Welcome to the Digital DIGBY COURIER

100th Birthday

The hundredth anniversary of the Digby Weekly Courier has brought to mind some fond memories as contained in the following historical chapter of the writer. But first, I wish to congratulate the current editor of the Courier, Mrs. J.M. (Edith) Wallis, for a job well done over the years and still being well done, good service rendered with great fortitude.

According to any record, I have at hand, the Digby Courier, in one hundred years of publication, was controlled under the same family management for 42 years, 1931 to 1973, under the control of Wallis Print Limited. The late J.J. Wallis became editor of The Courier the second time, in 1929, and at the same time of the business, which he had been running for some time previously and which became Wallis Print Limited sometime between 1929 and 1931.

I well remember the last year of the twenties when I worked in the office of the son with the husband and father of the late J.J. Wallis, the Courier. Sometime in 1928 or early 1929, the late J.J. Wallis (Mac), son of "J.J." engaged me to work every day after school hours, Saturdays, and for some months after full time. The place of work was in the building of the present Digby town hall on First Avenue. J.J. Wallis then worked occasionally at the print shop but mostly across the street at the Courier office which was then located on land in the general area where The Royal Bank of Canada is now.

Wallis Job Print operated in 1929 with a staff of four consisting of J.J. Wallis, J.M. Wallis, Miss Eva Haynes, who later became Mrs. George Kicup, and myself. I was added to the staff in early 1929.

Eva's job was to run the printing plant but mostly at the Courier office. "Mac" worked nearly full time at all the different jobs at the Job Print, and I worked at various duties, most of the time being spent at operating printing presses.

We worked ten-hour days, six days a week. "J.J." and "Mac" sometimes worked overtime. I worked only the regular hours being paid a weekly wage which was comparatively good for those times and my lack of experience. I received four or five dollars a week for working after school hours to six o'clock and on Saturday all day, and nine dollars a week for full weeks after finishing school. A two or three dollar a week raise was offered to me in the fall of 1929 for me to stay on at printing, but I had made up my mind to enter a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, starting salary of $300. The bank salary figured out about the same per hour as for the printing job. Nevertheless, the congenial atmosphere of the printing plant those days, and, experience however short, were helpful and appreciated by me.

"J.J." was very jovial in his occasional trip to the Job Print and did considerable kidding all in good fun. "Mac" was a witty person who mixed in a good natured sarcasm now and then for one reason or another. Eva most always had good answers to all the kidding she was called upon to take, and, generally held her own in a quiet sort of way, always busy setting type. We four all got along very well indeed. However, I do remember that some days did seem long and weary because of the monotony of some repetitious jobs.

In spite of the great demand for printing those last boom days of the twenties, business generally being brisk, it looked to me that people had to work long and hard to make any decent profit. There was including treatment of the hands. However, nails and finger ends were used and I was soon back to work.

Now and then a printing job had a dose on parchment paper which required a special kind of printers' ink which smelled very bad those days. I always dreaded it when "Mac" would do that job on the largest press, in spite of the fact that we always opened an outside door to lessen the effects on the constitution.

One of the jobs I had to do, being the junior and printers' devil on the staff, was to clean up now and then. One day not long after I started my job at the printing plant, I decided to clean the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned in some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily, he thought the remark pretty good and suitable.

Sometimes the gasoline engine or a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and after "Mac" the fix-it man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results, "Mac" would then stand back and cuss quite strenuously, then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of cussing."

On other occasions when some gadget refused duty for me and, seemed to be broken, "Mac" would say, "use a little oil," and sure enough, often that is all it took. How often since, have I thought of the value of that remark and the actual need of "oil" in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and, in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I told "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1929 got together just before dark one evening and decided to initiate the newly built outdoor Pines Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just east of the pool; nobody else seemed to be around except the four boys; no thought or time for bathing suits up to the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in, the rest quickly followed and across the pool they swam. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Scouts Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the four? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars (second world and Korean), was awarded the Victoria Cross; Sidney L. Smith, now prominent druggist for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale lobster king merchant; and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day "Mac" said to me "how about writing your version of the story told about 'The Marooning of Jerome'." I had heard and read at least two somewhat different stories about the man who was found marooned on a beach at some point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Digby County. When found this man's tongue had been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome" appeared to have been a man of some considerable social standing and possibly of some considerable wealth. However the only thing the man could or would ever say after being found and cared for by some family in the French shore was, something that sounded like the word "Jerome". He either could not, or, would not, write anything about who he was or why he was left the way he was. Well, it was, and is, one of Digby County's mystery stories, and, different ideas have been expressed over the years concerning this man. However my response to "Mac" was, I felt no urge to write anything more or different about this man. The mystery seemed to have been very well explored in the mind of many people, and, he was a sort of curiosity for many people who visited where he lived for many years.

Three years later I was quite a bit older and was working in the street that I loved back and forth, led a boat clanking noise, powered by a small engine, and a "plur", and as I remember it, it was a "plur". "J.J." was noted for his sense of humor and his ability to make people laugh. In 1928 during the time Mr. Wallis was editor of the Scott Act (Prohibition Law) he was about and advocated by some people, and attached a boys' conference to the event.

Digby 172 Years Ago

Compiled by David Sanford

From the files of the Courier of January 23, 1867, the following account has been copied concerning Digby in 1800.

"Among a number of old newspapers kindly sent to us by friends is a copy of the Saint John Gazette of May, 1802, says the Telegraph and among other advertisements contained in the issue before us is one describing the town and township of Digby, and offering for sale certain lots in the town. In this area we are told the township of Digby extends from the Gulf of Annapolis westward to the extremity of the province of Nova Scotia, and contains about 130,000 acres." The town plot is thus described:

"The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles across land from the head of St. Mary's Bay. This laid out from the water's edge, partly on level ground and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect, a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in where it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth of that name. It was settled by Loyalists from New York in 1783, the most of whom went early to farms, or, moving to older countries, left the whole side to be bought proved by about who now reside detached, built dwellings with orchards, and some fishery and. It has communal parts of the common provisions in a cheap, built readily to be from many circumstances, probability of place of some shipbuilding, the West India a cheap and of residence.

free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students one of which was "J.J.'s" daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Melvin O. Tibert, Freeport, Digby Co.) Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters; I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print". I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like: embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and trimming paper stock, mixing inks for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "pi", the printers name for a confused mess.

There was a taste of trying to sell job printing outside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried it, made several calls around town, spent most of the time at one particular house, and got an order, but,

Years and experiments with. The last time I saw of personal interest, after one day when he sent and talked with him was, after one day when he had a week he wanted me to visit him at his home. ## Fire Destroys P. & R. T. School At Cornwallis Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed the huge physical and recreation training building at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, early Monday morning.

The building, one of the largest of its kind in Canada, contained two swimming pools, a gymnasium, locker rooms and other recreational facilities. Today all that remains is the chimney standing above the ruins.

Discovered about 2:15 a.m., the fire had made good headway before naval fire-fighting apparatus was brought into play. Although equipment arrived shortly after the first alarm was sounded, the flames spread rapidly through the structure and efforts to salvage any equipment were futile.

Many of the surrounding buildings were endangered as flames leaped skyward. Residents within a radius of several miles could see the reflection as firemen waged a successful fight to save other property.

The fire was believed to have made its start in the walls, but its exact origin has not been determined as yet. It is understood naval authorities will hold an official probe shortly.

Loss of recreation facilities, which have been used extensively during past years, will be felt keenly by the service personnel stationed at the base. No estimate of the loss could be learned Monday but it was unofficially placed at $500,000 to $1,000,000. The navy public relations office in Halifax said they could not ascertain value of the building or information on the damage figure.

This Time We Had the Cream, Too

Several months ago, right after the severe winter weather, we commented on some ripe, wild strawberries which had been sent to this office by a Sissiboo Road lady, but lamented the fact that we had no cream. Last week, Mrs. Frank Amoro, of Barton, brought us a generous help of wild strawberries AND CREAM! And boy, were they good! When she placed the package on the counter she remarked, "You will have the cream this time!" Thanks, Mrs. Amoro.

The Wrestling Bout

Hundreds of people jammed the grandstand at the Athletic Field Monday evening to witness the wrestling bouts which were part of the Board of Trade's Sports Day program.

In the first bout which featured Bill Hunter of Vancouver, weight 172 pounds, versus Spike Perzik, of Calgary, weight 160 pounds, Hunter took the decision after a very tough fight. This bout was a very rough one and the referee, Mike Kovacs, had his hands full to see that the rules were observed. Although Hunter won two out of three of the falls, the decision giving him the bout was unpopular with the crowd whose sympathies seemed to be with Perzik.

The second bout featured Canadian Wrestling Champion Stu Hart, of Edmonton, weight 191 pounds, versus Curley Summerhill, of Sudbury, weight 178 lbs. Hart, who took his bout winning two straight falls, has never been defeated in four years of wrestling. This second bout featured some very fine wrestling of the more scientific sort as contrasted with the rough and ready battle featured in the first bout.

Chesterfield Goes to Shelburne County

The Chesterfield Suite, grand prize in the Digby Board of Trade's Dominion Day Celebration, was won by Mrs. Bernard Amiro, of Crowell's, Shelburne Co. The lucky ticket was No. 2659. Mrs. Amiro has been notified of her good luck.

The holder of ticket no. 9640—at present unknown—was the winner of a bunch of bananas.

Financially the day was a success. It is expected the financial statement of receipts and expenditures will be printed at a later date.

Third Degree To Be Conferred

The third degree will be conferred on two candidates in St. George Lodge tomorrow night. Last week the same degree was conferred on six candidates. The two on whom the degree is to be conferred tomorrow night were members of this same class but were unavoidably absent last week. It is hoped there will be a good attendance.

On Thursday night of next week there will be a joint installation of officers at Bear River.

Mrs. Arnold Trask, manager of the local Simpson Order Office, spent part of her vacation at her home in Berwick.

Those Having' Accounts Against the Dominion Day Celebration are asked to hand the same into H. G. Washburn, Digby at earliest possible date.

About This and That

The United Nations conference at San Francisco has ended. Representatives of the half hundred participating nations have returned to their national capitals, there to seek individual government approval of the new international peace agreement.

The document finally agreed upon is not perfect. Not one of the fifty nations participating in the conference is completely satisfied with results. The agreement is admittedly a compromise of many varying views. But this one thing is all-important. It is a definite start on a world program to settle international differences by some means other than war. And it has another thing in its favor, something the original League of Nations did not have. This is United States leadership and participation in the venture.

As President Truman said in his closing speech, the conference may not have done all it set out to do. But we should not permit disappointment over failure to solve territorial difficulties to overshadow the importance of the accomplishment of the whole. To the charge that 50 nations would never be able to act in unison has already been given the unanimous answer in barring Franco and fascist Spain from the world organization.

As General Eisenhower said, "the problems of peace can and will be met," and we have at least made a beginning with the San Francisco conference. Time, patience, co-operation, and pressure of world opinion can make of this beginning something worth while in the years ahead of us.

It takes an expert accountant to convince a woman that she is ten years older than she was ten years ago.

Adolf Hitler's nazis exterminated at least 80 per cent of Germany's Jews, and every remaining Jew in occupied Europe was marked for murder before the summer of 1946, the Allied Military Government has reported.

Before the war there were 12,000,000 Jews in Europe. AMG authorities, after a painstaking study, said that a majority of the Jews in Germany met death between 1939 and 1942. Russian officials estimate several million Jews were exterminated at concentration camps in Poland and White Russia during the German occupation. On the basis of this information, it is believed fewer than 20 per cent, or about 150,000, of the original group in the reich survived the reign of terror. These survivors are being returned to their homes as soon as possible. Germans who dispossessed them are being ousted. In most cases this is done without serious friction, despite the years of intensive anti-Semitic propaganda.

In several German cities, including Aachen, Cologne, and Frankfurt on Main, synagogues have been reopened and Jewish services conducted for the first time since November, 1938.

Never is the weather so bad that the oldest inhabitant can't remember when it was worse.

The future of the world today is generally admitted to depend largely upon the agreement of three men. This is something the ancient Romans would have understood. Just before the Empire was established, Rome was governed by agreement among the Triumvirate, a group of three men, Octavian, Mark Anthony and Lepidus. Lepidus soon passed out of the picture. Mark Anthony was later dispossessed by the abler Octavian, one of the world's great men, better known under his later title as the Emperor Augustus. The present triumvirate of Truman, Churchill and Stalin differs from the Roman in that its members, heads of three separate states, do not seek conquest for themselves. Nor, having just experienced one great war, do they dream of national glory through another.

Half the unhappiness in the world is caused by the failure of plans which were never reasonable and frequently impossible.

GOVERNMENT

Government is a trust, and the officers of the government are trustees: and both the trust and the trustees are created for the benefit of the people.

—Henry Clay

The office of government is not to confer happiness, but to give men opportunity to work out happiness for themselves.

—William Ellery Channing

It may be laid as a universal rule that a government which attempts more than it ought will perform less.

—T. B. Macaulay

Human law is right only as it patterns the Divine. Consolation and peace are based on the enlightened sense of God's government.

—Mary Baker Eddy

The elimination of selfish interests is essential to good government. In other words, the ideal can only be obtained when God rules in the affairs of men.

—Sir Wilfred Grenfell

That government is the strongest of which every man feels himself a part.

To All Doctors

The Doctors of the Staff of The Digby General Hospital, as of June, 1945,—and all other Doctors, everywhere

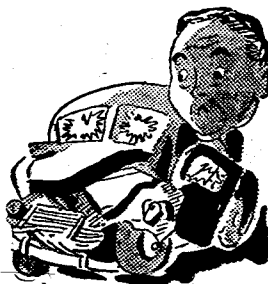

I wonder, do they ever think, As they go out on calls each day

To help the feeble near the brink Where waits "The Angel of the darkest drink"

That they, compared to us, are made of finer clay?

When weary of the daily round Do they, as human beings will, Regret the inner force that drives them on

To fight life's battle 'til it's lost, or won.

Think that in youth's fair day, they'd chosen ill? I wonder if they ever think, or dream

Or ever will—the comfort they Unknown to each, have given to me

In many hours of deep anxiety— Feeling if need arose, they'd never say me "Nay"?

A tribute this, in halting, simple words

But from a heart burning with crimson fire

Like to the bush which fire could not consume

Content to know that, each year, from God's loom

Men His great gift of healing will desire.

So may our Doctors as they go their way By our deep love and trust be stayed each day.

And when they seek some peaceful rest at night,

Meteghan Gives Digby a Trouncing

Meteghan's own "Stella Maris" baseball team defeated Digby, 11-2, on June 24, at Meteghan. The game was closely contested until the seventh inning, when the Meteghan team-bats finally started to solve Turnbull's slants and went on to win.

Toiling on the mound for the Stella Maris team was stocky, fast Camille Thibedeau, who though wild at times was at his best with runners on the bases, sending eleven opposing players down via the strikeout route. Joe Turnbull (for Digby) until the seventh inning was coasting along nicely while his team mates had dwindled Meteghan's lead to 3-2 at this point of the game. The seventh inning saw playing coach Frank Julis' players come to life for 3 runs in the seventh and 5 in the eighth.

Wilfred Gaudet, running catch which when relayed by Don Julis to catch a Digby player attempting to score, was the play of the day.

Turnbull, in addition to pitching a good game for Digby fielded his position nicely.

"They laughed when I said, 'I could make this road dustless!'"

1. "The folks around here had been biting the dust for years. They took it as a natural thing that summertime should mean dusty roads—and a lot of unnecessary inconvenience. They had seen the good roads in other parts but they weren't convinced—thought that they couldn't afford to improve the roads!"

2. "The first man I spoke to was old Nick Brewster. He just wouldn't listen. After cussing the dust for ten minutes he ended up by telling me that I couldn't change nature and the roads had been that way since he was a boy."

3. "The next chap, Bill McEhman" was a bit more reasonable, but he said it would cost too much. The country just hadn't got enough money to spend, he said, and even if it had, he didn't think anyone would want it spent."

4. "Tom Town doubted if anything short of putting down a hard surface road would do any good. He'd come from the city and thought in terms of tar boilers and road rollers. Still he was open to argument. In the end he said it might be worth trying."

5. "Then I spoke to Old Mrs. Shippam, at the crossroads. She said something should be done and if Calcium Chloride could do it, we ought to get busy. Finally, she said she'd give the members of the Council a bit of her mind—and I believe she did!"

6. "Well, the result was that the Council had a meeting. Nobody voted against the resolution to have the road made dustless with Calcium Chloride. In fact, Nick Brewster proposed it and Bill McEhman seconded it."

That's some time since, and now we have a better base for a hard surface later—and we've practically no dust, upkeep costs are lower than ever and my men find it easier working too. I showed the Council that what the Calcium Chloride cost was saved in labour and materials. Good engineering practice... no, it's just good common sense for a road engineer!"

This Horse Knew His Arithmetic

Horses may be classed as dumb animals, but we saw one at the horse and ox pulling contest during the Board of Trade Dominion Day Celebration that could calculate as well as any adding machine. The animal couldn't write the answers on paper, but, when Otis Bell ordered another rock placed on the stone drag, we are sure the horse knew to the ounce what he was expected to haul.

It was an eighteen-year-old veteran owned by Newman Gray, of Bloomfield, and in spite of its age this old timer with his 1410 lbs. of horse flesh started 2875 pounds of stone and concrete, to take second place in the contest.

The first drag took something over 1500 pounds. The aged trapper took that easily, but as additional weights were put on the drag he seemed to watch them, and to see especially how they were placed, one could almost see him calculating the weight, and, always taking his good looking time, he would manoeuvre himself into a position and pull—and every time started the drag.

His actions brought more cheers than those of any other horse taking part in the contest—the last weight to make the total of 2875 pounds was almost too much for him. His first start was not enough to satisfy the judges, but three starts were allowed. He tried again—he spread his hind legs well apart, practically sat down on his haunches, and then stood up, moving the drag a good two feet. The crowd cheered the performance and the old horse certainly looked pleased with himself.

First place in the single horse pulling contest went to Eddie Comeau, whose 1520 pound horse took a drag of 3285 pounds; while Irvine Haight's 1410 animal started 2770 pounds for third place. Glendon Robbin's horse, 1460 pounds, finished fourth by starting 2880 pounds.

In the double horse hauling event Glendon Haight's 2945 pound team took 4987 before they called it quits, while H. T. Warne's 2875 No. 2 team came a close second by starting 4452 pounds. Warne's No. 1 team came third by starting 5037 pounds—this team tipped the scales at 3350 pounds. Their 2950 pound No. 3 team moved 4347 pounds.

Oxen did not preform according to expectations, and in comparison with the horses, their hauling ability was low. John Theriault's 3600 pound team took first place by starting 5332 lbs.; Harry Jefferson's 3320 pound team won second place with 4035 pounds, while Lloyd Jefferson's 3040 pound team started 3450 pounds.

However, it seems to us in these hauling contests some award should go to the men who place the docks on the drag. We watched Joe and Harry Jefferson, Herb Theriault, Orbin Minard and others whose names we cannot recall right now, pick up these rocks and concrete blocks and toss them on the drags as though they weighed nothing minus—yet they were marked anywhere from 105 lbs. to 254 pounds.

Celebrate Anniversaries

Rev. Dr. T. W. Hodgson, of the United Church, celebrated the 28th anniversary of his ordination to the ministry on Sunday, June 24. On Tuesday, the 26th, he and Mrs. Hodgson, celebrated the 28th anniversary of their marriage.

Dr. Hodgson was ordained at Springhill on June 24, 1917. With him were ordained Rev. Dr. W. R. Seeley, immediate past president of the Maritime Conference, and Rev. F. J. Scoates. He entered the ministry thirty-three years ago in England, later coming to Canada where he was ordained after completing his studies at Mount Allison University. Dr. Hodgson has held three charges while in the ministry in Canada. He spent four years in Hantsport, thirteen in Canning, and has been eleven years in Digby.

A delightful anniversary supper was held Tuesday evening of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Robinson, to celebrate the anniversary of Dr. and Mrs.

Hodgson's marriage. Mrs. Robinson is a daughter of the happy couple.

What Does Electric Service
Mean to You

What would be adequate to describe an energy so wonderfully versatile that it will cause to glow a lamp no larger than a grain of wheat; or to place in operation the ponderous wheels of industry?

Swift, strong, gentle, gigantic . . . Electric service is yours to enjoy and yours to employ wisely for better living, for profit, for safety and the utmost of modern reliability and convenience.

Electricity is like the air you breathe. You seldom give it a thought. It is all around you . . . in your kitchen, living room, basement, bedrooms, garage . . . and you never need to wonder what will happen when you flip a switch. YOU KNOW. IT IS THERE WHEN YOU WANT IT!

It takes constant vigilance to keep adequate electric current flowing through the miles of wires from the power plant to your home so that you do not have to wait even a fraction of a second for electricity.

Electricity has never been "too little or too late" to meet wartime needs, and on into the years of peace ahead it shall continue to bring you new comforts and conveniences.

Hydro is Yours — Use It!

Good
TELEPHONE NEIGHBORS, TOO!

With so many party lines in service, it is more important than ever that neighbors on the same telephone line be considerate of each other by answering promptly, by being brief on all calls and by hanging up carefully when a call is finished. Although the great stress of war is over now on the Atlantic seaboard, telephone lines in Nova Scotia are still greatly overloaded and we will be unable to add much in new facilities until the war in the Pacific is ended. It will be some time yet before much new equipment will be available.

This is the season of the year when our churches hold their annual summer teas, garden parties and picnics. These functions are important in the church and social life of all our communities, and through them our churches raise a fair percentage of the money they need to carry on.

We suggest all our readers, wherever they live, make it a point to support these events, not only in connection with their own church and denomination, but also through their attendance assist those churches that are representative of the religious faiths of our friends and neighbors.

Not only do these gatherings aid the churches under whose auspices they are held, but give us an opportunity of meeting with friends—and when meals are served, we always get more than our money's worth.

Annual church teas and sales in Digby town will be held on the following dates:

Digby Baptist Church, July 12
Grace United Church, July 26
St. Patrick's Victory Frolic, July 28
Trinity Church, August 1

We invite all churches in this area to advise us of the dates of their summer tea, sale or picnic. We will be glad to announce the dates in this column.

A dye for mixture with tank paints to detect the first presence of mustard gas, was one of the first war orders filled by the National Research Council of Canada. The dye, fabricated under the most difficult conditions, turns color when mustard gas is present, enabling infantrymen to don gas mask.

Marriages

The bride and groom were both students at Acadia University, of which the bride is a graduate in Arts and the groom a graduate of Dalhousie University in Dentistry. Captain Rogers practiced for several years in Digby before joining the services, while the bride taught in Nova Scotia, Town of Mount Royal, and for the past year at King's Hall, Compton, Que.

Out of town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Burns Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hood, Mrs. Hastings Wainwright, and Miss Grace Hood, all of Yarmouth; Miss Mildred Rogers, R.C.A.F., W. D., Halifax; Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Bower, of Morganton, N. C., and Miss Ruth Read, Cornwallis, and Miss Barbara King, of Middleton. A particularly happy feature of the occasion was that Major E. H. Anderson, D.S.O., R.C.A.M.C., who had been overseas for the past five years, returned home last week in time to be present.

The bride received beautiful wedding gifts, and was guest of honor at a large shower prior to her marriage.

Tidd - Frost

The marriage of Miss Elma Kathleen Frost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Frost, Little River, and A.B. Ainsley LeRoy Tidd, R.C. N.R., of Cornwallis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Tidd, Whale Cove, was solemnized in the First Baptist Church at Little River, on Wednesday evening, June 27, at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. Clarence L. Chute, of Caledonia, officiated, the double ring service being used.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked charming in her floor length wedding gown of white silk jersey bodice, with full skirt of silk net over satin. Her floor length veil fell from a tiara of crystal beads. She wore a three strand pearl necklace with matching earrings. Her bouquet was of pink carnations, sweet peas and fern.

Mrs. Clyde A. Denton was matron of honour. She wore a floor length gown of yellow lace over satin, with matching lace hat, and carried a bouquet of yellow and orange June flowers, held by a large bow of yellow tulle. She wore pale pink earrings with matching brooch, a gift from the bride.

Aida Tidd, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, wore a floor length gown of pink silk taffeta trimmed in blue, with hat of pink chiffon. She carried a bouquet of pink and blue June flowers, held by a large bow of pink tulle. She wore a similar gift from the bride of earrings and brooch.

The flower girl, little Donna Tidd, sister of the groom, wore a full skirted dress of white organdie trimmed in blue ribbons, and carried a basket trimmed with a large bow of blue tulle, filled with a variety of June flowers. She wore a gold identification bracelet, a gift from the bride. Little Miss Carol Trask, ring bearer, wore a full skirted dress of white organdie trimmed in pink ribbons and carried the rings on a white satin cushion. She wore a similar gift, a bracelet, from the bride.

The groomsmen were Clyde A. Denton, cousin of the bride. Ushers were Miss Greta Denton and Miss Vera Kelly, friends of the bride. Mrs. Otto Frost, mother of the bride, wore a dress of navy blue crepe with white hat and matching accessories, and a corsage of pink sweetpeas and fern.

Mrs. Donald Tidd, mother of the groom, wore a dress of blue velvet with white hat and matching accessories, and a corsage of pink and white sweetpeas.

Nuptial music was played by Mrs. Lloyd MacNeill, aunt of the bride, and during the signing of the register Mrs. Bowman P. Collins sang "Because" accompanied by Mrs. Harley Ingersoll. The bride's gift to the organist were sterling silver earrings, to the soloist a sterling silver brooch. The groom's gift to the bride was a sterling silver compact, to the groomsmen a Durnhill leather billfold.

The church was beautifully trimmed. The three arches were decorated with fern and white spirea. The large arch under which the bridal party stood was centred by two flags while the two smaller ones were centred by white bells. The three were joined by red, white and blue streamers. A large Union Jack made a background for the profusion of red, white and blue June flowers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, the parents of the bride and groom receiving with them. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and centred with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by silver candlesticks holding white tapers. The room was decorated with white and pink streamers and wedding bells. A luncheon was served to over a hundred guests.

For travelling the bride wore a suit of allied blue with white hat and matching accessories, and a corsage of variegated sweet peas.

After a four-day honeymoon spent at Digby and Yarmouth, the young couple will return to duty, the groom to Cornwallis where he is stationed and the bride to Digby where she is employed as bookkeeper with the Digby Garage Co. Ltd.

The manly useful and costly gifts testified to the high esteem in which this young couple are held.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Cheyne, Mrs. A. B. Frost, Mrs. William McIntosh, Mrs. Ralph Watkins, Miss Vera Kelly, all of Saint John; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cotter, Berwick; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Outhouse, Port Maitland; Leland Trask, Yarmouth; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd MacNeill and son, Larry; Mrs. Byron MacNeill, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Bell, Marshalltown; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Adams, Mrs. Ernest Shaw, Joggin Bridge; Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Rice, Mrs. Weldon Trask, Sandy Cove; Rev. H. L. Denton, Halifax; Mr. and Mrs. Sypher Morrell, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Barnes, Mrs. Oakley Turnbull, Digby; Miss Eileen Spicer, Paradise; Edred Frost, Bridgetown; Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Chute and family, of Caledonia.

Mrs. H. R. Bishop and Mrs. J. M. Wallis, committee in charge of the recent V.O.N. Membership Drive, report a gross amount of $405.59 collected during the campaign.

This amount exceeds that of last year in actual collections as donations included in last year's proceeds have this year been put towards the car fund. The committee in charge are grateful for the excellent response to the appeal and to the canvassers for their efforts put into the job. These efforts to call on everyone made the drive the success it was.

Teams Play 9 - 9 Draw

Baseball teams from Digby and Meteghan played a 9-9 draw at the Athletic Field Monday, July 2nd.

Pitching duties for Meteghan were taken over by Gus Robichaud, who at the beginning of the fourth inning had been touched for seven runs by the Digby team. During this time Meteghan had secured two runs, making the score at the fourth, 7-2 in favour of Digby team.

Joe Turnbull, pitching for the Digby team, held the Meteghan team in check until the eighth inning when he began to weaken and Meteghan rolled up five runs making the score at the end of the eighth 9-8 in favour of Meteghan. This was the first time during the game that Meteghan secured the lead.

Turnbull redeemed himself in the ninth inning when he caught one of Thibideau's fast balls for a triple with one on base making a tied game at the end of the ninth.

Umpire for the game was Gilbert Robichaud, Melrose, Mass.

Hospital Board Meets

No decision as to who would be Manager of the Annual Hospital Fair was reached at a lengthy meeting of the Hospital Board, Monday evening. It had previously been decided to hold the Fair this year on Labor Day, September 3rd, but the lack of a Fair Manager makes the holding of the Fair in some doubt.

Committees for the year were appointed at the meeting of the Board. E. B. Richardson was appointed Chairman of the Finance Committee with Messrs. Eisnor and Denton. Chairman of the Building and Grounds Committee is Victor G. Cardoza with Messrs. H. M. Turnbull and J. M. Wallis. Dr. J. R. McCleave was elected Chairman of the House Committee with Dr. A. B. Campbell and H. M. Warne.

Pte. Donald Morehouse, of Halifax, spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. Arch Morehouse.

Trade Board's Carnival Nets Nearly $2,500

A cheque for two thousand dollars was turned over to the Board of Trade at their meeting Tuesday night by H. M. Turnbull, as a part of the net receipts for the Dominion Day Sports Carnival. One hundred and fifty dollars had been turned over previously, and it is hoped that when all returns are in that the Sports Day will net over $2,500.

It was decided at Tuesday night's meeting that monies received from the Sports Day Committee be used to complete the payment on the Athletic Field property on which there was a balance of somewhat over a thousand dollars outstanding. The bank loan which had been used mainly for financing of work at the athletic field was also ordered paid. It was also decided that the balance of the money derived from the Sports Day, with the exception of one hundred dollars which was set aside for improvements to the baseball field, be held for the operation of the skating rink during the winter months.

The matter of Paper Salvage was discussed at the meeting and it was decided to appoint C. F. McBride and H. M. Warne joint chairman of a Paper Salvage Committee with the understanding that the money derived from the sale of the waste paper was to be turned over to the Sea Cadets.

Resignation of Ivan Shortliffe as Secretary of the Board was regrettably accepted. Mr. Shortliffe is leaving town and could no longer carry on the work. Victor Cardoza accepted the appointment as temporary secretary until such time as a permanent secretary could be appointed.

Arms Amputated As Result of Burns

Because of horrible burns which resulted from coming in contact with a live wire at her home, Centreville, Digby County, it was necessary to amputate both arms of Edith Morehouse, daughter of Fred Morehouse, of that village. It is understood the arms were amputated below the elbow. The operation was performed at the Digby General Hospital Tuesday afternoon.

The accident occurred several days ago. Miss Morehouse, a young lady in her 20's, was rushed to Digby Hospital where every effort was made to prevent the amputation of her arms, however, septic poisoning set in and the operation was necessary.

Maple Leaf Society Wins Prize

First Prize for the best decorated horse drawn float in the Dominion Day parade went to the Maple Leaf Agricultural Society and not to Jack Raymond as stated in the last issue of the Courier. Nobory is to blame for this error but ourselves. The chairman of the parade committee, Chester Levy, gave us the prize list as it should have been, but there was a little slip in the numbering (he drew our attention to that too), nevertheless, when we copied off the prize list for publication in the Courier we made the error that credited the prize wrongly.

It is better to teach than to preach.

Even a miser is generous with his faults.

Says Ox Pulling Contest Was Good Exhibition

Herb Theriault, of Bloomfield, dropped into our office the other day to criticise our report on the horse and ox pulling contests—or to be more exact, to criticize our report on the ox pulling contest.

We wish there were more critics like Herb. He had no chip on his shoulder, or no axe to grind. He realized reporters and editors are not as familiar with the ways and habits of oxen as are farmers, lumbermen and others whose daily work bring them in contact with the wonderful strength of these magnificent beasts.

The Courier's report said in effect the ox pulling contest was disappointing. To us, as laymen, it was. We based our remarks on the poundage pulled by the oxen in comparison with their weight, nevertheless, we acknowledge the ox teams pulled steady and hard, and undoubtedly they were steadier on the drag than were the horses.

Herb, who knows his oxen, pointed out factors and conditions of which we know little. For instance he explained some of the same teams taking part in the contest did considerably better at the Hill Grove contest last fall—and prophesied this fall they would do even better than last year. But, at Hill Grove, they hauled the drag on a grass field not over a gravel road as they did in Digby.

Pulling over a gravel road, stones, small rocks and gravel under the drag prevented the oxen from showing off to best advantage. He further explained none of the teams were forced—not a whip was used—the oxen obeying the command of the driver. He pointed out too that the teams had been on summer feed and had not been doing heavy work for some time.

Yes, we appreciate the kind of friendly criticism Herb had to offer, and we hope we will meet many more critics like him. While it has been impossible to put down everything he had to say, we do know that as the result of his visit we will be better qualified to write news reports on future events of this nature—in fact we are already looking forward to reporting the performances of these oxen at the Hill Grove Fair in the fall.

Assessors Appointed

C. F. McBride was appointed Chief Assessor at Monday night's meeting of the Town Council. Other assessors are S. S. Aymar and M. C. Denton.

It was decided at the meeting to make that portion of Mount Street between Second Avenue and King Street a "One-Way" street; traffic to travel in an easterly direction only. It was felt that this street was dangerous and that this action should be taken as a precautionary measure.

Deputy Mayor Victor G. Cardoza was appointed delegate to the Annual Meeting of the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities, to be held in Antigonish this year.

Permission was given at the meeting the Teeners' Club to hold a Tag Day on Saturday, July 28th, for the purpose of helping to finance the securing of a club house.

Mrs. L. Dakin and Mrs. Fred Hubbard, of Wolfville, also Miss Betty Hanson, of Windsor, spent the week in town the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hanson.

About This and That

Goering, believe it or not, says now that he vainly urged Nazi seizure of Gibraltar. What he expects to gain by advertising this is hard to tell, but the fact remains that it would have been a clever move. While Gibraltar is almost impervious to a straight-out naval assault, as has several times been proved, modern artillery based on the African coast opposite would tax the defenders to the utmost. The straits here are only eight miles across, and from Gibraltar itself to Ceuta in Africa is a mere 13 miles. Such distances would be nothing to big guns, not to mention bombers. Had the Nazis attacked Gibraltar, they could have counted on every possible assistance from Franco, whom they put into power. And capture of the Rock would have sealed the Mediterranean, rendering Allied invasion of North Africa and Sicily almost impossible. Just another bet that Hitler missed.

The trouble with a lot of people is that when they are let down they give up.

An exhibit of current British books, just opened in New York, shows that Great Britain has been defending its craftsmanship as well as its material existence despite all the horrors of war. The exhibit, as the chairman said, is a double miracle: one, that the books are here at all; another, that they are as fine books as they are. "Why should the British bookmakers, handicapped for paper, driven into cellars, weary from nights on watch; why should they have cared to bother about types and layouts, why should they have cared? Because the British have the same indomitable stubbornness in defending their standards of craftsmanship as they have in defending their shores." Compared with what English publishers have had to get along with, our paper shortage has been a glutton's dream. Yet American publishers, too, have encountered difficulties so great that only a similar stubbornness and devotion to standards have enabled them to meet the wartime demand for books.

Conscience may help some, but it is fear of getting caught that keeps most of us straight.

Teachers in our schools get a back-handed testimonial to the importance of their profession from a 65-year-old German priest, who says, "The history books of Germany today are the preparations for wars." He says they must be completely revised. "Teen-aged German youths must be forced back to their class-rooms to learn that Hitler was a devil, not a god." This story challenges Americans to keep ever in mind that liberal education is the most fundamental process of a democracy. When the free spirit of education is crushed, and the people permit it to be crushed, the nation is already far along on the road to dictatorship. Perhaps among the lessons learned from this war will be that of renewed respect for Canada's universal public education. It is easy to take this for granted, or even to complain about the high cost to the taxpayer. But a major part of the enormous public debt this nation now owes can be charged to the fact that Nazis were permitted to stifle or befoul the springs of German education.

A good listener is not only popular everywhere, but after a while he knows something.

The Dutch boy of history who plugged a leak in the dike with his hand had nothing on Lieut. Commander Wayne A. Parker, engineer officer on the USS Ringold, backed into a gaping hole two and one-half feet below the water line when fire from Japanese shore batteries ripped the vessel. It cost him a new pair of trousers, and he was awarded the Navy Cross for his presence of mind and effective action.

When you have a hard time getting up in the morning it's surely cause for alarm.

On that occasion there was some talk of prospects of holding an annual convention of this association in Digby at some time in the future.

In fact, we have been led to believe had the "Pines" opened this year there was a possibility of Digby being considered for the 1945 convention. This convention will be held in Quebec during September.

Probabilities are the 1946 convention will be in Western Canada, and that Digby stands a chance in 1947.

A Few Words From the Editors

The editors of this newspaper are not in an aggressive mood, nevertheless they are peeved over the fact that at a recent public meeting a motion was "moved, seconded and passed that a full account of this meeting appear in the press."

Such a motion is entirely out of order, absolutely uncalled for and entirely unnecessary. In fact, if we were of an aggressive nature, we assure those who moved, seconded and passed the motion, that in spite of their moving, seconding and passing, not a line about that meeting would appear in this paper. There is no more justification in passing such a motion than there is in passing a motion to the effect the grocery stores in Digby should sell a certain brand of corn flakes and no other brand, or in passing a motion to the effect every clergyman in Digby county should preach his sermon from a text selected by that meeting.

While both the editor and associate editor of this paper were absent from that particular meeting, the paper was represented. We are not apologizing for our absence. We are not in the least ashamed of our local news coverage although if we had the staff we would give this important phase even more attention.

However, it must be remembered that we (the editor and associate editor) are at present our own mechanical staff as well as editorial and in a large measure reportorial staff, and the way we were situated last week after the Dominion Day holiday and with one member of our staff away, we had to work nights or run the risk of having the Courier miss the mails on Thursday morning. We doubt in its more than 70 years of publication if the Courier has been "late" on more than half a dozen occasions, and those occasions were because of mechanical breakdowns or power failures. We will—and have—gone without food and sleep in order to avoid missing the mails on publication days.

In the past when we did all of our own reporting, one or the other of us made it a point to attend as many public meetings as possible and report them to the best of our ability. We have a reporter now, and although we have not lost our interest in public affairs, our conscience does not trouble us greatly when we give our reporter an assignment and take the evening off for a game of cards, a show, or a good book. Editors, like human beings, must take some time off for recreation.

Upwards of 50,000 new houses are planned for Canada in the next twelve months.

At V-E Day, German prisoners in Canada included 2,318 officers, 28,131 other ranks and 3,227 merchant seamen. In the group were four generals.

Their annual conventions are well attended by representatives from every province, Yukon and Newfoundland.

Even while national conventions were discouraged, the C.W.N.A. was urged to hold its annual meets, in fact its conventions were considered a necessity not so much by its members, but by government and other bodies who realized the influential part the weekly press plays in moulding public opinion.

Attendance at C.W.N.A. conventions is usually in the vicinity of 300 to 400 delegates, and the publicity given these conventions cannot be overestimated. It has already been stated more than 600 weekly newspapers are members of the C.W.N.A.—convention stories would appear in every one of the member newspapers and others; its proceedings reported by practically every daily newspaper and radio network in the Dominion. Digby would really be in the news.

Digby people should consider seriously the prospect of a C.W.N.A. Convention in their town even if that convention may not be held until 1947. Steps should be taken at once to let the association know that should they honor our town by selecting it as their convention centre, they will be welcomed.

MARRIAGE

Robichaud - Saulnier

Sacred Heart Church, Saulnierville, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday, July 4, at 8:30 a.m., when Rev. Father Castonguay, C.J.M., pastor, united in marriage Derle Robichaud, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Simeon J. Robichaud, Meteghan, with Miss Rita Saulnier, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Saulnier, of Saulnierville, followed by a Nuptial High Mass.

The bride was dressed in a long white gown and veil and carried a white prayer book. The groom's niece, Miss Lorain Robichaud, of Melrose, Mass., supported the veil, and she was attended by her sister, Bella Saulnier and her cousin, Mrs. May Cornardo. The groom's brother, Gerard Robichaud, and Raymond Saulnier, the bride's brother, were best men.

After the ceremony, breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents. They received numerous wedding gifts. They will reside in Meteghan.

V.O.N. Hears Report

Members of the V.O.N. Board, at their annual meeting Tuesday, were privileged to hear the report submitted by Mrs. D. A. Swan (Marion Roop), of the 47th Annual Meeting of the Board of Governors at Ottawa.

The meetings were held at the Chateau Laurier and at the Government House where the delegates were guests of their Excellencies the Governor General and Princess Alice at afternoon tea.

Mrs. Swan's report, one of the finest, gave an insight into the highlights of business transacted, the addresses as given by each speaker and the reports of the officers. After hearing this inspiring report each local member felt as Mrs. Swan expressed that Canada should look with pride upon the great work the V. O. N. organization is doing. The vote of thanks to Mrs. Swan was carried unanimously.

For many years National Office has been working toward some pension scheme for V. O. Nurses. Now that a retirement Income Plan has just about been completed the local Branch at their monthly meeting Tuesday, took steps to follow in line with other Canadian V. O. N. branches and adopt the plan as outlined by Head Office at Ottawa.

Donations of clothing from Mrs. Clyde Bremner and Mrs. Hugh Washburn were gratefully acknowledged by the Board.

A vote of thanks to Delbert Forest and Boyd Stark for their work in making a V.O.N. float for the July 2nd Parade possible was unanimously carried. Not only did the float do much to further the efforts of those behind the Dominion Day Celebration but also the opportunity of presenting V.O.N. to the public was not passed up by the Publicity committee.

Hotel Regulation Act Is Effective August 1st

The Hotel Regulation Act (Chapter 20 of the Acts of 1945) comes into force on the first day of August, 1945.

After that date it will be unlawful for any person to carry on in Nova Scotia the business of conducting, maintaining, operating or managing an hotel unless the operation of such hotel is licensed in accordance with the Act.

In addition to what is usually understood as an hotel, the Act applies to:

(a) a separate building or two or more connected buildings used mainly for the purpose of catering to the needs of the public by the furnishing of sleeping accommodation of not less than six bedrooms; or

(b) every building, part of a building, group of buildings or place of accommodation which provides three or more beds for the reception of transient guests; or

(c) tourist cabins or overnight cabins, so called; or

(d) any building or part of a building designated as a hotel in the regulations.

With reference to clause (d), no regulations have as yet been made.

Application for a license is to be made on a form provided for the purpose which may be obtained on application to the Department of Health, the Provincial Administration Building, Halifax, and the prescribed fee of one dollar must accompany the application.

The Act also provides that on and after August first a register shall be maintained in every hotel in which shall be entered the name and usual place of residence of every person admitted as a guest.

In order to prevent delay, applicants are urged to complete the application form fully and to answer all questions thereon and attach a cheque or money order thereto payable to the order of the Provincial Treasurer.

Dated at Halifax this 3rd day of July, 1945.

1. "The run to the village was a nice change of scenery and I like to get away from the rest of the farm-yard for awhile," said Polly. "But it was that blamed dust that always used to get me. I always say it's a nuisance to both man and beast! In fact it used to take the joy out of every trip to the village."

2. "And what the boss used to say about it isn't fit to print. 'It's a menace' he used to say 'and always will be 'till something's done about it. And what it does to farm property is nobody's business!'"

3. "And the Missus had a name for it too! She said she couldn't keep the verandah clean for five minutes at a time; and as for sitting out of an evening, she claimed it was just as bad as a trip to the village."

4. "But now they've fixed the road, the boss purrs like a kitten. 'It's wonderful what Calcium Chloride does' he says. It's not only a heap more pleasant, but it's a whole lot safer and the road's smooth and easier on us. No bumps, no ruts, no dust!"

5. "And the Missus not only has more time for knitting but she has a pleasant place to knit the sweaters she sends to Johnny. She says her house-work's cut in half. She may be exaggerating just a little bit, but you can bet she makes her point."

6. "And Bill Baxter, the county engineer, who's pretty friendly with the boss, says he's able to keep more gravel road mileage in good shape, with less labour, less wear on equipment and at no more cost, than before he started using Calcium Chloride."

"It costs no more to have a dust-free consolidated surface than a bumpy, dusty one," said Bill, one day! He says the Calcium Chloride saves its cost in his men's time and in gravel replacements. And he's got everybody in the county a whole lot happier about it too. "It pays to use Brunner Mond Calcium Chloride," he says!"

This is the season of the year when our churches hold their annual summer teas, garden parties and picnics. These functions are important in the church and social life of all our communities, and through them our churches raise a fair percentage of the money they need to carry on.

We suggest all our readers, wherever they live, make it a point to support these events, not only in connection with their own church and denomination, but also through their attendance assist those churches that are representative of the religious faiths of our friends and neighbors.

Not only do these gatherings aid the churches under whose auspices they are held, but give us an opportunity of meeting with friends—and when meals are served, we always get more than our money's worth.

Annual church teas and sales in Digby town will be held on the following dates:

Digby Baptist Church, July 12

Grace United Church, July 26

St. Patrick's Victory Frolic, July 28

Trinity Church, August 1

We invite all churches in this area to advise us of the dates of their summer tea, sale or picnic. We will be glad to announce the dates in this column.

PLANS MADE FOR HOSPITAL FAIR

Plans for the annual Digby Hospital Fair were made at a special meeting of the Hospital Board held in the office of Dr. E. DuVernet, Thursday afternoon, when Sheriff Guy E. Dunn was named fair manager. M. C. Denham was appointed deputy manager.

The fair will take place on Labor Day, September 3, on the Myrtle Hotel garage grounds, First Avenue. A portion of the street will likely be roped off for this event. It was announced by Dr. DuVernet, president of the Board, that J. G. MacDonald, who recently purchased the Myrtle Hotel property, had donated the use of the garage grounds for this purpose.

In past years the Hospital Fair usually took place in mid-August. Two years ago the date was advanced to Labor Day. The change met the approval of the public and committees, and it is expected that in the future Labor Day will be Hospital Fair Day in Digby.

Working committees are getting together to finalize their plans for this event, which has played a most important part in the financing of the Digby General Hospital, and which, over a period of fifteen years has grown to be one of the most popular events of the year in the county.

Liberated Prisoner Returns Home

"Gene" Sanford, of Clements-ville, who served with the first Canadian Parachute Battalion overseas and was taken prisoner by the Germans, returned home last week on the Queen Mary which docked in New York.

Gene missed the big reception given his unit in Halifax, but feels that it makes no difference now that he is home. He was in hospital recuperating from his long imprisonment in Germany when his unit embarked for Canada. Gene was taken prisoner in Normandy on June 18th, 1944 after being wounded and was sent to Bitterfeld, a work camp in Germany. He immediately began to plot his escape. He succeeded on April 24th, and remained at large in Germany until the Huns surrendered.

Victorian Order Activities

During the month of June 149 visits were made by the nurse-in-charge as learned from the report submitted by the new nurse, Miss Faye Saunders. 88 visits were nursing; 23 patients were admitted.

Twenty-nine hours were spent in school nursing where 107 were given special physical examinations; 66 defects were found and 30 corrected. Through these school examinations the pupils from outlying districts who attend school at Digby are given a splendid opportunity to check up on health conditions and possibly prevent some serious defects in later years. Four hours were spent at Blood Donor Clinics and 27 attended the 5 Well-Baby Clinics.

Sea Cadets Entertained

Over two hundred Sea Cadets from Halifax and Pictou, who have been in camp at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis were entertained at a "movie" at the Navy League Hotel. The film shown was "The Man from Halfmoon Street" and the boys were loud in their appreciation of the show. Marching through town on their way to and from the Hostel the Cadets looked very smart. They marched with a fine orderly precision which would have done credit to seasoned tars. Among the instructors marching with the boys was Lt. C. E. Eaton who is in charge of recreation and physical training of the Cadets who are spending camp periods at the base.

Attend C.G.I.T. Camp

A number of C. G. I. T. girls from Digby left last Thursday to attend camp at Pinehurst. Among them are Betty Turnbull, Dorothy Casey, Patsy Matheson, Jean Payne, Lorna Hazelton, Marilyn Campbell, Barbara Perry, Ruth Morehouse, Eileen Woodman, Helene Savary, Anna Tower, Irma Vincent, Elizabeth Turnbull, Betty Casey was planning to attend but had the misfortune to fall from her bicycle injuring an arm quite badly, the day before the girls left.

Mrs. Carrie Clark, Saint John, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Van-Tassel.

Miss Priscilla Moulaison, of Annapolis, spent Tuesday with her mother, Mrs. Arthur Hazelton and family.

Mrs. G. R. McNutt, who has been visiting her father in Central East Pubnico for some time, arrived home Tuesday.

Dr. E. Dudley Dickie has purchased the J. W. Merkel property at the south end of Queen Street and has taken up residence there.

Victory Frolic Organized

Dr. L. F. Doiron has been named chairman of the committee in charge of the Victory Frolic to take place on the grounds of Carter's Service Station, Digby, Saturday, July 28, under auspices of St. Patrick's Church. Other executive officers are E. J. Theriault, secretary, and C. F. McBride, treasurer.

The "Frolic" promises to be an outstanding success. Various committees are already at work and many new features are being planned.

The free show will get under way at 8:15 p.m., when a variety of novelty booths will be in evidence. In addition to the usual refreshment and fancy work there will be games of all kinds.

A feature attraction will be the giving away of a choice building lot on Second Avenue.

Make Plans for Hospital Fair

The first meeting of the 1945 Digby Hospital Fair Committee was held at the office of the Maritime-National Fish Co., Tuesday evening. Guy Dunn, who was named Fair Manager for 1945, presided.

Organization and other plans in connection with the fair were discussed and chairmen of the various working committees named. The meeting was well attended.

As announced elsewhere in this paper in an article dealing with last Thursday's special meeting of the Hospital Board, the fair will be held on the Myrtle House Garage grounds during the afternoon of Monday, September 3 (Labor Day).

It was also decided the Hospital Fair Dance will be held at the Racquette Casino on the following evening.

"Tar Baby" Wins Race

Roy Peters' "Tar Baby" took first place in the first race of the season for the Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club, July 8. Seven yachts entered the event, following course No. 2, and finished in the following order:

"Tar Baby", Roy Peters, 6 points
"Saucy Sue", Percy Weir, 5 points
"Relax", E. J. Theriault, 4 points
"Peter Pan", B. H. Ruggles, 3 points
"Wren", Arthur Weir, 2 points
"Lucky Chance", C. Lefebvre, fouled boats

There was a good sailing breeze with a wind from the west. The July 15th race was cancelled.

Plans have been made for the annual Yacht Club Cruise to Bear Island on Sunday, weather permitting. Should weather be unfavorable, the cruise will be postponed until August 19.

At the present time the club is putting on a membership drive under the direction of Wilmet Christie, James Merkel and the Club Secretary Frank Larche. To date 36 members have enrolled.

Pte. and Mrs. Rufus Connor and little son have been spending a leave at the home of Rufus' parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Connor, Lighthouse Rd. They left yesterday for Barrie Ont., where Rufus is stationed.

Fined for Creating A Disturbance

A/B Joseph Leo Jarrett, H.M. C.S. Cornwallis, was fined $5.00 and cost with the alternative of ten days in jail, in Magistrate G. H. Peters' Court. Jarrett was charged with creating a disturbance while a passenger on a bus and interfering with the driver.

According to his own statement he had been drinking, and on June 29 with a party of friends was a passenger on a bus en route from Annapolis to Digby. He was smoking a cigar and had been asked by the driver to put it out. He admitted entering into some argument with the driver and going to the front of the bus.

The driver stated Jarrett became offensive and had ordered him to take off his glasses so he could beat him up. At Smith's Cove the driver stopped the bus and ordered Jarrett and his party off. The charge was a sequel to the incident.

Will Welcome Kiwanis Governor

Arrangements are being made by the Kiwanis Club of Digby to welcome Governor Burdick, who is visiting the clubs of the Ontario-Quebec-Maritime District of Kiwanis, and who with Mrs. Burdick will arrive at Digby on Saturday to spend the week end at Harbor View Hotel, Smith's Cove. Governor Burdick will address a luncheon of the Digby Club at Harbor View on Monday, proceeding to Yarmouth in the afternoon to meet the Yarmouth Club that evening.

Church Supper A Success

The Annual Church Supper of the United Baptist Church which was held in the Church Hall on Thursday of last week was a very successful one. The sum of approximately $421.00 was raised for church purposes. These suppers are sponsored by the Women's League of the church.

Lance Corporal D. G. Titus, of Smith's Cove, who was among those who returned on the Hospital ship, Letitia this week, said that his work as a field stretcher bearer in France, Belgium and Holland with an advanced dressing station was "merely routine". The fact that he with his fellow workers had to go into action twenty minutes after the advancing regiments to pick up the wounded was not worth a story, he thought. L/Cpl. Titus has a daughter four years old whom he had never seen until his arrival home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alden Suthern and daughter, Grace, who have not visited their native homes for the past nine years, recently spent a two weeks' vacation as guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Murray Small, and other relatives in Tiverton and Westport. They returned on Wednesday to Taunton, Mass., where they reside.

Pte. George Winfield of the Veterans' Guard, who is stationed at Grand Ligne, Que. has been spending a week's leave at his home here. He returned to duty today.

DIGBY COUNTY HAS GOOD HAY CROP

Harvesting the hay crop is the BIG job in rural Digby County these days. From all reports, the 1945 crop will be an excellent one—perhaps the best in four years. Farmers, however, are handicapped through lack of help with the result everyone from grandmother and grandfather to the baby have turned out to do their share in the hayfields, working seven days a week without regard for union hours.

Since the early years of the war the "hired man" has become an almost unknown animal on Digby County farms—he turned carpenter, ship builder, truck driver, mill man, bull dozer operator or took another war time occupation with better pay than that of working out on the farms.

Local farmers found it impossible to compete with war industry wages.

Fortunately for the farmers there has been excellent weather since haying got under way about July 1st. What little rain that has fallen since then has fallen during the night and scarcely interfered with their work. Nevertheless, even should good weather continue it will be a matter of several weeks before all Digby County hay can be stored in the barns.

During recent years it has been the custom of local farmers to begin haying before the grass toughened and went to seed. (In the old days hay wasn't fit to cut until it ripened). This year, because of almost continuous wet weather during April, May and June, the start of the hay harvest was delayed, although that same wet weather is said to be responsible for this year's big crop.

Attempt Assault Sent Up for Trial

Gerald Edward Halton, 20 year old naval rating from H.M.C.S. Cornwallis was committed to stand trial by a higher court by Stipendiary G. H. Peters Monday morning. He was charged with unlawfully and indecently assaulting a young woman.

The offence was alleged to have taken place on the evening of Wednesday, July 11. According to evidence Halton followed the young lady from town, and when almost near her home seized her by the arm and said he wanted to talk to her. She broke away from him and he again grasped her and attempted to assault her. The young woman called for help, and after a struggle succeeded in breaking away from him. By this time she was almost at her door way and ran into the house. From there she phoned the Shore Patrol.

The patrol apprehended the man, and after having him identified by the young lady, he was taken to the R.C.M.P. office and questioned. His statement, signed and witnessed, was tendered as an exhibit at the preliminary hearing. Several members of the Shore Patrol gave evidence.

Harold Wilson, accompanied by his wife and two sons, also his sister, Mrs. W. J. Perks and son, all of Halifax, spent the week end at the home of Samuel E. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson. (The latter is still a patient in the Digby General Hospital and is suffering a heart condition.) Mrs. Perks and son, Ramsey will remain until September. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Magee and daughter, Audrey Mae, also spent the week end at the same home.

Winston Jeffrey, of Lynn, Mass., who has been visiting his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Jeffrey, of Sandy Cove, has returned and was accompanied by his niece, Miss Vivian Jeffrey, who has gone to Bridgeport, Conn., to visit her sisters.

L.A.C. Eddie Barnes, R.C.A.F., Yarmouth, spent the week end at the home of his parents, Capt. and Mrs. Hillyard Barnes. Visitors at the same home this week are Mrs. Herbert K. Shaw and Miss Muriel Driscoll, of Saint John, also Mrs. Mallett Banks, of Bear River.

Mrs. Maud Brown, New York, is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. R. W. Connor, Lighthouse Rd., for the summer months.

Mrs. W. J. Swett, of Cambridge, Mass., arrived yesterday to spend the summer months at her cottage on the Shore Road. She was accompanied by her son, Harold, job.

"The Clash of Backgrounds" was the subject of an address delivered by Rev. F. B. Gaskill, rector of Trinity Church, at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club of Digby. Mr. Gaskill began his address by speaking of the environments that influence people and communities, leading up to the background of nations.

He made references to historical events that have led to the freedom of liberty of Anglo-Saxon peoples, from the signing of the Magna Carta to the American Revolution when the slogan of the colonies was "Taxation without representation will not be endured," pointing out that in those days the common people were fighting for the right to govern themselves and deny the king the power of imposing taxes without the consent of a representative government or parliament.

He also made references to advances in the direction of liberty and freedom made during the Victorian and later eras and went on to speak of the various conceptions of liberty and freedom of other nationalities and how these would have to be consolidated at the peace conference if a lasting peace is to be achieved.

To Manage Shelburne Paper

Ivan A. Shortliffe of the Courier staff left Monday for Shelburne where he has accepted the position of manager of the Shelburne "Coast Guard".

The "Coast Guard" is one of the best known South Shore weeklies, and is owned by the Hon. F. C. MacCurdy, of Halifax. For many years this paper had been edited by W. H. Currie, who, a few weeks ago, suffered a severe illness. It is understood Mr. Currie will still continue as editor with Mr. Shortliffe as manager.

Spr. Douglas Saulnier, son of Mrs. Arthur Hazelton, arrived home Saturday on the troop ship, Ile de France. He was accompanied from Kentville to Digby by his mother, on Sunday. Spr. Saulnier saw action in France, Belgium, Holland, and Germany, and is now enjoying a 30-day leave at his home. Then he will train for the far east.

Mrs. David Richardson and daughter, Geraldine, of Carleton, Yarmouth County, spent a few days with Mrs. Richardson's sister, Mrs. Arthur Hazelton and family.

Rufus W. Connor is employed for the summer months in the Magdalen Islands on a salvage

About This and That

Jet bombs were planned against New York, Alexander de Seversky, advocate of air power as the greatest aid in winning the war, learned this from Marshal Hermann Goering. According to Goering the Nazis were developing four-motored jet-propelled planes which could fly without stopping from Germany to the United States and return, with a two or three-ton bomb load.

While it would take more than Goering's word to prove merely that it was raining, the story certainly has this much truth in it. The Nazis would have liked to bomb the United States, and might well have been working on devices to do this. How far they had got is not stated, even by Goering. They showed, however, some formidable new war engines only a short time before surrender. The German ingenuity which accomplished so many other wonders might be capable even of this. The quick ending of the war spoiled the scheme.

The Japanese are smart too; their newest planes are said to be faster than any of ours. It would be foolish to take the Japanese war lightly and give them time to develop more devilry.

An unsuccessful man has more confidence in others than he has in himself.

Are inventors necessarily crazy? This seems to be suggested by the testimony of a French alienist who was called in to examine Georges Claude, the inventor of liquid air and of neon lights. Claude is on trial for collaborating with the Nazis, a charge, which he himself admits is true. Perhaps this very admission gave the idea that there might be something wrong with him.

At any rate the alienist said "Claude's mentality is that of the inventor, which is closely akin to a paranoiac mentality as shown by errors of judgement, exaltation of one's personality, pride and vanity and social inadaptability."

This is formidable diagnosis for one patient. Inventors generally will resent the assumption that all inventors are paranoiac. Among others, they can cite the example of Edison.

The rarest thing in the world is a man who has not over-estimated his own importance.

Rationing helps the FARMER

HERE'S HOW!

- Rationing assures everyone a fair share of scarce foods. Without rationing, farmers might get all the butter they need; they might not get sugar. City dwellers might get sugar but no butter.
- Rationing helps to keep prices steady.
- Rationing has assured farmers sufficient ammunition to protect their crops and livestock.
- Rationing makes it possible for farmers to get coupons to feed harvesters and other transient farm workers.

The FARMER
helps Rationing
HERE'S HOW!

- By collecting and turning in the coupons acquired against the use and sale of butter and the sale of honey and rationed maple products.
- By writing to the Local Ration Boards for application form RB-77 as SOON as they know definitely that transient labour rations will be needed to feed extra help hired to periods of less than two weeks.

Rationing is not intended to add unnecessarily to the burden of Canadian farmers who, faced with shortages of labour, materials and machinery, have continued to respond to repeated calls for greater production.

It is a protection against waste . . . shortages . . . inflation.

Wanted to Help Train Youth

To train youth to meet problems which will confront the Canada of tomorrow, Nova Scotians are being asked to contribute $2,500 as their share of the $50,000 Princess Alice Foundation now being established in honor of Her Royal Highness, the wife of the Governor General of Canada, the Earl of Athlone.

The fund will be used to educate and develop youth leaders in all parts of the dominion by providing scholarships, bursaries, grants-in-aid, by organizing conferences both national and international, and by arranging for the exchange for limited periods of persons employed in various parts of the empire.

Heading up the fund is the Chief Justice of Canada and the Justices of the Supreme Court of Canada who have offered themselves as trustees. Groups are being established in the nine provinces to raise the $50,000. In Halifax, Mrs. Kendall, wife of the Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia, has consented to be the Honorary President, and Reid Smith, of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Main Office, Halifax, is the Honorary Treasurer.

To Mr. Smith gifts from individuals and organizations anywhere in the province may be sent and they will be forwarded by him to Ottawa where they will be added to the national total by the Central Committee. This consists of Mrs. J. L. Isley, wife of the Minister of Finance, Mrs. John Bracken, wife of the Progressive Conservative leader, Madame Thibaudeau Rinfret, wife of Chief Justice Rinfret, Senator Iva Fallis and Senator Cairine Wilson.

In a period of great financial drives, $2,500 does not appear to be a high objective and actually it is not. Nevertheless, it will require the support of women's organizations throughout Nova Scotia if the goal is to be achieved, those in charge of the campaign point out. Individual contributions, which are exempt from income tax, are not expected to be large; the hope is, rather, to have as many as possible represented in that $2,500 as an evidence of loyalty to the crown and in appreciation of the great interest which Her Royal Highness has taken in Canadian affairs, particularly those which have been related to youth and its future.

The Governor General and Princess Alice are expected to leave Canada for Britain about the middle of this month and those sponsoring the foundation for youth leadership training hope that the funds will be in and the objective exceeded by that time.

Extols the Beauties of Acacia Valley

The Editor,
The Digby Courier,

Dear Sir:—

My mother, Mrs. Edward J. Payson, Smith's Cove, sent me a Courier which I received yesterday. It was an old one dated April 19, 1945, and in it I found an article entitled "Another Scenic Walk." Whoever wrote that one sure was right when he wrote—"as a pleasant walk we suggest this week a 'hike' to the beautiful Acacia Valley."

I think it is a fine idea for you to publish things like that, and believe me, for a person who is away from all those beautiful walks an article of that kind will take your mind from the unpleasant thoughts and you dwell on memories that leave you refreshed.

I am sure the people who know me in Smith's Cove and Acacia Valley will agree that I was pretty well sold on the Acacia Valley. It is, I feel sure, the most beautiful spot this side of Heaven.

When I was a teenager and, as the boys say now, on the prowl, the Acacia Valley was a spot I chose. When you are growing up you sometimes need a place where you can do a lot of thinking. Well, the Valley was the best place I know for that sort of thing. I used to walk down through the fields and paths and think of the things every boy thinks of—his future and what he should do about it. Well, I was pretty well sold on the idea of living down there but world events and personal problems seemed to change my course and I have had to take quite a detour from that pleasant place. At the time of writing I am in England, but some day I hope I will get around this detour and go back to the land I love.

I read with interest sometime ago about the possibility of making the Shelburne Road a Highway to the South Shore. That it a good idea, and I hope it will materialize before very long. Of course there is the chance of the Valley building up if the road should go through, but many years ago the Valley was a busy place and many wonderful people were brought up there and still the Valley holds its place. I don't believe it will ever lose its beauty even if a city should grow there.

Yes, the Acacia Valley is a beautiful place to take a "hike". I recommend it personally! It has magic in the air. I know it, believe me. I remember taking my best girl to the Valley and she seemed to fit in there and I could tell the Valley liked her. You who read this and have not taken this walk, do so, and see if it is not true! The brook under the bridge and the wind in the trees will assure you. Only believe it, and don't forget. Those who forget, will hear those voices the rest of their lives. I hear them. Do you, Mr. Editor? Maybe I am nuts! Who wouldn't be over here.

Acacia Valley Hike, and I hope some person who likes the Valley Thanks for printing the like I do, will follow through with another one.

Very sincerely yours,
Austin Payson.

2. "Then the new doctor came to the district. I thought he was too young for his job. One day he came in to see Grandpa and I mentioned my hay fever. 'Hay fever,' he said, 'that's not hay fever—it's the DUST!'"

3. "That's just what I say," chimed in Grandpa. "No wonder folks cough and sneeze with these great clouds blowing in from the road. It's spoiling my crops too."

4. "Well Grandpa and the Doc. went down to the Council Meeting that very night and thrashed the whole thing out. The Doc. suggested Calcium Chloride. It'll pay for itself in the end, you'll save repairing costs—and you'll all have better health, he said."

5. "So they fixed the road with Calcium Chloride. That doctor is a smart young chap, I say. That's five years ago and we haven't any more big bills for repairs... and I haven't had any hay fever either."

Sandy Cove Hears Talk on V. D.

On Wednesday evening of last week, at 8 o'clock films dealing with the prevention and cure of the social diseases, syphilis and gonorrhea, were shown by Dr. E. A. Eagles, District Medical Health Officer, Windsor, assisted by Nurse Buchanan, in the Community Hall, at Sandy Cove. Previous to the showing of the films, Dr. F. E. Rice, County Medical Health Officer, who has been largely responsible for obtaining the film and who has worked untiringly to promote health education to combat the insidious menace of these social diseases, spoke briefly and introduced Dr. Eagles, who gave his audience some idea of the widespread damage caused by syphilis and gonorrhea. The films were excellent and the large audience thoroughly appreciated them. At the conclusion of the films Dr. Rice moved a vote of thanks to Dr. Eagles for his kindness in showing the films. This was seconded by John Hibbitts, Church of England, student at Sandy Cove, and was carried unanimously. The evening's showing was brought to a close by the playing of the National Anthem by Mrs. Reginald Sypher.

Men and women from the various communities on Digby Neck were present, as well as members of the Reserve Army in this area.

DIGBY GENERAL HOSPITAL FINANCIAL REPORT

AUDITORS' REPORT

Halifax, Nova Scotia,
June 19th, 1945

The Secretary,
Digby General Hospital,
Digby, Nova Scotia.

Dear Sir:

We have completed an examination of the books, accounts and records of Digby General Hospital for the year ending November 30th, 1944, and submit attached schedules, as follows:—

- Balance Sheet (showing Assets, Liabilities and Surplus Account).
- Hospital Revenue and Expenditure Statement.
- X-Ray Revenue and Expenditure Statement.
- Consolidated Statement of all Current Accounts for the Period.

Due to the changes in office staff in the past year, the Hospital accounts became almost hopelessly involved. Therefore, in the time at our disposal it was impossible to conduct an audit of the accounts in the ordinary sense of the word. The most that could be done was to adjust the books and correct the more obvious errors. This has been done, but in view of the conditions outlined above you will readily understand that it is impossible for us to give you our usual unqualified certificate. It is conceivable that in recording the current year's business your accountant may come upon errors which occurred in 1944, but which will have to be adjusted in 1945. Such errors, if they exist, will most likely be found in the Patient's Accounts. We were unable to reconcile these accounts with the control maintained in the General Ledger. Neither have we verified these accounts by direct communication.

No inventories are shown on the Balance Sheet, for none were prepared at November 30th, 1944.

The investments were examined at The Royal Bank of Canada, Digby. The only securities held at the Hospital year end were International Hydro Electric 6% Gold Debentures. All Dominion of Canada Bonds formerly held had been realized upon and the proceeds used for Nurses' Home purposes.

The cost of the Nurses' Home to November 30th, 1944, has been set up on the books. The amount shown is for construction costs and does not include equipment.

The fire insurance policies have been examined, and we find that the Hospital Building is covered to the extent of $45,000 and the Contents for $10,000. There is at present $18,000 coverage on the Nurses' Home, and $4,800 on the Contents.

Please submit this report and attached Statements to the President and Members of the Board. Before the statements are used for any purpose we think they should be approved by the Board, by Resolution, and signed by the President and Secretary.

Yours faithfully,

CROWELL, BALCOM & CO.,

Help the Boys Home by Vacationing Near Home

We are often surprised when some life-long resident tells us he or she has never visited the "Islands"—or they have never been down Digby Neck any further than the cross road. We know of others who have never crossed the three or four miles of water that separate this town from the charming villages of Port Wade and Victoria Beach.

It is not that these people have never travelled or have no desire to travel. Some have crossed the continent on more than one occasion; others have made frequent trips to Boston, New York and Montreal, and still others have wintered in the south, yet they are not acquainted with the beauties and attractions of the villages and towns that lie almost at their front doors.

These days we are requested to refrain from all unnecessary travel in order that the thousands of service personnel now returning from overseas may arrive speedily at their destinations with the least possible discomfort. We suggest that we take advantage of the situation and spend our vacations this year in getting acquainted with our own neighbors—even if we are not among those who have to visit local communities for the first time, we will find great pleasure in revisiting them and renewing acquaintances.

For scenic beauty there are few spots on the continent that will excel Victoria Beach and Port Wade—to see them we have only to glance across the harbor, but to know and fully appreciate them we should visit them, and we believe we are safe in stating we would get as much enjoyment out of a vacation spent in either place as we would out of a vacation spent at some resort hundreds of miles away—in pre-war days people came from thousands of miles away to summer at Victoria Beach, and we who live within a stones throw of it hardly know of its existence.

And Digby Neck—can one suggest a more charming village than Sandy Cove? It is really one of the most picturesque villages we know of, and yet it is just twenty miles from Digby! Centreville and Little River have their attractions to offer, and for a quiet, restful vacation, we can think of few better places than these Digby Neck villages—just relaxing and taking life easy: exploring the shores or taking a crack at deep sea fishing with some fisherman who really knows how and where to get them—even fishing off the piers offers its share of sport.

The Island villages, Tiverton and Freeport on Long Island, and Westport on Briar Island, are unique. They are perhaps the largest and most important villages in Digby Municipality, and the prosperity of Digby town is dependant in no small measure on the success or failure of the Island fishermen.

Almost without exception the Island homes are among the most comfortable and best equipped to be found in the province—and strangers are always welcome "on the Islands"—for an unusual and delightful vacation, we recommend the Islands—wn know from actual experience.

There are numerous other villages and towns we could suggest —Smith's Cove, Bear River, all along the Bay Shore, Weymouth and the "back country", Bay View and other delightful vacation spots. Just take your choice—try any one of them—you will be delighted.

Charged After Crash

Following "not guilty" to a charge of drunken driving, Macdonald was remanded to jail for driving on July 21 at Magistrate Peters Court, Saturday morning. Macdonald was released on bail.

The charge arose out of an accident that took place shortly before 4 a.m. Saturday when a car driven by Pineo crashed into an electric light pole at the entrance of the boulevard, Water Street.

Lovett Watkins, a passenger in the car, was badly cut about the head and face when he crashed through the windshield. Pineo was also cut about the head. Both were treated at the hospital and Pineo later taken from the hospital and lodged in jail. Another passenger, Arthur Riise, a sailor, escaped without injury.

The car was badly damaged, the fenders and frame bent and twisted.

Ball Field Improved

Great improvements have been made on the Ball Field at the Board of Trade Athletic Grounds during the past week. Early in the week the government grader thoroughly graded and levelled the field, taking out all the humps and levelling off the rough places. On Friday evening members of the Ball Field and others turned out in force and raked off the entire field. It is now in very good shape and perfectly fit for playing. A number of games are scheduled for the season, many of them return games which the Digby team will play against out of town teams they have met on these teams home grounds. An exhibition game scheduled for last Sunday afternoon featuring a team from Yarmouth had to be postponed due to the Yarmouth team's inability to get to Digby for the game. A game was arranged between two local teams which proved very interesting although the crowd was greatly disappointed not to see the Yarmouth team play. A game between the Digby Ravens and the Yarmouth team has been arranged for Sunday, July 29th, at 2:30 in the afternoon.

Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade Officially Formed

The Annapolis Valley Affiliated Board of Trade officially came into being at Middleton last Wednesday night when more than 70 representatives of 11 of the 15 affiliated Boards gathered at a banquet, and afterwards adopted the constitution which should mean much in the future welfare of this section of the province in particular, and the province generally.

President G. L. Andrews, Middleton, presided and brief remarks were made by A. A. Dunphy, and Group Captain Reyno, O.C., at Greenwood.

The guest speaker, Hon. Harold Connolly, Provincial Minister of Industry and Publicity, was introduced by F. J. Burns, President of the Kentville Board of Trade.

Hon. Mr. Connolly deplored what had been in past years a lack of "self-assertiveness" on the part of our people. He stated that "if we, in Nova Scotia, place our natural abilities and money at our own disposal, we have every chance to compete favorably against anyone, anywhere."

The speaker said that to succeed as we should we must not look for outside capital, but rather invest our own capital and abilities, concentrated in our own industries.

Dealing with the tourist trade of the future, Hon. Mr. Connolly said that this field is unlimited "if we develop it to its final possibilities", and he envisioned by 1950 the possibility of a million tourists annually visiting this province. "If the people of the province progress with a fine determination and entire co-operation."

Hotel accommodations are a prime requisite to obtain these results, and Mr. Connolly felt that the valley is already in a fine situation in this respect.

He appealed to all Boards of Trade, everywhere, to "take unto themselves the promotion of the 'gospel of tourists'".

Excellent Record

Ralph Morehouse, student at Central High School, New Waterford, graduated from Grade XII with a fine scholastic record. Along with other awards he received an I.O.D.E. scholarship toward his college education.

He was a very active youth about the town, being Troop Leader of the All Saints' Scout Troop, Assistant Cubmaster, editor of the local Boy Scout paper, "The Scout Herald," N.C.O. and Instructor in Air Cadets as well as taking an active part in sports and the publishing of the High School paper "Blue and Gold." He is one who will be greatly missed from town activities associated with youth. Ralph is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Morehouse, Centreville, Digby Co.

County Court Judge Kenneth Crowell on Monday morning sentenced Gerald Edward Halton, twenty year old Naval Rating of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, to a term of two months in the county jail on a charge of having committed an unlawful and indecent assault. Changing his plea to "guilty" Halton was not represented in court by Counsel. E. J. Theriault represented the Crown.

Mrs. Arthur A. Smith, of Culloden, received a cable from her son, Pte. F. O. Middleton, England, that he was married to Miss Iris Slater, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Slater, Sheffield, England, July 7th, 1945. Pte. Middleton was wounded after D-Day, 1944. He expects to return to Canada early in August, his wife will follow shortly after. Jimmie Smith, of Culloden, has returned home after spending a few days with relatives in Sambro, Halifax County.

formed Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade was adopted clause by clause, subject to amendment.

Representatives were present from the Boards of Trade of Windsor, Hantsport, Wolfville, Kentville, Aylesford, Kingston, Middleton, Lawrencetown, Annapolis Royal, Bear River and Digby. The Digby representatives were L. E. Shatford, Roy Sypher, R. R. Baxter, H. M. Turnbull and J. J. Wallis.

Struck by Car

Struck by a hit and run driver Thursday evening, Truman VanTassel is resting as comfortably as can be expected at his home in Mount Pleasant after being treated at the Digby General Hospital.

The accident took place at about 11:45 p.m., directly in front of Boyd Milberry's store. VanTassel, with a companion was proceeding out of town on the left hand side of the road; the car coming from the rear struck VanTassel, knocking him to the pavement. It proceeded along the road some distance and came to a halt. VanTassel's companion ran up to the car but before he could get the numbers or identify the driver it drove off. Dr. E. D. Dickie was called and rushed VanTassel to the hospital where it was found he was suffering from numerous bruises and from shock. After treatment at the hospital he was taken to his home.

Police are now on the lookout for the car, a green sedan thought to be either a Dodge or a Plymouth.

Plans for Frolic Finalized

Everything is now in readiness for the great Victory Frolic and Street Dance at Carter's Service Station Grounds, Saturday afternoon and evening, July 28. The affair is being sponsored by St. Patrick's Church.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found a list of those in charge of the various booths.

The drawing for the Building Lot and all other articles will be held on the grounds at 11 p.m., Saturday. Deputy Mayor Victor Cardoza will draw the winners.

Lyle Burdick, St. Thomas, Ont., Kiwanis Governor, Quebec, Ontario and Maritimes, made his first official visit to Nova Scotia Kiwanis Clubs, Monday, by addressed local Kiwanians at the weekly luncheon at Harbor View Hotel, Smith's Cove, Governor and Mrs. Burdick arrived in Digby on Saturday and were met by Harvey L. Doane, district governor of Kiwanis, and J. J. Wallis, president of the Digby Club.

The party visited many points of interest Sunday, and Monday morning were taken on a tour of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, Deep Brook, the largest naval training centre of its kind in the British Empire. They proceeded to Yarmouth that afternoon, where Governor Burdick addressed the club in the evening.

At Harbor View, the governor, who is making his first trip to the Maritimes, was introduced by Harvey Doane. The speaker reminded his audience that these critical times were good times for testing citizenship, and laid stress on the Kiwanis slogan for 1945 "Win the War and Build for Peace."

Although pointing out the war in Japan is still to be won, the real job of building for peace is now on our hands. The years ahead will be years for greatness in leadership, vision, faith, loyalty and sacrifice, and service clubs can build for peace by building for the community, the province, the nation and in an international way. He concluded his remarks with these words "set the pace for sane thinking and unselfish citizenship that the days ahead may be great days of service."

Lt. Col. Victor Turnbull arrived home on Saturday to spend his leave. On the same day his son, Archer, arrived from the St. Margaret's Bay Sea Training School at Hubbards, and his daughter, Miss Betty, arrived home from the C.G.I.T. Camp at Pinehurst.

Mrs. George E. Springer and daughter, Mary Lou, of Westmount, Que., are spending a few days with her sister, Kaye Gillis, Scotia Hotel. They spent the week end in Kentville, guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Williams.

Lieut. and Mrs. Vernon Hewitt and two children are visiting his mother, Mrs. Mae Hewitt.

Decision Reserved

Magistrate G. H. Peters reserved decision in court Tuesday morning in the case of John Melançon Bodden, who was charged with common assault. The charge was laid on information of Mrs. Dominic Melançon, who stated that Bodden had threatened her by shaking his fist at her and by swearing. Bodden pleaded not guilty to the charge.

According to the evidence the charge arose out of a dispute between Mrs. Bodden and Mrs. Tozer, daughter of Mrs. Melançon, over the price charged by Mrs. Bodden for the repair of a coat. From statements given by witnesses at the hearing there was swearing on both sides both from Mrs. Melançon and Bodden. Bodden denied threatening Mrs. Melançon and his statement was corroborated by his wife. Mrs. Tozer corroborated statements given by her mother at the hearing except certain answers made by her to cross examination. These questions concerned the fact of Bodden being inside Mrs. Melançon's house when the dispute took place.

MARRIAGE

McEwen - Campbell

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the United Baptist Church, Monday afternoon, July 23, 1945, when June, daughter of Harold J. and the late Mrs. Campbell became the bride of William Edward, son of Mrs. J. A. and the late Mr. McEwen, of Fort William, Ont.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was dressed in dotted Swiss over taffeta and carried a bouquet of carnations and white roses. Bridesmaid was Marilyn, a younger sister of the bride, who was dressed in pink dotted Swiss and carried a nosegay. Mrs. Claire Sarney was matron of honor and she was dressed in blue dotted Swiss and carried a nosegay. Best man was P/O Wesley Owens, of Winnipeg. Ushers were L.S.A. Fred Cookson and L.S.A. William Radstock. During the signing of the register Mrs. Guy Morehouse played "Because" on the church organ. Rev. Dr. T. W. DeWolf, of Wolfville, who is relieving for the pastor, Rev. J. E. DeLong, performed the ceremony.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride for immediate friends and relatives of the family. Toast to the happy couple was proposed by J. W. # About This and That

After the heaviest fire damage in a decade Nova Scotia's woodlands have come through the first half of 1945 with only negligible destruction from forest fires, says G. W. I. Creighton, chief provincial forester. Continued wet weather through most of April, May and June may have brought frowns to the brows of worried farmers but it proved a blessing in disguise to vigilant fire rangers of the Department of Lands and Forests.

"So far this year we've had only about 50 fires," Mr. Creighton said, "most of them in late March or early April, with one or two small ones reported so far in July. The area burned over in 1945 up to now amounts to only a few hundred acres." Last season, when the weather was as dry as it was wet this year, more than 30,000 acres of forest were burned over during the corresponding period. About 250 fires occurred in the first six months of 1944, 179 of them in May alone. It was the worst year since 1934. "But we're keeping our fingers crossed," the chief forester hastened to add. "A few big fires in August could cause us a lot of trouble. May and August are usually our worst months."

Aircraft patrols have been added to the fire detection forces of the department this year. Two Tiger Moth planes make patrols of the forests every day flying conditions permit. Every telltale column of smoke is investigated by the aerial fire rangers. The patrol, which began last month, will continue until the end of September, or later if circumstances warrant, Mr. Creighton said. As soon as more aircraft become available it is hoped to provide the patrol with cabin-type planes equipped with floats which will permit landing on lakes and give easier and quicker access to fires than is possible with land-based aircraft. Stanley airport was the base of operations when the patrol was inaugurated but headquarters have now been shifted to New Glasgow.

A chicken in the pot is worth two in your neighbor's back yard.

Tokyo speculates nervously about invasion. Admiral Nimitz speaks of continued air activity "preparatory to further amphibious assaults." But the evidence does not place D-Day in the near offing for Japan. There simply has not been enough time to move the requisite land forces from Europe, and the Japanese high command knows this too.

But the current giant air assault can have other and exceedingly large meanings. It certainly aims a mighty blow at Japan's air power and its war-making potential in general. It possibly could be followed by a landing on the China Coast—a landing with a limited objective, not to destroy Japan's mainland armies, but to seize a port through which supplies could be funneled to China.

And still possibly, this epochal strike may belong in the realm of grand strategy—beyond the frontiers of military considerations alone. There have been roundabout peace feelers from Japan. Acting Secretary of State Grew has just forcefully reiterated American's unconditional surrender stand. Then, too, there is the Potsdam Conference at which the Russian chief of state is meeting with the two greatest allies against Japan.

If there exists a surrender movement in Japan with any hope of success, now is the time of times to strengthen its hand by staging a full-scale demonstration of what continued resistance would mean. Perhaps the American Navy and Air Force are doing exactly this.—(Christian Science Monitor)

pi iNes

The most unpopular newcomers in Everytown are those who put themselves out to tell us just how things are done in Hometown. When Everytown folk plan a celebration, a concert, or some civic development, there are always those Hometown people who get to their feet to explain how the Hometown people handled a similar situation.

No doubt Everytown people who have moved to Hometown act in the same manner, and no doubt such an exchange of ideas are helpful in both communities, but the feature that makes these newcomers so unpopular is that attitude that seems to express "the way we did it is the only way and if you cannot accept our methods you are a bunch of ignorant Hicks."

Perhaps our remarks are uncalled for. Perhaps they are exaggerated, nevertheless, we believe them fundamentally true. However, our object is not to discourage the interchanging of ideas, but rather to promote them. We acknowledge Hometown ideas are often an improvement on our own, and more often than not both plans are improved by combining the two.

But our point is this—Hometown and Everytown folk might avoid antagonizing each other by refraining as much as possible references to "the way we do it in Hometown, or Everytown, and especially from hinting the Hometown, or Everytown, method is the only method through which anything will be accomplished."

It is to be admitted none of us when we go to another community can, or want to, erase from our memories the customs and ways of the place we have always called "home." There will always be something inside of us that will make us love even its worst features.

Nevertheless, there are times when we must forget Hometown or Everytown. When there are suggestions to be made, perhaps the better way would be to present them as original ideas, not as ideas coming from Hometown—or Everytown.

The same applies not only to those who move from one community to another, but to those who migrate from one province to another or from one country to another. For instance some of the most exasperating people are those who refer to us as living in the sticks and insist on extolling the virtues and marvels of the wonder province of Ontario. (Unfortunately many of us who "live in the sticks" have formed our pictures of Ontario from what we have seen of the desolate wilderness viewed through the windows of C.P.R. and C.N.R. trains en route to the Canadian West.)

Again, there are those who try to impress upon us our inferiority (?) by constant references to the aggressive way things are done in the States. Sometimes we are impressed—and sometimes we thank God this is Canada.

On the whole, though, we find the majority of those from Ontario and the "States" who come to live among us either accept our way of doing things or become more tactful in their methods of putting their ideas across for us to adopt. In a comparatively short time they become one of us and we, one of them.

Perhaps the most unpopular are those who are constantly and forever telling us of the way things are done "in the old country." They seem to have come from across the seas with an idea they are some sort of missionary ordained to convert us in accepting their way of living—to impress upon us our methods when they differ in many ways from the old country system and standards are altogether wrong.

We are thankful this type are few and far between although there seems at least one in every community where they have been settled. On the whole we cannot desire a better type of citizen than the old country settlers, and with few exceptions, we would scarcely give a thought to their country background were it not for the accent and thoroughly enjoyable reminiscences. It is unfortunate those few with the missionary complex have succeeded in creating so many of the existing unfavorable impressions of "old country people."

With the war in its final stages we can expect an influx of settlers from the old country in the near future. We look forward to their coming and will welcome them, but for their own good something should be done to impress them of the fact they are not moving to another part of the British Isles—or to the "colonies"—but rather they will be going to Canada, a country that has developed its own way of living, working and recreation—a way of life evolved through climatic and geographic conditions and thru the gradual absorption of the ways and customs of the pioneers with the ways and customs of the many thousands who have come from other lands to live among us. Canada is neither a part of England or a part of France although English and French are our common languages. We do not consider ourselves a colony, but rather as a cosmopolitan nation that is Canada, with customs and ways not altogether our own, but truly a mixture of the customs and ways of almost every one of the world's nationalities.

We are not implying our ways are the best. We know and feel they can be improved upon and as a nation we are at all times seeking legislation that will raise our standard of living. However, in Canada, like all the world over, changes for the better are gradual and do not come over night. In Canada, like elsewhere, those who endeavor to reform us over night by advising us we are wrong because we do not do things in the manner in which they have been accustomed, will not find life here to their liking.

Home building is highly essential to overcome pressing housing shortages, and to provide dwellings for the Forces as discharged.

Shortages of workers for building homes and for producing the building materials are threatening to impede Canada's program for the construction of 50,000 homes as soon as possible.

All men experienced in home building or in producing building materials, who are not now working in either of these industries, are urged to apply to the nearest office of the National Employment Service immediately.

Men experienced at home building or producing supplies, if now in other essential work, will be given permits to work at jobs which will assist the house building program.

All men, not now at house building nor producing supplies, who can fill a job in this program, are urged to answer this call.

Ferry Woman Writes of Nazi Atrocities in Norway

(Saint John Telegraph-Journal)

Editor's Note:—Mrs. George Nodding, Black's Harbor, writes: "The benefit of any who might doubt the truth of the German atrocities which have already been published, I am sending herewith a letter I recently received from my sister in Norway."

"I am still living after five years of Hell. I have been a prisoner for seven months. Shut in from the outside world. Erling had to run away for two years. The Germans were after him everywhere. They took his brother and shot him in his cell and he died a few days later. They 'hounded' me day and night for Erling. At last they discovered I had connections with him and other English agents. They caught one and tortured him so badly he had to tell all.

"They came after me in the middle of the night and took me and three of my sisters-in-law. There were fifteen of them, all armed with machine guns.

"I was under pressure the first time about seven hours. They pounded me in the face with their fists, then said they had another method to make me talk. So they took a wet towel and bound me around the mouth and I had to lay over a chair. One held me while the other whipped me with a whip made of silk wire with rawhide twined around. They pounded me until I was unconscious. My body had marks for a long time. They put me in a cell with a woman who was so terribly tortured. The way we were used I cannot explain as it takes too much time. Then I was sent to Oslo and put in the worst prison in the country. I was supposed to be sent to Germany but the boat was sunk, so we were lucky to be sitting there until the English came and saved us from death.

"Erling they caught in March. They wouldn't have got him, but he had injured his hand and had to be in the hospital. The thumb of his right hand was cut off and other fingers injured. So they traced him to his hiding place. He was supposed to be shot. His other brother taken a little while before, they pounded to death and threw his body in the sea. They planned to get the whole family.

"Now all those devils sit in prison. August Johnsen sits there too. He came and took all of Erling's belongings and was with the Gestapo when they took me. Erling feels so bad about his brothers. There were many good men tortured to death on account of those Norse Nazis. I never thought I would come from it with my life. There is a concentration camp here (in Stavanger). There were 6,000 prisoners. Now they are digging up corpses of many women and men the Germans shot. It has been so terrible I cannot write you about it. I will try and write you more when I am stronger. I have been lying in bed almost all the time since I came home. My body was covered with black spots, on account of not enough vitamins, my nerves ruined. I couldn't eat or sleep while in prison, we were locked in all of those months, never outside of the cell.

"It was a big day when the prison doors went up and we all stood outside. I will never forget it. Men cried and hugged each other like kids.

"Many nights I laid awake and heard when they came in after prisoners to shoot. I can still hear their footsteps as they ran from their cell to be shot—shot for nothing.

"I thought I was going to be crazy many times. There was a young fellow here from Stavanger that escaped prison by jumping over a high fence. I helped save his life. They were after him everywhere and if they had caught me, I would be a dead woman today.

"We have had it small with food here, black sour bread, no butter, no sugar, not enough potatoes. We haven't had meat for a year and a half. No clothes to buy. Everything was taken from the people. If they bought a little on the sly it was taken from them.

"All I can say is that you don't have to be ashamed of me. I am honored by all Norwegians that know me. When I came from prison there was a large crowd to welcome me back and thank me for what I had done. The rooms here have been full of flowers and callers. I have been sick after all the torture I had. They came with all kinds of good food to me and money for Erling, Beverly and myself."

(Mrs. Nodding's sister is the former Miss Lena Theriault, of East Ferry.—Ed. Courier.)

Off Ration List

Many farm machines formerly on the ration list are now off the list and may be purchased without a government permit. War-time Prices and Trade Board Order No. 526, which came into force June 30, 1945, lists 25 types of machines which are still rationed. The list appears below. Any equipment previously rationed, and not listed in Order No. 526, can now be considered released and exempt from rationing.

The listed articles, however, are still rationed which means an essentiality application must be completed and a permit must be obtained before delivery of any of these machines can be made to the consumer.

The rationed list includes: corn picker, tractor plow, tractor mounted plow, one-way disc, tiller or harrow plow, spring and stiff tooth field cultivator, single wide disc harrow 12 ft. or over, tandem tractor disc harrow, tractor mounted or semi-mounted mower, side delivery rake, hay loader, pick-up hay baler, grain binder (horse and tractor drawn), corn binder, potato digger; combine or reaper thresher, windower or swather, thresher, ensilage harvester, standard and/or row crop tractor; garden tractor, rubber tired gear or trailer, power potato sprayer or duster, fruit or orchard power sprayers, pressure water system and power pump.

All machines, except the above, are off the ration list.

Five of the wooden minesweepers being supplied to Russia by Canada have already been launched, while the other five are on the ways.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the Baptist parsonage, Deep Brook, on Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, when Rev. T. F. McWilliam united in marriage Myrtle Elizabeth Sabeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Sabeau, of South Range, Digby County, and P.O. Louis Edward Wilson, R.C.N.V.R., Shipwright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert M. Wilson, of Conway, Digby County.

The bride, who has been employed as an operator in a beauty parlor in Saint John, was attractively dressed in a street length Queen's blue dress with hat to match and white accessories.

The groom is now stationed in Shelburne. Those attending the wedding were Mrs. Hubert M. Wilson, mother of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Sabeau, parents of the bride, and Miss Susie L. Cook, of Massachusetts, aunt of the bride.

Mrs. Bessie Haines, of Freeport, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Ruggles.

Canada's Mountain Playgrounds

Mountain dwellers may sometimes boast that the pictures on the walls of their homes are superfluous because they have a magnificent alpine view framed within every window. Visitors to Canada's mountain parks must surely have the same feeling when they look out of their windows. The pictures on the walls of their rooms must seem mediocre by comparison with those masterpieces of nature for which the parks have become justly famous.

Jasper National Park, with its 4,200 square miles of alpine beauty is a vast sea of snow-capped peaks. Its glistening glaciers, deep canyons, turbulent rivers, cascading waterfalls, exquisite lakes and peaceful flower-bedecked valleys make it one of the greatest mountain playgrounds in the world. Within its wide boundaries roam some of Canada's finest big-game animals. Through it winds the Athabasca Trail where once passed a cavalcade of explorers, fur-traders and adventurers in the early days of travel to the Pacific Coast.

Banff National Park is distinguished not alone for its superb scenic attractions but because it was the first Canadian territory set aside as a national park. From an area of 10 square miles, reserved 60 years ago around the hot mineral springs, the park has been extended until it now contains 2,585 square miles stretching from the rolling foothills on the east to the continental divide on the west. It contains widely-known alpine resorts, Banff and Lake Louise, besides the Upper Hot Springs, the Cave and Basin Hot Springs, and many other features of interest. It is now connected with Jasper Park to the north by one of the greatest scenic highways on the North American Continent. Few places in the world enjoy a wider international reputation for scenic charm than Banff National Park.

Waterton Lakes National Park to the south east and Kootenay, Yoho, Glacier and Mount Revelstoke National Parks to the south and east of Banff complete Canada's mountain playgrounds with a combined area of nearly 2,000 square miles. Each has an individuality and appeal distinctly its own, and all are natural wildlife sanctuaries. They are connected with Banff and Jasper by good motor roads—except Glacier National Park, which is accessible by railway only. All of these mountain playgrounds have been provided, in varying degrees, with accommodation and recreational facilities for the travelling public, and plans for further development in that direction are merely awaiting a return to normal peacetime conditions before being put into effect.

Canada's mountain playgrounds may be expected to provide rest and recreation for an ever-increasing volume of tourists in the years that lie immediately ahead. Much of the territory covered by these vast mountain parks still remains largely unexplored. Their extent is so immense that they could serve as playgrounds for millions, and their beauty so varied that it is forever fresh and breath-taking.

It is most desirable that all Canadians should be aware of this great national heritage—their mountain kingdom. It belongs to all of them, and as national parks, will be preserved, inviolate, for their descendants.

Late Summer Fertilizing of Pastures Recommended

A most satisfactory feature of the current year has been the very high returns which at least several hundred farmers in Nova Scotia have obtained from fertilized pastures. The moisture conditions have been especially favorable for this purpose. Because of this, a number of farmers who have not heretofore fertilized their pastures, are considering commencing the operation. It will be helpful to many of these if instead of waiting until next Spring they commence their treatment toward the end of August. They can gain practically a full year by doing this.

Two methods have been successfully adopted in respect to applications of fertilizer at this time on several farms in Nova Scotia. On one such farm, the operator applied during the last week of August 125 pounds of sulphate of ammonia per acre. This stimulated growth remarkably so that when in the following Spring an application of 400 pounds per acre of acid phosphate and 100 lbs. of sulphate of ammonia was made excellent results were obtained that year. It might be safer to have supplemented the above application with about 100 pounds per acre of muriate of potash but in the particular case referred to this was done on a part of the pasture area and did not yield any extra returns. On another farm 400 pounds of superphosphate, 100 pounds of sulphate of ammonia, and 100 lbs. of potash were applied in August and on part of the pasture 500 pounds per acre of 2-12-6. No further treatment was given the following Spring but the results were very satisfactory. 3-15-6, a mixture placed on the market for the first time this year, is an excellent pasture fertilizer likely to yield better results on most lands than 2-12-6.

DDT, the new super-lethal insect killer, is now being produced in Canada.

Magnesium, extensively used in the aircraft industry, is produced from dolomite by a process developed by Dr. Lloyd Pidgeon of the National Research Council of Canada.

EACH YEAR before the war, more than 150,000 people thronged the Indianapolis Speedway to witness the supreme test of tire mileage and safety, the annual 500-mile race.

Recently, under the supervision of the American Automobile Association, Wilbur Shaw drove the 500 mile course at an average speed of 100.34 miles per hour in a race car equipped with STOCK Firestone synthetic rubber tires, the same as you can buy at any Firestone Dealer's.

Imagine the punishment those tires took as they pounded over the rough brick and grinding asphalt . . . 500 miles at speeds up to 135 miles per hour . . . equal to 50,000 miles of ordinary travelling.

When you buy new tires, remember—Firestones are the only synthetic rubber tires made that are safety-proved on the speedway for your protection on the highway.

WARNING: The tire situation is still critical. You should continue to observe the wartime speed limit and all other fundamental precautions for conserving the tires that are now on your car.

Digby Postmaster New Association President

James W. Merkel, postmaster at Digby, was elected president of the Maritime Branch of the Canadian Postmasters' Association, which concluded its annual convention Tuesday of last week. The convention was held at the Admiral Beatty Hotel, Saint John.

Mr. Merkel, former secretary of the Association, succeeds W. J. Gaynor, of McAdam, N.B.; P. J. McInnis, Port Borden, P.E.I., was elected vice president. Members of the executive include E. A. Shaw, Pocologan, N.B.; George J. Lovelock, Plaster Rock, N. B.; F. E. Bassett, Centreville, N. B., and J. G. McCorry, Liverpool, N. S.

The two-day conference ended after unfinished business was disposed of. The presentation of resolutions was on the morning agenda and following approval of the resolutions, they will be sent to the Dominion executive of the Postmasters' Association at Ottawa.

E. A. Hartling, Halifax superintendent of mail service in that city, addressed the conference members and spoke on some of the difficulties that faced postal authorities there in forwarding mail to Canadian servicemen overseas. Sixty carloads of mail were waiting at one time during the war, for shipping space to Europe, Mr. Hartling said, indicating the tremendous amount of mail that had to be taken care of by the post office.

Mr. Hartling also spoke of "the apparent carelessness" on the part of many who sent inflammable items such as matches and lighter fluids by mail which caused destruction of quantities of letters and parcels which otherwise would have reached their destination.

View Election Results

Consensus of opinion of the people of Digby on the results of the recent British election seemed to be one of sad disappointment. Everyone seemed to feel that the people of Britain had let Churchill down. "It is downright ingratitude," said one, "that this great man who led his country from the valley of the shadow of utter defeat to the heights of glorious victory should be tossed aside in the hour of triumph."

One man stated that "Punch's" famous cartoon, "Dropping the Pilot," should be reprinted. This cartoon, printed when Kaiser Wilhelm overrode the advice of Bismarck, bringing about the humiliating defeat of Germany was a very famous one, showed the great leader, being borne from the Ship of State in a little pilot boat while the Kaiser took over the helm of the great ship.

Few people, if any, seemed greatly concerned over the issues of the election or the policies of the various parties; all seemed to feel that Churchill and his party should be returned to "finish the job." The feeling that the people of Britain had let down their great leader persisted even though radio commentators tried to prove that this was not so. Expressions of sympathy for Churchill were heard on every side. Some blamed the results on the "war weariness" of the British people while others felt that Churchill and his party had not put up a great enough fight, being too concerned with the winning of the war. Little interest was shown in the make-up or character of the new government; everyone seemed too shocked over the defeat suffered by Churchill's party to be concerned with the fate of the victor.

Magistrate Dismisses Case

Magistrate Peters dismissed a charge of common assault laid against John Meldon Boddin in Police Court, Friday morning. In dismissing the charge Magistrate Peters said he could find no intent to assault.

OBITUARY

Stanley Spray

Word was received here Thursday morning that B.Q.M.S. Stanley Spray, died as the result of a vehicle accident, July 23. He was serving in Holland. Further details will arrive later.

Stanley Spray was a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Spray, of Nottingham, England, and came out to Windsor, N. S., as a boy of 14, and was placed on an establishment near there for training English boys for farm work. Later he was employed on a farm at Harmony, near Caledonia, Queens County, and afterward went to work on the Caledonia "Gold Hunter," and remained with that newspaper for two years.

He came to Digby in the summer of 1932 to work with the "Wallis Print" publishers of the Digby Courier, continuing with that firm until he enlisted in 1940. According to recent letters he hoped to return to Digby about Christmas this year.

During his residence here he took part in many local activities and was one of the original members of the Digby Civic Band, a member of the Board of Trade, of the Digby Fire Department, and was Superintendent of Trinity (Anglican) Sunday School.

He was an ardent woodsman and spent much time hunting and fishing.

In 1934 he married Alda Turnbull daughter of Mrs. Sadie Turnbull and the late Ernest Turnbull, of Digby, who, with two children, Jean and Joan, survive.

Also surviving are his parents and sisters in England. A younger brother was killed while serving with the R.A.F., early in the war. His mother visited him in Digby the summer of 1939.

Skipper Dies At Sea

Word was received here last Thursday evening of the sudden passing of Capt. Irving Corkum, 48, of Middle LaHave. Captain Corkum died suddenly at sea while fishing on the Grand Banks on the schooner Isabel Corkum.

The message was heard from the banks and the vessel proceeded to North Sydney from whence the body was sent home by rail. Previous to this year, he commanded the schooner Gloria May for many years, but because of ill health, sold his schooner.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Leander Corkum of Middle LaHave. His father predeceased him a few months.

He is survived by his widow, four daughters, Jean (Mrs. Paul Demone) and Vera, both teachers in Lunenburg county; Gloria and Sylvia and two sons, Gerald and Dana. He is also survived by four sisters, Mary (Mrs. Hirtle) of Halifax; June (Mrs. Ray Shankle) of the United States; Edith (Mrs. J. Mac Wallis) of Digby; and Miss Janet, of Middle LaHave; and three brothers, Eric of Lunenburg; Aubrey, of Middle LaHave; and Mark, of Saint John. A brother, Eleazer, died several years ago in New Haven.

He was a member of the Council of St. Mark's Lutheran Church. Interment was at Middle LaHave.

S. W. Crook, Halifax, was a visitor in town on Monday.

Band Gives Fine Performance

Thursday night's Victory Concert given by the Digby Civic Band, was one of the finest concerts ever performed by that organization. The program, made up of Old Time and Patriotic Airs was interspersed with some of the best marches ever written and was played as a tribute by seven players from H.M.C.S. Cornwallis.

One of the finest numbers rendered on the program was an "In Memoriam" played as a tribute to the memory of those boys who will never return. This number was composed of Mendelssohn's "Funeral March" and "Consolation," followed by the beautiful hymn "Nearer My God to Thee". The rendition of this number was particularly fitting as word had been received on the day of the concert of the death overseas of Stanley Spray, one of the Band's oldest and most faithful members. The announcer, in his remarks, paid special tribute to Mr. Spray and to his brother-in-law and fellow bandsman, Ross Turnbull, who was also killed overseas. The impressive silence that met the playing of the number was a most touching feature and every member of the audience seemed deeply affected. The Band deserves great praise for their splendid rendition of what is a very difficult number, one that requires great skill and precision to render effectively.

Paul Yates, leader of the Band, is deserving of high commendation for his efforts in arranging the concert performed Thursday evening. Through his efforts he has kept the band together during the war years and the quality of the music rendered and the fine manner in which each piece was executed speak well for his splendid work. Mr. Yates, who will be 82 years young in November is the only bandmaster conducting a band at that age. According to the records of the Canadian Bandmasters' Association there are no active bandmasters even at the youthful age of eighty.

His work as a musician and bandmaster has received recognition both in Canada and the United States. He is the first Life Member of the Canadian Bandmasters' Association and has received commendation for his efforts as a bandmaster in recent years.

Tenants May Now Stay Put

Special to the Courier

Well behaved tenants can stay put. Under a recent Wartime Prices and Trade Board order no well behaved tenant of any self contained dwelling can be given notice to vacate in order to make way for the landlord or any member of the landlord's family. Further any eviction notices handed out by landlords seeking to recover dwellings for their own use are now invalid. The order does not affect a previous Board statement that special three months' notice to vacate may be given by or on behalf of discharged members of the armed forces to enable them to reoccupy dwellings in which they were living when they enlisted.

The Misses Jean Spray and Lois Turnbull, who have been spending the past month with their aunt, Mrs. James Wambach, at East LaHave, returned home on Monday.

The Committee of St. Pat's Victory Frolic

says:

Thank You

To all those who in any way helped to make the Victory Frolic such an outstanding success. Gratitude is especially owing to B. M. Carter, of Carter's Service Station, and Forrest Eisener, of Digby Motors, for the use of their premises.

A Bigger Frolic Next Year

issues of the Canadian Bandsman. He organized the present Digby Civic Band in 1932 and has since then trained more than a hundred players who have spent time in the Band. The fine quality of his teaching is shown in the fact that many of the players that he has trained have gone to some of the finest military bands in the country as well trained and accomplished musicians. The preparation, rehearsal and direction of Thursday night's concert might well be called a high point in Mr. Yates' career. To realize that he could, at the age of 82, spend so many weary hours and so much energy in preparing and so much vigor in conducting the Band for this concert certainly speaks well for his love for the band and his great desire that the Digby Band should render a program of exceptionally high quality and render it in a perfect manner. To many people a bandmaster or conductor is only an animated metronome whose only purpose is to beat time so that the players can more easily keep together, but a really capable conductor such as Mr. Yates really plays every instrument in the Band during the performance of a concert as an organist plays all of the pipes that sound in the mighty organ. Capable players respond happily to his touch as to the fingers of the master at the keyboard. To see Mr. Yates as he carries the band through a difficult number is to realize that here is a true artist who really lives and feels every note whose whole heart and soul is in every lift of the baton.

Other numbers played at Thursday night's concert were the March "Old Comrades" dedicated to the Fifty United Nations; a really fine march, "Imperial Echoes" played as a tribute to Australia and a very fine number dedicated to the Dominion of Canada, a combination of O Canada and God Save the King, in which really brilliant variations, occurred which were mostly played by the bass instruments. The Band's tribute to England, a medley of airs, "The Roast Beef of Old England," "British Grenadiers," "Rule Britannia" and "Colonel Bogey" was conducted by Assistant Bandmaster P. O. Edward Bunn, of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis.

Roy Lawrence, of Annapolis Royal, was the guest speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club. His subject was "The Layman and the Law." His talk was a very interesting one and he quoted several humorous incidents in court and legal life in the province.

William Worthylake, of West Somerville, Mass., who has been spending his vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Hall, has returned home.

Miss Delores Westcott entertained fifteen of her little friends on July 30, the occasion being her 13th birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wallis left on Saturday for Middle LaHave to attend the funeral of Mrs. Wallis' brother, Capt. Irving Corkum, who died at sea last week.

MARRIAGES

Woodard - Robinson

Kathryn Doris, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon A. Robinson, of Oak Ridge, Tennessee and Newtonville, Mass., was married on July 14, to Richard Grover Woodard, only son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Woodard, of Colorado Springs, Colorado.

The ceremony was performed in the Chapel on The Hill, Oak Ridge, at 8:30 in the morning. To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. The Rev. Stephen Davenport, Episcopal minister in Oak Ridge, officiated.

The bride wore a grey pin-stripe suit with grey and navy accessories, and carried a white prayer book, with a single orchid. She was attended by Miss Ruby Curtis, of Nashville, Tenn., who wore yellow with white accessories, and a gardenia corsage. The best man was James Howe, of Oak Ridge.

The bride's mother wore rose with white accessories, and a corsage of white carnations. The church was beautifully decorated with pastel shaded gladioli and asters.

The double ring ceremony was used.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party left for Knoxville, where Mr. and Mrs. Woodard took a plane for Fort Worth, Texas. From there they planned to visit in a number of the Middle Western states and to visit Mr. Woodard's parents, in Colorado, returning to Oak Ridge in about three weeks. They will reside in Oak Ridge, where Mr. Woodard is a Chemical Engineer, employed by the Tennessee Eastman Corporation, in Government work.

The bride is well known in Digby where she lived for a number of years with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Wallis, and attended the Digby Academy. She is also a granddaughter of Capt. and Mrs. F. A. Robinson, of this place.

Cook - Hersey

A quiet wedding took place on Friday afternoon, July 27, at the Deep Brook Baptist Church, when Rev. T. F. McWilliam united in marriage Alice Louise Hersey, of Culloden, daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hersey, to Arnold Henry Cook, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook, Digby.

The bride wore a dress of dove blue with accessories to match, and carried a bouquet of deep red roses. She was attended by her sister, Anne Hersey, as bridesmaid. She was dressed in a light blue dress with accessories to match, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The bride's brother, Robert Hersey, was best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where the young people were the recipients of many useful and beautiful gifts, including a cheque from the groom's parents. Later in the evening a dance was held for them at the Bay of Fundy Hotel, Culloden.

Wood - Amoro

A very pretty wedding took place at the Chapel of Our Mother of Perpetual Help, Deep Brook, at 9 o'clock, July 28th, when Louise Margaret, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Amoro, of Acaciaville, became the bride of Francis James, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wood, of Leonard, Ontario.

The bride was dressed in a gown of white sheer and fingertip veil and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Her bridesmaid was her sister Atholean Amoro, who was dressed in a gown of blue taffeta and shoulder length blue net held in place by a coronet of flowers. Best man was Gerald Wood, brother of the groom.

After the ceremony breakfast was served at the bride's home to the immediate families, and a reception in the afternoon and evening for out-of-town relatives.

The groom's gift to the bride was a wrist watch set with diamonds. The bride's gift to the groom, a dresser set, in leather.

Make Start On Fund

Over $100 was raised by the Teeners' Club during their Tag Day on Saturday. Proceeds from the Tag Day will be deposited in a fund to secure a Club House for the group. Organized some time ago, the Teeners' Club has grown by leaps and bounds. It now has over thirty members enrolled. It is based on the same idea as similar clubs in upper Canada and the United States in which groups of young people are banded together for mutual enjoyment and good fellowship. In most of the centres where these Clubs exist there is a club house where the young people meet for dances and parties and where they hold their regular business meetings. It is the objective of the Teeners' Club in Digby to secure for themselves such a club house and their tag day on Saturday was the first step in this laudable objective. Other means of raising funds are being planned and a dance is scheduled for August 6th, at the Racquette Casino which should swell the treasury.

An organization such as the Teeners' Club is a credit to the community. It provides an opportunity for the young people to meet to enjoy good fellowship together and keeps them off the street. Through the influence of such a club many of the pitfalls of adolescence and the teen age are avoided. The young people are not "kept" but keep themselves through their own efforts out of "dives" and learn to enjoy one another's company as a group in a healthy, clean and normal way.

Discontent usually comes from getting everything one wants without much of a struggle.

with over 4,000 other prisoners. Mr. Sweeney and his family suffered great hardships. He states that they were not tortured by the Japs and were left very much on their own by them. The prisoners organized the camp into working units, a sanitation system was set up and the business of operating the camp organized. Lack of sufficient food was the greatest hardship felt by the prisoners and many of them fell victim to diseases brought on by this cause. Every effort was made by the prisoners to secure food from outside the camp. Purchases were made from Chinese trustees at exorbitant prices. Mrs. Sweeney purchased one half

A New Old-Fashioned Revival

(By Lewis Milligan)

There is a real religious revival movement on foot in Canada. "On foot" is not the right word, for it is streamlined and seems to be moving rapidly under its own power. For some years the regular churches have looked askance at any attempt to revive the old-fashioned revivals; they were regarded as out of date and could have no appeal in this modern intellectual and mechanical age. But this is a new kind of revival, or, rather, it is the old-fashioned revival modernized.

The movement had its origin in the United States about a year ago. Rallies have been held in Chicago with 25,000 in attendance, and a recent rally brought more than 50,000 persons to the stadium at Soldier Field. Nearly 500 similar rallies are said to have been held throughout the continent with a total attendance of 500,000.

Writing of this movement in The Christian Century, Harold E. Fey says: "Youth for Christ is an idea: to convert young people to Christ." This streamlined revivalism puts into effective use the selling technique of radio. Its leaders are men under forty whose educational equipment was acquired in high schools and in fundamentalist institutes and Bible colleges of the Moody type. Their methods have been learned from business and particularly from commercial radio.

That may sound like cheapening religion, or lowering the Gospel to a commercial basis, but it is in a line of least resistance and popular appeal. Wesley, Moody and General Booth used the same tactics in their own times, and they did it very effectively. They, too, were young men who went outside of their churches, which had become stodgy, staid and ecclesiastical and they used methods that were regarded as vulgar and sensational. Wesley was charged with adapting Italian operatic tunes to his gospel hymns, and he replied that he did not see why the devil should have all the good music. Moody and Sankey's gospel songs were mostly set to "swing" music, and Booth's songs were timed to the tambourine and the military drum-marching to glory.

Out of mere curiosity I went the other Sunday evening to one of these new revival services in Toronto. Although it was a warm summer evening I found the newly-decorated auditorium, including the gallery, filled with young people, all well dressed and many of the young women in the latest fashions. There was a sprinkling of old people. In the pew in front of me there were four weather-beaten men well up in their seventies. The preacher was a young man in his thirties, tall, handsome, smiling, and with a flashing eye that scanned with a glance of recognition every face in the congregation. Dressed in a white summer suit, he advanced to the pulpit desk in the centre of the rostrum with a cheerful word of greeting. He called upon the congregation to rise and sing "The joy bells," and they at once arose and sang it joyfully, led by a large choir, the women of which were dressed in white surplices.

The preacher was assisted by his wife, a very dark young woman, who sang, with deliberate enunciation, "I heard the voice of Jesus say," and other solos during the service. The sermon was a simple exposition of two texts, "Unless ye become as a little child," and "When I became a man, I put away childish things." These apparently contradictory texts were explained in a free, conversational manner, with apt and sometimes humorous illustrations from everyday life, chiefly domestic. The preacher gained direct contact by familiarity and the common touch.

But the secret of this new revival, as of all the old revivals, is congregational singing, and strangely enough, most of the songs are old-fashioned. Some of the latest styles in women's headgear were the fashion in days of their grandmothers.

One could easily criticize certain methods of this new movement. We might call it commercialized religious sentiment. Yet, as Mr. Fey says, the movement indicates that something like a spiritual famine exists among large sections of our population, especially the young people, who are "more hungry for faith than are their elders." And he adds: "The churches are not feeding these starving people, and they cannot be indifferent to the challenge the gospel offers them."

MARRIAGE

Outhouse - Mattatall

A pretty summer wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mattatall, at Westchester Station, on Wednesday afternoon, July 4, when their daughter, Miss Willa Mattatall, R.N., became the bride of Burton E. Outhouse, son of Mrs. Outhouse and the late Simondson Outhouse, of Tiverton. To the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by Miss Harriett Mattatall, Halifax, the bride entered the living room on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage, the ceremony being performed by the groom's uncle, Rev. William Outhouse, Chaplain at Debert Military Camp, in the presence of relatives and friends.

The bride wore a street-length dress of turquoise blue with white hat and white accessories and corsage of Talisman roses and was attended by her sister, Miss Christina Mattatall. The groom, who is assistant canteen manager at Y.M.C.A., Debert, was supported by Pte. Edward Connors, who is stationed at Debert.

After the ceremony a reception was held for a large number of relatives and friends. The bride, who is a graduate of V.G. Hospital, Halifax, was honored at a miscellaneous shower a few days before her marriage and was the recipient of additional gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Outhouse left shortly after the reception for Halifax en route to Digby where they will spend their honeymoon.

Sharp replies cut friendship.

Hundreds of people jammed the grounds of Carter's Service Station Saturday afternoon and evening for the St. Patrick's Victory Frolic. The affair was a great success and over $1500.00 was raised for church purposes. The Street Dance held in conjunction with the Frolic was also a great success, the crowd on the portion of the street roped off for dancing being at times so great that dancing was almost an impossibility. Several acts of free entertainment were provided on the grounds with cowboys, clowns and other entertainers. Crowds milled about the Pantry Booth, Fancy Work, Bingo Booth and around all of the games booths and the barkers did not need to exert themselves unduly to get the people to partake of their wares.

Crowning event of the day was the drawing for the lucky winners of the Building Lot and other articles given away at the Fair. The winner of the Building Lot was Guilford Handspiker, of Digby.

What Young People Are Asking For

From surveys made by the sub-committee on "Recreation" of the Canadian Youth Commission, most young Canadians spend an average day's leisure in four major ways— (1) reading, (2) listening to the radio, (3) talking,

(4) and what is frankly acknowledged to be just "loafing."

In making this Canada-wide survey 3,500 copies of a detailed questionnaire were sent to 100 individuals belonging to various public and private agencies, who work with young English-speaking Canadians in civil life who are between the ages of 15-24. From 2,000 returns fully completed, one thousand were selected, as corresponding to the requirements of a national sample, based upon distribution by provinces, by occupation, by place of residence, and by sex.

Contrary to expectations, movie-going does not appear to be practised excessively by our young people.

Young people talk about sports more than they participate in them.

About one half of our young people have at least one opportunity every day to meet and mix informally with the opposite sex. The rest have opportunities at less frequent intervals; but two or three out of every 20 are quite discouraged about this aspect of their leisure. The proportion of "lonely hearts" is just as high in the large cities as on farms. They say they never have dates. It is lowest in the medium sized cities.

Most strongly voiced by our young people (40 per cent) is a desire for improved community facilities for recreation — what they want most is a place they can meet each other informally, play games, or just talk.

The object of this page is to sponsor worthy objectives of various organizations and national efforts and give other valuable information.

Nova Scotia Needs Thirty Air Fields

Nova Scotia needs about 30 air fields to provide for her own transportation requirements and those of the thousands of tourists expected to come to his province after war with Japan is over, says Sqdn. Ldr. Orville B. Pulsifer, veteran Royal Canadian Air Force flier, now operating the Department of Lands and Forests' new aerial fire patrol.

The patrol, inaugurated on June 1 this year, is being flown under contract by Pulsifer and Flt. Lt. Edgill Dauphinee, both air force pilots and veteran Halifax fliers of long standing.

"Thirty fields would give us fairly good coverage," Mr. Pulsifer said. "At present we have only nine and several of them are poorly located for private civilian flying."

He forecast that Nova Scotia in a few years would be welcoming aerial tour parties from other parts of Canada and the United States. More airports should be available to handle them to say nothing of local needs, he felt.

Many Nova Scotia towns are showing increased interest in the matter of flying, Mr. Pulsifer said. In addition steps are underway to retain the use of a number of war-built airports for commercial use in peacetime.

The forest fire patrol, started this year and said by Chief Forester C.W.I. Creighton to have proved its worth already, operates daily from the New Glasgow airport. Nova Scotia is the first of the Maritime provinces to inaugurate such a patrol.

"All this year we will be learning our business," Mr. Pulsifer said. "We have to learn a good deal by experience on this kind of a job, but by next season we should be pretty well organized. Our work is just as much preventing fires as discovering them after they have started. Prevention is every bit as important."

The two-plane patrol checks every telltale column of smoke, whether it be a sawmill, camping party, or a real brush blaze. Two-way radio communication makes it possible to notify forestry officials in any emergency with little loss of time.

Mr. Pulsifer said he hopes to replace the land-based Tiger Moths in service this year with cabin-type pontoon-equipped aircraft next season. This will permit a closer access to the scene of a fire and give the fliers greater margin of safety.

Both Pulsifer and Dauphinee served most of the war in the R.C.A.F. The former was stationed in many parts of the dominion and his last assignments was as O.C. of a visiting flight to all elementary flying training schools for inspection purposes. Dauphinee ended his war service as a fighter pilot in the western European theatre.

Small Fruits Crop A Failure

For the third consecutive season the local strawberry crop has been a failure, although it is understood there were a few berries this year for those who had the car and the gas to go after them. Except for a few days (and on those days berries that reached local stores were sold out in a matter of minutes) growers did not have sufficient berries to warrant bringing them to town. Actually bananas were more plentiful than strawberries. Unfortunately though, the strawberry crop is not the only small fruit crop that has failed this season. There are no cherries whatever, and other fruits will be in short supply. This spring cherry blossoms gave promise of a fair to good crop, but late frosts and snows destroyed their fertility and few of the blossoms matured into fruit. Trees that in normal years have yielded cherries by the bushel will scarcely bear a quart this season and the majority of trees are absolutely bare of fruit. Although raspberries are not grown on a commercial scale in this area, those who have "back yard patches" claim the yield will be less than 20 per cent of normal, while, except for isolated sections, the crop of wild fruit is practically non-existent. There will be a few blueberries, in fact, we've been told that in some districts the crop is good, while other areas range from poor to fair. On the whole the crop promises to be somewhat below average. Blackberries appear to be the most promising of the wild fruit crops. Our advises are to the effect that in most sections bushes are laden with unripened fruit, and barring early frosts, these berries should be quite plentiful.

Rescues Girl From Drowning

Simone Belliveau's life was saved from drowning in Margo Sunday afternoon when Ben Belliveau, aged 14, rescued her from a watery grave when she fell into twelve feet of water and being unable to swim went down twice.

She was sitting on a flat rock watching other children playing in the lake and somehow slid off the rock into deep water. Edmond Melanson, the father of two of the children of the group in bathing, was on the shore watching them. He noticed little Simone in the water but believed that she was only doing tricks in the lake and did not recognize her for a moment.

When he saw that she was not floating but actually drowning, he called to Ben Belliveau, a good swimmer, who was swimming nearby, to save the girl. He rushed to where she had gone down for the second time and pulled her to safety and averted a tragic accident.

Ben Belliveau belongs to the Boy Scouts and is also in the cadet corps of St. Ann's College. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Belliveau, of Belliveau's Cove, while Simone LeBlanc, aged 11, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. LeBlanc, of Church Point.

Flower Gardens Beautify Town

Flower gardens in Digby this summer were particularly lovely. The early summer rains, coupled with the dry, hot weather that followed later, seemed to be well suited to flower culture. Roses, both of the rambler variety and tea roses seemed to do particularly well and gardens where these existed in abundance were a glory to behold. Many of Digby's citizens seem to take great pride in the appearance of their gardens and spend many long hours in tending and looking after their flowers. The results are surely worth the effort as the many beautiful flower gardens do much to beautify our town. To make special mention of any particular garden would be an injustice to other householders whose gardens are a credit to them. To walk along our streets and to observe the many lovely gardens, the beautiful flowers and shrubs and the well-kept lawns certainly gives one a feeling of well being.

Japan Hit With New Atomic Bomb

The most terrifying engine of destruction—an atomic bomb—carrying an explosive force equivalent to 20,000 tons of TNT, was turned loose on Japan on Sunday when a single "sample" bomb was dropped on the city of Hiroshima. Reports claim that more than four square miles of the city was levelled by the force of the explosion, and it is believed practically every living thing within the area was killed.

As an idea of the power of the bomb, when a munitions ship blew up in Halifax harbor, December 6, 1917, 2½ square miles of the city were devastated, 1,500 persons killed, 4,000 injured and 20,000 homeless. The ship held 3,000 tons of TNT. The new bomb has approximately seven times that explosive force.

Mr. Lerner will sail in the boat from Louisburg on her maiden voyage in search of swordfish and will report to the government any needed changes or improvements in the craft.

Business Changes Hands

The South End Grocery, owned and operated by Kingsley Collins, has been purchased by Gordon Turnbull and Bruce Baxter. It is understood that they plan to continue to operate the store as a grocery outlet. It will be closed for several weeks for remodelling and restocking.

This store is one of Digby's old established grocery businesses and was first operated by Henry Turnbull. It was later taken over by Cleveland Collins of Detroit, who operated the business for several years. On returning home from college in 1928, Kingsley Collins took over the business from Cleveland, his uncle, and has operated it ever since. At present Mr. Collins is on a trip to Montreal and plans to visit several centres in Ontario before returning home. His future plans are at present somewhat indefinite but he plans to secure a position in Upper Canada and remove there with his wife and daughter.

A Sea Cadet basketball team from the Digby Corps recently defeated the Lunenburg team with a score of 27-1. The Digby team also scored a win over Sydney with a score of 28-0. The games were played in the drill shed H.M.C.S. Cornwallis.

Miss Mary Emma Wilson, of Bay View, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Peters.

MARRIAGE

Roberts - Condon

A very pretty summer wedding was solemnized in the Baptist Church at Granville Centre Monday evening August 6, when Marjorie Vivian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orris Condon, of Granville Centre, became the bride of Lloyd Durant, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Roberts, Chipman, N. B. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a floor length gown of white satin with fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of gladioli, sweet peas and fern. Matron of honor was Mrs. Herman Barnes, of Annapolis, who wore a blue net dress with flowered hat to match and carried a bouquet of glads and sweet peas. Bridesmaids were Freda Condon, sister of the bride, who wore blue chiffon and carried a muf of white lilies and yellow roses, and Phyllis Roberts, sister of the groom, who wore pink chiffon and carried a muf of white lilies and pink carnations. Best man was Sgm. W. E. Roberts, brother of the groom, who arrived from overseas on the Ile de France on Sunday. Ushers were Grant Eaton and John Connell. During the signing of the register the organist, Mrs. Paul Bailey, cousin of the bride, played "I Love You, Truly". The groom's gift to the bride was a double string of pearls. Gift to the matron of honor and to the organist were gold earrings, while the bridesmaids received single strings of pearls. The bride's mother, Mrs. Orris Condon, wore a mauve and grey dress with hat to match and a corsage of mauve carnations. The groom's mother, Mrs. C. W. Roberts, wore blue sheer with hat to match and a corsage of mauve carnations. Rev. L. B. Wright, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. The happy couple left on Tuesday morning for a wedding trip through New Brunswick. Among out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Landers, Smith's Cove; Mrs. Irving McKenna, Mrs. Reg. Turnbull, Mrs. Joe Hattie, Donald and Grace Richardson, of Digby.

About This and That

Left-wingers in all European countries where communists are bidding for power rejoiced at the trend shown by the British election, yet it would be a mistake to read anything earth-shaking into it. In no sense is the new government revolutionary or communistic. The socialist philosophy of its leaders is mild.

Nevertheless, the victory for labor in Britain is "bad news" for many European governments. There is little likelihood that the exiled kings of Greece, Jugo-Slavia, and Belgium will ever return to their thrones. A powerful British laborite stated publicly that a major aim of the new British cabinet was to wipe out "political plague spots," especially that of the dictatorial Francisco Franco in Spain. Britain, it was said, would work in close co-operation with Russia.

The change in government is expected to have little effect upon relations with various units of the empire, except India. Indian nationalists were jubilant over the defeat of the Churchill regime, which they termed "reactionary and inimical to Indian aspirations." But they were skeptical, too, over what the policies of Mr. Attlee would be.

About the only kind of shower a groom resents is the male guests showering his bride with kisses.

The Japanese, it appears, are now taking to squirrel food. Government food experts are urging them to eat acorns as substitutes for normal diet. "Their nourishment is equivalent to whole rice," experts tell them. And the acorns can be eaten as "bread, noodles or starch cake in powdered form and after more processing, gluten drops and brewed drinks can be made from them." Maybe so. But such a live-stock diet doesn't sound very good to us. It certainly suggests that Japan is harder pressed to feed her crowded millions than has been supposed. Her war may be shortened by so simple thing as an aversion to acorns.

Some women are suspicious of their husbands' actions, because they don't know much of his activities.

England's new labor government is going to be watched with keen interest in the United States, says an American exchange. We need have no fear about continued prosecution of the Pacific war by the British, nor of the new government's relations with America. What we shall watch is Prime Minister Attlee's announced determination to mix in continental political and economic affairs by "wiping out Europe's plague spots."

England realizes that it faces an experiment in state socialism. Nationalization of basic industries and government management of all credit are the lines on which the new labor government will move. We shall see in the years ahead how the liberty-loving English people like this. One prediction is possible even at this early date, however. The new government must concern itself about creating new wealth, rather than redistributing present wealth, or Mr. Attlee will follow Mr. Churchill into political oblivion.

If we had our lives to live over again we would probably make bigger and better mistakes.

Japanese war strategy seems to be one of the "things that no fellow can find out." Their oriental thinking often runs along lines that seem crazy to western minds, and yet may serve their own purposes well enough. Their leaders know the world and the white man's way of thinking fairly well, perhaps better than our western minds know theirs. Thus our familiar test of strategy, expressed in their query, "what would a horse do?" may not apply to them at all, as it does to us. Their leaders may wrap themselves in oriental patience that defies analysis. Yet the Jap mind has been described by some American psychologists as having a "streak of hysteria." It seems more inclined that way than the Chinese mind, which is less excitable and more logical. So American amateur analysts, psychologists and military experts may go right ahead and figure things out in their own favorite basis, whether it is logic, instinct, revelation or just blind guess-work. The outcome will appear in due time.

There isn't much difference between love in a cottage and wealth in an air castle.

We hear a lot of moaning these days.
There are fewer sailors around. Many have received their discharges while others have been drafted out to other bases. There are many indications that "Cornwallis" is quieter than it has been, at any time since its opening. Furthermore, there are rumors navy has brought to our town.

we have not checked on them to the effect "Cornwallis" will be closed this fall as a naval base, and that the big establishment at Deep Brook will be put to another use. No doubt our readers have heard the same—with variations. Should these rumors be true we know we will miss the navy because of friendships made with the boys and girls of "Cornwallis". But the moaning we hear is not because of that. It is because there are those who are afraid of "what will become of Digby" when we lose the business the

Gems of Thought

ECONOMY

Men do not realize how great a revenue economy is. —Cicero

Frugality is good, if liberality be joined with it. The first is leaving off superfluous expenses; the last bestowing them to the benefit of others that need. —William Penn

To disregard the welfare of others is contrary to the law of God; therefore it deteriorates one's ability to do good, to benefit himself and mankind. —Mary Baker Eddy

Some are unwisely liberal, and more delight to give presents than to pay debts. —Sir P. Sidney

It is no small commendation to manage a little well.—To live well in abundance is the praise of estate, not of the person. —Bishop Hall

Proportion and propriety are among the best secrets of domestic wisdom; and there is no surer test of integrity than a well-proportioned expenditure. —Hannah More

Frankly, it strikes us this a pretty mean attitude to take. It is much the same as wishing the war would continue just in order that we might fill our own pockets. Rather than bemoaning the fact "Cornwallis" and similar establishments are no longer carrying on at full capacity and bringing trade to our town, we should rejoice the war has reached the stage where their need is not so urgent as during the days of bitter fighting in Europe, and that hundreds of those who manned these bases and received their training there are now able to return to their home and loved ones.

Yes, we will miss many of these Cornwallis sailors and wrens. We are happy for those who have re-joined civilian ranks and wish them all success and happiness. We will miss them as friends, not because of the dollars and cents they left in our cash tills.

We hope to visit some of them in their own homes in the not too far distant future. Others have promised to return to spend part of their peace time vacations with us and more than one has expressed the hope that he will return to Digby, not as visitor or tourist, but with the view of becoming permanent residents.

Makes First Catch of Scallops in Atlantic

Fishing history was made last week by the schooner Mary E. Kenney, Capt. John Beck, master, when after three weeks of searching it discovered an extensive bed of scallops in deep water off the port of Halifax. The vessel put into that port over the week end with 7,500 pounds of the succulent shell fish.

The catch marked the first time in Nova Scotia history that scallops in any large quantity had been landed from deep sea. Industry Minister Harold Connolly hailed the achievement as a "big advance in the Nova Scotia fishing history."

The venture, sponsored by the General Sea Foods Limited, makes production of scallop continuous throughout the year and opens a new avenue of employment to fishermen of the province.

Previously, practically all of Nova Scotia's scallop catch came from the Digby area during the seasonal operations from October until May. The Mary E. Kenney last week became the first Nova Scotia vessel to engage in deep sea scallop dragging.

For Captain Beck it spelled success after two unsuccessful endeavors. For three weeks he probed the Atlantic waters off Halifax in quest of the bed.

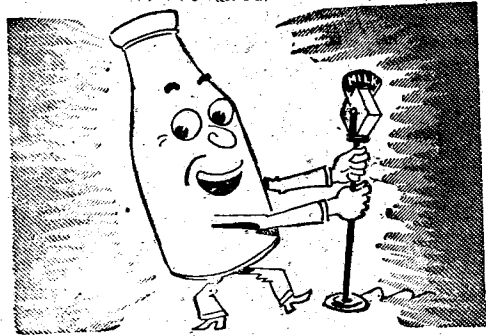

General Sea Foods officials have stated that prospects for making scallop fishing a paying proposition looked good. They valued the 7,500 pound catch at $3,000.

Churchill a Second Pitt

(By Lewis Milligan)
"I think it's just terrible the way the people of the Old Country have treated Mr. Churchill, after all he's done for them."
That was the comment of an elderly Scotch woman in Toronto on the result of the general election in Britain. The majority of Canadian people probably felt the same way about it. On this continent, and throughout the British Commonwealth, Churchill had been regarded as the savior of his people and the greatest national leader and world statesman that Britain has produced since the days of William Pitt, Earl of Chatham.

In many respects Mr. Churchill closely resembles William Pitt who was a great statesman and orator, and who at a critical period drove the weakling Walpole from power and took over the premiership. It was said of Pitt that he "had an eye to the greatness and glory of England, summoned the English nation to look to its laurels, saw the French, the rivals of England, beaten back in the four quarters of the globe; driven at length from power himself, he still maintained a single regard for the honor of his country, and the last time his voice was heard in the Parliament of England was in protest against her degradation by an ignoble alliance with savages in the war with America. On this occasion he fell back in a faint into the arms of his friends around, and he died a little more than a month after."

Writing of William Pitt, Carlyle said: "For four years he was king of England; never again before, never again one resembling him, nor indeed ever can be." That was a great tribute from a rugged Scotsman to a typical Englishman; but Carlyle was a pessimistic prophet. Winston Churchill is a second Pitt; the resemblance is striking. For five years Churchill has been the virtual king of England. He also had an eye to the greatness and glory of England, and he summoned the British nation to look to its laurels and rallied the peoples of the Empire to the defence of the Motherland. In those five years he saw the enemies of Britain beaten back in all quarters of the globe, and he, too, has now been driven from power by the little politicians who sheltered in his shadow in the hour of national peril.

At the time of writing Mr. Churchill has not yet expressed himself on the result of the election. He is a keen student of history, and he is probably viewing the situation in which he finds himself in its historical perspective. He was never a successful politician in time of peace. He was too impetuous for one thing, but lack of success was due chiefly to his larger vision of British politics and the vital importance of maintaining Britain's position as a great world power. He saw, as anyone of broader vision can see, that Britain's greatness, and indeed the very life of the people of Britain, depended solely upon her influential position in international affairs.

Social and economic reforms are important, and they have always had a prominent place in British politics, but if Britain should ever come under the control of narrow-minded socialists who would try to establish a little self-contained Utopia in this island, then Britain would be finally reduced to the minor position of Denmark or of Sweden.

But Britain has not gone Socialist. One-half of the popular vote in this election went to the old line democratic parties, and a large proportion of the other half probably represented a reaction against the existing government which has always followed in the wake of war. The new Labor Government could not set up a Socialist State in Britain with at least half of the people opposed to such a revolutionary change. Mr. Churchill will see to that, and his voice may yet be heard in summoning the people of Britain to preserve the "greatness and glory of England" for which they have fought and endured so much in these last years of war.

At the end of 1944, there was a total of 35,856 women in the Canadian armed forces.

MARRIAGE

Biscoe - Turnbull

Grace Church on-the-Hill, Toronto, was the setting for a military wedding of interest to a host of friends when Lieut. Biscoe, Toronto.

Both bride and bridegroom returned recently from overseas after four years.

Blue Cross Benefits Raised

An announcement that is of interest to more than 100,000 persons in the Maritime provinces is that, effective the first day of 1946, hospitalization benefits of the Maritime Blue Cross will be extended from 21 to 30 days. This announcement was made by Ruth Cook Wilson, Executive Director of the Plan after the annual meeting which was held in the head office in Amherst several days ago.

This move to increase the number of days a patient be in hospital in a year is in line with the well established principle of the Blue Cross voluntary, non-profit plans to provide extra benefits to subscribers as rapidly as the resources of the Association permit.

Dr. J. A. McMillan, of Charlottetown, President, was chairman of the meeting and others present included Joseph J. Powell, K.C., of Halifax; A. Wheeler, Moncton; Dr. G. E. Gauvin, Bathurst; Dr. J. A. Clark, Vice-President, of Charlottetown; W. M. Simpson, New Glasgow and John N. Flood, of Saint John. Also present were Miss Wilson, D. O. Downing, Comptroller, and Walter Dick, representing Hudson-MacMackin Limited, auditors.

The affairs of the Association were reviewed for the year ending May 31, 1945, and a slate of trustees as elected by the Maritime Hospital Association at the annual convention in Charlottetown, in June was ratified.

New members to the board are Rev. G. L. Marshall, of Shubenacadie, president of the Maritime Conference of the United Church; C. A. McVey, of Fredericton, chief bridge engineer, Department of Public Works, N. B. and George Graham, of Kentville, N. S.

The financial standing of the Plan was reviewed and showed an excellent position, after which the board of trustees adopted a resolution approving the investment of $25,000 in long term negotiable Dominion government bonds of the Eighth Victory Loan.

The Board also adopted a resolution approving the principle the representation on the board of officials of hospitals holding Blue Cross agreements, the medical profession and Blue Cross subscribers.

The following is the executive for 1945-46: Dr. D. A. McMillan, Charlottetown, chairman; Dr. J. A. Clark, Charlottetown, vice-president; Prof. R. P. Donkin, Halifax; W. M. Simpson, New Glasgow, and John N. Flood, Saint John. Other Trustees are Rev. G. L. Marshall, Shubenacadie; J. F. Durno, Cambridge; Ambrose Wheeler, Moncton; Sister St. Stanislaus, Hotel Dieu, Chatham; Rev. Frank MacDonald, Saint John; Dr. G. E. Gauvin, Bathurst; W. E. Darby, K.C., Summerside; Rev. Mother M. Ignatius, R.N., Antigonish; J. J. Powell, K.C., Halifax; Hon. A. C. Taylor, Salisbury; Rt. Rev. James Boyle, Charlottetown; C. A. McVey, Fredericton; G. E. Graham, Kentville.

Another paper salvage campaign is under way—collections will be made during the second and third weeks in September. In the meantime it is important that all waste paper be saved, for paper is still and will continue to be for some time one of our most important needs. Every pound of waste paper that can be salvaged should be saved.

Thousands of tons of waste paper are required every month for the manufacture of cartons, containers and hundreds of vital items the need of which is as great today as during the days of heavy fighting in Europe.

Save those old papers, tie them up in neat bundles so they can be easily handled. Keep a carton handy for storage of other waste paper, old envelopes and letters. Break down old cartons (unless they can be used). Put the old wrapping paper and paper bags aside for paper salvage.

In Digby we want to gather up approximately 15 tons during the next few weeks. It can be done if everybody co-operates.

Japs Accept Surrender Terms; Peace Announcement Made 8 p.m. (ADT) Tuesday

(Special C. P. Despatch)

August 14, 1945, was blazed on the historic calendar of the world as Japan accepted allied surrender terms and brought an end to the Second Great War. President Truman made the announcement at 7 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time at a press conference in the White House while Prime Minister Attlee broadcast a similar message over the BBC from London. Moscow radio also carried the news for which the world had waited breathlessly.

Orders went out immediately to silence the guns in the far-flung Pacific war theatre.

In a brief press conference President Truman read the historic document in the form of a message from the Tokyo government which was transmitted to him through the Swiss government agencies.

In brief, the Emperor accepted the Potsdam terms and was expected to issue orders to the armed forces to cease operations and place themselves at the disposal of the supreme allied commander.

President Truman announced that General Douglas MacArthur, who has been named to the post, will have high British, Russian and Chinese officers with him when the surrender terms are signed.

Arrangements still must be completed for the signing of the formal surrender terms. "Meantime," the President announced, "allied armed forces have been ordered to suspend offensive action."

Truman hailed this as "the day when Fascism and police government ceases in the world. This is the day for democracies."

For Japan, as for already vanquished Germany, it meant an end of savage conquest and dismemberment of an empire won by blood spilling.

Those were the terms of the allied declaration of Potsdam decreeing unconditional surrender to which Japan agreed, Britain, Russia and China agreed with the United States to accept Japan's surrender note — without even seeing it. The agreement was worked out verbally by State Secretary Byrnes. He assured the other governments that he considered the note as complete acceptance of the declaration.

In London, Clement Attlee, Britain's Prime Minister of 20 days, announced, "the last of our enemies is laid low."

Key note for a Britain released at last from six years of war was the Prime Minister's admonition: "Let all who can enjoy themselves." Even as Attlee spoke they formed rollicking crowds in London's Piccadilly Circus.

GREAT REJOICING IN DIGBY

Within a few seconds after the announcement of Japan's surrender, citizens of Digby and naval personnel proclaimed their joy over receipt of the news that brought peace to the world after nearly six years of bloody war. Church bells pealed out the joyous news; sirens howled and factory whistles blew until the last ounce of steam was exhausted.

Along the waterfront there was a beautiful display of fireworks when rockets and flares shot forth from the submarine flotilla and other naval craft in port. This display was made even brighter by a similar demonstration at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis on the shores of Annapolis Basin.

The illumination was so brilliant that those driving into town from outside points, who had not heard the peace announcement, expected to find the whole north end section of Digby in flames.

Hundreds of happy people thronged the town streets, singing, shouting and rejoicing. The crowds were orderly and no undue disturbances were reported.

Passenger Traffic Increases

There has been a marked increase in traffic over the Bay of Fundy between Saint John and Digby over the past few weeks, the Princess Helene docking daily with a capacity load of passengers. Passengers for the return trip are equally numerous.

Passenger traffic has grown steadily since V-E Day. It is no longer necessary for passengers to wear life belts while crossing the Bay of Fundy and registrations have been done away with. The more generous gasoline ration also accounts for some of the increased traffic. It is not uncommon these days for the Helene to carry forty or more automobiles each way.

Easing of restrictions to enter the United States also accounts for more people travelling as many from Nova Scotia are now taking short trips to "the States," via Digby and Saint John.

Dates Set for Fairs

Dates for the Bear River Exhibition and the Hill Grove Community Fair have been set for 1945. The Hill Grove show will be the first on the program this year and will be held on the grounds of James Roop & Son, Wednesday, September 12.

The County Exhibition at Bear River (one of the oldest agricultural fairs in the province), will be a two day event. Dates set are Wednesday and Thursday, September 19 and 20.

Committees in charge of both fairs are now busily at work making preparations for the big events. Excellent prize lists have been arranged and in spite of an unusual growing season, good exhibits are expected.

The 1945 Community Fair will be the fourth such event at Hill Grove and will again be sponsored by the Maple Leaf Agricultural Society, one of the most wide-awake agricultural organizations not only in Digby County but in Western Nova Scotia.

The Digby County Agricultural Society will, as usual, sponsor the Bear River Exhibition.

Further details with regard to both fairs will appear in future editions of the Courier.

Thanksgiving

Sunday, August 19, has been proclaimed throughout Canada as a day of thanksgiving for the peace that again reigns over the world and for the victory that has been achieved. Special services will be held in all Digby churches and hundreds are expected to attend these services to pray that His spirit will pervade the entire world and that this peace will be a lasting one.

Digby churches united last evening for an impressive service at Trinity Anglican Church to give thanks to Almighty God for Victory and silencing the guns of war. Rev. Mr. Kinsolving, rector of Christ Church, Summit, N. J., delivered the sermon. A complete account of this service and the Sunday services will be published in our next issue.

Leave for Camp

About forty-five members of R.C.S.C. "Cornwallis" left by harbour craft Monday morning for annual Sea Cadet Camp at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis. The group, which will be in camp for twelve days, is in charge of C.P.O. Billy Winfield.

Fifty-four members of R.C.S.C. "Chebogue", Yarmouth, passed through Digby on Monday en route to Cornwallis for camp. This group was in charge of Lt. Hurlburt. About thirty members of R.C.S.C. "Uganda", the Weymouth Sea Cadets, are also attending Cadet Camp. The Weymouth group is in charge of Ken Smith, who recently returned from overseas.

"A Sleigh Ride In July"

To the stranger in our midst one of the most aggravating sights to see on one of the blistering August days we have had lately is a sailor nonchalantly strolling along Water Street with a pair of skates slung over his shoulder. To those "in the know" this sight is not startling for they realize that the boy in navy blue is either going to Cornwallis to skate or returning from the splendid artificial ice rink at the base.

The sight of these boys walking along with their skates is however reminiscent of the old days when many American tourists arrived in Digby during the summer months with skis, toboggans and skates strapped to their cars. It was quite evident that they took Kipling's reference to Canada as the Lady of the Snows quite literally.

Relatives and friends from Digby, Rossy and Centerville, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Morehouse, Centerville, Wednesday evening, August 16, in honor of their son, Whalen, and his bride, the former Eileen Theriault, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Theriault, of East Ferry. Violin music was supplied by the Morehouse brothers and their sister Ruby (Mrs. K. Cossette), their mother at the piano and LAC. V. J. Craig at the guitar. Refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake and other delicacies, were served and they were recipients of many nice gifts including money.

Ray Holdsworth, who has been serving with the armed forces, is at present home in Digby.

Pte. C. J. Breman and wife, Muriel, are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Snow.

Bear River Boy Has Trying Experience

CEYLON:—With a million to one chance of survival an RCAF Spitfire pilot collided in mid-air with another aircraft and managed to land before his plane disintegrated.

The pilot, J. I. Jefferson, formerly of Bear River, N. S. son of Mrs. C. Wilson Jefferson, of Otawa, Ont. (16 Greensway Ave., Kinsview Park) bears twelve stitches in his head, but is otherwise uninjured. The collision took place in heavy cloud over an island in the Indian Ocean.

"It was all due to the fact that neither of us knew the other was in the area. The other chap, an RAF fighter pilot, was climbing when suddenly he hit me. His port wing shoved into the fuselage, lacerating it. My prop took his tail off and at the same time I lost my prop."

"We were still in cloud and I was on the point of bailing out when I saw I was over the coast. I didn't want to bail out because I was afraid of landing on a reef so I stuck with my kite and managed to crash land on the shore. I had jumped clear of the aircraft than it fell apart."

"The other Spit fell into the ocean six miles offshore. The pilot was picked up by Air Sea Rescue about an hour later. He is in hospital with many broken bones."

"It was one chance in a million and the only injury I received was a head wound when I hit the coupe top at the time of impact."

F/L Jefferson, now repatriated to the United Kingdom was a pre medical student at the University of Dalhousie prior to enlistment in the RCAF in March 1942. Before posting to South East Asia in January 1944 he served for nine months in the United Kingdom. Attached to an RAF fighter squadron, he has flown out of India, Burma and Ceylon.

Salvation Army Makes Appeal

Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, V.C., Montreal, announces that The Salvation Army National Home Front Appeal for funds will commence September 10 outside of the cities where the appeal is in conjunction with Community Chests or where separate appeals will be made in November as in Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Vancouver and Victoria.

Air Marshal Bishop, who is chairman of The Salvation Army National Advisory Board, reports a great increase this year in the demands of the Salvation Army for help, the principal reason being the return of soldiers from European duty, many with domestic or other problems beyond the scope of Governmental aid. Among other reasons are the changing industrial picture and the grave housing situation.

"The work of The Salvation Army is expanding year by year," said Air Marshal Bishop. "There is no holiday in human problems and human needs."

"The principal slogan in this year's campaign to raise $1,500,000 in Canada for the work of the next 12 months is 'Making Better People for a Better World.' The Salvation Army's greatest aim since it was founded in 1865 has been to make better people and it sought out people who needed its help and helped them. The Army has made better people of millions who have come in touch with it. The need for The Army's work is as great today. As one who has seen the operation of The Salvation Army in two wars and on the home front, I cannot ask too strongly for public support in this urgent and most important campaign."

Reception For Newly-Weds

A reception was held at the Little River home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Douglas Denton for Dr. and Mrs. G. D. Denton, married at Yarmouth on August 3. The couple were the recipients of many useful gifts. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Clyde Denton, Mrs. Ainsley Tidd, Mrs. Bernard Denton, Mrs. Osborne Trask, Mrs. Doris Abramson and Mrs. Dean Tidd.

Out-of-town guests included, Mr. and Mrs. Warren T. O'Brien, parents of the bride, S. E. O'Brien, uncle of the bride, Yarmouth; Mrs. Allen Lyons, Walther, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Denton, Musquodoboit; Prof. K. C. Denton, Montreal; Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Rice, Sandy Cove; Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Sypher, Sandy Cove; Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Denton, Halifax.

Badly Injured In Accident

Owen Potter, of Virginia East, was badly injured when he was struck by a car driven by Mason Wamboldt, of Clementsport, on Thursday evening of last week.

According to reports Potter was on his way home from Bear River about 10.30 p. m. Thursday evening, when the truck which he was driving stalled while climbing Bear River hill. He got out of the truck together with his wife and child, who were passengers, and attempted to make repairs. After he had found the trouble he went around to the front of the truck to crank it. A car driven by Mason Wamboldt, proceeding down the Bear River hill struck the front of the Potter truck driving it some distance down the hill. Potter was struck and upon being taken to the office of Dr. A. B. Campbell it was found the leg was broken just above the ankle, the bone protruding through the flesh. Numerous other bruises and cuts were sustained. After being treated there he was taken to Digby General Hospital where he is resting as comfortably as can be expected. Wamboldt stated that he was blinded by the lights of the Potter truck and could not avoid the accident.

Camp Destroyed

A camp owned by Jack Nichols and situated on Haynes Lake was completely destroyed by fire Monday afternoon. It is thought that the fire started from a bonfire left by picnickers on Sunday. According to the owner of another camp in the area a bonfire was seen near the Nichols camp at noontime and in the evening on Sunday.

About This and That

Did anybody say discriminations against the Maritimes was a myth dreamed up by Maritimers?

Perhaps they can find a logical answer to this one. Last week a friend of ours was surprised when he was advised of the freight charges on his household furniture shipped from British Columbia to Nova Scotia—the charges were considerably higher than those he paid on the same furniture when he moved it west about a year ago.

On investigation he was advised the freight rate published for household furniture was nearly $2.00 a hundred-weight more when shipped from west to east than when shipped from east to west!

If that is not discrimination there is something very screwy somewhere.

It is impossible for a man to judge a woman's wisdom by what she doesn't say.

Announcement that trials of arch war criminals of Europe will begin September 1, in Nuernburg, Germany, will do much to allay criticism in this country over continued delays in this matter. There has been a growing fear that nazi leaders such as Goering, Ribbentrop, Ley, Schleicher, and some of the top German army generals might somehow escape their just desserts. Swift and sure punishment should be meted out to those responsible for what Europe has had to endure in the last five years. Legal technicalities, hoary precedents, pleas for mercy—all these must be brushed aside as we exact full retribution for the countless atrocities of axis leaders. Just punishment for war criminals is necessary if we are to achieve lasting peace.

A rich girl may be homely, but she will never hear anyone tell her so.

The 6,000-word report given out two weeks ago by the heads of the three leaders of the Allied Nations deserves reading and re-reading by every intelligent Canadian. It shows the condition of the present-day world and tells what leading nations propose to do for improvement. It definitely outlines the German problem and what is to be done about that, in order to check and avoid these perilous, recurring wars launched by outlaw nations. Presumably there will be further reports dealing directly with Japan. Naturally the German problem is put foremost at this time. Measures are planned to prevent German rearming, and also to make sure that Germany shall not set up living standards superior to those of other European countries. The idea is not so much to hold down German standards of living as to bring up the standards of nations that Germany has exploited. Germany is to be treated as "a single economic unit" as regards industry, farming, transportation, communications and reparation, and apparently will be left to sink or swim. This method seems just, and it will be interesting to see how it works out.

It's a good thing that some people are not as good as they pretend to be.

Many old-timers remember the miscellaneous war materials and gadgets that were sold in junk shops after the last war, and the eagerness with which many people, especially boys, swarmed to buy and utilize them for their own purposes. Well, all that was nothing to the similar junk which will be available now, as the wars die down and their leavings are put on the market. Great quantities of stuff, worth millions of dollars will be offered for sale, from the little gadgets all the way up to machine tools and aircraft engines and parts. There will be the biggest junk sales in human history. The Saint John Telegraph-Journal last Saturday carried an advertisement for an auction of such material to be held in a few days.

It is interesting to see what the triple conference in Berlin has done to German territory. Russia, which owns more land than any other nation in the world, and needs outlets here and there, gets the northern part of East Prussia, where the great philosopher Immanuel Kant lived. Poland gets the rest of it. Germany was previously dispossessed of the Rhineland, the province she had seized west of the Rhine. That whole region has been a battleground shifting back and forth for 2,000 years. Adolf Hitler thought he had it all stabilized and in German hands for ages to come, but apparently he misjudged the situation.

Old Age Payments Hit All-Time High

Nova Scotia old age pension payments hit an all-time high during July, Public Welfare Minister Dr. Frank R. Davis has disclosed. Pension cheques went to 14,168 aged residents of the province and the total payroll for the month was $320,875.

In July a year ago 13,894 pensioners were paid $277,240. During the succeeding 12 months payments increased both in numbers and size. The average monthly cheque is now considerably larger than it was in July, 1944, Dr. Davis said.

During July this year pensions totalling $15,791 were paid to 653 blind Nova Scotians, the welfare minister reported. The number receiving blind pensions was nine more than last year but average payments about the same.

Supplemental allowances to the amount of $4516 over and above the pensions already mentioned were paid aged and blind citizens of the province in July this year in addition to their regular payments. In the corresponding month of 1944 $3558 went to 789 such persons.

Inaugurated by the provincial government to help these entirely dependant on their pension to meet increased wartime cost of living, supplemental allowances to aged and blind pensioners are paid entirely from the provincial treasury.

The province also pays 25 per cent of regular old age and blind pensions under provisions of the Dominion Old Age Pensions Act and the total cost of administration.

Nova Scotia is the only Maritime province paying supplemental allowances. Those receiving them get up to $30 a month—$25 regular pension plus a supplementary payment of up to $5.

It has been a busy season for provincial welfare officials. In addition to the department's regular work, which has expanded greatly in recent years, more than 300 separated case investigations were made and reports prepared for the Dependents Board of Trustees and other federal services.

Another Boost For Acacia Valley

To the Editor of the Courier.
Sir—A few years ago, a letter appeared in your paper, describing the Acacia Valley, and what it did for the soul, over the nom-de-plume, "Sapling from an old Tree." The following edition saw "Chip off the old block" adding a few thoughts on the subject in his feeble way. "Hike through the Acacia Valley," by Austin Payson, at present in England, seems to have refreshed my memory quite a bit—so much so, in fact, that I recall the "Sapling" as now being a full grown tree, and the "Chip" is bigger than the original block. You see, Mr. Editor, I was that "chip" and Austin was the "sapling."

In the last paragraph of his recent reminiscings, I detected his invitation to pick up the pen once more. Like Austin, I have seen times (and not a few of them in England) when the Acacia Valley would have been the very tonic I needed, and I roundly concur that there would be no better place on earth to spend the rest of your days. As school-boys, "Rev." and I spent most of our leisure hours together, and these in the valley. We could always find plenty to do, just drinking in the atmosphere of this wonderful place, which has altered so little in our ever changing world. We used to stop on the little bridge just beyond Bernie Smith's house. It was by the river bank here that he had visions of a little cabin. I think he still feels the same way about it, and it is my wish that he may soon realize that boyhood ambition.

We used to climb along the Chute and Valley brooks, and while we never took anything from the waters there that would have caused Isaac Walton to make the journey, it was fun. There was always plenty of cherries, and we knew where practically every tree was located. Nothing would suit me better this afternoon than to meet Austin on Chute Bridge and continue on through that valley which has been associated with some of our most pleasant memories.

A rose planted by God.
Thank you for the space, Mr. Editor.

"Bows" Woodman.

The Price

Defence Headquarters announced that Canada suffered 103,409 casualties in the Army, Navy and Air Force, including 38,718 dead and 2,365 missing since war started to June 30. To May 31, the month the war ended in Europe, the casualty toll was 102,954, showing that in June 455 casualties were recorded. But an official said this did not mean there were that many casualties in June.

A hen-pecked man at home loves to lord it over the help in the office.

From "Pop" to Milk

The sugar shortage has brought about an increased consumption of milk due to reduction in the manufacture of soft drinks which consume large quantities of sugar, according to the Agricultural Department of the Canadian National Railways. In Nova Scotia restaurants are purchasing more milk from the dairies and offering milk drinks to the public as a substitute for the soft varieties.

A drive around "the lakes" reveals property owners in that area have done much during the past year to improve their premises. Many homes and other buildings at North and South Range have been given a fresh coat of paint, and exteriors remodelled—in fact, some have been altogether changed in appearance. We note too several new homes have been erected.

MARRIAGE

Denton - O'Brien

On August 3rd, at 3 p.m., a wedding of interest to many friends in the Maritimes and Quebec took place in the Central United Church, Yarmouth, when Hon. Capt. G. W. Guio, pastor of Zion Baptist Church, united in marriage Reta Jeanette O'Brien, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren T. O'Brien, Yarmouth, and George Douglas Denton, Jr., only son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Douglas Denton, Saint John and Little River.

Van-Fleet roses and white tapers made an attractive background for the ceremony. The guests' pews were marked with white satin ribbon and pink rosebuds.

To the strains of Wagner's Bridal March, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a floor-length dress of white sheer, crepe with lace yoke and sleeves coming to a point at the wrists. The full skirt fell from a fitted bodice which had tiny buttons down the back. Her full-length veil was held in place by a Juliet cap and tiara studded with pearls. She carried a nosegay of red rosebuds and baby's breath. The only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the groom.

The bride was attended by Miss Hazel Brittain as bridesmaid, who wore a floor-length dress of pink net with white floral headdress and short veil. Her bouquet was an old-fashioned nosegay. The best man was Granville Nickerson of Liverpool, who attended the Acadia and McGill with the groom. During the signing of the register, Grieg's "I Love Thee" was played by the organist, Miss Emily Allen, college friend of the bride. The ushers were Catley O'Brien, brother of the bride, and Robert Brittain.

The bride's mother was dressed in fuchsia crepe with white accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations. The mother of the groom wore a two-piece dress of navy and white sheer with white accessories and fur neck-piece, while her corsage was of pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the family cottage at Lake Mills. The toast to the bride was proposed by Capt. Guio. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Leonard Earle, Mrs. Glen Kempton, and Mrs. Arthur Woodcock friends of the bride. For travelling the bride wore a figured silk jersey dress with matching flower hat and navy accessories.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Denton, Jr., left on a short motor trip through the Annapolis Valley. Both bride and groom are graduates of Acadia University. For the past year Mrs. Denton has been a member of the teaching staff of St. Hilda's School, Dunham, Que. Mr. Denton is a member of the graduating class in medicine at McGill and the young couple will reside in Montreal where the groom is on the staff of the Royal Victoria Hospital.

OBITUARY

Frances C. Sulis

(Republished by Request)

There is deep regret in the community of Smith's Cove because of the death of Frances Sulis, who passed away at the Digby General Hospital on the morning of Friday, August 3rd. Frances was an exceptionally bright and lovable girl, almost sixteen years of age and her death came as a great shock to her many friends. Her recovery seemed to be satisfactory and all were looking forward to her return home within the next few days, but she passed away very suddenly.

Funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. T. F. McWilliam, who based his remarks upon the 23rd Psalm, which was a favorite of Frances'. The hymns sung were "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Beautiful Garden of Prayer." The floral offerings were beautiful indeed. Interment took place in the family lot in the Sulis Cemetery.

Besides her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sulis, she leaves two sisters, Helen and Geraldine, also one brother, Harry Richard and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Sulis, of Smith's Cove, and Mr. and Mrs. William Gilliat, of Joggin Bridge. The deepest sympathy is extended to these of her immediate family, also to all other relatives and friends who are feeling so lonely at this time.

P.O. "Jeff" Dillon is spending a 21-day leave at his home here.

Not a single skid or blowout occurred in the entire 500 miles—at speeds up to 135 miles an hour—definite proof that Firestone Synthetic rubber tires will stand up to any demand you can make of them! P. E. I. National Park

If that exceptional child of fiction, Anne of Green Gables, created in the novels of Lucy Maud Montgomery, were to return to her enchanted home in Prince Edward Island today she would find little change. Most of her old familiar haunts are still in existence. The old farm house, Green Gables, with which readers of "Anne" stories become so intimately acquainted, has been faithfully preserved in every detail and is now available to visitors as a tea room. The names of many other beauty spots in the vicinity frequented by the imaginative and impulsive Anne have also been preserved. They all form a part of one of Canada's national parks, thus insuring their preservation for all time.

Prince Edward Island National Park was established in 1937. It extends as a coast-line strip for nearly 25 miles along the north shore of the Island and contains some of the finest bathing beaches in Eastern Canada. Included in the area are Green Gables and many other spots immortalized in the famous novelist's "Anne" stories.

Prince Edward Island National Park is unique among the national parks of Canada. Even if the territory embraced by it were entirely without historic or literary interest it would still be one of the most attractive seaside playgrounds on the continent. The park is noted for its broad, sandy bathing beaches, reddish-brown in colour, (one of the features that Anne noticed on her first journey to Green Gables) and beaten smooth by the action of the surf. Behind the beaches are sand dunes and red sandstone cliffs. Across the mouths of several of the lovely bays in the area are small islands or shoals giving protection to the inner waters. During the summer and early autumn bathing conditions are almost ideal. The temperature is moderate, the air invigorating, and the water here is warmer than at many points far to the south along the Atlantic seaboard.

It is strange that Anne does not appear to have frequented those delightful beaches, some of the finest of which are within a stone's throw of Green Gables. Perhaps the young ladies of her time were not so keen on swimming and sun bathing as are our sisters of today. The broad beach near Green Gables is one of the popular spots in the park where modern Annes and Dianas may be seen during the summer season swimming, sun bathing, playing beach games, building sand castles, or just strolling along the clean, fresh sands in brightly coloured bathing togs.

But the woods and flowers which Anne loved best of all are still there. White birch, red maple, white and black spruce, poplar, tamarack, balsam fir, mountain ash, and sumach grow abundantly in the vicinity of Green Gables and Dalway House.

Pte. Norman Tebo was welcomed home last week by his many friends in the community. Norman was a prisoner of war in Germany for nearly a year and is glad to be home again with his relatives and friends. He reports that the boys were all very thankful for what the Red Cross did for them at their camp.

Capt. and Mrs. John K. Smith entertained a number of friends Saturday evening, Aug. 4, in honor of their silver wedding anniversary. The evening was spent in playing games, after which refreshments were served. The wee hours were ushered in by singing of old songs and hymns. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were surprised with gifts of silver and expressed their appreciation in a fitting manner. A most enjoyable evening was spent. Master Vernon Gaudet celebrated his 7th birthday Thursday, August 2, by entertaining several young friends and their mothers at a party at his home. Supper was served to twenty guests in the dining room which was decorated for the occasion with colored streamers and a prettily trimmed and lighted cake at the centre of the table. Vernon was the recipient of many nice gifts.

Decrease in Coal Production

Nova Scotia's low fuel production will deprive small comfort from this year's coal production. Released recently by the Department of Mines.

For the six-month period December 1 to May 31 the province's coal production, handicapped by a shortage of miners at the coal mines, produced only 2,772,905 tons, a 10 per cent drop from the same period last year and a continuation of the downward trend existing since 1940.

Output for the corresponding six months in 1943-44 was 3,080,657 tons.

Presaging more bad news when figures for the entire year are tallied, mines department report showed that average output per man per shift had skidded to an all-time low of 1.61 tons, the lowest since 1900, first year for which they are comparable figures.

Last year production per man shift was 1.66 tons. In 1939 it stood at 2.28 tons.

The drop in the over-all per man shift average, Deputy Mines Minister, Dr. Alan E. Cameron explained, was due to loss of more than 800 actual cutting face miners between 1939 and 1944 while during the same period there had been an increase in the number employed as maintenance men and officials.

In fact, output per producing miner in Dominion Coal Company collieries last year was 2282 tons compared with only 1892 in 1939.

"There is no indication here of a reduction in effort," Dr. Cameron said. "Tons per producer were a maximum of 2468 for 1942 and relatively high in 1943. "In all the years 1940 to 1944 inclusive they have given more tons per man per year than they gave in 1939."

Nevertheless, the six-month slump of more than 307,000 tons in this season's production is greater than the decrease, reported for the entire year of 1944, which was 229,626 tons. Last year's drop occurred despite an increase of 605 in the total number of men employed on the surface and underground and a gain of 168,138 in the number of shifts worked.

Colliery output in 1944 was almost two million tons below 1940 and the average output per man shift was about two-thirds of a ton less.

Production figures for the years since 1940 are:

1940—7,735,783 tons
1941—7,205,115 tons
1942—7,212,008 tons
1943—6,044,806 tons
1944—5,815,180 tons
1945—(6 months) 2,772,905 tons

Output per man shift decreased as follows:
1940—2.27 tons
1941—2.01 tons
1942—2.05 tons
1943—1.81 tons
1944—1.66 tons
1945—1.61 tons

"The future of the coal industry is threatened by this drop in the rate of production," Dr. Cameron warned. "During the war years we have lost practically all our markets outside the Maritime with the exception of a small part of Quebec."

"With production costs rising as they are in Nova Scotia, our coal companies will find it more difficult in the future to meet the competition of United States and western Canadian coal in Ontario and Quebec."

Inspector Says Situation Serious

In his annual report presented before the recent meeting of the Digby Municipal School Board, Inspector T. A. M. Kirk stated, "When we consider that 20 out of 32 of our rural and village teachers have no professional training, it becomes apparent we are faced with a serious situation." He further stated, "We must face the fact that our general standard has fallen very rapidly during the war."

Mr. Kirk stated that he made these statements without any reflection whatsoever on the present teachers but that these conditions were brought about by circumstances beyond the control of the Board.

That the teacher shortage is still very acute in Digby Municipality was also shown in Mr. Kirk's report. He stated, that within five weeks of school opening there were still twenty-three schools in the municipality without teachers. He said that he was afraid that it would be necessary to issue many permissive licenses if these schools were to re-open this fall.

Mr. Kirk stated that the average salary of all the regular teachers in the Municipality was $664.71, exclusive of Provincial Aid which averages approximately $200 a year. He stated that he felt that this compared favorably with the average salary of $355 during 1937-38 when he first came to the municipality.

In his report, Mr. Kirk paid tribute to the trustees of many of the schools who had worked hard during the year to improve the appearances of their school properties. He stated that he felt that in many cases the maintenance grants were not sufficient to cover necessary expenses.

Increased costs of fuel, janitor service and repairs left little for improvements and new equipment in the schools. He stated, however, that more attention should be given to the grounds and exteriors of the schools. "Since 95% of the public see the exterior of the school only, it is too often judged by its outside appearance. Some schools that are quite attractive inside present a drab appearance from the road."

He felt that this could be greatly remedied by the planting of shrubs and by grading. Mr. Kirk said that he felt that if the public could be made interested, much of this work could be done by voluntary effort.

Condemnation of present sanitary facilities in many of the country schools was made by Mr. Kirk in his address. He stated that although considerable progress was noted in health and health education he felt that little could be done unless there was a complete change in attitude and action on the part of local officials regarding sanitation. He pointed out that most of the schools are not swept and scrubbed often enough and that disinfection is not carried out.

In concluding his address, Mr.

Kirk stated that taking into consideration all the factors which influence the local schools, the difficulties with which they have to contend and the improvements which had taken place, the outlook was decidedly favorable and encouraging. He said that he felt that in too many cases the public did not realize and appreciate the progress that was being made.

Canada's blood donor service began late in 1940. By the end of 1944, 1,758,967 blood donations had been received.

Provincial Election Expected in October

Possibility of a provincial election in October is seen in program activities of the Nova Scotia Liberal and Conservative parties.

It has been suggested that Angus L. MacDonald, former federal minister of National Defence for Naval Affairs, will again return to the provincial political field as leader of the Liberal party replacing the present premier, Hon. A. S. MacMillan.

The object of this page is to sponsor worthy objectives of various organizations and national efforts and give other valuable information.

The Hospital Fair.

The Hill Grove Community Fair.
The Digby County (Bear River) Exhibition.

Above are the three big events scheduled for September—events well deserving of our support.

The Hospital Fair is one of the principal means of raising funds for the maintenance of our Digby General Hospital. This institution needs every cent that can be raised for its benefit. General Public Hospitals are not money making propositions, or are they operated as such. Throughout Canada there are but a few that would be able to carry on their magnificent work were dependant entirely on receipts from patients alone—and the Digby General Hospital was not one of those few.

We say without any hesitation whatsoever that our hospital during the years of its operation has been the means of saving many lives. Its good work must continue, and with your help, its operation will be more efficient.

The Hill Grove Community Fair and the Digby County Exhibition are both deserving of our support. These fairs serve as a medium to encourage our Digby County farmers to produce better crops and to impress upon the general public the importance of the agricultural industry of this county.

The importance of doing everything in our power to encourage and improve the position of the farmers of this county cannot be overstressed. The future of our country will at all times be dependant to major degree on the prosperity of our farmers, regardless of all other industrial developments.

Digby Men Help Make Atomic Bomb

At least two Digby County men, Gordon A. Robinson, formerly of Digby, and Alphonse E. Comeau, formerly of Meteghan River, played parts in the production of atomic bombs, at Oak Ridge, Tennessee. Since 1943 little has been heard from them and their families other than that they were working at a war plant in Oak Ridge. Often their letters to relatives and friends at home have been months apart.

It is understood the letter from Mr. Comeau, received after it was permissible to reveal some of the secrets of Oak Ridge, was the first his relatives and friends in Nova Scotia had received in six months.

A letter from Mrs. Robinson, (formerly Miss Jessie Wallis, of Digby), written August 11, tells that Oak Ridge was then still a closed city. Even at that date none were allowed to leave or enter Oak Ridge without showing proper identification badges to military guards stationed at the gates.

Gordon Robinson is a son of Capt. and Mrs. F. A. Robinson, of Digby, and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Wallis. He went to Oak Ridge in July, 1943, as a safety engineer in the employ of the Boston firm of Stone & Webster, who built the Oak Ridge plant.

He supervised the safety of construction, equipment and machinery of practically all of the production buildings at the atomic dollar plant. At present he is supervisor of chemical engineering and design division.

Mr. Comeau is a son of the late Hon. A. H. Comeau and Mrs. Comeau, of Meteghan River, and holds the important post of assistant chief engineer at the Oak Ridge plant where atomic bombs are produced.

Mrs. Robinson's letter tells something of the story of Oak Ridge, the most closely guarded secret of the war. In July, 1943, Oak Ridge was merely a part of the Tennessee Hills that had been selected for the plant. Since then it has grown to a city of 75,000, with numerous schools, many shopping centres, churches, theatres and modern housing.

Adjourned Without Plea

Stipendiary Magistrate George Peters allowed a second adjournment without plea in the case of Town of Digby vs. the Victory Cafe, in court Friday morning. The case arose out of the failure of the Cafe to secure a license for the operation of a Juke Box on their premises as provided by a by-law recently passed by the town. The case was more or less a "test case" as no licenses to operate these machines have yet been secured by anyone in town.

Appearing for the defendant and owner of the machine, Don Veinot, of Yarmouth, M. S. Leonard had at the first hearing asked for the adjournment without plea in order to give his client an opportunity to confer with the license committee of the town in an effort to secure a lower license fee. It was pointed out that Mr. Veinot has twelve or more of these machines in operation in the town and he felt that the license fee, which is set by the by-law, at fifty dollars a year for each machine, was too high.

It is understood that the License Committee of the Town Council after meeting with Mr. Leonard decided not to take any action in the matter but to let the by-laws and penalties stand. Their recommendation was presented to a special meeting of the Town Council held last Wednesday afternoon and the Council upheld the committee's decision. Friday's postponement was granted because of the desire of defence council and due to the fact that the actual defendant and owner of the machines, Don Veinot, being absent in the United States.

Legion Branch Entertains

After the regular business session of Digby Branch No. 20 of the Canadian Legion on Thursday evening a welcome was extended by President M. C. Denton to over twenty veterans of this war who were present. Each of the men responded fittingly and several signified their intention of joining the branch. Refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening was spent in playing cards. The meeting was held in the Oddfellows' Hall.

Property Changes Not Definite

Although it has been widely rumored of late that several important property deals are in the making in town nothing definite is as yet known by the parties concerned. These transactions would involve several large and important business properties in the town and, if rumors are substantiated by fact, would also result in a branch of a large chain store concern being located here.

THREE INJURED IN CRASH

One member of the Royal Canadian Navy is in hospital suffering with two broken arms and two broken legs as the unusual and unusually violent result of a highway crash between two Navy vehicles two miles from Annapolis Royal, Tuesday evening of last week. Two other Navy members are in hospital with fractured skulls received in the same accident, when a Navy bus, bound for H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, met a Navy truck in a side-swipe in a heavy fog. The accident occurred about 6 p.m., on V-J Day.

The Navy bus with 18 passengers was bound from Annapolis Royal to H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, struck the 3-ton truck bringing the Naval Shore Patrol from Cornwallis to Annapolis.

The scene of the accident is about two miles from the town on the curve by the old Lish Balcom place, where the road was considerably straightened when paved. Both vehicles were hurled over on the old road.

One patient was taken to Annapolis General Hospital, but later moved by ambulance to H.M.C.S. Cornwallis hospital. The bus had the top ripped off and all seats torn out. The truck, also, was badly wrecked. Neither driver was hurt.

Seven other passengers were treated for cuts, bruises and shock at the Naval Hospital.

POPULAR DIGBY SOLDIER MOURNED

Mrs. Alda May Spray, Digby, Digby Co., Nova Scotia.

"My dear Mrs. Spray: You will have been notified of the death of your husband, F6174 BQMS Spray, Stanley, on 23 July, 1945.

"I realize there is little that I, a stranger to you, can do to ease your great loss, made doubly hard because it occurred after the actual cessation of hostilities.

"Your husband died of injuries received in a vehicle accident on the Utrecht-Amersfoort highway. He was riding in the back of an Army truck when it became involved in a relatively minor accident. He was thrown to the ground, receiving injuries from which he died shortly afterwards.

"He was buried, mourned by many Officers, NCO's and men of this Regiment, in the Canadian Cemetery at NIJMEGEN in Holland.

"I have known your husband personally for well over four years and I know that I speak for all of us when I say how well liked he was, and what a loss his death will be to us all.

"Other of his comrades will be writing you as well, but I want you to know just how much I myself feel his loss and how much poorer the Regiment will be without him.

"Please accept my sincerest sympathy and may the Almighty sustain you in your grief.

"Yours sincerely,

W. F. McMullen."

Lt. Colonel W. F. McMullen, Commanding Officer, 3rd Canadian Anti-Tank Regiment RCA (CDA), Canadian Army Overseas.

Historic Church Has 148th Anniversary

Historic old Saint Edward's Church at Clementsport came back into its own on Sunday, on the occasion of the 148th anniversary, marked by special services, and on which occasion the congregation was happy at having with them Rt. Rev. G. F. Kingston, Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia, on his initial visit to the parish.

The occasion served a double purpose, for it allowed the large attendance to join in prayerful thanksgiving for the victory over Japan and end of world hostilities.

Greetings to Saint Edward's were extended from the diocese and tribute paid to the former rector, Ven. A. W. L. Smith and also to L. V. Shaw and R. V. Dittmars, two of the oldest parishioners, for the part they had played in restoration work on this historic religious shrine.

The day opened with Holy Communion at 8 o'clock, followed at 10:30 by Confirmation, when 23 candidates were presented by the rector, Rev. K. H. Tufts, and another person, was received into the church of England. Ages of candidates ranged from 12 to 74 years.

One of the largest congregations in the history of the church gathered for the impressive service at 3 p.m., when the order of the procession was Bishop Kingston, Rev. Frank Gaskill, rector of Digby; Rev. Canon Underwood, Annapolis Royal; Padre Hoyt, of H.M.C.S. "Cornwallis," Rev. Tufts, rector, with James Howe, of Annapolis Royal, as Cross Bearer, Mrs. F. R. McNeill, organist, and the mixed choir.

The service was conducted by the rector, with the First Lesson read by Rev. Mr. Gaskill and the Second Lesson by Canon Underwood. Special prayers of thanksgiving were included in this service, and hymns appropriate to the occasion were rendered.

In his sermon, based on 1st Kings, 8:61, "Let your heart therefore be perfect with the Lord, Our God, to walk in His statutes and keep His commandments." Bishop Kingston quoted a poem written by William Hayington as expressing the faith of our forefathers in the construction of this historic church of Saint Edward, and the beauties of the countryside as seen from hilltop at sunset. His Grace on Saturday evening had paid a sunset visit to the old church, and was impressed by the beauty of the scene offered.

"If Christianity is to continue, so we, too, must build with our eye to the future and recognize God's handiwork, as taught through nature," the bishop reminded his hearers.

Oldest parishioner present was L. V. Shaw, who is 90 years of age, and the youngest was the month-old son of the rector, who two weeks ago was baptized in the church in which Sunday's services were held.

Hundreds View Captured German Sub

Hundreds of people thronged the Digby Wharf which, since the advent of the Navy, is known as the "Jetty," on Monday to view the captured German Under Sea Boat U889. Proceeds from the exhibit were for the work of the Sea Cadets and members of the Sea Cadet Corps were on hand to assist in boarding the sub. Aboard the U889 in addition to the crew which is made up of Royal Naval Submarine men were six members of the Rodney Corps of Sea Cadets from Saint John. Among these cadets was P.O. Wendell Erb, a grandson of Mrs. Harry Baxter, of Digby. The sea cadets are travelling aboard H.M.C.S. Joliette, which is accompanying the submarine on its tour.

53rd Anniversary Service Held

A large congregation attended the 53rd anniversary service held in the Granville Ferry United Baptist Church on Sunday morning. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers for the occasion and appropriate music was rendered by the choir, which included a very lovely solo by Mrs. Chester Naus, of Port Wade, and a duet by Mrs. Naus and Blair Hatfield. Rev. L. B. Wright, pastor of the church, in his opening address, stated that it was a service of national thanksgiving as well as an anniversary service. Rev. A. J. Prosser was then called on and he gave a brief but interesting talk on the past war and national thanksgiving. This was followed by a splendid sermon, capably delivered by the guest speaker, Rev. G. D. Brydon, of Bear River, which was greatly enjoyed by the congregation.

About This and That

Hon. J. L. Hilsley, in his recent announcement that price control will continue had the following to say: "If inflation were allowed to develop, people would lose their wartime savings, or use them up without receiving decent value, and the men returning from the armed services to civilian life would not be able to buy the things they needed at fair prices."

"Sharply rising prices in the demobilization and reconversion period would undoubtedly be followed by deflation and serious unemployment afterwards. Stable prices, are, therefore, essential so that as war production declines there may be a smooth and rapid adjustment to high peacetime production and employment."

"A post-war inflation, followed by a violent slump, would be a disaster for almost all Canadians, but particularly for those who have to face the task of re-establishing themselves in the post-war period."

Sometimes it's just as well to admit defeat before being completely knocked out.

The late Lady Margot Asquith was one of the fulfilled ambitions of her husband, Herbert H. Asquith, British prime minister from 1908 to 1916. He wanted to become prime minister and to marry the most sought after woman in London. Margot Tennant, beautiful, rich and clever, was the prize of British society; and Asquith, a lawyer without money, won her. Her talents plus her position as the premier's wife made her, after the queen, the leading woman in Great Britain.

Devoted to her husband, she never forgave David Lloyd George for depriving him of the premiership during the First World War, as her witty and indiscreet memoirs showed. Her literary talents were passed along to her daughter, Princess Elizabeth Bibescu, who died only a few weeks previously. Her son was killed in World War I, and thus the name of Asquith becomes extinct.

With the wit of a Dorothy Parker, the barbed tongue of a Claire Luce and the public spirit of an Eleanor Roosevelt rolled into one, Margot Asquith is not likely soon to be replaced.

The man who has plenty of time to waste usually wastes it around others who have to work.

thousands of absent husbands, sons and sweethearts.

One source claims that at least 50 per cent of the women to be "let out" soon after the coming of peace have no intention of returning to the ranks of industry.

It is also well to point out that among the male war workers are many of farmers and farm boys. A large proportion of them can be expected to return to the soil where they are just as badly needed in days of peace as in days of war.

Furthermore, there are those who have been fully aware that wartime jobs were not destined to last forever and have made preparations for the post war years in one way or another.

However, all this does not minimize the seriousness of the threatened unemployment situation. The problems of rehabilitation will be difficult and in spite of all efforts to cope with them, the road ahead will not be an easy one.

Government sponsored agencies have plotted what appears to be sound and reasonable plans to care for the rehabilitation of the thousands of men returning from overseas. Whether or not these well laid plans will prove workable in actual practice, remains to be seen.

None will deny the returned soldier is deserving of first consideration in any post war employment planning. It is also important that civilian war plant workers are re-established in peace time occupations, but one of the nation's most difficult problems promises to be that of finding gainful employment for the thousands of young people who leave and graduate from our schools and colleges to seek their way in the world. It is upon their shoulders the future peace and security of the world will rest, and that future peace and security will depend in no small measure upon the economic security—and opportunities—the world can offer them.

Special Thanksgiving Services

Special services of praise and thanksgiving were held in all of Digby's churches on Sunday for Victory and for Peace. Acts of thanksgiving and prayers asking God's guidance and blessing on the tasks that lie ahead were said by all congregations.

In Trinity Anglican church the special speaker for the morning service was Rev. Dr. Forrester, Professor at the General Theological Seminary, New York. In his sermon, Dr. Forrester said that there must not be a lessening of the ties that bound the Christian nations of the world together during the years of war. "War bound us together, what will happen when these compelling bonds loosen?" He stated that we must face the difficult days ahead with resoluteness and strength. "We must sharpen our contact with the needs that must be met and examine our hearts as to their desire for the vanquished. "No man can live unto himself", said Dr. Forrester. It is up to us to answer the question: "Can we reconstruct a brave new world of peace and happiness out of the chaos of war?" The War gave us the Vision; the peace has given us the Toil."

The Day of Prayer and Thanksgiving was fittingly celebrated at St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church with special music and sermons at both services of Mass in the morning and again at the evening service. In his sermon, Father Murphy referred to the great blessing that God had conferred upon the world by permitting the Allied arms to be victorious in crushing the forces of evil which for six years threatened civilization. He asked his congregation to remember those who had fallen in battle and to pray that the era of peace now dawning might be a happy one for Canada.

A special service of praise and thanksgiving was held in Grace United Church Sunday evening, giving thanks to Almighty God in that He had given us victory over our enemies. Rev. Frank Lacey, of Newport, who is supplying while Dr. Hodgson is on vacation, gave a very inspiring sermon in which he paid high tribute to the men of our armed forces, with God's help had got us the victory.

In the United Baptist Church special observance of the day was made. Special music featured the services and at the evening service, Rev. Mr. Gray, New York, special speaker. In his address, Mr. Gray made reference to the glorious victory that had been achieved and asked that the congregation pray for divine guidance in the years that lie ahead. A very touching feature of the evening service was the presenta-

Has "The Little Stinker" Paid Us A Visit?

We are Lil Abner fans, and as such, we wonder if the "little stinker" has paid Digby a visit.

The reason—just visit our work shop during the hours of ebb tide and you will swear the little old lady who fell in the "skonk processing vat" is not far away. We open our back door and back windows to let in a little fresh air and get a bit of ventilation—instead we get an indescribable odor that fairly makes us dizzy.

If we become saturated with it we will soon become "social lepers."

To be honest about it, we don't know just what it is that irritates our nostrils. It certainly isn't fish as we know fish, but rather a conglomeration of a multitude of evil smells—it can only be compared with a mixture of sewage, old cabbage, barn yard, and slaughter house with slops and fish offal thrown in for good measure.

We invite the Board of Health to pay us a visit (without gas masks) any hot day when the tide is low. We will open wide our windows and doors and let them suffer the consequences.

We suggest too they be accompanied by fire wards. They should be interested in viewing the collection of old cartons and other inflammable materials that collect in this area.

Granville Ferry

We welcome home another of our boys from overseas, Craftsman Stuart Gilliatt, who arrived home on Sunday, August 5. A family reunion was held at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gilliatt on that day, when for the first time in four years the entire family of eight children were able to be present, namely: Corporal Murray Gilliatt, who was home from Moncton on furlough; Harold Gilliatt, driver for Mills' Taxi Service, Annapolis Royal; Craftsman Stuart Gilliatt; Nettie (Mrs. Frank Troop), of Bridgetown; and Misses Audrey, Marion, Helen and Barbara at home. An interesting feature of the home coming of Stuart was that it was on the 3rd anniversary of his enlisting with the armed forces and the 5th anniversary of his brother, Murray's enlisting with the R.C.A.F. Their father is a veteran of the First World War.

Mrs. Roland Cameron and baby, June of Moncton, are visiting the former's aunt, Mrs. Ralph Chisholm.

Sgt. Lloyd Biltzer, R.C.A.F., has received his honorable discharge.

Pte. Elizabeth Hardwick, C.W.A.C., is spending a furlough with her aunts, the Misses Pickup. "Betty" has been stationed in Ontario and this is her first visit home since her enlistment.

David Conley, of Lynn, Mass., was a recent guest of Mrs. Ralph Chisholm and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Chisholm.

Courier Wants More Live News

The Courier wants live news items from out of town communities—and what is more—we are willing and ready to pay for them!

By "live news items" we are not referring to the ordinary run of social and personal notes such as "who is visiting who," but interesting articles relating to the things that happen in your communities—articles about people—about the school—about your oldest residents—about general business conditions—about what your churches and organizations are doing.

Crops and fisheries are often good for news stories. For those who really want to try it should be possible to dig up something every week.

Our rates will not be high, nevertheless, we believe they will make reporting for the Courier a worth while side line. We invite everyone, young and old, to send in what they regard as interesting news items, and by everybody we include all our regular correspondents.

Thanksgiving Service

Hundreds of Digby's citizens were in attendance at a special joint service of praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for victory and for deliverance from the hand of the enemy. The service was held in Trinity Anglican Church on Wednesday evening of last week.

Special speaker for the occasion was the Rev. Mr. Kinsolving, Rector of Christ Church, Summit, N. J. In his address, Mr. Kinsolving paid high tribute to the part played by Canada and by the British Empire as a whole in the winning of the war. He stated, "We must not think of this victory, particularly in the Pacific, as an American victory. It is a United Nations victory in which every one of the United Nations has played an important and necessary part." In speaking of the parts played by the various United Nations, Mr. Kinsolving commented upon the part played by China and stated that if China had not continued doggedly in her fight against Japan for so many long years, we might never have come to this glorious day of victory.

Mr. Kinsolving stated that victory should mean more to us than a cessation of hostilities, than deliverance from peril. "It is true," he stated, "that this victory has set us free from the greed for conquest, that it has saved all we value from subjugation by a ruthless race, that it has freed millions of enslaved peoples. But that is not sufficient. Victory must bring us a challenge, it must make us go ahead again." He stated that this could only be accomplished by mutual co-operation between nations and between individuals. "The years many challenges that can only be of peace which are to come, he stated, will bring many dangers, met by mutual trust and co-operation."

We must have adjustment after adjustment. We must cultivate the will to adjust ourselves to the other fellow's point of view, not stick doggedly for ever to our own. Unless we do this the years ahead will be years of conflict between classes, between races and between creeds. No peace can exist."

"This war has been a costly war, a bloody war, a war of great achievements, of great sacrifices and great heroism, stated Mr. Kinsolving. "These things must not have been in vain and the victory must be a true victory and carry us through the years that lie ahead."

Rev. F. E. Gaskill, rector of church, read the office and the lesson was read by Rev. J. E. DeLong of the Baptist Church.

At the request of the British government a Canadian Corps of Civilian Fire Fighters was organized with a personnel of 423 men recruited from 107 municipalities. They arrived in the United Kingdom before the end of 1942 and were posted to six stations in four centres. They fought fire caused by incendiary bombs and explosives until they were returned to Canada at the end of 1944.

Appreciates Work of Customs Officer

With the cessation of hostilities in Europe and consequent relaxation of censorship, it can now be revealed that W. J. MacMahon, Collector of Customs at the port of Digby, has received a letter of commendation from the Naval Minister for his sterling efforts during the war, in reporting shipping to the Naval Control at Halifax and thus helping to maintain the steady stream of ships and supplies so vital to the national war effort. As there was no Naval Control Service Officer at Digby, Mr. MacMahon was empowered to act for the Naval Authorities as liaison, and reporting of Merchant Ships, thus ensuring a minimum of delay in vital shipping traffic.

This, in addition to his usual duties of Collector of Customs, has sometimes become an onerous task, nevertheless cheerfully and willingly performed.

"Dear Mr. MacMahon,

"On the victorious conclusion of the Battle of the Atlantic and the war with Germany, I desire, on behalf of the Royal Canadian Navy, to express to you its gratitude for the valuable services which you have rendered during the German War in connection with the reporting of merchant shipping.

"Without the great co-operation and assistance which the Navy has received from Customs Officers, it would not have been possible to operate the complicated system of shipping control which was so necessary to ensure that valuable ships, and the more valuable lives of the men who manned them, were kept as clear

Serving the public for more than 20 years.

Gasoline rationing has been lifted. No longer is it necessary to present coupons at the filling stations. We can just drive up and say "fill 'er up" just like we did in those pre war days. It's a grand feeling to again be able to go places without wondering whether or not there will be sufficient coupons to provide the gasoline to take us home again.

But because we are again able to "go" there is no excuse for careless driving. We need to be more cautious than ever. More cars will be on the road, consequently driving will be more dangerous, especially with the tire situation the way it is. We are told it will be several months before new tires are available to the general public.

Motorists today must bear in mind tires under the majority of cars are worn and thin—in many cases there are more patches than original rubber on the tubes—the writer was shown one tube with 27 patches and was told that was not a record.

Furthermore, the majority of cars now on the road are not up to par—as one "Courier" advertisement recently stated "even the newest are three years old." Common sense and rules of safety have always demanded careful driving—but today when old cars, worn-out tires and patched tubes are the "order of the day", motorists should be more cautious than ever.

Drive slowly and carefully. Obey the rules of the road and the rules of common sense.

Barton Couple Have Golden Wedding

On August 14, 1895, Minnie Adelaide Titus and David Lawrence Welch, both of Westport, were married in the Christian Church in that village.

Miss Titus had been a successful teacher in various schools of Digby County while Mr. Welch had been engineer of a plant in Boston for a number of years.

On August 14, 1945, Mr. and Mrs. Welch received relatives and friends at Vista Cottage, their attractive home in Barton.

More than fifty persons offered congratulations that day, some coming from long distances to do so. Among these guests were: Mrs. N. B. Rideout, Mrs. H. W. Crowell, Miss Elizabeth J. Emerson, Miss Mabel E. Beers, and Miss Miriam Turnbull, of Massachusetts; Mrs. R. C. Masterman, of Bar Harbour, Maine, Miss Nancy Wagstaff, of Cotuit, Rhode Island; Mr. and Mrs. F. Shinner, of Halifax; Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Lent and daughter, Winifred, of New Germany; Mrs. H. S. Ray, of Middleton; Mrs. E. H. Timpany; Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. John Russell, of Digby; Mrs. Wm. Ellis and Mr. and Mrs. G. Turnbull, of Bay View; Mrs. Albert Grant, of Weymouth.

Flowers of gold and other colors, sent in by friendly neighbors added to the beauty of the home, while a large table was filled with gifts beautiful and useful. The evening culminated in a grand manner when the church bells rang and from the radio was heard the joyful news of victory. We join the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Welch in wishing them many more happy years in the community where their influence and service are lovingly appreciated.

Picnic Tremendous Success

Westport to Digby Telephone Company Changes Owners

The Public Utilities has approved sale of the Westport and Digby Telephone Company's phone line on Digby Neck to the Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Company, the board has announced.

Better telephone service for communities in that section of Digby County is the announced objective of the transaction.

The Maritime company purchased the assets and undertaking of the Westport and Digby company for $3,000, the board's approval order revealed.

Sale was agreed on at a conference of officials of the two companies and the Utilities Board held in Halifax, July 23. Taking part in the negotiations were Wilfred, Omer, and Herado Gidney for the Westport and Digby Telephone Company and A. M. MacKay general manager of the Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Company.

Rates of M. T. and T. as approved by the board will be in effect on the Westport - Digby line after Sept. 1, it was announced.

Many complaints from Digby Neck telephone subscribers regarding service on the line resulted in a public hearing by the board at Digby last April 26. On May 14 the board in its decision announced that unless the Westport and Digby Telephone Company was prepared to establish and maintain adequate service the board would issue a certificate of public convenience and necessity opening the territory to anyone willing to serve it.

The Westport and Digby company's circuit's serve Digby Neck, Long Island and Briar Island, including the communities of Ross-way, Waterville, Centreville, Sandy Cove, Mink Cove, Little River, Tiddville, Freeport, and Westport, a territory about 42 miles long.

NEW SCALE OF RATES PROPOSED

Public Hearing in the setting of a new scale of telephone rates for Digby Neck Communities served by the Westport and Digby Telephone Company will be held at Sandy Cove, Digby County, today, the Public Utilities Board has announced.

The hearing, to open at 10 a.m. in the Sandy Cove public hall, follows application by the Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Company for board approval of a rate schedule and for the setting up of new telephone exchange areas following its purchase this month of the Westport and Digby company.

The new exchanges proposed by MT&T are Sandy Cove exchange, to include Waterville, Centreville, Sandy Cove, Mink Cove, Little River, Tiddville, East Ferry, Central Grove, and Tiverton; Freeport exchange to include Central Grove, Long Island, Freeport and Westport.

The company also proposes establishment of a class H 20-party telephone line to serve the Ross-way district.

Exchange rates for all these districts would be the same as those prevailing in similar MT&T exchanges and class H telephone lines in other parts of the province.

Approval of a schedule of long distance tolls for the new exchanges is also sought.

Final Figures Released

According to figures released by H. M. Turnbull, manager of the Board of Trade July 1st celebration, final returns show a net profit of $2,618.85. Total receipts from the various booths and entertainments amounted to $4,778.34. Expenses were $1,740.61 with sundry expenses amounting to $418.88. These sundry expenses were made up of prize money for parade, decorations, rental for P. A. system, telephone calls and other items. It is thought that there may still be a few more small amounts to be received which will increase the net total.

Serious Teacher Shortage

With the opening of school just a few short days away a serious teacher shortage exists in Digby County. If teachers are not found within the next few days it is possible that several schools in the County may be unable to open. According to the last figures available 21 licensed teachers were needed for the municipality. In a recent address before the members of the Municipal School Board Inspector Kirk stated that he felt it would be necessary to issue many permissive certificates if county schools were to be staffed in time for school opening on September 5.

Cornwallis Band Will Present Concert

In response to the special request of Paul Yates, Digby bandmaster, Capt. J. C. I. Edwards, O. C., H. M. C. S. Cornwallis, has kindly given permission for the famous Cornwallis Band to play an open air concert at the Digby Band stand, on Thursday evening, Sept. 6th, under the auspices of the Digby Civic Band. The Cornwallis Band is well known for its fine performances. Under its present director, Lieut. L. Blackburn, and his assistant bandmaster E. A. Bunn, (C.P.O.), the band has shown marked improvement. It is today a concert band of high order, and those who are privileged to hear this concert may expect a rare treat, as Lieut. Blackburn has prepared a most interesting program. The band is a large one and will fill the band stand to its limit.

Because Kiwanis has to raise money in aid of a local organization of the highest importance—the Victorian Order of Nurses—and because Kiwanis organized the Civic Band under the direction of Mr. Yates in 1932, the bandmaster proposes that the greater share of the proceeds (60%) be given to Kiwanis for its VON fund. Through subscriptions in advance, increased by a generous collection at the concert, a tidy sum should be realized. It is expected that a large audience will attend this splendid concert, and it is hoped that the entire community will give enthusiastic support to its worthy object.

A distinguished musician and bandmaster, Capt. T. E. Jackson, of the Royal Montreal Regiment, will be in attendance—perhaps taking part. Capt. Jackson and Mrs. Jackson are expected to arrive tomorrow for a short vacation at a Point Prim cabin.

Sea Cadets Return After Two Weeks at Camp

Arriving home on Saturday after nearly two weeks at Sea Cadet Camp at the Cornwallis Naval Base, members of the Digby Sea Cadet Corps, R. C. S. C. "Cornwallis" were a tired but happy lot of boys. They had really had a wonderful time at the Base and were filled with stories of their experiences while at camp. Highlight in the tale of one Cadet was the fact that he had put on five pounds while at camp. "They sure had grub up there, and, brother, did I take advantage of it."

Classes were held at the camp in Morse and Semaphore Signaling. The boys had training in Boat Drills, in rope work, in compass and helm and considerable squad drill was done. Each day a period was set aside for physical and recreational training.

Special events enjoyed by the boys were a trip to sea on board H. M. C. S. New Liskard. This trip was really exciting and the boys thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The other special event was the fact that the boys were in camp on V-J Day and took part in the celebrations at the camp, which lasted two days. That was an experience which they will remember all their lives.

In the sports events held during the camp, the Digby Corps really excelled themselves, winning every event in which they took part. In softball the Digby Team defeated the Yarmouth Cadet Team by a score of 23-7. They later defeated an all star team made up of Cadets from both Yarmouth and Weymouth in two straight games, winning the first by a score of 37-15 and the second 11-2. In Hockey, the Digby Cadet Team defeated Yarmouth by a score of 9-1.

Commanding Officer of the Sea Cadet Camp was Lieutenant Rector, of Halifax. Lieut. C. E. Eaton, former Principal of Digby Academy, was Executive Officer. Other instructors were C.P.O. White, P.O. Curtis, L/S Annett and L/S Simpson.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Mary O. Tibbetts

Mrs. Mary O. (Wright) Tibbetts, widow of Joseph Hall Tibbetts, died on Wednesday of last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. Floyd Cameron, in Gloucester, Mass. She was 84 years old and had been in poor health for the past two years. Her husband died in January of this year. Mrs. Tibbetts was born in Digby county, daughter of James S. and Sarah O. (Foster) Wright. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Lillian E. wife of C. Floyd Cameron, of Gloucester; and Mrs. J. May, wife of Henry H. French, of Danvers; and eight grandchildren, five of whom were children of Curtis W. Tibbetts, and who died in 1923. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Alice, wife of Matthew Dakin, of Revere; and Mrs. Sarah E., wife of Herbert S. Hall, of Westmoreland, N. H., and six brothers, Herbert Wright, of Natick; George W., of East Norwalk, Conn.; Walter, of Bangor, Me.; Wallace, of Barton, Digby county; Jesse and Covert, both of this county. She was a member of the First Baptist church. The funeral service was held last Sunday and interment was in Beechwood cemetery, Gloucester.

Mrs. Eva Turner

The many friends of the late Dr. Daniel Lawrence Turner and Mrs. Turner, of New York, Norfolk, Virginia, and Smith's Cove, heard with deep sorrow that Mrs. Turner had passed away on August 23rd, at Norfolk. The interment service was held at noon on Saturday at Norfolk, where, for a number of years past, she had made her home with two of her nieces. Many changes have come about since the last summer Mrs. Turner spent at her "Tree Tops Cabin" in Smith's Cove, but no one of the many friends will forget the sincere friendship and unfailing hospitality extended by Dr. and Mrs. Turner, their love for their "only real home—Tree Tops Cabin" at Harbor View; their generosity of heart and the many gifts of flowers sent from their garden to those who were ill, at home or in Hospital. They, indeed, "shared" fully with others and won a place in their hearts—never forgotten. To the members of the family we extend deep sympathy in the loss sustained.

Mrs. Hamilton Wagner

The death of Mrs. Hamilton Wagner occurred at her home in Digby Falls on Sunday August 27th. She was 84 years of age. Mrs. Wagner was born in Digby and spent her early years in this town. She was married to Mr. Hamilton Wagner, who was a well-known merchant in Digby. They had three children: Mr. Hamilton Wagner, Jr., Mr. Charles Wagner, and Mr. William Wagner. Mrs. Wagner was a member of the Digby Falls Baptist church. The funeral service was held on Monday, August 28th, at 10 a.m. in the Digby Falls Baptist church. Burial was in the family burial ground at Plympton Station.

W/O James Redditt, H. M. C. S. Cornwallis, editor of the Canadian Navy newspaper "Crow's Nest", was speaker at Monday's luncheon of the Digby Kiwanis Club. He told a little of what service men had been told to expect when they "get out", and made suggestions as to how possible employers could help get them back into "the swing of things".

Pointing out that some of these men had been six years in uniform, he explained they would see many changes since they left civilian life to enter the navy they have learned to "take it" when someone bellowed at them; they have made friends and saw their pals go knowing there were many whom they would never see again; they have been moulded into fighting men, trained to kill without compunction when the necessity arose.

"Now, as they return to your stores, offices and factories, they must be given time to change from fighting men to work men in a world at peace. Many things in civilian life will now appear stupid and unnecessary to them".

He urged employers to have patience with the veterans whose main desire is to be given the opportunity of earning a living—a respectable, honest living.

He warned against making them feel they were being given a hand-out because they were veterans—they must take their place on an equal footing with everyone else.

"If you are going to employ a service man, a veteran", said the speaker, "and want to make him an asset to your business, I think he will thank you if you make him earn his way. Don't be afraid to be strict with him regarding the way in which you run your business—he is used to discipline and will do what he is told. Try to give him a chance to express himself, to put forth his ideas so he can begin to find himself again. It's been a long, tough road; he has seen and experienced things men were never meant to be part of, and the road back is no less hard, if anything, longer. Picking up the thread and trying to forget the past few years won't be easy".

In closing his address he said "thanks" to the business men of Digby from the men and women of Cornwallis, who have the kindest feelings toward this town and its people. They have thoroughly enjoyed the hospitality and helpful treatment accorded them by all of you. It has been the finest advertisement your town could ever give itself. That advertisement will continue just as long as there are veterans of Cornwallis to tell of the old days in the navy and the open-house hospitality of the town of Digby".

Garnet W. Budd and brother, Harry, also "Buster" Hutchins, of Roxville, have gone to Halifax to remain indefinitely.

Submarines Leave

H. M. Submarines "Unruffled" and "United" left on Tuesday for the Old Country. The departure of these submarines leaves only two now stationed here. These are the "Upright" and the "Unseen". The Unruffled and United arrived here only a short while ago from Bermuda where they had formed part of the Bermuda Squadron.

On Thursday of last week a farewell dance for the Submarine Flotilla was held at the Regent Casino. This was a very successful affair and was much enjoyed by those present.

The departure of the submarines, with their crews, will leave an empty spot in the hearts of many Digby people as the crews of these ships had become well known and well liked by the people of our town. Several Digby girls, who have married members of the sub crews will be leaving shortly to make their future home in the Old Country.

During the war other British submarines have been stationed here and such names as L23 and Sea Wolf bring memories to Digby people.

Receives Sentence

John A. Kinghorn, of Central Grove, was sentenced to one month in the county jail by Magistrate G. H. Peters in court on Friday morning last. Kinghorn was charged with the theft of money from Reginald Stanton, also of Central Grove. The offence took place August 18th, when Kinghorn took a quantity of small change that Stanton had packed in match boxes and tins at his home. Exact amount of money stolen was in some doubt as Stanton was uncertain as to how much money he had accumulated in small change. Kinghorn, however, admitted stealing about six dollars in dimes which he changed for bills some time later. Kinghorn, who had been employed in Halifax, was arrested by the Liverpool detachment of the R. C. M. P. in Milton and brought to Digby.

Mrs. Awilda Snow, who has been a patient in the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, returned home recently.

Discuss Fair Plans

Discussion of final plans for the holding of the 4th Annual Community Fair and Field Day at Hill Grove, was had at a largely attended meeting of the Maple Leaf Agricultural Society held in Hill Grove Hall, Monday evening. William Roope was in the chair and representatives were present from the Hill Grove, Marshalltown Red Cross Auxiliary and the Home and School Associations. These representatives pledged the support of their organizations to the operation of the Fair. It was decided to hold the Fair as usual, on the grounds of the Roope Farm in Hill Grove, on the 12th of September. A varied program of sports and entertainment has been arranged and this year's Fair should be a very successful one.

Schoolmates Meet In Germany.

Signaller Douglas MacKay, with the Canadian Occupation Force in Germany, received a surprise recently when two schoolers came into the office where he was working to see if his telephones were in good order. One of them said: "How are you?" Noting the tone of surprise in his greeting, Douglas looked up and found it was an old school friend—Avarad Franklin—who he had not seen for over four years. Needless to say, the two boys had an interesting chat that evening when they were off duty.

Douglas was stationed in February 1945, coming back to Canada after that year. Franklin was in the service in Germany, in the German Army, and was in Germany while Douglas was in the Canadian Occupation Force. Franklin is now a student at the Digby High School. Douglas is now a signaller at the Digby Falls station.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and son, George, who have been visiting in Twicken, returned to their home in Saint John on Wednesday.

About This and That

The winter ahead may be "one of the grimmest in history" for the liberated millions of Europe, warned Herbert E. Lehman, Director-General of United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, the other day in London. He was recommending a new UNRRA levy of $1,516,906,150 upon participating nations. He told the delegates of 43 member countries, "We stand before the crisis. We must act and we must act now."

The thought of winter brings warm clothing to mind. There is much that Canadians would do if they could. Of manufactured goods Canada has little, but there are millions of serviceable used garments lying in attics and clothes closets across the country which can be spared without having to be replaced. A National Clothing Collection is to be held from October 1 - 20 to reach into every home in Canada for these used clothes. Giving them will not deplete the local supply to a danger point. Quick and decisive action is necessary, for Europe needs them next winter. It is now or never.

Europe's Christmas hearths will be meagrely kindled and the Christmas stockings, if there are any, will be empty. Europe's shivering millions will look at the raiment that shields their frail bodies, and they will think of us who live in lands of plenty according as we measure up to our responsibility and share with them what we can spare—and see that they get it all and get it quickly.

One of the columnists says hot water is a prime need in every home. Father, however, feels that he could do with much less of it.

After a long period without meat rationing, Canada is going back to it, and its public is rightly annoyed. For Canada has plenty of meat. Some kinds, such as bacon, have been short, but of beef, pork and veal, there is a great supply, says an American exchange.

They have the meat because Canadian farmers met the British call for help with a phenomenal increase in production, in spite of intense labor shortage. Then they couldn't get rid of it all. There are two reasons for this, says a man in a position of authority. One is that Britain and the Empire want canned meat, not fresh, because it is more apt to keep under difficult conditions. Canada's packing industry has always been minor and it could not expand enough to meet the demand suddenly thrust upon it. The second was the transportation bottleneck which is still great, in spite of the number of ships built and still building for the Allied shipping pool. The net result is lots of meat for Canadians.

Yet it must be rationed. Apparently it is largely a matter of proximity to the United States. They cannot sell to us in quantity, as they might like, because of our embargoes. But meat-hungry Americans, angry at sight of Canada's plenty, have swarmed across the border to clean out, literally, the markets of Windsor, Chatham and other conveniently located cities. So Canadians, with plenty, are being rationed largely because some Americans lack restraint.

It does seem as if the two governments might be able to get together to make some equitable distribution of this surplus.

An Illinois man's wife hasn't spoken to him in 40 years. He must be a paragon, as the average husband needs to be spoken to every forty minutes.

Once in a while we get up in the mornings a bit ahead of ourselves—before our favorite morning radio station comes on the air.

On these mornings, after we have lighted the fire in the kitchen range, and are waiting for the coffee to perk, we do a bit of dial twiddling.

Almost invariably we end up with a farm broadcast program, coming over one of our Canadian or American stations.

We are not farmers, but we do find the programs interesting and instructive. There is a bit of news, crop and weather reports and other information of particular interest to farmers. The various portions of the programs are usually separated by a so-called "musical" number.

It is these so-called "musical" numbers that get us down.

And candidly we do not believe our musical tastes are exceptionally hi-brow.

But it seems so contradictory after listening to the main features of the program, well prepared, ably presented and read in such a way to give farmers credit for being really intelligent people that 99.9% of the music has to be the low grade hillbilly or cowboy quality.

Frequently even the sacred numbers are played or sung to hillbilly and cowboy rhythm!

Now we have nothing against this type of music—candidly we prefer other kinds—and we have reason to believe many of our farmer friends would appreciate a little more of the better quality on their early morning farm programs.

Really some of our farmers, their wives and children, are talented musicians themselves. Many have gone out of their

Furthermore, in these days, modern school teachers through their own efforts and through home and school associations, have done much to encourage appreciation of really good music in rural communities.

It seems a pity these farm broadcasters who are otherwise doing excellent work should overlook musical portions of the farm education programs by feeding an almost steady diet of low grade music over their networks.

There is a place for occasional cowboy or hillbilly tunes on these programs, but the programs and their aims would be improved with the introduction of more of the better grade of music.

LOOK IT OVER CAREFULLY...

It's
YOUR future

A message to ex-servicemen planning to go into business

You want to get started on your own... to be your own boss... to make your own future in your own way. You may plan to start a store, a machine shop, a garage; to buy a farm; a partnership or business already operating. Good for you! Canada is behind you, all the way.

But before you make your final decision, you'll want all the facts. Before you pledge your rehabilitation credit or obligate yourself in any way, study your plan carefully. Talk it over with your local Citizens' Committee or Veterans' Welfare Officer. These men are trained and qualified to help you. If we can help you, we will. Any man who has served in the armed forces of the United States or Canada will be given special consideration.

Base your decision on facts - NOT HUNCHES

In Memoriam

IN MEMORIAM — In fond and loving memory of De Vere Laird Handspiker, Culloden, who was drowned at Digby, N. S., on the night of September 4, 1943:

The daylight fades, the night wears on,

Tis the dawn of another day,

That recalls sad memories of a loved one gone,

Just two years ago today,

To some it may mark just another year,

With thoughts of none to cherish or fret;

But those who remember you De- Vere,

Are those who loved you best.

We may visit the grave where they laid him to rest,

But the voice that once spoke is still;

Yet we still hold the memories ever dear,

Not just when we visit the grave on the hill,

—Ever remembered by the Family 51:11p

IN MEMORIAM—In ever loving memory of a dear father, Bur- pee A. Mahar, who passed away August 29th, 1944:

What would I give to clasp his hand,

His happy face to see;

To hear his voice and see his smile

That meant so much to me.

—Inserted by his daughter, Mrs. Edwin Gidney. 51:11c

IN MEMORIAM—In loving mem- ory of Mrs. James Clayton, who passed away August 29, 1944:

If we had seen you at the last

And held your dying hand

And heard the last sigh from your heart

We wouldn't feel so bad,

We did know the pain you had

But we didn't see you die,

We only know you went away

And never said goodbye.

—Always remembered by Hus- band and Family. 51:11c

Rains Welcome

Farmers of Digby County welcomed the heavy rainfall which occurred over the week end. Local crops were suffering from lack of moisture as little rain has fallen in this district in the last month. Extra heavy rainfall early in the season ensured a heavy hay crop but delayed planting of small vegetables and fruits. Crops throughout the county seemed to be doing well but lack of rain was beginning to have its effect on them. The week end's rain did much to improve growing conditions for the vegetable crop and ensure a heavier yield than would have been possible had we not had the rain.

Dahlia Derby

Smith's Cove may have its Holyhock Race but Digby has its Dahlia Derby. Last week Fred Graham exhibited a large red Dahlia in Fred May's store. This blossom measured 9½ inches across the face. The next day Victor Cardoza appeared in the store with a Dahlia which he claimed would beat the Graham blossom. When measured the Dahlia, grown by George Cardoza, was found to measure 10 inches across the face, beating Mr. Graham's by one-half inch. Mrs. McMahon, who also is quite a dahlia fancier, intends to enter some of her blossoms in the race, claiming that she can beat both of those already exhibited.

Juke Box Operator Fined.

Found guilty of operating a juke box without a license as required by a recently passed town by-law, the owners of the Victory Cafe were fined $10.00 and costs by Stipendiary Magistrate G. H. Peters, in court yesterday morning.

Basing his plea on Not Guilty on a technicality that the defendant was not the actual operator of the Victory Cafe, M. S. Leonard, the counsel for the defence, introduced considerable evidence to support his case and asked for dismissal on these grounds. Town Solicitor E. J. Theriault, however, proved through his witnesses to the satisfaction of the court, that the defendant was the actual operator of the Cafe and the magistrate found the defendant guilty.

This case has attracted considerable interest in town as it was a "test case" and its results would affect the operation of juke boxes and amusement machines which are located in quite a number of the stores and eating places in the town. The town council recently passed a by-law requiring a fifty-dollar license fee per year for the operation of these machines in the town. To date no licenses have been paid but it is felt that the penalizing of one operator for operation of a machine without a license should ensure payment of the license fee on all the machines that are in operation.

Canada's daily war production bill rose from $1,500,000 in 1940 to a peak of $9,000,000 in 1943. Since the beginning of 1945 it has averaged about $6,000,000.

Donations from private service dues and organizations in Canada to the United Kingdom totalled $15,742,404 for the two years 1942 and 1943 alone.

MARRIAGES

Smith - Handspiker
A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized on August 18th, in the Royal Canadian Naval Chapel at Shelburne, when Adelia Emma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leander Handspiker, Digby, became the bride of L. St. Andre Paul Roger Smith, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Smith, of Montreal. The bride looked very charming in a grey suit with blue accessories, and corsage. The matron of honor was the bride's aunt, Mrs. Margaret Appleby. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Clinton Harding, Shelburne. Many lovely and useful gifts were presented to the happy couple at the reception. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside in Montreal. Before her marriage the bride was on the staff of the Telephone office in Digby.

Deveau - Pothier
A pretty wedding took place on Monday, August 20th, at a Nuptial High Mass, celebrated in the Stella Maris Church at Meteghan, when Right Rev. Mgr. J. E. Bourneuf, D.P., F.V., pastor, united Desire J. Deveau, son of the late Jose F. Deveau, and Elizabeth Pothier, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Pothier, of Wedgeport. The Wedding March was played by Mrs. Joseph S. LeBlanc, and the singing was directed by Arthur Robicheck and Augustin F. Hache. Ave Maria was rendered by Miss Bernice Welsh Comeau.

The bride, dressed in a long sheep, bridal gown, with long continental veil, carried a bouquet of white gladioli, and her sister, the matron of honor, Mrs. Evelyn Boudreau, Everett, Mass., was dressed in blue lace with a corsage of American Beauty roses, and carried a bouquet of pink gladioli. Breakfast was served at the home of the groom's mother, after which the couple left on a wedding tour to Halifax to be guests of the groom's brother, Louis Deveau. On their return a reception was given at the home of the bride in Wedgeport, and at the same time her parents celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage.

Quebec City Becomes Two-Way Repatriation Centre

STRATHEDEN FIRST IN: Quebec City started on July 30 to share with Halifax as a repatriation centre for Canadian servicemen coming back from the German War and British civilians and child war guests returning to the old country. First troopship to dock at the Wolfe's Cove pier which the Canadian Pacific built for its famous Empress of Britain was the Stratheden (top) with happy airmen and soldiers being despatched from there to their homes all over Canada in C.P.R. special trains (bottom left) on July 31. On August 1 the other side of the picture was presented when the first boat train for Quebec since the outbreak of war left the C.P.R.'s Windsor Station in Montreal with passengers including the British children (bottom right), among them the lad on the extreme left taking home his Canadian hockey sticks.

The Misses Myrtle Morehouse and Mary Elizabeth MacKay were hostesses to a scavenger hunt on Saturday evening. After the returning of the young people from the hunt, other games were played and refreshments were served.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

MAKING PROPER USE OF VIEWFINDER

Here's a good example of judicious use of the viewfinder which resulted in good composition and pictorial appeal. A medium yellow filter was used to give emphasis to the clouds.

NOW that we are getting into the season of sunshine, flowers, and outdoor activities, it's time to give some serious thought to improving your picture taking so that every shot will be a good one.

Proper use of the viewfinder is one of the most important phases of camera technique, and, unfortunately, one of the most neglected.

The purpose of the viewfinder is to give you a "preview" of your picture. By carefully studying the image in the viewfinder you may determine how your subject will appear in the picture; how much background will be included, and how well your picture is composed. The finder is also helpful in leveling the camera, and determining the correct camera distance for a subject of a certain size.

Many camera owners, however, tend to use the viewfinder in the same manner as they would use a rifle sight. That is to say, they center the main subject as accurately as possible in the finder, and ignore the surrounding area that may also be included in the picture. Too, in order to insure that no part of the subject will be cut off, these snapshotters acquire the habit of getting too far away from the subject.

These two faults—seeing only the main subject, and taking pictures at inappropriate distances—must be corrected if you are to get really appealing results. And they can be corrected, easily. All you have to do is make a practice of studying what you see in the finder right out to its edges—making sure you see just what you want before you snap the shutter.

Get as close to your subject as your camera permits so that there won't be a lot of extra margin around your subject. Hold your camera steady, keeping your subject well composed in the viewfinder right up to the moment of taking the picture.

There is a correct "taking distance" for every subject, determined solely by what you want to include. Suppose, for example, you want to take a picture of a child cuddling one of her dolls. The purpose of this picture should be to show the child and her doll—no more—no less. To avoid an unnecessary amount of surrounding detail, a camera distance of from four to six feet should be about right. At greater distances not only would space be wasted, but extraneous material would detract from the appeal of the picture.

Watch those "taking" distances. Make them fit each subject. Take particular care to choose the right distance in close-ups and medium shots—and don't forget to focus your camera accordingly. Study your viewfinder image from top to bottom and corner to corner before you shoot, and then make any necessary changes in position. It's a real route to better pictures.

Local War Secret Revealed!

People of Canada were at last told of the location of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, the largest naval base of its kind in the British Empire, over a CBC newscast Wednesday, when the commentator referred to the base as "located on the shores of St. Mary's Bay in Annapolis County."

This was news to everyone, especially to those living in this vicinity who have held the belief Cornwallis was situated on the shores of their own Annapolis Basin, a site some twenty miles distant from the nearest St. Mary's Bay point. Digby and Annapolis County people are at a loss to know the real name of the Deep Brook establishment on which millions of dollars have been spent.

In spite of Wednesday's radio broadcast, the sign over the gates Medical Corps, of Molton, is serving in the South Pacific.

Mrs. Brisbois was the former Miss Dora McGuire, of Joggin Bridge.—News Editor Courier.

at Deep Brook—on the shores of the Annapolis Basin—still reads, "H.M.C.S. Cornwallis."

The exact location of the St. Mary's Bay Cornwallis still remains a secret. Local people have searched in vain along the Digby Neck and mainland shores of St. Mary's. Truly the camouflage artists are to be congratulated.

But then again, perhaps they are looking in the wrong direction, for the St. Mary's Bay known here—a body of water some thirty miles in length—is wholly in Digby County.

It would be unfair to suggest a mistake was made in the radio announcement, for everything that comes over the radio news-waves is regarded as official. It is only the newspapers that make mistakes, therefore, if the radio said Cornwallis is located on the shores of St. Mary's Bay in Annapolis County, it must be so in spite of what we have been led to believe.

Time lost as a result of strikes in the first quarter of 1945 decreased 28.4 per cent from the same period in 1944.

TO THE CANADIAN PUBLIC
WE SAY

Thank You

DURING the war, so happily ended, the Canadian National Railways, as Canada's greatest transportation system, had a gigantic task to do.

Our ability to fulfill this duty to the credit and satisfaction of the Nation is due, not only to the skill, devotion and zeal of those who are our workers, but in large measure to the Canadian Public who, by their generous responses to appeals for help and their uncomplaining acceptances of restrictions and controls, lightened our burden.

We wish to thank the Canadian Public sincerely for their help—the millions of passengers who used our trains and steamships, the shippers of freight and express, the guests in our hotels, the patrons of our telegraph and other services, and the unnumbered citizens who refrained from travelling needlessly as their contribution to the common cause.

The surrender of the last enemy has ended the fighting but it has not ended the war job of the Canadian National Railways. The men and women in the Services have to be brought home without delay and for that purpose we shall continue to employ all our available passenger equipment. Millions of tons of materials must be transported for industrial reconversion.

So in saying "Thank You" we express the hope that in carrying out these and other extensions of our war job, we may continue to enjoy the understanding of the Canadian Public.

THE WARTIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD

FARMERS' BULLETIN

HUNGRY EUROPE NEEDS MEAT

The shortage of food in liberated Europe is desperate. Meat is one of the most critical needs.

As a great food-producing nation, Canada must, can—and will—help to meet this emergency.

That is why slaughtering has been placed under strict control.

That is why ration coupons will soon be used again by Canadians to buy meat.

There is only one objective:—To reduce meat consumption in Canada in order to provide direct aid for the hungry peoples of Europe.

Slaughter Control

Farmers who slaughter meat for their own or their farmer neighbor's use are required to submit monthly reports (Form RB-61) and to surrender coupons for the meat they use and sell.

Any excess of meat over the farmer's or his neighbor's needs may be sold only to the holder of a regular slaughter permit.

The minimum amount which a farmer may sell to such a permit holder is one quarter of beef or half a hog carcass. Sheep, lambs or calves slaughtered by a farmer for his own or his neighbor's use may not be sold into the meat trade.

Locker Operators

Under the meat rationing regulations, locker operators are required to submit a list of their patrons to the nearest Ration Branch Office.

A supply of Consumer Declaration forms is being forwarded to each locker operator who will, in turn, distribute them to his patrons. The patron is responsible for completing the form and filing it with the Ration Branch Office.

Consumers must surrender coupons for all meat held in lockers over and above 4 lbs. for each person in the household at a rate of 2 lbs. per coupon. However, no more than 50% of the "M" coupons in the ration books of the consumer and his household need be surrendered.

MEAT RATIONING FACTS

Amount of Ration will be roughly 2 lbs. (carcass weight) per person, per week.

Rationed Meats. All cooked, canned, fancy and "red" meats.

Unrationed Meats—beef brain, head, tail, blood, tripe; calf brain, head; pork brain, head, tail, pigfeet, spare ribs; lamb brain, head, tail, fries; poultry, game and fish (canned or fresh).

Coupons—brown "M" coupons in Ration Book No. 5. One coupon will become valid each week.

Coupon Values—Group "A", 1 lb. per coupon; Group "B", 1 1/2 lbs. per coupon; Group "C", 2 lbs. per coupon; Group "D", 2 1/2 lbs. per coupon; Group "E", 3 lbs. per coupon.

Tokens. Tokens, eight of which are equivalent to one coupon, will be used as coupon change.

Farmers must turn in to their Local Ration Boards a coupon for each 4 lbs. of meat (carcass weight) they use in their households from their own slaughtering. So that they may buy other meats from their butchers, no more than one-half of the valid coupons in the hands of the farmer and his household need be surrendered. Farmers who sell meat to a neighbour farmer must collect coupons at the rate of 4 lbs. (carcass weight) per coupon.

Rationing Is your assurance of a fair share.
Is a protection against waste... shortages... inflation.

That is why farmers are asked to continue to collect and turn in coupons to their Local Ration Boards—once a month—in the RB-61 envelope.

Grandmother's House Memorial Service

(Written to please small people.)

I like to walk down Lilac Lane,
That lane with lilacs tall;
With branches high and leaves so green
You don't feel the sun at all.

Grandmother Makebelieve lives in the Lane;
A lady so kind and dear,
You love her at once with a lasting love,
Her eyes are so bright and clear.

The strange thing is, that at Grandmother's house,
Go there whenever you may,
Grandmother never comes to the door;
She is always and always away.

But she leaves the side front door unlocked,
And you walk right in;
Cook your meals on the stove,
sweep up the floor,
And begin where you like to begin.

In Grandmother's yard near the big back door
Is a garden with flower stalks tall;
Red hollyhocks late, and violets in spring,
And grapes near the great stone wall.

A blue-eyed girl and brown-eyed boy,
And many a child beside,
Stopped at Grandmother's house and ate their lunch,
After their morning ride.

Their morning ride in the old lawn swing,
Under the chestnut tree,
And when they are gone, Gran lives there herself;
Such a tale the small bird told me.

I know it is true, for I've seen it myself
When I've walked down Memory Lane.

A large congregation thronged Trinity Anglican Church on Sunday evening for the Memorial Service to Plt./Lt. Samuel Driffield Woodman, who was recently killed in action in India.

Beginning with the solemn Silent Procession during which the sentences from the Burial Office were read by the Rector, the service was a very beautiful and impressive one. The First Lesson, taken from the 3rd Chapter of the Wisdom of Solomon was read by Lay Reader Victor Cardoza. The Rector read as the Second Lesson part of the 15th Chapter of St. Paul's first Epistle to the Corinthians. Special prayers were said asking God's comfort to the bereaved and spiritual blessing on the soul of the departed.

In his sermon based on the text "Blessed are they that mourn for they shall be comforted, Matt. 5:4, the Rector paid tribute to Driffield and said, "He gave the last full measure of devotion, we must be grateful for the great duty he performed, the great example he has set. But let us not be overly sad or cast down; he has gone through the gateway to the fuller life beyond where he may rest from his labours".

Members of the Canadian Legion and St. George Lodge I.O.O.F., attended the service in a body. The beautiful floral offerings which graced the Chancel of the church were indicative of the high regard in which Driffield was held by friends and relatives in the community.

HOSPITAL FAIR GREAT SUCCESS

With gross proceeds nearly $4,600 and with further sums still expected, this year's Hospital Fair was the most successful yet held. "Perfect weather featured 'Fair Day' and hundreds of people were in town for the affair. Effect of the easing of gasoline restrictions was noticeable in the number of country people present for the day. The increase in the number of these people more than made up for the small number of naval personnel present.

Fancy work booths, sponsored by the various ladies' committees, featured the fair and the usual games and entertainment were in evidence on the Midway. A new booth this year was that sponsored by the Nursing Committee. This booth featured articles donated by the nurses and proceeds were to be used for the purchase of articles of decoration for the residence. All the booths and games were patronized very heavily by the public. The chocolate and cigarette booths seemed to be the most popular and it was very difficult to get any where near them at any time during the day.

Killed In Fall from Truck

A fatal accident occurred at Little Brook on Sunday morning, when Mrs. Valere Saulnier fell from a truck and was killed. She was returning from church service to her home in Little Brook with her son driving. The truck had stopped to let some cars pass before turning into the home driveway. Mrs. Saulnier and her daughter were sitting in the cab and the daughter, who was sitting in the middle, had her hand on the door handle. When the truck swerved to turn into the driveway it caused her to pull the handle which opened the door and Mrs. Saulnier fell out. She spoke but a few words before becoming unconscious and died within fifteen minutes before a doctor could arrive.

Much New Construction Going On

Apparently there has been some relief in the labor situation, for, throughout Digby County there is scarcely a village or hamlet in which there is not some new construction in progress at the present time.

This construction includes new business blocks and other large structures, as well as smaller stores, houses, barns, private garages and other buildings.

It is understood a number of commercial garages and service stations are scheduled to be built in Digby town and county within a comparatively short time.

There is also much evidence of painting, decorating and remodeling.

New paint is particularly evident in the Clare section of the county. A tour through the "thirty-mile village" a few days ago revealed there were sections where from two to four adjoining houses had been given a fresh coat of paint in the past few weeks. In all there must have been sixty newly painted houses in that area—some of them having received their first coat of paint since they were built many years ago!

(Visitors to Digby County have frequently commented on the unpainted homes in Clare—but such homes will soon be the exception.)

Considerable new construction, mostly residential properties, is also being carried on throughout Clare; many of the older homes and business blocks have been so thoroughly changed they are not recognizable in comparison with the original structure. Some work has also been done on the school buildings.

At Salmon River concrete was being poured for a large structure being erected in the rear of the Church of St. Vincent de Paul. As the writer drove by the beautiful new church at St. Bernard he saw workmen hoisting a large statue of the patron saint of the church to its position on a pinnacle over the door.

Perhaps the most noticeable feature of the trip was the sight of two young ladies, garbed in slacks, doing a splendid job at painting a large dwelling house. The way they went about the work seemed to indicate they were not amateurs—and the job, nearly completed, looked as professional as any professional paint job.

Lightning Destroys Central Grove Barn

During the severe electric storm which passed over this section of the province Thursday afternoon last, the barn of Frank Titus, Central Grove, was struck and completely destroyed, with all its contents, consisting of farming implements, bob-sleds and a lot of furniture which was stored in the building, saved from the fire which destroyed Mr. Titus' residence a few years ago.

An Unusual Theft

Some time between midnight Wednesday and early Thursday morning some one went to an awful lot of trouble—and at the risk of his life—to steal the Digby Hospital Fair banner.

The banner, complete with ropes, has completely disappeared. There are a lot of people who would like to know where and how. Its purpose was to advertise the annual hospital fair which took place on Monday. It was fully twenty feet in length, and was stretched across Warwick St., running parallel with First Avenue. It was securely tied to telephone poles on both sides of the street—the upper ropes level with the cross arms of the poles.

Whoever swiped the banner had to climb nearly to the top of both poles before untying or cutting the ropes. Furthermore, the job, which must have taken considerable time even if it was more than a one-man operation) was done at night. It is known the banner was in its proper place at midnight Wednesday—it was first missed Thursday morning.

The local theory is: whoever did it must have had more than one drink.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Trask spent the week end at the home of her parents in Berwick.

On Sunday evening Mrs. Henry Bialuski, lyric soprano, will sing in the Digby Baptist Church.

E. J. Schwarz returned to New York after spending a week with Capt. and Mrs. James Hayden.

Miss Geraldine Syda returned home on Tuesday after spending her vacation with relatives and friends in Massachusetts.

Arnold Trask, who has recently been discharged from the Navy, has accepted a position at the Digby County Power Board.

Miss Grace Chisholm and guest, Miss Blanche MacLachy, Windsor, left on Wednesday to spend a few days in Saint John.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Chisholm, of Kentville, have been spending their vacation with Mr. Chisholm's sisters, the Misses Chisholm, on Birch Street.

On September 11, at 8 o'clock p.m., the Reverend Eric Quirk will speak in Digby Baptist Church.

Mr. Quirk is touring in the interest of evangelism and missionary endeavor and is sponsored by the Foreign Baptist Missionary Board.

His subject will be "Victory in Japan, Is It Peace?" A cordial invitation is extended to the public to be present.

Katherine LeBlanc, R. N., was a visitor to Saint John last week.

Mrs. John A. H. Nichols, of Conway; Mrs. Everett W. Knapp and daughters, Mary and Enola, of Norwood, Mass., and Hubert Marshall, of Hill Grove, were the recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Banks, of Bear River. Mrs. Knapp was pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Nichols, in honor of her birthday—August 28.

Memorial Service

A large congregation thronged the Baptist Church at Clements-ville on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 2, for the memorial service of Pte. Harry Wright, who gave his life for his country a few days before the war in Europe ended. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wright, of Prinsedale and would have been 29 years old on the day of the memorial service. Rev. G. D. Brydon, of the Bear River Baptist Church preached a very comforting sermon to the bereaved family.

The church was banked with beautiful flowers given by relatives and friends. The choir sang "God Will Take Care of You," "Blue Galilee" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." Mrs. David Dukeshire and Mrs. Atlee Buckler sang a lovely duet "Back of the Clouds."

Besides his father and mother he leaves to mourn two sisters, Mildred (Mrs. Loran Potter) and Ruby, and one brother, Lewis. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

MARRIAGE

Rev. T. F. McWilliam officiated. The bride was dressed in a light blue suit with navy accessories. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Chesley Robbins, brother and sister-in-law of the groom. They will reside in Smith's Cove.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McGee, of Middleton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Harris, in Bear River, the past week.

Mrs. J. Edward Morrissey, of Saint John, daughter Mariene and son, Donald, have arrived in Digby to take up residence at the Devoe apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hicks are spending a few days at the former's home in Round Hill.

Mrs. R. A. Hockhart and two children, Bobby and Brian, of Woodside, Halifax county, also Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hunt and little daughters, Catherine and Margaret, of Truro, who recently visited their father, Bowman P. Collins, and Mrs. Collins, in Little River, have returned home.

Rev. and Mrs. T. F. McWilliam, of Deep Brook, will return from their vacation today and begin their regular services on Sunday, when Mr. McWilliam will be assisted by Dr. H. T. DeWolfe, of Wolfville, who will be the guest speaker at all the services that day: Smith's Cove, 11:00; Deep Brook, 3:00; and Clements-ville, 7:30. There will also be a baptism of candidates at Smith's Cove at the close of the morning service.

About This and That

We have regained the full use of our automobiles and "Fill 'er up" as again a national slogan.

Gasoline is now plentiful, and Donald Nelson, the man who used to tell us what we could not do changes his tune to tell us that we can "drive our cars wherever we please, when we please, and as much as we please." But take it easy, chum. Remember those old tires and victory rattles.

To folks in the small towns it means, in brief, accessibility, pleasure, and convenience that cannot help but boom our towns by attracting other people to them. But to get on with the main point. Our national life is geared to the automobile; how much we discovered when we had no gas. The automobile has passed from the luxury stage to the essential stage. But, and this seems most unreasonable, the automobile is still taxed as though it were a pleasure device and nothing more. There is a provincial tax on gas which represents a large proportion of the gallon charge. There is a provincial license tax, a drivers' license tax, and a heavy sales tax on the original sales price. Some of these are proper, not all.

This age has a wonderful mechanical servant in the automobile. It has revolutionized our lives and will continue to make itself essential thereto. Its usefulness can be increased if the tax makers will stop subjecting it to luxury levies. Someone ought to tell them how much cheap transportation means to the progress of the nation.

The contented man is one who earns enough to have all the comforts of life, with nothing left over to spend for trouble.

Japan now joins the ranks of other small countries whose ambitions ran beyond their strength. Spain, Greece, Sweden, Portugal—all had great moments when they ruled parts of the world many times the size of the homeland. The citizens of these countries have long since given up thoughts of regaining former greatness. They know that if they attend to the day's business without wandering far afield and trying to realize foolish ambitions, they can enjoy a satisfactory life. Perhaps the Japanese will in time recognize that this lesson is for them also, and that concentration on past greatness is a delusion and a snare. Some East European nations could with profit learn the same lesson. You never can tell, now, when nature will get tired of men stealing her secrets, and start blowing everything up.

The trouble with remorse is that it usually gets on the job too late to do any good.

Thinks a Change Is Due

To the Editor of the Courier:

Sir—A couple of weeks ago we saw an article in the Courier mentioning the fact that "the people of Digby were mourning over the sad news of the departure of the Navy from H. M. C. S. Cornwallis" and wondering what Digby was going to do without the Navy.

Have the residents of Digby so soon forgotten the American tourist trade of pre-war days?—the pleasant class of people who so greatly appreciated the scenery, sea foods, motor boat cruises, deep sea fishing, sight-seeing tours, and all the wonders of nature that Digby had to offer vacationists that the Americans brought their friends, and year after year Digby's tourist trade expanded and Digby became a Tourist Paradise?

Such words as Scallops, Jaeger Yarns, Kenwood Blankets, Hooked Rugs, Wright's, Roop's, Turnbull's, Shortliffe's, Webber's and others brought to the American tourist pleasant memories of holidays spent in Digby. And didn't they leave pleasant memories behind to those who served them so well.

Can we say as much of the guests of the last few years? Was there ever anything as good in Digby as there was in Toronto, Montreal, Vancouver, Regina—and yet they preferred to reside here. Coming down to brass tacks aren't the majority of Digby residents pretty well fed up?

Aren't some housewives who so kindly opened their homes to service men and their wives for the so-called "morale" rather disappointed, and in some cases, shocked at the "Morale".

Did the American guests ever hold such "whizz-bang" parties as some of our local hotels and rooming houses have experienced during the days of the navy "guests". Won't some fathers and husbands of Digby and surrounding areas be able to sing "Happy Days are Here Again" when they see the navy boys homeward bound on the Princess Helene.

Aren't we native women a little tired and peeved at the "duck under the counter" method of handling silk stockings, kleenex, cake, cookies and other items that the merchants and clerks have been using the last four years? Sure, we knew there was a war on and were buying accordingly, but "hospitality" can be extended to strangers TOO far in SOME cases at SOME times.

So maybe if the ones who are moaning will snap out of the "navy blues" and be nice to their native customers, some of these little incidents of the past will be overlooked, and Digby can "do business at the old stand" again.

And if the optimists of Digby will get in touch with the pessimists I feel sure Digby can be made again a booming American tourist resort. Thank you!

Don't Be a "Snaffleworm"

(Prices Board definition:—A "snaffleworm", one who snaffles, snares, wangles or otherwise acquires more than his fair share of rationed goods by illegal methods and hence is a WORM—the lowest living creature).

I'm just a slimysnaffleworm. A mean and hateful thing. I thrive on goods in short supply And discontent I bring. Not satisfied to get my share I try to wangle more, And sneer at honest citizens Who stay within the law.

The nation's needs I snigger at, In selfishness I crawl; And anything that's hard to get I try and grab it all. Black markets are my feeding grounds, It's there I leer and lurk; That's why they call me snaffleworm— A dirty piece of work!

Ronald Kenwyn

MAKING BETTER PEOPLE for a BETTER WORLD

THE HUMAN TOUCH ON THE HOME FRONT

Many thousands of Canadians materially benefited from the personal services of The Salvation Army last year in its Maternity Homes and Hospitals, Old Folks' Homes, Prison and Police Court Work, Children's Homes, Children's Summer Camps, Missing Friends Service, Free Labour Service, Men's Hostels.

● Out of the waste and weariness of war, humanity looks hopefully to the promise of a better world.

A better world demands better people, the prevention of human waste.

To relieve individual distress, to revive the individual's hope and self-respect, to turn the individual soul to righteousness... that is the Army's historic mission.

Today The Salvation Army faces the most challenging task in its history. Again it appeals to you for support. Please give generously when your canvasser calls.

North Range

The school building is being improved in appearance by a new coat of paint. The work is being done by Hubert Shortliffe.

Harvesting of turnip seed seems to be well under way. Some farmers report only a fair crop due, at least in part, to the late frost and wet weather, causing some of the roots to decay.

Lawrence Thurber, who was severely injured in Holland shortly after V-E Day, is now sufficiently improved that he is able to return home. He is spending ents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Thurber.

Miss Inez Shortliffe, student nurse at the Saint John General Hospital, has returned to her dutice after spending a vacation with taken advantage of the lifting of gasoline rationing to visit their former homes here: Mr. and Mrs.

Arnold Haight, and three sons, of Dorchester, Mass.; Irving Thomas and daughter, Joan, of Quincy, Mass.; and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bragg and daughters, Barbara and Betty.

The annual picnic of the Barton and North Range Sunday schools was held on the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Andrews, who are ideal hosts to a gathering of this sort. There were a large number attended and all report a grand time. The afternoon was spent in various games and swings had been erected for the children. Not the least of the enjoyment was the bounteous supper, which was served on the lawn in real picnic style.

HE'D LIKE TO KNOW YOU personally

The service you receive from your bank is rendered so quietly and efficiently that the human values behind it may not have occurred to you.

Think, for instance, of the confidence you rest in your branch bank manager, perhaps without even knowing him well personally. You ought to know him better. By deposit-ing your money in his branch, you made him and his staff the custodians of your account and the transactions relating to it. You hold him in high trust, knowing that your private affairs will be kept private.

You will find your bank manager a trained man who has come up through the ranks, and who will be glad to discuss your financial needs with you and to inform you as to the appropriate service his bank can render.

Should you desire a personal loan to meet some unexpected expense, talk it over with him. You can depend on receiving courteous, understanding and friendly consideration. Small loans are just one of the services your bank provides. You may be surprised to learn of many other services available for your use.

Playing safe with TEXTILES

The supply of textiles is not adequate to the demand.

For six years, most of the world output has gone to war.

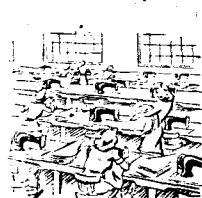

Victory has not improved the situation.

There will not be enough textiles in Canada for many months to come.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE REASONS

Canada depends largely on other sources for raw materials and for some yarns and fabrics.

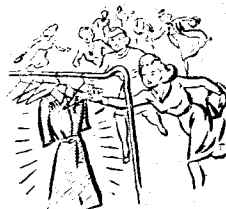

A serious manpower shortage still confronts the textile industry of all Allied countries.

Shortages overseas must be met. It will take months before production is resumed in Europe.

Substantial quantities of all kinds of textiles are still required by occupational forces.

Domestic demand for textiles increased sharply during the war. It is still going up.

CONSERVATION IS THE KEYNOTE

This year, production directives have again been issued to the textiles industry.

They are intended to divert output to more essential goods.

But directives alone cannot cure a situation arising from world conditions.

The answer lies in conservation. More than ever, the need is to conserve, to take care of what there is, to mend, make-over and make-do.

Largest Attendance for Many Years at Berwick Camp Meeting

So successful was the 74th annual Camp Meeting at Berwick this summer that the United Church Camp Meeting Association is already planning for the future.

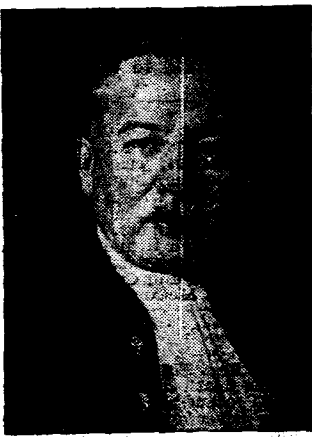

The attendance this year was the largest for many years, and included people of all denominations. The programme was excellent, the special preacher, Dr. J. Wallace Hamilton, of St. Petersburg, Florida, being a dynamic speaker who charmed and helped his hearers.

For the past two seasons the Camp Meeting has been wholly financed by voluntary contributions, but while these have about met current expenses, they have not been sufficient to reduce a debt of $5,000, incurred over a period of years, chiefly through extraordinary damage to buildings by wind and weather. To pay off this debt and make certain very necessary repairs and improvements, the Executive estimates that $15,000 is urgently needed, and plans to announce shortly a campaign through which it is hoped to secure at least this amount from the friends of the Camp Meeting.

Enlargement in dormitory space (this was very much overcrowded this year and many who applied could not be accommodated); a new dining room (some meals this year required three crowded sittings in a room with a single entrance); a new building and equipment for young people's work and an addition to the Children's Temple (where this year the specialists in children's work, Rev. and Mrs. D. J. O. Scoates, were forced to conduct a vacation school for more than 150 children in terribly cramped quarters)—these are some of the ways in which it is proposed to spend the money, a bare minimum of the needs to be met.

The new President of the Association, Rev. A. G. Pentz, of Halifax, and his Executive, are counting on all those who value the Berwick Camp Meeting—in the Annapolis Valley and through the Maritimes—to respond generously when the appeal is made, and so place this beneficial institution on a sound and effective financial footing.

HONORABLE THOMAS VIEN, P.C., K.C., vice-chairman of the National Clothing Collection sponsored by the Canadian United Allied Relief Fund, and one of the active workers in organizing the nation-wide campaign, scheduled for October 1-20, for the collection of serviceable used clothing for distribution by U.N.R.R.A. experts among the suffering millions in liberated European countries.

The FARMER

Under the rationing regulations, you are asked to collect and turn in the coupons you acquire against the use and sale of butter and, when meat rationing is introduced again, of meat; and the coupons you get from the sale of honey and rationed maple products. So that you may buy other meats from your butcher, no more than one-half of the valid coupons in your ration book and in those of your household need be surrendered. To make it easy to send in coupons, you are provided with RB-61 envelopes which should be forwarded once a month to your Local Ration Board. No postage is required.

The RETAILER

The retailer also plays a part. He must obtain coupons or other valid ration documents against every sale he makes of rationed foods—butter, sugar, preserves and, when meat rationing becomes effective again, meat. Otherwise, he cannot replenish his stocks. He must paste all coupons on gummed sheets and endorse each sheet with his name and address. If his monthly food sales total $2,500 or more, he is required to operate a ration coupon bank account. He must also give valid ration documents or a ration cheque to his food.

The HOUSEWIFE

The housewife, too, has rationing work to do. She must know the validity and expiry dates of butter, sugar, preserves and, later, meat coupons so that she can make supplies of these foods last. She must know the coupon values of all rationed preserves and meats. She has to understand the sugar alternative of the preserves coupon in order to do as much home canning as possible and still have coupons for honey, syrups and other preserves. She must guard family ration books carefully and give up coupons for every purchase she makes of a rationed food.

RATIONING is your assurance of a fair share. It is a protection against waste . . . shortage . . . inflation.

That is why farmers are asked to continue to collect and turn in coupons to their Local Ration Boards - once a month - in the RB-61 envelope.

WAR-TIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—Would you tell me if I have allowed ten pounds of sugar for canning? I do not remember any special coupons for sugar.

A.—Every ration book holder is entitled to ten pounds for canning. The last of coupons for this purpose being valid on the 19th of July. Twenty preserves coupons, each worth one-half pound of sugar, were allotted for canning. This allotment was over and above the regular preserve coupons. These coupons are still valid and will remain so until decided otherwise by the ration administration of the Board.

Q.—I live a considerable distance from the nearest local ration board. I sell butter. How can I make my returns of coupons collected?

A.—Your local ration board will provide you with special postage free envelopes for sending coupons and any other ration documents you have. The coupons should be returned each month.

Q.—I have lost my ration book and all the sugar for canning coupons were not used. Will I get these with a new book?

A.—No. Coupons for canning sugar cannot be replaced because the ration administration has no way of telling whether or not they were used before the book was lost.

Q.—Our town intends to have a party for some returning servicemen. Can we get some extra rations of butter and sugar?

A.—It has been the policy of the Board to refuse such requests for additional rations for group parties. If one request were granted all would have to be approved so that there would be no discrimination. The amount of the ration is based on the known supplies available and the anticipated production. If we take large amounts from these supplies for special celebrations it would mean that the consumer ration allowance would be cut.

Q.—Is it correct that no one can move to Winnipeg and rent or occupy family quarters without a permit from the Administrator of Emergency Shelter?

A.—Yes. Winnipeg has now been included in the list of cities which have been declared Emergency Shelter Areas. The eight areas are Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster, Winnipeg, Hamilton, Toronto, Ottawa and Hull.

NO SLACK WEEK-ENDS

One of these days there is going to be a murder—a nice, juicy murder.

We prophesy it will be on a Thursday afternoon, probably in the building occupied by ourselves—and that the victim will be one of those birds who come into the office with a rush job, and make the stereotyped comment, "now that the paper is out you should be able to, fill this order right away".

It's that comment, not the rush job, that makes us tear our hair and scream. Some day we may yield to the impulse to strangle the commentator.

The truth is, Thursday afternoon, Friday, and Saturday morning are usually the busiest days in our plant. We do relax a bit on Thursday morning after the last Courier goes to the post office. It is then we clean up a bit and clear the decks.

After that, if circumstances permit, the whole crew gets to work on job printing. We try to keep as many of our machines going as possible. There are always orders to be filled.

One customer may want 25,000 copies of one form; another 5,000 of another form, right down to short runs of 100 forms or less. While we confess the 25,000 orders are the exception rather than the rule (we filled one last week), one of our recent runs went as high as 80,000—printed "4 on" at that. 5,000 and 10,000 runs are not at all out of the ordinary.

From our point of view, the "Courier" ranks as our "first". The paper must come out—on time—regardless of everything; nevertheless, its production does not require as many staff hours as our other lines.

If you are having us send a subscription to the Courier to a boy or girl overseas, we will greatly appreciate your advising us of the approximate date they are expected home. If you grant us this little favor, we will be only too glad to extend the expiration date of the subscription without cost.

However, unless we are advised, the subscription will be cancelled IMMEDIATELY on expiration. Effective at once, we are not accepting further renewals or new subscriptions at the special half-price service rate.

This special subscription rate for men and women in the Canadian armed forces, anywhere in the world, has been in force almost since the beginning of the war, but now, with so many returning home, we must discontinue it as it is next to impossible to keep pace with resulting subscription list changes.

The half-price rate will still apply to those serving with the Canadian forces of occupation.

MARRIAGE

Greene - Mullen

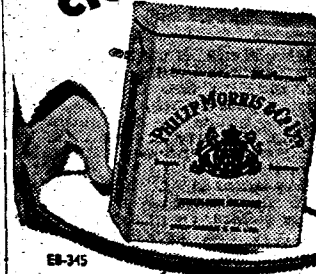

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mullen, on Wednesday evening, August 15th, when Rev. Ronald Sabine, of Havelock, united in marriage Nellie Elizabeth, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mullen, of Hassett's, and Henry Richard Greene, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Greene, of Kemptonville, Yarmouth county. The bride was charmingly attired in a floor length gown of white sheer crepe, with shoulder length veil, and carried a beautiful bridal bouquet of roses. Miss Joyce Mullen, sister of the bride, attended as bridesmaid. She was attired in a floor length gown of baby blue taffeta and carried a bouquet of snapdragon and thistles. Victor Greene was best man, and Mrs. Harvey Mullen played the Wedding March. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was given the young couple, attended by a large number of relatives and friends.

Four Canso flying boats, complete with 4-men crews and supporting ground crews—all RCAF personnel—assisted Canadian entomologists in the spraying operations north of Lake Superior, designed to combat the deadly spruce budworm.

DR. LAYCOCK IN PUBLIC ADDRESS

Dr. S. R. Laycock, Professor of Education, University of Saskatchewan, a specialist in Mental Hygiene, and now president of the Canadian Federation of Home and School Associations, addressed a public meeting in the Scout Hall yesterday afternoon. Dr. Laycock was introduced by T. A. M. Kirk, Inspector of Schools for the municipalities of Digby and Yarmouth. In his introduction, Inspector Kirk stated that Dr. Laycock became professor of psychology in the University of Alberta. In 1927, after earning his Ph.D. degree at the University of London, England, he became Professor of Educational Psychology at the University in Saskatchewan. In addition to university work, Dr. Laycock has given part time to the National Committee for Mental Hygiene; and has published numerous pamphlets and articles on Child Psychology. In Saskatoon, he assisted in organizing classes for specially gifted children as well as for those mentally retarded. One of his publications is "The Laycock Mental Ability Test." His special interest is in the "exceptional child", whether above or below mental average. He crosses Canada once or twice a year on lecture tours. At present he is carrying on a survey of Canadian Education from a mental hygiene point of view. He is a member of the Canadian Youth Commission, of the British Psychological Society, and of the Society for Research in Child Development. Dr. Laycock is well known through his broadcasts over CBC. Two series have been published in booklet form. "School For Parents" was specially popular with Home and School listening groups. He was the first president of the Saskatchewan Federation of Home and School; and has recently been elected (by acclamation) to the National Presidency. Miss Doris Baker, assistant director of Rural Education for the Province of N.S., and Mrs. Basil Silvers, president of the Home and School Association of the Province of Nova Scotia, were also present at the meeting and took an active part in the discussion which followed.

BEAR RIVER FAIR NEXT WEEK

The annual Digby County (Bear River) Exhibition will take place Wednesday and Thursday of next week. The fair promises to be one of the learning agricultural events in Western Nova Scotia.

We are given to understand a good list of entrees has already been received, although the most of them are expected to be placed just prior to the opening date. In spite of the fact light crops have been general throughout the province, an excellent showing is looked forward to at Bear River next week.

During past years exhibits at this fair have shown a marked improvement in the quality of livestock on exhibit. Further improvements can be expected this year.

The fair committee has arranged a splendid program for the two-day event. Entertainment will include horse and ox pulling contests, always a big drawing card in this section of Nova Scotia; H.M.C.S. Cornwallis Band and Physical Training demonstrations by P. T. Instructors at Cornwallis.

The Editor Asks Your Co-operation

It may be our fault, but sometimes in going over the exchanges we do miss stories appearing in the daily press and exchanges that are of particular interest to our readers. For the most part, these news items comprise weddings and obituaries, and only a short time ago we were brought to task by one of our subscribers because we failed to carry an account of a Cape Breton woman that appeared in the Halifax press. We regret these omissions as much as our readers, but it is almost impossible for us to glean all of them—we do try, but, frankly, we haven't time to read every item in every paper that comes to our desk. It would be impossible to do so, for we have to afford to hire a full time "exchange reader." While we do not find fault with those who find fault with us in this connection, we would appreciate their co-operation to the extent that when they know of an item appearing in another newspaper that they clip it and forward it to us, and while we cannot promise in every instance to publish the same in full, we will handle it to the best of our ability.

No Ferry Service Sunday

The car ferry across Petite Passage from East Ferry to Tiverton on Long Island, will not be in service on Sunday, Sept. 17. The ferry will be taken up on Monday.

Meat Rationing Affects Business

One local butcher stated yesterday that since meat rationing had come into effect he had not sold enough meat to pay for the electricity needed for refrigeration. On Monday he had only cut up one quarter of beef and on Tuesday had sold hardly any meat at all. He felt that most consumers were perhaps waiting for the week end in order to get their "Sunday Roast."

Will Revert to Standard Time

The clocks of Canada, in company with those of the United States are expected to turn back one hour September 30 as war-enforced Daylight Saving Time ends and the country returns to the pre-war Standard Time system.

State Secretary Martin announced in the Commons that the government has decided to revert to Standard Time and said this change would be made at a date to be announced shortly.

Replying to a question from Opposition Leader Bracken, he said there was a great desire to synchronize Canadian time tables with those in the United States, where the reversion to Standard Time would probably take place Sept. 30.

Board Protests Freight Rates

Claims that the merchants and people of Digby were still receiving unfair treatment in the application of freight rates were made at Tuesday night's meeting of the Board of Trade.

It was claimed at the meeting that goods were still being delivered in Bear River, Smith's Cove and Annapolis at lower freight rates than those applying in Digby. Bills of Lading were presented to prove that this was the case. In one instance salt was delivered to a store in Bear River for 14c per 100 lbs. while the rate to Digby is 25c per hundred. The rate on Sugar, Soap and canned goods delivered to a store in Annapolis is 18½c. per hundred while the rate on the same commodities to Digby is 25c per hundred.

Some time ago the Board of Trade petitioned the C.P.R. to revise their freight rates so that goods be delivered in Digby at the same rates as those applying on deliveries to outside points. A representative of the railway met with the Board and presented a schedule of rates which would permit this. The new schedule imposed higher rates on some commodities than had previously been in effect in order to bring them into line with the rates on these commodities to the outside points. After being assured that the new schedule would give Digby the same rates on commodities as the outside points, the Board adopted the new rates, and they were published.

It was claimed at Tuesday night's meeting, by Mr. Morrissey, of the C.P.R., that his company are applying rates according to the tariff and are living up to their bargain. He claimed that the D.A.R. which operates the line between Digby and outlying points are delivering goods to the merchants' stores for the rate which should apply to delivery at the station. He stated that in effect they are supplying pick-up-delivery at the low station delivery rate whereas the C.P.R. are charging the high rate in Digby for this service as provided in the schedule.

The secretary was instructed to write the C.P.R. asking them to take immediate action to have matters adjusted so that the people of Digby would receive the same rates and privileges on freight delivered within the town as enjoyed by outlying districts. It was felt that, since the C.P.R. had assured the board that these rates would be the same when they urged the Board to adopt the new schedule, they should take action to implement their promises.

Community Fair

At time of going to press holding of the Community Fair and Field Day at Hill Grove, was still in some doubt due to heavy rain and thunder storm. Officials stated that judging of horses and cattle would be held in any event and the remainder of the programme postponed until a later date.

Shortly before noon crowds were beginning to gather at the Fair grounds and some exhibits were assembled. Several crates of chickens were in evidence and a long line of cattle and horses were tethered along the edge of the grounds. Booths had been set up and some work accomplished in decorating.

Note to Rural Correspondents

Correspondents in rural districts are showing an increasing tendency recently to be late with their news. Several times within the last few weeks budgets of news items have arrived at this office on Thursday morning, too late for that week's issue, and because of the pressure on space, have had to be omitted from the following week's paper because fresher news had to be given the preference. Once again correspondents are reminded that news items should be mailed in time to reach this office by Tuesday noon at the latest, and preferably should arrive Monday. They must bear in mind that at least half of the pages of the Courier are printed on Monday afternoon, and country correspondence received after that must compete for space with local and other important news as well as late advertising.

Joint Boards Ask Highway Paving

A resolution urging the Provincial Government to take immediate steps to have the Digby Neck Road paved was passed at a joint meeting of the Digby and Fundy Boards of Trade held in the Town Hall Tuesday evening. The resolution, which was moved by Dr. Weir, of Freeport, and passed unanimously, stated that: "Whereas the highway to Digby Neck and Long and Briar Islands serves a population of approximately 4000 people to whom mail must be delivered daily through fifteen post offices, and

"Whereas about 230,000 gallons of gasoline are brought to the Islands by boat annually, which gasoline can be more profitably delivered by tank wagon, and

"Whereas the tourist traffic, which is increasing rapidly, is greatly hampered by the present dirt road, and

"Whereas the Digby Neck and Islands Co. has promised to run two busses daily, instead of one as at present if the road is paved, thus providing much better accommodation to the travelling public, and

"Whereas patients for the Digby Hospital, which serves this area, must be brought by car over this road, and

"Whereas the gravel road will not bear the present traffic.

"Therefore Be It Resolved that these Boards go on record that it is urgently necessary that the Provincial Department of Highways pave the Main Highway on Digby Neck and Long and Briar Islands."

Several members of both the Fundy and Digby Boards of Trade spoke in support of the motion. G. E. Sanford stated that in his opinion there was more money brought into the town of Digby from Digby Neck than from any other road leading into town. He felt it was in the town's interest that the Board support the resolution. Guy Morehouse, Bus Driver, stated that no bus could stand up to the present road and that he was greatly hampered in giving the service he desired and the people deserved by the condition of the road. Dr. Rice, of Sandy Cove, stated that if the road was not paved over $2,000,000 of business annually would be diverted from Digby.

It was decided that copies of the resolution should go to the Minister of Highways, the Premier the Minister of Industry and the Member for the Constituency. The secretary was also instructed to write the Minister of Highways to arrange an interview so that delegates from the joint boards could discuss the matter with him.

Hostel Management Committee Meets

Action to effect economies in the operation of the Navy League Hostel was taken by the Management Committee at their regular monthly meeting held at the Hostel Monday evening. It was felt that these steps had to be taken to keep in line with the decrease in the amount of business being handled at the Hostel and the lessening of the numbers of service personnel in the area. Action taken was in line with the policy recommended in a bulletin received from the Dominion President of the Navy League of Canada.

From the financial report presented by H. Washburn at the meeting it was learned that the month of August had been a very successful one and that overall operating loss had been low. It was pointed out, however, that due to changing circumstances and the departure of several of the submarines there would be a drop in business in the coming months.

Political Pot Begins to Boil

With a provincial election in the offing, the political pot in Digby County has begun to boil—a convention of the Digby County Progressive Conservative Association has been called for Wednesday next to take place at Weymouth.

It is understood a candidate for the constituency will be named at that time to contest the county in the forthcoming provincial election. Officers of the Association will also be appointed.

Leonard W. Fraser, provincial leader for the Progressive Conservative Party, will address the meeting.

CLAMS AND MUSSELS ARE POISONOUS

The people of Digby and vicinity are warned that both clams and mussels are temporarily poisonous for human consumption. Tests carried out by the Dominion Department of Fisheries and Department of National Health and Welfare have shown that clams from this area at present show a toxicity of 2000 units. The taking of clams for export is closed when they show over 400 units at which level they may cause acute poisoning in susceptible persons. The tests are being carried out regularly and the public will be notified when the danger ceases.

There have been several cases of clam poisoning on the Bay of Fundy this year, some being very serious. All these have occurred in persons who collected clams from areas which had been closed to the taking of clams for canning. No cases have occurred from canned clams as the industry has cooperated with the Department of Fisheries by stopping canning operations when they have been notified that the shellfish were temporarily poisonous.

Meat Rationing Imposed

The sudden announcement of meat rationing caught many Digby housewives napping. Most people felt that the rationing would go into effect on the fifteenth of the month and were unprepared when it was announced for the earlier date. The weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club which is held on Monday of each week had to be cancelled because of lack of meat at the hotel where the affair is held. Several householders with guests arriving on Monday were hard pressed to figure out menus for their visitors that would allow them to stay within the ration. One local poultryman reports a heavy call for chicken and fowl which are not rationed.

Local butchers report that their meat stocks were about normal at the time of the imposition of the rationing and that as soon as the public and store clerks become familiar with the token and coupon system they feel that the whole matter will run along smoothly. The amount of meat allowed per week to the individual user should not create any great hardship to any consumer, it was felt.

Express Dissatisfaction

Dissatisfaction with town by-laws governing licensing of taxi cabs was expressed at the meeting of the Town Council held last Wednesday evening. It was felt that present by-laws with regard to the licensing of taxis did not have "sufficient teeth." No provisions are contained in them giving the town authorities any control over the operation of the taxis or suspension or cancelling of licenses. The Town Clerk was instructed to write the Halifax City Solicitor and the Department of Municipal Affairs for information regarding the securing of a more efficient and effective by law.

Permission was given at Wednesday's meeting of the Council to Alfred Marshall to erect a five room cottage on Second Avenue next to the residence of F. C. Purdy.

At the request of the Fire Department plans were made to have the fire station at the South End re-shingled and the Town Clerk was instructed to get information regarding cost prices of a Fire Alarm to replace the present Siren. Complaints have been voiced for some considerable time concerning the inadequacy of the present alarm and it was felt a better siren could be secured through War Assets Corporation.

NET RETURNS GIVEN OF HOSPITAL FAIR

It was reported at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Digby General Hospital, held Monday evening, that the total net returns of the Hospital Fair which was held recently amounted to $3621.19. Of this amount $3346.19 went to the Hospital account while $275, which was the proceeds of the booth operated by the Furnishing Committee of the Nurses' Home was turned over to that Committee. It was stated that these figures were not final and that there might be further returns yet to be reported. Dr. DuVer-net, president of the Board, stated that a hearty vote of thanks should be extended to all those who assisted in any way in the operation of the Fair.

Several changes in the nursing staff were noted in the report of the Hospital Superintendent, which was adopted. The resignation of Eileen Crowe, R.N., from the nursing staff, was regretfully accepted. Miss Crowe is leaving shortly to be married.

Butcher Stores Threaten Strikes

Threats of strikes in some butcher stores, greeted the reintroduction of meat rationing in Canada and reports indicated that opposition is most pronounced in Western Ontario British Columbia and Nova Scotia.

Complications of the new system — which combines coupons and blue fibrewood tokens with various values depending on the kind of meat—and allegations from some dealers of the unavoidable wastage caused by trimming expensive cuts within a two ounce limit are said to lie beyond the opposition.

Rationing was discontinued in 1944 because there was not sufficient shipping space to move abroad the supplies which piled up in meat storage plants.

Prices Board officials explained that bringing back meat rationing would enable Canada to help feed hungry Britain and Europe and in return to obtain her full share of fats, oils and sugar. Shipping space is available and slaughtering plans are in a position to handle heavy marketings.

Mrs. A. W. Landers has returned to her home after spending the past three weeks in Halifax, taking X-Ray Treatment. During her stay in the city she was a guest at The Lord Nelson, where her son, David was able to be with her part of the time. Mrs. Landers was a week end guest of her daughter, Mrs. Carl Parker, and Mr. Parker, Bear River.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Cann, of Central Grove, were visitors in Digby yesterday.

Yacht Club Elects Officers

James W. Merkel was elected Commodore of the Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club at the annual banquet and business meeting held at the Gem Restaurant last Wednesday evening. Other officers elected were: E. J. Theriault, secretary-treasurer; Arthur Weir, vice-commodore and Percy Weir, rear commodore. Financial report presented by the retiring secretary-treasurer, Frank Larche, showed that the Club had enjoyed a good year, financially. Membership had greatly increased over the previous year and prospects for the future success of the Club looked promising. About thirty members of the Club attended the banquet. Retiring Commodore Benjamin Ruggles presided over the gathering until the election of the new officers.

Dahlias at Centreville

Although the Dahlia season is pretty well over, a visit to Centreville is still well worth while. In that Digby Neck village, growing of Dahlias appears to have "been a specialty" this summer. At Centreville Corner a hedge of these colorful blooms surrounds the property of Fred Morehouse. Hundreds of bulbs must have been planted to create this beautiful display.

Other picturesque dahlia displays are to be seen on other Centreville properties on the way toward the Bay of Fundy shore. We do not know how many bulbs were set out in that community, but we are almost willing to bet it holds the record for any village of its size in Nova Scotia.

A Navy Wife Has Something to Say

To the Editor of the Courier,
Sir—I would like to answer the very unfair letter that was published in the Courier last Thursday. As regards what Digby will do when the navy is gone: Well I assume they will go back to their pre-war days by the look of the town now. That is quite all right, you are all used to it. But the writer of the said letter, thank for a moment.
The boys and girls of the navy are a long way from home. The most of them came from large towns or cities. Of course they are discouraged at being so long in a small town like this. Put yourself in their place—wouldn't you do a little ribbing? There are a lot of Digby boys and girls away from home, too, I believe.
They are doing their share of grumbling wherever they are.
Wouldn't you hate to think they are being talked about, as you are talking about the navy here?
There has been plenty of money spent here, by those same despised people, to say nothing of the 500 or 600 civilians employed at Cornwallis. When the base closes that will all cease. Then you say you won't miss the navy? As regards the "whizz bang" parties.
Well, that is entirely up to the owner of the hotel or rooming house. If they are content to let them raise whoopee, why blame the boys entirely.
Now to the husbands and fathers who will sing "Happy Days are Here Again," when the navy boys sail away on the Princess Helene. (Don't imagine the boys won't too.) There will still be lots of lone wolves around Digby, after the navy pulls out.
As regards the store clerks dancing under the counters for silk hose and Kleenex. I have yet to see anywhere in Canada where that stuff is not kept hidden until asked for. No I have received no favors and expect none.
I see my home town is not mentioned. Yes, I am a long way from home too and have felt pretty low at times and longed to be back. More so since I received word from Ottawa that my only son will not be coming back to it. It is Kenora, Ontario. I have done my share of picking holes in this, that and the other thing. But it is still a free country. Our boys fought and died to keep it so.
I am thankful to say, that so far, the people I have met are grand. Our landlady and landlord are tops—couldn't wish for any better. So far I haven't met any of those people who have no use for the navy wives and their husbands.
Put yourself in those wives' places—they have to adapt themselves to all kinds of inconveniences and different ways of living, to be with their husbands. Believe me I know but I have been very fortunate in as much as I have always met grand people.
Thank you. I am a navy wife.
Rose H. Seller.

Burnham - Porter
The United Baptist Church Bridgetown, was the scene of a lovely September wedding, Saturday afternoon of last week, when Evelyn Eudore Porter, R.N., was united in marriage to Gordon Ernest Burnham, son of Mrs. Burnham and the late Ernest Burnham, of Halifax, formerly of Digby. Rev. Alvin G. Robertson, pastor of the church, officiated.

To the strains of Wagner's Wedding March, Miss Porter entered the church with her father, who gave her in marriage, and took her place beside the groom under an arch of greenery. She wore a gown of velvety-ray organdie, styled floor length with sweetheart neckline, close fitting basque and full skirt. Her full length veil of tulle fell in soft folds from a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of snap dragons and white lilies.

Mrs. L. M. Saunders, of Digby, was matron of honor; Miss Joan Chipman, of Tupperville, bridesmaid, and Carl Hudson, Halifax, best man. Ushers were Guy Benson, Halifax, and P.O. Eugene Chipman, R.C.A.F., of Tupperville. Mrs. Waldon Rice was soloist, accompanied by Miss Chute.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Receiving mother, assisting in serving were bride's parents and the groom's friends of the bride from the Digby Hospital staff.

The bride, who graduated from Ottawa Civic Hospital, was operating nurse at the Digby General Hospital for some months, and was also at one time a resident of Digby, while her father (a former member of the Digby Town Council) was station agent here. The groom is also well known in Digby and is a graduate of the Digby Academy and Acadia University. Mr. and Mrs. Porter will reside in Halifax.

Have you a coat that you can spare? A suit, or dress you never wear? Perhaps some undies, part worn shoes. That from your wardrobe, seldom use. Then GIVE them.

A child's dress, somewhat out of style. A child with none, will count worthwhile. Mitts, neatly darned, are very nice. Protect small hands from snow and ice. So give THEM.

Search through your attic, trunk and box. You'll find at least one pair of socks. Whatever you give, be sure it can help clothe some child, woman or man. So GIVE.

The clothes you give will warm YOUR heart. And to the needy strength impart. Renew, through months of woeful strain— COURAGE, 'til "on their feet" again. So give, GIVE, GIVE !!!

Plan Extension To Expo Plant

Digby County Exhibition had its inception at Bear River over 60 years ago, when it was staged in the open air on the property known as Clarke's Marsh (now where Titus Darres operates a mill). Some 50 years ago, largely through the energy of the late John Thomas, assisted by the community efforts, a spacious exhibition building was erected. In recent years two commodious cattle sheds have been erected, also a dining hall. Plans are being made to put on an extension to the dining hall this season.

The Digby County Exhibition is sponsored by the Digby County Farmers' Association, to be held at Bear River September 19 and 20 of this year. This exhibition is truly an agricultural show and with the exception of one year during the war a very successful exhibition has been carried out. Let all roads lead to Bear River, September 19 and 20.

The ceremony was performed by Rt. Rev. Monsignor F. A. Cfonin, of the cathedral, who also celebrated nuptial High Mass.

The bride was tastefully gowned in a floor length dress of pink satin with hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink Talisman roses. She was attended by Miss Jane McGrath, of Saint John. The groom was attended by John LeBlanc, also of Saint John. The marriage took place within the sanctuary.

Following the ceremony at the church, wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dulong, after which the happy couple left on a wedding tour to Hampton, N.B., and Weymouth, N.S. Before the marriage two showers were tendered the bride, one by Rev. Sister Catherine at St. Joseph's Hospital, and the other at the home of Mrs. Herman Carpenter, an aunt of the groom.

Lays Cornerstone of New Hospital

Hon. A. Stirling MacMillan, in his last public act as premier of Nova Scotia, last week laid the black ebony corner-stone of the new 15-story Victoria General Hospital.

The 73-year-old retiring head of the provincial government scooped up the mortar with his trowel, spread it in place beneath the stone, and declared: "This magnificent structure . . . will, when completed, be for all a symbol of love, mercy and of service."

Lieutenant-Governor Henry E. Kendall, Supreme Court justices, members of the cabinet, the medical and nursing professions, and many citizens of Halifax and other centres, looked on.

"To this new hospital," Mr. MacMillan said, "will come tens of thousands of people from all over the province for healing. Here will be provided the very best medical and surgical facilities obtainable."

Clinics in the new hospital, staffed with specialists, would do away with the need for Nova Scotians to go to other parts of Canada or the United States for specialized medical and surgical care.

The premier paid tribute to the work of hospitals everywhere in the province.

"We have local hospitals," he said, "in practically every town and in many villages throughout the province. They are all doing a grand work."

"The construction of this edifice will mean that difficult cases may be sent here from these local hospitals for observation, and in some cases for the treatment the smaller institutions are unable to provide."

Health Minister Dr. Frank R. Davis emphasized the need for specialists in modern prevention and treatment of disease. The new Victoria General would meet that need. Its operation would be directed to specialized treatment.

"Medical science," he said, "has gone beyond the comprehension of any one man. No one doctor today can pretend to know of all the measures that science can provide."

"The day of specialists and group medicine has arrived, and we can best serve the interest of our people by setting up a group of specialists, each doing the things which he can do best to give care for their patients, provide training medical students, and on whom the general practitioners throughout the province can rely to help him solve his difficulties."

The health minister said he looked particularly to the new outpatient department to do good

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

WATCH YOUR EXPOSURE

111

Proper exposure is all-important if you want clear, sharp snapshots to send to those in the Services.

ARE you having difficulty in getting good, clear, sharp snapshots, and if so do you know what is causing the trouble?

Well, the answer to that double-barreled question is quite simple. Chances are your snapshots that lack technical quality are not properly exposed, and these days, with film so scarce, we should make every snap of the shutter result in a good picture.

Can you "read" a negative and analyze its faults, and thus be able to avoid the errors you have made?

With little experience, every amateur photographer interested in improving his pictures—and everyone should be—can distinguish between a good and a poor negative at a glance. The good, properly exposed negative has a long scale of tones ranging from almost clear in the deepest shadow areas to quite dark in parts which represent the brightest portions of the subject. Density of tones differs in about the same degree in the negative as corresponding tones in the original subject, and there is no veiling or fog in the negative. It is clear and sharp.

An underexposed negative, to the contrary, will show no detail in the shadow areas. The deep shadow portions will be fully transparent. A badly overexposed negative will appear "dusky" overall with little separation of tones between highlights and shadows. In either type of negative—underexposed or overexposed—tone values will not be rendered in correct relation to the tones of the original subject.

The informal shot accompanying this article was printed from a correctly exposed negative. If you could examine a glossy print of this picture, you would see that clearly defined details are present in every highlight and in the shadows.

A great deal is said about the "latitude" of various modern films. By this is meant the ability of the film to allow variations in exposure without detriment to negative quality. That's a very convenient and important quality, for every photographer—amateur or professional—errs a little one way or another at some time, but he should not depend on this latitude as a crutch to help him along.

The handy, inexpensive exposure guides that may be purchased at most any store handling photographic supplies are a good safety device to help assure properly exposed negatives. They will help you too to keep a record of your exposures—lens opening, shutter speed, light conditions, and time of day. Such notes take but a minute and pay grand dividends in results.

If you will follow today's advice you will get pictures of better quality for your own satisfaction and better snapshots to send to those in the Services. John van Guilder Justice William F. Carroll, chairman of the hospital's board of commissioners, said the new Victoria General would give Nova Scotia more hospital beds in proportion to its population than any other province.

Forty per cent of V.G. patients he said, come from outside the city and county of Halifax.

To All DONORS and WORKERS In the Volunteer Blood Donor Service

We Say:

"Thank You!"

Since January 29th, 1940, when the Canadian Red Cross Volunteer Blood Donor Service was established, over 2,300,000 blood donations have been given in Canada. Of this great total the little province of Nova Scotia has contributed.

OVER 112,500 DONATIONS

Here is a record of which Nova Scotians may be justly proud. We know that every Blood Donor will feel amply repaid through the knowledge that his or her blood has been instrumental in saving so many lives among our fighting men. YOUR BLOOD DONOR BUTTON IS YOUR BADGE OF SERVICE.

THE FUTURE

Many deaths occur in Canada daily because of lack of proper blood transfusion service. The Red Cross is an organization of mercy and a survey of all Canada is being made, with a view to setting up a service to provide FREE blood for transfusion service to all hospitals in Canada. This survey has already taken place in Nova Scotia, and was carried out by Dr. Stuart Stanbury, of the University of Leeds, England, who has been in charge of the Blood Transfusion Service for the British Ministry of Health throughout the war. It is anticipated that within a few months further details will be available. Your support is earnestly requested when the new project is launched.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Samuel E. Wilson
The death of Lucy Blanche Wilson, wife of Samuel Edgar Wilson, occurred at her home in Digby, early Friday morning of last week. Mrs. Wilson, who was 67 years of age, had been in ill health for over a year. Born at Point Prim Lighthouse, she was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, who were married over 50 years ago, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last April 11 and have resided in Digby all their lives. Mrs. Wilson was loved and respected in the community and possessed a host of friends who will sincerely regret her passing.

Surviving to mourn beside her husband are three daughters, Eva (Mrs. Wm. Perks); Ellen (Mrs. James Gilmour), both of Halifax; Alice (Mrs. Stanley Magee) of Bridgetown, and five sons, Ralph, Burlingame, Calif.; William, Digby; Douglas, Abington, Mass.; Lawrence, Digby; Harold, Halifax; also three sisters, Mrs. Matilda Turnbull, Bay View; Mrs. Frederick Robinson, Digby, and Mrs. Arthur D. Sully, Smith's Cove; five brothers, William and James Ellis, Bay View; John Ellis, Bear River, Hartney and Richard Ellis, both living in the United States; also 15 grandchildren.

The funeral service was held Sunday, September 9 at the United Church of Canada and was conducted by the Rev. Dr. T. W. Hodgson. Interment was in Fairview Cemetery. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Magee, of Saint John N. B., arrived to attend the funeral. The two sons, Douglas and Ralph, living in the United States, were unable to attend, although Douglas had recently visited his parents, returning home but a week before his mother's death.

Mrs. Roy Sims
There passed away Tuesday of last week, at her home, Jennie A. Sims, wife of Roy Sims, of Digby. She was born in Yarmouth April 7, 1892, and was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Callahan.

The funeral service was held Thursday at Ramsay's Funeral Home, and was conducted by Rev. Dr. Hodgson. Pall bearers were Stillman Handspiker, Lindon Morehouse, George Small and Frederick Brown. Interment was in Fairview Cemetery. (Yarmouth papers please copy.)

Memorial Service

Citizens of Digby thronged beautiful Trinity Anglican Church Sunday evening to pay their final tribute to the memory of B.Q. M.S. Stanley Spray, who was killed overseas recently. Mr. Spray up until the time of his enlistment was Superintendent of Trinity Sunday School and served on the Vestry of the Church.

Commencing with the solemn Silent Procession, the service was very impressive. Appropriate hymns were sung by the choir and included that beautiful hymn "O Valiant Hearts." In his sermon, based on the text, "He that loseth his life for My sake shall find it, rector, Rev. F. B. Skellig, paid it, great tribute to Mr. Spray and to those others who have paid the supreme sacrifice. He stated that the most successful life is not the one that amasses great riches or achieves great material success. "The most successful life is the life of sacrifice, the life that rejoices in service, even to the last supreme sacrifice that of life itself."

Members of the Digby Branch of the Canadian Legion and other Veterans attended the service in a body.

Bond were given a very enjoyable party by a number of their friends at their cabin at Sandy Bottom Lake, on Saturday evening, September 1st the occasion being their 20th wedding anniversary. They were presented with some lovely gifts and delicious refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Church Point Defeats Westport

Westport was defeated 23-13 by Church Point Red Sox over the week end in a friendly exhibition on the Meteghan baseball diamond. Although Westport had decided to play baseball late in the season and with but a couple of games played, they gave a good account of themselves and showed promises of a stronger team for next year. The score was close the first three innings after which the Red Sox forged ahead. P. Graham hit two triples for Westport and Chester Dakin hit a triple for the Red Sox.

Cornwallis Band Presents Concert

Through the kind permission of Captain J. C. I. Edwards, R.C.N. Commanding Officer H. M. C. S. Cornwallis, the 42 piece band of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, presented a most enjoyable open air concert at the Band Stand on Thursday evening of last week. The band was under the direction of Bandmaster L. L. Blackburn, and Assistant Bandmaster C.P.O. E. A. Bunn. Guest conductors were Capt. T. E. Jackson of the Royal Montreal Regiment and Director of Recreation for the Canadian National Railways, and Paul Yates, director of the Digby Civic Band.

The programme with its variety of popular and semi-classical music was greatly appreciated by the large audience gathered about the Band Stand and loud and long applause followed each number. One number was particularly appreciated by the audience. This was Glen Miller's swing arrangement of "American Patrol." Applause for this number was so great that the band repeated a part of the selection as an encore.

Other numbers that were especially appreciated by the audience were the popular selections, "Star-dust," "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" and the symphonic fantasy of that modern classic "St. Louis Blues." In the semi-classical numbers "Faustiana," a march fantasy on the waltz from Gounod's "Faust," was wonder-

Reception In Yarmouth

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lewis, who were recently married, were tendered an informal reception on Thursday evening last, at their home on Chester St., Yarmouth, by a number of their friends and relatives. After Mr. and Mrs. Lewis had received a social hour was enjoyed, followed by the serving of dainty refreshments, including a prettily decorated wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis were the recipients of many lovely and useful gifts, including money, glassware, china, silverware and linen. Mr. Lewis is a former resident of Digby.

fully well rendered by the band as were also such numbers as the overture "Lustspiel," the march "World Events" which is the theme music for Movietone News and Gliere's "Russian Sailors' Dance." Capt. T. E. Jackson conducted the band in its rendition of "Faustiana" and Mr. Yates presented the march "The Thunderer" by Sousa.

Collectors who passed through the crowd during the performance realized a gross of $85, which is to be divided between the Digby Kiwanis Club and the Digby Civic Band. The Kiwanis Club's share (60%) will go toward a fund being raised by that organization to assist the local branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses to purchase a car for the use of the nurse.

Express Appreciation

To the Editor of the Courier, Sir:—Before leaving Digby we would like to express our thanks through you to the Town and its People, for their hospitality and various kindnesses to us.

We sail for Halifax on Saturday the eighth at half past one. After a stop of two days to fuel and store ship, we set off on the fifteen day trip to England, or I should say Scotland.

More than one of the lads has asked me if any means are open to them to be discharged on this side of the water, but unfortunately some one must sail the ship home.

I close by repeating my thanks and those of the ship's company to the People of Digby, who have made us so welcome during our stay.

Yours sincerely,

Deep Brook

Dr. H. T. DeWolfe, Professor Emeritus of Acadia University, was the guest speaker in the Baptist churches of Smith's Cove, Deep Brook and Clementsport, on Sunday, Sept. 9. Rev. T. F. McSweeney, pastor of the churches, who just returned from a month's vacation, arranged special rallies in the interest of the Sunday School. At Smith's Cove, the S. S. occupied the centre of the auditorium and the large congregation heard Dr. DeWolfe give a stirring address on "The Home." At the close of this service Frank Adams, Geraldine Soules and Helen Soules were baptized at the Thomas beach, where a large crowd gathered for the ceremony. In the afternoon at Deep Brook, Dr. DeWolfe inspired his hearers with a masterly address on "Christian Education," where the S. S. after the summer vacation, was re-organized with Eber Peck as Superintendent, Mrs. Howard Adams, asst. supt., Walter Dittmar, sect. Treas., and Mrs. Reginald Thomas, organist. The day's activities closed with the Doctor giving an evangelistic address at Clementsport on "The Prince Who Became a Pauper."

During the pastor's absence on vacation the churches have been supplied for the most part by Rev. F. Burton Long, with Rev. Smith part time at Clementsport. A very interesting and helpful address was given in the Deep Brook church on August 19 by Miss Flora Ernst, R.N., who was recently repatriated from the Japanese prison camp in the Philippines.

MAKE 100 ATLANTIC CROSSINGS

Three Trans-Canada Air Lines officers, employed in the Canadian Government trans-Atlantic air service operated by T.C.A., have each made more than 100 flights across the ocean between Montreal and Prestwick, Scotland.

Capt. George B. Lothian (left) holds the record for non-stop flights from Montreal to Prestwick. His Lancaster made the trip in 10 hours and 15 minutes, last November, carrying more than 6,000 pounds of mail for the troops overseas and 2,036 pounds of freight. Born in Vancouver, B.C., Capt. Lothian began flying in 1929. He joined T.C.A. in its inaugural year, 1937. In 1941 he was loaned to the Ferry Command and made his first Atlantic crossing delivering a Hudson bomber from Gander, Newfoundland, to Scotland. A year later, he flew British Overseas Airways Corporation Liberators as Captain, carrying Ferry Command delivery crews back to Canada from the United Kingdom. Before joining the T.C.A.-operated Atlantic service on its establishment in July, 1943, he was on loan to the R.C.A.F. to train the first long-range Liberator squadron.

Flight Lieut. Harold F. Thomas, navigating officer (centre) now discharged from the R.C.A.F. and on the T.C.A. payroll, was born in Columbus, Ohio, and attended Ohio State University. He joined the R.C.A.F. in 1941 and in the following year was posted to the Ferry Command, making his first trans-Atlantic crossing in a B-25 bomber delivery. He was afterwards loaned to the B.O.A.C. as navigator flying with the T.C.A. crew on loan. He has been in the T.C.A.-operated Atlantic service since its beginning.

Radio Officer Alan J. Blackwood (right), who has also been in since the beginning, was, like Capt. Lothian, born in Vancouver. He joined T.C.A. in 1939 as a ground radio operator and began Atlantic flying in 1942 as a light radio officer on loan to B.O.A.C.

Board Takes No Action

A letter from the Annapolis Board of Trade was read at the Digby Board meeting Tuesday evening in which the Annapolis Board asked the support of the Digby Board of Trade in their attempt to have the government continue H.M.C.S. Cornwallis as a permanent Naval Base. It was felt by the Digby Board that, since the Annapolis Board had made the initial move in this matter and had greatly publicized their action, that they should carry the matter to the Valley Boards of Trade for that body's action. The Digby Board felt that no good purpose would be served by action on its part in this matter.

Championship Victory Garden Helps Feed Family of 18

NEAR-PERFECT SCORE: The 200 by 50 foot plot (above), which has been adjudged the best victory garden on the Island of Montreal this year, helps feed the eight grown children and eight grand-children of Joseph Totta (inset), section foreman for the Canadian Pacific Railway at Montreal West. Totta works an hour before going on duty at 7 a.m. and three hours after quitting time at 4 p.m. in growing 22 different vegetables, many of which Mrs. Totta canned or put down, as her share in supplementing the commercially grown vegetable supply needed to alleviate the food shortage in Europe. Judges for The Montreal Star contest which Totta won, called his garden "without doubt the finest vegetable garden ever entered in the competition" and gave him 28 out of a possible 30 points for quality. They looked in vain for weeds and pests and particularly remarked on his four-inch-deep cultivation, a valuable aid to moisture conservation.

PICTURING INTERIORS

Pictures such as this one are easily made with the "open flash" method described below.

CHANCES are that in taking pictures to send to Corporal Jim or Sergeant Jane in the Services, you have overlooked an important subject—pictures showing familiar settings inside the home.

There's Jim's favorite corner and chair where he slouched in comfort as he leisurely smoked his pipe and thoroughly enjoyed the latest book. Or, perhaps you have added some new furniture or drapes, or rearranged the furniture since his departure. Those are stories-from-home pictures that are sure to make a big hit with anyone away from home.

Some people believe that taking interiors is one phase of photography that should be delegated to the advanced amateur. They have the erroneous idea, too, that lighting is quite a problem. The truth is, however, that taking pictures indoors is really quite easy, especially when made by the "open flash" method which is explained later in this article.

Here are a few pointers that may help you in making interior pictures such as the one above. First, let's consider the arrangement of the furniture. Avoid including large pieces of furniture in the immediate foreground because they might occupy more space in the picture than they deserve. Secondly, the camera should be placed on some solid object such as a tripod, so that more of the floor than of the ceiling can be seen in the viewfinder. If the reverse, the picture will look top-heavy and out of proportion. When you look into or at a room, your glance is naturally directed slightly downward at the furniture and the floor and not at the ceiling, so that is the view you should see in your viewfinder. There are two very simple methods of making interior pictures. One is the "open flash" and the other with the ordinary electric lights regularly used in home lamps. Here's how you would make an "open flash" interior similar to the one accompanying this article. First, have your camera firmly placed on a tripod, a table or some solid object. After you have carefully composed your picture in the viewfinder and have your camera properly focused, set the shutter for "time" or "bulb" and the lens aperture at  $f/22$ , if you are using super speed film, or at  $f/16$  with ordinary film. With the room light turned on as usual you are ready to make your "flash."

Place one of the small-type flash lamps in a battery-equipped hand reflector. With the reflector held to the side of your camera and slightly higher than your head and tilted down so as to direct the light onto your subject, open the lens, flash the lamp, and immediately close the shutter... and you have made your picture.

If you do not have a flash reflector and cannot buy, borrow, beg, or steal one, you can use what is known as a number twenty-two flash bulb in a floor lamp with the shade removed. A white card held back of the lamp will serve nicely as a reflector.

You can also make good time exposure pictures by the light from your regular home lamps. Space will not permit explaining this method but you can purchase from your photographic dealer an inexpensive home lighting guide which will give full details on exposure.

Those in the Services will enjoy interior pictures from home, so set aside one evening to take them.

Dunn, returning officer for this County, has been busy during the past week getting the election machinery in motion.

It is understood Liberal, Progressive-Conservative and C.C.F. parties will have candidates in the field in Digby County for this election. A nominating convention for the Progressive-Conservative Party was held at Weymouth last evening. The meeting was addressed by Leonard Fraser, provincial party leader.

We regret it is impossible for us to publish details of this meeting in this issue of the Courier as our paper goes to press Wednesday.

Decision Reserved

Decision was reserved by County Court Judge Kenneth L. Crowell in court Monday morning, in the appeal of Mrs. Mabel Fiske against the decision of the Assessment Appeal Court concerning the assessment of the Manhattan Hotel property. Grounds of the appeal were that the assessment was too high considering the value placed on the property by appraisers and taking into consideration comparative assessments.

A number of witnesses were called by counsel for the appellant, M. S. Leonard, who stated their opinions concerning the value of the property. Lawrence Hicks of the firm of J. H. Hicks & Son, Bridgetown, who was called, stated that he had examined the building and found it to be in a state of disrepair. He stated that he felt that the salvage, if the building were torn down, would not more than pay for the labour involved. Other witnesses called by the appellant were F. K. Hayden, A. L. Robinson, Leigh Peck, Mrs. Fiske, T. L. Deveau, H. G. Washburn, C. W. Smith and J. G. MacDonald. Several of these witnesses stated that in their opinion the building was of little value and many figures were quoted concerning selling prices and assessments on other properties of like nature in the town.

Defence witnesses called were Chief Assessor C. Fred McBride and Assessor M. C. Denton. These men stated that they felt the assessment was fair and right taking all things into consideration and also gave evidence concerning the manner in which they arrived at the assessment figure.

To Return "Borrowed Time"

Our clocks will be turned back one hour on September 30 when all of Canada reverts to Standard Time, thus the government will return that hour's sleep they borrowed from us back in 1942 when the country went on the Daylight War Time basis. The way we feel now we would appreciate a little interest on the investment.

Official clocks are to be set back at 2 a.m. Sunday morning—but most of us, unless we forget it, will probably look after this little detail before we retire Saturday evening.

Daylight, or Wartime, no doubt contributed its bit to the war effort through the saving of electrical energy in highly industrialized areas. It certainly meant much to victory gardeners who appreciated that extra hour of evening daylight, nevertheless, it was never wholly popular in rural areas, and especially during the winter months, met with much opposition throughout Canada, principally because of the dark winter mornings. In a number of communities, during the winter time it was necessary to delay school opening time by one-half to one hour because classes could not be held in dark school houses—or because in some instances, little tots had to travel long distances before daylight.

On the whole we believe town and city folk would like to see daylight time resumed during the summer months.

Mrs. Carv and Miss Mildred left for New York on Sunday. Miss Evelyn Wesley, who spent the summer with her mother, Mrs. Emma Wesley, at Weymouth North, has returned to Massachusetts.

Hill Grove Fair Great Success

The members of the Maple Leaf Agricultural Society met in the Hall at Acaciaville on Monday evening to receive the reports of the different committees which helped to make the recent Community Fair and Field Day the most successful in its history.

Heavy rain and a sharp thunder and lightning storm marred the opening day but the brilliant sunshine and the summer like temperature of the last day and evening ensured a crowning success.

"Community Fairs such as this have a far greater educational value than the larger exhibitions, from an agricultural point of view", declared Hector Cutten, of Lower Truro, who gave the opening address on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Cutten, who placed the awards on the garden vegetables and field crops congratulated the growers of the vicinity on the excellence of the vegetables and seeds shown which he said compared favorably in both quantity and quality with many county exhibitions.

Rev. J. Earle DeLong, of Digby, commended the people for their co-operative effort in making such a show possible and urged that future shows be kept clear of "midway attractions". Mr. DeLong was also an exhibitor and won first prize on green Hubbard Squash.

The big attraction of the show was the horse and oxen pulling contest which resulted as follows: 1st prize in the heavy double horse competition was won by Glendon Haight, weight of team 2881, hauled 5550, 1.98%. Second, Lewis Frude, weight of team 3,255, hauled 6045, 1.86%. Single Horses, Glendon Haight, weight of team 1496, hauled 3925, 2.62%. Second, Lewis Frude, weight 1,698, hauled 3010, 1.79%. Third, Newmap Grey, weight 1475, hauled 3550, 2.45%.

Ox teams double: 1st, John Haight, weight 3144, hauled 5365, 1.71%. Second, John Theriault, weight 2449, hauled 5065, 1.47%. Third, Harry Jefferson, weight 2950, hauled 3600, 1.22%. Fourth, Wilfred Potcheud, weight 2302, hauled 2600, 1.13%.

The live stock section which was judged by Mr. Knight, was the best ever shown there and competition was very keen in many classes. Refreshment booths did a capacity business and the hungry crowd did full justice to the delicious pies, cakes, etc. which were on sale.

A twilight game of base ball attracted a number of spectators. The Digby team winning 11 to 9 over Hill Grove.

Motion pictures and dancing entertained the large evening crowd until 11:30, when the 4th annual Community Fair came to a close. Receipts amounted to $715.00.

Captain and Mrs. T. E. Jackson, Musical Director of the Royal Montreal Regiment, who has been visiting in Digby for the past two weeks, guests of Paul Yates, returned Monday. Capt. Jackson is also Personnel Recreation Director for the Canadian National Railways.

Fair Promises To Be A Success

With the flag over the exhibition building flying at half mast the annual Digby County Exhibition got under way at Bear River yesterday. The flag had been hoisted to half mast out of respect for Fred C. Harris, president of the Bear River Agricultural Society and of the committee in charge of the exhibition, who died suddenly Tuesday morning.

Heavy rains somewhat spoiled the first day of the two day fair, but in spite of the weather there was a fairly good attendance, and this year's exhibition promises to be a grand success. The committee hope to be favored by better weather and a better crowd today.

This year's exhibits of livestock is exceptionally fine and perhaps the largest in the history of the exhibition. Stock pens are full and overflow pens have been constructed on various parts of the grounds. There is a splendid showing of horses and cattle, particularly cattle. Poultry exhibits with many varieties of birds, are up over those of previous years. There is also a showing of rabbits and guinea pigs.

Vegetable exhibits are down in comparison with those of previous years although the quality of produce on display is excellent in quality. Fruits are practically non-existent. Probably for the first time in history no apples are displayed at this fair. A large display of flowers, both wild and cultivated is on display and arrangements of the bouquets show splendid taste.

Particularly interesting are the exhibits of cookery and handicraft work. Splendid examples of the work of the housewives of Digby County are on show at the fair and certainly prove that those housewives are wonderful cooks and homemakers. It was indeed difficult to keep from reaching into the displays of cookery and extracting some particularly tasty and appetizing looking exhibit for sampling. Cakes, cookies, pies, and breads galore are on exhibit and it is understood many will be sold after the judging.

In the handicraft display are to be found many fine examples of needlecraft and knitting. Beautiful quilts are shown, lovely hand knitted sweaters, socks and mittens, afghans and hooked rugs.

Work of the school children of Digby County on exhibit at the fair is of high quality and speaks well for the training being received by those pupils. Exhibits of seatwork, handicraft and other work done by the children feature this section of the fair.

Because of the weather conditions many of the outdoor attractions had to be cancelled but a full program including a concert by H.M.C.S. Cornwallis Band; physical training displays; horse and ox pulls are expected today.

Prominent Citizen Passes

The flag of Nova Scotia flew at the half mast on the main building of the Digby County Exhibition yesterday, marking the sudden passing of Fred C. Harris, President of the Bear River Agricultural Society.

Mr. Harris, who has been in poor health for the past few weeks passed away suddenly about noon on Tuesday. He had been up for breakfast and was found dead in his bed later when his wife went up to his room.

He is survived by his widow and three sons, Jack, Milton and James. One sister, Mrs. Wendell Chute, of Dorchester, Mass., also survives. Mr. Harris had one brother, Jack, who was killed in the Great War. He himself also served in that struggle.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed. A complete obituary and account of the funeral will be printed in next week's paper.

Together for First Time in Forty Years

The home of Nathan Naas, Conway, was the scene of a happy reunion Friday of last week when Mr. Naas and his three brothers were together for the first time in 40 years. The four brothers all reside in the province of Nova Scotia, but in all these years this was the first occasion all have been together at one time.

The brothers are Nathan Naas, Conway; Austin Naas, Lake Munroe, Annapolis Co.; Lenley Naas, Dartmouth, and Wilfred Naas, Walden, Lunenburg County.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wallis motored to Sheburne and back over the week end.

Sgt. W. E. MacMahon who arrived from overseas on the Duchess of Bedford, is now spending a thirty-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. MacMahon at Digby. Sgt. MacMahon has served overseas nearly six years with the Royal Canadian Engineers, having campaigned in Sicily, Italy, France, Holland, Belgium and Germany. Mrs. L. L. MacCrae, of Grand Falls, N.B., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. MacMahon.

LOSES LIFE IN BICYCLE CAR CRASH

Fourteen year old Kenneth O'Neill, son of Gordon O'Neill, of Plympton, died in Digby General Hospital about 11:30 Tuesday night, several hours after he received grievous injuries as the result of a bicycle-car crash at Plympton Corner. According to Dr. E. D. Dickie, death was the result of a fractured skull, although the victim suffered other serious injuries about the head and face.

The accident occurred about 3:30 Tuesday afternoon when young O'Neill, riding a bicycle, plunged head on into a Yarmouth bound car operated by Mrs. Kenneth Morrell, of Yarmouth. Mrs. Morrell was returning home with a party of friends after seeing folks off on the Princess Helene, at Digby.

The lad was on his way home from school and according to reports turned the corner at a high rate of speed and was unable to make the corner properly or could he stop to avoid the crash. The Plympton schoolhouse is located on the Plympton Station Road, some 100 yards from the main highway. There is a fairly steep grade leading from the school to the highway.

It is understood O'Neill, coming down the Plympton Station Road from the school did not stop or slacken his speed at the stop sign at the intersection of the two roads. Rounding the corner to travel up the main road in the direction of Digby, he plunged into the Yarmouth bound car with such force he was thrown from his wheel and his head crashed through the car windshield.

O'Neill was rushed to the Digby Hospital 12 miles away where every effort was made to save his life.

An inquest with coroner Dr. J. R. McCleave presiding as coroner, was opened at Ramsay's Funeral Parlors, Digby, yesterday afternoon when the jury was sworn. After viewing the remains they adjourned until 10:00 a.m. today.

Next Meeting of Presbytery

The next meeting of the Annapolis Presbytery of the United Church is to be held in Digby on Friday, October 5, morning and afternoon. The morning session will be devoted to matters of interest to the Annapolis Presbytery, but in the afternoon they will be joined by a part—if not all—of the Yarmouth Presbytery, to hear addresses from Rev. Dr. Rideout, of Toronto, and Rev. Roy Webster, of West China.

More About the Centreville Dahlias

In our last issue we wrote a short item on the display of dahlias at Centreville—in this item we made mention of a hedge of these blossoms surrounding the property of Fred Morehouse.

We were mistaken—the hedge we referred to surrounded the property of Leonard Hubley, the bulbs were set out by his son, Ralph, and were supplied by Beecher Morehouse. Another dahlia hedge on the other side of the road fronts the Beecher Morehouse property.

The original item was written from our own observations. As we recalled Centreville from previous visits were under the impression it was Fred Morehouse and not Mr. Hubley who lived on that property.

Club Sponsors Drive

Decision to sponsor the National Clothing Collection for the town of Digby was reached at a supper meeting of the Y's Men's Club held at Jersey Farms last Wednesday evening.

Plans were made for the drive and a committee composed of Sypher Morrell, Donald Deming and J. Warren Fenety, appointed to take charge.

Special speaker at the meeting was Deputy Mayor Victor Cardoza who spoke on "Digby and the Post-War Period." In his address Mr. Cardoza stated that in peacetime Digby could not expect to have any juicy plums dropped in its lap, such as occurred in the establishment of the Naval Base at Cornwallis but must of its own efforts create its peacetime prosperity. He outlined various methods in which Digby could accomplish this and called upon the members of the club, young business men of the town, to exert every effort towards building a bright future for the town. "You are dependent for your own prosperity on the prosperity of the town and surrounding country; it is up to you to see that the highest measure of that prosperity is achieved."

Provisional Chairman Jack Brittain presided over the meeting and tendered the speaker a hearty vote of thanks on behalf of the club at the conclusion of his address.

At 84 Years Visits Old School

On Wednesday, September 5, Mrs. James Winchester, of Bear River, was the guest of Mrs. Gertrude Spears and Mrs. George Jefferson, at Bear River East. Mrs. Winchester is a lady of 86 years and was born at Bear River in the house which she visited that day. To make the visit more interesting Mrs. Winchester was driven to the "same little school house" in which she received most of her education and many were the memories revived by going inside and sitting in the same seats she did as a girl. Although changes have been made, such as electricity being installed, many old landmarks were recognized and a pleasant day was brought to a close.

About This and That

For years the buying trend was down—except for war materials. Apparently it was never going to stop. But now it has turned up, over a wide front. And the buying is public as well as private. A county purchasing agent says he has had more people in to see him in one week now than before in three months. "They're offering everything," he says, "but cars and trucks particularly. The smart companies kept salesmen on the rounds just saying hello through the war years. Now the others have to catch up."

Such a tip might be worth passing on for any difficult period. One family which had to purchase a car during the war, and members of which suffered much at the hands of dealers who took no trouble, explained nothing, guaranteed nothing—"There's the car—take it or leave it"—will long remember and patronize whenever possible the firm which was courteous and honest. Its square salesmen and competent mechanics said pleasantly when complimented, "The boss says we've been in business a long time and expect to go on. It's merely good business to treat people as dependably now as at any other time." It was indeed good business. And is, and always will be.

A man could keep reasonably happy in this world if his neighbors wouldn't worry about his business.

Such Nazis as are not executed but still remain unfit for decent society might fit in very nicely on Kerguelen Island. That is a rocky dot in the South Indian Ocean, some 2,300 miles apart from Australia, and the Cape of Good Hope. Anybody left there would have no chance of escaping. While the climate is bleak, it is livable, and best of all, Kerguelen is uninhabited, so that the Nazis would have no one to corrupt but themselves. A name often given to Kerguelen is Desolation Island. If the Nazis were sent there, a better name might be Abomination.

Many a girl has learned that marriage is worth while—at least for a little while.

Archbishop says: "In all the American hierarchy, resident in the United States, there is not one bishop, archbishop or cardinal whose father or mother had been graduated from college. Everyone of our bishops and archbishops is the son of a workingman and a workingman's wife." The only criticism of that statement is the implication that "white collar" people are not workingmen, too.

Originality sometimes gets a man in trouble, and then shows him the way out.

They were experienced craftsmen and newspapermen. Some accepted payment for their services, while others, homesick for the smell of printers' ink and to whom the clang of printing presses was music to their ears, refused pay and thanked us for letting them "play around" in our shop for a few hours.

Navy wives too have done us many favors. At least three accepted part time employment with us. Another, in our employ for more than a year as a reporter, is still pleasantly remembered by us and our readers—and frequently visitors to our office from in town and out of town make friendly inquiries about Mrs. McRann.

We will remember these navy men and women for a long time. We miss them, but for their sake, we are happy that most of them have been able to return to their homes and their loved ones. We hope it will be our pleasure to again meet these friends and talk over old times with them.

We again state it is our policy to let others express their personal opinions in our columns even when those views are contrary to ours. The fact we publish their letters does not in any way alter our opinions—and especially our opinion of the boys and girls of Cornwallis.

Fishing Careers In Fishing Industry

Four more Nova Scotia youths will go to college this fall on scholarships awarded by the Department of Industry and Publicity designed to help them fit themselves for careers in the fishing industry.

Dr. Douglas L. Cooper, the department's director of fisheries, announced that the fisheries scholarship committee had made awards to the following:

Ian D. Ross, 16, Waverly, Halifax county, a graduate of Queen Elizabeth High School, Halifax.

Harold Marshall, 16, Springfield, Annapolis county, a graduate of Lawrencetown High School.

Ernest R. Hayes, 17, New Glasgow, graduate of New Glasgow High School.

John E. M. Dawe, 18, Hazel Hill, Guysboro county, who graduated from Hazel Hill High School and was a student at St. Francis Xavier university, Antigonish, last year.

The scholarship brings the winner $660 a year plus tuition, fees at any university in Nova Scotia where he intends to study for a degree in science and engineering.

Ross and Marshall will study chemical engineering at Dalhousie university this fall and winter. Hayes will enter the chemistry course at Acadia university and Dawe will continue in chemical engineering at St. Francis Xavier university.

Seventeen young men applied for the scholarships, an increase of four over 1944, first year the awards were made. Dr. Cooper reported.

Competition was keen and scholarship standings were high.

Two of last year's winners, Alex T. Stewart, of Dartmouth, and John Power, of Sydney, will continue their studies this year with renewed scholarships.

Weather and Crops

"Rainfall at the Agricultural College Meteorological Station for the month of August totalled 3.03 inches. This compares with a thirty-five year average of 3.24 inches. At the Dominion Experimental Farm Station, Nappan, the rainfall for the month was only 1.14 inches. Like variations occurred over the Province. In general the rainfall was only moderate and succeeded the unusually dry month of July.

The hay crop was heavy and, with exceptionally favorable weather for curing, the quality is excellent. As a result of much late seeding and the dry July and part of August, yields of grain will generally be rather light though about ten per cent heavier than the 1944 crop; and few farmers report heavy yields. Early potatoes have yielded comparatively light crops with a large proportion of small tubers. The outlook for late potatoes is considerably better although it is yet too soon to forecast the final yield. Roots are generally reported as good but the acreage somewhat reduced. Pastures which were very good throughout June and the first part of July became very dry at midsummer and to date have only partially recovered. No substantial change is reported in respect to the apple crop which will be the smallest on record since the early part of the century.

Church Point

Pte. Alfred Boudreau arrived last Tuesday from overseas and is spending his leave with his family, who are at present staying with his mother, Mrs. Marina Boudreau.

Tpr. Gerald Melanson, who has spent his 30-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Melanson, has returned to Halifax. Tpr. Melanson arrived from overseas four weeks ago and had volunteered for the Pacific.

Church Point Red Sox downed St. Ann's 22-4 at the college diamond during the week end. St. Ann's with but four of last year's players in the lineup, were no match for the blasting of the Red Sox. St. Ann's took the lead in the first inning when Edward Surette hit a homer with one on and held the lead until the third inning when the Red Sox never house opened up scoring 5 runs. From then on St. Ann's were finished. Chester Dakin pitched for Church Point, allowing but 3 hits and walking 4. Paul Melanson, of the Red Sox, hit two triples and two singles in five times up. Pitching for St. Ann's: J. Higgins, A. Gaudet and Edward Surette. Higgins pitched good ball for two innings but weakened in the third and Gaudet and Surette, who were rushed in to stem the Red Sox rally could not stop them.

Bear River Boy Had Big Task

Second Base Air Depot, Blackpool, England—Moving more than 36 million separate aircraft parts and accessories from their base since V-E day, Cpl. Harry I. McDormand, of Providence, R.I., and his fellow supply technicians at the Air Service Command's Second Base Air Depot in England, just completed the war's fastest mass shipment of aerial combat material.

With more than a million pounds of supplies streaming from the depot every week, most of them high priority items originally on their way to the Pacific, the project consumed 12 million board feet of lumber, 600 miles of waterproof paper, 100 tons of nails, and 2,000 bales of shredded paper excelsior.

Cpl. Harry I. McDormand is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McDormand, Bear River, N.S. Overseas 24 months, he was employed by the H. P. Hood and Son Inc., 135 Harris Ave., Providence, R.I., before joining the army in December, 1942.

Returned Men Entertained

A very pleasant evening was spent on Friday, Sept. 14, when the community of Bear River Road tendered their returned boys a "welcome and general get-together" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Chisholm. The affair was sponsored by the Home and School Association and took the form of a supper with Mrs. Murray Alcorn, convenor of same. The tables were well laden with corn, ripe tomatoes, salads, fancy bread, cake and cookies, and about fifty enjoyed this excellent repast.

After supper, Max Isles in a neat speech, extended the boys a hearty welcome. He reminded us all not to forget those who would never return and ended by expressing the desire that the entire community work together as the boys in the services did, thereby making Bear River Road one of the best communities in Nova Scotia.

Gifts were than presented by Mrs. Earle Banks to those boys who had not previously been remembered, after which suitable replies were made by some of the boys.

Bear River Road can well be proud of its record, in having 30 men and women in the services. Six paid the supreme sacrifice.

Yours?

This is our own version of a good conduct award. Most telephone "party-liners" should have one.

And really, it's easy to qualify for one. All you do is observe a few simple rules in using your party line. Such as...

Allowing a generous interval between calls.

Making sure your receiver is "on the hook" when your line is not in use.

Keeping your calls short.

And...oh yes, being patient and courteous...always.

Farmers' Calendar September

Now is the harvest season in garden and orchard. Don't let any of your early apples go to waste. You may be surprised at what a good market there is for your best ones. The pigs and sheep can eat a lot of the culls, and your cattle too in moderation. If there is a commercial cider press handy to you, they will be glad to give you the apple pulp for the carting away. This makes a good feed for your stock.

You will start to see the results of the planning you did in the long January evenings. Being a farmer, you probably have not had things turn out as well as you thought they would. But then you hadn't thought they would—being a farmer.

The boys and girls go back to school this month. (Some of them may not like to go back but they go back just the same.) Try this term to make a point of visiting the school at least once.

Get the weeds out of your garden before they go to seed. If you are careless about this you will pay dearly for it next year. Put your compost heap in good condition. You must have enough accumulated grass cuttings and weeds to start a new one. Turn the old one over now to make sure of even rotting throughout. If you use both lime and manure in the compost—and you should—see that the lime and manure are not in the same layers. They are there for quite different purposes. Lime kills the effectiveness of manure.

And last of all, "Don't Miss the Digby County Exhibition"—if you have the gasoline.

Next week: "Home Front Problem Number 1."

—A Friend.

No need to wonder about synthetic tires standing up—not when you can buy Firestone DeLuxe Champions—the tires that were used on the famous speedway test supervised by officials of the American Automobile Association.

Imagine the punishment those tires took as Wilbur Shaw, the famous race driver, streaked over the 500-mile course to average 100.34 miles per hour... equal to 50,000 miles of ordinary driving. Not a skid or blowout occurred even when he stepped up to 135 miles on the straightaways!

YOU CAN'T GAMBLE WITH INFLATION

THE DICE ARE LOADED AGAINST YOU

Canadians are lucky. So far we've prevented inflation and avoided deflation.

It's not been just good luck.

Your support—everybody's support—of price ceilings, rationing and other controls alone has made it possible.

BUT NOW COMES THE REAL TESTING TIME.

The danger of inflation and its black shadow, deflation, will last as long as goods are scarce and insufficient to meet demands.

With the war over and plenty of money in our pockets it's easy to overlook the danger.

It's easy to think that paying just a little more to get something we want is unimportant now.

It's easy to think that what you do can't hurt—and to forget that careless, extravagant buying is a sure way to help a general rise in prices.

That's how inflation gets going.

BUT INFLATION IS ALWAYS FOLLOWED BY DEFLATION.

And deflation brings cancelled orders, bankrupt businesses, mortgage foreclosures, unemployment and distress—distress you can't avoid.

Until industry gets back to normal, price ceilings, rationing and other controls are our safeguard.

SO— Keep on watching your buying. Don't rush to buy scarce goods. Keep on saving your money. Put it into Victory bonds and War Savings certificates.

Keep on supporting wage and price controls, and rationing. Keep on fighting inflation and its black shadow... deflation.

This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing a further increase in the cost of living now and deflation and unemployment later.

Paper Salvage Campaign

The paper salvage drive has not been discontinued or forgotten, but has been postponed for a brief period. The collection will be made October 26 and 27. The National Used Clothing Drive is largely responsible for this postponement. The clothing drive which gets under way October 1st, is a Canada-wide campaign, while the paper salvage campaign is a local matter. Many of the same people are behind both campaigns. For the time being it was felt the collection of used clothing should be given priority.

Those who have been saving paper are asked not to destroy it, but to continue adding to their collection. Every bit is essential.

"Letters to the Editor"

During the past two weeks in particular, we have received considerable unsigned correspondence for publication in our columns. We have pointed out on many occasions all articles—news matter or letters to the editor—must bear the signature of the writer, otherwise we can pay no attention to them. The signature does not have to appear in print, but it must be there. If requested, we will use a non-de-plume, or the initials of the writer—but we must know the source of the article. Usually, unsigned material is of a most contentious nature, much of which would not be published even should we know from whence it came, but recent unsigned letters have been of exceptionally high quality, very well written and discussing common sense topics.

ACADEMY ENROLLMENT HIGHEST IN HISTORY

Five hundred and thirty pupils are enrolled at the Digby Academy this term. Of these 115 are in high school classes and 415 in common school grades. This represents an increase of 34 over last year when 496 pupils were registered.

The present enrollment sets an all time record, and the increase will necessitate the addition of at least one teacher to the staff. Recently the Board of School Commissioners with T. A. M. Kirk, District School Inspector and Municipal School Board met for the purpose of arriving at a satisfactory solution which will take care of the problems of congestion in the lower grades.

Further meetings are anticipated during the coming week. It is expected a full report of the proceedings will be published in the next issue of the Courier.

Port Maitland

Scores Over St. Ann's

Port Maitland walked off with an 18-11 victory over St. Ann's in an exhibition baseball game played on the college diamond over the week end. The game was really a close affair up until the sixth inning when Port Maitland scored 7 runs and again in the seventh when 6 runs came across the plate. Port Maitland scored 2 runs in the first inning, 1 in the second, 2 in the fourth, 7 in the sixth and 6 in the seventh. St. Ann's were held scoreless until the third inning when they scored 3 runs. Another 3 runs were scored in the fifth, 1 in the sixth and seventh innings, and 3 in the eighth. J. Higgins was on the mound for St. Ann's and pitched good ball until he weakened in the sixth inning. Ed. Surrette finished the game.

Pitching for Port Maitland was K. Southern, who pitched a good game.

"Become dissatisfied with your town" was the theme that ran through the address delivered to the Digby Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon by Rev. Leo Murphy. The subject of Father Murphy's talk was "Our Town." His advice to his listeners was "to see our town through the eyes of those who pass through it." In that way he suggested, we might avoid becoming too satisfied with ourselves. He pointed out progress succumbs to complacency and the best way to become complacent is to sit back and say "all is well."

The judgment others place upon our town is the judgment that really counts. If the townspeople are sufficiently self-satisfied with their town to tolerate poorly lighted streets; to put up with roads that are really unfit to drive a car over; to countenance scars of fire ruins—almost as naked as the day the fires occurred; to condone the existence of vacant fire traps that not only threaten nearby properties, but endanger the morals of young people, it is time some of us began to get dissatisfied and do something to change things. He pointed out these faults, blemishes and neglect were seen by the visitors who pass through our town—unfortunately, when they talk about Digby on their return home, it is these things that are too often the highlight of their conversation, and not the matters we would like to have them talk about.

The speaker further made references to resolutions passed by our Board of Trade and other organizations, and deplored the fact these resolutions as worthy as they are, are seldom followed through. The usual procedure was: Forward the resolution to a minister of the government—sometimes accompanied by a delegation. A courteous hearing is granted. Assurance is given "the matter will be given consideration." The matter is filed and in many cases forgotten, but had they been followed up with further resolutions and further delegations they would realize we mean business—and action will follow.

His closing advice was "Be kickers—never be satisfied on the way up."

Second Crop

Potatoes Yield Well

What's the good of talking about scarcity of potatoes when you can raise two crops in one season? On the last day of April, George VanTassel, Light-house Rd., planted his first potato seed. On July 10 he planted his second lot of seed on the same ground and on Tuesday he brought in to the Courier office a small bag of potatoes from this second crop. They were normal tubers and up to 8 3/4 inches in circumference.

Liberals to Nominate Candidate

The nominating convention for the Digby County Liberal Association for the purpose of choosing their candidate to contest this county in the forthcoming election, has been set for Saturday, October 6. The convention will be held in Community Theatre, Weymouth, at 2 p.m.

Almost continuously since 1906 this constituency has been represented by Hon. J. Willie Comeau, minister without portfolio in the present cabinet.

Recently, an article appearing in the Montreal Standard, outlining Mr. Comeau's political career, suggested he would retire from active politics at the close of the present session of the Provincial Legislature. This article was reprinted by the press in many sections. Later, Mr. Comeau was reported to have stated he had not definitely decided whether he would retire or not.

Nevertheless, there is some speculation as to Mr. Comeau's intentions, and suggestions have been advanced in certain quarters the Digby County seat will be offered to the provincial party leader, Hon. Angus L. MacDonald.

About This and That

Next week, the week of October 1 to 8, is National Newspaper Week—a week when the newspapers of the country will pay tribute to themselves by tooting a few tunes on their own horn. A week, when in many communities, newsmen will be honored by service clubs and other organizations as the "guest speaker of the day," and thus these journalists will be given another opportunity to pat themselves on the back on the place that itches the most.

But, for this once we are not going to brag of our profession, not that we couldn't if we were really inclined to "let go," instead we are going to pay tribute to our old friend "Gerry" Redmond, a man who, in our opinion, is really finding the answer to the world's greatest conundrum "what is news?"

"Gerry's" programme "Neighborhood News" goes on the air at 10 o'clock every Sunday morning. The fifteen minutes that follow are packed full of homey items gleaned from the weekly newspapers of the Maritime Provinces.

Hollyhock derbies, big vegetables and enormous eggs comprise a few of Gerry's headlines. He never fails to mention golden weddings, and makes a speciality of telling stories about the oldest residents. Whenever he can work in an honest plug to assist the sponsors of any community enterprise, he does so. His neighborhood broadcast is packed full of human interest. His news items are full of stories of the good deeds of kindly people—crime, scandal and tragedy have no place in his country newspaper of the air.

In our opinion the "Neighborhood News" broadcast has done much to improve the weeklies of the Maritimes. Editors of these papers are continually seeking items that will win their paper a "mention" on Gerry's programme, with the result true "neighborly news" receives greater publicity in their columns.

Candidly, we would like to confine our news to these more cheerful items, but the recording of news is the recording of everyday things—and "everyday things" run true to life. Life has its abundance of beauty and joy—but tragedy, crime and death are inevitable.

"The suggestion recently publicized that the national registration card should be perpetuated indefinitely is one that should be combatted with the utmost vigor.

"Compulsory registration was introduced over five years ago, actually to register the country's human resources for compulsory military service and other selective uses for manpower, but these motives were carefully disguised at that time.

"Outside of the military call-ups and selecting of technical personnel the registration had only one other practical use not originally foreseen. The card has been the basis of issuance of liquor permits in all provinces, and here certainly is one use opposed by the vast majority of peaceful citizens.

"It might be argued also that national registration was used to keep track of the population. In this, it can have acted as only the haziest of guides. We have in this country some 4000 to 5,000 deserters from military service who have been at liberty for almost nine months. We have in addition an admitted 6,000 to 7,000 men not accounted for by army call-ups or enlistments. Hardly, then, an accurate guide.

"Compulsory national registration is the mark of the totalitarian state. As such, it has no place in Canada. Now that hostilities are over, the records should be destroyed completely, the citizens allowed to keep theirs as a curio, and the staffs engaged at Ottawa and elsewhere immediately returned to civilian occupations."—Vernon (B. C.), News.

PI iNes

Victor O'Neill is dead.

We did not know Victor, but we picture him as a typical fourteen-year-old school boy full of pep and energy. Most boys of that age are somewhat of "dare devils", and perhaps like to show off a bit... just as would be expected of average fourteen-year-old school boys.

They are not traits to be ashamed of. All of us who lived the life of a normal boy went through the same stage, in fact, our most frequently recalled memories and boasts are of the dare devil stunts we pulled when we were lads of fourteen or thereabouts.

Considering some of these stunts, it is more by good luck than by good management many of us are here to-day.

Under such circumstances we cannot find fault with Victor or with other boys who take chances on their bicycles or run risks that may have an equally tragic ending, but it is our duty to warn these lads, to have them profit by our experience, and to do everything in our power to prevent the repetition of such tragedies.

It is actually a crime for us to merely sit back and discuss accidents such as the one that claimed Victor's life, and do no more about it. Also, we would be most unfair to modern boys by branding them for taking the chances they do, for, in that respect, modern boys are very little different than we were—than our fathers were—and our grandfathers and great grandfathers.

The old saying "boys will be boys" has held good through the centuries, and will hold good as long as there are boys to be boys.

The recommendation of the coroner's jury that the highways department place pamphlets in all schools stating the rules and regulations of the road is an excellent one. So also is their recommendation that "SCHOOL" signs be placed on both sides of the intersection of the Plympton Station Road and the Main Highway, for not one stranger in a hundred who happens to drive along the highway at that point is aware there is a school house just around the corner but out of sight of the main road. Good as those recommendations are they will not solve the problem.

When riding bicycles, boys—and girls—must be made to realize they are taking their lives in their own hands. In these days of fast and heavy traffic, the bicycle rider must be equally as careful and as cautious as the man behind the wheel of an automobile. Boys and girls must be taught the stupidity of riding a bike with their hands behind their back; taught the foolishness of that popular stunt of steering with their feet; impressed with the dangers of carrying a passenger on the crossbar or handlebars; convinced that under excessive speed the bicycle is one of the most dangerous and difficult of vehicles to keep under control.

No, we are not opposed to bicycles—we would like to see every "kid" old enough to ride one, own one, but we want to impress upon those "kids" a bicycle is not a toy, but a real responsibility. A responsibility no less great than that of the owner of an automobile—and in making that statement we are of the opinion many of our young bicycle riders are more aware of this than are some adults who have been granted licenses to drive cars and behave as imbeciles on the highways.

Good Attendance Final Day of Fair

According to H. E. Chisholm, exhibition manager, gate receipts for the second and final day of the Digby County Exhibition are expected to equal those for the same day last year, when an all time record was made. On the whole attendance for the two days will be well within the average of previous years in spite of the rain and overcast weather during its two days of this year's fair.

The horse pulling contests Thursday afternoon were regarded as the highlight of the day. There were several entries in the double horse events, and all animals performed magnificently, the 2913 pound team of Maynard Miller, pulling 6,870 pounds captured first place with a score of 2.35; Glendon Robbins' team, weight 2,822 pounds, starting 6,070 lbs. with a score of 2.15 was awarded second place, while third place went to the 2,919 pound team of Ray Rice, with a score of 2.00.

With the oxen John Haight captured first prize with a score of 1.83, his 3,144 pound yoke starting the drag loaded with 5,770 pounds. For second and third place, William Dondale's had a slight edge over that of Genos Sanford's. The Dondale oxen were given a score of 1.64, and Sanford's a score of 1.636. The former team tipped the scales at 3,198 pounds starting a drag of 5,270 pounds. Sanford's lighter team weighing 2,610 pounds started 4,270 pounds.

In the line of entertainment, the personnel of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis contributed much toward the success of the exhibition. Their band, rated one of the best in Canada, put on an excellent concert this afternoon, delighting a large and appreciative audience. Physical Training and Acrobatic performances were also staged by the P. T. instructors and other Cornwallis groups.

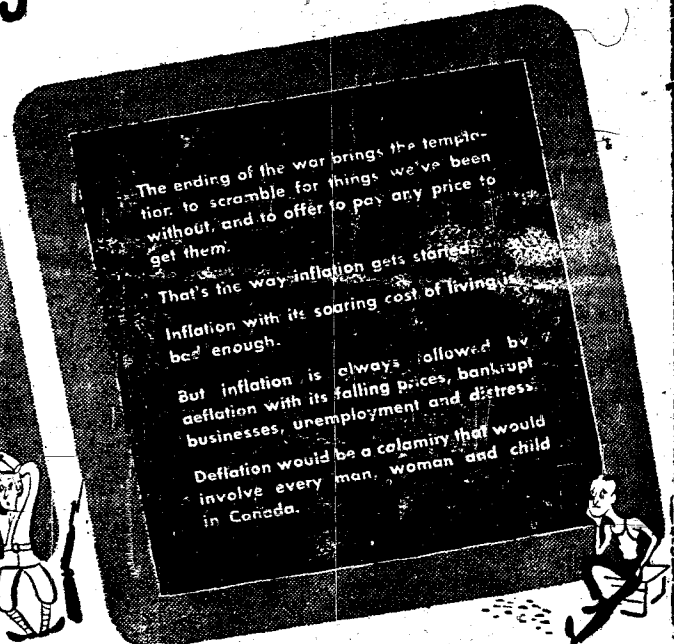

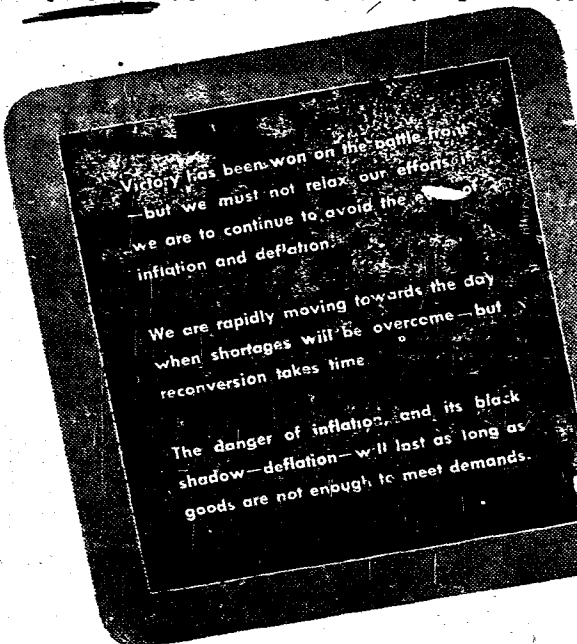

There were also the usual pie eating contests, kettle boiling and log sawing exhibitions. Because of Wednesday's wet weather some of these events did not come off on schedule, but were sandwiched in with other entertainment on Thursday. The tug-o-war between Cornwallis teams had to be cancelled because of wet grounds.

Canada is the only country according to the New York Times whose government is making documentary films for which an international audience is ready and willing to pay.

"The first problem of education today is essentially one of understanding the technological world in which we live," says the Canadian Government Film Commissioner.

As soon as conditions warrant, these will be dropped.

Are We Thankful
The War Is Over?

(By Lewis Milligan)

Canadians, along with all the peoples of the United Nations, have for six long years been fighting, working and praying for victory and peace. The victory has been achieved at a terrible cost in human life, in property and treasure. Special days have been set apart for rejoicing and thanksgiving. But are we all thankful that peace has once more come to the world. Certainly the men and women who are returning day by day from the war zones are profoundly thankful that it is all over. You can see it in their faces as you pass them on the city streets. There is a wistful wonder in the eyes of those men as they look around on familiar scenes and faces which they left behind them three, four and five years ago, not knowing whether they would ever look upon them again. They can hardly believe it is true, and not merely another one of those dreams of home which haunted them in their sleep on the battlefield.

When my eldest son arrived home from Holland, after five years overseas service, he told me that for the first few days he went around the house "pinching himself" to make sure that it was all real.

Yes, it is real. Victory has been won; peace has returned, and our fighting men are returning. Thousands of them will never return. They gave their all for their country. Walt Whitman's lines come aptly to mind in thinking of those men: By blue Ontario's shore,

As I mused on these warlike days and of peace returned, and the dead that return no more.

Those who are returning are glad to resume the ways of peace. I was sitting alone in a certain modest club room recently when a young man in civilian clothes stepped briskly into the room and advanced toward me with wide eyes and introduced himself. "My name is G——," he said, "I got my discharge from the Air Force yesterday; been in the hospital the last six months. Was a member of this club before going overseas, I guess I'm behind in my dues." He went on to explain how he had sold out a little business several years ago and joined up, and now that it was all over, he was eager to get back into the "game" again. He had been running around the city all morning looking for a job, and had got two "pretty good offers." In the course of conversation he mentioned the salary of one of the offers, and I thought it was very moderate for a young man of his experience, but he regarded it as "very good for a start."

What struck me about this young man was his eagerness and his willingness to accept any offer of work that he could do, without much concern as a salary. He was happy to be back again in civilian life and all he wanted was a chance to make a "new start." He had risked his life for his country without any thought of financial return, and he was ready to begin life over again on a lower status than that which he gave up to go to the war.

I thought of all the men whose good fortune it had been to remain at home during those years of war, and who had received big salaries and wages for services that involved little or no risk, and who had enjoyed the blessings of peace and plenty while this young man and thousands of his comrades in arms had endured hardships and horrors for a pittance of pay.

I read in the newspapers of men who have been constantly employed for several years at wages far higher than they had ever received, and in many cases have earned more money than they knew what to do with and who, now that the war is over, refuse to work for a living wage. And yet these men are willing to accept $25 a week from the Government for doing nothing, when they might be earning more than that at the jobs offered, and at the same time be helping industry and themselves to make a "new start" into a world of peace.

Are we all thankful that the war is over and that peace has returned again to mankind? All our men and women in the fighting services are profoundly thankful, but it would appear that some of those whose good fortune it was to remain safely and comfortably at home are not quite so thankful that the war is over.

Tuna Fishing
Very Good

It's a mighty good season of tuna fishing for Capt. Ewe Le-Blanc, head of the Wedgeport Tuna Association and dean of Nova Scotia tuna guides.

So far 23 bluefins have been landed in his boat, all scaling above 500 pounds, the biggest an 870-pounder, third largest ever caught in the world, taken by H. S. Randlett, of Melrose, Mass.

Latest United States sportsman to boat tunas at Wedgeport was Louis Ross, of Jersey City, N.J., who landed fish weighing 600 and 755 pounds late last week. The larger of the two was taken in an hour and 40 minutes, the smaller in an hour flat.

Heading the list of notables at Wedgeport tuna waters this season was S. Kip Farrington, Jr., of East Hampton, N.Y., who recently returned home after capturing 830- and 600-pounds specimens, believed to be the two largest tuna ever taken in one day. (Kip Farrington, Jr. was a visitor in Digby, a day or so after the record catch was made.)

Recommend Schools Be Given Road Rule Books

Recommendations that the Department of Highways provide schools with books and pamphlets containing highway rules and regulations, and the "SCHOOL" signs be placed on both sides of the highway at the Plympton Station Road, was made by a coroner's jury Thursday last. The jury was called to inquire into the death of 14-year-old Victor O'Neill, who died in Digby General Hospital on Tuesday night a few hours after he had been previously injured in a bicycle-car crash at Plympton coroner while returning home from school on his bicycle.

In its verdict the jury was unanimous in "that Victor O'Neill came to his death by accident and no blame should be attached to the driver of the car."

Before reaching its decision the jury heard evidence from Mrs. Catherine Morrell of Yarmouth, driver of the car; from her father, W. P. Nickerson, who was sitting in the front seat with her at the time of the accident.

Eleven-year-old Floyd Melanson, Plympton, only eye witness of the accident outside the occupants of the car, also gave testimony. Other witnesses were members of the local detachment R.C.M.P., Vaughn Warner and Gordon O'Neill father of the vic-

Pyne's Market Credit to Community

Pyne's Market, which opened its doors to the purchasing public Tuesday, is indeed a splendid addition to the business section of Digby and a real credit to the community.

Of tile and brick construction with a vitrolite front, the building is seventy feet deep by twenty nine feet wide. The interior of the store is completely finished in white with narrow black trimmings and presents a very clean and attractive appearance. Modern shelves and show cases line the walls and two refrigerated show cases will hold meats and perishable goods. Sales will be made on a "cash and carry" basis and the "self service" system will be used. Metal carriages have been provided which the customers will load as they move about the store. At the front a cashier's stand has been set up and purchases will be paid for here. Beside the two large refrigerated show cases the store is equipped with two large walk-in coolers in which the stocks of meats may be kept. The store is completely modern throughout and is equipped with fluorescent lighting. The office for the store is located at the rear on the ground floor and a large warehouse space is provided in the rear of the main store section and in the basement. Cooling units for the refrigeration system and the heating plant are also located in the basement of the building. On the second floor are two modern, up-to-date apartments as well as two offices which will be rented. The erection of this new store on the site of the old Courier Building by Mr. Pyne has made a wonderful addition to the business section of the town and has done much to reduce the fire hazard in that particular locality. Mr. Pyne is to be highly commended on his energy and effort in erecting this structure which will form a new landmark in our town.

Digby's Busiest Man

One of the busiest men in Digby these last few weeks has been Allen Pyne the proprietor of Pyne's Market, supervising the construction and equipping of his new store. Not only has "Al" supervised this work but he has done a lot of it himself. It has been quite a common sight to see "Al" lately about with tools, fixing something here or working at something there in his new store. On Saturday he nailed down the Masonite tile flooring and on Monday when we called to get information about the store he told us that he had been too busy to even shave. As a matter of fact, we had to get one of the clerks to point out the "boss" to us as it was very difficult to see him behind the glorious beard he had developed.

Impressive Ceremony In New York

The Cathedral of Saint John the Divine, Amsterdam Avenue, at 117th St., New York City, was recently the scene of a very impressive ceremony when the members of the twenty-fifth class of the U. S. Naval Reserve Midshipmen's School received their commissions. As the young men, 600 in number, took their places in the body of the Cathedral, they were preceded by 1200 Junior Midshipmen. The remainder of the huge auditorium was filled with friends and relatives of the graduates. The invocation was given by Captain Robert D. Workman (CHC) U.S. N. District Chaplain, Third Naval District. The graduates were addressed by Rear Admiral Wat. T. Cluwerius, U.S.N. (Ret.), President of the Worcester Polytechnic Institute. The Commissions were presented by the commanding officer, Commodore John K. Richards, U.S.N. Music was furnished by the twenty-sixth class band, under the direction of Lt. Ralph W. Eberly, U.S.N.R.

Among those receiving commissions was Ensign Charles Lionel Chute, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Wendell Chute of Dorchester, Mass., formerly of Bear River.

Upon graduation from high school Ensign Chute was admitted to the U.S. Navy V-12 Training program. For sixteen months he studied at Dartmouth College, acquiring two years college credits. This program was followed by two months at Princeton University, where he attended the pre-midshipman school. Four months at Columbia culminated in his graduation and receipt of his commission as an ensign in the U.S. Navy. Attending the graduation exercises at the Cathedral of Saint John the Divine, were Ensign Chute's mother, Mrs. C. W. Chute, of Dorchester, Mass., and his sister, Mary Elizabeth Chute, of the Enoch Pratt Library, Baltimore, Maryland.

Canadian war veterans are looking after their future. During the past six months, the Department of Veterans' Affairs has received 1,317 applications for $4-142,000 worth of insurance. Veterans insurance is available without medical examination, in amounts of up to $10,000.

Mount Allison Dean of Women To Welcome Girls

Mount Allison University's new Dean of Women is prepared to welcome two hundred and eighty-four women students to Allison Hall, and other Mount Allison women's residences, Sept. 24. Miss Falconer, who came to Mount Allison last fall as Librarian was appointed Dean of Women last May to succeed Miss Constance I. Ycung.

Miss Falconer is a daughter of Dr. J. W. Falconer of Pine Hill Divinity Hall, Halifax. She received her early education in Canada, spent three years of study in Scotland and two terms in Switzerland. Returning to Canada she received her Bachelor of Arts degree with distinction from Dalhousie University. She spent a year teaching in the United States and returned to Toronto University to train as a librarian. She worked for several years at the Toronto Public Library.

Prior to the war she was head of the Women's Division of Employment and Selective Service in Halifax. Upon the outbreak of war she joined the Department of Naval Intelligence.

Under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, 131,553 airman from the British dominions and many allied countries were trained and graduated in Canada. The Royal Canadian Air Force contributed 55.4%, the Royal Air Force 32%, the Royal Australian Air Force 7.3% and the Royal New Zealand Air Force 5.3%.

W. I. Meeting

The September meeting of the Women's Institute for Smith's Cove and Joggin Bridge was held with Mrs. George Wightman. In spite of the torrential rain eight members were present. Mrs. Landers presided. This meeting, like the first day of school after the long vacation, was a short session. Reports signified the fall work underway and all anxious to promote the suggestions for this. Ice cream and cakes was served by the hostess. At the close of the meeting she donated her car to take the members home.

The following day district executive met at Smith's Hall, Plympton. Delegates from Bear River and Smith's Cove attended. Those going from Smith's Cove and Joggin Bridge Institute were Mrs. Gordon Landers and Mrs. Mark Longworth. Miss Sue Winchester, the District Vice-president, was unable to attend.

At this session Miss Macdougall, superintendent W.I.N.S., and Mrs. Edwin Crowe, Provincial President, were present and addressed the meeting. Subjects given particular attention were: "Home Improvements and Beautification" and "What Can We Do for the Youth of Our Communities?" We must all try to work together to further their interests, keeping in mind our own desires at the age.

In response to the appeal which has gone forth for clothing for those who have suffered such losses in the war, Miss Macdougall was happy to reply that the W.I.N.S. had ready for immediate shipment over one hundred complete outfits for children from four to six years old, beside a generous supply of miscellaneous articles of clothing. This is only one of the many things the Institutes have done in a war effort. (It may be remembered the outfit made by Smith's Cove and Joggin Bridge W. I. won first place in the judging when they were exhibited.) At the close of this meeting tea was served by Mrs. Smith who, with her husband gave all a cordial invitation to "come again."

The October meeting of the W.I. will be with Mrs. John Smith. This is the annual meeting.

Remove the "No Spitting" Signs

On occasions when we attend sessions of the supreme or county courts it seems almost impossible for us to take our eyes off those two placards, one hanging on each side of the courtroom. These signs proclaim the fact that "Spitting is Forbidden."

We don't know how long they have hung there. We do know they are filthy with age and feel their presence robs the court of much of its dignity, and in this day and age we feel such signs are unnecessary — people don't make a practise of spitting in public places, and should anyone feel the urge to expectorate, the court constable is always on hand.

We are passing along the suggestion that these ancient and filthy signs be removed and not be replaced, but—should the authorities feel such placards are essential to the dignity of the Court, let us know, and we will save the taxpayers' money by making them a present of new ones.

A sense of humor will keep a man from taking himself as seriously as he wants others to take him.

VICTORY CONCERT IS MARKED SUCCESS

(The Canadian Bandsman)

On Thursday, July 26th the Digby Civic Band, under the leadership of our distinguished Life Member, Paul Yates, gave a Victory Concert on the Digby Band Stand. In its issue of August 2nd, the Digby Courier refers to the concert as one of the finest performances ever given by the Band. The Digby Band was augmented for the occasion by seven players from the famous "Cornwallis" Band. Mr. Yates, who is famous not only because he is a fine conductor, teacher and musician, is the oldest active bandmaster in Canada. Despite his 82 years, Paul is one of the most active and energetic members of this Association. His deep and abiding interest in, and his many generous contributions to the work of the C.B.A. have won for him the deep affection of our membership from Coast to Coast. In the program for his Victory Concert, Mr. Yates had arranged to play the Mendelssohn "Funeral March," and "Consolation" as a tribute to the memory of the boys who will never come back. In this connection, we quote from a letter describing the concert recently received from Mr. Yates:

"In preparing these numbers with special care, little did I think that they would become a dirge for my staunchest old friend among my old band members—Stanley Spray, B.Q.M.S. in the Canadian Artillery for the past five years and formerly my solo cornet player. On the morning of the concert, a brief cable announced his death in Holland, from a motor accident, and only a week before, I had a cheerful letter from him in which he told me what he and we would do together when he came home in November." Mr. Yates found it very hard to bear up during the playing of the "Funeral March," and needless to say, the members of his band played the number "from their hearts." Since Stanley Spray was a very popular member of the Digby Band, Mr. Yates, wishing to do something to show his deep regard for the late Stanley Spray, sent $100.00 to the C.B.A. Secretary, together with a letter asking the Secretary to devote the money to any worthy C.B.A. cause the Secretary saw fit, in memory of Stanley Spray. Your Secretary immediately applied the money to the C.B.A. Fund for the Waterloo Band Camp, and will make arrangements to have a suitable memorial plaque, or tablet affixed to the wall of one of the C.B.A. huts to be erected at the Band Camp. Mr. Yates' gracious and generous gesture may start a train of thought along similar lines in the minds of other Bandmasters and band committees who have lost one or more members overseas. The Digby Courier pays a fine and well deserved tribute to Mr. Yates in its August 2nd issue. It reminds its readers that Mr. Yates organized the Digby Civic Band in 1932 and that since then he has trained more than 100 players for the band. Many of the best players in the finest military bands of Canada, especially those in the Maritime Provinces owe their fine playing ability to Paul Yates.

The program for the Victory Concert, in addition to the numbers mentioned above, was largely made up of patriotic airs, as a tribute to the Allied Nations. The ever popular "Colonel Bogey" was conducted by P.O. Edward Bunn, Assistant Bandmaster of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis. Our sincere congratulations to Mr. Yates on the success of this fine concert, and our deepest sympathy to him in the loss of an old friend and fellow-bandsman. The late Stanley Spray's family has paid a heavy price for its share in this war. A younger brother of Stanleys was killed early in the war while serving with the R.A.F. and a brother-in-law, Ross Turnbull, another valued member of the Digby Band, was killed while serving overseas. The war has laid a heavy hand on the Digby Band, and while we pay tribute to the memory of these gallant young men who gave their all to make us free, it is none the less difficult to say "Dulce et decorum" when we look at the vacant chairs in so many of our Canadian bands.

A large number of the prefabricated barrack-type huts that sheltered United States Army soldiers and civilian workers during the building of the Alaska Highway will be used this winter to house 400 returned service men and their families in Edmonton. Each unit will have its own living room, a small dining room off the kitchen, bathroom, utility room and one or two bedrooms.

Since the discovery of radium at Eldorado in northwest Canada in the early 1930s, the price of a gram of radium has decreased from about $100,000 to $30,000.

Election Coming; Minister Resigns

Nova Scotians will go to the polls on Tuesday, October 23, to elect a new provincial government. Premier Angus L. Macdonald announced the voting date last week at Province House in Halifax. Nomination day is set for Tuesday, October 9.

At the same time Highways and Public Works Minister John D. McKenzie announced his retirement from the Government to devote his full time to his private business. Member of the Legislature for Annapolis County, he said he would not seek reelection in his constituency.

Deputy Provincial Secretary Arthur S. Barnstead said proxy voting regulations for service voters were ready and preparations for taking both the civilian and service vote were set in motion as soon as Premier Macdonald made his announcement.

The Premier said it was indefinite whether the Highways portfolio would be filled before the election date. Where he would seek a seat for himself in the House of Assembly also was undecided, he said. With retirement of Mr. McKenzie, vacancies now exist in Annapolis, Kings, Hants and Halifax South.

Mr. McKenzie, announcing his retirement said: "At each succeeding election I made one promise to my constituents, that being that I would never neglect my political duties for my own private business and that should the day come when I felt I could not do that I would either resign as their representative or sell my business. The day has arrived when I must make that decision." He has been a member of the Legislature for twelve years, of the Cabinet for five.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

SPORTS AND ACTION PICTURES

Tension—the interplay of opposed forces—adds dramatic quality to a picture. For this, 1/50 second at f/6.3, "pan" film, yellow color filter on lens.

SPORTS and action pictures are an ideal field for any camera... posed, if you have a slow camera... "real action" snapshots if you have a camera with a fast lens and shutter or one of the modern ultra-speed miniatures.

Drama is the essence of the sports picture. Tension—the struggle of opposed forces—provides this essential quality. Taut expression of the runner's face, the strain of the poleaulter's arms as he hoists himself over the bar—these are the details that make action pictures outstanding.

Study the play of forces in the picture of the archer and his attractive shooting partner shown above. The springy curve of the drawn bow, the tight bow string, the straight arrow, the tensed arm and erect posture—all play a part in making the picture effective. Imagine the arm relaxed, the bow string loose and limp, and the figure less erect. The picture, even with the presence of the young lady, would lack much of its attractiveness and appeal.

The sky background was obtained by a low camera position, the camera slightly—but not too much—

Newsstand Sales Break All Records

Digby Courier newsstand sales in the town of Digby during the past four weeks have broken all records... the average (up until September 20) has been just over 400 copies weekly. We will have no report of the sales of the September 20 edition until to-day's Couriers are taken to the newsstands, but for that issue we increased our town newsstand distribution by 45 copies.

Our own counter supply of the September 20 issue was sold out before noon on that day—in fact the demand was such we were forced to put out several copies that had been spoiled in going through the folding machine.

Our paid subscription in the town has also shown a marked increase in the past few years—but our present newsstand and counter sales are up about 120% over those of three years ago.

Home From Overseas

F/O Herbert Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Budd C. Lewis Danvers, returned home after serving a year overseas. Shortly after arriving overseas he completed his course in Flight Engineering and received his commission as Pilot Officer. He served as a member of the famous Moose Squadron and took part in several bombing raids over enemy territory. Just previous to his home coming he was promoted to Flying Officer. Along with other crew members they made the trip home in a Lancaster Bomber via the Azores, Gander Bay landing in Yarmouth June 10th.

After a short visit with his parents he proceeded to St. Thomas, Ont., where he spent the remainder of his leave with his wife and two little daughters, Sheila and Sharon.

After returning to his base in Yarmouth he was chosen as one of the members of his squadron to make a tour of the Canadian cities in aid of the Benevolent Fund. They made their first stop in Ottawa, thence to the West

Just before reaching their destination they flew at a low altitude over his home village, Danvers, causing a bit of excitement among his folks.

Canadian war veterans who have been paralysed for life have formed an association to help out civilians in a similar plight. It will be known as the Canadian Paraplegic Association. At a clearing house for paralytic cases, it will provide paraplegics with training, education and suitable work.

Kidney Acids Rob Your Rest

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—lie awake and count sheep. Often they blame it on "nerves" when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons from the blood. If they are faulty and fail, poisons stay in the system and sleeplessness, headache, backache often follow. If you don't sleep well, try Dodd's Kidney Pills—for half a century the favorite remedy.

Harold J. Theriault Twice Cited Promoted Commander U.S.N.R.

Harold J. Theriault, 31-year-old son of Capt. Simon A. Theriault (formerly of East Ferry, Digby county), commander of the U.S.S. Bassett, destroyer-trans- port, has been promoted to com- mander and twice commended as a result of combat action in both the Atlantic and Pacific waters. Comdr. Theriault's ship was the first to rescue 148 of the survivors of the U.S.S. Indianapolis, a cruiser sunk in the closing days of the war in the Pacific. This action brought his second commendation. The first commendation was awarded for the sinking of a German submarine in the Atlantic by the des- troyer-escort Hayter which he commanded at the time.

In a letter to his sister, Miss Minor S. Theriault, of Gloucester, dated Sunday, August 19, at sea, he writes describing the rescue. "These past two months were hell for me—you'll never know how happy we out here are that it is over. We on the Bassett rescued 148 (two dead) survivors out of the cruiser Indianapolis a couple of weeks ago. It is in the papers now so I can tell you. We were first on the scene. Such a disaster, our Navy has never had. They were in the water five days and five nights before being found. I've recommended two of my men for medals which they'll get. This makes three I have recommended in this war." Comdr. Theriault himself received this commendation signed W. C. Gillette, acting commander Philippine Sea Frontier: "The Commander Philippine Sea Fron- tier is impressed with the alertness, efficiency and devotion to duty by all hands in the Bassett in connection with recent rescue operations at sea. The Command- ing Officer is to be congratulated on this demonstration of good spirit and training which was re- sponsible for saving of many pre- cious lives."

Another "pat on the back" for the Bassett and her skipper came from the same source, late in July, referring to the rescue of an Army Air Force pilot in the Pacific, as follows: "Commander Phil- ippine Sea Frontier notes with pleasure, the prompt and efficient action taken by USS Bassett in effecting the rescue of Second Lieut. Walter L. Hilgart, USAAF, on 15 July 1945."

The citation to Comdr. Theriault while skipper of the Hayter in Atlantic waters was dated February 9, 1945, was addressed to Comdr.-in-Chief of the Atlantic Fleet from Comdr. Task Group 22.2, as follows: "For the efficient manner in which Lieut. Comman- der Harold J. Theriault commis- sioned, trained and organized the USS Hayter which within less than a month after his detach- ment, gained contact with, and sank a specific German submarine. The state of training and efficiency of the USS Hayter are largely the result of Commander Theriault's energy and devotion to duty which reflect great credit upon the Naval Service."

Comdr. Theriault graduated from Gloucester High School and also from Massachusetts Nautical Training Ship Nantucket. He re- ceived his unlimited master's li- cense when he was 27 years of age. Prior to the war, he was employed by the Luchenbach steamship lines for six years and was first mate on the SS William Luchenbach when he left to join the Naval Reserve. He was com- missioned as a lieutenant, junior grade, in the fall of 1940, and since that time has received three promotions. After graduation from the Sub-Chaser Training Centre at Miami Beach, Fla., he commissioned the Hayter, com- manding that ship for nearly a year in the European theatre of war.

He married the former Jane Powers, of Jacksonville Fla., and they have a two-year-old son, "Simmy," named after his grand- father. Mrs. Theriault and their son are now residing in Jack- sonville.

Canada's 1945 wheat crop is placed at 321,409,000 bushels. This is 114,000,000 bushels less than in 1944.

Shower Held

A delightful surprise shower was held in the Nurses' Residence of the Digby General Hospital on Wednesday evening of last week, in honour of Miss Eileen Crowe, who is leaving the hospital staff shortly to be married.

The residence was very tastefully decorated for the occasion and the members of the staff and other friends of Miss Crowe were present for the affair. Many love- ly and beautiful gifts were re- ceived by the bride-to-be who, fol- lowing the presentation of the gifts, thanked those present for their kindness to her.

Following the presentation games were played and refresh- ments served.

Plans for the formation of a Taxi Association were made at a joint meeting of the License Committee of the Town Council and taxi drivers of the town held in the Town Hall, Thursday evening. The meeting was called at the request of the taxi drivers who were protesting the ineffectiveness of present town bye laws governing the operation of taxis within the town. According to statements made by several of the taxi drivers at the meeting, their chief complaint was concerning the operation of taxis by certain persons residing outside of the town. The taxi drivers were told of the action taken by the council concerning taxi operation and were advised to form some sort of organization from which representatives could meet with the license committee to draft bye laws that would meet the situation.
