DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 4, 1962

VOLUME LXXXVIII, No. 19

Wins $75.00 Prize

For a third time L. M. Saunders, Digby, has won a prize in the "Westclox Week" decorating contest. For the second consecutive year, Mr. Saunders has won the $75 prize for Western Canada and the Maritime jewelry stores, it has just been announced. One other time the prize was won for all Canada. In the corresponding group for Ontario and Quebec, first prize went to Henry Birks & Sons Ltd. Second prize in Western Canada and Maritime jewellers went to Russell's in Port Alberni, B. C., and 3rd prize to John Evans, Windsor, N. S. G. B. Murphy Ltd., Dartmouth, N. S., was one of the fourth prize winners.

Mayor And Councillors Inducted

The newly elected mayor of Digby, His Worship Mayor Vernon L. Bent, took the oath of office at a short induction ceremony conducted by Roscoe Handspiker, and E. J. Theriault, Q.C., and town solicitor. Following the induction of the mayor, the three new councillors, Russell Atkinson, Reigh Jayne and Charles Hersey, took oath of office. Previous to the induction the report of the returning officer was given declaring the three councillors elected by acclamation for a term of two years. His worship was also declared elected for two years having been successful in an election held Dec. 5 when his opponent was Thomas Cowan, merchant in Digby. Six hundred sixty ballots were cast, three were spoiled, 516 cast for Bent and 141 for Cowan.

The new councillors were welcomed by Mayor Bent and ex-mayor V. G. Cardoza also addressed the councillors on the seriousness of their office to serve the town to the best of their ability. He noted the heavy responsibility in serving as mayor and councillors and the many problems which would be encountered while always keeping before their minds that they are working for the welfare and benefit of the citizens of the town of Digby. He expressed hope and confidence that the council would get along well and serve the town well.

By regular motion the following list of committees was accepted for the year 1962. Deputy Mayor, Anthony; Finance, Baxter, Atkinson, Hersey; Streets and Public Works, Baxter, Hersey, Morrell; Fire and Sewer, Hersey, Baxter, Jayne; Police, Morrell, Atkinson, Hersey; Licence, Jayne, Morrell, Atkinson; Light, Morrell, Anthony, Baxter; Revisors of Jury List, Jayne, Morrell, Atkinson; School, Atkinson, Jayne, Baxter; Hospital, Bent; Arbitration, Atkinson, Morrell, Hersey; Assessment Appeal, Hersey, Anthony, Jayne; Poor Relief, Atkinson, Anthony, Hersey; Civil Defence, Jayne, Anthony, Baxter.

Appointments Made By Council

Deputy Mayor Helen Anthony was named at the meeting of the Digby Town Council on Tuesday evening to be the town's representative on the Digby - Annapolis Mental Health Service Board. Earl Morrell was named to represent the town on the Digby County Power Board. The mayor and Charles Hersey represent the town on the Digby Water Commission. Mr. Morrell succeeds Irving McKenna on the Power Board appointment. The Council requested that a vote of thanks be sent to Mr. McKenna for his services which were most satisfactory. The new appointment was made so that the two bodies would have closer relationship with a member of the town council as representative. Appointed to the Winter Works Program committee were Councillors Bruce Baxter, Earl Morrell and Russell Atkinson.

The report of the police committee showed 12 complaints lodged with the police, 8 requiring investigation and three requiring court action. All were under the Nova Scotia liquor act. There were 3 motor vehicle accidents.

The monthly report of the relief committee was presented by Mrs. Anthony who also gave a resume of the relief department for the year. Twenty one families with a total of 81 persons received relief in 1961.

Permission was granted the Digby Kiwanis Club to bring the Christiana Wallace Bros. Circus to Digby from June 18 to June 21. Mr. Jayne who requested permission said the circus was investigated and that when they were here 4 years ago were found to be of good order. A request by the Digby Branch Canadian Legion to bring the J. Denton Gold Medal Shows to Digby July 30, Aug. 4, was referred to the license committee for further investigation.

Mr. Bent reported that he had been approached for a better lighting over the Racquette Bridge. This was left with the Light committee for investigation.

Raps Digby Civil Defence

It was decided at the meeting of the Digby town council on Tuesday evening to invite D. W. Machum, Wolfville, Controller Zone No. 1, or some other qualified Civil Defence official, to come to Digby to give directions as to what is expected of Civil Defence in the town. The matter was left in the hands of the new Civil Defence Committee, Councillors Reigh Jayne, Helen Anthony and Bruce Baxter.

The decision arose out of a letter from Gordon Grant, provincial co-ordinator, to D. W. Machum and read at the council meeting. The letter referred to Digby as having a minimum civil defence organization but from tangible evidence received at the office of the provincial co-ordinator it appeared as if the organization was of little practical use in dealing with any emergency whether national or natural. It was stated that with the facilities available, the various civil defence services should meet a minimum of once a month and that one of the services each should be meeting each week. In this way, it was stated, the volunteer workers would be given something to maintain their individual interest, receive training of increasing value to themselves and the community and civil defence would be before the public all the time.

According to the letter from Mr. Grant he felt the town seemed to be labouring under a sense of false security in so far as planning for an emergency and continuity of government is concerned. Mr. Machum was asked to draw the matter to the attention of the Mayor and councillors of Digby town.

A good deal of discussion followed the reading of the letter. His Worship Mayor Vernon L. Bent, newly inducted in office, defended the town organization and said that in his estimation the town was as well organized as the average community in the province and in some ways it was better organized. Mayor Bent praised the job being done in the community by Thomas Cleveland, C.D. Director for the town and he highly resented the fact that the town was being dictated to. He expressed the thought that communications between the local and provincial might be at fault and not the C.D. organization itself. It was also noted that from 70 to 75 people are involved in the Digby organization and that 19 women had taken the Home Nursing course. Complaint was also made by the council that zone and provincial authorities had not visited the town to talk over C.D. with the town C.D. committee.

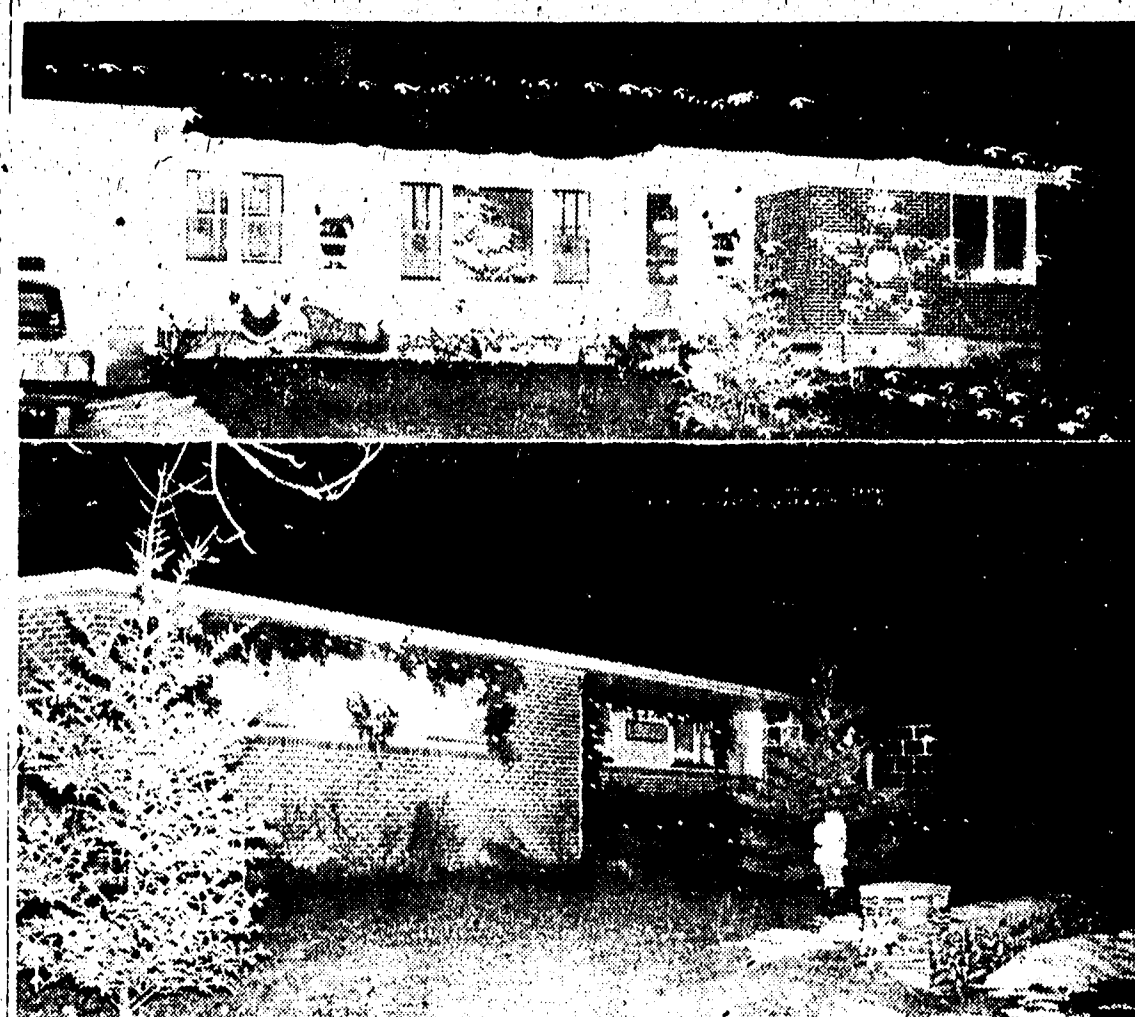

Ex-mayor V. G. Cardoza was given permission to address the council, at which time he spoke of attending an indoctrination course at Annapolis last year. The course, he said, was for Mayors and Wardens of the Atlantic provinces and at that time, he said, they were given the impression that the C.D. in any municipality was strictly a municipal responsibility. He expressed a keen dislike for the dictatorship manner to the town. He said his understanding was that there was no desire to set up separate organizations but that C.D. organization was to be integrated in other services of the town. He said at the meeting in Annapolis that the C.D. organizations were not expected to be tools of the provincial and federal organizations.

Mrs. Edward Richter, Long Island, N. Y., who flew home to spend Christmas with her mother, Mrs. Bessie Wade, and relatives left for home by plane from Yarmouth, last Saturday. She was accompanied to Yarmouth by her sister, Mrs. Victor Dennison and son.

Mrs. Daisy Theriault spent Christmas at Port Maitland.

with the Light committee for investigation. Much discussion took place regarding the high cost of snow removal. Different suggestions were made as to the time of removal. One was to remove snow during the night when traffic was at a minimum and cars were not parked on the streets.

Weagle Wins Contest

On Wednesday, December 27th, the Lions sponsored outside decoration contest was won by Harley Weagle of Shore Road. Earl VanTassell of King Street took the second prize while Arthur Robinson of Second Avenue, captured the third prize.

Mr. Weagle's home was gaily lit, with the picture window a standout in an array of framed lights. The spacious yard and the birch tree were well lit and gave off a very beautiful blue effect.

Mr. VanTassell's home was done in an assortment of Christmas colors and symbols. A large red star, a lighted tree, and a display of Santa Claus made the house a real standout.

Mr. Robinson's home was done with a group of Christmas trees in front of the house, while the house itself was done in a series of wreaths and Santas. Another nice feature was the music that played out over the whole scene.

Judges for the contest were Mayor and Mrs. V. Cardoza, Mayor-elect and Mrs. V. Bent, and Mr. Kenneth Woodman.

According to the judges, there was no doubt in their minds who the three winners were, but, deciding the positions that each of the winners should hold posed the real problem. After considerable discussion the prizes were finally awarded to the homes in the order mentioned above.

The prizes given were Rose bowls, with 1st, 2nd and 3rd prize inscribed on them, and a contest, year and sponsor also in the inscription.

Other homes that were mentioned in the contest were Curtis Cook, Carl Watkins, Emerson Graham, H. M. Warne, Dave Daley, Reg Holdsworth, Carl Saulnier, Mrs. E. Chipman, Phil Robinson and Gefald Dunn. The forementioned homes were on the "Honorable Mention" list, however they are not in any order to indicate where they placed.

Kiwanis Hold Party

On Thursday, December 28, the Digby Kiwanis held their annual New Year's Party, at the Hotel Champlain, with approximately fifty persons in attendance.

A supper of lobster and turkey was served.

Order of the evening was the introduction of two new members, Jack Croft and Rev. H. S. Hartlin, pastor of the Digby Baptist Church. Films were shown of "Snow Fiesta" and "Puppeteer", after which Jack Brittain acted as song-leader and led the group in a sing-along.

President Reigh Jayne presided.

Mrs. Mae D'Entremont, of Montreal, spent Christmas with her mother, Mrs. Belle Melanson, Glibert's Cove. It was 19 years since Mrs. D'Entremont spent Christmas with her mother.

Old Year Party

An old year's party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cudmore, Queen St., on December 28th, when a number of friends gathered for a social evening of games which was highlighted by a mock trial based on the famous Totten Trial of early Digby history. Judge Clinton McInnes presided over court ably assisted by legal authorities Dr. Doug Black and Mrs. Hughes, who with wit and valor interrogated several equally brilliant witnesses leaving a laugh riddled jury to pronounce a verdict.

Evidence was tape recorded by Norman Wright (spelled "Rite") who played it back to the amusement of the guests. At this time a buffet supper was served after which Rev. Mr. Hughes spoke a few well chosen words of greetings and welcome to the new-ly-weds, Mr. and Mrs. John Russell. They in turn responded appropriately, bringing a very merry evening to a close.

Unusual Accident

On Saturday, December 30, Joe Amirault, driver of a White Rose Oil truck was involved in an unusual accident at Banks' Nu-Way Market in Conway. The truck lost a quantity of oil, some of it spilling into the store. The accident caused an estimated $800 to $1,000 damage to the store. It is understood, breaking three large plate glass windows.

The accident happened about 7 p.m. when roads were quite slippery with the new fallen snow. While turning in the yard, Amirault apparently misjudged his distance and backed into the Nu-Way building. There was no damage to the truck and Amirault was not injured.

Has 103rd Birthday

Christmas Eve took on special meaning at Bellevue's Cove for Joseph J. Theriault. It was his 103rd birthday.

Mr. Theriault has lived all his life in the immediate area of this Digby County fishing community where for many years he was engaged in the boat building industry. His boats once were found in many Digby and Yarmouth County communities.

He has two sons, Edward and Freddie, both boat builders; two daughters, Elsie and Mrs. Louis Bellevue. His wife Mary and two daughters, Emma and Rose, are deceased.

Entertain At Smith's Cove

Mrs. C. R. Curry and Mrs. Penny Goff entertained friends at a buffet supper at the Hedley House on Saturday evening.

Part of the evening was spent at a sing-song and listening to favorite broadcasts and records.

Week Of Prayer Services

The Universal Week of Prayer services for the town of Digby will commence on Tuesday evening, January 9, in the Baptist Church in Digby. On Wednesday evening the service will be held in Grace United Church, and on Thursday at the Salvation Army Hall. Speakers at these three services, which will begin at 7:30 p.m., will be Rev. John Denchfield, Rev. Wilford Clayton, and Rev. L. R. Atkinson, respectively.

The topic for this year's series of meetings is Personal Christianity. The Week of Prayer is sponsored by the Canadian Council of Churches, of which all of the major as well as some of the smaller denominational bodies are members. While a sermon is usually given at these gatherings of the week of prayer, the greater emphasis is on prayer itself, and Christians throughout Canada are being urged in these times to give much attention to the practice of prayer.

The churches of Digby are urging all the citizens of the community to attend these services next week.

Midnight Service At Digby Baptist

Special New Year's services were held in the Baptist Church of Digby, last Sunday. At the morning service the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, preached on the subject "Living Creatively During the New Year". He stressed the fact that in order to live creatively it is necessary for Christians to re-examine the values for which they live. What do we value most? It is a disturbing question, but the future depends very largely upon the answer we give to it. All true values find their full expression as well as their meaning in Christ.

The pastor also stated that during the New Year we must be trustful, for no worthwhile thing is ever accomplished without the quality of trust and dynamic Christian living depends upon trust in God. A third important fact mentioned as necessary to creative living is that we must live prayerfully. If we are to learn to live, calmly, unhurriedly, quietly and effectively, and with a sense of God's presence in life, we must spend time in the silent, secret places of God.

The seven o'clock evening service was cancelled and instead a Watch Night Service was held commencing at 11:30 p.m., sponsored and conducted by the Baptist Youth Fellowship. About fifty people gathered for this interesting and helpful service led by Miss Bernice VanTassell. Linda Stark sang a solo with Daneen Atkinson at the piano. The pastor led the congregation in the prayer of dedication at midnight.

Following the service refreshments were served by the young people to all who were present.

Christmas Services At Smith's Cove

The Christmas Eve Service of the Smith's Cove Baptist Church was in charge of the Senior Y.P.s. group under the direction of the president Mrs. Russell Taylor, with Linda Brinton as organist.

Beautiful white chrysanthemums were sent to beautify the altar by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sulis in memory of Mr. Sulis' father, the late Deacon A. D. Sulis.

The service opened with congregational singing of carols, followed by scripture and prayer by the president, after which a very fine performance in music and pantomime was given to an appreciative audience. "Silent Night" was sung by Carol Robbins and Stuart MacLean sang "O Holy Night" during the service and the Young People's Choir assisted by the Senior Counsellors, Mrs. Chester Brinton and Mrs. Dean Tidd, sang the descriptive songs as Gilda Kempton narrated the story of Christ's birth — and the parts were portrayed in a very reverent manner by the following:

Mary, Anna Adams; Joseph, Stuart MacLean; Angel, Christine Berry; Shepherds, Wayne Lockhart and Gordon Francis. Ushers were Russell Taylor and Frank Crosby.

The coloured lighting that added much to the scene was in charge of Mr. Arthur Berry, assisted by Mr. Dean Tidd. The special offering was a generous one and was a tribute to the efforts of the Young People in this and past performances. Their project for 1962 is new doors for the front entrance to the Church.

The service closed with the benediction by the pastor, Rev. Dale R. MacTavish.

On Thursday evening, December 21, the Smith's Cove Baptist Y.P.s. group accompanied by their pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Dale MacTavish, and their friend, Mr. Belyea, went carolling through the village, receiving a warm welcome at the homes they visited. Returning to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Tidd for their last songs, they were invited in for a lunch and a cup of hot chocolate and enjoyed a social hour.

About This and That

Decorations & Wrappings Away

New Year's Day on Monday saw Christmas trees dismantled in many homes, decorations come down, gifts and cards put away and wrapping burned or folded away for use in 1962. It was a good Christmas season. A fine Christmas spirit seemed to prevail and the Lions Club is to be commended for its lead in creating an atmosphere in sponsoring the outdoor decorating contest in town. Quite noticeably the town took on a more festive look than it has had for some years and it was, doubtless, in response to the Lions Club's efforts.

We regret that the staff photographer was unable to get a picture which would do any degree of justice to the 1st prize winning house, that of Harley Weagle's, Shore Road. On another page of this issue (if the cuts arrive on time) are pictures of the 2nd and 3rd prize winners. While no black and white print can even suggest the beauty and brilliance of the colored lights, the pictures give some indication of the effort which went into the project. Besides the three prize winning homes there were other decorated houses also in such a manner as to attract observers from many miles. The churches, too, attempted to bring consciousness of the Christmas story to passers by outdoor decorations using the religious theme. A few homes also followed the real meaning of Christmas in their decorations but not nearly so many seemed to do so in Digby as did homes in some other areas.

The navy had special prizes for Christmas decorations and we note that HMCS Cornwallis had the usually well planned decorating scheme including the manger scene. In Halifax the display of lighted crosses, stars and other lighting on the naval ships reflected a brilliant sight in the harbour. The lights seen along the harbour in Halifax and the attractive card from Mr. and Mrs. Mike Moses with a small harbour craft decorated for Christmas made us wonder if something might not be done another Christmas season to light up the wharf and boats in Digby. Or, the boulevard from the band stand to the Salvation Army might be lighted to advantage and to be seen from across the Basin.

As usual we awaited the cards with the personal touch. The Warne's of Digby was a most attractive sketch of the Digby Scallop Fleet. The Vincent's of St. Mary's St. put out individually hand painted cards and the Ralph Wright's sent out season's greetings by a card containing a sketch of one of their dogs amid a branch of spruce and holly. Then the Barber-Ellis snowman card gave us a start on next year's parcel wrapping ribbons. Each of the buttons on the snowman card were bunches of ribbon ready to spread into attractive bows for next year's parcels.

And thinking of parcels. It seems to be the custom now to use the previous years cards for making seals and tags. We've known of church groups and organizations selling these home made seals and tags. We recall some twelve years ago visiting an aunt in New York and admiring her parcels done so attractively for Christmas. We remarked at that time that if we could just get seals as pretty as those in Nova Scotia we could do up pretty parcels too. "You can get them," said the aunt. "Just cut up your Christmas cards. We've been doing it ever since; that is, when there isn't a son-in-law round who thinks that all homes are safer with fewer "in-mables" cluttering up the place.

Facts About Radioactive Fallout

(PART II)

The radioactivity in fallout weakens rapidly in the first hours after an explosion. This weakening is called "decay". After seven hours, fallout has lost about 90% of the strength it had one hour after the explosion. After two days it has lost 99%; in two weeks 99.9% of its strength is gone. Nevertheless, if the radiation at the beginning were high enough, the remaining 0.1% could be dangerous. To remove any doubt, the radiation must be measured by special instruments handled by people trained to use them. Therefore, if you stay in a shelter during the first days after an explosion, you escape the strongest radiation. You should stay in the shelter until you have been told over the radio that it is safe to come out. The whole question of taking shelter from fallout is dealt with more fully in subsequent articles.

While the strength of radiation reaching your body is reduced the further you are from the fallout, nevertheless, if in an area subject to it, you should shield yourself from it by means of some heavy material. Adequate protection can be gained from the following materials:

- 16 inches of solid brick;
- 16 inches of hollow concrete blocks filled with mortar or sand;
- 2 feet of packed earth — 3 feet if loose;
- 5 inches of steel;
- 3 inches of lead;
- 3 feet water.

A fallout shelter is the best way to protect your family and yourself against radiation because:

- It keeps the fallout at a distance;
- It shields you from radiation;
- The time spent there is the period when radiation is most intense.

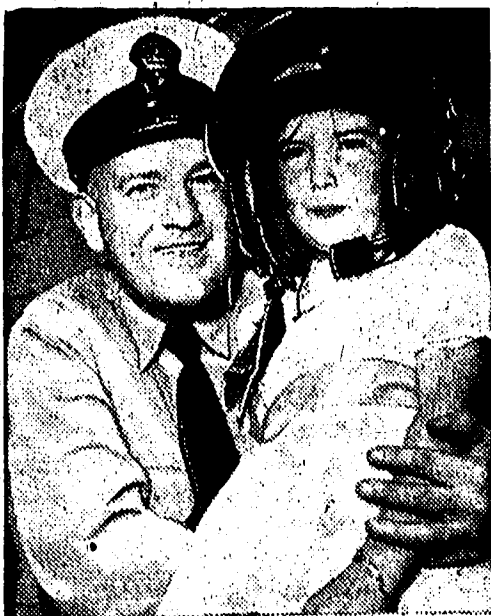

By providing your family and yourself with a shelter, you are unlikely to suffer serious effects from radioactive fallout.

Personal dangers from fallout are as follows:

Radioactive particles in contact with your skin for a few hours may produce a burn and, if swallowed in food or water, may produce illness after several days. Wash your hands and utensils thoroughly before and after preparing or eating food.

Radioactivity from fallout area may produce illness

Except for temporary nausea shortly after exposure, other signs that will develop later are loss of hair, loss of appetite, increasing paleness, weakness, diarrhoea, sore throat, bleeding gums and easy bruising. These latter symptoms indicate that medical attention is required.

From this you will see how necessary it is to protect yourself from fallout.

Re-elected Head Fire Department

(A. P. Melanson)

Mr. Camille Gaudet, prominent contractor of Little Brook, has been re-elected president of the Little Brook Voluntary Fire Department, and Robert Doucet will continue as Fire Chief. He will be assisted by Denis Saulnier, Norbert and Emile Thimot, and Bobby Gennette.

Mr. Robert Doucet of Little Brook was appointed vice-president; and the following have been appointed on the executive committee: Gustave Dugas, Grosses Coques; Elizee Gaudet, Maurice LeBlanc of Concession; Jean R. Doucet and Arcade Belliveau, Church Point; Jean LeBlanc and Benoit LeBlanc of Little Brook; Andre Comeau of Comeauville; Emile Saulnier, Little Brook Station. Each district covered by the department has a representative on the executive committee. The fire chief reported that the department made thirty five calls of various nature during the last eighteen months.

The fire chief stated that funds must be raised to improve the voluntary fire department. Hoses will have to be replaced each year as they deteriorate even though they are probably not always used extensively. Three hundred and fifty ft. of 2 and one half inch hose was purchased last year and a considerable amount of fighting equipment for the voluntary firemen.

A house to house canvas has been advocated by the group and by this means an amount of $800 to $1,000 may possibly be raised. In the last such canvas the sum of $714 was raised without difficulty. A few dollars donated by each family in the St. Mary's and Concession parish would bring the total to over $1,000, which is a small price to pay for fire protection.

The fund raising committee made it known that various means will be used to raise the necessary funds to keep the fire department in tip top shape.

The Little Brook Voluntary Fire Department is one of three such departments in the Municipality of Clare. The other two are at Meteghan, and Belliveau Cove. Meteghan has possibly the largest department in Clare with a most modern fire truck.

Not possessing fire hydrants some districts in Clare have had fire holes constructed by interested groups in the area. In Church Point there are two such water holes, one near the store of John W. LeBlanc and the second behind Floyd Frankland's barn on what is commonly called "Le Forge". In Concession there is a water hole constructed near the residence of Maurice LeBlanc and several small brooks form a water reserve for the department. Little Brook has the well known little brook near the residence of Vincent Gennette and another fire hole is back of Joseph Doucet's store.

Grosses Coques had the well known "Iac a Ben" near Belliveau Brothers service station which can serve an area within a radius of half a mile. Fire holes are required in the southern part of Little Brook, Comeauville and certain parts of Church Point, Concession and Little Brook Station. The latter has one fire hole, constructed by the Little Brook fire department several years ago and a brook also furnished a water supply for some areas of the village.

Such areas as Corberrie, Hectanooga, Lake Doucet, Salmon River and Mayflower, have no fire department and are dependent on the three departments already organized for protection. The Municipality of Clare gives grants of from $50 to $150 to fire departments according to its size for the purpose of purchasing new hose each year. The amount of the grants does not enable the fire departments to purchase their full quota of yearly fire hose replacement but it does help.

Sunday School Program

Under the direction of Mrs. Grant Sabine, Mrs. Glen Barr and Helen Steele, the Sunday School pupils and older young people of the Southville Church presented a Christmas program on Thursday evening. Dialogues, carols, recitations and a candle lighting service were enjoyed. After the program candy bags and apples were given to the children, with gifts from their teachers.

This was the first opportunity to use the new Sunday School rooms which have recently been built on the church and those who prepared this program found it a great help to have the additional space.

March Of Dimes Chairman

Mrs. T. P. Lusby, Provincial president of the Nova Scotia Polio Foundation announced today that Mr. Roy M. Power of Halifax had accepted the appointment of Provincial Chairman for the 1962 March of Dimes. Mr. Power is a vice president of the Polio Foundation and has been active in many public charities and community activities.

January is March of Dimes month in 1962, said Mr. Power, when thousands of us will be asking for your contributions to help in the fight against polio and to aid the work of rehabilitation in Nova Scotia.

The incidence of polio has been low during the past year. This is due in no small measure to the efforts of the Department of Public Health and the Polio Foundation, in making available at no cost, salk vaccine as soon as it was in plentiful supply. This program while costing the polio foundation over $70,000 has saved many from the paralyzing effects of polio and has saved the public hundreds of thousands of dollars that would have been spent in hospitalization and rehabilitation. However far too few adults have protected themselves and with the imminence of an acceptable oral vaccine plans must be made and funds must be available to ensure no time is lost in getting this newest polio preventive to all the people of our province.

While prevention is the most important objective of the Nova Scotia Polio Foundation Rehabilitation, the rehabilitation of those afflicted by polio is the most rewarding to those who contribute. Over 1000 persons in the province afflicted and disabled by polio look to the March of Dimes for assistance in their rehabilitation. They look for such things as medical consultants, transportation to clinics, wheelchairs, crutches, braces, special orthopedic boots, education, baby sitters, housekeepers, economic aid, and many other services large

We Pass

RONALD C. MACCORM,
Halifax, Nova Scotia.

"Time does not pass, pass". This title of an poem, printed in the New York Times, caught my recently. Clocks record, the passing of time, but life, for time is the story which life is made. Not how we look at it, a year has fled, and each seems to go faster than one before.

In his life span, many dreams and plans which carried through would bring rich achievement. However, the best of intentions are as chaff, unless acted upon.

Human weakness shows at this point. How easy it is to excuse ourselves for lack of results. The problem failure, however, is not due simply by admitting it, else another year, be no better.

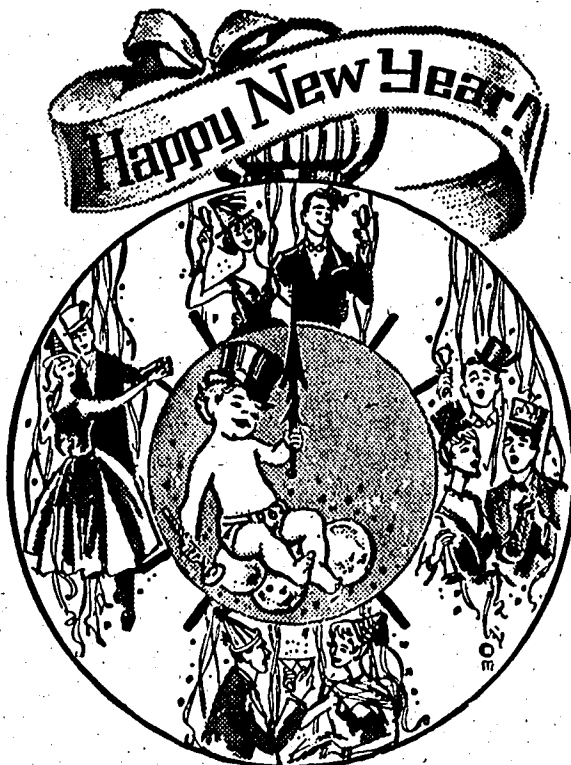

Time and life are running out, and so many are getting into high gear. They are still grinding along, spending a lot of physical energy making little headway, wondering what is wrong.

Whatever a person is to accomplish at his daily occupation must be accomplished now. Whatever you are going to do for our loved ones and friends, must be right away. Whatever we are going to do for the church cannot wait. Whatever we are going to do for God must be done at once.

Procrastination is the enemy. Above all, those who have never admitted their sin and their need of the Saviour, must come to Him today. Acting promptly is a sign of strong personality. The unstable person can't get going, but here is a cure. Live under the discipline of the Holy Spirit of God and receive eternal life and daily fulfillment from Jesus.

To live daily to please Him is to live for a purpose.

and small you make available by contributing to the March of Dimes.

AS THE PICTURE CHANGES TO A BRIGHT NEW YEAR, WE WISH YOU THE VERY BEST OF EVERYTHING. WARMLY WE THANK YOU FOR YOUR LOYALTY AND GOODWILL IN THE PAST. EAGERLY WE LOOK FORWARD TO SERVING YOU IN THE FUTURE.

Jehovah's Witnesses assembled at Greenwich, conclude their three-day assembly on Sunday. It ended on a highly successful note as an enthusiastic audience of 510 persons heard Mr. Laurier-Saurmur speak on the subject: "Uniting Men In A Split-Up World." The conventioners left Sunday night by car, bus and train, while fifty volunteers began to quickly dismantle the equipment.

Friday evening saw 374 delegates assembled in the auditorium at Horton District High School, Greenwich, for the opening meeting of the three day Circuit Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses.

The address of welcome was delivered by Mr. L. Saurmur, District Supervisor. Mr. Saurmur then introduced The Ministry School, a vital cog in the educational program of Jehovah's Witnesses. Mr. Saurmur said that all congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses hold this school weekly. In over 21,000 congregations. This was followed by local ministers, G. Church of the Burlington congregation, T. Holmes of Digby congregation, E. Langfield of Wolfville congregation, and B. Kelly of Annapolis Royal congregation.

On Saturday afternoon Mr. Bevan, the Circuit Supervisor, spoke on the subject "Dedication and Baptism". Sixteen candidates were baptised symbolizing their dedication to their Creator. Mr. D. Bevan stressed the baptised one's new position and responsibility, saying "You are dedicated to more than a job, you are dedicated to a person, to Jehovah and you must keep that relationship sacred."

On Saturday evening the two hour program "Examining our Ministry", featured activities of the energetic preaching organization, and gave thorough consideration of ways and means of proclaiming the wonderful message of peace, that the Bible has set forth to the people of every district in the area.

On the widely advertised public discourse delivered on Sunday afternoon "Uniting Men In A Split-Up World", Mr. Saurmur said: "For the people to be united they must first have love for God and love for neighbor. Jesus emphasized this when he said at Matt. 22: 37-39 'You must love Jehovah your God with your whole Soul, Heart and with your whole Mind'. If we love our neighbors we are going to show great concern for them. To love our neighbors as ourselves we need to understand them, to put ourselves in their place. A meaningful term for this is empathy and applying it in our lives would mean letting fellow-feeling win over efficiency as so well expressed at 1 Peter 3:8,9. 'All of you be like-minded, showing fellow-feeling, exercising brotherly love, tenderly affectionate, humble in mind, not paying back injury or reviling for reviling, but to the contrary bestowing a blessing.' This is a sure basis for unity." Mr. Saurmur went on to say, "Another means to unite people together is the respect for divine laws. Because law is a rule of action to keep order and unite people it must be respected. Realizing that God is superior we owe even more respect to his divine laws that were meant for our protection and unity."

Hints For The Cook

Bacon Drippings can be used for pan frying and for seasoning vegetables. Store drippings in a covered jar in the refrigerator and use within 2 weeks.

Horseradish, a favorite herb with roast beef. Is also delicious with cold meats and fish, in potato salads and in sauces for fatty meats. For a special flavor treat, fold prepared horseradish into a thick milk or cream sauce and serve with ham or hotted beef.

To Divide and Cut a Meringue Pie Neatly, butter both sides of a sharp knife. The meringue will remain undisturbed while you cut the pie.

For a Tasty Custard Variation, place a spoonful of home-made preserves in the bottom of each baking cup before filling it with the egg mixture. Then place the custard cups in a pan of hot water and bake in a preheated slow oven, 325 degrees F.

Reserve Vegetable Water (except that in which strong-flavored vegetables have been cooked) as it contains valuable minerals and vitamins. Use the vegetable water in soups, sauces and gravies.

Give Mashed Potatoes a delightful flavor by using meat stock or dairy sour cream as the liquid. For a new flavor in French fries, roll the potato sticks in bread crumbs before frying them in deep fat.

Lemons tend to shrivel after being kept for a long time. To restore their freshness and increase the amount of juice that can be extracted, immerse the lemons in hot water for 30 minutes or longer.

If Eggs Are Stored in the large ends up in a covered container in the refrigerator, they'll be less likely to absorb odors and to lose moisture. Left over egg yolks will keep better, and won't become dry if they are covered with cold water before being refrigerated.

To Beat Egg Whites to their maximum value, be sure to have the bowl, beaters and egg whites at room temperature. In addition, make certain the bowl and beaters are free of grease. (Don't use a plastic bowl as it tends to retain grease.) Avoid overbeating egg whites. If you wish, add a stabilizer — ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar to 6 egg whites.

To Store Fresh Meat (both ground and whole cuts), remove the commercial wrappings and cover it loosely with waxed paper, leaving the ends open. Place meat in the coldest part of the refrigerator. It's wise to use whole cuts of meat within 2 to 3 days of the time of purchase. Ground meat will darken on standing and spoils more quickly than whole cuts. It should be used within 24 hours of the time of purchase.

Present Festival Of Carols

On Christmas Eve at the Church of Christ (Disciples) Weymouth, "The Festival of Carols" was presented by the choir and directed by Mrs. Lorne Nethercott. A filmstrip was shown depicting the Birth of Christ and also unfolding the history of many of the ancient carols and their writers. Music was supplied by the choir which included solos, duets, trios, etc. with Mrs. Frank Lewis as organist. Rev. Lorne Nethercott gave the introduction and was also the Historian. Others taking part were: Wilfred Cosman as Interpreter; Mrs. Lorne Nethercott, Scripture Reader; and Jared Frankland, Projectionist.

Prior to Christmas the Sunday School entertainment was held. The Superintendent, Mr. Clyde Cosman, presided assisted by the teachers. A fine program was presented by the younger ones after which Santa arrived and distributed gifts and approximately 125 bags of candy and fruit to boys and girls.

The Christian Youth Fellowship held a social evening. Following their devotional they gathered 'round their tree, exchanged gifts and enjoyed a hearty carol sing, participated in games and closed with a delightful lunch. The Stitches and Chatter group held their Christmas party at Mrs. Russell Cosman's whose home was gallily decorated for the occasion. Fifteen women were in attendance and conducted a worship service followed by an exchange of gifts, games and refreshments.

Maritime "Millinery"

Here's a recipe that's bound to add a feather to your culinary cap. You might even loosely term it "maritime millinery" for although it's edible, this quick-to-bake dish is called Fish Turbans with Mushroom Stuffing. Flaky fillets are shaped around the inside of muffin cups, then filled with a savory mushroom and bread stuffing. When cooked and unmolded, they resemble the headgear of the sultans of old Bagdad.

Fish Turbans With Mushroom Stuffing

6 fish fillets (cod, haddock, sole or ocean perch, etc.) app. 2 pounds
1 tablespoon lemon juice
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons chopped onion
½ cup chopped cooked fresh or canned mushrooms
2 cups soft bread crumbs
½ cup cream or evaporated milk
2 eggs, beaten
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
If fish is frozen, let thaw on refrigerator shelf. Grease a six-well muffin pan. Pre-heat oven to 400 deg. F. hot. Sprinkle fish with lemon juice and salt; coil each fillet around inside of a muffin well. Melt butter and saute onion until soft. Mix in mushrooms, bread crumbs, cream, eggs and parsley. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Cook, stirring, over low heat, until mixture is thickened. Spoon into centre of fish. Bake in pre-heated hot oven 10 to 15 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serve immediately on a hot platter. Makes 6.

Vitamins In Properly Cooked Potatoes

It's surprising the lack of information people have about so well known a vegetable as the potato. Some, for example, believe that potatoes are fattening. They needn't be. One medium potato supplies about 100 calories or about the same as a tablespoon of mayonnaise, or about a third as much as a piece of pie. Others are completely unaware of the nutritional value of potatoes. And still others, a good many in fact, don't even know how to cook them properly.

There is a widespread tendency to cook them far too long a time in too much water and then throw the water away, thus losing much of the minerals and vitamins originally there. When that is done you get starch calories rather than the useful amounts of B and C vitamins that are present. One should remember, too, say nutritionists in the New Brunswick Department of Agriculture who are constantly looking for new and attractive ways of serving potatoes, cooking procedures that conserve food values also make a product taste better.

IN any modern dairy no hand can touch the milk and every possible source of contamination is guarded against. But, the trip from the dairy to the store and the home is another story. The bottles must be handled, not once but several times, and the natural way to pick up a bottle of milk is by the top.

That's why you find tamper-proof sterilized Sealright hoods on our milk bottles. Sealed on the bottle top at 500° F. this hood of specially prepared, specially treated, paper, covers the entire pouring lip — prevents human contact until you break the seal.

Addresses Meet

On Monday evening, New Year's Eve, a goodly number attended the mixed meeting for men and women of the Christian Men's Fellowship held at the Reformed Baptist Church at Havelock. President Arnold Marshall gave the call to worship with Albert Jones giving the invocation prayer.

A business session followed with Melbourn Barr reading the minutes and correspondence received from folks who were remembered by the Men's group during their illness. Mr. Barr also gave a brief report of the Fellowship and its activities since its organization on Jan. 4, '51, during the ministry of Rev. John Carr.

Devotional service was conducted by Thurston Mullen, Scripture reading, John, chapter 17:6-19, by Wilfred Cosman, with prayers offered by Gordon Prime and Jared Frankland. A duet, "With My Saviour Through The Shadows", was rendered by Thurston Mullen and Mrs. Harvey Mullen, accompanied by Mrs. Walton Mullen.

Sydney Cromwell directed a joyful hymn-sing with Mrs. Harvey Mullen as pianist. The closing hymn, "What A Friend We Have In Jesus", was dedicated to all sick and shut-ins of the area. The choir favored the group with a special selection and a duet, "Glory Be To God", was beautifully rendered by the Marr sisters, of New Tusket.

Ushers were Gordon and Edgar Sabine. Rev. Lorne Nethercott introduced the guest speaker, Rev. C. R. Barkhouse, pastor of the United Baptist Churches of New Tusket, Weymouth and Ashmore. Rev. Barkhouse, whose text was taken from the Gospel of John 17:6, spoke on "Jesus And Men", delivered a challenging message.

Rev. M. V. Durling thanked the speaker and pronounced the benediction. Next meeting is scheduled to be held in February at the South Range Church of Christ (Disciples) speaker to be announced at a later date.

Christmas At Freeport Church

On Sunday morning, December 11th, a large number attended the pre-Christmas service conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. Ideson, with Mrs. Egbert Crocker as organist. Miss Sharon Prime was soloist, singing "Put Christ Back Into Christmas". The choir was heard in an anthem, "Bethlehem". Mr. Ideson preached a very forceful sermon, "The Fulness of Time", taken from Gal. 4:4.

Sunday evening Mr. Ideson's sermon was "The Waything Of His Will", taken from Eph. 1:8. Sharon Prime sang "I Heard The Bells On Christmas Day". Mr. Ideson sang "A New Song" and the choir was heard in several Christmas numbers.

Sunday morning, December 21st, the Christmas service was held. The church was beautifully decorated and the flowers were placed in the church in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Cooke and Capt. and Mrs. George Haines by Capt. and Mrs. Judson Haines, and Mr. Waestill Perry by his daughter, Anna.

Mrs. Norman Perry was soloist, singing "That Christmas Song". Miss Jean Haines was organist for the service. Mr. Ideson's sermon was "The sceptre shall not depart until

Panel Discussion Interesting And Informative

More than 75 ratepayers and interested people attended a panel discussion sponsored by the Digby County Ratepayers Association at the Court House on Tuesday evening. The panel was on the subject of municipal assessment and provoked many questions from an interested audience.

Chairman for the panel was V. G. Cardoza M.L.A. for Digby Municipality and chairman of the meeting was Lloyd Jefferson, Rossway, president of the Ratepayers Association. Panelists were Hugh MacGlashen, James Hubley and Roy Laurence, Q.C., Annapolis Royal.

Mr. Cardoza, in introducing the subject, stressed the importance of assessment and its bearing on so many other features of industrial, professional and personal life. He said it was a subject much misunderstood by the people and the purpose of the panel was to endeavour to inform the audience on rules and regulations of government and operation in assessment and to present the legal machinery dealing with assessment in Nova Scotia.

The first speaker was Hugh MacGlashen, Halifax, provincial director of assessment. Mr. MacGlashen was educated in Dalhousie before entering the assessment business in Halifax County and on the provincial area had worked with the Chronicle Herald and Mail Star, was editor of a weekly newspaper in the province and served overseas. Mr. MacGlashen commended the Association for sponsoring the panel. He said the more the ratepayers understand about assessment the better relationship existed between the town and municipal councilors and the ratepayer. Property tax, Mr. MacGlashen said, was the most difficult to impose as it is not a hidden tax, not an obscure, tax like the income tax and like all taxes it strikes at a vital point — the pocket book. About seventy-five per cent of the total revenue of all cities, towns and municipalities in Nova Scotia is raised by property tax. Equity, fairness and uniformity, the speaker said, are all important words in regard to assessment.

From 1954 to 1960, Mr. MacGlashen said, taxes in the towns and municipalities of Nova Scotia had risen by 65 per cent. A competent, full time official is required for the job of assessment and it cannot be satisfactorily done as a part time job. An assessor must consider deterioration of value, he must watch court decisions, visit and view properties every year.

Mr. MacGlashen outlined some of the steps taken by the province in the Department of Municipal Affairs. The assessment school held proved valuable, he said, and taught appraisal techniques; better assessment was promoted by appointing a director of assessment; the three year course for assessors by correspondence at Dalhousie and the week long school at Dal were a boon.

Club Program Features Tour

With gardens and projects dormant for the winter season, members of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society lifted their sights to include a glimpse of Europe on the program of their January meeting, held last week at the home of Miss Dora Warne. This was provided by two of the club members, Mrs. H. J. Anthony and Mrs. Louise Stephen, who returned in November from a tour of the British Isles and the Continent. Miss Jean Robinson, who accompanied them on the tour, was also a guest at the meeting and showed beautiful colour slides of the trip.

Mrs. Anthony outlined in an interesting manner the highlights of their trip, during which she had visited ten countries in nine weeks. After landing in England, they had crossed to Dieppe and taken a 14-day bus tour through France, Switzerland and Italy during which they were particularly impressed by the magnificent scenery of the Alps and Mediterranean, as well as by the cathedrals, museums and other attractions of the French and Italian cities visited. Returning again to London, they had taken a two weeks trip through England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland. Following this, Mrs. Anthony and Mrs. Stephen had crossed again to the Continent, travelling through Holland and Germany to Denmark, where they found Copenhagen to be the most beautiful of all the places visited. Back in London again, they had spent ten days there with time to include many museums, concerts and operas before returning home.

Mrs. Stephen supplemented Mrs. Anthony's talk with an interesting description of her side-trip to Greece, having sailed down the Adriatic from Trieste along the Yugoslav coast — a trip which provided very colorful mountain scenery as the freighter put in at the coastal ports. Arriving in Athens, she spent two days among the antiquities of that ancient city, but had to cut her visit short in order to rejoin the rest of the party in London.

The meeting was well attended, and opened with a brief business session presided over by the President, Mrs. Eva Wendell. Mrs. D. J. Comeau, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, reported the sum of $15 raised from the making of Christmas decorations. The only addition to routine business was a short discussion of various methods of bird feeding, so necessary at this season. Mrs. Wendell, Miss Louise Daley and Mrs. Stephen offered suggestions for hanging "suet puddings" in half-coconuts, and an even easier method of tying the suet in an old nylon stocking — then burning small holes in the stocking with a cigarette to allow the birds to reach the food.

After the showing of pictures following the travel talks, refreshments were served by the co-hostesses, Mrs. Ralph Berwick and Mrs. Ralph Wright. Meanwhile a large array of interesting items had been contributed by the members and the program concluded with a Penny Sale, which provided $8 for the Ways and Means Committee, together with much enjoyment for the many satisfied customers.

Plans were made for the February meeting to be held at the home of Miss Louise Daley, when a further travel program will be provided by another member, Miss Edith Lyph, who spent last winter in Australia.

Married 55 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wright of Virginia East, celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary on December 25th. Due to the weather the surprise party which was to be held, was postponed until the following night, at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Perkins, of Clements-ville.

The happy couple received a sum of money from their family. Most of their family were present for a most enjoyable evening, ending with a delicious lunch.

Mayor & Councillors Sworn In Office

Twins No Novelty

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baxter, Barton, who recently became the grandparents of twins, find the incident not exactly a novelty as many grandparents do. Twins seem to run in the families on both sides. On December 31, at 5 o'clock a.m. their daughter, Mrs. Peter Kirk and Mr. Kirk became parents of identical twin boys at Whitehorse, N.W.T. A coincidence is that Mr. and Mrs. Baxter's son, Fred and Mrs. Baxter, Toronto, also had twins on December 31st, 1951 at 5 a.m. As Mrs. Baxter recalls there were 18 sets of twins in various families on her mother's side of the house. On Mr. Baxter's side of the house there were two pairs of twins among his brothers and sisters, his grandmother gave birth to twins and an aunt had triplets.

There were no twins in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Baxter's daughter, Mrs. Clayton Mullen and Mr. Mullen, Hassetts, though both sides of that house had a twin history.

Plan For New Organization

The provisional committee for the new women's organization for Grace United Church, Digby, met in the church hall on Tuesday evening with Rev. R. H. Hughes presiding. The meeting opened with prayer after which Mr. Hughes outlined the duties of some of the officers and committees. Campaign Goes Over Top

A most successful canvass was carried out in the Digby area on behalf of the Canadian Bible Society before the close of 1961. The work was done by more than 20 canvassers representing the local branch of the Society. Approximately $520.00 was received from the Digby area alone, or about $120.00 in excess of 1960 receipts. The allotment for the Digby town area and immediate vicinity was $500.00. In addition, $107.00 was received from the Smith's Cove community.

The local branch of the Canadian Bible Society, of which Rev. H. S. Hartlin is the President, and Mr. J. Oakley Turnbull is the Secretary-Treasurer, was active in promoting the campaign. In the fall a Rally was held on behalf of the work of the Society, with Rev. M. P. Macintosh, Provincial Secretary, as the speaker. Rev. John Denchfield was the chairman of the canvass, arrangements and took an active part in making the canvass successful.

Digby Baptist To Hold Annual

Arrangements have been made to hold the annual business meeting of the Baptist Church of Digby on Wednesday evening, January 17th. A departure from the usual procedure, the meeting this year will be marked by a supper to be served to all who attend the meeting. The supper is sponsored by the Men's Project Committee, and they will be assisted in serving by members of the CGIT. Following the supper period, the business of the church, including reports from all boards, committees, organizations and officers of the church will be heard and discussion given to matters of interest to the church.

All the youth groups of the church will be back on regular schedule for their weekly meetings next week. The Christian Youth Council, meeting this coming Sunday night, will consider plans for the observance of Youth Week.

The first meeting of the Women's League for the new year was held in the church on Tuesday evening. For Mrs. J. W. Christie as Secretary. There was a good attendance and plans were made for the winter activities of the group.

Choir Honors Couple

On Wednesday the choir of the Grace United Church met in the church hall to honor Mr. and Mrs. John Russell on their recent marriage. Later a trio of Mrs. Virginia Graham, Mrs. Pat Wilson and Miss Margie Black rendered a song "Star of the East". Mrs. Boyd Ellis and Mrs. Claire Keen both read poems, two of Mrs. Ellis' being her own composition. Charles Fitt came up with an old favorite "The Rose of Tralee".

Mr. Russell thanked the choir and then for a few minutes told of the experiences that he has had about singing since he has been a member of the choir. Mrs. Russell then gave thanks to everyone for the warm welcome that the people have shown her.

Printing Week — Jan. 14-20

Re-elected Digby Fire Chief

Chief George Humphrey was re-elected to office for 1962, as was Assistant Chief Arthur Handspiker. Other officers elected were: Buddy Barr (president); Douglas Hodgson, vice president; Reg Turnbull, secretary; Victor Comeau, treasurer; Capt. No. 1 Company, Joe Doucette; Capt. No. 2 Co., Thomas Cleveland; Capt. No. 3 Co., Robert Mayne; and Capt. No. 4 Co., Earl Warner.

Reports were received at the annual meeting from all officers and committee chairmen for 1961 which from the Chief's report showed that 65 calls had been received for the year, 50 of these being local calls and 15 from the outside district. Estimated damage from the local calls was $4175.00 which were all confined mostly to nuisance fires. The out of town calls were more serious with an estimated loss of $10,590.00 damage. The biggest outside loss was the dance pavilion at Harbour View Hotel, in Smith's Cove.

Most of the activity of the department during the year was in training and fire prevention. Reports showed that some 29 members have received certificates for training in various phases of fire fighting. Equipment was another major project. During the year a new equipment truck was purchased and completely outfitted with a new body at a cost close to $1000.00. This was raised by the Fire Department through various fund raising efforts. The Civil Defence committee reported that members had received training in radio-active fallout monitoring and that a course was presently in progress in connection with communications. A nurses training course was given early in the year.

The treasurer reported that some $12,444.10 had been the receipts from various money raising projects and that $12,220.40 in disbursements left a profit for the year of $223.70 with all equipment paid for from the year's financing. An executive meeting was arranged for the week of Jan. 7th when various committees and other appointments will be made.

Many Attend Prayer Service

The opening meeting of the Week of Prayer was held in the Baptist Church of Digby on Tuesday evening. More than 100 people attended the service, perhaps the largest number attending a week of prayer meeting in Digby for some years.

Rev. H. S. Hartlin, pastor of the church, presided at the service. Scriptures were read by Capt. Owen MacPherson, and prayers were offered by Rev. R. H. Hughes. An anthem was sung by the church choir. The C.G.I.T. of the Baptist Church were present in a body.

A message on the subject of Prayer was given by Rev. John Denchfield. He spoke of prayer as communication — "Man", he said, "has the power or communion with God and recognizing His presence". This privilege of communing with God through prayer and recognizing His presence in life should be the happy experience of all Christians.

The meetings of the week of prayer continued with service in Grace United Church on Wednesday evening and service will be held in the Salvation Army Hall tonight.

About This and That

Civil Defence In Digby

After practically silence on Civil Defence in Digby until of late, the subject last week, as far as the town is concerned, became headlines province wide. Whether this was good or bad publicity for the town, we are not prepared to say. There are those who feel it will have its adverse effects. Maybe so, but we do feel that in the end it will be good publicity for it will probably be the means of people finding out "how much" instead of "how little" is being done here in Civil Defence. According to a statement last week by the Mayor of the town, Digby is on an average in the province in C.D. and in some directions has surpassed other towns. This statement, coming from the Mayor, who was also liaison officer last year we are sure, is of much comfort to those in town and outside who have been enquiring "What is being done in Digby for Civil Defence?"

We note in the daily press that in an interview with Digby Civil Defence Director Thomas Cleveland he said that "It may be that we have not sought publicity regarding our efforts, but we have been organizing and a good deal has been done to prepare this community for an emergency." The fact that the director did not seek publicity, we feel, is very, very true. We would go even a step further in The Digby Courier and say that even when the publicity was being sought from the director his modesty made him most reluctant to release to the public the C.D. accomplishments. We can well recall Mr. Cleveland's similar statements to us, "I'm not one for publicity." Taking that in the sense in which we know Mr. Cleveland meant it, we can only commend an admirable quality. There is, however, another side to the picture and one which the press everywhere strongly urges. It is that if the public is well informed on truths through the press there is less danger of untruths being circulated. This, possibly, could be applied in the case of C.D. in Digby.

However, publicity or not, that was not the purpose of opening the subject of the Digby Civil Defence story in this column. The part which was confusing to us was the statements by the Mayor and the ex-Mayor as published in last week's edition of The Digby Courier in which they both resented the fact that the provincial organization appeared to be dictating where they had no right as seemed to be the case, they thought; in the letter read at the town council last week from Provincial Co-ordinator Gordon Grant to D. W. Machum, Controller of District No. 1 and which was to be brought to the attention of the Digby Town Council. Again, we are not the only minds confused by the statements. There are others who feel that to realize there is close cooperation in Civil Defence between national, provincial and municipal authority is in itself a sense of security. While provincial C.D. authorities might not expect the same pattern of C.D. operations in each town or municipality we cannot expect provincial to be doing their duty without, at least, knowing what is in operation on each local level. If they do not, to them there is a missing link in the chain and as far as they are concerned an inefficiency exists. We do not doubt the Mayor in that an average C.D. organization is in operation in the town of Digby. We expect that lack of detailed information to the provincial co-ordinator is all that has been at fault. If so, this is a fault, non-the-less, and we can see that it is one which could put the provincial co-ordinator in an awkward position no matter on which level the lack of passing information exists. After all, we are concerned for all the people, viz. Nova Scotia or Canada in case of a national emergency. It's no one must be at the head in either case and Digby is, on, families of the whole province or nation. We cannot see any form of dictatorship. We can only see someone looking after our welfare in the whole of Digby as we see those in authority in Digby looking after each individual resident's welfare through Civil Defence.

Shelter Improvisation

A previous article dealt with building a fallout shelter in your present home or in a new home while under construction, well in advance of any threat. You may not have a fallout shelter when the warning comes. Here are some tips to illustrate how quickly you can get some protection in a basement. (a) Block your basement windows with earth, bricks, concrete blocks, books or even bundles of newspaper. On the floor above the corner of the basement you select as your refuge area, pile any heavy objects you may have available. For example bricks, trunks filled with clothes, books and if at the right time of year, even earth from outside. (b) Against those parts of the basement which are above ground, heap earth, sand, bricks or concrete blocks. And around the corner you select as your safest spot, place any heavy objects, such as work benches or trunks.

If you do not have a basement do what you can in a hall or clothes closet where you will be the greatest distance from the fallout dust accumulating on the roof or the ground outside. Don't forget your battery radio.

More On Christmas Lighting

Maybe it is time to forget 1961 Christmas decorations. If we do that we possibly would not remember to write these things before Christmas 1962.

Firstly, we had not heard of any tree lights stolen in Digby in 1961. This makes us happy after reading in other papers of persons in other towns appearing in court on such an offence.

Next we want to pass on a few observations on contests in other towns. Not that we had any dissatisfaction with the contest here or that we want in any manner to dictate how it should be done. Just merely passing on information. Next year's decorators might be interested to know that the first prize in home decorating in Bridgewater was won by a manger scene display.

In Picton, we noticed prizes were offered for the best decorated in the newer or more modern homes while other homes came in another category. In another area we noted prizes given for the best decorated, most original and the best decorated with the least cost.

Panel Discussion

Assessment figures in Nova Scotia in 1954 were 350 million, in 1961 they amounted to more than three times that or more than one billion dollars. This was a more realistic assessment and tended to better taxation. The figures for the municipality of Digby for 1959 and 1961 were $1,848,000 and $3,731,000 with the tax rate dropping from $11 to $2.60. He urged all ratepayers to try to understand the Nova Scotia Assessment Act.

The second speaker was James D. Hubley, Bridge water and formerly of Bear River, who is the Digby Municipal assessor. He explained the classes of assessments, specifications, cost figures, depreciation and obsolescence. Other subjects discussed by Mr. Hubley were zoning, sales values, records, net assessments and maintenance. He also dealt with municipality assessment giving figures and rates 1959 assessment $1,848,000 rate $11; 1960 assessment $3,731,000 rate $2.50; 1961 assessment $3,824,940 rate $2.75; 1962 assessment $3,952,810. He noted the increase in the Digby municipality was not as great as in many of the other municipalities in Nova Scotia.

Third speaker was Roy Laurence, Q.C., Annapolis, municipal solicitor for the town of Annapolis who dealt with legal matters, exemptions, appeals and arbitration in the field of assessment.

In dealing with questions from the floor Mr. MacGlashen answered that the Department of Municipal Affairs deals with assessment in only an advisory capacity on finances, planning and other matters. Also in answering questions Mr. Hubley stated that inflated values are not actual values nor are deflated values, and replacement cost is just a guide. Discussion followed on assessing timberlands, marshlands which are in the process of reclamation, what concessions there are for elderly people, ill persons, etc., who find it impossible to pay taxes levied, what constitutes a building lot in assessment of property, etc.

Another matter discussed was the values of property following the paving of roads. In some cases the increase in value was five percent, in others 10 per cent, taking into consideration other features. Assessments on stock for merchants in towns and, assessment for mail order houses came in for discussion. Assessments for doctors, dentists, lawyers, insurance companies also were questioned by the audience. Exemptions for equipment for farmers and fishermen and exemptions for widows were discussed.

The speakers and chairman were thanked by Mrs. Penny Gott, secretary of the association.

Mayor Endorses Minor Hockey Week

Mayor V. L. Bent today called upon all citizens to support Minor Hockey Week in Canada, which commences Saturday, January 20th.

In voicing his support of Minor Hockey Week, His Worship said: "Minor Hockey Week has become an established part of our Canadian sporting year. Observation of Minor Hockey Week is the best way I know to direct attention of the public to the benefits of Minor Hockey to our youth and to our community."

"We are proud of the fact that Minor Hockey here in Digby has the support of many public spirited citizens, service clubs and other organizations whose love of hockey and of boys prompts them to contribute much time and effort to the local minor leagues. We should direct our appreciation and recognition to these outstanding citizens who are making a valuable contribution to the community in which we live, as does our great Canadian game of hockey contribute entertainment and recreation right across Canada."

"Hockey is Canada's National Game. It is one of our great heritages, and participation by the youth of our town should be encouraged at all levels. We are proud of our game, for its ability to develop character, citizenship and respect for authority, as well as for its physical and body building benefits."

"We should also encourage attendance and support by parents and other adults, for only in this way can the minor hockey program here in Digby prosper. The young people play better knowing they have the support of their families."

"For these reasons, I am happy to endorse Minor Hockey Week in Canada, and call upon all citizens to keep in step with Canada by joining in the observance of Minor Hockey Week. This can be done by supporting Minor Hockey, and by attending games with their sons. I commend to you the official slogan of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association which is promoting this fine venture. It is 'Don't send — TAKE your boy to the Arena'."

Among the blooms reported this week was a dandelion found by Mrs. Ernie Hyslop, Smith's Cove.

Trinity Had Good Year

A successful year in every department was reported at the annual meeting of Trinity Anglican Parish, which was held at the parish hall Monday evening.

The meeting was preceded by a congregational supper which was prepared by the church guilds.

Rev. James Pike, Rector of Trinity parish, presided over the business meeting. A report on the year's activities of the church guild was presented by Mrs. H. R. Bishop. The report for the Women's auxiliary was presented by Mrs. Sydney Hall.

In reviewing the year's activities, the Rector noted a number of improvements made in church property. He commended the ladies of the church for the financial assistance which they had provided to make it possible to paint the exterior of the church and parish hall. He spoke also of improvements made in the parish hall and thanked the men who had provided voluntary labour for these projects.

The financial statement was presented by Warden G. E. Hayden. This showed the church revenues had amounted to $8,315.09 for the year. Collections made at services were $75.00 higher than in 1960, it was reported. Total expenditure for the year amounted to $8,655.55.

A review of the financial statement showed that this year the church had paid $994.61 on assessment and apportionment dues to the diocese. Last year only $483.72 was paid on this account.

After reports of committees were received and the financial statement adopted officers for the year were elected. M. A. Davis stated he would be unable to accept the position of church warden for the coming year and Victor Cardoza was elected to succeed him. Warden G. E. Hayden was re-elected.

Miss Virginia Turnbull was re-elected vestry clerk. Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Dakin were re-elected auditors. Miss Bessie Turnbull was re-elected as Diocesan Times representative for the parish. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Berwick were elected representatives to synod with Victor Cardoza and John R. Nichols as alternates.

During the meeting a letter was read from the afternoon and evening guilds. In this letter the guilds signified their willingness to assist financially with the painting and repairing of the church rectory, the only building on the church property which has not been repainted and repaired within recent years. The guilds asked that the vestry take charge of the work, which they asked to have started early in the spring. They stipulated that painting was not to be started until repairs were completed.

Mr. Pike also reported that the vestry had decided to paint the floor and kneeling benches in the church. This would be done with voluntary labour, he stated.

The Parish Vestry for 1962 was elected as follows:

- Church Warden — V. G. Cardoza, M. L. A.
Church Warden — Garfield Hayden.
Vestry Clerk — Miss Virginia Turnbull.
Secretary — D. Ryan.
Dr. G. V. Turnbull, Cecil E. Jones, R. Berwick, K. Woodman, H. O. Turnbull, A. Adams, H. Sulis, E. V. Tufts, R. Bearne, A. T. Grimmer, A. E. Dickson.

Desirous of getting his twenty pounds of lobsters into Italy alive he struck on a new way. He is converting one of the ship's bath tubs into a lobster pound. The tub will be kept filled with renewed salt sea water and a lobster crate will be inserted into the sea water. Capt. Mauri purchased his supply from the C. D. Snow Co.

Mrs. Denton Heads New Organization

Mrs. Bryson Denton, Light-house Road, was on Thursday evening elected the first president of the new women's organization, United Church Women, in the Digby Parish. At the first meeting, held at the United Church Hall, with approximately 45 women present.

Other officers elected were: 1st vice president, Mrs. Clinton MacInnes; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Elton Arnold; 3rd vice president, Mrs. Richard Milbury; recording secretary, Mrs. Burton Fleet; corresponding secretary, Mrs. William McLeod; treasurer, Mrs. Richard Baxter.

Appointed to the Christian and Missionary Education committee of the Church was Mrs. William Marshall. Mrs. Reginald Holdsworth will represent United Church Women on the Official Board of the church.

The meeting was opened with a short devotional of hymn, scripture and prayer, after which Mr. Hughes extended a welcome and explained the purpose and function of the new organization. Mrs. J. M. Wallis was appointed secretary for the organization meeting.

It was announced that the provisional committee had accepted an allocation of $500 for mission work through the United Church Women of the Digby charge. Mrs. Wallis, who has just completed five years as president of the Annapolis Presbytery of the W.M.S. of the United Church of Canada, was asked to speak on the allocation and its purpose.

Plans were made for the inaugural service to be held in Grace United Church on Sunday morning when those who have been elected will be dedicated to office.

The new organization was asked to cater for refreshments for the annual meeting of the church on Wednesday, January 24. On the committee are Mrs. Gordon Ellis, Mrs. Oakley Turnbull and Mrs. Denton.

Committee And Federation Directors Meet

A meeting of members of a study committee and directors of the Digby County Federation of Agriculture met in Weymouth last week to discuss the organization of study groups throughout the Digby County area. The committee which had been formed at an earlier date consisted of Mrs. Chipman Chisholm, Bear River; V. G. Cardoza, Digby; Rev. E. C. Irwin, William LeFort and Pierre Belliveau, Weymouth.

The study club when organized will attempt community analysis with each individual club working within its own community. Using a community self-evaluation questionnaire drawn up by Professor Edgar B. MacKay, a survey will be conducted to get the general feeling of what citizens think could be done to improve their communities and which would be the most logical steps to take toward improvement.

A spokesman for the Digby federation said that it was generally felt in Digby County that the Federation of Agriculture had agriculture only as its purpose of formation but in many places a federation of agriculture embraces many aspects of rural life. The proposed survey, it is understood, will consider any phase in which the economy and welfare of the county can be improved. Difficulties met in the county and resources at hand whether for the woodlot owner, the agriculturist or fisherman or other type, will be under consideration. The plan of survey will be similar to a project conducted in Washington, Maine, but tailored to suit the Digby County area.

At the same meeting at Weymouth, protest was voiced over the inadequacy of Nova Scotia radio and television transmission received in Digby County. Particularly mentioned was the abandoning in the area of a national farm broadcast because no station could carry the program due to poor reception.

A resolution seeking radio coverage to allow reception of the program was sent to the Board of Broadcast Governors, CBC, and Revenue Minister George Nowlan, who reports to Parliament on the CBC.

The meeting which was arranged by William LeFort, Weymouth, Digby County agriculture agent was chaired by Dr. William Jenkins of the provincial department of agriculture, and all instructed.

Nichols Again Heads Fish And Game

J. R. Nichols was re-elected president of the Digby Fish and Game Association at the annual meeting held at the Fire Hall, Maiden Lane, on Thursday, January 11. Other officers elected were: 1st vice president, James Dunn; 2nd vice president, Charles Hall; treasurer, Aubrey Adams; secretary, Mrs. Evelyn Cameron. Committees were appointed as follows:

Finance, E. B. Richardson, P. C. Outhouse, B. P. Milberry with power to add; Grounds, James Dunn; Building, Roger Sulis; Wharf, Fred A. Amoro; Entertainment, Charles Hall; Ways and Means, Boyd Arams, Thomas Lockhart, Thomas Cleveland; Official opening, V. G. Cardoza; Sports, Day, J. R. Nichols; Canteen, Fred Amoro; Juniors, Everett Treffry; Membership, Aubrey Adams, J. R. Nichols.

Delegates to the Fish and Game meeting to be held in Halifax on January 29 are J. R. Nichols, Charles Hall and Henry Lewis.

The Association voted a gift to be given their past secretary, Robert Taylor, in appreciation for his excellent service. Because of illness Mr. Taylor was not able to continue in office, it was understood.

Successful reports were presented for the past year. Charles Hall also reported that the swimming pool for Defaga Lodge would be getting underway as soon as the lake was frozen hard enough to build the crib work and load with ballast so that it might sink into position when the ice melts in the spring.

Miss Lena Wall, VON director for Nova Scotia, made an official visit to the Digby association recently and investigated possibilities of extending the Digby association to Weymouth and Annapolis Royal. Miss Wall attended the regular meeting of the Digby board when plans were made for the annual meeting to be held in February.

Victim Of Drowning

John Ring, a Victoria Beach resident, was the victim of an unfortunate accident which took his life, late Wednesday morning. Mr. Ring, a fisherman aboard the trawler, Barbara and Lorna, was either washed overboard or fell while he and the skipper, Fred Ryan, were fishing around Point Prim. Apparently Mr. Ryan was busy with other duties and had not noticed that Ring had disappeared. When his attempts to locate him on board failed, Ryan headed the boat back along the path they had travelled and finally found Ring in the water. He (Ryan) summoned help from Ring's brother Wallace who was fishing nearby but attempts to revive the drowned man proved fruitless.

The deceased is survived by his wife, the former Marie Jones, of Kentville, and two daughters, Anna 7, Jeanette 3, his father Loran Ring, two sisters, Mrs. Elsworth Kaye, Hillsburn, N. S., Mrs. Percy Johnston, Victoria Beach, and one brother Wallace, Victoria Beach. His mother, Mrs. Gladys Ring, predeceased him two years ago.

Week Of Prayer Services

On Wednesday, January 10, the second of the week of prayer services was held in the Digby Grace United Church, with Rev. R. H. Hughes conducting the service. Prayer was led by Lieut. MacPherson of the Salvation Army. Reverend T. J. Davies, of the Pentecostal Church, read the scripture taken from St. Mark, Chapter 9, verses 14 to 24. Reverend H. S. Hartlin, of the Digby Baptist Church, offered prayer. Rev. W. B. Clayton, of the Acaciaville Baptist Church, delivered the sermon on the text "Lord I believe, help thou my unbelief." He said that unbelief in individuals was common today and unbelief is often found in the church. He referred to the power and the strength the church had at one time, and that the cry of the people of today should be "Lord, I believe, help Thou my unbelief." Doubts and fears will always be present he said, but as Christians men and women we must reaffirm our personal faith and despite fears and doubts and our shortcomings press on forward to Jesus Christ.

Rev. L. R. Atkinson, Bay View, was the speaker when the Week of Prayer service was held in the Salvation Army Citadel on Thursday evening. The service was conducted by Capt. MacPherson, scripture was read by Rev. R. H. Hughes and prayer, offered by Rev. H. S. Hartlin and Rev. John Denchfield.

Mr. Atkinson dealt with prayer and personal Christian experience as a means of bringing people to Christ in a year troubled world. Three measurements are used on the life of the Christian: the measurement of the man by self, by other individuals and by Jesus. In dealing with the second measurement he said that the life of the Christian in community, business or school was the only gospel that some people will read and the only text book by which they live.

Hospital Plans For Emergency

The regular Digby General Hospital Board meeting on Tuesday evening, presided over by the president, F. C. Purdy, dealt chiefly with routine business.

Among the reports presented was that of the hospital manager, Mrs. Grace Edwards, who gave a short account of Civil Defence preparations at the hospital. The staff, Mrs. Edwards said, had been instructed in their duties in case of emergency; a small supply of foods, drugs, medical supplies, blankets, etc., have been put into reserve for emergency and containers for a small water supply are on hand.

Mrs. Hilda Cossaboom, supervisor, and Mrs. Edwards, attended a civil defence committee meeting called by the director in Digby last week. It was reported, and all instructed.

Attend Civil Defence

Reigh Jayne represented the town of Digby at a Civil Defence meeting held in Hallifax on Tuesday for Mayors and Wardens of municipalities. Also attending from Digby County were Warden Ronald Morehouse, Municipality of Digby, and Warden Emile Boudreau, from the Municipality of Clare.

Mr. Jayne, in an interview with The Digby Courier, reported he had been greatly impressed with the meeting and had received some valuable information. He said that he saw a great need for the people of Digby to be informed on what they are expected to do and in what is being done for them in the town regarding Civil Defence. Those on committees, too, need to be well informed on the role they are to play. He felt that more volunteers for C.D. service in Digby could be obtained. A tentative date, he said, had been set for a visit here by Donald MacInnes, zone director, to meet the committees in Digby and later to have an afternoon and evening public meeting.

Provincial people on hand at the meeting to address the representatives and lead discussions were Hon. G. I. Smith, member of the cabinet committee on emergency planning; His Honor, Mr. Justice, Hon. E. C. Plow, lieutenant governor of Nova Scotia; Premier Stanfield; Mr. Gen. M. P. Bogart, CBE, DSO, CD, general officer commanding Eastern Command; Hon. Layton Fergusson, minister in charge of civil defence; J. G. Parsons, regional officer for Emergency Measures Organization (EMO); Gordon Grant, provincial co-ordinator of civil defence; Raefle Douthwaite, deputy provincial co-ordinator; H. H. Barnstead, administrative officer for civil defence; Hon. W. S. K. Jones and Hon. R. A. Donahoe, members of the cabinet committee; Miss Noma Taylor, RN, nurse consultant with provincial civil defence; and C. L. Beazley, deputy provincial secretary and deputy minister in charge of civil defence.

Hon. Mr. Smith said that the fatalistic attitude with which many people considered nuclear war was the kind of attitude any enemy would like to see in us and which would be bound to end in our complete defeat.

Mr. Smith said there was a real chance for survival of the majority of the population with a modest amount of effort and expenditure. While there were many differences of opinion on what was the best thing to do in the event of a nuclear war, he said, there was enough weight of opinion in the highest ranks of science to believe that there was a chance for survival. Even in the worst circumstances, he said, far more would survive than would die.

Mr. Smith scored the use of the term "target area" and said many had the idea that certain areas of Nova Scotia were going to be hit in a nuclear war.

Nobody knew what areas the enemy would hit with bombs, he said, and nobody knew how close the enemy was going to come to the areas it was trying to hit.

As war veterans knew, he said, the enemy missed a great many more times than he succeeded.

The realistic attitude to take, said Mr. Smith, was that nobody knew what the target area would be, and nobody knew whether the enemy could hit it if he tried.

As long as there were people who didn't want to go along with civil defence programs they would find plenty others willing to join them in doing nothing about planning for an emergency, he said. But the opposite was equally true, he said.

Premier Robert Stanfield, in addressing the meet said that to meet any national or civil emergency there must be a co-operative effort between the various levels of government and the armed services, and the public must know the role it must play.

While there was hope and prayer that civil defence in this province would never be needed, he said.

Winds Cause Severe Damage

Strong winds Monday night caused extensive damage to several areas of Digby and vicinity. Wright's of Digby Ltd. lost a large 9'x12' plate glass window about one o'clock a.m. at the peak of the 75 to 100 mile per hour winds. The wind tore the window out of the frame and sent it hurtling across the street. While attempting to reach Mr. Norman Wright, the owner of the store, the winds had apparently blown down the telephone cables in some of the eastern sections of town, and he had to be summoned by a neighbor who was on a different line. The night policeman, Don Jayne, was on patrol at the time and reported the accident.

Telephone cables were reported down in several other areas, particularly in Smith's Cove and the Digby Neck and Islands.

It is understood a fish plant in Mink Cove, still under construction, was blown down. A barn in Sandy Cove was blown down and sheet metal was apparently scattered over a large area. In Freeport, another barn, belonging to Mrs. Myrtle Young, also was damaged by the high winds.

In Salthamville a 16 foot boat was blown off its stand and was carried 300 feet onto the highway and smashed.

Youth Week Plans Made

At the monthly meeting of the Christian Youth Council of the Baptist Church, Digby, held last Sunday evening, plans were made for the Youth Week activities, commencing January 28th. Included in the program will be a Sunday night service sponsored by the Baptist Youth Fellowship, and also a Sunday morning service with a mass attendance of all the young people of the congregation. The week will close with a young people's social gathering in the church hall. This event will include a supper to be served and a program of group stunts, pictures and singing.

The Council was informed that the filmstrip and slide projector had been purchased and was available for the use of all groups in the church.

On Tuesday evening the Women's Missionary Society held its monthly meeting in the church parlor. Members of the Women's League were also present at the meeting which was conducted by the WMS president, Mrs. Hugh Vincent.

There was a large attendance at the weekly meeting of the Baptist Youth Fellowship of the Hill Grove church on Tuesday night. The group welcomed Bobbie Killam of the RCAF who was home on furlough from Cold Lake, Alberta. The pastor showed a filmstrip, depicting interesting scenes from the natural history of Canadian wildlife. At the next meeting the group will elect new officers, and will also make plans for winter meetings and projects.

About This and That

Ratepayer's Association

To know is to understand. There is no place that expression applies more than in regard to that difficult and unhappy subject of assessment and taxation. That is why the panel discussion held at the Court House last week on municipal property assessment and taxes proved to be such a successful venture. Ratepayers took advantage of the panelists' knowledge and experience to add to their own store of information. Even personal grievances in relation to the subject were aired. A sympathetic ear was there to listen, an answer to the problem forthcoming or a remedy for the situation suggested. "Reasons why" were revealed, giving a better understanding to the problems facing those who set the price and those who pay and making for better relationship between the two. It was a move in the right direction when the Digby County Ratepayer's Association sponsored the panel discussion. We hope there will be another soon for there are many other subjects to which the same expression applies -- to know is to understand.

The Digby County Ratepayer's Association is a comparatively new organization. Its purpose, as we understand it, is to give an opportunity to discuss problems of mutual concern, to create a good and understanding relationship between the ratepayer and municipal authority and to co-operate in progressive moves for the benefit of the whole area. Such worthy motives demand our every good wish for success in their endeavours.

The More We Know

Writing the above on the panel discussion reminds us that we noted in one weekly paper last week that a large number were on hand to witness the swearing in ceremonies of the Mayor and councillors of that town. Few were on hand for the induction ceremonies in Digby. Again, the more we know about town affairs the more we understand why things are done as they are. Why not get acquainted.

Minor Hockey Week

On another page of this issue of The Digby Courier His Worship Mayor V. L. Bent endorses Minor Hockey Week in Digby. The week begins on January 20 and is designed to direct public attention to character-building, physical strength and other benefits of participation in Canada's National Sport, the game of hockey.

Minor Hockey Week stresses "Don't Send -- Take Your Boy to the Arena." It does not overlook the necessity of a close relationship of father and son or of the complete family unit in its outlook. This is possibly one of the greatest assets of Minor Hockey Week sponsored by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association. In a world where family units had begun to separate it is heartening to see an attempt to cement the relationship in this manner.

Other slogans for Minor Hockey Week are "Keep a Boy on Ice and You'll Keep Him Out of Hot Water" and "Encourage Hockey -- You'll Discourage Hooky." Especially with a respected leader at the helm hockey can teach young men things -- respect for authority, co-operation with others, both competition and fair play, honesty and in general it can be an excellent character builder.

An important contribution to the character building aspect of minor hockey, and a proven incentive to good junior citizenship, is the Robin Hood Trophy, which is again being presented for competition during the current season. During 1961 1665 boys in Canada's ten provinces, the North West Territories and the Yukon received one of these trophies. They were selected by local league officials who used the Player's Creed which was drawn up for the young players as a basis for choosing outstanding boys. The creed, in addition to urging every boy to train and keep fit in order to play to his peak capacity, emphasises the importance of good behaviour at school, at home and in the community at large.

A good coach or a good leader can greatly contribute to the character building phase of the young hockey enthusiast's life. In the form of hero-worship the young hockey player often copies the fine qualities of the coach or leaders -- respect for others, good sportsmanship whether in victory or defeat, generosity with time, energy and money and a sense of calmness in the midst of inconvenience and haste. All these must be attributes of those in authority if they are expected and needed of the players being directed.

We, too, salute Minor Hockey Week and those who endeavour to promote the healthful sport of hockey and its body and character building qualities.

A Welcome Sight And No

By the time this copy goes to press, at least three, if not more, pulp boats will have loaded a cargo and departed. Hundreds of truck loads of pulpwood will have travelled the Digby streets, on to the wharf and into the holds of the ships. All this provides work and is a welcome sight to those who are interested in the welfare and economy of the Digby area. Especially during the usually highest unemployment winter season is this activity a welcome sight.

Considering the above, we would not want to make any remarks detrimental to such activity. Also, we can readily see the seeming necessity of such activity by the truckers to be speeded up to "make hay while the sun shines." There is another side to the coin, though. Is all the speed, all the hurried slipshod loading worth the price of a child's life? Or adult's either? Or is it worth the price of broken bones? We have, of late, been receiving complaints and unless some who have complained fail to keep their word, there will be some correspondence in this week's Courier regarding the matter. Car drivers fear to pass some of the loaded trucks or fear to drive at a normal distance behind them. Some loads have been said to be listed to the side, individual pieces of pulpwood have been noticed practically hanging from the load or have been seen lying along the road where they have fallen. We have not particularly noticed the condition of the loads this year ourselves but we have looked from our office windows on occasions in previous years to see fairly half loads tumble as the trucks rounded from Birch St. on to Prince William. A school child in the way would have certainly come to instant death by the fall. To say a fall seldom occurs would be false for we can at least think of two accidents which have occurred in just that manner within our small town. One of these was a serious accident. We have all seen through the years, the single and multiple pieces of pulpwood lying on the side of the street. We are therefore aware that the loads do frequently shift and only by good fortune, no one has been near to feel the impact. The sight of an untidy, careless loading of pulpwood is not a welcome sight, despite its value in dollars and cents. Therefore, we urge the truckers to be most cautious in their operation. Broken bones are hard to mend and dead bodies cannot be revived.

Emergency Supplies

Step five of the "Eleven Steps to Survival" is to have certain emergency supplies of food and equipment available for use in a fallout shelter. The reason for having them is that nuclear attack on centers of production, and conditions of fallout, may curtail distribution until many days or weeks following these attacks. These supplies should be packaged so as to be readily moved.

Emergency food should be such a nature that it can be stored for a long period; some should be used periodically and then replaced. These supplies should include tins of milk, fruit, vegetables, soups, juices and meats. Biscuits are required instead of bread. Other suggested items are sugar, jam, marmalade or honey, peanut butter, tea, coffee, chocolate powder, salt and pepper. Infants and young children will require special foods.

Water should be stored in suitable containers which are tightly covered and this should be changed at least once a month. It is desirable that there should be at least one half gallon of water per day per adult.

Some suggestions for equipment and clothing for use in a fallout shelter are given as follows:

Bunks, chairs, table, cooker, cooking and eating utensils, kerosene, toilet with extra plastic bags, garbage can and bags, hand basin, clock, flashlight, battery radio and batteries, lamp and candles, matches, small tools, string and rope, nails and screws and a can opener.

Books, paper, pencils and recreational articles as well as a minimum of toiletries are advisable.

Clothing and bedding should include:

Coveralls, rubber boots and gloves, blankets, warm sweaters and socks, warm outer and underclothing, personal hygiene items and those necessary for infants if they have to be considered.

Year End Review

By
Hon. Robert L. Stanfield,
Premier of Nova Scotia

Events of the past year indicate that Nova Scotia is well into a transition period that is resulting and will result in developments important to the present, and future progress of the province.

Perhaps one of the best examples of this, transitional period can be seen in our mining industry. Although coal production declined during the year, there were major advances in other sectors of the mining industry. Salt production increased 40 per cent; milling started at the Walton silver-lead-zinc ore body, and initial steps were taken towards a major new gypsum producer in Cape Breton.

Interest in Nova Scotia as a leading source of industrial minerals continued to grow. The tempo of exploration was at an all time high and from such intensive efforts new discoveries could result.

The transition was evident in other fields as well as mining.

The Nova Scotia fishing industry is in the midst of an accelerated, boatbuilding program. It is anticipated that a number of new draggers in the 100-foot class will be launched before the end of 1962. Many Nova Scotia fishermen therefore will be stepping out of smaller boats into modern, efficient vessels that will help ensure a year round supply of fish for processing plants.

Farming also continued to take on a new look in 1961.

It is anticipated that the gross income from the sale of farm products will exceed by well over $3,000,000 the $2,500,000 in 1960. Hogs alone are expected to contribute an additional $500,000; poultry meat $100,000; eggs $450,000; dairy products $380,000; cattle and calves $680,000; fruits $600,000. All this can be attributed to the fact that an increasingly large number of farmers are farming on a commercial scale, because they are following improved production methods and marketing facties; and because they have expanded their farm enterprises and are operating on a wider scale than was the case even 12 months ago.

Tobacco, grown commercially in Nova Scotia for the first time, promises to become an important cash crop. A bumper apple crop commanded top prices on both domestic and export markets.

As the year ends, the new $10,000,000 chemical mill commences operations at the Strait of Canso, representing a great forward step in the utilization of our forests.

No picture of 1961 would be complete without mention of the province's highway program or development of the Sissiboo hydro electric project.

Highways projects completed included the Shubenacadie Diversion and Ern Ettinger Bridge; the Annapolis Causeway; the Bras d'Or Bridge and causeway and Bicentennial Drive.

During the year, more than 215 miles of new hard surface was laid, mainly on country roads. Another 167 miles of highway were improved to paving standard and 60 bridges were replaced. Also of considerable importance are the 280 miles of highway that were materially improved and the more than 81 miles that were repaved on trunk roads.

The first phase of a major hydro electric project on the Sissiboo River, near Weymouth, was officially opened. The project initially will be able to supply 67,500,000 kilowatt hours. The overall Sissiboo project, which will not be developed before demand requires, possibly not before 1966, will provide for 115,000,000 kWh.

The tremendous task of educating the growing numbers of school children called for more classrooms again in 1961. Enrolment stood at 183,985, an increase of 3,864 over the previous year, and the second largest increase ever recorded in a single year. A building program involving 375 new academic classrooms was carried out.

A trend away from new building for high school consolidation and towards new building for elementary consolidation became particularly evident in 1961.

The new Nova Scotia Teachers College academic building in Truro opened and higher entrance requirements became effective for teachers-in-training.

Steps were taken to add to vocational training facilities. The Cape Breton County Vocational High School and the Nova Scotia Trades and Technical Institute were started.

New plants were opened in the province and others were expanded in 1961.

Industrial Estates Limited was successful in signing agreements during the year with six more firms for the construction of plants, to be used for manufacturing a variety of products.

Two other plants were completed during the year, raising to 22 the number of projects in which this crown corporation has participated since its establishment four years ago.

In addition to attracting new manufacturing operations to the province, the company is also anxious to assist in the expansion of existing secondary industry here.

As we look back upon the events of 1961, and to the challenges and opportunities that will be presented to us in 1962, we do so with mixed feelings.

During the last 12 months we have seen many indications that the face of Nova Scotia is continuing to change, and to change favorably.

Examples of this are the new industrial plants that have made an appearance in various parts of the province; the tobacco crop in the Annapolis Valley; new fishing boats in our ports, on drawing boards or in our boatyards; new homes, schools and churches.

But, we must remember that this good fortune has not reached all our people.

It is necessary to seek and to create employment opportunities for those who, through no fault of their own, are without work.

When we point out to others that we have wonderful people, a fine province and a multitude of quality products, then we will be doing much to assist in the building of an even better Nova Scotia.

He will have 2,184 pay days to save for his retirement

His first pay cheque -- the first of many more to come! What he plans to do with that money, as he goes along, is important. He can do many worthwhile things. One of the most desirable is to set aside some money regularly for his later years, to guarantee that he'll be able to take things easier when his pay cheques stop. This needn't be just a dream. With the stroke of a pen you can make your pay cheques start to guarantee future security. Your Life Insurance agent can show you how to make your pay days provide you with guaranteed protection now plus a guaranteed income for retirement you can never outlive. Make sure of tomorrow, today.

ONLY LIFE INSURANCE CAN PROTECT YOU THESE FIVE WAYS

1. Guaranteed retirement income. You have an income you can never outlive.
2. Guaranteed immediate protection, from the moment you qualify.
3. Guaranteed protection, no speculation, no guessing. You know exactly the number of dollars to come.
4. Guaranteed benefits at big expense times. You can guarantee funds for future expenses such as sending children to college.
5. Guaranteed protection for the home. Your family will never inherit an unpaid mortgage.

He had also served on the police force at Digby and other Nova Scotia centres and on the security guard at Robb Engineering Works in Amherst. He retired as chief of the Parrishboro police three years ago and since his retirement has been a stevedore on lumber and pulp boats and has also acted as a county constable.

Mr. Kendrick, one of Parrishboro's best known citizens, was supervising the loading of pulpwood on the Finnish steamer Marguerita, at the government wharf at Riverside at about 11 a.m. when the fatal shot was fired. He was standing on the deck of the vessel when struck in the back by a .22 calibre rifle bullet.

About 25 men were working on the boat and wharf at the time of the shooting. Four hours later as police and civilians searched the area for the youthful suspect in the killing, the body of 19 year old William Leonard Moore was found at the rear of a summer cottage about a mile from the wharf. Police said it was presumed that he had taken his own life.

have to function, "we can't close our eyes to the situation in the world today, and we must plan."
"We must believe that survival is possible, even under the most adverse conditions," he said.
The Lieutenant-Governor, Hon. E. C. Plow, said that in the past there had been a tendency to ignore civil defence because people didn't know enough about modern nuclear war and government policies to plan comprehensively. It was the duty of every responsible citizen to educate himself as thoroughly as possible in this subject so that he could assess the possibilities and plan protection. The attitude that nuclear war would end everything was the lazy man's way of facing the problem, he said.

The necessity of planning in detail on the municipal level was emphasized by Mr. Douthwaite, deputy provincial co-ordinator, who said that without such plans municipalities could find themselves out on a limb in time of emergency. Each municipality should have its own monitoring team in preparation for the time when an "all clear" was sounded after an attack, he said.

Mr. H. H. Bernstead outlined the civil defence federal-provincial financial assistance program in which Ottawa reimbursed municipalities to the extent of 75 per cent, and the province reimbursed the municipality by another 15 per cent, for civil defence expenditures.

Thirty-five Nova Scotia municipalities participated in the program last year, he said, and expended $86,680 — with Ottawa and the province reimbursing them to the tune of $78,000. This year, he said, about 50 municipalities would participate, spending upward of $137,000.

The 50 foot square building has overnight accommodation and a cafeteria and will provide useful facilities for young farm students of both sexes whose agricultural work is being encouraged by the exhibition authorities.

News has been received of the death of Mrs. Arthur Archibald (Nell Purdy), wife of Rev. Arthur Archibald, at Daytona Beach, Florida.

Cheese Facts

Cheese has an ancient history. The earliest recorded references to it date from about 3,000 B.C. Some say that an Arab merchant accidentally stumbled onto cheesemaking. Before starting off on one of his journeys, he poured some milk into a pouch made from the lining of the fourth stomach of a suckling calf. The stomach secretes an enzyme called rennet. When the merchant tried to drink his milk he found tender curds instead.

The Crusades brought back a knowledge of cheese-making. Monks began to develop the art of producing special cheeses. Roquefort was the specialty of the Monastery of Conques about 1000 A.D. The Trappist monks in Northern France developed Port du Salut, and the Trappist monks of Quebec today make a Canadian version of the same cheese known as Oka. Many cheeses bear the name of the community where they originated. Limburger cheese was first made in Limburg, Belgium. Cheddar cheese, an English favorite, got its name from the community of Cheddar in Somerset.

The ancient art of cheese making is now much modernized, but the basic principle of using the enzyme rennet to form curds from whole fluid milk has not changed since man made the first primitive curds.

In a modern factory milk is put into a cheese vat holding about 10,000 pounds of milk. To this is added a "starter" (sterilized milk in which selected ripening bacteria have been carefully developed) or rennet or both. The choice of starter helps to determine the flavor of the finished cheese. Other bacteria can be added for variety in flavor and texture. When the curds have formed into a spongy mass they are cut into cubes. The liquid, or whey, is drained off, and as it is removed, the curds become firm, stick together and can be handled in slabs. Baking Fish Fillets And Steaks

Fish is one of the most delicious and important protein foods. Canada's Food Rules, our guide to meal planning, mention fish as one of the main foods providing good quality protein necessary for building and maintaining sound bodies. Fish protein is easily digested and should be included in special diets for older people, invalids and young children.

The flesh of fish contains little connective tissue and does not require a long cooking period.

You will know your fish is cooked when:

1. The flesh loses its translucent appearance and becomes opaque.
2. The flesh flakes readily, with a fork.
3. The flesh is easily pierced with a fork.

Serve fish immediately, while it is still piping hot, tender and juicy. Do not overcook. Overcooking dries and toughens fish.
To bake fish, use very hot oven, 50 degrees to 500 degrees F. For fresh fish allow 10 minutes per inch thickness. For frozen fish, allow 20 minutes per inch thickness. When fillets are baked under a blanket of sauce, allow 5 additional minutes for each inch of thickness.

Fillets In Barbecue Sauce
2 pounds fish fillets
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 tablespoon butter or other fat
1 cup catsup
1 cup vinegar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon salt

Place fish in greased baking pan. In a saucepan, cook onion in fat until tender. Add remaining ingredients and simmer for 5 minutes. Pour over fish and bake. Makes 6 servings.

Halibut Steaks with Tomato Stuffing
2 halibut steaks (about 1 lb. each, 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick)
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup diced celery
1/2 cup butter or other fat
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon seasoning (savory, thyme, sage, etc.)
2 cups soft bread crumbs
1 tomato, chopped
1/2 cup melted butter

Sprinkle steaks with salt. Cook onion and celery in fat until tender (about 5 minutes). Add salt and seasoning. Toss lightly with bread crumbs and add tomato. Place one steak in greased baking dish, heap stuffing mixture on it and cover with other steak. Brush with melted butter. Measure total thickness of steaks and stuffing. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Payments For Boats Reduced

Hon. E. A. Manson, Minister of Trade and Industry, said today the down payments for purchase of fishing boats under regulations of the Fishermen's Loan Board of Nova Scotia have been reduced.

The change in regulations applies only to boats that are over 45 feet in length, and eligible for a federal subsidy.

Individual fishermen acquiring boats will be asked to provide a down payment of 12 percent of the cost of the boat, rather than 18 percent.

Companies purchasing vessels will be asked to provide a down payment of 20 percent of the cost of the vessel. Previous to the change in regulations, the down payment for companies was 30 percent of the cost.

The federal government allows a subsidy of up to $250 for construction of fishing boats up to 100 tons.

For boats of more than 100 tons, the subsidy is 40 percent of the approved cost. A subsidy of up to 50 percent of the approved cost is available for construction of steel trawlers that will replace the, obsolete ones.

Year-End Review

Hon. E. D. Halliburton

The forests of Nova Scotia have been and continue to be of great economic value to the province with forest production in the calendar year 1961 having a value of more than $50,000,000.

The forests standing in 1961 were the end result of growing and cutting of timber stands over the centuries dating back to the cutting of the first logs to establish the Habitation at Port Royal in 1605.

The Department of Lands and Forest with the co-operation of the forest industry and the people of Nova Scotia endeavors to protect and conserve this valuable renewable resource through its various activities.

At present the province employs 75 forest rangers, 27 technically trained foresters, 5 wildlife biologists, a forest etymologist, fire rangers, and tower men as well as a large staff of surveyors and others to protect the 10,000,000 acres of woodland in Nova Scotia.

Through educational programs the department brings to the people an appreciation of the values of forestry.

Through its protection service it attempts to reduce losses from fires. Through its field staff it encourages better forestry practices and fosters the ideals of conservation and sustained yield from this important resource.

The bulk of forest production is softwood lumber and pulpwood. Although these are the major uses of forest products there are many other wood-using industries in Nova Scotia including the boatbuilding plants, furniture factories, box, crate and barrel manufacturers.

Valuable products from the forests also included the more than 2,500,000 Christmas trees shipped in 1961, the maple sugar and syrup processed every spring, the millions of pounds of meat yielded from the deer taken annually and the nearly 50,000 deer hides and wild fur pelts exported yearly.

Pine, Christmas trees, game and fur between them have a value of $7,000,000.

The role played by forests in water conservation for agricultural use, for the development of hydroelectric power, for water supplies to towns and cities is beyond evaluation. Nor is it possible to calculate the recreational value by woodlands for campers, hunters and fishermen.

Fire losses in 1961 were 5,182 acres burned over as the result of 455 fires. This is a marked reduction from the 21,265 acres burned in 1960.

The quick detection and suppression of fires is an important phase in forest protection. Fire suppression crews and rangers are stationed throughout the province, equipped to suppress fires as quick as possible. The effectiveness of the detection and suppression force is indicated by the fact that fire destroyed acreage was well below the long term average last year.

The Department is continuing to increase the number of fire towers in use and now has 26 towers in operation eight months of the year. Two federal government towers and two privately owned towers contribute to this method of detection.

In 1962 the radio communication network will be improved resulting in better liaison between towers, fire patrol planes, depots and fire vehicles.

The Crown land survey which has now covered more than 2,750,000 acres was continued in 1961 with more than 50,000 acres surveyed.

Much of the Crown land are old fire barrens where natural tree growth is sparse. For a number of years efforts have been made to reforest these barren areas with a reforestation program and last year the department planted 225,000 trees. An additional 173,000 trees were distributed for planting on private lands.

We hope to have 500,000 trees available for planting in 1962, and we are making rapid progress toward our goal of having 1,000,000 trees planted annually.

We are continuing the policy of adding to the Crown lands of the province. The general policy of the department is to bring more Crown lands into production annually. This is done by selling the timber, pulpwood and Christmas trees on the lands through public tender. These lands are of considerable value to the future.

In the light of present development this policy of land purchase appears wise, since it guarantees more stability to the forest industries, provides shelter for game, clean water for human consumption and for fish and recreational areas for an expanding population.

During the year stand improvement work was continued, 20 miles of access roads were built and new camps and picnic sites established. Laurie Park, a 60-acre recreational area near Grand Lake, Halifax County was officially opened.

Tension services were engaged in an active forest fire prevention campaign, the promotion of quality production of Christmas trees, a safe hunting program and the distribution of information on forestry and wildlife topics through literature, and talks.

That woodlot owners are beginning to realize the value of selective cutting and sound management techniques is indicated by the fact that more than 200 persons were given information and assistance by foresters in 1961. There is a similar number of requests on hand to be dealt with this year.

tion from cultivated Scotch pine and artificial trees with production in 1961 equalling exports in 1960.

If woodlot owners give sufficient attention to the proper growing, cutting and grading of trees shipped this annual $2,500,000 export can be maintained as a permanent segment of the forest industry.

The department has drawn up a work program for the establishment of 14 forestry clubs in the province. This new project to educate the young people of the province is expected to be in operation within the next few months.

The keynote of the timber industry in 1962 should be the improvement in quality and efficiency as far as sawmill techniques are concerned. Lumber that is not properly sawn can only cause a setback to the industry at a time when every effort should be made to meet competition from other building products in the domestic and foreign markets.

This is a period of drastic change in the sawmill industry as larger stationary mills with modern equipment replaces the older inefficient portable mills.

Nova Scotia must learn to cut costs and step up efficiency to survive in an increasingly competitive market. In the past year some sawmills, equipped with debarkers and chippers, have commenced the production of pulpwood chips from slabwood and edgings. With pulpmills buying these chips it will increase the demand for sawmill waste and add to revenue of the mill operators.

The department is administering and supervising a federal works program to assist unemployed miners. The province has built camps and conducted training schools on a cost sharing basis with the federal government. This program started last July and the men were trained in woods operations, fire suppression and the use of equipment.

There are now 145 miners employed, mostly in the Baddeck area. From all reports these men have adapted quickly and well to their new work. It is the hope of this department that a high percentage will eventually find employment with private forest industries.

Although deer kill figures are down from previous years it is still higher than in other comparable areas in Canada and the United States. The wildlife division is making every effort to maintain our deer herds and new game management techniques are being introduced.

Several studies are in progress with respect to this wildlife resource. The division's biologists are now preparing for a comprehensive appraisal of winter conditions experienced by deer in Nova Scotia. This program will commence on February 1 and will also include research in deer reproduction, browse conditions, data on disease and parasites as well as some first hand information about predators.

Bird sanctuaries were established at Martinique Beach at the mouth of Musquodoboit Harbour and McElmon's pond in Colebrook county making a total of nine waterfowl havens in the province.

Approximately 350,000 salmon smolt were released from our rearing ponds on the Medway river at Charleston last May. More than 11,000 of these were tagged to help establish their future migrations.

Our system of trout rearing ponds at Moser river was complete in August and there are now between 300,000 and 400,000 trout reared for release.

Silver Lake, a tributary of the Jordan river, was poisoned in November in an effort to kill off all predatory fish. The results appear to be satisfactory but a further appraisal will be made this spring. The lake will eventually be stocked with speckled trout.

Training schools are again conducted for young guides and 145 boys attended. Some of these were completing their third year of training and are now eligible to secure guides' licenses.

These guide schools are very popular and I feel will make a distinct contribution to the standards of licensed guides available in the province in the years to come.

The provincial wildlife park at Shubenacadie continued to be one of the major outdoor attractions in the province with well over 200,000 visitors.

The importance of natural parks for recreation is recognized and plans are being made to expand in this field as well.

Clare Municipal Home Stays Open

The Clare Municipal Home will continue to operate as in the past, it was recently decided by the Municipal Home Committee. Plans were that the Home would be closed due to the fact that only a very small number of inmates had been registered in the Home for quite some time and it was believed that a savings in Municipal funds could be made by closing the home. Plans called for the placing of the few inmates into private homes but difficulty was found in making satisfactory arrangements.

To come up to standard provincial government regulations it was necessary to install a sprinkler system and central heating system. Contracts have been let for installing both features and work is expected to commence shortly. The cost of installing a sprinkler system is in the vicinity of $10,000, and the central heating system will cost in the vicinity of $5,000.00.

The personnel of the Municipal Home consists of the Manager, Mr. Camille d'Entremont of Meteghan River; Mrs. d'Entremont and Miss Cecile d'Entremont.

When Mr. d'Entremont was first appointed manager of the Home there were forty inmates. Due to the old age assistance plans of the Federal and Provincial governments, many persons who otherwise would be in the Home are now able to procure lodgings in private homes.

The committee of Tenders and Public Property consisting of Warden Emile Boudreau, Vincent Goulette, Gustave Comeau and Alfred Belliveau, were in charge of the Municipal Home. About two years ago the Provincial government stipulated that a Board of visitors of the Municipal Home be appointed of which at least one female member must be selected. The Provincial government appointed two members, Francois Comeau, of Concession, and Mrs. Cecile Comeau of St. Alphonse. The Clare Municipal Council appointed three members as follows: Mrs. Prescille Boudreau, Mrs. Rachel Comeau, both of Meteghan and Albert P. Melanson, of Church Point. The purpose of such a committee was to visit the Municipal Home at least four times per year and to report to the Municipal Council and to the provincial department of welfare. The committee reports and recommends changes to be made to ensure the comfort and proper administration of the Municipal Home.

Special Welcome To Woman Councillor

A special welcome was extended by Ronald Morehouse, Centreville, re-elected warden of Digby Municipality, to Mrs. M. P. Gott, Smith's Cove, the first woman councillor to sit in the Digby Municipality. The welcome was extended at the opening of the Municipal sessions in the Court House, Digby, on Monday afternoon. Although unable to be present, Mayor V. L. Bent, Digby, sent a message of welcome and good wishes on behalf of the town. Others expressing wishes for successful deliberations were V. G. Carboza, M.L.A., H. C. Morton and Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby.

The full complement of councillors attending were sworn in by an impressive ceremony conducted by Roscoe Handsaker, Municipal Clerk. Committees appointed were:

Hydro: Clyde Cosman, also re-elected deputy warden; M. W. Derby, Westport; Roy Snell, Bear River.

Arbitration: Snell, Derby, Sydney Westcott, Waterford; Mrs. Gott; Cosman.

Licence: Walter Wood, Marshalltown; Eugene Outshoorn, Tiverton.

Revisor Jury Lists: Westcott, Aubrey Forest, Cullod.

By-Laws: Victor Finigan, Freeport; Derby, Cosman, John Comeau, Weymouth.

Jail: Forest, Wood, Finance and Public Accounts: Finigan, Snell, Cosman, Hubert Shortliffe, Barton; Outshoorn, Gott.

Poor and Harmless Insane: Forest, Westcott, Comeau, Derby.

Public Property: Finigan, Shortliffe, Westcott.

Appointed as health officer at Monday's meeting was Dr. I. Sutherland, Sandy Cove; E. J. Theriault Q.C., solicitor; Dr. D. E. Lewis, jail physician; H. R. Doane, auditors.

Named as delegate to the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities were Warden Morehouse and Roscoe Handsaker.

On the Municipal School Board were named Roy Snell, Warden Morehouse, Roscoe Handsaker and John Comeau.

Permission to attend the 1962 refresher course was granted to Mr. Handsaker.

James Wambach was named Court Crier and Walter Wood as representative on the Veterinary Assistance Board.

On the Digby General Hospital Building committee are Roy Snell, Mrs. Gott, Warden Morehouse and Eugene Outshoorn.

In his report Warden Morehouse stated that the completion of the 1st stage of the Sissiboo power development and the reclamation of the St. Mary's Bay marshland should play a significant part in the betterment of economy in the municipality. He reported a 1961 surplus of $10,091.34 in the education account. But, he said, he felt this would be taken up in the coming year by the provincial share of education costs in the municipality being reduced by 2.03 per cent.

Reporting on school building the warden said a contract had been awarded to Central Construction Ltd., of Eel Brook, for building the new consolidated school at Freeport. Tender of the company, he said, was for $154,096, lowest of five received. The Westport school was reported completed.

A contract had also been let, he said, for an addition to the consolidated school at Weymouth. Successful bidders were Rodney Contractors Ltd., of Yarmouth. Their tender was for $73,268, lowest of six.

The warden paid tribute to the work of Assistant Tax Collector Paul Swanburg, and the municipal staff. Tax collections in the municipality for 1961 were $27,426.90 higher than in the previous year, council was told.

The warden suggested that the councillors should familiarize themselves with the auditor's statement to know the past before going ahead.

Mr. Morehouse said he was disappointed that no action had resulted from efforts of

Little League Hockey News

Digby Minor Hockey League played its regular schedule as Minor Hockey Week began in Digby. Minor Hockey Week will be observed by a Minor League Night on Friday, Jan. 26, at the Forum, when the small fry will demonstrate their progress and ability to interested parents at the Forum.

Last week's Minor Hockey news reported the Victorias edging the Flyers 3-2. We regret this was an error as the final score of this Midget league game was a 2-2 tie.

The Paperweight Blue Devils racked up their third win of the season, and in a row by downing the League Leader Red Wings 3-0. The Devils' scorers were D. MacIntyre (A. Nixon, A. Wilson, A. Wilson (G. Nixon), A. Wilson (G. Nixon, G. Stonehouse).

The Paperweight Maple Leafs took over the top spot in their league when they shut out the Black Hawks 5-0. R. Barr scored three goals in this contest. Goals scored were as follows: R. Barr (D. Barr, A. Thomas), R. Barr (unassisted), G. Winchester (T. Mudge), T. Mudge (G. Winchester) and R. Barr (B. Davis).

The Pee Wee Canadians came back the Rangers with a 3-1 score at $3.00. Canadians' marksmen were J. Black (unassisted), G. Hewitt (unassisted) and J. Black (unassisted).

Rangers' singleton was by D. VanTassel (R. MacPherson).

DRHS Highways And Byways

(By Carolyn Arnold)

On Wednesday the Weymouth boys' and girls' basketball teams played against the Digby Senior A teams in Digby. Although both teams upheld the spirit of their respective schools admirably, the winner was Digby. The scores were as follows:

Digby vs Weymouth, girls - 44-5.

Digby vs Weymouth, boys - 46-8.

Thursday, the auditorium was the scene of an engaging debate between the Vikings, supported by Ronald Winchester, Margaret Black and Alex MacNutt, and the Silverdarts, supported by Marilyn Atkinson, Henry Lewis and Carolyn Arnold. The subject for debate, "Resolved that fallout shelters should be compulsory," was won by the Silverdarts, who upheld the affirmative.

The high school basketball teams travelled to Bridgetown on Friday evening. The scores for the four games played are as follows:

C.D. Committees Learn Duties

Committees of the Civil Defence organization in Digby received a briefing on their duties when Donald Machum, Wolfville, zone director, met with members of the organization on Monday night in the fire hall. Appointment of a committee chairman does not solve the problem of a C.D. committee, Mr. Machum said. Study, obtaining knowledge of how to do a job so that the group gathered around the chairman can also learn the job were considered the first steps to be taken by a committee chairman.

The meeting was presided over by Thomas Cleveland, coordinator of C.D. in the Town of Digby, and the speaker was introduced by Reigh Jayne, chairman of the C.D. committee of the town of Digby who also gave an outline of what C.D. setup in Digby and what has been accomplished to date.

Mr. Machum introduced his subject by saying that the provincial and federal governments are both involved and lay down a pattern through the C.D. College at Arnprior. These plans are to be followed as nearly as possible with a purpose that eventually produce plans for each service on each level. The matter of welfare was taken as an example. It includes emergency registration and enquiry, feeding, housing, personal welfare and clothing. It is desirable, Mr. Machum said, that the director of welfare be a professional welfare man but in many communities this is not possible. The I.O.D.E. provincial headquarters has undertaken the job of registration and enquiry but many places do not have an I.O.D.E., so the director of welfare finds some one suitable for the job. Each job requires its own special training and knowledge, the director said. In the case of emergency clothing Salvation Army and Red Cross personnel can be drawn from as they have had knowledge along this line. The same applies to any of the C.D. services; having a chief is no good unless a group can be trained and taught under the chief.

The responsibility of a director is to educate as far as possible in the conduct of C.D. This can be done, the speaker said, by attending courses, reading, by taking an interest in C.D. A director must be able to advise people where to find out the things they need to know but cannot be expected to be an expert in all fields to be covered. A director, he said, must have the backing of the governing body and those selected as heads of committees in order to do a job well.

Civil Defence planning, Mr. Machum continued, is done on assumption; Digby works on various assumptions: (a) that it might have to receive a lot of people, 4,000 by provincial plan to be handled in a systematic way; (b) on the assumption that a bomb can be dropped.

Baptists Honor Men For Service

The Annual Business Meeting of the Baptist Church of Digby was held last Wednesday night in the church hall. The meeting was preceded by a supper served by the Men's Project Committee and assisted at serving by members of C.G.I.T. J. J. Brittain was appointed chairman of the meeting.

Reports from all the officers, boards, committees and organizations of the church showed a year of progress and achievement in many respects. The report of the Christian Youth Council and the various youth groups which it sponsors, such as the Boy Scouts, the Cubs, C.G.I.T., Explorers, and the Junior and Senior Baptist Youth Fellowship pointed to an increase in enrolment in all these groups. The Sunday School also reported a substantial increase in pupil attendance.

The Women's Missionary Society indicated a membership of 18 women in the group and receipts last year amounted to about $280.00. The Women's League had raised in the vicinity of $950.00, the greater part of which had been given to the church. The Youth Council reported the purchasing of a Bell & Howell film-strip and slide projector, over half of the cost being raised by the young people, and the balance being paid out of the annual allotment for youth work. The Men's Project Committee announced the purchasing of a new Gestetner duplicating machine for the use of the church.

Impressive Service U.C.W. Inaugural

Rev. E. H. Hughes delivered the sermon for the inaugural service of Sunday morning at Grace United Church when officers and conveners of committees were dedicated to do the work of the new United Church Women's organization and the church of which they are a part. Mr. Hughes gave a brief sketch of the work of the two former organizations, W.M.S. and W.A., on the national level. He outlined the reasons for integration of all women's work in the church and for the closer relationship in the work of men and women on each level of the church's work, particularly as it affected the overseas mission work. Previously part of the Home and Overseas mission work had been carried on by the Woman's Missionary Society and part by the Mission Boards of the church. These have been integrated and a new administrative board set up for the purpose.

Mr. Hughes placed before the women and the church as a whole, the great challenge before them particularly in the mission fields, one of which has recently been opened by the United Church in Brazil. He said that the new organization gave all the women of the church an opportunity to share in the total mission of the church and to have voice in the administration of the church's affairs.

The dedication was conducted by Rev. Mr. Hughes and the especially prepared order of service was conducted by Mrs. J. M. Wallis. The choir rendered the hymn "Hear Us O Lord" as a special selection for the occasion.

Those dedicated were President, Mrs. Bryson Denton; 1st vice president, Mrs. Clint MacInnes; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Elton Arnold; 3rd vice president, Mrs. Richard Milbury; recording secretary, Mrs. Burton Fleet; corresponding secretary, Mrs. William McLeod; treasurer, Mrs. Richard Baxter; representatives on Christian Education, Mrs. William Marshall and Mrs. Gerald Hoare; Representative on Official Board of Church, Mrs. Reginald Holdsworth.

Flowers were placed in the church in memory of the late Mrs. John Russell.

Davis received the prize for low score. Lunch was served by the men and further entertainment was provided by A. T. Grimmer, who, at the conclusion of his performance received just and prolonged applause.

So enjoyable and successful was the affair that the unanimous decision was that another such social evening will be held on Monday, February 5th.

Guide President Mrs. Anderson

Girl Guides held their annual meeting in the Lions Hall on Wednesday, Jan. 17th. Officers for the 1962 term are: Pres., Mrs. E. H. Anderson; Secy-Treas., Mrs. Russell Stonehouse; Badge Secy, Miss Louise Daley; Uniforms, Mrs. D. Comeau; Publicity, Mrs. Earle Morrell.

Special thanks were extended to Mrs. Robert Bearne, Guide Captain and Mrs. Robert Morgan, Brown Owl and assistants, each of whom had given freely of time and effort to the children of Digby, stimulating their interests and energy in the many phases of Guiding.

In a year end review it was noted that in addition to weekly meetings the Guides and Brownies had conducted two successful cookie days, attended Church parade, in May attended a District Rally in Bridgetown and in October a Rally in Lunenburg for Western Nova Scotia. They were inspected by World Guide Leader, Lady Baden Powell.

Girl Guide camp was held the end of August at Saint Ann's Camp, eight Digby Guides attended.

Many Digby residents expressed their great pleasure in listening to the Guides and Brownies singing carols the Thursday before Christmas.

The Lionettes catered for a mother and daughter banquet in November, with more than 120 attending. Mrs. Roy Laurence, Provincial Training Commissioner, was guest speaker. Each company had a project on display. Mrs. Laurence conducted an enrollment service with the Guides and Brownies enrolled. Two Brownies were presented with their golden bears.

The Lion's Club donated their hall for weekly meetings and all special occasions. They supplied the transportation to out of town rallies and were responsible for the large number of girls being able to go to Lunenburg to meet their world leader.

To Observe Youth Week

Youth Week in the Baptist Church of Digby will be observed with a number of special youth activities. Next Sunday all the young people of the congregation including members of the Sunday School, C.G.I.T., Boy Scouts, Cubs, Explorers, and the Baptist Youth Fellowship, will attend the morning worship service in a body and occupy seats reserved for them and their teachers and leaders. The C.G.I.T. group will occupy the choir loft. The service will be conducted by the pastor.

On Saturday evening, February 3rd, there will be a Youth Rally in the church hall at 6:30 p.m. Supper will be served to all who come. This will be followed by a program of skits, stunts, pictures and singing by the various youth groups.

On Sunday, February 4th the morning service will be conducted by a team of students from Acadia University. The evening service will be sponsored and conducted by members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship.

The Junior and Senior groups of the Baptist Youth Fellowship held their monthly week night service on Wednesday evening with a large attendance. Members of the C.G.I.T. group were present with nearly all their members, along with members of the Scout group as well as other young people of the congregation.

The Junior group of the Fellowship, with Doreen Atkinson as leader, conducted the devotional service. This was followed by a business period for each group with Councillors, Wendell Collins and Mrs. Heather Fiefield assisting. An interesting series of slides concerning the Canadian Baptist missionary work in Bolivia were shown, with the script being read by Gloria Joudrey.

Bernice VanTassel conducted an interesting Bible Contest which was greatly enjoyed by the contestants, and a number of games were played. Before the meeting was brought to a close refreshments were served.

Board Drive For Membership

Thirteen members of the Digby Board of Trade met at the Cornwallis Cafe on Monday to lay plans for the resuming of meetings of the Board for 1962.

Mrs. Reigh Jayne volunteered to assist Ralph MacIntyre on the membership drive and to have a list of members prepared for the first meeting of the year called for January 30. Membership fees were set at $5, business, and $2, personal membership.

J. J. Brittain and Mrs. Helen Anthony (with power to add) were named on a nominating committee to report at the January 30 meeting. A committee will line up the agenda for the evening.

At the meeting on Monday, presided over by president, John Nichols, subjects of varied interests were discussed. One mentioned was the "Shelburne Road" which had come under discussion at various former Board of Trade meetings in Digby. MacIntyre said that only 20 miles of the road were left to open. He saw many advantages in having the road opened, one being the possibility of enough freight going through Digby to induce the CPR in putting on a new ferry service.

A letter from City Councillor Pierre MacIntyre, Gloucester, was shown in reference to discussions on a Gloucester - Nova Scotia ferry service. A letter had gone to Gloucester from the Digby Board of Trade pointing out the advantages of using Digby as a port for the ferry.

Cougars Victors

Al Simmons and Joe Arsenault each scored twice to pace Cornwallis Cougars to a 7-3 victory over Digby Ravens in a Western Valley Hockey League game at Cornwallis Friday night.

About This and That

Fight Fires

Step six to the "Eleven Steps to Survival", the Emergency Measures Organization pamphlet on National Survival, points out that fire will create much of the destruction which will follow a nuclear attack.

Knowing how to prevent and fight fires at home and at work reduces the number of peacetime fires — it will also reduce the number of fires caused by a nuclear explosion.

It is anticipated that serious fires will extend up to 9 miles and some fires up to 20 miles from the point of burst of the bomb. The heat from the fireball lasts about 15 seconds — it will start fires many of which can be put out with water and extinguishers. If each survivor was able to put out a fire, mass fires would not take place.

The question is raised — how can you fight fires in the presence of fallout. From five to fifteen miles from the centre of the explosion there may be many survivors. Fallout will not start coming down for about a half hour. It is during this half hour that survivors should inspect their houses and put out all the small fires they can — you cannot rely on the fire department.

The heat flash from the fireball entering through windows and doors could set fire to curtains, clothes, furniture and papers, or even to trash in the back yard. If people learn to put out small fires it may prevent a conflagration which is always dreaded.

Isn't Polio Licked?

When the Salk vaccine became available and after the efforts of the department of public health and the polio foundation it was thought we were hearing the end of polio. And the statistics seem to indicate polio is on the run. Yet, the March of Dimes is conducting their annual campaign for funds and asking us to fight polio. Why? Isn't polio licked?

The March of Dimes answers us — "Until every man, woman and child in Nova Scotia has been vaccinated and until the ravages of past epidemics have been corrected polio isn't licked and this will take a long time to do. They point to the last five years when they have spent over $432,000.00 on prevention and rehabilitation and still have over 1,000 crippled polio victims who look to them for the help supplied by the March of Dimes program. They look for special orthopedic boots, for crutches, wheelchairs, special medical consultations and transportation as well as assistance with their education and economic resettlement. They, along with other handicapped, look to new leaf enterprises, Nova Scotia's only sheltered workshop, started and operated by the March of Dimes — they don't only look for it, they need it and must have it.

We have, therefore, concluded that polio isn't licked and as in past years we recommend this charity to all our readers for their charity.

BAPTISTS HONOR MEN

 The Treasurer, Mr. E. Scott Eaton, in his report, showed that there had been a very considerable increase in contributions for both current expenses and the Missionary and Extension Fund, and with a substantial surplus in the current account. He had forwarded to denominational headquarters $1500.00 toward the Missionary and Extension Fund, and the balance owing on the allotment to Acadia University had also been paid in full. The total amount, including contributions from the W.M.S., for Denominational, Missionary and Benevolent purposes exceeded the $2,000.00 mark.

In his report the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, indicated that 25 new members had been received into the membership of the Digby and Hill Grove churches during the year, 19 of these by Baptism and the remainder by transfer. In his report the pastor made the following recommendations:

1. That 1962 should see a broadening of the scope of men's work and activities in the church.

2. That a program of lay visitation to Baptist homes in the area be undertaken sometime during the year.

3. That a planning committee be set up to make a survey of the physical requirements of the church over a period of several years.

4. That an effort be made to increase the number of subscribers in the congregation to

Hon. R. A. Donahoe

Hon. R. A. Donahoe, Minister of Public Health for Nova Scotia, today announced the appointment of Dr. Stanley R. Kryszek, of Windsor as director of medical services for the provincial civil defence organization.

Mr. Donahoe said Dr. Kryszek's duties will be to set up and maintain an emergency medical services in the event of a major disaster.

Dr. Kryszek was born in Poland in 1917 and attended medical school at the University of Warsaw. At the outbreak of the Second World War, he joined the Polish armed forces. After a short period of internment in Roumania, he made his way to England.

Dr. Kryszek received his medical degree from the University of Edinburgh in 1942 and served with the Allied forces in the Middle East, Italy and France.

After the war he worked as resident medical officer in England and later spent five years in Southern and Central Africa as a medical officer, colonial service and industrial medical officer.

He arrived in Nova Scotia in 1953 and practiced medicine in Brooklyn, Hants Co.; later moving to Windsor where he now lives with his wife and daughter. Dr. Kryszek assumes his new duties January 1, 1962.

Hunter's Report

A great number of Nova Scotia big game hunters have not mailed the blue report cards which indicate deer kill, areas hunted, hours spent hunting and money expended during the hunting season, an official of the department of lands and forests said today.

The delay in sending the cards to the department is holding up the compilation of statistical reports, he continued.

Regulations call for the cards to be mailed within seven days after the end of the season which ended November 30.

"Persons who do not send in the cards in the prescribed period of time are subject to a penalty under the Lands and Forests Act. A section of the act states that persons delinquent in reporting may lose their hunting privileges for a period of two years and may also be subject to a fine."

If a hunter has lost the report card a letter should be sent to the department relating the information required, he suggested.

These recommendations were endorsed by the meeting.

The pastor also expressed his warm appreciation of the hearty support and cooperation given in the work of the church during the year by all groups and individuals. He made special mention of the 42 years of service given by Mr. M. C. Denton as Clerk of the Church who now steps down from this office. Mr. J. J. Brittain was appointed the new Clerk, and Mr. Denton will act as assistant clerk. Mr. C. M. Levy was elected to the office of Deacon to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Mr. G. R. Weir.

A happy feature of the occasion was the presentation of Bibles to C. M. Levy who has completed over 25 years of service as Superintendent of the Sunday School, and to J. W. Christie who has been the Finance Secretary and Registrar of Church Funds for the past 28 years.

Oriental Offering

The popularity today of Chinese food is indisputable, readily attested to be the availability of the essential ingredients. In addition to specialty food shops, most supermarkets now stock soy sauce, water chestnuts, bamboo shoots, bean sprouts, and other typical Chinese ingredients that provide the characteristic subtle flavoring and crunchy texture. The following recipe for Chinese Fish Cakes is authentic. The small patties, crisp with vegetables, are set off by a pungent sauce brightly flecked with pineapple and green pepper bits — a delightfully different dinner dish that will also do you proud as a hot canape feature. For canapes, spear the cakes with toothpicks so guests can dunk them in the sauce.

Chinese Fish Cakes

1½ lbs. uncooked whitefish or other fish fillets
½ cup raw, fat pork or bacon
1 cup water chestnuts, bamboo shoots and/or bean sprouts
1 tablespoon preserved ginger
½ cup blanched almonds (optional)
2 tablespoons soy sauce
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon sesame oil

Grind fish very fine in meat grinder or blender. Grind pork, (Bacon may be used but the fat pork has more desirable flavor for this dish). Coarsely chop water chestnuts, bamboo shoots and/or bean sprouts. Finely chop ginger and almonds. Blend vegetables, ginger and nuts with fish and fat pork. Blend in soy sauce, cornstarch and sesame oil. Form into small cakes or patties. Fry in deep fat heated to 370 degrees F., until golden brown, about 3 minutes. Makes about 6 main dish servings, or 12 to

Washing Glassware

According to time and motion studies, fifteen years of a woman's life are spent cooking and another ten washing dishes, pots and pans.

When washing glassware, remember that glass can be broken by sudden temperature changes, so if glasses have just held iced drinks, don't put them in hot water or hold them directly under the hot water faucet. Be extra careful with stemware; hold it by the base of the bowl, not by the stem. For sparkling crystal, add bluing or ammonia to the rinse water, then rinse again in clear water. Ammonia is also helpful for cleaning vinegar cruets; a chlorine bleach solution for flower

Sweet-Sour Sauce
¾ cup pineapple juice
½ cup vinegar
1 tablespoon soy sauce
½ cup water
3 tablespoons cornstarch
½ cup sugar
¼ cup coarsely chopped green onion
½ cup green pepper strips
½ cup small chunks pineapple, well drained

Combine pineapple juice, vinegar, soy sauce and half of the water. Bring to the boil.

Meanwhile blend cornstarch and sugar with remaining ½ cup water. Stir into pineapple juice mixture, and cook stirring, until thickened, smooth and clear. Just before serving add green onions, green pepper and pineapple. Keep over very low heat so sauce stays hot, but vegetables don't cook. Makes about 1½ cups sauce. Note: To those unfamiliar with Chinese seasoning, soy sauce takes the place of salt in many recipes, as well as adding special additional flavor.

vases; baking soda for glass coffee-makers. Use a soft brush or old toothbrush to clean the indentations on cut, etched or pressed glass.

Any glassware except hand-painted pieces can be machine washed. Packs in many washers are adjustable to accommodate extra tall glasses, but after loading, shut the cabinet carefully to be sure the glasses clear. Many models dispense a wetting agent into the rinse water that helps prevent streaking and spotting. Chlorinated detergents can do this too. If cut or pressed glassware has small depressions that collect water, it may need to be dried with a towel.

Hot foods or liquids can easily crack a cold glass. When you pour hot tea over ice, for instance, put a metal spoon in the glass to offset the extreme change of temperature.

In The Encyclopedia

If you are one of those who cannot look up "groche" in the dictionary without going on to "grout", "grum", or even "guidon" try finding something in the encyclopedia. You won't get what you're looking for, but you will find that —

An anthracite is named from Macassar, hair oil in general use in the 19th century. Apartment houses have existed for centuries. Among North American Indians the most noted were the long houses of the Iroquois. These were divided into separate bays, one for each family. In the cities of the Roman Empire because of urban congestion, four stories were common. Six, seven or eight were occasionally used.

April, according to traditional etymology, is derived from the Latin aperire, to open, in allusion to its being the season when trees and flowers begin "to open".

In a Dutch auction, the auctioneer offers the property at successively decreasing amounts until one of his offers is accepted. Nowadays this is seldom used. The actual method of bidding at auctions varied from time to time. At one time in England it was common practice to sell by "pitch of candle", the person making the last bid before the candle went out becoming the purchaser.

Bachelors have in many countries been subjected to penal laws. At Sparta, citizens who were unmarried after a certain age suffered various penalties. In winter they were compelled to march around the market place singing a song composed against themselves and expressing the justice of their punishment.

Treats For A Toddler

Toddlers have definite ideas about food. By the time youngsters are two years old they register this fact in no uncertain terms. Make sure you respect your youngest generation, says Celly Brownstone, Associated Press Food Editor.

If your youngster doesn't like one vegetable, don't try to make him eat it. Serve him other vegetables that he does like. There are lots from which to choose.

Go slow when you are introducing a toddler to a new food. One new food at a time should be the rule. And use a little guide! Introduce the new food on a menu that's made up of old standbys that he particularly likes.

Snacks are important to toddlers. Crisp vegetables to eat out of hand and small glasses of tomato juice they can pour themselves are fine for mid-mornings. A few plain crackers spread with peanut butter or cottage cheese mixed with chopped raisins may be offered.

Make servings small for toddlers. A plate heaped with food is discouraging. It's better to let them ask for seconds.

SPECIAL WELCOME

The council went on record of supporting two resolutions from Yarmouth. The first dealt with education in which the municipality was requested to support a resolution petitioning the Government of Nova Scotia to seek greater share of costs of education from the federal government or requesting along with all other provinces in Canada that the federal government take over the full costs of education on a national basis. The resolution stated that the cost of education had reached the saturation point for the towns and municipalities in Nova Scotia, that the burden of the cost of education now interfered with carrying out of essential services in town and municipalities and that the taxpayers are overburdened with taxes and cannot possibly be asked to pay for further raise in education costs.

The other resolution in the interest of the tourist trade requested support in seeking equalization of purchases for both Canadians and Americans visiting both countries at no less than $200 per person.

A resolution requesting support for a regional library for Yarmouth, Shelburne and Digby counties was tabled until report could be heard from the Digby town and county committees on the library. It was also moved that Miss Alberta Letts, director of regional library services for the province be invited to meet the council.

The grant of $500 toward the Mental Health Board was made after presentation of the needs was made by Dr. R. A. Armstrong.

Joseph Steadman, Smith's Cove, and Rev. Willard Clayton, Acadiaville, appeared before the council with similar requests. Both requested on behalf the citizens that the municipality sell school houses in their respected villages at a nominal sum for community needs. The Smith's Cove citizens sought purchase of the school as a community centre where public and social gatherings for both young and old could meet and where teas and concerts could be held. In a house to house canvass, Mr. Steadman said that 85 per cent of the citizens were in favor of the centre. Mr. Clayton's request was to have the school building for use in a community wide program of study. He pointed out that the economic and social conditions of the community had deteriorated due to lack of employment and

W.M.S. Meets

The January meeting of the Weymouth United Baptist Missionary Union was held at the home of Mrs. Scott Kinney on Tuesday evening with the president, Mrs. C. R. Barkhouse in the chair. Scripture, Psalms 51, was read after which 14 members answered roll with a suitable verse or poem. Memory verses followed in unison. The lesson entitled "At the Border" was presented by Mrs. C. R. Barkhouse, Mrs. Willis Mulen and Mrs. Ronald Kinney. It was followed by a prayer session. A solo was rendered by Mrs. George Wagner. At the close of the meeting a social period followed when refreshments were served by the hostess.

incentive. Such conditions he said had engendered a pathy and a lack of personal pride and an increased burden on welfare rolls. He felt that instruction in skills as gardening, sewing, woodworking, handicraft and care of live stock would do much to improve the situation. He named several agencies, religious bodies and interested citizens who would help with the project if the school were available to them. A board of directors had been set up. Mr. Clayton said, and he recommended that the council make an appointment to the board. Mr. Clayton also appeared on behalf of fire protection for the Acadiaville and Jordantown district. In dealing with fire protection in general Councillor Gott recommended that the fire protection extend to a further three houses in Smith's Cove.

The matter of place of settlement for welfare persons came up but no action was taken when the council was requested to support a move to have settlement for persons in immediate residence rather than the usual 12 month residence period.

On Tuesday afternoon the council was addressed by D. J. Coulter, Director of Social Assistance for the Province of Nova Scotia. He dealt with the many considerations which must be made in dealing with people who appear to require assistance. Family ties, he said, are sometimes very strong and in many cases separation of children is not the best for families. It is up to the municipality, to judge, he said, how much assistance is needed in each individual case. Investigation into cases must be made for often the same story is not told to each person interested in a case. Special cases were brought to the attention of Mr. Coulter by councillors seeking advice in their particular areas. He noted that much time is spent in endeavouring to access a person's circumstances and felt that it is most advantageous to have one person's time in a municipality devoted to this. For such he said the government pays one half the salary, half the office space and equipment and half the travel expenses.

In discussion on the winter works program Mrs. Gott noted that little had been done in the Digby Municipality in regard to making beaches attractive for tourists while other municipalities in the province were taking action in this regard. No action on the matter was taken by council.

Wednesday morning was taken up principally with taxation discussions with J. Hubley, assessor. Mr. Derby Westport, felt more should be done in the regard to help the fishermen whom he said did not exceed $2,000 a year in wages and averaged about $1,200. Councillor Finigan suggested that boats of different sizes and classes should have different assessments according to handling, trawling and dragging. It was generally thought that care be taken in slashing assessments or a precedent would be set.

Lloyd Jefferson and Rev. Clayton appeared before the council on behalf of the newly formed Ratepayer's Association with items for attention and in cases recommendations about the following — amount of relief in the municipality, the case of old school houses going to ruin, dissatisfaction with handling appeals, advertising of expenditures in the local paper, advantage taken of the winter work's program to relieve ped anywhere; (c) that Digby will be subject to fallout. Plans must be made for those positions and not much can be accomplished without training. In Digby as far as records show there has been no training completed during the past two or three years except in Home Nursing, a Red Cross activity. Records show that 20 are trained. The idea of the Home Nursing is that these people might be better able to look after their own home and that of their neighbor in emergency or be on call for assistance to help a nurse.

The police committee is an important one according to Mr. Machum. In an emergency the problems of the police chief and auxiliary police could be immense. Increased crime can be expected such as looting besides the enormous traffic problem. Training is required for this phase of C.D. Mr. Machum said. In declaration of emergency all police become provincial police, and constables provincial constables under direction of the R.C.M.P.

Hospital emergency plans are carried out under guidance of a doctor, the speaker said. A school can be planned for emergency hospitalization with a medical man as head of plans. Under medical supervision there can be a provincial stock pile of drugs.

In all phases of C.D. work such as communications, transport, radiation monitoring, etc., the zone director emphasized that the only thing which counts is the ability of people to carry on in event of emergency.

LOCAL & PERSONAL

Mrs. Nora Abrams is leaving for Truro where she will spend the remainder of the winter.

eney. The organization and plans are most important.

In referring to recent statements regarding C.D. in Digby, Mr. Machum said that none of the complaints could be retracted on the basis of information they had to go on but assured the committee that their every desire was to assist in every way. Statistics and plans, he said, which are carried in somebody's head are of no use. The whole plan must be laid out on paper.

His Worship Mayor V. L. Bent, thanked Mr. Machum for coming to Digby and outlining the duties of various committees. He said that the recent spurge of publicity was not without its beneficial effects. He briefly traced the history of C.D. in Digby and paid tribute to the work done by Ralph Wright without remuneration and also to what had been done by Mr. Cleveland in carrying on the work which was started. Mr. Bent recognized the fact that a laxity in reports on the local scene was crippling to information and processing of complete reports on zone and provincial levels.

The Baptist Auxiliary will assist Mrs. Jean Olson on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. W. D. Blodgett, Mrs. Irvin Reiss, Halifax, is visiting at the home of parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davis, Lighthouse Road.

Addresses H. & S.

Digby Neck Home & School held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, January 11, in the school auditorium, with the president, Mrs. Emdon Morehouse, presiding.

After a short business meeting Mrs. Bailey Gidney, health convener and guest speaker, had an interesting health program — its ways and means to acquire good health.

Five members of Home & School took part in talks and demonstrations as follows:

1. How to administer drugs and the necessary precautions to take when drugs are being used.
2. On health and is it important. A demonstration on how to erect the body when stooping, bending and lifting.
3. Application to use when treating burns and a demonstration on how to apply a dressing to a broken or injured arm.
4. Demonstration on how to apply simple dressing and how to fill the hot water bottle properly.

5. Demonstration on what to do in treating a person with a nose bleed and how to apply a tourniquet in case of severe bleeding.

Mrs. Gidney stressed the importance of being prepared for the sudden emergency that occurs in the home.

Entrance To Highway From Weymouth School

Above shows the entrance to highway from the Consolidated School at Weymouth. The Digby Municipality voted $200 to be paid to the Village of Weymouth to fill in an area so that students would not have to come directly onto a dangerous curved highway to travel, the only course via causeway, from the school.

Municipal Council Closes Session

The sessions of the Digby Municipal Council came to a close on Saturday noon by prayer led by Eugene Out-house making a fitting climax to deliberations which opened with an impressive swearing in ceremony.

Saturday morning was taken up with several items which had been earlier introduced. One was the request for financial assistance to fill in the area where the causeway meets the highway coming from the Weymouth Consolidated School so that students could walk inside the fence, presently there, instead of going directly off the causeway to the curved highway. Clyde Cosman and John Cosman explained the situation as very dangerous. The matter which had come before previous councils was explained as previously the request seemed to be in the nature of a sidekick to run for considerable more distance from the school area. The council voted a grant of $200 to the village of Weymouth to construct the necessary diversion of the causeway.

The matter of the two schools, Smith's Cove and New Conway, which were requested for community purposes was to be referred to the Municipal School Board for their consideration and a report presented to the municipal council in May when it would be further dealt with by the council. The case of the Smith's Cove school had been presented earlier in the week on behalf of the Smith's Cove citizens by Joseph Steadman. This school was requested for a community centre. The New Conway school was requested for a place to meet for a community wide study program and the case was laid before the council by Rev. Willard Clayton.

A committee was appointed to meet with committees from the Digby town council and the Municipality of Clare to investigate possibility of building a recording office at Weymouth. It is understood the province will be asked to assist.

Council resolved to amend bylaws to provide for an increase in the salaries of council members and the municipal warden. Salary of council members will be increased from $250 to $400 annually. The warden's from $150 to $200. It was also decided to pay welfare officers in the municipal districts an annual salary of $25.

C. E. Edwards, inspector of schools, addressed the council on several aspects of school programs. He expressed his appreciation of the move the Digby Board of School Commissioners had made and the understanding of the problems shown in regard to the consolidating of the New Conway school with Digby. The happy results of the program, he said, would probably not be felt for years.

He mentioned the enrichment and progress which were brought to the classrooms of the municipal schools last year in the new supervisory program. This, he said, gave expanded opportunity for pupils and teacher growth. Now that the school building program is nearing completion he felt the next task was to strengthen the school program within the classroom. One phase in which Mr. Edwards thought work could be done was to set up auxiliary classes for children not able to cope with the regular school program. He also dealt with a new course implemented this year in Grade X which is being worked out in four "pilot" schools in Nova Scotia. The course is especially designed for pupils who will not be going on to university and not interested in academic subjects. This program will be continued into Grade XI and possibly XII. Mr. Edwards said "We have an obligation to provide an educational program for all our boys and girls. It is not good enough to contribute to the failure of youth.

In answer to questions raised by the Digby Co. Ratepayers' Association the warden put forth statements which were authorized to be sent to the association as a reply from the council. He said all were concerned about welfare re-

Grace United Marks Youth Week

Youth service was held in Grace United Church on Sunday morning when all the youth organizations of the church were in attendance.

George Holdsworth led the worship service with the YPU assisting. Keith Hawkins led the congregation in the unison reading of scripture and Miss Valerie Squire read the story of the prodigal son from the Revised Standard Version. Miss Valerie Holdsworth and Carl Dugas led the congregation in prayer. A large congregation enjoyed the Junior Choir as they sang "Jesus Tender Shepherd, Hear Us" and "See The Shining Dewdrops", under the leadership of Mrs. R. H. Hughes. In response to the minister the Explorers, CGIT, Cubs, YPU and Scouts stood and repeated their Purpose or Promise before the congregation.

Rev. R. H. Hughes took as his text Isaiah 43, verse 1: "I have called thee by thy name (that art mine)." He emphasized that each one was known personally to God. That God called because He had a prepared plan for each life. That God called because we are His by creation and redemption. God is only claiming what is His by right.

During the week each youth group is doing something special to mark Youth Week in the life of the church. On Thursday evening the CGIT and young people of the church are invited to attend the YPU when Miss Edith Lynch will show slides.

Board Receives Telegram Re Bounty

John Nichols, president of the Digby Board of Trade, received a telegram on Wednesday from Brig. Victor deB. Oland, president of the Halifax Board of Trade, regarding raising necessary funds to bring the H.M.S. Bounty replica back to Nova Scotia. The telegram, one of 64 sent to boards of trade in Nova Scotia, said "In view of the tourist industry of Nova Scotia, will you run a campaign in your area to raise funds from the public to assist in return of the Bounty?"

The world-wide publicity given this ship would attract many people, and will certainly advertise the name Nova Scotia throughout the world." The move followed a statement by Premier Robert Stanfield it is understood, that if persons in favor of bringing the Bounty to Nova Scotia and preserving it here, were prepared to form an organization to raise necessary funds, he would be willing to recommend that the province make a reasonable grant to assist them. The Bounty project had to be ranked below a number of projects deferred in Nova Scotia through lack of funds, it is understood that the premier had stated.

Digby Captures Trophy

Dick Levy and Dave Daley, skips for one of the three Digby rinks, captured the J. Pink & Co. Trophy as the first regional Lions curling bonspiel was held Saturday at the Yarmouth Curling Club.

Fourteen Lions teams, representing clubs in Kentville, Digby, Meteghan, Yarmouth and Bridgewater, took part in this first and successful event originated by the Yarmouth Lions, with the co-operation of the Yarmouth Curling Club.

The bonspiel was a double-knockout affair and Levy, who mates for Garnet Neville on the Digby Curling Club team in the coming Consols bonspiel, went through undefeated, reaching the finals by winning over fellow townsman E. VanTassel in the semi-finals. In the other semi-final bracket, skip Dennis Saulnier, of Yarmouth, won over Kentville's H. Taylor, and then lost to Levy to take the runner-up spot.

Summer Visitor Passes

Many friends in Digby were saddened to hear last week of the death, after a short illness, of Miss Eleanor Voorhees, at Princeton Hospital, New Jersey. Miss Voorhees, with her uncle, Walter Moses, have been summer visitors in Digby for many years, having their summer home on the Shore Road. Of a kind and generous disposition, Miss Voorhees will be missed by many who knew her.

She was a member of the Episcopal Church in the USA and attended the Anglican Churches in Digby and parish-ees near during her visits here.

Interested in religious literature, Miss Voorhees collaborated in the preparation and production of an issue of the New Testament in cadence form, recently designed by Morton C. Bradley Jr., of Cambridge, Mass.

She is survived by one brother, John, of Plainfield, N. J., and her uncle, Walter Moses, with whom she has resided for a number of years.

"Democracy In Education Threatened"

In his address to the Digby Municipal Council last week, Mr. C. E. Edwards, Inspector of Schools made reference to what he considered the poor and often strained relationship between the local Board of School Trustees of the school sections of Digby and the Municipal School Board. At the annual meeting held in 1961 a total of 126 ratepayers only attended the annual school meetings held in the school sections of the Municipality. Mr. Edwards said and over half of whom attended at Weymouth and Tiverton when major school issues were under consideration. At the annual meeting held at Smith's Cove this year, five ratepayers only, including the trustees and secretary attended.

Mr. Edwards pointed out that the Municipal School Board in all probability would continue to be reluctant to delegate responsibility and authority, as it may under the Education Act, to school sections whose trustees apparently do not speak for all the ratepayers. The annual school meeting, he said, should be well attended, and the trustees selected with care. The possibility of combining the annual school meeting with the January Home and School meeting was mentioned, as a solution to the problem. Parents do show their interest in school, by attending Home and School meetings in large numbers. No improvement in the situation could be expected, Mr. Edwards said, as long as this apathy and disinterest continue. This is what leads to dictatorship in education, and dictatorship isn't good, he cautioned. The schools and the children belong to the people of the area served. Every parent should be interested in school problems at all levels, and particularly when the selection of teachers is at stake. Interest too, he said, should be shown by the citizens of the area in the landscaping of the school grounds. Money requested by sections for school purposes, through the annual school Budget submitted by the trustees, and not granted by the Municipal School Board, may by vote of the annual meeting, be collected in the consolidated section served by the school, along with Municipal rates. For this reason annual meetings in some sections until school section Budgets were reviewed and either approved or rejected by the Municipal School Board.

Both Councillors Marion Gott of Smith's Cove and Clyde Cosman of Weymouth, expressed their views on this important matter and hoped that the undesirable situation soon will be corrected. Both look forward to improvement in the relationship between local Boards and the Municipal School Board, and to a larger attendance at annual school meetings when ratepayers and trustees, as agents of the Municipal School Board, will assume greater responsibility for the educational programs of their areas. Inspector Edwards offered to meet with local Boards at any time to inter-

Honored For 25 Years Service

Frank Wilson, Point Prim Light, Bay View was recently honored by Gordon Baynes, Department of Transport, presented to him a 25 year service pin and a scroll. Mr. Wilson has been keeper of the light for 28 years but the pin was only recently presented.

While Mr. Wilson received recognition for 25 years service, Mrs. Wilson has lived at the Light for 51 years. She was the daughter of L. M. Ellis, Bay View and grand-daughter of William Ellis, both of whom were keepers of the light at Point Prim.

Honored For Services

Dr. G. V. Turnbull was honored on Wednesday when he was presented with a Long Service Award and pins for 15 years service with the Boy Scouts. The presentation of award badge was made by W. Marshall Black, B.A., LLd, Assistant Provincial Boy Scout Commissioner for the area. The pins were presented by Norman Wright, District Commissioner. Dr. Turnbull was Cub Master for 11 years and was founder of the District Scout Council in the area. He is president of the council.

The presentation was made at a small luncheon gathering at the Fundy Restaurant with the following in attendance: Dr. Turnbull, Mr. Black, Mr. Wright, Lt. Alan Posthumus and CPO Ted Duncan, HMCS Cornwallis, Scout Masters: Miss Valerie Squire, Cub Master; H. C. Morton, treasurer; Carl Warner, secretary and Mrs. J. M. Wallis, guest.

Mr. Wright introduced Asst. Commissioner Black, Kentville, who is also the recently appointed Judge of Juvenile Court. In a few general remarks Mr. Black said that he deals with boys from 7 to 16 years and the principle Scout ages were 13, 14 and 15, so they had much in common. The Scout Master, he said, had a golden opportunity for service to the community and to the boy in particular when the Scout comes from a home where the background is not always the best or the boy has had a difficult time. By companionship and influence, he continued, the Scout Master can be of much assistance to the boys at a most impressionable age. If there are problems with a Scout, he suggested, that the master go with the boy to his home or endeavour to meet the boy's parents and offer assistance which he might be able to give through his special training.

Teacher Education

A highlight of the year was the opening of the new Nova Scotia Teachers College academic building in Truro in September. This building houses classrooms, laboratories, library, lecture theatre and administration offices. The building will be formally opened early in 1962.

With the opening of the new teachers college higher entrance requirement became effective for teachers in training. Candidates for admission to the teachers college require a Grade 11 provincial certificate or its equivalent with an average of 60 on certain required subjects, and, in addition, a Nova Scotia Grade 12 provincial pass certificate or its equivalent.

At the same time a two-year program of teacher education was inaugurated. The studies of the two year program will be made up of one half professional courses and one half academic courses. One hundred and eighty-two students embarked on the two year program in September. The temporary one year program will be continued for a few years, after which the two year program will be required of all candidates for teacher training.

Hon. Robert L. Stanfield

During the last school year, 1,550 schools were in operation, containing a total of 6,470 classrooms in which 183,958 pupils were taught by 6,212 teachers. The enrollment represented an increase of 6,861 pupils, the second largest increase ever recorded in a single year in the number of pupils in the schools of the province.

There is a steady increase each year in the number of students writing the provincial examinations of Grades 11 and 12. This year 9,867 candidates wrote a total of 61,171 papers in these examinations, representing an increase of 1,103 papers over last year's total.

The great development of recent years in the provision of modern school buildings throughout the province continued during the past year. In 1960-61 a total of 68 building projects was submitted to the Department of Education for approval. Of this total 38 projects represented plans for new schools and 30 were expansions or major renovations of existing schools.

In this construction program a total of 375 new academic classrooms was involved.

A trend away from high school consolidation and toward elementary consolidation has become particularly evident. Only four of the 38 new schools were designed for high school use. It is noticeable too that the great majority of the schools being built are of the one story type, except on sites where the contours dictate the adoption of split level buildings and except urban and suburban areas where large school sites are difficult to obtain.

Local School Supervision

New regulations for remuneration of supervisory personnel on school staffs were in force for the second year.

They have caused an increase in the number of supervisors and this, together with a new four session course for supervisors at the Nova Scotia Summer school, the annual conference for the supervisory personnel of the province at Kentville and the assumption by supervisors in central high schools of supervisory work in the "feeder" schools, have all contributed to expanded and improved supervisory service in the schools.

Teacher Education

A highlight of the year was the opening of the new Nova Scotia Teachers College academic building in Truro in September. This building houses classrooms, laboratories, library, lecture theatre and administration offices. The building will be formally opened early in 1962.

With the opening of the new teachers college higher entrance requirement became effective for teachers in training. Candidates for admission to the teachers college require a Grade 11 provincial certificate or its equivalent with an average of 60 on certain required subjects, and, in addition, a Nova Scotia Grade 12 provincial pass certificate or its equivalent.

At the same time a two-year program of teacher education was inaugurated. The studies of the two year program will be made up of one half professional courses and one half academic courses. One hundred and eighty-two students embarked on the two year program in September. The temporary one year program will be continued for a few years, after which the two year program will be required of all candidates for teacher training.

Tenders were called for construction began on an auditorium-gymnasium for the new teachers college. Very shortly a dining hall and a residence to house 210 women teachers will be constructed.

Enrollment at the Nova Scotia Normal College in 1960-61 was 521 and in the university teacher training courses 467, both figures represent the largest enrollments to date by considerable margins.

Power "permissive" courses for persons who have been the case for many years.

This encouraged development may be attributed in part to the building of teacher schools through consolidation of small school sections, and to the increased enrollment at the teacher training institutions during recent years.

Curriculum

Work in development and adjustment of the curriculum continued as in previous years. Eleven committees on subject matter were active during the year in reviewing existing changes and preparing materials for the guidance and assistance of teachers.

The traditional curriculum of the elementary and secondary grades of our school system has now had an extensive revision and arrangements are in hand to keep it constantly under review.

Within the present so-called "academic" program some adaptation and adjustment are possible to meet the varying needs of both the academically inclined and the non-academically gifted pupils. For those not intending to continue on to university, however, it is clear that additional satisfactory provision must be made.

In an effort to ensure that the right kind of program is available for each pupil, the Department of Education is sponsoring, during the present school year, an experiment in four high schools in Nova Scotia to test courses which are intended for students not wishing to take the college preparatory courses in four of the subjects traditionally offered in the high schools. The experimental courses being evaluated are courses in English, mathematics, history and science for pupils whose formal education will either conclude with high school or be continued in non-university work. The four schools where the experiment is being conducted are the Middleton Regional High School, the Sidney Stephen District High School in Bedford, the Pugwash District High School and the Sydney Academy. The courses seem to be serving well the purposes for which they were designed.

It is expected that through the strong support of the participating school boards and the interest and effort of the principals and teachers concerned, this experiment will provide information to assist the Department of Education to decide whether or not courses of the general nature involved in the experiment should now be prescribed as part of the regular high school program of the public schools, and, if so, the conditions under which schools may be authorized to offer them.

This year, for the first time, a comprehensive compulsory oral examination in French was administered to all Grade 12 students writing the provincial examination in French.

The Curriculum and Research Section of the Department of Education began a study of changes during recent years in the fields of mathematics and science education, with a view to incorporating some of the new concepts in these subjects in revised courses for our schools, particularly in the junior and senior high school grades.

A long range testing project has been developed during the past seven years by the department to discover strengths and weaknesses of instruction in the fields of English, reading, arithmetic and spelling in the schools of the province. Testing of representative samples of pupils has been done progressively in Grades 3, 6, 9 and 11, a grade at a time each was to find out the strong points and weak points of the pupils, to compare their standards of achievement with those pupils elsewhere, to give an indication of where special attention is needed in the instructional program of the schools, and to reveal any changes in the achievement of pupils of the same grade level when tested during different years. In 1960-61 a sampling of Grade 9 pupils was tested in English and mathematics. This project has stimulated pupils in all grades and subjects and has provided revealing and helpful information on the weaknesses and strengths of the pupils.

Provincial Standards Project

A significant increase in interest in adult education of

Special Education

The department appointed, for the first time, an Inspector of Special Education to assist in establishing and operating special classes for exceptional pupils. It is expected that he will stimulate the provision of more adequate facilities for the education of children who cannot fit well into regular classes for average pupils.

University Students' Loan Fund

The Government of Nova Scotia provided $300,000 to the Government of Canada $100,000 for the University Students' Loan Fund of Nova Scotia. The total amount was used in loans to approximately 200 Nova Scotia university students beyond the first year of university.

Vocational Education

The Nova Scotia Land Survey Institute, the Nova Scotia Marine Engineering School and the Nova Scotia Marine Navigation School operated with higher enrollments than ever before, and the Vocational Evening Schools also had the highest enrollment in their history.

Vocational correspondence courses continued at slightly less enrollment than the previous year, but the Disabled Persons Training Program and the Unemployed Persons Training Program both operated with considerably higher enrollments.

The Halifax County Vocational High School added courses to its program and increased its enrollment. The Yarmouth County Vocational High School enrolled more students than last year.

Construction of the Cape Breton County Vocational High School was started in November.

A Vocational and Technical Training Agreement between the Government of Canada and the Government of Nova Scotia was ratified during the year. The agreement sets the terms upon which the federal government gives financial assistance for both capital costs and operating costs of programs of technical and vocational training.

The construction of the new Nova Scotia Trades and Technical Institute in the City of Halifax was commenced in December. It is expected that the building will be completed before the end of 1962.

Studies have been made concerning the provision of more vocational high schools in the province.

Commonwealth Technical (Vocational) Education Week was observed throughout Nova Scotia from May 29 to June 4. Plans for this week were made and carried out on both a Canada wide and provincial basis.

The Government of Nova Scotia, on the recommendation of the Minister of Education, established the Nova Scotia Manpower Training Advisory Council to study occupational needs and recommend appropriate training for both youth and adults of Nova Scotia.

Adult Education

A significant increase in interest in adult education of the part of school boards throughout the province was evident during the year. A large number of boards supported adult class programs in co-operation with the Adult Education Division of the Department of Education, making available for this purpose classroom facilities and other services. In addition, seven school boards appointed local adult class teachers.

This is an encouraging trend which will have the effect of providing a wide range of educational opportunities to an increasing number of the adult population. Under these arrangements adult education is recognized as an integral part of the public school system and local initiative and encouragement, as well as easily accessible educational services and facilities, are put at the disposal of the increasing numbers of those who are interested in continuing their education.

During the year 216 classes for adults were assisted by grants from the department. These classes were held in 14 counties and had a total enrollment of 3,176.

The department also assisted in the organization and conducting of 39 short courses in co-operation with a number of community organizations throughout the province. These courses were generally from one day to 12 evenings in duration and dealt with such subjects as community development, program planning and the development of special skills. Approximately 2,500 people attended the courses.

Three folk schools were held during the year, in Calceonia, Baddeck and Kennetcook.

Some 600 adults attended 21 short courses in music in various centres, and approximately 250 people attended study sessions in drama at short courses, workshops and residential schools. There were 25 classes in handicrafts for adults and a display of Nova Scotian crafts was requested and prepared for the Royal Highland Show in Edinburgh, Scotland.

Temperance Education

The temperance education program was carried on with three groups, high school pupils, teachers and the general public.

Among high school pupils the major activity centred in Allied Youth Posts of which five new ones were founded and one ceased operation for a net total of 37. The annual Provincial Allied Youth Rally at Easter (with more than 500 high school delegates in attendance), a training camp for officers of posts and the annual trip to the International Conference at Buck Hill Falls, Pennsylvania, which was attended by 43 delegates from Nova Scotia, were highlights of the year's activities.

Teachers were provided with literature (including the regular teaching guides) on the effects of alcohol, tobacco

Alfred C. Fuller

The appointment of Alfred C. Fuller to the Advisory Council of Education, Limited, was announced recently by F. H. Selby, President of the company.

Mr. Fuller is the sixth man to hold the position of international business finance to be appointed to the recently established council. He is chairman of the board of directors of The Fuller Brush Company, Hartford, Connecticut.

"The association that he has with the business life of Canada and the United States will make a great contribution to Industrial Estates Limited and the company's efforts to develop even further secondary industry in the Province."

He was born in Welsford, Kings County, January 13, 1885, a son of the late Leander Joseph and Phoebe Jane Fuller. He moved to Boston in 1903 and started his own business in 1906, making brushes at night and selling them during the day.

He later moved to Hartford and in 1913 the Fuller Brush Company was incorporated. He was the company's first president, remaining in this position until 1913 when he became chairman of the board.

Mr. Fuller has been given three honorary degrees, including a Doctor of Civil Laws from Acadia University in 1958. He has always maintained a close association with the Province of Nova Scotia, returning at frequent intervals with members of his family.

Presbyterian Meets Allocation

The Annapolis Presbyterian of the W.M.S. of the United Church of Canada met its allocation of $4675, it was learned at the executive meeting held at the home of Mrs. Harry Bath, Middleton, on Thursday. The meeting, presided over by the president, Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby, officially closed the W.M.S. organization on the Presbyterian level in the Annapolis Presbytery. The new Presbyterian for the United Church Women will hold its inaugural service at Bridgetown on February 15, it was announced.

According to the treasurer, Mrs. Elton Arnold, Digby, the W.M.S. auxiliaries in the Presbytery had raised $4193.84. Baby Bands $97.62, Mission Bands $101.92, Explorers $94.05, C.G.I.T. $59.04. A donation of $35.00 was received and an amount of $93.53 was transferred from the expense fund to meet the allocation of $4675. This left $12.53 in the expense fund to be transferred to the new organization, Annapolis Presbyterian United Church Women.

Reports showed that the work of the W.M.S. had been maintained in each branch to the close of the year December 1961. Mrs. Wallis thanked the officers for their splendid support during her tenure of office and thanked the hostesses who had so frequently opened their homes to carry on the work.

Obituary

David Russell Nickerson

Funeral services for the late David Russell Nickerson, 16, were held on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 23, with a brief private service for the family at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Nickerson, Weymouth. Many gathered at the home to escort the funeral procession to Heartz Memorial United Church where the public service was conducted by Mr. Fred Withers, pastor.

Fellow students of the Weymouth Consolidated School, were in attendance and six of them in the persons of Donald Payson, David Cosman, Gordon McDonald, Dennis Acres, Ross Hankinson and Berthard Mullen, acted as pall bearers, while numerous other young people and friends of the family filled the church and Sunday School room for the service. An augmented choir was present and the hymns "The Lord Is My Shepherd", and "Safe In The Arms of Jesus" were sung. Mr. Withers spoke briefly from the text "We know that we have passed out of death into life", 1st John 3:14 (R.S.V.).

Committal services were at the family lot in the United Church cemetery. The late David Nickerson was a member of the United Church of Canada, and was recently appointed an usher. On every hand expressions of sympathy for the bereaved were expressed and the large number of flowers, given in part, testimony to the sense of shock and loss sustained in the sudden death of this young high school student.

Little Thelma Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Marshall, entertained a number of her little friends at a birthday party, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walton Mullen of Tusket, visited the latter's sister, Mrs. Earle Marshall and Mr. Marshall, recently.

Buying Meats

Whether you plan meals day by day or a week at a time, the meat you buy is usually a prime consideration. And rightly so. Meat sets the tempo of a meal and determines, to a great extent, suitable vegetables and desserts to serve. The factors most influential in our choices are probably individual tastes and the amount of money we have to spend. Local market features and seasonal specials also guide us; so does the necessary preparation time. But whether it's stew meat or a prime roast, meat must be carefully selected and properly cooked to taste its best.

Meat is our richest source of high quality protein. It's also high in such valuable minerals as iron, copper and phosphorus, and one of our best sources of the important complex vitamins. Properly prepared, inexpensive meats make just as good eating and have the same food value, ounce for ounce, as more expensive roasts and chops. You can't make prime ribs of beef from a chuck roast, but you can serve chuck as a prize-winning pot roast. Meats high in protein are essential for all age groups, so make sure that each member of your family has at least four ounces of lean meat (or fish or fowl) daily.

Once home from the market, remove steaks, roasts, chops and ground meats from their store-wrappers promptly. Cover loosely with waxed paper, leaving the ends open. Store in the coldest part of the refrigerator or in the meat compartment tray. Chopped meats should be cooked within 24 hours or frozen for later use. Most other meats, when properly stored, can be kept safely for two or three days. Mild cured, smoked hams and bacon need the same careful refrigeration. Store them at 10 degrees F (coldest part of your refrigerator). Keep them no longer than two weeks and watch for the slightest trace of mold.

Municipal Patients Move

Plans for the moving of the patients from the Municipal Home in Marshalltown to other homes will commence this week with the transfer of six patients to the Municipal Home in East Hants.

Last year the Municipal Council decided to close the Home that has for the past approximately 60 years been in operation. All of the patients will not be moved at this time, but will leave when other accommodations can be made available to them, either at other homes or other institutions.

There has been no final word on when the Municipal building will be closed.

Winter Works Program Starts

Winter works program in Digby got started on Monday of this week. It was launched at a meeting of the town council on Monday night. Two projects are on the way, one at the South commons and one at the reservoir between Victoria Street and King Street.

The arbitration committee reported having met with a committee from the Digby Municipal Council and that sharing of costs remained the same as in the previous year, 40-60 percent, town and municipality.

A resolution was read from the Weymouth Board of Trade regarding a new building for Registry of Deeds. The town agreed to negotiate with those concerned.

Permission was granted to Henry Lewis to erect a processing and freezing plant on the West side of Birch St. between Halliday's and Jordan's on the North end. The building is to be 50 ft. in length.

Permission was granted to the Digby Branch Canadian Legion to bring the Denton shows to town from July 30 to August 4, to the Institute for Blind for a tag day on May 12 and to the Ladies Auxiliary of the Digby General Hospital to hold a tag day March 2.

A grant of $150.00 to the Salvation Army was passed to be included in the budget for 1962.

An item of $250 for Digby County Exhibition School prizes was passed to be one of the items in the joint expenditures of the Digby Municipality and town making the town share $100.

The report of the police showed that 10 complaints had been lodged with the police during the past month, seven required further investigation, one required court action. Four motor vehicle accidents were investigated.

The Streets committee reported a traffic light had been installed at the King and Carleton streets intersection. Further investigations were to be made on the Water St. lighting change which had been presented to the council by James Ayer at a previous meeting.

A special meeting of the Fire committee and the executive of the Digby Fire Department was held regarding the use of fire hose for supplying water to ships. The fire department felt this was a dangerous practice in case of fire and advocated the purchase of 1100 feet of hose.

The matter of having an office where the mayor of the town can meet visitors and keep files was placed before the council by Deputy Mayor Helen Anthony. It was suggested that the police office on the second floor be made available for this purpose and have the police office on the ground floor. Mrs. Anthony and Councillor Charles Hersey were named to look into the expense involved and possibilities of such an office.

Two visitors appeared before the council on different matters. E. B. Tufts presented an insurance matter and Mrs. Donald Young complained that "no parking between 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m." laws were not enforced on 1st Avenue.

Endorse Bounty Effort

The Digby Board of Trade on Tuesday evening endorsed the efforts of the Halifax Board of Trade and other bodies in bringing the Bounty replica back to Nova Scotia and decided to endeavour to raise $300 towards the cost. The matter, introduced by H. M. Warne, was supported by others who agreed that whereas the Bounty would be a tremendous asset to the province as a tourist attraction, and that Digby being a tourist town, the Digby Board of Trade should participate in efforts to bring the ship to the province where it was built. It was the hope that the Bounty would spend some time near Digby to attract tourists to the area. Letters endorsing the move were authorized to be sent to Premier Robert Stanfield, Com-

Red Cross Welfare Work

A report on Christmas welfare work was made at the January meeting of the Digby Red Cross Branch, held last week at the Court House. Mrs. George Wintfield reported that boxes of toys, mittens, hats, scarves, and socks had been packed by Mrs. D. J. Goss and herself for 17 families which included 80 children. Christmas dinners had been served at the Salvation Army to the company the night, which had been donated by 15 families in Acadia, MacShanown, Plympton, Centreville, Mount Pleasant and Digby town. Mrs. Wintfield expressed her thanks to Delbert Forrest for the many hours spent in making used toys look as good as new; and to Philip Woolaver for his assistance in delivering the parcels; also to the Eastern Star for wrapped gifts, Zelma Rebekah Lodge, $10, Conway Good Neighbor's Club, $10, and dressing dolls; Grace United Church for dressing dolls; and to the many other individuals who contributed clothing, toys, money and other assistance. A number of toys and mittens had also been contributed by her committee to the Salvation Army to assist with their Christmas boxes.

Mrs. Wintfield also reported that bedding had been procured from Red Cross Headquarters for a family of five whose home in Plympton was destroyed by fire in January, and that some dishes had been contributed by the Digby Branch. The report concluded with an urgent appeal for children's clothing, the supply of her committee being completely exhausted and many appeals being received from families in need. A request was also made to the Red Cross Branch for an advance to purchase dolls for next year's Christmas boxes, and the sum of $25 was voted to be paid by the ways and means committee.

Mrs. Harris is the former Blanche A. Ruggles, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Ruggles of Annapolis Royal. Mr. Harris is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Harris of Annapolis Royal.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris have two sons, Rev. Walter Harris, of Bedford, N. S.; and Len Harris of Saint John, N. B., and five grandchildren. Unfortunately the celebration planned had to be postponed as Mrs. Harris, due to sudden illness, spent the week in Digby Hospital. Many cards and messages were received from their friends.

Ski Trail Officially Opened

The ceremonies began when Allister Milner introduced Mayor Vernon L. Bent, Digby, and on behalf of the Bear River Board of Trade expressed wishes of success to Mr. Denton and Mr. Chute who developed the trail. His Worship Mayor Bent congratulated the people of Bear River in their initiative in providing ski trails, swimming pools, skating rinks for the youth and adults alike of the village. He could foresee, he said, that the ski trail being opened could develop into a tourist attraction for people from parts of Nova Scotia, Canada and U.S.A. He expressed confidence and hope that the venture would be most successful.

In a short address before cutting the ribbon Mr. Cardoza said he hoped this was the beginning of greater development of winter sports in the area such as snowshoeing, tobogganing, skating, etc., for Bear River has the potential with its hills for thrilling novices and for healthful winter outdoor sports. He said while the area has been developed as a tourist location for summer it has great possibilities for a Spring, Fall and Winter tourist resort also. He commended Mr. Denton and Mr. Chute on their initiative. The ski trail begins on a high hill near the former Bear River ball park and continues to a spot near the Digby County exhibition buildings. It includes a natural jump of no great challenge. Towing is provided by a tractor for this season but a regular ski tow and greater equipment are the plans of Mr. Denton and Mr. Chute in future winters. It is understood a toboggan run will also be operated in conjunction with the ski run.

Already ardent skiers from Wolfville, Halifax and near by towns have taken advantage of the sport in Bear River. Visitors from the Westworth Valley have pronounced the run an excellent one.

SPEAKS AT U.C.W.

INAUGURAL SERVICE

Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby, was guest speaker when inaugural services of the United Church Women were held on Sunday at the three points in the Bear River. Pastoral Charge viz Clementsport, Bear River and Smith's Cove.

Mrs. Wallis set before the congregations the vision of the future as seen through the new women's organization and as the women share responsibility with men on the boards of the church on all levels. She paid tribute to the two organizations, WMS and WA which had done excellent work in their day but which would not now be most advantageous in carrying on the work through the church's vision of the future. By the new organization there is a vision that all the women of the congregation will be united for the total mission of the church on the home front and overseas. Re-organization had been brought about to some extent, Mrs. Wallis said, through the recognition of the fact that missions overseas were "growing up" and seeking independence and equality. Many which had been dealing with women's missionary societies would now deal with church boards composed of men and women rather than with a total women's board. Mrs. Wallis said there is a greater challenge today than ever before that a Christian be a true witness to non-Christians both at home and overseas. The vision of the future of the new women's organization, the speaker said, would prove to be a great reality as the women give it an opportunity to do so. She referred to a sermon by Dr. George Birch who said that this was a Divine Act, that it is God who is ushering through the open door so that all women will be caught up into the total mission of the church. She charged the women not to impede the work by fear of the future, by discouragement, bickering, faultfinding or other impediment. Referring to the book of Joshua she quoted the words "be strong and of good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed; for the Lord thy God is with thee whosoever thou goest" and "all that thou commandest us we will do and whosoever thou sendest us we will go". "Into this new organization is where we women are sent", she impressed on the audience.

The services were conducted by the minister, Stewart Russell, assisted by the presidents of the United Church Women in each church — Clementsport, Mrs. Robert Kelough; Bear River, Mrs. C. Lazaruk; and Smith's Cove, Mrs. A. F. Ettinger.

The order of dedication was conducted by Mrs. Wallis. Following are the officers and committee heads:

IN OBSERVANCE OF NATIONAL ELECTRICAL WEEK FEBRUARY 11-17

In tribute to Thomas A. Edison, whose family were at one time residents of Digby, and other pioneers whose inventive genius launched the electrical era three-quarters of a century ago.

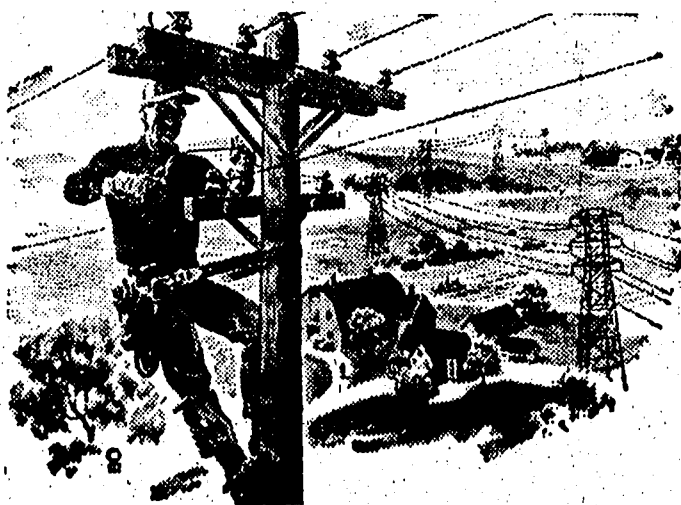

Do You Remember When?

We used the frost laden pump in the back yard? Mother used the old scrub board and tub? We had lopsided cakes baked in the old wood stove? Grandma read the Bible with a magnifying glass by the flickering light of the smokey oil lamp? The laundry froze on the clothes line? The milk and butter were kept cool in the well? Fresh fruit and vegetables were hardly available in the winter and meats spoiled in the heat of the summer?

Would You Like To Go Back?

Surely we would, all like to go back to those horse and buggy days . . . but only to reminisce. There were many happy times and pleasant thoughts but gradually each phase of this past was improved by modern inventions and the applied use of electrical energy. Electrical power has done more than any single development to improve our ways of living and complacency still has no place in electrical progress and engineers are still discovering and developing even greater things for us all.

Don't You Agree?

That National Electrical Week is therefore worthy of recognition? That National Electrical Week is a proper tribute to Thomas A. Edison, who opened the doors to our modern electric living that we enjoy today? Then let us wholeheartedly salute the pioneers in electricity who have done so much for humanity!

Harding Tells Of Electrical Benefits

Harold S. Harding, Bridge-water, who has recently been elected President of the Electrical Contractors Association of Nova Scotia, is keenly aware of the great achievements in electricity and looks forward to tremendous accomplishments in the future as is evidenced in his brief review of the industry.

Once each year, the people in Canada and United States who make up the electrical industry join forces to conduct a nationwide observance of National Electrical Week.

The purpose of National Electrical Week, February 11 to 19, is to focus attention on electricity's role in our economy and way of life, to point out its contributions to progress, and to honour those in the industry who rank as past and present pioneers.

The event is scheduled each February during the week of Thomas A. Edison's birthday. Edison's invention of the incandescent light marked the initial breakthrough to an era in which electricity changed the world's way of life. Along with the electric light, Edison developed control station generation and distribution of electricity. With this, electricity came out of the laboratory and into the homes, factories and farms.

The electrical industry has an impressive story to tell, and National Electrical Week offers the best opportunity for all segments to concentrate their individual efforts toward getting that story across to millions of people.

Electricity is such a convenient and useful force, and we use it so frequently that we tend to take it for granted. Electricity, probably more than any other source of energy, has been responsible for the high standards of living enjoyed by millions of people today. Our nation is more productive, healthier, wealthier and more secure — thanks in large part to the number of tasks that electricity performs.

Electricity stands ready to take on even more tasks for us — its abilities are boundless, and they need only to be called upon to service. In the past twenty years the number of electrical appliances found in the average home has almost tripled and it is still on the increase.

In order to operate today's appliances efficiently and to prepare for the increase, a house must have what the electrical industry calls FULL HOUSEPOWER. Yours may be one of the homes in the country which, according to the National Adequate Wiring Bureau, is inadequately wired. These symptoms of low HOUSEPOWER are familiar to many of us: fuses blow or

Agriculture Directors Attend Course

The first session of a two evening short course for directors of Digby County Federation of Agriculture was held on Monday night at the Maple Leaf Agricultural Building at Conway.

Charles Douglas, Director of Extension Department of Agriculture, traced the structure of the federation from the community level to the Canadian Federation.

Mrs. Nadine Archibald explained the function of each level and stressed the need for close liaisons between all groups. She pointed out that the federation was an organization and that it concerned itself with more than just farm problems.

Another speaker, Miss Yvonne Chaisson, of the Department of Agriculture, urged inclusion of women in discussion groups. She also said that there should not be too much dependence on outside help and that we should do more to help ourselves.

Rev. Mr. W. P. Clayton, an

circuit breakers trip too frequently, lights dim when other appliances are turned on, the television picture shrinks when other electrical equipment is in use, the necessity of unplugging one appliance before another can be plugged in, and the use of unsightly and dangerous "octopus" outlets. If your home shows signs of any of these warning signals, then it is time to do something about your wiring.

An electrical contractor will be able to determine very quickly whether or not the wiring is adequate to carry the electrical load that your family uses today. Any electrical work that is done in your home should be done by a qualified electrician. Electrical work is no field for amateurs.

One of the biggest contributions to electrical safety is the Canadian Electrical Code, which is used across Canada.

The purpose of this Code is to reduce the hazard of electrical fires and electrical accidents. It does this by spelling out the exact way in which electrical materials, devices and fittings are to be installed. If your home is wired in accordance with this Code, you can be sure that it is reasonably safe from electrical fires or accidents provided you keep the wiring properly maintained.

We are entering a new and truly remarkable electronic era, one in which people will find more and more ways to make electricity work for them. This is the electrical industry's message... not only during National Electrical Week, but every week of every year for many years to come.

DRHS Highways And Byways Resolution Includes Digby Ferry

On February 1st the D. R. H. S. hockey team competed against the Annapolis school team in Digby. The Digby team won, 3-1, Phillip Murley, Peter Croft and Ian Anderson scored the goals for the Digby team.

Last week the Senior girls basketball team again played the Weymouth team, the score was 59-11 in favour of Digby. The Weymouth team, which has been newly organized this year show great potentialities for future seasons.

On Wednesday, January 31, the High School curling team under the direction of Mr. R. Purdy, left for Dartmouth where they competed in the Nova Scotia School Boys Bonspiel. Following are the results of the draws in which Digby played:

Digby vs Bridgetown — 6-7
Digby vs Wolfville — 9-3
Digby vs Yarmouth — 5-6

The Digby team consisted of John Brittain, skip; Harold Hawkins, mate; Denny Kaye, second stone; Terry Carson, first stone and Dick Wightman, spare.

Friday evening, the gymnasium was the scene of Digby's second home game of the basketball season when the "B" girls defeated Bridgetown by a score of 11-9. The "B" boys were defeated by Bridgetown, 37-21, and the "A" girls by a score of 63-18. Digby's "A" boys played a strong game and were ahead of the opposing team until the final quarter when, in the last two minutes of the game, Bridgetown managed to score three baskets. The final score was 53-47 in favor of Bridgeown.

It is interesting to note that, especially in the case of the "A" boys, our team always has more shots on the basket than do the opposing teams.

Issues Pamphlet

APEC has released the first of a new series of pamphlets intended to provide a better understanding of the problems affecting the Atlantic Region.

"The Economy of the Atlantic Region in Perspective" sets forth conclusions drawn from the Council's studies and identifies factors contributing to the Region's inadequate level of employment and its lagging rate of industrial growth. This first pamphlet bluntly compares income, investment, employment and production figures with those for all Canada and indicates serious disparities.

Short in reading time the pamphlets are designed to focus attention to both the problems and the opportunities existing in the Atlantic Provinces. They will be published in both English and French.

Intended for broad distribution they will be sent to members of the provincial and federal governments as well as to heads of businesses and labour organizations. They will also be made available to community and educational leaders and other interested parties. Copies may be obtained from the Council's office in Halifax.

The hope has been expressed that the series will expand the knowledge of regional conditions and thus pave the way for an understanding and active pursuit of development policies.

The Digby East Fish and Game Association was represented in Halifax on Jan. 29 and 30 by the president, Jack Nichols (left in picture above), mammals; Charles Hall, second vice president, birds; Henry Lewis, fish. Out of 27 resolutions drawn up and presented from western Nova Scotia meeting of Dec. 3, held in Digby, 17 were passed unanimously, 4 partially passed, and 6 defeated at the annual meeting. Although this is a good percentage, it was felt by the Digby delegates, Mr. Nichols said, that the 6 defeated resolutions which dealt mostly with deer season, bag limits and punishment for Jackers should have received more consideration and it is their intent to further submit these resolutions with explanation and reasons to the Dept. of Lands & Forests and the minister for further consideration. It would seem apparent from this last meeting at Halifax that western Nova Scotia should be better organized and present resolutions dealing with western Nova Scotia in the future, Mr. Nichols continued. The annual meeting was according to the table of Branch Membership represented by 18 associations plus three omitted giving a total membership of 21 associations voting: Cape Breton Island, 10 votes; Western N. S., 6; remainder 5.

Mr. Nichols also stressed the need of three separate Nova Scotia Fish & Game Associations, one Western, one Eastern, and one Cape Breton Island affiliated with the parent body, N. S. Fish & Game Association. In this way the conservation of wildlife could be managed and looked after more efficiently and get quicker action before it is too late.

A DATE TO REMEMBER
William Amero, of Hamden, Conn., mailed his subscription to The Digby Courier on Jan. 24, 1962. While doing so he recalled the date Jan. 24, 1924 as one to remember. He was in Plympton, N. S. at the time. There was a total eclipse of the sun and moon, according to Mr. Amero, at the hour from 11 a.m. to 12 noon. The wind was from the North and the clouds which edged the spruce tops gave beautiful colors undecipherable, as he remembers.

RESOLUTION INCLUDES DIGBY FERRY
Eric W. Balcom, Wolfville, vice-president of the Nova Scotia Liberal Association and a delegate to the meetings of the National Council of the Atlantic Provinces resolution, Monday evening, which puts a Minas Basin ferry in Liberal leader Mike Pearson's platform in the forthcoming federal election.

The amendment dealt with a clause in the Atlantic Provinces resolution concerning transportation policies. The clause now reads: a Liberal government will implement "a transportation policy that will include major assistance for basic and feasible developments in the field of transportation to enlarge economic opportunities and vigorous prosecution of the enquiries initiated by the former Liberal government into the transportation possibilities in the Atlantic Provinces followed by action on such proposals as highways to supplement costal services in Newfoundland, the causeway to Prince Edward Island, the Chignecto canal, a second "Bluenose", a Minas Basin ferry service, a car ferry between Digby, N. S., and Saint John, N. B., and other projects that can be undertaken as suitable public investments."

Two of the outstanding football players in Canada—Bernie Faloney, right, and Tony Pajackowski—hold the coveted Canadian Schenley Trophy. Faloney, quarterback with Hamilton Tiger-Cats, won the award as the Most Outstanding Football Player. Pajackowski, defensive end from Calgary Stampeders, is the first lineman to win the Canadian Player of the Year Award.

Urges Vaccination
Hon. R. A. Donahoe, Q. C., Minister of Public Health, today issued a statement urging all residents of Nova Scotia who have not been vaccinated in the last five years, to take the preventative step against smallpox at their earliest convenience.

Large numbers of the adult population in the province have not been vaccinated since 1957 and therefore are susceptible to smallpox.

The Nova Scotia Public Health Act requires that every child shall be vaccinated before starting school. The Department of Public Health recommends that every person be revaccinated every three to five years.

The Canadian Immigration authorities have always required people arriving in the province from other countries to be properly vaccinated and, at the present time, those arriving by air who are not properly vaccinated are detained at the place of arrival for a period of time equal to the incubation period of the disease.

However, the minister added, the Department is well aware that despite these precautions smallpox could be introduced into the susceptible proportion of our population thereby exposing the province to an epidemic with disastrous results. Because of this the minister also asks physicians to encourage vaccination.

The Department of Health provides the vaccine free of charge to all physicians who in turn administer the vaccine to their patients free of charge or at a reduced rate.

Any person may be vaccinated or by going to his family doctor or by attending the Public Health Clinics which are held periodically at various centres in the province.

Most Women School Trustees
The annual school meeting was held on Monday evening at Weymouth Consolidated School with Rev. Raoul Deveau in the chair. Mrs. Alice Powell was appointed secretary for the meeting. There were 22 people present, representing the consolidated area. Mr. P. K. Gates tendered his resignation as trustee due to ill health and the resignation was regrettably accepted. Mr. Walter Sabean and Mr. Albert Jones completed their term of office. Failing to obtain any other men at the meeting, to act in the capacity of trustee, telephone calls were made, this too failed to bring results. It was then suggested that perhaps ladies would serve as trustees, and Mrs. A. C. Hankinson and Mrs. Carl Blynn were appointed to the board. Mr. Clyde Cosman was appointed to finish out the term of office vacated by Mr. Gates. The appointed trustees in this area are as follows: Ashmore, Gilbert's Cove, Rev. Raoul Deveau; Weymouth, Weymouth North, Mrs. Vera Hankinson; Weymouth Mills, Mr. Clyde Cosman; Danvers, Riverdale, Southville, Mrs. Frances Blinn.

Unique Hockey Kiwanis and Lions
The Kiwanis held their regular meeting on Monday at Goodwin Hotel, at which time a discussion was held on plans for the summer season. On Thursday evening of last week the club was challenged to a hockey game by the Meteghan Lions Club at St. Ann's rink. The game was tied 3-3. Major difference between this game and a normal hockey match was that the players used brooms and a ball instead of regular hockey implements. The game was hilarious and was followed by a luncheon served at Anchor Inn, in Meteghan.

Inquest Held
Coroner C. C. Nichols empaneled a jury of the following men: Geoffrey Journey, foreman; Forrest Prime, Leo Saulnier, Jos. Amrault, Herbert Smith, Douglas Sabean, Demetrius Amrault, Stanley Hatt, Robie Hill, Ivan Burton, Carl Kinney and Hugh Coldwell for an inquest into the death of David Russel Nickerson. The inquest was heard on Thursday evening at Sweeney's Funeral Home and the jurors came to the following verdict: "that David Russel Nickerson came to his death on Saturday, January 20, on the Weymouth Mills Road, when struck by a car driven by Ray Osborne McNeil. Mr. McNeil was declared wholly responsible for his death". Eight witnesses were heard at the inquest, before the verdict was brought in.

Marriage

Robicheau — Doucette
A pretty wedding took place at the Baptist Parsonage, Digby, on Jan. 27, 1962 by Rev. H. S. Hartlin, when Karen Anne Doucette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Edward Doucette, Bear River, became the bride of Mr. Isalah Fred Robicheau, Digby. The bride was attired in coral nylon lace and wore white accessories. She had a corsage of white mums and yellow rosebuds. Her attendant, Miss Nora Robicheau, Halifax, wore beige lace, white accessories and white mums and yellow rosebuds. The groom was attended by Mr. Wilfred Robicheau.

Following the wedding they were honored by a reception at the home of the bride, to around 75 friends of the bride and groom. A delicious lunch was served following the festivities of the evening. The bride and groom received many useful gifts, and money.

Hold Youth Service

On January 28 the observance of Youth Sunday was witnessed in the Church of Christ (Disciples), Southville, when members of the Christian Youth Fellowship were in charge of the service. Elaine Marshall was leader, with Floyd Gale reading the scripture, and Franklin Rutherford leading in the afternoon prayer. Special music was supplied by Rev. and Mrs. Nethercott who rendered a duet "Only Believe", accompanied by Franklin Rutherford, pianist. Gary Marshall and Fraser O'Neill were ushers.

Rev. Marvin Durling, pastor of the Havelock Reformed Baptist Church, was guest speaker. In his message to the youth, based on Matthew 7:25-27 he urged that each examine his life to determine the foundation upon which it is being built. He pointed out that the foundation must be Christ to withstand the storms of life and the Judgment Day.

Reversible Dress Shirts For Men

Reversible shirts are new for men.

By clever placing of buttons and buttonholes, and perfect seam finishing on both sides, the newest Terylene dress shirts have two "right" sides and no "wrong".

Made with a soft collar and French cuffs, the shirt can be easily turned inside out with no loss of appearance. Reversing the shirt extends its life, for the edges of the collar and cuffs get only half the wear. Therefore, twice the shirt mileage is obtained for the same money.

Men are expected to appreciate being able to "flip their shirts" at the workday's end, should they require a fresh-looking shirt on short notice.

Unlike most reversible clothes which are either of double fabrics or of a fabric which has two different faces, these shirts look exactly the same on both sides. Produced by a leading shirt manufacturer under the name "Reversit", the shirts, like and "Terylene" tricott shirt, require no ironing.

Men may be cautious about adopting new fashion trends, but they'll like this one.

Twin Loaves A Special Treat

From the interest shown today in home baked breads it would seem they are surpassing pies and cakes as tests of a woman's skill in baking. The extra effort required is well repaid by the incomparable taste and mouth-watering aroma of a freshly baked loaf.

This recipe for Cottage Loaf makes three twin sets of white bread. The ingredients are staples in practically every kitchen and the directions for making the bread are so clear cut, even a novice should have little difficulty in following them.

The first set of loaves will probably be devoured by an appreciative family before they have a chance to cool. The second set can be eaten within the next few days, and the remaining pair frozen for future use.

Cottage Loaf

Yield — 3 loaves.

1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup granulated sugar
4 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons shortening
2 1/2 cups lukewarm water
1 teaspoon granulated sugar
1 envelope active dry yeast or 1 cake compressed yeast
8 1/2 cups (about) pre-sifted all-purpose flour

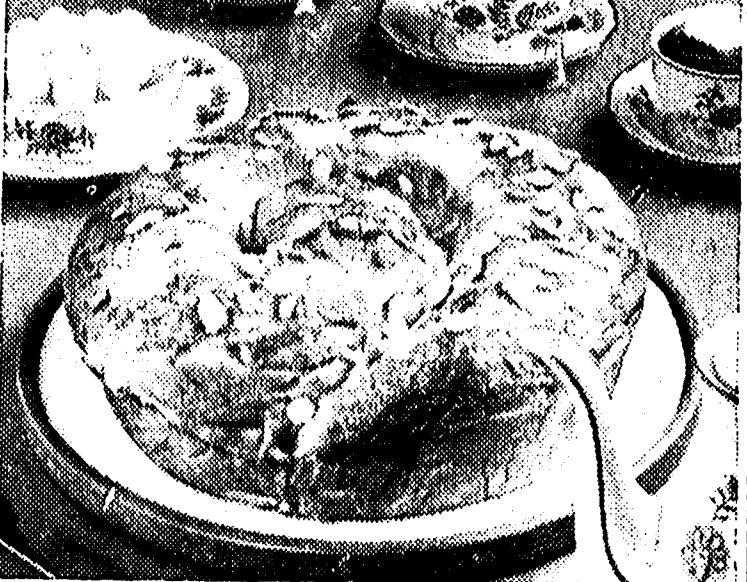

Scald milk; stir in the 1/2 cup sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm.

Meantime, measure 1/2 cup of the lukewarm water into a large bowl; stir in the teaspoon sugar. Sprinkle or crumble with yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, then stir well. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture, the remaining 2 cups lukewarm water and 5 cups of the flour. Beat until smooth and elastic. Work in sufficient additional flour to make a very soft dough — about 3 1/2 cups more. Scrape down sides of bowl. Grease top of dough. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 1 1/2 hours. Punch down dough. Turn over in the bowl. Cover and again let rise until doubled in bulk — about 45 minutes. Turn out dough onto lightly floured board or canvas and knead until quite smooth. Divide into 6 equal portions. Knead each portion well and shape into a smooth ball. Place 2 balls in each of 3 greased 8 inch round cake pans. Grease tops. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 45 minutes. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 35 to 40 minutes.

February has more than its quota of bleak days; but there's a silver lining to even the most frigid cloud. This is an ideal month to try out recipes you have been clipping and saving. Doing something interesting and constructive will not only brighten your day, when bad weather limits outside activities, it will also give a lift to the family's spirits come mealtime.

Since cold weather and baking seem to have a special affinity for each other — especially baking with yeast — the recipe given here is for a Viennese Coffee Cake fashioned from a yeast dough and filled with a honey-sweetened fruit-and-nut mixture. Vienna is famous for its rich cakes, pastries and breads, and this cake is just as delicate and delicious as any one would find in Austria. The recipe takes time to prepare, but the end result is worth every minute spent.

VIENNESE COFFEE CAKE

(Yield — 2 coffee cakes)

1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup lukewarm water
2 teaspoons granulated sugar
2 envelopes active dry yeast or 2 cakes compressed yeast
2 well-beaten eggs
4 1/2 cups (about) pre-sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 cup liquid honey
2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
1/2 cup butter or margarine melted
1/2 cup rich cream
1 1/2 cups seedless raisins
1 cup chopped pecans
1 slightly-beaten egg white
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
1/4 cup slivered almonds

Scald milk; stir in the 1/2 cup sugar, salt and the 1/2 cup butter or margarine. Keep at lukewarm.

Measure the lukewarm water into a large bowl; stir in the 2 teaspoons sugar. Sprinkle or crumble with yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, then stir well. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture, well-beaten eggs and 2 1/2 cups of the flour. Beat until smooth and elastic. Work in sufficient additional flour to make a soft dough — about 2 cups more. Turn out dough onto floured board or canvas and knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl. Grease top. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 1 1/2 hours.

Meantime, measure honey into a bowl; blend in ground cinnamon, the 1/2 cup melted butter or margarine and rich cream. Mix in raisins and pecans.

Punch down dough. Turn out onto lightly-floured board or canvas and knead until smooth. Divide dough into 2 equal portions. Cover with a tea towel, and let rest 10 minutes. Roll out one portion of dough into a rectangle 8 x 20 inches.

Spread to within 1 inch of edges with half of the honey mixture. Beginning at a long edge, roll up jelly-roll fashion. Pinch seam and ends to seal in filling. Elongate the roll gently to about 27 inches, stretching and shaping it at the same time. Coil the roll in a well-greased 8-inch round layer-cake pan. Repeat with other portion of dough. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 45 minutes. Brush tops with slightly-beaten egg white and sprinkle with the 2 tablespoons sugar and slivered almonds. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) 35 to 40 minutes.

PROPER LIGHT FOR AFRICAN VIOLETS

More often than not the reason African violets don't bloom is that they are not getting enough light, says Derek Lydecker in an article called "African Violet Culture".

African violets prefer full morning sun in winter, and in the spring they will need the shade of a thin net curtain, the author says. If your plants have been getting too little light they will have dark green leaves with elongated stems. Too much light will turn the foliage a pale yellow-green. Somewhere between the two extremes the leaves can be kept healthy green colour and plants compact and bushy.

Temperature is also an im-

"She looks better now than she did ten years ago!" We all know a few women of whom this is admirably said.

What is meant, very often, is: "She dresses so much better now that she is more attractive than ever." The corrective and rejuvenating powers of becoming clothes should be kept in mind when resolving to improve our looks and wardrobes in 1962.

What fashions has the New Year in store for us? Lots of flared, flounced or pleated skirts, loose middles and silver dresses tied with sashes or draw-strings... plenty of stripes going every which way... brilliant prints and fragile, floating fabrics for our ultra-feminine moments.

Obviously, a great diversity of styles, fabrics and colors is available — and it's the wise woman who governs her selection according to her own coloring and figure proportions.

Of course, the woman who sews her own, once she learns what is most becoming to her, can combine fabrics and patterns with flattering results. Sewing techniques pertaining to the camouflage of figure faults, or the playing up of assets, can be obtained from the experts at local sewing centers and from several sewing manuals. Here are a few basic rules:

The tall, slim woman should choose horizontal lines, full or dolman sleeves and large accessories. Rich fabrics and colors will add grace to her figure.

Her short, slim sister should keep trimming and accessories small and neat. Simple, tailored garments are the best choice for the short, stout figure. Suits may not be becoming unless they are made in light-weight, dark fabrics, very simply tailored and with medium-length, rather than long or cropped jackets. Tight fitting garments should be avoided, and belts, too, unless they are very narrow and of the same shade as the dress.

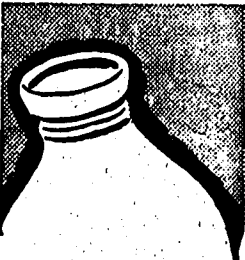

The full-busted figure should never appear in a tight-fitting skirt or blouse, or in raglan or dolman sleeves. The flat-chested figure, however, requires a draped or bloused front treatment.

Whether the arms are too thin or too heavy, tight sleeves should be avoided in favor of some softer treatment. Well-shaped arms and throats should be emphasized with trimming details.

Long-haired furs and high necklines are less attractive around a thick, short neck, but are wonderful for making a thin neck look graceful. Well-shaped legs can be emphasized with hemline detail, but older women, no matter how graceful their throats or legs, should never wear very low necklines or very short skirts.

So in considering the new fashions, choose styles that suit your own special type. A visit to your local sewing center will teach you how to combine, say, a neckline from one pattern and a skirt from another, to make a dress that is both fashionable and flattering to you.

Important fact in African violet culture. A warm daytime temperature of 70 to 75 degrees is ideal. If plants are growing on a window sill, move them back into the room at night so that they will not be chilled.

The Women's Work Committee report, presented by Mrs. H. M. Warne, stated that new materials to the value of $173.72 had recently been received from headquarters for knitting and sewing, and that a box of materials had been given out to the Smith's Cove Women's Institute to be made up.

The Regional Red Cross Rally, held at the Community Centre, Annapolis Royal, on January 10, was also reported on by Mrs. Warne, who had convened it as Regional vice-president. The meeting had been well attended, over 60 being present, with 12 members from Digby, and all branches represented from Weymouth to Middleton. Guest speaker for the evening had been the Divisional President, Mrs. J. P. Bell of Halifax, followed by a short talk on Red Cross Campaign by the Provincial Director, Mr. Punchard.

In reference to the March financial campaign, Mrs. R. B. Lent, Branch President, announced the appointment of Alfred Grimmer as Rural Campaign Chairman, and Ralph Berwick as Digby Town Chairman. Mrs. Lent emphasized the importance of the co-operation of all the Red Cross members in making a success of the campaign, without which we will not have the funds to carry on this vital work.

After an explanation of the Divisional plan for rural organization for efficiently coping with the forest fires and other disasters, calling for a meeting in the Spring of Red Cross representatives from all areas of our district with the forest rangers and RCMP, T. M. Warne and D. J. Comeau were appointed as additional members of the Disaster Relief Committee, to assist Mrs. Winfield and Mrs. D. Comeau. The meeting closed with the usual social hour and a Ten Cent Tea served by the Ways and Means Committee.

DIGBY COUNTY HAD 17 WOODS FIRES

A total of 54 woods fires were experienced in Yarmouth, Shelburne and Digby counties last year, one third of which were caused by smokers who dropped lighted matches, or did not extinguish their cigarettes before throwing them away.

Digby County had 17 fires, and 218 acres burned over, or an average of 13 acres per fire. The acreage burned consisted of 156 acres barren land, one quarter acre cut over land, 58 acres young growth and 3 merchantable timber. Two were caused by berry pickers, 8 by smokers, 3 by fishermen, 3 from industrial operations, 1 from a burning building.

The great majority of fires in all three counties occurred during May and August.

Doing Good Job In Hog Business

About 3 years ago, John LeBlanc, of Concession, Digby County, a carpenter with a small holding, became convinced that he should pay more attention to what the swine industry had to offer as a source of income. Up until then, Mr. LeBlanc had been keeping a couple of sows and the experience he gained through handling these, he decided could be put to good advantage in keeping a larger number. Accordingly, he expanded his hog enterprise. At the moment he has 20 sows and he is even planning to expand this number.

Last year, Mr. LeBlanc marketed 450 pigs and now that he has enlarged his building somewhat, he feels that he can handle 700 very easily, doing the complete job of keeping sows, raising the weanlings and marketing the feeders.

Recently, C. A. Douglas, Director of Extension Services of Nova Scotia Agricultural College, Truro, in company with William Lefort, Agricultural Representative for Digby County, visited Mr. LeBlanc's operation and, there, they found a man who really knows more than a little about the pig business. He has good typey stock and these he finishes to perfection. For instance, a few days before Mr. Douglas and Mr. Lefort visited the farm, Mr. LeBlanc had marketed 27 feeders with no less than 24 of these falling into the top grade.

Mr. LeBlanc is quite an authority on producing little pigs, too, and what is more, he knows how to save them, evidence of which may be found by a study of figures which show that, out of 115 F-1 pigs produced in 9 litters, Mr. LeBlanc raised 101. That is a pretty good record in any league. Three sows had farrowed a few days before the visitors arrived and Mr. Douglas advised that one sow had 15; another, 18; and the third 20. All the squealers appear to be quite thrifty and unless something untoward and unexpected happens, the most of these should be carried through to maturity and marketed.

This is just another example of the way the hog industry in Nova Scotia is expanding by leaps and bounds. Go where one will, in any section of the province, and one will find men paying more and more attention to hog production, and doing a good job of it in the bargain.

All human power is a compound of time and patience. — Honore de Balzac.

Things do not change; we change. — Henry David Thoreau.

Cornwallis Gets 7 Digit Dial

Changes in telephone numbers which have been recently introduced in Digby, Annapolis and Weymouth will soon be in effect at Cornwallis, a Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Company release stated today. Assigning seven digit telephone numbers to all dial telephones in Nova Scotia has been underway for a year and a half and this standardization program reaches its completion Sunday morning, February 18th with the conversion of Cornwallis and seven other exchanges in Western Nova Scotia to the numbering plan.

Cornwallis telephone numbers now consists of three digits and will be extended to the seven digit standard by the addition of 638-8 in front of the existing number. For example, the telephone number of the Dominion Atlantic Railway Station at Cornwallis is now 759 and will become 638-8759 under the new plan.

The change will also apply to the telephone numbers on the Naval Base itself as these numbers are accessible from the civilian exchange without assistance from the Base operator.

A new issue of the Western District Telephone Directory is being distributed to be effective with the change to seven digit numbers and in addition, small round labels are being mailed to all Cornwallis subscribers for attachment to the number window in the centre of the dial on the telephone. The labels are printed with the new number complete with the Area Code for Nova Scotia, 902.

The changes are part of a continent wide plan of standardizing the length of telephone numbers to permit the universal adoption of Direct Distance Dialing, the "dial-it-yourself" Long Distance service will eventually make Long Distance calling as simple as telephoning across the street. The first steps in introducing this service in Nova Scotia were taken just over a year ago when the Halifax Dartmouth area was converted to seven digit numbering and calls to subscribers in that area could be completed without the aid of an operator. This Inward Direct Distance Dialing service will be extended to other parts of Nova Scotia in May of this year, following the completion of seven digit dialing conversions in all dial exchanges in the Province. This step will be followed in late 1963 by the first full DDD Service to be installed at Sydney.

Telephone company officials point out that while the full seven digit number should always be used in placing long distance calls, it will be possible to dial locally with the last five digits only.

ating to the proposed Gloucester Ferry to run between Gloucester, Mass., and a Nova Scotia port.

A letter was read from N.R. Crump of the C. P. advising that the company had no intention of providing an auxiliary service during the time the Digby - Saint John ferry Princess Helene would be in drydock from April 30 to May 18.

The Civic committee, convened by Mrs. Grace Edwards, in conjunction with the new executive will conduct a community self evaluation study. The motion was made by V. G. Cardoza, M.L.A., for Digby and passed. In introducing the subject Mr. Cardoza said that such a survey would give a fair idea of the thinking of the people, where we stand at present and what might be accomplished in the future. He said by distributing a questionnaire the people would be more willing to set their thoughts on paper anonymously rather than to express them verbally. He mentioned that other Chambers of Commerce had made use of surveys of this nature and that the extension department of Cornell University had prepared bulletins for community self analysis which had proved advantageous. The committee named would draw up questions, have them distributed and assess the results. F. C. Purdy, supervisor of schools stated that a similar method had been used regarding education in town and area and that he had found it to be beneficial in planning the school program. The results of the survey brought to attention the strengths and weaknesses of the program.

It was decided to have a dinner meeting in the near future when a speaker would be invited and the new executive would take office.

VOLUME LXXXVIII, No. 25

Can Spring Be Far Behind?

"If Winter comes, can Spring be far behind?" was the theme of the address given by N. V. Jankov, landscape advisor to the Department of Agriculture, at the February meeting of the Digby Horticultural Society, held at the home of Miss Louise Daley. Although warning the assembled gardeners of the dangers to plants and shrubs in what he termed the most "peculiar" winter in his twenty-two years experience with Nova Scotia climate, and advising caution in uncovering plants too early in the Spring, he went on to give many gardening tips on Spring planting. He strongly recommended having all soil tested by the Department before planting in order to find out the exact fertilizer requirements. He also stressed the proper pruning of shrubs and trees, and offered to conduct an outdoor pruning session in one of the member's gardens in April or May. Mr. Jankov announced that this year marks the 25th anniversary of the Nova Scotia Garden Club Association, and that the convention would be held at New Glasgow this summer. Answers to gardening questions presented by the members concluded an interesting program, after which the speaker was thanked on behalf of the society by Miss Marjorie Tupper, chairman of the program committee.

The Horticultural Society meeting was chaired by the president, Mrs. Eva Wendell, who at the close of the program extended a hearty welcome to a new member, Mrs. John Russell, and presented a vase of flowers to Mr. and Mrs. Russell on behalf of the club.

The business of the evening concluded with arrangements by the Tree Planting Committee to have Mr. Jankov meet with them the following day to survey the town and recommend suitable places for the addition of trees, as well as the best varieties to be used. Mr. Jankov stated that only nursery stock was advisable, in order to secure quick growth and that tall, slender varieties as a general rule would avoid the necessity of cutting back along public streets.

Following the meeting, the customary social hour was enjoyed, at which the hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. G. R. Weir. The Entertainment Committee announced that the March meeting would be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Levy, with Miss Edith Lynch providing the program.

Recalls Fire Valentine's Eve

Valentine's Eve in 1962 brought to the memory of Duncan MacKay, Hill Grove, the fire which wiped out the business section of Digby just 63 years ago that night. Well, he could remember the night, he said, when a young man of 20 years he saw from his home at Hill Grove, the sky lighted with flames. Four or five feet of snow were then on the ground and one of the worst northeast gales and blinding snow storm was in progress. Detained by his father's advice, Mr. MacKay said he did not go to Digby at the height of the fire but on the next morning at 8 o'clock he donned his snowshoes and made his way to see the ruins.

Fire was discovered in the basement of the G. I. Letteney & Brothers store on Water Street about 9:45 p.m. Two snowbound D.A.R. trains were in Digby at the time and one of them was across Sydney St. entirely blocking up, at first, the route to the fire. The flames and sparks from Letteney's immediately ignited the Saunders' building occupied by Gupit & Young, general merchants and that occupied by Louis Komiesky, dry goods.

Mrs. Eaton Passes

Hazel Beatrice Eaton, wife of E. Scott Eaton, town clerk of Digby, passed away on Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Eaton was born at St. Eleanor's, P.E.I., seventy-five years ago, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Andrew. She was the last surviving member of the Andrew family.

For twenty-three years the Eatons lived in the Western provinces in the cities of Edmonton, Vancouver and Brandon, Manitoba. In 1931 they moved to Wolfville where they lived for nine years and in 1940 they moved to Digby. Mrs. Eaton was a member of the Baptist Church, a former president of the Digby Women's Baptist League, a former president of the Ladies Hospital Auxiliary and was organizer and promoter of the Digby Handicrafts.

Mrs. Eaton is survived by her husband, one daughter, Jeanne (Mrs. Howard Dawe), Grand Mere, Quebec, two sons, George T. Rochester, N.Y., and Charles E. Wolfville, N.S. The remains are resting at Jayne's Funeral Home and the funeral service will be conducted from the Digby Baptist Church on Friday at 1:30 p.m. Burial will be in Wolfville, N.S., at 4:30 on Friday.

Trade Board Over 90 Members

The Digby Board of Trade has over ninety members according to a report given by Mrs. Leigh Jayne at a meeting of the executive held at Cornwallis Cafe on Tuesday.

The meeting was called to make preparations for a dinner meeting to be held at Hotel Champlain on the evening of March 13. A special speaker from the Canadian Chamber of Commerce is expected to be present and a short business meeting will be held.

Observe Church College Sunday

For Church College observance on Sunday, Rev. R. H. Hughes, appropriately took as his text, Matthew 22 verse 37 "Thou shalt love the Lord Thy God with all thy heart, with all thy strength and with all thy mind." A living church, he said, is a teachable church and a teachable church becomes the teacher of the world. We have made the mistake in thinking that teaching belongs to the minister alone, but it is the responsibility of all a joint task of preacher and people, he said. Not only the heart but the mind also must be in religion, he said, to tackle problems which confront the church such as Christian education, church extension at home and overseas and to learn the Bible and its authority.

The teaching function of the church is extremely important, he continued, when considering responsibility towards the youth. We must seek truth and impart it intelligently to youth. He said the task of the young is much more difficult today. The long established principles of conduct are challenged on every hand and the things which were once taught to be wrong are held up today to be right. Sometimes, Mr. Hughes said, college students lose faith in God. This is not the fault of the college but it is that young people are not prepared well enough with the truth before they set out for college. The college, he continued cannot build to the faith of the youth without the foundation having been there. Young people go out with a lack of intelligent convictions. They have idealism without religious ideas. He charged the adult congregation with a responsibility to themselves and the young people to always be thinking and learning of God and His grace. We think, he said, that the act of God's grace is inactive in this century and that is why it is so difficult to stir people up to overseas missions.

The choir under the direction of Elton Arnold and Carolyn Arnold, organist rendered the anthem, "Bless His Holy Name".

The two colleges under the Maritime Conference of the United Church of Canada are Mount Allison University and Pine Hill Divinity Hall. Mount Allison has 1219 students enrolled in arts, arts-secretarial, commerce, education, engineering, fine arts, home economics, science and theology. Almost 1000 live in residence. Arts and Science and men and women are in about the same ratio 60-40. About ten percent of the Arts are preparing for the ministry.

Misses Joan Hall and Evelyn O'Neill, Digby; Miss Ruth Hankinson, Weymouth; Miss Laura Saulnier, Saulnierville and Miss Beverly Crocker of Bear River were among the 53 student nurses capped at an impressive ceremony at the Victoria General Hospital on Thursday. The capping was done by Florence E. Gass, R.N., director of nursing.

Baptist Ladies Guild will meet at the church parlor on Tuesday evening, with Mrs. Frances Daley, hostess.

The Baptist Auxiliary will meet with Mrs. David Landers on Tuesday evening.

Trinity Evening Guild will be held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. H. R. Bishop.

Although Jean's career keeps her very busy, her family still comes first. She has three children, David, 7, Anne, 5, and Sheila, 3. She loves to sew, and she designs and makes clothes for herself and her children.

Vocalist On CBC Reflections

Soprano Jean Marshall, regular performer on CBC-TV's Sunday afternoon music program Reflections, is a singer who never had to take a singing lesson. She has a natural singing voice which she has trained herself. The Yarmouth Nova Scotia born singer has been a soloist on Reflections since the spring of 1960.

"Jean Marshall was born with what the rest of us work hard to achieve," says Francis Chaplin, a violinist and co-star of the Canadian soprano on CBC-TV's Sunday afternoon show, Reflections.

Jean, the tall, dark haired singing star of the Sunday afternoon music program, has had no formal voice training. "She has a natural singing voice which she has trained herself," says program producer Robert Alban.

She took piano lessons for two years as a child in her home town of Yarmouth, N.S., "but as far back as I can remember, I have always been singing," she says, "first as a child performer on a local radio station, then in the church choir, and in operettas and minstrel shows."

Following her graduation from Yarmouth County Academy, Jean started singing with a local dance band led by Furber Marshall, whom she later married.

She made her first appearance on CBC radio in 1957, on a Maritime network program called Caravan. It originated from Digby, N.S., where she was living at the time.

In 1958, she auditioned for CBC radio's Talent Festival, a music competition program. She won the regional finals of this network program and went to Toronto to appear in the national finals. Despite the fact that she didn't win the grand prize, she feels that her appearance in the finals marked the turning point in her career.

Her success on Talent Festival led to numerous appearances on network radio programs — Lazy Afternoon, Tempo, and Strings 'n' Things. She also starred on a local television show, and made frequent appearances as guest soloist on Reflections, when it was telecast on the Maritime television network. In the spring of 1960 she became a regular soloist on Reflections.

Jean is pleasantly stunned by the fact that she is starring on a network television program. "It still surprises me because I did not realize that it could happen. But I love every minute of it."

At the Earn and Give Unit, which met in the church hall, officers were elected as follows:

President, Mrs. Reginald Holdsworth; treasurer, Mrs. Boyd Milbury; secretary, Mrs. Kenneth Beckwith; program, Mrs. R. H. Hughes; Mrs. John Russell; Mrs. Glen Conrad.

$172,000 For Freeport Federal Expenditures

The federal government, it is learned, plans to spend $13,486,075 on capital expenditure projects in Nova Scotia during the next fiscal year. The expenditures on capital works in the current year, which ends March 31, have run to about $17,000,000 in Nova Scotia.

Among the expenditures planned for Nova Scotia for the coming year are these in Digby County or near by — Department of Public Works — Freeport, breakwater extension, $172,000; Church Point, post office, $22,000; Meteghan, post office, $22,000; Church Point, wharf repairs, $19,440; Salmon River, wharf repairs, $26,000.

In the Department of National Defence spending, navy construction at HMCS Cornwallis, will amount to $130,000.

In the Department of Agriculture spending for Nova Scotia it is noted $250,000 is planned for new construction under the Maritime Marshall Reclamation program.

Organize Units

Rev. R. H. Hughes on Tuesday organized three units for United Church Women of the pastoral charge in Digby.

Church women from Mount Pleasant, Bay View and Light House Road met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bryson Denton. This unit elected as its president Mrs. Elton Arnold; secretary, Mrs. Jack Keen; treasurer, Mrs. Donald Fleet. They set a meeting date for the second Tuesday of each month at 2:30 p.m.

Mr. Hughes explained the budget and allocation and stressed the necessity of every member of units to be active in the central organization where all the business was transacted. While the groups could suggest and recommend, it is at the central organization that the business is done and through the finance committee of the central organization where projects are cleared.

A name for the unit was not chosen but is under consideration.

President, Mrs. Reginald Holdsworth; treasurer, Mrs. Boyd Milbury; secretary, Mrs. Kenneth Beckwith; program, Mrs. R. H. Hughes; Mrs. John Russell; Mrs. Glen Conrad.

The third unit met at the home of Mrs. Clinton McInnis, when Mrs. Emerson Graham was elected president; Mrs. William Troupe, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Fitt, secretary, and Mrs. Clinton McInnis, program convenor. It is understood that a name for this unit is under consideration.

50 Years Married Minor Hockey St. Valentine's Day

St. Valentine's Day this year had a great mark of significance for Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hersey, Digby. On that day they celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. The celebrations were of a quiet nature as Mrs. Hersey's health prevented any elaborate celebration. Visitors came to call and members of the St. Patrick's Catholic Women's Club called to extend congratulations as well as to hold mass for Mr. and Mrs. Hersey on Wednesday morning in recognition of the occasion.

Mrs. Hersey was the former Frances Hubbard, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Mundie Hubbard, Yarmouth. Mr. Hersey is a son of the late Capt. Charles and Mary Hersey who with his parents moved from Little River, Digby County to Digby when a child of 11 years. Mr. and Mrs. Hersey were married on St. Valentine's Day, 1912, at the St. Ambrose Catholic Church, Yarmouth, now St. Ambrose Cathedral, by Monsignor Young. They have one daughter, Edith, Mrs. Loran Hayden who with Mr. Hayden resides in Digby.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hersey have been active in the life of their church. Mrs. Hersey when in good health was an active Red Cross worker. Mr. Hersey served on the town council for four years and had served with the Digby Fire Department.

In looking back 50 years Mr. Hersey recalled the days when four or five fishing firms were operating in Digby. He had spent 16 years on fishing schooners sailing from the port. We need more industry here at the present time, Mr. Hersey commented.

No Campaign For Bounty

According to reliable source there will be no campaign for funds by Trade Boards to bring the replica "Bounty" back to Nova Scotia as has been suggested during the past few weeks. The news reached the Courier by way of the Digby Trade Board just before press time on Wednesday night and full information was not available. There would seem to be only a remote possibility that the ship would leave Halifax port should the private concern interested obtain the ship for operation, the Courier understands.

The parties concerned, it is believed, will operate the ship as a commercial non-profit venture to promote tourist trade in Nova Scotia.

The Midget Flyers went on their third goal scoring spree of the season against the Trojans. They found and made holes in the horsemen's defence to the tune of 12-6 in a fast, high scoring game.

The final Midget game saw the Maroons fight off the Victorias' challenge to narrow their first place lead by tying them 2-2. Maroons' goals were by B. Olsen (D. Wood, E. Melanson), and D. Wood (J. Potter, B. Olsen). The Vics' two were by A. Doucette (R. Ross, D. Woolf) and R. Ross (J. Nixon, G. Robinson).

There are only two more games remaining in regular league play and one of these will be played on Saturday next. Playoffs begin on March 3rd.

To Outline Convention Program

Rev. H. S. Hartlin will outline the program of the Baptist Men's Board of the Maritime Baptist Convention at a men's supper meeting which will be sponsored by the Men's Project Committee of the Baptist Church of Digby. Open to all men of the congregation, the supper will be served by members of the committee headed by Mr. Burton Ellis. A filmstrip, featuring some phases of men's work in the churches, will be shown.

Members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship of the Hill Grove church will sponsor and assist in conducting a Sunday evening service in the Hill Grove church on Sunday evening. This is another of a series of Sunday night services carried out by the Baptist Youth Fellowship in both the Digby and Hill Grove churches. The message will be given by Rev. L. R. V.O.N. Meets Donations were acknowledged at the V.O.N. meeting on Tuesday from Mrs. F. L. Anderson, Mrs. Violet Morse, Misses Edith Lynch, Marion Shreve and Edith Shreve, in memory of the late Mrs. L. H. Morse who had been a Charter Member of the V.O.N. in Digby and retained her membership and interest throughout her life. Donations were also received from St. Patrick's Convent and from a friend of the V.O.N. in Digby.

Plans were made by the Bonsel Committee, comprising Mr. James Ayer, chairman, Mr. H. Webber, Mrs. A. Robinson and Mr. John Nichols, president of the V.O.N. Board, to hold the V.O.N. Bonsel on February 16th and 17th. The trophies for this Bonsel have been obtained and to date 10 teams are playing.

The Nursing Committee, comprising Mrs. M. Thurber, chairman, Mrs. C. Hersey and Mrs. A. Cornwell, will be in charge of refreshments for both the Annual Meeting and the V.O.N. Bonsel.

Miss Squire, Nurse-in-charge, reported that the visit of Miss Laura Wall, District Supervisor, proved very productive. Miss Wall made several visits to interested people in the Digby County district and started work with the expansion committee. She expects to return to Digby in March.

A total of 102 visits were made in January, 25 for nursing care, 73 for health instruction, 1 on behalf of patient and 3 no service calls. 23 new patients were admitted to the Order and 64 carried over from 1961, making a total of 87 patients. School work consisted of routine consultations with teachers, rapid inspection for communicable conditions and part of the annual program of vision testing. Only one of the child health conferences was attended by 3 babies and their mothers.

Bride-to-be Honored

Many friends and relatives attended a surprise bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Shirley VanTassel in honor of Miss Arthesine Comeau, bride-to-be of Mr. Dickie Vidito.

She received many gifts. Cards were read by Mrs. Warner and the gifts were opened by Mrs. Cossaboom. The couple are both on the staff of the Digby General Hospital.

Power Board Extensive Changes

The Digby County Power Board recently published its 35th Annual Report, covering operations for the year 1961.

The Board sold 17,157,641 kilowatt hours of electrical energy, the peak load on the system was 4,860 kilovolt amperes. Sales in the Town of Digby were 4,906,776 kwh., Municipality of Digby 5,106,746 kwh., Municipality of Clare 5,076,800 kwh., Village of Weymouth 1,154,000 kwh. Gross revenue from sales was $251,252.38, power purchases and operating expenses totalled $229,025.09, net profit was $22,226.29. Capital expenditures for the year amounted to $72,195.76.

The Board made extensive changes in its transmission system in 1961. A new 23,000 volt line was energized between Weymouth Falls and Church Point; until this year the Clare area was served by a 11,500 volt system. Commissioning of the Nova Scotia Power Commission's plants on the Sissibou River made it possible to alter some of the Board's three phase transmission lines to single phase distribution, this reduced the possibility of outages and lowered the equipment and maintenance costs on Digby Neck and Long Island, new poles and larger conductors were installed, similar changes were made in Conway.

Sixty five new customers were added to the system during 1961, total customers now served by the Board is 5930, of which there are 1022 in the Town of Digby, 2600 in the Municipality of Digby, 2071 in Clare and 237 in Weymouth.

About This and That

The Bounty

With the announcement last week that the Digby Board of Trade would favor bringing the Bounty to Nova Scotia, it might have been expected that letters commenting for or against would appear from other citizens in this issue of The Courier. So far none have arrived.

If the Bounty can be brought to Nova Scotia and become and remain an attraction for tourists, the Digby Board would seem to have decided wisely. Any tourism lured to Nova Scotia would undoubtedly be felt somewhat in Digby. The price asked to be paid towards the Bounty, should that be the extent of contributions, is surely warranted as a share in bringing the Bounty back to the province. Should the Bounty come to these Digby waters either as a tourist attraction or through the Canadian Navy, so much the better. Without meaning to throw cold water on the idea, in the case of the tourist attraction alone, there is a question which might be considered — what are the wharfage and harbor facilities?

Interesting comments on the Bounty being brought to Nova Scotia and controversial arguments, Bounty vs Bluenose have appeared in most of the Nova Scotia papers — daily and weekly. For example, extracts from the Berwick Register follow —

"This means that a long range program must be established, the folly of a one year splurge and then letting her rot at some indistinct mooring is too horrible to contemplate.

Therefore if plans are made to bring the "Bounty" to Nova Scotia let it be clear, in the beginning, that she can be used as a tourist attraction for many years to come.

Let there be no illusions that this will not cost money and if there will be a net gain through attracting tourists the proposition is sound. This is not an occasion for guessing and before a cent is raised it will be desirable to know what is planned, its cost now and in the future. A flop will not do us any good and must not happen."

From the Progress Enterprise, Lunenburg, we have —
"We disagree with Mayor Akerly of Dartmouth that the Bounty has no appeal. Lunenburgers know that the Smith & Rhuland shipyard was black with spectators every day it was being built. Most of them were from central Canada and the U.S. I wonder what would happen if Ake was offered the Bounty for a nominal fee to tie up at a Dartmouth wharf.

Long ago we felt that the tourist industry in the province was only developed to a small percentage of its total potential. According to the brochure 'New Nova Scotia' recently issued by the Department of Trade & Industry the tourist business in 1961 was worth about $50,000,000 to this province. This is about equal to the total value of processed fish last year. The fishing industry is big, tourism could be even better and more lucrative for everyone. However and which ever way the Bounty and Bluenose are returned to the province we are all for it."

In Dartmouth, the Free Press is advocating that the U.S. Coast Guard ship Bear, which is lying idly be converted for a tourist attraction. Dartmouth Board of Trade had been asked to contribute $2,000 toward the Bounty. The Free Press thinks the Bear can lay claim to greater fame and would be by far a greater tourist attraction than the Bluenose or Bounty.

In Liverpool the Advance says (extract) —

"Most of the Mayors I feel were taken off balance when the question was posed to them and I would like to think that after a calmer consideration they would not be so generous with the tax payers money, for don't fool yourself such a scheme would cost a lot of money. When Hollywood spends a dollar they want 100% on their money so let them find other suckers to carry the ball up and down the coasts of America. Halifax of course stands to gain the most and possibly Yarmouth and Lunenburg would gather in a few pieces of eight — at least for the first year. After that it would be mothballs for the Bounty because it would be a losing proposition. I could think of many other ways to spend all this money that would bring some good to this Province and I sincerely hope the government of this province is not swayed too much by the red headlines or the inspired letters to the Editor."

In Kentville, the Advertiser, definitely supported the Bluenose project idea against the Bounty because of her many associations with Nova Scotia, while the Bounty had the single connection of being built in a Nova Scotia shipyard for film purposes.

We merely print the above extracts to show our readers what others are thinking. Definitely, each local situation is different. Each Trade Board or town will consider the question from its own vantage point. The question is — Is Digby thinking? or is it leaving the question to a few Board of Trade people to decide?

Help Your Town

Although the employment situation in Canada and the province has been much brighter this winter than for some previous winters, there is still room for improvement everywhere during the winter season. Much of the improvement which has taken place has come through government aid programs. Others by private citizens feeling a responsibility in helping the situation.

Here in Digby the town has embarked on two winter works projects through the government aid program. This is supplying work for several families who would possibly otherwise be on unemployment or assistance of some kind.

There is still part of February and the month of March left when winter employment is low. Housewives can help the situation by having their interior decorating done now rather than in late Spring. This is the time to make the anticipated renovations to the interior of the home. Exterior of homes can also be renovated and repaired during the winter as has been proven frequently. Local businessmen are urged to carry out construction, renovation, decoration and maintenance work on their business premises while the winter season is still with us. Vacations are often urged through the winter season to ease the summer rush and share the winter time employment.

There is another way to help your town. When considering the renovating and redecorating materials or new household items, remember the merchants in your home town. They support your town. They, too, need your support. "Buy at home" is a good slogan to remember when considering any and all your purchases at any time of the year.

Help Your Town and area by supplying winter work and by buying from your home town merchants.

Electric Week

To most people the observance of National Electric Week, Feb. 11 to 17, means recognizing the great strides made in modern comfortable and convenient living through electricity. It means progress and employment in our modern civilization as all phases and steps in producing electrical power are developed. All these are recognized by the Digby people, too, but to them there is an added sentiment as a special week is set aside to honor the 115th anniversary of Thomas Edison, inventor of the first practical electric light bulb. The name of Thomas Edison need only be mentioned to have people in and about Digby refer to the famous man's connections here by his family having at one time resided at what is now Joggin Bridge. Each anniversary of late brings to mind the fact that this property should be made a tourist attraction and commemorate for users of electricity the Edison name as it was linked with Digby.

Since the day that Thomas Edison invented the incandescent light a fascinating story has been written in the electrical world. Never in his wildest dreams had the inventor realized the vast potential for better living that his inventions made possible. As stated by Harold S. Harding, Bridgewater, President of the Electrical Contractors Association of Nova Scotia, in his article in The Digby Courier last week, "the invention of the incandescent light marked the initial breakthrough to an era in which electricity changed the world's way of life. With this, electricity came out of the laboratory and into the homes, factories and farms."

We are well aware of the function of electricity in the home. On the farm it performs many of the tasks that formerly consumed all the farmer's daylight hours. In industry — manufacturing plants, industrial processors, textile, lumber, mining, printing and other operations account for more than 50 per cent of electricity sales. Commercial establishments are great consumers. The use of electrical equipment has led to mass production. The electrical manufacturing industry has developed a whole new stream of products which in turn created new industries and provided jobs for thousands of people.

The electrical industry has not only made more jobs, but it has upgraded the skills of the labor force, and has led to better incomes and higher standards of living. Millions of people contribute to the production of electricity and to the manufacture of goods and services. Their income goes back into our economy and helps to maintain our high standard of living.

In the second period Morrison scored from Gillis at the 20 second mark for the Hawks and repeated five seconds later on an assist from Burrill. Paul VanTassel tallied for Digby at the 8 minute mark of the second. J. Cowan and P. Belliveau assisting. Penalties in the second went to M. VanTassel, Mason and Longley.

LIGHTS FOR CAUSEWAY UNSURE

The Granville correspondent writes that recent word was received from the Minister of Highways concerning lighting of the Annapolis River Causeway. The message stated that the lighting on the old bridge was not provided by the Province and suggested that any lighting should be provided on the same basis as was the lighting on the bridge which it replaced. This would mean that the lighting should be the responsibility of the Town of Annapolis Royal and the Village of Granville Ferry. The Nova Scotia Light & Power Co., Ltd. had been contacted and they stated that they would not be responsible for erecting the fixtures and the wiring, but those responsible for the lighting would have to pay the difference in cost of underground wiring, the erection of iron standards, etc., and the cost of providing overhead lighting. Although no figure was given, it was estimated to be considerable. At a recent meeting of the Annapolis Royal Town Council, it was suggested that the Province might paint the rails with luminous paint.

MUNICIPALITY OF ANNAPOLIS TO PAY 70%

The Municipality of Annapolis will share joint expenditures for 1962 in the following proportions: Municipality of Annapolis, 70 percent; Middleton, 15.9 percent; Bridgetown, 7.7 percent; and Annapolis Royal, 6.4 percent. This division of costs was reached at a meeting in Annapolis Royal, chaired by Hanson Dowell, Q.C., MLA, town solicitor of Middleton.

The meeting budgeted $14,000 for redecorating the court house, installing a shower and two new toilets in the jail, and fixing the chain fence on two sides of the property.

Warden Ronald Morehouse of the Digby Municipality visited the adjoining Municipality of Clare last week while the Clare Councillors sat in session.

In a short talk Mr. Morehouse said he already felt a much closer friendship existed between the two councils after sitting with the Clare council for only two hours. He congratulated the council for electing Emile Boudreau as warden and stated that he and Mr. Boudreau had attended Civil Defence meetings together in Ontario and Halifax.

Warden Morehouse said that they had one of the best sessions of council in the Digby Municipality this year that they have had for a long time. There were four new councillors, one being a woman, the first to sit on the Digby Council. He said that there is a difference in being on the outside looking in from being on the inside. After becoming a councillor it is found that others on the council are honest and real men with which to work.

Matters discussed between Warden Morehouse and the Clare Council were the Recording office, Weymouth, the old school buildings and matter of the schools, Clare put the schools up for tender and if those did not bring sufficient price they were not accepted.

The Neighborly Club met at the home of Mrs. Borden Fountain on Wednesday evening. A social evening was enjoyed.

Projects For Pre-schooler

A pre-school youngster is often lonely during the hours when his older brothers and sisters are away at school.

Providing suitable entertainment for a pre-schooler isn't always easy, but when you keep him happy and creatively busy, you are not just giving yourself a moment of much-needed peace. You are also helping him develop skills and interests.

In "Projects for the Child at Home" Shirley May Ruth gives some suggestions:

Play Dough: Make a simple form of play dough by mixing together one cup of flour and one cup of salt, then slowly adding up to one cup of cold water. You may not need the entire cup of water to make a soft, pliable dough. When the dough is of the right consistency, color it with a few drops of food coloring.

Your youngster will find many uses for this play dough. He can form fish or turtles in sand molds or spend happy hours making "cookies" using your cookie cutters. If the dough is left exposed to air, it will harden, preserving the treasures your child has made. To keep unused dough soft and pliable, store it in a tightly closed container.

Finger Paints. Make these by adding a few drops of food coloring to liquid laundry starch, then beating in all the dry detergent it will hold. If you wish, add talcum powder for smoothness.

Moistened shelf paper is a good background for finger paints. If your youngster paints on the floor, spread newspaper under the materials to make cleaning up easier. Messy as finger painting may be, it is an excellent creative outlet for a child and will keep him absorbed for long stretches of time.

Picture Books. Old wall-paper sample books or scrap-books can be made into picture books. Give your pre-schooler a pair of blunt scissors, a colorful magazine or an old catalogue, a spoon or paint brush and a can of home made flour paste. Then let him build his own collection of interesting pictures.

Jig Saw Puzzles. These can easily be made by pasting a colored magazine cover or illustration on a sheet of cardboard. When thoroughly dry, cut into squares or other shapes with scissors. Your child will get hours of pleasure fitting the pieces together.

Fashion's Newest Magic

Fashion's "old black magic", the patent leather shoe, is far more bewitching this Spring than ever before. The reason? Gleaming black patent leather has been joined by a pinwheel of flashing colors in new, more brilliant, more durable patent leather.

A glittering array of colored patent leather shoes that help break the "type casting" of patent for afternoon shoes were unveiled at the Spring previews of Shoe Fashion Service of Leather Industries. For the first time, the prized lustre and easy-care features of the patent leather shoe have been adapted to every occasion and every costume.

Patent leather's versatility was underscored in the many daytime and cocktail pumps in low key colors and pastels to fit the elegant but subdued costume of the city. Handsome in any silhouette — pointed, crescent or square — the colored patent pump is most often seen on simple, unadorned silhouettes. However, patent leather — colored or black — is also used for ties, open-side or d'orsay cut pumps whose beauty depend on the shape-holding qualities of this supple leather.

Late in the day and far into the evening metallic colored patent leather pumps — including bronze, copper and green — are the height of elegance. Standing tall on stiletto thin heels and highly polished leather soles, the patent leather evening shoe is the picture of elegance.

For the woman who likes the unusual in shoes, an aniline patent leather has been developed. A special transparent finish permits the natural markings on the hide to be seen, appearing to float up through the color. Available in matching shoes and handbags, aniline patent leather presents a picture of smartness and luxury.

The new sunny patent leathers have not put gleaming black leather in the fashion shade. As trim and smart as ever, black patent leather shoes have achieved new status as a late-day shoe through the use of brilliants on heel, vamp or toe. Spectator detailing has added another dimension to black patent leather shoes, making them special occasion footwear.

Valentine's Day

Valentine's Day has become a pleasant occasion for cashing in on cards or candy. But for the mads of an earlier day, it was a time for serious husband-hunting.

According to World Book Encyclopedia, a girl might start out, at midnight, by circling the church 12 times and repeating the rhyme, "I sow hempsed, hempseed I sow, he that loves me best, come after me now." If no one did, she could still hope to see her true valentine in her dreams. Of course, she first took the precaution of pinning five bay leaves to her pillow, one to each corner and one in the center.

Was marriage possible in the coming year? A peek through a keyhole could tell her that. The girl rose early on February 14 and set her eye to her keyhole. If she saw two objects, well and good. But if only one — better luck next year.

Still, perhaps she could identify her husband-to-be. She wrote the names of her boy friends on bits of paper and rolled each one in a piece of clay. Then she dropped the clay into water. The first scrap of paper that floated to the top was believed to hold the name of her valentine.

If she already had a favorite, she might test him by striking her forehead with a folded rose petal. If the petal cracked, obviously he loved her.

Some people shovel driveways. Others dig Volkswagen.

If you live in Snowville, think deep about your next car.

People who own conventional models often put something heavy in the trunk for extra traction. A Volkswagen owner never bothers. He's got 200 pounds of engine back there sitting right over the drive wheels. His car plows through snow without chains or special tires. On ice, the VW keeps its footing like a penguin.

Look at the underside of a Volkswagen. It's built like a toboggan. The bottom is completely covered with a smooth sheet of metal that skims over deep snow. The wires and rods you'd expect to find are inside, completely protected against sand, salt and slush.

There's no worry about sub-zero temperatures either. The Volkswagen can't freeze because it has no radiator.

The engine is cooled with air instead of water. (You can spend your anti-freeze money on jazz records.)

And before you start guessing at the price of a VW, check with one of our dealers. You could be way out, man.

IN THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

ANNUAL MEETING — JANUARY 1962

The Council for the Municipality of the District of Digby met at the Court House, Digby, on Monday, January 22nd, 1962 at 2 p.m.

Those present were Councillors elect, Roy Snell, Walter Wood, Ronald Morehouse, Victor Finigan, M. W. Derby, Hubert Shortliffe, Clyde Cosman, Eugene Outhouse, Sidney Westcott, Marion P. Gott, Aubrey Forrest and John Comeau.

The Clerk read the names of the Councillors who were declared elected by the Presiding Officers.

The Councillors elect then took the oath of allegiance and the oath of office.

Moved by Councillor Finigan, seconded by Councillor Snell, that Ronald Morehouse be elected Warden.

Moved by Councillor Derby, seconded by Councillor Outhouse, that nominations cease.

On being put to a vote Councillor Morehouse was declared elected as Warden.

Moved by Councillor Westcott, seconded by Councillor Forrest, that Clyde Cosman be Deputy Warden.

Moved by Councillor Snell, seconded by Councillor Derby, that nominations cease.

On motion Clyde Cosman was declared Deputy Warden.

Moved by Councillor Derby, seconded by Councillor Westcott that Victor Finigan, Roy Snell, Clyde Cosman and Aubrey Forrest be appointed as Nominating Committee. Passed.

The report of the Nominating Committee was presented and was as follows: Standing Committees:

Assessment — The whole Council.

Finance and Public Accounts — Councillors Finigan, Snell, Cosman, Shortliffe, Outhouse, and Gott.

Poor and Harmless Insane — Councillors Forrest, Westcott, Comeau and Derby.

Tenders and Public Property — Councillors Finigan, Shortliffe and Westcott.

Hydro — Councillors Cosman, Derby and Snell.

Arbitration — Councillors Snell, Derby, Westcott, Gott and Cosman.

License — Councillors Wood, and Outhouse.

Revising Jury Lists — Councillors Westcott and Forrest.

By-Laws — Councillors Finigan, Derby, Cosman and Comeau.

Jail — Councillors Forrest and Wood.

Moved by Councillor Finigan, seconded by Councillor Cosman that the report of the Nominating Committee be accepted. Passed.

The Warden addressed the Council as follows:

Members of the Council, first of all I want to thank you for the confidence you have shown in me by electing me to serve as your Warden.

I feel honoured that you have made this selection and I shall endeavour to justify the faith and confidence that you have shown.

And now I want to extend a welcome to all the members of the Council, particularly those who have been elected for the first time. In this connection I also want to make mention of the fact that this year, for the first time in the history of the Municipality, we have a lady member on our Council. I extend to you, Councillor Gott, a sincere welcome, your presence among us will add much to our deliberations. To all I would say that the business of conducting the affairs of this Municipality is one that will require the dedicated service of all of us. I know because of the fact you have offered your service as Councillors, you are interested in the welfare of Digby Municipality and I feel most confident that every one here will work together in singleness of purpose to promote that welfare.

Since the Municipal Council met last a number of significant developments have occurred in Digby Municipality. Among these were the opening of the first stage of the huge Sashoo Power Development, and the completion of the main job of reclaiming the marshland at the head of St. Mary's Bay. Both of these developments should play a most significant part in the future of our Municipality.

In the field of education the new Elementary School at Westport has been just about completed. In Freeport, a contract has been let to Central Construction Co., Eel Brook, for the new Consolidated School. The contract was in the amount of $134,096.00 and was the lowest tender of five received. A contract for the proposed addition to the Weymouth Consolidated School has been let to the Rodney Contractors Ltd., Yarmouth, in the amount of $73,268.00. This was the lowest tender of six received.

I am pleased to report that last year we ended operations in our educational finance with a surplus of $10,091.34. Unfortunately, this will be taken up by the fact that for 1962 the Provincial Government has reduced its percentage sharing in costs of education for this Municipality by 2.3 per cent.

A study of the auditor's report will reveal other aspects of the financial operation of the affairs of this Municipality for 1961.

I would recommend that every Councillor make a full effort to thoroughly familiarize himself and herself with the auditors statement. I am sure that our Clerk or the auditors will be happy to provide explanations where they are needed. In the preparation of our budget for 1962 we will all need to have a fairly good picture of the recent past in various departments as well as knowledge of the needs for this year.

Before going further I want at this time to extend my thanks to the Clerk, to his staff and all other employees of the Municipality for their co-operation and assistance in the past year. In this connection I want to mention the excellent work done by our new tax collector and assistant, Mr. Paul Swanburg. The efficiency he has shown in the collection of taxes has been reflected, not only in a much higher rate of collection of taxes, but also in the fact that our borrowings from the Bank have been greatly reduced this year due to early receipt of tax revenue.

One disappointment was the car ferry between Digby and Saint John, so much talked about, and the Boards of Trade worked so hard to get action received no definite action or announcement in 1961. But, I hope their efforts will still continue in the next year or until some definite action is taken.

In closing I want to express again the confidence and faith that I have in the ability of this Council to work together in harmony for the benefit and welfare of the Municipality.

Respectfully submitted,

January 22nd, 1962.

Clare Council Session Ends

Emile Boudreau of Meteghan was re-elected warden of the Municipality of Clare at the annual council meeting that commenced on Tuesday, Feb. 6th and newly elected council member, Gerald d'Entremont of Meteghan Station was appointed as deputy warden. Two new councillors were sworn in, the deputy warden and Gustave Dugas of Grasse Coues, who replaced Alfred Bellevue, who resigned to pressure of business. Deputy warden d'Entremont was elected due to the resignation of Stanley Saulnier who is presently employed in Lynn, Mass.

The councillors continuing in office are: Vincent Goulet, the dean of the councillors, who has served the Municipality for close to twenty years; he resides in Little Brook, Gustave Comeau, of Concession, farmer and rural mail carrier; Leonard Gaudet, St. Bernard; Gerald Lombard, Corberrie; Harvey Deveau, Mavillette.

Three new schools were constructed in Clare in 1961. These schools are consolidated schools, which it is hoped will improve the educational program in the Municipality. They are situated at Salmon River, St. Bernard and Havelock. The two first named schools have six classrooms in use while the Havelock school is presently using four rooms with two rooms for further expansion. These schools along with the St. Alphonse school of four classrooms constructed in 1959 contain an all purpose room of the size of two classrooms. Schools constructed in 1961 were done so out of revenue and a considerable amount will be saved in interest to the Municipality.

Problems in operating Municipalities is become more burdensome each year and Clare has its own. Cost of Education as risen considerably in late years. In order to keep up to standard, the Municipality has had to tackle the problem of better schools, not only in buildings themselves, but improvements in classroom distribution of students to their best advantage. The consolidated system, which in Clare, has been planned on the parish basis should show in future years that this step was a good one.

The increase in the enrollment in the higher grades has proven that the Council was justified in constructing a modern district high school. Prior to 1956 the enrollment in grades 7 to 12 was approximately 375 and today it is over 600. Where there were 5 pupils in grade 12 there are over 30 and another attending the Commercial class, which means that 51 pupils from Clare are attending classes above the grade 11 class.

Consolidation has done away with the one room school houses which proved to be a headache to the Municipal School Board. It had become very difficult to obtain suitable teachers for these schools and some cases no teacher at all was obtained. Consolidation made it possible to have teachers with less classes per classroom thus giving them more time with a larger number of pupils or an equal number in one or two grades, as the case may be.

An excess of expenditure over revenue is shown in the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure of the Clare Municipality for the year 1961 to be $21,839.15, the largest for many years. Revenue is derived as follows: Taxation from Real Property $160,463.16; Personal property $33,911.16; Poll Taxes $12,045.15; others $899.06; Licences and permits $15.00; Interest on Tax arrears $1,094.33; Contributions, Grants and Subsidies: $179,856.30; Capital revenue from Special reserve fund $39,147.65; unclassified $69.52. Total Revenue $429,065.09.

Expenditures were: General Government $20,549.67; Protection to Persons and Property $9,575.26 (includes Comeau Trial costing $6,251.95); Sanitation and Waste removal $225.50; Health $45,563.32; Social Welfare $25,551.16; Education $99,096.25; Community Services $137.00; Debt charges $59,930.92; Provision for uncollected taxes 4,000.00; Capital expenditure out of revenue $173,016.28; Joint Expenditure $2,165.47; Unclassified $2,532.12; Deficit of the prior year provided in estimates $8,561.29. Total $150,904.24.

Tax collections for the year was $153,713.75 out of a total of $207,348.53. Ratio of Current taxes collected is 74.1% of total collected to Current Levy 91.6%; of Current taxes

H & S To Have Talent Show
Digby Neck Home and School Assoc. held its monthly meeting on Thursday, Feb. 1, in the school auditorium with the President, Mrs. Edmond Morehouse presiding.

At the short business meeting it was voted that a talent show to be held in April to raise funds to purchase gym equipment for the Auditorium, this being the project for the year. It was voted that the Home and School pay expenses for anyone wishing to attend folk school to be held in Truro during the month of March.

Grade five for the fifth month in succession again received the Library Book for the month for the highest percentage of parents attending.

February being Founders Day the Home and School Creed was read in unison.

Mrs. Stanley Denton, Founders Day Convenor and ten members presented the play entitled "Founders Day in Canada". The ten provinces were represented as they joined the Home and School Federation. During the play the Founders Day offering was taken by two provinces represented and was sent to headquarters at Truro.

The Founders Day cake with four candles was lit by the president, Mrs. Edmond Morehouse. One candle for each year that the Digby Neck Consolidated School has organized the association.

The cake was beautifully decorated and served during refreshments.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Denton by the president on behalf of the members and guests.

In closing games and refreshments were enjoyed by all.

outstanding 25.9% and ratio of total taxes outstanding to Current Levy 36.5%.

The operating costs of the Clare Municipal Home at Meteghan Centre is shown as $6,998.91. The Municipal Home was slated to be closed by the Municipal Council due to the fact that only a few inmates were registered in the last few years and it was felt that a saving could be made by its closing. Recently the Council declined to continue its operation when a certain inmate was unable to be placed elsewhere. In the last few months the number of inmates registered was five, the lowest in years. At one time over 35 inmates were contained in the Municipal Home. It is believed that the various government pensions has relieved the burden of the Municipality for caring for indigent people. These people do not exist in such numbers as in former years and the old aged persons are taken care by the old age assistance program and the crippled (permanent) are also assisted by pensions in many cases.

The Council has decided to install a sprinkler system and a modern central heating plant to replace the outmoded and worn out heating system in the Municipal Home.

The report of the Municipal School Board showed an excess of expenditure over revenue for the year at $3,142.30. Income consists of the following: appropriation from the Municipal Council, $97,250.00; provincial grants (foundation program) $260,447.30; tuition from Municipal School Board of Digby, $255.00. Total, $357,952.30.

Expenditures are made up as follows: administration, $5,360.31; foundation program services, $354,655.88, for a total of $360,016.19. Previous deficit was $578.41. The foundation program services consists of instructional salaries, $211,437.40; maintenance, $39,084.50; conveyance, $80,944.93; tuition to other school boards, $23,189.05, less tuition revenue from Digby Municipal School Board of $255.00. The foundation program grant for 1961 was 75.02%.

The operation of the Municipal Home at Meteghan Centre showed expenditures as follows: Salaries, $2,808.00; groceries, $3,083.41; fuel, $462.85; clothing, $400.11; lights, $97.80; telephone, $103.50; medical services, $117.50; insurance, $8.00; funerals, $177.00; repairs and maintenance, $100.34, for a total of $6,998.91. From this total revenue from pensions to the amount of $913.00 is deducted, showing a net operating cost of $6,085.91. Estimated grant from the provincial government based on provisional per diem rate is $2,392.66.

The general reserve fund of the municipality is $39,147.65.

Surplus Shown By Weymouth

An operating surplus of $2,033.06 was shown in the report of the Ratepayers' Department presented at the annual meeting of the ratepayers of the Village of Weymouth held in the Fire Hall. The balance sheet and year-end statements were reviewed and the Village Supply Tax rate was reset at 40 cents per $100.00 assessment. Revenue from this tax is mainly used to maintain equipment and provide more fire protection in the village. Last year another portable fire pump was added to the equipment. The report for the Electrical Department for 1961 showed an excess of revenue over expenditures of $1,963.05.

It was decided to adopt Daylight Saving Time to coincide with neighboring towns and to observe Boxing Day and Easter Monday as holidays. Dr. J. Eudes Comeau, dentist, was re-elected to serve a second three-year term as commissioner. Other officers are commissioners A. M. Rice, retiring 1963; John Comeau, retiring 1964; and Clerk and Treasurer, C. Willis Mullen. Messrs. Wilfred Cosman, P. V. Charlton and Ralph Cosman were elected auditors.

Appreciation was extended to the commissioners and local members of the Municipal Council, J. Comeau and C. Cosman, for their efforts in connection with the sidewalk project at the Weymouth Consolidated School.

Main topic for discussion was the Volunteer Fire Department which is not receiving the support of the men of the village. No meetings of the executive of the department were held during the year although some practice sessions had been held. A motion passed at this meeting calls for the efforts of the commissioners and the president of the Fire Department, Mr. E. Adelaar, in arranging a special meeting of the ratepayers of the village for the re-organization of the department.

Weymouth U.C.W. Dedicated
Though difficult travel conditions occasioned by the heavy snowfall of the last few days cut down attendance at the Sunday evening service at Heartz Memorial United Church, Weymouth, and sickness within the congregation also took its toll, a surprisingly good number did attend the inaugural service of United Church Women in that church on Sunday evening.

The pattern of service was that prepared for use across Canada, and in this instance was conducted with Mrs. Hartley Powell, newly elected president, assisted by Miss Frances Lent who read the scripture from Romans, chapter 8. A choir under the direction of Mr. W. Allan Irvine sang as an anthem, the recently composed hymn, "Hear Us, oh Lord, As We Thy Servants Meet." Organist was Miss Margaret Hankinson.

Two of the ladies of the church acted as ushers and received the offering. Miss Bernice Journey and Mrs. A. Scott Hankinson and several of the lady members of the new group were in the choir with the regular choir members.

A most stirring and challenging address, Vision of the Future was given by Mrs. W. Allan Irvine, First Vice-President in which it was pointed out that the fine work of Women Associations and Women Missionary Society's in

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Trimper became a complete loss when fire swept through it on Monday of this week.

The fire broke out in the chimney at about 11:30 while Mrs. Trimper and a grandson were alone in the home. The Bear River Fire Department was called but it was unable to save the home because of lack of water.

A few household articles and clothing from down stairs were saved. It is understood that no insurance was carried. Mr. and Mrs. Trimper at present are staying with their sons, Dennis and Don-ald Trimper.

Digby Women Executive Officers

Mrs. Harold Murray, Ber-wick, was elected president of the Annapolis Presbyterial United Church Women at the Inaugural meeting held at Gordon Providence Church at Bridgetown on Thursday. Mrs. Warren Roop, Middleton, was elected 1st vice-president and Mrs. F. B. Banks, Kingston, recording secretary. The other three officers elected were from the Digby area --- Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby, second vice-president; Mrs. Elton Arn-old, Digby, treasurer, and Mrs. Curtis Hanksinon, Weymouth, corresponding secretary. Also on the executive from Digby as heads of committees are Mrs. James Ayer, committee on nominations and Mrs. Wil-lam Marshall, program com-mittee. Other committee chair-men are --- Christian Citizen-ship and Social Action, Mrs. Leonard Rafuse, Annapolis Royal; Christian Education and Missionary Education, Mrs. M. S. Horsburg, Berwick; Finance, Mrs. Harold Willett, Bridgetown; Leadership De-velopment, Mrs. Warren Roop, Middleton; Organization and Promotion, Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby; Community Friend-ship and Visiting, Mrs. Wes-ley Sawler, Wilmot; Literature and Communications, Mrs. Helen Myers, Middleton; Peri-odicals, Mrs. Norman Mor-rison, Middleton; Press and Publicity, Mrs. D. B. Angus, Bridgetown; Stewardship and Recruiting, Mrs. Arthur Lind-say, Berwick; Supply and So-cial Assistance, Mrs. Garnet Palmer, Melvern Square. The above were called to be dedi-cated by Rev. Calder Fraser, Bridgetown.

Nominations to Presbytery committees were also accept-ed on Thursday as follows --- M. & M., Mrs. Horsburgh, Mrs. Lindsay, Mrs. Janet Mer-ry, Lawrencetown (formerly Janet Wilson, Bay View, Dig-by Co.); Christian Education, Mrs. C. W. Ficks, Annapolis Royal, Mrs. M. W. Spicer, Ber-wick, Mrs. D. L. Eagles, King-ston; E. & S. Committee, Mrs. Rafuse; Home Mission, Mrs. Henry Foote, Cambridge Sta-tion; World Mission, Mrs. J. A. Ruffee; Stewardship and Recruiting, Mrs. Lindsay. The six officers were appointed delegates to the inaugural meeting of Maritime Confer-ence United Church Women to meet in Amherst at Trinity St. Stephen Church on March 14, when Dr. R. C. Chalmers, Pine Hill, will be guest speak-er.

Guest speaker at the In-augural service was Mrs. J. Y. MacKinnon, London, Ontario former president of W.A. Dom-inion Council and now work-ing on the Women's Board level for United Church Wo-men. Mrs. MacKinnon said this was the greatest event which happened to the United Church since church union. At the outset of her talk, Mrs. MacKinnon stressed the fact that W.M.S. and W.A. were entirely out of existence as of December 31, 1961, and that the words "amalgamation" and "merger" should be left en-tirely out of use in this regard. There are not only former W.M.S. and W.A. women in this organization. She stressed the fact that this is completely new organization and especial-ly on the congregational level this must be stressed. Mrs. MacKinnon said that she hoped that in using the constitution and by-laws that U.C.W. mem-bers would realize the time, thought and prayer which went into these before they went to the printers. These, she said, are needed for direc-tion. The programs, she said, were nearly four years in plan-ning and were meant for real study; especially the mission study and Bible study books on the unit level. It is the re-sponsibility of the Presbyterial women to interpret the new organization to the congrega-tional women, Mrs. MacKinnon said. We must emphasize, she said, that the women must be willing to lose their identity and trust that those who plan-ned the organization have brought everything worthy from all past organizations into the new.

Mrs. MacKinnon continued that there has been a vision and it is now up to the women to bring the vision to reality and it is hoped that the vision will further grow in 1962. The answer to success in this re-gard, she said, comes down to

Firemen Hold Banquet

The annual banquet of the Digby Fire Department was held at the Cornwallis Cafe on Wednesday, February 14th, at 7:30 p.m., with some 85 mem-bers and their wives attend-ing. Also present were Mayor and Mrs. Vernon L. Bent, members of the fire com-mittee of the town of Digby and the fire wardens.

Mayor Bent spoke briefly, thanking the firemen for their own voluntary efforts in build-ing up the town's fire equip-ment and hose during the past few years.

Budd Barr, president, thank-ed the Mayor on behalf of the Fire Department.

Master of ceremonies was Ray Thibault and Warren Wong extended a welcome to the firemen.

During the evening firemen Robert Morgan and Murray Baxter, who recently completed courses in fire fighting, were presented with their certifi-cates and badges by the secre-tary of the department, Reginald Turnbull.

Following the supper enter-tainment and dancing were enjoyed at the fire station.

Wayne Tips Police On Stolen Car

Wayne Snow, 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Snow, Digby, noticed in the Chronicle-Herald on Tuesday the license number of a stolen car. An-other thing which Wayne, a Grade IX student at the Digby Regional High School, had noticed was a car standing for some time in front of the school. Number plates were covered with snow but Wayne Snow decided to see what an uncovering would reveal. Sure enough, here were the very numbers mentioned in the Chronicle-Herald --- 2-47-27.

At once Wayne took his story to his principal, Arnold MacCallum, he notified the R.C.M.P. and they in turn contacted the town Constable Donald Jayne.

We expect that Arthur Mac-Kenzie, Pope's Harbor, will be getting back his maroon 1960 Zephyr sedan in short time.

The car at present is stored at The MacDonald Motor Co. Ltd. garage.

Using Local Talent

Mr. Ray Thibault, chairman of the Digby Firemen's Ice Carnival for 1962, advises that this year's show will be strict-ly an all local show with local talent featured. Lionettes' Fig-ure Skaters will present a program, as will the Digby Majorettes. Other attractions will be the annual Queen con-test, the junior and senior costume contests and the costume parade. Cornwallis band will also be in attend-ance.

Mr. Thibault stated that all entries in the contests and costume parade should be in early in order to assure that arrangements were complete for the show.

It is from the proceeds of this show that the department obtains funds for the purchase of much needed equipment for fire protection. At present they are working on Salvage and Rescue operations and try-ing to complete this part of necessary equipment. A large part of the proceeds are also made available to the Recrea-tion Commission for the de-partment's part in assisting in the operation costs of the Forum.

the individual woman, her at-titudes and motives towards the work. These should be only Christian. The women must be conscious of their de-pendence on God and feel their responsibility in bringing unity in the churches, to give serv-ice and to witness not only in church organizations but also in other phases of life. The women, she said, have a re-sponsibility to make known that Jesus is the light of the world and to love the Lord with heart, soul, strength and mind and the neighbor as self. The service was conducted by Rev. Calder Fraser, assist-ed by Mrs. Wallis. Mrs. Roop introduced the speaker.

Digby Hockey Club Suspended From League

Due to the infraction of M. A.H.A. rules, by the Digby Ravens Hockey Club a meet-ing was called by Dr. Plumm-en, the president of the West-ern Valley Hockey League at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis on Tues-day afternoon with the execu-tive.

Mr. Warne of Digby and vice-president of the league was spokesman for the Digby Ravens and gave several rea-sons why the Digby Club did not show up for the regular scheduled game at the Bridge-town rink on Monday evening, February 12th. Apparently the main reason was the condition and size of the Bridgetown Rink.

After considerable discus-sion on the given reasons, it was decided that since at the beginning of the season no protests in this regard were made, it was only in order that Digby Ravens team should have been on hand for the scheduled game. Another infraction also taken into con-sideration was the unfairness of not advising Bridgetown or the President three days in advance they would not be on hand for the game.

The penalty for this infrac-tion according to M.A.H.A. rules is one year's suspension from M.A.H.A. hockey and this was handed out to the Digby Ravens Hockey Club for their exhibition of poor sportsmanship. Not only is the team barred from hockey for one year, but all players signed up with the Ravens will be suspended.

Bridgetown Hockey Club is not happy about this situation, however players and teams entered in the M.A.H.A. are well aware of the rules and Digby through its error is de-serving of the penalty handed out by officials.

Greatest Thing Happened In Digby County

"Progress in any agricultural community is so often painful-ly slow," said Lloyd MacNeil, in speaking at the Digby Coun-ty Conference held at Conway recently. "However," continued Mr. MacNeil, "the marshland development at St. Mary's Bay is simply wonderful and is the greatest thing that has hap-pened in this county since I can remember."

Mr. MacNeil went on to say that since the project of re-claiming this marshland had started, about 30 or 40% of the land had changed hands and that the number of own-ers had been reduced to the point where, now, larger blocks of land are owned by individual farmers. Conse-quently, it is much easier to get action where only a few owners are involved than in instances where the number of owners is larger and the holdings, in many cases, so small that the owners figure that it is hardly worth their while to bother with them.

"The biggest job that has to be done now," said Mr. Mac-Neil, "is to get the people who are standing back, waiting to see how the project is going to develop, to think positively and, in so doing, set the wheels of the project in motion. Once interest is aroused, the project will be an assured success." (N. S. Farm News)

Brotherhood Formed

At a supper meeting of the men of the congregation of the Baptist Church of Digby held last Saturday night, it was de-cided to form a Men's Brother-hood group in the church. The pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, out-lined the program that might be followed by such a group, and told how it could be re-lated to the Baptist Men's Board of the Maritime Baptist Convention. A nominating com-mittee was appointed to bring in a slate of officers for the organization.

The next meeting of the group will be held on Satur-day evening, March 3rd, which will include the election of officers as well as a discussion on a topic of interest.

Last Sunday night, a service in the Hill Grove church was sponsored by the members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship of the church. The service was conducted by the pastor, and assisted by Benjie Marshall, Velva Franklin and Linda Marshall. The message was given by Rev. L. R. Atkinson. A group of young people from the Weymouth Falls Baptist Church formed the choir for the service and also provided a number of special selections. Mrs. D'Arcy Roop presided at the organ.

The Bounty

After it being too late to cancel all our copy on the Bounty last week and too late to make the last run of the press, the following tele-graph was received via the Digby Board of Trade from Rear Admiral H. F. Pullen (retired) chairman of the citi-zens committee for the re-turn of the Bounty.

The Citizens Committee for the return of the Bounty, having examined many means of reaching that objective, has agreed that the incorpo-ration of a company to take title to the vessel if the terms already publicly set forth by MGM can be finaliz-ed. The new company will operate it for the promotion of the tourist trade, and the preservation of Nova Scotia's Maritime heritage. Adoption of this plan is possible be-cause Oland and Son Ltd. has generously agreed to make available to such a company the funds necessary to return the vessel and its subsequent operation. This frees government and the public in general, of any monetary obligations, now or in the future. In addition, the articles of incorporation will ensure that any profits of the new Bounty company, after interest amortization, de-preciation, maintenance and operating expense, will be de-voted solely to public pur-poses associated with Nova Scotian life, which is so lar-gely based on the sea. The committee expresses its ap-preciation of the offers of Boards of Trades in Nova Scotia, as evidenced in their telegrams, to participate in a campaign to raise the ne-cessary funds. That sugges-tion, however, was based on the thought that the Bounty could be moved from port to port in Nova Scotia after its return, careful examina-tion of all costs factors has shown to the committee that such a port to port movement could not be guaranteed with-out heavy recurring annual calls on the public and or governments for support. This was deemed not practical, but the committee was assur-ed by the guarantors that they would co-operate with the new Bounty company in having the vessel appear at fairs and exhibitions in Nova Scotia ports and other ports if the vessel company finds it practical to undertake such voyages the committee by re-solution unanimously expres-sed its appreciation of the generous offer of Oland and Son Limited, thus to assist in the Nova Scotian tourist development and the preser-vation of worthwhile evi-dence of the Nova Scotian Shipbuilding and Maritime skills and history.

During the day the local V. O. N. Nurse, Miss Valerie Squire, assisted the mem-bers of the committee in the sale of fish chowder and sand-wiches which was prepared by the assistance of DeMille Raymond, and the ingredients of which were donated by the kindness of Keith O. Ray. (Please turn to page 5)

Scout Leaders Assist Youth Development

(Contributed)

The week of February 13-25 being observed throughout Canada as Boy Scout Week, it is the feeling of the writer a few pertinent facts about Scout activities in our own area may be of interest.

In the Digby District, which includes the area from Allen's Creek, near Annapolis, to Weymouth and Digby Neck and Islands, some 400 boys are enrolled in the Cubs and Scouts, including a Sea Scout Troop at Freeport.

This District is under the supervision of the District Commissioner, Norman Wright, Digby. Assistant District Commissioner Scouts, Charles Rhodes, Deep Brook; Assistant District Commissioner Cubs, Harold Surette, Conway; Assistant District Commissioner Training, Donald Brown, Digby.

The District Council consists of Dr. G. V. Turnbull, president; Lt. Cmdr. Brockley, Cornwallis, vice-president; Carl Warner, Digby, secretary; H. C. Morton, Digby, treasurer. This Council is directly responsible for Scouting in the Digby area.

The District Camp Site at Lake Le Merchant, containing some 40 acres, is divided into lots for each troop in the area. The central area has been levelled and a lodge erected. Each year improvements are being made.

The standard of Scouters in the area is very high, with at least fifty percent holding the wood badge or working to complete same. Regular training courses are held.

As part of the program in observance of Boy Scout Week an Instructional Rally will be held for Scouts at Cornwallis on Saturday at which training in water safety, fire prevention, first aid and fire arms safety will be given. The day will end with a campfire.

The week will conclude with a Boy Scout Founder's Day church parade, which will be held at Cornwallis on Sunday, February 25th.

Our own Digby District is very fortunate to have such capable leaders who spend many hours throughout the year on camping trips, hikes, meetings, courses, etc., with their only pay the deep personal satisfaction of knowing they have contributed towards developing responsible and mature adults.

Brotherhood Week February 18-25, 1962

In this enlightened age more people than ever before understand the problems that confront mankind. We now expect a greater measure of understanding and co-operation in our world society, for universal brotherhood is no longer the wishful dream that it once was.

Progress is indeed being achieved. A multiplicity of organizations promote better relations among nations, and thousands of devoted workers aid individuals in distress both at home and abroad.

If this is true, why, then, the need for Brotherhood Week each year?

It is because there still remains a need for greater understanding at the local level of the problems that assail our society. Too often we are blind to our neighbour's needs and fail to understand the havoc that discrimination wreaks in the lives of others. We are, unfortunately, too prone to forget the frustration of individuals who, because of their colour, creed or race, are denied employment, tenancy of desirable housing, or some of the amenities which we take for granted. Too many of us, perhaps, fail to understand the disastrous economic and psychological consequences of discrimination.

How well we would understand if it happened to any one of us! As a very wise man once observed: "Herein lies the tragedy of the ages: not that men are poor — all men know something of poverty; not that men are wicked — who is good? Not that men are ignorant — what is truth? Nay, but that men know so little of men."

This is a New Year. With it come new opportunities for service and understanding.

Every one of us is capable of a single, meditated act of brotherliness in his own community. If each of us should resolve in 1962 to perform even one act to end discrimination, those accumulated deeds would total in the millions — enough, perhaps, to make a change in our way of life, and to bring us closer to the ideal of brotherhood in our nation.

Minister of Citizenship & Immigration.

Store Hours

More and more the store hours in down town Digby become in a state of confusion and irritation. Last week we had complaints that because those merchants who closed on Wednesdays had advertised the same the public was led to think that all the stores were closed. This was detrimental to business, other merchants said. These merchants then got their heads together and decided to advertise their hours, which of course was the only sensible thing to do.

A new angle has entered this week. This time the wish of the customer is being sought by interested downtowners. We refer to an advertisement on this page of the Courier. Since the merchants can't come to an understanding we almost believe the customer's wish idea has hit the nail on the head. Now, if customers will cooperate, fill in the coupons and return, the merchants will have something to go on which to base a sound decision. We'd even welcome "letters to the editor" on the subject within the next four weeks.

Best Wishes Jack

Report From Parliament Hill

Hon. George C. Nowlan

This week saw passage of the increase in the Old Age Pensions, and the related increases in the Blind Persons and Disabled persons legislation are presently under discussion. The increases will be retroactive to February 1st so that the pensioner's cheques at the end of this month will be for $65.00 instead of $55.00. There was no opposition to the Government legislation and so far all the measures have passed unanimously. This will be welcome news for the recipients of these pensions.

Figures just released by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics for December of 1961 show that unemployment is down by 115,000 over December of 1960. The Bureau also reports that December employment was the highest ever and that 182,000 more Canadians were employed last December over December of 1960. While unemployment is still a very serious problem, all Members of Parliament were glad to see this change for the better.

Last week in my Report I indicated to you that I would discuss Canada's trade with Cuba at greater length this week since there has apparently been quite a misunderstanding of Canada's position. Because of certain statements made in the last few days, I thought I would try to clarify the position that our country has taken.

First, by way of background I should tell you that Canada is not a member of the Organization of American States, but Cuba is. Naturally there was a great deal of outcry when Premier Castro of Cuba declared that he and his Government were Communist and indeed have received some $100 million in jet planes, guns and tanks from Russia. The U. S. Government therefore understandably wished to have Cuba suspended from membership in the Organization, particularly so when Cuba had access to the continental defence plans of the O.A.S.

The conference of the O.A.S. last week was called to take action against Cuba but there was disagreement over what action should be taken. The Americans wanted an outright ban on all trade with Cuba but their resolution failed to obtain the necessary majority. The compromise solution adopted at the suggestion of the major South American lean powers called for a ban on all military and strategic trade. This is the position which Canada has followed voluntarily for two years.

There has been a suggestion that Cuba could use earnings on her trade with Canada to promote subversion in neighboring countries. This, of course, would be a very serious situation if it were true.

The Prime Minister pointed out that Canada's trade with Cuba is solely in non-strategic materials and runs heavily in favour of Canada since we sold them $21 million worth of goods and purchased $1 million worth of Cuba goods. Therefore, there is no possibility of earnings by Cuba on her exports to Canada being used for this purpose. On the contrary, Canadian trade with Cuba is absorbing dollars secured from other sources. In fact, Cuba earned $14 million last year on their trade with the United States. In his context, the Minister of Trade and Commerce assured Parliament that his officials were instructed to keep a very close check on exports to Cuba to ensure that no strategic materials were being shipped there. This position is consistent with Canada's general policy of refraining from the export of military and strategic materials to areas of tension anywhere in the world. Our policy differs somewhat from that of the United States, but, as President Kennedy has stated, there cannot be an American solution for every world problem.

Last week I also discussed with you the subject of Winter Works. From statistics published last Wednesday, I can inform you that there are some fifty nine projects presently under way in Nova Scotia at the present time. The estimated cost of these projects is $1,487,000.00 and some 808 men are employed on these projects which are taking place in 23 municipalities throughout Nova Scotia.

The figures for Canadian Municipal Winter Works Programme show that there are 6,092 projects under way with an estimated total cost of $258,000,000.00, providing employment for 111,687 workers in 2,324 municipalities throughout Canada.

Tuesday, February 6th, marked the 10th Anniversary of the Accession to the Throne of Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth, and the occasion was marked all across Canada by cannons firing a Royal Salute. In the House, the Prime Minister officially extended Greetings and Good Wishes on behalf of the Government, the Commons and the people of Canada. The Prime Minister expressed the wish that the next decade of Her Majesty's reign would be one of peace and prosperity, not only among the peoples of the Commonwealth, but throughout the world.

It is difficult to realize that ten years have passed since Canada woke up one winter morning to learn that King George VI was dead and that a shy young woman now sat on the Throne. In her first ten years she has performed her duty to her people with dignity, devotion and grace. The Monarchy is closer to the people now than it has ever been, perhaps because it is represented by the Queen. Her subjects around the globe

Rosy Ring-A-Round

There are literally hundreds of kinds of Canadian fish that offer palate appeal menus. And rosy British Columbia canned salmon is one of the most familiar, particularly for those quick, easy and satisfying main dish tricks all good cooks like to serve to keep the budget balanced. Saucy Salmon and Shells is one such new idea. Colorful chunks of the salmon float in a simple sauce in which mustard and poultry seasoning provide especially good accents for the richly flavored fish. The saucy salmon is served in a ring around hot cooked macaroni shells. The shape adds interest to your table, but you can use more familiar elbow macaroni if you wish.

Saucy Salmon and Shells

1. 1 pound can salmon (2 cups)
1. 10 ounce can cream of celery soup
Milk
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind (optional)
8 ounce package shell or other macaroni

er macaroni

Cook macaroni according to package directions. Meanwhile, drain salmon, reserving liquid. Combine salmon liquid with enough milk to make one cup; blend into celery soup. Add dry mustard, poultry seasoning and lemon rind. Heat, stirring, to boiling point. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Add salmon in chunks; cover, simmer, stirring occasionally, until salmon is hot. Drain cooked macaroni. Mound it in centre of round serving dish. Pour salmon in sauce around macaroni. Serve immediately. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

African Violet Humidity and Potting

Since African violets are really jungle plants, they need lots of humidity. In his article "African Violet Culture" Derek Lydecker suggests that indoor humidity can be increased by placing pans of water on radiators for evaporation or by setting the plants on pebble filled trays of water. The water level should be kept just below the pebbles so that the pots do not stand in it. Excessive moisture in the soil would clog the air passages and eventually suffocate the roots. Like other house plants African violets need fresh air, says the author. In winter air can be admitted through a window in an adjoining room, so that the plants do not get a cold draft.

The soil mixture should be one that roots can penetrate with ease. Equal parts of sterilized potting soil, sand and either vermiculite or perlite from a light porous mixture. With African violets sterilized soil is a must. If the grower prefers to sterilize his own soil, this can be done by adding a commercial fumigant according to package directions. There are several prepared African violet potting soils available, however, which will save a lot of work.

Since African violets have rather small root systems, they do not need large pots. An overpotted plant uses up soil moisture slowly and may succumb to crown rot from excessively damp soil. All pots should have drainage holes so that excess water can drain off.

The amount of water that each plant should be given depends on many factors, whether the pot is porous or non porous, whether or not the plant is in active growth, whether or not the soil is well drained. The only accurate test is a dry fingertip placed on the soil surface. Whenever the soil begins to feel dry, enough water should be given to run freely from the drainage hole in the bottom of the pot. Then withhold all water until the soil once again begins to feel dry. If the gardener prefers, the plants can be watered by setting the porous pots in a bowl of water.

er until the surface soil begins to show moist patches. Top watering is not harmful if care is taken to keep water off the foliage.

Efficient Cleaning Days

A bulletin of the Canadian Association of Consumers contains some information about vacuum cleaners.

There are four types of vacuum cleaners available on the market: (1) tanks (2) canisters, (3) uprights, (4) small hand cleaners. The best buy will depend upon the floor or other surfaces to be cleaned in your home. In general, the tanks and canisters do an outstanding job in cleaning hard floor surfaces, drapes, upholstered furniture and baseboards, which is half the cleaning job in many households. If you have large areas of rug surface, an upright cleaner would be the most efficient. The upright will clean a rug considerably faster than the tank and canister models. Ideally, one should own two cleaners; an upright for rugs and a tank or small hand cleaner for other tasks. However, "Consumer Reports" states that "most consumers will be happy in the long run with a good tank or canister cleaner and will find it worthwhile to spend a little longer in cleaning their rugs in order to do all other cleaning chores more easily."

The quality of care is as important to good performance as the initial care in purchase. For convenience, store tanks or canister with hose, wands and rug tools attached. The hose should hang over a hook in a closet in order for wands to stand upright. Do not allow a bag to become too full because this will decrease suction and may burn out motor. Avoid picking up sharp objects, and do not run cleaner over cord or walk on it. Some new trends on the market: motor driven brush canister, automatic cord winders, adjustable suction control, swivel top for canisters, larger lasting hose and stretchy hoses, and floor polisher attachment.

Finally, it is well to remember that any type of vacuum cleaner will clean a rug properly if you have the time and energy to run the cleaner over the rug a sufficient number of times. The American Carpet Institute recommends 7 passes over each area with an upright and 11 with a tank cleaner. Vacuuming is not hard on rugs. It is the deep, gritty dirt that can cut carpet fibers and it should be removed while it is still on the surface.

Indian Gift

Many dishes from other lands have a romantic history behind them and a name that conjures up all manner of imaginative pictures. Take Kedgeree for example. Though its name might make you think of a rare tropical animal or an old-fashioned game, it's Kedgeree is a food that's been popular in India for many generations. In Hindustani the word is "khichri", although in occidental literature it's sometimes spelled "kiddere", "kedgery" or "cudgery". Regardless of spelling, the original version consisted of fish sautéed in butter, served on a base of highly seasoned spiced rice, then covered with a rich sauce. In adaptation to modern times and North American ingredients, the basic recipe loses little of its original savor and appeal. Here's our recipe for Salmon Kedgeree, hot spicy and easy to prepare.

SALMON KEDGEREE
2 cups flaked canned salmon (one 1 lb. can)
2 cups hot, cooked rice
2 chopped hard cooked eggs
1/2 cup cream or evaporated milk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon minced onion
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
1 teaspoon curry powder
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper

Combine all ingredients, blending well. Heat in the top of a double boiler, over boiling water, stirring occasionally, until piping hot. OR, turn into a greased casserole, dot with additional butter or margarine and bake in a hot oven preheated to 400 deg. F., about 20 minutes, or until thoroughly heated. Makes 4 servings.

NOTE: Seasoning may be varied by using chili powder, powdered cloves, tabasco sauce, etc., and also by increasing amounts suggested above.

WEYMOUTH NEWS

WEYMOUTH MILLS SCHOOL REMAINS OPEN

At a meeting of the ratepayers in Weymouth Mills on Monday night chaired by Rev. Roul Deveau and Mrs. A. C. Hankinson, secretary, it was passed by a standing vote that the school remain open. Mr. Rice Kinney, municipal councillor, who replaced Inspector Edwards, said that the aim of the council and school board was to provide equal opportunity and equal facilities for every pupil within the municipality. Mr. Kinney said that this could be better carried out by consolidation. One important factor being that the modernization of the small school is too costly; another being the hardship of keeping the one and two room school staffed with qualified teachers. Mr. Stockdale, supervisor of Weymouth schools, speaking from the educational viewpoint, explained how impossible it was no matter how good the teacher is, to carrying on a high standard of education with so many grades in one room. He said that the Weymouth Mills school was not equipped to carry on a full program as set by the Dept. of Education. He also explained that the pupils from Weymouth Mills could readily be absorbed in the Weymouth schools without adding more staff.

The 42 pupils in Weymouth Mills, he said, was not sufficient to retain two teachers, and that there would be a possibility in a year or so, of reverting to a one room school. After considerable discussion, the motion was passed to keep the school open.

YOUNG PEOPLES GROUPS FORMED

Since the arrival of Rev. C. R. Barkhouse in the United Baptist field here a short time ago, two Baptist Young Peoples' groups have been organized; one at the New Tuskett church and the second combining the youth of the Weymouth North and Ashmore churches, which meets at the latter church. Meetings are held alternately on Friday evenings.

Officers of the group meeting at Ashmore are: pres., Miss Winnifred Manzer; vice pres., Miss Diane Manzer; sec'y., Miss Carl Thibault; treas., Mrs. Hankinson.

NO ENTRIES IN FESTIVAL

The Home and School Association held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening of last week at the Weymouth Consolidated School. Tribute was paid to the memory of Miss Dora Baker, whose death occurred during the past week. Mr. Gifford Lewis told of the many talents and capabilities Miss Baker had in her ardent work with the Home and School Association. Mr. Gordon Campbell expressed regret that no entries for the Digby County Music Festival were sent in from the school this year. The festival has been one of the outstanding highlights in cultural programs in the area for many years. Mr. Campbell felt that it was a set-back to the children and the festival to have this apparent lack of interest. Weymouth area in the past years have shown outstanding musical ability at the festival. The subject was again brought up of having a definite music program in the school, and Mrs. A. C. Hankinson, representing the trustees, stated that when a music teacher was available the Municipal School Board would look into the situation. Weymouth Kiwanis Six Years

The Weymouth Kiwanis Club held its sixth annual anniversary banquet at the Riverside Inn at Meteghan River with over one hundred and twenty five persons in attendance. The Kiwanis Club of Yarmouth and Digby sent a delegation and the Richelieu Club of Church Point and the Lions Club of Meteghan were well represented at the banquet.

President William LeFort of Weymouth presided and Dr. Hector Pothier was master of ceremonies. Emily Boudreau of Meteghan and warden of the Municipality of Clare welcomed the group on behalf of the Municipality. Llewellyn offered the Kiwanis toast and Lawrence E. Hersey of Yarmouth offered the toast to the ladies which was responded by Mrs. Eric Irwin of Weymouth. Chet Levy of Digby directed the group singing and a delicious turkey supper was served.

Following the banquet a dance was held with the Auldians of Yarmouth furnishing the music.

Officers for the new term are: William LeFort, President; Percy Charlton, Treasurer; Lawrence Stock, John Jay and Marilyn Atkin son.

Judges for the debate were P.O. Charles Pitt, Mr. Philip Woolaver and Rev. Kenneth Thompson.

dale, secretary; Fidele Theriault, past president. Directors are: Llewellyn C. Ruby, C. Caird Nichol, Basil Belliveau, Dr. Hector Pothier, Raymond Rice, Bernard LeBlanc and Geoffrey Journeay.

The Weymouth Kiwanis Club is a member of District No. 11 which includes Antigonish-Halifax, Digby, Antigonish, Liverpool, Mahone Bay, Shelburne, Weymouth and Yarmouth.

Bernard LeBlanc of Belliveau Cove was in charge of organizing the banquet and he did a good job. The music was good and a very enjoyable time was had by everyone. The Kiwanis Club has done an immense job in recent years. They have done a lot of construction work at Journey's Lake outside of Weymouth on the St. Bernard, Weaver's Settlement road. The shores of the lake was cleaned of brush and timber, the bottom gravelled and buildings erected.

The Kiwanis Club's project of swimming instructions given at the lake for the young children of Weymouth and Clare area is to be commended. An instructor has been put at the disposal of the children for the last several years, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and their annual water sports day held in August is a gala affair not to be missed by anyone.

Dr. Pothier, who was master of ceremonies at the banquet was the first president of the Weymouth Kiwanis Club.

Clare Rate Hiked By Twenty Cents

The Clare Municipal Council struck its 1962 rate of taxation at $3.50, which is a twenty cent increase over last year's rate of $3.30. Assessment is shown at $6,011,140.00 on full assessment compared with $5,889,630.00 in 1961. The increase in the tax rate was necessary to cover increases in law enforcement and the increase in cost of maintaining mental patients, the cost of which has skyrocketed in recent years.

In 1961 the cost of mental patients to the Municipality of Clare amounted to $37,085.67 in comparison to the 1960 figure of $18,590.10. Requisition of the Municipal School Board for 1961 was $97,250.00, which is an increase over 1960, which was $92,261.80. Debt charges of $59,930.92 is up from $54,065.46. Study Group Held

Three evenings of study, under the Digby County Federation of Agriculture, were held at Conway beginning on Monday night. Present on the three evenings were Thomas Jones, of the Adult Education Division, Department of Education, who spoke on methods of conducting study groups, and William LeFort, Weymouth, who explained the purpose of the groups and introduced the speaker.

On Monday night the special speaker was Loran Cox, Animal Husbandry with the Nova Scotia Agricultural College, Truro, who introduced several studies on animals which would be of benefit to farmers in Digby County.

On Wednesday evening plans were made, goals set and leaders appointed to further study groups. Sixteen have been enrolled.

A similar course will be held in Clare next week when Keith Langille, of Adult Education Division, will be in attendance and the special speaker will be Frank Scamell, inspector of co-operatives for the province.

716.95; Manager's, Meter Reader and Linesmen salaries, etc. $21,886.65, for a total of $104,411.12. This shows a surplus of operating revenue over operating expenditures of $12,490.81. To this amount add, non-operating revenue of $677.61, for a Total of $113,684.22, and deduct non-operating expenditures, interest on funded debt $2,633.75; Serial debentures redeemed $7,500.00; interest on unfunded debt $393.45 and Capital expenditure from revenue of $2,115.68, gives a total of $12,642.88, which is deducted from the $113,684.22 mentioned above and this gives you an excess of revenue over total expenditure of $525.54.

Manager V. F. Melanson stated that consumption increase in Clare was 12% over 1960. Indications are that consumption of electrical power will continue to increase in 1962. Fish plants and others have increased their use of electrical energy in recent years, which is due mainly to the fact that many plants have installed ice making machines and quick freezers and storage

The Bruins swarmed over the Rangers in the first Pee Wee encounter and shut them out 4-0. Bruins' marksmen were P. Connolly (T. Chisholm), T. Chisholm (P. Connolly, T. Leonard), L. Lewis (B. Raymond, T. Leonard) and B. Raymond (L. Lewis, T. Leonard).

In the other Pee Wee game the Canadians shut out the Knights 2-0. Canadians' goals were scored by G. Hewitt (M. Blenkhorn, R. Landers) and P. Hewitt (G. Hewitt, R. Landers).

In Bantam competition the Millionaires outscored the Warriors 4-3. Vics' goals were by H. Starke (B. Burke, B. Neville), R. VanTassel (B. Neville) and F. Jordan (J. Cole). The Warriors' scores were by C. Haynes (D. Turnbull) and J. Amoro (J. Winchester).

The Midget League's first game saw the Victorias edge the Flyers 4-3. Vics' goals were by G. Robinson (R. Cook, D. Woof, J. Comeau), R. Cook (M. Amiraull), M. Amiraull (R. Murphy, R. Ross) and R. Cook (G. Robinson, R. VanTassel).

Flyers' goals were scored by R. Bell (G. Winchester, P. Woodman), S. Manning (R. Woof, G. Winchester, R. Bell) and G. Winchester (R. Bell).

In the final game of the morning the Trojans tied the Maroons 7-7 in a free scoring game. Playoffs begin next Saturday.

CATERPILLAR SIGN OF SPRING

While taking a stroll on Sunday, Mr. Arthur Baxter, Karsdale, saw crawling along on the snow a bright magenta colored caterpillar, about 2 1/2 inches long. This surely is an unusual visitor for this time of year.

Patient Load Above Safety Factor

Our patient load continues well above the safety factor and we cannot continue indefinitely to overload existing facilities without anticipating a collapse of our physical equipment because of the undue stress and strain to which it is being subjected, said F. C. Purdy, president of the Digby General Hospital Board, in his address before the annual meeting on Tuesday night and at which time he gave a progress report on plans for new hospital construction. The most serious setback to plans in 1961, Mr. Purdy said, was the decision of the Minister of National Defence that the Digby General Hospital Board could not qualify for assistance from the Department of National Defence in the form of a construction grant. The request was a grant of $100,000 to be made on behalf of the naval dependents at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis. However, Mr. Purdy said that they were keeping in contact with Hon. George Nowlan, local representative, and hope had not been entirely relinquished.

Five meetings were held with the Nova Scotia Hospital Commission. Mr. Purdy remarked, before final approval of the preliminary plans were given and after that work on final drawing could begin. Work has been underway for three months on these drafts and should be ready at an early date, he continued. Again approval must be obtained for to proceed without such approval would jeopardize federal and provincial grants in aid of construction.

The financial statements, Mr. Purdy said, indicate investments as of December 31, 1961 had a total value of $629,10 and that the per capita bank account showed a balance of $16,599.61 for a total value of $61,228.71 set aside for the construction project.

The Ladies Auxiliary reports $12,000 assets, Mr. Purdy noted, with the per capita income of 1961, the federal, provincial and civic support there is approximately $1,000,000 available for the construction of the new hospital. The balance, Mr. Purdy said, to build and equip the hospital must be raised by the Board by borrowing or through the issue of bonds or debentures.

Mr. Purdy made reference to the land which the Hospital Board holds extending from West Street to the boundary line of the MacDonald Motors Ltd. and lying between Warwick and St. Mary Streets. The acquisition of this building site he considered an additional contribution by the Town of Digby besides their share in support of the building program.

In referring to the Ladies Auxiliary headed by Mrs. A. J. Dillon and to the working groups, Mr. Purdy said that the visions of a new Digby General Hospital could never become a reality without their continuing support. He also paid tribute to the various Boards and hospital staffs and gave special attention to the fine service rendered by Mrs. Grace Edwards, as hospital administrator.

Mrs. Hilda Cossaboom, director of nursing services and Miss Dora Warne, executive office assistant.

Reports of committees were presented as well as the president's report. To hear these reports were present twenty-four of the Hospital Board and four others, indicating a great lack of interest by the public in general. Dr. J. R. McCleave, F. C. Purdy and William Troupe were re-elected for three year term on the Board. The report of Dr. J. R. McCleave, president of the Medical Staff, was presented by Dr. L. F. Doiron. He said the past year had shown more advances in diagnosis and treatment at the hospital through efficient efforts of hospital personnel, resulting in more early diagnosis of cancer, etc., and through the interpretations of Dr. Little, radiologist, it is felt the x-ray department is of exceptionally high standard. The laboratory department is also doing tests of highly diagnostic nature. He commented on the high percentage of registered nurses

Smokey The Bear

Clifton Hasset of Tampa, Florida, has some fine young friends in Weymouth, his boyhood town, where he spends the summer. In his letter to The Digby Courier last week he enclosed a clipping of Mr. and Mrs. Smokey and their little bear who lives in the zoo in Tampa, Florida. Unfortunately, we could not produce the picture but our Florida friend is taking a picture of the bears in another month and suggests that we print it for the benefit of his young friends in Weymouth. Of course, we'll do so. We hope the youngsters will be looking for Smokey the Bear, which has become a fire prevention emblem, Mrs. Smokey and their baby.

on the staff and also on the skills of the medical staff. Mrs. A. J. Dillon reported for the Hospital Auxiliary which showed receipts for the year 1961 to be $1831.78 and expenditures $4911.46. Balance at beginning of the year $537.66 and at December 31, 1961 balance $457.98. Total assets $12,214.02.

The x-ray report showed an increase of 28 per cent. over 1960. There are now three technicians. The laboratory report showed an increase of sixty percent.

Scallop Catch Increases

The scallops handled in Digby County during the year 1961, totalled 2,362,000 in pounds as compared to 1,526,600 in 1960. The value in 1961 was $667,800 as against $394,000 in 1960. The average price had risen to 28.3 cents per lb. from 25.8 per lb. The figures for 1959 were 988,000 lbs., $366,900 and 36.8 cents per lb.; 1958 717,000 lbs., $279,300, 37.1 cents; 1957 1,383,000 lbs., $522,100 and 37.8 cents. In 1956 there were 938,000 lbs. landed valued at $495,700 at 42.2 cents per lb. average.

On Thursday of last week before attending Dalhousie refresher course Mr. Woolaver delivered the lecture.

Celebrate 51st Anniversary

On Thursday evening, February 15th, friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Ross, Coluden, to celebrate the fifty first anniversary of their marriage.

The evening was spent playing cards and Mrs. Leo Kaye, daughter of the couple, showed various coloured slides to the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross were married at Digby, February 15th, 1911, and have resided at Coluden all fifty one years. The couple have eight children, fifteen grandchildren and one great grandchild. Both are active and in reasonably good health.

As in years past the celebration this year was a double occasion, the birthday of their son, Frank, coinciding with their wedding anniversary, and two cakes were cut in the traditional manner by the honoured guests.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Leo Kaye, assisted by Mrs. Elliott VanTassel and Mrs. Frank Ross.

At a late hour the guests departed, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Ross many more years of happiness together.

Since then he has played the occasional game but during the past year he took up the sport in earnest for the Fire Department's team and takes keen interest in matches with Yarmouth Fire Department team and others with whom they engage. Besides Jimmy one other outside the department personnel is on the team — Murray Burgoyne. Manager of the team is Joseph Doucet and the coach is Vaughn VanTassel. Others on the team are Earl Anderson, Murray Baxter, Fred Smith, Charles Theriault, Arch Dugas, Robert Morgan, Thomas Cleveland, Charles Fitt, Wellington Halliday, Robert Handspeaker, Godfrey Griffiths and Buddy Barr.

Meet On Emergency Feeding

The first meeting of the Emergency Feeding Committee of the Digby Civil Defence Corps was held at the Hotel Champlain on Thursday with a good number in attendance.

The committee consists of representatives from restaurants, hotels, churches, and service organizations with feeding facilities. Present were Mr. W. V. Troupe, chmn., Mr. Jack Croft, Hotel Champlain; Mrs. Sydney Hall, Anglican Church; Mrs. Gladys Budrow, United Church; Mrs. Wilfred Comeau, St. Patrick's Church; Mr. Hartlin, Baptist Church; Mr. Warren Wong, Cornwallis Cafe; Mr. Carl Whynott, Fundy Restaurant, and Mr. Don Cameron, yacht club.

The meeting was called to order and enrollment cards were filled in by the members. The chairman specified the duties of the committee in the event of a disaster after which a discussion period was held. It was agreed that Digby could feed at least 1,000 people without too many problems and more once further detailed information is received from Provincial Headquarters. Further meetings will be held as additional information is received.

On the truck are Joseph Doucet (left), capt. No. 1, and Fred Smith (right), Lieut. No. 1. The Digby Fire Department has been active in planning and procuring new equipment during the past few years and the recent purchase of a new Rescue and Salvage truck is most evident of this work.

Considerable discussion regarding the replacement of the two equipment trucks purchased several years ago by the Department with a new, modern piece of equipment, was held during the year 1960 and on November 23rd of that year a meeting was held specifically for doing something about the situation. From this meeting specifications were drawn up and tenders called for the purchase of a new 1961 chassis. After tenders were called and a selection made, actual delivery of the truck was taken in February, 1961. This was only the beginning as there now had to be a body provided for the vehicle. Plans and specifications were made up involving most of the months to follow until a body was actually installed in October last year. After that the equipment which was carried on the two old trucks was transferred to the new vehicle and the two vehicles replaced were disposed of. All equipment pertaining to the new vehicle (including the vehicle itself and the body) has been purchased from funds raised by the Department's Annual Ice Carnival, Labor Day Fair, Bingo, and many other money raising schemes.

At the present time more equipment is needed to properly equip this new Rescue and Salvage unit and it is hoped that enough funds can be raised in 1962 to do this. The cost of the vehicle and equipment, as it stands today, is close to $8,000 and includes breathing equipment, a resuscitator and many other tools and pieces of equipment so necessary in the operation of the vehicle.

Turns Down Library Idea

The Municipality of Shelburne, it is understood, has turned down the idea of a regional library. The Shelburne action is the first real hitch in the proposed regional library to serve Shelburne, Yarmouth and Digby Counties. Yarmouth town and municipality were giving the proposal consideration and study and Digby municipality was planning a detailed investigation of possibilities at the May session of the council.

Priest Visits

Father Edward O'Flaherty, S.J., was overnight guest at the Salvia House on Tuesday and visited Mrs. Ralph Sybley and Mrs. Lester Willett before going to Halifax to visit relatives there. Father O'Flaherty has finished 25 years in the priesthood and it has been 13 years since he visited here. He will also visit relatives in Montreal and in U.S.A., before returning to his mission at the Manitoulin Islands.

About This and That

No Time To Waste

The Digby Board of Trade is well on the way for the year 1962. Several executive meetings have been held where some real enthusiasm seems to be in existence. Officers have been elected for the year but officers and executive alone cannot make an active Board. Membership participation is necessary if the Digby Board of Trade is to perform the functions within the town and area that it is supposed to do.

In about two weeks, March 13 to be exact, the Digby Board of Trade intend holding a dinner meeting for members and their wives and friends. Plans are laid to have a special speaker come from Halifax. The speaker is not being brought here for the benefit of the executive alone. The speaker, K. A. Ross, is one who has worked in active Boards of Trade where things were accomplished on the city, level, regional level, Maritime and national. He is filled with ideas on Board of Trade activities in general and, without doubt, can pass on many pointers to the Digby Board. It is hoped that the businessmen of the town who profit most from Boards of Trade and things which they promote, such as tourism will be on hand to hear Mr. Ross. It is pointless to bring someone to town to help us progress and then we ignore the effort made. Let us, at least, have Mr. Ross return to Halifax and spread the word around that after all Digby is alive. He saw it in the Board of Trade attendance. Don't let us be pin pointed for lack of attendance when special speakers come to town. The word might get around and we would find it difficult to entice speakers to come.

Besides, there is no time to waste. We fuss and fume about no industry for Digby when our share of a sixty-million-dollar Nova Scotia industry is right at our door step. We refer to the tourist industry. Don't have the mistaken idea that this is a motel, hotel or restaurant industry alone. Truly, they are directly concerned. So will the people who bring another industry to town if one ever comes. Most of us will be concerned indirectly as we are with the tourist industry which is right at our door. The business is entirely up to us. As Gerald J. Redmond, Director of the Nova Scotia Travel Bureau, said in one of his talks during this winter, "The share of the tourist business which will come to our area will depend on our own people, their attitudes to tourism, recognition of the value of the business, the amount of energy and initiative they are prepared to expend."

We hope the Board of Trade members will all get out to hear what Ken Ross has to say. Later it might seem worth while for "Gerry" to come here to talk on our now established industry of tourism and still later we might be able to entice people to come here to talk on possibilities of new industries. We won't get them through the Board of Trade if we don't start now with a determination to keep the Board active.

A further point after that last sentence. We do not mean that we must look around for activity to justify existence of a Board of Trade. That is putting the cart before the horse. We must look around to see the things which are necessary for the welfare of the people in this community. To execute business in this regard will need a Board of Trade. It's existence is then justified and activity is created on its own.

Education Week

Although to date of writing we have heard little on the score and the usual Education Week folder has not yet appeared on the editor's desk, we are inclined to think that the dates March 4 to 10 are set aside for this purpose. The theme, if we remember from a news story seen somewhere early in February, is "Excellence in Education".

Certainly we cannot say that the subject of education has been neglected during the past year. Reams have been written on the high cost of education, resolutions have been passed here and there regarding a method to finance education in Nova Scotia, the Home and School on the provincial level has been scolded by some for meddling with concerns not belonging to its sphere, teacher salaries have been sore points in a few places in Nova Scotia since the last time Education Week was observed and many other problems regarding education have been aired. All these, even though they have not been the pleasantest problems with which to deal, indicate one thing — people are conscious of education. Bridges are being made in the educational field and, with a progress, there are problems involved.

Yes, strides are being made in the educational field, not only on the public school level for the education of the children but adult education, too, has become a prominent part of the whole educational system. Vocational training has been found necessary to meet the demands for employment. More and more, it has been found that the unskilled person is the person unemployed and that study is necessary to meet the highly technical and specialized requirements of industry today, whether that study is done in childhood or in adult life.

Parents and adults, in general, use the coming week to find out what is necessary for your children's welfare and that of yourselves in the field of education. Or, at least, during this one special week, show your interest in obtaining "Excellence in Education" or the best at any rate, for yourselves and others around you.

Watch For Poor Ice

While the parents in Digby are warning the children to find a more suitable place than the middle of the streets to display their hockey enthusiasm, other parents might start to warn children that the sun is getting high, ice in ponds and lakes will begin to melt rapidly. In rivers and flowing streams, the current, too, will weaken the ice as it softens by the warmth of the March sun. Watch carefully and avoid tragedy on poor ice.

Why Not A Band For Digby?

With the Digby Music Festival scheduled for March 26, 27 and 28, one begins to think along the line of music. Even though we wouldn't look for a Civic or Firemen's band to enter the festival, maybe the need of a band in Digby is a question which comes to mind. We understand that the Digby firemen are just waiting for volunteers in band members and most especially would they like to find a band leader. While the firemen have not had a band, they do have a committee for the purpose. Head of the committee is Guy Van-Tassell. We believe that Guy and several other firemen are quite interested in starting a band. Anybody know of other interested people? We suggest you contact Guy.

An outdoor band concert once a week would provide entertainment for tourists. There is nothing like a little music to help the eye to enjoy the beauties of the scenery besides the enjoyment derived from good music itself. The view from the blind stand is quite attractive and not every tourist is adept at golf.

There are many good reasons why a band would be an asset to Digby, a benefit to those who listen and to those who provide the pleasing sounds but we shall not expound on them at present. We are anxious to find out how many would-be players are interested.

Street No Place For Hockey

Each week for the past month or more the streets will clear, the sun will shine and we decide not to write our editorial about the boys playing "hockey" in the streets. Then just as it is too late to make the current issue, streets become icy and there is the same thing over again. You drive down Queen St. in Digby and hold your breath for fear one of those street playing hockeyists will dash out before your car. In fact, we've seen them be very persistent and display the boldest kind of effrontery should you toot a horn to suggest they move to let a car go through.

There have been others who have complained so playing hockey in the street must be a fairly common practice in some quarters. We're afraid that some day someone will get hurt and it will more than likely be someone holding a hockey stick than someone holding the steering wheel of a car. Mild weather and no ice, of course, will rectify the situation until another year.

Read A Book

("Of Many Things", by Ambrose Hills)

Last night I talked to a man who is a pretty fair curler. I asked him if he has ever read a book about curling. To my surprise, he had not. He was simply a natural at the sport, and that was that.

It is surprising how many people neglect the advantages of reading books on subjects of such a technical nature. Pool players, for example, sometimes go all their lives without reading what the top players have been at such great pains to write about the game.

To my mind this is a shame.

I once knew a radio announcer who was quite popular. He lived next door to us and often dropped in during the evening for coffee. One night he was feeling a bit low and doubtful about his future. He didn't seem to be getting anywhere, he said.

I brought out a book I'd picked up full of vocal exercises. One of them, called the "hung E", was a favorite with Caruso. My friend hadn't realized that as he was in the business of projecting his voice on the multitudes, he might learn something about it from books. He started practising these exercises, and then went on a search of the libraries for more of them. He became a top performer, but because he was bright in a variety of ways, he was promoted beyond the announcing chores. Books started him on the upward path just the same.

It seems so foolish to plow along the hard way when experts have so many tips they provide almost free.

Politics, too, engages the attention — or should engage it — of most citizens these days. They would be able to understand what is happening now much more easily if they read a few books on political history. There are many excellent ones in the libraries.

Check up on yourself. Have you read some books lately? If not, you're cheating yourself. Get busy and brush up.

Radioactive Dust

The ninth step of "Eleven Steps to Survival" is how to get rid of radioactive dust.

Fallout has been compared previously to "snow". To remove the danger, remove the "snow".

If you suspect that your clothes have fallout on them, remove your outer clothing before coming inside your home or theater and leave it outside. Don't shake the clothes inside, for if you did you would only scatter the fallout dust and create unnecessary danger to others. If you have water, wash thoroughly, particularly exposed skin and hair. Do not scrub your skin as that might rub the radioactive particles into it.

Exposure to fallout does not make you radioactive. Even if you are stricken with radiation sickness, this sickness is not catching, but fallout on your clothing or body would expose you and those close to you to radiation. If you suspect you have been exposed to fallout, you will not be a danger to others if you are careful to get rid of your outer clothing and wash.

In order to protect food and water from fallout, it should be stored tightly in covered containers (cans, bottles, plastic or boxes). Then, it will be safe to eat and drink if you dust or wash the containers. Food, whether in containers or not, provided it was in undamaged and closed cupboards, operating refrigerators and deep freezers, would also be safe to eat.

To be sure about fruits, i.e., apples, oranges, grapes, fruit, bananas, wash first and peel carefully. The same applies to vegetables.

Water will be safe if it is in tightly covered containers, has come from covered wells or undamaged water systems.

If you're unsure of a particular food or source of water do not use it. But do not starve or die of thirst just because you think it is contaminated.

Scallops Up Nine Million Pounds In Six Years

Probably no phase of any industry in the Maritimes has shown the high rate of expansion as has scallop production in the Nova Scotia fishing industry. Figures presented at the annual conference of the department of fisheries (Maritime area) in Halifax, disclosed that production has jumped by nearly 9,000,000 pounds in six years.

R. J. McNeill, assistant of the department's inspection branch in the Maritimes area, told the conference in 1955 scallop production was a million and a half pounds. Last year it had jumped to an estimated 10,500,000 pounds. The latter was an increase of nearly 3,000,000 pounds above the 1950 production.

BEAR RIVER DONATES TO CAUSE

chief said the increase in scallop landings was matched by an increase in Nova Scotia's scallop fleet. New druggers were built last year and vessels used for other types of fishing were converted to scallop druggers. It is estimated that by April of this year the offshore scallop fleet will total 35 druggers, and by the end of the year at least 40 vessels. (Chronicle-Herald)

Something To Think About

HARD FEELINGS

Some people can't stand the sight of other people. For reasons known or unknown, an attitude of irritation or antagonism may rear its ugly head bringing rifts and quarrels.

Hard feelings between neighbors and kindred destroy like a cancer, if the disease goes untreated. What is the cause of such disgraceful actions?

Could it be that prejudice or jealousy has replaced respect and kindness? A person may feel that another wants what he has, or that the other person thinks himself to be superior. Much that separates is imagined! A misunderstanding over a word spoken or written may split a fellowship for years.

Is such sickness of the heart curable? That depends on the desire. If one so afflicted really wants his own heart made soft and yielding then there is hope.

Hopeless it is if the one with hard feelings says, "I will never forgive and forget, and if I forgive I'll not forget." To put the whole blame on someone else is childish. Treat this like any other sin. Admit it, repent it, and be humble.

The practical solution of human bickering is prayer. Go to the one involved, get on your knees together and stay there 'til something happens. Then, rise to find that the vicious heart has been made new with the love of God in Jesus Christ. This is the way to reconciliation and peace.

Marriage

Fredericks - Clayton

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Baptist Church, Digby, on February 24 at 1:30 p.m. when Marilyn Louise, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Clayton of Digby and Laurence McKay Fredericks, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Fredericks of Dartmouth, N. S., were united in marriage. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. H. S. Hartlin.

The bride's wedding band was that of her great great grandmother's, the late Mrs. Prosser of Yarmouth. The church was tastefully decorated in cultivated pussy willows, forsythia, baskets of flowers, green-broughts and lighted candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a street length dress of brocade satin with cinerella neckline and long sleeves tapering at the wrist. A cumbersome of white satin was accented by a soft rose at the waist back. Her shoulder length veil fell from a tiara of white net, and she carried a nosegay of red roses and ferns.

The bride was attended by Miss Jean Brittain who wore a street-length dress of pale blue with matching accessories and carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations. The groom was attended by his brother, Roderick Fredericks, and the ushers were Wallace Hodgson and Clinton C. MacInnes.

The bride's mother chose a two piece dress of gold and white with matching accessories and she wore a corsage of yellow and white carnations.

Mrs. Jean Olsen was organist and during the signing of the register Paul Snow sang "Because".

Following the service a reception was held for some 55 guests in the church hall. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. H. S. Hartlin and responded to by the groom.

Several girl friends of the bride served the guests and Mrs. R. G. Fredericks was in charge at the guest book.

Following the reception, the happy couple left via Princess Helene and T.C.A. for a trip to Ottawa. For travelling the bride wore a green wool dress, black Bakella fur coat with white accessories. The bride is a recent graduate of Pysant Memorial Hospital, Windsor, N. S.

How Does A Bird Know How To Build Its Nest?

All birds which perform certain important acts in their lives without ever having been taught how to do them. A pair of young birds' builds its first nest without any difficulty, although the bird has never been taught how to do it. A force of nature, perhaps inherited knowledge, shows them how to build. This force we call instinct. Through instinct the spider weaves its web and the young chick pecks its way through the egg shell. None of these creatures have ever been taught how to do these things, and yet they do these things by instinct. A newborn baby, for instance, sucks upon its bottle by instinct.

Over Fifty Attend Course

A three day leadership course terminated Wed. with over fifty persons taking the course, which was held at the Clare District High School and was sponsored by the Clare Branch of the Federation of Agriculture. Mr. Keith Langille of the Adult Education branch of the Department of Education, Mr. Frank Schammel of the Marketing Division of the Department of Agriculture and Inspector of Cooperatives along with Mr. William Lefort, Agricultural representative for Digby County, were instructors for the course.

Each parish in the Municipality of Clare were well represented at the course. These parishes were as follows: Salmon River, St. Alphonse, Meteghan, Saulnierville, Church Point, St. Bernard and Concession. The aim of the special courses was to instruct leaders of the various parishes mentioned on the methods on how to organize study Clubs.

On the first day a special film on study clubs was shown and a discussion followed. On Tuesday Mr. Schammel spoke on Cooperatives and how they should be organized. Cooperatives should not be organized just to organize cooperatives but rather because there is a need for them. Cooperatives should be organized when they will best serve the needs of the people, stated Mr. Schammel.

The third day was set aside to the organizing of study clubs and participating in them along with the finding of subjects to be discussed. Mr. Lefort told the group that study clubs could be organized to study the expansion of the natural resources of the area such as farm produce marketing, also marketing of the forest products and improving the fishing conditions in Clare. Other subjects could also be discussed, subjects that may be of interest to certain groups. Each individual study club would meet with the other groups for a general discussion of the problems related to the area in general.

Study Clubs benefit the area from which we ourselves may reap the benefits and even if only our children would reap them, the discussion groups would be justified in the work accomplished, stated Mr. Keith Langille. This group may be sowing the seed from which the mighty oak may grow, said he. Both Mr. Langille and Mr. Schammel were very pleased with the very fine attendance during the course which showed that the people of Clare are interested in improving living conditions in the area.

How Many Stars Can We See Without Using A Telescope

Most people imagine that with the naked eye they can see millions of stars in the sky when it is clear. Actually, there are in the whole sky only about 9000 stars visible to a person with especially good eyesight. We have to remember, however, that we do not see all of the sky at any one time but only about half of it. Because of mists and haze near the horizon, usually less than half the 9000 naked eye stars are visible at any one time. The number we see on a clear night is probably somewhat less than 4000 stars, even under the best possible seeing conditions away from the smoke and dust.

Weymouth Tops Church Point

Weymouth High School pulled off a surpris win in the first game of the semi-finals of the Clare Juvenile league by downing the Church Point Maple Leafs 4-1. Lewis scored the hat trick for Weymouth when he scored one goal in the first and two in the third. Weymouth took the lead 2-0 in the first when Lewis and Mullen tallied. Vincent LeBlanc from Albert Dugas scored Church Point's only goal in the second and Lewis scored 2 in the third to sew up the game. Church Point played disorganized hockey throughout and Weymouth took advantage of the lapse.

Meteghan Centre defeated Meteghan River 3-0 to take the first game of the Clare Juvenile playoff game. The Centre team scored a goal in each period with Jean Soule from Louis Comeau, P. E. Robichaud from R. Boudreau, and R. Dugas from P. E. Robichaud doing the scoring.

Meteghan Centre are the defending champions, and they have their sights set for the championship again. Meteghan River have other ideas and may upset the apple cart.

Finds Old Clipping

Mrs. Elsworth Kinney, Weymouth, R.R.2, discovered in the family Bible a clipping taken from the Digby Weekly Courier issue of Friday, May 26, 1911, some fifty-one years ago. The clipping concerned some strange Bible facts which Mrs. Kinney felt readers of today would also be interested to read. We note the copy of 1911 had been taken from the files of the Digby Courier thirty years before that so we judge the story first appeared in the paper eighty-one years ago, just a few years after the founding of the paper. The article reads:

"The learned Prince of Granada, heir to the Spanish throne, imprisoned by order of the Crown for fear that he should aspire to the throne, was kept in solitary confinement in the old prison at the Place of the Skulls, Madrid. After thirty three years in this living tomb, death came to his release, and the following remarkable researches, taken from the Bible and marked with an old nail on the rough walls of his cell, told how the brain sought employment through the weary years:—

"In the Bible the word Lord is found 1,853 times; the word Jehovah 6,855 times and the word revered but once and that in the ninth verse of the 11th Psalm. The middle verse of the 18th Psalm is the middle verse of the Bible. The ninth verse of the eighth chapter of Esther is the longest verse, the thirty-fifth verse of the eleventh chapter of St. John is the shortest. In the 107th Psalm four verses are alike, the eighth, fifteenth, twenty-first and thirty-first. Each verse of the 136th Psalm ends alike. No names or words with more than six syllables are found in the Bible. The thirty-seventh chapter of Isaiah, and nineteenth chapter of 2nd Kings, are alike. The word 'girl' occurs but once in the Bible, and that in the third verse and third chapter of Joel. There are found in both books of the Bible 3,586,488 letters. 778,694 words, 31,373 verses, 1,189 chapters, and 66 books. The twenty-seventh chapter of the Acts of the Apostles is the finest chapter to read. The most beautiful chapter in the Bible is the 33rd Psalm. The four most inspiring promises are John, fourteen chapter, second verse; St. Matthew, eleventh chapter, twenty eighth verse; and 37th Psalm, fourth verse. The first verse of the sixth chapter of Isaiah is the one for the new convert. All who flatter themselves with vain boasting of perfectness should learn the sixth chapter of Matthew. All humanity should learn the sixth chapter of Luke, from the twentieth verse to its ending.

Get Awards

The award of the Canadian Forces Decoration to a number of officers and men, both the Regular and Militia forces, has been announced by headquarters, Eastern Command. The decoration is awarded to all officers and men of the Canadian Armed Forces who have completed a period of 12 years' service, undertaken the required phases of training and duty and are certified by responsible authorities as efficient and in every way deserving of the decoration.

The medal, gilt in color, is in the form of a decagon; the 10 sides representing the provinces of Canada. The front of the medal bears the effigy of the sovereign circled with the Canadian royal title. Below it appears the name "Canada". The reverse side contains a crown, maple leaves and an eagle, representing the navy, army and air force. The name of the recipient is engraved around the edge of the medal and holders of the award are entitled to the initials "CD" after their name.

A clasp to the medal is awarded for each successive 10 years. Among those honored in the name of the Queen are Sgt. T. A. Comeau, RCAPC, Weymouth, N. S.; Cpl. W. O. Wesley, RCEME, Granville Ferry, N. S.

Hockey Series Underway

Saulnierville Pepsi Pirates and Church Point Comets battled to a 3-3 tie and Belliveau's Cove marched off with a 7-1 win over Meteghan in a double header, the first game of a three game series in the Western County Intermediate Hockey League. The league leading Pepsi Pirates are endeavoring to retain the league championship that they won last spring.

It was 1-1 after the first period when Tuff of the Pepsi Pirates scored on a pass from Paul LeBlanc but Bobby Gennette high scorer of the league tied it up. Emile Melanson and Bobby Gennette scored two in the second for Church Point while Walter LeBlanc scored two in the second. There was no scoring in third period.

Overtime was ruled out due to lack of time because a second playoff game of the same league was to be played.

Belliveau's Cove scored three in the first period without a reply; scoring by Robert and Paul Belliveau and Julien Amirault. In the second the Cove team scored two more and Meteghan scored their lone tally by Duff. Desiree Belliveau and Charles Blinn scored for the Cove team. In the third period Norbert Gaudet and Robert Belliveau scored for the winners.

Subject "Parents Report Cards"

Home and School Association met on Monday night in Oakdene Auditorium with about thirty five present. After the business session and a mixer, Dr. Butcher, President of Annapolis County Council, gave a talk on "Parents Report Cards".

How do we, as parents, rate in the home? he asked. Are we courteous? How do we talk to our children? Do we take time to listen to them, to their problems? Do we create the right atmosphere for their study? Is the T.V. off? Do we help with their homework? When they are doing good work, do we let them know we are pleased? Let them know we are interested, at odd times. How do we rate in our Health program, do we follow Canada's Health Rules as much as possible? Let us not forget regular visits to the dentist, especially when the children are young. Do we use good English in the home? What do the children see their parents read? See that there is plenty of good reading material about the house. Mr. Butcher cautioned, encourage the children to do extra reading. Let them use the dictionary and the encyclopedia.

Parents should take an interest in the teachers; if they are doing a good job, don't hesitate to tell them so. They should also attend Home and School meetings. Our boys and girls today are the men and women of tomorrow, the speaker continued, and let us, as parents, use our Christian influence to make the best possible citizens in this rapidly changing world. What marks would our children put on our report cards, A's and B's for satisfactory, or F for failure? Mrs. Butcher queried.

Subject "Parents Report Cards"

Home and School Association met on Monday night in Oakdene Auditorium with a turnout of thirty five present. After the business session and a mixer, Dr. Butcher, President of Annapolis County Council, gave a talk on "Parents Report Cards".

How do we, as parents, rate in the home? he asked. Are we courteous? How do we talk to our children? Do we take time to listen to them? Do we create the right atmosphere for their study? Is the T.V. off? Do we help with their homework? When they are doing good work, do we let them know we are pleased? Let them know we are interested, at all times. How do we rate in our Health program, do we follow Canada's Health Rules as much as possible? Let us not forget regular visits to the dentist, especially when the children are young. Do we use good English in the home? What do the children see their parents read? See that there is plenty of good reading material about the house. Mr. Butcher cautioned, encourage the children to do extra reading. Let them use the dictionary and the encyclopedia.

Parents should take an interest in the teachers; if they are doing a good job, don't hesitate to tell them so. They should also attend Home and School meetings. Our boys and girls today are the men and women of tomorrow, the speaker continued, and let us, as parents, use our Christian influence to make the best possible citizens in this rapidly changing world. What marks would our children put on our report cards, A's and B's for Satisfactory, or F for failure? Mrs. Butcher queried.

Knits Don't Need Much Care

Knitted garments are more fashionable than ever, and no wonder. They are flattering to the figure and end the day looking brand new. Fresh, Marguerite Toldi has some suggestions about their care in an article called "Long on Fashion, Short on Care."

To take in the seam of a machine knit garment, baste or pin the fabric before ripping out any seam stitches. Use the same type already in the garment to put in the new seam, and adjust your material to the length of the tape so that the garment will retain its correct shape.

To shorten a knit, take up the hem as you would with fabric. If the hem is far too deep, and the weight pulls the dress out of shape, then some of it must be cut off to eliminate bulk. Just the garment from ravelling, first run a row of machine stitching just above where you will cut. Finish the cut edge with an overcast stitch; or cover with binding tape and stitch up by hand.

Knits are ideal for travelling and resist musing like magic. However, if a knitted dress has a few wrinkles when it is taken from a suitcase, you can give it the "velvet" treatment by steaming it lightly in the bathroom to restore its shape. Be sure the dress is thoroughly dry before packing it again or hanging it up. This will prevent the formation of mildew.

To hang up a knitted dress, fold it over the horizontal bow of a padded hanger. Avoid a plain wire hanger as it leaves an indentation. A wooden hanger may be used, but it must be perfectly smooth. Even a slight roughness will snag a good wool dress. Because a knitted dress may stretch or snag on a hanger, the ideal way to store it is to fold it neatly and place it in a drawer.

Two Breads

One Long, One Round

One of the most delicious dishes a kitchen can produce is home baked bread. This is a statement that will start few arguments from most people, at least from anyone who has ever eaten bread warm from the oven with lots of butter on each thick slice.

According to history, raised breads were first made in Asia and later in ancient Greece. It's known that the early Egyptians learned their bread reserving bits of each batch to learn those that followed. Prior to the production of commercial yeast, the yeast used both in this country and Europe was a "wild" product a by-product of beer making, sold by street vendors.

FRENCH BREAD

2½ teaspoons sugar
½ cup lukewarm water
1 envelope active dry yeast
½ cup milk
¾ cup plus 2 teaspoons water
4½ teaspoons shortening
4½ cups sifted all purpose flour
2½ teaspoons salt
1 egg white

Dissolve 1 teaspoon sugar in ½ cup lukewarm water. Sprinkle yeast on top of water and let stand 10 minutes. Then stir well.

Combine milk and ¾ cup water in a small saucepan. Bring mixture to the boiling point, then remove from heat. Stir in shortening and allow to cool to lukewarm.

Place flour, salt and remaining 1½ teaspoons sugar in a large mixing bowl. Make a well in centre of dry ingredients. Add lukewarm milk mixture and the well stirred yeast. Mix well with a wooden spoon but do not knead. The dough should be soft. Cover bowl with a clean towel and let dough rise in a warm place free from drafts until it has doubled in bulk.

Turn dough onto lightly floured board but do not knead it. Divide dough into 3 equal portions. Shape each portion into a French loaf as follows (At this stage, it's necessary to knead dough a little).

Use palms of hands to flatten dough into an oval about ½ to ¾ inch thick. Fold the 2 long sides of dough towards each other so that they meet in the centre of the oval. Now fold dough in half, lengthwise, finally, press dough outwards into a long thin roll, about 15 inches long and 1½ inches high.

Arrange rolls of dough on a large greased baking sheet. (If you haven't a large one, use a roasting pan turned up side down.) Using a sharp knife, make ¾ inch deep diagonal cuts on top of each roll, about 2 inches apart. Cover rolls with a clean towel and let them rise in a warm place free from draft until they are a little more than double their original size.

Bake in preheated hot oven, 400 degrees F., for 15 minutes. Then reduce oven heat to moderate, 350 degrees F., and bake 30 minutes longer. Meanwhile, combine egg white and remaining 2 teaspoons water in a cup. Beat with a fork until frothy.

Brush beaten egg white over loaves after they have baked for 30 minutes at 350 degrees F. Return loaves to oven and bake 5 to 10 minutes longer or until they are golden brown.

Transfer loaves to wire cake racks and cool them in a draft by an open window. This makes the crust crackly. When bread is cold, cut loaves diagonally, in large pieces, and serve with soft butter. Makes 3 loaves.

WATER BREAD

7 teaspoons sugar
½ cup lukewarm water
1 envelope active dry yeast
3 cups water
¼ cup shortening
11 cups sifted all purpose flour

Dissolve 1 teaspoon sugar in ½ cup lukewarm water. Sprinkle yeast over water and let stand ten minutes. Then stir well.

Combine 3 cups water, salt, shortening and remaining 6 teaspoons sugar in saucepan. Bring to a boil; let cool to lukewarm.

Place flour in very large bowl. Add well stirred yeast and 1 cup lukewarm shortening mixture, pouring them in at the side of the bowl and all in one spot.

Work liquid into flour with hands, gradually adding remaining shortening mixture. When flour and liquid are well blended, turn dough on to floured board.

Knead dough until it is smooth and elastic, about 10 minutes. If dough is too sticky, knead in additional ¼ to ½ cup all purpose flour. Place kneaded dough in greased bowl.

Brush dough lightly with melted shortening. Cover with a clean towel and let dough rise in a warm place free from draft for about 2 hours or until double in bulk. Punch dough down and pull sides into centre.

Turn dough onto floured board and knead for about 3 minutes. Divide dough into 4 equal portions; knead each portion into a ball. Place each ball of dough in greased 8 inch round cake pan.

Cover dough with a clean towel and let rise in a warm place free from draft for about 1 hour or until double in bulk. Using a sharp knife, make two diagonal cuts about 2 to 3 inches apart in top surface of each ball of dough.

Bake in preheated hot oven, 450 degrees F., for 15 minutes. Reduce oven temperature to moderate, 350 degrees F., and bake 30 minutes longer or until bread is golden brown and sounds hollow when tapped with the finger.

Unmold bread onto wire cake racks and allow to cool completely. This bread freezes well. Makes 4 round loaves.

Tranquilizers may be harmful to some motorists. The pills, in some cases, reduce reaction time and impair physical co-ordination.

Russia First In Civil Defence

In contrast to the U.S.'s desultory interest in civil defence, the Soviet Union is well advanced on a thorough-going program to protect its people against nuclear attack. The government has built shelters for the thousands and organized elaborate training programs, reported the Rand Corp.'s Leon Goure, leading U.S. authority on Soviet civil defence, at a civil defence conference recently at the University of California at Los Angeles.

The Soviet civil defence effort is expanding steadily on a compulsory basis. "Once the Soviet government makes a decision of this sort," said Goure, "it does not have to ask for public support or popular approval." Under directives from the Ministry of Internal Affairs, all units right down to collective farms and apartment houses are required to organize so-called volunteer self-defence groups consisting of 48 trained fire fighters, shelter attendants and first-aid workers for every 500 residents. A claimed 22 million Soviet citizens — 10% of the whole population — serve in these formations. Since 1955, these units have carried through three compulsory training courses for all citizens. This winter, says Goure, the Soviet Union is giving every urban citizen between the ages of 16 and 55 an 18-hour course in how to protect himself against nuclear attack and how to behave in shelters. "Soviet shelter facilities," says Goure, "are the most extensive anywhere." They range from concrete installations in every factory to the root cellar under every peasant hut.

The new trend in Soviet civil defence, says Goure, is toward greater emphasis on getting people out of the cities. Says Goure: "The very latest information we have shows that the Russians aim at evacuation in case of nuclear attack to initial staging areas 10 to 50 miles beyond city limits. And if there is time enough before the actual attack, they have plans to move the people farther on to dispersal in small towns and rural areas." Later this year, a compulsory C.D. course will give groups in every major Soviet city a total of 64 hours' training in evacuation procedures. (Courtsey Time, Copyright Time Inc. 1961)

Why Does A Dog Go Round And Round Before It Lies Down?

This action represents a habit that has been handed down for countless generations. It goes back to the days when dogs were wild and lived in the jungle grass. If they wanted a comfortable bed, they had to turn round and round a few times so as to level the grass. Since that time many species of dogs have been domesticated, or tamed. These dogs now sleep on a mat or on the floor or even, if they are great favorites, upon a couch or bed. Yet, like their ancestors, they still go round and round before they lie down, even though there is no longer any need for the act. They are following the urging instinct, which does not take into account the fact that circumstances have changed.

Westport Man Contrasts Round The World Trip

The history making orbit of the earth three times in four hours and fifty-two minutes by Col. John Glenn on Feb. 20, was watched on television by Albert Dakin, a Westport, Digby, Col. citizen who is 83 years old. Mr. Dakin could not help make the contrast as he recalled that as a boy of sixteen years, he watched Capt. Joshua Slocum leave Westport Harbor on his history making voyage around the world in July, 1895.

In the 67 years since 1895 travelling time has certainly been cut down and also communications improved. Mr. Dakin commented. Little was heard from Capt. Slocum on his world trip, so by the time he returned in 1898, three years later, he was practically forgotten and received little recognition in the press for his feat.

In contrast everyone by the medium of television had a ring-side seat at the orbit of the earth by Col. John Glenn.

Mr. Dakin is in possession of all his faculties and watches television without glasses. He has never had a doctor in attendance in his life-time and states that if everyone had been as fortunate in this respect as he has, the doctors would have no work to do.

plished assisted by you. A Home and School can with such a creation. Make better citizens for a better nation.

We are counting on you don't let us down. Let's make our association known and renown. Together for all children our resources we can pool. To make a really worthwhile Home and School.

A special word to all men be you parent, friend or foe. You are very important to children and to us you know. We would like to have you as a Home and School member. Without you all things would die like a burnt ember.

If you think a Home and School is for knitting or "ear bending". Then you are to blame, for not attending. The presence of you and your fellowmen. Would be warmly welcome by the ladies, Amen.

Mrs. Alice Dunn, President, Smith's Cove Consolidated Home and School Assoc.

HOME AND SCHOOL.

If you believe in the Golden Rule. You have a duty to a Home and School. Nine meetings a year, for the dollar you pay. Bring benefits unheard of. Coming your way.

The children will be proud of you, as a member. The good times you will have, you long will remember. You will benefit them, in most all that you do. And we will enjoy your company, yes we mean you.

Every member is important. "big shot" or not. You are all needed, let that not be forgot. Each Association is only, as good as its members. Why don't you join and help "fan" the embers?

Cod liver oil capsules, books, a place they can play. Are of benefits to the children, day after day. Sponsored by the people, who as a rule, All are members, of a Home and School.

Like a stone thrown in water, ripples the pool. It's ever widening circle, is like a Home and School. First local, then provincial, then national link. Flow gently together, it must make you think.

An organization, such as this, for the good of the child. Must be really worthwhile and that's putting it mild. It will help us all, it would seem to me. To be the kind of a citizen, we would most like to be.

Join your Home and School, yes do it now. Like the farmer who tills, his land with his plow, We need to prepare the ground for our seeds. To reap the harvest as best suits their needs.

We can do this best by being a member. The fruits of our labor the child will remember. They will benefit from this and so will we too. I am proud to be a member, how about you.

Children learn by example from what adults do. In matters at home and at the school too. Won't you do your share and use as a rule. Your membership card, in your Home and School.

You will be so glad you joined and we will too. Great things we could accomplish.

A THOUGHT STARTER

Ronald C. MacCormack, Halifax, Nova Scotia Good News In Bad Times As simply as possible, what is the real truth about the plan of God for man. The human species was made perfect and sinless, but did not stay that way for long. Adam and Eve started us off on the road which has brought disease, failure, destruction and death. We read, "The wages of sin is death".

God stepped in to restore fallen and helpless mortals by introducing His only begotten Son in the form of flesh. Jesus Who was both Son of God and Son of Man intervened for the whole sinful race by giving Himself as a sacrifice for our sin. The cross brings peace between God and man. In accepting what Jesus did for us by His death, we receive His life and hope. Since two people are not required to suffer for the same sin, and since He suffered for the sin we have committed, then we go free. The penalty of our guilt is cancelled. We are redeemed or saved.

Tremendous is this which God has done. That He was willing to sacrifice His Son for us, when we deserve nothing, is grace. In return for His favor the least we can do is to believe and to enjoy the benefits of the faith so clearly set forth in the Bible, which is the very Word of God.

The consequences of rejection of God's program of eternal life, are terrible to contemplate. Any person who rejects must die for his own wrong doing, and be lost forever from the presence of the Lord.

Presents Medal

Dr. Pierre Belliveau, M.L.A. of Meteghan, is shown presenting the lieutenant governor's medal for highest average in Grade 11 provincial examinations in the county to Miss Marie Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Marshall, of Meteghan River. Miss Marshall is a pupil of the Clare District High School.

Other matters dealing with streets and lighting was that plans were made to have the light poles and wires on Water Street and Birch Street moved to the west side of the street and equipped with a new lighting system at an estimated cost of between $6,000 and $7,000.

Consider Town Paving Program

The Town of Digby councilors went on record at their regular session on Monday night as approving in principle a limited paving program presented to them by Mayor V. I. Bent.

Daylight Saving Time was set to take effect at 12:01 a.m. on Sunday, April 29, and to remain until 12:01 a.m. Sunday, October 28.

The town decided to purchase hose for supplying ships in port with water. The cost of the hose was to be shared by the town and Digby Water Commission.

It was announced on Monday that Kingsley Collins had been engaged as parking meter reader and repair man.

Limitation of taxi licenses was set at 14 for the town. The town solicitor was requested to prepare a change in the by-laws so that intoxicated taxi drivers and sale of liquor by taxi drivers could be dealt with more properly.

In reporting on proposed regional library plans, Deputy Mayor Helen Anthony said the total cost of same for Shelburne, Yarmouth and Digby would be $56,855. Of this, she said, the government would pay half, leaving $28,428. to be borne by the participating units. Since it is understood that Shelburne had decided not to participate in the scheme it was felt that the remaining participants would have to bear the cost. Another proposition regarding libraries was placed before council by the Deputy Mayor. She told council that the Lynch house on King Street was offered for a library and museum if a library committee or responsible parties would bear the expense of putting the place in condition and also tear down at their expense other buildings on the property. No immediate action was taken.

Four appeared before the council to have assessments appealed — Irving W. McKenna, Richard B. Baxter, G. E. Coles and B. L. Roberge. Council decided to have the assessor come to hear the complaints at a special session.

Two others appeared before council, John Woolaver regarding the matter of the purchase of a truck for the town, and Philip Woolaver regarding the price, some years ago, of commons property sold by the town.

Two Citizens Total 190 Years

Mr. Benjamin Campbell, of Freeport, celebrated his 98th birthday on Wednesday, February 28th, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alton MacNeil. Many relatives and friends called during the afternoon and evening to wish him a happy birthday.

Carleton Lanes To Cost $100,000

Officers of a company have been elected and will shortly begin the construction of an eight lane bowling establishment at the corner of Birch and Carleton Sts. at an estimated cost of $100,000. It is understood. The establishment will be known as Carleton Lanes and will contain eight automatic lanes, snack bar and nursery. The building according to R. H. Marshall, who was elected president, will be modern in every respect, with comfortable air conditioning. Lanes will come from Double Diamond Supply Co., Toronto, and the Automatic Pin Setters from Bowl-Mor. All other materials and labor are planned locally. According to Mr. Marshall there will be ample parking space and free instruction for beginners in bowling will be offered.

Mr. Marshall feels the erection of the bowling lanes will mean much to the town of Digby, not only from the standpoint of a tax revenue, but also for a clean recreation centre where the citizens of the town, both older and younger can have pleasure from wholesome recreation. Today he said, bowling in Canada is a $60,000,000 industry and is still in the progressive stage. Other members of the company, it is understood, are Jack King and George Robbins.

Passes Ferry Resolution

One of the important transactions at the Digby Town Council on Monday night was the passing of a resolution regarding the proposed second ferry to operate between the New England States and Nova Scotia. The resolution urging that Digby be a terminus for such ferry followed telegrams sent last week to Hon. George Nowlan, by the Digby Board of Trade and the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, advocating the same terminus. Early in February the Digby Board of Trade had sent letters to interested parties urging Digby be the terminus.

The resolution passed by the town council pointed out that the Digby harbor was ice-free, it is practically the same distance from Gloucester, Mass., as Shelburne which is mentioned as another possible terminal. The resolution further stated that the Annapolis Valley is in need of better and additional transportation facilities for perishable goods, such as fresh fish, and that the present ferry boat running across the Bay of Fundy to Saint John, N. B., was inadequate for present day needs. The resolution stated that better transportation was needed to attract industry in the area and bolster the economy. It was further pointed out in the resolution that the large naval training base, H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, near Digby, does not have suitable docking facilities which has forced navy ships to dock in other ports rather than the Digby-Cornwallis area.

Copies of the resolution were to be sent to Hon. George Nowlan; Premier Robert Stanfield; Hon. E. A. Manson; Hon. W. S. K. Jones; V. G. Cardozo, M.L.A., Digby; Dr. P. E. Belliveau, M.L.A., Clare; Peter Nicholson, M.L.A.; Hanson Dowell, M.L.A.; Hon. E. D. Halliburton; Dr. E. D. MacArthur, M.L.A.; Mrs. Gladys Porter, M.L.A. Copies were also to be sent to the valley towns for support and to the various Boards of Trade in the Valley.

Individual citizens of the town, it is understood, have also lent support to the action of the Trade Boards and Town Council by expressing their wishes to the authorities concerned in the ferry proposal.

In honor of Mrs. George Lent, also of Freeport, who was 92 years old.

Many friends and neighbors called to extend congratulations and best wishes to this grand old lady.

Mrs. Lent, although confined to her wheelchair most of the time, was able to read all her cards, open her gifts, and express her thanks.

Mrs. Haines served delicious refreshments.

Betty Nichols Chosen Queen

Miss Betty Ann Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nichols, of Conway, was chosen 1962 Ice Carnival Princess at the annual presentation of the Digby Firemen's Ice Carnival Tuesday night. Also chosen as Senior Princess was Julie Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warner, and Junior Princess chosen was Karen Watkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Watkins. Other winners during the program were Danny Dugas, who won the spot prize; winner of the lucky draw was Mrs. George Winfield, and winner of the door prize was Mrs. Frank McIntosh. The queen and princesses were presented with cups by President Buddy Barr.

The Cornwallis Band provided appropriate music for the carnival and Mayor Vernon Bent got the show off to a good start with opening remarks. The first number of the show was an excellent precision drill performed by the Digby Majorettes under the direction of Mrs. Frances Peters. The Queen and Princess contests were under the direction of Mrs. J. R. McCleave, while the Costume Parade was under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Wright, who have acted in the same role since the first Ice Carnival was held some seven years ago. Figure skating this year was under the direction of Miss Susan Stoddard, from Cornwallis, and this part of the show was sponsored by the Lionettes Club who offered at the first of the season to provide the figure skating for the show. This part of the show was entirely under their direction.

Judges for the Queen and Princess Contests and Costume Parade were Mrs. F. Clyde Thomas, from Royal Armory Hotel, in Annapolis Royal; Mr. James Olmstead, of Clements, and Mr. J. W. Gaudet, from Weymouth.

Winners of the Costume Parade were: best costume, Judy McQueen, Bear River, entered as a butterfly; most comical, Mrs. Carl Warner and Mrs. Wellie Halliday, as the Twisters; most representative, Gail Neville and Joy Leonard, as the Campbell Soup Kids; most original, Mrs. Dick Milbury, Mrs. Joe Turnbull, Mrs. Clayton Snow and Miss Edna Turnbull, as the Four Aces. A miscellaneous prize went to Harley Nash as the Space Man.

Auxiliary Holds Auction

The Digby Hospital Auxiliary held an auction at the home of Mrs. D. G. Black, Queen St., on Monday night when twenty-six dollars was realized. The auction, held annually, followed the regular business meeting. The sale included cooked and canned goods, jewellery, household articles and other items. Auctioneer was Mrs. Sydney Smith. Mrs. A. J. Dillon, president, presided at the business session. Plans were made for a rummage sale to be held in March.

Feeds Wild Birds From His Hand

Claude A. Morehouse, formerly of Digby, now residing in Beaver Harbour, N. B., reported seeing, while on a recent visit to Digby, a flock of evening grosbeaks on Queen Street. Mr. Morehouse, a bird lover, knew that the grosbeaks were relatively tame birds and attempted to feed the birds some peanuts that he had in his pocket. The birds sat on his hand and ate, but the peanuts were apparently too hard for them. Mr. Morehouse's only regret was that he didn't have any sunflower seeds which he knew these birds loved.

Celebrate Diamond Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hill, of Weymouth North, celebrated their diamond wedding anniversary on Monday, March 5th. A party was given at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Hallett Sabean, and Mr. Sabean, when friends and relatives gathered to wish them happiness and to congratulate them. Many cards and gifts were received, as well as a beautiful anniversary cake.

Brotherhood Group Formed

At a meeting held in the hall of the Baptist Church of Digby last Saturday evening a Men's Brotherhood group was organized with the election of Donald Brown as President, Emmerson Cook, Vice-President, and Gerald Dunn as Secretary-Treasurer. The meeting was conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin.

The following committees were also appointed: Program Committee — J. J. Brittain, Chairman, Donald Brown, H. S. Hartlin, Chester Levy; Project Committee — Burton Ellis, Chairman, Robert Marshall, Charles Hersey, Bernard Bell; Social Committee — Russell Atkinson, Chairman, Shirley Clayton, Raymond Everett, Vernon Adams, George Donnelly.

The purposes and aims of the group were set out by the pastor, who said that such a group could fill an important function, not only in the experience of its members, but also of the church as a whole. He pointed out that there are a number of projects of concern to men that could be carried out by the Men's Project Committee which in the past two years has sponsored a series of men's supper meetings.

It was decided to hold monthly meetings, preferably on the 4th Saturday evening of each month. During the meeting the pastor led the group in a discussion on the topic "What A Man Expects Of His Church". Before the close of the meeting light refreshments were served by the members of the project committee.

Taxi Driver Injured

Lawrence (Laurie) Anderson, driver of a "108" taxi in town, was badly injured when involved in an accident last Sunday evening about 11 o'clock. The accident occurred about one-half mile on the Annapolis County side of the Bear River Bridge. His car was reported to have been in a collision with another car driven by Donald Aubrey Darras of Bear River. Anderson suffered a break in knee cap on one leg and the other leg was broken below the knee as well as one broken rib. Darras got away with a superficial scalp wound and was otherwise uninjured. It has been reported that the Anderson car was badly damaged and that the Darras car was pretty well totally wrecked.

To Address Trade Board

Above is Kenneth A. Ross, general manager of the Halifax Board of Trade, who will address the Digby Board at a supper meeting to be held at Hotel Champlain on Tuesday evening.

Born and educated in Prince Edward Island, Mr. Ross became associated with Public Relations work early in his career at first in the news paper field and, since 1947, with the Halifax Board of Trade. Under his direction the Board has expanded substantially and today plays an influential role in the affairs of the metropolitan area and in that of this province.

Interested in community service, Mr. Ross participated actively in the Junior Chamber program when he first went to Halifax in 1940, and his work on their behalf resulted in his election to the presidency in 1946. His public service was further recognized in 1957 when he was elected a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Secretaries. He has also served on the Board of the YMCA, the Nova Scotia Division of the Canadian Association and Rheumatism Society, and the Dalhousie Review Publishing Company.

Together with his widening range of interests of his own Board, Mr. Ross has contributed to the formation of a number of other associations for the benefit of the business community, and today organizations are available for the exchange of information in the fields of advertising, credit, and office management, to name a few.

Mr. Ross will speak about "The Board's Contribution to Community Growth".

Attend Meeting Blossom Festival Committee

Deputy Mayor Helen Anthony, accompanied by Mrs. J. M. Wallis and Mrs. Leigh Jayne, attended a special meeting of the Apple Blossom Festival committee at Middleton on Wednesday evening. The meeting was called especially to deal with a notice of motion from Windsor representatives to have the Blossom Festival parade held in Windsor in 1962 and move about to various towns in succeeding years. The motion was defeated on the grounds that most towns could not accommodate such a large parade and because it would decentralize festival events which had been accustomed to being held in Kentville. Difficulty in transportation of service personnel and of floats was also considered to make the move unwise.

The meeting was presided over by the festival president, Dr. R. S. Longley, who also suggested that princesses be chosen earlier and that the advertising booklet be distributed earlier. It was decided to have a greater variety of entertainment for young people and bring in some noted personality of T.V., hockey or other fame.

Since Kentville businesses stand to gain most by the festival it was decided to request contributions from these firms and also request the Kentville merchants to keep the stores open on the Saturday afternoon of the festival.

In Digby it is understood that the Lions Club will sponsor a princess and float, with Arnold MacCallum chairman of the committee. This will be the 30th Apple Blossom Festival, they having begun in the year 1932.

Two Wildcats Killed

There have been two reports received at this office regarding separate incidents of wildcats being shot near residential areas. The first report came in on Monday morning, when Frank Crosby Sr., of Smith's Cove informed us that his son, Frank Jr., had shot and killed a 37 inch wildcat. Saturday morning, Frank Jr. had seen the wildcat just 25 yards from his home. He succeeded in getting a shot at the animal but it managed to get away. The next morning Frank saw that the cat had come back and he was ready for him. Using a long range shell in his shotgun, the wildcat was easily killed.

The second report of a wildcat being bagged in the Smith's Cove vicinity was received on Tuesday. Lloyd Sandford with the help of neighbor, Dennis Theriault bagged a yearling wildcat early on Tuesday. Donald Lowe, Deep Brook, saw a cat run across the road about 300 yards from Mr. Sandford's home and just in front of his car. Mr. Lowe advised Mr. Sandford that he had almost his his cat. Mr. Sandford and his neighbor investigated. The cat turned out to be a wildcat and the pair shot the animal.

Hears Reports On Annual

Mrs. Ralph Berwick, delegate from the Digby Red Cross Branch to the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Division, prepared a splendid report of the sessions in Halifax which provided the highlight of the February business meeting of the Digby Branch held at the Court House last week.

Mrs. Berwick opened her report by giving a first hand account of the many Red Cross projects which were illustrated by displays in the lounge of the Lord Nelson Hotel. These were inspected and enjoyed by the delegates during the evening Open House which preceded the formal meeting. There were the Veteran's Handicrafts, felt, and leathercraft made by the hospitalized veterans of Camp Hill under the capable guidance of Miss Mary Romans, and sold by the Red Cross to provide extra money for the veterans; Home Nursing, illustrated by many pictures of this work in Nova Scotia; Junior Red Cross displays in great variety, including one of the 21 chests of school supplies, such as scribbles, pencils, pens and pens. Aid kits, ready to be sent to one of the poorer schools in Greece; Hospital visiting among the veterans at Camp Hill, demonstrated by the gifts of papers and magazines, playing cards and cigarettes, chocolate bars and gum given out by the Red Cross visitors; and last, but far from least, the Women's Work display consisting of many beautiful quilts and articles of knitting and sewing made by the branches all over the province. Among these, many Digby contributions were recognized, including 3 of our attractive quilts.

The all day business session opened the following morning (Please turn to page 5)

About This and That

Canada's Students Are Not Developing Their Full Potential

Of every 100 Canadian boys and girls who enter Grade Two, only nine will ever enter university, according to a study prepared for the second Canadian Conference on Education held in Montreal this March 4-8. And of the nine who enter college, only six will graduate and one will succeed in obtaining a master's degree.

This is only one example cited by the study of the extent to which Canada is wasting its student potential. University authorities estimate that about 30 percent of students have the mental ability to profit from four years at college, so that something less than one-third of those who should be receiving higher education are availing themselves of it.

What causes this tragically wasteful drop-out? According to the study, there are many reasons, of which four tend to appear frequently in any assessment of the problem and its solution.

The first of these is the lack of effective guidance. "Parents still play the chief role in helping students choose life courses", says the study, and if the student comes from a home marked by poor personal relationships and little respect for formal education, he is not likely to remain in school. Society itself, as well as school authorities, must often share the blame for failure to supply proper guidance.

Another cause of drop-out is lack of motivation. School courses which fail to interest a particular student, or which fail to present a challenge to the bright student, lead to boredom and an inclination to leave school.

Along with lack of motivation goes lack of opportunity, especially in schools in small centers which cannot provide a diversified program or adequate grouping of students according to ability and interest. Of students over the age of 15, for example, a far smaller percentage continue in rural schools than in urban schools.

Taking an unexpected last place among major reasons for leaving school, the study finds, is lack of money. While schooling to the end of the secondary level is largely free, the need of the family, for additional breadwinners may become a cause for drop-out. Nonetheless, the study concludes, in a period of full employment it is often the lure of high wages rather than distress which causes the student to go to work.

A New Vision

National Health Week will be celebrated this year in Canada for the 18th consecutive year. It is probably the oldest, and certainly the most widely observed annual publicity event in Canada, and the most widely supported Health Week in the world — all of which is to the credit of Canada.

There are those who find no fault with Annual Salad Week or an Annual Neck Tie Week, but criticize Annual Health Week because they say we should consider health as an important objective not only during one week, but every week. True enough! But we don't. Most sick people shouldn't be sick, but they are. Most people who are overweight should be thin. But they're not. Most of the millions of people with defective and decayed teeth should have good teeth. But they haven't. A multitude of different ailments fill hospital beds and cut short the lives of people who should be instead contributing to the national economy because they are healthy.

Surely it is logical that once a year people all over Canada, even in the most remote hamlet, should have the opportunity of learning that health is possible for everyone. And because of all national agencies, church and school, radio, television, the press and service clubs co-operate, this is possible. It is possible because they all act at once in a concerted effort. During the rest of the year attention to health and its objective is casual and intermittent.

Perhaps thousands of citizens who learn something about health during National Health Week may become apostles of health themselves. So, like a ball of snow which gathers more snow as it rolls on its way to become a snowman, the knowledge people gather about health in a single week will grow.

Thus we may come closer to the day when the Canadian public will think of health insurance as the application of the principles of preventive medicine, to the end that they may be healthier and longer lived each year.

Certainly we will not become healthier by ignoring such issues as fluoridation of water for the prevention of a variety of milk-borne diseases. Nor indeed will we solve the questions by the building of more hospital beds for the care of the sick as the sole means of prolonging life.

(The above editorial by Dr. Gordon Bates, General Director of the Health League of Canada, is from the pages of Health Magazine, official publication of the League.)

Education Week —

EDUCATION

(Why we should have a good education)

Today there is a greater need for a good education, than ever. So many things are happening as we grow up. Why just a few days ago John Glenn was put into orbit. In a few years they'll have someone on the moon. Sometimes we should stop and think of the men and women who worked hard for an education. Many of these people became very famous. When they were children they didn't just sit around and watch other people work. They studied to be able to work like these people.

This is why we should try as hard as we can to get a better education. Most likely many of us will become scientists, doctors, nurses and have other important professions. There will probably be a greater need for these professions in the future.

Our parents and teachers are trying to prepare us for this future, that we may have better homes and better surroundings. It will be our duty as citizens to carry on their work. Remember, we children of today are the citizens of tomorrow.

DEBBIE SHOPPING

Once upon a time there lived a little girl about seven years old her name was Debbie. She had two sisters and one brother. They lived in a town called Liverpool. It was a nice little town. There was a little river by their house.

One day Debbie's mother asked her to go to the store for her so Debbie started off to the store. It was a block away. On the way she met her sister Marjorie coming home from the library. On their way backed from the grocery store they stopped beside the river to see their reflection in the water.

I guess Debbie leaned over a little too far and fell in. Her mother heard Marjorie call for help, she came running and helped Marjorie get Debbie out of the water. They took her into the house and gave her dry clothes.

Oh! but the groceries were ruined. And that was the end of Debbie's Shopping and also the end of my story.

AROUND THE WORLD

Around the world,
With Colonel John Glenn,
Around the world,
In a very great spin.

Up and down,
Through the fluffy white clouds,
Over a town,
Filled with many a crowd.

Ten thousand miles above the earth,
Around around around he went,
Over the lovely city of Perth,
High in the sky, he was sent.

Around the world,
Three times over,
Around the world,
Over green patches of growing clover.

Over Asia, Europe and Rome,
Over many seas and oceans,
Very eager to go home,
In a very fast whirling motion.

Around the world he went,
In a great whirling motion.
In less than five hours he'd spent,
Then landed in the Atlantic Ocean.

Juanita Handspiker.

This was a regular assignment, a narrative of one paragraph, written by Angela Walton, 10 N.

A STRANGE HAPPENING

I awoke horrified, gazing into the darkness of my room. A cool breeze blowing in my window, gave me a feeling of uneasiness. What was happening in this strange house that I could not understand? Why did I awake each night at the same time, with a feeling that someone was lurking in my room. My mind wondered. Oh! such nonsense. I must stop this. It was a new house so naturally I would not be used to it. Lying back on my pillow, I slowly drifted off to sleep. Suddenly in the wee hours of the morning, I was awakened by a noise out side my door. Leaping up to investigate, I crept slowly to the door and opened it. A pale white figure slipped into the room down the hall. No it couldn't be. This was all a big mistake. I must still be asleep. I went down the hall and stood at the entrance

This was presented as an oral assignment by Leanne Oickle, 10 S.

THE VALUE OF EDUCATION

All young people should take advantage of the opportunities to obtain a good education. We, the students of today, shall become the citizens of tomorrow. It has been said that knowledge is power, power to think, power to do, power to enjoy, and power to best serve our community. In Russia, the Communist Government is realizing this. As a result all students who have the ability are compelled not only to finish high school, but to go to college and study the courses which seem most suitable for them. If our democratic country is to retain its freedom, we must keep our standard of education equal to or higher than theirs.

To us, the students, falls the greatest part of this challenge. We should all finish high school and then if possible take further academic or general training.

Education encourages us to think for ourselves and gives us confidence in what ever we undertake. It cultivates the willingness to work with others and enables us to see and understand the other person's opinion.

But most important of all, our education must train us to make a living. It seems logical that the more thorough education we have, the better living we can make. The young people who quit school early and go to work usually are forced to do hard manual labour and receive comparatively low wages. Those who obtain higher educations start out at higher wages and are able to work up both in their position and salary.

There is no place in our scientific world for those who are uneducated. Ignorance can lead to poverty or laziness, both of which are factors of crime and a menace to our country. But there is a place for the educated especially in the many branches of science which are currently being developed. We must have research workers who are willing to dedicate their lives to research and we must have manufacturers who can turn scientific ideas into practical machines and instruments. In these fields there is room for all who have the education, the ambition and the accuracy that such work requires.

Through getting a good education, we all have a fair chance to make a success of our life in whatever career we choose. It will be those of us who obtain this success that can serve our community and country the best.

A BIG SURPRISE

On my birthday, father said there was a surprise for me in the barn. Eagerly I went to see what it was. What do you think I saw? A pony. Was he ever beautiful! I decided to call him Black Beauty because he was black. The next day father got me a beautiful saddle for Beauty. I tried to put the saddle on him but I could not. I asked father to and he succeeded. When I tried to ride him he would not move but when my brother got on he started to run around. In this way my birthday gift went to my brother. My brother had many enjoyable rides on Black Beauty.

Letter to the Editor

February 27, 1962.

Editor, Digby Courier.
Digby, N. S.

Dear Editor:

For several years a Driver Education Program has been promoted by Provincial Governments and the Nova Scotia Highway Safety Council. Driver Education in any community must be taught by a qualified teacher. It is now possible to train teachers at no cost to local School Boards whether or not Driver Education is adopted in the community. All that is required is a qualified teacher and the approval of the School Board. In order that ample warning may be given to develop adequate enrollments for summer sessions in 1962 details are provided herewith.

Scholarships of $100.00 are offered to each qualified teacher recommended for the course. An allowance of 10¢ per mile one way is granted to defray transportation costs. The best time for the course would appear to be in the latter part of August.

Instruction requirements of the course are:

a. That the enrollee shall hold a professional teachers certificate (temporary or permanent).

b. That he or she shall have a drivers license in good standing for two years.

The policy of those promoting Driver Education is to bring about its inclusion within the school orbit, to take its place alongside extra-curricular activities such as sports, dramatics, music, debating and other group organizations. Invasion of the curriculum is not part of the Driver Education program.

Driver Education can be adopted by any enterprising community. Automobiles, Government grants, reduced insurance rates and other incentives are available. The results of Driver Education could be priceless as it has been proven to drastically reduce the accidents involving our younger drivers.

In these days of automation, special skills are required in industry. The same applies in an increasing extent to drivers on our busy streets and highways.

It is hoped that this letter will be brought to the attention of all teachers in order that plans may be made for 1962. Potential enrollees are asked to write the Safety Division, Department of Highways, Halifax, Nova Scotia, or the Nova Scotia Highway Safety Council, P. O. Box 621, Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Yours sincerely,
L. M. Delbridge,
Manager,
N.S. Highway Safety Council.

A Winning Combination

Chocolate is literally a food that once was fit only for royalty. Back in the days when the Aztec, Montezuma, ruled over Mexico, the cocoa bean had far more value than gold. Although the French and Swiss are today noted for their chocolate, Europeans had never heard of the cocoa bean until Cortez and the Spanish conquistadores brought it back to their homeland in the 16th century.

Today, some of the most elegant and delectable desserts we know have cocoa or chocolate as an ingredient. And an all-time favorite in practically every family is chocolate cake.

Gold and Brown Cake is an enticing combination of two complementary and delectable flavors — chocolate and lemon. The milk-chocolate layer cake is fine textured, moist and tender. Egg whites made into a meringue and folded into the batter, help give the cake character. After baking, the two layers are filled and frosted with a quite unusual lemon-flavored Golden Frosting, enriched with egg yolks left over from the cake making. It's a wonderful cake to serve at a party or as a special dessert!

Gold & Brown Cake

1 1/2 cups once-sifted all-purpose flour or 2 cups once-sifted pastry flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup cocoa
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups fine granulated sugar
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 egg whites (at room temperature)

Yield — 1 eight inch two-layer cake.
Grease 2 deep 8-inch round layer cake pans and line in bottom with greased waxed paper. Preheat oven to 375 degrees F. (moderately-hot).

Sift all-purpose flour, baking powder, salt and cocoa together twice. Cream butter or margarine until soft; gradually blend in 1 cup of the sugar and beat with electric mixer set at medium speed, or with a wooden spoon, until mixture is fluffy. Combine milk and vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients to creamed mixture alternately with milk, combining lightly after each addition. Beat egg whites until foamy; gradually beat in the remaining 1/2 cup sugar and continue to beat until the meringue stands in peaks; fold into batter. Turn into prepared pans and spread evenly. Bake in pre-heated oven 20 to 25 minutes. Stand baked cakes in their pans on wire rack for 10 minutes, then turn out cakes, peel off paper and allow cakes to cool completely on wire racks. Put layers of cold cake together with a filling of the following Golden Frosting, then cover top and sides of cake with remaining frosting.

Golden Frosting

4 teaspoons grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
3/4 cup water
2 tablespoons corn syrup
3 egg yolks
Yellow food coloring (optional)
A little cream, if needed
Yield — Sufficient icing to fill and frost an 8-inch 2-layer cake.

Combine lemon rind and lemon juice. Measure sugar into a saucepan; add water and corn syrup. Stir over a very low heat until sugar is dissolved. Bring to the boil and boil gently until syrup reaches 250 degrees (a little syrup dropped in cold water will form a hard ball). Beat egg yolks until thick and light; gradually beat in the hot syrup and continue to beat until frosting thickens. Strain lemon juice and beat it into frosting. Tint, if desired, with a little yellow food coloring. If frosting becomes too thick as it cools, beat in a little cream.

Leather Gloves Put Glamour At Your Finger Tips This Spring

The newest style in spring leather gloves is called the "Bikini". It's a shortie that barely, but beautifully, reaches the wrist. The "Bikini" is one of a range of generally shorter gloves in kid, lamb and pigskin designed to match the longer dress, coat and suit sleeves.

A pre-season view of spring gloves, provided by the Leather Industries, also pointed up that the once dominant eight button glove will share top honors with the four and six button mid arm length.

Classic styling will dominate in glaze and suede leather gloves. Except for dress gloves, where cut-outs, simple embroidery and tiny jewelling will spell elegance, leather gloves will be for the most part simple pull-ons.

Neutral leather hues will take precedence over bold colors, with the beige to brown tones range most important. White leather will, as always, be "right" with everything except the most rugged of country clothes. However, top designers in this country and abroad are using mustards, violets and even brilliant oranges to provide a tart accent to an understated Spring outfit.

Casual and country fashions call for pigskin gloves, chiefly in shortie lengths. Striking in texture, pigskin leather is available in a wide range of neutral colors including natural which can be worn with plaids, checks and tweeds, when driving a car, you'll find that pigskin leather gloves give you a sure grip on the wheel and keep your hands clean and soft.

Since the new Spring fashions will call for the addition of several pairs of leather gloves to your wardrobe, here is some advice from Leather Industries' fashion staff on what goes with what this year:

The sleeveless silhouette needs either a very short glove or an elbow length — in kid, skin, glaze leather or doe-skin.

For sleeves crimped above the wrist, choose a longer length, anywhere up to a 12 button glove in soft doe-skin or kid.

Suits and tailored ensembles take wrist length gloves in smooth, suede or textured pigskin leather. However, a two or four button length is equally correct.

For the cocktail hour, wear a 12 or 16 button soft leather glove.

If the occasion is really formal, your choice should always be the most elegant of gloves, the 2 button leather glove in white or neutral.

One final tip: you measure the "button" length of a leather glove as follows: The number of "buttons" equals the number of inches from the bottom of the thumb in seam to the cuff of the elbow.

If You're TIRED

Now and then everybody gets a "tired-out" feeling and may be bothered by backaches. Perhaps nothing seriously wrong, just a temporary condition caused by urinary irritation or bladder discomfort. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's helps stimulate the kidneys to relieve this condition which may often cause backache and tired feeling. Thousands feel better, rest better, work better.

To the Editor,
The Digby Courier.

Dear Sirs:

A student formerly from Weymouth, was one of 21 students at Gallaudet College, Washington, D.C., to make the Dean's list for high scholastic standing during the first semester of 1961-62.

The college is the world's only college for the deaf.

The student is Irvin Stewart MacDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest MacDonald, who moved recently to Montague, P.E.I., from Nova Scotia. Irvin is a sophomore at the college.

Prior to going to Washington he graduated from Baddeck Rural High School, N.S.

Mrs. Ernest MacDonald.

Mrs. J. M. Wallis,
Digby Courier.

Dear Mrs. Wallis,

With reference to the current controversy regarding the opening and closing hours of the Digby stores, possibly you might be interested in how the matter is handled here. The great majority of the stores are open every day except Sundays from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. On Sundays they recently take down their hair and some of them are open from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m., although the majority do not open until noon. I realize, of course, that Sunday opening is illegal in N.S.

This town has doubled in population in the past eight years. Could it be that the convenience in shopping here has had something to do with it?

Yours very truly,
P. W. D.

February 28, 1962.
Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Editor,
The Digby Courier,
Digby, Nova Scotia.

My Dear Mrs. Wallis:

Will you please pass on to your readers my sincere thanks for all the assurance of prayers, gifts, letters and cards received during my recent experience in the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, and convalescence at home.

I had quite a bout with my right eye. The good Lord, the doctors, the nurses, the callers and your expressions of good will brought me through. "Whereas I was blind, now I can see". So many good gestures from Digby County! Mac Leonard and Dick Sabean were in and we had a good talk. Doug, Trask, of Little River, was in and brought me up-to-date on life at the River. Yes, and Reigh Jayne brought me home. And, Madam Editor, it was good hearing that there was a nice card from you.

It will take quite a while, but I will reply to each individually. As I just took my pinhole spectacles off last Sunday, I haven't seen my cards yet. I shall spend next month with them and, in time, acknowledge each one.

"I never knew I had so many friends."

Again thanking you, hoping to see you all again before too long, and with every good wish,

Yours very sincerely,
In our Master's service,
Claude Troupe Olmstead, Minister.

Editor,
Hants Journal:

There was a short item in the paper regarding the fact that Mrs. Mamie Sanford Denton, now living in Sacramento, California, reached the wonderful age of 100 years on Dec. 6th, 1961. Few know the story behind this simple statement. Her father was Levi Sanford who with his brothers, Nathan, James and Benjamin, were born in West Gore and at the time of the gold rush, left West

Gore and went to California. This was between 1848 and 52. Not only did Auntie Mamie, as she is so affectionately called, reach this age so few reach, but her father and mother both lived to be over 90; her grandfather James Sanford and his wife Sarah Woolver of Windsor also lived to be over 90; her great grandfather Benjamin Sanford Jr. and his wife Freedom Strong both lived to be over 90 and were married over 66 years and the father of this Benjamin, (also Benjamin Sanford) who was one of the planters) signed his will when he was 95 so we know he lived over that age. Levi, father of Auntie Mamie had a brother Benjamin mentioned before, who was born in West Gore and died in Grass Valley, California at the age of 99 years and 4 months. His wife, Euphemia Wallace of West Gore lived to be 95. Truly this is a record that is matched in few families.

Possibly the finest tribute paid to Levi Sanford, father of Mamie, was taken from a Nova Scotia paper of 1907. This stated:

"The people of this congregation (West Gore) are now enjoying the visit of Bro. Levi Sanford of California after an absence of 55 years. He left these shores 55 years ago and sailed to the western side of the country. He is now 80 years of age but has a clear eye, a bright mind and a faith that is unshaken and unfaltering. He is as true to the Good Book as a needle is to the pole. The grasp of his hand warms the heart of everyone he meets and the spirit that permeates his being is contagious. We had the privilege of hearing him preach on Lords Day evening the 22nd July. His sister now 88 years old was overjoyed to see her brother once again."

Mamie's mother was Mary Hite and I have a copy of the letter she wrote when 94 years of age that says "my wants are supplied, I have faithful children to care for me. In God I put my trust." She passed away a few months later. Such is the background of a girl, born Dec. 6th, 1861 who on Dec. 6th this year was able to see her 100th birthday.

She received greetings from Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Stanfield, Pres. Kennedy of the USA, and Governor Brown of California and also from Richard Nixon, the Ex. Vice President. Auntie enjoyed her day altho' she is now in a nursing home, having become somewhat unsteady on her feet and her loved ones were afraid that she might fall and get hurt. She was on a T.V. program in the evening of her birthday and was the recipient of many birthday cards, plants and other gifts.

ANNUAL REPORT

ing under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. P. Bell, popular president of the Nova Scotia Division, and included reports on all the many phases of Red Cross work on the divisional level and also from the Regional vice presidents from all parts of the province. Mrs. Berwick made mention of Mrs. H. M. Warner's report as regional vice president from this area, and also of the fact that the Digby Branch was cited as an example of special activity in local welfare work. Commissioner Hilsley's report gave credit to all the branches for their tremendous support in making 1961 what he termed the Year of Response in Red Cross work. The importance of the Blood Donor program and the financial campaign were stressed, and special praise was given to the Red Cross Corps and Post Services for their work in meeting immigrants who enter our country through the port of Halifax, one well qualified authority on immigration being quoted as stating that Halifax has "the best Post Services in the world". The Women's Work report laid special stress on quilts, and the importance of them being pretty, without being elaborate, for the sake of morale-building in cases where people have been burned out or suffered other disasters requiring Red Cross help.

The Halifax meeting had closed with the annual dinner, at which the climax of the session had been provided by an address by Porter Scobey, an 18 years old high school graduate of Liverpool, N. S., who was one of the four Canadian delegates to a Junior Red Cross Study Centre in Austria last August, attended by representatives of seven nations. Porter Scobey, who is now an honor student at Dalhousie University, is still dedicated to Red Cross and looks forward, like many others, to the day when he hopes to see the bridge between the Junior and Senior Red Cross become a reality.

Mrs. Lent, president of the Digby Branch, thanked Mrs. Berwick for a very comprehensive report, and added her own comments on the annual meeting, which she had also attended, together with Dr. and Mrs. Hodgson and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Warner.

Other reports presented at the Digby Branch meeting included ways and means, given by Mrs. Loran Hayden, and disaster relief, by Mrs. George Winfield. In the latter report, thanks was extended to Mrs. Trask, Mrs. Woolf and Miss Wentzell for Happiness Kits sent in from their Junior Red Cross groups in the Digby schools. A request was made for more articles for Disaster Kits, the stock of which had been depleted by various fires and it was decided to hold a shower of suitable articles (soap, face cloths, tooth paste, shaving cream, safety pins, etc.) on Wednesday, March 14, at which time additional kits would be packed. It was hoped to get as many as possible to attend this meeting to help with this work, which is a small but nevertheless important part of the Disaster Relief program.

The report of the Sickroom Loan Cupboard showed one hospital bed and one pair of crutches sent out on loan during the past month.

After the adjournment of the business meeting, the usual refreshing cup of tea was enjoyed under the auspices of the Ways & Means Committee.

Various aspects of agriculture were studied on Monday night, the one of chief interest being marketing of fruit and vegetables. This will be continued in future meetings. While fruit is raised on a small scale by individual farmers it was thought this phase of farming could be done on a wider scale. It was thought the market was available but must be properly tendered and contracted for. The climate for fruit and vegetable growing was considered ideal in this area with early Spring, late Fall and little frost.

Other subjects discussed were co-operative marketing, the future in farming for young people of the area and concern about 4H clubs.

It is understood that the Saultville Neighborhood Study group was taking the subjects of fertilizers, lime, spray and seed for study.

The regular Home and School meeting was held in the high school on Thursday evening with the president, Mrs. Earl Thurber presiding. The Home and School creed was read by Mrs. Roy Powell. After routine business a poem "How Things Have Changed" was read by Mrs. Avery Finigan. The program convenor, Miss Janice Hatfield introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Paul Minc, who took as his subjects, Health and Home Work. This was very interesting and informative. His talk was further illustrated by a film, "Why Won't Tommy Eat." Members from Tiverton Home and School were guests of the meeting. Meeting adjourned after which a social hour followed with refreshments.

Articles on The National Youth Orchestra of Canada and on Canada's Liveliest Longhairs were read by Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. Chesley. A piano selection, "Land of the Beethoven", was given by Mary Lou Parker.

An article entitled "Give Them Songs That Have Meaning", as applied to teaching music in the schools, was read by Mrs. MacIntyre. This was illustrated by a vocal duet, "I Believe", by Nancy Riley and Mary Lou Parker, and a vocal solo "You'll Never Walk Alone" by Nancy Riley. Both girls are pupils in Oakdene School Grade 9. They were accompanied by Linda Buckler. A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Crocker and staff for the use of the school hall.

In The Legislature

(Remarks of Victor G. Cardoza, M.L.A., Digby, made during the Throne Speech Debate, Wed., March 7th, 1962.)

Mr. Speaker, in rising to take part in this debate on the Address in Reply to the Speech from the Throne, I want first of all to add my congratulations to those already voiced concerning the excellent job that you are doing, Sir, as Speaker of this House. I am sure that all of us are impressed with the capable manner in which you are discharging the duties of your office.

I want also to congratulate the Mover and Seconder of the Address in Reply. Considering the material with which they had to work, they did a capable and effective job.

So far as the Speech from the Throne is concerned, I found it very disappointing. While it contained a number of proposals which were good, so far as they went, it failed to come to grips in real, positive fashion with the biggest problems facing this province: unemployment and economic conditions. Because of the government's failure to deal with these problems in its announced programme in the Throne Speech, I feel I must support the amendment proposed by our leader.

In my remarks today, Mr. Speaker, I intend to deal mainly with matters affecting my own constituency as they relate to the Speech from the Throne.

First of all, I would like to commend the government for the fact that they have seen fit, since I spoke in this House in the 1946 session to do a number of the things in my constituency of Digby that I recommended at that time. While I must admit that, at the time I spoke here in 1956, I did not expect the present government would be faced with the job of implementing my requests, I am pleased that they have seen fit to do at least some of the things I recommended.

One of these things to which I would like now to refer, Mr. Speaker, is the paving of that section of Highway No. 17, the Digby Neck highway, on Long Island between the villages of Tiverton and Freeport, and the section of the same highway through Briar Island at the very tip of Digby Neck, including the streets of the picturesque fishing village of Westport. I feel it is a shame that this paving treatment was not also accorded the village of Freeport, and I would now urge upon the government that the same treatment be given Freeport as Westport, and that the streets of this village also be paved.

This highway, to which I refer, No. 17, is an absolutely vital one to the more than 1,500 people of the Islands of Digby Neck and, although on one occasion when I mentioned the paving of this road, a gentleman opposite, now of Cabinet rank, suggested in this House it would be better to move these fisherfolk off the Islands to an agricultural county of Nova Scotia, I am glad that he and his colleagues have, since coming to government, seen the wisdom of my requests and have at least made a start in meeting them.

While I commend the government on the start they have made with respect to this highway, I would remind them that there is still much to be done that is equally as vital to the welfare of the people of the Islands of Digby Neck as the paving of the highway. I refer, first of all, to the construction and maintenance of the breastworks which protect the road which skirts the shore on both Long and Briar Islands, and also prevent the terrific erosion which is sometimes caused by the heavy, storm-tossed waves that beat against the island shores. These breastworks protect the investment made on the highways on the Islands and it would be sheer folly to neglect them or fail to build them where they are needed.

The other matter with respect to the Islands of Digby Neck, which I would urge upon the government, Mr. Speaker, is the provision of a permanent type crossing for Petite Passage which separates the Islands from the mainland of Digby Neck. Highway No. 17, which runs from Digby to Westport, is the only

Operation Freedom Trade Board Address

Operation Freedom was the main topic of the address given by K. A. Ross, manager of the Halifax Board of Trade at a dinner meeting of the Digby Board held at Hotel Champlain on Tuesday evening. The address was given in three parts, entitled Free Enterprise, Aids to Business and Opportunities of Boards of Trade in promoting free enterprise in the business world. Mr. Ross also handed out ideas on general community betterment which can be undertaken as projects for Boards of Trade. In discussing free enterprise Mr. Ross said that we must give thought to the future, where we are going and why. Free enterprise, he said, is fast slipping away and he was sure that some sensible and thoughtful people did not want to head towards a welfare state. He said, we must use caution about our demands and requests we make on governments as nothing is free, they must be paid for. He urged the business man to take an active interest in politics. Apathy, he said, is the greatest problem we must face today. The secret of freedom, he said, is courage.

We are all heartened by the economic development which is taking place in the province, the speaker commented, but he charged that a great percentage of those unemployed resulted because the unemployment benefits provide an easy way to get money. The criteria of the day should be hard work but our people have taken a lackadaisical attitude because of our type of living. Hospitalization, Mr. Ross said, is not free, we pay gas tax, cigarette tax and numerous other taxes. This, he said, was no reflection on the government, but these are the things we want and demand. Education is costly, he said, but education is important also to the economy of our country. Our demands on government must be met in order of priority and education is on the top of the list. Our national debt, he said, gives us reason to reflect before we ask for more benefits. In governments on all levels, he said, we must be modest in what we ask for to prevent upsurge in tax rate.

In relating his talk to the Board of Trade, Mr. Ross said that the Board of Trade is the pulse of the community and went on to suggest ways in which the Board can lead in community betterment and community relations. He suggested sponsoring such efforts as Farmer's Night, Fisherman's Day, Courtesy Campaigns, Candidate Night (civic, provincial, federal), Aquatic Day and make use of such articles typical to Digby as scallop shells.

The speaker was introduced by Edward Twohig, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee for the Digby Board, and thanked by John Nichols, past president. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. J. M. Wallis, president.

His Worship Mayor Vernon L. Bent brought greetings from the town. He said that though the duties and responsibilities of town government are separate from that of Boards of Trade, there are areas where they overlap. Bringing greetings from the Weymouth Board of Trade was Gifford Lewis, president of the Weymouth Board.

Mrs. Jean Olsen presided at the piano for a short song. Previous to the address of Mr. Ross, a short business session was held when Mrs. Grace Edwards reported on a community analysis being sponsored by the Digby Board and Richard Levy, of the Industrial Committee, reported on the Digby Board's efforts in endeavouring to have Digby considered as a terminus for the proposed second ferry from New England States to Nova Scotia. Letters and telegrams had been sent to interested and responsible parties pointing out the advantages in Digby as a terminal. The Digby Board endorsed a resolution of the Digby Town Council toward the same end.

Child Dies Of Burns

On January 31 The Brantford Examiner published the front page story — "Two Tots Human Torches". The two tots were two children of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Speichts, brother of Nelson Speichts, Smith's Cove. Cold weather, a can of lawn mower gasoline and a flame in a basement hot water heater combined to make the tragedy. Linda, 2½ year old, and Randall, four years old, were playing in the basement, due to the cold. It is believed that their pedal car tipped over the can of gas stored under the work bench. Linda and Randall were saved by their brave mother who rolled them in snow, the clothes burning off them as she carried them outside. The explosion blackened the entire basement and a team of 6 doctors and nurses worked over the children for three hours.

Linda had only the skin left from her ankles down — 75% burnt. Randall was burned 50%. They were kept in a little glass house, with room enough for their wee beds and a nurse around the clock. They resembled big white panda bears.

Mr. and Mrs. Speichts visited here 6 or 7 years ago, visiting Carl's relatives. Mr. Speicht was born in Centreville, Digby Co., and lived in Smith's Cove for some time. They have 4 other children, three in school and an infant.

The two victims had been transferred to Toronto's Sick Children's Hospital along with the mother, who is donating skin for plastic surgery.

Word was received Saturday that Linda had passed away. She was the only girl in the family.

This story is another tragic news event, so common these days. But when it reaches

Kiwanis Hold Supper

On Thursday, March 8th, the Digby Kiwanis Club held a regular meeting at the Hotel Champlain, with Mr. F. C. Purdy acting chairman for the evening.

Following the Grace, which was asked by Reverend H. S. Hartlin, two guests were introduced to the members: Tim Hagen, of the Yarmouth Kiwanis Club, and Gordon Galbraith, of Digby.

F. C. Purdy, the speaker of the evening, gave the club an address on the different types of education that are offered in the local schools.

Mr. Purdy explained that there are three streams following in the education plan in Digby: 1. Academic; 2. General; 3. Commercial.

The academic stream has two tracks: (a) College preparatory matriculation with a language is necessary. This is the hard core programme he explained, the Minimum program is academic but does not meet university requirements. Prepares student to go into nursing, banking, teaching, etc.

The general course again has only two tracks, he went on. First track technical training and is non-matriculating course but it does require a Grade 11 Provincial Certificate. Lays the foundation for post-training, radio, television, draughting, etc. These students taking this particular course must carry correspondence courses in draughting, motor mechanics, surveying, advanced electricity, or other related courses.

The second track is a non-technical or a practical course that prepares the student for life in this community. It is a broad general course and terminates at Grade 11. This course is designed for students who have no special aptitude for academic or technical training.

The third stream is the commercial course.

Two courses are offered. 1. Certificate course is begun at grade 10 level and terminates at Grade 11. These students are trained in typing and in shorthand, along with this there are a few cultural courses. Students graduating from this course fill positions as typists and clerks.

Diploma courses — These students must have a Grade 11 or a Grade 12 certificate for entrance. They receive a sound training in commercial practice and will be very competent persons. They are usually A-1 students. They fill secretarial and stenographic positions.

Mr. Purdy also explained that there are presently underway in the school three surveys that involve the students.

The first of these is a survey of the colored students who have entered the Digby Regional High School. The purpose of this survey is to find the grade achievement reading levels, general ability and a post high school follow-up. Mr. Purdy went on to say that they have found that there are now a great number of colored students who hold very responsible positions. A goodly number have gone through high school and compare very well with their fellow classmates. He said that if they are given equal opportunity, they will hold their place in society with any racial group. All they need is the opportunity to prove themselves.

There was also a survey done on the general course students. This survey also involved the study that was done on the above, and is a follow up of general course students. The survey was taken from 1950 to 1961. The students had shown great achievement and had found their place in society and are giving a good account of themselves as good responsible citizens.

The third survey was on a guided reading programme. Mr. Purdy said that much of the difficulty being experienced by the students is due to the low reading ability. The school had made a survey of 1341 students who wrote entrance exams to the Digby Regional High School from 1951 to 1960. As a result of the survey, he went on, we have established these as fundamental weaknesses in the programme which undoubtedly account for unsatisfactory progress in school. From this survey we hope to

Mrs. Vincent Addresses Women

Mrs. Hugh Vincent, president of the Baptist Auxiliary, Digby, addressed the women at the World Day of Prayer service held at the Baptist Church, Digby, on Friday, March 9th.

Mrs. Vincent took the prescribed theme, "God's Love for the Whole World", and based her talk on John 3:16: "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in him should not perish but have everlasting life". Mrs. Vincent said "The gift of God to man was His Son, our gift to God should be ourselves". Because we live a life of personal devotion, we must be witnesses and tell others, the speaker continued. A church does not exist for itself but for Christ and the world for which He died. She urged her listeners to the importance of supplying Bibles and Christian literature for distribution. Christians, she said should be willing to sacrifice time and money for the spread of the Gospel and practice those truths they believe.

Leading the service were Mrs. R. B. Lent, President Anglican W.A., Mrs. Bryson Denon, President Grace United Church Women and Mrs. Capt. Owen MacPherson, Salvation Army.

Prayers were led by Mrs. Clarence Gould, Mrs. Elton Arnold, Mrs. Oakley Turnbull, Mrs. George Hersey and Mrs. Dorothy Small.

Mrs. Reginald Weir and Mrs. Harry Daley were heard in a duet.

Smith's Cove

The World Day of Prayer service was held at the Smith's Cove United Church on Friday afternoon. Members and friends of all three churches participated in the service. Miss Sue Winchester, President of the Baptist Missionary Aid Society, presided, and the program was under the direction of Miss Ada Winchester. Mrs. Edith Wallis, Digby, gave an address on the theme "Love of God for the Whole World" and she also sang a solo "I Shall Not Pass This Way Again". Mrs. Ruth Walker and Mrs. Alice Brinton sang a duet, "Back of the Clouds". The organist was Mrs. J. J. Wallis.

For her address Mrs. Wallis used the special World Day of Prayer theme and based her remarks on the scriptures, "For God so loved the world" and "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and all thy mind and all thy soul, strength, and thy neighbor as self". Mrs. Wallis noted the vastness of God's love from the very beginning of time, seeking out the people until climaxed by the greatest gift of all — the gift of His Son. Those who accept His love, she said, accept at the same time the responsibility of sharing His love with others. The responses to His love by the people are worship, fellowship, prayer and service to others.

Leading the service were Miss Sue Winchester, Mrs. A. Ettinger and Mrs. Charles Kaulback. Others who participated in leading parts were Mrs. Avon Sanford, Mrs. Aileen Woodman, Mrs. Lloyd Adams, Mrs. Vera Langman, Mrs. Russell Savary, Mrs. George Winchester, Mrs. William Barry, Rev. Dale McTavish. Prayers were led by Mrs. LeRoy Henshaw, Clarence Tibert, Mrs. Myrtle Jackson, Mrs. Oakley Smith, Mrs. Gordon Landers, Miss Edith Wightman, Mrs. Frank Wightman, Miss Marie Morehouse, Miss Blanche Hicks, Mrs. Fred Fullerton, Mrs. O. F. Woodman and Mrs. O. Chute. Assisting also were Stanley Weir and Elmer Weir.

North Range

The World Day of Prayer service was held at the home of the W.M.S. president, Mrs. J. V. Andrews, North Range, on March 9th. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Andrews with all present taking part.

The theme, "God's Love for the Whole Wide World", as prescribed by the W.M.S. of official organ, "Tidings", was used. In addition several appropriate poems were read by the members.

At the close of the meeting it was decided to prepare a White Cross box for India. Mrs. H. A. Shortliffe will be

Club Enjoys Travelogue

Miss Edith Lynch provided an interesting travel program on Australia at the March meeting of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society, held last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Levy.

Stating that Australia is a "Garden Club dream", Miss Lynch went on to prove it by showing many beautiful color slides featuring magnificent gardens which she had visited during her Australian tour last winter. With very fertile soil, everything grows and the Australians seem to be a nation of gardeners, even the government reservoir projects far beyond the cities being landscaped and planted with formal flower beds. Smooth, sandy beaches and the forests, or "bush", of native gumwood trees also were featured in many beautiful pictures. Miss Lynch's trip had started in Vancouver, touched at San Francisco, included Honolulu, Fiji and Samoa, also Auckland and Wellington in New Zealand, before reaching Australia. There she had visited many parts of the country, from Townsville and Orpheus Island in the tropical north to Brisbane in the cool south, with Melbourne, Adelaide and Sydney, as well as Hobart in Tasmania, providing material for a very comprehensive travelogue which was greatly enjoyed by all those present.

The preceding business session was under the chairmanship of the President, Mrs. Eva Wendell, and included many reports on garden club plans for spring projects. Suggestions were also discussed regarding the District Garden Club Rally, which includes clubs from Annapolis to Shelburne in response to a letter from Mrs. B. J. Comeau, of Le Jardiniers Club, Meteghan, offering to be host to the district clubs in April. Literature on roses for spring planting and bulbs for fall planting was also available to the members.

Mrs. Daniel Comeau, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, announced a very generous offer by Mrs. Gott and Mrs. Curry of Hedley House to hold a Seafood Chowder Supper in May or early June, with the entire proceeds for the benefit of the Horticultural Society. This was enthusiastically accepted by the members, and the Ways and Means Committee given power to add to their numbers in order to fully assist Hedley House in carrying out this project. It was also announced that the next regular meeting would be held at Hedley House in April, when it was hoped that Mr. McLaughlin, of the Department of Agriculture, would be guest speaker on garden topics.

At the conclusion of the program, a social hour was enjoyed while delicious refreshments were served by the co-hostesses, Mrs. H. Nichols and Mrs. H. J. Anthony.

About This and That

Long Wait At Bridge

The first really nice sunny Sunday afternoon since January and a bare highway were undoubtedly responsible for the heavy traffic on Sunday. All along the highway from Halifax to Digby, we understand, the traffic was heavy and we expect other highways were similarly used.

So long as the traffic continues to flow uninterrupted little is thought of its increase. However, when such interruptions as narrow bridges interrupt the traffic it becomes most noticeable and we wonder about the adequacy of our highways to accommodate the ever increasing traffic. For example, at one time on Sunday afternoon nine cars were crossing Victoria Bridge towards Digby while seven going the opposite direction waited their turn on the other side. This is the month of March. What will the traffic be like on a Sunday afternoon in the months of July and August? Would anyone say some better accommodation is not needed for that particular spot on the highway? Of course, at the same time we suggest the dangerous curves should be eliminated.

A little driver common courtesy might do wonders at eliminating a bit of the bottle neck. Granted, there is difficulty at times in detecting a car behind the bridge rails on the other side but there are always those selfish people who race to get to the bridge while cars are lined up for the opposite direction. This can cause a long, tedious and irritating wait which in itself is conducive to accident. How about a bit of common courtesy until we have a better bridge? We recommend a causeway.

The Warning

Step three of "Eleven Steps to Survival" has the caption "Know the Warning Signals and have a Battery-Powered Radio".

A radio will play a very important part both in warning and issuing instructions to the people of Canada in the event of a National Disaster.

Centres of population more likely to be affected by fallout or possible attack are being provided with sirens. Other areas will likely use telephones, bells or whistles.

There are three types of warning: The Alert; Take Cover; and the All Clear.

The Alert — a steady note on the sirens for three minutes or more; this means that an attack is possible or that radioactive fallout from an attack elsewhere is expected. What to do — turn on your radio and while one member of the family listens for instructions, the others should proceed with household preparations.

Take Cover — a rising and falling note for three minutes or more; this means that there is danger of an immediate attack in your area. Everyone should take cover immediately and if not already operating, turn on your radio.

If there is not time to sound the Alert, the first signal may be the Take Cover.

The All Clear will be announced on the radio — the sirens will not be used. It is given when your area is expected to be free from radioactive fallout or attack for more than one hour.

There is an emergency broadcasting plan and all advice and instructions that you might hear over the radio are authoritative.

The following members of St. Peter's Sunday School were presented with a silver and enamel pin on Sunday morning, by the superintendent, Mrs. E. C. Irwin: Richard and Michael Delon, Diane and Elaine Deion, Irene and Ellen Young, Annette Young, Eddy and Owen Hankinson, Virginia Dahlgren and Mary Susan Sabine. The pins were awards for perfect attendance.

The monthly meeting of the Weymouth Garden Club was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw with a good attendance. An informal discussion on roses was held, led by Rev. Father Comeau, who read excerpts on growing roses. Following the discussion, a questionnaire on roses was passed out to be answered, and answers were compared and discussed following the completion of these. It was decided to attend the Regional Flower Club meeting in Meteghan, in April, instead of having the regular meeting.

W.A. MEETS

The W.A. of St. Peter's Parish held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. A. E. Adelaar on Wednesday, with president, Mrs. John Shaw in the chair. After the reading of the minutes and treasurer's report, a letter was read from the Mission in Endeavour, Sask., telling of the work being done there, and thanking the W.A. for the bales sent there this Christmas. Mrs. Blanchard Grant was appointed Courier reporter for Weymouth North, and $50 was voted to the appointment fund. Miss Constance Carr, gave a short study period and discussion of the mission book. The Light of the World. Following this refreshments were served by the hostess, for the day.

AN EARLY SPRING

Mr. Hugh Sarty, Port Wade, has reported finding tadpoles in a frozen spring-fed pond, which he cuts daily for water for cattle. These tadpoles, not quite their natural color, black, have been viewed with interest during the past several weeks.

occurred, clearing the snow in the woods for Hicks Company to load trucks. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Many Readers At Library

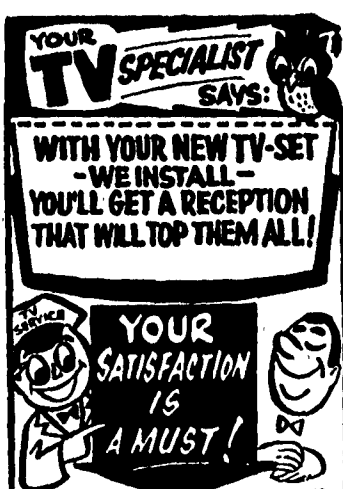

The library at Weymouth North which is sponsored by Miss Constance Carr, is proving to be most successful with a circulation now of over 2000 books. Readers are increasing in number to such an extent that the room is usually filled to capacity on Thursday afternoons. Help in keeping the books filed is being supplied by Miss Frances Lent, Mrs. Edgar March and Mrs. Blanchard Grant. It is of interest to note the groups of young readers who return week after week for books. The sole financial support depends on fines on overdue books. To date most of the books have been donated by interested people and great credit goes to Miss Carr and all concerned, for the worthwhile service which is being provided in the community.

OUR STORE

Dad has a store and he has just about everything in it. First we start with food. Meat, fish, potatoes, vegetables, fruit, milk, cream, butter, cheese, eggs, bread, candy, cereals, flour, sugar, spices, flavourings. We also have some dry goods, footwear, rubber boots, all sorts of soap and soap powders.

Sometimes I help to fill the potato bags and I help Dad fill the shelves. I also deliver some groceries to the ladies that can't come out. I think I will be a store man when I grow up.

THE BOTTLE OF MILK

One day when a girl called Frances was sent to the store to buy a bottle of milk something very unusual happened. On her way to the store, it started to snow. She got the bottle of milk, paid for it and started to go home, left an icy road. Soon the bottle of milk began to speak. This is what it said, "Do not slip and fall for you will break me and you can not get another one to replace me." Frances did her best, but she slipped and broke the bottle. She went back to the store, but as the bottle had said she could not replace it and it was right.

Taking Your Medicine Seriously

Ever wake up, or at least about half awake, in the night with a splitting headache, or a pain in the tummy? and stumble into the bathroom and reach for a bottle in the medicine cabinet? and gulp down a pill or two, or a spoonful of medicine.

Sure, all of us have, and we are really risking serious trouble in taking medicine carelessly. As the American Medical Association points out, the medicine you are taking was prescribed for by your physician and he included careful and specific orders as to how to take it.

The Health League of Canada endorses the American Medical Association's simple rules for taking medicine which can help to avoid an accident that may make your discomfort a lot worse:

1. Never take medicine in the dark. You should be certain you can see the bottle or pill box, to make certain it's the right one.

2. Read the directions carefully before taking. Those directions are there because they're needed.

3. Don't increase the dose or take it more often than directed without checking your doctor.

4. If the label says "Shake before using", it means what it says. Shake it.

5. Don't take medicine prescribed for someone else. Just because it helped your husband's cough doesn't mean it's right for you.

6. Keep medicines out of reach of children. Some of the children's medicines today taste good, and the kids may eat them like candy. The small child who is rushed to the hospital after eating a whole bottle of sugar-coated aspirin tablets is an all too common occurrence these days.

7. Put the cap back on the bottle. Some medicines change strength if exposed to air too long.

8. Keep the medicine in its original box. Shifting sleeping pills into an aspirin bottle, for instance, could produce dire effects for someone else in the family.

Salmon & Cheese Sure To Please

Salmon Noodle Supper is a sparkling idea, proof that casserole dishes needn't fall short in the areas of good flavor and substantial eating qualities. It's an interesting combination of noodles, canned salmon and cottage cheese, tastefully seasoned and blended together with cream of mushroom soup.

Salmon Noodle Supper
2 cups canned salmon (one 1 lb. can)
2 cups cooked noodles
1 ten-ounce can cream of mushroom soup
¼ cup finely chopped dill pickles
½ teaspoon garlic, onion or celery salt
2 cups cottage cheese
Paprika

Flake, but don't drain the salmon. Lightly mix with noodles, undiluted soup, chopped pickles, garlic or other salt and one cup of the cottage cheese. Place in greased 8-cup casserole. Season to taste remaining cup of cottage cheese; spread on top of salmon mixture. Sprinkle generously with paprika. Bake about 45 minutes in preheated moderately slow oven, 325 deg. F. Makes about 6 servings.

Vegetable Variety

It isn't always necessary to concentrate on the main dish of a meal in order to perk up the menu. Quite often the same effect can be achieved quite easily by varying the accompanying dishes. The recipe below for Scalloped Tomatoes and Corn is a case in point.

This hearty vegetable casserole is made from canned kernel corn and tomatoes, seasoned with basil and onions. Fried bread cubes are used to thicken the mixture. The combination of soft tomatoes and firm corn provides both interesting texture and color contrasts. This casserole would make an interesting accompaniment for any number of main course dishes, such as broiled steak, sausages or fish.

Scalloped Tomatoes & Corn
2 cups diced rather stale bread
3 tablespoons butter or margarine, heated
1 can (approx. 14 ounces) kernel corn
1 can (20 ounces) tomatoes
¼ teaspoon dried basil
2 teaspoons granulated sugar
1 tablespoon grated onion
Yield — about 6 servings.
Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. (moderate).

Fry the bread cubes in the 3 tablespoons heated butter or margarine, stirring often, until crisp and golden. Drain corn and turn it into a 6-cup casserole; add tomatoes, basil, sugar, grated onion and 1 cup of the fried bread cubes; mix well. Sprinkle with remaining fried bread cubes.

Bake, uncovered, in preheated oven 45 to 50 minutes.

Muffins For Munching

Of all the varieties of quick breads there are, muffins take the least amount of time and are the easiest to make. For this reason, many women like to mix up a batch of muffins each morning. They add a dressier air to the breakfast table than toast, and they can also be served in lieu of bread rolls with soup or a main course, or with honey or syrup as a dessert.

As well as fitting into the menu at any time of day, muffins are also wonderful for munching and if they're as nutritious as his recipe for Graham Muffins, you won't mind it if the kiddies grab a few extra to eat with their after-four milk, or as a bedtime snack. As their name indicates, these muffins use graham, as well as white flour, and a hint of molasses can be detected in the flavor. Just before the batter is poured into the muffin tins, a few raisins are sprinkled on the bottom of each cup.

Graham Muffins
¼ cup seedless raisins
1 cup once-sifted graham flour
½ cup once-sifted all-purpose or pastry flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon brown sugar
1 well-beaten egg
2 tablespoons molasses
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons shortening, melted
Grease 12 average-sized muffin cups or line pans with paper liners. Drop a few raisins into each cup. Preheat oven to 375 deg. F. (moderately hot).

Sift together into a bowl, the graham flour, all-purpose or pastry flour, baking powder, salt and brown sugar. Combine well-beaten egg, molasses, milk and melted shortening. Make a well in dry ingredients, add liquids. Stir just until dry ingredients are moistened — the mixture should be lumpy. Two-thirds fill prepared muffin cups with batter. Bake the muffins in preheated oven 15 to 18 minutes. Serve warm with butter or margarine.

Cutting Calories

On an article called "What to eat to be healthy" Doctor Elizabeth Chan Robertson suggests that the only reason you are gaining weight except in rare cases is because you are eating too much for your needs.

One good way to keep your weight down, Doctor Robertson suggests, is to go easy on sweet deserts, a little raw fruit or dietetic canned fruit which contains no sugar make good low calorie deserts. If you are served some ordinary canned fruit, eat the fruit and leave the juice behind. When you do that you only get half the calorie from the serving.

All the raw, frozen, canned or cooked vegetables, except sweet potatoes and avocados (which are dried) have between 80 to 90 per cent water in them, provided you don't cook them in fat. If you do, they soak up a lot of fat and lose a lot of water.

Lean meat is fine in lower calorie diets. If you buy lean beef, lamb or pork and cut off all the fat you can get, you cut the calories in half.

Broiling is a good way to cook meat for calorie watchers and they should forswear gravy and batter and dressing.

Skim milk has just as much calcium, riboflavin and protein as whole milk but just half its calories. It's especially useful when you are cutting down on calories because it helps to keep you from feeling weak and hungry between meals.

How about cheese for calories? Cheese is much like concentrated milk. As you'd expect the very moist cheese like cottage or cream cheeses aren't so concentrated as the firmer ones. Our ordinary firm cheeses, like cheddar and the numerous processed ones are all 1 to 1½ fat so naturally they are rather high in calories.

Fortunately you can buy skim milk processed cheese. They usually contain about half the number of calories of the ordinary process cheeses, and they are just as good in the important calcium, riboflavin and protein.

How about bread, rolls, cakes, biscuits, pies and that sort of thing? You really don't need them and can cut them away down if you are watching your weight.

The foods mostly made of sugar, like candies, syrup, honey, jam, marmalade and soft drinks all add a lot of calories.

Letters to the Editor

Weymouth North, N.S.
March 6th, 1962.

To the Editor,
Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.
Dear Madam:

It seems wise to ask the customer about closing hours in Digby, but perhaps one not living in Digby should not voice an opinion. However, it can be annoying to drive to Digby on a Wednesday or on a Saturday and find just the shop you wanted to go to closed, and never knowing who closes when, as at present.

From the tourist point of view, Saturday afternoon closing is what is expected, but a Wednesday closing comes as a shock and an annoyance, but if the merchants decide to close on Wednesday afternoon all should close on Wednesday, not half and half, with the possible exception of having one Drug Store open operating in rotation as do garages on holidays.

It does not take long to get accustomed to regularity, but an irregular schedule for store closing is irritation to the customer and poor business for the store.

Very truly yours,
C. M. Carr.

Port Wade

Mrs. Vandora White, Granville Ferry, is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Archie McGrath and Mr. McGrath.

Heartfelt sympathy is extended to all the family and friends of the late Mrs. Dorothy (Haley) Thompson of Saugus, Mass. Mrs. Thompson was formerly from this part of the country.

The many friends of Rev. Claude Olmstead, now minister at Kempville, Yarmouth Co., will be pleased to learn he is enjoying good health. He had been a patient at the V. G. Hospital, Halifax, and after a bout with his right eye, is now able to see again, and plans to resume his duties after Easter. Rev. Olmstead was minister here for some years, and spends his vacation here.

A box was packed by the Red Cross Workers to be put on display in Dargie's Store window for Red Cross Week. It consisted of 2 large quilts, 1 crib quilt, 5 prs. mitts, 7 prs. socks and 2 sweaters. Many residents of the community have been ill with flu, but this week everything seems to be on a better trend, and probably the flu is waning.

Mrs. Norman Rogers, Bedford, has been in her home, and with the exception of a few days back in Halifax will be again with us.

Mrs. Archie McGrath spent a weekend in Yarmouth with her daughter, Miss Rena McGrath, R.N. We are glad to report Rena getting along fine. She had injured her knee in an accident, but she is again at her duties in the hospital.

land link which the people of the islands of Digby Neck have with the mainland of Nova Scotia, and over it must pass all the produce of the islands, amounting to millions of pounds of fish annually. Over this highway must also pass all the commodities used by the island people, including fuel for their homes, their cars and their trucks.

This highway, Mr. Speaker, is broken in two places, first at Petite Passage between the mainland and Long Island, and again at Grand Passage, between Long and Briar Islands. Fish producers on the islands must ferry practically all of their produce across either one or both of these passages to get to mainland markets. They are dependent on tide and weather and upon a ferry service which, though modernized somewhat in recent years, is still totally inadequate for present-day needs. The service, Sir, consists of a system of open scows towed by motor boats, and it is often held up by bad weather which can last for days. These delays in getting perishable fish products to market not only increases holding costs but often results in spoilage that means expensive loss to the producers.

I would therefore urge, Mr. Speaker, that the government take immediate steps toward the provision of a permanent type crossing, either by bridge or causeway, across Petite Passage, and a more adequate and modern ferry system for Grand Passage. While I realize the provision of a bridge or causeway for Petite Passage is something that cannot be accomplished overnight; that it is something that requires study and appraisal, not only for the provision of the best

A number of women from the Baptist Circle met at the apartment of Mrs. Leland Marshall on Wednesday of last week and spent the day quilting. A delicious sauerkraut dinner was enjoyed by all. Afternoon tea was served to those who came later in the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Alcorn have arrived home after spending two months in Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Harley McCormick, Marshalltown, and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Ruggles, Bear River, were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl McCormick on Friday.

Mrs. Clinton Miller returned home on Friday after visiting her sons and daughter, in the U.S.A. for several weeks.

Dr. Cherry of Wolfville, was a guest on Sunday of Mrs. J. L. Warren and Miss Mabel Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. David Miller and young daughter, of Berwick, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller.

Ladies Circle met at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Henshaw, on Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. Cherry Preaches At Bear River

The United Baptist Church had as speaker on Sunday, Dr. M. R. Cherry, of Acadia University. The morning message was taken from Romans, and entitled The Gospel and You. The gospel does not depend on man, it comes from God, and is for everyone who will believe, he said. The evening service opened with a sing. His text was taken from Romans 12:1 on the Purpose of God To bring men and women to him. All our troubles come from saying No to God, rather than Yes.

type of crossing but also for the protection of existing harbor facilities at East Ferry and Tiverton, so that the fishermen using these ports may still be able to do so; I do feel that the matter is of sufficient urgency, since it affects the survival of the fishing industry on the islands, to warrant that the government make an immediate start, perhaps in conjunction with Federal authorities, toward provision of such a crossing for Petite Passage in Digby County.

Speaking of the fishing industry, Sir, leads me to mention another need in my constituency created by changes that have occurred in that industry over the past few years. I refer to the present pattern in the industry which has brought about the processing of large quantities of fish in the smaller communities of my county, rather than in one central location, as was the case until a few years ago.

This has created a real problem in the fishing community of East Ferry, at the tip of the mainland section of Digby Neck, where some four fish plants are now processing hundreds of thousands of pounds of fish a month during certain seasons of the year. Most of this fish must be trucked into these plants for processing and out again to markets.

The only approach at present to these plants and the fishermen's wharf which adjoins them, is down a steep, winding road that is a menace to navigate at any time of the year, and sheer terror in the winter. It is practically an impossibility to maintain this present road and I know that thousands of dollars have been expended in the attempt. I would therefore urge, Mr. Speaker, that a new road be created across the head of the beach to join Highway No. 17 near the head of the ferry wharf. I realize this will cost a good deal of money but I feel it will prove to be a very economic move as it will eliminate costly and ineffective efforts to maintain the present road and will lead to expansion of the fish processing firms which is now not possible due to present transportation problems.

I have commended the government that it has heeded some of the requests I made in this House for paving in my constituency, but I feel I must also comment on some failures which have occurred in carrying out this programme to the best advantage. I would refer to the fact that, in paying the road at Little River on Highway No. 17, the paving was only carried to a certain point, when only a short distance more — a fifth of a mile or less — would have taken it to the head of the fishermen's wharf, providing a paved road for the trucking of fish, salt and other commodities from the fish firms and the wharf. At Sandy Cove, on Highway No. 17, the side road leading to St. Mary's Bay was paved, while the road leading to the Bay of Fundy on the other side of Highway 17, was left unpaved. This road, less than a mile long, serves the lobster and weir fishermen on the Bay of Fundy side and leads also to the famed Sandy Cove beach, much used by tourists and often photographed by the tourist department of this government.

I cannot understand why these roads and others I could mention, such as the road off No. 17 to Gulliver's Cove, were not paved while the equipment was right in the area. It seems to me poor economy to leave them undone and I hope this lack will be remedied at the earliest possible moment.

Speaking of highways, Mr. Speaker, leads me to mention another road in my constituency that I feel should and must receive early attention from the Highways Department. I refer to the road, known as the Shore Road, leading from the Town of Digby along the shores of Digby Basin to the Point Prim lighthouse. In years past, this road was one of the most beautiful scenic drives in the vicinity of Digby. Today, the road has so far deteriorated, that only the most intrepid local motorist dares traverse its length, and for visitors, unaware of its condition, any attempt to drive along it would send them scurrying for home and safety.

The road connects with the lighthouse road and provides a very beautiful circular drive, about twelve miles in total length from Digby to the scenic Point Prim Light and back. I would most strongly urge, Mr. Speaker, that the job of bringing this road up to standard and restoring it as a safe, scenic drive, be carried out as soon as possible. We speak of the tourist industry and efforts to develop it — restoration of this Shore Road near Digby would go a long way toward providing our visitors and local people, who enjoy our magnificent scenery in the Western part of the province.

I do not intend, at this time, to speak of any of the other highway needs of my constituency such as the Culloden Road, the Sissiboo Road and so on, but I assure you, Sir, that I will bring them to the attention of this House later in the session, perhaps during the discussion of Highway Estimates. Before I leave the subject of highways, however, there is one other matter that I wish to refer to. That is the matter of Route No. 1, the Valley route, which passes through my constituency. I was sorry indeed not to hear any mention of bridges in the Speech from the Throne, and I feel this must have been an oversight as there are several bridges on Highway No. 1 that should be receiving early attention. One of these was mentioned last year by the Member from Hants West, the Windsor bridge. Two others are in my constituency. I refer, first of all, to the bridge in the village of Weymouth which is narrow and shaky and constitutes a bottleneck and traffic hazard. This bridge should be replaced by a modern, wide traffic bridge. While this is being done, the highway through Weymouth village should be widened so that the congestion that now impedes through traffic is eliminated. The second bridge to which I would refer is only partly in my constituency — the Victoria Bridge that spans the mouth of the Bear River. This bridge needs attention and should be replaced by a modern, two-lane structure. Speaking of the Victoria Bridge leads me to mention that section of highway just West of that bridge. This piece of highway is reminiscent of a roller coaster in an amusement park, with its sharp ups and downs and blind curves. This is a section of highway that should be eliminated and replaced, in the interests of safety. The water side edges of the road in this area are showing increasing signs of wear, and I feel early action should be taken to relocate this piece of road to eliminate the dangerous hills and curves which are the bane of every driver who passes through that area. Changes in the location of this highway should be made to conform with plans for replacement of the Victoria bridge.

Mr. Purdy stated emphatically that if we can remedy this defect in the reading level, it will be possible to get students back so that they can make a good achievement in the normal school programme. This year we have inaugurated a guided reading programme in the junior grades and hope to extend on to next year and through this program we hope to raise the reading of this group so that they will be able to make normal school pro-

Next week the guest speaker at the Kiwanis supper will be Mr. R. Baden Powell, and he will address the group on Community Pasture Discussed

At the second meeting of the Neighbourhood Study Group held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thebert Bear, Bear River, on Monday night, one of the subjects discussed was the possibility of establishing a community pasture on the St. Mary's Bay marsh. This would be on a mossy spot unsuitable for cultivation. Another idea for community pasturage was on abandoned farms near the marsh. Lack of good pasturage was discussed earlier in the evening and it was felt that having good pasture available would make a difference in the beef picture for farmers.

The pasture discussion arose from another discussion on possibility of a supply contract with H.M.C.S. Cornwallis.
Factors limiting increased beef production for this purpose mentioned were lack of capital, barn space, good hay, high cost of establishing good hay on hills and lack of pasture.

Another matter discussed was on weather recording devices in Digby County. The 1961 Crop Variety Guide was obtained from the Kentville Experimental Station and six further copies ordered for home use. Copies of the latest spray calendar were also ordered.

The study courses are sponsored by the Digby County Federation of Agriculture. The next Neighbourhood Study session for the community will be held at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. Chipman Chisholm.

daily tasks.

Day of Prayer were Mrs. Ruth son, Mrs. Helen Campbell,

Mrs. Jane Shaw, Mrs. Bessie

Tossing Bottles Interesting Study

Tossing bottles into the ocean has become a hobby with Edmund Woodman, Saint John, N. B., formerly of Conway, Digby Co. Last week when visiting in Digby, Mr. Woodman entertained several of his friends by telling them of life in the Northland where, within ten minutes one can witness a sunset and a sunrise. He told of the structure of the homes with their roofs of walrus bones and bones of other northland animals.

A hobby with Mr. Woodman is tossing bottles into the sea to study ocean currents. Of 24 tossed over three have been returned. At 5:30 p.m. on Aug. 4, 1960, he put over a bottle from the coast of Labrador. It was found by Andie Enault, Quiberon, France on July 16, 1961. Mr. Woodman offers $5. to the person returning the bottle.

Church Gets $1000 Legacy

At a special meeting of the congregation of the Baptist Church of Digby, held last Sunday morning following the worship service, it was announced that the church was the beneficiary of the sum of $1,000 from the estate of the late Mrs. L. H. Morse. The members authorized the Board of Trustees to invest the amount on behalf of the church, and the receipts there from to be applied to current account.

A report from the Executive Committee of the church, brought in a recommendation that an invitation be extended to the Digby-Annapolis Baptist Association which convenes on May 22nd and 23rd, to meet in the Baptist Church of Digby. The report was unanimously adopted. The Executive also reported the appointment of a Planning Committee to advise with the Trustees on necessary improvements to church property. The Committee will also do some long range planning.

The monthly meeting of the Baptist Youth Fellowship was held on Wednesday night with a good attendance. The devotional service was taken by the Senior group. A talk on Youth and the Church, accompanied by a filmstrip, was given by the pastor. Next Sunday night will again see the young people taking charge of the Sunday evening worship service.

Freak Cucumber

It was picked September 1st, 1961, but it is as green looking today practically as when picked, maybe a bit spongy to the touch.

Such was the cucumber brought to the Courier and which had come from the garden of Mrs. Clyde Mullen, New Tuskot. Weight of the cucumber was 2 lbs., 13 oz. Length 11 1/2 in. Width, 2 1/2 in. Just according to the way you look at it, for the cucumber (or cucumber) were siamese twins, each more than eight inches in circumference.

Pack Attacks Lone Dog

A beagle rabbit dog, owned by Charles Hall, Warwick St., was attacked and badly injured on Sunday night by a pack of six stray dogs which have the habit of roaming the streets. The attack was near Mr. Hall's home. Wounds over the shoulders of the dog lay wide open and other injuries are also to be found on the beagle. Veterinary care, it is thought, will restore the dog again.

But, what if the injury had been done to a child? According to reports the dogs follow the children to school. And according to reports they are not the kindest of dogs. So far, the children have not been bitten by these roaming dogs, but, we do not always know the way of a dog.

There are town laws about roaming dogs, but, laws or no laws, aren't dog owners responsible enough people to see that their dogs are kept at home? One roaming dog is enough menace, but when they roam in packs it could be a bit dangerous not only for the helpless lone dog but also for children travelling the streets.

Find Missing Men

Two Westport men, reported missing when they didn't return to port Saturday, were found Sunday at 11:15 a.m. by Air & Sea rescue plane.

Franklin Gower and Peg Watkins, travelling in M. V. Nat-Wen-Ann, failing to return Saturday as expected, gave the men of the village to think something had happened. Mr. E. Frost in his boat, Ruth Lillian II, left port at 11 p.m. Saturday night, made a circle of Brier Island, failing to find any trace of the boat.

Due to lack of Fisheries Patrol Boat in the area, several of the local boats left in search of the missing boat—Dena, Art and Edgie Titus; Patricia Louise, George Garon, and Danny & Penny. Daniel Kenney, The Air & Sea rescue plane, was called and was seen on the way to aid in the search.

At 11:15 a.m. Sunday morning the plane sighted the boat five miles from Lurcher Light Ship, not far from the Denny & Penny, which was closer than the other boats, and circled the Nat-Wen-Ann until the latter arrived. Around 2 p.m. Sunday the disabled boat was taken in tow and arrived in Westport around 6 p.m.

Both men were in good condition, but spent a sleepless night, being on watch for larger ships that sail up and down the Bay of Fundy. They had been drifting since Saturday afternoon 3 p.m. until Sunday at 2 p.m.

Letters to the Editor

Port Maitland, N. S., March 19th, 1962.

Editor, Digby Courier.

Sir or Madam:

Would you please give space in your paper for the following letter.

For some years past I have been tracing the Sabean, Sabian, Sabai families in Nova Scotia. My attempt has been to trace each family back to the original Jeremiah, who settled at Weymouth Point in 1766.

I met difficulty in tracing the family that lived at Ashmore Digby Co., N. S. I easily traced back to William (commonly called Billy) Henry and Joseph, who I have been informed, were brothers. But who was their father? No one as yet has been able to tell me his name.

If anyone could give me this information I should be much pleased. Also, if anyone has any old records of any kind relating to the Sabean family, he would favor me greatly by letting me know.

Yours truly,

H. C. Mullen.

Weymouth, N. S., March 18, 1962.

Editor of Digby Courier, Digby, N. S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

I just want to tell how much we housewives of Weymouth appreciate having some Weymouth advertising in the Courier, especially a grocery store ad. Until now we have scanned the Digby ads. and wished we lived a little closer in order to be able to get some of the "specials" that were noted. Perhaps the stores here do have "specials", but unless we know about them, how can we avail ourselves of them.

Our grocery stores here have excellent varieties and I think their prices compare favorably with other areas - however, we housewives do dearly love a bargain, and I think others will agree with me that we would all appreciate seeing more local advertising in the Courier.

Thank you for your space.

Sincerely,

A Thrifty Housewife.

In The Legislature

(Remarks of Victor G. Cardoza, M.L.A., Digby, made during the Throne Speech Debate, Wed., March 20, 1962.)

I have been talking a good deal about transportation, and there is one other matter in this connection to which I want to draw your attention. I refer to the proposed replacement of the CPS Princess Helene, by a modern, new car ferry. I was disappointed to hear that no further word has been heard from the CPR in this matter, and I earnestly hope that this does not mean the project has been shelved. I feel that this is a matter that affects, not only my own constituency, but the whole of Nova Scotia. For many years, Mr. Speaker, the port of Digby has been one of the three points of entry for tourists coming into Nova Scotia, and many millions of dollars have been funnelled into the economy of this province through this port. Over the years, the CPR has done an excellent job in handling both tourist, commercial and industrial traffic through the port of Digby. Changes in transportation, however, have brought the need for a new and different type of facility to serve the Bay of Fundy crossing than the faithful Princess Helene. The need now is for a modern car ferry that will carry trucks and trailers as well as passengers and cars. There is need also for more than the once-a-day service now being provided. The Digby Trade Board and other trade boards in the province have been exerting every effort to have the CPR establish such a new service. It is my sincere hope that these efforts will eventually bring the desired results and I urge upon this government their co-operation and active participation in the efforts that are being made. Provision of such a service, Mr. Speaker, would mean a real shot in the arm to the economy of the Western part of the province particularly, and it most certainly is needed.

Reference to the Saint John to Digby service leads me naturally to comment on proposals from Gloucester, Mass., concerning a ferry service into Nova Scotia. It is certainly to be hoped that the Government of Nova Scotia, when considering possible terminal sites for this proposed service in his province, will not overlook the advantages that the port of Digby holds in this connection.

A few moments ago I mentioned economy, and this leads me to discuss this now. I am indeed sorry that I cannot report that our economy in Western Nova Scotia, and particularly the district of Digby, is booming. In fact, I am afraid that the reverse is rather more true. Admittedly there has been some shipment of pulpwood through the ports of Digby and Weymouth this winter, and this has provided work for a number. The mistake ridden Salsiboo project also provided a temporary labour market. However, a more solid foundation of industry and development is needed to provide employment for a wider range of people. Not everyone, Mr. Speaker, can be hewers of wood and haulers of water.

More industry of a permanent type, offering year round employment in Nova Scotia, and particularly the district I represent, is a great need. I feel the recent establishment of manufacturing plants in Annapolis and Kings counties may attract the attention of other industrial concerns to the potential we have in Western Nova Scotia for industrial and manufacturing plants, and I sincerely hope that the government, through its Trade and Industry Department, and through Industrial Estates Limited, will take advantage of this to encourage any such industry to establish here. It would seem to me that this is the sort of challenge that this department and Industrial Estates should meet. It may be a comparatively easy thing to get an industry to locate in an already industrialized area such as Dartmouth and Halifax, but to get an industry to establish where the ground is relatively unbroken, even though the resources and advantages might even surpass the already industrialized area, may be a tougher job. It is, in my opinion, however, one of the tasks to which the Trade and Industry Department and Industrial Estates should dedicate itself, in co-operation with local governments and the Federal Authority. In order to induce industry to locate in areas of chronic unemployment, concessions are needed. It is my opinion that the Department of Trade and Industry and Industrial Estates, should carry out a research programme in all areas of chronic unemployment in the province, to determine what industries might be best suited to what areas; what capital assistance would be required to finance those industries; what material and financial resources are available locally; what labour resources, skilled and unskilled, are available and what concessions local authorities are prepared to make. This information would then be available to the Department and Industrial Estates for prospective industries, in order to help induce them to locate or expand in those areas.

The premier said the other evening that the main function of Industrial Estates is not to assist but to induce industry to locate and expand in Nova Scotia. He said further, in effect, that it did not matter how wealthy an industrial concern might be, or whether it was local or out of the province, Industrial Estates would, under the Premier's interpretation of its aims, build it a plant in order to induce it to locate or expand in Nova Scotia.

I find it rather difficult to square off this philosophy of the Premier's as expressed Monday night, with the response he gave me when I spoke of the need for industry in my constituency of Digby here last year. At that time, as recorded in Hansard, page 513, the Premier said:

"We are prepared, Sir, to help in the establishment of other industries in the district of Digby, such for example as the box factory that was recently closed. And let me say this, Sir, perhaps some of the comfortable people in the district might sell some of their bank stock and their government bonds and try to start some industry in the district." I would like to know if the Premier has made any direct approach to the people who he claims have these bonds and bank stock in an effort to help them or interest them in starting any industry. What contact, if any, has he had with the owners of the closed box plant in any effort to assist in the re-establishment of this industry. Surely, if the government is as anxious to get industry going in Nova Scotia as the Premier claims, then they should have long since been working on the job of getting the money which the Premier says is in Digby, involved in industrial development in the area.

So far as the industrial life of the district I represent is concerned, we have not had the sudden destruction of industry or the imminent threat of closure that has so dramatically pointed up difficulties in other areas of the province. In Digby, like in Guysborough, we have seen a gradual lessening of manufacturing in the area with a resultant decrease in job opportunities available. Our problem may not be so clearly visible as in some other areas, but it is a problem nevertheless and a growing one. I would say, Mr. Speaker, that the district of Digby could well be described in the eloquent terms used by the Honourable Member from Guysborough, when describing his own county here the other day. It is another of the "difficult areas" mentioned in the Throne Speech. Many of the people who previously were employed in the fish plants in Digby and in the lumber and box mill have now returned to their farm and woodland holdings, most of which are only marginal operations, and are trying to eke out a living from these and part time and seasonal employment when it can be found.

The resultant drop in the cash income of these people has had a serious effect on the commercial life of the area. It has meant that more and more people are finding it more and more difficult to meet the increasing municipal tax load, and more and more are finding it necessary to ask for aid to help them meet the cost of providing food, clothing and shelter. Mr. Speaker, I want to say here and now that the people of my constituency are not lazy, nor do they want to be beggars. Chronic unemployment, however, is taking its toll and people in the area, as in any area where this situation prevails, are becoming discouraged and depressed. Professor Cairncross pointed up this danger in his report on economic conditions in the Atlantic area.

While I have said, Mr. Speaker, that conditions in my area are not good, I do not want to create the impression that they are hopeless. It is my feeling that much can be done under government leadership to improve the economy of the area, and I now most urgently call upon the government to provide that much needed leadership and help. Digby municipality is for the most part a rural area, one in which the basic industries of fishing, farming and woods operations play an important part of life. The rural people of the district are anxious to improve their lot and only just recently demonstrated that interest through the holding of a series of meetings, leadership courses and community gatherings to discuss the area's economic plight and what might be done to help remedy it. I might say that, not only are the rural people of the area concerned and taking action, but they have been joined also by individuals and organizations, from the Town of Digby, who realize the rural economy must be strengthened and improved if the town is also to prosper. These organizations and individuals are working, not only to attract industry to the area, but also to improve the basic industries of the rural areas.

As an example of this, I would point out that the corporation of Trinity Anglican church in Digby recently made available to the provincial Department of Lands and Forests a 160 acre tract of woodland owned by the church for use as an experimental and demonstration woodlot management area. I sincerely trust the department will make full use of this to assist our woodlot owners in the conduct and management of their own lands.

I am pleased also to note that work has proceeded on the development of the marshland at the head of St. Mary's Bay in my constituency. I was disappointed that the Minister of Agriculture was not aware during the sitting of the House last year that the people involved in the local area had signed the necessary agreements many months previously, but I was glad that, after the House rose, he acknowledged his failure to properly check the records and set the wheels in motion to get the job done.

This marshland development can mean a great deal to the agricultural life of our area, but it must be accompanied by an intensified programme on the part of the Agricultural Department to make sure that, not only is this asset properly utilized, but the whole agricultural potential of the district more thoroughly exploited. Local people can only do so much on their own, they need and must also have technical assistance from the various government departments, leadership and the financial assistance that government can supply.

I was shocked to read in the recommendations of the Barneum concern that this outfit had recommended the elimination of the agricultural agent in Digby and Guysborough counties as well as other counties in the province. This seems to me like a very backward step and I am glad the government has not acted upon the recommendation. We have been told by a government official that we have some of the best land outdoors in Nova Scotia in Digby County. This, coupled with other factors, should be a real challenge to the Department of Agriculture, to see to it that nothing is left undone at their level, to see to it that this land and the other agricultural potentials of the area are developed so that the lot of the farmer in Digby is improved. It is my feeling that the ARDA programme could well be applied in Digby and holds real promise for the area, and I now urge upon the Minister, as I have previously done by letter, that the provisions of the ARDA programme be implemented in Digby County. I realize this programme requires a good measure of local participation and initiative and I feel that the rural people of my district are anxious and willing to co-operate and work with the government departments on such a programme. As I stated a few moments ago, country wide meetings of rural people have already been held to discuss the needs of the area and ways of meeting them. Study groups and leadership schools have also been held. What is now needed is the spark of leadership that can be provided by government to get a programme going that could be of real benefit to the area. Failure of the government to act now while the local soil is ready for planting could mean a lost opportunity for real progress in my area.

I was greatly impressed, the other day to hear the Member from Guysborough discuss the problems of his area, particularly those of the fishing industry, and I was impressed by his suggestion that the ARDA programme might be widened to include fisheries. I think this is a good suggestion. Here, at least is one Member of the government party who seems to have a real vision of the needs in this province. Perhaps he is the man who will be chosen as the new Minister of Economic Development, for none of the others on his side of the house seem to have the real vision needed for this job. In the rural areas of my district, many of the fishermen are also farmers and woodlot owners and their incomes are a result of a three fold operation. While I admit there is much to be said for increased attention to offshore fisheries in this province, I do not think we should discard entirely, as was suggested by the Premier, our inshore fisheries. It seems to me much could be done, particularly in my area, to develop a sound economy through three fold use of the fishing, farming and lumbering potential of the area. I would heartily endorse the suggestion made by the Member from Guysborough for the development of local fishery schools along the coastline, and I would go further to sug-

Marriages

Lewis — Carly

A pretty wedding took place on March 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the Digby Baptist Church, when Mary Louise, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Carly, Sandy Cove, was united in marriage to Ashton Timothy Jr., second son of Mr. and Mrs. Ashton Lewis Sr., Waterford.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ankle length dress of tiered tulle with a round neckline with Peter Pan collar. She wore a shoulder length veil which fell from a pearl trimmed headpiece, and carried a pink and white nosegay of mums and carnations. Miss Carol Carly, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, wearing yellow tulle taffeta. Her nosegay was yellow and white. Miss Susan Trask was bridesmaid, wearing pale green, flocked nylon over taffeta, with a yellow and white nosegay.

Anthony Lewis was his brother's best man, and ushers were Henry Lewis Jr., cousin of the groom and Hugh Trask. The bride's mother wore royal blue taffeta with white accessories and corsage of yellow mums. The groom's mother chose figured navy crepe with light blue accessories and corsage of yellow mums.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Herman Olsen and the soloist, M. J. Geria Wilson, sang Wedding Prayer, during the signing of the register.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Sandy Cove hall. The toast to the bride was proposed by her uncle, Mr. Kenneth Carly and responded to by the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Trask, Little River, sang two duets, "I Love You Truly", and "How Great Thou Art".

Miss Debby Hersey served the bridal party. Others serving were Miss Marsha Lewis, Miss Margaret Anne Gidney, Miss Sharon Morehouse. Replenishing were Mrs. Ernest McCullough, Mrs. Roy Stanton, Mrs. Robert Winchester, Mrs. Frank Jeffrey, and Mrs. Weldon Trask.

Following a brief honeymoon the groom, a member of the Canadian Army, left to join his regiment which proceeded to Egypt for a tour of duty.

Ellis — Comeau

A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Mary's R. C. Church, Church Point, when Rev. Thomas Castonguay, of Saultneville united in marriage Miss Bernice Marie Comeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benoit Comeau, Church Point, and Arnold Joseph Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ellis of Port Maitland. It was a double ring ceremony.

The bride's father gave her a gift that research he carried out toward the development of an education programme for rural dwellers along the coastline of our province in a combination approach to living. This would require a programme involving the fisheries division of the Trade and Industry Department, the Department of Agriculture and Lands and Forests, but it would seem, to me like a very good thing, a programme that could bring real results of great benefit to the people of our coastal areas.

I think, Mr. Speaker, a new approach has got to be made to the problems of our province by the departments of government if we are to properly develop the potential that exists in Nova Scotia. Research and coordination is needed as well as a greater response to the challenge that must be faced. It is not enough to merely say our people must work harder, must be more productive and so on, there are many more problems that the people themselves alone cannot solve, that can only be solved and must be by government itself, if we are to prosper in this province. These problems will not be solved by a government that takes the attitude that seems to be that of the present Conservative government of this province, that they are doing all that can be done. I was shocked the other evening to hear the Premier dismiss the 12 point programme of the Liberal leader in this House by saying that it contained "no suggestion of merit" to the government of this province which would improve what we are trying to do. Complacency never solved anything, and a refusal to acknowledge merit in the ideas of others is a fatal defect.

JUST ONE OF THOSE DAYS

Have you ever had a particular day or night for that matter, that never went right? Jack found himself in this predicament on the opening night of the play, "Remember Me," in which he was playing the part of the young business man. The male players of the cast had been instructed to make use of the room to the left of the stage which was comparatively small for ten young actors. The ten boys would have to be constructed within three minutes and there was only one small cracked mirror, which hung suspended from a very dilapidated piece of wire on the end wall. Many shoes were still unlaced, hair uncombed, and makeup was yet to be put on. Everybody was quite discomfited, but of course the show was a great success because everyone made good use of the time element. Jack and the other nine players strutted off the stage in a glow of splendour, after two curtain calls, as despite the nervousness and seemingly disorganization just before the play, it had been an excellent performance.

HOW I GOT A CAT

(A True Story)

I was walking up the street when I saw some boys and a very small cat. They were pulling the cat's tail and slapping its face. It so happened that my brother John was near so I went and told him what was happening.

He was very angry and went to see if what I told him was true. It was true, and it wasn't very long before he came back. He had the cat with him.

He asked me if I would like to have the cat for a pet. I said "yes". I took it home and asked Dad if I might keep it. Dad said "no" at first. Then I told him the story and with a little coaxing he got around to saying yes. I was so happy I nearly jumped out of my shoes. After the cat became older Dad grew to like him very much. In fact he liked him so much that he taught him how to shake hands. Now the cat thinks he is smart. I do too.

Well there is not anything else interesting to tell at the moment, but when the cat learns more tricks I'll write again.

A DAY I WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER

The day I will always remember is the day I went to the circus. There I saw animals I had always dreamed of seeing. I saw an elephant weighing over five tons, tigers yawning wide, and even a baboon. I really had to crane my neck to see the giraffes' heads. There were beautiful ladies on flying trapezes swinging through the air so gracefully. While I was watching some little bears riding bicycles a vicious tiger escaped. I nearly fainted! Thank heavens he was tame!

A TRIP FOR NOTHING

One fine Sunday afternoon daddy decided we would go on a picnic. We all helped in the packing of the lunch and then we hopped into the car. Daddy said he knew a nice place for a picnic. On the way we enjoyed ourselves by singing songs and telling jokes. After we were on the road for about two hours, Mom asked dad how much farther we had to go. Just then dad realized he had taken the wrong road. We had to turn about and go back one mile. As soon as we arrived we got out of the car and looked around. Then we went to get the picnic basket out of the trunk of the car. There was a cry of dismay! The picnic basket wasn't there. The picnic we had looked forward to was a failure, and a bit of a disappointment.

BEAUTY IS THE DEW KISSED ROSE

Beauty is the dew kissed rose.
In morning light so soft and dim.
A breath of perfume found within,
Its velvety enclose.

Humility is the kneeling child
Head to clasped hands so tightly pressed,
Who softly begs with awe filled voice
That he, a sinner, might be blessed.

Virtue is found in maiden pure,
Chaste in her thinking and her acts,
Who never from life's narrow path
Of righteousness her foot retracts.

Goodness is found in lined hand
So old and workworn; yet it is Striving ever to aid mankind
'Til claimed by God as this?

Yet all these graces once were found in One,
Who with brave heart, filled with love,
Gave up His life, that we might have Eternal life above.

Dear Phyllis,

I felt I had to write you immediately to describe an exciting vacation I have just experienced.

As you know, our family went camping in a lovely but isolated clearing in some woods. I don't believe they have a name. The first night as we were putting up the tent, an elderly stranger pushed his way into the clearing.

"Hi yuh, folks", he greeted warmly. "Hope you'll enjoy yer stay. I mean I wouldn't wantcha to be skeered by that there 'ghost'. I guess that's what yuh'd call 'er."

Becoming extremely interested, we gathered around.

"Well", he began. "It's a long story. Y'see, once upon a time, Mr. MacDonald, over yonder there to Willer's Creek, had the beautifullest creature ever seen in this neck of the woods. It was a sleek black horse, an' it seems this here thing had a likin' to wander 'bout, mos'ly 'ere'n there."

An' one night he niver come back. Old Mr. MacDonald claims he searched high and low-nary a black horse sech as that 'round 'bouts. But jes' 'other night a white figure in the shape of a horse was seen gallopin' 'round, draggin' a chain. Judgin' by the noise, now not many folks hereabouts ain't superstitious or anythin', but even the mos' bravest man jes' shook like jelly in his boots."

The stranger rose, wheezing and choking.

"Jes' thought I'd tell yuh, sorta like a friendly warnin', yuh might say. You folks ain't skeered a'ready, is yuh? S'long."

Waving, he disappeared into the thick undergrowth, as quickly as he had come.

Stunned, we prepared to settle down for the night. I sensed a strange uneasiness among the group and saw Dad tie the flaps securely. However, we dozed off into a fitful sleep. Suddenly, I sat straight up in bed, icy chills running down my spine.

Had I imagined... no, there it was again! I tried to shrug it off, but I could still hear a thudding noise. Then, cold fear gripped me as a muffled clanking reached my alert ears. I sat there, paralysed, when a huge, dark form loomed around the walls of the tent. Dad stirred as I uttered a stifled scream. Immediately the rest awoke. In dumb silence I pointed a shaky finger. Calming down a bit, I noticed Dad had a queer expression on his face. What was he up to? He picked up his cap, crawled outside and filled the cap with pebbles. Shaking it, he said, "C'mon, boys, have some oats."

The horse, or 'ghost', as I preferred to call it, edged closer. Grabbing it, Dad began to pat it to calm its nerves. Dad's hands were coated with what appeared to be white wash.

We talked the rest of the night and took the horse to Mr. MacDonald next morning. An anxious, angry crowd followed. Turning the horse over to Mr. MacDonald, Dad said, "Explain this!"

Mr. MacDonald laughed feebly. "Aw, don't be mad, fellas. I jes' wanted a bit o' fun. I poured whitewash over mah horse an' fastened a chain to his leg. It was only a joke. The's all!"

Judging by the icy stares of the crowd, I doubted if Mr. MacDonald would be very popular for a while.

Considering the fact that it was a cruel way to treat an animal, we purchased the horse and named her "Nightmare". I think that's rather appropriate, don't you?

A WINTER'S DAY

The children can't wait,
Because it's so near.
And finally the time has come.

For the children to wake up and have their fun.
They go out and play,
And they play all day,
They laugh and jump and slide all the way.

An Original Assignment on the Topic of a Dignified, Aristocratic Car.

ROLLS

"Ah, my Rolls, my beautiful Rolls!" "Pardon me, sir, for taking the liberty, sir, but the parade doesn't start for half an hour." This last sentence, spoken by the mayor's Cockney maid maid seem strange. But I won't try to explain it now, and will tell you of the situation.

The first person mentioned was the mayor, not too unlike the average man of his status. He wasn't fat, but rather on the slimmish side. He did a good job for himself, with working at this or that, every once in a while.

He had one large extravagance, a 1941 Rolls-Royce, with all the trimmings that went with them in those days. Stately, and dignified capable of speeds unknown in this tiny hamlet from which he scratched his living. But, according to the rules that governed his life, fear mostly, the car was seldom pushed towards thirty miles per hour.

It was rather large at the back, coming to a point at the front, and built with the care usually given to Kings and Queens, and that sort of people, the grill, polished, distinct, and honourable; the windows, the intricate devices under the hood; the... and now it was time to go.

Nobly it moved out into the driveway. Now it joined the parade, imposing itself upon the public.

It was majestic! It was beautiful! All of it. The emblem, flashing and shining! The white walled tires, there for another purpose than just beauty design. The parade was grand, and the mayor led it all in his Rolls-Royce, until when the car was urged to go a little faster. The grill fell off! It punctured the tires. The automobile ricocheted off toward the fire engines which in turn flew in to Mrs. Wiggles' glass store. People fainted! And the mayor! he just stood, his majesty dethroned.

A TALL STORY ABOUT A RICH MAN

One day a rich man came to my garage. He wanted to buy a car. He paid seventy-eight thousand nine hundred and four dollars for an orange car. The next day he came back. This time he wanted to buy my house. He was a very rich man. The following Monday he came to my store. He wanted to buy my store and all the things in it but he couldn't find his money. He looked in his pockets but it was not in his pocket so he went back home but couldn't get into his house. He looked in his window and saw a very big giant in his house. He never came to my store again because the giant ate him up. The giant ate the orange car, the house and all the things in the house.

NATURE

Don't you think that Nature is the most amazing thing? How Winter follows Autumn, and Summer follows Spring?

How flowers, and leaves and berries grow
And many other things?

I think that Nature is by far the greatest mystery.
How birds can fly across the sky, and fish swim in the sea.

And how we can get honey from a little yellow bee.

How tiny flakes of white snow fall like crystal from the sky,
And raindrops fall like diamonds, so fast they seem to fly;

But Nature does so many things, I can but name a few.
I think they are wonderful, and I'm sure
That you do too.

SUNRISE

The world was in a blaze of glory as the sun rose that spring morning. The shadows were so long they seemed endless. A brilliant red crowned the round wooded hills, with a magnificent red ruby in the centre. A pink haze was cast over the surrounding country from the crown.

Then, like awakening from a dream, the sun had risen and a new day was off to a good start.

FRISKY
There he lies, so quiet and still.
It's almost as if he were ill.
But he's just tired and trying to sleep.
So please be quiet, don't make a peep!

He's black and white with a little brown.
His long thin tail wags up and down,
His lame hind leg moves in and out.

As he runs and jumps and plays about.
His soft brown eyes look sadly at me.
As he lies there so peacefully,
No, I wouldn't trade him for all the world.

For he has made me a happy girl!

Marsha Lewis,

MY WISH

My wish is that some day
To see the broadened, golden way.

Where dauntless men, and saints have trod.
A solitary, made by the hands of God.

A place made by the hands of God.
A place where angels' feet have trod.
Makes no difference what race, what color, or what name.

For in the sight of God, all men are the same.

Many thousands have gone there.
Millions more will go and go.
But, in this scared kingdom,
No man is Mr. So and So.

For in this place, apart from the rest,
No man but God shall reign.
Do, as you go, your very best,
It's easy to get there, so easy and plain.

THE HUNTER

In a thick wooded glen one wintry night,
A deep soft snow covered all objects in sight.
The little mouse peered boldly out,
As did his neighbors from round about.

The lynx, the pheasant, the owl, the hare,
Who was this strange creature who stalked forth there?

'Twas the hunter a hunting on that cold winter night.
Not a creature did move but stood stock still in fright.
He crept forth silently and did not realise
That he was watched in fear by many small eyes.

He saw not a creature for none stirred in their tracks;
And soon left the trail, for patience he lacks.

TOO VIVID AN IMAGINATION

Last night after sleeping peacefully in dreamland for a little while, I was suddenly awakened by my little brother who was crying at the window more loudly than I ever heard him cry before.

Wiping his tears and trying to calm him I asked him what was the matter. Keeping as close to me as he could and pointing with a shaky finger, he told me he had seen a ghost in the back yard.

When I looked out the window the only thing I saw was a small white birch tree bending in the wind. This I figured had caused all the rumpus. Soon after we went back to bed. Then I wondered what I would do if there was such a thing as a ghost in the yard, but I fell asleep too soon to solve my problem.

GETTING A BICYCLE

One day I went to town for mother in the car. I walked up and down the street when I got in there, I saw a bicycle in the window. It cost $26.00. I drove back home and told mother what I saw as I was walking home. I have $19.00 in the bank. If I only had seven more dollars I could buy it! I sold my toys and made five dollars, two more dollars and I would have the bicycle! Father had a big apple tree behind the house. Next morning I went out to pick the apples up. A man came along and offered me $2.00 for two pails of apples. I took it! I ran in the house to get my coat and money. I ran to town to pick up the bicycle. I drove the bicycle home and showed mother. She was pleased with it and I was too.

MY UNTIDY ROOM

I would hate to have any one gaze upon my untidy room. Each night my clothes are thrown rejected about the bureau like the discarded remains of Hurricane Carla.

My shoes are scattered about the floor like unorderly soldiers on the battlefield. Cosmetics and hair clamps are distributed on the window sills and over the floor. When the bright afternoon sun beams on his catastrophe-like scene, the tiny specks of dust appear frequently like powder on black material. Of course, at night I feel safe again when the darkness shields my disgraceful room.

I really should keep it tidy, but I am quite happy with my jumbled surroundings.

Gilda Kempton,
Grade 9S.

MY WISHES

I wish I were a bird. I would fly all the time.

I wish I were a fish. I would swim all round the world.

I wish I were an airplane. I would see all the world.

I wish I were a baby. I would not have to go to school until I was 5.

I wish I was a machine. I would be working all the time.

I wish I had a car. I would drive it all around the town.

I wish I had a store. I would sell a lot of groceries.

I wish I had a swimming pool. I would swim in it in the summer and skate on it in the winter.

I wish I had a desk. I would use it to write letters on.

I wish I had a dog. I would teach it tricks till he knew them well.

I wish I had a puppet. I would use it to have puppet shows.

NOW

Twenty years from now what will you be doing? Well, I agree it is a little hard to say, but I imagine that I will be a wife and mother with about six screaming little warriors dancing around me.

They will probably be saying, "Mommy, can I do it?" or "Mom, can I take the rocket as far as Mars? I'm taking Susie out to dinner." I'll be standing there in the middle of my push button kitchen, calm, cool and collected.

People nowadays would think probable that, this seemed quite unusual. Instead of waiting for my husband to come home from his office downtown I'll be waiting for him to come from Mars. It would be interesting to save these ideas for twenty years and then see what happens.

A WINTER NIGHT

The white flakes falling everywhere.
Chystal and bright like diamonds just found.
Covering everything that once was bare.

Never a sound in the pale moonlight.
Only now and then the stillness broke.

A wood creature listened and then took flight.
The danger known by all wood folk.

Later still that very night.
The wind blew strong and cold and mild.
It bent the trees with all its might.
Disturbing the rest of many a child.

DEEP BROOK

A pancake supper was held at the parish hall on Tuesday sponsored by the Parish of Clements.

The Neighboring Club met with Mrs. Roy Hicks on Wednesday evening.

OUR NEW WORLD
Monday morning when I woke up I looked out of my window and couldn't believe my eyes. A fierce wind was blowing the snow in every direction. It looked as if a huge white blanket was choking my whole neighbourhood.

I thought it would be a lucky day for me, because I wouldn't have to go to school. Unfortunately I was mistaken.

When I was walking to school the wind was stinging my whole body. It was a dreadful storm! While I was in school I couldn't keep my mind on my studies. It was too much on the fun I was going to have after I was out.

After long hours of waiting, the bell rang. I grabbed my books and raced out doors. The storm had calmed down by this time and I was playing in the snow before I knew it. When I was sliding, I had to stop and look at our new world. The snow clung to the trees as though frightened to leave, icicles hung in long, gleaming rows from the eaves of the house, and most of all weeping willows were bowing down in large numbers. Yes, our new world was unbelievable.

SNOW

Snow is like the spring showers.

That come in April, May and June.

It falls for hours in the morn. But generally stops by noon.

Snow is like the sea breeze. That sweeps the ocean shore. And we may thank our lucky stars.

It will snow for ever more.

That come in April, May and June.

It falls for hours in the morn. But generally stops by noon.

Snow is like the autumn leaves. That are swept along the ground.

And when the wind begins to blow, It makes a howling sound.

But snow in the wintertime. Is the commonest of all. And that is when we like to see.

The flakes begin to fall, Lynn Tuff,

SPRING BREEZE
(BREEZIE)

Spring Breeze or "Breezie" was born in a large boxstall one sunny spring day. Her mother "Golden Jewel" looked at her offspring and thought proudly how beautiful she was.

"Breezie" was a thoroughbred mare from the famous sire "Blue Banner". Her owner, Mrs. Stockholm, was soon showing her off to her friends and saying proudly, "Yes this will be the best jumping horse I have ever had! Just look at those legs!"

"Breezie" certainly would make a good jumping horse. You could tell this by looking at her good bone and leg structure and the intelligent young face.

After becoming older "Breezie" was broken to saddle and became very well behaved.

Later she was entered in the world steeplechase which she won easily. Having been entered in many races, all of which she won, she had built a fine reputation.

Then one day something happened. While cantering with her other playmates, "Breezie" stopped with a snort of surprise. She had smelled the scent of a cougar.

The cougar was on the hill above the drinking hole ready to spring on the back of a young colt. As the tawny cat jumped "Breezie" ran to the colt's aid. The cat was soon beaten off and the colt was alright, though "Breezie" had some bad cuts from the cat's claws. As she had been turned out to pasture, these cuts now swollen and infected, were not noticed until her owner came to see her.

She was very ill when she was taken back to her stable, and the horse doctor had been called. He said "Breezie" had little chance to live but he would do all he could to help.

"Breezie" became better but was no longer the jumper and spirited horse she had once been.

Her owner decided to sell her to Mr. Wallis, a well known horseman. Mr. Wallis became fond of "Breezie" and took good care of her. His daughter, Joyce loved "Breezie" and wanted "Breezie" for her own horse. So on Joyce's twelfth birthday "Breezie" was given to her. They went for long rides which they both enjoyed.

"Breezie's" days as a jumper were over but she had found a real friend in the little girl.

Home Improvement Loan

Maybe a loose shingle started it. Or worn-out weather stripping. Or a gnawing band of termites. Whatever it was, plugging a leak properly can be expensive—and, of course, the longer it's left, the more costly a repair becomes. This goes for peeling paint, crumbling concrete, and missing mortar too.

Yes, keeping a house in shape sometimes costs a lot of money, and occasionally it may cost more than you have on hand. What then? The answer may be a Scotiabank Home Improvement Loan... money you can borrow at low interest for repairs... or for extra bedrooms, a garage, a carport, modern heating, new and up-to-date plumbing—things that maintain or improve your home as an investment. Just call at your nearest branch of The Bank of Nova Scotia. See the manager. He will welcome the opportunity to discuss how a Scotiabank Home Improvement Loan can help you.

PROVINCE WILL ACQUIRE LANDS

The Provincial Government has made a commitment to the federal department of Northern Affairs that it would acquire lands required by the federal department for full development of the Port Royal Habitation property in Annapolis County, but it was known how rapidly the matter will be pursued, Premier Stanfield said. been some discussions with owners of property involved, aimed at preventing any inconvenience to them.

ISLAND QUEEN

In mid-afternoon interested and curious eyes were scanning the mouth of Digby Basin to see the "Island Queen" make her entrance. She made a short trip up the Annapolis Basin circling the buoy at HMCS Cornwallis, and glided toward Digby, where she will be anchored for the time being.

Her new owners plan to give her a real "spring housecleaning", renovate and redecorating job and she will be a familiar sight in the Annapolis Basin. Possible southern cruises are also in view.

The "Island Queen" has an interesting financial and legal "log". She was built in 1923 for an American millionaire valued at $219,000 and christened "Ramallah".

During the early 30's the yacht was a racing champion in the Bermuda races.

Capt. Archibald Publicover of Dublin Shore, Lun. Co. brought the yacht to Nova Scotia about 10 years ago.

Anchored at La Have where, like a forgotten dethroned queen, passers-by cast an uninterested eye on the once years.

famous luxury yacht and racer. Following Capt. Publicover's death 4 years ago, the "Island Queen" was purchased by the Island Trades Co. Ltd. and was taken to Chester to be refitted and then returned to La Have Island.

Suit was filed against the "Queen" by D. W. Larry McGrath of Sydney, for non-payment of labor and material when she was refitted at Chester. He did not appear at Court hearing held in Halifax and this chapter was an unfinished one.

In 1939 Sheriff D. J. Bourque seized the vessel for debts having been towed to Lunenburg harbour. A $2,000.00 customs bill of non-payment of duty when she was first brought to Canadian waters was also against her.

Sheriff Bourque consulted Halifax Law firm. An affidavit was presented to Mr. Justice Potter of Exchequer Court Admiralty Division. Sheriff Bourque was given an order to sell the vessel.

The "Queen", having had a "rough voyage" for several years, can look forward with her new owners, Smith and Purdy, to a much happier life on the ocean wave, we hope.

We are glad to welcome her to the Basin, a very fitting place near HMCS Cornwallis, and although she isn't the "Bounty", she will become, perhaps, as popular locally.

Following is a description of the trip from Lunenburg by Commander Smith.

We began this fantastic voyage in Lunenburg harbour. It was a clear, calm Saturday night.

On Saturday night the sky was clear and the wind and water were calm. It was then we cast off our lines from Zwickers landing in Lunenburg and proceeded to Digby. All through the night we struggled along at four knots. On Sunday morning we ended up off Liverpool. There was practically no wind at all but there was a heavy swell running. It was then that we decided to hoist the main sail. The mainsail was Marconi design and was spread between a seventy foot spar and a thirty foot boom. Later on during the day my father was hoisted up in the bosun's chair to the top of the main mast. When he reached the top he slipped a block and tackle onto one of the topstays. This block and tackle was used as a hal-yard for two jibs. It began to get dark as we neared East Pt. At East Pt. the wind began to pick up a little. It was dark when we came to Cape Sable. All went well until the swell began moving the huge boom back and forth. This boom was amazingly long and swung very low over the deck. The swells got bigger and the wind increased. Soon we found ourselves in a life and death struggle with the main sail. She broached to on us twice and when she did so the boom came crashing against the back stays weakening them considerably. During the night the topping lift for the boom unhooked and we found ourselves with about 1,000 sq. ft. of sail swinging wildly over the decks. The boom hit two nearby knocking them overboard. We tried to bring the boom inboard and put the topping lift back on but the topping lift had jammed and it became necessary to haul down the mainsail. Then the mainsail halyard jammed and we found ourselves in a predicament. Everyone could see that we had to cut the line holding the sail to the boom. We cut the line and after a struggle lashed the sail around the mast. All this time we had been going around in circles off Cape Sable.

Monday morning found us in the vicinity of the Tusket Islands. The engine was leaking oil badly from the valve gasket. To add to this we didn't have much oil left. We were in such desperation that we had to use the oil from the lubricating can. Without the engine we were lost. But suddenly on the horizon we sighted a fishing boat. We ran up to the bow and waved our arms madly in his direction. He must have sighted us for he came in our direction. When the boat came alongside we received the most delightful surprise I have ever had. It was a boat loaded to the gunwales with gasoline and oil for fishermen. We gladly paid him ten dollars and fifty cents for a case of oil.

Having replenished the oil and struggled through Schooner Passage against strong tides we made our way Monday night past Yarmouth and up St. Mary's Bay to Petite Passage, which we transited shortly after midnight. Tuesday found us off Digby Neck heading for Digby Gut. Unfortunately shortly after clearing Petite Passage a strong headwind picked up and we found ourselves struggling against a short choppy sea. In spite of this progress was made because of the strong tide running with us. At this stage we discovered the engine was again leaking oil and this time at a rate that would use up our supplies in 2 or 3 hours.

The seas increased and at last, because of the boat's plunging, one of the back stays carried away. To avoid losing the masts we were forced to turn about and run with the sea and wind. Unfortunately because of the tide little progress could be made. As a last attempt to make the Digby Gut we "jury rigged" the back stay and turned about for another attempt. This effort was shortly doomed to failure because the oil leak increased at such a rate it was obvious we would shortly lose the use of the engine.

Since we knew of no other shelter than Petite Passage we turned about once again and hoisted our two make-shift jibs and tried to run for safety. Progress was very slow because we could do no more than idle the engine. Our chances of reaching safety began to look rather slim as the tide was due to turn against us shortly and the seas had built up to the point they were starting to break over our stern.

At this stage help came from the fishermen at Centreville, who had been watching our progress, or lack of it, and to our immense relief a boat came bouncing out to inform us there was a breakwater alongside, since it happened to be nearly high tide.

Partly by being towed and partly by the use of our broken down engine we reached safety. There seems little doubt that the men of Centreville saved our boat and possibly our lives.

After making a landing their hospitality was nearly overwhelming. To the four exhausted members of the crew of the "Island Queen" Centreville looked something like paradise!

Letter to the Editor118 Arthur St.,
Truro, N. S.
March 13, 1962.The Editor,
The Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.

Dear Sir:

For some time now I have been collecting material and making a serious study of the appearance of unidentified flying objects in the Nova Scotia skies, and the "hockey stick" reported from the Digby area last weekend proves no exception.

However, under the circumstances, and this is merely a personal opinion, it appears rather difficult to explain this object away as a star, as has been suggested.

As an amateur astronomer, I certainly do not profess to be an expert on the subject, but I am sure the Digby area amateurs will agree in the number of years I have been pursuing this hobby. I have yet to see a star or planet flash red and green then turn upside down, as this object was reported to have done.

For this reason, would it be possible for your newspaper to afford me the opportunity to correspond with any who observed this or other unidentified flying objects.

Thanking you for any consideration given this request.

Sincerely,
Donald Lighthody.R.R. 3, Digby, N. S.
March 14, 1962.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

Delighted to have an opportunity to express my views on the store closing afternoon. Actually I don't mind which day they select if they would only agree on one. It's impossible to remember who, is open when!

Tourists during the summer are bewildered and displeased to find stores shut an afternoon during the middle of the week, whereas a Saturday afternoon closing is quite familiar to all. Gives the clerks a longer weekend too and after a late Friday closing they deserve it.

I should think for the sake of business that all the stores would stay open all week during July and August even if it's with fewer clerks.

Sincerely,
Annie Campbell.East Waldec

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robbins, of Halifax, and the latter's mother, Mrs. Clifford Morine, of Annapolis Royal, were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Robbins on Sunday.

ABVS Robert Moulton of the RCN, Halifax, spent the weekend at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert McKenzie and family, accompanied by Mrs. McKenzie's mother, Mrs. Guy Haight, motored to Halifax on Friday evening and spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stevenson and son, David.

After making a landing their hospitality was nearly overwhelming. To the four exhausted members of the crew of the "Island Queen" Centreville looked something like paradise!

Excellence In Education

The regular meeting of the Home & School Association of Digby Neck was held March 1st in the school auditorium with Mrs. Emdon Morehouse, the president, presiding.

Meeting opened with O Canada followed by the Home & School prayer, read by the president. A short sing song was enjoyed with Mrs. Bernard Denton at the piano.

Mrs. Nelson Merritt, adult education convener, welcomed Mr. Clinton McInnis, principal of Digby Regional High School, as guest speaker.

The theme of Education Week being Excellence in Education, Mr. McInnis stressed perfection in all that is done to further education. He went on to explain "streamlining" and how it was a benefit in the Digby Regional High School.

He said that no stigma was to be attached to a child if he were in an average or below average group, and neither should a child feel elated by being placed in a superior group, because it was only done to give each child the highest degree of help and to meet all individuals needs.

Every child is suited for a part in life and by streamlining they are better prepared to enter it.

He thought that three subjects should be taught to all groups, these being English, Mathematics, and an appreciation of fine arts.

Mr. McInnis said in closing that, through the good work of the children from this area the parents and teachers were highly praised.

A vote of thanks was exchanged.

Minor Hockey League Finals

Last Friday the final games of the Digby Minor Hockey League season were played. The Friday session was the second game of the two game total goal playoff series.

The Maple Leafs won the Paperweight Trophy on a total goal margin of 3-1. They went into Friday's game with a 3-0 margin over the Blue Devils. The Blue Devils won the game on Friday night with a single goal by P. MacIntyre (B. Patterson) but lost the series.

In the Pee Wee league, the Rangers and Bruins skated to a 1-1 tie in their final game.

The two game total goal margin of the first game win of 2-1. Friday night's scorers were Bruins' B. Raymond (G. Haynes) and for the Rangers D. VanTassell (B. Nickerson). The Rangers are therefore the Pee Wee league champions.

The Aces went into Friday's second final game trailing the Warriors 2-1. This fact was no deterrent to their hockey ability and they hit the Warriors.

All classrooms were open to the parents to converse with the teachers. A fine display of arts was put on by the children. Grade V again received the library book for the month, having the highest percentage of parents attending the meeting.

Meeting adjourned with the Queen. Refreshments were served by the conveners in charge.

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, MARCH 29, 1962

VOLUME LXXXVIII, No. 31

Music Festival Opened

The 12th Digby Music Festival, which opened on Monday morning, will conclude tonight when special numbers from the festival program will be used in a Festival Concert at the Digby Regional High School auditorium. The concert program tonight, it is understood, consists not only of outstanding performances in the festival but is designed to have numbers providing a varied and interesting program from solo numbers to choruses and instrumental items.

The festival was officially opened on Monday by Mayor V. L. Bent with a simple ceremony presided over by Rev. Lorne Nethercott, Weymouth, president. Mr. Bent said he hoped the Digby County Music Festival would remain non-competitive if possible. He reviewed the history from the time of its inception, it having been formed through the efforts of the Digby County Council Home and School, and said that the music festival movement is one of the outstanding cultural advances in our national life. He welcomed the adjudicator, Leonard Mayoh, Halifax, who had adjudicated festivals here in 1958 and 1959.

Again the family groups created much interest on Tuesday evening and were highly commended by the adjudicator. He recalled in 1959 that there were 18 numbers in the family group and credited the Digby County Festival for inaugurating this type of entry. He felt the idea should be fostered to include even more family participation.

On Monday evening Myfanwy Davies, Digby, and Benny Marshall, Hill Grove, were each heard in violin solos. Mr. Mayoh commented favorably on their presentations and said it was a healthy sign to see string instruments at a music festival. He said that ten or twelve players should be studying these instruments in places like Digby so that it would not be necessary to import players for symphony orchestras in Nova Scotia.

Other festival highlights were junior church and CGIT choirs directed by Mrs. R. H. Hughes, Grace United, Digby, and Mrs. K. M. Hankinson, St. Peter's Anglican, Weymouth, North. On Tuesday evening Grace United Brotherhood choir sang. This was the first time a men's choir had entered the festival. Also on Tuesday evening Grace United senior mixed choir was heard and a three part ladies' chorus. "Now This Day is Over" was sung.

Also featured throughout the two day festival were school choruses, piano solos and duets, vocal solos and singing games. The concert tonight will include something from each type.

Six Digby Men Get Awards

Fifty-six Maritime Tel. & Tel. Co. Ltd. drivers from all parts of Western Nova Scotia were officially recognized in Midleton on Thursday, March 22, when this Company held their annual presentation of Safe Driver awards.

The Safety Meeting was held in the Fire Hall under the chairmanship of the District Maintenance Supervisor, J. S. Waugh, and was attended by Mr. A. H. MacKinnon, General Plant Manager, Mr. J. H. The awards are presented as part of a continuing program of safe driving promotions carried out in cooperation with the National Safety Council, Inc. Eighteen of the drivers received nine year awards which is the maximum length of recognition given under this Plan although the accident-free records of many of these men extend much further. The records on which these awards are based date back only to the Company's adoption of the Plan in 1952.

The Company operates over 200 vehicles with 55 assigned to Western Nova Scotia. Award winners from the Digby area included: R. B. Bell, 9 year award; G. L. Hoare, 9 year award; M. J. Passage Survey Completed

According to information, engineers have recently completed a survey of the Passage to determine feasibility of constructing a causeway to link Long Island with the mainland. The study being continued and local residents, it is understood, are anxiously awaiting the results.

One of the biggest obstacles to a causeway, it is understood, are the heavy tides which rush through the Passage between the Bay of Fundy and St. Mary's Bay. It is reported, tentatively, that on the basis of current reports before federal government, there have been recommendations of a causeway with local entering both the Bay of Fundy and St. Mary's Bay.

The present conveyer motor ferry is considered by residents as most inadequate for present day needs. It is said that tourists visiting into the Digby Neck have been known to take onlook at the swirling water of Petite Passage — and it is said five car ferry — and back. Some fish shipped on the two islands maintain their conditions have delayed the ferry so long at times, fish spoiled on the way.

Travelling accommodation also considered unsatisfactory and time consuming for 1,500 people who live on Long Island and Brier Island by whom it is necessary to make frequent trips to mainland.

Trinity Evening Guild meet in the parish hall Friday at 8 p.m.

33rd BIRTHDAY

Mr. Ingram Dakin, Centerville, will celebrate his 33rd birthday on Sunday, March 25.

Former Tiverton Man Receives Award

Word has been received by Mrs. Heber J. Outhouse, of Tiverton, that her brother, William Bryant Otis, of York Village, Maine, was recently presented with one of the largest awards ever given at the Portsmouth Navy Yards in Portsmouth, N. H., when he received a $530.00 Superior Achievement Award.

Following is the story published in the "Portsmouth Periscope", the official paper of the Portsmouth Navy Yard: Shipyard Saves Over $11,000 ($530 Achievement Award for Bryant Otis, Sr.) William Bryant Otis, Sr., planner and estimator, Feb. 15 was presented with a $530 Superior Achievement award, one of the largest ever to be given here.

Captain Ben A. Strauss, Planning Officer, made the presentation at a ceremony in his office. The award was the result of a recommendation made by Otis during the construction of USS Abraham Lincoln (SSB(N)602) in 1961. During processing of plans prepared by another design agent for the exhaust, Bryant observed that the expansion points were of weak design. He reported his observations to his supervisors who ordered a complete redesign.

His foresight was confirmed when joints failed on the lead ships of the same class built at another shipyard, while the joints of modified design on the 602 proved highly satisfactory. Bryant's background and experience coupled with his alertness, it is estimated, will result in a saving to the shipyard of slightly over $11,000. The cost of correction, if the original design had been followed. In addition, the ship's completion date would have been jeopardized in the event the corrective work had been required.

Bryant in 1959 shared a $366 helpful Suggestions award in Henry A. Walker, also planner and estimator. Their gesture involved standardization of submarine piping drawings. Inductee of Nova Scotia, he is the Shipyard in May as machinist in the Machine Shop. He has had 15 years employment. With his wife, Mary, he resides in York.

Every summer Bryant and Mary spend their holidays with relatives and friends in Tiverton. It has been learned upon Bryant's retirement will reside in Tiverton the summer months.

Unus Cat

A black white cat owned by My Weir, Digby, has an 11 set of claws. On the 10 feet and the front right he has the normal 5 but on the left front paw are 10 claws. One set down — the other set reversed, and point up in front of the paw to a lobster-like claw. Unusual!

Trinity Dorcas will hold a quilt parish hall on Thursday afternoon.

Eight Months In Digby Jail

Pleading guilty to a charge of being in possession of stolen goods, Ulysses Doucette, Yarmouth, was sentenced at Little Brook Friday to eight months in Digby jail by Provincial Magistrate C. R. Rand, QC.

Doucette and a companion were arrested last week at Corberrie, Digby County, by RCMP and Yarmouth town police. The stolen property, identified by the owner, R. C. Wall, of Yarmouth, included rope, twine, nets, and other fishing materials.

Apprehended with Doucette was Donald Moody, of Yarmouth, who was represented by defence counsel Irving Pink, QC. Charged with the same offence, he elected trial by judge and jury, but proceedings were dismissed at the preliminary hearing. Doucette told the court that what he was transporting in his taxi, Doucette said he told Moody that he was getting ready to open a store in Weymouth and had hired him to transport him and the fishing equipment to Weymouth.

Conducting the prosecution was Crown Prosecutor, E. J. Theriault, QC, of Digby.

Killed In Accident

Morris Clifford McMinn, 26-year-old naval rating from HMCS Cornwallis, was killed about 1:30 Sunday morning when his car went out of control and landed in a field at Conway.

A passenger, Robert Armstrong, also of HMCS Cornwallis, suffered minor injuries. He was taken by ambulance to the Digby General Hospital where he was held until he was transferred to the Naval Hospital at his base, where it has been learned that he has been released after treatment.

Mr. McMinn was a native of Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, and had served in the RCN for the past five years.

An inquest into the death of Mr. McMinn was held at Jayne's Funeral Home, but has been postponed until Saturday of this week.

The physical fitness classes, under the direction of a trained instructress will consist of exercises and calisthenics, set up in easy stages to allow women of all ages and ability to participate. The classes will be held at the Hotel Champlain, beginning April 2nd.

The Figure Skating School recently sponsored an ice carnival under the supervision of Miss Susan Stoddard, HMCS Cornwallis.

4th Generation Postmaster

A review of the history of the Tiverton post office has shown that the present postmaster is the fourth generation of the Outhouse family to serve in this capacity. Postmaster Chester M. Outhouse, Nova Scotia director of Canadian Postmasters Association, Maritime Branch, outlined this at an executive meeting of the branch in New Glasgow.

John A. Smith was the first postmaster until the year 1874, when he was replaced by Charles Outhouse, great grandfather of Chester Outhouse. Chester's grandfather, Milton Outhouse, was appointed postmaster in 1876. Upon his retirement, he was succeeded by his son, Eldridge Outhouse. He was forced because of ill health to give up his position to his son, Chester, the present postmaster at Tiverton.

Chipman Chisholm was discussion leader and the secretary presented a paper on picking strawberries. Gerald Chute who had attended a meeting in Kentville gave an informative report on strawberry culture. Other discussion centered around weed control, fruit varieties, new insect sprays for diseases and insects.

It was generally felt that the study groups had proved profitable and had created a particular interest in fruit and vegetable farming in the area.

Holds Final Meeting

The Digby Recreation Commission, with Dr. J. R. Mc Cleave, president, in the chair, held its last regular meeting of the year on March 26th.

Several of the committee reports were read and discussed. A letter from the Department of Labour stated that the plant was still in good condition. The secretary was instructed to write letters to the men and the ladies of the Digby Curling Club and thank them for their donations of $275.00 and $100.00 respectively. The Curling Club had put on a special bonspiel last week, the proceeds of which went to the Recreation Commission.

It was brought up that there were still a few minor repairs to be made on the Forum. Mr. Richard Thomas was engaged to act as the caretaker of the Forum during the summer months.

The Forum will be used on July 28th by the RCMP Band for a free concert. It was further mentioned. Other summer activities were also discussed.

The treasurer's report was read and showed an increase of expenditure over revenue. On submitting a comparison statement for the same period of last year, it was reported that the revenue for this season was increased by $2,160.92 over last year and that expenditures were increased $2,279.22 over last year.

Kite Causes Power Failure

Business establishments and residents in Mount Pleasant, Shore Road, the wharf, Maiden Lane and places between, suffered power failure and work time loss on Thursday when a kite became entangled in the wires.

The almost age-old sport provides fun but the boys are requested to use caution. It is noted by the press that other towns have had similar difficulty with kites and publicity is given to prevent more serious accidents.

Correction

In the story of the Island Queen in the last week's issue of The Digby Courier, it should have been said that the account of the trip was written by James Smith, 14 year old son of Commander Smith, and not by the commander. On that boat coming from Lunenburg were Commander Smith, Robert Purdy, Lieutenant Commander Wilson and James.

We are grateful to James for the story.

The Digby General Hospital Ladies Auxiliary will hold their monthly meeting, Monday evening at 8:00 at the home of Mrs. James Ayer, King Street. Co-hostesses, Mrs. Ernest Richardson, Mrs. J. MacDormand, Mrs. Jean Olsen, Mrs. Joyce Anderson.

About This and That Dangerous Practice

(Contributed)
A kite being flown by three boys on the Cannon Bank became entangled with a high voltage power line last week and caused a power outage to a large segment of the residential and business area of the town. Power Board crews made prompt repairs to the broken wire and service was restored in approximately one-half hour.
Fortunately the consequences of this carelessness were not as grave as they may have been, none of the boys was injured. Flying kites near power lines is a dangerous practice, especially at this time of year when the ground is wet and when the string may easily become dampened, these conditions provide a low resistance path for electrical current along the string and through the body to ground which could result in electrocution.

Uniformity Most Of All

The day doesn't matter as much as we think but, for goodness sake, let us have uniformity. This seemed to be the general opinion voiced by those who responded to a merchant's survey of the buying public's convenience regarding the half holiday for merchants in Digby. Out of 60 votes cast, 33 were for the Saturday half holiday, 26 for Wednesday and one had a deliberate "no" half holiday. Taking it percentage-wise, 55 per cent of the public would favor Saturday half day closing, 43 per cent Wednesday and two per cent would wish to see the stores open for six whole days in the week. One person voted Wednesday but also stated stores should be open six days, particularly in the summer time. Sixty votes probably are not many out of the number who might have voted but again we might take from the lack of votes, "It doesn't matter which day but settle on a day and stick to it."
The survey not only expressed the opinion on the half holiday question but also revealed other grievances. One reply, for instance, requested that merchants give more attention to the requirements of year 'round customers. How about it merchants? The old days of tourists spending the whole summer in Digby and doing all their shopping here are gone. While more tourists pass through Digby they probably spread their shopping over twenty-five or more centres. Has the year 'round customer replaced the summer visitor in Digby as the greater potential for the merchant? The same mode of travel which changed the tourist habits has also changed the local buyer habits. They'll have what they want to the extent of driving a hundred miles or more to get it. Better consider it.
Back to the question of the survey. How about it merchants? The local people are not too concerned what day, according to the survey, but they do want uniformity. Then, just what days do we tell the tourists that our stores are open? Or do we make a list for Wednesday and a list for Saturday for their use? Or, do we just say, "we don't know, there's a lack of cooperation among the Digby merchants" and "kill with indifference the goose that lays the golden egg."
Yes, the surveys are good. We are all for them. Sometimes, we think a survey on attitudes would be good. It might reveal to us a lot of pettiness and show us why we are not more progressive. Think how influential our organizations could be and how progressive our communities could be if we could surpland all pettiness and uncooperation on all levels of organization, business and government with cooperation. A man who visited our office this week said: "We've got to think of the valley in terms of one long street." We'd go further than that - "We've got to think of Digby as one big shop."
Come on merchants, how about uniformity in store hours?

Municipal Plan

The tenth step and perhaps the most important of the "Eleven Steps to Survival", has for its caption, KNOW YOUR MUNICIPAL PLAN. The questions are asked - "is your community a likely target area?" "What does your local municipal authority want YOU to do in local emergency operations?"
In the pamphlet, the second question is answered in this way - "If you live in a likely target area, you have two choices - staying put, or, if there is time, evacuate. The decision is yours."
In Halifax there are directional signs on the evacuation routes. Traffic will be able to move from the threatened area in orderly manner. Compared to the large Canadian cities, this area is not heavily populated and moving away from the threat is quite possible.
The siren warnings have been fully described in a preceding article. It however should be again emphasized - When you hear the sirens, turn on your radio and listen for instructions.

Obituary

Frank O. Lent

The town of Westville lost a well known and highly respected citizen on Sunday morning with the sudden passing of Frank O. Lent at his home on Church Street.

Born in Freeport, Digby County, a son of the late Capt. and Mrs. George Lent. Mr. Lent was by profession a teacher and following his retirement in 1941 he had a teaching service of nearly 40 years, of which 35 were spent in Westville, as principal of the schools.

His retirement was interrupted for short periods when he returned to teach in Pictou at the Veterans' School, in Trenton High School and then again in Westville High.

On his initial retirement he was honored by former pupils in the United States and Canada. On this occasion a school commissioner quoted words of Ralph Waldo Emerson, "His heart was as great as the world and there was no room in it for meanness," which were so applicable to Mr. Lent.

The 1958 edition of the Torch, was dedicated to Mr. Lent by the Westville High School students who were on the staff that year.

In May 1960 he was again honored by the School Commissioners when he was chosen as the outstanding citizen for the presentation of a set of Encyclopaedia Britannica.

He was an elder of St. Paul United Church and a member of both the regular and male choirs. He attended services regularly, giving freely of his talent as a tenor soloist. He was a Past Master of Western Star Lodge AF and AM, also a Past Noble Grand of Scotia Lodge, IOOF.

He was keenly interested in sports, an ardent and outstanding curler during the years he belonged to the Westville Curling Club.

Surviving are his wife Catherine, three sons, George, supervisor of schools for Inverness County; Frank, vice principal in Alberta; Harry, teacher of languages, in Edmonton; and three daughters; Lena (Mrs. Allan Campbell), New Glasgow; Muriel (Mrs. Douglas MacDonald), Antigonish; Romaine (Mrs. John Feister), Akron, Ohio; a step-mother, Mrs. Estelle Lent, Freeport; three sisters, Marion (Mrs. Cecil Fletcher), of Port Greville; Georgie (Mrs. Forrest Hill), Parrsboro; and Irene (Mrs. Edward Oatway), Edmonton, Alta.

BOARD OF TRADE WANT MISSING LINK COMPLETED

At a meeting of the Annapolis Board of Trade recently, the proposal to request the government to build the Fundy Trail from Victoria Beach along the Bay of Fundy, was discussed with the result that a resolution will be prepared to be placed before the April meeting of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade.

Members taking a prominent part in the discussions included Leigh Marshall, Joe Casey, H. L. Burnie, E. C. Atkinson and C. E. Daniels. The various speakers stressed the importance of the opening of the Fundy Trail to the tourist industry and the industrial needs of the area.

Some 25 to 30 thousand persons visit Fort Anne National Park and the Habitation each year. Many of them, after visiting the Habitation at Port Royal would continue on to Victoria Beach and travel along the Bay of Fundy shore if the missing link, 7 miles of highway between Victoria Beach and Delaps Cove, were completed. At Victoria Beach one can view the beautiful sunsets on the water, one of the few spots in Canada where this may be seen. Elevations along the proposed trail range from 750 to 800 feet, affording an excellent view over the entire country-side.

The building of this missing link would open up new territory, not only for scenic drives, but for lumbering operations, and a shorter and faster haul for trucks transporting fish to the packing plant at Victoria Beach.

Yeast Raised Cake Resembles Strudel

Strudel is made by rolling a special pastry paper-thin, spreading it with filling, and baking. Traditional strudel made this way is superb; but so is a strudel-like cake made with yeast-raised dough. The Fruit-and-Nut Laden Roll below is a fine example, and far easier for the home baker to turn out. Its sweet dough holds a delicious filling of raisins, cherries and almonds. The recipe was developed to appeal to strudel fans and home bakers alike.

One tip: Roll the dough out on a floured cloth. Then, after spreading it with filling, pick up the long side of the cloth and hold it so that the strudel rolls easily into shape. Then pinch the seam and ends well, so all the filling stays right inside the dough where it belongs.

Fruit-and-Nut Laden Roll
2 cups (about) pre-sifted all-purpose flour
¼ cup granulated sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons chilled butter or margarine
½ cup lukewarm water
2 teaspoons granulated sugar
2 envelopes active dry yeast or 2 cakes compressed yeast
¼ cup milk
1 egg separated
2 cans (15 ounces each) sweetened cherries, well drained
1 cup seedless raisins
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup finely-chopped blanched almonds

1 teaspoon almond extract
1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted
3 tablespoons granulated sugar
Combine the flour, ¼ cup sugar and salt in a mixing bowl; cut in the 2 tablespoons chilled butter or margarine finely. Measure lukewarm water; stir in the 2 teaspoons sugar. Sprinkle or crumble with yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, then stir well. Scald milk; cool to lukewarm. Beat egg yolk. Add dissolved yeast, lukewarm milk and egg yolk to flour mixture and mix well, adding a little more flour, if necessary, to make a soft dough. Turn out dough onto a floured board or canvas and knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl. Grease top. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 45 minutes.

Meantime, combine the well-drained cherries, raisins, bread crumbs, the ½ cup sugar, ½ cup of the almonds and almond extract. Punch down dough. Turn out onto a lightly-floured canvas and roll out into a 16-inch square. Brush with the 1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine. Spread cherry mixture over dough to within 1 inch of edges. Lift canvas at one side and roll dough jelly-roll fashion.

Pinch seam and ends to seal well. Place roll, seam side down, diagonally on a large greased cookie sheet. Brush with egg white; sprinkle with the remaining chopped almonds and the 3 tablespoons sugar. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until almost doubled in bulk — about ½ hour. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 to 35 minutes. Serve warm or cold.

Devices For The Kitchen

Many utensils which are relatively inexpensive can contribute much toward making life in the kitchen easier and more pleasurable.

A mortar and pestle for cooks who appreciate freshly ground herbs and spices.

A wire salad basket for shaking water off salad greens.

A pepper mill to make freshly ground pepper from peppercorns.

A swivel-bladed paring knife for peeling fruits and vegetables easily and economically.

A trussing needle for sewing up the cavities of chicken or turkey is more effective than skewers.

An egg slicer made of heavy aluminum or stainless steel slices eggs uniformly for use in salads and sandwiches.

A meat thermometer for cooking large roasts to exactly the right degree of doneness desired.

A rubber spatula for folding in egg whites, scraping mixing bowls.

A simple metal slicer for cucumbers, carrots, beets and the like.

A "double-metal" pad to keep sauces from burning and keep them at a controlled low heat.

Make Room For Sewing

How often have you longed for a haven in which to sew — a secluded and orderly place away from the family hubbub with all your sewing equipment at hand?

If space problems prevent you from setting aside an entire room for your sewing projects, consider designating a corner of the least-used room of the house for this purpose. A sewing area can be created in which you will sew more successfully and enjoyably.

In planning your sewing nook, consider the following suggestions from sewing center experts as to the essentials of sewing comfort.

Your sewing machine should be placed near a window for natural light during the day; make provision for adequate lighting for evening sewing.

Set up your nook close to a closet. In the latter, keep your iron and ironing board, skirt-maker, fabric remnants, patterns, garments being made, etc. On the inside of the door hang a full-length mirror to simplify fitting problems.

A nearby cabinet is ideal for storing work on hand, pin cushions, sewing basket, patterns currently being used and sewing machine aids. Your sewing aids will be literally at your finger tips if you hang a small cabinet on the wall next to your sewing machine. Buy an inexpensive unfinished cabinet and stain or paint it to complement the room.

Keep a notebook handy in which to list those sewing aids which are running low. This will prevent you from running out of needles, machine oil, bobbins, or whatever, at the least convenient time.

WHAT'S THE "INSTALMENT PLAN" WAY TO SAVE FOR A

DOWN PAYMENT?

Many purchasers of automobiles, furniture and such, pay on the instalment plan. You can put your savings on the same instalment basis. PSP, Scotiabank's Personal Security Program is the "instalment plan" way to save for a down payment for any project needing forward planning and saving. This is how PSP—exclusive with The Bank of Nova Scotia—works: You select a savings goal (between $100 and $2,500) which you reach in 50 equal payments. As you save, you're life-insured for the full amount of your goal. When you reach your goal, you collect all you've saved, plus a cash bonus. PSP is the ideal way to make sure your long-range plans are realized. Ask about PSP at your nearest branch of Scotiabank.
