100th Birthday

The hundredth anniversary of the Digby Weekly Courier has brought to mind some fond memories as recounted in the following historical chapter of the paper. For first, I wish to congratulate the current editor of the Courier, Mrs. J.M. (Edith) Wallis, for a job well done over the years and still being well done, good service rendered with great fortitude.

According to my recollection, I have at hand, the Digby Courier, in one hundred years of publication, was controlled under the same family management for 42 years, 1836 to 1978, under the control of Wallis Print Limited. The late J.J. Wallis became editor of the Courier in the second time, in 1929, and at the latter time of the second time, in 1929, and at which he had been running for some time previously and which became Wallis Print Limited sometime between 1929 and 1931.

I well remember the last year of the twelfth when I worked in the office with the husband and father of the Digby Courier. Sometime in 1919 or early 1920, the late J.M. Wallis (Mac), son of J.J., engaged me to work every day after school hours, Saturdays, and for some months after for the office of work was in the building of the present Digby town hall on First Avenue. J.J. Wallis then worked occasionally at the print shop but mostly across the street at the Courier office which was then located on land in the general area where The Royal Bank of Canada is now.

Wallis Job Print operated in this building of four consisting of J.J. Wallis, J.M. Wallis, Miss Elva Haynes, who later became Mrs. George Kicop, and myself. I was in the staff in early 1920.

Mac's job was to run the staff in the left upstairs. J.J. occasionally printing plant but mostly at the Courier office. "Mac" worked nearly full-time at all the different jobs at the Job Print, and I worked at various duties most of the time being spent at operating printing presses.

We worked ten-hour days, six days a week. J.J. and "Mac" sometimes worked overtime. I worked only the regular hours being paid a weekly wage which was comparatively good for those times, and my lack of experience. I received five or five dollars a week for working after school hours to six o'clock and on Saturday all day, and nine dollars a week for half weeks after finishing school. A two or three dollar a week raise was offered to me in the fall of 1920 for me to stay on at printing, but I had made up my mind to enter a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, starting salary of $200. The bank salary started out about the same per hour as for the printing plant those days, and experience however short, were helpful and appreciated to me.

J.J. was very social in his occasional trip to the print and did consider the printing all in good fun.

"Mac" was a witty person who moved in a good way and made sarcasm now and then for fun or for another. Elva must always had good answers to all the kidding she was called upon to take, and she usually held her own in a quiet sort of way, always in a setting type. We four all got along very well together. However, I do remember that some days all seem long and weary because of the transitory of some repetitious jobs.

In spite of the great demand for printing those last happy days of the twelfth, business generally being brisk, it looked in his that people had to work long and hard to make any decent profit. There was however, trials and finger ends were used and I was sent back to work.

New and then a printing job had to be put on the paper which required a new kind of printers ink which smelled very bad some days. I always dreaded it when "Mac" would say that it was the largest press, it was at the factory as always spent an outside day in lower conditions on the construction.

One of the jobs I had to do, with the paper and printers devil on the staff, was to do a printing job and then, one day not long after I started my job at the printing plant, I decided to show the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned in some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you getting on Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily, he thought the remark pretty good and amusing.

Sometimes the gasoline engine or a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and the "Mac" the fix it man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results. "Mac" would then stand back and cross over to the side, then he would immediately start working. "Mac" would say, "all it needed was a bit of cleaning."

On other occasions when some piece of machinery would refuse to work, "Mac" would say, "use a little oil" and sure enough after that is all it took. How often since, have I heard of the value of that remark and the actual need of oil in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and, in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I told "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring month of 1920 got together just before dark one evening and decided to utilize the newly built outdoor Fern Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just out of the pool, nobody else seemed to be around except the four boys, no thought or time for bathing suits up to the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in. The rest quickly followed and across the pool they swam. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Scouts Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the boys? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Carl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars, second world and Korea; now prominent druggist, for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale hardware king merchant; and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day "Mac" said to me how about writing your version of the story told about "The Marooning of Jerome". I did it and read at least two somewhat different versions about the man who was found marooned on a beach in northern point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Digby County. When I read this man's tale, and then read and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome" appeared to have been a man of some considerable social standing and, possibly, of some considerable wealth. However the way the man could or would ever say after being found and cared for by some family in the French shore was, something that sounded like the story of a hero. He either would not, or would not, write anything about who he was or why he was left there. Well, it was, and is, one of Digby County's best kept secrets, and, different ideas have been put forward over the years concerning this man. However, the name of "Mac" was, I felt no urge to write anything about different about this man. The story seemed to have been very well explained in the story of many people, and he was a sort of a hero and many people who liked ways he was.

There were three print jobs that were quite interesting. One was a printing job for the street that had been closed for some time. The other was a printing job for the street that had been closed for some time. The third was a printing job for the street that had been closed for some time.

Digby 172 Years Ago

From the files of the Courier of January 22, 1861, the following account has been compiled concerning Digby in 1689.

Among a number of old newspapers kindly sent to me by friends is a copy of the first issue of the Digby Courier, dated January 22, 1861. The issue contains a number of advertisements and a notice from the Digby Courier, dated January 22, 1861, which is of interest to the Digby community. The notice is from the Digby Courier, dated January 22, 1861, and is of interest to the Digby community.

The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles across from the head of St. Mary's Bay. This land was then the water's edge, partly as level ground, and partly as the locality of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect, a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in where it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth of that name. It was owned by Loyola, from New York in 1682, the most of whom went early to farm, or, moving to other countries, left the whole side to be bought, proved by about who now reside detached, but meetings with and various, at some distance, it has continued parts of the river, previous to 1861, could really be from many circumstances, probability of plots of some adjoining, the West India a sheep and of residents. free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students one of which was J.J.'s daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Melvin G. Thibert, Freeport, Digby Co.). Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters. I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print." I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and trimming paper stock, making ink for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "ye", the printers name for a confirmed fool.

There was a taste of trying to sell job printing outside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried to make several calls around town, spent most of the time at one particular

Clinic Director Is Co-author

Dr. Roderick A. Armstrong, executive director of the Digby-Annapolis Mental Health Clinic, is among the contributors to a newly published book on community psychiatry and community mental health which may well become a standard guide in this field for many years to come.

Also among the contributors to the new book, "Handbook of Community Psychiatry and Community Mental Health", are Dr. Alexander H. Leighton and Dr. Dorothea C. Leighton of Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y., both well known in Nova Scotia where they have been engaged over a period of some ten years in the conduct of a research project, the Stirling County Study of psychiatric disorder and sociocultural environment.

The emergence of community psychiatry as a new therapeutic force, and the enthusiastic interest it has aroused, are indications that psychiatry is undergoing a third revolution paralleling in its magnitude the innovations of such men as Pinel and Freud.

This new development has already taken a hold on the imaginations of both the professionals in psychiatry and also the leaders of government. New methods, new facilities and new agencies are emerging and enabling legislation gains accompanying impetus.

On every side, however, this responsive interest has also evoked a sense of growing need for a more thorough orientation in this specific field. If an effective program is to be designed and put into operation there must be first an informed understanding of the goals and methods of community psychiatry. It is this information and understanding that the newly published Handbook of Community Psychiatry and Community Mental Health provides in a most comprehensive manner.

The Handbook of Community Psychiatry and Community Mental Health combines the well integrated contributions of some of the most outstanding authorities in the field. It draws conceptual outlines based on experiences in sociology and in group dynamics. It also delivers a clear image of the scope of community psychiatry, its personnel, its program and ultimate ends. The real basis of the working value of the book, however, is the practical applications which it draws from the workday experiences of recognized authorities in the field.

The chapter in the book contributed by Dr. Armstrong, Dr. A. H. Leighton and Dr. Dorothea Leighton, deals with social psychiatry and community psychiatry in small town and rural areas. It suggests some ways in which the developing knowledge of the interrelationships between man and his environment - physical, psychological and social - should be taken into account by those interested in providing means of relieving him of the nervous and psychiatric disorders which appear to result from or to be intensified by malfunctioning of these relationships.

It points out that, since the problem is a large one, involving something like a third of the population, new methods must be devised to enlarge the effectiveness of the community clinics. The chapter submits that some sort of public health psychiatry is now mandatory, utilizing both conventional, trained experts and many other kinds of people who may be called upon for aid and guidance. It also adds that the accumulating knowledge of the social and behavioral sciences must be studied for what this knowledge can

108 Children Examined At Digby Clinic

Number of children examined in 30 Easter Seal mobile diagnostic clinics held Spring and Fall in 15 Nova Scotia centres rose to 1,163 in 1963. So reports Lieut. Col. J. M. Kinnaird, executive director, Nova Scotia Society for Care of Crippled Children, Easter Seal agency in the province and sponsor of the mobile diagnostic clinics.

"All referrals are made by the family doctor and recommendations for further treatment in hospitals or special treatment centres are referred back to him by the specialists," Col. Kinnaird said. "In other words, we are working with the family physician all through the piece."

At the Digby clinic, where the Kiwanis Club of Digby is the Easter Seal franchise holder, some 108 children were examined in the clinic held at the Lions Club Hall. Of these, 67 were seen for the first time. A total of 90 cases were orthopaedic and 36 paediatric.

Referrals were made in 3 cases of speech and hearing, 2 mental health and 1 cardiac assessment.

The clinics represent one of the services assisted through the sale of Easter Seals, for which the campaign for $85,000 currently is in progress in Nova Scotia.

Digby Native Named Manager

Richard A. Levy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester M. Levy, of Digby, has been named manager of Lawton's Drug Store in the Dartmouth Shopping Centre.

Born in Digby in 1932, Mr. Levy received his junior and senior education here, and was at one time president of the student's council. He began his career as a newspaper boy and later worked in the drug store of his father where he became a certified drug clerk. He graduated from the Maritime College of Pharmacy in 1957 with a Ph.C. degree and worked again with his father until 1963 when he joined the Lawton firm.

In Digby Mr. Levy was a lieutenant in the Sea Cadets. While attending college and taking courses at Dalhousie University he joined the U.N.T.D. and received local training and in British Columbia at Esquimalt and Royal Rhodes naval college. He graduated with the rank of lieutenant in the naval reserve.

Mr. Levy is keenly interested in sports with curling and golf being his particular interests. He is married to the former Donna Hubble, of Halifax, and they have one daughter, Karen Jane, 6. They live on Willow Street, Halifax.

The Trinity Evening Guild will be held at the home of Mrs. Digby Baxter on Tuesday evening.

contribute toward understanding the environmental forces that make a difference to mental health.

The chapter suggests that it would be well for all psychiatrists to broaden their thinking in this direction, since a proportion of the disorder that they try to treat on an individual basis is inextricably enmeshed in a socio-cultural context. This must be taken into account in order to achieve a therapeutic result. The psychiatrist can help, the authors of the chapter say, not only in making the patient accept his life situation, but also in altering life situations so that they are tolerable to patients and innocuous to potential patients.

The chapter concludes by observing that community psychiatry must play a part in community development, whether it is the growth of a new community, urban renewal, or the revitalization of areas that have become prey to disintegration. It admits that the precise way in which this is to be accomplished is not yet plain, but it observes that "it is only by some such means that the bright new world now possible on the material side will bring with it the social mechanisms that man needs to develop his potentialities."

Les Dames Patronesses Elect Directors

"Les Dames Patronesses" celebrated their fourth anniversary. To mark this occasion a banquet was held at St. Ann's College, Church Point. The banquet hall was artistically decorated with flowers, Acadian flags and golden stars, the emblem of the association.

Mrs. Daniel Tufts, general director, presided at the banquet. Special guests were Rev. Father Edouard Boudreau, Father Provincial of the Eudist Order; Rev. Father L. F. d'Entremont, Superior of St. Ann's College; Rev. Father William Poirier; and Rev. Father Yaron Lenteigne, Chaplain of the association.

Mrs. Tufts welcomed the members and invited guests. She summarized the work accomplished during the last year. The most important projects were financing the construction of the new chapel "Notre Dame de l'Assomption" (Please turn to page 5)

First Custodian Habitation Dies

Albert Eugene Parker, the first custodian of the Port Royal Habitation, died at Annapolis General Hospital on Saturday, following a heart attack.

Born at Karsdale 80 years ago, he was a son of the late Robert and Emma (Robblee) Parker. He moved to Port Royal in 1926 and for many years operated a general store and delivery until he took over the duties as custodian in 1939 at the Habitation, where he became well-known to thousands of summer visitors. Last June he and his wife, the former Mary MacLach, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

Besides his wife he is survived by three sons, Clare, RCAF Summerside, P. E. I.; George, Annapolis Royal; and David, of Winnipeg. He was predeceased by two brothers and a sister.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the Port Royal Union Church, conducted by Rev. M. G. Butler, pastor of the Annapolis Royal-Granville Ferry United Church of Canada. Interment was in the family lot, Stoney Beach cemetery.

Immunization Clinics For Adults

Many adults do not have protection against tetanus (lockjaw) and polio. Therefore, a series of clinics are being sponsored for protection against these two preventable diseases.

A series of three injections, one month apart, is required to give full immunity and "booster" doses are required to maintain this immunity. It is understood. The first "booster" should be obtained 6 to 12 months after the series and then a "booster" is needed about every 3 years.

The material being used at the clinics is a combination of tetanus and poliomyelitis vaccines. For those who have previously received polio vaccine, the three doses will increase immunity and cause no ill effect.

The clinic schedule is as follows:

Digby Neck Consolidated School: 7:00 p.m. - 8:30 p.m., on April 14th, May 12th and June 9th.

Digby Lions Club Hall: 7:00 p.m. - 8:30 p.m., on April 9th, May 14th and June 18th.

Weymouth Consolidated School: 7:00 p.m. - 8:30 p.m., on April 24th, May 22nd and June 26th.

Slides Featured

Vice-president, Mrs. Annabell Outhouse was chairman of the Sunshine Bible Class held in the vestry of the United Baptist Church, Tiverton on Wednesday evening. Following the Devotional and the usual business procedure of the programme, Mrs. Nellie Robbins presented colored slides that were taken by her daughter, June. They featured interesting places and landmarks of British Columbia, New York and New Brunswick. Mrs. Robbins also included in the slides the wedding of her youngest son, Lindsay a member of the Police force, who was married at P.E.I. some time ago.

Good Friday And Easter In The Churches

Grace United, Digby

Rev. Elmer Asaph, Bear River, was guest speaker on Good Friday morning at Grace United Church, Digby. If we look back at the world today, Mr. Asaph said, we see Christ crucified over and over again. Indifference, he said, drives Jesus back to the cross again. The event of Good Friday is enacted as long as man sends insults and God forgives by love. Attitudes, actions and things undone crucify the Christ.

The service was conducted by Rev. R. H. Hughes.

On Easter Day, Rev. Mr. Hughes spoke from Philippians on the passion of St. Paul. Church members, Mr. Hughes said, have stopped at the Resurrection and have not gone on in sharing Christ's sufferings. They have not grown in knowledge of Jesus Christ. For us, Mr. Hughes said, resurrection comes first and suffering next. We must, he said, be resurrected from the power of sin before we can experience the power of Christ and share in fellowship of Christ's sufferings. To be identified with Christ's church we must share in His sufferings, we must stand for what Jesus Christ stood for and pass on the knowledge, he said. We must share the passion of Paul to share the gospel to all the world, Mr. Hughes continued.

The choir presented a special anthem "Lilies", with Mrs. Gerald Wilson taking the solo part. Six persons were received into the church by profession of faith: Marcia Trask, Joan Milbury, Dale Halliday, Brian Milbury, Stephen and Gerald Wade.

Flowers were placed in memory of Oscar VanTassel, Elton Arnold, William Graves, Fred May, Mr. and Mrs. George Turnbull and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Milberry. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed at the close of the service.

We easily believe that which we wish.

The Passion Vigil was held Saturday evening at 11:00 o'clock, recalling the resurrection of Our Saviour and centering also on Baptism, the Sacrament of rebirth in which Christians rise with Christ to the new life of Grace. This service consisted of the blessing of the new fire and the Easter Candle, emblematic of the risen Christ, the Light of the world, and the spreading of this light and newly risen life to Christians through Baptism. This ceremony was followed by the solemn chanting of the Exhultet, the Church's response of Praise to the resurrection. The prophesies were read, recalling the old-testament forerunners of Baptism, and the water for Baptism was blessed, all present renewing their baptismal promises. The services were concluded with Midnight Mass and Lauds.

Salvation Army, Digby

A devotional breakfast was held Sunday morning at the Digby Salvation Army Citadel. Throughout the day two services were held with special Easter messages being given by Capt. Kenneth Crews of the local Corps.

St. Patrick's, Digby

At St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church regular holy week services were held Thursday through Saturday.

Thursday evening the Institution of the Holy Eucharist was commemorated by a special Mass, followed by a procession of the Blessed Sacrament. This was followed by the stripping of the altar, to recall Christ's abandonment and betrayal.

On Friday afternoon a special service was held to commemorate the Passion and Death of Our Lord. This service included the reading of the prophecies regarding the sufferings of Christ, the reading of the Account of the Passion itself and the Solemn Prayers for the needs of the universal church. This was followed by public veneration of the cross and Holy Communion.

Easter Sunday brought to a close one of the most successful series of special services held throughout the Lenten season.

Holy Week services and those held on Good Friday were well attended, after exceptionally well attended services held during the earlier part of Lent.

Easter Sunday saw a record attendance at the Holy Communion services throughout the Parish.

At All Saints' Church, Ross, the large congregation was addressed by the Rector, who explained the meaning of Easter; and Mrs. Oswald Mullen presided at the organ.

The 11 a.m. Communion at Trinity Church was a choral one. Mrs. H. O. Turnbull presided at the organ and the full choir rendered an Easter anthem. (Please turn to page 4)

Premier Issues Statement

Every year, the week in which April 10 occurs, is set aside as National Wildlife Week, a week in which Canadians are reminded of the importance of our wildlife and natural resources. During this week the necessity for proper use and conservation of these resources is stressed.

This year April 5-12 is National Wildlife Week. This week is chosen because April 10 is the anniversary of the birthday of the late Jack Miner, the great Canadian naturalist. By his own example and by education of the public both in Canada and throughout the world, Jack Miner exerted outstanding influence in promoting the benefits of wildlife conservation.

I ask that every Nova Scotian do all he can to follow the example set by Mr. Miner. Each of us can help to preserve the great gift of our wildlife and natural resources for the enjoyment and benefit of our own people and of those who visit our province.

Hon. Robert L. Stanfield,

Freeport Lady 91

Mrs. W. V. Perry, of Freeport, celebrated her 91st birthday on March 22. She enjoyed the day at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Delbert Buckman, Tiverton.

Mrs. Perry enjoys the best of health, does her own housework, and takes a keen interest in community activities.

Collect $50.25

A total of $50.25 was recently turned over to the Digby branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

This sum was collected throughout Joggins Bridge by Bob Winchester. The amount was larger than in the previous year.

With Education Department

G. R. Pierce, Supervisor of Schools in Shelburne for the past 17 years has resigned from that position, effective July 31. Mr. Pierce has accepted a position with the Department of Education. Mr. Pierce is well known in Weymouth and Digby.

"Peggy", The Deer, Missing

Peggy, 8-year-old pet deer of the Howard Todd family of Perotte, is missing and may have been killed. A number of deer is reported to have been killed in that area recently and local residents fear Peggy may be one of them.

The deer has been much publicized in both press and radio and many persons in the eastern portion of Canada and the United States visit the Todd home each year to see Peggy and her new fawns.

The story of Peggy's life is an old one to many readers. She was found alone in the woods as a fawn, grew up with the Todd children, would run through the house and play outdoors with the children, and after being turned loose after the hunting season would return in the spring to have her new family in captivity. Altogether there have been 11 fawns born at the Todd farm, including four sets of twins. Peggy has not been seen since New Year's Eve when she came to the window of the Todd farm house to be fed. She would be carrying her fawn now and this is the first time in three years she has been away at this time. The Todds have searched for her but no trace has been found.

Local Boxers Seek Titles

G. R. Cromwell

J. R. Beaudro

"Spud" McCormac

Three soldier boxers from Digby area will be going after Dominion ring titles when the Army unveils its annual boxing championships at Camp Gagetown April 6th to 10th. Making a try for the crowns are Rifleman "Spud" McCormac, a 21 year old light middle contender from Bear River, N.S.; Privates James R. Beaudro, 24, and Glen R. Cromwell, 20, both of Weymouth, N.S.

McCormac, stationed in Calgary with the 2nd Battalion The Queen's Own Rifles of Canada, is a member of the 10 man western Canadian team who'll see action in the event. He holds the 1964 Alberta Area title and has won 50 per cent of his starts this year. Beaudro, who fights in the open welter class, holds the Army crown at his weight and has racked up 18 wins in 21 bouts. Cromwell, a novice lightweight, has earned two wins and dropped one decision on his way to a berth in the championship. Cromwell and Beaudro are infantrymen stationed at Camp Gagetown with the 1st Battalion, the Black Watch.

About 60 top Army militiamen from the Army's four commands in Canada are entered in the event.

About This and That

Canadian Library Week

The week of April 4 to April 11 is to be observed as Canadian Library Week. The theme for 1964 Library Week is "Reading is the key to opportunity, new worlds and understanding." We have had two letters within the past few weeks bearing on the need of a public library for Digby. Next week during Library Week would be an excellent time to consider the glaring disadvantage to Digby citizens who have no ready place to obtain a book to read. According to the motto for Canadian Library Week we are depriving citizens of opportunities, knowledge of "new worlds" and of better understanding.

We recall some years ago, during our high school days, a school supervisor told us that the best educated person was not the person who knew a lot but the person who knew exactly where to find the facts he wanted. In other words, he knew exactly where and what book to use in order to obtain some specific information. All the information on all subjects can never be acquired by any one individual, therefore, it is a most useful kind of knowledge to know where information on any subject can be found. An individual would need to be wealthy to be able to purchase all the books which he would need on all subjects to his interest. This is where the advantages of a public library would be felt. One book would serve hundreds of persons. A person, however, cannot go to a book for information if it is not available.

Many Nova Scotians have the advantage of regional library services or the services of bookmobiles. According to statistics released by Miss Alberta Letts, Provincial Librarian, there are 7 regional libraries with 35 branches and 7 bookmobiles in Nova Scotia. There are also five communities with small membership libraries. There are 311,000 books in regional libraries in Nova Scotia and 447,000 people served. There were more than two million books borrowed in Nova Scotia in 1963. Not many in Digby town or in Digby County were included in this service. To what disadvantage have the people of Digby town and county been placed without such service? This is the question we should consider here during Library Week.

Nova Scotia, according to Miss Letts, needs 2 new regional libraries to serve the Western Shore counties and the South Shore. Needed are more reference and research facilities and better library service for children and young people. Digby, actually, is part of Western Nova Scotia which needs library facilities. Cost would be involved. How important is a library? Important enough to bear the cost? School education is important. Important enough to bear the cost. Books aid in formal education and also in continued education outside school. Is this important? The theme for 1964 Library Week says: Reading is the key to opportunity, new worlds and understanding. There is the answer.

T.V. Programs -

Some Curse - Some Benefit

Such violence displayed by school students in Chicago, New York and Detroit, as read in the press of recent weeks, makes us sit up and wonder what can be the cause of it all. Even our own small towns and cities are not entirely free of this disrespect for authority, of aggression and crime, amongst youth. Who or what is to blame for all the aggression, brutality and violence? Of crime's petty and grave? Certainly, parents cannot escape some guilt in lack of direction for youth either because of indifference or absenteeism from the home.

Then, also, children are strongly influenced by the aggressive characters they watch on T.V., it is thought. We agree that this is true. Scenes of shooting, stabbing and other forms of violence and crime cannot help but impress the youthful mind exposed to this sort of thing so much of the time. There are times when one must shudder at the terrible-ness of it all and feel that T.V. has certainly come to cur- rather than to bless.

There are other times when some very educational and helpful programs are presented and we can see many advantages for youth by having T.V. programs for instruction and guidance. This past week saw some fine programs in commemoration of religious and historical events. (We are not thinking of "The Open Grave" especially). One in particular which we would like to comment on was "Hi Society" when the Minto, N. B., Memorial High School presented a program. Our faith in youth and in the worth of T.V. programs was certainly renewed as we watched and listened to the students from Minto perform. We did not look for perfection. Perfection cannot be expected but to our humble minds Minto staged the best program we have seen on "Hi Society" so far. (We know we have not seen all of them). The students performed with poise and dignity. They had about them an air of confidence but not over-confidence. They showed signs of being well trained for the performance and they seemed to take pride in presenting the best program they could to the thousands whom they knew were watching. Their selections, too, were well chosen. We were greatly impressed, we had great admiration for the students and we were happy to have another opportunity to see, through these students, the possibilities of good in T.V. programs. We hope more such programs can crowd out those far-too-many programs which we think are having a detrimental effect on our youth of today.

T.B. Still Remains In Thousands

On April 7th each year the World Health Organization celebrates its birthday by highlighting the campaign against one great health hazard. This year it is tuberculosis.

The slogan is "No Truce for Tuberculosis". It is a braver battle cry than many people would think. Dr. M. G. Candau, Director-General of WHO in his World Health Day message states "at least 15 million people suffer from infectious tuberculosis in the world today. The disease, still claims more than three million lives each year and these are cautious estimates".

In comparison to these figures Canada's TB problem seems puny. Tuberculosis deaths in 1962 (last year for which figures are complete) numbered 785. Active cases are between 7,000 and 8,000 a year.

That many cases of polio in the country would cause panic. Public apathy to the amount of tuberculosis still occurring arises, it seems, from two facts. The first is that most people do not know the figures remain so high. The second is that the closing of sanatoria led to a fairly general assumption that tuberculosis was "dying out". Actually, the major factor in the closing of sanatoria was the shortening of treatment time in hospital ushered in by the drugs. Patients who once would have occupied a sanatorium bed for two or three years now are in hospital six to eight months and are then discharged to continue drug treatment under supervision at home.

WHO hopes that this year's World Health Day theme will encourage each nation to look at its own tuberculosis situation to see what can be done. The under-developed countries face their problems daily - lack of treatment facilities, clinics, drugs, doctors and nurses, public knowledge about tuberculosis.

Canada and half a dozen other countries have all these things. There are hospitals where those with tuberculosis can be treated free, drugs are supplied to patients, mass surveys bring diagnostic services periodically to communities and most Canadians are within easy reach of a clinic where they could have free examination.

With such resources why are new cases each year still counted in thousands?

It is because the services are not used to the full. Too many people will not bother to attend a survey or go to the clinic. Too many patients neglect their drugs. Too many former patients are careless about checkup. Thus the infection keeps going and TB claims victims.

It's true; milk supplies all his food needs—now! But wait until he's really mobile; with teeth just rarin' to chew. It'll take more than milk alone to replace the energy he's going to be burning up from then on through adulthood.

Bread will play an important part in his new diet because bread is a good source of energy.

And if that bread is Ben's Buttermilk, it will also be a good source of eating pleasure. But then, most grown-ups know that already!

IN THE CHURCHES

them. Many favourable comments were made on the manner in which the choral communion was conducted.

The Rector, the Rev. James Pike, in his short address, reminded the large congregation of the meaning of Easter, pointing out that with no Good Friday there would not have been an Easter Day. In a somewhat similar way, we have to go through the sufferings and trials of life here on earth before we can hope to gain eternal life, after our resurrection. He said that the church was divided into three parts, one on earth, one in Paradise, and the third in Heaven. Those who have left us at death have merely gone one step further towards Heaven. There they await us, and perhaps some still unborn, until God decides that all men shall again be made alive in Heaven.

If we are sinless people on earth, we can be happy people at Easter, as we look forward to a joyful reunion with our loved ones and with Christ. Who made Atonement for our sins upon the Cross, and gave us the assurance of our own resurrection, at the first Easter Day, Mr. Pike said.

Flowers in Trinity Church were in memory of Mrs. Joseph Hall, from her family; Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Daley, from Marion and Louise; Mr. Frank Alcorn, from his wife; and Capt. G. R. Parry and Mavis, from Mrs. G. R. Parry.

United Baptist, Digby

A large congregation attended the Easter service on Sunday morning in the Baptist Church of Digby. Special Easter music was provided by the choir including an anthem, a male quartette number and a ladies' trio. A beautiful contribution to the service was the offertory, "The Holy City", played on the pipe organ by the organist, Mrs. Jean Olsen.

In his sermon, the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, spoke on the question asked by the women on their way to the tomb to anoint the body of Jesus: "Who will roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?" Many obstacles lie in the path of every Christian, the speaker said. These include our individual and social difficulties, the granite stone of man's sinfulness, and also the stone wall of man's mortality. On every hand man feels limited and frustrated by the barriers of his life. However, the Easter event reveals a Divine power and presence at work in the world. With that power barriers are broken down, stones removed, doors are opened to new life, usefulness, power and victory. "Because I live, ye shall also", said Jesus.

The Ordinance of Baptism was administered to two candidates at the evening service, and also on Saturday evening the Ordinance was given to two candidates from Weymouth.

Hill Grove

A Holy Week service was held at the Hill Grove Baptist Church on Wednesday evening. The Easter service on Sunday afternoon was well attended. Music was by the Junior Choir with Miss Wendy Franklin as soloist.

Deep Brook

The afternoon Good Friday service held at St. Matthew's Anglican Church in Deep Brook was well attended. Visitors were present from Smith's Cove, Bear River and Clementsport.

A congregation of over 100 attended the Good Friday evening service at the United Baptist Church. Rev. Dale MacTavish conducted the service with Rev. G. D. Brydon giving the message. Mrs. Brydon presented a message in song, "Alone", and the choir rendered a special anthem.

The Easter morning service at the Baptist Church was also well attended despite inclement weather. Mrs. Adams played "The Holy City" preceding the service. Potted plants and spring flowers were placed in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClelland, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spurr, Sr. At this service Rev. Mr. MacTavish presented his resignation as of May, as he expects to further his studies and training in the United States.

Holy Eucharist was held at St. Matthew's Church at 10 a.m. Easter lilies, spring flowers and potted plants were placed in memory of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Payson, Mary Eleanor Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Purdy, daughter Alice, son Frederick, and grandson Fred Roberts; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Vroom, daughter Mrs. Ralph Barkhouse, and grandson Carroll Vroom.

Bear River

Rev. Elmer Asaph brought an inspiring Easter message to a large congregation on Sunday morning at the United Church of Canada, Bear River. The choir sang two anthems, Dr. D. S. Brennan taking solo parts in each.

Potted plants, lilies and baskets of flowers were placed in the church in memory of loved ones by their families. Members of the Smith's Cove United Church attended the service.

At the Bear River Baptist Church Rev. O. G. Hubley spoke on "The Risen Christ", with scripture from Luke 24. During the service a solo was rendered by Mrs. Hubley. At the evening service the young people had charge of the music. Rev. Mr. Hubley took as his theme "The Walk to Emmaus", with scripture Luke 24:13-15. Flowers were placed in the church in memory of Harvey Smith.

Sandy Cove

Good Friday service was held in the Sandy Cove Baptist Church with Mr. Fred Withers, of Zion United Church, as speaker. The Explorers and C.G.T. group formed the choir and rendered a special selection.

Little River

At the Little River United Church on Easter morning Rev. Victor Mersereau took his text from the 24th chapter of Luke. Music was provided by the Junior Choir, with Mrs. Lindsay Raymond organist. Communion was held at the close of the service.

Freeport

A large congregation attended the Easter service on Sunday evening at the Freeport United Baptist Church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. J. Ideson. His message, "If There Were No Resurrection", was most inspiring. Two special numbers were a duet, "Thirty Pieces of Silver", sung by Mrs. Norman Perry and Mrs. Avery Finigan, accompanied by Mrs. Victor Finigan, and the choir heard in a number, "He Lives".

Flowers adorned the platform in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Stevens and Percy, Mrs. Lila Perry, Mr. Albert Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Thurber, Mrs. Willie Moran, and Mrs. Ina Thurber.

Westport

A baptismal service was held on Easter Sunday at 3 o'clock in the Westport Church of Christ, when Lie. Ronald McLean, pastor of the United Baptist Church, immersed in waters of baptism 10 young people.

The opening hymn was "I Can Hear My Saviour Calling", followed with scripture from Matthew, chapter 3, and Romans, chapter 6, with prayer by Mr. McLean, after which the pastor, assisted by Bro. George Clements, baptized the following: Susan Webber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Webber; Rickie, Frieda, Judy, Virginia and Benny Robicheau, all children of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Robicheau; Michael Gower, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Gower; Brian, Harry and Chester Lent, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Wickerson Lent. During the service the choir sang "O Happy Day".

At the evening service in the Baptist Church, the young people were given the right hand of fellowship. Gerald Frost read the scripture and Philip Welch led in prayer. These boys are students at C.B.T.S. in Moncton, N.B. Sharon Frost and Judy Welch sang a duet, and the choir sang special Easter music.

Flowers were placed in the church in memory of Gordon Dakin, Mr. and Mrs. John Titus and Frank Titus.

Weymouth Area

Pre-Easter religious services arranged by the Weymouth and District Ministerial Association came to a successful conclusion with a large congregation meeting on Friday evening in the Barton United Baptist Church. An augmented choir led the worship of song with Mrs. R. R. Winchester as organist. Mr. Fred Withers was in charge of the hymn singing that preceded the service. It was with regret that the congregation learned of the continued illness of Rev. Mr. Winchester. Rev.

Willard Clayton had charge of the service. Speaker on this occasion was Mr. A. E. Jones, speaking on the theme "What Does Easter Mean To You?" Rev. C. R. Barkhouse read the scripture and several led in prayer. Total offerings for the week was in the vicinity of $85.00. This will, at an early meeting of the association, be distributed to worthy charitable and Christian objectives as decided by the members.

Services commenced on Monday with Mr. Withers as speaker in the Riverside Baptist Church, Weymouth North. Here the pastor, Rev. C. R. Barkhouse, conducted the worship and Mr. Thurston Allan led the opening worship of song, Mrs. Clara Thurber was organist.

Tuesday services moved to South Range Church of Christ. Dismissals and Mr. Albert Jones as leader. Rev. Willard Clayton was speaker. A full choir was in attendance. Miss Muriel Marshall was organist.

Wednesday evening, at the Reformed Baptist Church, Havelock, Rev. Marvin Durling conducted the service and two special anthems were rendered by the choir. Mrs. Joseph Sabean was organist. Rev. C. R. Barkhouse brought the message.

On Thursday evening, at Heartz Memorial United Church, Weymouth, Rev. Mr. Durling was speaker and despite poor weather conditions there was a good attendance. Mr. Withers, the pastor, conducted the service. The choir, under the leadership of Miss Frances Lent, organist, sang a special benediction.

The Ministerial Association, which organized about three years ago, has at Easter and New Year cooperated in the arranging of a week of special services. The association meets each month through the year in homes as arranged by the members.

Digby Neck-Weymouth United Church

Easter services on the Digby Neck-Weymouth pastoral charge United Church were held at Sandy Cove, Centreville and Weymouth and despite heavy rainfall all services were largely attended. Spring flowers and potted plants were on the pulpit platforms. At Sandy Cove, the choir, under the direction of Mrs. R. W. Sypher, sang two special anthems, with Mrs. Jack Morehouse taking the solo parts. Mrs. Arthur Carté also sang the negro spiritual "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?"

Mr. Withers, pastor, in his message, as in other parts of the charge, took as his text "I have seen Jesus. We have seen Jesus. It is the Lord", the testimony of Mary Magdalene, the Disciples of Emmaus Road and the Upper Room, and the whole group of the Disciples of Galilee.

At Centreville the service was similar save that the Communion service had been held the Sunday before Easter. Many visitors were present.

Two services were held in Heartz Memorial Church, Weymouth, on Sunday. The first was scheduled as an open air service, but due to weather conditions was held inside the church. The service was arranged by the CGIT group of the church, and their leader, Mrs. Rhuland Proudfoot, and president, Miss Louise Powell. Others participating were Misses Madeline Bishop, Jane Hankinson, Virginia Powell and Gail Proudfoot.

In the evening service the sacrament of the Lord's Supper concluded the service which saw three young people, Misses Virginia Powell, Louise Powell and Gail Proudfoot received into full membership by profession of faith. The choir, under the direction of Miss Frances Lent, led the service of song with "Lift Up Your Heads", Roger Hankinson and Mrs. Howard Payson, taking the solo parts. Flowers to adorn the sanctuary were the gift of Mrs. Payson and Donald in memory of Howard Payson.

About This and That

Canadian Library Week

The week of April 4 to April 11 is to be observed as Canadian Library Week. The theme for 1964 Library Week is "Reading is the key to opportunity, new worlds and understanding." We have had two letters within the past few weeks bearing on the need of a public library for Digby. Next week during Library Week would be an excellent time to consider the glaring disadvantage to Digby citizens who have no ready place to obtain a book to read. According to the motto for Canadian Library Week we are depriving citizens of opportunities, knowledge of "new worlds" and of better understanding.

We recall some years ago, during our high school days, a school supervisor told us that the best educated person was not the person who knew a lot but the person who knew exactly where to find the facts he wanted. In other words, he knew exactly where and what book to use in order to obtain some specific information. All the information on all subjects can never be acquired by any one individual, therefore, it is a most useful kind of knowledge to know where information on any subject can be found. An individual would need to be wealthy to be able to purchase all the books which he would need on all subjects to his interest. This is where the advantages of a public library would be felt. One book would serve hundreds of persons. A person, however, cannot go to a book for information if it is not available.

Many Nova Scotians have the advantage of regional library services or the services of bookmobiles. According to statistics released by Miss Alberta Letts, Provincial Librarian, there are 7 regional libraries with 35 branches and 7 bookmobiles in Nova Scotia. There are also five communities with small membership libraries. There are 311,000 books in regional libraries in Nova Scotia and 447,000 people served. There were more than two million books borrowed in Nova Scotia in 1963. Not many in Digby town or in Digby County were included in this service. To what disadvantage have the people of Digby town and county been placed without such service? This is the question we should consider here during Library Week.

Nova Scotia, according to Miss Letts, needs 2 new regional libraries to serve the Western Shore counties and the South Shore. Needed are more reference and research facilities and better library service for children and young people. Digby, actually, is part of Western Nova Scotia which needs library facilities. Cost would be involved. How important is a library? Important enough to bear the cost? School education is important. Important enough to bear the cost. Books aid in formal education and also in continued education outside school. Is this important? The theme for 1964 Library Week says "Reading is the key to opportunity, new worlds and understanding." There is the answer.

T.V. Programs — Some Curse — Some Benefit

Such violence displayed by school students in Chicago, New York and Detroit, as read in the press of recent weeks, makes us sit up and wonder what can be the cause of it all. Even our own small towns and cities are not entirely free of this disrespect for authority, of aggression and crime, amongst youth. Who or what is to blame for all the aggression, brutality and violence? Of crimes petty and grave? Certainly, parents cannot escape some guilt in lack of direction for youth either because of indifference or absenteeism from the home. Then, also, children are strongly influenced by the aggressive characters they watch on T.V., it is thought. We agree that this is true. Scenes of shooting, stabbing and other forms of violence and crime cannot help but impress the youthful mind exposed to this sort of thing so much of the time. There are times when one must shudder at the terrible-ness of it all and feel that T.V. has certainly come to curse rather than to bless.

There are other times when some very educational and helpful programs are presented and we can see many advantages for youth by having T.V. programs, for instruction and guidance. This past week saw some fine programs in commemoration of religious and historical events. (We are not thinking of "The Open Grave" especially). One in particular which we would like to comment on was "Hi Society" when the Minto, N. B., Memorial High School presented a program. Our faith in youth and in the worth of T.V. programs was certainly renewed as we watched and listened to the students from Minto perform. We did not look for perfection. Perfection cannot be expected but to our humble minds Minto staged the best program we have seen on "Hi Society" so far. (We know we have not seen all of them). The students performed with poise and dignity. They had about them an air of confidence but not over-confidence. They showed signs of being well trained for the performance and they seemed to take pride in presenting the best program they could to the thousands whom they knew were watching. Their selections, too, were well chosen. We were greatly impressed, we had great admiration for the students and we were happy to have another opportunity to see, through these students, the possibilities of good in T.V. programs. We hope more such programs can crowd out those far-too-many programs which we think are having a detrimental effect on our youth of today.

T.B. Still Remains In Thousands

On April 7th each year the World Health Organization celebrates its birthday by highlighting the campaign against one great health hazard. This year it is tuberculosis. The slogan is "No Truce for Tuberculosis". It is a brave battle cry that many people would think. Dr. M. G. Candau, Director-General of WHO in his World Health Day message states "at least 15 million people suffer from in-

In comparison to these figures Canada's TB problem seems puny. Tuberculosis deaths in 1962 (last year for which figures are complete) numbered 785. Active cases are between 7,000 and 8,000 a year.

That many cases of polio in the country would cause panic. Public apathy to the amount of tuberculosis still occurring arises, it seems, from two facts. The first is that most people do not know the figures remain so high. The second is that the closing of sanatoria led to a fairly general assumption that tuberculosis was "dying out". Actually, the major factor in the closing of sanatoria was the shortening of treatment time in hospital ushered in by the drugs. Patients who once would have occupied a sanatorium bed for two or three years now are in hospital six to eight months and are then discharged to continue drug treatment under supervision at home.

WHO hopes that this year's World Health Day theme will encourage each nation to look at its own tuberculosis situation to see what can be done. The under-developed countries face their problems daily — lack of treatment facilities, clinics, drugs, doctors and nurses, public knowledge about tuberculosis.

Canada and half a dozen other countries have all these things. There are hospitals where those with tuberculosis can be treated free, drugs are supplied to patients, mass surveys bring diagnostic services periodically to communities and most Canadians are within easy reach of a clinic where they could have free examination.

With such resources why are new cases each year still counted in thousands?

It is because the services are not used to the full. Too many people will not bother to attend a survey or go to the clinic. Too many patients neglect their drugs. Too many former patients are careless about checkup. Thus the infection keeps going and TB claims victims.

"100 push-ups a day and I've never taken a slice in my life!"

It's true; milk supplies all his food needs—now! But wait until he's really mobile; with teeth just rarin' to chew. It'll take more than milk alone to replace the energy he's going to be burning up from then on through adulthood.

Bread will play an important part in his new diet because bread is a good source of energy.

And if that bread is Ben's Buttermilk, it will also be a good source of eating pleasure. But then, most grown-ups know that already!

The bread to buy!

New Post Office

A new post office will be constructed in Belliveau Cove measuring 20 feet by 24 feet and of good construction. Albert LeBlanc of Little Brook, will be contractor and work will commence immediately. The new federal building should be available for occupancy early in May.

The new building will be built near the store of John Theriault, formerly the Edward Theriault property in Belliveau Cove on the main highway. The new post office is one of the many being constructed in the province by the federal Department of Public Works.

Somewhat smaller than the new post office buildings in Church Point and Meteghan, which were taken over by the Department of Public Works last May, they will be an improvement over the former rented quarters with more working space and lobby space for the public.

Are't those dandy little menus? How about whipping those up next time you have a party?

The first one is suggested for summer dinner parties, the second for autumn parties. There are equally formidable ones for spring and winter, if you feel ambitious right now.

These are only a few of the little gems which are to be found in a book of Mrs. Wallis's called MRS. BEETON'S COOKERY BOOK. This book, dated 1902, is a helpful little treasure on the running of a house, the handling of servants, and the feeding of a family.

I have only tried one recipe so far, although I intend to do as many as I can. The recipes themselves are not difficult. I think cooks of 1902 used fewer ingredients than we do. The ingredients of Mrs. Beeton's rolls simply state "To every pound of flour, allow 1 oz. butter, 1 pint of milk, 1 large teaspoon yeast, and a little salt". Muffins call for nothing but milk, yeast, salt, and flour. The ingredients for crumpets are identical, but we are warned to keep the batter thinner than muffin batter.

To people like us, who are careful to use as little water as possible on our vegetables in order to preserve the vitamin content, it seems strange that an authority on cooking advises us to use half-gallons of water. She does not mention how many carrots or how much cauliflower is to be cooked in half a gallon of water, either.

The book is profusely illustrated, with photographs, as well as drawings. Some of the drawings are in color, and Mrs. Beeton is very proud of this fact. She tells us in the foreword that these pictures show us immediately how to prepare a dish, which cannot be aptly described in a thousand words. If one is to accept the authority of these illustrations, food in 1902 was always taken to the table in separate dishes, never arranged on the plates as it is now. It was also arranged and garnished very, very elaborately. Cold beef is garnished with an unbelievable assortment of leaves and herbs. The roast capon with white sauce looks like nothing ever seen outside of terribly posh hotels. The roast pheasant has its tail feathers put back on. Oddly enough, birds seem to have been served with their feet on.

By the way, if you are falling behind in your housework, Mrs. Beeton has the formula for straightening you out.
This, she suggests, is the day's work to be done in an ordinary small household.

Monday - The home washing.

Tuesday - The sweeping and cleaning of the best bedroom, and windows.

Wednesday - Sweeping and cleaning of the servant's bedroom or one or two other rooms and the stairs cleaned down to the lower floor.

Thursday - The cleaning and turning out of cup boards, and cleaning of remaining stairs.

Friday - Sweeping and cleaning of drawing room, and cleaning of silver.

Saturday - Sweeping and cleaning of dining room and kitchen, tins, copper, etc.

Other daily tasks in order - The shutters and windows must first be opened, then the kitchen range must be brushed and cleaned, the fire lighted, and the kettle put on. The sitting-room must be got ready for breakfast, the rug must be rolled up, the table cover shaken and folded, the room swept with tea leaves, the grate cleaned, and the fire lit, the room dusted, and the cloth laid for breakfast. After that the hall must be swept, the doorsteps cleaned, the door handles polished. Booths and knives must be cleaned before breakfast is cooked. When the servant's breakfast is over, the beds must be stripped, and the bedroom windows opened. After that comes the clearing of the breakfast table, and washing up. Then the bedrooms are cleaned, and the beds made. Between now and noon, the cooking is done, and the day's work listed above is done. If there is only one servant, she is not expected to dress for dinner. If there is more than one, they will be dressed. After dinner the kitchen must be washed and tidied. The afternoon does not seem to be mentioned, but in the evening hot water had to be taken up to the bedrooms, and then the day's work was done.

I am glad our club voted down selling a cook book.
After this it would make me feel inadequate.

Marriage

Sabeau — Langille

The parsonage of the Immanuel Baptist Church in Truro was the scene of a recent marriage ceremony, when Marilyn Eunice Langille, of Upper Economy became the bride of Wendell Malcolm Sabeau, son of Mrs. Donald Sabeau and the late Donald Sabeau of South Range. Rev. Eugene Thompson officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, who was dressed in pink nylon and carrying a white bible topped with a corsage of roses, was attended by her sister Sharon Langille. The bride groom was attended by Reginald Sabeau of South Range.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for immediate relatives and friends. The couple will reside in South Range where Mr. Sabeau operates Sabeau's General Store.

Faith should enlarge its borders and strengthen its base by resting upon Spirit instead of matter. — Mary Baker Eddy.

Bear River Board of Trade Busy Season

Allison Denton was re-elected President of the Bear River Board of Trade at a recent meeting. Other officers elected at this time were: vice-president, Robert A. Benson; assistant sec'y-treas., G. Ross Parsons.

Council members appointed were: Malcolm Parker, Allister Morine, Charles Balser, Walter Ruggles, F. Seldon Chesley, C. F. Somers, Carlton Parker, Morris Cox, Mrs. F. S. Chesley.

Activities of the Board of Trade during the past year were many and varied through the efforts of this organization, a number of projects have been undertaken. Notable of these have been the stocking of salmon in the West Branch of the Bear River, the assistance given the Swimming Pool Committee and the publishing of a folder, giving a brief history and description of Bear River. These folders were placed in various Information Bureaus and it is felt that they were instrumental in bringing many tourists to the village. The Board of Trade was also instrumental in having the work on the Lake Joli dam completed, as well as improved electrical service during the Christmas season.

Current activities include petitions for the paving of the Chute Road, a Rural High School for this area, and a causeway to replace the present Victoria Bridge at the mouth of the Bear River.

Married 30 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Thuermer, Westport, observed their 30th wedding anniversary on Tuesday, March 24th.

On the evening of March 21, 1934, Gertrude, only daughter of the late William Elliott and the late Mrs. Myrtle (Elliott) Outhouse, became the bride of Franklin, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Woodruff Thuermer of Freeport. Rev. Dr. Greenwood, minister of the United Baptist Churches on the Island, performed the wedding ceremony in the future home of the couple, at Freeport. Witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Perry, cousins of the bride. Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at their home. The couple, after residing Miss Jean Morehouse of Saint John spent Easter with her mother Mrs. Hilda Morehouse, and sister, Mrs. Charles Pitt, Mr. Pitt and family. Harry Mierau of H.M.C.S. Kootenay, Halifax was a guest at the same home.

Mrs. Aubrey Forrest of Light House Road spent a few days last week with her two sons, Edward and Earl; wife Mrs. Forrest and little grandson David of West Saint John, N.B. She returned home Tuesday via the Princess of Acadia.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Blinn and Mrs. Donald Amero, Debbie Amero, visited Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lemmon in Musquodoboit over the Easter holidays. They were accompanied by Donnie Blinn who will visit Mrs. Luther Lemmon for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. George Winfield were guests at the Lord Nelson Hotel with their son William Winfield who flew from Toronto to interview personnel at St. Francis Xavier College, Dalhousie and Acadia. He returned to Digby to spend a few days with his parents before returning to Toronto.

If we make the best of little opportunities we find ourselves more able to accept larger ones.

Honored On Retirement

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Johnstone of Deep Brook was the scene of a gala party on the evening of March 17, when the teaching staff of Clark Rutherford Memorial School were ushered in to the skirl of bagpipes played by Petty Officer Ken MacLeod, of HMCS Cornwallis.

This surprise party was occasioned by the retirement of Mr. Johnstone who has very efficiently served as janitor of the school since its opening.

Features of this social gathering included a puppet show and monologue, sing song, Beattie skit, contest related to the Johnstones' planned visit to Scotland, their homeland, reading, the schottische, danced by Mr. Johnstone to bagpipe music.

After refreshments, this honored couple were presented

Letter to the Editor

Digby R.R.2, N.S., Mar. 25-64.

Mrs. Wallis, Editor, The Digby Courier.

Dear Madam, According to an editorial in the March 19th issue you seem to express a desire for more letters to the editor column, so I will try again to see if you really mean it and will print this letter in full.

I have had the occasion to attend a director's meeting of the newly formed Ratepayers Association of Annapolis Co. by invitation from the president, Mr. M. S. Jefferson, and frankly I must say that the atmosphere prevailing there between their association and the warden of that municipality deserves some comments to bring forth the friendly atmosphere which exists there in comparison to what exists here in our own municipality between the Digby Co. municipal council and the ratepayers.

The warden was present and I might say very actively interested during the meeting. Their warden accepts invitations and attends the organization's meetings and deals with municipal business in a very frank and friendly way and will answer all questions within his knowledge without holding back any small detail. He offered information readily concerning taxpayers' money and would listen with an open mind to any criticism or suggestions extended. Referring to cases of municipal school boards excluding the public to board meetings, he extended an invitation to any body interested to attend any school board meeting and it large groups of ratepayers were interested he offered to arrange for larger board rooms to accommodate the groups. This situation existing there is directly opposite what prevails in Digby Co.

The ratepayers of Digby Co. have invited the Digby Co. council warden and councillors on numerous occasions to attend ratepayers' group meetings without success to date. This would tend to indicate a lack of cooperation on the council's part and also a great lack of common interest in municipal and public affairs. It is also true that many ratepayers show lack of interest in municipal affairs but perhaps some cooperation from our civic officials would spark the individuals to an effort of interest and appreciation of municipal business.

Perhaps we could all learn with matching travelling cases from the Staff and pupils by Mr. W. C. Goucher. Mrs. D. Mills also presented a gift from Mr. Douglas Buckler, a former principal of the school, Mr. and Mrs. Johnstone expressed fitting appreciation. The evening closed with the singing of "For He's A Jolly Good Fellow" and the traditional "Auld Lang Syne".

The happy couple were wished all the realization linked with their anticipated nostalgic voyage, and many years of happy retirement.

Thunderbirds Capture Hood Trophy

Belliveau's Cove Thunderbirds marched off with the Western Co. Hockey League Hood's Trophy when they defeated Meteghan 6-5 to take the best of three series in straight games. Meteghan made quite a comeback after losing the first game 15-5 and held the lead until a few minutes before the final bell when Charles Bunn tied it up and Paul Belliveau won the game for the Thunderbirds.

The first period ended 2-1 for Belliveau's Cove with Meteghan coming in strong in the second period scoring 3 goals while keeping the Cove team to one goal. Meteghan scored again in the third period making it 5-3 but the Cove team came back with three to forge ahead.

Goal getters for the Thunderbirds were: veteran Paul Belliveau 2, Desire Belliveau, Julien Amiraunt, Robert Belliveau and young Charles Blinn with 1 each. Gerard Comeau of Meteghan scored 2, Roland Comeau, Paul E. Robicheau from observing some of the other municipal bodies' methods. There are many and varied potential subjects to air and thrash over for common good such as a home for the aged, public library, municipal dumps, parks and picnic sites, dangerous highway conditions and anticipated crossings over bodies of water, agricultural expansion, new industrial development, a fair and equal assessment for all ratepayers and a modern renovated system of tax collection, especially in the matter of taxes in arrears, are but to name a few.

Getting back to the Annapolis Co. association, I want to wish them success in their endeavours and from observing the enthusiasm and friendly cooperation that prevailed at their executive meeting I cannot see how the outcome shall be otherwise.

Yours truly,

Adrien LeBlanc.

The Digby Courier, Digby, Nova Scotia. (Attention: Coffee at Janes)

Dear Jane: We were very much interested in your article "Coffee at Janes" which discussed Nova Scotia antiques. We own a "cottage by the sea" in Freeport. It is our intention to restore it as the period in which it was built. Could you please aid us in how to go about getting any government bulletins or library help for authenticity. Also history of the area. I believe it was furnished in English period.

Our permanent home is in the States but we intend to spend more time in Freeport each year as soon as we can arrange it. We are really drawn to our little cottage. The people are so genuine and the scenery so unforgettable.

Gratefully yours, Mrs. Ruth Warner.

VOLUME LXXXIX, No. 33

Proclamation

Whereas this community can benefit from friendly relationships among business competitors, between our town and the surrounding area and other communities across Canada, between employer and employee,

Whereas this community can benefit from new industries, good business conditions, more tourists, civic improvements, more jobs, better facilities for education, health and recreation.

Whereas the Digby Board of Trade is a voluntary organization of citizens enabling us all to work together to achieve the above goals and generally to improve business, to build a better community, and to develop better citizenship in our community, our province and our country, I, by virtue of the powers vested in me, do hereby proclaim civic support for Chamber of Commerce Week being observed April 12th - 18th and call on all citizens to lend their interest, support, and cooperation in making this observance successful in every way.

Clayton Snow,
Mayor.

Ministerial Association Meets

The monthly meeting of the Ministerial Association of the Town of Digby was held in the Baptist Parsonage on Tuesday morning of this week, with all ministers who belong to the group in attendance.

Business matters relating to the work of the churches in the community were discussed. The Association decided to prepare a church directory for the churches of the town, and that this directory be posted in appropriate places, especially for the information of summer visitors. Also cards, listing the churches and the hours of their Sunday services, be prepared and placed in tourist bureaus and hotels.

It was proposed that at future meetings of the Association papers or talks on various topics might be prepared in advance and presented for discussion at the meetings. Rev. H. S. Hartlin was asked to present a topic for the May meeting.

Blood Donor Clinic

Tuesday, April 14, is the day that people in Digby County will be called upon to donate blood for the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service. The clinic will be held at the Digby Lions Club Hall. The clinic is sponsored by the Digby Branch Canadian Red Cross and is conducted by the Digby Lions Club, with E. B. Tufts as clinic director.

The Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service is a service to supply whole blood and blood products free of charge to any patient in any hospital in Canada. All blood is a gift of volunteer donors.

Anyone in average health between the ages of 18 and 65 years is accepted as a donor.

DOGS ON DISPLAY

A collection of "stuffed dogs," made by Mrs. Alma Melanson, is on display this week in the windows of Wright's Gift Shop, Digby.

Scouts Sponsor Supper

Digby Cubs and Scouts will hold a fried chicken supper at the Baptist Church Hall on April 18. Proceeds will go towards the sponsoring of the boys' summer camp at Lake Le Marchant, near Bear River.

Winter Snow Removal Costs High

At the regular monthly meeting of the Digby Town Council on Monday night, Councillor Bruce Baxter presented a well prepared and a detailed report of the streets committee. From the report it was learned that snow removal in the present winter cost $3,115.55, only $72.75 less than the whole of 1963. Cost for travelling was $1,364.35, only $48.60 more than in the whole of 1963.

Consideration is being given to widening of Mount Street from King Street to Victoria Street as requested by residents of that area. The petition presented pointed out the danger of heavy traffic to school children in the area.

Councillor Charles Halliburton, reporting for Fire and Sewer, stated that the Digby Fire Department had answered calls to 9 fires in March. Three were in the municipality at Sea Brook, Hill Grove and Conway, and six were in town. They consisted of grass fires, chimney and oil stove fires. Regulations regarding grass fires are to be published.

The resignation of Mrs. Josephine Dondale, of the town office staff, was accepted on Monday night, to take effect at the close of the school term.

Charles Halliburton was appointed town representative on the Digby-Annapolis Mental Health Board.

A letter was read from Hon. Stephen Pyke in reply to the town's endorsement of the Bear River causeway project. He assured the town that the matter of replacement of the Victoria Bridge had a place in the department's plans in the not too distant future.

Fourteen complaints were laid before the police in March, six of which required field investigation. Nine cases required court action, six under the Nova Scotia Liquor Act and three under the criminal code.

Tables Presented To Church

Two new members were received into the membership of the Baptist Church of Digby at the worship and Communion service last Sunday morning. These had received the Ordinance of Baptism on the previous Sunday.

Two new tables, fashioned of walnut, were presented to the church recently by Charles Hersey and Bernard Bell. These beautiful pieces of furniture were made by Mr. Hersey and Mr. Bell, and occupy a place at the rear of the auditorium and in the church vestibule.

Eight members of the Boy Scouts recently completed their course of study for the Religion and Life Award conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, and these awards will in due time be presented. At the meeting of this week the Scouts listened to an interesting talk on Highway Safety given by a member of the RCMP.

Next Saturday will be highlighted by a Canadian Girls in Training Rally and Conference, to be held in the Baptist Church Hall and in cooperation with the C.G.I.T. group of Grace United Church. Study and discussion groups will be conducted throughout the whole day, beginning in the morning. It is expected that C.G.I.T. girls from Westport and Bear River will be in attendance.

Music Festival Next Week

Vernon Ellis, a Port Maitland native, now Professor of Music Education at the Nova Scotia Teachers' College, Truro, will act as adjudicator at the 14th Music Festival, to be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at Digby Regional High School.

As in other years the festival will feature local talent in vocal and piano solos and duets, choruses, rhythm bands, family and church groups, both competitive and non-competitive. A concert featuring the best performers from various fields, will be held on Thursday evening.

Set Tax Rate $4 Per $100

Digby's tax rate was set at a meeting of the Town Council on Monday night at $4 per $100 of assessment. This is eight cents, per $100 more than the rate of $3.92 in the year 1963.

Total assessment for 1964 is $1,298,260, an increase of $207,970 over the $1,090,290 assessment of 1963.

The town had an excess of revenue over expenditure in 1963 of $14,177.29 it was learned at Monday's meeting. In setting the tax rate for 1964, it was decided by council to include $10,939.50 of the surplus in 1963 as revenue for 1964. The total revenue in 1963 was $200,291.38 and expenditures were $186,117.09. The revenue for 1963 was $25,671.96 greater than in 1962 and the expenditures in 1963 were $8,388.01 more than in 1962.

The budget for the Town of Digby for 1964 estimates $231,553.60 expenditures.

This includes $22,330 for public works; $60,555.60 for education; $18,100 for social and municipal welfare and care of hospitalized mental patients; $40,435 for debt charges; $10,375 for fire protection and $10,250 for police protection.

Poll taxes in 1964 will be $40 instead of $20 as previously on the not assessed person. For the person assessed up to $1000 the minimum tax bill will be $40.00 eg. if tax on assessment is $25.00, the poll tax will be $15.00 making $40.00 in all.

It was decided on Monday night that the customary two per cent discount on current taxes be given on taxes paid between May 1 and June 1 and six per cent interest charged after the month of August.

Permit To Build On Water Street

A permit was granted at Monday night's meeting of the Digby Town Council to Kenney Construction Co. to erect a two storey building on the site of the old post office on Water Street. The building to be erected at a cost of $43,400 for Kenrke Realities Ltd., Truro, is to be of concrete blocks and measures 73 feet deep by 62 feet wide. Plans were by J. Philip Dumaresq and Associates.

Mrs. Alma Melanson asked permission to operate a laundry from her home on St. Mary's Street and information on the cost of a license to sell pop from door to door was given to Herman Gray.

Permission was granted to the Digby Branch Canadian Legion Auxiliary to hold tag days on May 1 and May 2.

William Troupe appeared before the Town Council on behalf of himself and Fundy Restaurant Ltd. regarding the matter of Acadia Lines bus stop at his premises. At a previous meeting permission was not granted for a bus stop at this point and Mr. Troupe requested the councillors to consider parking regulations so that he might have an opportunity to assess the feasibility of the bus stop venture on a trial basis. Appearing at the meeting in opposition to the bus stop at the above mentioned point were Lloyd Woolaver and Douglas Woolaver, merchants. Council decided to confirm its motion of a previous meeting that the bus not park there until such time as it was given permission. The traffic authority is to give direction.

Reorganize Film Council

A move to reorganize the Digby Film Council will be made on Wednesday, April 15, when a meeting will be held at the Digby Regional High School.

Representatives from all organizations and church groups in the area are invited to attend. Mr. Allan Palmer, of the National Film Board, will be present and will outline a program. The meeting is called for 7:30 p.m.

performers from various fields, will be held on Thursday evening.

Cardoza Again Heads Mental Health

The Digby Community Mental Health Centre will move into its newly purchased quarters at 88 Warwick Street this week, it was reported at the annual meeting of the Digby branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association, held Friday evening.

Branch President Victor Cardoza stated purchase of the new quarters for the centre had been made possible through the cooperation of the Nova Scotia division of the CMHA. He said the securing of the new and more adequate quarters would require a greater effort on the part of the local branch to meet the financial commitments involved. He urged full support of branch members and the general public in this endeavour.

It was reported at the meeting that the annual financial campaign of the branch for 1964 would be held during the last week of April and first of May in conjunction with the national campaign being held at the same time.

Response to the 1963 campaign, held in October, was reported as disappointing and a number of factors were listed as being responsible for the drop off in returns.

Dr. R. A. Armstrong, executive director of the mental health centre, in reporting on activities of the centre for the past year, stated continued emphasis had been placed on the preventative aspect of the work of the clinic. He stated a series of meetings had been held with local public health nurses, welfare workers and others in this field. A seminar had also been held for a group of some 70 teen-agers in the Bear River area.

In giving his report, Dr. Armstrong stated some 200 patients had been seen at the Digby clinic and 123 at Bridge-town. There had been a total of 1,420 interviews of up to two hours duration.

In her report the secretary of the association stated some sixty Christmas cards had been sent to Digby county patients in institutions. A sum of money had also been donated to help in purchase of art supplies for a talented patient. Work is underway, she stated on the preparation of a resources handbook for use in the preventative work of the centre. This is a joint endeavour of the centre board and the local association.

Addresses Ratepayers

R. Baden Powell, M.L.A. was guest speaker at the Digby County Ratepayers Association on Tuesday night. No area in the constituency (District of Digby) can prosper unless some of that prosperity rubs off on the rest of the constituency. Mr. Powell told his audience. We are so closely knit, with everyone in the constituency being our next door neighbor, he said, that the good fortune of one is also in lesser measure good fortune for the others. Also, he said, that when one part of the constituency or group in a constituency sets itself off against another group then all suffer from the estrangement and the well-being of all in the area is spoiled. He said it was his belief in this day of keen competition, that we cannot afford to let anything interfere with full co-operation in our efforts to obtain a higher standard for all our people, and this cannot be obtained unless we create the proper atmosphere for growth. He continued that this atmosphere for growth will most easily be stunted by working at cross purposes among ourselves.

Mr. Powell gave his audience an insight into the working of government. He told how bills are presented in the house, by whom they are presented according to the nature of the matter, how matters are thoroughly discussed in caucus by all government members. One bill passed during the last sitting of the house mentioned by Mr. Powell was that of the Lord's Day Act. So that individual members had the freedom to speak and vote for or against this bill, a private member introduced it. The bill had religious implications, and as such it was felt that individual members should vote according to their conscience.

Presented Brief Recently

The following is the brief recently presented to the Minister of Highways, Hon. Stephen Pyke regarding the Victoria Bridge.

We, the undersigned representing the Bear River, Digby and Annapolis Royal Boards of Trade and acting on a consensus of opinions of those in the areas which we serve, respectfully suggest a recommendation that consideration and survey be given the construction of a causeway across Bear River to replace the aged and inadequate Victoria Bridge.

The facts that are apparent and coincident with this causeway recommendation are as follows:

(1) THAT the present curved, narrow, and obsolete one lane Victoria Bridge is badly in need of extensive repairs and is a serious inconvenience at all times and especially during the season and hours of exceptionally heavy traffic. The present one lane bridge involves much traffic confusion and delay because of uncertainty as to whom has the right-of-way. Heavy machinery has had to be re-routed.

Morrissey Heads Ratepayers

Eugene Morrissey, of Weymouth, was elected on Tuesday evening as president of the Digby County Ratepayers Association. Mr. Morrissey succeeds Paul Swanburg, whose resignation was accepted at a meeting of the D.C.R.A. executive recently. Mr. Swanburg has accepted a position as tax collector in the Municipality of Kings.

The resignation of Jack Harris, Bear River, from the office of vice-president was accepted on Tuesday evening. Jack Connell was elected to fill the vacancy.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. Harris, who told of a recent visit he had with the Annapolis County Ratepayers Association executive meeting at Nictaux. He said the A.C.R.A. has presently 150 members and they expect to have 500. He said that Mr. Bacom, Warden of the Municipality of Annapolis, was present and answered questions for two hours. He expressed it as one of the most enlightening things he had experienced and that he had found out more about the affairs of a municipality than he had ever known before.

He told the Digby County Ratepayers Association members that the inspiration for the A.C.R.A. had come from them and now like a match thrown in a dry field, it had spread to much of Western Nova Scotia. He charged the members that they had much to live up to.

The new education act for the province was read, which stated that the books, records and accounts of a school board, of a committee of a school board and of the secretary of a school board or committee of a board shall be open without fee at all reasonable times to the inspection of any ratepayer, officer, councillor or alderman of the city, town, municipality or area served by the school or schools administered or managed by the board. Kenneth Connell and Jack Connell were named to go to the Digby Municipal Office to get the information which had been previously requested.

What To Do With Old Town Clock?

The old town clock which told the time from its high pedestal on the old post office tower in Digby has been stored in a warehouse on the property of Mrs. Helen Anthony, former Deputy Mayor of Digby, since the time the post office was demolished last summer.

Just what to do with the town clock, with all its sentimental memories and regards attached, has created a problem. When presented to the town council last year it was hoped that some organization might recover the old time piece but there were no volunteers.

On Monday night the council announced that the clock would be stored in the basement of the Court House, Digby, until further decisions might be made. The clock is more than fifty years old, having been built in the post office when it was built in 1908.

Meteghan Girl Wins In Contest

Twelve posters, ranging from symbolic art to photographic realism have been chosen to represent Nova Scotia Junior Red Cross in a national poster contest in Toronto, it has been announced by Mrs. Blanche Baker, J.R.C. director for Nova Scotia.

Judging was done on four levels - primary grades, elementary, junior high and senior high. Prizes will be awarded to the provincial winners. Irene Robichaud, of Meteghan, grade 5, was a winner in the elementary class.

The national poster contest was launched to publicize Junior Red Cross Week, March 16-21. Theme was "Canadian Youth in Action".

Trinity evening guild will be held at the home of Mrs. H. R. Bishop on Wednesday evening.

Fundy Board Delegation Meets On Ferry Project

A Fundy Board of Trade delegation, headed by Eugene Outhouse, Tiverton, met with Hon. Stephen Pyke at the Fire Hall, Digby, on Monday night to discuss the possibilities of a causeway across Petite Passage. Representatives were present from Westport, Freeport and Tiverton.

The meeting was prompted by an article which appeared in a recent issue of a daily paper and of which article the Fundy Board took exception to figures quoted regarding crossings on the ferry at Petite Passage.

In order to give Hon. Mr. Pyke a truer picture of the situation across the passage, the Fundy Board quoted the following statistics regarding passengers, cars and cargoes transported by the ferry:

Amount of fish and lobsters carried over Petite Passage during 1963: Dried salt fish, 1,832,300 lbs.; fresh fillets, 150,000 lbs. value $189,559.95; Lobsters ferried away, 250,630 lbs. value $17,861.60. Consumer goods brought in - value $356,462.67. Oil and gas brought in 1,000, 300 gallons. Cars crossed in 1963 23,000. Passengers crossed in 1963 60,000.

Cars crossed in 1962 20,000. Passengers crossed in 1962 60,000. Fish ferried in 1962 1,615,324 lbs.

Also addressing the group was R. Baden Powell, M.L.A. for the Electoral District of Digby. Mr. Powell also took exception to the figures quoted and said that he knew the article did not quote figures from the Department of Highways. He said that in March of this year he had received the figure of 25,000 vehicles crossed in the past year and the article, evidently, had referred to the fiscal year ending March 31, 1963, for their figures.

Firm Hires University Students

Mr. Bill Winfield returned to Toronto on Saturday, after spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Winfield.

Bill, who is the Director of Personnel for Warner and Lambert, Canada Ltd., arranged some employment work earlier in the week at St. Francis Xavier, Dalhousie and Acadia Universities. Warner and Lambert have hired several commerce students across Canada for the summer to supplement their regular sales force, and not only affords good employment for the student but also enables them to acquire basic marketing experience for their commerce degree.

It is understood that Bill has been responsible for introducing this program and was successful this year to have the three Nova Scotia colleges included.

Well Known Teacher Passes

Bessie Myrtle Trask, wife of Harry Trask, well known Digby barber, died at the Digby General Hospital on Thursday.

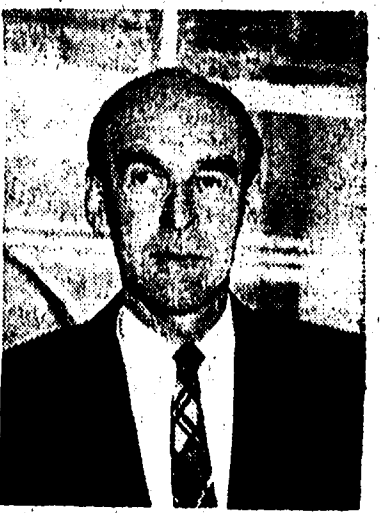

Born at South Range 56 years ago, she was a daughter of Perry Porter, Hill Grove, and the late Beatrice (Andrews) Porter.

Mrs. Trask was a graduate of Provincial Normal College and taught at Digby schools for over 17 years, until after Christmas of the present school term. She was a member of the United Baptist Church, Digby.

Surviving besides her husband and her father are sons, Douglas and Fred, and a daughter, Jean, of Digby; a brother, Basil Porter, of Conway; and sisters, Mildred (Mrs. Gordon Turnbull), Margaret (Mrs. Bruce Baxter), both of Digby, and Ruby (Mrs. Eric Kinsman), Smith's Cove, N.S.

Funeral service was in the Digby United Baptist Church on Sunday, Rev. Howard Hartlin conducted the service and interment was in the family lot at Hill Grove.

Premier Endorses Commerce Week

I earnestly commend to all citizens of this province the observance of Chamber of Commerce Week, April 12 to 18, which merits enthusiastic and wholehearted support.

Our villages, towns and cities can become still better communities in which to live and make a living through the combined efforts of their local Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce, and the regional and national federations of Boards and Chambers.

We hold in high regard the Maritime Provinces Board of Trade which is working to promote and maintain the economic and social welfare of this region. One of its most important jobs is providing a means for business and community leaders to express views on provincial matters to your provincial government. In addition, through close co-operation with the Canadian Chamber of Commerce - the national federation of Boards and Chambers - good work is being done in assisting local Chambers with their problems and in encouraging them to act together for the good of all.

School, Church And Community Worker Passes

Mrs. J. Vian Andrews, of North Range, Digby County, died Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Allan Thomas, after several weeks illness.

She was born in 1887, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tobin Harris. She was an active church and community worker, being a member of the North Range Baptist Church and serving as organist and treasurer of the church, as well as president of the Women's Missionary Society. She was clerk of the St. Mary's Bay Baptist Church. She was also a member of the municipal school board and had been active in Home and School when that organization existed in Digby and North Range.

Mrs. Andrews' husband, also a son, Harris, predeceased her. Survivors are one daughter, Phyllis (Mrs. Allan Thomas), North Range; and three sons, Reginald, North Range; Dean, of Ontario; and John, of Quebec; five sisters, Jessie (Mrs. Walter Ryan), of Toledo, Ohio; Gladys, Ruby, Wynna (Mrs. MacDonald), all of Cambridge, Mass.; and Grace (Mrs. Dwight Main), York, Me.; and 12 grandchildren. Four sisters, Mary, Maude, Gertrude, Hazel and a brother, Byron, predeceased her.

Funeral service was held Saturday afternoon at 3:30 from the North Range Baptist Church, with Rev. R. R. Winchester officiating. Interment was in the North Range Baptist cemetery.

Bruins Win Championship

Meteghan Bruins defeated St. Bernard Canadians 3-1 and won the Clare Bantam Hockey League Championship.

Alain Coteau and Paul Deveau put Meteghan ahead 2-0 in the first period. Michael Kearney scored the only goal in the second period, making the score 2-1, but in the third period Jackie Robichaud scored the final goal to clinch the game.

Meteghan entries in the Bantam and Juvenile leagues each won the league championship. The entry in the Western County Hockey League reached the finals but were ousted by the strong Belliveau's Cove Thunderbirds.

Report From Parliament Hill

George C. Nowlan
April 4, 1964

Last week I wrote about the breakdown in the Government's legislative program, which caused us to sit very briefly on Good Friday, and required the House to reconvene on Easter Monday, thereby interfering with the Easter Recess. At that time, I thought that we could very conveniently deal with the estimates in the first part of the week, and then adjourn to save at least part of the Easter Recess, but I overlooked the peculiar composition of the House of Commons as it is now constituted.

As everyone knows, our Parliamentary system was based on two parties, one in Government, and one in opposition. This, theoretically, is the best system under which Parliament can operate. I have always thought, however, that a Third Party was perfectly acceptable, probably a small Party, but one which could act as a goad and as a spur to the larger and older C. C. F. Party. But now instead of three parties, we have two other splinter groups, or five in all. Each of these is competing for position and recognition. Apparently it dawned on some of these that the Conservatives were going to get credit for sitting during part of the Easter Recess, and giving proper supervision and consideration to the estimates. They determined to share the spotlight. Therefore, instead of disposing of our business on Tuesday night, as could have been done, we continued to sit through Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and ended with the greatest fiasco of all.

It must be remembered that in addition to each estimate being considered by the Committee of the whole House, it is afterwards necessary for the Government to bring in an Appropriation Bill, which is an Act of Parliament validating the expenditures listed therein. In other words, there is a double check. First the estimates are considered by the Members of the House of Commons, sitting in Committee, and thereafter the Appropriation Bill must be approved by the House itself. On Wednesday it developed that there was to be a deficiency in the Unemployment Insurance fund at the end of the week. The Minister of Labour warned that if the legislation was not passed authorizing the Unemployment Insurance Commission to borrow from the Minister of Finance, it might be impossible to pay any unemployment insurance claims on Monday, April 6th. Wednesday night is the one night in the week when the House ordinarily does not sit. However, by unanimous consent, it was agreed that we would sit on Wednesday evening, and after rather a stormy debate, in which the Government was censured severely by all parties for having failed to reveal this information earlier, the items respecting the unemployment insurance commission were passed by the Committee of Supply.

The Government could then have brought in an Appropriation Bill covering the Unemployment Insurance item, and others which have gone through the House in five minutes. However, the Government decided to gamble. It felt that if the Appropriation Bill was brought in for the passing in the House of Commons, then perhaps the members would waste more time, (as the Government saw it), in dealing with estimates not already considered. So, the Appropriation Bill was held back until late Friday afternoon, in the hope that by that time we would have passed all the estimates. The members who are largely responsible for the prolonged debate were now enjoying the publicity they were receiving, and it became obvious to everyone that all the items could not be passed by Friday night. Therefore, reluctantly the Government brought in the Appropriation Bill, covering the items already passed to which the House of Commons gave quick approval, and at about five o'clock in the afternoon it was sent to the Senate for consideration by that Body.

In the meantime, of course, the Senators had had even a more frustrating experience than had the Members of the House of Commons. There was absolutely nothing before the Senate, and that Body had had nothing to do until this Bill was received from the House of Commons. Monday night, Tuesday night, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the Senators met, would adjourn for an hour or two, be summoned again, would recess again and meet again, always hopeful that the long awaited Appropriation Bill would come down from the House of Commons. It was well known that all the Senators were profoundly irritated at what they considered the ignominious treatment they had received during the week. However, this was not the first time they had been so irritated, and it was assumed that after some grumbling the Senators would give approval to the Bill. It must be remembered that the Senate cannot amend a money Bill, and this was a Money Bill. They can debate it, they can refuse it, but they cannot amend it. Therefore, as a matter of practice, throughout many long years, Governments have been accustomed to sending Money Bills to the Senate at a very late hour, and expecting to have them back again in fifteen or twenty minutes. But under the Rules, there must be unanimous consent to give second and third readings to a Bill in the Senate on the same day on which it is introduced. Senator Gratian O'Leary refused to give such consent, and stubbornly stuck to his guns. As a result, the Appropriation Bill is still on the Clerk's desk in the Senate, as I am dictating this report, and probably will be passed Monday night. Today, (Saturday), the officers of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, the officers of the Department of Finance, and I suspect, of the Bank of Canada, are meeting, trying to work out some arrangement whereby the Commission can borrow money without legislative authority, with which to pay the claimants who will be visiting all Unemployment Insurance offices in Canada on Monday. I expect they will be able to work out some formula. If not, I am not sure that there are going to be a good many thousand people in Canada on Monday very angry at everyone, not least of all the Government.

In the meantime, the Government still has more than one-third of its supplementary estimates still to receive consideration by the Committee of the Whole House. It is on that rather unhappy note that Parliament will be meeting on Monday, after the most frustrating week we have gone through in a long time. I had hoped to write something on the Dominion Provincial Conference, which also was a frustrating experience in Quebec this week, but space does not permit. However, perhaps my editors will allow two or three lines to give a quotation from Charles Lynch, the head of the Southam news service, and who most of you have seen and hear occasionally on television. Mr. Lynch started his column from Quebec with these words, "If there had been a war between the rest of Canada and Quebec, and Quebec had won, the peace terms would probably sound something like the demands placed on the table Tuesday by Premier John Lesage." It is rather ironical that after all the concessions the Government has made to Quebec, it should have received the treatment it did at this conference.

Everybody is ignorant, only on different subjects.

In Memoriam

LYNNE -- In loving memory of dear father, Lyman Pyne, who passed away April 4, 1962. When last we saw his smiling face he looked so fit and well.

Little did we know that day it would be his last farewell. He left so suddenly, his thoughts unknown.

But left a memory we are proud to own. Always remembered by son Harold, daughter-in-law, Pat and grandchildren, Debbie, Holly and Brenda. 33:1c

LYNNE -- In loving memory of dear father, Lyman Pyne, who passed away April 4, 1962. He was just a plain, dear father.

With a loving smile each day. Always trying to do for others. As he journeyed on his way. To those who have a father.

Treat him with love and care. You will never know his value. Till you see that vacant chair. Sadly missed by daughter Dora, son-in-law Joseph and grandchildren Donald, and Linda. 33:1c

LYNNE -- In loving memory of husband and father Lyman H. Pyne, who passed away April 4th, 1962.

Two years have passed since that sad day. When one we loved was called away. God took him home, it was His will. But in our hearts he's living still.

Always remembered by wife and sons, James and Carl. 33:1c

TIBERT -- In loving memory of my mother, Mrs. Mary J. Tibert who died April 20, 1958 and my brother Ray drowned April 7, 1957.

Gone but not forgotten by Mildred. 33:1p

PRIME -- In loving memory of William Randall Prime who passed away April 9, 1961. Gone dear father; gone forever.

How we miss your smiling face. But you left us to remember. None on earth can take your place. A happy home we once enjoyed.

How sweet the memory still. But death has left a loneliness. The world can never fill. Always remembered by son Merrill and daughter Sharon. 33:1c

TURNBULL -- I want to express my sincere thanks to Dr. D. G. Black and nurses and staff of Digby General Hospital to everyone who were so kind in sending me treats, cards, letters, etc. Ralph Turnbull. 33:1c

FRANKLAND -- I want to express my thanks to all those who were so thoughtful and kind to me and my family during my recent illness. Muriel Frankland, Weymouth, N.S. 33:1c

Retail Merchants Ask For Monday Closings

Manitoba division of the Retail Merchants' Association is petitioning Premier Duff Roblin for enactment of a nine-point program aimed at retaining the "sensible rules" developed over the last 50 years. In a covering letter sent to provincial M.L.A.s, along with a copy of the petition, M. M. Woods, Manitoba general manager, states:

"You will please note that the retail industry does not ask for grants, or for subsidies or for handouts of any kind. We don't even want a retail sales tax."

"We are just asking that the dozen grasping octopuses in our industry work under sensible rules as established in Manitoba for the past 50 years, rather than the 6,000 Manitoba retailers work under the rules of the 10 or 12 Johnny-come-latelys."

Legislation urged by the RMA includes:

A change in the Shop Regulations Act so that a 60 percent, instead of 75 percent, retailer petition can require passing of a closing bylaw.

An act requiring Monday closings, except during June, July and August and for the two weeks before Christmas. One night opening per week. Licensing of all retailers, making it illegal for manufacturers, wholesalers and distributors to sell to non-holders of retail licences.

An act that would "effectively prohibit all types of trading stamps and similar schemes."

A Fair Trade Act, requiring advertised prices be maintained, "with no restrictions, conditions or limits attached to the sale."

Beer sales in retail food stores and general stores selling food.

A government study of the "uneconomic over-building of retail stores and service stations and to enact legislation to prevent this."

School Inspector Addresses Closing

In an address given at the closing of the Vocational Evening School, Middleton, on Tuesday evening, Mr. Edwards, Inspector of Schools, commended the Middleton Schools for the program now offered the young people of Middleton and area. "No school of its kind in Nova Scotia offers more to meet the individual needs of the pupils," he said. "The Auxiliary classes recently established in both the Elementary and High Schools for pupils of the entire region greatly strengthen the program by giving needed assistance to the slower learners, and at the same time, by upgrading the level of instruction for pupils of average and above average ability. The non-college preparatory courses, or so-called General Courses now given in Grades 10, 11, and 12 in which Provincial Examinations are written, provide for the education of many pupils whose education otherwise would have terminated much earlier." Mr. Edwards noted with satisfaction that for the first time in history of the Middleton School the enrolments this year in Grades 11 and 12 are nearly equal, namely, 89 and 81. These statistics already prove the fact that the program is contributing in a very important way to the solving of Canada's major educational problem, the problem of early drop-outs. The non-college preparatory course, he said, is sound and provides a good general education for able boys and girls who are not interested in attending university.

Continuing, Mr. Edwards emphasized the importance of providing Vocational Education opportunities for all youth. Composite High Schools, he said, may be in part the answer in larger urban centers, but in rural Annapolis and Digby Counties a Vocational High School, with wide offerings, is a must. The development of Industrial and Home Economics Departments of our Regional High Schools could provide Vocational opportunities on a limited scale, for Junior High School students to a much greater extent than they do today, and thus aid further in the solution of our school drop-out problems. Vocational Education, however, in itself is not the complete answer to our problem. General Education, he emphasized, is vital, for in our complex society with its rapidly changing technology, our business world offers little to the young man or woman with little general education. The development of the program outlined by Mr. Edwards would provide further education for four groups of young people.

(1) Students who pass matriculation, but have difficulty with the university program.
(2) Students who pass matriculation, but whose standing is not sufficiently high for university education.
(3) Students who cannot make matriculation.
(4) Students enrolled in Junior High School grades.

It is unfortunate, Mr. Edwards added, that the further development of our educational program is dependent upon dollars and cents. The problem facing our Boards, Councils, Government is how to finance education, how to collect money fairly, and how to distribute wisely. We cannot afford, he said, to restrict or to fail to increase our investment in human resources. Otherwise we shall continue to fail to educate the majority of our youth. This, he said, would be short sighted and would constitute a social injustice.

Beckman - Marshall

A pretty wedding was solemnized at Grace United Church, Digby, on Saturday evening when Carol Lynn Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Marshall, Digby became the bride of Carl Beckman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morley Smeltzer, Windsor, N. S. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. R. H. Hughes. Potted chrysanthemums adorned the church. The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a two piece suit of pink soufflé wool. She wore white accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Attending the bride was Miss Marilee Westcott, Ross, way, attired in a beige suit and white accessories. Her corsage was also of pink and white carnations.

William Whitman, Digby was the groom's best man and ushers were Kendall Abramson and Gary Winchester, of Digby.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. J. M. Wallis, rendered the vocal selection, "Lord, Who Didst At Cana's Wedding Feast", to the composition of Shelter. She was accompanied by Mrs. Elton Arnold, church organist, who provided the wedding music.

The bride's mother wore a dress of blue peau de soie. Her corsage was in pink and white. Mrs. Smeltzer, the groom's mother, was attired in a two piece flowered ensemble and her corsage was of yellow mums.

Letter to the Editor

Digby, N. S.
April 3 1961

Editor,
Digby Courier.

Dear Mrs. Wallis,

Regarding the important question of town of Digby store hours, days, or part days for stores being open or closed in our town, there is of course one best answer to the problem, and, of course we should try hard to solve the problem in the best possible way. I note by the April 2 Courier that seven store keepers publicly stated their stores will be open all day on Saturdays.

With a little give and take it should not be too hard, nor take too long, to get between 80 or 90 per cent of the Digby store management to make public their support for a certain overall policy, if that policy appears to be fair and beneficial to the majority of all concerned. And, as we know, the customer is a very important part of THE ALL concerned.

What should be the policy to which most all store management should agree? Is it not true that, for the majority concerned, Saturday afternoons are potentially better for business in Digby town than Wednesday afternoons? Even so, are not Wednesday afternoons potentially good for business, for the majority, during at least three months of the year, June, through August. And, in the matter of attracting customers, it is very true, that each store that is open at any time helps to attract customers for the other stores that are open at the same time. Of course each store manager should regulate the number of employees necessary for good service, and yet, with an eye to economy, should not overstaff. However, with any worthwhile increase in business, wages for at least some employees could change for the better.

Digby town has the potential to be a growing shopping center for a large area - let us not lose our present opportunity! Much has been lost in the past through lack of cooperation. 80 to 90% cooperation between Digby store keepers would ensure real success.

I wish to advocate that Digby store keepers publicly show their willingness to cooperate for the greatest measure of success for all concerned as a whole, by listing their names to a declaration as follows:

We the undersigned store keepers will support the following stated "open store policy". Our stores will be open for business to the public, during September through May, all day, every day, hours as usual, excepting Wednesday afternoons and Sundays; and, during June through August, all day, every day, hours as usual, excepting Sundays. Friday nights, with usual hours, will be our regular open night the year 'round.

Let us hope for best results.

what can bread do for guys like me?"

Frankly, bread can't do a darned thing for babies... real milk-drinking, shoulder-burping babies!

But, once they become active—start burning up energy—get their first wee lick of grown-up foods... then bread can do plenty! Ben's Holsum Buttermilk Bread; soft, white, sliced—carefully made from enriched flour—can play an important part in diets designed to replace youngsters' burned up energy. It has fine flavor too! Mrs. Shaw Heads Campaign

The executive of the Weymouth Unit and District of the Canadian Cancer Society met to conduct the regular monthly meeting of the Branch of the Society and to organize the fund-raising campaign for April.

Mrs. John Shaw, of Weymouth North, was appointed chairman of the campaign. Unit president, Mr. Gordon Campbell, in naming the new chairman, said that under the vigorous leadership of Mrs. Shaw, and considering her past experience in this field, it is hoped to have the most successful educational and fund-raising campaign ever held in the district.

In accepting the top post in this area, the chairman called on everyone to do his part in the fight against cancer. She noted that the disease will eventually strike thousands of Canadians now living, according to present rates. All of us, she said, either directly or indirectly are destined to be touched by the suffering caused by cancer. Therefore, all of us must unite against the disease.

She noted the objective of the campaign: "As part of our educational campaign we seek to persuade more adults to have an annual checkup by a physician and to learn the danger signals that may mean cancer." These two important steps can prevent needless cancer deaths, she said.

It was pointed out that the fund-raising aspect of the campaign provides the support for the Society's programs of research, education and service to cancer patients. And indeed it is through the co-operation and personal effort that this disease will be conquered.

Last year the provincial quota for Nova Scotia was $115,000.00, while the amount raised was $127,326.00. The national amount to be raised this month is $3,964,000.00. Of this amount, the Weymouth Unit is expected to raise $1,750.00. The amount expected from the Digby area last year, it was noted, was down from other years. This was due probably to the fund-raised for the new much needed Digby General Hospital. However, it is hoped that this year Digby will come up to expectation and that 1964 will be the most successful campaign for the Weymouth Unit and District of the Canadian Cancer Society.

(4) THAT the resulting more direct approach to both ends of the causeway would eliminate the hazards and risk of accidents on the hills and steep turns of the present bridge approaches, especially during winter highway conditions. Several near serious accidents have occurred during the past year.

(5) THAT the four and one-half mile lake formed by the construction of this causeway would provide a desired, constant water level and excellent fishing and boating to attract tourists to this very scenic area as well as improve approximately nine miles of lake shore line to become excellent sites for summer homes and cottages.

(6) THAT the maintenance cost of this causeway is practically nil as compared with present bridge up keep which when combined with other potential makes for an economy of construction worthy of consideration.

In closing, may we repeat THAT the consensus of opinion and earnest plea of all organizations and the general public using the present narrow bridge is THAT a sincere and immediate survey be undertaken in an effort leading toward the construction of this causeway at the earliest possible moment.

The brief was presented by a delegation consisting of: Allison E. Denton, President of the Bear River Board of Trade; Howard Yorkie, Vice-President, Bear River Board of Trade; Charles Haliburton, President of the Digby Board of Trade; William Troupe, Vice-President Digby Board of Trade; Graham Saunders, delegate, Digby Board of Trade; Clyde L. Baltzer, President Annapolis Royal Board of Trade; Leigh M. Marshall, Chairman Fundy Trail Commission, Annapolis Royal Board of Trade; Kenneth E. Drift Bottle Found In Bay At Westport

While strolling along the Bay of Fundy shore at Westport, Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn Thurber discovered a bottle bobbing about on the water. Mr. Thurber recovered it, and found a card asking that the finder of the bottle please notify the Biological Station at St. Andrews, N. B.

Last week Mr. Thurber received a letter from the Biological Station thanking him for returning the card. The letter stated that the bottle was released on January 7, 1964, from the Lurcher Lightship off the coast of Yarmouth.

The bottle was released for the purpose of determining the current. Mr. Thurber found the bottle on February 26, about a quarter-mile north-east of Western Light, Westport.

FUNDY BOARD

Mr. Powell continued further to say: "My contention is that a much needed shelter harbour can be created here by a causeway in Petite Passage only a short distance from the main fishing grounds of Western Nova Scotia. The only harbours for this fleet at present are Yarmouth and Digby, long runs for protection for a sudden gale coming up in the mouth of the Bay of Fundy.

Another feature, which I should be investigated is the possibility of tidal power using the tide time difference of the Fundy. No place in the world offers such an opportunity. With a causeway at Petite Passage with a power plant and a causeway at Avon River incorporating a power plant — the two plants could possibly be worked as a single unit into the grid system which is to be extended into Western Nova Scotia. The tidal time differences between the two areas is one hour and thirty-five minutes. The causeway complex, if surveyed, could be done with these objectives: harbour, electric power, base for telephone and power lines and a traffic lane which could then be within the financial possibility of the Department of Highways for its share of the cost."

Mr. Powell said that money allotted for survey of a causeway project over Petite Passage could well add to the economic development of the whole area, assisting the fishing industry, tourist industry, power development and transportation facilities. He said that the area had received few major assists in the past and he felt it his duty to pursue the problems confronting the Digby constituency. He felt, Mr. Powell said, that the reading public was misled as to the possibilities of a permanent crossing at Petite Passage by the article which appeared in the daily paper as an interview with the Minister of Highways and his staff.

Mr. Powell quoted figures stating that Petite Passage at low water from Mack's Point to East Ferry shore, directly opposite, is a distance of 1,600 feet. The depth of water at this place is 6 to 8 fathoms (36 to 48 ft.). Off Mack's Point is a deep hole, not large in diameter, which has a depth of 100 feet. This causes a bore or rip-tide, along with the back eddy from the point.

The meeting with the Fundy Board delegates preceded a Digby County Progressive Conservative Association executive meeting at which Mr. Pyke was also present.

MENTAL HEALTH

During the year an evening's program, featuring a panel discussion on mental health, had been sponsored by the association.

The audited financial statement revealed that the association had met its commitments toward the operating expenses of the mental health centre and had ended the year with a small balance.

Victor Cardoza was re-elected president of the association, with Mrs. M. P. Gott as vice-president. Mrs. N. M. Armstrong was re-elected secretary and Edward Twohig was elected treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors were Miss M. Tupper, Mrs. Richard Baxter, Mrs. E. M. Wallis, Mr. Andrew Williamson, Rev. Father Stokes, Rev. H. S. Martin, Mrs. L. F. Doiron, Digby; Mrs. Cecil Raymond, Smith's Cove; Rev. Dr. H. Denton, Little River; Rev. W. H. Logan, Clements-port; Mr. Fred Withers and Mrs. Gordon Campbell, Weymouth.

It was decided a meeting of the executive and directors would be held shortly, at which plans for the campaign would be finalized and directors representing other sections of the county named.

In speaking of the roads in Digby County, Mr. Powell said he had come to the conclusion that there are three major problems viz Bear River bridge, Weymouth bridge and Petite Passage. On these he said he had made himself clear both in and outside the House of Assembly. The matter of straightening the road near the approach to Victoria Bridge he felt would be dealt with when the Bear River project is tackled. These three big concerns, Mr. Powell said, are going to cost large sums of capital money and he felt other trunk highway problems must be relegated to secondary consideration. Improvement on county roads are financed in a different way however, he said.

Mr. Powell explained the purpose of disabled pensions and outlined the qualifications necessary to obtain a pension. He made it plain that he had no power in getting a disabled pension for a person who does not qualify under the act on the regulations. He further stated that he considers it a duty and pleasure to help those who are entitled to the allowances to obtain proper forms and ask when the case justifies, to have reconsideration.

In speaking of education, Mr. Powell told his audience that education claims the largest share of Provincial and Municipal budgets but even at that Nova Scotia is spending only an average amount per person on education as compared with other provinces of Canada. He said that we are at an age when it is almost impossible for a young man to get yearly employment without an education. Unskilled labor demands are shrinking and the tradesman, professional man and the technician demands are so great that we cannot meet them with the young men available. Mr. Powell continued by showing the advantages available in Digby County by the special classes for upgrading of adult education at the Digby Regional High School and at Conway.

In introducing his address, Mr. Powell related some of the circumstances which brought him into the political field. He related the story of a former student who said of him "I went to school to him and he never backs down from a promise." He said he never felt prouder of his success as a teacher than hearing that statement and it warned him that if he were to hold the respect of his former students he must be short on promises in his political life and prove to them that it is not necessary to change his philosophy to enter the field of politics. He said he is not the type of politician who flim-flams with whatever group he finds himself at the moment and have a different story for different people. If I must curry favor, he said, "by doing things against my better judgement to be popular, then I am afraid you are stuck with an unpopular M.L.A."

Assistant Minister

Keith Churchill, son of Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Churchill, Windsor, formerly of Digby, will be assistant minister at the Baptist Church in Amherst.

Speaker Relies On Youth

"I feel we must not overlook, with cynical eye, the youth of today for they are our only hope. What is good in these frightening changes of our world must be sorted out by them (youth) and saved from that which is attractive, but damaging in our society," said R. Baden Powell, M.L.A., on Saturday in addressing the Federal Superannuates at a branch organization meeting which takes in the area from Meteghan River to Cambridge Station. The meeting was held at Annapolis Royal.

Mr. Powell, in his address, reviewed the many changes in life during the lifetime of the present superannuates and the fears which accompany the changes. There is fear, he said, from the uncertainty and the speed of the life that has grown up around us - sweeping us along in its wake.

The speaker noted the changes in life on the farm, transportation changes, the increased educational requirements for employment, the different mode of pleasure, the increased demands of youth, the increase in taxation and the decline in the purchasing power of the dollar. What was once the amount of our salary is now considered the legitimate extension for income tax, he said. We are carried on a world wide tide of events Mr. Powell continued, and cannot delay the haste with which we are proceeding, but we must retain our sanity and change our philosophy of life. We must analyze ourselves and then find our place in this "hastecrazed" age, the speaker said. We must play our part, he advised, and draw upon our experience to make some imprint on the age which he describes as racing with the bit in its teeth to win a mystical finish line or to win a place in history with decadent Rome. Moral, religious, personal values have changed and are confusing even to those who are bringing about the changes.

Mr. Powell stressed the part which the youth must take in sorting out the good in our society but said it also falls to the lot of those who are in retirement to get a true perspective of all the changes and help to sort out the truth from the glitter.

In concluding, Mr. Powell said that the lot of the person in retirement has changed. Yesterday, parents found security in the chimney corner of their children's homes. Today this security has been taken over for administration by the state in its various bureaus and departments. It is necessary that like citizens band together for fellowship and from this fellowship elect a spokesman to carry their thoughts and ideas to the departments which administer the financial security of their lives.

Also speaking at the organization meeting was John Marshall, M.L.A.

Aims of the National Association of Superannuates are upward adjustments of pensions for all retired civil servants, widows pensions raised from 50 per cent to 75 per cent of what their husbands received and equal representation on the Pension Board.

Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Doiron have returned from Calgary where they attended the wedding of their daughter, Louise, to Marilyn Lloyd Moore, a Calgary barrister.

Water Fowl Die In Bay

Residents of Brier Island report that thousands of water fowl have died, possibly as a result of oil pollution in the waters of the Bay of Fundy. The deaths have occurred over a period of several months.

In the meantime federal officials at Sackville, N. B., have started an investigation into similar deaths off the south-western coast of New Brunswick.

It is believed that oil in the waters may have been caused by ships dumping oil from their bilges overboard, as they pass up and down the Bay. Polluting the water with oil is a federal offence.

At Halifax last week several young seals died from having their coats coated with oil. One of them came ashore on Water Street and an effort was made to clean it up, but all efforts failed to save its life.

Quartette To Conduct Service

The Digby Baptist Male Quartette will conduct the evening service at the Baptist Church in Plymouth, Yarmouth County, this Sunday.

A sing-song, led by Paul Snow, will begin the program. Wallace Hodgson will give the scripture reading, and Donald Brown will offer prayer. The evening's message will be given by Jack Brittain. Mrs. Jean Olson, accompanist for the quartette, will provide the music for the service.

Possible 200 Members

C. M. Levy reported at the Digby Board of Trade meeting on Tuesday night that he had made a list of a possible 200 members in Digby Town and vicinity for the Digby Board of Trade. An all out drive for memberships will be conducted by the membership committee, Mr. Levy and Graham Saunders.

Several matters in discussion on Tuesday evening were left incomplete, resulting in a meeting called for Wednesday, April 22 at the Nova Scotia House of Commons. This meeting also includes with the membership drive.

Mr. Saunders was asked to outline the Digby Branch of the Atlantic Society to discuss the views on eliminating all or part of the boulevard in order to make traffic near the Salvation Army Citadel more safe and provide more parking space. Suggestions for beautifying the area were also discussed in case a decision was made.

Charles Haliburton, Mike Finigan and Greg Gillatt were named a committee to secure a Board of Trade sponsored princess for the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival. A dance to choose a princess will be sponsored by the Digby Lions Club on April 24.

It was announced by the president Charles Haliburton, that the Digby Board of Trade would play host organization to the semi-annual meeting of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade at the Digby Branch Canadian Legion Hall on May 6. Committee in charge consists of Mr. Haliburton, Ralph McIntyre and "Club" Connell.

Asked to sit on the proposed Digby Branch of the Canadian Film Council were to be Allan Pyne and Robert Marshall.

Names suggested for a Digby Sign Committee were H. G. Webber and Stewart MacNaughton. Ralph MacIntyre presented the draft of a sign drawn up by Lloyd Thibodeau. It was decided that business firms would be contacted to donate towards signs and that a Fund Raising Dinner be sponsored for the purpose also.

Ralph McIntyre reported on a recent report that a serious lay off at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis base had been made. On investigation he had found no serious lay off but that presently there were only 500 new recruits at the base while there was accommodation for 3,000. It was suggested the Digby Board of Trade and the Digby Town Council make a concerted effort to see that the base remain here to the advantage of the area.

Praises New Hospital Decor And Facilities

Mrs. Ina Dillon, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Digby General Hospital, was hostess for the April meeting.

Tribute was paid to the late Mrs. J. Vian Andrews for her interest, untiring energy, and zeal as a member of the Auxiliary.

Mrs. Grace Edwards gave a progress report on the new Digby General Hospital. She felt that the work was progressing rapidly, that all those who have had any part in promoting this worthy project may well be exceedingly proud of the outcome. She noted that there would be a room on the ground floor where the Auxiliary would be holding their regular meetings. A considerable discussion of a Membership Drive was held, both because of the additional facilities, and the additional services that will be required of the Auxiliary when the new hospital is opened.

Plans were laid for the Annual Flower and Nightingale Tea to be held in May at the Nova Scotia House of Commons. It was reported that the March 14th service at the Digby General Hospital was a success. The program included a play, a song, and a collection for the Digby General Hospital.

Mr. Powell was asked to outline the Digby Branch of the Atlantic Society to discuss the views on eliminating all or part of the boulevard in order to make traffic near the Salvation Army Citadel more safe and provide more parking space. Conservation Director Passes

The funeral was held Saturday in Springfield, Annapolis County, for Clarence A. Mason, director of wildlife conservation in Nova Scotia. Mr. Mason, a native of Springfield, died at his home in Dartmouth late Wednesday night at the age of 63. He had been in ill health for more than a year.

He received his early education from Acadia University where he enrolled in 1923, and was elected president of the freshman class. In 1926 he received his Arts degree.

Following graduation he joined the department of forests and game, and two years later, when the department merged with the crown lands department, to become the present lands and forests department. He laid out sanctuaries at Tobieville, Liscomb and Waverley. He was often an outspoken advocate of better conservation measures. In 1935 he was appointed director of game sanctuaries, and held this position until 1937.

From this date until 1957 he conducted lumbering and logging operations in Quebec. In 1957 he returned to the department of lands and forests, and held the position of chief of the state of biologists, which is a position of great responsibility. Lionettes Sponsor Tea

A Daffodil Tea was sponsored on Saturday afternoon by the Digby Lionettes and held in the Lions Hall, Queen St. Mrs. Douglas Smith and Mrs. Louis Ecker poured.

A special feature of the tea was modelling of new Spring hats, with Miss Hilda Campbell commentator for the models. Carrying away this part of the show were the children, including a two year old and a nineteen month old. They were respectively, Sandra Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Johnson, and Joy Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fleet. Other children were Nancy MacPherson, Heather Connel, Stella and Heather Robertson, and Tonya Alger. Adult models were Mrs. S. Webber, Mrs. Wynn Moses, Mrs. Arnold MacCallum, Mrs. Elwin McKeay, Mrs. M. Hadley and Mrs. Karen Barnes.

Entertainment was provided by Miss L. Wade, vocal soloist, Miss G. Hall and Miss D. Wade, vocal soloist, and Miss D. Wade, vocal soloist. The Daffodil Tea was a success and the proceeds will be used for the purchase of a new piano for the Digby Curling Club.

C.G.I.T. Rally

Last Saturday, a bright spring day was brightened further in Digby by the appearance of about sixty wide smiles, as Canadian Girls in Training from Digby County gathered for one day rally.

Sessions began at 9:00 a.m. in the Digby Baptist Church with girls registering from Westport, Sandy Cove, Mink Cove, Bear River, Acadiaville and two Digby Churches, Grace United Church and United Baptist Church.

A warm welcome was extended by Rev. H. S. Hartlin. Morning sessions included Bible Study, discussion groups under the leadership of Rev. William Howie, Naval Chaplain at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis.

At noon the sessions moved to the Grace United Church where dinner was served to the girls and leaders by ladies of the United and Baptist Churches.

The afternoon began with a study on the C.G.I.T. Purpose, led by Mrs. R. H. Hughes, Miss Edith Evenden, Mrs. Jack Whalley, and Mrs. John Till. Assisting in the discussion groups were Mrs. Wikerson, Mrs. Lent and Mrs. Raymond Robichau of Westport. Another interesting period was "Sway Shop" of ideas and projects carried on in the various groups.

The group then returned to the Baptist Church for an indoor "campfire" of songs, singing and supper.

The day was brought to a close with a worship service in the church under the leadership of Mrs. Hughes, followed by the traditional friendship circle and taps.

Miss Graham has had many campaigns in Canada and U.S.A. She is known as being exceptional in her preaching. This is verified by the fact that she has led many people to the Lord. She is also a talented singer.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Landers, of Sandford, N.S., are expected to participate periodically in the services with their musical talent.

Will Plant Twenty Trees

The April meeting of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society was held at the home of Mrs. Mary Robert.

The meeting was mainly concerned with plans for and progress reports on the District Meeting of the Nova Scotia Association of Garden Clubs, to be held at the Digby Regional High School on the evening of May 13th. At this meeting the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society, and the H.M.C.S. Duke Garden Club, of Bear River, will be hostesses to the Champlain Garden Club, of Annapolis Royal, Weymouth Garden Club, La Jolande Garden Club, of Meteghan, Hibernia Garden Club, and Lake Vaughan Garden Club, of Raymondville.

Miss Louise Daley reported that the Tree Planting Committee had ordered 20 trees to be planted around the town, and that the planter was being hired to plant them.

Special Speaker

Rev. R. H. Waterman, retired bishop of the Diocese of Nova Scotia, was the celebrant and preacher at a parish communion service at Trinity Anglican Church in Digby Sunday morning. Since his retirement last year Bishop Waterman has been living at Smith's Cove, Digby County.

To Teach At Yarmouth

It has been announced by Mr. Lamont, superintendent of the Yarmouth schools, that Bernard W. Manzer, of Weymouth North, has been appointed to the staff of the Yarmouth Consolidated Memorial High School for 1964. He will be teaching Grade 11 English. Mr. Manzer, a 1948 graduate of Acadia University, is at present teaching at the Annapolis Royal Regional Academy.

Claire Doiron Wins Festival Cup

Miss Claire Doiron, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Doiron, Digby, is the winner of the Digby Music Festival Cup, to be presented at the concert of the festival this month. Miss Doiron had the highest mark of 88 for her piano solo, Nonchalante, by Gayler.

Runners up were Misses Carol Kaye and Dorene Morrell, with marks of 87 each. Miss Kaye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kaye, had a mark of 87 on two counts piano solo "Minute in G" and piano solo "Canadian Serenade". Miss Morrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morrell, got her 87 points on the piano solo "Country Hoe Down".

Marks for the competitive numbers in the festival ranged from 78 to 88.

Thirty-four numbers will be heard at the concert, which starts at the D.R.H.S. auditorium tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

The cup is presented by the Festival Committee in memory of the late Elton G. Arnold, who until his death was president of the Digby Music Festival and was one of the first to be interested in a Music Festival for Digby.

V.O.N. Resigns

The resignation of Miss Edith Evenden, nurse-in-charge at the Digby Local Association Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada, was regretfully accepted at a meeting of the Board held on Tuesday afternoon. The resignation is effective June 18th.

Miss Laura Wall, district supervisor, visited the Digby association last month and a palliative student will be here on nursing observation to ward a public health course. Miss Evenden made 171 visits in March, 128 being nursing visits.

Sworn In As Fisheries Minister

Trade and Fisheries Minister, E. A. Mason, was sworn in as the new Nova Scotia's minister of fisheries at a ceremony in the Board Chamber of the House of Commons.

The Hon. H. MacQuinn, Minister of the Supreme Court, was sworn in as the new Nova Scotia's minister of justice at a ceremony in the Board Chamber of the House of Commons.

Mr. Manson has been responsible for fisheries operations in the province, which came under his department of over that job in 1961, relinquishing the mines portfolio the same year.

Mr. Manson was born and educated in Port Maitland, Yarmouth County, and is a graduate with Bachelor of Music Degree from Trinity University and with a Master of Music Degree from the University of Rochester, Rochester, N. Y. Before taking on his present post he had taught in Middleton, Greenwood, Dartmouth and had been with the Adult Education Division of the Department of Education.

The Festival got away on Monday morning with a piano duet by Nancy Jayne and Barbara Black, Digby, followed by Joan McCullough, Riverview, and Valerie Sullivan, Havelock.

On Tuesday evening Mr. Ellis was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, King St., when members of the Digby Music Festival Committee were guests.

Plans were made Monday night by the executive of the Digby Mental Health Association to conduct a campaign for funds beginning April 27. The County, with the objective of $3,000, is to be divided into five zones or districts, with a convener for each.

The Psychiatric Clinic has moved into its new quarters on Warwick St. and plans were made to hold Open House and Afternoon Tea on April 29.

Adjudicates Festival

Much to the pleasure of the adjudicator, Mr. Vernon Ellis, Professor of Music Education at the Nova Scotia Teachers' College, Yarmouth, the family numbers entered in the Digby Music Festival are growing each year. This year, the 14th annual Digby Music Festival saw 23 different family numbers entered. The family entries were begun just a few years ago and have continued to attract the interest of the audience.

The Festival performances were completed on Wednesday afternoon. The stars of the Festival will be heard in a concert tonight when a cup will be presented to the Festival winner for the highest mark in the competitive numbers. The cup was donated by the Festival committee in memory of the late Elton G. Arnold, who was an ardent promoter of the Festival and its president for a number of years.

The Festival opened on Monday morning with the president, William Marshall, presiding over the opening ceremonies.

Mayor Clayton D. Snow spoke at the opening ceremony, extending a welcome to the participants and the audience. Mayor Snow said that Digby is proud of the spirit and especially in this days of stress, it would need music to relieve the tension of people caught up in the fast pace of modern life.

The Digby Music Festival is a tradition that has been going on for many years and it is a pleasure to have it back in Digby.

About This and That

Watch Those Bicycles

We travelled on Sunday across country to the South Shore of Nova Scotia. In some parts of Annapolis County there was as much as four feet in height of snow still banked along the highway. In some parts of Lunenburg Co. there wasn't a sign of snow to be seen. Ice covered the lakes and part of the rivers in places. Naturally, the ice at this time of the year has weakened. So, right now we might as well put in our warning to children in our own readership area of the danger of walking on ice covered ponds, lakes or rivers at this time of the year.

Despite the snow piled high and the ice covered lakes, Sunday was a warm day. People were sitting out on lawn chairs and door steps in several places and children were seen on the streets either in only a light sweater for outer attire or just dresses or shirts.

But whatever other signs of Spring were evident there was one sign of Spring one could not miss. It seemed that every "kid" in every village was caught with the Spring bicycle fever. And in some cases, it would seem, much has yet to be learned about bicycle safety.

There are various practices of young riders that constitute reckless riding — dangerous riding. One is taking a passenger — usually another youngster — on the handlebars or the rear of the bike. This may throw the rider off balance, obstruct his pedalling or his view, or the passenger may slip off the machine. In one case on Sunday we saw a young boy taking a child around a year old for a bicycle ride. He held the child in one arm and used the other arm to steer the bike. A dangerous practice, indeed.

There are other dangerous practices, although not all were in evidence by the bicycle riders we saw on Sunday.

Riding two or more abreast along the highway or street is extremely dangerous. In order to avoid the cyclists who are taking up far too much room, a motorist trying to pass may collide with the wavering, erratic boy on the bike or with another car. Single file is the legal formation for the bikes.

A dangerous trick is that of carrying a transistor radio, held to one ear by one hand, while the other hand guides the handlebar. This is dangerous on two counts. Attention is distracted and control of vehicle is also lessened.

Hitching a tow on a truck or car is dangerous, too. If the child falls from his bicycle and tangles with the wheels, he may spend the rest of his life unable to ride a bicycle, or any other vehicle.

Bicycles were invented in the horse and buggy days when traffic was no problem. In those early days little thought was given to safety on a bicycle. A bicycle was pretty well safe without thought. Not so today. But even in this age of cars, a youngster's bicycle is his status symbol and often he proudly rides it without fear of danger. They do not realize this simple two-wheeled machine has caused fatal accidents, not only to riders but also to motorists and pedestrians. For this reason we say to adults and children alike — "Watch Those Bicycles".

The Cancer Problem

(Contributed)

Are we closing in on the Cancer Problem? There are hopeful indications. Great gains have been made. Greater gains are to be made now.

Research has produced major advances in recent years. Scientists are coming up with new and encouraging findings. This accounts for the feeling — as one scientist said — that cancer might be conquered in our time.

The hopeful facts are that this year the lives of thousands of people will be saved from cancer, people who would have died of the disease had they developed it a decade ago. Another hopeful fact is that half of those who develop cancer in any year can be saved if the disease is diagnosed early and treated promptly. A half century ago, few cancer patients had any hope of cure. Today, there are more than one million persons alive who have been cured of cancer.

Despite this steady progress against cancer, the problem remains a major one. It is estimated that if present rates continue, one-fourth of our population now alive will develop this disease.

Stark as this figure is, something can be done now. We are saving only one out of three who develop cancer. We could save one out of two. As the Canadian Cancer Society says, an annual health checkup would go a long way in saving the one out of two. This means getting to your doctor in time.

As for the other half, only future research can save them. A vast research effort, supported in the main, by the Canadian Cancer Society, is being made to find ways of saving the one out of two who cannot now be saved. But the research effort goes beyond this. It is seeking ways of preventing all cancer through vaccine or other means. It is hunting for drugs that will cure cancer.

Despite the progress made against cancer, we cannot afford to stand still. The pace of research and education — our two most potent weapons against cancer — must be stepped up if we are to realize the hope the future promises, based on the facts we have today.

Voluntary public-supported health agencies have been a major factor in combatting the disease. They have offered the public an avenue to express its deep concern for the people's health. The SALK vaccine against polio is a good example of what can be accomplished in our time.

If a vaccine against cancer is found — and all of us hope that it will be found — it may be your dollars contributed to the CANADIAN CANCER SOCIETY during its annual April campaign helped make it possible.

Vacation In Nova Scotia

There's no age limit for enjoying Nova Scotia's infinite recreational resources.

Even the youngest toddler can be seen following his elders down a country road, a home-made fishing rod over his shoulder.

In fact, you're never too young — or too old — to appreciate the recreational facilities that abound in this sea-side province.

With more than 4,000 miles of coastline, the majority of summer sports in Nova Scotia are naturally connected with some aspect of the sea.

For many years sailing ships from Nova Scotia travelled the seven seas and made this province famous the world over. Sleek white sails can still be seen in Nova Scotia waters, but they perform a different function for the schooners and yachts. Sailing is becoming one of the most popular sports and from early May to late October the snow-white sails billow on bays and harbors.

Some of the finest deep-sea fishing in the world is available to angling enthusiasts. Site of the Intercollegiate Game Fish Seminar and Tournament at Wedgeport, the province attracts visitors seeking the bluefin tuna or other game fish that inhabit the Atlantic northern waters.

Fishing is not confined to the open Atlantic. Thousands of lakes, streams and rivers provide a plentiful playground for anglers seeking trout, salmon or bass.

The whole family can take advantage of the many sandy beaches with which the province is generously endowed. And there's nothing as exhilarating as a dip in the Atlantic, or if you prefer fresh water, you won't have to go far to find lakes and pools for your daily swim. Other popular water sports are water skiing, skin diving, speedboat racing and canoeing.

The combination of spectacular scenery and well-planned courses makes golfing one of Nova Scotia's most enjoyable sports. The province has four 18-hole and 21 nine-hole courses. An additional 18-hole course is under construction.

The outstanding event of the 1964 golfing season in Nova Scotia will be the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association tournament at Halifax's Ashburn Golf Club, Aug. 13-15.

While swimmers and sailors bask in the sun children in the town of Kentville can be seen toting their ice skates to the arena. Here, for two months, artificial ice makes possible a hockey and figure skating school for youngsters from many parts of Canada and the United States. Expert instruction is given by former National Hockey League stars. Regular skating periods are also available for area residents.

Tennis enthusiasts are among the first sportsmen to start playing each summer and the province's abundant supply of good courts provide ample space for pursuit of this pastime.

If you prefer spectator sports, several active baseball and softball leagues are in action each summer, and regular night games are scheduled for teams in Nova Scotia's senior baseball league.

Have you applied for your Social Insurance Number?

Your government is issuing Social Insurance Number Cards in place of the unemployment insurance numbers that most employed people have had until now. The new numbers will help government to use modern office methods for greater efficiency in handling unemployment insurance, and also other social benefits such as proposed pension plans.

For these reasons, you are invited to apply for a Social Insurance Number, even if you are not a contributor to the unemployment insurance plan.

If you haven't yet applied, here's what you do.

IF YOU ARE AN EMPLOYEE your employer will give you an application form. Fill it out and return to your employer promptly.

IF YOU ARE UNEMPLOYED and drawing benefit you will complete an application form when you report to the Unemployment Insurance Commission in person or by mail.

IF YOU ARE AN EMPLOYER registered with the Commission, you will receive application forms automatically. If NOT registered with the Commission, please get in touch with your local U.I.C. office and application forms will be sent to you. Distribute application forms to your employees, have them completed and return them together, not individually, to the Commission.

Views Of Acadians Given Commission

(Chronicle-Herald)
A desire by English speaking Acadians in this area to enter into a closer union with their French-speaking fellow citizens was the tone of the afternoon discussion of the Royal Commission on Bilingualism and Biculturalism held at Yarmouth Memorial High School.

Presiding over the sessions were Royal Commission members Frank R. Scott, dean of the law faculty, McGill University; Jean Louis Gagnon, Montreal journalist and broadcaster; Jean Marchand, president, Confederation of National Trade Unions, Quebec, with Neil M. Morrison, former dean of Joseph E. Atkinson College, York University, Toronto, as secretary.

The need for a French radio-TV network was stressed by groups in both morning and afternoon sessions as about 75 people comprising five groups engaged in lively and sometimes heated discussions.

Reporting for one group, Robert Killam, of Yarmouth, said his group was agreed that the quality of the French language in the district of Clare, Digby County, was superior to that of French village in Yarmouth County.
This was due to the presence of St. Anne's College in Church Point.

French students, it was found, did as well as in many cases better in English examinations than did their English counterparts. It was also found that many English people were not too concerned with French culture while on the other hand French speaking residents were very much interested in English culture and language.

Mrs. Florence MacConnell, Yarmouth, said her group was of the opinion that much more emphasis should be placed on French culture including such things as cooking and the Acadian Festival held annually in the district of Clare.

This group also thought that large groups of both cultures should assemble socially in order to become better acquainted and therefore more aware of each other's feelings.

It was stated that there was very little contact between the Acadians of this area and residents of Quebec, and it was felt that an exchange program of students as exist between Ontario and Quebec would be beneficial if applied here between English and Acadian students.

The Acadian people, it was noted, did not wish to lose their mother tongue. It should be remembered, this report said, that the Acadians were the first to colonize this part of the country.

Forty people from Yarmouth town, county, and the district of Clare, Digby County, participated in the morning session, being divided into four panel groups to discuss local situations.

In panel reports given the commission following the morning session, Mrs. Jean Pell, well known radio writer, on behalf of her group, said it was evident that many French people were having difficulty maintaining their language because of constant

Digby Courier

THURSDAY, APRIL 16, 1964

ly expanding English radio and television.

And French speakers from the Clare area said that Church Point, recognized as the French cultural centre of the predominantly French area, did not have the benefit of French radio.

In the Clare district, with a 10,000 Acadian population, 75 per cent could not get good reception from the French repeater stations.

Gerard d'Entremont, staff member of St. Anne's College, reporting for another group, said communications between French and English peoples in the area were easy to maintain economically but were seldom met socially. However, there was no discrimination evident in industry and employment, he noted.

Over the years, it said, it had become a necessity for the French minority to learn English in order to take their place in the cultural and business life of the community.

Robert Killam, a former mayor of Yarmouth, representing another group, said that Yarmouth might have a slight religious division but not a racial one.

It was stated that shops and factories in French areas had French speaking staffs who correspond in English.
The group felt the quality of French would be improved in schools with better teachers and an earlier start.

Dr. V. K. Rideout, reporting for the fourth group, pointed out that all public meetings, even in French sections, were conducted in English, and a suggestion was made that an exchange of teachers be made between Yarmouth schools and the exclusively French school of Ste. Anne Du Ruseau, 15 miles from Yarmouth.

Report at Weymouth Branch
Red Cross

The Weymouth Branch of the Nova Scotia Red Cross Society met on Thursday evening at the Board Room of Weymouth Motors with President Perley Charlton in the chair. Mrs. Willis Mullen, Secy-treasurer, presented correspondence. Mr. Wilfred Cosman reporting for the loan Sick Cabinet Committee, in absence of Mrs. Dan Hanksinson, said that practically all items from the cabinet were presently in use. Mr. Fred Withers reported on Publicity and asked co-operation in looking for forthcoming Blood Donor Clinic a success. Special contact is being made through senior high school pupils 18 and over in hope that new donors may be lead to contribute.

Mr. Wilfred Cosman, of the Financial Campaign, reported close to $500.00 already at hand with some still to report and these will be contacted in the hope that all results will be in by April 18th. It was stated that should any persons have been overlooked by canvassers that donations might be turned in through Royal Bank at Weymouth.

Plans were made for the annual meeting, which will be the last scheduled till the fall, on May 14th. Mrs. Willard Kinney, convener of the refreshment committee, arranged for light refreshments at close of the meeting.

Ministerial Association Welcomes Rev. A. G. Peters

Members of Weymouth and District Ministerial Association met at the residence of Mr. Fred Withers, Presiding officer, Rev. R. R. Winchester, lead in prayer. Mr. Winchester who has been ill was welcomed to the meeting and in turn extended welcome to Rev. A. G. Peters, Rector of Saint Peters Parish who was attending his first meeting.

Funds to a total of $125.00 were voted to various charitable efforts, five in all each getting a like-sum. A list has been drawn up with a view to seeing that various groups will in turn be considered in distribution of moneys received as offerings from Week of Prayer and Pre Easter Services over and above Association expenses.

Reverend C. R. Barhouse presented the third in a series of papers on subjects from the Bible taking as his key passage the challenge of Jesus to Simon, son of Jonas, Lovest Thou Me. All present joined in a discussion which followed the reading of the interesting paper. Next meeting will be at the home of Mr. A. E. Jones on first Thursday in May. The meeting was dismissed in prayer by Rev. Mr. Peters.

U.C.W.
Serves Supper

A most enjoyable pot lunch supper arranged by the ladies of the U. C. Women of Heartz Memorial Church, Weymouth, was enjoyed when members of the church as families gathered in Killam Hall at 6 p.m. Thursday evening. The gathering marked successful conclusion of the "Calendar" project which was carried out for the month of March.

Mrs. Carl Blynn, president of the U. C. Women was in charge of the novelty table and treasurer; Mrs. Perley Charlton reported that approximately $88.00 was turned in from the day by day fines which each discovered as calendar date was uncovered. Clara Gove, Mrs. Scott Hanksinson and Mrs. Hartley Powell were in charge of refreshment committee and the all too brief meeting which lasted from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. was enjoyed by young and old. The gathering was in place of the congregational social arranged last year and held with great success.

Messengers group of Heartz Memorial Church Weymouth met Friday afternoon with their leader, Mrs. Fred Withers following Easter recess.

THE MONKEY'S
VIEWPOINT

Three monkeys sat in a coconut tree. Discussing things as they're said to be. Said one to the other: "Now listen, you two, There's a certain rumor that can't be true: That man descended from our noble race! The very idea! It's a dire disgrace; No monkey ever deserted his wife, Starved her baby, and ruined her life. And you've never known a mother monk To leave her babies with others to bunk, Or pass them on from one to another. Till they scarcely know who is their mother. And another thing! You'll never see A monk build a fence 'round a coconut tree And let the coconuts go to waste, Forbidding all other monkeys a taste. Why, if I put a fence around this tree, Starvation would force you to steal from me. Here are other things a monk won't do: Go out at night and get on a stew, Or use a gun, or club, or knife. To take some other monkey's life. Yes, man descended, the ornery cuss, But, brother, he didn't descend from us!"

Rudeness is a weak man's imitation of strength.

two hours, make a meal. Because poutines take several hours and considerable effort to prepare they are usually reserved for special occasions by the Acadian housewife.

New Year's Day, special home comings and Shrove Tuesday are the times which merit the treat in most homes. Most Acadians enjoy poutines, and the promise of the delicacy for supper fills Acadian children with eager anticipation, but to the outsider a meal of the potato and pork combination is usually described as "tasteless."

"You either love them or hate them," according to an Acadian who likes to serve them occasionally. Non-Acadians agree with the statement. A member of the Commission on Biculturalism who had just sampled poutine rapee during a visit to Moncton said, "You can carry this biculturalism too far."

For the adventurous cook here is the recipe for poutines rapees: One half-peek of potatoes, peeled and grated; two cups cooked mashed potatoes; one-half teaspoon salt; one pound of fresh pork, lean and fat, cubed, or one pound salt pork with fat (in which case cut salt to one-fourth teaspoon.) Squeeze water out of grated potatoes and add warm mashed potatoes. Roll into balls filled with pork and fat mixture. Boil two hours in gently boiling water. Yield should be about 20 poutines.

New Tusket

We are sorry to report Mrs. Stephen Mullen a patient at the Yarmouth Regional Hospital, where she is receiving surgical treatment. Mrs. Lawrence Saulnier and son, Mark, visited her mother, Mrs. Stephen Gavel at Doucetteville on Thursday. We were sorry to hear Mrs. Gavel is ill.

On Tuesday evening, April 7, a surprise birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gaudett in honor of Mrs. Gaudett's mother, Mrs. Charles Doucett, who was celebrating her 80th birthday. Mrs. Doucett is in good health and enjoyed having her friends call to spend the evening. She received many cards from friends and relatives far and near, also had several telephone calls of best wishes. She got many nice presents, and a birthday cake from the Ladies Guild. She has always been ready to help any who needed help in any way, so all remembered her on the occasion of her birthday. Refreshments were served by the hostess and other ladies and Mrs. Doucett graciously thanked all for their kindness. All wished her many more happy birthdays.

Mr. Gerald Gaudett left on Thursday for North Wilbraham, Mass., where he will be employed.

Miss Leota Gavel of Hasset spent Saturday afternoon and evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Prime.

Mr. and Mrs. Alden Prime and family of Bear River and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bremner and family of Digby spent Sunday with relatives and friends here.

La Poutine Rapee

A mystery surrounds an unusual dish which the Acadians serve as a special treat on festive occasions.

The mystery is how "La Poutine Rapee" became an Acadian specialty when it is unknown to the French in any other part of the world. The only other place it is made is a small area in Germany.

In Moncton, where several Acadian restaurants in the city sell the orange-sized balls of potato and pork for 20 cents a piece, people interested in the Acadian culture have been searching for the missing link between the German and Acadian history of the dish.

It is believed that early German settlers in the area may have introduced the recipe to the Acadians who continued to make "poutines" after the German immigrants had forgotten the art.

The existence of the similar recipe in the widely separated areas of the world was unknown until newly-released German prisoners-of-war who were making their way to the United States stopped at an Acadian home asking for food. They were told that the only thing there was to eat was a local dish which they were unlikely to enjoy.

To the amazement of the Acadian host the Germans were delighted with the meal and explained that it was a treat in their hometown.

The name of the dumpling-like "poutines" is believed to have been derived from the English word "puddings."

Poutines are made of grated mature potatoes, mixed with enough mashed potatoes for a thick consistency, then filled with cubed pork and pork fat or salt pork.

Two or three of the balls, which are boiled in water for

Mrs. Fletcher Guest Speaker

The April meeting of the Westport Church of Christ, W.C.F. group met in the church on Tuesday evening, with invited guests from the United Baptist W.M.A.S., Tiverton, N.S.; and Freeport, Mrs. Edgar McDormand, president, was in charge of the meeting, with Mrs. Harold Thompson reading the scripture from Luke 4 verses 14 to 24, and followed with the devotion led by Mrs. Lou Bailey taken from the study book "Channels of His Spirit". Mrs. Robert Ruggles and Mrs. Eugene Outhouse sang a duet "He is mine" with Mrs. Zelma Denton at the organ.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Cecil Fletcher of Saint John, N.B. She spoke on prayer and faith in God using as an example the Israelites fleeing from Egypt with the Red Sea in front of them and the armies of Egypt behind them, and how God opened the sea to let them flee to safety. She also spoke of the missionary effort needed to help in the foreign fields. Mrs. Fletcher is Regional Secretary of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the Maritimes.

Mrs. Lawrence Shaw, president of the W.M.A.S., Mrs. R. McLean and Mrs. J. W. Dudgeon spoke a few words to the group.

Mrs. Charles McDormand then presented a gift to Mrs. Fletcher on behalf of the W.C.F., followed with the benediction by Rev. J. W. Dudgeon. The group enjoyed a social hour in the vestry.

W.M.S. At Westport

The April meeting of the Westport Baptist W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. George Clements and was opened by the vice-president, Mrs. Earl Webber.

A recording of "Just a Closer Walk With Thee" was enjoyed by the group, followed by the reading of the scripture, Romans 12, and the devotion message led by Mrs. Harold Denton. Mrs. Ronald McLean led the circle of prayer.

The theme for the meeting was hope and the roll call was answered by verses containing this word.

The spiritual life message was read by Miss Luie Repool, followed with the programme prepared by Mrs. Ronald McLean, and taken from the study book "Rising Tides in India" telling a brief history of India from early times until the present day.

A meeting of the board of the United Church was held on Monday. Attending were members from Barton-Brighton, Weymouth, Sandy Cove and Centreville churches.

To Study Witness Fees

A committee is to be set up by the Nova Scotia Barristers' Society, which among other matters will study and recommend possible changes in witness fees now paid in both civil and criminal cases in the province.

A motion to establish a committee to make the study was passed during the weekend at the monthly meeting of the council of the Barristers' Society.

Council President Robert F. McLellan, Q.C. of Truro, will choose the committee members from the Society at large this will allow the group to continue its study for as long as needed.

The Council members agreed unanimously that the average $320 fee now paid to witnesses for appearing in court was inadequate.

As one council member put it: "the present fees are not even laborers' wages."

It was brought out at the meeting that most witnesses who appear in court lose at least a half day's work, and some, forced to remain in court by the length of the proceedings, lose a full day. And it was felt that the present fees did not even partially make up for the loss of time and money involved on the part of the witnesses.

The matter of witness fees rose out of a discussion following the Legislation Committee report presented to the Council by L. A. Kitz, Q.C. of Halifax.

The Council of the Nova Scotia Barristers' Society is the governing body for over 600

Consider Youth Problems

St. Anne's Guild, of St. Anne's Church held their monthly meeting Wednesday evening in the church basement, with Mrs. M. P. Gott as hostess.

The Rev. Mr. Logan led a discussion group, during which problems confronting young people today were considered.

A vote of thanks was given Miss Mabel Turner for her work on the altar frontlet and a letter sent to Mrs. Robert Hewey, who is ill in the V. G. Hospital.

Plans for a rummage sale were completed and a quiet day for parish women discussed.

Hill Grove BYF Entertains

Members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship of the Hill Grove Church were hosts to the B.Y.F. group of the Smith's Cove church on Tuesday evening of this week. About 28 young people gathered for this evening of fun and fellowship.

The meeting opened with a devotional service led by Carol Marshall, and a welcome to the visitors was given by Beale Marshall and the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin.

Following the devotional service, games and contests were played, led by the pastor and Wendie Franklin and prizes offered to the winners. After refreshments had been served a fellowship circle was formed with prayer offered by Rev. Dale McTavish.

Open Office In Montreal

Trade and Industry Minister E. A. Manson said today the rotunda of the Canadian National Railways station has been chosen as the location of a Nova Scotia Information Office in Montreal.

Mr. Manson said the office, to occupy about 750 square feet will be taken over by the Department of Trade and Industry almost immediately.

The opening of the office will depend upon the time required to design and decorate the interior, and to obtain a manager and secretary, Mr. Manson said.

He explained that the office would be responsible for the department's industrial development activities in the Province of Quebec and its promotion of tourism.

It was necessary to inform the industrial, financial and business community of the advantages of Nova Scotia as a location for such investment as in manufacturing operations and licensing arrangements.

The office would arrange meetings with firms and individuals, and deal with enquiries relating to the province.

The office will be responsible also for travel promotion for Nova Scotia in the Province of Quebec. In recent years, the number of tourists from Quebec had been increasing steadily, and the Montreal office would do much to develop this potential even further.

He pointed out that the Montreal office is a natural sequel to the establishment of similar offices in Boston, New York and Toronto during the last five years.

The office will be responsible for arranging speaking engagements, distributing literature, answering requests for information, either by individuals, groups or by mail, and participation in exhibitions and other projects.

Rally 'Round The Flag
The history of mankind is closely associated with the history of flags. For centuries most countries, states, cities (and even many families) have had their distinctive flag or emblem. The Encyclopedia Americana suggests that the history of flags can be traced back at least to the time of Moses and Aaron, who were commanded, "Each man shall pitch (his tent) by his own standard, with the ensign of his father's house."

In Memoriam

VANTASSEL — In loving memory of our dear mother, Jane VanTassel, who passed away April 18th, 1940.
No morning dawns no night returns
But that we think of you,
Those left behind are very dear
But none replaces you.

Inserted by her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Vantassel, Mrs. John Handspiker. 34:1c

OUTHOUSE — In loving memory of Lillis B. Outhouse, died April 15, 1950.

Always remembered by daughter and son-in-law Eunice and Roy Cobham and grand children Malcolm and Lorraine. 34:1c

GRAHAM — In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Clarence Ira Graham, who passed away April 19, 1963.

One year today since our dear one left us forever.
All we have now is memories of our sweet times together.
We'll never forget him as long as we live.
For our hearts are full of memories which just can't be taken.
Gone but not forgotten by mom and dad, brother and sister. 34:1c

The British are known to be among the greatest readers in the world. This fact is confirmed, the Encyclopedia Americana demonstrates, by analysing circulation figures for United Kingdom newspapers and comparing them with population. On this basis, says the Americana, one copy of a daily British newspaper is printed for every two Britons. In West Germany, the figure is one copy daily for every two and one-half Germans; in the United States, one copy for every three Americans and in France, one copy for every four inhabitants of that country.

Addresses European Audience

Premier Robert L. Stanfield of Nova Scotia has accepted invitations to address five business and trade groups during a European tour beginning in mid-April.

Mr. Stanfield will be guest of honor at a reception and luncheon given by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Great Britain, April 21 at the Dorchester Hotel in London.

The organization's membership includes representatives of Canadian provinces, industries and associations, as well as British businessmen with interests in Canada.

On April 24 the Premier, as guest of honor, will address the Chambre de Commerce France-Canada in Paris. This group consists of Canadians representing companies in France and French businessmen interested in Canadian development.

From France Mr. Stanfield will travel to Sweden where he will speak to the Gothenburg Chamber of Commerce, April 28. The following day he will address the General Export Association and the Swedish Federation of Industries in Stockholm.

Mr. Stanfield is scheduled to leave Nova Scotia returning early in May.

Dr. Nason Addresses Youth

Dr. H. M. Nason, Director of Elementary and Secondary Education for Nova Scotia said today proper education should instill personal individual responsibility in young people.

He told the annual provincial conference of Allied Youth that the future of Canada will depend on how well education leads all people to develop and improve their judgement, understanding and imagination, and to accept and appreciate their own personal responsibility.

Allied Youth is an international organization of high school students, which is widely popular throughout Nova Scotia. It provides young people with a broad basis of preparation for mature living as adults.

Dr. Nason said young people and adults should realize that being truly educated is a continuing process, and that proper judgement is based on a wide understanding and appreciation, not on a restricted or narrow outlook.

"The aim of a good moral education should be to provide us with experience that will help us discover how to be honest, trustworthy, reliable, conscientious and responsible, and above all to apply these principles in our own personal and social life," he said.

Imagination, common sense and courage are necessary if an individual is to become a morally responsible person and assist in the development of a society where people can be free and secure.

"You must have long-range goals to keep you from being frustrated by short-range failures," Charles C. Noble.

Nova Scotia Welcome Atmosphere

Many things go into the making of a memorable vacation but in Nova Scotia there is the extra magic of hospitality to ensure you feel "CIAD MILE FAIRITE" - one hundred thousand welcomes.

Nova Scotia has a curious blend of Scottish, French, English and German culture woven together to form a distinctly Nova Scotia atmosphere.

From the instant the skirl of bagpipes welcome you at the beautiful sunken floral gardens at Amherst to the moment you leave again with the heart-felt invitation to "come again soon", your vacation is filled with eventful pleasure.

Wherever you travel you will be welcomed by Nova Scotians to enjoy the beauty of their province and the refreshing, relaxed pace of life in Canada's Ocean Playground.

You can sit on a wharf in colorful Lunenburg, home of the famed Bluenose, Bounty, and now Bluenose II, and listen to the tales of old sea-captains, told with the distinctive Lunenburg accent, or visit the mighty Citadel in historic Halifax.

You can listen to the songs of mariners of yesterday, sung in English, French, German or Gaelic in many of the fishing villages that dot the coastline of the province, or watch the colorful ceremony of the Antigonish Highland Games.

Along the winding roads of this scenic province by the sea, at every fruit and vegetable stand, restaurant or accommodation, no one is in too much of a hurry to give directions, or stop to chat.

The relaxed, informal hospitality of Nova Scotia provides a welcome relief from the rapid pace of modern day living.

In Nova Scotia a trip to the quiet beauty of Peggy's Cove at sunset, or the scenic grandeur of the Cabot Trail is often complimented by a friendly conversation with a Nova Scotian.

You can't get lost in Nova Scotia - there are 750,000 Nova Scotians waiting to help you find your way and insure that your vacation in Nova Scotia has that extra hospitality that makes the difference between a pleasant vacation and an excellent one.

Lifted

Weight restrictions on a number of Nova Scotia highways were lifted at midnight Sunday, April 12. Highway Minister Stephen Pyke said today.

The roads raised to summer axle weights are: Trunk 3, Halifax to Yarmouth and all roads to shore; Trunk 1, Yarmouth to Digby County line and all roads to shore; and roads in the Halifax suburban area.

Weight restrictions remain in effect on other provincial highways.

Awarded Medal

The award of the Canadian Forces Decoration to a number of officers and men of both the Regular and Militia forces has been announced by Nova Scotia - Prince Edward Island Area. Included among them is Spr. E. W. Haight, R.C.E., Barton.

The decoration is awarded to members of the Canadian Armed Forces who have completed at least 12 years' service, undertaken the required phases of training and are certified as efficient and in every way deserving of the medal.

A clasp to the medal is awarded for each successive 10 years.

C.W.F. Study On Nepal

The regular monthly meeting of the Christian Women's Fellowship was held at the Church of Christ (Disciples), Weymouth, with president, Leota Lewis, presiding.

An inspiring devotional on the theme, "Ye Are My Witnesses", was provided by Mrs. Harry J. Lewis. Mrs. Frank Lewis was pianist.

Gloria Lewis had charge of the Mission Study of Nepal, India, entitled "Threads of Gold", and Mrs. Glidden Lewis led in the World Call Study.

Minutes and correspondence were read by secretary, Mrs. Morton Frankland, and the treasurer's report, in the absence of Mrs. Jared Frankland, was given by Leota Lewis. Each member donated a toiletry item, etc., which together will be forwarded as a Clean-up Kit for the mission field. It was also unanimously agreed that May 7th be designated as the "general cleaning day" for church interior.

Mrs. Wilfred Cosman, Bible Study Leader, taught a challenging lesson and study on "The Call to Serve", based on the Book of Acts, Chapter 26, and the life of Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ.

Dr. Dodds Wildlife Director

Lands and Forests Minister Haliburton has announced that Dr. Donald G. Dodds, of Kentville, who has been acting director of the wildlife conservation division during the illness of the late Clarence Mason, will continue in this capacity in the immediate future.

Dr. Dodds received his MSc and PhD degrees from Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., and came to Nova Scotia in 1960. Since that time he has directed deer and moose research management programs and general wildlife research.

He is a director of the Canadian Society of Wildlife and Fisheries Biologists and a member of many professional societies. He has written professional papers on snowshoe rabbits, moose, deer and fox.

Dr. Dodds assisted in establishing a five-course curriculum in wildlife management leading to a Master's degree at Acadia University at Wolfville.

23 Home Nursing Graduates

A special graduating exercise of the Home Nursing class of St. Mary's parish of Church Point was held at the Clare branch of the Canadian Legion Hall at Saulnierville, with Dr. Louis Thibodeau, of Church Point, acting as chairman.

Special guests for the evening were Rev. Camille Comeau, pastor of St. Mary's parish; Dr. Hector J. Pothier, of Beaver River, member of the provincial legislature for Clare and Dr. Philippe LeBlanc, of Little Brook, who was the guest speaker.

Twenty-three received their certificate and home nursing lapel pins during the ceremony, with Warden Emile Boudreau and Basil Belliveau, civil defence co-ordinator for Clare, assisting. Friends of the home nursing class were in attendance.

Dr. LeBlanc spoke on the first Red Cross organization in Europe and briefly told the group of the work that the Red Cross has accomplished during the various wars and also in peace time. He told the group they now were ready to meet any eventualities, be it war, time disaster or any peace-time requirements. "The need may arise in the community or the municipality when you may be called upon to give assistance," stated Dr. LeBlanc, "and the course just completed will prove of great benefit to you."

Dr. Pothier extended greetings from the province. He said the graduates of the course are prepared for any emergency that may arise. He outlined the portion of the cost of civil defence that the provincial government is paying, and the portion of the costs that the municipal government must bear.

Those who graduated were: Mrs. Catherine Melanson, Mrs. Adele Thibodeau, Mrs. Adele Boudreau, Mrs. Bertha Comeau, Mrs. Yvette Valotaire, Miss Edith Thibodeau, Church Point; Mrs. Rosie LeBlanc, Mrs. Rose Melanson, Mrs. Anna LeBlanc, Mrs. Matilda Dugas, Mrs. Laura Blinn, of Grosses Coques; Mrs. Anita LeBlanc, Mrs. Marguerite LeBlanc, Mrs. Catherine Blinn, Mrs. Denis Saulnier, Miss Gertrude Saulnier, of Little Brook; Mrs. Sarah Deveau, Miss Corinne Comeau, Miss Yvonne Comeau, Mrs. Albina Comeau, Miss Anne Saulnier, of Comeauville; Mrs. Adolph Melanson, of Little Brook; and

Haines - Melanson

A pretty wedding was solemnized at all Saints' Church, Rossway on Saturday the 11th of April, when Dorothy Olla Melanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Melanson, of Rossway, became the bride of Lloyd James Haines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Baker, of Halifax. The church was beautiful with white mums.

The bride given in marriage by her father was attired in a mauve ballerina length dress with white accessories and pink corsage.

The bride was attended by her sister, Hilda, who wore a mauve ballerina length dress and yellow accessories. A sister, Joyce, was flower girl.

Noah Halliday, cousin of the bride was the groom's best man.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. Barbara Mullen rendered the hymn "Love Divine".

The bride's mother wore a white dress and blue accessories.

After the wedding a reception

Suggestions Wanted On Tariffs

Trade and Industry Minister E. A. Manson has urged Nova Scotia exporting firms to present their views and suggestions on tariffs to the Canadian Tariffs and Trade Committee before April 15.

Mr. Manson emphasized that the committee would rely heavily on views of the Canadian business community in meetings of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) beginning in Geneva May 7.

Although tariff negotiations are primarily a federal responsibility, Mr. Manson pointed out in a letter to Nova Scotia industrialists that tariff reduction was held at community hall where Mrs. Lee Wentzell was in charge of serving and was assisted by Mrs. Wallace Harnish, Mrs. Roy McInnis and Mrs. Manuel Seaboyer.

ductions could play a vital part in the province's expanding economy.

Firms and associations wishing to make submissions to the Committee were offered the experience and services of the Trade and Industry Department's staff.

Delegates from 57 countries will attend the Geneva meeting to renegotiate national trading policies in light of the recently passed United States Trade Expansion Act.

Marriage

Doucette — Dugas

St. Patrick's Church, Digby, Nova Scotia was the scene of a quiet, but pretty wedding on April 4, at 2:30 p.m. when Father Stokes united in marriage Marjorie Barbara Dugas the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dugas of Bear River to Douglas James Doucette, youngest son of Mrs. Lottie and the late Ambrose Doucette of Digby, N.S.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage to the strains of "Here Comes the Bride" by the church organist, Mr. Theriault.

The bride looked lovely in her ballerina length dress of white nylon and rayon lace over taffeta. The double tiered skirt was gathered all around underlined by frilly crinolines. The sleeveless dress was topped by a lace jacket that buttoned down the back with small covered buttons and coming to lily points over the hands. The shoulder tip veil fell from a sparkling halo of Aurora Borealis and rhinestones. She carried a white Bible covered with red roses with white streamers entwined with rose buds.

She was attended by her sister, Shirley who acted as bridesmaid. She was dressed in pink nylon over taffeta, with white accessories and carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations.

Best man, was Joseph Doucette, brother of the groom. The bride's mother was dressed in a toast beige dress of lace over taffeta. She wore matching beige accessories and a corsage of yellow mums.

The groom's mother was dressed in a two piece dress of teal blue with white accessories and she wore a corsage of white mums.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. They received many lovely and useful gifts. The toast to the bride was proposed by Father Stokes.

For going away the bride chose a three piece yellow suit with white accessories. She

Marriage

Carpenter — Handspiker

On Saturday, March 28, at eleven o'clock in the morning First Methodist Church in Hartford, Conn., was the scene of the spring wedding of Pauline Kay K. Handspiker, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Handspiker of Digby, Nova Scotia to Mr. Howard Burton Carpenter Jr., of Hartford, Conn. The Rev. Francis Carslow officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father was attired in a floor length gown of lace over taffeta with a lace train and bodice trimmed with pearls and sequins. A crown of sequins held her veil of illusion and her bouquet was white pompoms. White cultured pearl earrings, a gift of the groom, completed the ensemble.

Miss Emily Myles, cousin of the bride, acting as maid of honour and Miss Brenda Handspiker, sister of the bride, acting as bridesmaid wore matching street length dresses of red velvet with long sleeves and bell shaped skirts. They wore matching red headpieces and carried nosegays of yellow mums.

Best man was Mr. Gary Coleman, friend of the groom and ushers were Mr. Gerald Handspiker Jr., brother of the bride, and Mr. Richard Buckland, friend of the groom.

The mother of the bride wore a brown dress of brocade with brown and beige accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother chose a green and lavender dress of silk with white and green accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of Mrs. Martha W. Carpenter, 160 Fairfield Ave., Hartford.

For going away the bride chose a green wool with black and white coat, black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The couple will reside in Hartford after a honeymoon at Cape Cod.

Letham — Okopski

St. George's Chapel at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis was the scene of a pretty wedding when Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Okopski, Winnipeg, Manitoba became the bride of James Walter Letham, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Letham, also of Winnipeg.

Padre T. Jackson officiated at the double ring candlelight ceremony and K. W. Blake, was the organist.

The bride, given in marriage by R. H. Turcotte, wore a street-length gown of white peau de sole satin which was trimmed with seed pearls. It featured a tulip skirt, lily point

Letter to the Editor

15 Marion Place, Everett, Mass.

The Digby Courier, Digby, N. S.
Dear Editor:

I was interested to read Mrs. Warner's letter, asking through "Coffee at Jans" ideas for furnishing her cottage at Freeport.

We have a house at Westport, right on the harbor. It is an old house, in very good shape. We bought it furnished as we have a home here and did not want the expense and trouble of moving furniture to Westport.

There was enough in it to make a comfortable summer home, but I am an antique lover and I decided to make just one room into an old-fashioned parlor. I discovered several large framed pictures in the attic and brought them down to the parlor. "St. Cecilia at the Organ" and a mother with a baby in arms, with red cape and lovely colors. The cherubs and all in "St. Cecilia" are beautifully colored and when hung on that cold north room, how they warmed it up!

sleeves and a scoop neck. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a pill box, also trimmed with seed pearls. Her only jewellery was a pair of pearl earrings, a gift of the groom, and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Miss Lynne Rice, who attended her as bridesmaid, wore a blue lace and chiffon street length dress with matching pill box, and carried white mums.

Best man was William Poole. Both of the men wore naval uniforms.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Turcotte in Digby.

For travelling the bride chose a blue dress with matching coat and black accessories. Her corsage was of pink and white carnations.

Both the bride and groom who until recently were stationed at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, are now at H.M.C.S. Stadacona and residing in Halifax.

Out of town guests were present from Winnipeg, Manitoba, and Halifax, N.S.

One kind friend gave us a Victorian organ and another a marble-topped table. We exchanged the upholstered furniture for wicker and I use a rocker left in the house. This summer I am bringing down a rug large enough to almost cover the floor and I am on a safari for a small Franklin stove. These houses were furnished mostly with Victorian era furniture. I hope that Mrs. Warner finds some to please her. My mother's horse-hair settee and small chairs went from Centreville to Digby (Webber's I imagine) and I wanted them for my parlor!

Good luck to you, Mrs. Warner!

Myra P. Ellis,
(Mrs. Edwin Ellis).

NOW IS SPRING
I know no other Spring can be more lovely than this lovely Spring.
When I have you and you have me,
No sweeter will the robin sing
And swelling buds rich promise give,
For only now we love and live
And see the old earth blossoming.
Could other Springs have been so fair?
Shall future Springs such beauty bring?
I know not. Only, everywhere,
Today is April... now is Spring!

Report From Parliament Hill

For a brief period last week, the spot light focused on the Canadian Senate, and perhaps it would be worthwhile to deal with that matter in this column today.

When the Fathers of Confederation met at Charlottetown, at Quebec and finally in London, there was a great deal of discussion as to how the rights of the smaller Provinces could be protected if they agreed to enter into a National Federal State. It was assumed, at that time, and later events have justified the assumption, that Ontario would grow very quickly, and would perhaps be able to dominate the entire Nation. At that time, of course, the now prairie Provinces and British Columbia were not considered as offering any solution to this problem. Nova Scotia, for instance, refused to enter Confederation unless it were given some protection against the domination of any one or two of the larger Provinces. The same attitude was taken by New Brunswick, and it was particularly emphasized to protect the language and religious rights of our French-Canadian citizens. Therefore, it was agreed that in addition to the House of Commons which would be elected somewhat on the basis of population, there also would be a second Chamber where all Provinces would have adequate representation, and which Chamber would have the power to review, and if necessary, to reject legislation which might be prejudicial to what the Senators might think the interests of Canada. Hence a certain number of Senators were allocated to the Maritime Provinces, an equal number to Quebec and an equal number to Ontario. After that the British North America Act was approved. Therefore, the first thing to remember about the Senate is that there would have been no Canada, had there been no Canadian Senate.

Also, the representation of Provinces in the House of Commons was, to a certain degree, associated with the representation in the Senate. As I have said, the numbers of Senators from each Province was determined by the British

North America Act. That cannot be changed. For instance, Nova Scotia is entitled to ten Senators, and we never can have less than ten Members of Parliament. Prince Edward Island is entitled to four Senators, and it can never have less than four Members of Parliament. If it were not for that Provision, Prince Edward Island would today be entitled to only two Members, and in future years Nova Scotia's representation might drop to five or six. Therefore, it can be seen that the Provinces are as much concerned with the Senate, as is the Dominion Parliament itself. That is why we, of the Conservative Party, voted against Mr. Knowles' Bill even being read the first time. We felt, and properly so, that to introduce a Bill which would violate the whole principle of our Constitutional set-up, without prior consultation with the Provinces, would be a violation of the fundamental rights of Canadians and the Canadian constitution.

Of course it must be remembered that practically the same principle applies to the United States. The only difference there is that Senators are elected, rather than appointed. However, they are elected for a period of six years, whereas the members of the House of Representatives in Washington are elected for only a period of two years. More than that, only one-third of the Senators retire in each election period, so that there is no possibility of a fundamental change in that body, except over a long period of years. The American Founding Fathers adopted that principle for the same reason that ours did, namely to protect the smaller States against the larger ones. Mr. Knowles talked about representation by population, and the inference is that it is only in Canada, that that did not apply. However, he must have known for instance that the State of Arizona elects two Senators, as does the State of California, one about ten times the size of the other. Also, the small State of Connecticut elects two Senators as does the huge State of New York.

The Senate is sometimes criticized as a haven of broken-down, retired politicians. That there are political appointments made to the Senate is obvious to everyone, and it is well that that should be the case. Certainly men who are experienced in politics, and in Parliamentary procedure and in law-making are highly desired in a Second Chamber. But the Senate also is comprised of many of Canada's leading lawyers, experienced in Constitutional Law and in Corporation and taxation matters, as well as many experienced and able business men. The Senate is actually a group of very able and experienced Canadians. It is not the fault of the Senate that they have not had too much to do in the last few years. It has been the fault of the Government - both Liberal and Conservative - because it has not given to the Senate the responsibility for initiating legislation, and after legislation has been passed by the House of Commons, it has usually been rushed to the Senate where its approval has been sought within a relatively short time.

This practice should cease. According to tradition, and I think also probably constitutionally correct, the Senate does not have the right to initiate bills involving taxation or the expenditure of money. However, there are many other matters with which the Senate could deal, and deal more effectively than can the House of Commons, if it were given an opportunity. For instance this year, there should take place the revision of the Bank Act. Under our law, every ten years the Bank Act, which is the foundation for our currency, is revised. In the rush and hurry of the House of Commons, this type of scrutiny is very difficult to attain. The Government should send the Report of the Royal Commission on Banking to the Senate and have the Senate initiate the revision of the Bank Act. It would be a much better one than could be done in the House of Commons. Then, after the Senate has approved the Bill, it of course would come to the House where it again could be reviewed, and if necessary amended.

Similarly, a year and a half ago, I appointed a Royal Commission to consider the Income Tax Act. That Commission will be reporting sometime towards the end of this year. Here again is an involved technical matter, which will require substantial legislative changes. This Commission Report can be much better dealt with by the Senate than by the House of Commons, always remembering, of course, that after the Senate has dealt with it, the House of Commons would then have to review what the Senate has done, so that the rights of the elected representatives are fully protected.

In my opinion, the Senate is a much maligned body which is criticized by people who know nothing of its history, and have little understanding of the problems with which it, as part of the Parliament of Canada, has to deal. This is not to say that the Senate does not need reformation. It does. But reformation is one thing and abolition is another. I am all for the former, and absolutely opposed to the latter.

Obituary

Peter Joseph Dugas

Mr. Peter Joseph Dugas, 61 year old resident of Weymouth died at the Digby General Hospital on April 7.

He was born at Weymouth where he lived all his life and was the son of Dedier and the late Martha Dugas.

Surviving are his wife, Lucy; two daughters, Eva and Rosella both of Ontario, one son, Neil at home; three sisters, Marie (Mrs. Emile LeBlanc) of Church Point, Digby Co., Eulalie (Mrs. James May) of Kirkwood, N.Y.; Evelina, (Mrs. Joe Charbonneau) of Santa Clara, California and one brother, Edward of Weymouth.

Funeral services were held last Friday at St. Bernard's Church with Msgr. Elie LeBlanc, parish priest officiating. Pall bearers were Mel Gaudet, Earl Gaudet, Donald Dugas, Melvin Dugas, nephews of the deceased, Gordon White, son-in-law and Lee Gaudet, brother-in-law.

Mr. Henry Ring, Windsor, spent the weekend with his niece, Mrs. Wilfred Weir and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Camille Muise and boys visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sim Doucette, Springhaven, Yarmouth Co., on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Doucette have been spending the winter in Montreal.

Mrs. Laura Charlton, Bridgetown, and Mr. Harold Lindsay of Greenwood visited her sister, Mrs. Clarence Gaudet and family on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Doucette are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Ken Butler and family, Halifax.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Weir on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Murray Weir, Parker's Cove.

Sympathy is extended to the family of the late Mr. Fred Melanson who passed away at Digby General Hospital, Monday.

Guests at the Goodwin Hotel are: Mr. A. J. Treich, representative of Pepsi Cola, Halifax; Mr. G. C. Moore, of Truro; Mr. B. M. Williams, representative of Imperial Oil, Halifax.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thibault and their daughters, Mrs. John Petcoff, Vancouver and Mrs. Maurice Gay, Ottawa, who leaves with her husband the first of May for Ghana, West Africa for two years.

As Campaign Manager, Mrs. Shaw reported all areas in the district would be canvassed this month for funds. The quota being $1750, it was hoped citizens would respond generously when contacted by one of the canvassers. Literature will also be distributed to each house and this is part of the Education Program.

Miss Ruth Goodwin reported for the "In Memoriam" cards. Since the beginning of 1964 the sum of $171.00 had been received. This money is used for Research Projects and is a fitting tribute to the memory of a loved one who has passed away. When donations are received, a receipt is sent to the donor and a suitably engraved card is forwarded to the bereaved family with donor's name.

Two summer sale catalogues came in the mail today. There must be no more pleasurable reading matter in the world than a mail order catalogue. These have scarcely left my hand since their arrival. They are passports to a world that never was, and invitations to us to pretend we are the kind of women we would like to be.

What lovely clothes! What gorgeous colors! When they are not feminine and delicate. — pinks, blues, yellows and pale greens seem to be very much on the scene this year — they are jewel-like and bold, splashing all over the fabric with gaiety and abandon. I look, and dream, and wonder, and think of that time in the future, which surely must come, when I will have saved enough money for more than one new dress a season. My ultimate choice will probably not come from the catalogue, but they are here, hundreds of dresses for me to imagine myself wearing, and, since imagined dresses fit better than store-bought ones, the pleasure is even more as I preen myself in front of the mirror.

There seems to be a singular lack of jewellery this year, with the exception of bracelets. Bracelets of all kinds seem to be in style, glass, plastic, beads, bangles, one, two or three of them, but they are all small. Those chunky necklaces and pins which have been fashion's darlings for several years seem to have gone. Even with the simplest of necklaces, and most necklaces are simple, necklaces are rarely worn. When they are, they are usually the classic, single strand of pearls. I suppose with those exciting prints and colors, jewellery is superfluous.

There is probably not a woman on earth who does not go into fits of longing over clothes. I can only remember one year in my fashion-conscious experience when the styles were not exciting. That was late in the 1950's, probably about 1958. Remember the bubble? Remember those terrible dresses and coats with a button or bow where we sat down? And how come the "sack" of that year, which never really found acceptance, returned a few years later as the "shift", and has not gone out of style since? I was lucky that year. I did not get any new clothes. Since I can get about eight years out of a good dress I would still be wearing them if I had.

I wonder what my one-year-old will say in 1978 if she should happen to see a copy of the catalogue I am stargazing about just now. I remember telling a group of girls who were getting dressed after a gym class, when I was going to high school, that "clothes right now are prettier than I ever remember them". That, my dears, was a mighty long time ago — say about 1950. A few days ago, when I was visiting my old home, I found some of those 1950 magazines in the attic.

Teen-agers, don't look. Please don't find out what your mothers thought were glamorous about the time you were born. Those clothes were unbelievable! The fashion pictures looked like a lecture on all the wrong things to wear. I have tried to imagine, say Elizabeth Taylor, or any of the women we consider most glamorous, or those women on the "best dressed" list as they must have looked in those clothes. The only conclusion I can form is that they must have skipped 1950.

The emphasis then was on bigness. Perhaps it was a reaction to the skimpiness imposed by the war, which after all, was only five years in the past at the time. The bodices of the dresses were nearly all buttoned down the front, or were decorated with a row of buttons. By our standards, they were ill fitting and badly cut. Skirts were gathered below the waist, on a long torso, and there was a belt at the natural waist, which increased the general look of clutter. Details were big — big flaps on pockets, big pleats, big buttons.

Remember the "shorty coat"? Fourteen years later it looks like a portable tent. Remember bat wing sleeves? A woman wearing them looked as if her arm-pit had changed places with her waist. Skirts were voluminous, with hemlines just above the ankle. At the bottom of this sloppy picture (you find a 1950 fashion magazine and see if you can think of a better word) were flat heeled shoes, and at the top, a head close cropped and "neat". The total effect was something like that of a rather undersized pea on top of a haystack.

I have to go. I am having a love affair with a catalogue, and it is horrible to think that in 1978 my daughter and I may be laughing at this wonderful book.

Evangelistic Services Held

Sunday evening, April 5, Mr. Ivan Rayner, Bible college student of Maritime Christian College, P.E.I., concluded a week of inspiring Evangelistic services in the Christian Church at Tiverton. A record attendance of 80 were present. East Ferry, Long Island and Westport were well represented.

During the services Mr. Rayner was assisted by regular minister, Mr. Maurice McCabe also native of P.E.I. A choir was in attendance and featured soloists were Mrs. Olive Elliott, who sang "Nailed To The Cross", Miss Janet Sollows who sang "Then I Met Jesus", and Melbourne Outhouse who sang "Follow Me" and "Jesus Took My Burden". Duets were sung by Miss Sollows and Mr. Outhouse, "Supper Time"; Miss Sollows and Mrs. Olive Elliott "All Alone", and a trio, "The Treasures of Earth", by Miss Sollows, Alto, Melbourne Outhouse, Soprano and John P. Outhouse, bass. Mrs. Grace Outhouse was organist during the week.

Thursday evening, Mr. Rayner, who as a missionary, visited Brazil last year, gave a brief discourse on religious problems facing Brazil. He commented on the eagerness with which the natives there received the Gospel and expressed regret that there were only a small number of Christian Churches and there was a dire need for missionaries. He quoted from the Bible, "The harvest truly is great but the labourers are few". He urged the young members of the congregation to dedicate their lives to missionary work.

Following the discourse, coloured slides that Mr. Rayner had taken during his missionary activities in Brazil, were presented. They featured several other missionaries and the many religious duties they perform; also beautiful Brazilian scenery. In narrating, Mr. Rayner pointed out that natives there worked, played, and enjoyed much the same recreations that Canadians do. Mr. Rayner also displayed many articles that had been made by the natives of Brazil.

During the meetings two juniors, Brenda Guier, 9 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Guier, and Lou Outhouse, 9 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Outhouse took their stand for Christ. Baptism was held near the breakwater, Sunday at 3 p.m. Mr. McCabe performed Baptismal ceremony in the presence of over 100 spectators.

Mr. Rayner left Monday for his home at P.E.I. to resume duties at the Maritime Bible College. He hopes to return to Brazil at the completion of several years at college. Mr. Rayner has a regular pastorate at Greenmount, P.E.I.

Mr. Rayner was accompanied to P.E.I. by Miss Janet Sollows who expects to enter Bible College there for a period of several weeks. Mr. Maurice McCabe also accompanied them. He expects to return to Tiverton within several weeks.

Junior Bible Study, under the direction of Minister, Maurice McCabe, was held each morning of the Easter holidays in the Christian Church. Assisting him were Minister Ivan Rayner, and teachers, Patsy Cossaboom, Pamela Outhouse and Janet Sollows.

Mr. and Mrs. William Spittle of New Jersey, Mr. and Mrs. Raynard George (formerly Ester Spittle of Digby) of Vermont U.S.A. visited their cousin Mrs. John P. Outhouse and family on Sunday.

Miss Maxine Guier and Miss Verona Outhouse were supper guests at the home of Miss Guier's uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Orland Guier, Central Grove on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hantford Raymond and family, East Ferry were visitors to the Island on Sunday.

Miss Carol Nickerson was welcomed a new member to the choir of the Christian Church on Sunday morning. Miss Nickerson is a native of New Tusket and is now residing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Outhouse.

Mrs. Serethea Ruggles of Ontario is visiting at the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Ossinger.

W.M.S. Organized

A meeting of the newly-organized Women's Missionary Society was held in the vestry of Christian Church at Tiverton on Wednesday evening. Programme leaders, Mrs. Grace Outhouse and Mrs. Muriel Guier chose as their theme, "The Good Shepherds". A solo, "Whisper A Prayer" was sung by Mrs. Guier.

Following a Bible Quiz the Mission Study was presented by Mrs. Eunice Outhouse who chose as her theme the study of Missionary activities in Brazil. This topic was appropriate due to the fact that Ivan Rayner, a college student of Maritime Christian College at P.E.I. had previously held a week of Evangelistic services at Tiverton and brought the members up to date on Missionary work at Brazil by means of slides and an informative discourse. Mr. Rayner visited Brazil as a missionary last year and plans to return following his college activities in several years.

At roll call each member responded to her name with a favorite poem. At the next meeting they were asked to respond with "A Bible home I would like to have visited". This variation in Roll Call tends to make the meetings more interesting.

The twelve members present were pleased to welcome five members, Mrs. Louis Elliott, Miss Norma Blackford, Mrs. Reginald Titus, Mrs. Malcolm Greenlaw and Mrs. Louie Outhouse.

Projects for the month of April are cleaning the church and quilting. The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction followed by refreshments.

W.M.S. Hold Quilting Party.

Early Tuesday afternoon the members of the W.M.S. began their quilting project with a number of the ladies continuing the work through the afternoon and evening. It was decided at that time to have quilting party the following day and continue through the supper hour. The suggestion provided to be successful. A salad was prepared by Mrs. Louis Elliott with the rest of the members bringing the remaining necessary food to complete the meal.

With the exception of time out to eat and an hour given to the Missionary Meeting, the quilt was removed from the frames at 11:30 p.m.

"The co-operation and willingness of each and every member is to be commended as it is only through working together that great things can be accomplished", commented Mrs. Cossaboom in praise of the accomplishment.

Those taking part in the quilting were: Mrs. Wilma Prime, Mrs. Reta Sollows, Mrs. Louis Elliott, Mrs. Alma Perry, Mrs. Nellie Robbins, Mrs. Aneta Buckman, Mrs. Ester Howard and Mrs. Herbert Cossaboom.

The Missionary Society is planning to put in another quilt in the very near future. The same willingness and eagerness is anticipated.

Mrs. Peter Smith, Freeport, is spending some time with her husband at the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Smith and family. She recently returned home after visiting with Mrs. Leonie Ruel, Pompano Beach, Florida, Mrs. Rodney McNeil, Key West, Florida and Mrs. Vincent Golla in New York.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melbourne Hudson Jr. were Mr. and Mrs. Basil Pierce and Mrs. Donald O'Neil, Phinney's Cove; Mr. Garret Ellis and Mr. Clarence Ellis, Kentville.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Mailman, Halifax spent the weekend with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ryan, David and Jeffery.

Mrs. Paul Lorince, Montreal, spent the past week with her mother, Mrs. John Casey and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Casey and family.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Taylor were Mr.

Open Mental Health Building

A newly acquired Digby Community Mental Health Centre building will be open to the public on Wednesday, the 29th of April, from 3 to 5 p.m., when tea will be served by members of the Digby Mental Health Board.

A drive for funds for the Digby Mental Health Association will also begin on April 27. This coincides with the national campaign conducted across Canada.

Mental and emotional illness is the most difficult and the most important health problem in Canada. The prevalence of cases of complete or partial disability due to disorders of this kind is truly staggering. At the present time nearly one-half of all hospital beds in Canada are occupied by patients suffering from serious mental illness. It is almost impossible to estimate the economic loss to Canada resulting from these illnesses. The actual cost of operating the mental hospitals, clinics and psychiatric units in general hospitals is more than 75 millions annually.

Treatment facilities have slowly been increasing and improving in Canada but because of the rapidly increasing population the mental hospitals (of which there are now 53) are still badly overcrowded. The number of community mental health clinics, such as in Digby, has been greatly increased since World War II and special psychiatric units have been established in more than 20 of the larger general hospitals.

According to J. D. Griffin, M.D., one of the great obstacles to progress in the mental health field is the fact that public attitudes have not always been favourable.

World War II gave a tremendous impetus to psychiatric and mental health work. The extent of psychiatric maladjustment among apparently healthy adults was discovered through the results of the medical examinations of recruits. The importance of early treatment was recognized and the preventive influence of good training, high morale and inspired leadership was emphasized. These stimulated a new wave of public interest in mental health.

Mental health has to do with behaviour and personality, with the way in which a person gets along in his family, at school, on the job, at play, in his neighborhood. It has to do with the way he utilizes and harmonizes his desires, ambitions, ideals, feelings and his conscience in order to meet the everyday demands and crises of life.

There is no clear line which divides the mentally healthy from the unhealthy.

There is good evidence that a young child, especially between the ages of six months and three years, if deprived of the warm and supportive affection and loving care of his mother or a satisfactory mother substitute, will frequently reveal signs of emotional and social blunting, hostility and maladjustment. Spontaneous consistent and natural affection and love between members of the family has a protective and positive effect on the emotional and social stability of the children.

The emotional needs of the child are found almost unchanged in the adult and even in the aged. The adult finds satisfaction or frustration not only in family, domestic and marital relationships, but also on the job, at church, in recreation and leisure time activities and in his neighborhood and community responsibilities. If he is able to feel that his efforts and his ideas on the job are appreciated and recognized, if his work is satisfactory to himself, if he feels that his supervisors and his fellow workers like him and accept him and if he feels that he has some opportunity for growth and advancement, it is likely that his mental health and effectiveness will be enhanced and protected.

The protection of mental health is a two-way process. It requires first of all effort, capacity and understanding on the part of the individual. And it requires a social situation that is at least not entirely rejecting and destructive. Mental Health education programs can contribute partially

Talks On India

Miss Shrome, teacher at Edgemoor School for Girls, was guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Annapolis Presbyterian United Church Women held at Annapolis Royal last Saturday. Miss Shrome is a native of Bombay, India, and her address dealt mainly with the problems confronting the people there. She spoke particularly of the problems of illiteracy and the population explosion, and of the influence that British rule had on India and of the Hindu religion.

In her address, Miss Shrome compared the two religions, Christianity and Hinduism and advised that the people of India were not prepared to adopt everything from one religion or way but would take what they considered best out of several ways of life. They are not all for communism or all for Americanism. She was critical of Christians in North America who do not always live up to the Christianity they profess and this is confusing to the people. So far as respect for parents and elders was concerned, Miss Shrome preferred to follow in the way of Hinduism rather than to give disrespect as she had seen in this country. She was shocked at some things she had seen. She also felt that in this age of T. V. and radio it was not necessary to be so isolated as not to know more about India than the same as the people in India know about Canada.

Miss Shrome said that while some of India's population from the cities had nice homes and could travel, the masses were illiterate and live in squalor.

India, she said, must catch up to the rest of the world in 20 years in what others had taken 200 years to do. They must learn to run instead of walk, she remarked.

The meeting was presided over by the retiring president, Mrs. Harold Murray, Berwick. Worship was led by Mrs. Reginald Purdy, president of Bear River United Church Women. A welcome was extended by Rev. M. G. Butler and Rev. W. H. Thomas brought greetings from Presbytery. Both emphasized that women have a contribution to the church as Christians and not because they are women. They are needed in the church because of their gifts. Both emphasized the need to study to have a readiness to help the world outside.

Mrs. Elton Arnold, Digby, presented the treasurer's report showing that an amount of $4,915 had been raised for the missionary work of the church with $26.00 for Over and Above gifts.

A panel on "Bridges of Understanding" was held, those on the panel were: Mrs. F. B. Banks, Kingston; Mrs. D. Eagles, Kingston; Mrs. A. Phinney, Waterville; Mrs. H. Murray, Berwick; and Mrs. Spicer of Berwick.

Mrs. J. M. Wallis and Mrs. John Russell, Digby, presented the literature. Mrs. C. Edwin Fraser, of Bridgewater, was guest soloist. Organists were Mrs. J. Allison Dalton and Mrs. G. A. Blackie. Mrs. Fred Withers, Weymouth was convener of courtesies.

The new slate of officers installed by Rev. Mr. Thomas are: President, Mrs. M. G. Spicer, Berwick, 1st Vice-Pres., Miss A. M. Rose, Middleton; 2nd Vice Pres., Mrs. N. K. Morrison, Middleton; Recording Secretary, Mrs. F. Banks, Kingston; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. L. L. Hutchinson, Paradise; Treasurer, Mrs. E. Arnold, Digby; Christian Citizenship and Social Action, Mrs. J. R. Barr, Middleton; Co-operation in Christian Education and Missionary Education, Mrs. Carmen Alridge, Berwick; Finance, Mrs. Harold Willet, Bridgetown; Leadership Development, Mrs. H. Murray, Berwick; Nominations, Mrs. Harry Bath, Middleton; Organization and Promotion, Mrs. M. Spicer and Miss Rose; Community Friendship and Visiting, Mrs. Jas. Hicks, Kingston; Literature, Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby; Press and Publicity, Mrs. A. Lycett; Programme, Mrs. D. Henshaw, Bear River; Stewardship and Recruiting, Mrs. F. Work On Park Started

Work on the 15 acre picnic park at Plympton, Digby Co., was begun this week, according to an announcement by R. Baden Powell, M.L.A. for Digby. The park is on the Savor property opposite the Gardena Lodge.

About 20 men are employed presently on the park and work is expected to continue for two weeks. A road will be built at a later date. Tables and toilet facilities will be provided. An old cemetery in the park is to remain there, it is understood.

Mr. Payzant, Area Supervisor of Parks, and Emerson Brooks, foreman of work, are here to oversee the work.

Fourteen Up Bright & Early

Fourteen of Digby Board of Trade members were "up bright and early" on Wednesday morning to make the New Scotia Restaurant for breakfast at eight o'clock.

It was decided that the Board of Trade join the proposed Digby film council when it is organized.

The committee to look into new signs for the Digby approaches reported. Added to their duties was that of raising funds for the signs. A report was also given by the membership chairman, C. M. Levv.

Receives Long Service Ribbon

Kenneth Connell, a member of the West Nova Scotia Militia, a part of the Black Watch Battalion, recently spent some time at Camp Gagetown, N. B., where he attended a special training program. He received his Civil Defence ribbon for twelve years' service.

About a month ago Mr. Connell was promoted from Sargeant to Staff-Sargeant.

A committee from the town council regarding Cornwallis Naval Base was named to consist of J. J. Brittain, William Marshall and C. M. Levy.

Queen's Scouts

Among the Scout's invested as Queen's Scouts at Halifax on Saturday were three from Digby - Richard Wenaus, John Black, Bruce Surette, Digby; Garth Cress, Allan McCormack, Brian Milner, Bear River. They were accompanied to Halifax by their parents. At Digby they were under Scout Master, Graham Saunders, assisted by Norman Wright, Mike Surette and Frank Ayer.

The guest speaker at the banquet on Saturday was Air Commodore F. S. Carpenter who declared that scouting laws can play a part in preserving national unity and in removing the crises of war in the world.

Air Commodore Carpenter continued: "Surely if people, if communities, if nations, will follow the scout laws, which are based upon integrity, respect for the law, and usefulness to others, surely this must remove finally the very causes of wars and conflict in our world."

He then challenged the scouts to prepare themselves to assume the leadership which so far in their lives had been provided by their parents and scout leaders.

"You are young men. Today, or next week, or next year, it is your turn to assume the positions of leadership which must be found in our community, in our nation and in the world," he added.

Rover Crew Started

A Rover Scout Crew has been organized in Digby under the 1st Digby Group. Committee and sponsored by the Digby Lions Club. Rovers, who are senior members of the Scouting programme, include young men in the age group 16 years to 23 and will consider taking into the crew any boy of good character whether he has previously been a Scout or not.

Mr. William Poole, formerly of Montreal, and bringing considerable experience as a Cub Scout and Rover, is the leader and the Crew is on the way with an interesting programme of activities planned.

At present there are ten boys enrolled in the Crew. They are: Bill Olsen, Glenn Dunn, Mike Surette, Ian Anderson, Jim Dunn, Mike Baxter, Roger Wright, Perry Turnbull, Pete Croft, Rick Olsen.

Work has been started by the members on a Rover Den, which will be located in the basement of the Lions Hall. Various fund raising projects have been planned for the coming year, the first of which is a car wash, to be held at Amira's White Rose Service Station. The money raised from these projects will go towards the improvement of the Rover Den and the purchasing of camping equipment.

To Have Consolidated School

At a special meeting of the Annapolis County Municipal Council held on Tuesday morning at the Court House, Annapolis Royal a motion was passed 8 to 7 in favor of building a new 7 room consolidated school for Deep Brook and Clementsport.

Sixty-four interested people from Bear River, Clementsvalle, Clementsport, including 40 from Deep Brook attended the meeting.

Mr. Howard York was heard from Bear River stating that they had 1 empty room and some classes had only 14 and 16 pupils, and that Smith's Cove also had 2 empty rooms and could see no reason why Deep Brook should not fill those vacancies rather than build a 7 room school at an expense of $60,000 or more to the taxpayers.

Mr. Norman Sanford of Clementsvalle stated that he thought it a "gross injustice" to the County to add this expense to the already overtaxed people, that the present consolidation between Clementsport and Clementsvalle was quite satisfactory; that the present school at Deep Brook could be renovated and repaired rather than spend a possible sum up to $100,000 for a new 7 room school.

Mr. Robert Purdy from Deep Brook stated we were not interested in vacant class rooms in Smiths Cove which is in another County, but were interested in a new school for Deep Brook, also reminding the Council that a large percentage of the County's taxes come from Deep Brook.

Mr. Charles Berry of Clementsport stated a petition of 114 names representing 127 pupils for consolidation was incorrect.

Mr. Harold Purdy of Deep Brook stated that Consolidation between the two schools had long been considered (since 1946 according to records) and that he felt Bear River was inadequate for consolidation with Deep Brook, site and transportation not being satisfactory.

Mr. Sable McNitch spoke from Clementsport referring to a petition of 114 names stating that out of these only 88 were parents. He felt the Clementsport school was in good condition having recently had repairs etc and could see no advantage to pupils to consolidate with Deep Brook.

Mr. Glendon Merritt of Deep Brook and Clementsport only. He also felt that Councilors who had been appointed by the County ratepayers should be able to handle this business themselves.

Councillor L. L. Snell, Deep Brook, Chairman of Municipal School Board addressed the meeting stating that after a careful study of the situation had been made, inadequate facilities, water, heat, lack of sanitation, etc had been found at the present Deep Brook school. Clementsport had been approached about consolidation and after three meetings had failed to accomplish anything definite. A building site equal distance between both places, approximately 8 acres on the Barbara Dewar property had been viewed by those in authority. No extra transportation would be necessary and looking into the not too distant future the 7 room school would be a necessity.

Inspector C. E. Edwards refrained from voicing an opinion, saying that in a telephone conversation with Dr. Moffatt of the Board of Education, Dr. Moffatt stated that whatever the Municipal School Board felt should be done WOULD be done. Inspector Edwards sympathized with the members of the Council on the decision they would have to make today. From past experience with Deep Brook he stated they had never favored having their children transported to another school or consolidation with another to that effect. A school program is only as good as people think it is, he said, in reference to retaining Grades 7 and 8 in proposed Consolidated School.

Councillor Robert Mason of Springfield spoke strongly in

Two Gordon Graduates Conduct Service

Mr. David Turner, a native of Sackville, N. B., and Miss Ruth Atkinson, of Digby, had charge of the evening service last Sunday in the Baptist Church of Digby. Mr. Turner is a graduate of Gordon College of Theology and is presently studying at that institution for his Bachelor of Divinity degree. Miss Atkinson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Atkinson, is also a graduate of Gordon College and is continuing her studies for her Master of Arts degree while filling a teaching position in the State of Mass.

At the service Sunday evening Mr. Turner and Miss Atkinson showed a series of colored slides depicting scenes of interest taken while on a trip to Europe last summer. While there Mr. Turner also made a study of missionary work carried on in a number of European countries. There was a good attendance at this meeting and their contribution was highly appreciated.

Mr. Turner and Miss Atkinson also showed their pictures and led the service at the weekly meeting of the Baptist Youth Fellowship at Hill Grove on Tuesday evening.

Members of the Male Quartette and the organist of the Digby Church motored to Pleasant Lake, Yarmouth Co., for a service in the church there on Sunday evening. Mr. J. J. Brittain led the service and gave the address, while the Quartette sang a number of selections.

Three False Alarms

Digby volunteer firemen have been busy during the past week with the usual amount of spring grass fires. No serious damage has been reported. Firemen report that three false alarms have been sounded recently. The firemen wish to advise the public that lives and equipment are in danger during all fires, and that false alarms have the same effect on the department's welfare as actual fires.

Eye Injured By Stone

Little Frank Melanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Melanson of Grosses Coques, rearing Consolidation and saying he felt too much had already been said creating a Frank, aged 7 years, was hit on the eye with a stone thrown by one of his neighbor playmates.

It will be some time before it will be known if the eye can be saved or if it will have to be removed.

Mrs. Elizabeth Duffy and son, Christopher, Bridgewater were recent visitors of Mrs. Duffy's parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. V. Turnbull, Christopher remained to visit with his grandparents, who motored to Bridgewater on Sunday when he returned home.

opposition of the proposed Consolidation plan and Councillor George Jefferson of Bear River East said he was not against repairs at Deep Brook or a new school but was opposed to taking children from other sections.

Councillor Harold Messing of Round Hill gave several reasons why the consolidation plan would work out satisfactorily for Deep Brook, Clementsport and the good of all concerned.

Warden Balcorn stated there were only 5 two room schools left in the County which would eventually be consolidated with others, also that the cost coming through the Municipal Loan Fund would raise the tax rate approximately 1 3/13 cents. He felt if this motion was turned down that the Councilors would not be recognizing responsibilities.

Councillor L. L. Snell made the motion that a 7 room school at a cost of $60,000 with an added $15,000 to cover water, sewerage, and equipment, a total sum not to exceed $75,000 be built taking care of the Consolidation of Deep Brook and Clementsport schools.

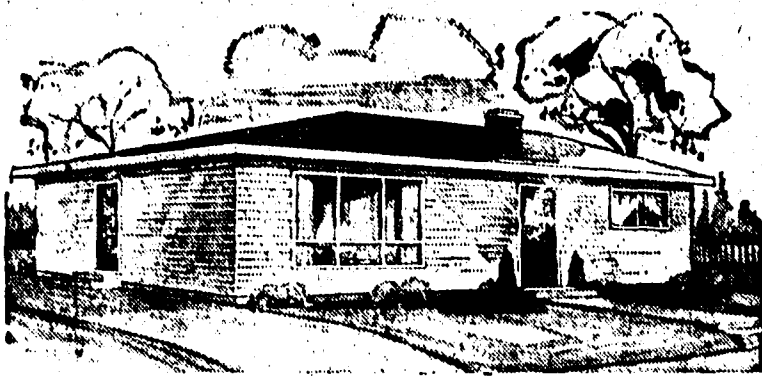

Councillor Harold Messing seconded the motion. The vote was 8 to 7. In favor.

Entertainment In Nova Scotia For Vacationers

Diversity is the definition of summer in Nova Scotia.

Even without seeking it the tourist is surrounded by some of the most magnificent scenery anywhere in Canada and has nature's recreational resources constantly nearby.

In addition to all the recreational advantages of Nova Scotia, each summer sees a full program of festivals and shows to entertain both visitors and residents.

Traditionally, the tourist season begins the last weekend in May with the colorful Annapolis Valley's Apple Blossom Festival - four days of celebrations to welcome the blossoms that blanket the scenic countryside.

Princesses representing towns throughout the 103-mile-long valley vie for the crown of Queen Annapolis and add a glamorous touch to the parades, entertainment programs and formal dances that fill the weekend.

Dominion Day is marked in many centres with special ceremonies, parades and entertainment features, while other communities reserve their celebrations for their natal days at various intervals throughout the summer.

July 1 coincides with the beginning of two important theatrical events - the Neptune Theatre's summer schedule of repertory productions in Halifax and Acadia Summer Playhouse at Wolfville.

At the new Neptune Theatre, 1964 will mark the start of a second summer schedule. The Theatre is the only year-round professional repertory theatre in Canada and the calibre of talent and performance given during the first few months of its existence is an indication that Nova Scotia has one of the best companies anywhere in Canada.

At Wolfville, the company is composed of amateurs but their combined efforts give professional performances of some of the best known plays and musical comedies.

Highland festivals in Nova Scotia began early in the summer. The first, another Dominion Day event, takes place at Pictou and is called the Gathering of the Clans and Pipebands. Regatta, Pictou is most to visitors and spectators, attending the various highland dancing and piping competitions, boat races, parades and special outdoor entertainment program and more.

Highland competitions, plus one of the province's prestige track meets, make the Highland Games at Antigonish one of the outstanding events of a Nova Scotia summer. A kilted golf tournament is another feature of this event. Dates for the 1964 games are July 17 - 18.

Toward the end of July, the town of New Glasgow hosts their five-day festival, Festival of the Tartans, with highland competitions as the chief attractions. A special Highland Village Day is observed at Iona, on Cape Breton Island, with the date for this festival set for early August.

Termed the "six-day highland Scottish classic of Eastern Canada", the Nova Scotia Gaelic Mod takes place in one of the province's most beautiful settings - St. Ann's, Cape Breton. Aug. 10 - 15 are the dates chosen for the 1964 Mod - six days of highland dancing, piping and singing in a truly gaelic atmosphere.

Just as Nova Scotians are proud of their Scottish heritage, so are they justifiably proud of their French Acadian ancestry. To maintain French customs and perpetuate the memory of those early French settlers, two important festivals take place in opposite ends of the province each summer.

At Church Point in western Nova Scotia, a modern Evangeline and Gabriel are selected to reign over festivities at the Acadian Festival of Clare. This year celebrations at Church Point will take place August 7 - 15. Acadian traditions are also revived each year at the Cheticamp, Cape Breton, festival. Date for this year's Acadian Day is August 15.

The performing arts receive special attention in Nova Scotia Festival of the Arts at Tatamagouche and are joined by the province's promising artists. In addition to live entertainment, the festival also

Vacation On Highways

The well-travelled main highways of Nova Scotia reveal delights in scenery and activity around every bend and over every hill. But this is only part of "Canada's Ocean Playground" - there's much more to discover along the less-frequented by-ways.

Many of the unpaved highways meander through the tranquil countryside and culminate in some of the most beautiful beaches to be found anywhere.

Unless it's a weekend day, chances are that you will be the sole inhabitant of the sandy expanse and, at your leisure, may swim in refreshing salt water or drowse lazily on nature's blanket of white sand.

With more than 4,600 miles of scenic coastline in this oceanic province, these dreams can become reality with little effort.

Or, if your preference runs to the peace and calm of an inland lake, you can spend sunlit days fishing for the sporty salmon or trout and moonlit evenings gliding mirror-like waters in a canoe.

The charm of fishing villages is available to all travellers who are willing to drive off the main highways to reach them.

Spectacular scenery in Nova Scotia encompasses more areas than the coastal regions. Inland by-roads lead to some of the province's most scenic spots - panoramic views of serene farmlands below towering, forested hills.

Indian legends are written in twisted rocky formations in many off-trail places in the province. These "pictographs," carved hundreds of years ago, are barely legible today, but tell of favorite trails and campsites, many of which are still enjoyed.

Although there is little to remind Nova Scotians of their Indian heritage, many Mic-Mac descendants gathering for an annual five-day spiritual mission at Chapel Island in the Bras d'Or Lake. The occasion is the feast of St. Anne, when they commemorate Abbe Mailard, the beloved French priest who lived among their forefathers more than 200 years ago and who brought the statue of St. Anne with him from France. His greatest contribution was the devising of manuscript hieroglyphics for a prayer book.

Driver Education

A course for teachers wishing to qualify as instructors in Driver Education will be offered in Nova Scotia this year from August 17 to 28 inclusive. Unless unforeseen circumstances call for a change in plans, the location of the course will be Amherst.

Funds in support of this are provided by the All Canada Insurance Federation and administered for the Federation by the Canadian Highway Safety Council. The course in Nova Scotia is being organized by the Highway Safety Division of the Registry of Motor Vehicles, Department of Highways and the Nova Scotia Safety Council.

Under the formula of financial assistance, the following

spots - panoramic views of serene farmlands below towering, forested hills.

Much more prominent is the tangible tribute to Nova Scotia's first permanent settlers - Champlain and his hardy men from France. They established Port Royal in 1605 and a replica of the original habitation stands as a lasting memorial only a few miles from the town of Annapolis Royal in the Annapolis Valley.

These are only a few of the varied delights that mean summertime in Nova Scotia - so many more are to be found on every by-road and away from the main thoroughfares of the province.

grants will be paid to teachers whose attendance at the course is approved and who satisfactorily complete the course.

$110.00 grant to enrollees more than 30 miles distant from course location.
$30.00 grant to those situated within 30 miles of course location.

There will be no charge for tuition to approved candidates. A teacher, to qualify for admission to the course, must fulfill the following conditions:

1. Be a duly qualified and licensed teacher in Nova Scotia.
2. Hold a currently valid Nova Scotia Driver's license.
3. Have a satisfactory driving record.

4. Have secured the approval of their principal and school board for the taking of the course.

(Where a teacher is moving to a new school in the coming year, it is the Principal and the Board of this new school who must indicate the approval.)

Such approval is to be indicated on the back of the official application form.

Neither teachers taking the course nor their school boards are obligated to offer a course in Driver Education but the teacher, in applying, does undertake to try to promote the introduction of such a course in his community.

It is anticipated that facilities will be available for those teachers attending the course who wish to live in residence. So that necessary arrangements may be made, it is requested that teachers, when applying, state whether they wish to live in residence or prefer to arrange privately for their own accommodations.

All applications should be received not later than May 18. Notice of acceptance will be sent to the teacher concerned shortly after receipt of the application.

Comeau New Tax Arrears Collector

Joseph C. LeBlanc of Little Brook recently resigned as assessor for the Municipality of Clare due to health reasons. He had been employed as assessor for eight years. Up to several years ago the position was a combination assessor and arrears tax collection. When it was decided by the Council that there appeared to be too much work in the combination position, Mr. LeBlanc gave up the arrears tax collection portion and continued as assessor.

Mr. Peremie E. Comeau of Concession was the successful applicant for the tax arrears collector's position which was recently put up for tender by the Municipal Council of Clare. Mr. Comeau will commence his duties shortly.

dates if possible, of those who taught voice and instrumental (bands, orchestra, etc.) are requested.

There were Singing Masters who did a great deal of work even before the tonies-sol-fa system was introduced. Such books as the Bostonian, The Nova Scotia Songster, The Duleimtr and the Lyrium were in common use.

Who were the first teachers of music prior to 1900 and what do we know about them? If anyone has information please write to B. C. Silver, Wolfville. The information for the Province will eventually be placed in the Provincial Archives for historical references.

Bear River Troop

Represented At Ceremony

One of the highlights of their Scouting career will long be remembered by three Scouts of the 1st Bear River Troop, namely Brian Milner, Garth Cress, and Allan McCormick, as they attended the Queen Scout Ceremony on April 18, at the Lord Nelson Hotel in Halifax.

These three boys having earned their Queen Scout badge attended the Investiture Ceremony at which time they received their Queen Scout certificates presented by Rear Admiral Brock in the absence of the Lt. Governor McKeen who was unable to attend. At this time Rear Admiral Brock spoke briefly to the Queen Scouts, commending them on their excellent work and the high standard of Scouting which they had attained.

There were one hundred and twenty-seven Queen Scouts from Nova Scotia and Cape Breton who received their certificates at this ceremony.

Following the ceremony a banquet was held in the ballroom of the Lord Nelson Hotel for the Queen Scouts, parents and Scout Leaders. Guest speaker was Air Commodore Carpenter who spoke to the Scouts on the Scouting movement and the effect it could have on their lives as men of tomorrow.

The 1st Bear River Troop has had 11 Queen Scouts in the past five years. More are expected to follow as each Scout works and strives to reach the goal of a Queen Scout.

At The Capitol

A double bill with color for this weekend. Two prominent western stars, Rory Calhoun and Rod Cameron star in this action-fod pioneer drama "The Gun Hawk" filmed in magnificent color the first picture on the double bill. The second film "The Spy Chaser", is for nothing but fun plus more fun and you are sure to laugh at their ridiculous antics. One show of both features on Friday night at 8 o'clock and at 2:30 and 8 on Saturday.

Monday and Tuesday, the finest cast ever assembled relives one of mankind's most magnificent stories. "Spartacus", the mightiest man in Spartacus, the freedom fighter, Lawrence Oliver, as "Crasus", the mightiest man in Rome, Jean Simmons as "Varian", Spartacus' one love, Charles Lawton as "Gracchus", ruler of the Roman Senate, Peter Ustinov as "Batiatus", dealer in human flesh, John Gavin as "Julius Caesar" ambitious staff officer and Tony Curtis as "Antoninus", Spartacus' dedicated lieutenant.

"Spartacus" the inspiring and imperishable drama of the Gladiator - rebel who sprang from slavery to challenge the awesome might of Imperial Rome - and so became a shining symbol of freedom for all mankind for all time. One show nightly at 8. This presentation takes almost three hours to screen.

There is no such thing as reforming the mass without reforming the individuals who compose it. — Henry Ward Beecher.

Fisher To Battle Porky

Lands and Forests Minister E. D. Halliburton announced today that 21 fisher have been purchased from the State of Maine to battle Nova Scotia's bark-eating porcupine.

Ten of the long, slinky animals were released today and the balance will be released later this month. Nine were released in 1963.

In appearance the fisher looks like a black fox with a bushy tail. The male weighs eight to 10 pounds, a large female about five pounds. Grizzly black, the male has a white spot on his chest. The fisher cry is a cross between a scream and a hiss.

Said to be the most active of North American arboreal animals, the fisher is the deadly enemy of the porcupine which it kills by rolling the quill carrier over and disembowelling it. It is apparently immune to porky's quills.

Eldon Pace, superintendent of the Department's wildlife park at Shubenacadie travelled to Maine to purchase the animals. They have been in quarantine for 30 days before release. A Federal Department of Health veterinarian has given the animals a clean bill of health.

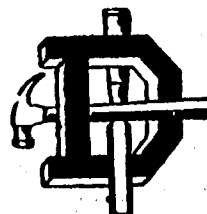

Fishers were native to Nova Scotia. But lumbering, forest fires and trapping eliminated them.

Theme - "Good Elementary School Library"

Two Teachers' Institutes, embracing all primary and elementary teachers of the Annapolis-Digby Inspectorate were held on Thursday and Friday afternoons of this week, one at Lawrenceville, attended by teachers of the Bridgetown, Lawrenceville, and Middleton areas, and the other at Bear River, attended by Annapolis, Weymouth, and Digby area teachers, including teachers from Westport and Islands Consolidated Schools. Members of the supervisory staff attended, C. E. Edwards, Inspector of Schools, presided.

Guest speaker was Miss Shirley Coulter, Provincial Supervisor of School Libraries for the Department. Miss Coulter, in her enthusiastic address, outlined the Department's services, and stressed the importance of the Elementary Library in today's educational program. Statements made during the afternoon program, include:

"The school library program begins in the first year of school and continues through the twelfth grade. It covers many areas, and answers many needs. Library materials, chosen to widen and nourish the natural interests of childhood, are not luxuries, they are as essential to mental and spiritual growth as the right food is to physical development."

The library should be an integral part of the school life of both teachers and pupils in every school. Reading is an activity - an activity of the mind. When many well selected books are available and teachers give guidance, lifetime reading habits are established. Children learn to appreciate the best that is available.

"A planned program of library instruction continues through the twelve years of school, teaching pupils how to use books and libraries, and guiding them in the development of good study habits."

With the aid of film, the teachers were shown a good school library in action. The children who were taught how to locate information in the encyclopedia were shown comparing their sources of information.

"Children know no boundaries for their hopes, ideals, and imaginations. During their formative years, constant association with the best in our cultural heritage leads to the development of discriminatory tastes and lifetime reading habits."

"The school library is a center for stimulating interest, for acquiring information, and for developing the skills needed for good habits."

"The good school library is the carpet under every classroom."

As part of the afternoon programs, teacher-pupil demonstrations were given by Miss June Schmidt, Bear River, and members of her class, and by Miss Anne Wade, Principal of the M. C. Foster Memorial School, with Grade IV pupils of Lawrenceville. Attractive book displays were arranged by Miss Coulter at both Institutes.

Folk Dancers At Marshalltown

Some sixty members of the Vail Dancers Club, a folk dancing group from the mid-valley area between Kentville and Kingston, gave a demonstration of modern western folk dancing at St. Theresa's Hall in Marshalltown Saturday evening. Hosts for the occasion were the officers and members of the Community Club, Head of St. Mary's, recently organized in Marshalltown.

In charge of the dancing group was Municipal Councillor Don Keith of Cambridge. Mr. Keith explained the group had started a short time ago with only eight members and now numbers nearly two hundred.

Two or three nights a week farmers, tradesmen, merchants, doctors, lawyers and others, wives and friends, from Kentville to Kingston turn out

Dedication Service At Weymouth Falls

On Sunday April 19th, the congregation of Mount Beulah United Baptist Church was held in evening worship by the Baptist Laymen, of Lequille, Acadiaville and Weymouth Falls when a Communion Table was dedicated and presented to the church.

Service opened with a hymn, singing, conducted by Deacon Cyril Middleton, after which Rev. W. P. Clayton, pastor, gave the Invocation Prayer. Following the singing of "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name", Scripture was read by the pastor, Rev. Clayton, Isaiah 41:13-18.

The selection "Precious Lord, Take My Hand" was next rendered by Lequille Laymen, with Deacon Parker at the organ. Deacon William Barton, Acadiaville, led in prayer, after which notices were given by the pastor, and welcome extended to the large number of visitors present. Prayer Hymn for Sick and Shut-ins was sung by Deacons Cyril Middleton, George W. Langford and Mr. Victor Jarvis, "In Times Like These".

The Service of Dedication was conducted by Rev. Clayton, with the Presentation given by Deacon George W. Langford, President of the Laymen. The Words of Acceptance were given by Deacon Cecil Simmons, Church Clerk. Following Congregational Responses and Dedication Prayer, the Weymouth Laymen sang "Only a Touch of Thy Hand".

The evening sermon, based on Isa. 44, was entitled "The Part Which Was Given To God", presented by Rev. Clayton, the duet, "Who At My Door Is Standing" was rendered by Mr. Victor Jarvis and Deacon Middleton.

The Acadiaville Laymen sang "Precious Memories", after which Deacon Whitfield Barton gave the Prayer of Thanksgiving. The service closed with the singing of the Communion hymn, "Blest Be The Tie That Binds", with Deacon Walter Langford, Weymouth Falls, giving the Benediction.

Organists taking part were Mrs. Beulah Jarvis, Mr. Henry Bundy and Deacon Parker. All music was under the direction of Deacon Cyril Middleton.

Ushers were Lorenzo Simmons and Peter Stewart. The Communion Table, presented by the Mount Beulah Laymen, was constructed by Mr. Camille Comeau, who also constructed the Pulpit for the church.

The Special Souvenir Bulletin was dedicated to Mrs. John Pleasant, Weymouth Falls, senior member of the church, who despite her advanced years continues her enthusiastic service and interest in her church.

for folk dancing at the Cambridge school. The dances are by no means "wide open" public dances but are limited to club members some of whom are graduates of the 6 weeks course held under the auspices of the Home and School Association. To get on the floor a person must register as a member of the club or be sponsored as a qualified folk dancer by a Home and School Association. All proceeds of the club are put into purchasing needs for the school.

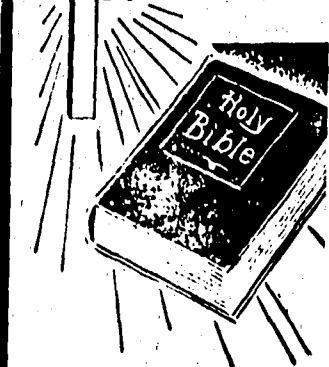

Representatives of the club have performed in Moncton and Saint John and the club will take part in the folk dance festival in Truro and will be part of the program of this year's Annapolis Apple Blossom Festival. The type of folk dancing taught through the club is international in character and those who complete their course of instruction are equipped to join in folk dances almost anywhere in the world. Callers for the demonstration program in Marshalltown Saturday evening included Pat Hearn, R.C.A.F., airframe technician at R.C.A.F. Greenwood Pat and his wife, Mary are both dance instructors and it is a hobby for them both. He learned his dance calling skills while posted with the R.C.A.F. in Germany. Other callers for the Saturday evening demonstration were Mr. Keith and Channing Beech.

At the close of the evening's program refreshments were served by the members of the community club.

"Penny" Gott Talks On Mental Health

Community mental health centres such as that operated in Digby are part of the "new look" in mental health services, stated Councillor Mayon P. Gott, vice-president of the Digby branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association, in an address to the Smith's Cove Home & School Association.

Mrs. Gott, in her address, stated that tremendous strides have been made in mental health services over the years. Today, she said, much of the stigma previously attached to mental illness has been removed and mental illness is being regarded in much the same manner as are other illnesses to which mankind is subject.

The changing attitude toward mental illness and the resultant progress in treatment and prevention have been due in great part, Mrs. Gott said, to the work of such organizations as the Canadian Mental Health Association which over the years has been carrying on an educational campaign with regard to mental illness and has been supporting research work, treatment centres and rehabilitation programs in this field.

She stated that Digby County and the area served by the mental health centre in Digby is fortunate to have a community service such as this available. She pointed out that the services of the centre are free of any charge to all persons wishing to avail themselves of these services.

In explaining the work of the mental health centre in Digby, Mrs. Gott said it provides a service not only to those who may actually be ill but it also provides counselling, guidance, aid and assistance to anyone experiencing emotional difficulties or problems.

In these days of anxiety, she said, there is a tremendous strain on everyone and it is part of the task of all of us to help each other meet the strains and stresses of life in such a manner that we will not be overcome by them. In this connection, she said, one of the tasks that organizations such as home and school can adopt is to become informed themselves and help inform the general public about the services available through such agencies as community mental health centres.

It is a truth, she said, we are indeed our brother's keeper and we should be ever alert to the needs of our fellow man. This alertness, she said, includes the need for an awareness of signs of the effect of stress and strain on ourselves, our families, friends and associates. She urged her listeners to take a greater interest and become more involved in the field of mental health. The whole problem of uncertainty which is so much a part of the present day, she said, is one which affects teenagers and young folk particularly. Organizations such as the home and school can help these youngsters meet this problem, but first they must learn of the tools available for the job.

Mrs. Gott explained the close connection between the Community Mental Health Centre and the Mental Health Association. In Digby, she said, the association is responsible for the running expenses of the centre, exclusive of professional salaries. She urged support

Injured In Fall

Mrs. Janey Dugas of Groses Coques accidentally fell on the cellar stairs of her home and received cuts in the face, head and bruises on her body, the results of the fall. She was alone in her home at the time and her cries for help were heard by Eddie Comeau, who was working on the highway nearby. At first Mr. Comeau could not recognize from where the call for help was coming as the cries were very faint.

He finally located the area and asked a neighbor, Mrs. Gustavo Dugas who lives across the main highway from the residence of Mrs. Janey Dugas, to go and see if Mrs. Dugas required any assistance. It was then that it was discovered that Mrs. Dugas was lying on the floor of her cellar unable to move or return to the first floor.

She was rushed to the Digby General Hospital where she is recuperating from her injuries. Mrs. Janey Dugas is a widow and resides alone in her home.

Mrs. Lyall Hersey of Mink Cove has returned home after spending three weeks in Bayfield, Ontario with her daughter Carolyn, Mrs. Ward, L.A.C. Kent Ward and grandchildren, Francis before they leave for Europe.

of the fund raising campaign of the association, which opens April 27.

Shows Appreciation

As will be seen on other pages of this newspaper a new building has been found to house what has been known for a long time in Digby as the Psychiatric Clinic. Being one who has offices in the building I would like at this time to express my deep appreciation and thanks to all those who have made this pleasant change possible, among them the members of the Canadian Mental Health Association, the Directors of the Board of the Digby-Annapolis Mental Health Services Board, the Town and Municipal Councils of Digby, a number of Pharmaceutical Companies, and many individuals.

Here I would like to say that the building will be known in future as the Digby Community Mental Health Centre; sickness in the long run. thus expressing the hope that its main pre-occupation will be with health rather than illness.

Sincerely yours,
(Dr.) R. A. Armstrong.

The Digby Psychiatric Clinic, rendering a definite service to the residents of this area, recently moved into new and larger quarters. It is hoped that with the new and improved accommodations there will be improved methods of treatment and cure for the mentally disturbed.

Besides providing help for persons who are ill the Digby Centre provides counselling, guidance, aid and assistance to anyone experiencing emotional difficulties or problems. The Digby area is fortunate to have such a community service available.

Beginning April 27 the Digby Mental Health Association will conduct a campaign for funds with a County-wide objective set at $3,000. By giving a donation you do your share to help cure Mental Illness.

Need Permits For Clearing Land Burning

Forest fires destroyed 2,300 acres of Nova Scotia woodlands in 1963.
Although this figure is well below the average loss for the last 10 years and is one of the lowest figures in North America, it still accounts for an $8,700 loss to the province's forests.
Efforts by the Lands and Forests Department to reduce average loss continue throughout the year, although the program is accelerated with the approach of warmer weather.
"More fires occur during the months of April and May than during any other period," said R. H. Burgess, director of forestry for the department.
"It is usually during this period, as well, that we have the greatest average loss. This is due to the fact that the forest floor and barren areas are covered with old, dry humus and grass and when a fire is allowed to start under these conditions it can spread rapidly. During the early part of June, the appearance of new grass and foliage can impede a potential fire's growth."

Department regulations state that anyone wishing to start a fire near a wooded area (for burning rubbish, clearing land) between April 15 and October 15 must first obtain a burning permit from the district ranger.
The department's fire statistics show that not all residents obtain burning permits, nor do they take the necessary precautions when a permit is issued. Court action is instituted by the department in such cases, but this does not compensate for the tremendous loss should one of these fires develop into major proportions. This year, department personnel have been instructed to issue permits only if the recommended precautions are carried out.
According to department statistics, children were responsible for setting 111 fires, nearly one-third of the 1963 total. Since this figure is increasing, it is evident that forest fire prevention needs more stress in homes and schools.
With increasing numbers of hunters, fishermen and campers using the woodlands of Nova Scotia, the danger of fire is increasing.
To ensure both prevention and spreading of fires, the department maintains an extensive forest-ranger system throughout the province. The department's detection system, consisting of 29 manned fire towers and an aerial patrol, is in readiness.
No system can be adequate enough to cover the entire wooded area of the province and, as a result, the forest rangers must depend on the general public to alert them when a fire occurs.
"The co-operation of the public in past years has been a major factor in diminishing serious fire outbreaks, and subsequent loss of valuable wooded areas," said Mr. Burgess.
ment's water-dropping aircraft based at Waverley is expected to be an asset in preventing small fires from reaching major proportions. Last year it was used to extinguish 23 fires, the majority of them in the Halifax area.
The Beaver aircraft used is fitted with tanks on the pontoons and can carry 90 gallons of water. Tanks are filled by a tube arrangement when the plane is skimming over the surface of the water. The aircraft is most effective on fires within a five-mile radius of a large water supply.

New Doctor in Weymouth

Dr. and Mrs. B. Erjazez of Louisdale, C. B. and four children have arrived in Weymouth and are at present living in the house vacated by Mrs. Omer Blinn. Dr. Erjazez will have his practice in Dr. Pothier's office. He was born in Yugo Slavia, and graduated from the University of Paris in 1950. He practiced for several years in Madagascar, Africa, coming to Canada in 1957, where he interned at Halifax Infirmary, from where he received his L.M.C.C. in 1959. Dr. and Mrs. Erjazez are welcomed to the village and have already begun to make friends in the community and in practice.

Festival - Weymouth

There were also a number of non competitive classes entered by Weymouth, which were outstanding.

On Thursday evening the Music Festival Concert was held with a capacity house. Those called back from Weymouth were: St. Peter's Anglican Sunday School Choir, "Fairiest Lord Jesus"; Patricia Cosman, "Nocturne"; Sharon Simmon, "Merry-Go-Round"; Mrs. Gordon Prime, Marion and Geneva Prime, in a piano trio "Sur le Pont d'Avignon"; and Mrs. Ken Hankinson and Owen in a violin and piano duet "T Spring".

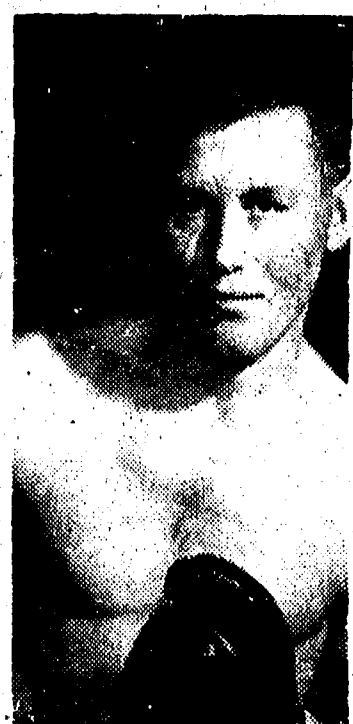

Others taking part in the non-competitive part of festival, and receiving high commendations from here were Judith MacNeill and Mrs. MacNeill, Joan Round, Jane Hankinson, Brian and Maureen Mullen, Sheila Mullen, Joyce and David Roma and Denise Comeau.

Demonstrate French Teaching

The regular Home and School meeting was held on Tuesday evening of last week and in the absence of the president, Mr. A. E. Adelaar was chaired by Mrs. Dan Hankinson. One of the highlights of this year's meetings was a class in French - a demonstration given by Mrs. Lawrence Stockdale's grade VII A class, on the teaching of French. This positive approach method of teaching used by Mrs. Stockdale was most gratifying to see and has had amazing results. With so much emphasis on bilingualism, it was felt that this demonstration was most enlightening and effective.

The Home and School agreed to sponsor the immunization clinic which is being arranged by the Dept. of Health on Friday evening. It was decided that if the Dept. of Health is concerned to look after our health enough to protect against Polio and Tetanus (lock jaw) we, the people

Weymouth Native Army Champ

Pte. Jim Beaudro, of Weymouth, N. S., who graduated from novice boxing ranks last fall, grabbed off the open welterweight crown with a pair of impressive performances in the Army boxing championships at Camp Gagetown, N. B., April 6 to 10.

Beaudro, a 24 year old infantryman with the 1st Battalion, the Black Watch, based at Camp Gagetown, was on a 19-man squad from the unit that represented the Maritimes in the title scraps.

He moved into the finals of the five day event after registering a second round TKO over Jim Moore, of Kitchener, Ont., in a preliminary bout, and snared a unanimous decision when he should avail ourselves of this opportunity.

A nominating committee was appointed to bring in a slate of officers at the next meeting for the following year.

It was reported that all adult education classes had been completed for this season and it was suggested that all interested in these classes for next year will contact Mrs. Jared Frankland, early in September.

tangled with Guardsman Cyril Jonson, of Middleton, N. S., in the division final.

Sixty-five boxers from the four Army Commands in Canada took part in the event which required five separate nights to decide 20 novice and open crown in all classes from flyweight to the heavy division.

The pair of victories bumped Beaudro's record to 20 wins in 23 starts. He won the Army novice welter crown last year when the championships were staged at Camp Valcartier, Quebec, but moved out of the novice class last fall after competing in his 10th bout.

Next step for the Weymouth boxer is a trip to Vancouver in May, where he'll take a stab at a Dominion crown. A good showing in the west coast city could earn him a berth on the boxing squad that will represent Canada in the World Olympics in Tokyo next November.

He is the son of Mrs. Bernadette Beaudro, R.R. No. 1, Weymouth, N. S.

Weymouth Prominent in Music Festival

Thirty-two entries in the 14th Digby Music Festival came from Weymouth and the surrounding areas this year. With the exception of St. Peter's Junior Choir, all were private students in piano or family groups.

The Digby Music Festival is the highlight of the year, insofar as music is concerned, in this area. It is an opportunity for young people and adults to learn and hear good music. Audiences are welcomed at all performances and enthusiasm of those who attended ran high.

For the first time in the 11 years, there were no entries from Weymouth Consolidated School, in either choruses or rhythm bands. Several lovely choruses were heard from Digby schools, both elementary and high schools, as well as St. Patrick's School.

In competitive piano classes from Weymouth, the marks were as follows: Carol Lombard, Corberrie, "Jamaican Serenade", 86; Minuet in G, 84; Joan MacCullough, Riverdale, "Minuet in G", 85; "Country Hoe Down", 81;

Caring For The Kiddies
UNICEF, the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, was originally established, we learn from the Encyclopedia Americana, to help children who were made homeless in World War II. However, its value to the world became so obvious that it is now a permanent U. N. organization concerned particularly with the plight of children in under developed countries.

Acute leukemia, the most common form of cancer in children, has lately been treated by drugs which have extended life for as long as three years. Chronic leukemia, usually occurs most often after the age of 25. It produced, Eddy Hankinson, Aileen Cosman, "Little Robin Red Breast", 81; Piano Duet, Joan MacCullough, Valerie Sullivan, "Minuet", 80.

THE Digby Courier

Report From Parliament Hill

George C. Nowlan

April 18, 1961

The House of Commons this week completed its review of the Final Supplementary Estimates, after a sixteen day debate. This is the longest debate that has taken place on Final Supplementary Estimates in Canada's history. Incidentally, of course, the Estimates were also the largest in Canada's history.

There was more than one reason for this prolonged debate. In the first place, the inept leadership of Mr. Pavreau, resulting in the fiasco over the Easter recess, made everybody angry. Angry men are the same wherever you find them, whether it be in the House of Commons, or in the Church or at a School meeting. No one co-operates very well when he is angry, and it took quite a long while for the House to cool off.

Then there were some new and original items in these Supplementary Estimates. The one which drew the most attention, and consumed several days of debate, was the one dealing with the Eskimos in the Province of Quebec. Every one has heard, I presume, of the Hon. Rene Levesque, one of the Ministers of the Quebec Government, and the one who has been emphasizing the necessity for Quebec development in its own economy, and its own autonomy, without, at the same time, urging independence from the rest of Canada. Mr. Levesque declared that part of the future of the Province of Quebec lay in the development of the northern part of that Province, where the Quebec Eskimos live. He could see power plants, mines and factories being developed there. This, of course, would mean construction of highways, railroads and all the rest of it. He said that the Eskimos would be better off if they were to do this work as wage earners than to be kept in the North and paid the same salaries as the drivers, mechanics and operate bulldozers. He immediately started a program to train the Eskimos. First he had to train French men who could train the Eskimos. He recruited a substantial number of young French men and they were given special courses in Eskimo language, Eskimo culture, etc., and were going out to the great Northland to train the Eskimos.

There were one of two difficulties, however. The Eskimos all wanted to learn English, because they felt that that was the language which would give them the most employment. The instructors would only teach them French. Also, many of the Eskimos, if not the great majority, are Anglican, and they did not want teaching which might lead them into other religious faiths. The Eskimos are the wards of Canada, and not of Quebec. Mr. Levesque assured that it would be a very easy matter to have the Dominion Government transfer these Eskimos to the control of the Quebec Government. The Progressive Conservative Party have the only two Members of Parliament from the North Country. Both of them are fully conversant with the Eskimo problem, and protested vigorously the action taken by Mr. Levesque, unless the Eskimos' rights were safeguarded and they were first consulted, and gave their consent. Actually this position was also adopted by the Hon. Arthur Laing, the Minister of Northern Affairs, although as a Member of the Liberal Cabinet, he had to be a little more tactful in his statements. Yet it was obvious to everyone that he strongly disapproved of the proposed action to transfer guardianship to the Province of Quebec, and fought it at every step. As a result, we spent several days debating the matter. Mr. Rene Levesque's trained men are awaiting appointments, and in fact some of them had gone to the North Country in expectation that the transfer would go through long before this. In the meantime, all Opposition Members of the House of Commons are determined to see that the Eskimos' rights are fully protected, and that no transfer will go through until an Agreement has been arrived at between the two Governments and submitted to the House of Commons.

The rest of the week was spent in debating the Redistribution Bill. Under our law, the seats in Parliament have to be redistributed after every decennial census. This has always been the occasion for log-rolling and political gimmicks whereby the Party in power naturally tried to get the best deal it could out of the redistribution. This sometimes has been rather an unseemly mess, and all Parties share equal responsibility in it. This time it was decided that the redistribution should be taken out of the hands of the politicians, and left to Independent Commissions, one for each Province. All Members of the House of Commons agreed to this in principle. One hears these days a great deal of criticism of Parliament, some of which is justified but most of which is not. I said the other night that this was Parliament at its best, when each of the four Parties through its spokesmen agreed in principle to the establishment of these Commissions. After all, it is not a particularly easy thing to Members of Parliament to agree to turn over to an unknown body the responsibility for redrawing the boundaries of the constituencies, which in a good many cases will result in the Members' constituencies disappearing.

Although there is absolute agreement on the principle, there naturally are strong differences of opinion with respect to certain details. The Government's proposal was that each Commission should consist of the Chief Electoral Officer, the Chief Justice of the Province or a Judge designated by him, and two others, one chosen by the Prime Minister and the other chosen by the Leader of the Opposition. These are two offices in the House of Commons which are recognized by statute, and when men have attained those offices, it may be assumed that they will act in a very responsible and reasonable way. Mr. Stanley Knowles, however, although agreeing as to the qualities of the men occupying those two offices, thought it still savoured of politics, and he brought in an amendment suggesting that the Chief Justice should choose the two Members from among the ranks of College Presidents and College Professors. Personally I do not think that College Professors are necessarily political neutrals. In fact, in a little humorous sally which I made the other evening in the House, and without mentioning the College, (Dalhousie), I pointed out that the Head of one Department in that University was the President of the N.D.P. Party, whereas the President of the same University was a former Liberal Leader and Premier of the Province. I didn't think that Mr. Knowles' amendment would remove the political atmosphere entirely from the situation. In fact I suppose it is impossible to remove a political flavour from a matter which is entirely political. All one can expect is fairness and good judgment, and I think the provision in the Bill which the Government brought in is better than the amendment which Mr. Knowles suggested. That matter, I presume, will be settled next week, because no vote on the clause was taken up until the House rose on Friday evening.

I expect to be speaking to you through the radio facilities of CKEN at 6:15 next Sunday evening.

To Educate Against Smoking

The Provincial Health Department considers cigarette smoking a significant public health hazard. Health Minister Richard A. Donahoe said Monday.

"It has been established that the cigarette smoker is faced with a greater incidence of certain diseases of the respiratory and circulatory systems which can seriously impair the health."

The Public Health Department of Nova Scotia is co-operating with the Department of National Health and Welfare in a program to inform the public concerning the hazards of cigarette smoking.

Physicians, persons in the field of health education and news outlets will receive directly the information on which the educational program will be based.

"The department recognizes in particular the responsibility of informing children of the health hazards resulting from smoking," said Mr. Donahoe.

The Health Department will co-operate with the Department of Education in introducing an educational program on smoking in the public schools of Nova Scotia.

Picture Stamps Only Postage

A letter from a Burmese village arrived at the Nova Scotia Travel Bureau this month with two of the province's "picture stamps" as the only postage.

The stamps, which feature miniature colored scenes of Nova Scotia and have the words "Picture Stamps" in bold red letters, are given to tourists visiting here. They were affixed to a letter requesting maps and brochures of the province.

Although the letter was marked "air mail", it took almost four months to reach its Halifax destination. Travel Bureau personnel are still perplexed that postal authorities along the route failed to notice the discrepancy. Normally, double postage is required to be paid by the receiver if the postage is insufficient. As a "P.S.", the letter writer added: "Please send me free a lot of stamps."

Marriage

Ranger — Henshaw

A pretty wedding took place at 11 o'clock on Saturday morning in St. Patrick's Roman Catholic chapel at 11 M. C.S. Cornwallis when Rev. Father Boland united in marriage Bonnah Coleen Henshaw only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Henshaw, Deep Brook, and Alain Rock Ranger, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ranger of Alexandria, Ontario.

The bride looked charming in a street length dress of full nylon over taffeta skirt and acetate lace over satin bodice.

Her shoulder length veil of nylon tulle was held in place by a sequin trimmed tiara and she carried an arm bouquet of red roses and fern.

Jewellery worn by the bride was a gold bracelet, gift of her paternal grandmother and a black diamond ear rings, gift of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Meuse of Yarmouth were the attendants. Mrs. Meuse, aunt of the bride wore street length dress of yellow nylon with white accessories and bouquet of mauve mums and white carnations.

The bride's mother chose beige princess style linen dress with white accessories and corsage of pink and white carnations.

The groom's mother chose a grey wool two piece suit with pink accessories, fur stole and corsage of pink mums.

A reception for the family and friends held immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride, Glendon Henshaw, uncle of the bride proposed the toast to the bride and the groom responded.

Miss Margaret Vidito was in charge of the guest book.

For travelling the bride chose yellow linen dress with white accessories and corsage of bronze mums.

The bride is a graduate of Camp Hill Hospital as nursing assistant and will be on the staff of Childrens Hospital, Halifax, where the groom is stationed with the Royal Canadian Navy. After a short trip to Alexandria, Ontario the young couple will reside in

No Newspaper Carried The Story

No paper carried the story. Can't understand why. It was good material, packed with human interest.

It happened this way: they had planned the vacation for a long time. Finally the day came and the children and parents piled in the family car and off they went.

The vacation went quickly, as it usually does. It was on the way back — only an hour's drive from home. The conversation centered on the wonderful time they had had. They agreed that it was the most wonderful trip of their lives and would never forget it.

They were right. They never would forget it.

Here were four people with everything to live for.

And they did live.

Everything to live for.

And they did live.

There was no accident.

They were among the millions of people who every day drive automobiles without an accident. They were among the millions of motorists who never make the headlines.

Safety doesn't make headlines. The results of common sense driving are evidenced by accidents that never happen.

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, APRIL 30, 1964

VOLUME LXXXIX, No. 36

Digby Power Increase 30%

A possible increase of up to 30% in consumer rates for electrical energy in Digby Co., was seen here following receipt of a letter by the Digby County Power Board from the Nova Scotia Power Commission concerning the rate charged the board by N.S.P.C. for electrical energy.

According to Stuart A. MacNaughton, superintendent of the Digby County Power Board, the N.S.P.C. has advised that it has been decided to increase the present energy rate from 5 cents per kilowatt hour to 65 cents for the balance of 1964. The new energy rate was effective March 1.

In the letter concerning the new rate the commission stated the rate change was made as a "result of 1963 cost analysis and subsequent review of your tentative billing rate. The letter further stated that the anticipated increase will bring your account closer to a balance position for the year ending November 30, 1964."

The Digby County Power Board has been purchasing all its electrical energy requirements from the N.S.P.C. since selling out its own generating facilities to the Commission prior to the construction by the Commission of the multi-million dollar hydro power development on the Sissiboo River.

The energy is purchased from the Commission at a tentative billing rate and each year an adjustment is made to bring the price of energy sold to the board in line with cost. Last year the board paid the commission some $9,000 in order to balance its account for energy purchased during the year.

It is understood that Mr. MacNaughton and Vincent Melanson, chairman of the power board, will meet with N.S.P.C. officials in Halifax next week to discuss the proposed increase and its effect on consumer rates in Digby County.

Summerside To Host Teenage Drivers

Teenage Safe Driving Championships will be held May 20 in Summerside, P.E.I. says Junior Chamber of Commerce chairman John Walker, whose group is co-sponsoring the competition with Imperial Oil Limited. "Teenagers generally have the skill and responses to be good drivers. Competitions like this add that vital 'extra', judgement", he said.

Hundreds of young men and ladies from 28 cities, towns and villages in the four Atlantic provinces are currently competing in local Teenage Road-E-Os. The 28 top winners will have an all-expense paid trip to Summerside to compete for the regional championships, the Imperial Gold, Silver and Bronze trophies.

The 28 hopefuls will be put through their paces in an all-day series of skill-driving, oral and written tests culminating in a gala banquet replete with speeches and prize-giving.

The top winners will then receive an all-expense paid trip for a chance to compete in the National Safe Driving Championships slated for Toronto, July 15-19.

Cadet Inspection

Over 3,000 high school students throughout Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island soon will be standing tall and straight on Army Cadet parade squares as the annual inspection of their corps takes place. One of the major attractions of the school year, the ceremonial parade, display of training skills and presentation of awards takes place before thousands of admiring parents, schoolmates and visitors. School bands assist where possible and dignitaries of the Royal Canadian Legion, local Militia units and service clubs frequently assist with the ceremonies.

Cadets at Weymouth Consolidated School and the Annapolis Royal Regional Academy will be inspected on May 20. Among the inspecting officers will be Sgt.-Mjr. (WO2) C. Gregoire, of the Black Watch, and Sgt.-Mjr. L. E. Gargan, of the Royal Canadian Artillery.

Advices "Give Mental Health Full Support"

Dr. Clyde Marshall, Administrator of Mental Health Services for the Provincial Health Department, today urged Nova Scotians to give Mental Health Week their full support. The provision of adequate facilities for diagnosis, treatment and care of the mentally ill is one of the most challenging of all public health problems, he said.

"Nova Scotia has progressed markedly in this field in recent years. Today many of our mental health facilities are among the best in Canada. Particularly noteworthy are the nine Mental Health Centres maintained by the Community Health Boards covering the province from Yarmouth to Sydney. These centres are operated by local citizens interested in the care of the mentally ill."

In 1947 the Nova Scotia Hospital had a total of 44 nurses and attendants caring for 500 patients. Today the same number of patients are cared for by 342 nurses and attendants.

"Much still remains to be done if patients suffering from mental illness are to receive the same excellence of medical services as quickly, easily and efficiently as the patient suffering from physical illness," said Dr. Marshall.

The Department of Public Health works in co-operation with the Canadian Mental Health Association to provide Nova Scotians with the latest in mental health treatment.

The Department owns and operates the Nova Scotia Hospital in Dartmouth and the Department of Public Welfare maintains the Nova Scotia Training School in Truro. Eight counties operate their own mental health hospitals for the care of long-term patients.

During Mental Health Week, special efforts are being made across Canada to enlist the interest and support of all communities. In supporting Mental Health Week in Nova Scotia citizens are invited to visit the mental hospitals in their areas.

Career Conference At Digby High

By N. E. Jeffrey, Director of Guidance, Digby Regional High School. Are you interested in the topic "Youth Looks to the Future"? On the afternoon of May 6, 1964, a Career Conference will be held at the Digby Regional High School for students of Grades 10, 11 and 12. Parents are cordially invited to attend this conference with their children.

Our expanding economy has provided broader vocational opportunity for each generation of Canadian youth. Good jobs today demand more and offer more than ever before. Trained man-power in productive and distributive occupations is already a limiting factor in our rate of economic expansion. This is due partly to the fact that our 18-24 age population is the smallest percentage in our nation's history.

A high proportion of our young people are dropping out of high school. Of those who graduate, many of the ablest are not continuing their education. Most of the "drop-outs" and many graduates are drifting into rather than planning careers. This suggests that young people in our schools should have more information and counselling about job opportunities and the aptitude and training required for them. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics states these facts:

1. 35% of all Canadian pupils quit school with a Grade 8 education or less.
2. Only 1/5 of all those who start out in Grade 1 achieve senior matriculation in spite of the fact that this is demanded by more and more businesses and industries as the minimum qualification for training for skilled jobs. This is an 80% waste, or underdevelopment, of our human resources. Today educators are seeking means of providing (Please turn to page 5)

Yvonne Doiron Digby Princess

Yvonne Marie Doiron, 22-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Doiron, has been chosen princess to represent Digby at the 1964 Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival, to be held the end of May. Miss Doiron, a brunette, is a graduate of St. Francis Xavier University and has chosen the teaching of physical education as a career. She represented the Digby Golf Club at the princess contest

Music Festival Opened Monday

The 21st annual Annapolis County Music Festival in which over 1,000 contestants participated, was held the first part this week, being opened Monday at the Regional Academy in Annapolis Royal.

Festival adjudicator this year was Leonard Mayoh, associate professor of voice at Acadia University.

All evening sessions of the festival were held in Annapolis Royal as well as Tuesday's day session. Bridgeport was host during the day on Wednesday and today's session is in Middleton.

Lions Active In Local Projects

Through the co-operation of the Digby Lions Club many functions of a local nature are planned for the near future. Lions plan a gigantic minstrel show, to be staged at Digby Regional High on May 26 and 27, and a Gasa-rama on Sunday, May 17, when members of the club will occupy Jack's Service Station.

A Lions spokesman told the Courier that attendance at regular teenage dances is steadily increasing and that membership cards are being issued to students only forming the Lions Teen-Town Club.

Last Friday Digby Lions sponsored the annual Apple Blossom Princess contest and dance, with Miss Yvonne Doiron being chosen princess to represent Digby at the forthcoming Valley event.

Attends Hair Dressing Clinic

Mrs. Virginia Graham, Warwick Street, Digby, attended a Hair Dressers' Association, held at Palmeter's Country Home, Kentville, during the weekend.

Mrs. Graham has had previous experience in the hair dressing business, and she expects to attend further clinics and refresher courses which will enable her to obtain her master's license. Mrs. Graham plans to be working at Eileen's Beauty Shop with Mrs. McCallum, a master's operator, until early fall.

Mrs. Harry A. Baxter has returned from Daytona Beach, Fla. where she has spent the past seven months with her daughter, Mrs. Doris Bascom.

Lands Record Catch

The 86-foot fish dragger "Harley & Gale", captained by Merrill Griffin, North Head, N. B., landed 200,000 pounds of fish at East Ferry, on Saturday. These were caught on George's Banks. This is believed to be the largest catch ever landed in Digby County.

The "Harley & Gale" also landed a record catch at Beaver Harbour, N. B., in February.

Since January the boat has landed over 800,000 pounds of fish.

Mr. Victor Rice and Cleveland Rice of Welsford, N.B., were visiting their sister, Mrs. Robena VanTassel for a few days.

Made Queen's Scouts

Attend Diocesan Auxiliary Meet

Delegates from all over the province met in Halifax last week to attend the meeting of the Nova Scotia Diocesan Board of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church of Canada. Left to right are Mrs. L. R. Arenburg, Truro, president of the Amherst deanery; Mrs. Owen Dauphinee, Glen Haven, president of the Lunenburg deanery; Mrs. R. B. Lept, Digby, president of the Annapolis deanery; and Mrs. J. P. Parker, North Sydney, president of the Cape Breton deanery.

By a panel discussion delegates were advised that parish members should be agitators, who stirred the government and the community to action in the field of social service. Moderator of the panel was Rev. C. R. Elliott. Panel members were Miss Belle Dauphinee, social worker with the City of Halifax Welfare Department, Miss Alice Falkenhain, social service secretary of the Diocesan Board, and George Matthews, of the Nova Scotia Department of Welfare.

Social welfare must begin with the approach toward others, Miss Dauphinee said. "If you feel superior or, if missionaries have a 'do good' attitude, you can't do much worthwhile work," she said. Miss Falkenhain stressed the need to teach people the proper ways to approach patients in hospitals, especially mental hospitals. If there were one social service organization in the parish, it might concentrate on education and training in social service work, she said.

Mrs. J. H. Langille, Armadale, Halifax Co., was re-elected president of the Nova Scotia Diocesan Board of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church of Canada. From the Digby area was elected Mrs. R. H. Waterman, Smith's Cove, patroness. Mrs. R. B. Lept, Digby, is Annapolis deanery president of the Woman's Auxiliary.

Accident Claims Life

A highway accident at Deep Brook early Saturday morning claimed the life of Roy F. Turpin, of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis. He was a passenger in a car allegedly driven by Edward MacAlpine, Terrance Smith, also from Cornwallis, was another passenger in the car. The latter two are resting comfortably in hospital at Cornwallis. Turpin was pronounced dead on arrival of medical help.

The MacAlpine car was in collision with a car said to have been driven by Kenneth Wood, of Clementsport, with Rose Marie Stoddard and Melvin Hagen as passengers. Digby R.C.M. Police are investigating.

L.S.C.A. 2 Roy Turpin 25, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Turpin, Sherbrooke, Ontario, is survived by his wife, the former Made Milbury, of Bear River, and two children, Given 2 and Peter, 5 months. Also surviving is a sister, Ruth (Mrs. Harry Warner), and a brother, Cecil, both in Ontario.

Funeral services were held from Bear River Baptist Church Tuesday afternoon with Rev. A. G. Hubley, pastor and Rev. T. L. Jackson, Chaplain at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, officiating.

Interment was in Mount Hope Cemetery, Bear River.

Concert Singer Passes

The death of Miss Agnes Munro occurred at the Stewarts Nursing Home, Annapolis Royal, on Sunday. She was born 87 years ago in Annapolis Royal, a daughter of the late Captain Albert E. and Agnes (Giesner) Munro.

A Loyalist, she received her early education in Amherst and Saint John, N. B., and later studied music in Chicago and Paris. She sang on many concert platforms in the United States. She returned to Annapolis Royal and taught voice and piano for a number of years.

A devoted member of the Anglican Church, she was leader of St. Luke's choir, a member of the W.A. and a valued member of the Sanctuary Guild.

After a serious illness two years ago, she took up painting as a hobby, and was still painting up to three days before her death.

She is survived by one brother, Roy, of Chicago, and several nephews and nieces. Two sisters, Lottie and Elizabeth (Mrs. H. N. Lingley), of Saint John, and a brother, George, of Truro, predeceased her.

Funeral will be held Friday from Trinity Church, Saint John, N.B., with interment in the family lot at Fern Hill Cemetery, Saint John.

Baptists To Hold Rally

The young people of the Digby District Baptist Youth Fellowship will hold their spring Rally and Conference in the Baptist Church of Digby on Saturday afternoon, May 2nd. It is expected that more than 100 young people will attend this event, and among them, youth leaders of the various churches. The session will open at 1:00 p.m. with registration, and close at 5:00 p.m.

A number of the young people of the 11th Grove Baptist Youth Fellowship attended the youth service at Smith's Cove on Monday evening on the occasion of the visit of Rev. Raymond MacFarlane, Nova Scotia Secretary of the Canadian Federation for Alcoholism Study.

Members of the C.G.I.T. of Baptist Church of Digby attended an Affiliation Service held with the Women's Missionary Society last Tuesday evening. Mrs. Hugh Vincent was in charge of the service. At the worship service next Sunday morning, the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin will speak on the topic: "Religion and Mental Health."

Pines Golf Course Opens

The Digby Pines Golf Course will open for play on Saturday, May 9th.

Officials report that the course has wintered well and is in good condition.

Suggests Local Organizations Sponsor July 1st

Following is copy of a letter being forwarded by the Digby Recreation Commission to service clubs and other organizations in the Digby area.

April 28, 1964.

Dear Sir: The Digby Lions Club, this year, is unable to sponsor the Digby July First Celebration. As you know, this celebration has been held annually and any proceeds from it have been shared equally between the sponsoring body and the Digby Recreation Commission.

The Commission feels it cannot operate the Rink for the 1964-65 season without this revenue. Particularly where the cost of power to operate the machinery is to increase by 30%.

We feel it is an imposition to ask one organization to sponsor this project and do all the work. We therefore, are asking all organizations in Digby Town, to play a part in the Annual July First Celebration, and thus make it a community project, with all the profits accrued being turned over to the Digby Recreation Commission.

We are asking each organization to volunteer to take care of a part of the Fair. For example your organization may be willing to sponsor the parade. Maybe we can get the Garden Club to operate a booth that sells plants. Perhaps the Legion could cater to the meal which is always served. Perhaps the Board of Trade could operate the Crown and Anchor Game. The Lions could run a raffle. These are not assignments but an idea of how the project could be handled.

We believe that without too much trouble or inconvenience, each organization could thus handle a booth or some facet of the July First celebration.

We ask you to bring this up with your organization and if you are willing to take part please send a delegate to an organizational meeting, to be held in the Town Hall on Thursday, May 14 at 8 p.m.

Please be prepared to either indicate what your organization will be willing to do or be prepared to accept one of the booths or projects usually associated with the July First Fair.

We thank you for your past support and we hope we can continue to receive it. Particularly in the matter of this July First Celebration. This is an old Digby Tradition and it would be a pity to let it die.

Looking forward to see your representative at our organizational meeting.

Yours truly, J. R. McCleave, Chairman, Digby Rec. Committee.

Allan Palmer To Address Group

A second meeting to organize a film council for Digby and area will be held at Digby Regional High School on Wednesday, May 20.

At this meeting representatives of the various organizations in the area who attended the initial meeting are expected to advise of the decision of their organization with regard to joining the film council.

The Digby Board of Trade at their special meeting on Wednesday morning voted to enroll in the film council.

Mr. Allan Palmer, of the National Film Board, will attend the meeting on May 20.

Young People Entertain

Monday evening, April 20th, the young people's group of Rossway and Roxville entertained the Centreville young people at Rossway.

After a meeting at the Baptist church, where a film was shown, they dispersed to the Community Hall, where an evening of games and singing was enjoyed.

The Rossway group was hostess to about 35 young people who attended.

Mrs. Kathleen Dakin is a patient at the V. G. Hospital.

Nova Scotia

Marriages

Hanlon — Surette

A pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Patrick's Church at Digby, N. S. when Patricia Ann, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Surette, became the bride of Maurice Hanlon, son of Mrs. Edward Hanlon and the late Mr. Hanlon of Saint John, N. B. Rev. Father Stokes officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a floor length gown of white peau de soie with chapel train. Her shoulder length butterfly veil was of nylon and she carried a bouquet of red roses and stephanotis.

The bride was attended by Miss Geraldine Splane as maid of honor and Miss Anne O'Brien and Miss Nora McCarron, all of Saint John. Susan Surette, sister of the bride was flower girl. The brides attendants wore blue street length dresses with matching headresses and carried pink and white nosegays.

Paul Hanlon, brother of the groom acted as best man. Ushers were Michael Surette and Frank Hanlon.

Miss Joyce Melanson was soloist accompanied by Mr. E. J. Theriault.

The bride's mother was attended in a grey wool suit with white accessories, and a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a navy suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A reception was held in the Legion Hall following the ceremony. The guest book was in charge of Anne Hanlon, Cyril Hanlon, brother of the groom acted as master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Victor Comeau, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Cyril Hanlon, sister-in-law of the groom presided over the tea cups.

For going away the bride chose a wool mohair bottle suit of light blue with blue and white accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanlon are residing in Saint John where Mr. Hanlon is employed by the city and Mrs. Hanlon is on the staff of St. Joseph's Hospital.

Sterna — Wentzell

St. Patrick's Church in Digby, N.S. was the scene of a pretty spring wedding on Saturday, April 25th, when Diane Cheryl, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Wentzell became the bride of John Terrence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sterna of Montreal.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Father David Stokes at the nuptial Mass. Mr. E. J. Theriault was organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in a floor length gown of white nylon lace and net over satin with bouffant skirt and fitted bodice trimmed with sequins and pearls, long sleeves pointed over the wrist. She wore a shoulder tip veil of nylon tulle with a crown of aurora borealis stones, and carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses. Her only ornament was a double strand of cultured pearls, gift of the groom.

Miss Karen Wood, friend of the bride, was bridesmaid, and wore a street length jacket dress of pink nylon lace with matching headress and carried a bouquet of yellow mums.

Best man was Douglas Trask and ushers were Gregory Eldridge, cousin of the bride and Guy Harrington. The mother of the bride wore a sheath dress of blue brocade with matching stole and accessories. Her corsage was of pink and white carnations.

The mother of the groom wore a sheath dress of pink shantung with matching ¾ length coat and accessories, and wore a corsage of pink and white carnation.

Miss Linda Ecker was in charge of the guest book.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Lions hall where a buffet lunch was served. The bride's table was tastefully decorated in pink and white, and centered with a three tier wedding cake, white tapers and pink and white flowers.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Father Stokes, and responded to by the groom.

For travelling the bride wore a suit of pink soufflé with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The happy couple left on the Princess of Acadia to spend a honeymoon in Montreal and Toronto.

Out of town guests included the aunts of the groom from Yarmouth, and the groom's family from Montreal.

Amero — Doucet

A spring wedding took place at St. Alphonsus Church, Yarmouth, when Rev. E. Theriault, pastor, united in marriage Phyllis Doucet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Doucet of Cape St. Mary, and Raymond Amero, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Amero of Plympton.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional floor-length gown of white brocade. It was styled with a rounded neckline and long sleeves coming to points over the wrists. Her shoulder length veil of illusion net was held in place with a crystal crown and she carried a bouquet of lavender and white mums.

The bride was attended by Anna Mae Comeau and the bride's sister, Evelyn Doucet. The bride's cousin, Rose Marie Doucet acted as flower girl.

Norman Doucet, brother of the bride, was best man, and Denis Amero, nephew of the groom, was the other attendant.

Miss June Sauthier presided at the organ and Mrs. Grey LeBlanc was soloist.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the parish hall where Rev. Father E. Theriault proposed the toast to the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Amero will reside at Plympton.

Wagner — Comeau

A spring wedding took place in Concession, Digby County, when Charline Joan, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amide Comeau, became the bride of James Nelson, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wagner of Weymouth. Rev. Father d'Entremont performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a long white dress of misty nylon sheer over net and rayon satin. It featured lily point sleeves, scalloped neckline glowing with cup sequins, lace applique and a large bow at back. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Dianne Dugas, cousin of the bride, was maid of honour. Judy Dugas, also cousin of the bride was bridesmaid.

The ushers were Norbert and Arcade Comeau. The organist was Mrs. Disa LeBlanc and soloist was Mrs. Louis Gaudet.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Saultierville Legion Hall.

For their wedding trip through the southern part of the province, the bride wore a red velvet dress with white accessories and a corsage of white mums.

The couple will reside at Concession, Digby County.

Dugas — Doucette

On Saturday, April 18, St. Bernard's church was the scene of a spring wedding, when Msgr. Elie LeBlanc united in marriage Catherine Marie Doucette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Doucette of New Edinburgh to Eddie Dugas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolphe Dugas of St. Bernard.

The bride was attired in her ballerina length dress of blue nylon lace over taffeta. She wore a white hat and white accessories and carried a white prayer book with pink and white streamers.

She was attended by her sister Elise as bridesmaid, who was dressed in pink nylon lace over taffeta with pink hat and pink accessories. She also carried a white prayer book.

Best man was Kenneth Raymond, a cousin of the bride.

The bride's mother was dressed in beige lace over taffeta and beige and brown accessories.

The grooms' mother's dress was turquoise, with white accessories.

After the ceremony a buffet lunch was served at the home of the bride and a supper was served at the home of the groom. They were the recipients of many lovely and useful gifts.

They will reside in St. Bernard's.

The Brand New

CHEVY-VAN

WITH MORE GO-POWER, MORE STOPPING-POWER THAN ANY OTHER DELIVERY VAN IN ITS CLASS!

Chevy-Van by Chevrolet:
A Low-Cost, Light-Duty Truck, Designed and Built to Carry Maximum Loads at Minimum Cost Through the Heaviest Big-City Traffic.

Read the facts about this brand new addition to the Chevrolet Truck line, then see your local Chevrolet Truck dealer.

New Chevy-Van's Got The Power You Need.

Standard engine is the 90-hp High Torque 153 Four. Optional at extra cost is the 120-hp High Torque 194 Six. Both are built for economy, dependability and smooth running, with 5 main bearings in the 153 Four and 7 main bearings in the 194 Six. They'll deliver the power you want at minimum cost with either the 3-speed Synchro-Mesh or optional Powerglide automatic transmission.

New Chevy-Van's Got The Payload Space You Want!

With a maximum GVW rating of 5000 lbs, the Chevy-Van can carry a full 2000 pounds of payload in its 211 cubic foot cargo compartment. Clear load space is 7 1/2 feet long with an additional 4 feet of load space along the right side of the engine. Curb-side doors (optional at extra cost) open to over 4 feet in both width and height, making loading or delivery safe and convenient. All doors have locks, and feature Chevrolet's convenient single-key locking system.

New Chevy-Van's Got The Loading Ease You Like!

Chevy-Van's double rear doors open mighty wide - giving easy access to the perfectly flat ribbed steel floor. There's not even a raised sill to get in the way. Add that to its 22 inch floor height, and you'll see why Chevy-Van will be a real asset in your delivery operation.

New Chevy-Van's Got The Handling Ease You Need.

The tightest parking spots or the smallest openings in traffic are big enough for the new, nimble Chevy-Van. And Chevy-Van's engineered stability ensures safe, highway handling. Total overall length is just 167 1/2 inches - on a 90 inch wheelbase! With its 32 1/2 foot turning circle and excellent driver visibility, every driving manoeuvre in a Chevy-Van is sure and simple.

CHEVY-VAN...perfectly practical!

Obituaries

Mrs. Ary C. Doty

Friends were shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. Margaret Doty of Weymouth North which occurred suddenly on April 21 at the home of youngest daughter, Mrs. Edward Theriault, Bowmanville, Ontario. She was born in Barton, Digby County in 1890 a daughter of the late Donald Ella (Wyman) Urquhart. Following her marriage to Aaron Churchill Doty, who predeceased her in 1952, she had resided in Ashmore and Weymouth North with the exception of recent winters which she had been spending in Bowmanville.

Mrs. Doty was an active member of the Riverside United Baptist Church, Weymouth North and had taught in the Sunday School for many years.

Surviving are two sons, Winthrop, Yarmouth, N.S.; Ernest of Digby, N.S. and seven daughters, Mrs. Russell Henshaw (Lillian), Deep Brook, Anna, Co.; Mrs. Jack Keen, (Alice), Halifax, N.S.; Mrs. Roy Hatcher, (Lois), Spryfield, Halifax Co.; Mrs. Fred Murphy, (Jean), Armdale, N.S.; Mrs. Chester Boudreau, (Joanna), Halifax; Mrs. Wickerson Lent (Madeline), Westport, Digby Co.; Mrs. Edward Theriault, (Joyce), Bowmanville, Ontario; as well as 29 grandchildren and 8 great grandchildren. Also surviving is one sister, Mrs. Miriam Andrews, Melrose, Mass.; and two brothers, William Urquhart, Truro, N.S. and Redvers Urquhart, Jamaica Plain, Mass.; George Urquhart, Saint John, N.B. is a nephew and Mrs. Berwyn Goudy, Yarmouth, a niece.

The remains were forwarded to Sweeney Funeral Home, Weymouth North and the funeral service was held Wednesday afternoon from the Riverside United Baptist Church with the pastor, Rev. C. R. Barkhouse officiating. Interment was beside her husband in the Riverside Cemetery.

PARKER — In loving memory of our dear mother who passed away April 27, 1963. It broke our hearts to lose you. But you didn't go alone. For part of us went with you. The day God called you home. Always remembered by Joyce, Jerry, Todd. 36:1c

PARKER — In loving memory of my dear mother, Mable Parker, who passed away on April 27, 1963. A mother with a heart of gold. Was worth to me more than wealth untold. (She did not live for herself alone. But for what she gave to us at home. She did not stop for rest until she crossed her hands upon her breast. I have lost, but God has gained. One of the best mothers. The world has contained. Sadly missed by her daughter, Madeline and son-in-law Arthur and grandchildren. 36:1p

FORREST — In loving memory of a dear mother, Myrtle M., who passed away, April 29, 1949. A little prayer keeps us in touch. With a mother we loved and missed so much. Your memory, mother, will never grow old. It is sealed in our heart with a hand of gold. Because you bid no last farewell. It will always bring regret. But the heart that loves you most of all. Is the one that doesn't forget. Always in our thoughts, — daughter, Rose and her four sons. 36:1p

Card of Thanks

THIBODEAU — We wish to thank the doctors, nurses and staff at the Digby General Hospital who were so good to our mother, Mrs. Charles Baxter, while she was a patient. Also thanks to all who sent flowers, cards and messages since her passing. — Ted and Carl Thibodeau and families, Plympton. 36:1c

DOOGUE — Frank Doogue, expresses thanks to the Sisters of Charity and all who through cards, prayers and other means showed their interest and sympathy during the illness and death of Mrs. Doogue. 36:1c

LEWIS — I would like to say a sincere thank you to all the people who so very kindly sent flowers and cards when my husband passed away. — Ellen Lewis and family. 36:1c

ROSENCRANTZ — I wish to thank all who remembered me when a patient at Digby Hospital, for cards, deeds of kindness in all ways and the nursing staff and especially Dr. Brennan. — Maynard Rosencrantz, Bear River. 36:1p

TITUS — I wish to thank all those who sent cards and visited me while a patient at D. G. Hospital. Special thanks to Dr. Lewis, nurses and staff. — Walter Titus Sr., Westport, N.S. 36:1c

YOUNG — The family of the late Mrs. Myrtle Young wish to extend sincere thanks and appreciation to their many friends and relatives for their beautiful floral tributes, sympathy cards, letters and memorial gifts. Special thanks to Dr. Paul Minc and Dr. Douglas Black, staff of 1st floor Digby Hospital. Rev. W. Ideon and Rev. J. W. Derby, Jaynes Funeral Home, Pallbearers, choir and to all who assisted in any way during our recent sad bereavement. — Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Young, Mrs. Irving Thurber and families. 36:1c

Campaign Results
W. E. Cosman, Campaign Chairman, has announced that a total of $563.38, was raised in the area served by the Weymouth Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society in the 1964 campaign which has just been completed. Although this is approximately $10.00 less than the amount raised in the previous campaign and slightly below the quota set, members of the Executive are encouraged by the results, since the economy of the area received a serious blow during the campaign when the Lewis Lumber Mill was destroyed by fire and are very appreciative of the help they have received from the volunteer canvassers as well as from the residents of the canvassed areas.

By districts, contributions were as follows: Weymouth, $273.15; Plympton $33.80; Gilbert Cove, $37.75; Ashmore, $30.70; Danvers, $9.00; Riverdale - Southville, $14.60; Weymouth North, $81.73; Weymouth Mills, $36.90; Weymouth Falls, $15.75.

Canvassers in the various areas were: Mrs. Glidden Lewis, Mrs. Howard Payson, Mrs. Harley Dugas, Mrs. Hubert Height, Geoffrey Journey, Mrs. V. MacNeill, Mrs. Malcolm Mullen, Mrs. Gerald Gordon and Mrs. F. I. Withers, Weymouth; Mrs. Donald Manzer and Mrs. Willard Kinney, Ashmore; Mrs. Austin Langford and Mrs. Fred Johnson, Weymouth Falls; Earl Sabine, Riverdale; Mrs. Lee Cromwell, Southville; Mrs. Glendon Barr, Danvers; Mrs. Wilfred Weir and Mrs. Donald Bell, Weymouth Mills; Mrs. Keith Potter, Plympton; Mrs. Jesse Robicheau, Gilbert Cove, and Miss Flora Raymond, Captain, Weymouth North.

Observe Anniversary
Members of Olive Branch Rebekah Lodge No. 100, Weymouth observed the 115th anniversary of the founding of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and the anniversary of the local lodge with a Roll Call meeting held in the Lodge room and chaired by the Noble Grand, Mrs. Russell Cosman. Many members were present for the occasion and greetings were received from various parts of the Province and Ontario. Appreciation was expressed to Mrs. Clara Gove, a member of the Arthur Lovejoy Rebekah Lodge No. 105, Winthrop, Maine, who has been acting as pianist of the Lodge during the winter months. She leaves this week to return to her home in Maine and will be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. George Hankinson, a member of the local Lodge. Following the meeting a social evening was enjoyed and refreshments served.

Retires After Long Career
Miss Blanche Olive Hood who worked in telecommunications offices in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island during her 64-year career, retires in May from Canadian National Telecommunications.

Miss Hood began her career with Western Union as manager-morse-operator in Nova Scotia at Weymouth, in January 1918. She then transferred to Windsor, where she became district relief manager in 1927.

She has worked as manager or Morse operator in many offices of the Atlantic district including those in Edmundston, Halifax, Sydney, Truro, Bridgetown, New Glasgow, Moncton, Antigonish, Charlottetown, North Sydney, Fredericton and Yarmouth.

In 1936 she moved from Yarmouth to Saint John as a Morse operator and became a combination operator in 1949.

At present she is on her pre-retirement vacation and will retire officially on May 31.

Digby Man With Mohawk

Many Nova Scotia soldiers were with the 200-man Army task force which took part in Exercise Mohawk recently in the Shelburne area. The operation was a joint Army-Navy exercise and included six ocean escort vessels, a submarine and the navy repair ship Cape Scott.

Among those taking part was Pte L. A. Keddie, Digby. The exercise worked the two forces in certain aspects of combined operations and practised them for defence of coastal military installations.

Mohawk got underway in Saint John, N. B., Saturday, April 11, when 26 Army trucks and jeeps were loaded on the vessels. The soldiers, mostly from the 1st Battalion, the Black Watch based at Camp Gagetown, and control staff went aboard the following Monday. The operation was in full swing early Wednesday when the infantrymen took up a defensive position around HMCS Shelburne, a navy land installation, which was expecting an enemy attack.

A small party of enemy soldiers were beached from the submarine Alcide during a drenching rainstorm Wednesday.

Dr. Pothier Retires

Dr. Hector J. Pothier, Weymouth, retired from practice on May 1, and has moved to Beaver River. His successor is Dr. B. Erjave.

Dr. Pothier was born in St. Anne du Ruisseau, Eel Brook, the 9th of a family of ten. The oldest one is now 92. All his brothers are carpenters by trade.

His primary or elementary studies were done in the same village, and later went on to College Ste. Ann. Pursuing his education further, Dr. Pothier went on to Dalhousie University in Halifax, where he obtained his B. A. and his M.D., C.M.

His organizing interest came at an early age. While at Dalhousie he was the organizer and first president of the Newman Club, which is still functioning. At university Dr. Pothier was also attached for one year with the Army Corp and later was appointed as medical officer on board a ship repairing trans-Atlantic cables cut by German submarines.

Later he went on for one year of post-graduate studies in general medicine at the St. Vincent Hospital in New York and in 1920 he settled in Weymouth where he began his practice.

Dr. Pothier has been married three times. His present wife is Evangeline, daughter of Philip and Lillie Saulnier, of Little Brook. He has one son, Hector, who is now a lawyer in St. Catharines, Ontario.

In 1924 Dr. Pothier was the key figure to form the Digby County Power Board. He worked effectively in order to have Weymouth incorporated and was the first chairman of the commissioners. He was the first president of the Weymouth Kiwanis Club. He has been an active member of the Weymouth Board of Trade and was president for one term. Dr. Pothier has taken an active and enthusiastic part in numerous organizations and has also been active in the work of the Progressive Conservative party. In October Dr. Pothier was elected as Clare's representative in the provincial legislature, at Halifax.

The Digby County Medical Association held its annual meeting at the Goodwin Hotel, Weymouth, on Wednesday. During the evening a presentation was made to Dr. Pothier. Dr. J. R. McCleave presented him with a silver tray on behalf of the association. Following the supper Dr. Pothier played for a sing song.

Appointments

Among the recent provincial government appointments from Digby and area to school boards and other public offices in Nova Scotia were — Arnold Marshall, Barton, to Digby District Municipal School Board, term to April 20, 1967.

Reginald Turnbull, Digby, to the Digby Town School Board (unexpired term of Ralph McIntyre) to January 1, 1966.

Charles Barry, Clements, to the Annapolis County Municipal School Board, further term to April 26, 1967.

Mrs. Grace E. Edwards, Digby, to Commissioners and Supreme Court Officers.

Heads Provincial Council

Mrs. Eric Spinnay, of Yarmouth, formerly Eunice Milberry, Digby, was elected president of the Provincial Council of Women in Halifax Tuesday.

Killed As Trench Caves In

A 31-year-old man was killed when a trench caved in burying him at Clementsvalle on Monday.

Two others were injured when the earth around the 8-foot deep hole collapsed on top of them.

Killed was Boyd Lewellyn Cress, of Clementsvalle, who was employed as a pipe-layer on the construction of the water supply line between Lake Katy in Digby County and HMCS Cornwallis.

Two other men, Carroll Peck, aged 19, of Clementsvalle, and Pearl Whynot, 47, of Italy Cross, were rushed to Annapolis Royal Hospital.

Monday night Mr. Peck was released after treatment for bruises and shock, but Mr. Whynot, who is married and has several children, was seriously ill.

He was suffering from multiple injuries, said Dr. Jack Kerr, of Annapolis, who was called to the scene of the accident.

Monday night after returning home, Mr. Peck said: "It was terrible. We were in the trench laying pipe when part of the side caved in."

"It landed on Boyd. We dragged him out, but as we were pulling him clear, there was a second fall, and we were all covered in clay."

Workmates jumped into the trench and dug the three men out.

By the time Dr. Kerr arrived, Mr. Cress was dead.

Mr. Cress was married. He had no children.

Town Properties To Get Reassessment

On motion of Councillor Ralph MacIntyre, seconded by Councillor Charles Haliburton, the Digby Town Council unanimously voted on Monday night to have a complete reassessment of the town for taxation purposes. On motion of Deputy Mayor Bruce Baxter, seconded by Councillor Bernard Bell, the council agreed to engage J. D. Hubley Ltd. to do the reassessment, to be completed for the 1966 taxation roll. Mr. Hubley and the company has been retained for a number of years to do a yearly assessment adjustment but the reassessment will be apart from the regular adjustments.

It was the general opinion that while actual value, only, makes assessment, yet the services, such as sewer, water, snow removal, pavement, etc., must be examined as they contribute to the value. Each taxpayer, it is understood, will have an opportunity to discuss his reassessment with the assessor.

Celebrate 55th Anniversary

A family gathering was held Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Dalton, Springdale, Digby County, to help celebrate their 55th wedding anniversary. The Daltons were married in Tusket, Yarmouth County, in 1909.

Mr. Dalton, who will be 86 years old on May 10, is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dalton, London, England. He came to Canada in 1907, working first in Yarmouth. He later drove the mail and worked as an expressman during the horse-and-buggy era. A veteran of three wars, Mr. Dalton was stationed in Halifax with the Veterans Guards during World War II.

Mrs. Dalton, 78, is the former Miss Amy Wood, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Wood, of Tusket.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton had thirteen children: Vernon, of Waterville, Kings Co.; Edward, Port Maitland; William, Waterville; Lawrence, Beaver River; Reginald, Springdale; Ernest, Springdale; Esther (Mrs. James Budd), Beaver River; Anna (Mrs. Don Barr), Digby; Amy (Mrs. Borden Thompson), Port Maitland; Dorothy (Mrs. Fred Keen), Digby. Three children, Francis, Kenneth and Felton, died during childhood.

Most family members attended Thursday's gathering.

Dogs, Relief, Fires, Fines

Stricter observance of town laws will be carried out regarding dogs running loose, granting of relief, grass fires and parking fines. It was decided at Monday night's meeting of the Digby Town Council.

Many complaints had been received by the Mayor and councillors about dogs roaming over gardens and parks running loose where children walked to school. It was felt that people pay taxes on their properties and by so doing should expect protection against dogs running loose over the property. The license committee was advised to impose stricter fines and engage more dog catchers if the situation required it.

Able bodied men who neglect their families and who are able to obtain work and do not take the opportunity will be charged with non-support, it was agreed at Monday night's meeting.

Again grass fires in the town were discussed. It was suggested that the public be warned that it is contrary to the town by-laws to set grass fires and that the persons doing so are wholly responsible and action will be imposed according to the by-laws.

Another item of town business which received considerable discussion on Monday night was parking fines. The council gave instruction on Monday night to follow up the parking tickets issued until the fine is paid. This, it was noted, would probably use most of the fine in order to obtain the name of the licensed owner of the car but it was reasoned that the funds obtained from fines was not the important issue, the parking space was the main issue. It was felt that by stricter enforcement of the laws people would become less inclined to violation. The police report had revealed that only 40 per cent of fines imposed were paid.

In his report on Fire and Sewers, Councillor Haliburton said that a review of revenue and expense in comparing fire fighting within the town and outside the town had been made. He also stated that the Fire Department is carrying on a fire prevention course with Boy Scouts and other youth groups of the town.

The council decided to adopt the National Fire Code as part of the town by-laws.

The week of May 10 has been declared by the town as Clean-up Week in Digby. The request had come from Mr. Haliburton's report.

A proposal was also brought in that the Digby town dump be closed and a private commercial firm be given a contract and grant to operate an incinerator for garbage disposal. The health and fire hazard and unsightly premises in (Please turn to page 10)

To Represent Digby At Festival

Yvonne Doiron, 22, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Doiron, will represent Digby as princess at the forthcoming Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival. She was chosen from eleven entries representing various clubs and organizations in the Digby area.

Seen to the immediate left of Miss Doiron is Karen Barnes, Digby's entry in the 1963 Festival. Also in the background can be seen Valerie Holdsworth, contestant sponsored by the B.A. Oil Co. Ltd., and Joyce Carter, contestant sponsored by Wallis Print Ltd.

Auxiliary Has Several Projects

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary Digby General Hospital was held on May 4th at the Hedley House, Smith's Cove, with Mrs. Penny Gott as hostess.

Plans for the Florence Nightingale Tea, to be held at the Nurses' Residence, were finalized.

There was considerable discussion on the Golden Book for Charity. It was noted that labels may be turned over to any member, or left at the home of Mr. C. F. McBride, who has kindly offered to cut out the necessary section of any label, and assemble labels in packages for shipping. There are now enough labels for the first shipment.

Another project that is being undertaken by the organization is the collection of used stamps. All members not committed to saving them for some other benevolent project were asked to help swell the funds in this way.

Mrs. Arnold MacCallum was the winner of the Beverage Gift Package sponsored by the Town Club to help pay for a smoking machine which they recently purchased.

Mrs. E. B. Richardson will be hostess to the June meeting, which will be held at her cottage on Porter's Lake.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

Bob Pyne Winner

Robert (Bob) Pyne, Digby, won the open class club trophy in the Handgun Division of the Highland Gun Club championship held at the Militia Range on Monday, April 27.

Bob, with an aggregate of 747, won by a margin of 15 points with Skip Goudey, of Yarmouth, as runner-up.

The class competitions were closely fought matches with Skip Goudey placing first in expert class; John Green winning first in Sharpshooter class after a see-saw battle with George MacConnell; Raymond Jacquard won Marksman First Class; and Dick Judge came up with the top score in Marksman second class and also won the Handicap Aggregate Trophy.

McCuaig Named Provincial President

J. C. McCuaig, general manager of Dominion Atlantic Railway Company, was re-elected president of the Nova Scotia Accident Prevention Association at the annual meeting in Halifax recently.

Trinity evening guild will be held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. H. R. Bishop. Mrs. Digby Baxter co-hostess.

Dies In Car Crash

Sydney Newton Small, aged 66, of East Ferry, prominent Digby County fish processor, was killed late Tuesday evening when his car evidently went out of control on a curve on the Digby Neck highway near Seabrook, a few miles from Digby, turned over several times, and then burned.

Two young men, Joseph Eddie LeBlanc and James Henry Comeau, both of St. Bernard, Digby County, and both employees at Mr. Small's fish processing firm, who were passengers in the car, were injured and are patients in the Digby General Hospital.

The accident occurred shortly before midnight. Help was summoned from a nearby home and the Digby fire department was called to extinguish the burning vehicle.

Mr. Small, who was head of the fish processing firm of S. N. Small Ltd., was a member of the Oddfellow's Lodge of Yiverton. He is survived by his wife, the former Mabel Theriault, and by a daughter, Truena (Mrs. Llewellyn Raymond), East Ferry, and three grandchildren. Also surviving are a brother, Carl, of East Ferry, and a sister, Bertie (Mrs. D. C. Moriarty), of Amherst, Mass. A daughter, Eleanor, predeceased him in 1925.

The funeral service will be held from the Reformed Baptist Church in East Ferry on Friday at 2:30. Rev. H. Kimball will officiate. The remains will rest at Jayne's Funeral Home in Digby until the day of the funeral.

Down Town Block Changes Hands

What is known as the Shreve Block and which has belonged to Stedman Bros. of late has changed hands again. The block has been bought by Harry Margolian, Yarmouth, it is understood, and will be renovated to rent. It is believed that Mr. Margolian will be making extensive renovations and is willing to repair and renovate within reason, to the satisfaction of the tenant.

The Shreve block presently vacant until last summer contained the Head and Toe Shoe Store formerly Dillon's Shoe Store and Woolaver's Gift Shop. T. C. C. office recently moved from the second floor.

Just north of the Shreve block where the old post office stood a new building is now under construction.

Rev Mr. Long Addresses Kiwanians

Last week's dinner meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Digby was marked by the observance of United States-Canada Good Will Week. Guest speaker for the occasion was the Rev. Burton Long, retired clergyman now living at Clementsvalle, his native home. Mr. Long had served as pastor of a number of large churches in both the Maritime Provinces and the United States.

He spoke on some of the ways by which understanding and good relations might be promoted among peoples of different nations, and gave some concrete illustrations of what is being done in this respect. His interesting and inspiring address was deeply appreciated by his listeners. Kiwanian Hubert Warne was in charge of the meeting.

C. M. Leve led a song service with Mrs. Jean Olsen at the piano. Mr. Russell Atkinson was welcomed as a guest to the dinner meeting. Good Will greetings were received from Clubs in Maine and Texas.

Kiwanian Charles McBride spoke of the Crippled Children's Clinic held in Digby on the previous Monday and stated that 49 children had been received at the Clinic on that day. Appreciation was expressed by the Club to Mr. McBride for the excellent work he is doing as Chairman of the Crippled Children's Committee.

Kiwanian John Till said that

You Can Spit Across

In a jovial mood yet in a note of seriousness, a councillor from Digby Neck remarked at the semi-annual session of the Municipality of Digby Council on Tuesday: "With a chew of tobacco you can spit across Petite Passage and yet we can't make any headway in getting a causeway or bridge across. For seven days last winter the mails couldn't get off the Islands, said another councillor, and one merchant in one of the villages spends $2000 a year for ferries besides $900 a year taxes. Modern fish processing requires quick and better transportation from the Islands was the general consensus of opinion. By motion of Hubert Shortliffe a committee was appointed to arrange a meeting with government officials to look over the situation and possibly arrange a survey of the Passage. On the committee are Victor Finigan, Eugene Outhouse and Whitney Derby.

The need of a causeway or bridge for tourism, too, was considered in the discussion. A resolution was passed requesting the Nova Scotia Tourist Association and the Innkeepers Guild to place the case before the government. The beauties of the Neck and Islands were extolled by the councillors and visions of a tremendous boost to the economy of the Islands and Nova Scotia was foreseen should a causeway or bridge be constructed across Petite Passage.

A resolution from North Sydney asking support in their proposal to have the older citizens on pension receive greater exemption from taxation was laid on the table. A resolution from Annapolis Royal regarding a vocational school in the town of Annapolis was also deferred for further study. Another resolution presented was from Albert Municipality in New Brunswick asking support in securing a trail from St. Stephen, N. B. all around the Bay of Fundy to Yarmouth. It was suggested a committee of three be appointed to investigate effect on the municipality, what routes and beaches should be included in such a trail.

Permission was granted to Kings County Hospital to have Digby County patients enter other hospitals for surgery or treatment without first seeking permission from the municipality and cause serious consequences by delay.

Special mention was made by Councillor "Penny" Gott regarding the impartial and objective co-operation received from Warden Ronald Morehouse and a vote of thanks and confidence was extended to the warden.

Mrs. J. M. Wallis addressed the council and extended appreciation for co-operation.

The Municipal Council opened its sessions on Monday afternoon when V. G. Cardoza addressed the council.

A resolution requesting the provincial government to share in one half the cost of prescription drugs for welfare cases was decided against.

On Wednesday morning nineteen students from the Islands Consolidated School along with their supervisor, B. E. Finigan, were welcomed by Warden Morehouse.

Also welcomed was Stewart MacNaughton of the Digby County Power Board. Mr. MacNaughton appeared chiefly to explain the recent press reports that Digby power rates had increased by thirty per cent from 5 cents per kilowatt hour to 65 cents. Mr. MacNaughton explained that there would be no increase at all to the consumer before August and any increase after that would amount to no more than ten per cent and not thirty per cent as previously reported.

In explanation of the reason for the increase in price of power by the Nova Scotia Pow.

over $1700 had been received from the Easter Seals Drive, probably the largest amount on record for this annual project carried out by the Club. This money is used in aid of crippled children, a project in which Digby Kiwanians are deeply concerned. The Club also endorsed the purchase of another Wheel Chair in addition to the one already owned.

Retires To Civilian Life

A 30-year association with the militia and Regular Army ends this month for Major Alfred T. Boutilier, C.D., B.A., of Digby, N. S., when he retires to civilian life.

An expert in the field of manpower selection and placement, Major Boutilier has been chief personnel selection officer for the Army in New Brunswick since 1961.

He attended Yarmouth Co. Academy and the University of Toronto and earned a Bachelor of Arts degree at the University of New Brunswick.

Major Boutilier began soldiering in 1931 at Yarmouth, N. S., when he joined No. 3 Company, 6 Division Signals as a signaller.

He received his commission in the Regular Army in 1940 after attending officer training school at Brockville, Ontario, and was promoted to captain while serving in the United Kingdom.

Returning to civilian life after the war, Major Boutilier taught and held principal appointments in various N. S. Schools until 1951 when he rejoined the Army as a Lieutenant.

He was promoted to captain two years later and was appointed senior personnel selection officer for the Army's personnel Depot in Halifax.

In 1958 he received his majority and was posted to Toronto where he spent three years as personnel selection officer for the Army's Central Ontario area.

This was followed by a 13 month tour in Montreal prior to his posting and appointment here.

He is married to the former Gabrielle Conroy, of Dublin, Ireland. The couple, who have no children, are planning a short holiday before settling down in Nova Scotia.

Receives Promotion

It has been announced that Cpl. Ralph C. Humphrey has been promoted to the rank of Sergeant. Sgt. Humphrey joined the RCAF in July 1966. After completing a course in electronics at Clinton, Ontario, he was stationed in Sydney, N. S., and returned to Clinton in 1961 as an instructor. Sgt. Humphrey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Humphrey, Montague Row, Digby.

er Commission to the Digby County Power Board. Mr. MacNaughton stated that Nova Scotia Power Commission costs which apply to municipal utilities, can fluctuate materially, due to the extent of the rainfall in any one year, particularly in the Western part of the province, where most of the electricity consumed is generated from hydro developments.

The commission's forecast of costs in the Western network, based on average rainfall, indicated that a slight adjustment in charges to its municipal customers will be necessary.

The present tentative rate, effective for the remainder of this year, was designed to bring the actual billings for (Please turn to page 10)

Digby Witnesses Attend Assembly

The three-day assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses held at the Liverpool Fire Station Auditorium concluded on Sunday with comments by Mr. Levi Wall, District Supervisor for the Maritimes. These comments followed widely advertised public address "Facing Up To The Urgency of Our Times." The address was given to an audience of 224 persons.
On Saturday evening delegates saw a two-hour technicolor film "Proclaiming 'Everlasting Good News' Around the World." The film took the viewers on a tour of the world in company with a group of 583 persons whose purpose was to demonstrate everywhere the unity that can exist among people of all nations when their interest is centered primarily in the worship of God.

On the main address of the convention, "Facing Up To The Urgency of Our Times," Mr.
Wall said, "There are brilliant advancements made in science but madness exists in social relations. That is the paradox of our times." Wall continued his discussion by stating that society on the whole is getting more and more worldly and increasingly less godly. The future confronting mankind is terrifying in its possibilities and no amount of well-wishing will substitute for the strong, practical measures advocated by the Holy Bible.

The district and circuit supervisors, Mr. Levi Wall and Mr. Gary G. Godwin, termed the assembly a big success and said that preparations are already under way for a larger District Convention to be held at the Bridgewater Memorial Arena, August 6-9, which will draw Jehovah's Witnesses from Central and Western Nova Scotia.

The Dark Room

My grandmother's attic is a most interesting place.
When Grammie speaks of her attic she calls it a dark room.
It sounds peculiar; although she is right in calling it that, as it is very dark up there.
One rainy day I went over to Grammie's house and heard her upstairs in the attic. I slipped off my coat and boots and went upstairs. When I reached the top of the stairs, the door of the attic was open, so I went in. Grammie had a lamp in her hand and she was standing in the middle of the room. When she saw me she said she was going to clean the dark room, but didn't know where to start. When it was finally settled we started in one corner.

In this corner there was a spinning wheel and Grammie showed me how it worked.
Then we found some old picture albums and we stopped to look at them. Hanging up on the wall was a seaman's cap, which must have belonged to Grammie. In a box there were many puzzles and old books and magazines. Still in another box were thousands of Christmas cards. When I happened to glance at my watch, I realized how long I had been in the dark room.
It was four o'clock, I had been there for 3 hours, although it seemed like only fifteen minutes.

As I left, Grammie asked me to come again and we would go up in the dark room because there were many boxes we hadn't looked in. I promised her I would come again and I meant to keep that promise.

Study Pulpwood Price

Lands and Forests Minister E. D. Halliburton has announced the appointment of Roderick J. MacSween as a one-man commission to inquire into prices paid for pulpwood used in the manufacture of pulp or paper.

Mr. MacSween, of Halifax, is former director of marketing services with the province's Agriculture and Marketing Department. He retired in 1958.

Mr. Halliburton said there was a widespread feeling that the price paid for pulpwood in Nova Scotia was lower than in other provinces.

"The Government has decided it would be advisable to make a thorough investigation and they have authorized the appointment of Mr. MacSween under the Public Inquiries Act," he said.

"The matter was discussed at a recent meeting of the Nova Scotia Federation of Agriculture. Many farmers are woodlot owners from whom much of the pulpwood is purchased.

"The Government was presented with two resolutions by the Federation asking that a board of enquiry be set up to investigate pricing of pulpwood and forest products."

Mr. MacSween will also inquire into the methods of payment and methods of calculating prices. He will also compare prices paid for products used in Nova Scotia with prices paid for the same products when purchased for export.

Bear Big Game

The forestry sector committee of Voluntary Economic planning has recommended that Nova Scotia's black bear be classified a big game animal.

A report by G. D. Anderson, of Halifax, chairman of the fur, fish, game and recreation segment, said bears are an economic liability and the bounty system prevents the animal from becoming an as-languages (chiefly French, Italian, Portuguese, Rumanian and Spanish) developed.

set to the province.

The money spent on bounties far exceeds the damage caused by a few bears, the report said. It also resulted in harmless bears being trapped indiscriminately, did not control bear numbers, and paid a few individuals instead of allowing a larger number of hunters and the province to reap economic benefits from a potential sport animal.

Bounty is paid on about 225 bears annually by municipalities and the provincial government. A yearly average of $2,762 has been paid by the Lands and Forests Department since 1947.

The report also said data on bear numbers, movement and general biology is limited and prevents practical management of this species.

A legal harvest of 250-400

bears might be realized with a fall season. The value to Nova Scotia could amount to $150 per bear harvested, including the value of meat, trophy, hunter expenditure and licence.

Help For Negro Students

A $1,000 bursary fund to help needy Negro students in Nova Scotia will be set up for 1964 by the Provincial Chapter of the Nova Scotia IOOE, it was announced yesterday at the 44th annual meeting of the organization in Halifax.

The fund, to be administered by a committee set up by the Provincial Chapter, will be known as the Hundredth Anniversary of Free Schools Project for the Improvement of the Negro.

The money will be used to provide one bursary of $500 to be awarded to a Negro student of Nova Scotia on the basis of academic standing and economic need, tenable at any Canadian university or college, and to provide bursaries or grants in amounts to be decided by the committee, according to the needs of the applicants, for Negro residents of Nova Scotia to enable them to continue high school or post-high school training or education.

It was recommended that the project be renewed each year with the intention of carrying it through to Centennial Year.

A committee set up last October to study the project unanimously agreed that "improving the educational opportunities of the Negroes is one of the most practical ways to assist them to develop their potential abilities and improve their living conditions."

Mrs. G. W. MacKenzie, provincial education secretary, and Mrs. Robert Hatfield, were co-conveners of the committee that studied the project.

Vulgar Language

In the days of the Roman Empire, there was always a difference between spoken and written Latin. The latter, it is shown by the Encyclopedia Americana, was the language used by the great classical Roman writers, whereas the former embraced numerous colloquialism and less-than-classical expressions.

Eventually, the Americana observes, spoken Latin drifted so far away from written Latin that it became an almost entirely new tongue. It was known as vulgar Latin and is

Young People Hold Rally

The United Baptist Church of Digby was the scene of the annual Spring Rally of the Baptist Youth Fellowship groups of Digby County, which met on Saturday, May 2nd. The registration, conducted by Mary Ellen Burnham, began at nine o'clock, and showed a total of eighty young people and their pastors present.

The Rally opened with a brief devotional period led by Doris Marshall, of Hill Grove. Two addresses were given by Misses Wendy Franklin and Judith Gates, who spoke on the subject "Happiness".

The first business session was presided over by the president, Leanne Oickle. The secretary's report was given by Sandra Sherman, and the roll call of the groups was taken. Henry Burdy presented the treasurer's report, and several other items of business were discussed.

Following the business meeting two addresses were given by Cheryl Dukeshire and Sandra Sherman on the subjects "What the young person can do for his Youth Group" and "What the Youth Group can do for the young person". The topics presented were then discussed by five groups, led by the pastors, and the findings of the various groups were presented by Margaret McLellan, Mary Lou Parker, Shirley Jefferson, Wendy Franklin and Lie. MacLean.

A brief recreational period was conducted in the church vestry by Rev. Mersereau, during which time the executive, together with one member from each of the groups represented met to discuss further matters of business and to appoint the executive for 1964-65.

The second business session was again presided over by the president, who announced the names of the incoming executive. They are as follows: President - Doreen Atkinson, Digby; vice-president, Lynn Gates, Bear River; secretary - Linda Marshall, Hill

Grove; treasurer - Cheryl Dukeshire, Bear River; advisor - Lie. Ronald MacLean, Westport.

An invitation was extended from the Acaciaville Group to the young people to hold their Fall Rally in their church. Appreciation was expressed to the outgoing executive and their counsellor, Rev. Aubrey Hubley, for their help and guidance throughout the past year.

A brief song service and devotional was conducted by Lianne Oickle, with Doreen Atkinson as organist. The afternoon message was given by Rev. Glendon Urquhart, of Granville Ferry, who brought a most interesting and timely address. The Rally was closed with taps and prayer by Rev. Mr. Hubley.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Vantassel, Mount Pleasant, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Demone, Pleasant River, Queens Co. Sorry to report Mrs. Winnifred Scott on the sick list.

"Fundy" Opens Restaurant In Bridgetown

Premises formerly known as the Diamond Restaurant, have been taken over by Fundy Restaurant Limited, with the official opening on Tuesday, W. V. Troupe of Digby, announced that Carl Whynot will be manager of the new restaurant. He will be assisted by Miss Fay Morgan as head waitress.

Mr. Troupe, has been a resident of Digby since 1945 and opened the Fundy Restaurant here in 1957, also operating the Downeast Drive-In. Mr. Whynot has been head cook at the Fundy Restaurant in Digby for some time now.

Mink Ranch Burned

A fire of undetermined origin struck the mink ranch owned by Wallace and Edsel Mullen at New Tusket on Tuesday morning, April 28th. The fire occurred around 4 a.m. and burned several mink pens, 300 or more prize female mink and their truck that was sitting beside the cold storage also burned.

Edsel was awakened by the roar of the fire and awakened his mother, Mrs. Herbert S. Mullen and his brother, Leland, who is residing with them at present. They then called Wallace, who lives next door and Mrs. Mullen called the neighbours.

A call was put in to the Weymouth Fire Department, but they do not go out of their village, so the department at Belliveau's Cove was called and they responded immediately. It was only the quick action of the neighbors with buckets that saved the house and the rest of the mink pens. Wallace received very bad burns to his face and hands, which required medical attention.

There was no insurance on either the mink or buildings, so it is a big loss for the Mullen brothers.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

Extension Services

Agriculture and Marketing Minister E. D. Halliburton announced recently that the Department's extension services branch is being reorganized to three regions from the current operation by counties.

"It is recognized by the Department that in each region there are problems common to all county districts. We hope that under the proposed reorganization these problems may be approached and solved on a regional rather than an area basis," he said.

"I believe that the result will be an improvement in agricultural development in each region and that this change will be further reflected by an improvement in the whole economic climate of Nova Scotia."

Under the plan, effective May 1, the province will be divided into eastern, central and western regions.

Each region will be supervised by a regional agricultural representative and have specialists in 4H work, resource development and home economics.

G. F. MacKenzie, Truro, will be in Sydney, and H. L. Palmer will be stationed in Pictou. The western region of Hants, Kings, Annapolis, Digby, Yarmouth, Shelburne, Queens and Lunenburg counties will be supervised by R. E. Morehouse at Kentville.

No change is being made in the administration of the extension branch which is directed by M. V. Grant, although there will be some realignment of duties and responsibilities.

Million Young Trees Available

The Lands and Forests Department forest nursery at Lawrenceville, Anna, Co., and five transplant nurseries will have 1,000,000 young trees available for distribution in 1964.

Main varieties are red pine, white, red and black spruce. Some hardwoods are being grown for planting at parks and depots operated by the Department. These are mainly native oak, maple and birch.

charge of reforestation, says his section has on hand more than 3,500,000 seedlings and transplants of varying ages.

Seedlings are distributed in the spring for planting on Crown and private lands. More than 550,000 trees will be planted on Crown land this year.

A valuable part of the program is the collection of cones to supply seed. This is done by department personnel in autumn and seeds are extracted at the Department's central depot at Shubenacadie.

About 125 pounds of seed are required to fill all the Lawrenceville seed beds. Approximately 25 men care for the seed beds during the planting season.

Reforestation has been a part of the Department program since 1926 when the nursery was established at Lawrenceville. The transplant nurseries are located in Yarmouth, Cumberland, Guysborough, Pictou, and Cape Breton counties.

In 1926 the first seedlings, 138,000, were made available for transplanting. Since then the Department has distributed more than 10,000,000 trees.

The objective is production of 1,000,000 trees annually. It will cost the Department $55,000 for reforestation in 1964.

A Thought Starter

Doubting Christians
Infidels are expected to doubt God, but when Christians fail to trust Him is a shock.

Sometimes the finest consecrated people act as though God couldn't do anything, not even keep His Word.

A certain mother nagged her son about going to Sunday School. His answer was, "How does my mother expect us to believe what we hear there, when she doesn't seem to herself."

Asked to give an example of his mother's doubting, he said: "Oh, she just worries all the time. She worries about whether I will make the honor roll, whether my dad will make a sale, whether my kid brother will get sick again - all kinds of things. I finally stopped saying my prayers at night because if mother has to keep on worrying even though she prays all the time, what good is it?"

Quite unconsciously, this mother was wrecking the faith of her family. Her faith did not include trust. She was asking her son to believe, when she didn't really have a willingness to leave it with the Lord in prayer, herself.

Here is a lesson which may come as a blow to many a praying person. To get up from our knees to worry, and to carry the same old burdens which God had promised to lift is not faith. It may be hard to accept but the Lord will see us through. There is peace in the middle of the storm. How is your faith?

Card of Thanks

THIMOT — I wish to thank all who remembered me with cards and letters while a patient at Victoria General Hospital. Special thanks to the nurses and to Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Outhouse, Mrs. Ena Beck, Warren MacIntyre, Dr. Myrden, Dr. Norville, and Dr. Sutherland. Mrs. Charlie Thimot, Tiverton. 37:1p

PRESS TIME BLUES

The hour's late
The press is squeaky.
The stock is torn
The fountain's leaky.

The last cutlines
Are not yet written.
A man comes in
To sell a kitten.

You miss a cut
Can't find a head.
And then you find
A proof not read.

The Lino squirts
And won't drop mats.
Ten pounds of print
Is chewed by rats.

But stuck around
Soon all is done,
The paper's out —
The battle's won!

—By Robert R. Chapman,
Fowler (Michigan) Post.

Visitors at the home of Miss Edith Kempton last Wednesday were Mrs. Willis Dennison, Mrs. Richard Thomas and Miss Gertrude Wade of Digby.

Miss Gertrude Wade who has been visiting Mrs. Kenneth Earle in Saint John and attended the Leighton - Ford Crusade returned home on Saturday.

In Memoriam

THERIAULT — In loving memory of my dear father and grandfather, Edgar Theriault, who passed away May 9, 1960. He was just a plain dear father.

With a loving smile each day,
Always trying to do for others
As he journeyed on his way
To those who have a father,
Treat him with love and care
You will never know his value
Till you see that vacant chair.
— Always remembered and sadly missed by son Newman daughter-in-law, Marg, grandchildren, Valerie, Wayne and Paul. 37:1c THERIAULT — In loving memory of husband and father, Edgar J. Theriault, who passed away May 9th, 1960. Peacefully sleeping resting at last.

The world's weary troubles and trials are past
In silence he suffered.
In patience he bore.
Till God called him home to suffer no more.
— Always remembered by wife Sadie and son Garfield. 37:1c

THERIAULT — In loving memory of a dear grandfather, Mr. Edgar J. Theriault, who passed away May 9, 1960. What would we give, if we could say, Hello Grampie in the same old way,
To hear your voice, to see your smile,
To sit and talk to you awhile.
— Lovingly remembered by Brenda, Jack and Kimberley. 37:1c

THERIAULT — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Edgar J. Theriault who passed away May 9, 1960. In memories we have from day to day,
No length of time can take away
For in our hearts you are always near.
Still loved still missed and very dear.
— Lovingly remembered by daughter, Frances, son-in-law, Godfrey and grandchildren, Larry, Myrna and Brian. 37:1c

BAIN — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, George B. Bain who departed this life May 4, 1954. In our hearts we'd like to stray Along the roads of yesterday.
To hear you laugh and see you smile.
To talk with you a little while Just as you were, you will always be Treasured forever in our memory.
Resting where no shadows fall,
In perfect peace you await us all
God will link the broken chain,
As one by one we meet again.
— Always loved and remembered by wife and family. 37:1c

TRIMPER — In loving memory of my dear mother, Jessie Trimper who passed away May 10, 1960. She was just a plain dear mother
With a loving smile each day,
Always trying to do for others
As she journeyed on her way
To those who have a mother
Treat her with loving care
You will never know her value
Till you see she isn't there.
— Always loved and remembered by daughter (Verna) Mrs. Avard Collins. 37:1p

VANTASSEL — In loving memory of our husband and father, George W. Vantassel who passed away May 4, 1953. Eleven long years since that day
His name to us will ever be more than just a memory
For his dear face we'll never forget
As he within our hearts lives yet.
— Inserted by wife and son and family. 37:1p

THERIAULT — In loving memory of dad, Edgar J. Theriault who passed away May 9, 1960. It isn't the tears at the moment shed.
That tells of the heart that is torn
But the secret tears of the after years.
And the sorrow that's silently borne.
— Always remembered and missed by daughter, Linda. 37:1c

Young People Hold Rally

The United Baptist Church of Digby was the scene of the annual Spring Rally of the Baptist Youth Fellowship groups of Digby County, which met on Saturday, May 2nd. The registration, conducted by Mary Ellen Burnham, began at one o'clock, and showed a total of eighty young people and their pastors present.

The Rally opened with a brief devotional period led by Benj. Marshall, of Hill Grove. Two addresses were given by Messrs. Wendy Franklin and Judith Gates, who spoke on the subject "Happiness".

The first business session was presided over by the president, Leanne Oickle. The secretary's report was given by Sandra Sherman, and the roll call of the groups was taken. Henry Bundy presented the treasurer's report, and several other items of business were discussed.

Following the business meeting two addresses were given by Cheryl Dukeshire and Sandra Sherman on the subjects "What the young person can do for his Youth Group" and "What the Youth Group can do for the young person". The topics presented were then discussed by five groups, led by the pastors, and the findings of the various groups were presented by Margaret McLellan, Mary Lou Parker, Shirley Jefferson, Wendy Franklin and Lie. MacLean.

A brief recreational period was conducted in the church vestry by Rev. Mersereau, during which time the executive, together with one member from each of the groups represented met to discuss further matters of business and to appoint the executive for 1964-65.

The second business session was again presided over by the president, who announced the names of the incoming executive. They are as follows: President - Daneen Atkin-

Grove; treasurer - Cheryl Dukeshire, Bear River; advisor - Lie. Ronald MacLean, Westport.

An invitation was extended from the Acaciaville Group to the young people to hold their Fall Rally in their church. Appreciation was expressed to the outgoing executive and their counsellor, Rev. Aubrey Hubley, for their help and guidance throughout the past year.

A brief song service and devotional was conducted by Leanne Oickle, with Daneen Atkinson as organist. The afternoon message was given by Rev. Glendon Urquhart, of Granville Ferry, who brought a most interesting and timely address. The Rally was closed with taps and prayer by Rev. Mr. Hubley.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Vantassel, Mount Pleasant, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Demone, Pleasant River, Queens Co. Sorry to report Mrs. Winnifred Scott on the sick list.

"Fundy" Opens Restaurant In Bridgetown

Premises formerly known as the Diamond Restaurant, have been take over by Fundy Restaurant Limited, with the official opening on Tuesday. W. V. Troupe of Digby, announced that Carl Whynott will be manager of the new restaurant. He will be assisted by Miss Fay Morgan as head waitress.

Mr. Troupe, has been a resident of Digby since 1945 and opened the Fundy Restaurant here in 1957, also operating the Downeaster Drive-In. Mr. Whynott has been head cook at the Fundy Restaurant in Digby for some time now.

Mink Ranch Burned

A fire of undetermined origin struck the mink ranch owned by Wallace and Edsel Mullen at New Tusket on Tuesday morning, April 28th. The fire occurred around 4 a.m. and burned several mink pens, 300 or more prize female mink and their truck that was sitting beside the cold storage also burned.

Edsel was awakened by the roar of the fire and awakened his mother, Mrs. Herbert S. Mullen and his brother, Leeland, who is residing with them at present. They then called Wallace, who lives next door and Mrs. Mullen called the neighbours.

A call was put in to the Weymouth Fire Department, but they do not go out of their village, so the department at Belliveau's Cove was called and they responded immediately. It was only the quick action of the neighbors with buckets that saved the house and the rest of the mink pens. Wallace received very bad burns to his face and hands, which required medical attention.

There was no insurance on either the mink or buildings, so it is a big loss for the Mullen brothers.

Extension Services

Agriculture and Marketing Minister E. D. Halliburton announced recently that the Department's extension services branch is being reorganized to three regions from the current operation by counties.

"It is recognized by the Department that in each region there are problems common to all county districts. We hope that under the proposed reorganization these problems may be approached and solved on a regional rather than an area basis," he said.

"I believe that the result will be an improvement in agricultural development in each region and that this change will be further reflected by an improvement in the whole economic climate of Nova Scotia."

Under the plan, effective May 1, the province will be divided into eastern, central and western regions.

Each region will be supervised by a regional agricultural representative and have specialists in 4-H work, resource development and home economics.

G. F. MacKenzie, Truro, will be in Sydney, and H. L. Palmer will be stationed in Pictou. The western region of Hants, Kings, Annapolis, Digby, Yarmouth, Shelburne, Queens and Lunenburg counties will be supervised by R. E. Morehouse at Kentville.

No change is being made in the administration of the extension branch which is directed by M. V. Grant, although there will be some realignment of duties and responsibilities.

Million Young Trees Available

The Lands and Forests Department forest nursery at Lawrencetown, Anna. Co., and five transplant nurseries will have 1,000,000 young trees available for distribution in 1964.

Main varieties are red pine, white, red and black spruce. Some hardwoods are being grown for planting at parks and depots operated by the Department. These are mainly native oak, maple and birch. R. K. Allen, forester, in-charge of reforestation, says his section has on hand more than 3,500,000 seedlings and transplants of varying ages.

Seedlings are distributed in the spring for planting on Crown and private lands. More than 550,000 trees will be planted on Crown land this year.

Mr. Allen said the reforestation section attempts to meet any reasonable request for trees from private operators. Most of these are planted in farm woodlots, old fields and as windbreaks.

Currently the only charge is for transportation of the trees. Trees are distributed as three-year-old seedlings or four-year-old transplants. The former have spent three years in seed beds, the latter two years with two more in transplant beds.

A valuable part of the program is the collection of cones to supply seed. This is done by department personnel in autumn and seeds are extracted at the Department's central depot at Shubenacadie.

About 125 pounds of seed are required to fill all the Lawrencetown seed beds. Approximately 25 men care for the young trees during the planting season. Reforestation has been a part of the Department program since 1926 when the nursery was established at Lawrencetown. The transplant nurseries are located in Yarmouth, Cumberland, Guysborough, Pictou, and Cape Breton counties.

In 1926 the first seedlings, 138,000, were made available for transplanting. Since then the Department has distributed more than 10,000,000 trees.

The objective is production of 1,000,000 trees annually. It will cost the Department $35,000 for reforestation in 1964.

A Thought Starter

Doubting Christians
Infidels are expected to doubt God, but when Christians fail to trust Him is a shock.

Sometimes the finest consecrated people act as though God couldn't do anything, not even keep His Word.

A certain mother nagged her son about going to Sunday School. His answer was, "How does my mother expect us to believe what we hear there, when she doesn't seem to herself."

Asked to give an example of his mother's doubting, he said: "Oh, she just worries all the time. She worries about whether I will make the honor roll, whether my dad will make a sale, whether my kid brother will get sick again — all kinds of things. I finally stopped saying my prayers at night because if mother has to keep on worrying even though she prays all the time, what good is it?"

Quite unconsciously, this mother was wrecking the faith of her family. Her faith did not include trust. She was asking her son to believe, when she didn't really have a willingness to leave it with the Lord in prayer, herself.

Here is a lesson which may come as a blow to many a praying person.

To get up from our knees to worry, and to carry the same old burdens which God had promised to lift is not faith. It may be hard to accept but the Lord will see us through. There is peace in the middle of the storm. How is your faith?

PRESS TIME BLUES

The hour's late
The press is squeaky,
The stock is torn
The fountain's leaky.

The last outlines
Are not yet written,
A man comes in
To sell a kitten.

You miss a cut
Can't find a head,
And then you find
A proof not read.

The Lino squirts
And won't drop mats,
Ten pounds of print
Is chewed by rats.

But stick around.
Soon all is done,
The paper's out —
The battle's won!

— By Robert R. Chapman,
Fowler (Michigan) Post.

Visitors at the home of Miss Edith Kempton last Wednesday were Mrs. Willis Dennison, Mrs. Richard Thomas and Miss Gertrude Wade of Digby.

Miss Gertrude Wade who has been visiting Mrs. Kenneth Earle in Saint John and attended the Leighton - Ford Crusade returned home on Saturday.

The Atlantic Year Book

The new edition of "The Atlantic Year Book" has just been published. It has the familiar contents, but with everything brought up to date. Every year in fact, changes in names and facts run into hundreds upon hundreds. It pays to discard an old edition of the year book and use always the current edition.

"The Atlantic Year Book" is the reference book that has the answers to thousands of regional questions: who is Lieutenant-Governor of that province, or Attorney General of this one? who is secretary of the provincial medical society, or the chartered accountants, or the fruit growers? what was the population of the county in the 1961 census, and how many of them were unmarried? what is the postage on a five-pound parcel or on an air mail letter to Britain? what was the highest temperature last summer, or since records have been kept, in Halifax, Fredericton, Charlottetown or St. John's? who are the Anglican and Roman Catholic bishops?

The Trade Directory section prepared by APEC is invaluable to everyone needing information on what is produced in these provinces and who produces it. In these pages you will find lists of sawmill companies, fish packers, dairies, steel manufacturers, printers, makers of clothes, electronic equipment, ladders, rope; base metal mines and granite quarries.

"The Atlantic Year Book" 1964 has 432 pages of useful, interesting, accurate and up-to-date information. The price is $2.50 and the book is available from most bookstores and newsstands, or direct postpaid from the publishers, The Atlantic Advocate, Gleaner Building, Fredericton, New Brunswick.

For everyone in the Atlantic Provinces, this is the indispensable reference book. It has been suggested to have a copy on your desk and have another handy in your briefcase when you travel.

Baptist Celebration Meetings

Baptists from churches of the Atlantic United Baptist Convention, the Convention of Ontario-Quebec, and the Baptist Union of Western Canada will join with Baptists from the American and Southern Conventions in the United States, and other Baptist groups, to celebrate the conclusion, in 1964, of a special five year program of work and witness. The meetings will take place in the new 40,000 seat Convention Hall in Atlantic City, N. J., on May 22nd to 24th next.

The five year program, called The Baptist Jubilee Advance, has seen the Atlantic United Baptist churches joining with the other groups in a yearly emphasis. These emphasis have covered Church Extension, Evangelistic Outreach, Stewardship and Finance, World Mission, and Teaching and Training.

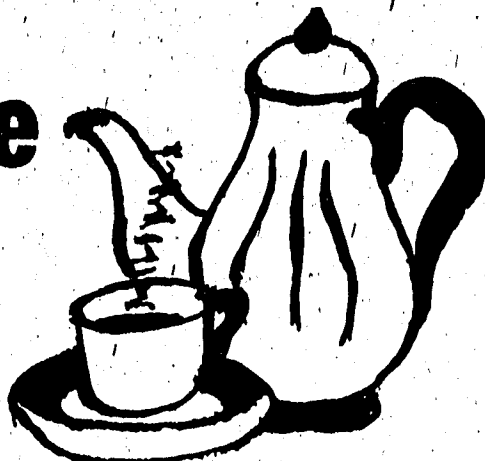

Program for the Atlantic City meetings is varied and interesting. Metropolitan Opera star Irene Jordan, members of the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, and a chorus of 160 will be featured in the presentation of an Oratorio specially written for the occasion. The Oratorio, based on Psalm 8 is entitled "What Is Man?" Also in attendance will be the Singing City Chorus of Philadelphia. Special speakers include, among others, Dr. John Soren of Brazil, President of the Baptist World Alliance, evangelist Billy Graham, and Hon. John G. Dieffenbacher.

Many Atlantic Baptists, from churches in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland will be going to the meetings by special Tour, sponsored by Baptist Fellowship Tours. The Tour will be by bus, leaving Saint John on the morning of May 19th, and will include a visit to the World's Fair in New York.

Rev. L. R. Atkinson, Secretary Evangelist of the Board of Evangelism, United Baptist Convention of the Atlantic Provinces, will represent the Board at this Convention.

It's not so much that I have a one track mind. It's more of a one track constitution. For my family's sake, it is a very good thing that I am pig-healthy, and am not too much more of a hypochondriac than most of us are.

The trouble is, that my physical condition is the centre of my whole life. If I cut my toe, the world becomes one enlarged sore pedal digit. If my hand itches, there is nothing left but a burning sensation at the base of my thumb. I bowl for the first time in months, and the next day life has become a solid mass of stretched muscles making their painful way up and down stairs.

If I happen to be tired, eternity stretches away in an endless plane of things to be done. I know, simply know, that I will never again have the energy to do anything. My well travelled friends — perhaps I have more of these than I would like to have, because my own travels have been so limited — talk about leaving for New York and the World's Fair. Others talk about Paris, Brussels and Hong Kong as if they were in the back yard. Ordinarily, the mention of such names would send me into spasms of envy and longing, but I was tired last night, and when these names were mentioned, my reaction was that it would be such an effort to have to drag myself through those places.

I happen to be one of those practical people who try to have a general idea of the week's menus before I go shopping, and I always take a shopping list. I don't believe my family fully appreciates how lucky this makes them. There have been weeks when I neither planned the menus, or took a list. On such weeks, I have been helplessly at the mercy of my one track constitution. If I happen to have just had a good dinner, I am not hungry enough to think about food. I come home proud that I only spent $7.50 on the groceries, which is all very well, but my kids will have nothing to eat for the next week. If the dinner should have been salt cod, or ham, I will have spent the greater part of the money on fruit juices. If I am suffering from one of those irrational cravings which seem to be among my peculiarities, the basket will be loaded with chocolate, cheese, minestrone soup or cod tongues, depending on the mood of the moment.

Quite aside from this, I must have a discussion on cod tongues. As far as I know, they have no particular reputation for being a Digby dish, nor are they something we ever ate terribly often in our family, but I have noticed that whenever I have been away from home long enough to start thinking of things "Digbyish", almost the first thing which pops into my mind is the thought of a plate of cod tongues. A day after this thought springs to life, it has developed into an affectionate longing. I once wrote to some Scottish friends who moved to Halifax that they would not have seen Nova Scotia until they had eaten cod tongues. "In a world where such things are available", I remember saying, "it is a crime to eat hot sandwiches or fish and chips."

But this has been an abbreviation. We were talking about my one track constitution. My eccentricity does not have the fortunate faculty of being as applicable to feelings of well being as it is to those feelings at the other end of the register. More than once, after a nap has cured me of a headache or sore throat which a few hours before I had thought were bringing me pretty close to the terminal stages, I have felt so good to be well again that I can hardly believe this marvelous change.

My husband has had some grave doubts about the mentality of anyone who could have this sort of reaction. In one of these states of exuberant well-being, following a grave case of hiccups, or something of that nature, I remarked to my paragon that it was worth getting sick to feel so well afterwards.

His sympathetic reply was that if I tried beating my head against a stone wall, that would feel pretty good when I stopped too.

Oh, come on. That is the end of the health report for today. Let's go out and buy some cod tongues.

The Messenger group of Heartz Memorial Church met in the Church on Friday afternoon. Continuing their "Let's Go Out of Doors in the Spring" they made a garden of mosses and little plants and presented it to Mrs. L. M. Tupper, who was celebrating her 82nd birthday that day. The gift was presented by Master Rhuland Proudfoot, with greetings from the group.

Rebuilding Mill

The community is happy to hear that Lewis Lumber Company have commenced the rebuilding of the mill. Their disastrous fire a few weeks ago, caused considerable concern as so many men were employed directly and indirectly in this industry. Lewis Lumber Co. is one of the major industries in the area.

Receives Badges

Wednesday, April 29, the Brownies of the 2nd Weymouth Pack with their leader Mrs. Albert Jones, held Parents Day. At this occasion, Joy Cosman, received her Brownie Pin. There were also 4 Golden Bar Badges presented to Cheryl Blynn, Elizabeth Lewis Aileen Cosman and Wanda Williams. Two Golden Hand Badges, the highest Brownie Award were presented to Lewis Eileen and Irene Young. They were first twins to receive this Badge. After the presentation of the badges, a Thanks Badge was presented to Mrs. Walter Carr who has been very kind to the Brownies. A Thanks Badge was presented to friends outside of the Guide Movement, as a token of appreciation. The Badges were presented by Mrs. W. L. Carson, of Digby, District Commissioner of Guides and Brownies.

There were a number of parents present also a few visitors, one of these being Mrs. Morgan (Brown Owl) of the Digby Brownie Pack.

Following this the Brownies had a singing game, after which refreshments were served.

Rev. N. MacLean of Westport assisted Rev. C. R. Barkhouse at the funeral service of Mrs. Margaret Doty on Wednesday at Riverside Baptist Church.

Army Cadet Inspection

Army Cadet Inspection will be carried out in the Weymouth Consolidated High School on May 20. Within the next month over 3,000 such students will be inspected in Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island where there are 44 Royal Canadian Army Cadet Corps.

One of the major attractions of the school year, the ceremonial parade, display of training skills and presentation of awards takes place before thousands of admiring parents, schoolmates and visitors. School bands assist where possible and dignitaries of the Royal Canadian Legion, local Militia units and service clubs frequently assist with the ceremonies.

Following parades during the school year they are eligible to attend summer training at Camp Aldershot where they meet cadets from the other two Atlantic Provinces. Instruction covers drill, small arms, map reading, citizenship first aid, rescue work, signaling and other army skills.

In addition to competitive trophies and prizes, awards to examination and attendance at a summer camp will be presented on the annual inspection parade.

Most keenly sought by the cadets is selection to attend a national camp at Banff, Alberta, during the summer or inclusion in a group that visits either Jamaica or Barbados to camp with Army cadets from those countries. Eight top cadets will be picked to join the Banff group and one for each of the West Indies groups.

Among those from away attending the funeral service of Mrs. Margaret Doty were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Keen, daughter, Elaine and husband; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Boudreau; Mrs. Fred Murphy; Mrs. Roy Hatcher, two daughters, son William and wife of Halifax; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Theriault, Belleville, Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Doty and son, Carl.

Mr. and Mrs. Beryn Goudey Miss Sadie Churchill; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Allan, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Coggins, Yarmouth; Mr. Redvers Urquhart, Jamaica Plain, Mass.; Mr. William Urquhart, son-in-law, Leslie Ward and grandson Michael, Truro; Mr. and Mrs. Wickerson Lent, Westport; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Henshaw, Deep Brook; Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan Henshaw, Kentville; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Doty, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Connell, Mrs. Basil Porter from Digby.

E. Adair, Weymouth, was elected a director of the Tourist Association of Nova Scotia at the annual meeting of the organization held in Halifax.

THURSDAY, MAY 7, 1964

85-Year-Old Active

Josie D. Robicheau, of Gilbert's Cove, has proved this winter that he possesses far more vitality than that displayed by many younger persons.

Mr. Robicheau, who was 85 on April 11, cut twelve cords of pulp and firewood during the winter. He also snared eight foxes on his way to work in the woods. The picture shows Mr. Robicheau admiring his catch. He is now preparing to plant his annual garden.
Mr. Robicheau is well-known by all for his story-telling of days long ago. Born in Dou-cetteville, he moved to Gilbert's Cove over fifty years ago.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Robi-cheau enjoy good health. They celebrated their 58th wedding anniversary in October.

Observe Family Week

Sunday marked the beginning of Family Week in Grace United Church, Digby, when Rev. R. H. Hughes preached an appropriate sermon for the occasion.

Mr. Hughes began his sermon by quoting from the marriage ceremony and stressing the importance of not entering marriage lightly but with serious consideration. There are many happy marriages, he said, which do not reach headlines, for only those which fail reach the newspapers.

Mr. Hughes charged parents with their responsibility in bringing up their children.
Some fathers, he said, clothe, feed and educate children but go little beyond that. They teach no commitment to a high moral code or offer any spiritual guidance. He based his remarks further on the Bible story of Enoch, whose sons for his child were generosity, kindness, respect and trust.

A child, Mr. Hughes said, needs more than one hour religious instruction a week.
He needs God in the home, day school and church. The home and day school and community are his environment.

Citizens of a community have a responsibility toward all the children, the speaker said. What the children are tomorrow is what we are today, their standards will be as high as those of the older people today. Parents and other citizens, too, must give account to God for the children in their care.

Family Week, Mr. Hughes said, is not so that a minister can preach a sermon on it but to bring the people back to the family altar, to pray with the children and establish family worship.

Pictures Get Delivered To Right Address

By A. P. McLanson
The Postmaster at Church Point received a letter addressed to "Postmaster, Church Point, N. S.". The letter contained a note and several colored pictures of a pair of oxen at work during haying time.
The note explained that the photos were for a person owning a pair of oxen named "Spark and Brown".

Although oxen are becoming scarce in Clare, there are still a few pair left. The Postmaster was able to find out for whom the photos were intended, when someone was able to identify a building shown in the picture. The person for whom the photos were intended was Denis Saulnier, of Little Brook, a good two miles from Church Point Post Office.

The letter and photos were

French Gift To Aid Restoration Of Port Royal

A collection of 85 items of kitchen and bakeshop furnishings from the 16th and 17th centuries has been donated by the Republic of France for the restoration of rooms in the "Habitation" at Port Royal National Historic Park, near Annapolis Royal, N. S.

A reconstruction of the Champlain Habitation of 1603 was completed and opened to the public as a National Historic Park in 1939-40 but the rooms were never furnished with authentic furniture of that period. The National Parks Branch has commenced a program of fully furnishing the rooms of the building.

The furnishings were locatinterest the Government of Immunization Clinic Held

Under the sponsorship of the Weymouth Home and School Association and through arrangements with the Department of Health, an immunization clinic for adults was held at the Weymouth Consolidated School with Dr. Felix Doucet in attendance.

Many received the first of three inoculations for polio and tetanus. Miss Marjorie Tupper, district nurse of Digby, N. S. was in attendance and was assisted by Mrs. Curtis Hankinson, R.N. and Mrs.
Rhuland Proudfoot, R.N. of Weymouth.

representatives of the Home and School, Mrs. Russell Cosman, Mrs. Harley Amiraault and Curtis Hankinson were at the registration desk. The next clinic is scheduled for May 22nd.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Baxter and daughter, Lina, attended the Laurence Thompson wedding at Middleton on Saturday.

connection with the present dump was considered. The matter was left in the hands of the public properties committee to bring in a report.

Deputy Mayor Bruce Baxter presented a detailed streets report showing an approximate amount of $1,300 for various purposes had been spent in the streets department in April.

Licenses had been granted, it was reported by the license committee, to a hair dresser, a novelty shop to operate between June 15 and September 5, and to a refrigeration repair shop. Permission was granted to the Digby Association V.O.N. to hold a tag day in August.

Following the pattern of the Digby Board of Trade, the town council on Monday night appointed a committee, headed by Mayor C. D. Snow, to meet with officials of HMCS Cornwallis for the purpose of cementing already existing fine public relations.

Twenty complaints had been lodged with the police in April.
Seven cases required court action, one under the criminal code and six under the Nova Scotia Liquor Act. Two motor vehicles and two bicycles had been stolen with all being returned without damage.

A report on Emergency Measures Operation organization was given by Councillor MacIntyre who stated 134

Spring Graduates

Two Digby County boys were among the more than 160 engineering students who got their degrees at the annual convocation of N. S.
Technical College on Wednesday. They were Norman Elie Pothier, of Lower Eel Brook, and Leo Joseph Belliveau, Weymouth.

At St. Mary's University, where a total of 115 students graduated on Monday, a Bachelor of Education was given to Adrian Woolaver MacNutt, Digby, and a diploma in engineering to Willis George County.

established in the Valley area.
Councillor Haliburton was named a director on the Digby County Power Board.

Although not in the report of the Sewer and Fire committee the matter of caution in the speed of the fire truck enroute to fires was mentioned. It was decided that this matter should be brought to the attention of the Fire Department to prevent accidents to vehicles or pedestrians.

A resolution proposing a vocational school at Annapolis
Royal and one from North Sydney Municipality re creating tax exemptions for pensions were laid on the table.

A request that patients at the Kings County Hospital requiring surgery or treatment at other hospitals be given this without first obtaining permission from the town was granted.

T.V. Series On Lunenburg

A little over two centuries ago, a mixture of German, French, and Swiss settlers numbering approximately 1, 500, founded a farming community on Canada's east coast. The French and Swiss elements gradually moved out, and the remaining Hanoverians stamped their imprint on the land and christened their new home Lunenburg, after the old German town of Lunenburg.

Out of necessity they transformed themselves from a farming people to a predominantly seafaring people, learning their hard trade from the New Englanders who had settled nearby. Over the years Lunenburg became famous for its port and its ships.

In a five-part Soundings series entitled Lunenburg - Portrait of a Changing World, beginning on CBC radio Thursday, April 30 at 9 p.m., Norman Creighton talks to Lunen-burgers on the farms, the coast, and the islands, about their life today, and their attitudes. The first program in the series, The Passing of the Jolly Ox, shows how this break with the past is brought about in part by the gradual disappearance from the Lunenburg scene of the ox. Once a common sight in Lunenburg the ox was not simply a beast of burden and a source of food but also a symbol of joy of life in Lunenburg.

In subsequent programs, Creighton delves into the grim life of the men and boys who fished the Grand Banks, working in often feudal conditions;
the folk lore of Lunenburg that includes belief in witches and charmers; and the practice of folk medicine on which the community depended for generations and which some Lunenburgers still prefer to modern surgery.

Mrs. Joseph Jefferson and son Ronald returned to their home in Terrace, B. C. by plane on Friday last after visiting the past six weeks her son Harold, Mrs. Jefferson and daughter at Mount Pleasant and other relatives.

He drew to the attention of the councillors the Electrical In-Mrs. Gott introduced the matter having the municipa-

This was introduced for health reasons and also to control types of homes to be erected.
The matter of a municipal

About This and That

We Are All Proud Of Digby Son

This month is a proud month for the Roman Catholic church in Digby. Not only is it a proud month for St. Patrick's, it is a proud month for Digby as she sees one of her sons, Rev. Joseph Hattie, O.M.I., ordained as a priest in the Roman Catholic church. In our pride for Digby we are not forgetting those who are foremost, the proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hattie, and their family.

Pride is probably not the proper term but when used in the spirit of extreme thankfulness, as we do, it is a righteous pride and cannot be offensive or out of place. For Digby must be extremely proud and thankful when one of her sons so completely commits his life to the cause of Christ and to the peace and blessing of the people of the world. This is not an ordinary thing for Digby. Except for Miss Lorna Connell from Trinity Anglican Church, who has given her life to a religious calling, we can think of no one from Digby town, of any faith or denomination, who has gone into full-time work of the church. We are most thankful and we again repeat, proud of a Digby daughter, and now of a Digby son in the person of Rev. Joseph Hattie who have sacrificed, much that others hold dear, to serve, without hinder, their Lord and Master, whom most of us profess to follow. We trust their lives of dedication will pave the way for future commitments by the young people of Digby no matter to what particular denomination they belong.

We are not unmindful of others from within the County who have completed or are training for church vocations but as we mentioned a week or two ago, church vocations have been sorely neglected by the young people. The record from Digby town has been anything but good. Therefore with just pride and in the spirit of thankful prayer we join the parents, the family, the church and friends for this special occasion in May when one of Digby's sons is ordained to the priesthood.

The "Acadia" Is Back

As we write this column we hear the whistle sound for the first time in two weeks of the Princess of Acadia wending her way to the dock at Digby. There is no doubt about it, the Saint John-Digby boat adds life to the town. Everybody looks with pleasure to the town returning to "normal" after the boat has been missing for two weeks.

The Princess of Acadia has been in drydock for repairs and exterior redecorating. The result is definitely an enhancement in appearance. She gleams in her new coat of white and in our opinion has been improved in appearance by the addition of several feet of black above the waterline.

For the sake of our visitors we welcome back the Princess of Acadia all freshly painted. We welcome her back, too, for ourselves. We miss the Acadia in many ways when her daily calls are interrupted, whether the interruption is for repairs or because the elements prevent her docking with present wharf facilities.

The sound of the whistle today was music to our ears as the Acadia returned to her daily route.

Paved Garbage Trail

We happened along the newly paved Crossroad from Marshalltown to the Neck Road on Sunday afternoon. What we saw didn't please us. We do not know to what extent this road was used for garbage disposal before but since the pavement has been laid there is provided an easier access to a convenient garbage disposal — so convenient that dumpers are likely to go on undetected. We feel sorry that people pay so little respect to conveniences provided and instead of showing appreciation by tidiness have made the road into a nicely paved garbage disposal trail. In a few places it appeared as if a toss from a moving car was the only effort made to dispose of refuse. One place in particular looked like a frequented dump.

Of course, we were garbage disposal conscious. The Digby Town Council just laid aside for further consideration an incinerator proposal and the Digby Municipal Council shelved for the time being any form of organized garbage collection or special "dump". With that in mind we decided we should take a look at the town "dump". What we saw pleased us even less than the Middle Crossroad and we immediately cast our vote for an incinerator should we hear more on the subject. Healthwise, beautywise and otherwise — our garbage disposal in town has much to be desired. As for the municipality — we're rather suspicious that some of their dumpers could be town people who do not believe in paying to have garbage collected and find it easier to go out of town to dispose of garbage. It is much simpler than trying to get to the town dump.

Forest Conservation Week

By F. L. Gray, Secretary-Manager, Nova Scotia Forestry Association.

Competing with other "Weeks" for prominence, each scheduled for the same seven days, Forest Conservation Week, May 10-16, nonetheless warrants the attention of the people of Nova Scotia. For upon the things which are being promoted through the "Week" depends a good deal of our future happiness and economic well being.

Most people agree that our forests should be protected from fire; yet witness the experiences of recent days. Officials state that the majority of recent forest fires have been maliciously set. What is this mania?

If Forest Conservation Week can do only a little toward making people more aware of their responsibilities in protecting our forest resources it will have been worthwhile.

Conservation means not only protection, it also means wise use. However, it can be truthfully said that a small percentage of the forests of Nova Scotia are being wisely used. Many countries have been practicing the science of growing trees for centuries, for both commercial and aesthetic purposes.

In Nova Scotia many still consider the forests a resource to be mined, stripped of their value, and then left idle until nature reforests them in its haphazard way.

The aesthetic approach to forestry is given little attention in our province. Careful cutting in the forests bordering our roadsides could do much to improve the appearance of the countryside, and to increase the pleasure of motoring on our highways. Highway construction programs should include provision for protecting existing trees where desirable, as well as for the planting of new ones.

Forest Conservation means many things. Nova Scotia, a province with a long history of lumbering, a location ideally suited for many world markets as well as for easy access for recreation, and a soil and climate suited to tree growth, would do well to improve her forest conservation program.

Is It False?

For years Digby has been using the slogan "home of the largest scallop fishing fleet in the world." Is it false to use such an expression today? Even if the home of the largest scallop fishing fleet should be in Digby County, has Digby town the right to claim this fame anymore? We hesitate to say yes.

According to figures quoted at the Digby Municipal Council session last week there are thirty scallop boats fishing from ports on the Islands of which the captain and crew hail from Digby. Looks like a shift in the home base for scallop fishing. Looks as if our slogan has to be changed to "was the home" and pass the honors on to others.

Which brings up the point — thirty boats of probably five men each, at least. One hundred and fifty men travelling regularly from the Islands to Digby, to say nothing of the fish to be transported, makes a good case for a causeway or bridge across Petite Passage. Doesn't it? To fish out of Island ports saves some 8 hours a day steaming to and from the grounds and leaves more time to do actual fishing, we have been informed.

Getting back to our subject — do we relinquish our slogan or not? Does the slogan go to the Islands? If so, are they going to use it to attract tourists? (And, another case for a causeway or bridge). And, are we traitors to Digby for even doubting our position? Or, daring to mention it?

PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

Until a few weeks ago, due to a lucky set of circumstances, rather than any special virtue of my own, I had lived in a happy cocoon, quite oblivious to the petty intrigues and hypocracies which make up a certain segment of our lives. As far as I knew, I had never tried to impress anybody, and nobody had ever tried to impress me. No-one ever bothered to gossip to me, and if I did happen to come across a juicy bit, I could never remember it long enough to pass it on any way. This sort of thing bore the same relationship to my life as the narcotics traffic of the Mafia. They were all something I had read about, or seen on the late, late, late, show.

Now, for the first time in my innocent life, I have met a group of people who indulge in this practise. I suppose, having remained immune for so long, I am shocked and frightened quite out of proportion. This thing, which is more petty than evil, more unkind than wicked, had jolted me to such an extent that it has taken away from me some belated vestige of my childhood which I had fostered well into my adult life.

I am quite fond of me. I do not know anybody I like better than myself, or anybody I would rather please than myself. Having met gossip first hand has reinforced my pride in being me, and strengthened my determination to be myself at all costs, without compromising my ideas, ideals, opinions, or way of life in order to make myself either well thought-of, or socially acceptable.

Most of us are brought up to believe that to love ourselves is pride, and that to please ourselves is selfishness. At the same time, we are taught that self-sacrifice gives us more pleasure than self seeking, and that it is more blessed to give than to receive. What amazes me is that very few of us realize how much self determination, self pride, and self love is involved in giving one's self up to others. Florence Nightingale, to cite one example, was not considered virtuous when she gave her life to the cause of nursing. Instead, most of her family, and many of her acquaintances (though none of her real friends) thought her wayward, and ungrateful. She knew she had a mission, and she was determined to have her own way in spite of the odds. She was not afraid of gossip or pettiness. She knew her happiness did not lie in the life of idleness which was expected from a rich young woman of her day. Instead, her happiness was in serving others on the battlefields of the Crimea. She loved herself enough to let nothing stand in the way of what she wanted, a nursing career.

People are generally considered to be pretty virtuous and self-sacrificing when they leave what could have been a life of ease for a life of hardship in the service of humanity. So often when we tell stories of these people to our children, or Sunday School classes, or any group which we are trying to instruct in the art of being virtuous, we emphasize the conflicts with their families and friends which their determinations bring about. Why can we not see that these people love themselves enough to defy convention, and do that thing which expresses themselves in the highest possible way. Because serving their fellow men brings them more happiness than running a business, or being an auto mechanic, or a famous concert organist, they are brave enough to be themselves, and do what they want to do, in spite of opposition.

I do not think most of us prefer a life of self-indulgence. I think that most of us are happier doing things for others, just as our Sunday School lessons taught us. Don't you find, when you do something for someone else, or sacrifice something you want for someone else, that you glow with a sense of pride, and a great deal of pleasure? And don't you know, too, that you did this because of the happiness you knew it would bring you, as well as for the happiness it would bring to the other person?

This, of course, is generalization, and like all generalizations, is not really very accurate. Most of the terrible things which have been done in this world have been done by people under the impression that they were being themselves. This cannot be denied. I think this is where we get the idea that to be ourselves is to be selfish, thoughtless, or even ruthless. I have the feeling that humanity is a bit better than that. If we really are "a little lower than the angels" why should not our most natural impulses be those which give pleasure to others, and by so doing give at least as much pleasure to ourselves.

I do not know if it is possible to do something solely for another person, with no thought of the pleasure one is giving oneself by so doing. Such a thing, if it were possible, seems to me to be cold, and unfeeling, lacking in the warmth which is derived from doing a good thing in the pleasure of a kind regard for oneself, which must be an extension of one's love for humanity.

My "self" I admit is less noble. I just want the freedom to paint my doors purple, or my walls red and orange in the same room, or put murals in the bathroom, to serve tea in cracked cups if I want, and to like whom I please.

New Industry In Clare

A new industry has been quietly organized in the Municipality of Clare, in Digby County, in the last nine months and very few persons know about it. Rumors have been going around the last several months that a survey of the area was being made to find out if it was feasible for the establishing of a clothing manufacturing firm here.

Mr. Bernard LeBlanc, of Bellevue's Cove, who was responsible for the survey, who on being interviewed stated: "A training period in the homes has been established in the villages from New Edinburgh (near Weymouth) to Comauville. Sixteen homes have been receiving training in sewing and the manufacture of family garments has started. The training was at our own expense, and many ladies who would not otherwise have been employed have been able to supplement the income of their husbands by part time work in their homes."

The line of goods that are presently being manufactured in the homes consists of children's and ladies' garments. The work of the Acadian women produced to date, stated Mr. LeBlanc, has been highly praised by Canada's leading buyers and is considered second to none. At present, the work performed in the home is on a part time basis but plans have been formulated for an expected expansion and increasing the number of workers. Before expansion on a great scale can take place, a few aspects must be cleared by the provincial government. It is hoped, stated Mr. LeBlanc, that the government will not delay ironing out the problems submitted to them, as we are anxious to proceed with our expansion plans at an early date.

The quality of goods manufactured to date has met with a very encouraging response from the trade and prospects look very bright, provided that no unjust obstacles are placed in the way, stated Mr. LeBlanc. "We want to make this work permanent. No longer must the people of Clare depend solely on fishing and lumber alone," Mr. LeBlanc said. The time has come when we must get our fair share of the expanding economy of the Nova Scotia economy. A plant can be made ready for production and plans for extension are on the drawing board for the time when the market shall warrant it, stated Mr. LeBlanc.

Twenty-six different styles of garments are presently being manufactured. Other lines are in the planning stage and are expected to be manufactured in the near future. Other phases of textile operation may be introduced at a later date.

When asked what he thought of the competition in this field, Mr. LeBlanc replied: "I am not afraid of competition. We are basing our output on being of very high quality and we expect to produce only the best." The firm plans to use Canadian materials in producing their garments.

It was in 1961 that the idea of establishing a family garment plant in the Municipality of Clare was first brought forward by Mr. Bernard LeBlanc and an extensive study of the possibilities was made. Mr. LeBlanc toured England, visiting textile and woolen mills as well as studying the export market to that country, which, he stated, looked very good. He also visited several large Canadian centres in Eastern Canada, contacting the right people and receiving favorable response to the saleability of the merchandise that he proposed to place on the market.

The manufactured products, which has been placed on the market in recent months in Eastern Canada, has met with a very good response by the purchasing public. Orders have been received from far away places such as Florida and Montreal. Mr. LeBlanc is very enthused by the bright prospects for this new business for Clare.

The skills of the Acadian people has long been renowned throughout Canada. Where in days of the past they displayed their skills in rug making, weaving by the ladies and the menfolk displayed exceptional skill in carpenter work, today these skills are being put to work in the garment trade by the ladies and the men are employed in Clare's shipyards.

Canada's first subscription library was established at Quebec City in 1779 when a group of officers and merchants set up a 2,000-book library.

O'NEILL — The family of the late Mrs. Nora O'Neill wish to thank all for expression of sympathy by flowers, cards kind deeds and words. Special thanks to Rev. R. R. Winchester, choir and pallbearers. Also Mr. Reigh Jayne. 38:1tc

CUNNINGHAM — I wish to thank Dr. L. F. Dolron, the nurses and staff of the Digby General Hospital and the clergy and friends for their kindness while I was a patient there. — (Mrs) Eileen Cunningham. 38:1tc

COMEAU — I wish to thank all for the many cards sent to me while I was in the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax. — J. C. Comeau, Bloomfield, N.S. 38:1tc

FARRELL — I extend thanks to friends who sent cards and messages of cheer while I was a patient at Camp Hill Hospital. — Jim Farrell. 38:1tc

TITUS — In memoriam to father, mother, sister. In loving memory of my sister, Ina D. Titus, who passed away May 13, 1919; father, James W. Titus, August 16, 1932; and mother, Clara S. Titus, May 12, 1942. Never will their memory fade — Daughter Dorothy L. Johnson and son Reginald Titus. 38:1tc

THIBAUT — In memory of Clarence E. Thibault, who died in a traffic accident May 17, 1963. "Just when your life was brightest, Just when your years were best, You were called from this world of sorrow, To a home of eternal rest." — Always remembered by his three children, Eleanor, Philip and Robert. 38:1tc

COMEAU — In memory of Mrs. Henry Comeau, who passed away May 18, 1959. Five years ago she left us. As we wipe away a tear Fondest memories ever linger Of our darling "mother" dear. — Always remembered by daughter, Helen, son-in-law, Doug, Robert, Rose, Richard, Shirley Ann Foley, Victoria Beach. 38:1tc

GOSSON — In loving memory of our dear brother, John Gossion, who passed away May 12th, 1957. Memories fade as years go by But thoughts of you shall never die. — Sadly missed and ever remembered by sister, Lella and brother, Basil. 38:1tc

Obituary

Mrs. Miriam Andrews
Word has been received of the sudden passing of Mrs. Miriam Andrews at Malden Mass., on Sunday, May 10 from a heart seizure. Mrs. Andrews was born in Barton, Digby Co., a daughter of Donald and Ella (Wynan) Urquhart. She married Byron Andrews and lived in North Range a number of years before moving to the United States.
Surviving are one daughter, Laura Ella (Mrs. Berwyn Gaudet), Yarmouth; one son, Linden, Brighton, Mass.; two brothers, Rodvers Urquhart, Jamaica Plain, Mass., and William Urquhart, Truro. She was predeceased by two sisters, Hilda Urquhart and Mrs. Margaret Doty.

Marriages

Harvey — Wood
St. Patrick's Church, Digby, was the scene of a pretty spring wedding on Saturday, May 2, when Karen Elizabeth eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wood, became the bride of John Samuel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Harvey, Pettediac, N.B.
The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. L. Gaudet at the nuptial mass.
The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a street length gown of white satin with bouffant skirt. The fitted bodice was embroidered with sequins and seeded pearls and long sleeves pointed over the wrists. She wore a shoulder tip veil of nylon tulle held in place by a regal-style crown and she carried a bouquet of pink roses. Her only ornament was a single strand of cultured pearls, a gift of the groom.
Miss Mildred Donnellan was bridesmaid and her gown was of pink nylon sheer with matching headpiece. Her bouquet was of white mums and pink roses. The best man was Terence McKee, a friend of the groom. Ushers were David Wood, a brother of the bride, and Jerry Connolly.
The mother of the bride wore a beige two-piece ensemble with matching accessories with corsage of pink and white carnations. The groom's mother wore a gold brocade fitted dress with white accessories and a corsage of bronze mums. Miss Mary Lou Theriault was in charge of the guest book.
A reception was held at St. Patrick's Parish Hall where a buffet luncheon was served. The bride's table was tastefully decorated in pink and white and centred with a three tier wedding cake. The toast to the bride was proposed by Father Gaudet and responded to by the groom.
For going away the bride chose a suit with brown accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey will reside in Dartmouth.

BEAR

Marriage

Ringer — Morse
Yesterday afternoon at four o'clock Dr. C. Weston Ringer of Fair Oaks park took for his bride, Mrs. Laura V. Eldridge

Morse of 23 Tudor road in family services at the future home of the couple, 113 Fair Oaks park. The Rev. Dr. Herbert Rhodes Smith officiated at the ceremony which was held in the floral decorated living room. Following the services, family and very close friends were received there at the home.

For her wedding, the bride wore a pink shantung costume with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of pink tea roses. She was given in marriage by her son, Lawrence Morse. Her sister, Mrs. Ralph Morehouse of Bromley Avenue Moncton, New Brunswick, was her matron of honor. Mrs. Morehouse wore a fawn and aqua brocade dress with matching accessories and her bouquet was yellow bronze tea roses.

Fulfilling service as best man for his father was Mr. Wayne E. Ringer of Newbury street, Boston. Providing special organ music was Mr. Harry Rogers of Wollaston.

Very special invited guests were the children and grandchildren of each of the newly weds. The two daughters and one son of Mrs. Morse are Mr. and Mrs. George C. Johnson of Walpole, Mrs. Barbara De-marest and son John from Miami, Florida, and Mr. Laurence P. Morse of Bradenton, Florida. Of Dr. Ringer's family, his three sons and their families were represented by Mr. and Mrs. Val Ringer of Wellesby, Mr. and Mrs. Allison Ringer of Webster street, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Ringer of Boston. There are now a total of 17 grandchildren for Dr. and Mrs. Ringer.

Dr. Ringer, a dentist is a graduate of the Harvard Dental School, Class of 1913. He and his bride left for a wedding trip to New Orleans and Nassau. Mrs. Ringer's traveling costume was a three piece navy blue suit.

Bear River Board Drives For Clean Up

A regular meeting of the Bear River Board of Trade was held on April 23rd with 14 members present.

It was reported that the illegal dumping of garbage along roadsides is continuing, notwithstanding provincial Highway signs.

This unlawful dumping of garbage is causing unsightly places along our highways and all citizens are urged by the Board of Trade to assist in keeping our roadsides free of these unsightly rubbish heaps.

In view of the fact that there is a public dump and a regular weekly collection of garbage in Bear River, the Board of Trade felt these eyesores along the roadsides should not exist.

A motion passed that permission be requested from the Department of Highways to burn these dumps and an urgent appeal made to the public to keep town clean and neat.

Efforts are to be made to remove the old car bodies from the river and the Bowwater, Mersey Paper Co., will be contacted to see what might be done to clean up the wharves.

Motion passed that a letter be forwarded to the Postmaster General regarding a new post office for Bear River.

There was some discussion regarding the possibility of reviewing interest in ball teams for Bear River and the need of direction signs at Clementsport, Deep Brook and mouth of Bear River.

Miss Beryl Henderson who is now employed at the Bible House, Halifax spent the weekend at her home.

Two Pastors Leave In June

Members of the Weymouth and District Ministerial Association met on Thursday last at the home of Mr. Albert E. Jones, Weymouth North. Rev. R. R. Winchester was in the chair and in the unavoidable absence of Rev. Marvin Durling read on his behalf the paper prepared for discussion: Personal convictions and Conducts.

Thanks were expressed to Mr. Winchester for guiding the discussion to be forwarded to Mr. Durling for the interesting material presented. To Rev. Mr. Durling, who leaves his present pastorate at Havelock Reformed Baptist Church and to Mr. Fred I. Withers who similarly concludes his present pastorate of Digby Neck, Weymouth United Charge were extended best wishes. Cheques for purchase of a book of their own choosing were presented, this being the regular custom of the Association. Both leave at the end of June.

Rev. Mr. W. R. Barkhouse was appointed to succeed Mr. Withers as treasurer. Acknowledgements were made of monies voted to five worthy charitable organizations in the amounts of $25.00 each which had been sent to the Red Cross, Gideons, Lords Day Alliance, Canadian Mental Health, and Sons of Temperance Societies.

The meeting learned with pleasure that Mrs. Barkhouse was able to return home from the hospital and with regret that Mrs. R. R. Winchester is presently confined to her bed through illness.

This is the final meeting of association until the fall.

CAREER DAY

(Continued from page 1) wise your future is going to be more complicated and will demand more mental labour and preparation.

The challenge is yours. Life is not worth living unless there is a cause to win and a battle to fight. The things that you learn in school may not seem related to what your future will demand, concluded the speaker. It isn't what you learn that counts. It is how you learn it, the habits you form and the willpower you develop in the process of learning. But it all seems pointless unless you have a goal to win.

Benefit N. S.

Construction of a research sawmill by the Federal Department of Forestry at Chalk River, Ont., should benefit Nova Scotia sawmill operators, Robert H. Burgess, director of forestry with the Lands and Forests Department said recently.

Information derived from such an operation should help answer some of the problems of the mill operator, said Mr. Burgess.

The new mill will facilitate production studies under controlled operating conditions which are not practical in provincial sawmills because of variables in operating conditions.

"Even though the mill is in Ontario information obtained can be passed to our provincial lumbermen."

Mr. Burgess said the development of improved sawmilling methods is an important and continuing phase of forest products research.

The Chalk River mill will also enable the federal department to further its continuing research on lumber seasoning. The sawmill is expected to be in operation before the end of 1964.

PROPOSED EXPRESSWAY

(Continued from page 1) Montreal from 760 miles to 440 land miles. Ferry hours would be cut from 13 hours via Bluenose to 7½ hrs. The 100 mile road from Halifax to Deep Brook could be easily constructed and would be mostly through virgin territory. Intersection of several trunk highways would provide convenient connection with any part of Western Nova Scotia. In Maine again the road would pass through virgin and scenic area.

The future development of economic conditions in Nova Scotia and the Maritimes is largely dependent on improved transit service to Upper Canada and the North Eastern United States. Mr. Daniels commented. Much of Nova Scotia's economic health depends on ability to export fish and commodities to New England and Upper Canada and to attract from and through these areas thousands of tourists. A way to escape heavily congested routes of Eastern United States and Canada, Canadian government has never thought of before would be provided by this proposal. Improved transportation for un-assembled parts and manufacture supplies into Nova Scotia and shipping of manufactured products out would attract industry.

Recent Graduate

It has been announced that Bonnah Coleen Henshaw, of Deep Brook, was successful in passing the nursing assistant examinations in Nova Scotia for the month of March.

V.O.N. Drive Planned

The annual June Drive for the Local Association Victoria Order of Nurses, Digby,

82 On Monday

Victoria Day will be more than just another holiday for Walter Titus, Westport. He, along with Royalty, will be celebrating a birthday and will enjoy all the festivities accompanying it. Mr. Titus, retired, and in good health, will be 82 years on Monday.

Will Be 91 Years

Mrs. William Snow, Smith's Cove, will celebrate her 91st birthday on Monday, May 18. Mrs. Snow is at present a guest at the Hubley Nursing Home, in Bear River.

Farewell For Rev. And Mrs. MacTavish

A farewell party, given by the members and friends of the Clementsport, Deep Brook and Smith's Cove Baptist Churches, in honor of Reverend and Mrs. Dale MacTavish, was held recently in the auditorium of the Smith's Cove School. Approximately 140 friends attended. A sing-song and several selections by the Men's Choir were enjoyed.

Rev. G. D. Brydon gave a short talk and then presented Rev. and Mrs. MacTavish with gifts of money from the Clementsport and Deep Brook churches, and from Smith's Cove. Wallets containing money were given to both Mr. and Mrs. MacTavish. Mr. and Mrs. MacTavish responded with their thanks. Mr. MacTavish also gave a short outline of his future work in clerical pastoral training at the Hartford Hospital.

Billy Terry made a presentation on behalf of the members of the Junior BYPA to Mr. MacTavish, of a Scholastic Life Time Pen.

Reverend and Mrs. MacTavish and sons leave May 18th for Hartford, Conn., where he will continue his studies at the Hartford Hospital.

According to Miss Evenden's report 205 visits had been made in April; 112 of these were for out-of-town patients.

The meeting was presided over by Rev. R. H. Hughes, vice-president.

Mrs. Gott Talks On Mental Health

The regular meeting of the Digby Neck Home & School was held in the school auditorium on May 7, with the president, Mrs. Emdon Morehouse, in the chair. Mrs. Chester Denton served as secretary pro tem.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $66.91 on hand.

The Association decided to contribute $5.00 toward the work of the Digby Community Mental Health Centre.

Mrs. Emdon Morehouse presented the guest speaker, Mrs. "Penny" Gott. Mrs. Gott chose as her subject "The New Look In Mental Health".

Mental illness, said Mrs. Gott, remains the nation's No. 1 health problem and, because of the jet-age in which we live, teenagers are particularly susceptible. However, we now have a new approach to mental health and because of this we have all become more aware of the early symptoms of mental illness and the better able to cope with the problem.

Clinics are available where patients may receive free counselling, guidance and treatment. For these clinics the professional workers are paid by the government. All other services are performed by volunteers. Nova Scotia has nine mental health clinics, the first to be established being at Digby, and here, quite recently, the new Digby Community Mental Health Centre was opened.

Today in mental illness The New Look is early detection and treatment, with great stress being laid on prevention. If a patient can remain at home with loved ones and among familiar surroundings, it has been discovered that he will more readily respond to treatment. If he must be hospitalized he is treated as the average hospital patient and always encouraged to participate in planned activities with great effort being made to establish rehabilitation.

Yes, said Mrs. Gott, we can conquer mental illness. With our help the mentally ill can come back.

The meeting closed with a question and answer period, after which refreshments were served by the social convener, Mrs. Allison Merritt.

Constitute AYP Branch

Commonwealth Youth Sunday was observed in St. Edward's Church, Clementsport, on May 10th with a youth service at which the special message from Her Majesty the Queen to Commonwealth youth, was read.

During the service a branch of the Anglican Young People's Association was constituted in the parish of Clementsport and the charter members formally admitted by the Rector, Father Logan.

Officers installed were: President, Christopher Merritt; vice-president, Carolyn Vroom; secretary, Marguerite Spurr and treasurer, Linda Rowland.

Next Sunday the Feast of Pentecost, the A.Y.P.A. will make their corporate Communion at the 9 a.m. Eucharist, followed by a Communion breakfast in the rectory.

On May 21st the ladies of the parish will have a Quiet Day at St. Matthew's, Deep Brook, under the direction of Father Strople, of Halifax.

Repeat Performance

The Clementsport Variety Show, sponsored by the Baptist Friendly Club, made a repeat performance at the Oakdene School auditorium, Bear River, on Monday night. More than 250 people attended the show, realizing $90.00 for the sponsors.

Several new numbers were added to Monday night's program as well as repeat numbers. Additions were the Tartan Fours, folksong group, which made a big hit. It is understood. This group was organized last September and includes Blaine Henshaw, Deep Brook, Dawson Farrington, Greg Kerr and Teddy Rafuse, Annapolis Royal. They have been heard on radio from Bridgewater, Kentville and Middleton.

Other new numbers which made hits were the "Singing Nuns", Dorothy Graham and Dianne Sanford; solo, Mary Harris, Bear River; and the Hula Girl outfit by Morris Simpson as highlight of the Fashion Show.

Christian Family Service

Mrs. William Marshall read the story to the children for the special service at Grace United Church marking Christian Family Sunday. Rev. R. H. Hughes conducted the service and scripture was read by Dale Halliday. The theme was "Our Family - A Household of God". An appropriate anthem for the occasion was rendered by the choir under the leadership of Norman Wright and with Mrs. Elton Arnold presiding at the organ. Flowers were placed in memory of Mrs. Louise O'Neil and Mrs. Alice Handspiker by family and friends. Mrs. David Ellis by her daughter, Greta, and Mrs. Effie Snow by her children.

Rev. Mr. Hughes announced that the new addition to the church hall would be dedicated on June 27 and the Anniversary of the church would be held on June 28.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED

(Continued from page 1) felt that the public needed to be educated to the fact that all benefit from the tourist dollar and all should take responsibility toward promoting tourism. The president, E. Adelaar, cautioned that we are getting more and more dependent on each other and if we do not pull together we will drown together.

A report on the Fundy Trail was given. It is hoped that the road will be dust proofed for use by June. The Annapolis Royal Board of Trade through its tourist committee have large signs ready to erect and have prepared direction markers. An information booth will be set up at the Annapolis causeway by the Board.

Air transportation for tourists was mentioned as the coming thing. Members of the Boards were requested to bring this to the attention of municipalities and influence them to establish air strips. Tourists coming by air are likely to stay longer in one place.

Unusually, modern premises and old car lots along the highways came in for a severe attack at the meeting on Wednesday. The unsightly Premises Act and the Salvage Yards Act were brought to the attention of the members who were requested to use their influence to have the highways cleaned up in this respect.

To Participate In Panel

E. B. Tufts, Digby, will participate in a panel discussion when blood donor chairmen, officers and executive members of Nova Scotia Division Red Cross meet in Halifax next Wednesday.

The panel will deal with "Personal Approach in Blood Donor Program" and will cover the topics "Personal Approach and TV", Mrs. G. A. Seaman, co-ordinator, blood donor clinics, Pictou County; "Creating a Friendly Atmosphere at Clinics", Vernon Dorey, chairman, Shelburne Clinic; "Personal Approach Through Other Organizations", Paul Terry, chairman, Sydney Clinics and "Personal Contact of Donors in Digby Area", Ernest B. Tufts, chairman, Digby Clinic.

A panel discussion on the blood donor program will be another highlight of the meeting. It will be chaired by Mr. Smith and panelists will be Robert A. Whyte, director of blood donor clinics; Dr. Harold C. Read, medical director; Charles L. Hilsley, Nova Scotia Red Cross Commissioner and F. A. S. Jones, provincial blood donor chairman, Prince Edward Island.

Premier Robert L. Stanfield, honorary president, Nova Scotia Division, will bring greetings and Richard H. Gluns, director public relations, will give the address.

Dr. S. C. Robinson, assistant professor, department of obstetrics and gynecology, Dalhousie University's faculty of medicine, will speak during the morning. His subject will be "Some Aspects of Blood Transfusion Use."

Delegates are expected from New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland and will be introduced by G. R. Matheson, N. S. Division, president.

G. Raymond Smith, chairman, provincial Red Cross blood donor committee, will chair the meeting.

Leave Decision Until February

At a special session of Annapolis Municipal Council held at Annapolis Royal on Tuesday, May 19, the purchasing of a site for the building of Deep Brook - Clementsport consolidated school was on the agenda. Councillor Boylan, chairman of the building committee, named a site at Clementsport of approximately 3 1/2 acres for $1200.00, and moved that same site be purchased. Councillor Mason seconded motion. The vote resulted 9-3 in favor.

After a 5 minute recess, following other business, Councillor Mason presented a motion made re purchasing of a building site at Clementsport for the school be rescinded, and that the purchasing of a building site at Clementsport or Deep Brook be deferred until the council meets in February 1965. Councillor Messenger seconded the motion which was passed.

Dogs Take First Prize

A first prize was awarded to Mrs. Alma Melanson, Digby, for her display of handmade dogs at the Home and School Art and Handcraft Show held at West Kings High School auditorium. The show was held for two days, Friday and Saturday.

In the display of dogs were thirty-nine, all made by Mrs. Melanson. Her latest one, and one which received high acclaim by viewers was "Bunny Lynn". During the winter hunters had saved rabbit skins which Mrs. Melanson cured and then converted into the shape and features of a dog. Another favorite with the children at the show was Mr. Chow - Chow, a dog which had the faculty of shaking hands when operated by a string.

Mrs. Melanson has made 57 dogs within the past two years. She presently has a collection of 40, having sold and given seventeen away as gifts.

July 1 Celebrations Planned

Representatives of all the organizations in Digby town were present at a special meeting called by Dr. J. R. McCleave, chairman of the Digby Recreation Commission.

This meeting was called to discuss the possibility of the Digby Recreation Commission holding the town of Digby's annual July 1st celebration and using the money earned to improve the financial health of the Digby Forum.

After discussion of the Board of Trade's motion that the event be held on another day, in another form, it was moved and seconded by those present that the town of Digby go ahead and stage its annual July 1st celebration and the motion, when put, received unanimous assent.

A general discussion of the program form was then held and it was agreed the celebration should begin with a parade and that some of the highlights should be an Old Timers Baseball Game, a Hottentot, two Dance programs, Races, and a Pie Eating Contest.

Various organizations pledged themselves to take care of booths and games in the

Explorers Hold Affiliation

On Tuesday night of this week members of the Explorer group of the Baptist Church of Digby were guests of the Women's League and held their annual affiliation service with the W.M.S. Mrs. Hugh Vincent was in charge of the meeting. At a recent meeting members of the CGIT group were guests at a similar service in the church hall.

Last Thursday evening the pastor of the church, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, led the CGIT group in a discussion on the Creation story. Many questions were directed to him by the girls revolving around the origin of life and man's existence.

A number of the members of the congregation attended the meetings of the Annapolis-Digby Baptist Association held in the church at Annapolis Royal this week.

For the summer months the Sunday service in the Hill Grove church will be held a 9:45 a.m., followed by the Sunday School. These changes took effect last Sunday. Plans are also being made to hold the usual annual Roll Call service in the Hill Grove church early in the summer.

Bowling Banquet

V. G. Cardoza was guest speaker when the Country Bowling Club held their banquet at the Digby Branch Canadian Legion Hall on Saturday evening.

Mr. Cardoza commended the game of bowling for the development of fellowship, sportsmanship and cooperation by means of its players. This spirit of friendship and co-operation, he said, reflects on community life and is good for the well-being of the community. It demonstrates to others that this is a community where people can get along together, that this is a good place to live and it is conducive to the growth and betterment of the community and industry. Bowling is an inexpensive way to foster this community spirit and there is fun involved in doing it.

Mr. Cardoza was introduced by Arnold McCallum, who presided at the banquet, and was thanked by Mrs. Harold Elliott, president of the ladies' league.

About 225 attended the banquet.

Mr. Cardoza also presented (Please turn to page 10)

15th Anniversary St. Mary's Chapter

St. Mary's Chapter #33, O.E.S., of Digby, entertained guests from seven Nova Scotia Chapters at the regular stated meeting, held on May 14th. The chapters present were: Queens Chapter, Liverpool; Arthur's Chapter, Milton; Grace Chapter, Lunenburg; Mace Chapter, Bridgewater; Shoreham Chapter, Chester; Keystone Chapter, Yarmouth; and Century Chapter, New Glasgow.

The occasion was the 15th anniversary of St. Mary's Chapter. To mark the occasion a number of Grand Officers were present. Among them were Mrs. Ethel Corkum, who will be installed as Worthy Grand Matron at Grand Chapter in July; Past Grand Matron Annie Horton; and Past Grand Patrons Douglas Horton, Maxwell Wharton and Joe Steadman.

P.M. Barbara Weir made the traditional birthday cake, which was cut by P.M. Jean Dorman. The soloist for the evening was Miss Carolyn Arnold.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by a committee chaired by Mrs. Jean Olsen, the Worthy Matron of St. Mary's Chapter.

Gives Talk On Highway Safety

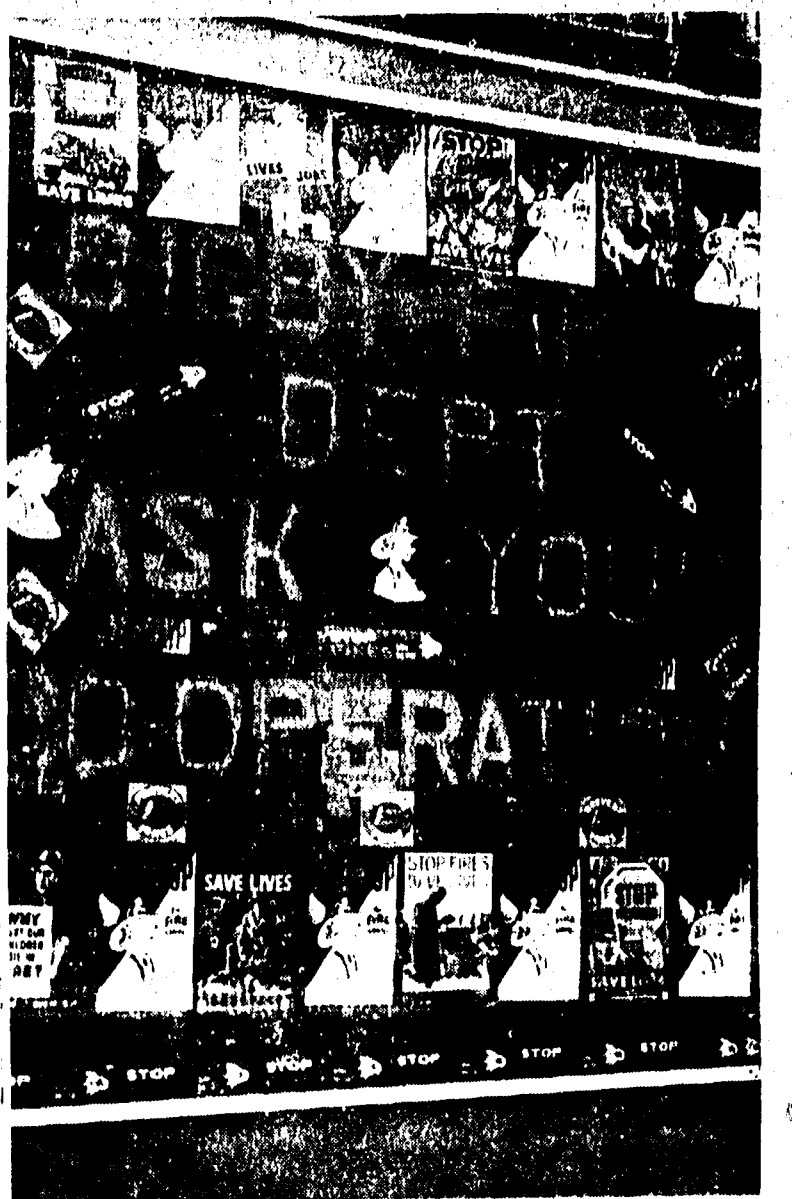

Constable Patterson, of the RCMP detachment at Digby, by special request of members of the Islands Consolidated Home and School Association, was honored guest at the meeting held in the Islands Consolidated School at Freeport.

Following the brief business session of the meeting, Constable Patterson, introduced by supervisor of schools for the area, Bradford Finigan, gave a talk on highway safety and regulations. He answered questions regarding safety on the highway which were asked by the members.

Constable Patterson also presented the films, Driver or Pedestrian; The Driver and the Law; The Last Date, and Making a Mountie. The latter film depicted the training school at Regina and the various activities that the recruits must participate in.

Students from grades 9-12 of the Consolidated School attended the meeting.

Twelve Enter Road-e-o

Digby's Teenage Safe-Driving Road-e-o will be held at the Forum this Saturday beginning at 1 o'clock. Twelve contestants will enter and a winner will represent Digby at Atlantic Road-e-o finals, to be held at Summerside, P. E. I., on May 30. Police Chief W. F. Dunn is chairman of the Digby Road-e-o which is being sponsored by Imperial Oil Ltd. and the Lions Club. Members of the RCMP and Digby Lions Club will act as judges for the event.

Through the cooperation of local police departments and the Lions Club, Safe-Driving Road-e-os have been held in Digby for a number of years.

Queen's Message

Rev. James Pike, Trinity Anglican Church, had a special message for youth on Youth Sunday and also read the message from Her Majesty the Queen, which was circulated to the churches. The message read as follows —

"I thank you all most sincerely for the greetings which you have sent to me on Commonwealth Youth Sunday.

The marvels of science have brought all men closer together. By being able to talk to each other, and even to see each other, over long distances, we now have opportunities to keep in touch which were denied to our forefathers. All who believe in one Creator must also believe in the brotherhood of man. And if we — as nations or as individuals — behave to each other like brothers, we should have a good chance of overcoming any fears or suspicions which may divide us.

It has often been remarked that the Commonwealth is like a family. Every one of its members, as he comes of age, is free to pursue his own course, yet feels bound to subtle links of relationship and is led from time to time to be joined in reunion with the others. On Commonwealth Youth Sunday we give expression to this family feeling; and I am to join in it by receiving your message and sending my own greetings to young people in all parts of the Commonwealth. Whatever the future of the Commonwealth will be, it will be for you to plan and build.

May God bless and guide you in this task.

Vigil For Civil Rights

Keith Churchill, formerly of Digby, demonstrated for civil rights on the Lincoln Memorial grounds in Washington, D. C., last week.

Mr. Churchill, the son of Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Churchill, of Windsor, formerly of Digby, and a student at Union Theological Seminary, New York City, joined with other theological students in a silent vigil for civil rights. Included were representatives from Protestant, Catholic and Jewish seminaries.

Thomas O. Leatherwood, co-chairman of the vigil, explained the action.

"Civil rights is a moral issue founded on the brotherhood of all men under God," he said. "Despite our religious differences, we are voicing concern and are seeking positive action on this issue which has divided brother against brother; and which transcends the fabric of our country's religious and national conscience."

The vigil began April 19 and will continue until the Civil Rights Bill is passed in the United States Senate.

Garden Clubs Meet In Digby

Western Nova Scotia District Meeting of Gardeners met at the Digby Regional High School on Wednesday, when hosts for the occasion were Admiral Digby Horticultural Society and Hill-N-Dale Garden Club, Bear River. The meeting was presided over jointly by Kenneth Beckwith, president, Digby, and Mrs. Lawrence Darras, president, Bear River. Clubs represented besides Digby and Bear River were Champlain, Annapolis Royal; Weymouth; Meteghan, River and Hebron.

At the buffet supper presided over by Mr. Beckwith, a welcome was extended by Mrs. Hartley Powell, Weymouth, director for the district. Dorothy Hill, Bear River, won the lucky door prize.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Jack Kerr, of the Nova Scotia Travel Bureau, who took as his subject "The Link Between Tourism and Gardening." He said tourists enjoy seeing flowers of any type, they want to visit more open lands, instead of car grave yards they enjoy seeing

Presbytery Meets At Middleton

The May meeting of the Annapolis Presbytery of the United Church of Canada was held in Middleton on May 13 with Rev. Wm. H. Thomas presiding.

Prior to official convening of the session a service of worship was conducted by Rev. Elmer Asaph of Bear River with Mr. Thomas as organist. Mr. Asaph spoke fittingly of the work of the Church and used passages from the Book of Nehemiah that tell of the building of Jerusalem.

About This and That

Other Priests & Religious

Our editorial last week regarding the ordination of Rev. Joseph Hattie, O.M.I., to be held at St. Patrick's Church this month, brought to light the names of another priest and two Sisters who came from Digby. F. C. McBride, one of Digby's oldest residents, informs us that a Simon and Susan Conwell, who lived in the house on Prince William St. now owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Deveau, had a son, John, who entered the priesthood and followed his calling in United States churches. These same parents had two daughters who became Sisters of a religious order.

Others brought to our attention who would also be considered from Digby town were the late Rev. Canon George Ambrose, who was brought up in Digby. He was the son of the Rev. John Ambrose, who was rector at Trinity Church for a number of years and was noted for his campaign for free schools and for the abolishing of auctioning off indigent persons. There was also two from the family who became Sisters. Another mentioned was the Rev. Gerald Viets, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Viets, a descendant of the Rev. Roger Viets, who served in the early church years of Trinity.

Others who had Digby connections were Rev. Frank Milligan, Sister Mary Ruth, now at St. Joseph's Hospital, Saint John, N. B., and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Ross Culloden, and Rev. Keith Churchill, son of Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Churchill.

Garbage, More Garbage

Another editorial which received comment last week was the one on garbage. In fact, one lady from King Street called to say, "Write another and mention the disgraceful pile of rubbish thrown over the bank near the Pines Hotel around the Racquette." The lady remarked that from her kitchen window she can see the cars backing up to the particular spot on the road and toss the garbage over the bank. As seen from King Street, the garbage pile is building up and is beginning to look like a second town dump.

There is a law against dumping garbage, isn't there? You dumpers better beware. Somebody might tell.

No Place To Rest

Still another lady came to us with this request — "We enjoy reading your editorials. Won't you write one about there being no place to rest while waiting for the bus?" This, of course, we think might be a private matter with the particular bus company, but we will stick our necks out to say that even plenty of benches around in warm weather would ease the situation a bit. Our informant said that many of the people come to town to shop and to do so use bus transportation. After a tired round of shopping errands they would like to be able to sit down while awaiting the bus arrival. Previously the bus terminal was used. This has been closed.

The questions are — Do we in town want the bus travelling shopper trade? and, Does the bus want the shopper travelling trade? The town has provided benches in some areas and the Horticultural Society has placed some benches at the Cannon Bank for the accommodation of tourists. None of these are near the bus stop. So there seems to be nothing at the moment but to stand and stand in seeing distance of the bus. There isn't even the accommodation of a railway station to borrow anymore.

You know, even tourists travel by bus sometimes. Wonder what their impression is. Wonder whether anybody interested in establishing industry in Digby ever travels in and out of our town by bus or train?

Spirit Of Cooperation

Speaking of tourists and industry reminds us that a good point was brought out by V. G. Cardoza at the bowling banquet on Saturday night. As guest speaker, he commended the spirit of friendly competition and the spirit of cooperation expressed by the bowlers. He connected this industrially and stated that this kind of spirit was attractive to industry which might be looking for a place to establish itself.

A good point indeed! We hope it catches fire in other spheres of social and business life in Digby too. Think about it.

Various Ways To Reach Nova Scotia

Take your choice of travelling methods — ship, car, train, bus, airplane — they all get you to Nova Scotia.

This ocean-side province is only a few hours air-travelling time from North America's east-coast centres and six hours by ship from Bar Harbor, Me., to Yarmouth, N. S.

Even car travelling time is shortened considerably by using one of the two ferry services connecting Nova Scotia's western end with ports in Bar Harbor and Saint John.

For example, from Chicago to Nova Scotia the distance is 1,580 miles via Ontario and Quebec. Via Albany to Bar Harbor, your car travels only 1,264 miles and then you have a pleasant trip on the MV. Bluenose.

As another example, the mileage from Saint John to Halifax via the New Brunswick border is 300 miles. You cut that mileage in half if you cross the Bay of Fundy on the S.S. Princess of Acadia, disembark at Digby and enjoy a leisurely 150-mile drive through the picturesque Annapolis Valley to Halifax.

Prince Edward Island's ferry terminal at Wood Islands connects with Caribou, near Pictou, N. S., a 14-mile trip across Northumberland Strait.

The 100-mile voyage between Port Aux Basques, Nfld., and North Sydney, N. S., is a pleasant journey on the MV William Carson. Trips are made daily. Ferry connections with Charlottetown, P. E. I., and Magdalen Islands, P. Q., are available with a twice-weekly year-round service, with Pictou as the Nova Scotia terminal.

Halifax's modern International Airport is the nucleus for air travel in the Maritimes with daily flights between Halifax and major Canadian and eastern United States airports. There is also regular service with European cities.

In addition to the airport at Halifax, others are located at Yarmouth, Sydney and New Glasgow.

Although the only land access to the province is located in the Amherst-Tidnish area, connecting bus service is available from anywhere on the North American continent.

Bus tours, originating along the Atlantic coast of the United States, cover the scenic attractions in Nova Scotia and provide a carefree way to enjoy "Canada's Ocean Playground" during the summer months.

Independent passengers travelling to Nova Scotia by bus find a complete schedule of services within the province. In addition, many special tours originating in Halifax take passengers to some of the province's major tourist attractions and scenic spots.

Canadian National Railways and Canadian Pacific's Dominion Atlantic Railway have a complete service connecting Nova Scotia points with those in other parts of the country.

More people come to Nova Scotia by car than by any other means. This province's distance from eastern North American cities makes it easily accessible and an ideal vacation spot. Modern highways cover the province while the well-travelled by-ways lead to fascinating fishing villages, beaches, historic spots and scenic locations.

Mileages from the Nova Scotia border to various centres are: Albany, 798; Boston, 622; Hartford, 741; Philadelphia, 944; Providence, 667; Quebec City, 531; Toronto, 1,060.

How To Face A Crisis

("Of Many Things - By Ambrose Hills")

Someone, in talking about evangelist Billy Graham, doubted that he preached "a philosophy acceptable to our times". I read that criticism and it bothered me. We streamline our automobiles and change our furniture styles, but must philosophy come in a new model each year?

I don't think so. I find the philosophy of Emerson true today, and the Sermon on the Mount needs no new curlicues. It seems to me that if I were deeply troubled, I would not reach out, quickly, for the latest in philosophy. I would go back to the old maxims.

What better way to face a crisis than to remember the old injunction that sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof? Every time I bump into some of the hard facts of life, I go back to that old advice and try to live my life one day at a time, looking neither backward nor forward. I get out Sir William Osler and read him again, for that was the philosophy that guided his life.

Mankind has battled for so long — generation after generation — that virtually every crisis we ordinary men must face has been puzzled over and faced a thousand times by others. Some of the most gifted have written down, in detail, the attitude that helped them most. It seems to me that these attitudes are as valid now as they were when Caesar ruled, and when Christ walked among men.

Some planning for the future may be necessary and prudent, but a plan, if too formalized, has limiting effects. To some extent it closes the mind, and closes the door to alternatives that might in a flash make the plan obsolete.

For what it is worth, my advice to those in trouble is to go right back to the old philosophy. Live the day before you, trying to love your fellow man, knowing that we all face personal trials and tragedy. Plan in only the most general way for the days ahead, and grieve only in the most general way for the days behind. Live today the best way you know how — and that's plan enough for any man.

STARK - In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Clyde Stark who passed away May 24th, 1963. He little thought when leaving home He would no more return. That he in death so soon would sleep And leave us here to mourn. Sometimes its hard to understand Why some things have to be. In His wisdom God has planned Beyond our power to see. To know we never said goodbye Will always bring regret. But we who miss you daily. Are the one's who can't forget The sudden way you had to die - We will always remember and wonder why. With all our hearts we wish today We were all together in the same old way. Deep in our hearts his memory is kept. To love and to cherish and never forget. - Always remembered and sadly missed, wife Viola, children Patsy, Rodney, Gregory and Bonnie. 39:1c

STARK - In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Clyde Stark who passed away May 24th, 1963. He little thought when leaving home He would no more return. That he in death so soon would sleep And leave us here to mourn. Sometimes its hard to understand Why some things have to be. In His wisdom God has planned Beyond our power to see. To know we never said goodbye Will always bring regret. But we who miss you daily. Are the one's who can't forget The sudden way you had to die - We will always remember and wonder why. With all our hearts we wish today We were all together in the same old way. Deep in our hearts his memory is kept. To love and to cherish and never forget. - Always remembered and sadly missed, wife Viola, children Patsy, Rodney, Gregory and Bonnie. 39:1c

Titus — Turner

A pretty double ring wedding ceremony solemnized the marriage at Metz, France of Miss Dorothy Ann Turner, Mission City, B. C. and Donald Ruggles Titus, son of Mrs. Kathleen Titus, Weymouth, and the late Frank B. Titus, Westport. The bride was beautiful in a floor length dress of heavy dull white satin with a matching detachable train, and over jacket adorned with self buttons. Her headpiece was a four inch tiara of mother-of-pearl which held in place the three quarter length veil. Her bouquet was of red roses with a lace bow. Her only other adornment was a string of cultured pearls, a gift of the groom.

The bride had two attendants. The bridesmaid wore a deep blue cocktail length dress with matching headpiece. She carried a bouquet of deep pink carnations. Jill Craigie was flower girl and looked winsome in a light blue dress, matching headpiece and carrying a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mrs. Craigie wore a light beige suit with matching hat and pink carnation corsage.

After the church ceremony a reception was held for 75 guests at the Air Force Station where the groom is stationed. The hall was decorated for the occasion with white doves, pink streamers and pink and white carnations gracing the tables.

Dr. Callenius proposed the toast and then presented a gift of a German loaf of bread and a container of European salt symbolizing a happy and well fed home.

For a honeymoon trip the couple flew to Spain, Barcelona and Morocco.

Belliveau — Maillet

Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church at Saulnierville was the scene of a lovely spring wedding on May 2 at 10 a.m. when Rev. Thos. Castonguay solemnized the marriage of Marie Carol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Maillet of Meteghan Station to Alfred Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Belliveau of Weymouth.

The bride looked lovely in a floor length gown of white satin, faced with nylon lace and net. Her headress was a halo of aurora borealis stones and rhinestones and her bouquet was of gardenias and lily of the valley.

Barbara Ann Maillet of Meteghan Station, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, wore a dress of blue nylon sheer over rayon taffeta. Delores Thimot cousin of the groom was maid of honor and was also gowned in a dress of blue nylon sheer over rayon taffeta. Both wore white accessories and carried bouquets of white carnations.

Chester Maillet, brother of the bride supported the groom, and Leo Belliveau of Weymouth, cousin of the groom was best man.

The bride's mother wore a beige wood colored suit with white accessories and wore a corsage of white roses and lily-of-the-valley. The groom's mother was gowned in a blue dress, and mink stole, and wore blue accessories and also wore a corsage of white roses and lily-of-the-valley.

A reception was held in the parish hall and the toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Father Castonguay.

For travelling the bride wore a brown and beige suit, with beige accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses. They left on a wedding trip through Ontario, and will reside in Bowmanville, Ont.

There is a small boy in this house, who has yet to pass his third birthday, who is a bit of a local celebrity. Part of his fame, I suppose, is due to the fact that most small boys do not go around with their names, addresses, and telephone numbers printed in inch and a half high letters on the backs of their jackets. This one does.

Several weeks ago the small boy ran away. This is not particularly new. He has been known to find his way to Daddy's office; he has managed to trade his tricycle for the tractor-trike which belonged to a little boy two streets away; and he has a mad crush on a kind lady neighbor who gives him candy whenever he visits. The difference this time was that he got lost.

He says he went to school. He also claims to have seen his uncle and cousin who live about 120 miles away from here. This I discount as impossible. A train whistle figures in the garbled less-than-three-years-old explanation too, but there are no trains between here and the nearest school, so this leaves me somewhat confused.

I was ironing that morning.

In a pretense at being efficient, I iron in my bedroom, near the sewing machine, so I can stop and mend whenever I come across a garment that needs it.

Disasters happen when I iron. The aforementioned trip to Daddy's office occurred when I was ironing. I was ironing the time my son and daughter poured a nice, even coat of sink cleanser over the kitchen floor. If this has never happened to you, when it does, you will have to wash and wax the entire floor. Sink cleanser does not vacuum up. When you wipe it up with a damp sponge, you remove all the wax. I was ironing the morning my son fed the sausages we were supposed to have for dinner to the dog. I was ironing the day boy, girl, and dog emptied my silver drawer all over the house, and the dog ate the velvet lining from the case for the carving set.

As I may have mentioned, I was ironing the morning my wee one ran away. The school theory is probably correct, the nearest school being in the approximate area where he was found. Probably the school bus driver broke his heart in the morning. The school bus stops just in front of our house. Every morning he gathers his nursery rhyme books, Bible stories, and coloring books and rushes madly out, hoping that this will be the day when the school bus driver considers him big enough to go to school. He must have decided to go on his own if he got no help from the authorities.

Anyway, he wound up near the school. I still do not know who called the police about him, or how that person knew he was lost. A boy, who saw him then, but did not recognize him, has since told me he was not crying at all. Anyway, the policemen, whose headquarters are within sight of our house, collected him, and took him there, where they fed him jelly beans, and asked questions in English and French.

Small son, who recognizes a good thing when he sees it, refused to answer in either language. He knew the jelly beans would stop coming if he pointed out that a walk across the street would take him home. He earned a new name, 'Silent Sam, the yes and no man.'

When the light finally dawned on me that there had been no muddy-booted pilgrimages through the house for an hour or so, I began to worry, and went out to look for him. The comedy of errors which followed is worthy of a plot for some television family situation comedy. It included a friend who happened to see and recognize the son and heir, and a woman who chased me for a quarter of a mile shouting at me. I did not know her, so I presumed she was talking to someone else, and I steadfastly ignored her. Another lady called to say she had found an abandoned tricycle with our name on it, and the policeman brought the boy home, left him with the baby sitter, and started off to look for me.

We did, eventually, all get together. The strip of tape has worked wonders. He has not wandered since.

The other day I started out in the direction of the school for a walk, boy, girl, and dog in tow. "Oh boy," said Silent Sam, "I'm gonna get yost with Mom."

Obituaries

S. N. Small

Final tribute to Sydney N. Small, prominent Digby County businessman and head of the fish processing firm of S. N. Small Ltd. of East Ferry, was paid on the afternoon of May 8th at one of the most largely attended funeral services ever held in the Reformed Baptist Church at East Ferry. In attendance were the late Mr. Small's family and a large number of friends and associates from a wide area of the county and province.

Mr. Small, who was 66 years of age, died as a result of a car accident at Seabrook on the Digby Neck highway near Digby on the evening of May 5th.

At the funeral service, which was conducted by the Rev. Hollis Kimball, pastor of the church, Mrs. Wilfred Trask and Mrs. Bernard Denton of Little River rendered as a vocal duet, "The Old Rugged Cross," which was a favorite hymn of the late Mr. Small. Mr. Melbourne Outhouse of Tiverton also rendered as a vocal solo, "At The End of The Road". Special organist for the funeral service was Mrs. Lindsay Raymond of Little River.

Floral tributes at the funeral were many and beautiful, giving mute testimony to the high esteem in which the late Mr. Small was held by all who knew him. A Communion Table is also to be presented to the church at East Ferry in memory of Mr. Small by the many friends and associates in East Ferry. The table is to be dedicated on Father's Day.

Pall bearers at the funeral service were leading members of the business community of East Ferry, Franklyn Theriault, Carleton Harris, Newcombe Harris, Gordon Theriault, Newman Theriault and Frederick Horner.

Interment was in the family lot.

Obituaries

Guy Emery Thompson
Funeral service for Guy Emery Thompson who died at Westport was held at Westport on Tuesday. Members of the Westport IOOF Lodge assisted by Rev. MacLean conducted the service.

A retired fisherman, he is survived by his wife, the former Christine Morehouse of Westport; and a sister, Mrs. Cora Gower of Yarmouth.

He was born at Westport 74 years ago a son of the late John and Rebekah Ann Ellis Thompson.

Mrs. Grace Rita Valeria Warren

On Sunday, May 10, 1964, Mrs. Grace Rita V. Warren passed peacefully away at Sandy Cove, N.S. Born at Ashmore, N.S., in 1892 she was a daughter of George W. and Lalia (Brooks) Manzer.

For a number of years she, with her son, Gerald, resided in Toronto. After his death she resided with her son, Lawrence in Moncton.

In Lewisville, N.B., she was very active in the church organizations, being instrumental in bringing in the underprivileged children to the Baptist Sunday School. Through her efforts a small day school was started in the Highland View area which has grown to a seven room public school.

For the past year she had resided with her sister, Mrs. F. G. and Dr. Morehouse.

Always of a cheerful and loving nature she endeared herself to the hearts of many. She bore intense suffering with Christian fortitude and has left a beautiful memory.

Surviving are her three sons, Lawrence, Moncton; Carl Seven Islands, Quebec; and Dr. Eldon, Ottawa, who being in Italy on research was unable to get home; seven grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Three sisters, Gladys, Rev. Mrs. William Muir, Cranberry Isles, Maine; Veda, Mrs. Guy MacDonald, Saint John, N.B.; Inez, Mrs. (Dr.) F. G. Morehouse, Sandy Cove, N.S.; and several nieces, nephews and cousins. One son, Gerald, and two brothers, Fred and Lloyd, predeceased her.

The funeral service was held from the Sandy Cove Baptist Church on Wednesday, May 13 under the direction of the Pastor, Rev. Victor Mersereau assisted by Rev. H. L. Denton, D. D., of Little River. The pall bearers were her two sons, Lawrence and Carl, Dr. W. B. Morehouse and Mr. O. W.

Stephen Saulnier

Mr. Stephen Saulnier, business man, died suddenly at his home, in Mayflower, Digby Co., at the age of 55 years. He leaves to mourn his wife, the former Caroline Morehouse, (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Moulaison). One daughter, Mariline, 10 years old. A son, Moses, 18 months old. A son, drowned in Mayflower three years ago. Also four brothers and three sisters survive, Eugene and Charlie, of Mayflower; Joseph, Merville; Emile, Salmon River; Lucy (Mrs. Simon Saulnier), Mayflower; Mary, (Mrs. Ambrose Graham), Merville; and Agnes, Mrs. William McCully.

Mrs. Rosalie A. Comeau

Mrs. Rosalie Agnes Comeau died at her home in Gilbert Cove, Digby County, on Tuesday at the age of 91.

She was born in Salmon River, Digby County, a daughter of the late Timothy and Genevieve (Trahan) Melanson. Her husband, Will Comeau predeceased her about 18 years ago.

Surviving is one son, Frank of Gilbert Cove; two daughters, Catherine (Mrs. Lawrence Deveau), Glenwood Landing, N.Y., and Mrs. Irene West, Beacon, N.Y. Two sons

George and Edward predeceased her.

Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Mary Lawton, South Hamilton, Mass.; Mrs. Charles Deveau, Salmon River; and one brother, Charles Melanson, Salmon River.

The remains, rested at the Sweeney Funeral Home, Weymouth. Requiem mass was celebrated in St. Croix Roman Catholic Church, Plympton, with Rev. R. Deveau officiating. Interment in the church cemetery.

Young People Assist In Service

On Sunday evening at Heartz Memorial Church, Weymouth, the pastor was assisted in service of worship by several young people, members of the Sunday School and Church.

Miss Margaret Hanks, home from Acadia University was organist and Mr. Wayne Hlynn home from U.N.B. read the scripture. Miss Jane Hanks and Master Scott Proudfoot led in the prayers and Mr. Donald Payson in the Responsive Psalm. Miss Louise Powell read an interesting story "Making Things Right". Two young members of the Congregation Ainsley and Benson Bishop were charged with receiving the offering. Christian Education was the work of Rev. R. H. H. Barker, a former pastor of the Digby Neck, Weymouth Charge. This service in modified form was also used at Centreville and Sandy Cove Services where the pastor in his message also spoke of

"Some families from the Bible and what they have to teach". Many visitors were present at the various services and lovely spring flowers were in use to help make bright the pulpit platforms.

Red Cross Annual

P. V. Charlton, was re-elected President of the Weymouth Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society at the annual meeting held at the home of Mrs. Willis Mullen on Thursday evening, May 14. Reports presented showed that though attendance at business meetings had been small, many unnamed workers had the interests of the Society at heart giving generously of their time and energy to sewing, knitting and canvassing.

Blood Donor Chairman, F. I. Withers, advised that he was unable to report a wholehearted response to an appeal for more donors though a canvas had been done by advertising and personal solicitation. He commended those who had given blood especially mentioning the employees of Weymouth Motors who responded to each appeal and thanked the merchants of the village who so willingly gave window space for advertising for the Society.

The President thanked Mr. Withers for his efforts and expressed the regret of the Branch on his forthcoming departure from Weymouth.

W. E. Cosman, Campaign Chairman, reported a total of $568.38 raised in the 1964 Campaign. The Sickroom Loan Chairman reported many requests received for the use of Red Cross equipment. During the year, three families had been assisted following loss by fire; $186.14 had been spent on clothing and bedding had been forwarded from Halifax.

The Women's Work Chairmen, Mrs. R. Lewis and Mrs. W. Kinney, told of the wonderful contributions of sewing and knitting by the women of this area so that shipments made compared favourably with much larger branches. Shipments for the year had been publicized last month but already they have 2 large quilts, 2 crib quilts, 50 pairs of booties, children's and men's socks, 1 blanket, 1 knitted coat and 59 baby's shirts and nightgowns on hand.

Other officers are: Vice President, Earl Sabine, secretary treasurer, Mrs. C. Willis Mullen, campaign chairman, W. E. Cosman, disaster chairman, Ralph Cosman; home nursing and sickroom loan, Mrs. Dan Hankinson; women's work chairmen, Mrs. Russell Lewis and Mrs. Willard Kinney; Delegate to annual meeting, W. E. Cosman.

"Time For Juniors" At Weymouth

A capacity house turned out at Weymouth Consolidated School on Friday evening where the Kiwanis Club presented Jene Wood and "Time for Juniors". The stage was set, as in T.V., with the Junior on their benches, when Jene appeared, the "Ill Juniors" "Ill Jene" greeting came through as though fully rehearsed. A fine variety concert was presented, which included piano solos and duets, vocal solos and duets, the "Twisters", "The Twisters" and a choir. Little Diana DeLiberatore presented Miss Wood with a corsage prior to the intermission and at the close of the program a bouquet of red and white roses was presented by little Cecile LeBlanc after which her father, Mr. Bernard LeBlanc, president of the Kiwanis club thanked all those who helped and gave special thanks to Miss Jene Wood who so ably emceed the program. Miss Wood said she was glad to be here and the talent shown was quite outstanding. Mr. Basil Belliveau was convener for the program.

Following the "Time for Juniors" program, Miss Wood, Mr. Bill Stewart and Miss Geraldine Maloney were entertained by the Kiwanis and at the president's camp. Proceeds from the evening will be used by the Kiwanis Club for youth programmes in the area.

Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Taylor of Halifax were weekend visitors at the Goodwin Hotel.

The New Digby General Hospital

The time is rapidly approaching when we must consider the furnishings for the new hospital.

A display of hospital furniture will be shown in the building formerly occupied by Chan's Restaurant, commencing Friday, May 22, 1964, at 6 p.m. Members of the Hospital Board, Ladies Auxiliary, Nursing and Administrative Staff will be on hand to answer any questions and show you the furniture. You may wish to commemorate the memory of a loved one by donating funds to supply necessary furniture for the new hospital and your donations will be greatly appreciated by all concerned.

Our hospital campaign's objective was $125,000.00 and to date we have realized $47,000.00 in cash.

Your support is urgently needed by the area for which the hospital is being constructed and furnished to serve.

PRESBYTERY MEETS

Following the official opening the roll was called and a suggested agenda submitted by the secretary, Rev. Prescott Burrill which was adopted.

Roll call indicated all ministers serving charges were in attendance as well as Rev. H. S. Bird retired and living in the area and a good percentage of the lay representatives. Exception to the active ministers present was Rev. M. G. Butler of Annapolis Royal who has been undergoing treatment at Camp Hill. Sympathy and best wishes were extended to him and best wishes also went to Dr. T. W. Hodgson of Digby who has not been enjoying best of health.

Routine business occupied much of the morning session but an important decision was the submitting the name of Rev. Prescott Burrill as Ministerial Nominee and Dr. L. W. Stone as lay nominee to General Council which will be held this fall in Newfoundland. The above names will be among those voted on when Maritime Conference convenes in the first week of June at Sackville. Presbytery also submitted names of Dr. Elias Andrews for Moderator and Rev. J. D. N. MacDonald as President of Conference.

The continuing outreach work of the Bible Society was brought to the attention of Presbytery and those present were invited to make use of prepared bulletin material.

Captain Courtenay, long active in the work of the church who is 97 years of age was introduced as a welcome and interested visitor.

It was agreed that Executive represent Presbytery at a joint meeting on boundaries with representatives from Yarmouth and Lunenburg-Queens Presbyteries later this month.

Rev. R. H. Hughes extended an invitation to Presbyterians to attend opening of the new facilities and Church Hall extension at Digby and chairman agreed to represent Presbytery at this occasion. Rev. Mr. Hughes and Rev. Elmer Asaph were named to be representatives on settlement committee when conference meets.

Richard Borden Moran of Middleton was named as official representative to Tuxis Camp at Wagesegum this summer. Attention was drawn to study groups being conducted each Wednesday night at Middleton of New Curriculum Training under direction Rev. Messrs. Hicks and Thomas.

It was reported that Hallett Llewellyn, in training for ministry had again been appointed to the same field in Saskatchewan.

Pleasure of Presbytery was expressed at recent results showing a firm "no vote" in results of recent voting, re new liquor outlets.

Rev. R. H. Hughes reporting for his committee noted that we are losing from Presbytery two members in the persons of Rev. Fred Burrill who goes to from Berwick to the Halifax charge of Springfield and Mr. Fred I. Withers of Digby Neck-Weymouth who ends in June three years of service as Presbytery supply at that field.

Mr. Hughes and others spoke of the contribution of these two men to Presbytery and to the charges that they have been serving. Presbytery agreed to place Digby Neck-Weymouth on Presbytery Supply. It is understood that Berwick has already placed a call.

Rev. Mr. Asaph spoke briefly on Publications and also submitted his report as treasurer.

Mr. Withers as chairman of Finance committee and Extra Appeals Committee also submitted brief reports.

Nomination Committee report was submitted by Rev. Prescott Burrill and will be released later giving names of officers and Committees for the coming year.

W.M.S. Meet
The regular monthly meeting of the North Range - Barton W.M.S. was held on Friday evening, May 8 at the home of Mrs. Rice Kenny. In the absence of the president, Mrs. R. R. Winchester, who is ill at the parsonage, the vice president, Mrs. Allan Thomas, presided. Mrs. Florence Bacon conducted the devotional period, Mrs. H. Shortliffe read the scripture passage and Mrs. Kenny offered prayer.

The program was presented by Mrs. Kenny following the theme "Do in the Home". Mrs. H. Shortliffe presided at the piano. The Spiritual Life program was outlined by Mrs. Thomas. In June the group will meet with Mrs. George White.

During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her daughter, Laura Mae.

Graduates

Leo Joseph Belliveau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jovite Belliveau, Weymouth, who recently graduated from Nova Scotia Tech College, Halifax, with a degree of Mechanical Engineer, has accepted a position with General Motors, Oakville, Ontario.

GARDEN CLUBS

Things, they like us to be ourselves and want us to be friendly. More scenic routes should be developed for the benefit of tourists.

Last year the tourists in Nova Scotia doubled the population and tripled in P. E. I. Looking at the World's Fair in New York this year and in Montreal in 1967 the tourist traffic should be high in this area during those years. He suggested that a campaign for beautification should be launched and accommodating facilities for tourists should be an aim.

A quiz was conducted by R. S. Morton, of the Department of Agriculture, Truro, when Weymouth scored 13-11 over Meteghan River. Taking part in the Weymouth group were Mrs. J. Comeau, Mrs. C. F. Granville, Mrs. J. Shaw, Mrs. (Dr.) Melanson and Mrs. Helen Weaver. In the Meteghan River group were Mrs. E. P. LeBlanc, Mrs. Alphonse Comeau, Mrs. Adolphe Comeau and Mrs. Albert Melanson. Referees were Mr. Fred Withers and Mrs. Julius Comeau.

Following the quiz, Mrs. Stanton, of Hebron, gave a demonstration of Flower Arranging and Wallace Hodgson, Digby, on Gardening Containers.

A film, "Making the Most of No Y"acle," was shown depicting the various food ingredients needed by plants, where they are obtained and what happens when plants are deprived of the food.

Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Brooks, Ashmore, N. S., were feted on their golden wedding anniversary as relatives and friends from the community, as well as from New Tuskot, Plympton, Barton, Digby and Tiver-ton, gathered on May 11 at the Ashmore Hall to celebrate the occasion. The couple, who were married at the bride's home in Plympton, on May 11, 1914, by the Rev. A. H. MacLeod, have lived in Ashmore with the exception of about a year in the United States. Present at the gathering also were their bride attendants, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Kinney (nee Gladys MacDonald), Ashmore, and their pastor, Rev. C. R. Barkhouse, who spoke briefly.

A two tier anniversary cake, decorated in gold and white, centered the "bride's" table and floral decorations were of golden yellow daffodils and forsythia. Serving were Mrs. Sherman Prime, Mrs. Douglas Grimmer, Mrs. Stanley Brooks, Mrs. LeRoy Brooks, Mrs. Ervin Roma and Mrs. George Wagner.

Mr. Brooks, who will be 72 next month, is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Brooks, of Ashmore, and worked as a farmer, as well as being road foreman for many years. Mrs. Brooks, who was also celebrating her 69th birthday on the same day, is the former Hattie Milbury, of Plympton.

Both are active members of the Bethel United Baptist Church, Ashmore, where Mr. Brooks is senior deacon and also serves as treasurer.

Many lovely gifts and messages of congratulations were received by the couple, who have three children, Stanley, Ashmore; Helen (Mrs. Sherman Prime), Weymouth; and Florence (Mrs. Douglas Grimmer), Digby. They also have five grandchildren and two great grandchildren, all boys.

Youth Attacked and Beaten

Albert (Junior) Sulis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sulis, Smith's Cove, is a patient in Digby General Hospital after being attacked and beaten in Conway, late Saturday. The Digby detachment R.C.M.P. are investigating.

As far as can be learned, the youth, in his mid-twenties, had left a lunch and dance centre on the outskirts of town, and was attacked and severely beaten by several men who arrived in a car. Sulis is suffering a bruised and broken leg and multiple bruises around the face. It is understood the youth has no idea as to who his assailants might be.

CAR BURNS

A car owned by Hector Aitkin Hogg, Barker's Point, York County, N.B., caught fire and totally burned at Gilbert's Cove on Sunday. The mishap occurred near the newly-built piece of road in the village. It is understood that the fire started among the ignition wires under the dashboard of the car. No other vehicles were involved, and no one was injured.

ROBBER CHANGES SOCKS

There were several breaks and enters in the Weymouth area during the weekend, but after R. C. M. Police investigation it was found that little was missing.

A few groceries were taken from Hatt's Grocery Store, and there was an attempted break at Gaudet's Grocery. It is understood that at Weymouth Supplies Limited someone broke into the store, took a pair of socks from the counter then disappeared leaving his old socks in the store.

Rev. Father Visits Digby

The Rev. Father J. Edward O. Flaherty, S.J., Holy Cross Mission, Wilminkong, Manitoulin Island, Ontario, was a guest of his cousin, Mrs. H. G. Marshall, of the Salvia House, last week. He also visited other relatives and friends while here.

The Reverend Father is a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Ross, of Culloden, Digby Co., N. S.

Entertains For Princess

Mrs. Clayton Snow, King St., entertained twelve young ladies on Saturday morning at a coffee party at her home. The occasion was to honor Miss Yvonne Doherty, who was recently chosen to represent Digby at the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival, which begins tomorrow at Kentville.

The Festival ends with a tour to Digby on Monday and a Ball at Greenwood at night. The party arrives in Digby at 5 p.m.

Miss Bruhan Nurse In Digby

Graduates in Public Health Nursing from Dalhousie University have received their appointed positions throughout the province, becoming effective this month.

Director of Nursing for the Provincial Health Department, Miss Phyllis J. Lytle, announced the working locations of the recent staff members, among them being Mercedes Bruhan, Westville, N. S., to Digby.

The Public Health Nurse works largely in the homes and schools and in close connection with the family physician. Through her services every member of the family has an opportunity to promote his or her health.

The Public Health Nurse is also a health educator and a community worker. She is a direct link between the physician, the hospital and the home, and works with community agencies and voluntary groups to promote improved health of the community.

Miss Bruhan was a visitor in Digby on Monday.

Form Digby Area Film Council

Decision to form a Digby Area Film Council was made at a meeting of the representatives of twelve organizations in the Digby area, held recently, at Digby Regional High School.

Officers for the newly formed film council were elected at the meeting. President of the council is Victor Cardoza, Digby. Mrs. Elliott Doucette, of Marshalltown, was elected vice-president, with Mrs. L. F. Doherty, of Digby, as secretary-treasurer. Reginald Turnbull, of Digby, was elected film librarian.

It was decided the executive would meet and draft a set of operating by-laws for the council.

Work Completed At Point Prim

Some months ago an article appeared in The Courier concerning the work being done at Point Prim Light, Bay View.

The construction of the two homes for the lightkeeper and assistant, the new fog alarm, and light tower, have now been completed, and the light and alarm are in operation.

The former buildings at Point Prim have been demolished.

Graduate From Survey School

Three young men from Digby graduated last week from the Nova Scotia Survey School in Lawrencetown.

W. E. Murphy graduated in a Land Survey course and R. I. Hamilton and G. R. Holdsworth graduated in Photogrammetry.

Addressing the graduates were W. D. Mills, Halifax, director of vocational education for Nova Scotia, and Professor H. L. Cameron, of Acadia University.

Practically all the graduates have accepted positions, it is understood.

Goes To Yellowknife

Word was received by Arnold McCallum, of the Digby Teaching Staff, that he has been accepted as teacher of a high school in Yellowknife, N.W.T., for the year 1964-65. Mr. and Mrs. McCallum, Ross and Scott, will leave for Yellowknife in August.

Season's First Hole-in-one

Captain Ronald Lewis, of HMCS Cornwallis, captured the season's first hole-in-one at the Digby Pines golf course on Friday. Play took place on number 2 hole at a distance of 175 yards.

Playing with Captain Lewis was Captain Brissette, also of HMCS Cornwallis.

Married 55 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Hantford Marshall quietly spent their 55th anniversary at their home in Barton. Mr. Marshall has been in poor health for the last 2 years. He is 83 and Mrs. Marshall is 75.

They were married at Acadia by Rev. J. W. Baneroff at the Baptist Parsonage. It is now occupied by Mr. Hartley Balzer.

Changes have taken place since that time Mr. and Mrs. Marshall were married as they drove from South Range (where they resided until 16 years ago) with horse and buggy taking a half day to get to Digby and back.

They have one son, Arnold living near by. Their only daughter Evelyn, Mrs. Milton Larrabee, with whom they spent their 50th anniversary, passed away 4 years ago in Danvers, Mass.

Lions Hold Minstrel Show

A Digby Lions Club Minstrel Show, held Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at Digby Regional High School auditorium, featured local performers in various fields of talent.

Special numbers were done by Lilia Wong, Pat Wilson and Helen Daley, James Wade, Nancy Riley, the Dukeshire Sisters, James Amoro and Shirley Brittain.

Norman Wright conducted a male chorus of nineteen voices. Miss Margaret Black was pianist.

Special guests were the folk singing quartette from Annapolis Royal, "The Tartan Four", which sang several numbers.

Acting as End Men were A. McCallum, J. Brittain, J. Walker, J. Turnbull, E. Twobig and J. Nichols.

Hockey Champ In Monday's Tour

George Armstrong of the Toronto Maple Leafs will be a special guest of the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival, Dr. Donald Longley, festival president, has announced.

Captain of the Stanley Cup champions, Mr. Armstrong will arrive in Kentville May 30 and participate in Saturday, Sunday and Monday functions.

Although his duties will be confined to special appearances, he will speak to school children in the various towns visited by the "royal party" during Monday's valley tour. He is expected to return to Toronto June 2.

The 33-year-old native of Skead, Ont., began his NHL career with Toronto in 1949. He played with Pittsburgh, of the American Hockey League, during the 1950-52 seasons, and joined the Leafs again during his last year with Pittsburgh.

Local Winners In "Occupation Please"

The following were among 121 contestants who had one error in the "Occupation Please" contest, recently published in the Halifax Chronicle-Herald, and they will receive a cheque for $2.00.

HOLD MEETING

Digby General Hospital Ladies Auxiliary will hold their monthly meeting at Mrs. Ernest Richardson's cottage at Porter's Lake on Monday evening. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Perley Outhouse and Mrs. Daisy Ruggles.

Presides At Bowling Banquet

Arnold McCallum, left, presided at the Country Club bowling banquet held at the Digby Branch Canadian Legion Hall on Saturday, May 16. Mr. McCallum is president of the men's league. Next left to right are Mrs. V. G. Cardoza, Phillip Robertson, president of the club, V. G. Cardoza, guest speaker, Mrs. Harold Elliott, president of the ladies' league, and Mrs. McCallum.

Receives Trophy

Above is Mrs. Marilyn Stanton, captain of the Orbiters receiving from V. G. Cardoza a trophy for the 1st place in the playoffs for the Country Bowling Club. Mrs. Stanton had previously accepted a trophy for the 1st place in the ladies league. Presentations were made at a banquet held at the Legion Hall, Digby. Next to Mrs. Stanton is Mrs. Muriel Wilson and Miss Margaret Ryan. Others on the team were Mrs. Michael Hayden, Mrs. Robert Fabelle, Mrs. Bernard Bell and Mrs. Max Harlowe.

West Novas Plan Reunion

Plans for the 15th annual reunion of the West Nova Scotia Regimental Association, which is to be held in Digby over the Labor Day weekend, were discussed at a meeting of the association executive held at the Canadian Legion headquarters in Digby.

Denis LeBlanc, of Bellevue Cove, association president, presided over the session. Others in attendance included past president R. E. Perry, of Bridgetown; secretary Fred Marshall, of Bear River; and treasurer John Tibbets, also of Bear River. Other executive members present were Vernon Amberman, Annapolis Royal; Harold Durling, Bridgetown; and George Tibbets, of Smith's Cove. Thomas Cleveland, president of the Digby branch Canadian Legion, who will host the reunion, also attended the meeting.

It was decided the annual memorial service will be held at the Digby Band Stand on Sunday morning, September 6, with a march-past and salute at the Digby Cenotaph. The annual re-union business session will precede the memorial service which will be followed by the Regimental Association annual dinner. A dance and social evening will be held on Saturday, September 5.

An all-out effort will be made by the association executive to have as many of the association's more than 1,000 members attend. Among those expected to attend will be the regiment's first Colonel and now Honorary Colonel, Ven. Archdeacon G. W. Bullock. Invitations will also be extended to the present Commanding Officer and other officers of the West Nova Scotia Regiment.

ATTEND GRADUATION

Mr. and Mrs. George O'Neill and son, Tommy, motored to Halifax Wednesday 20th, to attend the graduating exercises at the Victoria General Hospital, where their daughter Evelyn, was among the graduates. Others attending with them were Miss O'Neill's two aunts, Mrs. Ethel Stark and Mrs. Delbert Forrest and cousins Mrs. George Soulsby and Miss Shirley Stark, R.N., of Halifax.

At Annual Inspection

Officers and men from many Annapolis Valley centres took part in the annual inspection of the West Nova Scotia Regiment at Camp Aldershot when Col. W. H.

Colling, commander of Nova Scotia-Prince Edward Island, Area was the inspecting officer.

Here Col. Colling inspects the ranks with Major Ray

Frank Ayer Digby Winner

It has been announced by the Canadian Mathematical Congress that Frank W. Ayer, of Digby Regional High School, was winner of $25.00 as County Prize in the 5th annual mathematical contest held in Nova Scotia.

The purpose of the contest, held on May 1, was to arouse interest in mathematics, recognize outstanding students and encourage them to pursue further study. Scholarships and bursaries will be awarded later on the basis of applications from high ranking competitors. This year 315 students, representing 43 schools, took part in the contest.

U.C.W. Plans Activities

Several activities were planned by the Grace U.C.W., presided over by the president, Mrs. C. C. MacInnes, on Tuesday evening. Plans were made to have a church supper on June 26, to attend the dedication of the new church hall on June 27 and supply refreshments. Plans were also made to have a cleaning bee at the kitchen in the hall. On June 14th the U.C.W. members will attend a Crusade meeting at the United Baptist Church, Smith's Cove. On June 7 the U.C.W. will have charge of the regular church service in the absence of Rev. R. H. Hughes, who will be attending the Maritime Conference United Church of Canada in Sackville, N. B.

William Troupe and Milton Atkinson attended the meeting on Tuesday on behalf of the Board of Stewards of the past oral charge. The men extended thanks for financial assistance received from the women's organizations in the past and asked them to urge other women of the church in its support.

Mrs. J. M. Wallis gave a report on the Annapolis Presbyterian executive meeting held in Bridgetown at the home of Mrs. Harold Willett. Mrs. Wallis reported that the Presbyterian made plans to rent a cottage at Berwick Camp in July and August to be used by the women who attended the School for United Church Women. She also spoke of the various secretaries' conferences and rallies planned for the summer and early fall and of the proposed visits to the local U.C.W.'s. by the vice-presidents.

The meeting on Tuesday was opened with worship by Mrs. Milton Atkinson, assisted by Mrs. Gordon Arnold. Thanks was extended by Mrs. Gladys Budrow on behalf of the United Baptist CGIT to the women who had catered to their combined Rally at Mrs. R. H. Hughes for those who helped with the United Church CGIT Mother and Daughter banquet. Thank was also extended for a parcel of clothing sent to Brunswick St. church in Halifax.

Considerable crib work has already been prepared at Westport, where destruction had been occasioned by storm during last winter.

A good amount of sand seal is being laid this year and it is hoped, Mr. Powell said, that in addition to the roads treated last year some new roads will be so treated. Other work is under consideration.

Secondary roads are also in the process of reconstruction, including two miles on the Sissiboo Road from Bear River to Morganville Road.

Explorers Entertain Mothers

On Wednesday afternoon of last week, the Trillium Explorer Group of Grace United Church met in the Church Hall for their closing expedition for the summer. They had as their invited guests, Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Hughes, Mrs. Boodoosingh and the Explorer Mothers.

The Chief Explorer, Coleen Cameron, presided over the expedition using the Explorer opening followed by the call to worship. The Theme of the worship was "What makes a Home" Scriptures pertaining to the home were read by Lynn Cornwall, Beth MacInnes, Cheryl VanTassel, Heather Halliday, Ruth Keen and Susan Turnbull. Prayers for the Family and the Home were given by Lynn Cornwall and Heather Halliday. A poem "Thoughts at Mealtime" read by Susan Turnbull. The Story was read by Beth MacInnes and meditation was given by their leader, Mrs. B. M. Denton. The expedition closed with the closing ceremony, after which refreshments were served to the guests by the Explorers.

Trinity evening guild will be held at the home of Mrs. R. B. Lent on Tuesday evening.

Glenn Dunn Wins Digby Road-E-O

Glenn Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Dunn, of Digby, winner of the Teenage Safe Driving Road-e-o held last Saturday in Digby, will travel to Summerside to participate in the Atlantic Road-e-o finals, being held this Saturday.

Glenn was chosen from among twelve contestants who entered the Digby event. Judges for the contest were members of the Digby R.C.M. Police force and the Lions' Club. Police Chief W. F. Dunn was chairman of the Digby Road-e-o which was sponsored by Imperial Oil Ltd. and the Lions Club. Jimmie Dunn, last year's winner, was co-chairman.

Twenty-eight top young drivers from the Atlantic Provinces will gather in Summerside on Saturday for the ninth annual Regional Teenage Safe-Driving Championship awards dinner, which will wind up an all day contest for the Imperial Oil's Gold, Silver and Bronze trophies.

The teenagers will go through written, skill-driving and in-traffic tests to pick the three best, and the top two will receive an expense paid trip to the National Championship in Ontario next month.

Leslie Anderson, the only girl entry in the Digby event, came in fourth place. She will also travel to Summerside where a selection for "Safe Driving Road-e-o Queen" will be held.

Trunk Highway Improvements

Work in preparation of repaving the trunk highway from Annapolis Royal to Digby has begun as announced by R. Baden Powell, M.L.A. for the Electoral District of Digby. In preparation for the repaving, culverts are being replaced along the entire stretch of road.

The repaving extends on the Digby end to the CPR underpass and includes the area known as the Flatiron, the triangle from Highway No. 1 to Digby town and back again to Highway 1.

Also being paved is the half mile of road, incorporating the bridge area across Kinney Brook, between Ashmore and Gilbert Cove.

Secondary roads are also in the process of reconstruction, including two miles on the Sissiboo Road from Bear River to Morganville Road.

Considerable crib work has already been prepared at Westport, where destruction had been occasioned by storm during last winter.

A good amount of sand seal is being laid this year and it is hoped, Mr. Powell said, that in addition to the roads treated last year some new roads will be so treated. Other work is under consideration.

Margaret Black Addresses CGIT

One of the finest talks especially prepared for young people was given by Miss Margaret Black when she addressed the Grace United CGIT Mother and Daughter banquet at the church hall on Monday night. Miss Black, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. G. Black and a student at Mount Allison University, Sackville, N. B., entitled her talk "Life At College".

Miss Black said that while Mr. A. is a United Church College there are students from practically every faith - Roman Catholic, Anglican, Presbyterian, Moslem, Jewish, etc., attending and there are students from practically all countries - U.S.A., Africa, Japan, India, Canada, etc. She had found this very enlightening, she said, and had learned much from their varied customs. Among the students was a Crown Prince from an African tribe and an Indian girl who wears her native sari. All seemed to get along happily together and their presence provided a much broadened education.

In a college dormitory where you contact so many people of similar ages but of varied dispositions and races, you learn both patience and perseverance, the speaker said. It is a place to make most lasting friendships.

Miss Black gave an inkling into the food basket, the co-ed life, the different aspects of study compared to high school days, college rules and the social events and atmosphere enjoyed.

It is at college, Miss Black said, where a good background from family and church comes in handy. It is here where a student must remember to follow his fine upbringing and put his moral code to practice. She reminded the CGIT girls of their special training in (Please turn to page 10)

About This and That

Bright Spots All Over Town

Bright spots are appearing all over town these days. By the time the tourists arrive the town should be somewhat more attractive than it has been to us during the winter.

Lights at the Pines Hotel will soon begin to burn brightly announcing that their summer season has started. Smith's Drug Store is taking on a new look, a building is going up to close the awful void where the old post office used to be, we have the new Metropolitan store and the new IGA, which continue to be attractive, as well as some of the older stores which were renovated last year. A few more places near the centre of town still add nothing in beauty, but since one has recently changed hands we look for a brighter appearance there soon.

One building which we think has really been the most transformed in appearance is the Marla Motel. Formerly the Hotel Champlain. We think the name is rather attractive in itself although we have heard the remark "too bad, there were three hundred years of history behind that name Champlain." Oh well, that is rather here nor there, now but just a thought when choosing names for hotels and other establishments. Marla has a family connection, we understand, and sounds rather intriguing, don't you think?

But to get back to the appearance of the motel. Have you been down to see it? We were attracted one night recently by the array of lights and drove down to the motel. What we saw was pleasing indeed. It looks like a real smart city hotel with the amber lighting on the rusty red exterior and white trimmings. That end of town has definitely taken on a new look and we are sure the brilliance cannot help but attract people not only to Marla, on Montague Row, but to the town in general. We were greatly impressed.

Of course, we also had the privilege of going through the new units which have been built. But, we understand, there will be more to hear about this before the end of June so we'll wait to tell you more then. In the meantime it would be worthwhile to take a walk or ride around Marla Motel and see the transformation. Should you go in to visit, please do not expect to see the office or any of the interior as the former "Hotel Champlain". You really won't know where you are.

Drop The Flag Nonsense

What a bit of nonsense this Canadian flag issue has turned out to be! How about dropping it for something which is more important to the well-being of Canadian people?

After all, what matters the flag? It isn't the flag itself but what the flag stands for which really matters. It is the pride, loyalty and affection which we feel for the country which makes us proud of the flag, not the pride of the flag which makes us proud of the country. Now, tell us, how can anyone feel a pride for a country which goes into such a "fizzy" over choosing a flag. Let's cool off and some day we can intelligently choose the flag the people want and be really proud of it. We are losing our pride in both our country and flag because of dissension in choosing the very thing which should unite us.

One lesson we should learn from the issue, however. Politicians should be careful not to promise things at election time which they feel obligated to carry out later whether the people want it or not. That doesn't go only for the flag issue, but think of the burden of taxes we bear because somebody had to make good an election promise whether it was a good thing for the people or not.

Actually, after all this controversy, the flag issue will likely be settled only by an election. We don't need one of those at the present time. So why not turn off the steam, simmer down and wait another day. We've lived so far. Why hurry the issue? A flag, whichever one, won't provide any of the real necessities of life.

We can be proud of the flag only, as we are proud of Canada first. The most important asset Canada can have is its people living in peace and harmony with one another in a reasonably prosperous country. Let's not rush things and leave a lot of disgruntled people. If we can't agree on a flag now, let's shelve the whole thing for a later date. Maybe we'll all have grown up in thinking on the matter by that time — politicians and all.

Apple Blossom Party Here

On Monday, at approximately five o'clock in the afternoon, the royal party from the Apple Blossom Festival will end its valley tour in Digby.

The tour is a long and tedious journey from early in the morning until late in the afternoon. Suppose we remember that this year, and give them a really royal welcome when they arrive here. There have been years when it must have seemed to the party that the effort was not worth while to come to Digby for such a handful of people. Besides, how do you suppose our own princess feels to arrive in Digby only to get a "let down" from the enthusiastic crowds which greeted the party at other towns along the way.

For the sake of the entire party and for the sake of our own princess, Miss Yvonne Doiron, let's remember Monday, June 1st, at five o'clock. We are promised that the P.A. system will be in working order so that the audience will be able to hear all that is said this year. Though the princess and float has been sponsored by the goodness of the Digby Lions Club, the princess really represents the town of Digby as the "other princesses" represent their town. This effort on the part of the Lions and the princess, Miss Doiron, is really good tourist publicity for Digby. We should show our appreciation by being on hand at the Band Stand in Digby on Monday, 5 p.m. See you there.

Digby Music Festival

(Guest Editorial by Bessie Hankinson)

The Digby Music Festival is over but the pleasant memories linger.

For several reasons the pleasant memories linger, especially with those on the committee who are responsible to see the Festivals to a successful conclusion each year. Firstly, there was an increase of entries over the two previous years and according to financial receipts there were 400 more participants this year than in 1963. One of the disappointing aspects, however, was that no participants came from the Islands. In former years the Islands had produced some of the most talented and enjoyable performances. It is hoped that interest may again be revived from the Islands.

The adjudicator, H. Ellis, was especially pleased, it is understood, by the high calibre of sight readers. This is most encouraging when it is realized that this basic knowledge in music is to most students a difficult chore. Mr. Ellis also was pleased with the excellent performance of school chorus numbers. He especially spoke highly of the capable instruction given the students during the school year.

Lastly, the committee have pleasant memories of the Festival as they recall that the attendance of parents and interested spectators had increased this year. This feature not only lent encouragement to the committee but definitely was a boost to the performers. Think how the performers must feel after working, training, practising all year — and only to sing, or play, to an empty hall. People who appreciate the value of the Festival to the competitors, and to the town and county generally, and who turn out to make their interest evident are, indeed, lending support to a worthwhile effort in Digby County.

Marriage

Greenland — Robbins

St. Nicholas Chapel at H.M. C.S. Stadacona, Halifax was the scene of a small but pretty nuptial wedding on Friday, May 15 at 10 o'clock when Carol Ford, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chesley Robbins of Smith's Cove became the bride of William Malcolm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Greenland, Bay Roberts, Conception Bay, Newfoundland.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Chaplain Peglas (P).

The bride given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a Ballerina length gown of Peau de Soie over satin with a shoulder length veil held in place by a pearl tiara. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and lily of the valley with white streamers.

Miss Sylvia Walker was bridesmaid, her gown was pink lace over satin with white satin headpiece. Her bouquet was a nosegay of white mums and pink carnations with white streamers.

The best man was Iain Small, a naval friend of the groom. Usher was Rexford Robbins, brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of beige with lace bodice and chiffon skirt over taffeta with other accessories and corsage of red roses. Miss Joan Porter, cousin of the bride had charge of the guest book.

A reception was held at Miss Robbins apartment where a buffet luncheon was served. The brides table was tastefully decorated with a wedding cake. The toast to the bride was proposed by Iain Small and responded to by the groom.

For going away the bride chose a suit of double knit navy blue with white accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Greenland will reside in Halifax. The groom will go to sea on May 22 for two months.

Titus — Kennedy

The United Baptist Church at Westport, N.S. was the scene of a lovely spring wedding on Saturday, May 9th, when Viola Gail, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Kennedy Jr., was united in marriage to Gary Everett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edginton Titus, Westport, N.S.

all of Westport. Officiating at the ceremony was Rev. W. Ainsworth.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Daniel. She was gowning in a floor length dress of nylon chiffon over taffeta with applique of atonement lace on the bateau neckline, bodice and skirt. The skirt fell from a single rose in back and her shoulder length veil fell from a single rose.

The matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Linden Thurbur wearing a gown of blue crystal chrysomus taffeta with bell shaped skirt, elbow length sleeves and bateau neckline, headpiece was a single rose with matching veiling and she carried a nosegay of shasta daisies and blue carnations.

Junior bridesmaids were sisters Penny Rosaling and Donna, gowning in matching dresses of pink nylon organza with cummerbund waist centered by a rose. They carried bouquets of pink carnations and white mums. Their headpieces consisted of several small roses.

The groom was attended by his brother Clyde and the ushers were Peter Titus, brother of the groom and Leyland Lent, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Richard Welch played the nuptial music, selections were "The Lord's Prayer", "O Perfect Love" and "Saint John's Air".

The mother of the bride was attired in a pink satin brocade ensemble, a length coat over a sheath dress with matching accessories and a white hat. Her corsage was pink and white carnations.

The mother of the groom wore a blue jacket dress of brocade with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church Vestry. The toast to the bride was proposed by the Rev. W. A. Armsworthy and responded to by the groom. Mrs. Loran Swift, aunt of the bride and Mrs. Harding old Swift, aunt of the groom, poured with Mrs. C. B. Bowler and Mrs. Holland Titus replenishing. The bridal party was served by Mrs. Earl Webster, Mrs. Albert Bailey, Miss Janet Peters and Miss Susan Webber.

The brides cake was cut in the traditional manner, being served by the bride while the groom served the groom's cake.

The happy couple left for a honeymoon trip to the New England States. For travelling the bride wore a pastel blue boucle suit with beige accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

On their return they will reside in Bedford, N.S. where the groom is on the staff of The Bank of Nova Scotia and the bride is employed with Rowlings Ltd., Halifax.

McBride — Barrett

St. Matthews Anglican Church, Deep Brook, was the scene of a pretty spring wedding on Saturday afternoon, May 16, when Rev. W. H. Logan united in holy matrimony, Marguerite Phyllis, only daughter of P2SW and Mrs. Francis George Barrett, Deep Brook, with John Leander McBride, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McBride of Dartmouth. The double ring ceremony was used.

The bride given in marriage by her father, was a picture of loveliness in white satin street length gown, brocade top, wearing fingertip veil of net held in place by a tiera of seeded pearls and carrying an arm bouquet of red and white roses. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls.

Miss Mary Anne Yarecey of Dartmouth, bridesmaid, looked charming in aqua green street length gown of net skirt and white brocade top, with matching headpiece of green net and accessories of white. She carries a bouquet of yellow mums.

Douglas McBride, brother of the groom, was groomsmen.

The church was decorated with baskets of forsythia and spring flowers for the occasion. Nuptial music was rendered by the church organist.

The brides mother chose a two piece ice blue satin brocade with white accessories and corsage of pink roses.

The groom's mother chose a beige dress of brocade satin with brown accessories and corsage of yellow roses.

Following the ceremony a reception for about 50 guests was held at the Parish Hall. (Members of the Neighbourly Club catered). The brides table was beautifully decorated with a three tier wedding cake. There were vases of jonquils and white candles in silver holders.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. W. H. Logan and responded to by the groom.

Following a motor trip the couple will take up residence in Dartmouth where the bride is a member of the office staff at Stadacona and the groom holds a position with the Nova Scotia Light and Power Co.

Several relatives of the groom from Dartmouth were among the guests.

Moore — Doiron

St. Pius X Church, Calgary, Alberta, was the scene of a pretty spring wedding when Louise Marie Doiron, eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Doiron, Digby, N.S. became the bride of Marlin Lloyd Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Moore of Grande Prairie, Alberta. Rev. Father H. Bastigal performed the double ring ceremony.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Penthouse of the Palliser Hotel. Mr. Stuart Campbell of Edmonton and cousin of the bride

Centreville

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Carriere, Halifax, and Mrs. Stanley Porter of U.S.A. spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. George Thibodeau.

Mrs. Waters, Comeau, and Mrs. Mildred MacLean of Rossway were recent visitors of Mrs. Leonard Hubley.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Dakin and Dominic Melanson of Waterford were recent visitors of Mrs. Guy Marshall, Barton.

Brotherhood met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Peters at Gulliver's Cove last Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Marshall and daughter of Barton and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lombard and family were guests on Mother's Day with Mr. and Mrs. Harley Dakin.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Theriault of Kingston were visitors last week of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Graham.

Mrs. Harry McCormack of proposed the toast. Following a wedding trip to Manitoba, Mr. and Mrs. Moore will reside in Calgary.

Mrs. M. Benner was organist and Stanton Davis was the soloist.

The bride, wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie with chapel train. Her four tiered shoulder length veil of silk illusion was held in place by a coronet of pearl de soie and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white garden and hyacinth, intertwined with ivory.

Miss Yvonne Doiron, sister of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a pale green gown with matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of yellow roses with white hyacinth.

Mr. David Carlisle of Edmonton was the best man. The ushers were Gerald Berkhold of Edmonton and Donald Repka of Calgary.

Mother Won't Let Her Even Talk To Boys

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I am 15 years old and there are boys who want to talk to me and who want me to be their 'steady,' but my mother says 'NO!' She won't even let me talk to a boy. The other day, I was talking to a boy in front of the house and she comes out and tells me to get right into the house. It embarrasses me. I don't know whether the boy will speak to me again or not. He didn't even say 'good-bye.' I am frequently asked to go to the show with girlfriends and their dates, but I always have to refuse since my mother won't even let me talk to a boy. I feel I should learn how to conduct myself and how to carry on a conversation with boys without waiting until I am seventeen or eighteen years old. By then, I won't even know what to say."

parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton MacNeill over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tibert spent last weekend at Wolfville.

Linda Finigan spent the long weekend at Kentville with friends.

Judith Morehouse and Ray Belliveau, Halifax are guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allison Morehouse, Sharon Prime, Kentville, spent the long weekend with her mother, Mrs. Gene Tibert and Mr. Tibert.

Mrs. Paul Minc entertained a number of little folk on Monday afternoon, the occasion being her son, Terry's 4th birthday.

Mrs. Olive Tibert has returned home after spending the winter months at Smith's Cove.

Keith Manzer, spent the weekend at Wolfville with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Manzer.

Clair Ruggles and brother Mark of Tiverton, spent the long weekend with their aunts Mrs. Roy Leeman and Mrs. Ernest Powell.

Mr. George Young is visiting with his brother, Dr. W. H. Young and Mrs. Young of Kentville.

Bonnie Warner, Digby spent the weekend with her cousin Debra Thurber.

Mrs. Wm. Titus entertained at a birthday party on Tuesday afternoon for her daughter Wanda who was 5 years

OUR REPLY: You will, by the time you are seventeen, know what to say to boys. Perhaps the reason your mother is so strict, is to be found in the opening sentence of your letter. You aren't even dating yet, and still some boys have asked you to go steady.

Because you are young, you may feel that parents who love their children give them more "freedom," let them date and go steady at an early age. As you grow older, you will realize that your mother is not so "strict" as she appears and that she is more conscious of her responsibility as a parent than she is concerned with the fact that other girls your age are having dates and going steady. Your mother is interested in you, in what is right for you and for your future welfare.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, please write to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUB-URBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORD, N.Y.

Manson Speaks On Tourist Industry

A major development in the tourist industry in Nova Scotia is that Nova Scotians themselves have a growing awareness of the great potential of the industry. Trade and Industry Minister E. A. Manson said recently.

Mr. Manson made the comment during a speech to the annual meeting of the Tourist Association of Nova Scotia.

In reiterating a forecast that by 1970 Nova Scotia would have an estimated 1,000,000 tourists spending some $100,000,000 annually, he said there must be millions of dollars investment in accommodation and other facilities to provide for such an influx.

Other requirements include: Better informed people to point out the attractions to keep visitors in the province for a longer period; an extended tourist season with some concession to tourists who come before or after the July-August period.

Mr. Manson said the rapid growth of tourism in Nova Scotia is reflected in the amount being spent on promotion as compared with five years ago.

"The estimates for the Nova Scotia Tourist and Information Bureau for the fiscal year 1958-59 were for an expenditure of $475,845. The estimates for the current fiscal year, 1964-65, for the Nova Scotia Travel Bureau and the Nova Scotia Information Service combined, are for $1,240,160, nearly three times as much."

Commenting on the possibility of attracting visitors from Europe, Mr. Manson said exploratory work is underway to determine whether Canada can anticipate that these areas hold a potential for our country's tourist industry.

Another ferry service between the province and New England, to complement the one provided by the MV Blue-nose, is justified economically and would be an added incentive for visitors to the province from northeastern United States.

Mr. Manson urged Nova Scotians to visit and learn more about their own province, not only for their own benefit, but to assist them in making the visitor's stay more interesting, by being able to recount incidents from Nova Scotia's history.

"If Hugh MacLennan, Thomas Raddall, Will Bird and our other noted authors consider our history is sufficiently interesting to write books about it, surely it is of interest to Nova Scotians generally," he said.

Mr. Manson pointed out that heavy expenditures of other governmental departments had a direct or indirect bearing on the success of the tourist industry.

In addition to providing a modern highway system, the Department of Highways is distributing 200,000 litter boxes to hotels, motels, service stations and tourist bureaus to prevent unsightly litter from accumulating along the roadside.

The Department of Lands and Forests was providing provincial parks to accommodate both Nova Scotians and visitors.

Can't They Be Stopped?

Guest Editorial

Numerous people have asked the correspondents to make some comment on the thefts and break-ins in Weymouth and vicinity during the past year or so. A list such as follows, has been given to us - which we pass on - there may be others that we do not have. In any case, the feeling is that its time something was done about it. Beginning in Weymouth North, places broken into were Mrs. McKenzie's, Mrs. Blanchard Grant; the store of Mrs. Ellsworth Doty (twice); Mrs. A. E. Ferguson's (twice this winter); St. Peter's Rectory; the Post office; Consumer's Market (twice); Weymouth Supplies; Capt. Granville (twice); Hatt's; Weymouth Motors Ltd. and Gaudet's Grocery Store. The Baptist Parsonage at which time the parson's car was taken and Jones' Bottling Co.

None of the breaks were great losses. The cars were eventually found. No large amounts of money were taken - petty thefts - annoying and in their own way, almost terrifying. One hardly dares go out to visit of an evening any more - locked doors don't count. Can't this be stopped before real damage is done?

Weymouth Brownies Visit Digby

The Brownies of the 2nd Weymouth Pack with their leader, Mrs. Albert Jones, journeyed to Digby Saturday, May 23rd, by train. After leaving the train they were accompanied to the Princess of Acadia by Mrs. Robert Morgan, leader of the Digby Brownies and a few of her Brownies and three guides, and were conducted about the boat by a member of the crew. Leaving the boat they went to the Fire Station, where a member of firemen showed them equipment used in fire fighting. The Brownies, then visited Miss Louise Daley, a bird fancier. They saw a number of birds in a cage and were thrilled to have seen a Baltimore Oriole in her yard. They were to go in the Dairy, but time wouldn't allow.

The Brownies stopped at the home of District Commissioner, Mrs. W. L. Carson for a rest, after which they went to the Scotia Restaurant for eats and returned home by car.

The Weymouth Brownies spent a very enjoyable afternoon and as one Brownie said, "I wish we could do it all over again."

Pte. Glendon Cromwell of Camp Gagetown spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cromwell. Guests at the same house for the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Campbell of Pictou, N. S. Mrs. Campbell has been a penpal of Mrs. Cromwell for the past 8 years.

VIRGINIA EAST

Mrs. Earle Wright and boys visited with Mrs. Chester Potter of Deep Brook on Wednesday.

W.M.S. Meets

The W.M.S. held their monthly meeting in the vestry of the church on Wednesday evening, May 13.

The devotional was under the direction of Wilma Prime and Anita Buckman with "Faith" as their theme.

Miss Janet Sollows gave an interesting account of her two weeks study at Maritime Christian College at Charlottetown.

A letter was read from Miss Heather Matheson, a missionary in Jamaica. Heather, a graduate of M. C. C. is teaching in a Christian Boy's Home and finds the work there very rewarding.

Proposed Expressway Halifax - Montreal

Shown above is a proposed expressway, a direct and straight line route from Halifax to Montreal. The proposal, originating with the tourist committee of the Annapolis Royal Board of Trade, was endorsed by the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade at their semi-annual meeting held in the Digby branch Canadian Legion Hall recently.

The plan as noted would include a route from Halifax to probably Deep Brook, Annapolis County, thence by water to the State of Maine and directly through Maine and the Province of Quebec to Montreal. A causeway and lock system was proposed for the Deep Brook or Annapolis Basin Terminal area and the ferry would be one which would transport heavy vehicles such as automobile trailer and truck transports.

The resolution passed by the A.V.A.B.T. has been sent to the Maritime Boards of Trade for support at their annual meeting being held this week in Charlottetown. C. E. Daniels, of Annapolis Royal, who was spokesman for the resolution and who has personally spent many hours on the proposal, had already presented the proposed project with information and diagram to various levels of government both in Canada and the United States.

ADDRESSES CGIT

In closing the speaker quoted from John Henry Newman

"A university training is the great ordinary means to a great but ordinary end; it aims at raising the intellectual tone of society, at cultivating the public mind, at purifying the national taste. It is the education which gives a man a clear conscious view of his own opinions and judgments, a truth in developing them, an eloquence in expressing them and a force in urging them... has a gift which serves him in public and supports him in retirement.

Miss Black was thanked by Mrs. R. H. Hughes, CGIT leader.

Presiding over the banquet was Miss Karen Jayne, president of the CGIT.

Toasts were proposed to Her Majesty, the Queen; to the mothers by Miss Connie Adams and responded to by her mother, Mrs. Vaughn Adams. Miss Deirdre Morrell proposed the toast to the Church, with Rev. Mr. Hughes responding. He said it is not easy to love a God we cannot see but we have the Bible from which to learn about God and we have His picture revealed in the person of Jesus Christ.

Those who expressed appreciation to the CGIT and leaders were Mrs. J. M. Wallis; Mrs. Bryson Denton, Explorer leader; Mrs. Clyne Boosingsh and Mrs. Elton Arnold, organist for the CGIT choir.

An interesting feature of the evening was the graduation of Misses Colene Cameron and Elizabeth McInnis from Explorers to CGIT. The graduation ceremony was conducted by Rev. Mr. Hughes, assisted by Miss Janet Hawkins. Mrs. Denton presented pins and gifts.

Miss Jayne presented Miss Edith Evenden with a going-away gift. Miss Evenden, Digby V.O.N., was assistant leader of the CGIT. Best wishes were extended by Miss Jayne. Mrs. Hughes and Mr. Hughes, who complimented her on her work as a nurse as well as CGIT. He quoted one of her patients as saying "She goes the 2nd mile".

An entertaining program was provided by the CGIT girls. Piano duets were played by Misses Deirdre Morrell and Carol Kaye and by Misses Karen and Nancy Jayne. Miss Patricia Morgan read a poem on Mothers and a skit was presented by Misses Evenden, Mary Hawkins, Marion Turnbull, Debbie Wilson, Connie Adams and Deirdre Morrell.

Miss Karen Jayne thanked those who assisted with the banquet.

Selected by the Canadian Teachers Federation and its affiliate, the Nova Scotia Teachers Union, Mr. Hamilton will tour elementary and secondary schools in England under sponsorship of the Commonwealth Institute of London, Eng. Also making the tour will be F. O. Bowker, a Vancouver school teacher.

The 34-year-old Pugwash principal will tell the students in England mainly about Canadian history and geography. With a master's degree in history from Acadia University, where he taught Canadian history to teachers during summer sessions, Mr. Hamilton is qualified for the overseas post.

Mr. Hamilton is an executive committee member of the Nova Scotia Headmasters Association, a member of the guidance advisory committee of the provincial department of education, a former president of the Maritime Guidance Association, and a member of the Canadian Historical Association and the Nova Scotia Historical Association.

He plans to leave Halifax on August 23 to begin lecturing in England early in September. His assignment with the Commonwealth Institute continues through July 1965. His wife, the former Marian Banks, of Bridgetown, will accompany him.

Quiet Day For Women

A "Quiet Day for Women", conducted by Rev. Father B. C. Stroppe, S.Th., A.C.C., Rector of Emmanuel Church, Spryfield, and R.D. of Halifax, was held on Thursday, May 21, by the Parish of Clements, at Deep Brook.

An invitation had been extended to the Deanery.

The day, beautiful with sunshine, blossoms and breeze, began with 8 a.m. Holy Eucharist at St. Matthew's Church. This was followed by breakfast at the Parish Hall, across the way, served by members of St. Matthew's Guild. Litany at 12 noon.

Lunch was served at 1 p.m., during which time Rev. Stroppe read excerpts from books pertaining to religious living. At 4 p.m., "Evensong" at St. Matthew's Church brought the quiet day to a close.

Between meals and church services the time was spent in meditation and silent reading by approximately 25 women attending from Smith's Cove, Clementsport, Bridgetown, Weymouth and Deep Brook.

This venture was something new in the area, a day set aside for women to get away from the chaos and turmoil of present day living and worldly things, not alone, but in the silent companionship of fellow Christians; a day set aside to relax mentally and physically, to soothe the mind by spiritual reading and thought and in personal communion with God.

Letter to the Editor

May 25, 1964.

The Editor,
The Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.
Dear Madam:

May I take a bit of space to comment on a statement which appears in an item entitled "Mink Ranch Burned" in your paper of May 7 and is in regard to a fire at New Tuskett which I understand is geographically located in Digby County but politically located in the Municipality of Clare.

The statement reads "A call was put in to the Weymouth Fire Department, but they do not go out of their Village..." This statement is correct as far as it goes but the Volunteer Department does go out of the Village in cases of Mutual Aid when called by another department and when called to the home of a volunteer fireman who lives outside the Village. I understand that the call received was relayed to the Bellevue Cove Department (who have a Civil Defence vehicle stationed there) with the assurance that Weymouth would go to their assistance if it was required.

The decision to keep fire equipment in the Village was made by the Village of Weymouth last year, and the public notified in advance through your paper, as a last resort after suitable negotiations could not be made with the Municipality of Digby and in an effort to stir the public from their state of apathy.

For many years the ratepayers of this small Village have taxed themselves to provide fire protection until today they finally have a new truck with a tank and a heated hall in which to keep it. Through the years they have answered calls all over the County, including false alarms, which have cost them, in many cases, large sums of money and also in many cases, the only words of appreciation were "why didn't you get here sooner".

Finally after answering twenty some calls in one year, only one of which was in the Village, they started making a charge of a minimum of $10.00 per call. Many people cheerfully paid but always there are those who spoil things and so it was necessary to cancel this arrangement.

You cannot blame people who have paid taxes for years to maintain their protection from "wasting" the assurance of having that equipment in the Village, nor can you maintain equipment by money you may get if someone has a fire, nor can you expect employers to pay their employees to work for someone else as every man who answers a fire call is a volunteer. One cannot depend on untrained assistance for at such a time, it is often more of a hindrance than a help.

Yours truly,
"An Onlooker".

New School At Meteghan

Rodney Contractors Ltd. were successful bidders on tenders for the construction of a ten classroom school at Meteghan with a bid of $125,450.00. Six other contractors had bid on the job as follows: Central Construction Ltd., $128,990.00; L. E. & P. E. Armstrong, $130,800.00; Chare Construction Company, $134,950.00; V. C. Woodworth Ltd., $135,825.00; William E. Smith, $146,146.15; Kenney Construction Ltd., $139,950.00.

The new school will be built on the Meteghan-St. Martin road away from heavy traffic on a lot of land which was formerly the baseball field of the Stella Maris baseball team of years ago. The building will also contain an all-purpose room, kitchen, sick-bay and nurse's room, teachers' rooms, as well as sufficient storage rooms. It is planned on using a folding stage in the all-purpose room, which may be used as an auditorium seating approximately 250 persons.

Due to overcrowding in the present Meteghan school and the closing of the Meteghan two-room school, a new school was necessary in this area. The Meteghan Centre school was outmoded and it was felt that it was useless to spend money on such a school in installing all the modern facilities required in schools of today. By combining the two districts, a larger school was planned with the idea of closing some of the classes in the old section of the Meteghan present school, which is a ten classroom school. The section which will be closed for classes in the old section will be converted into an all-purpose room.

The new school building is expected to be ready for occupancy in early September. Another step in modernizing the school buildings in Clare has been taken and the Meteghan Centre school was the last of the two-classroom schools with grades 1 to 6 being taught.

Bank Bandits Captured In Digby Motel

Bandits who held up a Halifax bank Tuesday and got away with $10,000, were apprehended in Digby late that evening. Digby R.C.M.P., with the assistance of the Bridgetown detachment and Digby Town Police, made the arrest at the Marla Motel.

Two men and a woman were apprehended. They were registered as A. Dunn, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Baird, all from Ottawa. They have been returned to the city by Halifax police.

The noon-hour raid on the Bank of Montreal's Gottingen Street branch was the third on the branch within eleven months. A province-wide alert was sounded.

V.O.N. Drive Starts June 8

The annual drive for funds of the Digby branch Victorian Order of Nurses will take place from June 8 - 22.

The Victorian Order of Nurses is a charitable organization in Canada, and here in Digby it provides a nurse to care for all persons in need of medical assistance. Working under the guidance of local doctors, the nurse treats all persons. For those who can pay, a fee is charged; and for those who cannot pay the service is provided free.

This year the Digby branch of V.O.N. extended its territory to include the areas of Deep Brook, Bear River, Smith's Cove, Weymouth, Sandy Cove and Annapolis Royal. The expansion of service, together with the maintenance of normal home and school visits, means an increase in costs of operation; and the future need of the active financial participation of every citizen in the area.

Attend World's Fair

Allan Nichols, Digby, is among a number of the Metropolitan Life Insurance staff, who are visiting in New York and attending the World's Fair. Before attending the Fair, the party attended their annual Honour Club Convention at the Statler-Hilton Hotel.

During the past few months, these members and others have successfully completed a company sponsored course of study. Diplomas were presented to each staff member in recognition of their accomplishments.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Graham and family, Fairview, and Miss Beatrice Comeau, Halifax, were weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Atlee Cornwell and family.

Gets Degree

Mr. Charles D. Grant, son of Rev. and Mrs. M. M. Grant, Digby, received the A.B. degree with a major in philosophy from Eastern Nazarene College, Wollaston, Massachusetts, on May 18.

Mr. Grant graduated from Digby Regional High School in 1958. In 1957, he received his senior matriculation from Bethany Bible College, Yarmouth. At Eastern Nazarene College he has served on the Student Council and has been a member of the Evangelistic Association. He was recently appointed pastor of the Church of the Nazarene at Easton, Massachusetts. While pastoring there, he plans to take post-graduate work at E.N.C.

Minor Hockey To Hold Banquet

The Digby Minor Hockey League is to hold its closing banquet on Saturday, June 6. At this time the various trophies will be awarded to teams which won the various leagues and playoffs.

Individual trophies will be awarded to the individuals in each of the five leagues as follows: Most valuable player; Highest scorer; Most improved player; Best defenceman; Best goal tender.

Parker McDonald, who has been the guest speaker, but due to the fact he finds he is unable to be present on this date for personal reasons the name of the guest speaker is not available at press time. It is understood, however, that George Warden, the director of the Maritime Hockey School and Sportsman of the Year for the Province has been approached.

Digby Athletes Place 1, 2, 3

Digby Regional High School sent three athletes to the Acadia Relays on Saturday last, and between them they won a first place, a second place and a third place.

Geoffrey Hodgson, son of Mr. Wally Hodgson, the former Physical Education teacher of the town schools, won the Class A 120 yards hurdles event. This feat is all the more laudable as he is a 17-year-old B class athlete competing in a gruelling event against competition as old as the 19 years 6 months age limit. It is understood that this is the first, first place ever won by Digby at the Acadia Relays.

Ian Anderson, son of Mrs. Joyce Anderson, placed second in the B Class Shot Put and third in the B Class Discus event. This gave Digby a total of 17 points for the three athletes who were competing against Nova Scotia's finest competitors.

To Hold Graduation

Commencement exercises will be held in St. Patrick's Church next Sunday, June 7th, at the eleven o'clock Mass. Reverend Joseph Hattie, newly-ordained Oblate of Mary Immaculate Missionary, will be the Celebrant at this ceremony. Reverend Clarence Thibault, Pastor of St. Thomas Church, Shelburne, will be the Guest Speaker.

Graduating from St. Patrick's Business College, from Digby, will be: Mary Amiraull, Dianna Mason, Elizabeth Peters, Lauren Savary, Jean Trask and Joan VanTassel. Annapolis Royal: Carol Thomas, Marilyn Beattie, Joan Todd, Richard Wiles. Bear River: Rosalie Robar, Clementsport: Jeanette Brown, Clementsport: Gloria Perkins. Cornwallis: Gayle Oswald, Patricia Pitt. Doucetville: Shirley Thibault. Karsdale: Marjorie Johnson. Westport: Carolyn Thurber. Weymouth: Louise Gidney. Weymouth Falls: Joanne Bailey.

Destroy Tulips

A resident of Carleton Street awoke on Saturday morning to find he had six tulips left blooming after practically a garden full the evening before.

Sometime after 10 p.m. on Friday a vandal or vandals picked the tulips and did nothing better with them than to throw them over the fence.

About fifteen dollars had been spent on bulbs early in the Spring and just as much spent for a workman to prepare the ground and plant them. The Carleton Street resident was feeling sick at heart as he looked at his garden on Saturday. No wonder! Destruction by storm can be overlooked, Destruction by vandals! They need pity or "something".

It is understood a neighbor lost his hyacinths in the same manner.

Ordained To Priesthood

Above, left to right, are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hattie, Digby, along with their son, Father Joseph Hattie, following his ordination to the priesthood at St. Patrick's Church on Friday evening.

For the first time in the history of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, Digby, an Ordination to the Priesthood ceremony was held on Friday, May 29. Ordained was Rev. Joseph Hattie, Oblate of Mary Immaculate. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hattie, Digby. Father Hattie was born in Yarmouth September 6, 1936, and received his early education at St. Patrick's Academy, Digby, and the Digby Regional High School. He attended St. Patrick's College, Ottawa, where he received his Bachelor of Science degree. He also received a Bachelor of Philosophy degree from Sedes Sapientia, Ottawa. He took his first vows on September 8, 1959, at St. Theresa's Novitiate, Arnprior, Ont., and his final vows at Holy Rosary Scholasticate, Ottawa, on September 8, 1962. He also took four years of theology at Holy Rosary Scholasticate.

Strawberry Exchange Formed

A strawberry exchange to provide cooperative, one desk selling for strawberries produced in the Digby area, was formed at a meeting of strawberry growers held at the Conway Cooperative Society building in Conway, near Digby, Saturday evening. The meeting was one of a series held over the past several weeks to discuss and deal with the matter of strawberry production and marketing.

It is understood there will be some 32 acres of new strawberry plants in production this year in the general area between Digby and Bear River. Expected yield is estimated to be in the vicinity of 150,000 quarts of strawberries.

Ronald Purdy, of Bear River, was elected secretary-manager of the new strawberry exchange. H. M. Warne, of Digby, is president. Arthur MacKay, of Hill Grove, vice-president. Directors are Kenneth Marshall, Hill Grove;

Kiwanis Head Visits Division

Kiwanis Governor for Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes, Charlie Fentiman, of Waterloo, Ontario, made his official visit to Division No. 11, when Digby Kiwanis was host club at the Digby Branch Canadian Legion hall on Saturday. Present were Kiwanians and their queens from Yarmouth, Shelburne, Lockport, Armadale, Halifax, Weymouth, Meteghan and Digby. The Governor was accompanied by Mrs. Fentiman.

Addressing the audience, Governor Fentiman said that Kiwanis must maintain the ethics and ideals which make great democracies. These ethics and ideals must be maintained both on the individual level and the community level. He reminded the Kiwanians that they are representatives of the capitalistic system, which, while it has its faults, is the greatest system for the benefit of all. If people can cause us to lose confidence in our capitalistic system, he said, they have destroyed us without firing a shot. We are in a day, the speaker said, when we are going to have to do better in holding up our ideals than we have ever done before. If we lower our ideals, come down in our ethics or lag at all, we have become purely expedient and materialistic in our philosophy and we cannot win. The victory is to those with integrity and who keep the ramparts of their own souls.

Our problem today, Mr. Fentiman said, is a problem of human relations. It is a problem of how to live together, understand one another and maintain ideals. In history, he said, it is seen that (Please turn to page 10)

Anglican Youth Camp At Gibson Lake

Campers for St. Anne's, at Gibson Lake, are being urged to make application for reservations early, according to Rev. James Pike, rector of Trinity Church, Digby. This request was made because accommodation is limited to 50 per cent at the Anglican youth camp situated in the Deaneys of Annapolis, about fourteen miles from both Annapolis Royal and Bridgetown. The camp is open to other denominations besides Anglicans.

St. Anne's contains a kitchen, dining hall, two large dormitories, building for handicrafts and recreation and a new headquarters for office and staff. All Saints Church, nearby, is used for worship services.

The camp has a supervised program under church auspices, which includes games, handicrafts, swimming, music, camp fires and nature. Rec Cross swimming tests are carried on. A camp Chaplain is present for the camping season.

Receives 50 Year Jewel

On Tuesday at the regular communication of King Solomon Lodge, No. 51, A.F. & A.M., in Digby, the Very Worshipful Brother J. Wilmer Christie, P.G.S., received a 50 year jewel commemorating 50 years of active life in the Masonic Order.

The jewel was presented to Mr. Christie by District Deputy C. Dickson Sabine, on behalf of the order of the Grand Master of Nova Scotia.

Mrs. Levy Entertains

Mrs. C. M. Levy entertained at a tea on Saturday in honor of Mrs. C. Fentiman, wife of the Governor of Kiwanis for Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes. Present were wives of Kiwanians from several towns in Division No. 11.

After the evening's entertainment Governor and Mrs. Fentiman, Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. William Mooney and others were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Levy.

Digby Town Council Meets

At the June session of Digby Town Council held Monday evening Mrs. Judith Lewis, of Rossaway, was appointed clerical assistant at the town hall, duties to commence on June 16th.

Councillor Bernard Bell, reporting for the police committee, said that a total of 15 complaints were registered during the month of May, of which eight required investigation. All complaints except two have been terminated to the satisfaction of those concerned. As a result of the investigation seven cases warranted court action and at least one have been disposed of before the court. Two cases were under the Liquor Control Act and five under the Criminal Code. Resolving fines amounted to $35.00. Three motor vehicle accidents were investigated.

On motion council decided to set up a sewer commission and to have the King Street system held in abeyance until the commission brings submission to the council.

Councillors reported the dog nuisance within the town as "much better, but there are still some dogs on the loose." The possibility of supplying additional help for Walter Wagner, town dog catcher, was discussed, and it was decided that complaints concerning dogs on the loose should be registered at the town office or with the police department. Chief of Police, W. F. Dunn, stated that he is most willing to offer the dog catcher all possible assistance in apprehending dogs from prowling within the town limits.

In reporting for the streets committee Councillor Bruce Baxter said that all unpaved streets in the town are in good condition and that a layer of crushed rock has been completed. (Please turn to page 10)

July 1st Progress

At the last meeting of the Digby Recreation Commission, the progress made in the preparations for the July 1st celebrations was reported.

All the booths are finalized and the evening supper meal is to be prepared and served by the ladies of the Legion. The Annapolis Royal band is to play in the parade and it is understood the Yarmouth Old Car Club will form a part of the procession. The services of the Yarmouth Band are being negotiated and it is possible the parade will have two bands.

It is understood that the Old Timers are practicing for the ball game and an orchestra is engaged for dancing.

Many local stars of guitar and banjo are to take part in a giant Hootenanny, so it looks like July 1st in Digby will be a swinging affair.

Fashion Show And Operetta

A full evening of entertainment showing splendid talent and skills among the high school students at Digby Regional High School was staged on Thursday night when the Home Economics students of Miss Bonnie Wright put on the operetta, Pirates of Penzance.

Commentators for the fashion show were Misses Nancy Riley and Shirley Sibley. Miss Mary Lou Parker was the pianist for the fashion show.

The first group of garments displayed were children's garments, modelled by tiny tots and having been made by students. Grade VII modelled aprons of various descriptions and Grade VIII showed their skills in blouses and skirts. These consisted of match and mix types in prints, plaids and plaids. Skirts in cottons, wools and corduroys were reversible, pleated, gathered and straight. (Please turn to page 10)

Marilyn Barnes, princess

Kentville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. (Short) Barnes, was crowned Queen Annapolis XXXII at coronation ceremonies Friday night at Acadia University's Convocation Hall. The Queen is a niece of Mrs. Ida Sabine, Digby. She was crowned by Provincial I.O.D.E. Regent Mrs. G. S. Robertson, of Halifax. Dr. R. S. Longley, festival president, announced the name of the new queen, selected from thirteen princesses from Valley towns from Windsor to Digby. Representing the town of Digby as princess was Yvonne Marie Doiron, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Doiron.

R.C.M.P. reported traffic through the valley during the weekend as very heavy, heavier than last year, but no serious accidents were reported.

The children's parade on Saturday morning attracted the largest number of entries in many years. 310 young people took part from nearly every community in the Valley.

Ideal weather brought out a crowd of ten thousand who lined Kentville's main street for the grand parade on Saturday afternoon. Main float prizes went to Windsor, Middleton, Wolfville and Port Williams. Celebrities in the parade included singer George Murray and TV favorite Captain Corby.

On Sunday the Queen and her princesses attended church services and semi-sacred concerts at Grand Pre Park, and on Monday the Royal Party with band and police escort toured Valley towns from Kentville to Digby. Speaking to a large crowd gathered at Digby's Band Stand were Queen Marilyn, Digby Princess Yvonne Doiron, George Murray, George Armstrong, capt. of the NHL Champion Toronto Maple Leafs hockey club. In a pleasing manner Miss Doiron thanked the Digby people in general and her sponsors, the Digby Golf Club, for assistance in making this memorable experience possible for her.

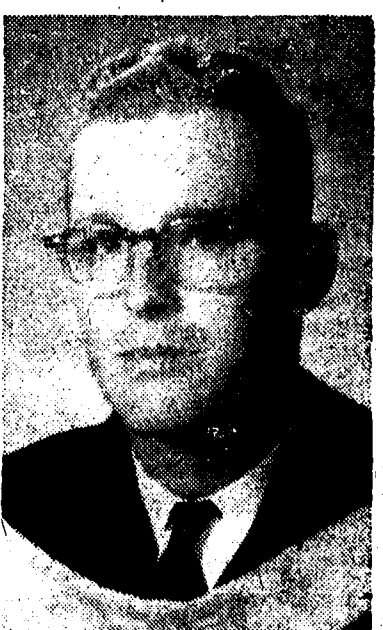

Following a reception at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, the Blossom Ball was held at R.C.A.F. Greenwood, ending a hectic weekend which the weather helped to make a success.

Synod Meets

The Diocesan Synod of Nova Scotia is meeting in Halifax this week. The special preacher at the opening service will be Bishop Wilkinson, of Toronto.

Attending from Trinity Parish, Digby, are the Rector, the Rev. James Pike, who is accompanied by Mrs. Pike and Valerie, and also Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Berwick, who are Lay Delegates from the Parish.

Scholarship Winner

Alan L. Sangster, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Sangster, Digby, recently graduated from the University of Western Ontario, at London, with a B.Sc. in Honors Geology. He expects to further his studies at Carleton University in Ottawa, with an objective of Ph.D.

Alan has been awarded an Ontario Graduate Fellowship of $1,500.00 and a Carleton Graduate Fellowship of $300. At present he has summer employment doing geographical survey in Newfoundland for Consolidated Mining and Smelting.

Shown above are several who participated in Digby's Safe-Driving Road-o on May 23. In the back row are Lion Norris, Gillespie, Lion Lou Ecker, Constable Don Jayne, of the Digby Police Force, and Lion Jack Walker. Front row: Chief of Police, W. F. Dunn, who also acted as chairman of the Digby Road-o; Jimmy Dunn, co-chairman; Gerald Walker, who was second place winner; Glenn Dunn, winner of the Road-o; Raymond Trefry, who placed third; and Constable Denis Patterson, of the Digby Detachment RCMP. The Road-o was sponsored by Imperial Oil Ltd. and the Lions Club.

Glenn Dunn represented Digby at Atlantic region Safe-Driving finals held in Summerside, P.E.I., on Saturday.

He was winner of fourth place. The entry from Truro was first place winner and will travel to Ontario later, where he will enter the national finals.

In Summerside for the event from Digby were Chief W. F. Dunn, Jimmy Dunn and Leslie Anderson.

About This and That

Minstrel Shows

Minstrel Shows. Where did they originate and how and why did they originate? Does anybody know?

There hadn't been a Minstrel Show in Digby since May, 1962, nor have we heard of any in the neighborhood of Digby for some time. In the meantime, had Minstrel Shows gone out of date? Had circumstances of the day altered our opinion and acceptance of this form of entertainment? Would they more wisely be forgotten from here on?

Although we at the Courier editorial desk have sat through too few Minstrel Shows to be judging, they have been a form of entertainment that has not been appealing to our particular sense of taste or humor anymore than an evening of "cowboy" music or the "hillbillies" could satisfy our entertainment appetite. We do respect other people's opinions and just because we "just love sauer kraut" is no reason for us not to expect others to turn up their noses at the dish or vice versa. We do enjoy negro spirituals but the usual music at Minstrel Shows in the past has to our experience, been more of the kind for audience participation rather than for audience entertainment and could get boring in time.

Now, having written that, we do want to come to defense of the show put on by the Lions Club of Digby last week. We attended the show on Wednesday evening and found the majority of the musical numbers pleasing to listen to and most of them displaying talent. We doubt if any of the jokes used could have been considered such as the type to which anyone could take exception.

Our reason for writing on the subject is because The Digby Courier was called a few days before the presentation of the show by a person who objected to such a type of show being presented at all and particularly to having had the facilities of the school made available for the show. The arguments used were legitimate and understandable, we admit. But, again we must come to the defense of the Lions Club especially on one score. Our objector felt the Minstrel Show would be holding the colored people up to ridicule. We are sure the Lions Club had no thought of such a thing or had not anticipated any such feeling amongst the colored race near by. Among the participants in the show were leaders of various churches, school teachers, respectable and principled business and professional men and many others whom we are sure would definitely not, knowingly, have any part in any performance which they felt was an insult or in ridicule of our colored population. Happily we have queried some of our colored friends on the matter and the ones who did question seem not to have given the matter any thought.

Sometimes we feel that we in Digby have been so blessed with such a fine spirit of friendliness, good will and understanding between the colored people and the white race that we cannot understand there are places where the same feeling does not exist. If we correctly recall some twenty years ago some of the colored people from nearby Digby participated in a Minstrel Show in Digby. Though realizing there are good and bad in every race — white, black, yellow or red — there has existed, as far back as we can remember of our life in Digby, a genuine feeling of respect and friendship between the white race and the negro race.

We have had a fault, that is sure, but the fault has been not one of disrespect and ridicule but one of just plain thoughtlessness. While we have put effort and money, and rightly so, into better education, better health, better housing, etc. for people of other races in far away countries, we had often forgotten to go the few extra miles further with the efforts to our nearest neighbours. These conditions are changing rapidly.

Yes, conditions are changing rapidly for the colored people near to Digby. Advantages are being presented to them as never before and a goodly percentage are taking advantage as will be noted at the Adult Classes closing at Conway this week and which were noted in the Home Economics closing in Digby last week. Pages could be written on this subject alone, so we shall not dwell on it now.

Why principally, do white people want to put on a Minstrel Show? Is it to ridicule the colored people? We doubt if any such thought was ever held in Digby. Isn't it because the bashful people find it so much easier to perform under a camouflage? Would the colored people have the same sense of security under a camouflage of white skin? We think they might, although, we doubt if they are as self-conscious a race as the whites. The camouflage has definitely given some white people confidence to perform who would not otherwise be caught dead on the stage and be recognized. Although this confidence, too, in some cases has been known to have been carried too far in unpalatable jokes at Minstrel Shows in the past.

The Lions Minstrel Show for 1964 is over and has provided entertainment and a means of raising funds. Another one would not be worth the effort against danger of losing valued friendships or in any way undermining the work started towards a better educational and economic life for our colored friends near town. There are other things of greater value than entertainment or money.

Comments We Like

It doesn't hurt our feelings when we get comments about The Digby Courier, even if they are not always complimentary. Only through such comments can we build a better paper, more pleasing to our readers.

We are happy to say that the complimentary comments far, far outweigh any adverse comments we hear or read. We want to share with you, the following comment written from France — "Your lively little paper is a sunny reminder of a fine community. May I state that the Courier seems to have taken on new life over the past two years in general content but particularly in your editorials and commentaries."

Letters like the above are appreciated by the editor, and we also thank those who have been taking the time to

Coffee
AT Janes

I am so stingy that when I throw out a piece of clothing, I feel more virtuous than wasteful. The sensation must be something like the feeling a smoker has when he gives up cigarettes. When I finally collect the moral fibre to get rid of something, I feel as if I have just overcome a long-standing bad habit. Like a smoker, too, I am likely to return to my old ways the following day.

Somebody asked my sister one time what she did with her old clothes. She said "I wear them." My wit is not that ready, but the same thing applies to this family. We seem to scrape every bit of wear out of every garment we have. When the bodices of dresses wear out, they are cut off, and the skirts are worn as skirts. The children's overalls go through two stages of evolution after the original stage. When they get too short the bibs and straps are cut off, and I put elastic in the waist. When they out-grow this version, the legs are cut off, and they are made into short pants. Even the sheets, when they are too worn to leave on a large bed, are put up and made into crib sheets. After I got six years' wear out of my tweed coat, it made a suit for Jim. That was two years ago. He is still wearing the jacket to play.

I do not recommend these procedures to anyone. This is more in the nature of a confession than advice. I sometimes feel ashamed that I almost never have anything to pass on to the children of friends or relatives, as most other people do, but when anything made of cloth leaves the Garthum household, it is fit for nothing but the rag barrel.

I could blame my Scottish ancestry for this, but since my ancestors came in more or less equal parts of Scottish, English and German, it is not quite fair to put all the blame on the shoulders of the Scots. For the record, I am quite proudly Canadian. I get very annoyed with remote ancestors, when they have been in this country for generations. I do not advocate admitting that there is such a nationality as Canadian. In any case, I shall not blame anyone from the long ago, who cannot defend himself, for the fact that I am a miser.

Nevertheless, when the fine weather came, the family wardrobes needed to be overhauled. The kids have outgrown just about everything they wore last year, and the adult wardrobes are shabbier than we remember them being when we put them away last fall. The time for throwing out, giving away, and replacing has come. This brings on one of those

There is one feature in the Courier which has brought us no comment whatsoever even though it must be running for upwards of a year. It is the special feature for teenagers. We would definitely like to get some reaction on this, favorably or otherwise, so that we can make up our own minds whether or not to continue this special feature. The copy costs us a few dollars which we would rather not spend unless the feature has readership value. How about it teenagers? Do you read it or not? Could you just take a minute of your time to let us know. Your adverse criticism or your silence, either one, will be our hint to drop the feature. Your request to continue will make us feel it is worth the money, space and effort.

What Does Industry Want?

In speaking before the Charlottetown Board of Trade annual meeting last week Frank H. Sobey, president of Industrial Estates Ltd., emphasized that to attract industry to the Atlantic Provinces, or any other given area, a good climate must be created. This can be done, he said, by governments, Boards of Trade, APEC and by the loyalty of the people to support products manufactured in the area.

In dealing with the climate, the speaker remarked: "You would be surprised the considerations that industry desires — and expects — before they are prepared to establish in a community. Some industries are very concerned that their employees are going to be happy and satisfied — and will stay with them. In most cases, they want to locate in a town or city where good facilities are offered, such as first-rate schools, churches, recreational and adequate town facilities. In other words, a community in which you would want to raise your children. We had a case in point where an industry established in Kentville in order to supply the Canadian market — which extended from British Columbia to Newfoundland. In fact, there is a big percentage — perhaps 50 percent — of their products going to the Pacific Coast. They located in Kentville because they liked the appearance of the town; they were handy a good university; and about 60 miles from an international airport and the capital city of the province. This decision was made after two years of looking at various locations in Canada."

At another point in his talk, Mr. Sobey said in regard to establishing businesses through IEL: "I feel that the establishment of a business that is not properly financed in the community is not doing the community a service; but, rather, a dis-service because the community is worse off if the business gets into financial difficulties — which mostly results in unpaid bills and disappointed employees being left in the area."

We would like to refer to a remark in the first part of this editorial which mentioned "loyalty to support products manufactured in the area." Did it ever occur to you how many businesses have vanished from sight in an area because the people were not concerned about loyalty to their home town, to the man who is paying the taxes to give them police protection, safe water, health protection, good schools, paved streets and many other benefits. Without the industrial man or the merchant these benefits must be curtailed, for without these businesses there is less revenue in taxes. Without these businesses there is less employment. Without work there is no way to pay for services provided.

Think about these things the next time you are tempted to shop away from your own town or community or when you buy products which are not made in your community. Could you have been more loyal, maybe?

budget juggling sessions which occur just before summer vacation, just before the opening of school, and before, after, and during Christmas.

We are a family of conspicuous consumers. I am inclined to believe there are more like us than admit to the fact. We would rather have those things which people know we have than those things which people do not see. We like nice clothes so people can see how well we dress. We like nice furnishings so people can see that all our money does not go for necessities. I suspect that under the food which we serve our guests, which is nearly always more expensive than that we serve our families, there lurks the not quite altruistic hope that the spread we have prepared will not go unnoticed.

Because, after we juggle the budget, when the occasions arise, what the family eats when there are no guests is the item least likely to be noticed by others, this is the one we frequently cut. This is not approved of by nutrition experts, and even we who do it know it is less than moral but we go without steaks in order to have T-shirts.

In an area where so much fish is caught, and where fish plays such an important part in the livelihood of most of us, I suppose it is a disgrace to use canned fish, but what a fine budget stretcher it is. Besides their relative cheapness, cans of fish are available. Even if we do not have a freezer, they can be kept almost forever. We can buy it in the flush weeks, and it is there in the lean ones.

I only have room for one recipe this week, but I tried this quite successfully. There was more than enough for the four of us, and the total cost was less than one dollar.

CANNED SALMON PUFFS

1 16-oz. can salmon
1/2 tsp. salt
dash of pepper

3/4 cup bread crumbs
1 tsp. lemon juice
3 eggs separated

Flake salmon, and add salt, pepper, bread crumbs, and lemon juice. Add beaten egg yolks, and beat thoroughly. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Place in greased custard cups, or muffin tins, set in a pan of hot water, and bake at 300 for 40 minutes.

They are good with mashed potatoes, green beans, and sliced hard cooked eggs.

Teen's View On Caring For 'Kids'

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "The column about the teenager who had to take her younger brothers and sisters everywhere she went interested me. I know the problem well. And, I think it is unfair. I am of the opinion a teenager should help in caring for her younger brothers and sisters, but too much of this will curb the development of her individuality and social graces with older people and people of her own age group.

"I always had to care for three younger sisters and a brother and take them wherever I went, because my parents told me to. I resented this very much because many of my friends wouldn't play with me and their parents often asked me not to bring the children with me to their homes as they "got into things." When I told this to my parents, they told me to play at home with my brother and sisters. I resented this very much.

"I feel teenagers shouldn't be bound with younger brothers and sisters all the time. Too, they should be given responsibility of helping with household chores etc., but not too much as it is bad for development, which is tremendously important at this age."

OUR REPLY: We agree that teenagers should not be "permanent" baby-sitters for younger members of the family. Teenagers should have time to spend with boys and girls their own age, with no "kids" around.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, please write to: FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND BUSINESS PRESS SERVICE, BANGOR, N.S.

A variety program called Council Capers was presented in the D. R. H. S. recently under the auspices of the Digby County Council Home and School Association. The audience was welcomed by the Council president, Mrs. Harold Dunn, Lansdowne, who planned the program, and the M.C. was Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby.

The program contained vocal solos by Miss Joyce Melanson, Plympton, sponsored by the Weymouth Home and School, with Mrs. Jean Olsen, Digby, accompanist, and Mrs. James Harris, Bear River, accompanied by Mrs. S. W. Sabine. Two dance numbers were presented by Miss Brenda Berry, Smith's Cove, who receives her instruction from Miss Harriet Graves. Piano solos were played by Misses Leona Parker and Susan Potter, Bear River, who also rendered both piano and vocal duets.

Miss Dorothy Graham, Bear River, pantomimed Cousin Minnie Pearl. The Beatles from Bear River also appeared and included Misses Mary Sloan, Megan Isles, Judy Isles and Judy Alcorn, with Miss Gladys Sloan, promoter. The Rock-a-Tones of Bear River presented several songs accompanied by their guitars.

Miss Grace Vincent showed slides of her exchange-teacher trip to England and parts of Europe. The closing number was a Mother's Day prayer by Albert Jones, past president of the Digby County Council Home and School Association.

ORDER YOUR LUNENBURG FURNACE OR WINTER AIR-CONDITIONING UNIT NOW!

SAVE 10 %

on the Purchase Price of any LUNENBURG FURNACE OR AIR-CONDITIONING UNIT by ordering NOW!

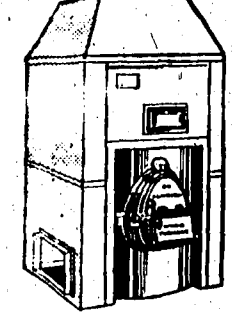

this offer expires July 1st

Not only will you save this 10% discount for early ordering, you will also benefit from the economy and efficiency that comes from Factory-to-You service.

For back of every furnace and air-conditioning unit that we sell, are many years of research into the designing, manufacturing, installing and servicing of them, which is your assurance of lasting comfort and satisfaction.

The units shown are representative of the wide selection we have available. Moreover, we own and operate a fleet of trucks, manned by installation experts, which regularly cover the Province. No other manufacturer offers such on-the-spot service.

But it will cost you nothing to have one of our heating technicians consult with you and advise the heating system that will best suit your requirements. And if you act quickly, you can secure our 10% discount on orders for installation before July 1st. So check over this list carefully and write us stating the unit that interests you.

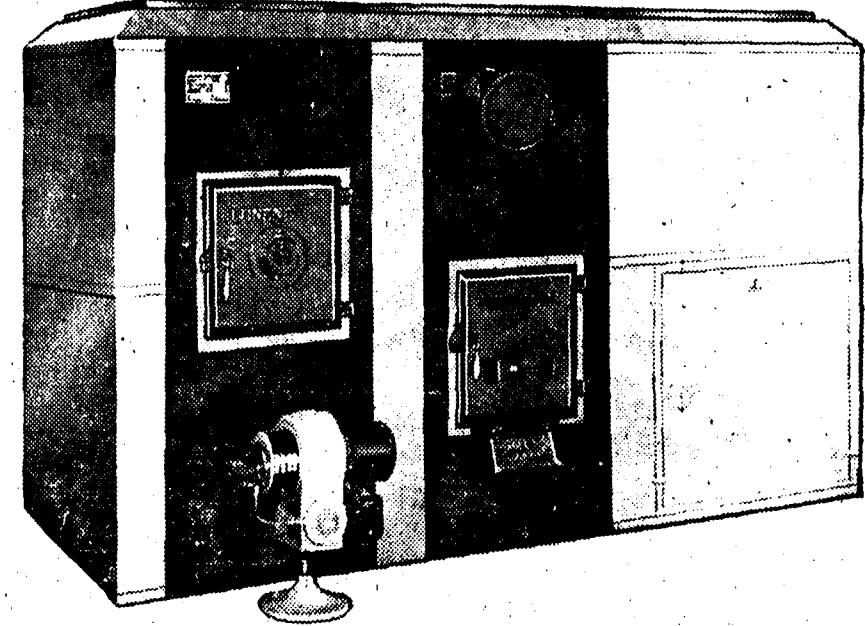

LUNENBURG ALL-CAST COAL OR WOOD-BURNING FURNACE

Built to last a lifetime, either model will give economical and enduring satisfaction at a moderate cost.

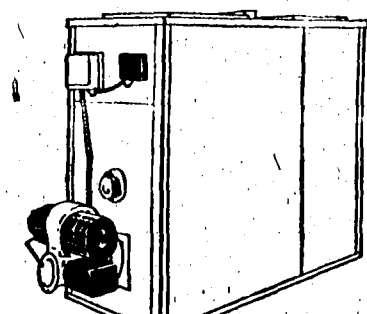

LUNENBURG STEEL GRAVITY FURNACE

This is not just an ordinary steel furnace, but is built of heavily-constructed and electrically-welded BOILERPLATE. Burns oil, coal or wood with almost equal efficiency.

COMBINATION OIL AND WOOD BURNING FURNACE

Here is a furnace that lets you burn wood or oil whenever you want to. A thermostat stops the oil burner automatically when the desired temperature is reached. If the supply of oil should fail or in the event of a power failure, you can keep your house warm by burning wood. This unit is ideal for woodlot owners.

ATLANTIC 10-BOY OIL-FIRED AIR CONDITIONER

This compact and modern unit is designed for new or older type homes, either with standard or lower basement weight.

25 Degrees At St. Ann's

Two honorary degrees and twenty-five Bachelor of Arts degrees were presented at St. Ann's College graduation exercises with His Excellency, Rev. Msgr. Albert Lemenager, Bishop of Yarmouth, presiding.

Dr. Norman Belliveau, of Montreal, president elect of the Quebec Medical Association, received an honorary degree in Science, and Desiré d'Eon, of West Pubnico, publisher of Le Petit Courrier, a French language newspaper, received an honorary degree in Social Science.

The following received Bachelor of Arts degrees: Jean Amiraault, New Edinburgh, Digby Co., N. S.; Paul Gaudet, Grosses Coques, N. S.; Gerard Muise, Yarmouth, N. S.; Gerald Stahmer, Meteghan River, N. S.; Raymond Tufts, Saulnierville, N. S.; Patrick Bourque, Saugus, Mass., formerly of Maville, N. S.; Guido Ouellette, Grand Falls, N. B.; George Bechard, Quebec; Marc Boivin, Chatham, P. Q.; Pierre Deguire, Terrebonne, P. Q.; Michel Doiron, Clark City, P. Q.; Jean Emile Gallant, Oyster Bed Bridge, P. E. I.; Jacques Guimont, Quebec City; Pierre Hainault, Silley, P. Q.; Antonio Huard, St. Godefroy, P. Q.; Jacques Jacob, Ste Marie, P. Q.; Jean LeBrun, Quebec; Benoit Maheux, Ville St. Georges, P. Q.; Fernand Maranda, St. Basile Grand, P. Q.; Ulysse Paradis, Quebec; Gilles Picard, Quebec, P. Q.; Gilles Pouliot, Ste. Germaine, P. Q.; René St. Arnaud, Montreal; Yves Tavares, Lewis, P. Q.; Louis Lapierre, West Chezzetcook, N. S.

Antonio Huard, of St. Godefroy, P. Q., received the Governor General Medal, which was presented to the graduate having the highest average.

The graduation exercises were held in St. Mary's church at Church Point due to the large number of alumnae association members, parents, relatives and friends of the graduates attending the exercises. The St. Ann's auditorium would not have been large enough to contain the large attendance.

St. Ann's alumnae society held its reunion in conjunction with the graduation exercises of St. Ann's College. Over one hundred and fifty members were in attendance and many spent the two day night in the village with their wives, visiting friends and renewing acquaintances.

Rev. Edouard Theriault, pastor of St. Alphonse, Digby Co., was elected president of St. Ann's alumnae society; Vice-president, Prof. Rene LeBlanc, Little Brook, N. S.; Directors: Rev. Louis Comeau, Salmon River, Digby Co.; Dr. Gerald Belliveau, Yarmouth; Rev. Ambroise Comeau, West Pubnico, Yarmouth Co.

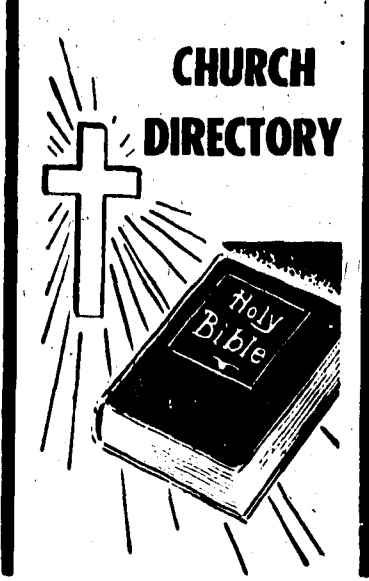

Mr. Denis Soucie, of Meteghan, presented a report of the fund raising campaign conducted in 1963 to assist St. Ann's College in the construction of the men's residence which was completed last September. A special committee consisting of J. Medrie Comeau, president; Alphonse Deyveau, vice-president; Gerard d'Entremont, secretary; treasurer, Denis Soucie; Advisors: Gerard d'Entremont, Ulysse Muise, Pierre Belliveau, J. Marcel Voltaire; Public Relations: Edouard LeBlanc, were in charge.

The committee set a goal of $56,000.00 to be raised and Mr. Soucie reported that $56,044.80 was raised. His Excellency, Rev. Msgr. Albert Lemenager, Bishop of Yarmouth, blessed the new building in an official ceremony attended by a large group of interested persons.

Dr. Julius Comeau, of Meteghan, a graduate of St. Ann's, spoke briefly on the Canada Confederation provincial committee, of which he is the only French representative on a 14 member committee. Dr. Comeau mentioned the fact that several members, who are English speaking members, are also able to converse in the French language. Dr. Comeau told the group that projects which are to come under the grants by the federal and provincial Confederation grants must be in the hands of the committee before September 1st and work on projects accepted must be completed in 1967, the centennial celebration year.

The alumnae banquet, held in St. Ann's College main dining room, was filled to overflowing and tables had to be set in an adjoining recreation room to meet the demand for seats. Rev. Louis Theriault, pastor of Middleton R. C. church, was guest speaker. His main theme was anecdotes on the various interesting events which took place during his college days at St. Ann's, among which were many escapades by former students.

Mr. Alden Young purchased the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Porteous.

You make the news and it's YOUR NEWSPAPER

Yes, it's quite true. You and you and you... each and everyone of you makes the real news. What you do, what you say, what you think from day to day, is back of all the decisions in this world. That's the way public opinion is formed.

And this is your newspaper, too, because in its columns are reported these activities and sayings of yours and of your friends and your neighbors — from birth to death. Your home newspaper, and only your home newspaper can and does bring them to you.

And because of this mass of knowledge, power comes to you, for an informed press means an informed people.

Father Hattie was ordained by the Most Reverend Albert Lemenager, D.D., Bishop of Yarmouth. The Bishop was assisted by Rev. R. E. McGrath, who was Father Hattie's Superior during Seminary days, and by Father F. McWade.

Father Hattie was assisted by Father Francis Wallis, of St. Patrick's College, Ottawa.

The commentator throughout the service was Father H. Sorenson and Lector was Father David Redmond, on Mission Band work.

Provincial of the English Oblates of Canada, Father G. E. Cosneau, was present as well as Fathers Shohan, Harbarth and Kroetch. In all, twenty-five priests attended the ceremony, with a large number coming from Yarmouth. These included two Monseignors, Nil Theriault and Elie LeBlanc.

Also present was Samuel Nichols, Knight of St. Gregory, who was knighted by the late Pope Pius XII.

Masters of ceremonies were Father Hector Melanson, St. Ambrose Church, Yarmouth, and Father Louis Comeau, Salmon River.

In a few remarks before the close of the ceremony Bishop Lemenager expressed joy in Father Hattie's ordination to the priesthood and congratulated the parents, the Oblates, and the parish from which Father Hattie had come.

At the close of the ceremony Rev. Father Hattie imparted the priestly blessing on his parents and other members of his family.

Sister Ann Catherine sang the entrance hymn, accompanied on the organ by Sister Roberta E. J. Theriault, Q.C., St. Patrick's Church organist, played the recessional music.

Knights of Columbus organization provided ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the church hall by the Ladies Guild of the church. On display was a Chalice, a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Fred Amoro. The Chalice was set with a star sapphire in memory of Mrs. John O'Manique, Mrs. E. J. Theriault and Mrs. L. F. Doiron poured at the reception.

On Saturday morning the newly ordained priest celebrated his first Low Mass, when his brother, Donald Hattie and Paul VanTassel were servers. The three had been altar boys together at St. Patrick's in Digby.

Father Joseph Hattie's first Solemn Mass was at four o'clock on Sunday afternoon at St. Patrick's Church. Assisting priest was Father Donald Kroetch. Deacon of the Mass was Father D. H. Stokes and sub-deacon Father David Redmond. Father R. E. McGrath delivered the sermon. Organist was Father Simard. Church Point College organist.

The choir sang the following: Kyrie Gloria and Sanctus from T. V. Dethier's Mass of the Holy Family, S.A.B., and the Credo and Agnus from A. Dierick, Mass No. 1.

At the close of Mass an illuminated address was read and a purse of money, on behalf of the parish, was presented to Father Hattie by Ralph McIntyre. A spiritual bouquet was presented by Kevin McVeigh and Constance Conkley. Father Hattie responded to the gifts in words of deep appreciation.

At the dinner, held in the parish hall, following the Solemn Mass, Monseigneur J. N. Theriault spoke on behalf of the Diocese of Yarmouth. He referred to the saying of Solemn Mass as a blessed honeymoon. Never before has one experienced the emotion which comes with ordination and the first Solemn Mass. He said he hoped that emotion would continue throughout Father Hattie's priesthood. He said, "It is a tremendous thing to be a priest." All are partners in the priesthood, carrying the standard of Christ. He expressed his deep pleasure that the diocese had produced a priest to go in the mission field and said that a priest is never a priest unless he has priestly parents. He also congratulated Father Gaudet, of St. Patrick's, the parish from where Rev. Father Hattie had come, and mentioned that Father Gaudet is about to celebrate his 40th anniversary in the priesthood.

The Provincial Oblate, Father G. E. Cosneau, also expressed gratitude to the parish and parents for providing another to the Order of Oblates and announced that Father Hattie would be in the Province of Canada. There are 7,600 Oblates working in all parts of the world and they could be sent to any part. Joseph Hattie, Sr., in a few words, expressed his thankfulness that God had chosen one of his sons to be His representative here on earth. Father Joseph Hattie thanked Father Gaudet and all those who had shared in any way in the responsibility of the ordination ceremonies and functions.

Rev. Father Redmond was master of ceremonies at the dinner.

Induction Service

Rev. Arthur Peters was inducted into the Parish of Weymouth on Tuesday of last week by his Lordship, Bishop Waterman, who acted in place of Bishop Davis. The service of induction was held in St. Peter's Church. The Mandate of Induction was read by Archdeacon Bullock, and was presented with the church keys by Warden John Shaw. Rev. Mr. Harris of Dartmouth preached the sermon in which he pointed out that the congregation has as much responsibility in the spiritual life of the church as the priest. That each layman must offer his best to the service of God and give of his talents to help make the church a living thing. Mr. Harris spoke highly of both the Rev. and Mrs. Peters, having known them personally for several years.

Following the service a reception was held at Killam Hall which had been tastefully decorated for the occasion with tulips and jayonics. Delicious refreshments were served by the women of the parish, Mrs. John Shaw poured from the silver tea service.

Confirmation Service At Weymouth

At three o'clock Sunday afternoon a confirmation service was held at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church. His Excellency Bishop Albert Lemenager of Yarmouth was met at the Glebe house by the altar boys and with the procession, was received by the pastor at the church door.

39 boys, 31 girls and 3 adults were confirmed by his excellency, assisted by Rev. Louis Surette, resident Chaplain at St. Joseph's Villa, Yarm. Master of ceremonies was Father Hector Melanson of the Cathedral staff. Also in attendance was Monseigneur Elie LeBlanc of St. Bernard. Rev. Delbi Comeau presented the delegates.

The children were under the supervision of the Sisters of St. Edward's Convent, Mrs. David MacNeil was in charge of the music. The confirmation class was comprised of candidates from Southville and Weymouth parishes.

Obituary

Clifford Joseph Doucette

The death of Clifford Joseph Doucette occurred suddenly at his home on Thursday evening. He was 78 years of age; the son of the late Martin and Ruth Doucette of Doucetteville.

He was a veteran of the first World War, having served in the 85th Battalion Nova Scotia Highlanders. He served under the late Col. Ralston, and was awarded a military medal for bravery in the field.

Left to mourn their loss is his wife Gladys (Saulnier) also twelve children. Seven daughters, Frances (Mrs. Albert LeBlanc) Blanche (Mrs. Amedie LeBlanc); Mary Esther, (Mrs. Lawrence Bouchie) of Kentville; Beatrice (Mrs. Morrison) of Bear River; Dorothy (Mrs. Carl MacCormack) of Seabrook; Ruth (Mrs. Edw. Melanson), Plympton; and Ethel (Mrs. Robt. Germaine) of Digby. Also sons, Clifford of Gilbert's Cove; Gifford of Oshawa. A brother Isreal, predeceased him. Also four sisters Annie (Mrs. Arthur Harding) of Yarmouth, Maine, (Mrs. W. M. Boyd) of Yarmouth; Beatrice (Mrs. George Harding) of Whiteville, Mass., and Jessie, (Mrs. Leigh Allen) of New York. One sister, Mrs. Louis McMahon, predeceased him. Also surviving are 58 grandchildren and 40 great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church on Monday, May 29th, after a brief illness. He was born 87 years ago, in New Tusket, the son of the late Thomas and Cordelia Hill. He was the last of a family of eleven.

Mr. Hill was well known throughout Digby County, where he had lived all his life. He was a sawyer by trade, and during his more active years, had mills throughout the country. Until his illness last week, he was active, working about his home and garden.

He was an honorary vestryman of St. Peter's parish, and a municipal councillor for Ten members of the Kiwanis Club met at Hartley Powell's camp at Tiverton on Monday night where a delicious fish chowder and lobster supper was enjoyed.

Mr. N. D. Wiles, Halifax, with the Customs Department is a guest at the Goodwin Hotel.

Miss Adele Theriault, R.N. of Sherbrooke, Que., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Theriault.

Students Display Fashions

The annual fashion show and Industrial arts display was held at Weymouth Consolidated school on Tuesday evening. The auditorium was filled to overflowing with enthusiastic parents and friends. The stage was tastefully decorated with a summer scene, behind an archway covered with fragrant apple blossoms - a walk was formed by using a picket fence. Decorations were done by Mrs. A. E. Fergusson, Mrs. John Shaw, Mrs. A. C. Hankinson and students.

Misses Wendy Blynn, Lois Stevenson and Theresa Jarvis were commentators for the fashion show and Peter Shaw and John Comeau gave short accounts on Industrial Arts in the various grades.

Grade VII showed aprons which had been made, and the girls looked fresh and dainty as they displayed them. Grade VII is the first year class in Household Science.

Grade VIII more advanced, showed blouses and a few skirts, nicely tailored and fashioned in smart styles.

Lovely cotton dresses were fashioned by Grade IX, beautifully done and dresses any girl would be proud to wear and proud to own.

Grade X showed skirts and children's garments, then later, party dresses, suits, etc. The work shown from this class was outstanding and both Mrs. Gaudet, their teacher, and the girls deserved great credit. Mrs. Gaudet has been teaching

Having written five historical novels about 18th and 19th century Americans, Dr. Cyril Harris turned to 20th century autobiography in "Northern Exposure", published last October by W. W. Norton Co., New York.

Harris, born in Weymouth, N. S., in 1891, lives in Elmira, New York, and was professor of English at Elmira College until 1956. His boyhood in Nova Scotia is related in nostalgic detail by Harris, who is gifted along with literary skill with almost total recall. "Northern Exposure" is a novel he was urged to write by his daughter, Kay, a talented artist.

"Obedience was the law in this house", writes Harris of St. Peter's rectory in Weymouth. "Mother knew best, and Father knew best." "Father" was the Rev. George Dowe Harris, rector of the Anglican Church, "a just and exact man in all his dealings". The Harris boys "had ... a wide variety of enjoyable things forbidden them. Never go out of your depth while in swimming. Never go swimming on Sunday. Never play games or run or whistle or go barefoot on Sunday". When the boys disobeyed "we received the wages of sin in Father's study".

Harris describes the blustery winters, the boyish adventures, the one teacher whose face and name (Banks) he can still recollect. He remembers how the sap of spring arrived and "the ferment hit us on or about the fourteenth of February, when the frost was still a foot and a half deep in the ground".

Cyril gave his first valentine to Laura. "Her name was Laura. There is little more of her that I remember." But the shy smile that she gave young Cyril sent "strange new turbulent thoughts within my innocent skull ... "Muddy roads, the pony cart, fishing the Fundy tides, the mail-hour scene, "The Day We Nearly Died" on a 30-m.p.h. auto ride, crokinole and croquet — these are growing glimpses in "Northern Exposure". "Slender, tweedy, silvery Cyril Harris shares his boyhood with his readers in a new book which may have sequels".

says a book review in the Elmira (N.Y.) Star-Gazer.

A graduate of Harvard and the General Theological Seminary in New York City, Dr. Harris served as an instructor of English at Cornell, assistant professor at Brown University and an associate professor of English at Bard College, Annandale-on-Hudson. He was named visiting professor of English at Elmira College in 1946 and remained on the staff at the college until his retirement in 1956.

His previous novels are: "Trumpets at Dawn" (1938), "One Braver Thing" (1942), "Richard Prynn" (1944), "Street of Knives" (1950) and "The Trouble at Hungerfords" (1952).

While a member of the Elmira College faculty, Dr. Harris also taught adult course in creative writing. The Harris are a creative family. Mrs. Harris, as well as their daughter, has won honours for her art work.

Bilingualism A Reality At St. Ann's College

Bilingualism is no mere theoretical dream at St. Ann's College, the small Roman Catholic University which stands in somewhat bleak academic solitude at Church Point, on Nova Scotia's western coast, between Weymouth and Yarmouth.

At St. Ann's bilingualism is a reality — and has been since the university was founded in 1899. It is the only French-speaking university in Nova Scotia and was established to serve the higher education needs of the Acadian community. But, in contrast to some of the major universities in the Province of Quebec, where French is the sole medium of instruction, English is used at St. Ann's, particularly in the teaching of science and mathematics. Students who do not speak French are admitted to St. Ann's only in exceptional circumstances, however.

The college's president, Rev. Francois d'Entremont, is as fine an example of a bilingualist as one could hope to find, speaking as fluently in English as he does in French.

Next year St. Ann's will celebrate the 75th anniversary of its foundation.

"I think it is somewhat of a miracle that it has survived," Father d'Entremont says. The college, which is run by the Redemptorists, received its charter in 1892. Its present student strength is 245, but of these 125 are in the university grades, the remainder in the high school section. Bachelor of Arts courses, and post-graduate studies leading to M.A. degrees, are taken. At present the majority of the post-high school students come from Quebec province. Father d'Entremont is hoping for increased provincial grants which will help St. Ann's to expand and rebuild.

And he also hopes for more students from Nova Scotia. "Now that the University Grants Committee has been set up, we envisage an expansion," he explains.

"We shall be able to pull down our old wooden building and put up a new modern building. This will involve expenditure of about $1,000,000.

"Our new residence, with 60 double rooms, has been occupied since last October. And this summer we are starting to build three new laboratories for chemistry, physics and biology. We are also going to enlarge our library."

Father d'Entremont would like to see aid take the form of building grants like those paid by the New Brunswick government to universities in that province — grants which are spread over a number of years.

"If we had the funds we could enlarge right away," Father d'Entremont concedes. "We could take many more students in the college courses than we do now. It all depends on money."

With the influx of so many students from Quebec, is there any underground political movement on the lines of the Quebec separatist movement? Have the Quebecois among St. Ann's student body influenced the native-born Nova Scotian Acadicians into adopting a more militant French-oriented mood and a more aggressive advocacy of French culture?

Father d'Entremont knows of no such development.

"The Acadicians have lived here amicably with English-speaking Nova Scotians for a long time," he says. "They are in rather a different position from the people of Quebec, the majority of whom are French-speaking."

"In any case, many of the Quebec students come to St. Ann's because they want to learn to speak better English." St. Ann's is not a member of the recently-formed Association of Atlantic Universities. "We were never invited to join," Father d'Entremont explained.

St. Ann's may seek an affiliated status with the new Acadician University at Moncton, but no official steps have been taken yet to accomplish this. Father d'Entremont feels that in this age when Providence might well appear to

Hill Grove Youth Hold Fellowship

Members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship of the Hill Grove church brought their meetings to a close for this season with a meeting at the Baptist parsonage, Digby, as guests of the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, and Mrs. Hartlin.

Following a devotional service the young people played a number of games and contests, which were enjoyed, as well as the refreshments served by Mr. and Mrs. Hartlin at the close of the meeting.

On the previous week, members of the Hill Grove group were guests of the Barton B.Y.F. group and participated in a program of fellowship and fun during the evening.

Plans have been made to hold the annual Roll Call service of the Hill Grove church on the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, June 24th. Rev. H. L. Denton, D.D., has been engaged as the Roll Call preacher for this occasion.

New coats of paint have been given to the exterior of the Hill Grove church and hall and the buildings present an attractive appearance on the hill.

be on the side of the big battalions in higher education as in other spheres, it is wise for a small college to affiliate — however loosely — with a larger university.

Baptist C.G.I.T. Hold Closing

Members of the C.G.I.T. group of the Baptist Church of Digby held their closing meeting for this season with a variety program in the church hall.

Carol Young, president of the group, presided at the meeting and gave a welcome to all mothers and fathers of the girls present, as well as to a number of other guests. At the beginning a devotional service was conducted by the girls. A sing-song was also enjoyed.

Mrs. Jean Olsen was presented with a gift in appreciation of her services in directing the young people during the year in their musical activities. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served to all at a number of tables arranged for the purpose.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Barbara Till and Mrs. Amelia Whalley, the organization has had a successful season of meetings, events, studies and projects. The group also participated in a number of special church activities and conducted services.

Marriages

Wickerson — Stark

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at Knox United Church, Toronto, Ontario on Saturday, April 25 at 3 p.m. when Connie Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilkerson was united in marriage to Emdon Charles, second son of Mrs. Gladys Stark, Digby, Nova Scotia and the late Emdon F. Stark.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Howard McQueen.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white brocade, sheath dress with a V-shaped neckline. She wore a shoulder length veil caught up with a halo of sequins, and carried a bouquet of red roses and white mums. Her only ornament was a gold cross, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ennos was the bridesmaid and her dress was of blue nylon sheer with matching head-dress. Her bouquet was of white mums. The best man was Wilfred Weir, friend of the groom.

The mother of the bride wore a turquoise dress with matching accessories, with a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother wore an aqua linen suit with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception for seventy-five guests was held following the ceremony at the Army and Navy Club at 563, Spadina Ave. where a buffet lunch was served.

The bride's table was decorated in pink and white centerpieces with a three-tier wedding cake, which was cut in traditional fashion by the bride and groom. The toast to the bride was proposed by Wilfred Weir and responded to by the groom.

After going away the bride wore an antique white coat with a matching hat. After a short honeymoon, the happy couple will reside in Toronto, Ont. where the bride is employed with Allstate Insurance Co. and the groom at the Royal Simpson Eastern Ltd.

Out of town guests for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. James Smith and sons

Terry and Roger, Long Island, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Bud Nute, Hamilton, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Donaldson, Downsview, Ont.

Moore — Doiron

St. Paul's Church, Calgary, Alberta, was the scene of a pretty spring wedding when Marie Doiron, eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Doiron, Digby, N.S. became the bride of Martin Lloyd Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Moore of Grande Prairie, Alberta. Rev. Father H. Bastigal performed the solemnizing ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie with chapel train. Her long tiered shoulder length veil of silk tulle was held in place by a coronet of pearls and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white garden roses and a spray of white hydrangeas.

Mrs. Yvonne Doiron, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a pale green gown with matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of yellow roses with white hydrangeas.

Mr. David Carlisle of Edmonton was the best man. The groom was Gerald Birchfield of Edmonton and Donald Repka of Calgary.

Mrs. M. Benner was organist and Stanton Davis was the soloist.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Penthouse of the Palliser Hotel, Sunday.

Mr. Stuart Campbell of Edmonton and cousin of the bride proposed the toast.

Following a wedding trip to Montana, Mr. and Mrs. Moore will reside in Calgary.

St. Pat's Holds Graduation

The annual commencement exercises of St. Patrick's Business College were held in St. Patrick's Church, Digby, June 7th, at eleven o'clock. Those participating in the ceremony entered the church and proceeded up the main aisle as follows: Cross Bearer, John Martin; Acolytes, Bruce Surette and Daniel O'Neill; the Business College graduates; the Celebrant, Rev. Joseph Hattie; Master of Ceremony, Michael Surette. The girls and boys of the graduating class were clad in gowns and caps and they took their places in the sanctuary for the Mass which followed immediately.

The High Mass sung was by J. V. Dethier. The choir was conducted by Rev. Luc Gaudet, Pastor, who was accompanied at the Con Artist organ by Rev. Robert Simard, C.J.M., Organist at St. Anne's College.

Mayor Clayton D. Snow and Mrs. Snow were present at the ceremony.

The address to the Graduates was given by Rev. J. C. Thibault, Pastor of St. Thomas Church, Shelburne, Nova Scotia, who was the Guest Speaker. Father Thibault, in speaking to the Graduates said, "You now enter the business world; some of you will be secretaries, and as such, you will transcribe the utterances of your employer. His letters will bear your initials. The substance of those letters will be his, but the shadings of thought will be yours. The business vocabulary is harsh and cold. Often, in such correspondence, you will be at liberty to inject human warmth, by carefully chosen words. In twenty different offices, you will be able to spread Christian charity, and preserve love of man, in spite of an automated, heartless world of barter. If every secretary, of every business office, in every part of this old world, would do as much, what a changed world this would be.

The pressures of modern business have inspired the fitting name of "rat-race". The demands of this competitive field are exhausting; the tensions are destructive. Mammon, the false god of earthly gain, is a jealous one. Will you, too, fall prey to this monster, or will you dare to be different? Will you dare to examine your origin (the origin of man) and then be yourself: possessor of a material body, yet a spiritual soul? Man's body originated from the "slime of the earth", so the human soul must nourish.

Auxiliary Entertained By Mrs. Richardson

The June meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Digby General Hospital was held at Mrs. E. B. Richardson's cottage in South Range.

The fund raising project for the month of May was the Florence Nightingale Tea. A report of the tea was given by Mrs. Wallace Hodgson, convener of the tea.

Plans for the Hospital Bazaar are progressing very favorably. Outside organizations and communities are showing a great deal of interest. A large box of donations has been received from Mrs. A. E. Moore, of Westport, and another from Mrs. Harry Lewis, Weymouth. Articles that will be on sale at the fair were exhibited. Mrs. V. G. Cardoza showed the members a linen luncheon cloth which she had just finished and she had a breakfast set on hand.

Mrs. Edwards presented two car seats with matching cushions, a dainty apron and a number of linen runners.

Labels were passed in for the Golden Book for Charity, and all members were asked to collect and pass on their labels to Mrs. Charles McBride before June 15th as it is hoped that a shipment of labels will be sent very soon after that date.

The members are undertaking an "Earn-a-Dollar Project" for the month of June.

Mrs. Richardson was assisted in her hostess duties by Mrs. Daisy Ruggles and Mrs. Helena Outhouse. Refreshments were served at the

222 Confirmed At St. Patrick's

Last Wednesday evening saw the Confirmation of two hundred and twenty-two persons, including over thirty adults, at St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Digby. His Excellency Most Rev. Albert Lemenager, D. D., Bishop of Yarmouth, conferred the Sacrament before a capacity-plus congregation, the largest in many years at St. Pat's.

Those being confirmed came from Digby and the surrounding areas that include the parish's mission chapels.

Bishop Lemenager was assisted by Rev. Louis Surette, of Yarmouth. The confirmed were assisted by Rev. L. Gaudet, pastor of St. Patrick's, and by Rev. W. M. Boland, R. C. Padre at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis. Rev. Hector Melanson, curate at St. Ambrose Cathedral, Yarmouth, was Master of ceremonies. Mr. Theodore Scott and Mrs. Donald Amiraault assisted as proxy for the sponsors of those confirmed. Members of the K. of C. acted as ushers. Sister Ann Catherine sang the hymns. She was accompanied by sister Roberta on the organ.

25th Annual Meeting Of Red Cross

At the 25th annual meeting of the Digby Red Cross Branch, held on Wednesday evening, Mrs. R. B. Lent was again re-elected to the branch presidency. The slate of officers for 1964-5 also included: honorary president, Dr. T. W. Hodgson; 1st vice-pres., Mrs. H. M. Warner; 2nd vice-pres., Mrs. A. J. Dillon; secretary, Mrs. Percy Robert; treasurer, Mrs. B. H. Ruggles; assistant secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. J. Brittain.

Committees were appointed as follows: awards, Mrs. R. B. Lent, Mrs. Oscar VanTassel, Mrs. Allen Stark; blood donor, E. B. Tufts (with power to add); disaster relief, Mrs. George Winfield, Mrs. Daniel Comeau, H. M. Warner, Daniel Comeau; nursing, Mrs. Sidney Smith, Mrs. D. G. Black, Mrs. E. H. Anderson, Mrs. Richard Baxter, Mrs. Jerry Connelly, Mrs. Victor Cardoza; publicity, Mrs. H. M. Warner; emergency aid, Mrs. Daniel Comeau; sickroom loan, Delbert Forrest, Mrs. George Winfield, Dr. T. W. Hodgson; water safety, C. M. Levy; women's work, Mrs. H. M. Warner, Mrs. Allan Harris; sewing, Mrs. Mable Arnold, Mrs. Oscar VanTassel, Mrs. Fred Daley; knitting, Mrs. R. B. Lent; cutting, Mrs. T. A. Sabean, Mrs. Wilfred Comeau, Mrs. A. Bell, Mrs. Sidney Hall; quilting, Mrs. Allen Stark, Mrs. Orbin VanTassel, Mrs. Blair Daley; packing, Mrs. Fred Thibault; ways and means, Mrs. Ralph Berwick, Mrs. Loran Hayden, Mrs. G. R. Weir; voluntary recruitment, Miss Louise Daley; auditors, H. C. Morton, manager Bank of Nova Scotia, A. L. Williamson, accountant, Royal Bank.

Mrs. Lent, in her presidential report, made special mention of the success of the Blood Donor Clinics and the financial campaign during the past year. She expressed appreciation for the untiring efforts of E. B. Tufts as Blood Donor chairman, and to the Lions Club for their assistance and the use of their hall for the clinics, the last one of which went "over the top" with over 200 donors. In the town campaign, which was carried on under the supervision of Mrs. Allan Harris and the president, the objective of $770 was reached. Thanks were also expressed to Mr. Alfred Grimmer, chairman of the Digby County Campaign, who reported receipts of over $630.

The treasurer's report, presented by Mrs. B. H. Ruggles, showed receipts of $197.91, expenditures of $209.00, and a balance of $199.20. The only major expenditure during the year had been the purchase of a wheelchair at $66.

Banshee Fished Up From Bottom Of Sea

CRASHED IN 1957

Captain Cerno MacCullough (left) and brothers Richard (centre) and Edmond (right) were assisted by the dragger, Barbara Dawn, stand with Banshee tail section they fished up. (RCAF Photo)

A seven-year-old mystery has been solved by the finding of a Banshee aircraft last Wednesday by fishermen.

Three Digby area fishermen netted the tail section of the RCN jet fighter while fishing 68 miles south west of Sable Island.

The men, Captain Cerno MacCullough, and his brothers, Richard and Edmond, believe they hooked the entire plane but the main section broke away as it was being hauled aboard from a depth of about 80 fathoms.

The dragger "Barbara Dawn" was not the first to have snarled the ill-fated fighter. Broken cables from other trawls were found around it when it was winched aboard. The men radioed the RCAF's Maritime Air Command headquarters, and headed for Halifax with the tail section on the deck.

The Royal Canadian Navy has announced that it has "positively identified" the Banshee discovered by the fishermen as one that disappeared mysteriously seven years ago . . . on October 2, 1957. No trace of the aircraft or of the pilot, 22-year-old Sub-Lieut. Howard Cooper, of Spyfield, was ever found.

Sub-Lieut. Cooper took off from the deck of the Bonaventure in either a south-easterly or south-westerly direction, and that he was out of radio range when he actually ditched in the Atlantic.

A massive search over a radius of 150 miles from the aircraft carrier was launched with 10 ships and 19 aircraft from the RCN and RCAF taking part. However, nothing was found of the plane or the pilot, a native of Toronto.

Fleet's 74 Tops Yarmouth Meet

Don Fleet, of Digby, fired a 74 to take low gross honors in the first invitational golf tournament held at the Yarmouth Golf and Country Club on Saturday and Sunday.

A total of 71 competitors from eight clubs competed in the two-day tourney. Fleet's 74 topped the first division. Bob LeHurey, of Brightwood, was second with 77.

Best net score of the meet was a 63 by Harry Swift, of the Yarmouth club.

$522.76, leaving a credit balance of $307.16.

Miss Evendun reported 192 visits made in May with 128 for nursing care. Six hundred and forty-six vaccine inoculations were given at which the V.O.N. assisted. Seven visits were made at school where students were given routine check-ups.

Miss Evendun reported that costs per visit had risen in 1963 to $3.12 as against $2.99 in 1962. Digby charges remained at $2.00 per visit. Mileage on the car in May was 1,164, making a total mileage to date of 7,411.

By the generosity of Reigh Jayne and with work done by Rev. Father Stokes and Mr. MacNaughton, the V. O. N. clinic room was redecorated. The committee formed for

Society Plans Beautification Project

The regular monthly meeting of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Grimmer, Queen Street, with Mrs. John Russell acting as co-hostess.

It was reported that the Department of Trade and Industry had granted the sum of one hundred dollars to assist in the maintenance of the garden near the Welcome to Digby sign. This was the same amount as the organization was given last year.

Plans are to maintain all areas previously sponsored by the club, and to provide extra facilities on the Cannon Bank such as trash cans, additional picnic tables and more benches if they can be obtained. The flower baskets will again be placed in the same area as last year.

Miss Louise Daley, reporting for the tree committee, stated that the trees had been planted, and to date seem to be thriving. For this planting the society is grateful for the interest and assistance of the Streets Committee of the town.

R. K. Beckwith, president of the club, will be in charge of the Sign Garden again this summer, while volunteer members will look after the Admiral Digby Well Project. A committee, of which Mr. Delbert Forrest is chairman and Miss Marjorie Tupper his assistant, will have charge of the Old Loyalist Cemetery. The street baskets are in charge of a committee of which A. T. Grimmer is the chairman.

The next meeting will be held at Mrs. E. B. Richardson's cottage in South Range.

The Garden Club members expressed hope that respect for their efforts to beautify the town has increased, and as a result, the flowers will be left to bloom in peace, the trees will be allowed to grow unmarred, and that all those using the facilities provided in these areas will deposit their waste materials in the containers provided for that purpose.

Bass In Sissiboo

Ardent sportsmen have again made their appearance on the banks of the Sissiboo River, just above the traffic bridge, when the tides suit, with the arrival this week of the bass.

During the past few years, bass fishing has become a popular pastime for red and reel fishermen at Weymouth and already this week Austin Williams, of Weymouth, has captured several.

Divers from HMCS Cornwallis Monday afternoon recovered the bodies of two men who failed to return home Sunday after an overnight sport fishing trip.

John J. Lescaudron, 25, of Granville Ferry, and Earl A. Fancey, 57, of Granville Centre, left Saturday morning for a fishing trip on a small lake near South Milford. Their canoe was found overturned on the lake Sunday.

The men had been the object of an extensive search by local volunteers, a helicopter from RCAF Greenwood, and divers from HMCS Cornwallis.

John Lescaudron was a son of the late Louis Lescaudron and Mrs. Frances Shepherd. He was born at Annapolis Royal. He is survived by his wife, the former Sylvia Wood, two children, Allen and Darlene; his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. James Shepherd; two sisters, Carol, of Halifax, and Susan, at home; and a half-brother, James.

The funeral service was held yesterday with Rev. S. R. Shepherd officiating. Interment was at Woodlawn Cemetery.

Earl Fancey was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Fancey. He was born at South Milford and moved to Granville Centre ten years ago. He is survived by his wife, the former Dorothy Daries, of Bear River; a sister, Mrs. Wilson White, Maitland Bridge; and brothers, Harry and Fred, in New Hampshire.

The funeral service will be held today from the Baptist Church at Granville Centre, with Rev. Paul Underwood officiating. Interment will be in Wadville Cemetery, Granville Centre.

Weyhes Fifty Years Married

On Saturday, June 6, Mr. and Mrs. Erhard Weyhe, of New York and Acacia Valley, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a party at the Hedley House.

Mr. Weyhe is well known in New York both for his Art Book Shop and Gallery, and for the help he has given over the years to young and struggling artists.

During the years since 1927 when they have spent summers in Nova Scotia they have made many friends, a great many of whom remember their kindnesses with gratitude and enjoyed the occasion and the delicious supper very much.

Mrs. Seth Dennis and Mr. Arthur Weyhe flew from New York to attend their parents' party. Miss Deborah Dennis, a granddaughter, accompanied them to wish her grandparents happiness.

Captain James MacPherson, on behalf of all present, wished Mr. and Mrs. Weyhe many more happy years with good health. Mrs. H. P. P. Grey presented the bridal couple with a picture of their beloved Nova Scotia from their Digby friends. The picture, painted by Kelsey Raymond, is of a scene near Victoria Beach. In their surprise, the couple looked very young and charming.

The members of the Society of Friends and their husbands were invited. Mrs. Weyhe has been a member for many years and helped generously with work and contributions towards hospital appliances which the group has purchased. Earlier, the members gave Mr. and Mrs. Weyhe a lamp as an anniversary present.

Guests other than those from the Society of Friends were: Mrs. J. J. Wallis, Miss Gilpin, Mrs. H. P. P. Grey, Mrs. John Russell, Mrs. Henry Morse, Mrs. E. H. Anderson, Miss Daisy McKinnon, Miss Louise Daley and Miss Edith Shreve.

Rev. R. R. Winchester and son Ronald, were in Summerside, P.E.I. last week where they attended the graduation of Mr. Winchester's niece, Miss Ellen Crossman, from the Summerside hospital.

About This and That

Digby's Participation In Apple Blossom Festivals

The Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival is over for another year. Digby again was well represented in the person of Miss Yvonne Doiron as princess. Our congratulations and appreciation go to Miss Doiron for being Digby's representative. While it is an honor to represent a town in the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival, it is also a strenuous ordeal from Friday morning until the celebrations are all over on Monday night. Certainly a word of appreciation should go to any young lady who takes on the task of representing Digby at the event and does so much to publicize Digby in view of tourism. And we are glad to know that Digby did go all out to show their appreciation by a good attendance at the band stand to welcome the queen and the princesses on the train at the station on Monday of last week.

The actual round of duties which Miss Doiron has to perform as apple blossom princess. This is the duty of representation previous to the event, then on the day of the event, to choose for each town a representative, either a girl or a boy, to attend to. And this is not all, she must take some responsibility for the princesses as a means to select a princess for the next year. And who has been taking on that chore in Digby? The Lions. Certainly appreciation should be expressed to the Digby Lions for the part they have been playing in this event for the past some years. After all, it is no more the duty of the Lions Club than it is the duty of any other organization in town to sponsor the Digby princess for the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival. They really have done an excellent job in providing a means to select a princess and to provide a float each year which either surpassed or compared favorably with others in the Festival. We want to show our appreciation to this organization before they decide to quit the job entirely or lose enthusiasm to the extent that a float of lesser quality is entered. The float, itself, does much to enrich the pleasure of the princess in proudly carrying out the duty which becomes hers on behalf of the town she represents.

One thing which seems to be lacking in Digby regarding the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival is good communications or maybe we might say a direct centre of responsibility. This has resulted, we believe, from a shift of responsibility back through the years until responsibility became a vague thing. Let us analyze it. In the first place the princess represents the town. The town council has not always consisted of persons who felt capable or inclined toward this event. The Digby Board of Trade assumed responsibility for some years. But the Digby Board of Trade, like many other Boards, is an "off again" organization and likely through one of its "off again" years the Lions Club was good enough to pick up the duty and have continued their civic pride and are happy to say, through the years since.

Besides Digby has been represented on the Apple Blossom Festival committee by three ladies in an advisory capacity. The function of this representation was never quite clear to us and we doubt whether the town Board of Trade or the Lions Club knew of this representation. Nothing more than a "word down" from the committee to the town where along the line of responsibility. One thing is for certain, it is the committee's duty to have the princesses in the town, people to represent the town. Apple Blossom Festival. Committee meetings, Digby is far away from the centre of things. However, to clarify responsibility, we suggest before another year rolls around that the town, the Board of Trade, the Lions and the representatives get together and designate responsibilities if there are any.

Again, our appreciation to the Digby Lions and the Digby princess for keeping Digby before the public in the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival.

Home Again

Home is dear and familiar. It fits around our shoulders like a well-made cloak, tailored to our long-felt needs. Home is so important to mankind that poets write about it, hymns are sung about it, courses of study have been devised to teach men how to build it, run it, and improve it. To say that one feels at home is one of the highest praises of another's home that one can utter.

But we need to ponder the deeper meanings of home and take stock of how well or how little we grasp the fact that home is more than a material place. For whoever does not understand at least a little of the real significance of home lacks the spiritually foundational rock upon which every happy home must be built if it is to stand.

Home really consists of qualities. The Bible hints at this when it says (Proverbs 15:27), "Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, than a stalled ox and hatred therewith." The home where loving-kindness habitually dwells is a true home and a happy one, even if the roof leaks and the furniture is battered.

"Home is the dearest spot on earth, and it should be the centre, though not the boundary, of the affections," writes Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 58).

When one's sense of home is rooted firmly in the rock of Christ, Truth, the winds may blow and the rains fall and beat upon the house, as Christ Jesus so graphically pictured it in his Sermon on the Mount, and yet it will not fall. The vicissitudes that may come to the family or the individual within the secure sense of home will not touch it or anyone in it.

On the other hand, he who does not come from a secure home, a loving and a happy home, is often set adrift when human temptations come along, it is commonly acknowledged that the one most frequent cause of juvenile criminality is the broken home, in which the mother and father do not live together, or the home where conflict rather than kindness is the rule. It is not necessarily the impoverished home that sends forth the delinquent child; it is the home where love does not dwell. This is the kind of home that leaves the child ill-prepared for the winds and storms of life.

How important, then, it is for us to develop — if we do not already possess it — a clear sense of home in the heart! That is where the security of one's home lies — in the heart.

Outwardly and to others, one's home may look a bit like a waste place, and the surroundings like a wilderness. But an understanding of the indwelling love of God, our Father-Mother, somehow transforms it into "the dearest spot on earth."

Poverty cannot deprive one of his real home; disaster cannot destroy it; envy, jealousy, or greed cannot rob one of it.

In an address delivered to an audience of Christian Scientists in Chicago in 1888, Mrs. Eddy said (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 100): "Pure humanity, friendship, home, the interchange of love, bring to earth a foretaste of heaven. They unite terrestrial and celestial joys, and crown them with blessings infinite." (The Christian Science Monitor)

Brian Meagher Deputy Minister

A Canso native who started commercial fishing at the age of 11 and bought his own lobster boat a year later has been appointed Deputy Minister of Fisheries for Nova Scotia.

The appointment of Brian Meagher as Deputy Minister of the new Department of Fisheries has been announced by Hon. E. A. Manson.

Mr. Meagher, 51, has been Director of the Fisheries Division, Department of Trade and Industry, since November, 1951.

"We are fortunate that we will have as Deputy of the new department a man who has had 36 years' experience in the fisheries industry," said Mr. Manson.

"The knowledge Mr. Meagher gained during his career in the inshore and offshore fisheries, in small boats and large vessels, and in marketing and education, has contributed much to the industry."

Mr. Manson said Mr. Meagher had played a leading role in introducing new methods and encouraging modernization of Nova Scotia's fishing fleet.

Born in Canso, Guysborough County, in 1913, Mr. Meagher received his early formal education there. At the age of 11 he started commercial fishing and followed this occupation for nine years.

During this period he was active in community development and played a prominent part in organizing lobster marketing.

He spent two years deep sea fishing out of Gloucester and Boston, Mass., and Portland, Maine, aboard large diesel trawlers.

He was offshore fishing during the next two years and followed this with one year as a field worker for St. Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, N. S., in the fishing industry.

His next position was with the marketing division of the Department of Agriculture,

Nova Scotia, which represented the fisheries industry prior to the establishment of the Fisheries Division within the Department of Trade and Industry.

In 1940 he accepted a position as manager of a commercial fish marketing organization in Ontario. He was appointed Director of the Fisheries Division, Department of Trade and Industry, in 1954.

Mr. Meagher is married to the former Mae Sylvia LeBlanc, of Yarmouth. They have five children: Michael, 17; Peter, 16; Karen, 10; and Barbara and Bernard, 1.

Minister Of Fisheries

Hon. Edward Alexander Manson became Nova Scotia's first Minister of Fisheries during a brief swearing-in ceremony at noon today in the Red Chamber of Province House.

Mr. Justice J. H. MacQuarrie, administrator of the government and a justice in the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia, administered the oath of office to Mr. Manson, who was presented by Premier R. L. Stanfield.

Mr. Manson, who represents Cape Breton West in the Nova Scotia Legislature, now assumes a double portfolio. He was appointed Minister of Trade and Industry in 1956, the year of his election; to the legislature.

The new department's functions will include further development of the fishing industry and interpretation of federal fishing policies as they affect the provincial fishery.

Mr. Manson was born in Sydney and educated at St. Francis Xavier University and the Maritime College of Pharmacy. He has been the proprietor of drug stores in Sydney since then; is a past vice president of the Sydney Board of Trade and a past president of the Sydney Board of Trade and a past president of the Nova Scotia Pharmaceutical Society.

He was re-elected in the 1960 and 1963 provincial elections. From 1956 and 1961, he also held the mines portfolio.

Mr. Manson is married to the former Euphemia M. Wilson. They have two children, William and Carol Lee (Mrs. Kevin Penny).

Nova Scotia, which represented the fisheries industry prior to the establishment of the Fisheries Division within the Department of Trade and Industry.

In 1940 he accepted a position as manager of a commercial fish marketing organization in Ontario. He was appointed Director of the Fisheries Division, Department of Trade and Industry, in 1954.

Folks who come to our fair province from afar and then see the far-famed, widely advertised Valley apple blossoms may well have sought a trip right down the shore from Digby and through the Weymouth area where some of the loveliest gardens may be seen.

Certainly a bit later the roses, irises and dahlias and the flowers of the summer season delight the eye, but right now one may see Japanese quince, flowering thorn, tulips and daffodils, jonquil and hyacinth and here and there, in especially favored spots, a magnolia tree in full bloom, while with less regular pattern than up the Valley where the apple and other fruit trees are so systematically cultivated. In the area we mention the irregularity of the fruit trees, blooming as they do amongst non-flowering trees — spruce, fir, maple, birch and poplar — delight the eye and the wide variety of green in the grasses and other plants make a background of pleasure indeed. Keeping with this the beauty of the Weymouth and Digby Garden Club whose members assembled last week at a weekend by several hundred who worked with real enthusiasm was carried out in the preparing and planting of the Station Road corner plot with shrubs and flowering plants of great variety and few will fail to note the marked improvement just as one breathes the railroad track and proceeds on in the direction of the Post Office.

It is a good thing to plant and cultivate beautiful flowers and when people work together on such a project a new feeling of friendly partnership is bound to result and the garden groups alike and the community interest in the garden will be increased and cared for.

Of all the odd characters who have walked across the pages of history, one of the oddest was a beautiful, vivacious, brilliant and wealthy socialite of the Victorian era. She is described as having been slight, tall, and willowy, with a small head set on her neck with the grace of a deer. She loved to dance, and was light as thistledown on her feet.

She was born in Italy, in 1820, while her English parents were vacationing there. Like her sister, who had been born the year before, she was named for the city of her birth - the sister's name was Parthenope. The name given the younger sister, in 1820, was every bit as strange, but fifty years after her birth, hundreds of girls, named after her, were indirectly named after a far away city most of them had never seen.

This woman spent a great deal of her early life travelling in Europe, and even as far afield as North Africa. She was very much a member of what we in the late twentieth century call "the jet set." In spite of her love of gaiety and frivolity, in her early twenties, this girl was considered an intellectual. She was sought out by the possessors of the finest minds of her era, and she numbered these people among her friends. Richard Monckton Milnes proposed to her a number of times, and she was a friend of John Stuart Mill. Her facility in Greek was so great that she helped Benjamin Jowett in his translations of Plato.

She had a strange facility for attracting deep devotion. Everyone who met her loved her, not a gentle, insipid love, but a deep, robust adoration. Even when the several men she refused to marry married at later dates, their wives tended to become her deep admirers. It is said that men kissed her shadow as she passed. It is said that she could make wounded soldiers stop drinking, write to their wives, submit to pain, and bear to watch pain in others.

At the age of seventeen, she had a religious experience. She wrote in her diary, on February 7, 1837, she recorded that God had called her into his service, but she had no idea in what way her life was to be used. This experience was the dominant drive for the rest of her long life. She spent seven unhappy years searching for the way she was to use her life. Her parents and sister were brilliant and charming people, but the mother and sister were governed by convention. The father was aware of the great gifts of his remarkable child, and fostered them, but the mother felt that intellectual pursuits were wasted on girls. Young ladies of good breeding were to remain at home, arrange flowers, and wait for suitable husbands.

Seven years after her call, in 1844, when she was twenty-four, she realized that her vocation lay in hospitals among the sick. She did not mention the subject to her family for another year. When she did, an explosion was produced. In those days there was scarcely a place less respectable than a hospital, and this, for a young girl of good breeding was beyond the tolerance of the family. Her mother accused her of having "a secret love affair with some low, vulgar surgeon." Parthenope had hysterics, and her beloved father, who had taken such pains with the education of his charming daughter, went off to London in a huff.

There were still more setbacks to her life, but from the day she made up her mind, she never lost sight of her goal. Finally, in 1851, when she was thirty-one, she went to Germany to "train". She refused to say that she had been "trained". Although Kaiserworth was one of the best hospitals, it was so inefficient, dismal, and downright unsanitary, that it merely served her as a place to get her qualifications.

She was a woman of strange contrasts. At times she was plunged into deep feelings of despair and self accusation, but even in these orgies of humility, there was no modesty. In spite of the deep violent love she evoked from all who met her, she drove the people who were eventually to work for her unmercifully. She was the soul of kindness, gentleness and inspiration to her patients. She established a school of nursing, and to the end of her life, she knew every girl who ever entered it, she never let them accept a post without her approval, and long after they had graduated, girls a quarter of her age wrote her affectionate letters. Yet she could tolerate no sickness on her staff. Until a person was bedridden, any complaint of sickness was malingering. She herself returned to England from the Crimea in 1855, a very ill woman. She continued to claim to be ill until her death in 1910. During those years she rarely left her home, and some days hardly left her bed, but she did seventeen hours work a day on government commissions, the administrative work of her school, and writing. During her ninety years, she published about seventeen works.

I started by saying that Florence Nightingale was an "odd character" but I have failed to give you any inkling of her eccentricities. May I suggest, if you would like to become intimately acquainted with a strange, remarkable and interesting woman, you read FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE by Cecil Woodham-Smith (who is a woman, by the way). It is published by Penguin Books.

Annapolis Co. H. & S. Meets

In speaking at the Spring Rally of Annapolis Home and School County Council, held in Clarence East, Clifford Edwards, who now includes among his other duties that of acting chairman of the National Federation of Home and School, briefly explained the Non-graded Curriculum. He personally visited schools in Saskatchewan last year where this type of education has been used since 1960. The non-graded curriculum will be the national topic for study in H. & S. next year. It is understood that a tape recording may be available for guidance at times when Mr. Edwards is not able to appear in person.

It was announced the Council will sponsor a booth at the exhibition in Lawrencetown this year. Representatives from Annapolis County Council will attend the Provincial Council in Halifax from July 2nd to 4th. It is understood that out of fourteen associations in the county only four will be unable to attend.

Now officers installed by the visiting chairman of National H. & S. are: president, Arthur Hill; vice-president, Rev. Lewis White; treasurer, Mrs. Emin; secretary, Mrs. Gladys Kaye; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ed. Weare; publicity, Louise Shaw; family life, Mrs. Junior Marshall, Anna; program, Mrs. Lesley Allan; arts and crafts, Mrs. Chester Davies. In addition to these, the president and secretary of each organization will be expected to act on the executive committee.

Rev. Mr. Harvey To Be Special Speaker

Rev. Charles Harvey, B.A., B.D., missionary on furlough from Angola, Africa, will be the speaker at the services of the Digby and Hill Grove Baptist Churches next Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey are young missionaries serving under the Canadian Baptist Overseas Mission Board, and have spent some years in Angola where Canadian Baptists support missionary work. They are among the few missionaries permitted to remain in that unhappy land. It is expected that Mr. Harvey, on Sunday morning, will give a graphic description of conditions in Angola, from which land he has recently returned, and will speak of the need there of the Christian witness.

All youth groups in the Baptist Church of Digby and at Hill Grove have completed their weekly meetings for this season and will resume activities in the early autumn. Youth work in the church has come steadily forward during the past season with substantial enrollment of the young people of the congregation in the various organizations. Camping will be among the features for a number of the young people during the month of July.

Mrs. MacInnes Delivers Message

Mrs. C. C. MacInnes delivered the message at Grace United Church on Sunday morning in the absence of Rev. R. H. Hughes, who attended the Marriage Conference United Church of Canada, held in Sackville, N. B.

Mrs. MacInnes, who is president of the United Church Women, spoke on Women in the New Age, outlined the U.C.W. organization and stressing the work of the Christian and Missionary Education Committee. She reminded her listeners that it is not the U.C.W. organization for which the women are working but that they are working for Christ.

Mrs. John Hisey told the children's story, Mrs. Ronald Hisey read the scripture and Mrs. Ronald Denton led in prayer.

The program planning was in the hands of Mrs. Bryson Denton, past president Grace United Church.

GRADUATION

ish itself from whence it came: "not in bread alone doth man live, but in every word that proceeds from the mouth of God" (Mt. 4:1). Work is honorable; you will be worthy of your wage; material goods are a part of man's life on earth, but not to the exclusion of his spiritual interests. At this early date, you are still somewhat free of the "rat race". You can still refuse to be earthbound, leading a life of mere earthly interests, void of all true purpose, with its ensuing pressures, frustrations and depressions; or, to your life-long advantage, you can now decide to lead a balanced career of material pursuits, but guided always by higher, spiritual purposes. If you do, you'll be truly yourself."

At the conclusion of the Mass, Father Hattie presented the following diplomas and prizes:

Business College Honor Diplomas: Class Leader, Gayle Eileen Oswald, Richard Eugene Wiles, Joanne Mary

Bailey, Carol Joanne Thomas, Gloria Rose Perkins, Joan Elizabeth Todd, Elizabeth Jean Peters, Marjorie MacLeod Johnson, Mary May Amiraault, Louise Augusta Gidney, Pass, Lauren Andrea Savary, Pauline Rosalie Robar, Diana Laine Mason, Carolyn Marie Thibault, Jean Elizabeth Trask, Marilyn Jean Jeattie, Shirley Marie Thibault, Patricia Anne Pitt, Jeanette Anne Brown, Joan Marie VanTassel.

The following awards were announced:

Class Leadership Prize, awarded by Rev. Luc Gaudet, to Gayle Eileen Oswald.

Business Ethics Prize, for outstanding Character and Business Personality Qualities, presented by the 1963 winner, Miss Mildred Donnelly, to Gloria Rose Perkins.

Shorthand Speed Prize for Proficiency in Shorthand Tests at 100 words per minute, donated by Rev. David Stokes, to Joan Elizabeth Todd.

Senior Typewriting Prize, for the highest speed, 72 words per minute, with accuracy, sent by Monsignor W. Leo Murphy, Halifax, to Gayle Eileen Oswald.

Junior Typewriting Prize, the first to earn 50 words per minute with no errors, awarded by the Catholic Women's Club, Digby, to Elizabeth Jean Peters.

College Bookkeeping Prize, for the best solution of a Retail Business Practice Set, donated by the Knights of Columbus, Digby Club, to Louise Augusta Gidney.

College and NOMA Prize, for 100% accuracy in two International Tests, given by Joseph Hattie Store, Digby, to Pauline Rosalie Robar.

Filing and Office Practice Prize, for the highest efficiency in solving five Business Education projects with 100% accuracy, donated by J. Elie Comeau, Digby, to Carol Joanne Thomas.

Certificates and Prize Pins for Perfect Attendance during the school year, 1963-1964, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Amiraault, to Jeanette Anne Brown, Shirley Marie Thibault, Joan Elizabeth Todd, Richard Eugene Wiles.

Following the graduation exercises in the church, the graduates proceeded to St. Patrick's Hall where they were congratulated by the ladies of the Catholic Women's Club, after which they were seated at an appropriately decorated table and partook of a turkey dinner, prepared and served by the following ladies: Mrs. Fred Amoro, Mrs. Daisy Theriault, Mrs. Carl Saulnier, Mrs. Paul Winchester, Mrs. Lottie Doucette, Mrs. Ralph Theriault, Mrs. Anthony Saulnier and Mrs. Alex Wentzell.

The ushers at the church were: Mr. Joseph Hattie, Mr. J. Ralph McIntyre, Mr. Gerry Connelly, Mr. Glenn Smith, Mr. Carl Saulnier, Mr. Arnold McCallum and Mr. Victor Comeau.

CONFIRMATION

At the close of the Confirmation ceremony, Bishop Lem-enager addressed those present, remarking on the large number there to receive the Sacrament. In his address he insisted that as Baptism constitutes a rebirth into the supernatural life of Grace, so Confirmation constitutes a coming to maturity in that Christian life. He concluded that those Confirmed, instead of presuming that they have complete and full knowledge of their Faith, should now have rather a greater reason why they should continue to study it and inform themselves more and more on the teachings of their religion.

In his general remarks to the parish, His Excellency remarked that St. Patrick's seemed to be becoming the centre of Catholic life in this area of the diocese, with such a large Confirmation following so closely on an Ordination and First Mass. Father Joseph Hattie's Ordination had been less than a week past.

On the subject of a new school being built, the Bishop expressed gratitude for what had been done, thanking especially the Sisters of Charity for bearing the cost of the building and the local civil officials for their collaboration in making it possible.

His excellency, in encouraging the parishioners, remarked on the shortage of priests, pledging more clergy for the under-staffed parish as soon as the extra priests are available. He prayed that the recent ordination ceremonies would encourage vocations to the priesthood and religious life among the youth of the parish.

Following the Bishop's address, Holy Communion was distributed, followed by Solemn Pontifical Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Hold Florence Nightingale Tea

Mrs. Wallace Hodgson was convener of a Florence Nightingale Tea held recently at the Nurses' Residence of the Digby General Hospital.

Mrs. Ina Dillon and Mrs. E. J. Theriault poured and the servers were Mrs. Wallace Hodgson, Mrs. Barbara Weir, Mrs. Sydney Smith, Mrs. Charles Hersey, Mrs. C. D. Snow, Mrs. V. G. Cardoza, Mrs. Russell Stonehouse and Mrs. D. G. Black. Mrs. Thomas Sabean acted as cashier and Mrs. Grace Edwards and Mrs. Hilda Cossaboom welcomed the guests.

Besides those who attended from the town there were interested persons present from Bellevue's Cove, Saulnierville, Grosses Coques, Southville, Smith's Cove and Riverdale.

The sum of about forty-five dollars was realized from this project.

The report of the Women's Work Committee, given by Mrs. J. M. Varne, itemized a total of 800 articles made during the year, of which approximately 700 were for disasters at home or abroad, through the Red Cross headquarters in Halifax, and the balance were used locally. In addition, over 3,000 gauze wipes had been folded by Miss Nellie Amoro and forwarded to the Blood Transfusion Service. Special thanks were extended to outstanding workers, particularly to the Mount Pleasant ladies, and especially to Mrs. Oscar VanTassel, whose sewing and knitting totalled more than half of the complete year's work of the branch. Acknowledgement of other outstanding work was made as follows: 18 quilt tops and 30 prs. men's socks from Mrs. Leonard Melanson, Plympton Station; 13 quilt tops from Mrs. Allen Stark; 19 children's sweaters from Miss Bertha Boggs, Kentville; also many other items equally appreciated though in smaller quantities. Thanks were also expressed for donations of quilts and quilt tops received from Mrs. Curtis Young, Mrs. Guy Dunn, Mrs. Oakley Smith, Mrs. Reg Holdsworth and Mrs. Boyd Milberry, also the Society of Friends, Joggin Bridge. Groups assisting in quilting Red Cross materials were Zelma Rebekah Lodge, the Earn and Give Club of the United Church, and the ladies of St. Patrick's Church.

The report of the Disaster Relief Committee, presented by Mrs. George Winfield, showed clothing given to more than 50 families in Digby and the surrounding areas, together with 8 layettes, also 21 Christmas boxes packed for 115 children. Thanks were extended to Delbert Forrest for his help in repairing the toys and to the Eastern Star, Rebekah Lodge, C.G.I.T., and Earn and Give Club for toys donated. Many had assisted in dressing dolls, sewing and knitting, the most outstanding being Mrs. Alma Melanson, who had knit over 90 prs. mittens.

E. B. Tufts, chairman of the Blood Donor Committee, reported two successful clinics held under the sponsorship of the Lions Club. He also reported attendance at a special Blood Donor meeting in Halifax, and participation in a panel discussion on Blood Donor recruitment.

Delbert Forrest, in reporting for the Sickroom Equipment Committee, stated that 30 loans of hospital beds, wheelchairs and crutches had been made during the year, the equipment owned by the branch consisting of 4 gatch beds, 4 standard beds, 5 wheelchairs and 12 pairs crutches. He urged prompt return of equipment not in use in order that it may be passed on to others requiring it. Although the service is free, $17 in donations for the use of equipment, also one pair crutches, were gratefully acknowledged.

The Ways and Means Committee report, prepared by Mrs. Ralph Berwick and presented by Mrs. G. R. Weir, showed receipts of over $90 from Ten Cent Teas served at Red Cross meetings and $63.50 from the sale of aprons. After meeting incidental expenses, $20 had been paid for welfare work and over $150 turned over to the branch treasurer.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, Commissioner C. L. Illsley, of Halifax, gave a brief address, congratulating the branch on its fine record of achievement, followed by the showing of a film on the mouth-to-mouth method of resuscitation of drowning victims.

The meeting closed with the serving of refreshments, tea and coffee being poured by Mrs. Lent and Mrs. Robert.

ENTERTAINS (From p. 1)
The next fund raising project was Mrs. Eva Wendell, Miss Louise Daley, Mrs. Thomas Deveau and Mrs. G. V. Turnbull.

Mrs. Christie read the report of Mrs. Dorothy (Hinxman) Geddes, who attended the annual meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada, held in Ottawa. Two hundred and fifty delegates attended.

One of the highlights of the meeting in Ottawa was a panel on Home Nursing Care when the session convened at Government House with Governor General and Mrs. Vanier.

Emphasis was also put on occupational health where businesses which do not need a full time nurse use V.O.N. service.

The meeting in 1965 will be held in Niagara Falls.

Gets Degrees

Miss Katherine Florence Hobbs, Lunenburg graduated from Mount Allison University at the May 12 Convocation with Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Education degrees. Miss Hobbs has been Senior French teacher at Digby Regional High School for the past two years and intends to teach here the coming year. She graduated from the Lunenburg Academy and then went to Normal School. She taught for five years in the Amherst Regional High School and attended Mount Allison Summer Schools, as well as the regular term there.

While in Amherst she sang in the Trinity St. Stephen United Church choir, under Dr. Alfred Whitehead. Recently she was given his personal invitation to be church organist there for the summer months, but was unable to accept. She is well known to her friends as a pianist and violinist, having played in the Mount Allison Symphony, as well as the Amherst orchestra.

Meleghan Girl Graduates

Among those graduating Saturday (June 6) from the University of Ottawa (St. Patrick's College) School of Social Welfare with the master of social work degree was Mrs. Jacqueline Comeau Donohue, of Meleghan, N. S.

Her husband, John J. Donohue, formerly of Stoney Point, N. Y., was a member of the same graduating class.

Weymouth Men Charged

Peter Brian McNeil and Charles McNeil, brothers, of Weymouth, appeared in magistrate's court in Digby on Tuesday and were charged with attempted break and enter.

Peter was sentenced to six months in the county jail, and Charles will appear later before the Supreme Court.

Brownies, Guides Hold Picnic

A delightful Mother and Daughter picnic was held on the grounds of the Digby Branch Canadian Legion Hall for the Girl Guides and Brownies of Digby last Saturday. The picnic was sponsored by the local association with Mrs. Q. Wenaus, president.

Awards and badges were presented by Guide Captain, Thelma Hicks, to the girls who had earned them through the year.

A skit was presented by the Brownies.

Mrs. E. H. Anderson was presented with a piece of Wedgewood in appreciation of her work during the five years of her presidency.

Miss Sally Carson was presented with a farewell gift.

Speaks On Alcohol

Rev. Mr. MacFarlane, of Wolfville, was guest speaker in the Christian Church at Tiverton Friday evening.

Mr. MacFarlane's subject was "Alcohol", and stories and films described the harmful effects alcohol produces on the mind and body of the takers.

Pamphlets and brochures dealing with the subject of alcohol, which are distributed by the Nova Scotia Temperance Federation at Wolfville, were left at the church by Mr. MacFarlane.

Lodge Members Get Jewels

C. M. Nichols, Deep Brook, was presented with a 50-year jewel by Keith Lodge No. 16, A.F. and A.M. at the regular meeting in Bear River. The presentation was made by Joseph Langley, one of the degree team of 50 years.

L. V. Harris, retired Bear River druggist, was presented with his 50-year-jewel at home because of illness.

Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William White, of Harris, St. Springvale, Maine, were honored at a Sunday afternoon reception in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary. Hosts for the open house were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. Stoddard White, of 3 Windsor St.

Mr. White and his wife, the former Harriet Ruth Johnson, were married June 3, 1914, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Elmer Harris, where they lived all their married life.

White, son of the late James and Lurena (McGrath) White, of Victoria Beach, N. S., moved to Maine in 1912 and retired recently as machinist and set-up man in the sheet-metal department of the WASCO Chemical Co., now American Cyanamid Corp. Formerly he was employed for forty years as machinist in the Goodall, Worsted Co.

He served as a callman on the Springvale Fire Department for 36 years and was formerly an officer of the fire company. He is a 50 year member of Springvale Lodge, A.F. & A.M.

Mrs. White is a native of Arlington, Mass. She came to Springvale at the age of 15. She is interested in Christian work.

Mrs. Delta McGrath, of Port Wade, N. S., a niece of Mr. White, had charge of the guest book. Mrs. Mildred Webster, sister-in-law, was in charge of the punch bowl.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Harold White, of Reading, Mass., Mrs. Walter Penney, Sanford, and Mrs. Richard Snyder, Meredith, N. H.

Kissin' Cousins

For three big days starting Thurs. June 11, the Capitol will present the laugh and song hit of the season, Elvis Presley in two roles, at one time, a mountain man and a Missile man "Kissin' Cousins" in panavision and color. Elvis has a blond haired twin, The girls swoon over... Just for fun. A song filled comedy with Elvis at his Singin'est Kissin' Best. Elvis joins his mountain kinfolk for a hey, hey, hayride of good ol' mountain music. Of course we'll have extra per- formances, we do not want to have anyone say they couldn't get it. First show will start on Thursday at 8:00 p.m. Fri- day there will be two shows starting at 7 and 9. Sat., there will be three shows starting with a kiddie's matinee at Sat- uryday 2:30, 7 and 9, a suitable colored featurette will open each showing.

Second big Sunday show at 8:30 which will continue for Monday and Tuesday at the usual time 8 p.m. with Bob Hope in "A Global Affair". The antics start when a beauti- ful girl guide finds an aban- doned baby in the United Nations Building. The secu- rity guard passes the respon- sibility on Bob Hope, so Bob is on the road to Paternity and has the Global girls in a spin.

Motherhood was never like this. Every mother knows best and all the girls want to mother Bob's baby. It's a riot and you'll enjoy a merry ma- ternal ride with the aspirants.

The presentation was made by Joseph Langley, one of the degree team of 50 years ago.

Mr. Harris, at present, is a patient at Blanchard - Fraser Memorial Hospital in Kentville. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Formerly from Bear River

Mrs. Ada Symonds, wife of Allen Symonds, Halifax, died suddenly in Victoria General Hospital. She was 45.

She was born in Bear River. For the past 24 years she taught school in various Halifax County communities and at the time of her death was a teacher in Beechville.

A member of Cornwallis Street Baptist Church, she was vice - president of the ladies auxiliary.

Also active in community affairs, she was past - president of the Friendly Girls and was Noble Grand of Wilberforce Lodge, No. 7336 IOOF, M.U.

Surviving besides her husband are five sons, David of Halifax; Theodore with the Canadian Army in Germany, who returned home on Saturday; Ernest; Garfield and Frank at home. Three daughters, Beverly, Coleen, and Janis Doreen at home. Her mother, Mrs. G. B. Hill of Bear River, four sisters; Mrs. Georgina Harper, Dartmouth, Edith (Mrs. Murray Langford), Halifax, Miss Dorothy Hill, Bear River, Miss Gertrude Hill of Saint John; five brothers, Vernon, Digby; Harry, John and Venerable of Bear River; Elroy of Kentville.

Her father and several sisters and brothers predeceased her.

Funeral services were held from Cornwallis Baptist Church by Rev. C. L. Coleman assisted by Rev. W. P. Oliver, Halifax, Rev. Brian and Rev. Donald Skies of Hammonds Plains.

Rev. Donald Fairfax, Dartmouth sang a favorite hymn "Precious Lord Take My Hand". Other hymns were "More Love to Thee" and "Ready to Go."

A large congregation paid their last respects to Mrs. Symonds. Beautiful flowers testified to the esteem held for a loved mother and teacher.

Interment was in Fairview Cemetery.

J. Bennie LeBlanc
J. Bennie LeBlanc, assistant Postmaster at Church Point Post Office, passed away suddenly at approximately eight o'clock Friday morning while preparing to assist in mail delivery at the post office. A heart attack caused his death at the age of 47.

Immediately following the seizure, which happened while a patron was being served at the post office by the Postmaster, the doctor and priest were called but within ten minutes following his attack, Mr. LeBlanc was dead.

He was veteran of World War II and served overseas. He was the recipient of a partial war pension due to bronchial trouble. When the postmaster arrived at the post office, Mr. LeBlanc was already at work and he appeared to be in good health but did mention he felt pressure in the chest and did not believe that it was serious.

Mr. LeBlanc was told to take some medication (bromo Seltzer) which he proceeded to do. Immediately following this he stated he did not feel well and sat down on a stool and that is when the full effect of the seizure took place from which he never recovered.

He leaves to mourn him besides his wife, Rosie, two daughters and two sons, Jace, Blanche, Leonard and Albert who resided with him.

Receives Home Nursing Certificate

Miss Anne Saulnier, of Comeauville, receives her home nursing certificate from Basil Belliveau, civil defence co-ordinator for the Municipality of Clare, and Miss Clarisse Theriault, R.N., of Belliveau's Cove, instructor of the 14-week course at Church Point. The photo was taken at the Home Nursing graduation at the Canadian Legion Hall at Saulnierville. (Comeau)

Discuss Industries For Clare At Annual Banquet

A good salesman has to know exactly what he has to sell, stated Michael Knight, deputy minister of Trade and Industry, at the Clare Chamber of Commerce annual banquet held at the Riverside Inn at Meteghan River. "The salesman must take stock or inventory so he will know what goods he has to sell and your industrial committee must do the same. The transportation to outside points must be outlined, electric power costs also must be on hand to present to firms interested."

"Every factor that affects business must be studied and a factual account of what you have to offer to a prospective customer must be made available", stated Mr. Knight. "In this area (Municipality of Clare) you have two industries, fishing and lumbering, which are the basic primary industries of the Municipality". Mr. Knight went on to show where small industries could be developed in the Municipality and with handicrafts in the home becoming an interesting form of improving the economy of the area. He commended the fine work being accomplished in the area. Mr. Knight stated that the requisite necessary is to have skilled labor and skilled management. Clare is known for being industrious, patient, honest and skilled at sewing, he said.

Speaking on the improved economy of the Municipality of Clare, Mr. Knight stated that visitors passing through Clare seeing the well kept homes is a very pleasing picture. The department, said Mr. Knight, has tried to help you as much as you have asked us to do.

Mr. Bernard LeBlanc of Bellevue's Cove was elected president of the Clare Chamber of Commerce and Dr. Louis Thibodeau of Church Point was appointed vice-president.

Mr. J. Medrie Comeau, of Meteghan River, former president, occupied the chair for the evening and acted as master of ceremonies. Mr. Denis Soucie, Meteghan, member of the Clare Chamber of Commerce represented on the Clare Municipal Industrial Committee, gave an interesting report on what the committee had accomplished. Three peat moss bogs had been tested by the department of Mines and Agriculture, the Gaspereau, Salmon River and moss bog in Mayflower, Digby County. Among other matters looked into were: the establishing of a potato chip business, plywood, sheetboard and wooden barrels, also road construction to woodlots which are presently inaccessible.

The Industrial Committee of the Municipal Council consists of the following members: Warden Emile Boudreau, Gerard d'Entremont, Leonard Gaudet and Denis Soucie.

"The thing is...

what can bread do for guys like me?"

Frankly, bread can't do a darned thing for babies... real milk-drinking, shoulder-burping babies!

But, once they become active—start burning up energy—get their first wee lick of grown-up foods... then bread can do plenty! Ben's Holsum Buttermilk Bread; soft, white, sliced—carefully made from enriched flour—can play an important part in diets designed to replace youngsters' burned up energy. It has fine flavor too! Of course, we don't have to tell you grown-ups that!

Marriages

Belliveau — Maillet

Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church, Saulnierville, Digby County, was the scene of a pretty spring wedding when Rev. Thomas Castonguay celebrated nuptial mass, uniting in marriage Marie Carol Belliveau and Alfred Paul Maillet. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Maillet, Meteghan Station and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Belliveau of Weymouth.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in her floor length gown of white satin faced with nylon lace and net. Her veil was held in place by a halo of aurora borealis stones and rhinestones and she carried a bouquet of gardenias with lily of the valley and fern.

Attending the bride were her sister, Barbara Ann Maillet, of Meteghan Station, as bridesmaid and Doloris Thimot, a cousin of the groom, as maid of honor.

The groom's attendants were Chester Maillet, Meteghan Station, brother of the bride, and Leo Belliveau, Weymouth, a cousin of the groom. The nuptial music was provided by a sister from the Sacred Heart Convent.

A reception was held in the parish hall when the toast to the bride was proposed by Father Castonguay.

For her wedding trip to Ontario, the bride wore a brown and beige suit, beige accessories and a corsage of Anemone Beauty roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Belliveau will reside in Newnamville, Ont.

Comeau — Comeau

Wedding was solemnized in St. Bernard Roman Catholic Church when Mr. and Mrs. Elie Comeau, parish priest, united in marriage Marie Geraldine Comeau, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Comeau, St. Bernard, and Normand Comeau, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Comeau of Chelsea, Mass., as bridesmaid.

Organist was Thomas Comeau, Yvonne was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full skirted gown of white nylon chiffon over taffeta with a short train. It featured a bodice and long sleeves with tapered over the wrists. The three-quarter length veil was held in place by a round head-dress of white satin with white orange blossoms, pearls and rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of dark red happiness roses, stephanotis and gypsophelia. She wore a string of pearls.

The bridesmaids were Marie Bonenfant, Jeanette Comeau and Yvonne Blinn. Best man was Raymond Comeau, brother of the bridegroom, Gerald Comeau and Lester Doucet were ushers.

After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast and reception was held at St. Joseph's parish hall, Weymouth.

For travelling the bride wore a suit of romance pink wool with matching straw hat and black patent leather accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Following their wedding trip through Nova Scotia and the New England states, the couple will reside in Burlington, Massachusetts.

Ruggles — Rice

A quiet marriage ceremony took place on Saturday evening, June 6, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glendon Henshaw, Deep Brook, when Rev. G. D. Brydon united in Holy matrimony, Regina Constance Rice, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Henshaw, Waldeck, with Walter Allison Ruggles younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ruggles, of Bear River East, Annapolis County.

The double ring ceremony was used.

The bride given in marriage by her father, looked very lovely in a street length dress of Romance blue nylon and lace, with white picture hat and white accessories; her corsage was of pink and white carnations. The brides only ornament was a string of pearls gift of the groom. She was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Darrel Henshaw, of Bear River, who wore a street length dress of pink nylon and lace, white accessories, corsage of pink and white mums.

Robert Benson, Bear River attended the groom.

The room was beautifully decorated for the occasion with sprays of apple blossoms. The bridal party stood under an arch of apple blossoms, pink streamers and white bells.

The brides mother chose a green lace dress with beige accessories and corsage of yellow and white mums.

The groom's mother chose a beige lace dress with matching accessories and corsage of yellow and white mums.

A reception for relatives and guests followed the ceremony with Mrs. Glendon Henshaw, Mrs. Chester Potter, and Miss Angela Rice serving.

The brides table was centered with a beautifully decorated two tier cake, flanked with white tapers in silver candlesticks on either side.

Miss Angela Rice had charge of the guest book.

The couple will reside in Bear River after a motor trip through the province. The groom holds a responsible position in the stores Dept. at HMCS Cornwallis and the bride is on the staff of the Royal Bank of Canada, Bear River.

Specht — Warren

A pretty June wedding took place at the Digby Baptist Church on Saturday June 6th when Linda June, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Warren was united in marriage by the Rev. H. S. Hartlin to Rossell Edward Specht, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Specht, Digby County.

The bride given in marriage by her father was gowned in white nylon net over satin with scallop neckline of seeded pearls. Her shoulder length veil was caught with a crown tiara. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses.

The matron of honour was her sister, Joyce Brown, who wore a streetlength dress of gold satin and carried a bouquet of yellow and white mums. Her head-dress was in white and gold.

The best man was Frederick Hartlin.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of beige brocade with white accessories and corsage of white and red mums. The mother of the groom wore blue brocade with white accessories and a corsage of white mums.

A reception for a hundred guests was held at the home of the bride's parents, in Cornwall.

The brides table was tastefully decorated in pink and white with yellow tiered cake in the center. The toast to the bride was given by the best man and was responded to by the groom.

Out of town guests were the bride's brother, Mr. Lyman Warren and Mrs. Warren from Ottawa and Mrs. Margaret Wood of Lunenburg, a cousin of the bride. Also from Lunenburg were Mr. and Mrs. M. Harris and daughter.

OPPOSITE BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA, DIGBY

N. S. Sportsman Of Year At Minor Hockey Banquet

The annual Digby Minor Hockey banquet was held on Saturday, June 6th, at 6 p.m. Chairman for the proceedings was Wallace Hodgson. The evening began with the invocation by F. C. Purdy, supervisor of Digby area schools.

After the banquet the guest speaker was introduced by H. MacPherson. George Warden, head of the Maritime Hockey School at Kentville, and Sportsman of the Year 1964 for the Province of Nova Scotia, addressed the group on the qualities desirable to be a good hockey player. He also stressed the need for young players to complete their education. He said that a person with these qualities and education get the most out of life. The speaker was thanked by Bill McLeod.

Arnold McCallum presented trophies to the winning coaches and crests to the winning players as follows:

Flyweight League winners - Rockets, coached by R. Neville and J. Walker; Flyweight Playoff winners - Tartans, coached by J. Comeau and C. Johnson.

Paperweight League Winners - Blue Devils, coached by L. Keddy; Paperweight Playoff winners - Black Hawks, coached by W. Small.

Pee Wee League and Playoff winners - Bruins, coached by Richard VanTassel.

Bantam League winners - Aces, coached by Mr. A. McCallum; Bantam Playoff winners - Warriors, coached by Mr. H. McPherson.

Midget League winners - Victorias, coached by Mr. McCallum; Midget Playoff winners - Maroons, coached by Mr. T. Wood.

Individual Trophies were then presented to the following:

Flyweight League - Top Scorer - Grant Stonehouse; Most Valuable Player - Garth Purdy; Most Improved Player - K. Harlow; Best Defenceman - G. Melanson; Best Goaltender - M. Baxter.

Paperweight League - Top Scorer - K. Maas; Most Valuable Player - M. Wilson; Most Improved - C. Baxter; Best Defenceman - F. Smith; Best Goaltender - K. Sullis and G. Nixon (tie).

Pee Wee League - Top Scorer - T. Mudge; Most Valuable Player - A. Wilson; Most Improved Player - S. Robinson; Best Defenceman - P. Amiraull; Best Goaltender - J. Amiraull.

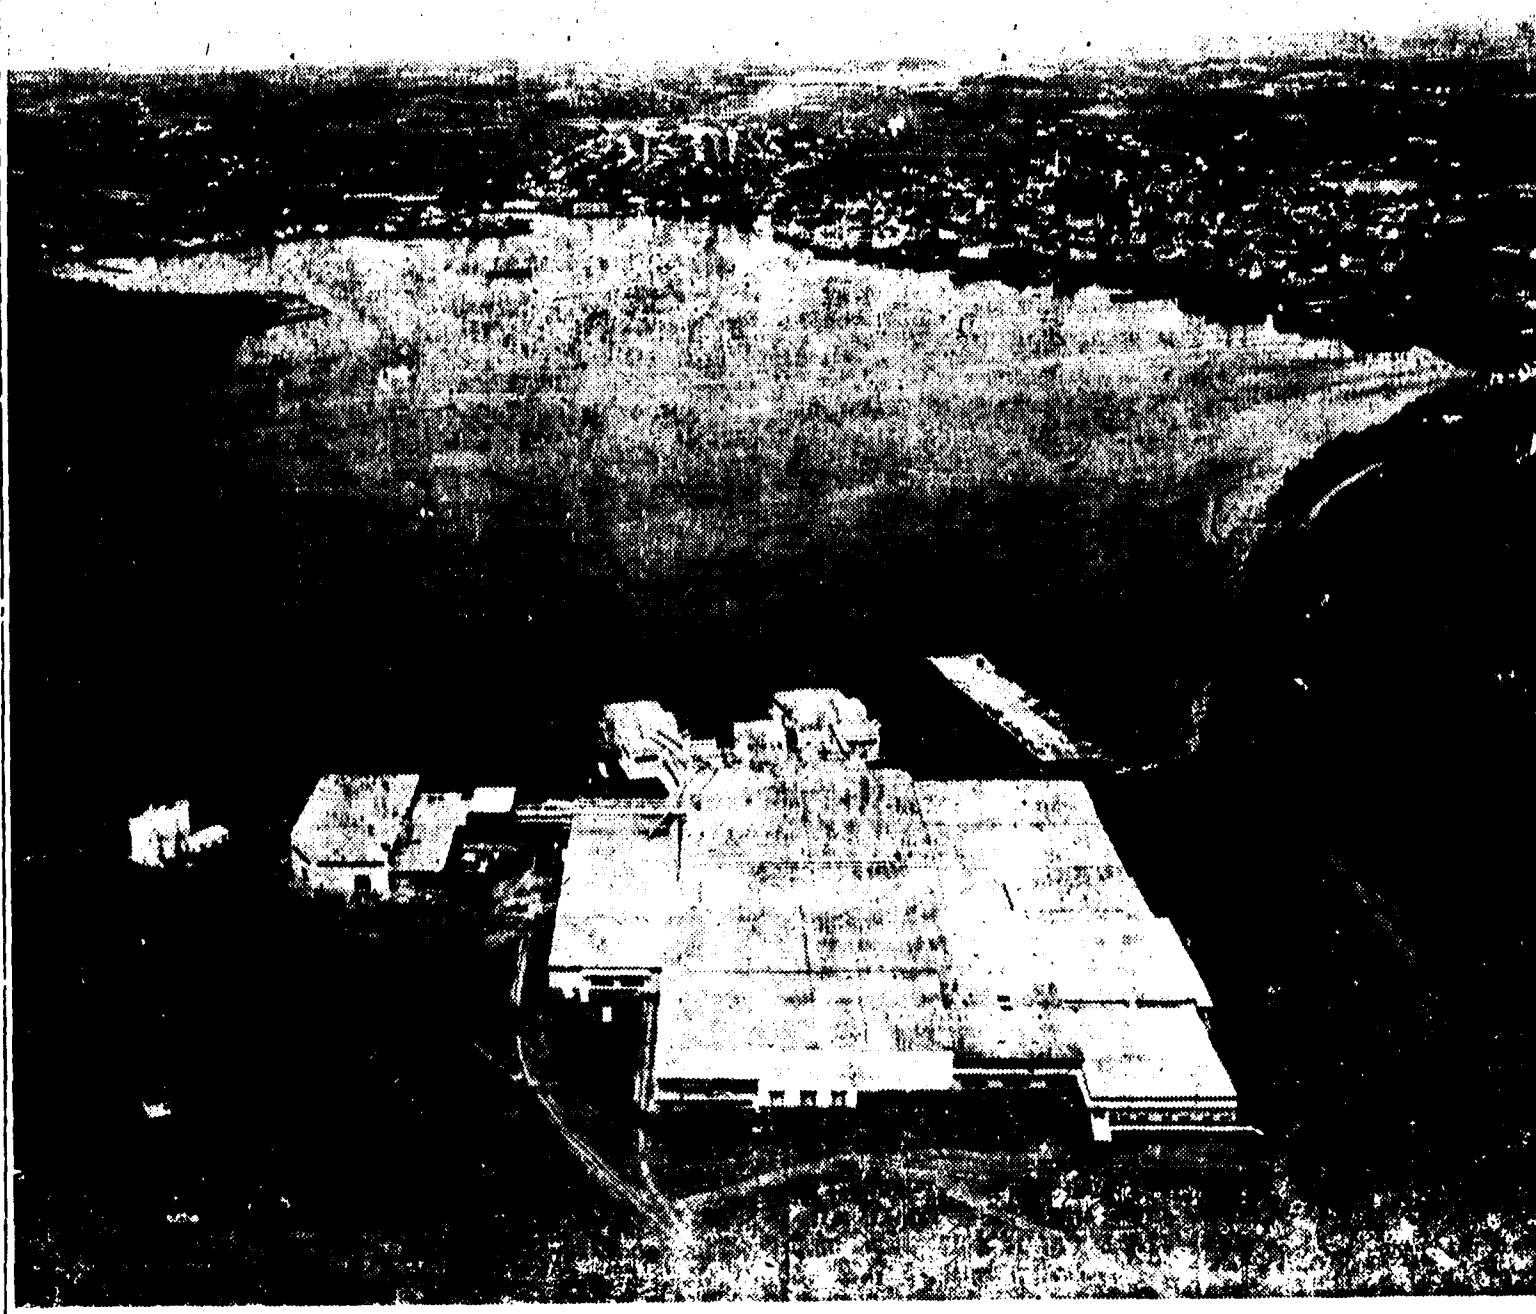

Bantam League - Top Scorer - J. Cole; Most Valuable Player - R. McPherson; Most Improved Player - M. Potter; Best Defenceman - P. Connolly; Best Goaltender - Larry Amero.

Midget League - Top Scorer - A. Doucette; Most Valuable Player - G. Robinson; Most Improved Player - W. Snow; Best Goaltender - Ronald VanTassel; Patterson Trophy - Best Defenceman in League - Geoff Hodgson.

Following the presentation of the individual awards, Ronald VanTassel presented to A. McCallum an engraved silver tray as a token of players', coaches' and parents' appreciation of his nine years work with Mr. W. Hodgson in organizing Minor Hockey in Digby.

It was estimated that 300 parents and boys were present.

Seafood For The Continent

Two trawlers a day will feed this multi-million dollar fish processing plant built at Lunenburg Sea Products Limited. The plant, a wholly-owned subsidiary of National Sea Products Limited will be officially opened Wednesday,

June 24 by President C. J. Morrow. With five and three-quarter acres under one roof, it has a processing capacity of 80-million pounds of raw fish annually for marketing of products to all parts of the North American continent.

Tourist Director Named

The appointment of Captain Richard Hill, Canning, as tourist director for the Annapolis Valley Area, has been approved.

Emmanuel Adelaar, president of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, announced Saturday that the board executive had unanimously approved the appointment.

In making the announcement, Mr. Adelaar stated the board was grateful for the financial support it had received from the Valley boards, municipalities and towns to make the project possible. He said all the municipalities had contributed and expressed the hope some of the smaller towns would come forward with their allotments.

Captain Hill will be stationed in Middleton and will serve the Valley area from East Hants to the Yarmouth County line.

$150,000 For Digby Harbour Board Of Trade Meets

The Department of Public Works, Ottawa, has announced that $150,000.00 has been allowed for harbour improvements at Digby. This was among supplementary estimates tabled in the Commons by Privy Council president McNeill. Public Works items for Nova Scotia totalled $519,000.00.

Extension of public relations between Digby and HMCS Cornwallis was again stressed at the regular meeting of the Digby Board of Trade on Tuesday evening. Cornwallis personnel should be encouraged to participate more in organizations and functions in Digby was the general opinion. More entertainment should be provided in Digby for Cornwallis personnel, it was felt.

Mention was made of $150,000 which the federal government had recently allotted for harbor improvements in Digby. It was noted that this did not represent the full amount that is expected to be spent on a new wharf and other facilities but it represents the amount the Department estimates to be spent in the present fiscal year.

Vincent Snow brought before the Board the fact that Digby did not have a central depot or cooler to hold perishable goods to be shipped from this area. Great access to transportation facilities would be available, he felt, if such a depot existed. From a central depot transports could pick up full loads for their refrigeration trucks.

Several plans were advanced to aid the Digby Recreation Commission for the July 1st day, such as a dory race, boxing, films, etc. It was left to the committee in charge to make arrangements for any of these which seemed feasible.

The Board decided to join the Atlantic Provinces Economic Council.

The meeting was chaired by Charles Haliburton, president.

Assistance To Smaller Fishing Boats

Changes in the Fishing Vessel Assistance Regulations, announced today by Fisheries Minister Robichaud, give greater encouragement to fishermen in the five Atlantic Provinces to acquire more modern and efficient fishing craft. This, the Minister said, is a further step in the development program discussed at the Federal Provincial Conference on fisheries in January.

The minimum size of vessels eligible for assistance has been lowered to 35 feet, over all length, from the previous minimum of 45 feet. The maximum size 99.9 gross tons is unchanged. Formerly, the rate of assistance was $250.00 per gross ton. This rate has been replaced by two new rates, a 25 per cent of the cost, approved by the Minister, of vessels 35 to 34.9 feet in length overall and, b) 30 per cent of the cost, approved by the Minister, of vessels from 35 feet in length overall up to the maximum of 99.9 gross tons. The approved cost will be based upon the total cost of each vessel equipped and ready for fishing.

During the first few years of operation under the new regulations assistance to vessels under 45 feet in length will be limited to approved experimental designs. The Fishermen's Loan Boards in the Provinces of New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and Newfoundland, and the Minister of Industry and Commerce in the Province of Quebec, will continue the direct administration of the new regulations. Close control over the design and specifications of craft eligible for assistance will be maintained by federal provincial co-operation. This will include consideration of the numbers to be built each year, and their location, and co-ordination of their construction with training projects designed to provide skilled manpower for a modern Atlantic fleet.

The new assistance rates will apply to all applications filed by fishermen with Provincial Loan Boards and in Quebec with the Minister of Industry and Commerce after June 30 this year.

Plan For Bishop's Visit

St. Anne's Guild, Smith's Cove, met on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Stanley Paxton. The president, Mrs. Cecil R. Curry, reported highlights of the Synod, which she had attended as a lay delegate for the Parish.

Discussion took place with reference to the forthcoming Confirmation service for the Parish of Clements, which will take place at St. Anne's Church on Sunday, June 21st. This will be the first Episcopal visit of the Rt. Rev. William W. Davis, Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia, and plans were laid for a reception, which will be held at the Hedley House after the service. All the Guilds in the Parish will participate.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Earl Thom-

Director Red Cross Training Centre

William B. Hamilton has been appointed director of the High School Red Cross Leadership Training Centre for the Atlantic Provinces and Quebec to be held at Acadia University, Wolfville, July 7-16. This was announced today by Dr. H. P. Moffatt, chairman of the Junior Red Cross provincial advisory committee.

The 31-year old Mr. Hamilton was in the news earlier when it was announced that he is one of the two Canadian teachers awarded lectureships in the United Kingdom by the Commonwealth Institute of London, England and the Canada Council. The other selectee is F. O. Bowker, Vancouver.

The two teachers will tour elementary and secondary schools and teacher training institutions in the United Kingdom next year, giving lectures on Canadian subjects.

At the Red Cross training centre this summer he will be responsible for co-ordinating the various activities and acting in an advisory capacity to staff and delegates.

Mr. Hamilton has his master's degree in history from Acadia University where he taught Canadian History to teachers during summer sessions. He has been principal of Pugwash District High School for the past six years, has taught in Kentville Junior High School and Oxford Regional High School and is a former supervising principal of Weymouth Consolidated School.

Some 125 teenagers and staff from the four Atlantic Provinces and Quebec are expected to attend the 10-day centre. An interesting innovation this year will be the presence of bi-lingual students from the recently inaugurated French program in Quebec.

as on July 8th.

Piano Pupils Pass Exams

Piano pupils of Mrs. Eric Adams, Deep Brook taking Local Centre Examinations at Digby were as follows: Susan Baxter, Grade V, honors; Mary Williams, Grade V, pass; Carolyn Vroom, Grade IV, pass; Constance Adams, Grade III, distinction; Marguerite Spurr, Grade II, distinction; Jo Ann Light, Grade II, distinction; Ronald Pothier, Grade I, distinction; Lorraine Light, Grade II, distinction; Ronald Pothier, Grade I, distinction; Lorraine Light, Grade I, distinction.

Bird Watchers At Cove

The Nova Scotia Bird Society will hold their annual field day at Smith's Cove during the weekend of July 5. Bird watchers are expected from all parts of Nova Scotia with a large delegation from Halifax and Dartmouth areas.

Members of the society attending will use binoculars, tape-recorders, telescopes and cameras for bird identification purposes. Dr. L. B. MacPherson, president, will conduct a short business meeting.

Scallop Runs Aground

The 65-foot scallop dragger "Susan Loran" ran aground in dense fog on Peter's Island off Westport last week while heading out to the fishing grounds.

No damage was reported to the craft which is owned in Westport and skippered by Captain Milton Longmire. She was re-floated in the day.

Mrs. Weir Entertains Choir

The choir of the United Baptist Church, Digby, was entertained on Sunday evening by Mrs. Reginald Weir at her cottage at Mallett's Lake.

Choir members, husbands and wives, enjoyed an evening of music featuring solos, duets, and trios.

Four Baptized At Grace United

On Sunday morning the Rev. R. H. Hughes preached a sermon at Grace United Church on two little words - sin and grace.

More effective sermons are being preached about sin on the Broadway stage or directed from Hollywood than in most pulpits. Perversities, cruelties, hatreds and immorality of every kind are depicted in plays, movies and novels. - sometimes with skill and sometimes with vulgarity, he said. In all the display of sin there is one vital point missing - and that is the dimension of God. For sin doesn't mean the mess we humans get ourselves into - sin is rebellion against God. Human nature has been given a twist in the wrong direction. This is why man acts as though he can rule his own life - shape his own destiny. This is true of all for all have sinned and come short of the glory of God.

The second word he spoke on was grace - grace is love stooping to bless - grace is love bestowing favours upon the unworthy. Just as sin drags down - grace uplifts and draws closer to God. St. Paul gives a ruthless diagnosis of sin in his Epistle to the Romans and explains that all are sinners in God's sight. Then he gives the gospel message - "Where sin abounds grace does much more abound". The uplifting grace of God can abound over the down dragging power of sin in the life, the community and in the world.

This is the message the church must preach, and in which it must believe - for the grace of God is uplifting, transforming and empowering.

During the service the sacrament of baptism was bestowed on Clinton James Kumer Boodoosingh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lincoln Boodoosingh; Paula Marie Baxter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baxter; Scott MacKenzie Williamson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L. Williamson; and Jeffrey Vaughn VanTassel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Lowell VanTassel.

Weekly Editors Meet At Truro

More than twenty weekly newspaper editors met in Truro on Thursday and Friday of last week for the semi-annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Weekly Newspapers Association. The Digby Courier was represented by Edith M. Wallis, editor.

Business discussions centred around qualifications of newspapers for membership in N.S.W.N.A. and national advertising.

The closing banquet on Friday was addressed by Charles Nolan, president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association. He was introduced by Charles Albon, Springhill. Other speakers were His Worship Mayor Hill; Mr. Thompson, President of the Truro Board of Trade; William Telfer, manager of C.W.N.A.; Mr. Carr, of C.C.N.R.

Entertainment was provided by the Truro Weekly News, and tours were arranged by the Truro Board of Trade to Stanfield's Ltd.; Agricultural College; N. S. Teacher's College and the Nova Scotia Training School.

Crews Leave Digby

Captain and Mrs. Kenneth Crews and two children, Miriam and Kenneth, leave early next week for Liverpool, N. S., where the Captain has been transferred with the Salvation Army.

Captain and Mrs. Crews came here from Pictou two years ago and will conduct their farewell service on Sunday, June 21. They will be replaced by Lt. and Mrs. Paul Murray, now of Newcastle, N. B.

Grade V: Distinction - Gail Cecile Dolron; Pass - Gale Henry Bundy, John Black.

Ministers Meet

The Ministerial Association of the town of Digby conducted its monthly meeting at the Baptist parsonage on Tuesday morning with the ministers present representing various churches of the town.

Among matters of business discussed was that of concern about questionable places of amusements and their influence upon young people. Members present also discussed the possibility of conducting a religious census of the town and immediate area and this, matter was left for further consideration at the September meeting. It was pointed out that the last religious census of the town had been taken about eight or nine years ago, and considerable changes have taken place in the area since then.

A church directory card that includes the Sunday worship services for most of the churches of the town was made available for distribution to the travel bureau, ferry, hotels, motels and restaurants of Digby and vicinity.

Roll Call Services

The annual Roll Call service of the Hill Grove Baptist Church will be held on the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, June 24th. The meetings will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, and the calling of the Roll of members will be made by Mrs. Lloyd MacNeil.

Rev. Harvey Denton, D.D., will be the guest preacher at both of the services. The music in the afternoon will be provided by the Senior and Junior Choirs of the church, with Mrs. Darcy Roope in charge. In the evening a Ladies' Trio of the Digby Baptist Church will provide special music, with Mrs. Jean Olsen as organist. Rev. R. R. Winchester, of Barton, will lead in a service of song.

A Fellowship Supper will be held in the church hall, under the direction of the Social Committee, with Mrs. Roy Warner in charge. It is expected that a large number of the members, adherents and friends of the congregation will be present at the service and to share in the fellowship hour.

Junior Grand Warden

Rt. Worshipful Brother C. Dickson, Sabean and Brother Robert Bearne of King Solomon Lodge No. 54, Digby, N.S., attended the Grand Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, held at the Nova Scotian Hotel, Halifax, N.S. on June 5th and 6th.

Rt. Wor. Brother C. Dickson Sabean held the past rank of Past District Deputy Grand Master for Digby and Annapolis Counties conferred on him at this communication and was elected and installed Junior Grand Warden for the Grand Lodge of Nova Scotia.

Other officers installed were as follows. Dr. Ronald S. Longley, Wolfville, Most Wor. Grand Master who this year retired as vice-president of Acadia University; deputy grand master, Rev. Randolph Carleton, Halifax; senior grand warden, Virgil B. Mader, Chester, N. S.

Some 450 delegates, representing 98 provincial lodges, attended the gathering.

Recognizes Students

At the worship service next Sunday morning in the Baptist Church of Digby a service of Recognition will be held for all students of the congregation attending Grades 11 and 12 of the Digby Regional High School. Nearly 20 young people of the congregations of the Digby and Hill Grove Baptist Churches are attending these classes and they will be invited to attend the service on Sunday morning as a group.

Rev. Charles Harvey, who has been serving as a Baptist missionary in Angola, Africa, for some years, spoke to the congregations of the Digby and Hill Grove Churches last Sunday morning. In graphic terms he described some of the conditions existing in that land and also the opportunities of serving the many thousands of refugees who have fled from Angola to the nearby Congo region. Mr. Harvey plans to return to Africa for service in the Congo area in 1965.

Of great interest to the congregation was the large collection of carvings, pottery, art work and tapestry which Mr. Harvey had brought with him from Angola and which he put on display following the Digby service on Sunday morning.

The Women's League of the church brought their meetings to a close for the season on Tuesday evening. Plans have been made for the July tea and sale.

Father Hattie Honoured

On Sunday, June 7, Father Joseph Hattie and his family were honoured at a lobster dinner at Yarmouth given by the Yarmouth Council of the Knights of Columbus.

On Monday evening Father Hattie celebrated mass at St. Patrick's chapel. Following the mass he and his family were honoured at a supper at the convent. The Sisters presented each member of the family with a rosary in memory of the occasion.

Father Hattie celebrated mass at the Roman Catholic Church in Annapolis Royal. On Wednesday following there was a reception for the Father and his family and congregation at the home of Monseigneur Theriault, Annapolis Royal.

Father Hattie celebrated mass at St. Ambrose Cathedral, Yarmouth, on Sunday, June 14. In the afternoon he performed his first baptism, Charles Gregory Hatfield, in the church where he himself was baptised.

Coffee AT janes

The mail was good to me tonight. I found out that somebody in Los Angeles thinks a great deal of me, in fact so much that he would like me for a business partner. He said so in the letter. And he promised me up to $1150 per month. Now how could I turn that down? Frankly, it was quite easy.

The letter (my name was stamped on with a piece of tape) had no return address. In the corner, where this information is usually displayed it simply said OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT. I gather that the first president I was supposed to think about was one named Johnson, and after having eliminated DeGaulle and a few others, I could start going down the line.

"The president's" bright and breezy letter (printed, I might add, not typed) told me that he needed a partner in this area, and that my name had been given to him as an industrious and ambitious person, with spare time which could be turned into profit for him and me. Industrious? Ambitious? Spare time? And anyway, who in Los Angeles knows about all my virtues, which seem to have remained undiscovered by the people around here for so many years?

After telling me that for merely filling in a coupon he would send me free information on his line of cosmetics, which I would not have to sell (evidently you send in the coupon, receive the goods, then watch the money roll in) he informed me that this territory was so vital to his company that he could only wait for my reply for seven days. After that he would be forced to try to find someone whose virtues came close to mine, who would have the gumption to take this fabulous offer. The most poignant bit of the letter was the P.S., in which I was told that I could pass the coupon on to a friend if I wished, but I must be careful. I had been highly recommended, and he knew I was loyal, sincere, industrious and ambitious. If I passed the coupon on, make sure my friend had these qualities.

I put it in the waste basket. That way I will be spared the envy of watching some loyal, sincere, industrious and ambitious friend get rich selling cosmetics while I live on the housekeeping money.

The other gem in the mail today was a pair of cook-books, which I can have on a free trial for seven days. The pair are $6.50, and I am a sucker for cook-books. I have the feeling they will be mine. I must hasten to add that I sent away to a reputable company for these. If they had come unsolicited, no matter how good they might be, I would have sent them back. The unsolicited merchandise racket is a common and profitable one for the racketeers.

I need a new cook-book like I need a hole in the head, and I need two new cook-books like I need two holes in the head. I sent for these originally because I thought they would replace my poor old favorite which I have had for about ten years. It is falling apart. I find pieces under the rugs, in the dish water, in the garbage, and stuffed in the vacuum cleaner hose. It gets pretty difficult to follow a recipe under these circumstances, so when I saw an ad for a cook-book by the same author as my poor old beat up favorite, I ordered it right away. Basically, the new one is a revised version of the old, but that is about as far as the resemblance goes. Now I am going to have to buy the new, and keep the old - you cannot expect me to let go of those delicious recipes once I have seen them, can you?

Have you ever cooked everything in any cook-book? Neither have I. Every time I buy a new one, the hopelessness of the task looms up before me. I would be willing to bet, that using all the cook-books, newspaper and magazine clippings, and those thousands of little leaflets we pick up in stores, which I have, I could make a menu for every day in the next two years, without ever exactly repeating myself.

But here I go with a new one (or two). I wonder if I could cook everything in it. I'll let you know when I come to the end, 1474 pages from now. Wish me luck.

In Memoriam

HANDSPIKER — In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Clyde Handspiker, lost his life June 19, 1961. Time rolls on and we are reminded of a day our hearts were crushed. When God took you; oh, so quickly and we all in gloom were thrust; In the bloom of life death claimed you, in the prime of manhood days. But we hope someday to meet you and be with you always. Mom, Dad, sisters Helen, Louise, Beulah and Belva. 43:1c

THIBODEAU — In loving memory of a dear husband and father Charles Thibodeau who passed away June 17th, 1950. As we journey towards life's sunset, Mourning him who went before. Faith keeps saying I'll be with him When I reach the other shore. — Sadly missed by wife Marie, daughters Margaret and Edith, sons Gustave and Charles. 43:1c

MORRELL — In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Gerald, who passed away June 18th, 1962. Lovingly remembered by mother, step-father, sister and brothers. 43:1c

HANDSPIKER — In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Clyde Handspiker, who lost his life June 19, 1961. Time rolls on and we are reminded of a day our hearts were crushed. When God took you; oh, so quickly and we all in gloom were thrust; In the bloom of life death claimed you, in the prime of manhood days, But we hope someday to meet you and be with you always. — Mom, dad, sisters Helen, Louise, Beulah and Belva. 43:1c

SULIS — I would like to thank all those who visited me for the lovely gifts and letters while I was in the Digby General Hospital. Special thanks to Dr. MacCleave and all the nurses. Support the hospital — its for a good cause. — A. W. Sulis Jr. 43:1p

MERRITT — I thank all those who sent cards, gifts and visited me during my convalescence at home following a car accident. — Mrs. Kenneth Merritt, Mink Cove. 43:1p

Appointed Fisheries Director

The appointment of John W. Watt as director of fisheries for Nova Scotia has been announced by Fisheries Minister E. A. Manson.

The author of three books on Nova Scotia fisheries, Mr. Watt has been with the fisheries service of the Trade and Industry Department since 1946.

Mr. Watt was born at Barrington, N. S., in 1912, and received his education in that area. From 1928 until 1942 he was employed by the Canadian Bank of Commerce in a number of Maritime centres. During this period he studied banking, received a diploma and became a fellow of the Canadian Bankers Association. He joined the Canadian Army in 1942 and served as a staff-sergeant in the active force. As assistant director of fisheries he wrote the Nova Scotia Fisheries Yearbooks in 1948 and 1949. Last year he published A Brief Review of the Fisheries of Nova Scotia. Mr. Watt lives in Halifax.

Marriage

Handspiker — Hutchings
St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, Digby was the scene of a pretty spring wedding when Carole Helena Hutchings was united in marriage to Donald Hartford Handspiker. Rev. Father Stokes performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride given in marriage by Raymond Graham wore a floor length gown of white peau-de-soie with chapel train. Her four tiered shoulder length veil was held in place by a coronet of peau-de-soie. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Judy Hattie was bridesmaid. She wore a mint green dress of peau-de-soie with matching headress and carried a bouquet of white and yellow mums. John Amiraull was best man and Donald Amiraull usher.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the nurses' residence catered to by the nursing and office staff of the Digby Hospital. The tables were tastefully decorated with tulips and apple blossoms and centered with a three tier wedding cake. Mr. Raymond Graham proposed the toast.

For travelling the bride wore a three piece cocoa suit with white accessories. They will reside in Wilmot where the groom is stationed with the R.C.A.F.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Graham of Halifax, Miss Diane Herman and Alfred Hill of Dartmouth, Mark Amiraull of St. Hubert, Quebec, Donald Amiraull, Ray Hanson, Donald Murray and Leon Lewis of Greenwood.

Officers Appointed

Mrs. Vivian Cossaboom and Mrs. Reta Solows were program leaders of the June meeting of the Women's Missionary Society held in the vestry of the Christian Church, Tiverton. Their devotional theme was the "Sayings of Jesus."

Mrs. Eunice Outhouse, director of the Mission Study presented facts concerning the originating of the Jamaica Christian's Boy's Home and its leaders and workers. She said that Miss Heather Matheson, graduate of Christian Bible College at P.E.I., is a teacher in the home. The W.M.S. of Tiverton have forwarded a donation of $25.00 to Jamaica to assist in the Christian activities of the home.

During the business portion of the program, a Candle light Installation service was held. Mrs. Ester Howard installed the following slate of officers: President, Mrs. Vivian Cossaboom; Vice-president, Mrs. Eunice Outhouse; secretary, Janet Solows; treasurer, Mrs. Anetta Buckman; chairman of Mission Study, Mrs. Muriel Guier; Bible Quiz, Mrs. Wilma Prime, and Organist, Mrs. Grace Outhouse. Following the installation each officer lit their candle from the central candle while Janet Solows sang one stanza of "The Light of the World is Jesus." The officers sang the chorus.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served. The refreshment table was centered with a beautifully decorated birthday cake made by Mrs. Muriel Outhouse in honor of the birthday of her mother, Mrs. Ester Howard. During the cutting of the cake members sang Happy Birthday to Mrs. Howard.

Mrs. Muriel Outhouse was welcomed as a new member to the W.M.S.

For next Roll Call Service each member was requested to bring a childhood picture of herself.

TALK ABOUT color

That's what everyone in-the-know-in-beauty is doing these days: talking about the wonderful new hair colorings — the versatile quick-color rinses, the semi-permanent color pick-ups, the gentle bleaches and pretty toners. AND there is endless talk about the luscious new shades... such delicate, shimmering tones, bound to flatter, especially when skillfully applied by Fidele color expert. Come in and let's "talk color!" Then, to prove we're not "just talking," let us use color on your hair. You'll discover a delightful "new you" when you let a touch of color go to your head.

New Rector Inducted

A special service was held in St. Peter's Church, Weymouth North, when Rev. Arthur G. Peters, B.A., B.S.T., was inducted as rector of St. Peter's Anglican Parish by His Lordship, Bishop R. H. Waterman, Smith's Cove, acting on behalf of Bishop W. W. Davis.

The mandate of induction was read by Archdeacon Bullock and the presentation of the church keys was made by Warden John Shaw.

Rev. Walter Harris, rector of All Saints, Bedford, preached the induction sermon in which he pointed out that the congregation has as much responsibility in the spiritual life of the church as the priest; that each layman must offer his best to the service of God and give of his talents to help make the church a living thing.

Mr. Harris spoke briefly of both Rev. and Mrs. Peters, having known them personally for several years.

Obituary

Ingraham Dakin

Ingraham Dakin, retired fisherman and one of Digby county's oldest citizens, passed away on Monday in his ninety-sixth year.

Born at Centerville, he was a son of the late Morton and Thelma Titus Dakin. He spent his entire life in the village of Centerville where he was actively engaged as a fisherman until his retirement 20 years ago. He was a member of the United Church.

He is survived by his wife, the former Addie Dakin, of Centerville; sons: Ancil, of Medford, Mass.; Harley and Hilbert, both of Centerville; daughters: Mrs. Violet Banfill, of California; Mrs. Nina Bucci, of Worcester, Mass.; and Mac (Mrs. Arthur Walker), of Somerville, Mass. He is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Bertha Burgess, of Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Dakin recently celebrated their seventieth wedding anniversary. They have forty-six grandchildren and ninety-seven great grandchildren.

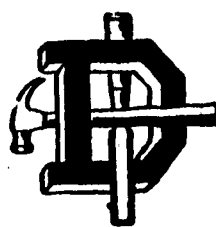

The remains rested at Peggy's Funeral Home in Digby, N. S., until Wednesday, when they were taken to the United Church, Centerville, N. S., for service at 3 p.m. Lie Fred Withers conducted the service and interment was at Lake Midway.

Should You Pay For Others' Stupidity?

Is it fair, asks Robert Catherswood in The Financial Post that your auto insurance premium should be loaded to pay compensation to a drunk who staggers out of a tavern and falls in front of your car? Or for a criminal who gets in the way of your auto while running away from police? Or the jaywalker who makes an accident unavoidable? These are some of the issues involved in proposals for automatic compensation for auto accident victims that are being made... and are in effect in Saskatchewan. Most insurers and many in the legal fraternity have in the past strongly opposed this principle of automatic liability regardless of fault. It is supported by others, however, on the grounds that compensation without fault might greatly reduce the time, cost and talent wasted in fighting accident cases in the courts.

The issue is coming up again this year, as a result of

Forecasting Danger Forest Fires

A unique system of forest fire danger forecasting for Nova Scotia has been undertaken through a co-operative program between the Lands and Forests Department and the Federal Department of Forestry.

The 21-hour forecast is released to radio, television and newspapers through facilities of The Canadian Press at 4 p.m. each day with provision for updating the following morning.

Officials of the Department

a study being prepared for the Ontario government. Irwin Haskett, Ontario Minister of Transport, has announced that Osgood Hall Law School will conduct a research study into the nature and adequacy of compensation to motor vehicle accident victims. Purpose of the study is to help the government decide whether it should require the inclusion of accident benefits in auto liability insurance policies.

said the forecast is a result of the need by industry, the forest service and the general public for a longer-term forecast.

Forest fire danger index numbers in the forecasts range from zero to 16 which covers five classes of fire danger conditions - nil, low, moderate, high and extreme.

Index numbers are determined by continuous calculations from 22 reporting stations in the province relative to fire danger, mainly on a country basis.

Calculations resulting in a zero answer indicate no danger. Index numbers one to four indicate low danger; five to eight, moderate; nine to twelve, high; thirteen to sixteen, extreme.

A clear picture of the fire hazard in the inland areas as well as along the coastline will be provided.

The forecast will originate from the weather office at Halifax International Airport where Peter M. Paul, research officer with the federal department of forestry will be stationed to direct the new service.

Long range forecasting will also be supplied for New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

Nova Scotia Is The Place

Throw away tranquilizers and sleeping pills — you won't need them if you're vacationing in Nova Scotia this summer.

In "Canada's Ocean Playground" your sleeping pill is a lingering gaze at a motionless moonlit lake or the surf rolling on a nearby beach.

Your tranquilizer? A relaxing drive through scenic countryside that can be described as "inspiring"; a refreshing swim in the Atlantic's white-foamed surf and a family picnic on the sandy beach; a fishing excursion to a serene tree-lined lake and the appetizing aroma of freshly-caught trout cooking on an open fire; an entertaining evening of drama or musical comedy at Neptune Theatre in Halifax or Acadia Summer Playhouse in Wolfville. The list is endless.

Twelve months of anxiety and pressure are dispelled after a few days of leisurely travel in Nova Scotia. Yet, there is little chance for boredom when you are surrounded by a constantly-changing scenic beauty and numerous interesting places to explore along highways and by-ways of the province.

Once you've adjusted your tempo from frantic to carefree, you'll discover it's a simple matter to set your own pace. Entertainment is available in many forms.

It may be a tour of Port Royal Habitation where you can relive moments of Canada's earliest history and see utensils used by the country's first permanent white settlers; or observing highland piping and dancing competitions at numerous festivals throughout the summer; attending lobster or cherry carnivals; attending the Nova Scotia Festival of the Arts to see and hear outstanding artists and musicians; or accepting the challenge of some of Canada's finest golf courses.

If you're been relying on "pep pills" for energy, leave them home. They are just wasting valuable space in your suitcase. Substitute them for a deep-sea fishing trip and you won't need them after the first tug of a giant bluefin tuna on the end of your line. No artificial stimulation can match the thrill of battling one of these big fellows — and a 700 or 800-pounder is common in Nova Scotia waters. If you're not a camera bug when you arrive in this ocean-side province, you'll be one when you leave for there is much spectacular scenery you will want to record permanently. Pictures will keep the memory of Nova Scotia alive until you return for another vacation.

D. A. Cameron Addresses Graduates

D. A. Cameron, vice-president and registrar of Mount Allison University, was guest speaker at the 16th annual graduation exercises at the Digby Regional High School Thursday evening.

Introduced by Dr. D. E. Lewis, Mr. Cameron told the graduates that the only freedom that is worthwhile is the freedom to accept responsibility.

Firstly, he told the students, you have a responsibility to yourself. You must learn to recognize your abilities and give of your best to a world that needs you, the speaker said. No matter how humble or exalted a job, the speaker advised the students to recognize the value of what they do and become conscious of moral and ethical values.

Mr. Cameron next mentioned the responsibility of the students to their homes at the present time and also in later years when they establish homes of their own. The speaker told the students of their responsibilities to the communities in which they live and to the governments under which they live. He looked with disfavor on those who vote for a party just because their parents did and on those who vote for patronage. He cautioned against becoming disinterested in the government once the election is over.

Next Mr. Cameron told the students they had a responsibility to God. If that responsibility is accepted, he said, it will be apparent in your life and your life will be beautiful. He, however, warned that responsibility to God did not offer an easy life and brought with it responsibility to community, church and nation. By accepting responsibility to God, he advised the students, they have already accepted the three responsibilities which he had previously mentioned.

Mr. Cameron was thanked by Warden Ronald Morehouse.

The graduation exercises were presided over by Dr. L. F. Doiron, chairman of the D.R.H.S. board. Dr. Doiron commended the teachers in the fine work being done at the school and expressed regret that Arnold McCallum, principal of the Junior High School, was leaving the staff. Wallace Hodgson will succeed Mr. McCallum. Dr. Doiron spoke of the extension planned for next year in the commercial course.

Valedictorian was Miss Shirley Jefferson.

In her address Miss Jefferson made reference to Robert Louis Stevenson's statement, "There is always a new horizon for onward looking men, . . . the term of hoping is prolonged until the term of life." How true this is, she said. Graduation from high school marks only the beginning of the build-up in our personal storehouses of some of the inexhaustible supplies of knowledge. We shall be entering new fields of endeavour and throughout our lives, new opportunities will arise before us. As Huxley said, "For every man the world is as fresh as it was the first day, and as full of untold novelties, for him who has the eyes to see them," the speaker told her audience.

F. C. Purdy, superintendent of schools, presented his yearly report, in which he outlined the educational developments in the Digby area in the past year. These included plans for an auxiliary program in 1964-65. There will be three auxiliary classes — junior, 5 to 8 years; intermediate, 9 to 12, and senior, 13 years and over. There will be from 12 to 20 children in each class and the teachers will be those especially trained for auxiliary work. The children in the classes will have had special tests and their entrance will be subject to the parents' wishes.

Mr. Purdy also spoke of the adult education expansion at Conway and at the D.R.H.S., where certificates can be obtained for different subjects and also for the full grade from Grades I to XII. He also spoke of the In-service Training Program, which gives teachers an opportunity to credits on a university degree.

He mentioned that the pilot course in elementary arithmetic given in the Digby schools last year had been considered most successful.

Another major development announced by Mr. Purdy was the plan for construction of a new school in Digby to replace St. Patrick's School, which has been operated as a private parochial school by the Sisters of Charity since 1943.

St. Patrick's School will close its doors at the end of this year after serving the area for twenty years. The Sisters of Charity will build a new school at the corner of Church and West Streets.

When the new school is completed, it will be turned over to the urban board of school commissioners, rent free, for operation as a public school. The urban board is assuming full responsibility for the operation and staffing of the new school. Any student may be enrolled at St. Patrick's, Mr. Purdy said, but board policy designates the facilities of the school for the placement of students of grades one to six who are of the Roman Catholic faith.

Mr. Purdy said that the new school has been fully staffed for 1964-65 by six teachers, four of whom are Sisters and two lay teachers. Sister Ann Patrick will be principal of the public school section of the new St. Patrick's. Sister Mary Charles will continue as principal of the commercial department which will remain as a private institution and will occupy two rooms. Operation and maintenance of the commercial department will be the responsibility of the Sisters of Charity.

Diplomas were presented to the graduates on Thursday evening by Mr. Purdy and C. C. MacInnes, school principal.

Miss Nancy Riley rendered two vocal numbers accompanied by Miss Katherine Hebb, who also played the processional and recessional marches.

Cornwallis Golfers Top Navy Meet

Cornwallis golfers won the top two prizes at the Atlantic Command Navy golf championship held at the Digby Pines course during the weekend.

One hundred and five golfers took part in the two day meet.

CPO Hutchinson, of Cornwallis, won the low gross "A" section with a 163, while the runner-up was LS Nickerson, of Stadacona, with 166. The team title went to Cornwallis "A", composed of S/L Ashcroft, CPO Hutchinson, CPO Manderson and LS Sloan.

Low net team winners were Cornwallis "B", with CPO Oswald, PO White, PO Peron and PO Schnaeffer making up the four-man team.

Other winners:

Low net — L/C Evans, Stadacona 143. Low gross "B" section — CPO Keseluck, Stadacona 179. PO Thompson, Chauderie 180. Low gross "C" — CPO Schreuer, Bonaventure 199; CPO Newton, Stadacona 201.

Miss V. Ellis spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ellis.

Mrs. Gordon Ellis has returned home after a weeks visit with her daughter in Halifax.

Mrs. George L. Kilcup accompanied by Mrs. Hattie J. Bacon of Port Wade spent a few days last week in Saint John guests at the Royal Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Lees, Westport, Mass., visited Mrs. Lees aunt, Mrs. Randy Ellis and Mr. Ellis, while Mr. and Mrs. Lees were in Nova Scotia on their honeymoon.

Premier Addresses H. & S. Rally

Premier Robert L. Stanfield, Nova Scotia Minister of Education, was special speaker at the Digby County Home & School Association's spring council session, held at the Digby Neck Consolidated School, Sandy Cove, on Tuesday. General theme of the rally was "The New Look In Education".

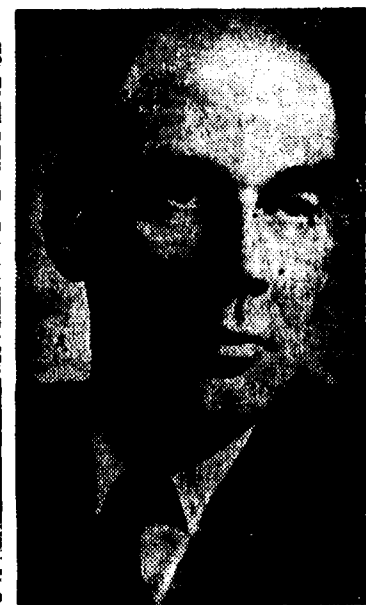

Speaking on the curriculum development in science and mathematics in Nova Scotia, Mr. Stanfield stressed the need for teachers and educators to keep up to date with new methods and materials. Parents must also keep up to date with the new methods and materials that are being used to educate their children, he said. If the parent teaches the child one way and the teacher another, the result is confusion. This is the negation of education, the Premier said.

The paralleling of child education with adult education is a most difficult task, Mr. Stanfield told his audience. The Nova Scotia Department of Education is conscious of its responsibilities in this respect and has developed a strong division of adult education, he said.

By assisting adults to understand the newer methods that are being used, we are bringing home and school and community into a working harmony that should make our task with children less difficult, he said. "I think it is wise for the school to involve the home and the community as fully as possible in an effort to promote in both the child and adult a knowledge of the new methods and materials that are being developed daily."

Mathematics and science appear to be the two areas where the most change has taken place, the speaker said. The Department of Education kept careful watch on the developments which were taking place in other countries and in 1961 it became apparent that a revision of our present curriculum in mathematics and science was required. As a result both were reorganized. Committees undertook a study of curriculum projects which were launched in the United States and by the Organization for European Economic Co-operation in Western Europe, Mr. Stanfield said.

As a result of this study changes being proposed required new programs of teacher training and new textbook materials in the schools. The Department of Education undertook to carry out experimental programs in selected schools throughout the province, he said. At the same time a concerted attempt was undertaken to provide in-service training in the new programs both at the summer school for teachers and in locally organized in-service programs initiated by the field staff of the department. In the field of mathematics our first concern was to bridge a widening gap between the mathematics offered for matriculation and that required by universities for their entering students, the speaker said. With the assistance of the mathematics departments of the universities a new course in co-ordinate geometry has been introduced in Grade XII. A new program in high school algebra is under try-out at the present time, he said.

Speaking of the extreme value of the school television classes, which will be put on again starting in September, Mr. Stanfield expressed hope that reception difficulties experienced from the Digby television station would be cleared up so that local students may benefit from the TV lessons. These programs have been taught by master teachers and have been of assistance to classroom teachers in the development of quality programs in these fields, he said. Next year's telecasts will include a course in co-ordinate geometry in all schools in the province in Grade XII.

The content of our science programs and the approach to teaching it has not kept pace with the changing technological revolution which is everywhere about us, Mr. Stanfield said. The explosion of knowledge in the scientific fields not only makes it impossible to obtain a command of factual material in a discipline, he said, but indeed an attempt to do so may well result in frustration and confusion. "The emphasis is no longer on reading about science but in discovering science."

A revision of the schools chemistry program has been undertaken and a new program in chemistry will be offered in Grade XI in September of this year, Mr. Stanfield said. This fall the department expects to undertake an experimental tryout of the Biological Science Curriculum Study materials, green version program in Grade X in 25 schools, he said.

A new science program for the junior high school grades is currently under experimental try-out in selected schools throughout the province, the speaker said, and a new elementary science program has been authorized for use

Injured In Fall

Clifford Melanson, Montague Row, Digby, is in hospital in Rhode Island as a result of a fall on June 11.

Mr. Melanson, a carpenter, fell from the top of a ladder which rested against a house he was building. He fell to the ground, but landed squarely on his feet, which perhaps is the cause of resulting injuries.

It is understood that Mr. Melanson has a broken bone in his back, and is being fed through the veins. Other injuries are not known.

Mrs. Melanson has returned after visiting with her husband at the hospital.

Mrs. Connie Connell and daughter, Sister Lorna, S. S. J. D., Toronto, were visitors last week of Mrs. Connell's sister, Mrs. MacCara Cameron and Mr. Cameron in Canning.

in the province and will be introduced in Grade I and IV in September. Educational telecasts based on the new course will be viewed in schools throughout the province this coming fall and winter, the Premier told his audience.

It is the hope of the Department of Education that the program we have outlined will provide for the children in our schools, quality instruction in mathematics and science which will enable them to proceed to advanced education and to provide them with the skills necessary for life and work in the evolving technological age, Mr. Stanfield said.

Edwards Chairs Panel

Preceding Mr. Stanfield's address Inspector of Schools, C. E. Edwards, chaired a panel discussion on the topic "The School Curriculum Changes". Participants were Dennis Rodgers, Greenwood, speaking on mathematics, Mrs. Carolyn Brown, Digby, specialist in reading, and Miss Shirley Coulter, library specialist with the Department of Education.

New Officers Installed

New officers, installed by Arthur Hill, president of the Annapolis County Council of Home & School Associations, were as follows: president, Mrs. Alice Dunn, Smith's Cove; vice-president, Mrs. Emman Morehouse, Sandy Cove; area vice-president, Mrs. Jack Morehouse, Sandy Cove; area vice-president, Mrs. Bessie Height, Smith's Cove; secretary, Mrs. Joyce Dunn, Smith's Cove; treasurer, Mrs. Frances Berry, Smith's Cove; convener, health — Mrs. Marion P. Gott, Smith's Cove; publicity, Mrs. Angie Francis, Smith's Cove; and Mrs. Bailey Gidney, Sandy Cove; school life, Mrs. R. A. Armstrong, Digby; family life, Dr. H. L. Denton, Little River; arts, Mrs. Helena Comeau, Smith's Cove; adult education, Mrs. Emma Balsor.

All correspondents and advertisers are requested to have their material for next week's issue in early, due to the holiday Wednesday, July 1st.

Two Sentenced To Digby Jail

Two Digby youths were sentenced by Magistrate C. T. LeBrun at court on Tuesday.

Leroy Handspeker received a sentence of 8 months and Victor (Junior) Dennison 4 months in the county jail. They pled guilty to assault causing bodily harm.

The sentences are a result of an incident taking place about a month ago when Albert (Junior) Sulis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sulis, Smith's Cove, was attacked and severely beaten after he left a lunch and dance centre in Conway.

Sulis spent some time in Digby General Hospital suffering a bruised and broken leg and multiple bruises about the face.

Scholarships Awarded At Graduation

Special awards and scholarships were presented at the graduation exercises at Digby Regional High School on Thursday evening.

Miss Leanne Marjorie Oickle, Bear River, received the Acadia University Entrance Scholarship, valued at $1500.00 or $2000.00; Gordon Perry Turnbull, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Turnbull, Digby, was given an Acadia University Entrance Scholarship valued at $300.00; Miss Sally Carson, a Dalhousie University Entrance Scholarship of $500.00; Miss Shirley Marie Jefferson, the valedictorian, the Royal Canadian Legion Scholarship, Digby Branch, $150.00.

Frank William Ayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Ayer, Fredericton, formerly of Digby, Canadian Mathematical Congress winner for Digby — prize $25.00. Frank came 4th in the Provincial ninth competition.

Miss Sally Louise Carson won the Canadian Centennial Commission, the Centennial Youth Travel Project, which involves exchange of high school students among the Provinces, and Miss Sandra Raymond will attend the Royal Canadian Legion Nova Scotia Command Leadership Training Camp.

Other awards presented were the Staff Memorial Cup to John Potter, presentation made by F. C. Purdy; Mayor's Scholastic Award, Leanne Oickle, presentation made by C. D. Snow, Mayor of Digby; The F. C. Purdy Scholastic Award, Gilda Kempton, by C. C. MacInnes; Canadian Legion Memorial Award to Ricky Olsen, by Cecil Jones; Birks' Gold Medal, Elizabeth Cardoza, by Bruce Baxter; Special Staff Award, Gerry Connelly, by Keith Raymond; Athletic Award, Perry Turnbull and Janet Hawkins, by C. C. MacInnes; Major E. H. Anderson Memorial Shield to Frank Ayer and Sally Carson, by Dr. L. F. Doiron; The Eva Wendell Current Events Cup, Leanne Oickle, by R. E. Morehouse; The Smith's Drug Store Award, Michael Baxter, by Jack Whalley.

Mrs. C. M. Levy has returned after spending two weeks with her daughter, Miss Muriel Levy, London, Ontario. Karen Jane Levy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Levy, Halifax, will spend the summer with Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Levy. Mr. C. M. Levy was a weekend guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Wickwire, Liverpool.

Here From Ithaca

Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Nangeroni, Ithaca, N. Y., arrived in Digby on Sunday. Dr. and Mrs. Nangeroni were recently married in Ithaca. Mrs. Nangeroni, the former Alice Longaker, is continuing her research work for the Cornell project while in the area. Dr. Nangeroni, who is a professor in veterinary physiology, will vacation in Digby.

Church Hall Extension To Be Dedicated

At 3 p.m. on Saturday the new extension to the Grace United Church Hall will be dedicated. Chairman and members of the Annapolis Presbytery and members and friends of Grace United will be present for the dedication. Special reference will be made to the late Edith Abigail Letteney, who for twenty-five years taught the primary scholars.

Ever since the beginning of the ministry of Reverend Dr. Thomas W. Hodgson at Grace United Church, Digby, N. S., the problem of the church school has been accommodation. Eighteen months ago at the congregational meeting, Reginald E. Jefferson offered to donate the lumber if a start was made to enlarge the church hall. The congregation accepted the kind offer and on May 5, 1963, Mrs. Fred May turned the first sod for the extension.

Twelve months later, as the result of generous donations of labour, material and money, the extension of the classrooms (two wash rooms, furnace room and three corridors, one of which connects the hall to the church) was being used by the teachers and scholars.

The public is invited to attend and share in the service on Saturday.

Fred Bates, Stadacona spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leander Handspeker.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lent, Westport have been visiting at Mrs. Lent's brother's, Leander Handspeker's, Mount Pleasant.

Francis Lent who was a patient in Digby Hospital has returned home to Westport.

The Post Office, Digby will be closed all day, Dominion Day, July 1st. Wickets and lobby will be closed all day. No deliveries. Mails will be received and despatched as usual.

Bear River Druggist Passes

Funeral services for Louis Vanderbilt Harris were held Friday at 2:30 p.m. from St. John's Anglican Church, Bear River, with Rt. Rev. R. H. Waterman, Smith's Cove, and Rev. W. H. Logan officiating. He died at the age of 84 at the Blanchard-Fraser Memorial Hospital on Tuesday night.

Born in Annapolis Royal, he was the son of Augustus and Eliza (Wheelock) Harris.

He was a member of the Anglican Church, a member of the Anglican communion, served many years as parochial lay reader, Sunday School superintendent and teacher, member of both the Masonic and Oddfellow Lodges, active in the N. S. branch of the Red Cross, member of the Bear River Board of Trade and of the local Boy Scout Association. Two weeks ago he had received his 50-year jewel from The Keith Lodge, AF & AM, Bear River. Mr. and Mrs. Harris had celebrated their 52nd wedding anniversary recently.

He had been a druggist for 68 years, of which more than 60 were spent in Bear River. He had been an honorary member of the Nova Scotia Pharmaceutical Society.

He is survived by his wife, the former Blanche Ruggles, of Annapolis Royal; two sons, Rev. W. R. Harris, Bedford, L. L. Harris, Truro; two sisters, Miss Ida M. Harris, Brookline, Mass., Grace (Mrs. Allan Jost), Sydney; and two grandchildren. Two brothers and two sisters predeceased him.

Interment was in Oak Dale Cemetery, Annapolis Royal.

About This and That

Disturbed, Are We?

Thirty thousand people gathered at the Garrison Grounds and sat on Citadel Hill in Halifax on Sunday night to hear the famous Dr. Billy Graham. The crowd of people in itself no doubt was a stimulus and inspiration to many and was definitely a sight to behold beneath the setting sun. Adding to this was the echo of the mass choir nearly a thousand strong, the stirring message from a colorful and dramatic speaker and the amazing response to the plea of the famous religious figure of the day.

We do not intend to analyze the pros and cons of a service such as that of Billy Graham's. We do want to pass on a remark we heard in Digby since the reports of Sunday night's service appeared in the press. The remark was that there must be a lot of disturbed people in the world when thirty thousand go to hear Billy Graham. We are not quite sure whether the remark was meant to say that there must be a lot of psychologically disturbed people or whether it meant there must be a lot of people disturbed about the violence, crime, hunger, discrimination, break down of family life and general disorder in the world. Both could apply according to the sermons of Dr. Graham himself, we judge.

Nor can we tell whether the remark was complimentary to Digby or not where few from here attended in comparison to the bus loads and private car loads who arrived from other parts of the province as far East as Cape Breton and as far West as Yarmouth. We do not necessarily have to go to a Billy Graham crusade to register disturbance, but if the few from Digby who attended indicated little psychological disturbance here, then we are a fortunate people indeed. If, however, it meant that Digby is undisturbed about the problems of the day within our own community and beyond, then we are an unfortunate people, indeed, and maybe we should become disturbed right soon. We are inclined to think that the number of miles distant and the hours of time distant which we are from Halifax had something to do with a lesser attendance from this area. This was especially true of those who wanted to attend their own churches in the morning. For, certainly we cannot be too different from all those disturbed people from every other section of the province, some of whom were highly intellectual beings, no matter in what sense we use the word disturbed.

"Pearson Flag"

We were delighted to be presented last week with a nice new nylon flag, 7 x 11 in., white background, blue borders and three red maple leaves in design. What we want to know is, should we editorialize on the preservation of wild animals, can we expect a new mink coat?

Meanwhile the flag controversy continues although somewhat obscured by a controversial T.V. film and a much more important subject, a health plan. One writer had this to say last week on the flag issue: "A country may have one flag as a man may serve one master. Two flags are as no flag and compares to a man attempting to serve more than one master and failing to serve either properly." Maybe he has a sound thought there.

One thing which struck us as we accepted the gift of the little nylon flag — it didn't seem to register as Canada's flag but as the "Pearson" flag. We wondered, would it be ever thus if the flag in question were adopted by Canada? Or, would it take a generation to release it from personalities after the controversy?

The Graduation of Weymouth Consolidated School was held in the auditorium on Friday, June 19, at 8 p.m., with Rev. Raoul Deveau, chairman. The classes proceeded in to the auditorium to "War March from Athalia", played by Mrs. D. MacNeill. Father Deveau welcomed the audience and told them how pleased he was to see so many interested friends and parents present. Mr. L. D. Stockdale, gave the principal's report for the year, in which he stated that there were about 742 students under his supervision 26 classrooms and 29 teachers. He said one of the problems in the school, is that we have only one course to give students, which is the Academic, leading to college work. Many students will go on to college, but the majority would do better with a vocational or commercial course, which the present school set-up is unable to supply. He said other schools give the courses, and feels that if the Municipal school board would co-operate with our local trustees and himself our students, here would be able to obtain a better education and have more advantages. Mr. Stockdale also stated that a special course is being set up in the lower grades to assist repeaters. Mrs. Shortliffe has been appointed to work with this group. Groups were tested for reading throughout the school this year and it was learned that most pupils are backward in reading. Many are not capable of reading lesson materials with understanding. Mr. Stockdale urged that parents present more reading to the children use the libraries — make reading a joy — and their school work will pick up.

He thanked the trustees, teachers, organizations and friends who have donated to the prize fund and given prizes. Special thanks was given to Mrs. A. E. Fergusson and her helpers for the floral decorations on various occasions throughout the year. In closing Mr. Stockdale thanked the students of grades XI and XII for their co-operation and wished them well in the future.

Following the president's report, the chairman introduced the special speaker, the Rt. Rev. Bishop Waterman of Smith's Cove. His lordship congratulated the students and hoped they would all go on to higher education. Our country has need of trained men — but in obtaining education, he said, "be humble" — don't be boastful of your education. Many people are unable to obtain the same type of education as you have — be humble about it. He said education is for the future — a means of earning your living — and the important thing is not just graduating, but how well you graduate. Education is using your common sense, your concentration. It begins with birth, and is carried on throughout life. When we stop learning, we stop growing," said Bishop Waterman. Education is what we have left, after we have forgotten what we learned in school. It is something built in the kind of a person you really are. His Lordship mentioned the importance of the 3 R's and told the class never to forget the 4th R of religion. He said life must be purposed, our ideals must be high, we must have a real faith. The 4th R is as much a part of our education as the other 3.

Mr. Gordon Campbell thanked the speaker and told him how grateful the teachers and students were to him for coming and giving such an inspiring address.

Stewart Lewis then read the class prophecy and diplomas, Driver Education certificates and prizes were awarded.

Prize winners were as follows: Grade XB, Highest Aggregate, Larry Mullen; Most progress, Teresa LeBlanc; Grade XA, Highest aggregate, Elaine Sabine; achievement, Carolyn Melanson; Household Science, Elaine Sabine; French, Louise Powell.

The scholarship of $350 was presented by Mr. Chester Sabine on behalf of the Teacher's Union to Vance Mullen for N.S. Teacher's College.

Miss Ellen Cosman gave the Valedictory, and this was followed by a brief address by A. E. Adelaar, chairman of the board of trustees. Mr. Adelaar congratulated the graduates and advised grades ten and eleven to stick to their work and follow through with a good graduation. He thanked the supervisor, Mr. Stockdale and the teachers for their splendid work, and thanked Rev. Father Deveau for his

The closing recital was given by the piano class of Mrs. Ken Hankinson at the Church of Christ (Disciples) at Southville on Monday evening. A good number of interested people were out to encourage the pupils, and enjoyed the performance of the young people. Piano solos and duets were well performed, showing the work put into the selections by the pupils and teacher. All pieces played were new ones learned since the Music Festival in Digby. Mrs. Hankinson gave a few remarks prior to the recital. Those taking part were David and Joyce Roma, Geneva and Marion Prime, Denise Comeau, Cheryl Blynn, Candace Comeau, Jane Hankinson, Maureen and Brian Mullen, Sharon Simmonds, Sheila Mullen, Valerie Sullivan, Joan McCullough, Joan Round, Noland Belliveau, Mary Lou Stevens, Carol Lombard and Floyd Gale.

New Edinburgh

Miss Annie Surette and Mr. Louis Surette of Reading, Mass., are vacationing with Mr. and Mrs. Adolphe Doucette and family.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Demetrius Amirault who was a patient at the Halifax Infirmary has returned home.

Miss Estelle Doucette is spending her vacation visiting relatives in the States.

The following spent the weekend in the village Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Arsenault and children of Dartmouth and Miss Cora Amirault of Halifax with Mr. and Mrs. Teles Amirault, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fizzard and children of Dartmouth with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Romain, Mr. Jean Amirault, Grand Pre with his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Amirault, Miss Eloise Amirault with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eloi Amirault.

Mr. Junior Doucette is at time of writing a patient at the Yarmouth Hospital where he underwent an appendectomy operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Dakin of Centreville visited their daughter Mrs. and Mr. Louis Doucette last week.

Mr. Charlie Doucette spent a few days in Windsor and Mrs. Doucette accompanied him to Woodville where she visited friends.

Mrs. Gerald Gaudet motored to Newport where she visited her husband for a few days last week.

Bay View

Mr. Everett Ritcey, Halifax, spent the weekend at his home here.

Rev. L. R. Atkinson was the speaker on Sunday afternoon at a baptismal service held in the Annapolis Royal Baptist Church. In the evening he spoke at the Laymen's service in the Acaciaville Baptist Church.

Rev. L. R. Atkinson has been in Halifax this week attending a Ministers' Conference at Dalhousie University, sponsored by the Bitty Graham Association.

Kiwanis Park, Journeay's Lake, Weymouth

Weymouth Kiwanis Club Has Magnificent History Of Community Service

From a modest beginning in 1956, the Kiwanis Club of Weymouth is no doubt the most energetic volunteer group in the County of Digby. It demonstrates the real meaning of the Kiwanian objective, "To give primacy to the human and spiritual rather than to the material things of life." While adopting "youth work" as its main service effort many other community projects have come to the club's attention.

The number one achievement of course, is "Kiwanis Park" at Journey's Lake. Thousands of man hours have raised many blisters on members' hands over the past four years in accomplishing what is now one of the finest parks of its kind in the province. While the program for the development of this lake area was considered by many to be too ambitious for such a small group, the Kiwanians of Weymouth didn't think so and today they have a five-acre park which includes a large playing field, an enclosed play ground, wading pool, a 250' concrete sea wall, diving board, 2 bath houses, 2 rest rooms, a canteen, picnic tables, club house and kitchen. The remarkable part is that nearly all the work was done by club members in the evening and on weekends.

Great assistance was given by local merchants and other interested persons who donated materials or sold them to the club at vastly reduced prices. While the "park" is well developed many future plans are still on the drawing boards and will be completed as funds become available.

Perhaps one of the most commendable features conducted at the "park" is the swimming instruction available to all children. A fully trained and Red Cross accredited instructor is engaged each summer to carry on this important work. Each weekend hundreds of people crowd to the "lake" for a swim and the inevitable picnic lunch.

The first president of the club was Dr. H. J. Pothier, M.L.A., who has been a driving force behind the club since its inception. This busy physician "relaxes" by spending his free hours with a saw and hammer building or repairing park buildings. He is the only member of the club to serve on the board of directors since it was organized.

Some of the activities provided by the Kiwanis Club include kiddies skating parties, little league baseball, play grounds, swimming instruction, Christmas treats. From time to time specific needy causes are referred to the club for help and all are assisted within the limitations of the club's resources. There are no barriers as to race, color or religion in any Kiwanis efforts.

Fashion Show
Island School

A fashion show highlighted the final meeting of the Islands Consolidated Home and School Association which was held at the school at Freeport.

Following the brief opening of the meeting, which was presided over by Mrs. Melvin Tibert of Freeport, members of the adult sewing class and students from grade 7 to 10 presented a panorama fashion show of beautiful styles and colors to a large attendance.

Members of the adult sewing class modelled the various articles of clothing they had made at their weekly meetings during the year at the Home Economics Dept. of the Consolidated School at Freeport. Their instructor, Mrs. Vera Crocker, of Freeport, acted as M. C. for the group and described style, fabric etc. of each outfit as it was modelled on the stage. Children's clothing made by the mothers in the group was modelled by the children.

Students from Grade 7 to 10 modelled the various articles of clothing they had made during the year. Miss Pamela Out-house, student of Tiverton acted as M. C. for that group.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Milburn left on Friday to spend a vacation with relatives at Murray River, P.E.I. and Albert, N.B.

Their instructor was Mrs. Peter Milburn of Freeport. Mrs. Milburn is also a teacher in the school.

Students members of the Industrial Arts class of the consolidated school, whose instructor is Herbert Thurber, displayed the articles they had made during the year.

A skit, especially written and prepared for the occasion by Mrs. Elliott of Tiverton, was presented Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. Eva Outhouse also of Tiverton. The skit involved the presentation of a gift, a sum of money, to sewing instructor, Mrs. Crocker, on behalf of the adult sewing group.

Following the meeting a buffet lunch was served in the Home Economics Dept. of the school.

DIGBY'S NEWEST HOTEL READY FOR BUSINESS

Service Of Recognition

A Service of Recognition for students of the congregations of the Baptist churches of Digby and Hill Grove, who have completed their studies in Grades 11 and 12 in the Digby Regional High School, was held in the Baptist Church of Digby on Sunday morning. The pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, was assisted in the service by Rev. L. R. Atkinson, father of one of the graduates in Grade 11. The students were congratulated on their success in completing their studies thus far, and the prayer of dedication was offered by the pastor.

In his message to the students and to the large congregation present, the pastor spoke from the words used of Jesus in John 13: "He took a towel and girded himself..." Jesus stooped to serve, the speaker said, and all that he possessed of mind, heart and body was devoted in self-denying service and helpfulness. The students were reminded that knowledge, like the towel that Jesus used to wash his disciples feet, is an instrument of service to one's fellowmen, as well as to the enrichment of one's own mind. The possession of knowledge should not minister to pride but to humility. We cannot remain forever on the uplands of educational isolation but we must come down to where people are and minister to them of the best we have to give. This should be the aim of all true education, and this is the Christian standard of service.

MARLA MOTOR HOTEL OPENS

The Champlain Hotel, catering to Digby's tourists since 1912, has recently taken on a bright new appearance. Completely remodelled, and renamed the MARLA MOTOR HOTEL, the new 23 unit establishment promises to be one of the most popular vacation spots in western Nova Scotia. The hotel is owned by Fundy Hotels Limited.

Situated at 41 Montague Row in Digby, the gay red and white two-storey structure overlooks beautiful Annapolis Basin. The hotel is surrounded by tall trees, with spacious lawns and gardens. Adequate parking is available. Sight-seeing and sport fishing trips can be arranged.

The units, finished in ultra-wall panelling, manufactured by Canadian Gypsum Company Ltd., and equipped with radios, telephones and televisions, are most modern in every way. The old lounge of the Champlain has totally disappeared, making room for extra units. A new lounge, size 30' x 13', has been added. There are plans of adding six new units at the rear of the building in the near future. The hotel has a large dining area where three meals are served each day.

Mr. Cohen

Archie Cohen, seen in the photo to the right, is president of Fundy Hotels Limited, owners of the new Marla Motor Hotel.

A prominent real estate man, Mr. Cohen was born in Yarmouth, and has a home on Park Street in that town. He is married to the former Olive Lewis, of Yarmouth, and they have two children, Marla (whom the hotel is named after), 10 years, and Cindy, 7 years.

Mr. Croft

Jack A. Croft, manager of the Marla Motor Hotel, also managed the Champlain for three years. He was born in the city of York, Yorkshire, England, and arrived in Canada in 1947.

Before coming to Digby, Mr. Croft operated a restaurant and hotel at a summer resort in Cleethorpes, Lincolnshire, England, and for some time had charge of the Carleton Hotel dining room, in Halifax. He is seen in the photo to the left. Mr. Croft and his wife, Marguerite, have one son, Peter, 17 years. They live in Digby.

Marriages

Ford - Adams

A wedding of wide interest was solemnized at the Smith's Cove Baptist Church on June 12 when Anna Laura daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Lloyd Adams, Smith's Cove, became the bride of Howard Rodney Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ford, Kempt, Queen's County. The Reverend G. D. Brydon officiated.
Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked beautiful in a floor length gown of white chiffon.

The full skirt with train was decorated with self white roses. The bodice of the dress was white satin with a boat neckline and long sleeves tapering over the wrists. Her four tier veil was of shoulder length and caught by a terra as a head piece. Her bouquet was of red roses.

The bride was attended by Miss Linda Brinton and Gail Adams, sister of the bride.
Miss Brinton wore a yellow dress and full paneled skirt and tight bodice. Her pillbox hat and veil matched the dress in color and material. Her bou-quet was a mixture of white chrysanthemums and red roses.
Miss Adams was attired in turquoise identical to that of Miss Brinton. Her bouquet was also of white chrysanthemums and red roses.

Attending the groom was his brother, John. Ushers were Wayne Adams, brother of the bride; Murray Rawding, of Middleton, brother-in-law of the groom. Mrs. Eric Adams, aunt of the bride, played the nuptial music.

The bride's mother wore a pink linen dress with embroidered jacket and white accessories. The groom's mother wore green brocade and pink accessories.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church vestry for 200 guests. In charge of the guest book was Mrs. Ronald Telfer, Halifax, sister of the groom.
Pouring were Mrs. Gerald Young, Mrs. Alice Brinton,
Mrs. Neil Adams, and Mrs.
Dean Tidd. Guests were present from Halifax, Middleton, Caledonia, Kempt, and Little River.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Cape Breton. The bride wore for travelling a two piece wool suit of sand and white with beige accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

Local Winner To Go On Shopping Spree

How many dollars worth of groceries could you grab off the shelves of your favorite grocery store during a 3-minute grocery shopping spree? $50? $100? $150?

Well, Mrs. Vesta Warner (pictured above), of Digby, is going to find out after winning just such a chance from the Shoppers Sweepstakes, a 10-week promotion currently being conducted by bottlers of Pepsi Cola and Teem throughout Canada.

And whatever the amount is, Mr. LeBlanc, representative of Jones Bottling Company Limited, local Pepsi bottler, will be at the check-out counter to pick up the final tab.

Mrs. Warner has chosen B.
B. Baxter Ltd., Self-Service, Deep Brook, N. S., to go on her spree on July 2nd, at 8 p.m.

At the sound of the starting whistle and in accordance with an easy set of rules, Mrs.
Warner will be romping up and down the aisles for a full 3-minutes until Mr. LeBlanc blows the final whistle to end what promises to be a very rewarding episode. (Adv.)

The Clementsvalle District Home and School held their closing meeting for the current year in the school on Wednesday evening.

The program, presented by the Boy Scouts of Clements-valle Troup, under the leadership of Scoutmaster Gerald Isles, gave an interesting demonstration of various achievements in Scout work.

Recent pantry and rummage sale receipts amounted to $28.00, to be used towards payment of movie projector received. Money voted for prizes of $1 to each classroom, to be awarded to the pupil showing greatest general improvement.

The following slate of officers was adopted:

President, Mr. John Salsman; vice-president, Mrs.
Frances Long; secretary, Mrs.
Arthur Jefferson; treasurer, Mrs. Wilson Reece; convener of health, Mrs. Willard Wiles; school education, Mrs. Clinton

All Roads Lead To Weymouth On July 1st

All roads lead to Weymouth on July 1st, when the Kiwanis Club of Weymouth stage their annual "Weymouth Day". Club members have been busy for the past two months making extensive plans for the gala function. Every member has a part to play in organizing the many facets of the program.

Committee meetings are being held morning, noon and night. Some are arranging the parade details and lining up the decorated floats, others are putting together a mid-way program, then there is the chicken barbecue and the hot dog and hamburger stands, to name only a few of the requirements to make this another memorable Weymouth Day.

Kiwanians are busy people at any time, taking an active part in Boards of Trade, Community Activities, Church Work, Home & School Association, but they are always ready to lend a helping hand to their organization, which strives for the betterment of our youth.

The current officers and directors of the club are:

President - Bernard LeBlanc.
Vice-President - Raymond Rice.
2nd Vice-President - Dennis LeBlanc.

Treasurer - Perley Charlton.
Secretary - William Lefort.
Past-President - Lawrence Stockdale.

Directors: Hartley Powell, Willard Kinney, Malcolm Mullen, Basil Belliveau, Emmanuel Adelaide, Fidele Theriault, C. Caird Nicholl.

Obituary

Mrs. Niel Outhouse
Mrs. Niel Outhouse died late Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Borden Hubley, Bear River, where she had been a bed-ridden patient for a number of weeks. She was 86, and the last member of a large family.

Mrs. Outhouse, the former Jennie Maude Walker, was the daughter of the late Mr. James Walker, native of Tiverton and Mrs. Walker, the former Katherine Young of Young's Cove, Annapolis Co. Besides her husband, she leaves to mourn several nieces and nephews. They had no children. Four sisters and three brothers had predeceased her.

The remains that had rested at Jaynes Funeral parlor at Digby, were brought to Tiverton on Sunday where the funeral service was conducted from the United Baptist Church of which Mrs. Outhouse was a member by Rev. Ideson. Interment was at Tiverton cemetery.

Barton

The unfortunate folk of Barton last week were as follows: Mrs. William Fermer, breaking her leg, Mr. Arthur Foster cutting his knee; George Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Marshall, cut his head, and Peter Gillespie, the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gillespie breaking his arm. Mrs. Allan Shortliffe and small son, Michael of Summerside, P.E.I. are visiting her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Grant while Allan takes a five weeks course at R.C.A.F. Station, Greenwood.

Visitors with Rev. and Mrs. William Fermer, the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Fraser, Mrs. Wyle, Mrs. McEwen and Mrs. Ethel Smith all of Bear River. Also Rev. R. R. Winchester of Brighton. Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Shortliffe on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Cress of Bear River, Mrs. Hubert Wilson of Conway and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Shortliffe and son Michael of Summerside, P.E.I.

Criticism often takes from the tree caterpillars and blossoms together. — Jean Paul Richter.

Jane's

I goofed, didn't I? That cat came roaring out of the bag with something like the velocity of a freight train. I have been hoping that by some miracle June 4 was the week that my copy of the Courier was the only one to get off the press. Barring that, perhaps, by some accident nobody remembered to put COFFEE in until the last dozen papers. Since neither of these are very likely, maybe, just maybe, the week of June 4 was the week you did not read the column. If you did not, never mind. I shall read my copy a bit more carefully in the future. I do not intend to give away any more secrets.

I was a snob last week. I have no excuse for my action. I can think of no arguments in defence of what I did, but in the same circumstances, I would do it again. I am ashamed, but not so much ashamed of my action (or lack of it) as ashamed that I am so little ashamed.

The worst part of it is that one would think that I, of all people, would have more sympathy than that. I am so paranoid that if I see two of my friends sitting on the lawn three doors up the street having tea together without having invited me, I go through great paroxysms of self-pity, certain that I am being snubbed. Only the day before, I was sitting on my lawn, in my shorts, feeling very sorry for myself as I watched a parade of hatted and gloved neighbors making their brightly colored way to a tea to which I was not invited. I had been at a big party at that house only a couple of weeks before, but this did not console me. Every time someone who had been to that party and was going to this one passed, I wondered why I had not been invited to both. When the passer was someone who had not been to the previous party, I hoped they would realize that I had been, and maybe they would not think me a complete social outcast.

The women of our neighborhood are part of that whirl which the sociologists like to tell us is a disease of frustrated, suburban housewives. So far the world of golf and bridge has not invaded my life, but the tea party, coffee party circuit can make or break a woman's life around here. People who think they are more mentally, emotionally, and intellectually healthy than we frustrated suburban housewives decry these little get-togethers as a colossal waste of time, a way to fill in the emptiness of our lives. The conversation, they tell us, is inane and boring, centering on children, food, and clothes in about that order, with never an original idea crossing our frustrated little minds. This, they tell us, is small talk, all very unsophisticated, and quite indicative of the shallowness of our minds. It must be indicative of the shallowness of my mind, if I confess I love tea parties, and coffee parties.

Which reminds me of the fact that I did not invite a neighbor to my coffee party. I deliberately did not invite her. I can make all sorts of arguments and excuses. I only had twelve people, which means that there were a great many of my friends and acquaintances who were not invited, for various reasons, some because I did not owe them an invitation, some because they would not be particularly compatible with the group I had, a thousand others, all of which were true of my neighbor, but none of them are the reason I didn't invite her.

Do you remember that song from THE MUSIC MAN where the ladies are telling the Professor about the low morals of "Marion the Librarian". Not only, they say, does she read dirty books, by Chaucer, Rabelais, Balzac, Shakespeare, and "all them other high-falutin' Greeks", but she once made friends with a man who never had a friend in this town until she came along. That song is beautifully calculated to allow us to give ourselves a little pat on the back, and congratulate ourselves on being so much more open minded than those ladies.

But I am not more open minded. I am one of them. I did not invite my neighbor to my party. I did not invite her because nobody else has ever made friends with her, and although I am not ashamed to baby sit her children, or have her sit with mine, although I am not ashamed to drop in to visit her for an afternoon, or have her come to visit me, I know that never, in all the time I have lived near her, have I seen her at a private social function in someone's house, and I am desperately afraid that if someone sees her in mine they will think I am on the same social acceptance level she is.

I think it is a case of "there but for the grace of God". Perhaps she and I are really the same person. Perhaps I have only managed to fool the world into thinking I am a person worth inviting places. Perhaps, the next time I have a party, I will not invite her again, because I will be afraid to face my other self, as it looks without its veneer of put-on-for-the-occasion social graces.

I know, I am the woman who only a few weeks ago was not going to compromise myself in order to be socially acceptable, and I was going to like whom I pleased. I really meant it when I said it. How awful that our intentions and our practices do not always fit in the same box!

PROVINCE OF NOVA SCOTIA

IN THE MATTER OF THE SALVAGE YARDS LICENSING ACT

NOTICE

To persons who place, store or keep used automobile bodies or used goods, material or equipment of any kind on land within 1500 feet of the travelled portion of a highway.

Affective July 1st, 1964, any person who places, stores or keeps used bodies or parts of automobiles or used bodies or parts of other vehicles or machinery or used goods, material or equipment of any kind on land within 1500 feet of the center line of the travelled portion of a highway in the Province of Nova Scotia not in a city or incorporated town must obtain a license under the Salvage Yards Licensing Act, issued by the Board of Commissioners of Public Utilities.

No person shall use any such land for such purpose after July 1st, 1964, unless he has obtained from the Board a license or a conditional license authorizing him to do so.

The Salvage Yards Licensing Act provides

(1) that the Board shall issue a license if it is satisfied that the premises upon which such bodies of automobiles or other material are placed, stored or kept will not be unsightly or offensive to any part of the travelling public and will not contravene any provision of the Public Health Act, the Municipal Act, the Town Planning Act, the Water Act, the Public Highways Act or by-laws, rules, regulations or orders made under any of the said Acts;

(2) that the Board may issue a conditional license which is conditional on compliance by the conditional licensee with the terms, conditions and restrictions imposed by the Board in respect of the conditional license.
