had carrots, beets, potatoes, cabbage, cucumbers and beans—all nice looking stuff. It goes to show that attention and cultivation make up to a certain extent the lack of moisture.

OBITUARY

A pretty wedding was solemnized at Westport last Friday evening when Vera Beatrice Titus became the bride of William John Arthur, of Saint John. The Firemen Have Their New Fire Truck

The Digby fire boys are tickled by the delivery of their new fire truck on Wednesday evening. The delivery of the truck is a big event in Digby, for it is the first regular fire truck the town has boasted. Heretofore the hose reels have always been taken to the scene of the blaze by hand drawn reels usually in tow of some grocery truck or car.

The truck is mounted on a Studebaker chassis and is a combined hook and ladder chemical carrier and hose reel. The body was built by Charles Mount. Of Digby. With this new truck and with Digby's superior water pressure the town ought to be well equipped for fire fighting.

Flo-glaze

"The Finish that Endures"

THE old saying that a satisfied customer is the best advertisement has most certainly come true in the case of Flo-Glaze 4-hour Enamels. Customers repeat their orders and without exception are enthusiastic over the results. Flo-Glaze, besides giving a beautifully hard high gloss finish, has even more covering power than oil paint. It dries in four hours saving much of the mix-up that the use of ordinary paint brings with it, and this fast-drying feature saves having a deposit of dust in the job. It brushes and flows smoothly and most any amateur can use it with very pleasing results. The price is very reasonable.

Conflicts At Hearing

The adjourned hearing into the case of Supervisor H. H. Marshall, charged with political partisanship, was resumed Tuesday afternoon at the court. Mr. Marshall, cross-examined, said he was fishery officer since July 17, 1916. He also recommended appointment of municipal officers and until last January John Balser was collector of rates and at the May meeting Marshall was appointed collector. He told Balser in presence of others before the municipal selection was held it was not intended to reappoint Balser.

Council for defence, Frank Jones read the affidavit sworn by Balser that Marshall had given him a portion of rum with the object of getting Conservative votes. Marshall said that the statements contained in the affidavit were false.

He was acquainted slightly with Mr. Oliphant, who had given evidence at the first hearing about a fishing net. Marshall was at Oliphant's house during 1927. He had been advised by Overseer Morgan that Oliphant would like to see him. Oliphant had told him about illegal fishing in Nictaux river. Oliphant showed the net which he had stowed away, and said he had found it in his barn. It had been there several months. Marshall recognized it as the property of the fish culture department situated across the road.

Marshall denied asking Oliphant to burn the net in the stove. He denied having said it would make trouble for his Conservative friends. He went to the manager of the fish hatchery next day, told him where the net was and told him to take charge of it. Gates told Marshall afterward he had done so. He had never heard of Saunders until last Friday. Saunders had rented the barn where the net was found. Marshall said that Overseer Morgan was with him all the time the conversation was held with Oliphant. Overseer Morgan, cross-examined by F. Jones, said he went with

Hon. Mr. Cardin Appreciated His Welcome

Dear Mayor:—

In attending the meeting which was held in the Court House last night, in the interest of the fishermen of Digby County, you have indeed done me a great honor and your presence there has surely added very much to both the official and personal meaning of the reception tendered to me.

This mark of courtesy on your part together with the generous words of welcome which you have been kind enough to address to me on the occasion have been duly and sincerely appreciated and I wish to express to you personally, and through you to the good population of Digby whom you represent, my most hearty thanks for such a testimonial of consideration.

You can rest assured that I will always remember with the greatest pleasure my first visit to the city of Digby, though very short, it was very interesting from many standpoints and it will no doubt be fruitful.

Believe me, dear Mr. Mayor, Yours very truly,

F. J. A. Cardin
Mayor of Digby
Digby, N. S.

Marshall to the home of Oliphant. He was in the company of Marshall all the time of the interview and had taken no part in the conversation.

Morgan said he heard nothing said about Marshall and his political friends and he did not hear Marshall say anything about a stove nor to burn the net.

Mrs. Oliphant, called, said she saw Mr. Marshall at her home in Middleton in August, 1927. Her husband, herself, and Mr. Marshall were in the house. She heard some of the conversation. She said she heard Marshall say to burn the net on account of political matters.

His honor took into consideration the youthfulness of the accused and also the fact that he had been led into the deed by others, and sentenced him to one month in goal.

The congregation of St. Mark's, Burtonvale, intend to hold a Sale of Work and Tea on Tuesday, the 3rd of September, in behalf of the building fund. Any assistance by those in sympathy with this object would be gratefully received, by Rev. M. Taylor, Rector, of Weymouth. Burtonvale is six miles from Weymouth on the Sissiboo Road.

Several motor accidents have taken place in the vicinity of Digby during the past forty-eight hours. On Wednesday afternoon the most serious took place, two young men, one a son of Capt. Moore was badly cut about the head and rendered unconscious and Comeau had his shoulder blade broken. The second took place at Port Gilbert when two cars, one driven by Chas. M. Warner, of Burton, the other by John L. Robicheau, of Ashmore, collided. Robicheau was said to be on the wrong side of the road; Warner kept on until it seemed a head-on collision was unavoidable, then swung over to the left and Robicheau's car struck his rear wheel. Both cars were damaged but on one was hurt. The third was when the fine Packard car of Capt. George M. Morrell caught fire while on the road at Deep Brook, and became a total loss. The car, which cost over $7,000, was almost new.

Harbor View Guests Help New Hospital

That the guests of Harbor View Hotel are as deeply interested in the welfare of the Digby General Hospital as are the people of Digby was amply shown on Tuesday when a collection for the new hospital drive was taken among them. $525 was the amount raised at that time and others promised contributions which will bring the amount up to about $600. Quite a substantial sum has been received from the tourists who are here this summer, but this is the largest contribution from any one hotel or colony and the hospital committee are indeed grateful for their very generous action. The list is as follows:

Over $3,000 Taken at Hospital Fair

The weather on Wednesday was ideal for the annual hospital fair and hundreds took advantage of it. From the time the doors were opened in the afternoon until they closed at 11 o'clock the rink was thronged with a good-bummed generous throng of people from all over North America. It is safe to say that practically every state in the Union and every province in Canada was represented. Tourists viewed with the citizens of the town in all the games and amusements and all spent money lavishly, so much so, that, all records were broken and the total receipts were $3054.32. Although we expected to have the full list of prize winners handed us for this week's issue but have been disappointed. However, although it will be history by that time, we hope to give them next week.

Mrs. Percy Peters is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Campbell, Freeport. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Swift, who spent the summer here have returned home, Mr. and Mrs. Alice and Jennie, Capt. Thorburn, is in the harbour bound for Grand Manan for a load of bait.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Nickerson, of Jamaica Plains, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nickerson, of Fall River, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Welch.

Miss Rita Deaton was a passenger to Saint John Monday to visit her father, Capt. Earl Denton.

Miss Muriel Goudy is the guest of Mrs. L. V. Bailey.

James Gessert, of Solimerville, is a guest of Capt. George Denton.

Seymour Farnsworth, of Tiverton, was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gower Sunday.

Frank and Gordon DeLaney, of Central Nova, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. S. Morrell.

The thoughtless habit of many people of running up to the station through the several alleys on Water street, across the pier track and over the newly graded lawn and flower beds of the railway has caused a lot of unnecessary work for the gardeners and during the past week the railway has closed up all these alleys by erecting fences across them, thus forcing patrons to use the regular roads to the station.

Digby Indian Wife Is Held For Murder

Elizabeth Nelson, 44, Indian wife of John Nelson, 43, was arraigned in court at Houlton, Me., on Monday on the charge of the murder of her husband in a shack on a pulp-mill operation in Haynesville near that city Saturday afternoon. No defence was offered and she was held without bail for the next term of the Supreme Court.

The killing occurred in the shack where the two had lived, in the course of a quarrel, Nelson being killed by a stab wound over the heart with a sharp knife the woman used in making baskets. Physicians testified that the knife pierced between the third and fourth ribs. Mrs. Nelson told the officers that her husband attacked her and she acted in self defence. She was a former resident of Digby, where her first husband, James Peters, whom she married when 14 years of age, died several years ago. A son lives in Maine, and a daughter is in a Halifax convent. She married Nelson some 10 years ago in Old Town, Me.

Rev. A. B. Cote Passes Away At Meteghan

Right Rev. A. B. Cote, formerly a well known missionary and for forty years parish priest at Meteghan, passed away Sunday evening.

Father Cote, who was a native of Quebec, spent forty-nine years of his life as a priest. Leaving Quebec he spent ten years as a missionary at Labrador and gained a reputation for good work as a priest of the old-fashioned true missionary type.

Coming to Nova Scotia forty years ago, he was first stationed at Halifax and a short time later came to Meteghan where he labored for the remainder of his life. All through his years in the priesthood Monseigneur Cote led a life which in every way was an inspiration to his hundreds of parishioners, both at Salmon River and later at Meteghan. In consequence his influence in shaping the destinies of many has grandly marked a remarkable career and persons, almost numberless, can rise up and call him blessed. Monseigneur Cote was about 73 years of age. The funeral took place at Meteghan yesterday and his remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at that place, among the many hundreds to whom Monseigneur Cote had ministered and have since passed to the Great Beyond.

Public Spirited

In a town in which so many citizens are interested in its welfare as is the case in this town it is some times rather a task to pick out one in particular. But the events of the last few weeks have brought about conditions for which the town should sincerely thank H. T. Warner. The serious drought—the worst for at least fifty years, as far as the provincial records go—had brought about a difficult problem for the power board to solve. Digby is different to any other provincial town in that its peak load for its lighting plant is in the summer. Then its numerous hotels, boarding and lodging houses consume a lot of current and if anything caused this current to fail the town would be in a serious position. "Tupper" realized this and placed his power plant at the mill at the town's disposition. The generator in the old and abandoned lighting plant was taken down and re-erected at the mill and now the town is receiving ample current for its needs in lighting the buildings. "But," you may say, "he is being paid for it." Of course he is, but what other man would go to the inconvenience of closing his mills down while the change was being effected for what might have proved only a week's work and might not have happened again in another fifty years. We think Tupper deserves great credit for his public-spirited action.

Light Liquor vs. Hard

Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Ontario Liquor Control Board, does not like to have the people of his province known as whisky drinkers. He proposes to encourage the drinking of light wines, beer and cider as a means of discouraging the whiskey habit.

Whether he can really persuade drinkers to favor the milder alcoholic beverages is an open question. The answer will be of great interest. Prohibition upholders, opposed to modification in favor of light wines and beer, have long maintained that people accustomed to more potent beverages won't drink anything else. Light wines and beer might cultivate a new group of drinkers, but it wouldn't change the habits of the hard drinkers.

This is something which has not been proved. Perhaps it can't be proved. Ontario, however, has a chance to test the theory if it wants to.

Will Not Tolerate Them

The chief Constable of the Ontario police road patrol has expressed the right sentiment when he said;

I wish to emphasize with all the power at my command that in so far as the police are concerned, we will not tolerate for one moment, a motor driver who is under the influence of liquor. It is not my place actually to say whether a man is drunk or sober, but I will go this far and say if you have taken a single drink of alcoholic stimulant, stay away from the steering gear of a motor car or truck.

The police are constantly on the lookout for those under the influence of liquor driving motor vehicles, and we want every motor driver to be in his right senses.

The Chicago Daily News publishes a picture and an interesting sketch of Eddie Tamblin, grandson of Mrs. E. F. Brown, Smith's Cottage, Plympton who has joined Schwab & Mandell's Chicago Company, producing "Follow Thru" in the Apollo Theatre, in that city. Mr. Tamblin has spent five years in Plympton, and last summer took part in the concert given in the Barton Hall in aid of the Hospital.

An Observant Citizen Writes of What He Sees and Hears

The other evening I was studying the picture on the walls of the Courier building, over Hardy Bent's stand—that one labelled "Digby Twenty-Five Years Ago." I was quite interested in it and could pick out a number of people I knew. But while I was standing there a couple of men—I think they work on the wharf—came along. Said one to the other "They used to have some good times here but they don't do it now." The other replied, "No, they don't seem to have the backbone that Oakes Dunham, Harry Smith and the old gang used to have." I did not hear any more because they left then and went along still talking over the past. What struck me was the fact that these men used the word "They." Why couldn't they have said "we." The last few celebrations we have had have been gotten up by Fritz Dakin, Frank Anderson, Woodford Connell and a few more public-spirited young fellows like them—and it was done at a great loss of business and time for them, just to give others in Digby as good a time as possible. And those others spent the day looking on, enjoyed themselves, and then criticized what had been done for them. Isn't it time that some of the others—those two men I refer to for instance (if they want a "good time") to do a little work to get it instead of expecting busy men to do it for them? Instead of talking of what "they" should do, why don't they ask themselves what "we" should do—and then do it. No matter what group of men undertook to get up a celebration I feel sure the town would back them up just as well as they have done in the past. There is far too much of this "they" business talked about and not nearly enough "we."

In the years I have been a resident of this town I have never seen painted so lavishly as it has been this year. And doesn't the old town look the better for it! The whole front street has been lightened up and the town looks cleaner and has the appearance of a town which is trying to make itself more attractive to our visitors.

As usual at this time of the year, in spite of the thousands of dollars, yes, hundreds of thousands, which have been spent since last year to provide accommodation for the horde of those who make Digby their Mecca during July and August, the town is taxed beyond its capacity. Guests have been turned away because of lack of room, although every one is doing his or her best to make room even to sacrificing many personal comforts. No other town in the province can accommodate so many people but there must be a great increase as the tourist business is only in its infancy. It won't be many years before we see double and even treble facilities provided in this town. I was speaking along the lines of the above to a friend the other day, and he remarked: "I hope not; one good factory would be worth more to Digby than all the tourists that come." I asked him what kind of a factory he had in mind, and he couldn't say. It seems to me that if Digby were a good manufacturing centre the scouts for the big manufacturers would have discovered the town long ago. The only raw material we have in any quantity is timber and Tupper Warner is using that up, and employs a lot of help in doing it. Small shoe factories, tanneries, etc., used to do some business but they have either failed or fallen into the hands of the big fellows located near the larger centres of population. What could be manufactured here profitably that would give employment to more than half a dozen hands?

[Here is a chance for some of those who are always talking manufacturing to write to the Courier answering Rambler's question, but do not make your letters too long—Editor Courier].

Your editorial of three weeks ago on "Digby's Night Life" I hear received very many favorable comments. But that is all that it amounts to. It is true that one or two raids were made last week but nothing was found. Why the officials pass up the real "dens" I do not understand. That we have them within a few miles of the town everybody knows. There would not be so many cars out at all hours of the night over to Caledonia, down the Neck or at Marshalls town unless there was something to draw them to those places. The bootlegger is too artful to be caught with the goods. People who live on the Lighthouse Road told me only last week how the business is being carried on. Cars, which are known to belong to those carrying on the business, have been seen to stop and the driver or someone else conceal something under a bridge, pile of lumber or rocks, or behind a fence. Some time after, varying from a few minutes to an hour or two, another car will come along and pick up what was concealed. One lady saw it happen several times, and on one occasion some children, who had seen something being concealed, investigated after the car had gone and finding several bottles of booze, destroyed them. The arrangement would seem to be that the purchaser arranges with the dealer and pays him for a certain amount of merchandise. The dealer drives away, gets the goods from his concealed stock and hides it. Then he tells the purchaser where to find it. I do not know who shoulders the loss if in the meantime the stuff is destroyed as was the case with the children who found it. Of course with this method of handling the goods it is exceedingly difficult to catch cars carrying it, and just as difficult to find it in ordinary raids. Guile must be used to meet guile, and I am afraid our officers are too well known and are being watched too closely to be successful. It has always been my idea that the officers could get better results if they were transferred occasionally from one district to another—a stranger can find stuff where a well known man cannot.

Commissioner Is Hearing Case of Power Board Head

A case that is attracting great interest in Digby began Friday at the court house, when H. H. Marshall of Digby, supervisor of fisheries for western Nova Scotia, was defendant against charges brought against him in relation to the civil service act, as it pertains to political partisanship. The hearing opened under J. Frank Outhit of Kentville, who is a commissioner appointed by the Federal government to investigate charges against officials of the civil service relating to political activity. Marshall was represented by Frank Jones, K. C. who conducted a cross examination of the two witnesses for the prosecution who were heard that day.

The first witness was John Balsor of Marshalltown, for many years collector of rates in that municipal district. Marshalltown is also the district represented by Marshall, as councillor.

An affidavit was produced in court signed by Balsor, stating that a few days prior to the Federal election of 1925, Marshall met him at a point near Digby town called Warner's Corner, and passed him "11 paid goods" to be used for electioneering purposes.

Cross examined Balsor stated that he was dismissed as Tax Collector by Councillor Marshall. When argument ensued it was settled by the commissioner, who stated that councillors recommend appointments subject to the approval of the whole council. Counsel for Mr. Marshall here interjected the remark that Balsor was not dismissed; he was merely not re-appointed. Balsor said he was collector for 13 years. When asked if he was active in the 1925 election he replied in the affirmative.

Evidence was given by Arthur Oliphant, of Middleton, the gist of which was that during the month of July or August, 1927, he had a conversation with Marshall at his (Oliphant's) home, in reference to a fishing net Oliphant stated he rented a house from a man named Saunders, and finding a fishing net in the barn notified a fishery overseer who referred him to Supervi or Marshall. Oliphant stated that he requested the supervisor to take the net and turn it over to the fisheries department. He further stated that Marshall told him he did not wish to get implicated in the matter on account of his political friends.

Supervisor Marshall at this juncture asked Oliphant if at any time he (Oliphant) had sent a bill to the fisheries department and further suggested that he would not certify the bill. Oliphant stated that he had billed the department for expenses incurred for work performed. Mr. Oliphant said he took charge of the net and later saw that it was returned to the department. Marshall, in his own defence, said he had nothing to do with the net, and if given an opportunity could prove that he was innocent of the charge.

He also stated that notice of the Balsor charge was very short and he had not time to defend himself. He requested an adjournment. Frank Jones, counsel for Marshall, said he was retained by the fishery officer only one hour before and had no chance to look into the matter. The commission granted an adjournment until Tuesday afternoon, when several witnesses for the defence were heard.

Man and Women Badly Hurt In Auto Accident

A serious motor accident in which a woman and a man were severely injured occurred at noon last Friday on the main highway at Deep Brook, Annapolis County, when a Chrysler car belonging to Percy Burdill of Deep Brook, driven by Garfield (Buster) Curtis, also of Deep Brook, collided with the car of Mr. and Mrs. Getchye of Ohio, guests of the Colonial Arms Hotel.

The Getchye car was wrecked and Mrs. Getchye, who was in the front seat by her husband, was taken from the car unconscious. Medical aid was secured almost immediately and it was found Mrs. Getchye had a broken wrist, her teeth were broken and driven into her mouth and she had numerous cuts, one a bad scalp wound, besides minor injuries. She was carried into the nearby home of James Dittmars and is being cared for under a professional nurse until she can be safely moved to their cabin at Colonial Arms Hotel. Curtis, the driver of the other car, which was also badly damaged, was severely cut about the face and arms and was at once removed to the Digby Hospital.

Burdell was also a patient at the hospital for a day or two, but both he and Curtis have now returned to their homes. Major Vickery, the head of the provincial police, was on the scene on Sunday and made a thorough investigation which, we understand, showed that the Getchyes had seen the other car coming, had pulled into the ditch on their own side of the road and stopped.

Church Will Celebrate 70th Anniversary

Hillstburgh United Church at Bear River on Sunday next is celebrating its 70th anniversary. At the time of its erection Bear River was a part of the Annapolis-Digby circuit which embraced the territory from Annapolis, including Granville to Digby Neck. It was with pardonable pride that the people of that day looked forward to the opening of this church as any who know the property at the present day can well believe. Those were days of faith. An earlier church had been built which had become too small for the growing membership and it was decided to build on a much larger scale and though the numbers were not large it is interesting to note in the notice given in the Press for the opening services, "there has been no appeal to other circuits for aid in the erection of this commodious and beautiful house of worship."

It was not until some five years later, in 1864 that Bear River became a separate charge. For many years the congregation was in a flourishing condition, being for long considered one of the best churches in the Annapolis Valley. On two occasions the Methodist Conference of Nova Scotia was entertained by this loyal and devoted church but, now, like many other causes in the Valley in consequence of the depleted population due to lack of industry, it has lost many of its workers but though its numbers are fewer, there can be no doubt regarding their love for the church of their fathers. On Sunday the congregation desire to give thanks for the faith and devotion of those who in years past gave so freely of their substance that they might enjoy such a splendid place of worship.

The services on Sunday, will be at 10-30 and 7-30 whilst on Monday there will be a special rally of all the members and friends of the congregation at 8 p.m.

Weymouth Has Taken Decided Forward Step

From what one sees of a town by "driving through" Weymouth has the appearance of being one of the busiest places in Digby County. Shipping seems to be brisk, numerous steamers, schooners and other craft are docked at the various wharves, where thousands upon thousands of feet of sawn lumber are piled awaiting shipment.

During the past year, the business section of the town has brightened up one hundred per cent. Many of the stores have been remodelled and painted, new blocks have gone up, Blackadar's drug store has moved across the street, and over the old drug store building is a sign "Weymouth Information Bureau". Moore's new garage and service station is by far the most beautiful and attractive in this section of the country—and there are many nice ones all through the valley.

On the backs of a great many of the Weymouth cars is a pendant bearing the slogan "Watch Weymouth Grow". This is the slogan of the Weymouth Development Association, a very active body, organized within the past few years and which during its short life, has done much for the betterment of the place. Their big aim is to bring Danish settlers into the district to settle on farms that were abandoned during the few years after the war when many Weymouth families moved to "the States" leaving behind them many desirable properties.

Weymouth, like all of Digby County has prospered during the past three years, and has grown continually. Industry and business has been brisk, lots of building and remodeling has gone on, and there seems to be no reason why its present prosperity should not continue.

Bigger and Better Exhibition Coming

Even the record success achieved in 1923 will be eclipsed by this year's Nova Scotia Exhibition at Halifax.

This is assured by an increase in the number of buildings, a $200,000 Industrial Building now being under construction. This will permit a rearrangement of exhibits with better and larger display space for all.

All those who try to take in at least one horse race a year will find their desires satisfied by the program arranged for the Exhibition. There will be five days of racing and all the leading stables in Eastern Canada and beyond will show their colours at this great classic.

An outstanding part of the daily program will be nine different vaudeville acts, presented by twenty four of the leading performers from Asia, Europe, and this continent. One of these acts, put on by the Sensational Jacks, is staged at a height of a hundred feet, the dizzyest height at which such daring feats have ever been performed.

One of the leading fireworks firms of the world has prepared the fireworks part of the program for the Exhibition. There will be fifty numbers in all, each of spectacular beauty. This is one part of the program that no child in the country will want to miss.

Altogether this will be an outstanding holiday event, crowded with interest and entertainment. The Exhibition opens August 24th, and continues until August 31st.

Doucetteville Will Hold Picnic for New Church

The parishioners of the Sacred Heart Church, now being built at Doucetteville, Digby County, are to hold a Grand Picnic on Tuesday the 27th of this month, for the purpose of raising funds to be used in rebuilding the church, which was totally destroyed last March, when it was struck by lightning.

As soon as the frost was out of the ground, they commenced to rebuild, and since then, splendid progress has been made. The frame has gone up, and is being shingled. The new church is being built along the same lines as the original which was built during 1914—15 by the late Rev. Father P. C. Thibault, then parish priest at Plympton.

Games and amusements of all kinds are being planned for this picnic, and dinner and supper will be served in the partly completed church.

Doucetteville is a fair sized Acadian settlement, consisting of some forty homes, situated in the interior of the county, six miles back of the main road from Plympton.

New Buick Shoots Over Bank to Water

An automobile accident occurred early Saturday evening at the Racquette, when a new Buick sedan driven by Floyd Snow of Digby, in company with Clare Pinez and George Duan, also of Digby, went over the bank. Snow was evidently blinded by the bright lights of another car and went to the ditch. Striking the telephone pole, he crossed the road, and went over a steep embankment and off the abutment into the waters of the Racquette. The tide was high at the time. The men were only slightly injured, but the car was badly damaged.

Beauty Advisor to smart Toronto society tells why he agrees with Massé of Paris on "foundation cleansing" with Palmolive soap.

PEMBER of Toronto, dean of Canadian beauty specialists, speaks with the authority of long experience and expert knowledge on all matters of skin care. "Foundation cleansing," he says, "can best be done with the palm and olive elements found in Palmolive soap. This is the basis of all facial treatments. The skin refreshed and cleansed with Palmolive lather is most responsive to my own exclusive methods."

The famous Palmolive beauty treatment: With both hands make a bland lather of Palmolive soap and warm water. For two minutes, massage this well into the skin. Then rinse, gradually cooling the water to low temperature.

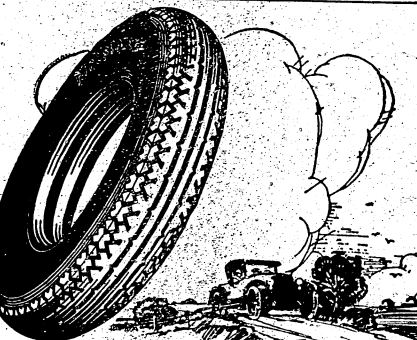

This simple method removes all impurities and leaves the skin smooth, refreshed, radiant with healthy, natural color. Palmolive cleanses more gently, more thoroughly.

Driffield Memorial Assured

During the course of his sermon on Sunday morning at Holy Trinity Church, the rector, Rev. A. E. Gabriel made the announcement that a sum nearing $100 had been realized to be used towards the Driffield Memorial Fund, and that it was the intention to raise a sum sufficient to purchase something really fine in the shape of a memorial for the late rector, Rev. William Driffield, who for twenty-nine years was rector of Trinity Parish.

After the service he was asked by a tourist who had been attending just what sort of a memorial he desired to purchase, and the rector informed him that it was his desire that a Reredos be obtained as a background for the altar as a memorial for the late rector. The same would cost somewhere in the vicinity of $500.

On Tuesday afternoon the same gentleman called at the rectory and after a short conversation, generously presented Mr. Gabriel with a cheque for the above amount to be used for the purchase of the Reredos. He, however, desired that his name be withheld. His gift has been very thankfully received by the parishioners.

The rector says that through the generosity of a family connected with the church (who also desire their name withheld) an order has been sent to England to purchase a sterling silver Communion Chalice and Paten.

The tourists have been very generous to Digby churches and charities this year. Garden parties held by the four town churches have realized a gross amount of over $2000. Of that amount Trinity church nets over $700; St. Patrick's (R.C.) $525; United Baptist, $450 and Grace United, $316. Also very generous contributions have been made towards the Hospital Building Fund, and it was chiefly through the summer tourists that the Hospital Bazaar cleared over $3000. Digby's all-year-around population does not exceed 1200 and our tourists contribute a very generous amount towards the upkeep of our institutions.

May Lose Eye As Result of Flying Steel

Struck in both eyes with slivers of flying steel, the eyesight of one destroyed and only a slight chance of saving the other, Wilbert McGrath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McGrath, of Victoria Beach is in a serious condition at the Dawson Memorial Hospital, Bridgewater, as a result of an accident at that place Monday. Such in effect was the message received at Victoria Beach by the parents of McGrath, who has been employed by the C.N.R. for the past few months in the south shore town. It is understood that McGrath, who was cutting steel, was engaged in his work when a shower of steel splinters flew at his face a sliver picking one eye, cutting into the pupil and the other was damaged to such an extent that there is only a slight chance of saving it. The unfortunate young man is twenty years of age and well known in Digby.

Discontinuance Yarmouth—New York Service

We are advised by the Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc., that the final sailing of the SS "EVANGELINE" will be from Yarmouth on Tuesday, September 10th.

Trains No. 25 and No. 26, known as the "NEW YORKER", running between Halifax and Yarmouth, will be withdrawn for the season, after the arrival of Train No. 26 at Halifax on Tuesday, September 10th.

Contributions have been made towards the Hospital Building Fund, and it was chiefly through the summer tourists that the Hospital Bazaar cleared over $3000. Digby's all-year-around population does not exceed 1200 and our tourists contribute a very generous amount towards the upkeep of our institutions.

"But, O for a touch of the vanished hand'
And the sound of a voice that is still"

She was an old lady, and as she crossed the street near the Soldiers' Monument she looked up and down to secure her safe passage to the seat just behind the Memorial, and having reached this she sat down with her face to the sea, but her eyes on the FLOWERS that seemed to smile and welcome her. "O, they're beautiful" she said.

"Of course we are" said Miss Alyssum, looking up at her. "don't you know we were put here to make this garden pretty and cheerful? I am only a tiny white flower myself, but I have lots of bigger and brighter sisters all around me, so gaily dressed that I think they must have all the colors of the rainbow amongst them. We were planted here some time ago—before we really began to show any colors, and the hot sun beat down on us and nearly parched us; I think we should have dropped and perhaps died had not the man who planted us come every day to see us, and when he thought we needed water on account of so little rain falling, he gave us such nice showers that we were all refreshed, and kept on growing. I think he must be a flower lover, he is so tender and careful of us, and always looking towards the west so we nearly all made up our minds to do our best to grow and bloom and make a beautiful garden for everyone to look at when they come this way.

Lots of ladies and gentlemen—and boys and girls—come to visit us, and sometimes give us wrong names; why only the other day one lady called me candytuft—but the big Scarlet Geranium just behind me, struck me gently and said "Never mind, she has lots to learn about flowers yet," white sister. "Don't you think he is very handsome? I do; but many of the people who come to see us prefer the purple Petunias, the big Zinnias, the Larkspur, Stocks, Phlox, Antirrhinums and the Salp. gumnus. Aren't some of the names funny—and then there are the Verbenas all along the front; but I love the little Nemesis, the blue and yellow that are my nearest companions, and came all the way from South Africa to bloom for you. I heard two big men talking the other day about the South African War and about Lord Byng; then they spoke of Flanders and Vimy Ridge and pointed to the very big man on the marble pedestal. I have never seen his face, but a lady said that he had a beautiful face; he is always looking towards the west where so many of his comrades went instead of coming back to their homes and their loved ones. When the sun gets round in the west in the afternoon, his shadow falls over us and we all kiss it because we feel sorry for him, and for those who lost sons and brothers and fathers in that terrible war.

A little girl came here with her mother a few days ago and placed a bunch of flowers tied up with ribbon on the pedestal of the big memorial; I think you call it; the mother cried and the tears came into her eyes until she looked down and saw me peeping up at her; then she saw all my sisters who looked so bright and gay, and in a little while she stopped crying, and before she went home we saw her smile. "Don't you think living flowers are a better memorial than dead ones?" We shall only be here a short time but we want to bloom, and do our best to make somebody a bit happier than they would be if we were not here. Next year I expect there will be other flowers in our places to carry on and keep in memory those who went away but never came back.

Then the lady nodded her head a little too much and woke up. She thought the flowers had been speaking to her—and so they had—and she was happier for the little talk.

Town Council Expresses Its Appreciation

At the regular monthly meeting of the town council held on Monday evening last the following resolution was passed:

That the town council express its appreciation of the quick action of Mr. F. L. Anders, Digby representative of the Power Board in taking charge of the emergency caused by the shortage of hydro power, and also that of Mr. H. T. Warner and his loyal employees, who so satisfactorily helped to overcome the difficulty and supply the town with electric current.

Another resolution which means a lot to the citizens of Digby is as follows: Resolved; that the water commissioners be empowered to add to the storage capacity at Lily Lake by the construction of a dam to the height of about two feet.

The strawberry season saw a greatly increased production in Nova Scotia compared with the season of 1928. There was shipped to Boston from Yarmouth a total of 3,649 crates, while for the same period this year the total was 4,669 crates, an increase of 1,020 crates.

Zelma Lodge Will Furnish Hospital Room

Zelma Rebekah Lodge, L.O.O.F. is probably the first body not directly connected with the hospital, to take a decisive step in connection with the new hospital. (You will notice we do not say "proposed" new hospital because we feel confident that the hopes of the hospital committee will be filled). They have announced their intention of furnishing a room in the new institution and have already started a fund towards that end. Under the laws of the Order they cannot take money from their regular funds for the purpose but are allowed to raise money for outside benevolences by socials, parties, concerts, etc., by first making public announcement that the proceeds are to be devoted to the particular benevolence in mind. To this end they are announcing their intention of holding a bridge and forty-fives social on Monday evening, September 9th.

Hospital Building Fund Still Growing

Reports from collectors in the outside sections are now coming in to swell the total of pledges in the Hospital Building Fund Drive, and this week's effort was fairly good. It could have been better, but as it is the progress of the drive is satisfactory.

Report from Mr. Rowlette collector at Roxville, contained $75.00 remittance from that section, and Mrs. James Woodman remitted $37.50 from the district of Conway. From Deep Brook cash and pledges totalling $90.50 were reported on Thursday morning, with only the western part of the village visited by the collectors.

The drive enters its fifth week on Monday. Collectors in every section who have not already reported, should make every minute of this week count. People are waiting for the collectors to call. They are waiting to give. They know that a new hospital is needed. They know what proper hospital facilities mean and in every section from which reports have been sent the collectors had friendly reception from all, and generous giving. That is what makes the work interesting and encouraging.

All will give. Some will give no

Others will sign the pledges for future payments, and it is surprising how quickly the amount grows. "Everybody a Contributor" is the motto of the campaign. Keep the sum growing and the new hospital will be a fact even before we know it.

Digby County Man Killed by Hit and Run Car

Word has been received by Wilis and James Tibbetts, of Brighton in this county, that their brother, Jacob S., a well known farmer, of Bath, Me., was killed last Thursday by a "hit and run" driver. They have as yet received no particulars—merely the bare announcement. Jacob S. Tibbetts was the third son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tibbetts, and was born in Plympton 54 years ago. For the past 35 years he has been a resident of Bath where he owned and conducted a large farm. He leaves to mourn their loss two young daughters, five brothers and four sisters. With the exception of the two mentioned above who live in Brighton the brothers and sisters all live in Massachusetts.

According to the "Canadian Fisherman," a fish cannery is being proposed to pack the fish products of the Manitoba lakes. It is also reported that efforts are to be made to utilize the large available quantity of coarse fish offal from the Manitoba fisheries in fertilizer and stock feed manufacture.

Traffic and War Losses

The traffic division of New York's police department has made its annual report which discloses among other facts, more than 1000 persons were killed and 45,000 injured in the streets of the metropolis in 1928.

The Federal losses in the battle of Bull Run were 2,896; Confederate losses were 1,982. This leads one to the conclusion that if war is what Sherman said it is, then traffic in the big cities of the world is more so.

Traffic conditions in other cities are about as bad, in proportion to population, as in New York. Perhaps a peace conference is what is needed to correct them.

Clever Women

The women of Nova Scotia, no less than the men, are justly celebrated for their cleverness and for the success they often achieve. None can surpass them in natural ability. It only requires education, training and opportunity to show what they can do.

Last Saturday's Halifax Chronicle contained pictures and sketches of three ladies, all from Pictou county, who have made good in their respective vocations. Two of them, Miss Clara Murray and Miss Kay Ross Smith, are now in the United States and are distinguishing themselves in the field of art and literature. They are making their way by their own exertions and no doubt fame and fortune await them.

The third lady referred to is Miss Mary Chisholm who has just retired from teaching after forty-three years of service in the public schools of her native province. In our opinion she is entitled to more credit than the others, though her fame may not extend so far. A lifetime of useful work, though spent in comparative obscurity may not win the applause of a continent, but its results may be of the utmost importance in the life of a nation. It takes more real cleverness and ability to be a clever school teacher than it does to write a feature article for the press, or to paint the portrait of some wealthy parvenue. All honor to Miss Chisholm! May she live to enjoy many years of well-earned rest.

Car Badly Damaged at Saulnierville

Losing control of the car when one of the rear tires blew out, four occupants of the vehicle, which was driven by Mrs. Mary Francis Comeau of Saulnierville, were injured when the auto plunged from the road and into the ditch where it turned over after striking a culvert. Mrs. Comeau received a severe laceration on the back of her head and cuts and bruises to her arms and hands, while her two small children and her sister, Mrs. H. H. Rogers, of Everett, Mass., were badly shaken up. Another child in the car was unhurt. A passing motorist who happened to be on the scene shortly after the accident removed Mrs. Comeau to the office of Dr. J. P. Belliveau, where her injuries were attended to. The car was badly damaged, every window but one being shattered. Lamps and radiator also were demolished while the whole body of the auto was badly twisted.

Rubs by Rambler.

An Observant Citizen Writes of What He Sees and Hears

The rain on Saturday did a lot of good but it was just a "drop in the bucket" compared to what the country needs. But it also did a lot of damage to the roads. I should judge I was out for a short drive on Sunday and I do not know that I ever saw the roads in a rougher condition. This particularly applies to the roads leading out of town—Warwick street for instance. Washboards and pot holes abound and certainly takes a lot of pleasure out of driving.

The rush of travel into the province is still keeping up well but the tide is on the turn and the rush after today will likely be the other way. Railway men have told me frequently that they dread the last two or three days of August and the first few days in September. The trains are overcrowded, hot and close, and kiddles and babies are tired and fretful, and the passengers generally are cross and irritable and nothing seems to go just right. And this year there are so many more people in the province than ever before that I have no doubt it will be quite a problem to handle them on the return. It takes five or six weeks for them to come into the province but they try to get out in a few days owing to the fact that so many of them have to be back on duty the day after Labor Day. Here's hoping they all get back safely with kindly feelings towards the province and its people and with a determination to come again next year.

The editor tells me he had a caller at his home last Friday evening—a young man whom I hadn't thought of in connection with my letter in the Courier of that date—who wanted to know who Rambler was and what he meant by getting after him as he had done in his letter. Well, young man, as I said you were not in my thoughts at all as I wrote that. However you have given yourself away and all I can say is you had ought to be ashamed of yourself for being in the business. A bootlegger is not respected by anybody. He may make a lot of money and make quite a show—may even be invited to other people's houses for a social gathering as I have known to be the case—only to have the host the next day remark to his friends: "I had that d—d bootlegger into the house last night—you have to do it for business purposes you know." A bootlegger is not tolerated for himself—if any notice is taken of him at all it is for purely business purposes—someone wants to sell him a car or boat or something of that nature. In the life of the town that counts he is nobody—and it is the rottenness business on the face of the earth for a man to be engaged in, except possibly the peddling of drugs, which to my mind is the lowest depth a man can reach in degradation.

Celebrates 94th Birthday Anniversary

Mrs. Cordelia Rice, of Bear River, has passed another milestone on a life's journey and on Friday afternoon, August twenty third, celebrated her 94th natal day. She is the daughter of the late William and Abigail Potter, born and has lived her entire life in Bear River. "Aunt Cordelia" as she is affectionately so called by the entire community, is a real character in the community life. She carries her years lightly and with the exception of a slight deafness, is remarkably bright. Her mind is active, her memory good and she has retained her mental faculties to a surprising degree. All the home-comers who have known her are sure to visit "Aunt Cordelia" and she has no difficulty in remembering them and never fails to inquire about the various members of their family, taking a keen interest in all her friends. Mrs. F. W. Rice presented her with a decorated cake and a large number of friends called to offer their good wishes. She received gifts of coin, fruit, flowers, confections also many letters and cards from friends in the Maritimes and the United States. As all her immediate family have predeceased her, she is living alone in the family homestead.

One of Florida's Famous Green Benches Here

Have you been up to the station lately? If so you will no doubt have noticed a new green bench. What does it mean? Well, this is a sample of the famous green benches of St. Petersburg, Florida—of the style adopted by that city and which has caused it to be known as "St. Petersburg—the Sunshine City of Green Benches." This bench was made in Yarmouth from blue print's brought from St. Petersburg by George F. Parker, the International Booster for Nova Scotia and Florida. The bench attracted a lot of attention in Yarmouth and after it has been here for a little time it will be moved to Kentville and Halifax.

Thousands Raised for Helpful Objects

That Digby is the centre of a very prosperous portion of Nova Scotia—yet, at the same time, a very generous portion—must be acknowledged by every one when they learn of the large amounts raised here during the summer for the support of the churches and public institutions. In fact for a population as small as ours the figures are almost beyond belief. We have made no special effort to compile all the figures for the season just closed but the following will give some idea:

United Church Garden Party, Digby	$316
United Baptist Garden Party, Digby	442
St. Patrick's Garden Party, Digby	525
Holy Trinity Garden Party, Digby	725
Hospital Fair, Digby	3,054
St. Clements Garden Party, Deep Brook	625
St. Edwards' Annual Service, Clementsport	202
Anglican Garden Party, Bear River	230
St. Bernard's Picnic, St. Bernard	4,500
Doucetville Picnic, Doucetville	1,000
Hectanooga Picnic, Hectanooga	1,660
Baptist Garden Party, Bear River (approximately)	175
Building Fund Digby Hospital (approximately)	20,000
Special Tea, Trinity, Digby	32
Variety Concert, Trinity, Digby	30
V. O. N. Tea, Golf Club, Digby	225
British Empire Legion, Digby (play) (show)	200

Besides the above there were tea parties, garden parties and picnics in North Range, Weymouth North, Burtonvale, Hillgrove, Sandy Cove Westport and several other places, which would add at least a thousand dollars; and there were as well several donations such as $500. to Trinity church, Digby, for a Duffield Memorial, and $5 towards seeds and bulbs for the Memorial Garden—a total of well over $35,000 not counting the numerous small functions held by the country churches, societies and charities in almost every community of the county.

We heard a gentleman expressing himself as surprised at the celebrity with which one of our local shoe repairers can handle a job through. He referred particularly to Mr. Manthorn and said he took a pair of boots there to be half-soled and in 35 minutes was walking out of the shop with the finished job. He thought that was a record and it certainly was fast work.

Flying Stone Badly Damages Digby Car

Viewed by hundreds of people the Studebaker Victoria coupe owned by Churchill Sollows of Digby, was on exhibition this week, mute evidence of a remarkable escape his mother, his wife and himself had.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. Sollows with his wife were returning to Digby from Yarmouth. The car was passing a residence near Hebron and a heavy auto was approaching. When about fifty feet distant the forward wheel of the approaching car pinched a large stone about the size of an egg from the highway. The stone was hurled ahead with the speed of a bullet. It struck the windshield, zipped past the head of Sollows who was at the wheel and shot out through the rear window missing the head of the elder Mrs. Sollows by less than an inch. The car was stopped and the two ladies in a shocked condition were taken into the residence nearby and attended to by Rev. Mr. Burnett, who witnessed the providential escape. Mrs. Sollows owes her life to the fact that she was leaning on the parcel carrier on the left of her seat. Two round neat holes appear in the rear and front windows of the car.

Big Excursion Party Entertained Here

Digby had the honor of entertaining quite a large excursion party on Friday last—a Raymond & Whitcomb party of seventy-two. They arrived in Yarmouth that morning by the steamer Yarmouth and for almost three hours were the guests of the Board of Trade of that town. Harry I. Brooks—a former Weymouth boy who for many years has been in the transportation business—was in charge of the party. After being driven around Yarmouth and its environs they embarked at 11 o'clock on a special train for Digby, arriving here a few minutes after 1 o'clock. They spent the afternoon and night in town and left about 9 o'clock the next morning for Halifax, making several short stops at important Valley points. At Halifax on Monday the party were taken in charge by the C.N.R. and carried over the South Shore line in the finest train which has ever run over those tracks, taking the trip in easy stages and reaching Yarmouth on Tuesday night, when they again took the boat to return. They had a delightful trip, with splendid weather.

Trinity Choir Delighted Large Audience

Trinity Anglican Choir is to be congratulated upon the most delightful concert held in the Parish Hall on Thursday evening last. The hall was filled to capacity and everyone expressed complete satisfaction with the programme.

The Family Album, recalling fashions of beauty in "Ye olden times", brought forth a round of applause. "Liza Jane", a comedy dialogue by Misses Edith Lynch and Frances Caswell kept the audience in a roar of laughter. The choruses by the choir were splendidly rendered and well balanced. The numbers reflect great credit on the members of the choir and their leader.

The soloists of the evening added greatly to the enjoyment of the programme. Miss Bertha Hickman, vocalist, and Miss Hale, pianist, both of New York, are always received with warm applause by local people.

J. C. Lloyd of the "Elms", rendered two baritone solos in a very pleasing manner. Little Miss MacNutt in her novelty dance was very dainty doing the light fantastic.

Chorus—"Men of Harlech"
Piano Solo—Miss MacNutt
Novelty Dance—Miss MacNutt
Family Album—Members of the Choir
The girls playing the piano parts
Vocal Solo—Miss Bertha Hickman
Pantomime—"The Spanish Lover"—Misses Lois Walker and Bernice Roop
Messrs David Daley and Richard Lynch
Comedy Dialogue—Misses Edith Lynch and Frances Caswell
Chorus—"Bells of St. Mary's"
Vocal Solo—J. C. Lloyd
Mixed Quartette—Mrs. W. E. Tupper, Miss G. Oliver, Messrs H. Holder and A. E. Clarke
Chorus—"Goodnight, Goodnight, Goodnight"

The proceeds amounted to $87.00 which wipes out the debt incurred in robing the choir in surplices and cassocks.

The fire department was called out last Friday to a blaze on the roof of the ell of J. W. Peck's house, at the Racquette. Although the fire department is purely voluntary and its members are scattered all over the town at their various duties during the week days, they responded so quickly to the alarm that they had water on the fire in about five minutes and the flames were extinguished before a large amount of damage had been done. Their new motor wagon is certainly a big help.

As announced last week H. T. Warne has purchased the Buckler brick yard at Annapolis Royal. He now informs us that he has a large quantity of second hand brick for sale. These bricks are in splendid condition and really better than new brick because they have been tempered by fire.

Parents Should Do More To Help Teachers

Some parents in town are this week manifesting somewhat tardy interest in the matter of their children's progress at school. Throughout last year one of the most vexing problems before the school officials was the question of irregular attendance on the part of some pupils. Each week lists of absentees were given by the teachers to Trust Officer Cowan, who visited the homes and urged parents to send their children regularly to school. In spite of this some 40 or more pupils were absent each day.

Home preparation of lessons was in many instances very poorly done or neglected almost entirely.

Teachers punished pupils for missed lessons often by detaining them after school and in some cases by strapping them. Parents' ire was then aroused.

Examinations and tests in school were frequent. Quarterly reports were regularly given to the pupils to take home for inspection. We have heard of instances of parents signing the reports without observing the child's record for the quarter.

In face of such indifference how can pupils grade at the end of the year? Digby schools were 80 per cent successful in promoting their pupils. Such pupils as failed, as a rule, are not fit for an advanced grade at present, but may have been had parents insisted on regular attendance and homework during the whole year.

Mink Cove

We are pleased to say that Mrs. Wilfred Gidney has recovered from her recent illness.

Mrs. Rustace Elderkin and children accompanied by Miss Marie Elderkin, are visiting relatives in Hantsport and Mount Denison.

Miss Fay Haines of Freeport, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Samuel Gidney.

Recent arrivals at Burnside Cottage are: Misses Anna and Lena Albert, New York; Ralph Mottram, W. Stuart, New York; Rev. and Mrs. Forbes, Digby.

Miss Florence Wallis, our former teacher, her sister Eleanor, and some friends made a motor trip to Mink Cove and enjoyed a beach party last week.

We enjoyed very much the article on the front page of last week's Courier in which the flowers in front of the Soldiers Memorial delivered such a cheering message to the dear old lady who dozed and dreamed there. Write some more!

The Liquor Question

In the course of a few weeks at most there will be a general election held in this province. So far as is known at present there will be only two candidates in the field, viz., Mr. Prohibition and Mr. Government Control. Every voter who goes to the poll—and everyone entitled to vote ought to go—will have to mark his or her ballot for one or the other of these candidates. The question is "how ought the people of Nova Scotia to vote at this election?"

For as long as the oldest inhabitant can remember, and longer, a heated controversy has been going on over most of the continent about the use of intoxicating liquor. In the newspapers and magazines, from the pulpit and the platform, the ablest writers and speakers have continually discussed the question. Scientists and economists have written books about it. Politicians have exploited and fooled with it, and still the controversy rages and the end seems as far off as ever.

What is the reason of this extraordinary spectacle? Can no relief be had from the intolerable hubbub? Are we doomed, like Sisyphus, to be forever pushing the stone up to the top of the mountain only to have it roll back again to the bottom? What will be the end of the matter? Astronomers tell us that the earth and everything in it will be shivered to atoms in something like five hundred million years. Perhaps the famous liquor question will then be blown up with the rest and finally settled.

Seriously, we do not hope to solve this problem where everyone else has failed. But we have a few more remarks which we feel it our duty to make. The subject is too vast to be fully dealt with in a single article and we propose to return to it in a future issue.

Education for Tomorrow

The opening of the school year will bring relief to some of the young people who find prolonged leisure burdensome and tedious. To others it will mean the added joy of the school atmosphere and environment. To some parents it will bring relief from the distraction of keeping the children occupied and entertained. To others it will mean heavy hearts when they see for the first time the school sharing with the home in the training of the child. To some young people it will mean a struggle to give up a remunerative position for what may seem to them less profitable work. Others will have a consciousness that no matter how lucrative the position, it will be more profitable to resume schooling. These views education in terms of the future returns. Financial needs may dictate that others continue their earnings to permit resumption of the schooling later on. This training will be profitable, as a year of any work should produce, in addition to the disciplinary value, a more wholesome regard for the advantages of education. The danger to this group is the "cooling process" that takes place during such intervals, with a resultant diminishing interest.

Young people may argue that they have sufficient training to meet future requirements. It is difficult to foresee what these requirements may be. Because of rapidly changing standards, people are ever confronted with situations they could not have foreseen a decade ago. In farming, in industry and in business, as well as the professions, we find more exacting demands. It is reasonable to predict that requirements in all such

Rubs by Rambler.

An Observant Citizen Writes of What He Sees and Hears

In my walks around town I notice that some teamster who should have known better has dumped several loads of garbage, apparently from one of the hotels, on Victoria street leading to the cemetery. It makes an unsightly mess and smells to Heaven these hot days. Our citizens should have more pride in the appearance of the town than that. We have a pretty town to look at from a distance but people who come here to spend a vacation and run across such sights as this think we are pretty poor housekeepers. Teamsters who remove garbage and rubbish should be warned against such a practise.

What a difference a week at this time of the year makes in the appearance of our streets. One day you may walk along the street from the theatre to the crossing and marvel at the number and variety of cars parked at the sidewalk; the next day the street is practically deserted. This always happens about the last few days of August although the tourist season is not over. But during September—although it is one of our best months in the year—there is not the rush of visitors as there is in July and August. This year the prospects are the hotels will have a better September than for many years—possibly the best they have ever had, as they have a lot of bookings on hand for the month. July was better than the average July, August was away ahead, and September is going to be good, so there is not much cause to complain.

I hear the C. P. R. wants a hundred men and twenty teams to start work immediately the Pines is closed on the new golf course. I hope it is so because that means a lot of work for the fall and winter when we want the work. Then there is also the rumor—I don't know how true it is or if lines will continue to be raised.

A like situation exists in adult life in that there are many who 10 years ago decided they had sufficient training to meet future requirements. In later years they found it necessary to raise the standards to meet increasing opportunities. It has meant the passing of these opportunities or the resumption of educational pursuits. Our colleges, universities, correspondence schools part time schools and night schools bear testimony to this situation. In them we find many adults who have returned to build up the foundation neglected in youth.

It is hard to say when a boy or girl has had sufficient training. Such training usually increases opportunities as well as incomes. It would seem a wise policy to be liberal in estimating the amount of educational training required rather than be forced to acquire it at an age when they are less susceptible to it. The fact that young people in increasing numbers are today taking this precaution makes the situation more emphatic and the demand more imperative. Boards of education and school officials, appreciating this situation, have made adequate provisions for every demand. It rests with the young people and their parents to do the rest. They should at least consult with school officials before deciding to terminate schooling.

there is anything at all in it—that the Pines itself is to be enlarged this winter. If that is so there will be work for all who want it for some months. It is certain, however, that there has got to be more accommodation provided for the tourists—hundreds have been turned away from the hotels this season and have had to go to points outside the town. Down St. Mary's Bay, within twelve miles of Digby, there will probably be twenty or more "overnight" cabins built, and some more cabins and bungalows around the Basin in readiness for next season's business.

My remarks about the illegal traffic in booze being carried on here has caused a lot of comment and those concerned are wondering what I am going to say next. Well I could say a lot—possibly will before I am through if the editor will stand for it. The editor has shown me a printed copy—printed, mind you—of a price list being distributed by one of the local dealers. The names of the manufacturers do not appear, just the list of the goods and the prices at which they will be shipped, but I understand the local dealer is quoting "landed at the pier in Digby." By the way there was a shipment of six barrels landed a few days ago and arrangements were made to remove it to a certain place. The owner waited for it to show up but it did not. A few days later the empty barrels were found in the woods down the Neck road. Some one got the benefit of that shipment and did not pay a price "F. O. B. Digby" either. Then they tell me the boat slip is being used for the distribution of the goods quite a lot, too, and that several of the boat men, who the public knows would have nothing to do with the business have actually been ordered to move their boats and anchor them off, when someone wanted to move a shipment of booze off to a yacht or some other point. A man who lives on Water street heard a truck in front of his house the other night along towards morning. He got up and from his bedroom window watched the process of unloading that truck and saw the cases carried up to First Avenue where no doubt they were cached. And yet there are people who will say this all night running of trucks means nothing.

Fishing bowed to chivalry one day recently at St. James Island, Canadian Pacific angling resort in the Georgian Bay, when Judge B. Williams of Jackson, Mich., got a bluegill while fishing with his wife. The judge couldn't handle the canoe, so the wife had to have a chance to land a fish, so the judge put pressure on his catch which broke away. Mrs. Williams, after a half-hour fight landed a fine fish.

Lord Leake of Pavamham, chairman of Jovell Ltd., arrived in Canada recently on the Empress of Australia en route to Australia. He is contemplating a similar company in Australia in connection with sheep raising. He was also examining possibilities in the Prairie for a similar settlement organization.

Discontinuation of the present Japanese Government and the advent of a new one within a year is predicted by Viscount K. William Baird, steamship passenger traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway who inspected the Brecon in New York recently, said that in view of the shorter distance between Cherbourg and Quebec and New York, the 40,000-ton new Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain to be placed in Atlantic service next spring, might make a strong bid for the blue flag of the Atlantic. This steamer will be an all burner 720 feet long, 97-foot beam and will carry more than 1100 passengers in first, second and third class.

As a result of experiments conducted over several years past, officials of the Canadian Federal Department of Agriculture feel assured that two or three varieties of wheat have been at last developed that will resist rust. No names have yet been given the new varieties and it will be two or three years before they can be produced in sufficient quantities for seed distribution.

Here and There

(362) Canada has one motor vehicle for every nine persons of population. A recent census shows the average rate number of motor vehicles in the Dominion at 1,078,819. Only three countries exceed Canada in heavy density of motor cars, namely, United States, with one for every 6.11 persons; Hawaiian Islands 7.9 persons, and New Zealand 8.6 persons.

The New England conscience got busy recently in a small town in Massachusetts where a resident mailed back anonymously to the matron of the Royal York, Toronto, a package of spoons, services and dining room "sundries" borrowed some time previously. The writer, in returning the articles to Monsieur Maillard, the matron, said: "My conscience has been bothering me a great deal since and I have been unable to keep them any longer."

The Stoney Indians, Alberta, cannot be said to be a "vanishing race," for while the section of the tribe living on the Stoney reserve was making a two-week trek to attend the annual Indian pow-wow at Banff, four babies were born. Mothers and children are all healthy and well.

Last spring a man came into the C. B. ticket office on Sparks street, Ottawa, for a ticket to Leonard where he had a job. He was five cents shy on his fare, but the railway gave him a ticket anyway. The other day a man in overalls walked into the Sparks street office and said: "I owe you five cents on a ticket; here it is."

Hon. Chas. Stewart, Minister of the Interior, who has been flying over the Rocky Mountains recently, announced at Banff that the buffalo herd there will be augmented shortly by addition of animals specially selected from the herds at Wainwright and Elk Island.

Canadians are the world's greatest butter eaters. A recent compilation made by the Canadian Government Bureau of Statistics shows that the total consumption of butter in the Dominion last year was 220,000,000 pounds or a per capita consumption for the year of 55.21 pounds, an increase of nearly half pound from the year of 1927.

J. M. R. Fairbairn, chief engineer, Canadian Pacific Railway, and Dr. P. A. Gaby, chief engineer, Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, have been selected as Canadian delegates to the Tokyo sectional session of the World's Power Conference to be held in Japan in October. They were nominated at a meeting of Canada's executive conference committee.

The steady increase in the use of electric power per capita in Canada is shown by a comparison of the figures for 1920 and 1927. During this period the amount of power used per 100 of population increased from 42 to 48 horse-power, or the use of power per inhabitant increased over 44 per cent.

As an indication of the increasing popularity of Nova Scotia as a tourist resort, the Lord Nelson Hotel, Halifax, on July 15 set three records for the first time with 246 persons sitting down to breakfast, 259 for luncheon, and 279 for dinner.

The Digby Neck Mail

From the Christian Science Monitor

"No, madam, no vacation in the mail service." The lumbering mail bus lurched along the dark Nova Scotia roads, while the driver turned to talk genially over his shoulder with his only passenger. "Nearly twenty years I've been on this contract—every day, summer and winter, only excepting Sundays, Christmas and a few days when storms make it impossible. No, no vacations in the mail service."

"Yes, its heavy driving sometimes in the winter. But the bus gets through. If the drifts aren't more than six or eight feet wide, the old bus will go through 'em."

The sun had set an hour before in a burst of crimson, which turned half the sky into a conflagration and sent long, flaming tentacles way over to the east. Soft, opalescent reflections had hovered in the Bay of Fundy for nearly an hour, right up to the shore line, where dark pine trees stood like sentinels posted there to keep the water back.

The clear starlit night unfolded it all, the bay, the woods, the narrow road which wound up hill and down for nearly thirty miles along the Neck and the big green mail bus, which bounced along in uncontested right of way with its two occupants. Three hours before, the drive had been undertaken merely because of the visitor's whim to explore the Neck to its very end.

Then the bus had been laden with half a dozen weighty mail pouches, which must be tossed off at the various post offices were passed. A dozen passengers bounced sideways on the narrow seats as the ponderous vehicle negotiated the steep hills and sharp turns of the road. And the driver must be alert, too, for he must report on numerous personal errands which he had, good-naturedly undertaken for persons along his route.

"Oh, yes, here are Mrs. Brown's films," as he tossed the package into a pair of cupped hands; "they had only one package left in that size. Wait, here is the change, too."

"Dick, ah, here's Dick. Here's your fishing rod, sonny, in fine shape now. Jump on and ride down to the dock with us—we go by the dock."

And so on, from films to fishing rods and from batteries to sewing silks. For at every few miles some lingering figure on the roads waited expectantly, and not one errand or inquiry had been overlooked.

The visitor had paused wistfully, with one foot on the step of the bus. "Yes, it would be a wonderful ride. But how will I get back?" For the bus makes only one trip every twenty-four hours, and no wheel turns on the Neck after sunset.

But the mail driver's hearty "Leave that to me: I'll see that you get back all right," had settled the question. She had jumped in, hatless, and remarked on what promised to be a most pleasing adventure.

Through the deep green of spruce and pine woods, along billtops from which glimpses of steely gray water on each side of the Neck could be seen; by quiet hamlets where children stood in groups to watch the mail go by, and past covens where the water lapped softly on the shingle, the bus went. Groaning and straining laboriously it climbed hills which looked as though they rose at an angle of almost 45 degrees; and, with proportionate effort, was held back from too furious an acceleration of speed on the downward path.

In an hour and a half the end of the Neck was reached. All passengers save one, had already been debouched, and but a couple of mail sacks remained—for the end of the neck is not the end of the mail route. There are islands which extend the distance for several miles yet.

So the mail—and the passenger—were transferred to the ferry after a steep climb down a shingly stretch that dipped to a beach at the north side of the channel where the waters of the Bay of Fundy and St. Mary's Bay meet in turbulent abandon.

unusual was welcome and a break in the routine. "Sure. This way, lady. We'll take you over with the mail," with a friendly and rather sheepish grin.

It was a short trip, but a colorful one. The sun, retreating ready to set splashed the entire western sky with brilliant pink and rose, which gradually deepened to crimson and scarlet. The reflections in the water looked as though some gorgeous old-fashioned flower garden had burst into bloom right under the small boats bobbing quietly on the out-going tide.

The whole scene was brilliant with the glow of reflected light and color. An expression of wonder escaped the visitor. "Yes," By admitted, rather pleased. It is a fine sunset tonight."

It was plain, however, that sunsets were no novelty to him. Patronizingly, with half an eye on the landscape, he agreed that the color was good.

If the visitor would look across the channel closely, however, just there—between the two dark roofs—she would see the field stone wall he had built around his garden. The wall was about four feet high and he had picked up every stone for it himself.

Perrying? Oh, yes, that was his business. Forty years he had been ferrying the mail over from the Neck, and his father before him had ferried the mail, too. Yes, their family was the official ferriers in that community. Forty years.

Would he mind ferrying the visitor back tonight? Oh, no; of course not. Anyway, he had promised to bring an automobile back from the island that evening, so he would be making the trip anyway.

But the visitor must not roam around while the float was prepared for the automobile on the return trip. Surely that would not be hospitable. No, she must come to his house and meet his daughters, and see the field stone wall for herself. Besides, she must be cold. The wind was blowing chilly, now that the sun was near setting. No doubt, the warm house would be attractive and probably the girls had made a fire in the stove.

When the boat grated on the pebbles of the Neck once more the automobile having been cautiously negotiated across the channel rather clumsily by means of the float and a pole, darkness had fallen. Gropingly, the visitor, after bidding the kindly ferryman a cordial good night, climbed the cliff to look for the bus, which the mail driver had promised would be parked just outside the house where he went to get his dinner. And, if the bus was all in darkness, he had said, she could just sit in it till he came out.

Yes, there was the bus, and there, too, a dimly distinguishable figure moving near it. Then a familiar voice called, "Ready to go back now?" and the homeward drive started.

After a full day's work, this good natured mail driver was piloting his heavy bus, voluntarily, over more than twenty miles of hard road just to gratify a visitor's whim.

Gratifying, she expostulated. Didn't he have any other passengers? Was he making the return trip entirely on her account? But gallantly he waved her scruples aside. It was a nice evening. He had nothing to do, anyway, and he'd just as soon drive as not. It was no trouble at all!

Cheerfully, he chatted on, telling of his long, hard drives in the winter, when the weather was so severe the mail bus could travel only half way down the Neck. He spoke of his family, which he had located in a town on the main land some ten years before, so that the children might "have the advantage of education."

For, at the tip of the Neck, where his evenings were passed, one young, experienced (teacher) presided over the educational destinies of all the children within the district.

So, just as cheerfully as he went about all his appointed rounds, he had weighed the question of his children's education and voluntarily undertaken to pass his evenings in loneliness at the end of the Neck, that his young family might grow up in a more broadening and disciplined atmosphere.

The soft, cool, evening wind blew through the bus and played gently with the tresses of trees along the road. The dark night shut out the landscape, and a million stars showed as points of light in the firmament overhead. There were no other travelers on the road either on foot or by vehicle. The glare of the headlights made a semi-circle of definite, tangible landscape which unraveled just ahead of the bus. Beyond, all else was stuffy, illusive, uncertain—"such stuff as dreams are made of."

A sudden quick turn past a few sleepy houses, then a run up a hill and there we were! The friendly eaves of "Poplar House" loomed through the shadows. Away in the meadow the tickle of a cowbell merged with the dull wash of the outgoing tide.

"Ah, it has been a delightful trip," said the visitor, warmly. "And now, what do I owe you?"

"Owe? What, that's no matter. Well, let me see. Well, a dollar will do." A dollar for a forty-odd mile ride, half of which was a special trip.

Watching the headlights disappear down the hill in the darkness, the visitor pondered that it had never occurred to her before that a mail driver's life could be crammed with so much human interest.

Sunday Will Be Hospital Day In Bear River

The Hospital Building Fund drive in Bear River district will begin on Monday, when a strong committee of members of the Bear River Women's Institute, appointed at the regular meeting held on Monday, will begin a house to house visitation of Bear River and the surrounding sections of Lanesville, Stanbrook Road, Morgansville, Bear River, East, Clementsvale, and Greenwood.

The members of the committee are: Mrs. L. J. Lovett, Mrs. A. B. Campbell, Mrs. L. V. Harris, Mrs. J. D. Harrow, Mrs. W. M. Romans, Mrs. Will Morine.

In the outlying sections the committee will be assisted by local canvassers, and it is hoped to have the canvass completed before the October meeting of the Institute. Sunday will be "Hospital Sunday" in Bear River Churches, the clergyman of the village having consented to present the claims of the new hospital before their congregations. In the absence of Rev. Barrass, pastor of the Baptist church, the congregations of the Baptist and United churches are holding joint services with Rev. Mr. Sawdon, rector of the United church in the morning and at the Baptist church in the evening. The Hospital message will be presented at both services.

Weymouth reports over six hundred dollars collected in that section to date, and more is still to come. Other sections are also working hard and all over the district the canvassers report most favorable and sympathetic responses to their calls.

That is what is going to make the drive a success. Everybody doing his or her share. Everybody helping to the utmost, and not only with present contributions, but with pledges of payments over a period of a year from now, so that even after the work of the canvassers is done the fund will keep on growing until the full objective is obtained.

Badly Hurt Under Load of Groceries

Pinned beneath a wagon load of groceries, with the horse on top of the load, Lloyd Turnbull, teamster in the employ of A. R. Turnbull, was rescued from a position that would have ended his life within a few minutes after the wagon had fallen off a part of the government pier at Digby to the railroad track on another section of the pier. Turnbull was delivering groceries to a vessel at the pier Monday afternoon and the noise of falling steel startled the horse and it shied to one side pushing the wagon over the side of the elevation. Turnbull fell off the wagon and sprawled across the track and before he could clamber out of the way the wagon, loaded with groceries, fell on top of him. The horse, caught in the harness, followed the wagon and landed across the team, workmen lifted the horse and load to one side. The young man whose shoulders were across the track was unconscious and taken to his home. A medical examination revealed no bones broken, but the injuries are painful and it will be some days before he is around again.

Sunday School Class Holds Corn Boil

The Soangetata Class, of the United Sunday School opened their activities for the fall and winter months with a corn boil and clam bake, last Thursday evening. Some fifteen young people, accompanied by Jack Russell, their teacher, sailed over to Bear Island, where they built a bonfire on the shore and proceeded to cook the corn. The corn was excellent and after everybody had eaten too much of it some unhappy soul, thought of the clams which were straightway brought forward and downed with amazing celerity. As soon as it was comfortably possible, after everybody had eaten enough, they started for home, with much singing and laughing. The party was voted a huge success, regardless of after effects.—Com.

Under the Auspices of Bear River Women's Institute the HOSPITAL BUILDING FUND DRIVE IN BEAR RIVER DISTRICT STARTS NEXT WEEK

Be ready when the canvassers call with a generous subscription in cash and a pledge for future payments.

"To me, the meanest flower that blows, can give Thoughts that do often lie too deep for tears."

—Wordsworth

There now, I've got myself into a pretty pickle; the Editor of the "Courier" says he wants something more from the Memorial Flower Garden, and when we talked it over all the flowers decided that I am "it". Now I think that is too bad, for I am only a little wee flower that ought to be content to be seen and not heard. The other flowers make a much braver show with their coats of many colours, and enjoy the admiration of the daily visitors—but when it comes to doing something besides showing off they all say—O let Sweet Alyssum do it. "Well, I suppose I must; and I will begin by saying that we have had our pictures taken—lots of people have pointed cameras at us and then gone away, but once a gentleman from New York took photographs of the flowers and the gardener who looks after us, and on his return to New York, this photographer did something to put the pictures on paper and sent them back for us to see; and I can tell you they are beautiful, and our kindly friend seems very proud of them and says they will be something to remind him of us when we are gone. "The other day a lady and gentleman were standing near, looking at us, and talking about the arrangement, and of what they would do with their garden—next year. Oh, dear me, this summer is nearly gone! a few weeks more and we are told Jack Frost will pay a night visit and will blow a terrible breath over us—ugh—Don't let us think about it."

"Do you know, we have had two real live bishops to see us—they said they liked the little garden, and the design, which was like that of mother's old fashioned garden—with lots of bloom; Doctors, Lawyers and Professors have looked us over carefully—I am glad the doctors did not prescribe any nasty medicine, nor the Lawyers squabble over us; one professor said: "It is a perfect riot of colour—I don't think we quite liked that word "riot"—it seemed too much like a lot of unruly schoolboys—and I'm sure we are not unruly. "Oh, I must tell you that some of us actually went to Church on Sunday with lots and lots of other flowers and we heard the deep grand music of an organ and some sweet singing, and the Clergyman spoke all about "Flowers" and mentioned white lilies as being more beautifully dressed than Solomon; then after the service the flowers were taken outside and placed on graves—to show remembrance. Are flowers able to remember things after they are dead—I nearly said it didn't? Did I tell you how flowers love the sun? Our gardener said that we all got our pretty colours from light which emanates from the sun; I am trying to remember a lot of hard words I heard and hope I get them correctly; he said some flowers were adapted to absorb one colour and other flowers other colours: Isn't it a beautiful arrangement and wonderful too—nothing seems left to chance; "The Lord God made them all."

"Each little flower that opens, Each little—
"Alyssum, dear, have you forgotten what you were expected to say? You are prattling away and now singing something quite new to us"—It was kindly Geranium who spoke and looked rather grave; "No, No, No," she said "I hadn't forgotten—I was putting it off as long as I could; you see, I've never said it before and—the poor little thing had to stop before proceeding, and something like a sob came faintly on the air. "We have been so happy together haven't we and made quite a lot of people our friends who often come and smile at us—and now—we shan't be here." "We are dropping off a few at a time—there are gaps where there were flowers—soon we shall all be gone—and I am expected to say—But it must be the very last word, and before I say it I want to tell you how much we have enjoyed our short summer—I suppose our only one. You will have summers, other flowers, other friends and other loves. You are all that we have or shall have—and you have loved us—haven't you? Our friend the gardener has been very kind to us and—Then she quietly breathed—
"All things bright and beautiful,
All creatures great and small,
All things wise and wonderful,
The Lord God made them all."
"They sang that in Church on Sunday—it was grand—GOOD-BYE."

Local Churches Improve Their Appearance

Among the improvements to public buildings carried on this summer have been the painting and renovating of two of our local churches—the United Baptist church and St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church. At the Baptist church the improvements consisted of two coats of paint, rather brighter than the old color. Situated as the church is in the midst of a number of shade and ornamental trees, the colors of the church and the foliage blend wonderfully well, making a very attractive picture. Unfortunately the Catholic church does not have such pretty surroundings. It occupies a slightly position but it stands alone, surrounded by open fields. It is doubtful if any more attractive color could be selected for this building than those used—a white body with a drab trimming. The grounds have been graded; a very attractive fence built and a sidewalk partly made, altogether a wonderful improvement, giving our Catholic friends a church to be proud of. The painting was done by the Melançons of Annapolis Royal, and George Trohan looked after the grounds and surroundings.

Digby's Airport Only Private One In Canada

According to the latest list of license airports completed by the Civil Service Branch of the R. C. A. F., Ottawa, Digby is the only licensed airport in Nova Scotia. This is owned and operated by Rufus Connor. Next season Digby will be used extensively as a port to receive aircraft. Already several aeroplane owners and companies have been in correspondence with Mr. Connor regarding landing and servicing of planes. Herman Ryan, of West Street Garage, Milford and Mendon Airports, Mass., who operates and owns several commercial aeroplanes, called and inspected the airport on the 10th inst, preparatory to making arrangements for next season. Mr. Ryan was quite satisfied with the flying field and facilities offered. Doubtless this will give Digby a boost and should be far reaching in attracting tourists. First Officer Sweeney, of the steamer Empress, is taking a few days off to enter the Yarmouth Hospital for medical treatment after the grounds and surroundings.

Three good reasons why you should purchase a coat at Wright's

When the average woman buys a coat there are three things uppermost in her mind: Will the coat wear well? Is it smartly made? Is it priced reasonably?

To all these questions we answer "Yes". Wright's coats are sturdily built of real cloth, they are made in the smartest styles, and they are popularly priced.

Is there any good reason why you should not wear a coat from Wright's?

Balfour Co. Put on Two Good Shows

Not for some time have we had a travelling stock company give so much pleasure to its audiences as did the Balfour Stock Company, which played at the Bijou Dream on Monday and Tuesday evenings.
Their first play was "Coppie Rick's" and then "Why Wives Go Wrong." Both were witnessed by capacity houses and were much enjoyed. The vaudeville acts were good. So many travelling companies have reached the stage where they think the public do not enjoy an entertainment unless there is a certain amount of stuff put over more or less suggestive and it is a great pleasure to find a show which keeps clear of even a hint of this. The Balfour Stock company gives a good, clean show; the plays are well acted, the vaudeville is in good taste and we speak for them as a bumper house on their return engagement next Monday when they will put on a great comedy drama, "Apple Sue."

HOMES—clothing—education—even pleasures and luxuries—are bought on the instalment plan; but few people realize that money—the force behind all buying—can itself be bought by instalments. By making payments of $4.52 a week you can buy $1,000 in four years. Ask our Manager about it.

Intolerance

As intolerance is one of our besetting sins, it would do us all good to examine into the hideous intolerance now making itself felt in Palestine. At this distance it is safe to discuss the Palestine imbroglio and see intolerance face to face. The fires of racial and religious antipathy burned so brightly over there that Arabs invaded the dormitory of a boys school and stabbed to death many of the innocent, defenceless youngsters. If unchecked in this country it might do the same.

From the safe standpoint of Canada we can all see how hideous is intolerance in Palestine. We cannot see why Arab and the Jew ought not to be able to get together. All that is needed is a decent respect for the other man's views. The Arab and the Jew ought to be able to firm religionists and yet abstain from offending their neighbors. So easy and simple is the task of keeping the peace as it lies in the minds of Canadians. All they need in Palestine is to be reasonable. But are Canadians tolerant in their own country? Alas, we all know to the contrary. The deepest and most hideous intolerance exists among us and it is widely distributed. No one side has a monopoly of it. It is both religious and racial.

Suppose we apply to ourselves the same formula which we think would quell intolerance in Palestine. All that we need is a decent respect for the other man's views. All we need is to be responsible. We need to acknowledge the existence of intolerance among us, and ought to cure it. It results from inbred ideas, narrow provincial states of mind. It is aggravated by clannish societies which embrace all kinds of decent people, by education and travel. Get acquainted with the different racial elements of your town. When you know them you will find them chips off the old block, all descendants of Adam. They are weak, strong, thrifty, unthrifty, drunk, sober, just like men of your own race. The idea that one race is better than another is absurd. Our remedy to cure intolerance is acquaintance. You cannot hate members of other races when you know them.

Prohibition

The persistence of the liquor controversy is due to the fact that in regard to moderate drinking, public opinion is honestly and almost equally divided. There are few who will not admit that drunkenness is bad both for the individual and for society. Hardly anyone will deny that the excessive use of intoxicating liquor is injurious to health, unfits for labor, degrades character, causes crime and misery, and demoralizes the state. But on the other hand there is no doubt that a very large percentage of our population, including many of our very best people, value the privilege of taking liquor in moderation or leaving it alone as they see fit, and they resent any attempt at coercion. Even the clergy are by no means a unit in regard to this. Hence it is that prohibitory laws, of which the Nova Scotia Temperance Act is an example, are so hard to enforce. So far as we are aware no attempt to enforce a prohibitory law has ever yet succeeded. After many years of prohibition liquor is as plentiful as ever in Nova Scotia and anyone who wants it can get it.

Intoxicating liquor, like everything else, must stand or fall by its own merits. If it can be used without harm, or with very little harm, then there is no reason for prohibiting the use of it. All forms of pleasure are harmful if carried to excess. Smoking, car-riding and dancing are injurious when not indulged in discreetly. Yet they are

This week sees the end of the summer tourist season as far as the transportation companies are concerned. The New York steamer has been taken off the route and the fast trains through the province have been cut down and only two or three are now running. The winter timetables have practically gone into effect all over Eastern Canada. B.T. the season has been a good one and the whole province has benefited. One important lesson the past season has driven home to the towns making a specialty of the tourist business—Digby learned the lesson years ago and has tried to benefit by it—the need for increased accommodation and, above all, a better understanding of our visitors. In this town we have learned to treat those who come as friends, in fact, in hundreds of cases the friendship is very pronounced and our American and Canadian visitors feel as much at home here as they do in their own homes. But Digby did not always know how to treat them. In the early days of the business there were a lot of misunderstandings—overcharges for board and other services—caused, not through greed exactly but because the business was a new one and our people had not found out what the visitors wanted and were willing to pay for. But this town has made a study of the likes and dislikes of those who come and there are not the complaints there were years ago. Here, although our rates are spoken of in other parts of the province as being the highest in Nova Scotia, we have learned to give service for the money received and ninety-nine out of every hundred tourists who come here are satisfied. If they have to save all the year to get enough ahead to spend a two or three weeks' vacation here they can get the accommodation they want at the price they are willing to pay; if they have oodles of cash they can go as high as they like and get service for their money.

not prohibited. We believe that intoxicating liquor is injurious to human beings in proportion to the quantity consumed. If used with moderation and judgment the harm may be so slight as not to be noticeable.

The Courier is no friend of the liquor traffic. As carried on in this province at present it is a mean and detestable business. We freely admit the evils of excess. But at the same time we must confess that we can see no good reason why a man who relishes liquor and only uses it sparingly, should be deprived of the right to legally take a drink when he wishes to do so. If temperance workers would recognize this right it would be better for the cause and would bring to it a vast number of recruits. The very word "Temperance" means moderation, not total abstinence. We believe it is possible to prevent the abuse of intoxicating liquor without positively prohibiting its use. How this might be done we will discuss at another time.

But they get service! This is a lesson that the majority of our Nova Scotia towns which have just started to cater to the business have not learned. They are just at the stage when they try to get all the money they can and give as little as they can in return. Last summer I had occasion to make a trip along the South Shore and I stopped at a hotel which was making a specialty of the tourist business. The rates were as high as some of the leading hotels here—not so high as the Pines, perhaps, but just as high as the others. I arrived in time for supper, was shown to a table covered with a soiled table cloth and paper serviettes. There was no menu, the "set-up" (white bread, brown bread and butter) was just what was left on the plate after those who had been at the table before us were through, and it was not renewed, and the supper consisted of a small quantity of very pale fried potatoes, a small piece of fennel haddock and two small slices of toast—a supper which would have been a disgrace in a dollar and a half a day house. The Department of Natural Resources has a great field ahead of them in trying to educate those who are catering to the travelling public to give the public value for their money.

I suppose there will always be extortionists. The Kentville Advertiser told of a case which happened in Annapolis county where a small party of American fishermen, who had all paid the preliminary expenses out of their own pockets were "soaked" by the hotel which undertook to provide guides and board almost $500 for a week's fishing, although the party supplied most of their provisions. That is robbery with a big "R". That one event is being advertised all over North America and it is safe to say the province will be out thousands of dollars all though the greed of one hotel man who thought he could get away with a few "easy" dollars.

I heard an argument in front of the post office the other day, caused, I believe, by my last letter. One man claimed there was as much drinking in the United States today as there was before the Volstead Act came into force. Whatrot! Before that act was enacted the liquor business was legitimate. The hoardings were covered with elaborate printed matter advertising the "beer that made Milwaukee famous" and all kinds of hard liquors; the magazines and newspapers carried whole pages of advertising at enormous expense; every corner store was a barroom; the treating habit was at its height, and there were no restrictions, outside of a duty imposed for revenue purpose, on the import of the stuff in any quantity. Everything was made easy for the drinker. But now there is no advertising allowed on billboards or in papers or magazines; the legal barrooms have been closed and the stores are now used for other businesses; the legal importation has stopped, and to get a drink the man who wants to buy it has to become a law breaker and sneak into dark alleys and speak-easies. Does it stand to reason that there is the drinking under the present circumstance as there was when everything was open? The American people haven't gone crazy in their disregard for law. During the same argument I heard a prominent citizen of Digby make the assertion that he when came here fifty years and over ago there were only four of the business men on Water street who were abstainers—all of the others drank, some of them to excess, many drinking themselves into drunkards' graves. But now, well the figures are practically reversed. Almost all the business men in Digby are abstainers, and those who do drink do so in moderation—they do not make sots of themselves like many of those who were doing business fifty years ago did.

N. S. Liquor Plebiscite

October 31st

October 31 has been set as the date for the plebiscite on the Nova Scotia Temperance Act, it was announced Friday by Premier Rhodes. An order-in-council naming the last day on which the plebiscite could be held under the legislation providing for it was passed that morning.

Two questions will be decided by the vote: Whether the electors of Nova Scotia favor the repeal of the N. S. T. A. and whether they are in favor of government control of the sale of liquor.

CAVALIERI of Paris urges PALMOLIVE "2 MINUTE MASSAGE"

Experts in every fashionable centre of Europe and Canada echo her advice

LINA CAVALIERI, noted beauty specialist and former operatic star, tells her patrons of a simple home beauty treatment.

"I am visited by some of the most famous beauties of two continents," she says. "In addition to my own beauty products, I always recommend Palmolive soap." To her discriminating clientele, Cavallieri suggests the simple two-minute, twice-a-day treatment which experts everywhere agree is the only correct "foundation cleansing" method: Make a lather of Palmolive soap and warm water. With both hands massage well into the pores for two full minutes. Then rinse... first with warm, later with cold water. That is all. Yet no other cleansing method leaves the skin so soft, refreshed and radiant. Start tonight.

Children's Flower Service At Digby In Trinity Church

The congregation of Trinity Anglican Church, Digby, will long remember the beautiful flower service held in the parish church on Sunday morning. The Sunday School children of that church and St. Paul's, Marshallsburg preceded by the choir marched up the center aisle to the chancel steps where a large wooden cross was erected to hold the flowers brought by the children. Two choirs, vested, received the bunches of flowers as the scholars came up, and placed them in the cross.

The altar, chancel and font presented a beautiful appearance, being most lavishly decorated with flowers gathered specially for the occasion. The rector, Rev. A. E. Gabriel in his address on "Flowers" brought out many lessons from the text "Consider the lilies" and likened their growth to the spiritual life of the child.

At the close of the service, the children came up to the cross once more and taking the flowers from the cross marched out of the church and placed them on the graves in the old churchyard. After a short prayer and the singing of the doxology the children retired to the schoolroom.

Here a presentation of a travelling clock was made to Mrs. Driffield superintendent of the Sunday School, who leaves Digby to take up her residence in Rotheray, N.B. The rector read the address which expressed the good wishes of the teachers and scholars, and their regret at her leaving them. Mrs. Driffield has been a great worker in the Sunday School and other branches of Young People's Work; she will be greatly missed by the parish of Digby.

Richest in Tea Essence

AS YOU know, all King Cole Tea is good; but King Cole Orange Pekoe is supremely choice. It is blended for fullness, flavor and strength as is the ordinary King Cole, but the Orange Pekoe is made solely from the finest young tender leaves that have just unfolded, full of succulent flavor.

Not only that—more expensive teas are blended in King Cole Orange Pekoe: aromatic Darjeelings from high up in the Himalayas, vigorous Travancorees from Southern India, costly delicacies that give character and distinctiveness to the finest tea we can blend.

You will enjoy King Cole Coffee too

Small Town Has Many Advantages

One frequently hears the complaint voiced by the very young members of the community that they are fed up with the small town and that they long to get out into the big world where they could do things and enjoy life to the full.

Only experience can teach that these juvenile hopes and aspirations are in the majority of cases doomed to bitter disappointment in the realization of what the great outside world holds in store. The majority of this juvenile army of longers after life and excitement come to the stage where they would give anything to get back to the simpler pleasures and real friends of the small town only to find that they are carried by a current which renders the backward swim a feat impossible of accomplishment.

Perhaps the restless youngsters are old enough to care for themselves, but it usually is the case that those who brag about being able to care for themselves are the ones who need the most restraining.

While those who have gone through the experience can sympathize with those who chafe at the confines and restrictions of a "little burg," yet they can assure the young people of today that they have in that "little burg" nearly all the opportunities which the young folks of a couple of decades ago thought they had to go to the big city to get. Young folks of today have pleasures and opportunities manifold greater than those which were presented to the young folks of yesterday. In the "little burg" today are all the things that would have made contented young folks of yesterday.

The girl or boy of today who hasn't an automobile in the family feels that Providence has been very unkind to him. In days not so long ago the two-horse rig that could be driven with one hand was thought quite sufficient for a Sunday afternoon's pleasure. We didn't get quite so far along on the road but the time didn't drag on our hands and the road seemed short enough.

When those now in middle age were young there were no moving picture theatres and unless they moved out of the "little burg" they had no chance to see a good show, but looking back through the years, the little family parties and taffy pulls, almost never heard of now, seem to have been far from unpleasant affairs, and to have possessed pleasant features.

We got along pretty well with all our handicaps and there was far more sociability when there were fewer places to go to than there is now when even staid folks who were raised under the more prosaic conditions of two or three decades ago have been partially carried away by the growing craze for amusement, to be entertained, to be doing something, and to be going somewhere. Celebrated Sixty Years of Wedded Life

The leading event of the week at Port Wade, was the anniversary celebration given to about forty invited guests on Friday evening last at the home of Capt. Edward Keans, in honor of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Keans, who on that date completed sixty years of wedded life together.

Mr. Keans, a native of Hubbard, N. S. came to Lower Grandville when a young man, and he married Mrs. Louise R. Harnish, of Milford, N. S.

Although each had several months earlier celebrated their 80th birthdays, yet on Friday they were young enough to enjoy to the full the intercourse with friends gathered to bestow their felicitations and good wishes.

Promptly at 8.15 to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Arthur Chisholm, the happy couple entered the parlor, accompanied by Capt. and Mrs. Keans, who assisted in receiving. They crossed to the bay-window where they stood beneath a canopy of white crepe paper caught up with true lovers knots of apple green. The room was prettily decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. The bride was gowned in black silk with a white Kashmir shawl, the gift of her granddaughter. Miss Lena Keans, a missionary in South India.

After congratulations were over Mrs. H. H. Reynolds presented a humorous and original poem, dedicated to the wedded pair, and later another appropriate reading was given by Mrs. F. R. Parker, which was also full of humor and much enjoyed.

Before the wedding supper was served, a fine programme of music came stealing over the air for entertainment. On the well filled gift table were many cards and messages of greetings from relatives and friends who could not be present.

Before the party dispersed, all joined in singing "Silver Threads Among the Gold" and other "Old Favorites."

The wedding day of Mr. and Mrs. Keans, sixty years ago, was not only an important day in their lives but it was a red letter day in the history of Annapolis Royal as on that day the first train to Halifax left Annapolis over the Windsor and Annapolis Railway. Mr. Keans and Miss Harnish were passengers as far as Paradise where they were married and they returned to Annapolis the same evening. Passengers were carried free on this first trip and a large number of people took advantage of it, but many who went to the station to go were afraid to make the venture and stayed behind. They were, therefore, the first bridal couple to ride on the Windsor and Annapolis Railway, and it was the first time the bride had ever seen a train.

Lake Superior is the largest, in fact it is the largest in the world and has been referred to as a great inland sea although the water happens to be fresh. The others are Lake On-

American Seaplane In Search of Boy

The seaplane N C 9780, belonging to the Curtiss Flying Service arrived in Digby shortly after one o'clock last Friday afternoon and made a landing at the public boat slip. She had left Rockland, Maine, about seven o'clock that morning in search of a small scow yacht, in charge of the son of E. B. Reed, of Bar Harbor, who had accompanied him, which has been missing since the day before. They had gone for a sail at Bar Harbor and when they got out into the open sea encountered a strong southwest wind which blew them off the coast. Nothing having been heard of them during the night the anxious parents engaged the seaplane to search for her. The plane had zigzagged over the intervening waters to Digby without success. She remained here for about half an hour and then left to fly across the Bay to Saint John, and continued on to Eastport, Maine, where they put up for the night.

John T. McBride To Issue New Weekly Paper

Halifax is to have a weekly newspaper in a class by itself, that is it will be devoted exclusively to marine news and marine advertising along the lines of the New York Maritime Register. The new paper is to be published by the Halifax Ship News Bureau which is under the direction of John T. McBride, who was at one time on the staff of the Maritime Register and who had much to do with the work of keeping the compendium of the movements of all vessels for that paper. Mr. McBride's new weekly will be a record of all Canadian vessels at home and abroad and will also have much marine notes and general marine stories of a spicy nature from a nautical standpoint. It is planned for the first issue to appear this month in the regular magazine size of eight pages about.

There is certainly no scarcity of water now.

THE PINES CLOSED

Wednesday's breakfast was the last meal served to guests in the New Pines Hotel this season, as the hotel closed that morning.

The New Pines which opened on the 24th of June this year under the management of O. C. Jones, has received the largest summer business that any Digby Hotel has ever experienced. The hotel has been filled since its opening day and during the height of the summer season it was necessary for the management to turn large numbers of guests from its doors daily.

Construction on the new hotel was started in May, 1928, and since then a regular colony of bucolic huts has sprung up around the mother hotel which is considered the most modern in the province. It is understood that work on a new 18-hole golf course to be in connection with the hotel is to commence immediately and nine holes of the new fairway will be operated next summer.

✓ Her Digby hotels will be closing within the next few days, bringing to an end the biggest tourist season on record for this section of the province. Every hotel in the town had to turn away hundreds of tourists or farm them out in spite of the increased accommodation brought about by the erection of the New Pines.

D. A. R. Officers Meet

At the Pines on Friday there was a meeting of officers of the D. A. R. at which Geo. E. Graham, Vice-President and General Manager, presided. On Sunday agents of the Line and their wives arriving at the Pines were welcomed by O. C. Jones, manager of the hotel, on behalf of the D. A. R. management. Talks were given by Mr. Smith and F. G. J. Comeau in reference to the passenger freight and hotel service the D. A. R. has built up and is building. Replies were made by L. A. Kirkpatrick, Stanley Tavener, Secy. Treasurer of the Evangeline Division of the Order of Railway Telegraphers. Following the talks the party were guests of the management at luncheon.

The schooner Viola Pearl, Capt. Lewis, arrived from Saint John during the early part of the week with a general cargo and cleared for Eastport with lumber for the Eastport Canning Company.

Weddings

SPURR—MANN

One of the leading social events of the season took place at New Westminster, British Columbia in the Olivet Baptist Church on Thursday evening Aug. 15th. when Margaret Augusta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Mann became the bride of Albert Roy Spurr, son of the late W. V. Spurr, of Deep Brook, N. S. The service, which was fully choral was conducted by Rev. J. L. Sloat and during the interval Miss Mary Pumphrey sang Day of Golden Promise accompanied by Mr. Fred Grocock at the organ. Ushers were Harold Mann and Archie Killick. The church was beautifully decorated with gladioli in tints of yellow and white with white asters and lily of the valley marking off the guest pews. White georgette with seed pearls outlining the circular neckline was chosen by the bride for her lovely gown; the head-dress of the hand embroidered net veil and train were incircled with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried Ophelia roses and lily of the valley.

Miss Doris Mann as bridesmaid wore a gown of lemon crepe florian. Little Miss Katy Grocock made a charming flower girl in pink crepe. She carried a basket of sweet peas in pastel tints. The bride groom was assisted by Mr. Harold Spurr. At the reception which followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Mann in an ensemble of Royal blue georgette assisted to receive the guests, Little Miss Eleanor Grocock was in attendance at the door. Mr. and Mrs. Spurr have arrived in Deep Brook the home of the groom where they are receiving a warm welcome from a large circle of relatives and friends. They will soon return to Vancouver where they expect to spend the winter months.

TEMPLIN—LETTENEY

One of the most interesting of early fall weddings took place in Dundas Centre United Church, when Margaret Lettoney, youngest daughter of Mrs. P. M. Lettoney, became the bride of John Hies Templin of London, Ont., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Templin, of Hamilton. Rev. E. W. Young, pastor of the church, officiated, assisted by Rev. W. Hies, of Forest, uncle of the groom.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Frank Bailey, took her place before the altar, which was backed with bright autumn leaves and flowers, to the strains of "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden" as rendered by J. Parrell Morris at the piano, Miss Dorothy Cahill and Bruce Wells, violinists.

The bride was charming in a sleeveless gown of ivory satin fashioned with a long waist cut at one side to form a butterfly, which was fastened with a brilliant ornament. The veil of French lace, which was caught at the back in cap effect formed of seed pearls and orange blossoms, fell into a short train. Her slippers were of white satin and she carried a shower of sunset roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Frank Bailey, in orchid crepe-backed satin and tulle with flared pleated skirt, black satin shoes and large black velvet hat, was her sister's matron of honor. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of Columbia roses. Mrs. Edson Osborn, of Pontiac, Mich., wearing a moire gown of deep yellow in princess style cut long at the back, with black satin shoes and picture hat of black velvet and carrying deep yellow roses, was the charming bridesmaid.

Byron Swartz was the groomsmen and Douglas Morris, also of London, and Leslie Grey of Windsor, were the ushers.

During the service soft music was played by the trio, and during the signing of the register Bruce Wells played "O Promise Me" as a violin solo.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Matilda street home of the bride's mother, London, which was decorated with a profusion of gladioli and asters in pastel shades. A buffet luncheon was served to some 65 guests from a table which was laid with a venetian lace cloth and centred with a bowl of pink roses.

The bride's mother wore a handsome gown of black lace and velvet with hat to match and a corsage of red roses and mauve sweet peas. Mrs. Templin, mother of the groom, was charming in a model of gold lace with hat to correspond and a corsage of roses.

For the honeymoon, which will be spent in Watkins, Glen, New York, Montreal and Ottawa, the bride chose a smart princess frock in brown with a chic two-tone hat to match. She wore a topcoat of nigger brown trimmed with beaver, and carried a red fox fur, the gift of the groom.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Templin will live in London, Ont.

COMEAT—MELANSON

On Tuesday there took place at Stella Maria Church, Meteghan, a marriage in which altogether exceptional interest was felt, the principals in the ceremony being Emma, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Melanson, of Corberrie, and Melbourne, son of Mrs. Monica Comeau, and the late Hilaire Comeau, of Meteghan.

Rev. Father A. C. LeBlanc, cousin of the bride, performed the ceremony, and was the celebrant at Nuptial High Mass which immediately followed. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion. The bride was charmingly attired and carried a bouquet of butterfly roses and sweet peas. Miss Comeau, niece of the groom, who attended as bridesmaid, was also an attractive figure in her becoming attire. Rene Melanson, brother of the bride, attended as best man. The bride was a school teacher, well liked by her pupils. Withal she is a girl of much illness last Friday morning, aged 74 years. She was a daughter of the late Captain Edward and Jane Bent Dakin and had lived in Digby all her life. She leaves one son, James Arthur Woodrow, of Cambridge, Mass. Newest Model Radio is on Display Here

A new model radio receiving set, Radiola 66, employing the proven and popular super-heterodyne principle, was announced today by Mr. G. B. Cossaboom, radio dealer of the Canadian General Electric Co. Limited.

The super-heterodyne circuit used in the Radiola 66, Mr. G. B. Cossaboom explained in announcing the new model, "includes a tuned antenna coupling, one stage of tuned radio frequency amplification, oscillator, power detector, two stages of intermediate frequency amplification, second (lower) detector and one stage of audio frequency amplification." Six AC Radiotrons UY-227 and one Radiotron UX-245 are used in this circuit. Radiotron UX-280 is used in the power unit to rectify the AC input to the plate and grid supply of all Radiotrons and also for the loudspeaker field supply.

Simplicity of operation and ease of adjustment is attained by the use of the illuminated, stencil cut selector on a small pilot lamp is placed back of the dial, which has scale markings from zero to one hundred, as well as approximate kilocycle markings. The light projects magnified images of the rotating scale on a translucent composition screen in the escutcheon plate. Not only does this make it possible to adjust the receiver easily, even in corners of rooms where the light is not good, but also shows at a glance whether the power is on or off.

The eight-tube cone, dynamic loudspeaker provides great undistorted volume. It derives its field supply from the power unit of the set.

Facilities are provided for attaching the electric pick-up equipment for the reproduction of phonograph records. A local distance switch is provided to preserve the fine quality of reproduction on both strong local and weak distance signals. The fine selectivity characteristic of Radiola 66 is maintained in both positions of the switch.

The cabinet is of two-toned walnut veneer with hurred maple overlays.

Samples of the new model have been received by Gordon B. Cossaboom and are now on display in the Maritime Fish Corporation Store, Water street (near Long wharf).

Two magnificent yoke of oxen were shipped on the steamer Yarmouth. Tuesday evening by N. H. Moss of South Ohio Yarmouth county. The oxen will be exhibited at the Brockton, Mass. fair where last year Mr. Moss secured valuable prizes with a like exhibit. This year finer animals have been entered by Mr. Moss than at the last event, one yoke having been bought from Ogden Cook, Plympton, Digby co., and the other from J. Boudreau, Grosses Coques, Digby county.

TALK OF THE TOWN

A Dodge car, belonging to Lloyd Jefferson, Mount Pleasant, caught fire while on the road on Wednesday evening and was totally destroyed. Last week a Studebaker, belonging to Loran Haynes met the same fate out towards Marshalltown.

Harold Thomas of Digby met with an accident Tuesday morning when he slipped and fell on the pavement in front of B. H. Ruggles store, breaking his right leg above the knee. Thomas, who is a cripple, is said to have slipped on a banana peel. His crippled leg is the one broken.

A Corn Boll—the first which has been given in Digby for many years—will be given in the Boy Scouts' Hall next Wednesday at six o'clock. The proceeds will be used by the Scouts to repair their building and to paint the exterior. See their ad. in another column and then buy your ticket.

Who said the day of the horse had gone? Judging from the number of which were in Digby during the past few weeks and the activity with which they have been picked up by farmers and teamsters they are as much in demand as the ubiquitous Ford. George J. Clarke, of Pluto, Saskatchewan, who brought two carloads here on September 7, informs us that he has brought 39 carloads here to the Maritime Provinces since January 1 and has met with a ready sale for all of them. Of the two carloads brought here he has sold quite a number and expects to dispose of all of them before long.

A Chevrolet Sedan, owned by J. J. Wallis, which had been parked temporarily on Carleton street on Tuesday evening, having run out of gas, was stolen and was not recovered until noon Wednesday when it was found in a ditch near the Indian encampment at the Pines. It had been towed to the place where found by a large car of the tire tracks would indicate. There an attempt had been made to run it under its own power as the hood had been left open and the motor shows indications of someone working at it. Beyond a slight damage to the ignition by rain and the bending of the steering rod by the tow rope the car is unhurt.

Rev. Father Doucette, for many years parish priest at Wedgeport, Yarmouth county, will take charge of the Meteghan parish, successor to the late Mr. A. B. Cote. Rev. Father A. LeBlanc, vicar of the late parish for the past year, left for Halifax on Wednesday, having been appointed to St. Mary's Cathedral. The little mission which comprises the village of Cape Saint Mary, Mavilleite, Bear Cove and St. Alphons, is grieved over losing its pastor, Rev. A. LeBlanc. On Sunday an address was read to him by J. Harley Deveau of Mavilleite and a purse presented to him by Mark Maillet in the name of the parish. The reverend father expresses his regret at leaving the mission.

With many superficial cuts and bruises received when their Essex car went off the road and over a bank at Helton, near Yarmouth, three young men, Reginald Boldsworth, Donald MacNutt, and William Wilson, of Digby, were taken to the Yarmouth Hospital about two o'clock on Sunday morning, where their injuries were attended to by Dr. Burton. The accident occurred at the curve on the main highway near the H. H. Raymond estate and it is said that the escape of the youths was possibly from more serious or even fatal injuries was miraculous, as the car is a total wreck, having gone over a stone wall and rolled over a six foot drop. All glass was broken, the engine shifted, mud guards twisted, running boards, steering wheel post smashed and the top damaged. The young men arrived home on Sunday's "midnight" and are still feeling the effects.

Toys

Sentiment is stirred by the news that excavations in Hungary have brought to light a toy factory, 4,000 years old. There are clay pitchers one inch high, tiny wooden dolls and many other familiar figures and utensils. In graves near by similar toys were discovered, buried with their little owners at a time when Egypt was young and Greece and Rome were undreamed of.

Such finds have been made in many ancient lands, the world over.

Civilization may change, the face of the earth may alter, but children remain eternally the same. Those who played with their toy dishes and animals in Nemethely and Ur and Crete and Ilium and Carthage and Thebes could easily play together today in some child-heaven and have no difficulty in understanding each other.

"The play of children," says Tagore, "is by the seashore of worlds." It ignores time and space and change. It is always here, and always the same.

The "Old Home Week" Project

The question of organizing an "Old Home Week" in the Maritime Provinces for next year, first mooted by Mr. Frank Stanfield at Truro some weeks ago, and since taken up by Mr. R. W. E. Burnaby, Trade Commissioner in Ontario, is rightly receiving the endorsement of representative men and women in both the Maritimes and Ontario. The proposition is a good one.

The following are some of the suggestions offered:

1. That a week be named for New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.
2. The following week for Nova Scotia.
3. Others suggest that the same week apply to all the provinces.
4. The co-operation would be solicited of all known organizations of former Maritime Provinces people both in Canada and the United States.
5. All Maritime Boards of Trade, Tourist Organizations and Agencies, other public bodies, transportation companies and newspapers, would be invited to join in the undertaking.
6. One of the great attractions of a home-coming is the prospect of meeting old friends. The naming of a definite week would assure the meeting of these friends who would be home at the same time.

The Plebiscite

The date for the plebiscite on liquor legislation has been announced as Oct. 31st. The question is whether we will retain the Nova Scotia Temperance Act or put in its place an act authorizing the sale of liquor by the government. There has been considerable discussion in the daily and weekly press and on the platform but no great interest has been worked up and, as the matter now stands, it looks as if there would be a light vote with the N. S. T. A. winning out, says the Pictou Advocate.

Those who favor what is called government control point to the large revenues being derived in other provinces from the sale of liquor and say that Nova Scotia's government is in urgent need of similar revenue and that such revenue would be gained at the expense of the bootlegger. According to them this province would flourish like a green bay tree

In conversation with a Smith's Cove man recently I learn that real estate is quite active in the village. Smith's Cove has for many years been a very popular place for tourists and I am glad to see these evidences of prosperity. Smith's Cove, Deep Brook, Clementsport, Culloose, Victoria Beach and Port Wade have a large number of wonderful chances for tourist resorts and it will not be many years before we see many of them developed. The properties which have been changing hands in Smith's Cove have been purchased by Americans who intend to make them into summer homes. All the places I have mentioned above have enjoyed a wonderful summer business and have even greater prospects for next year.

So Mr. Connell does not like it when I draw attention to the illegal business carried on in the town, and says the town is no worse than other towns. That may be so but I have yet to learn that two wrongs make a right. The liquor business as carried on in this town is a rotten dastardly business and no man, who is half a man, would have anything to do with it. It is a rotten business anyhow, even when carried on under the law. It makes law breakers of every one who goes into it and carries disgrace, not only to the seller himself, but to his family. In my time I have been thrown into contact with a lot of liquor dealers—both legal and illegal—and have yet to find one who observed the law. Even in the days of license in Halifax the law was flagrantly violated. The law stipulated the hours during which the licensed bars should be open but none ever observed it. The front doors may have been closed and the blinds down, but the back doors were open and the business was being carried on just the same. Lawbreakers—a liquor dealer is a law breaker no matter where you find him! And conditions will be no better no matter what kind of government control or regulation is put into effect. There if we only had liquor control. Thousands of tourists are giving us the "go by" because we have no liquor control.

Those who favour the retention of the N. S. T. A. put forward all the arguments against the evil of the liquor traffic and claim that in liquor control provinces there has been an increase in drinking and little if any decrease in the number of bootleggers.

Without being much "het up" on the question and with no idea that either N. S. T. A. or Liquor Control will solve the liquor problem we will give our vote for the retention of the N. S. T. A.

We admit that there is too much bootlegging and that liquor is sold freely enough throughout Nova Scotia. But we distrust government control. We are afraid that it means not government control of the sale of liquor but liquor control of the government.

We fear that the desire for easy revenue, backed up by the pressure of brewers and distillers would cause the government not only to refrain from any attempt at control of the liquor traffic but rather to encourage the sale of liquor. We think that would lead to an increased liquor consumption, for the government would sell more than it is now doing and the bootleggers would not be altogether abolished.

It is an old saying that you cannot lift yourself by your bootstraps but lifting one's self by one's bootstraps is an easy feat compared to making one's self prosperous by drinking more liquor. What is true for the individual is true for the province.

As to tourists and liquor we have more tourists offering now than we can accommodate properly and with or without liquor our tourist problem is and for some time will be one of providing adequate and suitable accommodation. At that what a hell of a way to get rich, by selling booze. No man with any self respect goes into the liquor business. A country should have as much self respect as an individual.

will be as many bootleggers under government control as there is now because they will smuggle it in just as they are doing at present, and even if they only make the amount of the duty as profit they can still undersell the government. For 5000 years the better thinking people of all time have been fighting this traffic, and because in ten years the N. S. T. A. has not succeeded in its purpose we have people fools enough to say it is a failure. 5000 years to 10! And no one can point to a law which is being enforced any better. The Sunday observance laws are violated. 100 times to the N. S. T. A. once but no one kicks. The Sunday observance laws are being broken constantly. Look at the garages, service stations, ice cream parlors and other places of business which are open on Sunday, strictly against the law—and no one says a word. The social evil laws, the laws against theft and crime generally, are being violated all the time, but there is no outcry for their repeal. Why is one law selected and all the others overlooked?

I noticed that the superintendent of the streets was early on his job on Monday morning following the heavy rain, and the scraper was out doing good work. We have had a hard summer on the streets. The excessive dry weather and the heavy traffic certainly played havoc with the roads generally, both in town and country, and under the circumstances, very little could be done to remedy the matter. I have heard a number of kickers, but it is safe to say that if they had the town streets to look after they would not have been in as good condition as they were. It is a queer phase of human nature that the man who knows the least about how to handle a pick and shovel is always willing to give advice on how the roads should be handled. You have done good work, Mr. Superintendent. Keep it up!

Opportunity For Sale of Digby Dulce

There is an opportunity for the development of a considerable trade in dulce in Western Ontario as well as in Northern New York state, according to the report of a government representative at the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto.

He says that former Maritime Provinces residents visiting the Canadian National Exhibitions have been happy to get samples of dulce which have been freely distributed as a means of reminding visitors at the exhibit that the Maritimes are "Down Where the Sea Breezes Blow". The samples of dulce have been most eagerly sought by all visitors, especially those from inland places. "A little effort in advertising dulce might lead to quite an export of that article," writes he. Doctors are recommending it for goitre, which is frightfully prevalent in Western Ontario and a visitor from Rochester New York, was quite taken with the idea of getting a supply into that district, as, he says, goitre is very troublesome all through Northern New York.

Scout Anderson Tells of the Big Jamboree

The meeting of the Digby
Troop of Boy Scouts, held in the Club rooms on Friday evening last, in the form of a chicken supper, was held in honor of Scout Earl Anderson, leader of the Beaver Patrol, who has recently returned from the World Jamboree at Birkenshead England. All members of the troop were present, and with them were several prominent business men of the town.

At the close of a bounteous repast toasts were made to the King, the returned scout, and to the visitors.

Scout Anderson then gave a report of his trip, describing the cities, towns and historical landmarks which he visited with brother scouts while attending the Jamboree, of the performances that took place at Arrow Park, the gathering place of the Jamboree, and how that Canada's scout representatives were no mean preformers in that they exhibited the best acts and performances in front of the Royal Box on the opening day of the exercises.

He also made comparisons through his own observations of the manners and customs of the English people as compared with ours. The Canadian representative were of four divisions, named after the last four Governor Generals of Canada, Connaught, Devonshire, Byng and Willingdon, each division was divided into eight patrols, named after North American Animals.

After Scout Anderson's report, each of the visitors spoke on travelling experiences of their own.
They referred to the Boy Scout Movement as one of the world's leading organizations, and that through an assembly like the World
Jamboree affords a means whereby the nations will come to better understand each other. The visitors pronounced the Digby Boy Scout Troop as one of the best troops in the province. Councillor G. W.
Wrightman extended a tribute of congratulation to Scout Master O.
Wright on his success with the Digby Troop.

AGRICULTURE

A new interest has developed in agriculture in this locality brought about largely through the interest which has been created by the Boys and Girls Club. They recently had a field day and put on a very excellent exhibition. The community generally appreciates the work the boys and girls are doing, and in discussing the general agriculture situation, everyone felt that the time had arrived when Bear River should have an Agricultural Society.

This culminated in the latter part of August by the formation of the Bear River Agricultural Society, starting off with a membership of forty. Recent additions bring the membership up to over sixty, with an enrollment of one hundred now in sight.

Some forty years ago, through the efforts of the late John V. Thomas, a very creditable exhibition building was erected at the expense of the then existing Agricultural Society. This ran for nearly thirty years when, due to the disruption caused by the war, the society ceased to function. The building in the meantime had fallen into disrepair and the feeling of the community was generally that work commemorating the activities of its builder should not be allowed to remain in its present condition.

With the formation of the Bear River Agricultural Society, active measures were at once taken to have this building put into useable condition and work has been going on for the past two weeks with the result that the old wooden floor has been removed, the building straightened up, foundations thoroughly repaired, new abutments put in, a new stone and earth floor is replacing the old wooden one, a very excellent job is being accomplished.

The outsider, in looking on, is reminded of the conditions prevailing when Nehemiah rebuilt the walls of Jerusalem, the citizens generally evincing the same interest as did the children of Israel on that occasion. "They all have a mind to work." There is a splendid spirit of co-operation and everyone is anxious to contribute his mite to the renovating of the Exhibition Building, all the work thus far being contributed by voluntary effort.

With a new coat of shingles this building will take its place as one of the best in the western part of the province. The Society made an excellent selection of its officers, C. Wilson Jefferson being appointed as President and Fulton H. Parker as Secretary-Treasurer. Behind the Executive is a strong sentiment of loyalty which can be called upon at any time when further effort is needed.

We bespeak for this new activity the cordial support of the entire community.

THE S.P.C. IN BEAR RIVER

People who cultivate an optimistic viewpoint and claim that the world is "every day and in every way getting better and better," should remember that improvement does not occur automatically, but is brought about by individuals using every day and in every way all possible means of betterment. Our statute books embrace excellent laws and our authorized societies provide means of improvement, which would produce a truly better and better state of affairs, if we as individuals would only make full use of them.

Among the several organizations which commend themselves to all right-thinking citizens throughout the length and breadth of the province, none has more to its credit than the Nova Scotia Society for the Prevention of Cruelty (S.P.C.). A short time ago Mrs. C. E. Bent, an official of the above named Society, visited Bear River for the purpose of appointing an S.P.C. agent for this locality. While in the past any cases of cruelty could always be reported, (and still can be) to the Secretary of the S.P.C., 27 Prince St., Halifax, it is considered better policy to appoint local officers wherever, in a sufficiently large centre, men of integrity and standing can be obtained to act. A most satisfactory appointment was made during Mrs. Bent's visit here, when Frank B. Dunn consented to act as a local S.P.C. agent.

While it may be stated to the credit of this locality that cases of cruelty are few and far between, yet if a case does occur, it is the duty of the person observing it to report it, either by word of mouth or by written complaint, to the local agent. In case of a written complaint the name of the complainant must be signed, but

Blown Tire Wrecks Car At Brighton

Caused by a front tire blowing out a new Ford Car, driven by a man named Amero, of Doucetteville, Digby County, left the road at Brighton Sunday, and was badly wrecked. None of the four occupants were seriously hurt, but the driver received a few nasty cuts about the face.

When the car left the road, it went off a five foot embankment, crossed a small brook, and struck the concrete culvert, which caused most of the damage which resulted. The car did not upset.

One peculiar feature about this accident was that the first car to come along was driven by a woman, who had all the first aid necessities with her, including court plaster and iodine. She attended the injured ones by the roadside.

Archibald Leighton, of Philadelphia, has purchased the property formerly known as the Wade Estate latterly owned by Samuel Rice. The house which is a very old one, if not the oldest in the village, is in good shape. Mr. Leighton, we understand, will remodel the "ice, fit up the grounds and put in a golf course. We are pleased to welcome him to all the rights and privileges of our little village.

We are informed that the Mountain Gap Inn has closed for this season. The genial proprietor, E. A. Thornton, reports the busiest season in its history.

Your correspondent is in receipt of information of a large business project. Already the purchase of property is in progress. A bright

The way to be happy is to try and make someone else cheerful.

We are pleased to say two house lots are in the purchasing stage on the property of H. A. Smith. No doubt, should the deal go through, two nice bungalows will be built in the near future.

A moving picture show was given in the Temperance Hall on Wednesday evening last by Alexander Leighton, of Philadelphia. The proceeds Mr. Leighton very kindly donated for the benefit of the Smith's Cove Public Library. Mr. Leighton was greeted with an overflow house. After showing two reels, much to the enjoyment of all, an intermission of fifteen minutes was given for the selling of home made candy, followed by a short musical program consisting of choruses and duets by the sixth and seventh grade girls. One other pleasing feature of the show was an "A Se Corull" Napolitan Street Song and dance, usually sung to the accompaniment of a mandolin as a serenade under the windows of Italian ladies; an imitation of the Paranello—this was very gracefully and artistically rendered by Miss A. Jagger, after which two more reels were shown. The proceeds as near as can be learned from the tickets and the sale of candy amounted to thirty-six dollars. To this can be added a very generous donation of ten dollars by Mrs. Leighton, swelling the total receipts of the evening to forty-six dollars. Your correspondent joins with the executive of the library in extending to Mr. Leighton and family many thanks for the donating of the evening proceeds and especially Mrs. Leighton for her very generous gift. The entertainment came to a close by singing of the National Anthem.

Digby Driver Has License Cancelled

Motor Cycle Police Robert Forward was at Digby last week and apprehended Ashton Lewis and cancelled his license, forbidding him, for this year at least, of manipulating an automobile. On August 27 Lewis in a somewhat delapidated Ford delivery, attempted to beat the New York special on the D.A.R. to one of its crossings just east of Digby and in the vicinity of Smith's Cove. So close did he come to a collision that all that prevented was the quick action of Driver Ward of the New York.

Local Dealer Displays New Broadcast Receiver

A new Radiola combination, for AC electric operation, which combines distinctive features of cabinet design with low cost is being shown by Mr. Cossaboom.

The receiver, which is designated Radiola 33 is of the console type, and stands at a height convenient for tuning from either a sitting or standing position. Tuning is accomplished by a single knob; the translucent scale of the selector dial is illuminated when the set is in operation. A volume control regulates the power output of the receiver, and another switch turns the power on and off. Skillfully painted panels which reproduce the grain of African mahogany, retain the visual appeal of wood with the inherent strength of metallic construction, in this receiver.

The tuned radio-frequency circuit, comprising three stages of radio-frequency amplification, detector, and two stages of audio-frequency amplification, is employed in Radiola 33. It utilizes four A-C Radiotrons UX-226, one UY-227, and a UX-171-A power amplifier as well as a UX-289 rectifier for supplying plate voltages.

The loudspeaker 100-B, which is of the improved magnetic type, matches Radiola 33 in design and fits into a border groove on top of the receiver.

"Recent advances in receiver design and manufacture have made it possible for the public to obtain the greatest value in radio at the lowest prices since the beginning of radio art and industry," said Mr. Cossaboom in showing the set. "Radiola 33 and loudspeaker 100-B I believe set the standard of radio values even higher. This combination makes available, at low cost, and without sacrifice of either quality or appearance, a product which only the most scientifically improved methods of large-scale manufacture could make possible.

"In appearance, the new combination presents an entirely new note in metal cabinet design. Although it is in keeping with the modern tendency for simplicity of design, it has been found to harmonize well with any type of home furnishings.

Difficult To Get Electrical Work Done

To The Editor of the Courier.
Sir:—One often reads in the papers of the Maritime Provinces' lament re-lack of capital for development of the country, and that our young people all go to other provinces or the U. S. A., to make a living, and help develop other territories instead of staying home, and doing these things for the home towns and villages. But has it ever occurred to you that the lack of real service one can get in these provinces may be the cause of all this?

Just one instance of this, and from what I hear, it's not the only one. Over six weeks ago I began asking the Digby County Power Company for light and power for three houses here in Freeport, and after repeated requests, a man was sent down and a definite promise made that we would have power within two weeks. That was three weeks ago. Again I got in touch with the Power Company by telegram and eventually another promise was made that we should have the power within ten days. But there is still no sign of the work being done.

If this is the sort of service one can expect in the Maritime Provinces, is it any wonder that our young people have to leave home, or that capital will not invest in these provinces?

The Corn Boil

The cornboil held in the gym hall on Wednesday night proved to be a big success. The Boy Scouts themselves waited on the tables and served the excellent corn supper in a very efficient manner.

Dr. W. B. Tobin, Dr. V. G. Turnbull and Scoutmaster O. Wright were the hosts of the evening. They were fortunate in having as guest the director of scouting for Nova Scotia, S. J. Limbrey.

A goodly sum of money was realized with which the boys plan to paint the outside of the building and make some improvements inside.

Digby County Man, 103 Years Old, Tells of His Life

Lezine Comeau the eldest human being in the county of Digby, quietly celebrated the 103rd anniversary of his birth in September. This remarkable old man, born in Saulnerville, Digby county, in the year 1826 followed the sea from an early age and during his long seafaring experience he called at every port worthy the name and circled the globe twenty-eight times. Possessed of a remarkable memory, he tells of great battles between sailing ships in their across the Atlantic and relates the story of a full-rigged ship of which he was one of the crew and another full-rigged leaving an English port on the same day bound for New York. Violent storms were encountered during the passage, and the rigging of his ship was torn away three times but they won the race with eight days to spare, but he adds, "every sailor on our ship was fit to be a skipper and that is why we won". The captain of the ship was Joseph Cosman of Meteghan River, Digby county. The grandmother of Lezine Comeau was Susan Comeau, who many years ago departed from Grand Pre. She went to Louisiana and from there to Salem Mass., where her son Samuel, the father of Lezine was born.

So Lezine can trace his ancestry far in to the past. He married Emma Theriault of Meteghan, Digby county, and made his home on the Comeau homestead. There he brought up a family of twelve children, six of whom are living. E. Comeau, proprietor of a boot and shoe business in Haverhill, Mass.; Netal Comeau farmer at Saulnerville; Charles at Saulnerville; Eddie at Haverhill, Mass.; Joshua at Halifax; and Emily at Saulnerville. Then there are grandchildren, thirty-four in all, among them John Comeau, manager and owner of the Digby and Yarmouth Express Trucking Company. Follows the fourth generation, with Dennis Comeau, the son of John. Dennis is only one of the thirty-six grandchildren of grand old Lezine who can boast of seventy-six living decendants, living and dead, totalled over 100 in number.

This wonderful old man, who although weakened by great age, still lives on with eyesight, hearing and other senses unimpaired by the passage of time. His memory carries him back to almost forgotten days. He remembers with ease the coronation of "Victoria The Good" and follows with interest the remarkable strides made with the aid of science and machinery. When Lezine was a boy the ocean flight of the "Albatross" was remarkable, today man crosses the continents with scarcely an effort. When Lezine played about the homestead in his early days the means of conveyance were the oxen which took hours to get anywhere, but today the high powered servants of man roar past his door with the speed of a swallow. It is all very interesting and yet at the great age when with most the vision is dim and the brain grows weak, the faculties of Lezine are as vigorous as of fifty years ago.

More Home Training Needed

In his address the other day at the meeting of the Catholic Alumnae in Toronto, Rev. Father John E. Burke made a statement that should be shouted from the housetops. Much has been said and written on the crime wave among young people and how that it might be prevented. In the last analysis the matter will be solved, if it ever is solved, in the homes of the people. The influence of the home for good or for ill, for weal or for woe, is comparable to no other force in the world. "The schools and universities are only the handmaids of that teaching that should be imparted by the parents in the home," Father Burke stated.

It is an amazing and saddening thing to see how many parents try to shelve their responsibilities to their families by committing to others their training during the most impressionable years of their lives. It is not that most parents are opposed to moral and religious teaching, but that they do not in numerous instances see this as their own personal duty and privilege. This they consider the function of the church, the college or the Sunday school. As a matter of fact it is seldom that any of these influences, good as they all may be can exercise any lasting effect in the moral and religious sphere where home life and home training are lacking. There is no teacher like a mother or father, no training school

"Our Gang" Help Digby Hospital

On Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock a circus was given in the loft of Mr. Barras' barn at Bear River by "Our Gang", Club which consists of a number of small boys and girls living in that vicinity. The small performers were:—

Elpheth Milligan
Louise MacDormand
Dorothy Morgan
Dorothy Barras
Sonny Milligan
Edward MacDormand
Roland Barras
Clifford Peck
Arthur Green

The sum of $3.00 was raised by the sale of tickets, home made candy and peanuts. This money will be given by "Our Gang" to the Digby Hospital. Quite a large number of "Grown Ups" attended the circus enjoying immensely the acrobatic and hair rising stunts, songs, speeches last but not least antics of the two headed animal.

Terrible Winter Coming, Prophet Says

Stephen P. Hale, sage and prophet of Oldtown, and greater Newburyport's "official" forecaster, has made his long-awaited annual prediction on the Winter weather, and according to his calculations and observations, it will be a "terrible" one.

"Before next April," prophet Hale says we will have more snow on the ground than ever has been seen before at one time here. The roads will be impossible and even tractors will be unable to clear the highways.

It must rain considerably before snow sets in to fill the rivers, ponds, wells, and springs, for the Indians always claimed that this was the true procedure of nature.

Last Spring Mr. Hale who lives alone in East High Street, at the age of 87 predicted that the summer of 1929 would be one of the driest and hottest within the memory of the old inhabitants. This prophecy like scores of others he has made through the years came true.

Why Don't You

Here is a set of questions recently proposed by the Scottish Temperance Reformer, the answers to which, whether from the friends of prohibition or the friends of alcohol ought to furnish some striking proofs of the doubtful benefits of strong drink.

Do you trust of the amount of liquor consumed in your country?

Do you tell with pride of relatives and friends who are hard drinkers?

Do you desire your children to become fond of intoxicating liquor?

Do you favor the opening of a public house or wine saloon next to your home?

Do you wish to see politics controlled by the liquor people?

If not, why not? Why is the liquor traffic the only known legitimate business which would be ashamed to exhibit its finished product in the show window of its place of business?

Any person who will answer the above questions fairly and truthfully will soon come to a decision as to what should happen the business of liquor selling.

That Left Arm Signal

The left arm signal used by motorists, which should be one of the most useful signals in existence, is rapidly becoming one of the most confusing.

It is easy, if you take care, to give the driver behind you an exact idea of what you intend to do when you extend your arm. You can point straight to the left, indicating a left turn; you can motion the following driver to pass on your left, indicating a right turn; you can extend the palm, open in such a way that anyone behind you will know you are going to stop. It is quite simple.

But does it work out that way? It does not. Each driver has his own motions. You drive down a street and presently you see a hand dangling out of the car ahead. It hangs limp and inert; or perhaps it points benignly to the sky, and it may mean anything. The driver may be preparing to turn to the right or left; he may be knocking the ashes off a cigarette; he may be pointing out the beauties of a tall building, or he may be reaching his hand out to see if it is raining.

The left hand signal could be extremely useful. Our carelessness, however, often makes it more confusing than no signal at all.

Arch Amero

Killed By

Hay Press

Crushed by a three-ton hay pressing machine Arch Amero passed away in the Digby General Hospital Friday afternoon a short time after his admission to that institution. Amero, a man of about fifty-five years of age, and a veteran of the Great War, was employed with other laborers at the Long wharf, loading and unloading the Bay of Fundy steamer Empress. A short time after the dinner hour, he and three others were engaged at unloading this heavy piece of machinery, and were in the act of lowering it to the floor from a truck when it overbalanced, pinning Amero beneath it.

Immediately after the accident the injured man was rushed to the Digby General Hospital, where he passed away within the hour, regaining consciousness for a few moments before his death.

Arch Amero was well known around Digby. For several years he ran a pleasure boat catering to the summer tourists, and during the days of "the scallop rush" he was one of the pioneer scallopers out of Digby. While scallop fishing he met an ac-

An Observant Citizen Writes of What He Sees and Hears

It seems to me that the friends of the Nova Scotia Temperance Act are a little slow in getting to work. Those backing the so-called Temperance Party, organized in Halifax the one place in the province most anxious for the booze—trade—are aggressive and are going to put up a stiff fight. Of course the brewers and distillers are behind them, which means that they will receive all the financial help they need. In fact a year or two ago, when something similar was in the air, they were offered all kinds of assistance from the champagne makers of France and the wine makers of Italy and Spain—and of course the British distillers would not let their foreign competitors outdo them in that respect. But the time is getting short—"it won't be long now."

I had the privilege of looking over a few of the Courier exchanges the other day. As a whole the country press of Nova Scotia have not as yet taken a decided stand one way or the other. I notice that the Yarmouth Herald, Wolfville Acadian, Shelburne Coast-Guard and Pictou Advocate are strong for the N.S.T.A. The Kentville Advertiser and Dartmouth Patriot are as strong the other way. No one can tell how the city papers will stand—politics is the game they play no matter what there may be at stake. But on this question I doubt very much if any paper in the province will be absolutely neutral, even if they are on party questions. In looking over these papers I came across the following paragraph: "In Ireland, years ago, those taverns which sold illicit whiskey advertised the fact by a turf unobtrusively placed in the window." As I read it it struck me it would not be too bad to adcident when his arm became entangled in the machinery. He recovered from this accident some years ago, and since then he has been employed most of the time as a longshoreman at the Digby pier.

I believe that this week will see the closing of our summer hotel season—and it has been a big season. Already activities are under way for next season. In conversation with the manager of the local job printing office the other day he told me that already they had several orders in for next season, to be delivered in February and March. This is exceptionally early as these orders do not generally come in, he tells me, until early in the new year. But people are learning that summer hotels and boarding houses do not run themselves—they have got to make their attractions known or else lose out to the others who do, and this matter of summer resort advertising is getting to be a bigger problem every year. But it is having results, as witness the season just closed.

The C.P.R. have commenced active work on their new eighteen hole golf links, which is to be the most up-to-date in Canada. Quite a small army of men have been at work this week and the residents on the Lighthouse Road and Mt. Pleasant are finding it difficult to find accommodation for all who apply. And there are rumors of a lot of other construction work to be carried out before the next season rolls around, which will give employment for a lot more men. Well, the more the merrier. Digby can stand a lot of that kind of prosperity.

Do It Now!

The Town of Digby has in force a by-law which makes it imperative that all chimneys be swept at least once each year. Many property owners rapidly conform with this law but there are others whose stubbornness and negligence in this regard should not be passed unnoticed.

There being a law, there must be a penalty—let us therefore suggest to the town authorities the law be enforced.

The snap is in the air, the Fall is upon us and the time for chimney cleaning is almost at an end.

What will you have to say to the Fire Inspector when he makes his periodic call?

Do it now.

Inadequacy of Country Schools
In Canada

In the effort put forth in recent years to discover what is wrong with the open country that its sons and daughter should show such eagerness to escape from the green fields among which they were born, the school has been subjected to criticism as a contributing factor in the drift of rural youth from the country to the city. Before both the Canadian and American Commissions the present-day system of education was charged with being a cause of migration from the country to the city.

The country child had three inalienable rights. He has an equal right with the city child to a good education; and he has a right to be able to receive that education without having to go from home and he has a right to the kind of education which will most effectively prepare him for the work in life he has to do.

It is difficult to respect these rights in the average one room school. In the first place, the schools are frequently out of date, unattractive, poorly lighted and ventilated. The inexperienced or unsuccessful teacher gravitates into the weaker communities which of all places are most in need of trained and capable leadership. When there is added to this little group of pupils running often to more than fifteen and frequently less divided into eight or nine classes the teacher is faced with a condition which makes sound work an impossibility. There is more work in a school of from six to eight grades than one teacher can possibly do with the small number of pupils well to make work uninteresting pupil.

and never fails to require the formation of classes of one or two children. In the province of Ontario in 1926 there were 827 schools with five or less, 69 with three or less, 28 with two or less, eight with one pupil.

If we overlook your name please let us know.
