1877-1977

Now and then a printing job had a save in parchment paper which required a special kind of printers' ink which smelled very bad some days. I always dreaded it when "Mac" would take you to the largest press in spite of the fact he always opened an outside door to lessen the odors on the main plant.

One of the jobs I had to do, besides putting and graders' devil on the staff, was to... I cleaned one and then... One day not long after I started to get to the grating plant. I decided to climb the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned for some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily. He thought the remark pretty good and whole.

Sometimes the gasoline engine, a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and the "Man" fix it. A man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results. Man would then stand back and come quite dramatically then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of coaxing."

On other occasions when my wife refused duty for me and seemed to be broken, I would say, "use a little oil" and use humor when that is all it took. How often since have I heard of the value of that remark and the actual need of oil in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the June 1941 "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1941 got together just before dark one evening and decided to initiate the newly built outdoor Pease Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just out of the pool, nobody else seemed to be around and the four boys, no thought or time for bathing suits, up in the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in. The rest quickly followed and across the pool they swam. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Swims Officially Open Pease Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the four? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars (second world and Korea), was awarded the Vietnam Cross; Sidney L. Smith, now prominent draughtsman for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale importer and bookshop; and myself.

As a young treasurer I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day "Mac" said to me how about writing your version of the story told about "The Marooning of Jerome". I did it and read it aloud to two somewhat different groups of the men who was found marooned on a French Island some place on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Duffy County. When I read this man's tongue had been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

Jerome appeared to have been a man of considerable social standing and, possibly, of considerable wealth. However, the only thing I could or would ever say after being asked and probed by some family in the Forest was that something that sounded like the name before either, could not, or would not, apply to the man who he was or why he was left there. I was, and is, one of Dugby County, and I am sure, different ideas have been put forward in the past concerning this man. However, "Mia" was, I felt so sure he was, that I was different about this man. The only thing I have been very well explained to me.

From the files of the Chamber of January 22, 1967, the following account has been copied concerning India in 1965:

Among a number of old newspapers kindly sent to us are two from a copy of the Saint John Telegraph and among other advertisements contained in the issue before us is one describing the town and farming of Digby, and offering for sale certain lots in the town. In this area we are told the township of Digby "extends from the Gulf of St. Lawrence westward to the extremity of the province of Nova Scotia, and contains about 134,000 acres." The town plot is then described.

The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Bay, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles distant from the head of H. Mary's Bay. This land, and not from the water's edge, partly is level ground, and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having on an eastern aspect a view of the Annapolis Bay, and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in extent, it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth at that name. It was secured by Lafayette from New York in 1782, the point of which went nearly to Britain, or, moving to other countries, left the shore free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students, one of which was J.J.'s daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Marvin of Tibert, Prescott, Digby Co.). Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters. I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print." I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like embossing, stapling, perforating, coaming, cutting and crumpling paper stock, mixing inks for certain desired colors, and so forth, too. The only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "go," the printers name for a completed mass.

There was a taste of trying to do it all inside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I took it, made several calls, spent most of the time alone preparing orders, and got an order, but

To Present "As You Like It"

A real treat is in store for lovers of Shakespearean drama here on Tuesday, October 14th, when the Earle Grey players from Toronto present "As You Like It" at the Regional High School auditorium, commencing at 1:30 p.m.

A love story with a lot of suspense, "As You Like It" features Rosalind, the beautiful heroine; Duke Frederick, her wicked uncle; Orlando, the hero and winner of the wrestling match. The story's case of mistaken identity heightens the suspense but in the end love prevails.

Plan Zone Rally

A zone rally of Canadian Legion branches in this area has been scheduled for the evening of October 9th at the Legion headquarters in Digby, it is understood.

Eugene Outhouse, M.M., of Tiverton, Zone Commander, will preside over the rally and an invitation has been extended to all ex-service personnel to attend.

The rally will open with a get-together at 6:30 p.m. and a dinner will be served at seven o'clock. Mr. Hubert Barnstead, of the civil defence organization in Halifax, will be the guest speaker of the evening.

Group Visits Digby

Some thirty parliamentarians, representing every province of Canada and other distinguished personages attending the bi-centenary celebration in Halifax, visited Digby yesterday morning on their tour of western Nova Scotia.

Included in the group, which was accompanied by Hon. R. A. Donahue, Nova Scotia Attorney General, and Hon. George Wilson, deputy house speaker, were the high commissioner of Cyprus and Ronald Russell, British M.P.

After a short stop in Digby the group went on to H.M.C.S. Cornwallis where they were

H. & S. Conference Held Here

More than eighty leaders of Home and School associations and county councils from Western Nova Scotia gathered at the regional high school here Saturday for an all-day regional conference.

General chairman of the conference was Mrs. Jean Pell of Bridgetown, regional vice-president of the Home and School federation for the western counties. In her opening remarks Mrs. Pell commented on the attendance at the conference which she said was much larger than expected. This attendance, she said, indicated a keen interest in the welfare of the organization in this part of the province.

A "chain reaction" panel discussion on the theme of the conference, "Making Home & School worth a Dollar plus," opened the day's proceedings. Taking part in this were Clinton Havey, Dartmouth, chairman of the finance committee of the provincial federation; Robert Swin, Auburn, chairman of the editorial board of H. & S. News, and Victor Cardoza, Digby county council president.

The panel discussion provoked spirited audience participation, particularly on the matter of the recent increase of affiliation fees from thirty-five cents to one dollar. Consensus of opinion seemed to be that the amount of the fee was not the crucial point but that the real problem is to make the organization sufficiently worthwhile and effective that people will want to join and become active in it.

A novel method of presenting the matter of communications within the Home & School organization in the province and underlining the program helps and other aids available from various government agencies in carrying out Home & School work opened the afternoon session.

The method adopted was a simulated meeting of an H. & S. council executive at which the year's program was being planned and means of carrying out this program discussed. Chairman of the meeting was Lamont Foster, Greenwood, past president of the Kings county council. Those taking part as conveners and officers were Mrs. Ward Hallman, Kingston; Frank McGill, principal Morfee School, Greenwood; Mrs. Nora Longley, North Kingston.

At the close of the simulated meeting Mr. Foster presented a chart showing the lines of communication between various levels of the H. & S. organization. General chairman of the afternoon session was James Wilson, president of the Kings county council.

Following the sessions on communications workshops were held. These were opened with an explanation of the need for concentration on certain specific matters if an explanation by Thomas Jones, adult education division, department of education. Mr. Jones said an organization to be successful

New Rector Inducted

Rev. James Pike, former rector of Round Hill, was inducted as rector of Trinity parish, Digby, Tuesday evening at an impressive service in the parish church here.

The service of evensong, which preceded the induction, was read by Rev. W. E. Jefferson, rector of Granville Ferry. Rev. D. T. Haviland, of Bridgetown, read the first scripture lesson, and Rev. E. C. Erwin, of Weymouth, read the second lesson.

Following the evensong the letters of institution and license of the new rector were read by Rev. Stephen Sherran, rural dean elect of the deanery of Annapolis, who presented Mr. Pike for induction.

After the institution and induction of the new rector by Rt. Rev. W. W. Davis, bishop coadjutor of the diocese of Nova Scotia, the keys of the church were presented by the church wardens, Dr. G. V. Turnbull and Mr. C. E. Jones.

The new rector was then conducted to the font, prayer desk, lecturn, pulpit and altar by the Ven. G. W. Bullock, archdeacon of the deaneries of Annapolis and Avon. After the admonition and responses at each of these places verses of the familiar hymn, "We Love The Place, O God," written by Dean Bullock, a former rector in this parish, were sung.

Bishop Davis then delivered the admonition to the people and also preached the induction sermon.

Following the induction service a reception for the new rector and his wife and daughter was held in the parish hall where a number of gifts were presented by Warden Turnbull to Mr. and Mrs. Pike on behalf of the congregation.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anthony and baby, of Toronto, have returned to their home after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson.

ful must have a purpose; there must be planning, attention must be given to program and procedure and there must also be publicity.

At the workshop sessions which followed Mrs. Pell and Keith Langille headed the session on program; Thomas Jones was in charge of procedure, while Victor Cardoza lead the session on publicity.

At the evening session a panel composed of Mrs. Jean Pell, Benoit d'Entremont, past president Argyle county council; Wilfred Higgins, administrative secretary of the provincial federation, Clinton Havey and Lamont Foster dealt with a number of questions which had been placed in a question box during the day. The panel's answers to some of these were challenged from the floor and a lively discussion ensued. General chairman of the evening session was school inspector Maurice Belliveau.

The day's program concluded with a detailed explanation of the current H. & S. membership drive by Mr. Higgins.

Veteran Skipper Passes

Captain Frederick Smith Blackadar, of Centreville, Digby County, one of Nova Scotia's veteran Master Mariners, passed away at the Digby General Hospital Friday morning at the age of eighty.

Captain Blackadar was the son of the late Benjamin and Annie (Crosby) Blackadar and was born in Hebron, Yarmouth County, but moved to Westport at an early age. He first went to sea at the age of sixteen and by 1904 he had qualified for his Master's certificate in sail. He later qualified for a Master's ticket in steam.

For a number of years prior to World War I he sailed on the South America run from New York as a Captain in the Grace Line. During the first World War he was a Lieutenant Commander in the United States navy and his ship was used as a troop carrier. During the war years he went through many harrowing experiences as his ship crossed and recrossed the Atlantic carrying American troops to Europe.

After the war Captain Blackadar served for two years with the Westphal line. He then went to Texas where he became manager of the Atlantic and Gulf Contracting and Stevedoring Company Ltd. which position he held until his retirement in 1946.

Following his retirement he returned to Digby and later made his home in Centreville. A talented artist, he spent many hours in painting seascapes and reproductions of many of the famous sailing craft of Nova Scotia's earlier days.

He is survived by a half-sister, Mrs. Frances Boutilier, Centreville, and by two nephews, Angus Boutilier, Centreville, and Major Alfred Boutilier, Toronto. A son, Thomas Blackadar, was lost at sea while in service during the second World War.

The remains rested at Jayne's Funeral Home, Digby, until Monday when the funeral was held at two o'clock from the Church of the Nativity in Sandy Cove. Rev. James Pike, rector of Trinity parish, Digby, conducted the service and interment was in the family lot in the church yard at Sandy Cove.

Vote To Pay Share

At a special meeting called for the purpose, the Digby Board of Trade last week voted to pay their share of the deficit of the Princess Margaret Day committee from a special fund held by the board.

A number of other matters were discussed at the meeting and it was decided to place these on the agenda of the next regular meeting. These included the Digby sponsored Shelburne highway project, the possibility of a causeway instead of a new bridge across the big Joggin, and other projects.

It is understood some of these will be the subject of resolutions to be forwarded by the Digby board to the AVABT for action at the annual meeting of that board.

Common thought of a householder, viewing the fire ruins of a neighbor's house: "I wonder if I have sufficient insurance on my house." Good thinking it is, too, but don't forget that tidy housekeeping is an excellent bonus to fire insurance.

TIME TO LEARN
If you don't understand the deadly difference between a 15 and, say, a 30 ampere fuse in your ordinary household electrical circuit, now's the time to find out. Fuses are your safety checks on the hidden wires and the traffic they can reasonably bear. If a 15 ampere fuse keeps "blowing" and if the 30 doesn't, watch your step; you may be living on borrowed time.

One single fire in which 640 persons died and $134 millions of property wasted (as was our total toll in 1957) would be easily one of Canada's greatest disasters, and indeed one of the world's worst calamities. Only six lives, for example, were lost in the Great London Fire of 1666.

Hallett represented observation posts at Weymouth, Plympton, Rossway, Tiverton, Freeport, New Tusket, Church Point, Meteghan and Cape St. Mary, each having a chief observer and approximately 20 observers.

There are 359 observation posts and 3,500 volunteer observers in Nova Scotia. He also disclosed they would shortly be linked with Civil Defence in the detection and fall-out from A-Bomb blasts and will be supplied with special instruments for this purpose.

Hallett on behalf of those present, to which both Mr. and Mrs. Tower made gracious responses. Delicious refreshments were served and another evening of social exchange came to a close. Marriage

MacGregor - Potter

Bethany United Church, Halifax, was the scene of a charming, early autumn wedding Saturday afternoon, when Miss Carolyn Beulah Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Potter, Halifax, became the bride of Doctor Peter Archibald MacGregor, son of William G. MacGregor and the late Mrs. MacGregor, New Glasgow. Reverend J. Milton Fraser performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Reginald Piercy accompanied the soloist, Ronald M... The church was decorated with deep red and white gladioli, and the guest pews were marked with white ribbon nosegays.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a peau-de-faille chapel train, bridal gown modeled on princess lines, with open pleated skirt. The portrait neckline and wais were sparkling Alencon lace sequined motifs. The long sleeves tapered at the wrists. She wore a matching headpiece with an elbow length veil of silk illusion.

Miss Jean Waldorf, maid of honor, and Miss Joan Miller and Miss Grace Hogg, bridesmaids, were dressed alike in plum shade imported velvet gowns with princess lines, sweetheart necklines and short sleeves. They wore matching shoes and picture hats, and short white gloves. Their flowers were sunbursts of white carnations and deep red rose buds.

Flower girl, Jill Philpott, was dressed in plum velvet cut on the same lines as the bridesmaids. She wore a velvet bandeau, and white gloves, and carried a nosegay of white roses. Dr. William Nicholas, of St. John's, Newfoundland, was the best man. Ushers were Brian Chandler, Gordon MacGregor and Carl Potter.

The bride's mother wore an imported midnight blue silk velvet gown with a bloused bodice and a slim skirt. Her hat was a dusty rose feather.

Mrs. MacGregor wore a sapphire blue silk peau-de-sole sheath gown with matching imported Melusine hat with feather trim, and matching shoes and gloves. Her stole was of Russian squirrel.

The grandmother of the bride, Mrs. W. G. Blackadar, of Weymouth, wore a turquoise lace dress and her corsage was pink roses.

The reception was held at the Lord Nelson Hotel where Mr. Fraser proposed the toast to the bride.

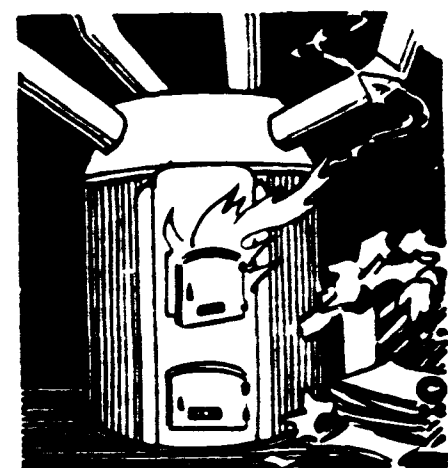

The young couple will spend their honeymoon in Bermuda.

For travelling, the bride wore a cocoa brown wool boucle suit with beige hat and accessories to match. Her corsage was of orange favorite roses.

Dr. and Mrs. MacGregor will reside in Halifax.

STORY OF FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Timed originally to the anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire on October 8th, 1871, Fire Prevention Week has been proclaimed by royal proclamation in Canada and by the President of the United States since 1922. Actually, a Fire Prevention Day was first observed in Nova Scotia, Ontario and Saskatchewan and in 1919 a national royal proclamation was issued for the day.

To a former Canadian, Rev. T. Alfred Fleming, now retired at 84 in Cleveland, Ohio, but one time resident of Owen Sound, Ontario, goes much personal credit for the "steam" behind the effort's establishment. A 1909 fire in an Ohio school, killing 173 children because a janitor forgot to keep an exit unlocked, gave Mr. Fleming the germ of the idea.

Sure fire combination: a small child and one match.

Johnny Amirault, of Sudbury, Ont., is spending a vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Amirault, Weaver Settlement.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Mullen, Mrs. H. M. Mullen and Miss Jessie Falvey motored to Mahone Bay and Lunenburg on Thursday and also attended the exhibition at Bridgewater.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Barr, Saint John, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Barr, Weaver Settlement, one day last week.

Mrs. Sam Journey, Miss Bernice Journey, Miss Marie Bonenfant and Larry Lombard attended the exhibition at Bridgewater on Thursday.

Correction from last week—Should have read "Willis Mullen, Mrs. H. M. Mullen and Miss Jessie Hogan were visitors in Weymouth on Thursday." The second name was omitted.

Promotion To Expand West Indies Trade

Hon. E. A. Manson, minister of Trade and Industry, announced September 25th the signing of a contract on behalf of the Province of Nova Scotia with the Canadian Government Exhibition Commission in Ottawa for booth space at the forthcoming Canadian Trade Fairs in Port of Spain, Trinidad, and Kingston, Jamaica. Participating with the Province of Nova Scotia in this display will be exporters of fish and other food products, and possibly representation from the lumber industry.

With the establishment of the West Indies Federation, said Mr. Manson, the Canadian government is desirous of expanding trade with that area and this exhibition is one method of stimulating the interest of exporters and buyers.

"Nova Scotia has a long history with the West Indies," he said, "and the government feels that all possible should be done to increase the interest of Nova Scotia producers and exporters in the West Indies market. With this objective the exhibition space contracted for will provide an added assist to those with goods to sell and to those interested in exploring the market."

It is hoped a large representative group of Nova Scotia businessmen will visit the West Indies during fair time and Mr. Manson is prepared to personally visit the area if that would contribute to a greater degree of interest from Nova Scotia exporters or West Indies buyers.

Smith Talks On Highway Improvements

When the present construction season concludes the Department of Highways will have completed more than 500 miles of new paving in Nova Scotia since the present government came into power in November, 1956. Minister of Highways G. I. Smith announced at a meeting recently.

The 500 miles of paving, equal to that of paving a new road from Yarmouth to Cape North, represents a 25 per cent increase, in two years, in the total mileage of hard surfaced roads in the province, the minister said. When the present government came into office two years ago the total mileage of paved roads was just over 2000.

"During the same period in the field of construction of new roads, we have also done more than was ever done in any two preceding years. The same is true in the matter of bridges. "All this, of course, costs a great deal of money. In the two years we will have spent more than 25 million dollars on maintenance and something in the order of 30 millions of Capital funds. Of the Capital funds close to 26 million was raised in the Province. The other 4 million is made up of contributions by the federal government to the Trans Canada Highway program, the Roads to Resources program, and the road to the International Airport at Kelly Lake."

CHURCH NEARLY A CENTURY

Observing the 99th anniversary of the United Church of Canada, Bear River, Sunday morning, Sept. 21, the Rev. D. S. McLeod preached on the theme "The Church Glorious and Challenging." He read from Corinthians, chapter 12, verses 27 to 31, and chapter 13.

The flowers at the altar were in memory of the faithful who were the means of originating this church.

Rev. Mr. McLeod commented on the faithfulness of the choir and during this service they rendered two beautiful anthems, "Follow Me," and "Near My God To Thee." Mrs. Daryl Henshaw was organist.

The evening services were attended by a large congregation and an inspiring sermon was given by Padre Wm. Taylor of HMCS Cornwallis. The Cornwallis naval choir was in attendance and rendered several numbers. Padre Taylor's theme was taken from John 3, verse 16.

This beautiful church, which is going into its century year, is a building Bear River people should be proud to look on. The members who have passed on and who helped to build it were devoted ones. They have left this edifice to treasure by their descendants and all newcomers who come to worship there. If for no other reason we should go to church it should be to thank God for our forefathers and the faithfulness they gave in their day. We should go because of such freedom of our great Dominion, a country in which to worship as we choose. We should go to hear words of God's love and wisdom and receive a blessing only a devoted Christian minister can bestow.

The old Methodist church was dedicated February 1859 by Rev. Frederick Smallwood. On June 10th, 1925, it was affiliated in church union and became as presently known, the United Church of Canada.

The Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. Howard Cross. It was decided to hold a rummage sale jointly with a pantry sale. C.G.I.T. meets at the regular hour on Friday evening.

MY CRUMS AND I

Here in the village of Tiverton
Surrounded by the sea,
Where we spent our childhood,
Happy and full of glee,
Some days we'd play in the woodland,
Big tree branches were our steed,
Some days we'd play on the seashore,
Teasing those big, big seas.

Gathering pertwinkle, stone and firewood too,
Stone, to build our fireplace
No mason's hand could do.
Tin cans filled with salt water
Our cooking we would do,
Never was there a tastier dish
Consumed by my pals, not few.

Now, right on the spot where our old fireplace stood Stands our new Government pier, staunch and true,
Built by T. C. Gorham Co.,
Tom Gilmore and his crew.

To Establish Fish Inspection Service

The Canadian fishing industry described as a "significant milestone" the federal government's newly announced intention of setting up a new quality inspection service to benefit the consumer.

The new inspection service, whereby government quality designations will be used for the first time on frozen and fresh fish, respectively, "is a most significant milestone in the history of this industry", said Mr. H. D. Pyke, of Lunenburg, President of the Fisheries Council of Canada.

Mr. Pyke was addressing the special National Fish Week Luncheon at the Chateau Laurier in Ottawa. Announcement of the new inspection service had just been made by the guest speaker, Hon. J. Angus MacLean, Federal Minister of Fisheries. It will go into effect January 1, 1959.

Mr. MacLean, outlining the new system to some 20 directors of the Fisheries Council and their guests from government and allied industries, said:

"Before department inspection will be given the fishery product, the processing plant, which handles the product, itself must meet specific requirements as they pertain to construction, sanitation, operation and equipment. Once the plant has been approved by the department under established standards, any of its fish products, including round and dressed fish, fillets, steaks, fish sticks and similar portions will be eligible for inspection."

plies with clearly defined specifications in respect of quality, the packer may identify his product with the designation "Canada Inspected" within a line drawing of a maple leaf marked on the wrappers, labels, containers or, where practicable, on the whole fish.

"Inspected fish which is to be marketed in the fresh state as whole fish or fillets may be identified by having the words "Processed under Government Supervision" within a line drawing of a maple leaf marked on the wrappers, labels or containers."

Retail stores selling fish products bearing either of these two designations, Mr. MacLean said, may publicize the fact through display advertising and other promotional aids.

Midgets To Wrestle Here

The sensational television midgets will invade Digby on the night of Saturday, October 4, for a wrestling card that promises to be the best ever staged here.

There will be a tag team bout, best two falls out of three, and two one fall matches.

In the feature event Little Beaver and Tom Thumb will wrestle Fuzzy Cupid and Irish Jackie. It is in tag team bouts that these sensational little men are seen at their best.

In one fall bouts Cupid meets Beaver while Jackie take on Thumb.

The Midgets are in great demand all over the sports world. They have been seen on television many times from Toronto and recently made a successful tour of Europe where they were greeted with enthusiasm.

Their speed of foot and amusing antics have made them the biggest box office attraction in the game. Seldom are they seen in singles or man to man combat, so Digby fans and people in the area are in for a treat.

Mr. Theriault Again Heads Cancer Group

Mr. Emilie O. Theriault was re-elected president of the Clare Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society at the annual meeting held last Friday evening at the Court House at Little Brook. The Welfare Committee, with Mrs. Elie Comeau, of Comeauville, as chairman, reported that 15,666 dressings had been made during the last year by voluntary groups in different sections of Clare. She stated that 8,040 had been sent to the Halifax headquarters and 6,676 dressings had been distributed throughout the District of Clare along with 3 bottles of peroxide and 16 (1 lb.) jars of vaseline.

It was shown that twelve persons in this district had received some aid from the Welfare Committee during the last year. The president thanked the group for the fine work that they had accomplished and wished them continued success.

The spring campaign to raise funds showed the amount of $1,227.87 was raised, which was considered good.

Officers elected were: President, E. O. Theriault, Belliveau Cove; 1st Vice-president, J. Medrie Comeau; 2nd, Vice-president, J. Alphonse Comeau, both of Meteghan River; 3rd Vice-president, left open and to be filled by the district health nurse who will soon be available; 4th Vice-president, Mrs. Etienne LeBlanc, Saulnierville; Directors, Dr. Robert Belliveau, Dr. Julius Comeau, both of Meteghan; Harley Deveau and Alain Doucet, of Maville; Etienne LeBlanc, of Saulnierville; and Leonard Comeau, of Comeauville; Medical Advisory Committee: Dr. Robert Belliveau, Meteghan; Dr. P. E. Belliveau, Meteghan; Dr. Philip LeBlanc, Little Brook; and Dr. H. J. Pothier, of Weymouth.

Wherein We Learn About The Digby Chicken

Many of our Canadian cousins speak approximately the same language we do, as we have been grateful to observe on trips to that pleasant, lake-sprinkled land to the north, where the air is clean and sparkling and the pines are reflected in the cold, dark water.

But occasionally they have come up with some puzzles.

What, for example, is a banker? Is he a steely-eyed individual, in quiet garb, whose chief concern is with the dollar? Not in Newfoundland. There a banker is a man who fishes on the Grand Banks.

What's a separate school? It's what we call a parochial school in the United States.

What's a Digby chicken? A Digby chicken, dear friends, is nothing more nor less than a herring!

So we may be pleased to learn that Canada is preparing a dictionary of the Canadian language. Already, according to the Associated Press a list of 25,000 words and usages which differ from the Queen's English and the American brand of English, has been compiled.

Dr. H. M. Scargill of the English department of the University of Alberta, who is undertaking the job, pointed out some regional differences in meanings and pronunciations. The people who live on the prairies call a slough a slew; in the east a slew is a sloff. In Eastern Canada a bluff refers to a small hill, but in the west it may mean a small clump of trees.

What principally concerns us in regard to the new Canadian dictionary is whether the compilers will come up with a definition of their southern neighbors who, despite occasional thoughtlessness, wish Canada health, wealth and happiness! — Clipping from "The Plain Dealer", Cleveland, Ohio.

Clare School To Be Opened

The official opening of the Clare District High School at Meteghan River will take place on Friday evening at 8 o'clock with the Premier of Nova Scotia, Robert Stanfield, as special guest. A large crowd is expected to be present at the opening and the Municipal School Board has had souvenir booklets printed to hand out to those attending.

The newly built high school was opened for classes from Grade 9 to 12 in September 1957 and was completed to late in the season to have all classrooms utilized. This September the entire school was at the disposal of the Municipal School Board and Grades 7 to 12, to the number of 474, are now attending classes. It is interesting to note that in 1952 there were 376 pupils in Grades 7 to 12. In 1954-55 season the number of pupils in the same grades went up to 411, but dropped again in 1955-56 to 383. Last year the pupils attending Grades 7 to 12 numbered 413 and with the increase to 474 this year, education in the district of Clare is on the increase.

Sometime prior to 1952 the Municipal School Board had asked the Nova Scotia government to construct a high school in Clare as it was felt even at that time that a high school was a necessity in Clare. They were given to understand that the government would not be in a position to construct such a high school in Clare until after 1956. By the time that 1956 rolled around the new Education Act had been passed by the Nova Scotia government which left the construction of high schools up to the municipalities.

The Municipal School Board, which had made an extensive study of the educational problems in the district of Clare, presented their plans to the municipality for the construction of a high school. The first plan called for a 13 academic classroom school which was felt to meet the needs of the municipality three years ago. Since it was obvious that the advanced classes in Clare should continue to higher grades in the future it was decided to construct three extra classrooms. At that time it was felt that within five to ten years the extra classrooms would be needed according to the rate of increase per year in the higher grades.

Two years after the first plans were made for the construction of the Regional High School, it is found that the entire 16 classrooms (academic) are filled practically to capacity. The school board had estimated that 500 pupils would enter the high school this September but this number was increased by 74. It is interesting to note that the Commercial Class has 27 pupils enrolled. This fact alone shows that the high school is supplying the area with classes never before available to the students of Clare in the public schools. It also means that a certain number, which in this particular case would be over seventy-five per cent, are now able to take a Commercial course which otherwise would be beyond their means.

The construction of the Regional High School, besides allowing the students of Clare to have a high class teaching staff and facilities, has also assisted the other larger schools. Consolidation has increased the teaching staffs ability of giving their best due to the fact that they have less grades per classroom than formerly.

The Clare Regional High School has 16 academic classrooms, with other classrooms as follows: Industrial Arts, Home Economics and Laboratory. The school has a spacious Library and Auditorium. It has a sprinkler system installed for the protection of the students and has an excellent playground. Situated a short distance from the main paved highway on the Meteghan Station road, which is also paved, it is away from heavy traffic. The cost of the building, including its furnishings, is in the vicinity of $450,000.00.

Diamond Wedding Marked

Addresses
Kiwanians

Being the editor of a weekly paper is "no bed of roses" said Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Editor of the Digby Courier, in an address to the Digby Kiwanis Club this week as the club marked national weekly newspaper week.

Mrs. Wallis said many a staff member of a big city daily had been sadly disillusioned about the much talked of freedom from care and worry supposedly enjoyed by a weekly editor. People on the street, she said, know little of the detailed workings of publishing a little country weekly and many of the staffs of the big dailies are also unaware that the weekly press poses problems for its publishers not faced by the dailies with their departmentalized operation.

In her address Mrs. Wallis detailed the operation of a weekly paper and explained the care that must be taken to see that nothing goes amiss in the teamwork that is necessary for successful publication.

This teamwork, Mrs. Wallis said, starts outside the paper itself for correspondents and advertisers must cooperate by getting their copy in to the paper on time. Deadlines for advertising are particularly important, she said, for if these are not observed the whole problem of publication becomes well nigh unmanageable.

Mrs. Wallis, who is the first woman to edit the Digby Courier, which has an eighty-five year history, said she has found that newspaper work is something that can be successfully carried on by a woman and her opinion in this has been bolstered by the fact her colleagues last year elected her the first woman to head their association in this province.

Speaking generally of country weeklies, Mrs. Wallis said the weekly provides not only a link between the people it serves but it is also a protection for them in that local issues so often are aired through its columns by means of editorials and through letters to the editor.

She said that, while she felt an editor should speak out fearlessly in matters of public concern, an editor should not try to force his or her will on the people. Rather, facts should be presented and questions asked editorially that would stimulate the public to reach proper decisions on these matters.

The press, she said, has a responsibility not only to print the news but also to avoid that which is "not in the public welfare, offensive to public taste or tends to personalities."

Mrs. A. J. Dillon was elected on Monday night to succeed Mrs. B. Franklin as president of the Digby Ladies Hospital Aid. Other officers elected at the annual were:

Mrs. Dillon expressed thanks for the honor bestowed upon her and solicited the co-operation of the members to aid her in successfully discharging her duties.

The president who had completed three years in that official capacity reported that during 1956 the Digby Kiwanis Club had purchased new cribs and gave a donation of $75.00 for crib bedding. Mrs. Franklin thanked the officers and members for their cooperation.

The treasurer, Mrs. Smith, reported a gross revenue of $3635.40, expenditures $2569.30, balance $1066.10.

Fifty-two members enrolled during 1957-58 with an average attendance of 16 as reported by Mrs. Harris, the secretary. Acknowledgement was made in her report of the Christmas treats provided the hospital patients by Mrs. Fred McBride and Mrs. Boyd Ellis.

The supply committee report presented by Mrs. V. G. Cardoza revealed a great many articles had been purchased and made for the hospital rooms.

A short regular business meeting was held previous to the annual when proceeds from the card party at the Mountain Gap Inn were reported to be $46.50. Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Dillon, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Garnet Neville, Mrs. Lewis and Miss Gertrude Budrow comprised the committee in charge. Mrs. B. Franklin was named to convene a pantry sale in the near future.

Mayor Turnbull
Resigns

Mayor Gordon R. Turnbull of Digby announced his intention of resigning from the office of mayor, effective at the end of the current year, at this week's meeting of the Digby Town Council.

Mayor Turnbull, who is in the first year of his second term as the town's chief magistrate, gave as the reasons for his decision to resign ill health and pressure of his own business.

He informed the council he was giving notice of his resignation at this month's meeting so that arrangements could be made to call for nominations for the office at the regular time for other civic nominations.

Decision was made at the meeting to pave the section of sidewalk from the head of the government pier, past the Admiral Digby well site to Birch Street. It was also decided to pave the areas around the Academy on Queen Street and the Elementary school on Mount Street.

As a safety measure the council decided to have traffic blinker lights installed on Warwick Street, the main highway into town, near the Digby Hospital and at the intersection of Warwick Street and Montague Row. It was also decided to erect school safety signs at the intersections of Warwick Street with King, West and Queen Streets and 2nd Avenue.

The Town Clerk was authorized to attend the school for clerks being held in Halifax November 5, 6 and 7.

CPR Hotels
Still For Sale

That statement was made at Montreal by R. A. Mackie, general manager of the CPR's Hotel System. Spokesmen for the railway declined to elaborate when asked whether the CPR would reach a decision regarding the sale soon enough to permit the railway or the new owners to plan for a full 1959 season.

Have Weekend
Field Trip

Proof that school work can provide fun and adventure was seen in the Digby County village of Sandy Cove this weekend as some thirty-five students of the West Kings Rural High in Auburn, Kings County, made the village their headquarters for a weekend biology field trip.

The students, accompanied by their teacher, Miss Lena Reinhardt, and Miss Freda Wales of the education department in Halifax, arrived in Sandy Cove late Friday afternoon equipped with sleeping bags and other camping equipment.

Through the cooperation of the Digby Municipal School Board the consolidated school at Sandy Cove was made available to the group as a field headquarters and soon the auditorium of the school was converted into sleeping quarters for the group. Cafeteria facilities at the school provided the camp kitchen and soon the group was "settled in" for their weekend field trip.

Saturday the group spent searching for specimens and doing field work. During their visit they spent some time on the Bay of Fundy beach at Sandy Cove where the huge rock is still visible near which "Jerome", the famous Nova Scotia mystery man was found by two Sandy Cove fishermen in the early dawn of a summer morning in 1854 his legs freshly amputated and a jug of water and some sea biscuits at his side. Although more than a hundred years have passed since he was found on that Sandy Cove beach no proven explanation of his presence there has ever been made. The only clue seemed to be the fact a strange vessel had been seen off the coast the night before. Jerome never uttered more than a few guttural monosyllables from the time he was found until his death many years later.

Car Struck
By Train

Clifford O'Neil and his wife had a narrow escape Wednesday morning when their car was struck by the early morning freight at a level crossing in the town.

The accident happened about six o'clock as O'Neil was taking his wife to the hospital where she is employed. He backed his car out of his driveway and when it reached the crossing it stalled on the tracks.

Efforts were made to flag down the train which was approaching the crossing but these were in vain. The train struck the car, twisting a bumper. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. O'Neil were injured.

Electrocuted
At Tiverton

Blair Leeman, 55 years old Tiverton fisherman, was electrocuted last week when the lead-in wire from his television struck a high tension wire near his home.

It is understood Leeman went out to make some change in the lead-in wire shortly after midnight. After cutting it loose he attempted to move it and one end touched the high tension line. The other end was entangled about his feet and he was instantly killed. An electrician had to be summoned from Freeport to cut off the power.

Mr. Leeman, who was unmarried, is survived by three brothers, Earl and Clayton, in Tiverton, and Boy, in Freeport, and a sister, Mrs. Ernest Cann, Yarmouth.

Funeral service was held from the Christian Church in Tiverton on Sunday.

Power Sales Up

According to James Ayer, superintendent of the Digby County Power Board, hydro electric usage in Digby up to the third quarter of this year showed a marked increase over the same period last year.

Overall increase amounted to 7.26% with the district of Clare showing the largest percentage increase, 13.0. The municipality of Digby followed with 9.65 and Weymouth came next with 6.5. In the town of Digby increase amounted to 3.8%.

The increase shown in power usage in this area is in line with what is happening in other areas. It is understood the general trend is for a doubling of usage every ten years.

Ordained At Clementsport

Rev. Alan Sagar, incumbent of the parish of St. Clement, was ordained a priest of the Anglican Church of Canada by Rt. Rev. W. W. Davis, Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese of Nova Scotia, at an impressive service in the parish church at Clementsport on Saturday morning.

Mr. Sagar, who was appointed to the parish last year following his being made a Deacon, is a former diver with the Royal Canadian Navy. He left the navy to enter the ministry.

Prior to the ordination service Saturday morning the service of matins was conducted by Rev. D. H. Sherrin, rural dean elect. The litany was read by Rev. James Pike, rector of Digby.

Rev. W. E. Jefferson, rector of Granville Ferry, preached the ordination sermon, admonishing the candidate for the priesthood on his duties of office, the responsibilities of his high calling and the task that is his as an Anglican priest. He also addressed the congregation, reminding them of their duty to their priest.

Mr. Sagar was presented to the Bishop for ordination by Ven. G. W. Bullock, Archdeacon of Annapolis. After being catechized by the Bishop, Mr. Sagar was ordained in the ancient manner by the laying on of hands by the Bishop and by his fellow clergy.

During the service of Holy Communion, which accompanied the ordination service, the epistle was read by Rev. C. Erwin of Weymouth, and the Gospel by Rev. Canon Underwood, of Bridgetown.

Following the ordination service visiting clergy and other dignitaries were entertained at a luncheon at the Sea Shell in Upper Clements.

Attends Session
In Halifax

Victor Cardoza, Digby County director of the March of Dimes, attended an executive meeting of the provincial foundation in Halifax Monday.

The meeting decided to continue the policy adopted by the foundation to continue free polio clinics across the province despite the fact cost of these have far exceeded budget expectations.

It was reported that at the date of the meeting 290 clinics have been held with 134 more planned for this year. 76,884 shots of polio vaccine have been administered and average attendance at clinics has been 278.

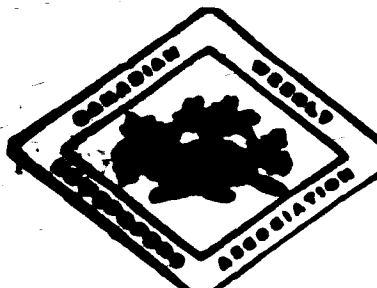

Justice L. Currie, president of the foundation, reminded the meeting the policy of providing the free polio clinics had been first brought to the attention of the national foundation from the Nova Scotia group. To date, he said, only two provinces, Nova Scotia and Quebec, are carrying out the program.

It was pointed out at the meeting that, although expenses of the clinic operation were high, this expenditure could well mean a great saving on the rehabilitation of future polio victims.

The financial statement presented at the meeting showed a total of $28,899.73 already expended on the clinic program. It is anticipated another $8,500 will be required to complete this year's clinic operation. Deficit of the foundation at the end of the fiscal year in March is anticipated to be $9,434.24.

The meeting dealt with a number of rehabilitation cases and in several it was decided to continue assistance in tuition fees, board and transportation for several deserving polio victims who are furthering their education at college and technical schools.

About This and That

Thanksgiving

The coming weekend brings the annual day especially set apart as Thanksgiving Day. Too many of us ignore the real significance of the day and accept it as a matter of course. We consider it just another holiday which happens along with the brilliant foliage of the autumn season. Too many fail to observe Thanksgiving in the manner of the Pilgrims who were the first to set apart the day in North America. They, after their first harvest in 1621, felt a deep sense of gratitude to God for the promise of food in a new country, for the vision which led them across the ocean to what seemed to them a land of security.

Today the riches of the land are taken for granted. We fail to count the blessings which have been bestowed upon us. When we begin to count them we find there is no end to them. We take for granted the blessing of health, the harvest each year, the products of the sea, the beauty of the land, the music which is ours to enjoy, the contentment of home with all its comforts, the love of friends and relatives. All these and more are cause for thankful hearts. To the list we should add our system of law and order, our religious and civil liberty which God still permits us to enjoy.

Do we ever stop to think of the millions of people in the world who have been denied the blessings which we habitually ignore as such? Should we lose any of these blessings, their true value would soon dawn on us. These blessings should not be lightly and selfishly used. They are a trust for which we should be truly and deeply thankful. From true thankfulness will stem rightful administration of our trust.

On this Thanksgiving we carefully assess our blessings and resolve to honor the Creator of all our blessings before some of the reasons for Thanksgiving be denied us also.

Not Worth A Life

On Saturday we looked from our office window and within a space of possibly one hour we saw two loads of pitprops tumble to the pavement as the trucks rounded the corner of Birch and Prince William streets. Fortunately, no one was waiting at the bus stop, no child was playing nearby and no cars were lined along the parking area. It is a rare occasion when all or any one of these are not the case.

We appreciate the employment provided for those engaged in this business, we are aware of the need for the truckmen to make time profitable but we remind those concerned that no amount of business is worth a human life. People have been injured in this area through such a cause, vehicles have been damaged. We hope there is no more of such and still more we hope no human life is taken. A small child would scarcely stand a blow from a half truck load of pitprops. Let's be careful.

20— HOW MANY MORE ?

Every year the terrible cost of fire increases . . . more lives are lost . . . more property is destroyed. Yet most of these disasters could have been prevented by using our chief weapon against fire . . . COMMON SENSE. It is only COMMON SENSE to make our homes . . . our places of work . . . our communities . . . as safe from fire as is humanly possible.

Take five minutes RIGHT NOW to check your home . . . don't let fire convict you of the crime of carelessness.

- Remove papers, rubbish, oily rags from attics, basements, closets and NEVER let it accumulate again.
- Have your chimney, stovepipes and heating system cleaned every year.
- Never use frayed, knotted, or worn electric cords.
- Never hang clothes over a stove.
- Protect floors, walls, ceilings from overheating of stoves, furnaces and pipes.
- Keep grounds free of dead grass, weeds, trash and brush.
- Keep home tools, machinery, motors, appliances serviced and clean.
- Keep matches in a metal container out of the reach of children.
- Put ashes in metal containers ONLY.
- Have your roof covered with fire-retardant material.
- Use 15 amp. fuses where indicated.
- NEVER use kerosene to start fires—

BEAR RIVER SCOUT DIARY

Here it is October and although Scout meetings were cancelled for the summer months, the Scouts have been busy.

We hope you are saving your newspapers for us to collect. Your help and cooperation in the spring helped us to obtain our quota of newsprint and enabled us to sell it and make a good profit.

Now let's see just what the Bear River Troop has been doing since our last writing! In July, summer camp was held for five days at the Scout Camp, Eighth Lake. Some boys proved to be good material for camping in the woods, but it was a good experience for all, and is part of the training of a Scout.

Bear River Cherry Carnival Day kept the Scouts and Scouters busy selling hot dogs at a stand they set up at the end of Mr. L. V. Harris' drug store. Mr. Harris is on the Scout Council and we appreciated his help and his giving us a place for our stand.

September brought the re-opening of Scouts for the fall. Plans were made for a picnic supper. Twenty Scouts attended and were chaperoned by Assistant Scout Master David Parker, and Mrs. Parker. This year the Scouters had a booth at the Digby County Exhibition to raise money for their treasury. The Scouts and Scouters took turns tending the booth and although the weather was not very cooperative, the last day helped to boost our sales, so we were glad the Exhibition ran for three days.

Again, on October 1st, the weather was against us and we were unable to participate in the celebration marking the bicentennial of representative government in Canada. The Scouts were to be addressed by Mr. Roy Snell and light a bonfire at the Bear River ball field. A Scouters' Conference is to be held on October 11th, 12th and 13th at the Lord Nelson Hotel in Halifax. More concerning the conference at a later writing. Guess that brings us up to July 12th.

"Where are we going, Dad?"

Along with the desire to go places and see things, Canadians have an urge to get ahead in life... to have guaranteed financial security. That's why they own more life insurance, in relation to national income, than any other people.

Over 7 1/2 million Canadians own life insurance because they feel it offers them a variety of guaranteed benefits not obtainable in any other way.

Every year an increasing number of Canadians buy life insurance as their major source of family and personal security.

This strong belief in the ownership of life insurance means that Canadians may well continue to be the world's best insured people, in relation to national income.

Ownership of life insurance reflects the confidence that Canadians have in the well trained, helpful agents who offer them this valuable property.

CARS ARE MY LIFE

by Ken Hankinson

The early cars were, of course, called horseless carriages. The influence of the horse died hard.

The advertising appeals of the early car manufacturers were often based on the claim that "if you can afford to stable a horse, you can afford one of our cars."

Perhaps the most abject concession to the influence of the horse was made by the designers of the Horseless Carriage, a car that was turned out in Battle Creek, Mich. It looked much like a horse-drawn carriage, and a reproduction in wood of a large horse's head stuck out in life-like three dimensions from the front of the auto.

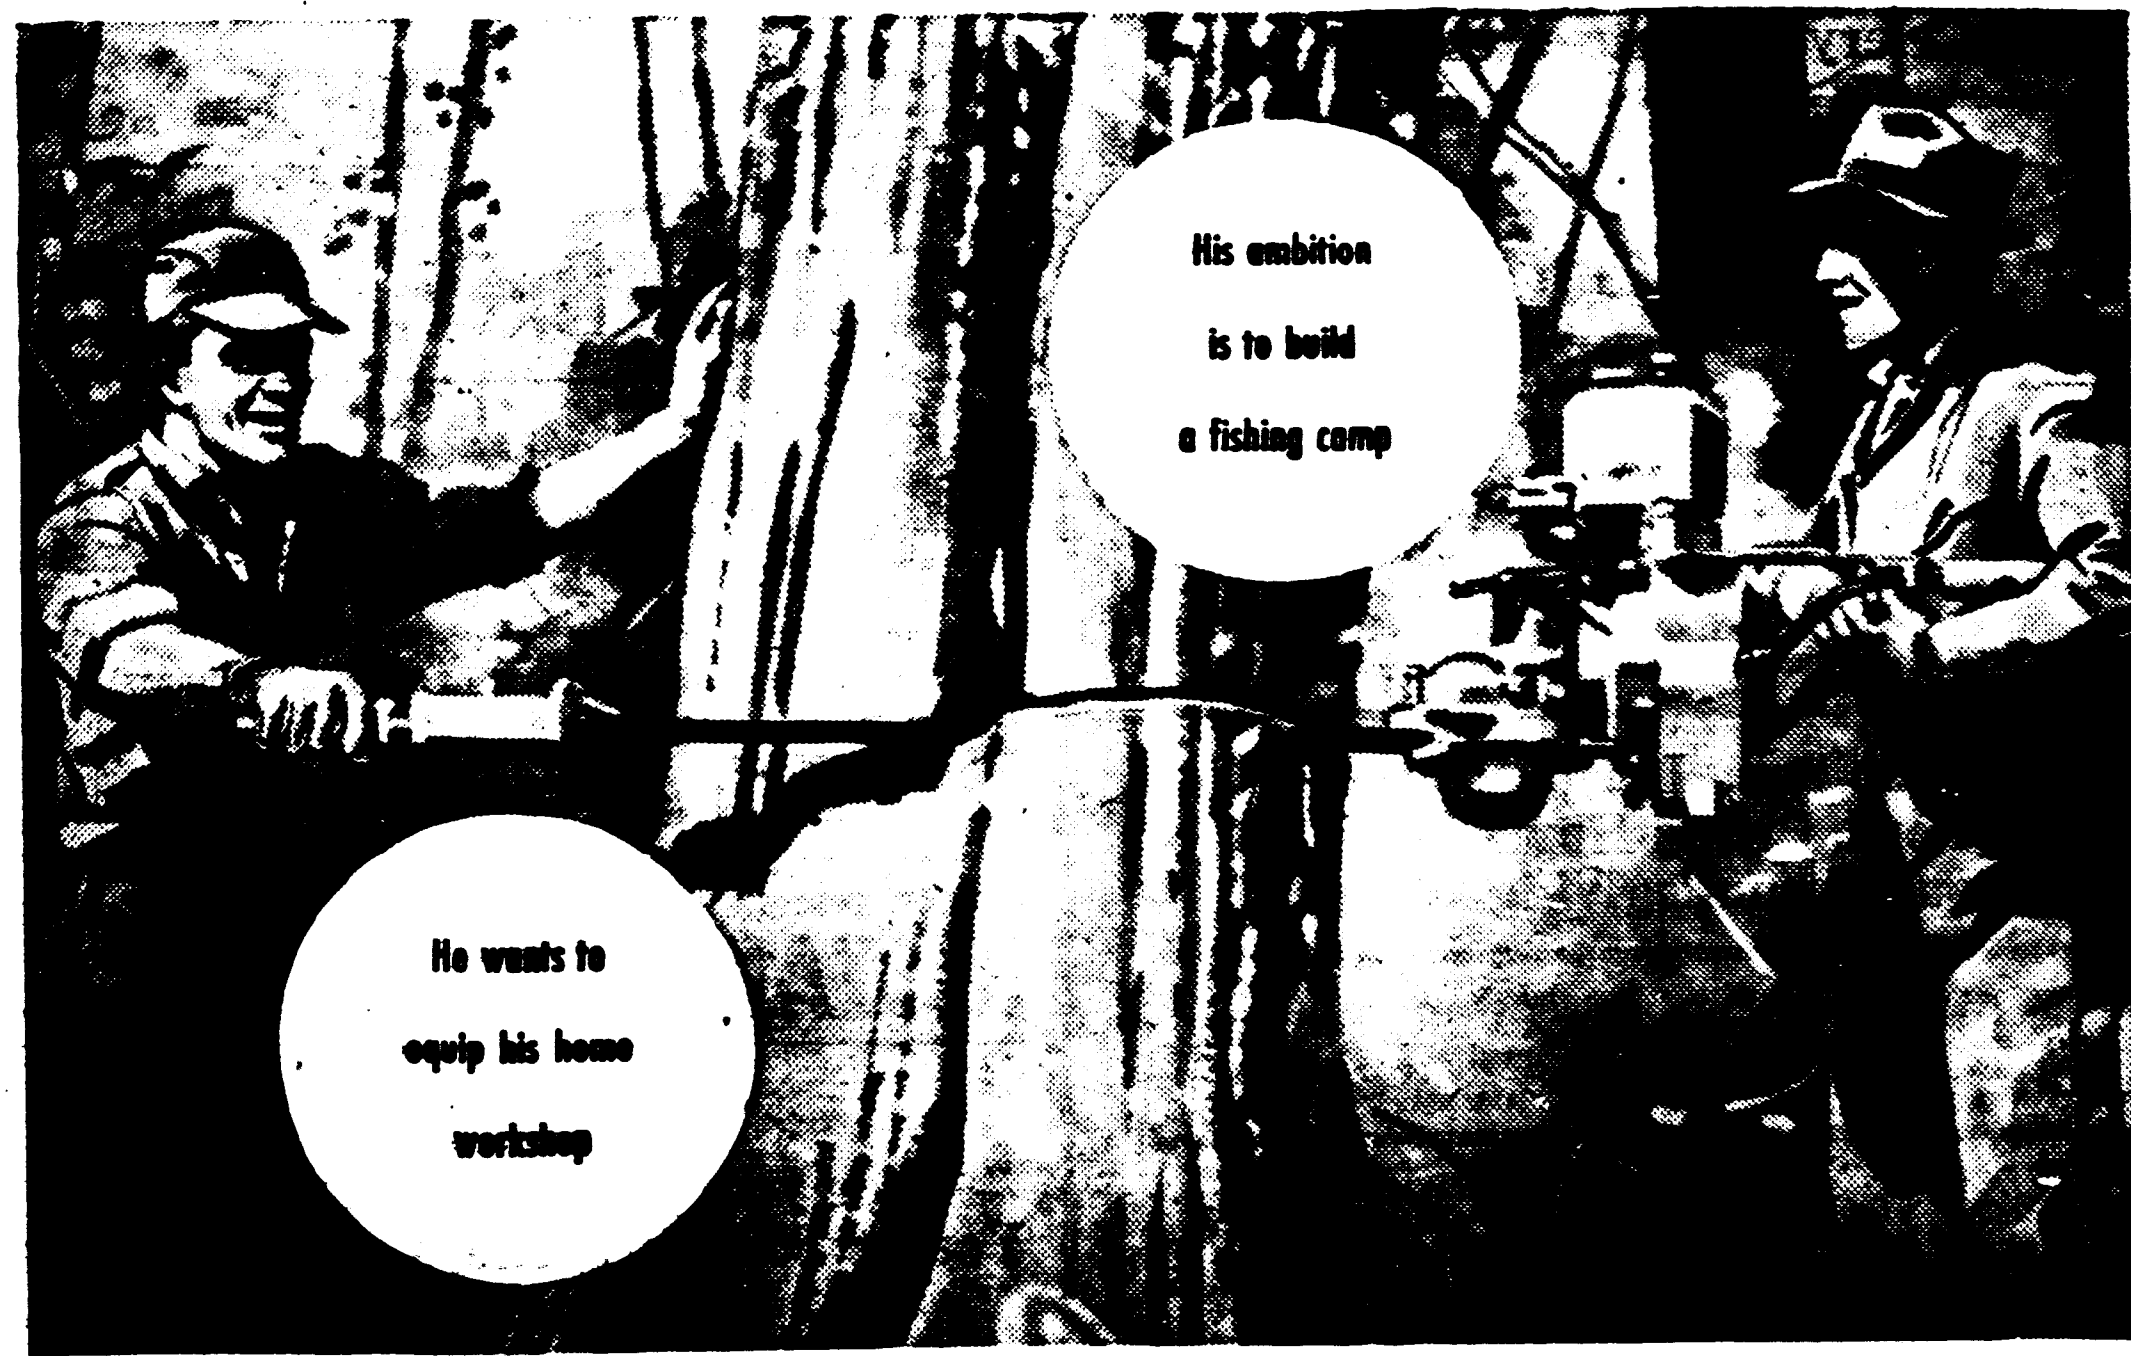

The claim of the manufacturer was that this was one car that wouldn't frighten the horses it met on the road.

The influence of the horse still isn't dead. The names used for old styles of horse-drawn carriages still turn up as style-names in today's cars.

Some designers of custom-made cars for the rich still use reproductions of carriage lamps slung on the side. Those pre-war cars that had the seat for the chauffeur out in the cold with an enclosed part for the passengers were directly inspired by a carriage style.

Style does change in cars, but it's a gradual change. That means a car two or three or four years old can still be right in step if it's been well looked after.

And as a lot of people around here know, "well looked after" is the byword for used cars on our lot. We insist on used cars that have been cared for by their owners, and they get "well looked after" when they're in our shops being completely checked and examined.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bennett, New York; Mrs. Edgerton, Ottawa; and Miss Mary Joyce, Halifax.

Taylor — Robbins

A beautiful fall wedding was solemnized in Smith's Cove Baptist Church on Saturday evening, October 4th, by Rev. Sidney Whitehouse, who performed the double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Nancy Lea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Robbins, and Russell Everett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Taylor, of Clementsvale.

To the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. J. J. Wallis, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage. She was a picture of girlish loveliness in her gown of nylon net over taffeta. It was fashioned with Peter Pan collar, lace bodice with short sleeves. The skirt was net with inserts of lace and was waltz length. She wore a veil of nylon net with lace and short gloves, and carried red roses.

Sheila Robbins, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a strapless waltz length gown of blue net over taffeta with lace bolero and lace inserts on the skirt. She carried a nosegay of yellow and white 'mums.

Elmer Oickle was best man, and the ushers were Chesley Robbins, brother of the bride, and Laurie Sanford.

The guest pews were marked with white 'mums and ribbon. The church was beautifully decorated by the ladies of the church with a profusion of fall flowers.

During the signing of the register Mr. Robert Taylor rendered "I Walk Beside You".

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held for about 200 guests at the bride's home. Receiving with the couple were their parents. The mother of the bride was attired in blue lace over taffeta with black accessories and a corsage of white and red 'mums. The groom's mother wore blue taffeta with black accessories and corsage of yellow 'mums. The two grandmothers of the groom were present and their corsages were also yellow 'mums.

the guest book. Friends of the bride served the guests.

For going away the bride chose a suit of beige with black accessories and a corsage of yellow and bronze 'mums.

The happy couple will reside in Deep Brook, near H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, where the groom is employed.

Still In Business At Age 91

Miss Ruby Chisholm (shown above), widely known in the Digby area, is still actively engaged in operating her own millinery business in Annapolis despite her 91 years.

She began her business career as a clerk in the millinery shop of Miss Mary Shaw in Windsor at the age of seventeen and has been active in the millinery trade ever since.

After a period of employment with Miss Shaw in Windsor, Miss Chisholm decided she liked millinery well enough to make it her life's work. Feeling she needed further sales experience she came to Digby where she was employed as a millinery clerk by Mrs. Saunders who operated a shop here.

Some time after coming to Digby Miss Chisholm felt she needed to know more about millinery than she could learn as a clerk and she went to Boston where she took study courses in the subject.

Returning to Nova Scotia, she worked again for a while with Miss Shaw in Windsor but soon came back with Mrs. Saunders in Digby. After some years she began the operation of her own shop here and had associated with her as a clerk Miss Gertrude Oliver who continued the operation of a hat shop here until her death several years ago.

On going to Annapolis Miss Chisholm opened a shop in the Morrow building. She was forced to move several times because of fires which destroyed the premises in which her shop was located but she was not discouraged and today continues her shop in a building made available to her by the late George Hawkesworth, at the time Mayor of Annapolis.

Miss Chisholm is justly proud of the fact she has owned and operated her own business for sixty years and enjoys reminiscing about her career. She still is keenly interested in styles and her customers know that they will find the latest and best in her shop. She has a most pleasing manner and one of her proudest claims is that she has always been completely honest with her customers, preferring to lose a sale rather than tell a customer that a hat is becoming when she knows it really is not.

Her customers are well aware of this and, as a result, she has a widespread clientele from as far away as New Glasgow. Her hats are also favorites of the ladies at the Cornwallis navy base and the air base at Greenwood. She enjoys people and everyone is welcome in her shop even if they only drop in for a chat.

Three years ago Miss Chisholm had the misfortune to break a hip but this did not daunt her and, after a few months of "sick leave" she was back at her shop.

Born in Windsor the year of Confederation, Miss Chisholm comes of good Scottish stock. Her sister, Gertrude, now makes her home with her and a brother, Avon, lives in New Hampshire. Another brother, George, died recently after many years in the printing industry. A nephew is Halifax barrister Sheldon Chisholm.

Held Thanksgiving Service
The Sandy Cove W.M.S. met at the home of Mrs. F. E. Rice on Wednesday evening, October 8th, with seven members present.

Mrs. Kenneth Merritt had the devotional. The theme was taken from "The Battle for Christ". Roll call was responded to by something on Thanksgiving.

The president, Mrs. Fenwick Jeffrey, had the program which was also on "The Battle for Christ". Mrs. Eldon Mitchell closed the meeting with prayer.

Field Secretary Addresses Rallies

By Mrs. Halsey, Berwick
The Fall Rally of the Annapolis Presbyterial of the Woman's Missionary Society of the United Church of Canada was held in Berwick United Church Saturday afternoon, October 4, beginning at 2:30, with the president, Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby, presiding. This Presbyterial includes the Missionary Societies from Annapolis, Aylesford, Bear River, Berwick, Bridgetown, Digby, Granville Ferry, Kingston, Lawrencetown, Melvern Square, Middleton, Tuperville, Waterville, Woodville, and Wilmot, and the roll call showed 79 members present at the Rally.

The worship service was conducted by the Annapolis Royal W.M.S., led by Mrs. Rafuse and based on the Shepherd Psalm.

Mrs. Harold Murray, Berwick, welcomed the visiting societies and she spoke of the importance of membership, not only for what the members could contribute to the Society, but because they were missing something really worthwhile and vital if they did not belong. Mrs. Andrews, Middleton, responded expressing, for all the Societies, their pleasure in being present and their appreciation of the cordial welcome given them.

Rev. D. S. MacLeod, Bear River, Secretary of the Annapolis Presbyterial, brought greetings from the Presbyterial. He gave as his opinion that the W.M.S. members were the cream of the church, its finest women, and spoke of the need of gathering in more members. He said the work they are doing is a challenge to the men, but urged the need for more women missionary workers as it is a distinct obligation and bounden duty of Christians to send forth the gospel of Christ.

Since the press secretary, Mrs. Charles Black, is ill, Mrs. Fred Bath, Middleton, was appointed in her place.

Mrs. Wallis announced that the annual meeting next spring is to be held at Grace United Church, Digby, and that Mrs. James Brooks, Digby, has invited the Executive to meet at her home in January. Mrs. Brooks, the literature secretary, commented on a number of new books and at the close of the session had books and leaflets for sale.

Miss Fay Murray, Berwick, added to the enjoyment of the meeting by singing very sweetly, "Peace Be Still".

Mrs. Elton Arnold presented the treasurer's report, and Mrs. Brooks introduced the new books.

Mrs. Maurice Spicer, Berwick, introduced the guest speaker, Miss Marion Thomson, the new Field Secretary of the W.M.S., who is a graduate of the United Church Training School and is receiving her Bachelor of Arts degree from McMaster University this fall.

Miss Thomson brought greetings from the Dominion Executive Board. Her address was chiefly on the importance of missionary education among the younger groups and she introduced the study books for the Mission Band and Explorers. She illustrated the Mission Band study book, "Here Comes Dirk", with clever puppets which would make the book come alive to the children. The Explorers book, "Ten Pairs of Shoes", she illustrated with maps and charts.

Under the headings, "What, Who and How?" Miss Thomson said missionary education should be carried on by (1) interpretation and (2) communication. She spoke of the great need of workers in Canada, where 60 missionaries and 42 associate workers are needed, and 108 overseas.

Mrs. Lewis Halsey, Berwick, reported on the School for Leaders held at Berwick Camp Meeting and urged that the matter of sending a young leader to this school be given early attention.

Following the meeting, the Ladies' Auxiliary of Berwick United Church served supper, at the close of which Mrs. Wallis gave an excellent and comprehensive report of the Maritime Conference Branch held in June. She spoke particularly of Dr. R. C. Chalmers Bible Study and she quoted him as saying, "God is glorified in you and me. Christ has confidence in His Church and the Church should have confidence in Him." We thought Missionary Societies could do well with a Bible study period.

Mrs. Wallis also spoke of the fine addresses of Rev. Hilda

Red Cross Provides Relief

Plans for next month's annual meeting were discussed at the October business session of the Digby Red Cross Branch which was held last week with the vice-president, Mrs. A. J. Dillon, in the chair. A nominating committee was appointed consisting of Mrs. Ralph Berwick, Mrs. J. J. Brittain, Mrs. Daniel Comeau, Mrs. Allen Harris and Mrs. Fred Daley. Arrangements were also made to hold an afternoon tea in connection with the annual meeting, together with a display of Red Cross work and an apron table, the Court House being chosen as the most convenient location for the meeting on November 5th.

In addition to the routine business of the Branch which was carried on, the Disaster Relief Committee reported a very busy month with many calls to outfit needy children for school. Clothing was provided for seven families and several individual cases, including one call for a layette for the V.Q.N. Three elderly brothers who lost their home by fire were supplied with bedding, including 4 quilts, 3 prs. flannellette blankets, 3 pillows and pillow cases. Mrs. Winfield, chairman of this committee, appealed for donations of dolls and toys to be repaired and dressed for Christmas boxes, and also expressed thanks for the many donations of clothing received.

Mrs. H. M. Warne, convener of Women's Work, commenced the Quilt Committee on their work accomplished, and stated that new material was being ordered.

The meeting adjourned for the customary ten cent tea.

Collects Pay After 46 Years

A pay cheque, representing earnings as an employee with the CNR at Emerson, Manitoba, in 1912, forty-six years ago, was received by Mr. John McGuire, of Smith's Cove, last week.

The cheque, which was for four dollars, was an amount due Mr. McGuire when he left the employ of the railway to come home to Nova Scotia for Christmas 46 years ago.

He never returned to Manitoba but some time later was told by a former fellow employee that a pay cheque was being held for him at Emerson by the railway.

A week or so ago Mr. McGuire recalled that he had never picked up his cheque so he decided to write the railway about it. Within a few days he received the cheque together with a pay slip showing the pay period covered.

Mr. McGuire says he intends to frame the cheque so promptly delivered despite the fact he waited 46 years to claim it.

Johnson and Rev. Catherine McKee, both of whom emphasized education in the Christian Mission. The love of God, Miss McKee said, cannot be kept a private matter. Christians have obligations, (1) worship of God, (2) responsibility for proclamation, (3) fellowship, (4) service to mankind.

From a panel on India it was revealed that the church in India is seeking for more help. Missionaries work under India jurisdiction but are welcome. Rev. Hilda Johnson, Missionary to India, spoke of the famine conditions in India and reported only 2% of the population are Christians, and less than 1% Protestant.

Mrs. William Morine, Bear River, expressed thanks to the Berwick W.M.S. the pastor and his wife, and to the ladies who had catered to the supper.

In connection with the Presbyterial meeting, a Rally of Mission Bands and Explorers was held in Middleton United Church Saturday afternoon, which was attended by 15 leaders and 80 Explorers and 36 Mission Band. While Miss Marion Thomson, the new W.M.S. Field Secretary, conducted a workshop with the leaders, Mrs. Maurice Spicer, Berwick, Explorers Superintendent, showed a film, "Rudy Comes to Canada", after which there was a discussion and singing and Miss Thomson showed her puppets and another film. The worship service was conducted by Berwick Explorers and led by Sharon Murphy, Yvonne Huntley leading the responsive reading and Marie Woodworth reading the story, "Legend from India".

Plants Re-grow To Four Feet

W. C. Jefferson, of Deep Brook, who in the summer achieved somewhat of a record with his delphinium which grew to a height of eight feet, one-half inch, writes the Courier this week that the delphinium, which he cut back after it had completed blooming, has now re-grown to a height of four feet, three inches.

Mr. Jefferson writes to ask if others who have delphinium may have had the same experience with these lovely flowers.

"Four Spot" Fish Caught

("St. Croix Courier")
Another strange flounder has been sent to the St. Andrew's Biological Station by Reginald Robicheau, wholesale fish dealer of St. Andrew's.

It is a close relative of the summer flounder that he discovered a few years ago which was reported in the St. Croix Courier of December 19, 1955, and it is recalled it was the first Canadian record of the species.

The present fish is the four spotted paralichthys oblongus. It is 14 1/2 inches long and weighs a trifle less than one pound. It was caught by the boat "Campobello" by Capt. Jack Fitzgerald while fishing in Passamaquoddy Bay June 7. Like the summer flounder this fish differs from most other flounders and the halibut in having the eyes on the left side. The mouth is large and the tail rounded. The most prominent identifying marks are four spots on the upper surface behind the middle of the body. These rather large spots have a dark center surrounded by a light ring. The summer flounder on the other hand has nine or ten much smaller spots, irregularly distributed on its upper surface. The "four spot" as it is called farther south, is found in fair number from the eastern part of George's Bank to South Carolina. It has not been reported near shore previously north of Cape Cod. As far as is known, this is the first record of it in Canada. The four spot is seldom more than 15 inches long and is rather small for filleting, although the flavor is reported to be good. It is not used commercially.

Research Conference Underway

A series of meetings of noted social research scientists is being held in Digby this week. One of the purposes of the meetings is to discuss preparations being made by the Cornell University research group for work overseas. It is understood the university program in social psychiatry plans studies in an overseas area which is totally unlike any areas in North America so that information can be gained in a culture where habits and values are far different than they are here.

The week long meetings underway here are part of a series to lay plans for the overseas program. The current sessions are being held in Digby so that social scientists attending who are not directly connected with the project here may have an opportunity of visiting this area and also so that clinic personnel may participate in the discussions.

The program of social science research work pioneered by Cornell University here beginning some ten years ago has been greatly expanded over the years until now two other programs of research are being carried out on similar lines by the university in areas of the north American continent. The program has also provided valuable patterns for other research projects which have made use of some of the operative detail gathered by the local project in setting up study programs in other fields.

It is expected one of the results of the present conference here will be a further expansion of the Cornell research work, both overseas and in North America.

Attending the conference, which is being chaired by Dr. A. H. Leighton, director of the Cornell program in social psychiatry, are Dr. Dorothea Leighton, associated with the project here since it began; Dr. Charles Hughes, assistant director; Dr. Charles Savage, a psychiatrist who has been associated with the national institute of health, Bethesda, Maryland, and the institute for advanced study of behavioral sciences, Palo Alto, Calif; Dr. John Fortin, engaged in research work with the national museum of Canada at Montreal; Dr. Llewellyn-Thomson, formerly in practice at Freeport but now in Toronto engaged in defence research work for the Canadian defence department; Dr. Adelard Tremblay, of the social science department of Laval University, Quebec, and for several years associated with the Cornell project in this area, and Dr. A. F. Ward of the state psychiatric hospital, Williamsburg, Va.

Also attending the conference sessions are Dr. G. A. W. Angus, director of the western Nova Scotia clinic, and Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Vallee, social workers at the clinic.

Speakers at the meeting will be Mr. V. M. Knight, provincial commissioner of hospital taxes, Mr. Knight is expected to outline the method of collection and reporting of the new tax, which goes into effect on January 1st.

A heavy attendance is anticipated at the meeting as merchants and business operators in the area are anxious to learn the details of handling of collection of the tax which is to be applied to retail sales of a specified list of commodities.

To Get Preview Of Tax Setup

Digby and Digby area merchants and business men will get a preview of the workings of the new provincial Hospital Tax at a meeting sponsored by the Digby Board of Trade and scheduled to be held at the Court House here next Wednesday evening.

Speaker at the meeting will be Mr. V. M. Knight, provincial commissioner of hospital taxes, Mr. Knight is expected to outline the method of collection and reporting of the new tax, which goes into effect on January 1st.

A heavy attendance is anticipated at the meeting as merchants and business operators in the area are anxious to learn the details of handling of collection of the tax which is to be applied to retail sales of a specified list of commodities.

Digby Baptist Auxiliary will meet Tuesday evening at Mrs. Bruce Robertson's cottage, Porter's Lake.

After the meeting delicious refreshments were served.

Speaks On Civil Defence

Welfare would probably be the main job of civil defence workers in the Digby area, stated H. H. Barnstead, administrative officer, Nova Scotia Civil Defence, in an address at the Zone Rally of the Canadian Legion, held here Thursday evening.

Speaking before more than sixty representatives of six Legion Branches in the area between Meteghan and Bear River, Mr. Barnstead said legion members are well qualified for civil defence work as they have had experience in operating under orders, have had emergency experience and have been trained to meet many of the demands which might exist in civil defence work.

The aim of civil defence, Mr. Barnstead said, is to minimize the effects of disaster upon the civilian population. Basically it is an effort to organize the human instincts of self preservation. It is a national service and stands for national survival.

He said that, while he was definitely not suggesting that war is inevitable, he did stress the fact we are living in uncertain times and conditions might arise overnight in which civil defence effort was needed and time then would not be available to train and make ready a civil defence force.

Speaking of Digby and the area represented by the legion zone, Mr. Barnstead said this district would in all probability be a reception area and thus the greatest need might be for welfare services. Feeding, housing and sheltering evacuees from target areas would be a big job and would require not only welfare work but also warden service, auxiliary police to handle the flow of traffic.

Mr. Barnstead commended R. O. Wright, Digby Legion branch president and local civil defence coordinator on the job he is doing in organizing civil defence in the town of Digby. He also reminded those present from outside the Digby area that Mr. R. W. Jefferson and Vincent Genette were the civil defence coordinators for Digby and Clare municipalities.

At the conclusion of his address Mr. Barnstead presented Mr. Wright with a civil defence lapel button. This, he said, was being presented to civil defence workers who have distinguished themselves by the attention they have paid to details of organization and for other contributions to the work of civil defence.

It is expected one of the results of the present conference here will be a further expansion of the Cornell research work, both overseas and in North America.

To Speak At Witness Service

Rev. Reginald Trueman, Dean of St. John's College in Hong Kong, will be the preacher at the Service of Witness of the Annapolis Deanery to be held at 7:30 p.m. at HMCS Cornwallis on Sunday evening.

Dr. Trueman is a graduate of Kings College, Cambridge, and Ely Theological College, England. He was ordained to the ministry in Manchester, England, in 1951, and later secured his master's degree in theology in New York.

After his return to England he volunteered for work in the diocese of Hong Kong, where he spent ten years as rector of Christ Church. He was later appointed to his present post as dean of St. John's College.

Five Generations Meet In U.S.A.

Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Specht, of Waterford, have returned home after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harold Height at West Bridgewater, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Specht, at Waltham, Mass.

While in West Bridgewater there were five generations assembled together - Mr. Specht, his daughter Mrs. Height, granddaughter Mrs. Grace Nordgren, great grandson Ralph Nordgren Jr., and great great grandson Gary Nordgren.

Speaks On Fire Prevention

The job of fire prevention is one which should occupy the attention of every citizen, stated Victor Cardozo, honorary member of the Digby Fire Department, at last week's meeting of the Digby Kiwanis Club.

Speaking on the occasion of Fire Prevention Week, Mr. Cardozo said that last year 640 lives were lost in Canada through fire and dollar loss amounted to nearly one hundred and forty million. In Nova Scotia 29 lost their lives by fire and dollar loss was close to three and one half million.

Canada's record so far as fire loss is concerned, he said, is one of the worst in the world with the per capita figure $8.18. In 1952 the figure was $5.86 but it has steadily worsened.

Nine out of ten fires, the speaker said, are the result of human carelessness and he said everyone is guilty some time or another of the carelessness that could result in a disastrous fire. He urged the Kiwanis Club to aid in the job of fire prevention by learning and practising all the rules of fire prevention and assisting organizations such as the Digby Fire Department in efforts to educate the general public in this respect.

He detailed work being done by the department in fire prevention and said that today this is perhaps one of the most important functions of a fire department. It is far better, he said, to prevent fire than to have to fight a blaze which need never have started.

Severely Burned At Westport

Mrs. Guy Curry, of Mass., was seriously burned at her summer home in Westport on Wednesday morning.

Mrs. and Mr. Curry were planning to return to the U.S.A. this week and Mrs. Curry was busy ironing at the time. The heated iron touched her nylon dressing gown and immediately her clothing was a mass of flames. Being alone at the time she rushed to the door to call her husband who was at the E. C. Bowers Ltd. store, nearby. A number of neighbours heard the call. Her body was severely burned.

The doctor was immediately called. Upon his arrival an ambulance was called and Mrs. Curry rushed to Digby General Hospital.

Canadian Radio Pioneer

Doc Goldberg is well known in this area, having been a commercial traveller for forty-one years, covering this district as part of his territory. As a hobby he appears on radio and television whenever the opportunity affords. His wonderful imitations of Al Jolson are known to radio audiences over a wide area of Canada.

Billing himself as the "Singing Bachelor", Doc says he is still a singer and still a bachelor at 68. He has won fame not only for his imitations of Jolson but also as a real humorist. His humor and wit have won him many friends wherever he has travelled. Much of his wit and humor is based on homely philosophies and his says are widely quoted.

A real believer in the hearty laugh, Doc feels that today people take themselves and the world far too seriously. He says too many fail to look for the humorous about them and miss many opportunities to enjoy a good laugh. Friends can be won and kept, he says, if we share our laughter with them.

People, he says, concentrate far too often on the people they consider their enemies and do not think enough about the many friends that they have.

Scheduled to appear on the TV program "Tabloid" on October 13th, Doc says he is looking forward to matching wits with the MC of the show. He says he wishes it could be Max Ferguson as he feels Rawhide has a real flair at poking good natured fun at things people are inclined to regard as sacrosanct.

Doc Goldberg's appearances on radio and television over the years have made him the subject of a great many newspaper and magazine articles as have also his humorously couched observations on life. Recently the French language "Radio and Television World" carried a lengthy article concerning him as did the Marconi magazine.

HERE IS A PICTURE to remember, for it captures a moment beloved unique in the history of Canadian communications. The shy smiling woman at the right, Miss Adelaide M. Thomas of Saint John, N. B., is 100 years of age. For 48 of these years she was a Morse operator until her retirement 27 years ago from Canadian National Telegraphs. The CNT fraternity in Saint John snatched in observing her 100th birthday with a party for her. Here the Maritime superintendent for CNT, H. A. Marquis of Moncton presents a century-marking gift to Miss Thomas. The birthday cake, fluffed with a CNT telegram, is iced with a Morse operator's traditional symbol of good luck and best wishes—"73's Addie." (CNR Photo)

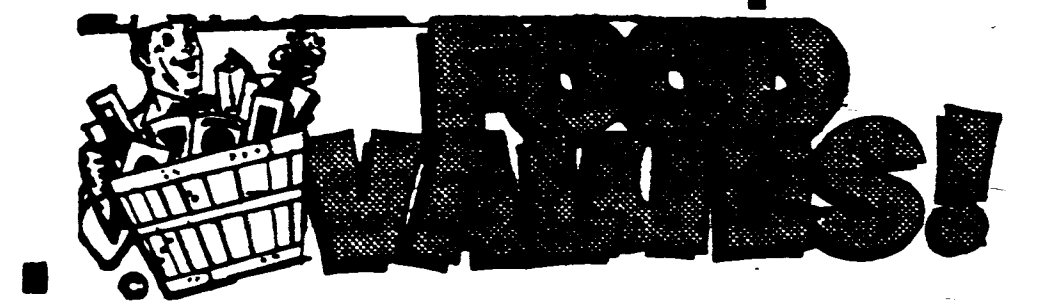

Mrs. Langman, her topic being "The Importance of the Individual."

Reports were read and adopted. An acknowledgement of receipt of box to missionaries Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gullison was received. Smith's Cove helped in making up box.

Mrs. Gordon Landers conducted an interesting program in the form of a Quiz and Answer. Each member had a part. This was on the work and fields of different missionaries.

Letter to the Editor

St. Andrews, N. B., September 27, 1958.

The Editor,
Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.
Dear Madam:

In 1910 "The Beacon", a weekly newspaper formerly published in St. Andrews, N. B., carried a story, "Loss of Bark 'James W. Elwell'". This ship, laden with coal, burned off the coast of Patagonia and the crew spent seventy-two dreary days in a life boat. Only three survived — the captain, John Wren, of St. Andrews, N. B.; the cook's wife, an English woman whose name is not given, and one man.

According to the Beacon story, the cook's wife eventually re-married a ship's carpenter of another vessel and settled in Digby.

I am trying to gather more details about this sea tragedy and would be grateful for any information you or any of your readers might supply about this woman or her descendants.

Very truly yours,
J. C. Medcof.

Shipping Figures Released

According to figures released this week, shipping in most Nova Scotia ports showed a decline in 1957 from 1956 figures.

The port of Digby for 1957 showed 28,474 tons as compared with 150,399 for 1956. Decline was attributed to a drop in pulpwood, logs and machinery shipments. Freeport showed 830 tons for 1957 as compared with 862 in 1956.

Shipping from the port of Weymouth increased in 1957 over the 1956 figure. Tonnage for 1957 was 21,885 and in 1956 18,258. Meteghan River also showed an increase from 102 in 1956 to 577 in 1957.

"Home, Sweet Home"

There are millions of homeless people on this continent. Almost all of them have houses, but a house is not enough. There is a vast difference between a house and a home.

Science has emancipated homemakers from the old fashioned kitchen. Shroome and porcelain gadgets and super-markets have liberated mother from the time-consuming chores of other years. Remember the old butter churn, the cleaning of smokey lamp chimneys and the baking of those long golden loaves of bread. It was all work, but a work of love.

Too often modern leisure has led to abject boredom and loss of interest in home matters. For relief from boredom multitudes have gone into business and industry. Frequently outside loyalties and friendships have resulted, which have wrecked the home-life. Children have become little wanderers and tired husbands find no one to greet them with affection at the front door after a harrowing day. The hand that rocks the cradle more than likely is that of the baby-sitter who has her ear trained, not for the baby's cry, but to the latest Rock and Roll on the portable radio.

Too many homes have a boarding house atmosphere. Family members may suspect that they are more understood outside the home than in it. Children who feel the "unwantedness" of a cold, loveless home, mature often into insecure delinquents who roam our city streets.

This is not juvenile delinquency but parental delinquency. It is a crime against the next generation, and a situation which is odious to God.

Like all '59 Chevrolets, the Impala Sport Sedan is roomier, smoother riding.

what Canada wants, Canada gets in a Chevy!

'59 CHEVROLET

It's shaped to the modern Canadian taste with a lean, clean silhouette, crisp new contours, beautifully restrained accents. It brings you more spaciousness and comfort with a new Body by Fisher. It has a bright new sheen — a new kind of finish that keeps its lustre without waxing for up to three years. New bigger brakes. Vast new areas of visibility. New Hi-Thrift 6. New handling ease and road steadiness. It's new right down to the tires!

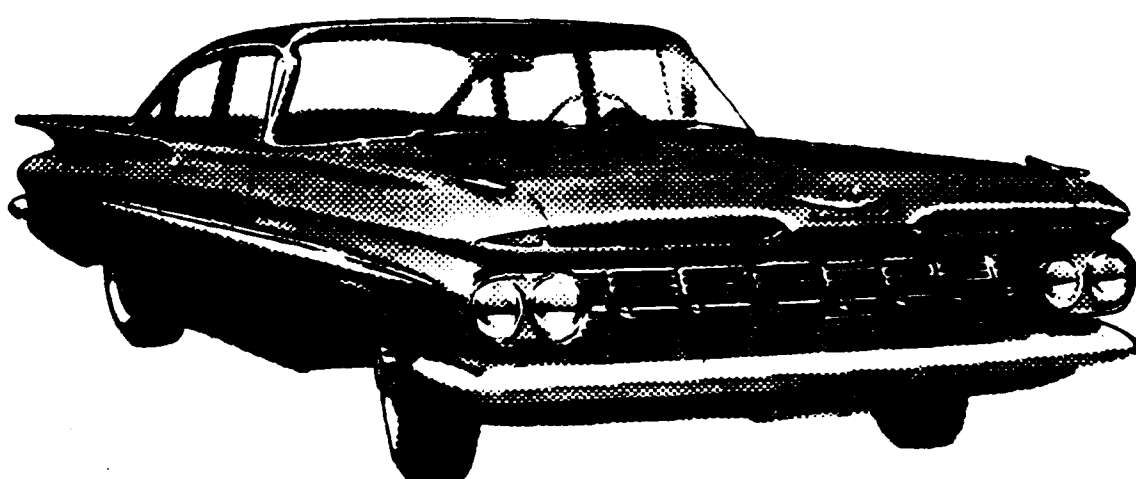

Never before has an automobile manufacturer made such sweeping changes two years in a row. And never before has any car been new like this one. The 1959 Chevrolet is more than a restyled car — more, even, than a completely new car. It's your kind of car. Shaped to reward your new taste in style. Designed to anticipate your desire for greater roominess and comfort. Engineered for greater safety, economy, ease of handling and smoothness of ride.

Your first look shows you that Chevrolet says new like nobody else. New Slimline design brings entirely new poise and proportion to automobile styling. Inside the new and roomier Body by Fisher you'll find truly tasteful elegance. And you'll have clear seeing from every seat. The new Vista-Panoramic windshield curves overhead — and there are bigger windows all around.

When you take the wheel, you begin to find that Chevy's newness goes down deep. A new steering ratio makes handling easier. New suspension engineering gives you a more stable ride. There's a sweet new edition of Turbo-6. Eight V8's plus a new Hi-Thrift 6 that goes and goes on a gallon. New and bigger brakes. Even new tires!

There's still more! A new Magic-Mirror finish that keeps its shine without waxing or polishing for up to three years. New Impala models. Wonderful new station wagons — including one with a rear-facing rear seat. And, with all that's new, you find those fine Chevrolet virtues of economy and practicality. Stop in now and see the '59 Chevrolet.

*Extra-cost option.

Bel Air 4-Door Sedan — new right down to its tires.

The royal tern is a large white bird and has a forked tail. The bill is orange, so with the contrasting colors of black and white, is very beautiful. It breeds from Virginia to Texas and on the Pacific coast of Mexico.

Changes include heavier pistons with thicker domes and steel inserts for greater strength and longer life, aluminum-coated intake valve faces for reduced wear on both valve seat and face, full-flow oil filter, and a new thermostatically controlled by-pass cooling system. Also available as optional equipment are two V8's of 160 and 175 hp., five-speed synchromesh or Powermatic transmission, and two-speed axle.

To Sponsor Procedure Course

A course in parliamentary procedure will be sponsored in Digby by the Digby County Council of Home & School associations, it was decided at the fall meeting of the council, held at the regional high school here.

The meeting, which was presided over by county council president Victor Cardoza, decided to contact the adult education division of the department of education asking that a course be held here. It was stated the division had expressed willingness to consider such a request if it were made.

The course, it is understood, will be a three evening affair and will be open to representatives of all organizations in the area. As soon as a date is set arrangements will be made to hold the course. It was decided.

Mrs. Daniel Hankinson, of Weymouth, was appointed council parent education convener at the meeting. She succeeds Mrs. Maureen Elliott, also of Weymouth, who resigned the post.

A report on the annual federation convention in Antigonish was given by county council president Victor Cardoza who attended. He gave a resume of the resolutions passed and dealt at some length with the matter of the budget adopted and the financial position of the federation.

Guest speaker at the council session was Mr. Stanley MacDonald of the Digby office of the Department of Welfare. Mr. MacDonald outlined child welfare services available through the department and told of procedures followed in administering these.

Work Of Society Still Urgent

Although the British and Foreign Bible Society has circulated to date over six hundred million copies of the Scriptures and has been responsible for translating the Bible or parts of it into over eleven hundred different languages their work is far from done, stated Victor Cardoza, society representative, in an address at Holy Trinity Church, Middleton, Sunday morning.

Mr. Cardoza stated there still remains over 1,500 languages into which not one word of the Scriptures has been translated. He said also that it is estimated that 15 million adults learn to read each year. This presents a need for many additional copies of the Scriptures in many languages.

The importance of providing new Canadians with copies of the Scriptures in their own language was stressed by the speaker. He stated there have been a sufficient number of immigrants enter Canada already to change the future thinking of this nation. These people come to the country with their own ideas, customs and ideals and many of them have had little interest in the Christian church.

Through the work of the Bible Society these people have been supplied with copies of the Scriptures. This has aided the work of missionaries and the churches in welcoming these new Canadians into church life and work in this country.

Provision of the Scriptures in braille and through talking books for the blind was also pointed out by the speaker as an important part of the society's work. It costs, he said, more than one hundred dollars to produce a Bible in braille. These are made available to the blind for from five to ten dollars with the balance being made up by subscribers who donate to the British and Foreign Bible Society.

Mr. Cardoza concluded by urging his listeners to contribute generously to the society in its canvass in Middleton.

TIVERTON LODGE MEETS

Her talk on each subject was interesting and enjoyed by all. Those present also from Fair Isle Lodge were Mrs. Charles Young, Mrs. Luella Finigan, Mrs. Norman Perry, Mrs. Ernest Powell, Mrs. Oda Israel.

After the business session, lunch was served.

Form Maritime Conference W.A.

The first Executive Meeting of the Maritime Conference Woman's Association of The United Church of Canada met with Mrs. D. H. Gass in the new parsonage at Bible Hill, N. S., on Thanksgiving Day, October 13th. Mrs. K. R. Rose, President of Dominion Council, was present and gave valuable help and suggestions in connection with the work of a Conference Woman's Association.

The President, Mrs. L. G. Marshall, of Bedford, N. S., opened the meeting with an inspiring devotional on the theme of Thanksgiving, pointing out that to be thankful it was necessary to be thoughtful. She brought to the attention of those present that there is so much for which to be thankful.

It was reported that Sydney Presbyterian Women's Association had just been formed, and that organization was taking place in other Presbyteries.

Tentative plans were made to hold the next Executive Meeting in Moncton Presbytery in February.

Miss Eva MacPhail, President of the Halifax Presbytery Woman's Association, presented Mrs. Rose with a Nova Scotia craft gift on behalf of the Maritime Conference Woman's Association. Mrs. Rose fittingly expressed her thanks and said that it was a privilege for her to meet with the various ladies' groups throughout the Maritimes.

Mrs. Marshall closed the meeting with prayer. Following the meeting a delicious Thanksgiving dinner was served by members of St. David's United Church, Bible Hill, under the leadership of Mrs. Hedley Creelman.

Charles Grant Awarded Bursary

The Digby branch, Canadian Legion bursary of $150.00, has been awarded to Charles Grant, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Meredith Grant, of Digby, it was announced at the regular meeting of the branch. The bursary winner is a graduate of the Digby Regional High School and is at present studying at Bethany Bible College in Yarmouth.

Plans for the annual Poppy campaign were discussed at the meeting and six group captains were appointed to head up the canvassing which this year will be done by Legion members rather than by the children as in former years. Leigh Jayne, chairman of the poppy committee, stated a general planning meeting would be held October 29th.

The meeting voted that the branch pay three hundred dollars to the Princess Margaret Day committee as its share of the deficit incurred here on the occasion of the Royal visit.

It was decided the annual Remembrance Day banquet this year would be a "mixed" affair with Legion members bringing their wives and the members of the auxiliary also in attendance.

It was reported George Out-house, of Digby, had been the winner of the rifle in the annual draw.

The first games with Annapolis were played on the home field and proved a greater success. The girls score was 3-0 for Digby. Donna Gillespie scored the penalty goal and Andrea Richard the field goal.

Seek Increased Interest

Need for improving interest in the Digby Board of Trade as a local organization was stressed at the regular monthly meeting of the board here last week.

Comment was made that, with the annual meeting soon to be held, efforts should be made to seek membership for the coming year so that the year might start out with an increase in the number of members.

A report of the executive meeting of the AVAT held recently in Middleton was given by Board president Vincent Snow.

Following Mr. Donahoe's explanation, the meeting will take on press conference form as it is thrown open for a question and answer session.

Premier Robert L. Stanfield is scheduled to give the opening address to the members of Nova Scotia's working press.

Members of the Nova Scotia Hospital Services Planning Commission which worked to set up the Hospital Insurance Commission will give reports on the mechanics of the plan. The hospitalization plan will come into effect in the province on January 1, 1959.

Fire Destroys Barn

Fire of undetermined origin gutted a barn on Victoria Road on the property known locally as the "Ten Acre" early Saturday morning.

The blaze was first discovered shortly after one o'clock and had gained considerable headway. The fire department was summoned and kept the blaze from spreading to nearby homes.

The building was being used as a storage for pressed paper and the blaze proved a difficult and stubborn one to fully extinguish.

The fire department returned later in the morning Saturday to further wet it down and were called out again Saturday evening and Sunday when the wind whipped smoldering embers into flame.

W.I. Meets

The Rossway Women's Institute held their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Waters Comeau. Eleven members and one guest attended.

After the opening exercises and a short business period plans were discussed for a rummage and food sale to be held later on in October. Posters displayed will announce the date.

Collectors new are busy with the Unitarian Service Committee drive in the community.

The Institute is continuing to collect used stamps for the Bible Society. The stamps are sent to the Bible House in Halifax where they send after preparing them to London and the money received from the sale of them goes towards Bible Society work.

The Institute has purchased the book "Canadian Mosaic", Nova Scotia volume. This book tells of the races of Nova Scotia from its first inhabitants, their customs, handicrafts and contributions they have made to the Nova Scotia way of living.

The program was under the leadership of Mrs. Darrell Lewis who had "Legislation and Citizenship". Several articles were read about the "200th Parliament of Nova Scotia" and the first one 200 years ago. An Article was read on the origin of Thanksgiving Day in 1623 and the program ended by a quiz on "Canada's Parliament".

The Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. John Gidney for their next meeting.

Mrs. Waters Comeau and Mrs. Edison Specht served refreshments at the close of the evening.

H. & S. To Carry On

The Digby Area Home & School Association voted to continue its activities at the opening meeting of the 1958-59 season at the Digby Regional High School. Prior to the meeting some doubts had been expressed as to whether the association would continue because of a seeming drop-off in interest.

R. Baden Powell, president of the association, tendered his resignation at the meeting. He stated that, while he would continue to be an active member, he could no longer continue as president. He said his decision was based on his disapproval of a trend he observed in the structuring of the provincial organization. One of the evidences of this, he said, was the increase of provincial dues from thirty-five cents to one dollar.

It was decided a special nominating committee, headed by Victor Cardoza, should seek a successor to Mr. Powell as head of the association.

Considerable discussion was had at the meeting about the advisability of carrying on the organization. It was stated that, while many of the projects carried out by Home & School associations were no longer a need, the organization still had a big job to do. It was pointed out education today had become a very complex matter and required the close attention of all. This attention can be fostered and effectively brought to bear by such organizations as Home & School, it was stated.

Mr. A. J. Sands, provincial president of the Home & School Federation, was guest speaker at the meeting, which was attended also by delegates to the Digby County Council fall meeting which had been in session during the afternoon.

In his address Mr. Sands outlined work which had been done by the provincial organization and gave a review of some of the projects planned for this year and the future. Matters of curriculum, teacher retention and recruitment and the like are problems which are engaging the attention of education authorities, he said. They are matters in which the general public should also take a close interest, he said. The Home & School organization provides a real opportunity for this, Mr. Sands stated.

Commenting on the increase of the provincial membership fee from thirty-five cents to one dollar, Mr. Sands said that when a study was made of the work being done by the provincial organization and its achievements because of this work there could be no question this fee was justified. It had been adopted at a convention on the vote of representatives of local associations after a year's consideration, he said.

Following Mr. Sands' address a panel on the subject, "Making Home & School a more effective organization", was held. Taking part in the panel were Mr. Sands, Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby, and Albert Jones, Weymouth. Chairman was Victor Cardoza.

Some of the conclusions of the panel were that, in order to create a more effective organization Home & School officers should make sure that they themselves have the fullest possible understanding of the aims and ideals of the organization; that fullest possible use should be made of all the tools available to the organization to carry out its work and that goals requiring real effort for attainment should be set. It was suggested that use be made of the installation ritual for officers and other impressive ritual whenever possible in order that members of the organization should be more impressed that Home & School has a high motivation.

ADDRESSES SOCIETY

Mrs. Donald Logan entertained the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society at her home in Smith's Cove on Monday night when Carl W. Beyreiss, Chester, was guest speaker. Mr. Beyreiss is a trained landscape and garden planner who apprenticed with the Wm. Kordes & Son rose gardeners in North Germany.

Visits Digby Boy's Grave

Above is shown Mrs. John Petzinger (the former Phyllis King of Digby) as she visits the grave of Roderick Abramson, son of Mrs. Nora Abramson, and the late John Abramson, of Digby, who was killed while serving with the Royal Canadian Artillery on November 1st, 1944. His grave is in the military cemetery at Ghent, Belgium.

Mrs. Petzinger, who is living in Germany with her husband, states the cemetery at Ghent is beautifully kept and that the caretaker is a most kind and thoughtful person. She says he seems to have a great deal of feeling for the boys whose graves he tends.

Mr. and Mrs. Petzinger visited the cemetery while in Belgium attending the World's Fair in Brussels. They will be returning to Ottawa later in November.

Second Round Of Inoculations

Mr. Victor Cardoza, of Digby, director of the March of Dimes for Digby County, today announced the second round of March of Dimes free polio vaccination clinics for Digby Co.

Mr. Cardoza advised all residents of the county to note the time and date of clinics in their areas. He explained that the dates are not as originally scheduled and therefore the dates shown on the personal record given to each person who was vaccinated are not the dates of the clinics.

He said the medical board of the March of Dimes had assured him that the length of time between the first and second inoculation in Digby County is perfectly satisfactory.

When questioned about the change, Mr. Cardoza explained the public health authorities in Nova Scotia, based on observations of epidemics in other areas this year, recommend at least four weeks between the first and second vaccination. In order for the March of Dimes to complete the whole province before the winter, areas originally scheduled for later clinics had to be moved forward and Digby County had to have the new dates.

Mr. Cardoza paid tribute to the many volunteers for their enthusiastic co-operation in operating the clinics. He also wished to express publicly the thanks of the March of Dimes and the appreciation of all the people who were vaccinated at the clinics, to all the doctors who participated. Pointing out that all doctors were willing to participate but there weren't enough clinics to use all the services offered. Mr. Cardoza said the members of the medical profession in Digby County are an example to all of us in community service.

Three Councillors Re-elected

Three members of the Digby Municipal Council were re-elected to office in Tuesday's municipal election. They were Cecil Jones, Smith's Cove, Ernest Ring, Plympton, and Ronald Morehouse, Centreville.

In Smith's Cove Jones won the seat by a margin of 65 votes over his opponent, Franklin Wightman. Jones polled 139 votes to 74 for Wightman.

Ernest Ring, veteran Plympton councillor, who has served 15 years on the council, was re-elected with a margin of 80 votes over his opponent, Camille Amoro. Ring polled 210 to 130 for Amoro.

In the Sandy Cove district Ronald Morehouse, sitting councillor, received a 193 majority over his opponent, Keith Raymond of Centreville. Morehouse polled 280 votes to 87 for Raymond.

Two newcomers were also elected to the council in the elections on Tuesday. In Westport Whitney Derby, defeated Wilfred Swift by a majority of 23 to take the seat. Derby polled 98 to 75 for Swift. In Hillsburgh Roy Snell won the seat with a majority of 11 over his opponent, Thomas Milner. Snell polled 176 to 165 for Milner.

The Westport seat was held for many years by veteran councillor Daniel Kenney who did not re-offer this year while in Hillsburgh former Warden H. E. Chisholm, who represented the district for more than 25 years, did not re-offer.

Two districts in the municipality are still vacant. No nominations were received on the regular date for nominations in Weymouth and Weymouth North. Harry Lewis represented Weymouth in the previous council while Weymouth North was represented by Wilfred Cosman.

Elected by acclamation this year were Walter Wood, Brighton; Aubrey Forrest, Culloden. W. F. Cossaboom, Tiverton, was re-elected by acclamation as were Victor Finigan, Freeport, and Sydney Westcott, Rossway.

In the municipality of Clare two elections were held. In both districts sitting councillors were re-elected. In Meteghan Emile Boudreau won out over James Comeau by a majority of 135. Boudreau polled 380 to 245 for Comeau. In Little Brook Vincent Genette was re-elected with a slim majority of seven over his opponent, Alvin Deveau. Genette polled 207 against 200 for Deveau.

the already existing livestock; and thirdly, could increase the business by raising two or three hundred hogs a year. The students were divided in three groups and each one worked a program by which either one of the alternatives could bring greater returns to the farmer. Of course, like in all cases, it was left to the manager to make the final decision.

At nine o'clock the two-day short course was concluded and Mr. Chipman Chisholm, President of the Digby County Federation of Agriculture, opened another meeting by introducing the Provincial President, Mr. Ross Hill, of Truro.

Mr. Hill gave a brief outline of what the Provincial Federation was trying to do, especially concerning the functioning of the Provincial Abattoir. He said that the farmers had made the first step in providing money to build the abattoir, but that the farmers were still responsible to see that the abattoir would have enough business to keep busy all the time. One of the best ways to put livestock through such an organization is to raise hogs and beef, but hogs on our small farms are the most profitable, then it is up to us to go into hogs and not only see that the abattoir is working at full capacity but also to make a little more money at farming. Bear River Scout Diary

On October 11, 12 and 13 Scout Master and Mrs. Donald F. Brown, and Assistant Scout Master and Mrs. Wayne Baird attended the third Scouters' Conference in Halifax. The following is a report of the conference:

What a wonderful experience this was for all of us who attended! There were over 310 Scouts, their wives, Cub leaders and their husbands who enjoyed meeting old friends, making new friends, obtaining new ideas and reviewing material.

Registration began on Saturday at 4 o'clock and the Lord Nelson Hotel soon became alive with Scouts in uniform and many in colorful kilts including the Nova Scotia Tartan. During dinner that evening many songs were sung and the people seated at the head table were introduced. Dr. A. R. Bevan of the English department of Dalhousie University was the guest speaker.

Dr. Bevan very cleverly compared the after dinner speaker of the present with that of the past — centuries ago. He felt that originally people who listened to these speakers were very much enthralled because the speaker would bring to the isolated group who were unable to travel far in those days, stories of happenings all over the world. Due to the fact that the speaker's audience was so isolated and had few diversions they would be very interested, eager and ready to listen to very long speeches. Dr. Bevan felt that modern speakers have great competition with television, etc.

He explained that Scouting can be frustrating on occasions but that we can't be completely successful with all the boys all the time. The point of contact can be found in the Scout motto, "Be Prepared." Society has changed since Scouting started so we must be ready to meet these changes. In the past people believed all they were told because they knew little about their world and so they were willing to believe and be entertained by the after dinner speaker. In primitive society medicine men and witch doctors held their people in fear and superstition. Now we look upon ourselves as masters of our destiny and the things of the past we relate to ignorance and unbelief.

Dr. Bevan said that in Western Society the individual becomes less and less individualistic. We can easily be swayed and are apt to "follow the leader" rather than be termed an "individualist." Dr. Bevan felt that we should be prepared to think for ourselves, resist conformists and be prepared to be different. Just because we make things on the assembly lines method, we, as people, don't want to be considered a product of the assembly line too.

A social time was held later in the evening.

Although Sunday morning was cold, windy and some rain, the Scouters attended churches of their own denominations.

A piper dressed in Nova Scotia Tartan piped the head table guests into the dining hall at luncheon. In the afternoon training sessions were held in the vocational school building. These work sessions included: woodcraft, program planning, first class journey, questions and answers, and compass and bearings.

The speaker at dinner on Sunday evening was Very Rev. Patrick J. Malone, president of St. Mary's University. He expressed the gratefulness of Nova Scotians for the Scouters' dedication to the Scout movement. Lord Baden Powell rejected the self-made man. Rev. Malone almost repeated the idea of Dr. Bevan in his speech the previous evening, by referring to the fact that we feel we must conform and do what others do. He stressed the Scout Promise as the foundation for moulding the individual.

Later that evening a Camp Fire was held with Mr. Donald Duncan, Field Commissioner for the Province, acting as Chief. Many skits, songs, stories and group songs were enjoyed.

Monday morning concluded the workshop sessions. Several very fine items were on display, including a tableful of handwork for Cub leaders. The Scouts displayed suspension bridge models, a board showing the various types of trees, making rope, etc. Of great interest was the survival kit. The idea of the kit is to keep it simple and effective as possible and small enough to slip into a pocket when going on a trip to the woods, if only for a day or part of a day. The kit includes 2 or 3 squares of semi-sweet baking chocolate wrapped in a good sized piece of aluminum foil. The foil protects the chocolate and can be shaped into a container for boiling water or food. The next item in the kit was a string and wax snowball, which serves for cooking, and starting a fire for warmth. One packet of wax-encased matches and a fishing line with a small box of hooks completed the kit. The kit container was made of red wool flannel to serve a double purpose. It is a bright color to spot easily and the extra cloth could serve as bait for catching fish. All Scouts should carry a sturdy pocket knife at all times.

After a delicious luncheon, R. A. MacGregor, provincial scouting commissioner, gave a lengthy address summing up the conference as a whole.

It is interesting to note that there are at present 11,121 registered in Scout membership in the province. Of this number, 6,041 are Cubs, 4,000 Boy Scouts, 36 Rover Scouts and 944 Scout Leaders. Throughout the province 237 Wolf Cub Packs and 198 Boy Scout Troops are active.

Thought you'd enjoy reading about the Conference. Remember Scout Apple Day on Saturday, October 25. This closes our diary for this time.

Mr. Gerald Morine and bride of Peabody, Mass., spent the Thanksgiving weekend at the home of his mother, Mrs. Gordon Morine.

Miss Phyllis Dunn, who is training at the Kentville Sanatorium, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Dunn.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peck and son left this week to return to Ontario after spending their vacation visiting in Bear River East and Bear River.

"My Life Insurance man did a grand job for me, Ed"

All talk over the back fence isn't about sport, or politics, or television programs. Very often it's about such vital things as looking after the family and having enough money to retire on.
 Your life insurance man is well equipped to solve these problems. He is trained to analyse all the facts about a family's future requirements. He serves Canadian families by offering practical plans to meet individual needs.
 Life Insurance representatives have exceptional training opportunities today. Their own companies provide them with basic courses covering a wide variety of subjects.
 Through the Life Underwriters Association of Canada they have access to the experience of many able men who have helped to make Canadians the world's best-insured people. This Association has a 2-year training program for its members. And, in addition, for those who desire to pursue more advanced studies, there is a 3-year university extension course leading to the Association's designation of Chartered Life Underwriter (C.L.U.).
 This thorough training plus practical experience in helping people explains why millions of Canadians welcome the services of the modern Life Underwriter.

Marriage

Escape — Murley

The Hill Grove United Baptist Church was the scene of a pretty autumn wedding on Saturday evening, October 18th, when Dr. T. W. Hodgson performed the double ring ceremony which united in marriage Ruth Estelle, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Reginald Murley, and John Darcy, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Darcy A. Roope.

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Mrs. Harold Nichols, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage. The bride looked charming in a ballerina length gown of nylon net over taffeta. It was fashioned with embroidered net bodice and matching bolero with pointed collar and long sleeves coming to points over the hands; the full overskirt of nylon net over taffeta featured embroidered inserts. Her short veil of silk illusion was held in place by a pillbox effect headpiece of nylon taffeta with net trim and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Doris Murley, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a ballerina length gown of aqua nylon net over taffeta with matching bolero, mitts and headband. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white 'mums. Malcolm Eaton, of Canard, was best man, and William Roope, uncle of the groom, and Cecil Murley, uncle of the bride, were ushers.

The church was decorated with baskets of fall flowers and the guest pews were marked with pink 'mums and white ribbon.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Lloyd Grant sang "O Perfect Love".

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for 130 guests was held in the church hall.

Receiving with the bridal party were their parents. The mother of the bride was attired in a dress of powder blue lace over taffeta with black and pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

The groom's mother wore a wineberry dress of novelty lace design crepe with black accessories, and corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Cecil Murley, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Medford Kennedy, cousin of the groom, presided at the silver services while Miss Joan Grant, of Barton, and Miss Virginia Smith, of Kentville, served the bride's table. Serving the guests were cousins of the bride and groom, Misses Carolyn, Catherine, Heather, Elaine, Margery Murley, Mary Jane and Donna Mossman, Joan, Ella and Barbara Kennedy. Miss Ruth Smith, of Kentville, had charge of the guest book.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Dr. T. W. Hodgson and appropriately responded to by the groom.

For the past two years the bride has been Secretary to the Manager of the Digby Pines Hotel, while the groom is engaged in the poultry business at Hill Grove, where the couple will reside upon returning from a trip through the Maritimes, Maine and Massachusetts.

For travelling the bride chose a dress of charcoal and red stripe with a gold lurex thread, a poppy red Scotian Craft coat and black and white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Out of town guests were from Presque Isle, Maine; Great Village, Halifax, Wolfville, Canard, Kentville, Berwick, Aylesford,

(Helen Adams)

Miss Mary Johns, who is attending the Provincial Normal College, Truro, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johns.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Moors, Gary and Gregory, of Halifax, were weekend guests of Mrs. Moors' parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Adams. They were accompanied by Mr. Adams on their return.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ulrich and Mr. William Ulrich have returned to their homes in Lyndhurst, N. J., after visiting the past two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. John McDonough.

Letter to the Editor

Editor of
The Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.
Dear Mrs. Wallis:
I would like to express the very grateful thanks of the Publicity Committee for your excellent co-operation in the publicity for "As You Like It".
On the afternoon of the performance the auditorium was filled, with students standing along the sides, and our proceeds amounted to over our $200 guarantee to the Earle Grey Company. We feel that much of this success is due to the co-operation of your paper and thank you very much for it. It is very encouraging to teachers to know that we have the support of your public-spirited paper in efforts such as the presentation of "As You Like It".
I would like to add my own individual thanks for your personal patience and courtesy to me on my visits to your office to make arrangements for the publicity.
Yours sincerely,
Joan Bradshaw.

To Contribute To Springhill Fund

Rev. James Pike, rector of Trinity Parish here, announced at services in the parish on Sunday that on the coming Sunday and the next contributions would be received in the parish for the relief of those bereaved in the Springhill mine disaster. Special prayers were said Sunday in the parish for those who lost their lives and the bereaved at Springhill.

On this coming Sunday the men of Trinity parish will attend a corporate communion service at 8:30 to mark the start of Laymen's Sunday in the parish. Following the communion breakfast will be served in the parish hall. Speaker at the breakfast session will be Dr. George Angus, director of the Digby clinic.

At the eleven o'clock service on Sunday in the parish church men of the parish will conduct portions of the service. The Scripture lessons will be read by the parish wardens, Dr. G. V. Turnbull and Mr. C. E. Jones, and the address will be delivered by lay reader Victor Cardoza.

Prayer On Behalf Of Springhill Families

The guest speaker at the morning service at the Bear River United Baptist Church, Rev. Charles Taylor, was introduced by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Scott. Both Mr. Scott, a former Springhill boy, and Mr. Taylor, who was called to the ministry while employed in the bank at Springhill, after leaving the R.C.N., have a deep understanding and sympathy for the victims of the mine disaster at Springhill and their families and led in earnest prayer on their behalf. Caleb Rushton, a brother of the well known missionary to India, Vincent Rushton, is among those trapped in the mine.

Text for worship service was taken from I Thessa. 5:17, "Pray Without Ceasing".

Mr. Taylor, now a Professor of Theology at Acadia, and a former graduate of that university, and of post-graduate courses at other theological schools, explained Acadia's recent appeal for funds for a House of Theology at Acadia University. This fund is to promote religious life on the campus, add more theological courses, and ultimately to build a chapel on the campus.

Afternoon service was at Morganville. Evening service was opened by Edward Britten, theological student at Acadia, who gave his personal testimony and read the Scripture from Exodus 14. The guest speaker was Murray Shaw, also a theological student, whose subject was "No Escape". Pointing out that Christ said "I am the way", and from Hebrews, "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation".

The Acadia Male Quartette, Gerald De Bow, Moncton, Keith Churchill, formerly of Digby, and now of Windsor, Murray Shaw, Yarmouth, and Edward Britten, Baddeck, P.E.I., sang several numbers at all three services.

Opening Ceremony Saturday

Tribute to the resourcefulness and indomitable spirit of men whose livelihood seemed doomed following a disastrous fire last February will be paid Saturday, November 1, at Weymouth.

In recognition of their keen interest in the future of their own industry, employees of Weymouth Industries Limited will be honoured guests at a luncheon, following the official opening of the firm's new plant by Premier Robert L. Stanfield at noon.

When flames raced through the main building of the Weymouth pleasure boat and up-holstered furniture industry on February 6, destroying machinery, equipment and materials, its future, and that of its employees, appeared as dark as the charred remains.

It would be impossible, they were told, to replace the lost buildings, machinery and equipment for months. The conflagration was a major disaster. 1958 was to be the big year. Products had been proven and accepted, a good dealer organization established for boats and furniture and the plant had been working at high efficiency with over 100 employees taking home weekly pay checks.

The smouldering ruins served as a spark to ignite the courage and determination of the employees of the industry and the people of Weymouth generally. From blackened machinery and equipment they salvaged that which could be used, and in borrowed, scattered quarters throughout the town they kept alive their industry, so vitally important to themselves and their families. Knowing the plight of the company they even donated their services for two weeks, refusing to accept any remuneration for rebuilding their own paint shop. The many difficulties naturally slowed production but Weymouth Industries Limited was alive once more.

Heartened by the cooperation and loyalty of their employees, officials approached Industrial Estates to see what could be done to get the plant back in full operation. As a result, an agreement was reached whereby Industrial Estates would provide, on a rental basis, a modern, metal building very suitable for the production of boats and furniture, and it is this structure, now in active use, which will be formally opened by Premier Stanfield on Saturday.

This 100 by 200 ft. bee-hive of industry is an example of labor, management and government working as one team to ensure that a growing Nova Scotia industry, despite almost insurmountable odds caused by a disaster, be kept growing.

Premier Stanfield will officially open the new plant at twelve o'clock in the presence of its employees, the Weymouth Industries Limited directors and shareholders, plant manager Lou Ruby, Hon. E. A. Manson, minister of trade and industry, Hon. Malcolm S. Leonard, minister of education and welfare, Mr. Frank H. Sobey and members of the Industrial Estates Limited and other dignitaries.

Following the ceremony, employees of Weymouth Industries Limited will be honoured guests at the luncheon to be given at the Consolidated High School for Premier Stanfield and those officiating at the opening.

Springhill People Remembered

Rev. James Brooks, of Grace United Church, departed from his prepared sermon on Sunday morning and delivered a stirring and sympathetic address prompted by the disaster in the Springhill coal mines on Thursday, claiming the lives of more than ninety persons.

Rev. Mr. Brooks remarked on the heroism of the people of Springhill and their sense of duty to the living as well as the dead. The one basic heroism in life he said is "going on in the present" not with bitterness, resentment and brooding but with quiet serenity and fortitude and with the peace that only Christ gives. Not any escape sorrows and disasters he said but all can practice the basic heroism of going on relying on the only thing to turn to in times of sorrow and trouble — the Christian Faith.

Special prayers for the bereaved families in Springhill were offered.

Hotels To Re-open

The Cornwallis Inn at Kentville will continue operations with full facilities, including dining room service, and Canadian Pacific's summer hotels, The Digby Pines at Digby, N. S., and Lakeside Inn at Yarmouth, N. S., will be operated during the 1959 season by the Canadian Pacific Railway. R. A. Mackie, general manager of C. P. R. hotels announced today.

"Results of the 1958 season were somewhat disappointing due to a smaller than usual volume of tourist traffic", Mr. Mackie said.

He added, "however, it is hoped by making this early announcement of our intentions to continue operation of our Nova Scotia hotels, it will be possible to develop increased patronage for the 1959 season."

Plan Poppy Campaign

An all-out effort will be made this year by Branch No. 20, Canadian Legion, BESL, to make their annual Poppy Day campaign a success, it has been learned.

A meeting of Legion members to plan for the campaign was held Tuesday night at the Legion headquarters under the direction of Reigh W. Jayne, poppy committee chairman.

This year, it is understood, Legion members will handle the canvass themselves and youngsters will not be used as in former years. An intensive house-to-house canvass is being planned as well as a coverage of business establishments.

Mr. Jayne, chairman of the campaign, stated efforts would be made to get across that Remembrance Day poppies are not "purchased" but they are given to the individual as a symbol that the person has made a contribution to the welfare work being carried on for needy veterans and their families by the local Legion branch.

The poppy, Mr. Jayne said, is a sign of remembrance and is significant of the fact we remember the sacrifices of those who suffered and died as members of the armed forces that we might continue to enjoy the freedoms and privileges that are ours. These, however, he said, carry with them a duty and part of that duty is to remember and recall how these freedoms were won and to aid in contributing to the welfare of those who were responsible and their dependents.

Stray Birds Again Visit Brier Island

Three brown thrashers, birds that nest in southern New England but not in Nova Scotia, were found there by a field party of the Nova Scotia Bird Society during the period Oct. 15-20. One of these was caught in the oil-house of the Western Light and was fitted with a numbered metal band on one leg before it was released, making it possible to recognize this individual bird wherever it may appear in future.

A dickcissel, which is a yellowish sparrow-like bird from the midwest, was recorded on the 16th and 17th; two western kingbirds were observed on the 17th, and a yellow-breasted chat was discovered on the 19th. (Please turn to page 8)

Wonderful News

As the Courier went to press yesterday word was flashed from Springhill that twelve more men had been found alive in the wreckage of No. 2 pit at the Springhill colliery. At press time the men had not been brought to the surface from the 12,000 foot level where they were contacted but it was known definitely they were alive and in reasonably good condition. Hope is now held others may also be found alive.

New Minister And Family Given Reception

A reception for Rev. and Mrs. H. S. Hartlin and family was held in the Digby Baptist Church Hall on Thursday evening by the Baptist congregations of Digby and Hill Grove. Rev. Mr. Hartlin, who took over the charge vacated by Rev. E. C. Churchill, moved here with his family during the middle of October.

M. C. Denton was master of ceremonies and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brittain presented the guests.

Welcomes were extended to the new clergyman and his family on behalf of the Digby Baptist congregation by E. Scott Eaton, and the Hill Grove congregation by Lloyd McNeil. Rev. R. R. Winchester, District President of the Baptist Denomination, extended greetings from the District, and Rev. James Brooks brought greetings from the Digby Pastoral Charge of the United Church. His Worship, Mayor Gordon Turnbull extended a welcome on behalf of the town of Digby at which time he briefly reviewed the history of the town. Mr. Hartlin responded appropriately to the greetings and remarked on the scenic beauty and the fact that Digby is a town that is known far and wide. Mr. Denton, on behalf of the congregations, extended a welcome to the visiting clergy of the area, Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Holmgren, Mrs. J. W. Wallis, representing the press, and to other guests.

An enjoyable musical program was presented with Miss Marilyn Clayton presiding at the piano. Two male quartettes were rendered with parts taken by Wallace Hodgson, Guy Morehouse, J. J. Brittain and Paul Snow. Mr. Snow took the solo part. The Digby Baptist choir was also heard in a number featuring Wallace Hodgson and Mrs. Reginald Weir in a duet. A reading was presented by Mrs. Hugh Vincent.

Refreshments were served when Mrs. Brittain, of the Digby by church, and Mrs. Perry Porter, of the Hill Grove church, poured. Ladies of both churches served.

Nets Fowled In Wreckage

The fish dragger Gary H. Halliday, by Lee Halliday, had the misfortune to foul his nets in wreckage from an old wharf while fishing about three miles off the coast on Thursday.

As the wreckage could not be dislodged it was necessary to tow it into harbour where it and the nets were beached. As the tide went out Friday efforts were made to disengage the wreckage from the nets which were partly filled with caught fish.

It is "not known where the wreckage came from but it appeared to have been under water for a very long time. From appearance it looked to be the ballast floor of a wharf. The plank was heavily worm eaten and the spikes rusted.

Reception Held

Gets Three Bears

Above are shown three bears shot by James Richards, Digby hotel operator, on a hunting trip at Kedge last week.

The adult female bear weighed three hundred pounds. One of the cubs was a lightish brown in colour even to its head and face. Veteran hunters say they have never before seen a bear this colour locally. The fur of the brown cub was also much softer and finer than that of the black one and the adult bear.

Mr. Richards says it took several shots to stop the adult bear which kept coming towards him after the first shot.

Red Cross Early On Scene

Within minutes after the "bump" at the Springhill Mine, on October 23rd, Red Cross was on the move. First to take action was the Springhill Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, who made contact with the mine officials and arranged to serve coffee and sandwiches to the draegermen and other rescue workers throughout the night. The Springhill Red Cross Disaster Chairman was one of those trapped in the mine.

At Division Headquarters, in Halifax, Commissioner C. L. Hilsley, and Lt. Col. P. C. Ahern, Provincial Disaster Chairman, were in consultation with the President of the Division, Harvey R. Doane, and other Red Cross personnel throughout the city, including Doctor H. C. Read, Medical Director of the Blood Transfusion Service, and Miss Frances H. Brown, Chief Technician of the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service. About this time a telephone call came from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police advising that the hospital at Springhill required a special type blood and serum albumen. R.C.M.P. also advised that they had a Navy helicopter which would be taking R.C.M.P. personnel to Springhill and they would be glad to transport the blood on this initial trip. Arrangements were made for this to be done.

By 11:30 everything was in readiness, and it was decided that the Red Cross Mobile Canteen should be sent to Springhill as the situation was serious. A request was also received for emergency hospital supplies. A truck with a Red Cross 5-bed hospital unit which is stored at Truro, was sent. Another Red Cross Hospital unit and extra blankets were loaned in the mobile canteen which left Halifax shortly after midnight.

On Friday others from Halifax left for Springhill to relieve the workers who had gone up the night before. Mr. Leslie G. Puchard, Public Relations Director of the Division, Sydney, left Friday morning for Springhill, picking up volunteer workers from Truro en route. By noon, word came from Springhill that matters were under control as far as supplies and volunteers were concerned, and President Murray Cottenden advised that the Civil Defence authorities were taking over feeding from Red Cross at 10:30 a.m. Mr. Cottenden paid high tribute to the volunteers of the Springhill Branch who had through the long night, supplied food for the draegermen and other rescue workers, at the mine. He also reported that Red Cross was providing volunteer telephone operators at the Armories where the emergency hospital had been set up, and that arrangements had been

District Council In Annual

Dr. G. V. Turnbull, Digby, was re-elected President of the Boy Scout District Council at the annual meeting, held at Deep Brook. Other officers elected were Dr. D. E. Lewis, vice-president; Carl Warner, secretary; and H. C. Morton, treasurer.

Committee chairmen elected at the meeting include Watson Peck, Bear River, camping; J. A. Bond, activities; Gerrard Connelly, group contact; David McAlpine and Eldred Thibideau, water safety; Victor Cardoza, public relations; H. C. Morton, finance.

N. D. Wright, district commissioner, reported on the activities in the district since the last annual meeting. These included, he said, a Sunday service at HMCS Cornwallis attended by three hundred Scouts and Girl Guides; a two evening preliminary training course for Scouters attended by some eighteen, and eight leadership training courses.

Mr. Wright reported there were now 162 Cubs, 109 Scouts and 28 leaders active in the district at the present. He said he had attended a number of meetings in the area of organizations which were sponsoring Scout activities or interested in such sponsorship.

The Digby district, Mr. Wright said, had been the locale for a number of Scout rallies during the year. These included a district rally held at Conway and attended by the provincial commissioner; a pre-jamboree camp at Digby for the troop attending the New Brunswick jamboree and camps held here for troops from Waverly and Dartmouth.

The Digby troop and Cub packs had participated in the celebration marking the bicentenary of representative government, he said, and two hikes to the Eighth Lake camp site had been held for Scouters.

Mr. Wright stated water safety courses had been provided at HMCS Cornwallis for Scouts and Cubs of the district and these had been well attended.

Dr. Turnbull spoke briefly, outlining the purposes of the District Council. He complimented the District Commissioner on his work and stated the success of scouting in the district was reflected by this work and the fine leadership being given by those in charge of troops and Cub packs in the area.

Speaks On Hospital Tax

"In every community, regardless of size, there is a responsibility on the part of everyone to contribute to the establishment and maintenance of the government and its services", stated K. M. Knight, provincial commissioner of hospital taxes in an address before a large group of Digby and Digby area merchants and business people at the Court House last week.

"The best method for attaining this goal, said Mr. Knight, is the imposition of a tax to which all members of the community may contribute. A tax, such as our Hospital Tax, accomplishes this end", he said. He stated the allowance of exemptions, however, greatly eases the impact on lower income groups. The tax is not at all regressive, he said, for much of what the ordinary man buys is tax exempt.

It is not normally good business to finance social services, such as hospitalization, through capital borrowings, Mr. Knight said. Such funds should come from current revenue and the method decided upon should have one basic ingredient, the factor of stability in the face of ever changing economic cycles. He stated he felt it could be reasonably assumed from the experience of other states and provinces which have had a sales tax for many years that the revenue from such a source would not be too greatly affected by a down swing in the business graph. This would mean services would not have to be cut because of revenue drop just when needed most, he said.

Mr. Knight said the hospital tax in Nova Scotia, which goes into effect January 1st, is comparable with those in other provinces. The tax in New Brunswick is three percent but Nova Scotia allows more exemptions. There is to be no tax on cars, trucks and tires here whereas New Brunswick taxes them, he said. In New Brunswick the tax on cigarettes and tobacco is exactly twice the rate to be imposed here, he stated. He pointed out also that in New Brunswick the tax is not for hospitalization and said that was to be paid for there through a premium plan.

"The type of tax to be applied here for hospitalization is often mistakenly referred to as a retail sales tax, Mr. Knight said. Instead, it is a consumer purchase tax imposed upon the individual consumer for the right of purchasing goods for consumption or use. "It is the consumer: or purchaser who is taxed, he said, and the amount of tax is measured by the sale price of the goods purchased."

Mr. Knight said many people have expressed the opinion the tax should be indirect or hidden. This, he stated, was not possible because of limitations imposed on the provinces by the B.N.A. Act. This, he said, required that any taxation imposed by the provinces must be direct upon the very persons who it is intended or desired should pay it. Under direct taxation, he said, everyone must know how much he really pays."

Dealing with the mechanics of administering the new hospital tax, Mr. Knight said that a study of methods used elsewhere had been made and the most appropriate ideas from each plan adopted. He stated he felt in time Nova Scotia would have an administrative organization that will favorably compare with those elsewhere. A collecting and accounting program has been formulated that will almost entirely utilize electronic computers and tabulators.

Mr. Knight stated every effort would be made to acquaint the public and the trades with the particulars of the tax program and he said that all vendors would be paid a 3% commission on taxes they collect and remit to the government. In some cases, he said, this would offset the cost of the work involved but not in all cases.

Reviewing the provisions of the act, Mr. Knight said that effective January 1st, the bulk of purchases excluding exemptions made in the province would be subject to a 3% tax. All persons making sales at the retail level after that date would be deemed to be agents of the Crown and would be required to levy and collect the tax and remit it to the government. About This and That Three Grim Years.

The shocking news last Thursday night of the mine disaster in Springhill has stirred the sympathy of people far and wide. The words on everyone's lips are "Where do the people get the fortitude to carry on?" And yet that has been the staunch and noble character of the Springhill people for years. We wonder how we in Digby would stand up to the adversities which have beset the Springhill people.

Thursday night's "bump" in the Springhill mines which has claimed, it is feared, more than ninety lives, was the third and far greatest disaster in three successive years. In 1956 a similar "bump" claimed the lives of 39 men, a fire wiped out a large part of the business section of the town late in 1957, and now the people face the grim story again of loss of life, injury and insecurity. And not only in these major disasters have the people shown their strength to overcome. The people of Springhill also live under tension between these major disasters. Frequent "bumps" or shifting of the earth accompanied by rockfall have occurred when many miners have escaped by a matter of minutes or by some few feet of space. Even since the 1956 disaster several have lost their lives in the Springhill underground.

Our feeling of concern went out to those in Digby who anxiously awaited through Thursday night to hear the good news that their relatives were not numbered among those in the ill-fated shift. Our sympathy is extended to the families in Springhill who have been bereaved and to the town which has known so much misfortune. Our admiration for their courage is great.

Hotel Opens

Good news was heard here in Digby over the weekend that the Canadian Pacific Railway Hotel, The Pines, would definitely open for another year. The expense which the company must have gone to in 1956 to re-open the hotel after an earlier decision to close must have been great. It was our opinion that the one summer opening would not warrant such expense and it was with considerable reasoning and faith that we looked forward to the Pines opening for the 1959 season. The weekend news has confirmed the opening and any faint fears to the contrary have disappeared.

The Pines means a tremendous amount to the economy of Digby. The Pines has done much to publicize Digby as a tourist town. Speaking with the editor of a weekly paper in British Columbia last year, your editor was asked "What is the population of Digby?" When given the answer the editor replied, "You have a town of 2500 population and everybody in Canada has heard of it. We have a population of 5000 and no one has ever heard of the place. That is because of the Pines Hotel in Digby I suppose."

Digby needs the Pines Hotel. Few will deny that fact. But how many ever stop to consider that the Pines Hotel needs Digby as much as Digby needs the hotel. What are we going to do this winter in preparation for the summer tourist trade? What are we going to offer the tourist to make them want to come to Digby? The Pines might be an enjoyable and comfortable place to stay but the tourist is looking for a wider scope than the confinement of hotel walls. Digby can help to keep the tourists at the Pines by providing something within the town and vicinity of interest and attraction to the tourist. What about boating and fishing trips? What about planned scenic drives?

Speaking about scenic drives, do we ever consider what the tourist is missing in scenery and beauty because the shore road from the Life Saving Station to the Pines Hotel is not in a comfortable condition for transportation.

What Is Happening?

A most disturbing trend seems to be developing in an organization that over the years has contributed much to community living in this province. We refer to the Home & School organization which has a long and impressive history of accomplishments in Nova Scotia.

Almost every day one reads in the provincial press articles about Home & School meetings in various parts of the province where the main subject under discussion is the question of whether or not the organization will carry on in a local area.

This question was dealt with at the opening meeting of the Digby Area Home & School a little over a week ago, and, although the meeting voted to continue, there was only a handful present and it is not really clear if the vote will indeed bring about the actual continuance of the organization.

Now this week comes a story from Westport that the local Home & School association has voted to continue operations but independently of any provincial affiliation. From Yarmouth too comes news that the Memorial High School association there is in danger of folding up.

It seems to us this whole matter is one which should receive the immediate attention of the provincial federation. After all, a provincial body such as the H. & S. federation can be only as strong as the local associations which create it. If these associations cease to exist or become weak then the provincial body is no longer provincial in its representation and is weakened in direct ratio to the number of locals which leave its ranks.

What is happening to the organization? Could it be it has outlived its usefulness and should be disbanded anyway? Is it that the organization has gotten away from its real purpose for existence and people are losing faith and interest because of this? Is it that there is a move to centralize authority and make the locals merely fund raising and contributing bodies?

Whatever the cause it is patently evident the organization is suffering from some ill or combination of ills. It would appear that immediate action is imperative and that, rather than wait for the undertaker to be called in, a doctor should be summoned to diagnose the illness and prescribe remedies.

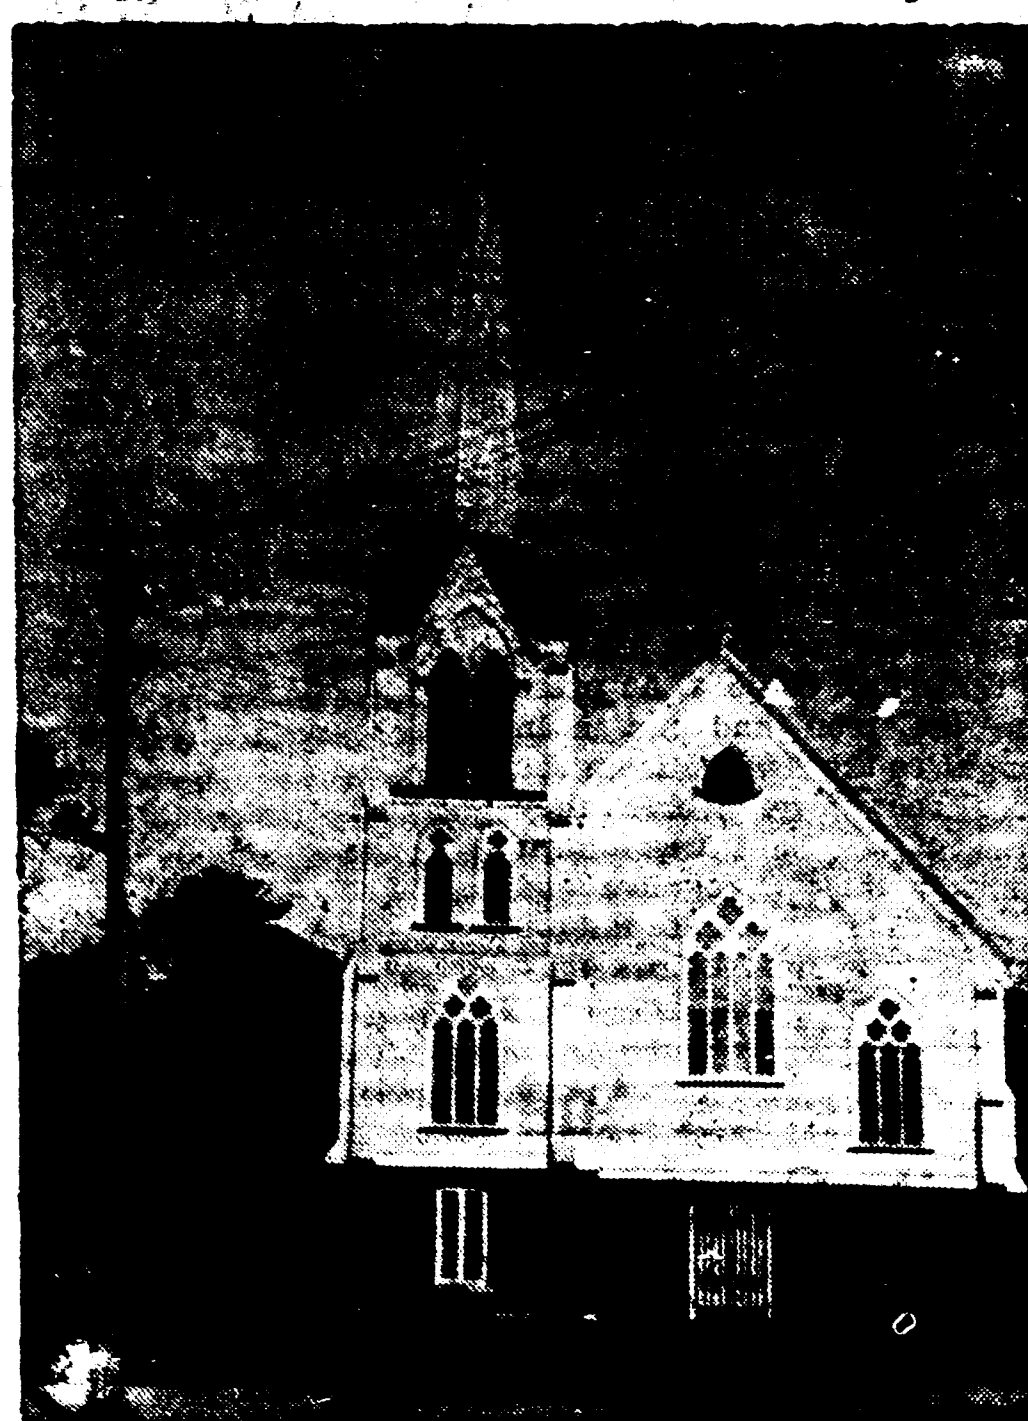

It may be the remedies will be drastic and it could even be the verdict will be that the case is hopeless. Whatever happens something should be done now rather than let the organization just wither away as it now seems in danger of doing.

Observes 80th Anniversary

(Mrs. K. L. Oliver)

An anniversary service was held in the United Church of Canada at Granville Ferry on Sunday evening commemorating the 80th anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of the present church building.

The service was conducted by the minister, Rev. C. H. Gough, and guest speaker was Dr. A. G. Pentz, of Spryfield.

A special treat for lovers of good music was presented by members of Grace United Church of Digby who rendered three very fine selections and also led the congregation in the singing of the hymns. Miss Constance Kirkpatrick was the very efficient organist and the lovely voice of Mrs. J. M. Wallis was heard when she sang the solo in the closing anthem.

During the service a Hymn Board, given by Miss H. Laura Hardy and Mr. A. Stewart Saunders, was dedicated to the Glory of God by Rev. Mr. Gough.

The laying of the cornerstone of the then Methodist Church took place in 1878 but Bishop Inglis, in his diary, preserved in the Archives at Ottawa, tells of visiting Granville in 1788 and finding a thriving Methodist fellowship in the area.

At first Granville was part of the Annapolis Circuit, which extended from Waterville to Weymouth. As the work grew and ministers became available this large area was divided into several circuits, Annapolis Royal and Granville remaining together until 1871.

At this time Granville became a separate circuit with a resident minister. This arrangement continued for 70 years until in 1941 Granville Ferry and Annapolis Royal became one pastoral charge of the United Church of Canada. The pastoral charge in this area includes the United Churches at Port Wade, Port Royal and Perotte as well as Annapolis Royal and Granville Ferry.

The Methodist Church became the United Church of Canada on June 10th, 1925. Ministers serving the Granville Ferry church since that time are as follows: Revs. W. J. Dean, G. T. Bryant, E. W. Forbes, N. Cole, G. C. Quigley, E. M. Baird, N. A. MacLeod and C. H. Gough, the present minister.

The baby feels secure... but is he?

Family safety involves more than physical protection. There should be guaranteed financial security. Millions of Canadians get this through Life Insurance. They own more of this valuable property, in relation to national income, than any other people in the world.

Waste no time worrying about that small boy. He has a two-fisted grip on security. He belongs to a family which considers Life Insurance an essential part of its progress towards financial security.

Canada is rich in families that treasure life insurance as a present pledge and future promise of security obtained by their own initiative. Friendly, helpful agents have shown 7 1/2 million Canadians what a valuable property life insurance is. Every year an increasing number of families buy life insurance as their major source of family and personal security.

Nowadays, living policyholders receive 5 1/2 million dollars, every week, from the Life Insurance Companies in Canada.

STRAY BIRDS
None of these birds nest in Nova Scotia, though they seem to be appearing more and more frequently in this province.

During the period of their stay on the island, the party succeeded in placing numbered metal bands on 209 birds of 22 different kinds. This work is carried on under authority of government permits as a part of the society's studies of Nova Scotia birds.

One of the juncos, or gray birds which was banded on Briar Island by a similar field party in the fall of 1957 was later identified in New Jersey.

Anyone who may find a banded bird or its remains is asked to report it to the Canadian Wildlife Service, Ottawa, or to the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, Washington, D.C., stating the entire number on the band and the place and date of occurrence. Through such reports more accurate and certain knowledge of bird migrations and length of life is built up.

This year's party of the Nova Scotia Bird Society consisted of Wickerson Lent, Westport; Harrison F. Lewis, West Middle Sable; and Willett J. Mills, Halifax.

Weymouth Plant Officially Opened

"Disaster does not mean the end of a community," said Hon. Robert L. Stanfield, premier of Nova Scotia, in an address at the banquet honoring the employees of Weymouth Industries Ltd. Saturday following the official opening of the new furniture and boat building plant which replaces one completely destroyed by a disastrous fire last February.

Mr. Stanfield said, "Today the people of Springhill are on the minds of everyone and it is particularly appropriate that the reopening of this plant in Weymouth should be held at this particular stage in the unforgettable saga of Springhill."

No one knows what is ahead for Springhill, he said, but this event in Weymouth today shows that a community can go through a crisis and, through community spirit and determination and the co-operation of management and outside sources, see its only major industry, though completely destroyed, rehoused, re-established and rehabilitated.

"What is happening today here at Weymouth, the Premier said, will serve to remind those with any responsibility for the future of Springhill that disaster doesn't mean the end."

Mr. Stanfield paid tribute to the employees of Weymouth Industries Ltd., the people of the community, their leaders, and all others responsible for their "splendid example of co-operative effort."

"By your tenacity, your confidence and your co-operation you have done everything possible to deserve a prosperous future and my hope is that it will be yours," he said. "The message of what has been done here has wider implications to other areas of this province," he said.

In his address Mr. Stanfield also paid tribute to the directors of the crown corporation, Industrial Estates Ltd., for their co-operation with the local effort in providing a new, commodious steel structure to house the furniture and boat building departments of Weymouth Industries Ltd. "This marks the first completed factory erected by the corporation," he said.

Speaking again on the development in Weymouth, the Premier said it is just as important to help existing industry as it is to establish new ones. He said the developments in Weymouth through the re-establishment of (Please turn to page 10)

Whew! A Whoppa!

Guy Thomas, Marshalltown, brought to the Courier office what we consider a whoppa in turnips. The vegetable tipped the scales at 26 lbs. and measured thirty-six inches in circumference. Mr. Thomas says he had three turnips nearly the same size but the one above was just a bit larger than either of the others.

The turnips were grown on the Digby Municipal Home farm where Mr. and Mrs. Thomas have been in charge for a number of years. Planted last June, Mr. Thomas says he has been carefully watching the growth of the unusual turnips all through the summer.

Remember Miners At Service

A miner's lamp burned at Grace United Church on Sunday while Rev. James Brooks preached from Psalm 11, verse 3: "If the foundation be destroyed what can the righteous do?" Mr. Brooks went on to say, if the bottom falls out of life, what then? He said that there were always compensations for afflictions for God has a storehouse of graces, the door to which can only be opened through affliction. When we reach the bottom it is then we realize most the love of God for there is no one else to turn to. The people who suffer most, he said, often know most of the love of God.

The miner's lamp was one brought from England by Dr. T. W. Hodgson for Mr. Brooks. Both Mr. Brooks and Dr. Hodgson knew the perils of the mines from their own experience.

Mr. Brooks in his sermonette to the children told how the miner's lamp was invented following an explosion in the mines in Newcastle, England, and that a Rev. John Hodgson

Board Of Trade Executive Meets

The Digby Board of Trade will again press for early construction of a highway between this town and Shelburne at the upcoming meeting of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, scheduled for Annapolis Royal November 17th. It has been learned here following an executive meeting of the board Wednesday evening of last week.

A resolution was approved by the meeting for presentation at the AVABT meet, calling on the provincial government to construct the road to serve as an artery for the flow of farm produce to the Shelburne area of the south shore and for the shipment of fish and fish products through Digby for upper Canadian markets.

It was pointed out in the resolution survey work on the road should be put underway as soon as possible in order to tie in with plans of the Nova Scotia Power Commission for an access road to their Fourth Lake storage area which lies in the general direction the proposed road might take.

The resolution also pointed out such a highway as proposed would open up valuable timber stands in the interior of western Nova Scotia. It was noted also money has been made available to the provinces for the construction of such access roads.

Another resolution to be forwarded to the AVABT semi-annual meet by the Digby Board seeks the removal of "serious traffic hazards" on main highway No. 1 just west of the Victoria Bridge which crosses the Bear River. At this point several steep hills with blind corners exist on the highway. These have made for difficult driving conditions, especially during the winter and on one occasion a large transport loaded with fish rolled over the steep embankment on the river side of the highway.

This resolution also calls for action to deal with the traffic hazard which it claims is presented by the Victoria Bridge, which is a lengthy, single lane structure with curving approaches at either end.

A resolution calling for early establishment of a car ferry service across the Bay of Fundy from Saint John to Digby to handle trucks, busses and "piggy-back" transport was shelved by the meeting. Instead a motion was substituted asking that the secretary of the Digby Board write the AVABT secretary suggesting that Mr. J. C. McCuaig or some other senior representative of the CPR be asked to address the AVABT meeting on November 17th, outlining the progress of the railway's plans for dealing with the matter of proposed improvements to ferry service across the bay.

Sings Here

James Milligan, noted Canadian baritone, rendered a vocal selection at the 8:30 a.m. corporate communion service marking Laymen's Sunday at Trinity Church here on Sunday.

Mr. Milligan, who is a nephew of church warden Cecil Jones and Mrs. H. J. Anthony and Mrs. Louise Stephen, of Digby, also presented a concert in Bridgetown Monday evening.

Scarcely thirty, Mr. Milligan has gained great prominence in the world of music. For the past two seasons he has been filling a busy European schedule and capped an outstanding season this past summer when he joined England's famed Huddersfield Choir for a series of oratorios in Vienna under the baton of Sir Malcolm Sargent.

During the course of the 1958-59 season Mr. Milligan will join the Toronto Opera Company for "The Tales of Hoffman" in addition to a scheduled tour of the United States and Canada both in recital and with orchestra.

Born in Halifax, the son of a clergyman, Jim Milligan grew up in an unusually musical atmosphere. Both his parents had majored in voice and his older brothers and sisters also encouraged his interest in all the arts. A six-foot four inch star athlete, he still does considerable running to keep in shape.

Enrolling in Toronto's Royal Conservatory of Music in 1949, he has since studied in Munich and London and made his professional debut at Toronto's Massey Hall with the Toronto Symphony Orchestra and Mendelssohn Choir under Sir Ernest MacMillan's direction, and also at New York's famed Carnegie Hall. Former Metropolitan manager Edward Johnson predicted "James Milligan will go right to the top."

Letter to the Editor

Digby, N. S.,
Nov. 4, 1958.

Editor,
Digby Courier.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:
I was very much interested in your Editorial "What is happening" October 30th issue of the Courier.

It seems to me, the local Home and School organization now has an opportunity to perform a great service to the community, by sponsoring a certain much needed youth organization, the purpose of which concerns, and should be of interest to all of us. If the local H. S. organization will sponsor a branch or post of the organization known as "Allied Youth, Inc.," I have good reason to believe the Home and School organizations will increase public interest in itself.

Branches or Posts of Allied Youth are now established in between 27 and 30 schools throughout Nova Scotia, with a voluntary membership of over 3,000 students.

The writer was privileged to attend, for eight days, including evening classes, the School of Narcotic Studies, this last summer, which met in Halifax August 11-22, sponsored by the Nova Scotia Department of Education, Temperance Education Branch. It was, I think, the most interesting series of study classes that I ever attended, and it appeared to be very interesting to all present, regardless of how anyone there thought or felt about the subject.

Thirty-six persons registered for classes with an average attendance of 29, for a total of about 60 hours. Pine Hill Divinity Hall with the adjoining administration and class room building, afforded marvellous facilities for this school. The class, for its size, was very representative of community thought and life, being composed of men and women, young, middle-aged and old, of various denominations, both Catholic and Protestant, from clergy and laity, from professional, business, and armed service walks of life. These students came from different parts of Nova Scotia, one from Newfoundland. The teachers were from different parts of Canada and the U.S.A., and were of high quality, leaders in their field.

The school dealt mostly with the alcohol problem, with several very enlightening lectures on the use of tobacco. Some mention was made of other narcotics.

Erect Cross In Remembrance

A beautifully symbolic display pointing up the significance of the act of remembrance has been erected in the lobby of the Capitol Theatre here as part of the current poppy campaign of the Digby Branch Canadian Legion, BESL.

Backed by simulated stained glass windows representative of the three services, the display features a memorial altar with an open book of remembrance.

Central in the display is a large white cross which it is hoped will be covered before Remembrance Day with a blanket of red poppies marking the

Resignation Accepted

The resignation of Gordon R. Turnbull as Mayor of Digby was accepted at Monday night's council meeting.

Mr. Turnbull, whose term of office had another year to run, stated in his letter of resignation, read by the town clerk, that pressure of personal business and increasing demands on his time by civic affairs was the reason for his retirement.

In his letter, Mr. Turnbull expressed his thanks and appreciation to the council for their co-operation during the years he had been in office. He stated he had enjoyed the experience and regretted the necessity for his resignation. He paid tribute to the town staff for their co-operation also.

Mayor Turnbull's resignation leaves the office of Mayor vacant as of Monday night. Nominations for the office as well as for three new councillors will be held from November 11th to November 18th. Retiring from council are councillors Donald Amiraault, Dr. D. G. Black and L. M. Saunders. Dr. Black, who is deputy mayor, will preside at council sessions until the first of the year.

Prayers For Springhill People

At the worship services held last Sunday in the Digby and Hill Grove Baptist churches special prayers were offered by the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, on behalf of the bereaved and the injured in the Springhill mine disaster. It was also announced that a special offering will be taken next Sunday for the Springhill Relief Fund when contributions from members of the congregation may be received. The pastor reported that $1,000.00 had already been contributed to this fund from the Maritime Baptist Conventions' Missionary & Maintenance Fund and in addition $500.00 had been contributed to assist in the relief of needy families of the Springhill Baptist congregation.

Rev. Earle DeLong, who is now pastor of the Springhill church, and formerly pastor of the Digby Baptist church, reports that 23 of the missing miners were members or adherents of his congregation.

donations of the people of the area to the welfare work of the Canadian Legion here.

Legion members will be on duty in the theatre lobby to receive the donations and assist in pinning the poppies to the cross of remembrance.

New Machine Installed

The new Ludlow makes it possible for the Courier to provide marked improvement in its typesetting facilities as it makes available a variety of type faces for advertisements, display work and job work, many of which had to be handset previously and which required keeping on hand or securing expensive "fonts" of handset type.

With the Ludlow it is possible to secure new, clean type for every job. This type is melted down and re-cast as it is needed for other work. The machine makes use of "mats" similar to those used on the linotype and it is possible to secure a wide variety of type faces for every use.

At the moment only a limited number of fonts of mats has been secured but it is planned to add to these as rapidly as possible.

"Duff"
The youngest provincial premier in Canada's history is "Duff" Roblin of Manitoba. He is 43. Roblin wrote lately "When I started on my political career I would begin with wine at the priest's house, home-brew at the first farm house I came upon and straight whiskey in the merchant's office. I would be tiddly by noon. So I became a total abstainer".

To Dedicate New Building

The new administration and classroom building constructed during the summer and fall at the Atlantic Christian Training Centre at Tatamagouche will be officially opened and dedicated on November 11th at 3:30 p.m. This functional building is already becoming a landmark on the Sunrise Trail and people from many parts of the Maritimes, Newfoundland and the Gaspé have visited it during the past months. It will house chapel and library, offices, classrooms, lounge, kitchen, assembly-dining-room, crafts room and storage.

The Atlantic Christian Training Centre is one of four lay training centres across Canada operated by the United Church for the purpose of furthering Christian education and fellowship among volunteer church workers. It provides a five-month winter course and a series of shorter courses during spring, summer and fall. The expansion of the Centre is being made possible by the gifts of United Churches and church people in the Atlantic area presently engaged in a $150,000 Building Fund Campaign.

Rev. J. D. MacLeod, D.D., of Scotsburn, N. S., President of the Maritime Conference of the United Church of Canada, will be guest speaker at the service. The ceremony will be presided over by Rev. A. N. Holmes, of Harbour Grace, Newfoundland, President of the Newfoundland Conference. A buffet supper will be served by the Truro Presbytery Woman's Association following the dedication service.

Artist Will Be In Yarmouth

The Community Concert Association will present the second Concert of the 1958-59 series on November 5th in the Yarmouth High School Auditorium.

James Milligan, baritone, will be the artist. Mr. Milligan grew up in an unusually musical atmosphere. His father, the late Reverend Frank Milligan, was a clergyman who had studied voice to overcome a stammer in the pulpit, and developed a fine lyric baritone. His mother, too, had majored in voice, and both parents encouraged his interest in all the arts.

In the fall of 1955 James Milligan, with the blessing of family and friends, set off for Switzerland where he entered the annual International Competition at Geneva, carrying off first prize. He is the first Canadian ever to earn this coveted prize.

Former Metropolitan Opera manager Edward Johnson predicted: James Milligan will go right to the top.

Mr. Milligan is a nephew of Mrs. Helen Anthony and will visit with Mrs. Anthony during his tour of Western Nova Scotia.

AN AUTUMN SALAD

In another column of today's Courier there is a story about a large turnip sent to the Editor. Now we report that Mr. Everett Chalmers, of Bear River, brought the Courier on Tuesday a beautiful bunch of radish ion following the dedication service.

Topic Is Alaska

Mrs. James Brooks gave an interesting and comprehensive study on Alaska at a meeting of the W.M.S. of Grace United Church on Tuesday. She gave the historical background and a geographical outline of the country and proceeded to tell of the church history beginning in 1877 when the Presbyterian people saw the need of a church mission for the natives. They were followed by the Episcopal, Methodist, Roman Catholic and Baptist, until in 1956 there were 9 different churches and sects established there. An Alaska Association of Churches was formed to provide a vehicle through which churches could accomplish co-operatively what it would be impossible for them to do individually.

One of the problems facing the church in Alaska is the mobility of the population due to the service personnel and seasonal employment.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Burton Fleet. Plans were made for the Christmas program with Mrs. Elton Arnold and Mrs. Oakley Turnbull as conveners. It was decided each member would decorate the Christmas tree with a stocking containing fifty cents besides the regular Christmas offering.

Mrs. John Russell was named to convene the nominating committee.

picked from his garden that day.

COMPRESSION RATIOS

If you take a coil spring and step on it, it's obvious that the further you press it down the further it will jump when you let go.

Much the same thing happens when the piston of an automobile engine compresses the mixture of air and fuel into a tight little space in the cylinder before it is burned. In the past few years, automobile engines have been compressing the fuel-and-air mixture tighter and tighter (therefore being called high-compression engines) and we have heard more and more about compression ratios.

Eight years ago the average compression ratio in our cars was 7 to 1. Each seven cubic inches of air and fuel was compressed into one cubic inch before the spark plug ignited it. This year, the average is closer to 9 to 1.

This increase is important because high-compression engines give more power from a pound of fuel than low-compression engines. A high-compression engine gives more pickup and greater speed but at the same time offers the seeming impossibility of greater economy too.

Compression becomes important when it comes time for fall check-up. For if you have sticky valves or piston rings or leaky gaskets or several other faults, the car will lose the advantage of the compression the builder designed into it. You'll be wasting the power of today's high-octane gasolines designed for high-compression engines.

So a fundamental part of the fall check-up we'll give your car is a compression test. It will determine whether compression is up to par and whether compression in each of the cylinders is pretty well equal. You'd be amazed how much you can tell about a car from a compression check.

Going Into The Hog Business

C. A. Douglas, Director of Extension Services, and Ross Hill, president of the Nova Scotia Federation of Agriculture, have just returned from a four-day trip to Western Nova Scotia and their story, upon their return to Truro, is that there has never been such interest in hogs as there appears to be right now.

Many who used to keep one or two sows are now keeping a dozen, and some are even more than that. For the first time, it seems that farmers are going into the hog business on a commercial scale and that they realize that in order to adopt this practice, volume production is of prime necessity. There was a time, and not too of Hectanooga, for a few days. Mrs. Leigh Sabine, Mrs. J. W. Sabine and Mabel Comeau, of Southville, were also recent guests of Miss Taylor.

Francis Sabine, nurse-in-training at Yarmouth hospital, spent the holiday weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sabine.

many years ago, that some people fooled around with a few hens, but it was not until farmers decided that volume production was important that the industry achieved its stature as one of the most important sidelines of provincial agriculture. In fact, in a good many cases, it is not a sideline, but the prime farm enterprise.

the furniture and boat building plant and the multi-million dollar hydro power development now under way on the Sissiboo River, near Weymouth, should do much to establish confidence in the western end of the province.

"In Yarmouth, he said, we have seen the old trend of closing plants here and taking them away reversed. Cosmos Imperial Mills have closed their plant in Ontario and moved to Yarmouth."

Mr. Stanfield was introduced to the gathering by Hon. M. S. Leonard, minister of education and welfare. Dr. H. J. Pothier, Weymouth Village commissioner and board of trade executive, expressed thanks of the meeting to the speakers.

Chairman of the luncheon session was Frank Gupill of Halifax, president of Weymouth Industries Ltd. In his remarks Mr. Gupill paid high tribute to the great spirit of co-operation shown by the firm's employees and the people of Weymouth and area in efforts to get the plant going again. "It was this spirit of co-operation," he said, "that made us decide to rebuild in Weymouth." He traced the plant's history and said when the fire occurred, just as the business seemed on the way to success after weathering many difficulties, it was almost like a last straw. Through the co-operation of our employees, the people of this village and Industrial Estates Limited we are back in operation again, he said. He said while it might not be possible for a while to employ as many as before the fire, every effort would be made to increase the working force as quickly as this is possible.

Other speakers at the luncheon included Major Stanfield, who spearheaded the community's effort to get the plant re-established. "The team work was terrific," he said, "but I did not know until now our efforts to the company of assistance in rebuilding had been so influential in their decision." He thanked everyone for their efforts and "last but not least, the craftsmen without whose skills this industry would not be possible."

Deputy Municipal Warden H. E. Lewis also paid tribute to the efforts of the community in getting the plant back in operation.

Prior to the luncheon, which was held in the auditorium of the recently constructed Wey-

That there is a serious and growing beverage alcohol problem today for many people, much of which is hidden from others, seemed to be well established in the minds of those present, by learning factual knowledge from best authorities. A considerable number of people believe, one of the best ways to attack this problem is, through the Allied Youth Program, and one that contains our greatest hope for the future.

The writer wishes to suggest that the Home and School Organization of Digby and area, arrange to have a meeting in the near future, with Mr. D. R. Gilchrist, Supervisor of Temperance Education for Nova Scotia, and at the same time, if possible, have some representation from Allied Youth, for the purpose of telling about the Allied Youth Program and purpose. If and when this meeting does take place, and it is greatly hoped it will, it is also hoped it will result in this area having an Allied Youth Post as soon as possible. In many communities in parts of the U.S.A. and Nova Scotia, AY has now become the most popular and important Club in school.

The following is the history of Allied Youth Inc. as given in the Sponsor's Manual:

"Allied Youth was organized in the early 1930's by Dr. Daniel A. Poling and a group of other national leaders who felt that a new approach to the alcohol problem was needed. It was decided that the new approach should work chiefly with young people, that it should use the methods of education and recreation, and that it should be positive. Allied Youth was the result.

Since the beginning, Allied Youth has been non-political. Allied Youth is non-sectarian, welcoming into its membership young people of all groups regardless of their faith. It sets no scholastic, economic, or social standard for membership. The only requirement is that the member be seriously concerned about the drinking problem, be willing to make a careful study of that problem, and be interested in seeking ways to live a full, satisfying life without alcohol.

Allied Youth has always avoided an over-emotional, un-mouth Regional High School, the official opening of the new Weymouth Industries Ltd. plant was held.

Young People Into Fall Program

Activities among the young people of the Digby Baptist Church are getting away to a good start with the advent of the Fall season.

The C.G.I.T. group of 16 girls, under the leadership of Mrs. Alfred Marshall and assisted by Miss Marilyn Clayton, are holding weekly meetings. On a recent evening a Halloween party was held in the church vestry. Rev. H. S. Hartlin and Mrs. Hartlin were guests.

The Explorer group, numbering about 20 girls, are holding meetings on Friday afternoons with Mrs. Paul Snow and Mrs. Charles Hersey as leaders.

On Monday evening of this week about 15 young people met with the pastor for the purpose of considering the organization of the B.Y.P.U. It was decided to hold weekly meetings on Wednesday night, and plans were made for the election of officers and committees.

It is also planned to reorganize the Tyro group of boys in the near future. Plans are under way for the re-assembling of the Junior Choir.

Service Held At County Home

On Thanksgiving weekend the churches of the Digby Neck services. The churches at Centreville and Rosaway were beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and flowers, and arranged with fruits and vegetables donated by many of the members.

Most of the contributions of fruit and vegetables were later taken to the hospital at Digby where they were gratefully received, and deep appreciation was expressed by the management for them.

On the following Sunday, immediately after the service at Roxville, a number of members from the pastorate went to the Municipal Home at Marshalltown, where a service was conducted by the Rev. D. I. McClure. After the service candy and fruit were passed around to all the folk at the home. This was supplied by members from the visiting field.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young and son, of Union, New Jersey, were visiting Mrs. Young's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Weir.

Kings College Receives Gifts

A beautiful gold chalice and paten have been anonymously donated to the University of King's College in memory of Mrs. Florence Hickson Forrester, who died in 1954. The two Communion pieces were dedicated at an 8:30 a.m. Holy Communion service on Sunday by Rev. R. H. Waterman, Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia.

In announcing this gift, Canon H. L. Puxley, president of the University, said, "it is with a feeling of deep appreciation that I announce this donation, which will be a beautiful memorial to a gracious lady, who did a great deal to enable students in Canada and the United States to pursue their education and realize their ambitions."

"This is a unique memorial to a remarkable benefactress of higher education. We at King's are most fortunate to have such an interesting memorial and hold sacred the memory of Mrs. Forrester in whose name it is given."

Both the chalice and the paten are patterned after similar items found in the tomb of Hubert Walter, an Archbishop of Canterbury in the 13th century. This Archbishop had attended the Crusades with Richard the Lionheart in 1190, was one of those who negotiated with Saladin, King of the Saracens, and led the first party of pilgrims to enter the Holy Sepulchre. He later presided at the coronation of King John.

The original chalice and paten have been kept in Canterbury Cathedral Treasury ever since they were taken from the Archbishop's tomb.

Two replicas of this chalice and paten are in existence today: one of which is made of silver and was presented to Trinity Church, New York, on the occasion of its 250th anniversary in 1947, by the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Christ, Canterbury. The second replica, in gold, will reside at the University of King's College. This gift to King's was made in Canada and is insured for $1300.

Florence Hickson Forrester was the daughter of a prominent New Brunswick lumber merchant and Conservative, William A. Hickson, of Newcastle. She was born at Chatman, N.B., and was educated in Toronto. In 1923, she married the Rev. Dr. Donald F. Forrester, who lectured at General Theological Seminary, New York. Dr. Forrester, now retired, resides in Weymouth North.

Dr. and Mrs. Forrester lived in New York for 30 years and during this time Mrs. Forrester did a great deal of work in church societies. She became widely known as a trustee of several foundations and as an officer of many societies. Her generosity in assisting promising young students who could not afford to obtain their education, was outstanding.

Dr. and Mrs. Forrester spent their summers in Weymouth and since his retirement Dr. Forrester has been living here.

MREC Convention
At Hillsburn

The 1958 Convention of the Maritime Religious Education Council for Annapolis-Granville District was held in the United Baptist Church at Hillsburn, Annapolis County, on Thursday, October 30th, with afternoon and evening sessions.

Rev. John MacLeod, pastor of the Lower Granville Baptist pastorate, acted as president and introduced the Convention Leader, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, pastor of the Baptist Church in Digby.

Donald Armstrong, Superintendent of the Sunday School at Granville Beach, led the afternoon Devotional, with prayer by Rev. MacLeod.

A nominating committee of Mrs. Harold Kaye, Hillsburn, and Mrs. Harry Burnie and Mrs. Donald Turner, of Litchfield, was appointed to bring in a slate of officers for the coming year.

Roll call was responded to by delegates representing the various Sunday Schools in their respective districts, namely: Annapolis Royal, Granville Ferry, Granville Beach, Hillsburn, Port Wade, Litchfield, Parker's Cove and Lake Brook Sunday Schools at Victoria Beach, Port Royal, Granville Centre, Round Hill and Milford were not represented.

Mrs. K. L. Oliver, Granville Ferry, District secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting which was held at Round Hill in November, 1957. Mrs. Oliver also gave the financial report, in the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. Chester A. Nauss, Granville Ferry.

The theme of the afternoon meeting was "Worship in the Sunday School" and in the evening "What is Teaching?" Rev. Hartlin, who for the past eleven years has been pastor of the Baptist Church in Lancaster, N.B., proved an excellent leader, he having served as a former MacLeod.

The evening session was brought to a close with the hymn "Happy The Home When God Is There", with the benediction pronounced by Rev. MacLeod.

president of the MREC in Saint John and for several years was recording secretary.

Rev. Hartlin stressed four points as fundamental qualifications for a good teacher in the Sunday School, namely: A Good Christian; Know your Bible; Love your pupil, and get to know and understand him; and lastly, Seek to improve your mind by reading good religious books, at least one a year.

A most interesting Buzz Session was held both afternoon and evening which was followed by lively discussions with Rev. Hartlin offering helpful suggestions and important assistance to the teacher.

Besides Rev. MacLeod and Rev. Hartlin, other members of the clergy present were Rev. Cyril H. Gough, Annapolis Royal; Rev. Frank Smith, Deep Brook; Lic. Lloyd Leadbeater, Parker's Cove, and Rev. Carroll R. Armstrong, Annapolis Royal. The evening session was opened by Mr. J. A. Dalton, superintendent of the Baptist Sunday School, Annapolis Royal, with prayer by Lic. Leadbeater.

J. P. Littlewood, superintendent of the Granville Ferry Baptist-United Sunday School, on behalf of the Courtesy Committee, expressed thanks to Rev. Hartlin for his splendid leadership, and appreciation to the ladies of the Hillsburn church for their warm welcome and cordial hospitality during the supper hour.

The evening session was brought to a close with the hymn "Happy The Home When God Is There", with the benediction pronounced by Rev. MacLeod.

65 Years Married

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney S. McDermand (originally "McDormand") of Port Burwell, Ontario, recently celebrated their sixty-fifth wedding anniversary. Many friends called to see them during the day to show their affection for one of the best-known families in the Aylmer-Port Burwell area.

Living on what is still known locally as "Nova Scotia Street", Mr. McDermand is a descendant of Rev. William McDormand, who, with a band of settlers from Digby Co., Nova Scotia, took up land grants in the Port Burwell district about 1821. William McDormand was ordained at an Association meeting at Stoney Creek, near Annapolis Royal, N. S., to fit him to serve as pastor of the migrating group. McConnells, Chutes and Timpanys still live in the Port Burwell area, recalling in their names the hardy pioneers whose names they bear.

S. S. McDermand served one term as a member of the Ontario Legislature. He has for many years been either president or secretary of several co-operative fire and general insurance companies of southwestern Ontario. He and Mrs. McDermand have been devoted members of the Lakeview Baptist Church, near Port Burwell, for many years, being honored with the various offices to which the Church calls its people.

The McDormands of Bear River and Westport are relatives of Mr. McDermand, and Dr. T. B. McDormand, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. McDormand, of Bear River, and now General Secretary of the Baptist Federation of Canada, calls on the McDermands from time to time. The family Bible in the McDermand household spells the name "McDormand" (as it should be) until about 1860 when it becomes "McDermand" by one of those accidents of history which have changed many names (such as the instance of Rev. D. F. MacDormand and of Truro, brother of the writer of this item, and, indeed, others of the family, using "Mac" despite the fact that their father spelled it "Mc").

Digby Red Cross Holds Annual

For the twentieth successive year, Dr. T. W. Hodgson was re-elected President of the Red Cross Branch at the Annual Meeting held at the Court House, Digby. Other officers included Mrs. A. J. Dillon, 1st Vice President; Rev. James Pike, 2nd Vice President; Mrs. Elton Arnold, Secretary; Mrs. B. H. Ruggles, Treasurer; Mrs. Allen Harris, Assistant Secretary Treasurer.

Commissioner C. L. Illsley of Halifax, who was to have been guest speaker at the meeting, had been called to Springhill and could not be present, but Dr. Hodgson called upon Captain Bradley of the Salvation Army, recently returned from the mine disaster, to report briefly on the work being carried on by the various relief agencies represented at Springhill. Captain Bradley stated that there was wonderful co-operation among the different groups working there, each sharing their equipment with the others. This time the Civil Defence headed up the organizations and allotted a specific task to each group, so that a much more efficient and effective service was rendered to everyone involved in the disaster and rescue work.

The report of the Women's Work Committee, presented by Mrs. H. M. Warne, showed a total of 915 articles made during the year, of which 137 were kept in Digby for local use. Live Mink Show Held Four hundred and eighty-eight mink in eleven different classes have been entered by the 27 exhibitors in this year's live mink show at Little Brook, sponsored by the Nova Scotia Mink Breeders Association. The show got underway Tuesday morning following entry and caging of exhibits Monday afternoon.

Austin Mullen, of Havelock, Digby County, president of the association, stated this year's show is "the best ever." He said entries this year were up from other years with all areas of the province, including Cape Breton, represented and the quality showing marked improvement. Three exhibitors are also present from New Brunswick.

Mr. Mullen, who has some 1,800 pelts at his ranch in Havelock, stated the market for mink furs is fairly good. There was no carry over from last year, he said, and demand has been good. He stressed the need for maintaining quality at a high level as this affects price and said the annual mink show did much to develop quality through the friendly competition it engenders.

The mink industry is a "natural" for Nova Scotia, Mr. Mullen said, as it makes use of the waste products of the fishing industry for feed and also is a source of "new money" for the province's economy as most of the markets for pelts are in Montreal and Ontario.

Started in 1938, the annual mink show has shown improvement every year. This year for the first time an exhibit of dressed pelts has been included in the show as well as exhibits of mink ranching equipment.

Judges for this year's show are George Harris and William MacFarlane of the Hudson's Bay Co. Ltd. Also taking part is A. Cleven, also of the Hudson's Bay Company.

Judging continued through Wednesday with the grand champion and reserve being picked in the afternoon. The annual meeting of the association was held and the annual banquet and dance brought the show to a close. A feature of the evening's program was a fur fashion show featuring mink coats, stoles, capes and scarves at the Clare district high school in Meteghan River.

More than twenty-three regular members of the Ladies' Hospital Aid and several visitors met at the home of Mrs. A. J. Dillon on Monday night for the regular business meeting of that organization.

A footstool, made and donated to the Aid by Mr. Eli Comeau, was acknowledged. Mrs. V. G. Again Heads N. S. Weeklies

Above is Mrs. J. M. Wallis, editor of The Digby Courier, who on Friday was named president of the Nova Scotia Weekly Newspapers Association. Mrs. Wallis became president for the second term when the association met in annual session at the Nova Scotia Hotel, Halifax, Frank Burns, Kentville, was named vice-president, and Jack Allbon, Springhill, was re-elected secretary-treasurer after serving in that capacity for several years.

The editors and publishers assembled on Friday morning when teams were made up to tour the city, making good will calls on advertising agencies and business houses. Reports given at a later meeting revealed the splendid regard held for Nova Scotia weeklies by the business men and the high value placed on the weeklies as a medium for advertising. The purely local readership value was stressed as an asset to the advertiser and the fact that the weekly remained around the home to be referred to again and again was counted of extreme value. It was estimated that the weeklies in Nova Scotia have about 90,000 subscribers and more than three hundred thousand readers. Figures from other sources estimated that each copy of a weekly paper is kept around the house an average of two weeks, it is looked over by each reader on an average of three times and each reader spends an average of fifty minutes with the home-town paper.

At one o'clock in the afternoon the weekly publishers were entertained at luncheon by the Department of Trade and Industry when the Hon. Richard Donahoe, Q.C., Minister of Health and Attorney General for the province, was guest speaker.

Matters of mutual interest to the editors occupied the afternoon business session.

The annual dinner was held on Friday evening when Hugh McCormick, Montreal, president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, spoke on the national situation of the weeklies and urged that more effort be put into soliciting national advertising through C.W.N.A. to combat increasing costs and declining profits.

William Telfer, Toronto, managing director of C.W.N.A., gave many pointers to the members for improving the value of the weeklies, one of which was the non-acceptance of poor quality advertising whereby readers might suffer loss through unscrupulous advertisers.

Jack Brayley, of Canadian Press and commentator of the Neighbourly News radio program, Halifax, in an address, praised the leadership of the weeklies which does much to demand respect and prestige. He spoke particularly of the Springhill Record which has shown so much courage and faith in the town in which it is published when others outside talk gloom and despair.

The speakers were introduced by Mr. Burns, Mrs. Wallis and Ralph Morton, Dartmouth. Fred Beattie, Annapolis Royal, thanked the speakers. The report of the resolutions committee was presented by Victor Marchant, Oxford.

Gifts for the ladies present were packages of hasty notes decorated with Scottish dancers designed by Mrs. D. G. Garnhum, Halifax, the former Janet Wallis, Digby.

Hospital Plan For Everyone

Designed to assure hospital services to all Nova Scotians, the Hospital Insurance Plan which goes into effect on January 1, 1959, will accomplish that purpose is the belief of the Hospital Insurance Commission. There will, however, be a need for insured persons, doctors and hospitals to cooperate in using the facilities of hospitals (and this was made emphatic) only for the purpose for which they are intended — the necessary hospital care of the sick. By abuse of the plan people could still be deprived of the care planned for them. These were the expressions made to newspaper, radio and television personnel at a press conference followed by a dinner held by the Commission at the Nova Scotia Hotel, Halifax, on Saturday. The importance of the public to be informed on the Hospital Plan was stressed and the commission which started its publicity campaign on Saturday is utilizing every medium: radio, T.V., newspapers and brochures, to disseminate information, it was learned. The commission is relying on the people of the province and the doctors to guard against the unscrupulous who would take advantage.

The chairman of the Commission, Mr. Rod McD. Black, L.L.B., introduced the Honourable Robert L. Stanfield, Premier of Nova Scotia, who explained the main reasons for introducing the hospital plan, including the fact that because of advancement in science, hospitalization had become expensive and many people were denied the best because of inability to pay. In the plan which comes into effect on January 1st, none will be deprived because of inability to pay, the Premier said.

Dr. G. G. Simms, in outlining the mechanical aspects of the plan, said that residents of Nova Scotia eligible to derive benefits from the Plan include:

- (a) Residents who work across the Nova Scotia border in another province or state;
- (b) Residents who are temporarily outside Nova Scotia.

Not included are:

- (a) Persons who work in Nova Scotia but do not reside in this province;
- (b) Tourists, transients, and visitors to Nova Scotia;
- (c) Persons who have resided in Nova Scotia for less than three months, immediately before receipt of services;

Stewardship Theme Of Conference

The Christian church in its work in underdeveloped countries must not act for ulterior motives, stated Rev. Rhodes Cooper, rector of St. Philip's Church, Halifax, in an address to some sixty delegates attending the rural-decanal conference of the Anglican deanery of Annapolis in Granville Ferry on Thursday night. Represented at the meeting were Anglican parishes from Middleton to Weymouth.

We must not operate on the theory of going into underdeveloped countries that if we get there first the Communists won't, Mr. Cooper said. Instead our work must truly reflect our concern for others and they must see the love of God emanating from us. He said the church should help the people of these countries to help themselves. Our task could be termed the work of hypodermic and plow, he said.

Speaking of the task of the church both at home and abroad Mr. Cooper said that while the church was alive and aware of the society in which we live and of the increasing demands this society presents these demands cannot be met unless church people respond to the call of stewardship.

In Nova Scotia alone, Mr. Cooper said, about half the Anglican parishes are receiving aid from the diocesan mission board. A growing need exists also in a number of areas of the province for the expansion of the church, he said. New churches are needed in Truro, Kingston, Sydney and the Halifax-Dartmouth area. The great need, though, he said, is for more young men to enter the ministry. Eight of the existing parishes will be vacant this winter, he said, because of lack of clergymen to fill them.

Remembrance Day Marked In Digby

The chilling wind, threatening sky and intermittent snow which usually is a feature of Remembrance Day here, were present Tuesday as Digby citizens gathered in their annual Remembrance Day observance.

Despite the somewhat inclement weather a large number of veterans, members of "C" Company WNSR, Girl Guides, Boy Scouts and members of the Legion Auxiliary turned out for the parade to the war memorial and the services there. Accompanying the parade was the WNSR band. Digby Legion president, R. O. Wright, was in charge of the ceremonies.

Following the two minutes silence and the playing of the Last Post and Reveille wreaths were placed on the monument. The Canadian Legion wreath, in memory of fallen comrades, was placed by Mr. George Cardoza. Hon. M. S. Leonard placed the provincial government wreath and the town of Digby wreath was placed by Councilor J. W. Christie.

A large number of wreaths in memory of local men who gave their lives in war and veterans who have died were placed on the base of the memorial by members of the local branch of the Legion and by family relatives.

The prayer of invocation at the beginning of the Remembrance Day service was given by Legion chaplain William Barton, and the address was given by Captain Clarence Bradley of the local Salvation Army corps. At the close of the service the salute at the march past was taken by Rufus Connor, a Royal Navy veteran.

Speaker at the annual Remembrance Day banquet of the Canadian Legion Tuesday night was Rev. E. Sigston, Anglican padre at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis. More than 100 Legion members, their wives and Auxiliary members were present for the banquet.

LAUGH AND LIVE LONGER

If laughter could be ordered at the chemists, any doctor would prescribe many laughs every day. A dose of laughter is a combination of stimuli like that of vitamin tablets plus the relaxation of bromides. Laughter is exercise for the diaphragm, which is neglected in most exercises except deep breathing.

If you could x-ray yourself when you laugh, you would see astonishing results, writes Helen Christine Bennett, in "Recreation." Your diaphragm goes down, down, and your lungs expand. You are taking in more oxygen than usual and that oxygen passes into the blood exposed in your lungs. As you laugh, the rate of exposure to oxygen is doubled or trebled. A surge of power runs from head to toes.

"Few people realize that health actually varies according to the amount of laughter," says Dr. James J. Walsh. "So

Faith is not a matter of the head alone, nor of the heart alone, nor of any part of the spiritual man taken by itself. It is something which belongs to the whole spiritual character, and which affects every part of it. Sometimes it is intellectual, and then it embodies itself in the formation of or the assent to creeds. Sometimes it is emotional, and then it shows itself in the strong love and loyalty towards God. Sometimes it is volitional, and shows itself by acts of deeds of charity and self-sacrifice. But in each case it is the act of the whole man, and not of any separate part of him, which is, let me say in passing, good philosophy as well as sound theology. — F. Reiton, The Free Methodist.

does recovery. People who laugh actually live longer than those who do not laugh." —Exchanges.

A strong plea was voiced by Mr. Cooper for Anglicans to make greater use of their time, talents and treasure in the work of the church. He pointed out that in the United States per capita giving to churches had dropped from 4.5% of income in 1931 to 2.7% in 1956. He stated it is necessary for both clergy and lay leaders to give real leadership promoting the work of the church and he urged that every member of the church seek out a job in the church that he could do and do it. He also urged that every effort be made to get the unchurched into the church. He quoted Rev. A. S. Hart, chairman of the Bishop's committee on stewardship, who said, "The ministry to the unchurched is everybody's business," and said this was far too often left to the clergy alone.

Second speaker at the conference, which was chaired by the Rural Dean, Rev. J. S. Sherren, was Kenneth Macmillan of Sackville. Mr. Macmillan pointed out only a fair share of the church's income belongs to the local parish. He said the successful prosecution of the church's duty could not be accomplished until tithing was practised throughout.

Following the speakers two resolutions were presented to the meeting. First of these called on the conference to endorse the principle of the Bishop's committee on stewardship and the urging of a vigorous stewardship campaign in all the parishes of the diocese this fall. The second called for the appointment of a continuing committee on stewardship in the diocese.

After group discussion on these resolutions and other questions the resolutions were unanimously adopted. Appointed to the diocesan stewardship committee were Rev. J. R. MacMahon, Rev. T. D. Haviland, Rev. W. E. Jefferson, Clare Ruggles, Victor Cardoza and Reuben Mervin.

Prior to the diocesan conference delegates were served a supper by the combined guilds of the Granville parish.

Christmas Seals To Be Mailed

On Monday, November 17th, nearly two thousand of the new familiar T. B. Christmas Seals will be distributed through the mails to the residents of the town of Digby by the Digby branch of the Nova Scotia Tuberculosis Association. During the past week envelopes were addressed, sheets of seals and letters folded prior to mailing. Some time following the mail distribution of the seals canvassers will call on all those who were mailed the seals for their donation.

Canada's annual campaign to raise funds for prevention of tuberculosis is carried on by some 190 different TB Associations. Some of them are city associations, some county, some provincial. The campaign goes on from Newfoundland to Vancouver Island at the same time, but each association keeps its own money and devotes it to tuberculosis prevention in the area where it was given.

"We have made so much progress against tuberculosis that we find it hard to believe that every hour of the day, right through the year, there is another new case of tuberculosis in Canada," said Victor Cardoza, president of the Digby branch of the T. B. Association. That should convince us that we still have a long way to go in prevention."

"It takes quite a bit of money to prevent tuberculosis," said Mr. Cardoza, "but it costs a great deal more not to prevent it, any place from five to ten times as much. Most of us are spurred on to help with prevention because it is humane, we want to save illness and the worry that goes with it. In the long run prevention is a money saver, which is another reason for buying Christmas Seals."

S.S Teachers Leadership School Planned

The Digby Neck Sunday School Convention was held at Centreville recently, with Mrs. I. H. Worthylake, Rossaway, in the chair. The Convention leader, representing the M.R.E.C., was Rev. J. W. Scott, Bear River, who gave very able leadership.

At the afternoon session the discussion topic was "Worship in the Sunday School", and many valuable points were raised to help leaders in the conduct of the Sunday School worship period. At the close of the afternoon session, and again before the evening session, Rev. B. D. McMartin, of Weymouth, played tape recordings which he made at the Maritime Sunday School Convention at Kentville. For the evening session Mr. Scott introduced the theme "What is Teaching?" which was considered in its different aspects by discussion groups.

During the business period it was proposed that a Leadership Training course should be conducted for the benefit of Sunday School workers. This is to take the form of a three-evening course, to be held at Waterford, November 18, 19, 20, at 7:30 p.m., and is open to anyone interested. There will be a registration fee of 50 cents.

The course will include a study of "Jesus as Teacher" and a filmstrip study. The leaders will be Rev. C. T. Olmstead, Rev. B. D. McMartin and Rev. D. I. McClure.

The officers appointed for the coming year are Mrs. Roy Cameron, Centreville, President; Mrs. Kenneth Merritt, Mink Cove, Vice President; and Mrs. E. Mitchell, Sandy Cove, Secretary-Treasurer.

GRANVILLE FERRY

Graves, left on Monday, Nov. 3, for Sackville where she will be a guest at the United Church Senior Citizens Home. Mrs. Hemmeon was accompanied to Sackville by Rev. Cyril H. W.M.S. HAS ANNUAL CRUSADE MEETING

The Bear River W.M.S. entertained the W.M.S. groups from Clementville, Bear River East, Smith's Cove, Deep Brook and Clementsport at a Crusade meeting on Thursday evening, November 6th in the vestry of the Baptist Church. The president, Mrs. Cleveland Dukeshire, opened the meeting and welcomed the guests. The devotion- al period, conducted by Mrs. Stanley Sabean, was based on the theme "She hath done what she could." Mrs. Sabean made reference to various women mentioned in the Bible and pointed out how each, with varying gift, had done what she could by giving of her best to God. Prayer was offered by Mrs. William Scott.

The program for the evening was under the direction of Mrs. Fred Rice. A poem was read by Mrs. Marshall Wheelhouse of Bear River East. The Harris Trio, consisting of Mrs. James Harris, Mrs. Ira Harris and Miss Sheila Harris, sang a selection.

A Home Mission play in two acts, entitled "The Upper Sash" was presented by the Bear River W.M.S. The cast for the play consisted of Mrs. Lila Purdy, Mrs. Maurice Dunn, Mrs. Ross McCormick and Mrs. William Scott. Following the play, Miss Patricia Dukeshire sang "The Stranger of Galilee."

The Canadian Baptist Foreign Mission Board film "Telegraph Trophy" was shown. This beautiful sound color film depicts the story of the conversion from among the Telegu people of an Indian Hindu. In spite of severe persecution and much trial and testing he remained steadfast and victorious in his Christian faith.

The evening closed after delicious refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Mrs. Carl Parker, Mrs. John McLeod, Mrs. Lila Purdy and Mrs. J. Warren.

Hospital Donation Day

Friday, November 14th, has been selected as Donation Day at Bear River for the Digby General Hospital, and donations of old linen for bandages, jellies, jams, pickles, juices, cash, etc., may be left at the taxi stand of Mrs. H. E. Harris any time during this week. Donations will be forwarded to the hospital.

REMEMBRANCE DAY SERVICE

The annual Remembrance Day service was held on Tuesday, November 11, at 10.30 a.m. in the Bear River Baptist Church, with the Rev. Frank Smith as speaker and other clergymen assisting. The members of the Canadian Legion attended in a body led by the president, Mr. Harry Benson, and then adjourned to the war memorial where wreaths were laid by the various organizations and relatives in memory of the honored dead.

REMEMBRANCE DAY OBSERVED

The regular morning service was held at the Baptist Church on Sunday morning with Scripture reading Matthew 3:1-8. Rev. Mr. Scott had as his theme "The Requisite of Baptism," with Scripture Col. 2:12-13. The Harris trio rendered "Alone" as the choir's selection for the service. At the evening service Rev. Mr. Scott gave his Remembrance Day sermon with text 1st John, verse 7.

HOSPITAL PLAN

(d) Persons who are entitled to the same benefits from some other governmental agency.

In-patients service provided under the Plan include:

(a) A bed and meals at the "standard ward level";

(b) Necessary nursing services;

(c) Laboratory, x-ray and other diagnostic services that are medically necessary;

(d) Drugs and related preparations when administered in the hospital. This does not include patent medicines;

(e) The use of the operation room, case room and anesthetic facilities including necessary equipment and supplies;

(f) The use of any special treatment service available in the hospital.

Out-patient service provided by the Plan include:

(a) Laboratory and radiological examinations and other diagnostic procedures as specified by the Commission;

(b) X-ray treatment where available, for the treatment of cancer;

(c) Physiotherapy facilities where available;

(d) Necessary nursing services; and the following emergency service within 48 hours after an accident:

(e) All necessary laboratory and x-ray diagnostic procedures and electrocardiograms;

(f) Use of operating room and anesthetic facilities including the necessary equipment and supplies;

(g) Routine surgical supplies;

(h) Drugs, biologicals and related preparations when administered in the hospital;

(i) Any necessary meals.

According to Mr. Cecil Kennedy, who also addressed the conference-meet, the commission has on staff a group of technical experts for counseling in nursing, laboratory, x-ray, pharmacy and dietetic purposes as well as for administrative and accounting advice. There is also machinery to see that standards are maintained — a standards committee within the hospital, an advisory body of regional level (nine regions) and the commission which will act as a standards committee on the provincial level.

John Hare gave background information on capital costs involved in the scheme. It was emphasized by Mr. Hare and others that women's auxiliaries and a wide field of voluntary giving by the public is still most necessary. It was learned that the average cost of construction of hospitals was approximately $12,000 to $14,000 per bed with possibly a minimum of $10,000 per bed. The federal and provincial governments provided grants of $5,000 per bed which left a considerable amount to be provided by other sources.

The Hon. Richard Donahoe, Q.C., Minister of Health, said "This is no ivory tower operation." "We believe it reflects the interests and the opinions of the people. The Commission held innumerable public hearings and studied many briefs, from the medical and nursing professions, from hospitals, from labor — from every conceivable group in the province."

Mr. Donahoe emphasized and asked the press to bring to the attention of the public that this is purely a hospital plan and does not relieve the individual of all financial responsibility. He said the plan offers only insured standard ward hospital services, i.e., all services normally expected at a hospital. He said it did not pay for the services of the private physician or surgeon but added that privately operated plans, such as Blue Cross, were now altering their benefits in order to provide supplemental benefits not included in the plan.

The patient still pays extra for semi-private or private rooms. Under the plan there will be no limit on the number of days any individual may stay in hospital within the province, provided the stay is "medically necessary." Nova Scotia residents treated in hospital outside the province will be limited to a stay of three months in any 12-month period.

Marriage

Robbins — Martin

The Church of Christ in Milton was the scene of a pretty October wedding on Wednesday, October 15th, at 8 o'clock when nuptial vows were exchanged between Gail Robina Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Martin, Milton, and Wendell Bruce Robbins, son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Robbins, East Waldeck, Annapolis County. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert R. Porter.

The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of gladioli, mums, and maple leaves. The guest pews were marked with maple leaves and centered with white bells and white ribbon bows.

The nuptial music was played by Mrs. Raymond Kempton and Miss Beverley Mansfield rendered, "Till Walk Beside You", before the bride entered the church and "I Love You Truly," during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown of chantilly lace and net over taffeta. The bodice was fashioned on slim lines with long sleeves tapering to points over the wrists and a bateau neckline trimmed with seed pearls and tiny iridescent sequins. The full circular skirt was worn over hoops. Her finger tip veil of tulle illusion with a scalloped lace border hung from a princess tiara of iridescent sequins, pearls and rhinestones. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses with streamers.

The groom was attended by Hazen McKenzie, of Truro, and the ushers were Wallace Whidden, of Truro, and Albert Laing, Dartmouth, brother-in-law of the bride.

The groom's mother wore a dress of lace over tulle in blue with winter white accessories and her corsage was of pink rose buds.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Union Hall in Liverpool for 150 guests. Rev. Robert R. Porter proposed the toast to the bride, which was responded to by the groom in a very fitting manner.

The bride's table was laid with white cloth centered with a three tier wedding cake and flanked with tall white tapers in silver holders.

Serving the bridal table were Miss Elizabeth Wessell; Mrs. Harold Arthur and Mrs. Karl Stewart, sister of the groom. Those serving the guests were Miss Jean Cole, Miss Star DeMolitor, Miss Marjorie Manthorne, Miss Avis Anthony, Miss Rhoda Wentzell, Miss Verna Coombs.

to the ability of the public to pay and avoided the man with numerous family responsibilities. The one dollar per capita tax of the municipalities, it was stated, did not come to the province to stay but would be returned to the hospitals that cared for the patients. The municipalities would be relieved to a great extent of an obligation which had existed up to $2,000,000 as the tax per capita can only be $700,000.

Annual Report Of Digby Branch Red Cross Society

19th Annual Report Of The Women's Committee

I beg to submit the 19th Annual Report of your Women's Work Committee for the year 1958.

A short time ago, with plans for this meeting in prospect and with this report in mind, I gave a backward glance at the year's records and mentally classified 1958 as an uneventful year in Red Cross history. It seemed that after years marked by refugees, fires and floods, we had at last come through a comparatively normal period in which Red Cross had had no emergency calls. But even before the words could be written I had to revise my thinking! The tragic Springhill disaster struck, and again Red Cross was back in action. Not that the Digby Branch was actually called upon to help in this emergency, but we of the Women's Work Committee knew that it was the supplies stored in Divisional Headquarters in Halifax — perhaps our socks and our towels — which were being rushed to Springhill to the rescue workers, and that it would be our duty to help rebuild this supply in readiness for the next disaster — near or far. The wisdom of that motto, "Keep your Red Cross Ready", is demonstrated whenever disaster strikes, and we of the Women's Work are among those who heed the cry.

Since our year's work had been of quite routine nature, our output of finished articles is somewhat lower than in some preceding reports, nevertheless we have produced a total of approximately 915 articles, which might be broken down into two classifications — 778 articles having been made for the Nova Scotia Division for use wherever needed, and 137 having been kept in Digby for local purposes. The first category includes 45 quilts, 30 baby blankets, 145 towels and face cloths, 96 children's garments and 440 infant's garments. In addition, and not included in the above total, are 900 gauze wipes folded for the Blood Transfusion Service. In the second category, we donated approximately 50 knitted articles to the Disaster Relief Committee, and made up 30 towels for the Disaster Kits which the Digby Branch is prepared to give out in emergencies. Twenty-four quilts were also given out locally by the Disaster Relief Committee in fire and Welfare cases. An extra activity was the making of 36 aprons by our members, proceeds from the sale of which will help provide for the Christmas parcels which are supplied locally by a joint welfare committee known as the "Digby Christmas Relief Committee" of which our Branch is a member.

Materials for much of the above work were provided at no charge to the Branch, being part of the quota of the Nova Scotia Division which is purchased by National Office from campaign funds. The total cost of the materials received during the year amounted to $408.42, part of which is still in stock as unfinished work. An additional amount of $27.54 was spent by the Digby Branch for material for layettes which were used in local welfare work. Since the value of the material is more than doubled by being made up, we might estimate the total value of work produced by our committee at over $1,000, this past year.

But it is much easier to arrive at the cost in dollars than it is to estimate it in hours — the hours and hours of volunteer work by the faithful workers! Unfortunately they are not as many as they used to be during the war years. So many of our older workers have passed on and their places are not being filled by younger women, so the work now falls more heavily upon these faithful few, to whom we wish to express our heartfelt thanks. Mrs. Oscar VanTassell heads this list, with her total of 408 articles sewed, many of which she cut as well as stitched. This total includes 11 large quilt tops pieced, many in the beautiful star pattern, and 11 crib quilts completely made, besides stitching the linings and binding and edges of practically all the quilts made at our weekly meetings. With Mrs. VanTassell working at this speed, we do not need to complain of our lack of Auxiliaries, because she is a one-woman auxiliary! We also pay tribute again to Miss Grace Chisholm and her beautiful finishing work on the layettes — the dainty embroidery which has distinguished Digby Branch work for many years, and which is greatly appreciated by the Division. We regret that this year has also taken its toll of another of our outstanding workers — Mrs. Dennis Combeau being under the doctor's care and unable to knit her beautiful baby jackets. We shall hope for her sake, as well as ours, that she may be able to resume work again soon. Our thanks are also extended to the groups in Digby and nearby communities which have assisted us in various ways — all the church societies in Digby, Zelma bours Club of Conway, "Society of Friends" of Joggins Bridge, "Friday Night Club" of Smith's Cove, Women's Institutes of Smith's Cove and Rosaway, and the ladies of Hill Grove and Acadaville. Special mention should be made of the many members from Mount Pleasant who are such regular attendants at our weekly meetings at the Court House. We also extend our thanks for the various donations received during the year, which are, as always, greatly appreciated.

Our year's activities followed along the usual lines, with assistance rendered at the two Blood Donor Clinics, where our committee served refreshments, and at Campaign time, when many of our members served as collectors. During the year we also co-operated with the Disaster Relief Committee in many of their activities. Two special teas were held during the year, one honoring Miss Daisy MacKinnon when she received a Badge of Service, and the other when donations were received for making up Disaster Kits. Samples of these kits were placed in the Red Cross Booth at the Bear River Exhibition, together with a display of quilts and layettes.

We again express our appreciation to the Municipality for the free use of the Court House for our meetings, and to Mr. Delbert Forrest for sharing his office space with our committee for storage facilities. We are indeed grateful for these conveniences which enable us to My personal thanks are extended to the various committees which together comprise Women's Work — Cutting, Sewing, Quilting, Packing and Tea Committees. Each one plays its own part in the success of the organization, and without the general harmony and co-operation which prevails among these sub-committees, the Women's Work Committee as a whole could not exist. We appreciate the great interest government body, no remote shown by the Quilting Com-group, but just you, and you, mittee, and the new members and YOU — all working to which have been added to that gather to provide help when and group. What we also need is where it is needed. "Thank you!"

Disaster Relief Report

Mr. President, Ladies, Gentlemen:
Since the month of November, 1957, our Disaster Relief have taken care of seventy-five families from Digby Town, Ashmore, Plympton, Weymouth, Marshalltown and Centerville. These people have been supplied with shoes, clothing, quilts and layettes.

Four fire victims, three brothers from Rosaway and a lady from Acadaville were taken care of. To the four brothers we gave four large quilts and bought 3 pairs blankets and 2 pairs of pillow cases. Their clothing was supplied by the Salvation Army. To the lady we gave dresses, shoes, coat and we bought blankets, pillow cases and supplied her with three quilts, also kits were made up for them consisting of towel, face cloth, soap, comb, needles, pins, thread, tooth brush, paste and shaving cream, razors and blades for the men.

Twelve layettes were given out, one to the V.O.N. and the others to Welfare organizations. Two deaf and dumb children were given clothing to enable them to attend the school in Halifax.

Over 3,000 articles of clothing have been given out during the year, twelve large quilts and twelve baby quilts. We have twelve on hand ready for any emergency.

In December we pack our Christmas boxes, with the help of the Salvation Army, Legion and other organizations, the dinners — toys collected by the Boy Scouts and dolls dressed by the Red Cross members and outsiders — these boxes are packed by our Disaster Relief and delivered by us to their homes day before Christmas. We expect a large number of boxes will be packed this year.

Respectfully submitted,
Alice Winfield, Convener.

DON'T BE FOOLED — BIG TYPE DOESN'T MAKE BIG BARGAINS

There's only one thing that proves a price a low price — and that's comparison with what you have been paying for the same brand and the same quantity. The size of type used to advertise a price has nothing to do with the size of value. So don't be fooled by a few big, bold prices. Check every price in the ad. Our bargains are big, but we use smaller type so that we can get more of them into our ads.

CARS ARE MY LINE
by Ken Hankinson
DOWN WITH RELAXATION!
As if life wasn't tough enough, a new problem has come up in the last few years that the drivers of this continent will have to adjust to if they want to stay healthy. It's a really new twist in this tension-ridden civilization, of ours but there's just no other way to say it: We're suffering from too much "relaxation."
By this I don't mean the good kind of leaving your worries at work when you go home at night, or not fretting over spilt milk or something you can't do anything about. We can all use more of that variety.
I'm referring to the type of take-it easy attitude of drivers that has led to so many fatal accidents on our super-speed, super highways. Most of the victims usually aren't around to testify at the inquest but the accident statistics are showing that more and more deaths on super highways and freeways are caused by mental wool-gathering that wouldn't have mattered at 30-mph but which is fatal at 60.
One of the most frequent examples is rear-end collisions at high speeds which come about because the driver is relaxing at the wheel, a practise about as harmless as playing catch with a bottle of nitroglycerine. At 70-mph for instance, you cover 1/5 of a mile in ten seconds, the time it takes to light a cigarette. The most abrupt nap is 30 seconds and even a long blink takes half a second.
What we need according to engineers and medical men who have made a study of this new type of driving danger is a whole new set of anxieties to keep up with our space-age highways. Get anxious about the oncoming car you think is far enough away for you to risk passing, the one up ahead that may slow down suddenly while you're looking at the road map, and remember always that to fall asleep means death.
Know why we're anxious about your anxieties? Well, we know there's bound to be some beautiful new cars coming up in the years ahead and we want you around so you can buy one from us. That's why.

would most certainly be the duty of the Digby Branch to help replace those supplies in readiness for whatever emergency may next arise. Tribute was paid to all the workers who had assisted, with particular mention of Mrs. Oscar VanTassel who had made 406 articles during the year, and Miss Grace Chisholm who had embroidered all the layettes. Regrets were also expressed for the illness of Mrs. Dennis Comeau, which had forced her to discontinue her knitting for the present. Mrs. Warner thanked the sub-committees comprising Women's Work, with special mention of the active Quilting Committee convened by Mrs. Allen Stark, and closed her report with an invitation to more ladies to assist with knitting and sewing, which were also urgently needed.

Mrs. George Winfield, reporting for the Disaster Relief Committee, stated that 75 families from Digby town, Ashmore, Plympton, Marshalltown, Centerville and Weymouth had been provided with clothing during the year, over 3000 articles having been given out. Four fire victims from Acadiaville and Rossby were assisted with bedding and clothing, and 12 layettes supplied at the request of the V.O.N. or other welfare organizations. Many Christmas boxes were supplied last year through the joint committee known as "Digby Christmas Relief Committee", in which the Red Cross is associated with the Salvation Army, Canadian Legion, and other service organizations. Mrs. Winfield stated the Christmas boxes would again be very necessary this year, and donations of toys and dolls were being solicited.

The report of the Treasurer, Mrs. Ruggles, showed a balance of $143.51 on hand, $70 of which had been raised by the Ways and Means Committee under the convener'ship of Mrs. Ralph Berwick. The total earnings of this committee were reported to be $124.30, the additional sum having been spent for local work of the branch. This money was raised by Ten Cent Teas at the weekly meeting, an Apron Sale, and a few small donations.

The Sickroom Supply Committee, under the chairmanship of Delbert Forrest, reported 44 loans of hospital beds, wheelchairs, crutches, etc. The Digby Branch owns 5 gatch beds, 4 standard beds, 6 wheelchairs, 12 pairs of crutches and several smaller items of sickroom equipment, all of which are in constant use. This equipment is supposed to be loaned for a period of only three months, but the committee reports difficulty in getting beds and other articles back in some long-standing cases, hence they are not available for further loans when required.

Mrs. Sydney Smith reported for the Home Nursing Committee, stating that in addition to assisting at two Blood Donor Clinics, a Home Nursing Class had been conducted and certificates awarded to 13 members of the class. Twenty names were on a waiting list for this year's class, and a recommendation was made that a Red Cross course be given under the auspices of the Home & School Association if arrangements could be made.

The report on the Campaign for funds showed that Digby Municipality failed to realize as much money as in 1957 by over $1,000. This was due mainly to a drop in the returns from Digby town, and to the failure of H.M.C.S. "Cornwallis" to contribute this year.

The names of Mrs. Daniel Comeau, a member of the Disaster Relief Committee, and Mrs. Allen Stark, convener of the Quilting Committee, were proposed for the award of the Badge of Service by the Nova Scotia Division.

Committees for the ensuing year were appointed as follows: Women's Work, Mrs. H. M. Warner, Mrs. R. B. Lent, Mrs. Daniel Comeau, Mrs. Allen Stark; Sewing, Mrs. G. R. Weir, Mrs. Hugh Vincent; Quilting, the backbones of the fish that go to the grinders which is used in paints and for "mother of pearl". The balance is used for fertilizer.

WEIR FISHING

Mr. Crowell, who operates a weir off Sandy Cove, stated that for a while after the seiners arrived the weir fishing kept us. "As soon as they broke up the schools of herring and drove them about that was the end," he said. He stated it often took less than a week for the seiners to scatter the fish and ruin weir fishing.

"When the seiners are through there is nothing for anyone," Mr. Crowell said. He stated the seiners could move off to other areas where herring were reported but the weir fishermen were stuck. The seiners did not come into St. Mary's Bay until two years ago, he said. That year they came in February and March and the weir operators did not take in two hundred dollars for their whole season's operation.

The seiners that are operating now in St. Mary's Bay, Mr. Crowell said, were operating off Yarmouth. "They heard we were getting herring and they moved in," he said. "Now we hear they have had reports there are herring off Grand Manan and they'll probably head for there now they've fixed everything here."

Four weirs have been in operation in St. Mary's Bay this year. Operators are Harold Crowell, Sandy Cove, Conrad Gidney, Mink Cove, Cameron Robbins, Griffin Cove, and Sydney Westcott, also at Griffin Cove. Each of the weirs costs several thousands of dollars to build and divers are required to attach the hundreds of yards of underwater netting used in the weir. The weirs, huge trap affairs, have to be almost completely reconstructed each spring as the winter storms take a heavy toll of them even though the underwater twine is removed. Large seine nets are also needed to remove the catch each tide from the weirs.

Letter to the Editor

Digby, N. S., Nov. 11th/58.

Editor of Digby Courier,

Dear Editor,

As a Sunday School Teacher and very interested in young folk would you kindly allow me through your paper the opportunity of making an earnest appeal to parents inviting them to send or bring their children to Sunday School.

In our town we have many children that are not getting any Sunday School training.

We know that most parents are very prompt in sending their children to every day school and feel that it is very necessary, or important; that their child get to school every day and so it is, but, how much more important that they get Christian training as well.

It is not for me to say which Church Sunday School you are to place them. This is entirely up to you, parents, but please won't you see that your children are going to a Sunday School of your choice.

Our children of today will be the citizens of tomorrow.

Mrs. Oakley Turnbull.

Shelburne Road Proposal

A resolution presented to the semi-annual meeting of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade from the Digby Trade Board urging construction of a road across country linking Digby and Shelburne was shelved by the meeting following discussion and presentation of an amendment prepared by Digby board of trade president, Vincent Snow.

As discussion of the resolution and amendment progressed it was apparent some disagreement existed concerning the matter as well as a seeming lack of knowledge of some aspects of the problem involved. It was therefore decided to postpone the matter until the spring meeting of the AVABT to give the Digby board more time to prepare their case.

The meeting passed a resolution, also presented by the Digby Board, urging the provincial department of highways to make an immediate study of traffic hazards alleged to exist on the main highway leading to the western end of the Victoria Bridge and the bridge itself. The resolution also called for the highway department to take steps following their study to have the hazards remedied.

A new committee was named at the meeting to press the matter of the establishment of a national park at Blomidon. Cyrus Steele related the history of previous efforts to have the park established and he also outlined the value of such a park to the whole valley area. It was decided to gather all the information available on the matter and press provincial and federal authorities for the establishment of the park.

The matter of the impending rail strike came in for some discussion and it was stated an increase of 17% in freight rates had that day been granted the railways. A motion was passed that the board go on record as urging a stop to increases in freight rates and in wage hikes to railway employees.

At the supper meeting Roy Laurence, of Annapolis was guest speaker. In his address Mr. Laurence warned the board representatives of the efforts of what he termed silent persuaders. In recent years, he said, a technique has been developed whereby professional firms are taking on the job of selling to the public not only commodities and products through advertising and promotion but also merchandising ideas and personalities.

This, he stated, might be alright if the personalities and ideas had real merit and were potentially good. There is a real danger, however, that real damage will result if evil and corrupt people can be elevated to high places and their ideas adopted through the clever machinations of these hucksters, he concluded.

In his address Mr. Laurence also dealt with the matter of Red China and stated it was his opinion Canada should recognize this country. He quoted from a report of the president of the Royal Bank who recently made a visit to China and said Canada was losing out on valuable markets because of prejudice.

SHOWS SLIDES OF TRIP
Dr. T. W. Hodgson was guest of the Earn & Give Club of Grace United Church on Tuesday evening when he showed slides of his recent trip to England and Scotland accompanied by Mrs. Hodgson.

Among the slides were pictures of the beautiful cathedrals in London, including interior and exterior views of Westminster Abbey and St. Paul's. The countryside of both England and Scotland were shown with particular views of the river-side villages and towns and dwellings of famous writers and men of history. The scenes of the spacious and brilliant flower gardens were greatly admired by the audience as were also the pictures of the crown jewels and other pictures pertaining to the crown. Splendid views of the parliament buildings, the House of Commons and the House of Lords were shown by Dr. Hodgson.

The meeting was presided over by the secretary, Mrs. Gordon Ellis.

HOCKEY MEET SCHEDULED
There will be a hockey meeting at the Town Hall Friday at 8 p.m.

Society Officers Re-elected

Mrs. H. A. Nichols was re-elected President of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society at the annual meeting here. Other officers re-elected were Mrs. H. M. Warne, vice-president, and Miss Dora S. Warne, secretary-treasurer. Mr. John Russell was re-elected Honorary President.

According to the secretary's report membership in the society now stands at fifty-seven. During the past summer a great deal of work was done on the society's project, the Admiral Digby park. A new fence was erected at the back of the garden, flower beds re-arranged and many new roses and other plants added. A new trellis was also erected at the entrance to the garden. During the summer also the society received a signal honour when HRH Princess Margaret planted an oak tree in the garden.

At another of the society's projects, the area around the Nova Scotia welcome sign, a flagstone walk was installed and more shrubs added to the bank. A wire fence was placed at the top of the garden and drains and grounds repaired. Two picnic style tables donated by the government were installed and waste cans, donated by the Digby Lions Club, were put around the area.

Bridge Adds $130 To V.O.N. Funds

It was reported by J. Stanley MacDonald at the regular meeting of the local association of the Victorian Order of Nurses on Tuesday that the benefit bridge held in October had added approximately $130.00 to the association's funds. Prizes were won by Miss Dora Warne, ladies high; Mrs. Margaret Wyman, low; DeMille Raymond, men's high, and John Nichols, low.

The continuous rise of the Order's debt balance figure caused concern and brought about considerable discussion.

Of the 129 home visits made in October by Miss Joyce Dickie, V.O.N., fifty-three were for nursing service and 76 for health instruction. Ten new admissions were made and thirteen discharged. Fifty-four and a half hours were spent in school where 46 children were attended and 44 given health instruction, 86 patch tested. Twenty-nine attended well-baby conferences. Two hundred and twenty infants and pre-schoolers attended the one immunization clinic. Regular visits were made by the nurse to the doctors and at the hospital.

A report of the meeting of the Provincial Order held in Amherst, but unattended by the Digby director, was given by Mrs. J. M. Wallis. Mrs. J. W. Christie presided.

The committee formed to raise the next funds consists of John Nichols, Mrs. John Russell, Mrs. Paul Snow, Mrs. Mel Thurber and Mrs. Wallis.

CLOVER IN BLOOM
Mrs. Charles White of Seawall on Digby Neck found red clover in full bloom in the field near her home on Tuesday. To prove the story of the out-of-season bloom she brought the evidence to The Courier.

Mineral & Gem Society Formed

S. C. Hood, Yarmouth and Digby, was elected president of the Nova Scotia Mineral and Gem Society which was organized in Halifax on Tuesday of last week at the Nova Scotia Museum of Science.

The purpose of the organization is to advance interest in mineral collecting and gem cutting and polishing. This will be done through field trips, short courses, lectures and joint meetings with related organizations and other activities. Acadia University, Dalhousie University and St. Francis Xavier have offered assistance in providing lectures.

In an interview with Mr. Hood this week it was understood that with a silversmith group already in operation and in view of the unusual variety of stones found in the Digby Neck area, he is anticipating keen interest in the foundation of a branch of the Mineral and Gem Society in this area. Mr. Hood says he is willing to assist in organizing a group if those interested will get in touch with him. Junior members are also welcome and are given the right to elect representatives to the provincial organization.

Dr. Angus Speaks At Halifax Meet

"Modern psychiatry must be careful not to perpetuate mental illness by endeavouring to cure the patient while ignoring the cultural pattern of his environment," Dr. George Angus of Cornell University, told the annual meeting of the Anglican Diocesan Council of Social Service Sunday at St. Matthias hall.

Dr. Angus, who has been in charge of the Western Nova Scotia Mental Health Centre in Digby since 1937, said multiplication of curative agencies does not mean the ultimate solution of mental illness. "To remove some of the causes will not remove the need for curative psychiatry but will stem the rapidly increasing demand for such measures," he said.

"While a proportion of mental upsets is due to physical causes, a much larger proportion in our time is probably due to social stresses and pressures, ill-conceived goals in life and ill-formed attitudes in childhood."

First Woman Nominee

As nomination proceedings closed here Tuesday five candidates were reported as nominated for the three vacancies on the Digby Town Council.

Nominated were Mrs. Helen J. Anthony, first woman in the town's history to receive a nomination to town council; W. Irving McKenna, William L. Troop, Earl B. VanTassel and John P. Woolaver. Retiring councillors, none of whom re-offered, are Dr. D. G. Black, L. M. Saunders and Donald Amiraault. Council members with a year yet in office are J. W. Christie, V. L. Bent and Wilfred Muise.

Victor Cardozo, former provincial legislature member and a councillor for sixteen successive years, was elected Mayor of Digby by acclamation as nomination proceedings closed Tuesday. Mr. Cardozo will fill out the unexpired portion of the term of Gordon R. Turnbull, who resigned after completing nearly a year of his second term in office.

Pledges Profits To Miners' Fund

This week the Courier received a letter from Frederick Timpany, of Philadelphia, in which this Digby Neck native stated he was contributing profits from his soon to be published drama, "The Storm At Sea", to the widows and children of the brave men who died in the recent Springhill mine disaster.

Mr. Timpany said in his letter he has already made a small contribution to the Springhill fund but has also promised a long range plan from the success of his new book.

"The Storm At Sea", which is expected to be in bookstores by Christmas or before, is based on a prayer which was said by its author during a raging storm on St. Mary's Bay when he was 12.

Shows Increase In Popularity

By Fred Simpson in Sentinel-Review
One of the healthiest hobbies in the field of hobbying is undoubtedly the one pursued strenuously by Arthur Robar of Woodstock.

He's a weight lifter. Art, who is on the teaching staff of the Woodstock Collegiate and assistant coach of their Junior football squad, states that:

"Weightlifting and bodybuilding are rapidly growing in popularity. Many athletic authorities have recommended weight training in conjunction with athletics because of the improvement in the strength and fitness of the performer."

Art has been lifting weights and taking bodybuilding exercises for 14 years and has the physique to testify in his behalf. According to Art some of the reasons for people taking up the art of weightlifting and bodybuilding are:

"They are no longer in the position where they can actively participate in athletics but still want to maintain their physical fitness."

Other persons, he said, find such exercise to be an ideal way of retaining their bodily strength and fitness as they grow older. Still others who are either underweight or overweight, he said, find weightlifting an ideal way of either taking on pounds or taking it off.

Art has been interested in weightlifting since his high school days back in Digby, Nova Scotia.

Classes in bodybuilding and weightlifting are held at the local YMCA building and anyone desiring to work themselves into condition are welcome to join the YMCA, says Art.

A newcomer desiring to get into condition starts out very light and, according to Art, gradually takes on heavier dumbbells and barbells as he gains the strength and condition.

So if your exercise recently has been reduced to running from the house into your car when it rains, perhaps you can regain your former athletic grace by taking up the bodybuilding and weightlifting arts. It's surprising how much better a person feels with a steady diet of exercising, Art says.

"Our standard of physical fitness has not kept pace with our rising standard of living. Although we are a healthy race we are not as physically fit as we should be."

Weightlifting and bodybuilding could be the answer to too much easy living these days. Perhaps you should try it.

Art is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Robar of this town, and a graduate of Digby Regional High School.

STRAWBERRY BLOSSOM ON BRIDE ISLAND
A strawberry blossom in full bloom was brought to the Westport correspondent of the Digby Courier on Monday, November 22.

To Restore Old Cemetery

The Admiral Digby Horticultural Society, which has been working over the past four years toward the beautification of the park site they have developed around the original site of the Admiral Digby well here and have also been beautifying the grounds around the provincial "Welcome to Nova Scotia" sign near the head of the government pier, has decided to add another project to its program, it was learned following the annual meeting.

The society will now undertake the restoration of the old Loyalist cemetery at the corner of Warwick Street and First Avenue. This old cemetery dates from the earliest Loyalist settlement of Digby in 1783 and is located on the former homestead property of Phineas Lovett, 3rd.

One of the tombstones, on which the inscription is still legible, records the death of Sarah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phineas Lovett, who died on October 11, 1801, at the age of three months.

The cemetery, which for many years was neglected, is also the burying place for another family of early Loyalist settlers in Digby, the Holdsworth family. The first of this family buried there, according to inscriptions on the tombstones, was Thomas Holdsworth, who died at sea in 1798.

A number of years ago a descendant of the Holdsworth family, Mrs. Eleanor Titus, daughter of John Holdsworth, made arrangements with the town of Digby for the town to take over the cemetery providing they kept it neatly as a memorial ground. Since then the grass has been kept mowed and some care given the area.

Buried in the old cemetery, it is understood, is Henry Rutherford, a native of Waterford county in Ireland who emigrated to White Plains, N. J., in 1773 and there formed a shipping and mercantile business under the firm name of Rutherford and Nash. Both Messrs. Nash and Rutherford left for Digby in 1783. Mr. Nash arrived in Digby aboard the "Joseph" on December 10th, while Rutherford and other immigrants sailed in another vessel owned by the firm, the "Prince of Wales" which was wrecked off Bermuda. When the news reached Digby the "Joseph" set sail for Bermuda early in 1784 and brought Mr. Rutherford, his wife and five children and other survivors here.

On his arrival in Digby Mr. Rutherford again engaged in business with his partner, George Nash, and continued until his death. In 1798 he succeeded Major Milledge as Digby's representative in the House of Assembly and became the second person to represent the district. He was re-elected several times and in 1806 was chosen as the representative for Annapolis County, continuing in office until his death in 1808.

Among the bills introduced by Mr. Rutherford while he was a member of the assembly was one to regulate the herring fishing in Digby and Annapolis and another to regulate the export of "red or smoked herring," the now famed Digby Chicksens. He also piloted through a bill to provide for maintenance of a lighthouse at Digby Gut and for improvements to the town common lands.

He acted also as contractor for the building of the first road between Digby and Weymouth in 1788 and in 1801 was one of the commissioners for expenditure of money on the road from Digby to Bear River.

Henry Rutherford's daughter, Margaret, married Phineas Lovett, 3rd, and their daughter married Captain William F. Turnbull and occupied the Lovett homestead, on a portion of which the old cemetery is located. Descendants of this family, the Misses Bessie, Mary and Ethel Turnbull, still live in the old home.

James A. Holdsworth, also buried in the old cemetery, came to Digby from New York in 1783. His grandson, James B. Holdsworth, represented the township of Digby in Parliament from 1836 to 1840 and was then elected first representative of the county, retaining his seat until 1863. He was later a Justice of the Peace and Customs officer here. A nephew, John Holdsworth, was a warden of the municipality and later Judge of Probate. It was his daughter, Mrs. Titus, who gave the old cemetery to the town for perpetual care.

Spot Light On Purple & White

The soccer season has come to a close leaving Digby quite successful.

The boys reached the Head Masters. The first game of the Head Masters was held in Digby with Liverpool being the visiting team. The game was won by Digby by a score of 1-0. The lone goal was scored by George Thibault.

The following week the Digby boys travelled to Liverpool. The first few minutes of the game a goal was scored for Digby by Jim VanTassel, but they did not manage to secure any more during the entire game. While Liverpool made a quick recovery with four goals, making a score of 4-1 for the game. This eliminated Digby from the Head Masters.

The girls final game was a bit more successful than the boys. This game was played with Annapolis on the Digby field. The score was a tie 1-1 with Donna Gillespie scoring the tieing goal for Digby.

We are sorry to report our Magazine Drive was not quite as successful as it was last year. The total sales this year were $1269.65. The highest salesmen were Bobby Ecker, Margaret Black, Ruth Atkinson, Judy Hattie, Rae McCleave and Nancy Parker. Nancy Parker was also the Mystery Student.

The second dance of the school year was a Sadie Hawkins Dance, which was a great success with many students in costume. The next dance will be held in two weeks and any parents wishing to chaperone are welcome. They have only to tell their children to notify the president so that we can prepare for them.

On Monday, November 10, 1936, the A. R. R. Academy was host to D. R. H. S. debating team. The resolution was: "Resolved that the high schools of N. S. should provide a double curriculum for those students intending to further their education by going to university, and for those not intending to do so in this way." Although Digby was not successful in winning this debate it was well represented by Pat Surette 1st speaker, Joe Potter 2nd speaker, Mary Golden 3rd speaker, and Karen Nickerson acting as spare. Also Digby would like to thank their judge Mr. Woolaver.

Club Has Busy Year

The Deep Brook Neighborhood Club held their 5th annual business meeting at the home of Mrs. Gordon Fountain on Wednesday evening, November 12th.

The secretary's report showed a busy year, including pantry sales, social events and numerous other activities. Eleven quilts and many other articles of handwork were completed. Club members placed entries in county exhibitions for the first time and were well satisfied with the results.

The treasurer's report showed a total of $610.00 cash raised during the year. The main project undertaken for the year was the laying of the broadloom aisle carpet in the United Baptist auditorium, approximately a $300.00 project. Other donations made by the club included Deep Brook Baptist Sunday School Christmas treat, $5.00; Day School (Christmas treat), $5.00; March of Dimes, $10.00; Crippled Children's Fund, $10.00; Canadian National Institute for the Blind, $10.00; Red Shield, $10.00; Cancer Society Waiting Room Fund, $65.00. Gifts received by the club included working materials, cash, an organ and use of rent free work room.

The nominating committee presented the following slate of officers for the coming year: president, Mrs. Borden Fountain; vice-president, Mrs. Pearl Henshaw (re-elected); treasurer, Mrs. Howard Adams (re-elected); recording secretary, Mrs. Cleveland Jefferson (re-elected); corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. J. Vroom.

The retiring president, Mrs. Harold Hilde, was presented with a gift in appreciation of duties faithfully performed. A social evening followed with games and prizes. Refreshments included an anniversary cake made by Mrs. C. W. Jefferson and beautifully decorated by her daughter, Mrs. Stanley Webb.

Acadia To Stage Musical

According to Harry Thomas, formerly of North Range, President of Acadia University Light Opera Society, a number of residents of Wolfville have been extremely helpful to the Acadia University Light Opera Society in the staging of their forthcoming production of the current hit musical "The Boy Friend". These people have rummaged through their attics and have come up with a large number of articles of clothing from the 1920's period. "The Boy Friend", a British musical comedy, will be staged by Acadia students in University Hall, Wolfville, on Friday, November 28, and Saturday, November 29.

This will be the first time that "The Boy Friend" will be produced in the Atlantic Provinces. Having thrilled audiences in both London and New York for the past five years, this great comedy is certain to please and captivate its Nova Scotian audience. The graduating classes of the 1920's are showing much interest in the production of "The Boy Friend" that the executive of the Acadia Light Opera Society has offered half-price admission to Acadia graduates of the classes of 1920 to 1929 who show Acadia alumni identification at the door.

This English musical, so radically different from any previous production of the Acadia Light Opera Society has an all student cast, student musicians and a large number of students working on costumes, make-up, stage construction, lighting and publicity. Mr. Rex Lucas, Professor of Sociology, is the director.

Social Held For Pastor And Wife

A social evening was held Wednesday evening at the United Baptist vestry in honor of Rev. and Mrs. George Sharpe, who will leave this week for Tanook Island. Rev. and Mrs. George Sharpe will be accompanied by their daughter, Eileen, and Mrs. Sharpe's mother, Mrs. William Johnston. They arrived from New Brunswick five and a half years ago and during that time have made many friends by their kindly acts, especially to the sick, aged and sorrowing.

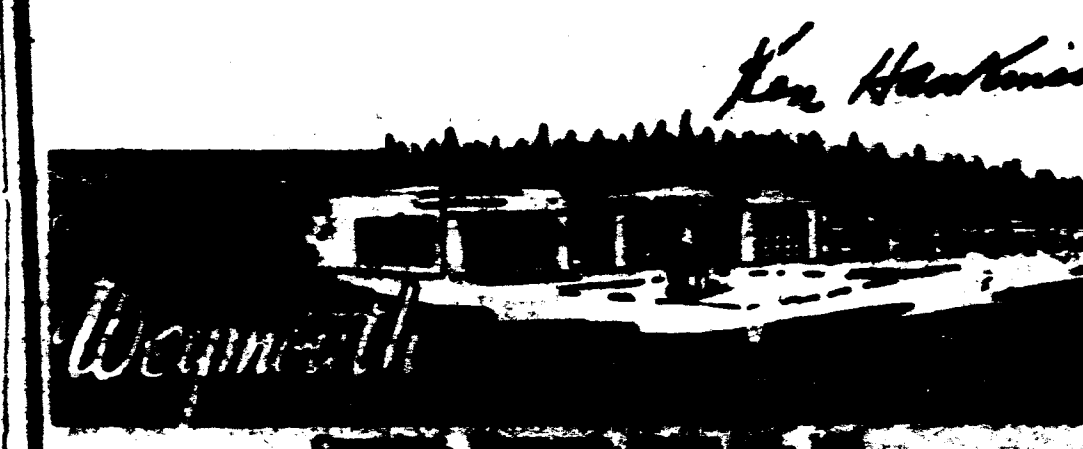

The social evening followed the weekly prayer meeting and about fifty were present. Mr. Dean Pugh was chairman and spoke of the regrets of the folks in the community and church in seeing the pastor and wife leave. He went on to speak of how faithful they had been in their visits to the sick, shut-ins and troubled, as well as the other calls. A reading was given by Mrs. Bradford Delaney, a duet, "How Great Thou Art", by Mrs. Albert Bailey and Mrs. Sheldon Morrell. Mrs. Richard Welch was pianist. A poem was read by Mrs. Wickerson Lent and a reading by Mrs. George Morrell.

A few remarks were made by Rev. Leland MacDormand, Rev. J. W. Derby, Freeport, and Mr. Lloyd Derby. Hymns were sung. A gift of money was presented from the church by Mr. Dean Pugh, and a gift to Mrs. George Sharpe from the Sunday School class by Mrs. Fred Denton. A reply was then given by Rev. George Sharpe. Delicious refreshments were served.

Weymouth Club Active

Since its organization less than three years ago the Weymouth Kiwanis Club has been a most active organization.

This past summer the club cleared the shores of Journey's Lake as a park for the youngsters and also built a swimming pool for them at the same lake. A swimming instructor was also secured and over one hundred kiddies were taught to swim. Further projects being planned by the club include the sponsorship of free skating at St. Ann's rink in Church Point for the children; organization of Little League baseball and further development of the swimming and water safety program. To aid in securing funds for these projects the club is holding an amateur show at the Weymouth Consolidated School on November 21st. The show will be emceed by television personality Gene Weed.

THE NOVA SCOTIA HOSPITAL INSURANCE PLAN

A SERIES OF "ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS" DESIGNED TO EXPLAIN THE HOSPITAL SERVICES YOU CAN EXPECT FROM THE HOSPITAL PLAN OFFERED BY THE NOVA SCOTIA GOVERNMENT

Q How long must a person be a resident of Nova Scotia to become eligible?

A All residents are eligible for coverage after three consecutive months residence.

Q Does the Plan pay doctor's bills?

A No.

Q Is there free choice of doctor?

A The Plan does not change in any way the existing arrangements between patients and their physicians.

Q Will there be any waiting periods for benefits in the case of hospitalization for specific conditions such as maternity cases, repairs of hernias, removal of tonsils, appendices, etc., providing hospital accommodation is available?

A No. An insured person is eligible for insured services, regardless of the condition requiring care.

Q What will happen to a resident's coverage if he moves permanently from Nova Scotia?

A (a) If he moves to a province having a Provincial Hospitalization Plan he will be covered for a maximum period of three months from date of departure, or until he can become eligible for benefits in the new province, providing this period is no longer than three months. During this time the Commission will pay the hospital's charges in his new province.

(b) If he moves to a place in Canada where there is no Provincial Hospitalization Plan, coverage will be limited to a maximum of $14 per day for an adult or child, or $5 a day for an infant less than fifteen days old, for a period not exceeding three months from date of departure.

(c) If he moves to a place outside of Canada he will have no coverage.

N.B. People intending to move permanently from Nova Scotia are advised to inform themselves of the requirements to establish eligibility in the new province.

Q Will it be permissible for individuals or groups to obtain double insurance for standard ward coverage, that is, by the Plan and a private insurer?

A Yes. However, there will be no point in securing duplicate coverage for standard ward care being provided by the Plan.

Q Can patients be admitted to hospital for a routine examination ("check-up") on an insured service?

A No, unless the patient is willing to pay the full hospital charges himself. Such admission is not an insured service.

Q Will students from outside Nova Scotia be covered by the Plan?

A No. Such students cannot qualify under the "residence" clause, and therefore cannot become insured individuals.

Q Will students from Nova Scotia studying outside the province be covered by the Plan?

A Yes. Such students will receive the same benefits as other residents temporarily absent from the Province.

Q Will the Plan provide hospital care for the "hopeless case"?

A Yes, if this care is medically necessary.

SOUP 'N' SANDWICH FOR SUMMER!

"S" is for Soup . . . and Sandwich, too! What could be better on a sizzling summer day? Easy to prepare . . . light and nutritious to eat.

Take a can of condensed tomato soup . . . simply add milk or water and heat. For a refreshing touch, garnish with a slice of lime. Or perhaps, you might serve a cold soup . . . especially appealing on a hot day. The combination of tomato and celery is an exceptionally good flavor blend and a cool pink color. Either way . . . hot or cold . . . soup gives a lift to weather-wilted appetites.

For the sandwiches . . . make them varied and appealing. Use an assortment of breads and fillings. Crisp lettuce adds much to a good sandwich. Then for dessert . . . surprise the folk with another "S" . . . strawberry shortcake.

Local Airman In Driving Finals

Leading Aircraftman Les Baxter, a mobile equipment operator from Digby, was one of 16 highly skilled drivers who qualified to compete in the finals of the RCAF Air Division's safe and skilled driving competition, held recently at 3 Fighter Wing, Zweibrücken, Germany.

The 27-year-old driver, stationed at 2 Fighter Wing, Gros-enquien, France, rolled up a commendable score during the difficult two-day competition, won by Corporal Edward Hanney, of Buchanan, Sask.

Despite unfamiliar European driving conditions, completely different from those at home, and off-times hazardous with narrow, heavily travelled roads, Air Division transport drivers have maintained an excellent safety record. Latest figures show their safety mark to be better than most RCAF Commands at home, and above the overall RCAF average.

Community Effort Liquidates Note

Voluntary contributions which amounted to three hundred dollars, made by members of the Digby Curling Club at their semi-annual banquet here Saturday night, made up the final amount necessary to retire a note endorsed some eight years ago for seven thousand dollars by twenty citizens of this community in order to provide funds needed at the time to make additions to the curling club and alterations to the Digby Forum, including the installation of a sectional wooden floor.

The contributions from the curling club members marked the successful conclusion of efforts of a group of citizens, headed by trade board president Vincent G. Snow, to completely retire the note, which had proven a drain on recreation commission finances and on the curling club and Canadian legion branch here since it was first floated.

When the note was endorsed by the twenty citizens, all of whom at the time were curlers, it was agreed proceeds from Labour Day fairs would be used to pay it off. Over the years, however, several of these fairs were rained out and other things intervened so that meeting the loan interest and irregular payments was a severe drain on the finances of the Recreation Commission which was being hard pressed to raise sufficient funds to keep the Forum in operation.

By this fall the loan had been reduced to $4,060, and the endorers were anxious to have it cleared off since estates of two of the signers who had died since the original note was signed were being held up because of the note. A meeting of the endorers was called and they agreed to assume individually a share of the total amount if the balance was raised from private donations and from the legion branch and curling club.

Mr. Snow took on the job of doing this and Saturday night's banquet marked the successful completion of the job and the liquidation of the note. The Digby legion branch had Thursday evening pledged a three hundred dollar payment toward liquidation of the note.

In speaking to the curling club at their banquet Mr. Snow said he had been delighted at the response to the efforts being made to liquidate the note. He said he felt it was a real demonstration of needed community spirit here and said retirement of the note would remove a heavy burden from the recreation commission and allow them more funds to keep the rink in operation.

Mr. Snow said the same type of community spirit had been shown by the organizations in Digby in meeting their obligations on the Princess Margaret day affair and stated all accounts for this had now been paid in full. He commended the endorers of the note for assuming individually a share of the outstanding total and said some of them had also contributed above the agreed amount as an individual sub-

Urge Safe Driving

The local detachment of the RCMP is joining with the Canadian highway safety conference and other bodies responsible for promoting Safe Driving Week in requesting all motorists and pedestrians to do their part.

They point out the test confronting every community during the week will be to remain completely free of accidents for the seven day period. In order to do this there must be full cooperation from the public.

In a statement to the press it is pointed out some 141 persons were killed in traffic accidents in Nova Scotia over the past year and more than 2,600 injured. Eighty-five percent of such motor vehicle accidents were due to human behaviour. In order to reduce this terrible toll it follows that motorists and pedestrians alike must observe, not only the letter, but also the spirit of all traffic laws and regulations.

To Have Special Speaker

The Digby Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will have as special guest the Circuit Supervisor for Western Nova Scotia, Mr. J. Federchuk, accompanied by Mrs. Federchuk. His visit, beginning on December 2nd, and ending December 7th, will give him the opportunity to aid the congregation in developing their ministerial activity.

The focal point of Mr. Federchuk's visit with the Christian group will be a Bible discourse to be given by him on the final day of his visit, to which the public is being invited.

SPEAKS AT MUNICIPAL HOME

Capt. George Heron, Windsor, N. S., was guest speaker on Sunday when the Young People of the Salvation Army in Digby visited the Municipal Home at Marshelltown.

The Young People conducted the service and led in singing. Mrs. Heron, who accompanied her husband, sang "The Love of God." Capt. Heron spoke briefly on the first Psalm.

The Young People were transported to Marshelltown by members of the Digby Kiwanis Club. On the coming Sunday they will transport those who reside at the Municipal Home to the Salvation Army in Digby.

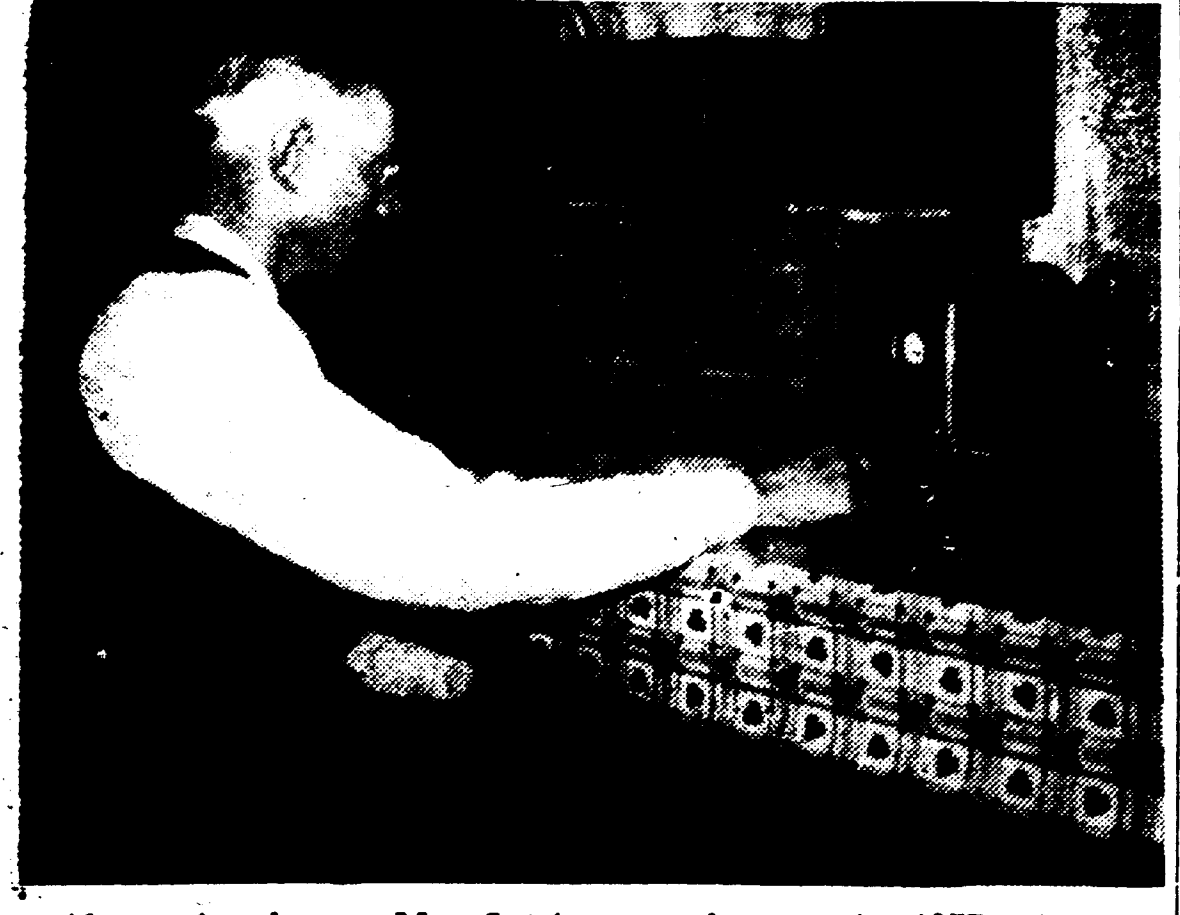

Springhill Collection

The Digby Kiwanis Club has raised $127.80 from member donations to aid victims of the Springhill mining disaster. The announcement was made by H. C. Morton, treasurer, after the regular meeting of the organization last Thursday.

scription in order to wipe out the indebtedness fully.

In concluding his remarks Mr. Snow said he hoped a "note burning" ceremony would be held after the Forum opened and said he felt former Mayor Guy E. Morehouse and Dr. J. R. McCleave should be the ones to do this. These men, he said, had been most active in arranging that the matter be brought to a head and cleared from the books.

Receives Radio Award

At the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Radio Association, which was held in Truro, Mr. Darras was awarded the President's Plaque, which is awarded annually to the operator contributing the most effort on behalf of the association.

The plaque was given in memory of the late Dr. Leo Doucette of Cheticamp, C.B., who passed away in 1957 while he was president of the association. Last year the plaque was won by VE1PX of Windsor.

Mr. Darras is to be commended for winning this award since he is handicapped because of near blindness. He is a graduate of the school for the blind in Halifax and operates a small farm on the Chute Road. Living with Mr. Darras and his wife is his uncle, Simeon Darras, who is also blind.

The Premier's Message

The following message, in relation to Safe-Driving Week, December 1-7, was issued Thursday, November 20, by Premier Robert L. Stanfield:

"It is axiomatic that most accidents are avoidable. It can be virtually proved statistically that most traffic accidents would have not occurred if a little more care and attention had been given by those involved in them.

"Safe-Driving Week will be conducted across Canada by the Canadian Highway Safety Conference, and sponsored in our province by the Nova Scotia Highway Council. If the endeavors of those organizing Safe-Driving Week should result in the saving of one life, the efforts will be worthwhile. When it is considered that 141 persons were killed and more than 2,600 were injured on our highways in 1957, I can think of no stronger endorsement for Safe-Driving Week.

"All citizens are earnestly urged to practice safe driving and safe walking not only during Safe-Driving Week from December 1 to December 7, but through all the days and weeks of the year to come."

Robert L. Stanfield, Premier of Nova Scotia.

Hold Leadership Training Course

An inspiring and helpful Leadership Training Course for Sunday School Workers was held in the Waterford United Baptist Church during the past week. This was the first such course for the Digby Neck District and it was fitting to have the session in the first Baptist Church on Digby Neck.

The course included a study of "Jesus as Teacher" and a filmstrip study on "Teaching". Both courses were from the Maritime Religious Education Council.

The good attendance each evening showed the interest there is in the Sunday School work of the Neck.

Mrs. Worthylake, past president of the district, at the closing session, thanked everyone who had helped in any way to make the Training Course the success it was, and also expressed appreciation to the people of Waterford for the use of their Church.

Local Postmaster Honoured

The pin is inscribed with the words "Service to the Public" and in his presentation Mr. Clark referred to the pin as of intrinsic value as it represented more than twenty-five years of hard work. He commended Mr. Harris on his most faithful and efficient service.

Mr. Harris has actually served the public in this particular manner for nearly 30 years. At the age of 18 years he joined the postal staff at Bear River. He served in the army postal corp for 5 1/2 years and came to the Digby Post Office in 1950. Mr. Harris has recently been elected president of the Digby Kiwanis Club, to take office at the beginning of the new year. He is interested in community affairs in general and lends his support to many welfare projects.

Team Acadians' Name

Once again the Church Point hockey team will be known as "Les Acadiens" (the Acadians). The name first used by the local team in the 1920's up to the early 1930's. Albert P. Melanson has been appointed as manager-coach with Real Daigle as assistant coach and captain of the 1958-59 team. "Les Acadiens" will bring back memories to the older hockey enthusiasts when Church Point was bale to ice a strong team, which were the depression years of 1928.

Church Point team is made up of players from Meteghan to Belliveau's Cove with predominantly Church Point and Little Brook players making up the team. Lack of sufficient ice in late years has hampered the developing of hockey players in this area, for which it has been famous in other years, but with a new artificial ice rink at St. Anne's College which enables ice to be available early and late in the season should change the picture.

This area has developed players who have made themselves names in the old Valley Hockey League with Bridgetown and Berwick. Such players as Eddie LeBlanc with his bullet shot, Johnny Melanson with his cunning play within the bluelines, and Frankie Melanson, who only recently abandoned hockey and is now refereeing, made up the famous "French line" of the Bridgetown Hawks for a number of years, scoring over 30% of the team's goals each season. Dennie Belliveau, Pete Blinn, Archie Belliveau, brought honors to this village when playing for Berwick in the early 1930's.

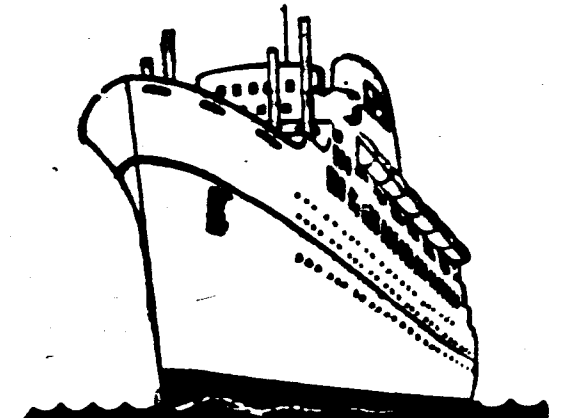

The Church Point 1958 edition expects to be somewhat stronger than last year's team with the addition of Real Daigle, former St. Ann's All Star, Paul Belliveau, also a former All Star. Other aces are LeBlanc, Willie Flynn, Larry Flynn, former star goalie of Annapolis Royal, and Leo Saulnier, of Little Brook. Although the club has lost Dent on defence, Daigle will take his place and Leo Saulnier will try out for a defence post. Saulnier is a former player who laid off hockey for a couple of years and is confident that he can make the team. Stuart on defence is still on hand, and with Soucie, Gennette, Thimot and Doucet to assist in rounding up a strong team, Les Acadiens are aiming towards the league championship. Although the local team lost out in the playoffs last spring against St. Ann's College, they put up some good games and was one of the least penalized team on the ice in the league. The team will be entered in the Industrial League with Yarmouth Aces, Centreville and St. Ann's. Ice is expected in the college forum sometime around November 15th after which several practices will be held to prepare the team for the coming hockey season. Last year the Industrial League was the most interesting of the two leagues and a good brand of hockey was played.

Rumors are that Centreville will ice a stronger team, which should balance out the league. Yarmouth should be able to come up with a good team as there are several prospects and last year's players with more games under their belts should play a good brand of hockey, under skillful coaching.

Hold Successful S.S. Convention

The Sunday School Convention of the Digby Neck District, sponsored by the M.R.E.C., was held in the Centreville Baptist Church on Monday, November 24, 1958, with afternoon and evening sessions, which were well attended.

Rev. J. W. Scott, Bear River, gave excellent leadership.

Mrs. Ingeborg Worthylake, of Rosway, president of the convention, opened the afternoon session with well chosen words and then called upon Rev. C. T. Olmstead, Little River, to lead in the worship. Mr. Olmstead spoke on the words "And He opened His mouth and taught them" from St. Matthew, chapter 3. "Jesus was always teaching because He loved everyone — and understood — so we must love and teach by example and learn more of Him so we can teach others."

Mrs. R. Cameron, Centreville, gave a warm welcome to the delegates, who despite the inclement weather, had turned out in good numbers. The short business session which followed showed all schools represented and the allocation of the district to the M.R.E.C. had been met. One of the highlights of the business session was the forming of a committee to study the idea of having a teacher training workshop.

Rev. D. McClure, Centreville, introduced the leader, Rev. J. W. Scott, who took as his theme in the worship. Mr. Olmstead

Worship in Sunday School

After a brief outline of the program discussion groups were formed to discuss the following questions: (1) The Order of Worship and (2) Prayer in Worship.

Mr. Scott brought this part of the session to a close with an informative talk on both questions.

Rev. B. MacMartin, of Weymouth, closed the afternoon session with prayer.

The delegates were entertained for supper in the homes of the community.

The evening session opened with a sing and then Rev. D. McClure led in worship. He gave a practical demonstration of what had been learned during the afternoon discussion and worship.

The president, Mrs. I. Worthylake, then called on the various committees to report. The following slate of officers for 1959 was brought in by the nominating committee: president, Mrs. Roy Cameron, Centreville; vice-president, Mrs. Kenneth Merritt, Mink Cove; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Eldon Mitchell, Sandy Cove, (re-elected).

Rev. B. MacMartin, reporting for the courtesy committee, thanked the Centreville people for their hospitality, the Baptist Church for having the convention, and Rev. J. W. Scott, for his excellent leadership.

Rev. D. McClure reported for the leadership training committee, and after a good discussion it was decided to hold a leadership workshop the 18th, 19th and 20th of November in the Waterford Baptist Church.

Rev. Scott then took over the evening program which was on the theme "What is Teaching," and after a group discussion Rev. Scott outlined the "requirements of a good teacher."

After the singing of the hymn "Living for Jesus" the newly elected officers came forward and Rev. Scott offered a prayer of dedication.

Rev. D. McClure thanked Mr. Scott for being with them and for his helpful suggestions throughout the convention, and then closed the evening session with prayer and benediction.

Christmas Trees To Be Inspected

Producers and shippers of Christmas trees, who have been in the habit of exporting Christmas trees to the United States, are reminded of the fact that trees destined for markets in New York State must carry a clean bill of health if they are to be admitted this year.

The other day L. S. Hawbolt, Director of Extension, Department of Lands and Forests, Truro, forwarded a directive issued by the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets, which, in effect, advised that: "... It will be required that all shipments of Christmas trees and cut boughs entering the State of New York, or being moved within the State, be accompanied by a valid certificate of inspection issued by a plant or nursery officer of the state or country of origin stating that the Christmas trees and/or boughs have been examined by him and that the shipment is apparently free from injurious insect pests, and plant diseases. In addition, common carriers including shippers and producers of these commodities must not accept shipments at origin points for movement into New York State without valid inspection certification."

Here in Nova Scotia, advises Mr. Hawbolt, the certification of shipments will be undertaken by an authorized officer of the Department of Lands and Forests. After examination of a representative sample of a shipment, an inspection certificate may be obtained without charge at the office of the local district forester.

Information on the new procedure may be obtained from any of the district foresters in Nova Scotia, from Mr. Hawbolt, or from the head office of the Department of Lands and Forests, Halifax.

Marriage

Trask - Jeffery
On Saturday afternoon at 3:30 p.m., the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jeffery, Kempsville, Yarmouth Co., was the scene of a very pretty wedding when their daughter, Florence Eleanor, was united in marriage to Frederick Bruce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Trask, Brooklyn. Rev. B. F. Armstrong of Kempsville performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was a picture of girlish loveliness in a floor-length gown of white nylon and lace over net and satin. The fitted jacket was fashioned with a Peter Pan collar with imitation mother-of-pearl trim and sleeves coming to a point at the wrists. Her veil was held in place by a headband trimmed with rhinestones and pearls. She wore pearl earrings and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Dora Jeffery, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a street-length dress of aqua net over satin, and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations. Gordon Trask, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

The bride's mother wore a navy figured dress with pink accessories. The groom's mother wore a brown box-style suit with beige accessories. Their corsages were white carnations.

Attending the marriage ceremony were the groom's two great-grandmothers, Mrs. Edna Gray and Mrs. Rosalie Servant. Immediately following the ceremony, a luncheon was served by Mrs. William Prout and Mrs. Florence Prout for the immediate family. That evening at 7:30 p.m., a reception was held for about 100 guests at the home of the groom's parents. The room was decorated with pink and white streamers and wedding bells. The bride's table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake, which was

PHONE 440 WE CLOSE 12:30 P.M. SATURDAYS DIGBY

To Our Women Of Digby

Very shortly we are to have a civic election in our town. Three councillors are to be elected. Surely we women want to feel that we share in electing these councillors. Too often we have said "If only we had a good council, one that would do something worth while in trying to make our town a better one in which to live". We complain about the spending of our tax money, complain about sewers, streets, etc., and yet do nothing about it. Our town will be what we make it and every citizen has equal right in sharing the responsibility. If we sit back and criticize it should be done constructively and not otherwise.

As women citizens of Digby it is our duty to vote for the best possible councillors and after their election to stand behind them and encourage them to do their best. Many of us work for our own livings. Why should we not work equally with men in the planning and running of our town? At least we can cast our votes and show our interest in this way.

More women need to offer their services in town affairs. We have good thinkers and good leaders which is proven by our different town organizations. What could our churches, hospital, V.O.N., etc., do without women? Every community needs the balance of both men and women workers. To date it has been slightly one-sided. In offering myself as councillor-nominee in the coming election I am doing so mainly to inspire other women to do the same when occasions arise.

We must not just dream of a better Digby but we must follow these dreams with realization, facing actualities, intelligent thinking, sharing responsibilities and good hard work.

The man or woman who sits back and grumbles is not a good citizen. We can't all be leaders but we can be interested helpers and this is what our town needs. Nature has made Digby very beautiful to start with but we are not doing the best we can to keep it so.

I would ask our women to take stock, use judgment and reason and vote for three good councillors on December second. This is not a political election but a civic one with the one idea

CARS ARE MY LINE

by Ken Hankinson
 GOOD BRAKES GIVE YOU A BREAK

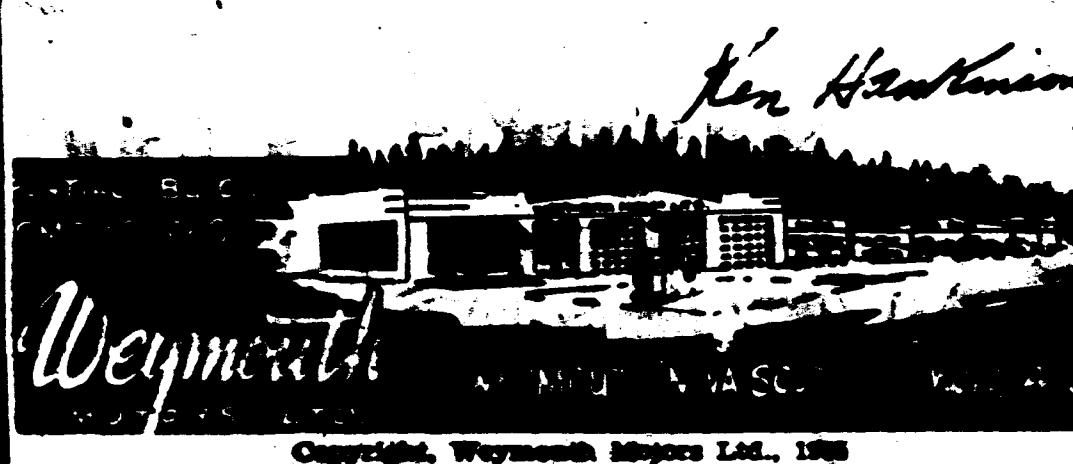

Ever notice going down the highway, that some drivers slow down with short on-and-off applications of their brakes. That's the way you should slow down. The worst enemy of brakes is heat. Jamming your foot to the floor to stop . . . or even to slow down . . . raises the temperature of your brake drums and linings by hundreds of degrees. And sometimes you will heat them enough to have them fade just at the worst moment.

Brakes are the most important safety feature on your car . . . they're there to protect your life and property. Your brakes should be checked and adjusted frequently for your own safety and your own peace of mind.

Fortunately, brakes usually give plenty of warning of impending trouble. Before they get downright dangerous, you usually get some warning that something is wrong. Noises, fading or grabbing are the usual signs that brakes need attention.

Yes, brakes are your most important safety feature and they deserve the attention of a good brake man who has plenty of first class equipment to work with. And when your service man recommends new brake lining, don't put it off. It costs much more to reface or replace scored brake drums than it does to install a new set of brake linings.

When it comes to brake work, where you go is as important as the job. When you come to Weymouth Motors Ltd. you can rely on your brakes . . . we make sure your brakes are in real safety-shape.

THE NOVA SCOTIA HOSPITAL INSURANCE PLAN

 PLAN OFFERED BY THE NOVA SCOTIA GOVERNMENT

- Q Does the Plan pay doctor's bills?
 A No.
- Q Will electrical heart tests (electrocardiograms) be covered under the Plan?
 A (a) For in-patients: yes.
 (b) For out-patients: no, except when required within forty-eight hours following an accident.
- Q Can I get into hospital simply by applying at the hospital?
 A No. You may be admitted only if your condition makes it medically necessary, and then only on the application of your doctor.
- Q Will the Plan provide special nursing care?
 A The Plan will provide necessary nursing care. If it is determined that in an individual case more than average nursing care is necessary, then the Plan will provide such care free of charge. In the event a patient wishes a special duty nurse for companionship rather than from necessity, the patient will be responsible for payment of such care.
- Q Will the Plan provide all drugs free?
 A All drugs which are medically necessary, but not patent medicines, will be provided free to all in-patients and to out-patients within 48 hours after an accident.
- Q What will be the position of the Workmen's Compensation Board under the Plan?
 A Persons with disabilities eligible for hospital care under the Workmen's Compensation Act are not eligible for the same services under the Hospital Insurance Act.
- Q In the event it is necessary to transfer a patient from one hospital to another, will the cost of transportation be covered?
 A No. The Plan is a Hospital Plan entirely.
- Q Will any "home services" be supplied under the Plan?
 A No.
- Q May an insured person have semi-private or private accommodations if they are available?
 A Yes. The Plan covers the standard ward portion of the cost, and the patient and/or his private insurer will be responsible for the payment of the difference.
- Q What will be the additional cost for semi-private or private rooms?
 A These charges will be set by the individual hospitals and will vary from place to place depending on conditions. Your local hospital will give you these charges on request.

Marriage

Trask — Ellis

A pretty wedding took place in the United Baptist Church in Digby on Saturday, November 15, at 8 p.m. The church was tastefully decorated with small bouquets of white mums and the guest pews were marked with miniature mauve mums and white ribbons. Audrey Yvonne, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton L. Ellis, Digby and Keith Burtrum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Trask, Little River were united in marriage by Rev. H. S. Hartlin, who performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor length gown of white French brocade with long sleeves tapered to the wrists and a waist length veil with a head-dress trimmed with rhinestones and small butterflies. The bride carried a bouquet of pink and white mums.

The maid of honor, Miss Kathleen Dakin, Halifax wore a ballerina length gown of blue nylon and net over taffeta with matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of mauve, yellow and white mums. The bridesmaid, Miss Millicent Fisher, Halifax, wore a ballerina length gown of yellow nylon and net over taffeta and carried a bouquet of mauve and yellow mums.

The groom was attended by Barry Wray, H. M. C. S. Algonquin, Halifax. The ushers were Harry Trask (cousin of the groom) and Emmerson Graham (brother-in-law of the groom). Digby Junior ushers were Doug Trask (brother of the groom) Little River and David Denton (cousin of the groom), Little River.

The bride's mother was attired in a blue crepe dress with white and black accessories and a corsage of white and yellow mums. The groom's mother wore a dress of blue velvet with matching cape and rose accessories, and a corsage of white and yellow mums.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Harold Nichols, Digby. A solo, "Because" was beautifully rendered by Mrs. H. Small during the signing of the register.

A reception was held for 125 guests at the Hotel Champlain, immediately following the wedding ceremony. The bride's table was attractively decorated with white streamers and a four tier wedding cake flanked by wedding candles and yellow mums.

A tasty lunch of assorted sandwiches, cakes and cookies were served. Those serving were Mrs. Emmerson Graham, Miss Louise Atkinson, Miss Virginia Morton, Miss Kaye Balser, Miss Joyce Lewis, and Miss Glenda MacIntosh. Mrs. Douglas Syda had charge of the guest book.

A toast to the bride was offered by Rev. C. Olmstead, and responded to by the groom. Out of town guests attended from Halifax, Camb. Co., Kentville, Annapolis Royal, Little River, Victoria Beach, East Ferry, and Saint John, N. B.

The happy couple left on a short motor trip amid congratulations and good wishes. For going away the bride chose a dress of blue velvet with white and black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Many lovely and useful gifts were received. The happy couple will reside in Saint John where the groom is employed by the CPR Princess Helene. The bride is employed by F. W. Woolworth Co.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Kent Skinner, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Ferny Silver, of Digby.

Sacred Heart Church, Saulnierville, was the scene of a pretty autumn wedding when Rev. Father Gastonion united in marriage Elaine Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Woods, of Deep Brook, to Kenneth Alvin Peach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Peach, Windsor, N. S.

The bride, beautifully attired in white brocade lace and net over taffeta, ballerina length, was given in marriage by her father. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a tiara, and she carried a bouquet of red and white roses and wore a string of pearls.

Miss Betty Woods, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, dressed in yellow brocade lace over taffeta.

Misses Diane Graham and Margaret Walker were bridesmaids. Miss Graham was dressed in pastel green brocade lace over lace and Miss Walker wore pastel blue. All wore matching picture hats and carried nosegays of mums. Little Angela Fudge acted as junior bridesmaid, looking charming in pink organza.

Trask — Ellis
A pretty wedding took place in the United Baptist Church in Digby on Saturday, November 15, at 8 p.m. The church was tastefully decorated with small bouquets of white mums and the guest pews were marked with miniature mauve mums and white ribbons. Audrey Yvonne, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton L. Ellis, Digby and Keith Burtrum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Trask, Little River were united in marriage by Rev. H. S. Hartlin, who performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor length gown of white French brocade with long sleeves tapered to the wrists and a waist length veil with a head-dress trimmed with rhinestones and small butterflies. The bride carried a bouquet of pink and white mums.

The maid of honor, Miss Kathleen Dakin, Halifax wore a ballerina length gown of blue nylon and net over taffeta with matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of mauve, yellow and white mums. The bridesmaid, Miss Millicent Fisher, Halifax, wore a ballerina length gown of yellow nylon and net over taffeta and carried a bouquet of mauve and yellow mums.

The groom was attended by Barry Wray, H. M. C. S. Algonquin, Halifax. The ushers were Harry Trask (cousin of the groom) and Emmerson Graham (brother-in-law of the groom). Digby Junior ushers were Doug Trask (brother of the groom) Little River and David Denton (cousin of the groom), Little River.

The bride's mother was attired in a blue crepe dress with white and black accessories and a corsage of white and yellow mums. The groom's mother wore a dress of blue velvet with matching cape and rose accessories, and a corsage of white and yellow mums.

A reception was held for 125 guests at the Hotel Champlain, immediately following the wedding ceremony. The bride's table was attractively decorated with white streamers and a four tier wedding cake flanked by wedding candles and yellow mums.

A tasty lunch of assorted sandwiches, cakes and cookies were served. Those serving were Mrs. Emmerson Graham, Miss Louise Atkinson, Miss Virginia Morton, Miss Kaye Balser, Miss Joyce Lewis, and Miss Glenda MacIntosh. Mrs. Douglas Syda had charge of the guest book.

A toast to the bride was offered by Rev. C. Olmstead, and responded to by the groom. Out of town guests attended from Halifax, Camb. Co., Kentville, Annapolis Royal, Little River, Victoria Beach, East Ferry, and Saint John, N. B.

Beattie C. Wilson
Mrs. Beattie C. Wilson, Conway, on the outskirts of Digby, passed away early Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Benjamin Maher, Barton. She was 78 years of age, and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Porter.

Capt. M. W. Lewis
The death occurred in New Hampton, N.H., on Friday morning, October 28th, of Capt. Murray Wyman Lewis, a captain in the municipal ferry service until his retirement three years ago. He was in his 78th year.

Surviving are his widow, nee Carrie Bell Harris, formerly of Margaretsville, N. S.; one son, Archie, of New Hampshire; two grandchildren, Marina and Charles Alan Lewis, and two sisters, Mrs. Howard Welch, Coombs, B. C., and Mrs. Ralph Morrell, Freeport, N. S.

CRUSTY DINNER ROLLS
Measure into a large bowl 1/2 c. lukewarm water; crumble and add 1 cake Best Yeast—or stir in 1 tsp. granulated sugar and sprinkle with 1 envelope Best dry Yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, THEN stir well. Add 3/4 c. lukewarm water and 1 tsp. salt. Add, all at once, 3 1/2 c. once-sifted all-purpose flour and work in with the hands; work in 3 lbs. soft shortening. Knead on lightly-floured board until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl. Cover with a damp cloth and set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down dough in bowl, fold over, cover and again let rise until doubled in bulk. Turn out on lightly-floured board and divide into 2 equal portions; shape each portion into a long roll about 1 1/4" in diameter. Cover with a damp cloth and let rest 15 mins. Using a floured sharp knife, cut dough into 2" lengths and place, well apart, on ungreased cookie sheets. Sprinkle rolls with cornmeal and let rise, uncovered, for 1/2 hour. Brush with cold water and let rise another 1/2 hour. Meanwhile, stand a broad shallow pan of hot water in the oven and preheat oven to hot, 425°. Remove pan of water from oven and bake the rolls in steam-filled oven for 1/2 hour, brushing them with cold water and sprinkling lightly with cornmeal after the first 15 mins., and again brushing them with cold water 2 minutes before removing baked buns from the oven. Yield—18 rolls.

of Woodstock, N. B.

All Welcome.

Every time you make a bank deposit at the BNS you help keep the wheels of Canadian industry turning. Through its nationwide system of branches, The Bank of Nova Scotia puts your money to work in cities, farms and in factories across the country.
This investment in Canada helps provide greater employment opportunities and a higher standard of living for us all. The BNS statement below shows what your money—and that of over 1,000,000 other depositors—accomplished in 1958.

Highlights of The Bank of Nova Scotia's 127th Annual Statement

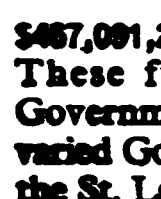

as at October 31, 1958

ASSETS

—the Bank's resources and how they work for you

$247,872,764 cash, cheques and due from other banks
This is like cash in the Bank's till to service the cheques which BNS customers draw on their accounts.

$467,091,289 Investments
These funds (mostly Canadian Government Bonds) help finance varied Government activities such as the St. Lawrence Seaway; the National Harbours Board; Wheat Board payments; our National Defence needs. Other investment funds go into the building of schools, highways, new plants and equipment — to make more of the good things of life available to us all.

$133,136,696 call loans, secured
This money, lent to investment houses, is subject to immediate recall if required.

$797,867,038 other loans, less provision for estimated loss
Our customers in Canada and abroad borrowed this amount for all kinds of personal and business purposes. These loans help finance the purchase of materials and the sale and distribution of goods... from the cutting of trees in the forest to the sale of refrigerators... from starting a business to improving a farm or home. Loans of this nature are the lifeblood of Canada's growth.

$31,253,962 customers' liability under Letters of Credit
This is the amount customers are pledged to repay the Bank for funds it may pay out on their behalf under Letters of Credit, covering trade in Canada and abroad.

$24,803,272 bank premises and other assets
Most of this money goes into a continuous programme of improving our branch facilities so that customers can do their banking more pleasantly and easily.

LIABILITIES

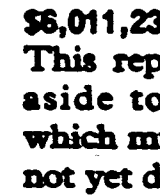

—money entrusted to us
by you, the customer

$1,595,474,227 deposits
More than a million customers now bank with the BNS. They deposit their money for a host of reasons — to meet business and household needs... as a retirement fund for the future... or to finance a college education. Our customers place these funds for safety and convenience in current and savings accounts, personal chequing accounts and such special accounts as the Bank's unique PSP.

$31,253,962 Letters of Credit
This shows the amount of credit the Bank has guaranteed on behalf of its customers buying from suppliers, particularly those abroad.
This encourages the expansion of foreign trade and in this way helps develop new outlets for Canadian goods and services
... another way the Bank helps the wheels of industry go round.

$6,011,237 other liabilities
This represents money set aside to cover expenses which must be met, but are not yet due... such as our 1958 Income Tax.

WHAT THE SHAREHOLDERS CONTRIBUTE

$71,285,567 capital paid up, reserve account and undivided profits
The shareholders — the real owners of the Bank — contribute these funds which protect the interests of the customers. They thus ensure the strength and stability of the BNS and help make possible the Bank's increasing contribution to the growth of Canada.

VOLUME LXXXV, No. 14

Heads Digby Liberals

A. R. Pyne, prominent Digby merchant, was elected president of the Digby Liberal Association at the annual meeting here Tuesday evening. He succeeds Victor Cardoza, retiring president of the association.

Other officers elected included George Wagner, Weymouth, vice-president, and W. L. Troupe, Digby, secretary-treasurer. Members of the sub executive committee elected at the meeting included Thomas Milner, Bear River; Romaine Perry, Freeport; R. J. M. Taylor, Weymouth, and W. J. Franklin, Digby.

Speaker at the annual meeting was H. D. Hicks, Q.C., M.L.A., provincial Liberal leader. Introduced by Peter Nicholson, M.L.A. for Annapolis West, Mr. Hicks charged the Stanfield government with failure to fulfill election promises, especially those concerning municipal aid and with relation to education. "It is quite evident the Stanfield government, he said, are finding that the things about which they talked so glibly and convincingly before election are not as easy to deal with now they are forming the government of the province."

Mr. Hicks stated the Stanfield government had imported a firm of American experts to try to tell them how to run the government. This firm, he said, was costing the taxpayers of Nova Scotia $300,000 a year and said some of the firm's employees were getting a hundred dollars a day while working in Halifax.

Dealing with education, Mr. Hicks said this subject had probably played a big part in the fact the Conservative candidate had won the Digby seat in the last provincial election. He asked his listeners to recall the statements made by that candidate during the election campaign with respect to education and municipal taxation and compare these with what has actually been done by the Stanfield administration and the Education Minister since assuming office.

New Nomination Date Set

Municipal authorities in Digby Municipality are experiencing difficulties in securing council nominees for the district of Weymouth in Digby Municipality.

A third nomination date for the district has had to be set because no nominations were filed on either of the two dates previously set. Latest date for nominations in Weymouth has been set for December 16th.

On the regular date for council nominations in Digby Municipality no nominations were received from the districts of Weymouth and Weymouth North so a second date, November 18th, was set for both these districts.

On that date Clyde Cosman, sitting councillor for the district of Weymouth North, was nominated for that district and was unopposed. No nominations were received, however, for the Weymouth seat, and a new date had to be set.

The Weymouth seat was held in the previous council by Deputy Warden H. E. Lewis who has declined to reoffer.

Letter to the Editor

Editor of The Digby Courier,
Dear Editor:
(Protesting against the New Brunswick seiners seining in St. Mary's Bay).

This bay is thirty-two miles long and four miles wide and is fifteen to eighteen fathom deep in the middle of the bay. It is also a spawning ground for all kinds of fish.

There should not be a purse seiner allowed in St. Mary's Bay. These seiners have been seining up at Seawall off from what they call Red Head in about twelve to fifteen feet of water. It is a crime to slaughter these herring in that shallow water.

They leave, as many on the bottom dead to rot as they take aboard their boats. I own half interest of a weir which is just below Seawall and is called Johnson Cove. This weir cost between fifteen and sixteen hundred dollars for my half interest according to the operator. Part of this expense was for a thirty foot boat rented from the operator, Cameron Robbins, which has run around six hun-

Commends Stand Of Government

The Annapolis Presbytery of the United Church of Canada met in the Bridgetown United Church November 25th. Rev. C. H. Gough presided. There was a good attendance.

Presbytery heartily commended Premier Stanfield and his government for declining to make provision by legislation for increased sale of liquor.

Announcement was made that the RCAF at Greenwood plan, with the approval of all concerned, to remove the present Union Church, and build a new one on a new site.

The collegians played position which assisted them considerably in running up a good score. Yarmouth Bluenose missed some fine scoring chances when d'Entremont, in the nets for the K-Mi-Zol's, made some exceptional stops. Harvey, in the nets for the Bluenose, made some good saves when left alone in the third period when his teammates endeavoured to put the pressure on in trying to score.

The Bluenose team will improve and will be a team to watch before the playoffs roll around. Chisholm scored their lone tally in the first period at the 9:23 minute mark. The K-Mi-Zol's scored by Andre Levesque to open the scoring at 5:02 and Gaston d'Entremont made it 3-1 scoring at 7 minutes and at 14:16. In the second St. Ann's scored only once by Gaston d'Entremont at 5:17, and in the third they scored twice by Ronald Lavoie at 3:05 and at 17:30, assisted on the last score by Levesque.

About This and That

Accidents Can Be Prevented

It has been officially estimated that more than 95% of all traffic accidents need not have happened!

They could have been prevented.

That is little compensation for the survivors of the victims but it should be a warning to them, and to everyone who drives or walks.

There are traffic laws to be obeyed, traffic signs to indicate danger, and common sense to notify every motorist and pedestrian when peril is at hand. By obeying laws, signs and sense, most highway mishaps could be avoided and a lot of people could go on living.

But when human beings are involved, human frailties and failings exist. They must be reckoned with.

That is why a Safe-Driving Week is held during the first week of December, this week, to try to bring, as forcefully as possible, in a concentrated campaign, the fact that the responsibility for preventing traffic deaths, injuries and accidents falls directly on the shoulders of the individual.

Safe-Driving Week is only a part of the work being done in all corners of the land to bring safety to the highways of Canada.

Around the calendar, thousands of Canadians are at work from many angles — laws and their enforcement, public action, education, vehicle safety, engineering, motor vehicle administration, and so on — trying to provide safety and safe conditions.

But the motorist and the pedestrian never changes, unless he changes himself. There is never a new model in humans unless the human produces it himself.

No safety organization — national, provincial or community — can do it for him. All they can do is hand him the tools and hope he doesn't use them as weapons.

The Individual Causes Highway Accidents. The Individual Must Stop Them.

The dozen death-dealing ways of causing traffic accidents, as drawn up by experts from research into traffic-accident experience, are, in order of importance:

1. Speed too fast for conditions.
2. Unsafe backing.
3. Assuming right-of-way.
4. Cutting in.
5. Failure to signal.
6. Unsafe passing.
7. Inattention.
8. Intoxication.
9. Following too close.
10. Driving on the wrong side of the road.
11. Improper parking.
12. Miscellaneous.

No Imagined Ailments Covered

Coverage under the Nova Scotia Hospital Insurance Plan is more than a matter of going to a hospital with a complaint and asking for admission, R. MacD. Black, chairman of the Nova Scotia Hospital Insurance Commission, warned last week.

Residents of Nova Scotia, Mr. Black said, will be admitted only if their condition makes it medically necessary and only upon the application of a duly qualified medical practitioner.

This means, he said, that a person doesn't rush down to the hospital and demand to be admitted simply because he "feels he has an ailment, real or imagined". It is up to his doctor to make the application for admission and up to the medical authorities at the hospital to decide whether immediate admission is medically necessary.

Once in hospital, however, a patient will remain covered by the plan as long as it's medically necessary. "Benefits cease when the patient's physician indicates that hospital care is no longer required, or the hospital standards committee or the commission rules the patient can be discharged," he said.

If a patient doesn't leave the hospital when his doctor discharges him, Mr. Black warned, the patient will have to pay the bill for all the services provided after the date upon which the doctor decided that discharge could have occurred. He stated that although discharges are at the discretion of doctors, he assured no patient will be sent out from the hospital unless it is absolutely positive he can no longer benefit from in-patient treatment.

The Nova Scotia Hospital Plan, Mr. Black said, "will in no way change the existing arrangements between patients and physicians. Subscribers are entirely free to attend whatever doctor they choose."

Letter to the Editor

November 24, 1958

The Editor,
Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.
Sir:

There was a time and not too long ago that in both Annapolis Royal and Digby there were very active and interested groups of young ladies who gave up one evening a month to come into Cornwallis and act as hostesses at the New Entry Dances.

In Annapolis Royal, although loosely organized, there were, at one time, as many as twenty-five to thirty girls coming to these activities. From Digby where the young ladies were organized by the Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, over forty girls used to come to the dances. The Women's Auxiliary did a splendid job but just recently they decided to give up this project. It's true, attendance at the dances has dropped away down lately and because of this the dances have been only mildly successful. You can imagine how one sided these events are with only about fifteen girls and approximately 300 to 400 young lads ready and eager to dance. As a result of this unsatisfactory situation the dances have had to be cancelled until such time as the Hostess Clubs can once again be organized.

In the five years that these dances have been operating, there has never been any major problems, nor has there ever been any criticisms from either the girls, their parents or the Navy. The dances are supervised and chaperoned and there is absolutely no drinking which eliminates a lot of other difficulties as well. Transportation is provided and the girls are picked up at centrally located places in each of the towns and brought directly to the Recreation Centre. Immediately following the dance the girls are delivered back to their respective towns no later than 11:30. There never has been an incident to cause anyone alarm, in fact, there are few dances anywhere that are as well organized and run as smoothly as these. It's a big event for the young chaps who look forward to this occasion each month and it's a shame to have to stop the dances entirely.

This letter is an appeal to the Women's organizations of both Annapolis Royal and Digby who would be interested in taking on this worthwhile project. It really isn't too difficult and it comes up just once a month. It might be wise to mention here that in the past the girls have participated in the Christmas festivities at the Recreation Centre during the holiday season and with Christmas just a little way off it would be desirable to have the clubs organized for this big occasion.

If there is an organization that might be interested in taking this on or just wish more information, please feel free to

Mullen — Farnsworth

The Havelock Reformed Baptist Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on November 22nd, when Beva Anne Farnsworth, foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mullen, New Tusket, became the bride of Iver Stephen Mullen, son of Mrs. Percy Mullen and the late Percy Mullen, of Hassetta. Rev. D. C. Webb, pastor of the church, performed the double-ring ceremony.

To the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. Clayton Churchill, Port Maitland, the bride entered the church on the arm of her foster father, by whom she was given in marriage. She wore a floor-length gown of white nylon net and lace over satin. The strapless fitted bodice featured a small lace bolero with long sleeves and having a small buttoned peter pan collar embroidered with sequins and seed pearls. Her shoulder length veil of nylon net was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls and sequins, and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

She was attended by her sister, Lorraine Farnsworth, as maid of honor, who wore a pink nylon gown with full skirt and carried a nosegay of 'mums. Miss Martha Nickerson acted as bridesmaid. She was dressed in a turquoise nylon gown with full skirt and carried a nosegay of 'mums. Little Miss Rhoda Ford, niece of the groom, was flower girl. She was dressed in pink nylon and carried a nosegay of 'mums.

The groomsmen were Donald Barr and the ushers were Allison Sabean and Charles Grant.

Immediately following the ceremony the reception was held in the New Tusket community hall for approximately 200 guests. The bride and groom were the recipients of many lovely and useful gifts including linen, silver, electrical appliances and a sum of money.

Following the reception the happy couple left for a short trip through the province. The bride chose for her going away outfit a beige suit with brown flecks, and brown and beige accessories with brown fur jacket. Her corsage was yellow roses. On their return they will reside in Digby where the bride has been on the nursing staff of the Digby General Hospital.

Father Gaudet performed the double-ring ceremony.

To the strains of the wedding march, played by Constantine Kirkpatrick, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage. She was charming in a floor-length gown of white nylon lace over net. Rhinestones and colored sequins trimmed the fitted bodice which was fashioned with high neckline and tapering sleeves. Tiny buttons accented the back and the skirt was full. Her fingertip veil was held in place by rhinestones and colored sequins as headpiece. She wore pearl earrings and carried a bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Cyril Myers, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and a girlfriend, Edith Myers, was bridesmaid.

Cyril Myers, brother-in-law of the bride, supported the groom and ushers were Carl Saulnier and Clifford Mullen Jr.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church hall. The mother of the bride was attired in olive green crepe with orange accessories and a corsage of white and yellow carnations. The groom's mother wore stone blue crepe with pink accessories and a corsage of white and pink carnations.

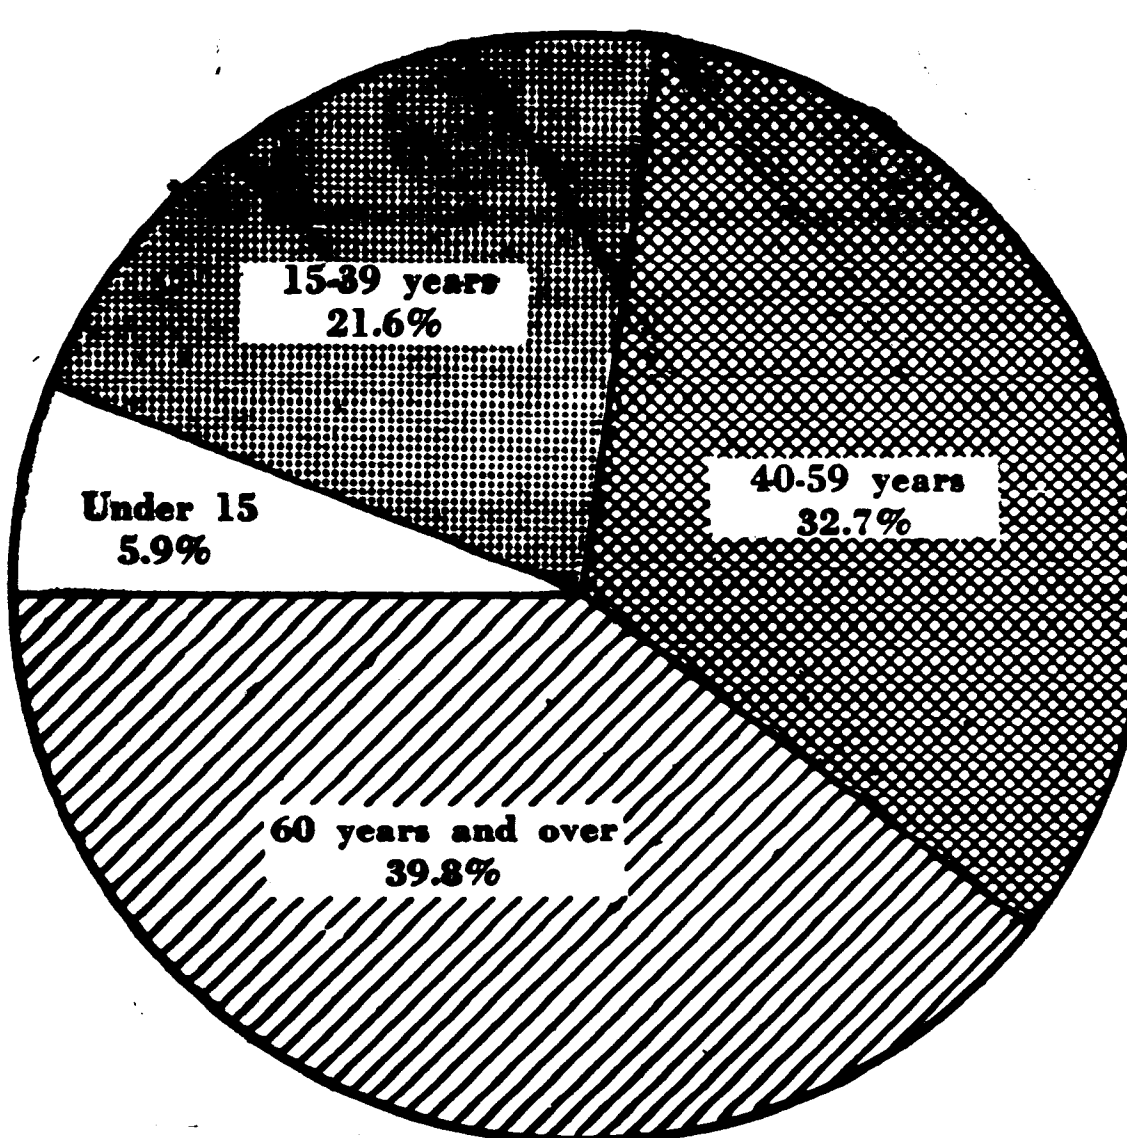

Mrs. Evelyn Outhouse, sister of the groom, presided at the silver service and serving were nieces of the groom, Verna and Margaret Perry, and friends, Carol Handsaker and Betty Saulnier. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Norman Kennedy of HMCS Cornwallis, and responded to by the groom. The guest book was in charge of Mrs. Allison Scott, cousin of the bride.

For going away the bride chose a suit of blue with pink accessories and a corsage of white and pink carnations. The happy couple left for Saint John on the Princess Helen for their honeymoon.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Myers and daughter, Olive, Eastern Pas-

Step-Saving Efficiency Found in Modest Split-Level Design

From the street this modest split-level house has the appearance of an attractive one-storey dwelling. Designed by architect K. R. D. Pratt, of St. Vital, Manitoba, the house combines the step-saving efficiency of a bungalow with the privacy of sleeping area found in the two-storey house.

The U-shaped working area and the dining space provided in the kitchen should appeal to most housewives. An attractive feature of the plan is the upstairs hall, which forms a balcony overlooking the living room. Recreation rooms, as well as heating and utility facilities are on the level below the bedrooms. An abundance of window area ensures a bright and cheery atmosphere in the house. The total floor area is 974 square feet and the exterior dimensions are 37 feet by 27 feet. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 753, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

Weymouth Items

A WEYMOUTH BEAR STORY
(This is a news item that appeared in the Courier on Friday, October 13, 1922.)

George U. Hankinson, E. R. Gaudet, Siffroi Theriault, Watson Taylor and Douglas Gates returned Saturday from a cruising trip to Chubbuck Lake, at the head of the Sissiboo Waters. The trip which is usually an uneventful one, proved extremely exciting. The second day the party was out in the woods looking at the fine specimens of timber growing, one of them suddenly exclaimed after hearing a noise, "That's a porcupine." However, upon further investigation one of the party, E. R. Gaudet, said it was a bear. What was the surprise when a little later they came upon a mother bear with three cubs. The men, only two of whom were armed, one with a rifle, the other with a shotgun, made a rush on them. The three cubs were treed, Watson Taylor in his pell mell rush nearly walked on the mother bear, which in a twinkling of an eye was off like a flash. Mr. Taylor fired two shots at the mother, but she escaped into the ground hemlock and underbrush. With the three young cubs up the tree, three of the men, Messrs. Hankinson, Gaudet and Theriault, were left to watch them unarmed whilst Messrs. Gates and Taylor went after the old bear.

During their absence one of the others who had remained got somewhat nervous, (he vowed there were four cubs instead of three.) They had no firearms to protect themselves should the cubs spring at them. Out of the calm air of the day was heard the despairing cry "For God's sake, leave us at least your sheath knife." After a few minutes fruitless chase the other two men of the party returned. One of the cubs was then shot and after he fell limply to the ground, another was shot down. The ammunition of the cruisers was getting short, only a bullet or two left. With eye straight as an eagle's Mr. Gates fired and the third bear fell dead at their feet. After the third bear had been skinned, one of the party, who was nervous and timid, (since it was his first experience with Mr. Bruin) heaved a sigh of relief and a fervent "Thank Heaven."

Expect To Move Millions Of Trees

Canadian National Railways are completing arrangements for the movement of millions of Christmas trees from the Maritime Provinces to the United States market.

The annual pre-Yule trade is big business for the Maritimes. Last year, 12,000,000 trees were shipped from Canada to the U.S., with a declared value at ports of entry of $6,225,000. Two-thirds of them were cut in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. Canadian National Railways moved nearly 2,100 carloads of Christmas trees from Nova Scotia, while in New Brunswick shipments totalled more than 2,400. It's a profitable time for all concerned when the trees are moving out to market and the work is one of the most important seasonal industries in the Maritime Provinces.

In Nova Scotia, Christmas trees are cut and bought at points throughout the province, with just about every area getting some share of the business. Loadings originate on CNR lines between Halifax and Yarmouth on the south shore; between Bridgewater and Middleton and Bridgetown in the Annapolis Valley; at Dartmouth and at points on the eastern shore; in the general area of Truro and central Nova Scotia; in the Oxford area and on Cape Breton Island.

Lee Shepard, Hotert's president, said shipments by CNR freight to the United States market will commence November 15.

Commenting on new U. S. grading regulations, Mr. Shepard said they should have the desired effect of protecting the market. He explained that last year not only was there an overproduction but many of the trees were poor in quality. Now, in accordance with the new standards, every yard of trees will be inspected before cutting is allowed.

Mr. Shepard added that because of excessive shedding of needles experienced last year after the trees had been delivered, importers were reluctant to place orders early. As a result there would likely be a last-minute rush.

Elect Officers

The annual meeting for the Barton Cemetery was held on the evening of November 12th

Despite the heavy job of hauling done by CNR during the rush season, the movement of Christmas trees is so designed by the railway that it does not interfere with other normal freight traffic. Cars are especially allocated for the job.

Dealers report that from Maine to Florida there is a preference for Canadian trees, principally because they are mostly balsam fir, which is regarded as the traditional Christmas tree. Another strong point in their favor is their fragrance.

Mr. Shepard noted that the budworm spraying program carried out in New Brunswick has improved the Christmas tree industry of the province and put production on an upward trend.

From mid-November through the first week in December CNR freight trains will be busy moving the large volume of Christmas trees to U. S. destinations.

at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Height, with the President, Rev. R. R. Winchester, in the chair.

The sum of $165 has been received up to date. This money, as well as being used for the present upkeep, goes into a fund for perpetual care for future years. Mention was made of the bond given the Cemetery Committee by Mr. Ralph Abbott. It was decided to ask aid from all interested in this project until enough money is secured. The books had been audited and found correct.

Officers elected are as follows: President, Rev. R. R. Winchester; Secretary, Treasurers, Mrs. B. J. Height; Co-Signee, Mrs. Ralph S. Haight; Carekeeper, Mr. Charles Lambertson; Auditor, Mr. Rice Kinney; Trustee Committee, Mr. Ernest Ring, Barton, Mr. Baden Powell, Plympton, Mr. Harris Andrews, Brighton.

Much work has been done in the cemetery and credit should be given to all those who have contributed and shown interest in this work.

seiners were taking in thousands of dollars worth of herring. About three years ago this spring the seiners were seining off of Sandy Cove. They had a lot of herring in their seines and a breeze of wind came up and they had to dump their herring. These were smothered and lay on bottom dead to rot. According to men operating fish draggers out of Little River they went up over these grounds and all they dragged up were dead herring. There were no other kinds of fish on these grounds, so it proves the fish will not swim over their dead.
These seiners have chased these herring from Little River to Seawall near Digby and over on the other side of the Bay. Now I understand they are seining between Little River and Long Beach, gurryng the bottom as they go, and that proves they are driving the herring out of the Bay.
We will use the Island shore for an example, that is from Tiverton to Freeport, a distance of ten miles. There were always plenty of herring along these shores. Last year the New Brunswick seiners seined along these shores and caught thousands of dollars worth of herring. This year they went back expecting another big run. But they weren't there. The reason was they gurred the bottom with dead herring and that proves the fish will not swim over their dead. Little River is the only low water harbour in St. Mary's Bay and would be an ideal place for a sardine factory. There would be plenty of herring to keep it running in St. Mary's Bay, Digby Gut, down Yarmouth way, up around the South Shore, and the Bay of Fundy. This would employ lots of women and the young men who have to leave Digby Neck to seek employment elsewhere. The New Brunswick seiners have to come over here to get most all their herring as they have ruined it over their way. They are now trying to do the same for us. Why let all this wealth go to New Brunswick and let Digby Neck go down. Fishing is all we have to depend on. Take this away and we would all starve.
The two seining crews who were on CBC-TV Sunday, Nov. 16th, claimed they were helping the weir fishermen by driving the herring into the weirs which is not true. This is the other way around. They drive the fish away from the weirs by the use of lights and the roaring of engines. The seiners also claimed they helped to keep the price up. They got $20.00 a hoghead for their herring this past summer and they had the markets. The weir fishermen of St. Mary's Bay had to take fertilizer price which was $4.00 a hoghead.
The Conservative Government has money out for industry. Why not start a herring industry on Digby Neck. This would encourage more weirs to go up instead of discouraging them as the law is at the present.
The other weir operators on the lower end of the Neck are Conrad Gidney, Mink Cove; Wilfred Gidney, Mink Cove; Harold, Crowell, Sandy Cove, and Robert Denton, Little River.
The lobster fishermen of St. Mary's Bay will not catch as many lobsters this fall as they did last because of the New Brunswick seiners gurryng the grounds and the lobsters will eat the dead herring and will not take the bait the fishermen put in their traps.
The dragger fishermen of Digby Neck and Islands and the French Shore claim the New Brunswick seiners are going to ruin the haddock and cod fishing for some time to come. Unless further steps are taken by the federal government to stop this total destruction, the fish-

Chinchillas on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Landers, near Victoria Bridge, were given a rating of 87 following inspection by government inspectors recently. Highest rating secured by any chinchilla farm in Canada has been 88, it is understood.

Mr. and Mrs. Landers began chinchilla ranching four years ago and now have 175 of the beautiful little animals on their farm. Last week Mr. and Mrs. Landers took 3 pairs of chinchillas to Halifax from where they shipped them via Air France to customers in England. It is understood an excellent market has developed in England for these furbearers.

Publish Directory

Publication of the 1958 edition of the Nova Scotia Directory of Manufacturers was announced December 8th by the Hon. E. A. Manson, minister of trade and industry.

The new directory lists the names and addresses of more than 1700 manufacturing companies in Nova Scotia and the close to 500 products they produce.

"The manufacturing companies and products listed in this directory," the minister stated in his forward to the directory, "serve to illustrate the broad base upon which the industry of Nova Scotia is built and may well suggest additional products and supplementary lines which could be profitably made here."

"I hope that this book," the minister concluded, "will prove a useful tool in the building of Nova Scotia's economy and the broadening of its trade."

Copies of the directory may be obtained by application to the Economic Services Division, Department of Trade and Industry, Halifax.

Three Die In Accident

The swirling waters of the Meteghan River Tuesday morning claimed the lives of three Digby County men, two of them father and son, when their car skidded on slippery pavement, and plunged off the highway into fourteen feet of water.

Drowned when the car plunged into the water were Harris Andrews, 45, of Brighton; Lewis Cook, 57, of North Range, and his son, Robert, aged 21. Two other occupants of the car, Reginald Andrews and Harold Gosson, both of North Range, escaped when they scrambled out of the car and swam to safety.

Two of the accident victims attempted to swim to safety but the heavy current of the river was too much for them. Harris Andrews made it to a sand bar but lost his life in a vain attempt to rescue young Cook who was battling the current.

The accident occurred about 7:30 Tuesday morning as the five men were on their way to Carleton in Yarmouth county to load Christmas trees. Reginald and Harris Andrews were associated in a Christmas tree exporting business begun by their late father, J. Vian Andrews, a former Warden of Digby county and a pioneer in the Christmas tree industry in Nova Scotia.

The car, driven by Reginald Andrews, skidded on the icy pavement. The driver attempted to drive into the side of a roadside building to halt the skid into the river but was not successful and the '52 sedan plunged into the swirling current. The tide was high at the time and there was about 14 feet of water near the mouth of the river where the accident occurred.

Harris Andrews, one of the accident victims, is survived by his wife and by two sons, Reid and Robert, both Digby school pupils. Other survivors are his mother, Mrs. J. Vian Andrews, North Range; three brothers, Reginald, North Range; Dean, Toronto, and John, Montreal, and one sister, Phyllis (Mrs. Allan Thomas), North Range.

Lewis Cook and his son, Robert Cook, the other accident victims, are survived by Mr. Cook's wife, mother of Robert, and by Mr. Cook's sister, Miss Libby Cook, all of North Range. The bodies of the three accident victims were recovered late Tuesday afternoon and are now resting at Jayne's Funeral Home in Digby. An inquest into the tragic occurrence has been called by the Meteghan coronor and the coroner's jury viewed the bodies Tuesday and then adjourned until Sunday. Harold Gosson, one of the two who escaped from death, was admitted to the Digby hospital early Wednesday morning suffering from shock, bruises and lacerations.

Funeral service for Harris Andrews, one of the victims, will be held from St. Mary's Bay Baptist Church in Barton at 2:00 o'clock Friday afternoon, conducted by Rev. R. R. Winchester. Although final arrangements have not been completed, it is understood funeral services for Robert and Lewis Cook, the other two victims, will be held from the North Range Baptist Church on Saturday afternoon.

Funeral service for Lewis Cook and his son, Robert, will be held from the North Range Baptist Church at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. Rev. R. R. Winchester, pastor of the church, will officiate, and interment will be in the family lot.

Celebrate 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William Johnstone, of Waldeck, Annapolis Co., celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary at their home on Tuesday, December 2nd.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnstone were married at Ayrshire, Scotland, in 1898 by Rev. William Raines. They had 11 children, 21 grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren.

They came to Canada in 1927, being at that time the largest family to emigrate from Scotland, settled at East Waldeck, where they still reside.

A family dinner party was held at the home of her eldest son, James, and Mrs. Johnstone, Deep Brook, on Saturday evening. Present were the youngest son, Joseph, wife and family, Waldeck, granddaughter (Barbara) Mrs. William Young, and husband, of Halifax, grandson James Jr., and wife, of Bridgewater, and Mrs. McLean, of Bridgewater and Scotland.

A gift of money was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Johnstone and a beautifully decorated anniversary cake, made by Mrs. Young centred the table.

They were "at home" to their friends on Tuesday at Waldeck, receiving many cards, flowers, and a "money tree" with $10.00 on it from the ladies of the Waldeck East Community Club. Several nice gifts from relatives in Scotland, including woollens, were also received by both.

Presentation Made

A presentation of a gift to Cub Master Eric Caldwell of Trinity Cub Pack was made following the morning service at Trinity Anglican Church here Sunday morning. The presentation on behalf of the members of the pack was made to Mr. Caldwell by the Rector, Rev. James Pike.

At the meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of Trinity Church Tuesday evening Mrs. Caldwell was presented with a lovely cup and saucer on behalf of the group.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell have been very active in the work of the church during their stay here. Observe 55th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Deveau, well known residents of Plympton, celebrated their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary on November 26th.

They were married at the Holy Cross Church in Plympton, the parish priest at the time being Rev. Father Rust. The bridesmaid was Mrs. Deveau's sister, Mary, now Mrs. Joshua White, who resides at Lynn, Mass. The best man, John Deveau, brother of Mr. Deveau, died twenty-one years ago.

The anniversary was celebrated quietly, with their daughter, Elizabeth (Mrs. Johnny Thibault), and family, of Digby, as supper guests. Also present was the youngest daughter, Lena (Mrs. Payson Robichaud), and two grandsons, Reginald and Jerry Robichaud. There is another daughter, Irene, who resides in New York, and two sons, Willie, in Berlin, N. H., and John, in Boston. They have seven grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Among visitors who called to extend congratulations were Rev. Father R. Deveau, parish priest, and Sisters of the Holy Cross Convent.

Mr. and Mrs. Deveau have the best wishes and congratulations of their many friends.

CNIB Still Gives Leadership

"A pioneer in Canadian rehabilitation programmes, The Canadian National Institute for the Blind still continues to provide leadership in this field," stated Ian Campbell, National Co-ordinator of Rehabilitation for Canada. He was addressing the delegates to the National conference of CNIB field representatives and placement officers held in Toronto during the week of November 17. He emphasized that the teamwork which has made CNIB the effective community resource it is, is also a big factor in the rapid growth of the civilian rehabilitation programme in this country.

The more than 100 men who came from the ten Canadian provinces, met for five days in the agency headquarters at Toronto to review and discuss the present service programme for the blind. French and English speaking specialists, themselves blind, compared their problems and programmes with the view to improving and expanding services to the blind of their province.

Mr. B. M. MacArthur, district field secretary for the counties of Yarmouth, Shelburne, Digby, Annapolis, Kings and Queens, represented the district office at the conference. "There was a oneness of purpose atmosphere throughout the entire week," commented Mr. MacArthur. "Each day provided many full hours of programme examination and cross-examination. Each phase of the multi-service CNIB programme was carefully viewed. Ideas were exchanged and a closer bond of purpose became evident as the days sped by."

Trade Board Holds Meet

Routine business occupied Tuesday night's regular monthly meeting of the Digby Board of Trade.

Reports on the semi-annual meeting of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade were presented at the meeting and a discussion of action taken at that meeting was held.

Letters were read from the Minister of Highways, Hon. M. S. Leonard and Hon. E. D. Halliburton concerning requested improvements to the approaches to Digby at Conway and the underpass.

Mr. Smith stated in his letter it was felt by his department that making such approaches curving as requested by the board would serve to increase traffic hazards at the intersection but stated he would study the traffic engineer's report with respect to the specific intersections before making a decision.

Both Mr. Leonard and Mr. Halliburton stated they would be pleased to discuss the matter with the highways minister.

Some discussion was had concerning the annual meet scheduled for January. Gregg Gilliat, A. L. Robinson and Edgar Chan were named a nominating committee to bring in a proposed slate of officers at that meeting. It was decided a supper meeting would be held on the occasion of the annual session.

Letter to the Editor

Editor of the Digby Courier, Dear Madam:

As other well operators have been protesting against the New Brunswick sealers sealing in St. Mary's Bay I feel it is time I did too.

In the early spring of 1956 the New Brunswick sealers first came to St. Mary's Bay and sealed hundreds of hogsheads of herring, leaving nearly as many dead on the bottom of the bay as they marketed, and that year we worked our weirs for nothing. This shows that they break up the schools and drive them away. Since that time the herring never returned in body enough to be seized until this fall and as soon as word reached the market that herring had started to be taken in the weirs at Sandy Cove and Mink Cove the sealers arrived and chased them to the head of the bay and back again.

It would not have been quite so bad if they would stay away from a man's weir, but instead, during the night hours and even in the daylight hours they would seine just as close to our weir as it would be possible to work their large seines. Finally, on November 18th, one seiner set his seine so close to our weir that it got caught in old stakes, tearing it badly and just littered the bottom with dead fish which put us right out of business there and then. Now I want to ask a fair minded person is that a fair thing to do?

There were so many of these dead herring that they actually washed ashore for two weeks, a matter of which I reported to the fishery officer but nobody would even come and see it for (Please turn to page 8)

H-Bombs Take Lead

A four point win over the Smokeaters last Thursday and a three point win over St. Pat's Monday night gave Phil Robertson's H Bombs first place position in the Digby Bowling League with a four point margin over the Sidewinders who occupied first place last week.

League standings as of Tuesday night are:

H Bombs	38
Sidewinders	34
Houndogs	33
Smokeaters	31
Outlaws	29
Ravens	24
Legion	24
Rustlers	20
Spiritwhits	20
Police	18
Arrows	17
St. Pat's	16

In the women's division Eager Beavers held a one point lead over the Lucky Sevens as of Friday night. Lucky Sevens and three other teams, Pegaways, Upstarts and Greenhorns, were behind one game in the schedule, however, so standings do not give a true indication of team positions this week.

Standings as of Friday night were:

Eager Beavers	40
Lucky Sevens	39
Pegaways	37
Seven-Ups	25
Upstarts	23
Fuel Kids	16
Greenhorns	11
Rookies	3

Christmas Party Plans Progressing

Plans for the annual community Christmas party for the youngsters of Digby and area are well underway, it has been learned.

At the opening meeting of the committee responsible for the party, held at Chan's Restaurant last week, Victor Cardozo was elected chairman of the group. Arrangements were made to have the party at the Digby Forum on the afternoon of Thursday, December 18th, with Santa Claus scheduled to arrive at 2:15 p.m.

The group was informed by letter from HMCS Cornwallis that the naval base would be unable to take part in the party this year. In previous years the naval base has held their annual Christmas parade of decorated cars and floats, led by the navy band, to coincide with the Christmas party here and have also provided other entertainment at the party. Because of other commitments within the base itself it will not be possible to do this for the party this year, the letter stated.

It was decided at a special meeting of the committee Tuesday to make another appeal to the base for some participation in the party at the Forum. If this is not forthcoming local arrangements will be made. Collection of funds to finance the party, which is open to all children of the area both in school and pre-school age, will get underway this week, it was decided.

Red Cross Plans Christmas Cheer

The Digby Red Cross Branch held its December business meeting last week with the President, Dr. T. W. Hodgson, in the chair.

In addition to the routine matters of business which were carried on, the name of Mrs. Allan Harris was proposed for the Red Cross Badge of Service in view of her lengthy service with the Bear River Branch as well as her continuation with the Digby Branch since coming here.

The report of the Welfare Committee, as presented by Mrs. George Winfield, showed much activity in this phase of Red Cross work. Six families, which included many children, had been supplied with old clothing and shoes. In another case reported by the Red Cross by the Dept. of Welfare, a child's crib and mattress had been obtained for a crippled child, with special thanks to Mrs. P. C. Outhouse and Mrs. Ralph Wright for their assistance. In preparation for the usual Christmas boxes, over 25 dolls had been solicited and were being dressed, while many toys were being repaired through the kindness of Delbert Forrest. All these were gratefully acknowledged together with a contribution of new toys from the T. Eaton Co.

Mrs. H. M. Warner, in reporting for the Woman's Work Committee, stated that approximately 90 articles of finished work were ready for shipment to Headquarters, also 6 pairs of mittens had been passed over to the Welfare Committee for the Christmas boxes. The sale of aprons in November had been very successful, netting the sum of $45. This was reported to be held by the Ways and Means Committee, together with other funds raised from teas, until it was decided what amount would be required for the purchase of gifts for teenagers and adults included in the list for Christmas boxes.

The meeting adjourned for the usual social hour and Ten Cent Tea, and it was decided to close for the holiday season with the meeting of December 10th, reopening on Wednesday, January 7th.

Vacation Pay Act

Whether employed on a yearly or part-time basis, every employed person in Nova Scotia, except domestic servants and those engaged in farming, lumbering and commercial fishing, will be entitled to benefits under the Nova Scotia Vacation Pay Act which becomes effective January 1, 1959, Hon. Stephen T. Pyke, minister of labor, announced December 8th.

The legislation, passed during the last session of the provincial House of Assembly, provides that those employed on a yearly basis and working 90 per cent or more of the working time over a twelve-month period, be entitled to a vacation of one week and also two per cent of earnings for the period concerned. Those working less than 90 per cent of the working time do not qualify for the vacation, but will be entitled to two per cent of their earnings for the period worked.

"All employees engaged in any industry covered by the Act, other than the construction industry, after they have completed three months employment and employment is terminated, for any reason, shall be entitled to two per cent of their earnings for the period of employment," said Mr. Pyke.

The act also provides that all employees working in the construction industry, other than those employed on a yearly basis, shall, on termination of employment, be provided by the employer with a Vacation Pay Book, into which the employer has affixed Vacation Pay Stamps to the value of two per cent of earnings for the period of employment.

The employer may deduct the price of the vacation pay books from employees' earnings.

After January 1, 1959, Vacation Pay Books may be obtained from the Director of Labor Practices, Department of Labor, Provincial Building, Halifax. Vacation Pay Stamps may be obtained from any chartered bank in Nova Scotia.

This Was 44 Years Ago

The Courier this week received from Mrs. Edward Webber, of Digby, a copy of the Digby Courier of June 19, 1914.

This issue of the Courier carried many interesting items, the reading of which serves to remind us of the many changes that have taken place in the last forty years and of the many things which we today take for granted which were quite novel only forty odd years ago.

One of these items records the fact a theatre was opened on June 19 in Weymouth. It is recorded the equipment consisted of a No. 6 A Power's camera-graph with stereopticon attachment. Direct current was used to power the plant. The current was developed by a dynamo driven by a large gas engine located in a building 500 feet from the theatre.

The item further records that the lessees and managers of the theatre were Powers Bros. and that they "intend running the theatre in strict order. They intend catering especially to women and children and assure them of every protection from any rowdiness."

An encounter with a sea monster is also recorded in the Courier sent us by Mrs. Webber. A story from Gloucester, Mass., tells of the arrival there of the schooner Flora M. from Port Wadsworth under command of Capt. George Brooks of Weymouth. On their arrival in Gloucester the crew told of seeing a huge sea monster while sailing before a fair wind off Cape Ann.

It is recorded every man aboard the vessel including the captain saw the monster which Captain Brooks said was "the worst looking animal" he had ever seen. He said the crew first thought it was a big gas buoy adrift but then it lifted its great head which resembled that of a horse. "It gradually rose out of the water until we could see fully 25 feet of its enormous back. Suddenly it disappeared below the surface but in an incredibly short time came up directly ahead of us. Its head was turned toward the vessel and its big black eyes were focussed on us."

Captain Brooks said all the crew had a good view of the monster and said its back appeared to be fully 14 feet across. He estimated its length to be 75 feet. He said when he changed his vessel's course the monster took off, stirring up the water for a good distance. He stated what was seen was no hallucination and "any suggestion that the monster may have been a whale or porpoise is resented."

Obituary

Mrs. Moody Mullen
Mrs. Moody Mullen passed away on Wednesday, December 3, at the home of her son, Thurston, and Mrs. Mullen, Havelock, who tenderly cared for her during her illness of several months. Born in New Tuskot, Digby Co., 79 years ago, she was the daughter of the late Levi and Elizabeth MacGray Mullen. Her husband predeceased her in 1932. He was widely known as a prosperous farmer and lumberman.

Mrs. Mullen was a member of the New Tuskot Baptist Church and always took a keen and active interest in all of the church activities. The deceased lived her entire life in this community where she had many friends who sincerely mourn her passing.

Surviving are her son, Thurston; one daughter, Winnifred (Mrs. LeRoy Sullivan), of Havelock; one sister, Mrs. LeRoy Wagner, Rivedale, N. S.; two brothers, Harvey, of New Tuskot, and Stewart, of Medford, Mass., besides three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The funeral service was held in the New Tuskot Baptist church at 2:30 p.m. Friday, conducted by the pastor, Rev. A. M. Rogers, assisted by Rev. R. R. Winchester of Barton, and Rev. M. M. Grant of Digby. The hymns were beautifully rendered by the Christian Church choir of Weymouth.

FUNERAL

Largely attended funeral services for the late Emden Tibert of Little River, were held from his home on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 30th, at 2:30, with Rev. Claude Olmstead officiating, and the choir of the Little River Men's Brotherhood rendering two vocal selections: "Near to the Heart of God," (a request number), and "Day is Dying in the West." The text was taken from Job 30:23. Interment was in the Baptist cemetery. His family were all present at the service.

Fold up the tent; the sun is in the west;
Tomorrow my untended soul shall roam
Among the blest.
And I am well content,
For what is sent is sent,
And God knows best.
Fold up the tent; it's tenant would be gone
To fairer skies than earthly eyes
May look upon.
I hear a clear voice calling, calling clear
"To rest! To rest!"
And I am glad to go,
For life's sweet oil is low,
And rest is best. 15:1c

Caring For Your Christmas Tree.

As soon as you bring the tree home, stand it in a pail or tub filled with water until you are ready to set it up and trim it.

Tenders for Coal for Jail & Court House

TENDERS will be received by the undersigned up to and including

Monday, the 22nd day of December, 1958,

for 35 tons of Screened Soft Coal to be delivered at the Court House and ten to twelve tons to be delivered to the Jail in the Town of Digby.

Dated at Mount Pleasant this 8th day of December, A.D., 1958.

Reginald E. Jefferson,
Chairman of Committee on Tenders & Public Property.

This will prolong the life and appearance of the tree, keep the needles from falling, and minimize the danger of fire.

Trimming Your Tree.

Keep your tree stand water-well full and your tree will remain fresh and fragrant throughout the holidays.

Bear in mind that tree trimming follows a fundamental rule of women's fashions—accentuate the opposite. If your tree is tall and slender, decorating lines should tend toward the horizontal. If it is short and full, trim your tree along lines which tend to be vertical. Applying this simple rule will help you bring out the best in your tree.

How Many Lights?

Too often, the number of lights used to trim a tree is arrived at by guesswork, and results look disappointingly "spotty". There is a formula which does away with much of the guesswork and helps produce an evenly lighted appearance. To achieve what professionals call a "good lighted effect", try this formula:

• Height of tree (in feet) x
Width of tree at base (in feet) x 3.
Let's say your tree is 6 feet in height and 4 1/2 feet wide at the base. The formula would work like this:
6 x 4 1/2 x 3, equals 81 lights for "good lighted effect".
While personal taste is the last word in decorating Christmas trees, each year finds more families adopting the above formula which will help in bringing out the natural beauty of their tree and give a "good lighted effect."

THE HOSPITAL SERVICES YOU CAN EXPECT FROM THE HOSPITAL

Q Who are eligible to derive benefits from this insurance?

A Residents of Nova Scotia are eligible, i.e., those who make their homes and are ordinarily present in Nova Scotia. This includes:

(b) Residents who are temporarily outside Nova Scotia.

NOT included are:

Q What out-patient diagnostic X-ray services will be available?

A (a) X-ray services required within forty-eight hours of an accident;

(c) Certain gall bladder and kidney examinations.

Q Does the Plan pay doctor's bills?

A No.

Q What out-patient laboratory services will be available?

A A large list of laboratory examinations are now free and will continue to be free. Your doctor can tell you what these examinations are.

Q I notice that out-patient care is insured for forty-eight hours following an accident. In the event I must return to the hospital several days later for an adjustment or change of cast, or to have stitches removed, etc., will such a service be covered by the Plan?

A No. The hospital will make a charge to you for such service.

Q What are the insured hospital services provided for an in-patient under the Plan?

The Plan offers an in-patient the following services:

(a) A bed and meals at the "standard ward level";
(b) Necessary nursing service;
(c) Laboratory, X-ray and other diagnostic services that are medically necessary;
(d) Drugs and related preparations when administered in the hospital. This does not include patent medicines.
(e) The use of the operating room, case room and anaesthetic facilities including necessary equipment and supplies;
(f) The use of any special treatment service available in the hospital.

Q What is meant by the term "in-patient"?

A An in-patient is a person who has been admitted to and assigned a bed in a hospital upon the application of a duly qualified medical practitioner.

Q What then, is an out-patient?

A An out-patient is a person other than an in-patient, who receives services at a hospital.

Q What in-patient services are not available?

A (a) Braces, crutches and the like on a "take-home" basis;
(b) Cosmetic appliances such as wigs and dentures.

Q What out-patient services are provided by the Plan?

A The following out-patient services are insured:

Use Hospital Scheme Sensibly Is Plea

The Nova Scotia Hospital Insurance Plan will place a heavy burden on hospital beds and facilities when it comes into effect January 1, but "we can cope, even though with difficulty" if all residents co-operate as we expect they will, R. MacD. Black, chairman of the Nova Scotia Hospital Insurance Commission predicted last week.

Mr. Black, in one of a series of talks designed to explain and publicize the plan, appealed for honest and sensible use of the provisions of the insurance scheme.

"There is definitely no surplus of hospital beds in this province," he said. "We are well aware that the plan will place increased demands on our hospitals and it may well be that a certain amount of congestion will be inevitable. But, we feel we will be able to get by, providing the plan is used wisely by all residents."

Mr. Black emphasized that the plan in no way means that the government is taking over the province's hospitals. "The government," he said, "will be taking over the current operational expenses of the hospitals after January 1, but most of the capital costs will not be included."

"In the past," he said, "many of these capital costs were looked after by individuals and organizations — especially women's organizations such as the Ladies' Aid and Ladies' Auxiliary Groups. Hospitals will still need voluntary local support, perhaps even more so than in the past."

"Maintaining voluntary support for the province's hospitals will continue to be the responsibility of those who live in the areas where the hospitals are located," he said.

"These persons know the local problem, they know the personalities and viewpoints and they are usually prepared to meet the situations energetically and conscientiously. We feel the functions they perform so admirably, willingly and effectively should not be interfered with by the government."

themselves, so what protection have we licensed weir fishermen got? After the seiners do a trick like that they can go some place where the herring are, but we have to stay with the dead fish.

Two boatmen called at my house and we were discussing the seining problem and they both said it was not right for they had both been weir operators in Grand Manan and had been put out of business the same way and the seiners would do the same thing here. One boatman told me there was nothing he could do about it, but he had got his 50 hoghead boat loaded by the seiners one night right up against the back of our weir.

Does it seem possible that our government at Ottawa is going to stand idly by after calling for new industry and let this old one be wiped out? I say if the federal government can make a law to keep the big dragger out of St. Mary's Bay they can keep the seiners out or at least give us a three mile limit and this would keep them out.

Signed,
Sidney Westcott.

Provincial Body Criticized

Severe criticism of the provincial Fish & Game Association was voiced by Reuben Mervin, President of the Digby East Fish & Game Association, at the annual meeting here Tuesday night.

Mr. Mervin said the provincial organization "lets us down and does not go to bat for us on pushing resolutions which are to go before the government." He said when the government fails to adopt our resolutions the provincial association does not even explain why they could not get them adopted.

Last year, Mr. Mervin said, the association asked for a closed season on beaver. This resolution was not acted upon and the season was opened, he said. He stated that although game wardens in other counties were consulted regarding the beaver situation in their districts he had been informed the wardens in Digby county were not consulted. The first knowledge we have of the seasons with respect to game is when we read about them in the pamphlets issued by the government, Mr. Mervin said. He stated he felt associations were "getting nothing" for the per capita fee paid in to the provincial body and if the situation continues this money "should be spent to do something for ourselves here."

W. L. Troop, district governor of the provincial organization, stressed the importance of sending delegates from the Digby East association to the annual meeting of the provincial body. He said he would continue to press for adoption and support of the Digby resolutions by the provincial association. He complimented the local organization in greatly increasing its membership this year and said the group had been much more active this year than before.

The need for "more teeth in the law" to protect game resources was stressed by Mr. Troop in his remarks and he said he felt there was need for more wardens. Dealing with the matter of deer kill limit, Mr. Troop said he felt it had been a mistake two years ago to penalize the whole province because the western section felt a one deer bag limit should be imposed and said zoning should be put into effect.

"We must continue our fight for a one deer bag limit, Mr. Troop said, and must persist in our efforts to have the province zoned from Windsor across to Chester for the one deer kill." It is his opinion, he said, that the kill should be limited to a single buck.

Charles Balser, well known Bear River sportsman, stated the provincial organization is ineffective and is ignored by the government. "Our association is too small, Mr. Balser said, and all the government is interested in is getting U. S. dollars." Speaking of the beaver situation, Mr. Balser said when beaver were over-running the province an open season was declared by the government with a bag limit of three. This year when every sportsman was aware there were no beaver at all in much of western Nova Scotia an open season had been allowed with a bag limit of four.

A resolution was passed by the meeting reiterating the association's plea of last year that a closed season be kept on beaver. Speaking on this matter Clarence Mason, provincial game conservationist, said there was evidence that for a time at least the presence of beaver in inland waters improved the fishing. This, he said, had been proven in the Chignecto game sanctuary. He said beaver were very scarce in the western end of the province and in his travels in Digby and Queen's counties he had seen none.

After considerable discussion the meeting passed a resolution that the deer season next year be open for a period of forty-five days but that the kill be limited to one buck and that only residents be allowed hunting privileges.

With respect to rabbits the meeting passed a resolution that the season next year be from December 1st to February 15th. It was also resolved that selling rabbits on the commercial market should be prohibited. No maring of rabbits should be allowed after February 15th was also requested as it was claimed the breeding season starts at that time.

Mason Says Deer Scarce

Acknowledgement that the number of deer in Digby County at present is "far, far below what it used to be" was made by Clarence Mason, provincial game conservationist, speaking at the annual meeting of the Digby East Fish & Game Association here Tuesday night.

Mr. Mason, who prior to the second world war conducted lumbering operations in this area, stated he had recently visited some of the woods areas of the county and he was convinced there are far less deer here now than formerly. In the whole area of western Nova Scotia, he said, there is "only a fraction" of the deer population of ten years ago.

In his address here Tuesday night Mr. Mason issued a categorical denial that he had said deer are starving in Nova Scotia. He said he had been misquoted on the deer starvation issue and, while he had not said deer are starving in the province, he had made the statement that deer "have starved" in Nova Scotia. He stated that, in September 1957, he had personally seen the carcasses of thirteen deer at Fishing Cove Brook in Cape Breton which had starved. All the fat in the marrow of the bones of these deer had been consumed, he said, which was sure proof they had starved.

Dealing with the matter of deer feeding, Mr. Mason said during the spring, summer and fall there seemed no limit to the deer that could be supported in Nova Scotia woods but snow cover in winter limited deer feed to what the animals could browse. It has been proven, he said, that it takes a minimum of five pounds of browse daily through the winter to properly feed an adult deer. With heavy snow it would be difficult for deer to obtain this minimum, he said.

In considering the matter of deer population, he said, it is necessary also to remember that since 1917 there has been a legal kill of 700,000 deer in Nova Scotia. Estimating the illegal kill as equal to this a total of nearly one and a half million deer have been killed in this province in the past 41 years. He said there is a definite relationship between soil, water and wild life, and the lands and forests department has a definite responsibility to preserve the forest reserves of the province. The deer herd can materially effect this, he said, and stated study of an area in Cape Breton last year where deer had herded had shown they had completely devoured the area of every vestige of future growth of maple and other hardwood.

Speaking of limiting deer kill to the shooting of buck deer, which was recommended by the association in a resolution passed at Tuesday night's meeting, Mr. Mason said he personally did not believe in the buck law. He said an experiment had been carried out in Wisconsin, which had a buck law, over an eight thousand acre tract and an intensive search of this after the season showed there were 3 1/2 times the number of dead does found in the woods than the number of bucks reported as legally killed in the area. Some of the bodies of the does showed only a portion cut away and some had been left intact.

Mr. Mason also spoke concerning the matter of zoning Nova Scotia for deer hunting with the western end limited to one deer. He said he had pressed for such zoning in 1956 at an annual meeting of the provincial Fish & Game association and had also recommended it to the department since his appointment as game conservationist. He said he did not yet know what recommendation he would make this year and would have to wait until he had made a study of the kill report.

Funeral Held For Drowning Victims

The funeral service for the late Lewis Cook and his son, Robert Cook, victims of last Tuesday's car and drowning accident at Meteghan River, was held at the North Range United Baptist Church on Saturday afternoon, and was conducted by the minister, Rev. R. R. Winchester, who brought a message of comfort to the sorrowing family and members of the shocked community.

Mr. Cook is survived by his widow, mother of Robert, and a sister, Miss Libby Cook, who shared their home.

Hymns sung were "Haven of Rest" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus". Rev. and Mrs. Winchester very touchingly sang "I Have a Mansion". The choir was composed of members from Barton and North Range Baptist choirs and South Range Christ's Disciples.

Interment was in the North Range Baptist cemetery.

Mr. Cook and his son will be greatly missed in the community and especially by members of the church where they were faithful members and ever willing helpers.

Candle Lighting Service Held

An impressive Candle Lighting Service was conducted at Grace United Church on Sunday evening by the C.G.I.T. under the direction of Miss Constance Kirkpatrick. Taking part in the program were Misses Margaret Black, June Hawkins and Leila Clayton. The story "The Shepherd Who Didn't Go" was read by Miss Kathleen Gorman. Miss Sheila VanTassel read the scripture and Misses Carolyn Arnold and Mailing Chan received the offering.

The C.G.I.T. choir sang "Twas In The Moon of Wintertime" accompanied by Miss Kirkpatrick on the organ, and the senior church choir sang "O, How A Rose" with Mrs. Lewis Daley at the organ.

The close of the service was most impressive as the girls stood with their lighted candles and the choir and congregation joined them in singing the very beautiful "Silent Night".

Baptist CGIT Has Vesper Service

The C.G.I.T. group of the Digby Baptist Church conducted their annual Christmas Vesper Service in the church on Sunday evening in place of the regular service. Mrs. Alfred Marshall, leader of the group, had charge of the program. Miss Marilyn Clayton was the organist, and a solo was sung by Mrs. Shirley Clayton. The girls of the C.G.I.T. formed the choir and also assisted in various parts of the service.

The pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, gave an address and mentioned the large place which the C.G.I.T. holds among the churches and youth in Canada. There are now more than 40,000 members of the organization in Canada with over 6,000 in the Maritimes alone. Basing his message on the story of the Three Wise Men who brought their gifts to Jesus, he urged the young people to give unto God the best gifts of mind, heart and talent.

There was a large congregation present at the meeting, including the Explorer group of the church.

Hold Civil Defence Meet

Major George Pierle, Welfare Officer of the provincial Civil Defence organization, met Tuesday morning with R. O. Wright, Digby Civil Defence Coordinator, A. Reg Turnbull, president of the Digby Fire Department, and Stanley MacDonald, local welfare officer.

During the meeting, welfare problems, which might arise in this area if a mass evacuation from Halifax or some other populous centre to the Digby district was made necessary, were discussed.

It was pointed out Digby had been designated as a reception area and that this would pose serious problems of coordination of services including welfare and police if any reception program in the area was to operate efficiently.

$105,000 Added To Economy

Over the last three years the Digby Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., has been responsible for adding some $105,000 annually to the economy of this area. It was stated by R. O. Wright, retiring president of the branch, in his report at the annual meeting here.

Mr. Wright said in the past three years the Legion branch has been responsible for guiding through to successful conclusions some seventy claims for War Veterans' Allowances and because of this some $105,000 annually has been placed in circulation in the Digby area, adding to the economy of the district.

Letter to the Editor

Box 247, Digby, N. S.
December 15, 1958.

Mrs. Wallis,
Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:
Please help me through your paper to locate twelve (12) boys and girls who are deserving of a bit extra for Christmas, ages six to twelve. I extend an invitation to them to have dinner with me on Christmas Day at 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. As my family is unable to be with me, I thought the youngsters would enjoy having a bit of fun.

I am sure Santa will be leaving something here for them. The first twelve to answer this will be chosen.

Wishing you a very Merry Christmas and thanking you.
Yours sincerely,
(Mrs.) Alma McLennan.

Married 50 Years

Esteemed residents of Granville Ferry, Captain and Mrs. Balfour Collins, celebrated their Golden Wedding Day on Tuesday, December 9.

Captain Collins and his bride, the former Lillian Berry, were married in 1908, at the home of the bride's parents, Captain and Mrs. Norman Berry. Rev. Geo. Whitman performed the ceremony.

Friends and neighbours from far and near called on the couple to offer congratulations and best wishes. The rooms were beautifully decorated, and Mrs. R. T. Harris of Annapolis Royal was mistress of ceremonies.

For a number of years Mrs. Collins was the valued organist of the Granville Ferry United Church. Rev. Cyril H. Gough, minister of that church, was among the guests.

A beautifully decorated wedding cake was served along with other choice refreshments. Mrs. Walter Milo and Miss Laura Hardy served, and Mrs. R. T. Harris poured.

Captain and Mrs. Collins received many cards, gifts and flowers, and the Captain's gift to his bride of fifty years was a lovely diamond ring.

Entertain Ladies Aid

Grace United Ladies Aid held their Christmas meeting Thursday, December 11, at the home of Misses Beattie and Grace Chisholm, with Mrs. G. Arnold as co-hostess.

Mrs. Brooks conducted the devotional period centred around the Christmas story which included carols and two readings, "Thoughts for Christmas" and "Who Could Have Thought of Christmas?" Plans were made to pack Christmas boxes for shut-ins at the home of Grace Chisholm, Friendship Secretary.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed and gifts were exchanged. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Milton Atkinson.

Addresses Kiwanians

The duties and responsibilities of elected civic officials were outlined in a talk addressed to the Digby Kiwanis Club at their meeting Thursday evening by Mayor Victor Cardoza.

In his address Mr. Cardoza said many people were labouring under erroneous impressions concerning the duties and responsibilities of elected civic officials and their lack of information and misinformation concerning these duties and responsibilities often added to the burdens of these officials.

For the most part, the speaker said, the duties and responsibilities of elected civic officials are clearly defined by provincial statutes and enabling legislation and it is within the framework of these that a mayor and town council must act.

Very often these officials, acting as such, are asked to take on tasks and accept responsibilities beyond those which are theirs by virtue of office, he said, and it is most often when this happens that difficulties and misunderstandings arise affecting the town and its people.

Mr. Cardoza asked his listeners to take a closer interest in civic affairs, to become more informed as to the operation of civic government and stated if the citizens as a whole interested themselves more closely in the affairs of their town, everyone, including those elected to guide the affairs of the civic corporation, would benefit.

ATTENTION

CORRESPONDENTS & ADVERTISERS

Because of the fact Christmas this year falls on Thursday and the next day, Boxing Day, is also a holiday, the Courier next week will be put in the mails on Wednesday morning.

Correspondents and advertisers are therefore reminded that any copy for next week's Courier must be in the Courier office NOT LATER THAN NOON ON MONDAY, DECEMBER 22.

The co-operation of our correspondents and advertisers will greatly assist us in this matter.

Store Building Damaged

Considerable damage was done to the front of Pyne's Market building on Digby's main street last Wednesday afternoon when a car out of control crashed into the front of the structure.

The accident occurred about 5:30 p.m. Wednesday as a local car was pulling into the curb in front of Pyne's store. In some manner the car, instead of coming to a halt at the curb, rushed ahead across the sidewalk and struck the front of the store.

Display windows in the store were smashed and a radiator torn off. The car also suffered severe damage to the radiator and fenders and had to be towed away. The driver was uninjured and fortunately no one in the store or on the sidewalk at the time received any injury.

Club To Have Christmas Recess

The Earn & Give Club had its last business meeting of the year on Tuesday evening when Mrs. Gerald Hoare and Mrs. Emmerson Graham were hostesses. It was noted that a successful year had passed and all matters of business brought up to date. Proceeds from the recent Christmas supper and sale amounted to $429.34.

Mrs. Oakley Turnbull, Mrs. Allen Harris and Mrs. Elton Arnold were appointed as a nominating committee to bring in a slate of new officers for the coming year.

In closing Mrs. Graham expressed her thanks to all, especially those outside the club who helped make the supper project such a success.

Prayer Book Presented

Rev. James Pike, rector of Trinity Church, presented Eric Caldwell, former church treasurer, with a beautifully bound Book of Common Prayer, on behalf of the corporation and congregation of the church following the service Sunday morning.

The presentation was made to Mr. Caldwell on the occasion of his leaving the parish for Saint John to take up duties at the Bank of Nova Scotia there. During his stay in Digby he served as church treasurer of Trinity parish and as Cub leader of Trinity Cub pack.

Hymn Books Dedicated

At the Sunday morning service new hymn books were dedicated at Bear River Baptist Church for the worship services of the church. A fund was started by the Philathea Class and with aid from the church and Sunday School 150 books have been placed in the church.

The sermon of the morning was based on the Scripture Luke 2:1-7.

In the evening a lovely candle lighting service was presented by the CGIT girls, under the leadership of Sheila Harris. The pastor also gave a short message in keeping with the service.

Murray Mount Wins Shield

A member of the Digby Rifle Club has won the Gold Expert Shield — one of the top Canadian awards for 22 sporting rifle target shooting — Dominion Marksmen officials announced in Montreal today.

Murray A. Mount, 37, of Prince William St., Digby, qualified for the Shield by firing a perfect score of 6,000.

A meat cutter by trade, Mount has been enjoying the sport of shooting since he was ten years old. He has won a number of awards and wished to try for the Gold Expert Shield in September 1956. Since that time, he has fired a total of 600 shots into the "bull" in the centre of the target, achieving perfect scores in each of the prone, kneeling or sitting and standing positions.

Rossway W.I. Meets

The monthly meeting of the Rossway Women's Institute met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Oswald Mullen. Eight members were in attendance and roll call was answered by naming one's favorite Christmas Carol.

After opening exercises and the short business period a letter was read from Mrs. Zella Doucette, Digby County District President, conveying the Season's Greetings to the Institute and success in the coming year. It was decided to forego exchanging of Christmas gifts between the members, instead each contributing the price of a gift into the "Adopted Child's Fund" which the Institute is attempting to have as its aim this coming year.

The Institute is again filling Christmas boxes for the aged and shut-ins. These are gaily trimmed and filled with small jars of jelly, fruit, cookies and fudge. A treat will be given the pre-school children again this year too from a decorated tree by Santa Claus. This entertainment takes place at the Rossway Hall on Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. A short Christmas program is also planned and everyone will enjoy carol singing.

A packet of used stamps was forwarded to the Bible House at Halifax, which are sold for the Bible Society work.

Two boxes of used clothing were forwarded to the Unitarian Service Centre at Montreal, which will go overseas to help alleviate the need for clothing.

Free Parking Begins Saturday

Parking meters in Digby will be hooded for the Christmas season, it was decided here Wednesday by the Town Council police committee. The free parking will go into effect on Saturday and will continue through until the following Saturday, it was announced.

Provision of free parking for Christmas shoppers from Saturday on is being made as a goodwill gesture, it was announced by police committee chairman Councillor Wilfred Muise. Cellophane bags will be placed over the meters for the free period, he stated.

Councillor Muise said it is hoped by his committee that local merchants will not make use of the free parking privilege to park their own vehicles in front of their stores but will leave the metered areas open for Christmas shoppers from the town and outside areas.

Hold Party

The combined Victoria Beach and Port Wade Baptist choirs held their annual Christmas party Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Everett. The evening's program, as follows, was arranged by Mrs. Charles Taylor.

Letter to the Editor

"Aircraft Flash"

Ground Observer Corps
Dear Editor:

With Canada's National Defence Programme much in the news these days perhaps it would not be amiss to speak about the Ground Observer Corps which is a part of it.

Evidently there are some who have never become acquainted with this organization known as the "eyes and ears" of the Air Force. Since early last spring all chief observers and their deputies were asked to report to the Filter Centre at Truro all aircraft seen. Most everyone, with the exception of those who are not aware of it, knows that if they are using the telephone and they hear someone say, "Aircraft Flash," they are supposed to hang up immediately so the aircraft call may get to Truro as quickly as possible. Time would be most important if in the case of war the plane should be an enemy aircraft. Truro would then call the air base at Chatham, N. B. where aircraft are ready at all times to intercept any aircraft which should not be in the area. One can readily see why the time element plays such an important role in getting a telephone message "Aircraft Flash" through.

Our Regional Supervisor of the T1 Area, Col. R. S. Hallett of Weymouth, has been awarded the Ground Observer Corps Award of Merit — one of five civilian volunteers in 7 GOCB unit area. The citation reads "Colonel Hallett has demonstrated exceptional appreciation for an efficient GOCB. In selecting capable assistants and infusing in them a keen spirit of co-operation he has developed one of the better regions in the Corps. This award recognizes his important contribution to the Air Defence of Canada."

It is gratifying to know most of us all respond to the call of helping the Civil Defence Programme whenever possible and if in time of war in helping to defend our country. We can all do this when on hearing an "Aircraft Flash," just hang up the receiver and let the call get through to Truro as quickly as possible.

J. Ralph Warrington

J. Ralph Warrington passed away at the Eastern Kings Memorial Hospital, Wolfville, Tuesday evening after a short illness. He was 82 years of age.

New Church Dedicated

Dedication services for the newly constructed Reformed Baptist Church at East Ferry were held in the church Friday evening. Despite exceedingly inclement weather a large congregation was present for the dedication.

The services were under the direction of the pastor, Rev. Gerald F. MacKinnon, and the occasion was one of great joy for him as it marked two "firsts". One of these was the fact it was the first Reformed Baptist Church to be dedicated on Digby Neck and the second was that it was in Mr. MacKinnon's first pastorate this was happening.

Preacher at the dedication service was Rev. F. A. Dunlop, Superintendent of the Reformed Baptist Church for the Maritimes and Maine. In his address Mr. Dunlop paid high tribute to the work and devotion of dedicated people in the East Ferry and Digby Neck area which had made the construction of the church possible.

The invocation which opened the service was pronounced by Rev. W. L. Fernley, of Saint John, Home Mission Treasurer, and the dedication prayer was given by Rev. H. H. Nicholson, of Sussex, N. B. During the service numbers, including the beautiful "Bless This House", were rendered by Paul Mullen, well known evangelist singer. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. M. M. Grant, of Digby.

The new church, which is an attractive white painted structure, is located on the north side of the highway at East Ferry. It is thirty by forty-five feet in size with full basement and bell tower. The tower contains electronic chimes. Below the auditorium is a full basement which will later be used for classrooms. The church was built almost entirely by volunteer labour and its dedication marks a great step forward for the congregation which was only organized some three years ago.

A family service will be held Friday morning at 10.30 at the Lindsay Funeral Home, Wolfville, followed by the funeral service at Grace United Church, at 2.30 p.m. Interment will be in Fairview cemetery, Digby.

The announcement stated that "the government has made initially $1,000,000 available to the new corporation for the financing and establishing of new industries in Springhill and adjacent territory."

The announcement further stated that the new company will devote full time and energy toward obtaining, maintaining, or increasing employment for citizens of the hard hit town and immediate area affected directly by the closing of #2 Colliery following the recent tragic disaster.

Majority of the new Springhill development body board of directors have been selected from Industrial Estates directors, but it is contemplated others will be added in the near future.

To achieve its purpose to help and improve the employment situation in Springhill and vicinity the newly created company will lend money towards the purchase, construction or improvement of any factories or other buildings useful to industry and to take such security for such loans as may be

PROVINCIAL BODY

The association also passed a resolution asking that the provincial government release five thousand adult pheasants in the four valley counties annually. It was also agreed by resolution that the license fee should be raised from two dollars to four dollars and that the season in Digby County should not be more than in the other three valley counties.

No change in the season on ducks was asked for by the association but it was requested that the trout season be changed from the present opening date of April 1st to April 15th, with a closing date of September 15th. A resolution was also passed asking that the province supplement municipal bounties on fox, raccoon and wildcat.

It was decided election of association officers would be left for a supper meeting scheduled for January 15th. A. R. Pyne, Aubrey Adams and Thomas Cleveland were named as a nominating committee to bring in a slate of officers at this meeting.

MASON SAYS

In the matter of zoning he said various factors had to be considered. He said resort operators were of the opinion American hunters would go where they could get two deer and the guides were also of this opinion. There is also the matter of enforcement, he said, with boundary lines affecting this.

In the whole matter of securing changes in hunting and fishing regulations, he said, it must be remembered that the sporting population of the province accounted for only about 15% of the total and the needs of the department must be considered as on a "low priority" basis. Money is limited for development of the sporting resources of the province, he said, but he hoped the day was not far away when enforcement staff could be increased and more money made available for improvements which he felt could be made.

Commenting on the effect of American hunters on the province's deer population, Mr. Mason said in the past ten years U.S. hunters had accounted for only 6 to 7% of the deer kill in Nova Scotia. Since 1946, however, he said the province has received nearly one million dollars in non-resident game licenses. One significant fact concerning the deer kill as between resident and non-resident hunters, he said, was that the percentage of successful resident hunters was 76% while that of non-residents was 97%. He said it was his personal opinion guides in Nova Scotia should be prohibited from carrying firearms while in the woods guiding and that new regulations governing licensing of guides should be adopted.

In answer to questions following his main address Mr. Mason said that a mandatory jail sentence for jackers had not been adopted because it was felt this would seriously affect the chances of securing convictions. He said with the matter of drunken drivers a lesser charge had to be created with lesser penalties in order to secure convictions. He stated game wardens had the rights of provincial constables but prosecutions were usually carried out by the RCMP because of their courtroom training.

The "Allsweet" measuring strips were also sent away to collect the 2c for each one sent in the December "Allsweet" Contest.

A request for old or unused eyeglasses and frames was made. These will be collected and sent to India where they will be processed to fit the need of an individual. The need of glasses is very great in India.

Everyone present contributed something towards the Christmas programme, which ended by all singing carols. Music was provided by Mrs. Mullen at the piano.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Charles Robbins.

At the close of the evening Mrs. Mullen and Mrs. Bernard McBride, who were joint hostesses, served refreshments.

Obituary

William Barr
The community of Weymouth and surrounding districts, were shocked and saddened to hear of the very sudden passing of William Barr, on Friday December 5th. He was the son of the late Henry and Beth Barr, and was born 66 years ago in Easton, Digby Co., but had lived the greater part of his life in Weaver Settlement on Town-ship Line.

He leaves to mourn, his wife, the former Laura Lewis of Danvers, three daughters, Mrs. Annie Dennison and Dora, at home, (Della) Mrs. Forrest Prime, Weymouth North, three sons, Gordon, Lester, and Sendel, at home, also, one grandson, an adopted brother, Clinton and two sisters, Mrs. Roy Bonney, and Mrs. Emory Smith, of N.B. The deceased, known to all as "Billy", was highly respected, a kind father, and a good neighbor. He was a faithful member and elder of the Church of Christ in Weymouth and the Sunday previous to his passing he was in his usual place in the Church.

The funeral service was held in the Church at 3 p.m. on Monday, conducted by Rev. J. W. Derby of Freeport, assisted by Rev. M. Grant and Rev. H. Mul- len. A large gathering and many beautiful floral pieces showed the esteem of his many friends. Hymns sung by the choir were "The Lily of the Valley" and "The Sweet By And By". IN PUBLIC PLACES:

Fire in any crowded public building may easily lead to panic. During Christmas particularly, smoking and flammable decorations in public buildings are a bad combination: neither should be allowed. Waste materials should be removed at once. Aisles, exits and fire doors must be clear and immediately usable. Exits should be plainly marked and easy to reach. Automatic fire detection and alarm equipment, sprinklers, hand hose and fire extinguishers should be ready to operate. Sprinklers should not be obstructed by piles of goods, decorations or temporary partitions. Report any blocked exit or fire hazard in public buildings to your fire chief. And do your part, too, in discouraging the use of wax candles at church candlelight services—electric candles are just as effective and a whole lot safer. Merry Christmas!

JAMES MUIR,

Chairman and President

K. M. SEDGEWICK,

General Manager

It is more than half a century since, as a ladie learning words, I first thrilled to read, "We have found him." It was a well-known story, familiar in the reading books of every day, of the search for a missing boy, with his elder brother's aid, who had strayed from a little family cabin on the edge of the Australian bush into the great western district of Victoria. It was primarily a story of the devotion of twelve-year-old girl who saved her brother's life by taking her own skirt to wrap around his as a protection from biting frost of the early spring mornings, and of the skillful aborigine tracker who showed the footprints of the wandering trio whom, to the white-heat, the ground was void of any sign. The story concluded with the joy of re-union when, at long last, the little ones were found as they lay far spent and exhausted — almost dead from the effects of hunger, thirst and exposure. As the father came hurrying back to the frantic mother, he carried the little laddie in his arms and, through his tears of joy, kept shouting:

 "We have found him; we have found him!"

In the Christmas story, one of the many charming verses is that in the second chapter of Luke's Gospel, which includes these words: "And they came with haste, and found . . . the babe lying in a manger." The story is of the shepherds who had been keeping watch over their flock by night. Suddenly they were disturbed by a bright light and by the appearance of an angel. To still their fears the angel assured them he had come with good tidings — "Unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

When it was apparent that the shepherds had difficulty in believing the apparition, and the words spoken to them, the angel added: "This shall be a sign unto you; ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger." So, by and by, when the angel and the accompanying "multitude of the heavenly host" had gone away, the shepherds hurried to the little village of Bethlehem and there was the Babe, lying in the manger. How they rejoiced, and how quickly they began to tell to all and sundry the glad tidings concerning this child.

A happy echo of this story occurred at the beginning of Christ's public ministry. When He was thirty years of age, Christ left His mother's home matic, thrilling, like a search for gold or precious jewels; sometimes it is but the hidden yearning of the heart for the satisfying knowledge of a dear one's love.

The quest for material wealth takes many forms. For many years Australia was interested in a succession of expeditions seeking a hidden mine in the heart of its central desert known as "Lassiter's Ridge." Canada's northern wastes were first explored by noble-hearted men seeking the elusive "north-west passage." British literature has no nobler story than that of Scott and his companions who, in the early years of this century, made a quest across the wild plateau of the great antarctic continent, seeking the North Pole.

Seeking, searching, pressing on and on in an endeavor to reach some chosen goal, for some, the objective of the quest is mere material wealth; for

The Mystery Of God's Firmament

The "STAR" which signalled the First Christmas may be interpreted in many ways. In all such interpretations we must put ourselves as nearly as possible into the social and psychological frame of mind of those whom we try to understand. The astronomer knows that through the ages the word "star" has been used to indicate almost any celestial phenomenon. We will speak of "falling stars" or "shooting stars" which we know quite well are not stars at all. In more ancient times the comet was called a "hairy star" and was derived from the Latin word coma, meaning hair. The planets were the "wandering stars" as opposed to the "fixed stars," and from the Greek word for wandering we derive our word "plan-

On Christmas Eve the Christ child wanders all over the earth seeking deserving people—people who are kind and thoughtful; of others, and people who have loving hearts. for so long been "the village carpenter," and went forth to tell the world what He knew of the Heavenly Father, and to proclaim that the Kingdom of God had indeed come to men. But first He went down to the River Jordan where the great prophet, John, was preaching repentance, and baptized people as a sign that they were being cleansed from their evil ways. Jesus presented Himself for this rite of cleansing and dedication, and as John, with some reluctance, went through with the ceremony, he saw the heavens opened and the Holy Spirit descending upon Jesus in the form of a dove that rested on Him, while a heavenly voice proclaimed, "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased."

About this time, two of John's disciples, of whom one was Andrew, went with Jesus and spent a little time with Him. Andrew then went at once to call his brother Simon Peter, to whom he exclaimed, "We have found Him, the Messiah," that is, the long-expected Christ.

For most people, life is a angler and with promise of material reward. May I at this Christmastide suggest that the only quest really worth while is the quest for the Christ of Christmas, the Saviour of the world? It is the Salvationist's earnest belief that for every man, for every woman, there is possible a personal experience of Christ as Saviour and Friend. He is indeed the "goodly pearl" for which the wise merchantman in Christ's own story sold all his possessions that he might buy it; He is the true hidden treasure for which a man may well sell all that he has that he may possess it. Is He hard to find? Is such a quest beyond us? Not if we are willing to seek Him as humbly as a little child, as sincerely as a maiden pure, as earnestly as a passionate adult. Come then, let us also go even unto the Bethlehem of the Holy Word, and see this wonderful thing which the Lord has made known unto us, even the coming of the "Dayspring from on high," the Christ of God, our Saviour and Friend.

have been any of these. It could even have been a "new star" or nova which suddenly burst forth with a many-thousand-fold increase in brilliance, due to some great stellar catastrophe.
These are all explanations of what the "star" could have been. Had it been any of the above, it would have been seen by many peoples, and in literature would have been found references to the appearance of the object which attracted attention. But nowhere in the literature or in the folklore of any of the peoples noted as astute observers of celestial phenomena do these references exist.

From this we are forced to conclude the appearance of the star was a sight given only to the Wise Men to see.

Ten years ago tuberculosis meningitis, TB which attacks the brain and spinal cord, was almost always fatal. The drugs have been particularly effective against this type of TB.

Obituary

H. C. Salsinger

Mrs. George Oickle last week received the sad news of the death of her cousin, Mr. H. C. Salsinger, who lived in Detroit, Michigan. Mr. Salsinger, aged 73, carved a national reputation in a 51 year career as sports editor and columnist of The Detroit News. In failing health for the past five years, he kept turning out his columns daily until last year. As recently as two months ago, he wrote some special articles for his paper. His writing talents made his column, "The Umpire," a by-word all over the nation.

He had been president of the Baseball Writers' Association of America and held the same position in the Football Writers' Organization.

He was an intimate friend of a multitude of athletes in all sports whose names made news during his long career.

He was born in Springfield, Ohio. His burial was in Woodlawn cemetery, Detroit, Mich.

TRIP TO THE GRANVILLE
Along with the scheduled weekly trip to Saint John, the steamers, especially in the pre-Christmas season, are used to make excursions to Digby, Bridgetown and Goose Island. Many Sunday school and lodge picnics enjoyed a trip on the Granville.

The men with their straw hats, moustaches and sideburns were a handsome lot, and the women in high-button boots, wide-brimmed, flower, be-decked hats and hobble skirts were more than attractive. This was a grand festive occasion and gave every one a chance to meet old friends.

Captain Collins was of a family of seven sons and three daughters of the late Captain and Mrs. John Collins of Westport, Digby Co., and is the only one who has lived to celebrate his Golden Wedding Day.

In reviewing the activities of the branch in the three years he has been president, Mr. Wright said the Legion here had made much progress. The branch's debt position has improved from one of real seriousness three years ago to a point where debts are low and assets considerable, he said. In this past year, Mr. Wright said, the branch has contributed in cash five hundred dollars toward a cement floor for the Digby Forum and has also given three hundred dollars toward redemption of a note of the Digby Recreation Commission. These accomplishments were in addition to welfare work and other projects carried out by the branch, he said.

Referring to welfare work, Mr. Wright said the branch has been most active in this and has not confined its efforts to branch members and their families but has given aid and assistance to all veterans and their families in the area in genuine need. He said in the past year alone some twenty pensions of one kind or another had been secured for area veterans and through the poppy fund help had been given to veterans and their families who were in want.

Mr. Wright warned branch members welfare demands are increasing and more money would be required for this aspect of the branch's work in the year ahead. He said poppy fund receipts which go to aid in welfare work this year amounted to $680 but this figure was not the final total.

Edward Murphy was elected to succeed Mr. Wright as president of the branch. Other officers elected were Thomas Cleveland, 1st vice president; Guy VanTassel, 2nd vice president; John Woolaver, treasurer; William Barton, chaplain; and Calvin VanTassel, sergeant at arms.

Important Reading

1. Be sure your Christmas tree is kept away from stairways, which provide a draft.
2. Don't block any exit with your Christmas tree.

3. Be sure all Christmas decorations are flameproof.
4. Be careful that flimsy gauze costumes worn by children are not endangered by open flames such as a fireplace, candles and stoves.
5. Use only Underwriter approved Christmas tree lights and metal ornaments on the tree.
6. Don't go away from home leaving the Christmas tree lights on.
7. Don't leave small children alone.
8. A solution of two ounces of Borax, two ounces of Boric acid crystals dissolved in a quart of warm water makes an excellent fire retardant when sprayed on Christmas trees, or it can be used to dip cloth materials that do not water mark. Mixed Curling Saturday Night

A Christmas recess has been declared by the Digby Curling Club for this week with curling resuming Saturday evening when one of the popular mixed curling events will be held.
Activities have gotten away to a good start at the Digby Curling Club this year with the opening chicken bonspiel held on December 12th and 13th. This was followed by the annual turkey bonspiel, a four day event, with six rinks participating.
In the turkey bonspiel the turkeys were won by Ken Beckwith's rink of Miller, Snow and Cameron. Beckwith's last shot was a sensational take-out through a port which erased the Wightman rink to win the turkey by a single stone. The Wightman rink were awarded chickens for their showing.
Last Friday and Saturday saw the fourth annual competition between Cornwallis, Stadacona and Digby. The Digby rink captured the main event in this bonspiel when the rink of Mundly, Melsner, Hawkins and Ayer edged another Digby rink of R. Graham, Miller, Doiron and Beckwith, the turkey king.
In the first consolation event the Digby rink of Dunn, Daley, Neville and Rosenthal defeated the Gillis rink from Stadacona.
In the second consolation Dallington of Stadacona defeated Freeman of Cornwallis.
Membership in the Digby
Curling Club is on the increase this year with twelve new members welcomed already. Many of these have already taken part in bonspiel play and have been prize winners. Any one in the area interested in joining the club are asked to contact R. A.
Levy of the membership committee.

Barn Destroyed

A fire of undetermined origin Sunday morning destroyed a barn on the property of Leander Handsaker at Mount Pleasant on the outskirts of Digby.
The fire was first discovered after nine o'clock Sunday morning by neighbors and the Digby Fire Department was called. The fire had gained such headway before it was noticed, however, it was not possible to save the barn. The fire department did prevent the spread of the blaze to Mr. Handsaker's house, only a few feet away.
Some mystery surrounds the blaze as both the house and barn were unoccupied and were locked up. Mr. Handsaker had been living in town for some time and, except for a small quantity

Letter to the Editor

Smith's Cove,
Digby Co.,
Dec. 10 '58
The Editor,
Digby Courier,
Digby, N.S.
Dear Sir:
I have read lately of efforts being made to have the approaches to the Bear River bridge on this side improved by widening and straightening.
While this certainly should be done as soon as possible in view of the danger of this stretch of the highway, I want to suggest that in the meantime, the motorist would be much safer if there were an adequate fence.
The present old wooden one is worthless, but the new metal ones such as they are installing on the St. Margarets Bay road would certainly give the driver a bit of security.
I am writing you to ask that you approach those responsible with this request.
Yours truly,
R. McClung.

Still Has Keen Eye

Eber Peck, noted sportsman and guide and winner of many championships at guides' meets and other such sporting events who is now living in Sherbrook, Guysboro Co., still has a keen shooting eye although he is no longer in the first flush of youth.
During the fall as Eber was padding down one of the many Guysboro Co. streams with his brother, Dalton, he saw an owl fly overhead with a hapless mink clutched in its talons. He took a close aim and got the mink right through the eye and it dropped from the owl's talons to the stream where it was retrieved, pelt undamaged. This was the second time Eber has shot a mink from a canoe and both times he was able to hit the animal so the pelt was undamaged.
Dalton Peck, also a noted sportsman, reports deer plentiful in Guysboro Co. On one trip he saw twenty five.

CHRISTMAS DAY, 1958

On a Silent Night

It was December 23, 1818 in a tiny mountain village in Austria. The night was cold and clear and a heavenly canopy of stars stretched over a peaceful earth as far as the eye could see.

Father Joseph Mohr, a young parish priest, had just administered the last rites to a dying woman. Walking thoughtfully homeward, he looked down at the twinkling lights of the village and the bright stars above. A soul was about to depart from this world, to sleep forever in heavenly peace. Tomorrow at midnight the village and the Christian world would reverently observe the greatest birth—the Nativity that took place that holy night so long ago.

How sad, the young priest thought, that the church organ was broken and the musical program for the holiday services had been cancelled. Franz Gruber the organist, had suggested they find a simple melody that could be sung to the accompaniment of a guitar. Give him the words, he'd said, and he would compose the music. Give him the words . . . and there would be music.

As he thought of birth and life and death and looked down upon the sleeping, startled village below, Father Mohr found these words. They sang the praises of the Holy Infant born to the world, and we wonder if they do not also ask for the departed soul "rest in peace."

Thus came the famous "Silent Night, Holy Night." Franz Gruber, true to his word, put Father Mohr's words to music that will endure till the end of time.

HANDY GIFTS

How often at Christmas time have you experienced that panicky feeling that comes when you discover you've forgotten someone? It happens nearly every year.

You can, however, save yourself a good deal of embarrassment by having gifts wrapped and on hand in case someone drops by with a gift for you—someone accidentally omitted from your gift list.

A safe bet and a gift that will be appreciated is something that you, yourself, have made—perhaps seasonal cookies and candies, nuts, and stuffed fruits. These are gifts with a particularly personal touch. And that, after all, is what the spirit of Christmas giving should be—giving a little of yourself to others.

You can pack your handiwork in wooden or earthenware bowls, a flower pot, small basket, or inexpensive cake or loaf pan. Other handy and inexpensive packaging items are oatmeal boxes, coffee cans, or paper plates covered with gay paper.

A gaily wrapped package makes even the smallest gift look good. Use odd ends of wallpaper, brightly colored magazine covers, shelf paper or scraps of material.

If you have a favorite candy, cookie or fruit or nut bread recipe, use it, by all means. And for an additional touch, tuck a copy of your pet recipe into your gift.

Christmas Tree Industry Aide Forestry Programs

That beautiful Christmas tree you've purchased for your living room this Christmas needn't cause any qualms of conscience if you're the type who worries about the effect of the Christmas tree business on our forests.

The fact that yours is one of 31 million trees used for holiday decorations this year makes it seem that our forests are in great peril, but such is not the case. In fact, at least half of these trees are coming from sources that did not harm or actually improved the forest land they occupied when cut.

Foresters who grow saw-log trees generally divide cut-over land into four classes and Christmas-tree land is the lowest class. It won't grow good forests, but is ideal for Christmas trees since it barely supports tree life. The tree, in its struggle to exist, throws out quick and frequent branches.

On such land are the Christmas-tree farms, such as one operated at Tacoma, Washington, by Paul Kirk, the "Christmas-tree king." Kirk distributes 4 to 5 million trees a year and keeps several times that number growing.

The last two or three weeks before Christmas are about the busiest of the year for Paul Kirk. For his carefully grown trees must arrive at their destinations on time. It isn't unusual for him to tour dozens of cities checking on shipments before he gets home at the last moment to gather with his family around the Kirks' huge white-sprayed tree.

Medieval Dinner Once Was Popular Custom For Coads

Eating peas with a knife is contrary to Emily Post and doesn't seem to have much qualification for observance as a Christmas tradition, but for more than 25 years coeds at Pennsylvania State University partook of a fork-less meal each Yule season.

The traditional medieval dinner, complete with everything from costumed lords and ladies to the legendary boar's head, dated back to 1919, finally had to be cancelled when coed ranks swelled to almost 1,000.

The affair, sponsored by the Women's Student Government Association, began with a formal procession through the dining hall. Led and Lady McAllister—the dinner was held in McAllister Hall—led the throng, which included noble lords and ladies, a poet, a cardinal, pages, and two jesters bearing the boar's head.

All these girls were appropriately costumed and set upon a raised dais in the center of the holly-lit land had some kind of out-dated room, which was illuminated by Christmas decorations and in many cases by candlelight.

A choir furnished Christmas two or three spectacular displays, music, and the poet entertained it was a small town that first the guests by reading Old English came up with the idea of lighting poetry from a scroll. In accordance with the idea of lighting poetry, guests with medieval custom, no but no one is quite sure which forks or napkins were allowed, town gets credit for the idea.

Four communities are believed to have thought of it about the same time, as early as 1913. Two of them, McDonald and Germantown, are in Pennsylvania. Salem, Ore., decorated a Sitka spruce and Riverside, Calif., illuminated a large evergreen, an Araucaria.

Outdoor Decorations Began in Small Towns

Today nearly every community dais in the center of the holly-lit land had some kind of out-dated room, which was illuminated by Christmas decorations and in many cases by candlelight.

A choir furnished Christmas two or three spectacular displays, music, and the poet entertained it was a small town that first the guests by reading Old English came up with the idea of lighting poetry from a scroll. In accordance with the idea of lighting poetry, guests with medieval custom, no but no one is quite sure which forks or napkins were allowed, town gets credit for the idea.

Four communities are believed to have thought of it about the same time, as early as 1913. Two of them, McDonald and Germantown, are in Pennsylvania. Salem, Ore., decorated a Sitka spruce and Riverside, Calif., illuminated a large evergreen, an Araucaria.

The little metal trumpets decorating Christmas trees date from early Danish custom of blowing in the Yule with four hymns representing the four corners of the world.

The tallest Christmas tree on record was a 212 foot Douglas fir set up in 1960 in Northgate, a suburb of Seattle, Washington. It displayed 2,509 colored lights.

Did You Know? Banff National Park, Canada's first, was established in 1885.

DON'T let Christmas wrappings accumulate in the home; place them in your metal covered trash barrel or burn them in your incinerator as soon as possible.

Did You Know? In 1957 the province of Saskatchewan had the lowest death rate of any of Canada's ten provinces—3.5 deaths per 100,000, just under half the rate for Canada as a whole.

THE "MIRACLE" OF SPRINGHILL

First, there were miracles, and then there were seven. Saved from "The miracle" by a "miracle" of heaven.

Now, let us remember, amidst our joy and tears, The people who waited, their hopes and their fears.

Draegermen, bare faced men, heroes all, Their devotion to duty, whether large or small. Organizations everywhere, gave of their best, All of them working, with little or no rest.

Special mention must be given, on this we agree, To the coverage by radio, press, and T.V. Each in their own way, each of them there, Allowed us of the public, this story to share.

An example of faith, and courage that shines, Was given by the men, trapped in the mines. Faith in their fellowmen, faith in their God, Held them together, like peas in a pod.

The gracious visit, by a Royal guest, Expressed the concern, of all people best. He shared in their joy, he shared in their sorrow, He had faith with them, there would be a tomorrow.

Our heartfelt sympathy, our prayers we share, With the miners' bereaved, who waited there. Now that their loved ones have "gone on before", Please God, be with them, till they meet once more.

God bless you, Springhill, you've been surely tried, But your faith, and your courage are all on your side. At the end of some day, at some setting sun, A voice will be heard, Springhill, Well Done.

A Thought Starter

JESUS OR SANTA CLAUS? Except within the church, we hear more about Santa Claus than we do about Jesus at this time of year. My impression is that a majority of parents teach their children to believe in Santa Claus, while a minority teach their children to really believe in Jesus.

Many of the qualities which belong to God, have been attributed to this mythical figure of the polar regions. Hence, children associate kindness, generosity, and even the answer of their prayers (Christmas letters), not to God at all.

They are indirectly taught that Santa Claus is the rewarder of all good little boys and girls. Surely, the Christian belief is that God is the rewarder of those that trust Him. It is surprising how many children think of Christmas only as the time when jolly old Santa brings them gifts.

One might say that children will get straightened out in their thinking as they grow up. Perhaps so, but why teach them wrong in the beginning, and make them have to relearn in later years? In the school system, we don't ask our children to learn things incorrectly at first, then expect them to find the truth as they mature. Jesus said, "Suffer (let) the little children come unto me". Tell them the true Christmas story. Tell them that Jesus loves them and will bless them. Tell them that they must love Him and obey Him. Teach them to thank Him for the benefits they receive. Anything less borders on paganism.

Annual Christmas Party Held

Nearly two thousand youngsters, ranging from babies in arms to grade seven pupils from the Digby Regional High School, attended the tenth annual community Christmas party at the Digby Forum last Thursday afternoon. 17:1c

Prior to the visit of Santa the youngsters, led by Elton Arnold, joined in the singing of traditional Christmas carols and popular Christmas songs. 17:1c

Promptly at two fifteen Santa arrived in a sleigh pulled by Sea Cadets and Boy Scouts and preceded by the Fire Department Ice Carnival Princess, Miss Gail Hersey. As soon as the tumult which greeted Santa's appearance on the Forum ice had died down a greeting was extended to the jolly gentleman on behalf of the assemblage by Digby's Mayor, Victor Cardozo, chairman of the community Christmas party committee. 17:1c

Santa then chatted with each youngster individually and as the kiddies passed along the line they were each presented with a bag of candies, an apple and a bottle of 7-Up by Santa's helpers. 17:1c

The annual community Christmas Party has been held every year for the past ten years and is sponsored by local merchants and business houses in Digby and surrounding area for the youngsters of the town and district. A committee, representative of the town, church and service organizations is in charge of arrangements. Each year close to two thousand bags of candy are packed by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion for the event. The candies are secured through purchase from monies donated, or given directly to the committee for distribution. Seven Up (Marittimes) at Bridgetown also donates soft drinks for the occasion and this year gave each youngster a bottle of 7-Up at the party. Nova Scotia apples were also distributed to the kiddies. 17:1c

HAPPY HOLIDAY

By MARY NELSON
"HAPPY new year!"
The cry echoed and re-echoed down the street as Penny made her way toward the bus stop. Every-where about her people were light-hearted and gay and busily wishing their friends good fortune for the coming year. She buttoned her coat and the neck and turned up the collar. It was a bitterly cold day and she told herself she would be happy to reach home and stay in for the night. Let those with pioneer blood go out and stand in the raw wind down at Dayton Circle just to blow a silly horn at midnight ostensibly to usher in the new year.

Penny had always been known at home as a sensible girl with good common sense. She was proud of that reputation and now that she lived in the city alone she was more determined than ever to live up to it. She didn't want to become a sophisticated, worldly-wise city girl. Thus, she summed up mentally, it was just as well she didn't go out. "Going out tonight, Penny?"

The words interrupted her thoughts and she turned to greet Ruby, a fellow worker who was always going out with someone she called "Beanie." You could always tell the status of Ruby's romance by her mood: if she was exuberant to the point of being giddy, she was going to see Beanie that night; if she was quiet and petulant, and if she was downright rude with a sarcastic twist to every remark she made, then they had quarreled.

Penny smiled. "No, I'm not, Ruby," she replied. "Odd that she should feel such emptiness within her as she said the words. She noted Ruby's quick glance of sympathy and it irritated her. "I don't know

My Daily Prayer

Author Unknown

"This coming year I'd like to be a friend to everyone. I'd like to feel each day well spent at setting of the sun. I'd like to know that I have done, at least one kindly deed. Before I lay me down to sleep that I have given heed— to some one's cry for sympathy, or friendship or that I have made the day somehow brighter to some chance passer-by. And that the world is better still in just some little way. Because I've tried to live the very best I could each day."

"I'd like to be a ray of light when skies are overcast. I'd like to help some one who failed to blot out all the past. To start again despite the storms and find the skies are blue. To know that in this good old world there's lots that's fine and true. I'd like to be the kind of person everyone will love. And make the world seem just a little more like heaven above. I'd like in all my dealings to be true and just and fair. That God will help me do these things shall be my daily prayer."

HOLY NIGHT

This painting of the first Christmas was done by Feuerstein, an Alsatian who taught at the Munich Academy of Art.

World's Christmas Legends Numerous

Multitudinous legends claim innumerable origins for the Christmas tree. One legend says the legend concerns an early Christian missionary, sometimes identified as St. Wilfred, who once came upon a group of Druids preparing to make a human sacrifice under a large oak.

He had the oak cut down, and as it fell, a young fir tree sprang up in its place. The missionary seized the evidence and made the fir tree a symbol of the new faith: henceforth, the tribesmen were to set this symbol of immortality in the halls of their lodges at Christmas time and to surround it with feasting and love and the laughter of children.

The legend of the Faithful Pine which sheltered the Holy Family during the flight to Egypt is less well known perhaps, but so very charming and touched by the idealism appropriate to the Nativity theme.

With Herod's soldiers in pursuit Mary simply had to rest awhile and sought shelter within the hollow trunk of a huge fir tree. As the soldiers approached the tree, she hid her branches to conceal the huddled little group. When the hunter had passed, the baby Jesus blessed the old tree. And if you cut a pine cone lengthwise at Christmas time, you can still see the imprint of His little hand.

Nor should we overlook the bright baubles which bedeck our modern Christmas trees. The first Christmas tree was really an apple tree, according to legends collected by Florence B. Robinson. And, although the fir tree long since has supplanted its predecessor for Christmas use, the popular tinsel bauble of today is the representative of the fruit which for the early Christians symbolized the fall of man in the Garden of Eden and his redemption by the birth of the Saviour.

HERE'S HOW TO SELECT A TREE

"How can we select a Christmas tree that holds its needles?" is a question fathers and mothers ask year after year.

The answer depends on the type of tree you buy and the care you give it once you set it up.

All trees tend to drop their leaves after they are cut and stored in a dry room. But some kind naturally hold their needles longer than others. Trees used most commonly on Christmas are the spruces, fir, hemlock, pine and red cedars.

Spruce are the first to shed their needles. A spruce can be identified by grasping a branch tightly. Its sharp needles will prick your hand.

The ideal Christmas tree is the fir. It has the needles except that its needles are not sharp. The needles stay on the tree for a long time, and become a golden brown before they finally drop off. Needles of the Douglas fir are flat and soft to the touch. This popular tree can be easily identified by examining the cones which have small appendages on each side.

Pines have never been very popular as Christmas trees, in spite of the fact that they do not shed their needles easily. This is most likely due to their unsymmetrical appearance which does not closely resemble the traditional Christmas tree.

No matter what kind of Christmas tree you select, it will hold its needles longer if it is standing in water. Place a little water in the base of your tree stand and you will be bothered less with falling needles than you were last year.

Bethlehem Many Languages Join Together In Holy Praise

As the angels sang on that first Christmas night, so will there be singing in the village of Bethlehem in this year.

Bethlehem caroling is in many languages. An Arab choir will join with the voices of tourists and pilgrims in a simple outdoor service. In a grotto which might have been the shepherds' watching shepherds, the Christmas story will be read from the Gospel of St. Luke.

The stone buildings and churches of Bethlehem will be filled with thousands of pilgrims who have journeyed here, for a pontifical mass at midnight in St. Catherine's Chapel and the procession which later leads down a flight of stone stairs to the grotto beneath the Church of the Nativity.

According to tradition, nearly 4,000 years old, the grotto is the site of the stable where Jesus was born when Joseph and Mary could find no room at the inn.

During the ceremony an infant figure of Christ is placed first on a silver star, then in a manger in a wooden crib where it will remain until the feast of Epiphany.

On both sides of the Israel-Jordan border, a short distance from Bethlehem, tent cities are set up to facilitate border crossing for pilgrims for almost 2,000 Christians living in Israel and temporary Christian residents of Israel traveling to Bethlehem for Christmas. The formalities do not take much time. In one tent, pilgrims get stamps for their permits; in another, their luggage is checked; finally their money is changed.

Then they cross the border. Bethlehem-bound, just as was Mary and Joseph on a similar night long ago, and just as are fervent travelers from all parts of the world in this year.

Mistletoe, the most popular New Year's and Christmas green, has been an emblem of purity, friendship and goodwill since ancient Greek times. Ancient Britons revered it as a symbol of protection from evil spirits.

Burning of trees on "Twelfth Night" is an outgrowth of the special observance by early Christians in the last day of a twelve-day celebration of the Feast of the Nativity of Christ.

Tips on Choosing Christmas Tree That Will Last

If your Christmas tree sheds needles all over the living room last year, chances are you weren't careful enough in buying a "fresh" tree.

Touch-typing will help you pick a choicier tree. You can tell by the feel which trees are better able to withstand the hot stove indoors.

If twigs and foliage aren't reasonably resilient or needles feel dry and crumbly, better pass up the tree. Chances are it will look like a hatrack before Christmas day.

And if you're not quite sure by the touch method, hang the butt of the tree sharply on the floor. A shower of needles will tell you if the tree's drying out, even before you get it home. Of course, the way the tree looks is an important factor, but an attractive tree that will lose its beauty in short order is hardly a bargain.

The ideal holiday tree boasts the traditional pyramid shape, with lush branches reaching to the base. The two favorites in the market places are Balsam fir and Norway spruce. The slower-growing Balsam fir is more expensive than the spruce, but it retains its beauty longer indoors.

Making Your Own Holiday Decorations Adds To Pleasure

Make your holiday decorations and you will not only save money you'll have fun.

A kissing ring for a doorway can be made by covering two embroidery hoops with ribbon or tinsel. Place them at right angles to each other and add a bell, ball ornament or sprig of mistletoe inside.

Attach a bow at the bottom if you wish. Instead of embroidery hoops you may use can rings painted with gilt or tempera paints.

Evergreen branches can be used in many ways. Have you ever tried covering the wood moulding about a door with them? Or bending a wire coat hanger into a circle and attaching greens to it to form a wreath? You can add ball ornaments or bright cranberries to brighten it a bit.

Then how about decorating your windows and mirrors? Cotton white spray paint or white paper snowflakes always look pretty. But if there's an artist in your family why not have him paint a scene of a jolly Santa on a window or mirror with tempera paints?

Burning of trees on "Twelfth Night" is an outgrowth of the special observance by early Christians in the last day of a twelve-day celebration of the Feast of the Nativity of Christ.

The Christmas Eve bath was quite a tradition in Finland before the advent of modern plumbing.

The oldtime Finnish bath-room was usually a three-room hut, one room was used for steaming and scrubbing, one for rubbing, and one for dressing.

The hut was warmed by a stone oven, heated for hours before the scheduled bath, and the "bath-room" was really steaming. After bathing came the rub-down and the switching of the body with birch twigs to increase the circulation, topped off by a roll in the snow, supposedly to whet the appetite for Christmas Eve supper.

For supper there was usually stockfish and prune tarts to be enjoyed, plus the traditional barley porridge in which cream and sugar and almonds were mixed.

After supper the boys and men matched their strength: while the girls—garbed in the men's work clothes—blackened their faces and stole away to visit other homes in cognate and "see Christmas."

The girls never spoke nor accepted food, but went from house to house merely to watch the festivities.

And when the evening's festivities were over, the smaller children made their beds in the clean straw spread on the floor in commemoration of the Christ Child.

The flame-thrower and atomic energy—lethal instruments borrowed from modern warfare—are out to kill that ancient symbol of peace-making and love, the Christmas mistletoe.

The unusual battle front is Australia where too many valuable trees each year have been receiving the kiss of death from the harmless-looking shrub. Despite mistletoe's popular reputation as the Yuletide promoter of romance, it is a public-enemy parasite in the woodlands, killing off the trees that play it host.

Australian foresters have finally resorted to the flame-thrower as a quick exterminator for the plant and are using radioactive tracers, furnished by the U.S. atomic energy commission, to study how the mistletoe saps the water and mineral salts from the trees, starving them to death.

JANET opened the door to her apartment, thinking as she did so that it had been only a week since Craig and she had shared this apartment they called their "ivory tower," named that because of its odd shape. It had been a storage room until the housing shortage became prevalent. Then Mrs. Root, feeling sympathetic toward the plight of Janet and Craig Norris, newly married and homeless, had cleared it out, partitioned it off into two small rooms and rented it to them.

That was just 13 months ago, Janet remembered, dropping her gloves on the table and lighting the lamp with the same gesture. They had been married only three weeks, just long enough to realize they were imposing on Craig's family who were cramped for quarters themselves.

Just a week ago they had the quarrel that had sent Craig from the apartment. It had been a blow to his pride from the day of their wedding that Janet could continue working. She enjoyed her position in the advertising firm where she had risen from a clerk to copy writer in just two years. Since she left the house after Craig in the morning and returned before him at night, she never felt her working interfered in any way with her household duties. But friends had spoiled everything with their snide remarks about "poor Janet still working," and it was more than Craig could bear. "They think I can't support you!" he'd storm at her, but the more he pleaded the more adamant she had become. And now he was gone.

The whole thing seemed so unimportant now. She glanced at the telephone, half-inclined to call him home, but her own recalcitrant nature refused to allow such a move. She turned on the radio instead and pretended the tears that welled in her eyes at the strains of "Silent Night" were merely tears of weariness after the preparation of the office party that morning. Deliberately she opened the dresser drawer to put away last night's ironing. Her souvenir box loomed temptingly before her. Lifting the cover, she stared at the items she had collected: Craig's class ring, exchanged for a diamond after their graduation from college; a pressed orchid, one of those she had carried at her wedding; various cards, Christmas anniversary, birthday, valentine. She picked up a small gift card and read again, "To my dear wife, Janet, on our first Christmas." It was the card with the watch he had given her last year.

TREMBLING, she closed the box and turned quickly from the dresser. She had been a fool, she decided. Without Craig, Christmas could never hold the same meaning for her as it once had. She didn't stop to lock the door for there was nothing of value anyone could steal from her. Even her $100 Christmas bonus lying on the table went unnoticed. The one thing she must not lose was happiness, and that was no longer in her home with Craig gone. She started breathlessly down the 3½ flights of stairs. Tears coursed down her cheeks and she prayed with fanatic zest that she was not too late. As she reached the last flight of stairs, she crashed into a figure who was hurrying up, as oblivious of his surroundings as she. She gasped at the impact, but the man quickly regained his balance and caught her before she could fall. "Janet!" he cried.

She looked at him almost in disbelief. Then, throwing her arm about him she gave full vent to her tears. "Oh, Craig! Darling, I was just coming for you."

He kissed her and held her tightly. "Janet, I've been such a fool! I didn't realize until tonight what a awful thing pride can be. Will you ever forgive me?"

She sighed. "There's nothing to forgive, Craig. I was the one who was wrong. I'm going to quit my job right away."

"No, you mustn't. I don't want to deprive you of any happiness as if you want to work, I'm not going to stop you."

She laughed shakily. "We'll argue that out later, shall we?"

Arm in arm they climbed up the stairs.

TOM LARKIN opened the kitchen door. His wife looked up with a hopeful smile as he entered. He just shook his head.

"No mail at all!" she said as she went on fixing dinner.

"Oh, there were a couple of ads and a bill from the seed company." He hung his hat on a hook and crossed to the pump. His white hair was damp around his face when he straightened up again.

"It's just not like Bill," she sighed. "Bill's got an unforgivin' streak, always did have, even when he was a little fellow. Pa's old briar gave off a pungent odor as he lit it."

"But this is different, Tom," she said, putting a pan of biscuits in the oven, "tomorrow is Christmas. It's a long way to the coast. Maybe he wrote but didn't mail it in time."

"Ma," his tired old voice was filled with bitterness, "there's no need to stick pins in yourself by hopin'. Christmas or no Christmas... that boy is still mad."

The old lady's eyes shone with faith. "He might stay mad all year long but when Christmas comes he'll write. I know. I'm his Ma."

"Don't forget," Tom said as he blew smoke at the ceiling. His eyes crinkled at the corners. "I'm his father."

"Dinner's ready, Pa," she said filled with a deep longing and fought to keep the tears out of her voice. "I can't understand that boy still bein' mad at me, but why does he say to take it out on you?"

"You're wrong, Tom," Ma replied as she lifted her head and smiled. "The day after Christmas, first delivery, we'll get a letter. You'll see."

"Not from him," he shook his head grimly.

"You're forgettin' Judy," she reminded him as they sat down. "She's a good daughter-in-law."

"Oh, I'm not blamin' her," replying as he covered his biscuits with gravy, "Judy's a fine girl. It's his bull headed pride."

She got up and taking the coffee pot off the cook stove filled his cup. They ate on in silence. Finally he pushed his plate back.

"You aren't eatin' much," he scolded.

"I'm just not hungry, Pa."

"I see," he stood up. "I'm goin' out and turn the heater on in the hen house. It'll be cold tonight."

His old shoulders slumped forward as he went outside. She shook her head and started picking up the dishes. Her mind sank back into the past. To the days when Christmas was alive with the excitement and laughter of young voices. She could see Pa striding into the living room bearing a large evergreen on his shoulder. Behind him there was always a highly excited little boy, bearing an axe. She wondered if the little boy ever thought of it.

PA CAME back on the porch. She smiled as he kicked his toe against the threshold. It's a wonder, she thought, that he's any threshold left after all these years. He came into the kitchen, dumping an arm load of kindling in the box behind the range.

"Snowin', Pa?"

He shook his head and took off his wraps, replying, "Stopped."

She hung the dish towels up to dry. He pulled a rocker in from the living room and sat down.

"Everything all right in the barn?" Ma asked as she threw a few lumps of coal in the fire.

"Sure," Pa said. A sad smile crossed his lips. "What's the use, pretendin', Ma? We're both feelin' blue."

She sat down at the old kitchen table and started peeling apples uttered, "I know it."

"Gonna bake me a pie?" he asked. She nodded. "Apple was always Billy's favorite, too."

"Now, Ma, what's the use of... he stopped as they heard a car drive up in the yard. "Must be Jin Rogers. Said today that new calf of his was sick." He opened the kitchen door and peered out into the night. She could hear him catch his breath as he watched a man and a woman get out. "Ma, who do you think?" his voice was low.

"I know," Ma laughed as she laid the paring knife down with a happy smile, "I knew it all the time."

Tradition of Poppy

The poppy leaf, traditionally a part of Christmas Eve supper in Lithuania, is a small leaf made of bread dough and baked hard in a bread pan. When cool, the leaves are dipped in a solution made of water and sugar and ground poppy seed which is also used as a traditional holiday beverage.

Tradition prescribes that the poppy seed should be ground in an iron kettle using an ax handle as a mallet, and no Lithuanian would think of grinding seeds for the Christmas poppy leaves by any other method.

NANCY Miller, aged ten, had twelve Christmas cards left when she reached the last house on the street. She decided to try her luck with Old Martin. She mounted the steps of the aging, deteriorating, red brick house and rang the bell. For a long moment she felt the urge to run, but the thought of the minister's surprise if she should sell the old man was too strong.

She waited there shaking and suddenly the door was opened.

"Well, what do you want?" The tall old man glared down at her.

"I, Nancy Miller. I've got—" "Come in. Come in. You'll freeze out the house."

Nancy's heart leaped. She was inside and that was something. "I'm selling Christmas cards to help the church. Would you—"

Old Martin snorted. "I thought I'd seen you before. Your father owns the garage. You pestered me last year and the year before. And now you're here again. What makes you think I'll buy your cards? I haven't before."

"No. But I thought maybe you'd change your mind. The other kids—"

Old Martin snorted. "I thought I'd seen you before."

"The other children! Humph! Why don't they come here with their cards? They're afraid, eh? I'm Old Martin, the meanest man in town."

Nancy smiled up at him. "I don't think so."

"Well, I'll buy the box of cards just to get rid of you. But mind you don't ever come again."

Memories

Nancy left and the old man stared at the door wondering if he had really bought the cards to get rid of her. Could it be that she with shining eyes and long golden hair and warm smile, reminded him of another little girl much like her? She who had left her widower father bereaved for the second time within a year?

Meanwhile, Nancy raced toward the minister's house with the great news.

Late that night in the red brick house the old man spread the cards on a table and glanced over the warm and happy greetings. In the right hand corner of each card he noticed a tiny red and white Santa Claus. "Sentimental rubbish," he snorted and replaced the cards in the envelopes.

The next morning he discovered that the ancient wall paper in the back hall had loosened and a large strip was hanging. He could fix that, he decided, and realize some return for the dollar he had given Nancy. He spread glue over the faces of the cards and used them to patch the torn wall paper.

Christmas for Old Martin was to be no different than it had been for the past thirty years. He would receive no gifts and he would give none.

It was not as easy as it had been the past many years. The memory of the little girl who had visited him the day before blended with the memory of the little girl of thirty years before. She too had looked forward to Christmas with all the excitement and wide-eyed wonder of childhood.

A light burned late in the old house.

Usual Holiday

Most everyone in town, except Old Martin, received a share of Christmas greetings. He got only one; that from a little girl. Eleven needy people received cards with no signature and each card was accompanied by a five dollar bill. The face of every card was rough as though something had been pasted to it and then removed.

Nancy received the twelfth card in care of her father's garage, and though she recognized it as of the style she had sold she couldn't recall to whom she had old it. It contained a ten dollar bill.

Christmas Eve, an old man knelt and prayed for the first time in thirty years, but from the outside he old brick house looked the same as usual.

New Year's Blessings an Ancient Swiss Legend According to Swiss legend, the Holy Family is abroad during the hour of midnight mass on Christmas Eve.

Therefore, a bowl of fresh milk is placed upon the dining table and each member of the household carefully lays his spoon upon the table cloth.

The person who, returning from church, finds his spoon has been moved may anticipate special blessings during the coming year: for surely Mary and Joseph have rested upon the table. The Holy Family is abroad during the hour of midnight mass on Christmas Eve.

DIGBY - WEYMOUTH - BEAR RIVER

Many Christmas legends and customs are part of the folklore of our ancestors in all parts of the world. Many of them, too, are a mixture of early Christian and pagan observances which time and Christianity have given new meaning.

Santa Claus, our American giver of gifts, is little known elsewhere in the world. In Eastern and Southern Europe, it is the Wise Men who arrive bringing gifts. In Hungary the gifts come from the Angels, in Poland from the stars, in Greece, St. Basil is the gift-bearing patron saint.

Popular tradition has it that the candle we place in our windows at Christmas is a custom originated by early Christians to whom the candle represented the star that guided the Wise Men to the stable at Bethlehem. One interesting legend tells of a shoemaker who, though poor, always placed a candle in his window at night to guide weary travelers, and so inspired the villagers that soon each window contained a lighted candle.

The holly bush, long associated with Christmas, and with many legends was once called the holy-bush, because, in its natural state the berries ripen at Christmas time.

The Wassail bowl, which today is Christmas punch, is said to have come to us from the ancient Saxons. Wassail was a word of greeting which meant literally, "What Hails?" or "How fare you?"

At Christmas time, traditions of the Old World live again. Pinatitas, games and festive straw chains from South Europe; wheat sheaves, paper and carved wood from Scandinavian countries; angels, stars, Czechoslovakian bells and gold German stars are all bits of Old World charm that we re-create in our homes.

The Real Meaning Of Christmas

(From the Illustrated London News)

Soon it will be Christmas. In millions of homes across the country families and kindred will sit down together, eat a little more than is good for them and make merry. There will be a slight, temporary, yet perceptible all-round rising of the temperature of human kindness.

What does it all mean? For a minority, Christmas is a religious commemoration, the highlight of the Christian year. For a majority, it is merely a feast and a holiday, and is kept by them because their fathers kept it, because their earliest memories of celebration and family reunion go back to Christmas Day.

INDIAN LORE

The new Angus L. MacDon-ald bridge joining Halifax and Dartmouth is the 3rd bridge across the harbour; an old Mic-mac Indian legend has it that three bridges would be built and three would fall.

day there was born in the manger of a poor inn in Judea a child called Jesus. He was not a prince or a statesman or a warrior. He was not a member of a conquering race; He wrote no book, raised no artistic monument. His years on earth were few and lived out in a poor, obscure conquered province. He was regarded by cultivated and educated contemporaries as a person of no consequence. As a matter of fact, his history, it is to celebrate this Man's birth that we sit down to eat roast turkey and plum pudding. It takes, one might think, much explanation.

The theological interpretation put by churches and scholars on Christ's reported words has varied in all ages and varies to this day. What there never has been any doubt about is that those who knew Christ best only by heresy — a conviction of what He was. The conviction was so intense that they loved so much that all human suffering and need mattered to Him.

"Moral perfection is incompatible with human nature. For if a perfect man existed in a world such as ours, he would die of horror and compassion at the terrible things that happen in it every second. However tender and loving, however shaken and moved by the sufferings and tragedies that affect them personally, men and women instinctively close their hearts to other tragedies every whit as great as their own and those immediately around them. A perfect being would not share his heart in self-protection. He would suffer with others and give himself unceasingly to relieve and succor them.

The whole meaning of Christmas, the miracle of Christ's birth — and death — is that once and once only in human history was there such a being. He so loved His fellow men that His whole life was dedicated without the least alloy of self to the relief and service of all those who stood in need of them.

Two Simple Rules
He left us two commandments: that we should love God — whose nature He revealed to us by His own — with all our every whit as great as their own and those immediately around them. A perfect being
