

THE DIGBY COURIER

CENTENNIAL EDITION

SEPTEMBER 18, 1974

Welcome to the Digital DIGBY COURIER

1877-1978

100th Birthday

The hundredth anniversary of the Digby Weekly Courier has brought to mind some fond memories as contained in the following historical chapter of the writer. But first, I wish to congratulate the current editor of the Courier, Mrs. J.M. (Edith) Wallis, for a job well done over the years and still being well done, good service rendered with great fortitude.

According to any record, I have at hand, the Digby Courier, in one hundred years of publication, was controlled under the same family management for 42 years, 1931 to 1973, under the control of Wallis Print Limited. The late J.J. Wallis became editor of The Courier the second time, in 1929, and at the same time of the business, which he had been running for some years previously and which became Wallis Print Limited sometime between 1929 and 1931.

I well remember the last year of the twenties when I worked in the office of the son with the husband and father of the late J.J. Wallis, the Courier. Sometime in 1928 or early 1929, the late J.M. Wallis (Mac), son of "J.J." engaged me to work every day after school hours, Saturdays, and for some months after full time. The place of work was in the building of the present Digby town hall on First Avenue. J.J. Wallis then worked occasionally at the print shop but mostly across the street at the Courier office which was then located on land in the general area where The Royal Bank of Canada is now.

Wallis Job Print operated in 1929 with a staff of four consisting of J.J. Wallis, J.M. Wallis, Miss Eva Haynes, who later became Mrs. George Kicup, and myself. I was added to the staff in early 1929.

Eva's job was to run the printing plant but mostly at the Courier office. "Mac" worked nearly full time at all the different jobs at the Job Print, and I worked at various duties, most of the time being spent at operating printing presses.

We worked ten-hour days, six days a week. "J.J." and "Mac" sometimes worked overtime. I worked only the regular hours being paid a weekly wage which was comparatively good for those times and my lack of experience. I received four or five dollars a week for working after school hours to six o'clock and on Saturday all day, and nine dollars a week for full weeks after finishing school. A two or three dollar a week raise was offered to me in the fall of 1929 for me to stay on at printing, but I had made up my mind to enter a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, starting salary of $300. The bank salary figured out about the same per hour as for the printing job. Nevertheless, the congenial atmosphere of the printing plant those days, and, experience however short, were helpful and appreciated by me.

"J.J." was very jovial in his occasional trip to the Job Print and did considerable kidding all in good fun. "Mac" was a witty person who mixed in a good natured sarcasm now and then for one reason or another. Eva most always had good answers to all the kidding she was called upon to take, and, generally held her own in a quiet sort of way, always busy setting type. We four all got along very well indeed. However, I do remember that some days did seem long and weary because of the monotony of some repetitious jobs.

In spite of the great demand for printing those last boom days of the twenties, business generally being brisk, it looked to me that people had to work long and hard to make any decent profit. There was including treatment of the hands. However, nails and finger ends were used and I was soon back to work.

Now and then a printing job had a dose on parchment paper which required a special kind of printers' ink which smelled very bad those days. I always dreaded it when "Mac" would do that job on the largest press, in spite of the fact that we always opened an outside door to lessen the effects on the constitution.

One of the jobs I had to do, being the junior and printers' devil on the staff, was to clean up now and then. One day not long after I started my job at the printing plant, I decided to clean the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned in some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily, he thought the remark pretty good and suitable.

Sometimes the gasoline engine or a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and after "Mac" the fix-it man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results, "Mac" would then stand back and cuss quite strenuously, then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of cussing."

On other occasions when some gadget refused duty for me and, seemed to be broken, "Mac" would say, "use a little oil," and sure enough, often that is all it took. How often since, have I thought of the value of that remark and the actual need of "oil" in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and, in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I told "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1929 got together just before dark one evening and decided to initiate the newly built outdoor Pines Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just east of the pool; nobody else seemed to be around except the four boys; no thought or time for bathing suits up to the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in, the rest quickly followed and across the pool they swam. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Scouts Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the four? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars (second world and Korean), was awarded the Victoria Cross; Sidney L. Smith, now prominent druggist for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale lobster king merchant; and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day "Mac" said to me "how about writing your version of the story told about 'The Marooning of Jerome'." I had heard and read at least two somewhat different stories about the man who was found marooned on a beach at some point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Digby County. When found this man's tongue had been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome" appeared to have been a man of some considerable social standing and possibly of some considerable wealth. However the only thing the man could or would ever say after being found and cared for by some family in the French shore was, something that sounded like the word "Jerome". He either could not, or, would not, write anything about who he was or why he was left the way he was. Well, it was, and is, one of Digby County's mystery stories, and, different ideas have been expressed over the years concerning this man. However my response to "Mac" was, I felt no urge to write anything more or different about this man. The mystery seemed to have been very well explored in the mind of many people, and, he was a sort of curiosity for many people who visited where he lived for many years.

Three years later I was quite a young man in the street that I lived back and forth, led a boat clanking noise, powered by a small engine, and a "plur", and as I remember it, it was a "plur". "J.J." was noted for his sense of humor and his stories.

During the time Mr. Wallis was editor of the Scott Act (Prohibition Law) he was about and advocated by some people, and attached a boys' conference to the law.

Digby 172 Years Ago

Compiled by David Sanford

From the files of the Courier of January 23, 1867, the following account has been copied concerning Digby in 1800.

"Among a number of old newspapers kindly sent to us by friends is a copy of the Saint John Gazette of May, 1802, says the Telegraph and among other advertisements contained in the issue before us is one describing the town and township of Digby, and offering for sale certain lots in the town. In this area we are told the township of Digby extends from the Gulf of Annapolis westward to the extremity of the province of Nova Scotia, and contains about 130,000 acres." The town plot is thus described:

"The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles across land from the head of St. Mary's Bay. This laid out from the water's edge, partly on level ground and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect, a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in where it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth of that name. It was settled by Loyalists from New York in 1783, the most of whom went early to farms, or, moving to older countries, left the whole side to be bought proved by about who now reside detached, built dwellings with orchards, and some fishery and. It has communal parts of the common provisions in a cheap, built readily to be from many circumstances, probability of place of some shipbuilding, the West India a cheap and of residence.

This advertisement, dated at Digby, December, 1800, were to be a No. 100.

free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students one of which was "J.J.'s" daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Melvin O. Tibert, Freeport, Digby Co.) Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters; I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print". I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like: embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and trimming paper stock, mixing inks for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "pi", the printers name for a confused mess.

There was a taste of trying to sell job printing outside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried it, made several calls around town, spent most of the time at one particular house, and got an order, but,

TIVERTON DEFEATS SANDY COVE AT BASEBALL

The Tiverton Baseball Team defeated the Sandy Cove team at a game played at Tiverton on Saturday afternoon of last week.

The game would have been more interesting had it not been for two accidents which occurred during the game. Hughie Outhouse was struck in the right arm with a ball, and Bradford Young had his left arm broken. Dr. A. F. Weir was immediately called, and although both are suffering from the effects, we are pleased to report them improving.

MORE AND MORE, DAY BY DAY

One of the outstanding merchandising successes of the day is MORSE'S BLUE NOSE TEA. Although it came on a market more than crowded with teas, it has rapidly found its way to the front. More and more people are every day buying it, recognizing its value. The secret of its success is simply that it represents the best of a five-gallon price for the price any tea firm has yet produced. At 35 cents per pound package it gives 40-cent value.

St. Stephen Kiwanis fired their heavy artillery in two innings at St. Stephen Wednesday to blast out a 3-3 decision over Yarmouth. Game was in the first tilt of a five-game series to decide the Maritime senior amateur baseball championship.

Fire Destroys Home At Plympton Station

The residence of William Thibault, Plympton Station, was destroyed by fire early Tuesday morning, only half a dozen chairs and a bed spring being saved.

Mr. Kinney, who was early on the scene, carries considerable insurance in that section of the country, and says that this is the first total loss he has had in twenty years.

Paul Yates went to Saint John on Tuesday to hear the world-famous "Besses of the Barn" Band who gave one of their rare concerts sponsored by the Saint John Kiwanis Club in aid of their Child Welfare Fund. The audience numbered about 1,000 delighted listeners.

With the advent of the Christmas season the annual Christmas tree cutting activity is getting under way. Quantities of these trees are shipped from both Eastern and Western Canada to the United States market. New Brunswick and Nova Scotia supplying a considerable bulk of the demand in Boston, New York, Philadelphia and other Eastern United States cities.

A town councillor in Digby recently made to motion to exclude the press from town council meetings. No second was found to this unique motion and the matter was dropped after the councillor was informed that such an action would not be possible. Evidently they split some "hot stuff" at the Digby council meetings; we seldom get enough news from the local council to warrant a mention—Liverpool Advance.

Obituary

Henry Apt

The death occurred on Saturday morning of Henry Apt, a respected citizen of Victoria Beach, at the age of 82 years. He had lived there all his life and will be greatly missed. He leaves to mourn one daughter, Ida Weir; two sons, Stephen, at home and James, all of Victoria Beach. His wife predeceased him several years ago. The funeral took place from his late residence on Friday afternoon, with interment in Victoria Beach cemetery.

Miss Alma Amrault

The body of Miss Alma Amrault, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Amrault, of Ohio, was brought home from the United States, last week, and the funeral service was held at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, Yarmouth, on Monday morning and was very largely attended. The service was conducted by Rev. Father Melanson, Parish Priest. Deceased was about forty-seven years of age, and had conducted a dressmaking establishment in the United States. She had recently undergone a very serious operation, which resulted in her death. She is survived by her sorrowing parents, also her sisters and two brothers. One sister, Mrs. George Muise, also Mr. Muise and daughter accompanied the remains from the United States. The floral offerings as well as the large number of Mass cards, letters and cards of sympathy attested to the esteem in which she was held by all who knew her.

ACADEMY NOTES

A change has been made this year in the Academy examinations. Instead of the quarterly examinations, tests will be held each month. If a student makes an average of seventy per cent, or over for the year in these tests, he may grade without taking the final or grading examination. This is an average of sixty per cent, with no subject under forty-five is required for grading. The purpose of this change is to make a closer check on the pupils' work. Parents will be notified each month if the pupil's class standing is not up to the required average.

THE OLD HORSE AND BUGGY

To those who are on the shady side of fifty it will come as a shock to learn that there remains in Toronto but one livery stable, and that but a shadow of what it was in the earlier days. Even into this old-time sanctuary of the horse the automobile has stuck its nose; and where forty ready steeds once occupied the stalls there is now a parking place for cars.

Young folks who do not know anything about livery stables, and who regard a garage as quite a wonderful place, will not understand the loss realized by their elders in the passing of the rented horse and buggy, so-called exchange points out—there is no use trying to stir in their minds any feeling of regret over the passing of an ancient institution—

"The rising generation, familiar with the steering wheel and the rumble seat, cannot know what it meant to the youth of a few decades ago to spend a couple of dollars at the week-end in hiring a good nag and a bright rig that he might make an impression on—well, never mind who it was; Dad will remember."

Looking back over those days, many a man will marvel at the ease with which he could secure this slow but reliable means of transportation—

"When he visited the livery stable and made his request, no questions were asked. His fingerprints were not taken, and he was not asked to assume any responsibility for accidents on the highway. There was no probing of his financial standing. The livery man might have in mind to ask the applicant if he could drive, but that would have been an offence. The youth did not need to show his driver's permit. The fact was that the lad who knew nothing about horses would not handle the ribbons; it was too great a risk on crowded highways! Crowded highways! Think of conditions and perils of today!"

The livery horse was a wise animal. It did not take him long to learn whether or not the man with the reins was an experienced driver. If not, he proceeded to take advantage. With him the art of loafing around the road was highly developed. His finest bursts of speed were reserved for the homeward journey, when he became a spry nag. Usually, however, remarks the quoted paper, the man and the maid "were not in much of a hurry, anyway; and so long as the livery bill did not run over two dollars, the page did not matter." If Dobbin wanted to go high gear on the way home it was all right. "Gid-dep, Prince!"

WE ARE NOT ASLEEP

To the Editor of the Courier, Sir—"Are We Asleep" is an editorial appearing in issue of "Courier" under date Sept. 23. An Ontario "delegate" is reported as stating "that thousands living in his province know very little about the Maritimes and nothing whatever about the Town of Digby." This is "deplorable" especially as he is a Canadian but it is not unusual as many in Ontario have an idea that Halifax and Saint John are down east somewhere and that we have moose and eat fish. Other than that they hardly know we know we form a part of Canada.

One can venture to state that residents of Pennsylvania, New York and Massachusetts have a better knowledge of Nova Scotia than these "Ontarioites" and if we depended upon Upper Canadians as a main support of our tourist business, we would experience many lean seasons. We are not asleep. If Upper Canada is not acquainted with this original section of Canada it is about time they "looked us over."

Perhaps we should advertise. We must admit that we cannot forget Ontario; as practically everything we purchase bears a maker "Made in Canada." Let Ontario people visit this country and give us business as

Smilin' Charlie Says—

"Some folks want t' live longer so's they'll have more time t' do th' things that keep them
from livin' longer"

"tourists" and thereby reciprocate to some extent for the large business afforded Ontario manufacturers by purchases made by the Maritimes.

Yours truly,

G. I. Higgins.

"Why, that must

said this charming lady, "My children were still babies, I know. Wash day meant a six o'clock rising and a sort of endurance contest between you and the soiled clothes. If the dirt was defeated, you were bedraggled. If the dirt won, both you and the clothes were bedraggled."

"Surprise changed all that. It gave us easily and spared a great deal of rubbing. Then besides, the clothes came out so clean that they were fragrant. They still do, of course, but the outstanding quality I like about Surprise is its safety. In spite of its effectiveness, Surprise has never injured any garment, no matter how frequently it was washed."

"Quality first" was the policy adopted when the first bar of Surprise Soap was made in St. Stephen, N.B., forty years ago. This policy has never been altered and the quality has improved with advancing knowledge, keeping pace with modern requirements.

BADLY MAULED, HEADS FOR
JUST CAN'T FEAR

New York papers recently carried pictures of Marion Knowlton and her narrow escape from death when her seven lions mauled her in a mad frenzy. It was one of the most tense spectacles seen since the Roman Coliseum.

Nova Scotia will have a chance to witness the same spectacle (it is to be hoped without the same near-tragedy) when the Eastern Canada Exhibition opens, October 17-22.

She comes with Schull's circus and seven other remarkable amusement attractions. These, the very best on the continent, could never have shown in Halifax save for the new date of the Exhibition which is late enough to set free such Four Star features from the most expensive circuits.

The new date of the Exhibition makes other unique attractions possible. Thus this year for the first time there will be staged as part of the entertainment a Military and Naval tournament in which upwards of two thousands of Canada's colorful defenders will take part. For weeks past they have been rehearsing for this.

Another new feature being offered for the first time is The Garden of Eden in a setting costing well towards two thousand dollars. Besides the bewildering beauty of this dreamland, seven of Nova Scotia's fairest daughters will grace the scene as part of the plan for featuring the fruit industry of the Province.

In addition, again because of its date, The Exhibition has been able to draw to itself the cream of the attractions of all the County Exhibitions which will be assembled in Halifax for final judging. The same applies to the boys' and girls' clubs.

A radical departure this year is the adoption of a policy which permits visitors to buy anything that appeals to them in the various booths and displays. In this way thousands of bargains can be picked up making the time spent at the Exhibition a profitable investment. Thus the Exhibition becomes not

Youthful Strength

Dr. Magnus Hirschfeld, the world-known authority on Sexology and Director of the Institute for Sexual Science of Berlin, Germany, created to help the millions of men and women who have lost or are losing their vital physical power. In his 35 years of practice and research, however, he realized that the weakening of man's glands was also responsible for other troubles: High blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, physical exhaustion after work or exercise, dizziness, depression, neurasthenia, etc.

TITUS-PEARLS

All these troubles can be removed with Titus-Pearls. Numerous cases were treated by Dr. Hirschfeld in his Berlin Institute.

L. S. (State Official; 60 years old, married) complained of physical exhaustion, dizziness and tremors. Was easily tired. Mental powers dull and slow moving. Physical powers had been incomplete for previous 5 years. Blood pressure too high. Given 2 Titus-Pearls 3 times a day, 2 weeks later the medical report on this man was: General health better, more vigor; dizziness much less and returning of power. Treatment continued and 2 weeks later L. S. reported again, this time he stated that all weakness and exhaustion had gone; he felt fresh and buoyant. His blood pressure had fallen, and at 60 years of age he had regained the physical power and virility that he had known in the prime of his life.

Start regaining your youthfulness now! To-day! In 2 weeks' time you will be aware of the new, virile force within you. Send $5.00 (cash registered or money-order) for 2 weeks' treatment. Write for booklet, C. O. D. Orders accepted.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

"Who does God's work will get God's."

However long may seem the day, however weary be the way, he does not pay as others pay, in gold or land or raiment gay, in goods that perish and decay. But God's high wisdom knows the way.

And that is sure, let come what may, Who does God's work will get God's pay."

From a South African paper—"The impartial foot of death stepped into the little family and snatched its head with a relentless hand."

Hard words are like hailstones in summer, beating down and destroying what they would nourish if they were melted into dews.

Rev. C. P. Henderson and family, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Eber Peck, attended the Adventist Conference last at West Head, Shelburne County, returning home on Monday.

The man who never has to get over difficulties never gets very far.

My Only Medicine

Mrs. McEachnie Says Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Helped Her at Every Crisis in Life

Greatly Benefitted Her

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a real friend to me in all stages of life," writes Mrs. Archie McEachnie, Hopeville, Ont. "I commenced taking the Pills when I was just budding into womanhood as a very delicate girl. I was much benefited. Then at the critical time of life, I again took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and they certainly helped me through that period safely. Now at 60, every time I feel a little out of sorts, I take the Pills and have really been my only medicine."

Growing girls, and women at the dreaded time of life, have special need of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The rich new blood cells created by these Pills carry to every part of run-down systems the vigor-building properties required to restore health and strength. Try them. FISHERMEN

They spurn the soil, who go down to the sea

For Ocean's toil—it's restless mystery

Is in their blood. On motored steeds, astride,

They battle elements and sudden storms outside.

Their weapons—the spread net and baited hook.

Their armor—knowledge from a primal book.

Sharp breaks the sound upon the landman's sleep

Of ardent gunfire, moving o'er the deep.

All inarticulate this zest that leads him on Through deepest, darkest night to flaming dawn.

A questing spirit, hov'ring o'er the waves,

He woos the living fruit from fluid caves

Cool fathoms down; and if in vain

The whirling reel unbinds—there is again

Another day—a more abundant goal; God gave the fisherman a stout, seaworthy soul.

1832-1932

5 Years Before
QUEEN VICTORIA'S ACCESSION to the Throne

The accession of Princess Victoria marked the commencement of an era of unprecedented industrial expansion in Great Britain. The founding of The Bank of Nova Scotia likewise marked the beginning of a new era—it was one of the early steps which led to the development of an independent corporation banking system in Canada. Today The Bank of Nova Scotia serves its customers with a nation-wide system of branches and oldestablished world-wide banking connections. It places at their disposal the accumulated experience of a century of successful banking.

In 1832, five years after the foundation of The Bank of Nova Scotia, Princess Victoria, a girl of 18, ascended the throne of England.

This advertisement is one of a series commemorating the hundredth anniversary of The Bank of Nova Scotia.

Community Is Shocked By The Drowning Of Young Life Guard

The search for the missing Reginald Bremner, young member of the Bay View Life Saving Station crew, ended shortly after three o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, when his remains were found caught in the rocks under four feet of water, about thirty yards south of the "Mill Brook" on the west side of Digby Gut. The body was found by Captain Harry Raymond of the Life Saving Station, Lawrence Forrest, Loran Handepler, Eugene Adams and Frank Wilson.

At a coroner's inquest held in the Life Saving Station on Wednesday evening with Coroner Dr. L. J. Lovell, of Belle River, presiding, in the absence of the local coroner, S. A. Keen, a verdict of "suicide by drowning" was returned by the jury. Witnesses heard were the five men who discovered the body, Henry Stark and Corporal Joseph Heath-erington, of the R. C. M. P.

The following composed the jury: James Ellis, Foreman; Walter Barnes, D. Nauss, Edgar Everett, A. Forrest, Loran Adams, Lyman Pyne, Arnold Turnbull, Arch Ellis, William Ellis, Joe Condon and Edward Bremner.

The search for Bremner, who is about 27 years of age, commenced on Tuesday morning after it was learned that he had not reported for his watch at 10 o'clock on the previous evening. Henry Stark, of Digby, on Monday evening, had driven Bremner down the Lighthouse Road as far as the Bay View school house, from which point Bremner intended taking a short cut through the fields to the Life Saving Station, a distance of less than one quarter of a mile. A searching party was organized by the R. C. M. P. in which from seventy-five to one hundred men took part.

A letter received in Bay View on Tuesday afternoon in which Bremner said "Good-bye," gave birth to the suicide theory.

Mrs. Isaac Everett and daughter, Vida, returned home on Friday after a two weeks' visit in New Hampshire.

Miss Grace Marshall, teacher at East Ferry, spent Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Marshall, Marshalltown.

A Tribute to the Late Dr. Norwood

To the Editor of The Courier, Sir:—Knowing how much Dr. Norwood was beloved by the people of his first mission (Digby Neck) when only a deacon, I will deem it a privilege if you will print extracts from a letter of one of his parishioners in New York to a cousin here. It gives a personal touch, which I am sure people from Digby to Rossaway and Sandy Cove, for whom it is intended, will be glad to have it reproduced.

"Of course you know about our friend's passing. What a calamity! It just about finished me. When I heard it Thursday morning, I could not believe it, until the papers came in. The Episcopal Church lost two big men last week—Dr. Norwood, of St. Bartholomew, and Dr. Crowder, of St. James. I went to the funeral services Saturday morning and the Church was filled with people from every walk of life, and such devotion and sadness. Big men in the vestry sobbed and strong men in the congregation had eyes full of tears. He was surely loved by many. I shall never forget how his words thrilled me when I met him at Dr. Grant's memorial service—a gracious gentleman, with time for all. The church was packed, the organ playing, beautiful selections before the service and after. Then the long procession of Bishops, clergymen and vestrymen, Bishop Manning leading the entire service. In one of the prayers his voice broke through the choir sang the 23rd Psalm and "Awake, My Soul." "Lead Kindly Light," "Hark, Hark, My Soul" and "Hear a Voice From Heaven." Saying, "Blessed Are the Dead Who Die in the Lord." The music was beautifully rendered. The choir adorned him, he knew them all personally. I walked up to the chancel rail after to see the flowers, such exquisite pieces! On the pulpit was a small bunch of yellow roses and lilies of the valley, put there by some loving hand. I shall never forget hearing him in Trinity Church, Digby, and how happy he was when I told him about it. I just had to write you about it, for my heart is so full."

Your loving cousin, L. B.

Interesting History Of Digby's Electric Light Heard By Kiwanians

The story of the growth of the town of Digby's Electric Light Service was told Tuesday in a most interesting manner by Town Clerk, Alfred Boden to the Digby Kiwanians at their weekly luncheon on board the Princess Helene.

Mr. Boden began his talk by referring to the first electric light plant in the town, operated by the late H. P. Smith, 41 years ago. This plant only provided service for a few hours each night, until midnight, and anyone wishing to use the service after that hour had to make special arrangements with the management.

Later the plant was taken over by the late John Daley, giving very much the same service. In 1912 authority was granted to the town by the Public Utilities Board to purchase this plant from Mr. Daley for the sum of $15,000, and the sum passed by the ratepayers, but Mr. Daley set his figure at $18,000 and the scheme of purchase did not go through.

Ten years later, in 1922, there was another agitation by the town to purchase the plant, which was duly passed by the ratepayers and permission granted by the Public Utilities. The plant was purchased by the town of Digby for $18,000, and Mr. T. W. Warren was given a contract to run the same, providing fuel, oil and mechanic at the sum of $450 per month.

This service was unsatisfactory, only providing night service, and a strong agitation for the purchase of an oil engine equipment was set on foot. The town of Digby voted 34 to 19 in favor of the purchase of a 75 h.p. oil engine. The Town Council, however, turned it down by a vote of 4 to 2 on the ground that the engine would not be large enough to take care of Digby's load.

Later an agitation for the purchase of a 100 h.p. motor was agitated. At this time T. E. G. Lynch, who later became mayor of the town, prophesied that within three years hydro would be realized, and his prophecy proved true.

In 1924 the Nova Scotia Power Board spoke of the possibility of supplying the town and district with hydro power, but the Nova Scotia Board had no operations or holdings in this vicinity, little notice was taken of it.

The birth of the present system was in 1926, when citizens of the village of Weymouth commenced to talk of a hydro plant at Sissiboo, and the town of Digby and representatives from Digby and the county met with the Weymouth citizens and the Digby County Power Board came into existence. In 1928 the town also decided that their present system of line distribution was out of date, and a complete new system of poles and wires was put in with several extensions made to the present system.

Prices charged by the Daley Electric Light for electricity in Digby ranged from 22 to 25 cents per kw. hour. After the realization of hydro the price was dropped to 13.13 cents with a 10% reduction for use within ten days. It is hoped for still further reductions, a hearing of the Public Utilities held recently, was adjourned to Halifax until November 6th.

As an indication of its growth, in 1921 the Daley plant generated 64,324 kw. hours; in 1924 the town of Digby sold 61,000 kw. hours (line loss approximately 27%); in 1925 66,180 kw. hours were sold; in 1927, after hydro, with 24 hour service, 121,884 kw. hours were purchased by the town of Digby from the Digby County Power Board; in 1928 215,500 kw. hours; in 1929, 306,680 kw. hours; in 1930, 351,680 kw. hours; and this year, up until September, 292,776 kw. hours have been purchased by the town from the Power Board.

Obituary

Dwight DeBias Hubley

The passing of Dwight DeBias Hubley, aged 63 years, occurred on Thursday, October 6th, at the home of William Cross, Wallace West, following an illness of only a few days. Deceased was born at Milford, son of the late Zachariah and Margaret (Wright) Hubley, and spent a greater part of his life there. He was twice married, his first wife being Emma Wamboldt, of Lunenburg, and the second, Mrs. Minnie (Kennedy) Hersey, both having predeceased him. One son, Earl, of Newton, Mass., survives. He also leaves two brothers, Walter in Milford, and George in Yarmouth, and three sisters: Mrs. Lawrence Orde, Grandview Ferry, Mrs. Eustace Orde, Grandview, and Mrs. Edwin Silver, Deep Brook. Service was conducted on Saturday afternoon by Rev. P. E. Bishop of the Digby Baptist Church, in the absence of a pastor in that circuit, with interment in Clementsport.

Elkanah N. McNeill

Elkanah N. McNeill, of Beverly, Mass., passed away after a long illness, at his home in that city, on October 7. He was born in Barton, Digby County, but had lived in Beverly the greater part of his life. He had been employed at the United Shoe Machinery Co., up to his last illness. His many friends will be pained to learn of his passing and the sympathy of the community goes out to his family in their bereavement. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Mary J. McNeill, two sons, David and Ralph, and a daughter, Jennie D. McNeill, all of Beverly; a brother, Joseph F. McNeill, of Manchester, and four sisters, Mrs. Birdie Brooks, of Yarmouth; Mrs. Mary Ceneitha Mallett, of South Range; Mrs. Deborah Miller, of Cape Breton, and Mrs. Lucy Pyne, of Freeport, N. S. His remains were brought to Nova Scotia for burial, and interment was in North Range cemetery.

James Bacon

There passed away on Sunday evening, James Bacon, at the advanced age of 85 years, after a brief illness. Deceased was the son of William A. Bacon, Acaciaville, where he had lived for the past eight years. The deceased was a son of the late Samuel T. Bacon, and spent nearly all of his early life in the United States where he was a successful carpenter and builder. Retiring from active business, he returned to his native village and spent his declining years. Possessing a pleasing personality and a cheerful and sunny disposition, "Uncle Jim" as he was affectionately known will be missed by the community, and many friends here and in the United States will learn of his sudden passing with deep regret. He is survived by one son, William Bacon, of Providence, R. I., and one daughter, Miss Ethel Bacon, of Malden, Mass. His wife having predeceased him, his funeral services were held from his late residence and the Hill Grove United Baptist church, of which he was a member, on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. P. E. Bishop officiating, with interment in the family lot in the Hill Grove cemetery.

Residence of H. F. Williams Destroyed by Fire

The residence of H. F. Williams, Queen Street, became a total loss in a Sunday afternoon blaze. Very little of the furniture was saved, and Mr. Williams' large and valuable collection of antiques fell prey to the flames.

The alarm was given about two o'clock, but when the fire was discovered the home was doomed, the whole interior being a mass of flames. At the time Mr. and Mrs. Williams and family were visiting friends in Smith's Cove, having left the house only a very short time before the fire was seen.

The origin of the fire is a mystery, although it is thought that possibly it may have started from an exploding furnace. We extend our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Williams in their serious loss.

Band Pictures Centre Of Interest

The collection of Band Pictures in the window of the Holdsworth Building, next to the Royal Bank of Canada, which have been on display for the past week, have attracted a great deal of attention. One of the latest to be added to the collection is an old photograph of the Digby Band of 49 years ago—only three members of which are still living. This picture was loaned by A. D. Daley, who is one of the surviving members.

Another recent addition is a framed picture, in color, of the "Bessie of the Bay" Band, one of England's most famous bands, with a continuous record of more than a century. Many Digby citizens had the pleasure of listening to this famous band at Saint John, Halifax and Wolfville recently.

Owing to the fact that the building has been vacated, the pictures were removed to the Yates Studio yesterday morning and are on display there.

The L. W. Elliott District Division of the Sons of Temperance of Digby and Annapolis Counties will meet with Olive Branch Division, No. 1063, in the I. O. O. F. Hall at Bridgetown, Tuesday evening. The business session will be held at 2:30 o'clock. A public Temperance meeting will be held in the same hall at 8 o'clock. All divisions in the district are urged to send delegates.

SENT UP FOR TRIAL

In a preliminary hearing before Stipendiary Magistrate J. A. Taylor, at the Court House here, Friday, six men giving their names as Edward Knapp, Halifax; Fred Johnson and John McDonald, St. John's Newfoundland; George Carman, Saint John; James Malone, Montreal, and William MacCoy, of British Columbia, were sent up for trial by a higher court. The six were charged with stoning a Dominion Atlantic train while in motion. It is alleged the six "hobos" were put off the train at Acaciaville Station, just out of Digby, on Thursday, September 29th. They stoned the train. The railway station at this point was also damaged by vandals. The "hobos" were picked up at Weymouth the next day by Corporal Hetherington and Constable Snow of the Digby detachment of the R. C. M. P.

He was taken to the Victoria General Hospital, where Dr. Mathers found it necessary to remove the eye.

"ARE WE ASLEEP?"

To the Editor of the Courier.
Sir—Your editorial of September 23rd, "Are We Asleep?" tempts me to run the risk of wearing out my welcome with the Courier's 2100 subscribers (and those readers who borrow their copy) by commenting briefly on the subject matter of this article.

My chief excuse for again returning to the fray is that the question of Digby's future seems to be about as momentous a one as the current depression, although like most similar problems, it will have to be solved from the inside. Digby, during the present summer, have been regaled with a notable series of addresses and newspaper articles setting forth various suggestions for the benefit of the community. When you take the Kiwanis Club address by Vice-President George E. Graham of the Dominion Atlantic Railway, the remarkable analysis of Digby's needs and possibilities as made by Dr. Bogart in his Courier article some months ago, and the various other suggestions that have been put forth, it practically means the presentation of what may be termed a Five-Year Plan for Digby.

I had confidently expected to read in the columns of your paper a number of comments, favorable or otherwise, on Dr. Bogart's contribution; but, as far as I am aware, it did not cause a single ripple in the community.

Some of these suggestions undoubtedly are impracticable, by reason of expense or other objections; but many of them unquestionably are valid, and it would be a shame to ignore them.

In my humble opinion, what the Town Council, in default of that, the local Kiwanis Club, ought to do, is to appoint a special committee to carefully study these various ideas, and after selecting the best of them, make a definite and constructive report to the community fixing a suitable date by which these improvements should be carried out.

This job would keep a few of Digby's more enlightened citizens busy during at least a part of the coming winter, and the results of their activities could easily be available prior to the observance of the town's 150th anniversary, next June.

This would be one answer to the Courier's question.

Thos. F. Anderson.

A TRIP TO KANO, NIGERIA

(Editor's Note.—The following interesting article was sent to us by Mr. Willson, American Consul at Lagos, Nigeria, West Africa, who was formerly stationed at Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. Mr. Willson is a Digby County girl, the daughter of Captain Adams, Brighton.)

Mrs. Willson had for some time been telling me that it would be too bad for us to leave Lagos after being out here so long without seeing more of Africa. Now if you knew Mrs. Willson, you would realize that her remark was something that could not be ignored or set lightly aside. We accordingly began to consider what world while trip we might take which would not cost us too much or take too long. We discussed two: one a ten-day trip on a Holland Line steamer to Duala in the French Cameroons, and the other, a trip to Kano in Northern Nigeria, 700 miles from Duala. The Duala trip would be a sea voyage which neither of us cared much about and besides we had already seen a good deal of the West African coast from Duala to Nigeria on our voyage out.

We finally decided on the Kano trip and deemed it preferable to make it by rail, since travelling by auto would cost more time than we cared to take and the roads for much of the distance were not good, neither were there suitable hotel facilities.

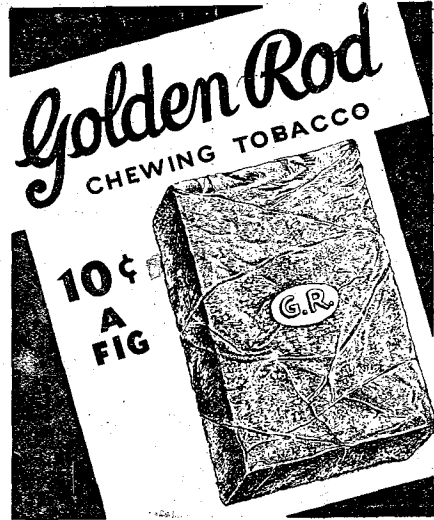

We accordingly left for the station on the morning of December 21st, with Mrs. Willson and the driver, a young man, and in the back with a small trunk and various other baggage. This was our first railway trip in Nigeria and everything was new to us. When we arrived at the station we were almost overwhelmed by black men who wanted to handle our baggage. I, the Emir, and told him to look after it all and I would settle with him. I bought our tickets—reservations had been made for us by the Assistant Traffic Manager of the Railway who is a friend of ours—and the Station Agent showed us to our compartment. It was roomy and pleasant with running water and wash basin. The man who took after our baggage wanted four shillings, but the Station Agent told me that two was quite sufficient, so that was what he received.

The country for the first day's journey was familiar to us. The refreshing green of the luxuriant vegetation of Southern Nigeria is always a pleasant sight. Oil palms and cacao trees were to be observed everywhere, as many small patches of ground in cultivation where sweet potatoes, yams and corn were planted as well as certain other garden produce.

When we looked out of the window on the morning of the 22nd, the whole landscape had changed. There were very few tall trees and though vegetation was abundant, it appeared dry and parched. The first station we stopped at that morning was Kulu-Weni and I noted that the type of house construction was quite different from that in the Southern Provinces. They had mud walls, for the most part, with thatched, cone shaped roofs. This was in the Niger Province about half of the way to Kano and this type of house construction continued to the end of our journey. We soon reached Zungeru, an important town, though though provincial headquarters are at Minna. It is a little farther on. We crossed the Kaduna River, a tributary of the Niger at Zungeru and at several other points on our journey. We passed through Zaria, the principal railway centre, and Kaduna, the capital of the Northern Provinces, at night. We arrived at Kano early Wednesday morning, the trip having taken about 44 hours.

The old walled city of Kano is said to have been built about 900 years ago by a people called the Fulani, whose origin is believed to be Egypt. These first immigrants though dark of skin were of Caucasian blood; the purity of the strain being lost only partly lost through mingling with the native Hausas and other tribes whom they conquered. The old city is occupied by more than 80,000 people and is enclosed by a mud wall about twelve miles in circumference. The houses are built of dried mud and the city has the distinctive oriental appearance which is seen in pictures of Biblical times. The Kano Emir is ruled over by a Fulani-Emir subject to the British Government and British official of high standing called the Resident. It is the policy of the British to allow the native government as much authority as possible consistent with the dictates of humanity, the preservation of order and a proper respect for British sovereignty.

I had been in correspondence with the Resident at Kano before our departure from Lagos and a car was sent to the station to meet us and take us to the Kano Hotel where our stay had been made. The hotel is unique. The parlor, dining room and offices are in the main building while lodging facilities are provided by four cottages each with running water and bath. We had pressed these cottages to ourselves and found it very pleasant indeed.

Two letters were waiting for us: one from the wife of one of the railway officials, inviting us to a sight seeing trip around the town that evening and dinner later; the other from the Assistant District Officer, stating that in a short interview with the Emir had been arranged for me that morning at ten o'clock and that he would call and take me around the city. The Emir, however, stated regret that Mrs. Willson could not be present at the interview. This was quite disappointing as the interview with the Emir had been requested largely on Mrs. Willson's account since she takes a keen interest in such things. The Emir, however, was very friendly and did not recognize women in this public way and for the Emir to receive one at an interview would subject him to the criticism of his people and cause him to lose prestige. Mrs. Willson controlled her feelings at the disappointment very well.

Promptly at 9 o'clock Mr. Hallinan, the Assistant District Officer, arrived and we drove to the walled city, entering by what is known as the Victory Gate. In a short time we were at the outer gate of the Emir's grounds which we entered without difficulty. On approaching a second gate we were stopped by a courier. He left us and returned shortly with one of the Emir's retainers sent to conduct us to him. As we passed through the second gate and entered a broad court the Emir appeared at the opposite side with his silver headed staff or scepter. He was dressed in a white robe of turban and retainers at the right of the court, and this subsiding, shouts from criers as we advanced. Mr. Hallinan said, "The Emir and his guests. The language of the people is Hausa, which is somewhat different from the Arabic. The Emir remained standing at his gateway and we advanced; I was presented and we shook hands."

The Emir is a well-built man of good height and a dignified appearance. He has a scanty beard and though his skin is dark the features are regular. His expression and manner are pleasing. The quality of his chamber had but little furniture. Two good chairs were placed for Mr. Hallinan and myself while the Emir sat on a raised dais covered with beautiful rugs. The old Emir squatted on the floor at one side. The room was of good size, with straight mud walls and a high ceiling. It was remarkably cool.

My only object being to say something pleasant, I merely remarked to the Emir that I had heard a great deal about him and his kingdom and the many steps of a progressive nature he had taken to improve the condition of his people, especially the new water system, which I felt sure would be a great blessing. He then stated that after the new system had been in use sufficiently long to prove that it was capable of meeting the people's needs he would have all the old wells filled in. I continued that I realized that material things were not of paramount importance and that I served particularly to compliment him upon the prosperous and contented condition of his kingdom which I saw reflected in the happy faces of his people. A few words further and the interview was over and the Emir lead the way out of his audience chamber. On the way back Mr. Hallinan told me that my last remark had been very well chosen; that the Emir was inclined to give credit to the British for material improvements such as the water works but that he looked credit to himself for the happy condition of his people; he said that the old Emir who was present at the interview was supposed to be the best learned Arabic scholar in Nigeria.

Mrs. Willson was very much disappointed with me for not carefully noting each item of the Emir's dress. I am sure if she had been present she could have done much better than I. He was dressed in flowing robes of a dark color and of heavy material. His head was enveloped with the turban worn by people of high rank in the Northern African tribes, having at its top the two points denoting supreme authority. On his feet were sandals whose broad soles were fringed with feathers resembling ostrich plumes. These attracted my attention more than any other part of his costume.

On our way home, just before we passed out the city gate, we observed approaching at some distance a fine automobile carrying persons who had the appearance of being officials of some importance. The car slowed up and Mr. Hallinan said, "We had better stop. So we stopped and got out and one occupant of the car also got out and approached and prostrated himself to the ground before us. He arose. I was introduced and greetings were exchanged. I did not offer my hand and was in some doubt whether I had done right in withholding it. However, Mr. Hallinan informed me that my attitude had been quite correct. He said, "We take the stand that the white man is the equal of the Emir; others must show us the same deference they do him. The personage we have just met is the Goldama, or Lord Mayor of Kano; it would not have been proper for us to have passed without exchange of greetings."

but we do not shake hands as we did with the Emir."

About 5.30 in the afternoon our friends called to take us to see the Emir. We again entered the walled city and passed by the Emir's grounds and palace where most of his wives reside. No one seemed to know how many he had, but all agreed that it was very many, probably hundreds. The Mohammedans expect a man to have wives according to his station in life. The palace grounds are immense and no man other than the Emir ever enters them. Our interview had been held in the Secretariat near by. As an historian has remarked, he separates business from pleasure. That evening we visited the market, probably the largest in Nigeria. Here one sees salt, from Lake Tchad being exchanged for dates from Algeria. On one side of the street are the cheap trinkets of European manufacture; on the other are the delicately made native earthenware and highly dyed native cloth. We saw the high walled mosque and, as we went, we noticed the mud wall architecture of this ancient city. We also visited the palace where the Resident puts up when on duty in the walled city. The Resident cannot put up in the Emir's palace, and it seems that it is not proper for the Emir to call on him. The Emir's palace is a palace had been built inside the walls where the Resident comes and stops at certain times of the year and where the Emir may call upon him without any offence to proprieties or the country's traditions.

Outside the city walls we passed a very large house which we saw to be the residence of a considerable number of the Emir's wives. It seemed strange that a number should be segregated in this manner and one of our friends commented facetiously remarked that he presumed they were on pension—whatever that might mean.

—Edgar A. Guest—

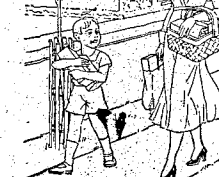

"What did you do?" asked the Lord, and the travelling tinsmith said: "I used to mend old pots and pans to earn my daily bread. And you can't get rich at that, for it's little the poor can pay for closing a gap in a kettle's side, and the rich just send you away."

"Lord, I hadn't much chance on earth, for I travelled the humble streets. Where none but the needy and common folks, a travelling tinsmith meets. Perhaps I am all to blame, but I haven't the right to ask a place up here with the great and wise for doing so small a task."

And the good Lord smiled and said: "I'd have you let that place in Heaven may at last be won by a mender of pots and pans."

And all that I care to know and all that I have to tell you is, when you were given a kettle to mend, are you sure that you did it well?"

Two persons cannot long be friers if they cannot forgive each other's little failings.

Christie's PREMIUM SODA CRACKERS

Crisp, light, flaky and slightly salted. Irresistible. Once the family starts eating them... be sure the supply doesn't run out.

"Oh, it was ever so long ago!"

this dainty lady said. "Dry Cleaners were unknown. The very finest materials had to be hand washed. It was no small task to wash the heavy fabrics of those times. It was a problem over which we sought advice. At times, I even made soap from carefully tested recipes."

"I don't remember the exact year when I started using Surprise but I do know that once I tried it I never made my own soap again."

"I gradually became accustomed to the gentle way Surprise cleansed frail or very soiled clothes. But when I found that it wouldn't injure fine woodwork, I thought I had discovered the safest soap in the world."

"I've used it ever since, of course, and I have always found that whatever cleaning task I have to cope with Surprise can be depended upon."

The shop-assistant's temper was plainly suffering from the effects of the heat. Scolding footstep was a trying occupation when the mercury is attempting to push out of the top of the thermometer.

The portly woman who entered the shop was in the throes of a violent attack of hay fever. Her distress was acute. "I want—ash-oo—I-er-ash-oo," she said. The assistant drummed his fingers on the counter impatiently. "I want—ash-oo." The assistant's short stock of temper was exhausted. "Can't be done, madam, can't be done," he said brusquely. "We only sell them in pairs."

"I'm glad you bought plenty of Christie's Premium Soda Crackers... because, with soup, they're about all we'll need for a good lunch."

A NEW PARISH IN CLARE

An event of unusual interest occurred at St. Alphonsus of Clare on Sunday, October 9th, when they greeted their first resident pastor, Rev. Father J. M. LeBlanc.

Rev. Father J. M. LeBlanc, former parish priest of Quinlan, was appointed by the Archbishop of Halifax to take charge of this new parish.

Rev. Father D. Robichaud, Chaplain of the House of Correction, has been appointed Parish Priest at Quinlan.

St. Alphonsus of Clare has been erected as a mission by Meteghan, by the late Mr. A. B. Cote, and his successor, Rev. Father Deveau, had charge of this mission until now.

IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

In the "good old days" that too many love to talk about, grandfathers walked behind a plow, grandmothers spun their wool, and a wash tub, a visit to town, a home away about once a month, were all that made up a life.

Dimly lighted by smoky kerosene lamps; mail was secured not oftener than once a week; neighbors were seen only on Sunday, then only if you went to church, the telegram sent every body trembling; the only music was pumped out of a melodion or listened to when the Swiss bell rang came to town; a farm was a vast expanse of loneliness; a trip of twenty miles was an excursion; to be taken to a hospital was a disgrace; a journey to a doctor's office was to run their course; boys and girls had to drink copious draughts of sassafras tea every spring to thin their blood; boys had to wear the father's cut down pants, and calico dresses were handed down the female line. And so on and so forth. But we have a way to a better life.

Rev. Father Deveau, for a return—Exchange.

Try Miss McFarlane's Favorite Recipe for BISCUITS

3 cups soft butter
2 cups sugar
1 cup milk
1/2 cup molasses
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup baking powder
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup yeast
1/2 cup soda

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in the chilled shortening. Now add the chilled liquid to make soft dough. You should not use a flour board and do not handle more than is necessary. Roll or pat out with hands to about 1/2 inch thickness. Cut out with a floured biscuit cutter. Place on slightly greased pan or baking sheet and bake in hot oven at 450° F. 12 to 15 minutes.

"For Light, Flaky Biscuits use Magic Baking Powder," says Miss M. McFarlane, dietitian of St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto

"I recommend Magic because I know it is pure, and free from harmful ingredients."

Miss McFarlane's opinion is based on a thorough knowledge of food chemistry, and on close study of food effects upon the body. On practical cooking experience, too.

Most dietitians in public institutions, like Miss McFarlane, use Magic exclusively. Because it is always uniform, dependable, and gives consistently better baking results.

And Magic is the favorite of Canadian housewives. It outsells all other baking powders combined. You find Magic makes all your baked foods unusually light and tender... and gives you the same perfect results every time.

Free Cook Book—When you bake at home, the new Magic Cook Book will give you dozens of recipes for delicious baked foods. Write to: Canadian Brands Ltd., Fraser Avenue and Liberty Street, Toronto, Ont.

mon last Sunday evening.

ISN'T IT SO?

The following story from the Markdale Standard, is so applicable to so many of us in these days particularly that we reprint it with the admonition to carefully think it over:

"A discontented farmer wished, if possible, to trade his farm for a more desirable one, and accordingly listed it with a real estate agency.

A few days afterwards he read in a newspaper the advertisement of it prepared by the agency. It described in glowing terms the many charms, comforts, conveniences and advantages of the place. Three times the old farmer read that ad., then called in his wife and had her read it to him. Then he seized the telephone and called up the real estate office. "Say, cancel that. I've decided not to sell it. That's the kind of place I've been waiting for years, and dog my cats, I didn't know I had it." If many of us could see our jobs and our lives and our possessions as others see them, perhaps, like the farmer, we shouldn't be so "all-fired" anxious to swap them for something we fancy would be better."

WHEN NATURE PAINTS

By L. Weldon Mosher.

When Nature paints the Maple leaves
In shades of brown and red;
I know its time for me to put
My Summer plants to bed.

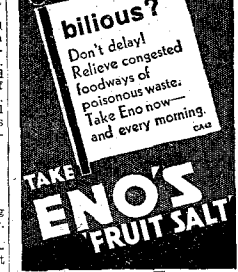

My Dahlia bulbs I must take up
The Tulips hide from view;
And carefully guard the Hyacinths
And Mammoth Crocus too.

The Gladiolus bulbs I'll store Secure from winds that blow;
The Peonies and Irises
Prepare for Winter's Snow.

My Pansies sure I must tuck in
And Ramble on the hill—;
And snuggle down the Purple Flocks
The Rose and Daffodil.

In shades of brown and red;
I know its time for me to put
My Summer plants to bed.

READER INTEREST

An "advertising sheet" was once a term of disapprobation. Today if used it would create a favorable impression upon the listener's mind.

Not so many years ago, newspaper readers complained if too much space in the family paper were given to advertising. Today the average reader would feel he was not getting his money's worth if advertising columns were omitted.

It has become an established fact that many newspaper readers who confess, so far as the news is concerned, to being headline readers only, find their greatest interest in the advertisements. They find in them both pleasure and profit.—Kin-cardine Review-Reporter.

EXTRA ATTRACTIONS FOR EXHIBITION

World Championship Wrestling Match and Horse Races

Nova Scotians will have a chance to see the heavyweight wrestling champion of the world defend his title when Henri Deglane is faced by his new dangerous contender, Charlie Stack.

The bout is an added attraction to the Eastern Canada Exhibition, bringing it to a whirlwind wind up on the last day.

More good news for all those who can't think of an Exhibition without horse racing is the fact that arrangements have been completed for two days of speedy track events on Tuesday and Thursday during the Exhibition. When it was first planned not to hold horse races other features were arranged for. Now the visitor will get the benefit of these added attractions, plus everything else on the program.

Recent months have proven that wrestling interest has risen to fever heat in Nova Scotia, patrons finding pugilism entirely too tame in comparison. It can be taken for granted that DeGlane, conqueror of such mat monsters as Szysko and Ed (Strangler) Lewis, will enjoy a record turn out. The heavyweights alone weigh 230, the other within a few pounds of it will wrestle best two out of three to the limit. Charlie Stack is the former amateur title holder and was twice on the American Olympic Team. Another bout offered the same night will be a return match between Henry Islinger, British Empire Champion, and Al Beveridge.

Are sheep too dumb to be taught tricks? Most would say so—but Prof. Schulz is bringing along proof to the contrary. In fact he makes a troupe of them perform just as intelligently as any other animal; and in his Animal Circus he has everything from dogs to jungle lions and from lions to Mighty, the educated elephant.

A tester board would puzzle even a word puzzle fan but the main interest in this old-fashioned saw is the sensational use made of it by the Max Thellon Troupe. This group is made up of seven artists with a commanding European reputation. From the tester-board they rise in the air in acrobatic feats that for grace and daring eclipse anything else now showing. This is another of the features to be presented at the Eastern Canada Exhibition.

Still another is the Four Melinos the Merry-men of the Air. Here is slapstick comedy, uproarious in its humor.

All these were feature attractions at the Toronto Exhibition. Nova Scotians' own contributions are of too numerous to mention and too wonderful to be described, but the variety of them and the military and naval scenes in which upwards of two thousand will take part deserve singling out.

In spite of the increased attractions offered this year admission prices have been lowered and excursion rates are cheaper than they have been for a generation.

FROM TEA GARDEN TO TEA CUP IN RECORD TIME

It was an interesting demonstration of the value of their location at the port of Halifax, which the firm of J. E. Morse & Co. made last week. Fresh new season teas landed from the S. S. "City of Athens" direct from India and Ceylon, which arrived on September 17th, were on their way to grocers in the Maritime Provinces on the 19th—only one day intervening, and that because it was Sunday, when with is made for before this season's new crop teas from Northern India have been enjoyed by tea consumers in various parts of the Maritime Provinces. It is quite possible that this constitutes a record "from tea garden to tea cup." The claim of "freshness from the garden" which is made for MORSE'S TEAS is thus well established and the critical Maritime taste in tea is particularly well satisfied in MORSE'S TEAS. So also is the thrifty sense of Maritime people, for in MORSE'S STANDARD TEA and MORSE'S BLUEGRASS TEA the consumer gets as good value for his money as he gets in any other brand, and perhaps better, than in much advertised blends that sell at 5 cents per pound more. This is largely because blends which are put up in central parts of Canada have to bear the cost of the long freight haul forward to destination and then the heavy freight charges on shipments coming back to the buyers. Maritime consumers are realizing more and more that it pays them to buy blends like MORSE'S STANDARD TEA and MORSE'S BLUEGRASS TEA which are put up in the Maritimes and embody the results of over sixty years catering to the critical Maritime taste in tea.

Brotherhood Starts Its Winter Activities

The United Church Brotherhood got away for the season with a good start on Monday evening, with twenty-seven members present at the supper meeting. The Treasurer's report for the year was received, showing $48.00 receipts and $48.00 expenditure. Officers were elected as follows: President—Oakley Turnbull; Vice-President—H. J. Campbell; Secretary—Treasurer—A. J. Dillon. Song Leader—B. Reginald. Visiting, Catering and Entertainment Committees were appointed for the month. Arrangements were made for the Brotherhood entertainment for the benefit of the church funds. Leaders were chosen for the Red and Blue attendance contest, and two new members were received.

The speaker for the evening was Rev. B. J. Porter, of Liverpool. He gave a graphic and interesting report of the meeting of the General Council of the United Church, which was attended in Hamilton, Ont. He was impressed with the ability of the laymen in attendance and with the large part which they took in the business of the Council. Two of the high-lights of the gathering were the Foreign Missions meeting when the work of the church in twenty-two countries was described, the Council rising en masse to its feet and pledging itself to the support of Foreign Missions, and the Young People's night. Fifteen hundred were present, the young people of the Hamilton Presbytery occupying the galleries and conducting the meeting and conducting the church business of the church and was thanked to convey the greetings of the Digby Brotherhood to the Liverpool United Church Brotherhood at its opening meeting this month.

Sunday School Rally At United Church

The Rally Day exercises of the United Church Sunday School were held on Sunday morning. The subject of the service was "Following Jesus Today." Edith Hazelton told the story: "Following Jesus to God's House." Florence Keen, that of "The Two Searchers" and the pastor spoke on "Following Jesus Today." Mr. Oakley Turnbull, Superintendent, was in charge of the service and welcomed a number of new scholars. The attendance of the school was ninety, there being only one Banner Class with a perfect attendance. Miss Campbell, the Superintendent urged every member to be in their place next Sunday, and make all the classes Banner Class. A pretty feature was the decorating of a floral cross by the younger pupils.

Prisoned in Overturned Auto, Had Narrow Escape

Rescued by a passing motorist, Stanley Keen, corner and under-taker of Digby, escaped a frightful death Thursday night, last, when trapped in his wrecked car after it had gone over a bridge between Bridgetown and Annapolis. He was on a return trip home and when passing over the bridge the car started to skid. In spite of desperate efforts to regain control of the car it shot over the bridge and turning turtle, landed in the water. He was in a terrible predicament upside down. He glanced upward and directly above his face he saw the battery box and realized the danger from falling acids. He edged over as far as possible and endeavored to get out of the car. The doors were closed and he reached the horn button, blowing it intermittently. A passing motorist heard the frantic signals, the door was pried open and Keen reached Digby he was informed by telephone that his car had caught fire and burned beyond salvage. The wrecked car has since been towed home and will likely be converted into a truck.

Ed. Woolaver and Murray Barr Lose Lives While on Hunting Expedition

Two well known Digby men, Edward Woolaver and Murray Barr, lost their lives in an accident at Grand Lake, near Weymouth, Wednesday morning, when their canoe upset while crossing the lake. Even at this time details of the tragedy are vague, but it is reported here that Woolaver, Barr, and their guide, Arthur Weir, were crossing the lake in a canoe—one of the party sighted a moose, reached for his gun, and capsize the frail craft.

The body of Edward Woolaver has been recovered and taken out of the woods yesterday after considerable difficulty. The remains will be taken to Hantsport for interment. About thirty men, under the direction of the R. C. M. P., are searching for the remains of Murray Barr.

While full details of the double drowning are not available owing to lack of communication with those at the scene, it is known that a hunting party comprising Woolaver, Barr, Lea Peck, Benjamin Webber, all of Digby, and Weir, of Weymouth, went into the woods Sunday on Grand Lake after travelling over several miles of almost inaccessible wood road.

Wednesday morning Barr, Woolaver and Reid started to cross the lake in a canoe, where the rifles were. Nearing the shore, Weir, the guide, sighted a moose, but said nothing, fearing that in the excitement the canoe would be overturned. They paddled on, but then Barr saw the animal and reached for his rifle. Immediately the craft capsize. Woolaver and Weir managed to grasp at the canoe, which was turning over and over in the water, but no sign of Barr was to be had.

Both Woolaver and Weir shouted for aid and the long battle to keep afloat began. Gradually fatigue overtook them and Weir, already greatly weakened himself, saw his companion's feeble hold give away and Woolaver sank without reappearing.

Meanwhile Lea Peck had heard the frantic cries of the two and was hastening to their aid with Webber. Finding an old punt filled with water, they emptied it and started for the spot where Weir was waging a losing fight, reaching him just as he was about to give up and taking him to the camp, where he is recovering.

A telephone message was relayed to Weymouth and Digby via the Digby County Power Board's plant at Sissiboo Falls and a searching party was organized, some 200 entering the woods to assist, among them: Corporal Hetherington and Constable Snow of the R. C. M. P., who remained with the body of Woolaver.

Will Operate Many Boats Out of Digby

The scallop fishing season has opened in the Digby-Annapolis district and while prices at the opening are low, that will not deter the fishermen from operating their boats. These have been lean years in the local scallop industry but the fleet will continue to do business as usual.

It is understood that more boats will fish out of Digby port than last season. Among the boats starting this week will be two owned by Floyd Snow, operated by J. Simons and G. King. R. Wormell will skipper his own boat. The craft owned by F. Anderson will be skippered by V. Halliday. Ansel Snow will operate the "Pines." Lea Stark is in charge of Horton Stark's boat.

There will also be a number of Annapolis County scallopers in business this season, which may operate at a later date out of Digby.

Wakes in Time to Save Baby, House

Awakened by that subtle sense of danger to his child, Howard Van Tasel, C. P. R. employee, leaped from his bed last Thursday night just in time to save the life of his 16-month-old son from a terrible death by burning and perhaps the loss of the entire family. The lamp had been left burning low on a bureau near the crib. The father was shocked to see the lamp overturned on the bureau, the lamp chimney resting on the bedclothes in the child's crib and the covering on the bureau ablaze. The baby had played fully caught hold of a corner of the bureau coverlet and hauled the lamp over.

Last week a smaller shark was killed in the harbor at Church Point, while following a boat. It was landed at the wharf.

FALMOUTH, MASS., RESIDENTS PLEASED WITH SERVICE IN DIGBY

Recently we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. and Mrs. Ike Robbins and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Dyer, prominent residents of Falmouth, Cape Cod, Mass. They were enroute for home, after spending some days at the Myrtle Hotel, Digby, where prior to is Mr. T. Spurr (popularly known to his many friends as Gus Spurr) an Annapolis County boy who has been very successful in Digby. The party spoke in highest terms of their pleasant stay in Digby, and we were assured that in the course of their visits to many places they had never found so good a fellowship as at the Myrtle Hotel. The compliments came spontaneously in the course of casual conversation, and we pass it on as a case of praise where praise is due.—(Bridgetown Monitor.)

SCHOOL FAIR

(A Contributed Editorial)

During the past few years an unusual event along St. Mary's Bay is a School Fair as it is called by us "Une Exposition Scolaire."

This year it was held in Meteghan and as in former years, it showed what our young Acadian people can accomplish with the co-operation of their elders. The greater the co-operation and support given on the part of the latter, the greater the success of these fairs. It is evident then, that parents, pupils and teachers should work together with this end in view.

If the elders only thought of the following eloquent words addressed to the audience in one of our 1932 fairs by a prominent man acting as judge, their views on this subject would certainly change: "Education is not only an imbibing of knowledge till all the shelves of your mind are loaded with facts but also the disciplining of the man who receives intellectual training in the various exercises which he is taught on these occasions." The speaker went on to say: "Had not Canada borrowed and copied from other countries in the past it could accomplish marvels as well as its neighbors. Canada does that now, and School Fairs are an excellent means of instilling self-confidence in the young."

Five schools took part in the above mentioned fair: Comcauville, Mavillette, Cape St. Mary, Meteghan River and Meteghan. In the program of the afternoon Meteghan scored the highest number of points, the children presenting an attractive appearance dressed in their uniforms headed by their artistic and silk banner, which won the first prize. Keen competition was shown by the pupils of the different schools.

Of the orators who delivered speeches, Hubert Robichaud, of Meteghan came out first on account of his pure and precise French; his topic being "L'Ecole par Excellence." The Ideal School. This child received from the A. C. J. C. a prize of two dollars and a half ($2.50).

Two cups are being presented, one by the inspector, L. A. d'Entremont, M. A., and the other by Mr. R. LeBlanc, the agricultural representative. There will no doubt be great incentives to pupils and teachers, moving both to harder work in the future.

IT WAS GONE

John H. Thomas, President of the Douglas Forum, speaking before his group one Sunday told the story of the neuro who was crossing the bridge in the south and met a "haunt."

"He prayed for awhile," said Mr. Thomas, "and then he looked up and the haunt was still there. So he sang a hymn, and after that was finished he looked up again—and the haunt was still there. So he read out of the Good Book for a time, and when he glanced up for a time, the haunt was still in his same old place. He came about for something else that they do in church and thought of the collection. So he announced that he would take up a collection and when he looked up again the haunt was gone."

"What are you doing these days, Oot?"
"To have a crack at the round-house, mister!"
"Yes, a ripper."

A TRIP TO KANO, NIGERIA

(Editor's Note.—The following interesting article was sent to us by Mr. Willson, American Consul at Lagos, Nigeria, West Africa, who was formerly stationed at Miramichi, Nova Scotia. Mrs. Willson is a Digby County girl, the daughter of Captain Adams, Brighton.)

Before returning to the hotel we made a formal call on the Resident, Mr. Lindell. This was done by merely signing the Guest Book, also known as the "Resident's Book," or merely "The Book." In making these formal calls, there is no personal meeting; one merely signs the Book which is in a vacant room on the lower floor.

We returned to the hotel and got ready for dinner. Our friends called again at about 8 o'clock; we were served a very nice dinner and spent a pleasant evening, the party breaking up at 11.00.

The next morning I was surprised to receive a note from the Resident stating that if convenient for us, he would send his car to bring us to his residence after which he would personally conduct us to points of interest around the city. This was an unusual honor and of course we accepted it at once. The car called soon; we drove around and met the Resident and after a few moments' conversation on the very pleasant trip, Mrs. Willson and Mr. Lindell in the back seat and I in front with the driver, Mr. Lindell.

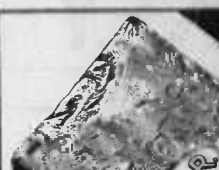

Mr. Lindell said that he was very sorry that Mrs. Willson had missed the interview with the Emir and since I had gone somewhere women were not permitted to go, that he would take us to the Mohammedan Girls' School where men are not permitted to enter. He said he could enter himself and submit to the same restrictions which were placed on other men. We then drove to the school, the Emir's principal, a lady, came out and after introductions Mrs. Willson went inside with her. While she was there Mr. Lindell and I visited the prison, a building with the usual mud walls. It was well provided with windows, as the European Medical Officer had insisted upon ventilation. This does not please the prisoners at all as the native likes his house closed up tight. A man under sentence of death is kept with the others but he is not informed when he is to die. Some day when they are all marched out together he receives a wallop over the head with a club, which probably breaks him senseless and his head is cut off. I noted that prisoners working outside the walls were in chains. For some reason the guards are not allowed to be armed and light chains are put on the men to prevent their escape. However, it seems that escapes are frequent, though the prisoners are usually apprehended. The story is told of one man who escaped so many times that the warden finally gave him three days a day in custody and made him no further trouble. The Resident did not tell me these things but nevertheless the warden was to be obtained from a source believed to be reliable. The visit to the prison was most interesting but I have not the time to go into details here.

After leaving the prison we returned to the Girls' School for Mrs. Willson. We then visited other interesting places including the Treasury, Survey Department and the Police Office, returning to the hotel about noon. A feature of the trip was the great deference shown the Resident, and he addressed and prostrated himself to the ground before Mrs. Willson told me a few things about the Girls' School. It is a new innovation for Kano and may be the beginning of substantial education for women in the Kano Empire. The pupils are all royal princesses, and all are young, as they go into the harems at the age of eleven—probably not then as wives—but to be married, and to ensure that they will have no knowledge of men, other than their future husbands. They are brought to school by old women who remain there through the day and take them home when school closes. The instruction consists of a little embroidery work, numbers and simple hygiene. Later on reading and writing is taken up. Their religion will not permit them to make anything which represents any object from nature, such as a bird or flower. The little girls had never seen pictures of anything before they entered the school and were unable to recognize any object by its picture. The instructor was endeavoring to overcome this by showing them pictures of familiar objects such as camels and chickens. They are to be frightened on seeing a stranger, particularly a white person, but Mrs. Willson said they were quickly reassured and became quite friendly. That afternoon I looked up Mr. W. J. Elder, District Commissioner, representative in Kano whom we had met in Lagos. He called at the hotel that evening and we had a pleasant visit.

On the following day we took a trip to the top of a high hill overlooking Kano on which the reservoir of the Kano water supply is situated. Usually a very fine view of the country can be obtained from this hill, but we were there in the Harmattan season and the atmosphere was so hazy with the fine dust of the Sahara that we could see only a short distance beyond the base of the hill. On returning we stopped to see the dye pits in the walled city. These are holes in the earth about two feet in diameter and several feet deep. They are filled with blue dye. The walls of these dye pits are made of mud which in course of time has become nearly as hard as cement. The same pits have probably been used for centuries. A number of people were diligently engaged in dyeing cloth when we were there.

That evening Mr. Wyness called and we walked around to the Kano Club nearby. The evening was cool and pleasant and we sat out on the lawn under a beautiful tropical moon and had something cool in a glass, with which was served a plate of delicious locally grown roasted shelled peanuts—called here groundnuts.

CHEWING TOBACCO

We spent it quietly, until evening. A party of twelve people, British; managers, mining engineers and electricians and their wives had come down from the tin mining areas around Jos to spend Christmas in Kano. The hotel manager had told us that the Christmas dinner was to be "special," so we dressed and when we stepped on the hotel porch that evening we found the whole Jos crowd also in dinner clothes with carnival hats provided by the management. They were playing the ukulele and singing and we were immediately taken into their party as though we had been of their number. When we went down to dinner at about 10 o'clock, we found that an unusually good menu had been provided. We got up from the table at 11.30, a fire had been lighted in the fireplace for the evening was cool, the gramophone was started and the evening was finished with dancing. The Jos people had come to Kano with the idea of having a good time and that is just what they proceeded to have from the moment they arrived. The party broke up at 2.20 a.m.

We left for Lagos the following morning. The return trip was rather trying; the landscape had by this time lost its novelty for us and we did not have as comfortable a compartment as we had going to Kano. However, we passed through the important towns of Kaduna, Zaria and Jebba in daylight. The River Niger which we crossed at Jebba is a picturesque and imposing stream at this point, with high hills on either side and rocky shores.

I may state here that better class passenger coaches on the Nigerian railway are built on the British style, being a row of separate compartments opening into a narrow hall or passageway. One feature which I like very much is the tinted glass in the windows which subdues the intense tropical light. Moreover, while the passengers can see everything outside perfectly well, persons on the station platform or along the track cannot see into the compartment, or even distinguish the form of passengers seated next the window, except when the compartment is lighted at night when outlines are observable.

When we arrived at Lagos on the morning of the 28th, we found our chauffeur at the station with the car. We succeeded in bundling in all our baggage and purchases made at Kano and reached home safely, tired but happy, because the trip had made the trip and also because we were back home again.

Canadian Legion Will Put On Poppy Sale

The regular monthly meeting of the Digby Branch of the Canadian Legion was held on the first Friday of the month, instead of Thursday, as is usual. J. F. Connolly, Secretary, was in charge. He addressed this meeting and the date was carried over for this reason. Owing to the necessity of Mr. Connolly going to the pension hearing he was unable to attend, however, and will come to Digby on a future date.

There were eighteen members present, including all officers. Discussions in regard to the Memorial Service on Remembrance Day, the sale of Poppies, and the annual Banquet were brought up and it was agreed to carry out the usual routine. The Veterans will parade to the monument just before church parade will take place the following Sunday.

The usual effort will be made to dispose of Poppies made by the crippled soldiers. As the profits made on the sale of these go to charitable work it is hoped that even in these times everyone will try to buy at least one poppy. The expenditure in the individual case is small, but it is pointed out that a great deal of assistance can be given with the gross receipts.

A letter read from Will R. Bird, whose articles are well-known to readers of McLean's, disclosed the fact that the Branch might secure an appointment for a lecture from him at an early date. Members present who had heard the lecture and seen the pictures which were shown by Mr. Bird, stated that it was well worth double the admission charged. The next meeting of the Branch will be of a social nature and will be held on October 27th.

Canada's "Fish Week"
From October 24—31

Canada's annual "Fish Week" will be observed this year from October 24th to October 31st, inclusive. The observance has been arranged for by the Canadian Fisheries Association, a nation-wide organization, and the plan of setting aside a particular week in the year for the purpose of directing special attention to the national importance of the fishing industry, and the diet value of Canadian fisheries products, has the cordial approval of the Dominion's fisheries authorities. Comment at the Department of Fisheries today with reference to the while "Fish Week" is planned by the industry itself, the department is keenly interested in it and commends it to popular notice.

"Some of the most interesting research work in connection with food-stuffs in recent years," it was said at the department, "has centered about the health values of fish and shellfish, and very important discoveries have been made. It has been found out, for instance, that fish foods contain vitamins which are essential to health, particularly Vitamin D, which is most valuable in the diet of growing children because it prevents such troubles as rickets. Different foods contain vitamins, of course, but fish have been found to be richer in Vitamin D than other foodstuffs."

Combat Anemia

"Then, too, it has been ascertained that fish, and especially shellfish, are beneficial in cases of anemia, while, of course, it has been known for some time past that sea fish and shellfish have much larger content of iodine—the great goitre preventive—than any other foods. When it is also remembered that fish contain such elements as calcium, the bone and teeth building substance, and that they are nourishing and easily digested, it is easy to see why their use is stressed increasingly by diet authorities."

"Canadian fish are available in such variety, and such satisfactory quality, that there is no need for anyone in the Dominion to buy imported goods. Canada's fisheries resources are remarkable both in extent and in the variety of fish and shellfish which they yield, and fishing and processing operations are carried on by an industry which uses thoroughly modern methods and equipment."

Government Will Honor Departed Soldiers

Again this year on Remembrance Day the Government of Nova Scotia will honor the soldiers who died in the Great War by placing a wreath on every Public War Memorial in the Province. There are now nearly 100 memorials in Nova Scotia.

The wreaths as in the past will be made in the Veterans shops by returned soldiers and will be placed upon the memorials by legionnaires who will act on behalf of the Government.

In many instances local communities are arranging ceremonies of a public character on Remembrance Day and in these instances the placing of the wreath will be made a part of the ceremony.

Hon. J. F. Fraser, Provincial Secretary, is acting for the Government in connection with arrangements for the placing of the wreaths on Remembrance Day.

A REAL MARITIME TEA

MORSE'S BLUE NOSE TEA is a real Maritime tea not a tea put up by outsiders that assumes the title, but a tea blended by Maritimers for Maritimers, named with a Maritime name and clicking with the critical Maritime taste in tea. At 35 cents per pound package it has justly earned the sobriquet of "the great economy tea." Presenting the consumer with 40-cent value at that price, no wonder it has made such great strides in popularity in the Maritime Provinces.

NOVA SCOTIA

(Mrs. Elizabeth E. Hamilton) Land of legend, land of forest. Land of fullness, land of greatness. Land of fisherman and farmer. Land of promise, land of Progress. Land of story, old, romantic. Of the Indian and white man; On thy shores, and in thy rivers Fish in wonderful abundance. Lakes and streamlets running over. Woods and pastures green with beauty— Where the cattle feed contented. Meadows stretching in the distance. Gift of thy enriching hours— Nova Scotia—thou art lovely! With thy fir, and spruce and maple. Thy white birches and thy hemlock. Waving in thy dark green forests. As a knight of old, whose banner Lifted to the freshening breeze; Fragrant on the air the perfume Of the pine upon the hillsides. In thy valleys fruit of orchard. In thy fields the fruit of garden. In the villages and hamlets Industry of men and women. On thy rocky shores the salt spray And the freshening light sea-breezes Bringing health to weary toiler.

Nova Scotia, thy brave people Are a fearless band of foilers— Living as they choose to worship Creed of minister, or bishop. Creed of parish, priest, or prophet. Churches standing like a fortress. Rugged as the rocks of shore-line; Bells distinctly calling—Worship! Calling, calling to thy people. Calling fishermen and farmer. Calling to the men and women To the altars of the churches. To the wisdom of the Scriptures. On thy rocky shores the salt spray Beautiful in solemn grandeur. Nova Scotia—land of beauty. Land of promise, land of Progress— Loved by all thy noble people. Land of legend—loved and blest.

STAIRS MADE HER GASP FOR BREATH

Penalty of Excess Fat

Although she has lost 7 lbs. of her overweight, this woman finds that 7 lbs. has made a remarkable difference to her. There can certainly be nothing wrong with a reducing treatment that brings such increased energy and vigor.

Her story reads: "I am 53 years old and my height is 5 ft. Last year I weighed 154 lbs. For six months I have been taking a half-teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts, making no change in my diet. Now I am less round the hips, and only weigh 147 lbs. dressed. But I feel lighter and can now run upstairs, which before used to make me gasp for breath. Everyone says how well and fit I look, as I am in a store and get no walking exercise at all. The results may not be startling, but the fact remains that I feel much better than of late years—not so heavy—and I now enjoy dancing." (Miss) J. H.

Her reason reads: "It is based on scientific principle—it is an ideal blend of 6 separate minerals which help glands, nerves, blood and body organs to function properly and bring about a splendid degree of health—it builds up energy and strength all the while you're training yourself down to a point of normal weight."

Completed Mission At Westport

The Maritime Evangelists, Rev. W. A. Robbins and his daughter, Mae Robbins, have recently completed their Gospel Mission at Westport, where they have enjoyed a grand revival. Two baptismal services took place on the shores of the harbor on successive Sundays, when 22 converts were buried in baptism. Two others were received into the church by letter. During the Mission, Miss Robbins assisted by seven young ladies of the church, a chorus choir and orchestra presented the pageant "The Challenge of the Cross." An impressive altar service followed.

Before the close of the Mission the Young People's Union was re-organized, strengthened and encouraged by the young people who had recently come into the church. At a largely attended business meeting of the church, after careful and thorough discussion a Church Constitution and By-Laws was adopted and a call to the pastorate extended to Rev. H. C. Morgan, of Dundas, P. E. I. who will take up his duties in Westport on November 11th. The Evening service on Sunday, October 23rd, in the United Baptist Church.

FUNDAMENTALS—Edgar A. Guest— We must get back to our bases, the old simple truths of all time; That only by steadfast endeavor was mortal intended to climb; That life pays no heed to the sufferer, but treats its immutable way. And the joys which are claimed without labor are lost with the first rainy day.

Security comes with deserving and not from the goodness of chance. The soldiers who live through the battle must learn how to handle his lance. Life's laws will not alter to please us, unheeded to the end they remain. Who wants the assurance of knowledge, must study in wisdom to gain.

And whether we face it with scorn, or whether we like it or no. Who seeks to be humored and trusted has only the one road to go.

We may talk about riches and praise them, but no man can call them secure. For it's only the things of the spirit, such as courage and faith which endure.

We must get back to our bases; to the basics we've known in the past. To a cheerful submission to duty wherever our fortunes are cast.

To the tasks which are spread out before us and give them the best we possess, and admit that in character only a man may be sure of success.

Tourist Fares Slash Cruise Rates

Captain E. Griffiths and his ship the "Empress of Australia."

Transportation was sold like merchandise, a recent announcement by the Canadian Pacific Steamships would have read something like this: "The Holy Land, Egypt, and the glory that Greece for less than $450 a day!"

But it isn't done that way so winter holiday makers learned of the latest thing in cruise fares in more modest fashion. The latest thing in cruise fares is the institution of Tourist Class on the Mediterranean Cruise by the Empress of Australia, and for minimum of $300 a 68-day cruise that calls at 25 ports is now available. Palestine, the Nile, Cairo and the Pyramids, Rhodes—site of the famous Colossus—Barcelona, Casablanca, Gibraltar and Puntal, Madeira, where Mrs. Christopher Columbus was born, are high lights of the cruise which leaves New York January 31st. Tourist accommodation in the magnificent 22,000-ton Empress of Australia is famous for its comfort as thousands of students, teachers, and professors who have crossed the Atlantic in the speedy vessel know. Divided by the 69 days of the cruise, which allows a stopover in England and return Tourist Class by any Canadian Pacific liner—even the Blue Rib-bon holding Empress of Britain—works out at a daily cost of a little less than $4.35. It is believed that the new rate will introduce the joys of winter cruising in sunny southern latitudes to many who have not been able to enjoy such a holiday before.

Farmers Are Annoyed By Gulls

Whether, owing to a long period of protection, gulls are more numerous than formerly, or the fish along the shore, where they feed are scarce, these birds appear in immense flocks over Digby Neck, where the farmer spreads the fish waste, used for fertilizing purposes, and in a few hours completely carry it away. Consequently, the farmer is not likely to achieve any results from his labors, with regard to enriching his meadows, he merely spreads a banquet for the gulls.

A LOT OF "HOOEY"

The other day we received an order to print labels for a manufacturer of food stuffs. Our instructions were to print the weight in half-inch type to conform with certain regulations. We had printed the same label before with the same instructions, and at that time our compositor used thirty-six point type (1/2 inch)—the labels were condemned by the department because their inspector on measuring the lower case with his scale discovered that they were only three-eighths of an inch in height, instead of the required half-inch. What a lot of "hooley" this is! In our humble opinion 1/2 inch letters are away out of proportion for a label about the lower case, and, as long as the lettering is bold enough to be read by a blind man, what difference would an eighth of an inch make anyway. Just red tape for no reason at all.

Stalk Big Game in Provincial Woods

Bidding au revoir to Jack Sharkey, the fast sports celebrity to visit the Province on a hunting trip, Nova Scotia now greets others well known to the fraternity. Latest arrivals at the hunting grounds in Digby County are Ettinger Warner, editor of "Field and Stream"; Sidney Smith, former sparring partner of Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion; B. Norman, president of the National City Bank of New York; L. K. Ebbs of Newport, R. I.

They are at Albert Saulnier's new cabin in the rear of Harrington Settlement and Henry Saulnier of Hecanooga is their guide, with Joseph Charles entering. To accommodate United States sportsmen seeking Nova Scotia's big game, many cabins have been built in the county, including those of Deveau Brothers and Anthony Harrington.

Mrs. T. H. Squires and baby, of Philadelphia, have taken rooms at "The Elms" for the winter.

Parish Hall About Completed

The new Parish Hall, being built on the grounds of St. Croix Church, Plympton, is about completed. The structure is 25 by 60 feet, and will be used in connection with the activities of the church. The work is being done under the direction of Rev. Father Gaudet, P. P., who, since coming to that field has been a tireless worker. Among other things he supervised the completion of the Sacred Heart Church at Doucetteville, which replaced the original church, destroyed by fire after being struck by lightning. He is also building St. Theresa's Church at Marshall's Town.

During the past few years Father Gaudet has been instrumental in presenting several light operas before both Digby and Annapolis county audiences, the proceeds of which went toward church activities.

ACCIDENT VICTIMS BURIED

Funeral services for the late Edward Woolaver were held in Keen's Mortuary Chapel, First Avenue, on Friday morning of last week, with Rev. F. E. Bishop, of the Digby United Baptist Church officiating. The remains were later taken to Hantsport for interment.

Funeral services for the late Murray Ross Barr were held from his mother's residence on Sunday afternoon, Rev. F. E. Bishop officiating. Pall-bearers were six of his young friends, Louis Dakin, Frank Robinson, J. R. Morehouse, J. R. Robinson, Boyd Haynes and Sydney Hall.

Both funerals were very largely attended. Edward Woolaver and Murray Barr lost their lives in a double drowning tragedy at Grand Lake, near Weymouth, on Wednesday morning of last week, when the canoe in which they were crossing the lake capsized. Woolaver's remains were recovered late on the afternoon of the tragedy. It was not until Friday morning that searchers found the remains of young Barr. Both men were well known and highly respected by all who knew them. Ed. Woolaver came to Digby from Hantsport several years ago, and operated an automobile repair shop in the rear of Morrell & Sypher's Garage, where Murray Barr was his helper.

Chester Keen, who is in the woods at "the Branch" back of Doucetteville, with Sydney Smith and Clayton Snow, was successful in capturing a fine deer the other day. The party in the woods with Vernon and Eric Bent have also been successful in capturing a deer. The editor sampled some of that one—"thanks, boys!"

Miss Bernice Adams, of Bay View, left last Saturday for Halifax, to enter the Maritime Business College.

THE TEAPOT ALWAYS ON THE STOVE

It is said that there are many homes in the Maritime Provinces in which the teapot is always on the stove. One of the characteristics of Maritime people is their fondness for tea and it is said that there are no better judges of tea anywhere in the world than right here in the Maritime Provinces. It is the last place in the world where poor quality teas will be tolerated. In some families devotion to the tea cup is so great that the teapot is always on the stove and the kettle always boiling so that a cup of tea will be available at a minute's notice. People who use so much tea naturally think about the cost, particularly in times like these when the market for good teas has been high and money not as plentiful as formerly. These circumstances sent people looking for low priced bulk teas, but their discriminating taste soon found the practice unsatisfactory—they found that they could not depend on a new purchase of bulk tea matching the former one in flavor. To meet the needs of the times, MORSE'S BLUENOSE TEA, which is sold in grocery stores at 35 cents per pound package, or 18 cents per half pound package, BLUENOSE TEA has made quite a sensation among tea users, for it is a tea that any tea drinker can enjoy and at so low a price people are finding it no longer necessary to buy tea in bulk. MORSE'S BLUENOSE TEA is pre-eminently the tea for these times, for it is the great economy tea, combining dependability with low price.

"THE LURE OF THE RING"

It opens with the Dempsey-Firpo bout which took place in 1923, at the Polo Grounds, New York City, when Dempsey defeated Firpo by a knockout in the second round.

Next we have Dempsey and Tunney in the Sesqui-Centennial Stadium, Philadelphia, in 1926, where Dempsey at the height of his brilliant career, defeated Tunney.

Dempsey appears next, opposite Sharkey at the Yankee Stadium, New York City, in 1927, where he won by a knockout.

Two months later, at Soldier's Field, Chicago, Dempsey and Tunney meet again, where Dempsey makes a terrific attempt to stage a comeback, without success. This is the bout famous for the "long-count" incident.

The next bout is between Sharkey and Loughran at the Yankee Stadium, in 1929, which Sharkey won by the third round by a knockout.

The following year Sharkey meets Schmeling at the Yankee Stadium, where Sharkey lost the decision by a four round split decision.

Schmeling then boxes Stribling in the Municipal Stadium, Cleveland, in 1931, winning the decision by a technical knockout. It was during this bout that Schmeling asked the referee to stop Stribling out of the ring, as he was in no condition to finish the fight.

The final bout is the one between Sharkey and Walker, which took place in July of last year, at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, N. Y., where they fought fifteen rounds to a draw.

The picture closes with recent shots of Dempsey in training, preparatory to an attempt he will make to regain the title of heavyweight champion of the world, which he lost to Tunney in 1926. Judging from appearances he has lost none of his technique, and displays the aggressiveness and old fighting spirit which made him famous as the "Manassa Mauler." Admired and favored by thousands, his box-office drawing power in pictures, as well as in his box, is still immense.

"The Lure of the Ring" will be shown at the Bijou Dream Theatre on Thursday and Saturday of next week, November 3rd, and 5th.

Car Exempt from Seizure Says Ontario Judge

Necessary as never before is the automobile in the economic scheme of things. Might as well take away the tailor's shears, the carpenter's hammer, or the farmer's plow, as take away the automobile of the business man or salesman. At least, decided Judge Costello, of Huron County, Ontario, who declared the car of an implement agent exempt from seizure by the sheriff. The agent's territory, where he sells fertilizer, is thirty miles long and fifteen miles wide, and the judge decided it would be utterly impossible for him to carry on his job without a car. "I cannot hold otherwise than that this man's car is a chattel necessary for his calling," said Judge Costello. The judgment is interesting in that it is believed to have set a precedent.

HURRAH FOR THE BAND!

Digby Music Council Lays Foundation for The Digby Civic Band. Trustees of Old Band Contribute Their Assets, 8 Instruments and $361 in Cash.

Class of Beginners, Both Sexes, to Be Formed at Once

Wednesday night's meeting of the Music Council was lively and it accomplished results of far-reaching importance to Digby. It laid a solid foundation for a Digby Civic Band by formulating a Constitution and By-Laws for its government, planning for its financial support, laying plans for a permanent band room, outlining the qualifications for membership, and appointing a Musical Director. One of its most important acts authorized the Director to enroll at once and instruct a class of beginners in music to be known as the Junior Band. Ladies are invited to join this class, and it is expected that boys and girls, as well as the "grown-ups" will hasten to hand in their names. Parents will not be slow in noting this most unusual opportunity for the young people to get a thorough course of musical instruction under a capable Director, almost free of cost. A notice of this class will be found elsewhere in the Courier under the heading MUSICIANS WANTED.

Other doings of the meeting included the election of Mr. F. C. Purdy, Principal of Schools, to membership in the Council; a vote that members of the Council pay annual dues of $1.00, playing members being exempt; and appointment by the Executive Committee of Paul Yates as first Musical Director.

The fine public spirit shown by the Trustees of the old band in transferring to the Secretary-Treasurer of the Music Council, C. L. Bowley, all their assets and good will was the step that made the band possible and the appreciation of the meeting was shown in several speeches of the members and a unanimous vote of thanks tendered to the Trustees, Fritz Dakin, Guy Dunn, Oliver Wm. Turnbull and Wm. Warrenton, for their generous cooperation. Eight band instruments and $361.59 in cash were included in the transfer. The Music Council will meet again next Wednesday night. A number of iron music stands and a set of iron instruments and parts are lying about somewhere, which the band would be glad to have returned to the Town Hall where a room has been provided to keep them. Mr. S. M. Aynor has very kindly granted the use of his building adjoining Douglass Bros. to be used for a short time while enrolling members of the Bands and for holding preliminary meetings.

Bring in your application today.

SCOUT NEWS

The meeting last Friday was a very fine and inspiring one. Some fifteen Scouts were present at the S. M. Wright in charge, assisted by A. M. Appleby, who was ably supported by former Patrol Leader Jack Nichols. We had as visitors Mr. Baden Powell, also Mr. Knowlton, of Plympton.

As we were formed in the Hoise Shoe, Cub Ronald Williams was passed in his Tenderfoot work by Patrol Leader Ralph Wright, and was presented with the Scout Badge by S. M. Wright. He remarked that in fact one of the best that has passed the tests coming to our Troop.

Cub Master Dr. G. V. Turnbull should be complimented on the excellent training his Cubs are getting as we find our best Scouts are former Cubs.

After a rousing game of Basketball, Scout work was taken up as it applies to each Scout and then we were treated to MacIntosh Red apples. Gee! They were good! We then had another game which was won by the Wolf Patrol for points.

Mr. Powell, who is contemplating starting a Troop in Weymouth, then talked to the Troop about his work among the Indian boys in the West. There was exceptionally good attention paid to his remarks and the Scouts present enjoyed listening to him.

We then had some competitions in whistling, singing and apple eating.

BRIGHTON AND BARTON FORM COMMUNITY SCHOOL CLUB

Miss Fraser, "Helping Teacher" of the Provincial Educational Dept. for this district, addressed the friends of the Brighton-Barton School, on Wednesday, the 26th, at the school-house. She discussed chiefly the advantages of co-operation between the school and the community, and led in the tentative steps in building up a Community-School Club in which not only the parents, but all the adults of the two villages are eligible to membership.

The meetings will be held on the 1st Friday of each month at 8 p.m., wherever the convenience of the club dictates. The larger part of each meeting will be given over to social enjoyment: short programs, games, music, etc., preceded by a period devoted specifically to the discussion of school aims and objectives and plans as to how the adults, particularly the graduates of the Brighton-Barton School, can help in the attainment of these objectives.

Miss Fraser called attention to the fact that the school-rooms under the able leadership of Mrs. Wendell in the advanced grades and Miss Brooks in the primary, already show evidence of what the children can do to aid in the beautifying of their school-rooms. With a little backing from a community club and concerted effort, what might not be accomplished with the school grounds for instance? Shrubs and plants and bulbs could be given and planted by the children under the direction of the club, making the school yard (which faces the highway) a beautiful spot to gladden the eyes of the passing automobilist as well as the home folks—and adding to the pride which the students and graduates justly feel in their school. That kind of project could be accomplished without the actual outlay of any cash—always a consideration and especially so in these hard times, and there are many other like projects.

Miss Fraser told of what other schools had done along these lines and what good times were had in the doing. Incidentally, there is a substantial money prize given by the Department of Education for the greatest improvement made along these lines. Those present decided to make at least a try along these lines and took the preliminary steps for organization with Miss Fraser's help.

Miss Fraser's talk was preceded by a school program which was heartily enjoyed by all. Following her address Mrs. Wendell and Miss Brooks served refreshments, the girls of the upper grades assisting as hostesses.

Notices of the first meeting will be posted at the Brighton and Barton Post Office.

FORTY-FIVE MILLION CROSS THE BOUNDARY

Over 45,000,000 persons crossed the 5,500 miles of international boundary between Canada and the United States last week.

The heaviest traffic was between Detroit, Michigan, and Windsor, Ontario, and Walkerville, Ontario, where two ferry companies operate across the Detroit river in addition to one bridge and a tunnel for pedestrians and vehicles; a railway tunnel and three systems of railway ferries also cross at this point. The traffic on the bridges across the Niagara river at Fort Erie, Ontario, Niagara Falls and Queenston, Ontario, was also heavy.

BRIDGING THE ST. LAWRENCE

At a cost of approximately $3,000,000, the Quebec Government is to build a new traffic bridge over the St. Lawrence, linking the Island of Montreal with Caughnawaga on the mainland to the south and tying up with the highway running to Malone in the State of New York. Plans have been completed and construction will start shortly.

Three bridges now span the St. Lawrence River from the Island of Montreal to the south shore, one of which is solely a railway bridge. The new bridge will be the third to carry private vehicles and will obviate the necessity of either crossing by ferry between Lachine and Caughnawaga or taking the somewhat lengthy route between the latter place and the Victoria bridge from Montreal to St. Lambert.

Probation Scout Paul Snow won the apple eating contest and Scout Abramson and Probation Scout Fredie Keen won the singing, while Scout Max Campbell won the whistling contest.

After Troop singing the meeting closed as usual with the Lord's Prayer, and the Troop all stood at attention for one minute in reverent silence for the passing of Scout Murray Barr. At the Court of Honor after the regular meeting, Cub Hugh Dickie was taken in on Probation having one month to pass his Tenderfoot work in.

W. M. S. Holds Thank-Offering Meeting

The annual Thank-Offering Meeting of the United Church Women's Missionary Society was held in the church hall on Wednesday evening, Mrs. E. W. Forbes, the President, acted as chairman. Mrs. Walker sang a solo and a duet was sung by Mrs. Smallie and Mrs. Walker. The speaker of the evening was Miss Isabel MacIntosh of Montreal. For ten years she has been engaged in home mission work in various parts of Canada, and she gave a very interesting address. After a brief account of the work in Africa, India, China, Korea and Japan, she described the work being done by the agents of the W. M. S. among the non-Anglo-Saxons in Canada. Each immigrant is welcomed by a worker on their arrival and given a Bible in their own language and also a printed card of welcome from the United Church. This friendly hand extended at the beginning of their new experiences as strangers in a strange land does much to make their lives happier and attach them to the Christian church and the land of their adoption. The work being done in the Church of All Nations in Toronto where services are carried on in many languages, and which takes the place of a home away from home to the new-comers was vividly described, and many incidents were given of the practical helpfulness of the W. M. S. workers and the hearty appreciation with which these ministries are being received.

Comes to Digby to See Printing Office

We had a very pleasant call this week from Burton Shortliffe and his son, Ivan, of Central Grove. These two made the trip to town just especially so that Ivan could see something of the inner workings of a printing office. He is a young lad of 13 years of age, and attends the Central Grove school. Although he lives some forty miles from a printing office, he has a great interest in the work, and makes a hobby of writing advertisements and designing folders. His visit to our office on Wednesday was his first initiation into the business. He spent the whole morning with us, and saw everything we could show him, right down to the printer's line. While in town they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wallis.

Mitchell Lipwich, of Yarmouth, was in Digby on Wednesday enroute to Montreal, where he will attend McGill University. People here will remember "Mike" as a patient in the Digby Hospital last year, as the result of a motor accident at Barton, in which he fractured a leg.

For National Advantage—For Individual Benefit

Plan Now to Buy DOMINION OF CANADA BONDS 1932

On Monday, October 31, Canadians will have an opportunity to invest in a new issue of $80,000,000 Dominion of Canada Bonds. By buying these Bonds you will accomplish two things:

1. You will obtain the soundest investment available to Canadians, secured by the resources and integrity of the Dominion.
2. You will assist in further strengthening Canada's financial position, with favourable effect upon general business.

NOTWITHSTANDING the trying conditions which have prevailed during the past three years, Canada has established an enviable record of financing. For example, among other accomplishments, the Dominion has refinanced—before maturity and at a reduced interest rate—$640,000,000 of its public obligations, due in 1931, 1932, 1933 and 1934.

The new Dominion of Canada Bonds, which will bear 4% coupons, will be offered at a sufficient discount to provide an income yield in line with current interest rates. Within the last few months Great Britain and other countries have arranged important financial operations. In each case, these have met with marked success, investors having quickly recognized the trend toward lower interest rates.

The success of the new Canadian loan is important. It will further demonstrate the confidence of Canadians in their own country and this confidence will be reflected in the money markets of the world.

For national advantage—and for your individual benefit—plan now to buy Dominion of Canada 4% Bonds, 1932, when they are offered next Monday

This preliminary advertisement is published by THE DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE to enable Canadian investors to make arrangements to participate in this offering.

Ox Team On Which He Was Riding Hit By Truck

Charles Holmes, of Marshalltown, was almost instantly killed about 6 o'clock this morning when the wagon on which he was riding was struck by a truck, at Seely's Hollow, near Willis Tibbett's residence on the Bay Road. The truck belonged to Innocent Comeau, proprietor of the dance hall at Conway.

It is alleged that Holmes was going to the shore for a load of rock wood and, it is alleged, was driving his single ox team on the wrong side of the road, and that he had no light on his wagon. An inquest is being held in Keen's mortuary chapel this morning. Coroner Keen is presiding.

Professor Thomson who began his four years overseas service in the ranks, and won his commission on the field, is one of the outstanding speakers of the Province.

Immediately following this service will be the unveiling of the tablet, which bears the names of those who perished in the Great War and also those who served from Bear River and its immediate vicinity, excepting the area represented by the Clementsvalle Memorial. After the unveiling of this tablet which will ever keep in mind the awful cost of the Great War, in lives and sacrifice, an opportunity will be given for the placing of flowers or wreaths by any person or organization.

Obituary

Mrs. Margaret Dakin

The death of Mrs. Margaret Dakin, widow of the late J. Outram Dakin, occurred at her home at the Racquette, on Sunday last, after an illness of many years. She was born at L'Ardoise, Cape Breton, 65 years ago. The late Mrs. Dakin was a devotee member of Saint Patrick's Roman Catholic Church here, and during her years of good health, was very active in the affairs of her church. In spite of her lengthy illness she was always of a cheery disposition and bore her suffering with great patience. Funeral services were held from Saint Patrick's Church at 9:30 Tuesday morning.

Rev. Father Leo Murphy officiating, and were very largely attended. Numerous and beautiful floral offerings and mass cards bespoke of the high esteem in which she was held. Pallbearers were C. Fred McBride, R. C. Smallie, Harry Hersey and Clifford Benton.

Mrs. Dakin is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Warren, Peabody, Mass.; Mrs. Skelton, Lynn, Mass.; Mrs. Annie Cook, Lawrence, Mass.; and Mrs. Mombourquette, Cape Breton; one brother, Alex Martell, of New York; two daughters, Mrs. C. L. Menning, of Pasadena, Calif., and Mrs. George Hamilton, of Saint John, N. B.; five sons, John, Frank, Ralph and Richard, of Boston, and "Ted" of Digby.

Ernest Handspiker, of Culloden, passed away suddenly on Sunday morning, October 30th, at the age of 48 years. The deceased was the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Handspiker, who both predeceased him a number of years ago. He had been in failing health for several years, yet his death came as a shock to many of his relatives and friends. Three brothers and four sisters survive, Judson, Wallace and Stewart, of Culloden; Mrs. Nelson Rowe, Mrs. John Shea, Mrs. Kendrick Arderton, in the United States; and Mrs. Otis Middleton, of Culloden. TEA WINS ITS WAY IN THE HOSPITAL DONATION DAY

The beverage of the British army today, according to the London "Evening News," is tea. It is estimated that during the recent manoeuvres at Salisbury Plain, between twenty-five and thirty cups of tea were sold to every pint of beer, and according to an officer the tea-drinking soldier compared well with the old "beer-swinger."

It is interesting to note that alcoholic drinks are being used less and less in the old country and that the people rely upon "the cup that cheers but not inebriates." Tea drinking is on the increase in this country, too—even in this province, where the people are already great tea consumers.

No doubt the fact that the wants of Maritime tea drinkers have been so well satisfied in MORSE'S TEAS during more than sixty years has helped tremendously to give the Maritimes their place as a tea drinking country. MORSE'S TEAS enjoy the prestige of being blended by Canada's oldest tea firm, but their consistent good quality is the factor which accounts for their growth in public favor.

THE NEW POLITICIAN

(Sherbrooke Record)
Most politics may be peanut politics for there is always both a vocal and a silent appeal to prejudice. There are still alive a few of the old-time Tories who cannot see any good in a Grit, as there are Grits who see but black horns on a Tory. Young people are not that way. They know that the bitter partisan is an encumbrance and a liability to his own party.

And there are some old-timers who still believe in the efficacy of the Russian vodka and intoxicating conversion forgetting that the "morning-after" spells a revision. These men are passing away from the party councils for the modern election is won by open tactics, by canvass and flattery, and by seeing every voter and having quiet conversation. The face-to-face or mind-to-mind electoral contest has replaced the jolly jaunt. They do not realize that if they get the husband drunk the wife and the children who think they are doing good adult children will resent it in the ballot box.

The astute politician of today does not boldly tell the roystering ralliers to stay at home, but he tries to ingratiate them and prays that the harm they will do will not be too deep.

Again, there is the politician who believes that the deeper purse will win when the modern man knows that a modest but efficient organization should cost about a thousand dollars. He knows also that there is much riotous waste and many deplorable touches practised on the candidate with a bit purse. A voter who will extort money from a candidate in the stress of an election will always touch the other candidate during the dark hours of the campaign.

A successful candidate there may be where the old artifices are practised, but his success will be temporary, for one cannot besmirch a constituency without eventually losing it.

What the party wants, Grit or Tory, is a man who will continue, to do them good, and not just be an ephemeral winner.

Both business and in politics there is the truism that the campaign season of the yesterday will not fit in today, and that the successful words of today may not be repeated in the tomorrow.

The creative minds must ever produce a new picture for the new conditions.

CARLYLE'S LIBRARY SOLD BY AUCTION

A selection of books from Thomas Carlyle's library has been sold by auction and many of them will go to the United States. The highest price was given for the very rare "off print" of "Sartor" from Fraser's Magazine, number 1275. This is the copy Carlyle presented to his wife with a characteristic inscription, "This little book, a little milestone in a desolate, confused, yet not (as we hope) unblest pilgrimage we make in common, is with heart's gratitude inscribed by her affectionate T. C."

A set of the "French Revolution" and other of his books, each with an inscription to his wife, was sold for £80, the whole day's sale making £175.

Some of the most interesting books were presentation copies to Carlyle. Thus Emerson's "Society and Solitude" is inscribed, "To the General-in-Chief from His Lieutenant," and this will go to the United States. George Eliot sent a copy of "Adam Bede" to Mrs. Carlyle, and this was sold for £70. Coleridge's "Lectures" went to the Carlyles, 31 volumes of his works, dated 1827, brought £58. Thomson, Browning, Ruskin and Meredith presented authors who sent their books to Cheyne Row. The Burns that Carlyle read in his last illness went for £10, and even a Braunschweig he once used had a good sale value.

SECRET OF LONG LIFE

Sometimes we see a woman whose old age is as exquisite as was the perfect bloom of her youth. You wonder how it is that her life has been long and happy one. Here are some of the reasons.

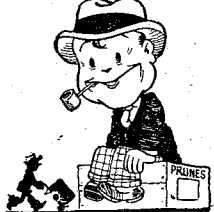

She knew how to forget disagreeable things. She understood the art of enjoyment. She kept her nerves well in hand and influenced them to no one. She believes in the goodness of her own daughter and that of her neighbors.

She cultivated a good digestion. She mastered the art of saying pleasant words. She did not expect too much of her friends.

She made whatever work came to her congenial. She relieved the miserable and sympathized with the sorrowful. She made the best of everything. She did to others as she would be done by, and now that old age has come to her and there is a halo of white hair about her head, she is loved and considered.

MacGregor had just arrived in America after a weary journey across the Atlantic. As he walked off the ship he saw a man in a diving suit climbing up from the harbor to the deck of a near-by boat. "Mont! Mont!" he exclaimed. "I wish I'd known about that sooner; I'd have walked across myself."

THANKSGIVING

H. Reginald Hardy
I would give thanks to the Lord again
For the last red leaves have flown;
I would stand alone at the close of the day
When the meadows sleep and the hills grow grey
And count the gifts that have come my way.
And kneel at the Master's throne!

I would give thanks to the Lord again
For the beauty of simple things.
For the song of the wind, and the rush of the rain,
For the sun-drenched fields and the garnered grain,
For stars through the trees down the homeward lane,
And the joy of a heart that sings!

I would give thanks to the Lord again
For the gifts that I hold most dear!
A little house with the doors flung wide,
A welcoming voice at eventide,
And the patter of tiny feet beside,
To show that Heaven is near!

His wife determined to cure him of his bad ways, and with the aid of a shawl and an electric torch transformed herself into a very imitation of a ghost. Then she went out to the drunkard and shook him. "Whash that!" murmured the toper "Stupid!" came the reply, a sepulchral tone. "Shake hands, old horse! I married your sister."

SENTENCE SERMONS

By the Rev. Roy L. Smith

Most people would succeed
—In being reasonable if they did not try to be consistent.

—In being lovely if they were more indifferent to praise.

—In being rich if they did not grow wretched in the struggle for wealth.

—In being gray if they did not make such hard work out of it.

—In being interesting if they were willing to be natural.

—In being good if they were willing to keep their minds off themselves.

—In being religious if they were willing to trust their best impulses.

ASPERSION

A busy doctor finds time to look up the meanings of unusual words in the dictionary, and takes pleasure in discovering the history that lies back of them. In his practice his attention was turned to the word "asperse" and he went to the dictionary for help. His search was rewarded. The word originally meant "to scatter" or "to sprinkle." Then it was transferred to the moral realm, and was applied to that situation in which one person bestows the reputation of another with foul reports. "Throwing mud on people's clothes" is unparaphrased; spotting their good name with inconsiderate gossip is infinitely worse.

NOT SUPERSTITIOUS

In the old days it was considered lucky to exclaim "God bless you!" when a person sneezed. Today, such an idea is considered a trifle of nonsense.

Speaking of old customs and superstitions, not long ago a number of girls were discussing the latter when the declaration that she wouldn't walk under a ladder for worlds.

"How absurd!" cried another girl. "Why, I walk under every ladder I see. I just cross my heart and cross my fingers, and I make sure I have a piece of wood to touch, and when I have passed under the ladder I turn in my track three times. You see, it's perfectly safe if you do it. I really can't stand those silly superstitions."

"We were still wearing bustles!"...

said this charming lady, "when I first used Surprise Soap."

"I can remember that quite distinctly because we had just moved from the country into town, and that Spring mother bought me a wonderful new dress complete with a stunning little bonnet and muffs to match."

"In the country, in my young days, we had always made our own soap, but once we moved into the city my mother tried Surprise and after that she never boiled soap any more."

"She found Surprise much more effective and just as economical, and throughout the intervening years she continued to use it."

"From time to time she tried other soaps, of course, but always came back to Surprise. She found it gave clothes a better colour and lasted longer than other soaps."

"I use it in my own home to this day, and I find it excellent not only for washing but for cleaning paint work too. And Surprise is wonderful in the dish pan and for a hundred odd jobs around the home."

SURPRISE SOAP

"Quality Best" was the policy adopted when the first box of Surprise Soap was made in St. John, N.B. Sixty-six years ago, and it has never been altered and the quality is still the same, helping people to keep their clothes clean and fresh.

REMINISCENCES AND A LITTLE OF THIS AND THAT

We read that the Germans are planning an air-ship that will cross the ocean from Berlin to New York in six hours, flying in that novel discovered "stratosphere" just eleven miles above sea level. Not a very great distance up as distances go, but too far for the ordinary mortal to reach.

If airships are ever built that will make the trip in safety, Berlin to New York in six hours—which will be at the rate of nearly seven hundred miles per hour—then, the prophesy of that very genial gentleman, scholar and philosopher who lived and died in Weymouth will have come true so far as speed is concerned.

I refer to our old friend, Capt. A. Moberly Hood, who loved to speculate upon the future possibilities of swift and comfortable transportation.

One of his pet prophecies was that some day a passenger machine would be invented, which would be propelled by compressed air or other power and moved around the world at terrific speed. His favorite schedule for a one-day trip was breakfast, New York, lunch, London, dinner, Bombay.

That of course was several years before the gasoline engine came into use. Henry Ford was then probably tinkering with bicycles and the Wright Brothers playing with kites and toy balloons. I wonder what Uncle Moberly would think if he could come back to earth now, and ride in some of our late model automobiles and air ships. Would he ride? and would he fly? It is a safe bet that he would do both and then be ready to try the trip at least once, via stratosphere.

Do you remember what an immaculate dresser the old gentleman was? Perfect fitting clothes, spotless linen, correct headgear, and shoes polished to a glossiness upon which a fly would truly slip and break his neck if he had the nerve to attempt a landing there.

I can see him now, making his way across the bridge, carrying his cane on his shoulder, tipping his hat to all of the young ladies and sometimes growling to himself, "impertinent young rascal" concerning some fresh youngster who was not as polite as he thought he should be. Truly a gentleman and a scholar and a judge of things good and near good.

Have the wild geese started flying south?

ing south? Are the autumn leaves coloring up with their bright reds, soft browns and greens, and gorgeous yellows? Are the mornings cool, the days warm and the evenings nippy? Have you bought your winter's coal and have you hacked up a lot of dry birch and birch store wood in the old very shed? What about the sequel of the first old porker led to the slaughter—is it time for that? Have you been to the Yarmouth Exhibition? If the answer to all of the above questions is "yes," then it must be autumn time in Weymouth.

"Behold, ye gentlemen autumn comes The Sabbath of the year."

M. G. T. has mentioned Mr. Thomas Midson as one of the first school teachers in Weymouth. I suppose there are many who remember his wonderful penmanship and his beautiful Old English lettering and fancy scroll work—all done with a quill pen. His work was truly artistic and those who were fortunate enough to have Mr. Midson decorate the fly leaf of a new book with some of his penwork prized it very highly.

It never occurred to Mr. Midson to make a charge for his work but if you desire such work done today you will see a specialist who will charge as all specialists do—plenty.

M. G. T. also mentions a game which was no game at all, or at most a silly game, if game it was, certainly one unknown to the rest of the world, but for all that it was a very lively game that required quickness of brain, and furnished good exercise for legs, arms and lungs.

It required two "catchers" or "tacklers" and two "keepers." The catchers tackled the mob that rushed around the building and captured as many as possible, then the prisoners in an outside corner of the church where they were guarded by the keepers who were armed with long birch switches which they used vigorously on the backs and legs of escaping prisoners or those attempting to escape. The game was that of hat to the catchers and, if caught, to make an escape. The keepers without getting switched. Prisoners were kept penned up until the last runner, or escaped prisoner, was caught, and then the game turned loose and the game started all over again with new catchers and keepers. The boy who could escape a number of prisoners to me a break for liberty, was hailed as something of a leader; likewise the catchers who could round up and capture the mob in the shortest time, and the keepers who could hold the game without an escape being made, were looked upon as possessing ability that might later qualify them for a constable's job or possibly for the sheriff's office.

Such was the "Game Around the Church."

San Francisco is about to build a toll bridge across the bay to Oakland. Work will begin sometime in January. The bridge will be a double-deck affair which will permit handling of rail traffic as well as automobiles and trucks. It will be four and a half miles in length and will cost about $70,000,000. It is expected that it will be completed, by January, 1937, and at that time a score of ferry boats will go out of business and their crews will be looking for other jobs.

Many people will not like to see these old boats go to the graveyard of forgotten ships—it will be too much like saying a last farewell to an old friend.

Progress, however, seems to be the law of life.

Bulb farmers are advising the home gardener to begin planting his spring bulbs—tulips, daffodils, hyacinths and others—at this time, to secure perfection of such flowers in blossom time. No investment in home decoration makes such bountiful returns as money spent for flower seeds and bulbs. These are folks who believe that no flowers grown can rival in spontaneity the bulbs that spring from the front and back yard gardeners who have not been bribed his garden with tulips has not done his duty to society. Bulb farming in California has become an extensive business in the last few years.

IN MEMORIAM—In sad but loving memory of our dear mother, Rachel Greenlaw, Thiverton, who passed away November 4, 1931.

Today brings back sad memories. Of a dear one gone to rest. And those who think of her today Are the ones that loved her best.

Just a token of remembrance, Just a memory fond and true, Just a token of affection, And a heartache still for you.

Remembered by her family.

Local & Personal

Mrs. Emma Madden, of Liverpool, who has been visiting her pool, Miss Effie Adams, returned on Monday.

Mrs. H. B. Short has left for Ottawa to join her husband who is attending the special session of the Federal Parliament. Captain B. N. McManis's rebuilt residence at Gilbert's Cove is certainly a credit to the Captain, and to the village. In our opinion it is one of the finest residences along the Bay. The new home of Augustus Comeau at Ashmore is also a splendid type of building.

At Monday night's meeting of the Town Council a rebate of $10. to George Keen was granted. Mr. Keen paid this sum to the town treasury early in the year for the privilege of mowing a portion of the George Winfield building. On account of heavy expenses involved he decided not to move the building, and asked that his money be refunded.

Town employees have dug up a section of the new sewer opposite Bent's Restaurant to repair a drain coming from the residence of George Trohon. This drain was damaged when the new sewer crossing it was laid last Spring, and instructions to have the same repaired were given at Monday night's meeting of the town council. Carl Blynn, of Middleton, and who was formerly on the D. A. R. staff here, has been given charge of the station at North Range. We understand that telegraph instruments have been removed and the station made into a flag station. "Pat" Theriault, who has been station agent and operator there for a number of years, has been transferred to Auburn.

A minor hunting accident occurred at Bay View, Digby Co. Monday afternoon, when Lawrence Anderson, of the Light-house Road, Digby, was shot in the leg and foot with a shot gun in the hands of Joseph Condon of Bay View, seven of the shot entering his body. Both Condon and Anderson were bird shooting in the district. Although painful, Anderson's wounds are not serious. He is being treated by Dr. John MacCleave, of Digby.

Our Joggin Bridge correspondent advises us that an item which appeared under the Joggin Bridge heading in last week's paper is a party at the home of Mrs. Margaret Foster was incorrect. We wish to state that this item was not sent in by our regular correspondent for that village, but was given us and properly signed by another well known to us. We accepted it in good faith.

With this issue the Courier welcomes two new tradesmen to the town—Roy Mallett, of Plympton who has purchased the meat and provision business for many years conducted by A. J. Westhaver, who has retired. A. C. Walker, of Halifax, has opened a bakery in the Holdsworth building next door to the Royal Bank of Canada. Mr. Walker is known in Digby, having conducted a bakery in the south end of the town a few years ago. We wish both Mr. Mallett and Mr. Walker every success, and trust Mr. Westhaver will enjoy many years of well earned rest.

The Digby Kiwanians' with their Queens, met on board the "Princess Helene" Monday for their Halloween luncheon. In the absence of the president, M. C. Denton, who was suddenly called away on business shortly before the luncheon hour, the vice-president, P. W. Holdsworth, presided over the table. The dining saloon of the table was tastefully decorated for this occasion by Mr. and Mrs. O. Wright. There being no special speaker the programme consisted of music and fun, with Arch Dillon in charge of the entertainment. Mr. Holdsworth called on Alfred Boden to give an address to the ladies.

I refuse the rule of woman, but I accept her influence. —Jules Simon.

SEWER QUESTION IS STILL TOPIC OF COUNCIL DEBATES

The regular monthly meeting of the Digby Town Council was held in the council chambers of the town hall on Monday evening, with the mayor and all the members of the council present.

After the reading of the minutes by the town clerk, Alfred Boden, the report of W. W. Hayden, Superintendent of Streets and Water, was read. Mr. Hayden reported that considerable work had been done on the streets during the past month, ditches had been cleaned out in readiness for the winter and spring rains, and sidewalks in many sections of the town put in shape. The sewer which runs along the northern section of First Avenue had been causing considerable trouble on account of the pipes not being laid deep enough, and consequently breaking under the strain of the heavy trucking along that street. The part of this sewer which had been causing trouble was dug up and replaced with new pipes which were sunk much deeper in the ground. While this work was being done A. D. Daley was connected up with this town sewer.

The work done on this old sewer line was the subject of a lengthy debate in which several members of the council took part, and the question of public or private ownership arose. It was originally built as a drain to carry off the land water which comes from a spring in the rear of the United Church. Harry Gavel paid the town a sum of $50 to enter a drain from his garage, and later it was extended as a sewer. Other properties along the street paid into the town treasury similar entrance fees. The town had always kept it in repair.

The above discussion was brought about in an effort to set a fee to be charged to Mr. Daley for his entrance to the sewer, for since this sewer was put down, new legislation re town sewers had been passed. After a long debate the matter was left for the sewer commission to decide.

Leonard Raymond then addressed the council and asked that he be given permission to use an unused road running through the town for hay and garden purposes. This road was overgrown with alders and would cost some $50 to clear up. He would bear this expense and use the road until such time as the town saw fit to open it to the public. The matter was referred to the Streets Committee.

Among the accounts to come before the council was one from the Provincial Highways Board for $712.32 for work on the main trunk road running through the town of Digby, up to June 31st. Of this account one half is to be paid by the Provincial Highways Board, and the other half by the town. The town has also an account of some $88.00 for work they have done to date on the same road which will be submitted to the Highways Board on the same basis.

Rev. M. C. and Mrs. Higgins "At Home" to Friends

A delightful informal "at home" was held last Friday afternoon, from three to six, at the Baptist Manse, Brighton, which has been recently acquired by the Saint Mary's Bay United Baptist Church. In spite of the unfavourable weather, many ladies from both Barton and Brighton and one lone man, Dr. Harris, ventured out to greet Rev. M. C. and Mrs. Higgins. Autumn flowers decorated the rooms, which appeared very homey, and the good cheer of the host and hostess soon dispelled any dampness of spirit that may have been acquired by visitors on the way.

Assisting were Mrs. John O'Neill, Mrs. Adolphus Speight, and the Misses Hattie and Dorothy Perry; while the Misses Beatrice Cosman, Margaret Specht, Irma Adams and Marjorie Prime, members of the Bible Class of Miss Hattie Perry

Rev. Mr. Higgins was officially inducted into the pastorate of the Saint Mary's Bay Baptist Church, September 18th, and already both pastor and people have shown that they have undertaken the charges committed unto them, although in a formal way, on account of the absence of their Key Man, Rev. Frank Bishop, from the County at the time. A new furnace has been installed in the manse and a garage is nearing completion. The land on which the garage stands was a contribution from F. W. Kinney, and materials and labor for the construction of the building have been donated by interested persons of Plympton, North Range and South Range, as well as by those of Barton and Brighton.

Mr. and Mrs. Higgins hope to meet the members of the congregations in the other districts in a friendly way in the near future.

Unable To Kneel

Neuritis Hampered Her

In writing of the pain and inconvenience she suffered from neuritis, this woman tells also how she rid herself of it:—

"I have been using Kruschen Salt for neuritis and it certainly has the most wonderful effect. My knees were very painful, and it became almost impossible to kneel. As I do all my own housework, you will appreciate what it means to me. Two months ago I began using Kruschen, and I certainly would not be without a bottle in the house for anything. I consider Kruschen is worth its weight in 22-carat gold."

G. M. W.
Neuritis, like rheumatism, lumbago, and sciatica, is caused by deposits of needle-pointed, flint-hard, uric acid crystals, which pierce the nerves and cause those stabbing pains. Kruschen breaks up these deposits of torturing crystals and converts them into a harmless solution, which is promptly removed through the natural channels of the kidneys. And because Kruschen keeps the inside so regular—so free from fermenting waste matter—no such body poisons as uric acid ever get the chance to accumulate again.

OUR GRATITUDE HAS NOT WAVERED!

TIME moves steadily onward. Hardly seems like 14 years since the greatest conflict of all history was brought to a victorious conclusion by the Allied Armies. Yes, and in those 14 years, many of us have had . . . and some still have . . . dark days when it seems the battle of Life was turning against us. But --

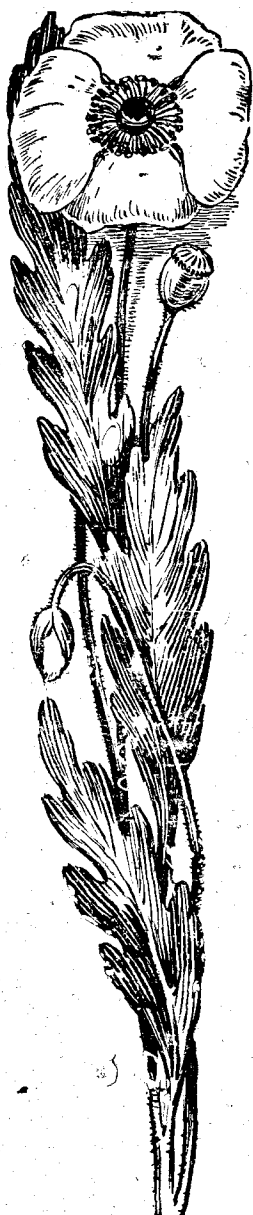

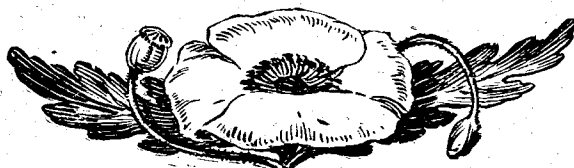

Our personal trials and tribulations are as nothing compared to sacrifices so valiantly made by the heroes of '14 and '18 in defence of the Peace and Security of the world. Many of those brave lads gave their lives. Many still patiently bear the wounds of war, both in our hospitals and in private life. For many of the latter, the war will never be over.

So to them . . . yes, to all veterans . . . and in memory of the honored dead, our salute. And a silent prayer of thanks as we FACE THE EAST at 11 a. m. REMEMBRANCE DAY!

REMEMBRANCE DAY

"Cease fire," the other said, and we, who were the victors Came down the long road which led us back home again.
But we left behind in a foreign land, friendly familiar faces,
Sleeping their last long sleep beneath Flanders plain.

Oh! were the times we had shared in their lonely vigils
At the listening post, in support or in the old front line.
And we recall how some in their youthful manhood, Met Death, and dropped in their tracks without even a sign.

But we, who were with them, carried on in their places, Filling the broken ranks, keeping the flag high.
Hoping for Peace not too distant, with our faces still outward Casting our lots with them, willing to do or die.

Some think we should forget, time heals all scars they are saying,
But we who do not forget know better than they.

"And so sleep on old comrades, we have kept vigil,
Down, through the years, we remember,
This is Your Day."

—Carl P. Weymore

Eighteen long years have come and gone since from the ends of the earth were gathered together the men of all classes and races, those from the palaces of the great, and the cottages of the humble to face the tragedy and carnage which at that time was let loose upon the earth. To-day, fourteen years will have rolled away since the "Cease Fire" sounded, which terminated the long drawn out agony of those memorable years of 1914-18. What rejoicing there was, when it was known that the war had ended, when the rifles could be stacked, and when silence like a great hush fell upon the battlefields.

The "War to End War," has come and gone, our boys have fought and fallen, gallant millions failed to return from the fields of France and Flanders, the Dardanelles, Mesopotamia, Viny Ridge, Mount Kemmel, Passchendaele, the Somme, Cambrai—what grim reminders of the uselessness of war and its wastage of valuable human life are these.

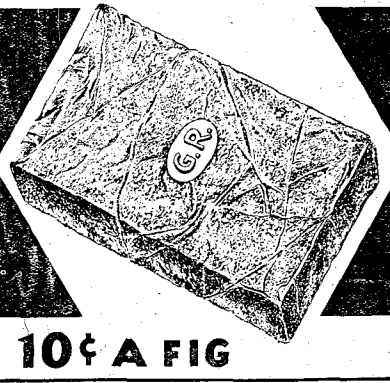

It is now fourteen years after, the four years of destruction are still being paid for, in the lives of the permanently maimed and broken soldiers; in the empty family circles, in the world today with its civil disorders and economic distress. Yet the nations still pile up their armaments, the peace treaty holds never-ending seeds of disquietude and trouble in it.

Today, "Remembrance Day," wreathes made by War Veterans will be placed on every cenotaph and war memorial throughout the Province, by arrangement of the Nova Scotia Government. It is a thoughtful act, a gracious and reverent gesture, in commemoration of those who gave their all at the call of patriotic duty. But if Remembrance Day observance is limited to that gesture, or to speeches and exercises in commemoration of the Great War, it will be an empty form.

As we, with a large section of the World pause, on this day, and with bowed head pay silent tribute to those who by their sacrifice claim our remembrance, let it not be a day of exultation over victory, nor rejoicing for peace that came out of turmoil. But rather let it be a day of grave remembrance of those who gave their best—even life itself—for duty and honor; the host of the War dead who laid down their lives for great ideals. Let us remember that conflict is most easily avoided by difficulties overcome by bravery, by tolerance and sympathetic understanding.

Let us each resolve to promote to the best of our ability, the spirit of universal understanding and brotherhood that will make war unnecessary in the relationship of nations. Let it be a day of dedication to the cause of peace both between nations and individuals. They whose memory we honor paid the price of unrestrained ambitions, world suspicion, mistrust and envy, let us hope and pray that the payment was a final one, that the tolls which led to the world catastrophe of 1914-18 will never be repeated.

—N. K. F.

THE VISION

(P. W. Nauwigauk)

Hark! Do you hear the tramp of feet
Echoing softly along the way?
A soldier host keep a rendezvous
With us today.

Do you feel their nearness now
And see the shadows on the grass?
Only on one day of the year
We hear them pass.

No blare of trumpet or clarion note
Greets the ear—but a clear voice calls—
That you might ever live in peace
We gave our all!

The vision fades as the light grows dim,
But memories of that gift divine Shall live in the hearts of men—always
In yours and mine!

Mother Volga

When Russia became one of the great empires of Europe, the Volga, known as "The Golden Thread," will cause her numbers to take a trip on "Mother Volga," as the Russians lovingly call it. It is a highway for hundreds of ships and rafts, and huge quantities of timber float down it every year, beside huge cargoes of grain, salt and oil. Along its banks are centers for the production of entire sections of great industry there. In scenery it is poor and is more like a trip on the Nile, but the people who live on its banks and in its river houses are full of interest. This is specially true of the lower river where it enters the Kalmyk republic, where folk look in Eskimos.

Old Washington Cemetery

John Clagett, Proprietor in "Washington, Past and Present," says: "Land was donated for Rock Creek Church in 1720, and there was sufficient ground around the church for the cemetery, which has received the dead for over 200 years. Richard Queen also provided land for a Roman Catholic chapel near Langdon, and burials were no doubt made there in the time. These two places are, therefore, the earliest places of interment in the District of Columbia, and the custom of providing sites for graves was thus started, and continued around the early churches of the Federal city."

"Jazz" and "Ragtime"

Ragtime seems to have originated in New Orleans. This was about the year 1885. Ragtime had the spirit of jazz, but it was quite a different thing from the pianist's standpoint. "Alexander's Ragtime Band" wasn't a jazz song when it was written in 1911. It was ragtime, as the name implied. Distinguishing between ragtime and jazz, Paul Whiteman, in his book "Jazz," says: "To rag a melody, one throws the rhythm out of joint making syncopation; jazz goes further, marking the broken rhythm unmistakably."

Insists Lower Animals

Know Little About Pain

According to an article by Dr. Harold Jackson of the zoological department of London University, a lobster is not hurt by throwing it into boiling water, any more than a telephone instrument is pained by being banged on the floor. He claims that pain is an entirely relative term and except for ourselves, our near relatives and possibly the most artificial domestic animals, it does not exist in the world. "Pain in most lower animals acts as a sort of burglar alarm, which has no feeling of itself but gives notice that something definite is wrong and can probably be set right by certain standardized actions. If animals really had the sensitive feelings that are sometimes attributed to them, what a horrible agony life in natural conditions would be for them. What nonsense it is to talk about the agony of a lobster being plunged alive into boiling water." While canned lobsters are largely used today, there is still a demand for the fresh lobsters, which are shipped alive and are conveniently killed by putting in boiling water, a process which changes the green shells to an attractive red.

Pins Once Well Worth

Stooping to Pick Up

A man who has been making a study of the common pin says that the daily use of many pins today show of passing a pin without stooping to pick it up is due to ancient custom. What was once a justifiable economy is now a mere superstition. Recently this observer came across an old-fashioned brass pin made of two pieces of wire, the head twisted firmly around the top of the pin proper. It was holding together the pages of a diary dated 1787.

Up to the time of the Revolutionary war pins of this kind were made in England. To encourage the manufacture in this country the Provincial Congress in the fall of 1775 offered £50 for the first twenty dozen pins of domestic make equal to those imported. The conclusion is that when pins were so scarce the habit of picking them up was formed. Cheap and plentiful as they are today, one finds young and old stooping to recover them.

The Cannibal Crocodile

An effort is about to be made in northern Australia to raise crocodiles in captivity, although the usual plans of such occupation cannot be followed and entirely new and novel methods of procedure must be devised. The demand for "crocodile" skins is now taken care of by the hunters who are ruthless in their methods, and the prospects are that they will be wiped out. The reptiles cannot be kept in captivity and some new ideas are to be put into use. The hunters will locate a nest and then build a wire fence around it with a door at the entrance. When the hatching takes place, little reptiles are caught and placed in a pen. They are graded according to age in order to prevent them from eating each other. The older "ones" frequently devour the younger ones and the babies must be protected from their seniors.

Crowded China

The area of the whole territory of the republic of China is 4,277,000 square miles, with a population of 400,800,000, giving the population per square mile about 95. However, this has no indication of the great density of population in some parts of China proper. For instance, the province of Kiangsu, with 33,700 square miles in an area of 30,600 square miles, has a density of 874 persons to a square mile and is the most densely populated political unit in the world. Japan with an area of 148,756 square miles and a population of approximately 62,640,000 has a density of population of 423 persons per square mile.

Father of "Canning"

To an Italian priest, Father Spallanzani, goes credit for first announcing the principle of preserving foods by using heat. Dr. Henry M. Loomis, research director of the National Canners' association, said not long ago. A Frenchman, Nicholas Appert, first employed the heat process in 1795. The true father of the canning industry, however, was the French physicist, Louis Pasteur, according to Doctor Loomis. Pasteur's pioneer work in bacteriology laid the foundation for all modern canning formulas.

Here and There

Buildings which will house the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference at Regina next July and August are rapidly approaching completion and preparations are already being made for the extensive exhibits.

Canada's apple-growing belt is moving northward. Standard apples have been grown this year at the Dominion Experimental Farm at Beaverlodge, Alberta, which is 425 miles north of the international boundary between Canada and the United States.

Canada has entered the British West Africa market for tobacco with a trial shipment of 25 casks of Canadian-grown tobacco, recently. About 77 per cent. of British West Africa tobacco has been secured from the United States, but Canada hopes to get the market under the new Inter-empire preference.

National Fish Week between October 24-31 has been supported by the Canadian Pacific Railway since 1915 and this year was no exception. The company marked the celebration with special menu cards listing fish products of the sections of Canada through which the railway runs between Saint John, N.B., and Vancouver, British Columbia.

Canada lost one of its best-known and popular railroad officials recently when A. Alden, assistant superintendent of the Bruce Division, Canadian Pacific Railway, dropped dead in Toronto on his way to his office. Mr. Alden was 60 years of age and had spent 34 years in the company's service.

The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain was the scene of a wedding reception and breakfast at Quebec recently, following the marriage of Miss. Marthe St. Laurent, daughter of the president of the Canadian Bar Association, to Dr. Mathieu Samson. Five hundred guests filled past the wedding group assembled in the Mayfair Lounge of the Empress.

Not forgetting his work as director-general of the National Flood Relief Commission in 1931, China has asked Sir John Hope Simpson, famous British geographer, to join its newly created National Economic Council. Sir John sailed recently aboard the Empress of Canada for Shanghai to wind up the flood relief commission affairs.

The United States Middle West and the Province of Quebec share honors as winners of the Canadian Pacific Bungalow Camps Fishing Trophies which have been awarded at French River, Nipigon River and Devils Gap. G. A. Hoffman, of Cleveland, had 274 lb. muskellunge; C. O. Kalmann, of St. Paul, Minn., had a 6 lb. square topped speckled trout; and L. Stenander, of Charlottetown, Que., had a bass weighing 4 lbs. 14 ounces.

Leaving a money belt containing round-the-world steamship and rail tickets and a cool thousand dollars or so in cash at his Vancouver hotel, Charles Clarke, Los Angeles, only discovered his loss after his ship, the Empress of Canada, had sailed from Vancouver. Wireless messages to the Canadian Pacific steamship general passenger agent resulted in recovery of the belt and its forwarding by airplane in time to reach the vessel before she left Victoria.

Children's Colds

Mothers testify that BABY'S OWN TABLETS are invaluable for children's head colds and feverish colds.

"At the first sign of a cold," writes Mrs. Isaac Kellar, 4 Shaftesbury Place, Toronto, "or if the children have been out in damp weather, I give Baby's Own Tablets, and they are all right again the next day."
Mrs. Albert E. Knowles, R. R. 3, Granton, Ont., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets relieve colds so easily—I wouldn't be without them if they cost twice as much."
Mrs. James O'Connor, Godfrey, Ont., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets are wonderful for children's colds and fever."
DR. WILLIAMS'

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Make and Keep Children Well—As Mothers Know

"Why, that must have been close on 40 years ago!"

said this charming lady. "My children were still babies, I know. Wash day meant a six o'clock rising and a sort of endurance contest between you and the soiled clothes. If the dirt was defeated, you were bedraggled. If the dirt won, both you and the clothes were bedraggled."

"Surprise changed all that. It gave us easily and spared a great deal of rubbing. Then, besides, the clothes came out so clean that they were fragrant. They still do, of course, but the outstanding quality like about Surprise is its safety. In spite of its effectiveness, Surprise has never injured any garment, no matter how frequently it was washed."

"Quality first" was the policy adopted when the first lot of Surprise Soap was made in St. Stephen, N.B., forty years ago. This policy has never been altered and the quality has improved with advancing knowledge, keeping pace with modern requirements.

THAT DEPRESSED FEELING IS LARGELY LIVER

Wake up your Liver Bile

—Without Calomel

You're "feeling back" simply because your liver isn't pouring its daily two pints of liquid bile into your bowels. Digestion and elimination are both impaired, and your entire system is being poisoned.

What you need is a liver stimulant. Something that goes further than salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum or roughage which only move the bowels—restoring the real engine of health, your liver.

Take Carter's Little Liver Pills. Purely vegetable. No harsh medicine (mercury). Safe, sure, ask for them by name. Before bedtime. 25c at all druggists.

Obituary

Arthur Robertson Smith

The death is announced at Arlington, Mass., of Arthur Robertson Smith, son of the late William Smith of Robertson, Foster & Smith, of Saint John, who with his family used to be regular visitors to Bear River in the summer. One sister, Hazel, married Frank C. Harris, of Bear River, now resident in Montreal, and one brother, Fred, of Saint John.

Isaac Freeman Dukeshire

There passed away early Saturday evening at his home in Clementsport, Isaac Freeman Dukeshire, at the age of 65 years. He was the son of Israel and (Rebecca Turpin) Dukeshire. Mr. Dukeshire had been in failing health the past year and a half. Always a man of sterling character, his death will be mourned by his many relatives and friends.

The deceased was a life-long member of the Clementsvalle Baptist Church, where he was very faithful in all church work and will be very much missed. The funeral service was largely attended and took place at the Baptist Church Monday afternoon at 2:30. The service was conducted by Rev. L. J. Tingley, his text being Heb. 11:16—"But now they desire a better country, that is, an Heavenly; wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a city."

The music which was beautifully rendered by the choir, consisted of favorite hymns of the deceased, "Rock of Ages," "Over There," "Does Jesus Care?," also a solo, "Crossing the Bar," by William Sanford. Surviving are a sorrowing widow, formerly Hannah I. Earley, of Northwood, N. S.; sons, Israel, Ira, Odbur, Lloyd and Roscoe, of Clementsport; Chipman, of Yarmouth; two daughters, Amanda (Mrs. F. Finley), of Morden, N. S.; and Lillian (Mrs. Wm. Ring) of Clementsport; also fifteen grandchildren. One daughter and son predeceased him some years ago. Also one sister, Mrs. Charles Ruggles, of Clementsvalle. He was carried to his last resting place by his four sons, Israel, Ira, Odbur and Roscoe.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY HOLDS MEETING

The Women's Missionary Society of the Baptist Church held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. R. A. Harris on Thursday afternoon, November 3rd. A report was read by the treasurer showing monies raised for last year amounted to $230.00, making an average of $2.77 per member. A duet was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Ralph Purdy and Mrs. Fred Rice, also two very nice piano solos given by Mrs. John Roop. Mrs. Joseph Langley gave the lesson from the study book, "Among the Nations," which was very interesting. It was decided to have the new study book, "Glimpses and Gleams" written by Miss Mabel Archibald, for the coming year. Singing "Blest Be the Tie that Binds" brought to a close, a very pleasant meeting.

PHILATHEA CLASS SOCIAL

The Philathea Class of the United Baptist Church met on October 13, at the home of Mrs. Avar Marshall, with the President, Mrs. Roy Snell in the chair. The meeting was opened with the class songs, creed, and prayer, followed by a short business session. The subject of the evening being "Temperance," the Roll Call was responded to by Temperance quotations, after which several songs, readings and musical selections were rendered. The Rev. Mr. Blanchard, of the United Church of Canada, was the speaker of the evening and gave a very inspiring address on the Scientific Side of Temperance, which was enjoyed by all. Dainty refreshments were served by the social committee with Mrs. Boyd Rice convener. The meeting closed with singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

MARITIME PEOPLE ARE TEA CONNOISSEURS

No people in the world have developed a more discriminating taste with respect to tea than the people of the Maritime Provinces and they have been helped in this by the high standard of tea quality which has been provided for them for more than sixty years in MORSE'S TEAS. Maritime tea users like a thick-lipped, one that has body in the cup and has that beautiful amber color as it comes from the teapot. The fact that MORSE'S TEAS are still increasing in public favor after more than sixty years is in itself evidence of their satisfactory quality.

Dr. D. W. Hoare, of The Penn. State Mutual Insurance Co., of Philadelphia, was a guest of Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Campbell last week, and was warmly welcomed by those who met him on previous visits.

Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Lovett returned from their Hunting Lodge at White Sands Lake, on Friday and on Saturday motored to Lockeport to visit their daughter, Mrs. F. W. Sutherland and family for a short time.

Mrs. Crocupp, Miss Ethel Morgan and Ralph Morgan, of New Hampshire, motored to Margerville recently and have been the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Morgan. They left last Thursday on the return trip.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. MacLeod came down from Wolfville on Saturday, Mr. MacLeod taking both services in the Baptist Church on Sunday. On their return to Wolfville they were accompanied by Mrs. Clarence Henshaw and Rev. W. Turner.

DEEP BROOK

The annual meeting of the Dorcas' Society in connection with the Deep Brook Baptist Church, was held on Wednesday, October 26, at the home of Mrs. L. E. Sherman. The devotional exercises included hymn, "To the Work," followed by Scripture reading and prayer. The president welcomed the special guests of the afternoon, Mrs. Alice Bell, who was the guest of honor, it being the anniversary of her birthday; our two teachers, Miss Ruth Freeman, B. A., and Miss Foster, Mass.; Mrs. S. B. Henshaw, of Charleston, W. V., and Miss Ethel Purdy. The secretary in her well prepared report, reviewed the meetings held and work done by the society, also sincere appreciation of the valued services rendered by the late Miss E. A. McClelland, who had served as secretary for nearly fifteen years and who had been called home since our last annual meeting. The death of Mrs. M. Page was noted. The treasurer reported $120 paid to the church treasurer during the year, for parsonage repairs and other expenses. The nominating committee, Mrs. Norman Sulis, convener, submitted their report, and the following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. L. E. Sherman.
Vice-President—Mrs. H. S. Vroom.
Secretary—Mrs. J. F. McClelland.
Treasurer—Mrs. Howard Adams.
At the close of the business session a social hour was spent and dainty refreshments served, including a beautifully decorated birthday cake. Those assisting were, Mrs. John Adams, Mrs. Norman Sulis, Mrs. Howard Adams, Mrs. Myrtle Jackson and Mrs. Annie Copeland, also four young ladies, the Misses Bernice Purdy, Helen Nichols, Winnifred Moore and Marguerite Cossett.

"Accidental Death" Verdict Of Coroner's Jury

Tragedy again visited this vicinity last Friday morning when Charles Holmes, Marshalltown farmer, lost his life when an ox-cart which he was driving was struck by a motor truck driven by Philip Comeau of Concession. Denis Comeau, also of Concession, was driving with his brother in the truck at the time.

The accident occurred shortly before six o'clock last Friday morning near the residence of Charles Seely, Brighton. Both the ox-cart and the motor truck were proceeding away from Digby.

An inquest was held in Kent's Mortuary Chapel at nine o'clock that morning, with Coroner S. A. Ken President. Witnesses examined were Dr. W. C. Harris, of Bario; Elliott Doucette, of Brighton; Denis Comeau and Philip Comeau, and Constable Roy Snow of the R.C.M.P., Digby detachment. All evidence seemed to point to that Holmes was driving on the wrong side of the road, and that his team carried no light of any kind. Constable Snow said that in so far as he was able to see, the driver of the truck did everything possible to prevent an accident.

The coroner's jury, with Bryan Rooney as foreman, brought in a verdict of "accidental death."

INSTITUTE MEETING

The Women's Institute met at Monday afternoon in the Masonic Reading Room. After the regular business was over, Mrs. Simons gave a vocal solo, "When the Roses Bloom." The Institute entertained the teachers of Oakdene School. Lunch was served by the entertainment committee, Mrs. Romans, Mrs. McKenna and Mrs. Simons. Several new members joined.

It is not easy—
—To keep a man down who knows he is right.
—To silence a man who believes he has an idea.
—To stone a prophet without being buried under the rocks yourself.
—To hate a man without being hateful.
—To get rich without getting in debt to someone.
—To cleanse the memory of pictures carelessness has painted.
—To get to Heaven with nothing but alibis.

He had been reading knightly romances and grew dissatisfied with the present unromantic state of the world. He believed it his duty to inject romance into the daily grind. On a rainy, muddy day he sallied forth to perform some knightly errand. He saw a pretty girl about to step from her car on to the dirty pavement. Hastening forward, he spread his coat under her dainty feet. She looked at him in surprise. "Well, of all the damned fools!" she exclaimed.

The schoolmaster noticed that one of his pupils was day-dreaming and not following his work on the black-board.

To recall his attention he said sharply, "Board, Brown, board."

The boy startled, looked up. "Yes, sir, very," came the reply.

THE MEANEST MAN

Once again we have been told a true story of "the meanest man in the world"—or at least in Digby County.

One day recently a certain gentleman in St. Bernard purchased a small pig, for which he paid the sum of $2.00 or $2.50, a goodly price in these hard times. Shortly after that some neighbors looking out of their window, saw a little pig running along the road, and a Ford car which was proceeding from towards Weymouth stopped and picked the pig up. Thinking that the car contained a dealer from whom the pig had escaped, they thought no more about it, until they later learned that neighbor's pig had escaped from the barn, and completely vanished.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

"God let me find the lonely ones Among the throng today. And let me say the word to take The loneliness away: So many walk with aching hearts Along the old highway."

"How is your bachelor friend?" she asked her husband. "Last time I saw him he was mending slowly." "Why I didn't know he had been ill." "He hasn't, poor chap. He was trying to darn his socks."

ANCIENT DIARY DISCLOSES COLORFUL LIFE

Herr Rudolph, 1710-1782, Eventually Became One of the Founders of Lunenburg, N. S.

All this talk of old letters and other yellow, dog-eared documents today brought forth an ancient diary—the journal of a wandering gentleman who was one of the founders of Lunenburg, N. S.

Written by Leonard Christopher Rudolph, and telling the story of his life from 1710 to 1782, the diary is now in the possession of a descendant, Leonard C. Rudolf, of Saint John, formerly of Weymouth North, N. S.

"Glory, honor, praise, thanks and adoration to the everliving Almighty God! Through Jesus Christ Amen," the diary starts.

"I, Leonard Christopher Rudolf, by birth a gentleman, was born the 6th of September, A. D. 1710 in a village called Ilseheim, situated about three English miles from the Imperial City of Weismann in the Country or Circle of Francony in Germany, at which place my father then was what they call in English a Steward for the Ancient Free Barons of the Empire Von Berlinthagen.

"My father was John Christian Rudolf, gentleman, descended from the old family Von Rudolf in Thuringen, his father having been Captain of the Mines in Voightland.

"My mother was Sophia Eleonor, daughter of John Leonard Stetter, gentleman, Chief Steward to the Count of Hohenoe Schillingsturt.

His Education

As soon as I was able my father put me into the Gymnasium Illustre at Windheim, where successively I went through several classes near eight years long. But after my father's removing to a more considerable Bailiwick at Saxthausen in Odenwald, I was called home. I stayed at home about 1½ years, during which time my father procured me lectures on the Jus Civile by a student named Wibel, gentleman, as also instructions in music and other sciences by 2 other persons.

"But this being too expensive considering his large family, he put me to a distant cousin, John Baur, of Wurtemberg, bailiff, at Roosen Mekmuller Vogteig; he having little business for me I remained about 1½ years there, and then found an opportunity to place me in the service of Augustus Krippendorf, gentleman, Privy Cabinet Secretary to the Reigning Duke of Wirtemberg Eberhard Ludwig, at Louisburg. By this gentleman I was after about 1 year and some months recommended to one Andreas Von Schellhaas at Easingen, one of the most renowned lawyers then in Germany, who received me into his service, and he employed me as amanuensis in all his important business. We rolled up and down to high and low courts of Princes and Great Cities negotiating and determining affairs and litigations with good success, whereby he got great riches and honors being made a baron of the Empire by the Emperor, got the Order of Generosity from the King of Prussia, was Privy Counselor to the King of Poland, Conseiler Anglique of the Empire and of several other Princes and states accompanied with salaries and emoluments and his name was changed into Baron von Schellersheim, Knight of the Empire. In his service I was put hard to it, by writing whole days every night, the business being very important, some concerning whole countries, territories or other capital matters requiring despatch and secrecy, therefore he kept me continually near himself, and I saved little money, from the parties, or my trouble, and he to recompense my fidelity after three years procured me a place as cancellist in the service of the Countess of Wurben and Freudenthal, which was my first public employment.

Countess' Secretary

The countess made me her secretary and at the same time Bailiff of Naccarbohyngir as also afterwards of Freudenthal. But the said countess being involved in a great lawsuit against the reigning Duc Carl Alexander of Wurtemberg, the said Duc as Potentior cut it short, 1735, 5th August, by sending a detachment of soldiers under the command of Lt. Colonel von Boemmelheim, accompanied by a commission under Mr. Faber,

1832-1932

In 1832 the Fathers of Confederation sat in their memorable councils to consolidate a nation. Thirty-five years before that, The Bank of Nova Scotia was founded by a group of local business men in Halifax, N.S.

35 Years Before Confederation . . .

The Confederation of the Canadian Provinces was of paramount importance to the political and economic life of the Dominion. Likewise the founding of The Bank of Nova Scotia, a century ago, was a milestone in Canada's financial history. Founded to meet the needs of a small community The Bank of Nova Scotia today serves its customers through an organization international in scope and above all with the accumulated experience of a century of successful banking.

a counsellor of Regency."

The chronicler continues with an account of subsequent adventures, including his experiences in the services of Prince Cantacuzeneo of Valachy, "with at least 25 other names, who was of the Greek religion and had a little court of poor rogues."

"In the year 1751," the journal reads, "on the persuasion of my friend, Doct. Erad, I went with him and family over to Nova Scotia under the protection of Lord Halifax to whom we were recommended by the Reigning Margraff Carl Friedrich of Baaden Durlach.

"At Halifax we were well received by the Governor, Edward Cornwallis, and by him both employed, myself as overseer over a party of foreigners and he as doctor to the same. In 1752 I was sworn in as one of the justices of peace.

"Governor Cornwallis went home and General Hopson succeeded him. He had a scheme for a new settlement at Miramichi Bay and accordingly sent in the month of May a colony of 300 families, all Germans and Swiss who landed there on 7th June, 1753, and fell to work with all hands, to clear the woods and wilderness. The town of Lunenburg was laid out, and every one built for their families before the winter habitations as well as they could. A militia regiment was formed whereof Charles Lawrence was Colonel, Patrick Sutherland Lieut.-Colonel and myself Major.

"Being determined to fix myself, I built in 4 months' time a small but strong house where in I live now, 1782, 29 years. I married my good wife Dorothy who bore me four children, were of 5 sons and 2 daughters are now a life." The quaint old book also contains records of the Rudolf family, including an account of the writer's daughters, of which he says: "They danced until day-break next morning but I went to bed as ordinarily, by reason of my age, the 72nd year."

Martin Barnes, of the C. P. R. Telegraph office, has come to Yarmouth to relieve "Spud" Campbell, who is on a vacation.

Last week the Courier lost its total circulation in Nigeria, doubled its circulation in Germany, and later cut the German circulation in half.

Just opened at Miss Chisholm's, a beautiful lot of Scarves, $1.00 and $1.25 each, also New Felts for $2.00, $1.25 each.

Mrs. Almon Cornwell brought the editor some cultivated strawberries on Saturday. Mrs. Cornwell says she picked a quart of them that day.

There was a mistake in Paul Yates' advertisement last week. The "charming little Norma" is only $4.00 per dozen. NOT $1.50.

Mrs. James E. Ellis, of Bay View, accompanied by Mrs. Gordon Ellis, of Digby, who have been visiting in Halifax, the guests of the former's daughter, Mrs. Everett R. Rice, returning home this week. Mrs. Rice, formerly of the Bank of Nova Scotia staff and now of Summerside, P. E. I., is spending his vacation at his home in Bridgetown.

William Cairnes spent a pleasant week-end with Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Sollows, of Tiverton. His many friends were pleased to see him as he has been twenty years since he was in that village.

Mr. and Mrs. Embree B. Morehouse, of Centreville, Digby County, announced the engagement of their daughter, Myrtle Irene, of Plymouth, Mass., to Mr. Vernon Newell, of New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Newell, of West Hqd., Shelburne County.

Paul Yates has a surprise for his patrons—the lowest prices ever offered on the latest portrait styles. On large cabinet style reduced from $12.50 to $10.00 dozen. A new large easel style, $7.25 dozen. The charming little "Norma" easel, only $4.00 dozen.

There are now thirty-nine names on the list of applicants for membership in the new Bands. Most of them are beginners, and Mr. Yates is giving free instruction in private to each member so that all will have a good start when the first meeting is held after all instruments are secured, and the early bird will have the best start. Some young fellows with undoubted talent seem slow, or maybe bashful, about joining up, but they are missing a great chance if they don't join. Come along boys, "Get on the Band Wagon."

INTERESTING ADDRESS GIVEN TO KIWIANS

The Digby Kiwanians on Monday listened to one of the most interesting addresses given them for some time; the address was given by one of their own members, Frank Jones, K. C., who chose as his subject—"The Future of Democracy."

Mr. Jones said, "The interpretation of the word 'democracy' was 'government of the people, by the people and for the people.' He considered this as its real meaning."

"The most democratic countries of the world today are the Dominion of Canada, the British Isles and British Dominions and the United States. These countries have administered a democratic form of government for years," but, he asked, "has democracy been a success?"

Today in all these countries, conditions are bad. There is unemployment and poverty on every hand, people are demanding assistance, and the governments are at their wits' end for a solution. Nature has done her part, she has provided abundantly, and with it poverty, the fault does not lie with nature, and must be laid at the feet of the administrators of government or at the feet of the people themselves."

He blamed government extravagance as one of the chief causes of the present state of affairs. "Since Confederation," he said, "every government of Canada has spent and borrowed huge sums of money without heading that a day of reckoning must come, until Canada with a population of ten millions of people has piled up a National debt to be paid from federal, provincial and municipal taxes. This debt, he prophesied cannot be settled in our lifetime or in the lifetime of our children, grandchildren or great grandchildren, yet this extravagance is allowed to continue. The people themselves are as much to blame as the governments who represent them, they have demanded this extravagant expenditure."

"Corruption, or graft is also endangering democracy," he said. "The people are responsible for this vice by electing men to important public offices who by rights should be behind the bars."

Mr. Jones expressed himself as strongly in favor of a democratic government, but expressed fears of the safety of such a form of government at the present time. "Will the people tolerate the extravagance and graft that has kept higher and higher taxation ever since Confederation, or will they rebel and set up either a Fascist, Socialist or Communist form of government?"

REMEMBRANCE DAY

"Let Us Forget"

To the Citizens of Digby—

By an act of Parliament the 11th day of November in each and every year has been set apart as a Day of Remembrance which all citizens are called upon to observe in a manner keeping with the event it solemnizes, the cessation of hostilities between the nations engaged in the Great War and all the memories which the thought of it calls up.

With these thoughts in mind the local Branch of the Canadian Legion will carry out their usual program on this day and the public is requested to support them so far as they are able to participate where they can. This program is as follows:

Parade with Memorial Service at the Monument just before 11 a. m. Placing of wreaths and wearing of Poppy emblems made by disabled soldiers in memory of the dead.

Observance of two minutes silence at 11 a. m.

Parade of the Veterans to a church service at the Church of England on Sunday, Nov. 13th, at 11 a. m.

The Provincial Government is sending a wreath which will be placed on the Monument together with the Legion Wreath and all citizens who wish to place flowers are requested to do so at the Service at the Monument.

According to law all places of business must be closed on Memorial Day and the holding of entertainments and dances is not in keeping with its proper observance and Legions will regard with disfavor any such attempt to commercialize the day and further as meriting the penalties proscribed by law.

Your kind assistance and co-operation in this program and in carrying out the provisions of the law will be greatly appreciated.

(Signed) G. W. Connell, For G. W. Turnbull, Pres. Digby Branch.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

With one of the largest attendances for some time the Digby County Children's Aid Society held their annual meeting at the Court House in Digby, Monday evening. The meeting was called to order by the president, Rev. E. W. Forbes, following which the secretary, J. M. Wallace, read the minutes of the annual meeting of 1931.

S. S. Aymer, treasurer, read the financial statement for the year ending September 30th, 1932. This report was a very favorable one, showing receipts for the year of $2604.48, with expenditures of $2367.48. The Society has $156.71 to its credit.

Austin L. Robbins, agent for the Society, read his first annual report. "During the year," he said, "four children have been made wards of the Society, but this only indicates a small part of the work accomplished. Every individual case dealt with by the agent has been approached from its own peculiar angle and presents its own peculiar problem. To find a successful solution to these various problems is exceedingly difficult and sometimes impossible. There are a great many problems in connection with Social Service for which as yet, no solution has been found. The best that can be done is the best that can be done under the circumstances, and oftentimes the circumstances surrounding any given case are beyond the control of the social worker."

He went on to say that the care of the underprivileged child is becoming more and more urgent every year, and the importance of the work is becoming more and more apparent to the general public.

"It is everywhere recognized that the environment is one of the determining factors in the future life of a child," he said, "if the surroundings encourage right living, the child is a fair prospect that the child may grow into a useful adult life, but on the other hand, if the surroundings are degrading, and they lack of proper cultural training and religious influence, the consequent reaction of such a child will be a failure. An movement having for its aim the turning of the lives of children from the paths of vice into the paths of virtue where they will be taught to be honest and useful, is of inestimable value to the child, as well as to society as a whole. This is the work in which the Children's Aid Society is engaged, its constant and persistent endeavor is to remove children from homes of neglect and abuse, and place them in homes where they will be taught honesty, cleanliness, and right living."

"One of the greatest problems of our national life in Canada today," he stated, "is the number of children born to parents of low mentality. The Children's Aid Societies can do very little for the mentally defective child except to place it in a proper boarding home."

Officers appointed for the ensuing year were as follows:

President—Rev. E. W. Forbes.
1st. Vice-President—Mrs. R. H. Lockward.

Island Sunday Schools Hold Convention

The annual one-day convention of the Sunday Schools of the Islands took place in the Tiverton Christian Church last Thursday, November 10. The afternoon session opened at 3 o'clock, in the absence of Mr. President, Vice-President, Clarence T. Bennett, and the Central Grove, the chair was occupied by Rev. M. H. Outhouse, who led the devotional service, and conducted the business session of the convention. One of the high points of this business session was the planning of another Island Sunday School Convention to be held entirely with local leadership next May. Rev. Mr. Akery, minister at Freeport, was chosen to be the one responsible for arranging a program.

When the business was over, Mr. Akery gave an address on "The Meaning of Worship in the Sunday School."

The visiting field worker present was J. Judson Levy, who is Secretary of the Boy's Work of the Maritime Religious Education Council. His address in the afternoon session was the conducting of a round-table discussion, in which all received many helpful ideas.

The evening session began at 7.30 o'clock. The devotional service was in charge of the young men, and the singing was by the Cossaboo. Previous to the address of Mr. Levy, a duet was sung by M. H. Outhouse and Miss Evelyn Pinigan.

The evening address by Mr. Levy was well received by all, and at the close the audience extended their appreciation of Mr. Levy's address and visit by a rising vote of thanks.

Digby Will Celebrate 150th Anniversary Of Loyalist Landing

Board Of Trade Takes Steps To Inaugurate The Movement -- Paved Streets And That Sort Of Thing

A well-attended meeting of the Digby Board of Trade was held in the council chamber of the Town Hall, on Wednesday evening, when the president, R. H. Lockward, in the chair, this meeting Mayor Holdsworth moved that a resolution of sympathy be sent from the Digby Board of Trade to Mrs. Frank W. Nichols and family, in the passing of Frank W. Nichols, an ex-mayor of the town, and for more than thirty years secretary of the Board of Trade. This resolution was seconded by Fritz Dakin and passed by a standing vote.

The first measure dealt with at the meeting was that of the improvement of Digby's front street. Councillor George M. Morrell, chairman of the Board of Trade, committee on streets, wanted to know if the Board of Trade still stood behind the resolution passed at their meeting of March 24th, 1932, in which the members expressed themselves as unanimously in favor of completing the town sewer from a point north of the Oddfellows Hall to the proposed outlet near the government pier, and the paving of Montague Row from Four Lodge to Water Street, along Birch Street to Carleton Street, with asphalt, concrete or some other suitable pavement, as soon as practicable.

The first part of this resolution has been carried out by the town—the sewer has been completed. Count Morrell wanted the feeling of the Board of Trade in regard to the matter of street improvement. He said that the town is wasting money on the front street under present conditions. To date some $1600 has been spent on this street this year (one-half to be paid by the provincial government and the other half by the town of Digby, under the agreement existing between the Highway Board and the town for the upkeep of the front street), and the condition of the street is no better than it was two or three years ago. The material the highway department is putting on is absolutely no good, and after a heavy rain the street is a disgrace to the town. He believed that if the town of Digby had the handling of the money that is spent on this street the town would be better off.

He went on to say that the town at its own expense, hauled a quantity of "rotten rock" from Digby Neck for the Boulevard, at a cost of $2.00 a cubic yard. This material proved very satisfactory. The material used by the government cost the town, about $1.20 per cubic yard. His Worship, Mayor Holdsworth, said that he quite agreed with Count Morrell in regard to the maintenance of the front street. This year to August 1st, $712.32 was spent by the highways board on this street, which amount is to be shared 50-50 by the government and the town; the town of Digby, in addition, has paid out another $100.00 and should the government take care of one-half of that amount. What they will decide to do is a question, he said. Since August 1st they have received another statement from the Highway Board showing an additional $225.00 was due on the same street, the town's share being $169.69. Assuming that the Government will take care of one-half the expenses incurred by the town, the front street has cost the town so far this year, $320.00 and the street has very little to show for it.

He believed that a paving programme would be sound business. A $6,000 per mile cheap pavement with a maintenance cost of $300 per year would not effect our present tax rate of $4.00 on $100.00 and should the government aid be realized, the rate would be considerably reduced. On the higher grade Standartide pavement such as used by the town of Yarmouth, assuming a cost of $30.00 for paving, the tax rate would be increased from 18 to 20 cents on $100 on the present tax rate; should it be possible to persuade the government to pay 1-3 of this cost, the rate would be increased by ten cents.

Town Clerk Alfred Boden read a resolution passed at a meeting held on November 10, 1931, in which they expressed themselves in favor of paving the street as soon as possible, "but," he said, "we have to deal with the Highway Board in connection with this matter." The town has entered into an agreement, with them for a period of ten years, which stated that they are to have supervision of all work, the handling of expenditures, of moneys spent on the main highway running through the town of Digby, they to bear one-half of the cost and the town the other half. He also stated that the Highway engineer estimated that $3200.00 should be spent

Married

Campbell-Brittain
A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Brittain, Acadia, Yarmouth Co., one evening recently at 8 o'clock, when their second daughter, Margaret Isabel was united in marriage to Spurgeon Reid Campbell, of Sackville, N. B. The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of relatives and friends, was performed by Rev. F. R. Doleman of Acadia, the double ring service being used. After the ceremony a reception was held at which Mrs. A. Fuller and Mrs. F. W. Archer Jr., poured, those who assisted in serving, were Misses Mary Brittain, Ruth Brittain, Margaret Pittman and Hattie Pittman. The happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to Sackville. On their return they will reside in Yarmouth. The groom has for several years been employed at the C. P. Telegraph Office, while the bride is assistant chief operator at the Yarmouth Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Office. A large number of friends join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Campbell a long and happy married life. ("Spud" is well-known in Digby where he was operator at the local office for some time.)

Robert Russell has resigned the postmastership of Conway and has been succeeded by James Wolf.

E. P. Hanksin, Municipal Councillor for the District of Weymouth, was a visitor in town on Tuesday.

Mrs. Nagle Whitman, who has been spending a month at Acadia Cottage, left for Saint John on Monday.

on this street during the year on that basis, but, since rendering the town of Digby's front street for work which they have to do, and could not wait for the Government to attend to, he has received a communication that the appropriation for work in Digby was but $600.00.

After some further discussion, it was moved by M. C. Denton and seconded by Churchill Sollows that the Board of Trade express themselves as being of the same opinion in regard to street paving as they were when they passed their resolution at their meeting of March 24, 1932. When voted upon this motion passed almost unanimously.

The next matter to come before the meeting was that of the proposed celebration of the 150th anniversary of the landing of the United Empire Loyalists at Digby on June 1, 1783. It was strongly urged by the president, the mayor and others that some fitting celebration be arranged for June 1st of next year. Communications relating to this matter from Thomas F. Andron and R. U. Parker were read. On motion a nominating committee appointed R. H. Lockward, C. Fred McBride, M. C. Denton, Dr. G. V. Turnbull, Capt. G. M. Morrell, C. L. Bowley and A. J. Dillon with P. W. Holdsworth ex-officio. The committee to look into the ways and means of such a celebration, and report to the Board of Trade one month hence.

Happy To Be 136lbs

Lost 38 lbs.—More To Follow

Most women would be alarmed if their weight showed 136 lbs. But not this one. You see she was 174 lbs., and she has found a way to take off that disgusting overweight.

She weighs—136 months ago, when her weight was 174 lbs., she started to take Kruschen, and have gradually got down to 136 lbs.—and am still going down. I have not altered my diet at all, and I only take a half-teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water every morning. I also find Kruschen very good for biliousness, from which I used to suffer a great deal. But it has completely left me now—in fact, I feel a different person, and have only to thank those wonderful Kruschen Salts. (Mrs.) M. K. Taken morning Kruschen effects perfectly natural clearance of undigested food substances and all excessive watery waste matter. Unless this wastage is regularly expelled, Nature will eventually store it up out of the way in the form of ugly fat.

One bottle is enough to prove to you that Kruschen will make you feel younger—spry—more energetic—you'll enjoy life—every minute of it.

Frank W. Nichols

The death of Frank W. Nichols, one of Digby's best known townsmen, occurred at his home on Queen Street about six o'clock on Saturday morning of last week. The deceased, who was about sixty years of age, was a very prominent part in the civic and public life in the town and county serving the town in the capacity of Mayor for three consecutive terms. He was also postmaster here for a number of years; for thirty years he was the secretary-treasurer of the Digby Board of Trade, and for more than a quarter of a century secretary of the Digby County Farmer's Association, and the Digby County Agricultural Society. He was also treasurer of the Digby United Baptist Church. He was admitted to the Bar in the year 1900, after graduating from Acadia University and Dalhousie Law School. Since that time he has practiced his profession in Digby, for a number of years in partnership with his brother, the late E. Hart Nichols. Under the firm name of Nichols & Nichols, he and his late brother, under his own name. He was a member of the Nova Scotia Barristers' Society. He was the son of the late Abraham Nichols, of Acadiaville, Digby County, and is survived by his widow and two sons, Harold and Jack; one brother, Goudy, of Acadiaville, and one sister, Miss Annie Nichols. Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon with members of King Solomon Lodge, A. F. & A. M., officiating, the deceased being a past master of this lodge. The funeral was very largely attended.

Mrs. H. H. Woodman

The death occurred at Smith's Cove early Saturday morning, of Mrs. Mary Woodman, widow of the late Herbert H. Woodman. Mrs. Woodman had been in failing health for a number of years, but was always patient and cheerful. Kind and charitable in disposition, she was loved and respected by all who were privileged to know her and her many friends will learn with deep regret of her passing. Her husband did not become really serious until a few weeks ago, and her friends had hopes of her recovery after a brief rally last week, but such was not to be and about three o'clock Saturday morning, "Aunt Mary" as she was lovingly called by many, passed peacefully away in her sleep. Mrs. Woodman was a devout member of the Smith's Cove United Baptist Church, having united with that church when only fourteen years of age. Always very interested in Missions, she was a charter member of the Women's Missionary Aid Society. She was also a consistent member of Home Division, No. 169, Sons of Temperance, until the last, when she was unable to take part in public activities for some time. Mrs. Woodman was a daughter of the late Charles E. and Mary Anne Cossaboom, was born July 22, 1868, and lived her entire life at Smith's Cove. She is survived by one son, Herbert L., of Digby; three daughters, Mrs. M. D. Woodman, of Kentville, and the Misses Elizabeth and Stella Woodman, at home; also seven grandchildren. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Arlie MacFarland, of New York, and one brother, G. B. Cossaboom, of Digby. Her husband predeceased her nearly two years ago. The very largely attended funeral service was held on Sunday afternoon, Lie. W. H. Turner, her pastor, officiating. There were many beautiful floral tributes from the family, the societies to which she belonged, and many friends of the family. Favorite hymns were sung by the choir, and Mr. Eugene Ford, of Liverpool, sang as a solo her favorite, "The Old Rugged Cross."

J. Walton Post

The death of James Walton Post took place at his home in Culloden on Tuesday morning at 1 o'clock, after an illness which has lasted some months. He was the son of late John Post and Margaret (Killen) Post, and was born in Culloden 65 years ago. Last spring Mrs. Post died and he has been ailing ever since. He leaves four daughters, Mrs. Fred Ryan, Marshmouth; Mrs. William Power, Yarmouth; I Margaret and Mary, at home; and six sons, Capt. Stephen, Wilfred and Douglas, all of Gloucester, Mass.; Emery, Bernard and Lawrence, at home; also two brothers, Edgar, in Culloden, and J. L. of Jamaica Plain, Mass. The funeral took place yesterday morning from St. Patrick's Church, Rev. Father Murphy officiating.

Teachers Hold Meetings in Digby

Some fifty teachers representing various sections of Digby and Annapolis Counties, met at the Digby Academy on Monday for a meeting of the Teachers' Institute and the Digby County Teachers' Union.

The Institute meeting was called to order at nine o'clock, when the visiting teachers were welcomed by Town Clerk Alfred Boden. Addresses on educational lines were given by Professor L. A. DeWolfe, of the Provincial Normal College; M. C. Foster, Inspector of Schools for Digby and Annapolis Counties, and Miss Bertha Fraser, Helping Teacher for the inspectorate. Professor DeWolfe and Mr. Foster spoke chiefly on the various problems which confront the school teacher. Miss Fraser spoke of the value of Parent-Teacher Clubs and various school clubs. A number of prize-winning exhibits of art, scrap-books, etc., were exhibited.

After the meeting of the Institute a meeting of the Digby County Teachers' Union was held, at which all teachers were urged to join the Union.

Digby Legion Remembers Fallen Comrades

On Friday morning of last week the townspeople of Digby joined with the members of the Digby Branch of the Canadian Legion to pay tribute to the seventeen Digby boys who sacrificed their lives for "King and Country" during the Great War of 1914-1918, in a short service at the Soldiers' Memorial, erected in memory of the young men of this town who paid the supreme price for the liberty of this Canada of ours.

Shortly before eleven o'clock the members of the Legion, with the Mayor and the Town Council marched to the monument where various wreaths were laid. At eleven o'clock two minutes of silence was reverently observed as a solemn token of love and respect for those men whose names are engraved on the monument, and to the hundreds of others, who like them, gave their lives for the love of freedom.

His Worship, Mayor F. W. Holdsworth delivered a brief address, reminding those present of the terrible cost of war; of the meaning of Armistice Day. His address was followed by prayer by the Rev. A. E. Gabriel, of Trinity Church. During the address of the Mayor, special mention was made of our Town Clerk, Alfred Boden, for the great pains he has taken to make the monument garden one of the beauty spots of our town.

Armistice Day In Smith's Cove

Armistice Day was fittingly observed at Smith's Cove by a public Memorial Service held under the auspices of the local Women's Institute, in the Temperance Hall, at 9 o'clock a. m. The service opened with the singing of "O Canada" and the flag salute by the school children who attended in a body. Rev. F. E. Bishop, of Digby, Rev. E. W. Forbes, also of Digby, and Rev. A. W. L. Smith, of Clementsport, delivered splendid addresses. It was greatly regretted that Rev. Charles Stow, who was to have taken part in the service, was prevented by illness. A number of Veterans of the Great War were present, and perhaps the most impressive part of the programme was the observance of the two minutes' silence.

FAITH

"I can't believe that," said Alice. "Can't you?" the Queen said in a pitying tone. "Try again, draw a long breath and shut your eyes."

Alice laughed. "There's no use trying," said she. "One can't believe impossible things."

"I dare say you haven't had much practice," said the Queen. "When I was your age, I always did it half-an-hour a day. Why sometimes I've believed in as many as six impossible things before breakfast."

—Through the Looking Glass.

What a blessing it is to have the power to believe in the impossible. For nothing is impossible except within the range of our own conceptions of the impossible. Bertha Conde says:

"There are two ways in which we may go through our years on earth. We may look upon life as one long struggle to satisfy human desires, or we may look upon our human incarnations as a special commission to accomplish some divine purpose. We may go through all the motions of living, or we may walk by faith. Without faith life is merely a series of disconnected acts."

With faith life is like the close woven threads of tapestry, revealing a beautiful design.

How many of us like Alice say, "One CAN'T believe in impossible things," and then go on believing only within the limited range of our powers to believe, and think all outside impossible. But we must remember the Queen's answer, "I dare say you have not had much practice."

How often this is all to true. If we would only PRACTICE our faith more, how much better we would be, when for our never-ending doubt we could submit trust and peace of mind.

All too often when we do start to practice our faith we think that a thing must come out as we want it to simply because we do want it, and because we think that if we want it enough, and have faith enough, it will come, but we must not forget that having faith often means not just getting what we want, but the faith that when even our most cherished plans and dreams lie crumbled and broken will enable us to know that, "God's in His heaven, all's right with the world."

Such faith is the heritage of us all—greater than any wealth—it is the substance of life itself.

"This much I know. God does not wrong us here. Though oft His judgments seem severe."

And reason falters 'neath the beam. Some day we'll learn 'twas better so.

So oft I've erred In trifling matters of my own concern;

So oft I've blundered at the simplest turn. Chosen the false path or the foolish word.

That what I call my judgment seemed absurd.

My puny reason cries Against the cruel and the bitter blows

Measuring the large world by the inch it knows. Seeing all joy and pain through selfish eyes.

Not knowing hurt and suffering may be wise.

But I have come to see, So vast God's love, so infinite His plan.

That it is well, it was not left to man To alter at to say what is to be.

When reason failed, faith also then would flee.

God knoweth best! Through the black night and agony of grief.

Faith whispers low: "Hold fast to your belief! In time His purpose He shall manifest."

Then shalt you learn how greatly you were blest."

Pleasantly there it stands, as of old, A link of the ferret at play.

Which whispers as ever to Old Ocean's depths.

"I stand here to guard Pundy's Bay."

The staunch fisher-folk look oft to the sea.

For the harvests gathered there still, And the moons wax and wane, and the seasons swiftly flee

But they still work with zest, and with will.

And the sentinel rocks on duty still stand;

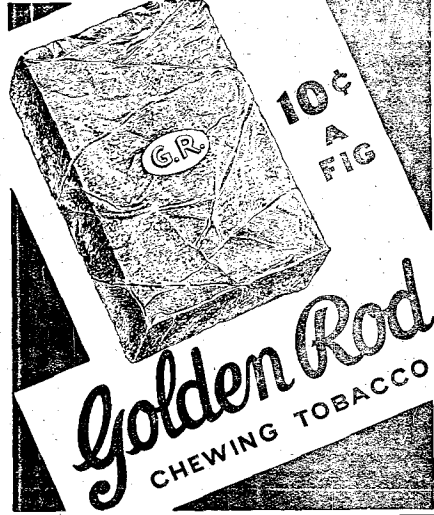

"Be brave and do right," they all say.

To the men of the guard of the isle, and so fair,

Which stands firm at its post on the bay.

Young People's Union Met in Weymouth

The Young People's Union of the western section of the Annapolis Presbytery met in the United Church at Weymouth on Wednesday afternoon, of last week.

The following societies were represented: Annapolis, Bear River, Digby, Sandy Cove, Centerville and Weymouth. The meeting was called to order by Rev. C. L. Blanchard, Bear River, Convenor of Religious Education of Annapolis Presbytery. Reports from the different societies indicated that Young People's work is being carried on in a most progressive and highly interesting manner.

The nominating committee was appointed and recommended the following officers of the Union be:

Honorary President—Rev. E. W. Forbes, Digby.

President—G. E. Tingley, Weymouth.

Vice-President—Miss Esther Benson, Bear River.

Secretary—Miss Lucille Putnam, Centerville.

Treasurer—Miss Mary Miller, Annapolis Royal.

These were duly elected by the members of the Union. The address of the afternoon was given by Rev. Russell O'Brien, the Maritime Secretary of Religious Education for the United Church of Canada. Mr. O'Brien discussed in a very interesting way the projects and problems relating to the four fold plan of Young People's Work, namely Christian Fellowship, Christian Missions, Christian Citizenship and Literary and Recreations departments, after which a basket lunch was served in the Rebekah Lodge room.

The convention then divided into departmental groups to consider the problems and projects as advanced in the afternoon address of Mr. O'Brien.

The evening meeting was held in the church. Devotional exercises were conducted by the Weymouth Young People's Society under the leadership of G. E. Tingley who delivered the devotional address. Following this the installation service was held for the duly elected officers. The reports of the group discussions were then presented and passed by the Union. Resolutions of appreciation were presented to the Young People's Society of Weymouth for their hospitality; to Mr. Tingley for his devotional address, and to Rev. O'Brien for his splendid leadership and guidance.

A very fine and inspiring address was ably delivered by Mr. O'Brien on the subject, "The Call to Leadership." This brought to a close a very helpful and enthusiastic convention which will long be remembered by those who attended.

Married

Melanson—White

A very pretty wedding took place at the St. Croix Church, at Plympton, on Tuesday morning, November 8th, at eight o'clock, when Marion White, of Ashmore, only daughter of Mrs. James Thibodeau, of Ashmore was united in marriage to Joseph Melanson, of Ashmore. The bride was dressed in a beautiful white satin and lace gown and bride veil caught up with orange blossoms. A lovely bouquet of lilies and lilies of the valley and orange blossoms which was tied with white satin ribbon also caught up with orange blossoms. Her bridesmaid was Mrs. Robert Theriault who was dressed in blue lace. The groom was attended by the bride's brother, Alfred White. The wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home, also dinner and supper, where fifty guests were present. In the evening a dance was held and dainty refreshments were served to a host of friends. The couple received many wedding gifts. The bride and groom had been living in Weymouth, Mass., and before leaving for home, her friend, Geraldine Comeau gave her a shower, when she received a large basket of gifts, consisting of silver, china and linen. Another shower was given by her cousin, Mrs. O'Connell (née Bernice Robichau) who had her house beautifully decorated for the occasion, and Miss White received lovely and useful gifts at this shower. She was the recipient of a beautiful hand-painted china dinner set from Mrs. Monahan, of Weymouth Hills. When Miss White left Weymouth for home she had ten Nova Scotia girl friends to see her depart and wish her luck for her future happiness. The groom is a popular young man of Ashmore, but for the past few years he has been employed at Berwick. The happy couple left for Berwick on Thursday with the good wishes of all their friends for their future happiness, and will reside in that town.

The bride looked very girlish in her gown of white crepe de chene with bodice of lace, with veil and accessories to match, carrying a bouquet of baby mums. She was attended by her sister, Miss Clara Amoro as bridesmaid, dressed in cerise silk, while a younger sister, little Miss Laura acted in the capacity of flower girl. Mr. Comeau was supported by his brother, Dennis, as best man. A reception was held at the home of the groom's uncle, H. Amoro and Mrs. Amoro, Plympton Station, on Tuesday evening. Rev. Father J. H. Murphy tied the nuptial knot and bestowed his blessing on the happy couple. The bride was charmingly attired in a long dress of white satin with a white satin sash. She wore a long veil with wreath, and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, with streamers. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Mary Mallett who wore a pretty dress of coral silk with light blue trimmings and accessories, and carried a bouquet of tea roses. Bernard Comeau acted as best man. The single ring service was used. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Charles LeBlanc and sister of the bride, where more than a hundred guests made the reunion a happy one. The bridal party arrived at the bride's old home at St. Alphonse de Clare on November 1, where ninety guests greeted their arrival, and attended the wedding dinner. Bride and groom were valuable clients of numerous and valuable gifts. They will be returning to New York within a few days where they will reside. A large circle of friends unite in wishing them prosperity.

Wake up your Liver Bile

—Without Calomel

Your liver is a very small organ, but it is certainly one of the most important and delicate organs of the body. It is the great filter of the body, and it is the only organ that can be replaced. If it becomes clogged or diseased, the whole system suffers. You won't completely correct such a condition by taking salts, oil, mineral water, laxative or cathartics. You need a medicine that will move your bowels through and through—and you need a liver stimulant. Carter's Little Liver Pills will soon bring back the normal tone to your liver. Why Miss Lillian Loughton's Strawberry Shortcake is famous

"I use Magic Baking Powder," says Miss Lillian Loughton, Dietician and Cookery Expert of the Canadian Magazine. "My successful baking results are due in large part to its freshness, uniformity, and consistent high quality."

"My own recipes are planned for Magic, and I recommend it for all recipes calling for baking powder."

"Miss Loughton's high praise confirms the judgment of other Canadian dieticians and cookery experts. The majority of them use Magic exclusively, because it gives consistently better baking results."

"Magic is first choice of Canadian housewives, too. It outshines all other baking powders combined!"

STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE

2 cups pastry flour
(or 1 1/2 cups bread flour)

4 teaspoons Magic Baking Powder

4 tablespoons shortening

2 tablespoons sugar

1 egg

1/4 cup milk

Sift together the dry ingredients; rub in shortening until very fine; add sugar. Beat egg and pour with the chilled milk to make soft dough (but not too soft to hold its shape when baked). Yield, 18 with fresh berries slightly sweetened. Put top round on and pile whipped cream over it, decorating with whole berries.

WAR MEMORIAL DEDICATED AT BEAR RIVER

One of the largest audiences ever gathered in this town, filled to capacity the Bear River United Church on Friday afternoon, November 11, for the War Memorial Dedication Service, prior to the "unveiling" of the War Memorial Monument, recently erected here, under the auspices of the Bear River Women's Institute.

The church, with its lovely interior finish of white galleries and supporting Corinthian pillars, made a fine setting for the Allied flags, the only decoration, the Union Jack draping chancel windows and front of altar.

The impressive service was conducted by the Bear River Ministerial Association, the address being delivered by Prof. J. S. Thomson, of Pine Hill College, Halifax, whose eloquent words, coming as they did, from one who, himself, had shared the hazardous lot of those who served on the battlefields of France, awoke responsive reminiscent echoes in the hearts of many present, and brought remembrance to those whose sons and dear ones had made the supreme sacrifice.

Through the service, appropriate music was rendered by a choir from the various churches of the town, with Mrs. Carroll Clarke as organist, and at the conclusion, the public "unveiling" of the War Memorial took place.

This Memorial Monument stands on a prominent corner of Main Street, on a site donated by the Bear River Oddfellows Lodge, adjoining their building and is composed of rough granite blocks, faced with a beautiful bronze tablet containing the names of the one hundred and thirty men from this vicinity who served in the great war, a number of whom died on the field of battle.

Above the tablet, a bronze electric torch holds aloft the "unfading flame," symbolizing the "Light of Peace," brought to a war worn world by those who suffered and bled to achieve this end.

A brief program of prayer and song, led by the choir, followed, by Mrs. Charles Harris, mother of Sergeant Jack Harris, who made the supreme sacrifice on the battlefield, the placing of wreaths by representatives of families and organizations, and the sounding of "Taps" by Dr. E. J. Herman, of Perotte, Annapolis County, completed the open air service. The following wreaths were placed:—

George Banks and family—In memory of Pte. Arnold Banks.

L. V. Harris and family—in memory of Capt. Walter Ruggles (placed by Legated Harris).

Mrs. George York and Mrs. Howard York—in memory of Corp. Curtis York, and Pte. Ralph York.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Longworth (Smith's Cove)—placed by Walter Harris.

The Provincial Government—placed by George T. Tupper.

Elta Rebekah Lodge—Mrs. Minard Chute.

Bear River Women's Institute—placed by Mrs. A. B. Marshall, who as permanent Convenor of the Institute War Memorial Committee, has devoted much thought and work to the erection of a suitable and enduring Memorial, and under whose capable direction, plans for its construction and dedication were carried out, in co-operation with the Women's Institute War Memorial Committee, the personnel of which is as follows:—

Mrs. A. B. Marshall, Convenor.
Mrs. L. J. Lovett.
Mrs. John D. Hayrow.
Mrs. Harry Harris.
Mrs. J. H. Cunningham, Sec'y.
Mrs. E. B. Campbell, (ex officio as Institute President).

Today, tomorrow, and for future generations, this Monument stands as a perpetual reminder that war, in all its horrors, laid its destroying imprint on the young manhood of our town, and that those names on the enduring bronze, are there to speak to us. "Lest we forget, lest we forget."

The Misses Eva and Ada Hill were the guests of their sister, Georgina at Centerville on Thursday.

The Thank Offering service of the W. M. S. will be held in the vestry of the United Church on Friday evening.

THE GOLD STAR MOTHER

"November eleventh," she said with a tear.
"How I wish that my boy was here." Then, as the dawn crept in from afar There shone in her window, a little gold star.

Lonely and old, yet the years pass her by.
While Jim, he was so young to die. "Mother," he said, "I must win the war."
And now she fondles a little gold star.

Some day, on a fair and golden Street,
She and her boy at last will meet. There, where "the Heavenly mansions are,"
She will wear in her crown, a little gold star.

HOSPITAL DONATION DAY

Inspiring Hospital Donation
Day, the Ladies' Hospital Aid Society entertained informally at the tea hour at the Digby Hospital on Friday afternoon of last week.
Friends from the town and various communities of the county dropped in during the afternoon, enjoyed a pleasant call and left much appreciated donations.

A cheque for $10 was received from Mr. Benjamin Waters, of Wareham, Mass., together with $8.50 in cash and a generous assortment of preserves, jellies, pickles, groceries, towels, etc., from numerous contributors. As a means of promoting closer co-operation between Hospital workers in our various communities, this seems to be a step in the right direction, and thanks are extended to all who helped make our first Donation Day a success.

Miss Alice Thurber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Thurber, of Weymouth North, is confined to the house with a sprained ankle, which she received when she fell down the schoolhouse steps one day recently.

petitors at the Hospital Party Sale

Currie, of the Digby Academy staff,

Noel and Wilnot.

There will be a pantry sale in the Aymar Store tomorrow, the proceeds of which will go to help the Digby General Hospital.

Customs Inspectors MacLachey and Pope, of Halifax, are here on official business in connection with the local Customs Office.

We are told that a deer was caught in one of the Joggins weirs last week.
A number of persons watched the animal for a time, and then gave it its freedom.

Captain Stephen Post, of Gloucester, Mass., is visiting at his old home in Culloden, where he was called by the death of his father, Walton Post.

Stock up for over the week-end with the best of home cooking, and help the hospital. Patronize their pantry sale in the Aymar Store tomorrow afternoon.

Just a little more than six weeks and then Christmas. About time for our merchants to commence their Christmas advertising. Advertising copy and cuts furnished by Gordon Burnham left yesterday for Weymouth, where he will spend the week-end. He was accompanied by M. L. Saunders, who will spend several weeks at his home in Windsor.

Will R. Bird, well-known war lecturer and writer, will give an illustrated address in the Bijou Dream Theatre, under the auspices of the local branch of the Canadian Legion, on Wednesday evening next.

Jack Russell informs us that hereby the death of his father, the late F. W. Nichols, returned to Dalhousie University, Halifax, yesterday to resume his studies at the law school.

M. L. Saunders, manager of the Canadian Pacific Telegraph Office here, is taking a month's "sick leave." He is being relieved by Miss Webster, of Picton, who arrived on Monday.

Harold L. MacCormack, who has been one of the staff at the local branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, left for Weymouth on Friday week, to join the staff of the branch in that town.

William H. Wallace and bride, of Saint John, have returned home after spending their honeymoon in Digby. The guests of Mr. and Mrs.
Digby Baxter. Mr. Wallace is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Wallace, well-known in Digby.

What are the Digby Ravens planning for the approaching hockey season? We presume the lineup will be about as per usual - which is a mighty hard one to trim. We note that several of the smaller teams throughout the county are getting organized and under way.

Mrs. Ralph Mullen, of Weymouth North, spent the week-end at the home of Miss Edith Mullen, Warwick Street, returning home on Monday.

Mr. Mullen, accompanied by his daughter, Louise, and Mrs. Elvin Marshall, of Ashmore, spent Monday with Miss Mullen, returning with Mrs. Marshall the same day.

Believe it or not - on Monday morning a partridge broke through a 12 by 24 glass in the kitchen of Guy Morehouse's residence, flew across the room into the dining room, hitting Mrs. Morehouse on the head, broke a 16 by 32 glass in the dining room window, then walked about the floor until the maid caught it, and put it outdoors, when it flew away, apparently none the worse for its adventure.

The "shunter" resumed her old job in the local station yards on Wednesday morning, after a few months' "leave of absence", during which time her work was attended to by the local way freight, sometimes spending eight and nine hours a day here. The railroad seems to have done away with the "Suburban" service from Annapolis Royal to Digby - the engine comes in mornings without the coach and returns to Annapolis Royal the same way in the evening.

J. Vian Andrews, Warden of the Municipality of Digby, told the Courier yesterday that this season he has taken affidavits for twenty-three deer and one moose killed in his district (North Range) during the hunting season just passed. He also has applications for affidavits for three more deer. Last year he signed affidavits for fifteen deer, and two moose. Warden Andrews says that hunters state bull moose are being very scarce, while cows are quite plentiful, and they are of the opinion that a closed season on moose would be of the best advantage to sport. Deer seem to be very plentiful.

John A. Havery, of Boston, and John Walker, of Belmont, Mass., have been recent guests at the home of B. Havery.

Miss Grace Marshall, teacher at East Ferry spent the holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. Marshall, at Marshalltown.

down town, the other day. Hardy day to attend the funeral of the late F. W. Nichols.

Burton Goodwin, of Amherst, student at Acadia University, who was visiting friends at Centreville, attended the Young People's Rally at the United Church on Wednesday evening last.

Harry Cochran and his Pines Hotel Orchestra played for a most enjoyable dance at the Community Theatre on Monday evening of last week, which was largely attended.

Recently Alfred Boden offered $5. prizes in the Smith's Cove school for essays. The prizes were competed for by four pupils. The first prize, $2.00, went to Pauline Brinton, and the other three dollars were divided with the remaining contestants.

We are told that the scallop fishermen are doing a little better these days when the weather permits their operation. Scallopers are a little more plentiful than they have been for the past year or two. The price, however, is still low. Line fishermen are also doing a little better. Fish are quite plentiful, and the price somewhat higher - all that is needed is good weather.

Don't overlook our club subscription offer with the Family Herald and Weekly Star. This is your opportunity to subscribe for your two favorite papers at a bargain. The regular subscription price of the Family Herald and Weekly Star is $1.50 a year, the Digby Courier is $1.50 a year. Our offer will give you both for $2.00 - your chance to save half a dollar.

Six properties were put up for sale at auction yesterday by the Municipality of Digby for unpaid taxes, three of these being sold, namely:
the estate of Myra Comeau to George Adams, of Brighton; the Charles Abbott estate to Eric Kinney, of Barton, and the Lottie Harris estate to Preston Harris. The other properties will be advertised for sale at a later date.

Let's all get behind the Digby Board of Trade in their effort to arrange a suitable celebration of the 150th anniversary of the landing of the United Empire Loyalists. The temporary committee appointed at Wednesday night's meeting comprises members of the Board of Trade, the Digby Town Council, the Digby Legion and the Kiwanis Club.
They will look into the matter and report back to the board in one month's time.

On Wednesday evening, November 9th, the United Baptist Church held a successful Congregational Social. A bountiful supper was served by the ladies at 6:30 o'clock. A part of the evening was spent in friendly social fellowship which was much enjoyed. The choir gave several selections, and at the close there was a singing of familiar hymns in which all took part. A generous offering was received for church purposes, and a very pleasant and profitable evening was spent.

Spencer Merry

The community of Port Wade was saddened on Sunday morning to learn of the death of Spencer Merry, a highly respected citizen who passed away on the previous evening at the age of 73 years. The deceased had been suffering from cancer of the stomach for some months, and his passing was not unexpected. He leaves to mourn a sorrowing wife, two sisters, Mrs.
Dimmock DeLong, of Mattapoisett, Mass., and Mrs. Robert Hardy, also of Massachusetts, besides other relatives in the United States. The funeral was held from his late residence, with interment in the cemetery of the United Baptist church.
His pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartinber, conducted the services and a mixed quartet sang very effectively "One Sweetly Solemn Thought." There were beautiful floral tributes.

A SAW MILL THAT CAN BE HAULED TO YOUR DOORYARD

Quite a new departure in the Saw Mill business has been brought about by the inventive genius of a Digby County man, Rufus W. Connor, and will be in operation on or about the 1st December throughout the country.

The mill, which is portable, has been assembled in the workshop of Mr. Connor at Chy-and-dour Farm, and is constructed in such a manner as will permit the sections to be loaded on auto truck.

Connor states that instead of the Farmer hauling logs to the mill, the mill will be hauled to the Farmer's door, or to a woodlot, or wherever the logs are barked, and there the timber will be sawn to any length or requirement. The carriage is 24 ft. and has a track of 70 ft. As stated before he intends to begin operating on the mill on the first of the month, and the several orders already received.

He wants the idea to be general, and for those who can, to place their logs as convenient to each other as possible on a certain place. The community spirit ought to prevail on this. At present he is trying to get a single mill of a convenient size to carry around with him; if not he will make one to suit the public purpose.

Rufus Connor is proud of the fact that he is a Nova Scotian and has the only mill of his kind built and operated in North America. He has named it the Enterprise Saw Mill. Here's wishing him every success in his enterprise.

Nova Scotians Win Places at Winter Fair

Hon. O. P. Goucher, Minister of Agriculture, was notified last week that the dairy cattle judging team from Nova Scotia at the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto, has been awarded second place in the judging competitions held there under the direction of the Canadian Council on Boys and Girls Club work. The poultry club team from Nova Scotia was given third place in the competitions.

The dairy cattle judging team was composed of two members of the Claridise Calf Club—Grant Phinney, 16 years and Bernard Longley, 17 years. The two members of the poultry judging team were John Proudfoot and K. Preston Murray, of the Salt Springs Poultry Club, both 16 years old.

The teams from Nova Scotia were accompanied to the Royal Winter Fair by C. Eric Boulden, Assistant Director of Extension, and M. D. McCharles, Agricultural Representative of Pictou.

An automobile proceeding down the church hill, at Weymouth North on Friday morning about 7 o'clock, failed to make the turn at the corner and ran down in the field between Mrs. H. A. Tooker's and Mrs. Jennie Gaudet's houses, coming to a stop in Mrs. Tooker's garden with the front wheels nearly over the bank. A team had to pull the car out before it could proceed on its way.

Will R. Bird Addresses Digby Audience

The Bijou Dream Theatre was well filled on Wednesday evening to hear Will R. Bird give his lecture, "Thirteen Years After." Mr. Bird is one of Canada's best known writers, his articles which appear from time to time in MacLean's Magazine, being well known to most of us. He is also a Nova Scotian, a native of Amherst.

His lecture was illustrated with one hundred lantern slides, made from actual photographs taken during the days of the war, and taken by himself on his return visit to the battlefields of Belgium and France thirteen years after. The contrast of those war-torn villages and cities left but a mass of debris, in contrast with the new and modern villages and cities which have sprung up on the same ruins since the war was shown.

He also showed pictures of beautiful cemeteries where sleep thousands of our Canadian boys who paid the supreme sacrifice, and pictures of beautiful monuments erected in their memory.

Before showing his slides, Mr. Bird gave a short address. He told of his search of records in Canada, England and France; he told us how workmen are still finding an average of about three thousand bodies a year on the battlefields, and how a surprisingly large number of these bodies are identified even at this late date.

Mr. Bird's lecture was one of the most stirring we have heard in Digby for many a day. It took the old soldiers back to France and Flanders in memory—it showed those of us who know so little of war except from what we read in our histories and books, something of its horror and desolation.

Mr. Bird's address was given under the auspices of the Digby Branch of the Canadian Legion.

HOW TO ECONOMIZE ON TEA

Many families today have to make their money go as far as possible and economize is the order of the day. When it comes to an article like tea, however, to buy a cheaper tea often means the sacrifice of the qualities that make the use of this beverage so gratifying. There is no need to drink teas that have not full flavor and cup quality, for if one who is accustomed to 40 cent tea he can get all that is desired in MORSE'S BLENDING TEA at 35 cents per pound package. So also MORSE'S STANDARD TEA has 50 cent quality at 45 cents a pound. Ever MORSE'S SELECTED ORANGE PEKOE at 75 cents a pound is economical, because its strength is such that so much does not need to be used and when the number of cups to the pound is counted it is found to cost no more per cup than many cheaper teas. The obvious answer to the question of getting the best tea value for the money is to use MORSE'S TEAS.

The lobster season in this district opens on Thursday next and will remain open for the next six months.

Married

McKay-Saunders

A wedding of much interest took place at the United Church parsonage, Yarmouth, on Friday last, when Rev. H. Thompson united in marriage Captain Walker McKay, of New York, and Miss Margaret Saunders, of Sandy Cove. The bride looked lovely in a gown of wine colored satin. Captain and Mrs. McKay left the same evening for Boston accompanied by Miss Jean Saunders, enroute for New York, where they will reside. Miss Saunders will spend some time with her aunt in New York. The bride was accompanied to Yarmouth from her home, by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Saunders, their daughter Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Merritt and Reginald Synner.

BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS AND HELP FIGHT TUBERCULOSIS

Dear Friend:—The year has rolled around and once again we are asked to help in the fight against the Tuberculosis germ among our people. Such small amount of money and effort for such a big work.

The Victorian Order of Nurses is sponsoring the sale of the Tuberculosis Christmas Seals and this will receive a share of the proceeds. The V. O. N. is still carrying on its good work of caring for the sick, helping the mothers to give the babies a healthy start in life and continuing this care in the checking up of the children in the school. Diet results would follow if the White Plague, Tuberculosis, were allowed to go on without any effort to check its course.

May we ask for your loyal co-operation and support in this campaign for selling the Tuberculosis Seals and thus helping the V. O. N. and the Anti-Tuberculosis work.

Faithfully yours,
(Signed) F. E. Bishop, Pres.
Victorian Order of Nurses.
(Signed) C. G. Cass, Pres.
N. S. Tuberculosis Com.

A number of seals have been mailed to citizens of the town, and the money for these will be collected by members of a V. O. N. committee, on Saturday, December 3rd. Kindly reserve your collection and surplus seals (if any) until called for on that date.

In 1931 the V. O. N. expended their proportion of the receipts on milk for under-privileged children in the schools. It is noteworthy that these children gained in health and weight during the time the milk was thus provided.

Why Keep Men Away From Work?

To the Editor of The Courier.
Sir:—Will you please send me a small space in your valuable paper to ask our Councilors a few questions?

How is it, that they will exempt some people from taxes and let the town feed them—people who have hardly tried to help themselves? Is their property any better than mine? If I cannot pay my taxes, down comes a constable who takes something to pay. I have nothing to say against the sick, aged, or crippled. If these men I refer to cannot look after their families, put them in the Alma House and let them feed themselves and pay his taxes and help feed his family. If a man has worked and got a dollar to pay taxes, has he got to send it to Digby to feed his neighbour who never did? When times were good they just belonged to the "Sunbeam Class." I think it is getting to be a disease like the I. W. W. and it is spreading pretty fast. Our Councilors are a little hasty in voting these bills to be paid. If they would investigate a little before they would find out who they are, maybe the County tax would not be quite so high. Will they cancel a man's tax if he takes the last dollar to get a mouthful to eat, in order to keep off the town? No! But they will feed some men still able to work and cancel his taxes, too. What good encouragement for the working man, to work like hell and feed his neighbor who won't work. Why not join him and have a good time boasting about it! It is alright for some who will profit by the time while the others lose. A man that is a man does not want to do such a thing, but if it is going to be so easy and nice, we will have quite a good class of the I. W. W.

Harness Torn Off Horse In Train-Wagon Crash

A tragedy was narrowly averted in Digby Saturday when the shunting train was brought to a stop just in time to prevent crushing a horse and team with two occupants. The shunter had left the station and was on the way down to the government pier, the engine pushing the cars. At the same time a horse-team, with a young man named Height, of Tidville driving, and his groom on the seat with him, were coming up from the wharf.

The driver of the train started to cross the track at Water street but evidently failed to see the approaching train. The trainmen, alive to the danger, had the brakes applied quickly and the train came to a crashing stop, but not in time to avoid a slight collision. The horse, apparently very nervous, had balked and the first car struck the wagon on a glancing blow just as the train came to a stop. By the barest fraction a tragedy was averted. Some of the harness torn off the horse and one broken wheel was the sum of the damage.

TRIGGER FINGER ITCH

The hunting season closed on November 15. We have not as yet seen the final figures giving the number of moose and deer killed in the province, but, according to the press, hunting accidents cost the lives of eight men in this little province, many more were injured in one way or another. To us it seems as though we have paid dearly for this much cherished sport.

In most cases these accidents were entirely through carelessness, too many people carry guns during the hunting season who should not be trusted with a jack-knife, too many shoot first and look after it is too late, too often that shot has cost a human life or has maimed a fellow-man.

Are we content to allow this to continue season after season? Of course it is as impossible to check human carelessness altogether, but nevertheless something can be done. Warnings appear to have but little effect. Every year the press and sportsmen's committees have advised hunters to make certain of what they are shooting at before they shoot—and every year there is the same tragic story, men are shot and too often killed because somebody "thought" they saw a deer, or a moose, or something—too often the authorities are content to let it go at that.

There should be no beating around the bush when human life and safety are at stake. Any man who is careless enough to kill another in mistake for game should be guilty of manslaughter—any man who wounds another should be penalized for his carelessness, and not leniently!

We do not contend that the majority of the hunters who enter the woods are this careless type; in fact we feel positive that the great majority are careful, sane men, who look before they shoot, but there are those few who think they are justified in shooting at every little movement in the bush, who are responsible for most of this tragedy. We feel that this type of "sportsmen" wouldn't have such a severe case of "trigger finger itch" if they knew that a stiff sentence awaited them should the moose they "thought" they saw, be a man.

A young woman whose beauty was equal to her bluntness in conversation was visiting a house where other guests were assembled, among them being the eldest son of a wealthy manufacturer. The talk turned on matrimonial squabbles. Said the young man:

"I hold that the thing for the husband to do is to begin as he intends to go on. Suppose the question was one of smoking? I would at once show my intention by lighting a cigar, thus settling the question forever."

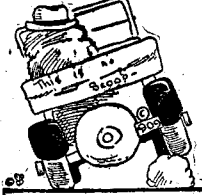

"And I," said the young woman, "would at once knock the thing out of your mouth."

"Do you know," rejoined the young man, thoughtfully, "I don't think you would be there."

An Idea

A certain enterprising poultry man has crossed his hens with parrots to save time. He used to hunt around for the eggs, but now the hens walk up to him and say: "Hank I just laid an egg. Go get it."

Church Point Family Descendant From The Fifth Prince Murat

A press despatch announces the death of Prince Joachim Murat, as having taken place on November 2, at the Castle of Chambly, Oise, France. He was the fifth Prince Murat. His father, also Prince Joachim, was born at Bardonecchia, N. J., a descendant of Caroline Bonaparte, Napoleon's sister, wife of the first Prince Murat, born in 1769 at La Bastide-Murat and who from stable boy became a marshal of France and King of Naples.

Saw Opportunity
It appears that in the fall of 1789 a certain Pierre Murat, nephew of the Joachim Murat who was later to become a prince and a king besides the best cavalry leader of Napoleon's armies, seeing a good opportunity for opening a line of trade with the West Indies, accompanied by his young wife, sailed from France for Boston in his own vessel. Three days before reaching port his delicate wife presented him with their first born child on November 22, the patronal feast of St. Cecilia, and for that reason received the name of Cecilia at her baptism.

To Nova Scotia
Pierre Murat subsequently came to Nova Scotia and when leaving with his vessel to return to Boston left young Cecilia with a friend, also from France, Casimir LeBlanc. Cecilia was not to see her father again as on the return trip the vessel was lost with all on board.

She married later Jean Baptiste Melanson, an Acadian of Church Point. She had thirteen children: Amanda, (unmarried); Rosalie, married to Joshua Potter; Marie, married to Sylvain Potter; Joseph, married to Suzanne Melanson; Pierre, married to Jean Belliveau; Jean Baptiste, married to Marguerite Belliveau; Charles, married to Helene Belliveau; Marguerite Sophie, married to James V. Stuart; Mande, married to Celeste Surette; Madeleine, married to Joseph LeBlanc; Augustin, married to Chantal Bournais; Rosalie, married to Francois Bournais; Remi, (unmarried).

Has Grandchildren
There are yet two granddaughters of Cecilia Murat living, Mrs. John Belliveau of Church Point, and her sister, Sister Bernard, of the Sisters of Charity at Mount St. Vincent; two grandsons, Louis A. Melanson, postmaster of Church Point, and his brother, William, also of Church Point.

Francois Murat, wife of Pierre Murat, who did not come to Nova Scotia with her husband, returned to France after the death of her husband without again seeing her daughter Cecilia.

Mrs. John Belliveau still has in her possession a letter written by her great grandmother to her daughter, Cecilia, dated from Bayonne, France, March 24, 1810.

The maid was sent to answer an imperative ring on the telephone.

"Yas'm," her mistress heard her say. And a second time:

"Yas'm." Then she added:

"It sho is," and hung up.

The telephone rang again immediately and the girl made identically the same replies, then disconnected.

"What kind of a conversation was that, Lucy?" she was asked. "What did they want?"

"Well, they asked if this was the Smith house, and I said, 'Yas'm,' and then they asked if Mrs. Smith was home, and I told 'em 'Yas'm,' the girl answered. "Then they said 'It's a long distance from Washington,' and I said, 'It sho was.'"

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

"We that pass down life's hours so carelessly,

Might make the dusty way a path of flowers.

If we would try,

Then every gentle deed we've done,

or kind word given,

Wrought into gold would make us wondrous rich in Heaven.

The men may have their little individual ways with flies and bees, but the ladies also have their own codes. What about the English, Irish and Scottish Hostesses for instance? The guest who found she had no sugar in her tea, applying to the first, would be told: "Oh, my dear, I am sorry; pass your cup and let me give you some." The Irish Hostess under the same circumstances would respond: "Och, darlin' here's the basin; help yourself!" But the Scottish Hostess would say: "Maybe ye havena sair-red it."

NEW LOW RATE FOR AGRICULTURAL LIMESTONE

The Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture announces that higher agricultural limestone is now available to the farmers of this Province at a new low rate of $3.00 per ton in bulk or $4.00 per ton in bags in minimum carloads of 20 tons, and, if desired, on a deferred payment plan.

This is good news to the farmers of Nova Scotia. Lime is the foundation of successful live stock raising and is absolutely necessary on the acid soils of Nova Scotia, if profitable crops of clover, alfalfa or mixed hay are to be grown. In almost every instance the failure of these crops in Nova Scotia is due to lack of lime. As all growing animals require lime for the proper development of bone, it follows that foods deficient in lime will produce undersized animals. Moreover, limestone helps to control chlamydia in turkeys and cabbage and used with fertilizer builds up the fertility of the soil.

All correspondence should be addressed to The Secretary, Agricultural Limestone Board, Pugwash. (See advertisement in another column.)

Greta Signs Off

At Ottawa the recognized custom has been that when the Prime Minister wishes to get in touch with a department the approach is made first to the minister in charge and the message passed on down the official avenue until it reaches the party concerned. This is too cumbersome a method for Premier Bennett needing certain information, he telephoned directly to the man in charge, whose girl secretary answered the call. After listening to concise instructions as to what was wanted, the girl drawled: "And who's speaking?" "The Prime Minister," was the sharp reply. "Oh, is it?" said the amused secretary. "Well, this is Greta Garbo signing off."—(Halifax Chronicle.)

2 WAYS at once!

More and more mothers every year turn to the double action of Vicks VapoRub in checking colds, coughs, sore throat and spasmodic croup.

Rubbed on throat and chest at bedtime, Vicks acts through the skin like a plaster. At the same time, its medicated vapors, released by the heat of the body, are inhaled direct to the air-passages.

This double action of Vicks breaks up congestion and eases breathing, thus preventing the night coughs which so often rob both mother and child of restful sleep.

BRIGHTON-BARTON SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY CLUB

The first regular meeting of the Brighton-Barton School and Community Club was held at the home of the acting president, Mrs. Krausnick, recently. It was decided to have meetings once a month in Brighton and Barton, alternately, and to meet on the first Friday of every month. The next meeting will be at the teachers, Vista Cottage, in Barton, on Friday, December 2, at 8 p. m.

Plans were discussed for supporting worthy projects in school and community and there was a worthwhile exchange of ideas on civic betterment. It was decided to support to the utmost the Christmas concert of the school, and to support the pupils and teachers in their effort to improve and plant the school grounds. In the absence of any members of the School Board of Trustees, certain projects wherein the club hopes to act as the voice of the community, were laid aside for further consideration at the next meeting. However, an emergency request for the protection of the health of the children was made. It was requested that the floors of the school be oiled to eliminate the dust in the school-rooms. A committee consisting of Mrs. G. Adams, Mrs. Sam Cosman and Mrs. Adolphe Specht was appointed to lay this matter before the trustees.

Other committees appointed were an Improvement Committee consisting of William Mullen, Gifford d'Amboise, and Harley Westcott; Constitution Committee: Mrs. E. Trevo, Miss Brooks, Mrs. G. ENJOYABLE BIRTHDAY PARTY AT BURTONVALE

A number of friends and relatives of Mrs. John McConeill gathered at her home in Burtonvale on November 15th, to celebrate the occasion of her 80th birthday. The party consisted of Mrs. John McConeill, Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard Grant, Mrs. Haines Marshall, Mrs. Charlie Journeay, Miss Nell Journeay, Mrs. W. H. Moore, Mrs. Killam, Miss Helen Taylor, L. W. Jones and Frank E. Goodwin.

At 10:30 the birthday cake, decorated with flowers and ferns, and blazing with candles was put upon the table and the guests sat down to a cheerful repast. "For the laughter that attends the meeting of old friends, is the sweetest happiness sound this earth can hold."

Mr. Jones at the right hand of the hostess, was toast master, and after the toasts had been skilfully responded to, the guests rendered Mrs. McConeill's favourite songs as she named them, "Old Uncle Ned," "Rosin the Beau," "Old Dog Tray," and "Auld Lang Syne." (By-the-way, are trise any old hunters in Weymouth now who would know the location of the camp called "Rosin the Beau"?)

Mrs. McConeill maintains an interest in all the news of today, and that with her wonderful memory of past events, makes her a most interesting companion.

Her guests agreed that she is doing pretty well--starting on the eighties--but nothing to be stuck-up about. Look at the Countess of Desmond "who lived to the age of a hundred and ten and died of a fall from a cherry tree trunk" and the Hon. Katherine Plunkett "who passed out" last month in Ireland, aged 112. So when they made their adieu at midnight, they were each and all wishing Mrs. McConeill many Happy Returns of the Day.

A Favor

Is thy friend angry with thee? Then provide him an opportunity of showing thee a great favor. Over his heart must needs melt, and he will love thee again--Richter.

AGRICULTURAL LIMESTONE

$3.00 PER TON

$1.50 CASH, $1.50 Nov. 1st Next

The Government of Nova Scotia has established a plant at Pugwash for the purpose of making high-class agricultural limestone available to farmers at a minimum cost.

A uniform price of $2.00 per ton in bulk has been established for minimum carload lots of 20 tons delivered at any railway station in Nova Scotia. In 100-lb. bags, $1.00 per ton extra.

Farmers who desire to do so may purchase this limestone for delivery during the next six months on a basis of $1.50 per ton cash, balance payable on November 1st, 1933, with interest at 5 per cent. Outstanding accounts to be secured by approved notes.

Agricultural limestone is absolutely necessary on the acid soils of Nova Scotia for profitable crops of clover, alfalfa, and mixed hay. It is the foundation of successful live stock raising. For alfalfa, sweet clover and red clover, the average soil requires up to 4 tons per acre.

For other cultivated crops (except potatoes) up to 2 tons per acre.

For pastures from 1 to 2 tons per acre.

Agricultural Limestone may be supplied to good advantage at any time—even on the snow. A sample of limestone and literature regarding its value will be supplied by Agricultural Representatives.

Shipments can be made at any time—send your order NOW to

Miss Jessie Marie De Both makes her delicious

Apple Dumplings
with Magic Baking Powder

When a housewife asks me what baking powder she should use," says Miss De Both, director of the famous De Both Home Makers' Cooking Schools, "this is my advice: Use the best—one that is pure, uniform and invariably dependable. You can't use second-rate baking powder and expect first-rate results.

"My experience with Magic has been particularly happy. I find that it never varies—that it is consistently reliable. And I know it is pure, and free from harmful ingredients."

Statements by other well-known cookery authorities give wholehearted support to Miss De Both's judgment.

In fact, the majority of dietitians and cookery teachers throughout Canada use and recommend Magic exclusively.

Apple Dumplings

Mrs. Carr Finds Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Wonderfully Beneficial in Restoring Strength

Feels Quite Improved

"I am a middle-aged woman, married 12 years. I have a weak heart and sometimes get so weak I can hardly move," writes Mrs. H. Carr, Port Carleton, Ont. "I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they have been a wonderful tonic to me. After taking three boxes, I feel quite improved and am able to walk again. I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a great blessing to humanity."

Mrs. Carr's high praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is typical of what thousands of other grateful women have written. These pills actually create the rich red blood which is lacking in run-down, exhausted systems. Growing girls in great numbers have found Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a veritable blessing. Older people have equal need of them. Get a supply from your druggist, 50c. a package.

Obituary

Mrs. Ina Frances Hunt

The death occurred at Waterford, Digby County, early Thursday morning of last week, of Ina Frances Hunt, aged 71 years, widow of the late Rev. Mr. Hunt, a former pastor on the Digby Neck Baptist Church Circuit.

She was the daughter of the late Hadley Westcott and Sarah Anne (Cornwell) Westcott, and was born at Waterford. The funeral took place on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. William Nelson

The death of Mrs. William Nelson took place at the home of her sister, Mrs. Leander F. Deveau, of Lake Doucet, Wednesday last, at the age of 74 years.

Mrs. Nelson, whose maiden name was Miss Adele Doucet, was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Anstin F. Doucet, and was born at Lake Doucet. Her husband, a native of England, predeceased her some twenty years.

Deceased was residing in Malden, Mass., but passed the summers in her native place. She had been in very poor health for some time. In religion she was a Roman Catholic. She was of a quiet and amiable disposition and had many friends.

Mrs. Nelson is survived by two sons, Charles and James Nelson, in the United States; and one daughter, Mrs. F. A. Hayden, of Malden, Mass., who came over for the funeral; one brother, Germaine Doucet, of Mexico, Conn., and two sisters, Mrs. Leander F. Deveau and Mrs. Leon S. Deveau, both of Lake Doucet.

The funeral took place Friday morning from St. Vincent de Paul Church, at Salmon River, the Rev. Fr. A. Maillet, rector, officiating.

These rafts, coming down the river on an ebb tide, manned by a crew of husky raftsmen, with forty-foot poles with which they gave the raft more speed and kept it from going ashore, was a sight long to be remembered and boys seeking adventure often yearned for a trip on one of those rafts but boys were seldom allowed and few ever got the chance to travel that way.

A large and sturdy man was A. C. Gates, his huge bulk taking up more of the seat in that one-horse buggy which he delighted to drive down to the "Bridge" every week day, for his mail and a chat, with his friends.

He had a heart in keeping with the rest of his make-up; a kindly boss, but a boss none the less. When he had anything on his mind that needed expression that particular thing was usually expressed in plain and understandable language, not always poetic.

When a certain countryman of his attempted to dispute his ledger account and began marking up the book with pencillings there was making a "mess of the Gates' accounting system. Brother Gates cracked down on the coo of his Yankee friend with a hickory buggy spoke, accompanied by appropriate language, then and there creating a bump of caution where no bump of caution had hitherto existed.

And making a lasting impression upon the mind of the scribbler, incidentally proving that there are times when direct action is more effective than poetic license.

That delightful character, Scattergood Baines, in Clarence B. Kendall's stories in the American Magazine, reminds me very much of A. C. Gates, for his Yankee shrewdness and his ideas of business, charity and general conduct are in many ways similar to those of our poetic old friend of the United States.

I suppose that there are some people left in Weymouth who, when they were boys, took pleasure in visiting and standing around the blacksmith shop of William Moore, sr., watching the horse shoeing and ox shoeing and perhaps taking note of little interest in the drawing out of an axe or the welding of a point on a crow-bar, the tempering of tools in the old water tub beside the anvil and shrinking of heavy steel on ox cart and buggy wheels.

A skilled workman was the blacksmith of those days and one who could handle any job of iron and steel work, large or small, that came to his shop; such a skilled workman was William Moore, the dean of Weymouth's blacksmiths at that time.

In addition to that he was a most lovable gentleman, kindly, honest, generous and good natured, with his keen sense of humor. What a laugh he must have gotten from reading the "hoss shoe order" from his old friend, A. C. Gates.

Mr. Moore was also a devout churchman, always in his seat at St. Thomas' church on Sunday morning and evening. Service would have seemed incomplete had he not been there to do his part in receiving the offering of the faithful.

I wonder whether the Moore shop is still standing and, if so, whether the pictures of the "Mountain Meadow Massacre by the Mormons" are still hanging on the walls. Those pictures used to give me the "jimmies" and I little thought at that time that some day I would live among the Mormon people and travel over the very ground where that terrible massacre took place.

If oxen are still being used in Weymouth and blacksmith shops have not all been turned into garages, I suppose there are still in use those contraptions into which they inveigle the poor ox and hoist him off his feet, to manure his nails, pare his horns and fit him out with a new pair of shoes. My recollection is that the ox always objected to the treatment that he received at the hands of the manicurists, chiropodists and foot specialists, and often tried to kick his way out and wreck the shop.

Well, some of us humans, even in these days, frequently feel that we too, have reason to kick when we have been "held up" and "trimmed" and turned loose with a punch in the ribs to make room for the next ox with sore feet and a trusting nature.

Here in California we are getting back to the old days of trade and barter. A shipment of twenty tons of Southern California oranges to be exchanged for Northern California potatoes was on the road north to-day, and a lady advertiser in our local paper said she had a lot of home made pickles and preserves that she would trade for clothing or what have you.

A few nights ago a bold run runner nosed into a quiet little bay on the Sonoma County coast a few miles north of San Francisco and very quickly unloaded 400 cases of very choice liquor—some of it allegedly Canadian Club, leaving three of his crew to watch the shipment and a few miles and awaited arrival of a friendly bootlegger, who soon came driving up with two automobiles and three big trucks, to take delivery of the contraband booty. But just then a Coastguard squad swooped down and gathered in the entire outfit—400 cases and everything. The run runner, observing that something had gone wrong, drew in and opened fire on the coast guards and prohibition agents, who immediately returned the fire and forced the runner to put to sea, leaving behind him refreshments having a market value of some twenty-five thousand dollars which will be poured into the sewer a little later if it is not stolen in the meantime from a government warehouse.

Hard times for the poor run runner, who finds the cost of doing business so high in such dull times, and too bad for those who were planning on having some "real" stuff to speed up the whirl of gaiety at their Thanksgiving party, but a fifty night's work for the coastguard crew. Once in a while the guard manages to do a little business and win a little glory.

Smuggling seems to be just as exciting as it ever was in the days of Peter Trent, and more profitable. And many there are in these days who crave both excitement and profit and possibly reward.

The California coast of over a thousand miles is not very thoroughly patrolled either by land or by sea. The land forces are few and scattered, the patrol boats consist of four or five revenue cutters. Smugglers therefore find it fairly easy to evade capture and their business is said to be reasonably profitable, if one thousand percent can be considered a fair mark-up price on the commodity handled.

It is a fact that the United States government maintains a battle fleet of fifty ships of various types in active service on this coast and has one hundred and more destroyers and chasers suitable for coast guard service. That are now rusting away in Pacific coast navy yards, does not worry the run runner at all, for he knows that they are not likely to be used to interfere with his business.

We wonder why not?

Oh, well it does seem that prohibition laws never were intended to be completely and entirely enforced and it is equally apparent that there is and always has been and always will be a fairly large percentage of people of all grades of society who will have their "licker" at any cost.

Do you remember how the law worked in the old "Scott Act" days? If you remember that perhaps you can imagine what 400 cases of liquor—Holland gin for instance—would have done at an election in the old days. Just think what 400 of those bright green cases, containing 4,800 "square faces" of one quart each, properly placed at the proper time, would have done for any candidate.

Word comes from Los Angeles that one Frank J. Parker, of Montreal, head of a $40,000,000 Canadian distillery combine, is in Southern California to see about buying two or three breweries.

Parker says he has already invested a million and a half dollars in brewery plants in the United States, and has options on seven plants and expects to acquire twelve more in a short time.

At last I have gotten to see that much ballyhooed picture "Grand Hotel" for the small sum of a quarter of a dollar—and I am sure glad that I did not pay more. Early this year when it was first thrown upon the screen the price of admission was $1.00 to $1.50 per ticket and we were blithely informed that if we did not see it at these prices we would probably not see it at all.

It is one of those hotel affairs between a commercial traveller and a public stenographer, a gambler and an actress mean anything to the public at large and that is about all there is to the plot of "Grand Hotel."

We will publish an account of this meeting in next week's issue.

Dr. Ferguson, of Weymouth, was the speaker at the regular luncheon of the Kiwanis Club, on the Princess Helen, on Monday. His address was very interesting and instructive. There was a good attendance and, as usual, the luncheon was a very enjoyable one.

Rev. Clyde W. Robbins, pastor of the First Church, Westboro, Mass., and formerly pastor of the Digby Baptist Church, is presently called on to address fraternal organizations.

On Sunday, Nov. 13, he spoke on "The Glory of the Grange," at the annual church service of the Norfolk Grange, and on the following Wednesday he addressed Trinity Community of Hudson on "The Meaning of Masonry."

Major, J. Schein, of Church Point, was the guest speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon at Yarmouth on Monday of last week. The subject of his talk was "The Foundation of New France's Settlement Back of Weymouth in 1895."

Mrs. Ralph Mullen, of Weymouth North, spent the week-end of the 13th, in Digby, a guest of Miss Edith Mullen, returning home on Monday. Mr. Mullen accompanied by his daughter, Louise, and Mrs. Elvin Marshall, of Ashmore, spent Monday with Miss Mullen, returning the same day.

China's first woman barrister, Mrs. Lo Soon Kim Teo, was among the passengers aboard the Empress of Russia, recently sailing from Vancouver. Mrs. Teo obtained her legal training in England and is attached to the Hong Kong bar.

The Canadian people seem to have developed a considerable taste for macaroni, vermicelli, spaghetti and the like Italian food preparations. Output of 14 Canadian factories in 1931 was 20,211,423 pounds as compared with 16,819,625 lbs. in 1930.

With Remembrance Day in our minds, it is timely to recall the brief epitome of Canada's part in the war inscribed on a tablet in the House of Parliament at Ottawa:—"Six hundred twenty-eight thousand, six hundred forty-two bore the badge of Canada in the Great War; sixty thousand six hundred sixty-one met death and passed on."

Good hunting is reported from the Bates Camp, near Matagorda, Ontario, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, seventy miles east of Sudbury. Moose and deer are very numerous close to the camp and in one morning a couple of U. S. hunters secured a fine bull moose and a deer. They killed to the limit of their licenses within a few days.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

We Were Misinformed

To the Editor of The Courier, Sir:—Kindly allow me space in your paper to contradict an erroneous statement published in your issue of the 18th inst., when the following editorial appeared:

"Robert Russell has resigned the postmastership of Conway and has been succeeded by James Wolf."

Although I have worked in my humble way in the interest of the Conservative party for a quarter of a century, the above statement would naturally lead the public to believe that I am one of the "favorite few" in the eyes of the local Conservative patronage committee.

In fact, Mr. Editor, I have never received a government appointment from the Conservative party; my last appointment was as Harbor Master for Digby, which I received from the Union Government, and I was relieved of my duties immediately after the Rt. Hon. MacKenzie King first became Premier of Canada.

As erroneous editorials are very misleading to the public, as well as detrimental to the columns of your valuable paper, I respectfully request that you will find space to publish the above contradiction.

Yours truly, Capt. Robert R. Russell Conway, Nov. 21, 1932.

(Our information came from one of Mr. Russell's own family, so naturally we thought it was correct—Editor Courier.)

The ordinary monthly meeting of the Town Council was held on Monday evening. The Mayor, P. W. Holdsworth, presided. A sympathetic reference was made by the Mayor to the late P. W. Nichols, ex-Councillor, ex-Mayor in some of Digby's most strenuous years. Secretary to the Board of Trade, and one foremost in all that tended to the good of the town. He had the respect of the citizens worthily, and the Mayor desired his word of appreciation and sympathy with the bereaved to be incorporated in the Minutes. The Town Clerk stated that Mr. Nichols had ever been willing to give information relative to Town matters and he would like to associate his remarks with those made before. The Superintendent of Water reported that Lily Lake was overflowing and the system was in good order and had been wholly flushed.

Fritz Dakin and A. R. Turnbull appeared before the Council to sustain an application made by the Digby Music Council for permission to use the old Electric Light Station for a Band Room; it was stated that the room could be put in good condition, with new floor, etc., for $100; after discussion it was unanimously agreed to grant the permission asked for, and to do the necessary repairs providing they did not cost more than the sum stated.

A resolution from the Board of Trade confirming a previous one relative to the permanent paving of Montague Row, Water Street and Birch Street was received, and the Chairman of the Streets Committee—Councillor Morrell said the money that was expended from year to year on Water Street was practically

Fish and Game Association Hold Annual Meet

The annual meeting of the Annapolis-Digby Fish and Game Association was held in the Court House, Digby, on Thursday evening of last week with a splendid attendance.

After the opening routine, reading of the minutes, etc., the following officers were elected:—

President—Rev. A. W. L. Smith, Clementsport.

Vice-President—T. E. G. Lynch, Digby.

Secretary—V. L. Harris, Bear River.

Directors — P. W. Holdsworth, Digby; Dr. Hallett, Weymouth; John Piggott, Bridgetown; Loran Harris, Annapolis Royal; P. B. Armour, Middleton.

Auditors—F. H. Hatheway and Dr. Lovett, Bear River.

Delegates to the Nova Scotia Fish and Game Association—F. H. Hatheway, Bear River; A. Kelsall, Annapolis Royal.

Alternate Delegates—P. L. Anderson, Digby; Frank H. Dittmar, Deep Brook.

Considerable time was taken in the routine business of the meeting such as the report of the President, which contained a number of recommendations which were considered later; the report of the secretary-treasurer given by V. L. Harris; and the report of the delegates to the last session of the Nova Scotia Association at Halifax, given by Frank H. Dittmar.

John McGowan, of Bear River, reported on the moose situation, as he had found it, during the season just closed. He reviewed the old days, when caribou abounded, and said that the law to protect them had been put in effect too late—the caribou had gone. All the guides he had talked with this year reported that the moose were disappearing and could not be found in their usual haunts. Something drastic should be done to protect this game animal or they will be going the same way as the caribou.

The discussion which followed was taken part in by a number, after which Dr. Lovett moved and John McGowan seconded a resolution to the effect that this association is absolutely opposed to the killing of deer and cow moose, and that the government be urged to bring down legislation to stop it.

The resolution passed unanimously.

F. J. Dittmar moved that the Annapolis-Digby Association go on record as absolutely approving of legislation penalizing a man who shot another in mistake for game by depriving him of all shooting rights for at least ten years.

P. W. Holdsworth seconded the resolution which passed unanimously.

Dr. MacGregor reviewed the trout situation as he had found it, and a report as to the number of fingerlings which had been placed in the main college building, in the district.

The department was read by Mr. Morgan.

S. G. Parker reported on the salmon fishing in the Annapolis River, and P. H. Hatheway of Bear River, reported on woodcock and partridge.

Is Saved by Prompt Action

St. Anne's College narrowly escaped a disastrous fire on Monday. At about 5.30 p. m. Vincent Melanson, electrician, coming home from Meteghan saw, when about a mile from college, a fire on the roof of the main building. It could have been mistaken for a large electric light, but Mr. Melanson, having himself installed the electric system in the college, knew that there had never been a light there. Arriving at the college he took an extinguisher from Rev. Father Cotreau and hastened to the roof, where he found a lively fire that had broken through. The fire was soon extinguished as help arrived very quickly.

It was then discovered that the fire was caused by a candle driven from the furnace by a newly erected blower which has to be used all this time.

PROUD OF THEIR BAND ROOM

The Band is elated with the immediate prospect of a first-class Band Room and the boys are impatient to get down to real work to re-ether. The Town Council could have made no better use of the old Electric Light Building than to set it aside for Band purposes, and when necessary repairs are completed and a coat of paint applied, it will be a credit to the town. It has been suggested that the bandmen get together early in the spring and fix up the grounds nicely with grass and flowers, so that travellers passing through on trains will see a pretty garden spot in place of the drab old structure they remember in years past. Having a nice clean room all their own, the boys will take pride in it, and it will be easy for them to appreciate that a band room is not a play house or gymnasium but a work room and a home. The boys will be pleased with anything Digby people may contribute toward fixing up and equipping their rooms.

DEATH OF JESSE V. JEFFERSON SHOCKS COMMUNITY

Jesse V. Jefferson, well-known lumber operator, was found dead in his garage at the Racquette at about 9.30 on Friday morning of last week. Mr. Jefferson left his home about 5.30, and when he did not appear for breakfast to give his employees their duties for the day, Mrs. Jefferson became alarmed. A search was organized, and the body was found in the garage by Frank Gates, of Hill Grove. Mr. Jefferson had taken his own life by hanging.

He was born at Bear River 42 years ago. About eighteen years ago he came to Digby and bought a farm across the Racquette, next to the Pine Hotel property. He specialized in dairy farming, was proprietor of a large milk route here.

Mr. Jefferson was also interested in a number of other local enterprises, and during the past few years has operated lumber mills in various parts of Digby and Annapolis Counties, at South Range, he operated on an extensive scale. He was also proprietor of a fox ranch in connection with his farm at the Racquette.

Last summer Mr. Jefferson built a large garage and service station near the Racquette bridge. Above this building was an up-to-date dance hall, where dances were held every week—the last one being on the night before his death. He was also building several cottages of bungalow type.

Funeral services were held from Keens Mortuary Chapel on Sunday afternoon, Rev. E. W. Forbes officiating. Interment was at Clementsville.

Mr. Jefferson is survived by his widow.

The shores of the Annapolis Basin were lashed during the past day or two by one of the most terrific storms since the great storm of March, 1930. During the storm, one of the highest in months, at noon Wednesday, breakers were washing over Digby's main business thoroughfare. The new breakwater, put down to replace the one washed away by the big storm of two years ago, withstood the battering. The S. S. Princess Helene, from Saint John, which arrived here on time, was unable to dock. The steamer anchored in the stream under the protection of the North Mountain on the Granville Shore, where she remained until an early hour yesterday morning. No damage was done along Digby Neck, although fears were held for the newly constructed breakwater at East Ferry.

BETWEEN OURSELVES

Hockey—the king of our winter sports—is very much in the limelight these days. The sport pages of the daily press are already filled with hockey news, and it looks like keen competition all round this winter. The big question of the day, insofar as we are concerned—is—When are the Digby Ravens going to get started?—or are they?

We have heard some talk that the Ravens will not re-organize again this winter!—then, on the other hand, we have heard that they will "be up and at it" within a few weeks. The arguments we have listened to, both pro and con, sound reasonable, but, just what will be the outcome?

Why it was done, we don't know, but somehow we feel that when the Digby Ravens left the Western Valley League a few years ago, and this little league comprising Les Academics, of Church Point, the Digby Ravens and Bear River, was formed, one of the greatest mistakes in local amateur hockey was made. Perhaps it couldn't be helped, but that is the way we feel about it.

There is no denying the fact that Les Academics have the makings of one of the fastest teams in the province—that the Bear River boys can put up a mighty good scrap and that their strength will increase year by year, but both of these teams have been a "walk-over" for the Ravens. Competition would be much more evenly divided if the Ravens could cross sticks with the stronger western Valley teams, and should the Ravens get into the semi-finals and finals—which they have managed to do for many years back—their experience would place them in much better position to meet the "big fellows" when they call for a "show down".

And while we are talking about hockey, we might say that we notice the teams on Digby Neck particularly, are getting ready for action when the time comes. They are raising funds in this way and that, and perhaps we can look forward to a snappy Digby Neck Junior League this winter. More power to them.

Let's jump from hockey to summer. June 1st, 1933, will be the 150th anniversary of the landing of the United Empire Loyalists at Digby—known as Conway then. At the last meeting of the Digby Board of Trade the first steps were taken to arrange for something in the way of a celebration. A temporary committee was appointed to look into the ways and means, and will report back to the Board next month. Everybody in Digby should get behind this movement and help to make it the biggest success of its kind the town has ever known!

Personally, we would like next summer to be "an old home summer" in commemoration of this historic event, starting with a fitting celebration on June 1st, the date of the anniversary, then for a week, keep up the good old carnival spirit. After that keep things lively enough so that our visitors will have something more to do than just look at the scenery, and wind up at the end of the summer with an honest to goodness Digby exhibition.

Of course, our ideas and the ideas of others may be vastly different, but when the time comes, and the celebration programme is fully decided upon, we'll do our share.

Speaking of doing our share have you ever heard people say why it was that the people of Digby don't have an annual big time, such as a regatta, as in the good old days of yore? I wonder if I would be treading on anyone's corns should I express myself and say that most of those who ask that question are always the ones who are "too busy" to do a hand's turn when they are called upon. They love the celebrations, but prefer to let "George" do all the work—and the local "Georges" who have served on these com-mittens year after year got fed up on shouldering all the responsibility for the success of the show and bearing the brunt of the criticism afterward.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

We can't sow a thistle and reap a rose.

We can't sow a carrot and reap a beet.

We can't sow friendship and reap us foes.

For with what measure we give, we mete.

We can't put nothing in life and live.

We can't get something where nothing is set.

For we only get from life what we give.

And the more we put in the more we get.

SHOOT'S RATTLESNAKE OFF EMPLOYEE'S CHEST

The old story of William Tell and the apple is tame compared to a recent variation of the theme enacted on the J. R. Riley ranch near Astor, Calif.

An employee of the Riley ranch decided to sleep under the stars.

Riley found him sleeping peacefully with a rattlesnake curled on his chest.

Riley hurried for his rifle, cautiously approached the snake and shot off its head. The hired man woke up uninjured.

(By G. R. T.)

Browsing around in the Public Library one evening recently, I came across a book entitled, "The Tourists' Maritime Provinces," by Ruth Kedzie Wood, written in 1914 and published in 1915. I suppose many of you have read it. If not, you may get a considerable amount of enjoyment and interesting information from reading it now, and when you get through you may want to read it a second time.

The book contains much history and is very complete in its descriptions of how to get to Nova Scotia and what the traveller will see when he gets there. The writer must have spent a good deal of time in Eastern Canada, and appears to have visited nearly every town, village and settlement in it, making a side trip to the islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon, which she calls a land of Fog, Fish and Frenchmen. Three chapters are used in telling us about Newfoundland, also, and from those 56 pages I have learned a more about that country than I had ever known before.

Weymouth and other places in Digby County are frequently mentioned, and so are Sandy Cove, Mink Cove, and even Hectanooga.

Of Weymouth I find the description "Weymouth is mainly interesting to the tourist as a basic point for excursions on St. Mary's Bay and through the country of the returned Acadicians as far as Church Point. The town about the railway station is properly called Weymouth Bridge; two miles distant is Weymouth Village, at the mouth of the River Wey, which the Indians named Sissiboo, probably a contraction of Siks Hibou (Six Owls).

"On the shady corner, near the station, if 'Goodwin's,' an inn patronized for its chicken dinners and generous country fare.

"Sissiboo Falls, two miles above Weymouth Bridge, and the lakes about New Tuskett are attractive goals for drives with horse or motor."

I have never heard of our river being called anything but Sissiboo, but possibly the first white settlers did call it "Wey". However it is now Sissiboo, and let us hope it remains Sissiboo, the only river by that name in all the world. There are no pictures of Weymouth in the book.

Another item in the book mentioned that attracted my attention, reads as follows: "In 1890 the College of St. Anne was founded by the Eudist Fathers at Pointe de l'Eglise—Church Point—eight miles below Weymouth." I wonder whether the Rev. Alphonse B. Parker belonged to the Order of Eudist Fathers? It is my recollection that he was really the founder of St. Anne's College, certainly it was due largely to his efforts that the college got its start, the foundations, if not the first building, being accomplished while he was in charge of the parish of St. Bernard's.

What a wonderful man Father Parker was, scholar, poet and preacher, a leader of the people of his own faith, his genial good nature, friendliness and liberality of views won for him many friends from all races and creeds. His preaching was delightful to listen to and when it was known that he would speak in English many Protestants would be found in the congregation at St. Bernard's on Sunday morning.

If the old files of the Free Press along about 1889 or 90 could be located, some of Father Parker's poetry would be found in its columns.

defects of limb and body.

We are also told that while raincoats will be the correct thing for rainy weather. Combined with a brilliant sport scarf and a small cap like hat of green or red, the effect should be rather fetching. With an outfit like that, girls should have sufficient reason to make at least two trips to the post office on a rainy day, male or no male.

The season for grapes in California is drawing to a close. The crop this year was very large. From Fresno, in the great San Joaquin Valley, where most of your California raisins come from, over 32,000 carloads of grapes were shipped to eastern markets. The highest price received was 99 cents per crate from which freight and selling expenses are deducted, leaving the grower approximately sixty cents per crate, and little or no profit. Grapes of all kinds are selling in our local markets at three and four cents per pound, the lowest prices in years.

Do you remember the delicious green Malaga grapes that used to come from Spain packed in cork sawdust in kegs? What a delicacy they were, but we did not get them very often. California has all of the green grapes and many other varieties as good if not better than the Spanish product.

A news despatch from Calcutta today states that wheat is selling there at nine dollars per ton, and sawdust for ten dollars per ton. In that case there will be no temptation on the part of the poultry man to mix sawdust with the chicken feed. Hens will now get a square deal—no danger of hatching out woodpeckers or chicks with wooden legs. But what a calamity for the wheat growers with their crop selling at only twenty-seven cents per bushel.

Well! Here we are with Halloween once more with youngsters cutting up their dices with "pumpkin" lanterns, funny faces, horns, goblin suits, etc., etc. I hope you found your gates and other loose equipment in the proper place the morning after.

A certain well-known bishop tells many amusing stories of his work among the Indians. On one occasion he was visiting a tribe, and it was arranged that after dinner he and one of the chiefs were to go for a long ride.

"Will it be safe for me to leave my baggage here?" asked the bishop before they started.

"Yes," was the reply of the chief. "There is not a white man within 40 miles."

Mrs. McGowan Recounts Change Which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Wrought in Her Case

"Strength Soon Restored"

"At 19 I was very thin and pale, and had no strength or energy," writes Mrs. D. McGowan, Surrey Centre, B. C. "I started taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in six months I was able to pass a stiff medical examination to enter a large hospital to train as a nurse. In 10 years of nursing I was scarcely ill a day, thanks to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are wonderful for young, growing girls."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are constantly winning fresh praise as new users discover their health-building virtues. The new rich red blood cells created in abundance by these Pills rebuild exhausted tissues and impart vigor and vitality to the entire system. That is the reason why run-down conditions are wonderfully improved by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Try them. 50c. a package at drug stores everywhere.

SELF-RELIANCE

Who builds his hopes on fickle things The joy some mere possession brings, The trinkets silver coins can buy, His naught on which he can rely. For luxury and swollen pride In battle quickly fall aside.

Life has no crushing fears for him Who keeps his hands in working trim.

And self-reliant, looks about In every time of need and doubt And says, "No failure I'll admit While I for battle still am fit!"

Wisdom and faith and courage stay When luxuries are blown away. The rich resources of the will Are man's supreme possessions still. With these a man can find his way However dark may be the day.

"My brother is a perfect picture of health, and a splendid advertisement for Kruschen Salts. He is always bright and happy. He never forgets his morning dose, neither do I, now that I know the value of it. My brother is 70 years of age, and I am 72 years. We have reason to bless these valuable salts. I recommend them to all my friends."

CRASHES 30 FEET, BUT MISSES DEATH

Crashing through the bridge railing and a drop of about 30 feet, the car sped below and alive to tell the tale, was the thrilling experience Saturday of Benjamin Marshall, traveller for the Northern Electric Company, when he missed death in an auto accident. Mr. Marshall was enroute to Annapolis from Digby and was turning the treacherous corner on Victoria bridge when his car skidded on the planking slippery with heavy rains. It was impossible to stop headway and the car drove through the railing and fell to the river bed below, striking on the front end and turning over, to fetch up against a rock. The tide was out, but the car struck with sufficient shock to damage it extensively, the operator suffering cuts from flying glass. Assistance was not long in arriving and omen boding the damaged car to safety before the tide returned. Several cars have broken through the same bridge the past few years and it has been learned that only a little while before Marshall went through a truck preceded him had struck the railing of the bridge a glancing blow but recovered in time to avoid an accident.

ANGLICAN NEWS

(Special New York Correspondent)

Rev. Frederic S. Fleming, D. D., Elected Rector of Trinity Church, New York

Succeeding the Rev. Caleb R. Stetson, who died June 15th, Dr. Fleming (who has been Vicar of the Chapel of the Intercession, Trinity Parish since 1930) has been elected Rector of Trinity Church, Broadway, head of Wall St.; St. Paul's Chapel, Broadway, Fulton and Vesey Sts.; Trinity Chapel, 25th St. near Broadway; St. Agnes Chapel, 91st and 92nd St. Columbus Ave.; St. Luke's Chapel, Hudson St.; Chapel of Intercession, 155 St. and Broadway; St. Augustine's Chapel, Houston St. near the "Battery"; Chapel of St. Cornelius the Centurion, Governor's Island, New York Harbour. Although termed "Chapels," these are in reality large churches. The election of Dr. Fleming was expected, his views are known to be in accord with the tradition of Trinity Church, which are distinctly Anglo-Catholic. In 1924 Dr. Fleming was elected a Bishop twice, within seven days, by separate dioceses. He declined both appointments.

His early education was received from private tutors. Beginning as a baker's assistant, he rose from the position of assistant to the president of the National Biscuit Company. But he had determined, even while in business, to enter the priesthood and attended Western Theological Seminary, Lewis Institute, Chicago and Oxford University. The Chapel of the Intercession, which he is to leave, has 3000 Communicants and the largest Sunday School membership of the diocese. Trinity Church doors stand wide open and it is used all day long for prayer, rest and meditation—the Chapel of All Saints, where the blessed Sacrament is reserved, has become a veritable shrine to which people of all kinds, young and old, resort, if only for a few minutes snatched from the busy hours of the day.

It has been found that many people going to business in and around Wall St., welcome the daily Eucharist at 8 o'clock, as they are unable to attend service and have their breakfast before office hours. The daily "Noon-day service for business people" is well-attended, and during Lent and Holy Week the church is jammed to the doors, by workers in every walk of life, young and old business men and women.

Stock Exchange "Pages" in their gay uniforms, office girls, officials of great banking houses, sea-captains, "White-Collar" men, men without collars, Salvation Army girls in their blue and red cloaks, flock in for that service, beginning on the stroke of 12 and ending exactly at 12:30—a few prayers, two hymns, and a brief address. One meets there, people from every part of Canada and the United States—indeed, from every quarter of the globe, as is attested by the "Visitor's Book" at the South door. It is in this way that Trinity Parish is "influential"—and by reason of the attendance of "persons of influence," so-called—for Trinity is "not a rich man's church, it is the most democratic church in the world. There are no pew rents, and scrupulous and millionaires kneel side by side at the altar rail"—to quote the words of the late William J. Boyd, the sexton and supervisor of the building for the past eighteen years, who had been associated with the church from boyhood, and was highly respected and known to "all New York."

HEALTH

A HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION AND LIFESAVE INSURANCE COMPANIES IN CANADA

HEART DISEASE

When we speak of heart disease, we do not refer to one single disease, as is the case when we mention tuberculosis. The term "heart disease" embraces a number of abnormal conditions of the heart which may be temporary or permanent, and or severe.

There are many different causes for and many different kinds of heart disease. Heart disease may be divided into two groups, the one functional, the other organic. When the heart does not do its work properly, even though there is no change in the walls or valves of the organ, the condition is known as functional heart disease. This functional disturbance gives rise to a wide variety of symptoms. We may, for example, become conscious of the beating of the heart; we have palpitations. The cause may lie in the abnormal condition of other organs, such as the stomach of the kidneys. All organs work in conjunction and are connected with each other by nerves, so the disturbance of one organ affects the others.

Fatigue and emotional upsets are also causes of abnormal heart conditions. The heart may be pushed out of place by a distended stomach and so be unable to work properly. The uncomfortable symptoms are blamed on the heart when, in reality, the distention of the stomach is responsible.

Organic heart disease includes all forms of heart disease which are brought about by changes in the structure of the heart itself. Some of these are congenital; one child may be born with a heart that is improperly formed, just as another child may have a harelip.

Most organic heart disease is the result of infections. By infections we mean the condition which results from the action of germs living inside the body. This includes the general diseases due to germs, such as pneumonia, typhoid fever, measles, diphtheria and scarlet fever. Two infections which have a particular tendency to cause injury to the heart are syphilis and rheumatic fever.

Disease of other organs may throw such an added strain upon the heart as to cause changes in the heart, and it is that not infrequently patients are found to be suffering from a combination of diseases of the kidneys, the heart and the arteries.

Failure to take reasonable care of the body, and excessive physical exertion on the part of persons untrained for such efforts lead to damaged hearts. Old age is accompanied by changes in the structure of the heart.

The prevention of heart disease begins with living a hygienic life, the prevention of infection, and proper treatment of infectious conditions, particularly syphilis and rheumatism, the removal of infections, such as diseased teeth and tonsils and avoidance of undue physical effort.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

Mrs. Gordon Ellis was "at home" to her friends on Tuesday afternoon. Both drawing room and dining room were beautifully resplendent with yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Mabel Hoadsworth received with the bride, while Mrs. P. W. Hoadsworth poured tea. Miss Nettie Dakin and Miss Edna Cummings assisted in serving the guests.

AN ECONOMICAL BEVERAGE

Tea is undoubtedly the lowest-cost beverage in use to-day, water excepted. If one were to take the trouble to test it out, it would be found that a package of MORSE'S STANDARD TEA makes 240 cups of delicious tea, which is equal to not much more than a fifth of a cent a cup. If five people sit down to a meal and have each a cup of MORSE'S STANDARD TEA, it represents a cost of one cent for tea for that meal; if each has two cups, then only two cents. How can one expect to provide a pleasant beverage at less cost? The reason why MORSE'S STANDARD TEA is so economical is simply that the strong, thick-liquoring teas of northern India are blended with the delicate flavored teas of Ceylon in such proportion as to give the brew that good round quality so much appreciated by the critical Maritime tea drinkers. The housewife does not need to put as much of MORSE'S STANDARD TEA in the pot as she would of lower priced bulk teas which often prove expensive in the end on account of their poor spending quality.

KIWANIS NEWS

At their luncheon on Monday, the members of the Digby Kiwanis Club listened to Kiwanian Rev. F. E. Bishop deliver an address on the life of O. Henry, the King of American Short Story writers. Mr. Bishop's talk was most interesting, and greatly appreciated. It was to be regretted that time did not permit him time enough to finish the talk, but it is expected and hoped that Mr. Bishop will complete the address at some luncheon in the very near future.

The Digby Kiwanians are now making their plans for the distribution of Christmas Cheer to the poor of the town.

R. V. Harris will be the speaker at Monday's Luncheon, and to accommodate him, the luncheon will be held at 1 o'clock instead of 12.15.

cally thrown away, there never was a satisfactory street, and he quite believed the town should put down a permanent street; arrangements were being made for new tenders for such and he hoped to get figures in the near future. Other members spoke in favor of the project, Councillor Oliver expressing himself as willing to have the work done if it could be done without raising the rate.

The Board of Trade also asked the Council to consider the proposed holding of a celebration to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the landing of the United Empire Loyalists which would be in June of next year. It was stated that the Board of Trade would take the initiative and already had a working committee with a tentative plan. The question of the collection of taxes was under discussion and a resolution was passed unanimously that the clerk issue warrants in all cases of unpaid taxes.

Permission was granted to Leonard Raymond to clear the unopened road between Church and Mount streets and utilize same for garden or hay; he to pay the town the sum of 25 cents per year acknowledgment.

VOLUME LIX, NO. 19

TIME TO HALT FARCE

President Hoover has requested the United States Tariff Commission to study the effect of devalued foreign currencies on the exclusiveness of the tariff wall. The move is hailed as the forerunner of special "dumping" duties to be applied by presidential decree in the event of a Hoover victory.

Great Britain will be the chief sufferer if Mr. Hoover is given the power to act as is proposed. Canada will also be injured to some extent. As the world has not yet reached the point of agreement that the tariffs of any nation are also a matter of interest to its international customers, the United States is free to act as it sees fit.

But the war debtors of the United States would have to pay their time allies about $11,000,000,000. Virtually all of this sum was spent for goods and services. The subsequent attempt by Washington to collect the debt in the form of gold alone did more than anything else to plunge the world into the greatest depression in history.

The time has come when the debtor countries should talk with the utmost frankness to the nation where worship of the golden calf has meant disaster to unnumbered millions. (An American Exchange).

The monthly supper meeting of the United Church Brotherhood will be held in the hall on Tuesday evening, 13th inst. at 7.30 o'clock. All men of the congregation are welcome.

Mrs. Aubrey Brown left on Wednesday for Annapolis Royal, where she will spend the winter, a guest at the Queen Hotel.

Stationery makes a very acceptable and practical gift. Some of the boxes shown in Connell's window this week fairly make one's mouth water so we are told.

Evangelists Close Their Campaign

The Robbins Evangelistic Services closed on Sunday evening with a large attendance in the mass meeting in the Bijou Dream Theatre. The evangelists spoke very appreciatively of the many kindnesses received during their three weeks' missions in the town. At the close of the meeting the audience sang in a heart-felt manner, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," and many expressions were heard of the benefit received during the services. Mr. and Miss Robbins left on Monday for Smith's Cove, where they will hold a two weeks' union mission with the two churches there. During the last week in the United Church, a very beautiful pageant entitled "The Challenge of the Cross" was presented by six of the young ladies of the Y. P. S., led by Miss Robbins. It has been decided to hold another after-church Sunday evening meeting in the theatre on Sunday evening. Hymns will be thrown on the screen, and all are invited to a community gospel hymn service of song.

Miss Bernia M. B. Budd, of Sea Brook, spent one day last week with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Peters, at Centreville.

At Miss Chisholm's you will find a nice selection of Christmas Gifts at reasonable prices; also—All Hats at Reduced Prices.

Miss Beulah M. Spavold, of Roxville, spent the week-end in Digby visiting relatives.

Kiwanians Learn "Why We Laugh"

R. V. Harris, K. C. Acting Lieutenant-Governor of Kiwanis for this district, delivered his address "Why We Laugh" to the Digby Kiwanians at their luncheon on Monday. Mr. Harris gave definitions of the various types of humor, illustrating them with many humorous stories. Thus, the Digby Kiwanians learned "Why We Laugh" and had a good laugh while doing so.

Mr. Harris at this meeting brought greetings to the Digby Club from the district and congratulated the Digby Kiwanians on their club and unique place of meeting.

Plans for the distribution of Christmas Cheer to the poor, and needy were taken up at this luncheon—the Kiwanians plan to do their part this year, as last, to see that their work in Digby is not without a Christmas dinner. The Kiwanis Club of Digby has done much to help the needy in this town since their organization, and have given their assistance to several children.

Party in Honor of Mrs. H. F. Williams

The home of Mrs. H. E. Reicker on Wednesday evening, was the scene of a very pleasant surprise party given in honor of Mrs. Harry Williams, who in the near future is making her home in Halifax. Many useful and valuable gifts were received. Refreshments and games were enjoyed by the twenty-five ladies present. Mrs. Williams will be greatly missed in Digby because she has been a hard and conscientious worker both for the church and the community. Here's wishing Mr. and Mrs. Williams the best of luck, and that their stay in Halifax will be a pleasant one.

THE SALVATION ARMY

During the Evangelistic services conducted by the Rev. W. A. Robbins and Miss Robbins, much interest was aroused. Great crowds attended all of the meetings and souls got a vision of the Christ of Calvary. The theatre was well filled on Sunday night for the last meeting and many were the blessings received. Let us continue in this good work for the Master's Kingdom and pray for the outpouring of God's Spirit upon the people. A great spirit of unity prevailed over the town as a result of these meetings. May this unity continue and greater work can be accomplished yet for our Master.

Obituary

Mrs. Thomas Binmore

A wave of sadness settled on Bay View and Digby last Friday, when word was received that Lillis (Adams) Binmore, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Adams, of Bay View, had passed away at her home in Reading, Mass. Her husband and his father, Binmore, Sr., and her sister, Mrs. George Stimpson, accompanied the body from Reading. On Saturday morning she was laid to rest in the cemetery at Bay View, beside her little daughter, who was taken from her by such a tragic death more than three years ago. Rev. E. W. Forbes, pastor of the United Church, officiated at the service. There were many beautiful floral tributes. Before her marriage, Mrs. Binmore was employed for some time at Wright's Store in Digby. She was the possessor of a very sweet and gracious personality, which won for her many friends. All who knew Lillis loved her, and our deepest sympathy goes out to the bereaved ones.

John Dugas

The sudden death took place at his home in Brighton, Mass., of John Dugas, Mr. Dugas who was about eighty-six leaves one brother, Henry Dugas in Brighton. Interment was in St. Croix R. C. cemetery, Plympton.

Henry Ellis

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Collins received word on Sunday, of the death of their son-in-law, Henry Ellis, in Randolph, Mass., following an operation for appendicitis. He was about 45 years old and leaves a widow, formerly Miss Viola Collins, of Digby, and an infant son.

Mrs. Lane leaves her husband and two small sons, John, aged 6-1-2 and Howard 5, also her father, Arthur G. Simmonds and her brother, John Harris Simmonds. Mrs. Lane was a resident of Weymouth for most of her life and was postmaster for a short time. She was 37 years of age.

Mrs. Henry C. Baird

(Published by request.) The death of Mrs. Frances E. Baird, widow of the late Henry C. Baird, of Andover, N. B., occurred on Monday, November 28th, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. E. Dickson, Digby, with whom she had made her home for the past six years. She had been in failing health for a number of years, but was always patient and cheerful. She was loved and respected by all who were privileged to know her. She was in her 83rd year and a native of Andover, N. B. A short funeral service was held at the house. From there the remains were taken to Andover, where service was held on Wednesday from Trinity Church, of which she was a member. The remains were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Dickson. She leaves to mourn one son, William, and one daughter, Mrs. A. E. Dickson; two grandchildren, Frances and Lawrence Dickson.

One grandchild, Ethel Black, of Boston, also survives. Burial services were held at Stella Maris Church, on Saturday. Rev. Father Deveau, P.P., officiating. JUNIOR CLUB NEWS

The prize for the best school club report for November was won by Joyce Stanton of the 4-H Club, Theville School. Joyce sent a framed copy of the Canadian picture "Horse Racing in Quebec" by Clarence Tagman. Joyce's report was a delight to the eye.

From Herbert Melanson, a small boy in the Weymouth North School, (Primary) comes a well written report of their club activities during November. They hold regular meetings and after the business is transacted a programme of songs, recitations and games is carried out. One active committee is that on Kind Deeds. Each member reports to the convener of that committee the name and deed he has seen done by another member. The report is read each week in the business meeting. Recently the Health Rules were read and each member signed the enrollment form and will try to live up to these rules.

BRIGHTON-BARTON SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY CLUB

Miss Bertha Fraser, representing the Provincial Educational Department, met with the Brighton-Barton School and Community Club last Friday evening at Vista Cottage, at Barton. Her message was especially for the younger members of the community. Interest in the school betterment program, of course interests the parents of children now attending school; but such work constitutes only a small part of club interests. The younger men and women can add much to the social side, and their attendance is needed in a club which is a Community group. A crokinole party followed Miss Fraser's talk.

Correction.—Last report listed "Mrs. Lloyd Grant as treasurer. This is a little (perhaps a great deal) previous. "Mr." Lloyd Grant will assume these duties.

Construction is going on in Weymouth. A fine residence is being built near W. G. Blackadar's home and a large stove mill is going up on the line of the D. A. R., between the station and the bridge.

The Junior Band expects to occupy its new rooms next week. Maynard Denton is doing a fine job with the alterations. The Director thinks there are a lot of people in town who ought to join the Band, but who prefer to sit around and TALK about how much DIGBY NEEDS A BAND. Talk is cheap.

Following the basketball game between the Digby and Yarmouth High Schools tonight, there will be a Benefit Athletic Dance in the "Gym."—Admission 35c.

DO YOUR HENS PAY?

A pretty reliable old formula for finding out whether or not a flock of hens is paying for the feed they eat is supplied by F. C. Elford, Dominion Poultry Husbandman. "It is as simple as it is practical. Take the cost of feed per hundredweight, divide it by the cost of eggs per dozen, and multiply this quotient by three. This gives you the number of eggs per day which a flock of 100 hens must lay to pay for the cost of their feed. For example: Feed is costing $1.30 per cwt., and eggs selling at 30 cents per dozen. Applying the formula the quotient is 4; this multiplied by 3 gives the result 12—or the number of eggs which a flock of 100 hens will have to average, day to day for feed at that cost rate.

Mrs. J. W. Marshall, of 6 Maynard street, Halifax, is visiting her sister, Mrs. George W. Dunn.

Centreville Open Air Rink About Completed

On Sunday afternoon the editor drove through Centreville and saw from the road, the splendid open air rink the boys of that place have built. He was unable to give it a very minute inspection, but it certainly looks like a splendid job, and those who are responsible for it are to be congratulated. We hope that next week someone from Centreville will drop us a line, telling us something of the rink's dimensions and a little story of the Centreville Hockey Club.

Mrs. N. S. Calkin, of Concord, N. H., who has been in Digby for the past three months, returned home on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Titus left yesterday for Tampa, Florida, to spend the winter.

WHERE ARE THE SNOWS OF YESTERDAY?

Thirty-seven years ago, Miss Annie Baldwin from Tamworth, England, arrived in Weymouth, the bride of Emil Stehelin, one of the young settlers of New France, and after a few days passed in Weymouth, took the New France road on a sled drawn by 2 yoke of oxen, arriving at night at New France then illuminated by a blaze of electric lights and welcomed by the cheers of the Stehelin family and some 50 or 60 men then working at New France.

Weymouth was not then what it is today. The streets were narrow; there were no electric lights and one had to be careful when walking at night on the wooden sidewalks of old Weymouth.

The stores were not so engaging as they are today, but as there was, then, no T. Eaton, they were well patronized and making money. Old Mr. James Taylor and Mr. Fen Journeay's store were supplying the needs of the fashion of the day; G. D. Campbell & Co., Charles Burt & Co., and Harry Hoyt's stores could supply from a needle to an anchor; Hogan's, Brooks' and Bill Moore's blacksmith shops were busy all the time shoeing oxen and horses and their anvil chorus was a sign of prosperity for the farmers and the town.

Goodwin Hotel was already flourishing; people were always sure of a smiling welcome from dear Mrs. Goodwin and were always greeted by the glad hand of general Uncle John. There was then only a very small Merchant's Bank under the direction of Mr. D. Kemp, the offices were not elaborate, but money was flowing and business was good. The wharves of Weymouth were then crowded with barkentines, schooners and vessels of all kinds, busily engaged in South American, West Indies and New England trade. Weymouth was shipping then an average of 20 million feet of lumber annually. There were no automobiles then, but every day of the week, the streets were crowded with ox teams, and horse teams loaded with lumber and coming from all directions.

The winters used to be long and hard—many people had fine trotting horses and the sleigh parties on moonlight nights were a great treat and pleasure. Jo. Muise had a trotting park which provided great sport—he even had a tame mouse able to compete with the best horses. And we, the older, yet remember the fine people living then in Weymouth: Dr. Elderkin, Squire Hogan and his 3 sons, G. D. Campbell and Mr. Stehelin with each 8 sons, Mr. Hoyt, Brooks, Bill Moore, Boyd, MacNeill, Bartlett, Frank Hankinson and so many others, young and old. We remember also the charm and graceful simplicity of the ladies of old Weymouth: Mrs. Goodwin, Mrs. Charles Burt, Mrs. G. D. Campbell, Mrs. Hogan, and so many others.

The Wind has blown them all away. The young and yare, the fond and fair.

SERVICE THE MEASURE OF SUCCESS

It isn't the cut of the clothes you wear. Nor the stuff out of which they are made. Though chosen with taste and fastidious care. And it isn't the price that you paid; It isn't the size of your pile in the bank. Nor the number of acres you own; It isn't a question of prestige or rank. Nor of sinew and muscle and bone; It isn't the servants that comes at your call. It isn't the things you possess, Whether many or little—or nothing at all. Its service that measures success. It isn't a question of name, or of length Of an ancestral pedigree. Nor a question of mental vigor and strength. Nor a question of social degree, It isn't a question of city or town. Nor a question of doctrine or creed, It isn't a question of fame or renown. Nor a question of valorous deed; But he who makes somebody happy each day, And he who gives heed to distress, Will find satisfaction the richest of pay. For its service that measures success.

A professor was once accosted by a dirty little bootblack: "Shine your shoes, sir?" The professor was disgusted by the dirt on the lad's face. "I don't want a shine, my lad," he said, "but if you'll go and wash your face, I'll give you sixpence."

"Right-o, gov'nor," replied the boy, as he made his way to a neighboring fountain. Soon he returned looking much cleaner.

"Well, my boy," said the professor, "you have earned your sixpence; here it is."

"I don't want your sixpence, gov'nor," replied the boy. "You 'ang on to it, and get your 'air cut."

(By G. R. T.)

I came near to missing out on the reminiscences this trip. I had a perfectly good George Graham Grimes story ready, but some one beat me to it. I suppose you remember what an event it was when George married Phoebe Goldspring, a sort of December and May affair in reverse, which was the talk of the village for quite some time, and which brought down a good deal of criticism upon the head of the minister who performed the ceremony, but the good parson knew what he was doing and his explanation to his critics was considered satisfactory and his act commended when it was fully understood. When the officers took George away to the "Big House" Phoebe missed him terribly and never failed to shake her fist at the Western Counties Railway train in sight of it and cuss it for having taken George away from her.

While we are talking about the great and near great, why not mention Dan Toney, the noble little red man who often blew into town with a great hurrah superinduced by a heart's gushing of fire water, beat his chest, let out a few words of yelling at the top of his voice, "Me Dan Toney, me had injun, very bad" which scared no one at all, but provided amusement for the boys who when they finished teasing him, would head him home, give him a kick in the pants and start him on his way.

Then there was another "pussen" that some of you will remember—Al Langford, the Andrew H. Brown of that time, who would come shuffling down to the Bridge in a pair of number thirties and a hat, shoes, looking for work and praying that he would not find it, just too busy to take on any of those little "fiddlin'" jobs when work was offered him. He wanted a contract.

"Sue" Langford also played her part in the daily affairs of the village. Susan fell out of a bed at an early age and cracked her coco which was said to have accounted for her acting the way she did. Don't you remember seeing her trudging down the road in the morning on her way to work with a negro spiritual song rolling from her lips "Roll Jawsdown, Roll, Ah Wants to Go to Hebbin, When Ah Die to Heah Ol Jawsdown Roll," and coming back home at night from a day's work "down the river," carrying a huge bundle on her head and praying aloud, "Oh Lawd, Come on Down, Come on Down Lawd, and Take This Ol Sinner up to Glory."

Sue's feet were nearly as large as those of her kinsman, Al. She said her shoes were never good, but number foot's done hurt her feet so bad she just nacherly had to wear number seven and number eight was so mighty comfotable too, that she never did object to wearing the cast off shoes of some of the men folk where she did washing and scrubbing. "Dose yo' patronize dose heah shoes Miss Annie? Ah jus' bet dese many a waltz rose had wid dese shoes. A gemmen fren' of yours made me a present of dese shoes, in a state, and in a cot, I rememb' her excuriating agony those same shoes caused my poor feet unti my mother hid them from me one day and finally gave them away, something that I was truly thankful for.

And don't let us forget the Rev. erend Mr. Eubanks, that gargantuan colored gentleman from Yarmouth, who so dearly loved his chicken stew with plenty of dumplings, huge in stature, and in color, a very dark black. What an imposing figure he was in his long black Prince Albert coat and white vest, and other habiliments as he stood before his flock with hymn book in hand announcing in a deep and rolling voice, "Frens is now going to sing, Oh sing 'Come on, Come on, Blow Yo' Horn an' Call Yo' Chillin' Home."

Brother Eubanks was a powerful exhorter and put much energy into his preachments urging the brothers when they would all put on their wings and fly heavenward. This warning brought forth a snicker from a young sceptic in one of the meetings and Bro. Eubanks promptly challenged the scornful one as follows:

"Brudder why fo' yo' make such merriment?"

"Pahson ah was jus' wonderin' how ah's gwine to git my coat on ober dem wings yo' is talkin' about."

"Brudder don't yo' go worryin' about wings, and ober ober yo' wings, what yo' want to worry about, is how is yo' gwine to get yo' hat on ober yo' horns!"

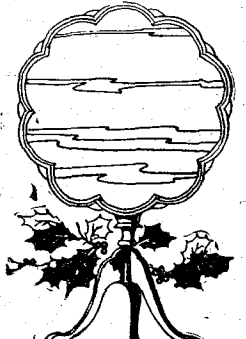

And that is about all that I remember about Brother Eubanks.

In one of my recent "blubs," I mentioned something about a man from Canada named Parker who was in Southern California making arrangements for the purchase of some breweries. The gentleman is still in Southern California, and expects to remain there for some time. He has been arrested on suspicion of Grand Theft, which is always sufficient to hold any man for a while at least. The Brewery buying scheme was only another "Get Rich Quick" plan, which apparently has been nipped before it even began to bud. This, however, has not prevented the Democratic socialists from proclaiming that all the breweries in the country will be working overtime within the coming year.

The latest report on Greta Garbo from Hollywood, is that she is to have a new play built around the life and adventures of Queen Christina of Sweden, who quit her job as Queen and went roaming about Europe in male attire. If you are interested in the story of Christina, you can get full information concerning her life and adventures from the book "The Story of the North" by Faith Compton MacKenzie. The chances are that the picture and the dialogue will not be very much like the story in the book for the things that a Hollywood picture director can and will do in the presentation of any story are amazing to contemplate and terrible to look at.

Theodore Dreiser, Edgar Wallace, and a number of other noted novelists and writers have had their troubles and many battles with the picture directors with the directors usually having their own way.

Garbo is supposed to be in Sweden at the present time polishing up her Swedish history. Possibly she will go on to Egypt and take a few more lessons from Mr. Spilins, for the movie folks in Hollywood call her the Little Miss Sphinx of the Screen. They call her other names too, for the movie folks are a catty crowd at the best, and they say that they are just a little bit jealous of the fact that Garbo does not care to make "whoopie" with them. Why play around and stay up all night when you can go to bed early and get a good night's rest, says Garbo. She also says that she does not care for parties anyway. She would much rather, anytime, go hiking along the beach at Santa Monica or ride horseback over the Malibu hills. She says she feels awkward and shy in company and much for parties, which is so perfectly that reporters and others might misunderstand her. It might be said without fear of contradiction that her audiences do not always understand what she is saying either, but what she lacks in the way of speech she makes up in the swiftness of arms and waving of hands, but audiences are not always trained in the sign language, so they wonder what it is all about. Personally I have never been able to bring myself to agree with the opinion of the critics, who say that by all that is historic that Garbo is the finest thing in pictures since Theda Bara drifted out into the sea of oblivion as Cleopatra No. 2.

Does Greta Garbo save her money? She gets Well, folks that ought to know say that she does, and I suppose she comes honestly by her saving habit for thriftiness is an old Scandinavian custom dating back to the days of Eric the Red. It has been reported that Greta lost a fortune in the Ivar Kruger crash, which if so, was too bad for her; but then no one should ever invest all of their money in matches, which have a tendency to go up in smoke upon the slightest scratch. Eric the Red, in spite of the fact that he had placed large sums of her hard earned money in the hands of the late Mr. Kruger, who proved to be so careless in the handling of other people's money, she still had something near $300,000 on deposit in a bank in Beverly Hills which is a suburb of Hollywood and Los Angeles. Apparently the Kruger smash caused Garbo to lose faith in banks and bankers and to increase her trust in tin cans and safety deposit vaults. So one bright Monday morning following a Sunday of meditation and possibly prayer, she appeared at the bank with her check made payable to herself for all of her three hundred thousand dollars. Such a blow in the solar plexus took the breath away from the bank as well as the most of its ready cash, causing the bank to fold up, so to speak, and created much embarrassment and consternation among other movie stars who had checking accounts in the same bank. Could anyone blame Garbo if she was unable to understand English or United States when the bank officials began trying to persuade her not to take her money from their bank, and after all $300,000 is a tidy little sum to have around the house in these days when a dollar in hand is worth two in a busted bank.

We are told that Wallace Berry has $80,000 and Robert Montgomery $40,000 on deposit in the same bank which they failed to check out in time, and if that wouldn't make those two lads register a sickly smile I wonder what would.

Yesterday was earthquake day in San Francisco and the bay region extending as far south as San Jose fifty miles from here, but no damage was done other than a little plastering cracked here and there. San Francisco papers neglected to mention the event. By the way if you ever come to San Francisco, do not refer to the great catastrophe of 1906 as the earthquake. Call it the "Fire"—folks in the city do not like the sound of that word earthquake, and another thing to remember is do not call the place "Frisco," but say San Francisco, always the natives and daughters will like you better for using the full name.

The first rains of the winter season reached us this week, and we are glad of it—everything has been washed up and the town and country looks cleaner and very soon the hills and valleys will be green and beautiful again.

New Strength
During
Teen Age

"My daughter was a thin, nervous child, 24 pounds underweight, and she has been brought up in England, where Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are so widely known. I gave them to her, with the result that she is now, at 16, a fine, healthy, lively girl." So writes Mrs. G. Stimpson, of London, England.

"My mother, George, had been growing pale, and lost his appetite and could not concentrate on his mechanical studies," writes Joseph Johnstone, Edmonton, Alberta. "A neighbor recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. George took them regularly, and in a week showed great improvement. Since then, he has been feeling great, and has not been bothered by stomach or headaches."

The teen age is a trying time, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are wonderfully effective in imparting needed vigor and vitality to growing girls and boys. These pills actually create an abundance of rich, red blood and this revitalizes exhausted systems. At your druggist's, 50c.

BETWEEN OURSELVES

Not long ago I spent a quiet evening at home, doing nothing at all in particular, just sitting and reading, listening to the radio and wondering how in blazes I was going to pay that proposed $5 radio license should it ever come into effect, when I chanced to pick up a little magazine called "The Magazine Digest," which, by the way, is a Canadian publication. I ran across an article entitled, "In the Next War I Shall Be a Conscientious Objector," by Beverley Nichols, condensed from "Good Housekeeping," London, September, 1932. It was not a lengthy article, and we shall not attempt to reprint all of it here without "the kind permission of the copyright owners," but will sum it up as best we can without being too long winded about it.

Mr. Nichols tells how he, a German, an American and a Hungarian were discussing the "Next War," while sitting at the cocktail bar of the Eden Hotel, Berlin, and how they later repaired to the hall and drew up upon a half sheet of newspaper what he claims was the first agreement of its kind the world has ever seen—an agreement by which they pledged not to engage in any form of warfare and to offer their lives, as a gesture of peace, to death at the hands of their respective governments.

And, now for the sake of those who have not read the article I am going to chance quoting a few paragraphs from it. Mr. Nichols says:

"We are aware that there are a million fellows that would sign it, but we were equally aware that they would not stick to it when the time came, because of a thousand follies which, so it seemed to us, we heard all around us.

"Yes, because when the moment comes, there will be a thousand reasons why I should fight, against only one real reason why I should not fight, namely, that no law of God or man can ever persuade me that it is my duty to kill any of the boys who signed the agreement with me, nor any other boys in any part of the world.

"It is the very simple truth and the only reason that matters, but we make things complicated by regarding war as an essential evil of our social system. But if it is, then the present social system must go."

"I want to put my arguments on record, firstly, to save myself from any accusation of cowardice when the time comes; secondly, because I hope that my words may encourage a few hundred kindred souls to follow my example.

"Let's dream for a minute and imagine that my little contract had become a document of tremendous importance, signed by millions of peace-loving individuals who were prepared to give their lives for it. On the day that war was declared a million young men would stand up in every country, and would march through the streets of a thousand cities, ready to be shot dead by their own countrymen. Of course that would create a tremendous problem, perhaps riots. . . .

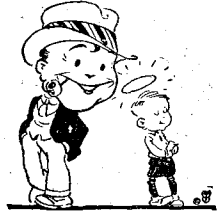

"Such a thing is inconceivable, of course. Yet it would be infinitely wiser, cheaper, and more humane than actual warfare. It is better to be shot against a wall quickly than agonize in a rat-infested ditch. Better to save your country the expense of feeding you and clothing you than help set the whole economic machinery of the world so permanently awry that any hope of recovery would be vain.

"All this is very painful and in bad taste, I admit. But I would rather cause a little pain now than witness a whole world in pain in 1935."

As I said, I am only quoting a few paragraphs from Mr. Nichols' article. To my mind it is one of the most worth while pieces of its kind I have read in many a day, and should millions of peace loving individuals from all nations of the world sign such a document, the dream of "Peace on Earth" may possibly become a lasting reality.

Did you read in the press lately where the taxpayers of France are organizing?—they seem to be feeling a bit sore at the way their governments are piling on taxes. Perhaps it wouldn't be a bad idea should the taxpayers of this country organize and do a little bit of dictating to those whom they have elected as their representatives, and also to do something to assist their governments in balancing their budgets, instead of urging expenditures for a thousand and one little things and big things that have very little effect on our social, political or economic welfare—expenditures that appear to be made not in the interests of the people as a whole, but to give bigger and better opportunities for graft all along the scale. Now, friends, don't misunderstand me—I am not trying to tread on the toes of any political party—in my humble opinion what I have written applies to them all. What Canada, and most of the world, for that matter, needs most is more government and less politics—more business and less grab. How long would any business last if they took for their example the "business administration" as handed out by the average government today—and I'm not referring to Canada in particular, either.

I wouldn't be at all surprised if prosperity were just around the corner in the good old United States. They elected their new president about a month ago—Roosevelt won with flying colors—"the wets are in"—most likely the outcome will be that the United States Government will go into the booze business—a business that will bring untold sums of money into their treasury—breweries and distilleries will employ thousands—idle money will be put back into circulation and everything will be rosy again, in fact, we expect times to improve there just as they did in Nova Scotia when the old Nova Scotia Temperance Act was voted out for the present Nova Scotia Liquor Control System—all the promises of the so-called "Temperance Reformers" who advocated the present control system must have been fulfilled, for, in Nova Scotia they see fit to pay the Chief Liquor Commissioner a salary of $10,000 per year, while the head of our educational system draws a salary of $7,500.

No, folks, I wasn't "the Rambler."

A dial telephone system has been installed in the town of Lunenburg. I wonder how much longer we will be using our out-of-date system, and how much longer we will have to turn those little cranks on the side of our 'phones whenever we want to call Central? Surely it is time that Digby, one of the most important resorts in the Dominion, had something at least a little more modern in the way of a telephone service.

A man was boasting how often he had been mistaken for a well-known politician, whom he much resembled.

"That's nothing," said a little Jew. "I was in a cinema the other day and saw the show round twice. When the lights went up the attendant said to me, 'Julius Caesar, you still here?'"

An open air rink is being constructed and will be ready for practicing on within a few days. This open air rink will have a board fence 150 x 50 around the ice surface. CLARK'S HARBOR MAN IS WASHED FROM SCHOONER

Coast Guard Destroyer Takes Abandoned Vessel in Tow; Liner Picks up Survivors

The United States Coast Guard destroyer Coghlan, advised headquarters at Boston Friday, she had the fishing schooner, Clemencia from Clark's Harbor, N. S., in tow and was proceeding slowly through heavy seas toward Nantucket Lightship.

Swept Overboard

Earlier in the day the steamer De Grasse reported to New York one member of the crew of the Clemencia had drowned and four others were saved after the craft had been abandoned. It was later reported however, the man lost was Douglas Penny, cook, and that he was swept overboard when the craft was west of Nova Scotia last Tuesday.

The De Grasse messaged last Friday she had picked up the crew about 250 miles east of New York and was bringing them there. The Coghlan reported her position as latitude 40.77 and longitude 65.46 which is about 265 miles southeast of Boston, and said the vessel was taken in tow about 4.30 p. m.

The four rescued members of the crew are Amos Anderson, master; Bert Nickerson, Alex McGray, and Kennedy Naus. Penny was about 30 years of age and a widow and child survivor. He had returned to Clark's Harbor from Boston about two years ago.

The Clemencia sailed from Weymouth, Digby County, bound for Clark's Harbor with a cargo of lum-

80 YEARS

To Mrs. Katherine McConnell, in memory of other days, when I was among those present, at one of your parties.

"What does it mean to be eighty, with most of life gone by? It means a journey of many miles, sometimes 'neath a cloudy sky; Sometimes the path was rough and steep, Sometimes the sun shone bright; And in between were peaceful vales, and a place to rest at night. It means alternate sun and shade, alternate smile and tears; Sometimes to make a bridal wreath, sometimes to deck a bier. But now, it means an eve at rest, the busy day is done; A time to think, to read, to pray, to feel the setting sun.

"What are the thoughts of eighty, when drinking sun dips low? The thoughts are dreams of other days, of friends of long ago. They dream of childhood's sunny hours, of youthful joys, so fleet; Of wedded love and happiness, of other joys, so sweet. Oh, wondrous are the dreams of age; so clear, 'twould almost seem That dreaming is the real life, and real life, a dream. "Does hope still live at eighty? ah yes! but 'tis the truth That hope in age is not the same as hope in restless youth. The aged hope that clouds will pass, the sunshine warm and bright; For tidings of the absent ones! for restful sleep at night. They hope that love and tender care will fall not, 'till the light Of earthly day shall fade away, and God shall send the night. And, hope most sure and steadfast, as they near the 'silent land' Eternal life, a starry crown, a place at God's right hand."

—M. G. T.

THE LAUGHTER LADEN HEART

The brook that dances merrily, Across a meadow place, Reflects the joy of many a tree, Of many flower face. But, oh, somewhere the brook may wind, Through a forgotten town, Where everything is tinted gray, And drab, and brown—

The brook that dances merrily, With laughter in its voice, May have small reason to be gay, To carol and rejoice. It may be much of misery, And want, and fear and care, Its voice may be the one glad note Upon the air.

God grant that I may watch the brook, And take its dream for mine, Until my life may be as brave And wonderful and free. As the slight silver stream that flings Its song on high! God grant to me a heart that sings, Until I die.

—Margaret E. Sangster.

—Is one thing that atheism has never been able to explain.

Few People Realize—

—The danger of the underworld of their mind.
—How bright life is if they walk on the sunny side of the street.
—That a life of ease has its share of worries.
—That pain can sometimes be compelled to pay big dividends.
—How much more important their thinking is than their eating.
—How many unused opportunities are all about them.
—How much it costs to live in the public eye.

SAINT ANDREW'S DAY TEA

A very successful Tea and sale of fancy work, conducted by the ladies of the Guild of St. John's Anglican Church, at the residence of Mrs. Walter Romans, who threw open her entire residence for the occasion, resulted in the sum of twenty-two dollars being added to church funds.

The beautifully arranged central tea table in the dining room, was presided over by Mrs. George Harris and Mrs. Leary, and a room with small tables, centered with dainty bunches of heather, accommodated the overflow of guests. The living room, with its cheery fire, made a cosy "lounge" and in the reception room, Mrs. B. C. Clarke had charge of the many articles of dainty fancy work.

The delectable "eats" were all emblematic of the occasion. Scotch bread, toasted muffins, scones, crumpets, short bread and seed cake were dispensed by the waitresses, Mrs. L. V. Harris, Mrs. Hatheway, Mrs. Harrow, Mrs. Wilson Jefferson, Mrs. W. Brenton and Mrs. Howard Rice, and the "Weather Man" frowned, the patrons were numerous, and the affair a great success.

Miss Ethel Chapman makes this novel LUXOR CAKE

with Magic Baking Powder

"My advice to all housewives, both skilled and inexperienced, is: Use Magic Baking Powder. Then there is no uncertainty about your baking," says Miss Ethel Chapman, Editor of the Home Section in the Ontario Farmer.

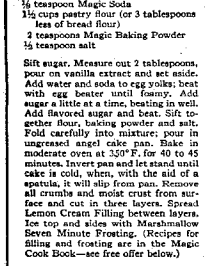

This unqualified statement is particularly impressive because thrifty Canadian home makers have learned that Miss Chapman's advice is invariably practical.

Other well-known food experts and cookery teachers in the Dominion share Miss Chapman's high opinion of Magic. In fact, the majority of them—and housewives, too—use Magic exclusively. No wonder Magic outsells all other baking powders combined!

Mrs. Chapman's recipe for "LUXOR CAKE"

1 cup fine granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/2 cup egg yolks
1/2 cup lukewarm water
1/2 teaspoon Magic Soda
1/2 cup pastry flour (or 3 tablespoons less of bread flour)
2 teaspoons Magic Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

Sift sugar. Measure out 2 tablespoons, pour on vanilla extract and set aside. Add water and soda to egg yolks; beat with egg beater until foamy. Add sugar a little at a time, beating in well. Add flavored sugar and beat. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Fold carefully into mixture; pour in ungreased angel cake pan. Bake in moderate oven at 325° F. for 40 to 45 minutes. Invert pan and let stand until cake is cold, when, with the aid of a spatula, it will slip from pan. Remove all crumbs and moist crust from surface and cut in three layers. Spread Lemon Cream Filling between layers. Top top and sides with Marshmallow Seven Minute Frosting. (Recipe for filling and frosting are free in the Magic Cook Book—see free offer below.)

MADE IN CANADA

FREE—Send for the Magic Cook Book to use when you bake at home. Address: Standard Brands Ltd., Fraser Ave. and Liberty Street, Toronto, Ont.

BABU, GYPSY MONKEY ROUTS EXCLUSIVE CLUB GUESTS

Peggy Joyce, Chevalier, Rosie Dolly, Fanny Brice, Driven Off Courts

Babu, a monkey, was in custody one day in the late summer after a grand spree in one of the Cannes, France most exclusive tennis clubs, where he revised the popular idea whiskey precedes fun and had his fun before his liquor.

Babu belongs to the gypsy at a camp near Cannes. He escaped late the day before. Nobody saw him again until he popped up at the tennis club.

Peggy Joyce was there. So were Maurice Chevalier, Fanny Brice, Maurice Dekobra, Rosie Dolly, Irving Berlin, the Princess Sherboff, and a host of other celebrities.

Babu, a large monkey came in like no small cyclone. His first move was to assert himself. Dashing to the middle of the tennis courts, he thumped his chest with a dozen strokes, let out four or five piercing screams, and grabbed a racket.

Two women fainted. An unidentified man wearing knickers went over a brick wall in a leap that some said would have won Olympic honors.

Babu swung the racket around a left and succeeded, finally, in whacking himself on the head. This irritated him. He whooped and headed for a table at the side of the courts.

Two more women fainted. Peggy Joyce decided to go to her room. Chevalier hiding behind a concrete pillar, remarked:

"I'm leaving, r-r-right now!" Babu grabbed a box containing two dozen tennis balls. He threw out curves, spitters, drops and fits. Two more women fainted.

Tennis balls were bouncing off walls, sailing through the air, going places through windows and striking strangers with abandon.

One man ventured out with a club. He approached Babu, took one look at his ferocious scowl and left the club and the grounds.

Babu, having thrown away all the tennis balls, went to work on the rackets. He beat five rackets against a brick wall until they were in shreds. Then he ducked into a door.

They captured Babu ten minutes later, sitting on a high stool at the bar, calmly sipping a whiskey and soda.

Chevalier who helped take him in custody, expressed sincere hope that he would be given a Tarzan role when he returned to Hollywood. Peggy Joyce refused to issue a statement, saying she had a headache.

BRIGHTON and BARTON

(Held over from last week.)

Mrs. Hattie Outhouse, of Tiverton, has been a visitor at "Brookside" this week, where Mrs. Edward Young entertained a party in her honor, climaxing in a birthday party in honor of the finest old lady on the Bay, Mrs. Letitia Young. Mrs. Young delighted the guests with a character recitation of the schools of seventy years ago. Mrs. Betty VanBarcom, apothecary, "finest old lady in the Bay" displayed her most wonderful memory by a verbatim recitation of a geography lesson learned 75 years ago. A birthday cake the gift of Mrs. Avarad Adams, of Brighton, and Morristown, N. J., was the centre of a gay feast. Miss Constance Young, who has recently returned from a visit to Mrs. Lloyd Bailey, at Westport, poured.

Comte Bailey, of Westport, is in Brighton for the duck shooting. Mrs. Margaret Gidney, of Mink Cove, has been renewing old friendships in Barton and Brighton, (where she received her education), this week.

Miss Georgia Adams week-ended with Miss Mary Krausnick; and Miss Margaret Speicht spent a most enjoyable week-end with Miss Irma Adams.

Mrs. Walter Krausnick honored Mrs. J. Avarad Adams on her birthday with a bridge supper.

Miss Estelle Brooks, of Bridgetown, helped the Krausnick's celebrate the American Thanksgiving. Anagrams preceded and followed supper.

Edward Ossinger, of Digby, spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sullivan.

Mrs. Eva Wendell entertained Mrs. Krausnick and Mr. DeWolfe of the Education Department at supper recently. Plans for school planting were discussed. Mr. DeWolfe will bring the School and Community Club a lantern slide lecture in the near future.

Mrs. Grace MacKaye, who is wintering in New Haven, Conn., the guest of her brother, Dan MacKaye, spent two weeks at her home in Brighton recently.

K. Speicht and Mrs. Mossman were dinner guests of Mrs. J. Avarad Adams on Sunday.

VESSEL TOWED INTO PORT

The Bangor, Me., motor vessel, "Lucile," Capt. Luther Holmes, was brought into Digby Tuesday morning by the Bay View Life Boat. The "Lucile" developed engine trouble in the Bay of Fundy Monday evening, and managed to make her way to the "Gut" where the life boat, Captain Harry Raymond, came to her assistance and towed the crippled vessel into Turnbull's wharf. The "Lucile" was in ballast and came to this coast in search of lobster bait.

LEG INJURED IN WINCH ON BOARD VESSEL

Garfield VanTassel, of the crew of the Digby scalloper "Robert and Eugene," Captain John J. Hersey, was injured Saturday morning as the craft was docking. VanTassel threw a line from the boat to Harold "Wormell" on the wharf. Wormell made the rope fast and VanTassel commenced to warp the boat in by means of the deck engine. In some manner the cable caught around his right leg dragging him in to the winch, almost severing the limb just above the ankle before the engine could be stopped. VanTassel was rushed to the Digby General Hospital where at first it was thought the foot would have to be amputated. However, his injuries have not proved as serious as first thought and it is now believed that the limb can be saved.

YARMOUTH DEFEATS DIGBY IN FINAL GAME

Scoring an overwhelming victory the Yarmouth High School Basketball Squad took Digby High into camp for a score of 21-13 in a fast exhibition of basketball played at the Gymnasium here on Friday evening last. Probably the outstanding player for the entire game, Bob Johnson, was high score not only for Yarmouth but for the match. Yarmouth showed their supremacy from the start of the game. In the first half they piled up a total score of 15, with Digby far behind on a tally of eight. Combination play together with keen shooting spell defeat for Digby, as the visitors pulled out front. Gould Cann and Ken Veniot held the spotlight for Yarmouth. Billy Walker was the outstanding player for the locals. The second half started well for Yarmouth. Bob Johnson scored 8 points in the early minutes of the play, with Cann and Veniot showing valuable combination work. Walker and Webber of Digby, fought a valiant but losing battle for the local team. At the end of the period Yarmouth had advanced their total score to 31 points. Digby still on the small end had chalked up about 13.

Lawrence Smofsky referred to the satisfaction of the large attendance. A dance was held after the game in honor of the visiting players.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The Ladies' Hospital Aid Society acknowledged with thanks a contribution of $15 from the Women's Institute of Smith's Cove. This together with all their future donations, will be set aside for the keeping up of a bed in the Hospital known as the "Smith's Cove Bed." The interest of the Smith's ladies is greatly appreciated.

It is time to fill any remaining slots in your Hospital Calendar. Representatives of the Ladies' Hospital Aid will collect the calendars distributed in Digby and vicinity before Christmas.

Edwin Haines, of Freeport, was in town on Saturday on his way to Saint John to spend the winter with his daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) P. M. Hamilton.

Don't forget the meeting of the Board of Trade this evening.

KIWANIS CLUB MAKING PLANS FOR CHRISTMAS

There was a splendid attendance at Monday's luncheon of the Digby Kiwanis Club. At this luncheon further plans for the distribution of Christmas Cheer to the poor of Digby were discussed, and it was decided to leave the matter wholly in the hands of the committee in charge, namely Alfred Boden, Dr. W. R. Dickie and H. B. Short.

Rev. P. A. Walker, of Truro, Field Secretary for the Inter-provincial Home for Girls at Moncton, was a guest at this gathering. He addressed the club for a few moments, giving a brief outline of the work attempted by this institution.

THREATENS TO MAKE IT HOT FOR THE DIGBY BAND

The Digby Music Council appreciate the good will shown by business men and the ladies in their efforts to equip the young band, and some of the donors should be mentioned. Among them are Churchill Sollows, Frank Anderson, George Morrell and Arch Dillon whose gifts have added greatly to the instrumentation of the band. In connection with which a handsome gift is promised by a prominent citizen whose name is withheld for the present. A stove was supplied by Mrs. Turnbull, and other items were contributed by W. L. Holdsworth, Milton Turnbull, H. H. Ranges, Lorain Hayden, Fritz Dakin, Maynard Denton, and others. When the expensive item of winter's fuel had to be arranged, the Vice-President of the Council called up one of Digby's best known merchants who replied that he thought a band was of the greatest importance to Digby. He said "I can't play any instrument in the band, you know, but I can make it hot for them—I'll furnish all the wood they want." Don't that sound just like H. T. Warne.

FREEPORT

Wilfred Crocker, who spent the summer with his mother, Mrs. Estella Crocker, was a passenger to Yarmouth, Friday (9th), enroute to his home in Lynn, Mass.

Franklin Thurber and Grace Thurber were recent passengers to Yarmouth, the former to join S. S. Nova TV, at Yarmouth, the latter to visit an oculist, for necessary treatment.

Cecil Powell, who has been in Montreal the past few months, arrived home on Thursday of last week, via Saint John, where he visited his brother, Harold, for a few days.

Mrs. Seleda Stevens, a former Freeport lady, who has been visiting friends here for several weeks, has gone to Tiverton, from which place she will go to Ashmore and Plympton to spend the winter with relatives.

W. J. Foley, of Salmon River, was a caller at the Courier office yesterday.

V. O. N. NOTES

The monthly meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses, Digby Branch, was held on Monday afternoon, and was addressed by Miss Dawson, Eastern Supervisor of the V. O. N. She spoke first of the work nationally, and stated that Miss Smellie, Chief Superintendent of the V. O. N. for Canada, was invited as a guest of the Rockefeller Institute to visit some of the countries of Europe and study the nursing system. This was certainly a great compliment to the V. O. N., and also to Miss Smellie's abilities. But when we realize that the maternal and infant mortality is only half of what it was when the Victorian Order was first started, it was quite worthy of the recognition.

Premier Bennett realizing the importance of Miss Smellie's mission, gave her a letter to the Canadian High Commissioner in London, so that she might get in touch with the prominent health authorities in England. Miss Smellie returned to Canada quite recently, having visited England, Denmark, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Austria, Hungary, and other European countries in the interest of Health work.

In inspecting the local work it showed somewhat of a decrease in the nursing work, Miss Dawson said, but this was found in all of the branches owing to prevailing conditions in all parts of the country. However, this gave more time to Educational work. The work of the Well Baby Conferences showed quite an increase, she stated.

Miss Dawson hoped that all the work would be kept up to the standard, and trusted financial conditions would improve next year. There was a greater strain on the health of a V. O. Nurse, as she has to be on duty 24 hours, and exposed much to inclement weather conditions which other nurses do not have to cope with.

The annual meeting of the Digby Branch of the V. O. N. will be held on Friday evening, January 13th, 1933.

A Card Party will be held in the Court House early in January. See further notice.

The Committee wish to acknowledge with thanks, donations of clothing from Mrs. Christie, Miss Bessie Turnbull, Mrs. Howard Anderson, Mrs. Ganong, Miss Mullen, and a Friend.

BRIGHTON-BARTON SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY CLUB

The December meeting of the Brighton-Barton School and Community Club continued work begun at the previous meeting. Avar Worthylake and Charles Lamberton will investigate methods of treating the school floors. Joe Speight will head into the possibility of securing the town hall as a regular meeting place for the membership is now over forty, a large number for private homes to accommodate. Mrs. W. C. Harris and one other will serve on the nominating committee and a permanent president will be elected at the January meeting. Will Mullen's committee will plan and execute the school yard improvement project with club and school backing his committee. It is hoped that bulbs, shrubs and perennial will be donated at planting time next spring—many will be needed.

Miss Bertha Fraser addressed the members on The Right Kind of club and cited her audience as an example, for young men and women, parents and non-parents joined together.

er in a real community spirit. Miss Fraser's visit was heartily enjoyed. Business despatched, clipped Mother Goose rhymes indicated partners and tables, and the crokinole game (which overflowed into the kitchen) was on. Charles Lamberton won "the big stick" with highest score, and Arthur Foster conceded himself for carrying off the lowest score with an "all-day sucker." Those present were:

ADVERTISE IN THE COURIER

(By G.R.T.)

Do you remember when the first telephone line in Weymouth was into operation? I ran from the Campbell store at the Bridge, and it was quite an event in the history of Weymouth when the two phones were connected up and the users began shouting back and forth to each other. Funny looking instruments they were compared with the telephones in use today. They were wall phones with receiver and transmitter exactly alike—you held one of the things to your ear, and you yelled your answer into the other one, and at that conversation was more or less difficult, mostly very difficult, for the batteries that generated the electric current were small and weak, and consisted of two pint jars of salomonic acid solution, with a small chunk of carbon and piece of zinc about the size of a lead pencil in each jar. The call bell was a small magneto affair operated with a crank and by grinding long and hard it was possible to irritate the thing into making a faint jingle at the other end of the line. Then the party of the second part after "sussing" into silence of anyone within fifty feet of the building, grabbed the receiver and transmitter and began shouting "Hello-Hello-are you there?" and the conversation was on. But the faint squeak that came over the line was a rather poor reward for the test of lung power and ear strain expended.

At that time the only means of wire communication with such places as Digby, Yarmouth and the rest of the world was over the lines of the Western Union Telegraph Company, the office of which was located in the Weymouth post office, with Mr. C. Dwight Jones in charge as postmaster and telephone operator. Mr. Jones was Weymouth's first telegrapher, and a good one as telegraphers went in those days. He read the messages by sound which was something of a feat in the times when most operators in the smaller places were using the "register," a machine that punched the dots and dashes on a paper tape similar to that in use in stock brokers' offices today. At that time when the rails came through the country the telegraph line ran along the main highway, but the railroad company needing a telegraph line for the operation of its trains made an arrangement with the telegraph company whereby wires were transferred to the right of way of the railroad company and the telegraph offices were then located in the railroad stations, where the station agent became the manager of the telegraph office.

The first station agent in Weymouth was Jimmy Foster, followed by B. Drummond, R. McDonnell, Wm. Fraser, Johnson MacDonald, E. B. Ray, George Palmer, T. A. Pearson, Gertrude Dexter, E. C. Neely, G. Taylor and James Robicheau, which is as far as my record goes. All of the foregoing handled all of the telegraphic news, good and bad, coming to and going from Weymouth during their period of service. Messages of sadness and joy and good will, business messages and messages that were nobody's business, were part of the day's work. Operators in those days were supposed to be sworn to secrecy, but I never knew of one actually taking an oath before a magistrate or other judicial officer.

Somewhere about 1887 the Maitland Telephone Company which had been operating in Yarmouth County for some time, pushed its lines as far as Weymouth and later to Digby, Bear River and Annapolis. The first telephone office of the company in Weymouth was located in the railroad station in a back room adjoining the telegraph office, the first operator being Miss Lizzie Smith, and the first to have telephones installed in their offices and residences were G. D. Campbell & Co., Chas. Burrell & Co., Forbes Jones Hotel, Dr. H. A. Ellison and Charles Burdette. The telephone directory for all of Weymouth and Digby by Counties was contained on a single sheet of paper 8 x 12 in size.

This new telephone service was a boon to the smaller places along St. Mary's Bay, such as Meteghan, Little Brook, Church Point, Barton and Chers. The telephones could now be delivered by telephone instead of by mail or special messenger as had been the custom up to that time.

There are of course, many in Weymouth now, who remember the old stage coach days and the famous red and gold colored coaches drawn by four horses that were operated over the post road from Digby to Yarmouth with such famous drivers as Enos Rogers, Norman Bishop, E. A. Mamon, who cracked a wonderful whip and manipulated the lines with as much skill and dexterity as a cowboy does with his lariat.

I have been digging around in the pigeon holes of my memory for the approximate date that the Western Counties Co. began building the 67 miles of road from Yarmouth to Digby which put the stage line out of business for all time. I cannot locate that date, but it does not matter. Lots of Gazette readers will remember that the road was not built in a day. It was a long time in the grading and the bridge building work never been finished—construction work would start up for a while and then shut down, then begin all over again, rebuilding parts that were washed out during the shut down or making grade changes here and there which would shorten the line a trifle. Apparently the promoters had their troubles in raising funds with which to carry on the work. The stockholders were despondent to the limit, subsidies were hard to get and taxpayers objected strenuously to giving up their hard earned cash to pay the iniquitous railroad tax, many taxpayers swearing to high heaven that they would never ride on the "dumb old stage" as long as they lived, and some of them kept their vow until the end of their lives, thus indulging themselves in the pleasures of the one man game of biting off the nose to spite the face, while missing a lot of scenery and comfortable travelling by train, but, there are folk who do similar things even in these days.

Do you remember what an interminably slow job it was of digging the big cut through the Bellevue farm? All pick and shovel work, the dirt from the cut being moved in funny little two wheel dump carts to build the road bed and the approach to the west end of the railroad bridge. Such things as steam shovels and motor trucks were unknown at that time. Today such a job could be completed in a week.

What a motley crew of navies it was that swarmed down upon old Weymouth during those construction days. The good, the bad and indifferent were all represented and a hard working, hard fisted and hard drinking lot they were.

Plunkett and Stanley were the principal contractors for grade construction and George Christie was one of the sub contractors, a good, honest Scot with a large family of handsome girls. Sandy McDonald, with a large family of boys, not so handsome. Tommy Sutton and Billy Brooks, the singing comedian, and Billy O'Neil, with his two color moustache, saw white one week and coal black the next, were also colorful members of the Plunkett outfit.

Building the railroad bridge across the Sissiboo took a long time. After the piling had been driven and the foundation completed it stood for a long time before the iron work was erected and the girders, braces, rivets and bolts lay rusting on Rice's wharf awaiting a day of further financing by the promoters. Contractor Browne had his troubles in those days as did the other contractors. Browne lost money on the bridge job, left town in debt, went west and after a year or two of successful contracting, returned to Weymouth and paid off his obligations one hundred cents on the dollar. With the completion of the Weymouth Bridge the road was finally opened up for business for all of its 67 miles. Weymouth at last had rail communication with the metropolitan towns of Digby and Yarmouth, and so did Hectanooga and Jordantown. It was a great day.

when the little old locomotive "Pioneer" with its trimmings of burnished brass flashing in the sunlight, wiggled in with a string of cars from Yarmouth, and met the largest and brassier locomotive "W. H. Moody" hauling a short train of freight cars from Digby.

Do you remember that first ride in those brightly varnished and gorgeous colored plush seated cars of the old Western Counties Railway with Jack Whalen as conductor and Johnnie Phelan at the throttle? Or did you ride later with Conductor Davy McNutt and Driver Pete Robinson? Some ride wasn't it? And how! Oh Boy!

Election is over and everyone is glad including President Hoover. It was a revolution, but a perfectly sane one—all revolutions the world over should be that way. It looks as if the prohibitionists are headed for the waste basket. California, voted by a large majority to repeal its state dry law and sent Wm. Gibbs McAdoo to the U. S. Senate instead of Fighting Bob Shuler, Methodist preacher of Los Angeles. Brewers, hop-growers, vineyardists and winery owners in this state are jubilant over the outcome. And by the way, Mr. Roosevelt promised to reduce the tariff on Canadian lumber, cordwood and wood pulp. Does that mean anything to you?

News from Hollywood today is that Vivian Duncanson, member of the Duncan Sisters team, famous in their "Topsy and Eva" act, has secured a divorce from her Swedish husband, Nils Asther. Nils and his mother, who lived with them, talked in Swedish most of the time, which was more than they could stand for the understood not, the Scandinavian tongue. A property settlement of $25,000, payable $500 per month, goes with the divorce. The Duncan sisters have made a fortune on the stage, but it is said that they have spent it all as fast as received.

BRIGHTON AND BARTON SOCIAL NOTES

Balfour Speight and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Speight spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. Adams Adams and Capt. Thomas B. Adams.

George Smith had tea with Mr. and Mrs. W. Krausnick last Friday. Gifford d'Amore's wood-working and blacksmithing factory has started business in the upper end of Brighton.

His neighbors and friends wish him all the best. Frank Sullivan and Walter Krausnick recently made a business trip to Meteghan, Port Maitland and Yarmouth, and returned with a bag of lobsters. While in Port Maitland, they were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Soules. Mr. Soules is a leading spirit in Port Maitland's successful fishermen's union, a leading dairy farmer, fur rancher and a notable citizen.

Don't forget the School Christmas Concert on Thursday, December 22. It's going to be the best yet.

United Church Tea Meetings, Entertainments. School Concerts, School and Community Club Meetings, Ladies' Aid, etc., etc., all the social round of our flourishing community! Where do you hear about them? In the Courier Brighton and Barton Social Notes! Read the Courier.

Our beloved villages are growing. A third bungalow has been started and it is said that our ministers are getting worried about the extent of the betting as to which will be furnished first.

Charles Johns was in Digby recently on business. Miss Violet Cosman, a recent graduate of the Brighton-Barton school, is assisting with the Christmas Concert of the school.

Mr. Turck has recovered from his recent illness. William Speight and family are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Speight.

The many friends of Mrs. Fream are glad to learn that she is looking so well again, and was able to attend a concert recently.

We hear that Mrs. G. Willson (nee Miss J. Adams) has arrived in Bremen, Germany. Mr. Willson's new consular post.

Miss Ella Thibault is convalescing after her recent successful operation performed by Dr. Dickie, at the Digby General Hospital. She is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Frazier.

Miss Bertha Frazier, of Stillwater, and Miss Estelle Brooks were supporters of Mr. and Mrs. Krausnick on Sunday.

The School and Community Club is growing. Attendance and interest double every meeting. Hold the date on your social calendar, Jan. 6th, 1933, with Mrs. George Adams as hostess.

Mrs. Annie MacNeill was a weekend guest of Mrs. Edward Young.

Our community is not merely a summer resort, but also a winter resort. Observe the long list of people from "the States." We also have visitors from Westport and Yarmouth: Capt. and Mrs. Arthur Payson; Ronald Payson, Mrs. Raymond Wetmore and Mrs. Jesse Wetmore visited Mrs. Edward Young recently.

LITTLE RIVER

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Thurber (nee Dorothy Denton) have moved into their new home, and on Saturday evening a post-nuptial miscellaneous shower was tendered them by the young girls. A social time was spent in recalling school days, after which refreshments were served. Mrs. Thurber being assisted by her mother, Mrs. Sydney Denton.

The Women's Missionary Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. Darrell Cheney this month. After the opening of the meeting, the study book, "Glimpses and Gleams" proved to be very instructive and an interesting evening was spent. Then Mrs. Chesterton Davies (nee Eunice Morehouse), of Clarence, favored the company with a song. She also sang at the morning service on Sunday, "Afar From God," which was very much enjoyed.

At the special meetings held at East Ferry last week, by the pastor, Rev. C. L. Chute, and Rev. I. D. Harvey, a large number enjoyed the singing by the Digby Quartette; also duets by Mrs. Chesterton Davies and Mrs. Rupert Trask.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Frost and little daughter, of Boston, have arrived home in their car to spend Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Frost; also her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Stanton, of Tidville.

A delightful miscellaneous shower was recently tendered Miss Florence Collins by her friend, Miss Helen Frost, who had invited her to spend the evening at her home, but on Miss Collins' arrival she found the room filled with her girl friends. By the look on her face the surprise was surely complete. In the centre of the room was a tastefully decorated table in pink and white crepe paper, over which was built an arch of white with a white wedding bell suspended from the centre, under which stood a miniature bride and groom, the bride daintily dressed in white with the conventional veil, carrying a bouquet of roses. The bride-to-be took her place beside the gifts, opening and reading the appropriate verses accompanying each, which caused much laughter. She then expressed her appreciation to all for their thoughtfulness. A delicious lunch was served. Miss Beattie Porter, school teacher, assisting with the serving.

Christmas, Trans-Atlantic Style

Christmas, whether it be ashore or afloat, as a season, looms almost as largely on the horizon of Steamship Companies as on that of Santa Claus himself. Schedules must be planned months in advance for those who want to cross the Atlantic for Christmas in either direction, and above all, copies of the sailing lists have to be sent to the old Saint in time for him to plan his visits to the ships at sea. This year, from the Canadian side the Canadian Pacific liner "Duchess of Atholl" sails from Saint John December 15th, thus giving her passengers a chance to arrive in the Old Country in time to hear the Waits and Carol Singers on Christmas Eve.

Looking for Canadian children Santa Claus will visit the "Montrose," also of the Canadian Pacific, two days out from Saint John, on her way to England. It is strongly suspected by those who know that a scene such as that shown above, which is a familiar feature of Christmas festivities on all Canadian Pacific liners, will be enacted by Chief Steward Leith, of the "Montrose," aided by cotton whisks and the spirit of Christmas.

Not long ago some bright wag made the remark that the easiest way to end the depression would be to let the other fellow attend to the other fellow's business—methinks there is a lot of truth in that—all of us feel that we have a lot of good, useful hints that ought to bring the other fellow "out of the hole" should he follow them, but we believe him a bit too dumb to take to our bright ideas—on the other hand, we are usually convinced that his ideas are too impractical for us to follow. It is the way of the world and most of us would find it quite monotonous if we spent our whole time "minding our own business."

Sometimes I wonder if my business, the newspaper business, is a business of minding the other fellow's business?—This business we are supposed to give to our little world, accounts of what our friends and others are doing, and sometimes I wonder if they object to our prying into their affairs in order to glean material to fill up our columns week after week and year after year—quite often we are told as much, but, strange as it may seem, more often our readers get after us because we, for some reason or another, neglect to publish an account of something or another we missed somehow or another.

You may not believe it, but nevertheless it is a fact—there are a lot of people who go to a heap of trouble telling us how to run a newspaper successfully—people who know next to nothing of the inner workings of a newspaper plant, even a plant such as ours. There are those who call us a bunch of rogues because we soak them a dollar and a half for a year's subscription to the Digby Courier when they can get the Family Herald and Weekly Star for one dollar a year. There are others who believe we should be behind the bars on account of our outrageous advertising rates. Then there are others who tell us that we pay too much attention to this and not enough to that, and so on and so forth—but believe me, there are a few in this town whom I would like to give an opportunity of editing and managing this "old sheet" for one whole week—then, perhaps, they might get to see things through our glasses.

Nevertheless, we do appreciate the criticism and comments given us by our readers—more than once we have acted upon their suggestions and benefited thereby. Many other suggestions have been made us that we would like to take up, but cannot afford—and many others, we simply laugh 'em off. This newspaper business is a great game, and I don't believe I'd swap it for any other, and maybe, if I get myself in hot water often enough I will eventually become an honest-to-goodness hard boiled editor.

Now for a word or two on our front street. The citizens of this town have been talking permanent roads for a long time, and to date are not much further ahead than they were a year or so ago. Water Street, our main thoroughfare, is filled with its craters and pot holes.

Smilin' Charlie Says

"Y' ought t' be as thankful that you're not like other people as they are that they are not like you!"

and unless we go in for something more modern in the way of highway construction, 'twill always be the same. Throughout the years load after load of gravel dressings have been applied until today the original road bed must be several feet below the present surface. Without scraping off a lot of this surplus surface it would be nonsense to even consider applying a gravel dressing, even if the so-called "rotten rock" from Digby Neck were used—and even if this material were used it is a question of whether or not it would stand up under present day traffic conditions. The only feasible solution seems to be paving.

Of course the question of taxation must be taken into consideration. We all feel that we are paying altogether too much for taxes—but, when we come to realize that this year, to October 1st, more than sixteen hundred dollars have been spent on the upkeep of the main thoroughfare through town, and that the condition of the road is worse than it has been in a long time, it is time we commenced to show some action. For example, suppose the town did put down a paved street of some kind, and suppose the tax rate was raised something like fifteen cents on one hundred dollars assessment, wouldn't that be far better than throwing away sixteen hundred dollars, more or less, of the taxpayers' money annually for the so-called upkeep of a gravelled Water Street? Money spent on Water Street under existing conditions is simply money thrown away.

Personally, I am not in favor of any expenditures that will tend to boost our already too high tax rate unless such expenditure is decidedly for the benefit of the town and that the town will have something to show for the same. We need a paved road to keep abreast of present traffic conditions, and we need a road that can rightfully be called a road at all times of the year.

There will only be one more edition of the Courier before Christmas, and already we are speculating on what sort of a holiday business our merchants are doing. I don't doubt in the least that it will fall behind that of former years, but that is only to be expected. I do hope, though, that some of our merchants will not dampen the Christmas spirit by preaching the gospel of blue trim to every customer and prospect who enters their store. There are a great many stores, not only in Digby, where the proprietor or clerk behind the counter pulls a long face at every opportunity, and tells you at great length that business is rotten and that the people haven't the money to spend this year—it may be true, but why should they brag about it? I'll wager that more sales are lost through this kind of "salesmanship" than through any other cause, and the strange thing about it is that in many cases the same merchants were telling the same story during the prosperity period of 1928-29. I don't believe in being over optimistic, but I do hate this perpetual pessimism displayed by some people, and, honestly, I don't like to go into a store at this time of the year to buy some little token which I hope will bring some measure of happiness to someone dear to me—and then to leave that store weeping and bemoaning the fact that I didn't leave an extra nickel to help buy food and raiment for that poor, starving merchant.

During the past few months a number of very interesting "Reminiscences" have appeared in the Weymouth "Gazette" written especially for that paper by its correspondents near and far. Many of these have been reprinted in the Courier. Now I wonder if there are not a few "old timers" among our Courier readers who will pen us some of their reminiscences. There's "By" Blackford, for instance. I'll bet he could give us some "hot stuff" and there are a good many other fellows down there on the Islands and all along the "Neck"—and should I dust some of the cowboys out of my brain, it wouldn't be hard to think of possible contributors in Bear River, Smith's Cove, in fact, almost every place in the county. We've all heard Arthur Turnbull spin yarns of the days when he was a lad here—also Jack Russell can do his share—and then there are many who have moved away from their native Digby County who could drop a line or two. Come on, now folks, give us a hand—we won't be able to publish them all at once, but they will all get in eventually.

Golden Rod

DRUG STORE ENTERED

W. G. Blackadar's Drug Store on Main Street, Weymouth, was broken into about 10 o'clock on Wednesday evening of last week and about $15 worth of goods, chiefly chocolates, cigarettes and flashlights stolen.

The entrance to the building was made through a back window which opened into a small alley way between the drug store and a high wall next to the Royal Bank of Canada. It was the same window through which "Elderkin" made his break twenty-five years ago into the drug store which was then run by Ryan and Blackadar, and for which break he served a number of years in the penitentiary.

Judging from the signs of evidence regarding the break, and the nature of the goods stolen, especially since a number of valuable articles including cheques had not been touched, juveniles were suspected.

The Digby detachment of the R. C. M. P. were notified and they had no difficulty in rounding up the culprits, two small boys, namely: Albert Deveau and George Gillies.

A break into G. D. Campbell & Co.'s store had also been attempted the same evening, but after breaking the window and finding it fastened inside with a shutter, the burglary there was abandoned.

Get Rid of That SORE THROAT!

Any little soreness in the throat grows rapidly worse if neglected. Crush some tablets of Aspirin in some water, and gargle at once. This gives you instant relief, and reduces danger from infection. One good gargle and you can feel safe. If all soreness is not gone promptly, repeat. There's usually a cold with the sore throat, so take two tablets to throw off your cold, headache, stiffness or other cold symptoms. Aspirin relieves neuralgia, neuritis, too. Use it freely; it does not hurt the heart.

CHRISTMAS

The woods are all like Christmas,
So white and deep and still,
The snow lies untrodden,
Across the field and hill.
In summer days we roamed them
When all the world was fair,
Now, while the skies are darker,
We'll take the old way there.

Dear memories will meet us,
Across the quiet snow,
And drift us through the dreamings
Of days we used to know;
Sweet and unchanged and happy,
Like well loved friends they come.
To lead through time and distance
Back to the ways of home.

O death, where is your darkness?
Where is your woe and strife?
You brought the shining message
Of Everlasting Life;
No dear forms wasting hourly
Beneath the frozen snow.
But pearly gates and welcoming hands,

And friends of long ago.
My heart would be like Christmas,
All open, free, and good,
To sing along the crowded ways,
As in the quiet wood.
Oh, hush! for happy Christmas songs
Come to the earth again,
To touch awhile with gladness,
The restless hearts of men.

THE STORY YOUR FACE TELLS

Someone has truly said that "The eye is the window of the soul." It might be as truly said that the face is the mirror of the heart.

You may not have paused to ponder the fact that your face is a map which even he who runs may read. Try as you will, you cannot prevent the tracery on your vices or your virtues. In short, that portion of you which projects above your collar accurately reflects your character.

You may make a heroic effort to camouflage, but you cannot for long mask from the shrewd observer the process of thought which is going on deep within you. In a moment of unguarded repose they will spring to the surface in your features for all the world to see. As a man thinketh in his heart, so does his face reveal.

If there is joy within, the face reflects sunshine. If there is happiness in the heart, the face will reflect it in a smile. Trouble will trace its presence upon the brow; hatred will brood in the eye, contempt will curl the lip. Envy, avarice, selfishness, if they are tenants of the heart, will etch their presence on the face.

This is a very good reason why the corners of the mouth turn up or down. Furrows and crow's feet mean something. Some wrinkles come from laughing, yet these are always beautiful to behold and can be identified at sight.

If the thoughts which inhabit the heart are good, the face can reflect nothing but beauty. Our faces then, are largely what we make them.

Commander Who Earned Title, "Regular Fellow"
Ask any member of the Yankee division why General Edwards was their idol, and the doughty would do him less honor. "Because he was a regular fellow!" He was proud of his division and his men were proud of him and his marvelous memory for individuals gave many a private an unexpected thrill.

An occasion of this kind occurred several years after the war when a partially disabled member of the Yankees chanced to encounter the general on the street. He saluted and would have passed on but the general stopped him.

"Private Fitzgerald," he demanded, "what do you mean by attempting to pass your old commander on the street without pausing to shake hands?"

"I-b-b-but," stammered the private, "I wouldn't think of stopping a superior officer on the street."

"Private Fitzgerald," replied General Edwards in his sternest voice, "if ever you pass me by again, I will have a court-martial. If I have to start a war to do it!"—Los Angeles Times.

Victory Usually Won by Determined Effort
Sports are all very well, but they are not nearly so good as the steady plodding process. The big things result not from spasmodic spurts, but from strong and determined and persistent effort. If, at the end of a task, when the effort has been sound and hard, there is enough reserve in us to put on a spurt—then, indeed, a spurt is a fine thing. As a matter of fact, it is only the individual who has held himself in reserve who can put on a real spurt.

Sports are difficult things, and often taxing things. To be able to indulge in them we have to be strong and mighty. There must be a reservoir of strength to draw upon. If we have wasted ourselves, squandered our strength in useless effort, there is no possible chance of making a successful spurt. We shall just fall out—a failure.—London Tit-Bits.

Insurance Against Rain
Rain insurance to prevent the possibility of loss, by failure of entertainment owing to weather conditions, is common in England, but it is new general all over the civilized world. A specific amount of rain must fall during a specified period of time in order to make the insurance company liable. Application for a policy must be submitted, and the premium must be paid at least one week in advance of the date of the event in order that the applicant may not take advantage of weather predictions. The official record of the United States weather bureau is designated in determining whether or not the specified amount of rainfall occurs within the period covered by the policy.

Clay Popular Speaker
Henry Clay was elected speaker of the federal house of representatives on the first day he took his seat in that body, says Pathfinder Magazine. His term began March 4, 1811, but the first session after that began November 4 of the same year. Clay had served in the United States senate and had a national reputation. Representative Maurice H. Thatcher, of Kentucky, recently said of Clay in an address at Caracas, Venezuela: "For nearly 14 years Clay was the speaker of the house of representatives. He was the most distinguished presiding officer the house has ever had. In all that time never once was a decision of his reversed by the house, such was his ability and fairness."

Old Myth Telling of Animals' Theft of Fire

This myth goes back for its beginnings to a time when there were no people in the world. Animals and trees talked and walked about just as men do now. But there were galling monopolies even in those days. Pine trees had all the fire there was. The animals stood it as best they could, until one long cold winter when they almost froze to death. Then they called a council and planned to steal fire from the pines.

Word came of a council of pine trees on the banks of the Grande Riviere, where they had built a great fire to warm themselves. So a beaver swam over there and hid under the bank where the guards could not see him. After a long time a live coal left the fire and rolled down the bank, where it was caught by the beaver who hid it in his breast. Then there was a merry chase. The beaver ran very fast, dodging this way and that. Pine trees nearly caught him. Finally the larger and older trees grew tired and stopped on the river banks, where they are so thick that even now it is difficult to find a way through them. But a few pine trees, more agile than the rest, kept on and finally when the beaver was hard pressed he swam across the river and gave fire to the willows and the birches. That is why fire can be seen from these woods by rubbing sticks together.—Exchange.

Many Splendid Copies of Old Book of Hours

A Book of Hours dating from 1598 may be seen at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, purchased in Paris for $10,000. Such books have become bibliographical curiosities. Few copies of the many editions have survived the constant use to which they were put; some have even become unique; and many are famous for the lavish beauty of their workmanship.

The Book of Hours saw constant service, since it contained the prayers which were to be said each day at the seven canonical hours, from matins through vespers to compline, and as they have been used for centuries it was made small enough to be carried around conveniently and to be held in the hand while it was being read. And because it was so constant, it seems to have become a particular treasure. Wealthy owners spared no pains to adorn their copies with miniatures and decorations in gold, blue and vermilion paints and with embossed or tooled bindings—the work of famous craftsmen.

Praying Pilgrims
Mariazell is still the most famous pilgrim resort in Austria. On the eve of St. Peter, in June each year, great hosts of pilgrims leave Vienna and other places for the famous shrines, just as they have been doing for centuries. Half the population lives on the 50,000 pilgrims who go there every year, many coming from America to pray before the silver altar and the Twelfth-century statue of Our Lady of Mariazell. Over the mountains to Mariazell they went in thousands on foot years ago, but today the trains care for the climb. Mariazell is a famous winter resort and is usually packed at Christmas time. Those who love the grotesque effects of Gothic combined with the Baroque architecture will find much interest in the church.

Custom of Beginning Day at Midnight Old

The practice of beginning the civil day at midnight goes back to Roman times, both the Romans and the Egyptians having this custom. The Babylonians began the day at sunrise, the Jews and the Greeks at sunset. With the growth of the Roman empire the Roman day became almost universal. The period known as the "Dark Ages," probably because it was overshadowed by the splendor of the Roman empire, preceding it and by the learning of the Renaissance period following it, began with the fall of the Roman empire, in 475 A. D., and ended with the discovery of the Pandeon, or compilation of Roman laws, at Amalfi, in 1137. Some writers extend the Dark Ages to the Middle Ages as about the year 1550. Thousands of copies of William Tyndale's English translation of the New Testament were burned by the ecclesiastical authorities in England and Scotland between the years 1520 and 1536. The bishop of London, burned some of these at St. Paul's. The reason assigned was Tyndale's heretical opinions. Tyndale himself, often called the "Father of the King James Version of the Bible," was burned as a heretic in 1536.—Detroit News.

World Very Partial to "Eccentricities" of Rich

New York society enjoyed a hearty laugh when a certain very wealthy woman was held up by the customs authorities on the charge of attempting to smuggle in over a million dollars worth of jewelry. The laugh came in when the woman was held to be imitations, instead of the real thing.

"Well," remarked Senator Moses, "it goes to show that a rich woman can wear false jewelry and people will think it's real, while a poor woman could wear genuine diamonds, and folks would think they were paste. It reminds me of the man who was sent to the hospital for being too good to be true, or other patrons of the select cafe."

"I shouldn't think you'd let a man like that in here," one disgruntled patron complained to the manager. His bar-maiders are the limit!"

"But he's a millionaire, sir," protested the manager.

"Oh, I see," replied the patron, instantly mollified. "It's just eccentricity."

Long Acquaintance
Robby Joe was playing in the front and one day when the next-door neighbor stopped to talk to her.

"Knowing that she was visiting relatives who were new to the neighborhood, he asked whether the young lady on the porch was her aunt."

"Oh, no," replied Robby Joe, "that's my grandmother."

"With a nod Robby Joe resumed her play, setting the question with, 'Oh, yes, she's my grandmother. I know because I've known her for a long, long time.'"

Poem Made Grand Pro
Grand Pro still is the name of a village in Nova Scotia on Minas Basin about 15 miles from Windsor, says Pathfinder Magazine. It has a population of about 900 and is the same village made famous by Longfellow in "Evangeline." "Grand Pro" literally means great or large meadow and the village stands in the midst of a very fertile region. There is a French town named Grand Pre in the Annapolis. Sometimes the Nova Scotia Grand Pre is called Lower Horton by the English-speaking population.

"In that advertisement for my valveless motor," stormed the visitor, "he turned the second 'v' into a 'u'!"

INDIA RUBBER LAMP POST MAILED MUNICIPAL BOON

An India rubber lamp post has the laugh on careless traffic, for when it is run into and knocked down, it bobs right up again, sways a few times staggeringly and then regains its former upright position. The French Municipal Council, tired of setting up new lamp and traffic signal posts, experimented in an India rubber model at Paris in June. A crowd gathered when the first taxi driver collided with the ingenious post. Both the taxi and the post shivered slightly with the impact, and, when nothing more serious happened, the driver himself began to shiver and wonder if he hadn't better consult a doctor. Instead, however, he examined the post, much to the detriment of the gathering and the taxi. The taxi driver, who claimed it a municipal success.

JENNIE KNEW WHAT REAL DYEING MEANT

Mrs. Billings and her sister decided again that they would go on a diet. This time, they announced, they intended to keep faith with their calorie list. The cook was told to prepare dinner only for Mr. Billings, as the ladies were skipping that meal.

Came the dinner hour and tantalizing odors from the kitchen.

"Supper, indeed, sir," said Jenny, chuckling as she answered. "I always orders enough for them to eat a big meal when the ladies go on a diet."

"Is there enough to serve the ladies?" inquired Mr. Billings as the cook brought in the first course.

"Yes, indeed, sir," said Jenny, chuckling as she answered. "I always orders enough for them to eat a big meal when the ladies go on a diet."

A motorist touring Wales was struck by the inscription in Welsh which he saw in various parts of the country. When he had finished, he found that the attendant was showing him to his bath, the visitor passed before the inscription on the mat.

"TAM HTAB," he mused. "I'm sure that's Welsh for 'Welcome'."

"No, sir," said the attendant, "the bath mat happens to be upside down."

Mumme was listening to little Dennis saying his prayers, while grannie sat knitting.

"Towards the end of his prayers, Mumme was surprised to hear her little son raise his voice and positively roar:

"But, darling," she protested, "God isn't deaf!"

"No!" answered the little chap serenely, "but grannie is!"

The mistress was giving the new maid fresh from the country a list of household requirements.

Alice stared vacantly.

"Don't you know what a griller is?" asked the other, sharply.

"No, sir," she replied, "I do," replied the maid significantly. "It's a big hairy monkey the size of a man."

HEALTH

A HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION AND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES IN CANADA

DAMAGED HEARTS

"With all my heart," "From the bottom of my heart," and other similar expressions are an indication of a general feeling that the heart is a controlling force in life.

We know now that the heart is not the centre of the emotions and that it does not control the affections although we retain the language of the times when such beliefs were held.

We know that the heart is one of the essential organs of the body and that, throughout life, it is responsible for keeping the blood in circulation. The heart is a remarkably strong organ which pumps continuously, resting only during the short periods when it relaxes between beats.

Hearts may become damaged and may wear out before their time. The damage usually results from injury or abuse. Strong, capable and resistant as is this organ, there are a number of things which it is unable to withstand.

The most common form of injury to the heart is due to infections, caused by the germs or the poisons given off by germs. Of all the infections which damage the heart, the one which is seen most frequently is the one associated with rheumatic fever. This often occurs in childhood, when the only evidence of the condition may be what is called growing pains.

All of the communicable diseases are caused by germs, and during such diseases, the heart may be damaged. One reason why even mild cases should receive proper medical and nursing care is that such care reduces the possibility of the occurrence of heart damage. It is better to have the patient spend a few more days or weeks in bed at the time and have a sound heart than to cut short convalescence and, at the same time, cut short life itself.

There are also chronic or focal infections which damage the heart. Infections in the teeth, the tonsils, the head sinuses or some other part of the body may be responsible for heart disease. The time to remove such infections is before they have had time to do harm. Delay may mean disaster.

The heart has a large reserve, and is able to meet any reasonable demand made upon it, but if it is subjected to some sudden and severe physical strain, then damage may result. A continued extra burden is placed upon the heart of the person who is over weight.

To keep the heart healthy, infections of all kinds should be avoided, and properly treated as serious conditions if they do occur. Sudden, severe physical strains should not be attempted, and the body weight should be kept at a normal figure.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

A MESSAGE FROM SANTA CLAUS

Santa Claus has enlisted a new helper in his vast army of workers during the happy Christmas season. His workshop at the North Pole is no longer dependent upon the radio for communication. The Canadian National Telegraphs have extended an "invisible wire" to the top of the world, and it is now possible to send "Sanagrams" from any of their numerous branch offices to the little ones, at their homes. These messages will bear the date line of "The North Pole" and will be signed by the happy, old saint himself. The "Sanagram" was inaugurated last Christmas and it proved to be such a success among the children that, this Christmas, its scope has been extended, and it is now made available to parents throughout the Dominion. Owing to the volume of the "Sanagrams", business which is assured, the cost of sending them is small and the messages will be delivered by a uniformed messenger boy at any time 24, or before, Christmas Day.

CONCESSION MAN CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Preliminary hearing of Philip Comeau, concession, charged with manslaughter, began before Magistrate James A. Taylor on Tuesday.

Charles Holmes, Marshalltown, was killed when his ox team was in collision with an auto truck operated by Comeau on the Yarmouth-Halifax highway a few weeks ago. Two witnesses were examined Tuesday.

Dr. Harris, of Barton, who arrived on the scene of the accident shortly after it happened; and Constable Roy Squire of the R. M. P., who had made an examination on the spot. Cross-examination of those two witnesses took up the entire day and the hearing was continued.

The proceeds from the Annual Christmas Sale and the Digby by United Baptist Church, on Tuesday evening was $101.50.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Morehouse, of Centerville, who have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. James Bazillion, West Saint John, were in town on Tuesday on their way home.

A Christmas Concert will be held at the Acadiaville African Baptist Church on Tuesday, December 20th, at 7.30 o'clock. The program will consist of songs, recitations, monologues, plays, etc. Children, 10c. Adults 15c.

The order for 500 all-steel gondola railway cars for the Canadian National Railways is being hailed with delight by the people of Nova Scotia resident in New Glasgow and vicinity and in Cape Breton, as it will provide employment for hundreds of workers and also assist the steel and coal industries in the province.

Shakespeare talks of "livers white as milk." We don't know so much about the color but a liver shark recently taken at Harbor de Loure, New Brunswick, yielded 350 gallons of liver and a great quantity of oil. The shark measured 26 feet and weighed 3,000 pounds. That was "some" liver.

If necessary, I can make your portraits at night by the new system Edison Flood Light. Paul Yates.

Nurse Annie Icton, who has been living in Digby for some time, left for Halifax last week to have an X-ray of her arm, which was injured in an accident last New Year's. She will also meet Capt. Icton, who is on his way out from England, and will accompany her back to Digby.

275,000 pounds of chilled turkey from Manitoba and Saskatchewan have passed through the port of Halifax for the Christmas trade in Great Britain. About 300,000 pounds have gone or are about to go through the port of Saint John. This is a new trade for both ports and is a result of the recent empire trade agreements signed in Ottawa.

The Junior Band had an informal meeting in their new band room last night and were greatly pleased with it. The first regular practice will probably be held next Monday night, though the boys did a lot of "tootling" last night. Small groups have been practicing in the frame shop at Yates Studio, while the Director has been giving individual instruction to the novices.

Grain flowing through the ports of Halifax and Saint John so far this season is expected to exceed the peak of 1928. The flow of this "golden" stream means employment to a large number of railway workers, two hundred additional employees of the Canadian National Railways being put back to work on the Atlantic Region. Coming around Christmas time the additional employment is doubly welcome.

It would appear that nobody has anything on Santa Claus when it comes to fast work, judging from the number of Christmas trees he must have to dress up with presents each season. Just to give an idea it is estimated that 4,000,000 Christmas trees are cut annually from the forests of Canada for export to the United States. Large quantities of these trees come from the forests of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

Portrait Prices reduced to rock bottom; twenty designs of the very latest 1932 styles. Paul Yates.

ADVERTISE IN THE COURIER.

Lightning Prints Not

Photographic in Effect

Lightning prints is the name commonly given to pinkish marks often left on the skin of persons who have been struck by lightning. The patterns sometimes suggest trees, ferns, ships, animals, birds and even human figures. It used to be supposed that the action of lightning was photographic and that in some mysterious manner it left pictures of neighboring objects upon the body. This belief was probably suggested by the fact that many persons are struck while under trees and the most common pattern of the lightning prints is that of a tree or the venation of a leaf.

Scientists now know, says the Path-finder, that the lightning patterns are merely a froth-like effect of the lightning. The effects of lightning stroke on the human body are not unlike those produced by large quantities of electricity at high voltage and the most characteristic form of injury is some sort of burn. The burn is composed of lesions due to the passage of a branching or zig-zagging electrical discharge through the tissues and it is not unlike the mark left on a tree or a leaf.

Wife's Idea Concerning

Her Husband's Ancestry

Tracing back one's ancestry has been the most dangerous hobby in the world, says a columnist in the Los Angeles Times. The Los Angeles man proved no exception and it gave him a great kick. His wife, however, was much more interested in her ancestry. She was a scion of United States Steel, and when her husband announced that he was a true descendant of an English duke, she didn't bat an eyelid. "And I'm sure," chorused the husband hopefully, "that I'll go back a little farther, I'll find a king among my ancestors."

"Really," remarked his wife sarcastically, "I feel quite sure that if you go back far enough, you'll run across Ananias."

Stage Realism

"Richard III" contains one of the most dangerous roles in the Shakespearean repertoire, writes a columnist in the Manchester (England) Guardian. In the duel between Richard and Richmond the audience expects a realistic fight. The general gets it, for the part of the king is one in which actors who really can fence well delight to show their skill. Edmund Keen more than once overplayed the part and the audience, while of Barry Sullivan in the role of Richard it was said that whether or not there were six Richmonds in the field there were sure to be one or two in his. Sullivan's unreluctant victim, Lord Stanley, was a real life model, lost an eye at the Drury Lane Boxworth half a century ago.

Lepers Settlement

While a leper island in the Pacific may never be thought of as a tourist resort, Molokai, in the Hawaiian Islands, just across the strait from Honolulu, is in a different class. When men think of Molokai today, they are apt to forget its lepers, and only recall Father Damien and Father Dutton, the men who have given their lives to the lepers. The island is still attached to Robert Louis Stevenson on account of his famous letter defending Damien. The lepers live in comfortable homes on a peninsula quite apart from the rest of the island, measured 26 feet and weighed 3,000 pounds. That was "some" liver.

The Language Grows

Who says the English language does not grow? One might ask. Does it do anything else? In one short half-century a New York Yearling has become the following expressions: "Clover-licking constables," "great bank robbers," "hickaboola whistle-stops," "clay-pigeons by the village barbers," and "swinging and swinging." All these, though starting, seem harmless, except "hickaboola whistle-stops." What are they? A wheelman! What is that? A wheelman! For robber—if that is what it means—seems to be included to promote the thief to a high social grade—something new and new in the language of the predatory hierarchy.—Boston Transcript.

Once in a Blue Moon

The saying "Once in a blue moon" indicates a very rare happening. Very few people are aware that a really blue moon is never seen. The last blue moon was in February a few years ago the people of Suva, one of the Fiji Islands, were amazed to see the moon rise vivid blue!

Provide for the Birds

Phenants and other birds do not attack melons, tomatoes and berries because they have a particular liking for them, but because fruits and vegetables contain water which makes them thirst. California game officials have discovered. It is not necessary to use rifle or shotgun to keep the birds away from fruit and vegetables. A few containers with water are placed at convenient points where pheasants and other feathered species are found in abundance, the officials report.

Slam on Prisoners?

A 7-A literature class was studying "The Courtship of Miles Standish." The course of the recitation, the teacher asked by a student, instead of courting Priscilla so long, didn't ask her to marry him sooner. "One of the boys spoke up and said: 'I guess he wanted to enjoy himself as long as possible.'"

Louis Philippe Comeau, 21, Metcalf Station, appeared before Judge E. Stetshin, of Church Point, on December 7th, charged with theft. With the understanding that the goods stolen have been returned to the owner, he was adjourned one month in jail at Little Brook, upon a plea of guilt. Constable E. Deon of the R. C. M. P. prosecuted.

Considerable improvement is being done to the grounds in front of the Riverside Baptist Church, at Weymouth North. Prestidigit Colorings

The question of the color of the eyes and hair of some of the early Presidents has not been stated definitely. There is, however, one definite statement of a dark-haired, dark-eyed President. In "The Age of Hate," by George Fort Milton, describing Andrew Johnson, Mr. Milton cites from authentic source the reward offered for the apprehension of Andrew Johnson, who ran away from his employment. In the notice the master tailor reversed the description of the two apprentices. He had Willie of dark complexion, black hair and eyes, and Andrew, very fair, freckle-faced, light hair and fair complexion. The reverse is known to be true.

Sunday evening at 7.30, the closing service will be held by the Evangelists in the Smith's Cove Baptist Church.

During the past week the meetings have been well attended and a deep spiritual interest manifested. On Wednesday evening the Digby Male Quartette rendered a beautiful service of songs. The service was assisted by the young ladies from the Grace United Church, Digby, will repeat "The Challenge of the Cross," in the Baptist Church at Smith's Cove. A Gospel Service will be held at the Digby Baptist Church on Saturday night. The pastor, Rev. W. H. Turner, who is a student at Acadia University, will assist in all the services.

LUMBERMEN TO CONFER WITH PREMIER TODAY

Premier Harrington has asked the Executive of the Nova Scotia Lumbermen's Association in Nova Scotia to meet the Government in the Legislative Council Chamber at the Provincial Hotel, at 11.30 o'clock in the forenoon.

The purpose of the meeting is to survey the entire situation of the lumber trade in the Province with a view to seeing if any steps can be taken to stimulate work in it.

A very great number of people in the outlying districts are almost entirely dependent for their cash income through the winter upon the lumber industry. With the depressed conditions through which it is now passing the effect has been heavily felt by the people and it is the desire of the Government to see if any means whatever can be taken to stimulate the trade.

There is probably nothing of more importance to the rural districts of the Province than a revival of this industry. The people have suffered heavily recently because of the United States duties against Canadian lumber and the depreciation of the Pound Sterling.

All those who are interested in a hockey team this year, be at the Rink on Broad Street at 7 o'clock tonight (Dec. 16).

N. S. LIQUOR SALES DROP

$120,000
Sales of the Nova Scotia Liquor Commission for this December have fallen by approximately $1,200,000 from last year's intake, according to a statement issued by Premier Gordon S. Harrington. Gross sales amounted to $3,765,000 as against $4,965,000 in the previous year, and the net surplus fell from $1,720,000 to $500,000. The surplus had been estimated as $630,000, so that the return to the provincial treasury is about $137,000 below the estimate.

The Premier's statement dispelled any idea that the question of government sale might be submitted to the people soon again. "The question of the sale and use of alcoholic beverages is of course a highly controversial one," it said. "Many people are satisfied that the present method of sale has existed under prohibition. The present year is only the second full year of operation of the act, and a substantial period of trial will be necessary before a decision can be reached concerning the desirability of taking the question of the sale of the province again upon the subject."

There are too many commendatory reports to conclude other than that the act has brought substantial improvement. The records indicate that the people of Nova Scotia are not abusing the privilege they have acquired.

In addition to the general reduction in drinking, consumption of spirits declined markedly, the value of spirits sold reaching only about one-half that of beer and wines dispensed.

Small Flower Deserves Title, Handful of Gold

Living in harmony with broad leaved plantain, lady's tobacco, arrow leaved blue violets and habert-leaved sorrel in old pastures and fields, the delicate little common cinquefoil or five-finger, a philosopher, if its name is emblematic of the five fingers of the human hand, and held out in friendliness. It has something to give. The bright golden yellow flowers like tiny golden sheep to the winds by springfountains. The plant believes in making its corner bright and cheerful. Once a lonely old witchwoman shunned by all, except the wind, was to care for the sick, asked Queen Mary of Scots, "People to offer a reward for acts of kindness." "Where anyone does an act of kindness," answered the fairy, "a handful of gold shall be found." The next morning she awoke to find her window to see a hungry dog in the yard. She threw him a bone. Where he snatched up the bone was found the yellow cinquefoil, five golden fingers—a handful of gold.—J. O. Swift, in the New York World-Telegram.

Married

Amirault-Deveau

A wedding was solemnized at the church of St. John the Baptist, Lynn, Mass., on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 26, when ARMAND J. AMIRAULT, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jervais Amirault, formerly of West Pubnico, but now residing at Lynn, Mass., was united in marriage to Miss Dora Deveau, daughter of Mr. and the late Mrs. Moses J. Deveau, of Salem, Mass. The bride was given away by Rev. Father Vigenant. The bride wore a costume of white satin with veil of tulle and lace caught with sprays of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. She was attended by Miss Emily Amirault, sister of the groom. The groom was attended by Joseph Comeau. After the ceremony a turkey dinner was served at the home of the groom to immediate relatives. At 8 o'clock a reception was held in St. John the Baptist hall attended by over 450 relatives and friends. The happy couple received many costly and useful gifts, among which was a purse of gold, an electric radio, silver, china-ware, etc. After a short honeymoon trip they will take up their abode in New Park St., Lynn, Mass.

SOLVING THE CHRISTMAS PRESENT PROBLEM

The great trouble many people have in selecting a Christmas present for a friend is the fact that the friend has this, that and the other already, and the Municipality is to think of something that will be received with real satisfaction. What about giving something extra in tea? Such a present would not only be most acceptable, but every time the tea is used at the table it would be a happy reminder of the giver. Presently the tea to buy for this purpose is MORSE'S SELECTED ORANGE PEKOE which at 75 cents per pound package is the finest tea sold in Canada at any price and is known as the tea de luxe. Ask your grocer for MORSE'S SELECTED ORANGE PEKOE done up in Christmas wrapping. For mailing to friends at a distance it will be found most convenient.

REPORT RABBITS PLENTIFUL IN CLEMENTSPORT DISTRICT

Bill Westhaver, now of Clementsport, made the editor a present of a pair of bunnies the other day. Bill says that rabbits are very plentiful in this district. In fact, we have been told that they are so plentiful that they are almost a nuisance. During summer months, so they say, farmers have actually had to kick them out of the way of their moving machines, and even then it happened that they occasionally cut one. "And thanks, Bill, we enjoyed them fine."

Christmas Suggestions . . .

Have you looked around to see just what different members of the family might need for Christmas?

Mother might need a new Enterprise Range to make her work a little easier—the old one burns so much wood and hardly bakes at all, and if there is one thing that any Mother likes to do is to have her food cooked just right for her family.

Then again a Norge Refrigerator at our special price for Christmas, of $150.00, would certainly fit in any home. Dad might want one of our Canadian made Christmas Tree Stands—they hold any size tree and will save him the bother of making one out of boxes, boards or what-not.

Sis would like a Majestic Radio with all the latest improvements, or a Table Lamp; and Brother is just crazy to have a new Jack-knife or a new Flashlight.

These are only a few suggestions of many that we have to offer you, and if you will only come to our store you may find just what you have been looking for.

In view of the greatly reduced price and special terms at which the Agricultural Limestone Board of the Department is offering limestone to the farmers of the Province (from the recently established government owned plant at Pugwash) an arrangement has been entered into which makes it possible for the Eastern Lime Company of Windsor to supply limestone (analysis and fineness subject to the approval of the Board) at the same price and on the same terms as the Board, to points on the Dominion Atlantic Railway. Orders for Windsor limestone may therefore be forwarded direct to the Eastern Lime Company at Windsor or to the Board at Pugwash.

FOOT CAUGHT IN HATCH, SAVES YOUTH FROM DEATH

Saved from death because his foot caught in the engine-box hatch, 16-year old Robert Doucette on Tuesday night last, it was decided to sponsor the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the landing of the Loyalists. RAVENS RE-ORGANIZE

A meeting of the hockey fans of the town was held in the theatre last Friday evening. It was decided that the Red Ravens Hockey Team should be on the ice again this winter and the following players were enrolled: Guy Morehouse, Jr., Wm. Eldridge, Webster Dunn, Douglas Raymond, Seymour Denton, Charles Hyson, William Hutchinson, Charles Walker, Sydney Smith and William Walker. And the following officers were appointed:

President—P. W. Holdsworth.
Sec'y-Treas.—E. J. Theriault.
Manager—F. L. Anderson.

The first match will be played next week with Annapolis, at Annapolis Royal.

RETIRING PASTOR AND WIFE HONORED

Rev. T. B. and Mrs. McDormand, of Middleton, who are leaving early in January for Edmonton, where Mr. McDormand has accepted a call to the Strathcona Baptist church, were guests at a recent reception at the home of Willard Fenerty, West Brooklyn, Thursday evening of last week, where about 100 friends were present. Rev. A. S. Adams, Lawrencetown, assisted with Mr. McDormand in this field, presented a purse of money to Mr. and Mrs. McDormand with an address. Refreshments were served. A feature of the gathering was music rendered by four brothers in a quartet, sons of Murray Elliot of Spa Springs. Rev. Mr. McDormand is a native of Bear River.

DIES IN STRUGGLE WITH SEA

Mrs. Fred Rockwell, 31 years old, wife of the manager of the Midcoast Golf Club of Hamilton, Bermuda, died of a heart attack during a struggle with the ocean undertow while in bathing on Thursday last with her children and her brother-in-law, Cecil Raymond, who collapsed after bringing her ashore but is recovering. Mrs. Rockwell was from Smith's Cove, Digby County.

Three physicians restored Mr. Raymond to consciousness but they worked over Mrs. Rockwell for three hours in vain. She will be buried in Hamilton, Bermuda.

Mrs. Rockwell was a daughter of Mrs. Sara Cossaboom, and besides her husband and son, she leaves to mourn their loss, three sisters, Mrs. John MacDonald, of Jersey City, N. J.; Mrs. Cecil Raymond, of New York; and Miss Louise Cossaboom, of Digby.

GIVE THE BAND A CHRISTMAS PRESENT

They need a dozen more kitchen chairs, a couple of small tables, and two window blinds, one 36 inch and one larger. Four lengths of stove-pipe are needed, and they would also like to borrow a cabinet organ for the winter.

Next week, being Christmas week, there will be no regular luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club, but the president is very anxious to meet the entire club in the Town Hall, on Thursday evening next.

The new assessment roll is open for inspection at the town office, and believe us, it is being inspected. Some of the comments not to print, and oh boy! you should hear to some of the comments "whenever men gather."

Try to think of a more useful and acceptable gift than a box of Stationery. And as for cleanliness and beauty, you will have to look at those at Connell's.

Earl Anderson is home for the holidays.

In these days a man who doesn't know something about music and the names of common band instruments has neglected part of his education. The big show of organs in Aymar's window the week-end will offer free information if the management find time to label all the instruments and give the name of the player or owner.

Have you any difficult problems to solve in the line of Christmas buying? By selecting articles for your stock that are useful as well as unusual we try to be of assistance in these cases at Connell's. And we will be as helpful as possible too.

The motor vessel Peryneas sailed yesterday for Liverpool with the last cargo of pulp shipped by H. T. Warne under his old contract with the Mersey Paper Company. She is expected back next week to take the first cargo under the new contract, but after that it is not likely that she will be here very much during the rest of the winter.

Mr. Warne will put a crew in the woods early next week to start the season's cut.

The many friends of Mrs. Joseph Sabean will regret to learn that she is seriously ill at her home at South Olds, Yarmouth County. Mrs. Sabean was formerly Miss Etta May Allen, of Weymouth, and previous to going to Yarmouth, resided at South Range, Digby County. Many friends and relatives from Smith's Cove, North Range and various parts of Digby County, where Mrs. Sabean is well known, have been to see her. Her cousins, Mrs. Eva Phillips and Mrs. Jessie Wyman, of Yarmouth, spent Thursday of last week with her.

FINISHING TOUCHES ON VESSEL GOING TO ST. LAWRENCE

The most impressive launching ever witnessed at Meteghan took place on Wednesday evening last, when the passenger and freight vessel Pene Arneau made her initial bow as she slid gracefully off the ways from the local shipyard.

This latest product of local ship-builders is constructed of native lumber and is now receiving finishing touches at the wharf before sailing.

An unusually large crowd was present for the launching, which was perfect. The vessel was used as a passenger and freight craft and will navigate in the St. Lawrence River.

Mrs. John F. Deveau, wife of the manager of the Meteghan Ship Building Company, Limited, had the honor of christening the vessel, which was named after a missionary priest of Quebec.

"Appreciation of Beauty" Subject of Address

At the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club, held on the Princess Helene on Monday, Alfred Boden was the speaker. He took as his subject "The Appreciation of Beauty" and handled it in a masterly way. His address was one of the best which has been heard so far by the Digby Kiwanians, and it is a pity that more could not hear it.

Matilda's Christmas

By Robert Stead

MATILDA CUMMINGS looked soberly out of her kitchen window across the fields of snow which lay to the westward. The afternoon sun was shining on the white crystals, but it was not the dazzle of light which brought the puzzled look into her eyes, or knitted her brows in a frown of perplexity.

Half a mile across those white fields lay the homestead of Arthur Birch. A tiny spiral of blue smoke spun upwards from smoke-covered roofs, suggesting comfort and domestic activity in the little place that would be Matilda's Christmas. She was fourteen now, and almost as useful about the house as a woman.

Matilda thought of the year and a half that had passed since that unhappy day, and her heart warmed again with woman's sympathy for Arthur Birch. She was in a position to sympathize, for her own childhood dated back eight years. Carl, her boy, had been seven then; now he was taller than she, and as good as a man. Through all these years, Matilda, in her gentle, unobtrusive way, had made her friendship plain to her, and she had accepted it as from a good neighbor and the husband of her particular friend, Jessie Birch. Now, with Jessie gone, it was not so easy to accept. There were gossiping tongues, and Matilda had caught some echoes of the murmurings they were tossing about. "That was why a puzzled frown darkened her eyes as she looked across the white fields toward the homestead of Arthur Birch. She wondered if anything had reached his ears."

She was recalled from her reverie by the sound of a whistle. There was a sharp, clear whistle, and then a low, steady hum. "All right, mother! All aboard!" The boy rushed in, but as her eyes turned to his she sobered. "Something wrong, mother?" he asked. "Matilda smiled heavily at her big man. Should she tell him? She tapped his arm with an affectionate hand. "Ready in a minute, son. I was day-dreaming."

But he knew. "You are troubled, mother. His words were an invitation to confidence."

She made a quick decision. "All right, Carl. I'll tell you. You know that every year since your father left and Mr. Birch has sent a Christmas remembrance."

Matilda answered his smile. "An unusual kind of gift, Carl, but a very practical one. And now—perhaps you don't understand, Carl, but now that Mrs. Birch is gone it is a little different, don't you see?"

Carl's shoulders came back and his jaw stiffened. "Have people been talking? Just let me hear them!"

His eagerness to spring to her defense pleased her, but this was not a matter in which physical force could be employed. "No, that would not do any good," she answered, kindly. "And people will talk, you know. I hope Arthur won't send one this year."

"Why don't you tell him?"

"That is not easy to do. If he has heard the talk he won't send it. If he hasn't, but I must hurry. I've packed in the snow cutter beside her son, Matilda's misgivings soon evaporated. Life was still very much worth living, she reflected, even though there was one great regret even in it. On the road they met George Janson, and his neighbor, Sam. George touched his cap with his whip hand in answer to her smile.

"A fine woman, that," said Sam, with implications in his voice. George was a bachelor. "Now, if I was a single man—"

George smiled, but the suggestion came nearer his heart than even Sam suspected.

"I guess nobody but Arthur Birch has much chance in that direction," he said, hoping to be contradicted.

"Arthur Birch? Ishaw! Nothing's ever done until it's done. Guess Mr. Arthur hasn't married her yet. But he will, I'm thinking. If you let her slip out of your hands. Didn't you see the way she smiled at you?"

George had seen, all right, but he thought that was just Mrs. Cummings' courtesy.

"But what's a fellow to do?" he asked, hoping for guidance.

"Do? Do something! Do what Arthur does. You know he sends her a dressed pig every Christmas. Now there's no further around Wicket Center got a better line of hogs than you have, George, and you could spare her a carcass as easy as a colt can spare a whinny."

George ruminated for some minutes, while his brightly beamed headlights little clouds of snow in his face. "I have a fine carcass of pork as you ever set tooth to hanging in my shed right now," he confessed, "and I have a good notion—"

Darkness had fallen long before Matilda and Carl returned. Their shopping had taken more time than they expected, as the stores were crowded with Christmas buyers. Carl swung the cutter up to the door, but even before Matilda left her seat she could define a large dark object lying still on the porch door.

"It's here!" she said, with a little slaking feeling inside.

Carl had seen it, too. "Yep," he agreed.

For some moments Matilda contemplated the situation. Then she made her decision. "I think you had better take it back to him, Carl. Just take it in the cutter and leave it quietly on his porch. He'll understand."

Carl hurried away on his errand, but Christmas eve was spoiled for Matilda. In fancy she saw the mild surprise on Arthur's face when he found his gift—his customary gift for eight years, now—returned to him. It would hurt him. She was sorry for that, but what else was she to do? If the gossip of the countryside had not yet reached Arthur it would before long, and then he would understand.

"I think, Carl," Matilda said, after they had breakfasted and the morning chores were done. "It would be nice if we drove over to Mr. Birch's, just to wish Arthur and Susie—the compliments of the season. It can't be a very merry time for them—"

But Carl was looking out of the window. "We're late," he exclaimed. "Here's Mr. Birch driving down the road!"

To Matilda's annoyance she felt the blood rush to her cheeks. Then back again in a flood. She had just time to whip an apron off and run a comb through her pretty brown hair, with its occasional tell-tale tinge of silver, when Arthur's knock sounded on the door.

"Come to the door, Matilda," he called. "Santa Claus!"

In spite of the cheery ring in his voice Matilda's quick ear detected the strained effort. Trembling a little, she unlocked the door. In his sleigh, there it was!

"Left at my house, by mistake," he said. "This card was pinned inside."

With eyes that swam a little she read: "To Mrs. Birch, with many good wishes from George Janson."

"Oh! I thought it was from you!" she cried. "I sent Carl back with it last night, because—because—Oh, won't you come in and sit down?"

Carl took the train, and in the cozy sitting room they faced each other. "You have heard the talk?" Matilda asked, too honest for evasion.

He nodded. "That is why I didn't send one this year," he answered. "I didn't wish to embarrass you. But I have thought of a way out."

"Yes?" Her voice was eager.

He raised her hand in his, and before she realized what he was doing a gem flashed from her finger.

"Oh! A bestie, she murmured.

"Will you keep it, dear?" He was drawing her to him.

"Certainly not! I can't keep George's pig—when I'm going to marry you."

Men of Learning Admit

Letting Minds Wander

The long line of absent-minded professors is a well-known feature of the American University club. They were young, good looking and frankly men of leisure.

"I think I shall go to Miami soon," said John Clair, as he filled his pipe. "It's getting cold here now."

"Why don't you stay a while?" asked Gordon, the season's just started, and there are some very pretty girls this year."

"Women, all you think of is women," said Clair disdainfully.

The two men were silent for a few minutes. Then John said: "Oh, by the way, Lawson, where are you giving the ladies for Christmas?"

"Why?"

"Oh—just a matter of my feeble but still functioning curiosity."

"For Carline—a gorgeous dresser set (she's vain); for Leah—a rope of pearls (she has an unusually beautiful throat) for Marie—"

"Stop!" interposed Clair. "Why don't you give her something original—a beautiful shoe tree set, for instance?"

"What are you going to give the darlings for Christmas?" demanded Lawson.

"My dear Lawson," he answered condescendingly, "I am going to present a girl with her brother as a gift."

"A brother? Why not a husband?"

"That will come later. Shall I tell you the story?"

"Yes go ahead—if it gets too tiresome I'll let you know."

"Do you remember when I graduated from Yale?" began Clair; "that was about three years ago, I believe, and a notable year, because it was the last time I ever did any work."

Lawson sighed. "All—the detailed history of John Clair," he murmured.

"My father died the year after, you will recall," Clair continued. "Well, the last year I was at school the family went to Europe and closed the town house. So I rented a flat."

"You were always lonely," said Lawson with mock appraisal.

"Strange as it may seem to you, Lawson, I have a hidden talent. I can write. When I was in school I even had aspirations to be a newspaper man."

"I see. This is only about yourself. There are no women in this narrative."

"Wait a moment. There will be presently. The whole story hangs on the fact that about Christmas time that year I wrote an unusually good English theme. It was about a Russian Christmas."

"Good Lord," ejaculated Lawson, "you've never been to Russia, man."

"I know, but I took the idea from a book, or magazine or something, and rewrote it. Well, the good-hearted professor handed it in to one of the papers, and they published it. How realistic that story was you will understand in a few minutes."

"I hope so."

"After that I was coming home rather late from a party, in fact a series of parties, so it was almost dawn when I let myself in the apartment. And what should I see curled up asleep on the chaise longue, but a girl. She was poorly dressed, and she had a lot of dark hair that had fallen across her face, so I couldn't tell whether or not she was pretty, but I took the chance, and awakened her. She sat up straight and looked at me and smiled. She was beautiful, fine features and that sort of thing. And a figure that would make most of these debts turn green with envy. Well, anyhow, she started talking to me in an engaging, friendly and all I could do was talk amazed."

The Unusual Christmas Gift

by Frances McKusick

IT WAS cold. About six inches of snow had fallen within the last few days. The stores were gay with their glistening decorations and pretty holiday gifts. The pine and spruce trees on the lawns were shivering with many colored electric lights. It would be Christmas in a few days.

John Clair and Gordon I. were sitting before the open fire in the New Haven University club. They were young, good looking and frankly men of leisure.

"I think I shall go to Miami soon," said John Clair, as he filled his pipe. "It's getting cold here now."

Christmas Suggestions . . .

Have you looked around to see just what different members of the family might need for Christmas?

Mother might need a new Enterprise Range to make her work a little easier—the old one burns so much wood and hardly bakes at all, and if there is one thing that any Mother likes to do is to have her food cooked just right for her family.

Then again a Norge Refrigerator at our special price for Christmas, of $150.00, would certainly fit in any home.
Dad might want one of our Canadian made Christmas Tree Stands—they hold any size tree and will save him the bother of making one out of boxes, boards or what-not.

Sis would like a Majestic Radio with all the latest improvements, or a Table Lamp; and Brother is just crazy to have a new Jack-knife or a new Flashlight.

These are only a few suggestions of many that we have to offer you, and if you will only come to our store you may find just what you have been looking for.

WHAT IS SUCCESS?

By Edgar A. Guest.
Success is being friendly when another needs a friend;
It's in the cheery words you speak,
and in the coins you lend; Success is not alone in skill and deeds of daring great;
It's in the roses that you plant beside your garden gate.

Success is in the way you walk the paths of life each day;
It's in the little things you do and in the things you say; Success is in the glad hello you give your fellow man;
It's in the laughter of your home and all the joys you plan.

Success is not in getting rich or rising high to fame;
It's not alone in winning goals which all men hope to claim;
It's in the man you are each day,
through happiness or care;
It's in the cheery words you speak
and in the smile you wear.

Success is being big of heart and clean and broad of mind;
It's being faithful to your friends,
and to the stranger kind;
It's in the children whom you love
and they learn from you, Success depends on character and everything you do.

BETWEEN OURSELVES

The first thing on the programme this week is to say a Merry Christmas to everybody—and I certainly mean it. I hope that this Christmas will be the happiest, merriest and jolliest ever—I hope that out Santa will fill that sack of yours so full of loving gifts and best wishes that it will have to be darned before you can wear it again. Yes, I mean every word of it, and I hope that those of you who were able to do your share all round by doing your little bit to bring the joy of the Christmas season to those who are less fortunate, either through your own personal efforts or by co-operating with local societies who are doing all they can to see that the good old Saint misses none.

This issue of the Courier carries a report of the meeting of the Board of Trade held last Friday night. Unfortunately, I was unable to "be among those present" but from the "loss" account, the Board of Trade is planning big things for Digby's Old Home Week in June of next year. The C. P. R. and the Eastern Steamship Company have offered their hearty co-operation in a most generous way. There is no reason why this "Old Home Week" commemorating the 150th anniversary of the landing of the United Empire Loyalists in Digby shouldn't be made one of the most outstanding events in the town's history since that time—there is no reason why this celebration shouldn't be the means of attracting hundreds of tourists and former "Digbyites" to our town next June. It is up to every citizen of the town to see it through in good style—to get behind the movement and push for all he is worth. It's going to mean a lot of work and to make a real success of it, each one of us must do our share and not leave all the responsibility to the over-worked "old reliables."

Again—it's hockey. The Ravens have re-organized for the season and let's all hope they will do their stuff as in former years. None can deny but what the Digby Ravens have done much to put Digby on the Sports Map—they have won a name for themselves that is envied by many smaller and larger teams in the Maritimes. Who knows but this year they may win the Nova Scotia championship. The Maritime championship. They have been the "runner-up" for the Nova Scotia championship on many occasions and it has been years since there has been a team in Western Nova Scotia able to trim them.

I see by some of the exchanges coming into our office where Mahone Bay now has a newspaper of its own. "The South Shore News" edited and published by Burton Brown. The date I haven't seen a copy of it, but this news convinces me that no optimists can't deal with "The South Shore News" without being tried in scores of places in the fourth weekly news paper in Lunenburg county not to mention a small daily published in the town of Lunenburg.

Speaking of the Lunenburg County newspapers, I see where our friend, F. J. MacPherson, the new editor and publisher of the Bridgewater Bulletin, recently underwent an operation for appendicitis. Mr. MacPherson is the second of the Bulletin staff to undergo such an operation within two weeks.

They have our sympathy, and here's hoping they will be around in time to enjoy their Christmas turkey and stuffings.

I suppose since I seem to have assumed the responsibility of supplying the editorial material for this paper, I am expected to say a word or two on the war debt question, but right there is where I'm going to fool a lot of people—I'm not. I'm honest enough to admit that I know very little about it. I've read a little, talked a little, and listened a lot and am very little the wiser. What puzzles me, though, is why politicians and statesmen the world over are making such a fuss about this matter when all they really have to do is send to Digby—there are men here (judging from the way they talk) who can settle all the important questions of the nations by a few minutes' consideration and then spend the rest of the day at their business or doing their own chores or dodging the sheriff.

The Municipal Council will meet on January 10th. I wonder what that body will have under their consideration at this session. No doubt the question of taxes will be discussed and it is cussed at great length in this council has a mighty problem on its hands—and let's wish them luck, they sure need it. Municipal governments and town governments can't be any much these days.

It won't be many weeks now before it is up to the voters of Digby to choose their candidates for the 1933-34 town council. I am not going to say any more about that at this time, but it is time we commenced to give this very important matter our thought.

Again, Merry Christmas to everybody!

—Ye Junior Ed.

THE UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF GARDEN

Over fifty destitute families provided with a plentiful supply of vegetables and saved from a summer of absolute idleness—there is no reason why this employment relief garden project sponsored by the Rotary Club of Fredericton, in co-operation with the adjacent Dominion Experimental Station.

Some of the families worked gardens on land about their homes but the majority of them were established on a piece of land donated to the Experimental Station. The Station also furnished a lot which was used as a community potato field.

The Rotary Club furnished seed, fertilizers and spray material. Interested citizens offered prizes to stimulate a proper enthusiasm. Federal and provincial agricultural experts gave plenty of advice, and the result was a striking success.

Two or three incorrigibly lazy families fell down on the job but the others carried on with splendid spirit and some of the plots would have excited the envy of even the most hard boiled professional gardeners.

After fortifying their systems during the summer with the vitamins of lettuce, radish, cucumbers, green peas, and green beans, these families are now facing the winter with generous stocks of potatoes, cabbage, turnips, carrots, onions, bottled tomatoes, dried peas, beans and other vegetables. And who can measure the value of aroused spirit and renewed morale derived from a season of pleasant occupation.

The idea is one that should be spread abroad. There is no all the optimists can't deal with "The South Shore News" without being tried in scores of places in the fourth weekly news paper in Lunenburg county not to mention a small daily published in the town of Lunenburg.

Speaking of the Lunenburg County newspapers, I see where our friend, F. J. MacPherson, the new editor and publisher of the Bridgewater Bulletin, recently underwent an operation for appendicitis. Mr. MacPherson is the second of the Bulletin staff to undergo such an operation within two weeks.

'HE LEADETH ME'

"In Pastures green?" Not always; sometimes He Who knoweth best, in kindness leadeth me In many ways, where heavy shadows be Out of the sunshine, warm and soft and bright; Out of the sunshine, into darkest night.

I oft would faint with sorrow and affliction Only for this I know He holds my hand: So whether in green or dry and desolate land I trust, although I may not understand.

And by still waters? No, not always so. Oft times the heavy tempests blow. And over my soul the waves and billows go. But when the storms beat loudest and I cry Aloud for help, the Master standeth by And whispers to my soul, "Lo, it is I."

Above the tempest will I hear Him say "Beyond the darkness lies the perfect day. In every path of thine I lead the way." So whether on the hilltops high and fair I dwell, or on the sunless valleys where The shadows lie—what matters? He is there.

And more than this: Where'er the pathway leads, He gives to me no helpless broken reed, But His own hand sufficient for my need. So where He leads me I can safely go. And in the blessed hereafter I shall know, Why in His wisdom He hath led me so.

THE OTHER SIDE OF "IF"

(Also after Kipling). If you can keep your job when all 'bout you Are losing theirs because their work's been slack; If you can shut your mouth when times are changing— Forget about your grievances to clack; If you can show your boss, when business slackens, You have no Bolshevism in your head. And no belief that workmen own the nation— Were patriots when they earned their raisin-bread.

If you have saved a tithe of swollen wages, Exacted in the nation's stress of war, When you at home were battling for your union. And, striking, held our Union up for more. If you've put by, into your family savings, The huge excess employers had to pay, And did not blow your coin for cheap victrolas, Or go in silken shirts and glad array. If you have learned that when you quit your labor, The job you left no longer was your own. And that, no matter what your friends may say, Its murder when you club and beat and stone; If you have learned to glory in your manhood, Not hide behind some banner of Unrest, You may not win the earth or all that's in it— You'll be a decent citizen—that's best!

—Ben Johnson.

If necessary, I can make your portraits at night by the new system Edison Flood Light. Paul Yates.

By Rev. Roy L. Smith

"Is Better to Be— Blind of eye than prejudiced of mind. —Lame of body than unable to walk uprightly. —Deaf than unwilling to hear the truth. —A hunchback than to be a crook. —A victim of cancer than a victim of jealousy. —Deformed of body than dwarfed of soul. —Unable to speak than unable to hear the voice of conscience."

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Good friends, wherever you may be And be it East or West, Upon the plain, beside the sea, Whatever place the place may be, Some place you love the best, Across the silence let us call To each of you, and wish you all A MERRY CHRISTMAS!

The president of the local gas company was making a stirring address. "Think of the good the gas company has done," he cried. "If I were permitted a pun, I should say, 'Honor the Light Brigade!'" And a customer immediately shouted: "Oh, what a charge they made!"

Morley—"Hawkins is the lightweight champion of our neighborhood."

Rowley—"I didn't know he was a boxer."

Morley—"He isn't. He's a butcher."

If a cold has caught you unaware, keep on with Aspirin until the cold is gone. Aspirin can't harm you. It does not depress the heart. If your throat is sore, dissolve several tablets in water and gargle. You will get instant relief. There's danger in a cold that hangs on for days. NANCY RAISES "OLD NICK" IN USUALLY QUIET TOWN

Rock Island hands call her "Old Nancy", but it was "Old Nick" she raised in the usually peaceful town of Topeka, Kan., until the last vestige of her energy was drained away one day late in the summer. Nancy is a locomotive, not so old in years, but creaky at the joints and cantankerous at times. This was one of the times; the time itself, in fact.

She rolled in from a hard day's work, apparently in a pettish humor, which allowed no liberties. A heedless engine hooter yanked the whistle out a bit too energetically. Nancy let out a howl. And what a howl. She kept on howling, whistle wide open, until half the town was consumed with curiosity. Telephone wires were cluttered up with queries.

Another oriental war? Where's the fire? A steamboat on the Kaw river sounding off? How many killed in the explosion? The stubborn old girl kept her voice raised in high glee. Frantic engine men hustled around, trying to get the whistle unstuck. They didn't. Finally the last ounce of steam was drained from Nancy, and with a last doleful sigh she subsided.

A daily newspaper recently contained the following advertisement: "Millionaire, young, good-looking, wishes to meet, with a view to marriage, a girl like the heroine in M.-s. novel."

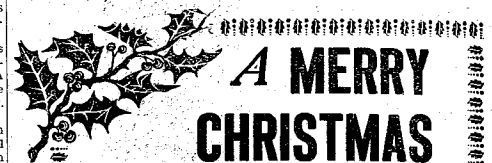

Within 24 hours the novel in question was sold out.

THOUGHT, FOR THE WEEK

I made of my heart a temple, But the Saviour came not in, For its aisles were laid with malice And its bells were choked with sin. And its air was heavy with incense, And its priests were sandals-shod; I made of my heart a temple But its light revealed no God.

I made of my heart a manger, And the Saviour came and smiled, Where the cattle of human kindness Browed in the evening side, And its air was pure and pungent, With grass of the rain-swept sod, I made of my heart a manger, And sheltered the living God.

(By G. R. T.)

Last week I mentioned something about the building of the Western Counties Railway and some of its first employees. I neglected to mention the name of the first superintendent of the road, Mr. T. J. Lynskey. Do any of you remember him? I am not sure that he was very well known to the people of Weymouth, but was better known in Yarmouth, where the headquarters of the road was located. I believe he gave up his position when the road temporarily suspended operations shortly after its completion. He moved to the Northwest and was for some time a Superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Co., with headquarters at Winnipeg. I was quite a small boy when he was the operating head of the Western Counties road, but I knew him by sight as the Big Chief of the W. C. R., and on one occasion I was introduced to him by that well-known townsman of ours, Mr. Forbes Jones. Imagine my surprise when some ten years later on meeting the gentleman at a gathering of railroad men in Duluth, Minnesota, his asking me if I was not from Nova Scotia, and from Weymouth, N. S. I learned later that his faculty for remembering people was almost uncanny. I also learned from some of his former employees in Winnipeg that he was a splendid man to work under, and that he was looking for a man down who was looking for work, but if he had no vacancy to offer, of course he could not do much for the applicant except to send him on his way feeling that he surely would have been hired if there had been any chance at all. The Lynskey technique was something like this. If a brakeman dropped into the superintendent's office looking for a job, Mr. Lynskey would ask him "Are you a telegraph operator?" And the brakeman would answer in disgust, "Now, I'm a brakeman!" Then Mr. Lynskey would look at him rather sorrowfully and reply, "My, my, that is too bad, now if you were only an operator, I could give you forty jobs," but if a telegrapher called upon him in the afternoon of the same day looking for work, Mr. Lynskey would ask with a tone of hope and expectancy in his voice, "Are you a brakeman?" The reply of the applicant of course would be, "No, sir, I am an operator." At that Mr. Lynskey would look sadly at the operator and say, "Now isn't that just too bad. My, my, if you were only a brakeman, I could give you forty jobs," but what he would have done with that rare combination of brakeman and telegrapher in those days was known only to himself. Some would say that the old gent was something of a "kicker," but what some of the original stockholders of the W. C. R. thought when they wanted to think about their investment under the Lynskey management was "kicker" plus other things.

The next superintendent to take charge of the W. C. R. was Mr. James Brignell, who remained in charge until the road was turned over to the Dominion Atlantic Ry. At the time Mr. Brignell took over the management of the line from Yarmouth to Digby, he must have faced a rather discouraging situation. His principal job was to make the road pay expenses, but the volume of traffic was small, and the passenger and freight business was very poor. He had to make the road pay for itself, but he was not to be deterred. In the spring of 1890 business had increased to such an extent that an additional train was required. So from then on the road had one passenger train and one freight train daily except Sunday. The company had also made enough money to buy a new locomotive which was named "Weymouth." This was such a large engine that folks wondered whether the old railroad bridge would hold up under its weight. I suppose that the "Weymouth" has gone to the junk shop long ago or possibly is doing yard work somewhere, out of the way and small for any other purpose in these days.

Mr. Brignell was my first employer. I liked him very much—he was always fair to the men under him, and was always willing to do all in his power to accommodate the patrons of the road. Some of the patrons, however, were not always reasonable in their requests.

Another official of the old road, many of you will remember was D. J. Murphy, the genial and efficient road master, a skilled engineer in railroad building who had charge of the maintenance of roadway and bridges. Track and bridge men all swore by D. J., and he was held in very high esteem by all other employees of the road.

I don't suppose you have forgotten Harry Burrill, George Williams and Wayland VanBlarcom, who received their training under that veteran Conductor Dave McNulty. Burrill had a peppy disposition and could turn the air blue upon the slightest provocation; "Buntz" VanBlarcom was exactly the opposite. Nothing ever went wrong with him; he had all manners taught to each before they could get a start. Williams was also good natured and had a host of friends along the road and among the travelling public. And while we are remembering do not let us forget some of those old time engineers. I remember mentioned, Danny Robertson, John McAvoy, Charlie Edwards, Dan Ashe—all good men and true, who always brought the "Limited" through on time, unless delayed at Digby waiting for the Saint John boat to find its way across the bay of Fundy in fog or snow storm.

Before signing off this broadsheet find that there is just enough time and space left to allow me to mention the name of another railroad man who got his start on the Western Counties Railway, and is another notable example of the small town boy who made good in the big city, none other than our old friend and compatriot, George Doane Hood, who took his first lesson in dots and dashes from the well remembered super salesman and vocalist, Everett C. Nelly, of whom let it be said with no tone of disrespect, was no slouch in the subtle and mysterious art of telegraphy.

George Hood was born in Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, always claimed to be proud of it, but he spent most of his boyhood in Weymouth, attending the Weymouth Bridge school and taking a leading part in all of the activities known to boys of his age, including the Friday afternoon excursions.

Weymouth has always claimed him and held him in high regard as one of her very own.

G. D. H. apparently was one of those favored ones who are born to success for his every move was upward and his very step registered a decided click in the forward direction. Endowed with a pleasing personality, plus ability, energy and diplomacy, it was natural that he should make the big contact sooner or later. So when the Great West Island Railroad, one of the largest in the United States, was looking around some years ago for the most competent man in the country to take charge of the telegraph department, involving the direction of an army of telegraphers, telephone operators, electricians and line men, and the upkeep of a vast amount of valuable equipment, the management of that company selected as the best man for the position our much esteemed friend from Weymouth. Nearly all of the Gazette readers will remember him; of course you will.

And that, friends, is all for this week. By the time that this gets on the press the holidays will be with you, and hope that you have a good old fashioned Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, with enough for a pleasant sleigh ride and enough good smooth ice for easy skating.

Here in California we will have plenty of sunshine and flowers for Christmas, but no roast goose, for that is something Californians seem to know very little about—but they are keen for turkey.

SAYS FARMERS SHOULD STOP "KEEPING HENS"

— Arresting Remarks by W. H. Boutilier —

"In the Maritime Provinces there are more than three million hens at present, and in spite of that fact we are egg importers," says Mr. Boutilier, President and General Manager of Fastefat Ltd.

"While we should do all possible to make the Maritime Provinces self supporting, as things stand at present we would be better off if we were to get rid of two out of three of our hens and import the bulk of our eggs."

"But, of course, there is no reason under the sun why things should remain as they are."

"Our present troubles are due to the fact that our farmers have been keeping hens instead of reversing the rule and making the hens keep them."

"Get down to a dollars and cents basis and this will be obvious—and so will the remedy."

"One hen eats, on the average, about 90 lbs. of grain a year, a large part of it imported with good Maritime money. This same average hen produces about 8 dozen eggs a year. To make matters worse, this production takes place when eggs are most plentiful and prices are at rock-bottom. Last season, for example, I am informed by poultry authorities that 14c. per dozen was the average revenue received at the farm, the low being 8c. in the Summer and the high 50c., but with most of the production in the Summer at the low price."

"With a revenue of $1.18 and a cost for grain of $1.35, there is a loss of 23c. on each hen. You don't need to be a mathematician to see where that sort of arithmetic leads."

"The other side of the picture is just as bright as the present is dark. And it is a picture based on cold, hard facts worked out on Government farms. Here it is:

"Cut down the grain ration of each hen from 90 to 81 lbs. (costing $1.22) and substitute 9 lbs. of Fastefat White Fishmeal (costing 32c., or total of $1.54). Right now this same hen will begin to produce not an average 8 dozen, but 12 dozen eggs a year. More important still, this gain of 4 dozen in output will come at the season when eggs are scarce and expensive, the late Fall and Winter months."

"On the basis of last year's prices this would mean an average return of 25c. a dozen, or a total of $3 a year, thus showing a net profit of $1.46 per hen as against the present net average loss of 23c. Therefore 100 Fastefat-fed hens should produce $146.00 profit per year; 500 a profit of $730.00 and 1000 birds would show a profit of $1460.00—thus making them by far the best paying end of the farm. The foregoing figures are based on the farmer purchasing all grains fed at market prices. But if, however, he can raise his own feeds his profits will be correspondingly greater."

"This is what I meant by saying that farmers should not keep hens; they should make the hens keep them. And I may wind up by saying that the facts about what Fastefat will do for different types of livestock are almost as spectacular."

"YIMMIE YONSON'S YOB"

"Yimmie Yonson's Yob", a three-act play, was presented to an appreciative audience in the Oakdene School Hall at Bear River, on Friday last. This play might well have been called the "Kent House Mystery" for the action centered around the loss of a hundred dollar bill and the disappearance of Mr. Kent's son. It would be very difficult to single out anyone as the leading character. Each character was well interpreted and the interest of the audience was sustained throughout the entire play.

Yimmie, the Swede, is the mysterious character from Mannasota. The comic dialogues between Peg and Yimmie, and the working out of their love affairs were a welcome relaxation after the tense scenes which showed the schemings of Frank and Sylvia as they tried to rob Mr. Kent, who was already desperate with grief.

Mrs. Kent had her own difficulties with her stubborn husband, and the sorrow that overshadowed the whole play, the Detective, and Mickey, the farm help, ably supported their partners; adding to the fun when necessary, and taking a very necessary part in the more serious action. Belle, the adopted daughter, and Bob's sweethearts, shared very intimately in the mystery, and of course contributed to the satisfaction of the audience when all ends well. Major Simons who coached the play deserves credit for his generous efforts in making the play a success.

Belle, the adopted daughter, and Bob's sweethearts, shared very intimately in the mystery, and of course contributed to the satisfaction of the audience when all ends well. Major Simons who coached the play deserves credit for his generous efforts in making the play a success.

The play was presented in the Oakdene School Hall at Bear River, on Friday last. This play might well have been called the "Kent House Mystery" for the action centered around the loss of a hundred dollar bill and the disappearance of Mr. Kent's son. It would be very difficult to single out anyone as the leading character. Each character was well interpreted and the interest of the audience was sustained throughout the entire play.

Yimmie, the Swede, is the mysterious character from Mannasota. The comic dialogues between Peg and Yimmie, and the working out of their love affairs were a welcome relaxation after the tense scenes which showed the schemings of Frank and Sylvia as they tried to rob Mr. Kent, who was already desperate with grief.

Mrs. Kent had her own difficulties with her stubborn husband, and the sorrow that overshadowed the whole play, the Detective, and Mickey, the farm help, ably supported their partners; adding to the fun when necessary, and taking a very necessary part in the more serious action. Timepieces That Are

Marvels of Precision

The most accurate precision time-pieces made in England, The United States naval observatory has three of them. So sensitive are they that the mere temperature of the body is enough to render them inaccurate as standard timepieces, and so it was decided to install them in a vault in the ground below the front line.

There are really two vaults, one within the other. An air space of 18 inches between the vaults serves as an insulator and also makes it possible to inspect and clean the inner vault.
It is almost a holy rite to enter the sacred inner vault. Since the time-pieces must not be exposed to atmospheric changes the privileged enter the inner vault only through an air-lock. Electric lamps are so mounted that they can be changed and cleaned without the necessity of entering the inner chamber.

Visitors to Washington who want to see how the nation keeps its time must gratify their curiosity through a periscope.

Authorities Made Poor

Guess, in This Instance

The hundredth anniversary of the death of Bolivar, the great liberator of South America from Spanish rule, uncovered a number of amusing facts concerning this famous character.

The story goes that on one occasion Bolivar sent a messenger ahead to a small town where he and his party were to spend the night. In the town the messenger directed the town authorities to have food and quarters ready for his men and horses and added that there should be for himself shelter, food, etc., etc.

The town authorities promptly got everything ready except the "three etc.", which troubled them considerably.
"What," they asked, "did the great liberator mean?"

Finally one of them, aware of Bolivar's reputation as a humorist, decided he had solved the problem.

It happened, however, that he was wrong and three of the town's prettiest girls were sent home at the direction of the highly amused Bolivar—

Beautiful Madeira

The little Portuguese island of Madeira is famous for its picturesque beauty, its pleasant climate, and for its world-famous wine. Situated off the northwest coast of Africa and having a population of about 200,000, Madeira is called "The Flower Garden of the Atlantic" because of its brilliant vegetation. No spot, it would seem, could be less fitted for political troubles and military demonstrations.
Madeira is oval in shape and has a mountainous surface, with a number of steep ravines radiating on all sides from the central ridges.
Its highest peak, Pico Ruivo, is 6,069 feet above sea level. Wooded summits, dripping rocks and rippling streams add to the island's beauty and grandeur.

Origin of Strange Oath

It is supposed that "by the great horn spoon" originally referred to the large horn spoons common a couple of centuries ago, says Pathfinder Magazine. Spoons made of the horns of cattle and sheep were common in Scotland until late in the Nineteenth century and such utensils were common in colonial America. The Scotch of a former generation ate their porridge with huge horn spoons while the colonists in the New world used similar spoons with what to little soft soap and apple butter. Even the American Indians made spoons from the horns of buffalo. "By the great horn spoon" seems to be of American origin and there is something about it which suggests that it may have originated among seafaring people.

Mice That "Sing"

The singing mouse has been immortalized by Emerson Lough, who wrote about these peculiar little animals that make a sound that resembles singing. Much has been written about them, and the fact that they do sing is supported by the evidence of trustworthy witnesses. Mice are unquestionably fond of music, but it is not fully determined whether their ability to make it is normal or if an individual peculiarity. Some writers have gone so far as to assert that it is due only to a diseased throat.

Life is enriched when you have many "crests." But there is one that should be outstanding. No better rule should be a guiding education was ever set down than this: "Know much about many things, and all there is about one thing."—Grit.

Easier Than Making Good Joke

To every fifteen persons who can write a verse there is only one who can write a joke, a wisecrack or a line of satire. At least, that's our experience. Ought not "wisecracking" be cultivated in the halls of learning as well as poetry? It is a form of literature quite as respectable, and so rare that all the satirists are remembered—while all the poets are not—not by a million or so.

We believe that the fund of humor and witicism in the world would be enormously amplified if they were pursued as an art. It is not even an "exercise" where learning is taught.
One can write poetry—such as it is—with scarcely a thought; but to say something smart demands an intellectual activity as strenuous as the physical activity that gets results in baseball, football and the other athletic sports.

Next time that you sit down with your overflowing sentiment—and presumably inspiration—to write a poem, stop to turn it into a satire or a passage into an epigram or a bit of persilage—and see what you get.—F. H.
Coulter in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

City of Lucerne Rich

in Historic Memories

Lucerne is a name to conjure with in Switzerland. Not to have seen it, not to have wandered over and through its picture-galleried bridges, not to have purchased souvenirs in its shops, which for fineness compare with any you may see in Paris and London, not to have used the city as a center for visits to the Rigi, to Toll's monument and chapel or seen its Glacier garden, a relic of a prehistoric age, is to have missed the very heart of your Swiss tour. Holden, the younger was often there.
Goethe declined to pass it by. Hugo has preserved memories of it with his pen. Wagner lived there for six years and here composed "Siegfried," and the "Twilight of the Gods." Tolstoy wrote a novel on the city while there, and who has not read Longfellow's "Mabel's Dream" and not wished to see the quaint pictures of the "Dance of Death" on the Muhlenbrucke? Do you wish to see the Axenstrasse? Then you must stay at Lucerne—Boston Herald.

Oxen Lead Parade

The Abruzzi in Italy was a district almost unknown to tourists until recently. It is full of color and interest. Here you may see Italy simple and colorful as seldom elsewhere. At Loreto Aprutino on Wilt Sunday two oxen lead a fine procession through the streets, carrying a child dressed in white laden with golden bands.
There is another oxen procession at Scanno on Corpus Christi day, while at Villalago and Cuccullo on the day of St. Dominic, a statue of the saint is carried in procession with croziers and vipers, collected by the famous snake charmers, twined around it.
Scanno is well known for its costumes, and the dress of the natives at Pescacostanzo is extremely rich with embroidery and lace. Other fanciful costumes may be seen to advantage at Pettorano, Campodolice and Introduca.

Temple to Crocodile

The first known sanctuary to the crocodile god has been found in Egypt.
The sanctuary was found in a town sacred to Soknopatne (a crocodile god), and its identification was made possible by Greek inscriptions carved on one of the altars. To the south of a limestone block was found a paved court, flanked by four mud-brick buildings constructed for some ritual purpose. It is probable that they were used in connection with oracles, a specialty of the temples of crocodile gods in Fayum. The two entrances of the sanctuary are embellished with lions and sphinxes and other lions and sphinxes adorn the courtyard. At the end of the Sacred way is the principal temple in Fayum. Its portals are flanked by a statue of one of the pharaohs and of a sleeping lion.

Metals and Alloys

Alcohol mixes with water in all proportions. In one sense, alloys such as steel, ballist metal, pewter, brass, etc., are considered as metals. In the strict chemical sense, the name "metal" is limited to metallic elements such as iron, nickel, gold, copper, etc., while mixed metals like brass, bronze, pewter, are called "alloys." Both sets of substances have true metallic properties.

Use Tuberculosis Christmas Seals.

Use for Divining Rod

New hope for the recovery of average victims and for the safety of every body of the killed which often are not found until the winter snows have melted has been found in the divining rod. A mountaineer of Transvaal, upper Austria, deeply moved by some recent avalanche tragedies, has been making a series of experiments. Objects likely to be carried by every skier, such as a watch, ring, coins, ski-knife and ski-foot-plates, were buried very deep in the snow, and a "diviner" set out with the divining rod to search for them.
In each case the rod revealed the location of the metallic objects. It is believed that the new discovery will save scores of lives in the Austrian Alps every year.

Concerning Kisses

Kisses are sometimes given by simply kissing hands (throwing a kiss, or blowing a kiss). A man should not throw a kiss to a girl unless she is a good catch.

The kiss indirect, or the kiss at a distance, may be described as a natural extension of the direct, capable of development by any people independently. But it is a curious fact that it can be traced from Graeco-Roman civilization to that of modern Europe, where, however, it appears to be instinctive in children.—Exchange.

Nickname That Stuck

In about 1881 President Garfield appointed a man by the name of Robertson as collector of the port of New York. At that time there were two factions, the Republican party, and one of these factions opposed the appointment of this man. Roscoe Con-kling and Thomas H. Platt were both senators from New York. Senator Conkling protested and fought against this appointment. Senator Platt merely agreed with his colleague. Thomas Nast, who was a famous cartoonist at that time, in his cartoons labeled Senator Platt as "Me Too." The nickname stuck.

Florida Once a "Republic"

In 1812 American settlers on the northern border of Florida organized a provisional government with Gen.
John H. McIntosh as governor or president of the republic and Colonel Ashley as military chief, says Pathfinder Magazine. A short time later General McIntosh and his republican army besieged the Spanish garrison at Fernandina, which capitulated.
This act was really authorized by the United States government, but was repudiated after Spain protested. St.
Mary's was the capital of the Florida
"republic."

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1932

VOLUME LIX, NO. 22

WHO shall write the obituary of a dying year, or who so bold as to proclaim with prophetic vision, their prognostications with any degree of accuracy from the threshold of the new?

In face of the world's great problems, accurate knowledge is the only basis for correct opinions, the lack of it makes the opinions of most people of little value.

Words of wisdom and knowledge, fall gently from the lips of the wise. They come unheralded, with no blaring trumpets or blazoned drums, to proclaim the dawn of a new era, but with tenacity they append themselves to those realities of life with unerring exactness, allowing us the opportunity to swallow the truth, to feed upon it, as insects do the leaf, till the whole heart of things, be colored by its qualities and show its food in every fibre.

The past year affords us the opportunity of comprehending with machine-like precision, the results of our achievements during the months that are gone; for all is now but a story that has been told. The book of Nineteen, Thirty-two, has forever sealed its pages in the records of time.

Perplexing moments; seemingly happy days of reckless ease and careless indifference;

The Threshold of Thirty-Three together with the sublime periods of noble achievement, are but the memories of a yesterday. Yet with all our successes and failures, we stand rebuked by no bitter memories of desolation, but conscious that a benevolent Creator has indeed let fall our lot in pleasant places.

To Him we pay our gracious homage for His goodness and mercy, and before Him we bow in shame for all the ingratitude which has found expression in our lives.

We are more conscious today of the opportunity for service to our fellowman. Service born out of the spirit of self-sacrifice and courage. Not that brutal courage of the vulgar hero, but the firm resolve of virtue and reason. These shall stand when all other attributes shall fail.

The world rushes on in its struggle to find the solution of its many troublesome problems, looking this way and that, seeking here and there, when, if the truth were known, corruption and failures come from within, and not from without. Nations that prosper must be built on foundations of a moral character; and this character is the principal element of its strength and the only guaranty of its permanence and prosperity. The best protection of any nation lies in its men, towns and cities cannot have a surer defence than the prowess and virtue of their inhabitants. The greatest hope of society lies in its individual character.

Canada is the greatest country in the world. Its natural physical resources are beyond the comprehension of any man. Relatively, we have the greatest heritage of all time; the greatest responsibility the world has ever known, has been thrown on the shoulders of this young nation.

Fellow Canadians, fresh courage take; rise to the highest sense of your responsibilities. Discharge with energy, with elevation of soul, those duties which devolve upon you, in virtue of your position, ever bearing in mind those forceful and striking words of the eminent English statesman, William Ewart Gladstone, that "duty is a power that rises with us in the morning, and goes to rest with us at night. It is co-extensive with the action of our intelligence. It is the shadow that cleaves to us, go where we will."

The darkest hour of night they say, is just before the break of day. Let us hope that the departing shadows of the dying year, deepened into the darkest shades of night as the dawn of thirty-three breaks on the horizon, shall bespeak in gladness accents ringing clear, the dawn of a better day, a more glorious future, and a more grateful expression of our noble heritage in the lives of the citizens of this great country.

A SIDE SHOW

Christmas Eve was celebrated at the Four Corners, South End, by a mixed pugilistic and rough and tumble encounter of some twenty of the colored residents of the Joggins, male and female. They had been in town making their holiday purchases which must have included a fair share of the "ardent." It was the kind that was warranted to kill at 60 yards and began to operate as they reached Turnbull's Corner on their way home. Here a general skirmish was ensued. Hair was torn out, and the latest fashions of Jordanian holiday attire speedily reduced to rags. One woman had an ear badly bitten, and the air was darkened as paper bags of flour and pieces of pork, never destined to reach the Joggins, were hurled with everything but kind wishes for a Merry Christmas. Fortunately at this juncture a Justice of the Peace appeared on the scene, armed with a big cane, and in the name of the Queen, demanded peace. This was finally secured and the contented gathered up such fragments of pork and remnants of their general groceries as remained on the field of battle. But their blood was still up, and as they wended their way over the hill, and until they reached Raymond's Corner, dire threats and vows of vengeance rose and fell on the evening air.

BETWEEN OURSELVES

Tomorrow, at midnight the death knell of 1932 will be sounded. We will start the New Year of 1933 on the first day of the week. Is that supposed to be a good sign?

We do not know what 1933 will bring to us—we sincerely hope that it will bring a greater measure of peace, happiness and prosperity for all. There are many who believe that this year, now about to pass into history, has ill-treated us, that it has been harsh and cruel and that it has not lived up to expectations. Some of these people are not looking forward to a much better 1933.

On the other hand, there are those who are more optimistic—they are firmly convinced that 1933 will accomplish much in the way of righting the troubled times of world economic distress which the past few years have left us. In my mind, there is not the least doubt about it that these are "looking up" somewhat.

1933 has a big job ahead of it—the "prosperity spree" of a few years ago has left the world in a pretty hard shape—let us hope that this New Year will succeed in putting "the house in order."

Nevertheless, these lean years through which we are passing through have taught us many valuable lessons. They have shown us to a greater extent that we are "our brother's keeper." They have done much to show us how to appreciate the other fellow's trials and woes and to sympathize with him.

We all know that Sunday is New Year's Day. On that day let us greet everybody with a "Happy New Year"—and let's mean every word of it—let's say it in a way that gives greater courage to those who have had and are having more than their share of "hard breaks."

And, right here, I'm going to quote a little poem by Ella Wheeler Wilcox and I hope that you will make it a part of your New Year's resolutions:—

Talk happiness. The world is sad enough Without your woes. No path is wholly rough;
Look for the places that are smooth and clear.
And speak of those to rest the weary ear.

Of heart's discontent and grief and pain.
Of human discontent and grief and pain.

Talk faith. The world is better off without Your uttered ignorance of morbid doubt.
If you have faith in God, or man, or self,
Say so; if not, push back upon the shelf.

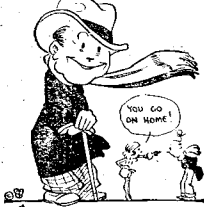

Of silence, all your thoughts till faith shall come;
No one will censure because your lips are dumb.

Talk health. The dreary never-changing tale
Of mortal maladies is worn and stale.
You cannot charm, or interest, or please
By harping on that minor chord, disease.

Say you are well, or all is well with you.
And God shall hear your words and make them true.

Christmas is over for another

Smilin' Charlie Says

year—and it certainly was a grand and merry Christmas. "Old Saint Nick" seems to have remembered everybody well, but we just knew he would. To my mind the evidences of the "depression" were not very evident, especially during the last week of Christmas buying—the stores seemed well filled with customers, everybody on the street seemed laden with bundles and cars from out-of-town points were constantly on the go.

The agencies who looked after the Christmas Cheer to the needy of the town deserve congratulations—most especially the Kiwanis Club and their assistants—they did splendid work. Captain George Morrell's private Christmas tree deserves mention in this column. Captain George certainly went to a lot of trouble and expense to give the kiddies a good time, but, it was worth it.

It is to be regretted that there was no Community Christmas Tree this year—let us hope that it will not happen again.

And now I wish to pay tribute to one of the best known and most popular men in Digby County—namely, Councillor Guy E. Morehouse, who, tomorrow completes the 21st year of his contract for carrying mails up and down Digby Neck. The Digby Neck mail service was the first motor car mail service in Canada, and Mr. Morehouse, so I have been told, was the first man in Canada to carry the mail in the delivery of His Majesty's Mail, and that was 21 years ago last April. Mr. Morehouse, better known as just "Guy", is never too busy to do a favor, besides being mail carrier and bus driver he is errand boy for the whole of Digby Neck and the Islands—none hesitate to ask him to match a piece of silk for them, to buy a roast of beef; in fact I have been told that on one occasion a fair tourist at Sandy Cove even asked him to buy a bathing suit for her. Yessir, Guy is one of our best citizens—we are proud to have him on our Town Council and any man would be happy to have just half as many friends as Guy Morehouse. On Monday he starts his 22nd year as Digby Neck mail contractor—that's a mighty long time, and here's wishing him many more, for somehow we feel that Guy wouldn't be happy unless he was behind the wheel of that Digby Neck Bus doing his regular 60 miles a day—and still finding time to come back to town for Town Council meetings, lodge meetings, choir practice, or to cheer the Digby Ravens when they are playing hockey.

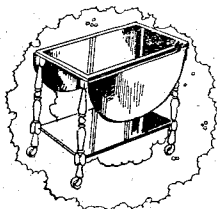

Last week I mentioned that it was time we commenced to think seriously on who were going to be the new members of Digby's Town Council. I understand that it is already a much talked of subject. The courier in the past has tried to impress upon the citizens of Digby the importance of selecting good business men for their councillors—we have a mighty good mayor in P. W. Holdsworth who has still another year to serve, but he needs good strong backing especially during these times. The townspeople make a great mistake in not taking a greater interest in the election of their councillors—surely they must realize that the bulk of the direct taxation which effects them is levied by the town council in carrying on the business of the town. Practically every cent the Town Council spends comes out of the pockets of the ratepayers of the town of Digby, and surely the ratepayers and voters should show enough interest to nominate and elect men—or women—whom they think are capable of handling the town's business in a business-like way.

THE CARAVAN

What Is It?

It is a Men's Bible Class in Westport.

What Is Its Purpose?

To study God's Truth, and to do everything that might be expected of an organized class.

Where and When Does The Caravan Meet?

In each of the two Sunday School-rooms of Westport, on alternate Sundays, at 3.10 p. m.

What Does The Word "Caravan" Mean?

The dictionary says: "A number of people joined together for mutual help—a moving company." It implies mutual profit. Moses, leading Israel's Caravan said, "Come thou with us and we will do thee good." Jesus was on a Caravan journey when He said, "I must be about my Father's business." It also implies progress; a Caravan "goes." We can make this class a going concern. It also implies a goal to be reached. In this class the goal is a happy, strong, virile manhood.

Who Teaches The Class?

There are two teachers, the two ministers, who take the International S. S. Lessons, or related topics, for exposition and discussion.

Does The Class Interest Men?

The character of the men who attend and the numbers would indicate an affirmative answer.

Who May Join?

Any man over 16 years of age whether a member of the church or not.

SLOGAN: "Follow the Caravan."

Officers:

President—M. H. Outhouse.
Vice-President—H. Morgan.
Secretary—Albert Dakin.
Treasurer—Edward Cousins.

A social hour then followed, during which gifts from a small but well laden Christmas tree were distributed by Helen Tooker and Lois Doty. Each mother received a hand-made gift from the girls; each girl a gift from the Leader, and the Leader several gifts from the girls. Refreshments were served by the Leader assisted by members of the group.

A BOARDING SCHOOL FOR GIRLS CONDUCTED BY THE SISTERS OF CHARITY

ADVANTAGES:

- 1—The thoroughness of its courses, including all grades from 1 to XII.
- 2—The exceptional opportunities it affords for the study of French, special attention being paid to conversation and composition in that language.
- 3—The attention that it pays to the moulding of character.
- 4—The training that it gives in Art, in Music, in Plain and Fancy Sewing, in Light Domestic Duties.
- 5—Its exceptionally low rates, notwithstanding the fact that the board is of very good quality.
- 6—Its accessibility, not only to pupils from the Maritime Provinces, but also to students from Boston, New York and vicinity, it being only an hour's journey from Yarmouth, the terminus of the boats from these cities.
- 7—Its delightful and healthful situation, removed from the distractions of town life, which makes it an ideal spot for study.
- 8—The fact that it is an examination station, which permits its pupils to write the provincial examinations in familiar surroundings—a circumstance which tends to lessen feelings of nervousness evoked by new situations.

DIGBY COUNTY MAN PROMINENT IN MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

J. Vian Andrews, Warden of Digby, was born at North Range, Digby County. Of Scottish ancestry, he possesses many of the valuable traits of that noble race. He resides on the parental homestead at North Range and for many years engaged in farming. He entered the Municipal Council about 21 years ago and was appointed warden following the death of Ingram Saunders. He was a delegate at various conventions of the Union of Municipalities and is a member of the executive of that body. A man of very strong views, he is always prepared, and does, back up his arguments. He is prominent in church and social affairs and is a leader in the temperance movement.

If gathering Christmas trees and selling them in the uncertain market in the United States can be classed as a "hobby," then the warden is very busy with that.

He buys the trees, employs many men, takes a chance, and sometimes loses. He accompanies each shipment, but is always on deck at the opening of the Municipal Council sessions in the New Year. Incidentally he does not forget to distribute much Christmas cheer among the needy.—(Halifax Herald).

THE NEW YEAR

He comes across the wide white world.

The world of ice and snow,
Just as the Old Year, worn and wan
And weary, turns to go.

And young and fair, with smiling face,
And footsteps light and free.

The New Year marcheth blithely in,
And greets us cheerily.

And as the Old Year slips away,
He kindly with him takes
The pages we have blurred and marred
With failures and mistakes.

The blighted hopes and needless fears
Are gone beyond recall.

And ours once more the fair, clean page
The New Year brings to all.

A fair, clean page where we may write
A record good to read.

Of noble thoughts and lofty aim,
And kindly word and deed.

Of many things worth while achieved,
Of duty nobly done.

Of righted wrongs, and grudges laid,
And evil overcome.

And so we greet the glad New Year
With strong, courageous heart,
And putting all mistakes away,
Resolve to do our part.

To overcome all hindrances,
To make all our wishes wings.

To make all our failures stepping-stones
To higher, better things.

—Elizabeth C. Hardy.

HEADACHE

Here's Quick Relief

A lot of things can cause a headache or other pain, but there is one thing that will always give you relief! Just take a tablet or two of Aspirin. Your suffering ceases. Relief comes instantly, regardless of what may have been making your head throb with pain. Aspirin is harmless—cannot depress the heart. So there's no use waiting for a headache to "wear off." It is useless to endure pain of any kind when you can get Aspirin. It is a blessing to women who suffer regular systemic pain; to men who must work on, in spite of eye-strain, fatigue or neuralgia.

Santa Claus Busy at Digby

Last week end was Santa's busy time, and he did not miss many in the old town.

On Friday, through the Christmas Cheer Committee of the Digby Kiwanis Club, he distributed dinners for 130 children and their parents. These dinners comprised 139 lbs. of beef, potatoes, carrots, squash, turnips, apples, etc.; 24 mince pies; 50 lbs. candy; 12 doz. oranges; toys. Besides all these things, through the same committee, he sent out 32 prs. of stockings; 7 pieces of underwear; 6 vests; 4 sweaters; 8 shirts; 11 bloomers; 1 overalls; 1 blouse; 4 prs. of boots; 11 pairs of rubbers; 16 raincoats; 4 pairs of shoes; 12 pairs of lumbermen's socks.

Those who worked on this committee report that they found much less poverty in the town this year as compared with last. A thorough canvass was made of the town and all cases investigated. The distribution of footwear and clothing was considerably less than that of last year, and as far as known all needs were attended to.

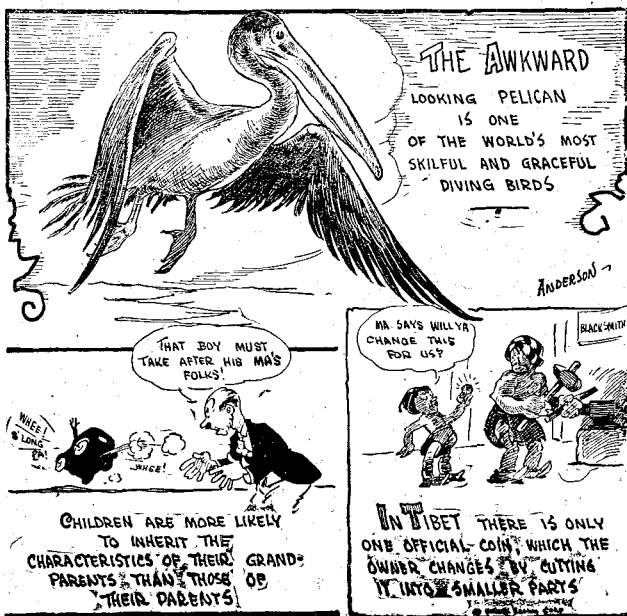

Saturday afternoon Santa visited the Digby Garage and distributed candy, nuts, etc., to all children who called on him. Captain G. M. Morrell was his host on this occasion.

He was also at the Alms House at Marshalltown as usual and distributed his cheer among the inmates of that institution.

SENT UP FOR TRIAL AT CONCLUSION OF HEARING

The preliminary hearing of Phillip Comeau, Concession, Digby County, charged with manslaughter in the death of Charles Holmes, was concluded here Tuesday before Magistrate James A. Tavor.

Married

Barr—Morreau

Miss Vivian Morreau, of Port Medway, and Carroll Barr, of Digby, were married on Tuesday evening of last week by Rev. G. Bullock, at Bridgewater. On their return a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jason Morreau where thirty-five invited guests were present. Music and dancing were enjoyed after which a dainty lunch was served. The bride received a number of beautiful and useful gifts. The groom is an employee of the Maritime Telephone and Telegraph Company. Mr. and Mrs. Barr will reside at Port Medway for the winter.

The charge arose over the death of Holmes, a Marshalltown resident, who, while driving an ox team on the Yarmouth-Halifax highway several weeks ago, was struck by a truck operated by Comeau. Holmes was killed instantly. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of death by accident, but the case was re-opened by the attorney-general's department.

Seizure of Beaver Pelts Made at Digby

The first seizure of its kind here in years was made Tuesday morning, when P. K. Gates, game warden of Weymouth, assisted by R. C. M. P. Corporal J. Hetherington, confiscated a box of beaver skins. Acting on a telephone tip from the game warden, the officer watched for a parcel from Yarmouth consigned to Montreal. The box was opened and 28 pelts were taken out.

PATROL BOAT "CAPELIN" DOING GOOD WORK

The Fisheries Patrol Boat "Capelin," Captain E. H. Lewis, which has been stationed at Westport, since November 1st, is reported as doing good work among the fishermen of the Islands and St. Mary's Bay districts. The Capelin is serving in the capacity of a life boat as well as a patrol boat to look after the interests of the fishermen, and within the past few weeks has towed four lobster boats which had gotten into difficulty, to their home port.

The Courier has been informed that lobster fishing in that district is very good just now, but better in the Bay of Fundy than in the St. Mary's Bay—in fact, we have been given to understand that some of the St. Mary's Bay fishermen are moving their pots to the Bay of Fundy.

CHRISTMAS AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

Christmas was observed in St. John's Anglican Church, Bear River, by a celebration of the Holy Communion at 11 o'clock with appropriate hymns and a short address applicable to the Festival, by the Rector. The Church had been attractively decorated with spruce by the Warden, Major Simons, and on the Altar were lovely chrysanthemums donated by St. John's Guild; also bunches of holly sent by Mr. John Penchar, a former Parishioner and ex-Warden, who also donated the beautiful cross. After the very hearty service the flowers were distributed amongst the sick and "shut-ins" in the congregation. The new carved Reredos was very much admired and is a handsome ornament to the Glory of God in the worship of the Church. It was given in memory of two former members of the Parish, who have passed to their rest, viz. Mr. W. G. Smith, father of the Rector, and Mr. W. M. Remans, our late bank manager. The Grading sometimes called a Re-table, and occasionally incorrectly referred to as a Super Altar, is a donation from Major Simons, and bears the carved inscription of the Transcendental "Holy, Holy, Holy."

On the three days following Christmas, the Church commemorates the three types of Martyrs for her Lord. St. Stephen, the Martyr in will and deed; St. John, the Divine, who was unharmed from the boiling oil into which he was thrown by the Emperor Domitian; the Martyr in will only, and the Holy Innocents, the Babes of Bethlehem, slain by Herod, the Martyrs in deed, but not in will.

Always Packed in Aluminum

(By G. R. T.)

In the pre-railroad days how did the folks get out of Weymouth? Well! It depended upon where they wanted to go to. Weymouth folks did not travel very much in those days, at least not more than actually necessary required.

If one was bound for Saint John he took the stage as far as Digby and from there crossed the Bay on the steamer "Empress," a side wheeler and a good enough boat for fair weather travel, but quite unfit to battle with the heavy seas that are kicked up in the Bay of Fundy by the fall and winter gales, so, sometimes, instead of the "Empress," it was one of the big sea-going tug boats from Saint John that carried the passengers and mail across the Bay. If the traveller was on his way to Boston, then he staged to Yarmouth and took a steamer from there. The steamer "Dominion" and "Alpha" were the two boats plying between Yarmouth and Boston at that time, and they continued in service until some time after the Western Counties Railway opened up for business.

This was the short way to Boston for the people of Annapolis, Digby and Yarmouth counties, and when rail traffic became so heavy on boat days, it was found necessary to have a newer and larger boat on the route to take the place of the "Alpha," so the new steel steamship, "Yarmouth," built in Scotland, was put in service along about 1888. This ship was fast and very comfortable and drew so much business that the Yarmouth Steamship Co. soon found it advisable to put on another steel ship which was called the "Boston." Both of these ships were the latest built in marine construction and were the swiftest operating between Nova Scotia and Boston, making the trip in 15 hours as against 21 and sometimes 30 hours required by the older boats.

For a time the International S. S. Co. operating the line between Boston and Saint John put one of their boats, the "New Brunswick," in service between Boston and Digby, for the summer months each year. The trip by this route was an enjoyable one for those who had plenty of time and wanted to be in sight of the land for the greater part of the voyage, but the bulk of the travel from the western part of the province went via Yarmouth. The fare from Weymouth by both lines at that time was five dollars for the one way and nine dollars for the round trip.

Before travelling by steamer became so popular and before trains began running through Weymouth, some of our people took passage for Boston on one of the Weymouth schooners.

The "Addie Johns," a trim and fast little craft of 80 tons owned by Mr. Edward Johns and commanded by Capt. Elijah Hankinson, was one of the vessels employed to carry date a few passengers. Another vessel was the schooner "Europa," built by the Rice Bros. on Dalrymple Creek and if I remember correctly, was for some time in charge of Capt. Went Smith of New Edinburgh. This schooner also carried a passenger or two each trip.

The owners of these schooners, however, were never very keen about the passenger business, as their vessels were built for the cordwood trade which at that time was a very important business out of the port of Weymouth. The schooners took their cargoes of cordwood to Boston and brought back flour, corn meal and salt pork in two hundred pound barrels. When I tell California grocers, who handle flour only in cotton sacks of ten, twenty and fifty pounds and corn meal in twenty ten pound bags that people in Nova Scotia never bought less than a barrel of flour or meal at one time they look at me in astonishment and wonder what a single family did with such large quantities.

A great business was the cordwood business. I wonder whether it is still as important as in former years? I am afraid not, for people in the "States" are now doing their heating with gas, electricity, and fuel oil instead of with wood and coal. When the wood business was at its best in Weymouth it provided considerable work and profit for the owners and handlers of the commodity.

Those long lines of ox teams drawing wagons in summer and sleds in winter loaded with good old beech, birch and maple wood in four foot lengths, made busy times around the "Bridge" and kept the three Edwards busy with their measuring rods. You know who I mean, Edward Rice of the Rice Brothers, Eddie Hogan for Campbell & Co. and Edward Johns for himself, the latter being able to tell the cubic contents of a load of wood at a glance, but to satisfy the owner would of course put the old measuring stick over the load, making due allowance for loose loading and open spaces. Yes sir, I knew his wood. No fooling him with any crooked sticks and poor timber, and I will hazard the guess that he traded more flour and corn meal for the product of the woodlands than all the rest of the merchants combined. His long record of square dealing, quick sales and small profits kept him popular with his customers.

Now those old wharves used to pile up in the winter time with the great stacks of cordwood towering high above the street and river until one would expect, any day, to see the wharf collapse and all its contents no tumbling into the open or frozen river below.

And now, why not mention the name of another old resident of Weymouth, who surely knew his stuff when it came to passing upon the quality and measuring the products of the forest. If you were ever acquainted with the old timers that made up the operating staff of the Campbell emporium, prior to 1891 you will certainly remember Mr. William Prime who looked after the timber and lumber division of the Campbell business. Scaling logs and for timber and checking the footage of square lumber as it was unloaded from the wagons from New Tusk was all in the day's work which he seemed to enjoy, and I do not imagine that he ever missed a day in forty years taking down the shutters in the morning and pulling them up again at night at the Campbell store.

DUNN'S SERVICE STATION

wind swept down upon us on December 8th, and is still, with us (December 12th) the thermometer dropped to 27 (above zero) which is the lowest that has been recorded in the San Francisco area since 1889. On Sunday, December 11th, an inch of snow fell in the city. Considerable damage has been done to crops in this part of California, the artichoke growers reporting that their crop, ready for harvesting has been "burned" by freezing conditions. Loss is estimated at about $50,000. Flower growers report heavy damage to chrysanthemums, heather and other outdoor stock, amounting to about $100,000. Tomato, lettuce and celery crops too have been damaged.

It is hard to keep these California houses warm in weather like this. The cold wind goes right through them, and there has been more or less suffering reported by the relief organizations. A call was sent out by radio Sunday morning for donations of bedding and clothing for the needy. Responses were prompt and generous.

Personally I like these little cold snaps. They "pep" one up and put color in your nose. I have been getting up a little earlier than usual these last few days and walking a couple of miles to work, swinging about against a cold north wind sends the blood tingling through the body. "Mon 'tis a g-r-r-and and glorious feeling!" Walking is good exercise any time, but it is rapidly becoming a lost art—everyone wants to ride these days, even the hitch hiker refuses to walk.

OX CASE PERILS LEGAL POWERS OF CONSTABLES

Isaiah Hill, South Range farmer, has an ox whose fame may yet rest on Boston on Saturday to visit relatives and friends.

The whole thing that Nova Scotia lawyers are calling "The ox case," and are watching with keen interest, started over a little tax bill for about $5.

Digby County Constable Anson Warner obtained a magistrate's warrant to seize chattels to the value of the bill. The warrant appeared good on its face. Warner went to the Hill barn, unlocked the barn and removed the ox.

Hill sued for return of the animal in May, 1931, claiming Warner had exceeded his rights. Mr. Justice Carroll dismissed the action.

Decided Jo Reargue
The farmer took the case to the Full Bench in November, 1931. The Court upheld Mr. Justice Carroll. But when the order was taken out, the court decided the case should be reargued.

The reargument took place at the March term, this year. This time the Supreme Court allowed the appeal, over-ruling Judge Carroll's decision, and after, before the order was taken out, the court decided the legal points were not sufficiently clear and ordered the case be reargued once more.

The third reargument is now taking place, with O. S. Miller, Bridgeport, and R. E. Inglis, Halifax, representing Hill, and Daniel Owen, K. C., representing Warner and the Municipality of Digby.

For the Constable
Chief among the many intricate points involved, is the protection the law affords to a constable. It is argued that the constable is protected under the Magistrate's warrant, and that if the Magistrate exceeded his jurisdiction in issuing the warrant, the Constable cannot be held responsible.

Lawyers point out that if the constable is held responsible, it would necessitate constables going before high courts to ascertain the legality of each warrant they serve. Such a necessity would require new laws to be placed upon the statute books to void it.

The Full Bench recently reserved judgment. Meanwhile Hill has his ox back. He got it on a writ of replevin a long time ago.

Rev. Henry W. Habel, a student in the Eastern Theological Seminary, Philadelphia, has been assigned pastorate of the Chestnut Hill Church in that city. Mr. Habel is a graduate of Acadia University, and was pastor for a time at Deep Brook.

Is turning your back on a tired past,
With its fear and distress and strife.
Turning the leaf, you may turn to love.

To brightness, and joy, and laughter,
But it isn't the turning that counts so much,
As what comes after.

It's waiting that counts in the book of life.

It's the message you pen each day—its whether the page be rose-hued or touched with a sullen grey.
It's what we may each of us humbly write.

And what we, please God, may learn; What really counts as the New Year dawns.

Is what comes after the turn.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

"Our lives are albums written through With good or ill, with false or true;

School Concert At Tidville

School children look forward with eager anticipation to the coming of Christmas, for of course no school-closing at this time is complete without the Christmas concert.

The annual Christmas concert of the boys' and girls' of the Tidville school proved to be a delightful success, as was evidenced by the large and appreciative audience which taxed the standing accommodations of the school-house.

The programme presented on Wednesday evening, December 21st, consisted of a well-chosen variety of choruses, recitations, dialogues, pantomimes, drills, solos and quartettes. From an educational standpoint the play, "Christmas at the Circle A" was an interesting feature of the evening's programme.
