1877-1977

One of the jobs I had to do, besides putting and grinding down the staff, was to... I cleaned one and then... One day not long after I started to get to the grating plant. I decided to climb the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned for some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily. He thought the remark pretty good and whole.

Sometimes the gasoline engine, a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and the "fix-it" man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results. Max would then stand back and come over dramatically then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of fixing."

On other occasions when money gifts refused duty for the and seemed to be broken, "I" would say, "use a little oil" and use common sense that is why it took. They often since have I heard of the value of that remark and the actual need of oil in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and in the right way.

(Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I built "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1943 got together just before dark one evening and decided to mutilate the newly built outdoor Fair Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just out of the pool, nobody else seemed to be around except the four boys, no thought or time for bathing suits, so in the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in. The rest quickly followed and across the pool they swam. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Swims Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the four? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars (second world and Korean), was awarded the Vietnam Cross; Sidney L. Smith, now prominent druggist, for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale apothecary, and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day, I was asked to contribute about writing your version of the story told about "The Marooning of Jerome". I did it and read at least two times what I had written about the man who was found marooned on a beach in some point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Duffy County. When I read this man's tongue had been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome appeared to have been a man of considerable social standing and, possibly, of considerable wealth. However, the only thing I could or would ever say after being asked not to by some family in the Forest was something that sounded like the name of either, yulid nut, or, would not, yulid nut. I do not know who he was or why he was left there. I think it was, and is, one of Dugby County, and, different ideas have been put forward as to the reasons concerning this man. However, "Mia" was, I felt no urge to say anything different about this man. The only thing I have been very well explained to me is that

The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and extends miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles across land from the head of W. Mary's Bay. This land not only has water's edge, partly on level ground, and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having on an eastern aspect a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in extent, it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth at that name. It was secured by Leyden, from New York in 1622, the time of which went nearly to Britain, or, moving to other countries, left the shore

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 2, 1958

VOLUME LXXXIV, No. 18

New Year's Message

Hon. Robert L. Stanfield,
Premier

At the birth of a New Year, if there is one virtue which dominates all others, it is that of hope. But hope, if it is to have any value, must be well-founded and must go hand in hand with a resolution towards further achievement. That, I think is the reason that the New Year has become traditionally the season for resolutions.

If there is one New Year's resolution which I would recommend to the people of Nova Scotia for 1958, it is to foster the spirit of co-operation which has become so evident in this province in recent times. This spirit has already demonstrated some of the success which it can accomplish. It has indicated other successes which still lie before it.

During 1957, the spirit of co-operation was exemplified in two meetings of the premiers of the Atlantic Provinces. These meetings have resulted in the discussion of problems common to the whole Atlantic area and the formulation of common plans to solve them. One outcome has been the firm decision to establish an Atlantic House in Great Britain. That this particular sphere of co-operation will continue is borne out by the announcement that the next meeting of the four premiers will be held at St. John's Newfoundland.

A further point of government co-operation has been in the field of electric power. The federal government plan, although not yet revealed in its entirety, will be aimed at the establishment of thermal power stations in the Maritimes, a link-up of all power resources within the province and an interprovincial link between Nova Scotia and the neighbouring province of New Brunswick. Apart from the attraction which such facilities hold for new industry, the market for Nova Scotia coal for which this plan provides will become considerable.

In commerce, the business men of this area of Canada have united in the Atlantic Provinces Economic Council and this group, in co-operation with the Atlantic Division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, organized the highly successful Atlantic Apparel and Footwear Exhibit in Halifax last May.

There have been other evidences of co-operation in Nova Scotia and the Atlantic Provinces and other successes have resulted. It is a line of action which we should certainly pursue. The population of Nova Scotia is currently something over 700,000 persons and that of the Atlantic Provinces nearly 1,800,000. This area therefore comprises more than ten per cent of the people of Canada. Annual retail sales in Nova Scotia are estimated at over 500 million dollars and in the Atlantic Provinces at over one billion dollars. These are big figures and, together, they wield considerable influence.

We have every reason for co-operation. Co-operation among ourselves will make Nova Scotia strong and prosperous. With the other provinces of the Atlantic area, it will ensure a bet-

Congratulations and best wishes are being received from relatives and friends in Canada and the United States by Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Saunders, of Granville Ferry, on the occasion of their 55th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Saunders, the former May Blair, was one of twin daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. Reed Blair, proprietors of the Granville House, Granville Ferry for many years. Mr. Saunders is a son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Daniel D. Saunders, of Conquerall Bank, Lunenburg County.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Saunders were married Christmas Eve, 1902, by Rev. Mr. Davison, a Presbyterian minister. Following their marriage they resided for 25 years in Clarence, Annapolis Co., where their family of four daughters and three sons were born. About 30 years ago the family moved to Granville Ferry.

Mr. and Mrs. Saunders have two daughters living, (Lillian) Mrs. Edward Ryder, of Halifax, and Miss Dorothy McKean Saunders, of Summit, New Jersey, and three sons, Blair Saunders, of Halifax, and Reed and Basil Saunders, of Granville Ferry. There are also three grandchildren, Miss Oril Ryder, Halifax; Treasurer Diane Hickling, Summit; and Kathryn Saunders, of Granville Ferry.

Recruit For Civil Defence

A recruiting campaign is being carried out locally by "C" Company of the West Nova Scotia Regiment (Reserve) to enlist men to serve in the new civil defence role of the company.

In its new role the company will carry out an intensive training program in first aid, traffic control and other aspects of civil defence work.

Requirements for enlistment are that the applicant must be from 17 to 40 years of age (16½ with parents' permission), be physically fit and have at least a grade 8 education. The training program provides one night's training each week and a few weekend training periods. Regular army pay is paid for all training periods.

The training program is carried out at the headquarters at HMCS Cornwallis each Tuesday evening and a truck leaves from in front of the Capitol Theatre in Digby to take the men.

Christmas Party Held

The annual Christmas Party of the Sunday School of Trinity Church was held on Monday afternoon with a large number of children and their parents in attendance.

The children were welcomed by the rector, the Rev. H. Y. MacLean, and the superintendent, Mrs. Ralph Wright. A program of Christmas carols, with Miss Bonnie Wright as accompanist, was enjoyed by all.

The great event of the afternoon was the arrival of Santa Claus. The old gentleman gave gifts to all the children, as well as candy and oranges.

Mrs. Wright announced the following as prize winners in attendance and proficiency: Linda Hicks, Lanny Francis, Richard Hicks, Gail Francis, Dudley Hicks and Brenda and Graham Shackleton. The prizes were presented to the winners by Santa Claus.

The party concluded with a delicious and bountiful lunch served by the Sunday School teachers.

ter standard of living for all the Maritimes. In the national field, it will mean a greater Canada.

May the year 1958 see us all working together in our varied ways to bring prosperity to ourselves and our fellows.

Season's First Game Friday

The first hockey game for the 1958 season will be held at the Digby Forum Friday evening when the Digby Ravens will meet HMCS Cornwallis Cougars of the armed forces league in an exhibition tilt. The game is scheduled to get underway at eight o'clock.

The Ravens have been carrying out regular practice sessions for some time. The team this year is entirely "home brew" and is coached by Bob Morgan as playing coach. Sonny VanTassel is team manager.

Friday night's game is expected to draw a good crowd as it will be the first opportunity the people of the area have had to see the Ravens in action this year.

Negotiations are still underway concerning the league action in the Western Valley circuit. Playing schedules are expected to be announced soon.

Young People Hold Party

On the evening of December 24, Christmas Eve, the Bereans Youth and Sunday School of the Church of God gathered at the church for a party.

Before the party began, the older Bereans visited various homes in Digby and Brighton, taking good cheer to the sick and aged.

When the young people returned they gathered together to sing carols in the church. Then there was the exchange of gifts, and 94 bags of candy, which had been put up on Friday night, were distributed to the 94 people in attendance at the party.

To Start On Causeway

Tenders for a three million dollar causeway across the Annapolis River at Granville Ferry will close January 28th, it has been announced by Revenue Minister George Nowlan. Work on the huge causeway — second only in size in eastern Canada to the Canso causeway — will commence immediately as part of the federal government's plan to create winter work, it is understood.

The new causeway will eliminate need for the present system of dykes along the Annapolis River and will also replace the existing bridge which spans the river at Granville Ferry. It is understood the new causeway will be two years in building.

The federal and provincial governments are cooperating in meeting the cost of the new causeway which will be administered by the Maritime Reclamation Commission.

Before the new project is completed contractors will have to excavate 850,000 cubic yards, provide 750,000 tons of rock fill and pour 24,000 cubic yards of concrete. The causeway will replace the lengthy bridge which spans the river between Annapolis Royal and Granville Ferry. This bridge has seen many years of service and to replace it with another would require an outlay from the province of between one and one and a half million dollars.

The Annapolis River carries thousands of tons of rich red soil from its basin out to sea with every outgoing tide. Dykes have been used for years in an attempt to control this erosion but the efficiency of the system is still questioned by some engineers.

First step will be to dig a canal through the mainland, complete with necessary locks. When it is completed the river will be diverted through the canal, leaving a dry river bed on which to construct the causeway, Mr. Nowlan said.

George Harris, Bear River, was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kinney.

Guides Receive Badges

In many ways the year 1957 was an uneventful one in Digby although the year saw a number of happenings in the county which, if not spectacular in themselves, worked together to affect the future of this area in a number of ways.

The year was one of seeming economic reversal in the county although there were a number of bright spots. In January the area was seriously affected by a railway tieup caused by a strike of railway firemen which threw close to one hundred out of work in this area. Fortunately the strike was comparatively short lived and its effect only temporary.

A concerted effort was made early in March to seek government aid in having the H. T. Warne Ltd. lumber mill in the town, which had been idle for some time, reopened. Negotiations between the Rudolf Van Der Walde (Canada) Ltd. firm and the former operators and the courts reached a stage in September that the mill was to be opened on a limited scale and it has been in operation since that time providing, however, job openings for a smaller working force than had been previously employed.

In education the year 1957 was a significant one in Digby County and one marked by considerable progress. In March the large addition to the Digby Regional High School was officially opened and this was followed in October by the official openings of the new consolidated school at Sandy Cove and the new consolidated High School at Weymouth. 1957 also saw Digby's member in the provincial legislature, M. S. Leonard, elevated to the post of Minister of Education for the province and as such he officiated at the openings of the new schools at Weymouth and Sandy Cove. Early in September another first in the field of education for the Digby Regional High School was announced when it was "stated a driver education course would be started at the school as a pilot study."

A serious threat to the economy of the area was seen in April when the Canadian Pacific Railway announced its plans to sell its Nova Scotia hotels, the Digby Pines, Yarmouth Lakeside and Kentville Cornwallis Inn. Later in the fall announcements were made that a syndicate was preparing to purchase the hotels but this deal fell through in December. At the end of the year hopes still ran high that a Nova Scotia group would take the hotels and that they would continue in operation.

During the spring rumour was rife in the area that the proposed new CPR car ferry might not operate from the port of Digby. The Digby Trade Board made active representations concerning this and was assured that plans had not been decided to the point where decisions as to the Nova Scotia (Please turn to page 8)

New Year's Message

Hon. George C. Nowlan

For Canada, and for the Maritimes in particular, 1957 has been a year of progress and development, and as always, there has been the occasional surprise. During 1957, more new Canadians came here than in any year since 1913, and we produced more goods, saved more money and employed more people than ever before in our history.

For the Maritimes, the Dominion Government has agreed to develop electrical energy in such a manner as to provide relatively low cost power for industrial development, and at the same time provide expanding markets for our coal. The Dominion Government also has recognized the principle of special fiscal grants for the Atlantic Provinces, so that during the coming year these Provincial Governments will receive millions in additional revenue with which to assist the Municipalities and provide improved facilities and services.

Canada has always experienced seasonal unemployment, and this winter will be no exception; in fact, it may exceed the average for the last few years, but it will not be as high as some have predicted, and due to the easing of credit restrictions, the tremendous housing development initiated by the Federal Government, and the joint public works program being organized by the efforts of the Federal, Provincial and Municipal Governments, employment may soon reach a higher level than ever before.

With these developments came surprises as well — at least one in the National political field, (which some of us can be pardoned for deeming a development). And in the scientific world came both surprise and shock, as we suddenly realized that at least in certain fields, the U.S.S.R. had outdistanced the western world.

Only in the field of international relations have we made little, if any, progress. In this rapidly contracting world, we must learn to live together, instead of alternating between crises and alarms, as we do now. Canadians may look back upon the past year's national

Business Leader Passes

Residents of Digby County as well as the whole of western Nova Scotia were deeply shocked to learn of the sudden passing of Max M. Naftal, of Middleton, leading industrialist of this area, at the Blanchard Fraser Memorial Hospital in Kentville on December 27th.

Mr. Naftal had only returned from a business trip to New York a little over a week ago when a sudden illness necessitated his being rushed to hospital for surgery. His death came as a result of a heart seizure.

Born in Lithuania 61 years ago, Mr. Naftal received his education in that country and was prominent in the business life of his native land before coming to Nova Scotia in 1939. After coming to Nova Scotia he developed the pulpwood and pitprop exporting business in the western part of the province to an extent that it provided employment for hundreds in the woods, in the marshalling yards and in the shipping of the wood from the ports of Digby, Yarmouth, Bridgewater and Port Williams. The industry developed by Mr. Naftal also provided a market for a great deal of otherwise unsaleable timber for farmers and woodlot owners in all of the western part of the province.

Mr. Naftal was a man of pleasing personality who will be long remembered for his many quiet acts of charity and thoughtfulness. He gave unselfishly of his time and effort to many community projects and was also especially generous to the less fortunate. His deeds of generosity were widespread and performed always in a quiet and unassuming way.

Besides being a Mason, Mr. Naftal was a member of both Rotary and Lions clubs and a member of the Baron De Hirsch Synagogue. He is survived by his wife, Liza; one daughter, Vera (Mrs. Joseph Goldstein), at home, whose husband is associated with the firm; four grandchildren, Janet, Jack, Sharry and Peggy. Also surviving are two brothers, Sally, of Bridgewater, and Felix, of Bridgetown.

The funeral service was held Sunday afternoon in Middleton, with Rabbi A. Greenspan, of Halifax, officiating. Interment was in the cemetery at Nictaux.

Santa Visits Store

For the first time in many years Santa Claus paid a personal visit to one of Digby's stores during the Christmas season this year.

The visit was made on the Friday before Christmas when the jolly old fellow was at Pyne's Market. While there he distributed goodies to a host of youngsters and also conferred with them concerning their hopes in the matter of gifts.

Seal Sale Climbing

Karl Young, secretary of the Digby Branch Canadian Tuberculosis Association, reported to the Courier that the Christmas Seal Sale in Digby amounts at date to $649.50. There are still districts in the town from which no reports have been received and others where collectors report a few more calls to make.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Marshall, Bridgewater, spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Cyril McWhinnie, Deep Brook.

accomplishments with pride, and while looking forward to our domestic future with confidence, we should all pray that in the international field we may achieve more in the future than we have in the past.

And so I say confidently that you will have a prosperous New Year, and may it be a happy one for each and every one of you.

Married 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Charles White, of Waterford, Digby County, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding December 27th entertaining some of their friends and relatives. The evening was spent playing 45's and cribbage.

Guests at their home were Mr. and Mrs. Fred White, their son and two grandsons, John and Brian, of Waterford; Mr. Dominic Melanson, of Waterford; Mrs. Annie Amaro and son, Clifford, of Waterford; Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Belliveau, of Digby; Mr. and Mrs. Harley Dakin and daughter, Sheila, and Mr. Hilbert Dakin, of Centreville.

The home was decorated with Christmas tree, bells and streamers, and the hostess served refreshments, before the guests departed for home.

The bride of 50 years received several gifts.

The guests all wished Mr. and Mrs. White many more happy anniversaries.

Services Well Attended

A record number of communicants partook of the Holy Communion at the choral eucharist service at Trinity Anglican Church here on Christmas Eve. Also attending the beautifully impressive service were a large number of people who were not communicants of the Anglican church.

For the service on Christmas Eve the Rector, Rev. H. Y. MacLean, wore the new Eucharistic vestments presented to him recently by the Ladies' Guild of the church. These vestments are adaptations of the very garments worn by Christ Himself. They consist of the amice, or collar; an alb or tight sleeved long linen garment; a girdle or cord around the waist; a maniple resembling a short stole which is worn on the left arm; an embroidered stole worn about the neck and a chasuble or outer cloak-like vestment of silk without sleeves. These vestments will be worn on the church festivals for the communion service.

During the service special Christmas music was rendered by the choir which also presented the anthem, "Christians Awake, Salute the Happy Morn", by Stainer. Solo parts were taken by Mrs. H. Y. MacLean and by Mr. Ralph Berwick.

On the morning of Christmas Day a family communion was celebrated at 10:30 and the service of Holy Communion was also held at All Saints Church, Rossway. At St. Paul's Chapel in Marshalltown a service of Holy Communion was held on St. Stephen's day.

D. F. D. ACTIVITIES

Bingo again Saturday night with a jack pot of $80.00.

Well the two fire department teams tangled at bowling last week with the two teams very evenly matched. High score was taken by Charles Hall, followed very closely by Victor Dennison, both of No. 2 company. High scorers of No. 1 team were Bill Mason, followed by Mel Nixon.

After the game a delicious chowder was enjoyed by both teams, which was brewed up by the bowlers after the match, chief brewer being Anthony Saulnier, with his little helpers doing the work.

The annual meeting of the department will be held on Wednesday, January 8th, at 8:00 p.m. All reports for the year must be in at this meeting, when a slate of officers will be presented by the nominating

Year End Review

Hon. M. S. LEONARD
Minister of Education

During the school year that ended on July 31, 1957, a total of 160,299 pupils were taught in the public schools of Nova Scotia by 5766 regular teachers. This represented an increase of 3452 pupils and 180 teachers over the preceding school year. While statistics concerning the enrolment in the schools at the present moment are not available, it is probable that a similar increase has taken place since school began last September.

School Construction and Consolidation

To accommodate the steadily increasing school population, some 90 new school buildings, or extensions to existing buildings, were constructed during 1956-57, providing approximately 320 new classrooms.

At the same time, 40 area consolidations of schools were effected, for more efficient educational service. By providing a central school to serve specified grades in a number of sections, or to completely replace outworn buildings in some or all of the sections in the area, consolidation helps to pool financial resources and the supply of teachers economically, and to make adequate provision for pupils in the more remote and thinly populated districts. (Please turn to page 2)

Christmas Quiet Holiday

The Christmas holiday passed off quietly in Digby with family gatherings the order of the day. Many homes in the area were gladdened with visits from members of the family who had been attending college or who have been employed in other areas.

No accidents marred the holiday and police report law breaking at a new low for the Christmas season.

Most householders decorated their homes with colored lights for the occasion and the town and environs presented a lovely sight during the evening hours with the glow of coloured lights shining out over the countryside.

Youngsters and some oldsters expressed disappointment over the fact Christmas this year was a green one, although a few flakes of snow fell during the night hours of Christmas Eve. Temperatures were much above normal, however, and the holiday was a very mild and pleasant day.

High in the ranks of those expressing disappointment about the unseasonable weather were those youngsters who received sleds, toboggans and the like from Santa. Weather prospects for these people do not yet seem too promising.

On Boxing Day and on Saturday many of the sports minded took advantage of the good weather to go rabbit hunting and it is understood Brer Rabbit has provided a change from turkey on the bill of fare of some homes in the district since Christmas.

About This and That

Happy New Year

Another year has slipped away and we find ourselves facing 1958. What the coming year will hold economically for Digby County will depend much on the initiative and spirit of co-operation shown by the people within its boundaries. Prosperity will not come to a people who sit and wait for life to hand out good things to them, nor to a people whose differences of opinions or biased aims over-ride a spirit of co-operation and block the roads to prosperity.

Every business finds it valuable to appraise its assets against its liabilities at least once a year. If the ledger doesn't balance favorably, an investigation into its cause is the first step and every avenue for improvement and new outlets of trade are then explored. The same applies to a community as a whole and it is an encouraging sign in Digby County when a number of trade boards have decided to make economic surveys within their areas. True, with the closing of a lumber mill, announcement of the closing of the Pines Hotel and similar set backs, the people began displaying a bit of anxiety for some time. The plan to make surveys of Digby town and county potentialities indicates that the people are not willing to sit back or become daunted by these set backs but are ready to explore other or newer possibilities should the revival of the former businesses be deemed impossible.

Compared with other towns stricken by disaster of various kinds, Digby has much for which to be thankful. The County, too, has been comparatively free of hardship of this type during 1957. Our hearts go out to the people of Springhill which has suffered two severe blows in the past year by disaster and fire but the courage of the Springhill people should serve as an example to those who would cry despair for much lesser reasons.

So we would commend the trade boards within our area for the steps they are taking to raise or sustain the economic status of our town and county and also commend any other institution which is striving for the economic, social or spiritual welfare of the people. It is up to us, the people, to consider the many blessings we have experienced in the past year, be thankful for them and waken to any new possibilities which come our way. Let us fairly and squarely assess our position, listen with reason to the other point of view but not be influenced by prejudice from any quarter. All too often people feel they can glorify their own position by fostering prejudice to the opinion and abilities of another. All too often there are those who are weak enough to be influenced by this form of self aspiration. May 1958 be one of prosperity and happiness for Digby County won by initiative, good judgment and co-operation of all its people.

TCA Photo

An "Electronic Reservations Brain" was demonstrated recently in Toronto by Trans-Canada Air Lines. The prototype "machine with a memory" was built for TCA by Ferranti Electric of Toronto after being conceived by Lyman Richardson, Communications Analyst with TCA in Montreal. It is expected to provide an up-to-the-second inventory of all available seats and complete a reservation in a matter of seconds. It will reduce by some 60 per cent the three-and-a-half million transactions that are required to board TCA's 250-thousand passengers a month. The nerve centre which handles all available space throughout the TCA network of some 26,000 route miles, processes 30,000 communications messages a day. The automatic system, if adopted by TCA, will reduce the number of messages by at least 50 per cent.

As a result of consolidation for purposes of the rural and regional high school areas, there are now in the province 23 specially consolidated areas for the education of pupils at the high school level. These consolidations make high school facilities available to a total of 9575 pupils; in the eight regional high schools located in towns, 3696 pupils are taught by 163 teachers, and in the 15 rural high schools there are 5879 pupils with 286 teachers.

In addition to the rural and regional high schools, there are many other district consolidations of various types, some providing schools that teach all the grades from primary to Grade 12, some with elementary grades only, and others with junior and senior high school grades only. In seven of these schools, which are purely district high schools, for example, high school facilities are provided for 1974 pupils by 82 teachers. This development of the last two or three years is expanding the program of province-wide provision for high school education that has been established by the creation of the rural and regional high schools.

Testing

In continuation of the Nova Scotia Standards Project, a comprehensive sampling of Grade 8 pupils throughout the province was tested in 1956-57 in reading comprehension, reading vocabulary, arithmetic fundamentals, arithmetic problems, language usage and spelling. In previous years similar tests were administered in Grades 3 and 6, and this year pupils in Grade 11 were tested.

The results of that test provide teachers and administrators with a means of discovering the strengths and weaknesses of the pupils and consequently the areas of teaching that need special attention.

Teacher Education

The enrolment at the Nova Scotia Normal College has been maintained at the same level as last year, with approximately 325 students in attendance. A striking increase during the past two or three years in the number of students with entrance qualifications of Grade 12, or better, is a welcome development. This is undoubtedly the result of the greatly enhanced opportunities for securing Grade 12 nowadays in Nova Scotia, through the comprehensive rural, regional and district high school program that is making high school facilities easily accessible, on a more and more complete basis year by year throughout the province.

Five local universities and colleges cooperate with the Department of Education in a joint teacher education plan. At these institutions in 1956-57 a total of 128 students studied courses leading to the Bachelor of Education degree and the Senior and Junior education diplomas, all of which qualify them for teaching licenses and certificates in Nova Scotia.

Curriculum

Work on curriculum development continues through revision of printed guides for teachers, and prescription for better instructional materials, principally new textbooks for pupils. New teaching guides were published for Mathematics in Grades 7-9 and for English in the same grades. Series of revised programs were extended to Grade 5 in Health Education and in Science, to Grades 8 and 9 in Mathematics, to Grade 9 in French, to Grades 9 and 10 in History, and to Grade 12 in Latin.

Guidance

Most schools in Nova Scotia make a genuine effort to provide educational, vocational and personal guidance, to enable each pupil to reach his or her maximum development. With the rapidly increasing enrolment in our secondary schools and the growing number of educational and vocational opportunities, it becomes increasingly necessary for students to make wise and informed decisions on their future educational careers.

In both the elementary and secondary schools throughout the province, there is improvement year by year — in the methods employed to assemble, record and use significant information concerning the individual pupil; in the collection and disposition of up-to-date occupational and training information; in the calibre of the counselling which is provided; in the nature and extent of employment placement practices; in the use of standardized tests for diagnostic and remedial purposes; and in the research programs and follow-up studies which are being conducted.

Vocational Education

Activities in vocational education in Nova Scotia are many and varied. They include such schools and services as the vocational high schools, vocational evening schools, schools for coal miners, the marine engineering school, the marine navigation school, the land survey school, the program of vocational rehabilitation for the disabled, and correspondence courses. The total number of people served is approximately 9500.

There has been a steady expansion of vocational offerings, particularly over the last ten years. During the past year, plans were completed for a new Land Survey Institute in Lunenburg, Annapolis county, which will provide for two classes instead of one in land surveying, with the addition of photogrammetry and cartography. The Marine Navigation School, with improved facilities, will move early in the new year from the Halifax County Vocational High School to the new Ralston Building in Halifax.

A vocational program must respond quickly to changes in techniques, processes and occupational demands. A new course in television is offered in the vocational high school in Halifax to meet the need for servicing television equipment. In Sydney a new course in metallurgy was in such demand that two classes had to be organized and an advanced course of one year provided. Changes in commercial occupations have resulted in the introduction of a new type of course in office practice for evening school students, offering typing, filing and other valuable skills, without shorthand.

Provincial Libraries

The activities of the Provincial and Regional Libraries in Nova Scotia during the past year indicate that the people who have library service make good use of it. This is shown in the opening of new branch libraries, the increase in the circulation of books, the greater use of reference and history departments, and the extension of bookmobile schedules. It is evident too that the people who do not have library service are becoming more aware of the fact that this is a handicap to both them and their children.

Adult Education

During the year, short courses in discussion methods, citizenship and leadership were conducted by the Adult Education Division in 58 centres. The courses were attended by over

Report From Parliament Hill

A. J. Harrington
Minister of Agriculture
Lumber & Building Supplies
Phone 391 Marshalltown

This is being dictated early Friday evening and since the House of Commons does not rise until Saturday night it will not give the complete report on the activities of the week. However, I am sure that it will be a relief to my editors. In the halcyon days of Opposition, Saturday morning was given over to the dictating of this column, that insured that it got in the mail Saturday night and was in the offices of the various papers the first of the week. But, since Parliament opened, Saturday has been a day in which Cabinet Ministers have been trying to clean up many of the administrative problems which have accumulated on their desks during the week. As a result, I am afraid Saturday is often passed by without a thought being given to "Report from Parliament Hill", so on Monday morning it had to be dictated hastily and sent off by air mail. As a result it has sometimes arrived too late. Knowing that all papers will be published on Tuesday (or is it going to be Thursday) it certainly is advisable to get this one in the mail before the weekend; hence the Friday night effort.

The principal matter discussed in Parliament this week has been the Bill dealing with support prices for farmers. This is important for two reasons. In the first place, it naturally is of tremendous interest to the farmers in our constituency and in Canada as a whole. The Bill has two main provisions. In the first place, it guarantees that the price of agricultural products will not fall below eighty percent of an average figure to be computed over the preceding years. This guarantees to the farmer that never again will he suffer a catastrophic fall in prices, but will at least recover eighty percent of the average of the preceding year. The more important provision is one which enables the Government on the advice of committees consisting of farm representatives to set up support prices for individual farm products. Obviously the support prices will be in excess of eighty percent. The Government has attempted to give basic security to agriculture without getting involved in parity prices and all of the other complications which have so compromised the farm support system now prevalent in the United States.

That is the practical effect of the farm support legislation introduced this week. But, a more interesting one at least for the moment has been the psychological effect in the House of Commons itself. Naturally, when the Bill was introduced the Liberals, C.C.F. Members, as well as those of the Social Credit Party, criticized it. That, of course, is the function of an Opposition Party. The Government, however, is in the unique situation of having more than sixty Members who never sat in the House of Commons, or any other Parliament, before. They are not used to political criticism nor are they enured to the cross-fire which always takes place between the Government and Opposition parties. Once the three Opposition parties started to shoot at this Bill some of the "Freshman" Members became panic-stricken. They couldn't believe these criticisms could be levelled at the Bill unless they were justified. Therefore they insisted amendments be introduced. As a result, the Government has introduced certain amendments to the Bill which do not in the least change the principle from which the Government intended to administer the Bill, but would at least answer some of the criticisms which had been levelled against them.

Certainly from the standpoint of the Government Member this has been a most interesting session. Not only have you had Cabinet Ministers, not one of whom ever sat in Cabinet before, but behind them, as I have said, sat more than sixty Members who have never sat in the House of Commons before. All of these Members came to Ottawa feeling that they had been elected to save the country or determined to carry out the plans which they had formulated during their campaign. Suddenly, not only were they elected, but they were elected as a Member of the Government Party and found that they had to adjust themselves to working in co-operation with the whole group rather than individual free lancers. This has presented problems not only to Members but also to the Cabinet as well. But, on the whole, it has been a unique and exhilarating experience. Never before did the Government have so many new Members in the House and at the same time so many young Members. In fact, when one looks at the back rows of the Government Party today one can hardly be certain whether he is looking at the House of Commons or the graduate school of some university. The substantial proportion of the Government Members are in their early thirties, and the most of them are under forty years of age. Never before has there been such an infusion of young blood into a Parliament in any one election, and the effect of this will undoubtedly be good for Canada for many years to come regardless of the political fate which may beset one party or another.

Tomorrow (Saturday) the House of Commons adjourns for the Christmas recess and many of the Members have already left. Tonight the usual pre-Christmas celebrations are taking place and Christmas carols, as well as other songs, are rising from many of the House of Commons offices. I suspect the House tonight will be in a very jovial frame of mind. When Parliament reassembles it will be 1958 and immediately in the foreground will be the Liberal Convention and after that no one can be certain of what the political future may hold.

This will be the first time since he was a boy in short pants that your Member has not spent Christmas in Wolfville but with the family grown up and scattered and two of them at least in Ontario, it was felt better to spend Christmas here rather than to go back home, and have to return immediately afterwards to problems of administration. Therefore, Charles and his family are joining us in Ottawa and we are all going to Sudbury to spend Christmas Day there, returning to the office on Thursday evening. So, although unfortunately a thousand miles away, my mind will be with my friends in the constituency, and the good times we have had together, and I wish to each and every one of you a Very, Very Merry Christmas.

Letter to the Editor

The Editor,
The Courier,
Dear Madam:

The press reports on the proposed power development on the Sissiboo River by the Nova Scotia Power Commission told only one side of the story. I am not criticising this, since the reports were in fact good accounts of the proposals and propositions put forward at the meeting by the officials of the N. S. P. C. I do say, however, that nothing so far has been said in the press to show the advantages and benefits to the County of Digby if the Digby County Power Board were to continue the generation of power on the Sissiboo. It is important to remember that when we lose control of this generating facility we also lose control of where the energy produced will be used and the control of the wholesale rates.

One statement by the manager of the Nova Scotia Power Commission in the press report was, I feel, very misleading and is causing a great deal of wrongful thinking on the part of many people in the county. I refer to the statement to the effect there would have been a saving of $50,000.00 to the county had all requirements for power been purchased from the N.S.P.C.

I do not know the basis for this statement but a survey of the figures for last year makes it seem somewhat ridiculous. Last year the County of Digby purchased from the N.S.P.C. 4,534,100 kilowatt hours at a cost of $49,639.99. The Digby County Power Board generated 7,377,300 kilowatt hours at a cost of $42,530.61. Surely it does not seem reasonable that $50,000.00 could have been subtracted from the $91,687.60.

It seems to me the manager of the Nova Scotia Power Commission in his enthusiasm to present a selling argument to the meeting must have gone a long way adrift on his figuring. I feel sure that, on reflection, he would be willing to qualify this statement considerably.

The charge made by the N. S. P. C. to the Digby County Power Board for hydro purchased by the Power Board last year was 1.113c per kw. This figure in Digby County was reduced to an average of .760c per kw. by the Digby County Power Board's own generation. In order then to effect a saving at all to Digby County it would be necessary to supply at some figure below .760c.

Mr. Taylor in his remarks stated that Lunenburg had paid a unit cost of .785c per kw. and Bridgewater .770c for their requirements purchased from the N.S.P.C. Both these figures are higher than Digby County last year paid for its total per unit requirement. Taking into account that both power and energy costs on the N.S.P.C.'s western network increased by 10% in 1956 over 1955 costs and, Mr. Taylor's own statement, these costs will be still more adversely affected by the dry summer of 1957, it seems hardly likely that any figure below .760c per kw. can be expected in the future.

No, Madam Editor, I feel that the $50,000.00 figure quoted by Mr. Taylor needs a good deal more explanation. It can be dismissed as a mere estimate but even an estimate should have some relation to fact, especially when it is used as an argument to sway opinion for or against a course of action as far reaching as the proposals placed before the recent meeting.

There are some other matters concerning this power proposal which I should like to place before your readers through this letter. It has been asked many times why the Digby County Power Board has not increased its generation on the Sissiboo in previous years. There have been a number of reasons for this including an agreement with the N.S.P.C.

Just for a moment let us consider some of the others. There is the matter of demand. Some years ago there was consideration of an airport for western Nova Scotia. This would have meant a big market for power but it did not materialize. When the naval base was planned for western Nova Scotia the Board felt the power could be supplied by further development of the Sissiboo. We all know where the power came from for Cornwallis. No other large scale developments have occurred in the county which could have been tied in with a sizeable power development by the Board on the Sissiboo. As a matter of fact it might be a good idea for the citizens of Digby County to figure out just what they have received over the years. Now we are told we should part with what we have on the Sissiboo.

To those who would advocate a turning over of our resources and facilities without further ado I would urge that they examine the whole matter carefully, weighing the pros and cons. For the past thirty years members of the Digby County Power Board have served without any remuneration to inaugurate, promote and develop an asset which has constantly been a profitable one for the people of the county. Compare this state of affairs with the large salaries paid to executives of privately owned and operated electric utilities. The sacrifices and the vision of those who have provided Digby County with hydro generation and distribution should not be passed over lightly in any consideration of future action. These things are part of the stake which we have in the development. Hydro is ours in Digby County—we do not want to think of it selfishly or with a "dog in the manger" attitude but we do want to give real and earnest consideration to what our position will be when that statement is no longer true.

In our consideration of the matter which is before us we must give thought to the opinion of those who have helped to make possible what we have, inadequate at the present though it may be, and not be swayed too much by the high pressure methods of those who have no stake in our county and who may have but little real interest in the real welfare and progress of this country.

Explorers Affiliate

An impressive service was held at Grace United Church Hall on Monday afternoon when the Explorer group, under the leadership of Mrs. Elton Arnold, affiliated with the W.M.S. of the church. Mothers of the Explorers and members of the W.M.S. were in attendance and were received at the door by Gail VanTassel dressed in a Japanese costume in keeping with the year's study. Visitors were then directed by Pearl Woolaver to tables, where Linda Milbury displayed books on Japan made by the Explorers. Patty Morgan and Janet Hawkins explained Japanese words, Elizabeth Peters explained the beauty spot found in every Japanese home and Dianne Hand-spiker and Roscoe Wambach demonstrated the making of Japanese articles.

The visitors were entertained at tea when Karen Jayne, Johanne Kenney, Patty Turnbull and Pearl Woolaver assisted in serving.

The opening and closing worship was conducted before a special worship centre. Elizabeth Peters led the opening and in the closing Christmas worship, candlelighters were Linda, Gail and Janet. Johanne and Pearl led in prayer and Roscoe recited a poem.

During the affiliation service Karen and Patty Turnbull took the leading parts and presented a gift of $14.00 to Mrs. James Brooks, president of the W.M.S., who received it on behalf of the Grace United W.M.S. and the Annapolis Presbyterian.

Red stars of merit were presented to Pat Morgan and Pearl, and blue stars were presented to Gail, Janet, Dianne and Johanne.

Harold M. Cleary, known to literally thousands of Bay of Fundy travellers over the years, will retire on pension at the end of the year from his position as assistant agent at the Princess Helene Wharf in Saint John.

Four years later he moved over to the old Bay of Fundy services terminal at Reeds Point as a clerk. In 1920, when the old Empress was the vessel on the important New Brunswick-Nova Scotia service, he was appointed to his present position as assistant agent.

Marriage

Duffy - Turnbull

A wedding of widespread interest was solemnized at a Eucharistic Service in Trinity (Anglican) Church, Digby, when the Rev. H. Y. MacLean united in marriage Mary Elizabeth, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Guy Victor Turnbull, and Christopher Ogden Duffy, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Duffy, Washington, D. C.

Miss Ena Robinson was organist and during the signing of the register "The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Mrs. H. Y. MacLean.

The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums and evergreen, making a beautiful setting with white pom pom chrysanthemums and white candles on the altar. Tall standards of large white chrysanthemums were placed on either side of the chancel and the pews were marked with white satin ribbons.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a gown of chantilly lace over taffeta. The bodice was tight fitting with a high neckline in front and low in back with many small buttons and long sleeves. The skirt was very full, of floor length ending in a train, and she wore a fingertip chapel veil held in place by a coronet of pearls. Her ornaments were drop pearl earrings and a necklace of platinum leaflets inset with diamonds and pearls. She carried a white prayer book with a white orchid and stephanotis.

Mrs. Archer Turnbull, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor, and Miss Betty Mount attended as bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of green and red respectively, styled with velvet bodice with very full ballerina length skirts of sheer silk over taffeta. Their headresses were velvet circlets with shoulder length veils and they carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums.

Mr. Archer Turnbull, brother of the bride, was groomsmen, and the ushers were DeMille Raymond, of Digby, and Eric Longley, New York.

The bride's mother wore a dress of beige lace over taffeta, navy blue velvet hat, feather-trimmed, and accessories to match. She wore a corsage of pink and white carnations.

The groom's mother wore a blue brocade silk dress with matching blue hat, and wore a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church hall, where the bride's table was centred with the wedding cake and tastefully trimmed with holly and lighted candles in tall silver holders. Presiding over the coffee cups were Mrs. C. E. Jones, god-mother of the bride, and Mrs. C. E. Fritz Dakin, while friends of the bride assisted in serving.

Rev. H. Y. MacLean proposed the toast to the bride, which was most fittingly replied to by the groom.

The groom is a graduate of Georgia Institute of Technology and is now attending University of Washington. The bride attended school in Digby and Provincial Normal College, and is at present on the staff of the Barrie-Peter Pan Schools, Washington. Her going away costume was of sapphire blue wool with small fur hat and matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Duffy will reside in Washington.

Gordon Sinclair is probably Canada's best known newspaper personality. There is hardly an adult who has not read his newspaper articles or heard his voice on CBC radio or television. A few can bear Sinclair with equalmity; one either dislikes him or admires him. The little gaffer here is obviously one of the latter.

School Pupils Present Concert

The Barton-Brighton school concert was held in the Barton Hall on December 19.

The program was divided into three sections, each being directed by one of the teachers. Mrs. Woolf, primary teacher, directed the primary program. The intermediate class program was directed by Mrs. Bernard Manzer, intermediate teacher. The advanced department program was directed by the principal, Bernard W. Manzer.

In his opening remarks the principal stated that a concert had three advantages: it helped develop good speech; it served as a project by which the pupils could work together; and it made the school day more interesting.

At the close of the program Santa Claus passed out candy and presents to the seventy-five pupils taking part.

One of the continent's great symphony orchestras, and certainly Canada's finest, the CBC Symphony is rather unique, for it performs each week for the benefit of music enthusiasts via CBC radio, but since studio facilities do not permit live audiences, their five performances at Stratford Music Festival last summer were the first chance for many to actually see them. The Symphony has no permanent conductor; its concert master Albert Pratz is shown (center) above.

Services At Freeport

The services in the Freeport United Baptist Church on Sunday, December 22nd, were of a very high order and were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Frank Smith who was heard in a very fine sermon based on the greatest story ever told—"Old But Ever New." Mr. Smith took for the basis of his sermon the marvellous story found in the 2nd chapter of Luke. Mrs. Norman Perry was soloist and rendered very effectively "Nazar-eth." Many of the old familiar carols were sung in which the congregation heartily joined in singing.

During the morning a special service of dedication was held when gifts recently presented to the church were accepted by the pastor on behalf of the church.

First a gift of an antependia (pulpit hanging) and communion scarf, in a beautiful shade of wine velvet and fringed with gold at each end, woven with a gold thread, on the antependia was woven in the centre the cross, above the cross a crown intimating there's no crown without a cross. These two articles were given to the church by the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Morrell, both of whom were faithful members of the church. Mr. Morrell served as deacon for many years. Dedicated also at this service was a very beautiful painting "The Hills of Lebanon," done by a former resident, Mrs. C. Pulsifer, and given in memory of her loved ones of former years. The painting is a beautiful portrayal of the subject. Dedicated too were new curtains for Baptistry and choir loft, in a harmonizing shade with the other furnishings.

The evening service was a lovely rendition of several items of Christmas music and readings by the Young Peoples' Choir. The singing of these young people is always looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure and much credit is due their talented leader, Mrs. Egbert Crocker, who spends a great deal of time in practicing and training the young people which shows great results. Mrs. Crocker was organist for the day.

Flowers were placed in the church in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Finigan by the family.

During the service Mr. Smith expressed the sympathy of the church in the passing of one of the Freeport boys who died very suddenly at his home in Pictou in the person of Harold Teed. Mr. Teed has a sister, Mrs. Avery Finigan, and a brother, Theodore Teed, both living in Freeport.

The pastor, Rev. J. W. Scott, took his text for the morning service from Colossians 3:14: "Above all things put on charity." He also read a letter from missionary Jean Hodges thanking the church for Christmas gift, a sum of money which will be put toward purchasing a refrigerator for use at Miango, Africa.

Afternoon service was at Lansdowne. The evening service was entitled "The Sorrowful Man's Question", with text from Job 3:23, "Why is light given to a man whose way is hid?"

Circle met at Mrs. Chester Kaulback's Tuesday evening. The Women's Missionary Society meets Thursday evening with Mrs. Maurie Dunn.

When the New Year rolls around and it comes time for making resolutions most people set impossible tasks for themselves. They're going to stop smoking — just like that — or they're going to start living strictly within their budget.

They're going to be nicer to the boss, or their secretary, or their wife or the kids.

But nobody, just nobody, takes more abuse from the average joker than the family car. And no one ever makes any resolutions to be nicer to the family buggy.

Around this time of year, in the colder weather, the car needs some good resolutions lavished on it, too. So let's add the old hack to our list.

Most people know you shouldn't race the engine while warming it up on cold mornings. That sends raw gasoline into the cylinders to wash away the protective oil. So a lot of people let the car idle in the morning, but this draws oil into the cylinders.

A good resolve is to warm up the engine for a minute or so at a fast idle, without racing it, and then to keep around 20 or 25 for the first few minutes after you move off. This should keep the ravages of winter away from your car.

Some people celebrate New Year's with a lot of toasts, and I don't mean white or whole wheat. They usually say that alcohol and gasoline don't mix. I put it another way: don't hick in your hack.

New Year's is a good time, too, to think about a new car, or at least a newer one. Gives you that "clean slate" feeling, and "clean" is the word to describe our current batch of used cars out on the lot, too.

HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL

Marriage

A wedding of interest to relatives and friends in Bear River took place in Moose Jaw, Sask., on December 21st with eleven o'clock mass at the RCAF chapel when Rev. Father Wardell united in marriage Nancy Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent N. McCarthy, of Sask., and Basil Andrew Wyles, Bear River.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and entered the chapel on his arm, looking very lovely in a waltz-length dress of white lace, her fingertip veil was trimmed with rhinestones, her bouquet a cascade of red roses.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Dorothy Briskey, attended her as matron of honor wearing pale blue net dress and a cascade of pink 'mums.

Larry Morgan, Bear River, was best man and Bill Norman the usher.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the RCAF recreation hall attended by relatives and fellow service men and their wives.

terminus for the ferry had been finalized. The board was informed the decision would be made on a question of economics.

First news of a proposal concerning the possibility of the Nova Scotia Power Commission taking over the generating facilities of the Digby County Power Board became public in March when a denial was issued through the press that the local Power Board was planning to sell out to the Power Commission. It was stated studies of the Sissiboo River's power potential were underway but it was not until November that public announcement was made of a possible $7,000,000 power development by the Nova Scotia Power Commission on the Sissiboo. Preliminary negotiations were started between the Power Commission and local authorities in December and a committee set up to further study the proposals.

In the matter of power development August saw the opening by the Nova Scotia Power Commission of its new Ridge development at Bear River. This added another 12,000,000 kilowatt hours to the commission's energy output at Bear River.

August also saw a serious setback in the pitprop industry which had occupied a major place in the county's economy for some years. Pitprop and pulpwood purchases from farmers and woodlot owners in the county declined in that month and the decline continued through the remainder of the year. Death of Max M. Nathal, a leading figure in the pulpwood and pitprop industry in western Nova Scotia since 1939, was recorded late in December.

HMCS Buckingham, which had been stationed here for some years as a training ship in connection with the Cornwallis naval base, was removed from the port in September. Before the ship left her crew presented the Digby General Hospital with a $1,300 anesthetic machine as a token of their appreciation for the hospitality shown them by the people of the community. A not nearly so pleasant event occurred at the hospital also in September. This was a fire which for a time seriously threatened the building. Fortunately, efforts of the fire department were effective and the blaze was extinguished with comparatively little damage.

Digby, like many other communities in the province, was hit by the flu in October and for a while the outbreak was almost epidemic in proportions. It subsided quite rapidly, however, with few serious aftermaths.

The generosity of Digby people and many others was amply demonstrated in October when the "Heart for Billy" fund was launched by the Digby branch of the Canadian Legion to provide money needed for a serious heart operation on Billy Patterson, six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Patterson of Digby. Response to the fund appeal was splendid and the hearts of all were warmed when news came that Billy's operation had been successful.

Digby County participated in two honors late in the year 1957. One came in November when the Editor of the Digby Courier was elected first woman president of the Nova Scotia Weekly Newspapers Association and another occurred in December when Major General E. C. Plow was named as Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia. Major General Plow is a long time summer resident of the county and Mrs. Plow is the former Mary Lynch, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. E. G. Lynch of Digby.

Friends of Mr. Alden Height will regret to learn that he has been confined to his home for the past two weeks through sickness.

CHRISTMAS SERVICES AT UNITED CHURCH

The three churches at Bear River, Smith's Cove and Clementsport, of which the Rev. D. S. McLeod is pastor, were well attended at the Christmas Day services on December 22. Each church was decorated in beautiful simplicity in observance of the wonderful Christmas occasion.

At Bear River the altar was decorated with pine boughs and colored lights. The prelude, "Chimes at Yuletide," played by the organist, Mrs. Darrel Henshaw, inspired the congregation to the fact that this was the day of "adoration," the day to observe the birth of our Saviour.

Opening the service a full choir rendered most fittingly the anthem, "The Angel's Chorus," with Mrs. Donald Brown singing the solo part. Rev. D. S. McLeod chose for his sermon topic "God's Wonderful Gift," his text verse being John 3:11. In his message Rev. Mr. McLeod said God manifested Himself to man simply and in a way all could understand. In simplicity and humility we must come to Him and if we would truly see Him we must keep alive and look up. Christ is God's wonderful gift to man and His birth was the most wonderful event of history. Christ is our greatest gift, our hope for years to come.

Another anthem "It Came Upon A Midnight Clear" was rendered by the choir and was much appreciated. The congregation joined in singing some of the old and beloved Christmas songs and carols.

Rev. McLeod concluded his message with "The Child's Prayer," which was very touching and full of inspiration.

At Clementsport the junior choir was heard for the first time. They rendered four fine selections which added much to the Christmas service. This was an inspiring candlelight service.

The C.G.I.T. girls, under the leadership of Mrs. D. S. McLeod sung carols at many of the homes a few nights before Christmas. This was much appreciated by the older folks and shut-ins. The C.G.I.T. will meet Friday, January 3, at 6.45 p.m. in the vestry.

A special meeting of the official board will be held Friday, January 3, at 8.15 p.m. Rev. D. B. McMartin, Presbytery delegate, will be present. Rev. McMartin will present a questionnaire which should be of interest.

Week of Prayer begins January 6 and will be held at the Advent Christian Church, the Baptist Church and the United Church of Canada. All the churches will combine and take active part in this impressive annual service.

New Year's Message

Mr. Henry D. Hicks, Leader of the Liberal Party

All in all 1957 was not too bad a year for Nova Scotia, although we are naturally concerned that for the first time since the war, a somewhat more serious downward trend in the economy seems to be in sight. I am confident, however, that the future prospects of this province and Canada will continue to be very good if the undoubted ingenuity of Nova Scotians is properly directed to solving the problems inherent in our future growth and development.

The Atlantic Provinces Economic Council has made a start in channelling the hopes and enthusiasm of businessmen in the Atlantic community toward renewed co-operation in order to achieve greater things in the future.

As Leader of the Opposition in the Provincial Legislature, I urge the Premier and Government of the day to do everything possible to assist the people of Nova Scotia generally to take advantage of our undoubted opportunities in 1958 and the years to come. To this end the Government will have a full measure of support from the official Opposition.

To Nova Scotians everywhere I extend sincere good wishes for a Happy and Prosperous New Year — confident of the Province's future in the hands of its people.

May 1958 bring health and happiness to all.

Bank Manager Passes

Word was received here yesterday of the sudden death yesterday morning in Chester of Mr. Herman Olsen, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia there.

Mr. Olsen's death came as a severe shock as he had not been ill and his passing was entirely unexpected.

He is survived by his wife, the former Jean Weir, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Weir, of Digby, and by three young children. Funeral service will be held in Digby Friday afternoon attended by Legion members in a body.

A full obituary will appear in next week's issue of the Courier.

International Rules Adopted

H. M. Warne, of Digby, was elected President of the newly organized Western Valley Independent Hockey League at the final organizational meeting at HMCS Cornwallis Tuesday evening.

Honorary President of the newly formed league, which will play under international rules, is Captain M. Jette, Commanding Officer of the Cornwallis naval base. Other officers include Rev. Father Sampson, of St. Anne's College, Church Point, Vice President, and Lt. Cmdr. James Arnett, HMCS Cornwallis, Secretary-Treasurer. Six teams have been entered in the league and were represented at the meeting at Cornwallis Tuesday night. These are Digby, Middleton, Berwick, Annapolis, Cornwallis and St. Anne's.

League play will be opened on January 15th at the new artificial ice forum of St. Anne's College, Church Point. This game, between St. Anne's and Cornwallis, will be part of the official opening ceremonies of the new rink.

An exhibition game will be played in Digby this Friday evening between Berwick and the Digby Ravens. Game time will be 8:30.

Referees for the newly formed league will be George Rhodes of HMCS Cornwallis, and Robert Potts of Annapolis, both of whom have either played or refereed under international rules in Europe. A school for referees will be held at Cornwallis under the chairmanship of George Rhodes.

Proposal that the newly formed league play under international rules was made at an earlier meeting by Captain Marcel Jette of the Cornwallis naval base. He suggested also that an age limit be imposed in an effort to revive flagging interest in hockey in the local area. These suggestions were adopted Tuesday evening with the ruling that at least five of the players on each team's roster of 15 must be 21 or under.

Injuries under existing Canadian rules and the lack of player development of the younger men were cited as reasons why a change in rules would be desirable. In addition to providing hockey of a more skillful nature, one of the delegates pointed out, the international rules would also provide greater protection for the inexperienced player.

Awarded Trip To Brussels

Miss Louise Doiron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Doiron, of Digby, has been chosen as one of twenty-four girl college students from Canada to attend the World's Fair in Brussels, Miss Doiron will leave for Brussels in March and will stay six months in Belgium.

The girls, who have been chosen from final two year students in Canadian colleges, will act as guides and hostesses to Canadian visitors at the fair. Among the requirements for those chosen was the fact the students were bilingual. Twenty-four boys have also been chosen to attend the fair in the same capacity as the girl students.

Miss Doiron, who is a student at Notre Dame d'Acadie in Moncton, N. B., will receive her B.Sc. in Home Economics in absentia at the graduation exercises this spring.

This year's holding of the World's Fair in Brussels marks the first time in nineteen years that a World's Fair has been held.

Draggers Damaged

Two scallop draggers were damaged at their moorings here yesterday morning when the heavy gale which swept this area tore loose the dragger "Melvin J." from her fastenings at the spur pier.

Damaged when the dragger broke adrift were the "Singer", owned by Roy Halliday, and the "Bay Bird", owned by Reginald Hazelton. The "Singer" had a hole punched in her side and other damage, while the "Bay Bird" had planking torn and damage to her rigging.

Part of the roof of the trailer manufacturing plant just east of the Victoria Bridge was blown off in Wednesday's heavy gale.

Break At Regional High

Police are investigating a break into the Digby Regional High School which occurred sometime Sunday night. The break was discovered by the school's janitor, Thomas Wood, early Monday morning.

Entrance had been made into the building by breaking a window 13" x 14" in size. From this window the intruder had to make a drop of nearly twelve feet to the floor below.

After breaking into the building the intruder used a sharp instrument to cut away door frames to gain entry into various offices in the building. A strong box in one of the offices was pried open and the contents rifled.

A check of the school Monday revealed only a small amount of cash had been taken, although property damage was extensive.

Forum Schedule Revised

Letter to the Editor

January 6th, 1958.
The Editor,
The Digby Courier.

Dear Madam:
The letter by "Interested Citizen" re Sissiboo River power development requires I believe, a good deal more explanation than does the statement of the Manager of the Nova Scotia Power Commission which it so severely criticized.

Taking first things first, certainly no one should have anything other than admiration and respect for the small group of men who had not only the vision to found the Digby County Power Board but the determination to carry through the original financing of this generating and distributing project in spite of strong opposition from the ever present reactionary group. Yet when the only surviving member of this original Board attempted to offer some sound advice to the present members of the D.C.P.B. at the meeting in Digby on December 6th, one of the members took it upon himself to immediately refuse to accept any part of it. Is this giving "thought to the opinion of those who have helped to make possible what we have?"

Let us not delude ourselves by thinking that the present D.C.P.B. is serving us as well as did the inaugural Board nor that it is infallible in its opinions. Simply because they serve on this particular Board with-out any remuneration "as opposed to the large salaries paid to executives of — governmentally owned and operated electric utilities" does not assure us of good management. As a matter of fact I would not consider the Board members to be "executives" in any sense but rather administrators, and sincerely (Please turn to page 10)

Protest Provincial Proposals

Dissatisfaction with the provincial government's proposals concerning additional aid to the municipalities was expressed at the meeting of the Digby Town Council here Monday night.

By unanimous vote the Council decided to instruct the Mayor and Town Clerk to forward messages to Digby's member in the provincial legislature, Hon. M. S. Leonard, urging that he press for a reconsideration of these proposals by the government. It was decided also to contact other towns in the valley and south shore area regarding the matter.

Mayor Gordon R. Turnbull stated he had given the proposals close study and found that on a per capita basis Digby would receive only about $1.80 as compared to Sydney which would receive $5.50 per capita under the proposals. A study of last year's expenditures shows that Digby would receive under the new proposals $1,868 for hospitalization; $1,350 for education and $468.50 for poor relief, making a total of $3,686.50. Sydney, he said, would get $170,000.

"It is very unfair, Mayor Turnbull said, that the people of Digby should be penalized for paying their bills". Because others in the province are not paying theirs we must suffer if the proposed formula for these provincial grants is adopted, he said.

Mayor Turnbull stated that he felt the money being distributed to the municipalities by the province should be distributed on a per capita basis. "It may be true to say that Sydney is an emergency area, he said, but so are we and have been for some time". "If the government is to be fair about this additional money, he said, they should distribute it on a per capita basis and then all the people of the province would be treated equally".

Referring to economic conditions in Digby Mayor Turnbull said the first six months of last year had been good but there had been a marked drop off in the latter half of the year. "If the government does not do something about restoring our markets or finding new ones prospects for the future of this area look dim", he said. He stated the people of this area are almost wholly dependent on the sale of farm, sea and forest produce for their livelihood and markets for this produce are very unstable. In the past year, he said, we lost one of the largest industries in Digby, the Warne lumber mill, which has been re-opened under new ownership but with a much smaller working force. What the future will be for this plant is still very much a question, he said. The possibility that the Digby Pines hotel will re-open in 1958 is still undecided, the Mayor said, and altogether prospects for the future are not bright.

Commenting further on the government proposals, Mayor Turnbull said that, although the government had agreed to pave approaches to towns in the province Digby would not benefit from this as the approaches here have long since been paved. "Our citizens will continue to pay their gasoline tax and motor vehicle registrations to the province without return so far as the town is concerned."

Concluding his remarks the Mayor said that action to protest adoption of the present government proposals concerning aid to the municipalities should be taken immediately. "It is no good to delay this and then complain later, he said. If we are going to do anything we must do it now".

New Year Baby

The first baby born in the Digby General Hospital in 1958 was a baby boy to Mr. and Mrs. Burton Welch, Westport.

The child arrived on the scene at 2:55 a.m. on Thursday, January 2nd, it was announced at the meeting of the Ladies' Hospital Aid, held at the home of Mrs. James Ayer on Monday night. The Welch baby will receive a gift from the Hospital Aid as has been customary to the New Year baby for the past several years.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. B. Franklin, president, and among the items of business were plans for a pantry sale in January and a Bridge at the Nurses' Residence.

Mayor And Council Sworn

Gordon R. Turnbull was sworn into office here Monday night for his second consecutive term as Mayor of the Town of Digby. Also sworn into office were Councillors-elect Vernon L. Bent, Wilfred Muise and J. W. Christie. Officiating at the swearing-in ceremonies were former Mayor G. E. Morehouse and E. J. Theriault, Q.C.

After the swearing-in ceremonies Mayor Turnbull made a presentation on behalf of the citizens of Digby to retiring Councillor Dr. J. R. McCleave. Dr. McCleave had completed sixteen years of service on the Town Council upon his retirement from office this year.

In making the presentation Mayor Turnbull commended Dr. McCleave on his long years of service to the town. He stated he had been a real leader in the field of education in Digby and much of the credit for the great strides in education in Digby over the past sixteen years has been due to Dr. McCleave's leadership. He pointed out that during his service on the Council Dr. McCleave continually served as chairman of the Board of School Commissioners of the town and had been chairman of the Regional High School Board since that board had been formed. Dr. McCleave's sage counsel and advice will be greatly missed, the Mayor concluded.

Responding to the presentation, Dr. McCleave stated he had enjoyed his years on the Council and School Board. He said many of the projects he favored had been accomplished over the years, some had not. One of these, he said, was the building of a sidewalk around the Racquette. This is badly needed, he stated, for the protection of pedestrians living on the north-east outskirts of the town who must now walk along the highway to get to and from their homes.

Mayor Turnbull also commended retiring Councillor N. D. Wright on his service to the town and said he had been a most valuable member of the Council during the four years he had served.

Reviewing the past year, Mayor Turnbull stated the first half of 1957 had been relatively good but things had slackened in the latter half of the year. He said that, although figures were not yet complete, it was hoped the town would end the year with a small surplus. Tax collections over the year were up in money value, he said, but the percentage was down from previous years. During the year several improvements had been made to the town water system, all paid for from current revenue. A new truck had been purchased by the town from revenue and the Racquette bridge repaired on a cost sharing basis with the province.

Prospect of a new federal building for Digby was mentioned by Mayor Turnbull in his remarks at the opening of Monday night's Council session. He said the new building had been proposed some three years ago and he had been informed it would be included in budget figures to be presented in Ottawa this year.

The Mayor also stated he had been informed decision as to the proposed new car ferry across the Bay of Fundy between Saint John and Digby would have to be made this year. He said, if the new service was to become a fact in 1960, decision would have to be made this year as it would require two years to construct a ship for the run.

Dr. And Mrs. T. W. Hodgson Honored

Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Hodgson, whose marriage took place early in December, were taken completely by surprise on Tuesday evening when the Earn and Give Club of Grace United Church arrived at their home on Carleton St. to honor them and present them with a gift. The presentation was made by Mrs. Emerson Graham, president of the club, and Dr. Hodgson made a fitting reply, recalling marriages, baptisms, etc., which he has performed in connection with many of the club members while he was an active minister to the Grace United congregation.

A sing-song was held and refreshments served by members of the club.

Appointed as Fire Wardens were George Humphrey, Thomas Cleveland, N. D. Wright, Victor Cardoza, Donald Amiraault and Charles McBride.

It was decided to defer appointment of the Assessor and Auditors to a later meeting. H. M. Warne, chairman of the Digby Recreation Commission, appeared before the meeting and urged closer consideration by the Council of the matter of the Digby Forum, operated by the Recreation Commission. Mr. Warne stated the town was heavily involved financially in the Forum and stated he felt there should be closer cooperation between the Council and Commission. He said revenues of the Forum from skating this year were ahead of those of last year and stated that league play in hockey would get underway this week.

Mr. Warne said cooperation was being received from HMCS Cornwallis in the matter of hockey and that international rules had been adopted by the Western Valley league this year. Captain Jette, of the naval base, had visited the Digby Forum last week, Mr. Warne said, and he stated the Captain would again be present for a game between Digby and Cornwallis this week. He urged Council members to welcome naval personnel to Digby to further promote the good relations existing between the town and the naval base.

Re-elected President

Mrs. Emerson Graham was re-elected president of the Earn and Give Club of Grace United Church for the second term at a meeting of the club on Tuesday evening.

Other officers elected were: vice-president, Mrs. Raymond Graham; secretary, Mrs. Gordon Ellis; assistant secretary, Mrs. Alfred Kenney; treasurer, Mrs. Edgar Chan; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Alvin Cook. Mrs. Chan succeeds as treasurer Mrs. John Abramson, who served in that capacity for nine years and as assistant treasurer for four years.

Representatives to the Official Board of the Church appointed on Tuesday evening were Mrs. Allan Harris and Mrs. John Abramson.

A letter was read from Miss Theresa Robicheau, teacher at the Indian Reserve School of the United Church of Canada, Norway House, Manitoba, in which Miss Robicheau thanked the Earn and Give Club for Christmas cards, comic books and other gifts sent to the school at Christmas.

Hostesses for the club next Tuesday will be Mrs. Russell Stonehouse and Mrs. Raymond Graham, when installation of officers will take place at the church hall.

Fire Department Report Received

Annual report of the Digby Fire Department, presented at Monday night's meeting of the Digby Town Council, showed there had been sixty-two calls received by the department during last year. Total fire loss in Digby for 1957 was estimated at $5,905.

During the year the department carried out an effective program of fire prevention and a clean-up campaign, it was reported. In connection with these poster contests had been held through the local schools.

The department participated in many community projects, it was reported. Among these were the maintaining of the gardens at the DAR station; sponsorship of the Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs; holding of an Ice Carnival and Labour Day Fair, and the provision of special police for duty at the Digby Forum and on special occasions in the town.

During the year the department raised a total of $6,623.93 from various fairs and other activities. Net profits from these ventures have been used to provide equipment and other items by the department, it was reported.

Many improvements have been made by the department at the fire station, it was reported. These include provision of a kitchen and recreation quarters. Work of painting the outside of the building, started in the fall, had to be postponed until spring because of weather conditions.

The annual report of the fire department drew the attention of the Council to a fire hazard existing in the south end of the town which the report stated is "classed as the most serious fire hazard in Nova Scotia".

It was stated in the report that the management of this property, a lumber operation, "does not seem to heed the warnings of the fire officials or even the Fire Marshal in whose hands the situation now lies". It was stated a fire on this property could well be another Springhill disaster if it got going with the wind the right way. The cooperation of the Council was urged in eliminating this hazard.

Western Tanager Visits This Area

Over the past several weeks a number of rare birds have been reported in this vicinity. One of these, a western tanager, is a "first" for the province. This bird was first seen early in December by Jack Russell in his garden. Not too sure of its identity, Mr. Russell called Miss Louise Daley, a local authority on birds. First of all Miss Daley was stumped but through the use of several authoritative bird guides she was able to positively identify the visitor as a western tanager, a close relative of both the scarlet and summer tanagers, both of which have occurred here on several occasions.

How the western tanager, tanager, which should at this time of the year be basking in the sunshine of southern California, came to Nova Scotia is a mystery. After identifying the tanager Miss Daley got in touch with Mr. Robbie Tufts of the Nova Scotia Bird Society, who came to Digby to observe the visitor.

The western tanager, seen by Mr. Tufts, Miss Daley and by Mr. Russell, was a gayly coloured creature about the size of a bobolink. In general appearance it suggested an oversize male goldfinch in full summer plumage, except that instead of having the black wings (barred with white) of the smaller bird, its were barred with gold and it was without the black cap of the other. In winter plumage, the western tanager's whole head was golden-yellow with a mere suggestion of scarlet about the face. In summer it would have a crimson face.

Efforts to capture the tanager in order to save it from the rigours of possible cold weather and from predators were unsuccessful and within a few days the bird had disappeared. Shortly afterwards, however, the mangled body of the little creature was found with evidence indicating it had been destroyed by a cat. Remains of the bird were identified as those of the western tanager.

New Appointment For Leonard

Hon. M. S. Leonard, MLA for Digby and Minister of Education in the Stanfield cabinet, has assumed the post of Welfare Minister in addition to his education portfolio. The additional portfolio was given Mr. Leonard in a recent cabinet shuffle which also saw Hon. E. D. Haliburton assume the post of Minister in charge of the administration of the Nova Scotia Liquor Control Act, in addition to his agriculture portfolio.

Mr. Leonard accepted the portfolio in a brief ceremony at Government House when the Hon. Alistair Fraser, Lieutenant Governor of the province, administered the oath of office after accepting Attorney General Donahoe's resignation as Minister of Welfare. Mr. Donahoe retains the Health portfolio.

The cabinet shuffle was a move for redistribution of cabinet loads, the Premier said, and stated he did not anticipate any further shuffles.

Mr. Leonard has also been made a Queen's Counsellor. He was among fourteen prominent lawyers in the province so honoured in the new year.

Plaques Erected

Attractive plaques have recently been placed in the lobby of the Digby General Hospital, marking the generosity of donors to the hospital.

One of these is in recognition of the gift of an oxygen tent to the hospital by Mrs. Leo P. Melanson, of Barton. This tent has been in almost constant use since its presentation and has been most effective in emergency cases where a supply of oxygen was needed for patients. The other plaque recently placed marks the bequest of a sizeable sum of money to the hospital from the estate of the late George H. Gilliland.

Another plaque in the hospital lobby, erected some year ago, marks the bequest of a sum of money from the estate of James Wilson.

D. F. D. ACTIVITIES

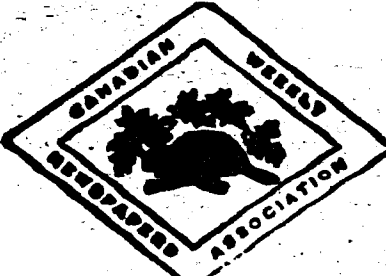

Two calls were received last Thursday almost simultaneously, the first call at 7:25 p.m. for a chimney fire at Titus Nash on Queen St. While the Department was at this fire a second call was received for a bad chimney fire at Butterworth's in Conway. One company responded to this call and remained for some thirty minutes until it was safe. Some damage was caused at this fire to the chimney.

A social evening for all members and wardens and their wives or friends will be held in the Fire Station on Wednesday, January 15, at 7:30 p.m. An interesting evening's entertainment has been arranged by the committee and the lunch will be out of this world and will be prepared by our excellent chef's little helpers. We would like to see every member there as we know all will have a good time.

WED NEARLY 60 YEARS
Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Willard P. Brinton, Bear River, who will be celebrating their 59th wedding anniversary on Saturday, January 11th.

About This and That

What Use Tree Bulbs?

What we need in Digby are not bigger and better policemen but more and more psychiatrists! At least, that is the opinion of some people and we are inclined to agree. It is understandable that a poverty stricken family might be tempted before Christmas to brighten a home with Christmas tree bulbs belonging to someone else, but when bulbs are stolen two nights after New Year, then the motive for stealing becomes a mystery that maybe only the learned psychologists can answer. Never before have we heard of so much pilfering of Christmas tree bulbs as went on in Digby during the Christmas season of 1957. There's the case of six bulbs stolen before Christmas Day. The same six, we expect, were found a day or two later lying on the ground in an abandoned house yard nearby. In perfectly good condition, they were used again by the owner. Of a string containing more than twenty bulbs an owner returned home after being out for an evening to find two bulbs remaining. This was past the New Year. In another instance one home owner lost twelve bulbs. It is reported. These are only a few instances but many more could be recited from reports obtained from the South end of town to the extreme end of the Lighthouse Road.

For such a trifling matter it might seem so much space is unnecessary but what we would like to get across to these bulb snatchers is that they are not hurting the individual from whom the bulbs are stolen so much as they are hurting the town of which they are a part. Another year will probably not see the town decorated for Christmas to the same extent. Already people have said they would not be bothered with outside decorations again. After all, decorating outside is not a necessity and is done by most people with a sense of community co-operation and pride. Beautifying for Christmas can be done entirely within the home, most people are beginning to feel, if there is such a lack of community spirit in a segment of the town's population.

We're still wondering — what was the motive? Of what use were the bulbs? Did the satisfaction of the snatchers warrant the discouraging of community pride? Will it be worth it another year?

Thank You

Once again the Christmas tree is dismantled, the gifts put in their respective nooks and the Christmas cards which so gayly decorated over the festive season are packed away for later perusal or as reminders of our friends during 1958. The editor thanks the many friends who sent cards, some completely unexpected, and assures that each one with its warm personal message brought kind remembrances of some event, significance or friendship throughout 1957.

The customary gift from Barber-Ellis Maritime Ltd. and the Kruger Paper Co. were appreciated and on the surprise list was a nice carton of breakfast foods from Kellogg's and a cabinet of stationery from Provincial Papers. These too were appreciated and we extend our sincere thanks.

But most of all we thank the same and other good friends for the goodwill and patronage throughout 1957. It is you — the advertisers, subscribers, correspondents, interested friends — who make it possible for us to continue serving you and the communities around. We want you to know we deeply appreciate all you have done to help us. We look back with pleasant memories and gratitude and solicit your continued interest and support for 1958.

Given Additional Appointments

Once again a Digby man has been given appointments deserving congratulations from the home town press. We refer to the additional appointment to the post of Minister of Public Welfare assumed by Hon. M. S. Leonard already Minister of Education for the Province of Nova Scotia. This additional honor bestowed on Mr. Leonard, we feel, bespeaks praise for the manner in which he has conducted the business concerning his already important and responsible educational position. Administration of business dealing with the Department of Public Welfare in itself is not something which can be borne lightly. However, even in this field Mr. Leonard has undoubtedly had experience pertaining to similar circumstances during his years of law practice and community work. While the additional appointment must of necessity mean further responsibilities for Mr. Leonard he is in every respect fitted to meet the new demands which will be made upon him.

Equal in importance, is not greater, was the announcement on New Year's Day that the Hon. Mr. Leonard was one of fourteen appointments as Queen's Counsels. Our congratulations are extended to Mr. Leonard on his two new appointments which have brought honor to all the citizens of Digby irrespective of their political views. We feel we are voicing the sentiments of all our readers when we say — Congratulations!

NOTICE

The Digby Board of Trade wholeheartedly endorses the "Let's Do It Now" campaign of the National Employment Service.

We urge home-owners to institute now their plans for repairing, remodelling, redecorating and rebuilding instead of the traditional time of spring or summer.

It is obvious there are certain types of jobs that cannot be done in winter. On the other hand, it may be that many are holding back on work which could be done now as well as at any time.

The National Employment Service urges people to go ahead and do this type of work. The request seems reasonable. After all, the success of a community depends really on co-operation in doing those things which are necessary to prosperity.

"Let's Do It Now!"

hope that they did not choose any of their executive employees on the mistaken idea that it would be an economy to pay them small salaries.

Now let us consider the complaint about Mr. Taylor's estimate of a saving of $50,000.00 had all power been purchased from the N.S.P.C. instead of only peak requirements of the D.C.P.B. In the first place Mr. Taylor clearly stated that it was the opinion of the N.S.P.C. that the D.C.P.B. figures for their costs of power generation did not take into consideration all cost factors and on further questioning stated that in his opinion the D.C.P.B. generating costs would be about double if all factors were considered. On this basis Mr. Taylor would consider the actual cost of power generated by the D.C.P.B. to be approximately $85,010.22 which when added to the $49,639.99 paid to the N.S.P.C. for peak power requirements would total $134,650.21.

According to actual figures of .785 per KW Hr. charged to Lunenburg and .770 per KW Hr. charged Bridgewater by the N.S.P.C. it is reasonable to assume that all power could be provided for Digby County at not over .80 per KW Hr. Now let us take the County of Digby usage as per "Interested Citizen" of 11,911,400 KW Hrs. at .80 and we have a total cost of $95,291.20 or an indicated saving of $38,947.01 - but this is not all.

It was clearly stated by the N.S.P.C. that power could be delivered directly to the Town of Digby and the Village of Weymouth at the same figure as to the D.C.P.B. Not knowing the rates charged to these communities by the D.C.P.B. I will leave it to "Interested Citizen" to figure out whether this additional saving when added to $38,947.01 reaches or exceeds the $50,000.00 estimate with which he took issue. And let him not further try to be fuddle the issue by comparing generating costs with delivered costs nor by failing to mention that the present cost of 1.113 per KW Hr. for N.S.P.C. power is at that level only because it is for peak rather than total power requirements.

But instead of dealing with argumentative cost figures and attempting to make an appeal to sentiment why not face these cold hard facts:-

(1) Hydro is not ours in Digby County. Any power rights which the N.C.P.B. might have had expired in 1956 but apart

Captain For A Day

On Christmas Day in HMCS Cornwallis the age old tradition of the youngest seaman on board being Captain for the day was carried out with all the ceremony that goes with it.

This year Ordinary Seaman Carl G. Tytling, from Fraser Division, was selected to fill the role. Coming from Agassiz, B. C., Tytling has been in the RCN just six weeks. He commenced a very busy Christmas Day by reporting to the Captain's residence where he was fitted out from head to toe in Captain Jette's uniform, rounds in the hospital and galley, soon followed with the traditional rite of the lantern carrying master-at-arms preceding the young "Captain". In the galley where the men sat down to a sumptuous Christmas dinner, complete in every detail, the Captain joined all the other officers in singing carols and assisting in the serving of the meal. To complete his busy schedule Ordinary Seaman Tytling then made rounds in the new entry blocks and in the recreation centre where he created an impression which will not soon be forgotten.

Has New Year Meeting

The January meeting of the Smith's Cove Baptist W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Adams, The president, Mrs. Sue Winchester, presided.

Topic of the meeting was Leadership. The devotional part was taken by Mrs. Vera Langman and the program was conducted by Mrs. MacLean, under the topic "Christ Our Leader". Readings were given by Mrs. Oran Woodman, Miss Blanche Woodman, Mrs. Landers, Mrs. Stella McGuire, Mrs. Chester Brinton, Miss Winchester and Mrs. MacLean.

These reading brought messages for the New Year from Paul, Moses and the great of the Bible, cautioning to press on in faith; Christ the Guide and invisible presence; live for tomorrow by living today to its fullest; enter the open door of the New Year with great expectations of opportunities for work for others. The members were given a challenge to do their best for the year 1958.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Landers.

Support the Digby Forum

from this all water power rights belong to the Province of Nova Scotia.

(2) Additional electrical power is urgently required in Nova Scotia and additional water power for this generation is available on the Sissiboo.

(3) The D.C.P.B. is financially incapable of economically developing this great source of potential electrical power and for the past twelve years has not even developed sufficient power for Digby County.

(4) The Nova Scotia Power Commission has offered to immediately start the development of a $7,000,000.00 power project on the Sissiboo River and to sell either to the D.C.P.B. or directly to the various communities in Digby County all electrical power requirements at cost.

(5) The Nova Scotia Power Commission in taking over and developing all generation of power on the Sissiboo has offered to reimburse the D.C.P.B. on an equitable basis for the assets of its inadequate generating plants.

Let us therefore immediately get on with the job of reaching an agreement with the N.S.P.C. so that this great project may be started without further delay. And let the present members of the D.C.P.B. show us that their stature approaches that of the original Board by co-operating fully so that this vast development in Digby County may have the support it deserves from every resident of the County.

Has Narrow Escape

What started out as a jaunty trek across a pond in a nearby area turned into a near tragedy for Diane Handspiker, eleven years old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Handspiker, Mount Pleasant, on Friday, January 3. She and her two companions, Janet Hawkins and Virginia Handspiker, were sliding on the ice, when, under the weight of Diane, it broke. The two girls tried to help her out, but when their efforts failed, they began calling for help.

Larry Handspiker, the brother of Diane, who was playing nearby with his dog "Patty", heard the girls' cries for help. Immediately he hastened to the area and without losing any time jumped into the icy water and rescued Diane.

Diane was shaken and frightened, but everyone agreed it was fortunate that Larry was near enough to come to his sister's rescue.

Has Party

On Tuesday afternoon, January 7th, little Lilla Wong entertained 9 for her little girl friends, the occasion being her 6th birthday.

The room was beautifully decorated for the occasion and a birthday chair was also decorated to match the room, which Lilla occupied. Her little friends gathered around her and sang "Happy Birthday", and then had their pictures taken. They enjoyed the afternoon by playing games and singing.

Refreshments were served, including a birthday cake, which was served by Lilla.

Gifts included money, jewelry, clothing, games, photo, and a surprise visit from dear friends, Capt. and Mrs. J. A. Ferguson, of Hantsport.

Christmas Party Successful

At a meeting of the community Christmas party committee shortly after Christmas it was reported collections and donations made by local business houses, individuals, and by outside concerns had been sufficient to meet the expenses of the party with a small surplus to place toward next year's program.

It was decided at the meeting to send letters of appreciation to Scotian Gold Co. Ltd., who supplied apples for the youngsters, to the Scottie Potato Chip company for their donation of potato chips, and to Seven Up, Maritimes Ltd. for their donations of soft drinks for the party.

A letter was also ordered sent to Captain Jette, commanding officer of HMCS Cornwallis, for his cooperation in permitting personnel from the naval base to take part in the program. A committee was also named to meet with Captain Jette to express personally the appreciation of the community organization.

A vote of thanks was also passed to the Ladies Auxiliary of the Digby branch of the Canadian Legion for their work in packaging the candy for the party and for providing a meal for the naval personnel who took part in the program.

At the meeting it was decided to make enquiries concerning the possibility of holding a Halloween party at the Forum in 1958 as well as the annual Christmas tree.

Cornwallis Officer Promoted

Lieutenant Commander Joseph M. Paul, C.D., R.C.N., the Officer in Charge of the Leadership School, H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, has been promoted to Commander's rank.

Commander Paul was born in Edmonton, Alberta, and joined the navy as a boy seaman in March, 1934. He served with the Royal Navy prior to the war and completed several courses in the gunnery branch both in the United Kingdom and in Canada. During the Second World War Commander Paul served at sea in destroyers mostly in the North Atlantic theatre of operations.

Prior to coming to Cornwallis he commanded the frigates "Penetang" and "Outremont" and was appointed as Officer in Charge Leadership School in May, 1956. This was his second tour of duty in the training establishment having been on staff when the base was first commissioned in the spring of 1943.

Bear River

Mr and Mrs. G. Lyman Ramsay and three children of Dartmouth spent the New Year's holidays with Mrs. Ramsay's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Rice.

Officers Installed

Installation of officers of the Grace United W.M.S. took place at the church hall on Tuesday with Rev. James Brooks officiating. Reports from the various officers for 1957 heard indicated a successful year had been closed. Experimental School Telecasts

Television and school teaching will join forces in Halifax this month when CBHT and the schools of the port city embark on a three week nine lesson series of experimental school telecasts. Arranged by the Halifax School Board, the Nova Scotia Department of Education and the CBC's School Broadcast Department, the lessons will be telecast on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 2:30 p.m. during the experiment beginning January 13th.

Nine separate lessons will be videotaped to grades four, six and eight. Fourth graders will receive science lessons, sixth graders will be taught Social studies and the eight grade students will be lectured on mathematics.

Purpose of the experiment is to discover whether a regular classroom teacher can teach a subject on a continuous basis on television and to test the "master plan" method of presentation in which the teacher does all the talking without interruption from the pupils.

To evaluate the experiment questionnaires will be distributed to certain schools watching the telecasts. At the conclusion of the series pupils and teachers will list their reactions to the lessons.

It is expected that most Halifax schools will be equipped with television receivers while the experiment is being conducted. Though most do not possess sets of their own various sources are supplying them on a loan basis.

The Halifax experiment follows recommendations of the Canadian Education Association who said after a similar series carried on at a national level that tests should be carried out at a local level where the TV lessons could be brought more in line with the curricula of the schools.

While expressions of gratitude were made in respect to those people who had helped to relieve the situation, somewhat it was pointed out that the financial situation was far from a firm condition. As the accounts receivable are still in excess of $30,000 the grave importance of collecting all outstanding accounts was strongly stressed. It was emphasized that if the hospital is to continue that those owing accounts must be impressed with the importance of immediate payment.

A welcome was extended to Miss Helen Bell, superintendent, and the new nurses on the staff. The Board felt they were fortunate in securing the services of Miss Bell who also was instrumental in securing several registered nurses to complete the permanent staff.

Red Cross Appeal For Clothing

An urgent appeal for used clothing was made by Mrs. Winfield, convener of the Welfare Committee, at the January business meeting of the Digby Red Cross Branch held last week at the Court House. Mrs. Winfield reported that Christmas boxes were packed for 30 families, comprising approximately 130 children. So many calls for clothing have been received that the supply of children's sizes is completely exhausted and the last case was cared for only through the generous co-operation of the Salvation Army. Mrs. Winfield appealed for clothing which could be made over for children or could be made wearable by mending.

Routine business was transacted at the meeting which was chaired by Dr. T. W. Hodgson, with secretary's and treasurer's reports by Mrs. E. G. Arnold and Mrs. B. H. Ruggles respectively. A memorial donation in memory of the late Max Nathal was reported by the treasurer and much appreciated by the society. The Ways & Means report, prepared by Mrs. Berwick, showed receipts of over $30, and expenditures of approximately $20, mainly for items for Christmas parcels.

Mrs. H. M. Warne, reporting for the Women's Work Committee stated that the greater part of the work before Christmas had been in cooperation with the Welfare Committee, but that new materials were now on order and more workers were urgently needed. Halifax headquarters reported that as all their quilt supply had been exhausted in recent disasters, such as the Springfield fire, more quilts were needed from the branches as soon as possible.

Mrs. Warne thanked the Conway "Good Neighbors Club" for their assistance with Christmas knitting and in taking more materials for regular work, and expressed the hope that other groups would also assist with this work.

It was reported that Mrs. Sidney Smith, R.N., was willing to conduct a Home Nursing Class, with the assistance of other local nurses, and that St. Patrick's Church had kindly offered the use of their hall for that purpose. It was hoped to start the class by the first of February if sufficient members enrolled. The secretary reported that disaster supplies, consisting of thermos jugs, paper cups and Red Cross badges for workers, had been received from the Division.

The date of the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Division was announced to be Feb. 20 and 21 in Halifax, and the appointment of delegates was left with the nominating committee to be brought in with the slate of officers at the annual meeting of the Digby Branch, which is to be held on Wednesday afternoon, January 22, at the Baptist Church Hall with afternoon tea following the meeting.

Prayer Services Conclude

Week of Prayer services in Digby concluded on Thursday evening at the Salvation Army Citadel with Rev. James Brooks speaker. His subject, "In Christ A New Creation", was taken from the scripture "Wherefore if any man is in Christ he is a new creature." He spoke of the notable changes in man who accepts and lives in Christ and what a Christian must do to be in Christ. Lieutenant Clarence Bradley was also assisted in the service by Rev. E. C. Churchill. Two delightful and inspiring features of the service were trios sung by Misses Jean Brittain, Helen Harding and Marilyn Clayton. Miss Anne Brittain was pianist.

On Wednesday evening the service was held in Grace United Church, with Rev. E. C. Churchill delivering the sermon. He took as his subject "What Man Could Not Do, God Did". Mr. Churchill referred to the Old Testament religion, or legalistic religion, which he said had dangers and pitfalls when man tends to become a measure for himself or tries to get on the right side of God by doing. He noted how man had got farther and farther away from God but God came in the fullness of time; He had drawn nearer and nearer to man. Christ did for man what man could not do for himself. He concluded by saying that when man comes to the cross and gives himself in full commitment to do the will of God, then he accepts what God has done for him and through faith becomes what God wanted him to be.

Rev. James Brooks conducted the service and Lieutenant Bradley led in prayer.

At the Digby Baptist Church on Tuesday evening Lieutenant Bradley gave the discourse.

Lobster Man Has Narrow Escape

Prompt action by Orin Tidd, of Whale Cove, saved the life of his lobster mate, Ainsley Tidd, of Little River, while lobstering in the Bay of Fundy.

While setting the lobster trap into the water, the rope on the trap wound around Ainsley's leg and pulled him overboard. The trap was heavy with ballast, taking him to the bottom.

Orin quickly stopped the engine, returned and with quite a struggle rescued his companion.

Ainsley suffered from shock and exposure.

About This and That

A Commendation

The Digby Courier joins with Mayor Turnbull and the citizens of Digby in commending retiring Town Councillor Dr. J. R. McCleave on his excellent record of public service to this town and its people.

Dr. McCleave's record of sixteen consecutive years as a member of the Digby Town Council has not been exceeded in the history of Digby and, in fact, has been equalled only once. This was by Victor Cardozo who retired from the Town Council in 1955 after serving for sixteen consecutive years.

During Dr. McCleave's long tenure of service on the Town Council and on the Digby Board of School Commissioners and the Regional High School Board, on which he served as Chairman since its organization, Digby has seen many worthwhile improvements made.

In the improvements that have been made over these years Dr. McCleave has played a leading part, particularly in those concerned with education. On a number of occasions he faced heavy opposition to his proposals but with the quiet good humour for which he is widely noted he met this opposition and far more often than not saw his proposals adopted.

The confidence which the majority of the public have in Dr. McCleave's good judgment has been amply justified by the results of the action he has endorsed as a Town Councillor and a member and the head of two school boards in this area. We feel he must derive a good deal of satisfaction as he surveys the sum total of his efforts as a public servant over the years.

Far too often men like Dr. McCleave who have given so much of their time and talents to public service; who have no doubt neglected their own personal affairs and sacrificed their leisure to serve the public do not receive the acclaim they rightly deserve. It is men such as these, however, who make possible the orderly conduct of our public affairs and who are responsible for progress in the fields in which they serve.

To Dr. McCleave we extend a "well done". Our hope is that he will enjoy some of the leisure he has so ably earned. We hope also that his retirement from the Town Council will not mark an end to his service on such bodies in this area but will merely be a recess. Men such as he are needed in public service.

"The Sissiboo Beacon"

The first issue of Volume 2 of "The Sissiboo Beacon", the school paper published by the students of Weymouth Consolidated High School, has been received by The Digby Courier. We were greatly impressed with the editorial as written by Malcolm Smith, managing editor. The paper is a credit to the students and the editorial and reporting ability gives promise of future newspaper personnel. The paper also contained a fine Christmas message by the supervising principal, W. B. Hamilton. Following is Malcolm's editorial which issues a challenge both to young and old —

"In view of the startling scientific advances of the last twenty-five years, and the increasing causes for dispute between different political, social, and religious groups we, the young people of today, are being placed in an awkward position. We must assume the responsibilities of the future and endeavour to iron out many of the mistakes made by our parents. Undoubtedly, we shall also err, but the size of our errors and the harm which they create, shall be determined by the degree to which we absorb the training and experience offered us in school.

We are in a period of transition. Yesterday we were care-free, little children, content to eat, sleep, and play, and let the world go by. Yesterday, we strove only to be happy; nothing else mattered. Tomorrow, we must take over from our parents the weighty mantle of leadership and responsibility. In an age when the slip of a switch can destroy every trace of mankind, we must be able to maintain a level head in the struggle for survival. We must be able, therefore, to understand the needs and desires of our neighbours throughout the world. We must, on the perilous checker board of life plan our future moves with extreme caution. Just we lose the game, which could mean the destruction of mankind.

Today, then, we at school must begin to accept some amount of responsibility, to differentiate between right and wrong, and to appreciate the position of our leaders.

We must emerge from school a clear-thinking Christian individual, willing to meet life's challenge face to face, and win. It is up to us to succeed.

Malcolm Smith,
Managing Editor."

Report From Parliament Hill

By George C. Nowlan

There has been more political atmosphere in the House of Commons during the past week than in any week since the House first settled down in the latter part of October. This is rather surprising in view of the uneven balance in the House of Commons. One would have thought that the atmosphere would have been tense with political drama every day. Actually this was far from the case. For the first week or two, there was uncertainty and excitement. Then the House settled down to rather a dull routine. The Government produced its legislation and these matters were debated. The Official Opposition, the Liberal Party, would debate them mildly, criticize them gently, and then vote for them. The C.C.F. Party, taking advantage of a unique situation, declared itself to be the official opposition, and ran riot with objections, criticism, obstruction and divisions. Of course they were perfectly safe in doing this, because they knew the Government would receive the support of the Liberal Party. The Social Credit Party adopted the position somewhat between the two, never stating definitely what they would do, but almost invariably supporting the Government. Therefore the Government was able to proceed with easy confidence, as if it commanded a large majority in the House rather than being in a minority position.

On the other hand, of course, the Government did not know from day to day when the situation might change, and therefore was not in a position to make long term plans. And to formulate policies as a Government should, which is assured of a fairly long continuity of office. Therefore, although it has been relatively easy for the Government during this present session, yet it has not been a good thing to have this uncertain situation, and there are now indications that it will shortly be determined. Whether this will be a matter of weeks or months, the time for an election will not be too far away.

The renewed political interest of this week, of course, is due to the forthcoming Liberal Convention, which will be pretty well over by the time this column is read. The sixty-four dollar question is "What will the new Liberal Leader do when he returns to the House of Commons?" Of course, I am assuming that the new Leader will be a Member of the House of Commons, either Mr. Pearson or Mr. Martin. It was relatively easy for the Rt. Hon. Mr. Louis St. Laurent to say that the Liberal Party would give support to the Conservative Government in the House of Commons. Everyone knew that he was retiring. Everyone knew that the Liberal Party was leaderless. Everyone could understand such an attitude, prior to the Convention. But the purpose of the Liberal Convention is to raise the high hopes of that Party, to beat the drums, and to encourage their supporters to proceed on to a possible victory. The new Leader will be in somewhat the position of the "Knight in Shining Armour", who enters the House looking for battle and seeking victory. And he will have plenty of opportunity for battle. A Motion for Supply will be made on the Monday following the Liberal Convention. This will be debated on Monday and Tuesday. Traditionally the Opposition always moves an amendment, which is a vote of confidence. Will the presumably rejuvenated Liberal Party, having come through the bullabuloo of a Convention, with all the publicity it will have received, move such an amendment, or will it follow the practice of the last few weeks, and abdicate its functions to the C.C.F. Party? If the new Leader follows the first alternative, and the amendment is supported by the other Parties, presumably the Government will be defeated, and there will be an immediate election. If he follows the second alternative, at least some of the glamour of the Convention will have been lost. I am sure the new Leader, while pondering this decision, will recall those ancient words, "Uneasy lies the head that wears the Crown".

Many people have asked me if under our constitutional system it is possible to have an election without either the Government being defeated in the House of Commons, or, as usually happens, without a substantial portion of the term of Parliament having expired. Our Constitution is a very flexible one, and differs from those of most countries where Parliaments are elected for fixed periods and elections can only be held on those dates.

Under our system, an election may be held whenever the Governor General sees fit to dissolve Parliament. The Crown has lost many of its prerogatives, but this is a very real one which still is left to the judgment and the discretion of Her Majesty in Great Britain, or her Representative, the Governor General in Canada. If a Government should want an election, the Prime Minister of the day would advise the Governor General to dissolve Parliament. His Excellency, or perhaps it might be Her Excellency, would have to decide whether to accept such advice or reject it. If he or she did accept it, the House would immediately be dissolved and an election held. And so the answer to the question is that constitutionally it would be possible to have an election without the Government having been defeated in the House of Commons.

If and when such a problem should ever arise in Canada, we can be thankful that under our flexible system of Government the decision has to be made by the Representative of the Crown, one who is independent

Marriage

Potter — Marshall

A pretty afternoon wedding was solemnized at the Hill Grove United Baptist Church on Monday, December 23rd, when Rev. E. C. Churchill, pastor, united in marriage Miss Marilyn Belle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Marshall, and Mr. Lenley Durling Potter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seldon Potter, of Clements-vale. The double ring ceremony was used.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked very lovely, gowned in white nylon net over satin with wide full length skirt, sleeves and bodice of brocade lace studded with sequins with matching finger-tip veil, tiara of seed pearls and sequins, and she carried a large bouquet of pink and white carnations.

The bridesmaid, Miss Diane Scragg, of Bear River, wore a gown of blue netting over taffeta, waltz length, with matching headpiece, and carried a cascade bouquet of white 'mums and yellow shasta.

Carol H. Marshall, sister of the bride, acted as flower girl, dressed in yellow nylon over taffeta with matching headpiece and carried a basket of pink carnations and yellow snapdragons.

The groom was attended by Scott MacKay Marshall, brother of the bride as best man, and Bengy Keith Marshall, also brother of the bride, as junior attendant, all wearing charcoal gray suits, grey ties and white carnations.

The bride's mother wore a dress of tea blue silk crepe with beige and black accessories and corsage of white and pink carnations.

The groom's mother's dress was of royal blue ticiatina crepe with pink and black accessories and corsage of pink and white carnations.

For going away the bride wore a sapphire blue coat, beige cashmere dress, beige hat, black suede shoes and hand bag.

Nuptial music was played by the church organist, Mrs. D'Arcy Roope, and Mrs. Furber Marshall, of Digby, sang "I Love You Truly" during the signing of the register.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Church Hall nearby which was tastefully decorated for the occasion, attended by 60 invited guests. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Seldon Potter.

The nurse is saving regularly for a vacation trip

The father is saving for the things a growing child will need

Both have a bank account—and a purpose for saving

Nurse and father both agree that some things are too important to leave to chance. So, like most Canadians, each uses a chartered bank for planned saving, making regular deposits to accomplish a definite purpose.

Your own savings plan may be a short-term modest one—maybe a vacation trip, or new drapes for the living room. Or your goal may be long-range, like providing more security, greater comfort and independence for you and your family.

But whatever use you find for the money you save, you'll always be glad you saved it!

More Precious Than Gems

When a loved one is ill or in pain, you wait eagerly for the medicine which your doctor has prescribed to ease distress or bring back health again. Can you measure the worth of the tiny tablets or the relief that flows from the prescription bottle?

Today's miracle drugs may seem to be high in price. But the sicknesses they cure once meant days or weeks of home and hospital care, expensive surgery, a long period of suffering, sometimes even death. Are not today's medicines worth more than rubies or pearls?

Remember too that some medicines cost millions of dollars to develop... to research, to obtain raw materials, to purify, to test for complete safety. Modern medicines are not hit-or-miss; they are specific. But with all of these millions spent to bring modern drugs to you, the price of prescription drugs has gone up less than half of other consumer items since 1939. Above all, remember how blessed is the comfort these medicines give, and what you would do without them.

Port Wade

(D. M. Snow)

Mr. and Mrs. William Morine, Miss Eleanor Morine and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Morgan, Bear River, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Snow and Mrs. George Dickson.

Mrs. George Dickson has returned to Halifax after spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Snow.

The school meeting was held on Monday evening with a good number in attendance. The trustees are Harold Florden, Kenneth Hudson and Alton Hayden. The furnace has been repaired and the school is very comfortable.

The special Week of Prayer services were held in the Port Wade Baptist Church conducted by Rev. Carroll Armstrong, pastor of the Annapolis Royal Baptist Church. The service was held on Wednesday evening with a good attendance.

Miss Elizabeth Burke was accompanied to Halifax on Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. Blair Hatfield, Mrs. Bert Connors and Mrs. Gordon Snow. Miss Burke received a good report on her health at the clinic. After her appointment, all went to call on Mrs. George Dickson, Halifax. Mrs. William McGrath, Granville Ferry, spent a day recently with her son, Mr. Ralph McGrath, Mrs. McGrath and family. While in Port Wade she called on other friends.

The Red Cross met on Thursday evening in the hall with a good number in attendance. Quilts were packed and sent to headquarters, these we expect will go to Springfield to help the many who were burned out in the recent fire. Work has begun after the Christmas vacation and an amount of new work will be started at next week's meeting.

We are sorry to hear Mrs. Laura Parker fell in the Granville Ferry United Church and is a patient in the Annapolis General Hospital. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Arthur Baxter wishes to express her sincere thanks to all her kind neighbours and friends who helped in any way during her recent illness. Special thanks to those who remembered her with cards, gifts and food. It is all greatly appreciated.

For letters, cards and tributes sent to us. We are indeed grateful for them all. Especially would we like to thank Rev. E. C. Churchill for all he has done and the strength he gave us. Urges Action On Hotels By Government

Addressing members of the Kings West Liberal Association at Berwick Wednesday night Opposition Leader Henry D. Hicks urged the Stanfield Government to support their operation of move in and take over the operation of the three Canadian Pacific hotels in Western Nova Scotia, if new operators are not found before the tourist season opened.

Mr. Hicks said that there had been a great deal of speculation during the past few months concerning the future of the hotels. The hotels are the Digby Pines, Lakeside Inn, Yarmouth, and Cornwallis Inn, Kentville. He said that it was absolutely necessary for them to remain open, particularly for the development of the tourist industry.

"The provincial government has a great and direct responsibility to see that these hotels are kept open and properly operated under competent management," he continued.

"A decision on the future of the hotels should not be put off, as a delay would affect the forthcoming tourist season," he said.

He said the present government operates Keltic Lodge in Cape Breton, and the provincial government had assisted in the operations of other hotels and tourist accommodations in the province, particularly the Fort Cumberland Hotel at Amherst and the Isle Royale Hotel at Sydney.

Annual Meeting of Shareholders

The Royal Bank of Canada

JAMES MUIR DECLARES ELECTORS AND GOVERNMENT JOINTLY RESPONSIBLE WITH BUSINESS AND LABOUR IN CURBING INFLATION

Creation of new financial institution suggested to fill need for more adequate long term export financing. Time ripe for Money Market to assume more positive function.

Although the round-robin of cost and price rises is undoubtedly an inflationary factor, even the best intentions on the part of both labour and management cannot long resist an inflationary environment created by excess spending through errors or inefficiency of monetary and fiscal management, declared James Muir, Chairman and President of the Royal Bank of Canada in his address at the bank's annual meeting in Montreal on Thursday, January 9th. "In such a situation, wages would rise even without trade unions to press for them," said Mr. Muir. "The employer finds that to increase production in response to rising demands, he must bid for labour at a higher price. He may often find it necessary to raise prices, but these higher prices can be paid only because the original inflationary environment makes it possible for his customers to pay them. Under these conditions, wages and profits rise together, but they are symptoms rather than the cause of inflation."

"However, once the circle is broken, by effective monetary and fiscal policy, mutual restraint is clearly in order. Profits fall first and unions might well at this point temper the wind to the shorn lamb. In fact, if we are to obtain not merely full employment and growth, but stability as well, the exercise of restraint in making demands must become the responsibility not only of labour and business, but of electorate and government as well."

FREE EXCHANGE RATE

Mr. Muir mentioned that among the "built-in stabilizers" of the economy is Canada's free foreign exchange rate, and pointed out that in the absence of flexible price levels and with a domestic fiscal policy geared to "full employment," the floating exchange rate provides the only mechanism of adjustment, other than rigid exchange controls, to the ever-changing requirements for equilibrium in Canada's international accounts. "It is sometimes argued that the investment flow covers our trade deficit," said Mr. Muir, "and that any stoppage of this flow would be disastrous. But we should remember first that a large part of our imports are the result of the inflow of investment funds; and second, that should foreign investment (and investment-induced imports) fall off, our flexible exchange rate provides an automatic device for adjusting any deficit remaining in our trade in goods and services with the outside world."

HELP FOR EXPORTERS

Mr. Muir pointed out that serving businessmen seeking export markets may be hampered by inadequate export financing compared with that available to their foreign competitors. "As matters stand at the moment," he explained, "we have an absurd situation. A Canadian industry, for example, obtains an order from abroad amounting to millions of dollars and the export Credits Insurance Corporation guarantees to any lender the repayment of this paper over a period of years. However, when the exporter considers his own financing, we have no device within this country suitable to his needs."

"What he requires is the discount of paper maturing over a period of years or a term loan for a similar period secured by that paper. During a period of tight money, the chartered banks do not have available in any quantity funds for this purpose. The result has been that some of our Canadian corporations have had to go outside the country to arrange their credit requirements with non-Canadian banks. We have actually seen cases in which the absurdity arises that a Canadian bank is asked to lend its customer money which he, in turn, deposits with a non-Canadian bank to facilitate that foreign bank's lending operations."

"I would like to suggest that a consortium of Canadian banks, Canadian exporters, and perhaps other interests, should consider the formation of a company with power to discount commercial paper covering the kind of long-term export transactions which I have here described."

SMALL BORROWER NOT NEGLECTED

"Generally speaking, banks are in position to take care of the legitimate needs of all credit-worthy small to moderate borrowers," said Mr. Muir. "In the past few months, however, there has been a great deal about scarcity of credit for this sector of our economy; and government authorities have apparently become exercised about it. Frankly, I am baffled when I read of these things and I cannot escape the impression that the whole case must be grossly exaggerated, or that, perhaps without realizing it, we may be witnessing an evolution in this field. It may be that a fundamental change is taking place in our economy and that the small merchant is experiencing something that credit cannot help. There is some evidence not only that sales outlets are becoming more and more concentrated, but that sales and production units are developing an increasingly close relationship with one another."

"From the inception of the tight money policy, your bank has made it clear by word of mouth and by repeated written communications to all of our branches that they were still required to deal sympathetically with applications for personal and small business loans."

"In spite of our lending policy there has been a reduction not only in the number of borrowers but a substantial reduction as well in the amount borrowed in this particular field. As far as this bank is concerned, the credit facilities have been available, our Managers have known of this policy, and yet it would seem that small borrowers have not taken advantage of their opportunities to obtain credit."

BROADER MONEY MARKET

Four years ago, Mr. Muir recalled, he had mentioned that it might be worth while to investigate the possibilities of a short-term money market in Canada. "Such a market," he said, "did come into being about six months later. We should, I believe, now study the possibilities of broadening the base of our money market. As of now the only instrument available for use within this market are Government Treasury Bills and government bonds with a maturity not exceeding three years. What I have particularly in mind is a study of possible steps to achieve the stature of a real money market, that is, a market that would include commercial paper in the form of bankers' acceptances. Useful as our present money market is, it would, I believe, be worthwhile to determine whether or not it is ready by this time to outgrow its swaddling clothes and become a more lusty and an increasingly independent part of our financial system."

Total Assets have now passed $3½ billion mark

K. M. Sedgewick, General Manager, noted that not only had the assets of the Royal Bank reached the imposing total of $3,760,544,617, but that mortgages under the National Housing Act had increased by more than $36,000,000, reaching a figure of $216,590,000, which represents approximately 38% of the total for all Canadian banks.

Mr. Sedgewick reported the year's net profits at $13,919,550, an increase of 11.6% over the previous year, and that capital funds now stand at more than $202,000,000. "The Balance Sheet confirms that the cash position of the bank is strong," he said. "Assets in this form, coupled with Canadian Government Treasury Bills and Day-to-Day Loans represent 22.5% of the bank's aggregate liabilities to the public."

"Because of the period of so-called digestion through which we are now passing," remarked Mr. Sedgewick, "we look for no particular increased demands from industry as a whole, but we wish to emphasize that the real needs of our credit-worthy customers, small or large, are of concern to us, and are needs which will be satisfied within the limits of our ability."

Discussing the bank's extensive building and renovation program, Mr. Sedgewick reported that the bank now operates a system of 821 branches in Canada and 82 abroad — a total of 903, representing an increase of 31 during the past year. Included among new branches was one established at Frobiisher Bay, the first Canadian bank to be opened in the Arctic Islands.

ROYAL BANK ABROAD

"Due to experience gained in more than 50 years since our first branch was established abroad, we are well equipped to deal with the peculiarities of international banking," said Mr. Sedgewick. Referring to the British West Indies area where important constitutional developments are taking place, Mr. Sedgewick mentioned that the bank is playing a part in assisting in the economic growth of this newly developing member of the Commonwealth family. He also spoke of the unusual opportunities which exist for young men with the aptitude and desire for a career in international banking, pointing out that there are openings in the bank for a select number of such young men each year.

Losses Suffered By Fishermen

A gale which blew into the Westport district early Wednesday morning with winds of 70 miles and higher gusts, gave the Westport fishermen another heavy blow and left them with little gear to continue operations. Before the fishermen had a chance to haul their traps at the beginning of the season, gales broke up hundreds of traps, and as one gale has followed another throughout the entire season, the loss has mounted to thousands of dollars. Some fishermen report losses as high as eighty-five per cent.
A fishing boat owned by Mr. Bernard MacDormand broke away from its moorings and went ashore, breaking up in the mountainous waves. A number of fishermen rushed to the scene and were able to rescue the engine, dishes, etc., but within an hour or so the boat was in pieces.
Lobster fishermen at Church

Point and vicinity also were struck a hard blow by the heavy gale last Wednesday. Some fishermen lost over half of their lobster traps and are hauling up remaining traps until spring it is reported. A few will continue fishing, combining their traps so as to have enough to make the return worthwhile.
The first gale did not damage the traps as extensively but with fishing weather being only fair during the month of December they will not receive the revenue from lobster fishing that was expected.
It is the custom to haul up the lobster traps during the months of January and February, the months when heavy winds prevail and make fishing hazardous.
The gravel bar, that forms at the end of the wharf entrance, was removed several times this winter but the heavy swells bring the gravel back and a bar seven to ten feet high forms stretching across the entrance channel. This has been removed by tractor loaders and trucks from time to time so as to enable the lobster fishermen to leave and enter the wharf.

Cornwallis Base Donates Blood

The personnel of HMCS Cornwallis rolled up their sleeves and gave five hundred and sixty-eight pints of blood to the Red Cross Wednesday and Thursday. On this occasion many of the willing were turned away because of slight colds, but they received a polite "Thank you very much anyway".
The Red Cross Blood Donor Service, which visits the New Entry Training Establishment twice yearly depends largely on these big clinics to maintain their supplies. Since the base was re-opened in the spring of 1949, twenty clinics have been held with a total number of fourteen thousand, one hundred and thirty-nine pints of blood being donated by the Civilian and Naval Personnel.

VOLUME LXXXIV, No. 21

Municipal Tax Collections Up

Tax collections in Digby Municipality of 94.1% of current levy were reported by Municipal Warden H. E. Chisholm in his address to the opening session of the Digby Municipal Council here Tuesday afternoon. This is an increase of more than 2% over last year, the Warden stated.

Mr. Chisholm stated that J. D. Hubley, of Bridgewater, has already started on a revision of the assessment in Digby Municipality, and it is hoped this will be completed for use by the Council in 1960.

Commenting on economic matters, the Warden stated there is at present "quite a recession in the production of lumber and pulp". He expressed the hope this was only a recession, but stated it was having a severe effect on the economy of the area. He said the lessening of activity in forest production affected the labour market in that men required to peel, haul, prepare for shipment and truck pulpwood and lumber to the ports of the county were no longer required for this work.

Warden Chisholm commended the efforts of the Nova Scotia Agriculture Federation in promoting an abattoir for the province. This development, he said, would be most beneficial to the farmers and should attract their full support.

Speaking on the matter of education, the Warden stated the Council was spending considerable of its efforts on the matter of education. This denotes progress, he said, for if we are to keep abreast of affairs in the world today we must, like the farmer, with his cultivating, continue to educate.

The matter of education, however, is complicated by cost, he said, and this is receiving close attention by all levels of government. Speaking of the local situation he stated the municipality is now well served with educational institutions both at the primary and high school levels. The only exception to this, he stated, is an area between Digby and Weymouth, where action must be taken to remedy over-crowding in present accommodations.

Annual Bridge Held

The annual bridge sponsored by the Ladies' Hospital Aid, was held at the nurses' residence on Monday evening.

Ten tables of bridge were in play and three tables of canasta, with prizes for bridge going to Mrs. Edward Twobig, high, and Mrs. Gordon Turnbull, low. The canasta prizes were won by Mrs. Carl Watkins, high, and Mrs. Arthur Robinson, low.

On the committee in charge of the entertainment were Mrs. Joyce Anderson, Mrs. James Ayer, Mrs. D. G. Black and Miss Gertrude Budrow.

E. C. Plow Takes Up New Duties

Lieutenant Governor E. C. Plow and Mrs. Plow moved into Government House after Mr. Plow, a Vermont-born soldier who headed Canada's Eastern Army Command for the last seven years, was sworn in as the new lieutenant governor for the province of Nova Scotia on Wednesday before members of the provincial government and other dignitaries.

The ceremony took place at 10 a.m. in the Red Chamber of Province House with Right Hon. J. L. Isley, chief justice of Nova Scotia, performing the ceremony. The proclamation of the vice-regal appointment was read by C. L. Beazley, deputy provincial secretary.

The ceremony began when the newly-appointed lieutenant-governor was escorted to the throne in the Red Chamber by Rear Admiral H. F. Pullen, RCN, Colonel F. Clifford, Canadian Army, Air Commodore Martin Costello, RCAF, Assistant Commissioner Joseph Howe, RCMP, and their aides.

(Please turn to page 5)

Mrs. Harold Trask and daughters, Sharon and Debby, arrived Friday from Temagami, Ont., to spend several months with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trask. Harold is taking a course in the U.S.A. after which he and his family will take up residence in Nova Scotia.

Grace United Holds Annual

The annual congregational meeting of Grace United Church of Canada was held on Wednesday, January 15, 1958, at 8 o'clock in the Church Hall. There was an excellent attendance and all the Boards and various organizations were well represented. Devotions were conducted by the Rev. J. Brooks who acted as chairman. Mr. Milton Atkinson was elected secretary for the meeting. Annual reports of the different boards and organizations were presented and showed good progress and encouraging results. During the year contributions were made to Mount Allison University Fund, Berwick Camp Meeting, Mount Allison Theological Society and other worthy causes. The report of the annual appeal for the Bible Society showed very generous response on the part of the Bay View and Digby congregations. Warm appreciation was expressed by the meeting to the Board of Stewards and Mr. H. C. Morton for the production of the printed annual report for 1957 and endorsed similar action for 1958.

The following men were appointed to the Board of Stewards: Mr. Russell Stonghouse and Mr. Reigh Jayne. Re-elected for another term were Dr. D. G. Black, Mr. C. V. Snow, Mr. Hugh Dickie and Mr. Milton Atkinson. Auditors appointed for 1958 were Mr. H. C. Morton and Mr. C. V. Snow. Mr. Reginald Turnbull was elected to represent the Church on the Film Council.

The chairman informed the meeting that Church College Sunday would be observed on February 2nd when the usual special offering would be taken up. The report of the Missionary & Maintenance Fund was given by Mr. Elton Arnold and indicated that the givings in 1957 were the largest in the history of the churches at Bay View and Digby. The chairman spoke of the need for this worthy fund and commended the pastoral charge for its efforts during the past year.

Miss Connie Kirkpatrick was appointed organist for 1958 and the meeting expressed its deep appreciation for her splendid work. Mrs. Ina Dillon was appointed representative for the "United Churchmen" and Rev. Brooks for the "United Church Observer."

Following a short program by the choir refreshments were served by members of the Ladies' Aid of the church.

Plan March Of Dimes Campaign

The annual March of Dimes campaign in Digby County is being planned. Within a few days collection envelopes will be distributed to all the schools of the county and plans for the Porch Light canvass in Digby, which is scheduled for February 3rd, are well underway.

Victor Cardoza, chairman of the campaign, stated that, despite the introduction of Salk vaccine, there is still great need for funds raised through the March of Dimes appeal.

In Nova Scotia alone, he said, there are some 940 people who need assistance in their rehabilitation from the effects of polio attacks.

While it may be true to say that Salk vaccine has licked polio so far as protecting people against it, the new vaccine has not provided a cure nor has it been of assistance in rehabilitating former victims. Proper therapy, equipment, supplies, special footwear and other like supplies are all needed to aid in this work as well as the efforts of qualified instructors and helpers in this field.

To Head Civil Defence

Ralph O. Wright, President of the Digby Branch of the Canadian Legion, who has been named by Mayor Gordon Turnbull as Civil Defence Co-ordinator for Digby, appeared before the Trade Board meeting Tuesday, seeking cooperation of the board in the civil defence effort.

Mr. Wright stated within three weeks he expected a full committee would be set up for the town.

Assure Firm Of Co-operation

Assurances of co-operation with the lumber firm of Rudolf Van der Walde (Canada) Ltd. were given here today by Mayor Gordon R. Turnbull and members of the Digby Town Council at a special meeting of the Council convened to meet with Mr. Rudolf Van der Walde, president of the firm.

Mr. Van der Walde was introduced to the meeting by the Hon. M. S. Leonard who stated that the Van der Walde firm had taken over the assets of the former owners of the H. T. Warne Ltd. firm and wanted to continue business here.

Mr. Leonard stated it was his hope the new firm could be induced to expand their business operation here and said this would require co-operation which he hoped would be forthcoming.

In his remarks to the Council Mr. Van der Walde said it had been his original intention to close out the operation here but after representations from Mr. Leonard he had decided to try to get international business through his offices in Europe. He had been successful in this, he said, and had shared some of this business with other lumber firms in the area.

Visiting here today, Mr. Van der Walde said, he had inspected the property with officials of his firm and discussed the need for rebuilding part of the plant and installing new machinery. He had been greatly disturbed, however, to learn

Tragedy At Bear River

Four persons perished in a tragic fire at Bear River early last Wednesday morning. Burned to death in the flames which consumed their home were Mrs. Arnold Banks, 25; her two children, Marilyn, 3, and Barbara, 1, and Mrs. Dorothy Forrester, 46, who stayed with the family.

The fire started in or near the kitchen on the first floor about five a.m. during a wind and rain storm. The high wind threatened nearby buildings of the Digby County Exhibition but firemen from Bear River and Cornwallis naval base confined the blaze to the house.

Mrs. Banks perished trying to save the lives of her two little children. She refused to jump through an upstairs window after waking 14 years old Robert Forrester, son of Mrs. Forrester, who jumped safely and aroused neighbours.

"Mrs. Banks woke me up," Robert said. "I tried to get her out the window with me but she wouldn't come. She turned and went back. I never saw her again."

The boy ran next door to Morris Dunn's and woke him. Mr. Dunn said when he got to the Banks' home the fire was so advanced he could not enter. Robert received a cut on his head and burns, but his injuries were not considered serious.

Mr. Banks, employed as a fireman at the Cornwallis naval base, arrived to find his family and his home gone. He had left home about 11:30 p.m. There was a small fire in the kitchen stove then but "everything seemed in order," he said. His wife and two children were sleeping on the ground floor. Mrs. Forrester and her son were on the second.

Firemen who found the bodies said Mrs. Banks apparently was overcome before she could go downstairs again after waking young Forrester.

The tragedy was the fourth in three years to strike the Banks' family. Three years ago Carman Banks, father of Arnold, died shortly after a fall. Two years ago, Elton, Arnold's brother, was killed while cutting lumber when a tree fell on him.

Harry Ellis of the Cornwallis fire department, was the second man to arrive on the scene. He said he contemplated going through the window but intense heat and flames made this impossible. The blaze was fanned by winds described as "terrific."

An inquest into the terrible tragedy was held in Digby Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Arnold Banks was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Mailman, of Lequille, Annapolis County.

Digby Fire Department Holds Annual

Elected Board President

Vincent G. Snow was elected President of the Digby Board of Trade at the annual meeting of the Board here Tuesday evening. He succeeds Chester M. Levy, who has headed the board for the past year. Reigh Jayne was elected Vice President.

Committee heads elected at the meeting include J. J. Brittain, Civic Affairs; Victor Cardoza, Tourist; A. G. Gilliat, Labour; James Richards, Entertainment; John Russell, Property; Charles McBride, Transportation; S. C. Denton, Welfare and Education; H. M. Warne, Industrial; Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Publicity; C. D. Snow, Fisheries; H. C. Morton, Finance; Edgar Chan, Membership.

In his report retiring President C. M. Levy reviewed the activities of the Board over the past year. A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Norman D. Wright for his efforts in bringing about the publication of a tourist folder for the town, which received wide circulation.

Urges Civil Defence Effort

The urgent need for the setting up of committees to co-ordinate the work of civil defence at the municipal level was stressed by Major George Boggs, provincial Coordinator of Civil Defence, at the opening session of the annual meeting of the Digby Municipal Council here Tuesday afternoon.

Major Boggs asked the Council to appoint a committee to deal with the matter of civil defence in this area and also urged the appointment of a local coordinator who could act as a liaison between the provincial organization and the local.

In his address Major Boggs stated the work of civil defence in this province was being hampered by a lack of knowledge of the urgency and importance of the effort. Although considerable progress has been made here, he said, Nova Scotia is behind the other provinces in the field of civil defence. He stated he hoped efforts over the next six months would result in a marked change in the attitude of the people of the province to civil defence.

In order to bring about this change Major Boggs said there would be included a considerable sum of money in the provincial budget this year for publicity for civil defence. A bill would also be introduced in the legislature dealing with civil defence.

Although there are thirteen target areas in Canada, Major Boggs said, there is no locality which cannot now or in the future be hit. It is vitally necessary therefore that the civilian population be trained and informed about what to do if this happens. We cannot take a chance, he said, if war comes it will come suddenly and there will be little if any time to prepare. A chain of command must be developed, he said, so that a properly working organization can swing into action if it is needed. Civil defence is a dual effort, he stated, and can operate in any major disaster whether as a result of enemy attack or otherwise.

The Digby area would most likely be a reception area, Major Boggs stated, in the event of enemy bombing. If, however, Saint John were bombed this district might be in the path of radioactive fallout if the wind direction and velocity was in this direction. There is a real need, he said, to have the people of this district informed.

At the annual meeting of the Digby Fire Department George Humphrey was re-elected Chief and Reginald Turnbull, President, for the coming year. Other officers of the Department include Arthur Handspiker, Deputy Chief; Tom MacInnis, Capt. No. 1 Company; Tom Cleveland, Capt. No. 2 Company; Buddy Barr, Lieut. No. 1 Company; James Wamback, Lieut. No. 2 Company; Gregg Gilliat, Vice-president; Tom Cleveland, Secretary-Treasurer. Appointment of committees for the year was left to the executive. At the meeting reports were received from the different committees and officers for the year's work.

The Chief's report gave a total of sixty-two calls being answered for the year which included many types of fires from chimney and grass fires to dwellings and the hospital. In summing up these calls, the report showed that there were two calls for automobiles, one television fire, three house fires, one apartment, and the hospital, along with the usual number of chimney fires. The estimated damages for these fires was approximately $5,500.00. These calls did not include still alarms for various incidents. The Chief referred to the dangerous fire hazard existing in the south end of town on the property now being operated by the Van der Walde Company, which has been a headache to all fire officials of the town and the Fire

Purple & White Hi-lites

The Digby Forum was the scene of an exhibition game between the D.R.H.S. hockey team and the school team from Middleton on the afternoon of January 18.

Time limit of one hour was placed on the playing time, as the rink was to be used for skating. At the game's end the final score was 6-1 in favor of Middleton. Digby's only goal was scored by Rennie Turnbull, during the second period.

The basketball game, originally scheduled for the high school gym on January 17 was cancelled because of a reshuffling of the Annapolis Valley West Students' Congress League schedule.

DR. MCCLAVE HONORED

On Monday afternoon of this week the staff and students of the Digby Public Schools assembled in the high school auditorium to pay tribute to Dr. J. R. McCleave, who is retiring as chairman of the School Board after many years of faithful service.

Mr. Purdy, in his opening words, said, "We are here to pay tribute to the Doctor for all he has done for our staff and student body." During the remainder of his address Mr. Purdy praised Dr. McCleave highly for the active interest he has always taken in the welfare of our schools. He also expressed the hope that the Doctor might reconsider his present retirement from the Board or that he would again offer his services in the future.

Student Council president, Keith Churchill, in a brief speech assured Dr. McCleave that the student body appreciated the time and energy that he, in spite of a busy professional life, had devoted to their interests.

Mr. Purdy presented Dr. McCleave with a silver tray which is to bear the inscription "In appreciation, Staff of Digby Public Schools, Students' Council D.R.H.S."

Speaks At Board Annual

Hon. E. A. Manson, Nova Scotia's Minister of Trade and Industry and Minister of Mines, was guest speaker at a combined meeting of the Boards of Trade of Digby County, Service Clubs and other organizations, at the Hotel Champlain here Tuesday evening. Some one hundred and fifty attended the gathering which was presided over by C. M. Levy, President of the Digby Board of Trade.

A welcome to Digby was voiced by Mayor Gordon R. Turnbull, who stated in his address that Digby was in a serious economic condition. Over the past few years, he said, we have lost most of our industries and only recently two wood product concerns have ceased buying wood. A recent layoff at the wharf here and the uncertain future of the Digby Pines Hotel all add up to a very poor picture, the Mayor said. Speaking of the Pines Hotel he said the government should find someone to take it over or operate it along with the other CPR hotels themselves. Digby is more or less a depressed area, he concluded.

Hon. M. S. Leonard, MLA for Digby and provincial Minister of Education, in introducing the guest speaker said everyone shared the Mayor's concern for the economy of the area which, he said, had been slipping for some years. Mr. Leonard stated we could take some comfort in that we are not alone, other rural areas have also suffered due to the international situation which has affected markets for our wood products.

In his introductory remarks Mr. Leonard assured the meeting the government was alive and awake to the problems and he outlined steps being taken to assist the municipalities through relief from certain taxation burdens, highway construction and other measures.

In the past year Comrade Wright said, more service work had been carried on by the branch than before. He paid tribute to the efforts of Patrick J. Comeau, retiring treasurer, who has left for Halifax, and Bryson Denton, former Secretary of the branch. These two men, he said, had worked unceasingly for the good of the branch and their efforts were greatly appreciated.

The splendid success of the "Heart for Billy" fund, sponsored by the Digby branch of the Legion, was commented upon by the President in his report. He stated everyone had been cheered that the drive was successful and that it had made possible saving the life of young Billy Patterson.

Mr. Wright stated the branch was still working toward securing its own building and negotiations to this end were being carried out.

An enjoyable evening was spent in playing games and, as the evening progressed, Section Maintenance Foreman, A. E. Hawkins, presented Mr. Marshall with a briefcase. Chief Operator Miss Evelyn Mount presented Mrs. Marshall with a lovely Nova Scotia tartan necklace. The whole group then expressed their well wishes and the evening closed with refreshments served by Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. Hoare.

On Wednesday last week the members of the Department held a social evening for all members with their wives or lady friend, with the guest entertainment being supplied by Mrs. Frances Peters and dancers, which was greatly enjoyed by all. The delicious supper was prepared by members of the Department and served by the officers, after which the officers and wives were served by some of the members. Other entertainment was supplied by the companies and the Salvage Corps, which all proved to be excellent. This was the first such social event the department has had for the complete department at one time and proved to be a tremendous success.

About This and That

Avoid Winter Accidents

Seven "do's" and "don't's" to avoid wintertime accidents were suggested today by St. John Ambulance National Headquarters:

1. Don't warm up a car in a closed garage. (Always open the doors fully so carbon monoxide gas can escape).
2. Don't sit in a closed car with the engine running if you get stuck in a storm. (Open windows enough to be sure plenty of fresh air enters — cold air is better than carbon monoxide poisoning).
3. Don't ski or skate alone. (A companion can watch for signs of frostbite, can save your life if you're injured).
4. Don't rub frostbitten fingers, toes, face, ears or other parts of the body with snow. (Warm them gradually with body heat — for instance, put frozen fingers under the armpit, cover frostbitten face or ears with the gloved hand).
5. Don't leave furnace repairs undone. (Fire and noxious gas are two of the worst winter killers — repairs in time to a heating system can save a life. Use artificial respiration on persons overcome by gas after they have been removed from danger).
6. Don't let children play on thin ice. (Warn them of the dangers).
7. Don't leave icy walks unattended. (Keep a box of sand or ashes handy — a fall on ice can mean serious injury).

New Interest In Hockey

With the opening of the new arena at St. Anne's College, Church Point, a new interest has been created in hockey in Digby County. The St. Anne's team, which has previously made a good showing in hockey without home facilities for practice, will, undoubtedly be spurred to new successes under the inspiration of new and ideal practicing conditions. The ice surface of the new arena is of good size and spectator accommodation thought to be adequate. Sufficient lighting is one of the most satisfactory accommodations in the new and fine structure. St. Anne's can well be proud of their new arena and congratulations are extended to them. It will stand as a monument to the enthusiasm, co-operation and sport-spirit of superiors, teaching staff and students of St. Anne's College, for it was the combination of these traits, coupled with hard work, which made the new arena possible, a fine example to be followed not only in the field of sport but by people exercising in any community effort.

Another lift to the interest of hockey fans here has been the introduction of international hockey rules and the formation of a new Western Valley Independent Hockey League. Captain Marcel Jette, well known in Digby because of family relations, as well as his connection with H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, has been called father of the new league since he came up with the suggestion first to adopt the international rules in order to offer more protection from injuries to the players.

With the fine arenas at Cornwallis, Digby and Church Point, all within convenient transportation distance, energetic officials and revived leadership and eager teams, there is no reason why 1958 should not be a banner year for hockey in this area. Public support seems to be the only ingredient remaining to be added to the recipe for "Banner Hockey Year."

JOHN the march of dimes

Report From Parliament Hill

By George C. Nowlan

The outstanding political event of the week, of course, was the Liberal Convention at the Colliseum at Ottawa. For three days the galleries of the House of Commons, as well as the restaurant and the corridors of the House of Commons were crowded with Liberal delegates, who apparently preferred to watch the House of Commons in action, rather than to listen to the speeches in the Colliseum. The result, of course, was as expected, although many thought that the Honourable Paul Martin might poll more votes than he did. Since all I know of the Liberal Convention was what I saw on television and read in the newspapers, I certainly am not in a position to comment further on it.

However, the political problems raised by the Convention which I suggested in this column last week are very much to the fore today. Everyone is wondering what the new leader is going to do on Monday and Tuesday, when presumably a vote of confidence will be presented to the House. The Liberal Opposition will have the first chance to move the vote of confidence in the form of an amendment. If they fail to do so, there can be little doubt but that the C.C.F. Party will. It is known that the Liberal Party is badly split on the matter. There are those who feel that its virtual abdication in the House of Commons during the past few months has done the Party irreparable harm, and that it must recover its position immediately. This is all the more true when a new leader has just been elected, presumably for the purpose of leading the Party to victory. On the other hand, there are many others who feel that time is absolutely essential to effect organization, and that at all costs the Party must avoid creating the situation where an election is inevitable. This problem will have been solved before anyone reads this column, because the answer will come on Tuesday night, if not before, so at this point there is no purpose to be served in discussing it further.

What many people cannot understand is how political feelings can be strongly held and forcibly expressed without interfering with personal relationships. There was an excellent example of that on Friday morning. The House met at eleven o'clock. It was known that Mr. Pearson would not make an appearance until Monday morning. However, shortly after the House opened, the Honourable Paul Martin walked in and took his seat. He looked rather tired and pale and obviously was feeling the same way, after his strenuous campaign of the last few weeks and his disappointment of the preceding night. But the whole House admired him for the fight he had put up, the speeches he had made at the Convention, and the courage he had shown in facing almost impossible odds. The traditional way of showing appreciation or applause in the House of Commons is for Members to tap their desks, sometimes lightly, sometimes very forcibly. I think as Paul took his seat, almost every Member of every Party pounded his desk forcibly and at length. The thunder that rolled up from all the desks tops was the tribute of the House to a Member whom they respected and liked, although with whom many of them had, and would again, cross swords in the political arena.

The Prime Minister was absent from the House virtually the whole week. The other day he stepped down onto a gravel driveway and the pebble under his foot rolled, throwing him backwards, and causing him to wrench his back. As he said, rather wryly, it was a good thing that he never took a drink, or someone might suggest that he had been intoxicated. Anyway, it has been a painful injury, and one which required almost complete inactivity, in order to enable the muscle to recover from the injury. It is hoped that he will be back in the House of Commons on Monday, but undoubtedly he will have some discomfort for some considerable time yet to come.

In the meantime, most of the time of the House has been spent debating the Agricultural Bill. For some reason, the C.C.F. Party seems determined to almost filibuster this legislation. Possibly they feel that the Government wants that legislation enacted before it goes to the Country, and that therefore every delaying tactic is justified. If it can postpone the possibility of an election. On the other hand, if they carry their obvious filibuster too far, it possibly could provoke the Government into going to the Country in order to have the matter resolved. The Bill certainly does not contain all of the measures, all of the proposals which are found in American farm legislation. But it does give the farmers a guaranteed base price for his products, and puts agriculture in a much stronger position than ever before. I doubt very much if our farmers want to have legislation such as is operative in the United States, which, although giving money to the farmers at the moment, is creating tremendous surpluses and in the end, may bring disaster to the whole agricultural economy.

Certainly there is no danger of our Bill doing that. And yet, on the other hand, it is a measure which has the support of all Agricultural organizations, and should be enacted at once, so as to benefit the farmers during the coming year.

The House also this week passed the legislation providing for the establishment of thermal power plants in the Maritime Provinces. The Members from Newfoundland put up a strenuous fight to have this legislation extended to hydro plants, which they thought would be of special benefit to Newfoundland. Actually, however, the Government of Newfoundland has already conveyed approximately 90% of its available power sites to private interests, and private interests cannot benefit under this Bill. Therefore there was no purpose to be served in extending the legislation to hydro plants to the benefit of Newfoundland, which could not profit by it, and it would create difficulties in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick where there are both privately owned and publicly owned hydro plants. The Government, therefore, resisted this pressure, and the Bill is confined entirely to the establishment of thermal power plants in the Maritimes.

This, also, should be pointed out. It is confidently expected that this legislation will reduce the cost of power substantially, by providing subsidies for the generation of power. However, the benefits of this reduced cost are to be passed on to industrial users only. In other words, the domestic price of electrical energy will not be affected by the legislation. I think that people in the Maritimes generally will approve of this. The domestic rates are not unduly high, and everyone has been anxious to see an industrial development in the Maritimes. By limiting these benefits to industry only, it should enable a much greater industrial development to take place than otherwise would have been the case. If this does happen, and I am confident that it will — over a period of years — then our population should increase and domestic rates will come down in any event.

Before the next column for this paper is written, we will know more about the uncertain political future, than we know at the present.

Build a better mousetrap, they say, and the world will... well you know how it goes.

Besides mousetraps, people have been trying to build better motor cars since the day they were invented. Better accessories too, and some of them have been used and some have been pretty weird.

I've saved the stories of a few over the years. In 1952, for instance, a man in Miami, Florida, got a patent on a dandy idea for a windshield wiper. His windshield (on paper) rolled back and forth into the top of the car, cleaning itself by its own motion.

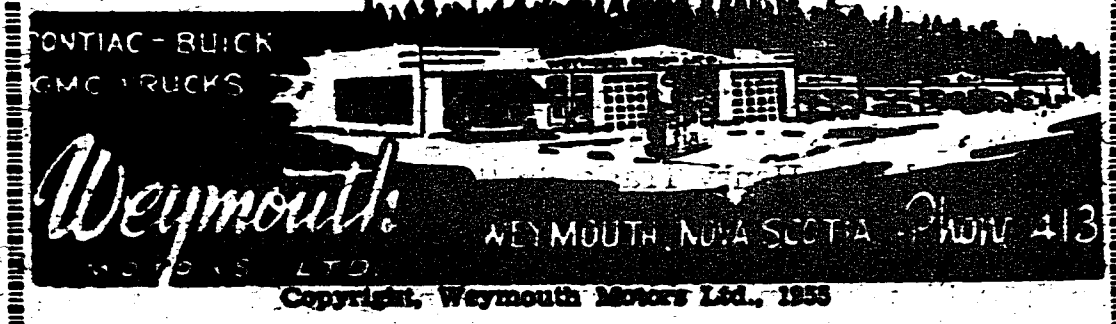

Inventions to cut down skidding have been another favorite of the amateur engineers, the most common idea being to sprinkle sand in front of the rear wheels.

The first invention of this kind was put on paper well before 1915, and well before snow tires and other special treads were developed. The latest device like this was patented in March of 1954. At least they keep on trying (and they don't seem to mind how much all that sand would weigh.)

Another patent was issued for a mechanism that would spring between the windshield and the driver as soon as he had a collision. A safety belt would be a lot simpler and safer.

Out of a host of inventions, some of them sound and some of them zany, have come today's improved cars, accessories and optional equipment. The thing that surprises so many people is that a lot of this safety and luxury equipment is on cars a few years old, cars that won't break your budget to buy. A quality used car, serviced by us all its life, is certainly a good buy these days.

floor-length princess style gown of white chiffon with a rose lace, panel front and matching bolero. A bow of white chiffon accentuated the back of the dress. A beautiful lace headpiece studded with rhinestones held her chapel veil in place. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

Phyllis Rasmussen, of Prince George, was bridesmaid and wore a yellow ballerina-length chiffon dress with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of blue carnations. Loraine Relia was the bride's other attendant and wore a blue ballerina-length chiffon dress with matching accessories, and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

Martin Phillips, of Prince George, was best man and Grant Taylor, brother of the bride, ushered.

Miss Emily D'Andrea sang "Because" during the signing of the register.

Receiving the guests was the bride's mother, Mrs. Don Gillyean, who was attired in a dark green crepe back satin afternoon frock. She wore mauve accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Smith — Everett

The Victoria Beach Baptist Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on December 28, 1957, at 4 p.m., when Gloria Eileen Everett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orbin Everett, was united in marriage to Mr. Chester Joseph Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Smith, of Freeport, Digby Co.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. John McLeod, assisted by Rev. Robert W. Lindsay.

The bride looked beautiful as she entered the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage. Her wedding gown was a ballerina length gown of white silk with nylon net bolero with long pointed sleeves of nylon net. Her finger tip veil, made of silk and bordered with lace, fell from a tiara of sequins and pearls. Her jewellery consisted of pearl necklace and earrings to match. She carried a white Bible trimmed with white satin ribbon and rosebuds.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Clinton Everett, of Bear River, sister-in-law of the bride. She was dressed in pink nylon lace over taffeta.

The bridesmaids were Rose Marie Foley and Lorna Ryan, both dressed in ballerina length gowns of blue nylon net and lace and matching headresses.

Little Brenda Ann Everett, niece of the bride, who was flower girl, was dressed in pink nylon. Each carried nosegays.

The bride's mother wore a dress of blue figured taffeta with pink corsage, and the mother of the groom was dressed in blue lace over taffeta.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Robert W. Lindsay. During the signing of the register the choir sang "The Lord's My Shepherd."

The best man was Malcolm Everett and ushers were Dale Caswell, of Granville Ferry, and Douglas Foley.

Miss Yvonne Smith, of Freeport, sister of the groom, was in charge of the guest book.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride for 100 guests when silver candle holders held the lighted candles, and the usual wedding decorations festooned the table adorned with the traditional wedding cake.

Mrs. Charles Taylor and Mrs. Roy Casey presided over the tea cups and assisting in serving were Mrs. Fred Ryan, Mrs. Alvin Ellis, Mrs. James Everett, Mrs. Walter Haynes, Mrs. LeRoy Haynes, Mrs. Howard McGrath and Barbara Ryan.

The couple received a large number of beautiful gifts, including blankets, linens, glass, china, silver and money. During the evening they received telegrams from friends in the USA.

Many friends join in wishing the popular young couple many years of happiness.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hedgepath, of N. J.; Mrs. R. Longmire, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Charlton and daughter and Miss Dora Charlton, of Millford; Mrs. Stewart Mills and Mrs. Cory Cummings, of Granville Ferry; and several from Port Royal and Port Wade.

Obituaries

Archibald James Amero

The long and colorful career of a well known hunter and trapper, Archibald James Amero, came to an end last week when he died of a heart attack at his home in Plympton.

A neighbour, noticing no smoke from the chimney of Mr. Amero's home for some time and none of the usual signs of activity around the place, went to investigate and found Mr. Amero dead. Coroner C. C. Nicholl of Weymouth decided no inquest was necessary.

Eighty-two years of age, Mr. Amero had followed the woods nearly all his life time. He was a familiar figure to many hunters who visited the woods near his hunting and trapping camps and he often regaled them with stories of wild-life in the woods of this area.

He leaves to mourn two daughters and a son, Thomas, in Weymouth. The funeral service was held from the Nicholl Funeral Home in Weymouth on Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. R. N. Deveau officiated.

Mrs. Evangeline LeBlanc

The funeral of Mrs. Evangeline LeBlanc, 88, was held at Church Point on Monday morning with services at St. Mary's R. C. Church.

Mrs. LeBlanc resided with her daughter, Mrs. Rueben (Anne Marie) Doucet at Weaver's Settlement, where she passed away on Friday, January 3, after a long, lingering illness.

She resided at Church Point until several years ago.

She was a devout Catholic.

She leaves to mourn her five sons, Prof. Joseph LeBlanc, Chicago, Ill.; Edward of Malden, Mass.; Simon of Somerville, Mass.; Bernard of Little Brook, N.S.; and Ben, at the old homestead; and two daughters, Mrs. Ruben Doucet, Weaver's Settlement, and Mrs. Matilda Thibodeau of Everett, Mass.

Her husband predeceased her 20 years ago.

Karl Brooks

Karl Austin Brooks, son of Mrs. A. H. Brooks and the late Mr. Brooks, Weymouth, passed away at the City Hospital, Sydney, on Sunday after a short illness.

Mr. Brooks, 61, was a prominent business man in Sydney since 1946 being owner-manager of Liptons Supply Company and was widely known in the area.

He lived at Weymouth most of his life and also resided in Edmonton, Alta., for 14 years and in Liverpool, N. S. He served overseas three years with the army in World War One. He is survived by his wife, Sarah, a daughter, Jean (Mrs. Ernest Cassels), Victoria; his

Dr. McCleave, in expressing his thanks said the presentation, as well as the entire ceremony, was a complete surprise to him. He also said he was deeply grateful for the tributes being paid to him although he felt he was being given more credit than he deserved. In closing the students sang "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow," and then gave three cheers in Dr. Mc-Cleave's honour, followed by thunderous applause.

Lieutenant-Commander G. B.
Wither, RCN, aide-de-camp to His Honor, read the commission signed on behalf of Her Majesty the Queen by the Secretary of State for Canada, Hon. Ellen Fairclough.
A soldier for 30 years, the former Major-General had received the C.B.E. and D.S.O. at Buckingham Palace from the late King George VI whom he met several times. He was twice mentioned in despatches and was made a Commander of the Order of Orange Nassau by the Netherlands government.
He also wears the C.D.
He served in many parts of Canada and from 1948-50 he was Commander of Canadian Army
Liaison Establishment in London, England. Here he was constantly in touch with senior members of the British forces and the Corps Diplomatique.
His postwar travels have taken him to most of the non-Com-

One of his big jobs as GOC

CIVIL DEFENCE

and prepared to handle any eventuality. The only way this can be effectively done is through local effort working in conjunction with provincial and federal civil defence authorities.
On the effectiveness of the work of civil defence may depend the survival of the Canadian people in the event of war, Major Boggs said. A principle of modern warfare, he said, is to destroy civilian morale and this can be accomplished if the people are not prepared through knowledge of what to expect and how to deal effectively with it.
In his address Major Boggs praised civil defence effort of the town of Liverpool which he said had the best civil defence organization of any community its size in Canada. Liverpool, he said, is prepared now to receive evacuees and cope effectively with any major disaster through its civil defence organization.

St. John Ambulance Fund appeal in Digby. It has been announced. Objective for the fund in Digby is $750.00.

through its 575 member brigade supplies trained first aid workers at many public events

PORT WAIRIA RED CROSS ACTIVE

The Red Cross group met on Thursday evening in the hall. A quilt is now in the frames and ready for quilting; a great demand for these quilts proves our group is doing worthy work and due to so many fires in the province we feel our work is being used for our own native people.

Plans were made to hold a card party in the hall on Friday evening, January 24, to raise money for the Annapolis Hospital to help pay for a new oxygen tent which is much needed.

A good number attended and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Gerald Hudson and Mrs. Owen McGrath.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker Robar and family, of Bridgetown, called on Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Reece on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Avon Wagner were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wright, Waldec East, on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Smith of Bear River were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Jefferson on Sunday.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Sanford on Thursday were Miss June Schmidt and Miss Hazel Purdy, Bear River.

Mrs. George Long, of Clementsvalle, called on relatives here and was a dinner guest of her aunt, Mrs. Margaret Long, on Friday.

Mrs. Arch Milbury, of Bear River, visited her daughter, Mrs. Ralph E. Jefferson, and Mr. Jefferson on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Long and family spent Sunday with the former's sister, Mrs. Whynot, and Mr. Whynot, at Liverpool.

Mrs. John Simpson, of Clementsvalle, visited her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Pierce, on Wednesday.

The Bear River East Mite Society held their annual turkey dinner on Friday evening when the husbands of the members were invited. The ladies' parlor was tastefully decorated with evergreen and red streamers and the table was decorated with red candles in silver holders and red salt and pepper shakers. At 7:30 twenty-three sat down to the table. The girls exchanged gifts, while the president, Mrs. Gladys Wheelhouse, gave each of the boys favors.

You can't go ALL-OUT

If you feel ALL-IN

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "tired-out" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulates the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter.

Remember Me

Little River

(Mrs. Wilfred Trask)

Miss Joan Frost, in training at the Ottawa Civic Hospital, spent part of her Christmas holidays with her father, Mr. Eldred Frost.

Mrs. Ansel Casey, of Port Wade, is spending an indefinite time with her daughter, Mrs. C. T. Olmstead, and Rev. Olmstead.

Mrs. Earl Frost, after spending some time in Tiverton, has returned to her home, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Annie Farnsworth.

Mr. Omer Denton is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Guy Morehouse, and Mr. Morehouse Jr., at Digby.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Graham, of Lake Midway, have rented the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Trask.

Mrs. Garfield Trask and two sons have gone to the U.S.A. to join her husband, where he is employed.

Selling Out Stock

Due to the death of M. J. Gaudet, of the firm of M. J. Gaudet Co., in Weymouth, the business has been taken over by new management under a board of directors.

The entire stock of the store, which was one of the finest stocked in the area, is being sold out to make room for a restocking and remodelling of the premises.

In charge of the selling out of the stock is Mr. J. D. Stone, of Yarmouth, who is well known in this district. Some years ago Mr. Stone carried out a similar sale of stock of the store operated by Miss Grace Fontaine, in Digby. He also carried out the selling out sale of the stock of the George Taylor Company, in Weymouth, in 1939, and also had charge of a similar sale at the Bridgetown Hardware Store. (Adv.)

So easy to make! If you bake at home, make these delectable buns with fast-rising Best Yeast.

Ice Carnival At Cornwallis

The children of Cornwallis are again going to stage an Ice
Carnival in the Cornwallis
Arena with a varied programme of events. This year it is being held on Friday, 31st January, with proceedings getting underway at 7:30 p.m.

the highlights presented by the skaters of the Girls' Figure Skating Club under the able direction of June Rheubottom.
June has trained the girls long and hard for this performance and each skater has come a long way under the guidance of their experienced instructors.

The Costume Parade, which proved such a success in last year's Carnival will be repeated and again all the children are urged to come to the rink in costume and take part. Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes as picked by the judges as the young folk skate around the rink.

Hockey games between the Pee-Wee teams and the older boys' teams will also be featured and the lads can always be counted on to come up with a good brand of hockey. Two well known teams in the base will compete in a broomball game and it has been announced that there is no age limit set for the players.

To make the evening a complete success the Cornwallis Band will be in attendance under the direction of Chief Petty Officer Stitt.

Obituary
Herman Olsen
Funeral service for Herman Olsen, 45, manager of the Chester Branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, and a member of the staff of the Digby Branch for seven years, was held in Digby on Saturday from the Digby Baptist Church. Rev. E. C. Churchill officiated.

Mr. Olsen's death on Wednesday, January 8, due to a heart attack, was sudden and unexpected, and a great shock to his family and many friends.

He was born at New Mills, N. B., a son of Anthony Olsen and the late Mrs. Olsen. He joined the staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Jacquet River, N. B., and then served at Windsor, N.S., Digby, Chester, Campbellton, N.B., Amherst, Chipman, N.B., Saint John.

Mr. Olsen gave valuable co-operation at all times to the organizations for the good of the town where he lived. At Chester he was treasurer of the Chester Red Cross, the Finney Memorial Association; chairman of the Activities Committee of the park and a member of the Chester Legion. He was especially interested in young people's sports and gave freely of his time to supervise and assist them.

He is survived by his wife, the former Jean Weir of Digby; two sons, Bill, 12, Ricky, 11, and one daughter, Barbara, 8; his father, and one sister, Mae (Mrs. Harold Dickie) of Black Point, N. B.

A service was also held at the Chester Baptist Church on Friday with Rev. M. A. Gibson officiating. Interment was in the Baptist cemetery, Digby, where the Digby Branch Canadian Legion conducted a service at the graveside.

A very interesting meeting was held with the C.G.I.T. assisting with the devotional part of the service.

Rossway
(W. R. Comeau)
Mrs. Kenneth Peters spent a few days last week with her daughter, Mrs. Hugh Cook and family, Yarmouth.

Miss Jane Flowers, of Saint John, N.B., who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Harnish, Gulliver's Cove, for the past several weeks, returned to her home on Monday.

Mrs. Hilda Morehouse, Digby, spent a few days last week with her brother, Kenneth Peters, at Gulliver's Cove while Mrs. Peters was visiting in Yarmouth.

The Baptist W.M.S. met last Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Bernard McBride. Six members were present and after the opening Mrs. Douglas Andrews carried out the programme on the missions of Bolivia. Mrs. McBride served refreshments at the close.

The Rossway news correspondent was very much interested in reading about the western tanager seen in Digby a short time ago as she feels certain that she had one in her yard one day in November. The coloring and size fitted the description perfectly. As far as she knows there were two of them and they stayed in the apple trees all one morning. January 23—the robins are still with us.

Mrs. Bacon, of Barton, and Mrs. Ralph McNeill sang a duet at the close of the service.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, after which picture slides of their western trip to western Canada and the United States were screened for their guests by Mr. and Mrs. Shortliffe, which were very interesting.

Mr. Leonard said he was aware there was a large unskilled, unemployed labor force in the area and expressed the hope that municipal authorities would deal favorably with the proposal made by the Nova Scotia Power Commission for the development of the Sissiboo which, he said, would put some four million dollars into circulation in this area over a three or four year period.

In his opening remarks Mr. Manson paid tribute to Mr. Leonard. He complimented those who had arranged the meeting and said he was familiar with Board of Trade work which, he said, was often discouraging. In the final analysis, however, Trade Boards accomplish something each year, he said, and while things may not be so good as you desire, the important thing is "you are in there punching".

Mr. Manson outlined the policy of his department and said basically it was concerned with working with communities for the development and expansion of industry. He said he was not trying to state it was not the government's responsibility but was pointing out organizations such as Trade Boards must take the lead. "When a community has a justifiable case — while the government may not be able to do all the Board wants — the government will listen provided the request is unified and sensible. The government is the protector of the public's money, he said, and must not use it unwisely. He urged that propositions be appraised and if they were found good the organization state their case with vigor. "It is the squeaking wheel which gets the most grease", he said.

Speaking of the tourist industry, Mr. Manson said he could not make any statement about the CPR hotels except to say the government was fully aware of the serious problem and was doing everything possible to assist in bringing about a solution. He said that Tuesday morning he had discussed the matter for an hour with a CPR hotel official.

Speaking of the tourist industry in general Mr. Manson said there is much his department could do to attract tourists to Nova Scotia but once here it is the responsibility of the community to hold them.

The fact there is not enough accommodation in an area does not necessarily mean the government will step in and establish these accommodations. The government will, however, cooperate to do so, he said.

Digby being one of the five entry points in the province is in the first line of battle for the tourist business, he said.

ment generally, he said Nova Scotians must get more of the pioneering spirit that was prevalent in the province 50 or 60 years ago if advancement is to be made here. He said this spirit should become evident in such groups as boards of trade.

If Nova Scotia is to make advancement in industrial development she must keep pace with what is being done elsewhere, he said. Mr. Manson said industrial expansion is the key to raising living standards. The days of doing business in old general store fashion are past, he said.

Boards of Trade and other groups must work together with the government to solve the province's problems. We must make conscientious effort, without undue criticisms or undue jealousies, to work in co-operation with APEC. If this is done, Mr. Manson said, he felt confident we could go forward if we stuck together.

Mr. Manson dealt with the development of Industrial Estates Limited in Nova Scotia. Industrial Estates was set up in the province to encourage and promote industrial expansion in Nova Scotia, he said. It is not wholly a subsidizing scheme, and eventually will become profit making, he said.

In reply to a question, Mr. Manson said his department would be willing to send a field man to assist in carrying out an industrial survey of the Digby County area. A motion was passed at the meeting endorsing this proposal.

Following this inspection the firm had been fined for piling wood on a public street near the plant.

He explained that efforts had been made to burn all shavings each night from his pitwood operation at the mill and this had resulted in the infraction.

His first inclination on learning of the fine, he said, was to order the mill closed and the operations halted as he viewed it as another in a series of aggravations which he stated he had undergone since his connection with the lumber mill here.

Mayor Turnbull stated it was not the intention of the Council to hamper the efforts of the new firm and assured Mr. Van der Walde of full co-operation. He said the town needed all the industry it had and also any new industries that could be secured.

Mr. Van der Walde stated it would not be possible for him to operate the box plant which is part of the former Wayne operation here and that he would be willing to dispose of this to a purchaser provided he could be assured it would be kept in operation to provide employment. He said he could provide markets for the production of such a plant if it were put into operation.

"It is my intention, Mr. Van der Walde said, to continue the mill and yards but there will be no box plant until someone is secured who can run it."

Mr. Leonard stated he had known Mr. Van der Walde for some time and felt he looked with considerable sympathy on this area. He urged close co-operation with the industrial ef-

Marshal's office as well. This hazard has not been improved despite warnings from the provincial Fire Marshal and is termed as the worst fire hazard in the province. It was noted in the report that some fire hazards had been removed in the town including the long disputed Excell Inn property. President Turnbull in his report gave an outline of what had been achieved during the year including the addition of equipment for the protection of ports of the new firm.

Councillor J. W. Christie, chairman of the streets committee, stated the trouble concerning the encumbrance of the street by the Van der Walde firm had arisen because of the fact a water main ran under the section of street upon which wood had been piled. It was also feared snow plows might be impeded in their efforts to clear the street if the wood was allowed to remain.

the men and the addition of members to the newly formed Salvage Corps. The report also showed that fire prevention activities had been carried out with inspections being made in many places, extinguishers checked and fire hazards removed. A clean-up campaign had also been carried out and two contests in the schools for the best posters with prizes being awarded for the best of these. Training was carried out at regular intervals during the year. The president indicated that many community efforts had been carried out which included special traffic and police duty, fire duty during storms, maintaining the gardens at the D. A. R. station and the sponsorship of the local Boy Scouts. Regular sports have been carried in competition with other local sport groups or teams. The most active in these being bowling in which the Department has two teams.

In the treasurer's report, which was a good one for the year, a total of $6623.93 was raised through the year showing a net profit on total operations of $731.03. The main financial efforts were the annual Ice Carnival, Labour Day Fair, the sale of tickets and bingo. In the disbursements side of the ledger it showed that money had been spent for improvements to the quarters in the fire stations for the comfort of the members which included the finishing of a modern kitchen and a recreation room for the members. Both of these efforts have added greatly to the welfare of the members.

The president referred to the loss of the services of Harold Parsons during the year when he was transferred to Kentville. Mr. Parsons was a valuable member of the department and will be greatly missed by all members.

The co-operation of the town council was also commended as was the fire committee of the council and the fire wardens, who all helped to make the operation of the department efficient.

VOLUME LXXXIV, No. 22

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

Accepts Proposal

The first big step taken locally towards bringing about the proposed multi-million dollar power development proposed by the Nova Scotia Power Commission for the Sissiboo River was taken here Saturday morning when the Digby Municipal Council authorized and approved the sale by the Digby County Power Board to the Nova Scotia Power Commission of all production and generating assets of the DCPB for a sum of not less than $250,000.

The sale authorization passed also carried provision for a change in the Digby County Power Board Act permitting the sale and provision for the use of the monies derived for construction and improvement of the remaining facilities of the DCPB. A provision is also contained that surplus monies be properly invested.

Decision of the Council to authorize the sale, which must also be authorized by the Municipal Council of Clare, the Town of Digby and Village of Weymouth before it can be carried out, came following report of negotiations carried on between a committee representing the various local municipal bodies and representatives of the NSPC.

The report given by E. J. Theriault, Q.C., solicitor for the municipality, contained a draft agreement between the NSPC and the Digby County Power Board which was arrived at during the negotiations. Mr. Theriault stated the committee was not recommending the adoption of the agreement but merely passing it on for consideration of the Council. He stated he felt the terms were the "best that could be secured" from the NSPC covering the proposed transaction.

Ends Year With Surplus

The Municipality of Digby ended the year 1957 with an operating surplus of $12,873.34, according to the auditors' statement received by the Municipal Council at its annual session here.

Total revenue of the municipality for the year amounted to $247,450.04. This included taxation revenue of $224,799.57 and contributions, grants and subsidies of $19,918.52.

Expenditures amounted to $234,576.70, which included $109,768.92 for education; $45,346.92 for debt charges; $21,341.93 for social welfare, and $13,179.90 for joint or special expenditure. General government expenses accounted for $17,755.91 and the cost of health services to the municipality amounted to $25,505.00. This included $14,739.27 expended for general hospital care, of which $871.28 was recovered, and $8,701.32 for hospital care for the mentally ill, of which $1,187.72 was recovered. Included in health expenditures was also $1,814.91 for the Digby Municipal Home and $508.50 for transportation of patients.

The Municipal Home operated by the municipality showed a total revenue of $10,184.72, with $3,231.50 received from paying patients and the balance of $6,953.22 from the town of Digby and the municipality. Expenses of the home amounted to $10,184.72, with the largest amount, $1,714.20, going for farm supplies and food. Salaries and wages at the home accounted for $2,690.02.

In the field of education the municipality showed through the operation of the Municipal School Board an excess of revenue over expenses of $15,159.66. Total revenue for the year amounted to $357,208.54, with a surplus of $10,925.56 carried forward from 1956.

Expenditures by the municipal school board for 1957 amounted to $352,974.44. Of this, the largest item, $338,245.35, went for tuition, conveyance and instructional salaries. $8,483.49 was spent for capital debt service charges and $6,245.60 was spent on administration. Net operating costs of the municipally owned school buses for the year amounted to $47,402.50. Of this amount $24,874.17 was spent for wages and salaries, and $23,758.25 was for bus operating expense.

Municipal Tax Rate Increased

The 1958 overall municipal tax rate in the Municipality will be increased by eighty cents per hundred dollars of assessment over the 1957 figure, it was decided by the Municipal Council at their annual session here.

The new overall tax rate for the municipality for 1958 is $12.30 per hundred, as compared with the 1957 figure of $11.50.

The Council at the session adopted the rate in two sections, setting $4.60 as the general municipal rate and $7.70 as the education rate. Last year general rate was $5.05 and the education rate $6.45. Inclusion of school capital debt charges in the education rate was given as an explanation of the increase in this figure over last year.

Estimates for the year 1958 were accepted by the Council at their meeting. These showed an estimated revenue of $60,414.79 for last year. Last year the actual revenue amounted to $30,435.80. Increase in the 1958 revenue figure over that of 1957 is accounted for by the fact $40,083.13 will be received from the provincial government this year as its share of school capital debt charges maturing this year. Last year $15,400.00 was received from the province on this account. Also included in the 1958 revenue estimates is a provincial hospital grant of $6,588.41.

Total estimated expenditures for 1958, including education, amount to $312,618.00. Last year the actual total expenditures amounted to $234,576.70. In 1957 actual education costs amounted to $108,208.92. This year estimated costs for education are $142,704.67.

Accept Dental Hygiene Service

At a meeting of the executive of the Digby Area Home and School on Thursday it was decided to accept an offer issued by W. Gordon Dawson, Director of the Division of Dental Services, Department of Public Health, Province of Nova Scotia to make a Dental Hygiene Service available here. The service is provided with the view of preventing dental diseases. A dental hygienist will be located in the area which includes Shelburne, Yarmouth and Digby counties. The offer to establish dental hygienists to serve certain ages of pre-school and school age children has been favorably received in most parts of the province.

Plans were made to have films on cancer disease shown by the Weymouth group of the Canadian Cancer Society at the March meeting of the Digby Area Home and School.

Mrs. J. M. Wallis reported that there was a general lack of interest in adult education classes in the area so that no classes would be attempted during the present school term. Only thirteen had responded to the letters sent to parents and friends by the Home and School and these responses covered a range of thirteen subjects in either first or second choice.

Several questionnaires dealing with school curriculum, teacher salaries and other pertinent school matters were discussed and findings forwarded to W. B. Hamilton, Weymouth, in preparation for further discussion at the Educational Conference to be held in Ottawa in February.

Take Part In Youth Service

Miss Kaye Ellis and Miss Margaret Black assisted Rev. James Brooks at Grace United Church on Sunday morning at a special service in observance of Youth Sunday beginning Christian Youth Week. Attending the service in a body were the C.G.I.T. group of the church, Mission Band, Explorers, Scouts and Cubs.

Rev. Mr. Brooks based his sermon on the topic "Making Christ's Way Your Way." In main answer to the usual young person's question "Why?" to the subject, he said because Christ is the Saviour he gives power not only to see the good life but to reach it. And to the question "How?" he referred them to the text Follow Thou Me and charged the young people to make a decision for Christ.

The choir sang appropriately "Lord, In The Fullness of My Might."

It was announced that the following Sunday would observe Church College Sunday when the United Church colleges in the Maritimes viz Mount Allison University at Sackville, N. B., and Pine Hill Divinity at Halifax, would be brought to the attention of the congregation. It was also announced that church membership classes would begin February 9th and an invitation was extended to the young people of the congregation to meet with Mr. Brooks on Friday night for the purpose of organizing a Young People's group.

Marks 100th New Year

Although Mrs. Susan Weatherspoon, of Calgary, Alta., has not yet officially reached her 100th birthday, she has seen her 100th New Year.

"She doesn't hesitate to say 'no' and mean it", one of the nurses said. She has three grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Huge Whale Beached

A huge whale has been driven ashore at Cow Ledge at the northern entrance to Grand Passage, near Westport.

The huge mammal was evidently driven on the ledge by the heavy storm during Tuesday night. Because of the rough water local fishermen have not been able to get closer than a quarter of a mile of the whale to estimate its size and species. From a quarter of a mile away, however, the whale looks to be the size of a large boat, it is reported.

Old Organ Made In Annapolis

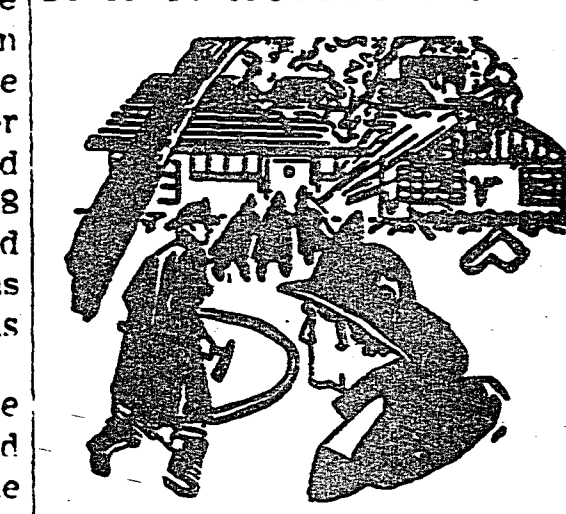

A reminder of the days when the manufacturing of items such as organs, stoves and the like was common in many towns in this province was found by George Bartlett of Deep Brook last week while dismantling an old parlour organ in the Deep Brook school.

Inside the organ was fastened a card stating the organ had been manufactured by the Annapolis Organ Company, Annapolis, N. S.

The card was a form of guarantee and bore the handwritten date of June 28, 1880.

The card was headed "Manufacturer's Certificate and Warranty" and bore the words "This organ, No. 66, is hereby warranted for a term of five years from date and should this instrument with proper care and use, prove defective in material or workmanship within that time, we agree to put the same in good repair at our manufactory or replace it with another of the same capacity."

D. F. D. ACTIVITIES

A meeting of the Digby Firemen's Ice Carnival committee was held at the fire station on Monday evening at which time further plans were made for the presentation of this year's carnival on March 21st. Heads of different committees were chosen and a further meeting will be held in the coming week. Some $3,000 will be given away in prizes at the carnival along with a local prize of $50 which will be drawn by the 1958 princess after she is chosen from the princess contest. The usual costume parade is expected to be an attraction this year and officials have set March 10th as the deadline for entries for this parade due to so much confusion of last minute entries. Clowns and novelty acts will again be a feature as will the skating abilities of our local figure skaters. It is expected that there will be a prominent master of ceremonies from TV circles to take charge of the program.

Plans are now well advanced for the St. John Ambulance (Please turn to page 4)

About This and That

National Health Week

The month of February seems especially designed to make us health conscious. Beginning Sunday, February 2, is National Health Week and the Health League of Canada has placed much material dealing with various phases of health at our disposal for use during the coming week or at our convenience. We are grateful for all the materials of value which come to our hand and often wish The Digby Courier were sizable enough to use most of it. But there is a hitch. The volume of advertising must keep pace with the volume of other copy or we would find ourselves getting into the red side of the ledger more often than we like. All told we think there is enough material of all descriptions coming to this office to issue two daily sheets the size of The Courier. We must pick and choose from the "publicity" according to its worth, to suit the occasion, to meet our own shop conveniences and in relation to its interest value for our readers.

But to get on with the subject.

Health happens to be of interest to everyone and particularly in Nova Scotia this week interest is paramount in the fact that the government has officially announced its intention of entering a national health plan. Then too, the World Health Organization is focusing its attention on health progress achieved throughout the world during the past ten years, the term of its existence. The director-general of this world organization asks all Canadian citizens during National Health Week to reflect on the significance of the past ten years of health progress in the world, to understand his own part in that progress, and to pay tribute to those far-sighted men, Canadians and others, who some ten years ago saw the vast possibilities of international health co-operation.

Both The Right Honourable Vincent Massey and the Honourable J. Waldo Monteith, Minister of National Health and Welfare, are lending their support to the observance of the National Health Week sponsored by the Health League in co-operation with Departments of Health throughout the country. The Right Honourable Vincent Massey in commending the Health League on its program to raise standards of health in Canada and its contribution to the well-being of the nation said "Medical science has put at our disposal a vast amount of knowledge concerning disease and its treatment but this is of little use unless it is translated into practice."

In his statement the Honourable J. W. Monteith said "There can be no doubt that a healthy mind and body is man's most precious possession. But like everything else of value, its achievement involves a good deal of care and effort. Above all, it requires a knowledge not only of healthful living habits but also of the causes and means of preventing sickness and disease. In fact, past experience clearly shows that many of our greatest triumphs over disease would not have been possible but for educational efforts such as those carried out by the Health League of Canada."

With the March of Dimes campaign still in progress in Nova Scotia our attention was directed to the release by the Health League of Canada on the Canadian Foundation for Poliomyelitis. The Foundation has in helping to solve the problems of the many who need their assistance, developed an extensive and flexible program, which includes rehabilitation in all its phases, physical, psychological and economical. They have created and assisted in the formation of centres where these services are made available to polios, as well as others who may derive benefit from them. They provide bursaries for the teaching of technicians, such as physia, occupational and speech therapists. Recently they embarked on a nation-wide educational program, urging adult polio immunization. In this effort they are being assisted by both management and labour and in some provinces by the Departments of Health and Welfare.

In the Nova Scotia chapter much stress is put on rehabilitation. As the incidence of polio decreases, they continue to assist and care for many pre Salk vaccine cases. They also make available transportation facilities for patients to and from treatment centres. These are some of the purposes of the Foundation for Poliomyelitis which demand the support of the public to the March of Dimes.

We would be remiss if we were to neglect here to mention the St. John Ambulance which opens a campaign during the coming week. The St. John Ambulance gives training in First Aid, home nursing and child care, provides ambulance service for indigent patients, staffs first aid post at public events, maintains an emergency "Flying Squad" of trained personnel for disaster work and supplies emergency staff to hospitals as part of its public service work.

The Health League of Canada which sponsors National Health Week gives vigorous support to all health associations and Health Departments. Therefore during the coming week whether there is a V.O.N., hospital or other health institution for mental or physical betterment of the citizens, give some serious thought to what you can do in the matter of promoting both personal and community health. Health is everybody's business. Lend your time and support to all worthy health campaigns for the betterment of self, community and nation.

As equipment becomes available, the new service is being extended to other points throughout the Atlantic provinces.

The Salt-Water Men

By Joseph Schull
(Published by MacMillan of Canada)

A series of books by Canadian authors will soon be complete. Many of the books are already rolling off the presses and a few are still in preparation. The series, called "Great Stories of Canada", is published by MacMillan of Canada, and tells many of the stories which made our nation's history so exciting. Books in the series tell of the Royal Canadian Mounted, the Canadian Armed Forces, the wealth from fur and gold and the sea, of explorers and settlers—all stories of great Canadians and their achievements.

"The Salt-Water Men", the story of Canada's deep sea sailors and the ship they sailed is Joseph Schull's contribution. This book is of special interest to residents of the Maritime Provinces, as this area was the most active region of the seafaring Canadians from the middle of the nineteenth century to the age of iron ships.

Mr. Schull's book is the life story of a number of Canadian built wooden ships and of the strength and determination of the men who built and sailed them, the story of storms of nature and of men. It tells of the birth of the industry of Canadian ship building and the growth of the merchant fleet which was Canada's pride.

Canadian wooden ships were among the greatest to sail the seas. But steel and steam began to grasp the ship trade and wood and sails had to concede to their superiors.

Men and ships alike of this trying era tell their story through the author, himself familiar with the sea through service in the Royal Canadian Navy.

Newspapers Honored By Stamp Issue

A postage stamp to emphasize the significance of the printed word will be issued by the Post Office Department for sale at post offices on Jan. 22, 1958.

The stamp, being printed in black, was designed by A. L. Pollock, Toronto.

The printed word has had an important influence on the lives of Canadians. The most popularly known form of printed communication, the newspaper, is illustrated as the main feature of the stamp. Canadian newspapers have long maintained an enviable reputation in dealing with day-to-day affairs, both in news and editorial form, the postal department says.

This new stamp is being issued also as a tribute to The Canadian Press, the co-operative news-gathering organization which services member newspapers throughout the nation. This non-profit organization has played an important part in fostering national unity and understanding.

HONOR 25 YEARS OF SERVICE & 95th YEAR

The Woman's Missionary So- ciety Auxiliary of the United Church of Canada reported a good year for 1957.

Officers performed their du- ties efficiently and interest was well sustained during the year.

The worship service from the Missionary Monthly was used at each meeting and found on spiritually uplifting with its varied themes and programs.

Missionary books were avail- able at all meetings and mem- bers urged to take home books to read. One hundred and twen- ty books were read. For study at the meetings "East From Burma" and "Cross And Cris- tis" were used. Both books prov- ed interesting to study and up- to date in information. Very fine lessons on stewardship and tem- perance were also given. The book award to our Auxiliary for reading the most books in the Annapolis Presbytery in the past year was received in June and read with interest.

The 95th birthday was ob- served August 26 of our oldest and best loved member, Mrs. W. A. Chute, with cards and a birthday cake.

During the year four very large cartons of good used cloth- ing and new clothing were pack- ed and sent to the overseas re- lief depot at Toronto for dis- tribution.

Besides this work the branch also provided 150 pairs of mittens and 50 pairs of booties for Christmas welfare boxes, layettes and quilts for local welfare. Complete production for the year was some 1,600 articles.

Mrs. Warne paid tribute to the work of Mrs. Oscar Van Tassel, whose efforts she said accounted for over 900 articles of sewing, more than half the grand total. Of these 22 were quilt tops, 12 completed crib quilts and the remainder bolts of material cut and stitched. She also commended Miss Grace Chisholm for her embroidery work and Mrs. Dennis Comeau for the production of 30 knitted baby jackets.

In her report Mrs. Warne also mentioned the loss the branch had suffered in the death of Mrs. Annie Jefferson, who for eighteen years had been a most faithful cutter and knitter. She stated the branch had also suffered a great loss in the death of Mrs. T. E. G. Lynch, honorary president of the branch, who organized the Women's Work committee during the First World War.

Mrs. George Winfield, reporting for the disaster relief and welfare committee, stated over two thousand articles of clothing had been distributed to 28 families in the county during the year. Christmas boxes were provided for 30 families.

The treasurer's report, given by Mrs. B. H. Ruggles, showed total revenue for the year of $623.90. Total expenses amounted to $393.08, leaving a balance of $230.82.

Committees appointed at the meeting include Women's Work & Publicity, Mrs. H. M. Warne, Mrs. R. B. Lent, Mrs. Daniel Comeau, Mrs. Allen Harris; Sewing, Mrs. G. R. Weir, Mrs. Hugh Vincent; Quilting, Mrs. Ellen Stark, Mrs. Orbin Van Tassel, Mrs. Fred Daley; Cutting, Mrs. T. A. Sabean, Mrs. Sydney Hall, Mrs. Eva Fleet, Mrs. Wilfred Comeau; Ways & Means, Mrs. Ralph Berwick, Mrs. Fred Thibault; Disaster Relief, Mrs. George Winfield, Mrs. Daniel Comeau, Mrs. R. Wright; Packing, Mrs. Fred Thibault; Nursing, Mrs. Sydney Smith, Mrs. D. G. Black, Mrs. E. H. Anderson; Sick Room Supply, Mrs. George Winfield, Delbert Forrest; Tea, Mrs. Ralph Berwick, Mrs. George Winfield, Mrs. J. J. Brittain, Mrs. F. J. Thibault; Campaign, Ralph O. Wright; Blood Donor Clinic, Ralph Wright and Digby Fire Department; Swimming & Water Safety, C. M. Levy; First Aid Station, Mrs. Ben Mahar, Barton; Delegates to Annual Meeting, Ralph Wright, Mrs. Allen Stark.

According to the report of the Sick Room Supply committee 63 loans of beds and other such equipment were made during the year. It was decided to require signature for loan of sick room supplies with provision of receipt on return. This was necessary to keep accurate check of these supplies. It was reported.

Mrs. Sydney Smith, reporting on Home Nursing, stated 18 have now enrolled in the planned home nursing course to be conducted. Ralph Wright stated blood donor clinics this year had been less successful because of the number of people unable to donate due to having had hepatitis. C. M. Levy stated it had been possible to hold swimming classes at the Racquette last year because the pool was not available due to needed repairs on the bridge.

The meeting approved the award of a Red Cross Badge of Service to Miss Daisy McKinnon, a long time Red Cross worker.

Conduct Nutrition Experiment

An interesting experiment in nutrition is being carried on at the new Weymouth Consolidated High School under the direction of Miss Elizabeth McKinnon of the Nova Scotia Department of Public Health.

In the experiment six white rats have been provided to the school. Three of these rats will be fed a balanced diet of foods considered to be healthful for humans. The other three will be fed a diet consisting of items often eaten by youngsters as a substitute for proper foods as their school lunch.

A close check on the physical progress of the two groups of rats will be kept to determine the effects which a proper diet and a lack of such a diet have on the health and physical condition of the experimental rats.

A school lunch program has recently been inaugurated at the new Weymouth school and efforts are being made to make this program as effective as possible. A balanced lunch is being provided at cost and it is hoped as time progresses to expand the program.

W.M.S. Holds January Meet

The January meeting of the Centreville W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Lindsay with the president, Mrs. John Tibbets, presiding.

Mrs. Arthur Morehouse gave the message for the evening. A poem "My Prayer" was read, followed by a reading on the services rendered to Jesus by Martha and Mary, pointing out that to be a good Christian one must serve with Martha's hands and with Mary's heart.

A new member, Mrs. George Thibault, joined the Society. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the World Day of Prayer on Feb. 21st. The next meeting is to be at the home of Mrs. Ronald Morehouse. The business was followed by a circle of prayer and a solo sung by Mrs. Roy Cameron.

The hostess, Mrs. Robert Lindsay, presented the following program: poem, "Land of Beginning Again," by Mrs. Ingram Dakin; three letters from missionaries in Portugal preparing for work in Angola, Africa, were read by Mrs. Ronald Morehouse, Mrs. Roy Cameron and Mrs. William Titus. Mrs. Robert Lindsay gave an interesting account of the work being done in Newfoundland by the new pastor there. The program closed with prayer by Mrs. Loran Shaw.

Ravens Edge Trojans 10-9

Bailey scored five goals including the winner at 12:36 of the third period as Digby Ravens carved out a 10-9 decision over Cornwallis Trojans in a Western Valley Independent Hockey League game at Cornwallis Monday. Paul VanTassel fired a pair of goals and drew four assists while Sonny VanTassel, W. VanTassel and Hawkins got singles.

Rochette led the Cornwallis attack with a hat trick, Hoekstra popped in a pair and singles went to Neve, Willoughby, Tighe and Morrison.

Cornwallis started briskly and had three in the Digby nets before the Ravens found the mark. A strong finish by Digby made the score 4-3 against them at the end of the first period.

In the second period the Ravens outscored the Trojans three to two and stretched their margin to 8-6 before the sailors put on a rally of their own to make it 8-8. Digby went ahead again on a goal by Hawkins, Morrison replied with one for Cornwallis and then Bailey drove in the winner.

Both goalies were overworked. Carey stopped 41 shots in the Cornwallis cage and R. VanTassel blocked 31. Nine penalties were called, all minors.

drive for the month of February, with the town having been divided in sections and canvassers selected for each section.

Plans are also nearly complete for First Aid classes for the firemen, which will commence the first week in February with classes being headed by an instructor from the St. John Ambulance Quarters. Some 20 members have already enrolled for these classes.

The regular meeting of the Department will be held on Wednesday at 8 p.m. A meeting of the Ice Carnival committee will be held following this regular meeting. The advertising committee of the Ice Carnival will meet over the weekend to complete advertising arrangements for the carnival.

A call was received Wednesday morning for a fire at the home of Frank Gates in Hill Grove, to which No. 2 pumper replied. However, due to lack of water and the advanced stage of the fire on arrival, little could be done to save anything. It is cases like these which the taxpayers could use as concrete material to work on a possible fire protection system for the rural areas.

KIDNEY ACIDS

Rob your Rest..

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—blame it on "nerves"—when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they fail and impurities stay in the system, disturbed rest often follows. If you don't rest well get and use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's help the kidneys so that you can rest better—and feel better.

by Ken Hankinson BATTERY TIPS

More drivers would take loving care of their batteries, we think, if they realized what a safety device the battery can be, as well as the reservoir for the car's electrical system.

When your car has stalled in a tight spot you can move it by turning over the engine with the starter motor and slowly slipping into gear. It's not the best thing for the battery, but it can save your life.

Besides this stand-by emergency role, what a job the battery has to shoulder! The average car today has 20 light bulbs, some models have as many as 38, to say nothing of those power-eaters, the radio, horn and starter.

Looking after your battery is a simple matter of remembering, and it can double your battery's life. Usually, water needs to be added about once a month, but if the battery needs water too often, then charging is too high. If it's only one cell that constantly needs extra water, a leak is the problem.

It's usually pretty obvious why a battery runs down; you've been driving only at night, or using the radio and heater too much. But it can come from hidden things, too, like forgetting to use a light enough oil to ease the load in winter starting.

We can tell you in a jiffy the shape your battery is in. And you'll notice the cars on our used car lot start in an instant. The battery is one of the many things we check before any car goes out for sale.

Obituary

Solomon Wentzell
A large circle of relatives and friends sincerely regret the sudden passing of Solomon Wentzell, of Lake Munro, Annapolis County, N. S.

The late Mr. Wentzell was born at Lake Munro 82 years ago where he lived his entire life except for the past year and a half which has been spent with relatives and friends at Bear River, Smith's Cove and Lequille.

His brother arrived for the funeral services which were in charge of Dagrie's Funeral Service, and conducted by Rev. C. R. St. Anne's Rink Officially Opened shows a tense moment in the game which was marked by an 8-3 win for the collegians.

The official opening was a tremendous success and was attended, despite very adverse weather conditions, by a capacity crowd. It was estimated more than one thousand spectators attended the opening, many of them seeing their first hockey game.

Included in the program marking the official opening were the bands of HMCS Cornwallis and St. Anne's College.

Official greetings were presented by the Rev. Edouard Goudreau, and a trophy was presented by Mr. Sully Wood. Captain Jette also extended his best wishes.

In the hockey game between Cornwallis and St. Anne's, which marked the opening of the fine new arena, the college team crushed the navy stalwarts by a resounding 8-3 score. The game was a rip-snorter until the collegians put on a third period rally, which turned the game into a rout.

St. Anne's struck early and late, scoring four goals in the first and three in the last. They were led to victory by hard shooting Jean Guy Bernard, who netted three goals. Other scorers for the winners were Andre Arsenault, Bill Rooney, Norman Guay, Vic Cardiff and Gerald LaFlamme. Cornwallis goals went to Bert LeFebvre, Don Cornell and Bill Hockstra. Only in the second period, when they outscored the college lads 2-1, were the visitors able to hold their own with the winners.

WIDE CIRCULATION OF FILMS PLANNED

Digby County residents will soon have the opportunity of viewing films on the discovery and cure of cancer. These films have been received from the Nova Scotia Division headquarters of the Canadian Cancer Society and are to be shown by the Weymouth and District Unit in co-operation with the various service clubs, women's groups and Home & School Associations in the county in the near future.

This plan, along with other aspects of the cancer education program, was the highlight of a recent meeting of the executive of the Weymouth and District Unit, Canadian Cancer Society, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Melanson, Gilbert's Cove.

Educational pamphlets will be available at various centres in the towns and villages, education chairman, Mrs. Louis Melanson, Weymouth, reported. It is important that as many people as possible take advantage of the literature and the films. Our greatest fears are of the unknown. When these films have been seen many questions concerning cancer will have been answered, and fears replaced with knowledge and common sense. Early discovery leads to recovery, and these films show how to recognize symptoms, and what steps should be taken when they appear.

The welfare report, given by Mrs. E. A. Fergusson, showed that several patients had been to Halifax for treatment since the previous meeting.

Delegates elected to the annual meeting of the Society in Halifax in February were the president and secretary, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Campbell.

Following the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the host and hostess.

Mr. Bernard Gaudet and Mr. Ray Gaudet, New Tuskot, are spending a few days here with their mother, Mrs. Elsie Gaudet.

$18,812.70. This was an increase over the previous year and was mainly for new transformers, meters, poles and hardware. During the year extensive improvements had to be made in voltage on the whole system due to television loads. It is expected further improvements in this direction will also have to be made in 1958.

During 1957 new distribution lines were built along the old

Shelburne Road for a distance of 1.4 miles and from Tiverton to Boar's Head Light, a distance of .425 miles.

At the close of the year's operation a surplus of $7,659.96 was reported. The 1956 surplus was $11,638.30. During the year a $20,000.00 sinking fund debenture came due and was redeemed from the sinking fund account.

Beside containing the provision for sale of the Digby County Power Board's generating facilities to the NSPC for $250,000 the agreement also provided for the construction of a new 69KV line from the proposed new power development on the Sissiboo to connect with the DC PB transmission lines at Weymouth Falls. It is estimated this will cost the NSPC in the vicinity of $30,000.

The agreement also provided that the DCPB would be relieved of a cost agreement on transmission lines constructed between the Gulch development at Bear River and a connecting point on the DCPB transmission lines at Acaciaville in 1946. This agreement, providing for annual payment by the Digby County utility to the NSPC of $4,400 still has eight years to run.

Also provided for in the agreement was the proposal that all displaced personnel of the DCPB would be given priority on construction and operating crews for the new power development.

In effect, it is understood the agreement will provide a purchase price for assets of the Digby County Power Board in excess of $300,000, taking into account the building of the new connecting line and cancellation of the agreement concerning the transmission line from the Gulch development.

According to proposals placed before the negotiating committee by the representatives of the Power Commission, the proposed development, originally scheduled to cost some seven million dollars, is estimated now in excess of eight million dollars.

The development will be carried on in two stages. The first of these will be concerned with the Sissiboo and Fourth Lake storage. This is expected to cost $5,765,800. Labour costs for this are estimated at $1,811,900; local services and purchases — $708,200; provincial expenditures — $765,900 and expenditures outside Nova Scotia — $1,765,800.

The second stage of the development which will provide for development and units at Fourth and Sissiboo lakes will cost an estimated $3,093,000. Labour for this is estimated at $1,001,260; local services and purchases — $277,710; other provincial purchases — $453,510; expenditures outside Nova Scotia — $1,360,520.

It is estimated that the first stage will require the employment of 250 to 400 men for a two year period. The second stage will require 200 to 250 labourers for a one and one half year period.

The total amount estimated to be expended in Digby County for the development is $2,813,160. Total labour, truck hire and local purchases are expected to amount to $3,799,070.

The agreement dealt with by the Municipal Council Saturday provided for supply by the NSPC of all power requirements of the DCPB and the purchase at a cost figure of all power needs of the Digby County utility from the Power Commission.

TAX RATE INCREASED

Included in the 1958 expenditure estimates is the figure of $76,082.00 for debt charges. Of this amount $40,093.00 will be received from the province. Last year debt charges were $30,302.54. The province's share of these was $15,400.

In the 1958 expenditure estimates the Council has allowed the figure of $12,900 for assessors. This is accounted for by the fact arrangements have been made for a complete revision of assessment throughout the county. This is expected to be ready for use by 1960. Last year $2,900 was actually spent for assessors.

A drop of more than one thousand dollars in poll taxes for 1958 from the actual 1957 figure has been estimated by the council. The estimated 1958 revenue from this source is $7367.80, as compared with an actual return of $8,533 in 1957.

Included in expenditures provided for in the budget at this session by the municipal council were grants of $1,500 to the Digby General Hospital, $300 to the Salvation Army, $150 to the Digby County Exhibition, and $25 to the Agricultural Society.

A request from the Digby County Local of the Nova Scotia Teachers' Union for an increase of 10% in salaries for Digby Municipality school teachers, effective January 1st, 1958, was in effect turned down by the Municipal Council when a recommendation from the Municipal School Board was adopted that teachers' salaries in the municipality be increased according to the scale proposed by the Minister of Education, effective August 1st, 1958.

The Council re-appointed B. S. Morrell, Wilfred Cosman and Roy Snell to the Board of Assessment Appeal. The afternoon's council session was chaired by Deputy Warden Harry E. Lewis in the absence of Warden H. E. Chisholm, who was ill.

The pall bearers were three of her sons, Reginald, Edmund and Ashton, and son-in-law, Stewart Rice.

Interment was in the family lot at Havelock. The profusion of beautiful flowers was a silent tribute of the love held for the deceased.

Wed 56 Years

Congratulations and best wishes are extended Captain and Mrs. C. W. Crosscup on their 56th wedding anniversary. Captain and Mrs. Crosscup were married in Salem, Mass., on February 5th, 1902, and have resided at Granville Ferry the 56 years of their married life. The Captain was 96 years of age on Christmas Day and Mrs. Crosscup will be 90 years old in March.

Huge Whale Measured

A large hump-backed female whale which went on Cow Ledge early Wednesday morning, possibly alive when getting there, moved down to Freepoint breakwater on Sunday's high tide. The whale measured 83 feet and the width of its tail was 15 feet. The whale was first seen on Wednesday morning from Westport and for a time there was a discussion on whether it was a plane, a large boat or a whale. Westport is a mile from Cow Ledge. Fishing boats were able to get near enough to tell its identity. The whale had a large number of visitors at low tide.

Mark Christian Youth Week

Christian Youth Week was marked in the United Baptist Church in Digby with several activities participated in by the youth of the church. At the morning service on Sunday, January 26, Marilyn Clayton, president of the senior C.G.I.T., led in the responsive reading. John Brittain of the Sigma-C read the Scripture. On Tuesday evening the B.Y.P.U. under the leadership of Ethel Embree visited the Municipal Home. A program of Kodachrome films of local scenes and a film strip was provided together with a devotional period, conducted by the young people. The Scripture portion was read by Keith Churchill and Ruth Magarvey lead in prayer. Anne Brittain presided at the organ for the singing of hymns. Magazines and a treat of candy was also provided for those at the home by the group. Last Sunday the junior choir sang at the morning service in Digby. Jean Trask, Juliana Turnbull and Ruth Atkinson sang the French carol, "Jesus, Loving Shepherd." Haydn's hymn, "Let the Children Praise Thee" was presented by the junior choir.

House Destroyed By Fire

Fire, which broke out at 9.00 o'clock on Wednesday morning, January 29th, quickly destroyed the home of Mr. Frank Gates Sr., Hill Grove, despite the efforts of a large number of neighbours and friends, who quickly gathered to do all in their power to save the building and contents. The Digby Fire Department responded to the call, but lack of water hampered their efforts, and soon the house and out-buildings were a mass of flames. A small amount of furniture and a quantity of potatoes and apples were salvaged. Mr. Gates was able to save a box containing private papers, etc., but lost all of his clothing except what he had on. Owing to the direction of the wind the large barn standing nearby was saved. Loss, estimated at between eight and nine thousand dollars, was partially covered by insurance. Mr. Gates is at present residing at the home of his son, Arthur Gates, and Mrs. Gates, as is also Rev. William Gates, of Texas, who arrived the day of the fire to visit with his brother, making the trip to Yarmouth by air.

Heavy Snow Hits Area

Winter struck with a vengeance in this area over the weekend. Starting late Saturday evening, a heavy snowfall swept the area, dumping upwards of ten inches of snow and blocking main and secondary roads. The snow was accompanied by a heavy wind which caused considerable drifting. The problem of clearing the back roads of the area was complicated by the fact mild weather had left these roads soft and ploughs had difficulty in working. One resident of Colenden working in an office in Digby was eleven hours on the road returning to work after a week-end at home. Leaving home shortly before ten o'clock Sunday morning she did not arrive in town until late Sunday night. The minister of the local Pentecostal Church, living in Rossway, left home before seven o'clock in the morning for church in Digby at eleven but was unable to get there. He was forced to leave his car on the road and return home on foot, getting there about 11 o'clock. A number of churches in the area were forced to cancel services on Sunday due to the storm.

Mark Golden Wedding Jubilee

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Denton of Clementsport this week marked the 50th anniversary of their wedding with a family reunion and party at their home. The occasion was the first family reunion of the three sons and two daughters in the past twenty-five years. During the evening friends in the community arrived as a group at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Denton to bring them good wishes and to congratulate them on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary. A beautiful gift was presented to the couple by the Rev. S. F. Whitehouse on behalf of the Clementsport Baptist Church. Telegrams of congratulations to Black Hawks were also received from Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Hon. George Nowlan.

Ratepayers Meeting Called

A ratepayers' meeting will be held in Digby on the evening of February 18th to deal with the matter of the proposed sale of the generating facilities of the Digby County Power Board to the Nova Scotia Power Commission, it was decided at the regular meeting of the Town Council here. The offer to purchase the generating facilities of the DCPB was made by the Power Commission in an agreement submitted by the NSPC covering proposed development by the Power Commission of an eight million dollar power generating plant on the Sissiboo River. This agreement called for sale of the local utility's power facilities to the commission for $250,000 together with an agreement by the commission to build a line to connect the proposed new power development to existing transmission lines of the DCPB and to relieve the local board of charges on a line now connecting the NSPC Bear River plant to the lines of the local power board at Acaciaville. The agreement has been accepted by the municipal council of the Municipality of Digby but legal requirements call for a vote of the ratepayers of Digby town to approve the matter. Approval must also be secured from the village of Weymouth and district of Clare before the matter can be finalized. A letter was read to the Council meeting from Hon. R. C. Levy, Municipal Affairs Minister, concerning government proposals regarding hospital costs, general grants and poor relief. It was stated in the letter there were a number of details concerning the Premier's proposal to pay half the town's hospital costs for 1957 that may be difficult to clarify. (Please turn to page 12)

Hospital Aid Activities

The pantry sale sponsored by the Ladies' Hospital Aid realized 106.00 it was reported at the meeting at the home of Mrs. Clayton Snow, King St., on Monday night. On the committee were Mrs. Gladys Budrow, Mrs. V. G. Cardoza, Mrs. Daniel Comeau and Mrs. William Comeau. The chicken dinner was won by Mrs. J. Trimmer. Mrs. Cardoza in reporting for the supply committee, said that the work had been finished at the hospital nursery, glass heat installed, tile floor laid, cupboards built and the walls newly painted. It was decided to hold an auction sale at the next meeting which would be held at the home of Mrs. Forrest Eisner and a tag day is scheduled for March. Mrs. G. V. Snow will again head the fancy work booth for the Fair in August and the wives of the town doctors will have charge of the candy booth. Twenty-three attended the meeting on Monday including several new members and visitors.

Re-elected Game Society Head

Rueben Mervin of Bear River was re-elected president of the Digby East Fish and Game Association at the annual meeting of the association here. Other officers re-elected were Jack Nichols, vice-president, and Robert L. Taylor, secretary-treasurer. Committees elected were: Fish - A. R. Pyne, Alex Wentzell, Fred Muise; Birds - Dr. P. C. Outhouse, Garnet Adams, William Eldridge; Mammals - William Troupe, Basil Porter, Bruce Baxter; Conservation - Charles Balser, G. Ellis, R. Morehouse, Donald Sabean, J. Ethier. Another report given at the meeting stated that the association had brooded and released 237 pheasants in Digby County in 1957. Support the Digby Forum

C.P.R. To Operate Hotels

Civic and Trade Board leaders as well as the general public of western Nova Scotia welcomed the announcement Monday evening that the Canadian Pacific Railway, which had previously announced a decision to sell their three hotels in Nova Scotia, have decided to operate these hotels, the Digby Pines, Cornwallis Inn at Kentville, and Lakeside Inn at Yarmouth, during the 1958 season. The announcement was made by R. A. MacKie, General Manager of CPR hotels, from Montreal. Mr. MacKie said the decision to continue to operate the year 'round Cornwallis Inn and reopen the Digby Pines and Yarmouth Lakeside was made "after it became evident no satisfactory arrangements for sale are likely to be made in sufficient time to enable people planning summer vacations to be assured of attractive accommodation". In making the announcement Mr. MacKie said no decision had yet been reached concerning the reopening of the dining room at the Cornwallis Inn which was closed toward the end of last year. "This is a matter we have yet to consider", he said. Commenting on the proposal of the CPR to continue operation of the Digby Pines, Mayor Gordon Turnbull of Digby, who received the news at the regular monthly meeting of the Town Council here, said it was really good news for the people of the Digby area. He said, "We hope the CPR continues operating these hotels. They are the only ones to carry on. They have the connections and know how to do the advertising". He concluded by saying the CPR in the past has done a great job for this part of the province. (Please turn to page 12)

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor: There is at present a situation in Digby, whereby 3 representatives of the people (but definitely not chosen by election) are using nothing short of dictatorial powers to impose their will upon the public, 85% of whom are in vehement opposition to their biased way of thinking. I refer to the present intolerable parking meter situation whereby the policeman on duty must check the meter (by turning it) to see if it is in working order but is not permitted to turn up the money which has been deposited in the meter. There has been a deluge of complaints to the Mayor, to Councillors and to members of the Police Committee. There have been angry protests from out of town shoppers and from local taxpayers. All have fallen on the deaf ears of the chairman of the Police Committee whose only argument seems to be "I'm Not Backing Down". A poll of our civic heads would reveal that the majority are not in opposition to having the meters turned. A poll of taxpayers would reveal an overwhelming majority in favor of having the meters turned. I have discussed this matter with many people and the solution seems to be one of the following: No. 1 - Do away with the parking meters completely. Parking meters are supposed to be for one use only - to relieve a parking problem. They were not to be used as a manner in which to obtain revenue. The number of days during the year in which Digby has a parking problem can be counted on two hands. No. 2 - The irate citizens, instead of submitting meekly to this flagrant misuse of authority, should create a clamor so loud that even "deaf" ears would have to listen. No. 3 - Create an interest in the civic affairs of this town whereby elections may be held to allow the public to select men to run the town who are genuinely interested in the welfare of Digby and who can listen to two sides of a story. Yours truly, A Disgusted Taxpayer.

The Aged and the Infant

The picture (bottom) is that of Mr. Charles Doucet, of St. Bernard's, Digby County, taken by the editor of The Digby Courier on Saturday just about two weeks after Mr. Doucet celebrated his 105th birthday. The picture was taken with a polaroid camera and developed on the spot. Testifying to the humor and pleasure which the grand old gentleman still gets from life he said jokingly "You take that to my son Willie in Digby, don't tell him but see if he knows who it is." Willie, by the way, is William Doucet, age 84, who with his wife lives on Victoria St., Digby, at the home of their daughter, Mrs. William Belliveau, and Mr. Belliveau, Willie and his stepbrother, Amedee, with whom the father resides at St. Bernard's, have the same birthday as the father, January 17, and both were present for the 105th celebration at the home of Amedee. It was a pleasant occasion for the editor to interview the more than a century old gentleman and hear about his birthday and his life. One of the greatest thrills of the day was to receive greetings from Buckingham Palace and Prime Minister Diefenbaker. Gifts, cards and visits from friends, relatives and well-wishers were enjoyed and the customary birthday cake and goodies were provided and attended to by Mrs. Amedee Doucet, who is most attentive to the wants and comforts of her father-in-law. Busy Season For Ladies' Curling

The Digby Ladies' Curling Club got underway with an opening tea, when all ladies who were prospective members were asked to attend. Mrs. Ted Dakin was nominated president for the year 1958; Mrs. Garnet Neville, vice-president; Mrs. William Troop, treasurer, and Mrs. Gordon Turnbull, secretary.

Interesting Old Books

Mr. Jack Russell of Digby, last week brought the Courier an interesting old school book. The book, formerly the property of Stanley S. Aymar, for some years mayor of Digby, is a reader and bears the title, "The Advanced Reader." It was printed in Halifax by A. & W. MacKinnon & Co. in 1865 and was used by Mr. Aymar while at the Hill Grove school. On the fly leaf it bears his signature with the date, March 10, 1875. Authority for printing the book is also contained on the fly leaf over the signature of Charles Tupper, provincial secretary. The book contains many wonderful examples of classic prose and poetry including excerpts from the writings of Lord Macaulay, DeQuincy, Sterne, Dickens and other noted authors. The fact of Mr. Russell bringing in this old school book to the Courier has also prompted further interest in this matter and several old school books have also been produced by (Please turn to page 12)

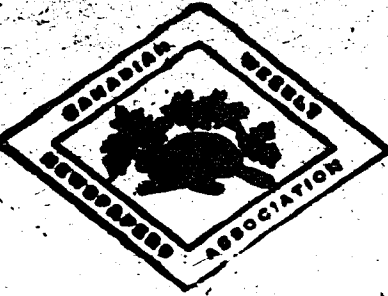

D. F. D. ACTIVITIES

Ice Carnival Committee met over the weekend on advertising and completed considerable work on this item which is so important to the success of the carnival being held this year on March 21st. There is some confusion by the public that this is the same carnival that is being presented this week, which is not the case. It is unfortunate that the carnival being sponsored by the Teen Towners could not have been given some other name. This has been misleading to many. The original Digby Firemen's Ice Carnival is being presented in March and will include 1958 Princess contest, costume parade, contests, cash prizes and other attractions. This carnival is the biggest in Western Nova Scotia and attracts a great many people.

Several men were on duty all day Sunday and Sunday night due to the difficulty in transportation. One call was received during the storm to Mrs. Trohony on Birch Street for a chimney fire which was not serious and did not cause any damage. No definite word has been received on the First Aid classes to be conducted by the St. John Ambulance Brigade, but information is expected daily.

Plans will be completed this week for the fund drive of the St. John Ambulance Brigade which is being headed by the Fire Dept. in appreciation of the fact that the members of the Dept. will be receiving a first aid course from the Brigade free of charge. These classes are expected to start immediately. K. Churchill, R. Sulis, W. Hand-spiker, Middleton's Smith and R. Boylan both scored 11 points, Wallace 7, Griffin 2, Steele 2, Crouse 1, Woodworth, Ritchie, J. Boylan, Armstrong. The Middleton teams will soon be coming to Digby for the return games. These games will undoubtedly be of tremendous interest to basketball fans.

About This and That

Good News For Digby

The news received on Monday night that the Pines Hotel here would be again operated in the summer of 1958 by the CPR was indeed music to the ears of the Digby people. The Digby people are assured, firstly, that the hotel which attracts many tourists to their fair town each year will continue to be operated, at least, for another summer. Besides, they are confident that the same fine manner of operation which has been a credit to the town for so long will continue at the hotel. The tourists who leave the Pines Hotel happy from a comfortable and enjoyable visit, are inclined to a favorable impression of Digby as a whole. This has always been the case under CPR operation and the same will undoubtedly continue.

Besides attracting visitors to the town as guests at the hotel, the enormous amount of advertising issued by the CPR for the Pines Hotel benefits the tourist trade in Digby generally, as well as the hotel itself.

The announcement of the opening of the Pines Hotel for the 1958 season is a bright spot in the outlook for Digby's economy for 1958. Added to this is the announcement of another means of transportation between the Eastern states and western Nova Scotia.

The uncertainty for a time as to the opening of the Pines served to awaken Digby people to the fact that a bit of tourist promotional work is most necessary on their own. We hope the good start made in 1957 will continue while and even if the Pines continues to operate. We also hope that thought might be given to some means of keeping tourists in Digby after they have been influenced to come here. What do tourists enjoy on a holiday? Have we the facilities to accommodate their holiday wishes? Our town fathers and Trade Boards might explore the possibilities in making Digby a "repeat and extended" mecca for tourists.

Report From Parliament Hill

By Hon. George C. Nowlan

Monday and Tuesday were reminiscent of the days of the Pipeline debate. The galleries were crowded, the corridors were lined with people hoping to be admitted to the galleries and there was an atmosphere of drama and excitement such as is most unusual in the House of Commons. The new Liberal leader just elected at a large Liberal convention took his seat in the House of Commons. No one knew exactly what was to happen. Many expected that the Government would be defeated. The debate lasted for two days but of all intents and purposes it was all over in an hour and ten minutes. By that time it was obvious that there would be no defeat of the Government and in fact the Government would come out on the debate much stronger than when it went in. I have been writing this column now for many years and I am proud of the fact that hundreds of people have told me that I have succeeded in keeping it non-partisan. Therefore, I had better not comment further on the debate. I could not be the least bit accurate or objective in that reporting without being accused of some of being partisan. I know comment is unnecessary because has it not only been well reported in the press, but everyone has had an opportunity to hear commentaries on the radio and television. One thing is obvious. Everything after Tuesday will be an anti-climax until the election is held and the uncertainties of the present situation are resolved.

I am reminded of an interesting personal sidelight. Nine years ago last Sunday five new members took their seats in the House of Commons following a by-election the preceding December. Two of these had already been sworn in as Cabinet Ministers — the Honourable Stewart Garson as Minister of Justice, the Honourable Lester Pearson as Minister of External Affairs. The third Liberal was a Mr. Boucher from Saskatchewan who was defeated in the election of 1953 and has since been appointed to the Senate. Of the other two, one was the Honourable George Drew who was about to take his seat as Leader of the Opposition, and your own Member. Of those five only Mr. Pearson and I are left with our roles reversed. The Cabinet Minister now being a member of the opposition and the then Member of the Opposition now being a Cabinet Minister.

The rest of the week was taken up with the debate on the Agricultural Support Bill. For some unknown reason the CCF Party were determined to fight this Bill and fight it they did. However, in this case the Government refused to budge and kept the pressure on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and Saturday. As a result on Saturday afternoon the Opposition had evaporated and a quarter to six the Bill received third reading. No one will pretend it is a perfect Bill. Undoubtedly many improvements can be made in it as experience justifies them but most people are convinced that it will accomplish more for Agriculture in the future than has been accomplished by any legislation in the past. Another very important piece of legislation was introduced on Saturday. The resolution preceding the Bill sets forth that there are to be Twenty-five million dollars of additional monies paid to the Atlantic Provinces as adjustment grants. These will be divided on the basis of 30 per cent each to Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Newfoundland and 10 per cent to P. E. I. This means that when this legislation is enacted Nova Scotia will receive an additional seven million five hundred thousand from the Federal Treasury. In addition the proposed legislation will result in additional tax monies from the Federal Treasury to all the Provinces of Canada. It is estimated that Nova Scotia's share of these additional monies will amount to over two million six hundred thousand dollars. Therefore, Nova Scotia this year should receive over ten million dollars more from the Federal Treasury than it has received in the past and should thereby be enabled to improve the Provincial Governmental services and at the same time make much more money available to the Municipalities than has been possible in the past. I do not think any one will accuse me of being partisan when I suggest that the Maritimes have done remarkably well under this Government during the past six months. The legislation dealing with these Provincial fiscal grants is the last important matter which has to be dealt with in this session. To have this legislation enacted and to have consideration obtained for all of the outstanding estimates within a week seems to be almost an impossible task. But there are many who are still hopeful that Parliament can conclude its work by the end of this week. As I said earlier everything now is anti-climax and the Members are anxious to get home. There actually seems very little sense in giving detailed consideration to estimates for the fiscal year 1957-1958. In other words the estimates we are now considering are those which were introduced in the House of Commons last March and 10 months of that year has already elapsed. That means, of course, in most cases ten-twelfths of all the monies have been expended and the rest has been committed. Therefore, the Members can be forgiven for saying to themselves "what's the point in spending time on these estimates — let's get away from here and get back for another session when we can give real consideration to the estimates of the coming year," because every day Treasury Board is meeting considering the departmental estimates for 1958-59. It is very interesting for one sitting for the first time in Government to see how these estimates are prepared. First, of course, they are drafted in the respective Departments concerned. Presumably the Minister and his chief officials review them carefully and ask for what they consider to be the absolute minimum for the coming year. Then these go before Treasury Board which comprises permanent officials of the Department of Finance together with a certain number of Cabinet Ministers. Here the officials of the respective Departments have to justify each item of expenditure and in almost every case Treasury Board sends them back to reduce them still further. Ultimately they are approved by Treasury Board, then after that is done all of the estimates are approved by the Cabinet as a whole, and finally submitted to the next session of Parliament. All of this involves a colossal amount of time spent by officials and certain Cabinet Ministers who are fortunate or unfortunate enough to be sitting on Treasury Board. With the House itself sitting at 11 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night six days a week, with the exception of Saturday when we rise at 6, with Cabinet Meetings often called at 8.30 in the morning, and sometimes sitting until late at night, and with Treasury Board sitting every afternoon and every evening, it is not surprising if sometimes ones correspondence gets somewhat in arrears. Each Cabinet Minister has an office in the House of Commons which is usually considered as sort of a temporary place where he hangs up his hat while the House is in session. All of the administrative work is supposed to be carried on from his permanent office located somewhere else in the City. In my own case I haven't seen my permanent office in the last two weeks, and I think the same thing can be said of most of my colleagues. Whatever administrative work is of an emergency nature is transacted in the Parliamentary Office in the House of Commons, the rest is being deferred until the House rises. One thing is certain — no Cabinet Minister will be going away on vacation immediately after this session is over.

To the officers and members of our Municipal Council of Digby, it affords me pleasure to welcome you another year as we assemble to transact business pertaining to our municipal activities, which during the past year have been more extensive and complex than at any time in the memory of our oldest sitting members.

Undoubtedly our municipalities, together with our Province, play a most vital part in the development of this country and because of our expansion, much strain has been imposed upon our financial position together with that on our credit. We are however, anxious to pull our weight in the solving of problems which are of vital interest in both our Municipal and Provincial fields of activities. It would appear that presently we are exercising much energy along the lines of Education, which after all denotes progress, for if we are to attain knowledge we must not cease to educate, educate, educate as the farmer in his sphere must cultivate, cultivate, cultivate. Do we not feel that we as a people or nation are somewhat dwarfed in the field of missile achievements, and that may be taken as an example of the fact that we must ever be alert to progress, which is derived through education.

There is, however, an ever present problem related to all our achievements and that is costs, which is a very common factor not only in our primary schools but also in our higher seats of learning, and we note that governments, national and otherwise, are endeavouring to render assistance by helping financially. By the completion and opening of two new schools, one a spacious school at Sandy Cove which serves the pupils from Grades I to VI inclusive, for the greater part of Digby Neck. This together with a fine school at Weymouth serving those of all grades. These schools together with accommodations derived in Digby Town gives, (with the exception of a district between Digby and Weymouth) very full possibilities for an education by the pupils on the mainland of Digby Municipality. The three schools on the Islands are undergoing extensive repairs which will make them more modern in their service to their communities. Smith's Cove school is scheduled for further improvements. Further to the district between Digby and Weymouth it would appear that action must be taken to remedy the overcrowded conditions of our present accommodation.

On Dec. 17th, the Government called a meeting at Halifax on a Municipal level in order to discuss the question of further assistance to the Municipalities in meeting their current cost of operations. After Aug 1, 1958, the Government will pay to school teachers their proportional share of yearly salary increase above the present Foundation Program, ranging in Professional Class from $420.00 to $120.00. It is further conceded to render municipal assistance in poor relief and hospital accounts, as well as sharing in municipal home costs, providing however, a certain standard of efficiency is maintained.

I feel that our tax collectors as in former years, have done a good job in collecting 94.1% of our current levy, which is more than 2% above that of last year. In accordance with your planning, Mr. Hubley has started a revision of our assessment throughout our municipality, which we trust will be completed for our use by 1960.

We feel that in the passing of Mr. Max Nathal not only our Municipality, in which he carried on extensive operations in the purchase of pulp, pitprops and lumber, but in the Province at large has sustained a loss which will be felt in a staggering manner, not only by his business associates but by those who had learned to appreciate him as a man of great energy and integrity.

Presently there is quite a recession, and we trust that it may be only a recession, in the production of lumber and pulp, which in the economy of our people plays a very important factor, taking into consideration the amount of labour required in hauling, peeling and preparing for shipment, together with the port activities as well as ship tonnage used in transporting these products. Thus the lessening of one activity, that of the forest, is far reaching in its reaction.

At present there is under consideration an operation which is of importance to the stock raising of all the farmers of Nova Scotia, that is the erection of an abattoir. It is felt that in order for the farmer to get a better benefit from his effort, he should be able to place his meats on the market as a finished product, and in order that that may be done, a canvass is now in progress throughout the province to raise sufficient money as an initial cost payment on the erection of an abattoir. The government, as I understand, will contribute three quarters of the cost providing the other one quarter is raised by farmers or those interested.

About thirty years ago there was put into operation an undertaking to produce the electrical requirements of our municipality, as well as the Town of Digby, from hydro power on the Sissiboo River. Since that time the Municipality of Clare became interested so that now practically the whole of Digby County received the greater part of their electrical power from the Sissiboo development. At the request of the Digby County Power Board, the Nova Scotia Power Commission was asked to survey the possibilities of power development on the Sissiboo and it now appears that as a result of the survey it is estimated that over a hundred million kilowatt hours of electricity can be produced. This possibility of production is so much above former expectations that the Nova Scotia Power Commission now feel that owing to the urgent need of further power development they should be accorded the privilege of taking over the rights of the Digby County Power Board in order that they may establish a seven or eight million dollar power development. This proposal is presently receiving much consideration but owing to the fact that all tax payers in the County are vitally interested, it becomes very complex in the legal procedure.

Our departmental costs will be revealed in our financial statement.

I wish at this time to express to the Council as well as to our efficient Clerk and Deputy my appreciation for their support and co-operation in assisting in carrying on our Municipal business.

Respectfully submitted this 21st day of January, 1958.

On motion, the Council adjourned until Wednesday at 10 a.m.

Auditors Report

To the Warden and Councillors, Municipality of the District of Digby, Digby, Nova Scotia.

Gentlemen:

We have examined the books and records of the Municipality of the District of Digby for the year ended December 31, 1957 and have obtained all the information and explanations we have required. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of the accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

We report that we also examined the books and records of the Municipal School Board of the District of Digby for the year ended December 31, 1957. Our report on this examination forms a part of this report and such schedules are attached hereto.

We confirmed balances of taxes outstanding as at December 31, 1957 directly with the taxpayers of the Municipality. We did not consider the differences disclosed by this confirmation of an extent to necessitate qualification of our report on the accuracy of the total Taxes Receivable as shown on the Revenue Fund Balance Sheet.

The Excess of Revenue over Expenditure for the year amounted to $12,873.34. The Revenue Fund Surplus as at December 31, 1957, after adjustments of prior years and a transfer to the Reserve for Uncollected Taxes, stands at $41,068.06.

The Capital Fund Balance Sheet includes only the Fixed Assets applicable to the Municipal General Combined Capital Fund and Combined Revenue Fund Balance Sheets are presented of the General Fund, Municipal School Board and the Hydro Distribution System.

Subject to the foregoing, we report that, in our opinion, the attached Revenue Fund Balance Sheet and Capital Fund Balance Sheet and related financial statements are properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the position and affairs of the Municipality of the District of Digby as at December 31, 1957, according to the best of our information, the explanations given to us as shown by the books and records.

Plays At Reception

"Sandy" Sutherland, thirteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Sutherland, of Victoria, B. C., grandson of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Payson, formerly of Smith's Cove, and great grandson of Mrs. G. R. Weir of Smith's Cove and Toronto, had the honor of being one of two bagpipers who "piped in" the Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia at a grand reception at the United Services Ball at the Empress Hotel when the debutantes of the province were presented to Lieutenant Governor Ross and Mrs. Ross.

A description of the event in the words of one of the spectators follows:

Sandy did not play a very big part by any means that night, but it does give him the incentive to work toward better things. It all took place in the Empress Hotel on the night of November 22nd. The United Services Ball is held on, or near that date every year, and it is the night that the debutantes are presented to the Lieutenant Governor. This year the cadets of the Canadian Scottish Regiment, of which Sandy is a member, were asked to form the guard of honor. I will tell you how the ceremony took place. The guests arrived early, so that before ten o'clock the ballroom was a beautiful sight, with the dress uniforms of officers from all the armed services, and with the beautiful gowns of the ladies. At ten o'clock the orchestra stopped playing and a red carpet was laid from the entrance of the ballroom down to a dais at the other end. We heard the sound of the pipes in the distance, and then, in came Sandy and his partner, Gerald Sinclair, in their pipers' dress uniform, playing their pipes and marching down the red carpet. The guard followed them, and then came the Lieutenant Governor, F. M. Ross, and Mrs. Ross. Sandy and Gerald stopped just at the foot of the dais and played there until the Governor and Mrs. Ross had taken their places. The guard formed a line along the red carpet to keep the guests back. Then followed the presentation of the debutantes.

Bagpipes are extremely temperamental instruments to play. For a week prior to the ball, those pipes were tended most carefully by Sandy's teacher, and Sandy had to keep blowing them at appointed intervals. He was well rewarded, for the minute he blew on them that night, they responded, and we didn't hear any wailing to begin — just the first good, clear note. The other boy couldn't get his to go, and he was right up to the entrance of the ballroom before his pipe responded. Sandy said he was nervous while getting dressed and down there, but he was so thankful when he got out the first note, that he relaxed, and really enjoyed it. This was Sandy's first time to play in public, except in competition at the Highland Games. I am so glad that it went off well because he and the other boy may do a lot of playing together. They believe they are to pipe the Lieutenant Governor

Presented Gifts

Mrs. (Dr.) Herbert Davy and daughter, Helena, were guests of honor at a party on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Daniels. Other guests were Dr. Davy and son, Richard, the members of the Society of Friends, their husbands and friends, and Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Marshall, of Annapolis.

The evening passed quickly with the showing of movies taken by Mr. Daniels, who acted as narrator. Films shown included "Winter Wonderland in Nova Scotia," one of Florida, and others of local interest.

During the evening the vice-president of the club, Miss Blanche Woodman, presented gifts of remembrance to Mrs. Davy and Helena, on behalf of the members, in appreciation of their loyal support. Both expressed their thanks briefly.

Dr. Davy and family will be leaving in March to return to their home in England, and will be greatly missed in the community where they have made many warm friendships during their stay here. Best wishes and the hope that they will come back again were expressed by all. Delicious refreshments brought a pleasant evening to a close.

Guest Choir Leads Music

In the absence of the regular pastor, Rev. R. W. Lindsay, Rev. G. D. Bryden, Deep Brook, was guest speaker at Centreville Baptist Church on Sunday evening, January 26th, with the Brotherhood Choir from Little River in attendance.

After a song service and special numbers by the choir, Rev. Bryden gave an inspiring message on the life of Saul, scripture taken from I Samuel, 15:20-35. Rev. Bryden warned Christians to guard against the things in their lives that would separate them from God and rob them of their reward.

GILBERT'S COVE

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Robicheau and daughter, of Belliveau's Cove, have moved into their newly constructed home in Gilbert's Cove.

The Aged and The Infant

Mr. Doucet is in good health, enjoys watching television, and when asked if he were tired of living, answered: "I should say not. I'm not ready to go yet—I enjoy living too much." He enjoys visitors and looks forward to the regular visit from his parish priest.

He also enjoys telling stories of the "old days," when seafaring "was the thing."

He told the story of a happening when he was 11 years old. At that time he walked one mile in the snow in his bare feet to see a ship that had run aground.

"If I wanted to see the ship, I had to go barefoot," he said. "Snow or not... I had no shoes."

Mr. Doucet was born in New Edinburgh, Digby County, the eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hilaire Doucet. He is the only surviving member of the family.

His life was for the most part spent at sea, shipping as a sailor or cook to the West Indies and other southern ports from where they returned with salt, molasses and necessary cargoes for Nova Scotia.

At the age of 20 he married Mary Eliza Sabin. Of this marriage two children, Willie, of Digby, and Mrs. Wallace Comeau, of Concession, were born. His first wife died in 1878. Three years later he married Elizabeth LeBlanc of St. Bernard's. Of this marriage there were seven children, Marie and Nellie, both dead; three surviving daughters, Mrs. Lennie Brickey of St. Bernard's; Mrs. Alcide Gaudet, Ohio; Mrs. Wilfred LeBlanc, St. Bernard's; and two sons, Amedee and Fidele, both of St. Bernard's.

EIGHTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WOMEN'S WORK COMMITTEE

I beg to submit the 18th Annual Report of your Women's Work Committee for the year 1957. For the second successive year, our Annual Meeting has been unavoidably postponed from Nov. or Dec. until January, so now in order to bring this report up to date, it is necessary to include items of importance in the work which have occurred since the closing of our books on Oct. 31st, 1957. However, as the recent efforts of the Women's Work Committee have been mainly concerned with the welfare work of the Branch, which is always most important at the Christmas season, but which is under the auspices of the Disaster Relief Committee, a detailed account of this activity will be given later by the chairman of that committee.

Turning back to the early records of 1957, we find that it was by far the most active year in the Women's Work Committee since the end of World War II. The Canadian Red Cross Society is a truly international organization and world events are immediately reflected in our programme. The Hungarian revolt in the fall of 1956 was an urgent call to action, and the Red Cross responded by speeding relief supplies to the Hungarian refugee camps, with Red Cross branches everywhere rising to the emergency. The Digby Branch was no exception. In fact, we may well be proud of our response, for when the half-yearly statistical report was published by the Nova Scotia Division last June, it showed our Digby total of work received to be in 6th place on the list for the Province — our total having been exceeded only by Halifax, Dartmouth, Truro, Kentville and Yarmouth. Which is quite a good record for a little town of our size! In that period we had knitted nearly 100 pounds of yarn and had made up over 500 yards of material into warm clothing to assist the Red Cross "Work of Mercy." In so doing we had received widespread assistance from the women's groups of the town and nearby communities, for which we were and are, most grateful. Our small group of Red Cross workers spearheaded a Women's Work movement which widened to include the Officer's Wives Club of HMCS Cornwallis; the Women's Institutes of Smith's Cove and Rossway; the Friday Night Club, Smith's Cove; Society of Friends, Joggin Bridge; Good Neighbour Club, Conway; individual workers in Barton-Brighton and Bay View; Little River Baptist Church; Digby church groups comprising St. Patrick's, Trinity W.A., Grace United Ladies' Aid and Ea-GI Club, and the United Baptist Guild. Also Zelma Rebekah Lodge of Digby. Our thanks are extended to one and all for their help.

The finished articles thus completed by our combined efforts and forwarded to Red Cross Headquarters by our Committee totalled 1195 for the year, to which should be added 189 shipped in December 1956 after our books had closed for that year; thus making a grand total of 1384 articles. These included the following items: 23 large quilts; 15 crib quilts; 29 baby blankets; 714 baby garments; 24 undergarments; 205 towels and facecloths; 375 children's knitted articles (of which over 50 were 10 & 12 year sweaters).

Materials for the above, amounting to $508.17, were provided from Headquarters and financed through campaign funds. In addition, the sum of $38.34 was spent by the Branch for flannelette for layettes distributed in local welfare work. A further sum of $4.53 was spent locally for sheeting, also a small amount for yarn made into mittens and sockies for Christmas parcels. Between local purchases and donations, approximately 150 pairs of mittens and 50 pairs of sockies were provided for the Christmas welfare boxes, and an additional half-dozen quilts were given out locally. These, plus the layettes provided for the welfare work, would bring our complete production of finished articles to an approximate total of 1600 articles.

The successful results of our year's work have not been achieved without concentrated effort on the part of many of our individual workers, and I should like to pay special tribute to Mrs. Oscar VanTassell, whose efforts alone have accounted for over 900 articles of sewing — more than half of our grand total. Of these, 22 were beautiful quilt tops, 12 were completed crib quilts, the remainder being bolts of material which Mrs. VanTassell both cut and stitched. Miss Grace Chisholm has continued to ornament our layettes with her beautiful embroidery, which has contributed immeasurably to the high quality of our shipments. Mrs. Dennis Comeau's production of some 30 knitted baby jackets, each one of them a work of art in itself, is another record hard to beat, and one which is much admired and appreciated by all. We enjoyed a visit from Miss Bertha Boggs, now of Kentville, this fall, and appreciated another lot of her special striped sweaters, which she continues to knit for the Digby Branch. To the many other workers whom space does not permit special mention, we also extend the thanks of our Committee; and to our cutters, Mrs. T. A. Sabean and Mrs. Wilfred Comeau, go our special thanks.

When we think of the Cutting Committee we are reminded of the very great loss our Branch sustained last summer in the passing of Mrs. Annie Jefferson, who had been our most faithful cutter and knitter throughout the eighteen years of Digby Branch activity. Both the quantity and quality of her workmanship will be difficult to equal and her place difficult indeed to fill. Another loss to Red Cross in 1957 came in the passing of Mrs. T. E. G. Lynch, honorary president of the Branch for many years, and most active in the Women's Work Committee not only during World War II, but also its organizer at the time of the First World War. We shall miss her unfailing support of the Red Cross cause.

The Women's Work Committee has, as usual, assisted with other phases of activity within the Branch. The happiest occasion was in December, when we welcomed a new member to the Red Cross — this taking the form of a pantry shower for Mrs. T. W. Hodgson and Dr. Hodgson at their home. As previously stated, we have co-operated wholeheartedly with the Disaster Relief Committee in their local assistance to the less fortunate; many of our members helped collect for the Red Cross Financial Campaign in March; our committee was in charge of refreshments at the two Blood Donor Clinics held in 1957; and our members have made the aprons which are here on sale, the proceeds from which will go to the Ways and Means Committee to provide for local expenses of the Branch. Among such expenditures this past year was the purchase of material from which we made curtains to cover the shelving and thus improve the appearance of our Red Cross stockroom. In this connection, we wish to express our gratitude to Mr. Delbert Forrest, by whose kind permission our Committee is able to remain in the Court House and share his office since the recent changes in office space there. Mr. Forrest is also helpful in assisting us at all times and his co-operation is greatly appreciated. We

REPORT OF DISASTER RELIEF AND WELFARE COMMITTEE

During the year 1957 we have given over 2000 articles of clothing to twenty-eight families from Marshalltown to Weymouth North and Hectanooga. Our clothing consists of shoes, sweaters, coats, dresses, underwear, socks, mitts, etc.

Three layettes and three burnt out families were provided for with the help of bedding sent from Halifax. Two people were provided with slippers, dressing gown and pyjamas to go to the San. One little girl, 14 years old with rheumatic fever, has been given dressing gown, slippers and pyjamas. Two Hungarian girls were also provided with clothing.

Our Christmas boxes were packed with toys, mitts, socks for 30 families. Two families were taken care of by the Navy at Cornwallis, two dinners were provided by the Church of England in Weymouth, and the others were done by the Salvation Army in Digby.

Our Committee wishes to thank the Weymouth School, Digby School, for their boxes of toys, etc., and the Conway Club for their box of mittens, socks, and all who donated dolls and dressed them for us.

Alice Winfield,
for Disaster Relief & Welfare Committee.

also extend our thanks to Mr. Morehouse of the Digby Neck Bus Service for free transportation of parcels to and from Digby Neck, and to Thompson's Transfer for the same service to and from Halifax.

In closing this report, I should also like to express my personal thanks to all the members of our "Red Cross Family" who have worked together so wholeheartedly in the interest of the Branch throughout the past year. It is a satisfaction to have accomplished so much, and a pleasure to have been able to do it in such a spirit of friendly co-operation. Among our Red Cross members this feeling of pleasure in the work of helping others is our reward for the time expended, and I feel sure that if many others realized the satisfaction of the work they would join us at our Wednesday afternoon meetings, where a friendly group meets around the quilts and sewing machines and relaxes over our little "Ten Cent Teas." Our very efficient Quilting Committee has brought in several new members this year, and a warm welcome awaits anyone else who comes to sew or quilt, for the need is certainly as great as ever. Only last week a call was issued for more Red Cross quilts as the supply in Halifax had been completely exhausted at the time of the Springhill fire. "Across the street, across the nation, across the world" there is still need of the Red Cross — and the Red Cross worker!

Respectfully submitted,
Louise M. Warner,
Convener.

The series of messages on the Lord's Prayer was continued at the morning Baptist service by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Scott, with the theme "The Kingdom Come," showing two aspects of the kingdom — the Christ reigns on earth, and the Kingdom of Grace where Christ reigns in the hearts of men.

The message of the evening service was entitled, "The Great Divide," with Scripture reading from Genesis 4:1-7, and 1 John 3:10-12. Due to the intensity of the storm the ordinance of the Lord's Supper was postponed until next Sunday evening. Also postponed until next Sunday evening is the "fireside" meeting for the youth of the community sponsored by the Ministerial Association of Bear River, comprised of the Rev. Charles Bentley, of the Christian Advent Church; Rev. D. S. McLeod, United Church of Canada; Rev. William Ferner, Church of Christ Disciples; Rev. J. W. Scott, United Baptist Church.

Games At New Forum

St. Ann's won their second straight game in the Western Nova Scotia Intermediate league when they ran roughshod over the Yarmouth entry in the college forum to the tune of 7-2. Playing under international rules somewhat confused Yarmouth in the first period. Coupled with six penalties, with two men off at times, enabled St. Ann's to rack up a 5-1 lead.

St. Ann's scored the initial goal at 3 minutes, with Yarmouth tying it up at 8 minutes by King. Fifty seconds later Murphy, of St. Ann's, scored, followed by English with one and Nolin with two. St. Ann's scored twice in the second, goals by Murphy and Nolin. Yarmouth's Dixon scored in the third while holding St. Ann's scoreless.

Yarmouth made a comeback in the second and third period, skating well, while St. Ann's kept plugging away. The starling goal tending of Ron MacNeill, of Yarmouth, kept the scoring low after the first period after he got his second wind. Yarmouth has the makings of a good team after they get in a few practices and games. Their best line was Dixon, King and Boyd. St. Ann's Nolin starred, scoring three goals. His team mates played good sound hockey, and it was a pleasure to watch their fine passing plays.

and fery. From there we took a ferry to Ireland, where we drove around visiting Dublin, Cork, Killarney, Blarney Castle, Belfast, just to name a few; then a ferry to Scotland, with our tour ending in Edinburgh, where I spent almost two weeks during the Festival, before heading back to London. I spent some more time in London, then back to Germany, via France and Belgium, after covering a good many hundred miles and seeing so much.

If all goes according to plan, Christmas 1957 will find me on a trip to the Far East — Greece, Turkey, Israel (Bethlehem) for Christmas, Syria, Egypt, Butte.

Sounds fabulous, doesn't it? I seem to have seen so much and yet there is so much more to see. I will see Paris, Vienna, Lourdes, Brussels (site of the World Fair in '58), Spain, Portugal, the Riviera, and my time is short.

What started out as a little note has turned out a small diary, but that is what happens when I start telling about my travels. Give my best wishes to all for the new year 1958.

Next on the agenda was a trip to the Scandinavian countries — Denmark, Sweden and Norway — back to London, then from Oxford across to England

Chairman and Members
Municipal School Board of the District of Digby
Digby, Nova Scotia
Gentlemen:

We have examined the books and record of the Municipal School Board for the District of Digby for the year ended December 31, 1957, and have received all the information and explanations we have required. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of the accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary, in the circumstances.

The financial statements have been drawn up in the form prescribed by the Department of Education and Department of Municipal Affairs. The Statement of Expenditure is drawn up to show the total expenses incurred, the amount incurred within the foundation program and the amount in excess of the foundation program.

As at the date of preparation of the financial statements, certain information was not available from other school bodies or the Department of Education, this made necessary the estimation of certain costs and other factors. Tuition for the Digby Regional High School and Board of School Commissioners of the Town of Digby Common Schools has been computed by applying the actual attendance of pupils against the Estimated Costs for the year. Regional High School and Foundation Program Grants have been similarly computed for these two costs. Capital Debt Charges Grant was estimated, since the amount of cost in which the Province of Nova Scotia will participate was not available.

The operation for the year resulted in an excess of revenue over expenditure of $15,159.66. This surplus was offset by adjustments of prior years totalling $16,239.99. This resulted in a net deficit of $1,080.33.

The Capital Fund Balance Sheet is drawn up to show the valuation as at December 31, 1956, the additional capital funds expended during the year and the total valuation as at December 31, 1957. The valuation of Sectional Schools as at December 31, 1956, has been increased in order to record these schools at the valuation determined by insurance appraisals. The valuation of the Digby Regional High School as at December 31, 1957 was increased to cost per the Department of Education.

Subject to the foregoing, we report that, in our opinion, the attached Balance Sheet and Capital Fund Balance Sheet and related financial statements are properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the position and affairs of the Municipal School Board of the District of Digby as at December 31, 1957, according to the best of our information, the explanations, given to us and as shown by the books and records.

RATEPAYERS' MEETING

While all bills against the town for hospital charges in 1957 might not be in the hands of the town by the end of the year the government's desire was to pay one half of the hospital accounts for the year even if these were not received and paid by the town during the year. The government will be satisfied if only twelve months' accounts are included in the expenditure, the letter stated.

The letter further stated only one half of net expenditure would be paid. Collections made on accounts paid by the town, regardless of the year to which they apply, should be used to reduce the 1957 hospital expenditure, it was stated. This would mean the province would not be interested in recoveries made on the 1957 accounts in later years.

Grants made by the town to hospitals in 1957 will be accepted as part of the town's expenditure, it was stated, but only the amount placed in the annual estimates and actually paid could be considered.

The letter stated with respect to general grants that the province proposes to pay the same amount as in 1957 and this figure could be used for current estimates.

The Council was advised in the letter it would be unwise to make any reduction in estimates for poor relief by reason of any anticipated assistance from the province.

A letter from T. W. Cleveland, secretary of the fire department, was read at the meeting. In the letter the department stated an emergency group of firemen were stationed at the fire hall during the snow storm Saturday night. The letter stated no effort had been made by the town's streets department to clear the snow during the storm and, if a fire call had been received, this would have hampered the efforts of the department. Street Superintendent Robinson stated he had not been notified that the department had men standing by at the fire hall and, since the storm had occurred during the night, he was not aware of its severity until morning.

A report from the arbitration committee revealed that a new joint expenditure agreement had been arrived at between the committee and a committee from the municipal council. Under the new agreement, which was ratified by the meeting, the town will pay 47% of joint expenditure costs. Previous figure had been 43%.

A request from the Canadian Railway Association that the town adopt Daylight Saving Time this year for a period to coincide with railway schedules was tabled pending information concerning what other valley towns intend to do. Last year Digby agreed to adopt the railway proposal after other towns had indicated they would also do this. At the end of the season, however, many of the towns reverted to standard time before the agreed date, leaving Digby one of the only towns in the whole area to remain on daylight time until the mid October date requested by the railway association.

Street committee chairman J. W. Christie requested that the town purchase a trench digging machine. He stated some $1,800 had been paid out last year in rental for such a machine and, since considerable water main work was anticipated this year, purchase of such a digger should be made. The Council decided to table the request.

Enquiries will be made by the town concerning the matter of having a blinker light erected at the intersection of Warwick Street and Montague Row where a number of vehicles have left the road due to the sharpness of the turn. Consideration will also be given a request from the police department for a finger printing outfit, it was decided.

An annual grant of fifty dollars was asked from the town by the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society to assist the society in maintaining and improving the park at the entrance to Digby via the CPS Princess Helene. The society also asked that the town proceed with work of paving the sidewalk alongside this park from the end of the pier to connect with the sidewalk on Prince William St. It was stated this work had been promised by the town when the society began work on their entrance park project.

Permission was given the Digby General Hospital to hold a tag day on March 1st.

Town Clerk E. S. Eaton reported a check for $5,000 in taxes which had been under dispute had been received. This amount covered taxes and interest in dispute for the years 1955, 1956 and 1957.

According to the police report $144 had been collected in fines during the month of January. Twenty complaints were investigated during the month and twelve terminated. Six cases required court action and two were still pending. Five of the cases were under the criminal code. The Police Chief was given permission to attend the annual Maritime Police School.

Former Digbyite Tourney Leader

Donald Gidney, formerly of Mink Cove, Digby County, but for many years a resident of Hypoluxo, Florida, went deep sea fishing for the first time on January 13th and came home with the leadership for white marlin in the Boynton Beach Chamber of Commerce Fishing Tournament.

He battled the eight foot white marlin for fifty minutes before getting it up to the boat, "Shore Leave", skippered by Leo Garceau. The marlin weighed 90½ pounds and supplanted a catch of 69½ pounds in the six weeks old contest.

Mr. Gidney is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Gidney, of Mink Cove. For some years he, together with his brother, Sydney, carried on the business of D. & S. Gidney General Store at Sandy Cove. He later went to the United States and has Victor Cardoza from a collection of his.

Included in these is one entitled, "Conversations in Chemistry." Printed in 1830, it was the property of Josiah W. Vose of Boston, Mass., whose signature is on the fly leaf over the date of March 1831. The book was printed by Cooke & Co. in Hartford and contains thirty-eight engravings on wood.

Another of these interesting old school books is one entitled "Reading from the Best Authors." This bears the date 1865 and was authorized by Charles Tupper for use.

Included in the collection of old school books shown to the Courier by Mr. Cardoza is another entitled "A Treatise on Physical Geography." This was printed in New York in 1850 and was used in Grade VIII. The subjects listed as covered in this volume are hydrology, geology, meteorology, botany, zoology and anthropology.

Another of the 1865 school books in the collection is one bearing the title, "The Chemistry of Common Things." This book was used by Edward Thomas Holdsworth in the Digby Academy but unfortunately does not bear the written date under his signature on the fly leaf.

Included also is one of the familiar Royal Readers with date of 1889. A history of Canada, printed by the Canada Publishing Co. in 1879 is also among the collection which also includes a Barnes National Reader No. 3, printed in 1884.

HOTELS TO OPEN

James P. Richards, President of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, said the announcement was good news, especially to those directly concerned with the prospects of this year's tourist business. He expressed the hope the CPR would continue the operation of the hotels indefinitely.

The announcement concerning continued operation of the CPR hotels was not the only good news received by the people of western Nova Scotia this week. The other item was an announcement concerning the possibility of the re-establishment of boat service between Boston and Yarmouth.

Trade and Industry Minister A. E. Manson stated Monday negotiations have reached the "draft agreement" stage between the Eastern Shipping Corporation of Miami, Florida, and the provincial government concerning the establishment of summer boat service between Boston and Yarmouth.

The Minister stated a draft agreement had been forwarded to the corporation at Miami. He said no answer to the provincial proposal has as yet been received but he was hopeful the negotiations would be successfully concluded. He expressed the hope the draft agreement would be accepted and the service resumed. He stated financial assistance from the provincial government would be involved but declined to name the amount. The annual provincial subsidy before the summer service was abandoned by Eastern Steamship Lines was $50,000.

According to an announcement yesterday from Montreal, C. M. Rennie, Kentville, has been appointed manager of CPR hotels in Nova Scotia.

During the winter season Mr. Rennie's headquarters will be the Cornwallis Inn, which operates on a year round basis and Congratulations and best wishes are extended Captain and Mrs. Bernard Longmire, Granville Ferry, who celebrated their 62nd wedding anniversary on Monday, February 10th.

Purple and White Hi-lites

During the activity periods on Wednesday afternoon, February 5, the students enrolled in the Driver Education course attended a special class.

On behalf of the Driver Education students Harland Elliott presented Mr. McInnes with a gift in appreciation for the time and energy he has spent as director of the course.

Following the presentation, the students were addressed by several speakers in connection with motor vehicles.

Mr. J. J. Brittain, insurance agent, spoke to the students about property damage, liability and collision.

Corporal Bryant and Constable McKiel of the Digby RCMP also addressed the students. Corporal Bryant urged the necessity of good sportsmanship on the highway, while Constable McKiel outlined the purpose and meaning of speed limits.

Mr. Clyde Douglas, director of Highway Safety for the province of Nova Scotia, spoke about good driving attitudes, stressing the fact that a skillful driver is not necessarily a good one.

Mr. Millard Wagstaff, also from the Safety Division, did not speak as originally planned due to lack of time.

During the afternoon of February 7 the Digby Forum was the scene of the first game in the Headmaster's League between the high school hockey teams from Digby and Middleton.

The Digby team scored a 5-0 shut-out over Middleton. David Webber and Jim VanTassel scored 2 goals each, and Alfred Cowan scored 1.

Notices will soon be mailed for February due subscriptions to The Digby Courier. Why not pay now? Also, how about the few January which are not paid?

Letters to the Editor

Digby, N. S., February 6, 1958.

Editor of The Digby Courier, Digby, N. S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

My me my, to an old feller like me, it seems that A Disgusted Taxpayer in your good paper this morning was a little hard on some of the representatives of the people of Digby in his or her letter. If you want my opinion they all do alright for the salary they get to run the town.

Now take them parking meters. A Disgusted Taxpayer is all wrong there too. I was all for them when they were put in and I think they do some good for us when we want to do some shopping down town.

They might cost a few pennies, but you don't have to walk a mile to get your stores for the week. Imagine carrying heavy things like groceries up Digby hills. Then with the cry about Digby's economy or whatever they call it, we called it hard times, if it ever gets so bad that we got to use a horse and wagon then we got the meters for hitchin up the horse. That sounds something like good horse sense to me. Yes we ought to keep them meters as long as there is a shop down town or a last fish in the sea. We ought to keep them, I say, even if we aint got a string left to tie up the fish out of the sea. I won't say until the last fish smell has gone out to sea. That wouldn't even make fish sense.

A Disgusted Taxpayer is all wrong. A Disgusted Taxpayer should be glad to have meters to turn and turn them himself or herself.

A Humble Old Taxpayer.

Dear Madam:

After reading the letter in your last issue, signed "Disgusted Taxpayer" I, too, am also disgusted.

My disgust is with the childish and unreasoning outburst of your correspondent against the police committee and town council of Digby with respect to the operation of the parking meters.

Surely, Disgusted Taxpayer is not really serious when he puts forward the claim that police officers should look after "turning up" the money in his parking meter for him. The fallacies of any argument to support such a claim are so self evident that they do not require rebuttal.

To bolster his claim however, your correspondent has made some very serious accusations against members of the town council and thrown around statements about public opinion in this matter with what amounts to complete abandon.

Such phrases as "flagrant misuse of authority," "using nothing short of dictatorial powers" and the like are uncalled for in this situation. The town council is elected, whether by vote or by acclamation, to look after the affairs of the town to the best of their ability. In the present instance it would appear they are trying to do this.

There is nothing in the law to justify the course of action desired by your correspondent and the council members are justified in resisting the pressures being placed upon them without having to submit to attacks such as have been launched by "Disgusted Taxpayer."

It is well to remember that what is right is not always what is popular although, in this case, there would seem to be good grounds even for challenging your correspondent's claim that 85% of the people are opposed to the action of the council committee.

Your correspondent would do well to remember that the council is elected to legislate, not only in the interest of those who are fortunate to have cars to park in Digby, but all the citizens. Surely our police department has more to do than to patrol the town turning money up in parking meters. Police protection is paid for by all taxpayers and time taken to see to it that "Disgusted Taxpayer" is relieved of a duty accepted by others is time stolen from legitimate police work.

No, it seems to me if there is any fault in the matter at all it is in the failure of those charged with the responsibility to fully enforce the regulations concerning the parking meters.

Raele Douthwaite, deputy civil defence co-ordinator, spoke to the council and explained what is expected to be done in the Municipality of Clare in regards of their participation in civil defence.

August 15, Acadian religious fete, and Boxing Day have been declared as civic holidays in the Municipality of Clare.

Starting with a small group of employees, the plant was reopened and expanded despite many handicaps and advanced to the point where the company employed a sizeable staff of salesmen.

The plant originally established by T. P. Warner in 1939, manufactured the famous Fairmile submarine chasers for the Canadian Navy during the Second World War. Following the war the plant was closed, but was re-opened five years ago by a new company of Nova Scotia businessmen headed by Mr. Guptill.

A company spokesman in Halifax said the firm expected to build 100 boats a month this year and also hoped to increase furniture production. Halifax directors of the company include Reginald Evans and D. L. Calkin.

The firemen, aided by a light wind, prevented the blaze from spreading to nearby homes and business establishments.

The plant had a payroll of a quarter of a million dollars last year and employed men and women from Weymouth and surrounding communities. Total population of Weymouth is slightly under 700.

The political pot in the federal constituency of Digby-Annapolis-Kings is beginning to come to a boil, it has been learned here with the news that the Liberals have scheduled a nominating convention for Tuesday, February 18th, at the regional high school in Middleton.

Although it is not yet definitely known if Air Vice Marshall A. L. Morfee of Granville, unsuccessful Liberal candidate in the federal election of last June, will allow his name to go before the convention this time, it is understood there are a number of other prospects in the Valley area being prominently mentioned as possible Liberal standard bearers for this constituency in the March 31st election.

High on the list of these is the name of Eric W. Balcorn, MLA for Kings North in the provincial legislature. Mr. Balcorn contested the federal seat of Digby-Annapolis-Kings for the Liberals in 1953. He was defeated by the present federal member, Hon. G. C. Nowlan, by some 1,200 votes.

Other names being prominently mentioned as possible Liberal candidates for the March 31st election in this constituency are Eric Kinsman, Wolfville lawyer; Victor Cardoza, former MLA for Digby; Mayor Gladys Porter of Kentville; John R. Nichols, who recently established a law practice in Digby; and H. B. Reagh, former Mayor of Middleton.

Although date of the Progressive-Conservative nominating convention could not be learned locally, it is understood the Hon. George Nowlan's name will be the only one to go before the convention.

The final game of the morning, the Maple Leafs, as the result of Winston Winchester's 4 goal scoring spree and Tommy Amirault's singleton, beat the Red Wings 5-2. Red Wing scorers were Rod Fredericks and D. Burnham.

Next Saturday the league will be in action again. Games will be as listed on the posted schedules in the classrooms of the Digby School system.

Fire Destroys Weymouth Plant

A $250,000 flash-fire late last Thursday afternoon levelled the boat and furniture plant of Weymouth Industries Ltd., leaving 100 men jobless.

The factory was this western Nova Scotia town's largest employer. The fire broke out about 5:05 p.m. in the furniture finishing room. Firemen from Weymouth, Digby, Meteghan and Cornwallis fought the flames, but the plant was in ruins an hour later. Cause of the fire was not known.

F. R. Guptill, Halifax, president and general manager of the plant, was in Florida at the time of the fire. L. C. Ruby, local manager of the plant, said "every effort will be made to have the plant rebuilt and in operation as soon as possible."

Five minutes after the fire was discovered all the men were out of the buildings. No injuries were reported.

The mill, whose products are known throughout the United States and Canada, manufactured pleasure boats and household furniture.

The buildings which covered more than two acres contained boat building sheds, milling departments, upholstering shops, and wood drying kilns.

Boats and furniture destroyed by the fire were valued at $150,000, along with the plant's machinery.

The plant originally established by T. P. Warner in 1939, manufactured the famous Fairmile submarine chasers for the Canadian Navy during the Second World War. Following the war the plant was closed, but was re-opened five years ago by a new company of Nova Scotia businessmen headed by Mr. Guptill.

The plant had a payroll of a quarter of a million dollars last year and employed men and women from Weymouth and surrounding communities. Total population of Weymouth is slightly under 700.

Near the end of the war a huge building was added to the plant and RCAF marine division boats were to be built. Only one was completed when hostilities ended.

Scholarship Plan Announced By Leonard

The Department of Education will inaugurate a series of measures to encourage more students of high quality to enter the teaching profession and to relieve the present critical shortage of high school teachers, the Hon. M. S. Leonard, Minister of Education, announced recently.

Included in these plans are the granting of $70,000 in scholarships to students at the Normal College and in the education departments of universities, and an emergency training program for high school teachers.

Mr. Leonard stated that a survey made during the past month of the probable requirements in high schools next year, allowing for placing of 126 students now enrolled in teacher training departments of universities, indicates there will be a net shortage of approximately 70 high school teachers next year. New high schools will be opened in Fairview, Lunenburg Centre, Canning, Pugwash, Parrsboro, Judique and Margaree Forks, probably requiring more new teachers than have been needed in any one previous year. Additional elementary teachers will be required also for new consolidated schools and to accommodate the continued increase in enrollment in the public schools. Last year the public school enrollment increased by 3500 students.

The scholarships include 150 scholarships of $300, each for (Please turn to page 8)

Favors Cocktail Lounges

By a vote of 22 to 1 the Digby Board of Trade here last night voiced their desire to have provincial liquor laws changed to permit cocktail lounges in first class hotels in the province.

In presenting a resolution calling for the change C. M. Levy, past president of the Digby Board of Trade, stated he had been informed that, if the suggested change in the province's liquor laws was not made, this would be the last year for the operation of the CPR hotels under any ownership.

Mr. Levy said the change being suggested would have no effect on the people of the community nor on the young people of the area. It is necessary, he said, however, if the tourist industry in this province is to be successful.

The resolution, which was moved by K. V. Young, read as follows: "Whereas the tourist industry is of great importance to this province and whereas the Liquor Control Act does not permit the establishment of cocktail lounges and other facilities to cater to the tourists, who expect such privileges; Therefore Be It Resolved that this Board of Trade go on record as being in favour of an amendment to the Liquor Control Act permitting the sale of liquor in first class hotels under appropriate supervision."

In seconding the resolution Dr. P. C. Outhouse stated he felt what was desired was similar legislation to that now in effect in Manitoba. Such legislation, he said, would effect only a small number of hotels in the province who would be able to qualify.

About This and That

Express Through The Press

Business news affects the economy of Canada to a high degree and businessmen are obligated to cooperate with the press by making available newsworthy information, Ira G. Needles, president of B. F. Goodrich Canada Limited, told the Brantford Board of Trade.

"Both daily and weekly newspapers are determined to present both sides of any situation but businessmen must learn to trust and respect the press and not hide behind the deplorable phrase 'no comment'," said Mr. Needles. He urged business and industrial leaders to take the press into their confidence in order to give Canadians a true picture of what he termed "Canada's dynamic future prosperity".

The rubber executive cautioned against confusing news with advertising. "The news story will appear in the news columns but product and sales stories belong in the paid advertising columns", he said.

Mr. Needles predicted a consumer "break-through" of major proportions early in the second half of the year. "Industry is presently gearing for high rates of production and we are optimistic about future business levels. Canadians are demanding a high standard of living and business spokesmen will be doing a real service to the nation by talking confidently about their plans for growth and prosperity. Through the business columns of the press, a re-kindling of the spark of faith in Canada's progress could take place", he stated. He urged the members of the Board of Trade to "stand up and be counted" in expressing their views on community problems with courage and conviction through the media of the press.

Report From Parliament Hill

By Hon. George C. Nowlan

February 4, 1953.

Saturday, the first day of February, will long be remembered by all those who were on the floor or in the galleries of the House of Commons. It was the longest day the House ever sat—that is, it seemed the longest because of the tension. There was a feeling in the air that something was going to happen, but no one knew exactly what. The galleries were packed from the opening minute at eleven o'clock and long queues stood in line all day hoping to find seats that someone else might vacate.

One thing was obvious when the House opened at eleven o'clock. The Prime Minister was not in his seat. The Opposition spokesman asked where the Prime Minister was. Mr. Green, the House Leader, said he didn't know, but the members of the Press Gallery had been ready for this eventually. It was known that the Viscount plane, which the Prime Minister has been using lately was warmed up and standing on the runway at Uplands Airport. It was also known that the pilot had filed a flight plan giving his destination as Winnipeg, but it also was known that the Governor General was in Quebec and newspapermen were apparently suspicious that like Wrongway Corrigan the plane destined for Winnipeg might land in Quebec. Their sleuths at Uplands could get no satisfaction. One of them had a brainwave and called the airport at Quebec and asked a simple question—"What time is the Prime Minister's plane expected to arrive at Quebec?" Immediately the answer came back "at 12:10". In the meantime both Mr. Pearson and Mr. Stan Knowles received notes from their friends in the Press Gallery and Mr. Green who was still parrying questions as to the Prime Minister's whereabouts, was informed by Mr. Knowles with a bland smile that the P.M. had just landed at the Quebec airport.

To everyone then it was obvious that Mr. Diefenbaker had gone to consult with His Excellency and that out of respect for the Governor General he, of course, had been unable to say anything about dissolution until Mr. Massey had given his approval.

The Prime Minister returned to the House of Commons building at 4:00 o'clock and went immediately to his office. In the meantime a debate was droning on in the House with respect to the Government's use of Governor General's warrants to pay the expenses of the Hungarian immigrants. At the entrance end to the Chamber there is a row of ground glass windows. Outside these windows it was known that there were scores of photographers waiting to take a picture of the Prime Minister as he came down the stairs to enter the House of Commons. At a quarter to six the flashlights started popping out in the corridor and the lights were reflected through the ground glass like flashes of lightning in a summer's tempest. The Prime Minister was detained there for ten minutes and finally entered the House at five minutes to six. In the meantime the Right Honourable James Gardiner, that doughty old warrior, was making a free-wheeling political speech accusing the Conservatives of all of the sins in the Decalogue and Mr. Gardiner continued to hold the floor until six o'clock. Ordinarily the House rises at that hour on Saturday evening and when the P.M. got up to speak some of the Liberals objected and tried to hawl him down. But there is a convention, if not a rule, in the House of Commons that after the closing hour the Government Leader should announce the business for "the next day". It was pretty obvious that what the Prime Minister was going to announce was that there would be no next day, but nevertheless under that convention he had to be given a hearing. He read a short statement and then said that the House had been dissolved at 6:03. At least the newspapers afterwards reported that it had been dissolved at 6:03, although I do not think the Prime Minister himself mentioned that time. Since the House was no longer in existence, the Speaker immediately left the chair and the Opposition Leaders left the Chamber muttering angrily that they had been "gagged".

Mr. Blair Fraser in his Nations Broadcast that night summed up the situation in a humorous but not entirely accurate culinary of the arguments used by the Prime Minister and the Leader of the Opposition. Mr. Fraser said that the Leader of the Opposition had stated that the Government was so bad and it had done so much harm to Canada that the Liberals did not want to defeat it and felt that it should stay in office to continue to do more harm until some indefinite time in the future. On the other hand, the Prime Minister had said that this Government had done so much good and that it had accomplished more in six months than any other Government ever had and yet was so frustrated by the Opposition that it had to get a new mandate from the country in order to do something. And so the argument will rage during the next eight weeks.

At the same time there was going on in Ottawa the annual meeting of the Young Progressive Conservatives and the Conservative Student Federation. This was undoubtedly the largest political gathering of youth ever held in the country. Over a thousand were in attendance. Hundreds of them lined the corridors outside of the House of Commons and gave the Prime Minister a tremendous cheer as he left the Chamber. And later on that night he spoke to them at their annual banquet and said "the campaign is now on".

At least it was an inspiring background against which to open the campaign. Ordinarily we think of young people as not particularly interested in politics and to see over a thousand of them gathered together was An inspiring sight to anyone interested in good Government regardless of its politics.

The Conservatives will, of course, hope to hold the seats which they now have and to make substantial gains in Quebec and in Western Canada. The Liberals will hope that the Conservatives are not returned with a clear majority so that they can be defeated at another time in the not distant future when circumstances may be more propitious for the Liberal Party.

In any event, this will be the last Report from Parliament Hill for this session. During these weeks I have tried to give some background as to what is going on in Parliament but I have felt that as a Member of the Cabinet I could not write as freely as I have been able to do in preceding years. However, if Providence so ordains, and if the Editors are still willing to publish this column, I hope to be writing it again after the 5th of May.

STRANGE Tales

ABOUT PROTESTANTS

Strange tales are being circulated about Bible-believing Protestants.

The rumor has been circulated that these Protestants do not belong to the "true church." It is being said that the Protestant faith started in the 16th century. You can hear it said that this Protestant faith was founded by "corrupt" leaders...

The Bible gives us an accurate account of how the Christian Church began. The early Christians obeyed Christ's command to "preach the Gospel to every creature." The Bible says they "went everywhere preaching the Word." As a result, groups of Christians sprang up all over the known world.

These scattered groups of believers, independent of one another, were united only in their faith in the Bible message... that "Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures." (1 Corinthians 15:3)

You may have other questions about the true New Testament Church, and about membership in a local Bible-believing church. Many of your questions are answered in an interesting FREE pamphlet which will be sent to you if you mail the following:

To Whom It May Concern

It has been brought to my attention that some are making me an escape for not using our God given ways, and means of healing for our bodies.

I wish to emphatically state that I believe, and teach, that our Hospitals, Doctors, Specialists, and everything in connection with medicine, and surgery, are proper channels of bodily healing.

I am NOT a healer. I am sorry if elements in my congregation are in any way opposed to any of our Christian institutions, especially those who daily strive to alleviate pain and suffering.

Our branch of the Christian Church is in no way responsible for warped ideas of those who gather with us.

We take this opportunity to declare that we do not look favourably on any group that would preach or teach against our advanced civilization.

While we absolutely hold no ill will against any sect or creed, we have found it necessary to have these misapprehensions cleared up. I am prepared to assist at times, day or night, to co-operate with any Christian, Municipal, Philanthropic, or any group that works for the greater good of all.

I, therefore, solicit the good will of Digby, and Digby county citizens in my work.

May our Heavenly Father guide you all, bless you and prosper you in this part of His vineyard.

Signed Reverend R. G. Pike,

Life Insurance aids Heart Foundation

Many people are making good recoveries from severe heart attacks. New advances in medical science and surgery are saving their lives. However, many more lives may be saved if, through research, the causes of heart disease can be determined.

Research of this nature is a long range project. It requires highly trained workers and the most modern equipment. These cost money.

Last year, with timely financial assistance from the Life Insurance Companies, the National Heart Foundation of Canada began to correlate and step up the tempo of research into the causes of heart disease.

This is just one of many ways in which the Life Insurance Companies in Canada are encouraging medical research that will help Canadians live longer and more happily.

DEPARTMENT OF FISHERIES' publications are used by educational authorities across the country. Write to The Queen's Printer, Ottawa, for the booklets shown here. Available to the general public, 25¢ each.

Putting fascination into education

CREATING A GREATER public awareness of our country's fishery resources is one of the responsibilities of the Department of Fisheries of Canada. Its Information and Educational Service seeks to show present-day Canadians how this natural heritage is being maintained for future generations through proper conservation and management.

This work is carried out through the daily and weekly press; radio and television; magazines; educational publications; recipe pamphlets for housewives; exhibitions; permanent fishery displays; film and filmstrip showings; and illustrated educational talks to groups of fishermen.

Such is the standard of the Department's booklets that they have found a ready acceptance by school and other authorities. Most of this material is obtainable by students, teachers, private organizations and individuals.

CARS ARE MY LIFE

by Ken Hankinson

Hidden away on a ranch near Hollywood is one of America's most amazing, and valuable, used car lots. We're pretty proud of our used cars but this one, we'll have to admit, has us beaten all hollow.

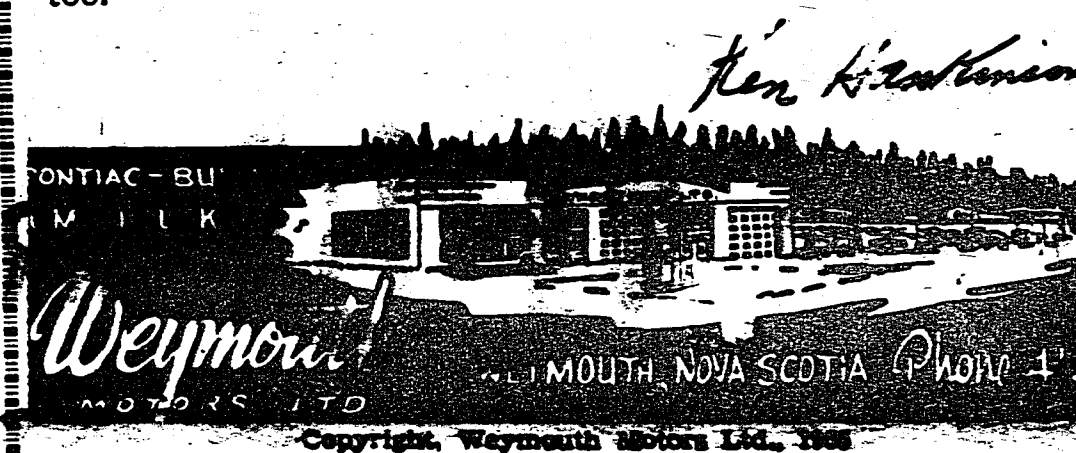

No one except a few hand picked actors and directors and a few mechanics is ever permitted to look over the Warner Bros. collection of 160 antique and foreign cars. There are rows and rows of them, a 1903 White, 1906 Franklin, 1904 Tourist (with a fringe on top and a door in the back), a 1914 Mercer and so on. The most modern of the collection is a 1938 model which is brought out for movies with scenes depicting pre-war days.

For that, of course, is the reason Warner Bros. maintains this unique collection, to give reality to pictures of other days. There are also, so a friend tells me, antique foreign cars in the collection. A 1903 Renault taxi, the French Peugeot coupe, an early British Austin and a German Open.

Every one of them is in perfect running order and gleams from careful attention. In fact, a man has to be assigned to throw mud on them so they'll look more realistic in the movies.

The star of the collection is a 1900 Stevens-Duryea, a two-passenger runabout with huge spoke wheels and a tiny engine. It, too, runs perfectly.

This is an outstanding example that with careful attention and regular servicing an automobile will last a mighty long time after one owner has passed it along to another. That's the basis of the used car business. Drop in and browse around anytime, let us show you cars that can fit any taste. We'll tailor terms to fit your individual budget too.

If, when they were first put in, the meter regulation had been enforced with zeal the public would have learned to use them according to the law and these problems would not have arisen.

Your correspondent lists three solutions to the problem. The second, recommending revolution, is unworthy of mention; the first, suggesting removal of the meters completely, overlooks obvious facts. It is stated that the times Digby has a parking problem can be counted on two hands. That is quite unrealistic, even with the meters. To take them away would merely restore the problem that created them in the first place.

The third solution suggested by the writer has merit. He urges creation of interest in civic affairs sufficient to bring about elections for public office. This is good but only if it results in the election of strong men, unwilling to be swayed by every whim of public opinion. There is no room for weakness or vacillation in our councillors. They are in office not to lead the popularity parade but to do a job. Their measure of success may very well be their unpopularity with such people as "Disgusted Taxpayer."

Yours truly,
Another Taxpayer.

The Editor,
The Digby Courier.
Dear Madam:
A note to all back home in Digby.

Last week I had the pleasure of being able to enjoy a Nova Scotian apple once again. They are for sale in the shops here at Lawrence Weston, Bristol. They retail in the shops over here for 1 shilling and 9 pence a pound, that is about 31 cents.

I am enclosing a label off of a box that has travelled so far from the place they were gathered.

We live about a mile and a half from the Avonmouth docks, where ships from many ports of the world call regularly.

Last summer I had the great pleasure of enjoying the company of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Vincent, Grace and Ramona. It was grand being able to speak to someone direct from home.

I would like to say hello to all the folks I know back in Digby. I enjoy receiving the Digby Courier which my Mum, Dad, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Robar, have sent on to me.

I hope some day to be able to come back to Digby for a visit. No matter where one goes,

ADDRESSES KIWANIS ON CANCER

The weekly supper meeting of the Weymouth Kiwanis Club, presided over by the president, Mr. Basil Belliveau, was held on Monday evening at the Goodwin Hotel at 6:30 p.m. There was a fairly good attendance.

The guest speaker, Mr. Gordon Campbell, president of the local Cancer Unit, gave a very interesting talk on cancer. Mr. W. B. Hamilton introduced the guest speaker and he was thanked by Mr. L. C. Ruby on behalf of the club.

There is no place on earth like home. I am pleased to say that I enjoy living in Bristol, which is a lovely place.

I hope my friends will drop me a line, as I love getting letters from home.

Yours sincerely,

Mrs. A. Allen.

P.S. I wish the staff of The Digby Courier a Very Happy New Year.

10 February, 1958.

Editor of Digby Courier.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

I noticed in your last issue the story about the old books.

We too have various old books, but I value most of all an old paper, "The Christian Messenger", dated May 19, 1853, in which the death of my great grandfather, Aaron Hardy 3rd, is recorded.

The same paper also contains a short letter from my great grandfather, Benjamin Hardy.

"The Maritime Baptist" is the successor to "The Christian Messenger".

Hazel Clayton.

Mrs. Margaret Baxter, Windsor, and Mrs. Palmer, Berwick, spent several days recently with their sister, Mrs. H. B. Grant.

The secretary of the board was asked to contact the office

COCKTAIL LOUNGES

The resolution and introduced a motion calling for a vote by ballot on the question. He stated the matter was one of which those present should be able to vote by secret ballot. His motion was passed unanimously.

Mr. Snow then stated he felt the matter was of most serious importance and cited figures to show the effect beverage alcohol was having on the economy of the land. He stated relaxing of liquor laws would eventually result in such a situation that absolute prohibition would have to be imposed to undo the ills created. He said board members should look at the matter, not only in the light of immediate effects but also the effect action would have over the years.

He stated if the hotels of the province were forced to resort to the sale of intoxicating liquors in order to stay in business they were losing sight of the primary purpose of their existence. He questioned the argument that it was necessary to have liquor available in hotels in order for the tourist trade to be successful.

Mr. Snow concluded by observing that he felt notice should have been given that the resolution concerning the cocktail lounges was to be presented to the meeting so that more people could have been present to express their views on the matter.

After the resolution had been passed it was decided to send copies to all trade boards and town councils in the province and also to the Hon. E. D. Halliburton, Minister in charge of the administration of the Liquor Control Act; Hon. M. S. Leonard, Education Minister and Digby M.L.A., and to APEC.

The secretary of the board was asked to contact the office of the Unemployment Insurance Commission in Yarmouth concerning the matter of alleged delays in securing unemployment benefits by claimants in the Digby area. At the last meeting of the board a letter was ordered sent to the UIC asking that a representative be sent to Digby for at least a day each week to process local claims.

Rene Richards, representative of the Teamsters International Union, stated he had been approached by a number of unemployed who stated their claims had been allowed to stand for weeks before being looked after and that, in several cases, benefit time had been lost to claimants because of delays in processing.

It was stated by Victor Cardoza the matter was a serious one since in the case of many claimants they had no reserves on which to draw after becoming unemployed and failure to secure prompt handling of their claims resulted in severe hardship.

Guy VanTassel stated many claims were delayed in processing because of errors made in filling the claims. He said he knew of such cases and, when the errors were rectified, payment was made promptly.

H. M. Warne reported to the meeting on a visit to APEC officials and Hon. E. A. Manson, Minister of Trade and Industry, by the Industrial Committee of the Digby trade board. Mr. Warne stated as a result of discussions at these meetings it was felt a committee, to be known as the "Economic Committee" of the board should be organized to deal with matters affecting the economy of the area and to discuss these with APEC and provincial officials.

The meeting approved the setting up of this committee and elected H. M. Warne, J. P. Richards, Mrs. H. E. Anthony, Mrs. Reigh Jayne, F. C. Irvin, C. M. Levy, A. L. Robinson, Guy VanTassel, R. O. Wright and Victor Cardoza as members. The committee will choose its own chairman.

C. D. Snow, chairman of the Fisheries Committee, reported on efforts being made to have the spur pier in Digby "ballasted" in order to provide more protection for the fishing fleet which uses this port. It was decided to contact the Department of Public Works regarding this matter, urging prompt attention to the requests that had been made.

President V. G. Snow reported he had been advised more roadside tables would be placed in this area for the summer season. In the matter of improvement to the entrances to the town he stated provincial officials informed him they had not been contacted in this. L. M. Saunders stated the matter was now being looked into by the highway engineer.

It was decided to send a letter to Mr. Rennie, newly-appointed manager of the Digby Pines Hotel, expressing the board's pleasure concerning the fact a decision had been made to re-open the Pines for the summer and assuring Mr. Rennie of the board's desire to do their best to assist in making the enterprise successful.

Church Holds Annual Meet

The annual congregational meeting of the United Church at Granville Ferry was held on January 21 at 6.30. The business of the evening was preceded by a delicious supper served by the ladies of the congregation. Following supper all present were welcomed by Rev. C. H. Gough who called on Miss Laura Hardy, secretary of the congregational meeting, to read the minutes of the previous meeting. The presenting of reports showed that excellent progress had been made during the year. The grand total raised for all purposes by the congregation amounted to $4,199.00. The Missionary & Maintenance of which Mrs. K. L. Oliver is treasurer, reached a record figure of $359. The Friendly Circle Woman's Association report was given by the president, Mrs. F. L. Fields. This report showed that excellent work had been done by the ladies, with receipts for the year amounting to $336.

The W.M.S. report was given by Mrs. Walter Milo, while Mr. John Gillatt gave the report of the Men's Club. In the absence of the treasurer of the Committee of Stewards, Mr. J. A. Ruffee due to illness, this report was given by Mrs. Ruffee. This report showed the church ending its year's work with a substantial balance.

The report of the Trustee Board gave as the highlight of the year the installation of a new oil unit, heating both the main church auditorium and the church basement. Other general improvements have been made to the church property. Centa-day boxes distributed to the congregation in '57 to help defray the cost of heating the church, brought in a total of over fifty dollars. The congregation authorized the purchase of new gowns for the choir in 1958. Another highlight of the meeting was the adopting by the congregation of the Every Family Plan of the church paper. This means that a church paper, either the Observer or the United Churchman will go into every home. The subscription rate for this Plan is one dollar per family per year. The cost will be met by the church who in turn asks all who can to reimburse the Board of Stewards. A hearty vote of thanks to all officers and workers of the congregation, and to all who had aided the work in any way was proposed by the minister. Mr. R. S. Meisner tendered a vote of thanks to Rev. C. H. Gough for his work during the year.

The will of the people is the only legitimate foundation of any government, and to protect its free expression should be our first object. — Thomas Jefferson.

SCHOLARSHIP PLAN

students with Grade 12 who plan to enter the Provincial Normal College. These will be awarded on the basis of academic ability, financial need, and suitable personality for teaching. The scholarships are in addition to the interest-free loans in amounts up to $500. now available from the department. Both scholarship and non-scholarship candidates will be eligible for the loans as heretofore.

Fifty scholarships of $500. each will be available to students enrolling for the B.Ed. degree in the six universities co-operating with the Education Department in teacher training — Dalhousie, Acadia, St. Francis Xavier, Saint Mary's, Mount Allison and Mount Saint Vincent College. These also will be awarded on the basis of scholarship, financial need, and suitable personal characteristics for teaching. The department will continue to pay the tuition fees of all students taking the B.Ed. course and these students are eligible also for the interest-free loans from the department.

The emergency training program will be conducted in conjunction with the department's regular summer school at Dalhousie university. Its initial purpose is to attract into the profession persons holding university degrees in arts, science or commerce, who have graduated prior to 1958 and who now may be working in other occupations. The course will be open also to 1958 graduates who are unable for personal or financial reasons, to take the regular B.Ed. course in the next academic year.

The emergency training course will comprise a 10 weeks' session, beginning June 1 and ending August 8, followed by a further five weeks of training in the summer of 1959. Those completing the ten weeks' course will be eligible for an Interim Professional Certificate of Class III, which will be made permanent on the completion of the second five weeks' course in 1959. The basic salary scale for Professional Certificate of Class III is from $2400. to $3600. per annum. Holders of this license will be eligible also for an additional $300. salary, supported by the Department of Education. If it is approved by school boards. The indications are that most of the school boards will adopt the government-supported increment of $300.

Full information concerning the scholarships will be sent to all public schools and universities in the province. Those interested in attending the Normal

College should write to the principal of that institution at Truro, and university students should confer with the professors of education at their respective institutions. Applications for admission to the emergency training course should be directed to the Registrar, Nova Scotia Summer School, Department of Education, Halifax.

Digby, N. S.,
Feb. 14th/58.
Dear Editor —
On reading my paper and listening to the radio news, I, too, would like to voice my opinion on the temperance question if I may. As I see it from the different viewpoints of persons who are for the sale of liquors these persons are not putting first things first, they are interested only in the revenue received from it.

Now, at this time I am thinking in particular of the recent Board of Trade meeting held here in Digby.

The same cry rings out. The three C.P.R. hotels cannot afford to operate unless they are granted licenses to have cocktail lounges.

It really is too bad when a public service thinks it has to depend on liquor revenue for continued operation of its business. It might seem alright for those concerned to say our younger people will not be subject to more temptations.

Here is where our churches need to voice their opinion in the matter. People get the wrong idea here too, for when we speak of the churches we mean the people, not just the ministers.

We in the churches who are against this problem should get together with our ministers and show our opposition in the interest of our younger members.

The churches today are showing very little, if any, opposition to the liquor question. We need more Perry Rockwoods, who will have the courage to make a stand for the right, regardless of whose toes have to be stepped on.

It might be well if we all remind ourselves of our obligation by reading St. Paul's advice to the Romans, Chap. 14, verse 13: "Let no man put a stumbling block, or an occasion to fall in his brother's way."

An Interested Parent,
Mrs. Oakley Turnbull.

February 17, 1958.

The Editor,
Digby, N. S.

Dear Madam Editor:

Heartiest congratulations to the Digby Board of Trade for taking a firm stand on the subject of cocktail lounges in Nova Scotia hotels. No unfair criticism of Mr. Vincent Snow and his viewpoint is intended. We live in a democracy and everyone is entitled to profess their own point of view. It is the writer's opinion that there has been more woolly headed thinking on this matter than almost any provincial issue. The real issue appears to be not whether the majority of adults in Nova Scotia are going to drink alcoholic beverages but where and in what surroundings?

Ever since the original plebiscite was held in Digby about 30 years ago which, if successful, would have given the hotels an opportunity to sell alcoholic beverages, minority groups have clamored for exclusion of such outlets in one community after another. When a minority tries to force total abstinence on the majority such an attempt is doomed to failure. Nevertheless this has been the objective of the Nova Scotia Sons of Temperance organization.

In most mature and civilized countries of the Western world the freedom to purchase various forms of alcoholic beverages by the bottle, or in decent surroundings by the glass, is accepted as naturally as the right to buy cigarettes or go to a movie or buy a meal. Are we to believe that Nova Scotia is one of the few places in which adults are incapable of drinking in moderation? Surely this is the ridiculous state of affairs on the face of it and correction should come in time for the 1958 Tourist season. Opening of cocktail lounges in hotels will not be of any great interest to the average Nova Scotian in a direct sense as a consumer. Prices to be charged would of necessity make it economically uninviting to him. The youth of our Province would have no more access to cocktail lounges than they have to taverns or as customers of Liquor Commission stores.

The sooner we recognize that there is nothing wrong or indecent about the normal and moderate drinking of alcoholic beverages and accept the opportunity as commonplace, the sooner will people treat that opportunity with respect and

Angus Elderkin Liberals' Choice

Angus Elderkin, prominent Wolfville farmer, was the unanimous choice of the Liberal nominating convention in Mid-dleton Tuesday night to be standard bearer for the party in the March 31st federal election in the constituency of Digby-Annapolis-Kings.

Mr. Elderkin, whose name was the only one to come before the convention, was nominated by Victor Cardoza, former Digby M.L.A., and his nomination was seconded by Mayor M. S. Horsburgh, of Berwick.

Following his nomination Mr. Elderkin told the convention audience, numbering in excess of six hundred, that "I hate to run against my old friend, George Nowlan, for we have been close friends for years . . . but we'll forget all that as of tonight."

Mr. Elderkin spoke briefly. He said he had given long and careful thought to allowing his name to be presented as a candidate for many reasons, quite a few of which were personal, he pledged "the best I can do for this riding and this province" if he was sent to Ottawa and said in the difficult "winter campaign" preceding the federal election on March 31 there would be "no rum and no money."

He elaborated on this statement by saying that in the old days such had been the policy with most political parties but he felt people should be interested in elections and their right to vote as citizens for the good of their community and their country. He said he knew every nook and cove of Annapolis and Kings and a good part of Digby counties but he would do his best in spite of difficult and uncertain travel to get around. Mr. Elderkin was brought to the platform with much ceremony and sat beside Mr. Hicks.

The Liberal candidate is a graduate of Acadia University and a veteran of World War I. For many years he has been active in community endeavours in Kings County, particularly the Home & School organization. He defeated Revenue Minister George Nowlan in the general election of 1949 and went to Ottawa as M.P. only to return after a new election had been ordered because of a dispute concerning certain service votes cast in the election and lost to Nowlan in a by-election.

Among other speakers at Tuesday night's convention was T. A. M. Kirk, senior federal Liberal member for Nova Scotia in the House of Commons. Mr. Kirk charged Prime Minister Diefenbaker with breaking all the rules and traditions of House closing with the manner in which he dissolved Parliament and said no such high-handed action had taken place in British history since the days of Oliver Cromwell.

Mr. Kirk said that Finance Minister Fleming had produced no accounting record of the nation since the Progressive Conservatives took charge and that "today no one knows whether we are over-spent or under-spent." He said that "we have no budget or fiscal forecast for 1958-59" which he said was less than an incompetent manner in which to operate a country.

Provincial Liberal leader, Henry Hicks, spoke at some length and dealt with fiscal policies of the present federal Conservative administration. He also spoke of the attitude of both the federal Conservatives and the Stanfield government concerning the unemployment situation.

Peter Nicholson, M.L.A., took the platform and said with conviction that "the Tories are going to lose this election because the people have lost confidence in them."

Eric Balcom, Kings North M.L.A., urged Liberals to get behind their candidate and work for his victory in the March 31st election. "With hard work we can win," he said.

common sense. The vast majority of Nova Scotian adults will take a "drink" when offered. Why do they let themselves be "pushed around" by a voluble minority on a matter involving natural and decent human behaviour. It is high time the majority recognized the issue at stake and spoke up.

Given Final Approval

By a vote of 40-2 Digby ratepayers Tuesday night gave approval for the sale of hydro generating facilities of the Digby County Power Board on the Sissiboo River to the Nova Scotia Power Commission for a sum of $250,000.

Tuesday night's approval by the people of Digby was the last required in order to make the sale possible. Previously the Digby and Clare municipal councils and the village of Weymouth had voted approval of the sale which will pave the way for a proposed eight million dollar power development on the Sissiboo by the Nova Scotia Power Commission.

E. J. Theriault, Q.C., town solicitor, outlined developments leading up to the presentation of an agreement by the NSPC to the Digby County Power Board for purchase of the Digby county utility's generating facilities on the Sissiboo.

Mr. Theriault explained in detail provisions of the agreement which provides for purchase of the facilities of the DCPB for $220,000 together with an agreement by the NSPC to build a connecting line from the new development to a point on the transmission lines of the DCPB. The Digby utility will also be relieved of charges on a line now connecting the NSPC plant at Bear River with transmission lines of the DCPB at Acadiaville. The agreement also provides that present employees of the Digby county utility will be given priority for employment on the new project.

The agreement also provides that the Digby County Power Board will be provided with power from the new development at cost as determined for the western network of the NSPC and these figures will be appraised at the end of a five year period.

A. G. Mahon and L. F. Kirkpatrick of the NSPC were present at the meeting and explained a number of technical details concerning the proposed development. Mr. Mahon stated that approximately half of the proposed expenditure of eight million dollars for the new project would be spent in the area on gravel, trucking, supplies and other items.

Vincent G. Snow, speaking in favour of the proposal to make the sale, stated the important thing was to get the money spent in this area to provide work for 200 to 300 men and to make the "hydro system" here part of the grid that is being developed in the province.

More Old Books

Having noticed a recent article on old books owned in Digby, our attention is called to some in Mrs. Russell Henshaw's possession at Deep Brook, including:

"Lovell's" History of Canada, 1870; Royal Reader, 1904; List of Post Offices in Canada with names of Postmasters, July 1869. (Some local listing are the following at that date:— Digby, Edwin Bent; Annapolis, Thomas A. Gavaza; Deep Brook, H. F. Vroom; Weymouth, Cerebo P. Jones; Weymouth Bridge (W.O.), W. W. Payson; Smith's Cove (W.O.), E. W. Potter. (W.O. stands for "way office").

The Annapolis postmaster's name is not familiar. Perhaps some reader may be able to enlighten us on his family.

Entertains Choir

Mrs. Elton Arnold entertained the Grace United Church choir at her home on Thursday evening when the annual meeting of the choir was held. Re-elected president was Norman Wright. Mrs. Gerald Wilson was elected vice-president and Mrs. Oakley Turnbull, secretary-treasurer; librarians, Mrs. Gordon Ellis and Mrs. Elton Arnold; custodian of gowns, Mrs. John Russell; choir leader, Elton Arnold; assistant leader, Miss Constance Kirkpatrick. Representatives to the Official Board of the Pastoral Charge are Mrs. J. M. Wallis and Mrs. Emerson Graham.

Mr. Arnold announced the Digby County Music Festival would be held on April 23, 24 and 25 and asked the choir to consider entering the festival this year. It was also announced that the choir would be singing at HMCS Cornwallis on April 3.

Economic Council Holds Meeting

Steps to bring about improvement of the highway entrances into the Town of Digby, to have signs erected to attract visitors into Digby and to develop attractions which would result in visitors staying in Digby for longer periods of time were among the matters discussed at the first meeting of the newly organized Economic Council of the Digby Board of Trade, held at the home of Mrs. H. J. Anthony here.

H. M. Warne was elected chairman of the new organization with J. P. Richards as secretary. The new economic council was formed at the last meeting of the Digby trade board to coordinate the efforts of the board to improve the economy of Digby through further development of the tourist industry and the promotion of other industrial development in Digby.

The Council decided to approach the provincial government for improvements to the highway entrances to Digby. It was stated both these entrances, on highway No. 1 from Halifax and from Yarmouth, are right angle turns and constitute a traffic hazard. It was pointed out a number of serious accidents have occurred at the turn off the highway from Halifax toward Digby.

The meeting felt the entrances should be made into more gradual turns, both to reduce the traffic hazard and to make the approach to Digby more inviting.

The matter of signs attracting into Digby visitors entering Nova Scotia through Yarmouth and travelling the Valley route through Nova Scotia was discussed and it was decided to seek permission to have signs erected along the main highway advertising the town and pointing up its attractions as a tourist centre.

A number of suggestions concerning means of lengthening the visitor's stay in Digby were discussed and it was decided to act on several.

The matter of the provision of cocktail lounges for first class hotels in the province were discussed. Opinion was expressed this matter should be dealt with as one concerning Digby and approaches made to the provincial government in this respect.

Action of the provincial Innkeepers' Guild in the matter of their efforts to secure licensing hotels for sale of alcoholic beverages was reviewed. The system of club licences reportedly used in another province to get around provisions of the liquor control act so far as hotels are concerned was also discussed.

It was decided members of the council would interview Hon. E. D. Haliburton, minister in charge of the administration of the Liquor Control Act, and other government members

Probe Election List

The rural preliminary list of electors for rural polling division No. 1, Digby South, which was posted at the South End Grocery here on Saturday, contained some three hundred names less than the official list for the same division in the federal election of June 10, 1957, the office of Returning Officer Harry Parker, Annapolis Royal, confirmed Tuesday evening. Investigation into the matter was started following complaints to the returning office.

The returning office reported there are 571 names on the preliminary list posted Saturday as compared to 880 names in the June 10 election. The original list showed 569 but two names which had been entered in the wrong place were later added to the preliminary list, a spokesman said.

Victor Cardoza, former M.L.A. and president of the Digby Liberal Association, in directing attention to the shrinkage of names on the list, said he believed lack of thoroughness rather than anything partisan was responsible. Both Mr. Cardoza's name and that of his wife were among the names omitted, he said.

A check of the list for polling division No. 2, Digby North, showed ten fewer names than in the last election, the returning office official stated. Shrinkage of a small number of names from election to election is not uncommon, the official said.

In federal elections Digby town is considered a rural area and no house to house enumeration by enumerators working in pairs, as in a provincial enumeration, is required.

New Physical Fitness Technique

Professor Ronald E. Morgan, of Leeds University, England, presented a new insight on health and physical fitness recently to an interested group of officers, Chief and Petty Officers at HMCS Cornwallis.

"Circuit Training" is the name given to this approach to physical training and it has created marked interest in the United Kingdom. Basically it consists of a series of ten events of varying skill in a gymnasium where the trainee completes a given number of tries at each event in a specified time. The events are simple and it is mainly in the increase of work load that the training develops and strengthens the individual.

Professor Morgan will visit other Canadian universities and several American colleges, including Michigan, Illinois and Yale in his extended tour.

D. F. D. ACTIVITIES

Several of the men were at the Fire Station last Wednesday and Thursday nights awaiting the outcome of the storms at that time, some staying until two in the morning Wednesday and the following night until midnight. On both these occasions nothing serious developed.

First Aid classes are slated to begin Monday, February 24th, at 7:00 p.m. at the Fire Station. These classes will continue for seven weeks on every Monday night.

All is in readiness for the Saint John Ambulance Drive which will get underway February 22nd to March 1st, with members of the department doing the collecting between these dates. Information will be in the mails this week. Some $750 is the objective for Digby Town, which will mean that the average giving per family will be one dollar. It is hoped by the chairman, Reg Turnbull, that this objective can be reached. It is through the Saint John Ambulance Brigade that First Aid training is received by members of the fire department without charge. This is only one of the many efforts that the Brigade makes to save lives.

Members of the Ice Carnival committee met Wednesday night to discuss further plans for the carnival, and good reports were received from all committees. Advertising is progressing well and a very good report was received from this branch. Age limit for the Princess Contest was set at 10 years only, and the last entry date for the princess contest and costume parade were set as March 16th. No entries will be accepted after this date to avoid confusion on opening night of the show.

Many cash prizes will be awarded as well as a door prize and other spot prizes. A goodly number of clown acts will be presented, and the Digby Figure Skaters have a program lined up with new numbers, which will be very interesting. It is also expected that Cornwallis figure skaters will also participate in part of the program if arrangements can be made, as well as the band.

Old Sea Tragedy Recalled

A marine tragedy which claimed eighteen lives, was recalled here this week with presentation of newspaper clippings to the Courier telling the story.

The tragedy, which occurred February 21st, 1893, took the lives of Captain G. N. Dakin, his wife and their twelve years old daughter, as well as fifteen members of the crew of his ship, the British ship "Asia".

Captain Dakin was the grandfather of Mrs. Joseph Burnham, of Digby, and it was from Mrs. Burnham the Courier received the clippings telling the sad story of the terrible disaster of sixty years ago.

Only three were saved when Captain Dakin's ship foundered on the Great Round shoal off Nantucket. They were rescued by the crew of the Great Round shoal lightship after clinging for hours to a piece of the wrecked ship.

The tragedy was particularly sorrowful for Captain Dakin's remaining family, for the ill-fated voyage was to have been his last. His son, the late B. E. Dakin, of Sandy Cove, told newspaper reporters following the tragedy that his father had intended to give up going to sea and only consented to his last voyage after his wife and daughter said they would accompany him. The voyage began in New York two years before its tragic end on the shoals.

It was scheduled to have been completed when the ship made Boston, only a short way from the shoals where the ship foundered.

Captain Dakin was about fifty when he lost his life and his wife a few years younger. Their daughter, Lena, was 12.

Employees Offer Aid To Rebuild Industry

An emergency meeting was held in Weymouth last Wednesday night by employees of Weymouth Industries Limited to offer all possible assistance to the company in rebuilding the boat and furniture plant destroyed by fire.

R. F. Hallett, who chaired the meeting, outlined the urgency for speed in the rebuilding project. He pointed out what it would mean to the community to lose the industry, the biggest in Weymouth.

The meeting was attended by all employees except a few who could not be contacted. Each employee, including office staff, volunteered two weeks free labor or with a number of the local citizens also volunteering time — approximately 6,000 man hours labor.

The Lewis' Lumber Co., Ltd., offered all lumber necessary at cost with up to five years to pay. The village of Weymouth offered the company village supply tax free for five years. The company has also been assured the municipality can give as "good a tax concession as any in the province."

Enthusiastic in their support, employees hope these offers will assist in influencing the company to build in Weymouth.

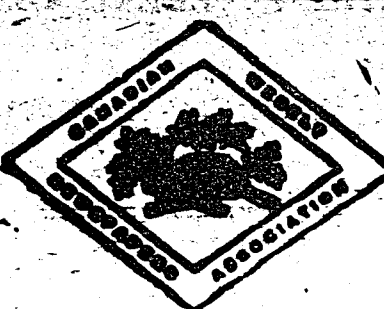

V.O.N. Nurse Reports

Mrs. Alice Keen, in charge of the Victorian Order nursing at present, reported at the meeting of the Order last Tuesday that 62 of the 85 home visits made in January were for nursing care. Nine new cases were admitted. One hundred and sixteen school children were seen in the nurse's office and 183 pupils given rapid inspection. Fourteen pupils were given vision tests and seven mothers were visited in the homes in connection with child defects. Twenty-three visited the five Child-welfare conferences.

A report from the supervisor, Miss Dorothy Fowler, recommending two office school sessions instead of one, was adopted by the Board.

Several gifts from the estate of the late Mrs. Jesse Jefferson were acknowledged.

Plans proceeded to have the annual meeting of the order on Tuesday, March 4. On the nominating committee to bring in a slate of officers are Stanley MacDonald, Mrs. Charles Hersey and Mrs. Melvin Thurber.

About This and That

Confusion About Jobless

Recently published statistics show how wide of the mark current statements about unemployment in Canada may be, says The Financial Post.

In December the Dominion Bureau of Statistics showed 396,000 people out of work and looking for jobs. In the same month the Unemployment Insurance Commission showed 755,000 "applications for work" on file. These are the latest totals available from the two sources.

The commission figure, explains The Post, includes many people who are not genuinely unemployed in any reasonable or commonly accepted sense of the word. It includes married women who have worked in the past, now wish to stay at home but claim unemployment insurance; retired persons collecting insurance; those seasonal workers who freely choose to be idle in the winter months and claim insurance; and finally, persons who registered for employment, found jobs on their own initiative, but neglected to notify the commission.

Sensible people will keep in mind the fact that it is only the DBS figure which is any real index of the "jobs needed-wanted" picture in this country.

Really Doing Something

In a world of "give me's" and "get me's" we've come across something typical of what our fathers would call "the good old days". We have people who are really not afraid to "give" and put some of their own effort into things rather than just request and suggest something be done by someone else. According to the news, the people of Weymouth where the Weymouth Industries Ltd. was destroyed by fire a couple of weeks ago, have offered concrete assistance to have the industry rebuilt and supply the citizens again with employment. Assistance with labor and office help was offered by the staff, private citizens of the village were interested enough in having the industry located there to offer hours of work free, the Lewis Lumber Co. gave a generous offer and the village offered free taxes for a certain time.

Like in many similar circumstances the Weymouth people might have put up a howl of disaster, suggested and requested that something be done to ensure their economy and leave it there. We are proud of these people of Weymouth, in Digby County, who are willing to put more than lip energy into getting the Weymouth Industries Ltd. to establish themselves again in that progressive village. We say "more power to them" and we hope they are successful in their efforts.

Drinking alcoholic beverages in moderation was accepted in Biblical times. In modern times most great men and world leaders are not total abstainers. This does not mean they are drunkards which the most rabid Temperance workers would often associate with the practice of having a "drink".

Without exception, whenever this topic has come up in the presence of our Upper Canadian and American or British visitors to Nova Scotia (and it usually does), the writer has heard our archaic liquor laws made the subject of ridicule. A more serious matter is the detrimental effect on our hotel and restaurant standard of service. As Nova Scotians our present restrictions have cost us employment, taxes and the expansion of our tourist industry.

Action will not come until Nova Scotians speak up and write to their Members expressing their views. This is important and urgent. It is everybody's business. The way to temperate use of alcohol as a beverage is through more natural outlets and not the restrictions which encourage bootlegging due to lack of public support by the majority.

Congratulations to the Digby Board of Trade once again and may their efforts soon be rewarded.

Yours respectfully,
Foe of Intolerance.

Dear Madam:

I should like to comment on an item which appeared in your paper last week. That is the item concerning the action of the Digby Board of Trade in the matter of urging the government to change legislation to allow cocktail bars in hotels.

While my comments are not particularly concerned with the wisdom or lack of wisdom in the establishment of such lounges, I do want to say something about the approach used in connection with improvements to our tourist industry.

It seems to me a Board of Trade should be definitely interested in improving industry and using their every effort to see to it that this tourist industry in Digby is developed more and more so in this respect the action of the board may have been justified.

Why, however, did they stop there? Is liquor the only thing that is lacking as a tourist attraction here? Will provision of liquor at local hotels mean the tourists will stay here longer? Have tourists who want to drink really been so terribly hampered by our present liquor laws?

It seems to me that the board took the easy way out by hanging all their hopes on a resolution that passes the buck to the provincial government. Sure, providing cocktail lounges may help the tourist trade but surely, if we expect to get an increasing number of tourists here and get them to stay longer, we need to do more than ask the government to change its liquor laws.

What about entertainment for the tourist who visits Digby? What about development of local historic and scenic sites off the beaten path that will be enticing enough to warrant the tourist staying a little longer to visit them? What about capitalizing on our famous scallops and other fish products to develop culinary wonders peculiar alone to Digby that will make this place known and on the list of places people like to visit when they want something different?

No, Madam Editor, changing liquor laws is not going to revolutionize the tourist industry in this or any other area if that is all that is going to be done. Those who think otherwise have a lot to learn.

Some of the things I have suggested are necessary also. What is the Board of Trade doing about them? They require local action, real vision and the expenditure of money to accomplish. In these it is not enough to just pass a resolution and the buck to some other body.

Digby had its heyday as a tourist centre when liquor laws were a lot stricter than now. What made it successful then and why has this situation changed? Those are questions that can be answered and a real appraisal of our present situation and positive action to cope with it will do more to help than just petitioning to have our liquor laws changed.

Realist.

Digby, N. S.
Feb. 17, 1958.

Editor,
Digby Courier.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

It is quite gratifying to me to see more people openly expressing their viewpoints on the liquor question through the press, and in other ways, taking sides one way or another. I think we all should deal with the question, and the sooner, the better.

However, when anyone has a problem in regard to ill health, physically, mentally, spiritually, it is wise of course to take the advice of a good medical doctor or learned servant of God, or both. Now we in Canada have a large and serious alcohol problem, (doubled in Ontario in the last ten years, rapidly increasing in Manitoba and other parts of Canada), and so, we all will be very wise to take the advice of learned persons who have made a real study of the problem.

Personally I have tried for several years to learn from some persons who are recognized as best authorities on the subject; my particular concern came about after certain personal observations in regard to the results of liquor consumption over a period of time.

For anyone to say it won't do any harm to relax the liquor laws in any particular way, so long as it is confined to a certain area or industrial establishment (even though included in the community) is the same as saying that knowledge of any certain thing has no effect on anyone, and anything harmful to our neighbour is no concern of ours. When some employees are called upon to serve or deliver beverage alcohol even though the consumption of it is contrary to their conscience or belief, is not good business for anyone.

To say no one or hardly anybody from the surrounding community or other parts of Nova Scotia will visit the advocated cocktail lounge for drinks because the people around here cannot afford it, is the same as saying very few people drink liquor at all because they cannot afford it.

To say that any government or community needs liquor revenue, in order to be successful, is the same as saying the net profits from the liquor traffic are greater than the cost of the aftermath from liquor consumption; this is certainly far from true, according to a number of good and extensive surveys made by different governments.

To say a person needs beverage alcohol to calm his or her nerves when under stress is much the same as saying, beverage alcohol does not adversely affect the nervous system; this again, is not true.

Some people would like others to think it is the bottle of liquor and not liquor by the glass that makes people drunk; if these people are consistent and concerned for the welfare of people as a whole, will they advocate doing away with the retail liquor store and advocate only taverns, cocktail lounges, private clubs and the like where liquor is served by the glass? However, drinking in taverns, cocktail lounges, and private clubs in any community, means for many today, driving motor vehicles under some degree of intoxication from beverage alcohol.

Taking liquor home in the bottle from the liquor store, as the law now says one must do, and consume it there, usually means a certain amount of restraint is enforced, directly or indirectly, by self or members of family, but, how good is this?

On the strength of the foregoing statements, would anybody say, there is such a thing as a good liquor law which permits, by law, the operation of such a traffic as the liquor traffic?

The truth is, liquor traffic corrupts, and any relaxing of the liquor laws is just another step in the wrong direction. The more open and wide spread the practice of liquor consumption, the more open and wide spread will be gambling, other vices and crime that result from

A year ago, the life of this fine lobster was reprieved. Then small, he was thrown back into the sea - allowed to grow into a bigger, more profitable catch. By throwing back shorts, lobster fishermen are actively cooperating with the Department of Fisheries to conserve their own great industry.

The one that got away!

MANY LOBSTERS CAUGHT in the Atlantic fishing grounds go back into the sea. Some are small and are reprieved to grow in size and quality. Some are berried - egg-carrying lobsters - willingly surrendered to go back and multiply. During close seasons, no traps are laid. This keeps their numbers at a safe level to ensure good catches in future years.

By following these vital conservation methods, the lobster fishing community wholeheartedly cooperates with the Department of Fisheries and safeguards the prosperity of its industry and livelihood.

The annual market value of Canadian lobsters has been estimated at 15 million dollars. The Department of Fisheries and the lobster fishing industry are jointly concerned to preserve this important national asset.

Letter to the Editor

Smith's Cove, N. S., R.R. No. 1, February 7, 1958.

Dear Editor:

Just received my Courier and am so delighted with "A Disgusted Taxpayer's" letter. Also liked picture of your old folks. Good old timers.

To say I am disgusted would be putting it mild as I was with friends who got in trouble with "parking meter" Saturday, February 1st, when the nickle was already in meter. Will some one please tell me what has happened to my dad's beautiful country? I'd like to know. Once we could go to town and never lock our doors. I came to N. S. last June 21st, ill, a widow alone, old. Sure I know I wasn't compelled to come only for years I had wanted to come back to my father's house. Have tried to fix myself a home to live in and find I have spent three thousand five hundred and fifty-six dollars. By some I have been loved and cared for as if I was really their own.

Have had people work for me and my interest as they would for their own. Then I've been lied to, promised, cheated, and stolen from, taken it and laughed. But to go to town shopping as I have each week, with friends kind enough to bother with an old woman and have them get the raw deal "The Parking Meter" gave them was too much. Does any one know in town that in hundreds of towns in my country the meters are not used in winter, and out of town shoppers are given extra time year 'round or do not pay.

I have shopped in Pyne's Market since June, have found them kind and helpful always, but I can go some other place to shop. My prescriptions—everything is in Digby. No doubt Mr. Levy would be glad to give them to me and I won't even have to go in town for even medicine, insulin, etc. But who wants to give up? But to stand by, one couldn't even say to my friends I'll be glad to pay the dollar. And having once been the wife of a policeman I reckon I know how he felt, but heck, he's just a policeman, and my friend is a 2nd world war vet, and was wounded, who cares, war is over, to heck with him.

He and his wife born in England, me in Mass., what are we doing here? For years I've carried back tourist literature and sent it where I thought it would work. And it did. Since I came in June I've had five cars full of people from home, and they weren't hobos. Have also had 27 friends who had never been here before, come to stay from 2 weeks to 6 weeks and not with me only to call and for dinner. So I don't feel I have in any way hurt Nova Scotia, especially Digby.

And here's a laugh for you. It had never dawned on me to ask about snow removal. I supposed the highway plough looked after us. Didn't have such a thing when I lived here last. Shoveled by hand.

Well, I got snowed in, didn't mind until one plough after another passed by, then I got frightened and nearly fainted (my heart is old). After a while I called Millers. Wilfred came and ploughed me out.

But again at home the small plough would have made a path so I could get out to my mail box.

Some one's money must pay for the plough or does the driver own them? Any way its a beautiful country and the question is shall I spend a couple more thousand and fix up as I want or just go back home and let the common thieves steal the rest of my timber and Christmas trees, and hunters take over my old field until I don't know if I should have every tree cut or hide down cellar behind the ax, or crawl under the bed every day for a month or so. Don't mind em hunting but golly do they need to be so near the house behind a bush. I just ask you.

Now dear good Editor I hope you can read this. My hand is lame and no doubt this is full of mistakes but I am just sure and you may give my letter to the minister, police, town council or Court Purdy. I just don't care a hoot. But I sure am another Disgusted Taxpayer.

RATEPAYERS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the ratepayers of the Village of Weymouth was held in the new fire hall on Tuesday evening, February 4, with Merle S. Mullen acting as chairman.

The annual report presented by the clerk and treasurer, J. A. Hatt, showed another successful year with both the Electric Department and Ratepayers Department showing substantial gains. The sale of electric energy showed an increase of $5,825 kw-hrs. over the previous year. The clerk stated that an $8,000.00 bond issue was paid by the Electric Department during the year, leaving that Department free of debt. The Ratepayers Department, with the splendid cooperation of the officials, firemen and the citizens in general, succeeded in erecting a fire hall during the past year.

The meeting elected Dr. H. J. Pothier to the office of Commissioners, replacing Camille P. Comeau, whose term expired. The other Commissioners still holding office are: Merle S. Mullen and C. Willis Mullen. Auditors appointed were: C. W. Marshall, H. W. Powell and Clyde Cosman.

The village supply tax rate was set at two per cent, being the same as last year. Daylight Saving Time was again adopted and the Commissioners were empowered to set the dates that it shall apply. It was also decided to declare Boxing Day, December 26th, a civic holiday.

Fire Chief Joseph Ethier, reporting for his department, stated that the firemen responded to thirteen calls during the year, eleven of these were chimney fires, one grass fire, and one forest fire. In dealing with matters pertaining to this department, the Chief recommended the expenditure of $10,000.00 for additional equipment. A resolution was passed by the meeting favouring the borrowing of this amount for this purpose.

The outstanding event of the meeting was the passing of a resolution favouring the sale by the Digby County Power Board of its generating facilities to the Nova Scotia Power Commission.

CANCER SOCIETY HOLDS ANNUAL

The annual meeting of the Canadian Cancer Society, Nova Scotia Division, was held in Halifax on February 13th and 14th.

Highlighting the meeting were presentations of reports by some of the units throughout the province on welfare work and education programs carried on by them, and the methods they use in handling problems that arise. Many new ideas were brought forward in these reports, and the discussions which followed were extremely helpful to the well established units, as well as to the five new units beginning this year. The Weymouth and District Unit of the Society reported on its education program.

The above unit, which includes all of Digby Municipality, was represented by the president and secretary, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Campbell; the chairman of the welfare committee, Mrs. E. A. Fergusson, and Mrs. Louis Melanson, in charge of education for the unit.

Among the special speakers was Dr. C. M. Harlow, of Halifax, who emphasized the importance of the cancer research being carried on at the present time. He demonstrated some of the new discoveries by means of charts and experimental materials. Dr. Harlow spoke of the importance of recognizing the warning signals of cancer early in order that a cure may be effected, in many cases. Regular physical check-ups can pay great dividends.

The meeting concluded with the annual dinner at which the guest speaker was the Hon. E. A. Manson, Minister of Trade and Industry.

This Week In The Legislature

Whilst cannon boomed from atop Citadel Hill, Nova Scotia's new Lieutenant Governor, Major General the Hon. E. C. Flow, inspected a Canadian Navy guard of honor outside historic Province House, then entered its historic chambers and with the reading of the Speech from the Throne, officially opened the second session of the 46th general assembly, last Wednesday afternoon.

Implementation of a Hospital Care Insurance Plan the start of 1958 in the province; plans for an additional mental health clinic for Cape Breton, and formulation of plans for establishment of other local mental health facilities; offering of scholarships to encourage more students to enter the teaching profession; the recognition of the need for adequate surfacing of important secondary roads; granting to Nova Scotia Pulp Mill Limited to cut on certain Crown Lands; inauguration of a program of campground and picnic-area development, were among 65 items covered in the speech.

Mover of the address in reply to the speech from the throne was John M. MacDonald (PC-Cape Breton North) and second was Hiram Thomas (PC-Kings West).

"It has been described as the greatest social security measure of this generation," said Mr. MacDonald of the hospital insurance plan "the legislation for which will be introduced" during the present session.

"Perhaps the most important achievement in our history," he said, referring to the convening 200 years ago of the first general assembly in Nova Scotia marking the establishment of responsible government.

He complimented Premier Stanfield for his efforts on behalf of coal mining communities (referring to the new policy of subventions on coal used in the Maritime provinces for the purpose of producing electric power). That the planning of a crossing of the Big Bras d'Or is well advanced was gratifying, said Mr. MacDonald, and the establishment of a Department of Labor trade school in North Sydney was indeed a benefit.

Obituaries

Carolyn L. Rice, age 83, beloved wife of the late John F. Rice, formerly of Digby, passed away December 30th, 1957.

She leaves a son, Chauncey, a daughter, Vivian, and a daughter, Evelyn, all of Boston, Mass. Funeral services were held at Tobin Funeral Parlor.

James Edward Comeau James Edward Comeau of Marshalltown, passed away at his home Wednesday, February 12, after a longer illness. He was 84 years of age.

Mr. Comeau was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Comeau of Marshalltown. His wife predeceased him three years ago.

He is survived by two daughters, Florence (Mrs. Wilfred Smith), and Dorothy (Mrs. Lawrence Comeau), Marshalltown; and six sons, William, Walter, Reginald, Charles, of Marshalltown, Percy, of Malden, Mass., and Perve, Peace River, Alta.

Funeral service was held with regular high mass at the Roman Catholic Church, Marshalltown, Saturday morning.

The Protestant Reformation was one of the world's greatest steps in the direction of democracy.

The Protestant Reformers chose to express themselves, rather than to be subdued by the error which had crept into the church organization of their day. In so doing they brought about a break with the totalitarian practices of church government which had gained control in the affairs of the state. The Bible teaching that "the just shall live by faith" was rediscovered. (Romans 1:17)

Ever since the days of the Reformation, Protestantism has been the cornerstone of democracy. Protestants recognize differences of opinion. Yet Bible-believing Protestants are united in their recognition of the Bible as the supreme authority in spiritual matters.

American history has developed side by side with Protestant ideals of democracy. A look at world geography today reveals that it is Protestant countries which are not plagued with dictatorships.

The freedom which is known in democracy can be traced directly to the life of Jesus Christ. Jesus stressed the value of the individual soul and its responsibility directly to God. To carry out that responsibility the individual must be free. Jesus emphasized the equality of men in the sight of God. Also, it was through the death of Jesus that freedom from the tyranny of sin was purchased. The Bible, speaking of Jesus, says, "If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." (John 8:36)

Jesus Christ died on Calvary to purchase freedom—freedom from sin and its consequences. Bible-believing Protestants are united in their recognition of this fact. They are also united in their belief that the functions of the Church and the functions of the State were meant to be separate. Jesus said, "Render therefore unto Caesar the things which be Caesar's, and unto God the things which be God's." (Luke 20:25)

She concluded by expressing the hope they might return to Nova Scotia in the "not too distant future".

Along with her letter Mrs. Pooler sent a subscription to the Courier for her mother whom, she said, would greatly enjoy the paper as she still has many cousins in Digby County that she knew as a child.

Life Insurance aids Heart Foundation

Many people are making good recoveries from severe heart attacks. New advances in medical science and surgery are saving their lives. However, many more lives may be saved if, through research, the causes of heart disease can be determined.

Research of this nature is a long range project. It requires highly trained workers and the most modern equipment. These cost money.

Last year, with timely financial assistance from the Life Insurance Companies, the National Heart Foundation of Canada began to correlate and step up the tempo of research into the causes of heart disease.

This is just one of many ways in which the Life Insurance Companies in Canada are encouraging medical research that will help Canadians live longer and more happily.

For several years now, the automobile manufacturers have had a new headlight ready to install on their cars. And it's about time, you might say — and quite correctly — because there hasn't been an essential improvement in auto headlights since sealed-beams were introduced in 1940.

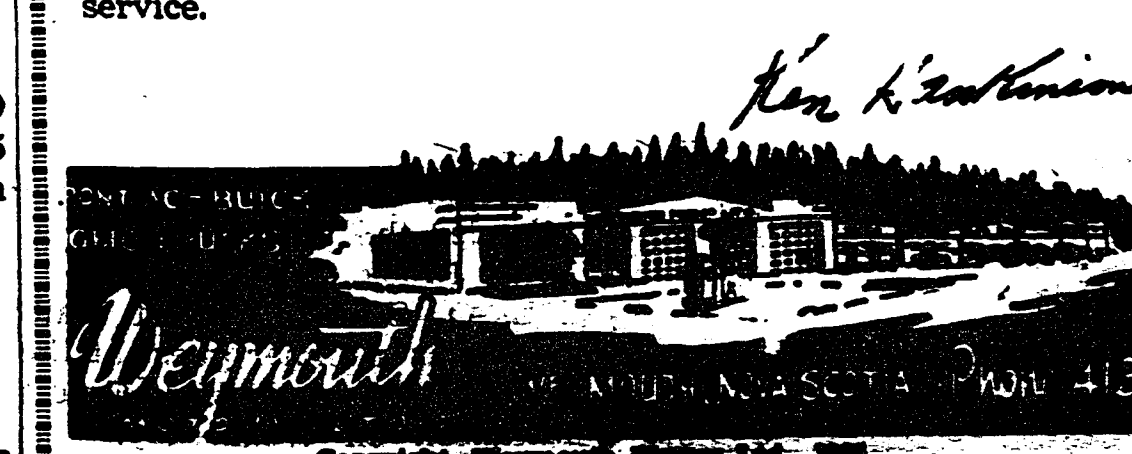

The new headlight gives brighter light but with less glare for oncoming drivers. The catch is that under present laws the new light is illegal. All the different motor vehicle codes are designed to fit the 1940 sealed-beam light and no other.

The auto manufacturers had planned to introduce the new light in 1955 when, they hoped, all the motor vehicle codes would be changed. Some legislatures have acted, but not enough, and the light can't be introduced until every legislature has passed the necessary laws.

Many of the other improvements in automobiles have been developed slowly over the 50 or more years that people have been trying to make smoother, safer and more comfortable cars.

This slow but steady progress is one of the reasons a car three or four or five years old can often give you many of the latest luxury inventions at a used car price that won't land you flat on your back.

We often get this sort of used car on our lot — a dependable car that has given its first owner good service, has been looked after by our factory-trained mechanics — and is now ready to be passed on for more years of useful service.

It is also apparent that, with the present government situation, there may be some delay in changing the regulations to implement the decisions which were arrived at, or which will be confirmed later by the Commission, as a result of these discussions.

Attends Convention

Problems of the brick making trade, even to the point of considering when atomic power will be available, were discussed at the annual convention of the American Ceramic Society in South Carolina, Superintendent Keith Rawding, of L. E. Shaw's New Glasgow plant, advised on his return home.

Mr. Rawding said the meetings had been interesting and he had been impressed with new kilns he had seen at plants in the south and in Ohio. In particular, he had liked one called a "shuttle" kiln.

For the most part he noticed problems before the convention indicated American bricklayers had headaches similar to those in this province.

On account of a 13-weeks drought, farmers in the area had reported losing a crop, but down there farmers normally get two crops a year. Temperatures had been in the 90's all the time he was there.

Talking with the Carolinians, he had been surprised on comparing notes to find they paid about the same price for cars as here, clothing was, if anything, more expensive, but most foods were cheaper, as were tobacco and gasoline.

When he brought up the high Canadian cost of winter fuel, he had found that users of natural gas there were paying around $200 for home heating during the winter.

Base labor rates in the area where unions are not common were below those of this province by as much as 25 per cent.

Keith Rawding is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Rawding, Deep Brook.

SUNSET ON ST. MARY'S BAY

From the port of Halifax, across to beautiful Victoria, from Paris to Rome, London and Geneva, Many gorgeous sunsets with awe, I have beheld, Rapturous sights, on me casting its spell; Yet, from my window, overlooking the broad blue waters bright, None more ravishing, than a St. Mary's Bay setting sun and shimmering twilight.

In a setting of exquisitely soft beauty, A radiant glowing, in myriads of colours, is reflected in the sea, Drooping like dainty curtains, in many a resplendent and graceful fold, Forming a backdrop for the towering church steeple, And farther, the lighthouse, sitting aloft, like a sentinel, On a steep cliff, all aglow, in ethereal waves of gold.

Below, a few boats, still plying their trade upon the becalmed sea, Slowly gliding toward the distant sea; And now, the tireless fisherfolk another catch heralds, Making the dazzling waters look like rings, studded with emeralds, While round the crafts, low-flying silvery gulls, Snatch their last draught, ere to shore the fisher pulls.

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1958

VOLUME LXXXIV, No. 26

Nowlan Named P.C. Candidate

Premier Robert L. Stanfield said the people of the Atlantic provinces owe "a sincere debt of gratitude for the magnificent start the Diefenbaker administration has made in the past toward the betterment of this region."

The premier was speaking at a Conservative nominating convention of more than 800 persons who unanimously named Hon. George C. Nowlan, Minister of National Revenue, as candidate for the constituency of Digby-Annapolis-Kings in the March 31 general election. It marked the 11th time that Mr. Nowlan has accepted nomination in provincial and federal political fields.

The premier paid high tribute to the abilities and efforts of Mr. Nowlan, Prime Minister Diefenbaker, and other cabinet ministers for "their realistic approach to Atlantic Provinces betterment."

The thermal power arrangement, subsidy on coal, and proposal to sell federal power stations to the Atlantic government would reduce the cost of industrial power and encourage new industrial expansion in these provinces, he said.

The extra fiscal grants payable to the provinces of this region had assisted the province of Nova Scotia to finance an increase in mothers' allowances, old age assistance, pensions for the blind, and increased expenditures for education. The money will be used to help develop the province and permit broader public service, Mr. Stanfield said.

Mr. Nowlan termed last June's election "a tremendous victory," but said the government needed a clear majority.

"The Liberals have been saying it is a terrible government, but on the other side they are saying we should not have called an election. They have criticized and damned, yet they have always voted with us. That's the answer to how bad we are. They did a lot of barking, but refused to bite, but they might have bitten at a time they thought was opportune."

The government had fulfilled every immediate election pledge and had to start planning for the future "but this could not be done on the long term with a minority government," Mr. Nowlan said.

He referred to the agriculture prices support bill passed at the last parliament as one of the pieces of legislation introduced for the benefit of the farmers saying it would provide them with a floor price and support price to prevent extra losses of revenue brought about by falling prices.

He reviewed other accomplishments of the government including increased pensions, cash advances for wheat, tax reduction, more funds for housing "and a score of other things."

Agriculture Minister E. D. Haliburton said the government had done more for the Maritimes in seven months than had been done by other governments in 70 years.

"If Nova Scotia does not return the Diefenbaker government then we are very ungrateful people, but I know we will," he said.

Mr. Nowlan's nomination was moved by Dr. R. Longley, of Wolfville, and seconded by Roy Snell of Digby. Other speakers included convention chairman C. T. LeBrun of Bridgetown, Gordon Goucher of Middleton, and Mrs. Doreen Roberts, secretary of the Kings North Young Progressive Conservative Association.

Urge Action To Keep Industry

Unanimous endorsement of requests made to the Hon. George C. Nowlan, Minister of National Revenue, by Weymouth Industries Ltd., was given by the Weymouth Board of Trade at their meeting in order to further efforts being made by the Weymouth board to have the Weymouth Industries plant which was destroyed by fire some time ago, relocated in Weymouth.

The requests by the Weymouth Industries Ltd. were contained in a letter to Mr. Nowlan, written February 18th. In this letter the firm stated it was their intention to continue their boatbuilding industry in the Maritimes, preferably at Weymouth.

The letter stated this intention was complicated by two problems facing the firm. The first of these was the matter of a 20% duty charged by the Canadian government on the plywood used by the firm in the manufacture of its pleasure boats. This plywood, which is African mahogany, is manufactured in western Germany and is of a kind not manufactured in Canada.

The second problem facing the Weymouth firm in trying to make a decision to rebuild its plant in the Maritimes is that of competitive freight rates to the United States and to other parts of Canada. Maritime industry, it is pointed out, is severely handicapped by the present freight rate structure which results in much lower rates on goods shipped by rail into the Maritimes than on goods being shipped from this area to Upper Canadian and U. S. points.

The letter to the Minister of National Revenue pointed out that a final decision regarding permanent re-establishment of the Weymouth Industries Ltd. in Weymouth will be made by the end of May and that assurance be given the government will do something about the matters mentioned before that time.

In its resolution endorsing the requests made by the Weymouth Industries Ltd. the Weymouth Trade Board stressed the desire of the firm to remain in the Maritimes and at Weymouth, "providing certain inequities, difficulties and disadvantages can be resolved," and urged action by the Revenue Minister on the request. The resolution passed by the board was also ordered sent, together with a copy of the Weymouth Industries Ltd. letter, to the Hon. M. S. Leonard, Minister of Education and provincial member for this constituency.

The Weymouth trade board at their meeting also dealt with other matters affecting the area and passed a resolution calling for a revision of the entire freight rate structure of the Dominion Atlantic Railway to remove discrimination against points served only by this railway.

The resolution pointed out there is a considerable inequity of freight rates in the Annapolis Valley area. Points that are served by both the DAR and CNR have better rates than those served only by the DAR. This situation also exists at some points, it was stated, that were at one time served by coastal vessels although that service has long since ceased.

The resolution concerning freight rates in the Annapolis Valley area will be presented to an executive meeting of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, it is understood, for action.

Another resolution passed by the Weymouth trade board urges action to establish lower freight rates from the Maritime provinces to outside points and also a general revision of freight rates within the Maritime area.

It is pointed out in this resolution, which is addressed to the Maritime Boards of Trade in Moncton, that no industry should be penalized for being located at a non-competitive rail point and also that Maritime producers should be able to reach Maritime markets at lower freight costs than producers in other parts of Canada can ship to the same market.

It was stated at the meeting that one furniture firm, located about one hundred miles from Toronto, could ship furniture to Weymouth for only a matter of twenty-five cents per hundred.

Meeting In Chicago

Rev. L. R. Atkinson, secretary Evangelist for the Board of Evangelism of the United Baptist Convention, is attending a meeting of the Baptist Jubilee Advance Committee being held in Chicago, Illinois.

The Baptist Jubilee Advance is a 5 year program beginning in 1959 sponsored by the Baptists of the U.S.A. and Canada. Plans are being made for 18 million Baptists of the North American continent to take part in this program of advance.

While in Chicago, Mr. Atkinson will attend a meeting of the Canadian Baptist Committee of Evangelism when he will meet with representatives of the Boards of Evangelism from Western Canada and Ontario and Quebec.

A Sadistic Trick

A sadistic group of youngsters in the south end of town last week evidently got some perverted pleasure out of the tortures they inflicted on a robin which had been picked up, suffering from the cold, by one of their playmates.

The youngster who found the robin was on his way to his home to take the robin in for warmth and shelter when his companions snatched the bird away from him, put it in a paper bag, and proceeded to play hockey with it.

After their interest in torturing the bird had passed the lad who first found it again retrieved it but all that was left was the battered and broken body of the little "red breast."

Special Service At Smith's Cove

In impressive World Day of Prayer service was held in the United Church in Smith's Cove, with members of the Baptist and United taking part. Seventeen took individual parts.

A duet by two members was enjoyed. Mrs. Ruth Walker gave a very simple and beautiful talk on the subject "Bread of Life."

The meeting was closed by the Baptist minister, Rev. Mr. Whitehouse.

weight more than their shipping cost to Toronto.

Speakers at the meeting expressed themselves that action point to create better conditions for establishment and maintenance of industry in the Maritimes was urgently needed. It was stated that, at the recent boat show in New York, only two Canadian firms had exhibited sports craft and one of these was Weymouth Industries Ltd. Every effort to retain this firm in Weymouth should be made, it was stated.

Prayer Service At Trinity

World Day of Prayer was held at Trinity Church in Digby on Friday afternoon with Mrs. Burton Fleet, Mrs. Raymond Lent and Mrs. Hugh Vincent from the United Church, Anglican and Baptist churches respectively taking the leading parts. Prayers were offered by Miss Bessie Turnbull, Mrs. E. J. Roop, Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Mrs. Oakley Turnbull, Mrs. Harold Small and Mrs. E. C. Churchill. Mrs. H. Y. MacLean rendered the vocal selection, "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings," accompanied by Mrs. Harry Turnbull at the organ.

Mrs. Hugh Vincent in a brief address spoke on the significance of the World Day of Prayer, the projects made possible through the offerings and the power of the gospel to the many people in the many lands of the world.

Attend Mammoth Parade

More than four hundred Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Wolf Cubs and Brownies attended a colorful church parade at HMCS Cornwallis Sunday afternoon. The parade was held to commemorate the anniversary of the founder of Scouting, Lord Baden Powell.

Included in the parade were Scouts, Cubs, Guides and Brownies from all units in the area between Digby and Middleton. Attending also were Dr. G. V. Turnbull, president of the Digby District Council; Mrs. Roy Laurence, area Guide Commissioner; Norman D. Wright, Commissioner of Boy Scouts, and Commander Fowler, chairman Cornwallis Group Committee, as well as other Scouting dignitaries from the area. The parade was under the direction of Mr. Selbourne Henson, Cub Master at HMCS Cornwallis.

At the Protestant chapel the service was conducted by the Padre, Rev. A. J. Mowatt, who delivered an excellent address on the subject, "Be Prepared." The first scripture lesson was read by Scout Commissioner N. D. Wright and the second lesson by Mrs. Roy Laurence, Guide Commissioner.

At the Roman Catholic chapel Rev. Father T. D. Kelly and Rev. Father J. A. Eves were in charge of the service which was attended by the Roman Catholic Boy Scouts, Guides, Cubs and Brownies and their leaders. During the service at the Protestant chapel a new flag for the HMCS Cornwallis Girl Guide Company was dedicated and presented to the company by Commander Fowler.

Collectors are presently making calls for the Saint John Ambulance Brigade Drive which will be completed over the week-end and returns are to be finalized at the regular meeting of the Fire Department on Wednesday, March 5th, at which meeting regular business of the department will be dealt with and reports from various committees and departments received.

Heads Awards Committee

Dr. T. W. Hodgson, president of the Digby branch of the Red Cross Society, was elected chairman of the awards committee at the annual meeting of the Red Cross Nova Scotia division in Halifax last week. Basil Beliveau of Bellevue's Cove, was elected a regional vice-president for this area.

Attending the meeting from Digby were Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Warne, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wright, Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Hodgson and Mrs. Allan Stark. Ralph Wright and Mrs. Stark were the official delegates from the Digby branch.

House Levelled, Widow Homeless

Fire, believed to have started from an over-heated chimney, destroyed the home and belongings of a 78-year-old widow, Mrs. Dora Miller of Jordantown Friday evening. The two-storey house was not insured.

Mrs. Miller, widow of Maynard Miller, lived alone. She went to visit neighbours about seven o'clock, apparently stoking the fire just before she left. The blaze broke out shortly after that, and the house was gutted when the Digby fire department arrived. The loss was not estimated.

Guest Preacher

Rev. Kenneth Beezley, of Yarmouth, will be guest speaker at the evening service tonight at Bethel Tabernacle on Queen Street, it has been learned. Mr. Beezley is the secretary-treasurer of the Maritime District of the Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada.

Hold World Day Of Prayer Service

Ladies of this community joined with the members of the W.M.S. of the Baptist church to observe the World Day of Prayer service held in the United Baptist Church, Sandy Cove, on Friday evening at 8 p.m. The theme of this year's service was "The Bread of Life" and was prepared by the women of Australia.

The president of the Society, Mrs. Curtis Denton, led in the worship of this programme. The intercession of prayer was led by Mrs. Denton and those who took part in their various prayers were Mrs. C. F. Dunn, Miss Ada Johnson, Mrs. Fenwick Jeffrey, Miss Elizabeth McCullough, Mrs. Hugh Morehouse and Mrs. Clarence Hersey. Mrs. Claude Olmstead brought the message of the evening.

In her message she interestingly outlined the great work which is being carried on through the offering received at this service which indeed is bread of life to many who have not had the message and whose lives are made richer and happier by our gifts. She also told of one incident how the power of prayer works. — A missionary in China felt each day as she began her task a new strength given her. It seemed most noticeable as the days went on as this added strength seem to come at the same time each day. Several years later she was telling the story to a friend. It so happened that this friend was the one who uttered the prayer on her behalf each day.

Thus she urged all to realize the power of prayer and that all would make it a part of their daily task to pray. The choir of the United Church rendered the anthem "There's Power In Prayer" with Mrs. R. W. Sypher as organist.

Mrs. Elmer Lewis and Mrs. Dutton Sypher received the offering.

D. F. D. ACTIVITIES

First Aid classes got off to a good start Monday night under the capable instruction of Lt. Ralph Conquest, and the first course was a very interesting one, some twenty-seven members in attendance. They will be taking the seven weeks course to be held every Monday night at the fire station at 7:00 p.m. Some of those attending the course are from the Bear River Fire Department, who are combining with the local department for instruction.

It was announced that visiting day with afternoon tea would be held at the school on Wednesday, March 5. Much interest and appreciation was expressed in the gift of a projector donated to the school by the Student's Council. The value of the projector is $460, and was bought by the students from monies in surplus because sponsoring of transportation to playdowns has been unnecessary in the recent past.

Some twelve members of the Salvage Corps and the regular department motored to Cornwallis last Wednesday to attend a rescue team demonstration, which proved both instructive and interesting. At the same time the remainder of the members were shown a rescue film and fire training film at the fire station here, this being the regular practice night and due to the fact that all members could not be out of town at the same time. Membership cards were issued to all those present at these gatherings. This is the first time that identification cards for members of the department have been issued.

Members will be attending a supper at Hotel Champlain on Friday, February 28th, through the courtesy of J. P. Richards, who so generously honors the department each year in this way.

Local Dentist Discusses Fluoridation

Fluoridation and its effects on dental care was the subject of a talk given by Dr. G. V. Turnbull, local dentist, at an executive meeting of the Digby Area Home and School on Monday evening. The Home and School has accepted the offer to have a visiting dental hygienist come to Digby and much interest was displayed on Monday in Dr. Turnbull's subject resulting in an intelligent and informative discussion. Fluoridation, Dr. Turnbull said, is adding sodium fluoride to drinking water for the prevention of dental decay and not as a remedy. It has been found that the water contains natural fluorides have much less tooth decay than in places not so benefited. The same is the result in those places where fluoridation has been practiced. One survey shows that sixty per cent less tooth decay is found in adults raised in a community with fluoride in the water.

A fluoridation program, Dr. Turnbull said, would do much to combat the situation created by a shortage of dentists and would also be a relief to the family expense. The average cost of one dental filling would pay one person's fluoridation costs for about 20 to 30 years. Dr. Turnbull said that fluoridation has been found to be the most effective way to combat tooth decay and is assured as a safe method in doing so.

The meeting on Monday was in the form of a supper meeting catered to by the H-Y of the school under direction of Mrs. Eva Wendell. Assisting Mrs. Wendell were Donna Gillespie, Nancy Gillespie, Mary Gordon, Loretta Rice, Joan Hall, Faye Cann, Ruth Atkinson and Joan Trask.

A business meeting followed when plans were made for the Home and School general meeting to be held on Wednesday evening, March 5. Prospective program is a talk and film on cancer, a discussion period on family life and a musical period. As a follow up to Dr. Turnbull's interesting talk and the acceptance of the services of a dental hygienist it was decided to invite Dr. W. Gordon Dawson, director of the division of dental services for the province, to address the April general meeting.

Disappointment in the lack of response to the offer of adult education classes during the present winter was expressed by members of the executive. Lack of transportation accommodation seemed to be the most prominent intervening factor.

A report on a survey made by W. B. Hamilton, supervisor of schools at Weymouth, was given and much discussion followed. Of the survey 76 per cent favored standardizing Canadian school curriculum, 84 per cent approved of a two track curriculum.

It was announced that visiting day with afternoon tea would be held at the school on Wednesday, March 5.

Much interest and appreciation was expressed in the gift of a projector donated to the school by the Student's Council. The value of the projector is $460, and was bought by the students from monies in surplus because sponsoring of transportation to playdowns has been unnecessary in the recent past.

Letters to the Editor

The Editor,
The Digby Courier,
Digby, Nova Scotia.

Dear Madam Editor:
Thank you for allowing me space in your last issue. It was interesting to read the different points of view. It will be surprising if someone fails to take issue with some of the points made by this writer, as there is no apparent unanimity of opinion in certain quarters.

Mrs. Oakley Turnbull's letter dealt mainly with the problem of placing temptation within the reach of our youth. It is my belief that all our lives we come face to face with one temptation after another, and the best place to build the character to resist it is within the reach of our family's good influence. There are few places in the Western World except our own province, where one cannot purchase "drinks" in decent surroundings. There are temptations to do things that are evil and there are "temptations" to do things which are natural and decent. For this writer, an occasional drink in a Cocktail Lounge, falls into the latter category. If others place it in the former, then by all means why not allow local Cocktail Lounges so that our youth may face the so called temptation while under parental influence. Otherwise, they will have to face it almost everywhere else they go without the guidance of their parents. For parents who choose to drink, and do so as ladies and gentlemen, there is no reason for their children to behave any differently.

Actually, since only adults are permitted in Cocktail Lounges, I presume Mrs. Turnbull feels that the presence of such facilities may indirectly affect the thinking of our young people.

My view is that drinking to our children is what we make it — "forbidden fruit which should be stolen", or "as commonplace as a meal, and we all know there are very few gluttons!"

"Realist" did not appear to criticize the action of the Digby Board of Trade as far as it went and went on to ask certain searching questions. This writer observes that the automobile has changed the mode of travel for tourists so much that the day when families visited in one spot for a whole summer or a month seems to have passed. Because of high taxes and death duties the actual percentage of the population who can afford a lingering vacation in much smaller than used to be the case. The Americans and Canadians as races appear to be "bargain hunting sightseers on wheels" and if we are tourist hungry, I am afraid we must face facts and cater to them.

One thing these people do expect is decent surroundings for having a drink before dinner or lunch, such as The Digby Board of Trade favoured by their vote. The proper standard of service and food, which the income from such sources will permit, is another thing these visitors expect. The introduction of these facilities may or may not make the visitor remain in Digby longer, but it will if it is the only locality offering such facilities in the area. It certainly won't make his stay shorter, and I am convinced it will mean a larger number of tourists once the news of these facilities is made known.

The general appearance of Digby up until its gradual improvement lately when a few of the eyesores were cleaned up, did not encourage visitors to stop long with us. For many years tumbled down buildings, piles of debris, beautiful trees replaced by gas stations, lumber piled hither and yon, over what was a lovely part of town, certainly added up to discouragement for any visitor who might have planned to stop in Digby. Some improvement has been made. There is room for much more.

Mr. Vincent Snow argued that drinking was wrong on the grounds that it is morally bad and injurious to health. I agree with him if a person has not the character to drink in moderation. If there is one reason why certain adults may be inclined to drink to excess, then it is because, a natural human right — to drink in decent surroundings — is denied them. All of us are inclined to react the same way — to overindulge in any

Editor, Courier
Dear Mrs. Wallis:

In the minds and hearts of a considerable number of people in Nova Scotia the real issue in regard to the liquor question is, we all should try to keep the liquor traffic to a minimum, and not let it go rampant.

It seems that all changes since repeal of the Scott Act have been to relax restrictions, thus causing an increase in the liquor traffic and a corresponding increase in the alcohol problem. Even Federal authorities do not seem inclined to change anything that will in any way lessen this trend, and so continue to allow the century-old practice of the daily rum ration for Canadian sailors, at the present annual cost of $110,000.00 to all tax payers. Yes, the Rum Tot is still handed out, despite the fact the original reason for it has long ceased to exist. Quoting from the Halifax Chronicle-Herald, Feb. 12, "the custom of the daily grog—grog is rum mixed with water—originated several centuries ago when water on long voyages became foul."

Will someone please define moderation in regard to drinking beverage alcohol? And in what country or countries in the Western World is the alcohol problem decreasing or not growing? In regard to minors, it appears that occasionally persons in this age group are served in cocktail lounges where such exist, also taverns, and by liquor commission stores. In the U.S.A. drinking in night clubs and liquor bars by minors is often done against the law.

In further answering some points contained in the letter from "Foe of Intolerance," I doubt if the vast majority of adults in Nova Scotia, at present, will take a drink of beverage alcohol when offered. And, according to Biblical history, the Jews (Salvation is from the Jews; John 4:22) of Christ's time, rarely used strong drink, usually drinking water or milk; and there were no motor cars in those days, as far as I know.

I believe it is true that too many world leaders today indulge in alcoholic beverages, but, most of the greatest, those who contribute most to the welfare of mankind are total abstainers, and this has always been so. No matter how good a so-called moderate drinker is, there is good evidence he or she would live and perform better without beverage alcohol. The authorities of a coal mine, Fukushima, Japan, tested two groups of 170 men for a period of six months. Very careful records showed the following results: (1) In days worked, the abstainers were 14% better; (2) In wages earned, the abstainers were 14.9% higher; (3) In number of accidents, the abstainers were 50% lower; (4) In time off for accidents, the abstainers were 63% less; (5) In time off for sickness, the abstainers were 42.1% less; (6) In time off for other causes, the abstainers were 38.4% less; (7) In total time off (4, 5 and 6 of the above) the abstainers were 44.5% less. Some difference!

Upper Canada and the U.S.A., people of which "Foe of Intolerance" referred to, have a high rate of alcoholism, close to British Columbia, which is the worst in Canada, and closing the gap, as time goes on, in comparison with France which has the highest rate in the world.

I believe that bootlegging, in a very true sense, has increased since repeal. There is far more gangsterism today, especially among the teenage group (about 7 or 8 thousand teenagers operating in gangs in the city of New York alone) and a lot more crime committed by individuals throughout North America. In all this, alcohol corruption is a large factor.

However, there was one bad feature about Prohibition days and possibly two, in trying to administer the Scott Act. One, the operation of liquor vendors that dispensed liquor on receipt of doctors' prescription which was issued for, I suspect, many different ailments, some of which were not in "the book", and so, too many doctors committed perjury, through human weakness, I suppose. Second, only a mere handful of Scott Act inspectors or revenue men, so called, are expected, by some, to do the impossible; however, those Scott Act inspectors did keep the alcohol problem small, compared with what it is these

WHO IS A CHRISTIAN?

Who can rightly be called a Christian? Religious organizations would vary in answering this question, but the only authoritative answer comes from the Word of God, the Bible. In recording the history of the early Church, the Bible says that "the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch." (Acts 11:26)

Christians are disciples—followers of Jesus Christ. When Jesus traveled the dusty roads of Judea and Galilee, His disciples literally followed Him from town to town. They believed His words and kept His teachings.

After the death and resurrection of the Lord, His followers spread throughout the Mediterranean world and elsewhere telling the good news of salvation through Jesus Christ. They made it their purpose to win others to their faith in the Saviour, so that they too could know the blessing of having their sins forgiven. They urged others to repent of their sins and turn to Christ. "Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out." (Acts 3:19)

It was not long until these followers—all who demonstrated their faith in the risen Christ—became known as "Christians." Today the term "Christian" is sometimes used erroneously to apply to non-Hebrews, or to people of "good moral standing."

To use the term correctly, "Christians" are followers of Jesus Christ—those who have confessed Him as the Lord of their lives—those who have accepted Him as their own personal Saviour. It is through Christ—through Christ alone—that a person may become a "Christian." There is no other way. "Neither is there salvation in any other; for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." (Acts 4:12)

Obituary

Mrs. Clara Walker
Word has been received from Franklin, N. H., of the passing of Mrs. Clara Walker, widow of the late Nat Walker, on Sunday at the age of 78. She had been in failing health for some time but her death came as a shock to her many friends.

The late Mrs. Walker was born in Digby County but had lived in various places, including Texas, Massachusetts, Alberta and Milton, Queens Co., which was her husband's home. She was a faithful member of the Church of Christ (Disciples), Weymouth.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Vernon Cole (Alleen), Franklin, N. H., who cared for her mother, and Mrs. Fraser Colpitts (Gertrude), of Ballardville, Mass., and two sons, Donald and James in the Southern United States. She is also survived by two brothers, Frank of Hill Grove and William of Texas, who left only Saturday to visit their sister.

The late Mrs. Walker was well known, having lived here for a time and visited here on many occasions. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

EDUCATION WEEK TO BE OBSERVED

Plans have now been finalized for the observance of Education Week in the Weymouth schools during the week March 1-8.

Principal W. B. Hamilton has announced that visitors day in the local schools will be on Thursday afternoon, March 6. On this occasion all parents and interested citizens of the area are invited to visit the schools.

There will be special displays of students' work in the classrooms. Afternoon tea will be served in the household science room from 3:30 to 4:30. Members of the teaching staff will be present at that time and all visitors are invited to stay behind for this event. A silver collection will be taken, proceeds of which will be used for special projects in the household science department.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

The annual World Day of Prayer service was held in the Ashmore Baptist Church on Friday afternoon, February 21, at 3:30 p.m. with the women of the Protestant churches of Weymouth and surrounding districts taking part.

The theme of the meeting was "The Bread of Life," and the program used was as prepared by the women of Australia, with Mrs. Ronald Kinney as leader.

Presiding during the period of repentance, dedication and intercession were Mrs. Willis Mullen, Mrs. John Carr and Mrs. Gordon Campbell, respectively. During the period of intercession prayers were offered by Mrs. H. B. Grant, Mrs. Russell Cosman, Mrs. Jared Franklin, Mrs. Ellsworth Kinney, Mrs. J. W. Dunkley and Mrs. Wm. Lent.

Speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. A. M. Rogerson who spoke on the observance of this Day of Prayer around the world and the use to which the offering would be put.

The meeting closed with the hymn "The Day Thou Gavest, Lord, Is Ended," followed by the benediction.

Owing to a great deal of sickness and snowy roads the meeting was not as well attended as usual, but all churches were represented.

Yarmouth Downs Little Brook 5-4

Yarmouth made a strong comeback in the third period after trailing 4-2 in the second to emerge winner by a score of 5-4 over Little Brook in a regular Industrial League game to clinch second place.

The game was fast throughout and was marked by clean playing. Yarmouth opened the scoring at the nine minute mark by Dixon, assisted by King, and Soucie from E. Melanson tied it up three minutes later. In the second Little Brook put the pressure on, scoring three goals while Yarmouth scored once. In the third Yarmouth scored three while holding their opponents scoreless.

The Little Brook team held the play in the Yarmouth end quite consistently during the last ten minutes but did everything but score, with MacNeil in the nets kicking out and holding several sure shots from scoring. Blinn, a newcomer for Little Brook, played a good game in the nets for the losers. The Dixon-King line was the most effective for the winners.

For a bang-up hockey game these two teams furnished a good brand, which kept the fans on their feet most of the game, with smart plays on both sides. The playoffs will commence next week, and it is believed that Little Brook and St. Ann's entry will tangle in the semifinals.

First Period:
1—Dixon (King) - 9:01.
2—Soucie (Melanson) - 12:24.

Penalties: Dent, Gennett (LB), Clayong, Dixon (Yar.).

Second Period:
3—E. Thimot (Belliveau) - 4:15.
4—Gennette (B. LeBlanc) - 5:06.
5—Comeau (B. LeBlanc) - 12:01.
6—Dixon (Smith, King) - 13:06.

Penalties: M. LeBlanc, F. Mooney.

Third Period:
7—Dixon (A. Comeau) - 5:33.
8—King (Dixon) - 11:55.

9—A. Comeau (Smith) - 12:12.

Penalties: Doucet, Stuart.

Referee: DeCoursey.

Playoffs To Commence

The playoffs of the Western N. S. Industrial Hockey League comprising teams from Yarmouth, Centreville, St. Ann's and Church Point, will commence next week. All games will be played at St. Ann's forum. This league has produced the best crowd pleasing hockey of the winter. The leadership of the league was decided in the final game played between Yarmouth, St. Ann's and Church Point. Centreville was outclassed but valiantly fought on.

Games are slated for Thursdays and the weekend for this league and a good attendance is expected. The league standings are as follows: St. Ann's 18 points; Yarmouth 16; Church Point 12, and Centreville 0.

Yarmouth games count four points. Church Point and Centreville have one game to play which has been cancelled as it has no effect on the position in the standing.

ed as usual, but all churches were represented.

A Thought Starter

Rev. Donald C. MacCormack, West End Baptist Church, Halifax, N. S.

It is interesting to watch people at work. Some give the impression that they are rushing at top speed and full strength nearly all the time. They are given credit for great achievement and zeal. Their friends watch them sprint through life, and wish that they, too, had such boundless energy. Those whose nerves are as taut as a violin string and who seldom slow down are to be admired, if they can keep up the pace. Often such people drive their cars fast, they talk fast, they have many "irons in the fire" at once, and get well-earned recognition by people who try to keep out of their way.

Others at work are methodical and set a slower pace. They appear to be calm and relaxed in the midst of achievement. "Easy does it" would describe them. They leave the impression of poise and power along the way even though often under stress.

At first look, the easy and steady worker may be accused of lethargy or inefficiency. However, watch him over the long stretch. Watch his goals come in sight and his exploits pile up. This often-unnoticed person deserves admiration also. He may "get there" even faster and be less worn out at the finish line. Remember the hare and the tortoise.

God has made no two people alike. However, He has made us all to need Him and His bounty and strength along the way. Everyone works better when he is serving the Lord.

thing which we feel we have a right to have but which has been denied to us for some time. There will always be a few people who will overindulge in any phase of human activity. We must do our best to cope with these problem souls, but the worst way to deal with them is to prohibit everyone from indulging in that activity for the sake of the few. The result is an immediate multiplicity of the problem among erstwhile moderates. The only way our liquor laws will be changed will be for the True Temperance people to speak up. They should not be overruled by the loud voices of the smaller group of prohibitionists so often heard.

Once again, congratulations to the Digby Board of Trade for displaying a "light amid the encircling gloom!"

South Range, N. S., February 24, 1958.

Dear Editor,—
 On reading the last two issues of The Digby Courier, I feel it is my duty to voice my opinion on the question of the sale of liquors in our hotels.

First of all, I would like to commend Mrs. Turnbull and Mr. Snow for not being ashamed to sign their names to their letters. I think it is the duty of every citizen of Digby and surrounding districts to face this issue openly.

I can think of nothing more disgusting than for a group of business men to say that any public concern must resort to the sale of liquor in order to increase its revenue and its tourist trade. Must we really sink that low? Is there not some way our town can be made more attractive to tourists other than putting up a "Liquor for Sale" sign in the C.P.R. hotel? If this is granted, how long before some other evil will be requested?

What kind of people are they trying to entice into our town? To my opinion, we see enough people staggering around the town and elsewhere without importing more of the same kind. Call them moderate drinkers or whatever you may; it is the "half shot idiot" that causes most of the traffic accidents and other trouble — and remember, the drunkard started out by being a moderate drinker.

But is it necessary to have cocktail lounges for the benefit of the tourists? Aren't we kidding ourselves in thinking that that is all to be desired to induce them to stay longer in our midst. If we have to cater to their whims, have something for them to do. Fishing and boating excursions, clean up our beaches, etc., make the place more attractive and I'll wager they will take care of their own liquor requirements.

If there was as much concentration on getting some industry here so that the majority of us can live decently the year around instead of depending on the tourists for three months, then I would say we'd be getting somewhere. Then maybe we could keep a percentage of our boys and girls with us, in which case I think most of us would be willing to risk them being tempted to frequent cocktail lounges.

Our "Foe of Intolerance" in his letter stated that moderate drinking of alcoholic beverages was accepted in Bible times. Yes, the juice of the grape was used as a beverage, but strong drink is continually being condemned throughout the Bible. I think the words found in Isaiah 5:20-24 fit this situation perfectly.

Come let us look this thing squarely in the face. We are living in a Christian land and most of us call ourselves Christ-

The Editor,
 The Digby Courier,
 Digby, N. S.

My purpose in writing this letter is not to voice my approval or disapproval of cocktail lounges but I do find the protests in your paper very amusing to say the least.

If my memory serves me correctly, those same people who are protesting so loudly did the same over the bar on the Princess Helene. They would have had us believe at the time that pedestrians would be mowed down right and left by intoxicated passengers coming off the boat. Now I ask you, just how many accidents have resulted and just how much difference is there on the Helene since they have a bar.

As for our youth—what have we left here except the teenagers and they are not permitted to be served in cocktail lounges any more than in the liquor stores. Once they are through high school they are obliged to go to far away places to seek employment (and they have bars and taverns in most of those places) so I cannot see that having cocktail lounges here will cause us too many heart aches.

But is it necessary to have cocktail lounges for the benefit of the tourists? Aren't we kidding ourselves in thinking that that is all to be desired to induce them to stay longer in our midst. If we have to cater to their whims, have something for them to do. Fishing and boating excursions, clean up our beaches, etc., make the place more attractive and I'll wager they will take care of their own liquor requirements.

Then maybe we could keep a percentage of our boys and girls with us, in which case I think most of us would be willing to risk them being tempted to frequent cocktail lounges.

ians. Then let us stand together and put an end to this evil right now. After all, what are a few extra dollars compared to the souls of hundreds of men, women and young people?

"For what shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul." Mark 8:36.

 The Editor,
 The Digby Courier,
 Digby, N. S.

Dear Editor:—
 In the post-war plebiscite to decide whether we'd have beer and wine in open saloons, I was newly arrived from England. My problem, with a young, growing family, was to decide whether I wanted liquor to be that available.

My memory was full of quiet, argumentative evenings, discussing this and that — playing darts, above ha-penny. It was also full of young, newly arrived Canadian and American soldiers, too loud, too pushy, too everything when given a drink.

The discussions would sometimes veer to the reasons for the differences between the average drinking-Englishman and drinking-Canadian. Many reasons were given. But nothing seemed to alter — or soften — the fact that the differences were most deplorable there.

However, the average Canadian soldier, being the adaptable creature he is, doesn't take long to adjust to a given situation. And so it was, 1939-45, with the help of a nation of temperate drinkers, he soon learned to take his "pints" and "half pints" of "mild 'n' bitters" without hunting for a fight immediately after.

My problem, though, was still with me — the voting day was fast approaching. Should I vote "no" and insure against the situation becoming worse? Or should I vote "yes" and chance that we could learn — without the help afforded the boys in England — to use, sensibly, alcoholic beverages.

Habits of thought and conduct, once established, are difficult to eradicate even on an individual basis, on a municipal, or national, basis — impossible. I decided that a quarter century of "intemperance" in the form of "no liquor", and the unnatural attitude toward alcoholic beverages that inevitably went with it, was too much handicap to overcome.

It was a case of "put up or shut up", and I had my growing family to think of. I voted "no". I felt we were too late to capture the sociability and good-fellowship of the English "pub" — 25 years too late.

"A Temperate Drinker".

Letters to Editor (From p. 1) days. Liquor is now too easy to get for too many people, and as a result, is destroying and hindering a lot of good industry. Surely there can be no true success without sufficient moral support.

Yours respectfully,
 Vincent Snow.

February 24, 1958.
 Editor, Digby Courier,
 Dear Madam:

Since you have given space in your paper for others to express their views on the liquor question I would appreciate it very much if I might be allowed to say something too.

Those of us who stand for total abstinence are proud indeed of the stand taken by the president of the Digby Board of Trade, Mr. Vincent Snow. What a grand thing it would be if Christian people and all those who stand for total abstinence would wake up and express their appreciation to him and not just take it for granted that he knows they appreciate it.

The very intolerant person who calls himself "Foe of Intolerance" professes to believe that the minority should not have anything to say. If he were attacked by a number of thugs, I'll just bet he'd put up a big kick about it even if he were in the minority. Again, if that so-called "Foe of Intolerance" happens to be a store-keeper, I feel sure if he caught a half dozen in the act of robbing his store, he'd forget that minority theory of his and do his best to force his opinion upon them.

I can just imagine, too, what would happen if some night when he were attending his favorite show at the theatre the policeman suddenly appeared at the door with the warning that fire had been discovered in another part of the building. Ten chances to one he'd rush to the door and out to safety with never a thought of the fact that the warning had been given by a very small minority.

He certainly paints a very dark picture of our fair province when he tells us that most everyone takes a drink. Surely his friends are very different from mine, but if that should be true with only one liquor outlet, the liquor store, what would be the picture with more outlets? True, it would be like a hole in the dykes. The alcoholic beverage stream, as it flows, makes the hole larger and larger each year and as more holes appeared it would be a sorry plight indeed.

If the so-called better class of hotels were granted the privilege of selling alcoholic beverages, very soon other hotels, restaurants, and even some grocery stores would clamour for the same privilege and it would not even stop there. In this modern day and age, when everything is delivered to your door, this commodity would offer the same convenience. A friend of mine visiting in an-

In this modern day and age, when everything is delivered to your door, this commodity would offer the same convenience. A friend of mine visiting in another province saw an imposing looking truck stopping from door to door. Upon inquiry she found it to be a beer truck. How many of you would be proud to see a beer truck stopping at your door or even at your neighbors' door?

You who are church officers, choir and church members, etc., ask yourselves the question, "Am I not my brother's keeper?" Then read Genesis, chapter 4, for your answer.

You who are too luke warm to give your influence on the side of right by speaking up for it ask yourselves the question, "Is it possible that I might be making God sick by my luke warmth?" For your answer read Revelation 3:14-16.

And you who look with disdain upon the Eastern beggar, who sits by the wayside asking alms of every passer by, cannot you see his likeness in he who holds aloft beseeching hands to the tourist, as he tries to beg from him the extra pennies. Every discussion of the tourist industry, which I have read, continually reminds him that folk are frantically trying to obtain any coins which he may have to offer, even if it means the losing of the souls of unborn generations. He may have ten thousand dollars a year in salaries and yet he does not want to feel that folk are trying to squeeze out every penny they can get. To my mind charging

An executive meeting of the British and Foreign Bible Society was held recently in the Disciple Church, Weymouth. Those present were Rev. J. A. Carr, Rev. McMartin, Rev. Irwin, Mrs. Harry Lewis, secretary, and Bernard W. Manzer, president.

VOLUME LXXXIV, No. 27

End Year With Deficit

The Town of Digby ended 1954 with a deficit of $4,691.19 according to the auditors' statement presented at the regular monthly meeting of the Town Council here.

Town Clerk E. S. Eaton stated this deficit was offset somewhat by the fact federal grants in lieu of taxation, estimated for 1954 at $1,500, had been received following the auditing of the year's accounts in the amount of $3,267. This would in effect, he said, reduce the real deficit in the year's operation to $2,904.19.

According to the auditors' report, the deficit was caused by over expenditure in a number of town departments. These included Public Works, Health Services and Protection to Persons and Property. Cost of joint expenditure with the municipality of Digby also exceeded the estimate by $1,500, it was stated.

In revenues for 1954 total revenue had been estimated at $133,637.08. Actual revenue for the year was $134,109.57. Included in revenue was $114,881.12 in taxes; $5,999.38 in licenses and permits; $12,370 in contributions, grants and subsidies.

Total expenditure for the year amounted to $138,800.76. Of this amount $18,555.37 was spent for protection to persons and property. This exceeded the estimate by $2,510.37. Public works expenditures amounted to $46,572.23, exceeding the estimate made at the beginning of the year by $3,707.23. In health services $7,225.51 was expended in 1954. This exceeded the estimate by $1,125.51.

In education the amount expended by the town in 1954 was $325.00, less than had been included in the year's budget. Education expenditure for 1954 amounted to $35,615.75.

Other expenditure amounts included $19,244.97 for debenture debt charges; $6,112.67 for recreation and community services.

The financial statements for the Digby Regional High School were also presented at the meeting. These showed the total costs of operating the Regional High School were $2,668.68 less than had been estimated in the budget prepared at the beginning of the year. Total operating expense amounted to $101,021.32.

According to the auditors' statement which accompanied the financial report of the Board of School Commissioners of the town, town schools showed an operating deficit for the year of $4,440.95 which the statement says is due entirely to an incorrect estimate of debenture debt charges and capital expenditures recoverable from the town. Total cost of operating the town schools for 1954 was $99,124.74 as compared with estimates of $103,680.05 made at the beginning of the year.

In the report of the electric light utility an operating profit of $6,653.76 was reported after providing for debenture debt charges, civic taxes and depreciation reserve. After deducting the amount of $217.00 for capital expenditures out of revenue a balance of $6,436.76 was left to be added to the surplus account which now amounts to $13,849.75.

The water utility report showed an operating profit of $3,297.49. Capital expenditures during the year amounted to $5,003.41 which were financed out of current revenue.

Editor, Digby COURIER
Digby, Nova Scotia
Dear Editor:

As an old newspaperman and an eager reader of the COURIER, I suggest that you begin at once to limit all letters on the controversial subject of liquor sale to half a column. Writers on both sides of the subject are prolix. They ramble and they rant. I, for one, am altogether weary of reading the old, old arguments for and against. Please do not consider me impertinent if I ask that you use your blue pencil vigorously and fearlessly.

Title of a London pantomime song of long ago was: "A short sheet makes the bed seem longer." A short letter makes the subject of alcohol, its sale, its use and abuse, seem less dry and dreary.

Volunteers Rebuild Plant

Twenty days after fire wiped out their source of employment, employees of Weymouth Industries Limited have already started rebuilding the plant, and without pay for the first two weeks to insure early return to boat production and a continued livelihood in their own town.

L. C. Ruby, company manager, said the men's offer to work without wages for two weeks was accepted and construction of a 4,000-square-foot building was already underway. "We are going to be able to deliver to our dealers and should be shipping boats again before the end of March," he said.

The company was swamped with requests from other Western Nova Scotia towns and communities, urging that the industry be rebuilt in another place, he said. Moving fast to keep the Weymouth location, the employees advanced their offer.

Mr. Ruby said while permanent future location of the industry has not been definitely decided, the company was going ahead with partial rebuilding at Weymouth and had made temporary arrangements to use other buildings in the surrounding area in order to resume production.

In the meantime Provincial Industry Minister Manson said his department had offered to "co-operate in any way we could" with Weymouth Industries Limited in re-establishing their burned-out boat-building business. He was replying to a question of Gordon S. Cowan (L-Halifax Centre).

Mr. Manson said the company had been told to get in touch with the department if they needed anything. "We have not heard from them and I presume they're getting along all right."

The company has asked the federal government to assure action on freight rates and tariffs affecting production and transportation costs.

Loss in the fire that destroyed the company plant was estimated at $250,000. The company is expected to decide, by the end of May, whether to rebuild in Weymouth.

Fire Destroys Deep Brook Home

Fire levelled the 2 1/2 storey home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry DeAdder early Thursday morning with loss estimated at $15,000.

Mr. and Mrs. DeAdder were awakened by their daughter, Barbara, who smelled smoke. The fire department from the HMCS Cornwallis naval base arrived but was too late to save the dwelling.

The house was built 87 years ago by the late David Lent and was later sold to Otis Robbins. At that time a little girl was burned to death with not too much damage to the house. The house was also struck by lightning which went through nearly every room. Mr. Robbins sold the house to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Adams who lived there 19 years, and then sold to Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Dickens who remodelled it and ran a boarding house named "The English Inn." They in turn sold the house to Father Murphy and he started a poultry farm, later selling to Mr. and Mrs. DeAdder who moved from Kentville about 10 years ago.

Fire destroyed the last poultry house.

Trinity Afternoon Guild will meet with Mrs. Victor Cardoza, Queen St., on Thursday.

Hospital Aid Holds Auction

Mrs. D. G. Black, Queen St., entertained the Digby Ladies Hospital Aid at her home on Monday evening when a social hour in the form of an auction followed the regular business meeting. More than thirty-five dollars was realized from the auction. Mrs. Basil Porter and Mrs. J. M. Wallis were auctioneers.

Mrs. B. Franklin presided at the meeting. A committee headed by Mrs. Grace Edwards, assisted by Mrs. B. H. Ruggles, Mrs. E. B. Richardson, Mrs. Alfred Kenney and Mrs. Kenneth Beckwith, was named to take charge of the April Booth at the Hospital Fair in August.

Mrs. A. J. Dillon reported that $158.70 was realized from the tag day. On the committee with Mrs. Dillon were Miss Beale Chisholm, Miss Grace Chisholm and Mrs. L. F. Dolron.

Prizes were donated by the committee to the highest sellers who were in order of merit: Marilyn Patterson, Judith Woolaver, Leslie Anderson, Joanne Kenney, Terry Leonard, Sherman Haines, Cecile Dolron and Robert Neville.

Fire Department Entertained

James P. Richards, of the Hotel Champlain, entertained members of the Digby Fire Department and Fire Committee of the Town Council at a dinner at the hotel last Friday evening.

The dinner, which has become an annual event, was a most enjoyable affair. Thanks of those present to Mr. Richards for his hospitality were expressed by Fire Chief George Humphrey, Councillor J. W. Christie, Fire Warden V. G. Cardoza and others.

During the social period following the dinner former fire committee chairman Norman D. Wright presided. Short addresses were given by the company captains and the assistant captain of the salvage corps. Movies of the proceedings were taken by Charles Hall.

The candidates, many of them new entries in the Royal Canadian Navy, will be presented to the Bishop for confirmation by the Anglican padre at the naval base, Rev. Robert Shannon.

On Sunday morning Bishop Waterman will conduct services of Holy Communion at St. Clements Church in Clementsport at 9:30 and at St. John's Church in Bear River at eleven o'clock.

In the afternoon he will officiate at a service at St. Paul's Chapel in Marshalltown at three o'clock. There he will be assisted by Rev. H. Y. MacLean, Rector of Trinity Parish, Digby, and Rural Dean of the Anglican Deanery of Annapolis.

Receives Award

Sea Cadet Wins Trophy

Digby Kiwanians and their guests, the Digby Sea Cadets and Wrenettes, along with their training officers, heard an informative address by Lieutenant Charles Rhodes at their regular dinner meeting on Thursday evening. Guest of honor along with Lieut. Rhodes was Ordinary Seaman Nelson Frances who was presented by Lieut. Rhodes with a Canadian efficiency award in recognition of the most proficient cadet in his class at the Great Lakes Training Centre, Hamilton, Ontario, last summer. Nelson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ainslie Frances, Acaciaville. In making the presentation Lieut. Rhodes read an accompanying letter which stated the award had been won because of his outstanding appearance, bearing, conduct, leadership, loyalty and sense of duty coupled with high results in class examinations.

Cadet David Francis received the Captain's award at the training camp in Sydney, N.S., last summer and the corps won the Efficiency Shield for the Maritime area. This was the first time that two trophies in one year had been won in the Maritimes. In his address Lieut. Rhodes commended the Digby corps and those responsible for their training. He traced the history of the corps from its beginning as a school cadet corps when Captain J. C. I. Edwards stationed at HMCS Cornwallis instructed the boys every Thursday afternoon at the high school. After the war the school corps folded up and later was revived by Charles McBride who continues his work with the cadets at the present time. Since 1943 an average of 70 boys a year have gone through the cadet training here and have with discipline and spiritual guidance developed into fine citizens. Seven rooms have been provided for the cadets at HMCS Cornwallis, which, as pointed out by Lieutenant Rhodes, is a considerable saving to the community.

Transportation for the Cadets and Wrenettes is provided by naval buses. It was brought to the attention of the audience that the members of the corps are covered by insurance during transportation. There are at present 25 Wrenettes in this area and it is only the second group formed in Canada. The other group was at Saint John, N. B. The Cadet strength here at present is 60 cadets and 6 officers. Lieut. Rhodes spoke about the benefits derived by the boys in attending the cadet camps and said about 50 per cent of the local corps do attend camps.

Lieutenant Rhodes was thanked by H. M. Warne. The meeting was presided over by Kiwanis President Russell Harris. C. M. Levy drew the attention of the Kiwanians to the Heart Fund which is open for contributions through any of the chartered banks. A sing-song led by Mr. Levy, and with Miss Anne Brittain presiding at the piano, was enjoyed.

Mr. Chisholm has been associated with agriculture ever since he was 12 years old, when, he said, "I rode on horse-back, behind my father, to attend an agricultural meeting."

His career as a farmer has been an active one. He developed a fine herd of Jersey cattle and, today, is interested in the swine industry to the extent that he is marketing upwards of 300 hogs a year.

Mr. Chisholm became identified with the Digby County Exhibition and, for 14 years, he acted as its secretary. As a young man he became interested in the farmers' organization, which he has continued to support until this day. In 1933, he served as president of the Nova Scotia Farmers' Association and, in 1936, the Department of Agriculture and Marketing honored Mr. Chisholm with a Banner Farmer Certificate. In 1935, Mr. Chisholm was first elected to the County Council and, since then, he has continued to represent his district as a councillor. In 1935, he was appointed warden, and this position he has continued to hold down through the years.

Mr. Chisholm is also a member of the Session of the Bear River United Church, and chairman of the Digby County Power Board. The erection of the Digby Regional High School is a venture which Mr. Chisholm supported strongly, and its completion he regards as one of his fondest achievements.

Mr. Chisholm was first appointed a member of the Land Settlement Board in 1933 when, he said, "the Board had a total volume of business of $42,000. Today, it is not uncommon for the Board to do that much business in an afternoon."

"I have enjoyed my work with the Board," said Mr. Chisholm, "and what has given me a great deal of satisfaction is that I, as a member of the Board, within the last few years, have assisted young men to settle on farms in Nova Scotia, just as I, as a member of the Board, helped their fathers, a generation ago."

Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm, who were married in 1926, will continue to live at Bear River, where their son now operates the home farm. One daughter, Mrs. Thomas Gates, also resides at Bear River, while a second daughter, Mrs. Crawford Purdy, resides at Truro.

NOTICE
A full report of the annual meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses, which was held at Trinity Anglican Church Hall on Tuesday afternoon, will appear in next week's issue of the Courier.

Retires From Farm Board

Harvey E. Chisholm, Bear River, who, with 25 years' service, served longer as a member of the Nova Scotia Land Settlement Board, than any other person, was guest of honour at a testimonial dinner held for him by the staff of the Nova Scotia Land Settlement Board, at Truro, last Monday evening, on the eve of his retirement.

Mr. Chisholm was presented with a gift on behalf of the Board and, in making the presentation, R. F. Newcombe, the senior Board member, pointed out that the gift carried with it "the regard and the esteem in which you are held by all of us who have been associated with you over the years, and who have appreciated the opportunity of working with you."

Others who paid tribute to the support rendered by Mr. Chisholm during his quarter-century of service, included S. E. Lewis, chairman of the Nova Scotia Land Settlement Board, and Dr. F. W. Walsh, Deputy Minister. Said Mr. Lewis, "You, Mr. Chisholm, have been a real prop to me as chairman of the Board and I am deeply grateful for the assistance you provided, for you combined, to a rare degree, progressive ideas, coupled with sound business sense and good judgment."

Mr. Chisholm was born in Bear River, attended a school located on the family farm, where, he said, "for nine years I acted as the janitor and made the fires for a salary of $3.75 a year."

Following graduation from the Bear River Academy, Mr. Chisholm, as a youth of 18, went West on the harvest excursion of 1903. He returned to Nova Scotia that fall and, two or three years later, went to New York, where, he said, "I drove a horse and wagon the 10 mile length of the City of New York—from Yonkers to Battery Point."

In company with his brother, Mr. Chisholm acquired a threshing outfit in Western Canada and, for three or four years, he operated this threshing outfit, following which he returned to Nova Scotia, and here he has remained, and farmed, ever since.

Mr. Chisholm has been associated with agriculture ever since he was 12 years old, when, he said, "I rode on horse-back, behind my father, to attend an agricultural meeting."

His career as a farmer has been an active one. He developed a fine herd of Jersey cattle and, today, is interested in the swine industry to the extent that he is marketing upwards of 300 hogs a year.

Dr. G. A. W. Angus Addresses V.O.N.

Dr. G. A. W. Angus of the Digby Psychiatric Clinic addressed the local association of the Victorian Order of Nurses, Digby, at the annual meeting held at Trinity Church Hall on Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Angus' address was particularly appropriate in that it dealt with psychiatry in the United Kingdom where great emphasis is put on the role that a nurse can play in mental health care in a community. In North America he said, prevention in regard to mental illness has a tendency to be concerned with early treatment, rehabilitation and assistance to the ill. In the United Kingdom it tends more to deal with early symptoms in children, education and elimination of undesirable conditions in the home or elsewhere which might lead to mental illness. Nurses who work in the schools and homes he said are trained to detect symptoms and circumstances. He stressed the need of the nurse being trained in this field as ordinarily a nurse being conscious about physical needs will often overlook a condition undesirable to good mental health. He pointed out that care in the first three or four years of a child's life is a great safeguard from mental illness.

He told of the part that the Departments of Public Health play in the field of mental health in the United Kingdom where the local levels of government are strong on health, welfare and education.

He said mental health work was at an advantage where difficulty in coming to a mental health clinic was overcome by the patients when their attendance was associated with attendance at the clinic for other types of illness.

Dr. Angus was introduced by Rev. E. C. Churchill who spoke of his many achievements in the field of psychiatry. Dr. Angus, born in Scotland, also served in the World War.

Previous to the address Stanley MacDonald, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of officers who were duly elected for the coming year as follows: Executive 1955-59: Honorary President, Mrs. L. H. Morse. President, Rev. E. C. Churchill. 1st Vice-President, Rev. H. Y. MacLean. Secretary, Mrs. F. Dakin. Treasurer, Mrs. H. R. Bishop. Members of the Board 1955-59: Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Dr. D. E. Lewis, Mrs. D. G. Black, Mrs. E. C. Churchill, Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. C. Hersey, Mr. S. MacDonald, Mrs. C. Snow, Mrs. C. M. Levy, Father Amoro, Mr. J. R. Nichols, Rev. J. Brooks, Capt. Clarence Bradley, Mrs. J. Deveau, Mrs. W. Ganong, Mrs. F. May, Mrs. J. Russell, Mrs. M. Thurber, Mrs. L. F. Dolron, Mrs. J. R. Nichols, Mrs. Robert Bearne. Publicity Committee: Capt. Bradley, Mrs. John Russell, Mrs. L. F. Dolron. Nursing Committee: Mrs. Paul Snow, Mrs. Charles Hersey, Mrs. Melford Thurber. Car Committee: Rev. E. Churchill, Fr. Amoro, Mr. S. MacDonald. Financial Committee: Mr. Fritz Dakin, Rev. H. Y. MacLean, Mr. John Nichols. Med. Advisory Committee: Dr. D. E. Lewis, Dr. D. G. Black, Dr. J. R. McCleave, Dr. L. F. Dolron.

Auditors: Mr. H. Morton, Mr. R. Hand-spiker. Ottawa Representative: Mr. T. Kirk, M.P.

The treasurer, Mrs. H. R. Bishop, reported a debit balance at the end of 1954 of $235.55. The total general receipts were $3,398.10 and the total operating expenses were $4,160.46.

Other reports, some of which are found elsewhere in this issue of The Digby Courier, were given by Mrs. Fritz Dakin, secretary; Mrs. Alice Keen, nurse-in-charge; Mrs. J. M. Wallis, convener of publicity, and Mrs. Keen, convener of nursing committee.

At the close of the meeting an afternoon tea was held when Mrs. Fritz Dakin and Mrs. J. W. Christie presided at the tea cups.

Annual Meet Tomorrow Night

Plans for the annual meeting of the West Nova Scotia Mental Health Group Inc., from which organization is drawn the Board of Directors of the Psychiatric Clinic, have now been finalized, it is understood.

The meeting will be held at the Digby Regional High School tomorrow evening and the program will include annual report; reports from Dr. Herbert Davy and Dr. G. A. W. Angus, and films.

Attendance of Dr. A. H. Leighton at the meeting, which had been expected, will not be possible as Dr. Leighton has been called to Philadelphia due to his mother's illness.

It is expected delegations from Yarmouth and from Annapolis County will attend the meeting. Representatives from these areas will be elected to the board of directors together with representatives from Digby.

In regular play the Sidewinders ended in first place with 58 points. Smokeaters followed with 55 and the H Bombs came third with 53.

Ninety-three On Friday

Mr. Benny Campbell celebrated his 93rd birthday on Friday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alton MacNeil, Freeport.

Quite a number of friends and relatives called to enjoy a pleasant time with him, and a cup of tea.

He was remembered with cards and gifts from his many friends, who wish him many more happy birthdays.

Construct Huge Snowman

Although their production is not as large as the "Terrible Snowman" eagerly sought after by scientists, three Digby lads last week built a snowman which is huge by local standards.

The snowman, complete with hat and pipe, measured twelve feet in height and took real effort and ingenuity to construct. Shown in the above photo with Mr. Snowman are Keith Woodman and Gregg Eldridge, two of the sculptors. Several other neighboring boys also helped in the construction.

Keith Woodman is thirteen and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Woodman; Gregg Eldridge is fifteen, and son of Mr. and Mrs. William Eldridge.

According to the youngsters the snowman did not turn into a Frankenstein monster but evaporated when exposed to the soothing rays of the sun.

Trinity Evening Guild will meet with Mrs. H. R. Bishop on Tuesday at her home, Montague Row.

Douse Fire, Nab Escapee

The Digby Fire Department was called out here Tuesday afternoon to fight a stubborn blaze aboard the British freighter "Goodwood" which is in port taking on a cargo of some two thousand cords of pulpwood for France.

The fire was first noticed when heavy smoke came billowing from the forecastle section of the ship. The fire department was summoned and had to use every piece of breathing apparatus available in order to get men down in to the forecastle to locate the source of the smoke.

The blaze was discovered in the paint locker of the Goodwood and is thought to have been started by spontaneous combustion. Tons of water were pumped into the forward part of the ship before the fire was brought under control and extinguished.

Wednesday morning the fire department had to return to the ship to pump out the water poured into her to put out the blaze. Loading operations went on uninterrupted while the firemen were busy fighting the blaze in the forepeak of the ship.

An exciting sidelight to the fire story was that, during their firefighting efforts on the British cargo ship, the members of the Digby Fire Department were also able to aid in the capture of an escaped military prisoner.

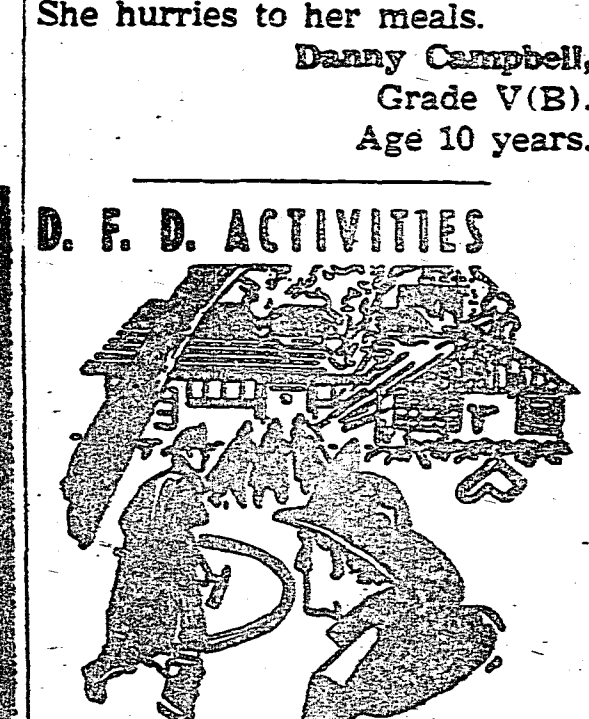

The prisoner had escaped from a guard while crossing the Bay of Fundy to Digby aboard the CFS Princess Helene and all efforts by police to trace the escaped man had failed. When the Princess Helene was pulling away from the dock in Digby for her return trip to Saint John firemen fighting the blaze aboard the Goodwood, moored next to the Princess Helene, saw what they took to be the wanted man hiding in a lifeboat aboard the Princess Helene. They shouted to police and ship's officers aboard the CFS ship and the escapee was recaptured.

MY KITTEN

I have a little pussycat,
Who runs in and out with me,
And everytime I chase her,
She runs up a tree,
Then down among the bushes,
Jumping at my heels,
But then, when I call her,
She hurries to her meals.

D. F. D. ACTIVITIES

First Aid classes were held on Monday night with only two absentees, one from Bear River and one from the Digby members.

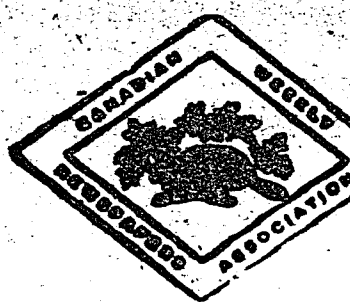

Bowling schedule has been completed and this week starts the quarter finals. The Smokeaters meet the Hounddogs and the Frytters the Outlaws. This is the best five out of nine series.

Saint John Ambulance Drive has now been completed and returns are now being made up. Thanks is extended to all who collected and to the public for their support in this drive, which has such a close relationship with the work of the Fire Department.

The Scout Group Committee will meet at the Fire Station on Tuesday, March 11th, at 7:30, for their regular meeting.

The department was called to a fire on board the S.S. Goodwood Tuesday afternoon at 3:10. This proved to be a stubborn fire due to the density of smoke and lack of ventilation which necessitated the use of breathing apparatus. Although damage to the ship was not extensive, some materials were damaged and water conditions were bad. All breathing equipment was put into use by the department. Fire was finally quelled at 5:00 p.m. A detail had to return on Wednesday to pump water from the compartment so that regular ship operations could be carried out.

About This and That Education Week

"Education needs everyone's support." This is this year's slogan for National Education Week across Canada. It should now be realized by a majority that education needs the combined support of all in order for it to be improved and carried out in a satisfactory manner in our present day society. The few who criticize and do not offer helpful suggestions merely hold back progress which is necessary in our world of today.

With the recent development of "Sputniks" and atomic energy does not Canada have to keep up to the times in order to hold its position in the world as a nation? With the abundant resources available it is quite evident that with research and development we can rise to unlimited heights in the world, perhaps even to world leadership. However, there seems to be no other way of doing this than by first building a firm foundation in education.

Recently the Canadian Council on Education has been meeting in order to discuss the needs of education. Among other things, they have discussed teacher shortages, bigger grants for educational purposes and the revision of courses. In order for a firm foundation to be established these needs must be met. Teacher's salaries should be increased not only to cope with the shortage but to bring many more devoted people into the profession. Much larger grants should be made to the student. Years ago high school education had to be paid for in much the same manner as university is today. With very gradual reforms perhaps our grandchildren will receive an entirely free education. Can this not be hastened?

Courses should be revised to include current scientific discoveries and students should receive more courses in contemporary literature. This would offer a challenge to the student and help to hold his or her interests.

In order to establish a strong educational system the present day evolving reforms must be further expanded. Not only does education need your support but on the whole you will find that you need the support of an education and by realizing this you will not only help your country economically but you will also help yourself financially and morally.

Editor of the Amethyst.

Hi-Y Active

In October 1957, the Maritime Conference was held in Halifax and six representatives were sent from Digby. From the senior group: Marilyn Clayton, Helen Harding, Miriam Grant and Bonnie Wright. From the junior group: Joan Hall and Mary Garder.

As the enthusiasm of the club grew, it became too large and the members were divided into two groups: the Junior group from grade seven up to grade ten, and the Senior group from grade ten to grade twelve. The meetings are held on Wednesday afternoons. A great deal of credit should go to Mrs. Wendell, who for a number of years, has been the advisor of the two groups.

Some various projects which the Digby groups have undertaken are: providing Easter baskets for the Alms House, trimming the high school auditorium during the Christmas season, sending contributions to "Care" and catering to numerous suppers held in the school. Hi-Y has also sold refreshments at Open Houses on different occasions.

In the future we hope the Hi-Y will continue "to create, maintain, extend throughout the home, school and community high standards of Christian character."

President, Hi-Y.

An Interesting Subject

One of the most fascinating of all our studies is History, which is the story of the past. Boys and girls and even grown up people, are thrilled by stories of wars and adventures by land and by sea.

Now, while these stories of the past thrill and interest us, they also teach us valuable lessons which bear directly on our own lives and conduct. They teach us how to depend upon ourselves and how to get along with our neighbor.

The men and women of History show us splendid examples of courage, unselfishness, loyalty, patience, and justice. By reading about the noble deeds of these men and women, we are filled with admiration, and it inspires us to do a similar part in the world today.

Then, too, by following steadily in the path which led those who have gone before us to success and happiness, we are able to avoid mistakes, and so to make even better, the condition under which we live.

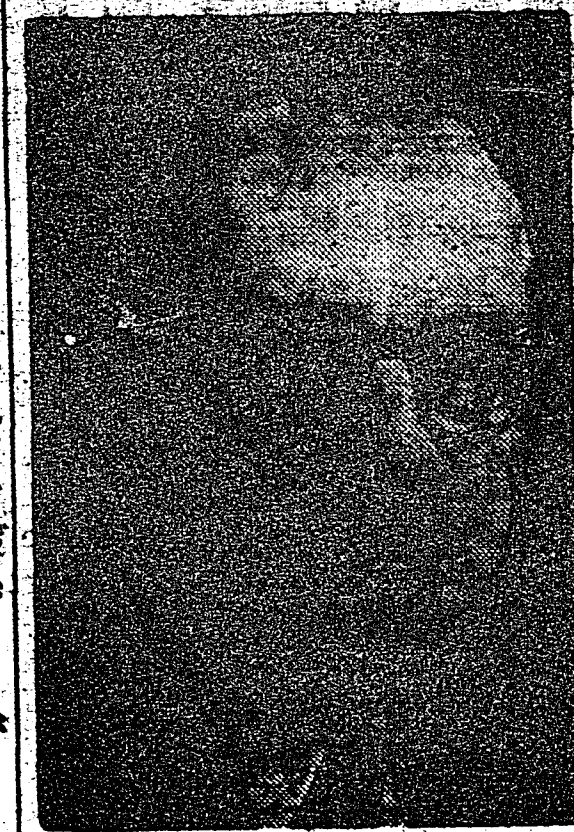

We must do our best to find out what is right, no matter what the difficulties may be. If we fail in this, we shall most likely bring disaster upon ourselves and others.

May we give loyal and devoted services to our country as our ancestors have given in the ages that have passed.

evening a beautiful birthday cake was presented to Nancy Robbins by the group. The party was well attended, and over $10 was raised.

Issues Statement For Education Week

"Once again the observance of Education Week gives us all a welcome opportunity to focus our attention on the schools of Nova Scotia, and on the important activities that go on day by day in our classrooms.

"This year Education Week may well be considered of even more significance than usual. Since this time last year, we have entered with dramatic suddenness into the reality of a new era — the space age — with man-made satellites, while still in a primitive stage, yet already thrown far from this planet towards the vastness of outer space. Here we have striking proof of man's conquest of nature by science in the long tradition of experimentation and investigation.

"That is was the Russians who first accomplished this notable feat has naturally spurred the Western countries to greater efforts in scientific fields. The cry has gone out for more scientists, for better facilities, for improved techniques, for greater achievement in science. This comes home to our school classrooms, for accompanying it is the demand for better basic education, a greater emphasis on fundamental learning, a more disciplined training, a deeper scholastic approach.

"Such attitudes should apply, of course, not only in the field of science but equally throughout the whole realm of education, the whole realm of ideas, whether in the sciences or the humanities.

"We can scarcely overemphasize the importance of the process of education in our society. Special occasions like the observance of Education Week help us to take thought and

Purple and White Hi-lites

The Bridgetown Curling Rink was the scene of the annual A.V.W.S.C. Bonspiel on Saturday, February 22, with rinks from the Digby, Bridgetown and Middleton high schools participating.

Each school was represented by two teams. Digby's number 1 team consisted of skip, Don Snow; mate, Fulton Logan; second, Ron Denton; lead, Ray Riley. The number 2 team from Digby included skip, John Hawkins; mate, Walter Murphy; second, David Burnham; lead, Robert Beckwith.

Of the four games curled by each of the Digby teams, only one was lost by each team, the two losses being inflicted by the number 1 team from Bridgetown.

At the close of the bonspiel, Digby was on the top with total points amounting to 340. Bridgetown followed with 240, Middleton with 140.

As winners of the bonspiel the Digby teams were presented with the Victor Bruce Trophy for the second consecutive year.

The high school hockey team travelled to Middleton on February 26 with a 6-point lead scored in the previous game at Digby.

The tensely exciting game was climaxed by a 6-3 win for Middleton. This win was not sufficient to overcome Middleton's 6 point deficit and the Digby team took the game in total points, giving Digby the chance to advance to the second round of play in the Headmaster's league.

Of the three goals attributed to Digby, one was scored by Rene Turnbull, the other two by Cecil Mosher, with one goal assisted by Jim VanTassel.

realize the full measure of its significance in our day. "Education, in its broadest sense, is the means of improving civilization and transmitting it from one generation to another. The perpetuation of our own culture depends above all on education; and at any time in the present age, more-over, a country is as great as its schools and its universities—and no greater.

"Considered in this light, then, how vital becomes the education of our youth; how essential the interest and encouragement of individuals and groups in all phases of education; how important our every effort to ensure that our schools put forth the best possible product.

"As Minister of Education, I commend to your sympathetic and earnest consideration the many aspects of education in Nova Scotia that come to your attention throughout Education Week this year."

COASTING

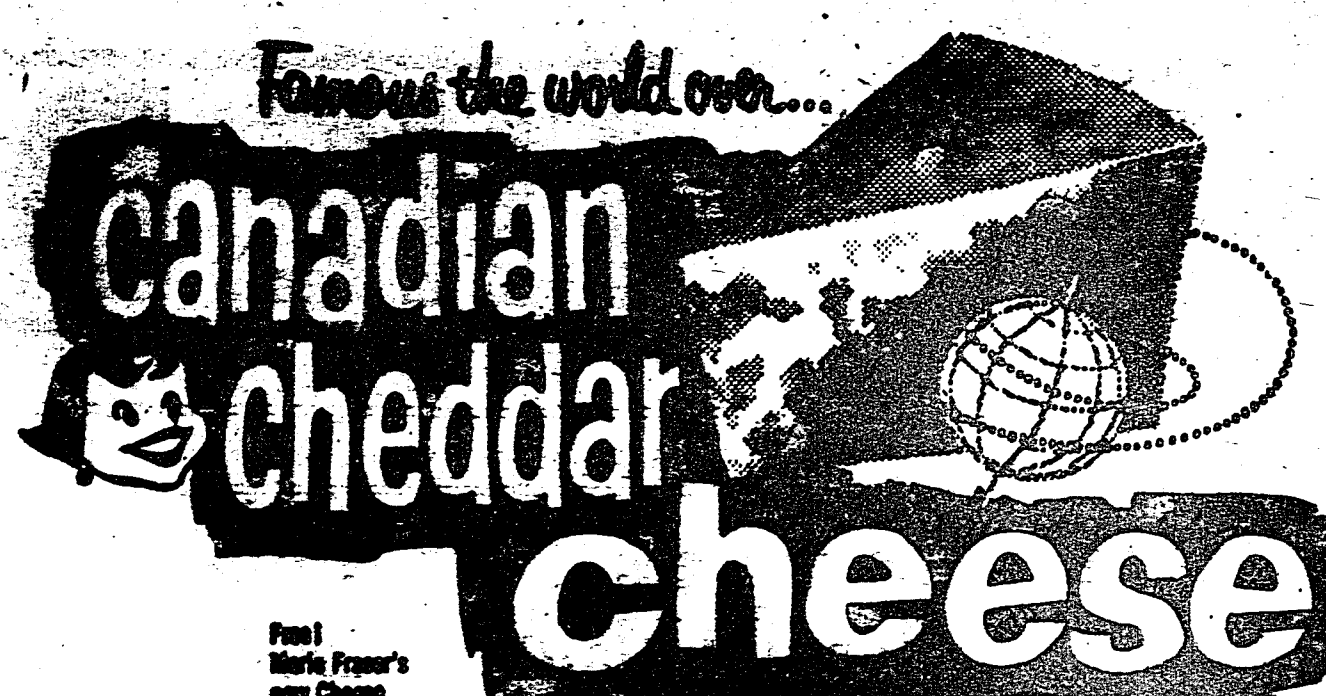

I love to go coasting on a winters day
One good push and I'm away,
Down the hill helter skelter
I close my eyes but there's no shelter
From the whistling wind and stinging snow
Which gives my face that healthy glow.

Paul Butterworth,
Grade V (B).
Age 12.

EARS

Rabbit, rabbit with such long ears,
A lot of things you must hear.
With a nose that's always wiggling,
It almost gets a person giggling.
You have a tail so short and small,
It's no wonder you are loved by all.
Just remember the things I've told,
Cause you are so soft from head to toe.

Sharon Cook, IV (B).

CRUSTY DINNER ROLLS

Measure into a large bowl 1/2 c. lukewarm water; crumble and add 1 cake Best Yeast—or stir in 1 tsp. granulated sugar and sprinkle with 1 envelope Best dry Yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, THEN stir well. Add 3/4 c. lukewarm water and 1 tsp. salt. Add, all at once, 3 1/2 c. once-sifted all-purpose flour and work in with the hands; work in 3 tbs. soft shortening. Knead on lightly-floured board until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl. Cover with a damp cloth and set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down dough in bowl, fold over, cover and again let rise until doubled in bulk. Turn out on lightly-floured board and divide into 2 equal portions; shape each portion into a long roll about 1 1/2" in diameter. Cover with a damp cloth and let rise 15 mins. Using a floured sharp knife, cut dough into 2" lengths and place, well apart, on ungreased cookie sheets. Sprinkle rolls with cornmeal and let rise, uncovered, for 1/2 hour. Brush with cold water and let rise another 1/2 hour. Meanwhile, stand a broad shallow pan of hot water in the oven and preheat oven to hot, 425°. Remove pan of water from oven and bake the rolls in steam-filled oven for 1/2 hour, brushing them with cold water and sprinkling lightly with cornmeal after the first 15 mins., and again brushing them with cold water 2 minutes before removing baked buns from the oven. Yield—18 rolls.

Obituary

Lola Young

The village of Freeport was shocked and saddened by the sudden passing of Mrs. Lola Young (born Lola Bates), wife of George Young.

Prior to her marriage she was married to Earl Crocker, who predeceased her 20 years ago.

The deceased suffered a heart attack on Monday evening, Feb. 24th, and passed away instantly.

The greater part of her life was spent at Freeport. She was the daughter of William and Alice Bates and was born in 1890.

The deceased had a host of friends who will ever remember her kind and generous nature. She was a friend to all who knew her and her passing has left a vacancy in the community which will be hard to fill.

She was a faithful member of Freeport Baptist Church and of Fair Isle Rebekah Lodge. It was while serving her lodge that she suffered the fatal attack.

The funeral service was conducted from Freeport Baptist Church on Thursday afternoon at 2.30 by Rev. Derby. The Rebekahs from Sunset Lodge, Tiverton, and Fair Isle, Freeport, attended the service in a body.

Many relatives and friends were present from Westport, Central Grove and Tiverton, also Dr. and Mrs. Will Young and Holland Althouse, from Kentville.

The only music at the service was a vocal duet, "Beyond the Sunset" rendered by two Rebekah friends, Mrs. Norman Perry and Mrs. Egbert Crocker.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful, which spoke of the love and affection in which the deceased was held.

The late Mrs. Young leaves to mourn her loss a husband, George; seven children, four sons and three daughters, by her first marriage, also fourteen grandchildren, thirteen residing here and one granddaughter at Sarnia, Ont.

Three of the sons, Watson, Harry and Donald, reside in Freeport; one son, Clayton, and one daughter, Mrs. Freda Tibbert, reside in Sarnia, Ont.; one daughter, Mrs. Shirley Elliott, resides at Tiverton, and one daughter, Neta, at home.

Clayton and Freda came by plane from Sarnia to be present at the funeral of their mother.

She also leaves to mourn her loss two sisters, Mrs. Eldon Stanton, of Central Grove, N. S. and two brothers, Fred Bates, of Saint John, and Hilton, of Detroit, Michigan. One brother predeceased her a few years ago.

Interment was at Hillside cemetery.

How Many Sacrifices?

But don't Protestants believe that every sin must be paid for? Jim asked his friend, a well known Bible-believing Protestant layman. "Why, yes," Ted replied, "Protestants have always believed that all sin must be paid for."

"But you don't believe that church attendance, donations to the church, going to mass, and repeating prayers help to pay for sins, do you?"

"No, Jim, the Bible makes it clear that none of our actions, however good they may be, can help to pay for our sins. From the beginning of time there has been only one sacrifice for sin. The Bible says: 'Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many.' (Hebrews 9: 28)

"Do you mean that there is nothing we can do to help pay for our sins?" Jim continued.

"If we follow the Bible," Ted replied, "it is the incapable conclusion that there cannot be any further sacrifice for sin. Nothing we do, nothing we give, will serve to gain merit for us in the sight of God. Everything that can be done has already been done in the sacrifice of the Son of God, Jesus Christ."

"Well, then, how do we gain favor in the sight of God?" Jim asked. "Just by accepting His favor, Jim. Either we must decide to accept God's free gift of salvation through the completed sacrifice of Jesus Christ, or we neglect the offer and thereby cut ourselves off from the mercy of God. The Bible makes this choice clear when it says that 'the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.' (Romans 6: 23)

Bible-believing Christians know that salvation is based on faith in the completed sacrifice of Jesus Christ. This faith results in the performance of good deeds. Good deeds are a natural characteristic of the believer in Christ, but they are not a means of salvation. The Bible makes this clear when it says: "For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: Not of works, lest any man should boast. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them." (Ephesians 2: 8-10)

The Salvation Army "God Seeks You" Campaign

Why are you looking at me like that? Well, I'm not really looking at you, but at that button you are wearing! And this is the conversation between a Salvationist and his friend because the Salvationist is wearing a blue button with the words "GOD SEEKS YOU" in white letters.

These words explain the slogan which The Salvation Army has taken for their spiritual campaign all over Canada. There are homes here in our district and our town wherein are folks who do not attend a place of worship, and Salvationists will be visiting such homes to encourage attendance at some place of worship.

Not only will visiting be done but we are also praying (not that we were not doing so before) but we are spending more hours on our knees. For instance since last October several half-nights of prayer have been held in the local Salvation Army Hall.

This coming Sunday, March 9th, Lic. Kenneth Gorgevate will be conducting special meetings in connection with the "God Seeks You" Campaign.

Also in April the Salvation Army's Territorial Evangelist Sr. Captain John Zarfas will be conducting a seven-day Campaign here in Digby.

I would like to ask all Christians in Digby and district to pray for this Campaign. Surely the very slogan is not only on the button, but also the aim of every Christian, and that is to bring folks to this knowledge.

May I be permitted to invite all to join us in The Army Hall, and if this is not possible, pray that there will be an awakening in our town and district of folk realizing that "GOD SEEKS YOU".

64 Years Married

Major and Mrs. Louis Prikler, former residents of Granville Ferry, now residing in Halifax, are receiving congratulations and best wishes on the occasion of their 64th wedding anniversary.

In 1954 the Major and Mrs. Prikler celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary, now four years later, the Major is 88 years of age and his wife is 84 years old and they are both still active.

The family live at 99½ Windsor St., in Halifax, and Major and Mrs. Prikler's only son, Somers Prikler, who is a radio Transport, with his wife and two children live on the second floor.

Three careers wrapped in a lifetime

There has been the record of Major Prikler. He has been soldier, farmer and business man. After a distinguished army career which spanned 32 years, Major Prikler took to farming. He cultivated the soil for a period of 20 years and then decided to try a new venture—the grocery business. In between he worked for five years at the Halifax Dockyard.

Major Prikler enlisted in the Imperial Army in 1888 and served for six years with the Grenadier Guards. He then served with the army service corps until March 1914, when he came to Canada.

He returned overseas in the First World War with the First Expeditionary Force. Commissioned at Salisbury Plains, he served in France until the armistice. His service in France won him recognition of being mentioned in despatches. Demobilized in March 1920, he purchased a farm at Granville Ferry and resided there until 1942.

Major and Mrs. Prikler moved to Halifax in that year and he worked at the Dockyard until 1947. He was 77 years old when he retired. His retirement, however, was only for a time. In December of 1947 he purchased a grocery business on Brunswick St. He retired from business in 1953.

Major and Mrs. Prikler's many friends join in wishing them good health and may God's richest blessings be theirs in the coming years.

To Sponsor Princess

The Digby Board of Trade will sponsor a Princess at this year's Apple Blossom Festival, it was decided at Tuesday night's meeting of the board here. There has been no Princess entry from Digby in the festival for the past two years.

Reigh W. Jayne, who attended a meeting of the Apple Blossom Festival Committee in Wolfville last week as a representative of the Digby trade board, reported on that meeting. He said plans are underway to greatly improve the festival this year. Efforts are being made, he stated, to have the famed replica of the historic ship, Mayflower, sail into Port Williams during the festival program.

Mr. Jayne stressed the publicity value of the festival to the whole western Nova Scotia area and stated films and stories concerning the festival are widely circulated. In fact, he said, a newspaper in Kent, England, had devoted a full page to stories and pictures of last year's Apple Blossom Festival in Nova Scotia.

H. M. Warne, reporting for the Economic Council of the Digby Trade Board, stated the council had met and had a number of projects under study. Included in these were development of distinctive sea food eating places; tennis courts; provision of boats for hire and for use in fishing trips by visitors, and development of camping sites in the area.

Mr. Warne stated Mr. D. Wallace, newly appointed provincial Tourist Director, would visit Digby on or about April 1st to discuss with the board and council tourist possibilities of the area. It was decided to arrange a dinner meeting and invite Mr. Wallace to speak at this.

The tourist folder, produced last year by the Digby board, came in for considerable discussion. It was decided a further issue of this should be made this year and the Tourist and Publicity committees were asked to handle this.

L. M. Saunders reported that highway department engineers would visit Digby to examine the matter of the highway approaches to the town. The board had previously requested that steps be taken to have these approaches improved to remove the sharp angles at which the highways from Yarmouth and Halifax turn towards Digby.

Penny Gott, of Smith's Cove, was elected assistant secretary of the board to assist with correspondence and to make digests of reports and other items received for consideration by the board.

A letter from the Weymouth Industries Ltd., concerning an appeal from the Digby Board of Trade to have their plant, recently destroyed by fire, relocated at Digby rather than Weymouth. The letter explained that, since trained personnel was available in the Weymouth area and because of other factors, the company felt it was advisable to rebuild their plant at Weymouth.

It was decided the Digby board would enrol in the Maritime Boards of Trade organization and it was also reported the annual meeting of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade would be held in Kentville on April 16th. This meeting will coincide with Chamber of Commerce week, which is being marked across Canada from April 13 to 19th.

Fights Through To Success

A Bear River, Nova Scotia, girl who conquered childhood illness, a severe heart seizure, widowhood, a world depression and other misfortunes which would have discouraged lesser mortals, retired last week in Pasadena, California, at the age of 66, after achieving widespread renown in a most difficult field, that of a "body inventor".

The heroine of the story, which is a modern Horatio Alger yarn of rags to riches, is Gertrude Forbes, who is the former Gertrude Kempton, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kempton, of Bear River.

Gertrude retired last week, confident in the knowledge her inventive genius had paid off, with many of her inventions adopted by millions of homes as household necessities and her battle against poverty and ill health won. The company which she founded to market her many inventions she has an associate but she has a keen interest in developing new inventions even in retirement.

Left motherless at the age of thirteen, Gertrude was advised by her doctor in Bear River, the late Dr. L. J. Lovett, to go to California and make her home with an aunt because of her frail and sickly condition.

She journeyed to Pasadena where she made her home with her aunt, Orinda Chesley, until her marriage. The marriage ended tragically when her husband passed away and her tragedy struck again when Gertrude was stricken with a heart seizure which put her to bed for a year.

Undaunted, although poor and ill, she moved into a $7.00 a month room and then had to give that up and move back with her aunt. It was then that she started on the inventive career that proved finally to be her pathway to success.

Her first invention came as an accident. It was back in the depression and money was scarce. Gertrude was rummaging through her room for a coin. She happened across with the click of a button and found a patent a purse with compartments which she labelled the "Honey Bag", and which found almost immediate approval.

Later, in 1937, while looking for a spoon to stir a kettle of soup she blew up again with exasperation at her inability to keep track of the spoon. While shopping in a department store she saw a sign holder used for price tags and got the idea this could be redesigned as a clamp to hold a spoon.

Recalling Rescue 76 Years Ago

A daring sea rescue made 76 years ago — March 19, 1882 — by a Digby brig will be recalled by few people in these parts, but its story is a reminder of the trials and heroism of Nova Scotia's early seamen.

A United States ship named "Seamer" left Philadelphia, bound for New Orleans March 12, 1882, carrying a cargo of 1,000 tons of coal. When the ship was only four days out of port, a gale of considerable violence broke out early in the morning.

At five a.m., the cargo shifted, and the small vessel began to (Please turn to page 10)

Gordon Campbell Speaks On Cancer

Gordon Campbell, president of the Weymouth Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society, addressed the Digby Area Home and School on Wednesday evening on the importance of early diagnosis and care of cancer. One in every three homes, he said, is visited by cancer to some one. The best way to protect oneself from cancer is to develop a healthy and unafraid state of mind towards the disease. This can be acquired through education in the facts about cancer. Mr. Campbell gave a few of the known facts about what cancer really is and listed the seven danger signals to observe for the detection of cancer. He stressed early diagnosis and the avoiding of quacks for treatment and substantiated his remarks by the showing of instructive films, "From One Cell" and "Question of Time." Mr. Campbell was thanked by Rev. James Brooks.

Another interesting feature on the evening's program was a discussion on "what seems to be the characteristics of a happy and well-adjusted family? What contributes to the feeling of family solidarity and continuity?" Discussion groups were led by Mr. Campbell, Mr. Brooks, Rev. H. Y. MacLean and Mrs. J. M. Wallis.

Miss Ellen Bradshaw of the Digby Regional High School teaching staff, gave an enlightening talk on the "House" method as conducted at the school pointing out its aims and benefits. Its advantages she stated, were that it gives greater participation in athletics not only for star athletes but to a greater number of participants, it gives the student responsibility, teaches cooperation, encourages healthy competition and is an added incentive to study. Sport tournaments are engaged in by the "houses," inter-house debating is done and points are also won by competing houses in academic studies.

A most interesting dance number was performed as a lighter part of the program in which the performers were Mrs. Melford Thurber, Norman Hines and Harry Gesner of the teaching staff.

Society Plans Project

The Admiralty Digby Horticultural Society met at the home of Mrs. H. A. Orders were placed by the members for rose bushes to improve their private gardens as well as public projects under their care.

A quiz on garden facts was conducted by Delbert Forrest and won by Mrs. H. M. Warne. The prize was a window box with accompanying screened and sterilized earth.

Mr. DeVries gave a short talk on the progress the club has made and more will be made very shortly.

Permanent members of the board are Dr. Clyde Marshall and Dr. Robert Jones, Halifax; Dr. V. K. Rideout, Yarmouth, and Dr. A. H. Leighton, Ithaca, N. Y.

Prior to the business session of the annual meeting interesting films were shown. One of these, dealing with the treatment of a neurosis induced through hypnosis, was explained by Dr. Angus. It showed in a very clear fashion how a patient is lead to recognize a hidden problem and the relief that is found when the problem, often unsuspected as the cause of emotional unrest, is brought into the open. Dr. Angus stated that the treatment as recorded in the film was far simpler than often found in real life since the psychiatrist knew in advance what he was looking for.

Speech Therapy Clinic Opens

Thirty-seven youngsters from this area, suffering speech defects, are attending the speech therapy clinic being sponsored here over the next three weeks by the Digby Kiwanis Club.

In charge of the clinic, which opened Tuesday, is Miss Eira Davies, speech therapist of the Nova Scotia Crippled Children's Society.

Miss Davies, who is a native of Porthcawl in South Wales, came to Nova Scotia last November after graduating from the Kingston-Ward School of Speech Therapy in London, England.

On her arrival in the province Miss Davies was placed in charge of the first mobile speech therapy clinic to operate in Canada. Since its inception the travelling clinic, which operates under the sponsorship of service clubs affiliated with the Crippled Children's Society, has paid visits to a number of communities in the province.

The clinic being operated in Digby at present is the second longest so far to be held. The first was at Springhill where the clinic operated for a month.

During the clinic children with speech defects who are referred by school authorities, doctors or parents are tested for their defects and a course of treatment commenced. Parents are asked to be present with their children during the testing and treatment and at the close of the clinic are advised as to how treatment may be continued.

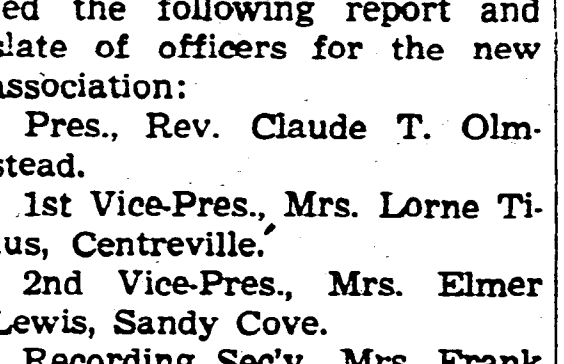

Miss Davies states that most defects are concerned with a substitution of sounds and the treatment generally is a question of re-educating muscle patterns to get rid of this substitution. The work of the clinic must be tailored to the needs of each individual patient, she says, since each case differs.

The speech therapy clinic now in operation here is being sponsored by the Digby Kiwanis Clubs who are also sponsoring the sale of Crippled Children Easter seals in this area. Funds to operate the clinic, which is free to all who wish to attend, are provided through the sale of these seals.

JOINS 60 CLUB

Congratulations and best wishes are extended to Mrs. Clarence W. Croscup, Granville Ferry, who observed her 90th birthday on Thursday, March 6. Guests at her home on that date were relatives, Mrs. R. T. Chisholm, Mrs. Walter Milbury and Mrs. Carl McCormick.

D. F. D. ACTIVITIES

The regular meeting of the Department was held last Wednesday evening. Regular business was transacted and further plans made for the Carnival on March 21st. Reports were received from the various committees. During the meeting the president, Rev. T. Olmstead, was presented with a pin by his service to the Department, having been president for the past ten years. The pin was a president's pin in gold with the years 1948 to 1958 inscribed. President Turnbull accepted the pin with fitting remarks for the occasion.

Regular business was transacted at the regular Scout Group Committee meeting on Tuesday evening of this week and plans made for the summer camp for the Scouts. A committee was appointed to work out collection details for the collecting of soft drink bottles by the Scouts in order to raise money for their work.

Returns have been completed for the St. John Ambulance drive and some $261.15 was raised for this worthy cause. The support of the public in their donations to our collectors when they were called on was greatly appreciated.

Regular fire practice will be held next Wednesday as usual and final arrangements will be made for the 21st Carnival presentation on the 21st. Plans are now to hold a dress rehearsal on Sunday, March 16, at 7 p.m.

SANDY COVE W.M.S. MEETS

The regular meeting of the Sandy Cove W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Merritt. Mrs. Gordon O'Neill led the devotional. The theme for the evening was "The Garden Speaks." Mrs. Claude Olmstead had the program on "Bolvivia."

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Hi-Y In Digby

"Clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship and clean living" is the platform of the high school group of the Y.M.C.A. The organization began during and immediately following the first world war. In 1939 the woman's organization officially began and at that time the Hi-Y emblem was adopted. The Hi-Y is organized where there is a real desire among high school students in the community for a group program under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. However, in some communities like our own, Hi-Y does exist without the help of the Y.M.C.A. There are various Hi-Y organizations throughout the Christian countries of the world.

Hi-Y offers splendid training and may bring together girls of all creeds who represent youth organizations throughout the various churches. Here Hi-Y has a chance to promote projects that develop constructive Christian leadership. Within the school, too, this organization has unlimited opportunities to focus attention on high Christian standards. All members of Hi-Y are taught to abide by their creed, "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school and community high standards of Christian character."

The Digby Regional High School organization has been in existence for a number of years. In the summer of 1956 the Senior girls' Hi-Y sent Edith Jonson as a representative to the Geneva Park Conference in Ontario. This was a national Hi-Y conference thus members of Hi-Y groups throughout the world were represented. A Maritime Conference is held annually and members of the various Maritime organizations are present. In the fall of 1956 the Maritime Conference was held in Moncton, New Brunswick. To this conference the Digby Hi-Y sent three representatives: Joan Hattie, Marilyn Thomas and Josephine Morrell.

Education Is Necessary

I read somewhere that education is everybody's business. I think this is true or at least it should be. Education is necessary for children in primary, secondary, and high schools, for young people in colleges and for those who require further training beyond the college level.

Education is everybody's business because it is necessary for the individual and for the growth of the nation. Education should be everybody's business because it plays a part in every kind of life. People sometimes complain that education costs too much but they don't realize that it is so necessary. The people say that the government spends too much on education.

If our young people are going to be able to take their place in society, and help to make our country strong they must have good educations. They can only get a good education if money is spent to build schools, train teachers, and provide all of the things that are necessary to make education possible. To do this means that people have to be willing to let more of their tax money be spent for education. I think it is better to spend money to educate our people so that we can make our country strong and keep up with other countries in science, rather than to have to spend millions of dollars fighting a war.

Education then is necessary for us now and for our future. Since it is so necessary education must be everybody's business, and everybody should make it their business.

Autumn Beauty

Looking from my bedroom window, on that frosty October morning, what a beautiful sight I beheld! The frost had turned all the trees to the striking colors of red, orange, brown, and gold, and made them look as if they had just been freshly painted. As the bright morning sun cast its beams of sunshine upon the frost-covered trees, each leaf became a sparkling diamond. The queenly maple in her deep crimson gown appeared to be on fire. Her friend, the yellow ash, was also very attractive in her beautiful golden coat. Already, a few leaves that had fluttered to the ground, covered Mother Earth with their soft brown carpet. Scattered among the other trees were dark evergreens which broke the ruddy glow. Gazing at such a glorious scene, one could not help but think of God, the only One Who could paint this beautiful season of Autumn.

About This and That

This Job Went Long Ago

The railways unions will be making a grave mistake if they carry out their new threats of striking to keep unnecessary firemen riding around in automatically fuel-fed locomotives, thinks The Financial Post.

As a matter of fact the place of the fireman began to become superfluous years ago, when some steam locomotives started burning oil. The diesel only completed a revolution that was already well under way.

In virtually all cases the trucker on the highway is his own fireman, his own engineer, his own conductor and his own brakeman. In addition, he has to do something that no railwayman has ever done, he steers his own vehicle as well. If the railways expect to survive, let alone compete with other transportation, then they are going to have to be sensible about their working practices.

Education Is Every Day Business

Education Week is over and in general its observance in Digby was commendable with reference from the pulpits, displays in store windows, and special events at the schools. But, though Education Week is over, education, and all its attending problems, is still with us. We can well say that besides Education being "everybody's business" it is also "every day business." The interest created in Education Week in Digby should not be allowed to wane until the next upsurge in March of 1959. Education is fast becoming one of our major concerns. The fact must be faced that to keep abreast of the scientific progress in other parts of the world a great deal must be forfeited from our pocket books and a greater interest shown by parents and others in the complex problems which confront authorities in every level and sphere of school activity and educational life today. In stressing knowledge however, we must not lose sight of the fact that mere knowledge, scientific or any other, without the wisdom and character which should accompany it will not create a generation equipped to cope with world conditions which seem to grow in magnitude each year. These elements of wisdom and character, too, must be included in the everyday business of education.

Education Week generally brings its flood of copy to the editor's desk — much more than can possibly be used in one issue of a weekly paper. This year with the Education Conference in Ottawa so near to Education Week we have had an abundance of worthwhile material to use. When we have accommodated copy submitted by the students we will continue to use the other material when possible to remind our readers of the ever growing importance of this "every day business" of education.

Election Approaching

With the Nova Scotia Legislature going into recess for campaigning purposes, the usual pre-election visitations from candidates, advertisements and announcements of political meetings here and there, one might use the phrase "the political pot is beginning to boil" and the election is fast approaching. We have casually watched the pot simmer for several weeks but the next two weeks plus a few days should be days of earnest thought and study regarding our choice of the men we elect to represent us in the federal government.

Too little thought is given to the important question of politics. Too often the people are either indifferent about the whole matter or an extremely biased attitude forecloses any consideration or study of any kind. The candidates, undoubtedly, will put effort into their campaigning. They believe in their program but they will also try to sell their platform with the purpose of winning the battle. The people have a responsibility to do some clear thinking on the subject. Good leadership is needed today more than it ever was before. Let us be sure that the choice we make in our government leadership is the choice of our convictions and not of our indifference.

To seriously and earnestly think of politics does not necessarily mean sourness, bitterness or even a lack of good sound and wholesome humor. More often than we realize leaders and parties have been rejected by the voter because of these traits observed in zealous workers on one or the other political side.

So let us enter the political race with an open mind. Which all brings us to this point. Political meetings are scheduled. These are planned with a view of letting everybody hear both sides of the question. We doubt that the Liberals have planned their meetings to inform only those whom they consider as their followers, and neither have the Conservatives planned their meetings for those only whom they consider Conservative voters. Nothing seems so infantile as to name, as has so often been done, certain people as adhering to a certain party simply because they are seen at a certain meeting. An open mind on the political question is a sign of intelligence and a closed one is a sign of stupidity. The intelligent people will avail themselves of the opportunity of listening unbiasedly to all issues and then use that same intelligence in casting a vote.

V.O.N. Report for 1957

Mr. President, Officers
Members of the Victorian Order Board, Ladies and Gentlemen:

In reviewing the work of the Victorian Order of Nursing Service, of the Digby Branch, for the year 1957 with Miss Ellen Murphy as Nurse in Charge until her resignation, effective the last of November, we find a similar picture of all activities in maintaining the health and welfare of the community as in previous years.

During the year 1957, thirty-five patients were given Nursing Care and 573 visits were made to these Medical and Surgical Cases.

The Victorian Order Nurse made fifty visits to expectant mothers for Health Instruction in preparation for the new baby. One delivery was attended in the home.

Seven nursing care visits were made to mothers and newborn babies, and 455 Health Instruction Visits were made to mothers and babies home from hospital. 176 Health Instruction visits were made to infants over six weeks of age and pre-school children, and eight School Instruction visits were made.

Report of Special Activities: Fifty-one Child Health Conferences were held in the Court House Friday afternoons, and 267 infants attended with their mothers for health instruction. Three Immunization Clinics were held during the fall months with the Health Officer and local Physicians in attendance, with 576 inoculations given.

Assistance was given at five Polio Clinics, one Crippled Children's Clinic, and Patch Testing of 66 School Children.

School Nursing is an important phase of the Victorian Order of Nursing activities, and 260 hours were spent in the School Program. One hour daily was given to minor treatments and to consultations with school children and teachers.

Once again, sincere appreciation is extended to the President, Officers and Members of the Victorian Order Board; to the Doctors for their interest and assistance to the Nurse; to Mrs. Paul Snow, who performed the duties so well during Miss Murphy's time off duty and absence; to Public Health Nurses, Miss Marjorie Tupper and Miss Florence Thibault; to all volunteer workers for their assistance; the superintendents, Miss Dill and Miss Bell, and the Staff of the Digby General Hospital; to the Supervisor, Staff and Teachers of the Regional High School, Elementary, Primary and St. Patrick's Schools; the Red Cross Society; the Child Welfare Society; the Kiwanis Crippled Children's Fund; the Staff of Smith's Drug Store who so graciously assist by taking the Victorian Order telephone calls; and to ALL, who by their interest help maintain the service of the Victorian Order of Nurses in Digby.

Respectfully submitted,
Alice A. Keen,
Acting Nurse in Charge.
Irene S. Snow,
Relief Nurse.

Secretary's Report

Mr. President, Members of the Board, and Friends of the Victorian Order of Nurses:

The 37th year of the Digby Branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses is now finished and it is customary at this time to review the accomplishments of the order for the past year. The V.O.N. Programme is a worthwhile one and the cooperation of each and every one of us is needed to continue this service in the community in order to promote health and to prevent disease.

The year 1957 was a noteworthy year as it marked the Diamond Jubilee of the Victorian Order of Nurses across Canada and celebrations for this occasion were held in Ottawa in May.

During the year eleven meetings were held in Digby. The average attendance at these regular meetings was 13 members. 10 meetings were held at the Court House and one at the home of Mrs. J. W. Christie.

It was with deep regret and sympathy to the family that we recorded the death of Mrs. T. E. G. Lynch who had been a charter member of the V.O.N. in Digby. Mrs. Lynch had been treasurer of the organization for 15 years and in later years was our Honorary President. Her exemplary service has been an inspiration to us all and we hope that we can successfully carry on the work which she was instrumental in starting.

The month of April marked the first general meeting of the Directors of the newly formed V.O.N. for Nova Scotia in Halifax. Mrs. J. M. Wallis was elected Director of the Digby Branch and with Mrs. John Russell attended this meeting. Mrs. Wallis also attended the semi-annual meeting held in Lunenburg in October. We wish to thank Mrs. Wallis and Mrs. Russell for attending these sessions without any expense to the order.

Miss Dorothy Fowler, District Supervisor, visited the branch in April and December and discussed problems relating to the work of the order.

In May Mr. E. Ives of the Provincial Tuberculosis Association attended our meeting and gave a short talk to the members of the Board on the work being done by this Association.

The Annual Membership Drive in June and the T. B. Seal Campaign in December are two of the major financial projects for the year. Other fund-raising activities included a Tag Day, Pantry Sale, distribution of Cent-a-Meal boxes and a Telephone Bridge. A Request of $300.00 from the estate of Mrs. Lynch was received and was greatly appreciated.

During the year we lost the services of Father Louis Combeau who had been transferred and we are glad to welcome

Marriage

Hill — Cashman

A lovely double ring wedding was solemnized in St. George's Roman Catholic Church, Ridge Road, Crystal Beach, at 11 a.m., Saturday, January 18, when Miss Phyllis Genevieve Cashman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cashman, 111 Derby Road, Crystal Beach, became the bride of John Charles Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kelagher, 94 Derby Road.

Rev. Forgarty of Notre Dame school, Welland, officiated, against a background of white and yellow altar chrysanthemums. John Adams, organist, accompanied the soloist, Miss Rosemary Guarasci, who sang "Sacrum Con Vltum," "Ave Maria," and "On This Day." Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a white velvet waist-length gown with fitted bodice, finger tip sleeves, and a v-neckline of white chiffon which formed a back panel. Her shoulder veil of illusion was held in place by a rhinestone-studded tiara. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and white chrysanthemums. She wore a single strand of pearls with matching earrings. A family heirloom, a moon-shaped pin, inset with 13 pearls, was also worn by the bride.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Edith Bruce, sister of the bride, chose a cyclamen waist-length gown of velvet, fashioned with a low neckline, deep pointed in the back, shirred shoulder straps, fitted bodice, following the princess style. Long white gloves, a cyclamen feathered hat studded with rhinestones, and a cascade bouquet of white chrysanthemums and cyclamen-shaded roses complemented her attire.

The gowns of both the bride and matron of honor were made by the bride's mother.

Gordon Ewing, of Ridgeway, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man, and ushers were Donald Crane and Robert Bruce, of Crystal Beach, the latter a brother-in-law of the bride.

A breakfast for the bridal party and immediate families was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. R. Bruce, at 6:30 p.m. a dinner for approximately 65 guests was served in the reception hall of Hebert's Hotel.

Receiving the guests, the bride's mother wore a midnight blue silk crepe sheath dress fashioned with three-quarter sleeves, a v-neckline, and a side drape effect. She wore a matching hat and accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The Father Donald Amaro as a member of the Board in his place. We were also very pleased to welcome Mrs. C. M. Levy and Mrs. L. Dolron as new members.

It was with regret that we accepted the resignation of Miss Ellen Murphy, as Nurse in Charge in November. We were very fortunate to secure the services of Mrs. Paul Snow until January 15th when Mrs. Jack Keen took over the V.O.N. work until a replacement is made. Our thanks and appreciation go to these two nurses for their fine work and for the interest they have displayed in the order and in helping to keep our expenses at a minimum.

We also wish to thank all friends of the V.O.N. who have so kindly given of their time to help us during the year; to the Sister Superior of Saint Patrick's Convent for the use of the Convent Garage when it was needed and for the donation from the Convent; to Mr. A. J. Harrington for his truck which was used for the V.O.N. Float in the July 1st Parade; to Mr. Gregg Gilliat of Digby Dairy Limited for the donation of 300 ice-cream boxes for the Cent-a-Meal Project; to the Child Welfare Department for the filing cabinet which is now being used in the V.O.N. Office; to the Bridge Clubs in the town, the Pines Hotel and to a friend for their donations.

In the future we hope to be able to keep this essential service in the community. It may seem difficult at times for us to do so but with the help of all our friends, I am sure that we will be able to carry on the fine work rendered by the Victorian Order of Nurses.

Respectfully submitted,
Winifred Dakin,
Secretary.

groom's mother assisted, attired in a blue lace frock over pink taffeta fashioned with a low neckline, short sleeves, fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. She wore a corsage of yellow roses.

The bridal table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake, topped with the miniature bride and groom, and flanked by white tapers in silver candelabra. Colored mums adorned the table, and the room was gaily decorated in white streamers and bridal bells. A turkey dinner was served under the management of well known chef, Paul Bokar. Music for dancing was supplied by Frank Ward, Frank Thomas and The Thomas Boys.

For a honeymoon trip to Prudhomme's, Detroit, Toledo, Ohio and a return route to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, the bride chose a smart velvet sheath dress with a low chignon decolletage forming a panel in the back. She wore winter white accessories, a beige coat and a corsage of red roses.

On their return the couple will reside at 46 Oxford Road, Crystal Beach. The bride, well known in the village, was employed in the Crystal Beach post office and the groom is employed for the A&P Bakery in Buffalo.

Guests were from Nova Scotia, Grand Center, Alberta, Toronto, Hamilton, Oakville, Fruitland, Downsview, North Bay, Buffalo, Lackawanna, Ridgeway, Port Colborne and Crystal Beach.

WAS MARY THE MOTHER OF GOD?

Mary, the virgin mother of our Lord Jesus Christ, has always held an important place in the thinking of the Christian Church.

Mary was indeed "blessed among women" as we read in the Bible. But there is no Scriptural basis for assuming that she possesses any power or influence over the Lord Jesus Christ in the exercise of His divine power.

The gospels clearly state that Mary, a virgin, became the mother of our Lord. It was from Mary that Jesus derived His humanity—but not His deity. Jesus respected Mary. On the cross He took thought for the welfare of His aging mother and committed her to the care of His disciple, John.

Yet Mary needed a Saviour. In the Bible we read that Mary said, "My spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour." (Luke 1: 47)

The Bible never refers to Mary as "the Mother of God." In the history of the Christian Church she was never called "the Mother of God" until the middle of the fifth century A. D.

The truth of the Gospel is centered in Jesus Christ, the Son of God, not in Mary His mother. The Bible says: "Thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins." (Matthew 1: 21)

Bible-believing Protestants have preserved the Bible emphasis in giving supreme place to the person and work of Jesus Christ. Jesus alone has made possible our salvation. The Bible says that "if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved." (Romans 10: 9)

WCHS SPORTS REVIEW

Since Christmas, WCHS has been quite active in the athletic field.

Most of the action has concerned the hockey team, the Weymouth Aces. After losing two games, the Weymouth boys have come on fast to register a tie and win in the last two games.

In the first game, the Aces were crushed by the Clare District High School team 15-0. It was the first time on ice this season for the Weymouth boys.

In the second game St. Ann's won by a score of 9-3, as Leo Belliveau scored all three goals for Weymouth.

Weymouth then tied Comeauville 4-4, with Mac Smith scoring twice and Belliveau and Bob Comeau collecting singles.

On Thursday night Weymouth finally won, trampling Meteghan Centre 8-1. The first line was the big unit for the Aces, with left-wing Leo Belliveau getting four goals, right-wing Mac Smith, two goals, and clever Desi Belliveau, centering the line, getting one goal and six assists. Bob Comeau netted the other marker. Leonard Belliveau got a break-away with five seconds left in the game to ruin the shut-out bid of little Norman Gaudet, Weymouth goalie. Gerry Belliveau and Gary Rice played standout defensive roles for the Aces, as did "Volatile Vic" Melanson, who collected 2 penalties for roughing.

The Weymouth High basketball team, playing their first game, and with no practice, bowed to St. Ann's in Weymouth by a score of 54-33. It was a close, exciting game, and only in the final ten minutes did St. Ann's take a commanding lead. Mac Smith was the high point getter for Weymouth, getting 20 points. Other scorers for Weymouth were Leo Belliveau, 6; James Wagner, 4; Gerry Belliveau, 2; Ron Hogan, 1.

Stitch and Chatter Club met at the home of Mrs. Hubert Height on Tuesday evening.

HEN LAYS FREAK EGG

A local resident informed the news reporters of an egg found in the nest to be quite a freak of nature. The egg was quite uniform in size with four layers of covering and prongs on either end. On breaking the egg the yolk appeared to be hard-boiled. — Sputnik lands in Weymouth!

NUTRITION EXPERIMENT COMPLETED

The nutrition experiment with white rats in the grade VI class in the Weymouth Consolidated School has been successfully completed.

Six white rats were fed by the children to demonstrate the effects of a good lunch and a poor lunch.

The first group of three rats were fed white bread sandwiches filled with jam, jelly and mayonnaise and pickle sandwich spread, pop, tea, sweets, potato chips. The second group of three rats were fed whole wheat bread sandwiches filled with a protein food of either meat, fish, eggs, cheese, liver or peanut butter, white milk or cocoa, a raw vegetable (carrot, celery, cabbage) and perhaps an oatmeal or peanut butter cookie.

A rat's stomach is quite similar to a human stomach and so foods affect them as they would a child. Group one of the rats showed poor, scaly skin on their tails, legs and feet. The hair was dull, stringy and matted. Their eyes were dull and their personalities were nervous and irritable. Group two had thick, smooth, fluffy hair. Their tails and feet were smooth and clean. Their eyes were bright and shiny and their personalities were happy, friendly and alert.

Group one and two all weighed around 70 grams at the beginning of the experiment. Five weeks later group one weighed on an average of 115 grams, and group two averaged 180 grams.

This experiment teaches the students that food does have a definite effect on our lives. A poor diet can give only poor body structure, poor skin, stringy hair, irritability, inability to work hard and fast, irresponsibility, constipation and nervousness. A good diet gives us good skin, shiny hair, bright eyes, strong muscles, straight backs, alert minds and the ability to work hard and fast. Good food can make a child a happy individual.

DIGBY - ANNAPOLIS - KINGS

Angus Alexander Elderkin, better known as "Angus A", was born on a farm at the west end of Wolfville in June, 1896.

He attended public school in Wolfville and High School in Wolfville and Kentville. After obtaining his senior matriculation he entered Acadia University.

His college career was cut short by his enlistment in 1917, and his service overseas until the end of World War I.

Upon returning home Angus re-entered Acadia University, graduating with a Bachelor of Arts in 1919.

The urge to learn and see more took him west to Alberta that fall, on the Harvest Excursion. Here Angus remained and taught school until Sept., 1921, at which time he married and returned to Nova Scotia and his home, where for years he operated a very successful farm.

A family man with one daughter and three sons, his interests have been many; covering diversified fields and many aspects of life. A Past President of "The Home and School", he also for many years taught Sunday School in the United Church at Wolfville. Much of his time has also been devoted to the success of the E.K.M. Hospital, where for years he has been a Board member.

In the field of business Angus has held many responsible positions: Director the Wolfville Fruit Co. Ltd., Commissioner of Dykes, Veterans' Land Settlement Board and is presently Secretary to the Bishop-Beckwith Marsh Body.

In 1949, "Angus A", our Liberal candidate, by defeating G. C. Nowlan, was elected to the House of Commons and represented this constituency for approximately one year, losing his seat during a subsequent by-election.

Following his return home he was appointed Superintendent of Highways for Kings East, which position he held until tendering his resignation due to a change in provincial government.

In July, 1957, Angus was appointed assessor in Kings County and has only recently resigned to accept the nomination as Liberal candidate in the March 31 election.

A soldier, teacher, farmer, man of experience—here is the man we must elect "to restore our future".

To the Electorate:

Having been duly nominated to contest the March Federal election for the constituency of Digby-Annapolis-Kings on behalf of the Liberal party, I hereby declare that it is my intention to conduct a campaign for your support. Free of bribery, free of liquor, free of money—I have instructed all my supporters and workers to refrain from offering such inducements whatsoever for the procurement of votes.

Gravel is being removed from the mouth of the channel at Church Point wharf so the fishing boats can enter and leave the wharf. The gravel bar has continued to return after each removal following heavy gales and is a great hindrance to local fishermen. It has been expressed that something more lasting should be done. It is a great handicap with the bar forming across the mouth of the channel.

DRIVE CAREFULLY.

You can't go ALL-OUT if you feel ALL-IN.

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, dizziness, restlessness, "dread-cold", heavy-lashed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulates the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter.

The Truth About Air Ride

Buick Super 4-door Riviera

Most cars have always used horizontal leaf springs. Some use horizontal torsion bars. A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

For 2 decades, Buick has used nothing but upright coil springs at all 4 wheels for better, softer cushioning.

And to get the most out of these buoyant springs—to bring additional solidity, balance and stability to the ride—

Buick developed a new kind of chassis. This exclusive Buick chassis has the rugged roadability of a massive X-braced frame and the true-tracking steadiness of Buick's Rotoflow Torque-Tube Drive.

Developed and perfected by 20 years of experience with upright springs, Buick's Miracle Chassis today turns out to be "natural" for replacing upright coil springs with upright air springs. It's this exclusive chassis engineering experience that gives you in Buick the smoothest, most advanced, most experienced air ride in the world.

Mrs. Edith M. Wallis,
Editor,
Digby Courier,
Digby, Nova Scotia,
Canada.

Dear Mrs. Wallis,

Thank you very much for the copy of the Courier, which I received the past week. As you have said, the past two years have found me covering much territory in Europe — a truly wonderful experience.

My Christmas trip to the Near East more than lived up to my expectations. It would be difficult to pick out a particular highlight — there were so many. Christmas Eve in Bethlehem; the Way of the Cross in Jerusalem, as well as other places which played an important part in the life of Our Lord; the world-famous Roman ruins in Baalbek (we were later to see Greek ruins on the Acropolis in Athens, Greece); Istanbul on the famous Bosphorus (from our hotel window we could see the Asiatic side of this capital); and last but not least, the truly fascinating city of Cairo — with its famous bazaars, (where we all tried our hand at bargaining and came off second best, I'm sure), the fabulous King Tut collection in the Cairo Museum and, of course, the Nile. To my pupils here in Hemer, the most exciting part was my ride on a camel to see the Pyramids and Sphinx!

Winifred Wonders —
"Why an election without a Budget? What are the Tories hiding?"

FOUR GENERATIONS TOGETHER

Mr. Melvin C. MacNeill, of Baynton Beach, Florida, and his daughter, Mrs. William O. Lincoln, have just had the pleasure of a visit from Mrs. Lincoln's daughter, and her six months old son, Randy, of Springfield, Mass.

During her visit there were four generations in the home: Mr. MacNeill, Mrs. William Lincoln (Retha MacNeill), Mrs. John Wilson (Ann Lincoln), and Randal Wilson.

RECALLING RESCUE

leak. By 10 a.m. the ship had taken so much water it was impossible to keep her afloat so distress signals were sent out.

In answer to the plea for aid came the "Addie Benson," a Nova Scotian brig on its way to Saint John from Havana, under the command of Captain George Mallett of Plympton, Digby County. The brig laid by to see what could be done to save the crew of the stricken ship.

At two o'clock in the afternoon seven men managed to get from the "Seamer" to the "Addie Benson" in a lifeboat, but in their eagerness, they leaped on board the rescue ship and let the lifeboat go adrift. Then three Nova Scotians lowered a small boat to go after more men, but this boat started to fill with water.

Two of the men managed to get back on board the brig, but the third man drifted away in the boat.

When the captain of the rescue brig saw this, he went to the rescue himself and succeeded in bringing the drifting boat back to the ship. Then he called for volunteers to man the lifeboat and go to the stricken ship. But his men wanted no part of a tossing lifeboat on a stormy sea. When the brave captain showed his determination to see the rescue to the end and said "Then I will" he soon got sufficient volunteers to make the trip.

Capt. Mallett put his son, George, and steward, James W. Doane, a native of Barton, in charge of the lifeboat.

With eleven men still left on board, the United States ship took a heavy lurch that proved to be her last, for she rolled over on her beam ends and disappeared bow first beneath the choppy ocean surface within ten minutes.

Seconds after the ship disappeared from sight, the house and some spars came to the surface and struck several of the survivors who were struggling in the water.

Three of the eleven men accompanied their ship to the bottom and were never seen again. The other eight men were picked up by the lifeboat and brought back to the safety of the Digby brig.

An account in an early newspaper tells this of the arrival of the "Addie Benson" in Provincetown, Mass. "As the survivors came on shore they presented a pitiful sight. Some were hatless and shoeless, others had barely enough clothing to cover their nakedness. They were looked after by townspeople and various church collections went toward buying new clothes for them. The survivors were taken to Boston by the cutter 'Galatin'."

Capt. Mallett was publicly thanked by Capt. Luce for his rescue work. Later, as a reward for his heroism, Capt. Mallett was presented with a suitably engraved medal by the United States Government. This medal valued at $300.00, is now in the possession of the Captain's son, Roy Mallett, Plympton.

For their part in the rescue both James Doane and the Captain's son, George Mallett, were presented with engraved gold watches by the United States Government.

PROTEST ANY CHANGE IN LIQUOR LAWS

The March meeting of the Smith's Cove Baptist W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Nelson Speights on Thursday, March 6th.

The usual business was conducted. It was moved by Mrs. Brinton and seconded by Mrs. Foster that a letter be sent to Mr. Stanfield protesting any change in liquor laws, making sales possible in hotels, etc.

Special collection will be taken in April for Food Parcel.

The programme was conducted by Mrs. George Winchester. The topic taken was "Safety" and was carried out with singing of hymn "Shelter In The Time Of Storm", reading of Psalm 91 (1-11) by Mrs. Lloyd Adams. A fine reading, "Invisible Shield Around Us", was given by Mrs. George Winchester. A duet, "Under His Wings", by Miss Sue Winchester and Mrs. Chester Brinton, was enjoyed.

Lunch and a social time followed the meeting.

After weeks of experimenting, innumerable trips to a Los Angeles tool shop and fights with impatient engineers, she finally perfected her spoon holder. Then came patent fights but finally she won through and got her spoon holder on the market. She says that before she sold all her rights to the invention in 1953 the spoon holder "darn near killed me."

Marketing her inventions was not all fun and many times she had to tramp the streets peddling spoon holders so she could eat. At nights she sometimes sat holding her head, pondering such remarks as "You're a crackpot, why don't you give up and go to work like other people."

Gertrude remained an individual, however, with thoughts and goals of her own, determined to win through no matter the cost. "It was always in my heart to design and create, she says. I guess that kept me from taking a job, that and the faith of Aunt Orinda."

Over the years Gertrude designed the spoon holder and purse, a mop head and handle, a kitchen apron, an ironing board cover and pad, a mangle cover. She created a pastry board, a cracker bag, a laundry bag and clothes pin bag, a card table cover. She turned out mother and daughter aprons, a barbecue apron and hat, and a garden apron with washable knee pads.

She says that whenever she turned out something new she would try it on her friends, and if they liked it she knew others would.

Her first big production item was the ironing board cover. As early as the mid thirties she had taken out a permit for the Forbes Specialty Company, now located at Alhambria. A few days later she was ironing and again her annoyance at the fact no suitable ironing board cover and pad was available prompted her to design one that "really fits".

She worked hard to put her idea across and sell the newly designed ironing board cover. At first the going was tough and she ran out of money. The banks told her to forget her ideas but she said she was going to sell her ideas even "if it kills me".

Eventually the word got around that her ironing board

HOUSING DEVELOPMENT AT BELLIVEAU'S COVE

Construction is expected to start shortly on the erection of seven new homes in this village. These homes will be built on the Co-Operative Housing Plan. The style of the homes will vary sufficiently to make them look attractive.

The village, which enjoys a good reputation for its attractiveness, greets this new project, and congratulates the persons responsible.

REGULAR SUPPER

The regular weekly supper meeting of the Weymouth Kiwanis Club was held at the Goodwin Hotel on Monday evening at 6:30 p.m. with Basil Belliveau, president, in the chair. Mr. W. B. Hamilton, supervising principal of the Weymouth Consolidated School, was the guest speaker, his topic being "Education."

cover was the best and the orders began to flock in and her little company began to grow up. While delivering an order to a store in South Pasadena she met and married the salesman, a man named Heintzelman. She says "I was tired of fighting the world alone."

It was faithful Aunt Orinda, who is now 87, however, who made the final decision and told her it was time to retire. Gertrude decided to accept this advice but she still keeps thinking of new ideas and friends are still expecting further useful inventions from the plucky little lady who "never gave up".

Last week Gertrude was guest of honour at a testimonial dinner when a host of friends and business associates gathered to mark the retirement of a real "storybook" inventor, designer and manufacturer.

At the dinner were William B. Russell, a public accountant who set up Gertrude's first books, and Duncan S. Duff, who wrote up the first order for her ironing board covers. Mr. Russell said, "When I first met Forbes she was struggling in a little cubbyhole on Raymond Avenue. She was half dead and I figured she didn't have long to go". Events proved just how wrong he was.

Gertrude has two brothers still in Nova Scotia, as well as a sister. They are Fred Kempton, of Halifax; Harold Kempton, in Bear River; and Edith Kempton, of Smith's Cove.

CORRECTION

An unfortunate transposition of type in a story which appeared in last week's Courier concerning a fire which destroyed the DeAdder home in Deep Brook gave the impression the home had formerly been a poultry house.

This is incorrect, the house destroyed was a dwelling built 87 years ago by the late David Lent. For a time during its history it was operated as the "English Inn" and a poultry farm was operated for some time.

The last poultry house on the premises was destroyed by fire some ten years ago.

Pearson Visits Yarmouth

Liberal leader, Hon. Lester B. Pearson, spoke to an overflow audience at the Capitol Theatre, Yarmouth, last Thursday afternoon. A large number from the constituency of Digby-Annapolis-Kings attended the meeting.

In his address Mr. Pearson outlined what he termed were "important features" of the Liberal manifesto. These included:

- (1)—Low-cost loans for fishermen.
- (2)—Aids to navigation, breakwaters and wharves.
- (3)—Federal assistance of 90 per cent of the cost of unfinished portions of the Trans-Canada Highway in the Atlantic Provinces, along with "taking up with the provincial governments of the region the possibility of financial assistance from the Federal Government for other trunk highways... an obvious one might be a road from Halifax to the Bluenose dock."
- (4)—Support establishment of satellite stations to cover areas not now satisfactorily covered, with television by other centres.

Mr. Pearson stressed the best way to improve the fishing industry was to "expand and maintain good and profitable markets." Loss of U.S. markets, he said in criticizing the "element of confusion created by Conservative trade policies," would mean the "collapse of markets for all Atlantic fisheries."

"We have pledged, and I pledge again, to renew efforts toward an international agreement on a 12-mile limit for territorial waters... among other things to protect the fishermen. The United States and United Kingdom have not been able to take that stand, but we would support (the extension) irrespective of what our friends in Washington and London can do."

The party had a "bold and imaginative program" for education, which he called another form of communication—"communication of the mind." It would provide scholarships and bursaries and set up a university loan fund for students to help finance their way.

On unemployment, he said whatever figure you use... Dominion Bureau of Statistics... National Employment Service... it is too high. While we don't blame the Conservatives for it all... by their trade policies, uncertainty in national financing policies, and refusal to present a budget, they have added to our difficulties and to that extent they must accept responsibility."

The Conservative program of public works was a "phony program" which, he said, included "many projects arranged by the Liberal government." It was not good enough.

A "better system is the plan of the Liberal party to reduce taxes and put $400,000,000 more into the pockets of the public," he said.

Ravens Eliminated

Cornwallis Trojans advanced to the Western Valley Independent Hockey League finals against St. Anne's last Friday night when they crushed Digby Ravens 11-3 in the third game of the semi-finals. Trojans won the best-of-five round in straight games.

Smith was the Trojans leading scorer in last night's contest, shooting three goals and assisting on three others. Cornell and Wilson each accounted for two while others were caged by Tight, Murphy, Morrison and Ladouceur. The Digby goals were garnered by Donnelly, Handspiker and Morgan.

Many From Digby Attend Reception

Hon. Ellen Fairclough, Hamilton, Ont., and Canada's secretary of state, charged that when the Diefenbaker government took office they had inherited a serious unemployment situation and it could readily be seen it was not going to be good. When the election was held last June she said there was more unemployment in Canada than ever before and June was usually a time of high employment. These were the charges made by the Hon. Mrs. Fairclough, Canada's first woman cabinet minister, at a reception attended by more than 600 women of the Digby-Annapolis-Kings constituency and held at the Cornwallis Inn, Kentville, on Friday. Had it not been for the efforts of the Diefenbaker government, she said, the unemployment figure would be much greater. The Diefenbaker government had made a vigorous attack on the slowdown in housing and related industry and took immediate steps in stepping up a public works program which resulted in a marked improvement to the economy of Canada. Mrs. Fairclough said that what was accomplished by the Diefenbaker government "has brought about the most impressive list of legislation, in such a short time—78 days—never equalled in Canada's history." She said this was despite the fact that the government was beset by all types of obstacles by the opposition. Hansard, she said, shows that there were some 1700 questions posed at the government charging, it was deliberate "stalling" by the opposition in an effort to slow down the government and nation's business.

Mrs. Fairclough predicted nothing but a sweeping majority for the Conservatives in the coming election. She spoke of the goodwill of the people but said this was not enough to elect a government—it is the ballots which get into the box which elects the candidate.

Mrs. Fairclough was introduced by Mrs. Marion Hayden, New Glasgow. Mrs. Harold Murray, Berwick, president of the Kings County Progressive Conservative Women's Association, was chairman and an official welcome to the town was given by Mayor Gladys M. Porter, MBE.

Mrs. George Nowlan spoke a few words, substituting for her husband who was campaigning in Ontario. Mrs. W. J. McKay, president Kentville-New Minas PC Women's Association, made presentation of a pin, made of Nova Scotia agate, and created by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fox, Kentville.

Every section of the constituency from the extreme end of the Valley to Weymouth was represented on Friday with a good representation from the Digby areas. Prominent in the activities of the day were several Digby persons—Mrs. Leonard, wife of Hon. M. S. Leonard, Minister of Education for Nova Scotia, who presided over tea cups, as did also Mrs. G. V. Turnbull, Mrs. Winston Mullen, Wolfville, formerly of Digby, and Mrs. F. S. Smith, Granville Ferry, also assisted in serving. Receiving with Mrs. Fairclough, Mrs. George Nowlan, Mrs. Robert L. Stanfield and Progressive Conservative officers was Mrs. John Russell, Digby.

Killed In Car Crash

Mrs. Jennie Trueman, wife of Petty Officer John Trueman of HMCS Cornwallis, died at the Annapolis hospital Friday night following injuries received in a car accident at the foot of the Burns Road in Deep Brook late that night.

CPO Donald L. Lonnoe, driver of the car in which Mrs. Trueman was a passenger, was reported "seriously ill" in the Cornwallis naval hospital following the accident.

The accident occurred when the car skidded on a slippery road and nose-dived into a ditch one-quarter mile west of the naval training station.

Mrs. Trueman is survived by her husband and by three daughters, Kathleen, 8; Jeanette, 6; and Elizabeth, 5. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Martell of Rose-dale, C. B.

An inquest has been called into the fatality.

Vandals Destroy Monuments

Vandals have done several hundreds of dollars damage in Forest Hill Anglican cemetery here, it was revealed here following a check of the cemetery by church officials.

Some sixteen monuments in the cemetery have been overturned and torn from their bases by the vandals and a number of them smashed beyond any possible repair. It is understood a number of monuments in Woodlawn Baptist cemetery have also been damaged.

Included in the monuments overturned, torn from their bases and smashed were several very large and ornate ones, some of them placed in the cemetery many years ago.

That the vandalism was deliberate is seen from the fact many of the monuments torn from their bases had to be wrenched loose from steel bars holding the upper and lower portions together.

Footstones were also included by the vandals in their destruction. Many of these were torn out of the ground and some smashed in half. On one grave-lot a beautiful ornamental urn was smashed into many small pieces.

Evidence of footprints in the vicinity of the damaged stones is being checked, it is understood and an effort will be made to repair the monuments that are not too badly damaged. Some of the stones toppled from their bases, including several large ornamental granite crosses, weighing several hundred pounds each and hoisting equipment will have to be used to raise and replace them.

Besides damaging the ornaments in the cemetery the vandals also destroyed a considerable number of flower containers and glass covered boxes used to protect wreaths left permanently in the cemetery.

New Store Hours Adopted

At a largely attended meeting of the retail merchants of Annapolis Royal, held Monday night, new store hours were adopted. These will become effective commencing Tuesday, April 8th (Easter Monday, April 7th, being declared a public holiday.)

Stores will remain open Monday through Thursday, from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m.; open Fridays from 9 a.m. until 10 p.m., and open Saturdays from 9 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. The new store hours have been adopted on a trial basis for a period of four months.

Under this plan, merchants and clerks will work the same number of hours per week as they have in the past, but will give them the benefit of a long weekend. Stores will remain open all day Wednesday.

The above hours are in agreement with a recently circulated petition by the clerks of Annapolis Royal and presented to the retail merchants association. This petition was signed by thirty-nine clerks; only four voting against.

The original motion that store hours remain as at present, closing Saturday afternoons at 5:30 o'clock, but remaining open until 10 o'clock Friday nights, was defeated.

Reach Hockey Finals

St. Ann's entry in the Industrial League won the right to meet Yarmouth in the finals when they downed Little Brook 7-5 in a hotly contested game at the college forum. St. Ann's scored two quick goals 30 seconds apart in the first period when Goyette tallied. Little Brook came back strong in the second period to score four while holding St. Ann's to two. The period ended in a 4-4 tie. Both teams skated fast and some fine plays were displayed.

St. Ann's outlasted the fast skating Little Brook team to score three in the third while holding their opponents to a single tally. Marman in the nets for St. Ann's made some brilliant saves in this period. Little Brook kept putting on the pressure but did everything but score.

All games played between these two teams have been hotly contested and probably were the best games to watch in the spectators' estimation.

Mr. Vaughan, a native of Halifax, is a graduate of Saint Mary's University and Dalhousie Law School and during his collegiate and arts course he was awarded 15 medals for course leadership including the Carswell prize in first year at law school. To Remove Switcher

A number of local residents will be affected by the reported decision of the Dominion Atlantic Railway to remove its switching or yard engine from Digby.

It is understood the engine will be removed about April 1st. Work done in Digby by this engine and its crew will be done by the way freight during its stop here, it is learned.

Another reported railway decision to remove the express cars from the night way freight will also affect local people.

It is understood, effective shortly, express between Halifax and Yarmouth and connecting with the Princess Helene will be handled by truck instead of on the night train.

Little League Activities

The Pee Wee playoffs last Saturday morning resulted as follows:

In the first game the Canadians edged the Wolverines 2-1 in a close hard fought game. Both Canadians goals were scored by Ian Anderson. The Wolverines lone tally was by Gordon Robinson.

The second game ended in a 2-0 shut-out by the Ravens against the Bruins. Ravens scorers were Jimmy Nixon and Ray Trefry.

The Bantam League playoffs ran true to form when in their first game the powerful Rangers shut-out the Red Wings 2-0. Rangers marksmen were George Holdsworth and Phil Belliveau.

The second game saw the Maple Leafs edge the Black Hawks 2-1. Leafs goals were by Winston Winchester and Neil Smith. The Black Hawks singleton was by Rod Fredericks. During this game Gary Winchester drew a suspension for the remainder of the season for striking the referee with a hockey stick.

The finals, which will be played on Wednesday night at the Forum, will be as follows:

Pee Wee Final—Canadians vs. Ravens.

Bantam League Final—Rangers vs. Maple Leafs.

These will be the final Little League games of the current season.

Prime Minister Visits C.W.N.A. Directors

"I have been fully aware of the value and the importance of the weekly newspaper," Prime Minister John Diefenbaker told the semi-annual meeting of Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association directors in Ottawa recently. The Prime Minister, accompanied by Allister Grossart, National Director of the Progressive Conservative Party, made an informal call at the meeting held in the Chateau Laurier.

Mr. Diefenbaker said that one of his first acts on becoming Prime Minister of Canada was to contact all departments of government to make sure the weekly newspaper received a deserving place in departmental advertising budgets. He assured the president and members of the board of his continued interest in the welfare of Canada's weekly press.

The Prime Minister was welcomed by C.W.N.A. President Cecil Day, Liverpool, N. S., who briefly outlined the function of the weekly newspaper in Canada. President Day pointed out that the combined paid circulation of association members is now 1,762,000 with close to 8 million readers.

Other speakers at the board meeting included General R. H. Keefer, Vice-President, Bell Telephone Co. of Canada and Vice-Chairman of the Executive Council, The Canadian Chamber of Commerce who spoke on the co-operation of the weeklies with the Chamber. Mr. Harvey W. Adams of the Department of National Health and Welfare spoke on Civil Defence.

Red Cross Tea Well Attended

A well-filled "Disaster Kit" donation table, and an attendance of over forty marked the March meeting of the Digby Branch of Red Cross, held last week at the Court House. Three quilts were in process of being quilted during the business meeting, which was highlighted by the report on the annual meeting of Divisional Council, given by Mrs. Allan Stark.

Reports of Branch activities were also presented at the meeting. Mrs. H. M. Warne stating for Women's Work that new materials to the value of $144. had been received last week from Headquarters. Of this, 60 transfusion towels had already been made up by Mrs. Oscar VanTassel, in response to an urgent request from Halifax for this necessary item, which was in very short supply. Mrs. George Winfield, reporting for Disaster Relief, stated that 7 families from Plympton, Ashmore and Marshalltown had been given clothing during the past month, 3 layettes provided, also clothing and bedding provided for a recent fire victim.

In connection with the fire, it was reported that materials for two quilts had been given to the Ladies' Aid of the Acaclaville Church, which was quilting them. Thanks were also extended to all donors of clothing and to Messrs. Muise and Wright for woolen samples donated, from which 12 quilt tops had been made up. Further reports showed all Sickroom Loan equipment in use, and the sum of $8.25 raised by the Ways & Means Committee from Ten Cent Teas during the month.

In reporting on the annual meeting, Mrs. Stark mentioned the large amount of Digby Branch work on display in the Women's Work corner of the Lord Nelson lounge—particularly Mrs. VanTassel's "Star" quilts and crib quilts. She also commented on how well Digby was represented at the annual banquet, with His Honor Lieut. Governor Plow and Mrs. Plow and the Hon. M. S. Leonard at the head table; Dr. Hodgson, chairman of the Awards Committee, presenting those to be honored by the Division; also Mrs. Hodgson, Mrs. R. B. Lent, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wright, and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Warne, besides Mrs. Stark herself being among those present. Mrs. Stark explained the idea of Disaster Kits which had been advocated at the meeting, the branches having been asked to provide the necessities such as soap, toothbrush, comb, etc., all wrapped in a towel, and stored ready for immediate distribution to local victims of fire or disaster. The many phases of the Red Cross programme were touched upon, with the comment that although progress was reported on every hand, the work was greatly hampered by lack of funds.

Ralph Wright, also a delegate, added to the report by stating that at the Campaign Committee meeting stress was laid on the cost of the free Blood Transfusion Service provided by the Red Cross in which each pint of blood, which is free to the public, costs Red Cross $6 to process. What better insurance policy, Mr. Wright added, could one have than a $5 contribution to the Red Cross Campaign to help process a pint of blood which may be needed this year for oneself or one's family! Mr. Wright also announced that Digby would be having a Blood Donor Clinic on April 8th, and a meeting of Civil Defence, which includes Red Cross workers, on March 20th.

Mrs. Sidney Smith reported that the Home Nursing Class would conclude next week, and expressed her appreciation of Saint Patrick's Church for placing their hall at our disposal for the duration of the course. Sufficient names were now enrolled for two more classes which would be carried on next fall and winter. A vote of thanks to the two nurses, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Gerald Connolly, who have done such an excellent job in the past in making the carnival such a success. According to all indications a large attendance is expected to see the local talent.

All sellers of two-in-one tickets must have their tickets turned in before the carnival so that all stubs can be accounted for.

One call has been received for a chimney fire at Maimie Muise's on St. Mary's Street with no damage reported.

Be sure and see the Fashion Show at the Ice Carnival tomorrow night and keep up with the latest trend in fashions.

Afternoon tea was served at the conclusion of the meeting, tea being poured by Mrs. T. W. Hodgson and Mrs. A. J. Dillon.

Leaves For Belgium

D. F. D. ACTIVITIES

The annual Firemen's Ice Carnival is to be presented tomorrow night with a full evening of entertainment for the whole family. The show is slated to get underway at 8 p.m. with Victor Cardoza acting as master of ceremonies for the evening. The selection of the 1958 Princess will be the attraction at the start of the show. She will be chosen from 10 year old entries from Digby and parts of the County as well. Once the princess is chosen and crowned by Miss Joan White, 1957 princess, the Costume Parade will get underway led by the new princess and the judging will take place for the prize winners in the parade who will be presented with their prizes by the princess.

After intermission the Digby Figure Skaters will take over under the direction of Miss Judy Robinson who will perform in a variety of numbers. Some of these skaters performed earlier in the year and made a remarkable performance and they along with others are expected to turn in another performance just as pleasing.

Throughout the program there will be numerous clown acts which will be designed to keep the spectators in laughs. All these acts will be performed by members of the Fire Dept. Also during the program will be the drawing of two in one tickets for the area which will include a top prize of $1,000, plus forty $50 winners and a $50 winner from the tickets sold by the Fire Dept. locally, all these plus a door prize and spot prizes will be given away during the evening. The evening will conclude by a finale which will ring down the curtain on another winter's activities.

The Princess Contest is under the capable direction of Mrs. J. R. McCleave and the Costume Parade under Mrs. Ralph Wright, who have done such an excellent job in the past in making the carnival such a success. According to all indications a large attendance is expected to see the local talent.

Be sure and see the Fashion Show at the Ice Carnival tomorrow night and keep up with the latest trend in fashions.

One call has been received for a chimney fire at Maimie Muise's on St. Mary's Street with no damage reported.

Mrs. White was met in Digby on her return by her granddaughter, Mrs. Floyd Whynott, Middleton, and great-granddaughter, Zelma Whynott.

"Can't seem to save?" The BNS can help you."

Frank Miller knows how practical BNS help really is. His local BNS manager started him on guaranteed savings with a Personal Security Program.

With PSP you save in the easiest, surest way—by regular monthly instalments. And your entire PSP goal, as little as $100 or as much as $1,500, is life-protected. From the first deposit you know that your PSP contract insures the amount you want for extra schooling . . . your daughter's wedding . . . or whatever you're saving for.

In the event of your death, your beneficiary receives not only the full amount you selected as your savings goal—but also all the payments you have put into the account, plus a cash bonus.

You can pick up a folder with the details of this exclusive plan at your nearest BNS branch. Or talk over PSP with the manager. He's a good man to see for friendly help on any money matter.

DON'T PROTESTANTS Believe In Confession?

But Protestants don't believe in confession, do they? Bob asked a friend who was a leader in a nearby Protestant church.

"Why, of course, we do, Bob. What makes you ask that?"

"There's no confessional in the Protestant church, is there?"

"No, there isn't. But that doesn't mean that we don't believe in confession. We do believe that every person must confess his sins. The Bible says, 'If we say we have no sin we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, He (God) is faithful and just to forgive us our sins.' (1 John 1:8, 9)"

"But you don't have any priests. To whom do you confess?"

"No, we don't have priests in the sense you probably mean, Bob. The Bible says that every 'born again' Christian is a priest." (Revelation 1:6)

"Then do you confess to one another?"

"We can. The Bible tells us that we should confess our sins one to another when we have wronged one another. But there is a big difference between confession and forgiveness. The only One who can forgive sin is the One against Whom we have sinned."

—that is God. God the Father saw the great guilt of sin which would be on every human soul. The Bible says that God showed His love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." (Romans 5:8)

"I believe I understand that, but how do I confess my sins?"

It is very simple, Bob. Jesus Christ, God's Son, died for you and me, and thus He paid in full the penalty for our sins so that God could forgive us. God is everywhere and knows everything. Anyone, anywhere, can turn to God in prayer and confess his sins. Jesus, when He was on earth, invited people to come directly to Him. He said, 'Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.' (Matthew 11:28)

Bible-believing Protestants go directly to God, confess their sins and receive forgiveness. They believe and do what God commands in His Word, the Bible.

FOR SALE — Two 1957 model cars, one green with automatic transmission, one blue with standard drive. No other choices available.

Guaranteed to be new cars with factory warranty - but we have no service facilities for honoring warranty and didn't bother to service the cars before putting them on our lot.

We claim our prices are unbelievably lower than at a franchised new car dealer. And that's right - it's completely unbelievable. Please don't check our prices against those of a franchised dealer.

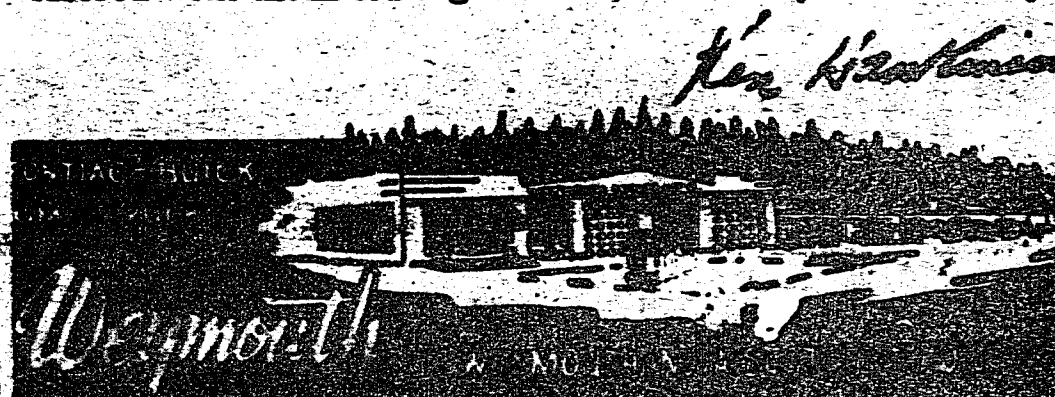

I don't think you would answer that advertisement — but some people do take the word of "bootlegging" car dealers. And it's understandable that they should; their advertising looks pretty good.

But if it was honest, it would be written the way I've set it out up above.

Let's take the matter of price alone. Nobody can buy cars for less than a franchised, authorized dealer. The bootleggers pay more, not less, to get their cars. And they expect to make a profit. But they don't expect their customers back for repeat business, either for service or for another car.

So the bootlegger carves out a "one chunk" profit. His prices usually are higher than those of a franchised dealer. It's just his ballyhoo that's cheaper.

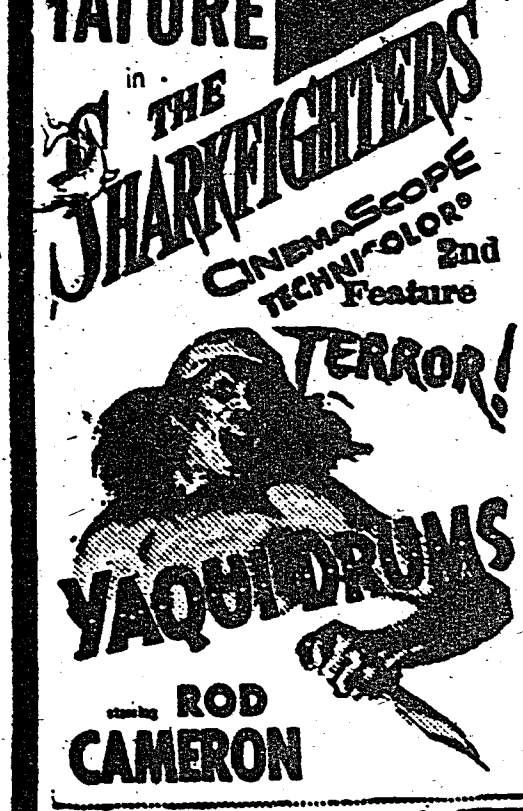

Before you sign any deal, either private or bootleg, remember the sage advice of the Better Business Bureau — Before you Invest, Investigate. Check any deal you're offered with us. If it's a good deal, we'll tell you so frankly.

Digby Wins A.V.W.S.C. Hockey Title

Wednesday, March 19, was the day on which the high school hockey team overwhelmed Annapolis to win the 1957-58 A.V.W.S.C. hockey championship.

The Digby players out-skated their opponents to obtain a 9-2 victory. Scorers during the game were Jim VanTassel, 3, with 2 assists from Clifford Melanson; David Webber, 2; Ron Stark, 2, with 1 assist by Cecil Mosher; Fulton Logan, 1; Clifford Melanson, 1.

The game last Wednesday brought the congress hockey competition to a close for this season.

Correction

In the March 13 issue, in connection with the hockey game between Horton and Digby, the team members who scored Digby's two goals should have read David Webber, 1 (assisted by Cecil Mosher); Cecil Mosher, 1 (assisted by David Webber).

Ice Carnival Successful

A large and enthusiastic audience attended the fourth annual Ice Carnival, sponsored by the Digby Fire Department at the Forum here Friday evening.

Victor Cardoza was Master of Ceremonies for the affair which opened with the annual Ice Carnival Princess contest. Nine contestants were enrolled in the contest and from this group the judges, Mrs. Marcel Jette, P/O Mel Paget and Mrs. Thos. Davis, chose Little Gail Hersey as the 1958 Ice Carnival Princess.

Winsome Little Miss Hersey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hersey of Digby, was crowned by the 1957 Ice Carnival Princess, Joan White. Assisting in the crowning ceremonies was Miss Diane Scragg, Digby's Scallop Queen. The new Ice Carnival Princess was also presented with a lovely corsage and a gift following her coronation.

Following the crowning of the Princess the costume parade and contest was held. The parade was headed by Princess Gail and the Scallop Queen, (Please turn to page 6)

Little League Finals Held

On March 19, before a large crowd of interested parents, the Little League championships were decided.

The Pee Wee championship between the Canadians and the Ravens was the first game. The Canadians on goals by D. Wood (2), I. Anderson (2), and David VanTassel (1) beat the Ravens, whose scorers were Perry Turnbull (1), Ray Trefry (1), 5 goals to 2.

The Bantam championship was won by the Rangers who shut out the Maple Leafs 6-0. Ranger scorers were T. Muise (2), Phil Belliveau (1), Phil Murley (1), Richard Ross (1), Reg Wood (1). The Leafs turned in a fine game but were overwhelmed in the third period when 5 of the Rangers goals were scored.

The winners of each league will be presented with jacket crests which have been donated by the Kiwanis, Lions and the Firemen. These crests are in the process of being made and when they arrive will be publicly presented.

Returns To England

Mrs. T. J. Harris left last week to return to England after living in Nova Scotia for the past thirty years.

For some twenty years Mrs. Harris, late husband, T. J. Harris, operated a greenhouse and florist business here, retiring some time before his death. Previous to coming to Canada he had been associated with a number of well known public garden projects in England and elsewhere.

Mrs. Harris will return to her former home in North Devon where she will visit with her sister, Mrs. A. Wilde, for some time. While in Digby she took an active interest in Trinity Anglican Church and its organizations and was also active in the Red Cross and other community endeavours.

Organize For Civil Defence

A meeting of representatives of local service clubs, the fire department, Canadian Legion and other organizations in the town to co-ordinate and make plans for a Civil Defence organization for Digby was held this week under the chairmanship of Ralph Wright, Digby Civil Defence Co-ordinator.

Speaker at the meeting was Ralphe Douthwaite, deputy civil defence co-ordinator for the province. Mr. Douthwaite explained to the group the organization and duties of civil defence groups and outlined how the work of these groups was being co-ordinated throughout the province.

He stated there would be a tentative warning of twenty-four hours and a definite warning of three hours in the event of necessity of evacuating a bomb target area. In Nova Scotia, he said, the Halifax-Dartmouth district has been classified as such an area.

The Digby area, Mr. Douthwaite said, has been classified as a reception area and the provincial civil defence corps will endeavour to assist in the setting up of the necessary planning and services to handle evacuees at the rate of one for each person in the area.

Mr. Wright, local civil defence co-ordinator, stated various local organizations had expressed their willingness to cooperate in the endeavour and he felt work of finalizing plans for the setting up of the necessary plans for a possible emergency would get underway without delay.

Basketball Activities

Digby Regional High School will be the venue for the Western Nova Scotia Invitational Girls Basketball Tournament next Saturday. This year five teams have been invited to take part. These are Annapolis Regional High School, Bridgetown Regional High School, Middleton Regional High School and West Kings District High School.

They will compete for a trophy which has been donated by Saunders' Jewelry Store of this town.

The tournament begins at 9 a.m. and games will be on the hour until 7 p.m.

Digby Regional High School Junior High School Boys Basketball team won the Thorne Consolation Trophy last Saturday when they lost to West Kings District High School in the final of the Western Nova Scotia Junior High School Boys championship.

Digby earned their way to the final by losing to Hants North and winning over West Kings B, Middleton and New Germany.

Hold Closing Banquet

The Digby Ladies Curling Club closed a very successful year with a banquet, held at the Curling Rink on Thursday, March 20th. A delicious chicken dinner was served to forty lady members. Trophies were presented to the winning teams. The teams winning trophies were:

Nearly Ninety

Mr. Ingram Dakin, of Centerville, N. S., will celebrate his 89th birthday on March 31st, election day. Mr. Dakin is in fairly good health and is the oldest resident of Centerville where he has lived all his life.

He has three sons, three daughters, thirty-two grandchildren and twenty-seven great grandchildren.

One of the highlights for Mr. Dakin on Monday will be the privilege to cast his vote.

Liberals Hold Rally

Pledging his support of the "Pearson Plan" as the "most effective way of dealing with the present unemployment and economic situation, Angus Elderkin, Liberal candidate, for Digby-Annapolis-Kings, told an overflow audience at the Capitol Theatre here last Thursday that "we in the Atlantic provinces do not want handouts in the way of public works programs in place of a sound approach and positive action to solve our present difficulties."

Mr. Elderkin claimed that the Pearson plan would bring "immediate relief to the economic situation, relieve people of taxation and give them more money to spend for themselves." This will mean an upswing in our economy, he said, by putting more money into circulation.

On the other hand, he said, a public works program such as Diefenbaker advocates would, at the very best give only temporary relief and could not, by its very nature, be put into effect right away. He charged that a great deal of the "much vaunted" public works program advocated by the Diefenbaker party was in reality made up of many normal maintenance expenditures and other projects already arranged for by the previous Liberal administration.

Further than this, he claimed, many of the large sums of money quoted are for engineering surveys, land purchases and the like which would do little toward alleviating unemployment.

Taking issue with the P.C. claim that they had made $300,000,000 available for home building, Mr. Elderkin asserted that actually they had added fifty million to the previous 250 million provided for by the Liberal government.

He also charged Conservatives were taking credit for increasing veterans' pensions. "Actually, he said, these increases were announced March 14, 1957 by the Liberal administration to become effective July 1st.

Mr. Elderkin said Diefenbaker's attitude to the Americans with respect to trade relations posed a threat to the fishing industry of the Atlantic area. There is also a great deal of fear and uncertainty among Canada's foreign customers, he said, and this is affecting our sales of pitprops and pulpwood.

The Diefenbaker government, he said, has in eight short months scuttled our merchant fleet, despite their claims concerning the need for strengthening this fleet before the last election. He said that the P.C.'s who had championed a coast guard in their previous election campaign said after the election it was not feasible.

Mr. Elderkin also dealt with the matter of the foreign travelers and stated that since the last election nothing had been

Projects For Constituency Announced

The Capitol Theatre in Digby was packed on Wednesday night when a wide public works program for this area was announced by Hon. George Nowlan, Minister of National Revenue and candidate for Digby-Annapolis-Kings constituency in the March 31st federal election. Some $500,000 is planned for the immediate area, including such projects as:

Wharf improvements in DeLap Cove — $120,000; wharf improvement in Westport — $100,000; harbour dredging at Weymouth North — $75,000, also an unspecified amount for wharf improvements; breakwater at Whale Cove — $100,000; Dominion public building in Digby — $50,000 for land, surveys and other preparatory work.

Mr. Nowlan also reported that surveys were being carried out to determine whether it would be more feasible to carry out repairs to existing wharf facilities at Freeport, at a cost of $300,000, or undertake the construction of new ones, at a cost of $500,000. Whichever project was decided upon, it would be started this year, he said.

Nova Scotia's representative in the Diefenbaker cabinet told the packed theatre he was hopeful that some extension of television service would be carried out in the western part of the province this year.

An item of particular interest to the audience was that of progress seen in having the nation's frontier extended out to sea to a 12 mile limit instead of the 3 mile now in force. Mr. Nowlan, who has been most insistent in advocating the 12 mile limit, said he found most gratifying the support which Canada's proposals were receiving at the Geneva conference on territorial waters. Several countries have supported the proposal and an announcement is expected soon.

Mr. Nowlan said the ministers of the federal government were anxious to have United States markets and discounted any claims by the Liberals that the markets were jeopardized by Conservative procedures. He also upheld the idea of seeking further British trade.

In speaking of tax cuts, Mr. Nowlan said that the Conservatives had promised to reduce taxes and they had kept their promise. Particularly was the reduced tax program beneficial to the man of moderate means.

Mr. Nowlan cited many Conservative projects in mind which were of long term planning and said the election is called now so that those plans can be made after March 31st.

Mr. Nowlan was introduced by Dr. G. V. Turnbull, and chair-

Spring Fashions, Maybe?

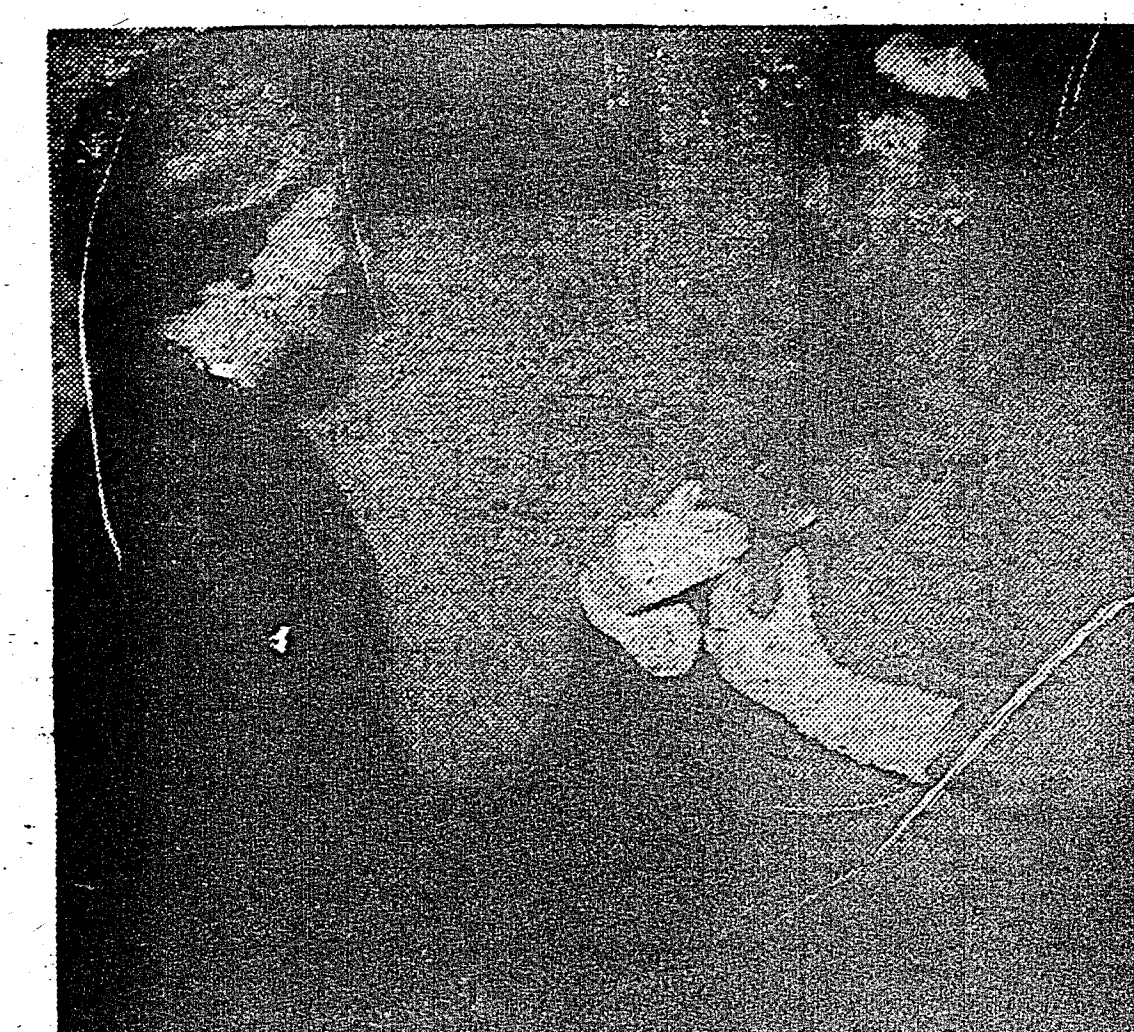

Whether or not the above creations are predictions of this Spring's style in women's hats we do not know. These are prize winning hats at the Zelma Rebekah Lodge hat parade held recently.

Left to right, Mrs. R. B. Lent won prize for the most original hat made of a bun basket filled with real oranges, bananas, grapes and ivy. The decorative fringe was made of silk and ripe cranberries. Mrs. Gerald Wilson, centre, looked charming in a picture hat decorated with nursery articles and chosen as the prettiest hat. The most comical hat was that of Mrs. Joyce Stoddard, which featured a snowman complete with stocking cap.

The hat styles came under every description and were made out of almost every conceivable article, making a difficult decision for the four judges, Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Mrs. John Abramson, Mrs. John Daley and Mrs. Ruggles.

The hat parade was a "program for creating interest" between the greens and pinks and was convened by Mrs. Reginald Holdsworth. Other amusements were enjoyed, with the prize for the "cake-walk" going to Mrs. Gerald Sanford and Mrs. Wallace Hodgson. The cake at a recent pantry sale was won by Mrs. Raymond Lent.

Before the entertainment the regular session of the Lodge was presided over by Mrs. Gerald Wilson. Noble Grand. Light refreshments were served.

About This and That

The Important Choice Monday

The setting for the federal election at the end of this month is almost complete. We have had many opportunities to hear and read the platforms of the various candidates and the parties they represent. Now, we have the responsibility of deciding which one we will support and then making sure that on Monday, March 31, we go to the polls and vote for that choice.

Not long ago a prominent lawyer, who was disappointed with the choice his political party had made for a candidate, said that rather than support his party's candidate he would not vote on election day. Obviously, if many Canadians held this attitude democracy would be a very frail vehicle. Devotion to political party must never be so firm that its followers cannot turn against it if they feel its choice of candidate or its choice of policy is wrong. The reason we believe in free elections is not because we must stand by a particular party through thick or thin, but rather so we can vote for the party and individual we think is best equipped to govern our nation.

Today, across Canada, some 800 contestants are busy wooing some 9 million voters in 265 constituencies. From region to region the course of the election is following different issues, but generally speaking Canadians appear to be very interested in what their candidates are doing and saying. If the general interest holds until election day it seems likely that from 70 to 80% of the eligible voters will register their opinion on March 31. In turn this means that from 20 to 30% of the voters of the nation will fail to vote on election day. In many constituencies this group of voters would be more than enough to change the outcome of the election if they had voted.

This group of citizens fail to recognize their responsibility in our society. They fail to see that their opinion is mighty important in the final tabulation of the vote. History will show that had these people exercised their democratic right the course of national determination might have taken a completely different road.

And so it is apparent that each individual vote in our society is important. Each of us has a duty to perform on March 31, and that is to make a choice, and then register that conviction so that our political leaders know with certainty the opinion of the Canadian people.

Our duty next Monday is clear. Vote as you please but please vote.

Not A Cure

In the midst of the election clamor it is important to remember that the most popular schemes for ending the recession, advocated by all the parties, can be in no sense a cure but only a palliative, warns The Financial Post. The Canadian government and parliament can't legislate prosperity; the best they can do is foster the conditions in which prosperity may thrive.

It is self-evident that a government can — after a lengthy organization process — provide jobs for a certain number of unemployed men by starting public works and can increase the spending power of the people by reducing taxes.

But the important point is that no amount of pump-priming by the state can automatically turn hard times into good times. In a free country prosperity depends on private investment; and private investment depends on confidence — meaning confidence in the reasonable stability of markets, prices and costs. In other words the recovery of business, when it comes, will be due not to state action but to the private decisions of countless individuals about what to do with their money.

RATEPAYERS HOLD ANNUAL

The annual meeting of the ratepayers of the Bear River fire protection area was held on Tuesday evening, March 11, in the fire hall. Mr. Roy Snell acted as chairman of the meeting. Attendance 30.

The main issue to come before the meeting concerned the matter of responding to calls for fires outside the area defined in the Act and it was felt that owing to the fact that there is only one piece of fire equipment available no calls outside the District could be attended to in future. On the other hand it was stressed that the boundaries in Annapolis County were much farther away from the Hall than those in Digby County, therefore, it was decided to contact the residents of Digby County adjacent to the present area for a distance of approximately one and one-half miles and see if they wished to become a part of the present set-up.

It is expected that tax rates will be payable at the Royal Bank of Canada again this year and it is expected the rate rolls for the year ending February 28th, 1959, will be posted on or about May 1st, 1958.

CARS ARE MY LINE

by Ken Hankinson

SCT. HANKINSON OF THE CRANKCASE CORPS

I've always admired policemen, both the patient men who pound the beat and the tireless and imaginative detectives of fact and fiction. Never thought, though, that I would be joining the ranks of the FBI, Fabian of the Yard and King of the Royal Mounted.

It happened the other day . . . but that story can wait.

First, let's take some elementary car problems we've solved in the shop recently and test your powers as a crankcase detective:

Q. Why do my front brakes wear more quickly than the rear brakes despite the fact the brake linings are all the same?

A. Has nothing to do with the condition of the brakes. Weak shock absorbers in either the front or the back will pitch the car forward when you stop, putting more of the braking effort in the front and, therefore, wearing out those linings quicker.

Q. I'm losing water out of my radiator although the radiator appears to be in good condition. What's wrong?

A. There's more to this than looking for a leaky hose or radiator rust. Actually, there are more than 20 causes for loss of water. In this case, our mechanics put on their Sherlock Holmes caps and traced the trouble to — of all places — the distributor! Trouble in the distributor was causing a late spark, the engine therefore overheated and Presto! a perfectly good radiator was losing its water.

These are just a couple of problems a friend of ours overheard while he was waiting for some emergency service on his car the other day. "Man!" he said, "you should be a detective."

It was a nice compliment, I thought. But, of course, no detective really works alone, despite what the murder mysteries say. Cases are solved by a lot of trained minds and scientific equipment.

That's what we rely on too — factory-trained mechanics and the best equipment in town. Why not bring your next "case" to us?

FAITH OF OUR FATHERS

Faith of our fathers, living still
In spite of dungeon, fire and sword.
History reveals that throughout the centuries there have always been those who have stood true to the Faith. It has cost some the price of their lives. Others have suffered terrible injuries and injustices, but in spite of all this they have stood true to the Faith.

This "Faith of our fathers" was not a foggy, indefinable loyalty to a certain manner of life. It was not an emotional attachment to any organization. The Faith to which our fathers were true was the Bible message of salvation through Jesus Christ. This is what the Bible describes as "the faith which was once delivered unto the saints." (Jude 3)

Bible-believing Christians who took their stand on the Bible were willing to follow the truth wherever it led. They were willing to stake their lives on preserving the pure Bible message of salvation.

In our day, too, there are thousands of congregations of Bible-believing Protestants who have centered their lives in the Gospel of Jesus Christ. They are not trusting in their own moral standing or in the good deeds which they do. Their faith is founded on the Bible message of salvation through Jesus Christ, because they have come to understand that "while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." (Romans 5: 8)

The fathers of the Christian Faith demonstrated their complete trust in the death of Jesus Christ as the sole ground for their salvation - so do Bible-believing Christians today. The Bible clearly states that our attitude toward Jesus Christ is the determining factor in our salvation. "As many as received him (Jesus), to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name." (John 1: 12)

You are sure to find a welcome wherever you find a Bible-centered congregation of Christians. The pastor and the members of such a congregation will be glad to help you understand the "Faith of our fathers."

STARK — In loving memory of our dear sons and brothers, Headley and Curtis Stark, who were drowned in the Bay of Fundy April 1st, 1940; Nathan A. Stark, who passed away July 7th, 1934. As long as we live we will cherish their names. In memory we see them ever the same. — Lovingly remembered by Dad and Mother, sisters and brothers. 30:1p

DEVEAU — In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Joseph Deveau, who passed away March 31st, 1946. She told us that time would heal the heart. It is not so. They said the years would help us to forget. They do not know. — Lovingly remembered by her family. 30:1p

ROBBINS — In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Norman A. Robbins, who passed away on March 23, 1949. God saw what was before you, And the pain you had to bear, So smiling down upon you He took you in His care.

Your worry hours and days of pain, Your troubled nights are past; And in our aching hearts we know You have found sweet rest at last.

— Sadly missed by husband, Norman; daughter, Reba; son-in-law, Clarence, and grandchildren, Norman, Douglas, Robert and Linda White. 30:1c

BARNES — In loving memory of Capt. Hillyard Barnes, Digby, who departed this life on March 28, 1949. This world may change from year to year, And friends from day to day, But never shall the one we loved From memory pass away. — Inserted by his wife and five children. 30:1p

HANDSPIKER — In memory of Ada Handspiker, who passed away March 26th, 1957. She was kind and gentle, so patient and good; She tried always to do the things that she should. We miss her warm smile, and touch of her hand. But we know God took her to a far better land.

In fancy we see her, where so often she sat; In her old cosy rocker, with her pets on the mat. Now we're longing and waiting to meet her up there Where we know she is happy, and God will take care. — Sadly missed by husband, Jud., and sister, Hattie. 30:1c

Little Billy Patterson, as "Mr. Red Cross", was winner of the prize for the most original costume in the parade. He was handaged completely from head to toe and bore the Red Cross slogan on his back.

Winners of the most comical prize were Bobby Marshall and Doug VanTassel, who appeared as two tramps. Most representative prize went to Lance Woolaver as the judge, complete with gown and wig. Lee Hall, who appeared as Barbara Ann Scott, won the fancy costume prize, and Jean Raymond and Pat Wilson, who were arrayed as the farmer and the scarecrow, won the miscellaneous prize.

A really hilarious part of the evening's program was the fashion show which featured members of the fire department, modelling some of the latest creations. Commentary on the fashion parade was provided by Tom Davis, who explained in detail the fine points of the costumes.

Several clown acts, presented by members of the fire department, also provided many laughs for the audience. One of these, entitled "Last Aid", showed in reverse fashion how to deal with emergencies.

The second half of the program featured the figure skating of Judy Robinson and her troupe of figure skaters. This part of the program opened with a rock and roll number on skates, presented by the full group.

This was followed by a beautiful solo number, skillfully executed by Marilyn Patterson. A duet, featuring Valerie Holdsworth and Carol Morehouse, brought a wave of applause from the audience.

Valerie Holdsworth followed with another lovely solo number and this was followed by a duet featuring Carol Handspiker and Marilyn Patterson. The whole group then presented a second rock and roll number and this was followed by solos by Pam Wright and Carol Morehouse. A duet number by Carol Handspiker and by the director of the group, Judy Robinson, followed, and then a solo by Marsha Cleveland. The program closed with a beautiful solo by Judy Robinson.

Music preceding the evening's program and for several of the figure skating numbers was provided by the band of HMCS Cornwallis. Mrs. J. R. McCleave was in charge of the Princess contest, and Mrs. R. O. Wright headed up the costume contest. All talent in the program was local.

There will be no Trinity evening Guild during Holy Week. The afternoon Guild will meet at the home of Mrs. Helen Anthony on Thursday this week, with Mrs. Cecil Jones, hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Raymond returned home from Middleton after spending a month with their daughter, Mrs. James Christie, Mr. Christie and son, Ronnie, also son, Frank Raymond and family.

Digby Attends Annapolis Valley West Student's Council
The spring session of the Annapolis Valley West Student's Congress met at Bridgetown Regional High on Friday, March 21.
Delegates attending from Digby were: Keith Churchill, Pat Potter—Executive; Helen Harding, Doris Murley—Drama; David Bent, Galen Sabean—Debating; Betty Walker, Nancy Gillespie—Home Economics; Shirley Potter, Lois Wagner—Girls' Sports; Jim Dousette, Lloyd Paul—Boys' Sports.
During the general assembly Galen Sabean presented to the Congress a trophy donated by Dickson Sabean for an annual A.V.W.S.C. competition in boys' soccer.
Elections for the 1958-59 A.V.W.S.C. officers were held by secret ballot during the general assembly.
Immediately following the general assembly the delegates attended a banquet prepared by the host school. Guest speaker at the banquet was Reverend Fraser, of the Bridgetown United Church, who entertained his audience with an interesting talk on his favorite hobby, the study of birds.

At the banquet the results of the election were announced. The newly elected officers are: President, Tom LeBrun, of Bridgetown; Vice President, David Bent, of Digby; Treasurer, Elenor Vienot, of Bridgetown.
The A.V.W.S.C. trophies for 1957-58 were awarded at this time. Bridgetown was awarded the majority of honours, winning the trophies for girls' and boys' soccer; girls' volleyball; girls' basketball; and drama. Middleton won the honours in boys' volleyball and basketball. Digby won the hockey competition, for which there is no trophy. The curling trophy was also won by Digby, but was presented to the curling team previous to this session of Congress.
A dance, attended by over a hundred students from the schools participating in the A.V.W.S.C., wound up the activities of this spring's session.

NOVA SCOTIA FISHERMAN...

TORY POLICY THREATENS YOUR LIVELIHOOD!

You have a choice between increased incomes and security with a Liberal government or a threat to the very survival of the Nova Scotian fishing industry under a Tory regime.

WHICH WILL YOU CHOOSE ?

A LIBERAL GOVERNMENT THAT WILL PROVIDE — — Increased trade leading to better markets for our fish in the United States and elsewhere.

— Steady incomes and solid security in the winter months through unemployment insurance for fishermen.

— Protection for fishermen through an improved Deep Sea Protection Service. Better Fishing Patrol vessels and more of them.

— Essential harbour improvements and government leadership that can get international agreement for Canadian control of a 12-mile limit.

A TORY GOVERNMENT THAT CAN ONLY MEAN —

— Diversion of trade leading to much higher United States tariffs which will close the door to Nova Scotia fish products.

— Repeat performance of their dismal efforts to meet the present unemployment emergency.

— No improvements to protect fishermen — only the empty ring of their 1957 pre-election Coast Guard promise.

— $175 million for highways in the Arctic, but no practical plan to solve the problems of the Nova Scotian fishing industry.

A VOTE FOR YOUR LIBERAL CANDIDATE MEANS ...

To The Electors:

On the day I was first nominated a candidate in a federal election I gave this pledge to the convention:

"If elected I will raise the matter of your demands upon the floor of the House of Commons. I will serve the constituency to the best of my ability and will endeavour to represent each of you, regardless of your political affiliations, in the manner in which you would like to be represented."

I was elected and at first mine was a lone voice among your members. The problems of our inshore fishermen, the needs of our Maritime Universities had never been mentioned in the House of Commons. The necessity for financial aid to our Provincial development when urged were treated with indifference. As time went on the situation improved until recently all Canadians have shown a sympathetic interest in our problems and have expressed their desire to co-operate in solving them. (Perhaps you will not think me immodest if I suggest that I may have played some small part in effecting this changed attitude, but the former Liberal Government stubbornly refused to consider the problems of our Maritime Universities, the needs of our Provincial Governments, or the possibility of industrial development.)

Then, after June 10th last year, came the Government of Mr. Diefenbaker; and after June 21st I was not only your Member, but the Representative of Nova Scotia in the Government of Canada. Much time has been spent on the activities of the Department of National Revenue, touching as it does the lives of over 4,500,000 Canadian taxpayers and under the preceding Government sometimes in rather a ruthless manner, but the happiest moments of my political life were when last November I sat as a Cabinet Minister in the Dominion-Provincial Conference, having been asked to present there the Atlantic Provinces.

This Conference recognized that the Atlantic Provinces deserved special consideration, and within the next few weeks the Government introduced legislation in Parliament which will do more for these Provinces than has been done through all the preceding years since Confederation.

Much remains to be done both for these Provinces and for Canada.

If you believe I have kept the pledge I first made to you; if you feel my word deserves your support, I would appreciate your vote on March 31st.

Faithfully yours,

George C. Nowlan

ON MARCH 31st VOTE . .

Inserted by the Progressive Conservative Association of Digby-Annapolis-Kings.

During the years George Nowlan has represented this Constituency he has won National recognition as a spokesman for Nova Scotia and the Maritimes. It followed that after June 10th last year, the Prime Minister asked Mr. Nowlan to assume the Portfolio of National Revenue — the same Department that was administered for so many years by the Rt. Hon. J. L. Illsley. In this department Mr. Nowlan has earned the confidence of all Canadian taxpayers whether Corporations, Executives or Wage Earners, by his insistence that their problems be dealt with courteously and efficiently.

In addition to his Departmental duties Mr. Nowlan is also responsible to Parliament for the C.B.C. and has given much time to plans for the re-organization of that corporation. From that standpoint his most noteworthy accomplishment followed after the Prime Minister had asked him to represent the Atlantic Provinces in the Special Cabinet Committee making plans for the then forthcoming Dominion-Provincial Conference. That Committee worked for many weeks on this matter and as a result Mr. Nowlan was selected by the Prime Minister to be one of the four Cabinet Ministers to attend the Conference with him. The results you now know — results which justify Mr. Nowlan's years of study of our problems.

For the benefit of newcomers to the Constituency of Digby-Annapolis-Kings and those who may be voting for the first time next Monday, Mr. Nowlan was born in Havelock, in Digby County. His father was a farmer and operator of a sawmill. Mr. Nowlan received his early education there. As a boy, one of his many tasks on the farm included yoking the oxen and hauling lumber to Weymouth.

Later, his parents moved to Wolfville, so that he might live at home and still obtain a college education. Mr. Nowlan Sr. operated a dairy farm there and while at college, George assisted his father by delivering milk.

The First World War interrupted his education and at the age of eighteen he enlisted with the Royal Canadian Artillery and served with the 11th Battery in France as a Gunner.

On his return he graduated from Acadia University and later from Dalhousie Law School where he worked his way through by being employed as house master for the School for the Blind at Halifax.

The problems of the Maritimes were an important topic of conversation to George and fellow law students at Dalhousie. Much thought was given to the possibilities of moving elsewhere to obtain greater financial reward. George and many of his classmates who are now well known Nova Scotians decided they should stay in the Maritimes, although most young people of that day were leaving their native provinces. This is a decision which he has never regretted.

Mr. Nowlan was admitted to the Bar in 1922 and immediately opened a practice in the Town of Wolfville where he has since resided. In 1925, he was elected to represent Kings County in the Nova Scotia Legislature where he was the youngest member up to that date.

He has served his community in many capacities as President of the Canadian Legion, Rotary Club and the Board of Trade and as a member of the Board of Governors of Acadia University. He was Vice-President of the Nova Scotia Barristers Association and a member of the Council of the Canadian Bar Association.

During these years Mr. Nowlan established one of the largest law practices in Western Nova Scotia. In this connection he has dealt with all phases of the life of this community and knows intimately the problems of the farmer, the fisherman, the lumberman and the individual businessman.

As a member of Parliament representing this constituency for the past nine years, Mr. Nowlan has acquired a national reputation as a brilliant spokesman for Nova Scotia and the Maritimes in general. The respect he has won is largely due to the fact that while vigorously promoting the interests of this area he has always remembered his responsibility as a Canadian.

It is of major importance to this constituency that a candidate who is fully acquainted with the needs of our farmers, fishermen and lumbermen continue to represent you at Ottawa. In George Nowlan you have such a man.

To quote this week's issue of the "Family Herald", "Good government requires good men, first of all. The greater the difference in men, the easier to choose between them. Where one candidate is readily distinguished as the best man for the job in his riding, the conscientious voter has a simple decision to make" . . .

. . . "Canada should have a stable government with a working majority, if progress is to be made during that government's term of office. And if we are to go on and secure the full usefulness of a change of power on Parliament Hill, that government will have to be CONSERVATIVE . . ."

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

MEETS AT ROSSWAY

The Rossway Women's Institute held their monthly meeting in the hall on Tuesday afternoon, Mar. 11, with nine members present.

After the opening exercises the roll call was answered by an Irish joke. Plans were made for a rummage sale and 25c lunch to be held after Easter for Institute needs.

Financial obligations for district dues, Peace Garden Fund, Pennies for Friendship, and the F.W.I.C. fund will be met by the Institute during the month of March.

Mrs. Violet McBride was chairman of the Agriculture programme and several members took part in presenting it.

"Landscaping," "Old Homes," "What to Plant," "The Farmer's Wife," "Bulbs to Plant," and "Fire Protection in the Home." Mrs. Andrews then had a quiz. It being Education Week, an article on education was read, taken from the Digby Courier — last issue — by Hon. M. S. Leonard, Minister of Education for the Province of Nova Scotia, followed by a short discussion on hot lunches for bus travelling children.

Work on the Institute quilt progressed during the afternoon.
