DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 7, 1960

Year's Sage

Henry D. Hicks, Q.C., leader of the opposition Nova Scotia Legislature and of the Liberal party in Nova Scotia.

There has been a year during which Canada has made progress in recovering from the recession. It has not had a year for Nova Scotia, though we are naturally proud of our recovery. It is a fact with the growth of the province, some industries are in difficulties at this time. However, I continue to be confident in the future of our province. I believe that the undoubted capacity of Nova Scotians can properly be directed in solving problems inherent in our growth and development. The construction of a provincial highway, as a result of a co-operative effort by the people of Nova Scotia, is well underway, and we hope to see it successfully in operation during 1960. All Nova Scotians are proud of the reports of progress in the construction of a highway at the Strait of Canso. I certainly hope that 1960 will see a real start on this important undertaking. I am leader of the Opposition in the Provincial Legislature. I am again urging the Premier's Government of the day to everything in their power to assist the people of Nova Scotia to take advantage of our opportunities in 1960 and the years to come. To this end, of course, the Government may count on all measures of support from the official Opposition. To all Nova Scotians everywhere, I am happy to extend my good wishes for a prosperous new year, and hope that you may see a recovery in economic progress in Nova Scotia commensurate with that place in the rest of Canada. I am confident of the province's future in the hands of its people. May the New Year bring health and happiness to all.

Centenarian Passes

Mrs. Cynthia Denton, Little River, Digby County, grandmotherly, affectionately known to many far beyond her own family circle as "Aunt Cynthia," passed away at the Digby General Hospital on the evening of January 1st after a short illness. She lived until February 1st when she would have celebrated her 101st birthday. Born in Little River, Mrs. Denton was the former Cynthia Black, daughter of the late Thomas and Chloe (Westcott) Black. She was one of a family of thirteen, of whom four were children. She was the first person married in the Little River Baptist Church following its erection and was married there by Howard Denton by Rev. J. C. Denton who was pastor of the church for 65 years. Mrs. Denton's husband, Howard Denton, predeceased her only a few years ago as did her only child, Flora Denton, a graduate of Acadia University, and wife of the late Dr. James Melbourne Shortliffe, for many years a professor at Colgate University, New York. Mrs. Denton all her life took an active interest in her community and her church and for many years was an active and devoted member of the Little River Baptist Church. On the occasion of her one hundredth birthday on February 1st, a party in Mrs. Denton's honour was held. During the party she received congratulations and good wishes from a host of friends and

Protest Removal Of Beach Sand

Residents of the picturesque Digby county tourist and fishing village of Sandy Cove on Digby Neck are deeply incensed over the removal from the beach, which skirts the highway running through the village, of tons of sand by a construction firm.

The sand, which has been removed over a period of some three weeks, is being used in the building of piers and abutments for the new highway bridge at Joggin Bridge, some five miles east of Digby on highway No. 1. Contract for the bridge job is held by the Kenney Construction Co. Ltd. of Yarmouth.

Residents of Sandy Cove claim removal of the sand is destroying one of the finest bathing beaches on Digby Neck. Situated on the St. Mary's Bay side of the Neck, the beach is used every summer by hundreds of tourists who visit Sandy Cove. Water off this beach is much warmer than on the Bay of Fundy side where, although the beach is much larger, water is often too cold for bathing.

It is claimed by the people of the Cove that the removal of the sand from this particular beach is unnecessary as they claim three grades of sand, all suitable for the construction of beaches, are available on other beaches in the vicinity. Removal of sand from these, they claim, would not detrimentally affect the tourist resources of the area.

Mr. Owen Irving, prominent Sandy Cove merchant, stated Tuesday he had contacted Hon. M. S. Leonard, provincial legislator, in the matter. He stated Mr. Leonard had informed him that under present regulations, little could be done to prevent such removal of sand from a beach.

Mr. Leonard stated, however, he said, that he had discussed the matter with Hon. G. I. Smith, minister of highways, who had assured him the province would have gravel placed on the beach to replace that which had been removed.

Mr. Irving stated that Mr. Leonard had informed him the provincial highways minister had given him assurance the department of highways would have the beach put back in the condition it was prior to the removal of the sand. Restoration of the beach, he said, would be under direction of local highway superintendent, Willard Kinney.

The government, Mr. Leonard also informed Mr. Irving, has under consideration some type of legislation to prevent such removal of sand from the province's beaches in future.

It is understood some replacement of material on the Sandy Cove beach has already occurred. It is stated some loads of material unsuitable for the Joggin Bridge project had been dumped on the beach from which the sand was removed. In the meantime the once very attractive beach on the St. Mary's Bay side of the highway at Sandy Cove is a sad looking sight. Its surface is pock marked with craters where sand has been removed down to the rough rocks which lie beneath. In some sections the craters extend close to the breastwork which skirts the highway along the shore line and some residents claim these, aggravated by winter storms, might cause an undermining of the breastwork and consequent serious damage to the highway.

Municipal Appeal Board Meets

Some one hundred and twelve appeals against assessment were heard Tuesday by the assessment appeal board of Digby Municipality in what amounted to almost a marathon session.

The number of appeals heard was said to be the largest ever heard by the board in one year. It is understood one of the factors in the large number of appeals filed is the fact the municipality this year adopted the so-called "full assessment" method of property assessment and it is reported total assessment in the municipality this year will be in the vicinity of four times that of the previous year.

Included among the assessment appeals heard Tuesday was that of the Canadian Pacific Railway concerning the assessment of the Digby Pines Golf Links which is situated in the municipality of Digby.

Mr. R. K. O'Hara, of Montreal, tax commissioner for the CPR, represented the railway at the hearing.

In his presentation Mr. O'Hara stated consideration was being given by the railway to reducing the size of the present eighteen hole course, reported to be one of the finest in Canada, to nine holes in order to cut down on operating expense.

He stated consideration was also being given to closing down the course altogether if expense cannot be reduced. He stated at the present time the annual loss in the operation of the Digby Pines Golf Course, excluding taxes and depreciation, amounted to some $4,000.

Mr. O'Hara pointed out that, due to efforts being made by the railway to dispose of the Digby Pines Hotel, maintenance work on the golf course over the past two years had been reduced and stated that, if the course was to be kept in operation, some considerable expense would have to be incurred in order to bring the course back to top form.

He stated the assessment on the golf links and buildings last year amounted to $8,050 and that the 1960 assessment was in the amount of $43,150, and said he had been informed the land had been assessed this year at a figure of $100 an acre.

Mr. O'Hara stated he was of the opinion the golf links land should be assessed as farm property and said the top assessment figure for this was at the rate of $25.00 per acre.

Speaking of the buildings on the golf course, he stated he felt these were assessed too high and said they should be regarded in much the same light as summer residential property as the golf links was in operation for a maximum of four months a year.

In his presentation Mr. O'Hara suggested that a figure of $12,000 to $15,000 would be a proper assessment on the golf links building with an additional amount of some $3,000 for the land which amounts to about one hundred acres.

He pointed out that, due to the present trend in the tourist industry, the golf links was no longer the important adjunct to the operation of the Pines Hotel it once was. In fact, he stated, the Pines Hotel golf links serves the people of the local municipality and town more than the summer visitors. He also stated local golfers were accorded a lower schedule of rates than the hotel guests.

Hears From Princess Margaret

Every little girl is thrilled to receive mail, but a very special thrill was experienced by a ten year old Digby girl on Christmas Eve Day when she received a letter bearing the royal coat of arms and official stamp marking and dated at Clarence House, London, England, which is the London residence of Her Royal Highness the Princess Margaret.

The letter, which was signed by Iris Peake, Lady-in-Waiting to Princess Margaret, was received by Beverley Kaulback, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Kaulback, and was a reply to a letter and Christmas greeting which Beverley sent to Princess Margaret earlier this year. Beverley enclosed with her letter a newspaper picture taken from the Digby Courier, showing the Princess as she chatted with a group of young Digby dancers at the Pines Hotel during her visit to Digby on August 9, 1958, which she hoped would remind the Princess of her visit to Digby.

Beverley was one of eight girls who performed in a ballet number, "Sleigh Ride", on the lawn of the Digby Pines in the evening of the visit to Digby by the Princess. The dancers were pupils of Mrs. Frances Peters, whom she had trained for this special occasion. Later that evening, the Princess chatted with each of the dancers and expressed her pleasure at their performance.

Taking part in the dance were the following pupils of Mrs. Peters' dance class: Gail Hersey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hersey; Joan White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert White; Elizabeth Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Peters; Pamela Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wright; Carol Roberge, daughter of CPO and Mrs. Bernard Roberge; Beverley Kaulback, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Kaulback, all of Digby; Gloria Theriault, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fidele Theriault, Bellevue's Cove, and Valerie Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Harris, Lunenburg, formerly of Digby.

Following is a copy of the letter received by Beverley: Clarence House, S.W. 1, 9th, December 1959.

Princess Margaret desires me to thank you very sincerely for your letter and your kind Christmas greetings, which she much appreciated.

I am to tell you that Her Royal Highness has very happy memories of her visit to Digby last year.

Yours sincerely, Iris Peake, Lady-in-Waiting.

Council Will Re-enter Discussions

The Digby Town Council will re-enter negotiations with other municipal units concerned with respect to the provision of additional hospital facilities in Digby. It was decided at the January meeting of the council. At the December meeting the council decided to withdraw from these negotiations because of concern over the town's financial position and opinion was expressed the additional debt load created by the town's share of the proposed hospital construction costs would raise the town's net debt figure above the maximum suggested as proper by the department of municipal affairs.

A letter was read at the January meeting from the hospital planning commission asking that the town reconsider its decision to withdraw and a brief on the whole matter of the hospital proposal was presented by Councillor V. L. Bent, council representative on the Digby hospital board.

Councillor Bent labelled the council's decision to withdraw as impulsive and ill-considered and said it had been based on figures concerning the town's present debt position which had not been properly analyzed.

He stated the town's actual net debt position was not in excess of $350,000 as had been represented at the previous meeting but that in that figure had been included utility bonded indebtedness which was self-liquidating by the utility concerned. He said the actual net debt payable from taxation was in the vicinity of $237,000.

Councillor Bent said that by its decision at the previous meeting the council had arbitrarily denied the ratepayers any voice in the matter of a decision on the hospital question and said that, rather than do this, every effort should be bent toward getting the matter before the ratepayers.

He moved that negotiations be resumed with a view to getting the whole matter before the ratepayers. An amendment was moved by Councillor McKenna that negotiations be resumed and that the council be informed as to the actual costs of the proposed project and their effect on the taxpayers of the town. The amended motion passed unanimously.

A letter was read at the council meeting from the Crown Assets Disposal Corporation in reply to a request from the town concerning sale terms and price on the old post office building in Digby. The letter stated several tenders had been received on the building, the highest of which was $10,100.

The council was informed the corporation would withhold action on the sale of the building. If the town did not indicate by January 12th they wished to meet the high tender then the building would be sold, the letter stated.

It was decided to advise the corporation the town was no longer interested. A copy of the (Please turn to page 5)

Trinity Church Is Ransacked

Unknown vandals broke into Trinity Anglican church sometime Monday night and systematically smashed open and ransacked the church.

The destruction and looting was discovered Tuesday evening by the Rector, Rev. James Pike, and the sexton, James Abbott, after several efforts had been made by them to get into the church without success.

Entrance was finally made into the building through the basement and then it was discovered that the door of the church had been propped shut from the inside by a long piece of pipe.

A further investigation disclosed the vestry door had been smashed open, apparently with the same piece of pipe, and the interior completely ransacked.

Every drawer, cabinet and case in the vestry had been forced open and contents thrown out on the floor. A ribbon containing church time sheet, every drawer was ransacked and boxes of altar candles were broken open and the candles thrown on the floor.

Church records and other books were scattered about the floor. A small quantity of wine contained in a bottle was with contents spilled, which had been used for a service on the day morning. This wine was consumed on the spot. The crucifix had been replaced with a protective cloth with the communion vessels.

A great deal of destruction was also done in the choir loft of the church. Here cabinets and boxes, containing for the most part old records, sheet music and choir vestments, were broken open and their contents scattered about.

In the basement of the church an unlocked vault, containing old church records, was smashed open and the dial on the door ripped off. The contents of the vault were ransacked and scattered.

The vandals turned off the main power switch in the church tower and removed the fuses. It is believed they made their way out of the church through a rear door which was found unbolted from the inside. This door had been checked on Sunday and at that time was bolted.

A Solemn Oath

Few people take the time or interest to sit in on Town Council meetings at any time. Fewer are probably present to see the men to whom they have entrusted the affairs of the town solemnly take oath of allegiance and openly make solemn promise to work for the welfare of the town to the best of their time and abilities. Such a solemn ceremony was performed at the Town Council on Monday evening when the re-elected councillor, Vernon Bent, and the newly elected councillors Russell Atkinson and John Woolaver, were installed into office.

To sit through the ceremony watching the councillors take their oaths with hand on the Holy Bible is an impressive occasion. It is a ceremony which should be witnessed by more people and one which can be brought to mind at civic nomination time. In the light of such a ceremony the nomination of candidates for town office cannot be taken lightly. They must be chosen because they have ability in one form or another and they must be chosen because they have time which they are personally willing to dedicate and devote to the cause.

In looking over the selected group around the council table on Monday night one could not help but be convinced that the present councillors were well chosen. Truly, the councillors are not all of the same line of ability, they are not all of the same temperament, but think how dull and ineffective a council could be if each councillor were the same. As you look over the council table there are men who are cautious, slow and deliberate in their decisions. There are those who are impulsive and the type who are quick to sense opportunities and come to a conclusion immediately. There is virtue in both these characteristics. As one looks over the table one views councillors which one would judge might be more capable, because of their line of persona, work, for one committee than for another. We agree as mentioned by Councillor Woolaver that committees should be chosen with this in mind. We also feel that experience is a great teacher and that this factor must also be taken into consideration. We have reason to believe that the town committees as chosen and appearing in this issue were made up by the mayor and councillors with this in mind.

Our every wish for a cooperative and successful year goes out to the councillors in 1960. It is our intention to keep our readers as well informed as possible on town affairs in 1960 and thereby endeavour to create a public interest in town business which transpires at the town meetings.

THIS IS AN AERIAL VIEW of the Canadian National Railways' $15,000,000 automatic freight classification yard now under construction on the western outskirts of Moncton. Taking shape on the sprawling 830-acre site, the yard, with the aid of electronics, television, radio, radar and pneumatics, will speed handling of freight to and from other parts of Canada and the United States, and in the Atlantic region itself. The faster service is expected to attract a larger volume of export and import freight through the year-round ports of Halifax and Saint John. Here, the hump left centre, takes shape. Nearby are the main yard offices and main retarder tower, both nearing completion. Completion of the yard is scheduled for late in 1960. (Modern Construction Photo)

JANUARY INSTITUTE MEETING
The January meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Monday afternoon, Jan. 4th, in the Legion Hall. After routine business the program of the afternoon was presented by Mrs. Walter Lent consisting of a most interesting paper based on the lives of our great composers, interspersed with musical selections from their works. The first by Handel, the great Hallelujah Chorus from the Messiah, followed by a Passion Choral from J. S. Bach. The song, Take My Life, by Mozart was sung and a short sonata by the same composer was played by Mrs. Lent.

A verse was sung from Haydn's Creation, and also a verse of Austria.

Beethoven's Evening Hymn, was one of his outstanding numbers and his sonatas and symphonies are renowned. — Sonata in E, was also played by Mrs. Lent. Schubert was another noted composer who lived in grinding poverty and died at 32. Mrs. Lent played one of his minuets. One of Mendelssohn's outstanding numbers was the Overture to A Midsummer Night's Dream, and an excerpt from this was given on a recording by Mrs. Clinton Miller. Chopin's waltzes are famous. Schuman's and Gounod's works are also familiar as well as Verdi's operas.

Ten was served to 16 members and a hearty vote of thanks given Mrs. Lent who is always most generous in sharing her talents.

Gales at Westport
The Sunday gales which raged from the south and southwest caused the tide to rise much higher than normal and waves reached across the streets during the afternoon and two hours after the high water. As the waves crossed the street they carried with them cans, logs, and on Monday the roads were cleared by employees of the Department of Highways. No great damage was reported.

Mrs. Elmer Porter.
This first Sunday of the new year saw the first use of the new curtains installed in the vestry. These curtains slide on rods and may be drawn to separate the different classes of the Junior Sunday School meeting in the vestry, and may be pushed back against the wall when not in use. They give a measure of privacy and opportunity for concentration to the individual class.

On Monday evening the nominating committee met at the parsonage to draw up a slate of officers for the new year.

On Tuesday evening the Ladies' Sewing Circle met with Mrs. J. L. Warren.

Thursday evening the Missionary Society will hold its annual business meeting.

Church Marks Christmas

Christmas Services held in the Centreville Baptist Church included the C.G.I.T. National Vesper Service presented on December 13.

The Christmas Worship Service on December 20, and a Cantata, "The Heart of Christmas", presented by the Sunday School on December 21.

The Vesper Service was presented by the C.G.I.T. and their leaders, Mrs. John Tibbetts and Mrs. Ellery Merritt. The Christmas Scripture, read by the girls, with LaVern Farnsworth taking the verses for light voices and Mrs. Ellery Merritt reading the solo voice parts, showed "That First Christmas".

To show how to "Make Christmas Live Today", the story Christmas Thoughts in Kottamore was presented by Shelia Morehouse, Marilyn Robicheau, Rosemary Smith, Marilee Westcott and Kathleen Walker, and a Scripture portion was read from the J. B. Phillips' translation. Candlelighters were Phyllis Gidney, Helena Shaw and Patsy Cameron. A solo, "O Holy Night", was sung by Marilyn Robicheau. The pastor, Rev. D. I. McClure, closed the service with some well-chosen remarks.

At the Christmas Worship Service the Story of Christmas was presented in song and Scripture by the pastor, Rev. D. I. McClure, who read portions from Isaiah, Micah, Matthew, and Luke, while the congregation joined in the singing of carols. Mrs. Ellery Merritt presided at the organ.

A Sunday School Christmas Program was presented on December 21. Members of the Beginners' and Primary Classes took part in recitations, an acrostic, and sang "Away in a Manger".

A Story Cantata, "The Heart of Christmas", which makes the point that the heart of Christmas is found in giving, was directed by Rev. D. I. McClure, who also acted as organist. Assisting in the production was Mrs. Roy Cameron, Mrs. Ellery Merritt, Mrs. Keith Raymond, and Mrs. Ronald Morehouse. Leading parts were taken by Marilee Westcott, Janice Raymond, Ronnie R. Morehouse, Helena Shaw, and Marilyn Robicheau, with other members of the Sunday School taking part. The climax of the story comes as Youth, portrayed by Marilyn Robicheau, asks "What Gift Shall I Bring?" and realizes she must give service, self, and treasure to the King. As the group on the platform knelt around a manger scene, the members of the Sunday School and congregation presented their offering in a white envelope. This offering is to help provide a "house for the Harveys", who are missionaries in Angola. At the close of the service each child was remembered with a treat provided by the Sunday School.

Week Of Prayer
Week of Prayer opened in the Digby Baptist Church on Tuesday evening with Capt. Joan Vaughan of the Salvation Army Corps, Digby, delivering the sermon. Capt. Vaughan took as her subject "Walking With God", using the text from Amos, "Can two walk together except they be agreed?" Capt. Vaughan said that walking suggests life (spiritual life), activity (in Christ), progress (forward in Christian life) and destination.

The service was conducted by Rev. H. S. Hartlin, with scripture read by Lieut. Lorraine Luxford, of the Salvation Army, Rev. James Brooks, of the United Church and Rev. L. R. Atkinson, Bay View, led in prayer.

Service on Wednesday evening was in Grace United Church with Rev. Mr. Hartlin as speaker. The services conclude this evening at the Salvation Army Citadel with Rev. Mr. Brooks delivering the sermon.

RE-ENTER DISCUSSIONS

letter was ordered sent to the Digby Branch of the Canadian Legion, who are also interested in the building.

By unanimous vote the council decided to seek authority for the borrowing by way of a rate-payers' meeting a sum not to exceed $15,000 to finance the town's share of the cost of a new six room school in Digby.

It was pointed out the school would be a joint construction venture with the municipality and was designed to meet needs for accommodation of pupils under agreement with the municipality which agreement has been extended for a further period of seven years, making the total time now outstanding ten years.

W. L. Troop appeared before the meeting urging action by the council to implement town by-laws regarding junk yards. He said he had waited for this action long enough and demanded to know why nothing had been done. He stated his building of a motel project was being held up by lack of action by the council to have unsightly junk removed from a property next to his.

It was unanimously voted that the police department inform the owner of the junk that it must be removed or action would be taken under the provisions of the by-laws.

Obituary
Mrs. Nelson Barnes

Mrs. Lalia Lois Barnes, widow of Nelson Barnes, passed away December 31st at her home on Rectory Street, Bridgetown, N. S. Although she had been in declining health for a number of years, she was suddenly stricken on Christmas Eve, and her death came as a distinct shock to the members of her family and many friends.

Born at Princetown, N.S., in 1882, she was the daughter of the late William Thomas and Annie (Feener) Hicks, and was a direct descendant of the first John Hicks who settled at Bridgetown when it was known as Hicks' Ferry.

An esteemed citizen, a very devoted and loving mother, and of a friendly disposition, she was well known in Bridgetown where she came as a bride sixty years ago. Her husband predeceased her in 1956.

She was a devoted member of the United Baptist Church for sixty years, a charter member of the Philathea Class of that church, a life member of the W.M.A.S., and a member of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. As long as health permitted, she was active in these organizations.

Surviving are six daughters, Mrs. Ida Sabine, Digby, Miss Gertrude and (Goldie) Mrs. Frank Buckler, of Bridgetown, (Hilda) Mrs. Talmage Marshall, Lexington, Mass., (Leta) Mrs. Roy Neaves, New Minas, (Kathleen) Mrs. Charles Wharton, Annapolis Royal; one son, Herman, of Kentville; one brother, John A. Hicks, of Danvers, Mass.; fifteen grandchildren and twelve great grandchildren.

The remains rested at her late home until Sunday afternoon, when funeral services took place from the Baptist Church conducted by her pastor, Rev. B. R. Hamilton.

Interment was in the family lot in Riverside Cemetery.

Digby Hi-Y Active

During the past month the Hi-Y of the Digby Regional High School has been carrying on an active program.

On December 16th the group, assisted by other high school talent, entertained the residents of the Municipal Home at Marshalltown.

The program included dances, vocal numbers, skits and carol singing. At the close of the program Christmas candy, cookies and tea, supplied by the Hi-Y, were served and after the lunch good wishes were exchanged.

On Thursday, December 17th, the Hi-Y sponsored a variety concert at the Regional High School auditorium for the public. The program included talent from students and staff of the Regional High School. Master of ceremonies was Wallace Hodgson.

The variety program was repeated early in the next week for the benefit of the high school pupils.

VOLUME LXXXV, No. 20

Department Head Eleven Years

At the annual meeting of the Digby Fire Department, held last week, A. Reginald Turnbull (shown above) relinquished his position as President of the department after the past eleven years.

Mr. Turnbull joined the Digby Fire Department in May of 1946 after returning from service with the armed forces overseas. In January, 1948, he was elected president of the department, which position he has held until this year.

During the years Mr. Turnbull has served as president of the fire department many changes and improvements have been made in the department. One of these was the moving of the department from the ground floor of the town hall to the present commodious building now occupied by the department.

The department has also been increased from twenty-five to fifty members and an extra company has been formed to handle recruits and train them for the regular department. A good deal of new equipment has also been purchased by the department during Mr. Turnbull's presidency and the department has taken part in a great many community endeavours. Some of these endeavours represented "firsts", such as the now annual ice carnival.

Mr. Turnbull's service to the department has not been only in the capacity of president but he has also served in all ranks from regular fireman to lieutenant, captain and driver. He has also served as acting chief.

Last year he was awarded a ten year president's badge for his untiring efforts on behalf of the department.

Succeeding Mr. Turnbull as president of the department is Guy VanTassell who has also had a good deal of experience both as a fireman and officer of the department.

Although he has retired as president of the department, Mr. Turnbull is not severing his connection with the Digby Fire Department. Instead he is taking on another arduous task, that of secretary. This office has been held for the past two years by Thomas Cleveland.

Fire Loss Lowest In Years

Fire loss in the town of Digby for the year 1959 was the lowest in years, it was reported by Fire Chief George Humphrey at the annual meeting of the Digby Fire Department here last week.

The Fire Chief stated there was a total of 54 calls for fire within the town during 1959. The department also answered seven calls for fires outside the town.

Total loss for fires within the town amounted to approximately $580.00, the chief reported. This loss resulted mainly from minor damages in a number of the cases.

The treasurer's report showed a net profit on activities of the department for the year of $1,725.68. It was also reported by the treasurer that some $1,800.00 worth of equipment had been purchased by the department during the year.

It was stated some criticism had been heard to the effect monies raised by the department were not being spent for the purchase of equipment. This was denied at the meeting and it was pointed out that equipment purchased from funds raised during the year by the department included such items as extinguishers, hose, refills for extinguishers, first aid equipment, Scott Air Packs, personal items such as boots, coats, helmets and the like. It was stated the purchase of these articles by the department had meant a lessening of demands for expenditure of public funds for fire fighting equipment.

Officers for the year were appointed at the meeting. These included Guy VanTassell, president; Thomas Cavan, vice-president; Reginald Turnbull, secretary; Victor Comeau, treasurer.

Other officers appointed included George Humphrey, chief; Arthur Handspiker, assistant chief; Buddy Barry, captain No. 1 company; Joseph Doucette, lieutenant No. 1 company; Thomas Cleveland, captain No. 2 company; James Wambach, lieutenant No. 2 company; Robert Handspiker, captain No. 3 company; Wellington Halliday, lieutenant No. 3 company.

The officers of the department were elected on adoption of the report of the nominating committee presented by chairman Earl Anderson.

The Ice Carnival committee for 1960 was elected at the meeting. Charles Hall was elected chairman and plans for the carnival were made. It was reported Mrs. Donald Cameron was willing to assist and had offered her services to train the youngsters for a program of figure skating.

Plans were made for an executive meeting of the department for January 14th. At this meeting new committees for the year will be made and other business will be transacted.

Meteghan Firm Gets Contract

A contract for $10,475 has been awarded by the Department of Public Works to Clare Industries Limited of Meteghan, N.S., for repairs to the retaining wall at Short Beach, Yarmouth County, N.S. The announcement was made by Mr. Felton F. Legere, M.P. for Shelburne-Yarmouth-Clare, on behalf of the Honourable David J. Walker, Minister of Public Works.

The remaining 110 feet of the old retaining wall is to be repaired with cross-hatched timber piling.

The retaining wall provides protection for boats in the mooring area and also protects the public road and foundations of buildings along the shore line.

Plans and specifications were prepared by the Department's District Engineer, Mr. J. A. Brown at Halifax, under whose supervision the work will be carried out.

Assessment Is Unchanged

The board of assessment revision and appeal of the municipality of Digby have made no change in the assessment of the Digby Pines Hotel golf links, it was learned here Wednesday.

Findings of the board in the matter of the some one hundred and twelve appeals which were heard by the board last week have now been distributed by registered mail to the appellants.

The Canadian Pacific Railway, owners of the Digby Pines Hotel golf links, had appealed the assessment of $43,150 placed on the property this year by the municipality.

Previous assessment on the property was $8,050 but this year the municipality adopted the so-called "full value" method of assessing properties. Total assessment in the municipality is said to have increased some four times that of previous years because of the new assessment method.

In presenting an appeal against the golf links assessment R. K. O'Hara of Montreal, tax commissioner for the CPR, pointed out land occupied by the golf links is now assessed at one hundred dollars an acre while the top assessment for farm lands is twenty-five dollars an acre.

Mr. O'Hara further stated it was the railway's opinion the buildings on the golf links were over assessed. He stated they should be regarded in the same manner as summer residential properties since the golf links was only operated on a short term basis each year.

He suggested that a figure of from $12,000 to $15,000 would be a fair assessment on buildings and some $3,000 on lands.

Mr. O'Hara said the golf links operation was losing some $4,000 annually and serious consideration was being given to reducing the present eighteen hole course to nine or closing down altogether if some means of reducing costs appreciably could not be found.

Investigate Third Break

Police are investigating a third break which occurred in Digby last week. This was at the home of Mrs. E. C. Sollows on Queen Street.

Although the break was not discovered until Tuesday afternoon when a neighbour noticed a door at the Sollows' home open, it is felt the break occurred Monday evening or at an early hour Tuesday morning.

So far as could be determined nothing was taken in the Sollows' break and no damage was done, other than the breaking of a window through which entry was made.

Still under investigation along with the break into the home of Mrs. E. C. Sollows are breaks into Trinity Anglican Church and the Digby Curling Club.

Entertain At Party

One of the highlights of the Christmas season was a cocktail party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bearne, Wednesday, Dec. 30th. Joint host and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Dakin and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Levy.

Thirty-six couples were entertained between the hours of 7:30 and 11:00 p.m.

The setting was made attractive with Christmas decorations and dim lighting.

Verbatim Report Presented

Below is a verbatim report of a portion of the January meeting of the Town Council. Similar reports will be presented on future meetings.

After swearing in the new councillors Mayor Cardoza distributed a list of committees which he said he had prepared as a proposed list for the year. Adoption of the list as the committees for the year was moved by Councillor Bent, seconded by Councillor Anthony. Councillor McKenna - "We have an opportunity to change this list by amendment. I would like to move an amendment that Mrs. Anthony be Deputy Mayor. I want to delete my name and replace it with the Mayor's on the school board."

Cardoza - You are proposing a number of changes? If so you could put them in one.

McKenna - I would like to change the proposed committees and put Woolaver as chairman of the streets committee in place of VanTassell and put Atkinson on the committee in my place. I would like to have Councillor Anthony replace Bent as Deputy Mayor and my name taken off the school committee and replaced with that of the Mayor.

Cardoza - Is there a second for the amendment?

Woolaver - I second it.

Cardoza - The full amendment?

Woolaver - Yes.

Anthony - I do not wish to be deputy mayor. I have only been on the council a year. I think Mr. Bent has the experience and I would like to refuse if that is in order.

Cardoza - As for myself I am not anxious to serve on the school board. I feel the duties of Mayor are sufficient and take enough of my time.

McKenna - Isn't it customary for the Mayor to be on the school board. You said last year the Mayor had to be on the school board.

Cardoza - I made no such statement.

McKenna - I recall it but I may have made an error.

The amendment was put and carried with McKenna, Anthony and Woolaver voting in favour; Bent and Atkinson against. Councillor Anthony then said - "I misunderstood what we were voting for. I thought I made it clear I would not act as deputy mayor. I will resign from the council first. I think strictly speaking we were satisfied with the committees as they were."

Cardoza - A vote has been taken but I imagine that something can be done if Councillor Anthony is adamant about the deputy mayor's position. After all the laws that govern our acts are perhaps not as unchangeable as those of the Medes and Persians.

After several discussions with the solicitor Councillor Anthony gave notice of reconsideration.

McKenna - I think Mrs. Anthony would make an excellent deputy mayor.

Anthony - I have only been on the council a year.

McKenna - They have a female in Kentville and she has done well.

Week Of Prayer Closes

Week of Prayer closed in the Salvation Army Citadel on Thursday evening when Rev. James Brooks was the speaker. Speaking on the general theme of the prayer services, Christianity Is Christ, he took as his topic Christianity is Christ reflected in daily life and used the text from Philipians "Live lives that are worthy of the gospel of Christ". It is life reflected by Jesus Christ which counts most in the world to day, he said, and Christianity is not so much a standard of life we must try to reach but a gift to accept. He continued that God's peace and calmness is not reached so much by trying as by trusting.

Rev. H. S. Hartlin was the speaker at Grace United on Tuesday evening, basing his discourse on the text "For me to live is Christ". He dealt with faith especially as a personal matter and also a person's responsibility and relation to social needs.

Capt. Joan Vaughan was the speaker at the Baptist Church on Tuesday evening. Others who assisted with the services were Rev. L. R. Atkinson, Bay View, and Lieut. Lorraine Lufford of the Digby Salvation Army Corps.

Western Valley Hockey News

Digby Ravens 24, Annapolis Royal 5

Home town Digby Ravens blasted at visiting Annapolis Royal Tigers Monday night, January 4th, in the opening game of the Western Valley Hockey League and scored a run-away 24-5 victory.

A. MacCallum and J. VanTassell each scored four goals for the victors while strong man S. Brown scored four of the five Annapolis goals.

Only two penalties were called with each team getting the nod once. A rather disappointing crowd was on hand but it is anticipated the fine show of power will pull the crowds for future games in Digby.

Cornwallis Cougars 14, Bridgetown Hawks 6

Bridgetown Hawks showed the makings of a good club although they went down to defeat at the hands of the Cornwallis Cougars by a score of 14-6. The game was played at Cornwallis due to the lack of natural ice at Bridgetown.

Hawks' goater Kaulback kicked out 37 shots and was Bridgetown's standout star of the game. Sharing honours for Bridgetown was winger Longley, who scored 3 of Hawks' 6 goals.

Cougars' left winger Hill stood out for the winners by banging in 5 goals, each one well earned. Cornwallis goater Durnford turned aside 22 of 28 shots during the night.

Two ten minute misconduct penalties were called against Cornwallis. Nine other minor penalties were handed out. It was a free-wheeling game most of the way with plenty of stiff body-checking.

With a few more games under their belts, Bridgetown Hawks could prove to be quite a surprise to the rest of the League.

Find Headless Body On Shore

Mystery still surrounds the identity of a body found Tuesday afternoon washed up on the Bay of Fundy shore at Parker's Cove in Annapolis County.

Badly decomposed, the body was headless and carried no identification. Residents of the area were more mystified as to its identity when investigation established definitely that the body was not that of either of two fishermen missing in the district and presumed drowned.

From the condition of the body opinion has been expressed it may have been in the water from two to three months. Clothing includes brown leather oxfords, dark trousers and a black belt. Although the shirt was almost completely gone the cuffs were of a striped material.

The body was found by Mrs. LeRoy Halliday shortly after noon Tuesday while she was taking a walk on the beach at the rear of her home.

Opinion has been expressed that, because of the force and size of the tides recently the body may have come from as far away as the New England coast. All RCMP detachments bordering the Bay of Fundy on both coasts have been notified in an effort to secure information as to the identity of the body.

It is understood an inquest will probably be held following identification of the body.

CHRYSLER FOR 1960 - SMOOTH, SOPHISTICATED

The 1960 Chrysler is an automobile of sophisticated design. It is an automobile with particular appeal to the discriminating in taste. Its pleasant flow of exterior design is enhanced by the expert blending of intricate design, texture and colour of its interior appointments. This year's Chrysler features a new unit body with an interior spaciousness that almost belies the car's low silhouette styling. This is exemplified in terms of greater leg room, new and higher seats, and a new and distinctive driver's seat that assures comfort and ease on long trips. Pictured is one of the most popular of the Chrysler models - the Windsor two-door hardtop.

ABOUT THIS AND THAT

Difference of Opinion

So far the sum of $470.00 has been turned in by collectors of T.B. Seals in Digby. This would seem no better or no worse than normal years although all returns have not yet been passed to the committee.

One main comment was made, it would appear, to each collector of the seals this year. The comment referred to the bringing of refugee T.B. patients into the province. Fortunately, most of the usual contributors gave more willingly than ever before because of this humane and generous gesture on the part of the federal government. Strangely enough, though, in this enlightened age, adverse comments were heard by collectors. In several cases the collectors understood that contributions were being withheld because of "the help given to outsiders when we have enough to do to look after ourselves."

Not too many years back T.B. was one of the most dreaded diseases in Nova Scotia. With free hospitalization, x-ray clinics, vaccination and other advantages made possible through government measures and the sale of T.B. Christmas Seals this scourge has now been greatly reduced and less dreaded in our country. Our very thankfulness for this should prompt us to want to relieve the suffering of others. More especially should we want to assist those unfortunate people crowded into refugee camps which deny every rule for the cure and prevention of T.B. Those who would deny these people assistance have probably given little thought to conditions as they really exist in other countries. They have probably never measured their plenty against the want which exists for many in other lands. It is quite possible they have never realized the smallness of the world today and are content in their thinking that what happens in the East has no effect on the Western world.

Apart from the fact that not a penny of the Christmas Seal sales will probably be used for the refugees we think that the reasoning of the people referred to is mostly wrong. We in Canada should be proud to lend a helping hand to the unfortunate refugees and especially to the helplessly ill. Refugee Year in Canada has meant more than bringing people from overseas. While this is good the kindness to the ill has meant a Christian act still more in keeping with Christian principles for which the Western world claims to stand.

Let Us Not Lag

It might be difficult at nearly zero weather to begin thinking about those warm days when we can expect that special population in Digby known as tourists. But let us not forget that preparing for tourists takes some time and ere long the winter will have passed and way into the summer Trade Boards, other organizations and private concerns, will be still working on projects to attract tourists for the 1960 season.

This is an especially encouraging season for Digby and area. Some short time ago it was announced that while the C.P.R. Hotel Lakeside Inn would be closed the Digby Pines would remain open for the 1960 season. It is hoped that the Pines golf course, which is also used considerably by local golfers, will see fit to remain open. The beach in Sandy Cove on the St. Mary's Bay side is to be restored again after sand having been taken for use on a government project. (And by the way, we have learned from good authority that the replacing sand will not be taken from the beach on the Bay of Fundy side). With these few handicaps out of the way it looks as though the Digby area has an equal chance to previous years to attract the tourists here. Possibly because of the closing of the Lakeside Inn there might be an even better chance. But let us not leave everything to chance. Attracting tourists and making it a profitable business needs some serious thought, planning and working without any lagging.

Now is the time to plan for the summer. The Sandy Cove beach will be restored but are there any other special scenic roads around here which we should urge to have improved? Take the Shore Road through to Bay View for example. How about considering Deep Sea fishing? Nothing could be more natural to the life of Digby than deep sea fishing. Now is the time to think and plan for the summer. We know there are many people with many ideas for attracting tourists to Digby. We'd like to hear about their ideas. Let's open them now while there is time to work on them for 1960.

There's nothing like a new car and no new compact car like the Corvair. This is the standard model.

If it weren't for that compact rear engine you see pictured below, there would be no such thing as a Corvair. Chevrolet, of course, could have scaled a conventional model down to compact-car size. But it wouldn't have been anything like this Corvair. And it wouldn't have shown anything like Corvair's astonishing stability and traction and nimble handling. A Corvair is different from other compact cars... and it takes a radically different power plant to make it that way.

Look at the engine again. You'll notice that the six cylinders lie horizontally, three opposed to three. That's called a "pancake" design. It takes up less space, it leaves more room for passenger comfort.

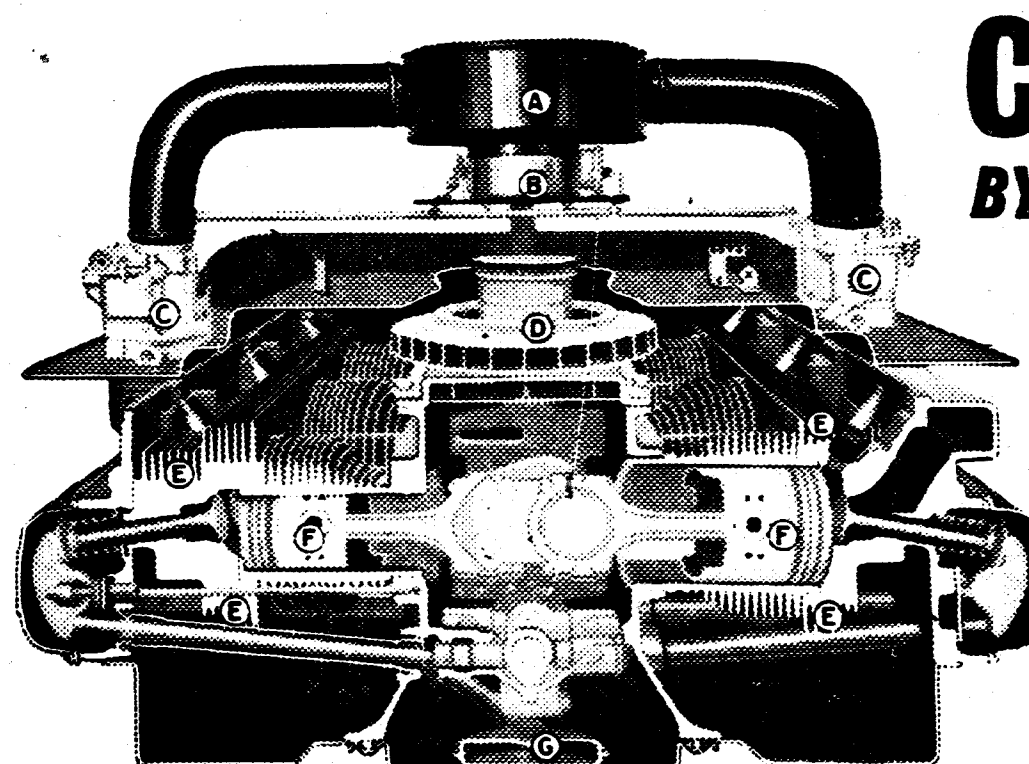

It's an unusually light engine, made almost entirely of aluminum. As a result, Corvair weight distribution is excellent; just about 50/50 front and rear under the hardest braking. You stop quickly and you stop in a straight line.

It's an air-cooled engine. You never have to worry about the block cracking or the engine boiling over or hose connections wearing out. The savings start here and go on. It is more economical to operate. You pay less for tires; less for license plates in most provinces.

Most important, the Corvair engine is in the rear, ingeniously combined with the transmission and differential. Engine heat and noise are behind the passengers. The floor is practically flat.

With engine weight in the rear, and with all four wheels independently suspended a Corvair will scamp over grades, and will walk out of snow or mud far easier than any front-engined compact model. Its steering is so light-handed and precise there's no need for power steering; no one in the world would even want it. Just thread a Corvair through traffic and park it. You'll see. Test one at your Chevrolet dealer's right away.

Unjust Says Minister

Hon. R. A. Donahoe

Hon. R. A. Donahoe, Minister of Public Health, today commented on the implication contained in recent addresses by Dr. A. A. Griffin of Kentville that the Hospital Insurance Commission is inclined to regard the hospital patient not as a person but as a statistic. Mr. Donahoe said that this is quite unjust and unwarranted attack on the members of this Commission who are doing an outstanding job in carrying out the wishes of the people of this province to have a hospital insurance scheme as fine as any in Canada.

The Nova Scotia hospital insurance plan, said Mr. Donahoe, has been praised by independent experts for the democratic way in which its administrators have consulted members of hospital boards, the medical profession and the general public, to ensure that the people of this province got a plan that would give them the best value for their money.

From his own close association with the Hospital Insurance Commission, Mr. Donahoe said that he has every confidence in its members' dedicated approach to their responsible task and their continuous concern that the end result of all their efforts would be the best possible hospital care for each Nova Scotian, regardless of his ability to pay.

Essential to this end, the Commission believes, there should be no interference with the relationship between a patient and his doctor.

The autonomy of the hospital, Mr. Donahoe pointed out, is also being preserved by the Commission in every way possible. However, it is the obligation of the Hospital Insurance Commission to ensure that the many millions of dollars in public funds being expended through hospitals in Nova Scotia are resulting in effective and high quality hospital care for the Nova Scotia taxpayer.

In furtherance of this aim, all decisions by the Commission having to do with hospital services with a medical implication are referred by the Commission to its expert medical advisers, among whom are nominees by the Medical Society of Nova Scotia in the six major medical specialties: Internal Medicine, Surgery, Obstetrics, Paediatrics, and general practice.

A RECORD IN MAIL CARRYING

For more than a century the mail has been carried from Bear River Village to the main highway by members of the Harris family. Never in all these years has a trip been missed nor has an item of mail gone astray.

Fifty years ago the mail contract was given to Mr. M. C. Harris. When he gave it up, it went to Mr. Murray Harris, who took it over. In 1923 Mr. Harry Harris, Murray's younger brother, was given the contract and kept on with it for the next 37 years. On his death, the contract was passed on to his son, Mr. Florence Harris, who has held it for the last 11 years to the complete satisfaction of the public. We much owe to the precision and somewhat lower cost of the mail driving has been to other hands.

Mrs. Harris has been extremely sincere thanks from her neighbors for her efficiency.

Mr. and Mrs. Lovett Harris entertained at a dinner party on New Year's day. Covers were laid for eleven guests. They were Mr. and Mrs. Allison Harris and daughter, Hope, Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Harris of Amherstburg, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Jones, Digby, and Mrs. Allen Smith of Fredericton.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Harris left for their home in Amherstburg, Ont., going via Blue-nose, Yarmouth, after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Harris.

The Ladies' Aid of the United Church met at the manse with Mrs. D. S. MacLeod as hostess.

"THE SLEEPING GIANT"

Going into the 1960's, we are aware that mighty things can happen. A man in his 80's told me yesterday that he counts this the most interesting time to be alive.

Science has taken the headlines. Everyday new victories in outer and inner space are proudly announced. Achievements in medicine and mechanization clearly show that science is on the move.

Politics is in motion. It, too, is in the headlines. All nations will be watching the U. S. presidential election this year, also the summit talks and their outcome. Undemocratic forces are set for the fulfillment of their dreams as well. Who knows where governments will lead the world in the new decade?

The real giant is the Church of Jesus Christ. It is tragically asleep. It is not in the headlines, and is being ignored by science and governments. The world knows that if the people of God ever get revived and aroused that there will be no stopping this greatest power of all. Not until its people put first things first, will the church really move.

A bright new decade for brave Christian leadership and action unfolds, but a hesitant and half sure witness will convince no one that truth is truth. The Church must abandon its goal of comfortable immobility and get moving, otherwise the masses are without a shepherd. The only worthwhile motivating force we have is the Gospel of Jesus Christ which is the power of God unto Salvation. A sleeping Christendom must rise, believe, and take its stand for the right and against the wrong. If the world is to have respect for the church, then the church must provide leadership and announce a new day of authority of the Mind and Word of God over all man's schemes and inventions. Here is the only hope for a world about to be buried by delusion and distrust.

The church must make these the Crusading Sixties.

Extend Insured Services

Hon. R. A. Donahoe, Minister of Public Health for Nova Scotia Hospital Insurance Commission has extended insured out-patient services to include all medically necessary diagnostic x-ray examinations, effective January 1, 1960.

Between five and 10 percent of such examinations were not covered previously under the province's hospital insurance plan. After the first of the year these will be paid for, as will the necessary interpretation of the examinations.

Mr. Donahoe said Nova Scotia is the third province to include all medically necessary radiological examinations for out-patients. The other provinces are Prince Edward Island, and Newfoundland.

He pointed out that the latest extension of services available to residents of Nova Scotia refers only to diagnostic radiological examinations. It does not apply to x-ray therapy.

The use of x-ray therapy for malignant cases has been covered under the plan since its inception January 1, 1959. Radiological therapy for non-malignancies is not included in insured out-patient services.

"The province's hospital insurance plan has been in operation for nearly a year," said Mr. Donahoe. "When the plan was first announced, it was indicated that the scope of insured services would be broadened as circumstances permitted."

He said the commission in September extended insured out-patient services by the inclusion of a substantial number of additional laboratory and x-ray examinations.

"The commission now feels that it is possible to provide across-the-board diagnostic radiological examinations that are medically necessary."

"This is an example of the commission's desire to expand, whenever possible, insured services under the plan."

The Digby Courier.
On the back page (p. 8) of your January 7 issue you have a filler about "motorists" on the Mackenzie River being thrilled with the sight of Alexandra Falls on the Hay River. There are no roads up there, so there cannot be motorists. If you mean motor-boaters, how can they at the 483 ft. level see through hills nearly 1000 ft. high to catch a thrilling glimpse of falls over 50 miles away tucked away behind Eagle Mountain? Is there a clear view up a valley between Providence and the Alexandra Falls?
Calling Mr. John Russell.
P. H. Gray.

Ideson, who is ill at her home. Mrs. B. Powell gave the devotional. Needs of a Perishing World and Mrs. Charles Cann read the lesson, Angola.

A short business period followed at which time the secretary read the minutes of the last meeting, also cards and letters from absent members. Some contained gifts to start our work for the New Year. VERBATIM REPORT

Anthony - But I do not want to act. I would rather not act. McKenna - We would like to give you a chance to think about it and if at the next meeting you still don't want to act.

Anthony - I can't understand what is going to happen. Woolaver - It doesn't mean anything.

Cardoza - It does mean something. This list has been very carefully balanced. I worked some time on it. I might say it has been the custom in the town of Digby for many years for the Mayor to present a proposed list of committees at the first meeting of the year.

Cardoza - In drawing up the list my efforts were to try to divide in proportion the work of the council as fairly and evenly as possible giving each member of the council a share of the work and taking into account experience in office, their ability in various matters and to allot the work so that each member of council would appear on as many committees as possible. The list will find each name on the list at least five times, some of the members six or seven. There are so many committees and each member should serve on as many as possible so that everyone is familiar with the work of the committees. I feel Mr. McKenna is leaving himself out of committees. With his amendment and I would like to see him in committee.

McKenna - The list says the council shall make up the committees. It can't say the Mayor shall do it. The committees were made up by the Mayor the same as last year.

Cardoza - The list does not say the council shall make up the committees. It says they shall appoint them. Mr. Theriault raised last year's committee of the proposed list constituted appointment. I agree the council is quite capable of making up the list. One councillor proposed a list of his own last year.

Woolaver - You say it is customary for the Mayor, to draw up this list and I think that this is not a very fair way for the Mayor to place a council on a committee.

Cardoza - We have a starting point somewhere. The list I prepared is a proposed list.

McKenna - I will not act on the school board. I move a notice of reconsideration on the next meeting, or would it be proper for me to make a motion that the committees be appointed at the next meeting.

Cardoza - they have to be appointed.

McKenna - Mr. VanTassel has stated that he has no time. He told me that last year. He did not know he could have this changed. I will not act on school board.

Cardoza - The custom has been, and I trust Mr. Woolaver will understand, to have a councillor who has had some experience to head up the largest spending committee. Since VanTassel is on the streets all the time with his oil delivery business he would make a good chairman, that is the way I would feel. Mr. McKenna says it is not possible for him to serve on the school board. I want it understood and I think it is the desire of all members of the council to work together as harmoniously as possible. If this list is adopted as it stands now I hope it will not be an object of discussion in later council meetings.

McKenna - I cannot see the advantage of being on a committee that I cannot take part in. I thought Mrs. Anthony would make an excellent deputy mayor. She would be better. She has her own business and the time and is not employed by someone else.

Cardoza - I hope the mayor will not drop dead and that the duties of the deputy will not become any more time consuming than they have been.

Woolaver - It looks like Vic has put me on the tail end of everything. I am the last named on four out of seven and if anybody thinks I can cope with a list of his own last year, I don't think I'll be consulted very many times.

Cardoza - There's no significance in the order of names on the committees. The committees act as committees and the fact your name is last has no significance. If there is an emergency and the chairman is absent the second named does not become chairman. He is second on the list merely because the names are that way. If the chairman is unable to convene a meeting then the second or the other member could do it.

Woolaver - I am a new councillor and I want to get this straight - it looks as if Ben gave me a wrong steer.

Cardoza - I'm sorry John, the council operates through committees in order to provide for an orderly operation, it must be that way. If it were any other way no one would know what the other had done and the result would be complete chaos.

Considerable discussion followed and the matter was finally resolved by the passing of a motion that the proposed list of committees amended by the substitution of the Mayor in place of Councillor McKenna on the school board be adopted. This passed by a vote of 11 with McKenna voting against.

Mayor Endorses Minor Hockey

Mayor Victor Cardozo today called upon all citizens to support Minor Hockey Week in Canada which commences Saturday, January 23rd.

In endorsing the observance of Minor Hockey Week, His Worship said: "Observance of Minor Hockey Week in Canada is the best way I could think of to direct attention of the public to the benefits of Minor Hockey to our youth and our Town."

"We are proud of the fact that Minor Hockey here in Digby has the support of many public-spirited citizens, and service clubs, whose love of hockey and of boys prompt them to contribute much effort and time to the operation of the local minor leagues. Special mention must also be made of the excellent work being done by Anne MacCallum and Wallace Hodgson. These outstanding citizens are making a valuable contribution to the community in which we live, as does our great game of hockey and recreation right across Canada."

"Hockey is Canada's National Game and participation by the youth of our town is encouraged at all levels. We are proud of our game, of its ability to develop character, citizenship, and respect for authority as well as its physical and body-building benefits."

"For these reasons I am happy to endorse Minor Hockey Week in Canada, and call upon all citizens to join in the observance of this week by supporting Minor Hockey and by attending games with their sons. I am sure that the field hockey and ice hockey teams will do well. Take your boys to the Arena!"

Mystery Still Unsolved

A communal service was held at Wadsworth cemetery, at 11 o'clock, on Thursday, January 21st, for the unidentified body which had been resting in the church's funeral home since Tuesday, was interred.

At the time of burial mystery still surrounded the body which was washed up on the shore at Parker's Cove, Tuesday, a round noon. Every effort was made to secure information as to the identity of the drowned man, but to no avail.

Rev. Carol R. Armstrong, pastor of the Annapolis-Granville Ferry United Baptist, was the officiating clergyman at the communal service and pall bearers were Chester A. Naus, Fred L. Fields, Reed Saunders and Basil Saunders. The service was in charge of Blair D. Hatfield, of Chisholm's Funeral Service, Granville Ferry.

Salary Increase Is Urged

"Substantial increases" in the salary of the supervisors of the Digby Municipal Home were recommended in a brief presented at the opening session of the annual meeting of the Digby Municipal Council here Tuesday by the visiting committee to the home.

The brief was presented by committee chairman Rev. Don McCall of Centerville. Other committee members present were Captain John Vaughan, Salvation Army, Digby and Rev. Father R. Doyen, Plymouth.

In their brief the committee noted that the two supervisors of the home, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, were spending full time at the job. In addition to this it was noted Mrs. Thomas also serves as dietitian and nurse at the home. No provision is made for a car for the home and as a result the supervisor must use his own at his own expense when travelling to and from Digby on business for the home.

The brief further noted the salary of the supervisors of the Digby Municipal Home was one of the lowest in the province and, as the provincial and federal governments bear a large share of such additional expenditure they recommend serious consideration to a substantial raise in the salary of the supervisors.

Other recommendations included modernization of kitchen facilities, the provision of deep freezer storage and replacement of washing machines.

Honour Two On Retirement

Two veteran employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway Bay of Fundy service at Digby wharf were honoured by their fellows at a testimonial dinner to mark their retirement here last week.

The dinner was sponsored by Basin Lodge #781 of the Brotherhood of Freight Handlers and Steamship Clerks and was held at the Canadian Legion rooms with the ladies' auxiliary of the Legion catering.

The two employees honoured were Alphonse C. Melanson, assistant foreman, who retired recently after forty years service, and Aubrey Everett, who retired after nineteen years with the railway.

Mr. Melanson joined the company in 1919 as second cook aboard the 'CPS Empress' and transferred to the shed staff at Digby in 1920. When the staff first organized the brotherhood in 1937 he was a charter member and became first president of Basin Lodge. In 1939 he was promoted to checker and in 1940 to elevator operator. In 1942 he was appointed assistant foreman, which position he held until his retirement.

Mr. Everett, who is an overseas veteran of the famed 85th battalion in the first world war, joined the Veterans' Guard in 1939. He has been with the railway for the past nineteen years.

Chairman of the testimonial dinner session was Carl L. Melanson, president of Basin Lodge and a son of its first president. During the evening good wishes were extended to the two honor guests by Guy VanTassel, chairman of Basin Lodge, J. D. Dakin, acting agent, brought greetings from the CPR Bay of Fundy service.

Among others to wish the two honor guests happiness, health and a long retirement were A. L. Hixman, lodge chairman, C. H. Hersey, treasurer, P. E. Kane, secretary, and C. S. Winchester, shed foreman.

P. C. Ervin, CPR agent, read the report of Mr. J. G. Dow, assistant superintendent, who was unable to attend the dinner because of a business appointment. He said Mr. Dow joined in the good wishes being expressed to the two retiring employees.

Mr. Ervin also traced the history of Mr. Melanson and Mr. Everett and made presentations to them on behalf of the railway and the lodge.

Fifty-three were in attendance at the gathering and the remainder of the evening was spent in a singing and social gathering.

Trinity Parish Holds Annual

Dr. G. V. Turnbull was re-elected as a Warden of Trinity Parish at the annual meeting held here, John R. Nichols was elected as second warden. He succeeds Cecil E. Jones, who retired from office this year.

Reports of various church organizations and committees indicated the church had enjoyed a successful year in all departments. The Ladies' Guild report showed the job of financing the repainting of the church well in hand. It is understood plans are underway to complete the project this year.

The Rector, Rev. James Pike, expressed his appreciation of the work done by the vestry and the church organizations during the year. He pointed out the need for continued effort on the part of all groups to keep the church active and progressing.

The meeting was preceded by a supper sponsored by the Ladies' Guild.

Hold Benefit Pledge

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Digby General Hospital sponsored a bridge and canasta party at the Nurse's Residence on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of last week. Approximately $48.00 was raised. In charge of the project were Miss Gertrude Budrow, Mrs. D. G. Black, Mrs. E. H. Anderson, Mrs. James Ayer and Mrs. Kenneth Beckwith.

Prizes on Wednesday evening went to Mrs. Russell Stonehouse, bridge high, and Mrs. E. D. Lewis, bridge low. On Thursday evening the high prize went to Miss Eileen Swallow and low to Mrs. J. M. Wallis. Canasta high was won by Mrs. Beckwith and low by Mrs. Avery Crowell.

Forum Project Successful

A month or so ago A. L. Robinson volunteered to head up a drive to raise three hundred dollars to help the Digby Forum meet its obligations.

This week a financial report on the endeavour was released. According to this, with all accounts completely paid, the effort raised a net of four hundred and sixty-eight dollars for the Forum. This is $168 above the objective.

In order to raise the money a tag day, a raffle and a series of teas was organized by the group headed by Mr. Robinson who says the cooperation he received was excellent. The services of all who helped in any way are deeply appreciated. Mr. Robinson says, but special mention should be made of Mrs. Webster Dunn and Mr. W. A. 'Pop' Hanson who made special contributions to the effort.

Winners of the raffle were John R. Nichols, 1st; W. V. Troupe, 2nd; Murray Lawson, Bridgewater, 3rd; Jill Paudin, Cornwallis, 4th; and Stanley Thibault, Digby, 5th.

School Costs Are Down

Total operating cost of public schools of the town of Digby for the year 1959 was $63,395.08, it was reported in the financial statement presented at the January meeting of the Digby Board of School Commissioners. The meeting was presided over by chairman Mrs. Helen J. Anthony, a representative of the Digby Town Council on the board.

According to the financial statement the operating cost of the schools was $4,439.92 less than the estimates and $3,037.38 less than the previous year. Excess of revenue over expenditure for the year 1959 was $5,012.87. Of this amount $2,041.89 was applied to the deficit of previous years and the balance of $2,970.98 was carried to surplus account.

It was reported by Supervisor F. C. Purdy that first term examination results were satisfactory with approximately 80% of the pupils maintaining a passing average. Mr. Purdy stated a third paper would be added to the entrance exams at the grade six level. This paper will cover the science and social studies program, he stated.

The school board meeting decided to seek the services of a music teacher for the primary and elementary schools for the term beginning in September.

Reports Red Cross Donations

The generous gift of three hundred dollars from H.M.C.S. 'Cornwallis' for Christmas welfare in Digby was reported at the January meeting of the Digby Red Cross Branch, held at the Court House last week. Dr. T. W. Hodgson, president of the Branch, reported that the check had been presented by Captain Frewer to Mrs. H. M. Warne, representing the Joint Welfare Committee for Digby, who had divided it among the three organizations engaged in Christmas relief, the Salvation Army and Canadian Legion, together with Red Cross, each receiving $100 for its individual part of the program. Gratitude was expressed for this assistance from the Naval Base, which had also contributed an equal amount for Christmas cheer in Annapolis Royal, besides carrying on an extensive local relief program of their own in an area near the Base.

Mrs. Winfield, chairman of the Disaster Relief Committee, presented a detailed account of the assistance given at Christmas time, 16 families having been helped, including 82 children who received new toys and new and used clothing and some bedding. Thirteen families received Christmas dinners, one being provided by the Red Cross and 12 by the Salvation Army. Special thanks were extended to the Eastern Star for donating gifts for the Christmas parcels, to the Conway Ladies Club for knitted articles, to the Red Cross members and friends who dressed dolls, and to Miss Mary Cossaboom for a $25 donation. Others thanked for their assistance included Dr. T. W. Hodgson for supplying toys, Daniel Cormier for collecting clothing, Philip Woodruff for delivering Christmas parcels, and the Salvation Army for their cooperation in the joint program in which they provided the gifts for the boys. Mrs. Winfield's report concluded with a tribute to the support received from her committee members, Mrs. Daniel Cormier.

It was announced that the Annual Meeting of the Nova Scotia Divisional Council of the Red Cross would be held in Halifax on February 23rd and 24th, with two delegates to be appointed from the Digby Branch. Mrs. Leann Hayden and Mrs. Allen Harris were named to represent the Branch. A letter was read from Commissioner Hilsley congratulating Dr. Hodgson and the other officers and committees on the fine work done by the Branch, and the excellent reports received from our meetings. An other letter, advised that an artificial limb had been received by a Digby County man, the Red Cross having provided half the cost of $162.50.

At the conclusion of the business session, the usual Ten Cent Tea was served by the Ways and Means Committee to the twenty-two members present.

Entertains At Bridge

Mrs. H. C. Morton and Mrs. C. V. Snow entertained friends at bridge recently at the Hotel Champlain when eleven tables were in play.

Keith Raymond Heads Board

Keith Raymond, of Centerville, Digby County, was elected chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Digby Regional High School at the opening meeting of the board for the year 1960. Mr. Raymond succeeds Dr. J. R. McCleave who is no longer a member of the board.

Elected as Vice Chairman of the board was Dr. L. F. Doherty of Digby.

According to the financial report presented at the meeting operating costs of the Digby Regional High School for the year 1959 were $136,822 less than estimated. Total cost of operation was $114,983.18. Division of costs on percentage basis showed the town of Digby's share was $27,941.36; the municipality of Digby, $85,011.66 and the municipality of Annapolis, $2,027.16. Total cost per pupil was $184.33. Digby town's percentage sharing of costs, based on attendance, is 24.30%; Digby municipality, 73.93%; and Annapolis 1.76%. Supervisor F. C. Purdy in his report stated class reorganizations had been effected at the first of the year, based on pre-Christmas examination results. Results of these exams, he said, had been disappointing but they compared with last year. The Christmas examination results in 1958 were most disappointing. Mr. Purdy said, but despite this the provincial pass list in Grade XI was the largest in the history of the school. This resulted in an abnormally large grade

Miss Shaw Visits V.O.N.

Miss Ethel Shaw, District Supervisor, V. O. N., officially visited the Digby local association of the V. O. N. on Thursday. In addressing the Board members Miss Shaw remarked that while giving care principally to chronic patients at present the trend is now back again to mothers and babies as the time when V. O. N. was organized in 1897.

The meeting was presided over by the president, John Nichols, barrister, who introduced Miss Shaw. Mr. Nichols also reported on a V. O. N. function he attended in Ottawa when the retiring superintendent of V.O.N. for Canada, Miss Christine Livingston, was presented with an illuminated scroll, a purse of money and other gifts.

Miss Joyce Dickey, nurse-in-charge, giving her report for December, stated that 107 home visits were made, fifty-two of which were for nursing care. Fifty-five visits were for health instruction. Thirteen new patients were admitted, 13 infants seen at the Child Health conferences.

It was decided to hold the annual meeting of the Digby Association in February, time and place to be announced later. Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Miss Dora Warne and Mr. Stanley MacDonell were appointed to bring in a slate of officers for consideration for the coming year.

The fund raising committee for January and February consisting of Mrs. Melvin Thuermer, Miss Dora Warne, Earle Van Passell, Capt. John Vaughan and Mrs. J. M. Wallis are now conducting a Valentine Tea Day for the benefit of the V. O. N. at the hotel.

To Erect Welcome Sign

The Nova Scotia branch of the CRA with its 102 members and 40 associate members is the only organized voice of the restaurant industry in the province. Mr. Troupe said he said the association recognizes its responsibility to the public and is constantly endeavouring to raise and maintain standards within the industry.

He questioned the publicity given to the fact sub-standard eating places exist in the province. This is the case everywhere, he said, and not just in Nova Scotia. Through the CRA's annual restaurant month campaign our organization is trying to promote knowledge of the fact that across the province there are also fine eating places, noted for their cuisine and comparable with those in other areas entering to the travelling public.

Mr. Troupe said he was aware much could be done to improve the restaurant industry as a whole in Nova Scotia. It is my feeling, he said, that the government could assist greatly in this through the establishment of vocational courses in restaurant cooking, handling of foods and service.

I am sure he would welcome such a move and would co-operate in its development. Restaurants play an important part in the development of a successful tourist industry and we in Nova Scotia should be working toward the further development of the industry which is such a big part of our economic life.

Mr. Troupe said he is convinced that what is needed is government sponsored or encouraged action programs with the tourist industry itself to strengthen and build it up. It is not enough he said, to point out what is wrong with the industry or the shortcomings of those who are engaged in it. We must have coupled with this an action program designed to remedy the wrongs and correct the shortcomings.

Warden Addresses Opening Session

A decline in the economy of the local area was noted by Digby Municipal Warden Ronald Morehouse in his address at the opening session of the annual meeting of the Digby Municipal Council here, Tuesday, afternoon.

In his address Warden Morehouse said: "It would appear there has been a marked drop off in employment in this area and I am afraid I expect to read here of great unemployment in the near future."

He stated that for the first time in 1959 direct relief payments in the municipality were nearly two and one-half times the amount paid out in the same period the previous year.

In 1958 Warden Morehouse said, some ten thousand dollars was paid out for direct relief in Digby municipality, while in the same period in 1959 the amount was approximately twenty four thousand dollars.

"The Warden stated it was disturbing to note that in the year just past tax arrears in Digby municipality had shown an increase. He said this was not surprising when one considers our direct relief payments have taken such a leap over the past year, but stated it was a matter which should give some concern. He urged council attention to the matter, so that some action could be taken at the May council session."

Speaking of assessment, the Warden stated that despite the fact the amount of assessment has increased, the property tax for the year 1960, the third year of the full value program, is one of the lowest in the province. He said that the assessment was based on a value of $100,000, which is a very low value for a property of that size. He said that the assessment was based on a value of $100,000, which is a very low value for a property of that size. He said that the assessment was based on a value of $100,000, which is a very low value for a property of that size.

He stated the council should consider the possibility of building a modern addition to the Digby Regional High School. Completion of this school, he said, should mean the finalizing of school expansion in the municipality, with the exception of the Westport area for some time.

Warden Morehouse said that not too much progress had been made during the year toward the expansion of hospital facilities. "While we may have not actually progressed very far toward the building of the hospital, he said, the discussions which have been held have gone a very long way toward improving relations and developing better understanding of the problem involved." He stated he hoped the year ahead would see the successful completion of the work.

Speaking of primary industries Warden Morehouse said, "Farming remains static and so far nothing has yet developed concerning the matter of the utilization of the marshlands at the head of St. Mary's Bay which have been under discussion for some time by local farm organizations."

So far as fishing is concerned, he stated, prices have not been too bad but heavy storms have affected the catch and generally speaking returns have not been too good. Conflicting reports as to market conditions for lumber and lumber products exist, he said, but "it would seem there is far from a boom in the lumber industry locally."

In the matter of hydro development Warden Morehouse stated satisfactory progress was being made at the huge hydroelectric development being made near Weymouth by the Nova Scotia Power Commission.

ABOUT THIS AND THAT

Town Council Report

It has been some time since The Digby Courier began something new which has gone over with such favorable comment as the verbatim report last week of the town council meeting.

This has been no new thought with the editor of the local paper. It is something which has been considered for the past couple of years because of requests from citizens interested in town affairs, because of the interest it might create in town affairs and because other weekly papers have done the same and found it of interest to readers. One reason for delaying the verbatim report was that neither the editor nor any of the news staff of The Digby Courier were qualified to take shorthand (except by their own and individual methods) and it meant finding someone willing to sit through the council session for that purpose and to engage their services. Another reason for delay was that space is limited in a small weekly and in the case of the Courier more than 75% of its readers are outside of the town limits. It was thought that to these readers the town affairs might be of little interest and using space which could be devoted to more general topics. Our misgivings we find had been unfounded for the interest shown by our town readers alone warrants the space and expense to continue the reports.

While on the subject of providing service for the benefit of the town in giving the verbatim reports of council meetings we want to mention the fact that both His Worship, Mayor V. G. Cardozo, and the Deputy Mayor, Vernon Bent, are on the staff of this newspaper. The Courier is not claiming to be devoting extra time because of this situation to town affairs but it is rather a unique and proud situation to enjoy. The Courier is proud to have members of its staff who are willing to give of their personal time to town affairs. In the case of the Mayor, with his particular job of getting the news, oftentimes, his services as Mayor and his particular work for The Digby Courier coincide.

At any rate we at the Courier are happy to know the verbatim reports might be well received and are anxious to further serve the town and our readers both in this capacity.

Do It Now

During the present month and through February, seasonal unemployment is usually at its peak. Our readers have heard time and time again why the government and other agencies urge the Do It Now campaign to relieve the seasonal situation. Our aim here is simply to draw the matter to the attention of our readers and suggest a few things which might be done now instead of waiting until spring. These in some respects can apply to business firms, clubs, schools and churches.

This is an opportune time to check for repairs in any category. Painting, redecorating, cleaning and other usual spring and summer jobs might be managed now. By so doing delays will be avoided later and unemployment will be relieved at present.

Winter Skidding

For any driver, danger can lurk in the shadows of winter. The sun may melt most of the ice on the highway, but wherever a shaded place, a slick spot may still survive. Be prepared for the skidding hazard in every perilous patchwork of shadows.

It takes extra caution and skillful technique to drive in winter traffic. For instance, on a slippery road, it's dangerously wrong to jam on your brakes. To avoid skidding, it's much better to pump the brake pedal up and down. Power brakes respond to a light touch. Regular brakes need a firm and snappy series of pumps. This braking technique will help you avoid skidding trouble.

How do you drive around a curve in wintertime? Speed up? Slow down? Coast through? The Nova Scotia Highway Safety Council reminds you that any of these techniques can cause a skid on a slippery road. The Council recommends: Slow down before you enter the curve and then go around at a steady safe speed.

Polio Not Licked

"Polio is not licked," said Jack Fry, Executive Director of the March of Dimes, today in commenting on the recent statistics published by the Department of National Health and Welfare for the year 1959 showing a total of 1712 reported cases of paralytic polio in Canada during the year. The reports indicate that this is the second biggest epidemic of paralytic polio that has been recorded in Canada.

Commenting on this report, Mr. Fry said, "We have broken these figures down and they indicate that 11 Canadians out of every 100,000 contracted paralytic polio during 1959. The two worst provinces, Newfoundland and Quebec, had 33 and 37 people per 100,000 contracting this disease. Nova Scotia, by contrast had only 1 case per 100,000. With polio rampant in the eastern provinces there has to be a reason why the incidence was so low in Nova Scotia. Discussing this with public health authorities we draw the conclusion that Nova Scotians were better protected than residents of other provinces. The level of apparent protection can be accounted for in three ways. In the early '50's, Nova Scotia had serious polio epidemics. These epidemics left behind them a number of polio immune people. The Department of Public Health of the Province of Nova Scotia have done an outstanding job with their clinics, particularly among the school and pre-school children. Then we, in the March of Dimes have for two years operated free clinics throughout the province. Our clinics distributed over 200,000 shots of vaccine. These factors together can account for the level of protection apparently enjoyed by so many of our citizens."

"However," said Mr. Fry, "1959 may have been a forerunner to an even more serious epidemic. Statistics show that a serious epidemic in 1952 was followed by the most serious epidemic Canada has ever known in 1953 and this was followed by another severe epidemic in 1954. If polio is a cyclical disease as we have been led to believe it is, 1959 could be the beginning of a cycle. There is no shortage of vaccine. Any man, woman or child in this province who has not had the recommended three shots of vaccine should begin a series immediately. There can be no complacency against polio."

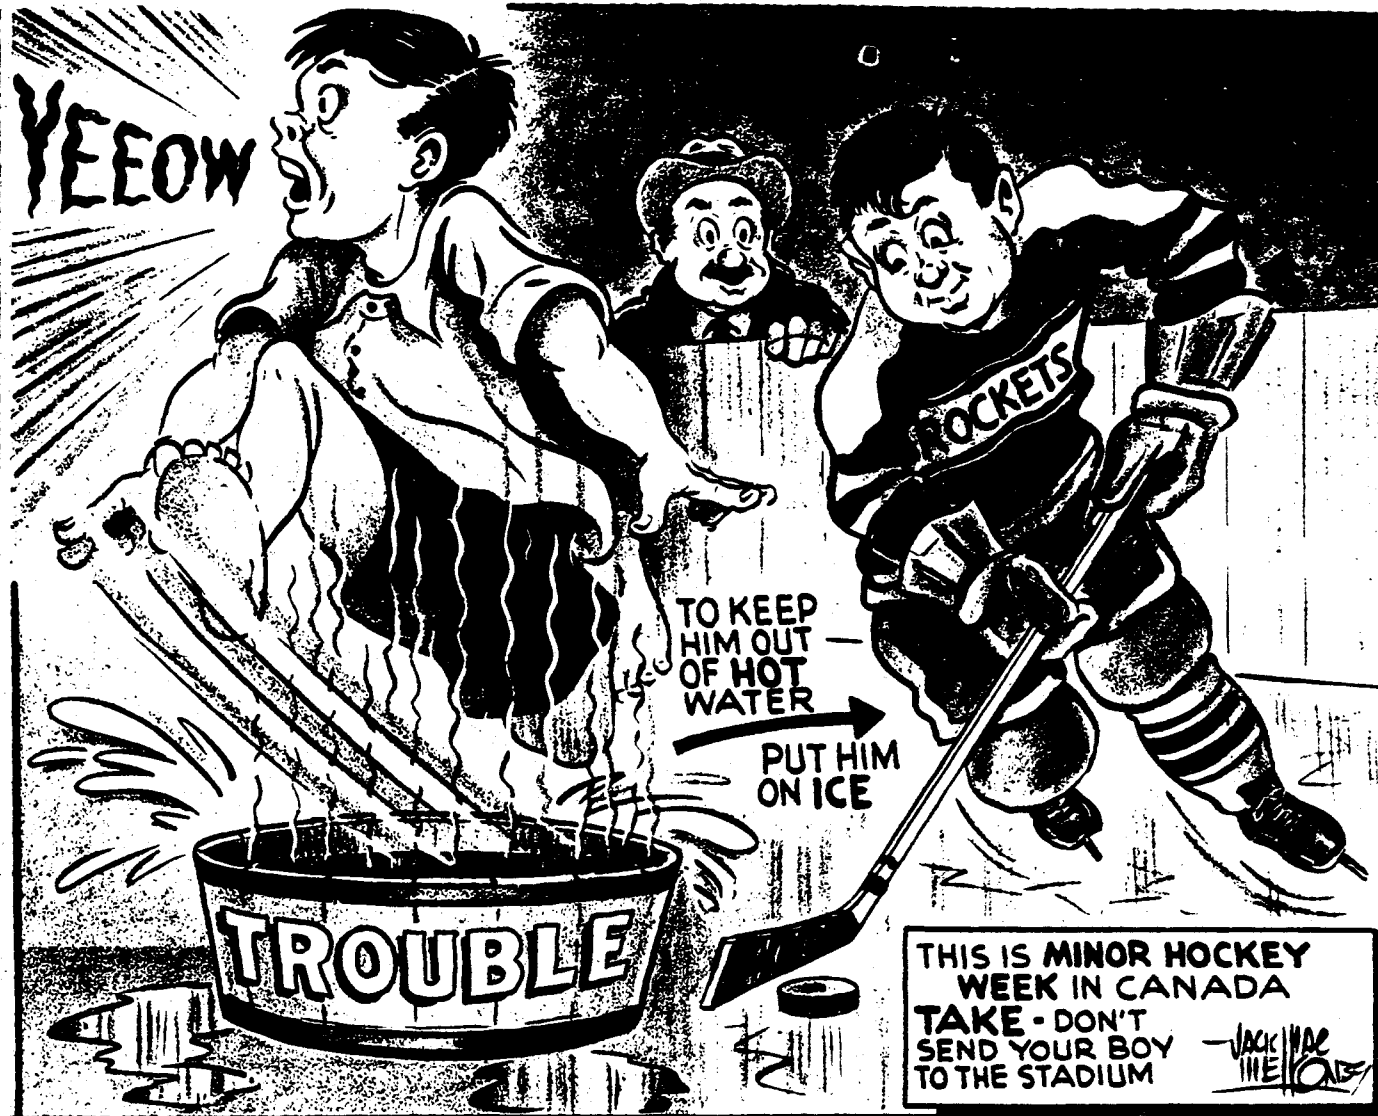

There is no reason why there should be an epidemic in 1960 because the means are readily available to combat this disease. If, however, those who have not had preventative inoculations do not take them and take them now, the disaster that befell Newfoundland and Quebec in 1959 could happen in Nova Scotia in 1960.

The campaign being conducted by the March of Dimes will supply funds solely needed to assist in the continuing work of polio prevention along with the other activities of the Chapter in Rehabilitation and Research.

Minor Hockey Week

Minor Hockey Week, sponsored by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, begins in Canada on January 23. We like their slogan and some of their objectives which are worthy of passing along.

Their slogan is "Take, Don't Send, Your Boy To The Arena". This is a worthwhile slogan to adopt and one which can be applied in regard to any sport or any youth activity. More parent interest and participation in activities of the young could do much to quell juvenile delinquency in future years.

Further slogans for Minor Hockey Week are (a) Keep a boy on ice and you'll keep him out of hot water; (b) Encourage Hockey - and you'll discourage Hookey.

Parents would be wise to consider these slogans during Minor Hockey Week and in future weeks.

Year End Review

By Hon. M. S. Leonard,
Minister of Public Welfare
Province of Nova Scotia.

A departmental reorganization was effected during the year with the entire work of the Department divided among four Divisions: (1) Child Welfare, (2) Old Age Assistance, (3) Mothers' Allowances and Social Assistance and (4) Office Services. Each of these divisions is headed by a director who is responsible for the administrative control of all matters pertaining to his division.

The Province has been divided into four regions - the North Shore Region consisting of Cumberland, Colchester, Pictou, Antigonish and Guysborough Counties; the Cape Breton Island Region consisting of the four counties of Cape Breton Island; the Halifax Region, consisting of Halifax, Lunenburg, Queens, Hants and Kings Counties; and the Western Region made up of Digby, Annapolis, Yarmouth and Shelburne Counties. A regional supervisor or is located in the central part of each region and is responsible for the management of all departmental matters arising in the region including the supervision of Children's Aid Societies, the direct administration of departmental services and day-to-day consultation with municipal units in respect to the administration of Municipal Social Assistance.

It is hoped that this new plan of organization will effect savings in travel and time and leave the main office of the Department in a better position to deal with budgeting and personnel problems.

The Child Welfare Division and the co-operating private agencies throughout the Province have been able to provide a high standard of service to children placed in their care by the courts, neglected children in their own homes, children of unmarried mothers, juvenile delinquents and others in need of assistance.

For the past four years it has been possible to report a decrease in the number of wards under the care of the director and the Children's Aid Societies and we are pleased to report that this trend has continued during the year under review. It is gratifying to note that of those children whose guardianship terminated, 47 percent resulted from the completion of legal adoptions.

Our child-placing agencies have continued to be aggressive in their determination to find suitable adoption homes for children in their care and the number of adoptions legally completed is at an all time high. The Adoption Clearance Service operated by the Child Welfare Division has continued to be a very important service in arranging the placement of a large number of the children concerned.

In May, 1958, a new Social Assistance Act was passed and the old Poor Relief Act was repealed. It is the opinion of those engaged in welfare work that we now have a sound foundation program on which to build other welfare services. Our regional supervisors and the executive directors of the Children's Aid Societies report that the implementation of this new legislation has been of great assistance to them in their work with families and children.

For several years the Children's Aid Societies have been requesting an increase in the amount of maintenance available for ward care. The Child Welfare Act was amended to provide an increase in the amount and also to make it possible to pool maintenance payments received from the Province and municipalities for the use of all wards under the care of an agency.

The Nova Scotia Association of Children's Aid Societies and the Nova Scotia Association of Child Caring Institutions have been holding joint conferences during the last three years. Following very careful study of the functions and objectives of each association, it was decided their efforts should be coordinated still further and in 1959 the two associations formed a Nova Scotia Child Welfare Association with each group retaining its own identity. It is hoped that the new association will have many worthwhile accomplishments in the years to come.

The Nova Scotia Training School with a capacity enrolment. This school is for the care, training and education of mentally retarded children. During the past year there has been a marked increase in public awareness of the needs of these children and of the role being played by the Nova Scotia Training School in assuring for many of such children the opportunity of being accepted by society and of becoming useful and worthwhile citizens of the community.

The Nova Scotia School for Boys is the only training school in the Province caring for delinquent boys. The school has a capacity of 120, and at times during the year is completely filled. The emphasis of the school is on the treatment and training of the boys in an effort to rehabilitate them so that they may make a satisfactory adjustment when they return to their own homes and communities. We are able to report that in the large majority of cases the work of the staff of the school has been successful.

At the end of the fiscal year 2196 families were in receipt of the Mothers' Allowance. Recipients in 1959 cases were widows, 824 had disabled husbands and 13 were foster parents. Children numbering 5483 were benefiting from the allowance and the number of cases in pay increased by 65 from the same date of the previous year. The average monthly allowance paid to each family as of March 31, 1959, was $72.46 and the total cost of administration was $2,068,045.37.

Tuberculosis continues to be the most disabling disease in respect to the 524 cases in pay and this was followed closely by (2) heart conditions, (3) diseases of the nervous system and (4) diseases of the bones. The main cause of death in the 1,359 cases referred to above were heart conditions, accidents and cancer in the order given. It should be noted that more than one-third of the deaths were caused by the heart conditions. This figure represents a continuing increase over the number that died from heart conditions during previous years.

The full impact of the Social Assistance Act of 1958 reached the Department of Public Welfare during the fiscal year April 1, 1958, to March 31, 1959. Many of the sixty-six municipal units in the Province that had not hitherto taken advantage of Part II of the Act began to submit regular claims. The importance of this legislation was further enhanced by the decision of the Province to increase its sharing of assistance from 66% percent to 83% during the peak months of February, March and April of 1959. Few municipal units disregarded this additional financial help to needy families, and as a result, there developed a much closer degree of co-operation in all phases of social assistance between the Province and the municipalities.

The new Act endeavours for the first time to set standards for assistance to families in need of being assisted by the municipal unit. The minimum scale has been agreed upon by the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities and by the Province. Many municipal units are now able to provide adequate assistance to families in need with the assurance that they will be reimbursed for two-thirds of the amount they pay out. Fifty percent of the total amount is contributed by the Federal Government, 33% percent by the municipal unit concerned and 16% percent by the Province of Nova Scotia. This new program marks the first time that the federal and provincial governments have shared assistance with municipal units for families in need, an area that has traditionally been left to local municipal units for financial help.

While these standards were being established it was decided that the provincial government would, in addition to sharing in municipal assistance, reimburse each municipal unit to the extent of 50 percent for administration costs if adequate welfare offices were established with welfare officers whose qualifications permitted them to be approved by the Province. The larger municipal units already have taken advantage of this provision and have been reimbursed for their first year's operation.

In addition to sharing the cost of maintenance of needy families who have their own shelter, the provincial and federal governments have also accepted two-thirds of the cost of maintenance for persons in Homes for Special Care. These homes consist largely of municipal homes and nursing homes throughout the Province. The homes meeting the standards that have been established are now receiving reimbursements for welfare patients that are being maintained.

One of the main provisions in respect to standards is that no committed patients may be maintained in an institution designed as a Home for Special Care. This legislation has permitted the segregation and hospitalization of all mental patients who had formerly been admitted to municipal homes. It is felt that the implementation of these new regulations represents a decided step forward in the development of social assistance benefits in the Province.

There has been a steady increase in the number of applications for Provincial Social Assistance under Part I or the Act. Five categories may now be provided with assistance under this Act.

- (1) Deserted wives.
- (2) Common law widows.
- (3) Wives of prisoners.
- (4) Abandoned children.
- (5) Foster children.

Provincial Social Assistance given during the third year of operation amounted to $290,326.90.

A total of approximately $3,300,000 was paid in Old Age Assistance during the year, to 5,533 recipients between the ages of 65 and 69 years of age.

Blind Persons' Allowances were paid to 786 persons and totalled $515,000.

Disabled Persons' Allowances were paid to 2,351 totally and permanently disabled persons. The amount expended was $1,525,000.

Home-made street signs with big-city names are one kind of link between the people of the New North and the rest of Canada.

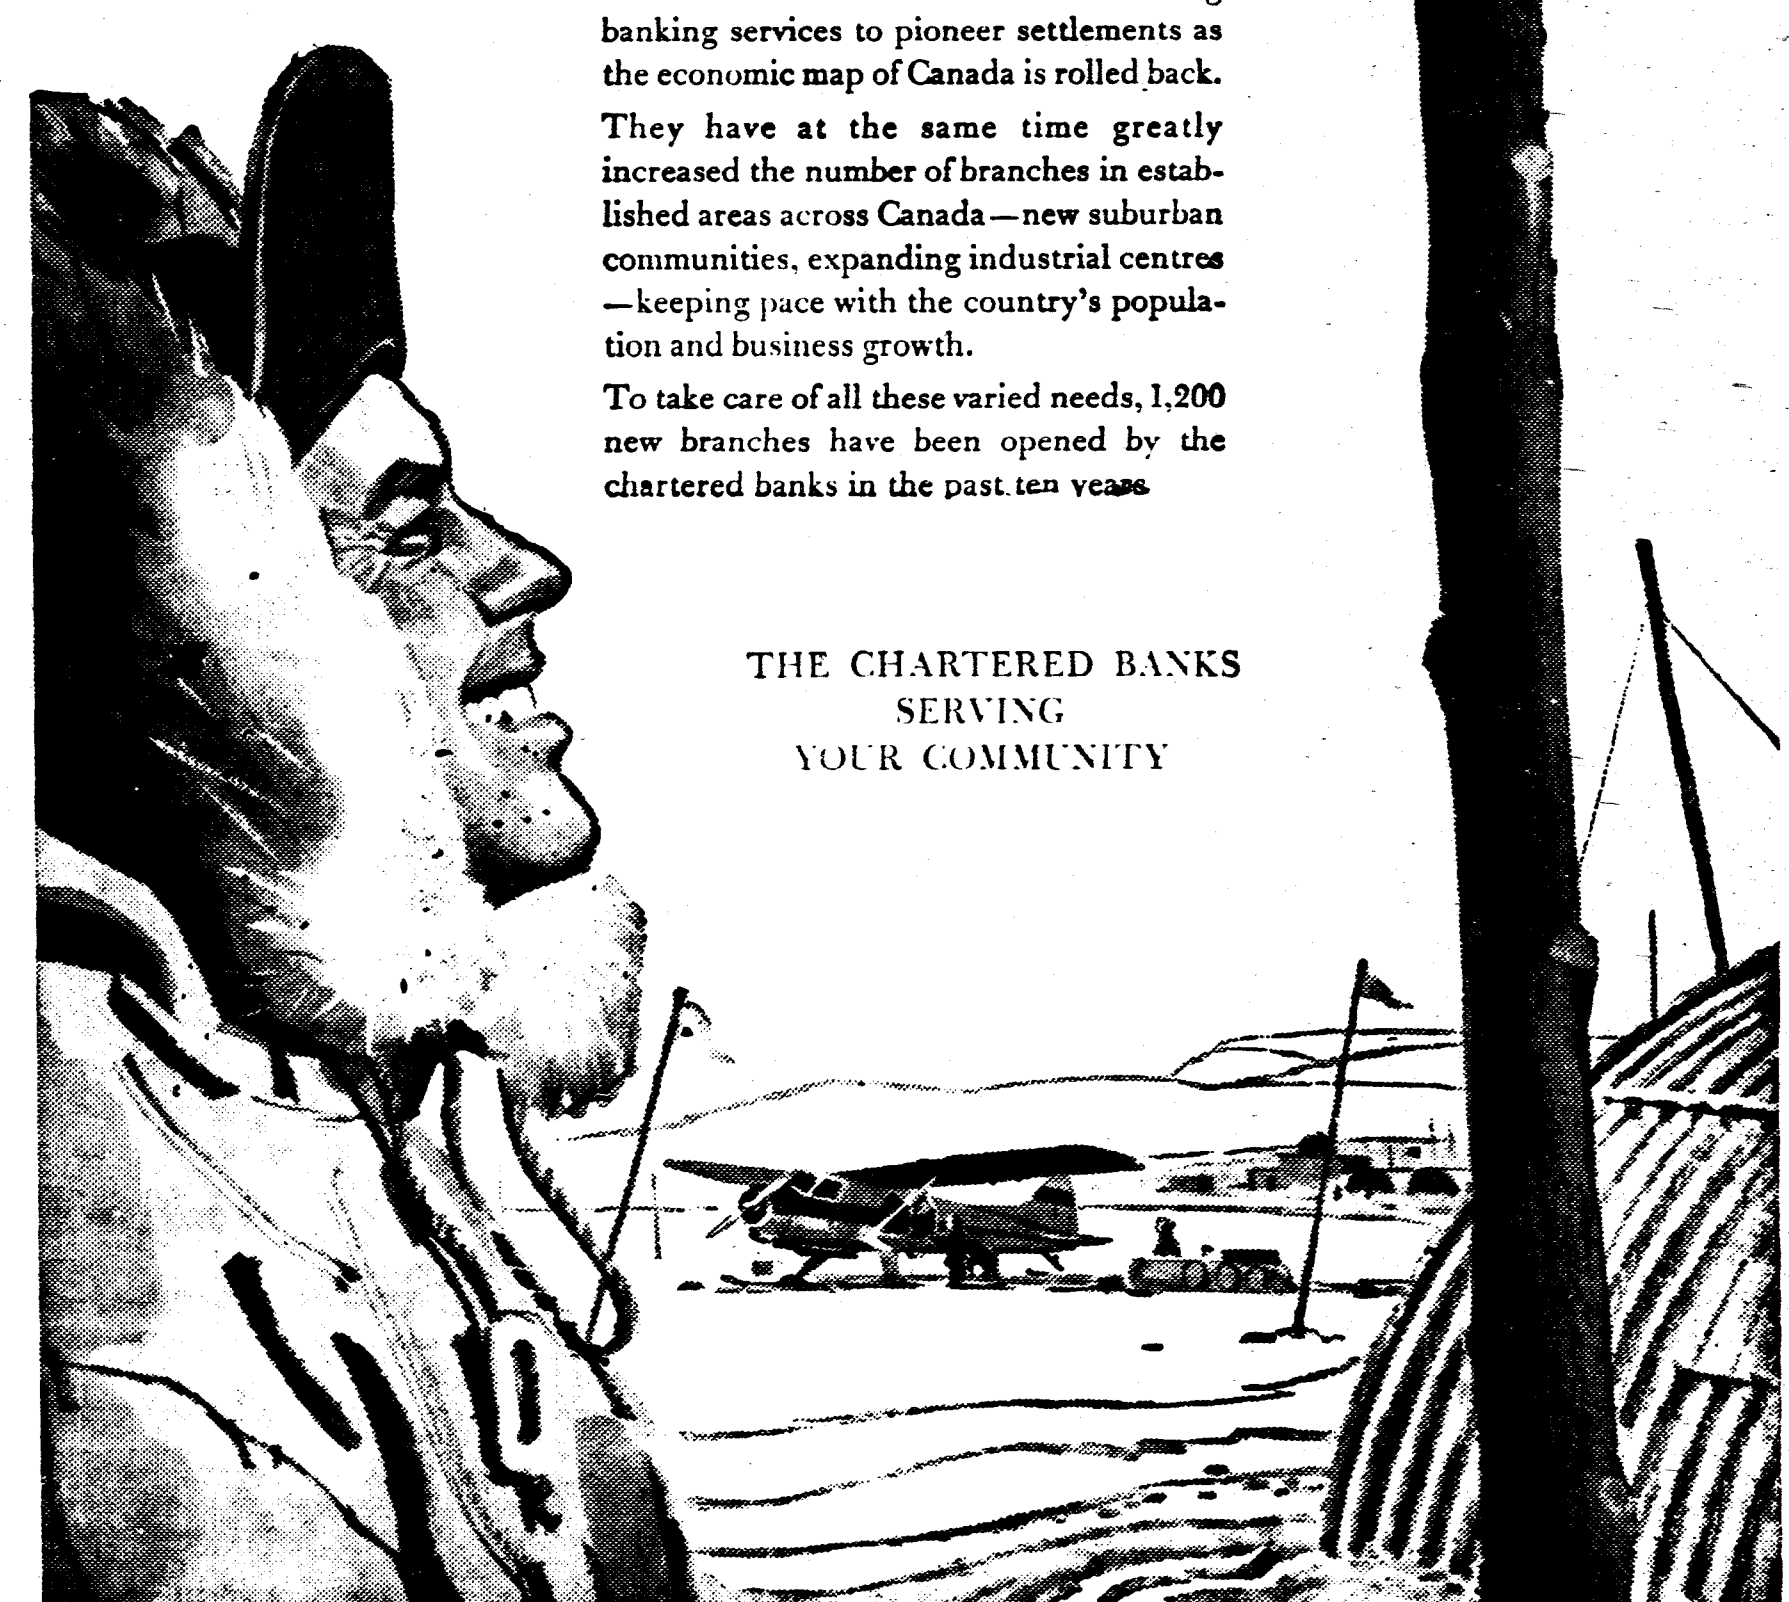

Banking service is another.

Canadian banks have, since the earliest days, taken part in the development of new areas, the opening of new frontiers. Today the chartered banks continue to bring banking services to pioneer settlements as the economic map of Canada is rolled back.

They have at the same time greatly increased the number of branches in established areas across Canada - new suburban communities, expanding industrial centres - keeping pace with the country's population and business growth.

To take care of all these varied needs, 1,200 new branches have been opened by the chartered banks in the past ten years.

Father Forgets

(A children's day message for parents.)

Listen, Son, I am saying this to you, as you lie asleep, one little paw curled under your cheek, and your blonde hair wet on your damp forehead. I have stolen into your room alone. Just a few minutes ago, as I sat reading my paper in the living room, a hot stifling wave of remorse swept over me. With guilt I have come into your room.

Here are some of the things I was thinking about. I have been cross. I scolded you for being dirty, for being careless, for eating like a pig, for throwing your clothes around carelessly, in short, for not being a man.

Every now and then I wonder what kind of a man you are going to grow up to be. Sometime I have sense enough to know that you want to grow up, not "bye and bye" but right away!

Queer isn't it, that I expect you to be so perfect. Queer, too, that I want you to do what I won't do myself. Tonight, as I stand in silence by your bedside, I know that while I may pay my taxes to support schools and while I may write a check for the church, after all I am one of your greatest teachers.

When Sunday mornings come I sleep all morning, or I drowse myself in a newspaper, or I wash the car or paint the screens, but I say to you, "Jack, hurry and get off to church". You are still young enough to have to do what I say.

As I stand by your bedside in silence tonight and God knows my thoughts, He knows and I know that I am fooling myself and not playing fair with you. The day will come when you will know that a weak father can say to his boy, "Do this", "Go to church", but it is really a strong character who can say, "My lad, we are all going to church together".

The Province, through the Housing Commission Act, is sharing with the City of Halifax and the federal government in the cost of the new Mulgrave Park Housing Development in Halifax. This project, for which a contract was let by Central Mortgage and Housing in October, will on completion provide 348 apartments for rental.

A committee was established during the year under the Chairmanship of the Honourable Mr. Pyke to consider a proposed study of housing conditions in the Halifax - Dartmouth area. As a result a metropolitan planning committee was established jointly by the City of Halifax, Town of Dartmouth, County of Halifax and the Province, to carry out a three-year study on a shared-cost basis.

CARS ARE MY LINE

by Ken Hankinson

ONE FOR THE ROAD?

A very small foreign car was going along one of the main highways not long ago... doing about fifty... and every few yards it would take a little hop. A highway patrol officer noticed the performance, and somewhat curious, followed. Finally he stopped the car and the driver explained, "The car's okay officer. I just have the hiccups."

There are many jokes that make the rounds about the small foreign car on the roads today... but the cars themselves are no joke. In fact, for many people they offer excellent transportation and they do have some advantage when it comes to parking on the street.

The small car makes a splendid second car for many families. Wives find them very suitable for shopping and just about ideal when hubby takes the family car to work every day. Right now we have some good buys in small cars on the lot.

Yes, a second car in the family is often an asset, especially when your home is well away from shopping and transportation. Whether your idea of a second car, is a small car or a larger model, a good way to start your family in the two-car class is with a good used car.

Drop in now while the selection is at its best. We have a wide range of makes and models... all recent trades on new car sales... and all thoroughly reconditioned to give you miles and miles of economical, trouble-free driving.

Building

"I watched them tearing a building down —
A gang of men in a busy town,
With a yo-heave-ho and a lusty yell,
They swung a beam and the sidewalk fell.
I asked the foreman: "Are these men skilled —
The kind you would hire if you wanted to build?"
He laughed and said: "Why, no indeed,
Just common labour is all I need."
They can easily wreck in a day or two
What builders have taken years to do.
I asked myself as I went my way,
Which of these rules have I tried today?
Am I a builder, who works with care,
Measuring life by the rule and square,
Shaping the deeds by the well made plan,
Patiently doing the best I can?
Or am I a wrecker who walks the town,
Content with the labour of pulling down?
— G. K. Chesterton.

Genius Announces Non-Drinking And Driving Invention

The world's famous journalist, Inez Robb, recently commented on a new Danish invention — that of the perfection of an automobile engine which refuses to work the instant it "whiffs so much as a hint of alcohol on the drivers' breath," as reported by the California Liberator.

O, Earth, I Love You

O Earth, I love you!
There is so much of beauty still —
The mountaintops in tranquil glory bathed;
The winding paths in shady, cool ravines;
The glory of the sky on crystal nights;
The springtime flowers that grace each hill and dale;
The songs of birds that echo through the grove.

O Earth, I love you!
There is so much of goodness still —
The love of constant friends that warms our hearts;
The consciousness of God's unending care;
The solace of religion, and the joy
That comes of serving those we dearly love;
The priceless blessing of our liberty.

Marriage

Swift — Kenney

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Kenney Jr. at Westport, N. S., Saturday, Jan. 16, when their second daughter, Nancy Elizabeth, became the bride of Wilfred Louis Ross, elder son of Wilfred Ross. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Derby, against a background of fern and roses.

The bride looked charming in a gown of azure blue crystal chrysomus satin, street length. Her headress was of white velvet leaves with a short veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink delight roses.

Greta Anne Kenney, sister of the bride was maid of honour. She wore a gown of royal blue velvet and she carried a nosegay of matching yellow mums.

The groom was supported by Cecil Halliday. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Richard Welch and during the signing of the register, Mrs. C. M. Davies, aunt of the bride, rendered two solos, "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's My Shepherd".

The guests were received at the door by Danny Kenney, a brother of the bride, and Mrs. Lorne Swift, aunt of the bride. Lic. Mr. C. Pierce, resident pastor of the United Baptist Church, proposed the toast to the bride and was responded happily by the groom.

The bride's table was very nicely decorated and centred by a two tier wedding cake with miniature bride and groom. Refreshments were served to 75 guests by Gail Kenney, sister of the bride, Charlene Swift, sister of the groom, and Sandra Powell, Ena Faye Davies, and Erica Frazier, cousins of the bride.

Mrs. Alvah Powell, aunt of the bride, was in charge of the refreshments, assisted by Mrs. Lorne Swift. The guest book was circulated by Gail Kenney. The bride's mother chose a sheath gown of beige lace and chiffon with rose accessories and her corsage was of matching rose carnations. The groom's mother was attired in a gown of sapphire blue crepe with winter white accessories and her corsage was of white carnations.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Austin Denton, of Little River, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. Rupert Trask, of Little River; Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Davies and daughter, Ena Faye; Miss Erica Frazier, of Bridgetown; Mr. and Mrs. C. Swift; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Swift, Dartmouth; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Halliday and son, Anthony, Shelburne; and Greta Anne Kenney, Saint John.

The happy couple will reside in Westport.

The Perfect Gift

A high school student recently wrote a paper on the subject, "The Most Perfect Gift", and received top marks for the following:

"There are many occasions during the year when a person receives gifts, and there is always a tinge of excitement when he opens them. But the newness of the gift soon wears off, and the first excitement of receiving it is forgotten. Is there a gift that will not deteriorate—a gift that is perfect?"

"No material gifts or presents are perfect. They soon become less attractive and are used less and less. Even a gift that is not forgotten and is used whenever it can be, is not perfect. It eventually has to wear out or be used up."

"But there is a gift that never wears away. A gift that is so perfect that it lasts throughout all eternity. This gift is the gift of eternal life through Jesus Christ the Saviour."

"This gift is worth more than all the riches in the world, and there is only one way to obtain it. Anybody, no matter the race or colour, can have this gift. All he has to do is receive it, and this is done by giving up wrong and taking the Lord Jesus as his own personal Saviour."

But why should a person receive this gift? Romans 3:23 states, "For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God." Romans 6:23 says, "The wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life." All of us are sinners and are bound for eternal condemnation. The only way to Heaven is through Jesus Christ — NOW.

WORTH REMEMBERING
That you cannot whitewash yourself by blackening others.
That success comes in cans — failures in can'ts.
That a day of worry is more exhausting than a week of work.
That a sign on the door of opportunity reads — RUSH.
That cheerfulness is what greases the axles of the world.
That a dead fish floats downstream; a live one goes up.

Mrs. Richmond Journey and Mrs. Glidden Campbell

Miss Margaret Grant came down from Halifax for a week. Friends of Mrs. L. Marshall will be pleased to hear that she is improving at the home of Mrs. B. Grant.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Payson were Mrs. Payson's mother, Mrs. W. Doy, and sisters, Mrs. James Seeley and Mrs. Harold Moore, all of Yarmouth. Other guests were Miss Mildred Doucet of Greenwood and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dent and family of Cornwallis.

Mr. and Mrs. John Halliday attended the funeral of the former's uncle, Mr. Ralph Bohner, at Karsdale, last week. Miss Linda Weir spent the weekend with her aunt, Mrs. John Halliday and Mr. Halliday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Butler and family who have been living in the Dale Brooks house, had a chimney fire recently. Because of the fire they have been staying with Mr. and Mrs. Young until they can make other arrangements. The Butlers are moving into the house on the Daniel Fields' property this week.

Mrs. E. A. Fergusson spent the weekend in Halifax and attended the director's meeting of the Canadian Cancer Society, N. S. division.

The annual meeting of St. Peter's parish was to be held in Killam Hall January 18th but the Rev. E. Irwin very kindly postponed the meeting until the following Monday, so that many of the parents and others could attend the annual meeting of the Weymouth Consolidated School Board. There were a number of important matters to come before the meeting.

The Well Baby Clinic held on Monday, Jan. 18, was very well attended at the Weymouth Consolidated School.

Maurice Young, student of Lunenburg Engineering Ltd., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Young.

Fred Hubley of Mader's Cove is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ray Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Butler and family who have been living with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Young for the past two weeks, moved into their new home on Monday.

Mrs. Carman Marshall has returned from Halifax where she has been undergoing observation at the V. G. Hospital.

Mrs. John Dunkley spent Friday in Barton with her daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Spechts, and Mr. Spechts.

BAPTISMAL SERVICE
On Friday evening the Rt. Rev. Robert H. Waterman, Diocesan Bishop, baptised Joanne Leslie, infant daughter of Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Irwin, at St. Peter's Church, Weymouth North.

The service opened with Evensong and was followed by the sacrament of Holy Baptism. The godparents were Rev. and Mrs. Earl Sigston of Cornwallis and Miss Constance Carr of Weymouth North.

His Lordship gave a brief address in which he said that Baptism is the first step in becoming a Christian. Through Baptism we are born into the church family. He said that we do not join a church as we do a lodge or an organization. We are born again into the church at Holy Baptism. The home, Sunday School, Church, and Christians then begin a Christian education for the child until finally he, himself, is prepared to take on full responsibility of a Christian.

The Bishop expressed his pleasure in having the privilege of officiating at the service and his joy in being again in Weymouth.

Compact Two-Bedroom House Suitable For Small Family

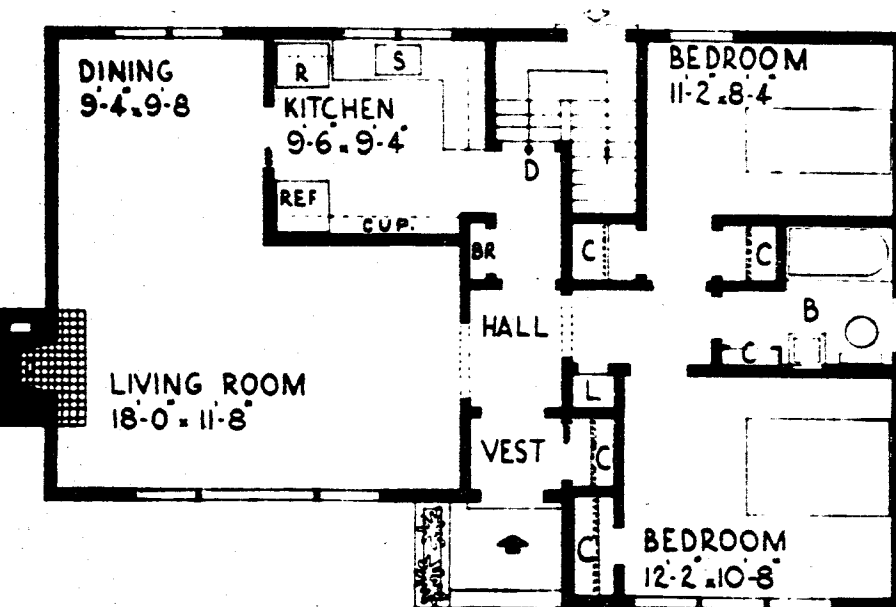

The principal plan characteristic of this design by architect M. G. Dixon, of Ottawa, is the arrangement of the hall which separates the bedrooms from the living area. In a small house this ensures privacy and isolates noise.

The basement, which is only eight steps down from the rear entrance, has a cold storage cupboard and clear areas that could be used for workshop and playroom space. The best orientation of the house is to have the fireplace wall facing north.

The total floor area is 912 square feet and the exterior dimensions are 38 feet by 27 feet.

Working drawings for this house, known as Design 124, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

The Tate Family

The Rev. John Tate, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Marietta, Ga., was telling recently about his very large family. In fact, there are some of his family in every church.

There is old man Dick Tate who wants to run everything. Uncle Ro Tate wants to change everything. Nearly every church has Sister Agi Tate among its members, as well as her brother Irri Tate. Always when you want to do something, Brother Hesi Tate has a good bit to say. Naturally, Sister Iml Tate wants to do everything just like somebody else does. Mr. Devas Tate is really a tough customer to handle when he gets started. In nearly every church is one who wants to be big Mr. Poten Tate.

But not all of the members are bad. You can always depend on help from Brother Rehabili Tate and his son, Facili Tate. One of the most delightful members of the family is Miss Felici Tate.

I am sure there are quite a few other members of this Tate family. Maybe there are some others in your church whose names you could add. Perhaps a sermon on the Tate family would be a pretty good one for some churches. — (Pulpit Preaching.)

Those Apples

"How many apples did Adam and Eve eat?" asked a school boy.

"Eve 8 (ate) and Adam 2 (too), making 10", said one of his chums.

"Adam 8 and Eve 8, making 16", said another.

"Eve 8 and Adam 82, which makes 90", said a third.

"You're wrong", said a fourth boy. "Eve 81, and Adam 812, making 893".

"More than that", suggested another. "Eve 814 herself, and Adam 8124 Eve, making 8938".

"That's not right", said another boy. "Eve 814 Adam and Adam 81242 keep Eve company making a total of 82056".

"But, said another boy, "when Eve 81812 many, and was sorry for herself, so Adam 8122 40fy Eve's depression, making a grand total of 894,052 apples".

Can You Improve On This? Yes I think I can. When Eve 81812 many and Adam 81242 40fy Eve, it makes a very grand total of 8,206,052. (An improvement of 7,312,000).

Lemons And Thorns

By Adelaide Ah Kow

Since he needed but six bushels of lemons, my nephew took the car to the grove, and Sundaram and I went with him: Sundaram to try her hand for the first time at plucking lemons, I to sit in the car.

"Two dip buckets made one bushel," said I. "Hence we need but six buckets apiece, and the work will be done."

Valiantly Sundaram seized her bucket, for she loves not to be outdone by old or young. But, indeed, it was no easy work for a novice, since the thorns were strong and sharp and guarded the fruit well. So it came to pass that the boy brought in two buckets to Sundaram's one, and in place of lemons Sundaram gained many red scratches, though pluckily keeping on till all were picked.

"It is not well," said Sundaram, as she showed the scratches on her smooth arms. "That lemon trees should have thorns!"

"But why not?" inquired I: "for, as all know, even roses are not without this protection."

"A rose bush", pronounced

Centreville

Mr. and Mrs. James Turnbull and children moved to Halifax last week. Her mother, Mrs. Guy Outhouse, accompanied Mrs. Turnbull to Halifax on Saturday. Mrs. Outhouse also visited her brother, James Turnbull at the V. G. Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. George Outhouse and son of Digby were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Outhouse last week-end.

Cecil Dakin of Halifax spent a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dakin, last week.

Melvin Thibodeau visited his sister, Mrs. Danny Carrier and family at Shearwater and his mother, Mrs. George Thibodeau, who is a patient in the V. G. Hospital.

Keith Raymond and Harold Raymond motored to Boston and visited relatives for a few days.

Mrs. Emmerson Hersey spent a few days in Halifax visiting friends.

Myrna Ryan of Marshalltown visited one day with Mrs. M. Thibodeau.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shaw spent the weekend with friends at Halifax.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Main and son, Ronald, of Weymouth North called on her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lombard last Sunday afternoon.

Sundaram, "is entitled to have thorns, for think what beauty and sweetness they guard; but here, when one wins past the thorns, one finds naught but a lemon." And away she went to pick more of the acid fruit.

But presently she returned to ask, "Know you Z— and A—?"

And indeed I knew both; and one I liked well, and one but little.

Then said Sundaram, "A— is sarcastic, and all love his sarcasm; and Z— is sarcastic and all hate it. For why? Because behind the thrust of the lies the sweetness of the rose, and behind the scratch of the other only the sharpness of the lemon can be discerned."

Now I thought upon her words, and I saw that they were true of many another than Z— and A—. For where there be sharp sayings, men look not so much at the words themselves as at the motives that prompt them; and where they feel that malice lurks, however smart the saying be, they do not respond with cold words and glowering looks.

For a scratch is naught with love behind it, but a sorry wound with ill-wind in the rear.

Forgive

Forgive me, Lord, for all the years

I've wandered far from Thee; Forgive the wasted hours and days

When I, perversely, would not see Thy ceaseless love, Thy tender care,

Thy hands entreating, pleading still, When, heedlessly, I went my way,

Obeys not Thy blessed will, Forgive me, Lord, May I henceforth, Acknowledging the debt I owe, Serve with rejoicing heart the one Who loved — and loves — me so!

Annual Meeting of Shareholders

The Royal Bank of Canada

James Muir declares recent experience contains lessons for combating future booms and slumps

Leadership and self-discipline needed to maintain trade position, living standards and economic growth.

"It is not commonly recognized," declared James Muir, Chairman and President of The Royal Bank of Canada, at the bank's Annual Meeting in Montreal on Thursday, January 14th, "that the banks have given a demonstration of timely and effective support of the current anti-inflationary monetary policy."

Reviewing the necessary and effective decisions and actions taken by the monetary authorities during the recent credit "freeze and thaw" period, Mr. Muir said, "Before indulging unduly in self-congratulation, it may be well to reflect on some lessons which recent experience holds for the monetary authorities and for the chartered banks in combating future booms and slumps.

Lessons to be Learned

"The first lesson is that there is need for improved communication between the Bank of Canada and the chartered banks. Of course, communication must be a two-way street. I have long deplored the passing of bankrate in Canada from the realm of communication in this sense to a mere shadow, floating 1/4% above the market rate for three month Treasury bills.

"In recent months, the Bank of Canada has assured us that the money supply will probably rise modestly in recession, stay relatively constant in recovery and boom times, and rarely, if ever, fall. In our present situation, for example, this should mean that the current ease in chartered-bank cash will not prompt a sucking up of the excess, since that would mean a significant reduction in the money supply. The clear implication is for the banks to use their cash for investment or, when needed, for increased loans.

"Now for the second lesson. Regardless of the clarity of communication itself, there is still some ambiguity in the data communicated. For example, through its control of chartered bank cash reserves, the Bank of Canada controls the money supply, allowing of course for any lags in chartered bank adjustment. There are, I believe, two major ambiguities in our concept of the money supply.

Ambiguities

"The first ambiguity is that the money supply as generally defined omits credit created by other than the chartered Banks. For example, it omits credit created by Finance Companies, Caisses Populaires in Quebec, Credit Unions and Provincial Savings Offices in other Provinces, Trust Companies doing a deposit business, and all varieties of department store charge accounts.

"The implication of this ambiguity for policy is simply this, that monetary control is inhibited and may at times be ineffective, as well as inequitable, in controlling the money supply in this broader sense. Rather than extend the range of specific government regulation, it might be worth while to require that these lenders (who, in effect, do a banking business so far as the total supply of money and credit is concerned) should, like the chartered banks, be subject to appropriate cash, or other, reserve requirements.

"The second ambiguity in our concept of the money supply concerns that well-known but elusive factor, the "velocity of circulation". Clearly the inflationary potential of any given money supply depends not only on the money supply as such, but also on its activity; that is,

BANKS MEET TIGHT MONEY CHALLENGE

"Denied the use of the price system to allocate credit in accordance with market forces," said Mr. Muir, "banks were forced into the thankless task of rationing credit as best they could among their customers.

"But they did more than this. The chartered banks supplied the credit necessary to finance the subsequent revival. To do this, they sold securities, mainly government bonds, sometimes at a cost in terms of yield rates well above even their maximum lending rate, in order to raise cash to increase loans to deserving borrowers, large and small, by almost $1.2 billion between Sept. 30, 1958 and Sept. 30, 1959.

"The savings of the general public, who bought the bonds, were channelled into new loans to businessmen, farmers and consumers. There was no creation of new money, only the channelling of savings into loans through the mobilization by the banks of the existing money supply."

its velocity of circulation. Our mechanism of monetary control is defective in that it ignores the velocity dimension, and this defect forces us to resort to rough-and-ready, trial-and-error expedients by way of correction. Monetary control would be greatly improved if we could devise a practical formula for reserves against deposits that would take account of changes in the velocity of circulation.

"The third lesson of recent experience is that the course of monetary control would run much smoother if the chartered banks were enabled always to implement Bank of Canada policy by allowing their lending rates to reflect changes in market rates, or under the present rate-fixing system, changes in bank-rate. The market for credit," said the British Rad-cliffe Committee, "is a single market" and the Governor of the Bank of Canada has recently expressed a similar point of view. But in a single market only one price can rule for any given commodity. It is absurd, therefore, for bank lending rates to be subject to price control while other rates by other lenders are allowed to reflect market conditions.

"However, if chartered bank lending rates were made more flexible most of the difficulties could be avoided without abolishing the maximum rate principle. For example, a 'minimum' ceiling, set at the present 6 per cent, could be made adjustable upward when necessary to a level not more than one percentage point above the 91 day Treasury bill rate or (the same thing) 3/4 of a percentage point above bankrate. Such an arrangement would greatly ease the banks' problems of allocating credit in a tight money situation.

"There would be no 'tight money,'" said Mr. Muir, "if the price were right; instead, those willing to pay interest at current market rates would get the funds, those unwilling to pay these rates would postpone expansion until the price of funds became more favourable."

Loans increase
restrictions

K. M. Sedgewick, General Manager, reported that due to heightened business activity, loans in all categories and sizes were in strong demand throughout the year and despite the necessity of adopting restrictive measures from time to time, a sizeable increase had taken place in this department of the bank's business. "It is interesting to note," said Mr. Sedgewick, "that the number of our borrowers in Canada increased by approximately 45,000 during the year."

Capital funds of the bank now exceed $256 millions and assets stand at more than four billion dollars. "Our depositors now number well in excess of three million," said Mr. Sedgewick. "This includes a very substantial percentage of the Canadian depositing public — a fact which pleases us greatly. It is our aim to compete aggressively for continued growth in this field."

Activities Abroad

Referring to the Royal Bank's extensive system of branches in the Caribbean area and South America, Mr. Sedgewick mentioned that seven new offices had been added to the overseas system during the year. New main office buildings were nearing completion in Jamaica and the Dominican Republic and major additions are underway at a number of other points. "We have an important chain of branches distributed throughout most of the Western Hemisphere countries," said Mr. Sedgewick. "Our Managers there are fluent in the language and well versed with local conditions and customs. We are well equipped to assist exporters and we invite those who have a real interest in new trading opportunities to come to us and enlist our aid."

Trade Policy

Referring to the forthcoming meeting of the member nations of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (or GATT), Mr. Muir said: "It is paradoxical, but nonetheless true, that the economic renaissance in Europe seems now to pose some kind of threat to our increasingly easy North American way of life. Meanwhile, prosperity and increased efficiency have made European nations more receptive to freer trade, including the reduction or removal of war and post-war exchange controls. The present conciliatory attitude of the Europeans provides an opportunity for bold action to turn the new developments into means to freer trade on a broader basis for the benefit of all members of GATT. At the same time, Canada in particular must pay attention to recent development in Latin America. Current moves to form a Latin American common market and a regional trading group in Central America may pose additional problems but they also create opportunities. It cannot be emphasized too strongly that the removal of trade and exchange-control curbs in Europe and the slow awakening of Russia and the Far East mean the creation of new and exciting opportunities to exploit entirely new post-war markets.

"I believe," concluded Mr. Muir, "that Canadians have the courage demanded by the march of events in the 1960's and the will to achieve the even richer promise of decades still to come. With our material blessings, these qualities are all we need to make Canada a leader and an example to all the eager young countries — in Latin America, in Africa, in Asia — which even now are, like us, striving to meet the great problems, and to achieve the even greater rewards, of a sustained, balanced, healthy economic growth in a tough competitive, but, let us fervently hope, an essentially peaceful economy of nations."

Form Pipe Band

A group of Nova Scotians is attempting to form a girls' band that would be available for engagements in Canada and the United States in 1961. It was learned today.

A spokesman for the group that is trying to organize a Nova Scotia girls pipe band said such a band would help to foster the preservation of Gaelic culture and would provide a valuable promotional avenue for Nova Scotia.

Tentative plans are to have three sections of the band, one in each of the Halifax, Sydney and New Glasgow areas. Each section would practice as a unit until such time as it was feasible to bring them together.

The group would like to see at least 25 girls in each section, providing a band of between 75 and 100 pipers, drummers and dancers.

Experienced band members at least 17 years of age at the start of the calendar year would be sought as candidates for the band. Grade 11 education would be a requirement. The ultimate objective would be to have a band that could put on a fast-moving, varied two-hour show.

Engagements would be sought first in the province, and outside bookings then could be arranged. At least one booking agency in the United States has expressed interest in arranging for a 1961 tour.

Has Interesting Program

The regular meeting of the Digby Neck Home and School Association was held in the school on Thursday evening with the president, Mrs. Elmer Lewis, in the chair.

Rev. Mr. McClure led in a singing-song with Mrs. Lindsay Raymond organist. Mrs. Keith Raymond was elected secretary, due to a resignation of Mrs. John Tibbets.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Rodney Denton, and showed an increase in the library fund.

The Adult Education Convener, Rev. Mr. McClure, directed a playlet entitled "Mother's Homework", with four members, Mrs. Emdon Morehouse and her three visitors, Mrs. D'Arcy, Mrs. Austin Morehouse and Mrs. Llewellyn O'Neill taking part. They were busily engaged in sewing patches for a quilt with the help of numerous cups of hot tea, while they discussed the problems of their children's homework. Should they help their children at home when mother is tired out, or maybe there is a good T.V. program she wants to see, or should the schoolwork be done in school with no help at all from mom and dad.

Group discussion followed the playlet and when Rev. Mr. McClure had weighed the pros and cons it was found mothers (and fathers) should help with the homework, but never actually doing the homework for the children.

Registration for evening classes in typing, nursing and sewing was held in the school on Monday evening with classes to commence on January 18th. Fudge was sold with the proceeds going to the library fund. Parents of grades I and II pupils were invited to meet with the teachers in their class rooms.

DIGBY

To Borrow For School

The Digby municipal council voted to authorize the borrowing of a sum not to exceed forty-five thousand dollars to finance the municipality's share of the building of a new annex to the Digby Regional High School at their annual session here.

Several weeks ago the Digby town council voted to secure borrowing authority for an amount not to exceed fifteen thousand dollars, estimated as the town's share of the cost of building the new high school annex.

The municipal council at their session named Councillors Roy Snell, Cecil Jones and Walter Wood to the building committee for the new school. The town council so far has not named their representatives to the committee.

At their session on Friday the municipal council passed a resolution asking the municipal school board to visit the school at Westport on Briar Island and bring in to the semi-annual session of the council recommendations concerning replacement or repair of the school.

Action of the council followed receipt of a letter from the trustees of the Westport school asking for the construction of a new school in the village. The letter stated the request had the endorsement of the Westport Home & School Association.

Councillor Whitney Derby, Westport representative on the municipal council, stated "the oldest man in the village cannot remember when the present school was built. He stated it would be like putting new cloth on outworn garments."

Last year the council voted a total of $15,000 for repairs and alterations for the schools at Westport, Freeport and Tiverton on the Digby Neck Islands. Of this amount thirty-three thousand was spent at Tiverton and Freeport but no work was done on the Westport school. It is understood the Westport trustees objected to the expenditure.

Decision on the matter of construction of a sidewalk fronting the consolidated school in the village of Weymouth was deferred pending further information at the municipal council's session on Friday.

A letter was read from the Minister of Highways in which it was stated a survey had been made concerning the proposed sidewalk which showed total cost in the vicinity of two thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars. The municipality's share of the cost would be not less than thirteen hundred and seventy-five dollars.

The letter stated that, since the municipal council at a previous session had voted to spend up to five hundred dollars toward construction of the sidewalk, it was felt the matter should be brought again to the attention of the council.

After considerable discussion it was decided to table the matter until further information as to the type and length of sidewalk covered by the department's survey could be secured. It is also understood the matter will be presented at the annual village meeting in Weymouth.

Increased Sales Reported

One of the greatest yearly increases in sales of electrical energy in the history of Digby County Power Board was reported in the annual report of the board, released this week.

According to the report, total energy sold in 1959 was 11,787,531 kwhrs. This was an increase of 1,517,771 over the previous year. In the town of Digby 1,378,240 kwhrs. were sold for an increase of 11.8% over the previous year. Sales in Weymouth village for 1959 were 1,050,148 kwhrs. for 15.7% increase.

In the municipality of Digby energy sales for 1959 were 4,825,363 kwhrs. for an increase of 16.1%, and in the district of Clare 1959 sales were 3,786,000 kwhrs. for an increase of 11.8%.

During 1959 a capacties of the Weymouth and East Ferry substations were tripled. Conductors and poles were changed on the Digby Neck and Islands transmission system during the year. In Weymouth a new customer was added when the Lewis Lumber Co. Ltd. destroyed by fire in September, rebuilt and converted its entire mill operation to hydro.

It was stated in the Power Board's annual report that line crews are not using "hot line"

Extend Fire Protection Area

The Digby Municipal Council at the closing session of their annual meeting here on Saturday gave approval to the extension of the fire protection district of the village of Weymouth to cover most of the Municipality of Digby west of the Plympton road.

Approval for the extension followed receipt by the council of a petition, signed by some five hundred ratepayers of the districts involved.

In giving approval for the fire protection district extension the council voted that the necessary levy which will be imposed in connection with the provision of fire protection for the new district "be not collected by the municipality of Digby or its officials."

It is understood the municipality will sponsor a bill at the next session of the legislature setting up the boundaries and regulations concerning the new fire protection district.

Financial Report Presented

Revenue of the municipality of Digby for the year 1959 exceeded expenditures by five dollars and thirty-three cents. It was revealed with the adoption of the annual financial reports at Saturday's session of the municipal council.

Total revenue for the year amounted to $297,768.85 and total expenditures were $297,763.52. It was pointed out by the auditors in the annual statement that total expenditures for the year decreased by $1,832.53. There were, however, a number of significant changes in distribution of expenditures among the various classifications of municipal costs.

Health costs in the municipality of Digby for 1959, decreased by $5,797.61. A 1958 expenditure of $17,227.69 for patients in mental hospitals increased to $17,600 and the per-capita tax for hospital construction was $6,699.76.

Social welfare costs for 1959 increased by $18,851.17 and debt charges increased by $10,053.45. The appropriation of funds for the municipal school board was $17,835.23 less than in 1958.

During 1959 taxes outstanding increased over the previous year by $13,226.83. Tax collections amounted to 92% of the 1959 levy. Taxes outstanding equalled 40% of the 1959 levy as compared with 31% the previous year.

Equipment for minor changes on the transmission lines. This makes it possible to do line work without interrupting service. Major changes, however, still require power interruptions which are made on a pre-arranged schedule except for emergencies.

During the year a total of ninety-six new customers were added to the system. This amount was lower in number than in previous years.

The past year was the first in which the board has purchased its entire energy requirement. This has resulted in an improvement in the load factor but operating costs have not altered appreciably, it was reported. Power is now available to users in the area covered by the Digby County Power Board from two sources and this fact, coupled with few storms during the year, gave users a high degree of uninterrupted service.

D.F.D. ACTIVITIES

Several executive meetings have been held since the annual meeting of the Digby Fire Department and many items of business have been dealt with. The Ice Carnival Committee is in action and getting things on the move for the big event to take place in March around the 14th with the show taking to the ice as one of the last events in the Forum this season. A few difficulties had been experienced this year in getting started which did not have to be dealt with before but these have been looked after and now action is focused on the program itself.

Committees have been appointed for the year and these are in full swing to get the year's business started off. Some minor repairs are being made to the Fire Station lavatory to improve this area. A new floor is being laid and fixtures renewed.

The Maiden Lane building has been rented to the Department of Fisheries for a training school for fishermen for a three weeks period which commenced Tuesday morning.

Alarm system came up for discussion at one executive meeting when complaints from some members were dealt with that they could not hear the alarm in the north end of town. This is being studied and a suitable location was decided on at the meeting held last Monday evening and if this is feasible plans will be made on this.

Plans are under way by the entertainment committee for the annual get-together of the members and wives, to be held next month. This promises to be plenty of fun for everyone.

Training classes in fire fighting are to start February 1st with a class of twelve being registered to start for a fifteen weeks course to be completed around May 1st.

Miss Annetta Rose, missionary on furlough, spoke briefly and stressed the importance of foreign students in our universities being entertained in our homes. We could learn much from each other and would help the work of the missionary if these young people could spread the word that they received a warm welcome in a Christian home in this country.

Digby Baptists Hold Annual

The annual meeting of the Baptist Church of Digby was held in the Church Hall on Wednesday evening, January 20th, with the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, presiding.

Reports were presented from the organizations, boards and committees of the church and showed that 1959 was a year of many activities and progress. Fourteen new members had been added by baptism and transfer of membership. Financial contributions had increased both in current and in denominational and missionary giving with a substantial bank balance on hand at the end of the year.

The Convention's Missionary and Maintenance allotment of $1,192.00 for the church had been paid in full plus a slight increase. In addition a substantial payment had been made to Acadia University on the church's allotment of $750.00 to the Acadia Fund. The Woman's Missionary Society reported an excellent year of work with more than $350.00 raised by this organization. The Women's League reported that they had raised about $1,100 during the year. The Flower Committee reported that flowers had been placed in the church almost every Sunday during 1959. Mr. G. R. Weir, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, spoke of necessary repairs and improvements to church property during 1959, and also reported the donation of a Prayer Bible by Mr. M. C. Denton.

Encouraging reports were heard on behalf of youth work in the church including the Sunday School, B.Y.P.U., C.G.I.T., Cub Scouts, Explorers and the Junior Choir, and of plans for the future. On recommendation it was agreed at the meeting to authorize the appointment of a Christian Youth Council as set in the promotional organization, and coordination of the youth program of the church. Re The Beverage Alcohol Problem

Is It

'Control' or 'Promotion' Of Liquor You Want?

In 1930 the citizens of Nova Scotia voted in favor of the sale and use of liquor under

GOVERNMENT CONTROL

Alcohol is a dangerous substance and because so many people are hurt in its use it must be under

CONTROL

The minister under whose direction this Control Act is being administered has recently stated:—"The N.S. Government itself is surely not in the liquor business in any way other than to regulate and control the traffic."

There are forces at work that seek so to change our laws to allow for the of the sale and use of liquor, and this too for their personal gain.

THE PEOPLE VOTED FOR CONTROL — NOT PROMOTION!

• LET'S RETAIN CONTROL!

MISSIONARY PASSES

 New York to study medicine, then discontinued her studies at Bellevue Medical College to marry the Rev. John Stuart Timpany, M.D. She and Dr. Timpany, who was a son of Rev. Americus Vesputius Timpany, the first Canadian Baptist missionary to Telegu, India, were married at Freeport on August 15, 1893, and in September of that year sailed for India as missionaries under the auspices of the American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society.
 Dr. and Mrs. Timpany served principally at Hanumakonda, located in the Dominions of the Nizam of Hyderabad. While they were there they established a hospital and several dispensaries, all without financial aid from the Mission Society.
 Mrs. Timpany served in India with her husband from 1893 until the death of her mother in 1924, when she returned to Digby to be with her aged father. In the course of her travels to and from India, Mrs. Timpany circumnavigated the globe six times. Fluent both in English and Telegu, she was an interesting and forceful speaker and addressed many gatherings on her work in India and on her travels.
 Her interest in missions continued long after her retirement. In 1940 she gave to the American Baptist Telegu Mission a house and property at Kodakamal, India, to be used as a missionary rest home. In 1955 she also made a substantial donation of money as a gift to the American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society.
 In 1922 Mrs. Timpany was made a life member of the United Baptist Women's Missionary Union of the Maritime Provinces.
 A sufferer from diabetes for more than thirty-five years, Mrs. Timpany was awarded in 1951 a bronze medal by the George F. Baker Clinic of Boston "for prolonging life's span after the onset of diabetes, a scientific and moral victory". She said the medal was awarded her for living longer with diabetes than most people do without it.
 With the exception of several winters spent in the United States, Mrs. Timpany lived in Digby from the time of her retirement until 1957, when failing health caused her to move to a nursing home.
 To and Mrs. Timpany had two sons born in India, both of whom died in infancy. Dr. Timpany predeceased her in 1929. Mrs. Timpany is survived by one brother, Dr. Harry B. Timpany, a long-time Mayor of Digby, and by a number of sons and nephews. Mrs. Harry B. Timpany died at a place.
 The remains, interred at James' Memorial Home, Digby.
 The funeral service will be held at the Digby Baptist Church on Thursday at two o'clock in the afternoon. Interment will be in the family lot in the Digby Baptist cemetery. Rev. H. B. Hartlin, pastor of the church, will conduct the service.

Mothers' March Closes Drive

January has seen the annual March of Dimes collecting funds to fight polio. This will wind up with the now famous Mothers' March on Monday night when every family in Nova Scotia will have an opportunity to assist in a small or large way with the fight. The polio foundation supported by the March of Dimes has an enviable record in the field of public charity. The result of contributions are to be seen all around. Cripple people walking with braces or crutches; others ambulating in wheel chairs; still others being taken to special clinics and hospitals; children being transported to schools; seriously crippled young people being sent to universities not to mention the over 200,000 shots of polio vaccine given free at March of Dimes clinics. These are some of the works of the polio foundation. These are some of the reasons we are pleased to recommend this charity to your charity.

 A pretty wedding of wide-spread interest took place in Bethany United Church, Halifax, Jan. 8, when Virginia Kent Dunlop, daughter of Dr. A. A. Dunlop, of Armdale, and the late Mrs. Dunlop, was united in marriage with Walter Gavin Milo, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Milo, of Granville Ferry.
 The single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Milton Frazer and the nuptial music was played by Mrs. Joy Redden of Halifax.
 The bride, given in marriage by her father was lovely in a coffee color sheath gown of brocade with small matching hat and veil and she wore a corsage of orchids. For travelling she donned a Persian lamb fur coat with mink collar which was a gift of her father.
 Miss Elizabeth Crane of Newfoundland and Halifax was the charming bridesmaid and Philip Milo, brother of the groom, Granville Ferry, was best man.
 Following the ceremony a small reception for the immediate members of the family was held at the Lord Nelson Hotel, Halifax.
 The bride and groom are taking up residence in Bermuda where the groom has accepted a position with the architectural and surveying firm of Marshall and Lawton in Bermuda.
 Many friends join in wishing the popular young couple many years of wedded happiness.

Allowing Heavier Loads

Hon. G. I. Smith

Hon. G. I. Smith, Minister of Highways for Nova Scotia, said today heavier loads will be allowed on provincial highways when seasonal gross weight restrictions become effective during the annual thaw.

Mr. Smith said, however, that the restrictions will be strictly enforced and that they apply to passenger buses and school buses, as well as trucks and tractor-trailers.

He said ample notice will be given to operators as to the date the regulations on load limits will go into effect.

Mr. Smith pointed out that the increase in weight limits will enable vehicles to transport about 50 percent of the load that they can carry during the remainder of the year.

The Maritime Motor Association recently requested a limitation of 50 percent of normal maximum weight during the spring thaw period.

"Spring weight restrictions must strike a balance between convenience to the public and operators, and increased maintenance expenditure," said Mr. Smith.

Four classes of vehicles will be affected by the restrictions. They are:

Those having a single axle weight of more than 8,000 lbs. gross load, where such axle

REPORT FROM PARLIAMENT HILL

Hon. George C. Nowlan

Once more the time has rolled around when I can report on the activities of the local members of the House of Commons. On Thursday there opened the third session of the 24th Parliament of Canada. When I started writing this report I was dealing with the fifth session of the 20th Parliament. A lot of history has been enacted in the meantime.

On this occasion Canada has a new Governor General, a distinguished French-Canadian who has given his lifetime to the military and diplomatic service of Canada. Madame Vanier, almost as tall as her husband, with high colour and grey hair, was a beautiful consort for her husband. As usual there was pomp, circumstance, colour and some drama, not the least of which was that the high spirited horses of the RCMP drawing the open coach in which Their Excellencies rode, could not be stopped at the appointed spot and hauled the carriage several feet beyond the platform which had been erected to enable them to descend. The horses couldn't be backed up so the platform had to be pulled ahead.

The Speech from the Throne is not a startling document and does not contain much which was not anticipated by the press. Of course, except in a time of wartime or other emergency the speech is always rather prosaic at the mid-session of a Parliamentary term. The provision of more than 100 million interest to many residents of the constituency is that which will enable the recipients of War Veterans Allowances, and Old Age Pensioners, to receive their payments and reside outside of the Dominion of Canada. I can remember several war veterans whose doctors had advised them they had to live in a warmer climate for the most of the year but who were unable to leave Canada because they could not afford to forfeit their allowances. One of whom I am thinking of at the moment left a widow who is presently residing in Kentville. In the future, subject to certain administrative rules, these recipients will be enabled to live in a climate which is more befitting to their health and still draw down their War Veterans Allowances. One qualification should be noted with respect to Old Age Pensioners. The Speech from the Throne does not promise such payments to all recipients of War Veterans Allowances, nor to all Old Age Pensioners. It says that those Acts will be amended to "establish a basis for the payment of pensions and allowances respectively to Canadians residing outside of Canada." Last year the Old Age Pension legislation was amended to provide for payments to people who otherwise qualified, provided that they had lived in Canada for a period of at least ten years. I think all would agree that it would be undesirable to enable people who had only resided in Canada for ten years, and who are not necessarily even Canadian citizens, to leave this country and continue to draw their Old Age Pensions. Therefore, I think that it can be safely assumed that when this legislation is finally enacted by Parliament, it will establish the "basis on which such payments will be made", which may be substantially different from the basis on which such payments will be made to those who were residing in Canada.

This is being dictated on Monday morning, and before it is read the debate on the address will have commenced. As a matter of fact that starts this afternoon and will continue only for the one day and then will be adjourned until Parliament deals with payments to Western farmers for wheat which was destroyed by the unusual storms of last fall. You will have read in the daily papers of the speeches of the Leader of the Opposition and of the Prime Minister before you read this column. Perhaps one should not anticipate that debate, but I can assume that the Leader of the Opposition, as is his constitutional duty, will criticise the Government for every offence under the sun, including uncertainty and vagueness with respect to Defence Policy. You will remember that when the Government decided to cancel the CF-105 there was much criticism because it left Canada exposed to bomber attack without any pursuit planes with which to down the bomber. The Minister of National Defence, Mr. Pearkes, states that he did not believe that the bomber threat was a very dangerous one at that moment. Last week his judgment was indicated when Mr. Khrushchev announced that not only was Russia not building any more bombers, but they had discontinued the building of such bombers some time ago. He also stated that their attack weapon in the future would not be the plane, but would be the inter-continental missile. Of course, a pursuit plane against an inter-continental missile is about as effective as would be a bow and arrow.

Another problem which will attract the attention of Parliament and I hope the consideration of whole nation is that of our adverse balance of trade. It is rather an interesting situation that although Canada's exports are increasing rapidly, yet our adverse balance of trade is the largest in our history. Of course, the explanation is not that figure includes not only actual trading balances, but also the monies which we have to send largely to the United States to pay interest, dividends and carrying charges on the hundreds of millions of dollars which have been invested in Canada by American capital during the last decade. If we discouraged that flow of capital in Canada, we perhaps could hold the balance of payments as at the present level, and we also could rapidly bring the Canadian dollar down to par, or below par, with the American dollar. We also would tremendously retard Canadian development and possibly provoke a depression which would make previous ones look like prosperity. Those in favour of retarding the flow of foreign capital for our development please put up their right hands! One perhaps should not take that comment too lightly. For it would be interesting to read a recent speech by Mr. Coyne, the Governor of the Bank of Canada, which if I read it correctly would almost suggest that there should be serious consideration given to a curtailment of the continual flow of monies into this country. These and many other matters will be discussed in Parliament during the next few months, and I hope to give you some appraisal of the background of these discussions as well as of the personalities concerned with them.

Report On Council Meeting

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The Mayor then introduced Rev. Donald McClure, secretary of the Municipal Home visiting committee. He said he felt the report of the activities of the visiting committee, which is a new organization set up under provincial statute, might be of interest to the council although we have no direct involvement in the matter of operation of the municipal home.

Mr. McClure - Capt. Vaughan is here with me representing the committee on the board of visitors. This board was appointed by the municipal government in cooperation with the provincial government and acts as a board of visitors for the municipal home. The board was appointed at a meeting last year.

Mr. McClure - I beg leave to give the report presented to the municipal council as it was read to them. The board found the home was fairly satisfactory, but it was not perfect. However, there are a number of improvements which would make it a better credit to the municipality. The matter which the board feels the greatest urgency is a raise in salary for Mr. and Mrs. Thomas. Mrs. Thomas is doing a great deal of work and has many other duties. She is one of the best workers in the province. The board has provided Mr. Thomas with his own car. The board also has provided for the home a number of improvements. The board has provided for the home a number of improvements. The board has provided for the home a number of improvements.

Mr. McClure - This is not a matter which directly involves the council. The way in which the town is involved is that we pay a portion of the expense of maintaining the municipal home at the home. We are also involved in that we have six patients who have a settlement in Digby, at present in the home. This report is merely for information so far as we are concerned. Are there any questions council wishes to direct to Mr. McClure or Capt. Vaughan?

Bent - Has the report been presented to the municipal council?

McClure - It has been presented to the municipal council and action has been taken on some of the matters. I was at the home today and Mr. Thomas was saying they are planning to get a deep freeze unit and repair the washing machines. There are other matters that they are dealing with and that could still stand to be pressured and emphasized.

McKenna - What is our share now?

Mayor - Under the new arrangement it was agreed we pay 40% of certain expenses. These matters will have to be taken up by the committee in conjunction with the municipality. This report is merely for information so far as we are concerned. The report is for our information to let us know in the town how they found conditions at the municipal home.

Information is presented to us because we are involved percentage wise in the costs. So far as action by this council, there is none for us to take. I wish to thank you Mr. McClure and Captain Vaughan on behalf of the council. I know you have another appointment and it will not be necessary for you to stay unless you care to.

John R. Nichols - I am acting on behalf of Mr. Troop who owns property on Warwick Street. Mr. Nichols outlined the purpose of his presentation and said it concerned the matter of a by-law adoption by the town concerning junk yards and unsightly conditions. He stated Mr. Troop had made previous visits to the council concerning the matter. Has there been a notice sent by you to one of the operators of the unsightly, offensive junkyards in the town? At this time we would like to know just what action the council intends.

Mayor - Under section 3 a notice was sent. The council may instruct the clerk to serve notice on the owner. Thirty days after serving notice if no action is taken the town may enter upon the land and remedy the condition and cost may be (Please turn to page 8)

Club Mentioned By Will R. Bird

The Admiral Digby Horticultural Society has received for their favorable and unsolicited publicity. This fact was brought to the attention of the members by Mrs. Hubert Warne at the January meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Eva Wendell.

Mrs. Warne read an excerpt from Will Bird's latest book "These Are The Maritimes", an historical and descriptive annotated guide. In chapter three the author arrives in Digby, notices a group of gardeners busily at work, stops to satisfy his curiosity as to what this activity is all about and engages in conversation with a by-stander. He then relates as follows: "Sure agreed our friend 'we've got The Admiral Digby Horticultural Society beautifying the ground around the site of the original well belonging to Admiral Digby, and looking after the Welcome to Nova Scotia sign near the head of the pier, and now they're looking after the old Loyalist Cemetery that dates from 1783".

This recognition of their efforts was heartening to all club members and especially so to the committees in charge of the various projects.

The business session was devoted primarily to a discussion of Ways and Means, how funds could be raised to finance the maintenance of both gardens and the further restoration of the Loyalist Cemetery. Mrs. Wendell, chairman of the bulletin committee, had collated copies of all 1959 issues. These were sold to members, wishing to avail themselves of the opportunity to obtain complete sets. Club funds were further augmented by the proceeds of the White Elephant sale. This sale, so competently managed by Mrs. Ralph Wright and Mrs. Daniel Comeau, was most successful and afforded considerable entertainment.

Miss Louise Daley offered to be hostess to the Society on March 2nd. The customary social hour followed with refreshments being served by Mrs. Wendell assisted by Mrs. R. Weir and Miss Dora Warne.

Youth Sunday Observed

Youth Sunday was observed in Grace United Church on Sunday morning when the C.G.I.T. attended in a body and assisted in the service. Miss Marilyn Atkinson read the scripture and Miss Joanne Kenny led in reading the Psalm. Rev. James Brooks preached on the subject "Living at the Crossroads" and told the youth in making decisions in life to ask the Lord what would'st Thou have me to do? and not so much what do I want to do?

Two newly elected elders of the church, Norman Wright and Gerald Hoare, were installed into office at the service on Sunday.

Pastors and laymen from the Baptist Churches of Cumberland, Colchester, Pictou and Guysborough County attended and several pastors had part in the Conference.

Digby Native At Knob Lake

This control panel in the operations room at the RCAF's MacCanada Line Station at Knob Lake in Northern Quebec, is the nerve centre of the radar base. Besides controlling aircraft traffic through the "line", Cpl. J. R. Daley, 22, son of Mrs. J. E. Daley, of Culloden, N. S., is also alert for unfriendly aircraft that might try to penetrate Canada's defences. Educated at Digby High School, Cpl. Daley has been stationed at Knob Lake for the past 10 months. A fighter controller, he has been in the RCAF for the past five years.

Celebrate 55th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Burnham Thibault were at home on Saturday, January 30th, to receive the best wishes of their relatives and friends, the occasion being their 55th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Thibault were married in the year 1905 at St. Croix Church, Plympton by the late Rev. Joan Ruess, parish priest at that time. Acting as bridesmaid was Anne Thibault, now Mrs. Martin Dugas, and Herb Thibault, brother of the groom, was best man.

House and sleighs were the transportation of the day at that time, so the bride and groom were escorted from Doucetteville because there was no church there in those years, to Plympton, where the ceremony took place.

Mr. Thibault, 75, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Thibault, while Mrs. Thibault, 74, is the former Etta, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Thibault, all of Doucetteville. They have spent their entire life in Doucetteville, where they were postmaster and postmistress for 37 years. Mr. Thibault is a carpenter by trade and Mrs. Thibault is a seamstress. Both are very active and take great interest in the small community in which they live. They have one son, Donald, with whom they reside, and one daughter, Mazie, Mrs. Elise Thibault, of Doucetteville. They also have four grandchildren who were present for the delicious supper, prepared and served by their daughter-in-law, Marion, and daughter, Mazie.

In the evening friends gathered to wish Mr. and Mrs. Thibault the best on such an occasion, and Mrs. Eugene Dugas was present with a tape recorder to record the evening's doings, as well as Mr. Thibault playing the mouth organ.

They have the best wishes of their many relatives and friends for many more years of health and happiness together.

Calendars Issued

The annual calendars published by Wallis Print Ltd. were distributed this week.

Entirely produced in the printing plant of Wallis Print Ltd., the calendars are most attractive and have drawn a good deal of favorable comment as did those which were produced in previous years.

This year, as in previous years, a local scene photographed by one of the Editor's daughters, has been used as the illustration for the calendar. The scene this year is a view of the wharf and harbour at Little River on Digby Neck. In the foreground of the picture is a float, loaded with willow brush, flanked by a small motorboat. Two fishing boats are shown lying in berth at the side of the wharf. In the left background is the Sharp woods, one of the coastline. The photograph from which the reproduction was made, was taken by Mrs. Janet L. Wallis.

ABOUT THIS AND THAT

Among Many Requests

Scurvily is there a week when the editor of a weekly newspaper does not receive some request for editorial space or space for a publicity release. There are times when as high as three or four appeals request space in one month or even one week. In a great many instances it is difficult to know which to place in priority on the list and so we do our best to spare a little space for each worthy cause. For instance this week we have the Canadian Heart Fund, White Cane Week, a request from the Canadian Paraplegic Association and then Boy Scout Week is coming up. If we attempted one each week some good cause would come out on the short end of publicity for there are not enough weeks to go around. Last week we referred to National Health Week. The ones we mention this week very well tie in with National Health. Before the end of February we will be coming to National Brotherhood Week. We know the organizations appreciate our efforts for usually they write to tell us so but even at that we think we would be justified in inaugurating another week — a "National Thank-you For Space Week".

In this age when heart disease seems to be taking more death toll than ever before, who could refuse support to the Canadian Heart Fund, the chief aim for its use being research in heart diseases. In Digby the Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion have volunteered their services for a campaign during the month of February. In Bear River the Home and School Association will conduct the campaign. Dates set are from February 1 to 29 inclusive. The banks will also receive donations from willing donors.

Then White Cane Week begins on February 7. This week with its slogan "Blindness is Your Business" not only explains the needs and achievements of the sightless but it also points the way to better care of the eyes and the stake every citizen has in good vision. Who would deny the importance of White Cane Week? Each year more than 2,000 Canadians become blind and thousands more damage part of their vision beyond repair through accidents. Blindness usually comes without warning and strikes people in every walk of life. The Canadian National Institute for the Blind issues these tips for White Cane Week:

1. Watch TV as much as you like but keep the room lighted. Make sure the set is properly adjusted, and don't sit too close to it.

2. When reading place the lamp so that the light falls over your shoulder.

Guard your own sight against blindness. On the job or at home always take thought for your eye safety. Too many of your fellow Canadians have already lost their sight through carelessness, and the next one could be you.

The Institute also reminds the readers of their release that sight can be restored with the assistance of the Eye Bank. To talk with someone who sees again after surrendering all hope of good sight, is truly inspiring, they write. To become a donor they suggest you contact the C.N.I.B. and learn how you may register.

Then we had a request from the Canadian Paraplegic Association to refer to an editorial in the Chronicle-Herald of January 21. This is a subject which we have already discussed in our editorial column but is worthy of further comment. It refers to thoughtlessness in regard to the handicapped. The editorial in part reads —

"There are many whose activities are circumscribed by physical infirmity. Some use wheelchairs, others require the assistance of canes or crutches, still others, especially the heart cases, must carefully guard against over-exertion. Heedless of the needs of such people, society has constructed the obstacles that aggravate these afflictions rather than mitigating them."

"The biggest problem, possibly, is that of steps into public buildings. The paraplegic, too, has business to do and events which he would like to enjoy. But access is often denied him by the stairs which, without aid, he is unable to negotiate. The most glaring of paradoxes is provided in the case of some churches which, while offering blessing to all, permit the building of entries that make it difficult for a man in a wheelchair to seek the proffered gift."

Whether we inaugurate a "Thank-you For Space Week" or not, we could not refuse to support such projects which might relieve the suffering or inconvenience of those now afflicted or who might some day become so.

Beach Restored

The beach at Sandy Cove on the St. Mary's Bay side, which has been under criticism for some time because of removal of sand by a construction firm for use in a highway project has been restored to the complete satisfaction of the residents of the village. The Digby Courier has been informed of this by Owen Irving, a business man of the village. According to Mr. Irving he has been advised by Mr. Warren Crowell, road supervisor at Sandy Cove, that the Department of Highways has done an excellent job in having the beach restored by filling and levelling. In his estimation it is now in good shape. Mr. Crowell and the residents of the village expressed deep gratitude to Hon. M. S. Leonard who represents Digby Municipality in the Provincial House, and Hon. G. I. Smith, Minister of Highways, and others responsible for having the beach restored to its former status.

It is indeed a great satisfaction to people in this area to know that any obstacles, real or imaginary, which might be detrimental to the tourist trade in this area are removed. Tourism is one industry which is natural to Digby County and everything possible should be done to give this industry a chance not only to survive but to thrive. Attractive beaches are an asset to the tourist industry and every effort should be made to retain them as such.

Beaches near Digby town are practically nil, much to the displeasure of residents and tourists. As a highly regarded citizen of the town noted some weeks ago — the continued removal of sand from the Little Joggins for works projects during the past twenty-five years or more has removed one of the few spots within easy reach of the town which might attract tourists who enjoy the beach and related sports. We are happy to know that the Sandy Cove beach has been restored to its former usefulness as a tourist attraction.

Report From Parliament Hill

By Hon. George C. Nowlan

January 25, 1960.

Those of you who heard Capital Comment on Sunday afternoon, or watched Citizens Forum over the television network on the same afternoon, heard some very interesting discussions with respect to the abolition of capital punishment. The press has been assuming lately that there might be a vote on such a bill during the present session. In fact, at the moment, there is a private bill introduced in the House of Commons, the enactment of which would result in the abolition of capital punishment in most cases, and a similar bill has been introduced into the Senate. One would, therefore, naturally expect that such a bill would come to a vote during the session. But it is not as simple as that. Under our rules it is absolutely essential that Government business be given precedence over the legislative ideas and aspirations of two hundred and fifty private Members. Not only does the government's legislation have to get enacted, but also days and days and weeks have to be spent in discussing estimates so as to assure that the government of the country can be financed during the coming year. Therefore, the rules place a very strict limitation upon the time given to the discussion of private Member's bills and resolutions.

To all intents and purposes every Monday and Friday during the session the hour of from five to six o'clock is given over to the discussion of private Member's legislative material. Also, after the debate on the address has been passed, the first six Mondays and the first two Thursdays will be given over to private Member's legislation. You might think that that would provide sufficient time for a discussion and a vote upon such a bill. But here is the catch in the matter. Already, on the order paper there are scores and scores of private bills and resolutions brought forward by private Members. Scores more will be tabled within the next few days. Therefore, there is a very stringent rule that a private Member's bill or resolution having been called, and having been debated, it automatically goes to the bottom of the list when the debates adjourn. Obviously, the hour from five to six o'clock is of no use to a person sponsoring a capital punishment bill. This is a matter which goes to the conscience of all members and many members will undoubtedly want to speak on it. The one hour debate on such a matter would be useless. It is true that if it is called early in the session, it will probably have a chance to be called again before the session is over, perhaps twice more, but due to the weight of private bills the chances of being called more than twice, and that only if they happen to be called early in the session, is very remote. So as the matter stands, the only hope that this bill could come to a vote, under ordinary rules and circumstances, would be if it were called on one of the Mondays, or one of the Thursdays, the whole of which day could be given to a debate, and an agreement between the Members that before the debate was adjourned that night a vote would be taken. This is possible, but I would suspect that there would be scores of Members who would want to speak at least briefly on such a proposal and it requires quite a stretch of the imagination to imagine such a debate being concluded in one day. Of course, Parliament is supreme and it can do anything that its members unanimously decide to be done, but one should not take it for granted from some casual reference in the press that a vote on this proposal is almost certain to take place during the coming session.

Monday was leader's day on the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne. Every other Member of Parliament has his time rigorously controlled, except the Prime Minister and the Leader of the Opposition in taking part in this debate. Of course, they always lead off and that is why this day is called leader's day. In this particular case Mr. Pearson spoke for two hours and forty-five minutes, and left the Prime Minister less than an hour. Therefore, he carried on when the debate was again resumed after adjournment. Mr. Pearson looked more relaxed and generally I think made a more effective impression than he has done heretofore in any debate. However, there is one exception to this commendation. Prior to the opening there was a great deal of suggestion that most of the debate would be about defence and that the government was going to be under heavy attack on that score. Mr. Pearson spent a great deal of time on defence, but I am sure that his friends will admit that that was the least effective part of his speech. The truth of the matter, of course, is that the problems on defence, because of our treaty arrangements, because of our association with NATO, because of the community in defence of this North American continent, and because of the rapidly changing situation in the world of ballistic missiles makes any positive statement upon defence look foolish six months later. Every responsible leader knows this and, therefore, has to be very guarded in his remarks, and an effective debate on this subject is virtually impossible at this time. A year ago we were discussing the retention of fighter planes to shoot down manned bombers, and during the last few years we have spent hundreds of millions of dollars in the erection of radar lines to detect the approach of enemy planes. But this week, according to the Russian claim, and most of their claims now are not subject to challenge, fired a missile thousands of miles into the Pacific and struck within a very short distance from the projected target. What does a fighter plane, what does a radar line, do against a weapon which travels that distance at that speed? Those are the questions which bother one who attempts to make any positive criticism or declarations for the perfect defence policy.

And speaking of changes, the House this week welcomed the Prime Minister of Japan. His presence in the gallery was spoken of by the Prime Minister and Mr. Pearson, and Mr. Argue both joined in welcoming him. He was accompanied by his Embassy staff and officials, probably twenty in all. The House resounded with cheers in welcoming these distinguished visitors. One of my colleagues whispered to me as the applause was almost deafening, "what a change a few years makes in our human relations." Fourteen or fifteen years ago these were our bitter enemies and there are boys in the Valley who will never recover from the suffering they underwent when confined in Japanese prisoner of war camps. Today they are our glorious and loyal friends. Incidentally, too, although many Canadian industries, including textiles, complain of Japanese competition, that country now happens to be our second or third best customer and is buying twice as much from Canada as she sells to it, which, of course, does not make the lot of the Minister of National Revenue a particularly easy one!

Fish Production Increases

The fishermen of the Maritimes ended 1959 with a good spurt of production in the final month. The lead established early in the year in Maritime fish landings and values was extended in December which together appear to have made fish landings and values in 1959 a record. This information is released jointly by the Department of Fisheries and the Dominion Bureau of Statistics today.

The landings recorded in the Maritimes in December amounted to 42.2 million pounds and were valued at 4.0 million dollars. This was a marked improvement over the performance of the industry in November. The species yielding most of the increase over November were, herring which was up 4.6 million pounds and 90 thousand dollars, and lobsters which increased 2.4 million dollars. The herring increase occurred in New Brunswick, the lobster increase principally in Nova Scotia. Groundfish landings were about the same as those of November with some changes between species. Oyster landings made a good recovery in December and amounted to 1.1 million pounds with a value of 139 thousand dollars.

These were landed almost entirely in Prince Edward Island. The total landings of fish and shellfish recorded in the Maritimes during 1959 amounted to 689.4 million pounds and returned 39.1 million dollars to fishermen. This is the best performance recorded for the Maritime fishing industry. The previous high in volume, 674.3 million pounds, was recorded in 1946, the previous high in value, 37.0 million dollars, was recorded in 1956. The main species contributing to the 1959 increase in volume over immediately previous years were herring and, to a smaller extent, lobsters. In value, the increase was added mainly by shellfish, especially lobsters. Other products of the sea brought fishermen of the Maritimes in 1959, 950 thousand dollars to bring the total cash return for the year to the primary fishing industry to 40.1 million dollars.

Meet In Kentville

The towns of Digby, Centerville and Bear River will be represented by forty delegates at a three-day convention of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held in Kentville, February 12-14. Frank Tadei, presiding minister of the Digby congregation, announced today. The facilities of the Horton District High School, Greenwich, Kings Co., have been obtained for the convention meetings.

The convention begins Friday evening with an address of welcome. The remainder of the evening will be devoted to the Ministry School and the Ministry Development Class. These will be models of similar meetings held weekly by congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses around the world.

During the evening Mr. Laurier Saumur of Montreal, District Supervisor, will give counsel and instruction for the improvement of not only the meetings but also the ministry of each delegate. All of Jehovah's Witnesses are ministers calling on interested persons and aiding them to gain scriptural knowledge by personal Bible study.

On Saturday the outstanding event will be the immersion service where new ministers will symbolize their dedication to their Creator by water immersion. The main feature of the convention will be the public discourse by Mr. Saumur on Sunday afternoon when he will speak on the subject, "Finding Peace in a troubled World".

CARS ARE MY LINE
by Ken Hankinson
BY-PRODUCTS OF PROGRESS
Now that we've had a few years experience with "power" features — power brakes, power steering, and so on — on our cars, some rather interesting side-effects have turned up. Every time a new development has come along some added benefit comes to light with the experience of time and usage.

Power steering was offered originally to assist in parking the bigger, heavier cars. Time proved that power steering is a boon to drivers in several ways. In the event of a blown tire, power steering gives much greater control of the car, enabling the driver to slow and stop with much greater safety. In drifting snow, power steering greatly reduces the risk of being pulled into a drift.

Power brakes tend to improve driver efficiency in braking — even power window lifts, essentially a luxury convenience, offer a tip-off to battery weakness. I have no doubt that time and experience will show up even more extra benefits from power features on our cars.

We all have our likes and dislikes when it comes to power features — and that is true of every new advance in the automotive industry. And it's this very resistance to change in the kind of cars we drive that makes a "late model" car such a good investment. The two, three and even four year old car is a really up-to-date machine that will give you years of driving satisfaction.

There's a good selection of late model used cars on our lot right now. Every car has been thoroughly checked and re-conditioned to give you miles and miles of economical, trouble free driving. Come in now and test drive the car of your choice.

WHY?

Because alcohol is dangerous enough for adults — many are badly hurt by it! For teenagers alcohol is especially dangerous because young folks are as yet immature — emotionally, physically and in judgment.

We may disagree on many matters in Religion and politics, or the alcohol problem itself — but surely WE ALL AGREE ON THIS!

DISCUSS BENEFITS

SMALL FARMERS
The Bear River Farm Forum met at the home of H. E. Chisholm on Monday night, "Farmers' Night". They discussed the fate of the small farmer and, according to the secretary, Mrs. Chipman Chisholm, the following conclusions were arrived at:

It is our opinion that the small farm and the family farm will survive, in spite of all prophecies to the contrary. In the first place, a short review of the habits large businesses shows that they always engage in price wars, and cut-throat competition, etc., as soon as they are large enough to be jockeying for the place of dictator in their particular field. There is no indication that corporate farms would abstain from this practice. They would force each other out of business at every opportunity, and make the buying public pay for their feuds, just as is done in most other products now. Also, natural calamities occur regularly, often wiping out an entire crop. These large business farms are in the game for money, and in such cases as mentioned above, would have to go out of business as soon as they cease to pay dividends.

The small farmer figures to be farming for life, and usually can turn to some other operation to tide him over the hard periods. Because he owns his land and home, and can produce his own food and firewood he can and will hang on in the face of extreme adversity. He can also supply most of his own labour force, and is not much troubled with strikes. He would also vote 100 percent against a government that tried to introduce legislation to remove him from his farm, so we feel he will not suffer from that quarter.

It is also important to remember that most farmers are farming because that is what they most want to do, so for these and many other reasons we feel that small farmers are here to stay for quite a long time yet.

Seasonal

Unemployment

Total employment declined by the usual seasonal amount between November and December. The number of persons with jobs in December was estimated to be 5,861,000, down 90,000 from the previous month. Agriculture accounted for about 20 percent of the decline and most of the remainder was in other outdoor activities, mainly construction. Almost ninety percent of the decline occurred in Quebec and the four Atlantic provinces. The seasonal decline was checked in Ontario that had been affected earlier by steel shortages and in the Prairie provinces by mild weather. The December employment estimate was 181,000 greater than a year earlier.

This rise was shared by all regions and most industries. The largest gains were in Ontario and the Prairie provinces, and in the services and trade industries. Persons without jobs and seeking work increased by 74,000 to 370,000 between November and December. The current figure represents 5.9 percent of the labour force, compared to 7.2 percent in December, 1958. The decrease in male job seekers accounted for virtually all of the year-to-year drop. Those not at work owing to temporary layoff were estimated at 35,000 in December, compared to 21,000 in November and 26,000 in December of 1958.

New Tusket
(Mrs. Eldon Ford)

Mr. Carl Mullen, of Acadia, was a recent visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mullen. We are very pleased to report Harvey Mullen able to be out again after his recent illness.

LAC's St. Clair Ford and Vernon Parker, of Greenwood, spent the weekend of the 24th at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Ford.

Several from this place attended the shower held Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Doucett in Havelock, in honor of their daughter, Janet, Mrs. Gary Gertz, who was recently married.

Rev. A. M. Rogerson, Mrs. Eldon Ford and Mrs. Joseph Gaudett were supper guests on Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Ford and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Ford.

The "highlight" of our visit came on Hogmanay (New Year's Eve) when we were taken eighteen miles by bus to Stonehaven to see the ancient ceremony of burning the fireballs at midnight. These fireballs were huge balls made of fire netting stuffed with combustible materials that had been soaked in kerosene. Each had a wire attached. At midnight they were set on fire and about a dozen men went up and down the street swinging these burning fireballs around over their heads. The sparks were flying in all directions!

The custom originated many years ago when the fishermen thought that they could "burn away the devils" at the end of the year by burning these fire-balls. It is believed that Stonehaven is the only place in Scotland where the ceremony is still carried on. The crowd were singing Scottish songs to the music of an accordion. Even after we were back in Aberdeen we could hear people singing in the streets all night long.

Another interesting event was a day's coach tour of Royal Deeside and a visit to the grounds of Balmoral Castle and to Crathie Church, where the Royal Family worship when in residence at Balmoral. At Crathie Church, the Rev. John Lamb, C.V.O., D.D., Domestic Chaplain to H.M. the Queen in Scotland, gave a brief account of the history of the church. After leaving Crathie Church we drove to the Linn of Dee, which is the end of the motor road to the West. Beyond this lie the headwaters of the Dee in the Cairngorm Mountains.

On the last day of the course we visited the ancient Royal Castle of Dunnottar. This castle is built on a rock which rises to a height of 160 feet and is washed on three sides by the sea. Many kings and queens have been entertained there, including James IV, Mary Queen of Scots, James VI and Charles II. In 1651 the Castle was besieged by Cromwell's troops and during the scare of Argyll's invasion in 1685 the Castle was used as a state prison and over a hundred Covenanters were confined there.

During the course we were guests at the homes of Aberdeen families and we all very much enjoyed our visit there.

Sincerely yours,
Grace Vincent.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor,
The Digby Courier.

I had an interesting time during the Christmas holidays when another Canadian exchange teacher and I attended a "New Year Vacation Course" at Aberdeen in northeast Scotland.

The course was arranged by the British Council and was attended by twenty-seven "students" from seventeen different countries — Australia, Canada, Ceylon, France, Germany, Ghana, India, Japan, Kenya, Mauritius, Nigeria, Sarawak, Singapore, Spain, Switzerland, Trinidad and Yugoslavia. The course lasted one week during which we visited many interesting places in and around Aberdeen.

On our first day we were taken to the famous fish market. Aberdeen is the largest fishing port in Scotland.

The granite industry is also important to Aberdeen and we visited the Granite Works and a granite quarry there. Practically all the buildings in Aberdeen are made of granite.

Aberdeen's history dates back to the 12th century and Robert the Bruce was a benefactor of the city.

A reception was held at the Town House during our stay and we were welcomed to Aberdeen by the Lord Provost, George Stephen.

At Morischall College we climbed to the top of the Mitchell Tower (the highest view point in the city) where we obtained a marvellous view. We also visited Kings College which was founded in 1494 and St. Machar's Cathedral in the "Old Town".

The "highlight" of our visit came on Hogmanay (New Year's Eve) when we were taken eighteen miles by bus to Stonehaven to see the ancient ceremony of burning the fireballs at midnight. HALIFAX - LONDON DIRECT NINE HOURS 35 MINUTES

MONTREAL—Trans-Canada Air Lines will inaugurate the first direct service between the Maritimes and the United Kingdom this Spring with 82 passenger Super-G Constellations aircraft, as pictured above. Present plans call for a once weekly service originating in Montreal, through Halifax to Prestwick, Scotland, and London, England.

Classes For Deep Sea Fishing

Hon. E. A. Manson

Hon. E. A. Manson, Minister of Trade and Industry for Nova Scotia has announced that classes will be held in the province for fishermen who are interested in taking out sport fishing or sight-seeing parties. Mr. Manson said the classes are in conjunction with department policy for the development of salt water sport fishing in Nova Scotia.

The classes are to be of one week's duration. Fishermen taking part will receive instruction in navigation and operation of passenger-carrying craft. The Department will assist those taking part in the courses by a grant toward expenses while taking instruction.

Last year, at a special course arranged by the department at Wedgeport, 20 fishermen were qualified.

The first class to be held this year is to be at White Point School, Queens County, starting February 1. Instructor will be Capt. M. S. Tanner of Lunenburg.

It is hoped that a large number of fishermen will take advantage of this opportunity. Minimum requirements are: that the fisherman be a British subject not less than 20 years of age; have a Cape Island type of boat with a cabin, or a better boat, and that the boats should have, or the operator be willing to install, toilet and safety equipment.

"For some time the Nova Scotia Travel Bureau has been giving serious attention to the development and promotion of salt water sport fishing off Nova Scotia," said Mr. Manson.

"The purpose of the program is to develop in an orderly and logical manner the sport fishing potential in our coastal waters. The marine waters along the entire Nova Scotia coast are to be included, rather than any one specific region."

"Nova Scotia is well known among anglers everywhere as a bluefin tuna fishing centre. However, other species found along our coast have been largely neglected by sport fishermen, simply because they do not realize that they are plentiful and provide good sport fishing."

"Anglers will travel long distances to pursue their favorite sport. Salt water fishing is especially suitable for family fishing parties and for the beginner."

Mr. Manson said the schools are necessary to the development and promotion of salt water sport fishing in Nova Scotia. Boats and operators must comply with a regulation of the Federal Department of Transport Steamship Inspectors.

The regulation states that passenger carrying vessels in excess of five tons must be in charge of a certificated master holding a temporary engineer's certificate, or a certificated master and certificated engineer.

"It is estimated that more than $300,000,000 is spent annually on salt water fishing along the eastern seaboard of the United States and it is hoped that a portion of this money will find its way to Nova Scotia," said Mr. Manson.

"We have more than 5,000 miles of Nova Scotia coastline and we are optimistic that salt water sport fishing can be developed to one of our largest sources of tourist revenue."

In 1957 a general survey was made of salt water fishing possibilities. The editor of Salt Water Sportsman, Hall Lyman, did an appreciation of the province's potential. Federal fisheries officers throughout the province were asked to find the names of fishermen willing to hire their boats for sport fishing or sight-seeing parties in the summer months.

Mr. Manson said the province last year co-operated in the provision of the 1959 Intercollegiate Game Fish Seminar in which students from the United States and Canada participated.

"The students were delighted at the sport fishing off Wedgeport and they have told relatives, friends and fellow students about what they found here."

Covered by Compensation

W. T. Hayden, Q. C., chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board of Nova Scotia, said today that arrangements have been completed by the board for coverage for all full time municipal police and firemen in the province under the benefits of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Provision for coverage of both police and firemen employed by the municipalities came into effect at the beginning of the present year.

Mr. Hayden said that 22 of the 40 towns in the province and, one of the two cities, already have taken advantage of the coverage.

"This covers approximately 220 full time police and firemen," he said.

To receive coverage the municipality must apply to the Workmen's Compensation Board and be accepted.

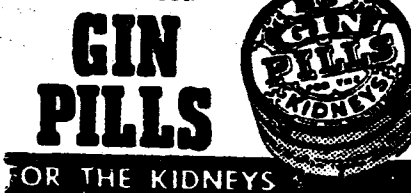

"We feel that further applications will be received from other municipalities in the near future," said Mr. Hayden.

Tired Feeling?

It may be the kidneys. Take Gin Pills to help increase the urinary flow and so relieve bladder and urinary irritations that are often the cause of back ache, tired legs feeling and disturbed rest.

New Tourist Booklet Released

The friendly people of Nova Scotia, the province's wonderful and varied scenery, and sites rich in historic interest are portrayed in a new colour booklet released by Hon. E. A. Manson, Minister of Trade and Industry for Nova Scotia.

The booklet contains 30 color pictures, 26 of them full-page, covering scenes from all areas of Nova Scotia. Photographs were chosen from a total of more than 5,000 color transparencies in files of the Nova Scotia Travel Bureau.

The centre-spread of the booklet is a two-page animated map, which points out the various attractions around the coast and through the province, including places of scenic and historic interest and location of major events held each year.

Title of the Booklet is "Nova Scotia — Canada's Ocean Playground." It is the successor to the widely acclaimed "Nova Scotia Camera Tour", centre-piece of Nova Scotia's tourist promotion publications during the last four years.

Production was supervised by Dan Wallace, director of the Travel Bureau. Photographs are by L. J. Boner, G. H. Doty and E. B. Norwood, photographers of the Nova Scotia Information Service.

"The publication of 'Nova Scotia — Canada's Ocean Playground' results from more than a year's work and the combined talents of a number of persons," said Mr. Manson.

"Nova Scotians have many reasons to be proud of their province and the new color booklet portrays some of these attractions in spectacular fashion."

The booklet contains an invitation by Premier Robert L. Stanfield for people from outside Nova Scotia to visit the province: "Each year we welcome back old friends to Nova Scotia and look forward to greeting new ones. We believe that ours is a delightful province to visit and ideal for those in search of pleasure and relaxation of a happy holiday."

The rich blue of coastal waters, the white of the surf and breakers, and golden hues, wrought by the sun are seen on the pages of the booklet.

"Boats On Parade In Lobster Land" is the caption given to the outside front cover (above). The scene is at Woods Harbour, Shelburne County, with its "quiet charm of the South Shore's magnificent salt-sea coastline."

On the back outside cover, "Peninsula Paradise" portrays the Lord Selkirk, a ferry plying between Prince Edward Island and Caribou, Pictou County, in a setting of small islands and the sea.

In a Digby Neck setting, the bright Nova Scotian tartan reflects the province's spectacular color patterns. An ocean-going ship is shown lying high and dry at a Bay of Fundy tide, and again, a few hours later, highest in the world.

Golden meadows are shown bordering Lake Lochaber in eastern Nova Scotia — a name to remind visitors that this is New Scotland.

A beautiful Annapolis Valley rock garden and a boy dozing beneath an apple tree are a reminder that the climate of Nova Scotia is friendly to flow-ers and to people.

Colorful costumes of residents of the French Shore show that the province is rich in the culture of the Old World. This is indicated also at the Gathering of The Clans at Pugwash, where dancers whirl and bagpipes skirl on Dominion Day.

Rippling waters and delightful waterfalls are a familiar sight in Nova Scotia, as portrayed by the waterfall at Victoria Park, Truro, one of the province's favourite camping and picnic areas. A roadside table near Parrsboro shows the beauty of a Nova Scotia autumn.

Scenes of Halifax show Halifax's Old Town Clock framed by a rainbow, and the Citadel standing guard over the city that was once a centre of British power on the North American continent. Halifax's pleasure water, the North West Arm of Halifax Harbour is shown with its pleasure craft on a sunny summer day.

A South Shore fishing hamlet is the site of a lobster party, while boys at Hunt's Point display their fine catch of salt-water fish. At LaHave, near Lunenburg, a veteran sea captain works on the model of a clipper ship. At Pubnico, Acadian fishermen mend their nets.

Inland fishing scenes are shown from the eastern and western parts of the province with a hunting scene from Yarmouth County.

An old mill and waterwheel on the Eastern Shore is both a reminder of the past and of the magic of a Nova Scotia autumn.

The rugged grandeur of Cape Breton Island has its proud place in the Nova Scotia scene, as Cap Rouge is shown rising sharply from the sea. Beautiful Ingonish Beach, with Cape Smoky standing sentinel, and Sunrise Valley add to the wonderful variety of the Island's scenery.

The Alexander Graham Bell Museum at Baddeck is a modern memorial to the inventor of the telephone who pioneered in powered flight more than 50 years ago at this beloved summer home by the Bras d'Or Lakes.

Nova Scotia's oldest settlers, the Micmac Indians, lend a page of color as they weave their multi-colored baskets near the ruins of famous Port-Louisbourg, each year attracting more visitors from all parts of the continent.

The Cape Breton presentation is rounded out with pictures of Acadian children at Isle Madame and steel making at Sydney.

To Film Maritimes

Canadian National Railways is producing a series of motion pictures, for television and general distribution, to boost the tourist industry of the Atlantic provinces.

The films were taken last summer by CNR cameramen and will depict picturesque locations in the Atlantic provinces. Each is to be accompanied by background folk music typical of the area.

The initial series will include a full length feature on the three Maritime provinces, three 15-minute travelogues, and four television shorts, each of five minutes duration, featuring the individual provinces.

Commentaries will be by John Fisher, internationally known Maritime native, for the Canadian versions of the films, while Peter Roberts, a well known Canadian commentator now with the National Broadcasting Corporation in New York, will interpret the films for release in the U.S.

The decision to expand the railway's present film library of Maritime pictures, was made as a result of the growing popularity of the four Atlantic provinces as a conveniently accessible vacationland for Canadians as well as residents of the United States.

Last week when the four new Maritime films, taken last summer, were released for U.S. TV stations use, the railway received 310 definite bookings for showings of the films. These initial bookings in such large cities as New York, Boston and Detroit represent a potential viewing audience of some 40,000,000 persons.

These films were produced, and scripts written, under the direction of R. H. Ayre of Montreal, CNR supervisor of films and television, and J. H. Fountain, public relations officer for the railway in the U.S. at New York.

All the films produced by the railway, later will be copied for distribution to CNR libraries across Canada, the United States and overseas. The TV versions were rushed to completion so that they might reach the large U.S. and Canadian audiences at this time of year, when plans for summer vacations are being made.

To Hold Christian Drama Festival

The Maritime Christian Drama Council announces that it will hold on the weekend of June 3, 1960, in the city of Halifax, an inter-faith non-competitive drama festival. A play to qualify must be religious, Biblical, or moral in nature. There is no restriction as to length.

Any group that thinks it at all likely or possible that it will be entering the Festival is asked to write promptly to the Secretary, Miss Dawn McKim, at Kentville. We hope she will be feeling well soon.

When they are troubled by backache, that tired feeling or disturbed rest, many women turn to Dadd's Kidney Pills. These conditions can be caused by excess acids and wastes in the system and Dadd's Kidney Pills stimulate the kidneys and aid their normal action of removing these excess acids and wastes. Then life seems brighter, housework lighter! Why don't you, too, try Dadd's?

CHARACTER SHOWS

"A good man does good merely by living", declared a long forgotten observer. Life, yours and mine, has a leavening power upon that portion of the world which we touch.

Little do most humans realize how strongly they affect one another. Sit in a room with people and try the experiment of yawning. Before long, others all around will be yawning. A gay and pleasant person can step into a sombre crowd and soon have everyone smiling.

To a large degree, we transmit feelings, even our dispositions, to those who are handy. They may affect us likewise. This reflects our need of a proper choice of associates.

Why bother to be decent, kind and honest? It is good enough reason to walk the straight and narrow way because to do otherwise would lead others to stumble in the mire.

Virtue is contagious and so is vice. Others may finally point at us in scorn or appreciation and declare that we have made them what they are. How right they might be.

The rose does not keep its fragrance but will lavish it on those who come near. As a boy, I remember on the Prairie a plant called Stinkweed. To the dismay of any who were unfortunate enough to be near, it, too gave off its aroma.

It is easy to see the conclusion of all this. The Christian life and witness rubs off to bless and build those who are privileged to be present. A life that transmits discord and impurity is the very opposite of the intent of our Lord.

280 North Street, Halifax, N. S. for additional information.

The Christian Drama Council also is preparing "Christ in the Concrete City" by P. W. Turner for performance during the Easter season. This is to be a travelling play, moving from church to church as invited, and is suitable for presentation in the chancel.

"Explorations" On Farm, Fishing

The Atlantic Fishing Industry will form part of a four-part series planned by the CBC Farm and Fisheries Department on the "Explorations" series in March over the CBC-TV network.

The section on the Atlantic Fishing Industry was produced in the Maritimes and will tell of the adjustments fishermen are making as they attempt to maintain or improve their economic and social living standards in the face of rapidly changing developments in production technology and marketing.

The film on fishing, entitled "The Seventh Wave" shows by example how a group of fishermen from Port Bickerton have gone a long way towards solving their problem.

Ken Homer, of Woodstock, N. B., well-known commentator and formerly with CBC at Halifax, will appear as host on the four telecasts.

The other segments of the four-part series will deal with "The Farmer Who Hasn't Adjusted," "The Farmer Who Has Moved Out of Agriculture" and "The Farmer Who Has Adjusted On The Land."

The series is being produced by Murray Creed. Planning and research by Keith Russell.

Church Honors Organist

The annual congregational meeting of the United Church of Canada at Granville Ferry was held on the evening of January 19th. The business meeting was preceded by a delicious supper served by the ladies of the church.

A short devotional period was conducted by the minister, Rev. Nathan Bowering before the business session. The minutes of the last meeting were presented by the recording secretary, Miss Laura Hardy, which was followed by the reports of the following officers of the church: Mr. J. A. Ruffee, church treasurer; Mrs. K. L. Oliver, Missionary and Maintenance Fund treasurer; Mrs. Walter Milo, president of the W.M.S.; Mrs. Raymond Gauthier, president of the Friendly Circle W.A., and reporting for the community Men's Club were Mr. F. L. Fields, president of the club, and Mr. John Gilliat, treasurer of the club.

All reports were most encouraging and gratifying. Mr. F. L. Fields on behalf of the Board of Trustees paid tribute to the faithful services of Mrs. Walter Milo, organist of the church, and presented her with a cheque for $50,000 to express to her the appreciation of the church. Mrs. Milo has been organist of the church for the past three and a half years and during that time she has given her services freely and graciously with no thought of remuneration.

A tribute was also paid to the memory of the late Mrs. H. C. Munro, a former member of the Granville Ferry United Church whose death occurred in Scotland, her native home, during the past summer. Mrs. Munro very kindly remembered the church she took such an interest in while residing here and a gift of $810.00 has been received from her estate.

Much to the regret of members of the Annapolis - Granville pastoral charge, Rev. C. H. Gough, minister for the past four years, resigned and left in September to take up his new duties in suburban Montreal. During the interim while the church was without a regular minister, Rev. H. S. Bird of Middleton, very capably conducted services throughout the charge. In November Rev. Nathan Bowering was welcomed as the new minister and since his coming here he has, with his kind interest and friendliness during the past three months, made many friends who feel that a very congenial relationship will exist between minister and members of the church.

The committee of Stewards and Trustees are as follows: Messrs. J. A. Ruffee, R. Meisner, F. Dewolfe, C. Rice, R. D. Saunders, A. Saunders, F. L. Fields, B. Saunders, J. Gilliat, John Layton, F. Troop, W. Webb and R. Gauthier.

APEC Offers Editorial Contest

Budding editors, economists, businessmen and advertising executives, including a hundred and one other exciting future careers for students now in the high schools of the four Atlantic Provinces, are being invited by APEC to submit their ideas on promoting the food industry of the region.

John E. Shaffner of Berwick, N. S., chairman of APEC's Products Identification and Promotion (PIP) Committee this week announced a region-wide "editorial competition" open to students in grade 11 in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland on the subject: "A Common Sense Approach to Promoting Our Food Industry". Deadline for the competition has been set at March 15.

A total of nine prize winners will receive awards donated by food producers and processors in the PIP program.

The Regional Grand Prize winner will receive a cheque for $100 and the school will receive a suitable plaque. The Grand Prize winning editorial will be distributed to all daily and weekly newspapers in the Atlantic Provinces and it will be recorded on tape for distribution to all regional radio stations.

Both the student and teacher will also receive an all-expenses-paid trip to Halifax next September to attend the 1960 Atlantic Conference where the presentation of the Grand Prize will be made by the APEC president.

First Prize winners, one for each province, will each receive a cheque for $50 plus a plaque for the school. First Prize winning editorials will be distributed to all daily and weekly newspapers in each student's province and recorded on tape for distribution to all radio stations in the student's province.

Provincial Second Prize winners will each receive a cheque for $25 plus suitable plaques for their schools.

Both Provincial First and Second Prize winners, along with their teachers, will receive all-expenses-paid trips to their provincial capitals where the prizes will be presented by APEC provincial vice presidents.

"The editorial competition, which has approval of departments of education of the four Atlantic Provinces, is designed to create an increased awareness of the importance of local industry to our Atlantic economy," said Mr. Shaffner. "This particular competition is being confined to our food industry, largely because most of our PIP members are food producers and processors. However, we are increasing our scope month by month. In time, we hope to include all Atlantic Provinces producers in our program. Our Building Products Show and Convention being held in Moncton this Spring is an example."

Commented APEC president Arthur Johnson: "The thought behind this editorial competition is not only to stimulate thinking and interest among high school students about the vital role of industrial enterprise to our economy, but also to enable us to understand better the trend of thinking our younger generation entertains about the future of Atlantic industry. At the same time, APTC is always open to suggestions and ideas on industrial growth from all sources and certainly our school-age population must not be overlooked."

Town Council Report

The report of the police committee was presented by chairman E. W. VanTassel who said fifteen complaints had been registered during the month, of which ten required some further investigation. Five motor vehicle accidents were investigated. A police committee meeting was held on January 17. It was decided to have the Clerk write to see if Acadian Lines buses could be parked in their own lot, off the street. After a lengthy discussion it was decided the committee would recommend that doctors be required to pay twenty-five dollars yearly for use of parking on the streets instead of the present five dollar fee. It was also decided to recommend that the town of Digby provide a patrol car for use by the police department. A number of examples were cited as to difficulties which could arise through the continued use of private vehicles for police work.

Mr. Bent presented the report of the fire committee. He said there had been seven calls during the month, three chimney fires, three oil stove fires, one at the Van der Walde mill and one for an overheated stove. He read a letter from the fire department requesting an additional fire siren in the north end of the town. He said the fire siren at the south end was put in at a cost of $250.00. It was felt, he said, that the new siren should be located at the intersection of Third Avenue near the residence of Richard Levy. Mr. Bent also presented a list from the fire department of equipment required.

Considerable discussion was had concerning sewers. Councillor VanTassel said, "one thing there should be a policy on for the coming year is that of sewer lines into the main sewers, are they the responsibility of the property owner even though they pass under town property?"

Mayor - As I understand it, the connecting line to the main is the responsibility of the property owner.

McKenna - If the town made the connection, it's the town's responsibility.

You can't hold the property owner responsible for what the town men have done.

Bent - They've had a lot of trouble at the Bank of Nova Scotia. This is really a problem. The line is eleven feet deep with not enough grade. They had trouble at the Capitol Theatre.

The costs there were carried by the owner and everything is now O.K.

McKenna - May I ask a question? Does the drain from the collar go into the sewer? That is contrary to by-laws.

Councillor VanTassel gave the street committee report. He said there had been a lot of snow during January and the men were kept busy on Main Street clearing snow and on the rest of the streets putting sand down. The men did a good job of getting Water Street cleared just as soon as the snow fell.

Reporting on the streets committee meeting, Mr. VanTassel said the committee felt the town road grader, which is 31 years old and in need of tires and radiator and which could break down at anytime, should be replaced. It was decided, he said, to recommend that the clerk secure prices on a used grader with hydraulic controls. Mr. Robinson had reported a number of streets in need of a coat of gravel in the spring and the committee would recommend a gravel program. Little League Hockey News

The Pee Wee League began on Saturday morning and the first game resulted in the league leading Black Hawks shutting out the Bruins 4-0. Hawks' scorers were R. Burnham (D. Doucette), D. Doucette (R. Burnham) and J. Cole (R. Burnham and P. Burgoyne). This win extended the Hawks' unbeaten streak to 5 games.

At 9:15 the Canadians posted their first win of the season by shutting out the Red Wings 2-0. Canadians' marksmen were John Ayer (David Turnbull, Fred Robinson), and John Amero (A. Doucette and Fred Robinson).

The Bantam Rangers at 10 a.m. did their best to end the Maple Leafs' 5 game unbeaten string. The Leafs proved too good for them and by a 4-2 win extended the 5 game unbeaten string to 6 games. Leafs' marksmen were posted by B. Olson (P. Comeau), P. Comeau (Marshall and Olson), B. Olson (D. Marshall) and P. Comeau (Marshall). Rangers' goals were by R. Wolf (unassisted) and R. Wolf (Ross, Treffy).

The final Bantam League game was a hot contest for last place in the league as a loss for either Aces or Millionaires would put either in this spot. The dubious honour went to the Aces who were overwhelmed by the moneyman 5-3. Mills' goals were by I. Anderson (Wood, VanTassel), D. VanTassel (Anderson, Wood), B. Mosher (J. Comeau), D. Wood (D. VanTassel) and D. Wood (D. VanTassel). Aces' three goals were by A. Wood (O. Foote), A. Wood (O. Foote) and O. Foote (unassisted).

Mark Sea Cadet Night

The Digby Kiwanis Club, which sponsors the R.C.S.C.C. Cornwallis, Wednesday evening, had as their guests several high ranking naval officers who were in the area for the annual Sea Cadet inspection.

Present for the banquet meeting, which was held at Chan's Coffee Shoppe, were Rear Admiral Bidwell, Commander Manson and Lt. Commander Menzies.

Scouts Mark Boy Scout Week

Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs in the Digby District, along with other Boy Scouts and Cubs across Canada, are marking National Boy Scout Week this week with special activities and programs designed to focus attention on the importance and significance of scouting.

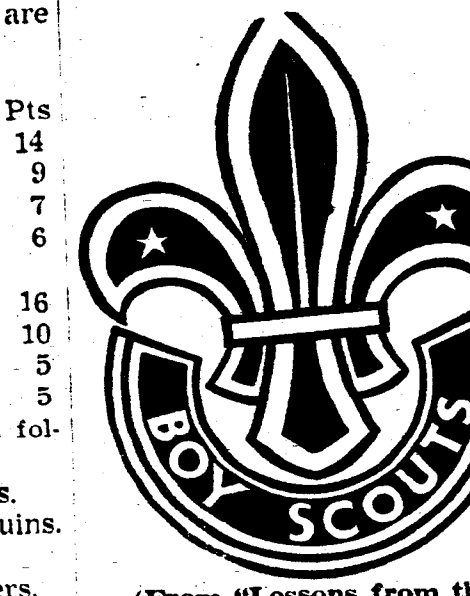

A marked increase in interest has been shown in the Scout movement locally since the inception of the district council in 1956. In the past year alone the number of Scouts and Cubs in the area has increased from 286 in 1958 to nearly four hundred in the first month of 1960 and indications are this number will also be increased as the year progresses.

The Digby district council comprises Scout troops and Cub Packs in Bear River, Clements, Clements, Deep Brook, Cornwallis, Smith's Cove, Digby, Weymouth, Tiverton and Freeport. In all there are eleven Cub packs and seven Scout troops. The packs and troops are being sponsored by a number of public spirited organizations such as churches, Home & School organizations, service clubs and the like.

Dr. G. V. Turnbull of Digby has been president of the Digby District Council since its formation in 1956. Dr. Turnbull has long taken a keen interest in the Scout movement and in 1958 organized and served as Cubmaster of the first Cub pack formed in Digby.

Scout Crest Peace Emblem

(From "Lessons from the Varsity of Life" - Baden-Powell)

"Years ago, soon after the Boy Scouts were first started, certain critics accused the movement of being a military one."

Whenever anything new is started there are bound to be people who get up on their hind legs to find fault with it, often before they know what it is all about.

In this case they said that the Scout Movement was designed to teach boys to be soldiers, and they quoted in proof the crest of the movement was, as they described it: "A spear-head, the emblem of battle and bloodshed."

I was asked by cable what I had to say about it. I telegraphed back: "The Crest is the fleur-de-lis, a lily, the emblem of peace and purity."

It Points The Way

But it wasn't for that reason that the Scouts took it. In the middle ages Charles, King of Naples, owing to his French descent had the fleur-de-lis as his crest. It was in his reign that Flavio Gioja, the navigator, made the mariners compass into a practical and reliable instrument. The compass card had the initial letters of North, South, East, and West, upon it. In Italian, North was "Tramontana".

So he put the letter T to mark the North point. But in compliment to the King he made a combination of the letter T with the King's fleur-de-lis crest. From that time the North point has been universally shown on maps and charts by that sign.

The actual meaning to be read from the fleur-de-lis badge is that it points in the right direction (and upwards) turning neither to the right nor left, since these lead backwards again. The stars on the two side arms stand for the two eyes of the Wolf Cub having been opened before he became a Scout, when he gained his First Class Badge of two stars. The three points of the Scout Promise - Duty to God and King, Helpfulness to other people, and Obedience to the Scout Law.

The slogan of the Scout is "Be Prepared". This was adopted, with much of the uniform, from the South African Constabulary. The men of the Force chose that motto for themselves partly because it spoke of their (Please turn to page 5)

Mr. Denton's father, the late Wallace Chipman Denton, of Waterford, Digby county, served as Clerk of the Digby Neck 1st Baptist Church for a total period of forty years, and it has long been Mr. M. C. Denton's ambition to equal his father's record of service to his church.

He served as a town councillor for six years and was Mayor of Digby for a three year period. Hurt In Toboggan Accident

Roy Waterman, son of Mr. and Harry Waterman, Bloomfield, suffered a broken leg while coasting with companions on Saturday.

It is understood the boys were thrown off while using a toboggan which hit an obstruction. Following the accident his companions put him on the sled and took him to the home of Newman Grey, in whose field they were coasting. Later his father arrived and took him to Digby General Hospital where, upon examination, it was found that the leg was fractured in two places.

Roy is a Grade VII pupil Digby Junior High School.

The Cornwallis fire department were called but were unable to save the structure. No estimate of damage has been made and it is not known if there was any insurance.

Storm Hits Westport

While other parts of southwestern Nova Scotia and the South Shore were affected by the north-east gale Tuesday night and all day Wednesday, Westport felt the effects also. The power was disrupted when a transformer burned at Westport south and dozens of wires were torn down by the heavy snow, sleet and gale force winds. Members of the Power Board crew arrived in Westport at 4 p.m. Wednesday after a battle through the snow on Long Island. Shortly after supper they returned to Freeport, feeling that Westport north could have their power resumed. The sub-station where the end of the cable is, caught fire and burned until the men from the Power Board could return to the Island and caused considerable damage. Power was restored to all of Westport on Friday.

A fishing boat, owned by Mr. Wallace Gower, filled at its moorings in the harbour, a boat owned by Edwin Frost broke away from its moorings but Mr. Stanley Moore and the ferryman saw the boat and were able to take it in tow to save it from going ashore. Hundreds of dollars of damage was done to television antennae, many of which had all the bars torn away from them. The front door of Mr. George Denton's house was blown off its hinges and the meter torn off the outside of the house.

Observes Church College Sunday

Grace United Church observed Church College Sunday on February 7 with a special service in the morning for the occasion.

The United Church of Canada has two colleges serving the Maritimes and Newfoundland. They are Mount Allison University in Sackville, N. B., and Pine Hill Divinity Hall in Halifax.

This year 738 men and 431 women are enrolled at Mount Allison, making a total registration of 1169; 701 are registered in the Faculty of Arts, and 468 in the Faculty of Science. Ninety-two are studying Arts Theology and nine students are older men on the short course Theology.

Every province in Canada is represented excepting Saskatchewan, and in addition there are students from Northwest Territories, U.S.A., Bermuda, West Indies, England, Hong Kong, Holland, Norway, British Guiana, Egypt, Labrador, Indonesia, Hungary, France, India, Malaya, Singapore and Finland.

Registration at Pine Hill for 1959-60 points to a graduation class of 32 for the spring of 1961. This will be the largest class that Pine Hill has ever graduated exceeding in numbers even the previous record of 28 set by the class of 1935. Twenty-two graduates are in prospect for the spring convocation of 1960.

Rev. James Brooks started a series of sermons on the Ten Commandments. From his text he indicated the results of a nation that had forgotten the true God and worshipped false gods in Biblical times. Some of today's false gods, Mr. Brooks said, were race, color, envy, hate and selfish living, money and self-worship. He said the world is shaken today by racial conflict. He urged his listeners to get a good understanding of the refugee problem and problems relating to race; to cultivate a Christ-like attitude toward the problems and to worship the Lord our God and Him only to serve.

Mr. Brooks announced the last Sunday in February would be a Family Sunday when Sunday School pupils and parents would begin worshipping together once a month at the morning church service. Church membership classes would begin shortly. It was also announced.

ABOUT THIS AND THAT

Time For Action

Fifty-two patients hospitalized in the Digby General Hospital which is registered to accommodate 28 beds, as is now the case, calls for some quick and definite action by those in the position to take action. One question which seemed to have been in the minds of everybody was "Can we afford to build a hospital?" This question has not yet been answered in the affirmative but another question today seems to be surmounting the other in the minds of thinkers in this area. That question is "Can we afford not to build a hospital?" When we ponder the seriousness of the situation should disaster of any type befall this area, when time means life, the latter question can readily be answered in the negative.

But the pondering of these questions, it seems, is not the problem hindering progress on this important issue at the present time. If we understand correctly progress is being slowed because the hospital board and various municipalities concerned cannot come to an agreement on sharing of costs.

The question now posing is "How long will the people wait for responsible parties to come to an agreement?" Is there not such a thing as engaging an impartial arbitrator to set costs which would be justifiable in each case. This should not be a case of each trying to get away with the least possible but each party concerned agreeing to share their legitimate responsibility.

Innocent Victims

We know that most traffic accidents are the results of violations of the law. So every effort to stop these needless violations and make drivers realize the importance of driving within the law is important. But let's take a different look at the traffic problem. How about the victims of traffic accidents? Are they only the ones who violated the law? The Nova Scotia Highway Safety Council states that a recent study has indicated that four out of ten of the victims of traffic accidents are innocent victims. . . . innocent of any such violation. This points up more clearly the need for public support of safety programs by everyone, not just traffic law violators only. . . . Safety programs including getting facts such as these to the public . . . enactment of meaningful traffic laws . . . the strict enforcement of those laws, regardless of the rank or social position of the violator . . . and the just and equitable rulings by our traffic courts. If you don't intend to be an innocent victim of a traffic accident, your support . . . your active support . . . of these traffic safety programs is essential. How about it?

Smart Kids, Keep Safe

Boys and girls should always cross the street with careful feet and sharp eyes. That's a good idea all year long, but it's even more important during snowy or rainy weather. Winter darkness, snow and rain make it hard for drivers to see you, so it's up to you to watch for them. It will help you stay safe and strong.

Then too, you know that it's very easy for cars to skid on icy roads. So whenever you have to cross a street, give the cars plenty of room and stay out of their path. You can't always expect them to be able to stop in time to avoid hurting you. The Nova Scotia Highway Safety Council says: Smart kids look out for skills . . . and help prevent accidents.

Municipal Reports

We draw the attention of our readers to the Municipal Reports which appear in this issue of The Digby Courier. This is a practice which is well worth while so that the ratepayers and those interested know the needs of the communities, the monies expended and for what purpose they are expended.

Not every person is versed in figures to understand complicated financial statements or not all have the inclination to study them but generally there are a certain number who are interested. Then there are times such as the present in Digby town and county when weighty financial expenditures are proposed or contemplated. A few misunderstandings in figures can change the thinking of people and effect the area adversely. With reports available for reading or having been read, misunderstandings can be corrected more readily and lesser damage done.

A goodly many people look for such reports on which to base their decisions but scarcely would want to use the already crowded hours of the town and municipal officers to seek the information required.

Electrical Week

There is an old saying "You don't miss the water 'til the well is dry". The same can be said of electricity. Last week we had an opportunity to evaluate electricity to our way of living and to what extent we have come to depend on it. For many years we have ceased to marvel at the power of electricity and taken it for granted as a commodity at our disposal.

Only in such cases as with last week's heavy snowfall and high wind which deprived us of the use of this commodity do we really estimate its value. For instance, in our own case at this new paper plant, practically all machines were idle for most of the day on Wednesday which meant that staff had to return and work late at night to have the paper on the newsstands the next morning. Following such experiences is an opportune time to celebrate Electrical Week.

During this week we want to draw your attention to such things as continuous blowing out of fuses, overheating, etc. This means you need some electrical advice and attention. There is no better time than the present to undertake such jobs and help relieve the unemployment season.

Play safe with electricity. Retain it as your valued friend.

Statement by Hon. Robert L. Stanfield, Minister of Education, Province of Nova Scotia.

A comprehensive reorganization of the Department of Education was effected during the course of the year. As a result, the Department proper now consists of five divisions, whose directors are responsible to the Deputy Minister of Education. The divisions are those of Elementary and Secondary Education, Vocational Education, Administration, Adult Education and Educational Services. The directors of the Nova Scotia Museum of Science and the Nova Scotia Provincial Library and the Principal of the Nova Scotia Normal College are also responsible to the Deputy Minister. The Minister of Education continues to be the Chairman of the Board of Governors of Nova Scotia Technical College.

As an integral part of the reorganization, the Halifax offices of the Department, with the exception of the Film Library, the Nova Scotia School Book Bureau and the office of the Inspector of Home Economics, have been moved to the Provincial Building, where they now occupy all of the second floor.

These changes have brought about a helpful improvement in the efficiency of operation of the Department and in the ease of co-operation and co-ordination of effort on the part of its officials.

It is a matter of regret to recall that during the course of the year it became necessary, because of ill health, for Hon. Malcolm S. Leonard to relinquish the post of Minister of Education, while retaining the portfolio of the Minister of Public Welfare.

Local Education Surveys

At the request of the Town of Truro, a skilled team of specialists from the Department made a thorough survey of all aspects of the town's school facilities and educational program. The report of the survey was received with enthusiasm by the town officials and has already been of much help to them.

The Truro survey was similar to, and a refinement of, an extensive survey of the schools and school system of the Town of Yarmouth, which was made by departmental personnel several years ago at that town's request. At the time of writing a third survey of this type is under way in the Town of Antigonish.

Teacher Education

Our teachers are trained at the Nova Scotia Normal College in Truro and at six local universities or colleges, five in Nova Scotia and one in New Brunswick. In the academic year 1958-59 there was a noteworthy increase in the enrolment of students in teacher education. The enrolment at the university level rose to 188, an increase of 50 over the previous year; and the enrolment at the Normal College was 426, an increase of 107. The same trend has continued during the current school year, there being a record enrolment of 483 students at the Normal College.

In addition to the larger numbers of students training to become teachers, two other encouraging factors are evident; an increase in the number of men becoming teachers and a general improvement in the scholastic standing of the teacher-training candidates.

An increase in attendance at the Nova Scotia Summer School in Halifax in recent years, even after the requirement of attendance for salary increment purposes was removed, indicates the value placed by the teachers on this opportunity for refresher study.

This year a total of 688 students completed courses at the Summer School in a wide range of subjects related to principles, philosophy and methods both in education generally and in the various subjects of the school curriculum. "Block programs" providing intensive training in specific fields, usually over a period of three years, were continued in the teaching of French, primary education, music teacher education, physical education, and auxiliary education.

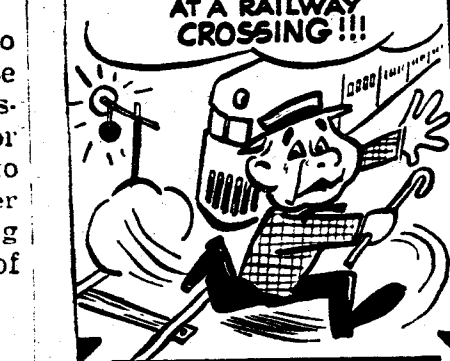

Enrolment & School Building

In the school year that ended last July, the number of pupils in the public schools of Nova Scotia rose the first time beyond 170,000. In the course of that year, the last for which statistics are available, 171,386 pupils were supervised or taught in 5,602 classrooms by 6,177 supervisors of schools, principals and teachers. This represents an increase over the previous year of 7,131 pupils, 222 classrooms, and 264 teachers, including supervisory personnel.

A continuation of the intensive school-building program of recent years is necessary to provide accommodation for the steadily growing school population and at the same time bring closer to completion the program of consolidation whereby new buildings, to serve school children over a wide geographical area, replace numerous smaller schools.

During the school year 1958-59 no less than 66 school building projects, involving a total of 356 rooms, were submitted for approval to the Department of Education by municipalities qualifying for provincial assistance. Among the large new buildings that have been completed recently are under construction, or are being planned are schools in New Ross, Shad Bay, Woodside, Rockingham, New Minas, Dartmouth, Bridgetown, Sydney, Sydney Mines, and Yarmouth, and a rural high school to serve the western portion of Pictou County.

Discussions are being held at the present time which it is expected will result in collaboration between the Department of Education and the Department of Public Works in constructive criticism and approval of plans for school buildings, provision of standard forms of contract, approval of school sites, and related matters.

Provincial Standards Project

For the fifth year, testing of pupils was continued in the Provincial Standards Project. Samples of the pupils in Grade 3 throughout the province were tested in English and mathematics; and as Grade 3 pupils has been tested in 1955, it was possible to compare the achievement of pupils in 1959 with the achievement of pupils in the same grade in 1955.

As more and more testing goes on in the project, the results of the tests are being used more extensively as "norms" or standards for judging the achievement of pupils in our schools. Many school boards, convinced of the value of testing, take advantage of the fact that the project is being conducted in their schools by purchasing enough of the tests to make possible the testing of all pupils in the grade being tested in the Provincial Standards Project.

As an extension of the testing project, to ensure that its results are used to full advantage, in-service teacher conferences are held regularly to assess the findings of the tests and to assist teachers and supervisors to make best use of them.

Curriculum

During recent years, courses of study in the elementary grades of the public schools have been revised in the light of present-day trends. Progress has continued in the revision of courses in the junior and senior high school grades, with the result that at the junior high school level only the course in art remains unrevised (a new art syllabus is now ready for approval). At the senior high school level, with in a year all the courses, it is hoped, will have been revised with the exception of the English course.

A series of outlines or guides for teachers in all the courses of the elementary and high school grades is in the process of being completed. Some 25 guides are now available. Four new guides have been in use one year: "School Health Program — Grade 6"; "Alcohol Education — Grades 10 to 12"; "Social Sciences — Grades 10 to 12", which covers geography for Grade 10, history for Grades 10 to 12, economics for Grade 11 and social problems for Grade 12; and "Time for Action — Book I", which is a guide in physical education for Grade 4. Recently completed and distributed for use during the present school year are "Teaching Suggestions for the Primary Grade", "Science Grades 7 to 10", and "French Grades 10 and 11".

School Broadcasts

It is estimated that approximately 75 percent of the classrooms in Nova Scotia have facilities for reception of school radio broadcasts. Surveys show that an encouraging use is made of the programs.

Nine 15-minute programs per week are produced in the Atlantic Provinces for the use of the schools, and a half-hour program is provided by the CBC from Toronto, making a total of two and three-quarter hours of school broadcasts per week. The programs are broadcast by a Maritime Network of 18 radio stations.

A new series of educational television programs for use in schools has been arranged for presentation by the CBC during the months of January, February and March, 1960. (Please turn to page 3.)

Re The Beverage Alcohol Problem

WHICH DO YOU CONSIDER MOST IMPORTANT?

"In the course of History many more people have died for their drink and their dope than have died for their religion or their country. The craving for ethyl alcohol and opiates has been stronger in these millions, than love of God, of home and of children — even of life."

— Aldous Huxley, Essayist, Journalist, Critic and Novelist.

and this . . .

"The plight of the problem drinker's family may add up to the most under-estimated social tragedy of our times . . . thus the secondary victims of intemperate drinking may include as many as two million."

"This Is Canada" — Sydney Katz in MacLean's Magazine, December 5, 1959.

THE MEASURE OF OUR TASK

Dr. Seldon Bacon, leader of the Yale School of Alcohol Studies says: "Alcoholism and Alcoholics form one of the worst and one of the largest problems in American Society today. Alcoholism has more direct victims and more indirect victims, lasts longer, more dramatically injures the very structure of society, and entails enormously greater costs than most of the other ills that receive concerted attack from voluntary groups, Foundations and Governments; indeed, more than most of them combined."

And yet, in the face of these shocking facts, there are those who want to promote and increase the use and sale of alcoholic beverages!

CARS ARE MY LINE

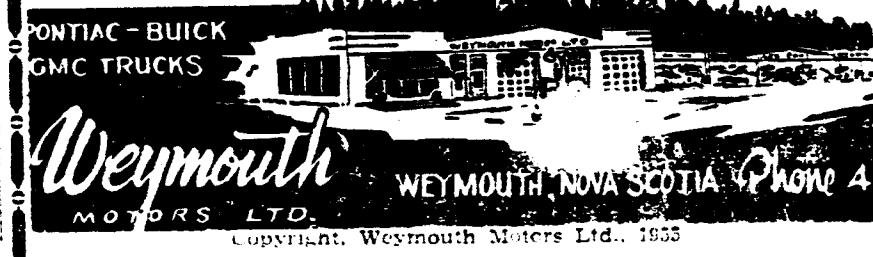

by Ken Hankinson
HAD YOUR STEERING CHECKED LATELY?

Of all the cars we've taken in as trades in the last month, only two went through without a "front end" job of one kind or another. Even the most careful drivers hit a curb once in a while . . . most of us drive over some pretty rough roads at times. Even the best roads have a few bumps.

What does all this lead up to? I think the most neglected part of nearly all cars these days is the front end. We drive mile after mile, and the steering has to get pretty bad before we think about it. When a car is new, front wheel alignment is set accurately to give you maximum steering ease and minimum wear on your tires.

Bumps and holes in the road . . . hitting curbs . . . cause shocks to whole front end. These shocks can in turn cause inaccuracies to develop in your alignment. As wheels get out of line, steering gets harder . . . wear on front tires increases . . . and the farther out of line the more the wear.

It is good practise and sound economy to have wheel alignment checked regularly. And it also pays to keep an eye on your front tires to see that wear does not develop on one side of the tire. Bring your car in now. Let our factory-trained mechanics put your front end in tip-top shape. When all parts of your car are kept in first class condition, you get more economical driving and more pleasure from your car . . . and when you want to trade you get a better deal.

YEAR END REPORT ON EDUCATION
Library Service

An extension of provincial library services took place during the year. Bookmobile service began in Victoria County and expansion took place in almost all the five library regions of the province. In February, the municipal council of Halifax County approved regional library service for that county, to become effective in 1960.

The librarians in all the regions have reported an increase in reading, particularly among children's books and non-fiction. They attribute this in part to the influence of television and radio.

The headquarters of the Provincial Library in Halifax went through a major reorganization during the year, which resulted in enlarged and improved quarters and co-ordination of book collections of various government departments.

Vocational Education

The Department continued its usual activity in connection with the operation of vocational high schools, vocational evening schools, coal mining schools and marine engineering schools, the training of disabled persons, vocational correspondence courses and public school correspondence courses.

The Land Survey Institute is now well established in a fine new building in Lawrenceville, Annapolis County, and the Institute's course in surveying has been changed from a one-year to a two-year course.

A new development during the year was the transfer of unemployed persons training (previously called trade training) from the Department of Labour to the Vocational Education Division of the Department of Education.

It is interesting to note that there has been a significant drop in the number of study supervisors of classes taking correspondence courses because no teacher is available for classroom instruction.

As the result of study and negotiations that have extended over a period of years, the way is now open for the establishment of a vocational high school in Cape Breton. Agreement has been reached on the appointment of a Vocational Education Board, which is now in the process of being formed. This Board will proceed to decide what type of program and what type of school building are desired.

E. K. Ford, an official of the Department of Education since 1936 and Director of the Vocational Education Division since 1947, recently retired on superannuation. Mr. Ford has been succeeded by W. Darrell Mills, who for several years has been associate director of the division.

Adult Education

In cooperation with groups such as Home & School Associations, the Federation of Agriculture, Boards of Trade, and Labour Unions, the Department's Adult Education Division assisted during the year in the provision of 35 general short courses for adults. Subjects of the courses covered a wide range, including conduct of meetings, public speaking, discussion techniques, and farming and fishing problems, community recreation, and family living.

Nine folk-schools of varying duration were held at widely separated points throughout the province. Among them were 12-day schools at Upper Stewiacke and Kennetcook, the annual folk-school at Cheticamp for French-speaking students, and two new projects, a provincial folk-school at Windsor, more advanced in subject matter than the regional courses, and a Maritime Indian Folk-school at Kennetcook.

By grants and other assistance, the Department aided 229 classes for adults, mainly in academic subjects, at which there was a total attendance of 3,259 students.

At the School of Community Arts at Tatamagouche in August, 183 adults participated in classes in drama, music, painting, dancing and leathercraft, and at the Junior School of the Arts at Big Cove, Pictou County, in the same month, 80 boys and girls studied music, drama and painting.

The Festival of the Arts at Tatamagouche was strongly supported, as it has been each year since its beginning. By the staff of the Adult Education Division, in co-operation with nearly a dozen provincial organizations. Attendance at this year's highly-successful Festival was estimated at 11,000.

The services of the Adult Education Division in dramatics, music, parent education and special word in coloured communities continued to be in great demand.

In addition to providing services in adult education, the Department of Education has taken an active interest in promoting a co-ordination of effort by the many provincial organizations working in this field.

Museum of Science

The Nova Scotia Museum of Science maintained throughout the year such well established services as its school loans and visits, operation of the only museum planetarium in Canada, maintenance of the Point Pleasant Park, Nature Trail, art and film showings in its Citadel Branch, and presentation of Audubon Screen Tours. The exhibit program was expanded by new sets for display outside the Museum. Of particular interest are the extremely popular travelling exhibit, "Golden Book of Science", which was shown first at the Festival of the Arts and later at libraries, exhibitions and schools, and the large salt and fresh water aquarium tanks which were used at exhibitions in Truro, Halifax and Lunenburg.

Excavation of sites of early Indian settlements has thrown light on previous cultures in the province and led to the holding at the Museum of the first conference on Nova Scotia archaeology. The most spectacular development of the year, scientifically, was the discovery of new fossil material which includes the oldest land vertebrates in Canada and has been described by authorities in the field as the most exciting fossil development in North America in years.

The Museum's enterprise in the field of photography has resulted in a film, "Nova Scotia, Land of the Sea", which will be circulated in the Audubon Screen Tour series next year, the premiere to be held in Halifax.

To Hold Congress At Church Point

The Acadian Festival Committee recently met with Alban Daigle of Moncton, secretary of the National Acadian Congress to formulate plans for the holding of the first congress at Church Point, Digby Co., during the Acadian Festival in the summer of 1960.

A special committee appointed to look after the physical aspects of the congress was appointed and include the following: Rev. L. d'Entremont, president of St. Ann's college; Msgr. Elie LeBlanc, of St. Bernard parish; Dr. Robert Belliveau and Denis Soucie, of Meteghan; Dr. Louis J. Thibodeau and Marcel Valotaire, of Church Point; J. Medrie Comeau, of Meteghan River; Dr. Philip LeBlanc, Little Brook; J. Alphonse Comeau, Meteghan River.

APEC Speaker

The fundamental difference between APEC's program and other programs designed to better the economy of the Atlantic Provinces is that APEC is set up to bring about economic growth through emphasis on the things we must do ourselves. Other programs have been directed primarily to what the federal government can do to aid the region.

Addressing the annual dinner meeting of the Weymouth Board of Trade, Ralph A. Pepper of Halifax, an APEC director, said APEC realizes the region must get support from outsiders, through legislation, purchasing and financial institutions but APEC's primary task is to direct attention to putting its own regional house in order.

"Ideas and suggestions that develop as a result may well be directed to the federal government, other agencies and businesses outside the region," he continued.

Mr. Pepper said a thorough knowledge of the natural advantages and disadvantages of the region was not only helpful but necessary to anyone attempting to understand the economy of the Atlantic Provinces.

"We have ocean ports open the year round and located beside world sea and air lanes, a climate and geographical location conducive to good living, extensive forests for further development, large mineral deposits of which many are yet untapped, abundant ocean fisheries, good agricultural land, large supplies of electric power and a growing population of almost 2,000,000," he said.

The fleur-de-lis has come to be the sign of the Scouts in almost every country in the world.

In order to distinguish one nationality from the other the country's own emblem is "super-imposed", that is, placed on the front of the fleur-de-lis.

You see this in the United States where the eagle and the national arms of America stand in front, backed by the fleur-de-lis of the world-wide Scout Brotherhood. And long may it so stand.

He was a member of the Bear River Baptist Church. Surviving besides his wife are two sons, Lloyd, of Kentville and Floyd of Sydney; two sisters, Evelyn (Mrs. Gervin Skidmore) Parrsboro, and Rita (Mrs. Fenfield Priest) of Brantford, Ont.

Governor-General Is Chief Scout

When, last October, His Excellency Governor-General Vanier graciously accepted the office of Chief Scout for Canada, he became the 11th Governor-General to serve in that capacity. It all started in 1910 when, during a visit to Canada, Lieutenant-General Robert Baden-Powell, Founder of Scouting, invited Earl Grey, then Governor-General, to become Canada's first Chief Scout. Since that time every Governor-General has accepted the office.

Born in Montreal on April 23rd, 1888, Canada's new Chief Scout is intensely proud of his Canadian heritage. The Vanier name was in the first Canadian census in 1881.

In a career of more than 40 years he was lawyer, soldier, diplomat and patriot. He was a founder member in 1915 of the Royal 22nd Regiment — Quebec's renowned Van Doos of both World Wars. He led a party of men that blew up an enemy machine gun post, was wounded and awarded the Military Cross. He led a company of men that captured an important village and was awarded the Distinguished Service Order for his bravery. In 1918, wounded again, he rallied his battalion and continued a key attack. For this he received the bar to his Military Cross — and lost his right leg above the knee.

After serving as Commander of Quebec District in World War II General Vanier was posted to the London Headquarters of General de Gaulle's French Committee of Liberation, moving in 1944 to Algiers with the leader of the Free French Movement.

Subsequent appointments saw him at the League of Nations in Geneva, Secretary to the High Commissioner at Canada House in London, Canadian Minister to France until his retirement in 1953. After his retirement General Vanier became active in charitable work in Montreal, was honorary colonel of his old regiment and was named to the Canada Council. One of his first official acts as Chief Scout was the investiture of 20 recipients of Scouting gallantry and service awards at Government House in Ottawa last December.

Report From Parliament Hill

By Hon. George C. Nowlan

February 1, 1960.
The debate on the address

continued all during the past week. This will conclude before this column appears in the paper as the debate is now limited to the first ten days of the session. As I have said on many occasions, the debate permits members to refer to almost anything of interest to their constituency or to the country. Many of the speeches have been of a high order, but, of course, many as well were of a purely local nature and, therefore, they did not arouse much interest in the House nor attract many visitors to the galleries.

However, the House has had its exciting moments. These occur regularly at the opening of the House, and perhaps a little background can be given now with respect to "The Question". There are two types of questions. Those which are not of immediate importance, and those also which require study, statistical information, or material of that nature. Obviously these questions cannot be answered on the spur of the moment. They have to be put in writing, appear in the journals of the House of Commons, and ultimately are answered by filling written statements which also appear in the journals and in Hansard.

There is another type of question permitted, however, which the Ministers are supposed to answer verbally at the time the question is asked. These have to be of immediate importance and very often, for instance, arise out of some news item which has appeared in that morning's press. The Members asking them are not permitted to make any statements of fact, but simply to ask the question and the Minister in turn is supposed to answer it briefly.

The House of Commons operates on a regular schedule every day. After certain preliminary matters have been dispensed with the Speaker calls out "Orders of the Day". Then follows the matters which have been agreed upon which should be discussed or dealt with during that present day. Immediately after the Speaker calls out that phrase it is permitted to Members to ask questions of the Ministers. Usually the Leader of the Opposition starts off with an important question, and then other Members of the House continue to ask questions until the pressure has subsided, and finally the Speaker again calls out Order of the Day and then if the Clerk can call out the first item on the agenda, no other questions are permitted. Every so often, of course, the Speaker rather plaintively calls that signal perhaps a dozen times, and perhaps a dozen times the Clerk gets to his feet to call out the first order, but before he does so some other Member is up asking another question.

Of course, many of these questions are genuinely designed to elicit information, but it is also a well known fact that many of them are asked in the hopes of catching the Minister off guard, or of embarrassing the Ministry collectively in various ways. For instance, the other day when a news story emanated from Washington that the Bomarc missile might be discontinued by the American Armed Forces, our Minister of National Defence was peppered with scores of questions as to what he and the Government intended to do if the Americans discontinued manufacturing the Bomarc. The question period is a very good testing ground for the Minister, and also for the Opposition. The Opposition hope that the Minister will trip over his feet, and if he doesn't fall down, at least get embarrassed. The Minister has to reply to the question, but he naturally prefers to reply to it in such a manner as to embarrass the questioner, rather than to be embarrassing himself. It is a favourite trick of the questioners, of course, to put together and decide on a certain question which will be asked. It is obvious that the Minister can answer it in perhaps one, two or three ways. The Private Members divide the responsibility between themselves. One will ask the first leading question. If the Minister answers it a certain way, another Member will pursue that phase of the matter. However, if the Minister answers it in a different way, then another Member is designated to pursue that line of questioning.

During this period, of course, the House is filled and so usually are the galleries. It is an interesting, and sometimes an exciting time, but, unfortunately, it has been getting longer and longer in point of time. When I first came into the House of Commons, except on questions of great public importance, the question time period probably did not last more than fifteen minutes. Now it is lasting over an hour each day.

Roland Michener makes an excellent Speaker. Without indulging in odious comparisons, I can say that I have not seen a better one during the years I have been in the House of Commons. I think that would be the unanimous opinion of everyone in the House. But if he has any fault, it is perhaps that he has been a little bit too easy going, and a little bit too agreeable and, as a result, the question period has tended to get longer and longer. I think perhaps the Speaker this session has attempted to get the questions back in the form in which they were intended to be rather than allow them to be as far fetched as they were last year. As a result the Speaker has been questioning certain questions as to whether or not they are in order and, of course, each time this has provoked a violent debate on procedural matters. An Opposition, once having staked out a position is as determined to hold on to it as was a Guard's Regiment holding on to a bit of trench during the First World War. The Speaker, however, has ruled over these wrangles with an urbanity and a smile which has kept the House in good humor and very often in high humor. The Opposition, of course, delight to embarrass the Members of the Government with quotations from former speeches. Obviously these are not of urgency or importance, as most of these have been made at least two and a half or three years ago. The other day one of the Opposition Members asked the Prime Minister regarding determination as evidenced by a certain speech when he intended to reform the Senate. The Speaker ruling it out of order said with a bland smile, "I am sure that question is not of urgent public importance... at least not to the Senate!" Needless to say the House exploded with laughter.

Shortly after the speech on the address has concluded, the estimates for the coming year will be tabled and then the House will get down to the business of not only debating legislation, but also of considering item by item the billions of dollars which Parliament will be called upon to vote during this session.

Annual Meeting, January, 1960

The Council for the Municipality of the District of Digby met at the Court House, Digby, on Tuesday, January 19th, 1960 at 2 p.m.

Those present were Councillors Roy Snell, Walter Wood, Ronald Morehouse, Victor Finigan, M. W. Derby, Ernest Ring, Clyde Cosman, W. F. Cossaboom, Cecil Jones, Aubrey Forrest and Perley Gates.

The Warden was in the chair. Council was opened with prayer by Father Deveau.

The Warden addressed the Council as follows: To the officers and members of the Municipal Council for the District of Digby, I wish to extend New Year's greetings as we assemble to transact our municipal business at the beginning of 1960.

The past year has brought a number of significant changes in several fields of municipal endeavour in our area.

First, in education, the overcrowding situation so far as the mainland of Digby Municipality is concerned was remedied during the year with the construction of the new schools at Barton and Smith's Cove. Under construction for this session will be the building, in cooperation with the Town of Digby, of a new school of the same type in Digby. Completion of this school should mean the finalizing of school expansion in our municipality for some time, with the exception of Westport.

One matter, in which, unfortunately, not too much progress has been made during the year is that of the expansion of hospital facilities. I do however feel that while we may not have actually progressed very far towards the building of the hospital, the discussions which have been held have gone a very long way towards improving relations and developing of a better understanding of the problems involved. I sincerely hope the year ahead will see the successful completion of this work.

In the field of welfare I am sorry to have to report that there has been a marked increase in direct relief payments over the past year. In fact for the first ten months of 1959 direct relief payments in Digby Municipality were nearly two and one half times the amount paid out for direct relief in the same period the previous year. In 1958 some $10,000.00 was paid out for direct relief while for the same period in 1959 the amount was approximately $24,000.00. It would appear there has been a marked drop off in employment in this area and I am afraid I can see no real hope of any great improvement in the near future.

While on the subject of welfare I would like to extend my thanks and appreciation to the new Alms House Visiting Committee. This Committee has done an excellent job and I feel are well worthy of our highest consideration.

Now I come to what is often regarded as a thorny problem — that of assessment. As you know, we have adopted the full value system but despite this radical change from previous methods only 113 appeals against assessment were registered this year and many of these were transfers. I feel our new assessment roll will prove a much better valuation basis and it will certainly be reflected in the tax rate we will be setting later in this session.

Speaking of taxes, which are the lifeblood of any municipal government, it is disturbing to report that in the year just past tax arrears in Digby Municipality showed an increase. This fact may not be surprising when one considers our direct relief payments have taken such a jump over the past year, but nevertheless it is a matter which should give us some concern and I would suggest careful attention be given to the matter of tax arrears by each member of Council so that in the May session some action may be taken.

From taxes I would like to turn for a moment to the subject of hydro. In this field I am told satisfactory progress is being made by the N.S.P.C. at the Weymouth Project.

Now I would like to say something about the primary industries of our County. Conflicting reports exist concerning market conditions for lumber and pines but it would seem there is far from a boom at the moment in the lumbering industry locally. Farming remains static and so far nothing has yet developed concerning the matter of possibilities of utilization of the marshlands at the head of St. Mary's Bay which has been under discussion for sometime by our local organizations, so far as fishing is concerned prices have not been too bad but heavy storms have affected the catch and generally speaking, returns to the fishermen have not been too good.

There are many other matters about which I could speak but they will probably come up for discussion later. Now I would like to take this opportunity for thanking our Municipal Clerk and office help, together with all the members of our Council for their support and cooperation in carrying out all municipal business.

We report that we also examined the books and records of the Municipal School Board of the District of Digby for the year ended December 31, 1959. Our report on this examination forms a part of this report and such schedules are attached hereto.

Taxes outstanding have increased over the previous year by $13,226.83. Tax collections amounted to 92% of the 1959 tax levy. Taxes outstanding equaled 40% of the 1959 levy as compared with 31% the previous year.

Total revenue for the year decreased by $14,828.81. This was brought about by a decreased tax levy of $23,792.30 offset mainly by increased Government Grants of $9,276.46.

Total Expenditure for the year decreased by $1,352.53. There were, however, substantial changes in the distribution of expenditures among the various classifications of Municipal costs. Health costs decreased by $5,797.61. Although a 1958 expenditure of $17,227.69 for Patients in general hospitals was eliminated, costs of patients in Mental hospitals increased by $4,476.96 and the per capita tax for Hospital Construction was $6,699.76. Social Welfare costs increased by $18,851.17. Appropriation of funds for the Municipal School Board was $17,835.23 less in 1959 than in 1958. Debt Charges increased by $10,053.45.

The total Revenue for the year was $297,766.85, the total Expenditure $297,761.52, resulting in an excess of revenue over expenditure of $5.33 to be transferred to Revenue Fund Surplus.

Adjustments affecting operations of prior years, mainly the decision of the Province to pay grant on Discounts on Sale of Debentures for school purposes, adjustment of grants as estimated for 1958, recoveries of hospital accounts and hospital accounts payable which were undisclosed at December 31, 1958, resulted in a net credit to Revenue Fund Surplus of $14,811.46. After transferring $10,860.43 to the Reserve for Uncollected Taxes the balance of Revenue Fund Surplus Account was $51,144.47.

The Capital Fund Balance Sheet includes only the Fixed Assets applicable to the Municipal General, Combined Capital Fund and Combined Revenue Fund Balance Sheets are presented of the General Fund, Municipal School Board, School Buses and Hydro Distribution System.

Subject to the foregoing, we report that, in our opinion the attached Balance Sheets and related financial statements are properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the position and affairs of the Municipality of the District of Digby as at December 31, 1959, according to the best of our information, the explanations given to us and as shown by the books and records.

Auditors Report

Chairman and Members
Municipal School Board of the District of Digby, Digby, Nova Scotia.

Gentlemen:

We have examined the books and records of the Municipal School Board for the District of Digby for the year ended December 31, 1959, and have received all the information and explanations we have required. Our examination included a general review of the accounting procedures and such tests of the accounting records and other supporting evidence as we considered necessary.

The Surplus as at December 31, 1959 was only $767.12 as compared with $12,242.61 a year previously. This resulted from a favourable adjustment for prior years of $63.89 and an excess of expenditure over revenue for the year of $11,539.38.

The total revenue for the year was $403,206.78, an increase over the previous year of $15,597.41. This resulted from increased Grants of $27,719.38, increased Tuition of $5,713.26 and a decreased appropriation of $17,835.23.

The total expenditure for the year was $34,466.26 greater than the previous year. This came about by increased costs in all classifications of expenditure.

Investment in Capital Assets for school purposes during 1959 totalled $140,372.85. These additions were for the new schools at Smith's Cove and the Barton-Brighton district, the balance of the improvements to the Freeport and Tiverton schools and for the new Bus Garage at Weymouth. These additions were financed as set out in the statement of "Source of Funds for Capital Expenditure". This was temporary financing, except for $2,363.20 which was provided for from Municipal Revenue Funds.

Subject to the foregoing, we report that, in our opinion, the attached Balance Sheets and related financial statements are properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the position and affairs of the Municipal School Board of the District of Digby as at December 31, 1959, according to the best of our information, the explanations given to us and as shown by the books and records.

Report Of Committee On Tenders And Public Property

To the Warden and Councillors of the Municipality of the District of Digby:—

Your Committee on Tenders and Public Property beg leave to present their report for the year 1959 on the Court House —

We are at the present time replacing the sashes and glass in the windows of the Court House that are unsound. Expenditures are $3,081.89 for the year 1959.

As Chairman of the Committee on Tenders and Public Property I would recommend that

Jail:—

As the amount of $4,000.00 was spent on the jail in 1958 and the same was in very good repair, your Committee decided not to spend any amount on the jail for the year 1959. Expenditures for the jail for 1959 were $4,729.46.

Municipal Home

Capital —

Orders issued for the year 1959 to the Municipal Home for Capital Expenditures were for $1,293.93, which covered the cost of painting and papering the interior of the living quarters of the home and the re-roofing of one chimney at the home. As the home begins to look shabby I would recommend the same to be painted in 1960.

Registrar of Deeds —

Your Committee issued orders for the year amounting to $1,009.86. This amount was spent for supplies and maintaining the office.

Tenders —

Your Committee advertised tenders for wood, coal and medical attention for the year 1960. We received no tender for coal for the jail, Court House and Municipal Home, but the Chairman has made arrangements with Digby Fuel & Supply Ltd. to supply the same with coal for the year 1960.

Tenders were received for wood for the Municipal Home from B. A. Alcorn and accepted, this being the only tender. The tender of Dr. H. J. Melanson was accepted as Municipal Home physician, at a salary of $300.00 for the year.

Supplies of groceries, boots and shoes, and dry goods, flour and feed will be bought from wholesale houses.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) Victor Finigan, Chairman.

and Councillors,
District of Digby,

SCOUT WEEK

Speaking of the Scout movement this week, Dr. Turnbull stated he felt this movement is one of the greatest organizations for the building up of national interest among young boys. "I feel, he said, that the Boy Scout movement is one of the greatest and most important organizations for youth training that we have. He said it was a matter of pride with him that when World War II broke out every one of his former Cubs who was of age volunteered for service with the Canadian forces. Their desire to serve their country and to fight for the preservation of freedom was motivated in great part by the principles they learned from the Scout movement, he said.

Norman D. Wright, of Digby, has been District Commissioner of Boy Scouts for the Digby district since the district was formed. Mr. Wright has been actively connected with the Scout movement locally for twenty years and much of the area has been due to the promotional and organizational work he has done throughout the district.

Through the Boy Scout movement, Mr. Wright said this week, we can do much to curb harmful influences to which young people today are subjected. He paid high tribute to the Scout and Cub masters and their assistants who are giving so much of their time and talents to the Scout movement and said it would be impossible to carry on the work without their devoted interest.

Mr. Wright also paid tribute to those who are heading up the district council. The formation of this council, he said, has done much to further the Scout movement in this area and those who are responsible for its leadership are deserving of our commendation. Sponsoring organizations are also necessary, he said, and the groups who are doing this in our district are playing their part in the promotion of a most worthy youth work.

Boy Scout troops and Cub packs are not only working for the development of the boys themselves, Mr. Wright said, but they are also actively engaged in many other community activities. As an example of this he noted that the Cubs and Scouts of Clementsport recently worked to earn a set of dishes which they presented to Mr. and Mrs. Atlee Backler, of Bear River East, who lost their home and possessions by fire. Mr. Patterson Carr is the Scout master at Clementsport and Miss June Lowe is Cub mistress.

A pioneer in the Scout movement in the local area is Mr. L. V. Harris, of Bear River, who organized and led the first Cub pack in Bear River which was started in 1925. A Boy Scout troop had been organized in the village under the leadership of J. Howard Cunningham in 1923. Mr. Cunningham took a very keen interest in the movement and developed the first Scout camp at Eighth Lake in 1928. All the materials and equipment for the construction and furnishing of the camp were taken in by canoe and carried on the backs of the boys and their leaders to the camp site.

Mr. Harris said this week that there is a much greater interest now in the Scout movement than in former years on the part of the general public. In the early days, he said, there were only scattered units and all were individual groups. There was little contact in those days, Mr. Harris said, with the headquarters.

The Digby district council this year will mark Baden Powell Sunday, February 21st, with a special church service at two o'clock that Sunday at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis. This will be attended by Boy Scouts, Cubs, Brownies and Guides from all the Digby district as well as part of the Annapolis district. An in-

When he was twenty-one years of age Mr. Denton joined the Digby Battery of Garrison Artillery and in January of 1898 he went to Quebec where he qualified for his 1st Lieutenant's certificate. In 1900 he was appointed in command of the Digby battery. He made a second trip to Quebec in 1902 where he qualified as a Captain and in the following year he was promoted to the rank of Major.

During World War I Mr. Denton enlisted in the Nova Scotia Highland brigade and recruited a platoon in Digby. For a time he was Officer Commanding "G" Company of the 219th battalion. He later went to Truro where he recruited a unit of Forestry and Engineers of which he was commanding officer with the rank of Major. His unit later went overseas and saw service in England and France. The unit was disbanded following the armistice and Mr. Denton returned home in March of 1919.

Although his active military service ended with the close of World War I, Mr. Denton retained a close personal interest in military matters and the welfare of ex-service personnel. He was a charter member of the G.W.V.A. when the Digby branch was formed which later became the Digby branch of the Canadian Legion. During the Second World War he was active in the promotion of patriotic endeavours and also served as head of the War Finance Committee for this area. For several years Mr. Denton served as president of the Digby branch of the Legion and is now a Life Member.

In the business world Mr. Denton began his career, after graduating from the Saint John Business College, as clerk and accountant for W. A. Piggott in Granville Ferry. In 1903 he resigned to accept a position with the firm of D. & O. Stroule in Digby.

Later, in 1912, Mr. Denton entered into partnership with the late M. A. Condon of Digby and Kentville in the contracting business. The first job tackled by the new firm was the construction of the Bay View Life Saving Station and slip.

Mr. Denton remained in partnership with M. A. Condon until 1922. During the years 1922 and 1923 they operated under the name of Nova Scotia Road Builders and had as partners Captain J. Salter and Cecil MacDougald. During those years they built roads and dams for the Nova Scotia government and power commission and also the Pictou county power Board. Between 1923 and 1925 they operated the firm of Kentville Woodworkers with the addition of T. P. Calkin and a Mr. Bedwin as partners.

After 1928 Mr. Denton went into the contracting and building business on his own and continued in this work until the late 1940's when a serious illness and operation forced his retirement.

Mr. Denton is proud of his British Empire Loyalist ancestry. His great grandfather Denton came to Digby county from New York state and settled at Little River on Digby Neck. There he married Miss Mary Titus. A deeply religious man, he took an active interest in church work and became the first Baptist deacon on Digby Neck.

Jacob Cornwell, one of the prominent early Loyalist settlers of Digby county, was Mr. Denton's maternal great grandfather. He settled at Waterford on Digby Neck where he carved a three hundred acre farm out of what had been heavily wooded lands. Mr. Cornwell was married to Miss Sarah Titus by the Rev. Enoch Townner, pioneer Baptist missionary who was the first of his denomination to challenge the monopoly of the established church in this district.

Mr. Denton spent his early years on his great grandfather Cornwell's farm and went to school at Waterford. When he was sixteen he joined the Digby Neck 1st Baptist Church and was baptized by Rev. Dr. J. C. Morse, a noted Baptist cleric who served as minister of that church for sixty years.

Today Mr. Denton lives in retirement in the home which he purchased in 1908 from the late Judge A. W. Savary, noted jurist and historian.

Although he is retired, Mr. Denton still maintains a keen interest in community and civic matters as well as the affairs of his church. His advice is highly regarded and much sought after by those who today carry on much of the work in which he was active for so many years.

Shirley Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Potter, was one of seven Nova Scotians who received their caps at the annual capping ceremony held at the nurse's residence of the Saint John General Hospital last Monday evening. Total number receiving their caps was 61.

Courage and hard work were stressed as the qualities of a good nurse by Miss Margaret McPhedran, when she addressed the students at the ceremony. Miss McPhedran, associate professor at the University of New Brunswick School of Nursing, mentioned that this was the 100th anniversary of the opening of the school in London by Florence Nightingale. Relating the past, present and future of nursing to the students, she said that the dreams and achievements of the past which assist them now must be carried on in the future.

The caps were presented by Miss Jane Stephenson, director of nursing, who also conducted the candle lighting ceremony.

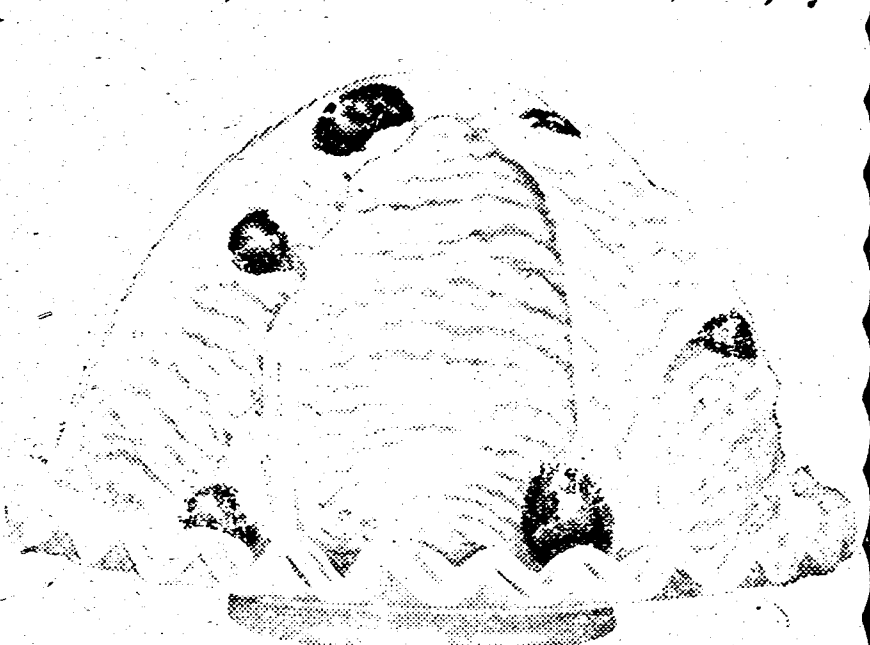

Greetings were brought from the Students Association by Miss Gail Patrick, Student Association president, from the hospital's board of commissioners by Alick Taylor, from the board of the school by Mrs. E. R. Hagerman and from the hospital administration by Dr. Carl R. Trask, hospital director.

ELECTRICAL WEEK

FEBRUARY 7 - 13, 1960

In tribute to Thomas

A. Edison, whose family were at one time residents of Digby, and other pioneers whose inventive genius launched the electrical era three-quarters of a century ago.

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN?

WE USED THE FROST LADEN PUMP IN THE BACK YARD?
MOTHER USED THE OLD SCRUB BOARD AND TUB?
WE HAD LOPSIDED CAKES BAKE IN THE OLD WOOD STOVE?
GRANDMA READ THE BIBLE WITH A MAGNIFYING GLASS BY THE FLICKERING LIGHT OF A SMOKEY OIL LAMP?
THE LAUNDRY FROZE ON THE CLOTHES LINE?
THE MILK AND BUTTER WAS KEPT COOL IN THE WELL?
FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES WERE HARDLY AVAILABLE IN WINTER AND MEATS SPOILED IN THE HEAT OF SUMMER?

WOULD YOU LIKE TO GO BACK?

SURELY WE WOULD ALL LIKE TO GO BACK TO THOSE HORSE AND BUGGY DAYS... BUT ONLY TO REMINISCE. THERE WERE MANY HAPPY TIMES AND PLEASANT THOUGHTS BUT GRADUALLY EACH PHASE OF THIS PAST WAS IMPROVED BY MODERN INVENTIONS AND THE APPLIED USE OF ELECTRICAL ENERGY. ELECTRICAL POWER HAS DONE MORE THAN ANY SINGLE DEVELOPMENT TO IMPROVE OUR WAYS OF LIVING AND COMPLICANCY STILL HAS NO PLACE IN ELECTRICAL PROG.

RESS AND ENGINEERS ARE STILL DISCOVERING AND DEVELOPING EVEN GREATER THINGS FOR US ALL.

DON'T YOU AGREE?

THAT NATIONAL ELECTRICAL WEEK IS THEREFORE WORTHY OF RECOGNITION? THAT NATIONAL ELECTRICAL WEEK IS A PROPER TRIBUTE TO THOMAS A. EDISON WHO OPENED THE DOORS TO OUR MODERN ELECTRIC LIVING THAT WE ENJOY TODAY? THEN LET US WHOLEHEARTEDLY SALUTE THE PIONEERS IN ELECTRICITY WHO HAVE DONE SO MUCH FOR HUMANITY!

Mr. Irvine Littlewood met with a painful accident last week. While using an electric saw at the home of Mr. Alvin Ellis, he quite seriously cut two fingers. Due to a heavy snowfall at the time, all roads were blocked, and he had to be rushed by boat to see a doctor at Digby.

Obituary

Joseph Oliver Gaudet
The community of St. Bernard was saddened this weekend by the sudden passing of Joseph Oliver Gaudet on Saturday evening. Mr. Gaudet was 74 years of age and had been in apparent good health until the time of his death. A carpenter by trade, he leaves many memories in the homes he has built throughout the area. He was the son of the late August and Madeline Gaudet of St. Bernard.

Left to mourn their loss is his wife, the former Rose Melanson, two daughters, Ina, (Mrs. Adolphe Belliveau) and Pauline (Mrs. Neil Gaudet), of St. Bernard. One son, Sgt. Paul E. Gaudet of RCAF staff college in Toronto also survives. There are two brothers, Henry, of Sea Bird Island, Florida, and Thomas, of Lowell, Mass. Dr. H. J. Melanson and Mr. Fred Melanson of Weymouth are relatives of the deceased. Requiem mass was conducted from St. Bernard Roman Catholic Church on Wednesday morning, by Rev. Father LeBlanc and interment was in St. Bernard cemetery.

General Fund of the United Church by Mrs. E. C. Gates. A letter containing the resignation of the Rev. B. D. MacMartin was read by Mrs. Gates. Mr. MacMartin is planning an extended visit to Palestine this year.

Two members were appointed to the pastoral relation committee, namely Mr. P. K. Gates and Mrs. Hartley Powell. The financial report of the church was presented by Mrs. Scott Hankinson and showed an average year with all commitments met. The M. & M. report given by Mrs. Howard Payson exceeded the allocation for this church over and above the $300 mark. Mrs. H. Payson read the report by the Helping Hand club. Mrs. Charles DeLong read the ladies' aid report, also the cemetery report. Two new members were added to this done. Passed. Several letters were read concerning financial arrangements with the provincial and federal governments for civil defence.

A letter was read from the railway association of Canada giving suggested dates for Daylight Saving Time. It was decided Digby would adopt Daylight Saving Time from 12:01 April 24th to 12:01 October 30th, 1960. It was decided the town would continue to use the short form of the Canada Building Code as a guide for issuance of building permits.

VanTassel - At the police committee meeting we recommended that one of the major needs is that of providing a motor vehicle for the use of the police department. Under the present arrangement the Police Chief and officers are paid a percentage of the cost for the use of their own cars.

Mayor - The Police Chief drew to the attention of the committee that this arrangement while satisfactory from the point of expenses did however present certain problems for the police department in that the vehicles were their own personal property and were being used by them as police vehicles and that the question of responsibility for passengers and being involved in a collision might create problems for the owners. It was suggested that because of these things the town should give some consideration to the purchase of a vehicle which would be the property of the police department of the town.

VanTassel - Would you like to take a man in your car who was drunk and disorderly? McKenna - They used to use taxis.

Mayor - In 1959 $1,095.02 was expended for car expenses and gasoline allowance. Nearly seven thousand dollars was spent on the police department. That is a lot of money.

water, sewerage, police, the present building and equipment, land — and additional land if needed. Someone must attempt to put a cost on these various utilities and advantages so we will be credited at the final reckoning.

Move this report be received. The clerk read a letter from S.F.A. Ltd. complaining about a bill for work done by the town to clear their sewer. The letter stated the company was going to bill the town for damages to their property from the flooding.

Mayor - The superintendent of streets maintains the sand which clogs the sewer connections is from broken joints in pipe belonging to the property owners. Some of the owners say sand is being washed into the sewer from the beach. At present we have nothing to go on as to the cause of all this trouble but a lot of conflicting opinions.

Bent - The street is all sand. From about the middle of the street is very sandy soil.

Mayor - Don Hiltz, an engineer who is now retired from the D.A.R. is forming a partnership with D. A. Seamon as a firm of consulting engineers. They are going to specialize in engineering problems affecting small towns. It seems to me this problem of drainage on the front street is one which should be presented to such a firm. The question is what is the cause of the problem. People who own establishments in the area say it is a result of catch basins backing up, of sand from the beach and other causes but not from their own property. I am afraid we would not be able to establish where or how the problem really arises without some expert knowledge on it. If the responsibility is ours we may be able to get some solution to it.

VanTassel - It is happening with increasing regularity.

Mayor - A few years ago this occurred only rarely. Now it happens almost with every bad storm we get. What council wishes to do about it is up to you. I think it would be a good idea to have engineers look at it.

McKenna - Engineering services come high. I would move that Mr. Eaton contact this gentleman in Kentville and get a price quotation from him regarding this survey to our water system.

Woolaver - Where does that start from on Water Street?

VanTassel - We would be under no obligation. We could find out where the trouble is.

Bent - Between the present post office and the wharf.

Mayor - One of the things is complained about is the surface water. The water coming down onto the surface is backing up into stores and basements and the contention has been made that at some time or other the town removed a number of catch basins that were on the front street. I don't know or remember if this is so. The catch basins get clogged and then the water backs up on the street. So far as the sand is concerned the superintendent says the sand under the sidewalk in front of the old post office is badly washed away and in some places it is supported only by itself.

Anthony - What if someone fell through?

The motion was that the town clerk contact the Kentville engineering firm to seek a quotation on the cost of carrying out a major survey of water drainage in the area of Water Street. Passed.

A notice was read by the clerk advising the town that the rate for patients at the municipal home would be the cost figure of $1.03. It was stated the previous billing had been at the rate of $5.00 a week. The new figure would mean an increase to the town of some $2.00.

A letter was read asking continuation of a grant of $75.00 to the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society for work at the old Loyalist cemetery. This was passed.

A letter was read from the Halifax Tourist and Convention Bureau asking the town to consider providing a dinner for some 75 delegates who would be part of a convention of some 350 attending at the Digby Pines this summer.

Mayor - I have mentioned this matter to Mr. Twohig, president of the board of trade. I doubt if the town itself is in a position to get involved in such a thing.

Anthony - Actually, I think it should be placed in the hands of the board of trade.

McKenna - If you start in on this sort of venture you are leaving yourself open to every thing. It is for instance the custom of the city of Halifax to do this sort of thing.

based on utilization; 40% of capital costs to be based on assessment; 5% of capital costs to be based on location; 5% of capital costs to be based in emergency.

They went ahead with their building program — and went to the people, with figures resulting from the use of this formula.

It was suggested by Mr. Cardoza that we have a ready-made, free, formula here, or we could bring in an independent board to study our particular situation and evolve a formula to meet our needs. One of these alternatives was necessary, because, it would be embarrassing to all groups to take a request for hospital borrowing to the people involving three to four hundred thousand dollars without an explanation as to how the percentages were arrived at.

The meeting did not agree on a course of action. It was understood the Municipality of Digby delegates would take the information regarding New Glasgow — and an independent arbitration board — to their Council the next day (Saturday). The January session ended without action being taken. Late information that should be of interest, came to hand last week. A firm that we know of as Turcott & Co., Montreal, was, it was rumored, building hospitals for much lower figures than Maritime architects figured. In tracing down this rumor Mr. Purdy, Chairman planning board, got in touch with Mr. Turcott by letter, and also talked with him personally last week. Mr. Turcott said he could see no reason why we couldn't build an hospital to meet our needs for around $800,000. or we "mention a price the area can agree to and I would build within that figure."

You will remember from the public meeting December 17, the figures by N. S. Architects were:

75 Beds:
Hospital $ 976,000
Fixtures 92,000
Furnishings 75,000

90 Bed:
Hospital $1,015,000
Fixtures 113,000
Furnishings 90,000

If we add fixtures and furnishings to the $800,000 figure Mr. Turcott gave we have $967,000 as against $1,143,000 for a 75 bed addition to our present facilities. A saving of $176,000. The saving on the 90 bed unit would be similar.

Yarmouth is building 160 beds, the cost is $1,490,000. Cost after grants split 45% - 55% according to population — two ways only. Town of Yarmouth and Municipality of Yarmouth. $250,000 - $225,000. Turcott & Co., builders, who are also Hospital specialists.

Middleton is building 100 beds. Contract price is $988,000. Equipment - furnishings - fixtures, $195,000. Total outlay $1,183,000. Provincial and Federal grants, plus money in building fund and current account amounts to $556,000 leaving a balance of $626,000. This balance with the exception of $116,000 is apportioned to Municipalities of Annapolis, and Kings, Bridgetown, and Middleton according to population and assessment. This balance of $116,000 is to be raised by individual and club donations.

Kentville — Blanchard Fraser Memorial Hospital has at present 64 beds with a waiting list up to 90. A recent survey recommended 138 beds with facilities for expansion to 170 beds by 1971. Estimated cost of proposed expansion $700,000 exclusive of Government Grants. This sum divided $280,000 for Kentville, $420,000 County of Kings, 60% - 40%. Of very great interest is the announcement that the Kentville Hospital Association also estimates, with the exception of the first few years the $1.00 per capita returns, and the differential income* would be sufficient to retire the annual bond payments. (*Private and semi-private rates above ward cost which is paid by Commission.)

Because of Greenwood Air Base being in an adjoining municipality, and coming within the tax jurisdiction of neither municipality, the Federal government decided to issue grants to hospitals, so placed, in lieu of taxes which would ordinarily be levied locally. By a formula which has not been made public, $135,000 was granted to Middleton Hospital. Although we don't know the formula, we suspect population or utilization, in some combination was used. If so, we should be eligible for about $40,000, being in an exactly similar situation as Middleton, in our relation to Cornwallis.

One more item. At the negotiating committee meeting Mr. McKenna pointed out some advantages to building within the town rather than in the municipality. Fire protection, street workmen would also be recommended.

3 SHORT SUBJECTS

COUNCIL REPORT

Councillor McKenna reported that the town arbitration committee had met with the committee from municipal council and a new agreement of a 60-40 division of costs had been arrived at. This would mean a saving of 7% or some $900 dollars, he said. The report was adopted.

Councillor Anthony reported eight families on relief during the month with a total of sixty persons. Four families are on relief at present, he said.

Councillor Bent gave a report on negotiations concerning the hospital. He stated a negotiating committee meeting had been held and tentative agreement arrived at.

The negotiating Committee, comprising committees from Digby Municipality, Digby Town, Municipality of Clare, Municipality of Annapolis, and the member of the Digby Hospital Board and Planning Committee, Mr. Purdy in an advisory capacity, met at the Digby Regional High School, Friday, January 22nd. Purpose of the Committee meeting was to negotiate capital cost sharing in the proposed new enlarged Hospital.

At the December 10 meeting we had agreed to use the yearly patient admissions to arrive at the basic percentages to be used in apportioning capital costs. These basic percentages are, for the past year, as follows: Digby Municipality, 62.7; Digby Town, 17.5; Annapolis Municipality (including Cornwallis), 13.4; Municipality of Clare, 6.4%.

Now the problem begins when the objection is raised by the municipality that the Town is getting all the best of the deal due to the hospital being within its confines. It is pointed out that the hospital could be considered an industry of no mean proportions, pumping a quarter million dollars or more into our economy. To this most agree.

Now, how to arrive at an adjustment. How to pin down the tangible as well as the intangible worth of the advantages most agree are present?

We have located one semi-parallel situation. The Aberdeen Hospital in New Glasgow. Their problem must have been nearly the same as ours. The area consists of New Glasgow, Stellarton, Trenton, Westville and the Municipality of Pictou. They were forced to bring in an independent arbitration board, which, supposedly, after exhaustive and impartial study of all factors involved, came up with the following formula, which was considered fair to all sides, and equitable.

50% of capital costs to be

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1960

To Hold Meeting Of Ratepayers

A ratepayers meeting will be held at the Court House next Thursday evening to deal with a resolution to authorize the town of Digby to borrow a sum not exceeding fifteen thousand dollars to finance the town's share of construction costs of an annex to the Digby Regional High School.

Total cost of the proposed construction will not exceed sixty thousand dollars and the municipality's share of forty-five thousand dollars has already received approval.

Of the fifteen thousand dollars to be borrowed by the town for the school construction approximately three thousand will be recovered from the provincial government under agreement.

Construction of the proposed addition to the Regional High School has been made necessary because of increasing enrollment from the area served by the Regional High School. The enrollment this year totals 680 and next year is expected to approach 750.

In 1959 some 190 students wrote examinations for entrance into Grade VII and this year, the number will exceed two hundred. It is understood, however, the peak has not been reached and a recent survey carried out in the town and area schools showed that the number entering school and proceeding through the grades is levelling off. Indications are there will be no sizeable increase in numbers during the next six years. There has also been a slight drop during the last three years in the number starting school.

The pressure from Grade VII classes as they move on through high school is making itself felt at the senior levels. This year the largest Grade XII class is registered in the history of the present school. In no grade below XI is the registration less than one hundred students and in Grade XI registration is 93 with 62 registered in Grade XII.

Because of the heavy enrollment emergency class areas have been established in the library, visual education room and in the commercial department. It has also been necessary to accommodate one class outside the Regional High School building. In all the class areas except this one accommodation is sub-standard and does not comply with departmental regulations.

Digby Curlers In Grand National

A rink from the Digby Curling Club has received an invitation to take part in the sixth annual Grand National bonspiel at the Winchester Country Club in Winchester, Mass.

The rink, which will be skiped by A. L. Robinson of Digby, left Wednesday for Winchester to take part in the bonspiel. Other members are Frank Wightman, Ted Miller, H. G. Webster and Jack Rosenthal. It is understood they are scheduled to meet Toronto in the first draw Thursday evening.

A total of twenty-four rinks will take part in the bonspiel, representing curling clubs in many U. S. and Canadian centres. Only three rinks will be attending from Nova Scotia. These are from Digby, Yarmouth and Dartmouth.

Tiverton Voters Reject Move

Voters in the community of Tiverton last Wednesday voted a proposal that their community should be incorporated under the Village Service Act when they voted against the proposition by a margin of fifty-one against the move to forty in favour.

The vote in the election was heavy with ninety-one of a total eligible list of voters numbering one hundred and thirty-four, casting their ballots. There are 111 names on the resident voters' list in Tiverton and twenty-four non-residents. Sheriff Guy D. Dunn was presiding officer at the election with Milton Outhouse as clerk. Basil R. Outhouse and Orland Guier were scrutineers.

Wednesday's vote on incorporation followed receipt by the Sheriff of a petition signed by twenty-eight ratepayers of the Tiverton district asking that the community be polled on the matter.

New Hospital Only Remedy

The only remedy for the situation which exists at the Digby General Hospital is "a new hospital large enough to handle the needs existing in this area," it was stated in a prepared statement issued by the medical staff of the hospital following an emergency meeting Tuesday evening.

In their statement the doctors said they were finding it "increasingly difficult" to provide the type of medical care to which the public are entitled because of "extreme overcrowded conditions and over-utilization of facilities existing in the hospital."

"It is our studied opinion," the statement said, "that the only remedy is a new hospital, large enough to handle the needs existing in this area." The statement concluded by stating the doctors "consider it our duty" to inform the public of the situation.

It is understood the doctors on the staff of the hospital will make a further presentation concerning conditions at the hospital at the hospital annual meeting, which is to be held Thursday evening.

Eager Beavers Still Lead

With two weeks to go before playoffs begin, the Eager Beavers still hold the lead in the women's division of the Digby Bowling League.

Team standings are as follows:

Eager Beavers	64
Lucky 7's	59
Roll-a-ways	55
Upstarts	37
Spare O's	32
Rockettes	29
Rookies	17
Pin Girls	11

Vie Burnham also still holds the high triple score with 272 and high single is held by Grace Pulsifer with 115.

Fire Destroys Hens

Fire broke out on the property of Mrs. Herman Steele at Southville, Digby Co., on Sunday night when a shed and hen pen were destroyed by fire. Over twenty hens were lost in the blaze. Weymouth Fire Department was summoned and was instrumental in preventing further loss.

It is believed, according to reports, that live coals might have existed in ashes which had been discarded earlier.

Home with Mrs. Steele were her daughter, Vaughn, and son, Stedman. Mrs. Steele tends the Southville Post Office.

Lodge Notes

At the last regular meeting of Zelma Rebekah Lodge $10 was voted out to the March of Dimes campaign.

It was decided that after last meeting four of the Sisters (alphabetical order) would put on the entertainment and refreshments.

Sisters Nora Abramson, Seraph Barnes, Helena Barnes and Violet Burnham started this new program by having a penny sale and serving sandwiches and coffee.

Sisters Ellen Cleveland, Hilda Bremner, Ruth Daley and Gladys Cann are conveners for Monday night and are having bingo each member is asked to bring a prize for the bingo table.

To Establish Library

The Friday Night Club, of Smith's Cove, has been active over the past several weeks making plans to establish a library for the village.

Already a quantity of books has been collected and efforts are being made to secure donations of more. An appeal is being made to everyone with books which could be donated, asking these people to get in touch with a member of the Friday Night Club.

The club has been donated the use of the basement of St. Anne's Anglican Church in Smith's Cove for the library quarters and it is understood persons who are donating books may also leave them at the church.

Kiwanians Entertain Sea Cadet Officers

Rear Admiral Bidwell was guest speaker at the dinner. He complimented the sponsors and commanding officer, Charles McBride, for the excellent record of the corps and mentioned the advantage of being near the naval base, HMCS Cornwallis. In noting the advantages of cadet training to the boys Rear Admiral Bidwell said that many of the senior officers in the Navy and many of the leaders in civilian life had been in the Sea Cadet Corps. The main function of the corp, he said, is to create good citizens. They learn about the navy but further they absorb navy discipline and navy tradition, all of which stands them well no matter what sphere of life they later enter.

Captain Frewer in a short talk said that of the thousands of new entries which come to the naval base for training those who had cadet training could readily be pinpointed. They have leadership quality, he said, are an example to others and generally advance more favorably.

Commander Manson spoke on the strength of a corp with a solid sponsorship behind it as compared with the corp lacking sponsorship. He emphasized that the cadet age from 14 to 18 was most impressionable and the cadet training helps to turn out still better young men even through they might be good without the training.

Lieutenant Commander Menzies also spoke highly of the training. F. C. Purdy thanked the speakers.

Previous to hearing the speakers C. M. Levy inducted Leigh Jayne into the office of vice-president and a pin presented to the new treasurer, C. V. Snow, who succeeds H. C. Morton.

It was announced that the Kiwanians would again conduct the Easter Seal campaign and that the Speech Therapy Clinic had been held. A number of Digby Kiwanians accompanied the Navy guests to HMCS Cornwallis for the annual cadet inspection.

E. J. Theriault presided at the piano for a sing-song. The meeting was presided over by President Edgar Chan. Following the meeting Kiwanians accompanied the Navy guests to HMCS Cornwallis for the annual cadet inspection.

Married 50 Years 61st Anniversary. Honor Memory Of Digby Man

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Frost, of Port Maitland, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on February 9th. They were married on February 9th, 1910, at Centreville, Digby Co., by Rev. R. M. Browne, after driving a distance of 15 miles by horse and sleigh. Later a reception was held at their own home at Tiddville, Digby Co., where they resided until the year 1917 when they, with their two children, moved to Beaver River. In the year 1942 they moved to Port Maitland, Yarmouth Co., where they now reside. Mr. Frost is a partner of O. C. Frost & Son, boatbuilders.

As the family was unable to get together on the 9th, Mr. and Mrs. Frost had a pleasant surprise on Saturday evening, February 6th, when nine of their children, with their families, gathered at their home and presented them with a beautiful floor lamp and anniversary wedding cake. The square two-tiered cake, decorated with Good Luck emblems and topped with a miniature bride and groom, was made by Mrs. Walter Thomas. They were also presented with a round three-tiered cake made by their daughter, Carol, and decorated by Mrs. Thomas. The delightful evening spent included singing with piano and guitar accompaniment, among the specials being solos by 4 year old Valerie Nestor and 5 year old Randall Conrad accompanied at the piano by Aunt Carol. Several pictures were taken during the evening. Refreshments of cake and home made ice cream were served.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Perry (Lyla), sons LeRoy and Kent, of Short Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Kingsley Outhouse (Leta), and daughters Greta and Carolyn, of Port Maitland; Mr. and Mrs. Orin Tidd (Helen), sons Vaughn and Roger, of Whale Cove; Mr. and Mrs. Kingsley Frost, sons Lynn and Harry, of Port Maitland; Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Conrad (Kathleen), daughters Sonja and Sandra and son Randall, of Port Williams; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Churchill (Althea), daughters Sheila and Sharon and sons Gary and Stanley of Sandford; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Frost, sons Terry and Walter, of Port Williams; Mr. and Mrs. James Nestor (Fay), daughter Valerie, of Wellington, Carole, at home, and a guest, Lowellyn Outhouse.

The evening closed with grateful hearts that the family could be together.

Unable to be present was their son, Clyde, of Hamilton, Ont., his wife, their daughters, Mrs. Norman Penney (Virginia), of Halifax; Mrs. Garnet Wallace (Ruth), and Mrs. Richard Durland (Dianne), of Kentville; also five great grandchildren.

Organize W.A.

Approximately twenty-five women of Grace United Church met at the church hall on Tuesday evening when a Women's Association of Grace United Church was organized.

The meeting was presided over by Rev. James Brooks who led in prayer and explained the functions of W.A. After due discussion it was decided unanimously to organize.

Voting by ballot resulted in Mrs. Alfred Kenney elected as president and Mrs. Bryson Denton as secretary. Other officers and committees are to be appointed at the next and following meeting. It was decided to meet on the last Tuesday of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. David Dukeshire, Bear River East, are receiving congratulations on their 61st wedding anniversary on February 15th. The previous day, February 14th, was also Mr. Dukeshire's 91st birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dukeshire are now living with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Berry. They received several gifts, cards, etc., some from friends and relatives not able to be present at the anniversary celebrations.

They are both in fair health. Both days several called to offer congratulations, among them Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dukeshire, also Cleveland Dukeshire and daughter, Patricia, of Bear River, Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Jefferson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dukeshire and family, Grandville Ferry.

The daughter, Mrs. Lyle Stephens, and Mr. Stephens, of Saint John, recently spent a month with Mr. and Mrs. Dukeshire.

They have two sons, Wilfred, Clements, and Harry, Grandville Ferry; 3 daughters, Mrs. Lyle Stephens, Saint John, N. B. (Edith), Mrs. Harvey Saunders, U. S. A. (Evelyn), Mrs. Oscar Berry, Bear River East. They have 19 grandchildren, 15 great grandchildren and 4 great great grandchildren.

Best wishes go to this great couple for many more years of happiness together.

School Curlers Lose Out

A rink from the Digby Regional High School lost out in their bid for the provincial school boy curling championship when they dropped two games in the bonspiel held this year at Sydney.

Despite the fact the Digby boys did not achieve their ambition to take the provincial title, they had a wonderful time, both at the bonspiel and during the trips to and from Sydney.

The rink, consisting of Fulton Logan, skip; Garry Gesner, mate; Ray Riley, second stone; and Robert Beckwith, lead, travelled by train and plane to attend the bonspiel and their trip was made even more interesting and exciting because of complications occasioned by the heavy snowfall which hampered rail transportation on the trip to Sydney. The lads were accompanied by Clinton McInnes, staff advisor and coach.

Little League Hockey News

When Pee Wee action began last Saturday morning, the first game saw the second place Red Wings snap the Black Hawks' five game winning streak. Tommy Muise's Black Hawks who, to date, had only dropped one game in nine starts, dropped the tenth game to Walt Murphy's Red Wings.

Wings' scorers were T. Saben (H. Stark, G. Outhouse), B. Neville (R. VanTassel), Black Hawks' singleton was by D. Doucette (unassisted).

The second game saw the last place Canadians win their second game of the season and their second straight win and move out of the cellar. J. Ayer's unassisted lone goal was enough to shut out the Bruins and collect two points.

In the Bantam League Saturday was tie day. The first Bantam game saw the Maple Leafs and Aces tie 2-2. Leafs' markers were by P. Comeau (Olson, Marshall) and B. Olson (P. Comeau). Aces' markers were D. Woof (Murley) and P. Murley (D. Murley).

The last game of the morning saw the Rangers tie the Millionaires 1-1. Rangers goal was by R. Woof (Manning, Winchester). The Mills' marker was by D. VanTassel (I. Anderson).

League standings are as follows:

Mrs. (Dr.) Earle H. Anderson has received word that a new sports arena, recently built at Camp Borden, is to be named the "Andy Anderson Arena" in honor of her late husband, Major Earle H. Anderson D.S.O., C.D.

Major Anderson, who was the son of Mrs. Frank L. Anderson and the late F. L. Anderson, a former Mayor of Digby, was born here in 1913. After graduating from Digby Academy he attended Acadia University where he obtained his B.Sc. degree in 1933. He then went to McGill University, graduating in medicine in 1938. He interned in the Montreal General Hospital.

In 1940 Dr. Anderson joined the Canadian armed forces and spent the next five years as medical officer for the Seaforth and Black Watch regiments in a number of ambulance units.

While serving in Italy Dr. Anderson was awarded the Distinguished Service Order for his efforts in evacuating the wounded from the battle area in 1941. In the battle he went on foot into the battle area, despite heavy enemy bombardment, and personally supervised and assisted in the evacuation of the wounded from the battle area and from regimental first aid posts.

After the war Dr. Anderson returned to Canada and for a time was associated with the RCAMC at Camp Borden. He later opened a medical practice in his home town.

In 1950 he re-enlisted in the medical corps and saw service in Korea as commanding officer of the 25th Field Ambulance. After the Korean struggle he returned to Canada and was stationed at Camp Borden and Sunnybrook Military Hospital.

Dr. Anderson went overseas again in 1956 and served in Germany where he met his death in April of 1957 as the result of a motor accident. At the time of his death he was acting head of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Appointments Made To Hospital Board

Lebaron Troop, 81-year-old warden, presided over opening session of Annapolis County municipal council Tuesday. He has served 45 years as municipal Councillor and this, his second year as warden, rounds off 49 years of civic service.

A minute's silence was observed in memory of late Councillor Truman Lowe, and Lawrence Snell, of Deep Brook, was sworn in to fill the vacancy.

In his report County Medical Health Officer Dr. H. E. Kelly, Middleton, advocated surveying new buildings regarding efficient sewage disposal. He was re-appointed, as was Dr. O. R. Stone, medical attendant at the County home and hospital. Bridgetown, who also presented his report.

County Clerk Wilfred L. Bishop read reports by Glen Wagner, superintendent of the county home, and Clyde Hill, superintendent of the county hospital.

Councillor George Jefferson asked council to consider a donation of $40,000 to the proposed new Digby hospital. The 28 bed County hospital often had to care for 52 patients, he said.

Reports by registered municipal auditor W. E. Anderson was explained by the treasurer, David M. Armstrong.

Councillors Snell, Lower and Jefferson were appointed to the Digby hospital board, Councillor Barteaux to the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital Board, Middleton. Jefferson, Snell and Meisner were appointed on the joint planning committee for Digby hospital. Dr. Kerr was named jail physician.

Grants were made as follows: Port Wade Ferry $100, Salvation Army $400, Canadian National Institute for the Blind $250, Digby County Exhibition $100.

An innovation is that 1960 taxes will be collected through the treasurer's office, no discount and six percent after Oct. 31.

HONOR MEMORY

Indian Army Medical Corps in Germany.

During all his lifetime Dr. Anderson took a keen interest in sports and athletics. As a boy he enrolled in the Boy Scouts in Digby and later became a leader in the Boy Scout movement in Digby. He also attended a number of international Scout meets and jamborees. During his student days at Acadia and McGill he was active in sports. At Acadia he played on the hockey and football teams. He also received acclaim as a runner and a discus and javelin thrower and was the holder of a number of records, both in civilian and service athletic circles. He was also an ardent fisherman and hunter and during his vacations spent many hours in the woodlands of his native province.

While in Digby Dr. Anderson was active in the promotion of sports and athletics in the community and while in practice here he headed a number of athletic organizations. It was due in great part to his untiring and devoted efforts that an artificial ice rink and curling club was established in Digby. He was also greatly concerned with the welfare of ex-service personnel and took an active part in the work of the local branch of the Canadian Legion. During his years of service in the Canadian armed forces Major Anderson earned the high regard of his fellow officers and men for his great personal courage and his amiable disposition and his concern for the welfare and morale of all who served with him. The fact that the new arena at Camp Borden has been named in his memory and honor is a tribute to that high regard in which he was held.

So far no date has been set for the official opening of the new Andy Anderson Arena.

ABOUT THIS AND THAT

Co-operation And Courage

The two pages of co-operative advertising in this week's issue of The Digby Courier recalls the co-operative and courageous spirit which has existed in the village of Weymouth. Some years ago when the Weymouth Industries Ltd. burned to the ground we recall the co-operative spirit which prompted the staff and others in the village to engage in erecting a building to get the plant in operation. News and editorial releases told of the instance near and far.

Again when the main street in Weymouth was partly destroyed by fire last summer, with courage and vision the men and women either rebuilt or secured other premises on which to carry on so that several fine stores, more modern and better equipped than previously, have resulted. Here, too, one could sense the spirit of co-operation among the business people of the village.

There are other instances where a co-operative spirit and a spirit of faith and courage for the future has been apparent in the village. The village of Weymouth, as can be readily seen, is thriving under these conditions.

Not only in the business realm does Weymouth show a spirit of co-operation and energy. Many of its organizations have signs of health and co-operation. Offhand we can think of a most energetic Cancer Society, growing Kiwanis Club, successful Flower Show and other worthwhile groups. Their latest achievement we believe is their public library under the direction of Miss Constance Carr which now has reached 600 books. Such an achievement is really an asset to the village, a guidance to the growing boys and girls and of recreational and educational value to those of older years. This, too, could have been achieved only by good leadership and co-operation.

The step this week led by Weymouth Motors Ltd. and with co-operation of other merchants of the village in their advertising is just another co-operative step which we feel will pay community-wise dividends.

Important Meetings

We would call the attention of our readers to two important meetings which were advertised in the local press. These meetings are the annual meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses Local Association on Friday afternoon and the annual meeting of the Digby General Hospital on Thursday evening. Both of these meetings are important for they have to do with maintaining one of the most important assets in our lives — good health.

Only three weeks ago we celebrated National Health Week from January 31 to February 6. In answering the question "Why a National Health Week?" the executive committee made this reply, "to make Canadians aware of the achievements of medical science in the areas of prevention and cure, and to point up the ways in which each Canadian can utilize these developments to have good health." Further they said that Canadians must be awakened to the knowledge that health is important and that each one of us can do something about it. Practically the same words could be used to reply to the question "Why attend the V.O.N. and hospital meetings?" Simply, to become aware of the achievements made by the V.O.N. and the Digby General Hospital in your area, what they have done as a means of preventing and curing disease, how they have relieved suffering and anxiety in your midst and to find out how you, too, can utilize what they offer for the good health of yourself and your family. These meetings if attended should awaken the people within and without Digby town to the fact that health is important and that each one can have something to do about it.

The past year's reports will be presented at both the V.O.N. and hospital meetings when those in attendance will have an opportunity to see what is necessary in personnel and finances to operate such organizations and institutions. The reports will reveal, we expect, that there are many needs to be met. It is the duty of each to become acquainted with these needs so as to share in making intelligent decisions to meet the needs. Each can do something about that.

The first of the meetings is that of the Digby General Hospital on Thursday evening. The momentous question of whether or not we shall launch into the much needed additional hospital space will be facing us in the near future. It is desirable, in view of this question alone, that as many as possible become acquainted with hospital achievements and needs which might be revealed in the reports on Thursday evening.

The Victorian Order of Nurses carries on a service of bedside nursing, health education and particularly does a worthy chore in the area of prevention of disease. Reports at the meeting on Friday afternoon will reveal the accomplishments of this organization. Besides the reports, there will be an interesting address by Miss Ethel Graham, R.N., of Annapolis Royal, who had spent a number of years with the Grenfell Mission in Labrador and is also acquainted with V.O.N. work. There will also be slides of the Grenfell Mission and an afternoon tea. The V.O.N., too, needs your interest and support.

Final Year Acadia Campaign

Only one full year remains in the three-year Acadia University Fund campaign for $1,750,000, of which some $1,100,000 had been pledged at the end of 1959. The $650,000 yet to be raised will be sought in the period up to February 1, 1961, the official closing date for the big effort as announced by Dr. T. B. McDormand, executive vice-president of Acadia.

The Fund relates to these important objectives: a building program and faculty salary increases, through debt reduction and endowment increases. The building program includes, in order of priority: a new chemistry building, to cost about $800,000; (picture above) a new men's residence to accommodate 125 students; a new engineering building. The chemistry building, to be known as Elliott Hall, in recognition of Dr. M. R. Elliott's chairmanship of the Acadia Board of Governors for nearly thirty years, is under construction, though corporation gifts for this purpose are still $200,000, short of the cost involved. The men's residence, costing about $350,000, will be available to all Canadian universities. This building will be erected in 1960 in time for the fall term of the university. Salary increases for faculty members have already been made possible to a degree. An increase of about 20 percent was made in 1958, and a further 5 percent hoist went into effect on January 1, 1960. When the Fund campaign began, the accumulated operational debt of the university was just over $600,000. This has now been reduced to less than half that figure. At the same time, endowment funds have been increased by about $40,000, to a total of $2,000,000. This total should be increased during the next ten years or so to $5,000,000, in view of the reduced purchasing power of the dollar in recent years. Legacies have helped greatly to augment the endowment fund. A legacy of over $250,000 was received in 1958. Over $100,000 in legacies came to hand in 1959. Nevertheless, the campaign is looked to for further vital help in debt reduction and endowment increases.

The Acadia University Fund campaign has sought support from business firms, Acadia graduates, churches, and individuals other than alumni. Of the $920,000 assigned to corporations, about $600,000 has been pledged. The allotment to Maritime Baptist Churches of $100,000 has been almost pledged in full. The alumni portion of $300,000 has still $100,000 to be pledged. Personal and undesignated gifts, estimated at $430,000, have only reached the 50 percent mark. The $1,100,000 raised has already given the university a tremendous lift, and the new chemistry building and the men's residence are assured, with a resultant capacity for a 25 percent increase in enrolment.

The campaign effort in Western Nova Scotia was, in the main, delayed owing to the serious illness of Dr. C. B. Lumsden as that phase of the effort was being launched. The towns on the South Shore and through the Annapolis Valley are being organized for a more thorough-going canvass during the spring months of this year. Dr. T. B. McDormand, newly-appointed Executive Vice-President of Acadia will give leadership in this effort.

Acadia University, with an annual budget of $1,200,000, is a major economic asset to the western Nova Scotia, and every investment in its growth and stability is an investment in the well-being of Nova Scotia and, indeed, the Maritimes generally. More important, however, is Acadia's contribution to the education of the finest of our youth. Some 70 percent of Acadia's enrolment comes from Western Nova Scotia (including Halifax), although it has students from every province in Canada, from many parts of the United States, and from twelve other countries. Its present enrolment of 800 is certain to increase, as high school graduating classes increase, and it is preparing for a larger service through the current building program.

An investment in higher education of the talents of our ablest young people; an investment which will continue to bear dividends of the highest value for years to come. Western Nova Scotia will have an opportunity to invest in Acadia's important contribution to higher education during the months just ahead.

CARS ARE MY LINE

by Ken Hankinson

OIL CHANGES: HOW OFTEN?
We car dealers are just human the same as you (no remarks please) and though we practically live with these four-wheeled monsters we sell we never know all the answers to the questions that plague us about them.

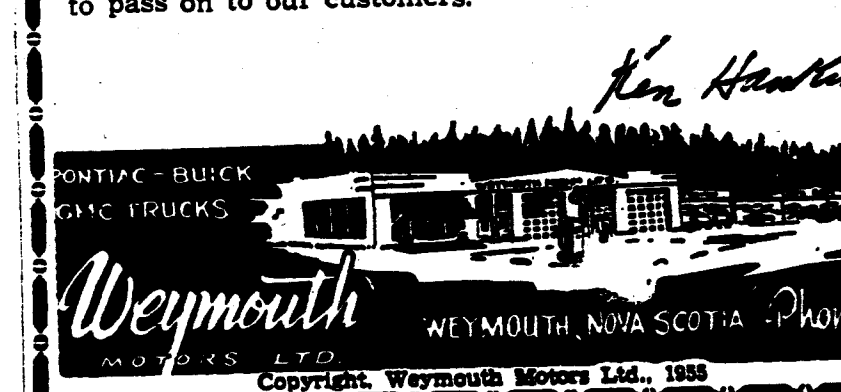

Take that old chestnut for instance: "How often do you REALLY have to change oil?" Well, I've read the oil company ads too, but to really get the technical reasons I cornered a petroleum engineer the other day and his explanation I figured, would make sense to all of the other car drivers who've wondered it the same as I have.

Rule number one, he said, is that there IS no standard rule, despite the sales propaganda, because no cars are driven the same under the same conditions. If you've just driven through a dust storm — for instance, change your oil as soon as possible after because you're bound to have picked up a lot of dust particles in your oil that act like sandpaper to your cylinder walls and your filter probably hasn't stopped them all.

That's one reason for changing — dirt in your oil. But the second is most important — and harmful — especially since you can't see it and your oil filter can't stop it. It's called "dilution" and it happens every time you start a cold engine. Some of the gasoline entering the combustion chamber condenses and runs down the cylinder walls as liquid. This mixes with the oil in your crankcase and eventually this it to the point where it can no longer properly lubricate an engine at normal temperature.

If you only use your car for start and stop city driving you should change your oil as often as every 500 miles, but if you're using it only for long drives, such as salesmen frequently do, you may go as far as 5,000 and even 10,000 without a change.

How often you change is up to you, of course, but we hope you'll lean a little on the careful side. That's because we'd like to be given the pleasure of selling the old buggy when you decide you want to move up to a newer one and a tight, well-kept engine is the only kind we want to pass on to our customers.

NOTICE

WHY increase the number of liquor outlets?

WHY encourage the increase of the Alcohol Problem by holding cocktail parties and running of liquor bars by social clubs and other groups?

WHEN, Never in the world's history has there been so much need to abstain from drinking alcoholic beverages as there is today.

WHY?
BECAUSE ALCOHOL'S FIRST EFFECTS IS UPON THE BRAIN. IT ATTACKS THE FACILITIES OF JUDGMENT, SELF-CRITICISM, AND SELF-CONTROL. IT RELEASES INHIBITIONS, WHICH ARE THE RESTRAINTS THAT HAVE BECOME HABIT-BOUND THROUGH TRAINING AND EDUCATION.

THIS,
IN AN AGE OF INCREASING MOTORIZED TRAFFIC, MACHINES, AND ATOMIC POWER. SURELY "TEMPERANCE" WHICH IS ONE OF THE FRUITS OF THE SPIRIT, SHOULD MEAN TODAY, IF NEVER BEFORE, "TOTAL ABSTINENCE IN REGARD TO ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES."

DR. CHEVALIER JACKSON AFFIRMED, "EVERYONE WHO DRINKS MODERATELY SETS AN EXAMPLE WHICH YIELDS MANY DRUNKARDS AMONG THE WEAK."

G. M. SCOTT, IN "MENTAL ABNORMALITY AND CRIME", CAMBRIDGE LAW RESEARCH COMMITTEE, SAYS, "ALCOHOL TRANSCENDS ALL OTHER FACTORS IN THE CAUSATION OF CRIME, POVERTY, WRETCHEDNESS AND UNHAPPINESS."

NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV, IN A SPEECH TO LENINGRAD WORKERS, SAID, "FAIR FROM BEING A SIGN OF HEROISM, DRINKING IS A SIGN OF WEAKNESS, AND LACK OF WILL POWER."

AFTER CONSIDERING THE ABOVE:

Do you think anyone should encourage the drinking of Beverage Alcohol, in any way, in this day and age?

D.F.D. ACTIVITIES

The annual supper and entertainment for members and their wives and lady friends was held last Wednesday at the Fire Station. Guests of the evening were Mayor Cardoza and members of the fire committee of the Town Council and fire wardens, as were Mrs. McCleave, Mrs. Cameron and Mrs. Ralph Wright, who each year so ably assist in the presentation of the Ice Carnival.

Members and guests gathered at the Station from 7:30 p.m. on and sat down to a delicious turkey supper which was arranged by members of the entertainment committee under the chairmanship of Anthony Saulnier. Other members of this committee who feel deserving mention and special thanks, as they did a splendid job, are Fred Smith, Howard Coutreau, Godfrey Griffiths and Paul Winchester, not to mention the many others who assisted them behind the scenes.

Just before the gathering sat down to supper Tom Cowan, who acted as Chairman for this portion of the program and who was newly elected as Vice President this year, asked Joe Hattie to say grace. Following the supper the chairman called upon Chief Humphrey for a few remarks, who thanked the committee in charge and said that he was glad to see such a good turnout. He also said that this was an informal gathering and did not think that it should be made up of speech making.

Following the Chief, newly elected President, Guy VanTassel, was called on for a few words, who went along with the Chief's remarks. At this point Mayor Cardoza was called upon, who by the way is an Honorary member of the department, and he said as he had plenty of time left over from the two previous speakers that he would be able to spend about two and a half hours with his speech. However, in all seriousness he dwelt on the efforts that the department had made during the past years and of the training and many other projects that have been carried out with great benefit to the town. He paid tribute to the retiring President, Reg. Turnbull, who had just completed eleven years in this capacity of the department and also wished the new President success as well as the other officers and members. Following Mayor Cardoza remarks Vernon Bent, chairman of the Fire Committee, was called upon to say a few words. He dealt with the Past President's efforts and close co-operation of the department and fire committee. Other comments were made by Company Captains, Buddy Barr, Tom Cleveland and Robert Hand-spiker.

Following the supper, entertainment was supplied by the various companies of the department, which proved to be very interesting as well as entertaining. The evening was rounded out by games of different kinds and dancing.

Regular training is being carried on and Monday night saw another session with training being held on the subject of hose — its make, kinds and care, with the second part of this phase to be taken next Wednesday evening at 8 p.m.

Regular fire practice was cancelled Wednesday evening due to many members taking part in the father and son hockey game being held at the Forum by the Legion. As this column went to press it was not known what the results were of the Grudge Broom Hockey game held between the Legion and Fire Department.

A call was received Tuesday morning for a stubborn chimney fire at the Winchester House, with slight damage occurring from smoke. Prompt action in this case made a considerable difference in the progress of the fire.

DANCE PROCEEDS FOR HOCKEY

A Valentine dance was held in W.C.H.S. auditorium on Friday evening, for the benefit of the school hockey team. The team has been newly organized this year, and has been outfitted with hockey dress in the school colors of gold and black. Although to date, they do not have many wins in their favour, they are real fighters, and with encouragement and good rooters at the games, they will undoubtedly work up to first place. The main drawback with the team is the lack of a local rink on which to practise. The expense in inconvenience of having to practise at Church Point is a liability which at present is difficult to overcome. Mr. John Doucet is manager of the team and congratulations are due him and the players for splendid efforts put forth.

Hospital Holds Annual

Patient days at the Digby General Hospital increased in 1959 by 4,612 over the number for 1958. It was revealed in the report presented by hospital superintendent, Mrs. Hilda Cosaboom, R.N., at the annual meeting of the hospital here. Mrs. Cosaboom stated the total number of patient days for 1959 was 12,680 while the total for 1958 was 8,068. The number of patients for 1959 showed an increase of 434 over 1958. In the x-ray department the number of x-rays for 1959 was 4,903. This was an increase of 1,631 over 1958.

E. G. Arnold's report for the building and grounds committee stated the consistent heavy overloading of facilities at the hospital was posing problems for the committee.

New copper water mains had to be installed, he said, and a new washer and extractor had been ordered for the laundry. This had been made necessary because of constant breakdown of present equipment due to overloading. It had been decided further repairs were uneconomical and larger equipment was being secured.

Increases in electrical use had made necessary the installation of a new circuit if the load was to be safely carried. Mr. Arnold's report stated, A new oil-fired boiler for domestic hot water heating was being installed. It was stated, This was made necessary because of the inability of present equipment to meet the heavily increased needs.

F. C. Purdy, hospital board president, commenting on the building and grounds committee report, stated that at the last hospital board meeting an expenditure of nearly $3,000 had been authorized for replacement of worn-out equipment and since June, 1959, the amount would approach the $10,000 mark. Most of this, he said, was for capital replacement and is not a shareable cost under the provincial hospital insurance plan.

F. H. Stoddard's report from the X-ray department stated that, while the X-ray equipment was at present working satisfactorily it could not stand the strain of the present rate of use. (Please turn to page 10)

Miss Canada To Appear At Ice Carnival

Word has just been received by officials of the Digby Firemen's Ice Carnival that Miss Canada, Rosemary Keenan, of Saint John, N. B., will be appearing in the annual ice show by the department. Confirmation was just received yesterday from her agents that she would make the appearance.

Plans are now progressing around this part of the show, which this year will include along with the appearance of Miss Canada, who will take part in the carnival, a Carnival Queen and Princesses, as well as the usual costume parade with prizes, novelties and other attractions.

Featured also will be local figure skaters under the guidance of Mrs. Evelyn Cameron, who is assisting with the show in arranging a program of figure skating from over eighty local children. This alone is a big job and one that requires a great deal of time and patience. However, from what time there is available and from the numbers presented in last year's show, a good program can be expected from these skaters.

The show is scheduled for March 14th at Digby Forum at 8:00 p.m.

Picture By Local Photographer

Those who have the 1960 United Church of Canada calendar will note the last picture entitled Church Extension in the North was photographed by Miss Theresa A. Robicheau, formerly of the Digby Teaching Staff, and whose home is in Weymouth. Miss Robicheau, who is now teaching in British Columbia, took the photograph while she was teaching at Norway House, Manitoba.

The picture shows the Max Paupanakis children at their home. They are descendants of Rev. Edward Paupanakis who served at Norway House on two occasions from 1886 to 1910. Jamieson, age four, is smiling blissfully for the photographer while baby Reginald is asleep in his swinging cradle of blankets.

Other pictures in the calendar portray work of the church and interesting observations on the life of Africans, people of India, and Trinidad.

COMMISSIONER TO SPEAK

James Mackie, of Halifax, field commissioner for the Boy Scout association of Nova Scotia, will be guest speaker at the supper meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Digby this evening.

Another guest at the supper meeting will be Norman D. Wright, of Digby, district commissioner for the Boy Scouts.

Good Showing By Digby Rink

A rink from the Digby Curling Club which competed in the grand national bonspiel at Winchester, Mass., returned home Monday after acquitting themselves extremely well in the international bonspiel which featured contests between 24 rinks from Canadian and U. S. centres.

The Digby rink, which was skipped during the competition by Ted Miller, scored three wins and two losses and in the final 12-ender came within one point of taking the trophy.

The three Digby wins were against rinks from New York, Boston Country Club and Montreal. They were defeated by the No. 1 and 2 rinks from the Winchester Country Club.

Members of the Digby rink were Ted Miller, skip; A. L. Robinson and Frank Wightman who alternated as mate; Jack Rosenthal, second stone, and Hyman Webber, lead.

Former Teacher Breaks Arm

Miss Elizabeth McWhinnie, of Port Wade, had the misfortune to fall and break her arm last week. She was a patient in the Annapolis General Hospital for a few days, but now she is at her own home. Her niece, Miss Marion McWhinnie, is staying with her. We wish Miss McWhinnie a speedy recovery. Miss McWhinnie was formerly on the staff of the Digby High School.

Scouts Observe Anniversary

Close to five hundred Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Wolf Cubs and Brownies attended a church parade at HMCS Cornwallis on Sunday in honour of the founder of the scout movement, Lord Baden Powell.

Scout troops, cub packs, Brownie and Girl Guide troops from such widely separated centres as Freeport and Deep Brook attended the parade. All the units in the Digby district council area were represented as well as several from Annapolis.

Church services were held in both the Protestant and Roman Catholic chapels for the occasion. The parade and arrangements were in charge of Norman D. Wright, of Digby, District Commissioner, and Charles Rhodes, Deep Brook, Assistant Commissioner.

Therapist Is Speaker

Miss Sheila Kalra, speech therapist with the Nova Scotia Society for Crippled Children who is conducting the free speech therapy clinic being sponsored in Digby by the Digby Kiwanis Club, was guest speaker at the Kiwanis Club meeting Thursday evening.

Introduced by Kiwanian Edward Twohig, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the speech therapy clinic, Miss Kalra explained the work of speech therapy and told of the various speech defects which can be remedied through use of speech therapy.

Speech defects, she said, have nothing to do with dialect or accent which are created by use of the vowel sounds. Defects concern the consonants, and are caused by such things as brain injury, mental retardation, emotional disturbance and the like.

A speech therapist through use of tests may assess the probable cause of the speech defect and may determine how it can be treated. Some defects require specialized psychiatric help which the person should secure; others can be corrected through use of vocal exercises and other means.

A clinic of even only a month's duration is able to do a considerable amount of good. Miss Kalra said, but there is a certain amount of follow up through the use of continued exercise which is often required. It often happens, however, she said, that parents are unable to help their children remedy speech defects even through the follow-up, especially if the defect is connected with emotional tenseness.

The speaker was thanked by Mr. Reigh Jayne who commented on the work being accomplished here through the speech therapy clinic.

Miss Jean Brittain was a visitor in Middleton and Kings-ton on Saturday.

Stresses Need For Club House

The need for the Digby (East) Fish and Game Association to proceed with plans to secure wooded lands and a building for club premises was stressed by President Jack Nichols at the association's meeting here.

Mr. Nichols said that if land and a building could be secured members could be encouraged to take their families out into the woods where a program of safety and woods lore could be carried out. He said he felt it would be ideal if the program could be carried to the point where camp site for tents and trailers could be developed by the association to further its program.

The need for closer cooperation between association members and committees was also stressed by the president at the meeting. He said that for the association to be properly successful, the executive and committee heads as well as the general membership should be kept fully informed as to what the association or its committees is doing in the area.

The financial report presented by the secretary-treasurer, R. L. Taylor, showed finances at present in better condition than at any time since the organization was formed. Membership now stands at 242, it was reported, and the excellent financial position of the association was attributed to the cooperation of the membership.

A slate of officers proposed by the nominating committee appointed at the annual meeting was adopted unanimously. It was decided the association would hold a free buffet next meeting on March 10th and that an invitation would be extended to all last year's members to attend. An all-out effort will also be made to enlist members for the present year.

A full report on the annual meeting of the provincial organization will be given at the supper meeting, which is to be held in the Legion headquarters, by the delegates to the provincial convention, Jack Nichols, Charles Balser and S. Morentz.

John Nichols Heads V.O.N.

John Nichols, local barrister, was re-elected president of the Victorian Order of Nurses Local Association for the second consecutive year at the annual meeting held at Trinity Church Hall on Monday afternoon. Following is the complete slate of officers and board members for 1960 —

Honorary President, Mrs. L. H. Morse.

President, John Nichols. 1st Vice President, Mrs. J. W. Christie.

2nd Vice President, Rev. Father Maillet.

Secretary, Mrs. Fritz Dakin.

Treasurer, Mrs. H. R. Bishop.

Board Members: Mr. James Ayer, Mrs. Robert Bearnie, Mrs. D. G. Black, Mrs. Atlee Cornwell, Rev. James Brooks, Mr. Fritz Dakin, Mrs. Thomas Devau, Mrs. W. K. Ganong, Mrs. Russell Harris, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, Mrs. H. S. Hartlin.

Charles Hersey, Mr. Alfred Kenney, Dr. D. E. Lewis, Mr. Stanley MacDonald, Mrs. Fred May, Rev. James Pike, Mrs. Herman Olson, Mr. Arthur Robinson, Mrs. Paul Snow, Mrs. Melford Thurber, Mrs. Edward Twohig, Capt. Joan Vaughan, Miss Dora Warne, Mr. Earle VanTassel.

Other appointments were: Auditors: Roscoe Handspeak, H. C. Morton.

Representative on the Board of Governors, Ottawa: Mrs. George Geddes, Ottawa.

Representative on the Provincial V.O.N. Board: John Nichols, with Stanley MacDonald and Mrs. J. M. Wallis, alternates.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. H. R. Bishop, revealed on Monday that total receipts for the year, including $3,991.06 from the sale of bonds, was $7,621.14. Disbursements were $6,899.62 including $2,500.00 invested in bonds. Credit balance December 31 59 was $58.54.

In giving the 39th annual report for a V.O.N. in Digby, Miss Joyce Dickey said that 1357 Joyce Dickey was made in 1959 showing a decrease. There were 126 full pay visits, 409 part pay, 9 free and 813 not chargeable. Four hundred twenty-three and a half hours were spent in school.

Both the president, Mr. Nichols, and the secretary, Mrs. Fritz Dakin, in their reports regretted the fact that capital had to be sold in order to pay a deficit. Mr. Nichols challenged the board to greater effort to raise finances to meet every day costs of the V.O.N. as against the seriousness of losing V.O.N. service entirely. He commended and thanked the Lions Club on their gift of a car to the Order in 1959.

One of the highlights of the meeting on Monday was an address by Miss Ethel Graham, R.N., who spent a number of years with the Grenfell Mission in Labrador. Miss Graham's talk was accompanied by showing of slides on loan from Admiral Houghton, who is superintendent of the Grenfell Mission Association.

Miss Graham told of the early English settlers in Labrador and Newfoundland in that isolation, lack of communication by those who might have helped led the people to apathy of spirit, poverty, ignorance and discouragement. It was not until Wilfred Grenfell was sent in 1892 to investigate the faraway English colony that the plight of these people was realized. Today the mission which bears his name is a primary medical and educational service up and down a 2,000 mile coastline. Miss Graham told much of the work of the Mission and compared the life of the people to-day with that of 65 years previous. In speaking of confederation with Canada of Newfoundland, Miss Graham said that there is no doubt but that Newfoundland is better off, economically with-in the family circle but that Canada itself would be incomplete and the loser without Newfoundland.

Miss Graham, who also had experience on V.O.N. staffs, was introduced by Mr. Nichols and thanked by Mrs. J. M. Wallis.

A tea followed when Mrs. Wallis presided over the tea cups. Mrs. Paul Snow, Mrs. Charles Hersey and Mrs. Melford Thurber were in charge of the tea.

The tea table arrangement was donated by Cameron's Florist.

Jack Nichols attended the Provincial Fish & Game Association meetings in Halifax last week.

Receives Bursary

Above is Merlyn Ralph Bacon, Deep Brook, Annapolis Co., who received a Nova Scotia bursary of $350.00 as a civil engineering student at the Nova Scotia Technical College. His roommate, Augustus Edward Purdy, also of Deep Brook, received the same bursary to an equal amount.

Scout Hall In Constant Use

Since the lease of the Scout Hall was taken over by the Digby Lions Club a program of renovation and redecoration has been carried out on the premises by the club. The whole building has been cleaned throughout and a good deal of redecoration carried out. An oil fired heating plant and lavatories have also been installed. Increasingly heavy usage of the building is also being made under the sponsorship of the Lions Club. The Boy Scouts meet each week under the leadership of Gerry Hoare and Graham Saunders, and the Girl Guides, who have recently been re-organized, also meet each week under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Bearnie and Mrs. Lloyd Hicks.

Last Saturday evening the teenagers of the area held an invitational dance at the Scout Hall which was termed a real success. About seventy were in attendance. The Lions Club itself sponsored an invitational New Year's dance which was also a success. Eighty-two couples were in attendance and the hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

Badminton is also being played at the Scout Hall and plans are underway to clean and resurface the floor of the auditorium to improve it.

The Digby Lions Club has a membership of thirty-five and meets every second and fourth Wednesday for a supper session. On the alternate Wednesdays executive meetings are held.

Family Night Is Success

A family night program sponsored by the Digby Branch of the Canadian Legion in aid of the Digby Forum was a successful affair although attendance was not up to expectations.

The program, which was under the chairmanship of Melvyn Nixon, featured exhibitions of figure skating by the pupils of Mrs. Evelyn Cameron; mid-gate hockey; a father and son hockey game and a "grudge match" broom hockey game between the Legion and Fireman.

In the father and son game the sons outskated their hard playing fathers to take the contest by a score of 5-2. The grudge match broom hockey game was closely contested with the Legion winning a 1-0 victory.

During the evening, Legion vice-president Guy VanTassel presented the sons who took part in the game with hockey sticks on behalf of the branch. Favours were also presented to Mrs. Cameron's skaters. At the close of the program refreshments were served to the young participants.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Higgins-botham of Halifax, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Jones.

Captain Arthur Hadden left for Saint John this week to take over command of a harbor pilot boat.

A Necessary Move

The announcement on Friday by Premier Robert Stanfield that a Royal Commission will be named by the Nova Scotia government to probe into the adequacy of the provincial liquor laws is considered by many people, whether on the side of temperance or not, to be a necessary move. This is a subject that has been batted back and forth until it has become tiresome to every body but those in the middle of the fray. Letters to the press had been written by the pros and cons, most of which turned out, sad to say, to be repetition and written more for the sake of pursuing argument only than for the enlightenment of readers. This can be detrimental to any cause no matter how sincere it might have been begun. Resolutions and recommendations had been forwarded by those advocating changes in liquor laws and those who were satisfied with the present restrictions or who would recommend even greater restrictions. Arguments and recommendations had arrived at a place where they had become of almost no avail and as in all matters at such a stage a time arrives when an impartial board must sit on the matter and come to some conclusion.

We have sufficient confidence that the commission will be made up of men and/or women who have broad and open minds and that every factor involved will be probed. We feel confident that the social and moral factors of the case will not be neglected nor would we want to see them neglected, for while economy has its place in the province, economy at the expense of the finer things of life or of life itself is not only doubtful economy but no economy at all.

In view of the pressure exerted on the government we feel the Royal Commission is the only answer at the present time.

Fire Safety

We in Digby and area have been fortunate that while homes have been destroyed by fire during the present season there has been no loss of life. There have been other areas in the province not so fortunate. Some ways of preventing death from fires in a home and a means of reducing property loss are recommended here.

- 1) When a fire starts, have everyone leave the house immediately.
- 2) Do not wait to dress yourself or children; simply wrap yourself in a blanket or coat.
- 3) As soon as everyone is safe, call for fire department.
- 4) Use a neighbor's telephone to call the fire rather than waiting in your own home.
- 5) Do not attempt to fight the fire yourself until the fire department has been called.
- 6) If you have time close all windows and doors and turn off the electricity at the master switch.
- 7) Buy a fire extinguisher for your home (your fire department will advise you as to the best type) and learn how to use it properly.
- 8) Always leave complete instructions with baby-sitters on what to do in case of fire.
- 9) Keep exits unobstructed by boxes or furniture.

A Word, Or A Way Of Life?

What is true Brotherhood? The question is timely, for this week is National Brotherhood Week, and for the short period of seven days the word will be used freely, in speeches, in editorials and in general conversation.

If it is to mean anything to us and throughout the world, the Brotherhood of men must be more than a word. It must come from the heart, not from the lips; it must not be a topic of conversation for a brief week, but a way of life for generations.

The essence of true Brotherhood lies not in its origin so much as in its final effect upon the lives of others. What does one do for his blood brother? A man defends his brother against all enemies; he helps a brother who is in trouble; he makes allowances for a brother's errors and shortcomings. But most of all, he loves his brother.

The fundamental concept of true brotherhood was given us centuries ago in the simple commandment: Love one another.

If Brotherhood is to be more than an empty word, we must obey this commandment in all our dealings with our fellow men. If the Brotherhood of man is to spread throughout the nation and the world, we must begin with ourselves, in our homes, teaching our children to respect and to honor all others, without regard for differences in race, religion or social status.

Infants in a nursery are true brothers. They know no differences in colour of skin or creed until they are taught discrimination by adults. All the hatred and bigotry that plagues our lives could be eliminated if older generations were to stop transmitting these afflictions to their children.

Brotherhood will come alive in our homes and communities only if it is a living force within ourselves.

When we can ask ourselves, "Would I do this to my brother?" and "Would I permit this to be done to my brother?" and let the answers guide our actions, only then will we know the meaning of the word and make it live.

Drivers Set Their Own Insurance Rates

Next time you scream when your car insurance rates go up, give a thought to why they did. Don't look at the insurance company and direct scurrilous thoughts at the rate-makers. All they did was collect the facts and figures and let the rates set themselves.

Motorists set their own rates. The more bad drivers, the higher the rates, so if you want to bring about a decrease in insurance rates, then get to work on bringing about a decrease in unsafe driving on the streets and roads. Start with yourself first. Oh! Sorry. We didn't know you were already a safe-driver. Well, then, start with the other driver; he's always a bad driver.

But while you're working on him, keep your eyes and mind open just in case you come across something that you can do to make your own vehicle operation a little better — and safer.

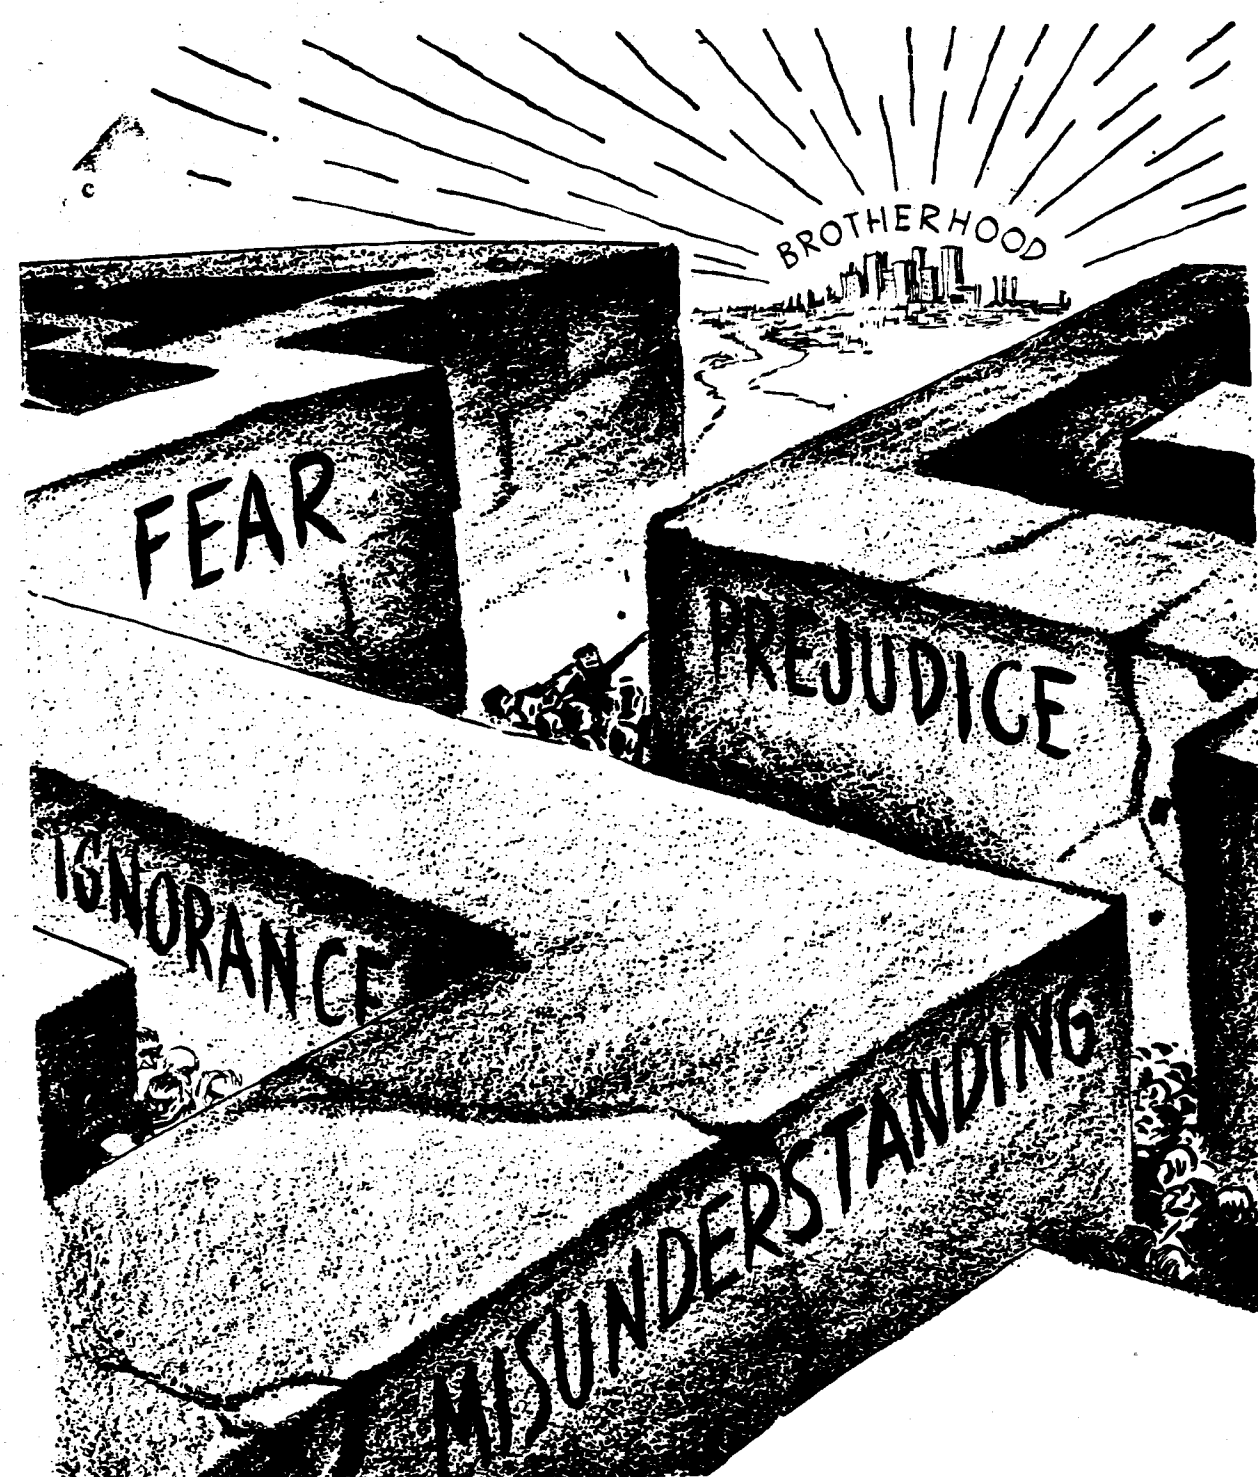

One driver improving his driving will bring about no change in insurance rates, but ONE DRIVER AT A TIME can reduce costs if the improvement goes far enough. (Canadian Highway Safety Council)

To A New World

Report From Parliament Hill

By Hon. George C. Nowlan

February 8, /60.

This week the Student's Federation of both the Liberal and the Conservative Parties met in Ottawa. The Liberals had the Chateau Laurier and the Conservative took a rather small hotel in the East end of Ottawa which they filled to overflowing and occupied other accommodation as well. The meetings in each case lasted for a little bit more than two days. The Liberals had something like two hundred and fifty students in attendance and the Conservatives on the banquet night attained a total registration of four hundred and ninety. I, of course, did not have the opportunity of sitting in on the Liberal meeting, but I did take part in some of the seminars and discussion groups which were conducted by the Conservative students. Nova Scotia had a remarkably good attendance, including students from every university as well as from Queen Elizabeth High School. Among those were Jack Buntain of Kentville and John Cochran from Wolfville.

One reads that people are no longer interested in politics, and that the younger people particularly do not want to participate in it. I think the fallacy of that statement is fairly well exposed when one can assemble in Ottawa approximately 800 young men and women, most of whom came there at their own expense. Certainly responsible leaders of both the Liberal and Conservative Parties could take real pride and satisfaction in the attendance of these students and the quality of the discussion and debate which followed in each of these Federation gatherings. Certainly among the Conservatives I heard four or five speeches which would put most members of the House of Commons to shame, and one could not help but think, as I presume Mike Pearson was also thinking in attending another meeting, that here in this audience are young men and possibly young women who thirty or forty years from now, after I have passed from the scene will be occupying positions of responsibility in my Party. Probably in such gatherings there were several future Cabinet Ministers, Provincial Premiers, and possibly a Prime Minister or two. It gives one a good feeling to attend such gatherings.

Other than a few procedural wrangles occurring at Question Time, the House of Commons was relatively quiet this week. However, outside the House the noisy and rather noxious debate which is proceeding in Washington concerning National Defence has had its implications here. Every time some American Senator, or American General makes a statement with respect to the Bomarc, or the Hercules, or the future of the Navy, or the future of the Lord knows what, questions are asked the Minister of Defence next day as to what he thinks about it. Whatever the Minister may feel about these matters he has to keep to himself for certainly he cannot comment up on the activities or discussions which take place in the Parliament of another country.

These debates, of course, emphasize the difference between the American system of Government and our own, a difference which often is not understood by Canadians and leads to complete misconception of what actually is taking place elsewhere. Here in Canada, of course, as in all other Commonwealth countries, the Cabinet and the Prime Minister are elected Members of Parliament. They sit in the House. They are responsible to the House. They can only govern as long as they have a majority in the House, and they can be defeated by the House at any time. This is our form of responsible government. The Cabinet has to take responsibility for its policies, advance them in Parliament and stand or fall by them. In the United States, of course, it is entirely different. The President of the United States is not a member of either the Senate or the House of Representatives and he is in no way responsible for the actions of these Parliamentary bodies. Similarly, his Cabinet is selected by him personally as advisors to him. Cabinet Ministers, of course, do not sit in either House at Washington and have no responsibility to it, or the House for the Cabinet Minister. The President makes recommendations to the Senate and/or the House of Representatives, but it is the responsibility of these Parliamentary bodies to decide on their own legislation, to introduce it and to enact it, regardless of the opinions of the President and his Cabinet. This is very obvious, of course, today, when the President is of the Republican Party and both the Senate and the House of Representatives are controlled by Democratic majorities.

In Canada discussions are held with and enquiries and advice from Military Officers and all Departmental Heads and Officials are received by the Cabinet and are for the Cabinet alone. The Cabinet acts as a unit and when it has decided on a policy it has it submitted to the House of Commons and stands or falls on whether the House approves of its actions. In Washington both the Senate and the House of Representatives have to decide each on its own responsibility what legislation it will enact, how much money it will spend, and so on and so forth. In order to intelligently pass on these matters, the committee of both Houses have the right to subpoena senior Army, Navy and Airforce Officers and any other official of Government to appear before those Committees and to answer questions not only on facts but also with respect to policy of the administration. These officers, of course, are sometimes asked

Celebrate 6th Birthday

On the afternoon of Wed. 13th, Sandra Jean, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Comeau, of Smith's Cove, was hostess to a number of her little friends in honor of her 6th birthday.

The guests, including Sandra's sister Pamela, were the Misses Wanda Tibbets, Valerie Joudrey, Mary Lou Sarty, Dorothy Hyson, also Masters Roger Tibbets, Paul Hyson, Robert Sarty and Michael Frances. Following the unwrapping of the gifts the appropriately decorated cake was cut.

Refreshments of ice cream, cake and fruit punch were served. Mrs. George Tibbets assisted with the serving.

under the peculiar situation existing at the moment with the Presidential election coming on and the President differing from his Houses of Parliament, one can understand the wrangling, charges and counter charges which are taking place in those legislative bodies. As our own experience has often shown, pre-election sessions are apt to raise the blood pressures of Members of Parliament, and due to the different systems prevailing in our two countries, pressures can be even higher in Washington than in Ottawa.

Hold Annual Meeting

The Annapolis County Exhibition is in a healthy financial position according to officially audited reports submitted by secretary R. W. Gibson at the annual meeting of the Exhibition committee. AIM TO LIVE... AND LET LIVE!
Once more, I want to talk about safety. With more and more cars and trucks on the streets and highways it is becoming more and more important to every one of us that we take proper precautions to drive safely and to make sure that the car or truck we drive is mechanically safe in every way.

I was reading the other day about the results of a safety check in one of our major cities. I was shocked to read that more than half the cars checked had improperly aimed headlights! That means that when these cars were going down the road at night they couldn't see what they should... or that their headlights were making it difficult for someone else to see properly.

Here are three simple safety rules for night driving, that I'm sure will help to cut down night accidents:

1. Have your headlights aimed correctly once a year.
2. Observe the dimming rule... don't wait for the other fellow. Dim your first.
3. Cut your speed at night so that you can stop within the limit of your vision. That is, slow down to where you can stop before you hit what your headlights shows up on the road.

Proper aiming of your headlights is just one safety precaution you should take with your car. Brakes, steering and tires are also vital to your safety. Bring your car in now for a complete safety check. And make arrangements to bring it in at regular intervals to keep it safe. One serious accident could cost you more than you would spend in a lifetime on safety checks. Better drive in today.

RESUME ACCOMPLISHMENTS BEAR RIVER W.I.N.S.

Many persons have enquired what the Women's Institute accomplishes and what are the objectives for this organization.

The first Women's Institute in the world was organized at Stoney Creek, Ontario, on February 19, 1897. The first Women's Institute in Nova Scotia (W.I.N.S.) was organized in July 1913, at Salt Springs, Pictou Co., N. S.

Bear River organized their Women's Institute in March, 1920, the first president being Mrs. L. J. Lovett. At the regular monthly meeting on Feb. 1st held at the Legion hall, roll call was answered with the aims and objectives of the Bear River Institute. The Bear River Weekly Page of The Digby Courier is edited by a committee of three members of this Women's Institute. The work and efforts of this committee is very commendable, this page would be missed as our most in reading as well as the faithful Digby Courier.

This organization stands for Home and Country and our local W.I.N.S. do this very thing.

We try to help women to acquire more knowledge of home making skills and practices to help develop and train leadership. To strengthen the spirit of cooperation for the welfare and progress of home community, and country. The range of activities is so great and so varied that it is difficult to enumerate them. Some of the objectives and aims are as follows:— The Women's Institute cooperates with Digby Agricultural Society and at our local exhibition each year a booth is there with a capable committee serving tea and refreshments, home cooking and a variety of other articles are sold.

The Bear River Women's Institute sponsored the original funds for the War Memorial and is maintaining its upkeep, that of a permanent light and the flower bed around the memorial.

At the Digby hospital the Bear River Room was furnished by the local W.I. and provides each year bed linens, etc. as required by the hospital. We are responsible for a booth at the Digby Hospital Fair each year, through the generous response of the ladies of Bear River with their home cooking a very substantial amount is raised each year for the hospital.

A semi-annual pantry donation is given to the Digby Hospital and is generously responded to through efforts of the Women's Institute.

The local organization contributes to the Normal School Scholarship Fund. A few years ago Miss Dianne Wright, of Bear River, received a scholarship. We provide magazines for Oakdene School giving the staff of teachers their own choice of publications.

We have cultural activities, our most recent one is that of rug hooking. We also have had art classes of different styles of painting. A sewing class was organized some time ago.

Each month a program is given with an educational value in mind.

Our Bear River W.I. contributes towards the community Christmas Tree. Each Christmas cheer boxes are sent to ill and aged. We have had a lending library with good books to be loaned. The members taking turns to serve the Public. This has been replaced by the Book Mobile.

We contribute annually to the Canadian Institute for the Blind, The Unitarian Service, The Peace Garden, Pennies for Friendship, and many other worth while projects.

We have contributed to different disaster funds, Springhill disaster, Winnipeg flood, and others.

We have a float in the Cherry Carnival each year.

In the past we have given to Bear River and community some fine entertainment and social evenings. The Minstrel Show, The Country Carnival, and others. We also have sponsored the Travelling Art Exhibit.

We have a very active part in Digby County Women's Institute district meetings. Mrs. A. G. MacIntyre is our district president.

The women of Bear River are invited to attend any of our meetings. They are held the first Monday of each month at the Canadian Legion Hall.

In the social hour which followed games were enjoyed with prizes going to the winners.

Over forty people were present.

T. Cleveland.

Delegates to annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Fish & Game Association, Halifax, February 16th and 17th - J. R. Nichols, Chas. Balsor, S. J. Morency.

It was decided all members of the Digby Fish & Game Association would be given a detail list showing locations of fish distribution. The grand total of distribution in 1959 was 783,292, broken up as follows - speckled trout, fingerlings, 313,486; advanced fry, 118,750; browns, fingerlings, 57,000; 1 year, 660; 2 year, 100; 3 year, 60; Atlantic salmon, fingerlings, 253,800; 1 year, 39,436.

Hospital Annual (From p. 1) usage. The report stated the machine had never been designed to do such a large volume of work. A great deal of money has been spent in the past year, Mr. Stoddard reported, on repairs. Parts replaced included an X-ray tube, drive gear, spot film rack and numerous small tubes.

Reporting for the house committee, W. L. Troop stated there had been two staff salary increases at the hospital during the year and that now the hospital was paying salaries comparable with those paid elsewhere in the province and approved by the hospital insurance commission.

Mr. Troop said many testimonials had been received from patients concerning good treatment, food and services which they received while in the hospital. He paid tribute to Mrs. Cossaboom, hospital superintendent, who, he said, was greatly responsible for satisfactory conditions and good relations among the staff at the hospital.

The report of the ladies auxiliary showed that during the year $3,993.25 had been raised by the auxiliary. Expenditures during the year amounted to $3,883.14.

In his report board president F. C. Purdy traced efforts made to secure additional hospital accommodation for Digby to meet the urgent need that exists. All that now remains, he said, is for decisive action concerning financial arrangements at the level of the civic and municipal councils in order to proceed with construction. Agreement by the councils regarding division of costs and approval of such amounts not later than May this year would ensure that construction could begin late in August and the building would be closed in before cold weather, making it possible to continue construction through the winter months.

Mr. Purdy stated the hospital planning committee has information and actual plans for a 92 bed hospital which could be built here for $800,000. This amount includes architect's fees and all essential equipment other than X-ray and furnishings. Grants available in support of such construction, he said, would approximate $490,000, leaving an area levy of $310,000, exclusive of X-ray and furnishings. These latter items, he said, would account for an additional $100,000. Mr. Purdy stated he had received information that the council of the municipality of Annapolis had voted a sum of $40,000 to assist in the provision of new hospital facilities in Digby. The municipal council of Clare, he said, had approved the division of costs accepted by the hospital negotiating committee which set their contribution at $20,000.

It is understood, Mr. Purdy said, that the Digby Town Council will approve of the cost formula arrived at by the negotiating committee and submit the question of the approval of the town's share to a meeting of the ratepayers.

No definite action on the financial proposals for the hospital plan was taken by the Digby Municipal Council at their annual session in January, Mr. Purdy said. He stated he understood, however, that a continuation of public meetings was requested and a number of the councillors had requested more information on costs and the action of other councils involved. This, Mr. Purdy stated, was hearsay, since no advice had been received by the hospital planning commission from the Digby Municipal Council concerning action or lack of action at the January meeting.

Mr. Purdy concluded his report by again stressing the urgency of the hospital question. He said a good deal of misinformation was being circulated concerning the hospital and said people desirous of learning the true facts should seek them from the hospital board.

The hospital, Mr. Purdy said, has investments of some forty-four thousand dollars but those will soon be totally used up in paying for non-sharable capital repairs being made necessary to the overloading of facilities.

According to the financial report presented at the meeting, the accounts receivable were reduced from $38,953.95 to $11,450.43 during 1959 and the current liabilities as at December 31st, 1958, of $24,889.61 were liquidated.

During 1959 hospital revenue in total amounted to $155,888.91. Expenditures were $166,175.21 for an excess of expenditure over revenue of $10,286.30.

The Flamingo C.G.I.T. of Grace United Church, Digby, under the direction of Mrs. Clinton MacInnis, held a variety show in the church hall on Monday evening. Mrs. MacInnis was assisted by the assistant leaders, Miss Sheila VanTassel and Mrs. Joan Tidd. The program consisted of songs and skits with solo numbers interspersed. Vocal solos were rendered by Misses Carolyn Arnold and Margaret Black. Pearl Woolaver and Susan Morrell also sang solo parts in the opening songs. Other impersonators were Misses Holdsworth and Ellis as the Everly Brothers. Narrators for the skits were Misses Sheila VanTassel and Evelyn O'Neil, and Miss Margaret Black directed the singing. The fifteen thousand dollar borrowing authorized at Thursday's meeting is the town's share of a proposed $60,000 addition to the Regional High School. The balance will be met by the municipality.

Art Exhibit Here

The visit of the 13th Nova Scotia travelling art exhibit to Digby on Monday was an outstanding success. Members of the Digby Art Group, which sponsored the art exhibit in Digby, stated attendance at Monday's showing broke all previous records. During the showing a ballot was taken on the paintings which were exhibited. Taking first place on the basis of votes cast at the exhibit here was a painting by Leslie M. Wright of Digby, entitled "The Thinker". Second place went to "Half Tide" by Kenneth G. Cameron, of Parrsboro, and third place went to "Springhill Mines" by Alfred Whitehead, of Amherst. Five other paintings were chosen for honourable mention. They were "High Tide" by Roy Patten Cullen, Dartmouth; "Old Bay Barn Interior" by Frederick Nichols, Amherst; "Brother Harbour" by Gwendolyn Hales, Wolfville; "My Son" by Leon Zworling, Halifax; "Rock, Pine and Water" by Arthur Lloyd, Armdale.

Fire Dam Scene Of Near Tragedy

Heather Marshall, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Marshall, of Smith's Cove, nearly met death by drowning last Wednesday while on her way home from school. The little girl decided to try the ice on the fire dam near the Smith's Cove school. Unfortunately, she was not strong enough and she fell into the water which is six feet deep near the centre of the pool. She clung to the edge of the ice until her plight was noticed by two older girls, her sister, Sylvia and Sandra Lockhart. While Sylvia went to get her mother, who was acting as a substitute teacher at the school, the Lockhart girl did her best to rescue the little Marshall girl. As soon as Mrs. Marshall arrived at the scene of the accident she attempted to get out to help her daughter but the ice broke and she also fell into the pool. With the combined efforts of a school bus driver who came to help and the Lockhart girl both Mrs. Marshall and her daughter were rescued, however.

Baptist Men Hold Supper

Nearly sixty of the men of the congregation of the Baptist Church of Digby sat down to a Fellowship Supper held in the church hall on Saturday evening. Sponsored by the Project Committee, of which Mr. Burton Ellis is chairman, the supper was prepared and served by members of the committee which included J. W. Christie, Robert Marshall, and Russell Atkinson. A number of the men from the Hill Grove church were also present. Following a sing-song led by Wallace Hodgson, the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartin, introduced the guest speaker, Rev. Harry Renfree, of Saint John, General Secretary of the Maritime United Baptist Convention. Mr. Renfree spoke of the general work of the Baptist Convention and the vital part the men of the churches are taking in the denomination's enterprises. He urged the men to take a strong and active part in the work of the church. Following the address the pastor took charge of a discussion which centered around the theme of more fellowship and activity in the work of the church by the men of the congregation. It was agreed that another gathering should be held in March. Mr. Renfree was again guest speaker at the morning worship service in the Baptist Church and also at Hill Grove in the afternoon. At both services he brought inspiring and challenging messages.

Woman Heads Red Cross

Mrs. J. P. Bell, Armdale, was elected president of the Nova Scotia Division Canadian Red Cross Society at the annual meeting held in Halifax last week. This is the first time a woman has directed the affairs of the division since Dr. Agnes Dennis (wife of Senator William Dennis) founded it in 1914 and acted as its president until 1921. Patron for the division is His Honour, the Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia, Mr. Plow. Honorary President is the Premier, Hon. Robert L. Stanfield. Among the honorary vice-presidents are Dr. T. W. Hodgson, Digby; Mrs. H. M. Warne is a regional vice-president for Digby and on the executive are Denis Soucie, Meteghan, and Basil Belliveau, of Belliveau's Cove. The Red Cross campaign begins this month with an objective of $208,300 for Nova Scotia. The national society has pledged $40,000 toward World Refugee Year relief. Attending the annual meeting in Halifax from Digby were Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Warne and Mrs. Allan Harris.

Discuss Tourist Development

Need for concerted action by the Annapolis Valley area as a whole in any efforts to develop the tourist industry was stressed by speakers at a meeting here of trade board and civic leaders, held to discuss the future of the tourist industry in the area. Chairman of the meeting was H. M. Warne of the Digby Board of Trade's tourist committee. William Anderson, of the Saint John office of Industrial and Public Relations Ltd., who are conducting a survey of the tourist industry potential of the Annapolis Valley area, was also present. Mr. Anderson said his purpose was to collect information as to development which should be made in the area to affect the tourist industry and to prepare a set of recommendations for a program. He said he hoped to meet with civic and trade board groups throughout the Valley area to get their ideas on the tourist industry. He stated he was of the opinion one of the most important things to be done in the tourist industry was the setting up of "road blocks" which would keep the tourist visitor in the area for a longer time. Just an extra few hours stay by each visitor, he said, will mean hundreds of thousands of dollars of extra tourist revenue. A program designed to keep the tourist visitor longer in the area for a longer time is being carried out by the government of that province, he said, and its effectiveness will mean much to the tourist industry of New Brunswick. So far as the Valley area of Nova Scotia is concerned, Mr. Anderson said, each district has its own points of interest that could be developed. The development of these as part of an integrated program covering the whole area will be most effective, he said. J. J. Brittain, vice-president of the AVABT, explained the purpose of the affiliated board's efforts concerning the tourist industry and said expense of carrying out a survey was being met by the individual boards on an assessment basis. He said implementation of Mr. Anderson's recommendations might involve a large expenditure. His report will be studied by the executive of the AVABT, he said, following completion of the survey. Mr. Anderson spoke of the potential of the ferry from Saint John with regard to the tourist industry in Digby and mentioned a number of methods which could be used aboard the boat to interest the tourist visitor in Digby's attractions. He said he felt a sign should be erected to advise the visitor to Digby what the community had to offer in the way of tourist attractions. Mayor Cardoza said care should be exercised to see to it that the things advertised for the tourists are actually available. It is poor business, he said, to advertise canoeing and deep sea fishing if it is not possible for the visitor to rent, buy or borrow a canoe or to find someone who will take him fishing. If the visitor is led to expect certain attractions in a community and then does not find them he is going to go home dissatisfied and his comments will have far more effect on the future of the tourist industry than any advertising campaign, he said. Captain Joseph Casey stated in the matter of deep sea fishing it was almost impossible to meet the requirements for boat and equipment in order to cater to the tourists. To meet the transport department regulations with regard to the boat and to find a man with a captain's ticket and an engineering certificate to take the boat for the few weeks which comprise the tourist season almost rules out deep sea fishing as part of the tourist industry, he said. Mr. Warne stated not one person from the Digby area had made any effort to enrol in the school for operators of boats to take out tourist parties which has been offered by the provincial government. He said operators in the Yarmouth-Shelburne area were taking advantage of the course and this would give that area an advantage over Digby. He said the certificate awarded those who took the course would clear up the difficulties so far as the operation of tourist boats was concerned. Captain Casey stated he hoped this was so but it was (Please turn to page 8.)

Former Hockey Star Missing

Word has been received in Digby that one of the star players of the original Digby Ravens hockey team, William "Munn" Hutchinson is "missing and presumed drowned" in British Columbia. His wife, the former Dorothy Murphy, resides at Culodden, Digby County, and an only son, William, is vice-principal of the Bridgewater High School. A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hutchinson, of Digby, "Munn" was born here in 1909. A number of brothers and sisters are living in western Canada.

Holds Symposium At Cornwallis

Approximately 40 members of Group Committees representing the Boy Scouts of the Digby District gathered at the Boy Scout Hall, Cornwallis, on Thursday evening, February 25, taking part in a symposium, the first of its kind to be held in this District, and the second in Nova Scotia. One had previously been held at Yarmouth. District Commissioner Norman Wright, of Digby, introduced Mr. James Mackie, of Halifax, Field Commissioner of the Boy Scouts Association of Nova Scotia, who conducted the symposium. Mr. Wright stated the interest in Scouting in this District is growing, in 1956 there being about 50 Scouts, and now there are over 400 registered. Discussion groups were formed in each group, discussing a number of questions from a sheet submitted by Mr. Mackie. Such questions as: What are the duties and powers of a Group Committee? What reports should the Group Committee expect from Scouters at its meetings? What methods may NOT be used to raise Group funds? Who sets the religious policy of the Group? These brought forth some interesting views and discussions. Members from Weymouth, Freeport, Tiverton, Digby, Bear

ABOUT THIS AND THAT

Engagement Of Interest

The people of Digby and throughout the county join with others of the Commonwealth in sincerest wishes and congratulations to Her Royal Highness Princess Margaret and her fiancé on the announcement of their engagement.

People here will remember Princess Margaret as a beautiful and charming young lady when she visited Digby and Church Point on her 1958 tour of Canada. They will remember her for her dignity, so fitting a princess and still more for her ability to so readily cast aside schedule and protocol if so doing would add more pleasure for those whose attention were centred upon her. Without taking away her princely dignity Her Royal Highness pleasantly surprised spectators on her visit here in 1958 by making an appearance among the fishermen at the wharf in Digby. It is with a person of such liveable characteristics that a commoner Antony Armstrong-Jones has decided to spend his days. These characteristics coupled with her selfless yielding to duty has won for the Princess admiration and sympathy. Devotion to home and family coupled with discharging Royal duties has been a worthy trait which has done much to endear Her Majesty the Queen and Prince Philip to the people as did the same fine qualities of Princess Margaret's parents the late King George VI and Queen Mother Elizabeth. It is natural that the Princess should also have these same qualities which go to making a happy marriage and happy home.

The wishes of the people here are for health and happiness in the lives of this young couple in the days ahead.

Education Week - March 6 - 12

Contributed by

Miss June S. L. Schmidt, Bear River

Education Week this year is observed from March 6 to March 12.

WHERE? It is observed in your school, in your community, in your county, in Nova Scotia and throughout all of Canada.

WHAT? It is a particular week that is set aside to focus the attention of the public on our schools, their achievements and their problems. Our schools are accomplishing much in training our boys and girls to become interested and well-informed citizens, capable of meeting the demands of this ever-changing modern world, but there are many problems to be solved before we will be satisfied with the results. Education should be of general interest at all times but during this special week let us show our interest and concentrate our efforts on plans to help improve the standards and quality of education in our province.

WHY? Every citizen in the community should be familiar with school conditions. They should know whether their children are attending schools taught by interested, well-qualified teachers; if the classrooms are pleasant, comfortable and not overcrowded; if there is sufficient playground space and equipment and whether each child is given the opportunity to develop as an individual.

School is not a preparation for life but a very important part of life. Its general aim is to assist in the development of good citizens. This development should proceed along two lines, academic and social. The first is centred upon the child's ability to learn and the use he makes of that ability. The second is concerned with the co-operation he develops in living and working with others. I am sure you will readily agree that no matter how good our schools and how competent our teachers it is impossible for them to fulfill that obligation in a satisfactory manner without public co-operation.

It has been said that the education of our children in the public schools is probably the most important task of our democratic society. Our boys and girls must be taught both how to live and how to make a living, and they must learn how to apply their knowledge to meet new conditions as they arise. The future of Canada depends upon the education of its youth. If there is to be continued prosperity in the years to come there must be a high level of education for all our children and the opportunity to follow that program best suited to their needs and abilities. The school should provide a firm foundation for lifelong development. Education does indeed need everyone's support.

CARS ARE MY LINE

by Ken Hankinson

YEAH...

ANOTHER WOMAN DRIVER!

I've never believed that the ladies make poor drivers... in fact some of them put the men to shame when it comes to good driving. But that doesn't stop the jokes about women drivers and I heard one that tickled me the other day.

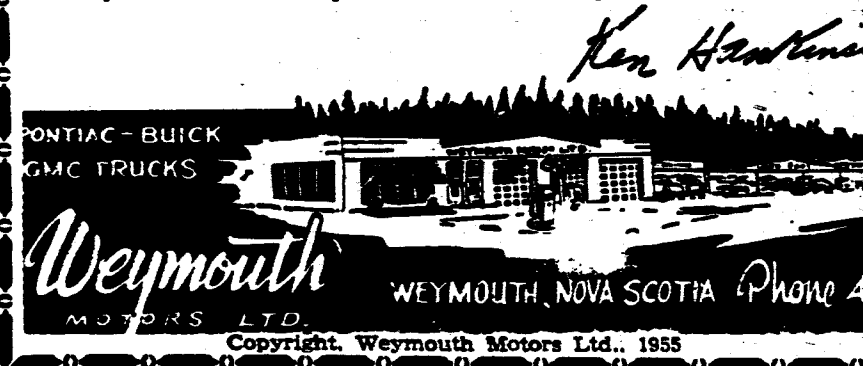

It seems that two neighbors arranged to go down town together and on arriving at the parking lot, the lady driver turned to her friend and said, "The only thing I don't like about parking is all the noise it makes... there's always such a crashing sound".

Well, minor bumps do happen to most of us once in a while when we park a car and these minor bumps are worthy of far more attention than they get from most motorists.

When you have a small accident, be sure that you check for paint damage. A break in the paint, left for months without attention can run into quite a stiff repair bill when you do get around to having it fixed up.

Minor scratches and paint bruises should be repainted. That way you avoid rust and corrosion that often eats a hole right through the metal... and can spread along under the paint at a surprising rate. It's a good plan to have all such jobs done twice a year. You'd be surprised how much better your car will look... and when trade-in time comes it makes a difference in your deal.

Our body men are equipped to give you fast, economical service in minor body work as well as major repairs. Why not come in today. For service and for cars you are always ahead when you deal with Weymouth Motors Ltd.

HANG ON TO YOUR SAVINGS with the Royal Bank 2 Account Plan

Here's one good way to keep a firm grip on your savings... adopt the Royal Bank's "2-Account Plan". It works this way. You open a Personal Chequing Account for paying personal and household bills; keep your Savings Account strictly for saving. Having two accounts helps you avoid dipping into your savings... gives them a chance to grow with regular deposits and the interest they earn. It's sensible, businesslike and you'll find it works. Has Birthday Party

On Saturday evening, February 20th, Mrs. Elise Thibault held a party at her home in honour of her daughter, Shirley, who celebrated her 17th birthday. Forty-five friends gathered to celebrate the occasion, the evening being spent in dancing, games, playing cards and crokinole.

Miss Thibault received some nice gifts, including money. At the end of the evening the hostess, assisted by Joan Robicheau, Mrs. Nelson Thibault, Joyce Nickerson, Clara Amoro, Carole Amoro and Mrs. Donald Thibault, served a delicious birthday cake with 17 lighted candles and an assortment of sandwiches to the guests.

Everyone joined in singing "Happy Birthday", and wishing Shirley many more happy years. Guests included friends from Doucetteville, Plympton and Sissiboo Falls.

All departed, thanking Mrs. Thibault for a lovely evening.

Conclude Rally At Greenwich

Jehovah's Witnesses of the Western Nova Scotia congregation concluded their three-day assembly at the Horton District High School in Greenwich on Sunday, February 14th.

The convention opened Friday evening with Mr. Laurier Saumur, District Supervisor from Toronto, using as his opening address the convention theme "Seek Peace and Pursue It". His remarks and those of the speakers that followed showed those in attendance the necessity of seeking peace, first with God and then with man, and that this can only be accomplished through a knowledge of God's requirements and then pursuing this right course. Those participating in the program included Frank Tadei and T. Holmes, of Digby, and R. Forbes, of Bear River.

The success of the convention was partly due to the apt managing of Mr. Tadei, of Digby. He has served on convention committees for the past ten years and is well experienced in organizing for assemblies. At one convention in Vancouver which was attended by over twenty-five thousand delegates he worked in the purchasing department.

Hailing from Vancouver, B. C., Mr. Tadei and his wife, Muriel, came east to Digby where he is the presiding minister of the Digby Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses. Formerly engaged in the Building Maintenance business he is now a full time minister of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Both Mr. Tadei and his wife are happy in ministerial assignment in Digby and although they have made one trip to the West Coast since coming here they say they're glad to be back in Nova Scotia.

At the convention Saturday afternoon seven persons symbolized their dedication as ordained minister of God by water immersion. The Saturday evening program was devoted to discussions and demonstrations on the subject of "Being a Teacher on Bible Studies".

The convention reached its climax on Sunday when Mr. Saumur spoke to an audience of 478 on the timely subject "Finding Peace in This Troubled World". In his opening remarks the speaker stated: "People the world over are living in a period of intense anxiety and fear of the future because of the unsettled state of all nations". He further pointed out that to be at peace, man, the creature of God, must first be at peace with God, and God, the Creator of man, shows how this can be accomplished through gaining an accurate knowledge of His Word, the Bible, and following its righteous principles.

The convention came to a

Guest Speaker At Rossway

Rev. Neil G. Price, Stewardship Director of the Maritime Baptist Convention, was guest speaker of the Digby Neck First Baptist Pastorate at a meeting held in the Rossway Hall on Wednesday evening, February 17.

The meeting opened with a short sing-song conducted by Rev. D. I. McClare, pastor of the church. After the reading of the Scripture by Deacon Loran Shaw, a short talk regarding the Scripture Lesson by the pastor, and a prayer session opened by Deacon Douglas Andrews, Rev. D. I. McClare introduced Rev. Mr. Price.

Rev. Neil G. Price explained the Outreach Stewardship Campaign, which has already been used in some eighty-five churches with outstanding results. He explained that this is not primarily a fund-raising campaign, but rather a campaign to bring church members into a closer fellowship as each one does his part in "The Work We Do Together".

After refreshments were served by the Men's Brotherhood, a vote was taken re the setting up of an Outreach Campaign. It was decided that each of the four churches on the field — Rossway, Centreville, Waterford, and Roxville — should discuss it separately.

The service came to a close as Rev. N. G. Price pronounced the Benediction.

Tourist Development (Continued from page 1.) his understanding the certificate affected only the operator of the boat and the craft must still meet the requirements of the transport department. These included a lifeboat swung from davits. To provide a boat that would meet all the requirements for the short season that exists here would be uneconomical, he said.

John Woolaver stated visitors cannot understand why so many scenic attractions are not properly publicized. He stated he was in the midst of establishing a camp site and trailer park in the Smith's Cove area. This is a personal venture, he said, and is being done without any government support or encouragement.

He said he could not understand why the Digby Board of Trade or the town had not done something about a camp site and said Yarmouth had already had the provincial government authorities visit them with regard to the matter.

Mr. Woolaver said one tourist attraction which could be developed with very little expense was surf fishing. There are

Hold Annual Crusade

The Annual Crusade Meeting of the Centreville United Baptist Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Lida Gidney on February 18, with eleven members and five visitors present. Mrs. Lida Gidney led in a devotional period with thoughts on "The Promise of the Word". Scripture portions were read by Mrs. Guy Outhouse, Mrs. Herman Cann, Mrs. LeRoy Robicheau and Mrs. Roy Cameron.

The President, Mrs. Roy Cameron, presided at the meeting and stressed "Scripture Reading" as a means of developing spiritual life. Following a season of prayer, the President welcomed the visitors and invited them to become members of the Society. She then read a paper regarding the Origin and Purpose of Crusade Day which began in 1890, for the purpose of contacting the Baptist women in a community to bring the mission work to their attention, and endeavouring to have them become members of the Missionary Society.

An interesting program on Angola, "The Written Word For A Needy World" was presented by Mrs. Keith Raymond, assisted by Mrs. William Titus, Mrs. Herman Cann and Mrs. Donald McClure. Mrs. Loran remarkably good opportunities for this at such places as the Point Prim Light, he said, yet we are not doing anything about publicizing it.

Referring to deep sea fishing, Reg Walker stated in 1958 he bought a boat to take out parties. I was hounded so much about the regulations, he said, that last year I did not even put my boat in the water. In 1958, he said, I had all the business I could handle, sometimes three trips a day. My boat was equipped with fire extinguishers, life raft, life belts and so on but still it did not meet all the regulations.

A number of other potentials were discussed including the development of historic sites, marking of scenic drives and the development of a distinctive highway marker for the Land of Evangeline route. Mr. Anderson stressed the advisability of keeping promotional efforts simple and direct. He said several approaches could be made to the problem of implementing any recommendations.

Titus conducted a summary of the Baptist Mission Stations and the Missionary Staff in Angola using a map and pictures of the missionaries. "Interesting Incidents at M'Boa", a report by Rev. Charles Harvey, missionary in Angola and one time pastor of the Digby Neck First Baptist Churches, was read by Mrs. Ronald Morehouse, concluding the Missionary program.

The group will participate in the Women's World Day of Prayer in the Rossway Baptist Church on March 4. The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Keith Raymond on Thursday, March 10.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and committee under the convenship of Mrs. William Robicheau.

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, MARCH 10, 1960

VOLUME LXXXV, No. 28

Approve $80,000

The Digby town council decided at the regular monthly meeting here to secure a resolution to place before the voters a referendum authorizing the involvement of the town in the capital cost of providing a new hospital for the area to an amount not exceeding $80,000.

Some discussion was had as to the method of involving the town, whether this should be through direct borrowing of the sum required or through a guarantee of the bonds of the hospital to that amount. It was decided, however, to ask the municipal affairs department to place before a ratepayers meeting when developments with respect to the hospital construction reach that stage.

The municipality of Annapolis several weeks ago authorized the sum of $40,000 toward the construction of the proposed new Digby General Hospital, and the municipality of Clare have agreed to accept their share of costs, amounting to $20,000. The balance of the amount required from the local area has yet to be authorized. This includes $40,000 from the municipality of Digby and an estimated $50,000 from the department of national defence.

An offer was received from a Halifax firm to supply the town with a reconditioned road grader at a cost of $8,500. It was stated at the meeting the present town grader is in bad mechanical condition and, since it is some thirty years old, repair parts are not available.

The meeting decided to secure information as to financial terms available on the reconditioned ten year old machine and also to find out if the highways department might have a used machine which has "absence from" machine, no lengthy periods and he could no longer carry on the civil director at a yearly honorarium of five hundred dollars. Applications will be sought from persons interested in the position.

Councillors J. A. Woolaver and Russell Atkinson were named to the civil defence committee. Deputy Mayor V. L. Bent is committee chairman. Recommendations regarding traffic control made by Mr. John Fiske, provincial traffic safety engineer, were presented to the meeting by Councillor Earl VanTassel, chairman of the police committee, and adopted.

The recommendations include replacement of angle parking with parallel on the west side of Water Street; enforcement of no "U" turn the full length of Water Street and the establishment of a loading zone area to control the traffic congestion on the northern of highway between Water Street and Prince William leading to the Canadian Pacific wharf.

Councillors V. L. Bent, Russell Atkinson and W. L. McKenna were named to the building committee for the new annex to the regional high school. It was reported a ratepayers' meeting had approved the borrowing of a sum not to exceed fifteen thousand dollars to cover the town's share of the construction of the school addition. The town's members on the building committee will serve with three members appointed by the municipal council.

92nd Birthday

Friends and relatives called on Mrs. C. W. Croscup at Granville Ferry during the past week to offer felicitations on the occasion of her 92nd birthday anniversary. Mrs. Croscup received many cards of congratulation and best wishes and also gifts. She was born at Salem, Mass., the only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Emory Tanch and has made her home at Granville Ferry since coming there as a bride 58 years ago. Mrs. Croscup is a faithful member of the United Baptist Church and Women's Missionary Society of which she is a Dominion life member. She was church treasurer for over 40 years. Since the death of Captain Croscup last December, Mrs. Croscup is being tenderly cared for by her husband's great nephew, Mr. Fred Armstrong and his wife, who came from Montreal to care for her in her own home.

Farmers Hold Meetings

Two meetings have been held in the County regarding the organization of the farmers for the opening of the Abattoir this Spring.

At Digby about thirty farmers met with Mr. Curtis and Don Bishop, Marketing Representative from Truro, at 2 p.m., Tuesday, March 1st.

At Meteghan fifty farmers met at the Fire Hall at 8 p.m. In Digby the meeting was chaired by Mr. Arthur MacKay, president of the Digby Federation, and Mrs. Chipman Chisholm as secretary of the meeting. In Meteghan Camille Devau was the chairman.

After the opening of the meeting the chairman introduced Don who spoke on the purpose of the meeting, which is to get the farmers organized so that they will be able to get their livestock to the Abattoir when it will be ready. In most cases the farmers will be using the existing shipping clubs or in other places they will organize new ones.

Second speaker was Douglas Curtis, president of the Co-operative Abattoir. Mr. Curtis started by saying that these meetings are informal and that they should be the farmers' meetings.

The plan at Halifax is nearing completion and should be ready to go into production in early May. The machinery are being installed at the present time and all those who visited it spoke well of the efficient plant.

The farmers of the province are expecting to have an official opening of the plant and the directors are planning it to be held early this Spring.

The collecting of livestock for this Abattoir will be done by existing shipping clubs where in existence and by new clubs, like in Digby County, where no shipping clubs have been in operation before. Transportation will be done by the railways or in some cases by local trucks. Large holding pens are being built outside of the Abattoir, to receive the livestock, before going through the Abattoir for processing.

The farmers of the Province are satisfied that if they can control the production of the Abattoir they will get the best market prices available. The question of organizing shipping clubs was left with

Red Cross Branch Hears Report

Delegates to the Annual Meeting of the Nova Scotia Division reported at a well-attended business meeting of the Digby Red Cross Branch last week. Mrs. A. J. Dillon, vice-president, presided, and Mrs. Allan Harris presented an interesting account of the annual sessions at which she and Mrs. Loran Hayden represented the Branch, and Mrs. H. M. Warne, regional vice-president, was also in attendance. Regrets were expressed that Dr. T. W. Hodgson, president of the Digby Branch and chairman of the Awards Committee for the Division, was absent from the meetings, being a patient in the Victoria General Hospital.

Mrs. Harris' report described the "Open House" at which the delegates, gathered on the first evening, being entertained by a Red Cross pageant, and also the many displays of the varied phases of Red Cross work, including attractive samples from the work of the Digby Branch, particularly several beautiful quilts made by Mrs. Oscar VanTassel and knitting by Mrs. Loran Hayden. The following day was devoted to reports of officers and committees and presented a complete picture of the immense amount of Red Cross work done in the province. The Women's Work Committee reported 41 minor disasters in Nova Scotia during the year, in which 333 adults and 455 children were helped by the society, 500 quilts having been given locally in addition to other supplies. The deficit in Red Cross fund collection was brought out by Mr. D. Bruce Shaw, Chairman of Central Council, who emphasized the gravity of the financial situation unless the present campaign meets its quota. The Red Cross dollar in Nova Scotia is expended on the Blood Transfusion Service, which provides free blood transfusions for all, in comparison with the $25 or more per pint paid for blood where this Red Cross service is not available. Read minutes of previous meeting on February 1st.
Read minutes of Ratepayers Meeting.

J. R. Nichols: I am here on behalf of William Troop on the property question. It was read in the minutes of the last meeting. I directed a letter to the Town Clerk and received no advice concerning that letter. I am here today to see what has been done by the Committee to enforce the by-law that has been passed. I have nothing to add to what we have already said. I just would like to know what the Committee intends to do if anything to carry out Section 18 of the by-laws.

Mayor: The motion we passed at the last meeting with respect to this business of junk yards. It was moved that the Chief of Police check the property in question and action be taken to have the junk removed when conditions permit its removal.

Woolaver: Since I made this motion, I have consistently asked Mr. Webster what he was going to do with the scrap and he was very co-operative with me and said that he would move the junk as soon as a market was available.

VanTassel: Sometime this week he has told me that he has sold his scrap.

Mayor: The junk is actually sold?

Woolaver: Other than that, I personally, couldn't tell you anything about it. He seems very relieved to have it sold and get rid of it. I don't think he would tell me a story like that if it wasn't true.

VanTassel: The bridge was out all this week.

Speaks On Pugwash Meet

Professor Eric Hanson of Acadia University was guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Digby Board of Trade on Monday evening taking as his subject the Pugwash Conference. Mr. Hanson is professor of chemistry at the university and is the only Maritimer to attend Cyrus Eaton's Pugwash Conference. Mr. Hanson attended the 5th such conference last August.

The speaker said the conference came about by noted men becoming interested in the possible dangers of radioactive fall out and a possible means of arousing public opinion on the subject. Mr. Cyrus Eaton, well known industrialist offered to become sponsor for a meeting of private individuals and have their conclusions made public. The Western Nations later set up a committee to study the question also.

The topic for 1959 was biological and chemical warfare when all the aspects and magnitude of the weapons and their control were considered by 30 men from a cross section of countries. They were of the opinion that the chemical and biological weapons were as massive in destruction as the small bomb used in World War II. Aspects unique to this weapon were its ability of antibiotic and insecticide production and that it is a cheap weapon for financially poor countries.

Mr. Hanson praised Mr. Eaton for the work he is doing and said there had been other groups gathered at his home in Pugwash or sponsored elsewhere by Mr. Eaton for worthwhile conferences but not all ference and the world the speaker said. He looked forward to the time when such conferences of the thinkers would be made known.

The speaker was introduced by his brother-in-law and president of the Board, Edward Twohig, and thanked by Vincent Snow.

Rev. J. Brooks Special Speaker

Rev. James Brooks, minister of Grace United Church, was special speaker at the World Day of Prayer service held at the United Church on Friday afternoon. Mr. Brooks took as his subject the theme for the afternoon, "Labourers Together with God", in bringing the missionary message. He said our forefathers went out with a clear sense of direction, sure of their resources in Christian faith and made use of them. Today we have just as many resources. We must go out firm in our faith, he said, if we are to effectively challenge the nations. We have the command

Digby Legion Endorses Move

Clementsport and Annapolis Royal Legion branches concerned to the Hon. George C. Nowlan, the Minister of Defence and the Minister of Veterans Affairs endorsing protests previously forwarded to the federal ministers by the Annapolis and Clementsport Legion branches and copies of the telegram were also ordered sent to Hon. R. L. Stanfield, Hon. Lester B. Pearson and Hon. Henry D. Hicks.

A letter was also ordered sent to the Digby Board of Trade asking for the support of that organization concerning the layoffs at HMCS Cornwallis. The meeting was advised that telegrams had already been forwarded by Mayor Victor Cardoza of Digby to Hon. Mr. Nowlan and the Defence Minister protesting the layoffs and asking for reconsideration of notices of termination of employment as well as assurance that further layoffs would not be made.

The meeting was advised through a letter from the Clementsport branch of the Legion that 22% of the civilian staff at Cornwallis had already been laid off. This included seventy heating staff employees and twenty-two cleaners and helpers, all of whom were veterans.

It was stated in the Clementsport letter, which was a copy of one sent to federal ministers, that the government had announced a three percent cutback in civilian staff for the Atlantic command. This would have meant a total of twelve layoffs for HMCS Cornwallis, it was stated. As of March 31st, however, the total will be ninety-two or 22% of the civilian staff.

The letter protested the plan to use service personnel for the work previously carried out by the civilian staff and stated the finding of employment for the civilians laid off at the base in the local area is "utterly impossible".

Fail To Find Trade Board Leaders

Arthur Robinson, reporting for the nominating committee of the Digby Board of Trade, deplored the seriousness of the situation when no officers could be found to carry on the Board for 1960. He said it was a matter which must be dealt with at once. He felt that men should not have to be coaxed or forced into leadership but that each should know and share the responsibility of directing such an organization. It is only through the voice of such co-operative bodies that action can be obtained. He cited the example of the boat which has a scheduled cruising from New York to Halifax and Shelburne. By the Board of Trade at Shelburne making their voice heard, he said, that town would benefit but it has no more or not as much to offer as Digby. This report was laid with regret by Mr. Robinson before the annual meeting of the Board on Monday night. J. J. Brittain, also on the nominating committee, complimented Mr. Robinson on the time he spent in trying to obtain officers and for the number of contacts he made in this regard.

The meeting was presided over by Edward Twohig, president, who will continue in office until the next regular meeting when it is hoped a slate might be presented by the present nominating committee. In the absence of Richard Levy, John Nichols acted as secretary for the evening.

In discussion on the serious situation in not being able to obtain leaders Mr. Nichols said, when we have to talk about it at Cornwallis, etc.? We must have the Board of Trade to get things in motion.

Many activities started now and anticipated for the future both in conjunction with the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade and as local projects need the Digby Board's attention immediately, said Mr. Brittain. The Digby Board should be a great power in the town and we need it. We cannot raise our voices as individuals but we are heard as a Trade Board.

These sentiments were also voiced by a president who advocated a strong central executive rather than too many committees. In his report, Mr. Twohig said that the people need the Board of Trade as a channel through which community problems can be directed. He said the magnificent membership of 134 in 1959 by the efforts of Mr. Vincent Snow was necessary to be maintained. This membership, he said, was envied by other towns. Following is excerpt from the president's report: (Please turn to page 5)

Horticultural Society Meets

"Digby — Past and Future" might well have been the title of the March program of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society, which was entertained last week at the home of Miss Marjorie Tupper.

Following a report on the recent Board of Trade meeting addressed by "Bill" Anderson of Saint John, at which the Society was represented by its President, Mrs. H. A. Nichols, an interesting discussion was held regarding possible Digby improvements within the scope of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society. The feeling was expressed that the projects previously undertaken by the club — Admiral Digby Park adjacent to the "Welcome to Nova Scotia" sign, and the restoration of the old Loyalist Cemetery — had already provided a substantial contribution toward Digby improvement, and their continuation should constitute the main effort of club members. However, further improvements to these projects were decided upon, and a committee appointed, headed by Mrs. Ralph Wright, to provide suitable signs at the entrances to both the Park and the Cemetery. Plans for the placing of a permanent bench in the Cemetery and also the addition of rose beds were under consideration, with future hopes for

ABOUT THIS AND THAT

Safety On Ice

Two stories in the last issue of The Digby Courier read of near tragedy to two children in two different villages within our area. Both had to do with breaking through ice. Our purpose is not to recall the incidents but these two happenings have brought to mind that Spring is on its way and danger lurks on ponds, streams and lakes more than before.

Beginning in February the afternoon sun does more of a melting job on ice than is sometimes suspected. What was heavy strong outdoor ice for joyfully skating and sliding in January becomes weather eaten as February wanes and the month of March begins. Children need to be warned of this danger by their parents. Young minds do not look for danger so readily as older minds. If crossing a pond or stream on the way to school or local grocery has been the habit there seems to be no reason to change it.

Parents need to warn the children that while the ice at one end of a lake or river might seem strong enough for their weight there might be weak spots which are not so strong. Rushing water beneath and the warm Spring sun pouring on particular areas have a tendency to wear away the ice in some sections more than others. Forgetting this has been the cause of many drowning accidents both with children and adults.

Be careful on ice, especially now that Spring is so near. Parents warn the children of dangers.

What A Different Payday

For 85 years The Digby Courier has been making up payrolls. Just what the weekly payroll was 85 years ago we are not prepared to say. We do know what it was 35 years ago on March 11th and we also know that tomorrow is another March 11th and payday.

Top man on March 11, 1905, was the editor, O. S. Dunham, with the sum of $12.00 in his weekly pay envelope. Next in line was George H. Chisholm, $10.00; John Dakin, $4.00; Eva Dakin, $3.00; Ethel Moore, $3.00; Charles Moore, $2.50 and Maggie Turnbull, $1.50. Total payroll for the week, $36.00. And what about our payroll tomorrow, March 11, 1960? Well, enough to say that the $36.00 of 1905 would not even pay the staff for a half day of the week.

There was very little figuring to be done on the March 11, 1905, payroll. No figures to be multiplied for overtime on that payroll. No deductions for income tax, no sick benefits to be reckoned, no unemployment insurance. Nothing but simply straight addition. No need of an adding machine as you can readily see. No need to have a bookkeeper for a couple of hours on payday to figure out all the odd cents and decimal fractions and balance up a full page of figures. Gosh! What a different day is payday.

Obituary

Ralph E. Apt

Many friends and relatives learned with regret of the sudden passing of Ralph Edward Apt, prominent resident of Kentville and a veteran of the First World War, whose death occurred at the Blanchard Fraser Memorial Hospital on Sunday evening, February 21st, following a heart seizure.

Born in Port Wade 65 years ago, he was a son of the late Captain John Apt and Delilah (Westhaver) Apt. After completing his schooling at Port Wade he attended the Maritime Business College, Halifax. In 1916 he joined the 85th Battalion of the Canadian Army and served overseas. He was invalided home in 1919.

Mr. Apt was a member of the Baptist Church and a secretary of the Kentville Canadian Legion.

For some years he worked with the department of transport and was working there up until his retirement. Mr. Apt was also employed for a few years at the Kentville Publishing Company.

Besides his widow, the former Alberta McCullum of Amherst, he is survived by one son, Captain of Santa Barbara, Vancouver, who came home for his fathers funeral; three grandchildren, Kathryn Sue, Sereta, and John Apt. Also surviving are three sisters, Elsie (Mrs. Archie Morrison) of Port Wade; Alberta (Mrs. Orville Sanborn) of Rochester, N. H.; and Hattie Lucille (Mrs. Malcolm Nichols), Marblehead, Mass. A sister Jennie and two brothers, Albert and John, predeceased him.

Funeral service was held on Thursday, Feb. 25, from Kentville Baptist Church. Dr. Geo. Hamilton was the officiating clergyman.

Tightens Regulations

New regulations designed to control the acceptance of unaddressed "householder" advertising mail were announced recently by the Honourable William Hamilton, Postmaster General. Under the regulations, which go into effect June 1st, 1960, Householder matter must be folded to a size of 4 1/2 x 12 inches. The inclusion of samples and advertising novelties will be prohibited in this class of mail. The regulations will also extend the delivery period for such advertising matter and increase the postage rates on larger items.

Under the changes announced, large bulky "flyers" and broadsheets will not be accepted unless folded to the required size. The system will be restricted to printed matter; that is, to matter on paper, parchment or cardboard. Merchandise, including samples and other advertising novelties which are bulky and hard to handle, will be excluded.

The four-day period previously allowed for delivery of householder mail will be extended to seven days. In other words, the Postmaster General said, householder matter will be accepted only on the understanding that delivery may not be completed in less than seven days.

The rate on larger items, that is, those of over two ounces in weight, has been increased by one-half cent per two ounces.

In announcing the changes, the Postmaster General stated that advance notice has been given in order to permit advertisers and publishers to adjust to the new regulations and to plan their printing schedules in the light of the new requirements.

The Postmaster General said that in recent years there has been a tremendous increase in the weight and volume of householder mail, to the extent that it has reached the problem stage in the Postal Service. Coupled with the huge growth in householder mailings, the number and variety of odd shaped articles being distributed as samples. Because of their odd

by Ken Hankinson

THE "GOOD OLD DAYS" WEREN'T SO GOOD

There's hardly a day goes by that one person or another comes on the used car lot and makes some comment that car manufacturers don't make cars as well as they used to. You know the comments I mean "Back in '32 they made a real car"; "Won't stand up like my old '49"; "Never was a car that would go as far as an old model T".

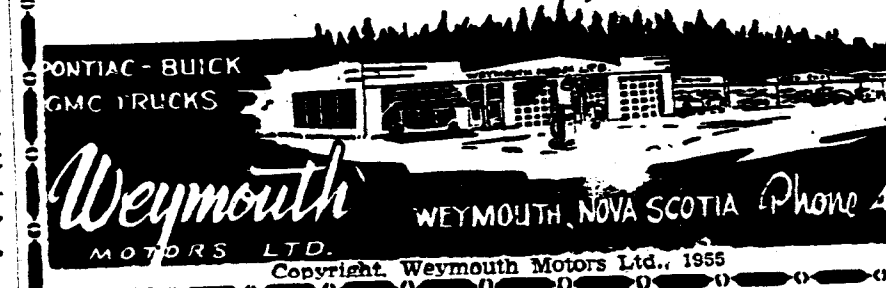

A few days ago I was reading in a magazine published for Car Dealers. They were comparing cars of the past with the ones made today. There's a difference in quality and lasting ability alright... but it's all in favor of the car on the road today.

The average car built today will travel some 110,000 miles before it will be ready for the junk heap. In 1925, the average car travelled fewer than 26,000 miles before it found its way to the scrap pile. You not only get more car... but you get a better car today than you ever got before.

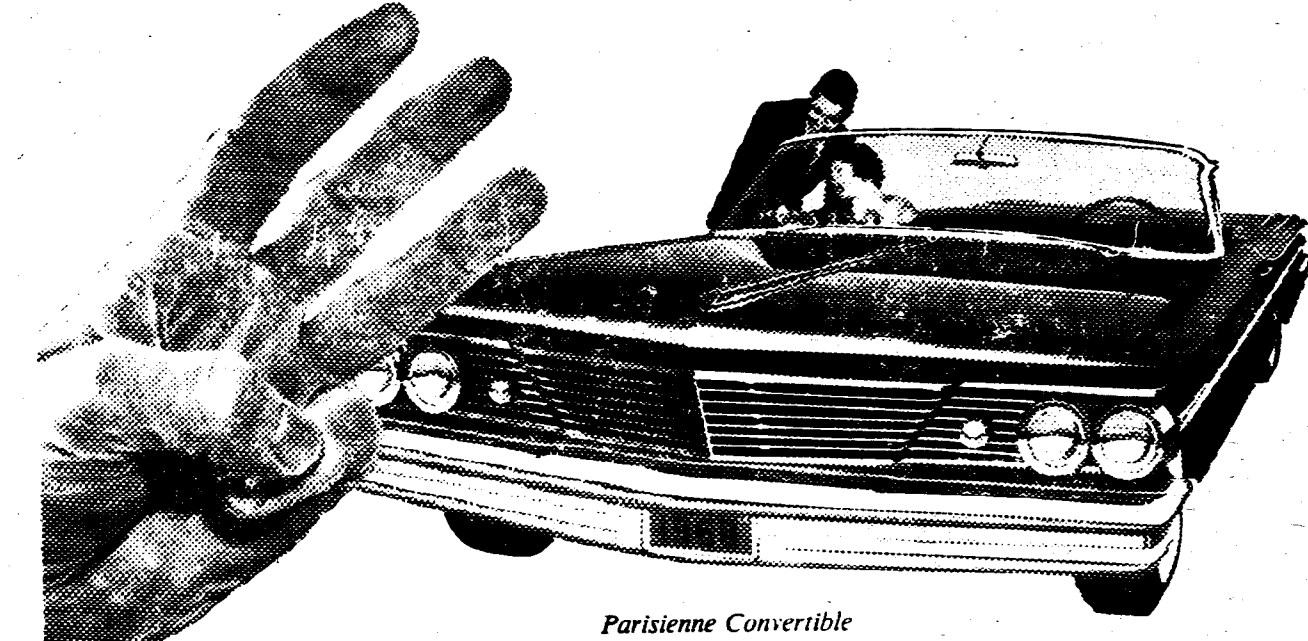

Now, you won't find any cars on our lot with 110,000 miles on them. You will find some choice late models with 25,000 and 30,000 miles... and you can be sure that they are the pick of the crop from our trades on new cars. And you can also be sure that we've been over them with a "fine-tooth comb" to see that you get a good car.

You get more miles of trouble free and economical driving when you drive a Weymouth Motors Ltd. used car.

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

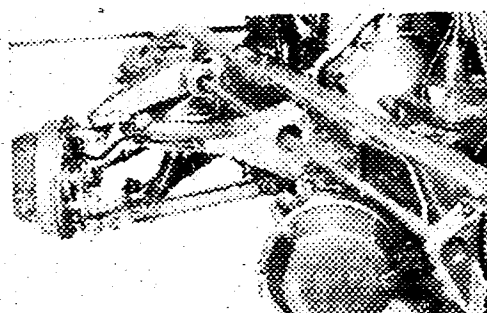

Chevrolet Trucks outwork, outlast 'em all

Exhaustive testing proves major components last up to four times longer.

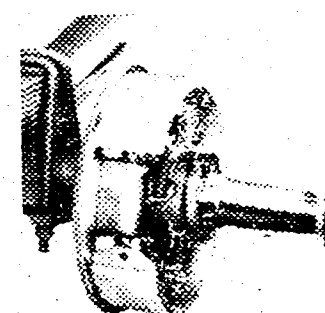

Totally new cabs proven 67% more twist-resistant.

New frames for many models up to 4.8 times more torsionally-rigid.

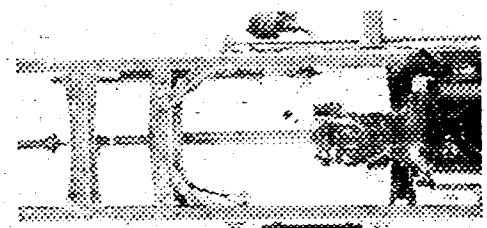

These are typical 1960 Chevrolet Truck facts and figures. They, plus Chevrolet's revolutionary new features, mean more profit, through: longer life, less maintenance, easier working, outsized cargo space, extra economy.

NEW front suspension features radically new independent torsion springs. Now Chevrolet's front wheels step right over bumps. Tough torsion springs soak up shocks. As much as 58% of objectionable road shock is absorbed before it reaches truck body, sheet metal, or driver.

NEW brakes provide maximum safety in bringing a loaded truck to a fast, sure stop. Extra-wide lining wears longer. Choose from vacuum-hydraulic units, air-hydraulic and full air-brakes.

NEW box-section frames provide new do-the-job bravn. Chevrolet's box-section, rail design frame is stronger than ever. Massive "K" or "X" brace cross-members increase truck stamina by adding to torsional rigidity.

NEW precision-balanced wheels. This typical Chevrolet attention to detail gives easier safer handling, longer tire life, less shimmy. Remember Chevrolet truck front wheels are factory balanced.

Look into Chevrolet value today. You'll find that Chevrolet is really built to build your trucking profits to a new high. You'll find dozens of extra convenience and profit-making features such as the way Chevrolet's big new full-width hood and low tender crown make underhood components more accessible for faster, easier servicing. You'll find variable-rate rear springs that come in high capacities to accommodate big payloads, adjusting spring resistance automatically as you add more weight to the truck. And in the power department you'll find that there's no match anywhere for Chevrolet's high-power, high-torque V8's or tough dependable 6's. Every Chevrolet power-plant gives you peak performance with maximum economy. There's no end to the reasons why it will profit you to see your Chevrolet dealer today about Chevrolet Trucks' big new build. He's waiting for your call, do it now!

erecting a plaque containing the names of early Digby settlers buried there.

The meeting was gratified to learn that a favorable reply had been received regarding government assistance for care of the "Welcome Sign" grounds, also a grant of $75 from the Town Council, thus providing working capital for club projects in addition to funds raised by the members. The placing of hanging flower baskets at intervals along a portion of the main street in town was also proposed by the President and was favorably received by the members. Further plans were dependent upon the cost and work involved after closer study of the project.

Having explored these possibilities for the future, a fascinating glimpse into Digby's past was provided by Mrs. Eva Woodall who presented her contribution to the History of Digby County, together with many interesting anecdotes of historical value. With her the group went back to the days when Digby was nothing but a small settlement with Micmacs frequenting the Indian paths along our coast, as possibly the Norsemen, certainly the French, then the English, and later the settlers from New England. Through the Gap and up to Annapolis Basin. Not until the arrival of the first white settlers here was Digby actually settled, but the earlier settlement of Conway and the arrival of the McNutt Grant and the first white settlers who arrived in 1766 were heard with great interest. All this is of great significance this year, which marks the 200th anniversary of the Planters arrival, and to be the theme of the Apple Blossom Festival and possibly other tourist attractions.

Following the business session, which also included rose shows for spring planting, the social hour was climaxed by the serving of refreshments, which the hostess was assisted by Mrs. H. A. Nichols and Mrs. Kenneth Beckwith.

FAIL TO FIND LEADERS

During the year we followed all industrial leads that came to our attention. This is a difficult problem, and until a person is confronted with the problems involved in organizing a programme of industrial promotion it appears easy. I shall invite the next person I hear saying, "why doesn't the Board of Trade go after new industry", to offer his services in this course. That's all it takes - someone to do it. Our Industrial Survey was completed and copies prepared so as to be available when needed. 1959 was not an uneventful year in industrial expansion. Quoting from memory the following new industries were established: Digby Frozen Foods Limited; Digby Diesel Co., and Digby Woodworkers. Substantial expansion was made to the plant of C. D. Snow Limited and an expansion of the warehouse of Atlantic Wholesalers Limited was made in 1959.

Our tourist committee accomplished a fine thing in improving the road signs on the main highway. The very fine scallop shell signs were erected one mile from both the east and west entrances to our fair town. The western entrance signs were relocated and a new entrance sign was erected at the eastern entrance. During the tourist season we gave away souvenir scallop shells which were very well received by the tourists and is the type of promotion that makes the biggest impression on our summer guests. The efforts of our Board, together with others, resulted in the government announcement that a Royal Commission on the liquor question would be established.

Our civic interests were expanded during the year to consider the relationship between the town and rural community. In this direction we offered our services to assist the Maple Leaf Agricultural Society. This we did by a number of our members helping them to put on their annual fair. The parking for out of town customers was considered and although nothing has as yet been finalized, plans are still in process to improve this situation.

Perhaps the most notorious undertaking of the Digby Board of Trade was the restarting and lighting of the Town Clock. As everyone knows for several days all business in Digby was at a standstill.

Resolutions were passed and sent to responsible authorities Monday night supporting the Chignecto Canal project and protesting the lay-off of civilian workers at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis. Regarding the Cornwallis lay-off, it was generally regarded that the measure was for the sake of economy but it was also mentioned that it is rumored that many navy wives are filling positions which could be given to civilians needing work. Gregg Gilliat in speaking on the subject said that probably the powers that be were amiss in not supplying some other form of employment first for surely the government can recognize the fact that these fellow citizens need to be employed. Perhaps, he said, that some of the traffic through the St. Lawrence Seaway might be channelled to us here on the "end of the dog's tail" where nothing is left.

A request to entertain the Master Plumbers Convention when they meet at the Pines Hotel here in June was left for decision by the publicity committee.

CLINIC HERE

The spring schedule of the Nova Scotia Society for the Care of Crippled Children's Mobile Clinics has been announced by John M. Kinnaird, executive director of the society. The clinic will be in Digby on May 11.

HEARS REPORT (From p. 8) divisional meeting was Asst. National Red Cross Commissioner Reuben Baetz, who spoke on "World Refugee Year". Having had many years experience among the European and Middle East refugee camps, Mr. Baetz brought home very forcibly to his audience the desperate plight of these people, and their terrible need for help, both Red Cross and national.

Other Digby Branch reports were presented, that of the treasurer, Mrs. B. H. Ruggles, showing an expenditure of $18.03 for flannellette for local layettes and $21.85 for clothing for the victim of a recent fire. A donation from Mrs. E. DuVernet, of Fredericton, was also acknowledged.

Mrs. George Winfield reported for the Disaster Relief Committee that, in addition to the assistance given in the case of the fire, bedding had also been supplied for an elderly lady in Smith's Cove, and a grateful letter received in reply. A letter was also read from the Digby General Hospital, thanking the committee for the gift of four second-hand dressing gowns for the use of male patients.

The report of the Women's Work Committee, presented by Mrs. H. M. Warne, showed 177 articles, including 21 quilts, also 2000 gauze wipes, shipped to headquarters, and new materials on order. Finished work returned from Smith's Cove was also acknowledged with thanks. In reference to World Refugee Year, Mrs. Warne reported that the Nova Scotia Division had promised to supply 300 extra quilts and 250 layettes in addition to our regular quota, which meant that each branch was being asked to put forth an extra effort this year.

It was also reported that a Blood-Donor Clinic is scheduled for Digby on Tuesday, March 29th, under the auspices of the Lion's Club. The Branch expressed its willingness to assist in the usual way on the day of the clinic, and to consult Mr. MacPherson, chairman of the Lion's Committee, regarding further arrangements. The meeting adjourned for the customary Ten Cent Tea, for which delicious refreshments were provided by Mrs. Blair Daley.

Town Council

Letter read from William Stairs Son & Morrow.

VanTassel: I might add to that letter that I have been in contact with their salesman and it hadn't been for the road closing, he would have brought it down for a trial.

I asked them about the old grader and they will allow us $500.00 on the old one.

Anthony: Is there any guarantee on this?

VanTassel: None, other than that it will be in perfect condition.

That grader, eight or nine years ago, would sell for $22,000.

Anthony: Does it have hydraulic controls?

VanTassel: It isn't hydraulic, they are mechanical.

Woolaver: Did he mention that you could use the grader, the way it is now, for plowing snow?

VanTassel: As it is now, it could plow 7 or 8 inches of snow.

Mayor: Was anything said about favourable financial arrangements?

VanTassel: He says any terms you people want to lay before us.

McKenna: What does it cost to grade our streets? ... on the average for the past three years?

Woolaver: They charge by the hour.

Clerk: I think the upkeep runs from $6,000, to $7,000, a year. I am only guessing at that.

Mayor: I strongly recommend that we avoid dependency on the Department of Highways. They would have to grade our roads at their convenience.

Woolaver: They have more than they can do.

VanTassel: When grading time does come, you have streets being graded once every week.

Mayor: In actual fact, how bad is the present machine?

Woolaver: We have discussed that at a special meeting. Mr. Robinson said it needed new tires. They are going to be very hard to get. That grader is 30 years old and we have had our mechanics work on it and I was talking to them and as far as the motor goes, you couldn't replace any part. They say that the only reason they ever worked on it, was to help the town out, and it is beyond that now. The radiator is gone on it right now. About every half hour they have to stop and put buckets of water in it. The controls are bad. You have to crank it to get it going.

Miss Canada Entertained

Several social functions were a feature of the visit of Miss Rosemary Keenan, "Miss Canada", to Digby this week.

On her arrival on Monday from Saint John Miss Canada was met by Mayor and Mrs. Victor Cardoza and Ice Carnival Chairman Charles Hall and Mrs. Hall.

The hostess presented Miss Keenan with Nova Scotia tartan design earrings.

Education Week Displays

Excellent displays were exhibited in the windows of a number of stores in the business section of Digby last week to mark Education Week here.

Outstanding among the window displays was that of St. Patrick's Academy which was on exhibit at Wright's of Digby Ltd. This display told in pictorial form the story of the importance of education and the need for interest in its development by everyone. Included also were examples of work done by the students of the Academy and art, typing by the pupils of the commercial department.

Makes Gift Of Land

A fourteen acre plot of woodland with a 620 foot frontage on Haines' Lake in the interior of Digby municipality has been given to the Digby East Fish and Game Association for development as a camp site and hunting lodge area by Hubert M. Warne of Digby.

Announcement of the donation by Mr. Warne was made by association president Jack Nichols at a supper meeting of the association at the Digby Legion headquarters Thursday evening. Mr. Nichols said the property was being given to the Association by Mr. Warne to own as long as the association existed.

For some time the Digby (East) Fish and Game Association has been working toward the securing of a plot of woodland for development as a hunting lodge and camping site area and plans were discussed at Thursday night's meeting for development of the land.

In commenting on his donation, Mr. Warne said often worthwhile projects are held up because of inability to get over the first obstacle. "I did not want this to happen with the Fish & Game Association", he said.

Association president Nichols thanked Mr. Warne for his generosity and said the piece of land made available to the association would make possible long talked of plans of the association for firearm training, instruction in woodlore, family camping and other worthwhile endeavours.

Legion Protests Lay-offs

At a special meeting of the Clementsport Branch No. 122, Canadian Legion, held in the Legion Hall on Monday, 29th February, 1960, it was unanimously voted to protest the lay-off at H.M.C.S. "Cornwallis".

It was stated that the Unemployment situation in Nova Scotia is a very serious problem and the lay-off of Civil Servants at H.M.C.S. "Cornwallis" has created undue hardship on the men affected and is having a serious effect on the economy in the Counties of Annapolis and Digby.

According to the secretary, J. A. Sanford, it was understood the 3% reduction in the Atlantic Command would involve approximately (12) twelve employees in "Cornwallis", while in actual fact, he said, the (70) seventy Heating Staff Employees were counted in the 3% for the entire Command and in addition to this "Cornwallis" lost (22) twenty-two Cleaners and Helpers all of whom were Veterans. This 22 represents 6% at "Cornwallis", and if you add this to the Heating Staff lay-off the total reduction at "Cornwallis" by March 31, 1960, will be 22%. It was thought "Cornwallis" had been dealt an unfair blow.

The protest claimed the reduction in Civil Complement necessitates using Service Personnel for work other than that for which they are trained and because of the high and necessary cost of training service personnel it is believed that Civil Personnel can perform the duties at a greater reduced cost than if performed by Service Personnel.

Anthony: How new would this other one be?

VanTassel: Nine or ten years old.

It is the same grader that the Department of Highways is using now.

Mayor: Has anything been found out about whether or not it would be possible to have arrangements made to have ours sent in to Fairview?

Woolaver: You would have to ship it by rail or truck.

VanTassel: The government wouldn't be allowed to do repair work for towns or municipalities.

Mayor: What is Council prepared to do about this?

Anthony: I think there are so many angles to think over. We should be so thoroughly satisfied that there will be no doubt.

Woolaver: Yet, you don't want to waste a lot of money having it repaired and just throwing it away.

Anthony: If they would guarantee the parts for . . .

Mayor: William Stairs Son & Morrow, do they do service and repair work?

VanTassel: They are the biggest in Nova Scotia.

Woolaver to VanTassel: What was your idea?

VanTassel: I would be prepared to move that they be approached to have arrangements made for a demonstration of this machine with what terms they would be willing to give to us.

Mayor: If we expend more than $5,000, in one sum at one time, we must seek the approval of the ratepayers.

McKenna: It would have to be arranged at a ratepayers meeting.

Anthony: I think every effort should be made . . .

VanTassel: Mr. Eaton could write to the Department of Highways and request information on a machine. The terms of sale be spelled out and the best terms they would give and a demonstration of this machine.

Mayor: And you also indicated that a letter be written to the Department of Highways for the submission of prices on machines.

Woolaver: I am also concerned about additional equipment for the Town.

The town plow broke down and my street was blocked all that evening and if we would have had a fire, no fire truck or equipment could arrive there. It seems that the town is in a very funny position to have only one piece of equipment to plow snow.

Mayor: It has occurred to me Councillor Woolaver, that we bought a machine that was going to solve all of our sanding problems. I have asked why that machine isn't in use when the need arises.

VanTassel: I think you asked me and I told you there wasn't any sand.

Mayor: What is the desire of Council in this, we are asking for a demonstration of the machine involved, and to supply us with the very best terms at which they will sell to the Town of Digby, with the present machine and also that a letter be written to the Department of Highways for their prices.

(Everyone talked at once).

Mayor: If you phoned Mr. J. L. Kenney, Mechanical Supervisor of the Department of Highways at Fairview, I think he has charge of the job. Ask him if they have any equipment available for sale. If they have some, they could submit prices.

McKenna: There should be some equipment available somewhere.

Mayor: Equipment is being replaced.

Anthony: How is the payment of this to be made?

Mayor: The motion is, to the effect that this firm, William Stairs Son & Morrow be contacted and asked to submit their very best terms on the sale of this machine to the Town of Digby and that the Department of Highways be contacted to ascertain if they have any graders available, suitable for our use and that upon receipt of this information, arrangements be made to have a demonstration of the William Stairs Son & Morrow machine.

Declared a vote.

Fire Department Estimates

VanTassel: I would move that they be deferred to the budget meeting.

Mayor: Motion that the fire estimates be deferred to the budget meeting. Passed.

Mr. Robinson to Receive an Increase in Salary

It was left over until this meeting.

Mr. Eaton stated the Water Commission would be willing to share in a salary of $65. per week.

McKenna: They would share in a salary of $65. per week?

Mayor: The Superintendent of Public Properties salary be retroactive to January 1st, 1960.

McKenna: I so move that our share be increased to $65. each two weeks and retroactive to January 1st, this year.

Accounts

Read, total $4,915.02.

McKenna: I move that these accounts be paid but that the $3,595. be set up as a liability in 1959 . . . because the work was actually done in 1959.

Mayor: Well, you could apply that to almost anything that you receive. The fact that you are paying in 1960 for work done in 1959 is not too significant.

McKenna: As long as it is carried as a liability in 1959, we will pass it tonight but carry it as a liability in 1959.

I think it only fair to the Streets Committee this year, not to be presented with that amount of money to start off with. It should be carried as a deficit in last year's Streets Committee.

Mayor: It has been regularly moved and seconded that the accounts as read be paid but that the $3,595. be set up as a liability in 1959.

Woolaver: As Mr. Eaton said, how come it is $1,000. more than they thought it would be last year with such a poor job. I figured they should have done half of it for nothing. Who approved their job after it was completed. Doesn't the town have . . .

Mayor: I understand that we were subject to approval of the Department of Highways and our main concern is the paying of our share of the job that was done. I was not impressed with the job that was done.

Anthony: Was there any effort taken on these grounds?

Mayor: It was a rough estimate they gave at $2,500.

Anthony: I think we should discuss this with the Department of Highways before we pay it.

Woolaver: $2,500. and our share would be half of that.

Mayor: You are perfectly at liberty to move an amendment to this motion to pay the accounts with the exception of $3,595. which account is to be discussed with the Department of Highways.

McKenna: I will make an amendment that these accounts be paid with the exception of this $3,595. until an effort is made with the Department of Highways to get them to cut the cost to the original estimate with the grounds that it wasn't a satisfactory job.

Mayor: Is there a seconder for the motion?

Woolaver: Yes, they might come around and say that they will take $1,000. off it.

Anthony: I think it should be tried.

Mayor: A motion that the bills as read be paid with the exception of the amount of $3,595. which is to be held out for further discussion.

The question being called for is the amendment. The amendment is that the bills as read be paid with the exception of the $3,595. of the Department of Highways which will be left for further discussion. Passed.

Police Report

VanTassel: March 7, 1960. During the above month, 8 complaints were registered with the Department. Six required some field investigation. All except one has been completed.

As a result of these investigations, one case warranted court action.

Parking and Tickets

$45.00.

Five motor vehicle accidents were investigated.

Committee Meeting

Purpose of the meeting to receive suggestions as set by the Provincial Traffic authority.

Mr. Fisk. He has been making a survey of the Town of Digby. It was suggested that one meter be removed at R. B. Campbell's store and a "no parking" sign be put there, and have parallel parking only on west side of Water St., that meters could be placed on the east side of Water St. from Roop's corner to the Salvation Army. No "U" turn signs from Salvation Army to Prince William Street. He stated that off street parking would help. A red lens should be put in the light at the corner of King and Prince William St.

Councillor VanTassel presented two tenders received for police uniforms.

I move the adoption of this report.

Anthony: I second it.

Re: Uniforms

McKenna: These tenders should be advertised. The tenders should be called in public form.

VanTassel: I think that was a little better than it has been done in the past. We could deal with the police committee . . .

Mayor: In your report, your police committee request that certain recommendations be approved. A motion will give the Traffic Authority, who needs no such authority from us, authority to do these things that Mr. Fisk has recommended.

Repeat the recommendations in detail now, what it is we are adopting, so in the light of what might happen in the future, it will not be necessary for us to say we didn't know that was what was going to happen.

VanTassel repeated recommendations.

Dunn: As far as loading and unloading, that would be permissible. What we are interested in most of all is people parking (cars and leaving them there all day. We are going to have to do something to that street for people going to the boat.

Mayor: Perhaps the better way of dealing with these recommendations would be we will not deal with your motion with respect to your report; we will deal with the report motion by motion on recommendations that we want to approve.

VanTassel: The parking meter be removed in front of Roy Campbell's store and "no parking" signs be placed from there . . .

"Loading zone" signs be put there, is it?

Atkinson: How is he going to do business?

Mayor: Quite frankly, the matter of traffic conditions in the Town of Digby is the responsibility of the man whom we have appointed Traffic Authority of the town.

The Traffic Authority, whoever he may be, is supreme.

Solicitor: That is so.

Woolaver: These are his recommendations.

Mayor: The Police Committee has met further and has suggested that these recommendations be carried out.

VanTassel: Now you want to go over them one by one.

Mayor: I will have to take responsibility for that. We should proceed in adopting the motion. It seemed that the purchase of uniforms was going to be a contentious one and we should deal with the report motion by motion. On second thought, it occurred to me that the recommendations of the Traffic Authority are the rule and the Committee has suggested that his recommendations be carried out and if your motion does not include the matter of uniforms then the report of the Police Committee could be adopted. Carried.

Mayor: The matter of the purchase of the uniforms.

McKenna: Have these been purchased.

VanTassel: We have prices from two.

McKenna: Call tenders for three uniforms with 18 oz. serge. You cannot favour anyone.

Mayor: The motion is that tenders be called for three suits of uniform of 18 oz. serge for the Police Department and these tenders be delivered to the Chairman of the Police Committee.

Dunn: We found that gabardine were better and Wright's uniforms gave us the best service, in the past two years.

Mayor: The Police Committee has tenders from two merchants in the town now. It is up to the Council what they want to do with these tenders. The motion is that tenders be called for three uniforms of a suitable material and that the said material be stated in the call for the tenders and that these tenders be directed to the Chairman of the Police Committee. Seconded by Bent.

Dunn: It has been found that gabardine is the better cloth.

Woolaver: There are a lot of different qualities in gabardine. (Mentioned about this one and that one paying taxes in the town.)

Mayor: Well, you have a motion before you. Is there any further discussion or any amendments?

Anthony: Well, whatever store considers supplying these uniforms it should be certainly stated that a sample of their cloth be brought before the Police Committee.

McKenna: It may not be any cheaper, but I think it is only fair. Just because they were former Council members does not mean that they have a right to the business.

McKenna: I think Margolians pay a sizeable tax on their stock. If you check your assessment roll.

Mayor: I do not think that we should go into the individual merits of the businesses of the Town of Digby. Passed.

Report of Fire Committee

Five chimney, one stove, one oil stove and one fire at the Dry Cleaners.

We recommend that $250. be allotted to the Department for the purchase of one siren as recommended by the Fire Department, also $500. for the purchase of equipment as listed on February 28th.

Bent: As far as the rest of it goes, I think I can explain their requirements with the report from the Civil Defence Committee.

Mayor: It is moved that we continue the matter of the Fire Department estimates to the budget meeting, as soon as the auditors complete their work. I move this report be adopted.

Re: Report of Civil Defence Committee

Bent: These people insist that we have a committee of three with the Mayor instead of just one and the Mayor and also that we have a Civil Defence Director with a paid salary of $500. 90% would be paid by them and the list of equipment be purchased by the Fire Committee as recommended at the Fire Committee's last meeting. Equipment in addition to what is necessary will be paid by the Committee on a percentage basis.

Bent: We were in hopes that our friend Mr. Harry Titus would take this job and after thinking it over, he said this afternoon that he being 68 years old, wouldn't like to take on an entirely new line of work and I then got in touch with Mr. Reginald Turnbull and he let us know that he had an awful busy year ahead of him as Secretary of the Fire Department and with his own business, and he refused and now it is a case of either going for a Director outside for some other person. I had thought that Roy Peters would take the job.

Anthony: I would like to move that Mr. Woolaver and Mr. Atkinson be appointed as members on the Civil Defence Committee.

McKenna: I second that motion.

Mayor: Councillor Woolaver and Atkinson be added to the Civil Defence Committee which now consists of Mr. Bent and the Mayor. "Vote".

Woolaver: I move that permission to appoint a director at a salary of $500. $50. town's share and the rest Civil Defence be given to this Committee.

Mayor: The Act requires that the Council appoint the Director of Civil Defence.

My feeling is that your Committee would not make any further instructions but at a suitable time you would recommend someone for the appointment. It might be advisable to call for applications for the position.

Woolaver: Why not discuss it this way? I would make a motion here tonight that Mr. Tom Cleveland be appointed Director of Civil Defence. If that would go along with the Town Council.

Bent: Would he be willing to act? Until we find out for sure, we don't want to take any action.

VanTassel: Call tenders.

Anthony: Wouldn't it be better for that Committee to bring in names.

Bent: We would like to move that we call for tenders for this position. It will do the same thing. What we want to do is to give the impression to the Provincial organization that we are doing something in this matter. I move that we call for tenders.

VanTassel: I second the motion.

Mayor: It is moved that applications be called for for the position of Civil Defence Director or for the Town of Digby at an annual honorarium of $500. Is there any further discussion?

That applications be called for the position of Civil Defence Director for the Town of Digby at an honorarium of $500. Declared a vote.

Streets Committee Report

VanTassel: The streets are in poor condition. They are not fit to be graded. Gravel has been hauled but nothing can be done until the snow stops and then the roads will be graded.

Accepted. Declared a vote.

Relief Committee

Anthony: Eight families had relief during the month at the total of $296.71.

I move the report of the Relief Committee be accepted.

Question: That the accounts as read be paid.

Anthony: Five families on relief at present time.

Other Committees — License Committee:

Woolaver: I find it very slack in the Town of Digby at the present time. We have 13 taxis operating in the Town of Digby with 12 taxi operators buying a license and one taxi operator who has not had any taxi license for the year 1959. I have a list from Mr. Eaton and as I went down the list of names I was looking for a certain name and the name wasn't on the list. He didn't apply for it at all in 1959 and he is a full time taxi operator. The recommendation I would like to make to the Council is that action should be taken by Town Council to tighten up licenses for taxis. All licenses would be issued to full time taxi operators and that is to see that the only licenses that the Town Council issue in 1960 to a full time taxi operator who is making his living running a taxi business. In other words, . . .

Mayor: Might I interrupt? The by-law states that the only time the license can be issued is to a full time taxi operator.

Woolaver: There are some just taxiing on weekends. The other recommendation is that all '59 bills should be paid in full. In other words, some of the licenses have not been paid for.

Clark (Interrupting): They are all paid for 1959 except the one that was not on the list.

Woolaver: They should be all paid in full before any 1960 licenses are granted. They should be paid for before a certain date. Make a definite date when these licenses should be paid.

Mayor: The by-law provides for that.

The Chief of Police also check that the taxis have a license, that would get away with the idea that one of the persons has been taxiing all day in the Town of Digby without a license.

I would like to say that the Chief check on the taxis and make sure that they have a license and they have proper operator's license when they drive a taxi.

Woolaver: Another thing, that all outside dry cleaners from different towns who have a house to house service for dry cleaning and I don't know as that could be put into effect or not. In other words we have in the town of Digby several plants who pay taxes in the town and we have outside dry cleaners who go from house to house and they don't pay.

Russell Christmas who we all know is a taxi driver in the Town of Digby is in the taxi business and did not have a taxi license in 1959. I think you should decide what you are going to do to overcome that.

Mayor: I would like to point out to you and for benefit of Council that the by-law does provide for all of the things that you ask.

Every taxi has a sticker with the license number and . . .

Mayor: The by-law requires that the License Committee do so. You, as a Committee must first satisfy yourself before a license can be issued. The responsibility of satisfying yourself that the people who have taxi license lies with the License Committee and not with the Town Council.

Electric Light Committee Report

Atkinson: Report to Council.

Mayor: The report of the Electric Light Committee be adopted.

VanTassel: I was chairman and it was handed down to me as a known fact that the whole street light system in the Town of Digby was going to be changed.

Mayor: Our old system of street lighting in the town was like the old fashioned Christmas tree lights, if one goes out, they all go.

At the same time they were to be replaced with more modern, adequate equipment. It is being carried out. Perhaps last year we were ambitious but this year . . .

VanTassel: There are just 43 more lights. That finishes the change over.

Re: Hospital

Bent: No meetings since last month.

90 bed hospital with Town of Digby's share $80,000.

Municipality of Digby $160,000. Annapolis - $40,000. Municipality of Clare - $20,000.

Bent: Annapolis voted their share $40,000. several weeks ago. Clare has notified us that $20,000. will be available from them. In view of their action, I have here some figures that should be of interest . . .

Woolaver: It seems to me that the Town of Digby for some unknown reason to be afraid to go ahead and establish something in their own town. Annapolis has granted $40,000. We would have to borrow $80,000. We are going to have the hospital established in Digby. We haven't got as much confidence in Digby to go out for half again as much as Annapolis has granted. We should present it before the people of Digby. Town of Digby has sat around twiddling their thumbs. Who is going to bring this thing to a head? I think that is what people put us here for. We are going to get direct help from it, we will be near it, we are going to get the benefit . . . (employment) . . . I would like to see them at least once stick their necks out to get something in the Town. Every time we come here we have this hospital question thrown up to us.

Mayor: The Town Council of the Town of Digby was the first municipal body to act on this. I think it is necessary in the light of your remarks that have been sitting around twiddling our thumbs that you should know history of all preceding steps taken to date.

Woolaver: History don't bother me. You like it. You can say what you like. I don't have to listen to you.

Mayor: I would like to point out to you that the rules of conduct . . . As Mayor of the Town, under the Town Incorporation Act, it is my privilege and duty to explain to Council . . . and in the light of your remarks concerning the hospital.

Woolaver: That is my personal opinion.

Mayor: I think it is right and proper to point out that the Town Council of the Town of Digby was the first unit to go ahead and agree with the hospital plan.

Mayor: Had it not been for the action on receipt of a letter from the Department of Municipal Affairs and the information on our funded debt we would have continued.

Woolaver: You was the mayor of the town, why didn't you get up and say something about it. I was here that night. That went through without a murmur. You never opened your mouth.

Mayor: We went as far as we could until the municipality agreed to pay.

The Planning Committee have met night after night and tried to break down the wall of resentment not on the part of the Town Council of the Town of Digby but tried to arrive . . .

McKenna: This Planning Committee met with the municipal representatives and we agreed wholeheartedly to go anyway. We could call for outside arbitration, anything. They walked out and wouldn't agree to pay anything. $80,000. was a figure that we agreed on at that meeting.

Woolaver: I am only talking from the time I have been here and previous two months when I came into Town Council.

McKenna: If we do put this to the ratepayers without the municipality agreeing it would only be a waste of time.

Anthony: The Municipal Council has to give their report first?

Woolaver: No, we do.

McKenna: The Municipal Council just won't touch it.

Woolaver: . . . until they find out what the Town of Digby is going to do.

Bent: Annapolis agreed to pay.

Clare has given us to understand that they will pay.

Mayor: To point out what happened. At the request of the Municipal Council, the Planning Committee met while the Municipal Council was in session because they said they wanted to deal with it when they set their budget. So we met again. This was one of a long number in a long list of meetings. We suggested that a new formula be applied. The fact that we are going to get the benefit of location and everything was considered. The Planning Committee, three of you and people from Clare, the people from Annapolis were all there that night . . . That would be broken down on the new formula to $80,000. for Town of Digby, $40,000. for the Town of Annapolis, $20,000. for the Municipality of Clare. $160,000. for the Municipality of Digby. The last day the Municipal Council was in its final day of session, their committee reported this to the Council and they didn't get anywhere at all. It would . . .

Woolaver: (interrupting) This is what I am going by. It is your hospital. He brings in a report of recommendation, what he thinks he feels fit to bring before the Council and also I would give my humble opinion on what should be done.

Mayor: You gave your opinion all right.

Woolaver: Mr. Bent would never ask that the ratepayers meeting be called if he didn't feel that the Town of Digby should take a start here tonight on it.

Mayor: You don't feel that anyone here is actively opposed to it?

Woolaver: I am not a mind reader.

Theriault: It seems to me that at the present time this

ABOUT THIS AND THAT

Capital Punishment

One of the most talked about subjects today is Capital Punishment. There is a bill before the House of Commons in Ottawa at the present time to abolish the death penalty for murder. Because of the importance of the subject, the interest and consideration which is or should be taken by the citizens of Canada, the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association is attempting to conduct a poll on the question. The Digby Courier along with other weeklies in Canada is requested to assist in the matter. We have, therefore, inserted a coupon on the front page of this issue and would ask our readers to fill it in and return to us. There is no place supplied for your name. This is not necessary. We will count the votes for and against and forward them to the C.W.N.A. headquarters in Toronto. Possibly someone will be moved to write their views to be published in this paper. In such case, of course, we must have the signature of the writer.

Varied are the views on the subject of Capital Punishment. There are those who quote the passage of the Bible "an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." There are those whose views contend that without capital punishment there would be no assurance or security for life. There are those who say that the death penalty for a murderer serves as a lesson to others and will prevent murders. There are those who say it is difficult for a person who has had a near kill murdered to consent to abolition of capital punishment. These views and others supporting the death penalty have been advanced.

In some countries, already, the death penalty has been abolished because, according to statistics, it would seem that such a method of dealing with murder is not an effective deterrent to the crime. This is one of the questions facing our Canadian government today. It is an important question to consider. The purpose of capital punishment is to protect life and property. "Unless it is serving the purpose why should it be continued?" is the argument. Murderers do not usually think of the consequence when under extreme anger or passion. The mentally ill would not stop to think of the punishment awaiting. There are those who would shed all thought of revenge and consider only forgiveness, a chance to repent and possible rehabilitation into life.

Among suggestions have been abolishing capital punishment except in premeditated murder if and when this can be established. Life imprisonment has been suggested as being a greater deterrent than death.

These are just a few of the arguments which we have heard in discussing the subject with others during the winter months or since the bill regarding capital punishment has come before the house. We place them for what they are worth before our readers for consideration along with their own arguments. They might be useful in deciding for or against capital punishment or "with reservations" in filling in the coupon.

Thanks for your co-operation, readers. We'll be watching for the results and will share them with you.

Digby Board Of Trade

Somewhere between 25 and 30 members of the Digby Board of Trade attended the annual meeting held last Tuesday evening. Possibly about three-quarters of these remarked either during the meeting or in conversation after on the importance of the Board and the necessary reasons for maintaining a Trade Board in town. Their arguments were convincing yet no one seemed to be available to fill the offices of the Board for the coming year.

In most cases the reason for not accepting office was lack of time. This is understandable for heading an organization such as a Board of Trade takes a tremendous lot of time. The office of secretary, too, is time consuming. Most of the members are business men whose own private business demands practically every hour of the day. Those who are employed by others often find that "after hours" do not provide sufficient time to take care of all the many details connected with outside organizations. It becomes a problem but a problem which should do a great deal in creating appreciation for those who hold office. Those who are willing to carry on do so at great sacrifice. Too much time devoted to outside interests by an employer to the neglect and failure of his own business is not only detrimental to his own career but also lowers his prestige as an organization leader, the cause of his downfall. Employees cannot expect to be paid for time spent other than at the business for which they are employed. Retired men in the town are few and in most cases they are not as vitally interested in progress as are those actively engaged in business. We see then that obtaining officers for such a body is not an easy proposition but we also see in the problem the significance of the remarks of the chairman of the nominating committee of the Digby Trade Board that no one should have to be coaxed or forced. Co-operation and sense of responsibility, free from any political prejudice or any other type of prejudice should be the keynote of all thinking members. The Trade Board is, as was expressed at the Digby Board Annual Meeting last week, the voice of the area and the result of the voice is beneficial to all. It therefore behooves each member to plan his share of responsibility in leadership somewhere along the line.

We noted, too, at the annual meeting, the recommendation of the nominating committee chairman for a stronger central body. This was reiterated by the president with the addition that there could be fewer committees. We wholeheartedly agree with a strong central body but there are both merits and demerits in committees. Many committees will lighten the burden of the central executive body and creates interest by involving more people in active participation. However, no matter how many committees are formed and no matter how efficient a committee might be, unless they are responsible to the central body and work in co-operation with the leaders of an organization their effect is hampered. Many businesses have managers over certain departments of the business but the business must have a central figure, and the central figure of necessity must know what is happening in each department of business. This is only common sense. Each town has its mayor, who is head of the council and who must have his finger on the pulse of the council. Chaos would result if committees, however efficient, would not be responsible for reporting proceedings and progress to the whole body and particularly to the chief figure in the council. Advice is essential from the most responsible figure. A chain is as strong as its weakest link so naturally the head of any body would want to test the strength of the whole by examining individual parts. The same applies to other organizations as to private business or a civic body. We believe in a strong central body but we also believe in committees to share responsibility, to create interest. We, however, believe in committees being subject to authority of the central executive body for greatest efficiency of an organization.

$1.50 Per Week

We were not aware last week when we wrote the editorial on "Payday" that the recipient of $1.50 per week, Maggie Turnbull, is Mrs. Henry Trask, of Digby. Mrs. Trask phoned to tell us how much she enjoyed the editorial and more about her typesetting career with the Digby newspaper 55 years ago. Yes, it was typesetting which Mrs. Trask had done for $1.50 per week, but the type was set by hand and not by linotypes as it is done today. Mrs. Trask informed us that she worked six months without pay and then for the next six months she received $1.00 per week. After the next six months she got a fifty cent raise but female employees at that time did not get more than $3.00 per week. Mrs. Trask was 19 years old when she started her work as typesetter but after six years she had to leave her job to care for her mother. Occasionally she returned to help out in busy times. "Do you know what I did with the first dollar I earned?" said Mrs. Trask. "I bought a Bible."

Her reason for choosing the job of typesetter for the newspaper was because work was scarce and there didn't seem to be anything else to get. She says she is the only person living in Digby who was mentioned last week. Most of them have passed away, but she was not sure about Ethel and Charles Moore.

The paper was owned at the time, according to Mrs. Trask, by Col. John Daley. Working hours were from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. except Saturday when they called it a day at 4 p.m. On Thursday nights, in preparation for Friday's edition, the staff worked until 9 p.m. and in her own case, usually without supper because she lived some distance from her work. During election times they often worked until 12 midnight and all without extra pay. However, if a member of the staff asked for a day off because of illness or other reason, it was granted without pay deduction if they weren't busy.

After reading the editorial referred to above, Miss Bessie McMullen phoned to remind us that while wages were low we must remember eggs were 15 cents per dozen and milk five cents a quart.

St. Patrick's Day

Irish songs and wearin' of the green will mark St. Patrick's Day today. The day is held in commemoration of St. Patrick, the apostle of Ireland, born in the year 373 in the British Roman Province of Valentia. His father, a decurion in the Roman Army, retired to a farm on the Solway. At the age of 16, Patrick was carried off and sold as a slave to the Irish Celts of county Antrim. After six years he made his escape, and resolved to devote himself to the conversion of Ireland. After preparing for the priesthood and being ordained he went to Ireland in the year 405. It is said he founded 360 churches; baptized more than 12,000 persons and ordained a great many priests.

Food For Thought

For the past year or so we have been following with interest the efforts and results of APEC's Products Identification and Promotion program to stimulate interest in buying Atlantic manufactured food products. Beginning in a small way after their Food Show and Convention in Moncton two years ago this Spring, we have seen evidence of their work in several city supermarkets, on highway billboards and in newspaper and magazine advertisements where their suggested slogan, "An Atlantic Provinces Quality Product" has been used to advantage.

We were impressed with what we saw and we are told that their promotional efforts have been encouraging and, for some products, a decided advantage. It was, therefore, not surprising for us to hear the announcement last month regarding the APEC-sponsored editorial competition on "A Common Sense Approach to the Atlantic Food Industry". While this particular competition is confined to Grade XI students in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland, we thought a bit of mental gymnastics on our part would find us better equipped when an intelligent answer is expected from our teenagers.

By our calculation the food industry in the Atlantic Provinces is a $525 million business if we were able to buy all our food requirements totally produced, processed, packaged and distributed from the labor of our own region. Of course, this is not entirely possible, because we would then be denying ourselves many nutritious products such as our half grapefruit for breakfast and other citrus fruits, bananas, nuts, sugar, coffee, tea and cocoa. But while these products are not grown here, many are processed, packaged or otherwise manufactured here which provide employment to our people although somewhat fewer dollars to our regional purse.

We arrived at the $525 million figure this way. The population of our four seaboard provinces is about 1,850,000. The Canadian average per capita amount spent on food (1957) is $290. By multiplying one by the other, we got $536,500,000 — a sizeable industry if even only half this total is realized.

While Canada is nearly self-sufficient in supplying its own food requirements, as nearly 90 per cent of the national shopping basket is filled from domestic sources, it is estimated that we in the Atlantic Provinces fall far behind the national average in supplying our own needs. It appears evident to us that even a small percentage increase — say 10 per cent, representing $54 million — would be very worthwhile.

That food business is big business is evident in other directions. It supplies not only a growing market but it is the largest market of all consumer product groups. A reliable authority tells us the food industry is responsible for about one-sixth of all the goods and services produced in Canada.

Another interesting fact about the food industry is that nearly one out of every four persons in Canada is directly or indirectly connected with it. This includes the farmer, the fisherman, the baker, the grocer, the restaurateur, the packer, the transportation worker, the processor, the distributor, the shareholder and a large and assorted number of other associated activities.

Small wonder then that the food products account for 15 per cent of national advertising expenditures in daily newspapers, nine per cent in consumer magazines and 35 per cent in weekend magazines. This is in addition to the large full page advertisements seen in our daily and weekly newspapers placed by local food advertisers.

APEC has our full support in focusing attention on the importance of the food industry within our own region. We endorse its common sense approach to make us aware of the importance of the food industry to our economy. And we like its gentle persuasiveness in asking us to "try" local products and then, if we like them, to keep on buying them. We also like APEC's emphasis on "sell" rather than "buy", because we feel a great deal of the future success of our Atlantic food industry is in the hands of the manufacturing processors.

Parking Lights Not For Driving

Besides being highly dangerous, it is illegal in most of Canada to drive a car on the highway with only parking lights on when visibility is restricted. The Canadian Highway Safety Council warns that provincial traffic regulations prohibit the operation of a vehicle which cannot be clearly seen at least 500 feet away. The Council urges all motorists to use headlights when driving after dusk or in blizzards, fog, sleet storms and heavy downpours of rain.

"Anyone who drove the streets and roads during some of the winter storms," said the Council, "can recall the difficulty in seeing other vehicles. The ones showing only parking lights loomed up, most times as dark shapes before the lights could be seen, but the cars with headlights blazing could be identified long before the vehicles themselves became visible. Impaired visibility caused by insufficient light or unfavorable atmospheric conditions, added to windows and windshields obscured by snow, sleet, fog or rain, produce a deadly combination in moving traffic. The more identification a car can have at such times, the better chance the driver has of avoiding a crash."

Ira G. Needles of Kitchener, chairman of the Council, stated "Many of us who have driven cars for years remember when batteries could be run down easily and we formed the habit of not using bright lights lest we drain the battery. In modern cars, generator and battery capacities are so far ahead of the demands made on them by the vehicle's electrical system there is no economy in using parking lights for driving. In fact, doing so could result in the driver being charged with infraction of the law. The old economy should be discarded in the interest of visibility and increased protection."

Off The Record

Choral arranger - conductor Gino Silvi gets down to business transcribing the notes from a hit parade record. From this he makes his own vocal arrangement. But his big difficulty is distinguishing the words used by the rock 'n' roll singers. Silvi's award winning vocal group appears on alternate Mondays on Music '60 Presents The Hit Parade, on the CBC-TV network. Silvi also does choral arrangements for the Wayne & Shuster Hour and Juliette.

By using three specially designed tape recorders, known as Electronic Secretaries, messages 30 seconds in length are played back automatically, day or night to any person dialing 2-9681. This is known as Dial-A-Message.

Public acceptance of this ministry has been more than amazing. In the first six days of operation, 23,000 calls were completed, and another 30,339 in the second full week, by actual count. From early January to the middle of February about 150,000 calls have been completed, to make this telephone number the busiest in Nova Scotia. Presently the rate is about 3000 per day.

Short inspirational poems, thoughts and Scripture verses are used, together with identification of the church. Messages are recorded by the pastor, Rev. Ronald C. MacCormack.

One neighbouring minister reported, "This thing has caught fire with the public to a greater degree than anything I have ever seen a church do". A shut-in lady, previously unknown to the church stated, "I couldn't go to sleep at night without listening to the church". Public acceptance of this program is being interpreted as evidence of a hunger on the part of the public for spiritual truths.

Sensible? You bet!

Sound engineering makes Volkswagen the largest selling small car in the world—BY FAR!

With the increasing popularity of small cars more people are taking a close look at what makes them tick. And it seems everyone is using Volkswagen as a yardstick of good engineering and quality. This is why:

① Engine in the rear? Yes, of course. More weight on the rear wheels gives better traction in snow, mud and sand. This principle, adopted by leading North American and European manufacturers, is now recognized as the modern trend in automobile design.

② Cooled by air—no troublesome radiator in a Volkswagen. Its air-cooled, short-stroke engine keeps going whatever the weather. More than 3 million Volkswagens the world over are proving this every day.

③ Volkswagen thrives on a minimum of gas—up to 40 miles per gallon—and yet, what a spirited performer it is.

④ What about ride? No better on any car, small or large, thanks to Volkswagen's torsion bar suspension, front and rear.

⑤ Compare quality. Whatever you see or touch in a Volkswagen is in the finest tradition of German craftsmanship.

No wonder then, Volkswagen is the largest selling small car in the world—by far.

Hankinson and Mrs. Lorne Net-hercott. Women from various churches led in the prayers.
Miss Constance Carr gave a very inspiring talk on prayer, in which she said that when we pray with faith and purpose we can expect our prayers to be answered, by so many of us pray, without really believing our prayers will be answered. We pray so often without purpose in mind. Miss Carr mentioned a prayer group in which the members wrote down specific people and purposes to be included in their daily prayers, and told how much had been wrought by these groups.
Mrs. Lorne Nethercott rendered a vocal solo, "Just For

Attractive Folder Released

Hon. E. A. Manson

A colorful folder portraying a number of the attractions of the province has been released by Hon. E. A. Manson, Minister of Trade and Industry for Nova Scotia.

The folder will be published in French, as well as in English, because of the rapidly-increasing number of French-speaking visitors to the province.

Production of the folder was of the Nova Scotia Travel Bureau. Photographs, all in-directed by Dan Wallace, direct-color, were taken by L. J. Boner and G. H. Doty, photographers with the Nova Scotia Information Service.

The cover photograph shows a group of dancers at the Gaelic
Mod, St. Ann's, on Cape
graphs portray swimming, fishing, yachting, hunting, scenic and industrial attractions.

tion of events and museums in the province. The folder points out that Nova Scotia is only hours away from Boston, Chicago, Toronto and Montreal by at least one means of transportation.

The folder is planned primarily for the use of travel agents in the United States and other parts of Canada in attracting visitors to the province.

Last Of Steam Locomotives

One of the last railways on the North American continent to operate steam locomotives, the Sydney and Louisburg Railway Company, will purchase four diesel locomotives within the next few months.

An official of the Railway said "The move is unavoidable as we are no longer able to get sufficient parts for a steam locomotive."

The S. & L. has "cannibalized" a number of the old-type locomotives in recent months to keep its 29 operating steam engines in working order, he said.

"It is no longer possible to get adequate parts for the steam units and as a result we will, over the next few years, have to replace them," the official said.

Annapolis Actors In T.V. Show

People of Annapolis Royal and district became actors several months ago to film a television program depicting a segment in Canada's early historic past.

In turning actors they represented many of the characters who inhabited The Habitation at Port Royal, the first permanent settlement by white men in Canada in the summer of 1606.

The filmed episode called "The Habitation at Port Royal" was the Maritimes' contribution in a series of current Canadian School Telecasts bringing events in Canadian history to life for classroom viewers in all ten provinces by taking them to the site of the event. This episode helped create in the viewers' imaginations, a vivid picture of life at the Habitation, with its rigors, dangers and pleasures.
The film was seen over the Canadian School Telecasts series on the CBC-TV network, on March 9th.

Using the Habitation as the setting for the telecast, costumed citizens of Annapolis Royal re-enacted the life of the old French colony. Viewers saw Marc Lescarbot, the historian of the early colony, writing at his desk in the Habitation. They saw people moving about in the central courtyard and the various buildings grouped around it — the kitchen and bakery, the black smith shop, the living quarters, and the trading room where the Indians exchanged their furs for beads and blankets.

Viewers also saw a reenactment of a feast of the Order of Good Cheer, North America's first social club, formed to relieve the monotony of life in the colony.

CBC producer Sandy Lum-den worked closely with the Annapolis District Drama Group, which acted as liaison with the town of Annapolis Royal and were in part responsible for arrangements in respect to properties and casting.
Miss Katherine V. Mills, President of the group, Mrs. Dorothy Owen, Mrs. Margaret Wetmore, and Mrs. Mary Tilley, contributed immeasurably with their assistance.

Dr. A. Kelsall, President of The Order of Good Cheer, arranged for the use of the Order's beautiful costumes during the filming.

Major George F. Hall, honorary superintendent of Fort Anne and the Habitation, Mr.
Gordon Robblee, custodian of the Habitation and his attendant, Mr. Steven Thorne, worked with the CBC crew throughout the entire film production and also took roles in the reenactment.

Mr. Joe Ternan, a retired businessman, whose hobby is guns, constructed a 16th century rifle, in working condition, to help keep the authenticity of the film. Mr. C. Thorne, who acted the part of the wood-cutter, used a broadaxe, a tool, which, along with the adze, he used extensively during the reconstruction of the Habitation in 1939.

Fishing weirs used belonged to Mr. L. Porter, who also acted the role of the fisherman in the film. The Indian, Mem-bertou, was played by Mr.
Louis Harlow, of Bear River.
Mr. Harlow, who is 83-years of age, is the son of a Micmac Indian Chief.

High school students and teachers were used in several roles. Mr. John Nickerson, a high school teacher, played the role of Poutrincourt, and Mr.
Fred Fry, also a teacher, portrayed the gentleman hunter.
Two students, Gordon Wetmore and Larry Bower, played the turnip and Indian hunter, respectively. The part of the blacksmith was taken by Burton McCaul, who has a blacksmith shop on the Hollow Mountain Road, near Annapolis Royal. He used his own equipment for the sequence in the film.

Lescarbot was played by Mr.
James How, a teacher at the King's Collegiate in Windsor, N. S. Mr. Wilfred Crosby, Manager of the Queen Hotel in Annapolis Royal, played the role of Sieur Samuel de Champlain.

Dr. Lloyd Layton, a prominent Annapolis Royal dentist, played the part of Doctor Hay.
School Broadcasts Organizer,
Douglas B. Lusty, of the CBC Maritime Region, at Halifax was the supervising producer.

The script for this program was written by Ken Homer, and is based on research by Dr. Thomas Raddall. The teacher-consultant was John C. Johnson, Supervising Principal of the Annapolis Royal Regional Academy.

Goat Demands Attention

A goat at the home of Mrs. Cecil Cosman, Weymouth Mills, would not be neglected. When feeding time or retiring time came around the goat usually appeared outside the kitchen window. One particular day last week when she was longer than usual getting waited upon she decided to step through the window into the kitchen to demand attention. Fortunately for the goat she didn't get a scratch but the window needed repair.

The goat is a female brought up in an Annapolis Valley home where it was used as a pet. When its owner and family went for a car ride, the goat accompanied them.

Mrs. Goat has now two daughter goats and they are still very much pets at the home of Mrs. Cosman.

To Conduct Cancer Drive

The Clare Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society will hold their annual fund raising campaign from April 4th to 9th inclusive. Last year's objective is expected to be passed and it is hoped that $1,300.00 will be raised.

The Society has films which may be loaned in the Municipality of Clare for the purpose of educating the people in regards to cancer. Lectures with illustrations by the model "Nellie" has in the past year been held in the province with over 10,000 pupils and adults attending. The Clare Unit is expected to hold special meetings with a model and "Nellie" in the very near future.

The Clare Unit wants a member of the Society in every home and with this objective in mind, the fund raising campaign should be a success as in former years. Many cancer patients live in the Municipality of Clare who in the majority of cases receive aid from the Clare Unit with payment of transportation to the Cancer Clinics which are held in Halifax and also receiving dressings and other medicines during the year.

Over 800 patients have their transportation paid by the Canadian Cancer Society in Nova Scotia each year. The Provincial Government also comes to their assistance with payments being made through the intermediary of the Society.

Of three groups organized in Clare at dressings stations consisting of 48 volunteers, 13,658 dressings were made in 1959, of which 8,856 dressings were sent to the general headquarters in Halifax. Over 5,000 dressings were distributed in the Municipality of Clare by the local unit.

The Clare Unit asks the co-operation of all persons in the Municipality to make the 1960 campaign one of the best.

Follow African Custom At W.A.

The Parish of Clements W.A. held their monthly meeting on Tuesday evening at the home of the President, Mrs. Garnet Benson, Deep Brook.

After the business meeting refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Evelyn Purdy. Since the study book this year is about Africa, the foods served were characteristic of that country. A custom of the East Africans, that of washing their hands before eating by passing a pitcher of warm water and a basin around to each guest was observed.

The menu consisted of wuswa (corn meal mush), one of the staple foods of Africa, followed by sandwiches of chicken (nsoso) and fish (mse) which are probably the most common African meats.

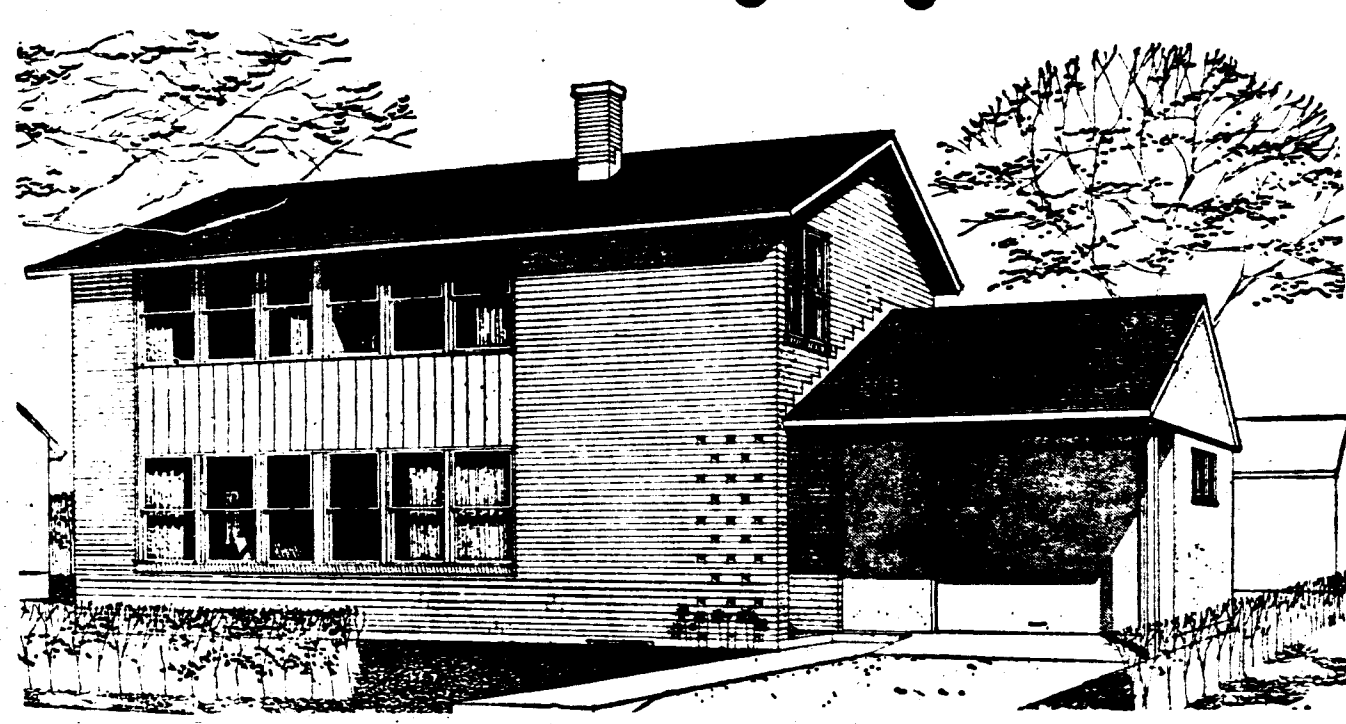

Dessert consisted of a fruit plate of oranges (ilala), bananas (mankondo), pineapple, dates and peanuts (nguba). Each member received a favor in the form of a typical African animal such as a giraffe, alligator, zebra, elephant, cleverly made from gumdrops by the hostess.

Pictures from magazines, etc., displayed on the walls, contributed to the atmosphere and all went home feeling they had learned a great deal about Africa and its peoples.

Deep Brook

Wednesday's high winds and heavy snowfall was followed on Sunday by an even worse storm, with a heavier snowfall, causing many who were home for the weekend to return by rail, and others to wait until Monday.

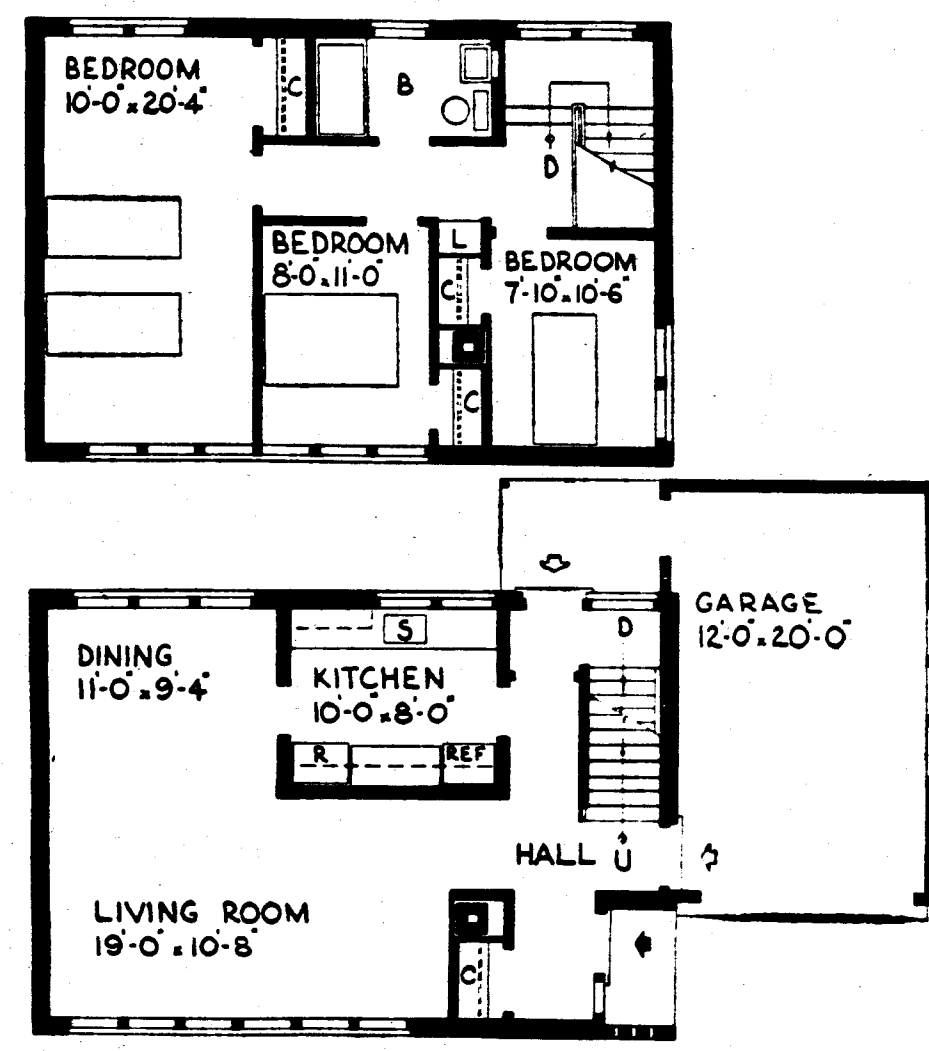

Large Window Areas Provide Excellent Natural Lighting

Architect Roy Sellers, of Winnipeg, Man., has provided large window areas in this three-bedroom, brick veneer house to ensure a bright and cheerful atmosphere. The well-protected front entrance opens into a hall which leads directly to all other parts of the house as well as the garage.

A highlight of the upstairs plan is the large master bedroom which runs the complete length of the house and has cross ventilation. Open planning on the ground floor ensures a spacious living area. This house should be built so that the blank gable end wall faces to the north.

The total floor area is 1,352 square feet, excluding garage. The exterior dimensions are 43 feet, four inches by 37 feet, five inches, including garage. Working drawings for this house, known as design 514, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

Marshland

Project Delayed

A further delay in plans for the reclamation of some seven hundred and fifty acres of rich marshlands at the head of St. Mary's Bay in Digby County was seen here when it learned there was little hope the project could be included in the 1960 program of the Maritime Marshland Reclamation Association.

The news was contained in a letter to the secretary of the St. Mary's Bay Marshland Board. It was stated in the letter the project had been favorably recommended by the Federal Advisory Committee but that Mr. J. S. Parker of the MMRA had stated it would not be possible to do the work during the coming season.

Efforts to develop the marshlands at the head of St. Mary's Bay have been underway for the past five or six years and last year the area was surveyed for dams and drainage canals. An aerial survey had been carried out the previous year.

After the survey plans were completed last fall the local marshland board was advised to complete arrangements with the owners of the marshlands so that no hold-up would occur in carrying out the work when the project was approved.

Considerable disappointment is being expressed by the members of the St. Mary's Bay Marshland Board concerning the present turn of events. They state many months of work and effort have gone into contacting all the owners of the property involved, making arrangements for exchange of acreage so that the area could be developed with part as agricultural acreage and part for pasture, and fears are expressed enthusiasm for the project may die out because of the delay.

The letter from Mr. C. E. Henry of the provincial agricultural department to the secretary of the local board expressed the hope that it will be possible to "rekindle the enthusiasm evident last fall" when the project does reach the stage of actually becoming a reality.

It is understood that some fifty local farmers are involved in the development project for the marshland area which is a cooperative arrangement on a shared cost basis with the federal and provincial governments.

VINTAGE CAR PULP MILL BASE — A 69-year-old palatial rail way business car purchased by Nova Scotia Pulp Limited, the company constructing a new $40,000,000 chemical pulp mill at Point Tupper, N. S., is being refurbished and tested in the Moncton Shops of Canadian National Railways. The pulp mill company bought the car from the Rutland Railroad of Vermont, for use as on-site accommodation for top company officials and engineering consultants working on the giant project. It was in this car that Calvin Coolidge journeyed from Plymouth, Vt., to Washington for his inauguration as President of the United States, after being sworn into office by his father on the morning of Aug. 3, 1923. Other notables the car is known to have carried included President Theodore Roosevelt and Admiral Dewey. Records show the car was originally built for a Dr. Webb in June 1891 by the Pullman Coach Company of Buffalo, N. Y., at a cost of $10,827.61. Jim Kennedy a CNR official, is shown with Leo F. Jackson, Boston, a member of the engineering firm working on the pulp mill project, boarding the old, but well preserved, car. (CNR Photo)

The Road To Adjustment

The CBC-TV four-part series, "The Road To Adjustment" is designed to be of particular interest to Canada's farmers and fishermen. Programs will examine problems of the small farmer who is tied to older methods which no longer cope with today's demands ("The Old Road"); the farmer who, realizing his farm must change, has adapted his farm to handle grassland crops and feeder cattle in order that he can supplement his income by doing other work ("Detour"); and the farmer who has mechanized his operation and runs it as a big business ("Throughway"). The final show deals with the case of Canada's Maritime fishermen and hardships now faced. This CBC-TV series runs four weeks, which began March 2.

The regular monthly meeting of the Christian Men's Fellowship was held at the South Range Church of Christ (Disciples) on Monday evening, March 7th, with over forty men in attendance.

The meeting was opened by the president, Jared Frankland, followed by a devotional period led by Thurston Mullen. Gifford Lewis was the song-leader and special music was supplied by Rev. Lorne Nethercott, who rendered two vocal selections.

A short business session followed with Melbourn Barr, secretary, reading the minutes and reporting on correspondence and other activities. A nominating committee, consisting of Gifford Lewis, chairman, Gordon Prime, Sydney Cromwell, Thurston Mullen, Arnold Marshall and Sherwood Barr, was appointed to bring in a new slate of officers at the next meeting for the coming year.

The guest speaker for the evening, Rev. Ivan Smith, pastor of the Bear River Baptist Church, was introduced to the congregation by Jared Frankland. Rev. L. Nethercott, on behalf of the members, expressed their thanks and appreciation to Rev. Mr. Smith for his very inspiring message.

The fellowship group, which meets the first Monday of each month, continues to bring cheer to the sick and shut-ins of the surrounding areas. Last year through this group over 60 baskets of fruit, etc., were delivered to the ill or aged folks of our communities.

Church Honors Harley Brooks

An impressive service was held in the Bethel United Baptist Church, Ashmore, Thursday, March 10th, when the church honored one of its oldest and most respected members, Deacon Harley Brooks, by ordination as a permanent member of the Deaconate of the church. Prior to his ordination Deacon Brooks served as Deacon of the church, by appointment, for many years.

The service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. A. M. Rogers, who also gave the charge to Deacon Brooks.

The Ordaining Prayer was offered by Deacon Walter Langford, of the African Baptist Church, Weymouth Falls.

The sermon was given by Rev. R. R. Winchester, of the Baptist Church, Barton, who delivered a timely and inspiring message for the occasion.

The Ashmore choir was supplemented by the choir from the Baptist Church, New Tusket, which also rendered a special number.

The church was well filled for the occasion. Members and adherents of other churches were present, and were made welcome by the pastor.

Immediately following the ordination of Deacon Brooks, he was presented, by the pastor on behalf of the members of the church, with a lovely Bible. Mr. Brooks fittingly expressed his appreciation and gratitude.

Get Tourist Promotion Ideas

Twenty-five dollars was voted at the annual meeting of the Digby Board of Trade on Monday night to be paid as Digby's share of the A.V.A. Board of Trade survey made by the Public and Industrial Relations Ltd., under Bill Anderson, Saint John, N. B.

Reporting on the survey at the meeting Mr. H. M. Warne said that at the local level Mr. Anderson advocated making every possible use of the Princess Helene and the wharf that could be obtained to promote the tourist business here. In the matter of camping sites it was felt that it was more to the point to develop existing accommodations. Mr. Anderson in his report stressed the scallop shell souvenir which could be sold at low cost or given away at the wharf. These he said should be prepared now. He suggested co-operation between the town and base in regard to sunrise ceremonies and division demonstrations.

Markings of directions to beaches, Point Prim Light, picnic sites, scenic drives, fish unloading and other interests of tourists were advised. Directions to photographic sites was mentioned. Development of boating and fishing parties was urged.

J. J. Brittain reported that many projects other than these would tie in with the Valley projects such as marking the route from Yarmouth to Windsor as the Evangeline Route. He said it was found that a beautiful expensive folder was not the answer for Valley promotion but that first promotion had to be carried out as a more localized endeavour.

Vincent Snow felt that the Digby Board should have a folder with map marking and describing scenic drives in the area for the tourists to follow. We should designate the rise and fall of tides and direct the tourists on advantageous times to watch fishing activities at the wharf. Keith Raymond, of Centreville, cited cases when tourists come to his fish plant to watch the processing but in each case remarked that they had not been directed there but had just happened along.

On motion of H. M. Warne it was decided to request the Department of Trade and Industry to make a survey of the Digby area to find how many men and boats would be available for tourists and fishing parties this summer and who would attend a school to obtain a certificate for same.

Remarks were made on the high competition for the tourist dollar at the present time. In New Brunswick, Mr. Brittain said, the tourist promotion costs are now $3 as against $1 in Nova Scotia whereas several years ago it was $1 to every $10 spent in Nova Scotia. They

Come To A "Soup 'n Cracker" Party

February is the month for parties! Whether you are celebrating a birthday or anniversary... or paying tribute to Cupid, it's fun to have a party during this month. It gives a lift to that mid-winter slump.

Let the affair be very informal. Bedeck your table with mugs or bowls of hot hearty soup. Just open a can or two of your favourite canned condensed soup and heat. Try mixing soups, too. It's fun to create your own specialties by mixing or matching any two from your pantry shelf.

Soup and crackers are natural go-togethers. Arrange a selection of crisp crackers, tasty dips and spreads for a help-yourself tray. As easy as mixing soups, with canned soups, are dips and spreads with pantry shelf items like canned boned chicken, deviled ham, and seafood.

What could be easier for party fare... what could taste better?

MUSHROOM AND VEGETABLE CHOWDER

CHEESE 'N CRAB SPREAD

2 packages (3 ounces each) cream cheese
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated onion dash salt
dash black pepper
Drain crab; blend 2 tablespoons liquid from crab with cream cheese and lemon juice until smooth. Stir in grated onion, salt and pepper. Carefully mix crab into cheese. Chill if desired. Use as a spread on crackers or bread. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, MARCH 24, 1960

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER DEVOTED TO THE INTEREST AND WELFARE OF DIGBY COUNTY.

VOLUME LXXXV, No. 30

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

R.R.1 Smith's Cove,
Digby Co., N. S.,
March 21st, 1960.
Editor Courier,
Dear Madam:

I am glad that the press is taking an interest in this important subject of capital punishment. As I see it, the question is not so much as what we say or think about it. The question we must ask ourselves is "What does God say about it?" This is answered in different parts of Holy Scripture. There is one in Genesis 9 verses 5 and 6. Also in Deuteronomy 19: 56. See the Old Testament is old fashioned and out of date. Christ himself did not think so, neither should we. The ten commandments given to Moses by God are the basis of our law and they are as valid today as the day they were delivered to Moses.

The question of forgiveness arises in this question under discussion also. I was taught that repentance comes first. In a case of stealing the first step the penitent must do is to restore the stolen goods or equivalent to their rightful owner. Then comes forgiveness. When a person murders another he takes away his most precious possession - his life. If he repents of his sin he cannot restore life to the person he has murdered, neither can he ask his forgiveness, so his own life is required. God has dealings with mankind after death and if a murderer repents and truly repents of his crime I think he can rely on God's mercy and justice even if he does suffer the death penalty.

I dislike capital punishment as much as anyone but I do think the murdered person has to be thought of as much as his murderer so I am bound to say Yes to your questionnaire. Capital punishment will be abolished someday but I do not think the time has yet arrived as far as I am concerned.

Yours truly,
George Woolf.

North Range,
March 21, 60.

Dear Editor:

I am not in favor of capital punishment, however, I feel that punishment for murder should be very rigid. The murderer should be given a long term of hard labour with a chance to view his life in retrospect and also have counsel from clergymen so that he might, perhaps, be led to repentance.

I have noticed that murderers usually repent before they meet the electric chair, gallows, etc., but they are then beyond the point of making reparation, not (Please turn to page 8)

Figures Far Different Then

Walter Farrel of Queen Street came across an interesting old document the other day among some old books and papers in his house. This document was a printed copy of the financial report of the Town of Digby for the year 1894.

According to this report the total tax assessment for 1894 was $1,136.97. There were $331.31 in discounts and exemptions, leaving a total to collect of $805.66. Of this amount $4,173.92 was collected.

Total expenditures for the year 1894 amounted to $8,260.36. Included were $2,630.00 for school; $207.34 for fire; $554.60 for streets; $401.75 for police and $293.35 for waterworks.

General expenditures for the year 1894 amounted to $1,419.44 and included $240.00 paid to John Daley for street lighting; $100.00 repaid to the trustees of the town common on a loan; $226.35 paid to Thomas Bayne on loans made to the town; $10.00 to W. O. Theat for the general assessment and $20.00 for fire assessment.

Receive Noma Certificates

Early in 1960 the students of St. Patrick's Business College entered the Noma Spelling Project, which was conducted by the Halifax-Dartmouth Chapter of the National Office Management Association.

This International Spelling Project was not a "spelling bee". It was not intended to sift out the best speller in the class. Instead, this activity was designed to help the students become better spellers.

The Noma Official Spelling List consisted of 600 words. After a test of 100 words, taken from the first 300 words, Noma Spelling Certificates for 100% accuracy were awarded to Patricia Ann Baxter, Norma Janet Calnek, Patricia Mary Doucette, Mary Lynn Forey, Carolyn Joyce Harris, Brenda Joyce Marshall, Paula Christine Moore, Myrna Colde Munro, Katherine Lorraine Perkins, Kathleen Joyce Spidle, Patricia Ann Theriault, Marie Elise Thimot, Anne Vidito, Colena Doucette, Phyllis Heyland.

After the next test, Noma Spelling Proficiency Certificates for 100% accuracy on another 100 words were presented to: Patricia Ann Baxter, Norma Janet Calnek, Patricia Mary Doucette, Eileen Marie Dunn, Mary Lynn Forey, Carolyn Joyce Harris, Brenda Joyce Marshall, Paula Christine Moore, Myrna Colde Munro, Katherine Lorraine Perkins, Elizabeth Ann Rose, Lois Genevieve Saboon, Kathleen Joyce Spidle, Marie Elise Thimot, Anne Vidito, Claire D. Warner, Elsie Irene Webb.

Mr. A. M. Phillips, Chairman of the Noma Education Committee, Halifax, has sent his congratulations to the school and to the twelve students who earned two certificates on their most commendable showing. He also praised the twenty girls who earned one of these spelling certificates.

Boy Scouts Invested

A special ceremony was conducted in the Canadian Legion Hall at Weymouth on Tuesday evening, when 27 boys were invested into the Boy Scout movement. Scouter Bill Cosman opened the ceremony after the boys had formed the horseshoe and saluted the flag. Commissioner Norman Wright presented the first patrol leader David Cosman for investiture and he in turn presented each boy in his patrol. Other patrol leaders being invested and presented their patrols were Charlie McNeil, Sandy Marshall and Stewart Lewis. Scouter Bill gave a short talk to the new scouts and Commissioner Wright spoke to them telling them of their new responsibilities they had now undertaken, and that they were part of a great movement that there were over 400 scouts in Digby County alone.

The Scout Committee was then presented and the chairman, Albert Jones, congratulated the boys on their fine appearance and their work. He said that Scouters Wilfred Cosman and Mel Barr were doing splendid work with the troop and for the community, and thanked the many parents and friends who had come out for the investiture.

Following the singing of The Queen, the Scouts served a delicious lunch to their guests.

The hall was decorated for the occasion with small tepees arranged on the walls, and the stage was set with the staff racks and knot-tying equipment, as well as the Boy Scout church.

The community is proud to have such a fine troop of Scouts and share in congratulations to all who have worked so hard to keep the work going.

Town Council Report

Mayor - We would apply to the department of municipal affairs to authorize the town to borrow or guarantee the borrowing of a sum of $80,000 as the town's share of the construction of a new hospital. This meeting would not call the ratepayers' meeting but apply to the department for a resolution to be submitted to the ratepayers of the town of Digby.

McKenna - There is some difference as to how much the town and the municipality should pay.

Mayor - Here is the motion he had made, that we apply to the department of municipal affairs for a resolution to be submitted to the ratepayers of the town of Digby authorizing a sum not exceeding $80,000 for the town of Digby's share in the hospital. We will call a ratepayers meeting to approve either a guarantee or the borrowing of $80,000 for our share. The motion indicates the council supports the $80,000 and is prepared to call a ratepayers meeting whenever the details are known. It is evident we don't know now whether our participation is to be by direct borrowing or a guarantee of some sort.

McKenna - The municipality of Clare are not guaranteeing, they are going to pay, they said they had the money.

Mayor - It is far more simple for the municipal councils to vote the money than for us.

Bent - I move (the motion referred to above).

Solicitor - That won't cover it. You'll have to be more specific. McKenna - If someone asks where you got your share what are you going to say.

Bent - Naturally we have the percentage and the way we arrived at it.

McKenna - The $160,000 is not guaranteed yet.

Mayor - We will dispense with further discussion on this until the solicitor can prepare a motion that will request from the department the type of (Please turn to page 8)

Highways Closed

Hon. G. I. Smith, Minister of Highways for Nova Scotia, said Monday that all highways in the province will be closed to certain classes of vehicles as of midnight, Tuesday, March 22.

Highways will be closed to the following classes of vehicles:

Those having a single axle weight in excess of 8,000 pounds gross load where such axle is equipped with two pneumatic tires.

Those having a single axle weight in excess of 10,000 pounds gross load where vehicles are equipped with four or more pneumatic tires.

Those having a tandem weight in excess of 12,000 pounds gross load where no single axle of the tandem pair exceeds 7,500 pounds, where each axle is equipped with two pneumatic tires.

Those having a tandem weight in excess of 15,000 pounds gross load with no single axle of the tandem pair exceeding 9,400 pounds, where each axle is equipped with four or more pneumatic tires.

This is the second time this year that the highways have been closed. All highways on mainland Nova Scotia were closed March 3 but were reopened midnight March 15.

Mr. Smith said that tests were taken on sections of pavement to determine whether highways were susceptible to damage by heavy vehicles. The test, known as the Deflection Method, consists of measuring the amount of "give" in a section of pavement when a known weight passes over it.

"A cold snap made it possible to re-open the roads for a time, but milder weather during the past week has made it necessary to close the roads again," said Mr. Smith.

"While a definite date cannot be set for the reopening of provincial highways this spring, they have been opened sometime in the first two weeks of May," Mr. Smith said.

Mrs. Lester Wilneff returned on Sunday after spending two weeks with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Greville Loanes and Mr. Lohnes, Lunenburg.

Radio Equipment For Digby Area

Work on installation of transmitting equipment, which will extend CBC's French-language radio network to four locations in Western Nova Scotia, began March 21.

Low-power relay transmitter equipment is being installed at Meteghan, Digby, Weymouth and Yarmouth.

CBC officials hope to begin broadcasting French-language network service over the four stations in early April.

Installation of two other low-power relay transmitters, at Kedgewick and St. Quentin, in New Brunswick, will be made during the latter part of April. It was also announced. These stations will also carry CBC French-language network service.

The frequencies of the Western Nova Scotia transmitters will be as follows: Meteghan, 1490 Kc/s.; Digby, 990 Kc/s.; Weymouth, 1550 Kc/s.; and Yarmouth, 1230 Kc/s.

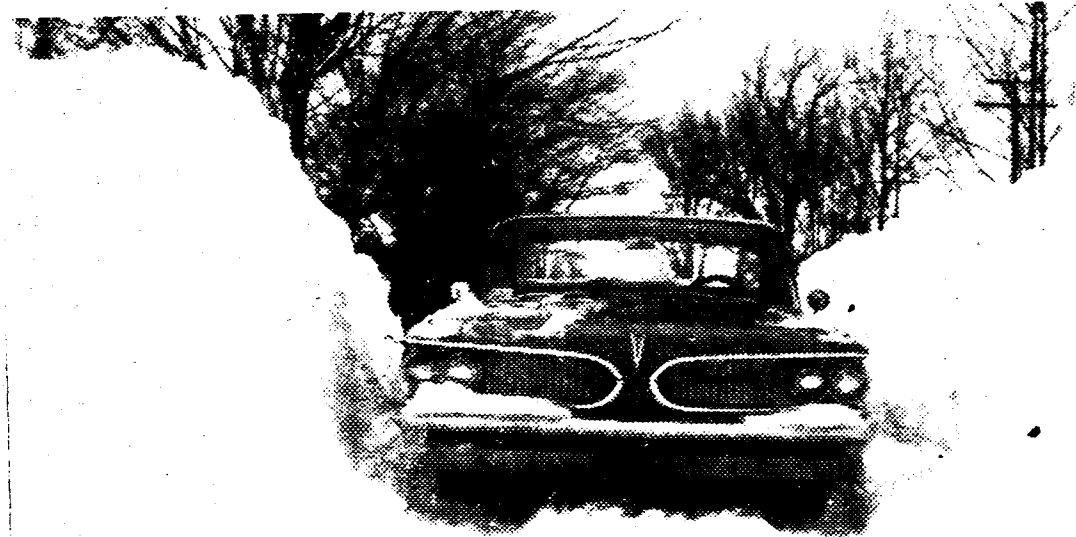

Low-power relay transmitters are unannounced and work automatically, broadcasting network service within a limited range of the community in which they are located.

The CBC operates a number of English network LPRT's in the Maritimes, at Edmundston, Grand Falls, Plaster Rock, in New Brunswick, and Barrington, in Nova Scotia.

The four new LPRT's in Nova Scotia will mark the first extension of French network service in the province.

Save A Life, Give Blood.

Land Of The Hmcs

Evidence of the heavy fall of snow which occurred in this area during the month of March is shown in the above picture. Taken on the Lansdowne Road, the photo shows the Editor's car on the highway between two banks of snow higher than the whole area. In some places single lane roads were so deep that it was possible to break through and the ten to 14 foot drifts along the edges made passage most hazardous.

Ravens Drop Series

The St. Anne's Collegians swept to victory in the western valley intermediate series Sunday when they downed the Digby Ravens by a 20-6 score in the fifth game of a best of seven series. They took the series four games to one.

In Sunday's game the Ravens seemed no match for the fast skating, hard shooting Collegians. For the St. Anne's squad Massicotte tallied six; Fougere and J. G. Bernard each had four; W. Murphy a trio and Blowing a single. For the Ravens MacCallum connected for the hat trick while Handsaker, Paul VanTassel and Bailey were the other marksmen.

DEEP SNOW, BUT SPRING COMING

A former Digby man, Charles Barr, now residing in Black's Harbour, while walking in the woods found a lovely bunch of pussy willows in full bloom. The snow was still full deep. At the same time a Spring bird sang in a treetop above. Despite the heavy snowfall and low temperatures, Spring is still trying its best to beat its way through.

U.S.A. Census In March

Beginning March 28th, 1960, the eighteenth census of population will take place in the United States. This year for the first time all United States citizens, regardless of age, residing abroad are asked to register in this census. A supply of a simple registration form is available at the United States Consulate General, Bank of Nova Scotia Building, Halifax, for filing by United States citizens in the Provinces of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. These forms may be obtained on request by mail or telephone.

The Digby Courier co-operates in bringing the above to the attention of its readers who are U.S.A. citizens living in its readership area.

Marks 100th Birthday

Mrs. Agnes Doucette of Woodvale, Digby County, who celebrated her 100th birthday last week, is still in good health and was able to enjoy the many gifts, cards, greetings, flowers, and visitors who gathered to extend best wishes and greetings.

The centenarian is still keen of mind; her eyesight is good and she enjoys sewing, makes her own bed, and is interested in her family and friends.

Mrs. Doucette (Agnes Gertrude Comeau) was born in Meteghan River, Digby County, on March 17, 1860. She had four brothers and sisters, all of whom have passed away.

She married William (Bill) Doucette on April 29, 1885, and they had six children, all living. She now resides with her eldest son, Emilian, and his family in Woodvale. Her two other sons are: Lawrence, of Halifax, and Raymond, Wollaston, Mass. Her three daughters are: Mrs. Joseph (Ellina) Melanson, Milton, Mass.; Mrs. Malcolm (Genevieve) Robichau, Newport, R. I.; and Mrs. Emile (Isabelle) Comeau, of Lake Mahopac, N. Y. Her husband died in 1950. He was a skilled shoemaker.

Mrs. Doucette's six children were all present for her centennial celebration. Mrs. Doucette received the Pope's blessing, greetings from the Queen and from Henry D. Hicks and several telegrams.

Mr. Norman A. Robbins celebrated his 92nd birthday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Clarence A. White, Butt's Corner, N. B., on March 19th. He received a large number of cards and some gifts. A few friends called on him in the afternoon and wished him many more happy birthdays.

Mr. Robbins is in fair health and enjoys reading and receiving cards and letters from his former home at Digby, N. S.

At supper time he enjoyed a birthday cake and drinks with his family and friends. We wish him many more birthdays.

Lions Club Sponsors Clinic

The Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic in Digby is to be sponsored by the Digby Lions Club. The clinic is scheduled to be held at the Court House March 29th.

The urgent need for blood has been stressed by Dr. T. W. Hodgson, president of the Digby branch of the Red Cross Society, and by members of the medical profession in this area.

Response to recent blood donor clinics held here has not been up to expectations but the Lions Club has expressed the hope the clinic this year will be well attended and produce a goodly supply of the urgently needed blood.

As an extra incentive to people to attend the clinic the Lions Club are making transportation available in Digby town to those who wish to attend but have no way of getting to the Court House.

D. F. D. ACTIVITIES

Officials of the Ice Carnival and the Fire Department are certainly well pleased with the results of this year's annual Carnival and the co-operation of the public and all who took part in presenting the program. It has been the most successful show presented to date, as well as breaking all records for attendance. All those who played any part in preparing the show are most heartily thanked for their efforts. There is no way in which everyone can be repaid. Final figures are not yet available as to financial results but all indications show that a good return will be realized for the Department and the Recreation Commission, the arrangements for this year's show is on a fifty-fifty basis, as the department's efforts to assist with the rink during the year along with the co-operation of other organizations who agreed at the same time to sponsor something to assist this community cause. The department is now most anxious to see what other organizations are going to promote to help this matter.

Sunday night saw the Fyrfighters and Forum workers engaged in a strenuous hockey game which resulted in the Fyrfighters losing out by 9-7. This was the first appearance for some players this year and many bruises and sore muscles resulted, however enthusiasm is high and talk is that there will be a regular team come next season.

Last week saw training given to members in rope and knots and last night further training was given in minor equipment which is all part of the regular training course being given to members which is scheduled to be completed in May.

ABOUT THIS AND THAT

Congratulations

The Digby Courier congratulates Miss Carol Handspiker who was crowned Digby Ice Carnival Queen last week and also the two princesses, Cheryl Woolaver and Linda Graham.

The choice of the Digby Fire Department to invite "Miss Canada", Miss Rosemary Keenan, Fairvale, N. B., to be present at the carnival was a happy one. Miss Keenan, honored to represent the whole of Canada by winning the Miss Canada contest in 1959 was a noble example of a humble but gracious personality. Miss Keenan admired for her beauty and deportment was admired most by those who learned to know her for her charming and unaffected manner revealing a sincere and genuine loveliness. Her charm and grace, her ability to carry an enviable honor both with dignity and humility, was a fine example for the girlhood of this area.

Many persons shared in making the Digby Ice Carnival a success. We congratulate all who are deserving credit for a worthwhile program and the success of the carnival. We particularly mention the fine performance given by both the local figure skaters and the Cornwallis talent. The local artists under the direction of Mrs. Donald Cameron brought credit to themselves and to Digby. They are to be congratulated on a splendid performance, especially when it is understood that so few hours had gone into direct preparation for the show.

On Saturday, March 19th, while shopping in the town of Digby I could not help remarking on the wonderful job of snow removal from the sidewalks and streets. One would hardly realize there had been a very heavy fall of snow the previous week, for you could get around very well without goshes or rubbers on one's feet. Other towns at this time cannot have the same said of them I know.

We do our share of complaining when things do not suit us so why not a word of praise for those who are responsible for making such conditions pleasanter, and with no room for complaint?

This condition should encourage shoppers to your town also.

Farm Advertising

Farmers, facing tough competition in the nation's consumer markets, have been giving serious consideration to programs designed to boost sales of farm commodities. Early in February Farm Forums in all parts of Canada examined the field of advertising and market research and arrived at some conclusions about farm activities in this field.

When asked, do you think that more commodity groups in Canada should adopt advertising programmes, three-quarters of the forums said, YES.

When suggestions as to ways and means by which the consumption of farm products might be stepped up were solicited, many good suggestions poured in. Some of them from Nova Scotia were: 1. Highest quality product possible; 2. Attractive packaging; 3. Packages in reasonable handling weight. (Farm Forum)

Anglican Views On Capital Punishment

In response to inquiries the Anglican Church of Canada today reiterated its views on capital punishment.

The Rev. Leonard F. Hatfield, General Secretary of the Church's Council for Social Service said that the Annual Meeting of the Council for Social Service in joint session with Executive Council of General Synod in 1958 declared itself in favour of the principle of the abolition of capital punishment and decided to petition the federal government "to initiate proceedings leading to the abolition of capital punishment in Canada". The resolution was passed, after a lengthy debate, by a margin of 53 to 40.

Dr. Hatfield said that "the voting at the 1958 meeting of the Council for Social Service was very significant. Although there is no unanimity concerning abolition of capital punishment in Canada at this time, this majority vote was an indication of a substantial change which is taking place in Canadian thinking. It was an example of an increasing rejection of the death penalty and of a growing recognition that its abolition will do much to enhance the value placed upon human life in our society".

at Holy Trinity Anglican Church at 9 a.m. on Saturday morning. Mr. How was for a number of years warden at Holy Trinity. Rev. W. E. Jefferson officiated at the ceremony and burial took place in the family lot in St. Alban's cemetery in Lequille.

To Deal With Seclusion

Why do some men and women shun the conventional way of life in favor of seclusion in monasteries and convents.

On March 22, Project '60's The Contemplative Way, especially prepared for this Lenten season, searches for answers to this question. The program, to be heard in two segments, will be broadcast on CBC radio's Trans - Canada network from 9:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m., AST (repeated March 27, 6:00 p.m., AST).

During the first part of the program, Benedictine monks on St. Benoit du Lac, Que., and the Mother Superior of the Sisters of St. John the Divine (Anglican) of Toronto, will explain their cloistered way of life.

Seclusion was awarded the 1958 Italia Prize for outstanding radio documentary. The Italian crew who made it were the first broadcasters permitted to enter a closed convent and record the daily life of the nuns.

The Italian recording was later translated word for word into English by the BBC. It is a precise record of a day in the convent.

The secret of happy marriage is simple: just keep on being as polite to each other as you are to your best friends. — Robert Quillen.

Matrimony should never be entered into without a full recognition of its enduring obligations on both sides. — Mary Baker Eddy.

CARS ARE MY LINE

by Ken Hankinson
YOU MAKE A DIFFERENCE TO YOUR GAS MILEAGE!

The other day, I was waiting for the traffic light to change. I was behind a young fellow. When the light did change, he was off like a race horse from a starting gate. You know, the way we drive has a lot to do with the kind of gas mileage we get from the old buggy. There are a lot of things we can do to get a little better mileage . . . and a few things that we tend to forget about that make a difference too.

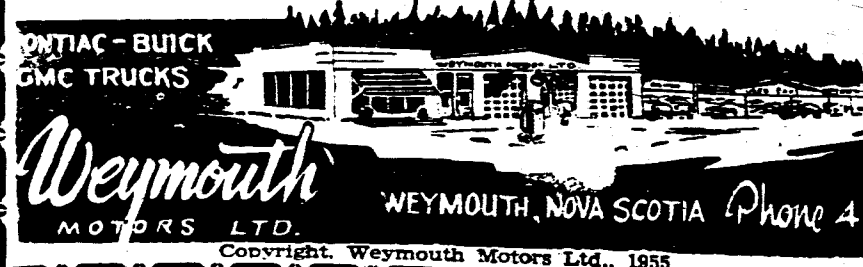

Stops and starts tend to cut down your mileage in city driving . . . but you cut it down even more when you impatiently push the accelerator down when you are waiting for the light to change . . . and when you accelerate too fast you cut the mileage down even more.

On the open highway, the faster you go, the more gas you burn per mile . . . the car that gives 20 miles to the gallon at 30 will do well to give 15 at 60 . . . and so it goes.

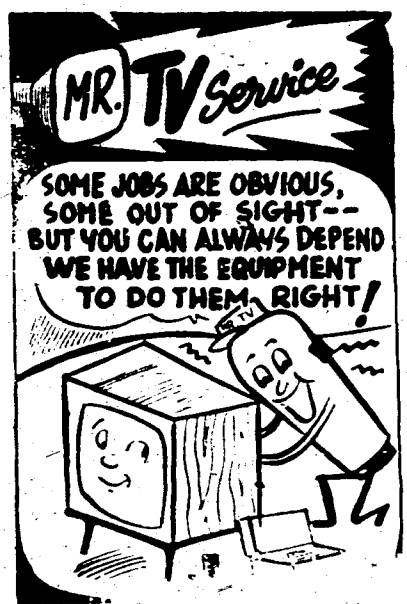

If you want more mileage from your car, be moderate in your driving habits . . . be patient at stops, don't force acceleration . . . and take it easy on the highway. Good mechanical care of your car helps, too.

Yes, good care of your car gives you better mileage . . . but for the best mileage you need a good car. We have some really good used cars on the lot right now. Cars that have been well cared for and that we have tuned up to perfection . . . all waiting for you and your driving pleasure. Come in now and look them over.

Comments Red Cross

Premier Robert L. Stanfield (above), honorary president, Nova Scotia Division, Canadian Red Cross Society, commended the society for helping make this province a happier and healthier place in which to work.

He mentioned the swimming and water safety program which last year in this province gave instruction to 14,011 children and adults, almost double the number for the year 1958.

"Every drop of blood provided by Red Cross for use in the province's hospitals is made available free of charge through another of the society's beneficent service," he pointed out, "the free blood transfusions."

The Premier lauded yet another service of Red Cross, that of disaster relief, which gave assistance to 788 persons suffering losses in 141 fires in Nova Scotia during the past year.

"Funds to carry on these and other services equally vital to the people of this province are raised in the annual March campaign," Premier Stanfield explained. "In areas where branches are not partners in United Appeal, this campaign now is in progress. I urge that you support it as generously as possible so that this year's objective of $208,300 in Nova Scotia may be reached and the great work of Red Cross carried on."

W.I. Meets

The Rossway Women's Institute met for their March meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. John McBride, a postponement from the previous week. Each member was presented with a leaf of shamrock by Mrs. John Gidney in honor of St. Patrick's Day and one of their members, Mrs. Darrell Lewis, who also celebrated her birthday on that day. The roll call was answered by an Irish joke or short poem. After opening exercises business portions of two dollars was voted to be forwarded to the W. I. Scholarship Fund. These two scholarships are given to two girls to avail themselves of a Home Economics Course at a University and a Teachers' Course at the Provincial Normal College. It was decided that each member give the sum of ten cents for the Adelaide Hoodless Museum Fund. Mrs. Hoodless was the founder of the Women's Institutes.

Plans for a rummage sale and 25c lunch were discussed. The date is to be set at the next meeting in April.

Articles for Red Cross disaster kits from each member and from anyone wishing to contribute are to be brought in for the April meeting. These will be forwarded to the Digby Branch to be ready for distribution when needed either locally or elsewhere.

Mrs. Charles Theriault has kindly offered to piece quilt tops, material provided by the Red Cross, and the Institute will quilt and finish them for Red Cross refugee work.

A donation of a crib quilt top and lining from Mrs. Cecile Nichols was gratefully acknowledged for the refugee work which the Institute is undertaking from now until September when it is hoped they will have a goodly supply of warm used clothing for adults and children.

Anything they wish to donate may leave it with any W.I. member. Special efforts are concentrated on baby's layettes (all from used material) and consists of 4 diapers (from good parts of any color flannelette sheets, the edges are to be pinked only), 2 jackets, 2 night gowns (made from used flannelette pyjamas and nightgowns), 1 cake laundry soap, 1 towel, 4 safety pins and 2 knitted shirts, knitted from unraveled yarn, any kind or color or combination of colors; even the tops of men's socks would be suitable — warmth is all that's needed. The directions for these knitted shirts may be had by contacting Mrs. John Gidney or Mrs. Waters Comeau and the instructions will be sent. If anyone has yarn and does not wish to do the knitting the yarn may be left with any member and it will be knit into shirts.

Scrumptious! Different!

If you bake at home, try these tender, puffy braided rolls—with the sophisticated accent of toasted seeds. Try them soon! And for finest results always use Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast.

RICH SEED BRAIDS

1. Scald $\frac{1}{2}$ c. milk. Cool to lukewarm.
2. Meantime, measure into small bowl $\frac{1}{2}$ c. lukewarm water. Stir in 1 tsp. granulated sugar. Sprinkle with contents of 1 envelope Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 mins. THEN stir well.
3. Cream $\frac{1}{2}$ c. butter or Blue Bonnet Margarine. Gradually blend in $\frac{1}{2}$ c. granulated sugar. 1 1/2 tps. salt. Add and beat in, one at a time, 2 eggs. 1 egg white. Stir in dissolved yeast, lukewarm milk and 2 c. once-sifted all-purpose flour. Beat until smooth and elastic. Work in an additional 2 1/2 c. (about) once-sifted all-purpose flour.
4. Turn out on floured board; knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl. Grease top. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk—about 1 1/4 hrs.

5. Punch down dough. Turn out on floured board; knead until smooth. Divide into 2 equal portions. Shape into rolls 9" long; cut into 9 slices. Divide each slice into 3 pieces; roll each piece into a 5" rope. Braid 3 ropes together to make each bun; seal ends. Arrange, well apart, on greased cookie sheets. Grease tops. Cover with towel. Let rise until doubled—about 40 mins. Brush with a mixture of 1 egg yolk and 1 tps. water; sprinkle with caraway, poppy or sesame seeds. Bake in mod. hot oven, 375°, 12 to 15 mins. (Continued from page 1) resolution we need. As he says, we must be specific in our request and at this stage we do not know if we are to guarantee a borrowing or actually borrow ourselves. Are there any other committees to report?

Reports on water and milk tests were filed by the clerk.

VanTassel - I might mention, since I forgot it in my report, that I have contacted Mr. Robinson, the dogcatcher. So far he has only made one trip around and did not see many dogs.

McKenna - He cleaned them up quite fast last summer.

Mayor - Is Mrs. Melanson continuing as pound keeper?

VanTassel - Yes. I feel we should have the clerk put a notice in the paper regarding the dogs. Agreed.

Mayor - Since the ratepayers meeting authorized the borrowing of the $15,000 for the new school we have to appoint representatives to the building committee.

Bent - I was thinking we might make use of our friend Harry Titus.

Mayor - I would think the committee members should be members of the council.

Anthony - I would move that Mr. Atkinson and Mr. Bent be appointed.

Atkinson - What exactly would this committee have to do?

Mayor - The department of education has standard plans for these schools. I believe, such as were used in Smith's Cove and Barton. The committee would examine these, suggest whatever changes are necessary to adapt them to the local need, secure approval of the departments concerned, call for tenders, deal with them and perhaps appoint a building inspector. I think generally that would be their duties.

Woolaver - I think Mr. McKenna would be a good one; I think he would be an excellent one.

Anthony - I would move that Mr. Bent, McKenna and Atkinson be the representatives of the town on the building committee. Passed.

Mayor - Perhaps if the solicitor or is ready we could return to the hospital question.

Bent - This is the motion, that the department of municipal affairs be requested to prepare for approval of the ratepayers a resolution authorizing the borrowing or guarantee of a sum not to exceed $80,000 as the share of the town of Digby of the cost of a new hospital.

Anthony - I second the motion. Passed.

Mayor - We still have that matter of the amendment to the by laws for the doctors' parking.

Solicitor - By arrangement an agreement was arrived at whereby the doctors voluntarily agreed to pay five dollars a year. In the light of present circumstances and so on the council has now requested they pay $25. To have by law changes covering this arrangement might present some difficulties.

Mayor - Was not the original agreement in the by laws?

Solicitor - No.

The matter was discussed at length.

Woolaver - I would like to make a motion that the town clerk write and ask them if they would consider paying more.

Mayor - We already have a motion that the town solicitor prepare an amendment to the by-law.

VanTassel - I move the matter be laid on the table until the next meeting. Passed.

Police Chief Dunn - The change of angle parking to parallel; I would like to discuss it.

Mayor - The committee recommended it.

The meeting adjourned.

"A Reader".

Black's Harbor, N. B.,
March 18th, 1960.

Dear Courier,
I do not favour capital punishment because a lot of people die who are innocent.

In the case of Carl Chessman, of Los Angeles, if he did commit those crimes I think he should be set free for the reason that he has been in there 11½ years thinking if he was to die at the next trial. He may be guilty or he may be innocent. I think he has been punished enough.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Stanley Smith.

March 21, 1960.

To The Courier:
I favor capital punishment for knowing of a man committing a hideous, brutal murder in killing his wife and was given a life sentence. A year or so later he killed a guard and was then hanged.

The gangsters are getting beyond control and the courts are having to give stiff sentences. It would not be wise to abolish capital punishment.

In Favor.

Editor of
The Digby Courier.

Let the jury decide if mercy is justified.

Anyone who advocates mercy for the slayer of the 13 year old Dresden girl is in my opinion a Mental Case.

Let us have some protection for Bankers, Taxi Drivers, etc.

One Opinion.

Editor of
The Digby Courier.

Dear Madam:

I noted by your editorial of this past week some reference to Charles Moore and Ethel Moore, who had worked at The Digby Weekly Courier, and Mrs. Trask's enquiry about them.

Charles Moore, Ethel Moore and Georgie Moore were the children of Robert Moore and

Obituaries

Desire J. Belliveau

The death of Desire J. Belliveau, well-known resident of Weymouth, N. S., occurred on Thursday, March 17, at his home following a lengthy illness. He was 83.

He is survived by four daughters and two sons: Louise, (Mrs. Raymond Melanson), of N. H., Anna (Mrs. Jos. Leblanc) Oshawa, Ont., Evelyn (Mrs. J. H. Irvine), Halifax and Laura, Henry and Javite, all of Weymouth.

Funeral services will be held from St. Joseph R. Catholic Church, Weymouth, on Monday morning, with Rev. Delbe Comeau officiating.

Interment will be in the parish cemetery.

Miss Emily Bishop

The death occurred on Wednesday, March 16, at the home of her niece, Mrs. Mildred Griffin, Saint John, N. B., of Miss Emily Wood Bishop, age 94.

Miss Bishop was born in Digby, daughter of William and Margaret Clements Bishop, of United Empire Loyalist descent, and lived in Digby until twenty years ago when she went to Saint John.

She is survived by two nieces, Mrs. Mildred Griffin, Saint John, N. B., and Mrs. Donald Sarah Titus and their home was the house on Warwick Street next west of the new house built some time ago by Dave Landers, and east of where the late Albert Warner lived. Charley and Ethel must have worked in the old Courier office in the early 1900's when Oakes Dunham edited the paper.

Charles went to the States and was (or perhaps is) still running a printing works just outside Boston. He visited Digby a few years ago, and probably called in at your office.

Ethel went west, married in Missoula, Montana, to a man named Snyder. I am not sure that she is living.

Georgie I can't remember anything about, but there's every probability she also worked in the Courier office.

Sincerely,
Jack Russell.

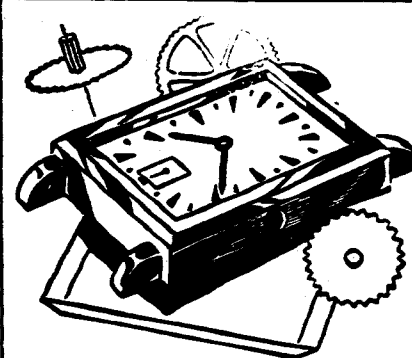

ATTENDS FUNERAL

Gerald and Theodore Morrell of Freeport, left on Friday to attend the funeral of Miss Ruth Kirk, R.N., at Union Mills, N. B. Miss Kirk was killed in Montreal while walking on the street by ice falling from a building. The late Miss Kirk is a step daughter of Mrs. George Kirk, nee Maude Morrell, formerly of Freeport.

Mrs. J. M. Ossinger and son Basil Outhouse, of Tiverton, were in town Monday.

Richards, of Somerville, Mass. Several great nieces and nephews survive.

The funeral was held on Friday from Grace United Church, Digby, with Rev. James Brooks officiating. Interment was in Fairview cemetery.

Little League Hockey News

The final games of the Digby Little League were played on Wednesday, March 16, to a small crowd of interested parents.

In the Pee Wee League the strong finishing Canadians continued their victory surge and defeated the Red Wings 6-3. This championship win by the Canadians is all the more notable when it is realized that for the first two-thirds of the season they did not win a single game.

Canadians' goal scorers were A. Doucette (unassisted), A. Doucette (G. Dunn), J. Amaro (G. Dunn), J. Amaro (Doucette), A. Doucette (unassisted) and J. Ayer (A. Doucette).

The Red Wings' tallymen were H. Robinson (R. VanTassel, B. Neville), H. Robinson (T. Sabean) and E. Hodgson (G. Holdsworth).

The Canadians now reign as the Pee Wee League 1959-60 Champions.

In the Bantam League action the Rangers and Maple Leafs, in a game of penalties, went into sudden death overtime before the Leafs' B. Olson (P. Comeau) found the left hand corner for the winning goal. Regular play ended in a three-all tie.

Leafs' goals were by D. Marshall (P. Comeau), P. Comeau (Marshall, Olson), B. Olson (P. Comeau).

Rangers' marksmen, who incidentally were robbed of many goal scoring chances by scintillating play by R. VanTassel, Leafs' goaltender, were R. Wolf (B. Richards), R. Wolf (Richards, J. Dunn) and R. Trefry (unassisted).

The Maple Leafs now reign as the Bantam League Champions for the year 1959-60.

Trophies for the winners and individual award winners will be announced and presented at the Little League banquet to be held later this month.

Stress Dangers Involved

The tragic results which could follow the damaging of railway switches and the destruction of lights in the "wig-wag" signals at railway crossings were stressed by Constable L. N. E. Despins of the CPR police and B. L. Conway, special investigator for the railway, in addresses to the pupils of all Digby schools here this week.

Mr. Conway stated the assemblies of the school pupils were being held so that the children might be warned of the seriousness of such things as using railway yards as playgrounds and the destruction of signals and switching gear.

He stated the flashing red lights in railway crossing "wig-wag" signals in the local area had been shot out with 22 rifles and had also been smashed by having stones thrown at them. Such destruction, he stated, could bring untold tragedy to motorists who, not knowing the warning lights were out of order, attempted to cross the tracks in the path of an oncoming train.

Damage to railway switches, which has also been occurring in the local area, he said, could also have tragic results, both in loss of life and destruction of property.

Danger to youngsters playing in railway yards was stressed by both Constable Despins and Mr. Conway. Using these yards as playgrounds, they said, could result in youngsters being permanently disabled or even killed. Climbing on railway cars is especially dangerous, they stated, but serious results may also follow just playing about the tracks and cars in the yards.

Two films on safety were also shown to the more than one thousand school pupils who attended the assemblies. These films showed graphically what could happen to youngsters who ignore warnings of danger involved in playing around railway yards and the serious results which can follow tampering with signals and switches.

To Present Sacred Concert

The forty-voice choir from Gordon College on Boston's north shore will present a sacred concert at the United Baptist Church, Bear River, Nova Scotia, on Monday, April 4th, at 7:30 p.m. Directed by E. Gordon Leavitt of the music faculty, the group will offer a program of choral classics, hymns, spirituals from the Renaissance period to the present day.

Choir members come from nine states and Canada. In past years the group appeared in many of the major cities of the eastern United States. This year their tour includes the Maritimes and Maine. Concerts will be presented at Perth-Andover, Moncton and Sussex, New Brunswick; Bear River, Halifax and Chester, Nova Scotia; and Auburn, Houlton, Calais, Augusta, Cape Neddick and Bath, Maine.

Brahm's choral, "O God Thou Faithful God" and Orlando Gibbon's "Hosanna to the Son of David," and Randall Thompson's modern works, "The Peaceable Kingdom" and "Alleluia" will be performed in part. The program will be rounded out with Negro spirituals, including "Daniel, Daniel, Servant of the Lord."

Professor Leavitt joined the Gordon faculty in September, 1959. He holds the degrees of Bachelor of Arts in Music from the Central Washington College of Education and Master of Arts in Voice from Bob Jones University where he was a graduate assistant in music. He has led school choral groups and given private voice lessons as well. He is also engaged presently as minister of music at the South Shore Baptist Church of Hingham, Mass.

Founder Passes

Mrs. Clara Beatrice Cossaboom, Smith's Cove, passed away at the Digby General Hospital on Sunday.

Born at Smith's Cove, ninety years ago, she was a daughter of the late Charles and Francis Ellen Dyer Sullis.

She attended the Smith's Cove school and was later married to William Minor Cossaboom.

They were the founders of Cabin Colonies in Nova Scotia and for many years she and her husband operated the popular summer resort Harbour View House at Smith's Cove.

Because of her close association with the tourist industry she was widely known throughout Canada and the United States. Mrs. Cossaboom took a keen interest in the affairs of the community and in younger ladies' organizations. She was a member of the Smith's Cove Baptist Church. Her husband predeceased her in 1927.

Surviving are sons Earl, of Brockville, N. Y., Donald, of Dartmouth, Douglas, of Phoenix, Arizona, and daughters Lillian (Mrs. Ralph Shepard), of West Hartford, Conn., Winifred (Mrs. Allister MacInnifred), Long Island, N. Y., Nellie (Mrs. Joseph Steadman), of Smith's Cove, and Florence (Mrs. Robert Parnell), of Liverpool, N. S.

She was predeceased by a son, Gordon.

The remains which rested at Jayne's Funeral Home in Digby were taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Steadman, Smith's Cove, for service at 2 p.m. on Wednesday. Rev. Mr. Whitehouse conducted the service and interment was in the cemetery at Harbour View.

Present were most of the members of the club and as guests of honour four senior members of the Clare Liberal Association: Mr. J. H. Deveau, Mr. Urbain Belliveau, Mr. Alce Belliveau and Mr. Joseph LeBlanc. Mr. Deveau presided over the election of the officers.

Minister Replies Re Layoffs

Modernization of equipment and reassignment of duties resulted in the reduction of civilian staff at HMCS Cornwallis, associate defence minister Pierre Sevigny told the Commons Wednesday.

He said, in reply to questions asked by H. J. Robichaud (L-Clouctester), that 57 employees had been laid off since Nov. 1, 1959.

These included 23 firemen-laborers, 17 seasonal firemen-laborers, four stationary engineers, six carpenters, a painter, an electrician and five laborers.

"Every effort is being made to provide alternate employment for individuals being displaced," the minister said.

Representations on behalf of the displaced workers, he reported, had come from Edward Murphy, president of the Digby branch of the Canadian Legion; Digby Mayor Victor Cardoza; and the Clementsport branch of the Legion.

The following was used as the basis of reply in each case: "The reduction of civilian staff at Cornwallis stems from a number of causes including revision of unit organization, reassignment of duties among continuing staff, and modernization of equipment. Each of these factors has resulted in civilian positions being declared surplus to requirement.

"The new central heating plant with its modern fuel handling equipment is the major reason for staff reduction at Cornwallis at the present time. In addition, a Civil Service complement review revealed that the civilian cleaning staff was larger than necessary to maintain a proper standard of cleanliness at the base," said Mr. Sevigny.

Mental Health Group Holds Annual

Dr. J. R. McCleave, Victor Cardoza, James Ayer, Dr. G. V. Turnbull and E. J. Theriault, Q.C., were re-elected to the board of directors of the Western Nova Scotia Mental Health Group Inc. at the annual meeting Tuesday evening. Others on the board include representatives from the counties of Annapolis and Yarmouth whose terms of office are not affected by the annual meeting.

The annual report of the Western Nova Scotia Clinic, which is operated under the auspices of the mental health group, was given by the executive director, Dr. G. A. W. Angus. This report showed the work of the clinic to be expanding.

During the year, Dr. Angus reported, a branch clinic had been opened in Bridgetown to serve the Annapolis county area. The Yarmouth clinic had increased its scope of activity, he said, and was working in close conjunction with the newly organized retarded children's association in Yarmouth.

Dr. R. A. Armstrong had come from England to join the clinic as associate psychiatrist during the year, Dr. Angus stated, and his presence had made possible the opening of the long projected branch clinic for the Annapolis county area and had also made possible an extension of psychiatric service at both Digby and Yarmouth.

The work in Yarmouth had also been assisted, he said, by the fact Mr. Victor Baker, of Yarmouth, had joined the clinic there as a social worker. Unfortunately, he said, the posts of social workers for the other units of the clinic have been vacant since the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Vallee who have gone to Cornell University to carry on post graduate studies. It is gratifying to report, he said, that Mr. Vallee had been awarded a Canada Council scholarship to continue his studies.

There had been a resumption of the clergy-clinic activities during the year, Dr. Angus reported, and Dr. Armstrong is meeting regularly with the ministerial association for discussions.

One important problem still remains to be resolved, Dr. Angus stated in his report. This is the need for funds to take care of drug needs for patients to whom they are prescribed and who cannot afford to purchase them and also for playroom equipment and supplies for children who are attending the clinic.

Digby Born Bank Head Dies

Herbert Deschamps, Burns, 81, former president and chairman of the board of the Bank of Nova Scotia, died in Toronto Monday.

A leading figure in Canadian commerce, he was chairman of the board of Crown Life Insurance Company and a director of the National Trust Company, the Central Canada Loan and Savings Company and the Toronto Savings and Loan Company.

Mr. Burns was born at Digby and received his education at Digby Academy and Moncton, N. B. High School. He began his banking career as a junior clerk with the Bank of Nova Scotia in Moncton in 1896.

He became an accountant at a Boston branch in 1901 and moved to Montreal shortly after. His first managing post was with the Kentville branch in 1905.

In 1915, Mr. Burns was appointed superintendent of the Bank of Nova Scotia's western branches at Toronto and in 1923 became assistant general manager.

He was appointed general manager in 1941, vice-president and director in 1944 and president in 1945. He became chairman of the board in 1949 and honorary president in 1955.

Mr. Burns' first wife died in 1947 and two of his sons also predeceased him.

He is survived by his second wife, a son, Charles, a daughter, Mrs. John Burns, of Buffalo, N. Y., eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

World War I Medals Presented

First World War medals, to which her first husband was entitled but had never received, were presented Wednesday to Mrs. Rufus R. W. Connor, of Digby, by Captain F. W. Frewer, RCN, Commanding Officer of HMCS Cornwallis, at a ceremony at Mrs. Connor's home.

Also present for the ceremony were Commander Cook, Executive Officer of HMCS Cornwallis; President Edward Murphy and other officers and members of the Digby branch of the Canadian Legion.

Mrs. Connor's first husband, the late John Banfield, of Penzance, England, served during World War I with the British Merchant Marine. He died towards the end of the war as a result of the effects of his war service.

Because of his service during the first world war Mr. Banfield was entitled to the Merchant Marine medal and the 1914-18 medal but his widow had never received them.

Mrs. Connor said today following the presentation that her present husband, himself a British naval veteran, was determined she should have the medals to which her first husband had been entitled. Wednesday's ceremony marked the successful completion of Mr. Connor's efforts to secure the medals and have them presented.

Mr. and Mrs. Connor were married in Penzance on March 22nd, 1919, and last week marked the 41st anniversary of their marriage.

On Capital Punishment

In returning her coupon regarding Capital Punishment one lady quoted a story told by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale in a sermon preached at Marble Collegiate Church, New York. The story reprinted is as follows:

"At a resort hotel in Florida I saw a friend of mine walking across the lobby, carrying one little girl and holding another by the hand. Beside him was his wife, and all of them, together, made a most attractive family group. His face showed peace.

I had met him first in Atlanta, Georgia, about seven years before. At that time his face was haggard, his hands shook, his wife had left him in disgust at his continuous drunkenness. He hated everybody, but he hated one man in particular and he had decided he was going to kill him. He went into a bar hunting for him, and happened to see his own face in the mirror.

"My God," he said, "I look like that?"

He left that place and went to see a Presbyterian preacher. "I hated this preacher, too," he (Please turn to page 5)

CARS ARE MY LINE

by Ken Hankinson

LOCK THAT DOOR NOW!

Years ago, there was a story about a farmer who lost a horse . . . and then went to the hardware store to buy a lock for his door. The moral of the story was, "Don't wait until the horse is stolen before you lock the door."

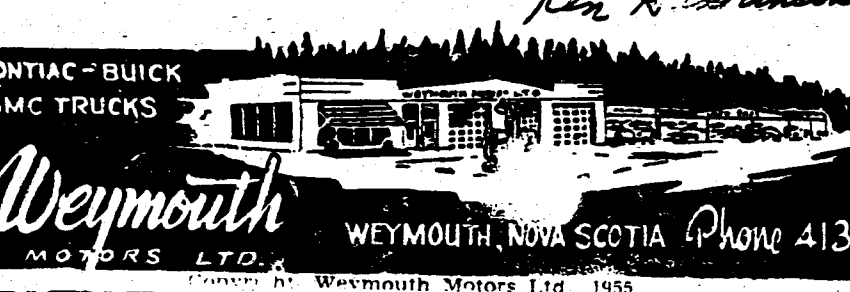

Locking the door is a good idea, particularly when you are driving. One of the worst fears that most of us have about driving is the risk of being thrown out the door if we should have an accident. Research done by the automobile companies show that a locked door is far safer than the unlocked one when it comes to an accident.

Cars have been repeatedly rolled to test various safety methods. In every case where the doors were locked, the door did not fly open in the roll. So when you're driving, keep the doors locked from the inside. That will make you that much safer.

There's another point about doors that I think is worth passing along. When you shop for a used car be sure that you check all the doors . . . see that they hang right and close properly. A good body shop can cover up a lot of damage and even conceal the fact that a car has been twisted in a wreck. But the doors will usually show in spite of their efforts.

You won't find any concealed wrecks on our lot . . . but you will find a choice selection of late model beauties . . . and all of them tuned up ready for the road. Come in now and look them over.

Appeals For Extra Effort

Hon. E. C. Plow
Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia

Launching the 1960 Easter Seal Campaign in Nova Scotia Major General the Honorable E. C. Plow, Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia has appealed for an "extra effort" this year on behalf of the Nova Scotia Society for the Care of Crippled Children.

The Society through its 27 franchise holders, including Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions Clubs, Women's Institutes and Rehoboth Lodges in the various communities, is seeking $80,000 this year to further the work of aiding crippled children.

The $80,000 target set for the Nova Scotia campaign is $16,000 more than last year. The funds are needed to provide for the extension of mobile clinic program and the upkeep of crippled children's summer camps. The mobile clinic will be in Digby May 11 as announced by John Kinnaird, executive director.

President of the Nova Scotia Society for the Care of Crippled Children is Fred R. MacKinnon, Deputy Minister of Public Welfare.

During the past year 21 mobile clinics were in operation throughout the Province and 669 children were assessed by the medical teams, at a cost of about $3,500. This year the estimated cost is $4,500. The clinic team consists of an orthopedic specialist, a pediatrician, a psychiatrist, an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist and a social worker. Every child receives a thorough examination by the team.

In 1959, nine speech therapy clinics were held, 288 children were seen and 2,100 interviews were held with these children and their parents. Cost of this service was $4,000.

The Easter Seal Campaign is sponsored in Digby by the Kiwanis Club. Chairman is J. D. Hattie.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

told me, "He was always standing up in his pulpit and telling us what we ought to do."

But this man went to that minister because of his need, and the preacher led him to Jesus. Not only was the gun taken from his hand, but the hate from his heart and the weakness from his nature.

So, as I watched him cross that hotel lobby with his wife and children, it was an illustration of what Christ does with people. He tells me that he sings his little girls to sleep every night with hymns. He has one final hymn that he always uses just as he sees their eyelids begin to droop. "I want it to get into their minds and souls as they are going to sleep," he says. The hymn is, "Amazing Grace, how sweet the sound."

This man learned, by personal experience, what the Grace of God is, and his family is built around Jesus Christ. "If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them."

Addresses Women At Naval Base

Dr. Constance Jackson, missionary from India, addressed a group of women from HMCS Cornwallis at St. George Church, Cornwallis, on Monday evening. Also in attendance were women from Annapolis Royal, Deep Brook and Digby. Dr. Jackson dressed in native costume of India made a deep impression on her audience as she presented the need of missionary work in India and described in detail the life of the people of India in their government, political, educational and religious spheres.

Dr. Jackson started on her visits under the Canada Council of Churches in Halifax last week. She will visit as far west as British Columbia and into the Yukon. Dr. Jackson, who has spent 36 years in India, was recently chosen for this new field of endeavor in visiting naval establishments to interest the women in supporting missionary hospitals and other missionary work in India. At the best of times the speaker said that over thirty per cent of the population of India do not get enough food to eat. The population there is 375,000,000 with seventy-five per cent of these in villages. She dealt with the caste systems, the superstitions and marriage rules which were detrimental to best living. Letter To The Editor

March 29, 1960.

To The Editor,
Digby Courier Office,
Digby, Nova Scotia.

Dear Sirs:

As one who is directly and keenly interested in the industrial expansion and development of western Nova Scotia in general and the fact that considerable expansion is being planned by our manufacturing firm in the near future has caused us to follow the various recommendations for increased canal and ferry service with interest.

Recent expressions of public opinion noted in the press and current topics of conversation as well as personal experience would indicate that the establishment of these essential services are definitely and urgently needed as quickly as possible. Especially, the extended and improved Bay of Fundy ferry service capable of carrying the increased traffic potential now apparent for the needs of increasing tourist travel, industrial and commercial development.

The establishment of several manufacturing plants in western Nova Scotia recently has considerably increased the definite need to facilitate bringing in supplies and exporting the products of these plants. Credit for the original establishment of these factories is largely due to the improved service provided by the Blue-nose Ferry on the Yarmouth-Bar Harbour run which reduced the time and expense of bringing in needed supplies as much as 65%. However, this ferry has limited trailer truck capacity which has been overtaxed since the first year of operation.

With the locating of another manufacturing plant in this area, even heavier freight traffic is indicated for this ferry. The increase of our own manufacturing facilities and the establishment of several others is being considered, but additional ferry service between Nova Scotia and New Brunswick is a must to transfer supplies from St. John, Moncton.

of this fact, other pertinent facts should be mentioned at this time. A certain percentage of all liquor consumption always results in some direct and indirect need for hospital beds. Increased liquor consumption over the last thirty years (about a generation of time) has caused a part of this hospital problem.

A second ferry from Yarmouth or Shelburne to Boston could provide the additional essential transportation facilities needed to and from these ports. A Digby to Shelburne paved highway would complete a convenient and economical tourist and freight traffic connection to the South Shore and Boston or reverse direction.

First of all, a ferry on the Bay of Fundy route; second, another on the Shelburne-Boston run; and third, a Digby-Shelburne paved highway would provide a combination of routings for tourists, industrial and commercial traffic to accommodate the most exacting requirements and greatly improve our present transportation problems.

Proper terminal facilities at Digby or Deep Brook in conjunction with the newly proposed Chignecto canal could establish a short route waterway for the transportation of manufactured productions from western Nova Scotia and the New England States to Prince Edward Island, Newfoundland, northern Quebec, Labrador, and the St. Lawrence Seaway.

First, a study of the facts and a census of general opinion would indicate that a side loading type of ferry capable of using the existing terminals at Saint John and Digby should be operated alternately with the Princess Helene during the summer seasons to provide supplementary transportation facilities until a new ferry and terminals can be arranged.

Second, it is hoped that the two trips of the Evangeline to Shelburne this summer is a forerunner of extended service to this port and western Nova Scotia.

Third, further consideration and survey of a paved highway from Digby to Shelburne would do much to complete the entire system, soon after a new ferry and terminals could be provided on the Bay of Fundy route.

Editor,
Digby Courier.

Dear Editor:

According to latest government figures for the year ended March 31/59, liquor sales in the area between Weymouth and Annapolis, with Digby at its center, amounted to about $27 thousand dollars. A sum of money the size of this annual take from liquor sales would build every year, at present day costs, a 90-bed hospital for the area in question. Because of this fact, other pertinent facts should be mentioned at this time.

A certain percentage of all liquor consumption always results in some direct and indirect need for hospital beds. Increased liquor consumption over the last thirty years (about a generation of time) has caused a part of this hospital problem.

Why all the delay in building our much needed 90-bed hospital when so much money is available, and actually spent for liquor and such things? According to present day trends, we will need a considerably larger hospital than a 90-bed one for the next generation in this area.

Vincent Snow.

Would Mean Better Relations

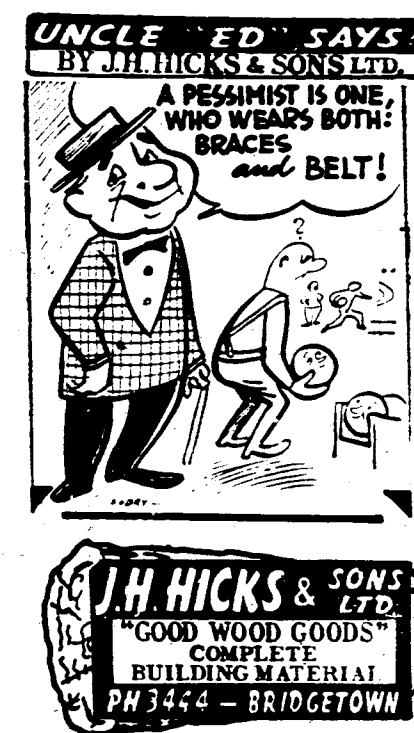

Vincent Massey's wish for French to be taught earlier in Canadian schools was recalled in the Legislature Friday by P. E. Belliveau (L-Clare) who said more bilingualism would better our understanding of each other.

The former governor-general had also spoken of the essential differences between French and English-speaking Canadians and thought it made for a richer and more interesting country, said Mr. Belliveau, when he spoke in the Throne Speech debate.

He reminded members that more French-Canadians in the cities were bilingual than were English speakers.

Turning to national affairs he said Canada was faced with nearly 800,000 out of work, including 135,000 — 11 per cent of the working force — in the Atlantic provinces. There were many unemployed in his own constituency, and some farmers raising hens were going out of business because market prices were too low. He hoped to see the Cape Breton mining situation relieved.

He urged the revival of the international tuna tournament, adding that there were plenty of tuna last year, and the Nova Scotia travel bureau reported in mid-September a "phenomenal run" of them. There was a natural weir at Cape St. Mary because of the currents, and a Corporal W. C. Sitland, of Deep Brook, N. S., a Fighter Control Operator at RCAF Station Beaverbank, N. S., is currently attending a special SAGE (Semi-Automatic Ground Environment) system training course in the United States. Air Force Headquarters announced today.

The SAGE Operator Training Course, of eight weeks duration, is being given by the SAGE Training Department of the United States Air Force at Richards Gebaur Air Force Base, Missouri.

The SAGE system is a vast electronic air warning and interceptor control network. The heart of the system is a large scale computer which receives radar data and other pertinent information from many sources, processes it, and then displays the air situation to Air Force operating personnel who can call upon all defensive weapons, both manned and unmanned, in the system to meet the attack.

Cpl. Sitland, who will receive special training in Data processing, will complete the course in mid-April.

To Mark Planters Bicentenary

A special convocation at Acadia University June 2 will be the first of a number of events in the Annapolis Valley this summer commemorating the migration of New England Planters to Nova Scotia.

Dr. Watson Kirkconnell, the president of the university, made the announcement at a meeting of representatives of valley towns arranging for the summer-long celebration.

The meeting was called by Dr. R. S. Longley, mayor of Wolfville, who said the Apple Blossom Festival Committee has agreed that the New England Planters Bicentenary will be theme of the 1960 Festival. The Apple Blossom Festival is to be held this year June 2 to 6.

Dr. Longley was chosen chairman of a committee to prepare plans for the celebration.

Other members are Mrs. Gladys Porter, Mayor of Kentville, vice-chairman; Dr. T. B. McDormand, Wolfville, secretary; John A. Egan, Berwick; Foster Bateman, Windsor, and Bernard M. Mason, Kentville. Present at the meeting were Dr. Kirkconnell, Dr. Longley, Dr. McDormand, Mrs. Porter, Mr. Egan, Mr. Bateman, Mr. Mason; S. J. Gordon, of Wolfville; Durrell Sutton, Starr's Point; Jack Kerr, Windsor; Vernon L. Bent, Deputy Mayor of Digby; E. W. Twohig, Digby; Mayor D. M. Freeman and C. M. Douglas, Hantsport; Ron Raylor, Berwick; Dan Wallace and Stewart M. Anderson, Nova Scotia Travel Bureau, Halifax.

Mr. Wallace spoke briefly on the importance of developing the anniversary celebration because of the strong links between New England and Nova Scotia, and because of the important tourist-promotion possibilities that could come from strengthening these ties.

A number of events were suggested for the summer-long celebration, including family reunions of Planters families, picnics, competitions between New England and Nova Scotia descendants of the Planters, special Planters meals at restaurants in the Valley, special church services, pageants, concerts and a motor caravan from New England to Nova Scotia, and from Nova Scotia to New England.

A cairn is to be unveiled at Horton Landing commemorating the landing June 4, 1760, of New England planters and their families from several towns in Eastern Connecticut. The Planters took up the lands left vacant through the deportation of the French Acadians.

VOLKSWAGEN'S AIR-COOLED REAR ENGINE -MORE GO PER POUND

Every pound of the Volkswagen engine is built to work. Dead weight in an engine is the enemy of efficiency. That's why Volkswagen's engine is cast of aluminum and magnesium alloys (even lighter than aluminum). Volkswagen reduces dead weight in still other ways. The engine is air-cooled—no bulky radiator. (No water to freeze in winter, or boil over in summer.) An oil-cooler, usually found only on high-priced sports cars, is standard on the Volkswagen. And placing the engine in the back gets rid of the conventional heavy driveshaft while giving direct drive to the wheels.

In mud, sand and snow, where other cars skid, you go. You get up to 40 miles per gallon. Volkswagen's engine can take top-speed driving all day long without strain. Definitely . . . the toughest 198 lbs. going!

No wonder, then, the principle of the Volkswagen's engine has now been adopted by leading European and American manufacturers. Volkswagen's ingenious engineering gives you other benefits, too. Torsion bar suspension, independent on all four wheels, provides riding comfort even big cars can't match.

TRADITIONAL German craftsmanship goes into every detail of the Volkswagen. In fact, a gold watch is given for every Volkswagen driven 60,000 miles without a major repair . . . and more than 150,000 have been awarded! It's not surprising that Volkswagen is the largest selling small car in the world—BY FAR!
