The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles across land from the head of St. Mary's Bay. This laid out from the water's edge, partly on level ground and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect, a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in where it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth of that name. It was settled by Loyalists from New York in 1763, the most of whom went early to farms, or, moving to other countries, left the whole

There was a taste of trying to sell job printing outside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried it, made several calls around town, spent most of the time at one particular house, and got an order, but

Local, Personal

One of the good things that have returned with peace is the re-appearance of the daily weather bulletin in the window of one of the local telegraph offices. Now we know whether to carry that umbrella or not.

Byron Robbins, of Rossway, had the misfortune to fall off a load of hay last week and sustained severe injuries. He is a man of advanced age and at first grave fears were entertained, but at last reports he is improving.

James Hillman was a visitor to Halifax last week, where he attended the Veterans' Officers School, being conducted by the Department of Veterans' Affairs to train personnel in the guidance of servicemen returning to civilian life.

Teachers' Local

Mrs. Agnes Mills was elected president of the Digby Local of the Nova Scotia Teachers' Union at a reorganization meeting held in the Academy September 29th. Other officers elected were: Vice-President, Miss Marjorie Porter, and Secretary-Treasurer Miss Antoinette Belliveau.

The special speaker at the meeting was B. E. Finigan, general secretary of the N. S. T. U., who led a very interesting discussion on "Homework and Assignment".

Following the meeting the teachers were served luncheon by the staff of the Digby Academy.

OBITUARY

The funeral of Mrs. Emilie LeBlanc, aged 93, took place from St. Mary's Church, Church Point, Monday morning at 8:30 with Rev. O. Hebert officiating. Six years ago she dislocated her hip and never recovered and had been confined to her bed since then. She was well known in Clare and prior to her marriage was a dressmaker. She was a devout Roman Catholic. She resided with her adopted son, Willie Flynn. Her husband, Hilarion LeBlanc, predeceased her 22 years ago.

The funeral of Victor O'Neill, victim of a bicycle-car collision, was held from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon O'Neill, Plympton, Thursday afternoon September 20, and was one of the largest in that community for many years. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, including a wreath from teacher and pupils of Plympton School. The pupils attended the funeral in a body. L. B. Manzer, of the Baptist Church, conducted the service. Interment was in the family lot in Barton cemetery. Victor leaves to mourn their loss his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon O'Neill; two brothers, Carl and Claud; an aged grandmother, Mrs. Alice O'Neill. Miss Nettie O'Neill and Alfred O'Neill, of Digby are aunt and uncle. Another aunt, Mrs. F. E. Haley, of Saint John arrived in Digby the day of the accident and was with Victor in the hospital when he died.

Burial service for the late Mrs. Samuel J. Campbell was held at St. Bernard's Church, on Sunday afternoon, September 30, Rev. E. LeBlanc officiating. The wife of F/Lt. Samuel J. Campbell, she was before her marriage Cecile Anne Theriault, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Theriault, of Belliveau's Cove. Besides her husband and parents, she is survived by three children, Stuart, Coline and an infant son; also two sisters, Catherine (Mrs. Urbain Belliveau), Belliveau's Cove; Marie (Mrs. L. F. Dolron) of Digby; and two brothers, Gustave, of Milton, Mass., and John, of the R.C.A.F. overseas.

Her sudden death in the Digby General Hospital was a severe shock to a host of relatives and friends throughout the country and the innumerable Mass cards and floral offerings testified to the esteem in which she was held.

The funeral cortege was one of the longest ever seen in that district and the burial service was rendered impressive by the participation of R.C.A.F. personnel including W/Cdr. Grace, senior chaplain for Eastern Air Command, and F/Lt. Clements, Yarmouth. Pall bearers were Dr. L. F. Dolron, S/L J. E. Velt, Urbain Belliveau, Ernest Felt, P/Sgt. John Campbell and S/L C. Fincham.

Among the many attendants from outside points were, Group Captain R. C. Davis, Commanding Officer R.C.A.F. Station Yarmouth, Rev. Leo Murphy, Digby, and Hon. J. W. Comeau, Com-ceville.

Scallop Season Opens

The scallop season, which opened on Monday, October 1st, got away to a fair start in this area. The first day's catch was only a moderate one as weather conditions were only fair. Tuesday and Wednesday the boats did not go out due to a heavy gale that was blowing. Opening prices are somewhat higher this year than last with the dealers reported as paying 40c. per pound for the fish.

The fleet of draggers is much larger this season than last, with several new boats joining the fleet and prospects look good for a successful season if weather conditions are favorable. It is felt that prices will keep up during the season as the demand is very heavy.

Manhattan Assessment Pared

Assessment on the Manhattan Hotel property was reduced to $3500 by County Court Judge Kenneth Crowell in court Wednesday morning.

In giving his decision Judge Crowell stated that on a comparative basis with the Myrtle Hotel and the Winchester Hotel properties a value of $5,000 would be justified but on an actual value basis he felt that this figure was too high. Combining the two principles he fixed the assessment at $3,500. The judge filed a verbal decision but stated that, at the request of the parties concerned, he would render a written one.

Presbytery Meets Tomorrow

The Annapolis Presbytery of the United Church of Canada will meet in Grace United Church hall tomorrow, the first session opening at 10:00 in the morning. Two very prominent clergymen will be present, namely, Rev. Dr. Rideout, of Toronto, and Rev. Mr. Webster, a returned missionary from China. It is expected that the afternoon session will be augmented by a group from the Yarmouth Presbytery. In the evening a public meeting will be held and it is hoped that the church will be filled to capacity. This meeting is open to all denominations.

Annapolis Basin Clams Still Poisonous

Dr. E. L. Eagles, Divisional Medical Health Officer in a letter addressed to the editor of the Courier issued a further warning against the eating of clams taken from the shores of the Annapolis Basin. His letter states the Department of National Health and Welfare are still finding poison in clams taken from this area.

"From all information we can gather there have been five cases of poisoning from the consumption of these clams. All have recovered," Dr. Eagles' letter states.

Doctors and health officers are being notified of circumstances concerning the poisoning. Regular sampling of clams is being done by the Department of Fisheries. These samples are examined for poison in the Laboratory of Hygiene at Ottawa.

The public will be advised when and if clams again become suitable for consumption.

Hotel to be Razed

The Manhattan Hotel, long a landmark in Digby and recently the subject of court action between the Town and its owners, is to be torn down.

Word of this was received by the Town Council Monday night when a letter from M. S. Leonard, who represents the owners of the hotel, was read. In this letter Mr. Leonard stated that work of demolishing the building would commence the last of this week or the first part of next.

The building has recently been examined by the Provincial Fire Marshal and it was upon his findings that action to tear the building down was asked for by the town.

Digby Academy Plans Finalized

After a series of meetings held by the Town Board of School Commissioners and the Municipal School Board with the District Inspector of Schools, the following plans have been approved:

(1) Extend the facilities of Digby Academy to Mount Pleasant School Section including that section in the Town School System.

(2) Add three additional classrooms to the existing system in order to solve the problem of congestion in the lower grades.

(3) Organize Grades VII, VIII and IX into a "Junior High School" housing them in a separate building and begin a course in Vocational Guidance for the Junior and Senior High Schools.

In order to carry out these plans it was necessary for the Digby School Board to procure the required classroom space. The Board has acquired the use of the former R.C.A.F. Barracks building situated on Maiden Lane, which is admirably suited to provide three classrooms with adequate heating, lighting and lavatory facilities for the mixed classes. The wire fencing in front of the building will be removed and used to fence off the Fuel Dump installations on the North end of the property.

The increased enrollment has been caused, to a large extent, by the admission to Digby Academy of pupils from the Municipal School Sections. In view of this situation the Municipal School Board has set aside an amount equal to that which ordinarily would have been expended by the Municipal Board for the operation of these schools. This amount is to be used for the transportation and tuition of pupils from the five sections now in the Digby Town School.

Because of this financial arrangement with the Municipal Board it is possible for the Digby School Commissioners to extend the facilities of the Town School System to Municipal School Sections with no added cost to either the Town or Municipality School Boards.

Alterations are now being made and it is expected that classes in the new building will commence Tuesday, October 9th.

Inspect Sea Cadets

The Digby Academy Sea Cadet Corps, R.C.S.C.C. "Cornwallis", was inspected on Tuesday morning by J. R. K. Millen, Assistant National Coordinator of Sea Cadet Activities and Denis Brown, Assistant to the National Chairman of the Sea Cadet Committee. Both Mr. Millen and Mr. Brown complimented the Corps on their fine appearance at the inspection and paid tribute to the officers for the work they had done in training the boys.

Following the inspection a luncheon was held at the Navy League Hostel. After the luncheon Mr. Millen addressed members of the local Sea Cadet Committee concerning the policies of National Committee. He stated that the Sea Cadet Training program would be enlarged to take in more youth training and citizenship training. In this way, he stated, the Sea Cadet training would absorb many of the extra curricular activities of the school.

Announce Collection Dates

The committee in charge of the National Clothing Collection in Digby and vicinity have announced their dates which appear in another column of this paper.

Collections will commence on Friday when articles of clothing will be gathered from Victoria Street, Conway and Digby Neck Road areas. Dates have also been set for other sections of the town, Mount Pleasant, Light-house Road and Shore Road districts.

Locally the collections are in charge of the Y's Men's Club of Digby with Sypher Morrell chairman of the committee.

The National Clothing Collection is a nation wide project and will be continued throughout Canada until Oct. 20. Its purpose is to procure clothing for the millions of distressed people throughout liberated Europe, many of whom will perish unless they are supplied with warm clothing this winter.

ATTEMPTS TO ROB TWO COUNTY BANKS

Two Digby County banks, the Digby branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, and the Church Point Branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, were entered over the week end. So far as can be learned the entire loot consisted of two fountain pens taken from the Bank of Nova Scotia at Digby.

Apparently both breaks were made some time Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

Entrance into the Bank of Nova Scotia at Digby was gained through a window in the alley between the bank and the McNutt building. At Church Point a pin bar was used to break the lock on the main entrance of the bank building.

Both breaks were discovered Sunday. D. Brimble, an employee of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Digby, discovered the local break when he visited the bank to complete some unfinished work, Sunday morning. The manager's desk had been thoroughly ransacked, but except for the two fountain pens, nothing was taken. A quantity of small change kept in a saucer, was untouched.

The break at Church Point was discovered by Willie MacAulay, who was waiting for a car near the bank building. The lock on the door had been smashed and the door badly splintered. Apparently an attempt to enter by a back door failed.

Nothing is missing from the bank, and it is believed the would be thieves were frightened in some manner as everything about the building was quite in order.

The residence of Lorne Belliveau is only about 25 feet distant from the bank building at Church Point. Mrs. Belliveau states no one in her household heard any unusual noise or disturbance, but recalls being up during the night and turning on several of the house lights. It is thought this action may have frightened the burglars.

Both Digby and Meteghan detachments of the R.C.M.P. are investigating the breaks and have combed the buildings for finger prints.

L. E. Shatford is manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Digby. The manager of the Church Point branch is Ernest P. LeBlanc, who has just returned to his office after spending a vacation at Cheticamp, C.B.

Both jobs are thought to be the work of amateurs. No attempts were made to enter the vaults in either bank. The two banks are about 30 miles apart.

Thankoffering Service

The Thankoffering Meeting of the W.M.S. of Grace United Church was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Elton Arnold. Mrs. C. E. Parker, and Mrs. Arnold gave the study on the work of the United Church Missions in Angola, South Africa.

Mrs. J. J. Wallis presided. Mrs. Parker presented the program as a visitor just returned from Africa, and Mrs. Arnold, as an interested citizen. By this method members were informed of conditions in Angola; habits and customs of the people and the progress of the church from 1880 when seven boys comprised the first church.

The work of Dr. Currie as missionary was stressed. Mrs. Gordon Ellis, in keeping with the program, sang an African song.

Collection taken from thank-offering envelopes amounted to $15.50.

These in charge of program for the next four months are as follows: Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Mrs. John Russell, Mrs. Elton Arnold and Mrs. Gordon Ellis.

St. Ann's Students Favor Military and Cadet Training

At a plebiscite at St. Ann's College, Church Point, the student body voted overwhelmingly in favor of continuing C.O.T.C. Military and Cadet Training. It is understood the students at the college are enthusiastic over the training courses—this is evidenced by their action in voting for their continuance.

It is noted many men from Church Point and St. Ann's College volunteered for service during World War II.

Injured by Rolling Log

Isaac Comeau was painfully injured at Margo, near Grosses Coques, Thursday last, when he was knocked to the ground and rendered unconscious by a log which rolled off a truck, he and his helper Edward Muise, were loading. The accident occurred after they fastened a chain around the load to prevent the logs from sliding. The chain snapped and split the logs over the side of the truck.

The two men jumped clear but Comeau was struck a glancing blow. He was moved by his helper and other lumbermen working nearby.

Examination revealed no bones were broken, although one leg was badly bruised and swollen. Mr. Comeau was unable to walk for several days after the accident.

Club Elects Officers

Elton Arnold was elected President of the Y's Men's Club at their regular weekly meeting held at the Jersey Farms Hotel Monday, September 24. Other officers elected were: Vice-President Sypher Morrell; Secretary, Jack Brittain and Treasurer, J. Warren Fenety. A program committee consisting of Frank Larche and Baden Powell, was also elected.

Special speaker for the meeting was Squadron Leader F. C. Purdy, who told of his experiences while serving with the R.C. A.F. Squadron Leader Purdy told of experiences while serving in India, England, the Middle East and other areas.

Joseph Spechts, Secretary of the Digby Agricultural Society, was the special speaker at the meeting of the club held Monday, October 1st. Mr. Spechts, in his address, stressed the importance of the agricultural industry to this country and dealt very fully with the various aspects of the industry. He stated that he hoped that there would be more young people from the county take advantage of the training offered by the Nova Scotia College of Agriculture. Farming to be successful must be scientific, said Mr. Spechts, and there is no better place to learn the science of farming than at the agricultural college.

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Saturday, September 22, at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. Ronald T. Sabine, Havelock, when he united in marriage Verna Mildred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis, of Weymouth North, to Joseph Earl Sabine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Sabine, of Riverdale. After a week spent on the south shore the happy couple will reside in Riverdale.

Major Evans, supervisor of the Salvation Army Hut at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, was speaker at Monday's luncheon of the Digby Kiwanis Club. The major, who has had 18 years' experience in the Salvation Army, Schools in Newfoundland, gave an interesting talk on the Educational System of Britain's oldest colony. Following his address a vote of thanks was extended by Rev. Leo Murphy.

Mrs. Jack Charman, formerly Audrey Holdsworth, and children, returned to their home in Halifax on Monday. She was accompanied by her sister, Marjorie, who plans to visit friends in Truro while away.

We remind our Digby readers of another time change that goes into effect on Sunday—and that is, evening services in the local churches will begin at 7:00 p.m. and not 7:30 as they have during the summer months.

About This and That

The less some men know about a subject, the more they are prepared to talk about it.

Fire prevention and fire protection are so inter-related that, like the chicken and the egg, it is sometimes difficult to distinguish which came first. The ideal situation would be for us to be careful in every phase of our every day life that we would have no fires and then we would not need any fire protection. However, the human race being what it is and our modern mode of life involving so many inherently dangerous features, such as gas, electricity, gasoline and all manner of chemicals, it has been found necessary to protect ourselves against these hazards. One form of protection in a community is the fire department. There are good fire departments and poor fire departments, the difference very often being accounted for by the interest or lack of interest displayed by the citizens generally. In some municipalities, the council is very slow to recognize the value of an efficient and up-to-date fire department. They are very loath to spend the taxpayers' money on what looks to them like a lot of gew-gaws and highly polished apparatus. It very often takes a conflagration involving heavy loss of life and property to wake them up to the necessity of providing adequate protection for their citizens. Such lack of foresight can have two very outstanding results, viz: high insurance rates and an adverse effect on prospective industries.

Fire Prevention Week is a good time to become acquainted with your local fire department. Many departments make a practice of keeping "open house" this week. Might we suggest that you pay a visit to the fire station in your town or neighborhood and have the firemen explain to you the various tools they use in fighting fires. You will find the fire ladders just about the finest group of men you care to meet. And don't forget they are standing guard night and day ready to protect your home, school, church, store and factory on the coldest night in the winter or the hottest day in the summer. It will do you a lot of good to get to know them!

A married man will tell a woman his wife doesn't understand him. The truth of the matter is that she understands him too well.

The other day we bought some Annapolis Valley apples. We are not kicking because the quality was not quite up to the standard of other years—but—O my gosh!—the price we had to pay for them!

But, we were apple hungry and paid that price with a grin. In fact, we expected to pay more for these apples than we paid in the past. We know this year's crop is only about 20 per cent of normal, and that the earlier varieties are almost non-existent. Nevertheless, there was something about the transaction that really got our goat, and that was the fact we were advised those Annapolis Valley apples came to Digby from Yarmouth!

And that some of the Annapolis Valley Apples on sale in Digby reach here from Saint John—and that practically all of these apples sold in Digby stores pass through Digby to be shipped back to us.

This seems hard to swallow but they say "it's regulations." If that is so, it is time someone was getting at the root of the matter and eliminating some of the dictatorship that makes these regulations possible.

We certainly expect to pay higher prices for Annapolis Valley apples this year but, why should we be taxed the double freight—the freight that carries them through Digby to Yarmouth or Saint John, and back to Digby from the same points?

These apples are grown almost at our back door. They could be brought here by truck direct from the growers, or by local trucks sent to get them—but—as we understand "according to regulations" they must pass through the hands of certain wholesalers appointed to handle them!

This is not new to us. We have experienced the same condition for several years—and many of us have personally "bootlegged" apples from the Annapolis Valley—apples that otherwise would have gone to waste.

The general result has been that British Columbia apples have been more plentiful in Digby stores than the native Annapolis Valley varieties—and because of this apparent tomfoolery our own Annapolis Valley apples sell in Digby today at practically the same price as California oranges!

When we commence combining business with pleasure, business generally gets the short end of it.

We were really surprised last week when we read the report on the C.C.F. Nominating Convention at Weymouth in which Rev. J. W. A. Nicholson was quoted as saying: "For the first time in the history of Digby County the people have a chance to send their own representative instead of some agent of big business to the Provincial Legislature."

Frankly, we would appreciate a definition of the term "big business." Had not Mr. Nicholson personally written the report from which the quotation was taken, we would have been of the opinion the Reverend gentleman had been misquoted.

However, due to the fact that during the provincial election of 1941 the editor of this newspaper was one of the candidates, perhaps we should consider this statement a compliment. Nevertheless, in the past there have been times almost without number when we wish we could have persuaded our bankers or our creditors of that fact (?) the 'Courier' was big business.

Frankly, we believe Digby County supporters of all political parties will take exception to Mr. Nicholson's statement. It is our candid opinion those Digby County men, who in the past have thrown their hat in the provincial political ring, have done so with the sincere desire to serve faithfully and well. We make this statement regardless of political affiliations.

And while we may not be in political accord with the Hon. J. Willie Comeau, our present member, and who has represented this county almost continually since 1906, and assuming that, in spite of certain rumors, he will be given the Liberal nomination at Weymouth on Saturday, we cannot by any stretch of imagination place him in the "big business" category.

Neither can anyone pin a "big business" tag on Major Ken Smith, the Progressive Conservative candidate. We all knew Ken as manager of a local service station prior to the outbreak of the war. Before that he served time as a lumber jack and a log driver on the Sissiboo River. Perhaps, from Mr. Nicholson's viewpoint, the fact that now, on his return from overseas, he is endeavoring to establish a wood working plant in his native town of Weymouth, has made a "big business" man of him, for no doubt he intends to be "boss" to those whom he will find necessary to employ.

While we agree with Mr. Nicholson that Lawrence Outhouse, the Tiverton fisherman candidate for the C.C.F., is not "big business" we take exception to the statement he is the first man from this county to offer for election to the provincial legislature who has not smelt of the "big business" taint.

We say this with all due respect to Mr. Outhouse, and with no desire whatever to nip his political career in the bud. In our opinion he is an honorable and upright young man with a character and record that cannot truthfully be attacked.

In the past the candidates named by the political parties of Digby County have included fisherman, farmers, lumbermen and merchants. If these men can be labelled "big business" the same stigma (if it is a stigma) can be applied to the gentlemen of the cloth.

Digby County is by no means a "big business" county. For the most part its citizens are associated directly or indirectly with the primary industries of fishing, farming and lumbering. We take great pride in the fact it is from their ranks the majority of our political candidates have been recruited.

"Angus L" is Back!

REGARDLESS of party affiliations, Nova Scotians are united in welcoming Angus L. Macdonald to his native heath. For "Angus L.", as he is familiarly known to many, has endeared himself to everybody for his long record of service to his province and his country. By every count he is a truly great Nova Scotian of whom we are all justly proud. . . . On this score, therefore, Mr. Macdonald solicits the support of EVERY Nova Scotian in the coming election. Here in brief is his record:

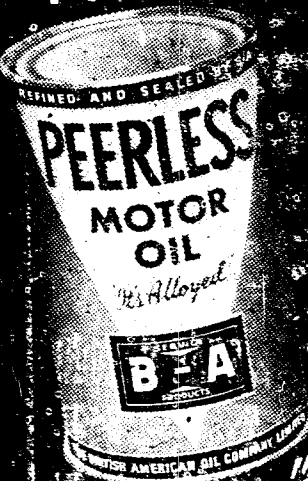

- 1 First, a brilliant scholastic career, followed by outstanding service in the Highland Brigade and the Fighting 25th Battalion in World War I.
- 2 Next, an excellent administrative term as Nova Scotia's Premier 1933-1940, when the Macdonald Government built the province's fine system of paved roads and introduced Rural Electrification, Old Age Pensions and Bonuses to Fishermen.
- 3 Then, as Canada's Minister of National Defence for Naval Affairs 1940-1945, in which post all Canadians acclaim his achievements — for the record of the Navy is the record of Angus L.
- 4 Finally, with experience broadened in the federal sphere, and judgment matured by the responsibility of high office, Angus L. Macdonald is the LEADER behind whom all Nova Scotians, civilians and service folks alike, can go forward to new fields of opportunity and accomplishment.

A vote for the Liberal candidate is a vote for YOUR greater welfare

Many farmers and gardeners, who cultivate their crops and destroy weeds during the growing season, cease work in the fall and allow some weeds to survive and go to seed. This is one of the greatest sources of reinfestation.

Dr. A. E. Roland, Professor of Botany at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College, reports that a student at the College counted the seeds on parts of pigweed plants in the college laboratory in October last. From the count he estimated from six hundred to a million and a quarter seeds to a plant. One million seeds, says Dr. Roland, would be 20,000 for every acre of a 50 acre field or 20 seeds for every square foot on an acre. This number adds Dr. Roland, is exceptional but a plant of red root pigweed which is becoming very prevalent in Nova Scotia may have 20,000 seeds; common chickweed 25,000; purslane 200,000 and hedge mustard 500,000.

Allowing these weeds, Dr. Roland concludes, to grow up and ripen after the cultivated crop is harvested or mature is the weak link in weed control on many farms. It cancels results from the whole summer's cultivation and weeding. The seeds of the weeds that are left are buried in the soil. Some germinate next year but some may remain alive for ten, twenty, or even forty years.

A few hours spent in pulling these late maturing weeds and gathering them in armfuls to be put out of the way will save many more hours work in future years.

Fall or Spring Planting in Nova Scotia

Nicholas V. Jankov, Landscape Advisor, with Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, said that he likes to see farmers using more shrubs and perennial flowering plants around their homes. However, he stresses the point that wise selection regarding hardiness should not be disregarded, as well as the proper place, and preparation of ground. Planting of shrubs and perennials may be done successfully in Nova Scotia both in the fall—September and October, and in the spring—April, May. However, for most of these plants spring is the best time. When planted in the spring a shrub has a full warm season to help it establish itself, but only just a few cold weeks, if set out in the fall.

There are some very hardy shrubs like J. Barberry, J. Quince and Bush Honeysuckle which can be successfully planted in the fall and also some perennials that bloom early in the spring—peonies, delphinium and some others. These should be planted in the fall.

A deciduous plant is in the best condition to be transplanted when it is without foliage. Evergreens, because they never shed their foliage completely, are harder to shift than deciduous trees and shrubs.

Spring flowering bulbs such as tulips should be planted right away.

Clover Seed

Many excellent second growth clover fields are reported this year and especially in the eastern counties and in the Gulf Shore district of the province. Professor Kenneth Cox, Provincial Agronomist, says that clover seed may be obtained from some of these fields and strongly advises farmers to examine them for this purpose. When the heads have turned brown, says Professor Cox, one can easily determine whether they contain seed by rubbing the heads between the palms of the hand when the seed, if present, will be readily observed.

In those communities where clover hullers are accessible it is a simple matter to cut this second growth clover and have it threshed in a huller. But even if there is no huller, some farmers have made a very good job of threshing the clover in an ordinary grain thresher. In this case the practice is to block off half of the cylinder so that the straw comes in on one side and goes out on the other side thereby getting extra threshing. There will be considerable leafy matter mixed with the seed when threshed in this way. This can be removed by dropping the mixed seed and leafy matter on a sheet in a place where the wind is blowing. Some have sent the mixed threshings by freight or truck to a clover huller in which the threshing can be completed.

Temperance gives nature her full play, and enables her to exert herself in all her force and vigor. —Addison Lawrence Outhouse Nominated by C.C.F.

At a C.C.F. convention at Weymouth last week the candidate nominated was Lawrence Outhouse, Tiverton. Nomination was moved by Ted Dakin, Digby, and seconded by Walter Johnson, Mt. Pleasant, and passed unanimously. Rev. J. W. A. Nicholson, C.C.F. Campaign organizer for Queens, began his address with these words: "For the first time in the history of Digby County the people have a chance to send their own representative instead of some agent of 'big business' to the Provincial Legislature."

Mr. Outhouse, a native of Tiverton, is a graduate of Acadia, did research work in the Dr. Banting Laboratories, Toronto University, and was Professor of Biology in the United States.

Following his career on research work on cancer he returned to his native village, and for the past five years has cast his lot with the fishermen of Digby.

During the course of his address Mr. Nicholson outlined the program of the C.C.F. and indicated the contrasts between it and the old parties. "The C.C.F. is a crusading movement for the common people sweeping round the world. Even solid, staid old Britain has been swept by the rising tide of real democracy," he said. Frank Morris, Digby, also addressed the meeting, which was presided over by Patrick Comeau, Digby.

Anniversary Dinner

A delightful anniversary dinner was held at the home of Mrs. Loran Hayden, on Tuesday, Sept. 25, to celebrate the 1st wedding anniversary of her daughter, (Mrs. Patterson). Eight guests sat down to the table which was tastefully decorated for the occasion.

Town Requests Safety Signal

The Town Council at their meeting, Monday night, passed a motion requesting the Dominion Atlantic Railway to erect a wig-wag safety signal at the railway crossing on Montague Row. It was felt by the Council that the crossing was extremely dangerous and that this action should be taken to avert any possible tragedy at this spot. Motion to ask for erection of the signal was made by Deputy Mayor Cardoza and seconded by Councillor Wallis.

Several residences have changed hands recently among them that of A. L. Robinson, near the R. C. Cemetery, which has been taken over and is now occupied by Capt. George M. Morrell; and that of Capt. Morrell, of Carleton Street which is now occupied by Capt. and Mrs. F. A. Robinson.

He died the helpless to defend,
A faithful soldier's noble end.

In a dark and lonely graveyard far across the deep blue sea,
My darling son lies sleeping from this world of care he is free.
I miss you so, dear Leo, but I know that you were brave
When you marched into that battle,
And you fill a hero's grave.
I shall keep your memory sacred,
As the lonely years roll by,
And my thoughts will ever linger,
In far off Belgium where you lie.

Grant Taxi License

A taxi license was granted to Russell Christmas at Monday night's meeting of the Town Council. Members of the Council felt that new taxi licenses should be confined to ex-service men but it was pointed out by the Town Solicitor that the Council could not legally refuse to issue the license under present bye laws.

Action to have licensing bye laws revised to give town authorities more control over these matters was taken at a recent meeting of the Council when the Town Clerk was instructed to secure copies of bye laws in effect in other centres. A special meeting of the Council will be called to deal with this.

THE CHALLENGE OF AN EMPTY PLATE*

* BEEF 100,000,000 lbs. still to be shipped.

The United Kingdom and liberated Europe rely on Canada 225,000,000 lbs. this year.

We supplied only 85,000,000 lbs. to August 31.

* PORK 100,000,000 lbs. still to be shipped.

The United Kingdom and liberated Europe rely on Canada for 450,000,000 lbs. this year.

We supplied only 350,000,000 lbs. to August 31.

* CANNED MEAT 70,000,000 lbs. still to be shipped.

The United Kingdom and liberated Europe rely on Canada for 114,000,000 lbs. this year.

We supplied only 44,000,000 lbs. to August 31.

In most liberated European countries, there is a desperate shortage of meat.

As a great food-producing nation, Canada must, can—and will—help to meet the emergency.

The job will not be finished at the year's end. Food scarcities in Europe will continue until the next harvest.

This year, Europe is relying on Canada for a minimum of 789 million pounds of beef, pork and canned meat.

Up to the end of August, only 479 million pounds had been sent.

How soon can we bridge the gap?

Livestock marketings are normally at their heaviest in the last four months of the year.

If we are to help feed the hungry peoples of devastated Europe, this is the time to make our greatest effort.

To do our part, we must reduce our own consumption of meat and also assure that everyone in Canada gets a fair share.

That is why rationing is necessary.

MEAT RATIONING ADDS TO EVERYONE'S WORK

The producer who slaughters, the retailer who sells, the consumer who buys and eats—they all play a vital part.

AS A CONSUMER, HERE IS HOW YOU CAN CO-OPERATE

1. Try to plan your meat purchases before leaving home by determining what cuts you intend to buy and their approximate weights.
2. Make sure you have enough valid coupons and tokens to cover your proposed purchases by referring to the Consumer Coupon Value Chart and the Coupon and Token Calculator. Copies may be obtained from your Local Ration Board or Ration Branch.
3. Know the dates your "M" coupons become valid.
4. Do not buy more meat than you really need.
5. Avoid shopping at rush hours.
6. Be patient. Remember—your butcher may have inexperienced help.

Have you a coat that you can spare?
A suit, or dress you never wear?
Perhaps some undies, part worn shoes
That from your wardrobe, seldom use.
Then GIVE them.
A child's dress, somewhat out of style,
A child with none, will count worthwhile,
Mitts neatly darned, are very nice,
Protect small hands from snow and ice.
So give THEM.
Search through your attic, trunk and box,
You'll find at least one pair of socks.
Whatever you give, be sure it can help clothe some child, woman or man.
So GIVE.
The clothes you give will warm YOUR heart,
And to the needy strength impart.
Renew, through months of woe-ful strain—
COURAGE, till "on their feet" again.
So give, GIVE, GIVE !!!

Weymouth North high school re-opened Monday for the fall term, with A. Walker, of Bridgetown, as teacher. Much difficulty has been experienced in getting a teacher for this room and many of the pupils have, so far, been attending the Weymouth school. The primary department, with teacher, Miss M. Greek, opened on schedule.

The weekly Red Cross meeting was held in Killam Hall last Wednesday, week, with a very small attendance. We wish to remind members, again that there is still much to be done before we can return to a peace time schedule, and to urge every one to continue to "do their bit." A box—several boxes, we hope—will be packed for the National Clothing Drive, in the next two weeks, and anyone who has clothing to donate to this cause will please bring it as soon as possible to the Killam Hall on Red Cross days. The lucky ticket on the quilt made and donated by Miss Mabel Melanson, Weymouth Mills, was held by Mrs. Despard, who recently returned to her home in Newark, N.J., after visiting at the Goodwin Hotel. Tickets on the quilt brought between $18 and $19.

MARRIAGE

Cox - Spurr

A wedding of wide interest was solemnized in Bridgetown at 2 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 5, in St. James' Anglican Church, when Miss Kathleen Isabel Spurr, only child of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Spurr, of Deep Brook, was married to Flying Officer Douglas Maxwell Cox, D.F.C., R. C.A.F., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Douglas Cox, of Halifax, the Rev. L. W. Mosher, rector of the parish, officiating.

Mrs. E. L. Fisher, church organist, played the wedding march from Lohengrin, as the bride entered the church with her father, by whom she was given in marriage. Her bridal frock was of ivory white satin, styled with a long close fitting torso with sweetheart neckline, and long sleeves which tapered to a point over the wrist. The full skirt of embroidered tulle was full length, its folds falling softly from a coronet of seed pearls. Her only ornament was a gold pendant on a slender fill-gree chain, an heirloom of her family. She wore gold sandals and carried an arm bouquet of Talisman roses.

She was attended by Miss Edith Moore, of Dartmouth, who wore a floor-length frock of petal pink taffeta, with a Mary Stuart head-dress of shirred tulle in a matching shade. Her arm bouquet was of pink roses. Little Miss Valerie Young, of Deep Brook, was flower girl and Flying Officer John Kinley, of Guysboro, was best man. Douglas Troop, DeWitt Dargie, Daniel Harlow and Richmond Longmire, all of Bridgetown, were ushers.

The church was effectively decorated with gladioli and ferns, the guest pews being designated by white ribbon bows. During the signing of the register, the organist played a lovely arrangement of nuptial hymns.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox left for a honeymoon trip throughout the province before going to Toronto, where they will reside until the groom completes his course at the Toronto University.

Some May Buy Gas on Sunday

Tourists stranded with empty tanks because of Nova Scotia's "gasless Sunday" may purchase enough fuel to enable them to continue their trip. Instructions to this effect have been given some gasoline stations by the Public Utilities Board, it has been learned.

Nova Scotians who need gasoline for emergency use on Sunday can get it by signing a special certificate which the board has supplied to service station and garage operators. The certificate, called an "emergency slip" must state the reason the fuel is required.

No exact definition of what constitutes an emergency has been made but it is generally understood that the needs of doctors, veterinarians, nurses, undertakers and ministers come within that category.

Police department vehicles already are exempted from the Sunday no-gas regulations. Fishermen also may buy gasoline for their boats on the Sabbath.

In other respects Utilities Board regulations, a continuation in peacetime of federal wartime restrictions prohibit the sale of gasoline from 7 p.m. Saturday to 7 a.m. Monday and between 7 p.m. and 7 a.m. every other day.

We Have No Regular Correspondents

For the time being our news columns are open to everyone in Digby and Western Annapolis Counties. One of our aims in adopting the policy of paying space rates for news contributions is to scout for new material from new writers. Those, who in the past, have been recognized as "regular correspondents" will continue to receive the Courier until the end of the calendar year. Whether or not their subscriptions will be continued after that date will depend upon their news budgets between now and then.

As pointed out in previous announcements, our space rates will not be high, but they should be sufficient to make reporting for the Courier worthwhile.

Until we get really organized these rates will be based on quality, promptness and quantity. For instance "live news" will receive a higher rate than the ordinary run of "personal mention items." This method of payment may be changed at a later date.

Promptness will be an important factor and bonuses will be paid when the reporter shows he or she is really on the job. In reporting weddings and obituaries, reporters are reminded we will pay higher rates for these only when they are promptly submitted.

Social and personal news should be mailed to reach us not later than the Tuesday before publication date. More important items sent in daily if necessary.

Important news items that break on Tuesdays or on a Wednesday morning may be telephoned "collect"—or, if there is a telegraph office in your community, wire them "press rate collect."

Naturally, all items submitted will not be published, for it is our privilege to purchase only those items we require. Other items may be "cut" or enlarged upon according to our judgment of their news value. When items are cut payment will be made only for the space they occupy in our columns. News writers will be given the benefit of any additions we make to their original story.

It is important that all news contributors clip their items from each week's edition of the Courier, save them for one month, and return them to us not later than the 10th of the following month. What you will receive for your work will be based on these clippings—payment will not be made without them.

New Business Can Get Goods More Easily Now

Revising its policy governing the distribution of goods in short supply, Wartime Prices and Trade Board has provided a more ready access to certain commodities by veterans and other individuals entering retail or wholesale business.

Manufacturers and distributors of washing machines, electrical appliances, bicycles, jewelry, radios, refrigerators, motor cars and trucks may now take on new dealers freely or serve new wholesale or retail outlets.

Manufacturers and distributors of clothing and other fully fabricated textile products, of footwear, photographic equipment and supplies, furniture, sporting goods and a number of other articles, may, if they wish, distribute 20 per cent of their current production or supplies to new entrants into business. This 20 per cent may be distributed either amongst new entrants or established accounts.

The Board's policy of equitable distribution was maintained during the war to ensure all parts of the country got their fair share and also to make sure that small businesses got their ratio of goods. Now with the return to a peacetime era, manufacturers in many cases find it impossible to reorganize their sales channels according to the 1941 pattern. Consequently they are now allowed to alter and extend their sales outlets at will.

The step taken by the Board in revising its equitable distribution policy will aid veterans in establishing businesses.

BURTON L. ELLIS

Results recently released by North American Life indicate that Burton L. Ellis of Digby, has qualified as a member of the Company's big Production Club. Membership is based on volume of sales, quality of business, and service to policyholders. It is the Company's hallmark of success. Mr. Ellis is associated with the Company's Nova Scotia Branch under the management of A. Gay Kirkpatrick.

I See In the Papers . . .

Said to be the first of its type installed for commercial use in the Maritimes a new type fish smoker is now in operation. This unique departure from the old style method is installed at the Lockeport Company's Yarmouth branch, managed by P. G. Boutillier. The installation was under the supervision of Mr. Wood, Fisheries Experimental Station, Halifax.

Restrictions on the sizes and packaging of facial tissues have been lifted. The previous order, which introduced economies in production, standardized the weight of paper which could be used, reduced the number of facial tissue sizes to two, and fixed maximum of 300 sheets to a package.

Co-operative farmers' associations in Canada now number 2,418, with Quebec accounting for 77 per cent of the total. The first cooperative in Canada was formed 155 years ago when Nova Scotia farmers decided to form an agricultural cooperative society in 1790 to develop a better market for their beef.

Yom Kippur, celebrated this year by the Jews on September 17th, is the most sacred day of the Jewish ritual. It is the day of fasting and prayer, from sunset on the eve of Yom Kippur until the beginning of the night of the following day.

A strong exception was taken at a largely attended meeting of the Amherst B.E.S.L. over a recent appointment as a Meat Rationing Supervisor of Cumberland County. The protest was made because the Legion was not given a chance to recommend a service man.

Still more young faces are appearing in local business establishments, as discharges from the armed forces release men for civilian work and careers. It's interesting to note the varying reactions on the part of such returned citizens. Some are discontented and have the urge to shake the dust of the old hometown for larger fields. Others are so glad to get back safe and sound that they are reverting to their old modest jobs and liking them.

A GOOD FARMER IS A GOOD PLANNER

It's the man who looks ahead who gets ahead.

GOOD management . . . essential to successful farming, as to any business enterprise . . . is largely a matter of timely marketing and careful spending . . . waiting for the time when it is most favourable to buy.

We all want things now . . . things we have not been able to get for the past several years. Some of these things are necessities . . . some are things that will contribute to our comforts and pleasures.

Eventually, these things will be more plentiful. By waiting a little longer we will help to keep prices of things we need at lower levels and we will buy at better advantage when we do buy.

Meantime we can invest our savings in the safest securities obtainable . . . Victory Bonds. More Victory Bonds will be offered this Fall. They pay 3% interest . . . double bank interest . . . and they are "liquid capital".

If we need cash in an emergency any bank will buy Victory Bonds at any time. And any bank will loan money on Victory Bonds.

The Ninth Victory Loan will be our last opportunity to buy Victory Bonds for a whole year, so buy double this time—the same rate of savings as in previous loans will pay for twice as many bonds over the 12 month period.

FARMERS CAN BUY VICTORY BONDS ON CONVENIENT DEFERRED PAYMENTS THROUGH ANY BANK

... just sign a short form letter which Victory Loan Salesmen carry (banks have copies) ordering the bank to buy Victory Bonds for you. Pay 5% when ordering and the balance at any time during the next 12 months. The interest the bonds earn pays the interest on the bank loan.

WAR-TIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—May I use tokens in any butcher shop or must I take them back to the butcher who gave them to me?

A.—There seems to be some misunderstanding about the use of tokens . . . they can be used in exactly the same way as ration coupons. If you purchase less meat than the coupon value allows, you retailer will give you change in tokens to cover the unused amount. It's the same principle as getting silver change for your dollar bills. Ten dimes are the same thing as a dollar—8 tokens equal one coupon in meat value. These tokens may be used for a later purchase of meat in any butcher shop in Canada.

Q.—Why does rationing go on after the war is over?

A.—There is no choice about continuing sugar, butter and preserves rationing because there is not enough of these commodities to go around under unrestricted distribution. Meat rationing is being undertaken to help supply food to peoples in the liberated countries and Great Britain. This could not be done without rationing because the areas which do not produce enough meat to fill their own needs, such as the Maritimes, would not have enough to supply their populations.

Q.—I understand we are supplying the United Kingdom with 200,000,000 pounds of beef with a "possible additional 25,000,000 pounds if it can be made available." I am a small dealer . . . will there be enough meat to sell.

A.—As you know our bacon commitment is 465,000,000 lbs., and hog production this year was low. This may result in some difficulty in obtaining pork products but there will be ample supplies of other meat to fill the ration. In fact, for the next few weeks, and until meat coupons used balance slaughterings for domestic use, there will probably be an extra supply of meat on your shelf. In any case, a 12 per cent reduction in the war-time volume of sales will not lower sales below the profit margins.

Q.—I find it very difficult to discover how much meat I can buy with one coupon or with one token. Is there any way I can be sure?

A.—There is a chart showing the value of both coupons and tokens on display in every meat dealer's shop. So that you may study the values before going shopping we have mailed you a copy of Consumers' News containing a meat chart with values all clearly set out.

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board answers questions put to The Digby Courier regarding price control and rationing regulations. Or you may write directly to the Consumer Branch of the Board, 77 Upper Water Street, Halifax.

MARRIAGE

Ilong - Clarkson

A wedding of interest to many friends, particularly in Digby and St. Marton, was solemnized in Carleton United Church, West Saint John, N.B., on September 22, when Beryl Marjorie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Clarkson, and Joseph John Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Long, were united in marriage by Rev. Arthur Long. The church was tastefully decorated with autumn leaves, gladioli and other flowers; a silver basket centred the Communion table.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attended by her younger sister, Miss Hazel Clarkson. Frederick Long, brother of the groom, was groomsman.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white appliqued net over organza, slightly entrain with fitted bodice of white satin, sweetheart neckline and long sleeves which tapered to points over the hands. A veil of tulle illusion extended beyond her train. She carried a bouquet of Better-time roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Royal Hotel, Saint John, where tables were decorated with autumn flowers and tall tapers.

The bride is well known in Digby where her father was manager of the Digby branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia before his transfer to Saint John. He was manager of the Stellarton branch before coming to Digby.

House Burns At Hectanooga

The house of Thomas P. Saulnier, of Hectanooga, was burned to the ground with a portion of the contents on Sunday of last week. As the people were coming out of the church about ten o'clock, smoke was seen issuing from the roof, the house being on the opposite side of the lake. Autos were rushed to the scene, the family being at church, and when people arrived the upper storey was in flames. What was on the lower floor was saved, but everything upstairs, including three furnished beds, all their winter clothes, a quantity of quilts and blankets for winter use, and other pieces of furniture were destroyed. It appears the origin of the fire was a defective flue, although there was no fire in the stove when the occupants had left the house. There was no insurance on the building. The barn and its contents were saved. The family has moved for the present on the upper floor of the post office.

No Haggle Over Haggis

Warranting a loud skirl of bagpipes throughout the land, a recent Prices Board statement brought joy to the hearts of the Dominion's Scotchmen. The whole business started when it was discovered St. Andrew's day this year falls on a Friday. Fridays, as everyone knows, are meatless days in public eating places. That meant the traditional Haggis could not be served, which is about equivalent to prohibiting a Scotchman from reading Robert Burns.

However, a momentous announcement from the Board, couched in very prosaic language cleared up the impending trouble. The Prices Board said: "It has been decided that Haggis may be served at dinners on St. Andrew's day, November 30, which falls on a Friday this year. Quota users requesting permission to serve Haggis will be granted the necessary authority by the Ration Branch."

Looks like clear weather ahead for the clans from now on.

Waldec Home and School Association Make Plans

The Waldec West Home and School Association held its first fall meeting on Friday, Sept. 22, with the president, Mrs. Russell Henshaw, in the chair. Plans for the coming months were discussed. It was decided upon to provide hot cocoa for the school children's lunches during cold weather; to take up the study of and discuss "Adult Parent Education"; and to purchase material for a quilt to be made and sold. Plans were also made to attend the coming County Council at Barton, which members find most interesting and inspiring educationally as well as socially.

The Waldec West Association was organized two years ago, Miss Dora Baker, Provincial Organizer, and Mrs. B. C. Silver, Provincial President, being present. Although Home and School Association are in their infancy in this part of the Province, Nova Scotia has the honor of having had its first Association formed at Baddeck, in 1895, with Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Graham Bell as founders. Since then it has gradually grown throughout the Dominion, Ontario coming first and Nova Scotia second in the number of Associations. There are over 60,000 Home and School members in the Dominion.

Each year in February a Founders' Day is celebrated with special programs.

There Are Other Worlds

(By Lewis Milligan)

Dr. Henry Norris Russell, Princeton astronomer, declares that "recent photographic observations show that several of the nearest stars have visible companions revolving around them," and that while "the conditions for habitability are fairly stringent, there may be thousands or more of habitable worlds among them."

There is something very fascinating to the human mind about the question of other worlds, but astronomers have been very skeptical of the probability of the existence of other planets similar to our own. At least, being scientists, they want positive proof and they discourage speculation on such matters. Yet these scientists themselves base many of their theories regarding the origin of the universe on speculations which they call "hypotheses." Most of them are mere guesses which are subject to modification, and are often abandoned for new ones.

But why should there be a moment's doubt that there are other inhabited worlds than this? No one looking up at the immensity of space with the countless universes of the Milky Way, can imagine that it is all one vast cosmic desert, devoid of life. If, as the astronomers admit, there are numerous universes like our own, there must certainly be at least one planet in each of those universes on which life exists. And of life, why not human and super-human life?

Scientists tell us that this earth was once void of any form of life, owing to its cosmic condition, when it was subject to perpetual upheavals and atmospheric tornadoes, and when the waters which now fill our oceans were suspended in the form of encircling clouds of steam. Where was life in that "dark backward and abyss of time?" It did not exist on the earth, but it certainly existed somewhere, for "nothing can come out of nothing."

Dr. Ralph E. DeLury, of the Dominion Observatory at Ottawa, commenting upon the statement of Dr. Russell, said: "The chance that the earth is the only body having the right conditions for life is very slim. There must be many stars with small companions floating about them, and thousands of these companions may have gone through the same processes of formation that the earth has. What form of life? That's impossible to say. It might be like life on this earth, but then again it might not. After all, there is every evidence that life here was not always what it is now, that there were some great old forms of life millions of years ago. Probably there will be more in years to come."

An official of the Dunlap Observatory of Toronto, was not in such whole-hearted agreement with Dr. Russell. "I would say," he stated, "that it is reasonable to suppose life does exist elsewhere, but I would put it down to philosophical conjecture rather than to scientific fact."

But why should the existence of life outside this little planet of ours be regarded as a "supposition?" It is not a matter of conjecture but of scientific fact that the universes around us are teeming with life of unimaginable variety and stages of development. It is merely a question of conditions, and wherever conditions favorable to life exist, life is sure to emerge and flourish. Are we human inhabitants of this planet such little egotists as to assume that we are on the only "pebbles" on the beaches of time and eternity?

It was no supposition or conjecture that prompted the one divine Visitor to this planet to declare to His followers on His departure: "In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you."

Farewell Party at Port Wade

On Tuesday evening friends gathered at the home of Prof. A. Armstrong and tendered him and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Lucilla Armstrong, a farewell party. They have been resident of this community for several years and it was with deep regret we learned of their plans for departure. During the evening Rev. H. D. Hopper, on behalf of the community, presented them each with a very nice gift. His well-chosen words were ably responded to by Prof. Armstrong. The evening's entertainment consisted of readings by Mrs. Fred Parker. Several others taking part with stories and song. Refreshments were served. Prof. Armstrong left Friday for California. Mrs. Armstrong plans to spend the winter

PRESBYTERY HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

A meeting of the Annapolis Presbytery of the United Church of Canada was held in Grace United Church, Digby, on Friday last, opening at 10:00 in the morning and continuing all day and evening. All the clergy in the Presbytery, with the exception of Rev. A. Thorpe, of Weymouth, were present and there was also a fair representation of laymen. The morning session was taken up with routine business, the reports of the standing committees and matters arising out of the minutes of the preceding sessions. The matter of gambling came in for considerable discussion and the following resolution was passed:

Whereas, Gambling in lotteries, bingo, wheels of fortune, etc., has been noticeably on the increase in the constituency served by the Annapolis Presbytery;

And Whereas, the United Church of Canada has constantly stood against these games of chance as detrimental to the well-being of the individual and to society;

Be it Resolved, that the Presbytery of Annapolis request its ministers to read from their pulpits the Resolution in respect to Gambling adopted by the Eleventh General Council, held in London, Ont., in September, 1944, as follows:

It is recommended:—That the General Council reaffirm the action of the Ninth General Council which enjoined our people as follows:

(1) To refrain from any form of Gambling, no matter how worthy may be the objective for which the money is being raised.

(2) To use their influence to encourage groups or clubs to which they may belong, such as service clubs, or patriotic societies, to use other means of raising the necessary fund to carry on their work.

(3) To oppose unhesitatingly any schemes in our churches that savour of gambling for the raising of money for church purposes.

Further Be it Resolved, that having presented the said resolution the ministers of Presbytery challenge the members of the church to support our church's position and to crusade against this force of evil in our midst.

Fred E. Bath, of Bridgetown, a lay representative, gave notice that the next regular meeting he would move that the method of electing lay representatives to the Maritime Conference be amended and that they shall be elected at the meeting immediately preceding the annual conference.

It was decided to have a general exchange of pulpits some time within the next few weeks, and the following provisional programme was submitted:

During the afternoon quite a large delegation arrived from the Yarmouth Presbytery to hear addresses from Rev. Dr. Rideout, of Toronto, who spoke on behalf of the Missionary and Maintenance Fund, and Rev. Roy Webster, a returned missionary from West China.

At the public meeting in the evening the same speakers delivered powerful addresses.

Victory Loan Quota Set

Digby County's quota for the Ninth Victory Loan has been set at $700,000. This is the largest quota that the county has ever had since the beginning of the loans. Of this amount $48,000 is to be raised through Payroll Savings and $652,000 from general sales. The payroll savings quota for the 8th Victory Loan was $75,000 but due to the closing of the shipbuilding plants and the general slackening in war employment this quota has been reduced to the present figure.

It is felt by the local committees that all plans for the operation of the loan in Digby county should be completed by the end of the week. Nearly all of the salesmen have been appointed and instructional meetings for these salesmen and other workers have been scheduled for the last of the week. Advertising will be distributed next week and other arrangements finalized.

M. C. Denton, county chairman, who attended the meeting of unit chairmen held in Halifax last week, states that although the quota for the county is a very high one he has confidence in the ability of the workers, both the volunteer committees and the salesman, and feels that Digby will make a creditable showing.

The general sales quotas for canvassing districts in Digby County for the 9th Victory Loan were announced yesterday by the local committee. They were:

District A—Digby Town	$180,000
District B—Bear River
and District	30,000
District C—District of
Clare	240,000
District D—Digby Neck	110,000
District E—Weymouth
and District	110,000

Again Discuss Highway Paving

The matter of the paving of the Digby Neck Road was again discussed at Tuesday night's meeting of the Digby Board of Trade. A letter from W. H. Stuart, Deputy Minister of Highways, was read in which Mr. Stuart promised an immediate study of the matter of the paving of the road.

It was decided at the meeting to table the matter until the next meeting when the subject would again be brought before the attention of Provincial Authorities.

Returned Man Injured in Hunting Accident

One week after he had returned home on the Ile de France after more than four years overseas, Ronald Pierce, 41, of Brighton, was admitted to Digby General Hospital suffering from gun shot wounds. The accident occurred Tuesday afternoon while he and his son-in-law Russell Lombard, were on a hunting trip near their home.

In some manner Lombard's gun accidentally discharged, a quantity of No 6 shot grazing Pierce's face, and several of the shot entering his lower left jaw.

Dr. J. R. McCleave, of Digby, was summoned, and the injured man was brought to the Digby General Hospital early Tuesday evening. Although painful, his injuries are not regarded as "serious."

OBITUARY

James Norris Hazleton
Funeral services for the late James Norris Hazleton were held from his home, King Street, Digby, Saturday, October 6, Rev. T. W. Hodgson, of Grace United Church, officiating.

Mr. Hazleton, who was the youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Hazleton, was born in Digby 87 years ago. His wife predeceased him several years.

His sudden death on Thursday morning was a severe shock to a host of friends and relatives. He was well known throughout the county and for many years carried on a trucking business.

Surviving are a brother, Joseph, in the United States; a daughter, (Emma) Mrs. Donald Richards, Somerville, Mass.; a son, William, of Digby; also several grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Interment was in the family lot in the United Church cemetery.

V. O. N. REPORTS MUCH ACTIVITY

Miss Faye Saunders, local V. O. N., revealed through her report to the Board members on Tuesday, that a busy month was spent in carrying out the programme for September and also that an ambitious programme is set for the future. In the last month 94 cases were carried, with 201 visits made. Attending the four well-baby conferences were 40, while there are 55 infants under supervision. A half hour each morning has been given over for consultation with the teachers and pupils in connection with school health. 115 minor treatments were given and rapid inspection of pupils has been completed. Health talks individually and collectively, Miss Saunders has made a survey of communicable diseases of the school children so that in case of an epidemic those necessary might be readily isolated. A T.B. survey of the high school students has been taken by patch testing and X-raying when necessary. The immunization against diphtheria and whooping cough clinics have been well attended. Reinforcing doses have been given to school children who have already had the toxoids. Miss Saunders expressed her appreciation to members of V.O.N. Board and others who assisted in the clinics.

The resignation of Mrs. J. A. Grant from the Board was regrettably accepted at the meeting. Mrs. Grant, who leaves soon for Kitchener, Ontario, was convener of the Publicity and Education for local V.O.N. Her work along this line has been of specially fine quality and the Board is sorry to lose her for this reason as well as for her live suggestions in the general running of the V.O.N. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered her for her services.

Plans for the Telephone Bridge, scheduled for the week of October 15, were reported to be completed. The committee in charge consists of Mrs. John Russell, Mrs. Baden Powell, Mrs. Fred Thibault, Mrs. Raymond Winchester and Mrs. Wilmet Christie.

$150,000 Fire at Bridgetown

The M. W. Graves plant at Bridgetown was destroyed by fire on Sunday, causing a loss estimated at $150,000 as well as the subsequent loss of employment for a large number of employees. The blaze is said to be the result of spontaneous combustion in the coal cellar.

Buildings destroyed housed the concentrated apple juice, vinegar and pumice department including the large tank cellar which was the company's main storage for juice.

Remaining buildings house the dehydrating and canning departments including storage warehouses and offices.

Urges Support of Loan

County Chairman M. C. Denton issued an urgent appeal at Tuesday night's meeting of the Board of Trade for the support of that organization in the forthcoming Ninth Victory Loan. He stated that the quota for Digby County in this loan was the highest ever allotted and would require the strong support of every citizen of the county if it were to be achieved. He called upon the Board members individually and collectively to give every support to the Loan so that Digby might emerge more go 'over the top.'

Red Cross Tea

Mrs. J. A. Grant was guest of honor at a well attended afternoon tea held in the Red Cross rooms, on Wednesday of last week. Mrs. Grant has been one of the regular Red Cross workers during the past four years and her departure from Digby will be a loss to the Red Cross Sewing Group, of which she was one of the originators.

Married 57 Years

Fifty-seven years ago today a pretty wedding took place in the Methodist Church at Brighton, Digby County, when Rev. T. C. Hooper united in marriage Annie Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Marshall, and William E. VanBlarcom son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin VanBlarcom.

Shortly after that event, Mr. and Mrs. VanBlarcom moved to Digby, where, except for a few years spent in Toronto, they have lived ever since. They have played a prominent part in the business, social, church and political life of the town. For many years "Mr. Van" conducted a coal business here. At one time he was high sheriff of Digby County and in 1910 was an unsuccessful candidate in a provincial election.

They are quietly observing their anniversary at the Birch Street home today. Both are enjoying good health and in spite of his 84 years "Mr. Van" is one of the most active men in Digby County, spending much of the time "on the road" selling men's wearing apparel—and during spare time, working in his garden.

We, along with our readers, extend our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Van" as they are most generally known, and wish them many more years of happiness.

James Hayden, of Eellingham, Washington, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. A. F. Newhouse, of Everett, Mass., arrived last week to spend a few days with his brothers, W. W. and J. W. Hayden, and to renew old acquaintances. This was Mr. Hayden's first visit to his native town in forty years. They left on the first leg of their journey home, yesterday.

Douglas Grimmer returned from his vacation Friday. He was accompanied by his friend, Cecil Beers, of Vanceboro, Maine. Mr. Beers has recently returned from Manila and New Zealand where he served with the U. S. Army.

Liberals Nominate Comeau

The Hon. J. Willie Comeau, dean of the Nova Scotia Legislature, and minister without portfolio in the present cabinet, was the unanimous choice of Digby County Liberals at a convention held in Community Theatre, Weymouth, Saturday afternoon, as the standard bearer in the forthcoming election.

His nomination was moved by H. E. Chisholm, of Bear River, warden of Digby Municipality, and seconded by Dr. P. E. Belliveau of Meteghan.

The premier of the province, Hon. Angus L. MacDonald (former minister of defence for naval affairs in the Federal Government) addressed the convention, outlining the policies of the Liberal party in Nova Scotia, and paying high tribute to his colleague.

The member for Digby County is the third candidate to be nominated to contest this election. His opponents will be Major Kenneth E. Smith, of Weymouth, Progressive-Conservative Candidate and Laurence Outhouse, of Tiverton, candidate for the C.C.F. party.

There had been some speculation as to whether or not "J. Willie" would again offer as candidate. That speculation, no doubt, was the result of an article originally published in the Montreal "Standard" and reprinted in many publications. The article stated J. Willie would retire from active provincial politics at the close of the present session of the legislature.

He has been a member of the provincial house since 1907. In 1917 he turned his attention to the Federal field, and in that wartime election he was defeated in Yarmouth-Clare by the Union Government candidate.

He returned to the provincial field in 1928, when he, with the Hon. A. S. MacMillan successfully opposed the conservative candidates, J. L. P. Robicheau (now Senator Robicheau) and Harry E. Wagner. He has successfully contested every provincial election since then.

Owing to the reduction of seats in the Provincial House, Digby County since the 1928 election, has only had one member.

The Baptist Guild will meet Tuesday with Mrs. Hugh Perry.

Nominations Filed

Nomination day proceedings were quiet at Digby Tuesday, with all three candidates present for the filing of their papers with returning officer Sheriff Guy D. Dunn at the court house, Digby. There were no speeches from the candidates.

Candidates nominated were as follows:

Edgar Laurence Outhouse, of Tiverton, fisherman.

Kenneth Earle Smith, of Weymouth, manufacturer.
J. Willie Comeau is the present government member for the constituency and is minister without portfolio in the present cabinet. Edgar Laurence Outhouse is candidate for the C.C.F. party, and Kenneth Earle Smith, Progressive-Conservative candidate.

Barn Burns at Clementsport

The large barn of Roscoe Merritt, Clementsport was totally destroyed by fire early Monday evening. When the fire was discovered the flames had made considerable headway and spread rapidly. A car owned by Oakley Potter garaged in the building was also destroyed.

Excellent work in fighting the flames was done by the H.M.C.S. Cornwallis fire department who arrived on the scene in short order. None of the surrounding properties were damaged.

Farewell Supper for Mrs. Grant

The executive of the Digby Branch of the Navy League of Canada tendered a farewell supper to Mrs. J. A. Grant, who has so efficiently headed much of the work of the Ladies' Committee, on Thursday evening last. The supper was held in the Board room of the Hostel and was attended by almost the entire executive and a few guests. During the evening a presentation was made to Mrs. Grant and several speeches expressed regret at her leaving and wished her every happiness in her future home.

The Baptist Sewing Circle will meet Tuesday with Mrs. Howard Anderson.

HAZEN ARGUE

CCF Federal Candidate for Wood Mountain, Saskatchewan

Hazen Argue, 24, of Kayville, Saskatchewan, is a farmer, but he is chiefly noted as the young, ast CCF Federal Candidate in Canada, and for the brilliance of his student activities in College of Agriculture at the University of Saskatchewan, and who will speak in Digby next Tuesday.

Awarded a 6 weeks' farm school course in 1938, young Mr. Argue went on to win a scholarship in the University co-op school in 1939. He represented the University on debating teams for three consecutive years, won two bursaries for excellence of studies, graduated in 1944 with distinction in Farm Management. Several years ago he was "Minister of Agriculture" in the CCF parliament elected at University of Saskatchewan.

Girl Killed By Car At Church Point

Before her horrified school mates and other witnesses, Collette Stuart, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Stuart, Church Point, was fatally injured when struck by a car at noon on Thursday of last week.

With her neck broken and both legs fractured, the young victim lived only ten minutes. The car which figured in the tragedy was driven by Mede Comeau, of Meteghan Station.

The accident occurred directly in front of the victim's home. A car was parked at the side of the road. The little girl ran from behind the stationary machine into the path of the car operated by Comeau. Struck by the left mudguard she was hurled to the pavement.

Comeau was driving in the direction of Digby. According to witnesses he was proceeding at a moderate speed. It is stated the child appeared on the road so suddenly that the driver had no chance to avoid an accident.

An inquest conducted by Medice Comeau in the Little Brook court room returned a verdict of "accidental death" and absolved the driver of all blame. Joseph Doucette was foreman of the jury. Other jurors were Paul Doucette, Peter Blinn, Edward Saulnier, Gustave Thibodeau, Emile LeBlanc, J. Doucette, Fedelis LeBlanc, Alphonse Dugas, Edmund Thibodeau, A. Doucette, Charles Bourque and Alphonse Comeau.

In addition to her parents the little girl is survived by three brothers, Benoit, Charles and Gerald, and three sisters, Jacqueline, Geraldine and Amelia.

Weir Fishing at The Seawall

The weir season is over for the fishermen from the Seawall. Taking the seven months it takes to cut and haul material, build and tend weir they experienced rather a poor year financially.

The herring never came up the bay in schools large enough to warrant boats to come up to stay. Therefore when there was a big catch of herring most of them had to be dumped except some that were saved for bait. Only a few boats were loaded during the entire season.

A few mackerel came in August. These were sold mostly to "fish peddlers." There were six weirs at The Seawall, two of them using twine instead of "top brush" as is generally done there. Even in New Brunswick twine weirs are used altogether.

Princess Helene To Go in Dry Dock

It has been announced the Bay of Fundy steamer "Princess Helene" is soon to go into drydock for a general overhauling, and will not operate between Saint John and Digby on October 29, 30, 31, November 1, 2, 3. As far as can be learned no steamer has been found to take over the route during these days. A further announcement is expected.

About This and That

"They Didn't Have to Die." That is the name of a new film recently made for the Dominion Fire Prevention Association. It depicts the manner in which hundreds of Canadian citizens annually become needless victims of that great destroyer, Fire.

No, they didn't have to die in that manner but through carelessness and wanton neglect, the lives of 307 men, women and children in this Canada of ours were snuffed out by fire in 1944. Records compiled by the Dominion Fire Commissioner show that 23 small children lost their lives when left alone by their parents. Another 20 of the 118 children to die by fire last year were burned to death by fire originating in furnaces, stoves and heaters. A total of 76 people died as the result of fires in flammable liquids such as gasoline, kerosene, paint removers, etc. The largest loss of life occurred in dwellings, 110 in rural dwellings, and 114 in urban dwellings.

When will this needless sacrifice stop? Only when people become more careful in the handling of things that cause fires and when parents wake up to the fact that they have an unceasing responsibility to protect their defenceless little ones against the ravages of fire. Recent press reports contain such statements as the following: "It is believed the fire started when Miss W. tried to light the stove with gasoline, thinking it was coal oil;" and another, "a regrettable accident occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. of H. when their son mistook gasoline for coal oil and attempted to light a fire with it." Why people persist in the use of coal oil—and sometimes gasoline—in the starting of fires, in the light of all the publicity which has been given this dangerous practice, is a question not easily answered. It is probably the old story of the "line of least resistance." It has been truly said that "fire is no respecter of persons." It strikes at the high as well as the low when we let our guards down. Those guards consist of eternal vigilance and an application of common sense applied to fire prevention.

Canada earned undying glory in her prosecution of the war. Let not her good record be tarnished in the glorious days of peace to come by continuing to offer human sacrifices to the demon, Fire. Let our motto be, "ALWAYS BE CAREFUL OF FIRE."

The wife is willing to love if the husband will honor and obey.

PI iNes

Don't misunderstand us. We are not begrudging our British friends one ounce of our Canadian bacon, nevertheless, we are convinced there must be something radically wrong in the system of bacon distribution in Canada for Canadians.

Last week we were told Canadians would have less bacon for their tables. The quota to Britain must be increased in order to prevent the cutting of the British ration from three ounces to two ounces per week. From this we assume the average per capita consumption of bacon in Canada must be more than two or three ounces.

But how is that average being distributed?

We know that in Digby bacon is one of the scarcest food stuffs. To get any at all it is necessary to be on hand when shipments arrive in the stores—and those shipments are sometimes not more than from three to six pounds a week to a store—some times none at all.

Digby families who average one ounce a week per person are doing remarkably well. The average throughout the county must be much less than that. We have actually had friends write to us to ask if we could possibly get them a little bacon, "we haven't seen any for weeks" they state.

Production figures show Canada can spare bacon for Britain even at the cost of cutting down our own domestic supply. Nevertheless, we believe that we in this section of the province of Nova Scotia (and we believe the situation is general throughout the Maritimes) are not getting our share, and while we support the "Bacon for Britain" policy, we also advocate a policy of "More Bacon for the Maritimes."

Digby Apartment Entered

Goods valued at more than $150.00 were stolen from the apartment of C. J. Thompson, Friday morning, last week. The apartment is located over the store of B. J. Roop. Entrance was gained through a window in the store basement.

The thief or thieves were started by Mrs. Thompson who was sleeping in a bedroom near the living room. Hearing a disturbance about 2 o'clock in the morning, Mrs. Thompson got up to investigate. The intruders made their get away by way of the front door before she had a chance to see them.

Loot comprised of a camera, wrist watch and other valuables. The living room had been thoroughly ransacked. It is understood police working on the case have secured finger prints from drawers and door casings.

The New Liberal Program will create opportunities for all!

Returned men, farmers, fishermen, miners, factory workers, business men, children — EVERY Nova Scotian will benefit. That's the wide-open chance your Liberal Government offers you, under Angus L. Macdonald's able and experienced leadership. No wild promises or reckless schemes — but definite practical steps TAKEN (not just talked about) to make Nova Scotia a better place to work in and bring up your children. You KNOW how the business of the province has prospered under Liberal guidance. Insure its continuance by voting Liberal on election day!

Here are the highlights. Study them carefully. Everyone affects the future happiness of yourself and your family.

1—HIGHWAYS. The modern paving program introduced by the Macdonald Government in 1934 will be fully maintained and extended until good roads are available everywhere. 2600 miles of highway were cleared of snow last winter. 35 new snow plows and 9 new tractors will greatly expand this record.

2—RURAL ELECTRIFICATION. Over $24,000,000 has already been spent on providing electricity for rural areas, and enough more will be invested to bring its benefits to the darkest corners of the province.

3—EDUCATION. Teachers will get a MILLION dollars more salary in 1945. In addition, a basic minimum salary will be set for lower paid teachers and other salaries revised accordingly. Consolidated rural high schools and vocational schools will be established throughout the province in cooperation with local areas. The Normal College staff will be increased and necessary new buildings erected.

4—PUBLIC HEALTH. Free treatment already offered to tubercular patients but delayed by the scarcity of hospital beds will soon be available to all. New $2,000,000 15-storey Victoria General Hospital will open in 1946 to provide the most modern health and medical care. Medical service at moderate rates will be further extended to even the most remote areas.

5—AGRICULTURE. The Liberal Government organized marketing of hogs, eggs, poultry and lobsters that brought in 1944 an additional $1,134,000 to N. S. farmers and fishermen over 1943, will be further expanded. The Agricultural College will be improved with new dormitories and the curriculum extended to a full four year degree course.

6—INDUSTRY. Nova Scotian industries will be aided over the "conversion period" by providing them with free engineering skill and accounting aid, long-term loans at low interest, and assistance in establishing new markets. Vigorous development will be given the tourist trade.

7—FISHERIES. The new Fisheries Division will continue building up a modern fishing fleet through low-cost, long term loans for boats, engines and small druggers. Also will continue supplying industry with expert personnel annually through free scholarship scheme—and free engineering aid in the designing of plants and construction of vessels.

8—HOUSING. The Nova Scotia Housing Commission Act as amended will be fully implemented to promote group construction of workers' houses at moderate rentals. A town planning expert, already engaged, will furnish free plans to any community for orderly development.

9—RESEARCH. A Research Foundation will be set up under a most competent scientist, who will devote full time to the vital work of conducting investigations towards improving conditions in agriculture, fishing, forestry, mining and industry. Associated with him will be representatives of the provincial universities, the National Research Council, and the province's industries.

10—REHABILITATION. The constructive Liberal Party program already outlined, taken together with the impressive, far-reaching policies of the Liberal Government at Ottawa offers the best opportunity of employment and prosperity for our returned men and citizens.

11—FEDERAL-PROVINCIAL. Your Liberal Government will give fullest cooperation to Ottawa to implement its reconstruction policies and plans to increase our export trade. And at the forthcoming Dominion-Provincial conference next month Angus L. Macdonald and his able lieutenants will fight the battle of provincial rights as the Liberal party has always done since the days of Howe.

Mark your ballot for the Liberal candidate on election day to ensure a rousing return of Angus L. and his TRUE party of reform.

Used Clothing Campaign Going Well

The Y's Men's Committee in charge of the National Clothing Collection are pleased with the response they have received to date. Already a large quantity of clothing has been collected and is now awaiting shipment. The appeal has been well received.

The public is again reminded that if at all possible to pack their clothing in cartons. This makes easier handling for the collectors. It is important too that shoes should be tied together in pairs.

A further advertisement appears in this week's Courier advising dates when collections will be made in various sections and streets. It will be noted several town streets are included in tomorrow's schedule. People living on those streets are especially asked to be ready for collectors.

It is regretted collections along the Shore Road and Lighthouse Road could not be carried out as originally planned. These districts will be included this week in Saturday's collections. This change in the original schedule has been unfairly criticized by a few of those unacquainted with the circumstances.

V.O.N. National Supervisor's Report Received

The report of Miss Lenta Hall's supervisory visit from September 19th to 21st to the V.O.N. at Digby, was read before the local board at their regular meeting on Tuesday. This branch was organized in 1921, so that next year will be the 25th anniversary.

From the visit analysis in Miss Hall's report it was noted to the end of August an increase of 100 visits and 19 cases was made in 1945 as compared with 1944 statistics.

Miss Hall made mention of the tremendous amount of work carried on in the schools—the public school with 500 pupils, approximately, and the convent with 103. She made reference to the provision which should be made for a Health Room in Digby school in future years.

The capable judgment of Miss Saunders in carrying out the V.O.N. program was commented on by Miss Hall. Miss Saunders completed her post graduate course at Toronto University last year and came to Digby as nurse-in-charge in July.

Under the heading of "finances" the successful working in groups of the board members was commended and under the same heading the town and school grants were considered. Miss Hall's report closed with recommendations which she considered beneficial to the Order. The Board took steps immediately to carry out as many of these recommendations as possible.

Plan Building

A strong committee was appointed at Tuesday night's meeting of the Digby Board of Trade to investigate the possibilities of erecting a large building on the Athletic Field to serve as a Skating Rink and Exhibition building. It was pointed out that the Maple Leaf Agriculture Society was interested in securing the use of such a building for their annual fair and that the building could also be used for the Board's July 1st Celebration and the Hospital Fair. The committee, headed by Mayor F. L. Anderson, is instructed to meet with the agricultural society to enlist their aid and support and to bring in a report at the next meeting as to costs, methods of financing and other information.

In Memoriam

IN MEMORIAM—In loving memory of my darling brother, Private Douglas Edmund Bent, who was killed in the battle for the Scheldt Estuary on October 13th, 1944:

In a dark and lonely graveyard far across the deep blue sea, My darling brother lies sleeping, from this world of care he's free,

We miss you so, dear Dougie, but we know that you were brave

When you marched into that battle,

And you fill a hero's grave.

We shall keep your memory sacred, as the lonely years roll by,

And our thoughts will ever linger in far off Holland where you lie.

Inserted by his loving sister Alma Kinney and family. 5:1p

IN MEMORIAM—In loving memory of Pte. Robert K. Vidito, who was killed in action in France, October 9, 1944:

Somewhere in France in a soldier's grave,

Lies dear Bobbie among the brave.

He never shunned his country's call

But gladly gave his life, his all.

He died the helpless to defend—A faithful soldier's noble end.

—Inserted by his loving Aunt Lois and grandmother, Mrs. Annie Marshall. 5:1p

IN MEMORIAM—In loving memory of Pte. Robert K. Vidito, who was killed in action in France October 9, 1944:

He had a cheery smile a pleasant way,

A helping hand to all he knew;

On earth he nobly did his best,

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA

A letter was read at Tuesday night's meeting of the Board of Trade from T. C. MacNabb, General Superintendent of the C.P.R. in which he stated that he felt there were some features of the Freight Rate set up that required further investigation and that he hoped to be in a position to reply fully to the Board's inquiry very shortly.

The Board at their last meeting had written Mr. MacNabb, protesting the application of freight rates in the Digby area. According to evidence produced at the meeting Digby merchants were still paying higher freight rates than those in the surrounding districts despite the enactment of new tariffs which it was claimed by the C.P.R. would bring these rates in line with those for the outside districts.

At Tuesday night's meeting of the Board President L. E. Shatford stated that he had no intention of letting the matter drop but would press it to a satisfactory conclusion

To Appoint Delegates

President L. E. Shatford of the Digby Board of Trade was authorized at Tuesday night's meeting of the Board to pick five delegates from the board to attend the semi-annual meeting of the Annapolis Valley Boards of Trade to be held in Windsor, October 17. Several important resolutions are to be considered by the Windsor meeting which will effect the whole Annapolis Valley. One of these is a resolution asking the Dominion Government to keep the Naval Base at Cornwallis open in peacetime. This resolution was presented by the Annapolis Royal Board of Trade. Another resolution to be considered at the meeting is one presented by the Digby, Bear River, Shelburne and Fundy Boards of Trade asking the provincial government to open the Shelburne to Digby Highway.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

PICTURING CHILDREN

In making snapshots of this kind, you will get best results if you time the exposure more for the shadows than for the brightly lighted areas.

Informal snapshots of children offer endless possibilities for the amateur photographer, but picturing youngsters presents a variety of problems. The wise cameraman knows, however, how to solve them before he starts after this elusive game.

One very important consideration is that of lighting. Because of their delicate skin-tones, pictures of children often lack almost all tonal gradation due to the fact that the lighting and exposure have not been skillfully handled.

It is usually best, first of all, to avoid strong midday sunlight, which tends to create strong contrasts. And in picturing children, it is often best to try side-lighting, with the light coming toward the subject, from the side, or back-lighting, with the light coming from behind the subject toward the camera.

Illumination of either kind can be effective if the light is not permitted to fall directly on the camera lens. The lens, of course, can be shaded with an inexpensive lens-sock, or by shielding it with one hand.

Notice that in the unusual snapshot above, the photographer has placed the baby and big sister on a white blanket. This reflects light into the shadow areas, which helps model the children very effectively. In making snapshots of this kind, you will get best results if you time the exposure more for the shadows than for the brightly lighted areas. Otherwise the shadow detail may be lost.

The position of the camera is also very important. In picturing children, it is sometimes best to shoot at the child's eye-level. Thus you will avoid the kind of distortion, which frequently results when shooting down from above.

How can you get children to pose? The simplest way is to find some object or person to occupy their attention. In today's picture, the baby found his sister so fascinating that the photographer had no problem.

If your little model is old enough to get into mischief under his own steam, decide how far you want him from the camera, and then place him at that location with an unfamiliar object or toy. Focus your camera for the proper distance. When he starts investigating and wondering what it is all about—shoot! Or, if you want him in action, catch him just as he toddles into range.

It's best to catch older children, when you can, unaware. Get them interested in a game or some unusual accessory that will command their attention. Make sure your lens opening and shutter speed are set to stop sudden motion, and then keep on your toes for that fleeting, unexpected moment rich in vivid expression. If you want them to look directly at the camera, release the shutter quickly before they have time to become self-conscious.

Follow these tips, and the snapshots you send on to those in the Service will give them pleasure during many a lonely hour. Every minute of patient waiting and planning you have to undergo to get the "perfect" picture will be more than amply rewarded.

In the course of my work, treating defective feet and arches, I have discovered that many of the so-called rheumatic, neuritic and arthritic conditions are due to fallen arches, particularly where rubber footwear is worn, and are invariably relieved when proper support is given. The SNAPSHOT GUILD
STUDY YOUR LIGHTING

Backlighting adds appeal to many informal portraits. Sidelighting is often useful, too. And both are safe as long as direct sun rays do not fall on the camera lens.

IN taking pictures outdoors, have the sun at your back, and a little to one side."

That is a fine rule for the person who is new at picture taking and knows nothing of photography. Its purpose, in part, is to insure that direct sunlight does not strike the camera lens when a picture is taken. When direct sun rays do strike the lens or lens mount, they are likely to cause reflections within the lens, and these produce "flare" spots on the film, and ruin the picture.

Thus, the "sun at your back" rule is a safe one, but it does not necessarily lead to better pictures. Often, lighting from one side, or even from in front of the camera, is preferable with certain subjects. And such lighting is safe—from the standpoint of avoiding "flare"—provided you make sure that direct, brilliant light rays do not fall on the lens.

Some cameras have deeply recessed lenses. With these, the lens is adequately protected when light comes from one side. With other cameras, a lens shade is needed for side-lighted pictures. A fairly deep lens shade makes it possible to take pictures with the sun to one side and well ahead of the camera, so that the subject is lighted from the rear.

As long as a shadow falls on the lens, the lighting angle is safe.

Often, when no lens shade is available, a hat may be held so as to shade the lens—but care must be taken not to hold it so close that it cuts off part of the scene.

In taking sunny-day pictures of persons outdoors, almost any type of lighting can be obtained, simply by turning the subject in relation to the sun.

The attractive child picture above is backlit, the sun coming from a high angle behind the subject. By turning the subject about ninety degrees to the right, high-angle side lighting could be obtained. A further turn, or a tilt of the head, would produce further lighting changes.

Sidelighting produces excellent roundness and modeling. Backlighting is often helpful in taking informal portraits, especially of persons with blonde hair. With these lightings, increased exposure is needed to improve shadow detail. For side lighting, try exposure of about twice normal; for backlighting, about four times normal. When conditions do not permit increasing exposure, try using a white reflecting surface, such as a cloth or newspaper, to cast more light into the shadows. Keep the lighting suited to the subject, and you'll obtain pictures with added interest and sparkle.

More About Our News Campaign

The Digby Courier is seeking real reporters from all parts of Digby County and the western portion of Annapolis County. Our aim is to improve the quality of our news columns, especially the quality of news that comes from out of town districts. To accomplish this we are throwing our columns open to all who wish to submit news matter, and for the time being are recognizing no "regular correspondents."

In other words, it makes no difference where you live in the districts mentioned above, if you have a piece of news you believe will be of interest to us and our readers SEND IT IN. We are willing to pay for it on condition you clip that item when it appears, and all others you may write, save them until the end of the month, and return those clippings to us not later than the 10th of the following month.

We speak straight from the shoulder when we state the majority of our correspondents have served us well and faithfully, but there are those few with whom we are dissatisfied. There are others whose work in the past we would like to have criticized, but due to the fact they were giving us their services in exchange for a subscription to the "Courier," we did not feel justified in pressing our complaints.

(As previously stated all "exchange subscriptions" will be continued until the end of the year.)

We know we have missed some really important items. Other items that should rate half a column or more have been dismissed with a mere sentence. For instance, just about a year ago, along with a number of personal items, a correspondent wrote a few words that read something like this: "A plane crashed near the school house last week. The pilot escaped without injury."

Those few words were used to write up what was probably the most thrilling bit of news in the history of that village. By a strange coincidence, on the same day, another plane crashed about ten miles distant. A resident of that village sent us a good story—but our correspondent in that village never made any reference to it!

Then, again, not so long ago, we drove through a village about twenty miles from town and noted one of the houses in that village had been burned to the ground. On inquiry we learned the fire was six weeks previous to our visit. Checking up at the office we discovered that since the fire our correspondent had sent in three budgets of "personals" but as far as her items were concerned, no fire had ever occurred.

Another complaint we have is with those correspondents who write "Mrs.—" was in the village last week to attend the funeral of her uncle—." Other than that note we have been given no other details of the death. We have to get those details ourselves.

However, plane crashes, fires and obituaries are not all that constitute news. There is not a community but from where a good reporter cannot glean a story almost every week of the year—interesting stories about people, flower gardens and crops, about hens and chickens and cows; about the weir fishermen, the scallop fishermen and the shore fishermen, and about the strange things that come out of the sea.

The activities of Home and School associations, church organizations and clubs are always good for some space. We can always use a few good yarns that tell of the experiences of your local hunters.

Send us these notes. Don't confine your items to "Mr. and Mrs. So and So" spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hoozits." We do want those "personals." They will always be given a place in our columns, but it is the real news that we are after.

Speaking of "personals" we must state we are not paying for individual "personal mention items." You must send at least five such items (acceptable for publication) at a time, otherwise we will not pay for them. Please note the term "acceptable for publication." Next week we will devote a space exclusively to the subject of "personal mention items."

MARRIAGE

McCargar - Tibert

At Hamilton, New York, on September 15, Sergeant Robert McCargar, of Philadelphia, and Miss Sophia Tibert, of Hamilton (formerly of Little River, N. S.) were united in marriage by Dr. Paul Swarthout, pastor of First Baptist Church, of Hamilton. The ceremony was performed at four in the afternoon in the chapel of Colgate University, where Sergeant McCargar was formerly a student. The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Professor J. Melbourne Shortliffe, of Colgate, was dressed in white tulle taffeta with Juliet cap and veil and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums and bovardia. Her attendants were two classmates at the University of Rochester: Miss Peggy Rusk, of Wyndham, N.Y., as maid of honor, wearing pale yellow faille, and Miss Helen Litchard, of Hornell, N.Y., wearing aqua faille. Their costumes were completed by Mary Stuart caps and they carried identical bouquets of gladioli, chrysanthemums and clematis. Little Barbara Berrien, daughter, of Professor Berrien, was a dainty flower girl in peach taffeta and carried a basket of garden flowers. Sergeant McCargar was attended by his father, Harold McCargar, Research Director with the "Saturday Evening Post." Professor Saunders presided at the chapel organ and Miss Mary Beth Hixon sang "I Love You" and "Through the Years." The reception, which followed at the home of Professor Shortliffe, was attended by seventy guests. During the reception, Miss Mary Jane Appleford entertained with the harp. Following congratulations, the bride and groom left for a honeymoon at a resort in Pocono Mountains, Pennsylvania, the bride travelling in a suit of steel blue gabardine.

Sergeant McCargar will soon leave for Japan. Mrs. McCargar is a graduate of the University of Rochester and is at present a member of the staff of Strong Memorial Hospital, where she will return to her duties following her honeymoon leave of absence.

Fishing Activities At Church Point

The fish weir at Church Point suffered severe damage during the heavy gales of last Tuesday and Wednesday. The owners of the weir, who are local fishermen, will begin to dismantle it as soon as the weather moderates. They will not be able to dismantle it entirely, nevertheless, a large portion will be saved. A fish weir this size costs in the vicinity of $1,500. The local fishermen were highly successful in catching a large quantity of herring and mackerel during the season. Most of the herring were sold to Floyd Frankland & Sons, who operate a fish curing plant there but some of the herring were sold to the local fishermen for lobster bait. There will be two more local boats operating from Church Point this coming season. Theodore Dugas and George LeBlanc are having a boat built in Little Brook by Fred Thimot, and Peter Blinn has built himself a fine boat and will have Edward LeBlanc as a fishing partner. Grosses Coques fishermen fish from Church Point.

The Ladies' Aid of Zion United Church resumed their weekly meetings on Tuesday last at the home of Mrs. Frank Saunders.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred Morehouse, of Halifax, and their daughter, Mrs. Quigley, and son, Ricky, are spending the holiday here.

Lillian Harris, Florence Harris and Florence Jeffrey are spending their holiday at their respective homes here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingram Neely and family, of Nictaux, were guests of Mrs. Mitchell on Sunday last.

Mary Gidney, who is training at the Yarmouth Hospital, and her friend, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Gidney.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Williams and two children, of Halifax, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Harris.

A BILL OF RIGHTS FOR DIGBY COUNTY

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—

I have the honour of having been nominated as the Progressive-Conservative Candidate for my native County of Digby in the forthcoming Provincial Election. I fully understand the great responsibilities intended to be borne by a County Representative in the Legislature. And I wish to assure you that it is my desire to be of service to all the people of the County of Digby in an effort that we may go forward together with more happiness and prosperity for all.

We all know that Digby County is a most important, yet neglected area, and for that reason the people of this County expect and are entitled to have representation by a Member who is aggressive, alert and with an outlook towards the future.

I pledge myself to support the progressive, forward looking platform of the Progressive-Conservative Party, which gives real leadership, and aims toward a better living standard for all.

In particular, if elected, realizing that the future of this whole County depends upon what opportunity the Government of this Province provides for the development of this County, I PLEDGE:

1. That I will strive to represent all sections of this County, fairly and vigorously, and that I will constantly visit and keep in touch with all sections of the County in order to fully understand your problems.
2. That I will support and urge the building of a modern paved highway across country from Digby to Shelburne, a project recommended by the Boards of Trade in Western Nova Scotia, and a vital requirement not only for the prosperity of Digby County but for that of all Western Nova Scotia.
3. That I will support and urge the immediate paving of the Digby Neck and Islands Highway; and that I will also demand proper and modern Ferry facilities between Westport and Freeport, Tiverton and East Ferry, and Meteghan and Westport.
4. That I will urge the co-operation of the Provincial and Federal authorities in the establishment of a modern cold storage plant to be located at some point in the County, in the best interests of all concerned.
5. That I will urge that present shipbuilding yards and facilities within the County be used for peace time requirements.
6. That I will strive towards obtaining better telephone service and electric lighting service for rural areas in this County, previously neglected.
7. That I will support the establishment, within this County, of a vocational and trade school for our young people.
8. That I will support and render any assistance that I can give towards the establishment and development of the Co-operative movement among our Farmers, Fishermen, and other primary producers.
9. That I will support a minimum price for products of the farm, forest and sea.
10. That I share with labour the fundamental truth that a fair day's work should be rewarded by a fair day's pay.
11. That I will demand that the Province at the expense of the Province assists through proper publicity in the reestablishment of our tourist industry, so that our beautiful County may reap its share from this source.
12. That I will never be hard to find, nor hard to talk to, and that if your cause is worthy, you may count on my assistance.

Yours faithfully,

Kenneth E. Smith

She was born in Cambridge, Digby County, but lived about all of her life in Weymouth North. She was the only child of the late Willoughby and Thirza Holmes Sabean. Before her marriage to Joseph H. Cornwall she taught school for a number of years. She was an earnest and devoted member of the Weymouth United Baptist Church. Her kindness and sincerity will long be remembered by all who knew her. She will be greatly missed in the Women's Missionary Society, of which she was an interested member. Her husband predeceased her eleven years ago. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Dana Peaslee, Beach Bluff, Mass., and Mrs. Carl Reeves, Mulgrave, N. S.; and three sons, Reginald H. Weymouth Branch Canadian Legion

A meeting of the Weymouth Branch Canadian Legion met last evening at the Kilham Hall. Eleven World War II were present, as well as several of the First War Veterans.

It was decided to meet at this location every second Tuesday in each month until a suitable permanent place was established.

Two very important matters were discussed, a club room or Memorial Hall was proposed, instead of a monument, also some local industry to be established for all returned veterans coming back home.

It was also stressed the importance of a Strong Legion Branch be established, and a rousing meeting of all veterans to be present at the next meeting. It was noted lack of public interest being taken over, the returned men and it was up to them to better this condition.

WE'LL HAVE THE MONEY to pay the bills

LIKE thousands of other Canadians, farmers will welcome the 9th Victory Loan as another opportunity to save money to provide for future plans.

Victory Loans have provided an excellent means of helping the war effort, at the same time contributing to our own personal welfare.

Canada needs more money now . . . to make loans to foreign countries so that they can establish credits which will enable them to buy food and other things which they require.

This food will come from Canadian farms; these goods from Canadian factories. When we help to create markets for our farm produce abroad . . . and when we help to keep Canadian factories busy . . . we help to maintain good prices for the things that Canadian farms produce.

Victory Bonds also provide a reserve fund of working capital for our own use . . . so handy to have so many times. Any bank will buy Victory Bonds at any time, or loan money on Victory Bonds if we need cash.

. . . and for our future plans, we'll have the money required for things we want to do . . .

Get ready to buy more Victory Bonds this Fall. Buy double this time—the same rate of savings as in previous loans will pay for twice as many bonds over the 12 month period.

NATIONAL WAR FINANCE COMMITTEE

Province of Nova Scotia

Fire Marshall Branch

Based upon 1944 records, fire losses in Nova Scotia for the year 1945 will be:—

- 1,158 Fires in Dwellings;
- 123 Fires in Varied Occupancies;
- 83 Fires in Wholesale and Retail Stores
- 48 Factory Fires;
- 42 Fires in Schools and Institutional Buildings;
- 34 Fires in Garages and Service Stations;
- 29 Fires in Farm Barns;
- 12 Fires in Hotels;
- 5 Fires in Places of Amusement.

Thirty-four men, women and children will die by fire and eighty-two will be seriously burned.

Why Does It Continue?

- (a) Without examination of the subject it is concluded that fires are inevitable; whereas, every qualified Fire Officer knows there are no accidental fires and that the control of fire is an elemental matter.
- (b) We do not yet understand the elements of "safe" construction.
- (c) We continue to "monkey" with Gasoline and Kerosene, matches and electricity.
- (d) We leave matches within the reach of infant children.
- (e) We do not understand that there are "safe clearances" to be observed between radiated heat and flammable surfaces.
- (f) We "guess" at what is safe when inquiry to fire officers will give reliable information.
- (g) Is it understood that the whole cost of living is borne by about 100,000 adults and that these wage earners work many weeks a year to pay Fire costs alone?

The Government requests the people to give serious thought to this problem and to act towards reduction of the appalling waste in life and created resources.

S. S. WRIGHT,
Fire Marshal

Farmers Can Buy Victory Bonds On Convenient Deferred Payments Through Any Bank

. . . just sign a short form letter which Victory Loan Salesmen carry (banks have copies) ordering the Bank to buy Victory Bonds for you. Pay 5% when ordering and the balance at any time during the next 12 months. The interest the bonds earn pays the interest on the bank loan.

A BETTER WAY TO BUY FLOUR

Lakeside Milling Co. Ltd. Announce that all Blossom of Canada Flour will now be Packaged in Standard Decimal Sizes

In changing to the decimal system we are again pioneering, being the first Canadian mill to package flour for re-sale in these modern standard sizes.

For years millers have been content to "put up" their flour in the old fashioned "stone" measurements out of line with other merchandise. Our change will now enable you to buy flour in the same size units as you buy sugar and other products.

THE NEW SIZES

5 lbs., 10 lbs., 25 lbs., 50 lbs. and 100 lbs. Bags

FOR THOSE USING STANDARD RECIPES THESE NEW SIZES WILL GREATLY SIMPLIFY BAKING

NO CHANGE IN PRICE

There will be no increase in price. The price per pound remains the same. Just the size of the package is changed.

OTHER LAKESIDE "FIRSTS"

1. First to bale small packages in a paper bale; now being adopted by most other Canadian mills.
2. First to introduce "carrying handles" on small packages of flour, for your convenience.
3. One of the first mills to establish a Home Baking Service Bureau. Available at all times to all householders.

It is the intention of the Lakeside Milling Company, Limited to continue to watch for and adopt new improvements that will assist home users of flour.

A BETTER FLOUR FOR ALL YOUR BAKING

Not only Tarts, but Bread, Pies and Cakes all taste better when this easier-to-work-with, superior, all-purpose flour is used.

It's the milling and wheat that make the difference and Blossom of Canada Flour is milled by experts until it's downy light, from selected, washed hard wheat. Better wherever flour is needed, Blossom of Canada is the choice of experienced bakers.

HAVE YOU A BAKING PROBLEM

If you have a Baking Problem write Ruth Hudson. She is the dietitian in charge of our Home Baking Service. Her services are free to all Canadian Home Bakers.

Pines to Open Next Summer

Carpenters, painters, cleaners and repair men are busy getting Digby's well known C.P.R. Hotel, "The Pines" ready for the 1946 summer season. Because of the shortage of help and scarcity of materials brought about by the war the hotel has been closed since 1942. People of Digby more than welcome the news that it will re-open next summer.

Repairs and alterations are now being made in the main hotel and cottages. Work is also being done on the gardens and grounds.

The beautiful swimming pool, one of the finest in the Dominion, is being cleaned and repaired. Many of the glass panels are being replaced.

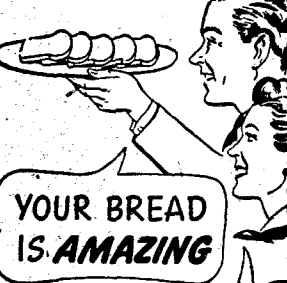

Restrictions Lifted on Farm Machinery

The War Time Prices and Trade Board has announced the removal of all ration restrictions on farm machinery and equipment including tractors and pumps.

Dealers will be expected to honor outstanding ration certificates before filling orders from new accounts.

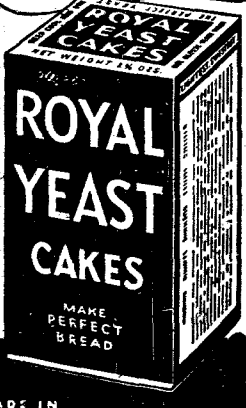

All production restrictions on farm machinery and equipment were lifted on Aug. 20 and while no immediate substantial increase in production is expected the industry is planning progressively to increase production as manpower and raw materials become available.

Distribution will be in accordance with the Board's statement of policy on equitable distribution. It is expected that the implement dealers will give preference to the requirements of returning servicemen and farmers are asked to confine their purchases to those items which are most urgently required.

Arrest Bank
Break Suspect

Benoit Comeau, 23, of Little Brook Station, has been lodged in jail at Little Brook to await trial on charges arising out of the recent break into the Church Point branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, and into a store at Metcshan. He was apprehended by the R. C. M. P., at Kentville.

On searching his luggage a quantity of goods identified as having been taken from the Metcshan store was found. A later search of his home at Little Brook Station revealed tools alleged to have been used in the bank break.

It is understood that Comeau, who is already under suspended sentence for an offence committed in Halifax some time ago, has signed a statement in which he admits the two breaks.

Honored by Shower

Two veterans of World War II were honored Sunday evening at a banquet held at the Bay Brezlin. These two honored veterans, Pte. Alfred Boudreau, son of Mrs. Adelaire Boudreau, and Tpr. Gerald Melanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Melanson, are recently returned from overseas. Over thirty friends from the community were in attendance with Reverend O. Hebert, parish priest, present to welcome home these two boys. A supper was served and later Rev. O. Hebert welcomed both Pte. Boudreau and Tpr. Melanson and said that everyone appreciated the sacrifice of those who offered their services to their country. It was by the efforts of Canada's young manhood, who volunteered for services overseas that our country today is as it was before the war and not ravished by war. He then said that the people of the community were pleased to see them return home once again, safe and sound. Regretfully several others of the parish were not so fortunate and paid the supreme sacrifice on the battlefields while a few were wounded in battle.

Louis d'Entremont, inspector of schools in the districts of Clare and Argyle, was the next speaker. He spoke of the tremendous effort made by Canada both in natural and human resources. But it was the great English general, Montgomery, who said that of all the troops under his command none fought more bravely than the Canadians. A tribute of which Canada should be justly proud.

Joseph P. Doucet was called upon to say a few words, being the father of a son, Benoit, who was wounded in Italy and returned with a crippled arm. Mr. Doucet said that his son left home hale and hearty but returned somewhat handicapped by wounds received in the battlefield. Mr. Doucet brought many smiles to the faces of those present by his witty remarks which were enjoyed by all. He advised the young men to look for work that they would find most interesting to them and to specialize in this work to be a success to themselves and for their country. By looking around, Mr. Doucet said, he could see faces of many successful business men of the community, some were farmers, plumbers, electricians and those interested in commercial enterprises, and hoped that the two honored veterans would follow in their footsteps and make the community proud of them in peacetime as much as they were during wartime.

A singing-society was organized later and Prof. W. J. Belliveau and Rev. O. Hebert lead the group in the singing. A carrying case was given to the two boys by Rev. O. Hebert in behalf of the community for their appreciation of their volunteered services for their country.

It was noted that three veterans of other wars were present at the banquet. Paul Doucet and Bill St. Armand, both veterans of World War I, who were in the United States Army and Captain Charles Burke, who fought in the wars 1898-1902, the Spanish-American wars, fought in the Engineers in Labrador, and Har-Philippines, Cuba and the B. War. He was in the United States Navy, and was stationed on the U. S. "Wasp."

The banquet terminated at a late hour and a very enjoyable time was had by all. Pte. Boudreau and Tpr. Melanson thanked everyone for their kindness in giving them the supper and gift.

Ambitious Cat

A cat, belonging to Mrs. Leonard Freeman, Clementsport, is quite ambitious when it comes to hunting game.

Last week it brought home a full grown weasel, which it had caught and killed near the hen house. For sometime now the cat has been observed standing guard near the hen house and last week its vigil was rewarded when it captured the weasel.

Mrs. Freeman is quite proud of her cat and feels that its hunting prowess has saved the lives of many of her chickens.

Our linotype and staff have been kept busy on voters' lists and other election printing this week. For that reason we are only printing an 8-page paper. Consequently many items have been crowded out. We hope to print a 16-page paper next week.

There has been a marked improvement in out of town news notes, and many of those received will be published in our next issue.

CHURCH DAMAGED
BY LIGHTNING

Beautiful little St. Paul's church in Marshalltown, was practically demolished Saturday afternoon as the result of a severe lightning storm which swept this area. The storm broke during the noon hour and for nearly two hours buildings shook with the rumble of thunder and the sky was livid with lightning flashes.

It is thought the church, built nearly a century ago, was struck twice, one bolt entering through the steeple, which, together with the tower, was completely destroyed. Another bolt is thought to have struck on the side of the structure near the entrance, tearing out doors and knocking down plaster. The front of the church is twisted off its foundation, and heavy sills splintered into matchwood. Ceilings and walls are wrecked; great holes torn in the roof and large areas of clapboarding stripped from the side walls of the structure.

Rev. F. B. Gaskill, rector of the parish, visited the church shortly after the storm and removed vessels and ornaments to a place of safety. The work of restoring the church will be commenced this week.

The home of Lloyd Jefferson next door to the church, was also struck and damaged. Several windows were broken and considerable damage was done to the side of the house. There was no fire damage to either property.

Mrs. Bryson Denton is under the doctor's care as a result of burns about both ankles. She was resting on a bed during the storm and was burned by a bolt which entered the room and passed over the foot of her bed. She suffered no other injuries.

Honor Roll
at Port Wade

A special service was held in the Port Wade Baptist Church on Sunday evening, October 14, the occasion being the unveiling of the Honor Roll. The pastor, Rev. H. D. Hopper, chose for his text Matthew 26:13. The names on the Honor Roll were read by Mrs. Archie McGrath. Some of these young men were present and called to the platform. Warrant Officer Owen McGrath performed the honor of unveiling the roll and with his comrades gave the salute which was followed by the congregation singing the National Anthem. Special music was furnished by the choir. A solo "There Is Honey in the Rock," was sung by Mr. Dunn, of Granville Ferry, who played his own accompaniment. A solo and chorus "Our Fatherland" by Mrs. Chester Naus and choir and a fine duet, "There's No Friend to Me Like Jesus," by Mrs. Naus and Mr. Dunn, accompanied by the church organist, Mrs. Ernest McGrath. This was a very impressive service and will linger long in the memory of those present.

Salesmen Meet

A meeting of the Ninth Victory Loan salesmen was held in the Navy League Hostel last Friday evening. Training and inspirational films were shown and County Secretary Cardoza instructed the salesmen in the proper method of handling applications and other details concerning the Loan.

County Chairman Denton, in addressing the salesmen, stated that there were three factors that made Victory Loans successful: 1. the effort and energy of the salesmen; 2. the co-operation of the chartered banks; and 3. the willingness of the people to invest in the loan. He said he felt that all three factors were present in this Ninth Victory Loan. "We have ambitious and energetic salesmen; I know we can count on co-operation from the banks and bank managers in the county, and I feel sure that the people of Digby County are willing and anxious to invest their money in the future of this great Dominion."

S. W. Crook, County organizer told the salesmen of various methods by which the investor could purchase Victory Bonds and explained several ways in which the salesmen could increase their sales. "Sell them all and sell them up," he stated should be each salesman's slogan.

EMPLOYEES MUST BE GIVEN TIME TO VOTE

Premier Angus L. Macdonald last night urged employers throughout the province to give their employees time off to vote on election day, October 23.

The Dominion Election Act makes it compulsory for employers to give their staffs two hours off outside the noon lunch hour for voting purposes, the premier pointed out. There is no similar provision in the Nova Scotia Elections Act but voting of extra voting time has been customary in most business establishments, he said.

The federal regulations provide that employers may not deduct pay or exact any penalty from workers who take time out to vote.

In line with this plan he announced that employees of the provincial government would close up shop at 4 p.m. next Tuesday to give them opportunity to cast their ballots before the polls close at 6 o'clock.

While freeing provincial employees after 4 p.m., Mr. Macdonald advised all who could do so to cast their ballots earlier in the day so that last minute crowding at the polls would be avoided. Polls open at 8 a.m.

Farewell Party for

Friday afternoon at the close of Red Cross meeting, Smith's Cove, a farewell party was given Mrs. Annie C. Refreshments, including ice cream, were served by the social committee, Mrs. Oakley Smith, Misses Ada and Sue Winchester and Mrs. Sara Cossaboom.

The pre-school children, who have had their first dose of toxoid, can have the second dose at the Court House on Wednesday, October 24th at 1:30 p.m. Any who have not had a re-inforcing dose are asked to come also.

Investigate Breaks

Two burglaries have been reported in Digby during the past few days. The summer home of Channing Lefebvre, Montague Row, was entered sometime during week through a bedroom window and the entire house ransacked; contents of cupboards and closets were scattered over the floors and even the beds were torn apart. Discovery of the break was made by Mrs. Lillian Weir, who has charge of the property during the owner's absence. It will not be known, if anything was taken from the house until Dr. Lefebvre, now in the United States, can be contacted, although it is believed a number of valuable blankets are missing.

Entrance to the home of Edward Robicheau, also of Montague Row, was made through an outside cellar door and a number of bottles of pickles and preserves, stored away for winter use, were taken.

this is the Clearing House maintained by the banks so that customers' cheques can be exchanged and the banks can settle their accounts with one another every day. From here, Jack's cheque was sent to the clearing department of his own bank, and from there to the branch where Jack keeps his account.

This is a sketchy outline of what happens when you pay an out-of-town bill by cheque. Many people pay their large local bills that way too. To be able to pay by cheque is a tremendous convenience which costs you little or nothing. Banks are the bookkeepers for millions of our fellow-Canadians.

MARRIAGE

Thompson Dakin

The Christian Church at Westport was the scene of a pretty wedding on Friday evening, Oct. 5, when Rev. J. W. Derby united in marriage Barbara Lee Shea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dakin and Harold Fredrick Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Thompson, all of Westport. The church was prettily decorated with fall flowers and ferns and an arch of pink and white flowers.

The bride entered the church to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Floyd Denton. Her floor length dress was of white satin, with long fitted waist, full skirt, sweetheart neckline and long sleeves coming to a point over hands and a fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses and fern. Her attendant was Miss Freda Welch, dressed in a floor length dress of pale blue taffeta, carrying a bouquet of mums. Little Retha Titus was charming as flower girl, dressed in yellow taffeta, floor length dress trimmed in blue, carrying a yellow and blue basket of roses. Pte. Richard Swift supported the groom. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Sheldon Morrell sang "I Love You, Truly". Ushers were Albert McDormand and Blari Titus. When will I get NEW TIRES?

... AND WILL THEY STAND UP?

A definite "yes" is Firestone's answer to the second question. Wilbur Shaw, the famous race driver, proved it when he drove Firestone tires 500 miles at an average speed of 100.34 miles per hour over the Indianapolis Speedway—equal to 50,000 miles of ordinary driving.

WHEN you can buy new tires depends largely on UNRRA demands and rationing authorities. But you can be sure that once Firestone is given the go-ahead signal our full production will be devoted to your needs. In the meantime, your nearby Firestone Dealer will gladly do everything he can to help make your tires last. See him today.

Surprise Party

A very pleasant surprise party was tendered Mrs. Lillia Nichols, Acaciaville, on Thursday evening, September 27, the occasion being her birthday.

About forty-five friends and neighbors gathered at her home, and showered her with gifts, cards and money.

Mrs. Nichols, after opening the gifts, assisted by Deacon McKay, thanked those present for their thoughtfulness to her. After a hearty sing-song, prayer was offered by Rev. J. E. DeLong, and dainty refreshments served.

Two large birthday cakes, prettily decorated, was the crowning feature of the party.

Mrs. Nichols is staying at her own home in Acaciaville, having spent the last two winters with relatives in the United States.

Helped Liberate Prisoners of War

A letter from A/B Ronnie Elliott to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Elliott, Weymouth North, has been received in which he said he was very proud of the fact that he could take part in helping to liberate the prisoners of war in Hong Kong. After spending 145 days at sea, without being ashore, they were in Sydney, Australia, when the V J Day celebrations were just getting under way, and much to their disappointment they were ordered to sea again, but when they found out they were going to Hong Kong to help liberate the prisoners, there was not a man on board ship would have turned back and the joy on the chaps' faces when they were liberated was something they would always remember the rest of their lives. It was a mystery to him how some of them had managed to keep alive they were just walking skeletons. Ronnie is a member of the crew of H.M.S. Swiftsure, which has led the British Pacific fleet in all operations. He left home in December 1940, and expects to be back some time next summer. He has a brother, Andy, with the U. S. Engineers in Libador, and Harlan, with the R.C.N.V.R.

Road Work on Digby Neck

Considerable road work is being done in several districts on Digby Neck—graveling and grading. This helps to alleviate the bumps somewhat, as well as giving employment to several men and trucks. However, after a while the bumps will be back as bad or worse than ever. What Digby Neck needs, and wants is hard surfaced roads.

Thanksgiving In Bear River Baptist Church

Thanksgiving Sunday had a special significance at the Bear River United Baptist church, of which Rev. G. D. Brydon is pastor. The church was decorated in harvest attire and the sermon was appropriate for this special day. We have many things to be thankful for this year: thankful for the peace which has come to the world; thankful for so many of our boys who have returned home, and thankful for the friends and members who contributed so very generously to raise an amount to send a missionary to India. (The name of the missionary will be announced later). The amount of $710 was raised on this one Sunday without effort or sacrifice.

W.M.S Meeting

Mrs. James Brooks presided at the regular meeting held at the home of Mrs. W. A. Chute on Friday afternoon last. During the worship period, with Mrs. Brooks as leader, Mrs. George Croucup and Mrs. Ralph Purdy read portions of the prepared programme, and each member also took part. The first lesson, from the new study was given by Mrs. Purdy, and to illustrate the lesson Mrs. Brooks had prepared a large map of Africa, showing the district about which they shall study through the winter months. Mrs. Otis Rice invited the Society to hold the Autumn Thankoffering meeting at her home on November in the form of a tea. Her invitation was accepted, with gratitude, and further notice will be given. The Mission Box is being prepared, and also the members are giving to the National Clothing Collection. The Mission Band doll, which is to be fully clothed, was shown to the members, and materials solicited. This doll will go to the Mission at Trinidad. The financial report was read and approved. After another short worship period the meeting closed with prayer in unison.

Clothing Collection

The National Clothing Collection in this district is now on the last lap—and the Committee hopes that at the end of the week the entire amount will be ready for shipment. At the close of the second week many donations were received so that two-thirds of the amount hoped for had been prepared for shipment to Moncton. Can we not exceed our objective? Go through your clothes closet once more—we have sent forward many warm articles, but we can take more aprons, cotton house dresses, gloves and scarves or shawls. There is always one more article you can spare—get it out before the end of the campaign. Thank you.

Those who have worked on the packing of donated clothing during the past two weeks have been Mrs. Clarence Morgan, Mrs. Harry Woodgate, Mrs. Roy Alcorn, Miss Muriel Kinney, Miss Blanche Purdy, Mrs. L. V. Harris, Miss Odessa Smith, and the local chairman, Mrs. A. B. Campbell.

At Bear River East the ladies of the community, members of the Mite Society, with Mrs. Chester Sanford as chairman, met on Friday evening of last week and prepared their donations for this collection. When one considers the number of warm overcoats—ladies' coats, children's clothing, etc., given by the families in this district, there is great reason for thankfulness, and if all districts do as well the campaign will greatly exceed the objective set. Packing will continue in Bear River during the rest of this week.

In Clementsvalle, with Mrs. Norman Sanford as chairman, the collection is being handled at the home of Rev. C. S. Young, with Mrs. Young assisting in every way—and many bundles being received. A full report covering the districts mentioned will be made when the campaign has been completed.

Pte. Hoyt Purdy, Debort, spent the week end at his home.

Mrs. Charles McDormand is visiting her daughters in Boston.

Mrs. Katherine Bergman

There passed away at the home of her son, Edward Bergman, Niagara Falls, Ont., Sept. 29, Mrs. Katherine Bergman, widow of C. A. Bergman, of Langham, Sask., age 78 years. She is survived by nine sons: Cornelius, John, Benjamin, of Langham, Sask.; Henry, George Otto, and Edward, of Ontario; Arthur of Witicha, Kansas; Al, of Bear River; two daughters, Mary (Mrs. John Thiesseu, of Saskatchewan, and Minnie (Mrs. John Laramore), of Bear River; 22 grandchildren. The funeral, which was largely attended, was held from her late home, conducted by her pastor, after which the remains were taken to Langham, Sask., to be buried beside her husband. The floral tributes were silent tokens of sympathy extended in her passing.

Rally Day Program

A Rally Day program for the Sunday School was held at the morning service at the United Church, H. E. Chisholm was the leader with the Sunday School and the congregation, taking the response. Rev. James Brooks gave a short address to the school. The choir rendered the selection "My Jesus I Love Thee."

Glad to see Herman Harris out again after his illness.

Officer Honored

Capt. John C. H. Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace A. Porter, of Rothsay, N.B., has been mentioned in despatches according to word just received. Capt. Porter graduated from McGill in 1941 with a degree in architecture. He received his commission soon after enlisting in the army and acted as an instructor at Brockville for some time. He later was sent to the United States to study American camouflage and returned to Vancouver as second in command of Canadian camouflage school. In June 1944 he went overseas and served in Belgium and Holland on reconnaissance work. He is at present instructing at a school for home planning and design in Hilversum, Holland. Capt. Porter's wife and two children reside in Vancouver. A brother, Capt. Thomas S. Porter, was killed in action in Sicily while commanding a company of the Carleton and York Regiment. The above taken from the Telegraph Journal, Oct. 13, is of interest to many friends in Bear River, as from a small boy Capt. Porter and his brother spent many summers with their grandparents, the late Alfred Porter and Mrs. Porter. Capt. Porter's wife was also a former Bear River girl, Pat Hatheway.

TUESDAY, October 23 is the day of destiny for all Nova Scotians! . . . It is the day of all days when every man and every woman from Cape Sable to Cape North who can travel to a polling booth should cast a vote . . . This is your privilege, Citizens of Nova Scotia! . . . This is your responsibility!

For twelve years now you have had a Liberal Government in Nova Scotia. By prudent management over the years, and by increasing the productive capacity of the Province, this government has changed Conservative deficits of $600,000 annually to Liberal surpluses of $700,000 — surpluses which totalled TEN MILLIONS by the end of 1944. As a result of this splendid financial achievement your Liberal Government has been able to do many things for the people of Nova Scotia that would have been impossible by a government saddled with deficits.

You know what these Liberal benefits are. And you know that Angus L. Macdonald's Government is pledged to continue them — to extend this BETTER WAY OF LIFE. This the Liberals will do through improved methods of processing and marketing the products of our mines, fisheries, farms, forests and industries generally, as scientifically investigated by the Government's new $1,000,000 Research Bureau — through stimulation of the tourist industry — through extension of the paved highway program — through building rural high schools and regional libraries — through the control of tuberculosis — through the completion of these and other outstanding measures in the Liberal Platform.

You can trust the experienced leadership of Angus L. Macdonald and the administrative skill of his able associates to carry through these great social reforms. Vote for the Liberal Candidate in your constituency and help put them into practice.

Vote LIBERAL and for a BETTER way of life!

HOW TO COMBAT Rheumatic Pains

Rheumatic pains are often caused by uric acid in the blood. This blood impurity should be extracted by the kidneys. If kidneys fail, and excess uric acid remains, it irritates the muscles and joints causing excruciating pains. Treat rheumatic pains by keeping your kidneys in good condition. Take regularly Dodd's Kidney Pills—for half a century the favorite kidney remedy. 109

Besides the new homes of Jesse Robicheau and Walter Melanson, there is another new building being erected. This one, a garage and blacksmith shop, owned by brothers, Jesse Robicheau and Bernard. It is gratifying to see the Cove building up and we extend them every wish for a success in their new enterprise.

A BILL OF RIGHTS FOR DIGBY COUNTY

LADIES AND GENTLEMAN:—

I have the honour of having been nominated as the Progressive-Conservative Candidate for my native County of Digby in the forthcoming Provincial Election. I fully understand the great responsibilities intended to be borne by a County Representative in the Legislature. And I wish to assure you that it is my desire to be of service to all the people of the County of Digby in an effort that we may go forward together with more happiness and prosperity for all.

We all know that Digby County is a most important, yet neglected area, and for that reason the people of this County expect and are entitled to have representation by a Member who is aggressive, alert and with an outlook towards the future.

I pledge myself to support the progressive, forward looking platform of the Progressive-Conservative Party, which gives real leadership, and aims toward a better living standard for all.

In particular, if elected, realizing that the future of this whole County depends upon what opportunity the Government of this Province provides for the development of this County, I PLEDGE:

1. That I will strive to represent all sections of this County, fairly and vigorously, and that I will constantly visit and keep in touch with all sections of the County in order to fully understand your problems.
2. That I will support and urge the building of a modern paved highway across country from Digby to Shelburne, a project recommended by the Boards of Trade in Western Nova Scotia, and a vital requirement not only for the prosperity of Digby County but for that of all Western Nova Scotia.
3. That I will support and urge the immediate paving of the Digby Neck and Islands Highway; and that I will also demand proper and modern Ferry facilities between Westport and Freeport, Tiverton and East Ferry, and Meteghan and Westport.
4. That I will urge the co-operation of the Provincial and Federal authorities in the establishment of a modern cold storage plant to be located at some point in the County, in the best interests of all concerned.
5. That I will urge that present shipbuilding yards and facilities within the County be used for peace time requirements.
6. That I will strive towards obtaining better telephone service and electric lighting service for rural areas in this County, previously neglected.
7. That I will support the establishment, within this County, of a vocational and trade school for our young people.
8. That I will support and render any assistance that I can give towards the establishment and development of the Co-operative movement among our Farmers, Fishermen, and other primary producers.
9. That I will support a minimum price for products of the farm, forest and sea.
10. That I share with labour the fundamental truth that a fair day's work should be rewarded by a fair day's pay.

Digby County Men Painfully Injured

Two Digby County men, Vinthrop Haight, of Rossway, and Carman Dugas, Acacia, have been admitted to the General Hospital on account of serious and painful injuries.

Vinthrop Haight, 18, who was injured on Thursday of last week, suffered two broken hips, a badly crushed leg and a broken pelvis as the result of being thrown from a tractor, the wheels of the massive machine passing over the lower portion of his body.

Haight, one of the Pines Golf Club maintenance staff, was operating a tractor on the golf links at the time. In some manner he was thrown from his seat, the machine passing over him. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Haight.

Carman Dugas was painfully burned Sunday afternoon while working on a car which had stalled on the way. An explosion occurred and he was burned about the face, chest, arms and back the blast.

Digby Man Receives Highest Jugo-Slav Award

Relatives in Digby have received a cablegram announcing that Major William Jones, of Toronto, and formerly of Digby and Bear River, has been awarded the Order of Merit First Class of Jugo-Slavia, the highest award of that nation.

Major Jones, who was born in this town, a son of Mrs. Jones and the late Frank Jones, K.C., came into prominence some months ago when it became known he was chief liaison officer between Jugo-Slav and Allied authorities.

A veteran of the last war, and having lost an eye in that conflict, he was "turned down" when he first attempted to enlist in Canada. Working his way overseas with the Merchant Marine, he succeeded in enlisting with the British forces, and was parachuted to a secret hideout in Jugo-Slavia, where he fought with Marshal Tito.

He was returned to Britain some time before V-E Day.

In civilian life Major Jones, one time ecclesiastical student and former school teacher, is a Toronto real estate broker.

Clare Salesmen Meet

Victory Loan salesmen for the District of Clare met in the Court House at Little Brook, last Wednesday evening.

M. C. Denton, County Chairman, addressed the salesmen, congratulating them for their efforts in past loans and asking for an increased effort this time to put Clare "over the top". Mr. Denton stated that the 9th Victory Loan quota for Clare was $240,000, which was an increase over the sales of $226,000 in the last loan.

County Organizer S. W. Crook and Unit Secretary V. G. Cardoza, also addressed the meeting.

J. Mederic Comeau, Vice-Chairman for Clare, presided over the meeting.

After discussing details of the Loan with local officials the party motored to Annapolis where a dinner and joint meeting with officials of the Annapolis Unit was held. M. C. Denton, Digby, County Chairman, and S. W. Crook, Unit Organizer, attended the meeting.

To Have Balloon

Word has been received at local Victory Loan Headquarters that a Japanese fire balloon will be exhibited in Digby during the week of Nov. 5, in aid of the Loan.

This balloon is one the same type as was released by the Japanese and which floated over British Columbia. It was hoped by the enemy that these balloons, with incendiary material attached, would cause disastrous forest fires in the woods of B. C.

Fined for Offence

R. T. Haines and A. A. Gillis, of the Submarine Una, were fined $10 each and costs in Police Court, Friday morning after pleading guilty to a charge of common assault.

The charge arose out of an incident that took place last Wednesday night when the two men, after following Helen Robicheau and her sister, home from the Hostel, forced their way into the house and in a struggle with the girl and her mother, Mrs. Edward Robicheau, destroyed several chairs and broke a window.

Damages to the house were settled out of court.

Addresses Pupils

County Secretary V. G. Cardoza spoke to the pupils of the Digby High School and Junior High School last week on the Ninth Victory Loan.

Mr. Cardoza urged the pupils to carry home to their parents the message of the urgent end for the success of this Ninth Victory Loan. "Canada's Greatest Loan." He stated that this loan was a thanksgiving loan for Victory over our enemies and that it would provide in part the monies needed to bring our boys back home, to reestablish them in civilian life, to give them needed medical care and to help in financing credits to war ravaged countries.

MacDonald's Liberals Gain 28 of 30 Seats In Legislature

As the result of Tuesday's Provincial Elections, the Progressive-Conservative Party in this province was eliminated from the standpoint of representation in the provincial legislature. Premier Angus L. MacDonald's liberal government won 28 of the 30 seats; 2 C.C.F. Candidates were elected but not a solitary progressive-conservative.

This will be the first time in the history of the province that there has been no conservative representation in the house.

The election of Premier MacDonald in Halifax South, was the first to be conceded in the province. Leonard Fraser, Prog.-Cons. leader, and Donald MacDonald, C.C.F. House Leader, both went down to personal defeat.

In Digby County, Hon. J. Willie Comeau, minister without portfolio, was re-elected with a majority of 1,997 over his nearest opponent, Major Kenneth E. Smith, Prog.-Conservative. Laurence Outhouse, C.C.F. Candidate, forfeited his deposit as the result of the battle of ballots.

After the best architect has produced plans for a beautiful home, the most skilful contractor does not reflect the full beauty of those plans until he has completed the roof and has finished the inside trim.

Capable planners designed a secure financial house to shelter Canadian people during war time. It was built by the Canadian people with eight Victory Loans. Although lacking many conveniences, it compared favorably with shaky war time financial structures of many other nations.

The Ninth Victory Loan may well be viewed as the roof and inside trim, the finishing touches on a financial structure which will transform the house to provide comfortable living for the vast majority of Canadians in years following the war.

A successful Ninth Victory Loan will provide means by which the country can help sailors, soldiers and airmen to resettle in civilian life with minimum discomfort and to do her share in the great world task of creating order out of disorder and of hastening a resumption of international trade so necessary for continued prosperity in this Canada of ours.

Having done such an excellent job on the foundation and the walls of this Canadian financial house, let us make sure that the architect's plans for the roof are carried out equally well. They will be if each individual citizen buys Ninth Victory Loan Bonds as enthusiastically as he bought in the previous eight campaigns.

Tribute to a "War Mother"

We hear of "war brides" and "war babies" but seldom of "war mothers." Surely Mrs. William Johnstone Sr. of Waldec, deserves this title, for she had six sons, two sons-in-law, three grandsons, and one grandson-in-law, in the services of World War II.

Five sons, one son-in-law and one grandson saw action in France, Italy, Holland and Germany and have all arrived safely home without any disability. Does not this prove that their mother had faith in God and that her prayers were answered?

Mr. and Mrs. Johnstone came from Ayr, Scotland, eighteen years ago, being the largest family to have immigrated from the Old Country. They, with the younger children settled on a farm in Waldec, while the older boys, with the exception of James, found work on fruit farms in Hamilton, Ont., where some married and settled. James, bought a farm in Waldec, and a veteran of World War I, also settled there with his wife and family.

When war was declared in '39 Mrs. Johnstone's boys answered the call of their motherland and all enlisted in the Army. They trained at different centres but sometimes met with each other "across the pond." Hughie, Tom and Will were with Hamilton's wide-famed 40th Battery, who helped break the Hun at Ortona, Cassino and the Senio River when the "cease fire" order came on the morning of May 5. James, of World War I, was at Aldershot, Kentville, and has been stationed at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis. He has one son, William, who has returned from overseas duty, while his other son, David, is a warrant officer in the Air Force, and James Jr., is in the Reserve.

To drop in and have a chat with Mrs. Johnstone is always a pleasure and one must not leave before having partaken of a cup of tea and a scone. And over the cup of tea her eyes shine as she tells the visitor she is looking forward to having Arthur, William, Tommy and Hughie, of Hamilton home for "Haymanie," (the Scottish New Year celebration in place of Christmas) and we know these boys are looking forward to being again with their dear mother whose prayers carried her "wee bairns" safely through World War II back to a "war mother's" arms — God bless her!

National Clothing Collection

The clothing Collection has been most successful, with a further small amount to be packed and shipped. The donations from Bear River East were very generous—handled by the Mite Society with Mrs. Chester Sanford as Chairman. The Lansdowne donations were taken care of by Mrs. Harry Woodgate and Mrs. Wilfred Miller and helped swell the total amount, which will be approximately 2500 lbs. This compares very favorably with much larger districts, and is a credit to the generosity of our citizens. Those assisting with wrapping and packing during the past week were, Mrs. W. M. Romans, Mrs. Fred R. Harris, Mrs. Walter Dukeshire, Mrs. Clarence Morgan, Mrs. Roy Alcorn, Mrs. Everett Chalmers, Miss Odessa Smith, and Mrs. A. B. Campbell. We wish to thank each and every one who helped make the drive a success—those who gave, and those who transported the goods to the post office; V. L. Harris for the use of part of the post office building; the Bear River Trading Company for donation of wrapping materials.

THEY WANT A CHEF'S TALL HAT: For the first time in this country an apprentice cooks' school, established in the Canadian Pacific's coast-to-coast hotel chain, is giving Canadian youth an opportunity to learn the art of cooking. It opens up to them a chance to enter a profession which will not be overcrowded for years. Their practical training will allow them to assist in kitchens, thus releasing experienced cooks for other duties, such as staffing the C.P.R. summer hotels, when those resorts re-open. Under the direction of Ernest J. Wetli, (lower left) catering supervisor of Canadian Pacific hotels, 14 young men have begun the two-year course at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto with 10 of the embryo cooks who are undergoing training shown above. Mr. Wetli is now organizing the school at the Chateau Frontenac in Quebec and will see up similar courses in C.P.R. hotels at Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary and Victoria in the fall.

St. Ann's Receives Bequest

St. Ann's College of Church Point, received a bequest of $5,000 from the "Safe Deposit and Trust Company of Baltimore," Executor of the will of Mrs. Alvina Doyle. The legacy was given in memory of Mrs. Doyle's father and mother, the late Daniel J. and Alvina F. Murphy, to found a bursar for the education of young men who wish to become priests of the Roman Catholic Church. Mrs. Doyle, who resided at Westminster, Maryland, died while visiting her old home in Yarmouth, N. S., on Sept. 26, 1944. She had made several generous donations to Catholic institutions during her lifetime, one in particular, a $10,000 donation given to St. Charles College of Emmetsburg, Maryland, the Alma Mater of her late husband, Sarsfield Doyle, himself a native of Baltimore whose ancestors came with Lord Baltimore to the United States, whose family held land under the original grant. First news of the bequest to St. Ann's College was communicated to the Superior shortly after Mrs. Doyle's death by her brother, Major D. J. Murphy, a well known resident of Yarmouth, N. S.

Retires After 35 years' Service

George Thibodeau, of 24 Elm St., Halifax, spent a few days of last week in Church Point. He has recently retired as postal clerk on the "South-western" after 35 continuous years of service with the postal department. Until two years ago he was postal clerk on the Halifax-Campbellton run. Mr. Thibodeau was born in Church Point in 1887, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Moise Thibodeau, graduated from St. Ann's in 1907 with a Bachelor of Arts degree. He joined the postal services in 1910 and served with the Canadian Postal Corps in France and Belgium during World War I, from February, 1915, to August, 1919. Mr. Thibodeau plans to move to the old homestead in Church Point in the spring, where he will follow his hobbies of gardening and hunting.

Memorial Service

Requiem Mass was held in the Roman Catholic Chapel on Sea Wall Hill, Friday morning at 9 o'clock for Pte. Joseph Watson Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Watson Lewis, Waterford, who was killed on March 3, 1945, while engaged in fighting the enemy for the Hochwald Forest gap.

Joe went overseas in April, 1944, and shortly after arriving was confined to hospital for quite a few months. He was nineteen years old. In a letter to his mother from the Captain of the Algonquin Reg't, of which Joe was in, the captain wrote: "He was one of the many brave Canadians who gave up their lives in the struggle for the Siegfried fortifications."

He made the supreme sacrifice for King and country and the rest of humanity so that they might live in peace.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

PICTURING FARM SUBJECTS

129

Try to include only the principal subjects in your snapshots. Your pictures, like this one, will then carry more appeal.

A TRIP to the country is a red-letter event for children and grown-ups alike. If you're one of the lucky ones who manage to slip away this autumn to the farm or some delightful rural retreat for a day or a week, remember that a series of story-telling snapshots of your activities is really a "must."

It's tempting, in the midst of beautiful country scenes, to feel that the background is just as important as the figures. But usually it is better to concentrate on figure subjects and make sure you get them as effectively as possible.

That means, first of all, remembering to get up close enough so that you will focus attention on your subjects as in the excellent illustration above. The picture would have been much less effective if the photographer had yielded to the urge to include all of the hay-wagon, the horses, and having gone that far, possibly the barnyard.

The secret of making effective story-telling snapshots is to find a setting which can be identified at a glance, and then to include only enough of the background to get the story across. And what a wealth of interesting photographic material there is on every farm. The eye of an alert cameraman, always on the lookout for good background patterns and textures, will be thrilled by the possibilities on every hand.

The buildings themselves—barns, corn-cribs, silos—offer all kinds of unusual forms. The machinery around a farm, whether it's a hay-wagon, a tractor, or a butter-churn, can be used to excellent advantage as story-telling "properties." Above all, the many farm animals can be pressed into service to focus attention, to help the composition, or even to add a touch of humor or pathos. Children, especially, get into all kinds of natural and effective poses in country surroundings.

Your snapshots of rural scenes will be better if you concentrate on getting clear detail. Notice the detail in today's illustration. You will be able to increase the sharpness of detail if you use as small an aperture as possible. Fortunately, the strength of summer sun combined with fast film makes it possible to use small lens openings without much danger of underexposure. However, no amount of care in juggling lens aperture and shutter speed will insure clear detail unless your focusing is absolutely accurate.

Bear these points in mind on your next trip to the farm, and you'll come back with a sheaf of fascinating shots.

MARRIAGES

Cardoza - Crowe

A wedding of wide interest was solemnized at Bridgetown on Thursday, October 18, at 7 o'clock in the evening, in Bridgetown Baptist Church, when Eileen Elizabeth Crowe, 21, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Arthur Crowe, of Bridgetown, was married to Victor George Cardoza, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cardoza, of Digby, the Rev. Alvin G. Robertson, pastor of the church, officiating.

Miss Beatrice Chute, church organist, played the Wagner Wedding March as Miss Crowe entered the church with her father, by whom she was given in marriage, and took her place beside the groom, standing under an arch of greenery and small white flowers and waxberries, which spanned the central aisle. Her floor-length gown was of white silk jersey, styled with a full skirt and closely-fitted bodice with a U-shaped neckline, and long sleeves which tapered to a point over the wrists, with a self trimming of trapunto embroidery at the shoulders and deep waistband. Her finger-tip veil, which came to a point in the back, fell in soft folds from coronet of orange blossoms which the bride's mother had worn. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and baby mums. Her only ornament was a single string of pearls with matching earrings, the gift of the groom.

Miss Edith Cameron, R.N., of Digby, was bridesmaid and Mrs. Gordon Shaffner, Lawrencetown, was matron of honor. Edward Baxter, of Digby, was groomsmen. The "ushers" were Mrs. Steadman Newcombe and Miss Vivian Durling.

The church was effectively decorated with a profusion of white hydrangea, gold lantern flowers and greenery, which banked the altar. Mrs. Waldon Rice was soloist.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride for 125 guests from Halifax, Middleton, Bridgetown, Annapolis and Digby. Mrs. Robert Oxner, Halifax, cousin of the bride, received the guests at the house. Mrs. G. T. Bryant and Mrs. A. G. Robertson, Bridgetown, poured. The members of the Young Ladies' Class of the Baptist Church served, with Mrs. J. Roy MacIsaac and Mrs. Hedley Hall in charge of the tea and coffee, and Mrs. A. J. Burns and Mrs. Clyde Marshall of the Philathea Class, in charge of the salads.

The Rev. Frank Gaskill, of Digby Anglican Church, of which the groom is lay reader, proposed the toast to the bride, which was responded to by the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Cardoza left on a honeymoon trip through the province and spent the week end in Halifax with the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Frank Crowe, whose frail health prevented her from attending the wedding.

The young couple are residing in Digby, where the groom is on the staff of the Digby Courier and is actively connected with the civic and business activities of the town being Deputy Mayor, a member of the Digby Hospital Board and a member of the Board of the Navy League Hotel.

The bride is a graduate of Bridgetown High School and of the Halifax Infirmary, Class of '35. She was teacher of the Home Nursing Class sponsored by the Bridgetown Red Cross, and has practised her profession in Annapolis, Middleton, Bridgetown and Digby hospitals, in which latter place she was engaged just prior to her marriage.

Deep Brook Base to Auto Firm?

District meeting of the Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, held in Windsor, took the form of a supper meeting at which C. H. Brown, president of Windsor Board of Trade, presided. The speaker was Dr. F. W. Patterson, of Acadia University, who discussed the purposes of Boards of Trade and dealt specifically with matters of general interest to Board of Trade members in the Valley.

Three important resolutions were discussed. One supported the efforts of the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association to secure federal compensation for crop loss in the disastrous year crop of 1945. L. E. Shatford, Digby, told members that Chrysler Motors are investigating the Deep Brook Naval Base to determine it as an industrial possibility and a resolution of Annapolis Royal Board of Trade sought continuation of the base as a naval training centre.

The meeting left itself free on the question of harnessing Bay of Fundy tides for the production of electric energy, voting in favor of the principal of tidal power, but wanting more definite information as to the feasibility of proposals, based on results of the Petitcodiac River survey.

Motorists to Have Only One Licence
Plate Next Year

Shortage of steel at the time of ordering will mean that Nova Scotia motorists will continue to carry only one metal licence plate next year, E. S. Campbell, Registrar of Motor Vehicles, said last night. However, cars will "probably" carry two plates in 1947, he said.

Colors for the 1946 licence will be black figures on a pearly-grey background. Explaining why these colors had been chosen, the Registrar said that scientific research in the past had proved black figures on a white background were more easily distinguished day and night than other colors. "Each year we try to change as little from the white as possible," he said, and added the number will continue to be separated in pairs to facilitate remembering them.

Nova Scotia is one of the few provinces taking advantage of both scientific and practical research in the designing of licence plates, to make them both easily read

A Message TO FARMERS from a Farmer

H. H. Hannam is President and Managing Director of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture. In a message addressed to farmers, Mr. Hannam says:

"The farmer who is wise will look ahead and plan carefully.

"And in these years when prices and returns are more satisfactory than they have been, when labor is scarce, when farm machinery is restricted, when building materials are not readily available, a good course to follow would be that of putting a substantial share of the year's earnings into sound securities such as Victory Bonds. These reserves will not only provide a measure of insurance against difficulties in less favorable years, but at such time when supplies are favorable and costs will probably be lower, their purchasing power will be greater and return from them correspondingly increased.

"We believe this is good planning from the farmer's standpoint. At the same time, it is the very best of planning from the standpoint of the Nation."

MILDRED CARTY

Freight Assistance for Feeder Cattle and Lambs

Hon. A. W. MacKenzie, Nova Scotia's Minister of Agriculture and Marketing, Halifax, announces that advice has been received from the Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture for Canada, Ottawa, authorizing the allowance of freight refunds to assist in the movement of feeder cattle and feeder lambs from the dried-out areas of the provinces of Canada where feed is more abundant. Such refunds will be allowed on shipments billed after October 1, 1945, and before January 1, 1946. A refund of fifty per cent of the actual freight charges will be allowed on carload shipments purchased and billed in accordance with the following conditions:

1. Shipments must be billed from a country point in Alberta or Saskatchewan to any country point east of Manitoba in the case of cattle, but lambs may be shipped anywhere east of B.C.

2. To be eligible for the refund of half of the freight charges, the purchaser must retain cattle in his ownership for three months, and lambs for two months. Affidavits, on forms furnished by the Agricultural Supplies Board, must be given by the purchaser. In the case of a carload purchased jointly by neighbors, each owner will be required to supply an affidavit respecting his own stock.

3. The refund will not include such charges as feeding enroute, sanding, decking, cleaning cars or any other charges which might be included in the freight bill. Only fifty per cent of the actual freight charges will be refunded when the conditions have been met in full.

Farmers in Nova Scotia who have surplus feed and who desire further details on how to get feeder stock from the drought areas should apply by letter, or better, in person, to the Agricultural Representative of their County.

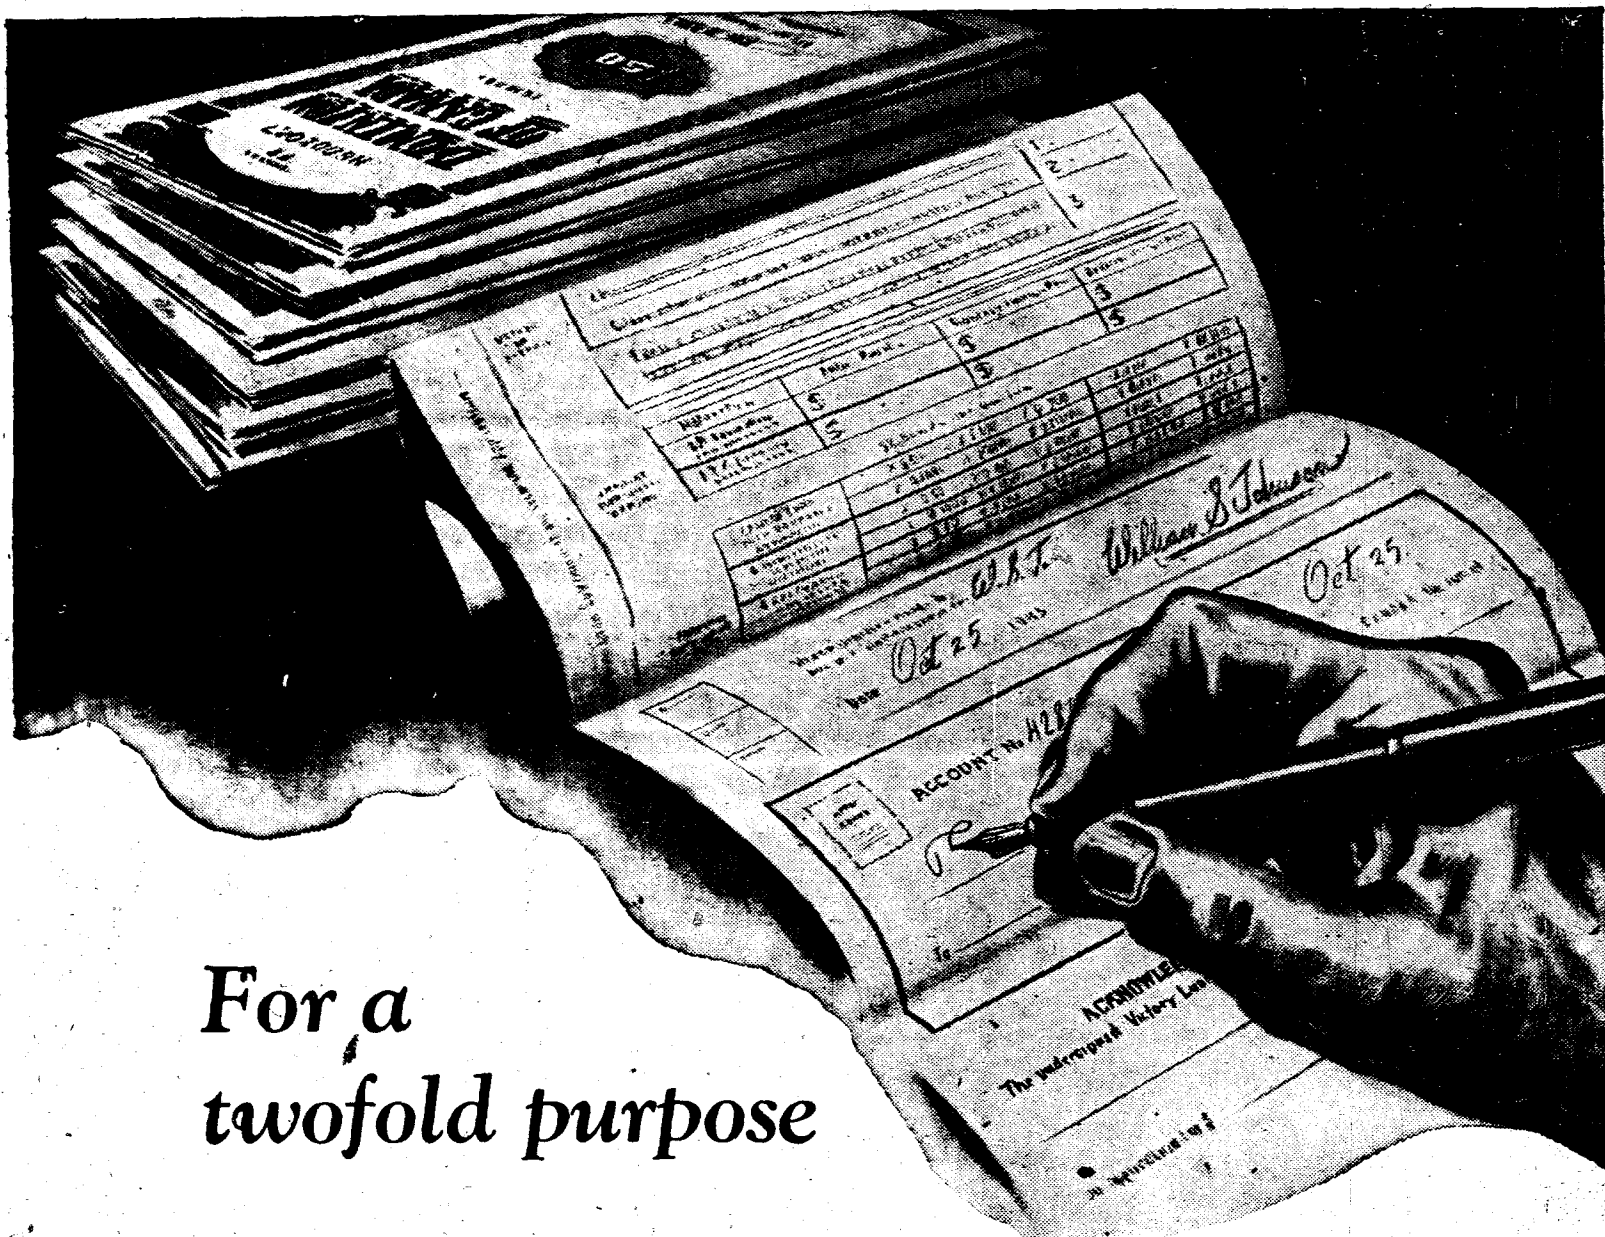

NSAC Has Largest Attendance in History

The Nova Scotia Agricultural College opened the 1945-46 session with the largest classes ever enrolled in forty years of the institution's service to agriculture. Principal Eric Boulden extended the official welcome on October 18 to 127 men and 2 girls. While this is an all-time high, yet it is only an interim total for there are still a good many degree students to be registered; students who are being released from the armed forces and others who, for various reasons, could not report on the opening date. Then, too, there are the applicants for enrollment in the "Farm Course" which opens on October 31 which will further increase the total to more than 200. Fifty-four of the 127 men presently enrolled are ex-service men from all three of the armed forces.

The two young ladies, both from Kings County, are Iva Trenholm, Grand Pre, a 2nd-year degree course student, and June Herbert, of Berwick, a Freshette, who is also undertaking the degree course studies.

In his welcoming address, the Principal reviewed various phases of college life, impressing upon the students the importance of agricultural studies. He urged those who did not intend to take up farming at the conclusion of the course, to "devote their lives to the service of the farmer." A good many professional and commercial fields were mentioned, in which the industrious and capable student could find opportunities for useful service. In this connection he paid a fine tribute to the sincerity of purpose and the professional and personal qualifications of the men and women serving the various agricultural institutions across Canada.

Speaking in a more general way respecting education and its application to the world about us, the Principal aptly quoted from Dr. E. A. Trowbridge:

"I think we can agree that the training of a person, if he is to be considered broadly educated, should be such as to give him understanding, of himself, of the world about him, and of his relationships to that world. It should give a foundation for further advancement and an ability to appreciate values and distinction between the true and false. It should be preparation to live with satisfaction in the present world; to meet without panic and without prejudice various problems as they rise and he should be able not only to grow with but also help in improving a growing world and changing civilization."

Milk Producers' Subsidy

W. J. Bird, Dairy Superintendent for Nova Scotia, Truro, announces advice has been received from the Agricultural Food Board for Canada, that the subsidy paid to fluid milk producers which was reduced from 55c per cwt. to 35c per cwt, commencing May 1, 1945, is again increased to 55c per cwt. commencing October 1, 1945. Milk producers' subsidy will be on the basis of 55c per cwt. to April 30, 1946. In areas where consumer retail prices have increases have been authorized the 25c per cwt. producers' The subsidy paid on butter-subsidy will continue in effect. fat used for the manufacture of creamery butter will continue on the basis of 10c per lb. butterfat.

N. S. Butter Production Up 4.2 Per Cent

Milk Shippers' Permits Not Required after Nov. 1, 1945

Effective Nov. 1st, 1945, the Agricultural Food Board for Canada will remove restrictions on the purchase of milk. After November 1st producers will be free to sell milk to any creamery, condensary or dairy but will be subject to Provincial Regulations as required and the trade will not be required to obtain permits before accepting milk from new shippers.

The restrictions requiring permits for new milk shippers were made to prevent unnecessary diversions and to ensure a supply of milk and cream would be available where most needed.

Good Guernsey Records

Kenneth Cox, Provincial Agronomist and Superintendent of College Farm, at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College, Truro, N.S., reports an unusually good string of R.O.P. records made by the five two year old pure bred Guernsey heifers. All five are daughters of a former herd sire MacDonald Farms Dutchman, a bull imported from the United States by the College in 1938.

College Patricia Dutchmaid produced 9,567 lbs. of milk and 493 lbs. of fat on twice-a-day milking. The average test was 5.15 per cent. This record led the 365 day division for the month her test was reported. Another point of interest is that she is a daughter of Princess Patricia 4th, bred by M. L. Magee, of Somerset, Kings Co. This cow has another high producing daughter in the College herd, College Patricia Della, which is a two-year-old qualified for the R.O.P. Honor Roll with 13,445 lbs. of milk, 707 lbs. of fat and an average test of 5.26 per cent butterfat. This is listed among the ten leading two-year-olds in the 365-day division in Canada.

Another outstanding daughter of "Dutchman" is College Melody Dutches, which on twice-a-day milking produced 9,636 lbs. of Milk and 482 lbs of fat, average test, five per cent, in 365 days, and 9,343 lbs. of milk and 465 lbs. of fat, average test 4.98 in 305 days. This heifer led the 305-day division in the R.O.P. for the month in which her record was reported.

College Daisy Dutchmaid

qualified in the 365-day division twice-a-day milking, with 8,630 lbs. milk testing 4.77 per cent, while College Buttergirl Dutchmaid made a 365-day record of 9,258 lbs. milk test twice daily for 305 days gave ing 4.85 per cent, and College 5,389 lbs. milk with an average test of 5.19 per cent fat.

● Home at last! . . . words fail to express his feelings . . . and the feelings of those who for years have awaited this reunion. Words also fail in expressing the debt we owe to our fighting men. No words can measure our gratitude for the tremendous task they have completed. They are returning home now . . . their job finished. They have forever SIGNED THEIR NAMES FOR VICTORY.

But our job is not yet finished! Our duty is to see that these fighting men of today are given every opportunity to re-establish themselves as citizens of tomorrow. This duty every Canadian is eager to fulfill.

In what manner can our appreciation be decisively shown? Words may fail . . . but action speaks for itself . . . action in SIGNING OUR NAMES FOR VICTORY.

QUARTERLY MEETING OF UNITED BAPTISTS

One of the most successful sessions of the Digby County United Baptist quarterly meetings, closed Wednesday evening. The sessions, which began Tuesday evening, were held in the Ashmore United Baptist Church. All pastors of the district and a large representation of lay men were present.

Rev. J. M. Jones, Freeport, and Rev. T. W. Howard, of Westport, two new pastors on the field, were welcomed to the district. The address of welcome to delegates was delivered by Rev. J. B. Hogan, pastor of the entertaining church.

Rev. J. E. DeLong, of Digby, was the speaker at the opening session. He spoke on the topic "Our 100 year Endeavor" and reviewed briefly the one hundred years of service for the Kingdom of God by the Baptists in the Maritimes. "As the convention celebrates its 100th anniversary this year let us do so suitably by bringing men and women to the evangel of Jesus Christ and doctrinizing our youth," he said.

Wednesday morning's session was opened by the moderator J. Vian Andrews, of North Range, and a devotional service led by Lic. Bernard Manzer, Brighton, who used for his theme "What has Christianity done for the individual?" The Keyman's report was given by Rev. G. D. Brydon, Bear River, and a report on the progress of the Centennial Fund by M. C. Denton, Digby.

The morning session concluded with an address by Rev. J. Jones, who told of his experiences during the four years he spent as an army chaplain where he met men of all classes and from all corners of the earth. From his experiences he said "The church with all its imperfections, and those who maintain and uphold its virtues, are the salt of the earth."

Rev. T. W. Howard conducted the discussion on the work of the Church School at the afternoon session. This discussion was followed by a message on Foreign Missions by Rev. G. D. Brydon, who stressed the need of churches to give more, pray more and sending more missionaries to lands not in reach of the Gospel.

The Women's Missionary meeting, conducted by Mrs. William Lent, of Weymouth North, was helpful and well attended, with excellent reports from various societies.

The closing session was given over to an evangelistic service conducted by Rev. T. F. McWilliam, Deep Brook, who used as his text, "Give not that which is holy unto the dogs."

New Telephone Exchanges for Digby Neck

The Public Utilities Board has approved the establishment of two new telephone exchanges on Digby Neck, one at Sandy Cove on the mainland, and the other at Freeport, Long Island. These exchanges will serve the residents of Digby Neck, Long Island and Briar Island.

The Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Co., who have recently taken over the Digby-Westport Telephone line, have abandoned their plan to open an exchange at Tiverton, also on Long Island, as the people of that community prefer to be included in the Freeport exchange.

Of the 5,563,960 acres of land given to agriculture in the Netherlands, 90 per cent of the holdings are less than 50 acres and more than 50 per cent of holdings less than 12 acres.

Potatoes will be scarce this winter. The Department of Agriculture reports 1945 production in Nova Scotia will be only about 2,083,000 hundredweight compared with 3,075,000 last year. Average yield is down 170 bushels per acre, 33 bushels below the 1944 average.

It is certainly a very important lesson, to learn how to enjoy ordinary things, and to be able to relish your being, without the transport of some passion, or the gratification of some appetite.

Digest of News of the Province

A school for soldier-barbers is being opened in Halifax by the Dept. of Labor. Discharged servicemen will be taught fundamentals of clipper and shears in four to six months.

The provincial government has received assurance from Ottawa that weather forecasting in Nova Scotia will be improved. The government wants local forecasts made from the Halifax office of the Meteorological Service instead of Toronto so that Nova Scotia farmers, fishermen, and other interests will get better service.

A second modern fishing dragger will be built on the South Shore with assistance of the Fishermen's Loan Board, according to Dr. D. L. Cooper, fisheries director. Eighty-seven feet long, it will be operated by Cape Sable Fisheries of Clark's Harbour. The first, a 75-footer built for Liverpool Fisheries, is expected to be fishing by the end of November.

Five new instructors have joined the staff of the Dept. of Industry's handicrafts and home industries division: Simone Belliveau, Church Point; Celeste Surette, Yarmouth; Mrs. Elizabeth McLeod, Baddeck; Mrs. Valborg Padersen, Bridgetown, and Ruth Eisenhauer, Barrington. They will give courses in home crafts such as weaving, knitting, pottery and leatherwork.

Central Nova Scotia will get a new transportation service to New Brunswick and New England if the Public Utilities Board approve a proposal of MacKenzie Coach Lines, Inc. The company wants to operate a through bus service between Halifax and Boston. It already runs daily Boston-to-Glace Bay. Officers of the company include H. P. MacKenzie, Sydney, vice president and traffic manager, and G. R. Robinson, Amherst, treasurer and general manager.

The work of the Red Cross is still going on, despite the end of the war. During the summer months there was, as usual, a slackening of activity, but the weekly meetings were continued even though the attendance was small. Now with the coming of fall it is hoped to gain more regular workers again to carry on through the winter. Service knitting and hospital sewing have been discontinued but there is a greater need than ever for civilian relief clothing for England and European countries. That need is NOW, for cold weather is already here, so women are urged to come to the Red Cross rooms right away to help sew or to take yarn home to knit a sweater for some shivering child in the war-torn countries. This appeal applies to the Red Cross auxiliaries as well as to the women of the Digby Branch. Even though the smaller communities may not be able to carry on their money-raising activities, if they can help make up the materials provided for clothing, they will be helping to save lives this winter. There is plenty of work for all—please give of your time.

Shipments to Halifax headquarters for the months of July, August and September included the following: 2 khaki sweaters, 8 hospital pyjama suits, 5 sterilizing bags, 1 pair pillow slips, 37 quilts, 30 children's sweaters, 24 children's skirts, 58 undergarments, 1 nightdress, 34 prs. felt slippers, 24 baby garments, 36 children's dresses. Total, 261 articles.

In addition, the following knitted garments in navy and grey were added to our reserve stock: 67 pairs socks, 4 l.s.t.n. sweaters, 6 pairs mittens. Total, 77 articles. Adding these two totals, our grand total for the quarter was 338 articles.

During this period several submarines came into port from Bermuda en route to England and the crews were supplied with warm clothing to supplement their summer equipment. Supplies distributed for this purpose included the following: 113 pairs socks, 22 prs. sea boot stockings, 83 l.s.t.n. sweaters, 12 caps, 32 prs. gloves, 4 prs. mittens, 4 scarves, 12 suits underwear, 70 windbreakers. Total, 312 articles.

Donations for the month of July, August and September are gratefully acknowledged as follows: 10 quilts, Rosway Auxiliary; 4 quilts, each, Little River Auxiliary, Barton - Brighton Auxiliary (including 1 donated by Mrs. Ring and Miss Ring); 2 quilts each, Ea-Gl Club, Hill Grove

To Improve Forecasting

Efforts of provincial government to get a better weather forecasting service for Nova Scotians have resulted in assurance from Ottawa that improvements are in the offing, it has been learned.

The federal government plans to augment its forecast service in the near future to better meet the needs of farmers, fisherman, shipping, lumberman and other interests, Reconstruction Minister Clarence D. Howe indicated in a letter to Province House.

Mr. Howe's communication was in reply to a request from the Nova Scotia government for retention in peacetime of the Halifax forecast office of the Meteorological Service.

"The end of the Pacific war should now release additional personnel," the reconstruction minister said, "and it is our intention to give active consideration to carrying out plans which have been prepared to augment the meteorological activities to meet peacetime requirements."

The Halifax forecast office was set up early in the war primarily to provide weather information for the air force and other armed services. The provincial government and farmers' and fruit growers' organizations complained that civilian forecasts now issued from Toronto are too slow to meet requirements.

"At the present time," Mr.

Howe said, "I am advised that the forecast office at Halifax provides forecasts during the spraying season in the Annapolis Valley, and also gives warnings to the lobster fishermen during the period they set out their traps. In addition to this warnings of the approach of violent storms are given as well as storm warnings to the shipping interests."

"The assistance which adequate weather forecasts provide to those engaged in fishing, agriculture, etc., has been recognized for some time but due to the demands of the armed services for weather forecasts and the shortage of trained personnel it has been difficult up to this time to do anything more than has been done."

"PERSONAL MENTION"

Thank You

We take this opportunity of expressing our thanks to all who patronized our opening dance, and those who in any way co-operated with us in making our opening the grand success it was.

Music Box Dance Hall

BRIGHTON

In our campaign for more and better news, we promised to write an article on "Personal mention items." Because of lack of space this article was crowded out of last week's edition.

Editors of all country newspapers take a special pride in their personal mention columns, altho' there are times when they feel their correspondents pay too much attention to this type of news and not enough to news of greater importance. We have pointed this out in previous "talks".

Nevertheless, we want good personals—and lots of them; we also want our personal columns to be democratic. Frequently our correspondents are accused of "ignoring" certain people in their communities. But enough of that!

Let us imagine for the time being that we are writing the notes for the imaginary village of Homeville. Here are half a dozen items typical of many we receive every week. None of them have any real news value for reasons we will explain later.

HOMEVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. John Brown were visitors in our village last week. Rev. P. C. Speakwell delivered an inspiring sermon in our church Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Smith left yesterday to spend the winter in the United States.

A. R. Steplively, of Nextown, was a Sunday guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stayathome.

O. N. Journeyfar returned last week from Labrador.

I. Sellalot, the Family Products man, was in the village last week.

We have said none of these Homeville items have any real news value: Let us analyze them, one by one.

Take the personal about the Browns: No mention is made of where they were from; and the Rev. Speakwell—the Homeville church is on his circuit, he preaches there almost every Sunday; the fact that he held service on a Sunday evening is no more news than to say the teacher opened the school on Monday. Tuesday, or any day of the week. There might be some news value to the item if some mention were made of the subject on which he preached.

Of course it is news that Mr. and Mrs. Smith are spending the winter in the United States, but, the United States is a large country and their friends would like to know to just what part of the United States they intend to go.

Mr. Steplively's visit from Nextown is a common occurrence. That item appears in the Homeville notes at least every other week. The editor gets tired of seeing it—and so do the readers.

Labrador is to most of us a far-away place. Few of our readers have ever been there; naturally they are anxious to know a few more details about Mrs. Journeyfar's trip.

Mr. I. Sellalot, like the Rev. Mr. Speakwell, makes his regular trips to the village.

Now that we have analyzed the Homeville notes let us take the same items and see what can be done to improve them:

HOMEVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, of Milltown, spent last week at the Parker Hotel. Mrs. Brown was the former Miss Jessie Jones who taught school here in 1918 and was pleased to renew acquaintances with many of her old scholars. Both Mr. and Mrs. Brown did a bit of deer hunting during their stay here, with Jim Parker as their guide. We hope to see them back next year.

At his Sunday evening service Rev. P. C. Speakwell strongly criticized the manner in which certain dance halls in the vicinity are being operated, and charged they were nothing more or less than "glorified bootleg joints", undermining the morale and character of our young people.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Smith left yesterday to spend the winter with their sons, Harry, in Beverly, Mass., and George, in Concord, N. H. They hope to have the opportunity of visiting many of their friends from this community now living in the New England states.

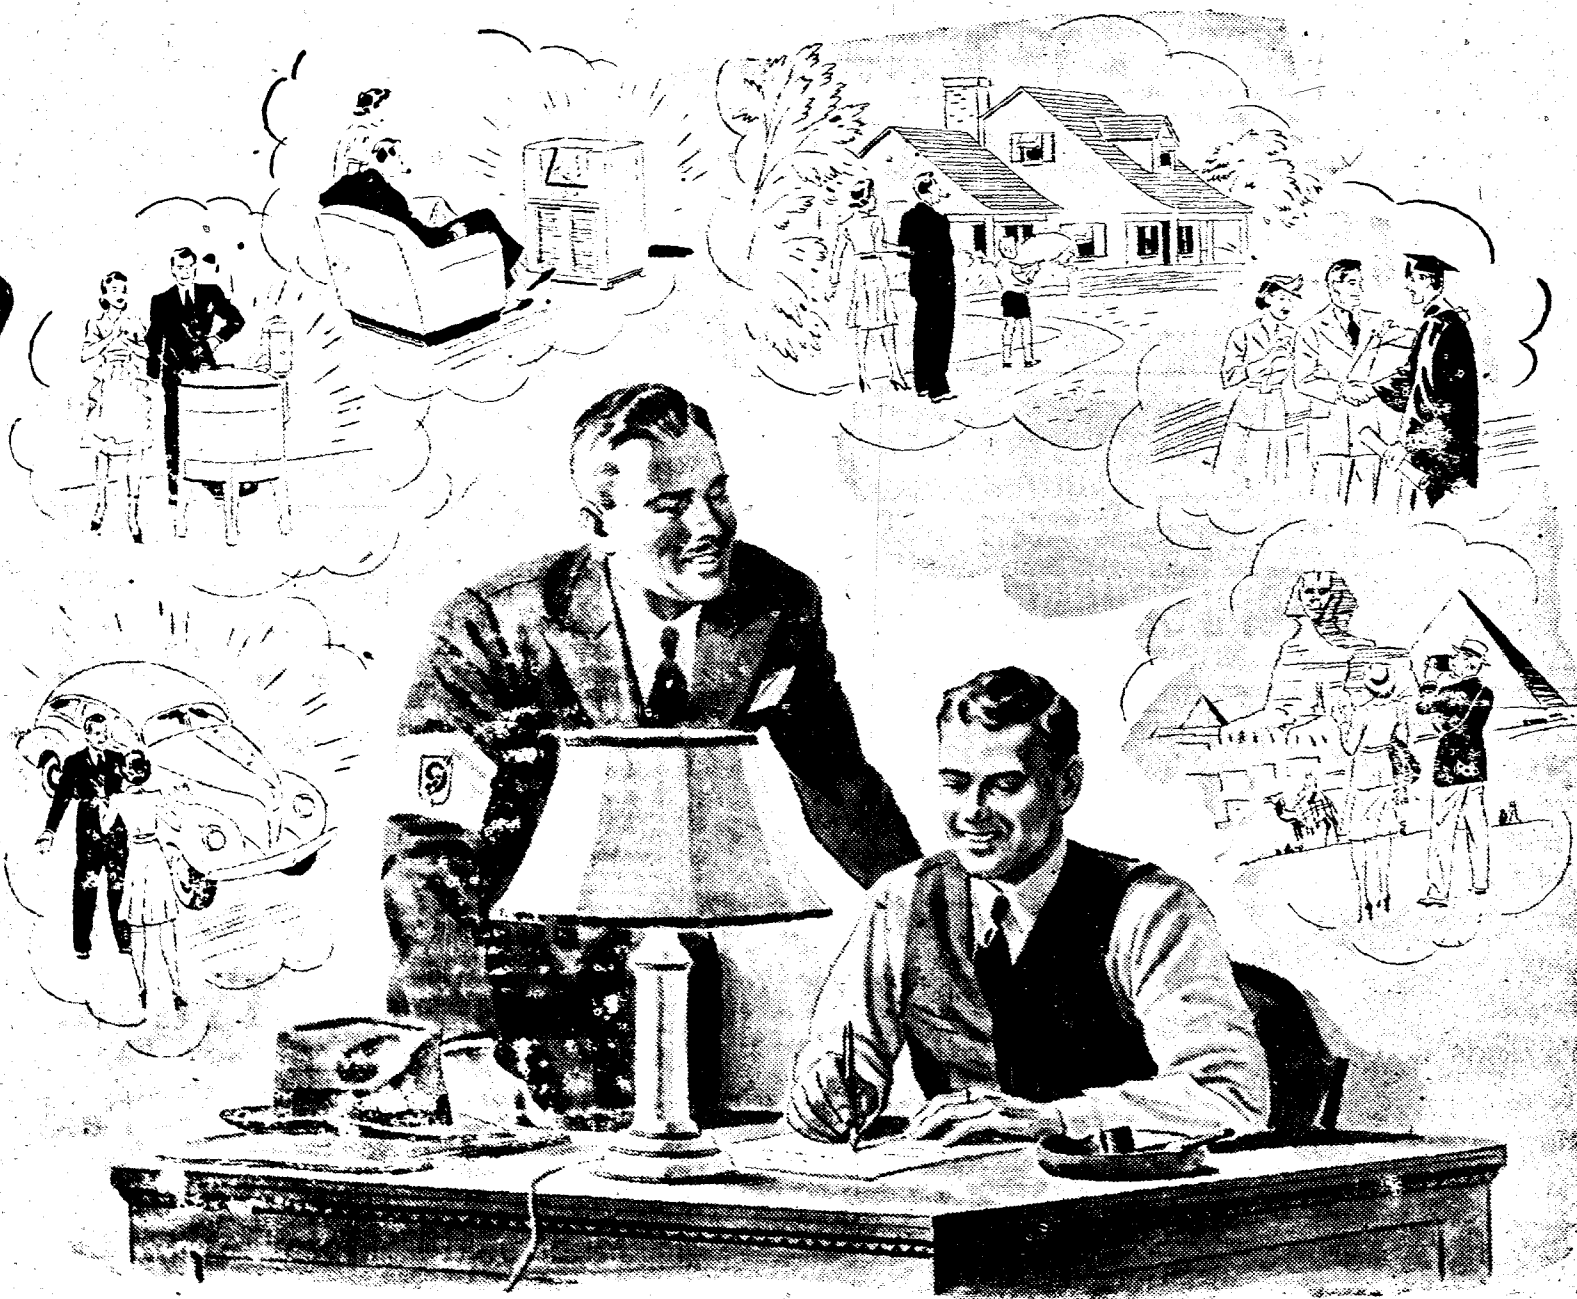

A. R. Steplively, of Nextown, was a Sunday guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stayathome. In spite of his 93 years Mr. Steplively thinks nothing of walking three miles to call on his friends here. On his last visit he piled four cords of wood for Mr. Stayathome, who has been more or less under the weather.

We are glad to see O. N. Journeyfar home again. He has spent the past two years at Goose Bay, Labrador. He likes the "up north" country, but says there is no place like Homeville.

I. Sellalot made his regular fortnightly calls here on Tuesday. Mr. Sellalot, the Family Products man, has been on the road a good many years, and told your correspondent that he made his first calls in Homeville just 22 years ago.

While we admit the revised edition of the Homeville notes is far from perfect, they cover the same items as were contained in the original news budget, and, re-written as they have been, "pepped up" somewhat and made more interesting and more readable.

Make it a point when you write "personals" for the Courier to try and "pep them up". Write a little something about the people whose names appear in your items. Try it! You will find it is really fun.

Receives Two Years for Breaks

Benoit Comeau, of Comeauville, pleaded guilty at the court presided by Judge Crowl at Little Brook Friday afternoon. After the judge read the indictments, namely, breaking and entering the Royal Bank of Canada, Church Point, recently, and robbing the small store of Albert Robichaud, of Meteghan, where he obtained over $50.00, he pleaded guilty and he was sentenced to two years on each count. The Royal Bank break at Church Point occurred early Monday morning, October 1st, and the Meteghan robbery took place Monday night. Comeau rode to the Church Point scene of the attempted robbery on his bicycle and started to pick the lock at four o'clock in the morning. It taking over an hour to open the door. In doing so, he used a steel bar and splintered the door, considerably to get at the lock piece, but when he did get the door opened he found that daybreak had arrived too soon. Being panic-stricken he left the scene without doing any more damage than to the front door. The same night he broke into the store in Meteghan. A few days later Comeau left for Kentville by bus. The R.C.M.P. who were investigating, followed a clue that they had uncovered, which pointed the guilty finger to Comeau and they advised the R.C.M.P. at Kentville to meet the bus there. When it arrived he was taken in custody. In looking over his baggage they found the tools that he used for the Church Point break. Lodged in the Little Brook jail, he confessed to both breaks.

Resumes Old Job As Telegrapher

Tpr. Gerald Melanson, who spent the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Melanson, Church Point, was able to obtain six months' leave from the army and left for Savant Lake, Ontario, on Monday, where he resumed his duties as telegrapher on the C.N.R. Prior to joining up for active service for wireless gunner in the tank corps a year and a half ago, he was employed as telegrapher on the C.N.R. Western lines. Leaving Canada a week before Christmas last year, he spent another six months of extensive training in England and was ready to go to the battlefields when Hitler and his gang decided to call it all off. Tpr. Melanson went then to Holland with the occupational troops where he remained for several months. He later re-enlisted for services in Burma. Returning to Canada on the "Cameronia" on a transfer to the Pacific area of warfare they received news of the Japanese surrender when they were several days from Halifax—thus missing out in getting in any actual fighting.

Celebrated 92nd Birthdays

Congratulations are extended to Mrs. Jane McKinnon, Prince William Street, Digby, who celebrates her 92nd birthday today.

On October 23rd congratulations were extended to Mrs. Roxanna Sabine, Riverdale, on her 92nd birthday. Mrs. Sabine is in excellent health and was among the numbers to cast a vote at Weymouth that day.

She was recently visited by her son and wife, Rev. and Mrs. L. T. Sabine, of Island Falls, Maine, and her grandson, Rev. Ralph Sabine, and wife, of Calais, Maine; John Sabine and wife of Woodstock, N. B., and Rev. Ronald Sabine and wife, of Havelock.

Gets Honorable Discharge

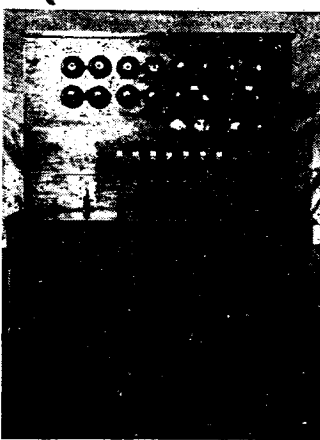

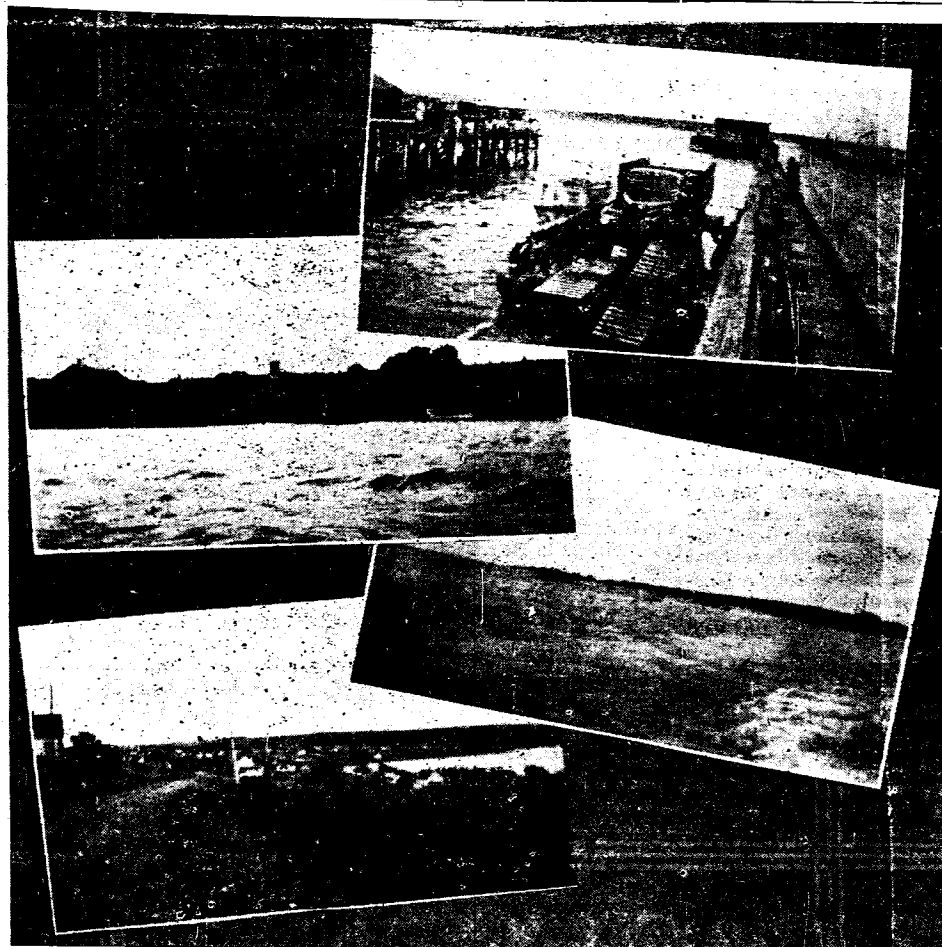

Paul Melanson, who has been in the Canadian army for over four years in the Dental Corps, left Monday for Halifax, where he will receive his honorable discharge. Although he enlisted for active service when he finished taking a business course at St. Ann's, he never left the Western Hemisphere. He spent a year in Labrador and six months in Jamaica, besides the time he spent in different districts in Nova Scotia. At one time, the first year that he was in the services, he was aboard a transport ready to go overseas but was called off at the last minute and he was greatly disappointed at the time.

Sgt. and Mrs. J. W. McKinnon are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael McKinnon. Sgt. Joe has only recently returned from four years' overseas and is welcomed home by a host of friends.

Laurie Anderson, local taxi driver, suffered a painful accident last week when he fell setting out of his car, breaking a bone in his leg just above the ankle.

Victory Loan Sales Down

According to figures released yesterday by local Victory Loan Headquarters, sales in the county to date are trailing those of the corresponding period in the 8th Loan.

Sales to date in the 9th Loan are $203,200, while in the 8th Loan sales had amounted on the corresponding day to $363,750.

It is felt by Loan officials that the bad weather and the interference of the election may have had some bad effect on the Loan but there is also fear that a general feeling of apathy and disinterestedness may be prevalent. Salesmen have been urged to redouble their efforts to contact every possible purchaser in their district to secure sales. It is hoped to reach the $350,000 figure by close of business on Saturday.

A telegram, received yesterday by S. W. Crook, Unit Organizer, from V. T. White, Provincial Chairman of General Sales, stated that the drop in sales was general throughout the province. He urged an increase in effort by all salesmen in order to recover time lost and put Nova Scotia in the lead again.

Hospital Ladies' Aid

The attendance at the monthly meeting of the Ladies' Hospital Aid on Monday was more encouraging. Three new members were added to the list and others not directly associated in membership have shown their interest in helping to plan future activities for the Aid. Mrs. DuVernet was named to look into getting captains for various Bridge Clubs for the winter.

It was with regret the Ladies' Hospital learned on Monday that the sponsors of the Smith's Cove room have found it necessary to give up that room. It is hoped that others will take up the challenge and steps are being taken by the Aid to find new sponsors.

Firemen Have Busy Morning

The Digby fire department was really kept on the jump yesterday morning fighting fires almost simultaneously in both the south and north ends of the town. Three alarms were rung in within an hour.

The first call was to the south end for a chimney fire at the new home recently built by Carl Winchester, and occupied by Mrs. Harry Haynes. The blaze was not serious, but firemen had barely reached the scene before another alarm was rung in.

The second call was for a fire at the Royal Hotel (until recently known as the Winchester Hotel) at the north end of the town. Fire, apparently started through a defective flue, had started a blaze in the attic of the large frame structure. Prompt action prevented a serious blaze which on the part of firemen no doubt might have laid waste a large section of the north end of the town.

The fire truck had not pulled away from the hotel when the third alarm came and they were again called to the Carl Winchester house in the south end, where the chimney fire had again broken out. This was extinguished within a matter of minutes.

One "all out" was given to answer for the three alarms.

Surprise Shower

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cardoza, who were recently married in Bridgetown, were guests of honor at a surprise shower held in Trinity Parish Hall Tuesday evening. A large number of the congregation of the church, of which the groom is a Lay Reader, were present for the affair and the happy couple were the recipients of many lovely and useful gifts.

When the bride and groom entered the hall the pianist played Wagner's Wedding March and the assembled

Hospital Donation Day, November 12

Monday, November 12, will be Hospital Donation Day. This year it will be held at the Nurses' Residence. Well wishers of the Digby General Hospital are asked to bring their donations there. This should present a splendid opportunity to many to view and inspect the fine new home.

Donations of all kinds will be gratefully received for your hospital is always in need of food stuffs, linens and other items. Gifts of farm vegetables, home made jams, jellies, preserves and pickles, will be most welcomed.

Breakfast foods are also another item always appreciated by the hospital as these dishes are served daily and large supplies must be kept in stock at all times.

Financing is one of the hospital's biggest problems—it must be remembered there is scarcely a hospital in Canada that is wholly self supporting.

Make it a point to make your gift to the Digby General Hospital on the afternoon of November 12—bring your gift to the Nurses' Residence. Refreshments will be served.

crowd sang. The stage curtain was then pulled up disclosing a table piled high with gifts. After the bride had opened the gifts Mr. Cardoza thanked the members of the congregation for their splendid kindness. Following this, refreshments were served.

The hall was tastefully decorated in Hallowe'en motif.

Mrs. E. R. Thomas

In the passing of Mary Loretta, wife of E. R. Thomas, on Sunday, Oct. 21st, Smith's Cove loses one of its oldest and most highly esteemed residents.

Of pre-Loyalists descent, Mrs. Thomas, born at Waldec, Annapolis County, April 27th, 1860, was the daughter of the late Edmund Reis and Susan Dunn Gilliatt. In 1882 she married Eben R. Thomas, of Smith's Cove.

In the spring of 1894 Mr. and Mrs. Thomas opened to the tourist travel, the now well known and popular hotel Out-of-the-Way-Inn—the first hotel of its kind in that vicinity. As hostess Mrs. Thomas has graciously welcomed to "The Inn" many interesting and distinguished guests, among them might be mentioned Archbishop Richardson, of Fredericton, N.B. Two other notable clergymen were Dr. Minot Savage and Dr. Robert Collier, of New York City; Harriett Boyd Hawes, the archeologist, Jacob Riis, Lillian D. Wald, Dr. Elsie Graff, Ruth Cameron and George Gilbert, authors and writers. Down through the years by her love for the people and kindly interest in their welfare, Mrs. Thomas had endeared herself to a wide circle of friends, not only in that locality but in various parts of Canada and the United States.

She was a great lover of flowers. Her garden was a bright spot in the village and her flowers were a bright spot to many an invalid and shut-in.

Mrs. Thomas was predeceased by three sons and three daughters. One son, John, was a casualty of World War I. Surviving are her husband, one daughter, Cenith, one son, Ernest, both at home; one grandson, John Kelsall, of Kentville; two sisters, Ella (Mrs. John Adams), of Deep Brook; Harriett (Mrs. George Kennedy), Lawrence, Mass., also eleven nieces and nephews.

The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. T. F. McWilliam, pastor of Smith's Cove Baptist church, of which the deceased was a member. The casket was covered with beautiful flowers, fitting tributes to the one "at rest" beneath them. Interment was in the Thomas Cemetery, Smith's Cove.

Addresses Brotherhood

Dr. Saxby Blair, Kentville, formerly superintendent of the Experimental Station, Kentville, was guest speaker at a supper meeting of the United Baptist Brotherhood, at which a number of farmers from the Hill Grove area were present.

Taking as his subject "Nutrition," Dr. Blair expalined the effects of various foods and food combinations on the body, and stated that a knowledge of these things was essential to the farmer in the feeding of his stock.

Dr. Blair urged the farmers to form study clubs, to participate in the Farm Forums of the CBC, and to treat their occupation as a scientific profession.

Hospital Equipment Moved to Freeport

Emergency Red Cross Hospital equipment stored at the Court House since the early part of the war, was moved Tuesday to Freeport where it will be used to equip a Red Cross Outpost Hospital, which is to be established there. This hospital will serve the villages on Long and Brier Islands and will provide a much needed service to these communities which are long distant from the hospital in Digby and at times cut off by bad weather which makes transportation of emergency cases an impossibility. Dr. A. F. Weir, Freeport, was in charge of moving the equipment to its new location.

Kaulback - Baxter

The Digby United Baptist Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Monday evening, October 22, 1945, at 8 o'clock, when Barbara Adelia, elder daughter of John Baxter, Digby, was united in marriage to Murray Charles Kaulback, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaulback, Smith's Cove. The Rev. J. Earle DeLong, officiated. A. Morash, of Kentville, played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Mr. Morash sang "I'll Walk Beside You."

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor length gown of white rayon sheer, styled with full skirt and long sleeves. The fitted bodice was trimmed with silver sequins. Her floor length veil fell from a coronet of white gardenias. She carried a bouquet of mauve, yellow and white chrysanthemums, with maiden hair fern and her only ornament was a sweetheart locket a gift of the groom.

Miss Hazel Kaulback, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, wearing a floor length gown of blue brocade sheer, with full skirt and long sleeves. Her headpiece was a small coronet of blue gardenias and she carried a nosegay of yellow, white and mauve chrysanthemums with maiden hair fern. Murray Baxter, brother of the bride, was best man. The ushers were William Beeler, of Annapolis Royal, cousin of the groom, and Richard Baxter, of Digby, cousin of the bride.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaulback, Smith's Cove, for some seventy guests. The bride's table was prettily decorated with white tapers and a three tier wedding cake. Mrs. Fred Smith poured while Mrs. Kenneth Beeler, aunt of the groom, was in charge of the refreshments. Mrs. Murray Beeler, another aunt of the groom, cut the bride's cake and the young friends of the bride and groom served.

For travelling the bride wore Alice blue crepe, with matching accessories. The happy couple left on a short honeymoon trip and on their return they will reside in Smith's Cove.

It is clearly recognized in Ottawa that the U. S. in making its present demand on Britain for abolition of the preferences is asking something which Britain herself has no power to grant, says The Financial Post. For what U. S. wants is not merely the wiping out of preferential margins by Britain herself, but elimination of the entire system of preferential tariffs throughout the Empire.

Nothing short of a full-fledged Imperial trade discussion could grant such a request. It is certain that every part of the Empire would have something to say about this. Canada in particular might be called upon to rewrite her entire tariff structure.

When we say local apples are going to be missed badly this winter, we aren't handing out any applesauce.

The editor's little writing room used to be called his "sanctum" short for "sanctum sanctorum," holy of holies, meaning that when he went in and shut the door he was not to be disturbed. In fact, if an editor expected to get anything worthwhile written for his paper, he had to have a place where he could shut the door against the myriad intrusions of a newspaper day. Nowadays, however, the editorial door is apt to be open and the room uninhabited for a whole day at a time, or even a week.

That's not because editors are neglecting their duties, but rather because they have taken on more and more of the community's business. They go calling, just as good business men do in maintaining their contacts. If they take long luncheon hours, very often it's due to attendance at a public meeting, or exploring trends in major developments of local or national importance.

Editors are getting out among the people as early leaders of the Fourth Estate thought they never dared to do. They are rapidly joining the Fifth Estate, so designated by the late Arthur D. Little in a book called "The Handwriting on the Wall," in which he nominated for membership, "the company of thinkers, workers, expounders and practitioners upon which the world is absolutely dependent for the preservation of that organized knowledge which we call 'Science.'"

That was a chemical engineer's interpretation of conditions as he saw them in 1928. It tends to become a prophecy fulfilled at least in part.

Practicing what he preaches is what a preacher does when rehearsing his sermons.

Women are wonderful. The procession of them up and down the streets of any town these crisp autumn days, reveals their limitless capacity both for courage and for disobedience. This is all shown in their hats, the most outlandish headgear imaginable. The women dare to appear in public in them because they have disciplined themselves to bend the knee (or should it be the head?) to Fashion's every demand. And this fall, milliners apparently are in revolt at the summer's almost hatless vogue of very small toppers. Creations seemingly conceived in nightmares have been stamped by them as stylish.

Hats are as high and narrow as stove pipes. They are heavy with gilt spangles. They drip with ostrich feathers. They are somber as morning in black satin. Other hats are broad-brimmed, with big gay flowers. They are crownless. They twine around one ear. They perch precariously on foreheads. Quills stick out of them, endangering fellow passengers. How they are kept against the wind on women's heads is a secret. They seem totally unrelated to the wearers. They don't look like hats. But women wear them. Women are wonderful!

No Butter Coupon Valid November 8

There are five Thursdays in November but on only four of them will a butter coupon become due, the regional office of the Ration Administration has announced. Reminding consumers that no butter coupon will become good on November 8, the ration office points out that butter purchases made early in the month should be conserved so that they may be made to last until November 15.

PI iNes

Another provincial election has been written into history. Judging from the results there is no reason to believe another election will be called until the newly elected legislative assembly lives out its constituted span of life.

But between elections there should be ample time for the powers that be to revise the boundaries of some of the polling divisions in the electoral district of Digby.

The Culloden district is a truly horrible example. Marshalltown and Weymouth are almost as bad. There is no good reason why Digby County electors should have to travel ten and twelve miles to exercise their right of franchise — especially when there are instances where voters literally have to pass three polling stations before they arrive at their own poll.

"Culloden" voters from Conway and Bay Road, travelling by the most convenient route pass within a short distance of Digby South, Digby Centre and Digby North polls; Roxville, Sea Brook and Digby Neck Road voters also have to come into the town of Digby before they can go to the Culloden poll — the same situation applies to Bay View, Lighthouse Road and Shore Road.)

The Marshalltown poll also covers an extremely large area and by rules of good logic should be further divided; names of voters with Bear River addresses appear on the Marshalltown list.

We have not lists to check right here, but, if we remember correctly, South Range and North Range voters vote in at least three and possibly four different polls.

We are also informed many voters whose names appear on the 22a Weymouth list have more than 12 miles to go to the polls.

Toys From Nova Scotia

Most people have an idea that Toyland is somewhere out beyond the Arctic circle where a busy Santa Claus works all year round preparing for midnight of December 24th. But it is beginning to look as if Nova Scotia is taking over from Santa Claus as daily all kinds of toys arrived in the regional office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board for price fixations before they are offered for sale.

The toys are the work of Nova Scotia's handicrafters and the sample submitted number up in the hundreds. There are dolls, solemn dolls and smiling dolls, dolls in costume with frilly petticoats that barely hide the lace edges of dainty little panties. There are animals carved of wood, animals of cotton and animals of duck skin, which can be washed. There is even a kangaroo with a wee kangaroo in its pouch. There are sleds and little wagons and high chairs. And just in case wee junior may want to bite the high chair, paint on some chairs is a non-poisonous variety of enamel.

Under Board regulations a homemaker is a person who manufactures goods in his own home and employs only the members of his immediate family. The total annual sales may not exceed $2,000. Before these articles can be offered for sale the person must make application to conduct this business and price must be approved by the ard. C. E. Clarke, regional pricing officer, is responsible for fixations in Nova Scotia. Local representatives throughout the province have full information regarding procedures.

DISCHARGED PERSONNEL

MAY RETURN TO OLD JOBS

The Reinstatement in Civil Employment Act, passed by Parliament in 1942, sets forth conditions under which employers MUST REINSTATE their former employees in their employment after discharge.

This Act and its Regulations are administered by the Dominion Minister of Labour, through the National Employment Service. Reinstatement Officers are available in the National Employment Offices to answer inquiries, and assist in adjusting cases.

Employees — either men or women — are to be reinstated if:

- (a) they worked for their employer 3 months immediately prior to enlistment, and were not replacing another employee who has since been reinstated;
- (b) they left their employment to join the Armed Services, the Merchant Marine, or the Fire Fighters Corps;
- (c) they apply to their employer for reinstatement, verbally or in writing, within 3 months following discharge in Canada or 4 months if discharged Overseas.

Provision may be made for extension of time if the employee's health prevents him or her from returning within the specified three months. In this event, the employer must be advised within the 3 or 4 months, as the case may be.

The following points in the legislation are also important:

1. Discharged men and women upon reinstatement are to be given conditions not less favourable than would have been enjoyed had they continued in employment instead of joining the Forces.
2. The period of time spent with the Armed Services is to count for seniority rights, pension rights, vacations with pay, and certain other benefits.
3. Discharged personnel who cannot perform their former duties are to be reinstated in the most suitable employment available, at which they are capable of working.
4. If an employer dismisses a reinstated employee within 6 months, he must be able to prove in court that he had reasonable cause for so doing.

ALL EX-SERVICE MEN AND WOMEN ARE URGED TO USE THE FACILITIES OF THE NATIONAL EMPLOYMENT SERVICE WHEN LOOKING FOR WORK.

How marvelous the influence of a friend
Who has passed on. Her influence does not end.
We think "What would she do—or that—or this?"
Know her decision'd never be amiss.

Ah, yes, they say that "She has gone before."
We know full well how lightly swings the door
Between our earthly home and "over there"
Where God removes the cause of every tear."

Yes, she has gone—but calls to you and me
To follow, later, to Eternity.
The door swings lightly—opens but one way
From earth to regions of eternal day.

Knowing she's there will help us every day
To choose the path on earth that leads her way.

Mail Box

A thought for the mail box on the country road,
Waiting for the mailman, to lighten his load.
Sheltered from the weather, sunshine or gale,
Sturdy sentinel, cares for your precious mail.
Should it be left empty it does not complain,
For with the morrow comes the mail again!
Perhaps your daily paper, word from overseas,
Maybe a birthday greeting, or a bill to tease.
Eager faces pressed, against the window pane,
Looking for the mail man, down the country lane.
Landmarks by the roadside, immobile they stand,
Awaits the kindly touch of the mailman's hand.
An unexpected parcel, news of a bride to be,
No one can surmise what they're going to see.

Slaughtering By Primary Producers

Up and down the length of Nova Scotia, farmers are planning their winter meat supplies and preparing to slaughter for their own consumption. The result is that local ration boards and ration administration branches are being deluged with questions regarding the ration regulations affecting them.

An announcement by J. A. Vass, senior ration officer, states that the regulations governing primary producers slaughtering for their own consumption are simple. When a farmer wishes to slaughter an animal and use the meat himself and for his family, he registers as a primary producer with his local ration board. He will be required to surrender coupons monthly from the ration books of all members of his family to the secretary of the local ration board with whom he registers. Envelopes which do not require postage are provided for this purpose. However in surrendering coupons the farmer is not required to forward to the local ration board more than 50 per cent of the valid meat coupons from the ration books of his family.

Long Dresses Back

Long dresses, outlawed by wartime restrictions, are back in legal fashion again with the Wartime Prices and Trade Board's announcement of amendments to its clothing manufacture regulations. Brides, who in war years were restricted to white in the color of their long wedding dresses may now choose any shade of any color.

The amendments to clothing manufacture regulations do not affect certain styles of women's cotton and rayon apparel. While restrictions have been lifted on the manufacture of wedding gowns, dinner and evening dresses and evening skirts, the system of production directives designed to increase the manufacture of essential garments is being retained and controls which conserve yarns and fabrics used in these more essential garments are being continued.

British Fashion Export Drive

The Daily Telegraph announces that twelve well-known London fashion houses have formed the Incorporated Society of London Fashion Designers with plans for a big export drive next January when display models of tailored suits and dresses will be staged for overseas buyers who have large orders to place for British clothes.

Faithful Hunting Dog Disappears

Mrs. M. A. McGrath, of Victoria Beach, has written to tell us of her dog "Nero" and according to her story, "Nero" was no ordinary dog, but she fears he took to the woods and perhaps came to his end by a hunter's bullet.

"Nero" came to the McGrath home nine years ago as a little pup and grew up to be a real hunter and gained his experience not only in the forests about Victoria Beach but in the deep woods of New Brunswick as well. Hunting fox, bob cats and raccoon were his specialties, and he has returned from the hunt bleeding with many a bite and scratch inflicted upon him by his prey. He has been known to drown a raccoon by holding its head under water.

He was a favorite with the school children and attended school almost as regularly as they—on hearing the noon bell he would run to the school house to share the children's lunches. "Nero" was tied up most of the summer, but on October 15 was turned loose and was last seen with a neighbor's rabbit hound.

—Sadly missed by his Mother and Dad and three sisters, Gertrude, Bernice and Gwendolyn. 8:11c

A happy home we once enjoyed—How sweet the memory still—But death has left a loneliness The world can never fill.

Scallops Put In Cold Storage

This week Digby scallops caught in Bay of Fundy waters off this port, have for the most part gone to Halifax via the D.A.R. to be placed in cold storage. Usually the bulk of the scallop catch is shipped across the Bay of Fundy via C.P.R. S.S. Princess Helene and forwarded to American markets.

Since Monday, however, the Princess Helene has not made her daily run. The well known steamer went into dry dock over the week end and will not resume service until Monday, Nov. 5.

During the lay-off period no freight or express has moved across the bay. Although there has been no interference with the mail services—the Canadian Navy has looked after the mails—naval craft stationed at Digby have made return trips daily. Naval personnel and a few priority civilian passengers have also been transported by the Navy.

Suffer Injuries

Allison Merritt and Allan Gidney, both of Mink Cove, were badly shaken up and suffered numerous contusions when their car overturned on Sandy Cove hill, Monday afternoon.

The wheel of the car locked in some manner as it was proceeding down the hill into the village of Sandy Cove. Going into the ditch the car overturned several times before coming to rest in a field on the roadside.

Both boys were brought to the Digby General Hospital where it was found that no bones were broken but that both were suffering from numerous bruises and cuts.

Gidney only returned home last week aboard the Ile de France after considerable service overseas.

Planned Farm Improvement

Back in 1939 the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture & Marketing started a "Farm Improvement" plan, making the initial effort amongst a group of farmers in Cape Breton who expressed a desire to undertake a long-term plan based upon soil improvement.

Under the supervision of A. B. Banks, Superintendent of Agricultural Associations, at Truro, assisted, in Cape Breton by Alex J. MacDonald, the plan has developed steadily.

The use of ground limestone on the farms in this plan in Cape Breton County alone, has increased about ten times in five years. One farmer has more than doubled his hay yield from the same acreage and now milks ten cows instead of three or four as he did before starting on planned improvement. Clover stands have been improved everywhere and in some cases a satisfactory second cutting of clover hay has been made.

Increased yields in crops such as turnips, potatoes, cucumbers, tomatoes, grain and pasture are general throughout the farms operated by the 60-odd members.

Another notable feature is general improvement in appearance of the farms where the improved layout and cultivation of field and increased yields give an air of progress and well-being.

The additions of farm machinery is another result of planned operations. For example, since beginning this improvement plan one farmer has added to his equipment, a tractor with plows and harrows, a threshing machine, binder, manure spreader and a grain drill. He has used an average of about 20 tons of ground limestone each year.

Before undertaking the farm improvement program, the farm owner and the representative of the Department of Agriculture & Marketing agree on certain principles and 'rules of the game', so to speak.

The Department agrees to:

1. To survey the farm; draw a plan.
2. To take and analyze soil samples.
3. To recommend a suitable rotation of crops which will include fertilizers to be used.
4. To provide supervision and to supply information concerning problems arising out of the program.

The farm owner agrees to:

1. To abide by the foregoing regulations.
2. To co-operate with the supervisor and follow his suggestions.
3. To supply necessary assistance and information while the farm is being surveyed and soil samples taken.
4. To keep simple, but necessary, records of the farm operations.
5. To provide lime, fertilizer and seeds as recommended.

As a check against the progress or otherwise of the plan, soil tests from year to year show a gradual improvement in soil fertility. Better crops, of course, indicate that this is the case. The soil test, however, supply the necessary confirmation.

Better crops, more live stock, more poultry, more vegetables, more milk and more money is the general result of this planned improvement during the past five years. After another crop or two, a good many of these farmers will have convincing records that will give considerable encouragement to others who might consider adopting an organized plan for improving their soil and crops.

One farmer sums it up this way, "It's the best thing that every struck Cape Breton." Cows, Pigs and Chickens Increase compiled from the 1941 census returns for Nova Scotia, issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, show in comparison with similar figures for 1931 and 1944 (the latter being an official estimate and not a census return) that cattle, swine, hens, chickens, have recovered from the population slump of 1941 and have in all cases exceeded their number in 1931.

Live stock figures recently

The cattle population which dropped from 221,001 in 1931 to 204,994 in 1941, took an upswing and reached 231,600 in 1944. The counties showing an increased cattle population are Annapolis, Cumberland, Digby, Hants, Inverness, Kings, Lunenburg and Pictou.

Of all meat animals, pigs are in the spotlight showing a gain from 43,865 in 1931 to 66,200 in 1944 with almost the whole increase taking place during the war years. All counties, excepting Halifax, made gain in swine population.

Sheep, on the other hand, steadily increased from 196,344 in 1931 to a low of 138,209 in 1941 when a turn for the better brought the sheep population back up to 161,300 in 1944. Guysboro is the only county that had more sheep in 1944 than in 1931, the figures being 12,420 and 11,176 respectively.

Of all the "citizens" of the barnyard, hens and chickens have made the most spectacular improvement. One interesting point is that Halifax county showed a decrease and Cape Breton county only a slight gain although both are adjacent to large consuming centres providing a ready market for eggs and poultry. It is particularly noteworthy that several other counties more or less remote from large consuming centres have made rapid strides. It is significant that in counties where good marketing

Training for PEACE

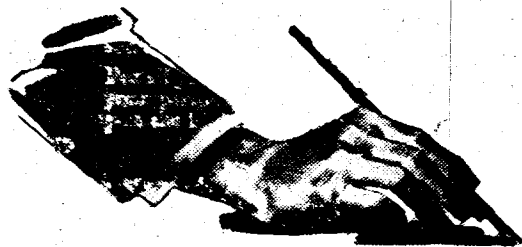

Throughout Canada today tens of thousands of our boys have turned from the grim tasks of war and are anxious to learn useful peacetime vocations.

Many of these boys went overseas before they had finished their education—many were too young to have established themselves. After long years of war it is absolutely essential that they be given a thorough vocational training.

The least we can do is to help these boys accomplish their aim. They have fought long for us—and it is our duty to see that they are well equipped to re-enter civilian life.

Canada's vocational training plans—in fact her complete rehabilitation programs—are among the finest in the world. This is one of the reasons why this present Victory Loan is so vitally important. Your purchase of Victory Bonds will help to give some young veteran a chance to carve a career for himself. And remember—there is only one Loan during the next 12 months—so buy more than ever before.

facilities obtain, increases have been the most marked. For example, Antigonish Co., has tripled its population of hens and chickens beginning with 71,519 in 1931 and reaching 212,650 in 1944. Other counties that have approximately doubled their number of hens and chickens in the 14-year period are: Colchester, 185,750 in 1944; Hants, 189,070 in 1944; Kings, 272,100 in 1944; Pictou, 221,200 in 1944. Lunenburg has increased almost one and one-half times reaching 128,570 in 1944.

In the two other counties where the volume is much smaller the population has about doubled. Yarmouth had 42,669 hens and chickens in 1931 and 87,010 in 1944. Richmond had 18,231 in 1931 and 35,070 in 1944.

Halifax, Digby and Queens counties all had fewer hens and chickens in 1944 than in 1931.

Commenting on the above figures, F. W. Walsh, Director of Marketing for the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture & Marketing, says that, "It is safe to assure that the establishment of facilities that will handle the farmers' produce throughout the year, and return a fair market price is the greatest incentive to increasing the production of high quality poultry."

Queens Has New Co-operative

The North Queens Fruit Packing Company, Caledonia, Queens Co., N. S., has recently reorganized as a true Co-operative, under the Co-operative Societies Act, their new name being Queens Co-operative, Ltd.

All this has followed an intensive educational program carried on by directors and management, with assistance from outside speakers. The organization has already been of material assistance to farmers in the North Queens area through promoting shipping of live hogs and the holding of several dressed poultry pools. A poultry plucking machine has been built and an adjoining building rented for use as a killing and packing room for poultry. The quality of the poultry packed this year shows a very definite improvement over that marketed a year ago.

It is understood that the

THE JOB'S NOT FINISHED

Fighting has ended... but having laid down the tools of war we can't fold our arms and consider the job done.

A lot of things have to be attended to. That's why we're having another Victory Loan.

And it's just as necessary that we buy 9th Victory Bonds as the bonds we bought while the war was on. A lot of war expenses remain to be paid. Other expenses connected with our war effort are still going on. So—Canada needs money to meet these bills.

Our allies look to us to help provide food and other necessities which liberated people sorely require. Canadian farms and Canadian factories must furnish these things. Canada needs money to provide credits so that needy countries may buy from us.

Our fighting men must be re-established in civil life and those sick and wounded returned to health. That is their due. Canada needs money to do this.

The 9th Victory Loan, therefore, is a challenge to every Canadian to help Finish the Job!

DIGBY COUNTY MUST BUY MORE VICTORY BONDS

This time one loan must do the work of two. There will not be another Victory Loan for a year. We must buy bonds this time—double the amount we bought last time. That will not be hard to do because the same rate of savings as in previous loans will pay for twice as many bonds over the 12-month period.

general merchandise business carried on over a long period of years will be continued and expanded to meet the needs of the members.

Harold G. Wilson, Agricultural Representative, Queens County, reports that the first poultry pool of the season, held recently at Caledonia, processed and marketed just under one ton of chickens. This was the first time the new plucking machine was used by the pool. Mr. Wilson says, "This pool was a whole lot better in quality than the pools held last season."

More Cranberry Sauce

Nova Scotia cranberry growers have about three boxes this year for every box grown in 1944. Last year, however, the crop was extremely light and totalled only 3,500 boxes as compared with this year's normally good crop of 10,880 boxes. In the United States the same crop condition prevails with the 1945 yield estimated at 634,100 barrels which is almost double that of 1944, but well in line with the five and ten-year averages.

THEY CAN'T LIVE ON Glory...

MAKE SURE THEY DON'T HAVE TO!

Glory may be fine... but our young people coming back from the war need a lot of practical things for a new start. Your Victory Loan dollars are needed to provide clothing allowances, grants, transportation, training for skilled jobs, help in establishing themselves in business and farming.

Let's show them we're grateful. We dug down deep into our pockets when we were scared and desperate... so now let's pile up a far bigger Victory Loan total to give a decent opportunity in life to those who have shielded us in the hour of peril.

We owe them this and more. It's the only way we can repay in some small measure our great debt of gratitude.

Bus Service Is Expanding

Nova Scotians can look for expansion in their highway bus services in the very near future. In fact, the expansion is in progress already.

Applications for new licenses to the Public Utilities Board indicate that bus line operators, no longer harassed by gasoline rationing and war-time transit restrictions, are rushing to get in on the ground floor in districts where there are still openings for new transportation.

In the next few weeks the board will hold three hearings to deal with for petitions for new routes in western and northern Nova Scotia. Two other applications were dealt with previously.

Two cross-country franchises between the Annapolis Valley and the South Shore have been sought by Wagner Tours Limited. The board already has granted a permit for a new Wagner service on Highway 8 running daily between Liverpool and Annapolis Valley via Caledonia.

A second application by Wagner Tours for a new service between Liverpool, Bridgewater, New Germany, and Middleton on Highway 10 awaits decision. Bernard L. MacKenzie, Bridgewater, who at present runs a service between Bridgewater and Halifax, seeks a franchise over the same route between New Germany and Bridgewater.

Canadian National Railways oppose a bus service over this route on the grounds that the territory is already served by the railroad. Hearing in the MacKenzie application was heard Thursday, October 25, in the Bridgewater Court House.

In Cumberland County rival petitioners for a route between Advocate Harbor and Amherst via Parrsboro, Mac-can, and Nappan await a public hearing by the Utilities Board at Amherst, on October 30.

Augustine VanSnick, of Advocate Harbor, filed one petition, Harry E. Allen, Port Greville, and Clifton C. Merriam, Spencer's Island, the other.

Up for a hearing in Halifax on Tuesday, November 6, is the application of MacKenzie Coach Lines, Inc., for a through bus service between Halifax and Boston. This company at present runs buses between Glace Bay and Boston.

In Kings County the Dominion Atlantic Railway is reported to be making plans for the first railroad-operated bus service in Nova Scotia. It would be a summer run between Kentville, Centreville, Canning and Kingsport. In winter the present train service between these communities would be operated.

The D. A. R. received the board's permission for the bus run before the war, but short-

Many Fined For Price Violations

During the first week of October, 78 violators of price control regulations were found guilty in Canada, according to the latest report of the Enforcement Division of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Meats, canned foods and used cars led the list of commodities to which price ceiling prosecutions were related. Seventeen persons were fined up to $100 each for increasing rentals without authority, evicting tenants and for other infractions of rental regulations. Handcraft Exhibition

Nova Scotia's first provincial handcraft exhibition was a big success. More than 6000 persons saw the exhibit in Simpson's Halifax store on the first two days alone and the crowds continued without slackening. The show closed Saturday.

The "Craftsmen At Work" exhibit, featuring everything in the line of homemade articles from homespun ensembles to silver teaspoons, was an eye-opener showing the great extent to which home industries have developed in Nova Scotia since a handcrafts division was organized by the Department of Industry a few years ago.

Hundreds of spectators watched fascinated as home craftsmen spun yarn on old-fashioned spinning wheels, wove cloth on hand looms, fashioned dishes from potter's clay, worked fancy leather goods, and carved wood designs. Besides this more than 300 homecraft articles ranging from tiny seashell novelties to complete women's suits were on display.

The show, sponsored by the government's handcrafts division continued all week, from Monday, October 22.

A major feature of the exhibit was the display of homespun cloths and clothing produced from them. There were homespun from the Gaelic Foundation at St. Ann's, Victoria County, from Cape Jack, Antigonish county, and from Maritime Textiles at Truro.

One exhibit that drew plenty of interest was that of dolls made by Rosamond Pipes, Amherst. Another was a filmy veil of black lace worked with limerick designs in gold thread by Jane Gough, Halifax.

Pottery manufactured by Emilie Church, of Falmouth, Hants Co., was another centre attraction. She did it in a complete miniature pottery plant set up at the exhibition.

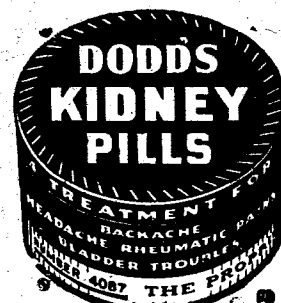

An exhibit of block printing and design was given by Mrs. C. H. Fox, Kentville. Her designs were of typical Nova Scotian scenes.

On a spinning wheel of the high type more than 80 years old, Hannah Nicholson, of New Glasgow, spun yarn, while in the same booth Mrs. Charles Brow, of Cape Jack, operated a small French wheel. Mrs. May Stronach, of Antigonish, demonstrated spinning of flax and angora from a Scotch wheel.

Four instructors from the handcrafts division gave demonstrations of weaving on hand looms. Mrs. Elizabeth MacLeod, Baddeck, wove a knee blanket; Celeste Surette, dukagang, a Swedish weave pattern; Simone Belliveau, of Church Point, did a "crackle weave" and Margaret Comeau, Lower Saulnierville, showed the weaving of a federal knot overshot pattern. Mrs. Martha McCully, of Truro, demonstrated the tooling of leather goods. John L. Bradford, Wolfville, head of the Atlantic Woodcarvers' Guild, displayed the art of woodcarving for a constant audience.

Ornamental and practical ironwork made by Joe Ternan, of Bedford, was on display. Another exhibit contained photograph albums and guest books bound in leather, showing Nova Scotia sea scenes. These were by Pragnell and Coleman, of Eastern Passage.

THE WARTIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD

FARMERS' BULLETIN

FARM MACHINERY OFF RATION LIST

All rationing controls have been removed from sales of farm machinery, and restrictions on the production or importation of such machinery have been lifted.

Price controls remain. Generally, maximum price for farm implements is the price at which such items sold during the basic period, August 15—September 11, 1941. Quoted prices do not include cost of delivery to the purchaser.

Under Consumers' Credit Order No. 225, section 10, terms of sale for farm machinery are: 1/3 of quoted price paid in cash; the balance of the credit price to be paid within two years of the date of the contract in stated amounts at specified dates. Any allowance for a trade-in is to be deducted from the unpaid balance.

Despite the lifting of production restrictions, it is expected that the shortage of components such as malleable castings and sheet steel will limit the maximum output of farm implements during the year July 1, 1945, to June 30, 1946, to a 24% increase (on tonnage basis) over the output in the preceding 12 months.

Farmers' Poultry Prices

Farmers selling all types of poultry, except turkeys, direct to consumers are permitted a 25% markup over the wholesale ceiling prices established for the zone in which they are located. Turkey producers are allowed a 20% markup over the wholesale level.

Potato Storage Allowance

(Order A-1560 now in effect)

A storage allowance of 5c per 75-lb. bag of potatoes and 7c per 100-lb. bag is allowed on November 1. Another 5c per 75-lb. bag and 6c per 100-lb. bag may be added on December 1, and another 5c per 75-lb. bag and 7c per 100-lb. bag on January 1, 1946. There will be no storage adjustment for February but monthly increases will be resumed on March 1.

FARMERS' RATION COUPONS

Coupons covering farmer sales or farm household consumption of meat and butter, and sales of preserves must be forwarded to Local Ration Boards in primary producers' envelopes (RB-61). Reports for November should reach the Local Ration Boards not later than December 10.

Following are the valid coupon dates for November:

	MEAT	BUTTER	SUGAR	PRESERVES
November 1.....	M 9	128
" 8.....	M 10
" 15.....	M 11	129	66, 67	P 20, 21
" 22.....	M 12	130
" 29.....	M 13	131

Farmers are required to send in "M" coupons to the Local Ration Board for meat they consume, and meat they sell to farmer neighbours at the rate of 4 lbs. per coupon. Farmers who slaughter meat need not turn in at the end of the month more than half the valid meat coupons in the ration books of their household. Farmers who purchase meat from other farmers must surrender to the selling farmer one meat coupon for every 4 lbs. of meat purchased, even if this means surrendering coupons not yet valid.

FARM SLAUGHTERERS

Farmers who slaughter for their own household consumption or for the consumption of their farmer neighbours, are not required to hold a slaughter permit. Any excess of farm slaughtered meat over the farmer's or his neighbour's needs may be sold only to the holder of a regular slaughter permit in quantities not less than a quarter of Beef or a side of Pork. Sheep, lamb or calves slaughtered by the farmer for his own or his neighbours' use may not be sold into the meat trade.

Licensed slaughterer's quotas for cattle have been temporarily suspended and until further notice a licensed slaughterer may slaughter all the cattle needed for his requirements.

Rationing is your assurance of a fair share:
is a protection against waste... shortages... inflation.
That is why farmers are asked to continue to collect and turn in coupons to their Local Ration Boards—once a month—in the RB-61 envelope.

For further information apply to the nearest office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Purchase of the Westport & Digby Telephone Co.

(From the Monthly Bulletin, house organ of the Maritime Tel. & Tel. Co. Ltd.)

During the month of August arrangements were completed for the purchase of the holdings and undertakings of the Westport & Digby Telephone Co., formerly a privately operated company owned by three Gidney brothers, serving a chain of busy fishing villages along Digby Neck and extending across Long Island and Briar Island to Westport.

Wilson's History of the County of Digby contains interesting accounts of the early settlement of the Digby Neck Peninsula, Long Island and Briar Island. The earliest settlement of any note occurred between the years 1783 and 1789, when United Empire Loyalists settled on lands obtained by grants from Crown Authorities. The families now inhabiting the Peninsula and the Islands are largely descendants of the original settlers. It is interesting to note that two members of the Gidney family, presumably brothers, settled at the place now known as "Mink" Cove, but stated in Wilson's History to be properly known as "Mint" Cove. The Gidney brothers who owned the Westport and Digby Telephone system are presumably descendants of the original Gidney families that settled there.

The attraction which drew early settlers to the lands mentioned were the fisheries, and then, as now, the fishing industry on the Peninsula and the Islands was the major occupation of the inhabitants.

Wilson's History has a short reference to communication systems:—

"The Maitland Telephone Company having headquarters in Yarmouth Township, own the lines from Beaver River to Digby; while those on Northern Peninsula and in Westport Township, belong to another Company located on Briar Island. These are recent additions to the facilities for communication afforded by the Telegraph and Steamship accommodations. The telephone system was introduced on Southeast side of St. Mary's Bay in 1886, and through the Peninsula to Westport in 1888. Consequently, the County is amply provided with latest inventions and improvements."

The original enterprise was started as a partnership between the late Samuel Gidney and R. W. Ford, who now resides at Wolfville. Mr. Gidney bought out Mr. Ford's shares and became the sole owner about 1895, the company remaining in the Gidney family since that time.

The first undertaking of the company was to erect a single wire grounded circuit all the way from Digby to Westport, something over 40 miles. About six telephones were installed at that time, one serving each community. The circuit was made metallic about 1928. At the time of its purchase by our company the plant consisted of approximately 40 miles of metallic trunk circuit extending from Digby to Freeport, and 10 miles of exchange pole line, the latter contained in four exchange areas located at Rossway, Sandy Cove, Tiverton and Freeport.

A glance at the map will show that the territory served is bounded by salt water on both sides and includes Digby Neck, which is some 23 miles long by a fairly uniform two miles wide, with Sandy Cove located about midway down, and two adjacent islands. The first, Long Island, is some 12 miles long by three wide and is served by Tiverton Exchange at its Northern end and by Freeport Exchange at its Southern end. The second, Briar Island, contains the village of Westport which is now served from Freeport Exchange. A good gravel road all the way provides a beautiful scenic drive, although we can't guarantee that there won't be a spot of fog now and then.

Long Island is separated from the mainland by Petite Passage and from Briar Island by Grand Passage. The trunk circuit crosses each of these passages in two single core submarine cables, but the would-be traveller or poor maintenance man is not so fortunate. He has to cross each passage on a ferry which leaves something to be desired. Should you find it absolutely necessary to cross one or the other we would suggest that you pick a period of extreme high tide, since the well known ambitious rise and fall of our Bay of Fundy tide makes the trip down the slippery ramp to the tiny scow something of an event at low tide.

A notable maintenance feat was performed by the Gidney brothers several years ago when a noisy line condition was suspected to be caused by a fault in the submarine cable crossing Petite Passage. In order to prove the fault in the cable two poles were erected on the high ground on either side of the passage and a No. 12 iron wire was stretched across the 3/4 mile span. This provided a circuit for about three weeks, at which time the wire was inconsiderately broken by the high mast of a passing ship.

The 12 subscribers formerly served from the Rossway exchange will now be served over a class H line direct from Digby office.

The switchboards at Sandy Cove and Freeport have been changed to 1220 magneto boards each equipped with 25 locals. Our new agent at Sandy Cove is Miss Gertrude E. Warne, and at Freeport, Mrs. Elsie Young.

The boards removed from the above two exchanges are worthy of note, both being of local design and manufacture. The former was equipped for eight lines and the latter for ten. The line equipment in each case consisted of one double cut off jack, one single contact jack and one ringer, the ringer being mounted through the vertical face of the board with the gongs exposed.

A single cord and plug was bridged across each line so that a connection could be set up by inserting the plug of the calling line into the jack of the called line. A single cord and plug was connected to an attendant's set for answering purposes and another single cord and plug to a hand generator for signalling. Thus no keys were required, a truly efficient arrangement if traffic is not too heavy.

The former switchboard at Tiverton is worthy of extra special note. We understand that it was purchased some years ago from S. H. Couch Co., Boston, and consisted of a small wall mounted cabinet about the size of a 1317 set, equipped for 8 lines arranged as at Sandy Cove and Freeport. The main feature was the ringer gongs which were mounted on the face of the board. They were of various shapes and sizes, some closely resembling those normally expected to be found dangling from the neck of female bovines. We are wondering if, during busy hours this board when properly adjusted, played "Roll Out The Barrel" or "Coming Through The Rye"! We are sorry to say that it was replaced with a common, uninteresting 1317 type equipped with 14 locals and 1 through toll line. Our new agent at Tiverton is Mrs. Lilly Pyne.

Standard drop wires and sub-station protectors have been installed at each sub-station. The boys are now racking their well oiled brains to figure out how to install push buttons for grounded ringing on some of the sub-sets, the like of which they have never seen before.

District No. 4 construction forces are busy putting the pole and wire plant in condition to stand at least an even chance in its approaching bout with Old Man Winter. A new copper trunk circuit has been erected from Digby to Rossway, and in another section which contained one copper and one iron wire the iron is being replaced with copper to provide a full copper circuit. Considerable pole work remains to be carried out before winter, particularly around Westport. A few bad joints also require the usual attention.

We sincerely hope that when the big job is finally completed the transmission and service in general will come up to the expectations of our new subscribers.

Improved Tankers

Many tankers of a new improved type are now being built in British shipyards. They will be constructed on a model which will be in every way superior to that of pre-war oil tankers and provide far more amenities, including separate cabins for the crew. One of these tankers, of 17,000 tons, will be launched shortly. It has been fitted with a 13,000 h.p. turbo-electric engine, the highest power yet used for a single propeller ship.

Savings Higher

On Aug. 31, seven weeks before the 9th victory loan campaign opened, public deposits in chartered banks were at a new high level of over $4.8 billions, $11.5 millions above the previous high record established in April, according to The Financial Post. Compared with the previous month the increase was $184 millions while compared with a year ago it was over $595 millions.

EVEN if there were no other reason for buying all the bonds you can in the 9th Victory Loan, it should be reason enough that men wounded and disabled in action must continue to have the best of care.

Our debt to them is but one of Canada's obligations to all who served, and are still serving, in the armed forces.

Investing our money is after all a small way of repaying a debt which cannot be measured in money. But it is concrete evidence we recognize the debt and that we will not fail to meet the obligation it brings us.

Put all you can into the 9th Victory Loan. Set your personal objective higher to reach and pass the higher objective of the loan.

The Strike A Self-Destroying Weapon

(By Lewis Milligan)

Trade unions have served a noble purpose in securing economic justice for the workers they have represented. Their original motto, "Union is Strength" is sufficiently demonstrated in great united strength of labor unions of the present day. They are a power to be reckoned with, not only in industry, but more and more in politics. They have fought a good fight, and they may be said to have "won the war". They have won it chiefly through the strike weapon.

But having won the war and secured full recognition, many of the union leaders still go on fighting and using the old weapon of the strike. It seems that they still regard industrialists and employers generally as the "enemy" of all working people, if not of society at large. It would perhaps be unfair to blame the recent epidemic of strikes on trade unions generally, for it appears that many of these disputes have been precipitated by recently organized unions and irresponsible agitators. This is reported to be the case regarding the dock strikes in Britain. As for the recent strikes in the United States and Canada. The Labor Review organ of the Canadian Federation of Labor, makes the following editorial comment on the situation:

"Louder and sillier come the demands of unionneers whose wartime opulence, achieved at the workers' expense, approaches early deflation. Before they go down like pricked balloons, these parasites on industry and honest toil have decided to show that they have still another trick or two up their sleeves. A 30-per-cent increase in wages, 48 hours' pay for 40 hours' work, and a lay-off pension of a month's wages for each year worked—these are their current objectives, until they can persuade their due-paying dupes to stand out for something more fantastic."

The Review goes on to say that "for sheer gall" there is nothing to approach this proposal of lay-off pay for war workers who have been making high wages for years past." The editorial points out that the average pay in aircraft and motor vehicle industries has been not less than $200 a month, and it adds: "A country which pays its discharged private soldiers about $90 a month while they find themselves jobs is most unlikely to pay sheltered workers $200 a month. No government in its senses would entertain such a proposal especially as it would realize that by yielding to pressure now it would invite still greater pressure when the subsidy term expired."

That is the voice of long experience in labor matters, and it is just plain common sense. If the government is to continue to pay war workers for doing nothing, the money must come out of the taxpayers. All taxes come out of the profits of private industries and services, and to hold up those industries and services by strikes is to kill the goose that lays the golden egg and delay the industrial reconstruction from wartime to peacetime production.

Mulberry, the code name for the British built harbour, that was towed to France, has a special meaning for Canadians. The plan for Mulberry was worked out from lessons learned at Dieppe.

In the Dalhousie Review for July last there is an article entitled "Is Organized Industry Self-Destroying?", in which the author, Agnes M. Dennis, takes a very pessimistic view of the labor movement. She says: "A too 'victorious' Union leads logically to the destruction of Capitalism and the defeat of its own ends. As Hillman, who had successfully led the garment workers out of the depths of human misery, put it tersely when he refused to let his Union press for further concessions: 'Destroy your boss and you destroy your job.'"

Hillman might well have added: "Destroy your private employer and you destroy your union." Intelligent labor leaders would rather deal with a private concern than with a government, because a government is all powerful and if it can take over an industry by force of law it can take over and even abolish unions which refuse to abide by its decisions. The final result is dictatorship.

In his book, "The Time For Decision," Sumner Welles, dealing with the situation in Italy at the time of the rise of Mussolini, says: "General strikes of a revolutionary character succeeded one another. Government as well as industrial efficiency reached a new low." A similar situation prevailed in Germany when Hitler seized power, and Mr. Welles says: "Strangely enough, even German labor believed that a friendly arrangement between German labor unions and the Nazi regime could be devised, although in their case it was not many weeks before they learned their previous error."

Agnes Dennis is perhaps to pessimistic when she declares that "Trade Unionism is on the way out," but she is nearer the mark when she says: "The day of Victory for Labor, through the weapon of the Strike is, I hope, over. . . Let us hope this new era will usher in the choice of the Man of Wisdom—the man of conciliation, compromise and co-operation who working in harmony with management will build up the Tabernacle of our economic life, and that it will be a strong and beautiful edifice—a fitting monument to the Spirit of Peace."

WAR-TIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—I am a farmer and I should notify the nearest Consumer Branch of the W.P.T.B. with all the details supplied on the labels. Checks will then be made.

Q.—I am going to school in Halifax and boarding five days in the week. During the week ends I go home. Do I have to give my landlady all my ration coupons, or should I give them to my mother?

A.—There is no regulation governing this situation. However, it would seem that you could have an arrangement with your landlady whereby she and your mother share your rations on the basis of the number of meals you have at each house.

Q.—The family renting our house is very careless with the property and has caused considerable damage. Can I give them a notice to vacate?

A.—Yes, if the tenant willfully damages the property, you may apply to the Court of Rental Appeals to have the lease placed under provincial law. If the judge so orders you may then give the tenant a notice required by the laws of the province.

Q.—How are clothing prices checked?

A.—Identification labels showing the manufacturer's name or trade mark or the Wartime Prices and Trade Board number, style number and size must be attached to garments. Most garments also must show a price tag. If any consumers believes the price or quality is not equivalent to that of 1941-42, they

U. K. Will Export Electrically Heated Suits

Long distance truck drivers, busmen, cold storage workers and private motorists will soon be able to buy English electrically heated suits. These suits were made in the United Kingdom during the war for both British and U. S. airmen and tank crews. The factories are now turning to production for home and export. Orders from Australia, Canada, New Zealand, America, Sweden, Norway and Holland are pouring in, reports the London Daily Express. The manufacturers of this heated clothing, will be opening a big, new factory in the North of England in order to step up production. The output will be on a very large scale—it is estimated that fourteen hundred workers can turn out one thousand suits a day—but it will be some time before the supply meets the demand.

THE PULP AND PAPER INDUSTRY OF CANADA

Hon. Humphrey Mitchell Minister of Labour

VITAL to Canada's economy at this time is the forest industry. Forest products must be produced in increasing quantities to maintain employment, and to aid in reconstruction at home and abroad. Job opportunities in the woods this winter offer better conditions than ever before. We appeal to every man who can work at a woods occupation to offer his services—and be assured of steady, healthy employment for the Fall and Winter months.

Price Control

Eventually price control in Canada must disappear. The Financial Post says in a leading editorial, which goes on to say: "On that point, current critics as well as senior officials of WPTB are in full agreement. Repeatedly Chairman Donald Gordon has stated that he will only be too glad to see his present job eliminated, that in a country of free enterprise there can be no permanent place for rigid government control of this kind. The whole question, therefore, notwithstanding recent newspaper headlines, boils down to a matter of timing when price controls should be relaxed."

"On another point, to, there is general agreement. There are some lines that must be controlled longer than others, and there are probably some on which control could be lifted almost immediately. Normally, the real test of whether control is still necessary is supply. If there are sufficient goods to meet the demand, then there need be no fear of inflation, and no necessity of fixing prices. Ordinary completion will do that job far better and more promptly than any group of Ottawa no matter how expert and sincere."

The art of re-fuelling ships has been greatly improved during the war. A number of British ships can now be re-fuelled simultaneously while remaining underway at comparatively high speed.

A College of Aeronautics for post graduate-instruction in aeronautical science and engineering is to be opened in the United Kingdom early next year.

Radar Sets for British Merchant Ships

A special radar set is to be produced for United Kingdom merchant ships. A government-appointed scientific committee has prepared a performance specification which has now been sent to the manufacturers of radar apparatus. In the meantime arrangements have been made to provide shipowners who require them with radar sets manufactured for the British Admiralty during the war, which are suitable for use in merchant ships. Other forms of radio navigational aids which will make Britain's merchant fleet the safest in the world are also under investigation.

British Navy's New Acquisition

The latest additions to the Royal Navy are light aircraft carriers, some of which are already serving with the British Pacific Fleet. The new ships are 69 feet long, 80 feet wide, can carry 33 planes and develop a speed of 25 knots. They are fitted with refrigerating chambers, a cinema, bar and other modern amenities, including special gadgets for protection from tropical heat as well as from the danger of icing.

In the last year of the war, the National Film Board produced more than 150 films for War Information purposes.

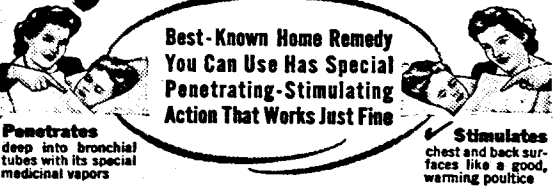

In the Netherlands, education is obligatory from ages 6 to 13. Instruction is free in both public and denominational school and teachers are paid by the State.

Double Budget Benefit

If you are a Canadian tourist doing a bit of shopping in United States, many hurdles are removed by the new budget. The Financial Post reports. In addition to withdrawal of the 10% Exchange Tax, which was payable on all merchandise and other items which travellers brought in, customs officials need no longer collect the Canadian war revenue tax on a wide range of articles including cameras, film, phonographs, radios, toilet articles, cigarette lighters, and electric appliances of all kinds.

"Our boys and girls are our greatest asset," declared F. C. Purdy, principal of the Digby Academy in an address to the Digby Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon, Monday. In making this declaration Mr. Purdy stressed we have a responsibility to these young people; we must aim to keep them strong and healthy; to give them an adequate education; provide a program of youth training; encourage civic pride, and aid and direct them in obtaining suitable employment.

He asked his audience to consider how we are meeting those responsibilities and discussed them individually in the order he had presented them.

He declared that in Digby the Victorian Order of Nurses was one of the chief agencies promoting better health. Through the influence of this organization much of the prejudices against vaccination have been broken down with the result 99 per cent of the students of the Digby Academy are now vaccinated against smallpox and 95 per cent have been immunized against diphtheria and reinforcing doses to many of the pupils only recently.

Ninety per cent of the high school pupils had been given the Patch Test for tuberculosis and the eight that showed positive have been X-Rayed and are now awaiting the reports from their X-Rays.

In addition to this the Victorian Order Nurse spends from 2 to three hours a week in the school, and personally checks up on the physical condition of every pupil from Grade I to Grade VIII, and plans are now being considered for complete medical check-ups of Digby school pupils.

By the bettering of light and sanitary conditions in the school building the School Board has also done much to improve general health conditions, the speaker stated.

Mr. Purdy paid high tribute to the Digby School Board in accepting their responsibility of providing better educational facilities for Digby school children, pointing out that in 1930 the school had 8 class rooms and laboratory and other equipment valued at approximately $250. Today there are 17 class rooms and equipment valued in the vicinity of $8,000. To offset the additional expense the Digby School Board is in receipt of grants totalling $3,500 annually from the provincial department of education.

He also made references to the education department's plan to establish rural high schools and that it is hoped such a high school will be established in Digby.

Taking up the subject of Youth Training, the speaker stressed the value of the Sea Cadets of which some 75 boys of the Digby school are members. He pointed out this organization was not a military establishment, but its aims were for the building of citizenship and character. Plans are under way now to organize a Digby Sea Cadet Band, he said. He also paid tribute to the work in this field being done by various church organizations, and especially praised the activities of the "Teeners' Club." Extra curricula activities provided by the schools also contribute much to the training of our youth to become better citizens.

Household and Manual Science classes and commercial courses are doing much to train our boys and girls to take their places as citizens.

The heavy wind and rainstorm Monday night did little damage in the Digby area. The flagpole in the garden at the War Memorial was blown down, carrying with it the Victory Loan flag.

Eight men charged with stealing at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, appeared before Provincial Magistrate H. P. Dickey, Annapolis Royal, Wednesday. Three were ratings, Albert Cunningham, Lloyd Armstrong and Joseph Jenkins. Five were D.A.R. employees, Gordon Giles, Carroll MacGill, William Cox, Alfred Noles and Ernest Taylor. They all pleaded guilty to the charge and sentences will be imposed Nov. 7.

Nova Scotian fur buyers met in Halifax last week to discuss government regulations concerning the conservation of commercial fur-bearing animals, and the handling of pelts, gave unanimous approval to the suggestions that closed seasons on valuable fur-bearing animals be instituted every five years, alternating between five species, and that fur dealers be allowed, in future, to handle the buying of beaver pelts, instead of the Department of Lands and Forests as is now the case. Jack Rosenthal, of Digby, was among those present.

PRIZE OF WAR IN DIGBY PORT

Back in 1935 Adolph Hitler stood on a gaily decorated rostrum at the Hamburg shipyards, clicked his heels and gave the Nazi salute as the Masuren slid down the ways.

On Thursday of last week the Masuren docked at the end of the spur pier, Digby, but she came here under a new name, flying the British flag and was under command of a British skipper, Captain A. Metcalfe.

The new name of the Masuren is the "Empire Annan" and the 2,385 ton freighter is the first German war prize to enter this port since the cessation of hostilities. The freighter was taken over by the British in July of this year along with other German shipping that had sought refuge in Baltic ports before the end of the war.

At this port she is loading a cargo of 1,800,000 feet of deals and boards bound for the United Kingdom. This cargo is being shipped by the George McKean Lumber Co., with George Shields as representative. Max Nathal is agent for the ship.

Crew members admit the former German freighter is more modern than most British freighters built during the '30's, nevertheless they say she has been nothing but a source of trouble since they first set foot on her deck. Her engines have been a constant source of trouble.

In the years before the war she plied between Baltic ports with cargoes to help Germany build up her war machine. After the invasion of Normandy she was used as a prisoner-of-war ship to transfer United States prisoners from one Nazi port to another. During the final stages of the war when bombs got too close for comfort she sought shelter at her birthplace of Hamburg and was used as a refuge ship for bombed-out citizens of that port.

In July of this year the Masuren sailed out of the German port with her original crew and gave herself up to the British at Middlesboor, but before coming to Britain they made the mistake of making Copenhagen a port of call. There the Danes, their passive resistance against the Nazis ended, swarmed aboard looting practically everything that could be carried away and smashing all remaining pictures of Hitler which may have hung on the walls of the crewmen's cabins.

Returns to Province After 33 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Houston, of Portland, Me., have been recent visitors to Sandy Cove and Mink Cove. Mrs. Houston is a niece of Mrs. E. A. Gidney, and a daughter of Mrs. L. N. Oakes (nee Jane Lent, of Brighton, Digby County), of North Adams, Mass. Her last visit to the province was 33 years ago. This is Mr. Houston's first visit to Nova Scotia.

Among the places of interest they visited were the Naval Base at Deep Brook; Old Fort Anne, at Annapolis Royal, and the Habitation at Granville. They spoke highly of the courtesy and kindness of those in charge of these places, and of the detail they went into when explaining historical facts.

They also called on friends and relatives at Weymouth, and were greatly interested in the herring curing plant at Mink Cove.

steadily grew with the expansion of western trade. After nine years he was made superintendent of western branches at the head office in Toronto. The next year he became manager of the Toronto branch, and in 1923 was promoted to the position of assistant general manager.

In 1941 he succeeded F. J. Patterson (another Maritimer, born at Petitcodiac, N. B.) as general manager when Mr. Patterson became vice-president.

Hallowe'en Antics

The business section of Digby presented an amusing appearance Thursday morning, the "morning after" Hallowe'en. Practically every store window had been thoroughly soaped and very artistic drawings adorned many of them. Storekeepers and their clerks, however, said with Queen Victoria "we are not amused," when they had to rub and scrub their windows in order to get the soap artistry removed. Some of the drawings were done with wax which was even harder to remove.

Little real damage was done by the pranksters on Hallowe'en however. The fence in front of Orchard Cottage on Montague Row was torn down and left laying along the sidewalk, a set of chairs was lodged in a tree near the bandstand and several other articles were misplaced. The Streets Department replaced the fence but at time of writing the chairs are still reposing quietly in the trees.

Remembrance Day Program

Sunday, November 11, will mark the 23rd anniversary of the signing of the Armistice which brought to a close the war of 1914-1918, now referred to as World War I. Throughout Canada that day is fittingly and reverently observed as Remembrance Day when the dead of that war—and of the war which just came to a close, are honored.

Special services will mark Remembrance Day, 1945. At 10.30 a.m., members of the Digby Branch of the Canadian Legion and ex-service men will meet at the Town Hall and parade to the monument where wreaths will be placed in memory of those who gave their lives for King and Country in the two great wars.

From the monument they will parade to Digby Baptist Church for Divine Service to be conducted by Rev. J. Earle DeLong, pastor of the church.

OBITUARY

Mrs. William Frost

The death occurred at her home in Little River, on Wednesday, October 31, of Mrs. William Frost, at the age of 45. In June she underwent an operation at the Halifax Infirmary but since her return home she had not been as well. Mrs. Frost was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Morehouse.

Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters Geneva (Mrs. Lloyd Adams) Smith, Cove, and Ella; two sons, Clifton and Delmore; also four sisters, Cora (Mrs. Austin Denton), Evelyn (Mrs. Rupert Trask), at home; Lottie (Mrs. Hugh Denton) Musquodoboit; Eunice (Mrs. Chesterton Davies), of Clarence.

The largely attended funeral service was held at the Baptist Church Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. T. F. McWilliam, of Deep Brook, a former pastor, assisted by Lic. Watson, Acadia. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Interment was in the Baptist cemetery, of which church she was a member.

Assessment Roll Received

The 1946 Assessment Roll was received by the Town Council at their meeting Monday night. Digby Y's Men Complete Clothing Drive

The weekly meeting of the Digby Y's Mens Club was held at Jersey Farms Hotel, Monday evening. Supper was served promptly at 6.30 and in spite of disagreeable weather a goodly number of the members were present.

L. E. Shatford, manager of the local branch, Bank of Nova Scotia, was the speaker of the evening. In his remarks Mr. Shatford dealt briefly with the history of the Bank of Nova Scotia, from its founding by eight Halifax business men to the present time when there are some fifty thousand shareholders. The speaker pointed out that though often accused, the banks cannot be correctly said to hold a monopoly on capital. In closing, Mr. Shatford amused the members with several stock jokes of the banking profession.

The main feature of the business period was a report by Vice President Sypher Morrell, who was Digby County Chairman for the recent clothing drive. Mr. Morrell reported that latest figures showed that approximately 30,000 pounds of clothing had been packed and shipped from Digby County. The Y's Mens Club sponsored the drive in Digby Town where some 10,000 pounds was collected, packed and shipped. The rest of the county accounted for the remaining 20,000 pounds.

The Y's Mens Club wishes to thank the organizations and individuals who assisted in the collecting, sorting, and packing of the clothing; and also the people of the town who so kindly supported the clothing drive with their donations.

Fine Display of Photographs

Have you noticed the south window in the Little Art Gallery? If you have not you have really missed something. In that window you will find as nice an assortment of photographs as you see in any city studio—photographs of babies, of adults, of brides—some tinted, some in black and white—all the work of Jeanette W. Yates (Mrs. Paul Yates). In the studio itself there are many more by the same artist. Mrs. Yates has the knack of posing her subjects to bring out their best points and the careful and painstaking work put on the negatives and finished prints make an outstanding product. We congratulate Mrs. Yates and urge those who have not seen her work to make a point of doing so.

About This and That

Small towns and villages are the foundation and the buttress of the nation, the medium for the fullest life of its citizens. The future of Canada depends on them.

In the present era with its myriad opportunities for fresh starts and new aims, the small town offers a wide range of economic callings as well as cultural advantages for the entire family. A large part of Canadian industry can thrive best in small communities. The trend of manufacturing already is away from cities. A little place can realize individual growth along artistic lines and the development of hobbies, skills, civic-mindedness and leadership. In other words a small town permits wide sharing of mutual interests which would be stifled in a city.

For too long the drift of clever young people to the cities has skimmed the cream from villages. Youth can be kept in the home town by local planning that will afford attractive openings for work, education and recreation. The town, its citizens and the nation will benefit.

That song, "Yes, We Have No Bananas," was written a generation too soon.

MARRIAGE

Morehouse - Turner

On Friday, October 19, a very pretty autumn wedding took place in the Baptist church, Hantsport, when Ruth Isabel Turner, R.N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Turner, became the bride of Oscar Whalard Morehouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Morehouse, Centreville, Digby county, with the pastor of the church, Rev. E. G. Corey, officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white net over heavy white sheer fashioned on classic Grecian lines with floor length veil of fine silk net falling from a halo head dress of orange blossoms and carried a bridal bouquet of yellow roses and maiden hair fern. The matron of honor, Mrs. Tom Turner Jr., wore a floor length gown of lilac taffeta and carried a nosegay of baby mums and yellow roses. Paul Turner, a brother of the bride, supported the groom. The ushers were Harry Turner, of the navy, brother of the bride, and Claude Morris, of the army.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home in Hantsport, where the bride's parents received with the bride and groom. Mrs. Hugh MacKinley, an aunt of the bride, presided over the tea cups. Those serving were the bride's sisters, Mrs. Garnet McDade, Mrs. Longmire, Miss Patsy Turner, and Miss Phyllis MacKinley. Mrs. Palmer cut the three tier wedding cake.

For travelling the bride chose a brown wool suit with a pale yellow Chesterfield coat. Following a trip to different parts of the province, Mr. and Mrs. Morehouse will reside in Halifax.

Before her marriage the bride was on the staff of the Public Health Service of Norway. The groom recently returned from four years' service overseas with the RCAF.

Fined for Offence

Pleading guilty to a charge of unlawfully discharging a firearm in the town limits contrary to a Town By-Law, Harvey Thibideau was fined ten dollars and costs in Police Court Saturday morning.

The offence took place at about 2 a.m., Friday morning, when Thibideau, admittedly under the influence of liquor, discharged six shells from a 12 gauge shotgun in the lumber yard near Warne's Mill. He stated in court that he "felt like making a noise" and fired the shots into the lumber piles.

Before imposing sentence Magistrate Peters impressed Thibideau with the seriousness of his offence and stated that great harm and damage might have resulted from his actions had anyone been in the path of the shots that he fired.

John Purdy, Yarmouth, an employee of H. T. Warne Ltd., was fined ten dollars and costs in Police Court Saturday morning on a charge of intoxication in a public place. Chief of Police Thibault, in laying the charge, stated that he had given the accused an opportunity of getting home and out of sight but that he persisted in making a nuisance of himself, so he was forced to lay the charge.

Magistrate Peters gave the accused until noon to pay the fine, stating that if it was not paid then he would have to spend ten days in Jail.

Tourist Hotel Torn Down

One of Digby's best known landmarks, The Manhattan Hotel, will soon be no more than a mere memory. For several days wreckers have been at work tearing down the large frame structure and the job will be completed within a short time.

By the time this item appears in print both the wings will be razed and a good start made on the superstructure.

The three story building was erected in 1899 by the late Wm. S. Troop, whose death occurred about two years ago. At the time of its construction and for many years after the Manhattan was regarded as the most up-to-date of resort hotels in the Maritimes. The building itself is 99 feet in length, with north wings 60 feet, and 40 feet long.

Situated on Montague Row (an extension of Water St.,) facing the water front, the Manhattan was ideally located. It operated each summer until 1914, and since that date operated for short periods other summers.

The Manhattan was last run as a summer hotel in 1931, when it was leased by the late Gordon Churchill, then principal of the Digby Academy.

The hotel "got in the news" this spring when the executors of the estate of W. S. Troop appealed the town's assessment of $6,000 on the property. Their appeal was refused by the appeal court of the Digby Town Council, and the assessment was brought before the County Court.

In his decision County Court Judge Kenneth Crowell ruled a reduction in the town's assessment of $6,000 to $3,500.

Considerable valuable material is being salvaged from the old hotel.

X-Rayed Winston Churchill

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Lingley, of Wolfville, were recent visitors of friends in Smith's Cove. They were accompanied by their son, Lt.-Col. J. R. Lingley, M.C., who with his wife and son, Jimmie, have been their guests in Wolfville.

Lt.-Col. Lingley has just returned from North Africa and Italy where he served with the Massachusetts Sixth General Hospital, as chief of X-Ray Service. He was awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious achievements in connection with military operations. We feel a special interest in this young officer, who we rather claim as a Smith's Cove boy in view of the fact that practically all of his summers from infancy through the school and college years, were spent here with his parents, who all these years were regular summer residents in the village.

Lt.-Col. Lingley was the one chosen to go to X-Ray Winston Churchill at the time of his serious illness in North Africa. Many other events of interest we might recall. We thankfully welcome him home. Following his discharge from the services he expects to return to his former position in the X-Ray department of the Massachusetts General Hospital.

CAMPFIRE PICTURES

Interesting campfire pictures are easy to take with any camera. Increased effectiveness was obtained in this shot by setting off a flash bulb to the right of the figures.

IT'S THE season for evening picnics and corn roasts, and few outdoor subjects offer better pictorial possibilities than the campfire. These pictures, with a merry group sitting around the glowing fire singing, telling stories, and preparing food, are extremely effective and at the same time very easy to make.

For campfire pictures using the flashlight as the sole source of illumination, simply place your camera on a tripod or some firm support; group the members of the party around a bright, blazing fire in such a manner that no one has his back to the camera; have the group "hold still," and make a short time exposure. That's all there is to it.

Now for a few details. The camera should be loaded with a high speed "pan" type film. For the average campfire picture, an exposure of five to fifteen seconds with a box camera should produce satisfactory results with finer cameras use the same exposure and set the lens at f/11. The illumination from the campfire varies considerably, so it might be a good idea to take several shots, at different exposures, to insure getting one that meets with your approval.

Many excellent campfire pictures are made with the aid of flash

Melanson's Factory At Church Point Destroyed by Fire

Melanson's Spruce Gum Factory was completely destroyed by fire on Wednesday morning of last week at 7.30. The fire was first noticed by the janitor who was in the building at the time but it had quite a headway when he discovered it. All contents were destroyed. The janitor was getting the fire started in the furnace room and had been in the building for about an hour getting things in readiness for the day's operation. The fire started in the wrapping room, in the front portion of the building.

Although the fire apparatus arrived within five minutes after being called, the fire had such a headstart that the building could not be saved, though the flame was extinguished before it could burn to the ground. What was left was of no value.

It is expected that building will commence soon and it is hoped that production of the famed Melanson's Spruce Gum will be resumed within six weeks. The late Louis A. Melanson was the inventor of the famed purifiers which he had patented and from a very small business it grew gradually until today it is beginning to show signs of becoming quite a large concern, for this part of Clare.

Charles T. Melanson, the present owner and operator, was formerly employed in the Canadian West as railroad telegrapher and agent on the Canadian National Railways. The fire was of unknown origin.

Couple Wed 50 Years

When Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Marshall celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at Calgary, Alberta, on September 28th, the bride of 50 years ago cut her cake with a pearl handled cake knife—the same knife cut her mother's wedding cake 80 years ago, and her own cake 50 years ago.

Mrs. Marshall was the former Nan Bond, of Hill Grove.

THE ROAD BACK IS LONG AND HARD

THOUSANDS of men and women, who gave the best years of their lives fighting for us, are now going out into the world as normal, peace-loving Canadians.

But the road back to civilian life is long and hard. The transformation of a man, trained in the science of killing, into a peaceful citizen cannot be accomplished overnight. The period of re-adjustment and re-establishment is extremely difficult.

That is why Canada is carrying on an extensive rehabilitation programme. It will better equip our returned men and women to open the doors to opportunity in a world at peace. But our rehabilitation programme costs money - a lot of money.

Canada must borrow this money from people like yourselves - loyal, hard-working, patriotic Canadians - out of incomes and savings.

Your purchase of bonds carries with it the highest prestige. It places you alongside the fighting men who have "Signed Their Name For Victory". So buy two instead of one and put your dollars to work to help our fighting men along the long road back.

Mrs. C. H. Fox, Kentville (top right), shows how block-prints are made. Ruth Eisenhauer, Barrington (bottom left), is another woodcarving

The N. S. W. I. Convention

"It is the personal responsibility of every citizen gradually to bring back every returned man to that life from which he was so abruptly taken when war broke out," said Lt.-Col., the Hon. A. W. Mackenzie, Minister of Agriculture and Marketing for Nova Scotia, who addressed the hundred delegates at the 155th Annual Convention of the Women's Institutes of Nova Scotia, held at Kentville, October 30 and 31.

In complimenting the delegates on the achievements of their 155 Branch Institutes during the past and particularly during the war years, Col. Mackenzie spoke in highly complimentary terms of Miss Helen J. Macdougall, Superintendent of Women's Institutes for Nova Scotia, who is retiring at the end of the year. "Her organization, administration and leadership have made a record that will go down in history," he said. Miss Macdougall, who is a native Nova Scotian, took up her present duties in 1919, upon returning from Manitoba where she had held a similar position in that Western province.

Miss Macdougall, in presenting her final annual report, gave a complete picture of the activities for the year and also some cumulative information concerning the war-period activities. For example, contributions to special funds during the war period were: $1750 for an ambulance donated in 1940; Queen's Canadian Fund, $6565; Prisoners of War Fund, $5355; Red Cross, $58,430; Other war services, $9261. In addition to money there were: 1220 quilts; 185,000 knitted or sewn articles; 3853 ditty bags; and 3960 Christmas boxes, as totalled from reports supplied by the 155 Branch Institutes. Unfortunately, many reports did not state exact numbers and therefore the figures given are incomplete to that extent.

The work of the Institutes was summed up in this way by Miss Macdougall. "Our motto," she said, "is 'For Home and Country', and even as we have poured out our resources for the defence of our country, let us remember also that the home, its present needs and future prosperity, especially the rural home, demand our whole-hearted and earnest effort. We must break down prejudice, develop confidence and inspire progress. When marvelling at the new inventions of the age, let us not forget household improvements which add to the interest, pleasure and efficiency of household management."

Reports were received from six standing committees, viz., Home Economics, social welfare, red cross and war services, agriculture, education and better schools and War-time controls.

At the conclusion of the convention, the delegates presented an illuminated address and a silver tea service to Miss Macdougall as a tangible tribute to her leadership and the lasting contribution she has made to the Women's Institute in Nova Scotia.

Officers were elected as follows: Mrs. E. M. Crowe, Steviacke, re-elected president; Mrs. H. E. Kendall, and Mrs. John A. McDonald, honorary presidents; Mrs. Otis Hamilton, first vice-president; Miss Ellen Wallace, Gore, second vice-president; Mrs. Beaumont Moss Jr., Bridgewater, secretary-treasurer.

Weather and Fall Plowing

The maximum temperature at the Agricultural College Station, Truro, for the month of October was 72 degrees, reached on October 9. There were seven days in which the temperature was over 60 degrees. The minimum temperature was 22 degrees reached on October 31, while on ten days the temperature fell to 32 degrees or below. The rainfall totalled 3.41 inches, falling on 15 days. This is definitely under the 35-year average which is 4.26 inches. Thus October was a comparatively warm month with fifteen rainy days. The total rainfall, however, is to date under average for the fall, September having been a very dry month.

Fall plowing is going forward well in fact, many parts of the Province report more than usual. More and more of the plowing each year is being done with tractors and this tends to go forward speedily if such equipment is available. The demand for land breaking is the heaviest yet. The difficulty is lack of equipment.

Memorial Service

A large number attended the Memorial Service held in Holy Trinity Church, Granville Ferry no Sunday evening, November 4, in memory of Lieut. Nursing Sister Hazel Eaton, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eaton, who died in Wales on September 21, 1944, while in the service of her country. The hymns sung were the same as were used at the service held for Hazel in a little chapel in Cardiff, Wales, and were: "Lead Kindly Light", "I Would Be True", "Softly and Tenderly" and "Abide With Me." The last post was sounded by D. McGinnis, of Annapolis, and a colour party representing the Annapolis Branch of the Canadian Legion were present.

The rector, Rev. G. F. Bickley, spoke in a most impressive manner of the high integrity of Hazel and her steadfastness to duty. He spoke most comforting words to the bereaved—her parents and only brother, Sgt. Major Harold Eaton, who came home to attend the service. Mr. Bickley also read a letter from the Chaplain who was with Hazel at the time of her death and who wrote of the high esteem in which she was held. Other letters from her comrades were also mentioned: "how she was missed from among them." They told of her planting flowers around the hut where she and a group of nurses were stationed to make it seem like home. To know Hazel was to love her and she will be long remembered in the hearts of those left behind.

A Litany Desk given by her parents was dedicated to her memory during the service.

MARRIAGES

Gallagher - Gaudette

A pretty wedding was celebrated this morning at St. Bernard's Church, St. Bernard's, when Marie Lauretta Gaudette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gaudette, of St. Bernard, was united in marriage to Milford Eugene Gallagher, son of the late Winslow Gallagher and Mrs. Gallagher. The Mass was celebrated by Rev. Elie LeBlanc, parish priest.

The bride looked charming in her floor length dress of white satin, with the conventional veil. She was attended by Mrs. John Boudreau, friend of the bride, who wore a floor length dress of rose taffeta. John Boudreau supported the groom. Vincent Blinn presided at the organ, and Mrs. Edward Comeau rendered an appropriate solo. A reception was held at ceremony, and the guests were received by the bride's mother, who was attired in a dress of royal blue crepe.

Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher left shortly after the reception for Fredericton, N.B., where they will spend a few days. Mrs. Gallagher's travelling suit was of spruce green. The happy couple will reside in Zealand Station, where the groom is employed.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Frank O'Connor, and wore a floor-length gown with white satin bodice, sweetheart neckline and double net skirt, with finger-tip veil. Her only ornament was a string of pearls. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and maiden hair fern. She was attended by her sister, Pte. Audrey O'Connor, C.W.A.C., as bridesmaid and Charles Mahaney acted as best man. Ushers were Donald Holden and Fuller Walker. Mrs. Gordon deMolitor played the wedding marches.

A reception to about sixty guests followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Bertral Woodbury, aunt of the bride, poured and those serving were the Misses Doris and Francis Woodbury and Shirley O'Connor.

Later the happy couple left on a wedding trip to Yarmouth and Weymouth. The bride was employed at the McDonald Drug Store and Simpson's Limited office at Shelburne. They will reside in Bridgewater where the groom is employed.

Major Steve. Smith A Busy Man

In writing his mother, Mrs. Charles E. Smith, of Barton, Major Stephen Smith starts off by saying "Just a few lines before I go to bed. I haven't much to write about, but thought you might be interested in my school."

The school of which he writes is overseas and is conducted for the purpose of preparing men about to return home from active service to take their places in civilian life. He goes on to say:

"At the present time I have seven lecture rooms, each holding twenty. We have one hour for each class and run the school two hours each day, which means that we can have fourteen classes each of twenty students."

"I expect soon to increase the lecture rooms to ten which will give us twenty classes and if a man is only taking one subject, we can be teaching 200 each day. At the present we have two classes in mathematics, two in German, one in French and one in English."

He tells that they have also obtained some tools and expect to start a hobby shop where toys, cigarette lighters, ash trays, souvenirs, etc., will be made. "This shop will increase as we get tools, and I expect will eventually fill eight basement rooms."

His letter also states they are getting an interior decorator to teach the boys how to paint fancy designs on walls, etc.

"By the time we get completely organized we will be teaching all school subjects up to Grade 10 along with vocational subjects such as farming and all its branches—and we have one man who wants to take a study course in fishing."

"I want to take the farming courses and learn to speak French, but I am so busy organizing and keeping records I don't have any time to benefit myself."

All of the above comprises but a part of Major Smith's letter—remember he started off by writing "... I haven't much to write about. ..."

Danvers

(Held over from last week.)

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Horton and son, Douglas, and guest, Franklin Rutherford, of of Chester, accompanied by their niece, Betty Lewis, motored to Westport to visit her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Peters, also her grandmother, Mrs. S. J. Marshall, who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Loran Lewis and son, Gifford (who has recently been discharged from the service) motored to Carleton visiting relatives, at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Cecil Clements; also her brother, Archibald Mullen and her mother, Mrs. Vidato Mullen. Two sisters were also visiting at the same home, one being from Guysborough Co., the other from New Hampshire.

"Autumn"

In the Maritime Provinces we may pardonably boast of our autumns. Often it is as if summer were loath to go. She seems to come back and stand on the hills to say good bye again. Our springs are sometimes a bit tardy, as if winter did not wish to relax his hold. October puts on its tartan and November invites us to sit around the fire and we find how good it is to find shelter. It introduces us to winter and prepares us for what is to follow.

"Ah! Now I Can Breathe Again!"

Surprisingly fast, a few drops of Vapo-Rol up each nostril help open the nasal passages—make breathing easier—when your head fills up with stuffy transient congestion. Enjoy the grand relief it brings! Vapo-Rol gives quick relief, too, from sniffly, sneezy distress of head colds. Try it! You'll like it! Follow directions in folder.

1885 SIXTY YEARS OF PROGRESS 1945

A Dream Come True

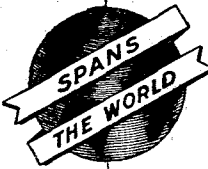

When, on November 7, 1885, the last spike was driven linking the rails of the Canadian Pacific Railway, developments only dreamed of that day were to follow.

Soon ships flying the red and white Canadian Pacific house flag were plying the Pacific... then the Atlantic. There followed a chain of hotels... resorts and lodges... coastal and inland steamships... express and telegraph services—the whole forming an all-Canadian system stretching more than half way round the world.

In 1939, this vast system was dedicated to the winning of the war. Since then the Company's rail lines alone have handled more than 128 billion ton miles of freight—and 11 billion passenger miles. All ocean steamships have been on active service—many have gone down fighting.

Now the Canadian Pacific faces the future. Plans have been completed for the construction of new, improved locomotives and coaches... sleeping cars... parlour cars... diners; for the renovation of stations and hotels; and for the building of a new fleet of ocean vessels.

In a world at peace the Canadian Pacific will do its part in providing modern, efficient transportation by land and sea.

Perhaps we of the newspaper fraternity can do a real service for the teachers and pupils of our schools should we take it upon ourselves to rewrite the geography and history of the counties in which our papers are published. It must be admitted much of the county geography and history taught in our schools today is out of date or wholly inaccurate.

Our teachers, most of whom are merely passing on what they learned in the lower grades during their school days, are not to be blamed for these inaccuracies. For example, the teacher who comes to a Digby County school from Queens, Colchester, or Cape Breton, no matter how capable she may be, can hardly be expected to properly teach the geography and history of Digby County to Digby County school pupils. In all probability what she learned of Digby County when she went to school were the mere facts that Digby County was bounded by Annapolis and Yarmouth Counties and the Bay of Fundy; that the chief industry was the curing of a smoked fish known as Digby Chickens.

On the other hand, she was possibly "taught" the geography of her own county by a teacher who came from Digby.

We are really amazed at the knowledge—or rather lack of knowledge—some Digby county citizens (adults as well as school children) have of their own county. It is only within the last year one of our townsmen confessed to us he had not been previously aware there were two municipal governments in Digby County. He knew the county was divided into two sections, Digby and "the French shore" and that the French Shore was sometimes referred to as "Clare". He was not aware the county was actually divided into separate municipalities, Digby and Clare, and that each municipality had its own warden and municipal council.

Also, we have been asked whether certain villages are in Digby or Clare County and we really get hundreds of inquiries from our own citizens as to the location of various Digby county communities. Perhaps inquiries about "the Islands" head the list. Among the most common questions are, on which island Westport (Freeport or Tiverton) are located? Where is Central Grove? Is Westport on the Islands or on the French Shore?

What applies in Digby county applies in every Nova Scotia county. With a little effort we editors, by printing weekly items on the geography and history of the counties in which our papers are published can do a real service—but before we really get to work on this idea, it might be well if we did some "brushing up" on the subject ourselves.

Revolutionary Washing Machines

A United Kingdom firm has developed a new "shilling-in-the-slot" washing machine which is simpler to operate than a radio set. It is completely automatic and will wash ten pounds of clothes in forty minutes. The housewife has to do not more than put the clothes in, add soap powder and turn on the switch. The machine fills itself with water, washes the clothes, triple rinses them and damp-dries them. It also empties and cleans itself and shuts itself off. 'Laundrettes' equipped with ten or twelve machines will soon be opened in many parts of the country, reports the London Daily Mail. They will also be installed in working class blocks of flats.

The first women's electrical exhibition which opened in London recently shows the wartime achievements of Britain's women electrical engineers. One item is a wide range of new electrical equipment and devices for homes, schools, health and public services is a new cooker made of transparent plastics which enables the housewife to watch the progress of her various dishes while they are cooking. Other advantages are super-speed heats, flexible simmer controls and automatic oven regulators.

The blossom was perfectly formed and in full flower. Alongside it was a bud as yet unopened and one blossom, whose petals had fallen. Surrounding these blossoms were leaves that were still green while others had been coloured by the frost.

Helium For Tires

Helium has been used successfully to inflate large aeroplane tires, reducing the total aircraft weight and increasing range. It takes 92-lb. of air to inflate a 110 inch tire but only 13-lb. of helium. This represents a saving of 156-lb. for the two main wheels on each aeroplane.

WAR-TIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—I was married to a Canadian soldier overseas and have just arrived in Canada. Where do I obtain my food ration book?

A.—Take your passport and some identification papers to your nearest local ration board. You will be given a form which you can complete immediately and without leaving the board offices you will be issued your ration book.

Q.—Do discharged service men get sugar for canning coupons?

A.—They will receive 20 extra preserves coupons which may be used to purchase sugar if they apply for and receive their book on or before October 31. Applying between October 31 and December 31 they will receive 10 preserves coupons good for the purchase of five pounds of sugar or for canned fruits or preserves.

Q.—When will be a new ration book be issued?

A.—No decision has yet been made regarding the issuance of another ration book. However, by using the spare coupons in the present book 5 it can be made to last almost another year.

Q.—What is the difference between a homemaker and a person operating a commercial business?

A.—A homemaker, under Board regulations, is a person who makes the goods in his or her own home with no labor employed other than the members of the immediate family living in the same household. Total annual sales may not exceed $2,000. Any person entering into business under conditions other than those stated above are commercial manufacturers.

Q.—Can you tell me why we still have price control?

A.—Price control was effected to prevent inflation. As long as goods are in short supply there is a danger of prospective purchasers offering almost any price to obtain them without control. Prices would soar far above the actual value of the goods and we would have inflation. Therefore price control is necessary until supplies return to normal.

Digby Officer is Named In Army Decoration Lists

Capt. Arthur Douglas Cossaboom, of Smith's Cove, is among the list of Maritimers in the Canadian Army personnel who won the award of Mention in Despatches, announced by National Defence Headquarters. Captain Cossaboom returned a few months ago from overseas and at that time expected to go to the Pacific. After thirty days' leave, spent with his wife, the former Miss Mamie Gunn, of New Glasgow, and two young sons, he left to take a course in Ontario. Mrs. Steadman, wife of Principal J. E. Steadman, of New Glasgow, is a sister of Captain Cossaboom.

Moe Amsel, of "Amsel and Amsel," Montreal, and Thos. E. Vaughan, of Halifax, called on Russell Henshaw, on Sunday.

Joe Johnson, who recently returned from overseas duty and Halifax, has accepted a position at Cornwallis for the present time.

Lieut. Wm. Young, of Debert, spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson, visiting his wife and infant son.

Mr. and Mrs. Carleton DeLong, of Kempt, Queens Co., were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lester DeLong (formerly Rosamond Trimper) at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Trimper.

On Friday afternoon Rev. C. S. Young, of Clementsvalle, started a Sunday School for the school children of Waldec West. Mrs. Elaine Gehue, teacher, is to conduct the service each Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Raymond Yorke was appointed superintendent and Phyllis Henshaw was appointed treasurer. All parents and any others of the community are welcome to attend and help with this worthy cause.

Service was held in the school house on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. C. S. Young, of Clementsvalle, conducting it. Mr. Young spoke from Luke 9:45, leaving the message with us that lasting impressions are made by each and every one of us by a hearty handshake, a smile, a cheery word, or a scowl, a frown, a nasty word, a discouraging word or sarcasm. Also that in departing this life we "leave behind us footprints in the sands of time." Sometimes one's absence from the church service makes a greater impression on the minister than one's presence. Mr. Young has seven churches in his pastorate so only gets to Waldec about once a month but his services are appreciated by the community.

Remembrance Day Observed

Remembrance Day was very fittingly observed in Digby on Sunday, November 11th, when members of the Canadian Legion and other veterans both of World War II and the Great War of 1914-18 marched in parade to the United Baptist Church where a memorial service was held.

As the parade passed the Monument it was brought to a halt and wreaths were laid at the base of the monument in honour of the members of Canada's armed services from this area who had laid down their lives in the defence of their country. The Legion wreath was placed by Comrade J. W. Merkel while the wreath from the Town was placed by Comrade John Russell, who is a member of the Town Council.

The Reverend J. Earle DeLong, pastor of the Baptist Church, paid high tribute to the veterans in his sermon, based on the text, "What doth Jehovah require but to do justly, love kindness and walk humbly with thy God."—Micah 6:7. He pointed out that these men who had served, suffered and died that we might be free had made a great sacrificial service. "They fought not only for justice, for freedom, and for Democracy but for high spiritual values transcending all other reasons for their sacrifice," he stated. Mr. DeLong urged his listeners to consider deeply what these men have done, the sacrifices they have made, the hardships they have endured, and considering these things, to give earnest thought to what can be done in the years ahead to reward them in some way for their heroism in the days of peril. "We must enlarge our lives and our way of living," he stated, "to give these boys an opportunity to live, to enjoy life and to serve as God would have them."

Special music at the service was rendered by the choir who presented two beautiful anthems, "When My Soul Reaches Home," and "O Come Let Us Worship." The church was filled to capacity for the service and well over one hundred veterans marched in parade, filling the entire centre section of the church.

Awarded Military Medal

Corporal Cress has been an outstanding soldier and non-commissioned officer with the Carleton and York Regiment in both Italy and northwest Europe. His example of bravery combined with a complete disregard for his own personal safety has always been an inspiration to everyone with whom he has been associated. Corporal Cress' deep sense of duty and daring actions on more than one occasion resulted in the obtaining of valuable information for his battalion. One example in particular was on the night 28/29 January, 1945, when the Carleton and York Regiment was holding positions on the Senio River opposite Fusignano. Each night for the preceding week fighting patrols under an officer had attempted to secure a prisoner without success. With three of his section, Corporal Cress went forward to the enemy position for this purpose. Their lines of advance was being heavily mortared and shelled so Corporal Cress placed his men in an unoccupied enemy slit trench, advanced alone on an occupied German dugout, killed the sentry and called to the remaining Germans to surrender. Receiving no reply, Corporal Cress attacked single handed, firing his Tommy gun and succeeded in killing two more Germans and capturing two prisoners. This typical example of Corporal Cress' dashing, aggressive spirit has gained for him the reputation of being a most capable and dependable leader of men. His enthusiasm for action which continued until the end of hostilities in Holland, inspired every man with whom he worked.

This week we extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Raymond, of Watford, Digby County, and to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Titus, of Digby, who celebrated their wedding anniversary last week. At the present time Mr. and Mrs. Titus are visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Capt. and Mrs. Oscar Lane, at North Normandy, N.B. Later they will go to Florida for the winter.

C.P.O. and Mrs. E. A. Bunn left yesterday for their home in Toronto. C.P.O. Bunn, who has been assistant bandmaster at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, has received his discharge.

MARRIAGE

Franklin - Gray

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gray, Hartland, N.B., was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, November 3, when their only daughter, Eleanor Madelyn, became the bride of F/L Claude E. Franklin, D.F.C., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Franklin, Digby. Rev. Harry Taylor, pastor of Hartland Baptist Church, officiated. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a street length model of heaven blue crepe with a Juliet cap of black sequins and short veil and other accessories of black. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, a gift from the groom. She carried an arm bouquet of sweetheart roses. The bride's attendant was Mrs. Earle Fletcher, gowned in a suit of beige and tan crepe with brown accessories. The groom was supported by Walter F. Gray. The bride's mother wore a flowered crepe dress with black accessories and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother wore a cerise dress with matching hat and a corsage of yellow roses. The bride's gift to her attendant was a Royal Doulton China Brooch and the groom's gift to his attendant was a leather billfold. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held for immediate families and friends. The bride's table was centered with a three tier wedding cake flanked by pale yellow tapers in silver candlesticks. Mrs. Harry Barter and Mrs. Frank Plummer, aunts of the bride, poured. Those assisting in serving were Mrs. Owen Orser and Mrs. Sidney Harding. Later the happy couple left on a wedding trip to New England States. The bride travelled in a gold colored wool coat with fur trim and brown accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses. The bride has been in the employ of the N. B. Telephone Co., Saint John, where she has held a responsible position for the past three years. The groom was a graduate of Acadia University, having received his B.Sc., just prior to his enlistment in the R.C.A.F. in 1940. Many lovely gifts were received by the bridal couple including silver, china, furniture and substantial cheques. After the wedding trip they will reside in Moncton, where the groom is stationed with the R.C.A.F.

ADDRESSES Y'S MEN'S CLUB

Addressing the weekly supper at the Digby Y's Men's Club, Rev. F. B. Gaskill held the attention of the members with an interesting and thought-provoking address on one phase of the world situation today. He drew the attention of the group to close co-operation of the allied and neutral countries during the recent world conflict, particularly to the systematic solution of common problems. He then introduced his topic sentence, "Whither are we going in time of peace?"

The speaker proceeded to point out the need for strong leadership. He dealt in some detail on each of the four types of leaders one will find. First the leader with the provincial type of mind who is interested only in matters of comparatively local concern. Then there are those of the national type who are interested only in the welfare of their own country. The third, or imperialistic minded leader is concerned only with his own nation and disregards outside conditions. The late Prime Minister Chamberlain was cited as an example of this type. Finally there is the type with the international point of view. The speaker went on to point out that it is leadership backed by an international point of view that is needed today.

President Wilson was a man of this calibre but lacked the backing of men with the same idea. Prime Minister Churchill displayed an international point of view throughout the recent world conflict. He succeeded in steadying the world at a very difficult time with the statement, "What have I to offer? Blood, sweat and tears." People the world over saw in him a leader with an international point of view. The late President Roosevelt showed a similar outlook when he instituted lease-lend. Perhaps this is partly the reason why so many of his own people were and are so bitter toward him.

"BIMBO" GOES TO CAPE BRETON

"Bimbo", the calf moose that has been cared for by Mrs. William Cromwell, Danvers, Digby County, left his foster home on Monday for his new home in the Canadian National Park on Cape Breton Island. Bimbo, who left via truck, was crated, his crate covered on the top and three sides with tarpaulin. Plenty of straw was provided to make a comfortable bed. There was also a good supply of vegetables to provide for the needs of the "inner moose."

It was on May 19 of this year that "Bimbo" was adopted by the Cromwells at Danvers. It was a cold, rainy day. The little fellow, hardly more than 24 hours old, was found in the pasture. His mother was nowhere to be seen and there were no traces to indicate her whereabouts.

At first he was fed from a nursing bottle, later oat meal gruel and milk from a pan, graduating to vegetable tops and browse. Leaves are scarce now, and for the past few weeks his diet has been mostly oatmeal and vegetables.

Bimbo has been a real favorite in the community and was always ready to make friends. Visitors came from near and far to see him, including a number from the United States and even one from Australia.

He is going to be missed down at Danvers, and more than one person on hand to bid him farewell on Monday wiped away a tear. He was given the name "Bimbo" when he was found, and we understand his new warden will continue to call him by this name.

Patriotic Program and Dedication

On Sunday evening, November 11, the teachers and pupils of Zion United Church Sunday School Sandy Cove, presented a patriotic program in the Community Hall, before a large and appreciative audience.

The program included patriotic recitations, exercise, choruses, a flag drill and piano solo "Convent Bells", rendered by Dorothy Saunders. A pageant, "Britannia", Daughters" was presented by the C.G.I.T. The part "Britannia" was played by Dorothy Saunders while her countries were represented by Jean Gidney, Alma Graham, Charlotte Sypher, Marie Morehouse, Betty Graham, Frances Sypher and Anne Stargratt.

At the conclusion of the program an "Honor Roll" was dedicated and unveiled. The unveiling was done by Spr. Victor Jeffrey, who recently returned from overseas after seeing action in Belgium, France and Germany. The honorary names of the boys who had served from the community of Sandy Cove and Mink Cove were read by Anne Stargratt.

LEGION BANQUET WELL ATTENDED

About seventy members and guests attended the Remembrance Day Banquet of the Digby Branch Canadian Legion, H.E.S.L., at the Navy League Hotel, Monday evening.

The banquet opened with the singing of the national anthem followed by grace by Rev. J. E. DeLong of the United Baptist Church. Toasts were drunk to the King; and an individual toast to the departed, followed by a one minute's silence.

Rev. T. W. Hodgson of Grace United Church thanked the gathering in behalf of the town, for the fine work done in the past five years. He hoped the people at home can repay, in some small measure, the sacrifices undergone by the members, and the immeasurable good done to humanity in the wiping out of the threats that confronted it. He mentioned loved and missing faces — Ross Turnbull, Stanley Spray — two of the many local boys who, it was decreed, should pay the supreme sacrifice. He closed with his heartfelt personal thanks.

Rev. F. B. Gaskill of Trinity Church, then spoke in behalf of his congregation and himself. He extended a hearty welcome to the returned boys and expressed the hope something more concrete will be given the returned men, everywhere, than promises and pretty speeches in the years ahead.

Of special interest was the presence at the banquet of James Robinson, Conway, veteran of the last war, and his grandson, James Robinson, Sr., who is "81 years old next birthday and hopes to see 100" in a little talk called God's blessing down on the gathering. Mr. Robinson is the father of 21 children, several of whom served with him in the war of 1914-18. "Jim" Jr., returned in July after over five years overseas.

TO CONTINUE DANCES

Contradicting rumors that have been prevalent lately that the Saturday night dances at the Navy League Hotel would be discontinued, V. G. Cardoza, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, stated at Monday night's meeting of the Hostel Management Committee that the dances would be continued so long as an orchestra was available to play for these dances.

CHURCH CELEBRATES 145th ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday, November 11, special services were held in Granville Beach and Port Wade Baptist Churches. The afternoon service, held at Granville Beach, was largely attended. This church was founded 145 years ago, and the pastor, Rev. H. D. Hopper, gave a very fine discourse on the history of the church.

A special feature of the service was the Berwick quartette, comprising Messrs. Williams, Woodworth, Ailing and Best. They sang four lovely selections.

The combined choirs of the Lower Granville Churches were also in attendance and sang a very lovely anthem.

A large honor roll was unveiled also gave the salute. This honor roll had on it the names of all who fought in World War 1914-18 as well as World War II. The names were read by the pastor.

At the close of the service Deacon Watson Anthony, of Port Wade, on behalf of the Lower Granville Baptist Churches, presented Rev. H. D. Hopper with a gift of money. Mr. Hopper, who is compelled to give up this pastorate due to ill health, will certainly be missed, as he is a great worker and friend to all. It is with much regret we have to see him leave.

The service at Port Wade in the evening was also largely attended and opened with a song service, all joined in singing the good old hymns. The Berwick quartette was also present and sang four more lovely selections.

The pastor appropriately chose for his theme "Christian Hymns". At the close of the service the combined choirs sang an anthem, "If Your Heart Keeps Right."

CANTATA ARRANGED BY FORMER DEEP BROOK MAN

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Purdy have returned home after a very pleasant visit to Windsor, where they attended the sixty-third anniversary of Christ Church. A special feature of this anniversary was a cantata entitled "The Sanctity of God's House" written and arranged by Robert W. W. Purdy, 77 years of age, a brother of Augustus Purdy. The harmony and organ interpretation was by his son, H. Oscar Purdy. Deep Brook congratulates her son, R. W. W. Purdy, on his splendid accomplishment. Mr. Purdy has been interested in choir work since a lad of twelve and has been a member of Christ church choir, Windsor, for 22 years.

Rev. C. G. Hares, Rector of the church, on behalf of the choir and congregation, presented Mr. Purdy with a reading lamp as a token of appreciation of his fine service to the church.

OBITUARY

George Alexander Hawksworth

The death of George Alexander Hawksworth, for the past ten years a resident of Granville Ferry, occurred on Tuesday at the age of 86 years. The late Mr. Hawksworth was born at Digby, and was a senior member of the postal mail service at Halifax for 30 years. He retired from the postal service on account of ill health and after his retirement made his home for a number of years in Annapolis Royal, taking his place in the business and civic life of that town which he served as mayor for five terms. He was also high sheriff of the county of Annapolis for five years and at one time was editor of the Annapolis "Spectator."

While mayor of Annapolis Royal he had the pleasure of receiving the Duke of Connaught and vice-regal party as well as other distinguished persons. He was a past master of the Masonic Lodge at Annapolis and this chief hobbies were shooting and fishing.

Surviving are his widow and a number of nieces and cousins. Mrs. G. H. Peters, of Digby, is a cousin. Their only son, George Jr., was a victim of a drowning accident about five years ago.

Funeral services will take place this afternoon from Holy Trinity Church, Granville Ferry, with interment in Woodlawn Cemetery, Annapolis Royal.

Bad Accident Averted

They say the little lean-to fisherman's shanty that stood for years at the Smith's Cove approach of Big Joggins Bridge, four miles from Digby, gave an audible gasp before it collapsed suddenly and unexpectedly, Saturday afternoon—and no wonder!

The three occupants of the truck—a panel job from H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, gasped too, when they escaped uninjured and tried to figure out how they went through the shanty without fouling the machine with trawl tubs and other fisherman's paraphernalia stored in the building.

After its encounter with the building the truck rolled over on its side in the salty cold waters of the Big Joggins burying its nose in the side of the bank that supports the railway trestle that runs parallel with the highway bridge. The driver and his two companions crawled out soaked to the skin and covered with briny salt but otherwise none the worse for the experience.

The truck escaped with a crumpled mudguard, a smashed headlight, dented radiator grill and a broken axle.

The demolished building was owned by Capt. William Gillatt, of Joggins Bridge, and was used for the storage of fishermen's equipment. It would be impossible to estimate the number of barrels of Big Joggins Clams that have been "shucked" inside its walls.

22nd BIRTHDAY

Mrs. S. C. LeCain, of Clements-port, celebrated her 22nd birthday on Tuesday of this week by preparing supper and having the members of her family in to enjoy it. The party comprised of her son, Fred, and his wife, of Clementsport; her daughter, Mrs. Pearl Henshaw and Bertha and her husband, Walter Chute, all of Deep Brook.

Mrs. LeCain enjoys splendid health and in spite of her years does her own housekeeping and does all her own errands.

APPOINT RINK COMMITTEE

Appointment of a strong committee, representative of local Service Clubs and the Board of Trade, to assist Gerald Sanford in the operation of the Rink at the Athletic Field highlighted Tuesday night's meeting of the Board of Trade. Named to the committee which was given power to hire a rink manager, were F. L. Anderson, W. Christie, F. C. Purdy, J. B. Brittain, C. M. Levy, H. M. Warne.

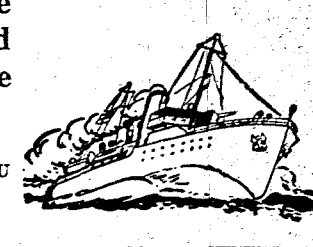

Decision to support the Annapolis Board of Trade in their request to have the Board of Public Utilities authorize gasoline stations to remain open on Sundays was also reached at the Board meeting. It was felt that the present setup of having these stations closed on Sundays worked a hardship on the motoring public and was a hindrance to the tourist trade.

F. C. Purdy was named to succeed C. E. Eaton as Chairman of the Welfare and Education Committee of the Board at the meeting. Mr. Purdy, in accepting the appointment, drew the Board's attention to the forthcoming entertainment to be presented by the Teeners' Club and urged the Board's support.

To some people the above is Digby's theme song.

In other words, if we are going to get anywhere or accomplish anything for our town and county we have got to wake up.

We have got to go beyond the stage of passing well phrased resolutions that accomplish no more than receive well phrased replies before being filed away in the "archives" at Halifax and Ottawa, to gather cobwebs.

We know what we want. For heaven's sake, let's really go after those things. Never mind whether the plan was originated by a tory, a grit or C.C.F'er. Forget politics and personal differences and really go to work on these matters.

To mention only a few things. In Digby County we need a paved highway on Digby Neck; we need better ferry facilities across Petite and Grand Passages; better docking and cargo handling facilities at Digby pier are essential; there is the matter of the highway to connect Digby and Shelburne; the cold storage plant should not be forgotten.

All these matters have been discussed, considered and "resolutionized." Our efforts to date have resulted in little more than courteous replies. If we are going to get anywhere we must apply pressure on the powers that be—and that pressure must be stronger than a well and strongly phrased resolution.

To accomplish anything that pressure may mean delegations going to Halifax and Ottawa—delegations capable of presenting their case—delegations that are not politically bound. Such missions may have to be repeated, but they are the method we must use if we are to get results.

Delegations of this kind have brought results in the western provinces, Ontario and Quebec. They should bring results in the Maritimes, at any rate they will accomplish more than merely passing resolutions and waiting quietly while some one thinks out a courteous way to shelve our needs without really offending us.

N. S. Gets New Industry

About 125 men will be employed in Nappan's new salt mine. The project being developed by Standard Chemicals of Ontario will get underway in earnest next spring. Preliminary construction is expected to provide work for upwards of 500 persons.

WAR-TIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—We have lived in a house for five years. The roof leaks but the landlord won't pay the cost of repairs. Is there any way we can force him to do so?

A.—I am sorry but this is a matter outside the jurisdiction of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. I would suggest that you proceed as you would in normal times and try to come to some agreement with your landlord regarding this matter.

Q.—How much does a license and a permit to start a business cost?

A.—Business licenses and permits issued by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board are free.

Q.—We are going to have a bazaar and want to sell home-made preserves. May we do so?

A.—If you intend to sell these items you must first obtain permission from your local ration Board. Write to the secretary.

Q.—Are meat pies rationed?

A.—Yes. One meat coupon is good for the purchase of 16 ozs. of meat pie.

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board answers questions put to this paper regarding price control and rationing regulations. Or you may write directly to the Consumer Branch of the Board, 77 Upper Water St., Halifax.

Gems of Thought

CHEERFULNESS

Cheerfulness, in most cheerful people, is the rich and satisfying result of strenuous discipline.

—Whipple

The true source of cheerfulness is benevolence.—The soul that perpetually overflows with kindness and sympathy will always be cheerful.

—Parke Godwin

Happy are the people whose God is All-in-all, who ask only to be judged according to their works, who live to love.

—Mary Baker Eddy

Cheerfulness is health; its opposite, melancholy, is disease.

—Halliburton

To make knowledge valuable, you must have the cheerfulness of wisdom. Goodness smiles to the last.

—Emerson

Wondrous is the strength of cheerfulness, altogether past calculation its powers of endurance.

—Carlyle

Record Purchase

The government of Nova Scotia has brought $4,250,000 worth of Ninth Victory Loan Bonds. That's the biggest single purchase of bonds made by the province in any war loan. Of that sum $1,250,000 came from funds of the Workmen's Compensation Board.

Fires are Fewer

Nova Scotia's forests came through the 1945 fire season with only minor damage. F. A. Harrison, provincial lands and forests director, says the total acreage burned over during the summer was only about 4000, compared with 37,000 acres last year.

Amsterdam, in the Netherlands, is famous for diamond cutting; Delft for pottery, Limburg for coal.

Paraguay's population is chiefly white. There are about 20,000 aborigines in the wilds, and Negroes are unknown.

Painters' Paradise

Leonard Brooks, R.C.N.V.R., 34-year-old Toronto artist and one of the top landscape painters in Canada, thinks Nova Scotia has more to offer the artist than any other part of the dominion. Says he: "This country is absolutely untouched from a painter's point of view. There is a variety of subject matter here that can't be touched anywhere else. You've got everything the Laurentians have and the sea besides." His show of more than 50 Nova Scotia oils and watercolors is on display in Halifax.

Cold Winter Ahead

Nova Scotia coal production figures aren't calculated to give much comfort to the owners of empty coal bins. During August output dropped 49,000 tons compared with the same month in 1944. In Alberta, however, production this August was up to 43,000 tons.

The most important industries of the Netherlands are shipbuilding, machinery, textiles, including rayon, and chemical products.

Steamers Wanted

Only the lack of a ship is holding up resumption of the Boston-Yarmouth steamer service operated before the war by Eastern Steamship Lines. That's the word from Arthur T. Smith, district passenger and freight agent for Dominion Atlantic Railway. He said A. B. Sharp, Eastern Steamship president, hoped to find a vessel before spring.

Duraluminum has been one of the outstanding metals throughout the war: steel has given it strength; aluminum, lightness.

The main mineral riches of the Netherlands East Indies are tin and oil. Huge high quality iron ore deposits are still unused.

MARRIAGES

Bennett- Soulis

A pretty wedding was solemnized in the United Baptist Church, Smith's Cove, Thursday evening, November 1, when Helen Viola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Soulis, became the bride of John William Bennett, R.C.N.V. R., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bennett, Spencerville, Ontario.

Rev. T. F. McWilliam, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. Nuptial music was furnished by Miss Frances Austin.

To the familiar strains of Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin the bride entered the church with her father. She wore a floor length gown of white satin and net, and a shoulder length veil arranged on her hair in becoming sweetheart style. A necklace of pearls was her only ornament. She carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums, calla lilies and maiden hair fern.

Attending her as bridesmaid was her sister, Miss Geraldine Soulis, who was gowned in blue sheer, floor length, and head dress of blue net caught with flowers. Her bouquet was chrysanthemums and maiden hair fern.

The groom was supported by Harry Barnes, R.C.N.V.R., of Toronto, P.O. Andrew Teale, R.C.N.V.R., Wolfville, and Eric McMoran, R.C.N.V.R., Victoria, B.C., were ushers.

The bridal party stood beneath an arch from which a white bell was suspended and streamers of rose and white extending to the corners of the platform which was banked with late autumn flowers, corners of the platform which was foliage and house ferns. Decorations were arranged by Mrs. Henry H. Soulis, grandmother of the bride, assisted by R. L. Taylor. The scene was beautiful by the soft glow of candlelight, the only light used during the ceremony.

During the signing of the register, Robert L. Taylor sang "I'll Walk Beside You," and Mendelssohn's March was played for the recessional.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. The bride and groom left Tuesday for Spencerville where they will reside.

Yes, when he was overseas, he enjoyed receiving boxes of Wrigley's Gum sent to him by his relatives and friends — through Wrigley's Overseas Gum Plan.

Now that he's back home, it's a disappointment not to see Wrigley's chewing gum in his favorite stores.

But Wrigley's Gum will be back—just as soon as it is practical to guarantee you top-quality and finest flavor in chewing gum. So, until that fine quality chewing gum does return—remember WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT, DOUBLEMINT and "JUICY FRUIT".

Yes, you'll see your favorites again... you'll enjoy them again... just as you used to do.

Recognize and remember this emblem... it means the wearer has an honorable discharge from the Canadian Armed Forces.

Meanwhile, remember these wrappers—they will be back!

Thank-offering Meeting

The November meeting of the W.M.S. of the United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Otis Rice, Community Friendship Secretary. Mrs. Geo. Croscup, for many years president of the Society, was able to attend which was a great pleasure to all. It was a most interesting and instructive meeting, led by Mrs. James Brooks, who shared with Mrs. Rice in giving the lesson from the Study Book. At this time Africa is much in the thoughts of the members, and Mrs. Brooks exhibited a beautifully executed freize which had been in connection with Mission Band work, picturing life in an African Village. The Mission Band Thank-offering meeting was well attended and the Band has already exceeded its allocation.

"In loving memory of Mrs. Fowler Robinson" for so many years a valued member of the society, a sum of money was reported to have been received by the Treasurer from Miss Edna Locke.

It was decided to pack and ship the Mission Christmas Box in November, all donations should be in before November 20.

Mrs. Ralph Purdy led the worship period, which was spiritually uplifting and at the conclusion Thank-offering envelopes were handed in. Knowing that the allocation will again be exceeded is a cause of thankfulness for blessings received during the past year. A special feature of the meeting was the social half-hour which followed, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Milton Morgan, who poured and Mrs. Walter Lent, who served. Mrs. Brooks invited the Society to meet at the Manse in December, it being the Christmas meeting, and for this reason, tea will be served.

Mrs. Sarah Cossaboom, Smith's Cove, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Green.

Mr. and Mrs. Morley Wright, of Boston, Mass., are visiting relatives in town.

Mrs. Wilbur Parker and daughter, Forestine, left on Tuesday to visit her sister in Waltham, Mass.

Mrs. Marion Grant and Miss Kay DeVarey, of Annapolis, were recent guests of Miss Pearl Campbell.

BLACK FLAGS on U Boats

When Nazi U-boat commanders hoisted black flags of surrender, it was a "go ahead" signal to the three out of every eight Canadians who normally depend for their livelihood on export trade.

For five years the flow of foreign trade has been largely a government responsibility. But now, to help create peacetime jobs, Canadian enterprise must do its full share in finding customers abroad. This means doing business all over the world, in strange and distant cities, in a hundred languages and currencies.

Canadian banks have a key role in this complicated but essential peacetime task. Every day their foreign branches and correspondents arrange credits, handle documents and perform other intricate operations to bring buyers and sellers together across the obstacles of distance, language and custom.

This banking service is of primary importance to business and to every Canadian worker as Canada turns to the task of re-creating trade abroad to provide jobs at home.

Camping in the National Parks

The number of establishments catering to the tourist trade in the national parks, as elsewhere, was seriously curtailed during war time. Frequently it was not possible to supply all the accommodation required, and it may be some time yet before these tourist facilities will be able to meet the full demand.

But what about holiday travel in the meantime? A great army of potential tourists is now making plans for next year's vacation. The majority of them, after years of stress and strain and self-denial in the interests of the war effort, are not in the mood to postpone that much-talked-about holiday any longer. If there is not sufficient accommodation in the place of their choice, many of them will simply take necessary accommodation along in their car or trailer. That apparently is what hundreds are planning to do next summer.

In years gone by many visitors to the national parks brought with them their own camping equipment and never had to worry about where they would sleep for the night. They had the choice of a number of camping places easily accessible and scenically located. No need to make reservations in advance; there was plenty of room for all.

With the improvement in hotel and bungalow accommodation which took place before the war, the proportion of those using the public camp-grounds fell off, but the trend is now in the opposite direction. In recent years the campsites have been greatly improved, many of them being now equipped with electric light, running water, kitchen shelters, tables, camp stoves, fuel, and modern sanitary facilities. Further substantial improvements to these camp-grounds are to be made before the next tourist season comes around, so that the national parks can adequately take care of all visitors and provide more comfort for them.

That these camp-grounds are popular with national parks' visitors is emphasized in a recent letter received from a visitor from Topeka, Kansas. Here in part is what he says:

"Having completed a short time ago a three week trip by car, which included a five day visit to your country through Calgary, Banff, Lake Louise, Jasper, Yoho, Kootenay and Cranbrook, may I express my appreciation for the reception given us and the general air of good feeling between the two countries. I had no trouble in crossing into Canada nor in leaving, and the exchange of currency, which I had dreaded, was no trouble at all. We stayed at the camp-grounds provided in the parks, and may I say that they are ideal for the purpose—well situated, clean and with adequate wood provided. The trip was a pleasure and I intend to visit you again."

A holiday, to be most beneficial, should provide as far as possible a complete change from one's regular environment and customs. A holiday under canvas in the national parks is about as complete a change for

The most densely populated political unit in the world is the province of Kiangsu, in China, with a population of 36,469,321 in 41,818 square miles.

A very pleasant meeting of the Weymouth Branch of Canadian Legion took place at Killam Hall one evening last week. A goodly attendance was noted and several of the new veterans joined the Legion. A building committee was formed; also an entertainment committee for the purpose of raising funds. Another meeting of the Legion will take place December 20th.

Most of the long awaited promised equipment for training the Sea Cadets arrived last week. The equipment, which includes compasses, flags, signal lamps, ropes, blocks and tackle as well as other naval stores is in charge of a naval stores committee of Sea Cadets. An experienced naval instructor has also been promised for the advanced training.

Never before has a show attracted such a large attendance at the Community Theatre as did the film "Going My Way," which was shown here last week. Beginning Thursday evening at 7:30 the film was shown twice nightly, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, with a matinee Saturday afternoon and an additional showing Sunday evening. Proceeds for Sunday night's performance were in aid of St. Joseph's Church. The film was exceptionally good and well worth the crowds it attracted. We all join in the wish that Dr. Poirier will give us more of this type of movie and less of the "wild and woolly" Westerns.

The Weymouth High School girls held a dance in Killam Hall last week, with Captain and Mrs. Blair Whitney as chaperones for the evening. The proceeds from the dance are to be used to help defray the expense of having the school pond cleaned out and enlarged for the skating season. A ten-cent afternoon tea, sponsored by Mrs. Harold Blackadar, and served at a Red Cross meeting also added to the funds for the school pond.

Organized by Major Campbell one of the most impressive Remembrance Day services was held in Memorial Square Sunday morning, with Lt. Col. Hallett taking the salute. Rev. Mr. Brodie gave a brief address and prayer for the fallen heroes of Weymouth community. Captain Blair Whitney, chaplain on leave from the United States Army, also gave an inspiring address in which he commented on the bond of friendship existing between the Canadians and his countrymen. Major Smith was in charge of the parade of veterans of World Wars I and II. Sea Cadets and C.G.I.T. The placing of the wreaths was well arranged; Mrs. K. Smith laying the wreath from the Government of N.S.; Sgt. Melanson and Cpl. Amirault, both of whom lost brothers in the last war, placed Cadets Campbell and Williams the wreath from the Army. Sea placed the wreath from the Navy. Wreaths were also placed by Girl Guides Eleanor Dunkley and Verna Ruggles and several others. The service closed with the singing of the National Anthem. The regular weekly supper meeting of the Digby Y's Men's Club, Monday evening with almost one hundred per cent attendance. Baden Powell, chairman for the evening, after a short business period, introduced the speaker, Father Leo Murphy.

Father Murphy gave as his topic "Our Town," his as well as ours. In his opening remarks he paid tribute to its beauty and placid quietness. Its people are all knit together much as yarn in a sweater and everyone seems self-satisfied.

The speaker went on to compare our impression of other towns, with the impression that others might get out of our town. Just what impression would a person stepping off the Princess Helene get of "Our Town"? First some drab, unpainted buildings; then the blackened ruins of a building that has lain thus for almost three years. Our traveller deposits his luggage at the station or bus stop and takes a walk up town. The main street and sidewalks are full of pot-holes and there are more dull, unpainted buildings, many needing repair. Further along there is another blackened ruin. Note was made of the fact that the former Manhattan Hotel is being demolished. Now let us take our traveller down street at night. He might wonder if the people here knew that the war is over and blackout restrictions lifted. The streets are dimly lighted and he has to pick his way along. There are few brightly lighted signs in the business district.

The local railway station is locked at night with the result that one has to wait outside for the evening train. There is no mail service for Digby provided by the night trains. It was the speaker's opinion steps should be taken to remedy the situation.

The local Naval Base came and no one seemed concerned, now it is going and still no one seems concerned; that is, not to the extent of finding out what is going to become of it. The Navy League Hostel was mentioned—is it going to become another war casualty?

There always seems enthusiasm in our town on July 1st. Maybe the result of the heat. At any rate it seems to be forgotten by August. Then there is that rink—up on the hill. Why hasn't someone seen the possibility of a good business in a rink?

There seems to be talk and no effort instead of effort first and talk after. What we need is co-operation—a spirit of help for the other fellow for the common good of all. There is no place for criticism here in Digby but instead effort and support are needed. The town has been dying during the last three months and will be nearer death soon. What are we going to do to take up the slack?

There is lack of employment in Digby and this lack will increase. We hear people say, "Oh, we can depend on a good tourist business." Yes, there is the Pines Hotel to be opened next year, but it is a self-contained unit. The other hotels of our town were out-moded in 1940—they are gone now. Our future is at stake—is all well with Digby?

What of the future of our families? They are going to leave Digby because there are no opportunities here.

Yes, we have a beautiful country, unstinted bodies, and energetic young folk. All that is wrong could be rectified with a little effort. The younger men should feel honoured by a chance to serve on the town council.

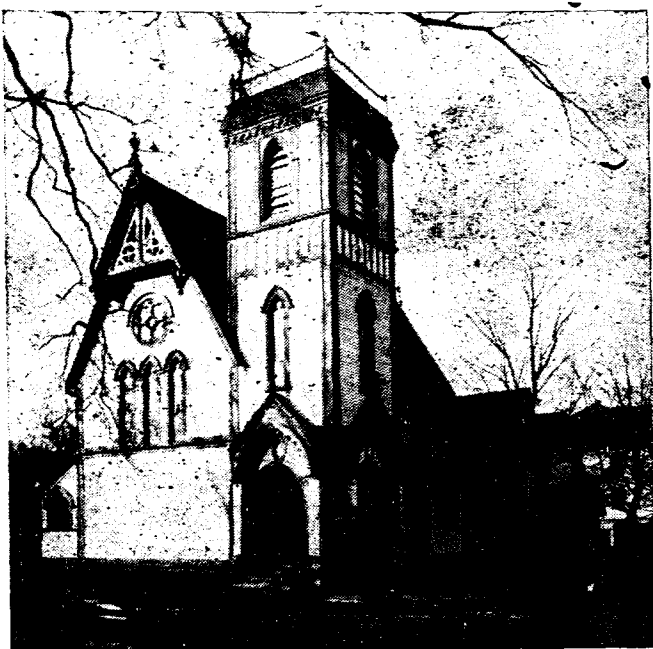

Why sit back and criticize the men who have done their best and are doing their best? Take a hand with a spirit of civic pride. Get some industry, why wait for the tourists alone?

In closing Father Murphy again stressed the fact that Digby was his town as well as ours, that he had no intention to criticize but wished to stir up enthusiasm particularly in the younger men. It is a broadness of vision that is needed, a feeling of all for one and one for all. Should we be personally satisfied with Digby?

Addresses Supper Meeting

Principal F. C. Purdy, of the Digby Academy, was guest speaker at a supper meeting of the Baptist Men's Brotherhood, Tuesday evening. In a very stirring address on the subject of the school and its place in the Community Mr. Purdy stated that the school should be a living memorial for the guidance of the younger generation and the educational and cultural centre of the town. He also stressed the advantages to be found in the development of a Home and School Association and stated that in communities where these had been organized greater interest in the schools and in school problems had been fostered.

President J. W. Christie presided over the meeting and among the guests was S. W. Crook, Victory Loan Organizer. In a few remarks Mr. Crook paid tribute to the work of volunteer committees in the success of the loan, and stated that he had enjoyed his stay in Digby greatly.

CELEBRATES 106th ANNIVERSARY

With the church filled to overflowing with worshippers for both the morning and evening services, the Digby United Baptist Church celebrated on Sunday the 106th anniversary of its organization.

A special feature of the morning service was the unveiling of the Honour Roll by Mrs. Howard Anderson, listing sixty-six members and adherents of the congregation, who had served their King and Country during World War II. The names were read by Major M. C. Denton, clerk of the church, two of whom had paid the supreme sacrifice. Following the unveiling and reading of the names inscribed on the Roll, the congregation remained standing for two minutes' silence in memory of Kenneth Donnelly and Ross Turnbull.

Kenneth Donnelly lost his life in the early days of fighting in Normandy. Ross Turnbull was killed in the Italian campaign.

H. M. Warne Heads Kiwanis

H. M. Warne was elected president of the Kiwanis Club of Digby at the club's weekly luncheon at the Myrtle House, Monday. Other officers elected were: C. M. Levy, 1st Vice President; J. M. Wallis, 2nd Vice President; C. W. Smith, treasurer.

Election of directors resulted in the following being elected: H. J. Campbell, Scott Eaton, Rev. T. W. Hodgson, Tom Matheson, Rev. Leo Murphy, G. H. Peters and Roy Sypher.

Three ballots were taken for the election of vice president, each of the ballots resulting in a tie between C. M. Levy and J. M. Wallis. On motion they were made 1st and 2nd vice presidents respectively.

Visiting Oddfellows Put on Degree

Last Friday evening was a night to be remembered in local Oddfellow circles. Over one hundred gathered in the lodge room to see the first degree conferred on a large class of candidates by Sunbeam Lodge, of Middleton. A large delegation from Crescent Lodge, of Bridgetown, as well as visitors from lodges in MacAdam Junction, Bear River and Lawrencetown were among those present. Of the candidates four were from St. George Lodge, six from Sunbeam and one from Crescent. After the Lodge closed a social hour was enjoyed.

Laymen Gather

Anglican Laymen from nearly every parish in the Deanery gathered in Annapolis Tuesday evening for the first meeting of the Deanery Laymen's Association to be held since the outbreak of war. Special speaker for the occasion was Mr. Vincent of All Saints' Cathedral Laymen's Association, Halifax. Mr. Vincent gave a very fine address and urged greater activity in local parish associations.

Although inclement weather kept many from attending, a large number were present, representative of nearly every parish in the Deanery.

A special prayer of thanksgiving and praise was then said in unison for God's goodness to his people and for the faith and sacrifice of those who served.

In a strong sermon, Rev. J. E. DeLong paid tribute to those who had, from the years gone by to the present, served their church and their country.

A special and very moving feature of the evening service was the repetition in unison by the congregation of the Church Covenant. This statement of faith and purpose made by the whole congregation present, in unison, was very impressive.

Special music for both services was rendered by the choir under the leadership of Hedley Dakin, ably assisted by organist, Mrs. Guy Morehouse. Several anthems were sung and solo's were rendered by Hedley Dakin and Raymond Winchester, the latter having only recently returned from overseas.

MARRIAGE

Titus - McKinnon

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the home of the bride's parents, Smith's Cove, Saturday evening, Nov. 17, when Mildred Geraldine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. McKinnon became the bride of Russell Hanson Titus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Algonzo Titus. Rev. T. F. McWilliam, pastor of the Baptist church, performed the ceremony.

The bride entered the room on the arm of her father. She wore a floor length gown of white satin with veil. A necklace of pearls was her only ornament. She carried a bouquet of carnations. Attending her as bridesmaid was her sister, Mrs. Douglas Titus, who was gowned in pink angel suede with shoulder length veil and her bouquet was carnations and lilies. The maid of honor was Mrs. Donald McKinnon, sister of the groom, who was dressed in silk crepe flowered gown with shoulder length veil and her bouquet was carnations. The flower girl, dressed in pale blue angel suede, floor length, was little Margaret Titus, niece of both bride and groom.

The groom was supported by his brother, Douglas Titus, and his brother-in-law, Donald McKinnon. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home, after which the bridal party left by auto in a shower of confetti. They will reside in Smith's Cove.

Clyden Denton, Winner

Clyden Denton, Little River is the winner of the pedigreed Cocker Spaniel pup, raffled under auspices of the Kiwanis Club of Digby. The lucky ticket, No. 238, was drawn at the Capitol Theatre, Tuesday evening.

The pup was donated by Mrs. Dominic Melanson, of Digby Kennels Reg., to the Digby Branch of the V.O.N. and ticketed off by the local Kiwanis Club. Proceeds will be turned over for the V.O.N. car fund.

Re-organize Association

The Home and School Association was re-organized at Church Point Monday night at the schoolhouse, after a lapse of several years. Rev. O. Hebert was appointed chairman of the meeting, which was attended by a very substantial representation of the parents.

Rev. Hebert gave a brief outline of the aim of the Home and School Association, explaining point by point the benefits that can be received by such an association, after which he introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Joseph P. Doucet, a former professor at St. Ann's College and present manager of the Clare Co-operative Company Ltd., of Little Brook.

Mr. Doucet told those present that he had visited many schools in Clare in the last two years and was always pleased to visit them. He went on to tell how he had introduced the "School Bank" which treated with the co-operation of the pupils with the teachers, and medals and ribbons were given to the most efficient students of each class at the end of the month. The "School Bank" is for keeping the points amassed by each pupil and those having the highest amount of points each month receive a badge of honor which he or she wears on the coat lapel. He mentioned the fact that a marked improvement in class marks since this system was introduced.

Mr. Doucet claimed that we should try to enrich our children with moral, physical, intelligent and material richness. This can be obtained in the schools and church without which we all would be reaping disastrous results. Our problem today is our children and their welfare, he told those present, and they are the glory of our own district of Clare.

A group of schoolchildren sang "Evangeline" and sang a song of welcome before the meeting got underway.

President: Mrs. Edmond Melanson.

Vice-President: Joseph P. Doucet.

Secretary-Treasurer: Miss Adele Doucet.

Membership Committee: Edmond Melanson, Mrs. Frank H. LeBlanc, Mrs. Willie LeBlanc.

Social Committee: Alphonse LeBlanc, Albert Melanson, Mrs. Louis W. LeBlanc.

Program Committee: The three teachers.

Make Presentation

The ladies of the Smith's Cove Baptist Sewing Circle held their weekly afternoon meeting on November 7 at the home of Mrs. Wm. Berry. Following the work period a social hour was held in honor of Mrs. Gordon Landers, who is leaving soon to reside in Digby for the winter.

Mrs. Landers was presented with a gift and flowers by the president, Mrs. George Larramore, on behalf of the Circle members.

Refreshments were served including a lovely cake, made and donated by Mrs. Geo. Winchester. Those serving were the hostess, Mrs. Larramore, Mrs. G. Winchester and Miss Florence Berry.

Mrs. Landers will be greatly missed in the community this winter. Her interest in church activities and her charming personality have made for her a large number of friends who will look forward greatly to her return in the spring.

"House Warming" at Granville Ferry

Mrs. Florence Willett, teacher at Granville Ferry, was recently given a very jolly house-warming at her new home which she recently purchased in the village. Mrs. Willett, although taken completely by surprise, gave the guests a cordial welcome and a very pleasant evening followed. Games and music were enjoyed as well as social conversation. During the evening Mrs. Willett was presented with a very nice leather hassock, the presentation being made by Mrs. R. H. Bond on behalf of those present. Mrs. Willett thanked the guests for their kindness, in her charming manner, and invited them to come again. Delicious refreshments were served.

F. W. Robinson Jr., W. W. Vidito, R. E. Cook and J. D. Everett were among those returning on the Puncher and Queen Elizabeth, which docked in Halifax recently.

POWER BOARD TAKES FORWARD STEP

In a move to provide extra electrical energy at times when the system of the Digby County Power Board is overloaded, and to give the Board an opportunity of giving their generating system a much needed overhaul and make necessary repairs, the Digby County Power Board on Sunday, November 11th made connection with the 46000 volt line of the Nova Scotia Power Commission which serves the Naval Base at Cornwallis. This connection, which is to be a permanent arrangement, was made at Acaciaville to the lines of the N.S. P.C., which had been extended back of the village of Bear River and down the Lansdowne Road. A sub-station has been erected at Acaciaville to transform the power from 46,000 volts down to 11500 and to feed this power to the Digby County system.

The Power Board had originally planned to increase its generating facilities at Sissiboo Falls but the rapid increase in power consumption in the county coupled with inability to secure new equipment caused the board to make the new connection with the lines of the N.S.P.C. The new arrangement will ensure energy users through the county of a more steady supply of power and will greatly ease the load on the County system which at times is overloaded. It will also give the Board an opportunity of closing down part of their generating system for repairs and overhauling which they have not been able to do due to the heavy demands on the system. Energy will also be supplied to the N. S. P. C. Lines through the connection at Acaciaville by the Power Board during off peak hours which, it is expected, will balance off the cost of the power supplied by the N. S. P. C. during the times when the Digby system reaches its capacity and draws on this power.

Plans are now underway also to extend the Power Board lines from the new sub-station, Acaciaville, through Hill Grove, North Range to Sissiboo Falls, providing a "tie-in" to the generating plant at the Falls and to provide power through these sections. This plan is a great forward step in the Board's plan to provide more rural electrification for Digby County. The new system from Acaciaville through to Sissiboo Falls will be a three-phase 11,500 volt line.

High School Students Hold Parley at Annapolis

Students from Annapolis, Digby, Bear River, Bridgetown and Middleton gathered at Annapolis Royal Academy recently to discuss plans for the organization of a council to govern such inter-scholastic activities as athletics, dramatics and debating.

The meeting was presided over by Colin Fair, president of the Student Council of Annapolis Royal Academy. Miss Yvonne Bent, of Bridgetown acted as secretary pro-tem. A constitution committee headed by Eugene Handsaker, Digby, presented suggestions for the organization of the executive, the voting power of each delegation and many other details necessary to the working efficiency of the association.

Colin Fair, of Annapolis, was made president, Billy Winfield, of Digby, was elected Vice-President, Doris Reade, Bear River, Secretary and Joan Andrews, of Middleton, Treasurer.

Uneven Match

During the height of Tuesday's storm a clerk in one of Digby's stores was discovered desperately endeavoring to hold back 30 foot tides that already flooded the basement by bailing out the water with a pail.

UNUSUAL HIGH TIDE DOES DAMAGE

Phenomenally high tides, accompanied by south-easterly winds of gale force, combined to wreak great damage to Digby's waterfront on Tuesday morning. The storm, breaking shortly after daybreak increased in velocity with the incoming tide and by noon with tremendous force lashed the water front of the town.

In addition to severe damage to water front properties, merchants of the town whose places of business are located on the east side of Water Street suffered losses that will probably run into a fairly large figure. For the most part these losses comprise Christmas merchandise, flour, groceries and other merchandise stored in the basements for these buildings.

Merchants hardest hit through loss and damage to stock were O. Wright, the Royal Department Store, and A. R. Turnbull, although few waterfront business blocks escaped without some damage to their wares and buildings by the tides that flooded their basements. A. R. Turnbull stated that in the more than forty years he has been in business he had never seen water come so high in his basement, and said the storm more than matched the intensity of the 1929 storm in which a large section of the Digby waterfront was carried away, and with it the pavilion that stood next to the Digby bandstand. The 1929 storm, however, lasted two days.

At the Racquette the wharf of Floyd Snow was carried away along with the warehouse which stood on it. The wreckage piled up on the Racquette bridge, tearing down part of the bridge railing and making the bridge im-

Women's Institute

The November meeting of the Smith's Cove and Joggin Bridge Women's Institute was held with Miss Cumming.

Reports were presented by the committee in charge of overseas boxes and the entertainment Hall to raise money to help in this work. Several boxes have been packed and mailed to our men who are still overseas. The report brought in by Mrs. Landers, delegate to the annual convention, in Kentville, was most interesting and gave plenty of ground for work.

One aim is to create a scholarship which can be given to two rural girls for courses at the Agricultural College. They hope to take up several of the suggested subjects for work during the coming winter.

Plans were made for a tea to be held at Miss Cumming's the last week in this month, also to arrange for packing the boxes of "Christmas Cheer" for the shut-ins.

At the close of the meeting Miss Cummings served tea. During this pleasant period the members staged a pleasant surprise for her in the form of a lovely birthday cake.

The December meeting will be with Mrs. Oakley Smith. Program — Christmas tree and exchange of small gifts.

E. Wynn, R.C.A.F., is spending a few days in town. Before his enlistment he was manager of the Capitol Theatre here.

passable for a time. At the height of the storm high waves passed completely over the bridge.

Piling under the shoe repair shop and residence of Melbourne Comeau was almost completely forced out by pressure of wind and waves leaving the building in a precarious position standing on only a few posts. Piling at the end of the Masonic Hall were driven under the building and the cellar flooded.

Snow Bros. wharf at the rear of the A. R. Turnbull store was tilted over when piling under the pier gave away. Plank decking on the wharf was forced up by pressure of the water and considerable damage done.

The bulk of the scallop fleet tied up at the wharves before the storm broke, moved to the lee of the Smith's Cove shore for shelter. Those that remained at the piers were battered although no serious damage to these boats had been reported. A small motor boat tied up at the Racquette was driven ashore.

The Princess Helene from Saint John was unable to dock until shortly before three o'clock. The big steamer took shelter in the lee of the Granville shore until she was able to make port.

At times the government pier was completely submerged by the seas that lashed over it.

No severe damage was reported from other centres. At Centreville slight damage was done to a pier, and all along Digby Neck fishing boats were hauled above the tides.

At Culloden Monday's high tides caused some damage to the government pier, but no damage was experienced Tuesday, the wind being off shore.

About This and That

The world's most famous mayor is coming to this country. Edouard Herriot, former premier of France, is probably also the mayor with the longest tenure who is still in office. He served as mayor of Lyons, a city of more than half a million population, from 1905 to 1940, when the German occupation forced him out. He did not give up his post even when serving as premier, and it is as a mayor that he is coming here. He has accepted Mayor LaGuardia's invitation to attend the forthcoming meeting in New York of the American Association of Mayors. Anyone with the least experience of American politics must respect the ability of a man who can stay in the chief office of a great city for 35 years. Joseph Chamberlain, the storm centre of English politics from 1880 to 1906 and the father of Neville Chamberlain, Churchill's unfortunate predecessor as prime minister, was long mayor of Birmingham, and made the city over. American mayors find the going harder. Half a century ago Chicago had the two Carter Harrisons, father and son, who served term after term. New Bedford, Mass., boasted Charles H. Ashley, who was elected more than a score of times. And then there is Jersey City's Frank Hague, who has been in longer than the rest of the country like to think of. But not one can equal Herriot's record.

Viewed in retrospect, the exclusion of Russia from the Allied Nations' custody and use of the atomic bomb may be regarded as a rather serious mistake. It seemed to assume that the Russians were not to be trusted, and they have apparently taken it in that light. There can be no half-way policy in such matters. Either a nation fighting on the Lord's side must be accepted as a full-fledged and self-respecting participant in knowledge of Allied plans, or it must be cast into outer darkness. And in a time of such delicacy as this, on all the important fronts of war and military policy, it is probably essential that the participants should be accepted, and should regard themselves as equals. Otherwise perilous cleavages and misunderstandings will occur.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Marjorie LeBlanc

The death of Mrs. Marjorie LeBlanc, aged 83 years, occurred Friday night. She was abed but six months and resided at the old homestead in Church Point with her son, Denis. She leaves to mourn her two sons, Denis, at home, and George, in Dorchester, Mass.

William H. Saulnier

W. H. Saulnier, a veteran of the 1st World War, died suddenly at his home, Meteghan, early Thursday morning, following a heart attack. Although he was under medical care his illness was not considered to be so serious as he assisted in the military parade and ceremonies of the Armistice Day at the Sacred Heart Church, Saulnierville on Sunday, November 11, and his death at 4 o'clock on November 15 was quite unexpected. He was born 51 years ago, son of the late Hilaire Saulnier and Mrs. Rose Saulnier, formerly Boudreau, of St. Alphonse de Clare. His first wife, Lizzy Comeau, predeceased him three years ago, and two daughters survive: Mrs. Fred Thahan (Lees) and Marie, at Meteghan. His second wife, (Gladys Doucet) survives, also his aged mother, seven brothers and two sisters: Frank, Paul, James, Thomas and Mrs. Elizabeth Wilmet, all in the United States; Joseph, Augustin, Alphonse, R.C.A.F. and Cleothilde, at St. Alphonse de Clare, and Mrs. Madeline Deveau, Beaver River.

Funeral service with Solemn High Mass of Requiem was at 9 o'clock Saturday morning in the Stella Maris temporary church, conducted by Right Rev. Msgr. J. E. Bourneuf, D.P., F.V., pastor, assisted by Rev. Fr. Hebert, C.J.M., pastor at St. Mary's Church Point and Rev. Fr. Castonguay, C.J.M., pastor at Saulnierville. Mrs. Joseph S. LeBlanc was at the organ. The mortuary singing was rendered by Arthur Robichaud, Andre Robichaud and A. F. Hache. There was a large attendance and we noted many veterans, returned and local soldiers.

E. P. Deveau had charge of the burial and the bearers were: Ierne, Thomas and John Robichaud (nephew) and Edward LeBlanc.

The Maple Tree

O Canada! land of my birth,
How proudly I watch you, to-day.
O Canada! land so well worth
The wars men fight — the brave men pray.
O maple leaf! dyed deeper red,
In every clime, by deeds sublime.
With brave blood that your sons have bled;
Your deeds will live while time is time.
O lion's cub! with claws now
bared;
Shamrock—thistle—and fleur-de-lis—
With rose this fight, you have all shared;
You now grow on the maple tree.

Montcalm and Wolf must watch with pride
From that land where flags are blended,
Lily and rose grow side by side
In this land so well defended.

O Canada! land of my birth,
United with those who unite
That last peace shall fill the earth;
Tis of you, I so proudly write.

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor of the Courier:
Sir:—May I take this opportunity of expressing, through the columns of your paper, to the people of Digby Town and County my sincere and heartfelt appreciation of their splendid co-operation and assistance during the Ninth Victory Loan Campaign just ended.

I should especially like to thank Major M. C. Denton of Digby, County Chairman of the National War Finance Committee, who has, through three loans, given of his time and talents freely and without remuneration in order to assist in the work of the campaign. Much of our success must be attributed to his fine efforts.

To everyone in the Town and County who assisted in any way in the Victory Loan may I say "Thank You." Through your efforts and your investments Digby has again gone "over the top."

Sincerely yours,
S. W. C. Cook,
Unit Organizer.

To the Editor of the Courier:
Sir:—I have heard some adverse criticism of the Digby Civic Band for taking no part in the Armistice Day celebration last Sunday. It is only fair to the band members to say that I contacted leading members of the Veterans' Organization two weeks in advance and asked if the services of the Band were needed. I was told they were not needed. So that's that.

During almost fourteen years of this Band's existence, we have never, to my knowledge, refused to serve any public, patriotic or civic event free of charge, usually to the satisfaction of the public, and often at serious inconvenience to the band members.

The Band numbers only 15 players today, but we have good reason to believe that several former players will soon be home to help us in re-forming an excellent Band of which Digby may be proud.

Yours truly,
The Bandmaster.

The Misses Loretta and Yvonne Thibault, accompanied Anselm Thibault to Halifax Saturday. Mr. Thibault, who is employed in Halifax, spent several days of last week visiting his aunt, Mrs. Wm. Thibault.

Peter Blinn launched his gasoline fishing boat Thursday afternoon. The boat is 39 feet long and is powered with a Cadillac twelve cylinder motor. The boat, with cabin, is a sturdy boat and will be used for the coming lobster season which will open on December 1st. Edward LeBlanc, of Grosses Coques, will be his partner for the coming season and they intend to have about 200 traps set. With the approach of the lobster season, Church Point wharf is a very busy place. The local fishermen are getting their traps ready. Most of them will have from 150 to 200 traps each set when the season opens. The Grosses Coques fishermen use the Church Point wharf due to the poor condition of their own wharf. There will be about twelve boats fishing out from here.

Wilfred Thibodeau and his brother Emile have had a new boat built at Bellevue's Cove, as also has Frank Boudreau, built by Theriault, Theodore Dugas and Georges LeBlanc are having a boat built by Fred Thimot, of Little Brook, and they expect to have their boat in the water when the fishing season opens. Their boat will be approximately 35 feet long.

The local fishermen are having larger boats made and are having cabins built on the fore part. Due to the tides they have to remain at anchor for hours at a time to wait for the proper tide to enter at the wharf and with cabins on their boat, they at least can be comfortable while waiting for sufficient water to come in.

Gems of Thought

KINDLINESS

The best portion of a good man's life is his little, nameless, unremembered acts of kindness and of love.

—Wordsworth

Kindness in ourselves is the honey that blunts the sting of unkindness in another.

—Landor

A pure affection, concentric, forgetting self, forgiving wrongs and forestalling them, should swell the lyre of human love.

—Mary Baker Eddy

It is one of the beautiful compensations of life that no man can sincerely try to help another without helping himself.

—Bailey

Those who bring sunshine to the lives of others cannot keep it from themselves.

100 MILES per HOUR on FIRESTONE SYNTHETICS

BECAUSE OF THESE FIRESTONE EXTRA VALUES—

Yes, you can be sure of Firestone tires standing up to any practical speed you will ever travel. Wilbur Shaw, the famous race driver, definitely proved that for you in an actual speedway test.

Shaw drove for 500 miles at an average speed of 100 miles per hour on the straightaways he hit 135 miles per hour.

Not a skid or blowout occurred in this gruelling test—equal to 50,000 miles of ordinary driving.

You may never want to drive at 100 miles per hour but it's mighty comforting to know your Firestone tires have the reserve strength and stamina to stand up to any demand you could ever make of them. When you are able to buy tires insist on having Firestone DeLuxe Champion tires on your car.

FOR LIGHTER WHITER BAKING

Miss Louise Daley, local bird fancier, succeeded in capturing last week a mocking bird, a very rare bird in these parts. These birds inhabit the southern United States and it is only rarely that one is seen as far north as this.

R. W. Tufts, Migratory Bird officer, states that he has record of only a very few being seen in Nova Scotia over a period of many years.

The bird is very attractive, being a pretty dark grey on the back with a lighter grey breast, black and white markings on the wings and white feathers in the tail. It appears somewhat larger than a robin and has a long tail.

Miss Daley says that the bird, which she captured in a trap while it was feeding in the grape vine, at the rear of her home, seems very contented in its large, roomy cage and is eating heartily of bird seed, bread and milk, hard boiled egg and its favorite food, grapes.

Final disposition of the bird will depend on R. W. Tufts, Bird Officer, but Miss Daley hopes that she will be allowed to keep it until spring so that she may hear it in song.

T. B. Seal Campaign Underway

The 1945 T.B. Christmas Seals have gone out in the mails. Shortly collectors will be calling at your homes and places of business. The local T.B. Seal Committee asks that you try and be prepared for them, thus saving them time and return trips while time is still at a premium.

By this time all are aware of the double duty performed by T.B. Christmas Seals. Not only do they decorate your Christmas mail and packages, but each T.B. Christmas Seal represents a contribution on your part to help some unfortunate victim of that dread disease, tuberculosis.

Your purchases of T.B. Christmas Seals have done more to help in preventing the spread of this terrible disease and bringing cures to its victims than has any other effort you have made to the cause.

T.B. Christmas Seals are doing much to permanently stamp out tuberculosis. Help to close the sanatoriums—not through lack of nurses, but through lack of patients—it can be done.

turned in by Tim Doucet of New Edinburgh. A new exhibitor this year Mr. Doucet brought four foxes to the show and went away with five prizes, one first, three seconds and a reserve.

One of the most prominent exhibitors was S. U. Messenger, the well known Bridgetown rancher. Mr. Messenger had 16 foxes in the show and won seven first prizes, including the champion of the pearl platinum.

In many cases competition was very keen. Judge L. J. Simard, of Quebec, being called on to use all his skill before giving an opinion.

Going about his work in a business-like way Mr. Simard took time out after the places had been awarded to explain why he had chosen certain foxes first, and whenever it looked to the audience and breeders that there was very little to choose between two foxes he pointed out the little flaws that relegated a certain animal to second or third position.

At Thursday night's largely attended banquet at the Riverside Inn, Mr. Simard gave the breeders some very interesting pointers on the fox industry. Presided over by Raymond A. LeBlanc, Meteghan, Agricultural Representative and president of the Clare Breeders Club under whose auspices the show is conducted, and one of the officials responsible for the outstanding success of the show.

Several speakers were heard, including Hon. J. Willie Comeau, Mr. Comeau, who with his brother, started the fox industry in the Clare district, praised the work of the officials and the quality of the foxes displayed. Other speakers heard were Dr. Wilfred Todd, a Boston buyer, who annually visits the Nova Scotia exhibit, Dr. E. E. I. Hancock, Provincial Animal Pathologist, A. B. Banks, Superintendent of Nova Scotia Agricultural Societies, and R. Timney, of Summerside. Following the enjoyable dinner a dance was held with fine music provided by the Yarmouth Academy orchestra.

Credit for the success of the show is being given to the capable officials who besides President LeBlanc, included J. Harley Deveau, the efficient secretary whose position in the club entails much hard work. Mrs. D. J. Robicheau, the stenographer who kept the records.

Also very much in the limelight and ever willing to lend a helping hand were the "Kellogg" boys, Benoit Langlois, Quebec City; Rene Desfores, Montreal, and R. J. Boyd of Yarmouth. Another admirable feature was the great co-operation among the various exhibitors, all of whom were ready at any time to help their rivals in preparing and showing the entrants. Several sales were made as buyers picked the ones they wanted and bargained for their purchase with the owners. From here many of those attending this week's show will be in Summerside for the big annual show, which starts in that city next week, while others are getting ready to enter exhibits in the mink show slated for Bridgetown in two weeks.

Meteghan

Ernest Robichaud has returned from a visit with his mother, Mrs. Eva Robichaud and other relatives and friends in New Haven, Conn., and New York.

Edward J. Maillet, gas-line distributor, killed a white deer weighing about 150 lbs., on Nov. 14. This phenomenon has attracted a large number of visitors. It was the first seen in this hunting section.

On Saturday evening a shower was tendered Miss Regine Sullivan on the eve of her wedding by a large number of relatives and friends at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Dawson Keizer. She was the recipient of numerous nice and rich wedding gifts.

Wolfville Editor Passes

The death of Harlan P. Davidson, editor of the Wolfville "Acadian", occurred at his home in that town on Thursday of last week. He was 53 years of age, and had been confined to his home of the past two months.

Mr. Davidson was one of the most influential editors in the Maritimes, and his paper, the "Acadian", is considered one of the finest weekly newspapers in the Dominion, the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association award to the best all around weekly newspaper with a circulation of under 1,000 has been won on several occasions by this newspaper.

In Mr. Davidson the newspaper has lost an outstanding member.

The largely attended funeral of the late Byron Delaney was held from his home on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. J. M. Jones, pastor of the Baptist Church. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Hymns rendered were, "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Abide With Me".

Teachers Are Back

The school teacher shortage has been relieved by the return of war veterans. Only 25 to 35 rural schools are without instructors now compared with more than 200 when classes opened in September. Number of closed schools is about the same as last year. Education officials are hoping to open these as soon as teachers can be found.

Experience Heavy Storm

Digby experienced one of the severest fall storms in several years on Thursday of last week. Heavy north east winds blew all Wednesday night and continued through Thursday, accompanied by rain, hail and snow.

The Princess Helene, unable to dock due to the heavy winds and high seas, was forced to lay in the lee of the Granville shore until early Friday morning, when she finally made port. An army detachment of nearly fifty men forced to remain in Digby over night Thursday due to the boats not docking, found shelter at the Hostel as did about thirty other service men who had to remain in Digby overnight.

By evening on Thursday the rain had turned definitely to snow and soon the ground became white with the first snowfall of the season. The weather continued cold and windy Friday, and the kiddies had a grand time coasting on the little strips of ice and the odd patches of snow deep enough for the purpose. The snow continued intermittently through Friday when heavy flurries gave the appearance of a real winter blizzard.

By Saturday the storm had completely disappeared and the bright sun had cleared most of the snow away although the youngsters seemed reluctant to believe it was gone, dragging the gravel trying to find a spot of ice or snow big enough for a "coast."

County Again Exceeds Quota

Reaching a figure never before attained in any previous Victory Loan Campaign, Digby County again went "over the top" in the Ninth Victory Loan just ended.

According to the final figures released by local headquarters on Monday, the General Sales total had reached $941,350 mark with $11,500 Special Names sales bringing the overall sales total to $952,850. Pay roll Savings sales in the County amounted to $35,400.

General Sales quota for the County was set at $700,000, the highest for any campaign, while the payroll savings quota was $30,000.

Every canvassing district in the county exceeded its quota with some going far over their objective. Digby Town reached over 170 per cent of its quota with sales amounting to $310,000. Objective for the town was set at $180,000. Bear River district more than doubled its quota of $30,000, with sales amounting to $64,850. Digby Neck district went over its quota of $110,000 with sales of $110,400. The Weymouth area with a quota of $110,000 reached $115,550, while the district of Clare reached $305,450, well over its quota of $240,000.

Home and School and Education Week

From thousands of homes across Canada young feet are hurrying—loitering on their way to school. There they spend the most of the sunshine hours in buildings all the way from the little "Knowledge Boxes" by the side of the road to the beautiful High Schools, Academies or Colleges.

Not so long ago another step entered this vast procession—men and women who realize that if their sons and daughters are to receive the personality development which they would wish for them the home must go to school to add parent power, to school power, and so the Home and School Movement was born.

Education week was started some years ago in the country by the Canadian Teachers' Federation and the Home and School is in full cooperation with the idea. We have, as convener of Education Week programs, C. E. Edwards, Principal of Middleton Schools, from whom the following is quoted:

"Home and School leaders may assume with pride a large share of responsibility for bringing into being a Better Canada. No other organization is better suited than the Home and School Partnership for the undertaking of this task. Its members form a cross section of the general public, the very people we must reach and influence before anything great can be expected in Educational improvement. First, there must come on the part of the public a recognition of the need for a better Educational system for Canada. It is to the degree in which we succeed in dispelling public indifference and complacency in Educational matters that Educational reform will come, for in a democracy Governments must carry out the wishes of the people for whom they legislate. Through well organized Educational Week programs sponsored by Home and School Associations, the aims of Education week can be realized—Up-to-date teachers believe that the education of children is a team job for the home and the school. Education Week would be a particularly effective time to organize a new Home and School Association, to get other communities interested, so that they too may share in the building of a Better Canada. In no other form of Government is Education so necessary as in a democracy where the weight of public opinion with its inquiry, criticism and demand is the base upon which the whole structure rests. Only an educated public opinion counts for progress and only through Education can prejudice be replaced by good will and understanding.

Little River

(Held over from last week.) Osborne Trask has purchased the attractive property formerly owned by Douglas Denton, now living in Saint John.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Denton, of Westport, were guests here for a few days on their return from Halifax and Lawrencetown.

The Community Hall was filled to capacity on Tuesday evening to see "Cowboy's Canteen" which was enjoyed by all present.

Ralph and Clarence Denton, we understand, have purchased the Sanford farm at Lake Midway and intend logging it this coming winter.

We are very glad to report two community, Wilbert Denton and Burpee Frost, who are in ill health, have improved sufficient to be about again.

Mr. and Mrs. Powell, who have been living in this village for the summer months have returned to their home for the winter.

Hillsburn

(Held over from last week.) Miss Eunice Potter, teacher, is spending a few days at her home in Clementsvalle.

Miss Ruth Longmire, who has been employed at the Hillsdale House, is spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Longmire.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Longmire spent an enjoyable afternoon and evening with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Everett, on Friday of last week.

Mrs. Longley Hamilton is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. H. Anderson and Mr. Anderson, of Annapolis Royal.

The school friends of Marguerite Condon sent her a basket of fruit, candy, etc. Marguerite has been away from school for some time because of an injury to a leg. Much improvement is noted and it is hoped she will be back in school soon.

CONDUCT WEAVING AT CHURCH POINT

The first class of handcraft in weaving was held last week at the Bay Breeze Inn at Church Point with Miss Simone Belliveau in charge as instructress. Miss Belliveau is employed by the Departments of Industries of Nova Scotia to teach the people, who so desire, the art of weaving. She has the district of Clare and will hold classes in different localities from time to time. Classes in weaving. It is surprising what can be done in the line of weaving and it is both instructive and entertaining to watch the ladies working at the looms. The looms employed in learning the art are table looms. The first lessons were in weaving scarfs, the designs of which were of different pattern, each lady taking their turn on different occasions in learning to weave each intricate design. It is surprising how easy it is to learn to weave and what can be done in this line. Here is one occasion where our government is taking steps to teach the people to help themselves.

We often hear that Nova Scotia has no industries, or at least not enough of them, but here is one industry that we could very well have. Good quality goods can be sold and it is hoped that the weaving industry will regain its place in this district. An industry in weaving can be started and we should be able to compete with other countries in this line.

Miss Simone Belliveau, the instructress in weaving, has several articles of cloth that she wove herself and they are very beautiful. Miss Belliveau wove a length of cloth while attending weaving classes, which she intends to have made into a coat. The cloth is of tan and brown check design.

This organization holds these meetings monthly at Weymouth and Weymouth North, alternately. An annual meeting is held at Barton.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Church of England held a business meeting and supper in Killam Hall Wednesday of last week, that was well attended.

Mrs. E. E. Gates returned Monday from Halifax where she had remained to visit after attending the Red Cross Convention there. Among former Weymouth residents visited by Mrs. Gates were Rex and Mrs. Pentz and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Potter. Those who remember Mrs. Potter will regret to learn that she has been hospitalized for the past six weeks, suffering from diabetes. Mr. Potter was a former manager of the local Royal Bank branch.

Williams - Shaw
A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Williams on Wednesday, November 14, when Rebecca Katherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Shaw, of Sydney and Halifax, was given in holy matrimony to Ralph Austin Williams, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Williams, of Weymouth.

Mrs. C. F. McBride has again volunteered to supply small decorated Christmas trees for the patients in Digby General Hospital this Christmas.

For more than ten years Mrs. McBride has made it a point to see that there is a decorated Christmas tree for every patient in the hospital at Christmas time. She is to be praised for her labor of love which has brought no end of cheer to those who are confined to hospital beds on Christmas day.

Rev. T. F. McWilliam Addresses Kiwanis

"Solving Our Problems" was the topic of an address given at the weekly luncheon of the Digby Kiwanis Club, Monday, by Rev. T. F. McWilliam, pastor of the Deep Brook and Smith's Cove United Baptist Churches. In his opening remarks he stressed the solution of many of the world's problems hinged on the peoples of the world creating a spirit of understanding and confidence in each other and doing away with the spirit of suspicion and fear now so evident among the nations of the world.

He went on to consider the problems of the returned men especially those who have come back maimed and injured. "These men are not seeking our pity but what they want is a square deal through which they will be woven into the fabric of everyday life," he commented, and went on to say he did not believe we could have a strong Canadian life if we allowed ourselves to be divided into three classes—veterans of World War I, veterans of World War II and civilians.

He also considered aid to farmers and fishermen in co-operation with them to solve their transportation, distribution and production problems and of the value of co-operation and good feeling among business men.

The value of publicity in bringing before the public the industrial and tourist advantages of the country was also stressed by the speaker.

An Appreciation

One never realizes how many friends one has until sickness or some momentous occasion arises! If I attempted to write a personal note of thanks to each one who so kindly remembered me while I was in hospital and since I'm afraid "writer's cramp" would set in. So, dear friends, I am taking this means of thanking you each and all—nurses, staff and doctors: The Rebekahs and others for beautiful flowers; the Karry-On Club and so many others who called or sent bright, cheery cards and notes to help make the time pass pleasantly. It surely is nice to be remembered and to feel that there are those who care.

Again thanking you all.
Sincerely yours,
H. Wallis

SEVERAL MISS DEATH IN BAD TRUCK CRASH

Several persons escaped death or serious injury at Weymouth, Monday evening, when a truck operated by James Marshall, of Marshalltown, and owned by H. T. Warne Ltd., Digby, went out of control and crashed into a car belonging to Richard Ameriault, of Weymouth.

The truck, laden with stove logs, continued its wild course crashing into the gas tanks in front of G. O. Hankinson's store, finally ending up against the side of the post office.

The Ameriault car was just pulling away from the curb when the accident happened. Passengers in the car were Edna and Kay Lovitt, Louise Dugas, Carrine Gaudet and Theodore Bell, all employees of Weymouth stores, who were being driven home by Mr. Ameriault, after their day's work.

The impact drove the car back several yards, wedging it between the Royal Store (Weymouth) and a telephone pole. The windows of the car were smashed and a door torn off.

All the passengers and driver were badly shaken by the crash and suffered minor injuries. None required hospital treatment.

One of the gas tanks was torn from its base and overturned, landing in front of the post office. The truck was badly damaged and its load of logs scattered about the area.

Kiwanis Official Visits Digby

"Larry" Tromley, of Chicago, representing Kiwanis International, has been in town this week helping and encouraging the members of the local club. This club, since its organization last spring, has had an up-hill task, principally because of the difficulty of finding a suitable place for its weekly luncheons. This difficulty was overcome a few months ago when the facilities of the Myrtle House were made available. Now, with a pleasant place in which to meet, a genial host and a good pianist, the luncheons have been very pleasant functions. The club took on a project to assist the V.O.N. in raising money for a car and in spite of difficulties have raised a fair sum. As a result of Mr. Tromley's visit and advice an increase in membership is looked for, with a corresponding increase in usefulness.

Rink Committee Meets

Decisions as to the operation of the Board of Trade Rink were reached at a meeting of the Rink Committee held last week. It was decided that free skating for the young people of the town should be provided each week day but one. Committee Chairman Ted Sanford was authorized to secure the services of a Rink Manager for the season. The matter of a hockey schedule for both senior and High School teams was also discussed as was the possibility of holding an Ice Carnival during the winter.

An outcome of the Rink Committee meeting Bernard Baxter was this week appointed rink manager, his duties to commence Dec. 1. Bernard has only recently returned home after serving with the R.C.N.V.R.

Hunting Dog Shot

A few weeks ago we published a story on "Nero," a hunting dog owned by M. A. McGrath, Victoria Beach. At that time the animal had been missing for some days, and it was feared he had been shot by some hunter.

We have since received a letter from Mrs. McGrath in which Mr. McGrath found the dog's body in a clump of alders near Port Wade. Apparently "Nero" had been deliberately shot and his collar stolen.

"Nero" had an excellent reputation as a hunter, not only in the woods around his master's home, but on a few occasions had been taken over to New Brunswick.

Attendance at Hostel Drops

Attendance at the weekly dances at the Navy League Hostel has dropped off a great deal lately due to lessening of service personnel at the Base. Because of discharges among the Cornwallis Band members it has been found no longer possible to secure an orchestra for the Hostel dances, which are held Saturday nights, but they are being continued to the strains of a "juke box."

The attendance at the weekly movies at the Hostel does not seem to have been so heavily affected as the dances. Nearly one hundred and fifty sailors with their guests attended Sunday night's showing. The mid-week show, previously held Wednesday evening, has been cancelled for some weeks. It was found that, after the submarine crews left that attendance did not warrant the operation.

Delegation Meets With Premier

A delegation representing the Annapolis Valley Boards of Trade met with Premier Angus L. MacDonald last week pressing action on the development of the Digby-Sheburne Highway, the paving of the Digby Neck Road, establishment of a national park at Blomidon, construction of a scenic road along the Bay of Fundy Shore from Delap's Cove and Victoria Beach and other matters of importance to the Valley Section of the province.

The delegation was received by Premier MacDonald and Industry Minister Connolly who examined the proposals closely and promised to give them their consideration.

No specific information was available concerning the Digby-Sheburne Road and the Government was asked if it would undertake a survey of the project. It was pointed out that the opening of this road would provide access to one of the largest game reserves and fishing sections of the province.

Representing the Digby Board on the delegation were President L. E. Shatford, C. F. McBride, C. W. Smith, F. L. Anderson and H. M. Warne.

T. B. Seal Sales

To date only one canvasser for the annual T. B. Christmas Seal campaign has completed their rounds report in her report. That report indicates the campaign is meeting with the same excellent response it has been given in previous years. Other canvassers who have not fully completed their rounds report they are being given a reception and indications are the campaign will be most successful.

In past years Digby citizens have given this campaign excellent support. This year should be no exception now that the war is over it is important the fight against tuberculosis should be carried on with even more vigor than before.

GENERAL H. D. G. CRERAR distinguished soldier who commanded the Canadian Army overseas has recently completed a tour of Military District No. 6 (Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island), and will begin his visit to Military District No. 7 (New Brunswick) today. He will be

POINT PRIM RADIO EQUIPMENT FOUND

The mystery of the disappearance of the Maritime Telephone and Telegraph Radio Transmitting Station at Point Prim, near Digby, was solved yesterday when it was learned the equipment was removed by naval personnel who had been given instructions to dismantle another plant at the lighthouse.

The missing equipment, valued at between $30,000 and $40,000 was recovered, packed and crated at Cornwallis yesterday morning, and taken back to Point Prim in the afternoon where a telephone crew, assisted by navy personnel are reinstalling the equipment.

The loss was discovered when a trouble man went to check on the equipment after another point reported messages were not going through the machine at Point Prim. Royal Canadian Mounted Police were called in to investigate and found tire marks indicating that the radio equipment had been removed by truck.

A. M. MacKay, general manager of the company, said that men experienced in radio work must have aided in the theft, as nothing was torn from the walls but was removed skillfully.

The system was reported "dead" at 1.55 p.m. Tuesday.

The Courier was advised yesterday that judging from physical appearances the equipment is in good order. Installation will be made immediately and complicated tests made today. Unless there are unforeseen difficulties, the plan should be in operation tomorrow.

The Point Prim station provides three channels between Nova Scotia and Saint John. Its loss would have meant a serious disruption to service.

Telephone company officials at Halifax speak highly of the excellent co-operation given by the local detachment of the R.C.M.P.

Discuss Rink Project

A spirited discussion of the "rink situation" in Digby featured Monday night's meeting of the Y's Men's Club held at the Jersey Farms Hotel. Members of the club expressed their desire to assist any effort to secure a modern, artificial ice rink for the town and it was decided that the secretary write the Board of Trade and the Kiwanis Club, expressing the Y's Men's interest in the rink project and asking that committees from these bodies be appointed to go into the matter with representatives from the Y's Men's Club and formulate some definite policy towards the attainment of the project. These committees would meet with a committee from the Y's Men's Club consisting of Clayton Snow and Jack Brittain.

In discussion it was pointed out that all organizations in the town should cooperate towards the securing of the rink as it was a much needed thing and would provide the nucleus of a "Youth Center" for the town. Mention of the possibility of securing the rink at Cornwallis was mentioned at the meeting and it was felt steps should be taken to investigate this. Possibilities of combining the rink project and a cold storage plant were also discussed.

The matter of holding a "Ladies' Night" was discussed at the meeting and it was decided that December 10 be the date. The entertainment committee was asked to make arrangements for the meeting.

Possibilities of the Club taking action in Community Service Work were discussed. Various members outlined ways in which the club could serve particularly in helping underprivileged children. Several cases in which assistance from some Service Club would have been greatly needed help was cited.

It was decided at the meeting that the Club would give its support to the Teeners' Club in their endeavors.

Improvements to Scout Hall Underway

Extensive improvements to the Scout Hall planned by the management committee are now underway. These plans call for the construction of a large addition to the present building which will house class rooms for the use of the Sea Cadets and the Teeners' Club. These class rooms, two in number, will be approximately 28 feet long by 11 feet wide and will have side walls that can be dropped in order to open them to the main hall thus providing extra seating accommodation for the main hall during entertainments and basketball matches.

The stage in the present hall is also to be enlarged and extended to the side of the building giving about 25 feet of stage frontage. New dressing rooms will also be constructed. The proposed changes in the stage will be completed in time for the Teeners' Club presentation of "Musical Nightcap" on December 13 and 14.

The basement under the new section of the hall is to be used for a target range for the Sea Cadets and storage and rest room facilities will be provided in the basement.

It is intended, when the increased accommodation is secured to extend the work of the Sea Cadets to incorporate a general program of Youth Training thus providing a well rounded educational set up for these boys. The new addition will also provide much needed club room space for the members of the Teeners' Club and will give this organization a much better chance of increasing its membership and enlarging its program.

The Scout Hall Management Committee in charge of the building is comprised of representatives from almost all of the town organizations and service clubs.

Annie Post, widow of John Post, age 84 years.

Mrs. Post was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Adams, of Bay View. She leaves to mourn one son, Clifford, of Boston, Mass., and a daughter, Mrs. Adams, of Digby.

Extensive work is being done on the Church Point wharf these days. The wharf was damaged severely in the heavy storm of last winter and it will take several weeks to repair it. Work is being done on all principal wharves along the shores in Clare. No wharf escaped damage in the storms last winter. It is noted that work is progressing favorably on Comeauville and Saulnierville wharves. Little Brook wharf, which was used sparingly, is not being repaired and it is a total loss now as succeeding heavy winds have dismantled the little that had remained standing. The wharves along St. Mary's Bay are busy like bee hives, the last few years, as more have been fishing in the bay than in former years. The high price of fish is one reason why more have taken part in the fishing industry in late years.

Berry - Woodworth

A pretty candle light service was performed at 8 o'clock, November 10, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Woodworth, of 8 Jeny Lind Street, North Easton, Mass., when their daughter, Miss Sadie Pauline Woodworth, became the bride of Dr. Bernard Lawrence Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin E. Berry, of 74 Gaston St., Medford, Mass.

Colorful chrysanthemums and palms were used as decorations.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Linwood Rowe, Whitman Mass. The maid of honor was Miss Harriett Woodworth, sister of the bride, and Norman Berry, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Miss Madeline Rowe, of Whitman, Mass., sang "Because." Other music played was "Deep In My Heart" and "Serenade" from "The Student Prince," played by Miss Margaret Zinck, of Medford.

The bride's dress was white chiffon with train, finger tip veil fastened to a Juliet cap of net and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses with an orchid centre, which was used as a corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Oliver Ames High School, North Easton, and the Household Nursing Association, Boston, while for the past two years has been working at the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital, at Jamaica Plain.

The bridegroom was graduated from Medford High School, attended Berkeley Prep School, Boston University College of Liberal Arts and was graduated from the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy. He interned at the Mass. Osteopathic Hospital in Jamaica Plain.

Sunday School
Holds Convention

Despite the inclemency of the weather a goodly number attended the M.R.E.C. Sunday School convention of Annapolis, Granville and Bay Shore district held in Granville Ferry United Church on Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Mrs. R. H. Bond deserves much praise in the very capable way in which on very short notice she played the part of acting president in the absence of the president, Mrs. Harry Burnie, of Hillsburn. Mrs. Bond led the sessions both afternoon and worker in the Sunday School was the secretary for the day. Rev. Dr. E. M. Baird of the United Church, was present in the afternoon and gave a short address. The special speaker for the day was Miss Lois Tupper, Field Secretary for the M.R.E.C. At the evening session the scripture reading was recited by three members of the Granville Ferry United Church, namely Marion, Helen and Barbara their Sunday School teacher. Gilliat (three little sisters); Miss Laura Hardy was present and asked them various questions about the Bible and about Bible pictures around one of the group mentioned. The Sunday School room. Their answers showed much care and effort had been spent by Miss Hardy in their training. A chorus by the junior choir of the Baptist Sunday School, Granville Ferry, was much enjoyed, also a solo by Miss Irene Mills, Irene, who is thirteen years old, possesses an exceptionally sweet voice and always brings pleasure to her listeners. Mrs. R. T. Chisholm was accompanist at the piano. Mrs. George McKenzie gave a vote of thanks to the ladies of the United Church for their cordial welcome to the visiting delegates and for the bountiful supper served by them to the visitors. The meeting was then turned over to the special speaker, Miss Lois Tupper. Miss Tupper has a brilliant mind as well as great charm of manner and holds her audience enthralled. All one has to do is glance around at the absorbed faces to see that one and all are intensely interested. Miss Tupper is vitally interested in her work and makes every one else interested as each new idea flashes in her clever mind you see it instantly reflected in her countenance, sometimes a little puzzled frown or doubt as she wonders why some children in the Sunday School flashing smile as she is sure that all children will be more interested if they have an understanding teacher, one who is not only interested in their Sunday School class on Sunday but from one Sunday to the next. Meet them, have good times with them and learn to know your class. She knows from experience how hard it is sometimes to get young people interested in Sunday School work but in her very instructive and helpful way she helps solve many problems that confront the Sunday School teacher today. Those who missed Miss Tupper missed something highly worth while hearing. The meeting closed with the benediction by Rev. L. B. Wright, of the Annapolis, Granville Baptist Churches.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

PICTURING THE FARM

68

If you want some good picture subjects, take the time to visit a farm. It's well worth it when you can get results like this.

Picture making on the farm is something that many town and city folk are likely to overlook. But it seems to me that a trip into the country, and a visit to a farm, is a fine thing for anyone with a camera—and a splendid way to spend a day at this time of year, getting pictures to send to those in the Service who always welcome snapshots of familiar scenes that recall happy days back home.

Picture making on the farm is one of those things that might begin with daylight if you're up that early—though I'll bet you're not. In any event, the earlier you get started the better, because then you can make a series of pictures as the farmer milks the cows, feeds the chickens, tends to the horses, and turns the stock out to pasture.

Working step by step—or picture by picture—in that fashion is an excellent way to approach any photographic subject, particularly one as big as a farm, because it keeps you from missing many worthwhile snapshot opportunities.

When going out on a picture-taking expedition be sure to choose your subjects carefully because, as you very well know, film is scarce. Think before you shoot and ask yourself, "Will that make an interesting picture?" If you are not sure—pass it up.

Don't fail to get some pictures of the men working in the fields. Look for interesting angles as they plow or harrow the land. If you stand back some distance you'll find that a plowman makes a perfect center of interest for a landscape.

Keep your eyes open and you'll find action, still-life, animal, story telling and human interest pictures in abundance everywhere that men work in the country.

John van Guilder

Mr. Hersey underwent a very serious operation in Toronto recently for the removal of cataracts that were gradually destroying his vision. Success of the operation which has partially restored his sight will be a great boon to Mr. Hersey who was greatly inconvenienced by his loss of sight.

Bandmaster Convalescening

The Courier is pleased to report that Bandmaster Paul Yates is convalescing and well on the way to recovery at the Digby General Hospital after his recent serious illness. Taken ill over a week ago with a severe lung congestion Mr. Yates was taken to the Hospital where his condition was considered very serious. Mr. Yates is now making a good recovery but it is expected that he will be hospitalized another week.

The Nova Scotia Liquor Commission has announced another increase in the province's ration of beer. The monthly quota is now three dozen quarts instead of two. The ration of hard liquor and wines continues unchanged.

Dies in Jap

Prison Camp

A copy of the Port Fairy Gazette, Port Fairy, Australia, tells of the death of Pte. Norman Francis Forsythe, who died in a Japanese prison camp. The paper was received by George Forsythe, proprietor of Colonial Arms Lodge, Deep Brook, a brother of the deceased, and is dated Oct. 1, 1945.

The cause and date of his death are not reported. Mr. Forsythe says the news was officially conveyed to his mother in Australia only a few days before the newspaper item was published. That word was the first they had received of him since he was taken prisoner while fighting the Japanese on the Portuguese island of Timor. He had been in the services for five years.

He is survived by his wife and parents in Port Fairy; three brothers who served with the Australian forces in this war, and George of Deep Brook, who served with the Australian forces in World War I (enlisting at the age of 13) and with the Canadian Army in the second conflict; also two sisters living in Australia. He was born in 1914.

More Bus Lines

Kings county has taken the spotlight in the province-wide scramble for new bus routes. Both Maritime Bus Corporation and Ross C. MacKenzie, of Port Williams, want to operate buses in the Wolfville, Port Williams, Canning, and Kentville district. Dominion Atlantic Railway already has a franchise for a Kentville-Kingsport bus to replace its trains in the summer and fall months.

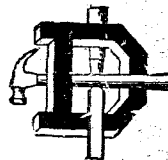

Shipbuilding Problems

What to do with unfinished naval vessels left on the stocks in Nova Scotia shipyards is a question still undecided, says the Department of Industry. Work has stopped overnight by the cancellation of war contracts. The industry has suffered a slump since the end of the war but plans are well advanced for reconversion. Some yards are considering a change over to steel building.

Granville Ferry Men Victims of Accidents

On Friday while Robert Lescaudron was alone hunting rabbits in the woods, he stopped to light a cigarette with his loaded gun supported against his knee. In some way he slipped and the gun went off shooting him in the shoulder. He was two hours alone in the woods before he could manage to get home with out help. He was fortunate in having no bones broken as this could have been a very tragic accident. Bob, who was a pilot officer in the R.C.A.F. spent some time overseas returning home last June. He has now received his honorable discharge. We wish him a speedy recovery to good health.

Two accidents occurred to men employed in the repairing of Granville - Annapolis Bridge during the past week. George Miller fell into the river and had to be rescued by his fellow workers and Charles Shaw suffered a very painful injury to his knee, severely straining the ligaments. He will be confined to his home for some time.

Fred's instructions were that the bulbs be distributed among the members of the Red Cross organization in his home village.

Needless to say Fred's thoughtful gesture is appreciated. His friends hope Fred will soon be homeward bound and they will have the opportunity of thanking him in person.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

PETS AND THEIR PALS

131

By including a pet in a picture of a child the human interest appeal is increased immeasurably.

YOU'VE probably noticed how often animals appear in photographs used for advertising purposes. There's a reason. Surveys show that people are interested most of all in children, next in dogs and other familiar animals, and third—believe it or not—in pretty girls. So you can double the interest in your snapshots if you include the family pet in some of your shots.

More than that, your pictures will have added meaning in years to come for the son or daughter who is pictured with a favorite pet. Many a man of responsibility looks back fondly to his boyhood days and feels that he owes part of his mature wisdom and character to the pet that was once his closest pal.

So don't overlook the family pets when you picture the children. Junior and Sis will be grateful to you in years to come.

Today's illustration is a fine example of an informal portrait study posed to bring out all the charm in both boy and dog.

Notice first of all its advantages from the photographic angle—the interesting compositional lines, the sky background (always ideal for informal portraits), and the unusual point of view, with the camera below the subject. But how effective it is also in bringing out Bobby's playful attempt to test his little friend's faith in him, and Buster's endless patience and complete trust in his young master.

From the technical viewpoint, notice how the cameraman has used his "properties" to help him obtain an interesting triangular composition. The photograph is excellent also in distribution of values, with the lightest areas concentrated in the center of the snapshot. The alert photographer has handled his lighting beautifully, using the dog's light-colored back to reflect light into the face of his main subject. This trick of using reflected light to avoid ugly shadows in informal portrait work is an important device which every amateur photographer should know how to use effectively.

Children are at their photogenic best, of course, when playing with their pets. For then they are so naturally charming that they pose themselves without any hint of self-consciousness. You need simply keep an alert eye out for particularly interesting story-telling situations, and have a fast shutter-finger ready. But be sure to get close enough to your subjects to make them the center of attention.

Years ago (and not so many years ago either) we did the most of our Christmas shopping on Christmas Eve, particularly the "Santa Claus shopping."

"Do your Christmas Shopping Early" hinted about the 15th of December but today we are living in a faster generation and in a faster world so by the 15th of December Christmas shoppers are wrapping and sorting their gifts. The Christmas greeting card agents have delivered all their orders by the first of the month so the cards are all addressed by that time also.

Last week Christmas shopping in Halifax was in "full swing" from 10 to 11:30 a.m.; then the Santa Claus appeared at Eaton's children, having "talked it over" with Santa, mailed their letters in Santa's mail box.

Mother has to have her work finished (or left undone) and be "in line" at 9 a.m. for the coveted doll for Lucy or the dump truck for Junior. Next day she must be at Moirs' just as early and stand in the "candy line." Maybe by 11 o'clock she has been lucky enough to get 1 pound of Moirs' XXX or 2 cellophane packages of Hum Bugs or 2 of Hard Tack and can hurry home to prepare lunch. If she has been near the end of the line the next day she tries again.

At 3 o'clock she must be at Simpson's, Armdale, and stand in a hoisery line, three deep, this time, for after all mother can't "stand and shop" in bare legs and its "specials are $1.09 today." You walk in a store in Barrington Street and you see a bunch of people jammed (there's no other word for it) against the counter and if you get in this "jam" and are lucky to be in front you get 2 chocolate bars and 10 oz. of Hard Mixture. And that's the "Line" on Christmas Shopping in Halifax this year. Aren't you glad you can shop at your leisure in Digby and Annapolis?

Saulnier - Sullivan

A pretty wedding took place Tuesday morning, November 20, at 7.30, in the Stella Maris temporary church at Meteghan, when the pastor, Right Rev. Mgr. J. E. Bourneuf, D.P., F.V., united in marriage Gnr. Nelson Saulnier, returned soldier from overseas, son of the late Denis Saulnier and Mrs. Lea Saulnier-Melanson, of Saulnierville, with Miss Regine Sullivan, a daughter of the late Capt. Edward Sullivan and the late Edith Sullivan-Robichaud, of Meteghan.

The bride's floor length dress was of brocade satin with a long white veil and she carried a carnation bouquet. Her first maid was Miss Cecile Doucet and Miss Therese Saulnier, niece of the bride, was maid of honor. Enos Saulnier, brother of the groom, and Harold Melanson, of the U.S. Army, were best men. The flower girls were Rowena Garron, niece of the bride, and Jean Thibault, niece of the groom. Mrs. Joseph S. LeBlanc was at the organ and the choir was in attendance. Mrs. Edward Maillet and Mrs. Dawson Kelzer, sisters of the bride, with young school children, rendered a beautiful Ave Maria. There was a large attendance.

After the ceremony breakfast was served at the home of the groom's sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Thibault, of Saulnierville, with a large number of invited guests, who were honored with the presence of the pastor, Rev. Fr. Castonguay, C.J.M. Later the happy couple motored to the Grand Hotel at Yarmouth.

At a well-organized shower at the home of Mrs. Kelzer, Meteghan, previous to the wedding, the bride was the recipient of numerous and valuable gifts.

What Is A Home and School Association?

What you want to know about Home and School Associations. Home and School Associations have been so long and well established throughout Canada that practically everyone knows a great deal about them. There is evident, however, some vagueness on the part of many parents, teachers and school authorities regarding certain aspects of the organization and objectives of Home and School Associations.

What is a Home and School Association? A Home and School Association is an agency for promoting the mutual cooperation, understanding and effort of home, school and community in the interests of the best possible growth, health, learning and adjustment of developing children. Modern Science has demonstrated that learning is a continuous process, beginning at birth and lasting until death. What the child learns today, is inevitably influenced by what he has already learned in all his "yesterdays." Learning is not confined to the school but is acquired also through the child's home relationships and his community activities.

These facts explain the necessity for securing the closest cooperation of home, school and community. Each plays an inter-related and important role in the education of the child. The means for achieving close cooperation between Home, School and Community is the Home and School Association.

What are the objectives of Home and School Associations?

The all-inclusive objective Home and School Associations is securing those conditions of environment and adult guidance that promote the child's most wholesome development and learning. In other words, it is helping the child achieve, through day by day experiences and learning, happiness for himself and adequacy as a citizen of democratic state.

In order to promote the child's wholesome learning along these lines it is necessary that the home, the school and the community should understand in a realistic way the following fundamental facts, namely, (1) the part that each is playing in helping the child to achieve these goals; (2) the measure in which each is discharging its responsibilities; (3) the degree of mutual co-operation that is being attained towards a common objective; (4) the changes that are necessary if the welfare of the child and of society is to be promoted and safeguarded.

The need for many improvements in homes, schools and communities is so obvious that little study, though frequently made, is involved in making that realization possible. Many Home and School Associations are content to limit their objectives to securing such improvements. While such effort is of unquestionable value, it is not enough. If the broad primary objective of Home and School Associations, namely, "The attainment of those conditions of environment and adult guidance that promote the child's most wholesome growth, development and learning" is to be realized, then a comprehensive programme of study is necessary. Parents, teachers and community officials must be prepared to get at the "root of things"—to study and discuss together. It is only in this way that intelligent co-operative efforts and achievements that promote the child's welfare may be accomplished with unanimous support and thorough going conviction.

The second objective of Home and School Association is, then, the education of parents, teachers and communities so that they may work most constructively and comprehensively toward the attainment of the primary objective.

As an aid to the second objective, the preparation of study materials and discussion guides on a wide variety of pertinent topics has been undertaken, by the Executive Committee of the Quebec Provincial Home and School Council. Materials available may be obtained, on application to the Secretary, by Home and School Associations and affiliated organizations that are members of the Council.

Keeping Meat Fresh for Europe

2,200 CARS SINCE V-E DAY was the record of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Montreal up to the end of October for icing the refrigerator cars which transport perishable food for export to Europe. Of these cars, 95 per cent were loaded with meat, as seen in the refrigerator car (above) which keeps its valuable cargo at low temperature by having up to a ton of crushed ice (lower left) and salt (lower right) added to its bunkers daily.

400 'Reefers' Each Month Canadian Pacific Record

MONTREAL: Pouring in a load of ice, adding a giant-size dash of salt and mixing well is the recipe the Canadian Pacific Railway follows to help provide meat for Europe.

This formula, carried out daily on refrigerator cars full of food for Europe, enables the C.P.R. to send off approximately 400 carloads of perishables monthly for export from Montreal. Of this supply, 95 per cent is meat.

To pour up to a ton of crushed ice daily into each of 150 "reefers", which is the daily servicing average in the Canadian Pacific yards here at Outremont, a system has been developed which makes it certain that the cars will move on time.

The ice is loaded through bunker openings by means of a shuttle track which carries the ice upwards from a crushing machine and slides it into the bunkers. Sack-loads of salt poured into the bunkers intensify the cooling.

For the 2,200 carloads of perishables for Europe which had been handled by the C.P.R. in its Montreal yards from V-E Day to the end of October more than 9,200 icings were undertaken. On a recent occasion more than 200 cars were iced in one day.

ly and comprehensively toward the attainment of the primary objective.

As an aid to the second objective, the preparation of study materials and discussion guides on a wide variety of pertinent topics has been undertaken, by the Executive Committee of the Quebec Provincial Home and School Council. Materials available may be obtained, on application to the Secretary, by Home and School Associations and affiliated organizations that are members of the Council.

Why VICKS VAPORUB Is So Good

For Relieving Miseries of

Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home-remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds. And here is the reason...

The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—and keeps on working for hours—to ease coughing spasms, help clear congestion in cold-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular soreness or tightness. It promotes restful sleep. Often most of the misery of the cold is gone by morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use when colds strike. Try it!

Victor Cardoza, Acting Secretary of the Digby Board of Trade, addressed the Monday night meeting of the Y's Men's Club taking as his subject "The Board of Trade and The Service Club."

In his address Mr. Cardoza stated that in his opinion there was room for both Service Club and Board of Trade in Digby providing that each realize the function of the other and co-operate in the fuller development of the town. Neither, however, can exist successfully if one or the other or both consider it their duty to act as the critic of the activities or lack of such of the other organization. By so doing friction will follow which will result in the eventual failure of all organizations. "While we as individuals, may be dissatisfied with the workings of the Board of Trade or the Service Club it is up to us to express that dissatisfaction and strive to remedy the cause." By this to remedy the cause.

T.B. Seals Sales Ahead

The V.O.N. Committee in charge of the T.B. Christmas Seal campaign in Digby are really encouraged over the results of their drive to date. Up until hte present all collectors who have completed their canvas have "done just a bit better" than last year. Present indications are last year's all time record will be broken.

There are still a number of districts to be heard from but it is expected all collectors will complete their campaign by the end of this week, and that a final report on the drive can be given shortly.

All collectors are receiving generous co-operation from the public.

Proceeds from the sale of Christmas seals in Digby are divided between the Digby Branch of the V.O.N. and the Nova Scotia Tuberculosis Association.

OBITUARY

George James Parker

The citizens of Digby were deeply shocked on Tuesday to hear of the sudden passing at an early hour that morning of George James Parker, age 48. Mr. Parker was taken severely ill with a heart attack shortly after midnight and passed away less than an hour later.

A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Parker, of Canso, he came to Digby some fifteen years ago and was employed in the offices of the Maritime National Fish Corp., of which he was a valued employee. He will be greatly missed by his fellow employees both in the office and plant.

He was a veteran of the war of 1914-18 and was very active in welfare work for ex-service men, being for some time secretary of the local branch of the Canadian Legion. Besides his wife, the former Mary Rynhold, Canso, he is survived by four sons, George, John, Claude and Raymond. Only one of these children is over sixteen. Surviving also are four brothers and three sisters.

Funeral services, attended by his comrades of the Legion will be held from Grace United Church this afternoon at 3 o'clock with interment in Fairview Cemetery.

Principal Entertains

WINTER STORM HITS OVER WEEK-END

The third severe storm within two weeks struck Digby on Friday with full force.

Beginning Thursday afternoon the wind increased in force until on Friday it had reached a gale force of forty miles an hour. Heavy snow accompanied the gale on Friday and within a few hours the town was blanketed with white. Heavy waves lashed the waterfront and the severity of the storm kept all of those who were not forced to go out indoors. Fortunately there was no school on the day of the storm due to a meeting of the Teachers' Institute.

The high winds caused several breaks in the power lines and sections of the town were without lights until Saturday morning. Great credit is due the linemen of the Power Board who worked throughout the storm to keep the system operating as well as possible.

Due to the heavy storm the Princess Helene did not leave

Saint John on Friday but cocked as usual Saturday. Departure on Saturday, however, was delayed until shortly after seven in the evening in order to take advantage of the high tide. It was feared that the heavy north easterly wind might force the boat ashore if she attempted to leave while the tide was still low.

Snow plows of the Highways Department and the Town, were on the job early Saturday morning clearing the roads. The snow fall was not heavy but the high winds had raised heavy drifts on some of the roads. By Saturday night most of the roads were open although the buses were not yet running. Quite a number of cars, caught on the roads Friday and unable to get home had to be abandoned and the "wreckers" had a busy time hauling cars back to their garages. Even with chains the cars had a difficult time navigating due to the heaviness of the snow.

"Meanest Thief" Strikes Again

Digby's "meanest thief" struck again last week and another Digby housewife is without her winter stock of preserves and pickles.

Last week when Mrs. Martin Barnes went to her cellar for some preserves she found that a thief had been there before her and her "cupboard was bare." Over thirty jars of jellies, preserves and pickles had been taken by the maurader who had also taken a supply of salted mackerel belonging to another resident of the house. Entry to the cellar had been gained thru an outside door.

Several weeks ago thieves entered the cellar of Mrs. Edward Robicheau and made away with her stock of pickles and preserves and it is understood that the thief or thieves have struck in at least one other home in town.

With fruit so very scarce and with sugar so difficult to obtain these thefts are particularly mean and the loss of these supplies of preserves and pickles which would have been so tasty during the winter months is a hard blow since they cannot be replaced.

Council Meeting Postponed

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council, scheduled for Monday evening yas postponed last week due to the absence of the Town Clerk.

Mr. Smith was in Halifax where, it is understood, he interviewed members of the Department of Municipal Affairs concerning town affairs. It is also understood that Mr. Smith was also in contact with officials of the Department of Highways concerning possibilities of repair or replacement of the Racquette Bridge, badly damaged in the recent storm.

Mrs. Lynn Bashow (Margaret Hawkesworth), of Halifax, whose husband is on the medical staff of Camp Hill Hospital, is spending a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Warrington.

Teachers' Institute Meets

A meeting of the Teachers' Institutes of Digby County, the Municipality of Clare and Digby Town was held in Weymouth on Friday of last week. Over one hundred teachers attended the meeting despite the very inclement weather.

Inspectors Kirk and d'Entremont and Supervisor Purdy of the Digby Schools were in charge of the meeting. The special speaker was to have been Inspector Weir, of Halifax, but he was prevented from attending by the bad weather.

H. H. Wetmore, Supervisor of Schools for the Town of Yarmouth, spoke to the gathering on "Modern Trends in Education," and F. C. Purdy delivered a very interesting address on "New Concepts in Geography."

Following the morning session a meeting of the Digby and Clare Locals of the Teachers' Union was held, addressed by the Provincial Organizer of the Union, Bradford Finigan.

Publishing Company Opens Digby Office

The Maritime Division of the weekly newspaper, "Adweek" has been established in Digby by Bruce Parsons, recently of the R.C.N.V.R., and a former student of King's College School, Windsor.

The newspaper "Adweek" is a 100 per cent ex-service-man's organizations and was started in August of this year by Capt. A. A. Barthe, formerly of the Intelligence Service.

The columns of the paper are devoted to news stories of human interest, a woman's page, short stories, sports news, comics and pictorial section as well as a classified and business directory.

There is also a special section for ex-service men seeking employment. In this section all ex-service men are invited to state their qualifications in the form of a classified advertisement which will be printed free of charge.

Kiwanis To Hold Evening Meetings

At Monday's meeting of the Digby Kiwanis Club the club decided on evening meetings for the future. These meetings will get underway at 6:15 and continue to 7:30.

The matter of evening meetings was discussed at a meeting of the executive recently when it was felt the change of time would meet with the approval of the majority of members, many of whom find it difficult to attend the noon luncheons.

RADIO TRANSMITTER AGAIN IN OPERATION

The Maritime Telephone and Telegraph Company's amplitude modulation set, located on a little used by-road at Point Prim, a few miles from Digby is now back in operation again. The set which links Digby and Saint John is a integral part of the M. T. and T. communication system which links Nova Scotia with the outside world.

On Tuesday of last week the apparatus valued at between $30,000 and $40,000 was reported out of commission at 1.55 p.m. Trouble men who were working elsewhere in the county were unable to investigate the trouble at the outpost station until several hours afterward.

On investigation they discovered the set had been completely dismantled and carted away. Mounted Police and telephone officials immediately set to work in an effort to solve the mystery. Highways and byways were scoured and every clue investigated.

The mystery was solved Wednesday morning when it was learned the valuable equipment had been removed by mistake. The navy had received a signal to dismantle a radar station located on the same lonely road. Through an error they went to the wrong station. When they found the building housing the expensive and delicate equipment was locked, they forced an entry, dismantled the radio set, placed it on a truck and carted it to Cornwallis. The job of dismantling was expertly done.

The navy and telephone company worked together to reinstall the set which is again in operation—however, it is understood that with the navy the less said about the incident, the better.

Lobster Season Opens

These are busy days along Digby Neck and the Islands and along the St. Mary's Bay shore of the Digby County mainland. Lobster fishermen are setting out their pots for the 1945-1946 lobster season which officially opened Saturday, December 1.

We say "officially opened" but the weather man disagreed with officialdom and postponed the opening until Monday. Gales began to lash the coast on Thursday of last week, increasing in their fury on Friday and continuing throughout Saturday.

Preparations for the lobster season were made well in advance. Hundreds of thousands of laths were bent and moulded into traps. Fish houses along the shore have been filled with accumulated smelly fish—the smellier the better for lobster bait. Boats have been put in order and other equipment put in shape. The coast to store the catch Lobster "cars" anchored along and countless other details attended to in preparation for what the fishermen hope will be one of the most successful lobster seasons in years.

Nevertheless, the success of the lobster season will depend on the weatherman—price of course will be a factor—but the real success or failure will depend on the weather.

Thousands of dollars worth of equipment can be wiped away in one brief storm. It is doubtful if there has been a year in the long history of Digby County lobster fisheries in which storms have not been the cause of heavy losses to fishermen.

Losses have not only been confined to traps and equipment, but too often lives of Digby County fishermen have been snuffed out in this hazardous task of harvesting this delicacy of the sea.

Along the St. Mary's Bay men will set out their traps. The waters of the St. Mary's are perhaps a little calmer than the waters of the boisterous Bay of Fundy, nevertheless, the St. Mary's Bay fishermen in all probability will be taking their traps ashore again within a short time. Unlike the Bay of Fundy the St. Mary's freezes over—and with the cold weather comes the ice, and ice puts an end to lobster or any kind of fishing until it moves out in the spring.

About This and That

In this country, as time marches on, the provinces are doing less and less and the federal government more and more. In Great Britain it is different. At least Scotland is complaining that Parliament does not give it enough attention, and is asking for home rule, with a separate Scottish parliament to consider local laws.

Scotland is a poor country with few natural resources. What few they have, the Scots would like to develop themselves. There is a scheme to harness the waterpower of the Highlands. This is directed from England, without much regard to the scenery it may damage. The Scots would also like to keep their war-time factories.

With but 74 Scottish members out of 640 in the British Parliament, Scottish affairs are thought not to get the attention they deserve. This is as far as the movement goes; there is no thought of separation from England.

Here in Canada the provinces seem only too glad to foist their problems off on the federal government, but, some day, like Scotland, they, too, may wonder where their power has gone.

Lots of self-made men get married and find that it takes a wife to give the finishing touches to the job.

The United States has just added 750,000 square miles to its territory, but it did not make the headlines. By executive order President Truman has proclaimed the annexation of the "continental shelf," the projection of North American land until it drops off into the bottom of the sea.

There is a rational explanation of what seems like an odd move, it establishes American ownership of fishing rights and of any oil that may be found under the surface. If mere desire to enlarge American territory were the reason, an even larger area could be gained by formally annexing the American portion of the stratosphere—without aggressive warfare on other nations, either.

A wife's new hat is usually becoming to her husband—before he gets the bill for it.

A small Arkansas town has done something about its unemployment problem. By popular subscription it has raised $65,000 to erect a factory building that will furnish jobs for returning veterans, discharged war plant workers and people who are tired of farming. They will donate this money to a responsible firm that will build a plant in their midst, or they will build the plant themselves and charge the firm a pro-rated rent. Further, additional local capital can be forthcoming if the manufacturer is interested in a community co-operative venture.

Here is a sound idea on the economic principle that if production is stimulated the employment problem will cease to be a problem. There are no large industries in the immediate vicinity of this town, hence no present chance for industrial jobs. By bringing to the town a plant that will fabricate a product for which there is a market, citizens will find work. Any self-respecting Canadian will prefer this kind of income to that from such illogical, time-killing activities as the depression make necessary. The Arkansas plan has the further advantage of being locally inspired, which will add to the community's self-esteem.

There is a good industrial-farming idea, too. That is, for a plant which can use materials of a type easily grown by farms in the vicinity to locate in such a public-spirited and forward-looking town.

When a man keeps his business to himself, he usually is looked upon with suspicion.

When we look over the newsstands and see some of the printed poison offered for sale, we cannot help but wonder "why" paper rationing. If newsprint can be supplied for some of the trash on sale today, why should legitimate newspapers starve for the want of it.

It is only by good luck we are bringing out this issue. We actually did not have enough paper on hand but oversize stock we had for another purpose and get by that way.

If luck is with us we will print another edition next week. We are advised a shipment of newsprint is on its way to us.

Our order calling for two tons for December delivery was placed in October. Last week we were advised no paper could be shipped us until January. In response to desperate pleas we have since been advised one ton has been released to us.

It so happened that up until October 31 our newsprint purchases equalled the quantity purchased during the entire year of 1944. That was the reason given why no paper could be shipped our way until after the new year.

However, our 1944 requirements were under the rationed quota allowed us by the paper administrator of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. In addition to that a supplementary quota granted us when an increased supply of newsprint was allowed all newspapers. According to our estimate we had nearly 3 tons "to come and go on." Therefore in placing our order for 2 tons we were well within our quota especially when part of that two tons would carry us into 1946.

We admit that, during the past three months in particular, we have been printing larger editions—but we now have the staff to do it. Until this summer, because of lack of help, we were forced to keep down the size of our paper. It was a physical impossibility to sandwich in more than an occasional ten or twelve page edition.

Since August we have tried hard to produce a bigger and better paper, and yet keep within our ration. We hope to maintain this policy although it may be necessary after Christmas to keep within eight pages for a time.

Your Town—and Mine

With the reappearance of this column, which has not appeared in the Courier for several years, it would be as well to advise readers that the opinions expressed in it are not necessarily those of the publishers of the paper but express the feelings of a humble correspondent who may—or may not—be right.

Partial destruction of the Racquette Bridge by the recent heavy storm opens the road for speculation as to what steps will be taken to affect permanent repairs to this bridge which has been, more or less in a state of disrepair for some time. The time should be ripe and the opportunity present to take definite action to replace this bridge with a proper, permanent one not so vulnerable to the buffeting of the wind and waves. The responsibility and expense of this job, a major engineering undertaking should not rest wholly upon the town or its taxpayers. The bridge is the gateway to Culloden, Mount Pleasant and Bay View sections of the County and a great portion of the expense for the replacement or repair of this bridge should rest upon the Provincial Department of Highways. This Department, together with the Public Works Department of the Town should see that steps are taken to have the bridge properly and permanently repaired and that right soon.

Telephone service in this town is getting worse and worse. Whether or not this is a result of antiquated equipment or inexperienced help is not known but it is certainly most aggravating to try and try and try to get Central and then give up in disgust. Perhaps a revival of the agitation sponsored by the Board of Trade for improved telephone service might achieve results now that the war is over. At least a check-up on the whys and wherefores of the increasingly poor service would not come amiss.

Digby is one of the few towns in the province who have not yet taken action to provide preferential taxes or assessment to War Veterans building or buying under the provisions of the Veterans' Land Act. Constitutionally the town is right since no action can legally be taken, or it is understood, before an Enabling Act is passed by the Provincial Legislature but considerable agitation seems to be arising and the time seems ripe for a review of the matter by Civic Authorities. It is possible that much building might be sponsored in the Town if this action could be taken by the town. Zoning of the Town so that the full benefits of the National Housing Act might be enjoyed by persons building under that plan in town should also be given consideration.

The Christmas Spirit is beginning to show in many of Digby's stores and Christmas cards, gifts and toys are on display. Will Digby have its Community Christmas Tree this year? It would be a splendid thing if the custom of Carol Singing at the tree might be revived this year. It is quite a number of years since this was done in Digby but it was very effective at the time and might be revived to good advantage. Perhaps one or both of the Service Clubs might take on this as a means of promoting a feeling of good will and Christmas fellowship.

Raymond Blinn

The death of Raymond Blinn, 82, of Church Point, occurred Thursday at 8 a.m. He was a deaf mute but was not so from birth. When a boy of seven years of age he went swimming too soon after having had scarlet fever and his hearing was greatly impaired with the result that he lost his hearing altogether which was the indirect cause of his not being able to talk. He was a kindly man and could make himself understood fairly well. He resided with the late Joseph and Mrs. Blinn for the last forty years. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. Jovite Blinn, both deceased. He leaves to mourn one brother Louis, of Church Point, and one sister, Mrs. Loran Barnes at Mystic, Conn. The funeral took place Saturday morning at 8 o'clock from St. Mary's R.C. Church with Rev. O. Herbert officiating.

Passes Temporarily Suspended

Notwithstanding that hostilities have terminated, demands upon the railways in the efficient handling of troops returning from overseas make it again necessary to suspend the use of all free and half-rate transportation during the forthcoming Christmas and New Year holiday period, it has been jointly announced by the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National Railways.

The suspension will be effective from Thursday, Dec. 20, 1945, until Thursday, Jan. 3, 1946.

The announcement states: "It has been hoped that with the war over, it would not have been necessary to place this restriction during the coming holiday season, but the situation that confronts the railways in the handling of our fighting forces en route home, leaves no alternative."

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

CHRISTMAS PICTURES

It's easy to make fine indoor snapshots at Christmas using sunlight as the main source of illumination.

WITH photoflash and photoflood lamps and film a little more easy to get, there's no reason why picture taking should be curtailed this Christmas.

If photoflash and photoflood bulbs are still unavailable in your district you can simply fall back on the tried-and-tested methods of picture taking which were used before the introduction of modern flash and flood lamps. In other words you can do your indoor picture making with daylight, and those household lamps which are available.

Actually, very attractive indoor pictures may be made of any room with brief time exposures and ordinary room lighting. And there's no reason why people can't be included, providing that they sit or stand absolutely still during the exposure. So, if you wish, you can picture your Christmas tree in that fashion. Exposures for most well lighted rooms range from four to eight seconds at f/16 on extra-fast pan film.

Picture making indoors with daylight is, however, somewhat easier. Medium-colored rooms with two windows may be pictured on a sunny day with an exposure of about four seconds at f/16, or the largest lens opening on a box camera, and ordinary snapshot film. Light-colored rooms, or rooms with three windows, require half that exposure. Dark-colored rooms necessitate double the recommended time.

Picturing people indoors at Christmas time, or any other season of the year, is not too difficult if you pose them fairly close to the window. A subject three feet from the window, and with the shadow side of his face lightened with a reflector or artificial light, may easily be pictured with 1/25 second at f/6.3, or two to four seconds at f/16.

The funeral was held from the Long Memorial Chapel, Cambridge, Mass. The service was read by Dr. H. C. Whitcomb of the West Somerville Baptist Church. Climbing a tree in a blizzard is something like going up an electric light pole in a snow storm—they're both no jobs for greenhorns.

There are many improvements we want to make in order to give you even better, prompter service. Instead of 1 sugar coupon and 2 preserves coupons coming good in December, there will be 4 preserves coupons. This is for two reasons:

1. It is convenient to finish the P coupons at the end of the year.
2. Any consumer who prefers rationed preserves to sugar at the Christmas season will be able to get them.

Therefore, in addition to P22 and P23 which ordinarily become good in December, P24 and P25 will also become good instead of a sugar coupon.

As usual the four preserves coupons are good for 1/2 pound of sugar each if desired, so with the two extra coupons (P24 and P25) there is no reduction in the sugar ration.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

KEEPING SNAPSHOTS SIMPLE

With a little thought and careful planning, an attractive informal portrait can be taken of your pet.

It's a comparatively easy matter to make snapshots which are properly exposed and focused. The good amateur cameraman soon takes these essentials for granted. But making really fine amateur pictures is an art requiring thought and planning.

The basic secret of all good photography is to keep things simple. What is a law which applies to every form of creative art. In many ways it is harder to achieve simplicity in photography, however, because the temptation is to snap the shutter without proper consideration for background and composition. As a result, many amateur snapshots lack unity and organization. The scene tends to be filled with so many irrelevant and unimportant details that the main emphasis is lost.

The informal portrait snapshot of the setter (above) is a beautiful example of how rewarding absolute simplicity can be. The amateur photographer here used a perfectly plain dark background to set off the gorgeous warm hair of the dog's face and neck. In all informal portraits, simplicity of background is important. It is often practical to use the sky, or a plain wall. Next best is soft foliage, so general in overall pattern as to avoid disturbing horizontal, vertical, or diagonal lines.

Composition hardly seems to enter so simple a subject as today's snapshot, and yet it plays a vital part. Notice how the photographer has distributed the breathing space around the head. If the marginal space had been less, the head would have seemed to "pop out" of the snapshot. If more marginal space were used, the dramatic force gained by emphasizing the head to the greatest possible extent would have been lost. Careful cropping can often make a poor snapshot much better.

The same law of simplicity, so obvious here, can be applied to any other photographic problem. In group pictures, for instance, you can achieve simplicity by unifying the group around one center of interest. Proper simplicity of setting or background will again make it easier to emphasize the figures. Eliminate unessential, distracting details, and tie everything into your central subject. Then you'll have a good picture, packed with dramatic emphasis.

Even in landscape photography, the same principle holds good. Try to compose your snapshots in simple areas of foreground, middle distance, and far distance. Distribute shadow and sunlight so they make a compositional pattern. And don't forget the advantages of a medium yellow filter for dramatic cloud effects.

Space does not permit full discussion now of scenic photography, but you can't go wrong if you follow the basic rule, "Keep it simple!"

ADDRESSES Y's MEN

there are many things that need remedying, many things that could be done to improve our town and to assist it in the development of its future. These things, community projects, should stem from the Town Council or from the Board of Trade through its own activities or by suggestion, advice or assistance to the Town Council. Service Clubs have their place in the picture and can assist in the development of such projects in many ways. Ideas for community development may be born in the Service Club but their growth, implementation and final achievement should be the work of the chamber of commerce or civic body."

Mr. Cardoza stated that the Board of Trade was definitely a constructive force in the life of the Town. Those who seek to detract from the Board's work and "pan" its efforts speak only a half truth when they accuse the Board of "churning butter-milk" of just piling words on words. The full truth is this, that the Board, inefficient though it may seem, is superior to its detractors. While it is true it may bungle with its tools, it may misread its plans but still its only purpose is to build.

The speaker listed Board of Trade enemies.

First of all, he said, among outside enemies, is the 'griper' the man that feels that everything the Board does (and he won't admit that it does very much) is wrong. He claims that everything the Board does, if it does anything, should have been done differently.

The second outside enemy is the indifferent fellow, the one who will not join the Board or pay dues or join in any community enterprise, Mr. Cardoza said.

"The third enemy, is the selfish man. He may be found inside or outside of the Board. He is the man who will try to block projects if he has not been consulted and will demand support for his own pet scheme before he will help with anything else. In short, he is a monkey wrench thrower. Among this type are those who will never serve on committees, or who serve and never report. These chaps are "alibi artists." They won't speak out and oppose but do their opposing underground by buttonholing members af-

MARRIAGES

Boudreau - Pothier

A pretty wedding took place Monday morning, November 26, followed by a nuptial high Mass in the Stella Maris Church, Meteghan, when the pastor, Right Rev. Mgr. Bourneuf, D.P., united in marriage Louis B. Boudreau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Libvire Boudreau, to Miss Regina Pothier, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guillaume Pothier, both of Meteghan.

The bride was attired in a long dress of white satin with shoulder veil and accessories to match and carried a carnation bouquet. Her maid of honor was Miss Yvonne LeBlanc, and Denis E. Comeau was best man. A special altar to the Virgin was erected in the Sanctuary, decorated and illuminated. The bride belonged to the Sodality of the Children of Mary. Mrs. Jos. S. LeBlanc was at the organ and a choir of school children rendered Ave Maria.

Breakfast was served at the bride's parents and dinner at the groom's home with his parents after which the couple left via the Digby boat for Saint John on their honeymoon to the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pothier.

Red Cross Meeting

The attendance at last week's Red Cross meeting was exceptionally good with several members who have been absent for some time being among the attendants. President, Mrs. A. Thorpe and Mrs. E. Gates who were delegates at the semi-annual meeting held recently in Halifax, were well pleased with their visit. As disclosed by the reading of their very enlightening and interesting reports, the delegates from Weymouth had given their undivided attention to the proceedings of the meeting. Perhaps the most important thing impressed on the delegates was the urgent need of all kinds of clothing—particularly children's clothing—quilts and other comforts to relieve the dire need of the destitute in Europe. The recent clothing drive, responded to so splendidly, is but a stop-gap to these suffering people. True, the war is over, but its consequences are still to be met and not until next summer, at the earliest, can the Red Cross conscientiously decrease their output of sewing and knitting. In response to the appeal for these garments Mrs. Thorpe, as president of this Branch, asks all those who are unable to attend the meetings but are willing to help with the work, to have members or friends who live near by bring them work which they may do at home. The Red Cross rooms are open every Wednesday afternoon and work will be eagerly supplied and the aid appreciated. From the Weymouth North group last week 24 combinations, three children's coats and a small quilt were received, each piece of work being well finished and a credit to the sewer. Mrs. Roy Sullivan, newly elected president of New Tusket-Havelock auxiliary, called for a supply of materials. Mrs. Ladd, convenor of the War Work committee, Halifax, expressed her appreciation of the work sent from this Branch, saying the garments were all so well done it was a pleasure to open the boxes when they arrived.

Rev. Eli LeBlanc officiated. The bride was charming in a street length dress of blue crepe, trimmed with sequins, and carried a bouquet of white roses and fern. Hilda Comeau, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and was becomingly attired in a street dress of blue sheer and carried a bouquet of pink and white roses. Herman Doucet, New Edinburgh, supported the groom. Mrs. Vincent Blinn played the wedding music, reception and wedding breakfast was held at the bride's home. Mrs. Comeau was becomingly attired in a dress of green crepe with white accessories and the groom's mother was dressed in black crepe. During the day the couple motored to Yarmouth. C.G.I.T. Rally at Weymouth

C.G.I.T. groups from Digby, Sandy Cove, Weymouth and Weymouth North joined in a happy and helpful rally under direction of Miss Lois Tupper, Girls' Work secretary of the Maritime Religious Council at the Guild Hall, at Weymouth last week.

Guests at the afternoon session were welcomed by Mrs. Kenneth Hankinson, Presbytery Girls' Work Councilor for the United Church. Miss Patricia Greek was in charge of registration. Miss Tupper led the girls in "get together" games, folk dances and camp songs.

The banquet, attended by some 75 guests, followed. In charge of the supper were Mrs. Fred Lent, Mrs. Warren Lent, Mrs. Arch Thurber, Mrs. Blanchard Grant, Mrs. Howard Payson, Mrs. John Dunkley, Mrs. Calvin Granville, Mrs. Alfred Thorpe, Miss Frances Lent and Miss Theresa Granville.

The beautifully decorated tables and hall made an attractive picture. The supper was followed by an intermission during which tables were cleared for the evening public service. Margaret Hatt, president of the Weymouth group was chairman of the evening session.

The impressive Worship period was led by the Weymouth North groups with their leaders, Patricia Greek and Norma Ruggles. Their superintendent, Mrs. Kenneth Hankinson, presided at the piano.

Their theme was the "Quest of Brotherhood," with leading parts taken by Joan Ruggles, Margaret Grant and Charlotte Thurber. An effective choral reading of Scripture was given by the two groups.

This service was followed by two musical numbers presented by the Weymouth group, "My Task," and "Robins in the Rain." They were accompanied by Miss Francis Lent. Sandy Cove guests presented a pageant "Britannia's Daughters."

Addresses were given by Rev. T. W. Hodgson, of Digby; Rev. Alfred Thorpe, Rev. James Brodie and Rev. J. Hogan, of Weymouth. The guest speaker for the evening was Miss Lois Tupper.

Miss Tupper gave a helpful talk on the meaning of C.G.I.T., explaining the fundamentals of C.G.I.T. are in the church and that the mid-week meeting is a continuation of the Sunday meeting.

The groups repeated their C.G.I.T. purpose:

What Advantages Do H. and S. Associations Offer Parents?

They offer parents an opportunity to participate actively in the school education and welfare of their own children, as well as of children generally. Our present school system lays heavy stress upon the child's academic achievements. Parents on the other hand are in a position to realize intimately the effects of this stress upon developing children.

Many parents are concerned because long school hours and home-work frequently deprive children of a reasonable amount of wholesome recreation, activity and sunlight. They are concerned because so many school regulations seem to them arbitrary and unnecessary and leave so little opportunity for the development of independence, self-direction and self-control in children.

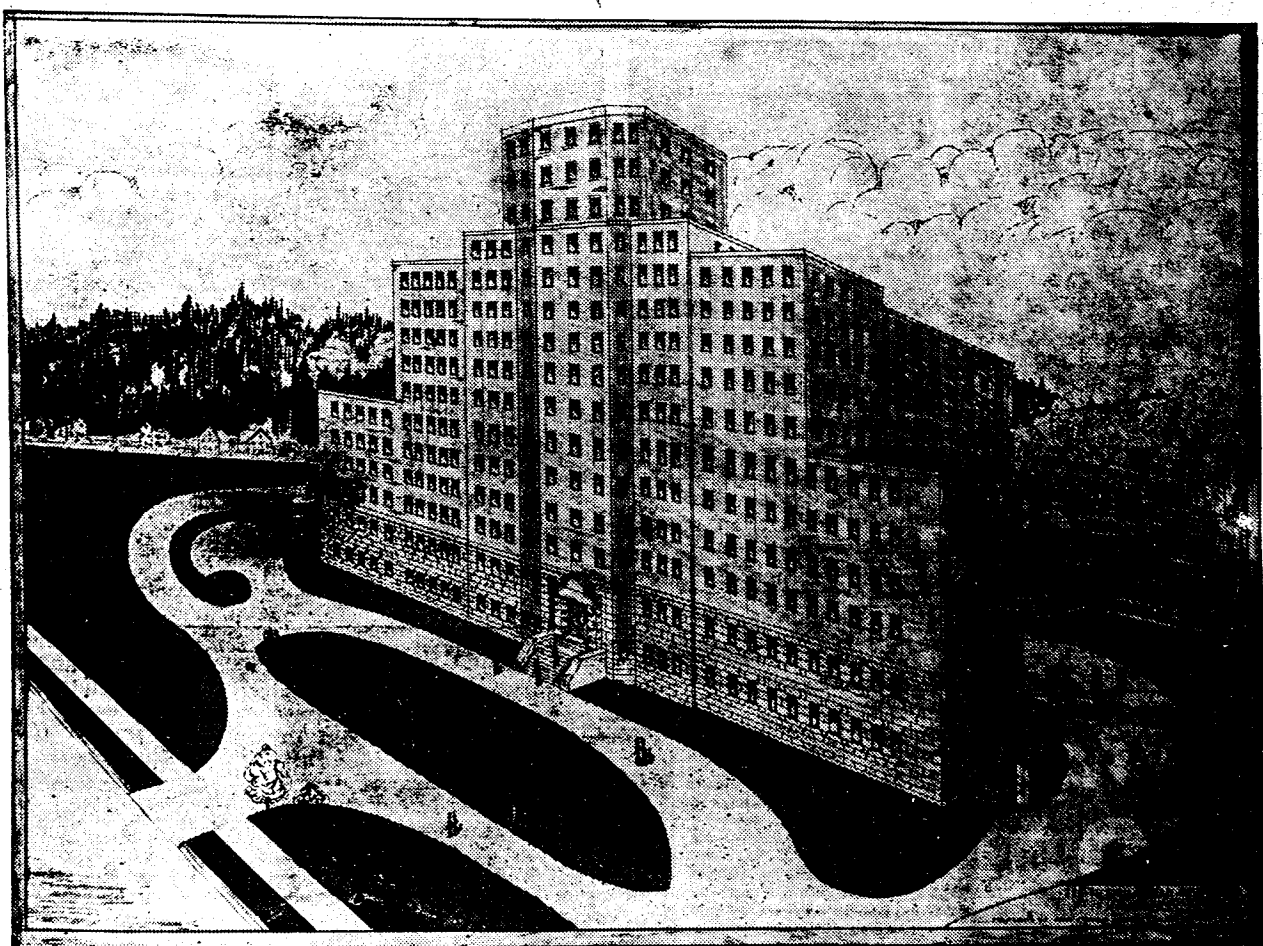

Parents are in position to observe the bad effects of school requirements that are too far above or below the levels of ability of children. They know the feelings of failure and inferiority developed in children who consistently fail in their examination in spite of conscientious effort.

The Home and School Association provides an opportunity for the impersonal discussion of these and other important problems. Many such problems are related to fundamental causes, such as the relation of our present lack of school provision for individual differences in children, and too easy success or too frequent school failures. Tradition rides hard, but frank objective discussion of these problems frequently results in minor changes that react beneficially upon children and reduce parental concern. When the conclusions arrived at through such discussion require to be implemented by school boards or educational authorities, representatives can be made to these bodies or individuals that have behind them an intelligently considered and organized opinion.

The Home and School Association also provides a means through which parents may become better acquainted with other parents and with teachers and officers of the school. The opportunity to meet, informally and with a common interest, all such people paves the way for the development of friendliness, sympathy, tolerance and a spirit of co-operation and solidarity.

A third opportunity that Home and School Associations offer parents is the chance to supplement the various educational and recreational facilities of the school. School associations have co-operated in raising the necessary funds to establish school libraries or add to those existing; they have provided projectors so that ready use can be made of the various educational films provided by the Provincial Department of Education and other sources; they have co-operated in equipping schools with facilities for serving hot lunches to children who cannot go home at noon hour. Schools have many such needs yet scant funds to provide for them. Parents can do much in practically any school situation to improve the health, recreational and educational progress of children.

DRAWING OF NEW HOSPITAL, HALIFAX, NOW UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Jailed for Drunken Driving

Apprehended during the early hours of the morning, Tuesday, November 27, near his home in Conway, Herbert Christmas was arraigned before Magistrate G. H. Peters later in the day on a charge of drunken driving.

Finding Christmas guilty, Magistrate Peters sentenced him to 10 days in the county jail. Loss of driving license is automatic following conviction on this charge.

Christmas has been operating a "beach wagon" in Digby as a baggage transfer and it was this vehicle he was driving when apprehended by R.C.M.P. officers.

Individual hunters killed between 1,000 and 3,000 in a season — mostly for their hides. But this "era of destruction" was short lived. The buffalo gradually became scarce in its usual haunts. Where once they roamed in thousands now only a few remained. Then suddenly they disappeared altogether. By the beginning of the present century not a single buffalo, as far as is known, was left on the green western plains of Canada in a wild state. No one seemed to realize that we were witnessing a wildlife tragedy of unparalleled magnitude. The "Monarch of the Plains" had been dethroned in the wild animal kingdom.

The Government of Canada now genuinely alarmed at the threat of this appalling tragedy, decided to do something to avert complete extinction of the plains buffalo before it was too late. It was learned that a good sized herd built up, partly from original Canadian stock, was owned by a Montana rancher and could be purchased. Between 1907 and 1912 more than 700 animals from this herd were purchased and shipped north to the first buffalo reserve in Canada, Elk Island National Park, a short distance east of Edmonton. Subsequently all animals in this park, with the exception of some 48 too wild to capture, were transferred to Buffalo National Park at Wainwright, Alberta. From these 48 elusive animals left in Elk Island National Park has grown the present splendid herd, which compares favorably with the former "Monarch of the Plains" at his best.

In this huge fenced enclosure, covering an area of more than 50 square miles the buffalo finds nearly ideal conditions. He roams untroubled over lucious pastures, through wooded knolls and gullies and by the shores of numerous small island-studded lakes.

Elk Island National Park occupies part of the extensive undulating region known as the Beaver Hills. It is a natural range not only for the buffalo but for hundreds of other big game animals, including elk, moose and deer. As a natural wildlife museum it attracts many nature students each year. Here they catch a glimpse of life in western Canada as it existed before the advent of white settlement and gain a better appreciation of the importance of wildlife management in the Canadian economy.

Gifts and Giving

The best thing to give to your enemy is forgiveness; to an opponent, tolerance; to a friend, your heart; to your child, a good example; to a father, deference; to your mother, conduct that will make her proud of you; to yourself, respect; to all men, charity. —Balfour

What is called liberality is often merely the vanity of giving. —La Rochefoucauld

Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning. —James 1:17

Certain occasions, considered either collectively or individually and observed properly, tend to give the activity of man of infinite scope; but mere merry-making or needless gift-giving is not that in which human capacities find the most appropriate and proper exercise. —Mary Baker Eddy

It is the will, and not the gift that makes the giver. —Lessing

The heart of the giver makes the gift dear and precious. —Luther

Re-open Transatlantic Flower Service

John Hunt (right), of British FTD, brings Canada's florists immediate plan to resume overseas flowers-by-wire. Ernest S. Simmons (left) international FTD official and Paul E. Angle, president of Allied Florists and Growers approve. At right, stylist Kay Gilber pins on a rose.

CANADA'S FLOWER industry cheered the arrival of John Hunt from Dundee, Scotland in Toronto this month with immediate plans to resume transatlantic flowers-by-wire service on a peacetime basis within the next 30 days.

Hunt is president of British Florists Telegraph and is visiting Canada and the U. S. to re-establish international flower exchange as one of the first businesses to complete the swing-back to peacetime operations.

On his arrival in Toronto he addressed this month's session of the Allied Florists and Growers of Canada, where he assured Canadian florists that again they will be able to take orders here for delivery of flowers anywhere in Europe excepting, temporarily, Italy and Germany. Arrangements for immediate resumption of service have already been completed between the British Isles and Belgium, France, Sweden, Switzerland and Holland, he said.

Hunt was presented at the Ontario session of growers and retailers by Ernest S. Simmons of Toronto, director and chairman of sales and advertising of International Florists Telegraph Delivery Association whose headquarters are in the United States.

Simmons announced that Hunt would go from Toronto and Winnipeg to Chicago, Washington and Detroit, to re-establish overseas service also for the thousands of FTD member florists throughout the U. S. The current post-war plan for Transatlantic exchange will be formally approved at the annual board meeting of the international group in Detroit this month, where Hunt will present the detailed plan, Simmons said.

The latter revealed the FTD expects the flower business will absorb thousands of disabled veterans—approximately 2,000 as growers and perhaps 2,000 at various retail branches. Physicians and counselors at service hospitals also share the opinion that the florist business is one which offers splendid opportunities for injured servicemen.

Buffalo Meat for Christmas

Some Canadian citizens are going to be able to enjoy buffalo meat again this Christmas. Due to a healthy increase in the number of buffalo at Elk Island National Park, Alberta, it has been decided in the interests of sound wildlife management to slaughter a limited number of surplus animals between now and Christmas in order to keep the herd well within the grazing capacity of the park. The buffalo at Elk Island are in fine condition and the herd is kept around 1,000 head. The characteristics of the original stock acquired by the Canadian Government during the first decade of the present century have been well maintained and the herd is now regarded as the finest controlled herd on the North American Continent.

Mention of the buffalo always conjures up visions of early days of the western plains — the covered wagon, Buffalo Bill, Indian war parties, the red-coated mounties, the chase, stampeding herds and the wholesale slaughtering of magnificent beasts merely for their hides. Often the buffalo carcasses were left to rot by the hundreds, as apparently there was no market for such huge quantities of meat in those days, however choice in quality it may have been.

To the early hunter and trader the supply must have appeared almost inexhaustible. Were there not millions of buffalo roaming over the vast wild animal kingdom stretching from Manitoba to the foothills of the Canadian Rockies? New settlers in the West looked upon the buffalo as a menace to their crops.

PROMOTED

R. J. MacSWEEN

Two promotions within his department have been announced by the Hon. A. W. Mackenzie, Minister of Agriculture and Marketing for Nova Scotia. F. W. Walsh, B.S. A., who since 1933 has been Director of Marketing, is promoted to Deputy Minister, and R. J. MacSween, Senior Marketing representative, succeeds Mr. Walsh as Director of Marketing. The post of Deputy Minister has been vacant since Hon. Mr. Mackenzie accepted his present cabinet appointment after occupying the Deputy Minister position for a brief period following his release from the Canadian Army during the past summer.

F. W. WALSH

For the past twelve years Waldo Walsh has been Director of Marketing in Nova Scotia. He has given strong and effective leadership in promoting grading and organized marketing of farming, especially during the war period. He was the first chairman of the Nova Scotia Dairy Arbitration Commission; a member of the original committee that represented the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association in working out procedure to assist apple growers during war period; chairman of the special live stock feeds committee under Wartime Prices and Trade Board; member of Fruit and Vegetable Canadian Committee of W.P.T.B.; member of agricultural advisory committee to Canadian Food Board; member of the original Nova Scotia Fishermen's Loan Board; member of Nova Scotia Apple Marketing Board.

Farm raised, a son of the late Fred Walsh and Mrs. Walsh, of Cloverdale, N.B., Mr. Walsh entered the Nova Scotia Agricultural College in the fall of 1915, graduating in 1917 and completing the four-year course at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, with the B.S.A. degree in '22. In 1918 he served with the Royal Air Force. While at the O.A.C. he won a place in the students' live stock judging team which competed in the inter-collegiate judging contests at the International Live Stock Show, Chicago, where he had the high distinction of attaining the highest individual score in the whole competition.

Mr. Walsh, who is 48 years of age, has had a wide and varied experience in agricultural work covering a period of 28 years. From 1917 to March 1918 he was Assistant Live Stock Superintendent for N.B., and in 1919 and 1920 he was Superintendent of the same department. Following graduation from the O.A.C. in 1922, he was appointed Sheep & Swine Promoter for Nova Scotia under the Dominion Department of Agriculture which he continued until 1926 when he was selected as Professor of Animal Husbandry and Director of Live Stock Marketing at the N.S.A.C., Truro. From 1927 to 1933 he was with the Department of Colonization and Agriculture of the Canadian National Railways, Montreal, first as Superintendent of Agriculture for Eastern Canada and for the last five years of that period as Superintendent of Agriculture for the whole C. N.R. system. In 1933 he was appointed as Director of Marketing which position he has filled up to the present time.

Mrs. Walsh was the former Naomi Hayden, of Guelph, Ontario. They have three sons—Robert Waldo, who has just returned from service overseas with the Canadian Army, is presently a 2nd-year student at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College, Truro; Jack and Fred are both in high school. The family home is at 10 Cartaret Street, Halifax.

Roderick J. MacSween, Antigonish, is a product of rural Cape Breton, born in 1893, a son of the late Alexander and Mrs. MacSween, Beaver Cove, N.S. From 1918 to '23 he operated his own mixed farm and also completed the two-year course at Nova Scotia Agricultural College, Truro. During the past 22 years, Mr. MacSween has served agriculture in Nova Scotia in both production and marketing. From 1923 to 1929 he was agricultural representative for the large territory of Cape Breton, Victoria and Richmond counties. For the next five years he served in the same capacity in Antigonish County, where he also consulted in the management of Mount Cameron Dairy Farm operated by the St. Francis Xavier University. In 1935 he was appointed Inspector of Cooperative Associations for Nova Scotia and at the same time he assisted Mr. Walsh in marketing, promotion and direction. In fact, Mr. MacSween, "Rod" to his friends, has done a good deal of pioneering with farmers and fishermen. He was the second agricultural representative appointed under the present extension policy. While agricultural representative in Antigonish County, he organized in 1933 the first sale of poultry on a graded basis. From that beginning the project was destined to make great strides and spread to almost every community, reaching a total of nearly one million pounds of graded poultry sold on a quality basis in 1944. In recent years fish marketing has had Mr. MacSween's special attention resulting in greatly improved marketing for the inshore fishermen and particularly for the shipment of live lobsters to the American market.

Mrs. MacSween was the former Mary MacKinnon, also of Beaver Cove, Cape Breton. They have two daughters, Josephine and Margaret, and one son, Michael. The family home at present is in Antigonish.

In addition to his knowledge of farming and day to day problems of farmers, Mr. MacSween "has the Gaelic."

Farmers' Co-operative Have Good Year

Farmers within a radius of ten to fifteen miles of Brooklyn, Hants County, are feeling quite pleased, and justly so, with the progress of their business venture, the Brooklyn Cooperative Society, which has just completed another year showing a volume of business totalling over a quarter of a million dollars. Re-organized some two or three years ago under the Cooperative Societies Act, the Brooklyn Cooperative is an outgrowth of a farmer's desire to establish a means for selling farm produce on an organized and graded basis farm supplies such as food, fertilizer and other commodities which affect cost of production.

During the past few months extensive additions have been made to their facilities and a new feed storage, grinding and mixing plant is under construction, making it possible to purchase and store coarse grain in bulk carlots and to supply members with properly mixed and balanced rations for their live stock and poultry at reasonable prices.

At the recent annual meeting further expansions in service to members was discussed including the possibilities for establishing a modern machine shop, cold storage facilities with individual lockers, and modern poultry killing and egg grading equipment. Two years ago poultry killing was undertaken and in 1944 the Society handled over 150,000 lbs. All of these improvements and developments are undertaken with the object of assisting themselves in getting a more satisfactory margin between production costs and selling returns.

Two Tons Milk-Fed Chickens

The poultry pool held at West Bay Road, November 15, was outstanding from the viewpoint of quality. About 25 per cent of all birds marketed were capons, and there were a total of 5½ boxes of grade Special Milk-fed chickens and capons. This represents some skillful feeding on the part of the growers of this Cape Breton Island district, as there are few birds which reach the grade "special."

A total of 119 boxes, containing over 4400 lbs. of poultry, were shipped from this point, according to W. A. Jenkins, Assistant Poultry Promoter for Eastern Nova Scotia. Mr. Jenkins also points out that there were no grade C birds shipped, and all but two boxes were in the Milk-fed grades.

This is only one of several dozen poultry pools which will be held in Nova Scotia this season, but the percentage of high quality poultry is not likely to be greatly exceeded.

Blood Testing

Progressing Rapidly

Blood testing of hens for the breeding flocks is being rapidly completed according to Fred G. Proudfoot of the Extension Division, who reports that flocks in Annapolis and Kings counties have been finished and the work is well under way in Hants county. There are still some flocks to be tested in the South Shore poultry areas but it is expected that the whole province will be completed before Christmas. He says, "We are receiving excellent cooperation from the flock owners, which has been a great help in getting the work done at a fair pace."

Those Farm Survey Cards, Again

Every farmer should fill in a farm survey card. The importance of agricultural statistics is so great that we are repeating in this week's Farm News and urge every farmer to fill in the farm survey card which they have received or will shortly receive from the Dominion Bureau of statistics. The more farmers who fill in the cards the more accurate will be the statistics derived from them. Always of interest and value, agricultural statistics are especially important at the present time when thought is being given to the control of prices and possibly the fixing of "floor prices" for farm products.

To Keep Standards High And Coordinate Work

The newly-organized Agricultural Institute of Canada, its aims and objects, were explained to a large group of members in Truro recently by L. B. Thomson, president of the Institute. This organization is the outgrowth of a similar body formerly known as the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists. Mr. Thomson, who is superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Station, Swift Current, Saskatchewan, reminded his audience that Institute members and agricultural workers generally had contributed very largely to our progress. The contributions made by new varieties of wheat, oats, potatoes, apples, and the rust resistant varieties of cereals are widely recognized while a more recently developed method for avoiding loss from the wheat stem saw-fly is said to be worth $30,000,000 annually to Canada. He also pointed out that industry is recognizing the value of research with the result that highly qualified men are being attracted to commercial research and especially to the United States. The chief aim of the Institute is to maintain a high standard in agricultural work in Canada so that she may continue to contribute her share in leadership in farm progress. Another function is to coordinate the work in all branches of agricultural improvement and to give leadership and advice. Mr. Thomson spoke of the very cordial reception he and his executive had received from the Hon. J. G. Discusses Mealiness

In Potatoes

Many complaints are made of the lack of mealiness in potatoes. The following explanations quoted from the manuscript of a text on agriculture by Dr. M. Cumming, now in course of preparation, will be of interest to these complainers and may direct some to sources of mealy potatoes. He writes:

"Some varieties of potatoes, such as Green Mountain, and Irish Cobbler (white skinned) are generally more mealy than red-skinned varieties or the old McIntyre and like varieties. Also potatoes of any variety grown on light soils mealer than those grown on heavy soils." But more fundamental than these statements, he quotes the findings of four years experiments at the Dominion Experimental Farm, Fredericton, 1941-44, which reveal that the application of excess quantities of commercial fertilizer is probably the most prevalent cause of watery or waxy potatoes.

Explaining these findings, he states that mealiness in potatoes depends upon starch content. When there is less than 15 per cent of starch the potato will be waxy; at 15 per cent it commences to be mealy; and as the percentage increases above 15 per cent the potato becomes more mealy.

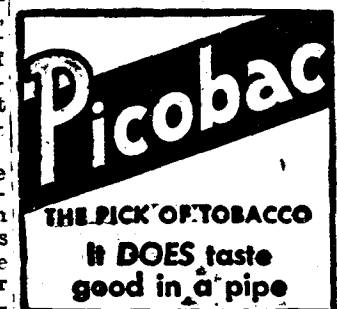

Growing potatoes without manure or fertilizer is impractical because the crop will be too small. But the results of the experiments clearly indicate that if a farmer wishes to grow a good crop of mealy potatoes he should either apply not more than 1000 lbs. of fertilizer per acre, or, better, a moderate amount of

Conference Planned

The Nova Scotia government will hold a conference with representatives of public bodies throughout the province for discussion of federal-provincial financial proposals says Premier Angus L. Macdonald. As originally presented the proposals are not entirely satisfactory to Nova Scotia but he believes a ground for a mutually beneficial agreement can be reached.

The Preview Library of the National Film Board contains approximately 700 films which may be obtained for circulation by national organizations. In addition to Canadian productions, the library keeps prints of British and American films of special interest to Canadians.

By the end of 1945, the larger portion of the Netherlands area flooded by the rupture of dams by bombing will be mostly drained. Already 2023 acres have been dried.

Improved methods of farming developed at Department of Agriculture experimental farms are demonstrated in films shown to audiences on the National Film Board Rural Circuits.

Counting the Deer

No one knows exactly how many deer were killed during the recent hunting season but the Department of Lands and Forests is busy trying to find out. Between three and four thousand pieces of registered mail have been flooding the department offices daily as hunters report the animals they bagged this year. Nearly 13,000 were killed in 1944.

"Bee Culture" was the subject of an interesting address delivered to the Kiwanis Club of Digby at their weekly meeting at the Myrtle House on Monday.
Dickson-Kerwin, well known Shakespearean dramatist, was also a guest at the supper and favored the club with two selections, "As You Like It" and Kipling's "If" as an encore.
The meeting was well attended and was the first to be held since the club changed from a noon hour luncheon to a supper meeting.

Mrs. M. C. Hanson and daughter, Betty, who have been spending a few days as guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hanson, returned home Monday.
The bride given in marriage sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. She wore a finger tip veil and carried a bouquet of red roses and fern. Her only ornament was a string of pearls. Miss Barbara Rice attended her sister as bridesmaid. She wore a floor length blue sheer dress with silver sequins trimming, long sleeves and finger tip veil and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Lawrence Palmer, R.C.N.V.R., of Windsor, Ont., was best man.
A reception was held at the Carleton Hotel, Halifax, following the ceremony, after which the bridal couple left for Saskatchewan where they will reside, following the groom's discharge from the Navy in which he has served for the past three years.
For travelling the bride wore a pale green wool dress green coat with brown accessories.

The establishment of a Canadian Coast Guard patterned on that of the United States was suggested at the Board of Trade meeting Tuesday night and a resolution calling upon the Dominion Government to establish such a service was passed at the meeting. It was pointed out that such a service would provide much better life saving facilities than the present system of life saving stations and would employ a considerable number of men.

Teeners to Present "Musical Nightcap"

The Teeners' Club presentation of "Musical Nightcap" tonight and tomorrow night at the Community Hall is a show that none can afford to miss. From the opening chorus to the grand finale it provides a real treat in the field of entertainment. Dotted with spritely dance routines, lovely solo numbers and rousing choruses the show is a veritable musical extravaganza. Comedy abounds and some of the numbers will really have the audience rolling in the aisles. Worthy of special mention is the "stately" Minuet. This number must be seen to really be enjoyed. In the Minstrel section a real comedy treat has been provided and few, if any, of the town's great and near great have been spared in the jokes of the end men. Sprinkled through the minstrel portion of the performance are songs, dances and chorus numbers that will go far to make the show the success it will be.

Board to Send Delegate to Ottawa

Decision to send a delegate to Ottawa to interview the member for the constituency and the Minister of Defence regarding the plans of the Government in regard to future operations at the Naval Base at Cornwallis was reached at the Board of Trade meeting Tuesday night.
The President of the Board was asked to get in touch with the President of the Annapolis Board, advising him of the Digby Board's action, suggesting that Annapolis take the same action.
Great concern was expressed at the meeting about the imminent closing of the Base and it was felt that some use that has involved the expenditure of such large sums of public money as the Cornwallis should not be allowed to pass into disuse if some useful purpose can be found for its facilities, it was felt. The effect on the surrounding country through the closing of Cornwallis would be bad and local business would suffer greatly it was stated.

Sent Up For Trial

Digby Everett was sent up to a higher court for trial by Magistrate G. H. Peters after a preliminary hearing Saturday morning. Everett was charged with breaking and entering the Reserve Army Barracks in Digby and stealing six rifles and other equipment valued at $198. The break took place sometime between August 11 and 18, 1945.
According to evidence given at this hearing the break was discovered on August 19, by C.Q.M.S. Charles McBride, when he returned to the barracks from camp at Aldershot to secure additional equipment for use at camp. Entry had been made to the quartermaster's Stores, where the equipment was kept, by breaking a window and forcing steel bars that had been placed on the inside of the window.
After checking the stores it was discovered that six rifles, two great coats, two bayonets and three kit bags were missing. R.C.M.P. officers were called in and they began to work on the case, was in St. John. One rifle and a quantity of ammunition was recovered in Saint John. The bayonets, kit bags and three other rifles were later recovered in the home and outbuildings of the accused's father, Chas. Everett. A further quantity of ammunition was also recovered. Two rifles have not yet been recovered. One of the great coats missing was located at the Everett home. Several of the rifles had been tampered with and the one recovered in Saint John had been sawed off at the stock.

Seek Action on Wharf Repair

A resolution deploring the condition of the Spur Pier and asking immediate government action to have this pier repaired was passed at Tuesday night's meeting of the Board of Trade.
It was also decided that the Board should have a petition drawn up and circulated among the scallop fishermen requesting action on the repair of the Spur. This petition would be forwarded to Ottawa together with the Board's resolution.
It was pointed out at the meeting that if repairs are not soon made to the Spur Pier which provides shelter for the scallop fleet the fleet might no longer be able to use Digby as their home port. Loss of the scallop fleet would mean a great loss to the bus life of Digby as the fleet leaves over half a million dollars in the town during the seven-months' fishing season.
Condition of the spur pier is said to be deplorable. Recent heavy storms have carried away the sheathing which faced up the seaward side faster than the present repair crews are making repairs, and if action is not soon taken the whole structure is in danger of collapse.
H. M. Warne was a passenger to Halifax Tuesday. On his return he was accompanied by his wife who recently underwent an operation in Halifax.
The Karry On Club met with Mrs. Guy Dunn last week. Meetings have been suspended until after the New Year.

About This and That

One of the most dreadful aspects of the Japanese war, as viewed now in retrospect, is the fact that apparently they have never seemed to grasp the enormity of their crimes. Their attitude seems still to be that war is a legitimate procedure when a nation thinks it has a grievance, or can advance itself in power and wealth by a bold stroke. It is like the familiar German attitude, that a war is worth trying if you think you can benefit by it, and ethics and humanity have very little to do with the matter.

Such an attitude makes life little more than "a game played by an idiot, full of squalor and fury, signifying nothing." But surely life as it may be lived and as it is lived by the people of a nation like our own, is immensely more than that.

At least a deaf man doesn't have to keep on hearing those old moth-eaten stories.

With so many clever gadgets of all kinds on the market nowadays and more appearing all the time, it begins to look as if this generation, or the next, may suffer a terrible fate. A mechanical world may leave the bulk of mankind, and even womankind, with no work to do. And in order to get along at all in the new scheme of things, it may be necessary to develop a deliberate cult of indolence.

To many people this will probably be easy enough, but in any group or cult there will always be a bunch of mavericks who refuse to play the game—or who over-play it, as the case may be. Thus real trouble may develop eventually between the busy and the lazy.

Most of us would like a little chance at extra days off, however, without worrying too much about possible dire and distant consequences.

At least the lawyers can't split hairs over a case that contains nothing but the bald facts.

This is an age of wrong values, according to the Canadian Maj.-Gen. Brock Chisholm, who is also deputy minister of health and welfare. We pay movie stars 200 times the salary of a university professor. Our football coaches get more money than our high school teachers. And we think ourselves enlightened, though hotels refuse to number a floor 13 because some people think the number is unlucky.

All this is our fault, says Gen. Chisholm, and our children will have to save themselves because we are incapable of saving them. Having done our children so much harm, we should at least try to make up for it by teaching them to think for themselves and reaching their own conclusions.

Whatever may be said of Gen. Chisholm's premises, he comes to a sound conclusion. A generation that has really learned to think for itself need fear hardly any difficulty that may come along.

Most of us can be satisfied with almost anything, just so it is a little more than the neighbors have.

In an age of coal, steam, fuel oil, airplanes and buzz bombs, it is reassuring to find that there are still sturdy men and women in this world willing and able to get back to first principles, and challenge the sea as sailors did thousands of years ago. There is a special "kick" in the voyage of Capt. Kou Walter and his family—father, son, wife, two daughters and a young baby—from Sweden to Miami in a 47-foot yawl with no auxiliary motor—a cruise of 7,000 miles requiring five months of "forever climbing up the climbing wave." But they got there safe and sound.

It must be a grand thing for a sailor to have a family that can "take it" as those stout people did. If they did not really enjoy it they should still find considerable satisfaction in their achievement, and a soft age should appreciate them at their full worth.

Unhappy is the home when the wife deems it part of her domestic duties to nag her husband.

"Rehabilitation" is a word now in common usage. We really believe honest and sincere efforts are being made to rehabilitate those thousands of service personnel now returning to civilian life.

But we would like to see equally honest and sincere efforts taken to rehabilitate another group most of whom steered clear of uniforms, or for physical (and perhaps mental) reasons were unable to pass the necessary qualifications, were unable to pass the necessary qualifications.

We refer to those thousands of government employees occupying offices in nearly every town and city in the Dominion—they are those "obedient servants" of the people who, in a most domineering manner have administered—and misadministered—those never popular war time controls.

While many of these controls, regulations and restrictions were essential to the war effort and served a definite purpose, the great majority of them have now outlived their usefulness.

Business men in Canada are reaching the point where they would like to take a deep breath without fear of taking in too much air and finding themselves subject to a fine.

One way to fool the public into believing you are conserving essential goods would be to purchase a new suit, take it directly to the tailor, pay him to cut out the seat, knees and elbows and replace the original seat, knees and elbows with colorful patches—checked patches would be most effective.

By so doing the conservation idea might be put across—but the plan is economically ridiculous.

Nevertheless, a parallel to this procedure is followed by certain government agencies, endeavoring to impress the public they are conserving paper through the use of "second hand envelopes."

Many such envelopes have been received at our office. Their face a printed gummed sticker with space for an address and folded over to seal the original slit in the envelope. You have seen them too.

No doubt some paper tonnage has been saved through this economy (?). On the other hand we feel safe in suggesting that saving in tonnage has been more than offset through the coat of gummed labels and loss of time in handling them. The labels would cost practically the same as the average quality printed envelope (and considerably more than the cost of unprinted envelopes).

The lost time in addressing, moistening and sealing labels and time lost in salvaging the envelopes should also enter into the reckoning.

In our mind (and perhaps in the minds of most printers and stationers) this so called economy is a huge joke. In actual dollars and cents—and time wasted—we believe the economy shows on the wrong side of the ledger—the net paper tonnage saved (when the weight of gummed paper is deducted from the weight of envelopes thus salvaged) is not warranted under the circumstances.

In Memoriam

IN MEMORIAM—In sad and loving memory of our darling son, Pte. Roger McCormack, who fell in action somewhere in Italy, December 12, 1943:

The one we love has gone to rest. His fond, true heart is still. The hands that always helped us Now lie in death's cold chill. We think of him in silence, His name we oft recall. There is nothing left to answer But his picture on the wall. Oh, God, what a weight of sorrow.

Must we the lonely ones bear. A lonely home, a silent voice, And only his vacant chair.

—Fondly remembered by Mom, Dad, Sisters and Brothers.

SCOTTISH LADY

Three years ago the ladies of South Range sent 9 quilts into the Red Cross. Some of them attached their names to them. Recently Mrs. John Marshall received the following letter from Scotland. It is as follows:

"Dear Mrs. Marshall: I expect you will be rather surprised when you receive this letter. I found your name and address on a bed quilt while working at the clothing centre. I copied it down meaning to write and thank you and the ladies of your community for all the good work you have done for this country.

However I mislaid the address and just found it recently. So here is a short note of thanks and appreciation. Believe me everyone at the clothing centre thought a great deal of your quilts and you folks. I don't know who got your beautiful quilt. Perhaps you have already had a letter from someone here.

I live in a little town twenty miles from Glasgow and nine miles before you come to Sterling.

We had a great deal of work to do when the blitz of Clydebank was on. We were all on our toes those nights. My husband, being in the N.F.S., was out all night, then the second day the poor folks were evacuated to us and believe me it was pitiful. I had two girls and their father staying with me for nearly six months. However that's all over and thank God things are getting back to normal again although it will take quite sometime yet. We have been very short of food but never hungry as those poor folks are on the continent.

We still can't get much underwear and have to wait a long time for anything, then there are our coupons to consider. We are all so sorry for the younger folk and children.

My son is in Kenya just now, likes it there fine. We don't know when he'll be coming home. I am not worried so much as there is on fighting there. As long as he is happy that is all that matters.

We haven't any Canadian boys here. We had English boys and wher they went away we got Polish forces here. Very nice boys too.

Have you had any boys in the forces? I don't think there can be many homes over there that haven't loved ones in the war.

Do write me a wee note and let me know. I am sending you a calendar with some Scottish views. If you are a Scotch woman you will like it. Now I do hope you won't think it cheek on my part, writing to you. I will stop now.

Wishing you all the best in the New Year.

Yours very sincerely,

How Can H. and S. Influence the Community

Since a Home and School Association represents an organized section of community life, it is capable of exerting pressure within a community that would be impossible on an individual basis.

Practically every community large or small, is characterized by a number of factors that react detrimentally upon growing children, their health, their daily learning and their adjustments. One of these factors is inadequate recreational and leisure time facilities. A Home and School Association can be a powerful factor in promoting the community development of adequate recreational facilities, as well as in doing away with community leisure time activities and influences that are known to be hostile to wholesome child development.

A Home and School Association may initiate a movement towards beautifying the environment of a community. Beginning with the school grounds, such a movement may be extended to broader and broader fields, developing civic pride and responsibility.

A Home and School Association may, in co-operation with city health authorities, initiate, organize and carry through what is called a "Summer Round-Up" of children who will be entering school in the fall. In this way, advantage is taken of the summer holidays to see that all prospective school children are enabled to have health examinations and treatment of defects, when necessary, so that when September comes they will go to school with "clean bills of health" as far as possible. The summer roundup has the advantage of decreasing the school-opening load of necessary health examinations. There can be no doubt that such a round-up is a factor of great advantage to the general community.

The above are only a few instances of ways in which the Home and School Association may influence the community and community life. The opportunities are practically endless and all react beneficially upon the developing school child.

The Bear River Road Home and School Association held its December meeting at the School house on December 6, 1945, with Max Isles presiding.

After the singing of "O Canada" and the reading of the Home and School creed in unison, the regular routine business was conducted.

A pleasing program in keeping with the Christmas season had been prepared with Mrs. Murray Alcorn, convenor, and included the singing of carols with Mrs. Earle Banks as organist; a dialogue, "Mr. Piper Give a Present" by Misses Joan Sloan and Phyllis Fredericks; guitar music by Easterby Sloan; a Christmas quiz and a contest.

Delicious refreshments were served with Mrs. M. Alcorn, Mrs. Max Isles and Mrs. E. Sloan in charge.

MADE IN CANADA

To obtain appeal and interest in group pictures, pose the subjects carefully but naturally.

Making successful group pictures is a challenge to every amateur photographer, just as it has been to every artist. It certainly requires thought and planning to make a portrait of a single individual that really tells a story and "comes to life." Picturing a group of individuals multiplies the problems involved.

Actually, however, you will find it is fairly simple to make a successful group picture if you keep a few basic pointers in mind the next time you try to get a group together. The rewards for success will be great enough so that they will well repay you for every bit of time and thought you expend.

The first problem in picturing a group is to get the individuals related in such a way that they have "group unity." It's not enough just to line them up and tell them to watch the birdie. Create some incident or activity which will arouse the interest of all members of the group and insure actual participation. If this incident is amusing enough to make them laugh, so much the better. But have one center of attention.

This center of attention can be either outside the group, as in the snapshot above, or it can be within the group itself.

THE BIRTH OF HOME DIVISION

It is rather an unusual event when any society—except it be a church—celebrates its 85th anniversary, especially when that society exists in a comparatively small village, but such an event has just been celebrated in the life of this Home Division, No. 169, of the Sons of Temperance. This could have been celebrated on either one of two dates—Nov. 22, as that was the day in 1860 when the charter was granted, or on December 5, two weeks later, when the Division was formally organized. The organization meeting was held at the home of Chas. T. Potter, and was presided over by Rev. Charles Randall. A number of visitors were present and their names have been carefully recorded. They were D.G., W.P., A. M. Gidney, of General Williams Division, No. 160; Wm. T. Kerr, Wm. O. Montrose and A. Hard, of Halcyon Division; John S. McNeil and Henry Patterson, of Gen. Inglis Division, No. 152; William Aymer and James Aymar, of Hope Division, No. 154; Wm. F. Potter, William M. Jones, Abraham Gavel and Thomas Potter, of Union Division, No. 6, and John Walsh, of Royal Division, No. 37.

The meeting was called to order at 3:00 o'clock in the min Hardy was appointed treasurer pro tem. At this meeting although pounds shillings and pence were the recognized units of currency, it was resolved that the dues be paid in dollars and cents and that the weekly dues be four cents; also at this meeting the hour of opening was set at 6:30 o'clock. A few weeks later, on December 26, we find that the dues of four cents a week was thought too high and they were cut to three cents. At the end of December—the first quarter of the Grand Division year—the membership was reported as 18.

In reading over those early minutes we were struck by the fact that the 1/2 cent was an important unit in money. On the first night the receipts were $5.21 1/2; again on Dec. 19, $1.67 1/2; on Jan. 30/61, 25 1/2 cents—in fact, at almost every session the 1/2 cent figures in receipts.

The first withdrawal took place on March 6th, 1861, when Henry J. Thomas resigned as conductor (the resignation being tendered by proxy) and also asked for a withdrawal card. It would be interesting to know what caused Mr. Thomas' action as only two weeks previously he had proposed for membership Edwin Thomas, aged 18, who was voted on and accepted the next week but as far as I can see he was never initiated. Something must have been said which Mr. Thomas did not like.

At this time the Sons of Temperance was made up exclusively of sons—ladies could not become members. On March 6 a resolution was passed that the next meeting would be spent in discussion on the propriety of the admission of lady visitors, and as a result of the discussion which took place, as stated, a motion was made to admit them, but an amendment that the matter be deferred prevailed.

The first invitation Home Division received from another was on March 20, 1861, when General Inglis Division, 152, invited them to an anniversary celebration March 23rd. There is no record of this meeting which is to be regretted. Probably the records of the General Inglis Division would have something to say.

The vexed question of lady visitors was coming up every week and considerable time was being spent over the matter.

On April 3/61 they elected the first delegate to the Digby County Temperance Convention which was to be held on Digby Neck. They were James W. Poole, Miles C. Woodman, Benjamin P. Sulis and Benjamin Hardy.

It was not until May 8, 1861, that the Division decided to allow lady visitors. At the next session the admission was set at 25 cents.

On August 28, 1861, they decided to attend a S. of T. picnic on the grounds of the Baptist meeting house at Grand Joggin.

It was not until Sept. 4 that the first lady visitors, Mrs. Jas. W. Poole, Miss Seretha J. Poole, Mrs. Chas. T. Potter, Miss Naomi Chute, Miss Georgina Thomas, Mrs. Benjamin P. Sulis, Miss Cynthia Rice were proposed and accepted. By the way, the last named puts me in mind of the fact that Jonas Rice, whose widow's death took place only a comparatively short time ago, became a member on March 20, 1861.

It seems to have been the practice for Divisions at that time to notify other Divisions of suspensions and expulsions.

They were mostly for violation of the pledge, but on Sept. 18, Royal Division notified Home that a member had been expelled for making public the private affairs of the Division.

A storm of some kind in the Division evidently took place at the last of September. On the 25th the officers for the next quarter were elected, but at the next session the election was protested on the ground that the younger members of the Division (those under 21 were not entitled to vote) had voted. So the election was declared void and a new staff of officers chosen.

The first suspension mentioned took place on April 30, 1862, when Edmund A. Poole, against whom charges had been preferred for divulging the private work of the Division was found guilty and suspended, but the matter came up again on May 7 and the action was reversed.

On May 21, 1862, after being postponed for many meetings it was decided that the design for the centre of the seal of the Division "be a cottage with trees arranged to suit the engraver."

The first death recorded was that of H. Taylor whose funeral took place on Sunday, July 13, 1862, under the Division auspices.

This paper briefly covers the activities of the Division during the first two years of its existence. A whole volume could be written, and it would be interesting, too, on account of the large number of local names, from Smith's Cove, Digby, Bear River and the Ridge which would appear in it. I took particular notice that at the meeting of Dec. 24/62 Lafayette Snow, age 22, mariner, was proposed and initiated the same night. I have no doubt that was the Rev. Lafayette Snow, for so many years an active member.

Mrs. Gordon Ellis sang a Christmas carol "O Little One Holy" as arranged by S. R. Collins of the United Church of Canada, Angola. Mrs. J. MARRIAGES

Vigneau - Hubert

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Mary's R. C. church, Church Point, Saturday when Miss Clodille Hubert, district nurse and Georges Vigneau, both of Iles des Madeleines in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, were united in marriage by the brother of the bride, Rev. Ade Hubert, professor of St. Ann's college.

Mrs. Joanne W. LeBlanc and Gustave Thibodeau attended. The bride was attired in a dark blue two piece suit with hat and accessories to match as also was the bridesmaid. The wedding breakfast was held at St. Ann's as special guests of Rev. Hubert, brother of the bride, and a delicious supper was served at the Bay Breeze Inn. Songs and music were the treat of the evening for friends and the young couple. Prof. Ulysse Comeau was at the organ during the marriage services and Mrs. Willie J. Belliveau and Alyre Comeau both sang beautiful solos. The happy couple left for Halifax on their honeymoon on Monday morning and will reside in the Iles des Madeleines.

came and the huts started to melt they moved into tents. Their food consisted chiefly of raw meats and fish. He was also interested in the spiritual welfare of the natives, teaching them from the Bible in which they were very interested and having Sunday School for the children. He also mentioned that there was a lot of home mission work to be done, as well as foreign missions. Mr. Sabean went to Weymouth High School before taking up this work. All were glad to hear him and enjoyed his talk very much and hope it will not be long before Mr. Sabean will give us another talk on his work. Mrs. Cecil Prime sang a solo which was much enjoyed. A silver offering was taken. Meeting closed with benediction.

Ashmore W.M.S. Meet at

The W.M.S. of Ashmore and Weymouth North held their annual crusade meeting in the Bethel Baptist Church November 27. Rev. J. B. Hogan, pastor of the church, opened the meeting with a hymn-sing, scripture reading and prayer, followed by a brief address, then the president, Mrs. William Lent took over the meeting. Mrs. Lent gave a short talk on the missionary work. The guest speaker for the evening was Burgess Sabean, of New Tusket, who has been in Ungava Bay, Labrador, for the past five years, as a wireless operator. He also did missionary work. He gave a very interesting talk on the life of the natives; he described their homes, how in winter months they lived in huts made from snow, but as the warm days

St. Patrick's School Concert

The pupils of St. Patrick's school presented a very beautiful symbolic play, "Star of Christ", at their annual Christmas concert on Monday and Tuesday nights. The play was a modernized version of a type of mystery play which was very popular in olden days. Its purpose was to convey by suggestion rather than by portrayal a play in which the hero was a little child lying in a manger out on the hills of Bethlehem.

The drama was played in five scenes: the first the Annunciation, then a scene showed Mary and Joseph seeking shelter with the shepherds upon the hills. Scene three showed Herod's reception of the Wise Men while the fourth scene showed the kings and their attendants again on the way towards the manger, following the star. The final scene showed the adoration of the Holy Babe by the shepherds and the kings and the angels hovering over the crib while the choir sang "O Lovely Infant".

The whole drama was wonderfully well performed and all of the young actors and actresses took their parts splendidly. The portrayal of the Angels, the Holy Family, the Wise Men and all of the other characters was splendidly done and the entire cast and their instructors deserve great credit for their work.

Opening the programme of the evening was a pageant—"Peace on Parade" Carol singers then presented Christmas favorites, old and new. The children of Grade I to IV presented a playlet, "The Spirit of Christmas".

At the close of the evening's programme Rev. T. W. Hodgson, Digby Academy Principal F. C. Purdy, and Deputy Mayor V. G. Cardoza spoke, congratulating the Sisters for their fine work in training the pupils and complimenting the young performers on their fine work.

Carol Singing

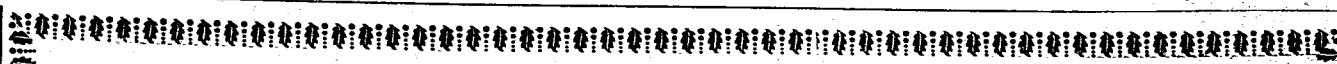

People of Digby will be given an opportunity to join in the singing of those beautiful Christmas hymns and carols on Monday evening. It was announced, at the last meeting of the Digby Kiwanis Club that the Teeners plan to start out in the early evening singing Christmas carols. They hope to be joined by other groups. Later in the evening they will stop at the Community Christmas Tree where it is hoped a large crowd will join them in the singing.

The Kiwanians have decided that for their next meeting (Monday night) they will hold their regular supper at 6:15 and adjourn early in order that as many of the members who possibly can may join with the Teeners in making their carol singing rounds.

C. W. Smith brought a request to the club from the Teeners that the Kiwanians assist these young people in the distribution of Christmas Boxes. A committee was named to work with the Teeners in this connection. The Kiwanians also decided to make the Teeners one of their "projects" during 1946 and hope they will have many opportunities to assist them during the coming year.

Reports on the recent Kiwanis School at Halifax were presented by H. M. Warner and C. W. Smith, president and secretary elect.

J. G. MacDonald was welcomed as a new member of the club.

Christmas 1945

Christmas 1945 . . . of all Christmases . . . looms as the most soul-stirring, the most meditative. A friendly day in which to dream as well as make merry . . . a day when "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men" will assume a greater meaning . . . a hope so profound that it transcends utterance. Give thanks for this land where people are free to gather openly and pray. Give thanks for the birth of the Saviour who taught the world that love is more powerful than hate, good mightier than evil, life stronger than death.

"Peace on Earth . . .

Good Will to Men"

Community Christmas Tree

Those who selected Digby's Community Christmas Tree did an excellent job—the tree which stands on Water Street between the Turnbull and McPhee blocks, decked out with its many coloured lights, is a thing of beauty.

It is to be hoped that on Christmas Eve as many of the townspeople—and others—as possible, will gather at the tree for the singing of those much loved Christmas Carols.

Heavy Mail

Although the volume of Christmas mail is not so heavy this year as during the war years the Digby post office staff are handling a tremendous amount of mail—letters, parcels and cards.

Every day for the past week the mail truck has been loaded high above its sideboards with mail bags and on several occasions has had to make two trips.

Digby people have complied well with early mailing instructions and parcelling regulations and in this way have cooperated well with postal authorities.

Tuberculosis is the seventh cause of death in Canada. In 1912 it was the first cause.

We Are Taking a Holiday

Our staff is going to take a holiday. When we lock on Saturday we will not open our doors for business until Monday, December 31.

What is more, the Courier will not be published on December 27—to the best of our knowledge this will be the first time in the Courier's long history that an issue has been deliberately missed. Mechanical difficulties have on rare occasions caused us to be late with an issue, but—we have never missed.

Nevertheless, we feel the vacation is due all of us. For the past few weeks in particular the grind has been a pretty strenuous one—and for the past few years we have been going as tight as we could go.

Of course there are a few regular commitments—such as lodge notices and other pieces that must be printed on a definite schedule—these will be looked after, but outside of attending to these matters, "business as usual" will definitely not be our slogan. We are going to take life easy for a week and may even go so far as to have breakfast served in bed one or two mornings just to experience such a luxury.

30 Nurses Graduate

Nearly every part of the province was represented when diplomas were handed out to 30 graduates of the Victoria General Hospital School of Nursing. Health Minister, Dr. Frank R. Davis, presented the parchments at the annual exercises held in Halifax.

Wins Radio

G. W. Connell held the lucky ticket which won the 1946 Philco Radio drawn for at the Teeners' Show Friday night.

It was stated, in error, on the posters advertising the sale of tickets on this radio that the radio had been secured through the MacDonal Motor Co. Ltd. Actually the radio was donated to the Teeners' Club by A. L. Robinson of the MacDonal Motor Co. Ltd. and a letter has gone forward from Helen May, Secretary of the Club, thanking Mr. Robinson for his splendid donation.

Joint Meeting of Boards

A joint meeting of the Digby and Annapolis Royal Boards of Trade was held at the Navy League Hostel last night to discuss the possibilities of continuing the H.M.C.S. Cornwallis as a peace time operation.

No details concerning the outcome of the meeting were available at time of going to press a full report will be carried in the next issue.

A classification of existing medical and health films has been completed during the past year by the National Film Board.

"Musical Nightcap" Great Success

Playing before capacity house at both evening performances and matinee the Teeners' "Musical Nightcap" show, "Musical Nightcap" was a tremendous success. It is estimated that over twelve hundred persons saw the production which grossed over $740. It is expected that when all expenses are paid the Club will net more than $600 which will be used in alternations to the Community Hall and for furnishing the new quarters of the Club which are to be located in the hall.

With a cast of twenty-six under the direction of Shirley Snow assisted by Billy Winfield and Eugene Handspiker, the show was a grand entertainment treat. All of the numbers performed, choruses, dance routines and solo numbers showed great talent and ability on the part of the youngsters and provided a full evening's entertainment. Remarkable singing ability was shown by Barb. Marshall, Marie Theriault and Billy Winfield in their solo numbers and the dancing of Aileen Winchester and Shirley Snow was really excellent. Effective chorus renditions of such songs as "Chickory Chick," "Accentuate the Positive" and other popular numbers were well received by the audience. A dance routine "Bell Bottom Trousers", added a nautical touch to the performance.

In the humorous vein were such numbers as a dance routine based on Beethoven's "Minuet in G" which really brought down the house. A simulated "commercial" announcement by Billy Winfield and Eugene Handspiker, also provided many laughs as did Eugene's rendition of a French Canadian monologue, "Dot Leetle Box."

Worthy of special mention was the beautiful song and dance routine, "Dream." This number, based on the lovely song was really beautiful and did credit to its twelve lovely dancers. The Latin-American routine number "No Can Do," starring Shirley Snow and Billy Winfield also merited special mention.

The jokes in the Minstrel portion of the show were particularly good and many of the town's citizens were "ribbed" in a very lively manner.

All of the dance routines, chorus numbers and effects were the work of the Teeners themselves as were the lighting effects and stage settings. Floor lights, stage curtains and backdrops were provided by the Special Services Branch, H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, through the kind permission of Capt. J. C. I. Edwards and Lt. Burnett.

New Housing Units

Permits for 64 new housing units were issued in Nova Scotia cities and towns during October, according to reports of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics and the Department of Industry's industrial division. They were valued at $271,600. Only 39 such permits were issued in October, 1944.

China's first president after the institution of the republic in 1912 was Yuan Shi Kai, who occupied from 1913 until his death in 1916.

Telephone Service Under Fire

Digby's telephone service came in for a great deal of criticism at last week's Board of Trade meeting. Great dissatisfaction with the quality of service being rendered by the local system which is operated by the Maritime Tel. and Tel. Company, was expressed and numerous instances were cited showing that the present service is far from satisfactory.

The secretary of the Board was instructed to write the Nova Scotia Board of Public Utilities expressing the Board of Trade's dissatisfaction with the service in Digby and requesting that a public hearing be held concerning the matter.

World's Youngest Conductor Leads Middleton Band

(Middleton Outlook)

Hanging up what is considered a world record in youthful band leaders took place Sunday evening at the concert given in the Capitol Theatre by Middleton Concert Band, when David Hankinson, under four years old, wielded the baton through an entire selection.

David, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hankinson, of this town, attired in white with black bow tie, substituted for Bandmaster C. H. Appleby, and carried the band through with a remarkable degree of proficiency in the number, "Our Jackie", a tribute to the Navy.

This young lad has shown a keen interest in the Band, starting with the band concerts during the summer and regularly attends the practice each Thursday night, so it looks as though Middleton has in the making a real band leader. As guest conductor Sunday evening he displayed no timidity, attending strictly to the job on hand. Roars of applause greeted the young lad's first public appearance.

(David is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Hankinson, of Weymouth, and has a large number of relatives in this county.—Ed. Courier).

Vandals Damage Rink

Flooding of the Board of Trade rink was delayed last week because of the work of vandals who damaged the water line leading to the rink.

The cover of the standpipe had been torn off and a sharpened scantling driven down into the shut-off badly damaging the value and making it necessary to dig up the system.

This latest act of vandalism is not the first time that an effort has been made to hinder the work at the rink. Some weeks ago it was discovered that someone had sawed the padlocks off the town shut-off leading to the rink. An attempt was made there to jam the water valve with but little success.

Officials of the rink committee say that they have an idea who is behind these acts of vandalism and are prepared to prosecute if they continue.

Dr. McCleave Receives Honour

Dr. John R. McCleave has received word that he has been accorded a certificate from the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada certifying him as a specialist in general surgery.

Graduating from Dalhousie Medical School in 1930 Dr. McCleave took a post graduate course at Pittsfield, U.S.A., before coming to Digby in 1932. He has practised here since that date and is on the medical staff of the Digby General Hospital.

Draws Three Month Sentence

Pleading guilty Digby Everett was sentenced to three months in the County Jail by County Court Judge Kenneth Crowell, in court Thursday morning, on a charge of breaking and entering. The charge arose out of a break into the Reserve Army barracks last August.

Christmas Sale Sewing Circle

The Smith's Cove Baptist Sewing Circle held their annual Christmas sale and a vic social in the Temperance Hall on Tuesday evening of last week. Although the weather was unfavorable the sale was well attended.

The sale was preceded by the weekly meeting of the Young People's Society. Every one present agreed that the young people gave a splendid entertainment. Smith's Cove might well be proud of these fine young people who choose to be different and who want to give their time to something worth while.

Plans are being made now for Easter and the spring entertainments.

Butter Output Drops

Nova Scotia butter production showed a decline of 7 1/2 per cent at 416,300 pounds during November, the Department of Agriculture reports. Last year's November figure was 449,800 pounds. For the year to date, however, total output is up 2.9 per cent at 6,941,000 pounds.

In Memoriam

IN MEMORIAM—In loving memory of my dear sister, Rose LeBlanc, who passed away December 19, 1944.

We little knew when we woke that morn,
What sorrow the day would bring,
To part with one we loved so dear,
I wonder why she had to die
Without a chance to say good bye

—Ever remembered by Sister Minnie, Tiverton, N. S. 15:11c

IN MEMORIAM—In sad and loving memory of our very dear daughter and sister, Rose LeBlanc, who passed away Dec. 19, 1944:

The one we love has gone to rest,
Her fond true heart is still;
The hands that always helped us
Now lie in death's cold chill.
We think of her in silence,
Her name we oft recall:
There is nothing left to answer,
But her picture on the wall:
Oh, God, what a weight of sorrow,
Must we, the lonely ones, bear;
A lonely home, a silent voice,
And only her vacant chair.

—Fondly remembered by Mom, Dad, Sisters and Brothers.

IN MEMORIAM—In loving memory of George W. Marshall, who died Dec. 18, 1936:

He is gone but not forgotten,
And so dwains another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always near,
Days of sadness will come o'er us,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within the heart concealed.

—Ever remembered by his mother and sisters, wife and daughter. 15:11p

IN MEMORY of Judson Mullen who passed away December 24, 1944:

Oh, what would we give to clasp your hand,
Your dear, kind face to see;
Your loving smile, your welcome voice.

That meant so much to us,
No one knows the silent heart-ache,
Only those who have such can tell.

Of the grief that is borne in silence,
For one we loved so well.

—Inserted by wife, Ella Mullen, and Family. 15:11p

MAN KILLED WHILE HUNTING DUCKS

Irene Comeau, 37, of Three Rivers, Quebec, was instantly killed shortly before noon Sunday at Dunbar's Landing, on the Sissiboo River, near Weymouth, as the result of the accidental discharge of a shotgun in the hands of Joseph Laurent Proulx, of Hull, Que. A coroner's jury at Weymouth Sunday afternoon absolved Proulx of any blame.

The two men, both armed with shot guns, had gone duck shooting. About 11 o'clock Sunday morning they were crouching on the shore of the river near Dunbar's landing when Proulx went to change his position. In rising his shot gun accidentally discharged, most of the shot entering Comeau's head just above the right ear.

R.C.M. Police from Digby were summoned to the scene and the body later removed to Nichol's Undertaking Parlors, Weymouth North, where the inquest opened at four o'clock Sunday afternoon with Coroner Dr. H. J. Pothier, presiding.

Victor MacNeill, of Weymouth, was named foreman of the jury. Other jurymen were Robert Bartlett, Phillip LeBrun, Legere Lefebvre, Ernest Prettie, Ambrose Roule, George McCullum, Robie Hill, Clifford Goudey, John Kazulak, Camille Comeau and Leo Levert.

Comeau and Proulx were both employees of the Canadian Bridge Company who have been engaged for some time at strengthening railway bridges along the Dominion Atlantic Railway. At present this concern is reinforcing the big bridge across the Sissiboo.

The victim is a widower and is survived by two daughters in Three Rivers.

FARMERS' MARKET

Digby

The money has to be "raised", too.

When there's a barn to be raised a man's neighbors ... sometimes a whole community ... often pitch in and help him do the heavy end of the work.

And as for the money needed for materials, that, too ... although few people stop to think about it ... often comes from co-operation, too.

Four million or more Canadian "neighbors" pool a part of their savings in Life Insurance. Their premiums add up to a huge sum, part of which is available for farm and town mortgages, so that when a farmer, for instance, wants to build, or enlarge, or renovate, he can raise the money readily.

The Life Insurance business is strictly a "neighborly" business ... a great co-operative enterprise which aims at the protection of the people by the people.

A portion of every dollar invested by the Life Insurance companies helps to finance farmers and town dwellers who occasionally need mortgage loans to realize their ambitions and get ahead. The remainder is invested in government and municipal bonds and other securities under government regulations. Every man who owns Life Insurance does more than safeguard the future of his loved ones ... he also shares in Canada's progress.

Celebrates 88th Birthday

On Wednesday, December
12, Harvey P. Kinney, of Bear River, celebrated his 88th
He received many gifts and cards from friends and relatives in the province and abroad. In the evening a group of friends and neighbors called at the home and a happy evening was spent in recalling past days and current events. Refreshments were served by Miss Muriel Kinney, assisted by Mrs. J. L. Warren—the prettily decorated birthday cake being much admired. Mr.
Kinney thanked his friends in a sincere impromptu speech and while is not able to walk down to the village as he used to do he keeps up his interest in all things, political and otherwise. A staunch Liberal, Mr. Kinney endeavors to work always for the betterment of the community and as Justice of the Peace, through his discerning judgment and valuable advice, is of great assistance to many who consult him from time to time, in this capacity. The whole community wish Mr.

Kinney many more years of useful citizenship. It is not given to many to be as alert physically and mentally at such an age so we may say truthfully "May you be blessed with years of health and strength, to guide and help those whose years are few."

W.M.S. Meeting

The W.M.S. of the United Church, Bear River, met at the home of Mrs. W. A. Chute on Friday afternoon. Following the opening exercises Mrs.
James Brooks, acting president, reviewed the work of the past year, mentioning the success of the prescribed reading course—allocation of time—Mission Band work and boxes sent to the Sydney Mission for Christmas, showing that much had been accomplished. Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. Otis Rice were appointed delegates to the Presby-terial meeting to be held in Middleton on January 24 and will conduct the memorial service for those members who entered into rest during the year. A letter was read from Miss Elizabeth Forbes, Deaconess of the Sydney Mission, expressing thanks for the Christmas Boxes received from our Society. The financial statement showed that we will again exceed our allocation in 1945.

Following considerable discussion regarding the present situation of Japanese citizens, a resolution was passed, putting our Society on record as favoring the retention in Canada of those older Japanese citizens who wish to remain, as these older people are dependent on their "Canadian-born" children for support, and it would be a great hardship to the members of the families if they were to be separated. A copy of this resolution will be sent to the Presbyterial Meeting.

Rev. James Brooks then conducted the election of officers. It was with sincere regret that the resignation of Mrs. George Croscup, as president, was accepted. Mrs.
Croscup has been president for twenty-one out of the past twenty-three years, and only failing health makes it advisable for her to retire.
To honor her years of Christian service, her unfailing and unstinted interest in the work of the Society—and her enthusiasm in all matters pertaining to the work of the Church, she was elected Honorary President.

Other officers elected were:
President, Mrs. James Brooks;
1st. Vice, Mrs. Wm. Morine;
2nd. Vice, Mrs. J. E. Laneley;
Recording Sec., Mrs. Milton
Morgan; Assistant Mrs. Otis
Rice; Treasurer and Press,
Mrs. A. B. Campbell; Corresponding Sec., Mrs. W. A.
Chute; Associate Helpers, Mrs.
Lloyd Sanford, Ward-ship, Mrs. R. H. Purdy; Supply, Mrs. Chas. Balser; Community Friendship, Mrs.
Otis Rice; Missionary Monthly and World Friends, Mrs. J.
E. Langley; Literature, Mrs.
C. V. Snow; Temperance,
Mrs. Wm. Morine; Mission
Band Leader, Mrs. J. Brooks; Assistant, Mrs. Lloyd Sanford; Auditor, Mrs. J. T. Day-idson. The treasurer reported that the allocation will be exceeded for 1945.

Mrs. Brooks reported that the Mission Band had held their last meeting for 1945 which was very enjoyable, with a number of the mothers in attendance. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. L.
Sanford. The Band has had a very successful year.

Of all the fine things in this grand old land of ours, we wish you most . . . GOOD HEALTH, GOOD CHEER, and HAPPINESS.

"...SO NOW WE'LL HAVE A BANKER IN THE FAMILY!"

"Well, Bob has finally decided! When he's finished school he wants to go to work in a bank. And I'm glad—for a lot of reasons..."

He'll get a thorough training, and can even receive university instruction in banking and economics while he is working. Banking isn't learned in a day, but he'll get lots of help—and every opportunity to move up as he proves himself. The road to the top is wide open, and offers:

SECURITY AND PEACE OF MIND

Social security is a phrase prominent in public discussions these days, but the practice of it is not new. Consider the banks and their employees:

1. Pension Funds, to which, with their employees, banks themselves contribute substantially, make it possible for employees to devote all their business lives to banking, sure of an income for life when they reach the age of retirement.
2. Annual vacations with pay.
3. Ordinary sick leave with pay, and special sick leave arrangements in special cases.
4. Group life insurance contributed to jointly by banks and employees.
5. Good working conditions.
6. Unlimited opportunity for enterprise and advancement.

Banks and their staffs, in co-operation with each other, have made it possible for the latter to enjoy a well-founded sense of permanency and security.

WEYMOUTH

Mrs. W. E. Cosman has returned from a week's visit in Wilnot.

Mrs. R. B. Lent, Digby, was a recent week end guest of of her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Dunkley.

Neil Bartlett has returned to his home here after receiving his discharge from the Canadian Navy.

The afternoon tea and sale, held Saturday in Killam Hall by St. Thomas' Guild, realized the sum of $33.00.

Dr. and Mrs. Hogan, who have spent the last six months at their summer home here, left Saturday to return to Boston.

Mrs. Jack Quigley and small son Paul left Saturday to join her husband in Toronto. The Quigleys came to Weymouth about four years ago when Mr. Quigley was drafted to the local Naval Overseer's office; later he went to sea and Mrs. Quigley continued to live here. Recently discharged from the Navy Mr. Quigley has been unsuccessful in finding living quarters for his family until now.

John Shaw, Commissioned Supply Officer, R.C.N., who has been based at Saint John, for the past several months, is being returned to the West Coast the first of the year and will leave January 9, taking his family with him. They will live in Victoria. Mrs. Shaw's home town. The Shaws, who purchased the former Baxter property in Weymouth North about three years ago, have made many friends here who will regret their departure.

Dr. and Mrs. Melanson, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Elie Comeau and Francis Comeau motored to Digby Tuesday of last week to see the film, "The Song of Bernadette." A number of high school girls also attended the matinee.

The Red Cross Branch held its final meeting of the year Wednesday of last week. Visitors attending the meeting were the Belliveau's Cove Auxiliary president, Mrs. LeBlanc, and Mrs. Sydney Cromwell, president of Weymouth Falls Auxiliary. The major discussion during the business period concerned the Red Cross Service badges which are to be distributed among members who have given six months consecutive service to the Canadian Red Cross. Among local members, the vote was almost unanimous against the badges, the popular viewpoint being that they (the members) had worked to relieve suffering and want, and that the expense the badges must entail would better be saved and put to the more practical use of aiding the needy in Europe and elsewhere. A letter has been sent to headquarters in Halifax expressing the views of this Branch and a definite decision is expected to be reached at the next business meeting. Following the business discussion a ten cent tea was served which netted $3.55. A large shipment was forwarded to Halifax, containing quilts and clothing. The auxiliary of Southville-Riverdale sent in 3 prs. boys pants and 23 utility bags; Weymouth North: 2 pairs socks, 2 children's sweaters and one long sleeved turtle neck sweater; Havelock: four large quilts; Belliveau's Cove: 11 prs. pants, 15 combinations, and four prs. bloomers last week. The next meeting will be the annual business meeting to be held in Killam Hall the second Wednesday afternoon in January, (9th)

OBITUARY

Mrs. Jessie B. Journeay

Following a lengthy illness the death occurred Sunday afternoon in Digby General Hospital of Jessie Barteaux Journeay, Weymouth, widow of the late Captain Frank Journeay, who was drowned when his ship capsized off Sable Island, Dec. 18, 1919, while he was serving with the Merchant Marine. Mrs. Journeay was born in Moschelle, Annapolis County. Ever kindly and cheerful she had a host of friends whose hearts are saddened at her passing. The many beautiful floral tributes attest to the esteem in which she was held. She leaves to mourn two daughters, Gertrude (Mrs. R. Harris) and Helen, both of Halifax; one grandchild and several nieces.

Women's Institute Meet

Fourteen members were present at the December meeting of the Women's Institute, of Meteghan, which was held on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. James Comeau, Meteghan River. EIGHT YEARS OF AIRLINE PROGRESS

Five stages in the rapid development of air transportation are reported photographically by Trans-Canada Air Lines, beginning with the 10-passenger Lockheed Electra (at top), with which T.C.A. pioneered airmail and passenger transportation in 1937.

Next is the 14-passenger Lodestar which, in 1938 and 1939, was the world's fastest commercial transport plane. This is followed by the huge four-engine Lancaster transport plane which has been in the Canadian Government Trans-Atlantic Service, operated by Trans-Canada Air Lines, since 1943. The military type was the famed Lancaster bomber which played such an important role in winning the war.

Beneath the Lancaster is the twin engine 21-passenger Douglas DC-3 transport recently delivered. This is the first of a fleet of 20 to be placed in service at an early date.

In the lower photograph is the 4-engine Douglas forty-passenger luxury liner, on which work has already started at the Canadair plant in Montreal.

The new degree of air travel luxury offered to Canadian travellers by the DC-3, and the 5 mile-a-minute speed, plus increased efficiency and passenger comfort of the 4-engine craft are said to be the equivalent of any air service in the world.

Captain Barnes
On Sick Leave

Capt. Hillyard Barnes, who for the past ten years has been in charge of the Life Saving Station at Bay View, has been ordered by his doctor to take a rest. He will be off duty about two months, and during his leave of absence will be succeeded by Harry Adams, Bay View, only recently returned from overseas.

During the ten years in which Capt. Barnes has been in charge at Bay View he has supervised the rescue of many fishermen and towed numerous craft in difficulties to safety. During the heavy storm of a few weeks ago Capt. Barnes was obliged to stay alone at the station. At times both hydro and telephone were out of order—and the life boat, having gone to Digby was held up by heavy seas for two days.

Last winter, while the life boat was in Saint John for repairs it was almost impossible to find a boat to take its place and in several instances the Navy was called upon to act—the base at Cornwallis always cooperating.

As in all public departments, there have been the usual "kicks" over the administration of the Life Saving Station—it is impossible to please everyone—but we sincerely believe Capt. Barnes and his crew have done all they could to faithfully serve those whose lives they are pledged to protect. Not only have they gone to the rescue of boats and fishermen in distress, but on numerous oc-

Gems of Thought

TRUTH ETERNAL

What we have in us of the image of God is the love of truth and justice.

—Demosthenes

Christ did not simply speak the truth; he was truth; truth, through and through; for truth is a thing not of words, but of life and being.

—Robertson

The ideals of primitive Christianity are nigh, even at our door. Truth is not lost in the mists of remoteness or the barbarisms of spiritless codes.

—Mary Baker Eddy

The greatest friend of truth is time; her greatest enemy is prejudice; and her constant companion is humility.

—Colton

Falsehood is in a hurry; it may be at any moment detected and punished; truth is calm, serene; its judgment is on high; its king cometh out of the chambers of eternity.

A CHRISTMAS STORY

It was to be such a surprise—one that occurs once-in-a-lifetime. Not only did it have an element of the unexpected, but to happen at Christmas. That was the crowning glory of it all.

Then to fall so flat. Anticipation, it has been said, is nearly always more exciting than realization. But this was to have been the outstanding exception. It couldn't be anything else. But it very nearly was.

Marion often had pictured in those long, weary, tiresome fourteen months what form the reunion would take. In her active mind, with a knowing smile creasing her pretty careworn face, she had worked everything out to the last detail. All but one little detail; one that everyone could have overlooked, one you hardly could be expected to consider. But that was the one that brought the black abyss of hopelessness and despair very close to realization.

She had prayed; oh, how she had prayed. At night, by herself, when the house was quiet. She and Shirley, who suddenly had sprung up into a ten-year-old, had even taught the baby to pray. Sitting in the dim light of the living room, with the two children kneeling before her, she had first delighted them with her softly amusing story of how things would happen. And then her arms spread protectingly about them, she would offer a prayer for his early and safe return.

Only fourteen months. Dear God in Heaven, sometimes most of the time—it felt like fourteen years. Dear Jerry! What was he doing with himself. Who had been looking after him with the same care and love she had lavished upon him. Not a sergeant-major, surely? She smiled. How much longer? she asked herself.

And then it came—the message. Like a bolt from the blue. Long sought and yet quite unexpected. It was almost too good to be true, especially when it happened just before Christmas.

The message itself was terse enough. But that was to be expected. Marion knew and understood the strict censorship regulations that could reduce a telegram that originally was full of love and understanding to this:

"Have landed East Coast stop will arrive home on leave Christmas eve.—Jerry"

Despite the brusque, businesslike nature didn't it hold a world of promise and fulfillment?

She hardly knew what to do first. Christmas eve, why that was tomorrow! So much to be done to accomplish the multitude of arrangements.

After a few moments of distraction during which she wandered about aimlessly, not knowing quite what to do first, Marion pulled herself together. For the first time in months, she began to sing. Not a drab song of war to which her ears and mine had been accustomed, but a gay love song. Her lover was returning from the field of battle. For Christmas!

Shirley, of course, was still in school. Classes would not end until this afternoon. But and until this afternoon. But she clasped the baby to her breast and poured the glad tidings into the uncomprehending ears of her second-born. Uncomprehending? Well, hardly. In her own way the baby indicated that she understood what it was about alternately laughed and wept, and chuckled as her mother, talked and sang.

Then she put the baby down and in orderly fashion, set about planning the thousand and one things that must be done. She did not know what time Jerry would arrive home tomorrow. Would it be early morning, noon, late afternoon or late evening? That was another factor to be considered. Everything must be under control by tonight at the latest.

Now, she asked herself, what's to be done, and where do I start? There was the house to clean; shopping to be done. And a Christmas tree. Jerry always insisted on this final touch for the Yuletide season.

With that glorious anticipation she went about these ordinary household tasks. But they meant so much more to her now. Why, Jerry, at this very moment, was speeding on a troop train from the east coast. I wonder where he is right now? she asked herself time and time again. Such glorious fortune. Such delicious anticipation!

It was not until the front door slammed in that old familiar fashion that was music to her ears that Marion realized that he had come home at last. Quickly she ran to the door. Two o'clock in the afternoon of Christmas Eve.

"Jerry!" she was unable to say more as her excitement welled up in her throat. Months of delicious anticipation tightened her throat and she held back the words she had intended to say.

And despite the horrid bombing he had experienced repeatedly during the last few months, he looked so well, so fit. Oh, it was grand to have him back, even for a short time.

And then she was ready with the endless stream of questions she had to ask him. She was surprised and hurt, therefore, to have him ask her to hold her enquiries. Hardly a word of explanation either, except:

"Just dropped in for a few minutes, honey. I've got a lot of people to see, you know. Been away for a long time, and I'd like to round up some of the old gang and have a little fun."

Marion said nothing. But she felt that he must have noticed the hurt in her eyes. That she could not help. And when he rose from his chair and walked to the door, with a hurried good-bye thrown over his shoulder, she could hold back the tears no longer.

What have I done to deserve this? she asked herself over and over again, the tears streaming down the lines of worry that had come to crease her face during the past fourteen months. How could he treat her so? The "gang" coming before her. Nor had he enquired about the children. Shirley and the baby who had been born shortly before he went on active service. Oh, the bitterness of it all. To her mind, blinded by tears, hopelessness and despair, there was no possible excuse.

The door slammed again late that night. But Marion was not there to welcome the newcomer. That it was Jerry, she had no doubt. At the same time she felt that was no time to break down the icy reserve that had grown about her heart and that of her daughter during the long hours of the afternoon and evening. This was no time for sentiment, although her heart cried out for him. Shirley had sobbed herself to sleep.

"Marion." She heard his voice in the hall.

"Yes," she replied coldly.

"Will you come and help me for a moment?"

Slowly and with aching heart she descended the stairs. He stood in darkness at the bottom.

"What is it?" she asked wearily.

"Come into the living-room with me dear. I have something to show you."

All desire to touch him, to be close to him had deserted her, and she moved quickly ahead of him in to the large front room where she had awaited his first coming with so much pleasure and anticipation.

This room too was in darkness.

And Marion wondered why. The light had been left burning when she went upstairs to prepare for bed.

She could feel Jerry standing there behind her. And suddenly, the lights flashed. She beheld the Christmas tree she had bought for his homecoming. But it was no longer almost naked for decoration. No longer did a few strips of tinsel try pitifully to enliven the green branches. All about it were piled dozens of parcels, all shapes and sizes and wrapped in gay Christmas paper.

She turned to him, and a tear ran slowly down each cheek.

"Oh, Jerry, she said, "why did you do it?"

He grinned. "Well, it's Christmas, isn't it? Had to get a couple of presents for my little wife and daughters didn't I?"

"I know." Her heart was light again now, her lips smiling, but she sobbed as though she might never stop. "I know," she repeated, "but why did you walk out so quickly this afternoon without even asking about the children?"

He put his arm around her waist and led her to a big easy chair. He sat down and pulled her on his knee.

"Well, when I saw that

Shirley wasn't home and the baby was upstairs. I decided I'd like to have them see me on Christmas morning for the first time. Sort of Santa Claus in person with lots of gifts. And I knew if I stayed around that would all have to be forgotten.

"And then I knew you would want to go with me to buy the gifts, but I felt I must go by myself. Something special, you know, first Christmas at home in two years. I'm sorry, Marion," he added tenderly.

"Sorry for what?" she responded gaily. "Why, it's more wonderful than ever now! But don't you dare do it again!"

Consider Your Plans For The Christmas Season

"Christmas won't be any fun at all if we have to stay at home," wailed Malcolm Pratt to his mother one day in mid-December.

"We've gone to Grandfather's house in the country to spend Christmas ever since I can remember," added his sister Christine. "Grandfather always waits till we're there to help him before he begins to trim a tree, and Grandmother always lets me make candy and fix the nuts for the table."

"I like to help Grandfather with the chores," continued Malcolm. "Last year he let me climb up to the loft and pitch hay down for the horses. He was going to teach me how to milk the cows this year. I don't see why we have to stay at home; the war's over!"

"Couldn't Daddy spare enough gas for the trip if we didn't ask him to take us anywhere else all winter?" urged Christine.

"Daddy might spare the gasoline but he is obliged to consider his tires," Mrs. Pratt answered quietly. "He and the three neighbors who ride with him depend on those tires to take them to work every day."

"There ought to be room on the bus or train for just four people," Malcolm insisted. "Why couldn't we go that way this time?"

"Four of us?" inquired his mother. "Don't you count Ted?"

"Ted's only a baby, and we could hold him on our laps. Couldn't we crowd into the train, Mother?"

"You gave the reason, Malcolm, for our staying at home when you spoke of crowding into a train," answered Mrs. Pratt. "We might crowd into one — we might even find seats — but there are hundreds of people who need to travel more than we do this year. There are people who have been away from home for years while you have just reminded us, Christine, we've always spent Christmas with your grandparents. Don't you suppose there are folks right here in Barnard who have never had such nice times at Christmas as you have had?" Mrs. Pratt looked soberly at her children's disappointed faces.

"I know somebody like that!" The expression of self-pity vanished from Malcolm's face as he thought of his friend. "Tommy Tate's father is still overseas and his mother works — and I guess Tommy never did have much fun, even before the war."

"How would you like to invite Tommy and his mother to spend Christmas with us, Malcolm?" his mother suggested. "That might make the day less lonely for them."

Malcolm's eyes were shining as he replied. "I'll ask Tommy the next time I see him, Mother. I'm sure they'll come!"

Peaceful Night

O peaceful night! O holy night!
Good-will shall come to men.
O Christ-Child! born on Christmas morn,
You'll surely come again.
Everlasting Light that shineth,

Tonight, brings brighter glow;
The tears and fears of these past years
Soon we'll no longer know.

O shining star of Bethlehem!
Please light a brighter earth.
The three Wise Men shall come again
To watch the holy birth.

In every church in Christendom,
Ring praise of Christ our King!

Noel! Noel! peace tidings tell,
As bells of Christmas ring.

O peaceful night! O holy night!

Hear the glad people sing;
'Abide with us, reside with us,
O God, O Christ, our King!
That good will and peace might abide

Upon a better earth;
On Christmas morn, the Christ was born,
Peaceful night, precious birth.

W.M.S. Candle Light Program

The Women's Missionary Society of the United Church held the December meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Brooks last Wednesday evening, using the prepared program from the Missionary Monthly.

This candle light meeting was very effective, and, as many Christmas carols were sung, every one present had a part to take. Mrs. Walter Lent favored with an organ solo. The bay window of the living room was banked with evergreen, centered with bright barberry berries, in front of which was the white draped table bearing pure white candles, which when lighted made a pretty picture. At the close of the program, refreshments were served by the boldt and Mrs. Otis Rice. At this meeting a number of guests were welcomed. It was decided to hold the business meeting, with election of officers, on Friday, Dec. 14, the regular date for meeting, and the meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. A. Chute.

At high noon on Christmas day in 1925, the famous General Grant National park, near Fresno, Calif., was designated as the Nation's Christmas Tree. According to the United States department of the interior, the tree is estimated to be 276 feet high and is one of the so-called Bigtrees.

MARRIAGE

Comeau - Maillet

A wedding of interest took place Tuesday morning, Nov. 27, at 7 o'clock in the Stella Maris temporary church, at Meteghan, followed by the Nuptial High Mass, when Rt. Rev. Mgr. Bourneuf, D.P., pastor, united in marriage Vincent J. Comeau, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jeremie Comeau, with Miss Rosalie Maillet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maillet, both of St. Martin de Clare.

The bride was attired in a long white satin dress with long veil and accessories to match and carried a white prayer book. Her sister, Mrs. Cecile Theriault, was matron of honor; Ernest Robichaud attended the groom. A special altar of the Virgin had been erected in the sanctuary as the bride was a member of the Children of Mary's Society. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Joseph S. LeBlanc at the organ and the singing by a large choir.

Breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents with relatives and intimate friends then the happy couple left on a wedding trip to Halifax. On their return a reception was given to them at the groom's home, St. Martin de Clare, where they will reside. They received many valuable gifts and they have the best wishes for a long and happy life.

McClurg - Thibeault

A pretty wedding took place at St. Mary's Glebe, Halifax, recently, when Rev. F. L. Carroll united in marriage Miss Bernadette Thibeault, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hantford Thibeault, Doucetville, and Cpl. Robert I. McClurg, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClurg, Minnionas, Manitoba.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a street length crepe dress of pale pink with a corsage of deep pink roses. She was attended by Mrs. Kathleen Harpell as matron of honor, who wore a dress of pale blue crepe. The groom was attended by L.A.C. Wm. Moreau, R.C.A.F.

A reception was later held at the Lord Nelson Hotel and the happy couple were the recipients of many lovely gifts. For the present, Mr. and Mrs. McClurg have taken up residence at Dartmouth.

Brooks - Millett

St. George's Church, Southall, England, was the scene of the wedding, Monday, October 8, of Mary, youngest daughter of Mrs. and the late R. Millett, to Sgmn. Dale Brooks, ghter of Mrs. and the late R. eldest son of Mr. and Mrs.

Wm. Brooks, of Weymouth North, Rev. Mr. Cottrell officiating.

Mr. Strudwick presided at the organ and played the special nuptial music.

The bride was given in marriage by an intimate family friend, Captain Spencer, and was attended by Miss Sylvia Botham and Sgmn. Larry Avery, Toronto, was groomsmen.

The bride wore a long-sleeved gown of white bridal lace, sweetheart neckline and the fullness of the skirt fell gracefully to a circular train at the back. Her finger-tip veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of dark red carnations.

The bridesmaid wore a floor-length gown of pale lavender taffeta and a net Juliet cap. She carried a net muff on which was pinned a spray of violets.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home for relatives and intimate friends. Later, the newly-married couple left for Richmond where they spent their honeymoon. The bride wore a navy tailored suit with matching accessories and corsage of red carnations.

"THE SOUTHEAST GROCERY"

Frankincense at Christmas Time

"And when they were come into the house they saw the young Child with Mary, His mother, and fell down and worshipped; and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto Him gifts; gold and frankincense."

The Wise Men from the East brought to Bethlehem the most valuable presents they could find. For as long as man could remember, such presents had been dedicated to their gods.

Two thousand years ago frankincense was one of the most valuable and sacred commodities in the world. Every altar and every funeral required this fragrant gum. Pliny wrote: "The heaps of odors that are piled up in honor of the bodies of the dead. It is the luxury of man, which is displayed even in the paraphernalia of death, that has rendered Arabia thus happy."

For it was Arabia that had the monopoly of this rich trade, and there only, to the east of Aden, in that part of the country known as the Hadhramaut, was the gum produced.

Camel Caravans

Frankincense comes from a small tree which is tapped through short incisions in the bark. The milky juice which then exudes is allowed to dry into gum. This tree was sacred, and everything connected with it, the harvesting of the gum, the cultivation of the tree itself, those who handled it—all were governed by the religious rites and rules.

The control of this monopoly lay in the city of Shabwa, the ancient capital of the Hadhramaut. Then it was a great walled town with sixty temples, and from it led one of the oldest trade routes in the world from the frankincense country to the markets of Egypt, Syria and Rome.

The great camel caravans skirted the central desert, then turned north to Mecca, and thence to Alexandria, Antioch and Rome with their precious freight.

There were special store-rooms for the sacred gum in the Temple at Jerusalem; vast quantities were used each year in the temples of Egypt; the Arabs paid it as tribute to Darius, the Persian and Alexander the Great sent it as a present to his tutor. So valuable was it that men who handled it were stripped before they left their work and searched in case they might have stolen some!

Part of the crop was taken down to the coast and shipped up the Red Sea to Egypt. It was the lure of this lucrative trade, and the exorbitant rates charged by the Arab shipping princes that persuaded the Romans to build their own fleet on the Red Sea and to fight for the command of the eastern seas.

Today frankincense is still produced in the Hadhramaut, but there is no longer a world-wide demand for the gum. The thousand tons that are produced on the average every year are brought down to the coast at Makalla by camel caravan there to be shipped in dows to Aden. These ships would be familiar to the Arab of 2,000 years ago, for their design has changed but little.

The frankincense comes to Aden about Christmas time, and there you may see the women squatting over shallow baskets, sorting out and grading the gum. The air is heavy with its aromatic scent but it is difficult to realize that these brown, pebbly heaps were once one of the riches and most sacred treasures of the East!

Try a Rhyme at Christmas Time

Written for the Christian Science Monitor

A Merry Christmas is more than a little like one of its own Christmas puddings. It has to be made, really made. The required ingredients must be properly mixed and stirred together. It must be well stuffed with toothsome goodies—a little of this, a little of that, sprinklings of sugar, siftings of spice, odd bits of sweetmeats.

If now and again little secrets are discovered which add to the success of the undertaking, isn't it rather nice to share them? Thinking that it is, we pass along their experience of what one family has done with homemade jingles.

The bundles beneath their tinsel-strung tree must be dressed up gayly to gain even elbow room. The most prosaic gift becomes unprosaic, they declare, if decked out in festive attire. Fluffy bows and trailing ends, clusters of scarlet berries, papers of every rainbow tint are there in profusion. And inside the colorful covering there must be, there simply must be a card bearing an original verse to suit the gift and the recipient to tie them definitely together.

Silly? No; at all! At least don't try to tell this family so. Gifts without verse, original ones of course, may be costly and beautiful selections from the most exclusive shops, but they have not been magically transformed from merchandise into gifts until an appropriate verse has personalized them. The jingle does the trick, and in case anyone is dubious, let him try it. Just try it, that's all!

Distributing gifts after this fashion takes time, but the hour becomes one never to be forgotten, an hour written off in diaries, retold to friends, described at length in letters.

Mother is usually the official Santa Claus. Seated on her low stool, so close to the tree that its fragrant branches are like loving arms reaching out to encircle her, she thrusts a hand into the bewildering maze. First—a flat rectangular box, the sort of haberdasher's box that makes it utterly impossible to hoodwink any intelligent male. It goes to father. He opens it, trying his best to feign puzzlement. On the very top, of course, a verse which he reads even before he comments on the swanky wrappings.

A shirt's a most prosaic thing. There's no romance about one. Yet think, my dear, how very queer.

Instantly a gray madras shirt, no matter how welcome as a practical addition to his wardrobe, becomes something more than merely a madras shirt.

Nancy, the Newlywed, comes next. Though nicely camouflaged in an overlarge box it turns out to be a coveted set of breakfast knives and forks with coloured handles. And her verse says:

And thought it perfectly proper
But if today you ate that way
I fear you'd come a cropper!

There it stands, brown print with white polka dots, flounces, pleats, brass tacks and all, as saucy a little chair as ever invited anyone to sit down and be comfortable. Pinned to its back, this verse

Once a little sugar barrel
Turned itself into a chair;
Got itself all piped and padded
Had some scotty casters added,
Had a ruffy skirt to wear.
Still this foolish barrel,
This silly little booger,
When Susan sat down in its seat,
Found itself still holding sugar!

A pillow next for small Joan. A round Man-in-the-Moon affair it is, with great eyes and wide mouth applied where eyes and mouth should be according to the best Man-in-the-Moon anatomy, a perky plaid ruffle running all the way round his benevolent old face.

This is Joan's own little pillow,
Made to fit her curly head.
To cuddle up on for a nap,
Or take at night to bed.
It's stuffed with hugs and kisses
It's stitched with joy alone,
And ruffled round with deepest love
For darling little Jaan.

For the Newlyweds again. A natty clothes hamper, its top almost completely covered with a huge bow of cellophane ribbon, a great bunch of holly berries at its center and a dozen tiny bells trailing from long ribbon ends.

Nancy and Peter, poor dears,
Poor dears,
Had neither laundry bag nor box,
No place to put soiled tablecloths,
Or sheets, or shirts, or gowns or socks.
This stout hamper should come in handy.
Hope you like it.
We think it's a dandy.

Great rejoicing over the the lid, what is this? Inside clothes hamper. But, lifting (by rare good fortune just the right size to slip in nicely), "Why, a vegetable bin, a green vegetable bin! Just what we needed!" How could a green bin keep from turning rosy red with such an enthusiastic welcome?

A neat little housewife
Who lived in a flat,
Had so many vegetables
She often said, "Drat!"
For potatoes and onions
And turnips galore
Fell out of their sacks
And rolled over the floor.
But now with a lettuce-green vegetable bin
She can keep the whole stock
Just as neat as a pin!

Susan eyes the bookish-looking package that Mother hands her, afraid to be too sure. A bookish-looking package should hold a book, and she is going to have to conceal a good bit of disappointment if this one doesn't. But it does, it does!

We can live without movies,
Even when they're in color;
We can live without swing,
Though the world would be duller.

We can live without hamburgers,
Cafes or cooks—
But how in the world
Could we live without books?

The next one goes to her too—a large, perfectly flat one. She must know by this time, enthusiastic map collector that she is, pretty well what a framed map looks like, adorn it as you may with ribbons and bows. If she has any suspicion, her sober face does not betray it. It wasn't so easy for father, but he did amazingly well when he wrote:

This, my dear, is a mounted map.
From your worldly-minded pap!
As a reward for his cleverness it is his turn again, and once more comes the telltale box.

It might be a necktie

(You need one, I fear),
Suspenders or belt
To keep trousers in gear.
It might be a muffler,
But no chance, old dear;
There's much that it might be,
But it's wool sox this year.

The Newlyweds are finding package after package stowed away in the shelves of their vegetable bin. Now what is this one? Soft—blue stripes—ivory rings—

Slippers and shoes, oxfords with strings!
Where shall we put the pesky things?
Not on the floor in an untidy huddle,
Not on the shelf in a mess and a muddle.
No, children, no!
Right here in the bag,
Guaranteed not to sag
If fastened up well with the hooks and the rings.

And now mother starts in opening her accumulated bundles. First, a tiny envelope sealed with a "new" old Santa, and a most mysterious note:

A dozen gifts, yet only one;

All different, yet all the same.
Something you've seen many times.
Yet have never seen.
Guess its name.

Everyone looks at everyone else. "What can that mean?" "All different, yet all the same—how can that be?" A dozen gifts but only one! Is it spoons? Napkins?" "Oh, I know it's a calendar!" "It must have something to do with months!" "Oh, oh, oh, I know! I know!" And it is mother herself who has guessed. A subscription for one year to her favorite magazine.

You think you can't do it? Oh, yes, you can! Use all the knowledge you have of rhyme and rhythm. Do your very best. Work at your little verses, foolish though they be, with the same enthusiasm you work at the making and buying of your gifts. Put in love and a laugh, and just see what a few homespun jingles will do to your Christmas!

HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

It offers the teacher an opportunity for making friendly informal contacts with the parents of the children she is teaching. In this way the teacher may gain valuable insight into the responses, attitudes and interests of her pupils who come from various homes. This knowledge should aid her immeasurably in guiding her pupils intelligently. Such contacts often make it possible for her to give parents help and guidance in the constructive education of their children in out-of-school hours. The alert teacher regards these contacts not as imposed tasks but as real opportunities to enhance the value of her professional work.

Through membership in a Home and School Association the teacher is provided with an opportunity of bringing before the parent group, in an impersonal way, common problems created by the home, which seriously interfere with school effort. Such problems can be discussed in a general meeting quite objectively and conclusions arrived at and accepted by parents that frequently eliminate difficulties or improve condition.

In addition, the teacher who has proven herself vitally and constructively interested in the all-round education of children, in the promotion of better home-school relationships, and who has taken time to listen to parents' problems and has shown consistent interest in helping to solve them, may be assured of the growing support of the Association. As parents become better acquainted with teachers, learn that they, too, are as often frustrated as parents are by an educational process that puts subject matter achievement before the best all-round development of children, they will become increasingly capable of bringing intelligent pressure to bear on those who may effect needed educational change and, a more equitable recognition of teachers in the way of salaries, teachers pensions, etc.

How can Home and School Associations help our educational authorities?

It has been said that the time is long past when educational authorities can impose upon the public a type of education which the majority of that public does not find adequate or acceptable. This is probably the reason why a very impressive aspect of the changing picture in Canadian education during the past decade has been the almost universal tendency on the part of educational authorities to take the public, so to speak, more and more into their confidence.

In some provinces, educational change has been forced upon educational authorities by an informed and articulate public. In most provinces, however, the public has been prepared for contemplated changes by school boards and educational authorities through programs of careful explanation and interpretation before any attempt has been made to put such changes into operation. This method has great advantages. Parental antagonisms and misunderstandings are thus avoided. If the contemplated changes are scientifically sound, and the interpretations and explanations reasonable, parents are very likely to be receptive and to extend to these changes loyal support and co-operation. Those provinces that have recently instituted rather profound educational changes, without sufficient attempt at previous education of the public, have found the 'going' hard. Some of them admit that their new programs look well on paper, but are far from being realized in fact, owing to parental and frequently teacher opposition to the new misunderstood and untried.

To school authorities, Home and School Associations offer an invaluable facility for bringing about changed parental and teacher ideas and attitudes toward newer types of education which they hope to promote in the schools. In fact, an integral part of the Home and School program should consist of frank, open study and discussion of modern educational philosophy, method and practice. As parents and the general public become increasingly informed regarding the need for constructive educational system that is known to be adapting itself to the changing times.

The central philosophy of the educational systems of practically every province in the Dominion is now a "child development" philosophy. This means that "book learning" which was previously the centre and core of education is now made subservient to the wholesome, all-round development of the child. Mastery of the three R's and the learning of subject matter are, however, achieved even more efficiently under the child centered system than under the old subject centered system.

McColough Comes Back

Words of Bible Laud Virtues In "Giving"

A little research reveals that many of the familiar quotations on the virtues of "giving" have a sound basis in Holy Scripture. Though they were not all made in connection with "giving" at Christmas time, the verses below (all taken from the Bible) provide definite clues to the origin of the many more modern "give" slogans so often heard in the holiday season.

Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again.

I have shewed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how He said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.

Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity; for God loveth a cheerful giver.

A gift is a precious stone in the eyes of him that hath it; withersoever it turneth, it prospereth.

He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack; but he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse.

Once, in fact, there was a custom of making a decoction

But rather give alms of such things as ye have; and behold, all things are clean unto you.

And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.

If thou hast but a little, be not afraid to give according to that little.

Every man shall give as he is able, according to the blessing of the Lord thy God which He hath given thee.

Now there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit.

Holly Berry Beliefs

As far back as the Fifth century Christmas invested holly branches with a symbolism that helped to keep sacred memories alive. The crimson berries symbolized the blood shed on Calvary by the Founder of the Christian religion; the prickly leaves held remembrances of the crown of thorns; and the bitterness of the holly bark was symbolic of the draught of which Christ partook while hanging on the Cross.

Once, in fact, there was a custom of making a decoction from the bark and drinking. His shoulder; and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The Mighty God, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.—Isa. 9:6.

Am I A Builder?

I watched them tearing a building down, With a ho-heave-ho and a lusty yell,

A gang of men in a busy town, I asked the foreman, "Are these men skilled And the men you'd hire if you have to build?" He gave a laugh and said, "No, indeed! Just common labour is all I need.

I can easily wreck in a day or two What builders have taken a year to do."

And I thought to myself as I went my way Which of these roles I tried to play?

Am I a builder who works with care. Measuring life by the rule and square?

Am I shaping my deeds to a well-made plan, Patiently doing the best I can?

Or am I a wrecker, who walks the town Content with the labor of tearing down?

UNTO US A CHILD IS BORN

Unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given; and the government shall be upon

For hearts, if true and lowly, The manger-cradles are, Where comes the Christ-guest holy, With love, the guiding Star.

I heard the bells on Christmas Day Their old familiar carols play, The words repeat And words repeat Of peace on earth, good will to men.

To this end I was born and for this cause I came into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth.
