Digby Fire Prevention Committee Active

A committee appointed by the Digby Fire Department in January of this year has proved to be most active not only during the usual fire prevention week precautions, but throughout the year in keeping this most important subject before the public.

Activities for the international week from October 4th to 10th planned by the local dept. are varied and numerous and a full program is scheduled commencing on the 4th at 8:30 a.m. when all members and associates will assemble at the fire station for a church parade to St. Patrick's Church. Following this a crew will prepare to leave the fire station at 11:00 a.m. with the new pumper and a display of fire prevention materials, and proceed to RCAF Greenwood where a mammoth parade will be staged with all fire departments participating from Windsor to Digby. The crew on this occasion will consist of Fire Chief George Humphrey and members of the fire prevention committee who are seasoned firemen. While this parade is taking place the remainder of the forty five members will be distributing posters, and other fire prevention material throughout the town.

Each member of the department has been assigned at least two buildings to be inspected by the time fire prevention week arrives and a report is to be turned in to the committee. These inspections will include mostly commercial buildings and public gathering places. Fashion Cleaners Ltd. has taken on the job of distributing home cleaning leaflets to every customer during the week. Digby Dairy Ltd. and the Boy Scouts have taken on a project of distributing leaflets from door to door. Other signs, billboards and a road banner will be posted by members of the department.

A proposed program of movies, talks and drills are planned for the schools. Window displays will be installed in various business establishments of the town.

An open house is planned for the public at the fire station on October 7th from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. to which the public is invited. The Royal Canadian Legion is making a display to be installed on the lawn at the post office. The Digby Lion's club has taken on the job of making posters for commercial vehicles to display. The town council will be posting stickers on all parking meters in the town. Training classes for garages and other business establishments on fire extinguishers and fire prevention are on the program. The week will wind up at the fire station with a social evening for all members and their wives where there will be entertainment of fire prevention movies and displays. A visit with HMCS Cornwallis Naval Base is also being planned during the week.

The local paper is also co-operating with editorials, advertising and news items in conjunction with program.

A Gospel For Each New Reader

Rev. P. Macintosh, Halifax, secretary of the Nova Scotia Division Canadian Bible Society, was guest speaker on Tuesday evening at the Digby United Baptist Church when a special meeting was held on the work of the Bible Society and as a preliminary to the annual canvass for funds.

Mr. Macintosh said that despite the fact last year was the 150th anniversary of the British and Foreign Bible Society and that this is the 60th anniversary of the Canadian Bible Society, only ten percent of the church people know anything about the Bible Society and its work. One book, at least, of the Bible has now been translated into 1,202 languages but there are still one thousand languages in the world which have not a single verse of the Bible translated, the speaker said. The world, he said, was increasing in population by 165,000 a day. Most of this increase is not in Canada or the U.S.A., he continued, and by the year 2000 A.D. it is expected that three out of every five of population will be in Asia. The Christian Church will be in a smaller minority than it is today. How will they be won for Christ, he asked, unless we distribute the Word?

During the past year a new challenge had been opened to the Bible Society and they accepted it, Mr. Macintosh said. At a meeting in Tokyo a five to ten year plan was drawn up to supply a Bible to each of the new readers of the United Nations program. On a survey by the United Nations it was found that 500,000,000 people between 15 and 50 years were illiterate. The United Nations is attempting to teach 70,000,000 each year to read. Mr. Macintosh contended that these people having become literate would read whatever is at hand for them and they will believe what they read. He felt that the Communists would take advantage of this and so would those who were selling literature of a base nature. The Bible Society is attempting to have at least one Gospel in the hands of each new reader and in his own language in the next five years. One dollar will provide ten single Gospels, he said. The plan is known as God's Word for a New Age. If we are convinced that the Bible has a message for the new age then we must share the message, he said. A new world has emerged and God is calling us onward and not backward in a new age.

Mr. Macintosh urged the support of all for the Bible Society which is not a church or a denomination but exists to help the mission of the church which is to proclaim the gospel.

The service was conducted by Rev. R. H. Hughes. Rev. H. S. Hartlin extended a welcome. Rev. Mr. Ricker read the scripture and led in prayer and Mr. Denchfield gave the benediction. Rev. Mr. Ricker is convener of the canvass committee.

Rev. W. P. Oliver in a keynote address at the weekend workshop session at Acadiaville, sponsored by the Acadiaville Community Betterment Association, said there is a tendency among those interested in community improvement to look at programs for the future in the light of what used to be in the past.

Mr. Oliver said it is necessary to look at today's problems in the light of drastic changes that have taken place in recent years, particularly in the changing requirements for employment. There is a great need, he said, for hands and minds to be trained. Another thing that must be kept in mind is the shift in areas of employment, he said.

Mr. Oliver said that in order to properly carry out a program of community improvement it is necessary to identify the factories that have created the situation that needs changing. It is also necessary to determine how many are really interested in bringing about change through action. The attitude of the people needs to be determined, he said, and it is also necessary to learn if people are confident of what they can actually do, or if they are merely pressure groups.

In many cases, Mr. Oliver said, group interest must be sacrificed in the work of community development for the interests of the total community. It is easy, he said, to break up into factions, to delay taking action that should be taken for the good of the whole, because it may be contrary to the seeming interests of a specific group.

He paid tribute to the work of the Community Betterment Association in Acadiaville and said the group was off to a good start.

Following Mr. Oliver's address a panel discussion on the association was held. Chairman of the panel was Municipal Councillor Marion P. Gott. Other members were: Rev. Willard Clayton, Mrs. Eleanor Elms, Irving Cromwell and Mrs. Mary Borden.

The panel dealt with the aims and ideals of the organization; its progress to date, what is it, and what it is attempting to do.

During the discussion it was pointed out that one of the factors hampering the work of the association was difficulty in communicating to the total population of the area, the real purposes of the organization, and enlisting their support.

A number of methods of overcoming this difficulty were suggested.

Committee reports given at the workshop session revealed that since its organization last June the association has carried on a number of worthwhile projects. Included in these are adult education classes, setting up a community library, vacation school project, pre-school classes and social evenings for the community young people.

Among speakers at the evening session was Louis Stephen, music advisor for the adult education division, department of education.

Recommendations made by discussion groups at the workshop session will be dealt with by the executive and directors at their regular monthly meeting. These include the setting up of an inter-racial committee on employment; a survey of the handicraft skills of the community; exploration of the possibility of having a home and school organization developed; investigation of the development of group activity in agriculture, and determination of the feasibility of organizing a class in carpentry.

Plans will also be finalized at the executive meeting for the holding of a clean-up campaign in the community. Tentative plans are to have this get underway with a general clean-up of the Community Centre on October 10. This will be followed by a week long campaign in the community.

Kenneth Rice, of Alberta, and Boyd Rice, of Saskatchewan, visited their sister, Mrs. Charles VanTassel, and Mr. VanTassel and family, at Roxville, this week. They were accompanied by their sister, Mrs. Albert Riley, Bear River.

About This and That

The "Why" About Fires

As we once again observe Fire Prevention Week, we are reminded that last year Canada racked up yet another set of sorry statistics! Why?

Why did FIRE cause a property loss total of almost $150,000,000.00?

Why did FIRE snuff out the lives of over 500 Canadians?

Why were there well over 80,000 FIRES in Canada?

Why were most of these FIRES in homes?

Why? Why? Why? There is a simple answer to this question, and a simple solution to the problem of FIRE in Canada, and it is the common, three-letter word YOU!

Three out of every four FIRES are the result of human carelessness! They should never have occurred, but because someone was careless, they did! Those persons that experienced these fires, if they survived, won't have to learn their lesson again, but how about YOU?

Are YOU prepared to profit from the sad experience of others, and really do something about FIRE PREVENTION, or are YOU going to insist, as do most Canadians, on waiting until you learn your own bitter lessons?

Over and over again we see headlines that read something like this: "Children Die As Parents Unable to Enter Burning Home." WHY, in Heaven's name, were the parents away from the home in the first place? And, if they simply had to go next door to play cards, WHY wasn't a competent Baby Sitter hired, and told what to do in case of fire?

"Frayed electrical appliance cords are dangerous," repeat the Fire Prevention experts, so what have YOU done about the frayed cord on YOUR electric kettle, steam iron or toaster? If YOU are waiting "just a little bit longer, until it really needs replacing," it could be the most expensive wait YOU will ever experience!

"Clean out attics and basements," say the experts, so what about YOUR attic or basement? All that junk that has been lying around for a donkey's years, is nothing but a perfect breeding place for FIRE. Those old books and magazines for instance; when do you think you are going to read them? That old chesterfield chair, and those boxes of old baby clothes, to say nothing of the old window blinds and lamp shades that have been in the attic for the last ten years!

Stop kidding yourself! If an item has been dumped in the basement or the attic, and hasn't been brought out, or looked for, in over a year, the odds are 100 to 1 that it never will be, so do yourself a favour and get rid of it! It will do away with a serious FIRE hazard and besides, it will give you more room for this year's accumulation of junk!

Finally, let's mention smoking. Every smoker has, at one time or another, experienced drowsiness while smoking, and has usually suffered minor singeing as a result. They are the lucky ones! Our cemeteries are filled with others who didn't wake up in time, and became charred statistics in our annual FIRE record.

Nobody could help these people, the responsibility was theirs and theirs alone. They had most certainly heard all the warnings, just as YOU have. They chose to ignore them, secure in the ridiculous assumption that "it can't happen to me." Just for the record, it can happen to anyone; anyone, that is, who is foolish enough to ignore the warnings, and who considers FIRE PREVENTION as something strictly for others! (Canadian Underwriters' Association).

So-Right You Are!

Did you know that the accent this fall is on knitwear and sweaters? Somebody just came back from two large American cities with that announcement! It was news! It was for immediate release and came from the desk of a public relations officer, so it said. Do you know how to keep all these nice woolsens free from balling and piling and have them always looking fresh? There's a new comb out for the purpose. So the news release said! The dainty comb comes in a lovely little case and can easily be carried in your handbag. So the news story said! Oh, heck, the news story mentioned the name of the comb. We've forgotten it now, so you won't be able to trot right out and ask for it and boost the sale of the comb.

By the way, the news release didn't have a picture of the comb. Or, if it did, we lost it! So many of the news releases of that nature from the desks of public relations officers have beautiful expensive glossy pictures to go along with the news. They'd only cost us from $5 to $20 maybe, to get the cuts made up. Maybe, yes maybe, that is why we so seldom use that kind of news release from the public relations desk!

Every once in a while I find that my mind has formed habits. As far as I know, there is no such thing as a good mental habit. Suddenly, I will realize that for weeks I have been thinking the same thoughts, and rearranging the same prejudices. My ideas have been coming to me pre-digested through the radio, which I keep running, like a leaky faucet, from morning to night, or through T.V. The first warning signal comes when my conversations begin "I heard So-and-so on the radio this morning. He said . . ." My next thought will be a rehash of the last one.

Whenever this happens I try to refresh my mind by doing something completely different from the things I ordinarily do. I will probably get a good deal of argument on this, but I find it much easier to refresh my mind this way in the city than in a small town, especially in a small town without a library.

Once, when I reached this point while we were living in Halifax, I picked up the telephone on pure impulse and called the School for the Blind to offer to read lessons to the children. The principal was very pleased with my offer. I spent two years at this job, until we moved away. It opened worlds to me which I hardly knew existed. Another time, my descent into the morass of mental decay happened to occur on the day that a brochure for adult education classes arrived from Saint Mary's University. I signed up for two courses, which I thoroughly enjoyed, but I was shocked and ashamed to find out how much of the very mechanism of thinking I had lost since I left school.

We spent one summer in a trailer, a couple of miles from Fredericton. My family consisted of one small baby, and a husband whose job permitted him to be home five hours in every forty-eight. Under the circumstances, neither of these persons were exactly sparking conversationalists. I did have the ever present radio for company. My library consisted of the Bible, a worn out copy of Dr. Spock, The Old Curiosity Shop, and a book called A Doctor's Pilgrimage which a doctor friend had given us. This latter book, by the way, was written by a man who practised medicine in Little Brook, Digby County, in the 1930's. Except for the Bible, this arsenal was read through in a very short time.

That was the summer I blessed Lord Beaverbrook. When the conversational topics of a three months old child, and a man who grunted "How ya doin'?", in a pathetic effort to say something, and then fell asleep on the chesterfield, were exhausted, I used to go to the Beaverbrook Art Gallery. There I could wander among pictures, and stimulated by them, think my own thoughts. I used to come out with the sensation that my brain had been cleaned out, all the garbage thrown away, and I had a completely new mind for completely new trains of thought.

But when, in the country, I find that my mind is so cluttered with trivia that it needs a housecleaning, and I have no access to the city, I contrive to give myself a mental holiday. This is a surprisingly pleasant and refreshing experience. Once in a while I hire a baby sitter and go out somewhere, but more often than not I simply stop thinking about diapers and dishes as they pile up around me.

On my mental holidays, which happen once every six weeks or so, I wash dishes, make beds, have meals from cans, and clean up the messes the children make. Washing, ironing, the cleaning of anything which cannot be seen with the naked eye, are out. This essential work can be done in three periods of approximately one hour each, morning, noon, and night. I am left with about seven hours to do as I please. If I feel like reading all morning, I do. If I feel like taking a very slow walk in the afternoon, I do. I write to friends I have not written to for years, and I write letters I have no intention of sending anywhere but to the waste basket. Last Friday I even wrote an application for a job. The last thing on my mind is to get a job, but I thoroughly enjoyed writing the letter. I saved it, because in my humble opinion, and after my rather disastrous experience in the world of the working woman, I thought my letter to be a minor masterpiece. I dictated my own terms, told my prospective employer quite frankly that I do not need a job, but that I would like to have one as a diversion. I mentioned that a mindless job such as the one he had to offer was just what I was looking for, something that would provide more relaxation than responsibility. I told him what days I expected to have off, and gave him a complete catalogue of my inabilities as well as my abilities. I think we all have the urge to do something completely idiotic like that. Sometimes the longing to do something utterly foolish haunts us for days, but we do not do these things, because they are idiotic, and the pressure of the sensible things of the world is too great. I think anyone who has too much sense for this would be amazed at the therapeutic value of doing something stupid at one's leisure.

The criterion for my activities on these mental holidays is that they cannot be pre-meditated. They must be something I feel like doing at the moment I do it. They also must be as different as possible from the usual day's activities. I chose books which are not those my friends are talking about. If I visit someone, it is not a coffee-drinking young housewife with 2.5 children, whose husband goes to work at nine and comes back at five, these are my friends. I see them every day. They are all carbon copies of me, or I of them, and their mental habits are exactly like mine. They listen to the same radio programs, read the same books, and talk about their children just like me, consequently, they are unacceptable on my mind renewing days. On those days I need old ladies or a long conversation with the garbage man, or a university professor, if I can find one.

I took one of these days off on Friday. I find that this does not spoil me, instead it refreshes me to such an extent that after such a day I can work at peak efficiency (peak efficiency for me, which is several degrees below low efficiency for anyone else) for several weeks. The effect is as good as, and much cheaper than, a real holiday.

Rossway

The Rossway Women's Club met last Wednesday afternoon in the community hall for their annual meeting. There were ten members attending. The slate of officers brought in for the ensuing year were the same as last year. President, Mrs. Waters Comeau, vice-president, Mrs. Edison Specht, 2nd vice president, Mrs. Thurston Banks, secretary - treasurer, Mrs. Oswald Mullen, convenor of ways and means, Mrs. Willard Wentzell with a committee of two - Mrs. Bernard McBride and Mrs. Thurston Banks. Convenors of quilting - Mrs. Darrell Lewis and Mrs. Edison Specht and convenor of clothing parcels sent overseas, Mrs. John Gidney.

It was decided this year the club members would forego their annual dinner party and put their money into the hall treasury instead. The roof of the hall has just been shingled and funds are badly needed.

During the past year the Club had seventeen members during which time eleven quilts were quilted. The sum of fifty dollars was passed over to the hall secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Edison Specht to be used for hall repairs. Three dollars was sent to the Unitarian Service Fund for needy overseas children. Two dollars went to the Walter Callow Wheelchair Coach Fund and several boxes of used clothing and flat heeled shoes were collected, packed and sent away for overseas shipment.

During the April meeting a kitchen shower was held by the club members for one of their members, Mrs. M. E. MacLean who had at that time just acquired a home.

Last December, fourteen Christmas boxes were filled and distributed to the older folk and shut ins.

The members are looking forward to another successful year and are hoping still more can be done to the hall which now needs painting outside and renovations done to the inside.

The ladies will continue their quilting activities as their main source of revenue for the repairing of the hall which is their chief objective for the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Leeman of Shelburne were weekend guests of Mrs. M. E. MacLean and her daughter, Mrs. John Lawson of Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Germaine of Mount Pleasant spent

Cure For Colds (Redoxon)

The war against the common cold is being stepped up by Swiss firm of chemists who have disclosed a new "bombshell" attack against infection.

A white tablet, which dropped into a glass of water, makes a refreshing fizzy drink, is the new weapon designed to destroy colds.

It was made known at an exhibition in London of the latest drug discoveries.

The tablet contains a massive dose of vitamin C. Wartime studies proved that the body needs large quantities of this vitamin to resist infection.

PLAY is child's work

Oh sure, they sometimes balk on chores, try to weasel out of taking the garbage or shining their shoes. But never think kids don't work, because work is really a matter of burning up energy.

And how they burn it up, with play, chores and just plain GROWING!

Of course, a balanced diet is necessary to replace that burned-up energy. That's where Ben's BUTTERMILK BREAD can play an important part because it is a wonderful source of food energy.

Ben's BUTTERMILK BREAD tastes good too!

Letter to the Editor

Westport, August, 1961

Dear Editor:

I have hanging on my walls old pictures that used to be given with subscriptions to the "Family Herald". They are framed in large, ornate frames and are signed by the painter, Arthur J. Elsie, the year of 1910.

I would like to know if anyone knows anything about him. This knowledge is just for my own pleasure and satisfaction.

The pictures are truly and beautifully done, natural as life. One is named "Home Again" and shows a runaway dog being greeted by his family. The other one is called "Mother's Treasures" and pictures a mother and two small children, one just learning how to walk.

copy of a painting by A. T. Holmes. This came from the St. Croix Soap Company (Sudbury, Sept.). It shows a St. Bernard dog being petted by a lovely old-fashioned girl, for side a beautiful home.

When I lived in Centreville as a small girl, I remember my mother getting "Family Herald" pictures and we children loved them and made friends of the animals and children in each one. The good old "Family Herald", how we welcomed it to our house!

Every old thing tells a story and I thought I would like to know a little about these pictures, if possible.

Thank you for your patience and courtesy.

Yours truly,
Myra P. Ellis,
Westport and Everett, Mass.

This is my daddys 1965 Volkswagen with the bigger windows

(Drawn by Martin Hilliard, age five)

Bigger windows. On a Volkswagen. Hard to picture?

Well, it's like this. We started with the windshield and we made every single window just a little bit bigger. All the better to see with. But the new Volkswagen still looks pretty much like the old Volkswagen. Unless you look real close. Martin Hilliard looked real close. Kids are like that.

He didn't care that the windows are only 15 per cent larger. He knows bigger windows when he sees them. And he knows how to draw them. So that's why we show you

Martin Hilliard's drawing of our new car. And the bigger windows. It shows you what the bigger windows feel like.

And you can be sure when we make changes in a Volkswagen it's not just window dressing. It's the same with all 16 changes on the new VW. They're all there for good reasons. Improved brakes. Better gearbox. Lubrication-free steering assembly. And improved wipers to clean the bigger windshield.

Get in a new Volkswagen and see what Martin Hilliard has in mind. Even if you're just window shopping.

Letter to the Editor

The Courier
Digby, N.S.

Dear Sir:

I would like to draw the attention of readers of your valuable paper to the very worthy enterprise: The annual book sale at the Halifax Shopping Centre, Oct. 16, sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Halifax Symphony Society.

The symphony, as you know, is a provincial organization both as to its support and its activities.

It has visited most centres throughout the province where it has been received with appreciation.

The book sale has become an annual successful effort in raising funds to ensure the continuation of the symphony.

As in the past we expect to receive donations of books from throughout the province.

Harris. While here they attended the Denton — Farstad wedding on Saturday.

Old Paper Recalls Governor General's Visit

Sidney Gidney, of Sandy Cove, brought to the Courier Office a copy of the Digby Weekly Courier of August 10, 1923, in which the visit of His Excellency, General Lord Byng and Mrs. Byng to Digby was described in full. The official party had been welcomed by Deputy Mayor E. L. Anderson.

and we would appreciate if you would publish this letter to remind interested supporters that we would again like to receive their donations of books.

These books should be left at the Halifax Art Shop, 6281 Quinpool Road, Halifax or we would appreciate if prospective donors could get in touch with Mrs. J. Norman Murray, 981 Young Ave., Halifax, her telephone number is Halifax 122-1636.

Sincerely Yours,
Jack Brayley,
for the Symphony Society

son, Dr. L. J. Lovett and Mrs. Lovett, of Bear River, and an address extended by Town Clerk, Alfred Boden.

The vice regal party were taken on a motor tour around the town and vicinity, and, according to the account in the Courier, they were so taken with the beauties of Digby that they changed their schedule and remained the full day rather than to depart at noon as had been planned.

In the afternoon they were guests at the Digby Golf Club, where they played golf and met the citizens. In the morning Baron Byng and W. E. Tupper of Digby had played a game of golf against Major Hodgson, Aime-de-camp, and F. L. Anderson, of Digby. At noon the Lovetts, of Bear River, entertained the party at luncheon at the Pines Hotel.

Lady Byng, accompanied by her lady-in-waiting, Miss Baughin, and Major Stetelin, crossed in a fishing boat from Church Point and landed at Little River, where Lady Byng walked to the top of the hill overlooking the village and viewed the Bay of Fundy. They rested at the Hill Crest House and then proceeded through the village, where they were met by Reverend T. M. MacWilliam, minister of the Baptist Church, who had been overseas with the 219th Battalion.

Cars from the village rallied to the pleasure of Her Ladyship and Mrs. Byng motored to Mink Cove, where she called on E. A. Gidney, whose son had been overseas. Mr. Gidney gave her a fishing rod with which she caught a trout in the brook on his property with her first cast of line. Another on whom Mrs. Byng called was Kelsey Trask, whose son, Rupert, had been overseas. Before returning to the boat, Her Ladyship was presented with a bouquet of roses by Mrs. W. B. Denton.

Another item in the 1923 edition expressed thanks to the Jack and Cardozo Company for a gift of jam to their Excellencies. Mr. George Cardozo, who was the only South African veteran in the town, had been introduced to His Excellency, the Governor General, while in Digby.

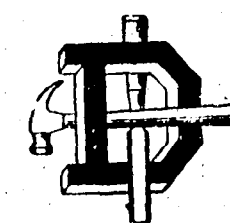

Another item in the Courier of forty-one years ago spoke

Isn't

Is?

Turn all pot handles in during cooking. Don't wear flimsy clothing or long, full sleeves when cooking. Lift far side of pan lids first to prevent scalding. Use a potholder when handling hot pans.

Don't ever smoke in bed. Be extremely careful when discarding matches, cigarettes, etc.

Be sure there are plenty of ashtrays in the house and that they are of a type that doesn't allow a forgotten cigarette to fall out.

Keep children out of the kitchen during meal preparation. If small children must be watched in the kitchen, keep them in a sturdy chair or a play pen—out of reach of the stove and sharp tools. Keep matches out of reach of small children, and teach older children to use them properly.

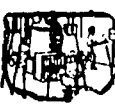

Be sure to keep electric wiring, equipment and appliances in good repair at all times.

Don't attempt home repair of electrical equipment. Hire an electrician qualified as a journeyman in the electrical construction trade.

Remember: Kerosene Kindling Kills.

Never use flammable liquids to start fires. Don't keep flammable liquids in dwellings and never in glass or plastic containers. Use an approved safety container. Home dry cleaning should be done only with non-flammable cleaners—and NEVER use flammable cleaners in a washing machine.

Don't allow trash to accumulate in basements, attics or storage areas. Make sure all combustibles are removed regularly. Any storage of clothing should be in good containers and all pockets must be cleaned of matches before storage. Containers should be stored clear of electrical equipment and in cool locations.

FIRE PREVENTION

10 THINGS TO REMEMBER

1. I shall not use gasoline for cleaning purposes.
2. I shall not burn trash on a windy day or too close to a building.
3. I shall see that all electric appliances and extension cords in my house are kept in a safe condition.
4. I shall not let oily rags and paper collect in and around the house.
5. I shall see that all matches are kept out of reach of my small brothers and sisters.
6. I shall not let drapes or curtains hang too close to heating in my house.
7. I shall see that no one smokes in bed at my house.
8. I shall locate the second exit from any building I enter.
9. I shall impress on my friends the danger of turning in false alarms.
10. I shall promote the necessity of fire prevention when and wherever I possibly can.

A Volunteer
Wife Speaks

"What do I do, as I wait, and I'm waiting for him when he comes back, the day of the house of the fire."

"He doesn't get out of a warm bed for personal glory. God knows it's not for money!"

"Just a little added proof — as if I need it — that my choice of long ago was right."

"He'll bring back the sickening odour of smoke and char. His pillowcase will need washing, but that won't matter. If only it doesn't have to happen again tomorrow night. . . or any night."

While proclaiming Fire Prevention Week, I also take the opportunity, on behalf of myself and Digby citizens, to extend appreciation for the services of our efficient Digby Fire Department.
I want to direct the public to the use of educational matter available during Fire Prevention Week and I earnestly appeal to the citizens to give their every cooperation to the Digby Fire Department in their endeavours during the week.

Report From Parliament Hill

George C. Nowlan

September 25, 1961

As many of our readers know, I was in Nova Scotia for the greater part of last week so this report from Parliament Hill will be written largely from "hearsay".

One thing that did happen during the week to this House of Commons which is rather weary, frustrated, and irritated, was that it had an opportunity for what can crudely be described as a good belly laugh. The circumstances have already been reported fairly fully in the press but I think they deserve repetition. On Tuesday, 22 September, the Honourable T. C. Douglas, leader of the New Democratic party, had a press conference in which he outlined the programme which his party would follow for the reformation of parliamentary rules and procedure. When the House of Commons opened the following day, Miss Pauline Jewett, a professor in political science at Carleton University and a prominent backbencher of the Liberal party, rose on a question of privilege and uttered a scathing criticism of Mr. Douglas and the N.D.P. She pointed out that the programme outlined by Mr. Douglas was really the programme being considered by the committee of the House of Commons which had been pledged to confidence and that all he had done was try to violate that confidence and seek publicity for the N.D.P. for something which a bipartisan committee of the House of Commons was already accomplishing. Representatives of other parties joined in her criticism and all parties indulged in thunderous applause of every speaker who was uttering these criticisms.

Then the Honourable Leon Bales, Conservative Member from Three Rivers, rose and read into the record a press release issued out of the Prime Minister's office that very morning commending the N.D.P. for the action they had taken. There you had the situation. A prominent and brilliant member of the Liberal caucus with the thunderous applause of the Liberal members criticizing the N.D.P. for something which earlier that day the Liberal Prime Minister had commended. Needless to say, a dead silence fell over the Liberal ranks when Mr. Bales read this statement and the applause from the Conservatives, the Creditists and the Social Creditors was even more thunderous than it had been before. In any event, it did not speak well for the cohesion of policy within the Liberal party and it gave an excuse and an escape valve to Members of Parliament for a good hearty laugh, something which has been sadly lacking around here for quite a long while.

The Department of Fisheries was under careful study during the week and in the course of the debate the Minister stated a study was being carried out by the Department of Public Works and the Department of Fisheries as to co-operation between the two departments in establishing certain deep water facilities along the coast of the Bay of Fundy. This is something which I recommended when I was Minister of Finance. It became obvious to me that certain deep water facilities had to be provided so that fishing boats at any time of the day or night could seek haven in deep water harbours which are now unavailable.

The situation has changed drastically in the years during which I have been in Ottawa. We still have small boats but in addition to them we have fishermen building larger craft of a value of seventy-five, eighty, one hundred thousand dollars. For them deep water facilities must be made available at all hours of the day or night. This, of course, will present its political problems. For instance, in Digby County I am sure that East Ferry, Tiverton, Westport, Freeport and Little River are all convinced that theirs is the ideal location for substantial expenditures for the protection and utilization of our fishing fleet. Obviously, the same amount of money cannot be spent on all of them but a study has to be made and decisions have to be reached as to what facilities are to be provided and where they are to be located. This is something which I had asked to be done during the time that I was a Minister of the Crown and I am glad to know that the present Minister of Fisheries is pursuing the inquiry and I hope that some decisions will be reached in the relatively near future. We have to have proper facilities in the lower end of the Bay and also further up the Bay to which boats can go at any time and in any weather.

This, of course, reminds me of all of the correspondence I have recently had from the Town of Digby with respect to port facilities there. It is well to refresh our memories for a moment or two. It was only two or three years ago when everyone in Digby was telling me that the Princess Helen would be cancelled and that no other boat would be put in its place and that Digby would become a ghost town. Now we have a larger and more efficient boat than the Princess Helen. It is not the ideal one which we would have built if we had had the money and the opportunity to design one, particularly for our own purposes but it is one which is infinitely better than we had two or three years ago. In addition, we have the def-

Sister Receives High Honor

Sister Mary Ruth (Ross), Hospital, Saint John, New Brunswick, Canada, was recently elected to the newly created Council of Regents of the American College of Hospital Administrators, a professional society comprised of over 5,700 hospital administrators in the United States and Canada.

Sister Mary Ruth, a Fellow of the College since 1961, took her place in the legislative body at the group's first historic meeting on August 24 in Chicago's Conrad Hilton Hotel during the College's 1961 Annual Meeting.

The election of the Council of Regents, which will serve indefinite pledge that a new wharf will be built in Digby in the immediate future at a cost of several hundred thousand dollars which will provide accommodation for the Princess and will relieve the pressure on the existing wharf. This wharf can then be strengthened and rebuilt and provide further facilities for our fishing fleet.

In addition, of course, there are problems with respect to dredging, some of which are of immediate concern and the department has assured me that adequate dredging will be carried on this fall to safeguard the immediate demands of the harbour and its shipping. Therefore, I suggest that private citizens and when the public agencies of the by have been completed those interested in the matter will find it hard to recall the fact that two years ago they were concerned about the future of the port and the ferry facilities operating between Saint John and Digby.

as the primary policy-making body of the College, is the first major step in the implementation of the group's revised organizational structure. Sister Mary Ruth was elected to represent the Province of New Brunswick on the Council of Regents for a one-year term.

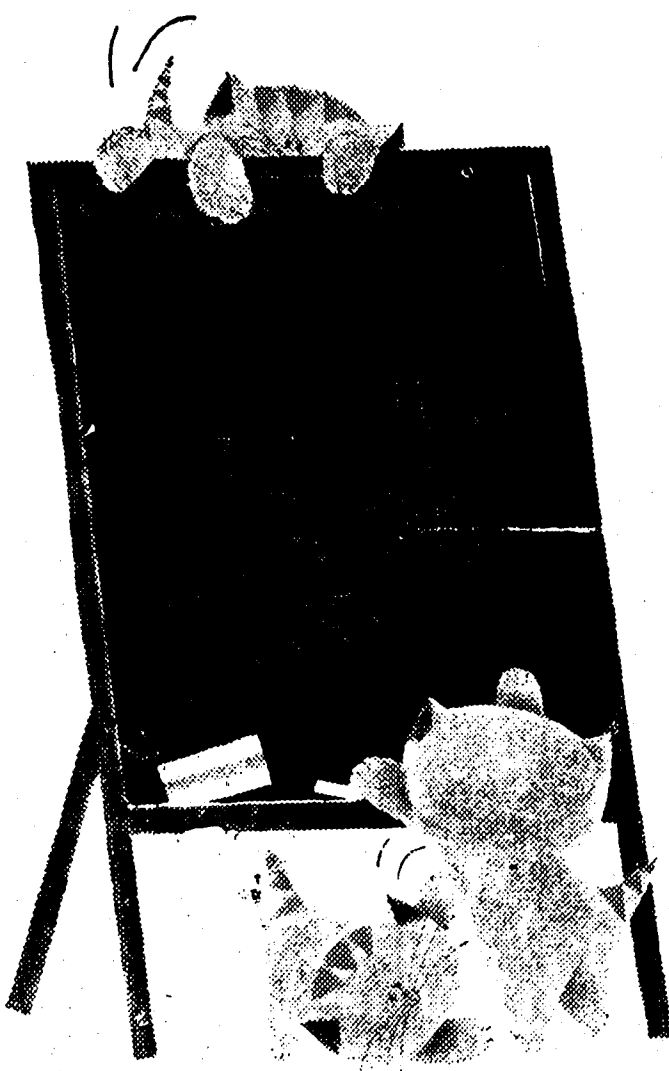

Sister Mary Ruth was born in Digby, Nova Scotia. She has been the administrator of St. Joseph's Hospital, Saint John, N.B. since 1957. Prior to that time, she was the Administrator of St. Vincent's Hospital in Vancouver, British Columbia from 1938-1957.

Sister Mary Ruth is a member of many professional organizations, including the Royal Society of Health and the Catholic Hospital Association, of which she served as president in 1956.

In addition, Sister Mary Ruth is a member of the Board of Directors of the Maritime Hospital Service Association and has been decorated with the Order of British Empire, Canada.

Course For Boy Who Wants To Be An Actor

By C. D. Smith

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I have a problem that is very important to me. I am a boy, 16 years old and a junior in high school. This year we are supposed to consider what career we want to enter. I have very high marks in all subjects, and, due to this, my parents and teachers expect me to be interested in a career in science or mathematics. The truth is, I want to enter an acting career, but no one will take me seriously. Whenever there are plays, I always try to be in them, and I enjoy them very much. Some people have told me I can act very well. Please tell me what to do."

OUR REPLY: Even if you should decide on an acting career now, and find this acceptable to your parents and teachers, there would be no sudden, overnight change in your life. You would not drop out of school and spend your days reading lines or "studying" acting from books.

If you really want to be an actor, and you have the talent, you should work toward this goal.

the local acting group, if there is one in your community. Become familiar with the great works—Shakespeare, for example. But, remember this, the more complete your education, the better prepared you will be for a good, solid role in life, whether as an actor, businessman or scientist. If you are determined to try acting, make it your long-range goal and set some more immediate target. Prepare yourself. Fulfill the educational requirements—high school and college—that will be so important to you whatever course you eventually follow.

With the proper education, you will be able to support yourself with a good paying job and continue to work toward an acting career during off-duty hours. You will also have something to fall back on, should you not make the proper progress in your acting career or decide that you don't want to be an actor after all.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, NATIONAL WEEKLY NEWS-ADVICE SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

new programs aim at a development which will permit high-school graduates to begin calculus at university entrance.

Mr. Hall also issued words of caution to those attending the conference.

"In our enthusiasm to look at new programs and techniques we must not overlook the individual child. The important thing is still what happens in the classroom when the teacher meets pupil."

Civil Defence Will Begin Courses This Month

Digby Town Council, at their Tuesday evening session, gave permission for Landers Limited to erect two new homes on King Street, for a tag day on October 16 for the Digby Mental Health Association, and decided to make another attempt to have Irving Oil Ltd. clean up their unsightly premises on Water Street. The meeting also decided to have Town Clerk Jack Whalley attend a short course for municipal finance officers to be held in Halifax October 28, 29, 30.

The police report for September showed a total of nineteen complaints registered, nine requiring field investigation. All except two have been terminated to the satisfaction of persons concerned, the report said. As a result of investigation four cases warranted court action; two under the criminal code, and two under the N. S. Liquor Act. Digby police investigated four motor vehicle accidents during the month, and one car was stolen and recovered. One break and enter was reported and two persons have been charged and sentenced. Two persons who escaped from jail were found and returned, the report stated.

Councillor Ralph MacIntyre reported that plans are under way for a first aid course to commence about the middle of October. These courses are to be of 6 weeks duration, meeting once a week, and persons belonging to the civil defence organization, town council and the town staff are entitled to participate, he said. Registration must be made through the civil defence director prior to October 10.

Mr. MacIntyre also stated that there are plans for an auxiliary firefighting course, to begin after the first aid course finished. At present an auxiliary is being formed which will consist of at least fifteen members, he said. This will complete the plans for fire protection in the civil defence role.

Council appointed Ralph MacIntyre to attend a civil defence conference in Halifax October 27. The conference will deal with the latest policies, plans and training trends and is important for local use.

D.F.D. Goes All Out For Fire Prevention Week

Fire Prevention Week got off to a good start last Saturday when some 65 officers and members from Cape Breton visited the fire station to see what the Valley area is doing for fire prevention and protection. Executive members from most Valley towns accompanied the group and this proved to be most educational for all taking part.

Sunday started off with a church parade to St. Patrick's Church in the morning, when 32 members attended. All churches participated in the distribution of leaflets to those attending services in the town. Following the church parade, six officers and members of Digby Fire Department departed with No. 1 pumper for Greenwood, where they took part in a mammoth parade. While these were taking part in the parade, other members of the department were busy distributing posters and other fire prevention material throughout the town.

Items attracting attention throughout the town were the erection of a set of false teeth on the lawn of the post office property with the theme "Get your teeth in fire prevention".

Plant Tree From B.C.

It is hoped the tree being planted above will be the nucleus for a park for the hospital and the town in time. said His Worship Mayor C. D. Snow, when he presented the tree to Vernon L. Bent, chairman of the Digby General Hospital Grounds Committee.

Above are, left to right, standing: Mr. Bent, who spaded the area for planting; Harry Titus, member of the Building and Grounds Committee who gives monthly progress reports on the new hospital to the board; Mayor Snow, and planting the tree is Ralph MacIntyre, chairman of the Forestry Committee of the Digby Municipality Natural Resources Development Board.

The tree is appropriately planted behind the presently used Digby General Hospital in land which was donated to the hospital and to be reserved for such purposes. It is hoped that in time a helicopter landing strip will be constructed and that in time also a park for the use of hospital patients, hospital visitors and town people and visitors will be made.

The tree planted on Saturday was one of several dozen Douglas fir which came from British Columbia to Nova Scotia on September 21. A similar number of Nova Scotia red pine went westward the same day.

The exchange of trees was made by Hon. E. D. Haliburton, Minister of Lands and Forests, and his counterpart in B. C., Hon. Ray Williston. The tree for Digby was accepted by Mayor Snow.

The planting ceremonies stress the importance of forest products to the economy of Nova Scotia, where more than 15,000 Nova Scotians earn a major part of their income from the $80,000,000 industry.

Course For Directors

St. Francis Xavier University in co-operation with the Maritime Cooperative Services is again making plans to hold short courses for directors of organizations in Digby this fall.

Course 1 consists of four evening sessions and will be held in the Digby Regional High School, Oct. 26 and 27 and November 2 and 3. A minimum of ten students is required to carry on the course. Advanced registration will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 20.

Plans are being made to have course no. 2 to run during the first two weeks of March, 1965. Only those who have completed course no. 1 will attend no. 2.

A similar course was held in Digby last year. For those who took all or part of the course last year there will be no registration fee.

It is the belief of those in charge of the courses that directors properly trained will see that their organization is efficiently operated, clean and up-to-date. They believe that directors should be trained to understand and assume the proper function demanded by their position.

Fundy Fishermen Oppose Fish Proposal

Newfoundland Premier J. R. Smallwood's proposal that there be a "partnership" between local fish merchants and large European firms that would make possible the processing and transshipment of foreign caught fish and fish products in Canadian ports" is opposed by the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade. These represent the major part of the Bay of Fundy fishermen.

The Smallwood proposal is viewed as being "detrimental to the interests of Canadian fishermen". The Fundy opposition was expressed in a telegram sent to Federal Fisheries Minister, Hon. H. J. Robichaud.

The telegram, signed by L. K. Hill, executive manager of the A.V.A.B.T., read: "Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, representing the major part of the Bay of Fundy fishermen, wish to go on record as being opposed to the proposal made by the Premier of Newfoundland as to the lifting of federal restrictions on the landing of fish in eastern Canadian ports by foreign vessels, this being detrimental to the interests of Canadian fishermen."

Electric Rates Reduced In Clare Municipality

A general reduction of electric rates for domestic consumption and power has been approved by the Nova Scotia Board of Commissioners of Public Utilities for the Municipality of the District of Clare, in an order dated September 8th, 1964, stated Vincent F. Melanson, manager of the Clare hydro system. The new rate became effective September 1st and is now being applied to the October reading.

Mr. Melanson stated that there has been a change made in domestic service, from three blocks to two blocks in the energy section of the rate. Previously it was three cents per kilowatt hour for the first 50 kilowatt hours per month, two cents per kilowatt hour for the next 100 kilowatts per month and one cent for all additional.

The present rate is changed to 23 cents for the first 150 kilowatt hours per month and one cent per kilowatt hour for all additional consumption, but in no case shall the average price per kilowatt hour on the whole bill, including the base charge, be less than 13 cents in any billing period.

In commercial lighting, the first block in the energy section of the rate has been lowered from 3 cents per kilowatt hour to 2.7 cents for the first 100 kilowatt hours per month of connected load or per kilowatt of maximum demand, whichever is basis of the base charge. The base charge and minimum bill remain the same as previously.

Mr. Melanson stated that the power rate, general use, and power to customers having an aggregate connected load of 20 h.p. or over, the first block in the energy section of the rate was lowered from 2 cents per kilowatt hour to 1.8 cents per kilowatt hour for the first 200 kilowatt hours per month per horsepower of connected load or per kilowatt of maximum demand, whichever is the basis of the base charge.

The base charge and minimum bill were not changed. A new electric power rate was approved for the Municipality as follows: base charge, $1.75 per month per kilowatt of maximum demand; energy charge, 18 cents per kilowatt hour for the first 100 kilowatt hours per month of maximum demand, 1 cent for all additional consumption.

A discount clause for high load factor was also included, stated Mr. Melanson, when the load factor for any billing period has reached 60 per cent or higher, the overall average cost per kilowatt hour shall be 1.2 cents per kilowatt hour for the billing period.

The electric light committee of the Municipality of Clare for the past six years has been Councillors: Leonard Gaudet, St. Bernard; Warden Emile Boudreau, Meteghan; Vincent Gennette, Little Brook; and Gustave Dugas, of Grosses Coques.

Congregational Dinner

As part of the Partnership in the Gospel program in Grace United Church, Digby, the Committee of Stewards put on a congregational dinner on Wednesday when Rev. Calder Fraser, Bridgetown, was guest speaker.

speaker; Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Reigh Jayne, chairman of the Partnership in the Gospel program.

Mr. Fraser, who is convener of the Missionary and Maintenance Committee of the Annapolis Presbytery United Church of Canada, said in his address, that the church is not divided into local expenses and missionary givings. They are one and the same. God put us here, he said, to make this a better place and to make it through the church. We are not Christians at all, he continued. We at home are missionaries to keep the missionaries going.

As children, Mr. Fraser said, we have a tendency to think of the church as a building but the church is not so much a building as it is the people who worship there. Our forefathers made many sacrifices in order that they might worship in the way they wanted to worship God. We are the spiritual descendants or inheritors of those who worshipped God. We must not take this privilege and duty this lightly, the speaker continued. We should be prepared to give as a sacrifice, by giving up other things in order to give, was his advice. The opportunity is here and we should worship God, show thankfulness and do His work while we are here.

The dinner was sponsored by the Committee of Stewards of the church, assisted by the United Church Women and the C.G.I.T.

Mrs. Frank Hayden provided the dinner music and Vincent Snow led in a sing song.

Trapped Between Boat & Scow

Weldon Ossinger, ferryman, narrowly escaped serious injury in an accident while crossing Petite Passage late Sunday afternoon.

With several vehicles loaded on the scow, the ferryman entered the attached ferry boat to transfer the vehicles to Tiverton from East Ferry.

Partly across the passage, Mr. Ossinger noticed that the choppy seas had caused one of the vehicles to work clear of its chocks. Taking hold of the cable on the scow he attempted to cross from the boat to the scow, to replace the blocks. His feet slipped and one leg was caught between the scow and the boat.

Dr. Paul Mine, of Freeport who was not available until the following morning, said that through Mr. Ossinger's leg was badly crushed no bones appeared to be broken.

Old Gun For Port Royal

The Northern Affairs and National Resources department has disclosed that a rare breech-loading type swivel-gun is to be mounted in the museum of the Port Royal Habitation.

The gun, of the type French colonists used in the forts they established in Canada in the 1600s, has been purchased from New York City dealer in antique weapons.

Only one other of its kind is known to exist in Canada. This is the gun that was found in Louisbourg harbour by underwater archaeologists and is to be displayed at the reconstructed fortress there.

The fleet that brought the DeMonts and Champlain expedition to Port Royal to establish the first permanent white settlement north of Florida in 1605 mounted guns of this type ashore at least one was carried ashore and placed on a bastion of the original habitation.

Mrs. Frank Hayden provided the dinner music and Vincent Snow led in a sing song.

Home From New York Trip

Miss Thelma Thurber, Freeport, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Thurber, is back home from her New York trip. Each year the Theta Rho Club, Freeport, sponsors a trip for one of their members to the United Nations. This year the happy event came to Thelma, a Grade XI student.

Miss Thurber tells her own story as follows:

"I left on the 11th of July, Saturday, and arrived in New York on Sunday, July 12th. On our trip we stopped at Calais, Bangor and Boston, before reaching New York City. Besides me there were eight other Maritimers and our chaperone, Miss Marion Crockett, Truro, N. S.

In New York we visited such places as the Empire State Building, the United Nations Buildings through which we were given a guided tour.

Many were disappointed due to rain, which caused our boat ride around Manhattan to be cancelled. Instead we were taken on a visit to Howard Johnson's Restaurant for refreshments.

Tuesday, July 14th, we visited the International House where we were privileged to talk to people from other parts of the world who had come to this House to go to school. We were also entertained by a program by three young people from the foreign countries of the world. We also visited Grant's Tomb and Riverside Church.

On Wednesday, July 15th, we were divided in groups and went on Delegation Visits to meet with representatives of different countries of the U.N. The group which I was with met with a German representative. We were permitted to ask him questions about his country.

Thursday morning I went with the group to visit with a Yemese representative, with whom we had a very interesting talk.

Thursday night we were taken to the Promenade Cafe, Rockefeller Center, Sunken Garden for supper, then to Radio City Music Hall. Here we saw the famous Music Hall Rockettes do some excellent dancing. We also saw the movie "The Unsinkable Molly Brown", starring Debbie Reynolds and Harve Presnell. After watching this movie we were very fortunate in seeing Debbie Reynolds in person at Radio City Music Hall.

Friday, July 17th, we spent the day at the World's Fair. As a group we visited such places as General Motors Futurama; the Texas Pavilion, where we saw "To Broadway With Love". We also saw fireworks at the Fountain of the Planets, which was very beautiful. For other places at the Fair we could choose to visit whichever we liked with a chosen "Buddy".

54 GRANDCHILDREN

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Amero, Acacia Valley, motored to Halifax on Saturday to spend the weekend with their daughter, Mrs. J. C. Voogt, Mr. Voogt and family.

Belliveau Cove Wharf In Need Of Repairs

The Clare Chamber of Commerce will ask the Department of Public Works to have the Belliveau Cove wharves repaired and put in good condition at an early date. Mr. Urbain Belliveau, a prominent fish plant operator at White's Cove, in St. Bernard, represented the fishermen of the area. He stated that the Belliveau Cove wharf is a haven of fishing boats from New Edinburgh, St. Bernard, Belliveau Cove and other areas when storm warnings are out.

The Belliveau Cove harbour consists of the main wharf running practically in an easterly direction and the light-house wharf running at right angle to the main wharf, causing an enclosure which protects fishing boats from any gales or hurricane. Hurricane Gladys brought out the point of a safe haven at Belliveau Cove when a large number of fishing boats from other more exposed harbours, in other areas, were moored in the safety of the Cove harbour. Although the hurricane did not materialize, the fact that many of Clare's harbours are exposed to whims of the weather, wharves that now exist and are havens of security during storms, should not be abandoned, stated Mr. Belliveau.

Fishing boats were moored two abreast at Belliveau Cove when Wednesday's hurricane warnings were announced. The federal government's fisheries patrol boat, the Serpula, was moored in the safety of Belliveau Cove wharf. The herring seiners equipment were also brought to the Cove for safety measures.

The Clare Chamber of Commerce also went on record as favoring the repaving of the main highway, No. 1, which passes through the Municipality, and putting it in better condition similar to the job done on the Digby to Annapolis Royal stretch of the highway.

Mr. Bernard LeBlanc, of Belliveau's Cove, and president of the Board, told the members that a tourist bureau should be built near the provincial park at Meteghan as soon as possible. A discussion followed as to how it should be financed and one method mentioned was to canvass all business firms in the Municipality to solicit funds for its construction and the Municipal Council would be asked to grant a sum for the operation of the Bureau.

Mr. LeBlanc stated that the Tourist Committee, of which Mr. J. Medrie Comeau, Clare's Municipal Clerk, is the chairman, would study the possibility of erecting the building and present a report at a future meeting.

This is Fire Prevention Week!

Annual Newspaper Association

Roy Cooke of the Lunenburg Progress-Enterprise was elected president of the Nova Scotia Weekly Newspapers Association at its annual meeting in Halifax on Friday and Saturday. He succeeds Malcolm Harlow of the Bridgewater Bulletin.

Other officers are: vice-president, Mrs. George Murray, Pictou Advocate; secretary-treasurer, Jack Allbon, Springhill Record; executive, Mrs. Edith Wallis, Digby Courier, Murray Beanson, Berwick Register, T. A. M. Kirk, Yarmouth Herald, W. B. Davidson, Wolfville Acadian, Victor Marchant, Oxford Journal, Cecil Day, Liverpool Advance.

The Association on Friday paid tribute to Frank J. Burns of the Kentville, N.S. Advertiser, its first president. Mr. Burns was made the first honorary life member of the association he headed in 1935, its founding year. The presentation was made by Charles Allbon of the Springhill Record, the original secretary. Mr. Burns is also a past president of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association.

Canadian newspapers had a right, and a responsibility, to do more than preach moderation in their editorials where the betterment of the nation is concerned, Harold Shea, managing editor of The Chronicle Herald and The Mail-Star, said in addressing the banquet on Friday evening.

In a speech to members of the Nova Scotia Weekly Newspapers Association Mr. Shea said: "It is time for newspapers to talk tough to those who would divide our nation, spit on our symbols, trample on our laws, and threaten disorder and violence."

The moderation in newspaper editorials asked for by people in high places having a genuine desire for national unity had not had the desired effect, he said.

He cited the reports of organized plans to embarrass Queen Elizabeth during her visit to Canada next week and the subsequent attitude of the world press towards Canada as proof of the failure of moderate editorials.

Today, 50 years after a prime minister of Canada said that Canadians would never have to be ashamed of anything, Mr. Shea said that he, as a Canadian, along with many other Canadians, was ashamed, "shaken by the irresponsible talk of separatism."

"If ever there was a time when Canadian newspapers have a role to play for the bet-

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Harold Bridge of Porth (Ont.) Baptist Church, assisted by Mr. Edward Cook of Bathurst United Church. Frances Hersey Frances Adelle, wife of William Wallace Hersey, Digby, passed away at the Digby General Hospital on Sunday.

Born at Tusket, Yarmouth County seventy-four years ago, she was a daughter of the late Maudie and Olive Hubbard. She resided in Digby for fifty-five years and was a member of Saint Patrick Roman Catholic Church.

She is survived by her husband; daughter Edith (Mrs. Loran Hayden) of Digby; sisters: Mrs. Frank Robichaud of Yarmouth, Mrs. William Gold of Saint John, N.B., and brothers: Adolphe Hubbard of Yarmouth; Delang of Blacks Harbour, N.B., and Delphis of Reading, Mass.

Hill Grove

Mrs. Ralph Marshall of Saint John, N.B., spent several days last week visiting her sisters, Mrs. Arthur MacKay, and Miss Susie Nichols. Also visiting at the same home on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Keen of Halifax.

Mr. Keith Haight of Caledonia was a Sunday visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orlan Minard.

Mrs. Henry Marshall of Halifax is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Gates and Mr. Gates.

Mrs. Frank H. Gates of Richmond Hill, Ontario, who was called here due to the death of her mother, Mrs. Joseph Vincent, is spending several days at the home of her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Keysall and Mr. Keysall.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Barnes of Bridgewater, N.S., visited for three days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Haight.

Miss Sandra Haight spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Haight at Barton.

The semi-monthly supper meeting of the Meteghan Lions Club was held at their lodge in Maxwellton, when Italian spaghetti was the main dish. Lion Frank Jubis was chef for the evening.

Several supper meetings have been held at the Lions Lodge during the summer months as well as other activities. Two dances were held in July for the members, their wives and friends and recently a corn boil. Early in July a barbecued steak supper was held for members and their wives at the Lodge.

A camp, owned by Lion Louis Robichaud, has been leased for a period of twenty years and an addition measuring 21 x 40 feet was constructed. The addition is the main meeting or recreation room. The older part of the camp was turned into a kitchen. Each member has been taxed in addition to his usual club dues and has three years to meet his commitments toward the camp.

Each member can obtain a key from the secretary, Lion Wilfred Arsenault, and may go to the camp with his family any time he wishes. Some club members spend Sunday afternoons with their families at the Lodge.

A letter of thanks was read at the meeting from a blind person that the Meteghan Club sent to the Lions Summer Camp for the Blind at Sydney. The lady stated that she had met many former friends she made while attending the School for the Blind. The lady did not realize that it was the Meteghan Club that had paid her fares to the camp until she found out while in Sydney.

Lion Murray Veno thanked the club for helping him financially to operate the Meteghan Lions Baseball team and Lion Louis Robichaud was thanked by the club for generously donating the field for baseball. The latter stated that plans should be made to smooth out the outfield as there were still some rough spots in that area.

A committee of Civic Improvement and Community Betterment was instructed along with the Sight Conservation committee to study the improvement of street lighting in Meteghan. The study is to be made and a report given at the next monthly meeting of the 16th to show whether it would be feasible to change the present lights to the more modern Vapor-lights. It is the Meteghan Lions Club that is footing the light bill for street lights at Meteghan and Meteghan River.

The club is investigating, and plan to defray the cost for a small boy who lost an eye some time ago and which will be replaced with an artificial one at some later date. The small boy was hit in the eye with a stone by another child and the eye was damaged so that it eventually had to be removed.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Payson and daughter, Mrs. Dan Wolf left Monday to return to their homes in Vancouver.

Barnes — Truran

In a double-ring ceremony the Rev. Murray Gawne, assisted by the Rev. Peter Evans, united in marriage Elizabeth Hunt Barnes and Peter Joseph Truran. The pretty early autumn wedding took place in St. Paul's Church, Paget, Bermuda.

White mums and fragrant frangipani were used for the church decorations. At the organ was Miss Lois Kempe. Hymns were "O Perfect Love," and "Love Divine." Mrs. Barbara Hamilton sang a solo "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Gordon Barnes of "Crosswinds," Bellevue Estate, Paget East and it was here that the reception was held in flood-lit gardens.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Joseph Truran of "Windego," Southampton. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white peau de soie with appliques of Alencon lace. The bodice had a sweetheart neckline and a chapel train and was ornamented with seed pearls.

The bride's finger-tip veil was of French silk tulle, which fell from a circular petal headpiece decorated with seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was a beautiful cascade of white roses and stephanotis.

The matron of honour was Mrs. Harriet Dias, sister of the bride. The bridesmaids were the Misses Vanessa Gawne, Judi Edquist, Peggy Andrews, and Alicia Fish. There were two flower girls — Miss Elsa Barnes, cousin of the bride, and Miss Heather Dias, the bride's niece.

New Manager For Municipal Home

Camille d'Entremont, manager of the Clare Municipal Home at Meteghan Centre for 28 years, recently resigned and Lawrence Muise has been appointed as new manager. Mr. Muise is a native of Grosses Coques and recently resided in Salmon River.

When Mr. d'Entremont took over the manager's job at the Municipal Home there were approximately thirty-five inmates and today there are four. It is believed that the old age assistance and crippled pensions have made it possible for many persons who otherwise may have entered the Municipal Home to pay their board in private homes.

Better living conditions and improvement in the economy in the Municipality may also be a factor that many do not now enter the Municipal Home. In recent years, the Municipal Home has undergone some improving changes. A better heating system was installed and a more cheerful atmosphere exists in the home. The rooms have been painted in cheerful pastel colors and a more home-like atmosphere exists.

The Home was slated to be closed several years ago but due to the condition of one inmate who cannot be placed in another home in other municipalities, the plan had to be cancelled.

On Tuesday, Sept. 22nd a T.B. Clinic was held in the Westport School when Mrs. Alan d'Entremont, R.N., and Miss d'Entremont gave T.B. tests to approximately 60 per cent of the island, the other 40 percent being nearly all over 40 years of age and according to the facts put out by the Dept. of Health the most important ones to be tested.

BRIGHTON

Miss Lillian Gray spent the weekend in Bridgetown.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gray were Mr. Brinton Baushtuan, Bridgetown, Mr. and Mrs. C. Gray, Deep Brook and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sullivan and children, Digby.

More Than Seven Tons Of Tuna Landed At Cape

Over 15,500 pounds of tuna were landed at Cape St. Mary in the month of August. This represents 26 bluefins. The smallest was a 325 pounder and this was followed by 13 over 500 pounds. It is understood that four other tuna were harpooned at the Cape by Wedgeport boats. The number of tuna caught at the Cape represents the largest number of tuna caught in the waters surrounding Nova Scotia.

Last season 77 tuna were landed at the Cape.

Reports are that there are just as many bluefins schooling in the Cape St. Mary area as at any time in previous years, but it would seem that they are not biting.

is child's work

Oh sure, they sometimes balk on chores, try to weasel out of taking the garbage or shining their shoes. But never think kids don't work, because work is really a matter of burning up energy.

And how they burn it up, with play, chores and just plain GROWING!

Of course, a balanced diet is necessary to replace that burned-up energy. That's where Ben's BUTTERMILK BREAD can play an important part because it is a wonderful source of food energy.

Ben's BUTTERMILK BREAD tastes good too!

Camp Petawawa,
Ontario,
October 1, 1964.

Editor,
Digby Courier.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:
Enclosed you will find a money order for the amount of three dollars, ($3.00), in payment of my subscription, which expires October 10th.

We enjoy your column entitled "This and That". One week you mentioned a tourist who complained about the lack of picnic sites throughout the "Valley". We found this to be true. We travel home to Digby at least every other year, and on our trip we always drive around from Moncton to Digby.

Throughout New Brunswick there are countless picnic sites, tables, toilets, hand pumps for fresh water and barbecues, and all these sites are beautifully kept.

It's a pity that the famous "Annapolis Valley" couldn't see fit to install a few of these sites. Yes, no doubt, there are a few sites along the way, several miles off the main highway, but who, after traveling hundreds of miles, especially with small children, is going to drive several miles out of their way to find a picnic table?

Another week there appeared in this same column the subject of streaming in the schools.

We have had streaming in the schools here in Ontario for several years, and it has proven to be quite effective.

In fact, my oldest child was in what we call a "readiness class" for one year. In this readiness class, each child is given special help, and year usually takes the next grade, and is streamed according to his ability in learning, whether he is a slow learner or a fast one, he will be streamed accordingly.

So I am one parent who can vouch for school streaming.

Yours truly,

H. R.

P.S. Digby should be complimented on the main street parallel and diagonal parking spaces. The ones where we live are half the size of those in Digby, so it's a pleasure to park in Digby, especially when one is a new driver.

weds Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Moore. They received many nice and useful gifts. The evening was spent in playing cards and so on.

Mr. Perley Charleton, Treasurer of the Weymouth Kiwanis Club, presented Mr. Lewis Mullen of Weymouth Mills, with a cheque on Saturday, on behalf of the club, to pay expenses to Montreal, where he will enter the Neurology Institute for observation.

Place Fisheries Problem Before A. V. A. B. T.

At a regular meeting of the Digby Board of Trade on Tuesday night it was decided to bring before the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade a problem of the fish dealers in the Digby area and particularly on Digby Neck. During the last four years, the Board of Trade was told on Tuesday night that approximately a million and a half dollars had been spent on Digby Neck and Islands to improve their fishing boats and fishing plants and a good many of these required to make certain improvements on their properties under recent Federal regulations which, in some cases, amount to several thousand dollars. The fish dealers feel that the volume of fish handled does not permit them to immediately put these regulations into effect in their plants, and they have asked the Digby Board of Trade to protest these regulations and urge an investigation be undertaken to ascertain the value of these regulations to the fishing industry. The Digby Board of Trade on Tuesday night decided to bring the matter before a meeting of the A.V.A.B.T. which meets in Digby on Thursday night.

According to one fish dealer, there have never been any complaints by their fish purchasers regarding the quality of fish sold by the dealers. In one case, a dealer has on hand thousands of dollars worth of salt fish at his plant awaiting inspection. Among the requirements was stainless steel tables, and it was brought to the attention of the Board that while boneless cod are still dried in the open on flakes, one of the requirements of the government is that the salt contained in plastic bags must be kept inside the building for protection from flies.

The meeting on Thursday night, which is called by President E. Adelaar, of Weymouth, in order that the vicinity Boards might meet Captain Lloyd Hill, Tourist Director for the Valley, especially invited fish dealers to be present, it is understood. Attending the meeting will be Boards from Bear River, Weymouth, Clare, Digby and Fundy Board. The dinner meeting will be held at the Digby Branch Canadian Legion Hall at 6:30.

The resolutions regarding the fish dealers' problem, it is expected, will be sent to the Minister of Fisheries Board federally and provincially and to other government dignitaries.

A resolution was also drawn up at the Digby Board meeting in protest of the D.A.R.'s decision to take off the weekly trains, No. 16, 17, and 20, and the daily run from Kentville to Halifax. A letter was read from the Brotherhood of Firemen and Engineers of D.A.R. protesting this move by the railway company and stated that they felt that this was the beginning of the complete abandonment of the passenger service. This they felt to be a very grave situation particularly when the railway was depended upon as a means of travel especially in the winter time. William Marshall presented the financial report of the Digby Board to date, which included $21 per membership fee since the beginning of the year and a remittance of $150.95 from J. J. Brittain representing Cannon Bank fees. The balance at the end of October, $76.95. The meeting was presided over by Charles Haliburton, President.

A report was given on Tuesday evening at the Digby Board meeting from the port committee, with Vincent Snow as chairman. The reports dealt with favorable replies to resolutions recently sent to the government regarding better wharfage facilities for the Digby fishermen and also for the docking of the Princess of Acadia.

Twelve had answered a questionnaire sent out by Mr. E. L. Sangster regarding Boston and Rockland transportation and cold storage service for the town. Six of twelve who answered gave a favored reply. It was then to be left in the hands of the Boston and Rockland Transportation Company.

A letter for the Maritime Provinces' Boards of Trade was read concerning a stricter enforcement of the law about

Visit To Fire Station

By Lilla Wong, Reporter for Digby Girl Guides

On the evening of October 6th the Girl Guides of Digby made an interesting visit to the fire station to mark the Fire Prevention Week.

The Girl Guides were first taken on a guided tour through the station. They were given information about the fire alarm system and were told about the proceedings of each fire from the time the alarm is sounded until the department reaches the sight of the fire.

The Guides were then shown and given an explanation about each of the trucks and were told what each truck was necessary for in each fire. A good explanation about the helmets representing each rank in the department was also given.

Finally the visit was ended and they were given book-marks and home-inspection sheets. As the Guides trooped back to the Guide Hall, they thought that the visit was very profitable indeed.

unlawful assembly of persons, molesting of citizens, hindrance of business life of a community through boisterous or disorderly conduct.

Scallop Boat Burned

The 60 foot scallop dragger, Gloria and Marie was towed into Digby on Tuesday after having caught on fire while coming through Digby Gut and sustaining considerable damage.

The fire began around one o'clock in the afternoon and only by the help of the Digby Fire Department was it extinguished by six o'clock.

Manned by Capt. Leon Longmire, Hillsburn, with his crew of four the dragger was returning from the fishing grounds when the fire caught in the engine room. The boat's own fire extinguishing equipment did not quell the blaze and the Life Saving Station was contacted. The boat was brought to Rattling Beach and later to the Digby wharf where the town's equipment was brought into play.

The boat jointly owned by Capt. Longmire and Henry Lewis was partly covered by insurance. The owners secured the boat about six weeks ago, spent three weeks in having her repaired and had been fishing one week.

Fire Prevention Week Marked Success

Officials of Digby Fire Dept. are most pleased with the results of fire prevention week this year which can be termed as an outstanding success. However, they do not take all the credit and wish to recognize and thank all organizations as well as business firms and the general public for their excellent co-operation with the committee making this such a successful effort.

Open house at the fire station last Thursday was well attended and during the course of the evening films were shown and fire prevention pamphlets distributed and entertainment provided as well as refreshment to those who attended.

The committee has announced that this year certificates of recognition will be presented to businesses whose premises were in good condition when inspections were made and this will be carried out each year when it is hoped that this competition will be keener.

The efforts of Robert Hand-spiker, chairman of the Fire Prevention Committee for the Fire Dept. are appreciated and who spent a great many hours of his time organizing the committee and many projects of the committee for this year's publicity months before fire prevention week and it's mostly through his efforts that such a success is possible and the public made conscious of this important work.

Adult Evening Classes

Many times adults, promoted by the experience of life, advise teenagers to improve their educational level. Time and again we say, "I wish I had your chance to get a high school education."

The Digby Regional High School, in conjunction with the Adult Education Division, during the school year 1963-64 offered an opportunity for this to be realized. Jointly they sponsored classes in academic subjects in the Conway Community Center and in the Digby Regional High School.

The Conway class completed the season with an active enrolment of 18 adults, all of whom successfully completed English and Mathematics of their grades.

The Regional High School class completed with ten active students who also completed two subjects of their choice in their grades.

Monday, October 5, eighteen students registered for the Conway class for the 1964-65 term. The class will be in session on Monday evenings for a total of 30 sessions, with Mr. Wallace Hodgson and Mrs. Quentin Wenaus as instructors.

Wednesday, October 7, ten students registered at the Digby Regional High School. Thursday was found to be the most convenient for this class. Mr. Hodgson is the instructor and the students registered for subjects in Grades from VII to XI.

Special classes were offered in Grade XI English and Mathematics and Grade XII Mathematics. Unfortunately sufficient students did not apply to permit setting up these special classes. However, eight adults submit their names, these classes will be added to the offering at the Regional High School.

The class is so arranged, up to Grade XI, that the student works and proceeds at his or her own speed and ability. The method of instruction has been giving service. The choir under leadership of Norman Wright and the church organist, Mrs. Elton Arnold, sang "Bless the Lord" as an anthem. Mrs. J. M. Wallis was soloist.

Rev. R. H. Hughes, minister of the church took his text from Acts 14-17. Nevertheless God left not Himself without witness in that He did good, gave us rain from heaven and gave our hearts gladness. The speaker expounded on the text by bringing out the wonder of the common place. Thanksgiving, he said, asks us to stop to see the glory in nature and in the things which we see happen every day. We take so much for granted that we fail to realize our dependence on one another and fail to see God's care. God created man to live together as one family and as time goes on this dependence becomes his congregation to thank God for the common place things and for the unspeakable gift of Jesus Christ within the reach of all.

Scout Supper Success

Exceeding expectations, the response to the Fried Chicken Supper served in the Digby Baptist Church hall on Saturday evening by the Boy Scouts and the Cubs was an outstanding success. The money will be used in the promotion of Scout and Cub work. Leaders of these groups, assisted by members of the Boys Work Committee helped to prepare the supper, and the serving of the meals was done by boys of both groups.

It is expected that a considerable number of the young people of the Digby and Hill Grove churches will be attending the Digby County Baptist Youth Rally to be held in the Acadiaville church next Saturday morning and afternoon.

The program will include an address by Rev. R. MacFarlane of the Nova Scotia Temperance Federation, a talk to the girls by Miss Diane Rupert, V.O.N. of Digby, and also William Poole will talk to the boys about Scouting. It is expected that several students from Acadia University will be present to conduct a devotional service and provide special music.

The program was followed by the usual refreshments and a period of informal chatter over gardening achievements and problems.

When the Digby Council is formed it is expected to have an outstanding social event with many visitors from the New England States and many from the Province of Nova Scotia.

William Philip Doucette, 23, of Cape St. Mary was killed instantly in a two-car collision at Salmon River, Digby County, over the weekend Mr. Doucette was the son of Mrs. Vina and the late Walter Doucette of Cape St. Mary. In hospital were Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Pottier, Bellevue, Yarmouth County, who were injured in the two-car crash.

The Doucette car was demolished in the mishap, and the Pottier vehicle was badly damaged.

June Elizabeth Jefferson, 15, of Bear River, died in Digby General Hospital from injuries received in an accident near her home.

It is understood that the girl, a pedestrian, was struck Tuesday evening by a car driven by Wilbur Trimmer, of Bear River East.

An accident Thursday sent Basil J. Gosson, of Tidville, to Digby hospital, suffering injuries when his car failed to negotiate a turn. The mishap occurred at Little River.

G. A. Powell DAR Manager

J. C. McCuaig, manager of the Dominion Atlantic Railway here since 1955, has left the Nova Scotia line to become manager of Canadian Pacific's electric lines at Preston, Ont. He has been succeeded by George A. Powell, of Sudbury, Ont.

Widespread modernization of Dominion Atlantic facilities took place during Mr. McCuaig's nine-year tenure as manager. The popular "Day-liners" went into passenger service, all freight service was dieselized and a series of modern, specially equipped gondola cars were placed in service to handle important gypsum traffic.

Prior to receiving his appointment with the Dominion Atlantic, a Canadian Pacific subsidiary, Mr. McCuaig had been superintendent at Schreiber, Ont., responsible for train operation over the busy line north of Lake Superior.

Mr. Powell brings 38 years of railway experience to his new post at Kentville. He started his career at Smith's Falls, Ont., in 1926, later working at Ottawa and Toronto, where he was superintendent of loss and damage prevention. He was named assistant superintendent of Canadian Pacific's Laurentian division at Three Rivers in 1955 and since 1958 has been assistant superintendent at Sudbury, Ont.

About This and That

The Queen's Visit

Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II, has made her visit to Canada and has now returned to her home. Though not the most joyous occasion of her life, without a doubt, this will be her most memorable visit to Canada. Never before has the Queens of Canada come to this country, or any other for that matter, with the fear of insults and personal injury and the very shadow of death hovering over her head. Prayers of thanksgiving for her safe return to her family in England have undoubtedly been uttered in many parts of the world. Canada being none the least of these, despite the fact, or because of the fact, that this was the country where the fear for her person were centred.

Whether Her Majesty should have been exposed to such fears is open to question, but God bless her, she has proved herself a woman of undaunted courage beyond words to describe. Any mother who has not raised a thankful heart for the safety of Queen Elizabeth during the past week must indeed be most callous. On second thought, callous might not be the word. To some people the Queen of Canada is more or less an impersonal ruler. She is so far removed from their own lives that they cannot realize that she is a mother with all the motherly instincts and love for her children and families about her that the ordinary person also has. Queen Elizabeth has long before shown to the world that she is a "mother" in the real sense of the word and her children have a place in her own life along with the crown. To wave goodbye and kiss the little cheeks while still wearing a smile (we expect) under such circumstances as her departure for her trip to Canada must have taken more than ordinary courage.

The Queen is to be admired. Along with her own thankful heart we, too, must raise our grateful hearts for her physical safety. But, emotionally, how was the Queen affected? Well, we will probably never know. That, too, is characteristic of a Queen. Being human as well as royal, however, her inner feelings, though veneered with outward bravery, must certainly have been hurt. We cannot help but feel concerned and hope that the joyous parts of the Queen's visit will take precedence in her memories. We can only hope that Her Majesty will see the lack of crowds and enthusiasm in Quebec to be a compliment to herself. We hope she can see this lack as having loyal subjects in the province who would not witness or be involved in any demonstrations. We hope she can conclude that not everybody is endowed with or trained to such bravery and stamina as herself.

The Queen has returned safely. She has returned, what is more, triumphantly and with a tremendous admiration. But, Canada, what about her? She has something to try to live down. Thank God it has been no more than insults and abuses as far as the royal visit is concerned. May Her Majesty be endowed with both forgiveness and forgetfulness along with her staunch courage and return to Canada again under a happier atmosphere. Long Live the Queen.

Missed Opportunity

By a news release in this week's edition of the Courier we notice that not sufficient students applied for the special classes offered by the Adult Evening Classes in Digby to warrant setting up the classes. The offers were for Grade XI English and Mathematics and Grade XII Mathematics. It seems that this has been a missed opportunity.

Why should such an offer be rejected? Is there a lack of time because of other heavy demands on life, such as making a living? Is time being consumed in entertainment or trifles? Or, have the people not realized the benefits from having such special classes offered in two basic subjects? Definitely there must have been seen a potential of students or the classes would not have been offered in the first place.

More and more the world is demanding a greater education in order for people to become gainfully employed. More and more trades of any kind are demanding higher formal education. These classes could be the means of saving many dollars for similar education at a later date when a skill or trade advancement calls for it. We understand the opportunity is not definitely lost. If students register quickly there is still possibility of setting up the classes. To those who could profit, we say, don't let such an opportunity run through your hands. Take advantage. Avoid looking back in a few years to a Missed Opportunity.

THANKSGIVING

I never knew just how to say Thanksgiving in a thankful way.

I only took and did not heed. Another's loneliness and need. Through passing years I came to learn To care and share, to humbly turn To God, with thanks for His great plan That must include my fellow-man. I lift my thanks that can be true Through God and giving, I receive.

Mental Health Associations Prepare Books

A series of handbooks, designed to be of use to such people as educators, welfare workers, clergy, public health nurses and others in similar fields, is being prepared by the Digby branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association, in cooperation with the Digby, Annapolis Mental Health Service Board and the Programme of Community Psychiatry of Cornell University. The handbooks, five in number, will outline resources available to people in Digby County and area seeking help. They will form part of the preventative programme being carried out in the field of mental health by the local mental health centre, the Digby branch of the mental health association and the Cornell programme. The first of the handbooks, on educational resources, has now been completed and has already been used as a resource book to assist several young people concerned about bettering their lot and preparing more effectively for their future.

The handbook on education contains a listing of some 71 educational opportunities. These range all the way from university courses, through correspondence courses, vocational and trades courses to short term technical courses useful for fishermen and others.

Other resources which will be dealt with in the handbooks are welfare, employment, health and recreation. Work has begun on the welfare and health handbooks and it is expected these will be ready for distribution shortly.

The idea back of the handbooks is to produce tools that will be available to persons in the area dealing with young people and others needing guidance, assistance and advice in dealing with problems facing them. Many young people, in particular, are concerned and disturbed about their future prospects. Some of them may have left school before graduation but are now anxious to improve their educational standing but unsure what avenues may be open to them. The education handbook is designed to assist these young people by providing in concise form a comprehensive list of careers and requirements, educational, financial and physical, needed to enter them.

In the field of welfare the handbook will provide a comprehensive listing of all types of welfare assistance available to meet needs. It will also detail the requirements for qualification; method of application and other pertinent details. The welfare handbook will give information, not only for those in need of financial help but also for those who need physical welfare help such as paraplegics and those suffering from other handicaps.

The health resources handbook will give full details on health services available to the people of Digby County and area. Included will be detailed information on available health plans and other matters concerning health.

In the recreation resources handbook it is planned to detail all available information concerning recreational facilities in the area. Included will be information on hobbies and a listing of people who might help those interested in becoming involved in specific hobbies or recreational activities.

book will outline in detail the work resources of the area; the present employment situation; human resources; assistance programs available regarding employment and other such information. Copies of the education handbook are being distributed to individuals and agencies throughout the area in the hope it will be used. Among those who have copies are the Department of Welfare, Digby; the Public Health nursing service, Digby; Digby Regional High School; Clare Regional High School; Weymouth Consolidated School; Islands Consolidated School; various of the clergy in Digby and Clare and other persons involved in public life in the area.

In Memoriam

SMITH - In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Douglas Smith, Tiverton, N.S., who passed away October 19, 1961.

Today recalls sad memories of a loved one gone to rest And the ones who think of him today

Are the ones who loved him best Oh, what would we give his hand to clasp, His happy face to see, To hear his voice, to see his smile

As in the days that used to be. - Sadly missed by wife Annie and sons Dyas, Hatfield, Garfield, daughter Ordona. 8:1c

GAUDET - In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Ulysse Gaudet, who passed away October 20th, 1963.

From a hospital bed to heavenly rest, God took him home to be His guest. We lived in hope and prayed in vain, That he would soon be well again.

But God decided we must part, He eased his pain but broke our hearts. And while he sleeps in peaceful sleep, His memory we shall always keep.

- Sadly missed by his wife, Addie, daughter Rosanna, George and family and son, Ronald, Pauline and family. 8:1c

I AM NOVA SCOTIA

I am Nova Scotia, Named for his beloved land by a proud and prudent King. I am the beginning of a continent, its first-known sea-washed shore, History's most storied grind.

I am the skirling of pipes at old Edinburgh, The neat straight farms of old Brittainy, Ballads born on the banks of the Shannon, Gipsy flowers of Stratford blooming where they will.

I count my age, not by years, but by tide, For ebb and flow mean more to me than day or night, and my waters rise higher than anywhere else on earth. I have seen many a cutlass swung, many a deck change hands

And countless ships of sail-filled grace have I given to the Seven Seas.

I am a land where spring comes softly, Where summer drowns deep, Where autumn brings the cry of wild geese going South, Where winter puts its snowy hush over forest and field and farm.

I am history and heartache and happiness, A far-away corner of this old earth where there is time To Live and Learn and Love. I AM NOVA SCOTIA.

(Written by Dr. Will R. Bird and recited by him at the unveiling of the Rawding and First Nova Scotia Iron Mine Plaques at Clementsport recently.)

Clare Welcomes Outstanding Artists

The appreciation of good music is a quality to be fostered, especially amongst our youth, and to aid in bringing about of this appreciation the "Jeunesses Musicales of Canada" will present for the seventh consecutive year at St. Anne's College auditorium, a series of four outstanding concerts given by well-known artists.

The JMC is a national musical organization whose aim is to promote musical appreciation and talent amongst the youth of Canada.

A variety is a necessary requisite for such concerts, great care has been taken to include various aspects of music so as to satisfy the tastes of all who attend these concerts.

Present members are well aware of the numerous benefits of JMC. These include admission to at least four recitals a year given by first rate musicians. Their appreciation and understanding of the concerts is greatly increased by the commentaries on and illustrations of the musical forms they hear. Program notes provide a permanent record of the works performed.

Members also receive a free subscription to the JMC journal published in both English and French, which appears during the winter. The articles are written clearly and entertainingly by well-known authors. Contributions by readers are always welcome.

Founded in Belgium just before the last war, the Jeunesses Musicales movement is today firmly rooted in thirty countries and has a total membership of over 600,000.

The expansion of the movement right across Canada has now become an accomplished fact. JMC has centers in ninety-five cities and counts 60,000 members. By the means it uses, the movement will certainly spread the knowledge and appreciation of good music and promote cultural development among young Canadians.

About This and That

Pity The Small Employer

It is a well known fact that male workers in Nova Scotia have been exploited by profit-hungry employers, who have no regard whatsoever for the economic well-being of these men and their families. That was a statement made by the New Glasgow and District Labor Council in a brief to the Minimum Wage Board hearing held in New Glasgow when the labor organization asked the board to consider a minimum wage of not less than $1.35 per hour.

We don't like the idea of all employers being 'tarred with the same brush' by the above statement and we wonder what would happen around Digby, for instance, with a minimum wage of $1.35 per hour across the board. Digby hasn't one industry which can be considered large. We doubt if there is one employer in this area who has made much profit within the past ten or fifteen years whether they were profit-hungry or not. And what business can operate without some profit?

Mark you, we have no quarrel with labor wanting to improve their lot and to earn as much as possible to make life as comfortable and happy as possible for themselves and their families. Our quarrel is with a statement which brands all employers as exploiters.

The reason we are so sympathetic at the moment with the employer is because within the last week we have heard so much about the problems of our small fish plant operators on Digby Neck. If we understand rightly, they are paying their men $1.25 per hour (or average). The fish catch this season has been down. The dealers have invested money to make employment for people, to make conveniences for their employees, to protect the buyers and to comply with regulations. They have gone, like the song, "as far as they can go."

Yet, more regulations demand of these employers that thousands more be borrowed. Again, we are not necessarily objecting to any good sound regulations which will improve and protect products. We are just showing pity for these small fish plant employers who must find the wherewithal to invest while the employee finds the wherewithal to spend for personal uses. To borrow beyond capacity would mean to jeopardize the business, the living of the employer and in some cases the livelihood of fifty or sixty persons. Do employers have their problems, too? Do they have to pay taxes? Do they have to meet a pay roll? Do they have to buy materials, machinery and what not so that the employee has a place to earn a living? Oh, we know there are places in Digby where the employee is still getting eighty-five cents an hour after twenty-five and thirty years service, but there are others who are as fair to employees as the business will allow. Do have mercy and pity on the small business employer, too. He doesn't have it easy either.

Frankly, we have been wondering what a minimum hourly rate of $1.25 or $1.35 would mean to employees who cannot progress or those who want to learn a trade by working in a business. No employer in the Digby area, at least, could pay $1.35 per hour to an apprentice. Are these people to be refused and more trade schools be established? Certainly, it is more profitable to pay $1.50 or $2.00 per hour for an experienced person than $1.25 or $1.35 for the inexperienced who puts little or less than nothing in way of profit in the business because of errors and his inexperience.

We do have sympathy with our small fish plant operators who were so concerned last week and we can well imagine there are other types of small businesses in Digby in the same boat. Maybe not Digby alone. So pity the small business employer anywhere today. He is the victim of progress, yet progress is what we want and need.

Unite The Provinces?

Now, it has become a real question. Your weekly editor looked at the long 150 miles to the capital, Halifax. She looked further to Truro and again to Amherst, the centres for all kinds of meetings. Then, she read the news about uniting the provinces of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. Hip, hip, hooray! the editor exclaimed. Have the provincial seat in Saint John, N. B., or Fredericton, maybe, and we in Digby will, for a change, be only 40 miles away from 'everything' or perhaps, 115 miles at the most. How simple! The editor can't even have to take the car! Only 40 miles by boat across the Bay of Fundy and only 75 miles more by bus or train to the New Brunswick capital. And it's just the same distance back home again! Leave Fredericton on Saturday afternoon, come to Saint John — but wait a minute, the editor can't swim, there is Sunday in between and the editor has a ton load of all sorts of things to do before the Time For Juniors audition on Monday night. (Oh, don't stay away from the Time For Juniors program, the editor isn't going to perform.)

So, there, it is a case of staying home or driving all the way from Fredericton to Digby anyway. It's a question, now, in the editor's mind whether we should unite the provinces after all. We'll need an air strip anyway!

Coffee

janes

My husband accuses me of taking things too seriously. He says that I take all his joking remarks to heart, and that I always try to find the deeper meanings, and hidden truths in the things he says.

This is not really true, as I have proven to him this summer. Suddenly, during the summer months, he began to find it very funny to tease me about my big hips. That I could laugh off lightly. Everybody knows my hips are not big. People are always complimenting me on my slim figure, which has been a perfect size twelve since I was fifteen years old, a time which is growing uncomfortably close to half my life ago.

Come to think of it, I used to get four or five such compliments a week, but I can't seem to remember any one mentioning it lately. I was trying on some dresses the other day, when the sales lady said "You are such a - uh - little person - uh - around the - uh - waist!" It did not really seem like a compliment. The "uh's" seemed painfully fraught with the tactful diplomacy of a saleslady who is good at her job.

Tactful and polite though she was, I did not buy anything at her store. She did not have any size twelve dresses to fit me. It is disgraceful the way the clothing manufacturers are scrimping on their products this year. I cannot imagine that the amount of cloth they save by making the size twelves so tight they draw at the seams is worth the effort of cheating the public. Let us draw up a petition that the manufacturers label these skimpy garments size ten. We women should unite in letting the world know what we think of such dishonesty.

Perhaps they do make a saving by scrimping at the seams of ready to wear clothing, but the limit seems to be reached when the people who make patterns try to save paper. Do you suppose they are saving anything by making patterns three-quarters of an inch smaller at the seams than they used to be? By the way, does paper shrink when it has been kept in a dark box for a couple of years? I was going to make a skirt out of an old pattern which is still in style, but when I got it out, it did not fit me any more.

They are making thread much weaker now than they used to. Every time I sneeze, or take a deep breath these days, the buttons pop off my clothes, or the zippers pull. This happens, not only to last year's clothes, which can be excused on the grounds of having weakened from too much washing, but there is no excuse for it happening to brand new things.

We keep hearing that humanity is going to pot, and that honesty and good workmanship are lost arts. This must be true. It is not only the clothing industry which is guilty. Up until now, I have been very pleased with my dry cleaner, but if he shrinks one more piece of my clothing, I shall have to take my business elsewhere. Clothes which used to fit me perfectly get tighter every time I have them cleaned.

After I have finished drafting a few letters telling a few people in these industries what I think of their shoddy practices, I think I will settle in with a cup of coffee, and a bowl of ice cream with chocolate sauce to look at that new book of Ruben's paintings. I am beginning to admire those plump ladies he painted. In fact, I seem to feel a certain kinship with them these days.

cake, presented by little Miss Heather Dennis, great-grand-niece of the first president of the Nova Scotia division, and cut by three of the charter members. Speaker at the luncheon was Mr. Frank Hull, of Toronto, National Red Cross president.

The Digby branch meeting included regular business and reports of committees. A letter from Mr. K. E. MacKell, manager of the Digby Pines, enclosing a donation of $50, as part proceeds of their summer amusement programs, was read by the secretary, Mrs. Robert, and gratitude expressed for the gift. A letter was also read from H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, offering free pool time on Thursday evenings in response to a request regarding a Red Cross swimming class. In the treasurer's report, presented by Mrs. B. R. Rugles, acknowledgement was made of a $5 donation for the use of a hospital bed, and of $25 received from the Ways and Means committee of the branch.

Thanks for the gift of four quilt tops from the Society of Friends, Joggin Bridge, these having been made by Mrs. George Winchester, was conveyed by Mrs. H. M. Warner in the report of the Women's Work committee. A large shipment of material for sewing and knitting was reported to have been received and more workers would be welcome. A bolt of flannelette for local welfare work was also on order. The meeting concluded with the customary social hour, refreshments being provided by Mrs. Allen Harris.

BOARDS MEET

the Valley area, Captain Hill said, private enterprise and the backing by every organization will be needed as well as assistance from governments. A good advertising campaign is necessary to attract the tourist. He said we must travel and sell and know what we have to sell. Unless the tourist stops, the speaker said, he cannot be of any good to the area, nor can he be enticed to stay longer. Projects must be launched to keep the tourist when he has stopped. Captain Hill suggested more picnic tables.

Captain Hill advocated greater interprovincial travel, greater knowledge of the country and people in order to relieve any conflict between the people as well as for economic and financial reasons. Tourism and industry go hand in hand.

When the subject of industry was raised John LeBlanc, of Clare, was asked to share information on hog raising, which has progressed rapidly in the Clare area. This industry which started with only a few pigs a few years ago has now expanded and the quality of hogs is said to be the best in the Eastern provinces. Field days are held and people come from New Brunswick and Ontario to enter the activities and seek information. The hog raisers cater to local markets and save money by doing their own killing of the animals.

Transportation problems in Nova Scotia were aired at Thursday's dinner meeting. Lack of freight facilities across Western Nova Scotia was scored as well as the fantastic ally high water transportation rates. Some of the transportation needs cited were an all weather express highway through Nova Scotia, recapping of the Digby to Yarmouth highway and better bridges from Annapolis to Meteghan River. At Weymouth, it was remarked, the same bridge is being used for cars today that was used when a man by the name of Ben Belliveau was fined for trotting his horse across. Horses were supposed to walk across the bridge. Compulsory car insurance was also suggested.

Vincent Snow gave encouraging reports on work planned by the governments with regard to the fishermen's wharf in Digby.

The matter of the proposed curtailment of DAR train service was brought up and hopes expressed that such a decision might be reversed.

Keith Raymond and Donald Shaw, Centerville, informed the Boards of some of the fish problems which they encounter as dealers and in order to comply with government regulations. To implement regulations required, the fish dealers felt it was going to lay upon them greater financial burdens than they are able to bear at the present time.

Young People Hold Rally

A beautiful autumn day greeted the young people and their pastors from the Baptist Churches of Digby County on Saturday, October 17th, as they met at the Acaciaville Baptist Church for the Fall Rally for the county.

Approximately seventy-five young people registered, representing the churches of Digby, Bear River, Hill Grove, Acaciaville, Westport, Centreville, Rossway, Weymouth and Barton.

A brief service of song and devotionals was conducted by the members of the Acaciaville church. Miss Amanda Cromwell was organist, and Amy Barton acted as moderator.

Scripture was read by Howard Barton, and prayer was offered by Sharon Bright. A duet was also rendered by Misses Amanda and Linda Cromwell.

Following the devotional period a brief business session was held, with the President, Danen Atkinson, of Digby, presiding. The minutes of the last rally were read by the Secretary, Mary Lou Parker, of Bear River, and roll call of the groups was taken and the items of business discussed.

The President introduced the guest speaker, Rev. Raymond MacFarlane, of Wolfville, General Secretary of the Nova Scotia Temperance Federation. Mr. MacFarlane conducted an informative and beneficial discussion on the subject of gambling. He was assisted in this discussion by Misses Cheryl Dukeshire and Linda Harris, of Bear River, and spoke on the seriousness of this particular problem as it affects our area.

Following the discussion the young people enjoyed their own box lunches, which were supplemented by a beverage prepared and served by the ladies of the church.

A brief recreational and quiz period was held, under the leadership of Rev. H. S. Hartlin, of Digby.

The Rally convened in the church hall, where a film entitled "The Lord Learns The Facts" was shown by Rev. Mr. MacFarlane. The film dealt with the problem of drinking, and Mr. MacFarlane later discussed this subject and answered questions which the young people raised concerning alcoholism.

After a 15-minute break the girls present met in the church with Miss Diane Rupert, of Digby, who spoke on her work with the V.O.N., and discussed with the girls the qualifications and opportunities for a career such as hers. At the same time, the boys met with Mr. William Poole, of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, who spoke on Scouting, and the Rover organization.

Following a brief business session the closing devotional was conducted by Lie. Dave Watt, of Acadia University. Mr. Watt took his text from Luke 17:11, and gave a challenging message to the young people. Soloist was Miss Beverly Irwin, of Kentville, who rendered three beautiful messages of song during the day's program. Mr. Watt closed the Rally with prayer.

Some 1,700 students are enrolled in our public schools and during the hours indicated they constitute a serious traffic hazard to the travelling public. Old Anchor Found In Basin

An anchor, known to be more than 75 years old, has been hauled from the Annapolis Basin. Capt. Boyd Robinson, of Parker's Cove, a deep sea fisherman for thirty-two years, found the anchor just off the old Whitman wharf in Annapolis Royal. He decided to use it to moor his scallop boat "The Compass Rose", just below the Annapolis causeway this winter, as mooring is congested for the fleet in Digby.

One of the town's oldest residents, Ernest Mills, identified the anchor and measured it. Mr. Mills, whose mind is keen and memory excellent, was associated with the firm of Pickles & Mills, ship builders.

According to Mr. Mills, the anchor was placed off the Whitman wharf by Thomas Whitman, of Robin, Jones & Whitman Co., and was used for mooring by the Acadia Steamship Lines when their boats were loading apples for the London, Eng., market.

It was a Norwegian type anchor, whose flukes pivot. It is complete with lettering, though the lettering is so rusty it cannot be read. The shank is eleven feet, stock eleven feet, flukes on a circle eleven and a half feet. When the anchor stands upright, from the fluke on the ground to the opposite fluke is five and a half feet, distance from the ground to the top of the fluke also five and a half feet.

Mr. Mills explained that the Whitman wharf, afterwards sold to the Mersey Paper Co., and now owned by the Town of Annapolis Royal, was once an extremely busy place. Before the "missing-link" was built the Windsor-Annapolis railway ended at Annapolis Royal and steamers, boats and vessels carried the goods to many other ports.

Mr. Robinson has now decided to have the anchor housed in the Maritime Museum, Halifax, instead of returning it to the basin to moor his boat. It is expected that the Historical Association of Annapolis Royal will help find a suitable resting place for the anchor.

SCOUT NEWS

Come On Out!

Scouting in the district has been active during the past weekend. Apple Day and World Scout Jamboree on-the-air has kept the Cubs, Scouts and Rovers busy. Groups of Digby, Cornwallis, Bear River, Clementsport and Clements vale expressed thanks to everyone for their support in making Apple Day a huge success.

By courtesy of the Annapolis Basin Amateur Radio Club members, Cubs, Scout and Rovers were enabled to participate in the World Scout Jamboree on-the-air. Contacts were made with the World Scout Bureau in Ottawa, plus contacts with other Scouts as far as Caracas, Venezuela.

It appears from the improved appearance of the "Scoutian Ramblers" (1st Digby Rover Scout Crew) that they also have been utilizing the soap that they have been selling. Seriously, the proceeds will be used for supplying groceries for needy families at Christmas via The Church organizations of Digby. All residents are urged to support this worthwhile project.

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1964

Digby Area Fish Buyers Form Packers Association

A Western Nova Scotia Fish Packers Association was formed last week with Keith Raymond, of Keith Raymond Co. Ltd., Centerville, elected as president. Urbain Belliveau, of Belliveau Fisheries Ltd., is vice-president, and Gerrit DeBorst, Freeport, is secretary treasurer.

Directors of the organization, along with the officers, are Joseph Casey, of Casey Fisheries Ltd., and James Graham, who is with the Clyde Denton Ltd., at Little River.

About thirty fish packers assembled for the meeting, which was held in Weymouth.

One of the items discussed at the organization meeting was clarification of fishing regulations. The idea of the organization is that the fish dealers will be able to learn from one another and work out their problems relating to the fish industry.

Dr. Catherine Whittier

Addresses Rally

Dr. Catherine Whittier, who has been a medical missionary in Central India for the past thirty-seven years, was guest speaker when the Annapolis Presbyterian United Church Women met at Grace United Church, Digby, on Wednesday. Dr. Whittier noted the change in nursing in India in the 37 years. Better education is required but this does not necessarily make them better nurses, she said. Also, she said, appointments are made by the Indian church and it is not a matter of the missionary saying what should be done but a matter of asking what they would like the missionary to do. But, she said, the Indian people are asking for missionaries.

Speaking of the work of the church in Nepal, Dr. Whittier said that ninety missionaries had gone into Nepal by 1964. They were all laymen who are not allowed to preach or teach, but who live their religion. There is no preaching, teaching or baptizing for if there were the missionaries would be sent out of Nepal.

Dr. Whittier urged the Presbyterians to increase givings, to send more people as missionaries and reminded the U.C.W. that this year sees only 3 first year students at Pine Hill Divinity Hall in Halifax.

Delegates to the Rally were welcomed by Rev. R. H. Hughes and also by Mrs. C. C. MacInnes, president of Grace U.C.W. Mrs. Henry Foote, Woodville, gave the response and the day's sessions were presided over by the Presbyterian president, Mrs. H. G. Spicer.

The morning session was opened with worship conducted by Mrs. J. A. Ruffee and Mrs. Walter Milo, Granville Ferry.

Miss Annetta Rose, Middleton, retired missionary from Korea, led the morning program on Bible Study. Miss Rose said that Bible study is necessary for you cannot give a faith you do not have. It provides information and help for decisions and through Bible study people become better Christians. She showed twelve different methods which could be used in study and discussed the role of a leader in Bible study. Those who led discussions were Mrs. Harold Murray, Kentville; Mrs. Walter Milo, Granville Ferry; Mrs. E. Switzer, Kingston; Mrs. Foote; Mrs. J. Henderson, Lawrence town; Mrs. C. C. MacInnes, Digby; and Mrs. Wood, Weymouth.

Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby, literature secretary, introduced the literature.

The afternoon session opened with worship conducted by the president and a Communion service, conducted by Rev. R. H. Hughes, assisted by Rev. Mr. Phinney, Waterville, Norman Wright and Reginald Jefferson, Digby, brought the afternoon to a close.

Mrs. C. Alridge, Berwick, and Mrs. J. H. Hicks, Kingston, presented the courtesies. Greetings were brought from the Presbytery by Rev. Mr. Phinney. Mrs. Elton Arnold was organizer and also presented the report of the treasurer. The afternoon session broke

Digby Fishing To Get Publicity

Mike Gillis, CBC commentator on Fishermen's Log for T. V., has been in Digby County since Monday taking pictures of fishing establishments all over the County, from the smallest establishments to the largest. Mr. Gillis is also interviewing fish dealers and fishermen, and his comments will be heard on CBC in the near future.

Tonight Mr. Gillis will be guest and special speaker at the Digby Kiwanis Club.

Accompanying Mr. Gillis on his tour of the Digby County fishing industries is Glenn Smith of the Department of Fisheries, Digby. They have visited the scallop boats and plants, the fresh fish and salt fish operations, and have even found a periwinkle business among the fish operations to picture and tape.

N. B. Premier Denounces Separatism

Separatism will never materialize said Premier Louis Robichaud in addressing a luncheon delegation of weekly newspaper editors at the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel, Fredericton, N. B., on Saturday. The separatists are receiving more publicity than they deserve, he said. This is giving them a way of finding publicity and a way of reading that they are doing something.

Premier Robichaud said that there are separatists in parts of English speaking Canada who want Quebec to separate as well as there are in Quebec. Quebec cannot afford to separate, he said, and we will not see it as long as we live, our children live, or our children's children live. We are a peaceful nation, the premier said, and we want to remain a peaceful nation. Why go back to 1763 when in 1867 we united, he asked?

In speaking of the union of the province of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, Premier Robichaud said he could not advocate union, but only a study in depth. He said that if a study shows that the disadvantages outweigh the advantages then the whole idea can be discarded, but if it proves that a union would be beneficial then we should give it serious consideration. We are already united in so many respects, he said. New Brunswick is an example of co-existence in which two races of people appreciate each other.

The editors were also addressed by New Brunswick's Opposition Leader, Hon. C. B. Sherwood, who emphasized the importance of an economic union of the Atlantic Provinces but stated that an Atlantic conscience must come first. He also advocated elimination of tariffs, greater sums of money from the federal government to be spent on secondary industries here, reassessing of all federal policy and putting "our own house" in order. We need to equip our boys and girls to stay home, he said, and added, "Let's move into the kitchen and start cooking."

Various subjects were discussed by panel method at the meeting of the New Brunswick Newspapers Association, to which the Nova Scotia publishers were invited. William Telfer, Manager C.W.N.A., said that four years ago there were 300 weeklies in Canada; today there are 750, but the circulation of 1,375,000 still exists. Other items discussed were the strengths and weaknesses in Weekly advertising and the Byrne report. Other newspaper guests were the National Secretary, Montreal, and Jack Brayley, Neighbourly News commentator.

The social committee of Grace U.C.W., with Mrs. Gladys Budrow, convener, catered for the noon luncheon.

Warns Motorists Of Hallowe'en Hazards

Ghosts may be stalking the streets this weekend, but they'll be real live youngsters out celebrating. Hallowe'en motorists were reminded by Webster Dunn, Digby's Chief of Police.

"Goblins in white and which in black will parade from home to home in their neighborhoods, out for 'trick or treat', it was pointed out.

"Children may be accompanied in some instances by parents, but most youngsters will be out on their own, and in the excitement of the evening they may forget some of the ordinary rules of caution in crossing streets and walking along highways which skirt town areas," Mr. Dunn added.

He urged motorists to "double their caution to compensate for the increased hazards presented by Hallowe'en" when the streets will be busy. "Visibility is reduced at this time of year because of earlier darkness," Mr. Dunn pointed out.

It was stressed that the proper functioning of windshield wipers is "extremely vital" to highway safety in bad weather, especially outside of the town area where there is not good lighting. Wipers should perform smoothly without streaking, and the recommended wiper arm pressure is a minimum of one ounce for each inch of blade length. This is important for clear visibility during rain, snow and sleet.

He advised also that "Headlamps should be functioning efficiently. While high and low beams should perform on instant control, this is not enough; they also must be properly aimed."

If your headlights reveal strangely dressed youngsters within their range this Hallowe'en, reduce speed the chief recommended. Just one youngster in a group along the roadway might suddenly dart across the pavement. Drive slowly and be especially careful, or a life could be lost, he concluded.

B.Y.F. To Conduct Service

Sunday evening services in the Baptist Church of Digby are being resumed beginning next Sunday night with a young people's service under the auspices of the Baptist Youth Fellowship. This includes all young people from 15 years of age and up. A discussion will be held under the topic: "Young People In Today's World." Danen Atkinson will have charge of the devotional service. Refreshments will be served at this meeting.

In addition to the youth night to be held on the first Sunday of each month, Sunday evening services for all will be held in the church auditorium on the second and third Sundays. On the fourth Sunday the evening service will be at Hill Grove.

On Tuesday evening of this week a Hallowe'en Party was held in the church hall by the Baptist Youth Fellowship of Hill Grove. Previous to the games the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, led the young people in a discussion on the topic, "The Church." This formed one of a series of topics to be discussed by the young people during the coming months.

Next week the young people will discuss the topic, "The Student and His School."

Injured School Children Recovered

Mildred Outhouse, eight year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Outhouse, Tiverton, returned to school this week. Mildred received head injuries when she fell from the fire escape of the elementary school at Freeport. Immediately following the accident Mr. and Mrs. Outhouse took her to Dr. Mine, Freeport. Eight stitches were required to close the wound. Dr. Mine suggested they take her to Digby hospital for x-rays to determine the full extent of the injury. Mildred is a grade two pupil in the class of Mr. Pringle.

It has been learned that Miss Roberta Cann also received injuries from a fall down the stairs of the elementary school.

Highway Accidents

No one was seriously injured in an accident at Smith's Cove on Sunday when cars operated by Robert Handpiker, of Digby, and Helen Lachapelle, HMCS Cornwallis, were in collision. The mishap occurred at one of the curves west of Victoria Bridge. There were passengers in both cars but other than minor cuts and bruises no injuries resulted from the crash.

A three-car collision on Wednesday near the overhead bridge in Conway sent at least two persons to hospital. Digby R.C.M.P. are investigating. Names of persons involved have not as yet been released. It is understood that one car is from Halifax. Further information was not available at time of going to press.

National President At Conference

A day long President's conference, chaired by Regional Vice-President, Walter Williams of Yarmouth, for executive members of Home and School Associations for the counties of Yarmouth, Digby, Annapolis, and Kings, was held recently at Barton Consolidated School.

A highlight of the conference was the presence of the Home and School National President, A. J. Sands. Mr. Sands stressed the aims of the Home and School movements, from the local to the national, to the national with a membership of 300,000, as planning ahead through children, with educational opportunities equalized throughout the country, all parts of the country working closely together for constituency rather than uniformity in education.

Federal aid to education, interest free loans to students, family allowances for pupils over the age of 16 years, salaries of teachers on par with those of other professions, have long been the aim of the National Federation. A new aim of the National is free tuition for all deserving students, Mr. Sands said.

National Home and School contribution to the "United Nations International Co-operation Year" will stress co-operation of all countries through a common goal "Planning ahead through children." In this age of space satellites "No man is an island unto himself," stated Mr. Sands.

Membership was brought to the forefront and discussed thoroughly, led by Mr. R. E. Quim, Provincial Membership Chairman. It was felt that lack of organization and lack of publicity were major causes of lower membership.

Organization drive is only as good as the membership in it, stated Mr. Quim. What kind of people do we want? People with greatest conviction, greatest belief in this drive. Members should possess thorough knowledge of achievements, policies and aims; are doing, and what we plan to do, Mr. Quim said.

An outline of the Non-Graded School Curriculum was explained by Inspector C. E. Edwards who gave first-hand knowledge of his observations while in Saskatchewan where the grade system is abolished altogether.

Citing some of the advantages of such a system - no failures in slow learners; progress steady - no repeating; relieving of pressure on both teachers and pupils - a program of achievement only. In his opinion, Mr. Edwards felt that the non-graded curriculum would soon be instituted in Nova Scotia.

K. C. Langille, Prov. Adult Education representative and Mrs. Jean Pell, Prov. Program Chairman, spoke briefly on Home and School as being a democratic organization for education, and of the part we all, as members, can have in pooling our thinking with that of others who are giving useful service in a notable cause. Summarizing, Mr. Sands noted the aims of the Home and School movement were to open the doors of educational opportunity to all children and to all adults as well - who seek knowledge that will make them informed citizens.

Television Personalities Here

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Wood, William Stewart arrived on the Princess of Acadia yesterday and are guests at the Hodley House, Smith's Cove.

Mr. Stewart is program director for CHSTV and Gene has the popular "Time For Juniors" program.

Gene was M.C. for the "Time For Juniors" show, sponsored by the Digby Co. Mental Health Association, held at the Digby Regional High School last night.

Neptune Bringing "Twelfth Night"

Halifax's successful Neptune Theatre will bring live Shakespeare to this area next Tuesday. The curtain will go up on their production of "Twelfth Night" at seven o'clock in the Recreation Centre Theatre at HMCS Cornwallis. In the audience will be at least three hundred junior and senior high school students, almost seventy of them from Digby Regional High School. A school bus will provide transportation for the students. The play will be of especial interest to those students who will have it on their high school English course next year.

"Twelfth Night" is one of the five plays which have been presented in repertory during the 1964 season from June 26 through October 31 on the company's own stage in Halifax. Included in the cast are Dawn Greenhalgh, David Brown, Gavin Douglas, Robert Maxwell, George Spierdaks, Bernard Behrens, Mary MacMurray, David Renton and Ted Follows.

Leon Major, artistic director of Neptune Theatre, directs this play. The stage settings were designed by Les Lawrence and are said by those who have seen the production to be outstandingly beautiful.

The presentation of "Twelfth Night" is being sponsored by the Annapolis Local, Nova Scotia Teachers Union. Arrangements are being made by a committee under the chairmanship of Robert Potts, principal of Clark Rutherford Memorial School, HMCS Cornwallis, Digby, president of the Annapolis Local, NSTU.

Pass Exams

The following Digby area people have been successful in passing the nurse's examinations for registration in Nova Scotia in August.

Joan Ellen Hall, Digby; Ruth Marie Hankinson, Weymouth; Donna May Lee Lewis, Watford; Norma Marie Nelson, Granville Ferry.

1st Cornwallis Scout Troop

At the present time the 1st Cornwallis Scout Troop is planning a bottle drive for this Saturday, October 31st, in the Cornwallis area. After the way in which they were supported in the apple drive, they feel that this will also be a big success.

During Fire Prevention Week the Scouts were given the opportunity by Cornwallis Fire Department to make the rounds of buildings with them during inspection tours. This was both interesting and educational in that it showed the boys how and where to find fire hazards.

It is planned to hold a weekend camp the 7th and 8th of November to familiarize the Scouts in the winter camping crafts.

5th Digby Wolf Cub Pack

If you have noticed little goblins, dressed in green, running around selling Hallowe'en candy, they belong to the 5th Digby Wolf Cub Pack. We would like to thank the Digbyites for their wonderful support.

Scoutian Ramblers

The Crew has been quite active this fall. On Labor Day we attended the 3rd Nova Scotia Provincial Rover Scout Moot and came fifth out of 13 in competition. At present we are laying a cement foundation for our den in the Scout Hall. Also, we are selling soap to raise money for needy families at Christmas. We are sending in an application to hold the Provincial Rover Scout Moot in Digby next year.

More Berries And Blossoms

During this week the Courier has received a number of reports of late blossoms and berries being picked.

On Thursday R. J. Facey, picked a half-pint of raspberries near his home in Clements.

Delbert Thomas, Barton, reports that he picked a box of strawberries in his garden. Mrs. Theodore Everett of Victoria Beach sent to the Courier several ripe strawberries and blossoms that she picked during the weekend.

Mrs. Verna Hubbard also found several ripe strawberries and more in blossom, at her home on Birch Street, Digby.

About This and That

Unightly Highways

Coming through Hants County enroute from Fredericton on Sunday we noticed several board fences which we at first thought to be skating rink enclosures. Before long we realized that the law was catching up with people in that part of the country and the fences were hiding old and dumped car bodies. Now there isn't anything beautiful about a plain ordinary blank board fence, but it is better, we'll admit, than the view of a car graveyard. Maybe someday the board fences will be screened by bushes, hedges and flowering climbers. Come on, law, reach Digby County. Don't believe we are any exception.

Which, by the way, reminds us that up Annapolis way our friends are making strong protests against the spraying of bushes along the highways. They claim that the dead bushes and small trees are just adding one more unsightly view to that of garbage dumps and car graveyards that flank so many of our roads. They feel that axes and scythes would make a much neater and cleaner looking job.

We cannot help but agree on this statement of looking neater and cleaner. We must also add that while it might be a longer and more costly process to use axes and scythes, this method would provide work for a great many of the unemployed, most of whom try to find some excuse for being unemployed. We do commend the Department of Highways for putting highway safety before highway beauty so far as not leaving the shrubbery growing. We also commend thriftiness, but if there is an unemployed person around we can see that paying the person to work could have advantages over handing out welfare. The people's money isn't saved when it is saved by the highway department and handed out in another department. It merely keeps lower figures in one department and raises another.

We understand that the spray used to kill roadside growth is non-toxic, therefore should not be dangerous to water users so we accept that fact without complaint.

Let's have a more beautiful roadside before another tourist season rolls around.

A Good Hunter Is A Safe Hunter

Hunting safety is vital to all. In recent years the national accident rate increased by 60 percent during the hunting season. During a ten-year period from 1953 there have been 246 hunting accidents in Nova Scotia. 47 of which have been fatal. A summary of the accidents shows that 99 were caused by the accidental discharge of weapons in the hands of others; 65 by the discharge of hunters' own weapons; 39 were injured or killed when mistaken for a deer, and 25 were accidentally shot when they were in the line of fire of other hunters.

With the woods throughout the province being invaded by eager and sometimes over-eager hunters, a look at a few basic rules which might save a life is in order.

A brightly-colored cap and jacket is a good safety device for hunters to prevent themselves from being stalked as game. Many hunters develop "buck fever", and often shoot at a moving object without first positively determining that it isn't another hunter, or some farm animal.

Attention to personal comfort when going hunting can often add to the general ability and safety of the hunter.

Be sure someone knows where you'll be and when you should be expected back, and leave your whiskey and your tranquilizers in the hunting camp.

Accidents involving guns occur when hunters fail to "break" their guns when not in use, or point a weapon carelessly in the presence of others. Incorrect procedures in cleaning firearms leads to maiming and often death. Never climb a tree or fence while carrying a gun.

A gun should be treated as a bad friend — don't misuse it. Let's do our share to make 1964 an accident-free hunting season.

What Fabrication!

It was nothing short of plain and gross fabrication when Louis McKenna, editor of the Kings County Record, Sussex, N. B., said on Neighbourly News, Sunday morning, that Editor Edith Wallis spent Thanksgiving Day sleeping while she had the whole Digby Courier staff slaving at the shop all day. The truth was Edith Wallis was slaving at home. The only truthful part of his statement was that he visited relatives in Plympton and tried to call at the Courier office on the Thanksgiving Day holiday. And to think that the moderator, Jack Brayley, let him get away with such blankly dishonest statements! (Or, might we have expected Jack to add "It was a hangover." Of course, then the listeners would have recognized the falsehood.) But it all goes to show that weekly editors are not such a bad lot. They have a bountiful sense of humor which is probably the chief asset that carries them so ably over the problems and cares besetting a small country newspaper editor.

Despite such false statements by Editor McKenna on Neighbourly News, President Ken Chisholm, Sackville, N. B., and Louis, along with other New Brunswick weekly editors, proved themselves last week to be intelligent and capable and endowed with more than just a good sense of humor. They came up with a most informative and interesting two day program for their New Brunswick Weekly Newspapers Association meeting held at the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel in Fredericton. They really gave the Nova Scotia publishers, their guests, something to strive after in the line of convention and conference programs. Editor Edith Wallis was happy to have had the privilege of attending. Both Hon. Louis J. Robichaud, Premier, and Hon. C. B. Sherwood, Leader of the Opposition, took time from their busy schedules to address

REMEMBER THOSE WHO MADE THE SUPREME SACRIFICE

Why Wear A Poppy?

By Don Crawford

Public Relations Officer, Perth, Ont., Branch, R.C.L.

"Please wear a poppy," the lady said
And held one forth, but I shook my head.
Then I stopped and watched as she offered them there,
And her face was old and lined with care;
But beneath the scars the years had made
There remained a smile that refused to fade.

A boy came whistling down the street,
Bouncing along on care-free feet.
His smile was full of joy and fun,
"Lady," said he, "may I have one?"
When she'd pinned it on he turned to say,
"Why do we wear a poppy today?"

And answered, "This is Remembrance Day,
And the poppy there is the symbol for
The gallant men who died in war.
And because they did, you and I are free —
That's why we wear a poppy, you see.

"I had a boy about your size,
With golden hair and big blue eyes.
He loved to play and jump and shout,
Free as a bird he would race about.
As the years went by he learned and grew
And became a man — as you will, too.

"He was fine and strong, with a boyish smile,
But he'd seemed with us such a little while
When war broke out and he went away.
I still remember his face that day
When he smiled at me and said, 'Goodbye,
I'll be back soon, Mom, so please don't cry.'

"But the war went on and he had to stay,
And all I could do was wait and pray.
His letters told of the awful fight,
(I can see it still in my dreams at night),
With the tanks and guns and cruel barbed wire,
And the mines and bullets, the bombs and fire.

"Till at last, at last, the war was won —
And that's why we wear a poppy, son."
The small boy turned as if to go,
Then said, "Thanks, lady, I'm glad to know.
That sure did sound like an awful fight,
But your son — did he come back all right?"

A tear rolled down each faded cheek;
She shook her head, but didn't speak.
I slunk away in a sort of shame;
And if you were me you'd have done the same;
For our thanks, in giving, is oft delayed,
Though our freedom was bought — and thousands paid!

And so when we see a poppy worn,
Let us reflect on the burden borne
By those who gave their very all
When asked to answer their country's call
That we at home in peace might live.
Then wear a poppy! Remember — and Give!

the editors. It was all most worthwhile and made all the weekly publishers realize their grave and important responsibility.

On the strength of all that, our friend, Louis McKenna, is forgiven for just one fabrication from the honest to goodness truth. After all, Louis' statements weren't printed in a weekly newspaper, each one of which is read every day for seven days of the week by at least five different persons. (That isn't fabrication!) Leave it to that shrewd Louis McKenna. He knows where not to make fabricated statements!

Call again, Louis. We'll make a point to be at the desk.

Make Hallowe'en A Safe Time For Youngsters

Hallowe'en, the one night of the year when "all the ghosties and ghoulies and three-legged beasties and things that go bump in the night" are out in full force, is almost upon us again.

In ancient Britain, the Druids built huge bonfires to ward off evil spirits. Into the blaze they threw horses and cats and even the odd human being, usually a criminal, who of course was supposed to be crammed with evil.

Early Romans marked the day sacred to Pomona, the goddess of fruit and instead of animals and people, fruit and nuts were roasted in their fires.

Gradually, the festivals were woven into the Christian religion as the eve of All Hallow's or All Saints' Day, although the idea still remained that spirits full of mischief roamed at large.

Maybe the Irish, from whom our Canadian version of Hallowe'en was appropriated, could see these weird spirits. But people in this country couldn't.

In their place, more substantial little people — the children — began dressing up and going from door to door begging appeasement or they would cause trouble.

In many parts of the Maritimes the setting off of fireworks is synonymous with the celebration of Hallowe'en. This is an opportunity for parents to fascinate the youngsters with a display of fireworks. But they should remember that children should not participate in the actual firing of the pieces. Most fireworks made in Canada are not designed to be held in the hand.

Before firing the Hallowe'en display, parents should read the printed instructions on each firework, keeping in mind that the firing location should be clear of overhead obstructions, trees or wiring. Spectators should be seated at least twenty feet from the firing location.

A large container, such as a metal garbage can, should be available to dispose of used fireworks. When the display is over, these items can be sprinkled with a garden hose.

Parents should also make sure that children's costumes are flameproof and light colored enough for drivers to see easily. Paint false faces on children, using cosmetics and burnt cork instead of masks which obstruct vision.

Marriage

Moore — Morehouse

A pretty outdoor wedding was performed recently at the home of L. C. D. R. (Ret) and Mrs. Sidney Morehouse, Weymss, Ont., when their daughter, Dorothy Patricia was united in marriage to Albert Stanley Moore, son of Capt. and Mrs. Albert Moore, Westport, N. S.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Harold Bridge of Perth Baptist Church and assisted by Mr. Edward Cook of Bathurst United Baptist Church. The organ-accompaniment of hymns, including "Beautiful Garden of Prayer", "The Lord is My Shepherd" and "Whispering Hope", added a tone of hushed reverence to a beautifully fine fall day.

The bride was given in marriage by her father L. C. D. R. Sidney Morehouse and she chose a cocktail length dress of white patterned net over taffeta with elbow length veil and carried a bouquet of red and white roses.

The bridesmaids dresses were of Romance blue nylon over taffeta with shoes to match and white heddresses and gloves. They carried bouquets of mums with blue centers.

The bride's attendants were her sister, Mrs. John Daley of Regina, Sask., and Mrs. Richard Young, Ottawa.

The best man was F. O. Weldon Glavin of Rome, N.Y., formerly of Westport, N. S. The ushers were Sidney D. Morehouse, brother of the bride, and Laurence Marion of Ottawa.

The mother of the bride wore a Peacock blue tailored dress embroidered in black with black accessories and a corsage of white and pink carnations. Mrs. Weldon Glavin, who represented the groom's mother, was dressed in a white and silver sheath with a hat of deep pink and a corsage of pink carnations.

The groom and his attendants were attired in black suits with light grey ties and white buttonaries.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the United Church Hall. An open house was later held at the home of the bride's parents.

The happy couple left in a suitably decorated car for their future home in Westport, outfit was a pale green flecked suit with red accessories. N. S. The bride's going away

janes

This week's column, I decided, as I went to bed on Thursday night, would be no problem. The obvious thing to write about was Halloween. Halloween is such a rich and glowing time in our young lives. We had such fun, so many memories. . . I couldn't really remember any of my youthful Halloween's as I slipped under the blanket, but tomorrow I would be less tired. Tomorrow those memories would come back in an uncontrollable flood. I would write something gloriously poignant and humorous.

Friday began in a blaze of glory ignited by the ringing of about seven a.m. of a doornell.

I am not exactly a ball of fire any morning before ten, but before I have had my first cup of coffee, I function with all the verve and vitality of a zombie. My ears heard the bell, but my sleeping mind refused to accept the fact. I turned over again. My nap was shattered by an impatient "brnnngggg" before my eyes had even closed properly. I tried to ignore it, but whoever it was, was not taking no for an answer, even at that uncivilized hour of the morning.

I looked hopefully at the man I married, but, if he was not sleeping like a baby, he was doing such a good job of pretending he was that I decided to be a hero. I pulled on my bathrobe, and in my usual morning state of electric sparkle lumbered down the stairs. I opened the kitchen door. The cat, smiling, purred against my leg as she came in. Even at seven a.m. it did not seem quite conceivable that the cat had rung the doornell. Thinking unkind thoughts about helpful people who ring doorbells in the practically pre-dawn because a cat wants to come in, I started upstairs. At this point I figured, I may as well get dressed.

Brnnngggg

I had answered the wrong door.

I staggered to the front door. The gentleman there had a very important message. I could have sworn he said from my husband's boss, but, as I intimated before, I am not really responsible at that time of the day. I delivered the message. It was for the boss. The man had come to the wrong house.

The tone of the day, was set. At least my unwelcome early morning visitor had gotten me up early enough that my work was done early. I sat in front of my typewriter to cope with that rush of nostalgic thoughts about Halloween which I expected to overcome me. My memories of Halloween came in the following order:

1. Learning to spell it.

2. Faithfully carving a pumpkin which looked like everybody else's pumpkin each year.

3. One year, when I happened to wander away from my trick or treating companions, I saw a wide, ghostly beam of orange light in the sky. I had no witnesses, and nobody every believed me when I told them.

4. The year the elastic snapped in my pink bloomers somewhere on the trick or treat route.

5. The year my sister wore a pair of old rubber boots which weighed nearly as much as she. She trudged bravely after the bigger kids, nearly crying from the effort of moving her feet, and we did not understand.

6. Several parties at other people's houses spent bobbing for apples and playing assorted games which I have long ago forgotten.

7. One party at my house bobbing for apples, and playing games which I have long ago forgotten.

This line of thought did not seem to be yielding any great potential. I decided to call a few of my friends to see what tales they had to tell of their youthful hauntings. All that the first one could remember was that last year her little boy fell asleep after supper and slept through Halloween. There was not much of a story in that either. The others yielded less.

Even the three year old member of this family, who talked about trick or treating for about six months after last Halloween has forgotten it in the intervening six months, so he did not offer any help.

This, it seems, is not the year I write my witty and scintillating article on Halloween. I'm going to bed to catch up on that hour of sleep I lost.

Don't let the goblins get you.

Rev. Mr. Macintosh Speaks At Weymouth

"Unless we are convinced in our minds that the Bible has a message for this new age, we will have no concern about sharing it with others," Rev. M. C. P. Macintosh, District Secretary, Canadian Bible Society, told an audience in Church of Christ (Disciples), Weymouth, on Monday evening.

The Bible Society was formed in 1804 by men who believed that the Bible had a message for that age. They proceeded to have the Bible translated into languages other than English. Today versions are available in 1216 languages. Over 1000 men and women are engaged in the work of translation. The Bible Society is the sole source of Scriptures for all branches of the Reformed Church for missionary work.

The literacy movement, sponsored by UNESCO, will teach 350 million adults to read during the next five years. A concerted effort by the 23 Bible Societies of the world will provide each new reader with a Gospel in his mother tongue. This program called "God's Word for a New Age" was launched by the Archbishop of York, who is President of the Bible Societies of the world.

By Janet Walker,

Home Economics Representative, Dept. of Agriculture and Marketing

Last Wednesday's damp, cold weather did nothing to dampen the spirits of the fifty women gathered at the Acaciaville Community Centre, for the annual Digby District Women's Institute Rally. The warm friendly spirit of the meeting made us forget the unpleasant conditions outside. The reading of Institute reports on past year's activities gave a clear indication that the Digby women have had a busy year and look forward to an even more profitable '64-'65 season. Especially worthy of note is the community betterment program carried on by the Acaciaville group. Their activities leave no stone unturned, ranging from work on the community center to night classes for adults and the establishment of a lending library for the citizens of this community on the outskirts of Digby. By the way, if any of you have any extra books you feel you could donate to this group (especially children's books drop me a note).

A report on the FWIC Convention by Mrs. Willis Buckler, of Bear River, transported her listeners to Wolfville for part of the afternoon. Her graphic descriptions and detailed account acquainted the audience with the convention activities as well as if they had been in attendance themselves.

A panel under the chairmanship of Mrs. Buckler discussed various aspects in which we can improve Canada. The panel members discussed health, hobbies, books, painting, color and gardening with a view to making Canada lovelier. A short demonstration on food garnishes reminded that beauty is all around us even (or should I say particularly) in the food we eat.

And speaking of food I must mention the delightful buffet the Acaciaville ladies prepared for an evening lunch. Well fortified with good food and a warm feeling engendered by an interesting day of activities we had to say goodbye for another year. The 1964 Digby District Rally was a huge success and credit goes to everyone who participated in the program and to Mrs. John Harris, who kept everything running smoothly in her capacity as chairman.

Paradise is the next stop, Paradise, Nova Scotia, that is, although the beautiful sunny weather and artistic autumn leaf arrangements made us wonder. This atmosphere did not deter Mrs. Ernest Bent from guiding the Annapolis District Rally through a busy schedule efficiently. Reports, special talks, illustrated talks, skits, music and slides were the order of the day. Program planning, crewel embroidery, the FWIC Convention, the International Peace Garden and "Treasures of the Bay of Fundy" all came under the broad program. I'd like to mention the latter especially and also the slides shown.

Mrs. Russel Hudgins, of Margaretsville, taught us that beauty is where you find it, especially in the sea creatures and rocks found along the shore. I'm sure she inspired all of us to go "beachcombing." Mrs. J. A. Ruffee showed some wonderful slides of the International Peace Garden and some of British Columbia's other gardens. After looking at this lush growth we switched our attention to Canada's Northland. Members present were interested in this because the money realized from a popular "grab" bag is to be sent for work in developing Canada's Northland where several Institutes have already been established. On display during the day were crafts done by members and safety posters. Six branches completed posters for this competition with Paradise emerging as the victors — we don't want to hear of any accidents here next year!

This completes the Fall Rallies in Hants, Kings, Annapolis and Digby Counties. I enjoyed every minute of them and hope that you have been interested in a glance at them.

Bowls 448 In Summerside

Wylie Everett (left) came as close to a perfect game and $1,000 as you can come as he rolled an amazing 448 during major league action at Crest Lanes, Summerside, recently. The airman, a native of Victoria Beach, N. S., with many supporters raising the roof in cheering him on, tallied eleven straight strikes and had a chance to win $1,000 for the perfect game, 450 points.

Looking just a wee bit nervous, he waited his turn and fired. It looked as if he had an aces hit as it seemed that both corner pins were going to remain standing. However, one pin bounced back and took the counter with Everett getting a 448. Jim Hogan, manager of Crest Lanes, is seen presenting him with $100, for his fine effort, plus his scoresheet, plus the pin that cost him $900. (Photo by Heckbert Studio, Summerside, P.E.I.)

Marriages

Thibault — Belliveau

A pretty fall wedding took place on October 3rd at Sacred Heart R. C. Church, Doucetteville, when Shirley Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elise Thibault, Doucetteville, was given in marriage by her father to Roland Joseph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Belliveau, Church Point. Rev. Raoul Deveau performed the ceremony. The organist was Mrs. Harley Amirault, of Gilbert Cove.

The bride wore a floor length, model of bridal satin, having a bell shaped skirt with detachable chapel length train, falling from a rosette of satin at the back. Appliques of Alencon lace re-embroidered with tiny rosettes ornamented the front of the gown and formed a deep yoke and scalloped neckline on the bodice. The sleeves were long and tapered. A four layer shoulder-length veil with scalloped edges was held by a pear and crystal-like halo. The bride carried a bouquet of red roses.

The matron of honor was Elsie LeBlanc, of Kentville, who wore a street length dress of yellow organza with lace top and headpiece to match. She carried a bouquet of blue and yellow chrysanthemums. Ann Belliveau, Halifax, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. She wore a street length dress of blue lace with a headpiece to match. She carried a bouquet of blue and yellow chrysanthemums.

The best man was Corale Belliveau, Halifax, and the usher was Allen Belliveau, both brothers of the groom. The bride's mother wore a three piece green and beige Venezia knit suit with beige accessories. Her corsage was of mums.

The groom's mother wore a blue three piece suit with accessories to match. Her corsage was of mums.

A reception at the Canadian Legion Hall, Digby, followed the ceremony when a toast to the bride was proposed by Corale Belliveau, brother of the groom.

Bates — Whitman

Many friends gathered on October 10, at the Upper Granville United Church to witness the ceremony as Donna Marie Whitman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Whitman, Upper Granville, became the bride of Malcolm Clarence Bates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bates, of Freeport. The church was tastefully decorated with beautiful autumn leaves and baskets of chrysanthemums and asters. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage, to the strains of the wedding march played by her aunt, Mrs. Clinton Clark.

The bride's floor length gown of white satin, covered with layers of organza, was decorated with simulated pearls. Interest centered in the back of the gown where myriads of white rose buds gathered the material. Her shoulder length veil of silk illusion was attached to a headpiece of white stephanotis. She wore a pearl necklace with matching earrings and carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations. The matron of honour, Mrs. Walter Thompson, sister of the bride, wore a rose colored velvet street length dress with matching head band and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Mrs. George Crocker, a friend from Freeport, was the second bridesmaid and wore a sapphire blue velvet street length dress with matching headband. She also carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Reverend Calder Fraser, of Bridgetown. The wedding prayer was given by Reverend William Ideson, of Freeport. During the signing of the register, Mr. Ward Clark, the bride's uncle, sang the solo "I'll Walk Beside You". The best man was Mr. Walter Crocker, a friend of the groom. Ushers were Mr. Clinton Clark, the bride's uncle and Mr. George Crocker, a friend from Freeport.

The mother of the bride chose a beige-colored brocade suit-dress and contrasting olive green accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. The groom's mother wore a blue-flowered silk dress with complimenting accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

The reception was held immediately afterwards in the Upper Granville Community Hall. The bride's table was prettily decorated and centered with a snow white three-tier wedding cake. It was served by a cousin of the bride, Miss Barbara Whitman, of Bedford. Mrs. Beatrice Clark, the bride's grandmother, poured the tea. Following the reception the bride and groom returned to the brides home. From there they left for a short trip around the Cabot Trail. The bride wore a green double-knit suit, with black accessories and corsage of sweet-heart roses. The young couple have purchased a home in Freeport, where they will reside at the end of the school term.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Whitman and family, Bedford; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Langille, Halifax; Mrs. Lina Foster, Kentville; Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Whitman, Berwick; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Moore, Reverend and Mrs. William Ideson, Mrs. Ralph Haines, Mrs. Elcanora Outhouse, Miss Gladys Pyne, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Perry, Mrs. Clara Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard Morrell, Mr. and Mrs. George Crocker, all of Freeport; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perry, Lawrenceville; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thompson, Centerville; Mr. Walter Crocker, Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thompson and family, Lawrenceville; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bates, Freeport.

Rev. Hollis Kimball performed the ceremony. Mrs. Clyde Outhouse rendered a solo and was accompanied by the organist, Mrs. Lindsay Raymond. The church was beautifully decorated with bouquets of glads and many lovely baskets of flowers.

The bride was radiant as she entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Her gown was of white satin with long sleeves and round neckline trimmed with lace and pearls. Her shoulder-length veil of scalloped tulle illusion was held in place by a crown. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses. The bride wore a blue crystal neckline with matching earrings, a gift of the groom.

Her matron of honor was Brenda Lohnes of Lunenburg,

is child's work

Give a youngster something to play with and, if it arouses his interest, whammo! he's lost. All his efforts are bent on solving its secrets, making it go, building it up or knocking it down. Usually he's dead serious about it... as he should be—because what looks like play to you is work to him! Thought-provoking, energy-burning work that you, the parent, can help maintain by seeing that he enjoys a good balanced diet. Naturally we hope that his diet will include plenty of Ben's BUTTERMILK BREAD... a wonderful source of food energy. Ben's BUTTERMILK BREAD tastes good too!

FOR GROWING YOUNGSTERS it's the bread to buy!

Report From Parliament Hill

George C. Nowlan
October 23, 1964.

After the earth-shaking events of the previous week, events on Parliament Hill have proceeded in an orderly fashion. As a matter of fact, Parliament made a great deal of progress on matters with which it was concerned, including the Redistribution Bill. This, of course, is one of the critical political problems with which this Parliament has to deal. As I have said before, it raises the question as to when the next election will be held. If the Government proceeds with this Bill, and the Commissions are appointed, how can there be an election until they have completed their tasks? And how can they complete their tasks in less than a year and a half to two years of their appointment? That is one of the sixty-four dollar questions with which we are confronted. It would appear at the moment that the Government intends to proceed with this matter, and in order to expedite its procedure, the Hon. Allan MacEachen, the Nova Scotia Minister, was asked by the Prime Minister to pilot it through the House. Allan is popular with all parties in the House of Commons, and he has strengthened his reputation as a diplomat by the manner in which he dealt with this matter. There are still two or three critical sections with which we have to deal, but my guess would be that these could be settled fairly quickly, and it may be expected that that Bill will be completed by the House of Commons within the next week.

However, in the meantime, we had one matter of very great importance to the constituency with which we had to deal. This has been reported in the press and on the radio, and I will not dwell upon it at any great length here. Suffice it to say that the C.P.R. had intended to cancel all rail services between Halifax and Yarmouth, except the two daily trains between the extremities of the province. I had assumed that the Boards of Trade and the towns had registered protests with the Board of Transport Commissioners, but on checking into the matter, I found, on my first inquiry, that only two protests had been received by the Board, and they were from individuals. Apparently most of the organizations which would be concerned with the matter had filed their protests with the C.P.R. management. Of course, that has no legal significance whatsoever. The Board of Transport Commissioners is an administrative, as well as a Judicial Body, which has power to deal with these matters, when representations have been made to them. The fact that representations had been made to the C.P.R. would have no significance to the Board whatsoever. As a result, the various Towns and Boards of Trade were contacted and supplementary protests were filed with me to present to the Board of Transport Commissioners. I appeared before the Board, argued the matter, submitted the protests received, and a few hours later the C.P.R. was ordered to continue the service. Of course, this order is not final in itself. There is a provision in the Act which enables the C.P.R. to demand a public hearing, and I think it is possible, in fact, probable, that such a public hearing will be ordered. I am not an expert on Railway Law. As a matter of fact, this was my first appearance before the Board of Transport Commissioners. Therefore, I cannot give any opinion as to the result of a public hearing. Just prior to hearing my submission, the Board heard representations on behalf of an area in Alberta facing a similar situation. They sent Mr. J. J. Frawley, Q.C., from Alberta, to represent them. He is one of the foremost authorities on Railway Law in Canada, so I suffered from somewhat of an inferiority complex when I had to follow him, before the Board. Mr. Frawley succeeded in obtaining an Order from the Board to postpone the cancellation of the services in which his clients were interested, as I did later on behalf of our part of Nova Scotia, but I do suggest that it would be highly advisable for the Towns, Municipalities, Boards of Trade and other interested organizations between Halifax and Yarmouth to join forces to retain competent counsel, and be prepared to make representations before the Board, as, if and when a public hearing is held.

In the meantime, although the procedures in Parliament this week have been of an orderly nature, there are storm clouds on the horizon. On the 29th of October, the Flag Committee will report, or fail to report, with respect to the flag. This will precipitate this issue again on the floors of Parliament. The Government must obtain interim supply in order to carry on for another period, whether it be one month, two months or three months. There will be other major items of legislation such as the Bill controlling Railways, the pension bill and other matters, all of which are

DIGBY JOINS IN REGIONAL PLANNING

Providing other towns and municipalities in Western Nova Scotia go along with the same idea, Digby will join the Western Nova Scotia Regional Planning Commission. Copies of the decision are to go to all the towns and municipalities concerned. This was the motion passed at the regular meeting of the Digby Town Council on Monday night. The Western Nova Scotia Regional Planning Commission idea was conceived some months ago when town and municipality officials gathered at Yarmouth to organize such a commission.

A general discussion of planning resulted from the motion on Monday night and several gave reports on a community planning meeting held in Halifax recently and sponsored by the Nova Scotia government. They were of the opinion that workable and reasonable plans could be laid out but it would be necessary to have an engineer or qualified person to do it. It would be necessary, it was felt, to zone areas for residential, commercial and industrial areas. Since 1953 eighty new houses have gone up in Digby, twenty more are in the planning or construction stage and there is room for another 200.

Notice was again planned to be served on a property owner on Digby's front street to have the premises cleaned up. The property which was destroyed by fire more than a year ago has been left in an unsightly condition, it was learned. Besides it is thought a fire hazard and a hazard to young children.

Also brought under discussion was a "junk yard" around the Racquette and beached boats at the Racquette. After investigation the matter will be reported on further at the next council meeting.

Request Change Parking Angle To Parallel

A request will go to the Nova Scotia provincial traffic authority requesting that a change be made from angle parking to parallel parking in the section from the Railway Station to the Bank of Nova Scotia on the west side of Digby's front street. The decision was arrived at during Monday night's meeting of the Digby Town Council. It was stated that a great variation in the lengths of motor vehicles makes driving through the street very difficult for the public. A case was cited when during a foggy night last week a car was struck, badly damaged and driven up on the sidewalk. It was mentioned that this was dangerous to pedestrians on the sidewalk.

Another parking problem was brought up by a letter from Mrs. Eileen Chipman, 1st Avenue, who complained of cars parking near her door step. This matter was referred to the traffic committee. It was decided to look into the matter of widening corners at Victoria-Warwick St., King-Church St. and at Rooney's Corner on Birch St.

Double parking in town again was scored by councilors.

Only 3

One of the youngest on the "Time For Juniors" show in Digby was Karen Robertson, age 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Robertson, Digby. Karen is seen above as she sang her song after talking with Jene Wood.

Still Negotiating With CPR

A letter from the Department of Public Works, Ottawa read at the Town Council on Monday night revealed the department's intention of dredging to provide additional mooring space for fishing vessels at Digby this year.

The letter stated that the department was planning major improvements to the facilities at Digby but they were still carrying on negotiations with the C.P.R. Until the negotiations are satisfactorily concluded the letter stated, the department will not be in a position to make definite commitments in regard to the actual work which might be undertaken.

It was decided at the meeting presided over by His Worship Mayor C. D. Snow on Monday to look into the cost of having an abutment and parking space built along the water front from the Bandstand in Digby to the Salvation Army. Plans were made to contact the Minister of Highways to inform him that the town was prepared to go along on the project on a progressive basis.

Jack Nichols appeared before the Council with a proposition for removing snow from the front street in Digby this year. Mr. Nichols is negotiating with a company to buy a snow blower, he said, and wanted to learn the feeling of the council regarding their using the equipment for town purposes. The matter was left with the streets committee for investigation.

More than 1000 hours were spent last month by the town crew in stock piling gravel for winter, cleaning streets, culverts, raking leaves, ditching, working on the Shore Road and other necessary street chores, as reported by Councilor Bruce Baxter.

Plans on the town's sewer system were received by Councilor Charles Halliburton from the engineer, Mr. Godfrey. These are to be discussed by the sewer committee and brought before the council at a later date.

The subject of winter works was left for a special meeting to deal with it.

The water problem in Digby was deemed by the council to be a big one and one which few on the council seem to know how it is being handled or what the future plans are. It was felt that the council should meet with the Digby Water Commission on the matter. Surveys have been made on the water supply and dredging seems to be required. The basic problem seems to be lack of funds and steps are underway to apply to the Board of Public Utilities for more revenue.

Fourteen complaints had been laid with the police last month. Five required further investigation. Six required court action, two under the criminal code and four under the Nova Scotia Liquor Act. Hallowe'en was reported quiet in town.

Taxi drivers in town informed the council of their decision to set up an 8 by 12 ft trailer on the Ellis property near the old railway station for shelter in winter for themselves and their patrons. The trailer will be on wheels and moved in the Spring.

The town endorsed the proposal by the Centenary Celebration Committee of a Regional Library.

A letter was read from the Digby Fire Department thanking the town for its support in Fire Prevention Week. The town returned congratulations to the Fire Department on its campaign and expressed appreciation for the efforts of the Department throughout the years.

Plans were made to advertise the Nomination term and also Election Day in Digby on the first Tuesday in December.

Poll clerks appointed were Mrs. Barbara Weir, Mrs. George Winfield and Mrs. R. B. Lent, alternative. Presiding officers named were Harry Titus and A. Grimmer.

Remembrance Day, November 11 was proclaimed a holiday in Digby.

It was decided, on Monday night to seek information from Dr. Longley, president of the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival Committee, about appointments from various towns on the committee how the appointments are made and what the responsibilities of the members of the committee happen to be.

Council Reads Letters DAR Problem

A letter from G. A. Powell, manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway on its views regarding curtailment of service on the D.A.R. line from Halifax to Yarmouth was read at the regular meeting of the Digby Council on Monday night. The C.P.R. stated that the decision to reduce the D.A.R. services had been made only after careful study of the use being made of them and the cost involved. It further stated that the general public indicated a preference to use their private automobiles rather than rail passenger equipment in their travels. They expect that use of private cars will continue to increase and that rail service cannot begin to compete with this form of transportation. Bus services, too, in the Digby area reduce the requirements for a passenger service on the railway, the letter said.

Regarding the same matter a letter from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen was read in which they acknowledged with thanks what the town had done toward helping to maintain passenger service on the D. A. Railway. The letter ended with the suggestion that the C.P.R. be turned over to the C.N.R. for rail operations if it comes to the C.N.R. supplying complete service to half of the land while the rest of the land does without.

The letter also stated that it appears as if the C.P.R. is planning to go out of the passenger business whether the public likes it or not and the policy of the world's largest travel system seems to be that they will haul freight but the passenger must walk. The writer, George R. Goucher, Legislative Representative, referred to a meeting of the company employees and officers of D.A.R. when the meeting was opened by one from the C.P.R. personnel department by saying the only business to be discussed would be the procurement of more freight traffic. In answer to insistence that passenger service be discussed the letter stated that the manager had said that as far as he knew the C.P.R. had no passenger policy. The letter stated that passenger equipment was not being renewed or purchased.

The letter said that the Fare Saver Plan of the past summer had resulted in an influx of traffic which could not be handled properly and that even now it is difficult to get reservations. It was because of this that the B.L.F.&E. felt that the C.P.R. was going out of passenger business whether the public liked it or not.

Wants Research Diatomaceous Earth

A request was placed before the Digby Town Council on Monday night on behalf of Frank Wightman, Smith's Cove, seeking support of the council in his application to provincial authorities to have a research made on diatomaceous earth in the Digby County area.

Readers will remember that some years ago a diatomaceous earth plant was operated by the Wightman family near East Ferry, on Digby Neck. Along with this same location Mr. Wightman feels that the Islands and Meteghan areas also can produce raw material for products from diatomaceous earth. There are plants in operation in New Brunswick, or, areas found, it is believed, and a supply for Canada also comes from British Columbia.

The council was in sympathy with any move which might create a new industry for Digby County.

Time For Juniors Grand Success

Above is Kim Laliberte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henri Laliberte, Digby, presenting to Jene Wood, Saint John, a bouquet after the "Time For Juniors" program held at the Digby Regional High School last Wednesday. The flowers were a donation from Cameron's Florist, Digby.

The show was sponsored by the Digby County Mental Health Association and was considered one of the most successful ventures of its type staged in Digby for some time. Conveners for the project were V. G. Cardoza and Mrs. J. M. Wallis. The sum of $348 gross was raised.

With her usual most graceful manner "Jene" captivated the participants in the show and the audience alike and in quick time ushered the more than 125 performers through the long list of sixty-seven numbers. These included guest performers, James Wade, soloist, and the Dukeshire sisters, Bear River, in a trio.

Ages of participants, other than guests, ranged from three years old to sixteen years. The numbers included vocal selections, piano numbers, dances and recitations. Two choirs participated, one from Smith's Cove, under the direction of Mrs. J. J. Wallis, and Grace United Church Junior Choir, Digby, under the direction of Mrs. R. H. Hughes. A group of young singers between the ages of 3 and 5 from Cornwallis and under the direction of Miss Harriet Graves, Smith's Cove, also rendered a selection. Pianists for vocalists were Miss Bonnie Wright, Mrs. William Marshall, Digby; Mrs. J. J. Wallis; Miss Linda Brinton, Smith's Cove; Mrs. Mary Finigan, Freeport; Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Dukeshire, Bear River; and Mrs. Frances Peters, Digby.

After the singing of "O Canada" the show got underway with Douglas Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wilson, Digby, calling the usual "Time For Juniors". All the numbers were well done, they were of appeal to the audience and revealed much talent among the children of Digby County. Any judge would have had difficulty in choosing a star to the Time For Juniors, but if the show was stolen by any one number it probably was the Monkey Dance by Philip and Dorothy Bailey, of Conway. ## Mike Gilles Addresses Kiwanians

In the three and a half days spent in Digby, Mike Gilles, commentator on Fisherman's Log for CBC, found eleven different fishing stories to broadcast. He found he still had not tapped the sources of stories available and could possibly spend two weeks doing two or three stories a day. While here Mike was also guest speaker at the Digby Kiwanis Club last Thursday. Above, left to right, are Glen Smith, fisheries officer in Digby, who accompanied Mike on his search for tales of the fishermen; His Worship Mayor C. D. Snow; Mike; William MacLeod, past president of Digby Kiwanis, who presided, and Walter Wicks, cameraman with CBC. Mr. Smith, on behalf of the Kiwanis Club, presented the speaker with packages of Digby scallops.

In his telecast, Mike Gilles tries to find something of value to fishermen, something of interest to all the population. Fishing depends a lot on good communication, he said, such as weather forecasts, market reports, new discoveries, etc. Besides, people in the Maritimes are not as informed on fishing as they should be. Few people, he said, are aware of the extensive fishing in Digby. Ten million dollars in value is valuable to Nova Scotia, he commented.

The Fisherman's Log program is the only telecast of its kind in Canada, Mike said. It was started in 1959 on a three months trial basis and has continued to bring information on fishing and to report or progress in the industry. For example, in 1956 we had the longliner introduced into fishing, today it is obsolete. The landed value of Nova Scotia fish has risen to 36 million dollars worth and this year the landed value is expected to reach the 40 million mark.

Fishing is undergoing change rapidly, the speaker said. More and larger boats are being built and fishing has been facing almost a crisis in getting a sufficient number of captains for the off-shore

On display at the Fire Hall was a scrap book of the year's activities which was to be sent to Boston for competition the next day. The competition includes departments from all of Canada and judged according to population. Judging is being done at the National Fire Prevention Association headquarters in Boston.

The scrap book was made by Robert Handspiker, chairman of the Fire Prevention Week program. It tells the story in picture and script of the year's activities in Digby's Fire Department, how and when it was organized, the chief, the departments and companies, graphs of property losses, maps of the districts etc. The scrap book has pictures of various classes conducted, parades, visits to the Digby Fire Department and the Department's visits elsewhere, etc.

With Digby taking second place in Nova Scotia for last year's scrap book, the Digby Fire Department is expecting the much superior edition this year to win a greater prize.

Other interested spectators filled the nearly seven hundred capacity theatre at Cornwallis and showed their appreciation of the presentation by their enthusiastic applause.

Music In Digby In Bygone Years As I Remember It

In answer to a request by The Digby Courier for information on "music" in Digby County, Mr. Fritz Dakin has kindly written the following —

In my young days the town of Digby was full of music and group singing and there was always someone around to play the fiddle or piano if we wanted to dance. The first piano teacher I knew of was a Miss Florence Harris and the practice books were Czerny's and later the Etude. This would be in about 1875. Later there came a Mrs. Copp and a Miss Smith. Small groups of instrumental players were in different parts of town and I well remember the one that used to gather at our house. They met every week and played at most of the concerts put on by local societies.

I well remember when Sousa's great March (Liberty Bell) was published and our little orchestra purchased the music and began practice. It was thought that they should have a bell so a table bell was procured and at the age of eight I joined the orchestra and banged out "da de da de da" in the proper place.

The years brought some very funny situations as when a later orchestra, quite a classy group with Traps and Bass Fiddle, were practising a number that should have a snappy drum roll or solo by Arch Dillon.

We came to the place of the roll and there was complete silence. We looked at Arch and he yelled "ME" at the top of his voice and it more or less busted up the rehearsal. But what fun!

A. Wm. Dakin was a singing teacher and was one of the old time tuning fork men. Tonic Sol Fa was taught in one of the school rooms I was in. In the early 1900's Paul Yates had a male chorus of about forty voices and later when a new pipe organ was installed in the Baptist Church, Mr. Alfred Boden trained and conducted the combined choirs of the town and vicinity in the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's Messiah and also another number "The Heavens are Telling". The first genuine pipe organ was put in Trinity Church about 1800. Now I believe there were two more in town.

I can remember the names of three bands of the old days. The Digby Brass Band, The Citizens Band and the last The Digby Concert Band.

From what I gather I would think that the Digby Brass Band was organized early in 1850. The directors are here listed in about the order they came along. Hopkins, Jean McBride, Fred Rice, Geo. Chisholm, Talbot, Corrierson, Paul Yates, McAvoy, Fritz Dakin, David Daley and that brings us to the end of our bands except for the attempt to have a High School Band. It would seem that the then powers that

DAYS BEYOND RECALL (October 1964)

I have been a thinkin' lately of days beyond recall. Of the social gatherings. At the village Temperance Hall.

Sometimes it was a concert. By girls and boys, oh, my! Where a pretty girl would threaten to devour some worms and die.

Sometimes the Women's Institute would present a humorous play.

Then all of us would wonder how the rafters up did stay.

Oh, yes, there were the pie socials. Where you paid your money down.

For a great plateful of pastry. With the nicest girl in town.

And at the time of Halloween, That's when we had the fun. When you wouldn't know your neighbour.

From the way his face was done.

My, yes, I do remember, When election day came 'round. How we would joke and all shake hands. With good broad backs to pound.

And now I'll just stop thinking. Of days beyond recall.

be were not interested in the High School Band although a retired pensioned navy man could have been hired, to teach and conduct, at a very moderate salary. With his pension and outside pupils he would have a comfortable living.

When we disbanded an appraisal was made of the property and at the then retail prices it came to over $3000.00. A small balance of money and all the instruments have been turned over to the Digby Fire Co. Band Comm.

From our bands went Jamie Dillon, solo trombonist in Guy Lombardo's Band and Robert Weir, whom I have been told, was considered one of the best bass players in Canada.

During the period that Talbot was conducting we had a fifteen piece concert orchestra and it came in for quite a bit of praise from some of our tourists friends.

In the old days many houses had the melodians and Sunday night sing songs were very common.

Going back to Bands, I found an old photo of a twenty five piece band we took to Yarmouth for some sort of celebration. Everyone seemed to enjoy the band concerts from the bandstand in Digby in the summer evenings. Some of the City Fathers thought the amount they paid for the concerts as too much or not necessary. One of them told me he thought we were having the fun of playing and should play for nothing. He did not

To Purchase Recreation Equipment

John Outhouse, Tiverton, presided over the first meeting of the Home and School of the season held in the Islands Consolidated School, Freeport. A sing-song with Mrs. Bertha Ruggles as pianist, preceded the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Gwen Outhouse.

Mr. Bradford Finigan, supervisor of schools and principal of Islands Consolidated School, introduced the four new teachers who joined the staff this year: Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kenny, of Amherst, and Mr. R. Pringle, teachers of the elementary school, and Miss S. Banks, teacher in the consolidated school.

During the business session of the meeting Mr. Raymond Thurber said as he recently drove past the elementary school one noon hour during a heavy rainstorm, he observed youngsters who apparently had nothing else to do but stand beneath the eaves of the building where they got soaking wet, while others whose clothing was also unsuitable for such weather were playing about. He suggested the purchasing of games suitable to play inside on rainy, wet days. Mrs. Ruggles suggested there might be parents whose children have outgrown their puzzles, games, etc., who might be willing to donate them to the school. Mr. Thurber and Sidney Hooper were assigned the duties of the "Indoor Games Project."

Mr. Finigan suggested the amount of twenty-three dollars which had been raised last year for the purchasing of playground equipment for the elementary school should be used immediately to purchase volley balls or soccer balls or basket balls. He was appointed to select and purchase the equipment.

The following were officially installed to their offices by Mr. Finigan; president, Mr. Gordon Kenny; vice-president, Mrs. Maude Powell; secretary, Mrs. Gwen Outhouse (re-elected); treasurer, Mrs. Rowena Small; program convener, Mrs. Bertha Ruggles; social convener, Mrs. Bertha Titus.

In addressing the group Mr. Finigan stressed the necessity of parents cooperating with the teachers in fulfilling the objectives set forth by the Home & School Association. The speaker suggested the feasibility of a panel consisting of several parents and teachers who could discuss what could be done to assist the school.

Following the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

Fritz Dakin

PLAY is child's work

Give a youngster something to play with and, if it arouses his interest, whammo! he's lost.

All his efforts are bent on solving its secrets, making it go, building it up or knocking it down.

Usually he's dead serious about it... as he should be—because what looks like play to you is work to him! Thought-provoking, energy-burning work that you, the parent, can help maintain by seeing that he enjoys a good balanced diet.

Naturally we hope that his diet will include plenty of Ben's BUTTERMILK BREAD... a wonderful source of food energy.

Ben's BUTTERMILK BREAD tastes good too!

About This and That

No Separatism In Maritimes

It was, indeed, heartening to hear a man of the calibre of Hon. Louis J. Robichaud, Premier of New Brunswick, and himself of French descent, come out so strongly last week against the separatist movement which has been getting such headway and into the news from the province of Quebec. The premier in no uncertain terms denounced separatism of any kind in Canada and held up New Brunswick as an example of harmonious relationships between English and French speaking residents. When denouncing separatism the premier was speaking before an audience of weekly newspaper people in New Brunswick.

Premier Robichaud, one could easily detect, was proud and justly proud of his province situated geographically so near to the troublesome Quebec in the matter of separatism, whose people of two distinct origins could work and live in such harmony in the one province of New Brunswick. We were proud, too, to be living so near to the Province of New Brunswick where harmony between the two nationalities reigns so supreme. What we found difficult to do was to sit through Premier Robichaud's address without interrupting to say that the same harmony and accord reigns in Nova Scotia and particularly do we know of its existence in Digby County. Here, too, the people are as one, even though they are of English and French extraction. Our minds reverted to Dr. Hector Pothier, member of the Nova Scotia Legislature from Clare when he ended his maiden speech in the House with the words "Dieu protege la Reine Elizabeth et Vive le Canada dans sa Confederation" (God protect Queen Elizabeth and long live Canada in her Confederation). He pledged, at that time, that the French-Acadians would keep vigil and suppress any extreme views which could lead to racial conflicts and isolationism. His remark at the time was that the French Acadians of Nova Scotia can trace their direct descendants to 150 families from Brittany, France, but those advocates of separatism in Quebec came from "the Lord knows what part of France." Dr. Pothier, like Premier Robichaud, said that divisive influences at work spreading false doctrines and seeking to engender racial hatred are to be deplored.

More recently, too, Nova Scotia Provincial Secretary, Gerald Doucet, publicly deplored the actions of the extremist Quebec group, stating that the views held by these persons are certainly not those held by the majority of the population in that province. He proudly proclaimed in a recent speech "I am an Acadian of French origin who is pleased with his fate . . . the Acadians of the Maritimes are happy with and have faith in Canada."

Here we have three influential and highly respected men, along with others in the Maritimes, standing out against separatism. Their influence on the province of Quebec with its geographical nearness cannot help but be felt. So long as we have such men in the Maritimes to stand for the good, we need not worry about the impact of Quebec separatism on our provinces here, nor will separatism become uncontrolled in the province of Quebec. We conclude with Premier Robichaud, "There is no place in Canada for English or French separatists. None of them is going to get anywhere."

May the friendly co-existence of our two great origins of French and English continue and grow in the Maritimes and especially in our own Digby County. Instead of division, as in Quebec, here the ties seem to become greater and greater. May it always be thus.

Quiet Hallowe'en Because Of Lions

Digby saw a quiet Hallowe'en in 1964, with little if any damage done by the youngsters. Much credit for this can be given to the Digby Lions Club which kept hundreds of youngsters off the streets and into the Lions Club Hall on Queen Street instead. Here games, fun, music and treats were provided and each and every one had to admit to more fun than by swarming the streets looking for mischief.

For so many years Hallowe'eners had the idea that it couldn't be Hallowe'en unless tricks and sometimes outright contemplated damage was included in their so-called fun. The program by the Lions Club does much to get away from such an idea and the children of Digby now and their children of the future will learn that there can be fun on Hallowe'en without tricks, and damage. We commend the Lions and the town police in keeping Digby free from any excessive Hallowe'en damage.

A goodly number of youngsters, sometimes accompanied by the oldsters for chaperones, made the rounds from house to house, but all were polite and went on their way as soon as they had received their treat (which by the way was certainly not demanding in measure). The ages of the children varied from two years, or under, to sixteen or more. For the life of us we cannot see exposing a crying two-year-old or under to a house-to-house visit for treats, no matter how much the adults might like to have the goodies for themselves. Certainly a scared half-frozen child isn't getting any fun out of Hallowe'en and it would be better off in its snugly warm bed. We think in some cases a poor little youngster is dragged or carried along as an excuse to satisfy the wishes of the oldsters in the Hallowe'en game. This seems to be the only complaint we can lodge against Hallowe'en in Digby in 1964.

Again, we commend the Lions in their preventive program.

Another Story

After we had completed our editorial on the quiet Hallowe'en in Digby, we discovered other places did not fare so well as did our little town.

From our correspondent at Little River, Mrs. Wilfred Trask, we heard that on Hallowe'en night the spooks and witches did quite a bit of damage at Little River. The correspondent says that other adjoining communities came in the village and assisted in destroying the fishermen's lobster traps and fish houses. They destroyed outside lights at the Collins Store and the post office, and railings were torn from bridges. The correspondent asks, "Where is our protection from people who are out to destroy?" She continues, "Where will this lead? Soon civilized people will not dare to walk out on the street on Hallowe'en if there isn't a stop put to this haired."

Elected Regional Vice-president

Mrs. Trask writes that there is no more clean fun on Hallowe'en, and says that everyone should answer the question, "What does Hallowe'en mean? Otherwise," she says, "it should be erased from the calendar and allowed no more." Her closing statement suggests that there should be an RCMP in every village on Hallowe'en.

Again the Courier commends the Digby Lions Club and any other such clubs or organizations which provide entertainment and fun to keep children from mischief on Hallowe'en night. Some of the villages might take a pattern from Digby town and also provide a medium through which youthful energy can be spent on Hallowe'en.

Where To Protest

We are glad to know that the proposed curtailment of DAR services in the Annapolis Valley has been postponed at least until a hearing by the Board of Transport Commissioners is held. Along with others, we believe the M.P. for Digby-Annapolis-Kings, George Nowlan, placed the cause of the Annapolis Valley in this regard before the proper authorities.

Which makes us wonder how many individual protests against the DAR curtailment of service went to the CPR as a private company instead of to the Board of Transport Commissioners, the proper place for such protests. Valley citizens were probably more incensed about the proposed curtailment than was generally known because they were not aware of the proper place to register their protests for immediate action.

Valley residents, including Digby County residents, are indeed grateful to Mr. Nowlan and others who have pleaded their case and have paved the way for the matter to be ironed out. Whatever decision is made from here on can be looked upon as an unbiased decision and with the most benefit for all concerned.

Our hope is that the Board of Transport Commissioners will find it feasible to keep the DAR in operation as now scheduled or with even greater convenience to the public, if that is possible.

Digby Goes To Boston

A part of Digby went to Boston this week in the form of a scrap book. The Digby Fire Department sent a scrap book of their year's activities to Boston in a Canada-wide competition. If neatness and attractiveness has anything to do with prize winning in this competition then Digby should come out on top and Robert Handsaker should get a hearty round of applause. It was Robert's handiwork which created the attractive 15x18 or more scrap book.

The contents of the scrap book certainly intimated that we have a lively and active town and one of the best pieces of tourist publicity we've seen go out of Digby for some time. Congratulations to Bob and to the Digby Fire Department. The Digby Fire Department is one organization in Digby town that can be depended upon to do an all-out and fine job on any project it undertakes — and their projects are not all fighting fires, though, that is their chief concern.

Editor Warned

The editor of The Digby Courier has been warned by letter that there will be an answer this week in the Kings County Record (Sussex, N. B.) to the Courier editorial last week "What Fabrication!" We simply can't wait for that Kings County Record to arrive! We confess, too, we are a bit afraid of what Editor Louis McKenna can write. Too bad there isn't a place here where all our readers might purchase a copy of this week's K.C.R. The Courier certainly won't promise to reprint the editorial. That is, not until after we've read it anyway! We have a feeling we might want to keep quiet. You don't get to be vice-president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association without a lot of grey matter and that is the position Louis now holds. He likely will use his brains and wit on this week's editorial.

You might like to know that Editor McKenna has a charming wife. With her by his side he'll make one of the best presidents C.W.N.A. has ever had — and we'll be able to boast about one of our Maritimers. And no fabrication about it either.

By the way, next week is a holiday — Remembrance Day. The Courier Editor could sleep all day just to make Louis' statement correct. But, it isn't worth it when life is so demanding on time.

Scouts Round Table

Scout Rambler

Centurian Rover Crew, of Cornwallis, visited the Scout Rambler Crew to attend a meeting at their den. They discussed on having sport competitions between the crews.

We were very happy to welcome Mrs. Wood, a District Commissioner for Cub Scouts in Vancouver, British Columbia, to our Pack meeting. We all hustled out to Hants Lake for a water roast. Through the course of the evening Mrs. Wood talked to us on some games, which were very well liked, and climaxed the meeting by presenting the following boys with their second star: Billy Wagner, Robert McCall, Gary Warren, Monroe Wilson, Barry Brown.

The following week the annoying boys, plus Clyde Harris, Roddie Ross, Ron, Ken, Bing made their last trip up to Seaside. We wish them the best of luck in their Seaside.

named Roxville, Mrs. Goward is the youngest daughter of the late Mary and George Ross. She has many relatives and friends in Canada from Nova Scotia to Saskatchewan and in the United States from Boston to California, all of whom remembered her on her birthday.

A birthday dinner party was given her by the Misses Marjorie Larkin and Florence Padlock, of Boston and Rossway, and Miss Anna MacKay, formerly of Sandy Cove, with whom she lives. One of the latest presents she received was a surprise visit from Mrs. Sadie Saunders and Mr. Oscar MacKay, niece and nephew, who flew from Sandy Cove, N. S., for the celebration.

Mrs. Goward is active and in good health and spirit. She has already knit five afghans

Parish W.A. Annual Meet

The Parish of Clements W.A. held their annual meeting at the home of Mrs. R. H. Waterman, Smith's Cove.

Reports from all committees showed progress in education, Spiritual Study, Little Helper's Groups, Dorcas Work, and the treasurer's report showed that all financial obligations for the year were met.

Mrs. C. R. Curry gave a report on the W.A. Deane Meeting, which was held in Middleton October 20th. Mrs. Curry stressed the following points — that the W.A. is the power-house of the church, and that we should shake off smugness and bring younger women into the W.A., we must be a bombardment group to meet the challenge of the rapidly changing times. She emphasized the need for prayer and Bible study, and that we must be salesmen of our faith. Mrs. Curry continued, quoting the presidents report from the Dominion Annual: "The history of nations as we know them is ending and we are faced with two temptations: 1. To escape into the grotto of the church, and the other, the new heresy, the religion of the material world and material things." Mrs. Curry continued that we must think upon these words and pray.

Election of officers took place. The following are the new officers and committees for 1965:

Honorary president, Mrs. R. H. Waterman, Smith's Cove; president, Mrs. W. H. Logan, Clementsport; vice-president, Mrs. Robert Potts, Clementsport; treasurer, Miss Evelyn Purdy, Deep Brook; secretary, Mrs. M. P. Gott, Smith's Cove. Committees: Little Helpers, Mrs. Valentine Robinson, Clementsport; E.C.D., Mrs. R. H. Waterman, Smith's Cove; Sick and Sympathy Committee, Mrs. C. R. Curry, Smith's Cove.

The meeting was presided over by the Rector, Rev. W. H. Logan.

Obituaries

George Albert Barnett

The village of Deep Brook was shocked on Sunday to hear of the death of George Albert Barnett, 53, at Camp Hill Hospital in Halifax where he had been a patient for little more than two weeks.

Born in Halifax he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barnett formerly of London, England.

During world War II he served over seas with the West Nova Scotia Regiment.

He was a member of the Deep Brook Baptist and a member of Digby branch No. 20 Royal Canadian Legion.

He is survived besides his wife, the former Blanch Barnes, one daughter Gaye and two sons, Edward and Thomas all at home.

His body rested at Jayne's Funeral home in Digby until Wednesday when funeral services were held in Deep Brook Baptist Church and interment was in Digby.

Recently Married

Above are Mr. and Mrs. Marie Hankinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Scott Hankinson, Weymouth. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. David Forgi, of Wallaceburg, Ont., where the bride and groom have taken up residence.

Mr. Bernard Marr

Word has been received by Mrs. Hantford Foster, North Range, of the sudden passing of her brother, Bernard Marr at his home in Mills, Mass., on October 28. He had returned home on October 24th following a two week visit with his sister and was apparently in good health. He was born in Bloomfield, Digby Co., in February 1882, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marr. At an early age he went to the United States where he has since resided. Surviving beside his sister, Mrs. Hantford Foster, are two daughters, Helen Marr and Mrs. Mary Diggins; three sons, Walter, Bernard and Frank, all residing in U. S.

The deceased loved to visit N. S. and always took advantage of every opportunity to be with his sister and family. Although not a member, he was a faithful supporter of the North Range Baptist Church, where at the communion service, on Sunday morning, a moment of silence was observed in his memory. His impromptu visits during the years will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

Ainsley Ellis

There passed away at Bridgetown, on October 25th, G. Ainsley Ellis, after a lengthy illness. He was 90 years of age.

Born at Victoria Beach, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ellis and except for the past year, which he spent in Bridgetown, he lived his entire life there.

He was unmarried and his only survivors are nephews and nieces. One sister (Laney) Mrs. Norman Apt. predeceased him many years ago.

The remains rested at Chisholm's Funeral Home in Granville Ferry until Tuesday, at 2:30 p.m., when they were brought to the United Baptist Church at Victoria Beach for burial. Hymns sung were "My Faith Looks Up To Thee" and "My Jesus I Love Thee." Rev. Archie MacLellan officiated. Interment was in the family lot in the Victoria Beach cemetery.

Fish Catches Down

Fishing on the offshore banks was somewhat below normal the week of October 18-24 as trawler skippers reported fish to be scarce in most fishing areas. While catches appeared to be down on the whole, some fishing ports reported fairly good catches.

At Digby inshore scallop druggers averaged three trips each and catches ranging from 200 pounds to 800 pounds of shucked scallop meat per trip. The drop-off in catches was offset in a price boost from 48 cents to 50 cent a pound. Ground fish druggers landed about 30,000 pounds of mixed fish in Digby during the week.

Small druggers operating out of Tiverton reported low daily catches which ranged from a low of 400 pounds to a high of 3,700. Larger druggers fared better with catches ranging from 22,000 pounds to 37,000 pounds a trip. Scallopers landing at Meteghan had catches from 7,000 pounds to 16,000 pounds. Skippers reported that scallops were becoming hard to find on Georges Bank. Groundfish landings by seven druggers at Lunenburg totalled 730,000 pounds. As was the case in Meteghan, Lunenburg scallop captains reported scallops scarce on Georges Bank. Some of the Lunenburg scallop druggers have shifted operations to St. Pierre Bank.

Even Cemeteries Not Immune

Even the cemeteries are not immune to the onslaughts of spooks and witches on Halloween night. The Little River correspondent, Mrs. Wilfred Trask, reports fishermen's lobster traps and fish houses damaged, railings taken from bridges, post office and community hall and contents damaged, railing ripped off the church vestry, and commercial store lights destroyed. "And they even tore the inscription from the cemetery gate" was Mrs. Trask's postscript.

Observe 50th

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cline, Campbell Island, N. B., celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their home on Monday, November 2.

hence rly 10. Regarding the scallop in ll it co the R istry itself, Vic says "When Wesalong here's lots of scallops - we 5 ro lands callop. And when there isn't le Ettak; the fish drag."

the pbeginn The method used in detect- essed iame ofng scallop beds seems much Herseye at Ceike a game of chance. Vic says, "We let the drags down . . . tow for ten or fifteen minutes, and then we haul up." Once a good bed is located, it's a very easy matter to come back again for a recatch, like the other fishermen. Vic times himself from the minute they leave shore.

The scallop beds usually measure nine miles wide by "only a fisherman knows" long. One very good bed, the Snowground, is located four miles off the Digby gut, measuring fourteen miles long and twelve miles wide. However, the bed in Westport where Vic is now scalloping measures nine miles wide, and so far no one has discovered just how long. It must be a terrific bed, for Vic quoted his "fastest catch as 3,510 pounds in 33 hours while on the General Biggar, and they are beating that now in the newly discovered Westport bed. The largest catches per trip are approximately 5,000 pounds, while 500 is the meaneast.

Having once located a good scallop bed, the crew continually keep lifting the drags as the nets fill up, and dumping the catch into the boat. The crew shock as many scallops as they have time for, putting the remainder into the hold to be shocked later on the way home or in port.

The scallops are enclosed between two very hardy shells, fan shaped with rounded tops, ranging anywhere from five to seven inches across. The salmon coloured outer part of the shell forms a rainbowed effect, fades into a very delicate salmon pink around the outer edges. Like the actual scallop the shell on the inside is a very snowy white, touched with a light lavender. The scallops are removed, or "shocked" with a case knife reconditioned by the fishermen for this particular use. The average fisherman can shock an eight quart pail of scallops in forty-hake which were taken ashore to be pickled or dried. This was long before scallop dragging was ever heard of and today hake is extinct. Over the years, Vic captured several boats owned by others, but it was not until he purchased his own, "The General Biggar", that Vic really felt the feel of the wheel.

Vic is a very good captain indeed, and really knows his fishing, for in 1960 he piloted the boat Canadian to Ceylon where he taught the natives Canadian methods of fishing under the Colombo plan.

While in Ceylon, Vic received word that the General Biggar had run ashore and was damaged beyond repair; therefore, when he returned to Digby a year later, he had "Dale and Heather" built, the boat which he now operates.

Vic makes his own nets from steel wire and washers. It is this net, cast overboard, attached to the rakes, commonly called "drags" which rake or drag the scallops into the net. The drags consist of seven rakes on a drag bar which all go overboard at the same time. This entire gear is attached by a cable to the hoist.

On board, Vic, like other scallopers, has a crew of six men. One to tend the hoist, two to handle the drags and remainting three to do the shock- ing. Vic implied that more hands could be used with the present catches being what they are.

When the scallopers reach the home pier in Digby usually nine or ten o'clock in the evening, on the wharf above await the numerous fish buyers, therefore, there is no problem to sell your catch. Vic sells his regularly to Lewis Fisheries, a local fish plant where the scallops are fresh frozen, packed and shipped to various parts of Canada, U.S.A. and Great Britain. The furthest shipping point so far for Vic's catch has been Honolulu.

Through his 56 years at sea, Vic has earned an unrepentable reputation of having never had an accident aboard, no fires and no men injured or lost overboard, but he has also earned another worthier reputation . . . that of always helping those in distress. The first occasion arose in 1942 when Vic rescued four men off the Freda and Blanche, which burned to a total loss in the Bay of Fundy. Another episode occurred when Kathy and Paul was in danger of sinking, Vic rushed to their aid, taking the crew aboard, calling the lifeboat and then towed the sinking ship filled with water until the lifeboat arrived.

Ordinarily, most fishermen have very little occasion to associate with royalty, but not so for Vic. Through his dedicated association with the sea, Vic and his family have been presented to royalty. The occasion being Victor's son, Victor Junior, who was chosen with ten other sea-cadets from entire Canada to represent Canada when the Queen was on tour in Sydney, Australia. For Vic Jr., this included a four months voyage on board the S. S. Ontario to New Zealand and Australia.

The amazing part of Vic's story is that it seems as though the "call of the sea" must run very thickly in Vic's family, for Vic has eight sons who are all connected with the fishing industry and the sea. Arthur, the eldest captain, a pilot boat in Saint John, N.B., Carol is employed on the Princess of Acadia, Wiley fishes in the West Coast waters, Merle and Grant fish from Digby, Wellington is aboard the Dale and Heather with Vic, and Victor Jr., who once operated the Bay Bird from Digby, is now a fisheries inspector in Halifax. Dale the youngest, is employed packing scallops at Lewis Fisheries, Digby awaiting to become of age so that he may join the navy. Heather, Vic's only daughter squeezed into the picture by being namesake for the boat Vic now operates. Is it not strange, Vic's father was a fisherman, his only uncle ran a fishing schooner out of Digby to Gloucester, and Vic's only brother, LeRoy, scallops from Westport?

When asked if he had his life to live over would he still be a fisherman, Vic smiling, replied, "It's a hard life, but a good one, it's the happiest like a man can have if he really likes it. You come and go as you please, you're your own boss . . . and best of all . . . you enjoy it." Mrs. Halliday seems to agree as she comments, "It's as hard a life for the wife as for the fisherman, all hours and all times, and yet you get used to it. There are hard times and good times. It's a lot of worry, but I wouldn't want him to change . . . if he was anything but a fisherman . . . he wouldn't be the same person."

When just one son sees his dad performing his life's work in contentment and follows his footsteps, what have we to say but, "You're right, Vic!" when all eight sons follow the footsteps of Dad? Little probably did Vic's father realize what a great contribution he was making to the fishing industry by taking Vic to sea with him. That this wee lad of eleven would be the link in a generation of fishermen!

"Loose Talk" Says Nowlan

Hon. George Nowlan has accused the Liberal government of fostering "loose talk" about a breakdown in the machinery of Parliament, as an excuse for the Government's weakness and its "terrible record of incompetence."

Mr. Nowlan was principal speaker at a Progressive Conservative nominating convention for Waterloo South, held in Galt, Ontario.

"In the past it has always been a proper constitutional practice to hold the Government accountable for a paralysis and lack of direction in the country, but today the Liberals have succeeded in blaming Parliament as an institution," Mr. Nowlan said.

The cry had been taken up by the news media and "parroted by every Liberal apologist in the country."

Mr. Nowlan, a veteran of 16 years in the House of Commons, said that the present Parliament is "no better and no worse" than previous Parliaments. When the Government had brought forward clear cut, worthwhile legislation, Parliament had acted quickly and decisively, as exemplified by the decision to send troops to Cyprus, certain amendments to Export Credits legislation, and the Columbia River Treaty.

"The confusion over the first Liberal budget, the retreats on the Canada Pension Plan, the difficulties with the provinces over the Municipal Loan Fund and the Youth Allowances Bill, the omissions in the Student Loan legislation, the bad timing and policy connotations on the flag issue — the Government was responsible for all these problems, not Parliament," Mr. Nowlan said.

"It is not Parliament that has failed, but the Government has failed Parliament and failed the Canadian people."

Mr. Nowlan said that the Government's economic record as outlined by Finance Minister Gordon was based on three concepts: special incentives to manufacturing, special consideration for slow growth areas, and efforts to alleviate seasonal unemployment — all of which originated with the former Conservative administration. Much of the Government legislation in this field was merely an extension of what had been placed on the statute books between 1957 and 1963.

Mr. Nowlan was "concerned" that the Government would not bring in positive programs of its own geared to meet current economic conditions and take advantage of an improved economic climate to lay foundations for long term growth.

"It is time that the Government put aside its preoccupation with tokens and slogans and began to plan in earnest for the future, instead of hoping that the good programs initiated by the Conservatives will carry the country along indefinitely," he said.

The by-election November 9th will provide opportunity for voters to flash an "amber light" of warning to the Government.

The Wayfarer Writes From New Brunswick

Fred I. Withers of Oromocto N.B., who spent the past several years in the United Church ministry in the Weymouth area, writes to the Courier.

Mr. Withers, while in Nova Scotia, had many articles published in the Courier, using the pen name "The Wayfarer". His articles, entitled "Where Does That Road Go?" and "Thoughts..." have enjoyed a number of favorable comments.

"Here in New Brunswick we also find many roads which lead to strange places and rugged country," Mr. Withers tells the Courier. "But at this time we are lead to write not so much of roads, but of the river crossings, most of which are not by bridges. Indeed, there of Boston, Mass., have returned home after spending the past week with his sister, Mrs. Waters Comeau and Mr. Comeau. Mr. Robbins was called home due to the death of his father, the late Mr. Wilfred Robbins. Mrs. Wilfred Robbins is a patient in the Digby General Hospital.

are few bridges on the lower Saint John and its branches, for the river and its branches are quite wide."

Mr. Withers describes a number of the ferry crossings. The first proceeding upriver from Saint John, is at Millville. Here a double-ended ferry boat carrying about fifteen vehicles, crosses the wide Kenebecasis to Summerville in about twenty minutes, he writes. "Summerville is on the Kingston Peninsula, a lovely rugged rural area". Other ferries run to the peninsula from Westfield and Gondola Point. "The above two ferries, like a third one that plies with occasional traffic from the mainland to Perry's Point, are stout little craft with no propellers or rudders."

Mr. Withers said, "Instead, two stout cables run from shore to shore, and come storm, or wind, or tempest nothing can stop the little boats arriving precisely at the appointed landing place. There are no less than six such ferries between Saint John and Fredericton."

"It is in Fredericton that we see bridges. The Princess Margaret, a huge bridge, was erected in conjunction with the Trans Canada Highway". None of the ferries are toll ferries, Mr. Withers said.

Observe Book Week

Members of the Bear River Women's Institute and a number of guests were taken on a pleasant journey to "The Wonderful Land of Books" during the regular monthly meeting at Oakdene Hall on November 2nd. Their guides were eleven small pupils of Oakdene School, who told in story and song of the many wonderful things to be found there. The little people also welcomed to their "land" twelve pupils of Oakdene school who had written book reports as part of Canada Book Week assignments. The quality, and the variety in content, and style of writing were excellent, and listeners agreed with the "Queen" when she announced that since judging was such a difficult task they should each receive a prize (a book of course!).

A short business session was chaired by Mrs. A. Riley, and routine matters attended to. After this meeting adjourned, the teaching staff of Oakdene School were hostesses at an enjoyable social hour, during which refreshments were served.

Witnesses Meet At Annapolis

About 60 delegates from Bear River, Digby, Centerville and Weymouth Congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses expect to attend the semi-annual convention to be held at the Annapolis Royal High School on November 6, 7, 8. Mr. Harold McLaren, presiding minister of the Digby Congregation, said in conversation last night, that the purpose of the convention is two-fold — to further the education of the witnesses in ministry work and to gain instruction on behaviour that will be in harmony with right Bible principles. The convention will be under the direction of Mr. Levi Hall, District Supervisor, and Mr. Stanley
Green, Circuit Supervisor.

The convention will open Friday evening at 6:45 with songs and experiences. At 7:00 p.m. Mr. Wall will deliver the address of welcome. Many young men and women who are sharing in the ministry work of Jehovah's Witnesses gram, and also will share in caring for all the different duties performed to make the convention a success. These will include: Harold McLaren,

W. Holmes, George Laevens,
Alex Terleski, Edward Jarvis,
George Jarvis Jr.

The highlight of the sessions on Saturday will be the showing of the two hour film, "Proclaiming Everlasting Good News Around The World."
This picture is not a fiction story. It is filmed in actual settings and takes the viewer on a tour around the world in company with a group of 583 persons whose purpose was to demonstrate everywhere the unity that can exist among peoples of all nations, when their interest is centered primarily in the worship of God.
This film was recently shown to an audience of 1,610 in Montreal, Quebec.

The program Sunday will be highlighted by the public lecture at 3:00 p.m. The topic to be discussed is "Our Divided World — It Is Here To Stay?"
Mr. David Walker, presiding Minister at Annapolis Royal, who is host to all those attending, is extending an invitation to all persons interested in the Bible to attend one or all the

Veterans March To St. Patrick's Church

Veterans formed up at the old air force barracks on Maiden Lane Sunday for the annual Remembrance Day church parade. This year the group marched to St. Patrick's Church for high mass at 11 a.m. The service was attended by about forty veterans, Legion members and their wives.

In his remarks Father David Stokes said it is most fitting to pay tribute to the war dead through a religious service. These people practised virtue of patriotism to an heroic degree, he said. This should serve as an example as to how we should serve our country. Father Stokes urged his congregation to pray that the war dead receive mercy on the day of judgment in view of their heroic patriotism. He also urged all men to pray that such cruel things as wars should never happen again.

Father Stokes quoted portions of the Old Testament, stating that wars are a punishment for our sins. He said that if we live each day for God then we will live each day at peace with ourselves, our families, and our neighbours.

Garden Club Had Busy Year

The annual meeting of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society was held at the home of the President R. K. Beckwith.

It was a difficult year for the organization due to indecisiveness on the part of both the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian Government on establishing proper docking facilities for the Princess of Acadia and as it affected the Cannon Bank garden sponsored by the society. In spite of this, efforts were centred on maintaining the beautification projects - Gardens on the Cannon Bank, the Old Loyalist Cemetery, and the Hanging Baskets.

One new project was undertaken the planting of trees around the town. In all, 28 trees were planted and all seem to be flourishing except the 6 copper beeches, which will need to be replaced.

For maintenance and the new project the group spent over $450.00. Except for the Department of Trade and Industry grant of $100 and the Department of Agriculture Grant of $15, and donations from interested citizens and groups, all moneys to cover expenditures were raised by the organization.

The club, assisted by the Hill-N-Dale Garden Club, entertained the District Meeting of the Nova Scotia Association of Garden Clubs in May; cooperated with both the Hill-N-Dale Garden Club and the Champlain Garden Club for the Rose Show held in Annapolis Royal in July; and sponsored one of their most successful Flower Shows in August.

A number of interesting educational programs were presented by the committee in charge, headed by Miss Marjorie Tupper. Films, slides, quizzes and contests were featured.

The club has 52 members, 8 of which are only summer visitors to the area.

Although there has been some subtle sabotage this year, the damage has been much less than in previous years.

The various committees were very energetic, carrying out their duties with efficiency and dispatch.

The report of the nominating committee was presented, adopted, and accepted without further nominations. The officers elected for the ensuing year were:

Plan Church Extension

At a meeting of members of the Baptist Church of Digby held last Sunday morning following the worship service, a report of the Board of Trustees was presented to the church. Based on a request from the Christian Youth Council and recommended to the Board of Trustees by the Church's Planning Committee, the report, given by Hubert Warne, chairman of the Board, asked that the vacant lot that now exists between the church hall and the main building, approximately 30 x 9 feet, be built in to provide more class rooms and youth facilities. The report was unanimously approved.

The service in the Baptist Church next Sunday will be centered around the theme of Baptist work in the Maritimes and its world-wide outreach. Rev. L. R. Atkinson will be the guest preacher for this occasion.

The Baptist Youth Fellowship of Digby will meet again next Sunday night in the church hall. Meetings of the Fellowship were renewed at a recent meeting of the young people when Carol Young was appointed President and Doreen Atkinson as Secretary-Treasurer.

Honors Mrs. Curtis Porter

The WMS of the Hill Grove United Baptist Church held its November meeting at the home of Mrs. Curtis Porter on Tuesday evening, November 3rd, with fifteen members and eleven visitors present.

The meeting, with Mrs. Vernon Jones, president, presiding, opened with the theme song "From Greenland's Icy Mountains", followed by all repeating the Missionary Covenant, and prayer by Mrs. William Franklin. Mrs. Jones, assisted by Mrs. Roy Warner, conducted the devotional part of the meeting, using as her subject "The Christian As A Homemaker". Mrs. Harold Marshall read a poem, "Thank God For Home".

Mrs. Curtis Porter was then taken completely by surprise when she was asked to stand and receive a Dominion Life Membership in the Women's Missionary Society of the United Baptist Church. Mrs. Byron MacNeil read the Presentation Charge, Mrs. William Franklin presented the certificate and Mrs. John Milner presented the Life Membership Pin, which was pinned on Mrs. Porter by her daughter, Mrs. Marjorie Tibbets, of Bear River, who spoke of her mother's Christian service in the home life of her family. Mrs. Porter responded with words of thanks and appreciation for the honor bestowed upon her. Mrs. Lloyd MacNeill and Mrs. William Roope then sang a duet, "Near To The Heart Of God".

The business session and roll call followed, each member responding to her name with a Bible verse or short poem containing the word "home".

The meeting closed with singing "God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again" and benediction by Rev. H. S. Hartlin. Refreshments were served by several members of the society, including a decorated Life Membership Cake, presented by Mrs. Porter's son, Mr. Earl Porter.

Mrs. Porter is the fifth member for this society to be presented a Dominion Life Membership, the others being the late Mrs. Joseph Vincent, Mrs. Byron MacNeil, Mrs. John Milner and Mrs. Duncan MacKay.

Thurston Banks Wins Grand Champ In Chinchilla Judging

Plan Hospital Donation Day

An unusually successful rummage sale was held at the Lions Club Hall recently by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Digby General Hospital. The net proceeds from this sale amounted to $191.80. Mrs. Clayton Snow, convener of the committee in charge, was assisted by Mrs. Sidney Smith, Mrs. D. G. Black, Mrs. Grace Hicks, and Mrs. Louis E. McAnson. The profitable venture was reported by the convener of the committee at the regular November meeting of the organization.

The President of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Ina Dillon, conveyed the sincere thanks and grateful appreciation of the Digby General Hospital Board to the members for their magnificent efforts in raising money for the new Digby General Hospital. She expressed the hope that the $17,000 previously contributed may be added to such an extent as to make the total contribution $25,000.

November 20 was named as Hospital Donation Day and collectors for the door-to-door canvass appointed. Arrangements were made for collections in all the outside areas.

A demonstration of the new smoking machine was given by Mrs. Marie Collins and Mrs. Frances Hodgson, and refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Paul Winchester, and her co-hostesses.

Gun Discharges Accidentally

Young Thomas Mullen Jr., 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mullen, New Tusket had the misfortune to have his gun accidentally discharge and shoot through the two middle toes of one of his feet. He is a patient at the Digby General Hospital. It is thought the gun cocked as he crossed over a fence and shortly afterward it went off.

Flashback - 1912

Nearly 300,000 lbs. of fresh fish were landed at Digby one week in March, 1912, as follows: Schr, Loran B. Snow, Capt. Ansel Snow, with 98,000 lbs.; schr. Albert J. Lutz, Capt. John Apt, with 70,000 lbs. and schr. Dorothy M. Smart, Capt. Arthur Longmire, with over 100,000 lbs. of haddock besides several thousand pounds of mixed fish. These vessels secured their fares on Brown's Banks and sold to Digby's wholesalers fish firms at 2 1/2 cts. per pound. It was thought by many that Capt. Harry Ross' big fares would be hard to beat, but Capt. Arthur Longmire's first trip in the Dorothy M. Smart, the result of eight days' fishing stocked $2,700, the biggest fare ever landed by this high line craft. The crew shared $77.00 or $7.70 per day.

It is said that Capt. Ansel Snow smashed the record of the Digby fleet for one day's fishing, when with two dories, and four men short, his vessel caught 60,000 pounds.

Receive Awards

Mr. Banks won first and second prize in Light Color Juniors; third prize in Light Color Seniors; first, second and third in Medium Color Juniors; third in Medium Color Seniors; first, second and third in Dark Color Seniors. He was also awarded ribbons for Light Color Champion; Medium Color Champion; Reserve Light Color Champion; Reserve Medium Color Champion and Grand Champion of the show.

Mr. and Mrs. Banks started their chinchilla ranch in 1959. They won their first ribbon in 1962, and since that time have won 38, including those last week from the Atlantic Winter Fair.

Mrs. Banks told the Courier that she cared for the ranch while her husband attended the fair. During the week an animal which was having difficulty in giving birth, was rushed to Middleton to a veterinary, she said.

Wouldn't Leave Deer

Billy Garden and Reginald Robicheau, who are attending the N. S. School of Technology, Halifax, were at their homes in Plympton for the weekend.

On Saturday they went on a hunting trip at the Branch, near Doucetteville. They parted in the woods and when it was time to return home Reginald couldn't locate his partner and came home, fearing he was lost.

A search party set out, but after dark gave up until morning. Later in the evening Eric and Clifton Amaro decided to go back and after calling and firing shots, got a reply and worked their way in to find Billy safe and sound, sitting by a fire and proudly viewing a deer he had shot.

Billy, after getting the deer, was not able to make himself heard and decided to stay with it until daylight.

About This and That

Young Canada Book Week

This year Young Canada's Book Week which is celebrated November 15-22, is emphasizing the increasing importance of children's reading. This is a special week sponsored by the Canadian Association of Children's Librarians. In recognition of the week we give you the message from Dr. John B. MacDonald, President of the University of British Columbia, especially written for the week. He writes—

"When I think of books I think of Clarence Day, who wrote 'Life With Father'. His view of books was wonderful.

The world of books

Is the most remarkable creation of man.

Nothing else that he builds ever lasts

Monuments fall

Nations perish

Civilizations grow old and die out

And after an era of darkness

New races build others.

But in the world of books are volumes

That have seen this happen again and again,

And yet live on,

Still young

Still telling men's hearts

Of the hearts of men centuries dead.

Wars have been fought over books, men have burned at the stake along with their books. Some people in North America work overtime at banning books. A catalogue of forbidden volumes would have some surprises in it, such as Alice in Wonderland being condemned at one time in Japan.

But what is needed in this equation to endow books with the power to move mountains or the power to change history? A reader! Perhaps just one reader, or alternately, millions of readers. In a single instance — Michael Faraday in England in the last century. Faraday, a book-binder's apprentice with little formal education, was a prodigious reader, despite warnings not to waste his time on the contents but to attend only to the covering of the volumes with leather. History does not record how trimly and solidly he bound the books entrusted to him, but his later discoveries in electricity and chemistry are what we live by today.

I think also about the Wright Brothers and the significant role one particular book played in their lives. They happened to have in their home an English translation of "Animal Motion" by Professor Marey, of Paris. Marey had been a pioneer in the study of birds' wings and their curvature in flight, and is still known for some of the medical research instruments which he invented. How did this particular book get into this particular home? We only know that the Wright Brothers studied it until they knew every page. At all events, it was an important factor in an invention that helped to create the world of aviation and to change the course of history itself.

Just as surely, however, the failure to read books will change history, — for the worse. A generation of children raised without books would not be a lost generation but a dangerous generation. Children robbed of books can be children robbed of their birthright.

In a world where the work week is ever-shortening, and where leisure presents an ever-broadening opportunity, adults need books to keep them sane. Only if they have come to know the pleasure inherent in good books in childhood, are they likely to turn to them for refreshment, inspiration and enjoyment in adult life. Therefore, during Young Canada's Book Week, let us rededicate ourselves to opening new doors to the world of books for all children in this country."

Health Dept. To Assist In Providing Drugs

The Health Department will assist in the provision of certain drugs for the prevention and treatment of mental illness. Health Minister R. A. Donahoe has announced.

Beginning November 1, such drugs will be available to those patients attending hospital or clinic out-patients having a gross family income of $3,600 or less.

The drugs will be provided on a sliding scale, from actual cost to free distribution, depending on income.

To be eligible patients must be registered as out-patients in certain hospitals and clinics.

The hospitals include the psychiatric out-patient departments of the Victoria General Hospital, Nova Scotia Hospital, and Community Mental Health Clinics throughout the province. No special application is necessary — the patient applies in person at the out-patient department he selects.

All patients on medication must be seen at regular intervals by the staff of the out-patient department in order to check on treatment progress before receiving additional or continuing medication.

The program is being initiated as part of the mental health program throughout the province in order to assist those with low income.

This new policy will supplement the present policy of the Health Department: in providing tranquilizing drugs to approved Municipal Mental Hospitals.

4,773 Cars Enter Via Digby

Trade and Industry Minister W. S. K. Jones has announced that the 1964 tourist season had proven to be a record for the number of tourists entering Nova Scotia.

As of September 15 two weeks before the season ended, the number of cars coming to the province was greater than the total number during the June 1 to September 30 period last year.

Although final figures for 1964 could not be tabulated for another two weeks, figures released by the Nova Scotia Travel Bureau for the June 1 to September 15 period showed that a total of 182,144 tourist cars entered the province during that period. The total figure for the entire June 1 to September 30 period last year was 181,610 cars.

Last year, the 181,000 cars brought more than 611,000 tourists into Nova Scotia. The remaining 110,871 visitors came by other means of transportation to set a record of more than 752,000 tourists for the year. During the current year, figures for the number of motor cars entering the province during June, July and August were up an estimated 82 per cent over the same period in 1963.

The largest number of cars entered the province at Amherst. The figure for June, July and August this year was 111,517 cars, compared with 100,476 for the same period last year.

A 23 per cent increase occurred in traffic from Newfoundland to North Sydney on the car-passenger ferry William Carson. The figure jumped from 2,268 cars in the first three months of 1963 to 2,799 for the same period this year. The total number of cars entering Nova Scotia at other entry points from June 1 to August 31 this year are: Tiddville, 15,846; Digby, 4,733; Yarmouth, 9,782.

The number of Canadian cars entering Nova Scotia continued to increase this year. A total of 111,519 cars from other provinces came to the province during June, July and August, compared with 101,951 during

I make lists. I don't stop at ordinary lists, like shopping lists, and laundry lists, as other people do. I make long and complicated lists. I make lists of my lists. I have note books filled with lists. Every time I find a blank scrap of paper, I save it to write a list on some day.

I have lists of my clothes, summer and winter. I have lists of the children's clothes. I have lists of the clothes I would like to have, the color schemes, and the stores where I intend to buy them. My grocery lists are complicated arrangements, made up with the aid of a half dozen cook books, and last week's grocery list.

I list the books I have read, and those I would like to read. I list all the work which has to be done in the house, and who I would like to invite to tea next week. I have a list of pictures I would like to paint, and pictures I would like to take, and a monthly check list which asks me if I learned anything new this month, made three pieces of clothing for myself, and some for the kids, as well as did I have a dinner party, and visit five people uninvited. There are fifty-two items on that particular list.

I have a list of subjects I would like to take courses in, and a list of subjects for this column. I have a time table of jobs to be done around the house. I am very sensitive about my lists. They are literally a part of me. If something happens to one of them, if one gets lost, it is like breaking a limb. I am very secretive about them too. Whenever anyone finds one, I jump to its rescue, grab it from the list-nabber's hand, and tuck it away where it will be safe. The worst thing is to have one of my lists laughed at. I admit they must be pretty hilarious to those of you who are not addicted to such things, but whenever anyone laughs at one of these missives I feel as if some particularly vulnerable part of my ego were exposed to the whole rude world.

The list which has probably been laughed at the most, or used the most as an illustration of how foolish my mania is, was the one dearest to my heart, my fifty year plan. When I made that, at about eighteen, it was made with due ceremony, and earnestness. I meant every bit of it. I fully intended for it to be the governing factor of my life, until that span had been lived out. Somehow, I got married a couple of years later, and somehow, that good man I married discovered my precious list. Needless to say, my marrying at all voided the whole thing. I never could go on to do those grand things, or go to those grand places in our state of wedded poverty. One or the other of us threw out the list. If it was me, it was because its having been discovered robbed it of a good deal of its magic, but I still remember it with a quiet tenderness which no mere grocery list, or list of things I should have done this month will ever attain.

My greatest listing task to date has been an attempt to index what I figure could be close to ten thousand recipes I have in this house, in cookbooks, scrapbooks, and just clipped from newspapers. I think I have finished about one-tenth of that monumental work. It is great fun for a person like me with a filing cabinet mind. The object of the task is that when I finish, I should be instantly able to lay my hands on any recipe, and that I should be able to get around to cooking everything sometime. Another fifty year plan, maybe?

It is ten-thirty p.m. I am sitting in my filthy kitchen. Mrs. Fowlie is going to scrub the floor tomorrow. I do not know who will clean that smudge off the refrigerator door. Smudge-cleaning is not on any of my lists, so there is a good chance it will never be done. Guess I'll have to make up a new list for tomorrow —

First item, coffee with you at ten.

"ITALIA" STEREO BY ELECTROHOME

Whoever would guess that this is a stereo hi-fi console? Luxurious hardwood sweeps across the front, unbroken by conventional, wide speaker openings. The answer is, of course, in Electrohome's most recent engineering triumph... Electrosonic Sound!

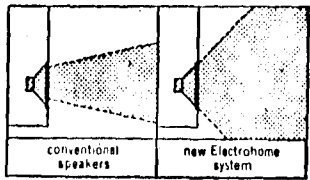

This is a totally new concept in speaker systems that eliminates the need for wide grille openings, yet achieves higher standards of rich, deep musical sound than ever before possible.

Here, too, is perfected solid state circuitry resulting from 4 years of intensive research and field testing.

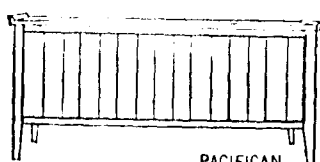

Special diffusers (an Electrohome exclusive) broaden the sound pattern emerging from the high frequency speakers. Mid-range speakers produce tones of unparalleled purity, while Electrohome-designed bass speakers "fire" downwards.

Add this new breakthrough in stereo performance to other Electrohome features: FM Stereo Selectomatic switch... four gang tuner... Permatron solid state voltage regulator... and you'll readily understand why Electrohome steadfastly maintains its position as Canada's recognized leader in stereo hi-fi.

Tiverton

A drama club, the first of its kind on the island, has been organized under the direction and supervision of high school teacher, Miss Sharon Banks at the Island's Consolidated School at Freeport.

Miss Banks said the club has several objectives. "It is designed to help the pupils speak effectively and fluently before an audience; develop their imaginations to a greater degree; teach them proper parliamentary procedure and develop them socially. They learn a bit of all these at each meeting.

The program features students present in skits on stage. The students are divided into groups and each group prepare and develops its own skit. "This develops a basic acting ability, and prepares the way for the production of plays, and also brings out the pupils' imagination," Miss Banks pointed out.

To learn the proper parliamentary procedure of organization, a business meeting is held before each evening's program is presented.

Miss Banks and the students have chosen a play and selected its cast for a Christmas program. Other events are also included in the program.

The club, consisting of a membership of forty-five is comprised of both boys and girls though there is a small percentage of boys. Miss Banks explained, "Membership in the club is entirely voluntary, no one is forced to join and any member may leave the club if he or she desires.

The following slate of officers have been appointed: president, Joyce Nichols of Central Grove; vice-president, Linda Finigan, and secretary, Ruth Perry both of Freeport, and Pamela Outhouse, treasurer, of Tiverton.

Miss Banks, native of Clarence, N. S., is a graduate of Nova Scotia Teacher's College at Truro, where, for two years she was a member of the drama club, one of which she was president of the club. This is her first year of teaching.

FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS

Girl Feels She Is "Courtin'" Trouble

By C. D. Smith

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "Do all teenagers have serious problems? I believe I am in love with a boy older than myself, yet wonder if it isn't just a physical attraction. We want, both of us, to further our education, but all he talks about is love and getting married, — love now, marriage later. I have been sneaking out to meet him, telling lies to my parents, who have been so good to me. He has even suggested I come and visit him when he is in another city. My better self tells me I am "courtin'" trouble. And, wonder if I am too weak to use good judgment. He thinks his suggestions are all right as far as modern morals are concerned."

OUR REPLY: He wants you to think his suggestions are "all right." He knows better and so do you. Each individual sets his own concept of moral behavior. Your problem is not unique. You are, indeed, "courtin'" trouble. And, each time you "sneak out," tell a lie, or do something with which your conscience does not agree, you are paying another installment on future trouble and disappointment.

"Modern morals" is a meaningless phrase. Right is right; wrong is wrong. It has been so since the beginning of time. The individual who breaks the law and gets caught, is certain to be punished for this offense. He may present what he considers a valid excuse when he has his day in court, yet the circumstances are not likely to be so extenuating that the judge will overlook the fact that the law has been broken and that he is required to pass sentence upon the offender.

You have good judgment. Use it.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUB-URBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORD, KY.

Wear Blaze Orange

Hunting accidents in Nova Scotia in the last 10 years have killed 31 and wounded 317 persons.

Many of these accident victims were mistaken for game says Lloyd S. Hawboldt, director of the Lands and Forests Department extension division which has sponsored safe hunting campaigns since 1952.

"Although the color of a hunter's clothing is not a guarantee, the right color might prevent a marksman from mistaking another person for a game animal," Mr. Hawboldt said.

"Optical and defence experts have proved that red is not adequately visible in the poor light conditions under which hunters often seek their quarry."

"Yellow can easily be mistaken for white by anyone at certain distances — a mistake which could prove fatal in white-tail deer country."

"Daylight fluorescent orange, commonly referred to as blaze orange has been tested by conservation personnel and has proved to be the best color to wear to avoid being mistaken for a deer. It has also proved to be the color most visible to the other hunters."

"Legislation has been passed in the State of Massachusetts making it mandatory to wear at least 200 square inches of blaze orange material around the head and shoulders."

Greater Care Facilities For Aged

Need for improved housing for the aged and long-term care facilities for the aged physically ill in Nova Scotia was urged in a brief presented to a Senate Committee by Welfare Minister James M. Harding.

The sixty-page report, which outlines findings of a four-man committee set up in May to study problems of the aged and aging in the province, says Nova Scotia's needs are acute.

The brief calls for careful review by the federal government of the proposed Canada Pension Plan and for amendments to the present Unemployment Insurance Act.

The son of the late Mr. William and Ann Slauenwhite Warner.

Mr. Warner is survived by three sons, Lawrence of Moncton, W. Carl of Seven Islands, Quebec; Eldon of Ottawa, and one sister, Mrs. J. C. Nowell, of Greenwood, Massachusetts. He is also survived by seven grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Funeral service was held from Weymouth Funeral Home Saturday afternoon at 2:30 with Rev. Wood officiating. Interment was in the Barton cemetery.

Jessie Wanamaker

The death of Mrs. Jessie E. Wanamaker, widow of Ralph Wanamaker, occurred Sun. at her residence, Nauwigewauk, Kings Co., N. B. Before her marriage she was a resident of Digby, being the former Jessie DeVoe. She was a daughter of the late Hubert and Henrietta (Hill) DeVoe, and lived the greater part of her life in Nauwigewauk. She was active in work for the church and for the British and Foreign Bible Society.

Surviving are one son, Harold, Nauwigewauk; one sister, Mrs. Percy Henderson, Darling's Island; and one brother, Leigh DeVoe, Saint John; five grandchildren, five great grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held in the Nauwigewauk Christian Church with interment in the Hampton Rural Cemetery.

Correction — In last week's obituary of Mr. Bernard Marr it was erroneously reported that deceased was not a member of the North Range Baptist Church, this should have read — he was a non-resident member. The correspondent apologizes for this error.

Payroll Savings Organizers

James C. Morrow

Donald G. Campbell

Two prominent Halifax investment representatives have been named organizers of the payroll division of Canada Savings Bonds for the Nova Scotia division.

Mr. James C. Morrow, of G. E. Leslie & Co. Halifax, has been associated with Canada Savings Bonds campaigns for many years. He is the senior organizer of the payroll savings division and is personally conducting a tour of commu-cial and industrial establishments in the Annapolis Valley, Yarmouth, South Shore and Halifax Dartmouth areas.

Mr. Donald G. Campbell, of Cornell, Macgillivray Limited, is the organizer for Northern Nova Scotia, Cape Breton, as well as Halifax Dartmouth. Mr. Campbell is a native of Weymouth, N. S., and is a veteran of the Royal Canadian Air Force and was a prisoner of war after being listed missing in action.

employment Assistance Act. Both should be reconsidered from a regional basis with a view to providing Nova Scotia with more equitable cost shared public assistance programs. Present application of the Unemployment Assistance Act in Nova Scotia, the report states, works "a hardship on provincial programs, not only for the aged, but for all needy persons."

The report also calls for increased income tax exemptions and tax assessment concessions for the aged, involving all levels of government.

A continuing education program designed to acquaint the public with problems facing the aging, and the services now available to meet their needs is urged. The program would serve to create public understanding and public acceptance of the aging and their requirements.

The report calls for voluntary organizations and groups to "become more concerned about the aged and work more actively with local welfare councils in a systematic approach towards the solution of the problems of the aged."

The brief, which deals in detail with the historical, economic and sociological problems of the aged and aging in Nova Scotia was prepared by Special Committee on Aging secretary, Mary Lou Courtney.

During the period of the study, briefs were presented to the committee by 16 organizations and levels of government across the province.

Miss Courtney and deputy welfare minister F. R. MacKinnon accompanied Welfare Minister Harding to Ottawa to present the province's submissions to the Hon. David Croll, chairman of the Senate Committee set up to study the problems of the aged and aging in Canada.

is child's work

Give a youngster something to play with and, if it arouses his interest, whammo! he's lost.

All his efforts are bent on solving its secrets, making it go, building it up or knocking it down.

Usually he's dead serious about it...as he should be—because what looks like play to you is work to him! Thought-provoking, energy-burning work that you, the parent, can help maintain by seeing that he enjoys a good balanced diet.

Naturally we hope that his diet will include plenty of Ben's BUTTERMILK BREAD... a wonderful source of food energy.

Minor Hockey To Begin Saturday, November 21

The Digby Regional High School's Minor Hockey League begins its eleventh year of play on Saturday at 8 a.m.

The League was founded eleven years ago by Wally Hodgson and Joseph Campbell, one time member of the High School staff and now a lecturer at St. Francis Xavier University.

Through the years the league was under the direct administration of the Regional High School staff and under the active patronage of the Superintendent of Schools, Mr. F. C. Purdy.

The league began eleven years ago with two leagues of four teams consisting of 96 players. Now the league has five leagues with twenty teams and 260 registered players.

In the beginning, all the coaching, officiating and managing was done by the High School students themselves. In recent years, interested adults have been taken into the league to actively coach the senior teams and administer the various farm systems. Such interested adults are Mr. Bill McLeod, Mr. Tommy Wood, Mr. H. McPherson, Mr. R. Morgan and Mr. Donald Brown.

This year, in the administration of the league, Mr. Hodgson is joined by Mr. Graham McPherson, of the Regional High School staff, replacing Arnold MacCallum, who was active in high school hockey for a number of years.

On Monday the draft of the Flyweight, Paperweight and Pee Wee leagues was conducted.

On Tuesday, the draft of the Bantam and Midget leagues was conducted, the draft being as follows:

Each team is allowed to place on its protected list five players. All the other players go into the pool. They are chosen by the coaches on the basis of the last place team having first choice, and the first place team of the previous season having last choice.

Each year the league closes with a banquet, at which the various crests and trophies of the league are presented by a visiting hockey dignitary.

The Regional High School and Mr. Wally Hodgson are to be commended for their providing organized hockey for the youth of our area, so consistently and for such a long time.

Digby Known Man On Expedition

Fred Joyce, head laboratory technician at HMCS Stadacona, Halifax, accompanied the Scientific Medical Research Expedition to Easter Island in the South Pacific. The expedition left on Monday morning. Mr. Joyce, who married Betty Dakin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Dakin, Digby, relieved as technician at the Digby General Hospital last summer during his holidays and is well known here.

Dr. Stanley C. Skornya, a McGill University professor of medical research, heads the expedition of 24 scientists (made up of Canadians, Swedish, Americans and English) which will study all the physical factors affecting the people of the island. History, blood groups, physical, mental and social patterns of the inhabitants will be studied and the effects of modern diseases such as common colds, influenza, cancer and others which afflict the civilized peoples, will be ascertained.

The expedition, lasting two months, will allow the medical members a chance to assemble their data on tens of thousands of IBM cards which will be fed through the computers at McGill and Toronto universities when the expedition returns home.

The cost of the medical expedition, approximately $500,000, has been gathered from many sources. The World Health Organization and the Medical Research Council of Canada are two of the prime financial motivators.

The Canadian Navy is providing the transportation with the use of the vessel HMCS Cape Scott — the Navy repair ship which will be used to ferry the researchers from Halifax to Easter Island, set up the scientific equipment and return to Easter Island in February after a goodwill tour of South Pacific ports to bring the scientists home.

The main objective of the expedition is to assemble a biological, sociological and genetic portrait of the island's inhabitants before civilization arrives on the island next year. The Chilian government, owners of the island, expect to build an airstrip, which will make the island a central stop-off place in the South Pacific.

Gifts which the party will take along include sewing machines, stone-carving tools, razor blades, cosmetics and a small music library of "Easter Island" music including a recording of native chants that Dr. Skornya borrowed from a Norwegian sea captain who visited the island many years ago.

A study of the children of the island will be made by Dr. Helen Reid, a Toronto pediatrician.

Dr. Reid, who plans to establish a rapport with the native island women by giving them "home permanents," says she plans to study the child-rearing customs and patterns of the women of the island.

Local Quartette Active Again

This Sunday they will provide special music at the evening service at Yarmouth North Baptist Church, and on November 29 at services at Baptist Churches in Plymouth in the afternoon and Port Maitland in the evening.

The quartette is composed of Wallace Hodgson, first tenor; Donald Brown, second tenor; Paul Snow, baritone; and Jack Brittain, bass.

Make Plans Giant Radio Convention In Digby In 1965

Charles E. Haliburton, president, was in the chair for the November meeting of the Digby Board of Trade, held Tuesday evening, November 10.

Keith Lake and Harold Surte addressed the meeting on behalf of the Annapolis Basin Amateur Radio Club. Mr. Lake said the club is making plans to host a gigantic convention of Nova Scotia radio operators with guests from the other Atlantic Provinces, Quebec, Ontario, and the New England States. Last year's convention was held in Charlottetown. He said the group plans to meet in Digby next Labor Day week end and that more than 500 people are expected to attend.

Possibly a good percentage of this number will make a vacation out of the trip, coming a few days before the meeting and staying after it is over. Mr. Lake said. He told the group that an effort will be made to secure the Pines Hotel for the weekend. If this can be done, most of the accommodation troubles will be solved, he stated. It was mentioned that the Pine can accommodate 300 people.

The club came before the trade board for support and backing in their effort. Mr. Lake said. "We don't mean that the board should contribute funds, but since the 500 people visiting Digby at that time will undoubtedly benefit the town at a time in the tourist season when their trade will be most appreciated, we feel sure the board will endorse the venture as a step in (Please turn to page 10)

Strawberries And Cream

There is nothing unusual about having strawberries and cream for dessert at any time of the year with cold storage in common use. What is unusual is the fact that the editor's dessert on Monday was picked from a garden in Barton on the same morning.

C. E. Lambertson, Barton, wasn't stingy with his gift either. A whole quart of just picked large fresh red strawberries were brought to the Courier and we expect there were more in the garden. In fact, Mr. Lambertson said there were a lot of unripened berries.

Marigolds and nasturtiums are growing like in the month of July, added Mr. Lambertson.

Out in Smith's Cove, Mrs. Helena Comeau reports hollyhocks and bachelor buttons blooming in the snow on Wednesday.

Also on November 16, Mrs. Douglas Andrews, Rossway, picked clover in full bloom, pecking through the snow.

(A) The first speaker, May Harrington, brought up the fact that in a totalitarian government the people were always informed what to do and what to believe, whereas in a democracy the people enjoy such privileges as freedom of speech, the right to vote, and many others. President Lincoln once said that a democracy was a government of the people, by the people and for the people.

(N) The second speaker, Bruce Surette, stated that in early times people could govern themselves the way they wished and that it was only by force that the Magna Carta (1215) was signed by King John.

(A) The next speaker, Richard VanTassel, stated that democracy abolishes all laws concerning harmful tribal customs and also that democracy has continued to rise and not lessen since the Middle Ages, and through the Bible we have obtained the freedoms we enjoy today.

many parties in a democratic government to begin with and that as a result of these, the wishes of all the people could not be satisfied. For example — in a democratic caucus the information and decisions are not even divulged to the public, let alone meeting the acceptance of all.

Personable Girl 'Failure' With Boys

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I have a problem. All my girl friends say I have a wonderful personality and am liked by many girls. But it just happens that I'm a failure with the boys. I've tried everything, including just being 'myself', but it just doesn't work. I'm not bad looking, or so I am told. I am good at many things—but not too good. Every time I try to excel at something, someone is always there to do it better. This makes me feel like a failure along with everything else. What can I do?"

OUR REPLY: Very few people in this world are "experts" and, often those who excel in some particular activity are below par in others. But, happiness is where you find it. The champion pole vaulter isn't the least bit concerned about the fact he will never excel at bowling or tennis.

If you want to "excel" at something, you will have to work at it, put forth some real effort. Before you put all your eggs in one basket, however, you should really be certain that this is the most important thing of all. Ask yourself if you aren't rather fortunate in being somewhat proficient in a number of things.

If you are fairly good looking and have a good personality, we don't see how you can possibly be a "failure" with the boys—unless you have already convinced yourself that you are. Maybe you don't give the boys a chance to prove you are wrong.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observer to make address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

Baptist Youth Elects Slate

Denominational Sunday was observed in the Baptist churches of Digby and Hill Grove at the services held last Sunday. Rev. L. R. Atkinson was guest preacher at both services and gave a graphic picture of the various enterprises sponsored and supported by the churches of the Atlantic Convention. He pointed out that the budget of the Convention for 1965 amounts to nearly a half million dollars and spent for Overseas and Home Missions, Christian Education, Evangelism, Social Service and Relief purposes where needed. He appealed to the Baptist people to do their best in supporting these worthy causes.

At the meeting of the Baptist Youth Fellowship held on Sunday evening the following officers were appointed: President, Carolyn Hendsbee; Vice-President, Carol Young; Secretary, Doreen Atkinson; Treasurer, Lina Baxter. The pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, led the young people in a discussion of the topic, "Young People in Today's World". The next meeting of the Fellowship will be held on December 6th.

At a meeting of the Christian Youth Council of the Digby church, held on Sunday evening, dates for the CGIT Christmas Vesper Service were set for December 20th, and for the Sunday School Christmas Concert on December 27th.

Home & School Features Panel

The Islands Consolidated Home and School at Freeport on Monday night featured a panel on its program for the evening. Moderator for the panel was B. Finigan, supervisor of schools, and taking part were Mrs. Delta Hooper, Freeport; Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby; and Clifton Outhouse, Tiverton.

When introducing the panel, Mr. Finigan mentioned the drastic changes which had taken place in the world which have brought about greater stress on education. Some years ago for instance, he said, a Grade VII or VIII education was considered enough for the fishermen of Freeport. Today, he said, automation takes the place of labor and a greater education is needed by everybody. He mentioned also rapid strides in scientific and medical progress which makes the world a better place in which to live. In his closing remarks, he mentioned the time he spent during the summer at commercial fishing and agreed that the fishing job was easier than teaching five hours a day.

Mrs. Hooper, speaking for the school said that the school expects the students to prepare work and study at home to some extent, it expects that supplementary materials will be provided as aids to the student in his school work, the school expects students to be interested to the extent of having a questioning mind. Mrs. Hooper also questioned whether we were making school too easy for the student and referred to other nations where students are expected to absorb so much more than Canadian children are expected to absorb in a given time. Mrs. Hooper stressed the attitude of the parent toward the child's homework as being important and asked that proper guidance along this line be given. She emphasized that the area between school and parent is very close.

Mr. Outhouse spoke on what the parent expects from the school. He stressed fullest co-operation between home, school and student. He looked for devotion and sincerity in the teacher, with the best interest of the child at heart. On this score he complimented the Islands teachers. Mr. Outhouse said that teachers must keep abreast of the times, they must assess each child individually in order to make the most of a child's life. He stressed discipline but also encouragement and felt that if a child is lagging in school then that child's parents should be informed. Mr. Outhouse felt as far as homework was concerned it should be balanced in regard to each day and in regard to each teacher's work. He mentioned that he would like to see students better prepared to enter university so that there would be fewer failures in the university student's first year.

Mrs. Wallis was asked to give her views on what business expects the school and the home to have done for the student entering the business world. In a jovial mood, but also with a note of seriousness attached, Mrs. Wallis said that if automation continues to take over we will soon expect to have all students prepared how to spend leisure time. But, as far as the present time is concerned the foremost requisite is a good sound basic education she said. She emphasized education particularly in this day of automation and scientific research. Mrs. Wallis mentioned the subject of spelling as one specific place in which the schools had let the business world down for a number of years. This was especially noticed in the newspaper business where spelling was important to not only the front office staff but also to operators of some machines and proof readers. While not from specific curriculum, Mrs. Wallis felt that from example and casual everyday teaching a student should be prepared in honesty, reliability, trustworthiness, co-operation and adaptiveness. She mentioned other requirements which are necessary to any business such as accuracy, loyalty, friendliness, etc. Mrs. Wallis complimented the schools of today in fostering a spirit of co-operation through their sports program and said that in many cases in business a co-operative spirit of one employee with other employees was worth more than efficiency. All too often, she mentioned, one uncooperative person can hinder the best efficiencies of the other employees.

Mrs. Wallis also felt that a very thin line exists between the work of the school and the home. They should be in complete accord, she said, or one can undo the good of the other in preparing a student for the general things which are required of anyone entering business.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. Kinney, teacher, who had been newly elected president. Business discussions centred around the purchasing of codliver oil capsules, song sheets, balls for school purposes and curtains for the auditorium stages. Plans were made to hold a social evening on Saturday to raise money for the curtains.

Remembrance Day At Smith's Cove

Remembrance Day Service was held in Smith's Cove at the United Baptist Church. The minister Rev. Mr. Marshall conducted the service and Rev. Mr. Asaph of the United Church of Canada delivered the address. Members of the Baptist Church choir were in attendance and Rev. Mr. Marshall sang "Lest We Forget".

Rev. Mr. Asaph took as his theme a passage from Genesis 13:8, "And Abram said unto Lot, Let there be no strife, I pray thee, between me and thee". He pointed out that Abram who was unselfish and fixed his eyes upon the mountains and God, attained a great reward, while Lot who was filled with selfishness and greed reached his final end in the sin and degradation of Sodom. He stressed that only by putting aside our own selfishness and greed, and fixing our eyes upon the higher things of God, can we hope to bring about the ultimate peace for which those we now honor, fought and died.

After the Service veterans, Cecil Raymond and Arthur Berry, placed a wreath from the Government of Nova Scotia and another from the Canadian Legion in Bear River in front of the monument in the Women's Institute Memorial Park. O Canada, a prayer by Rev. Mr. Marshall, God Save the Queen and Benediction by Rev. Mr. Asaph closed the service.

Don't Believe What You Think You See!

Winter scene? No. These children with snowshoes are playing with mountains of persistent suds which are playing many of our rivers and streams today. These suds result from the inability of present-day synthetic detergents to decompose. In addition to destroying the natural beauty of the countryside, their appearance in drinking water is even more disturbing. Fortunately however, Culligan, a leading firm in the water conditioning field, is solving the detergent pollution problem in several ways. The firm recently introduced a filter which removes objectionable suds from household water supplies and is marketing a line of washing and cleaning products which are readily decomposed by nature to help solve the over-all problem. Water softening equipment also helps solve the problem. Much less detergent is needed in softened water, and natural soap can be used in place of a synthetic detergent with better washing results.

Bell Bequest Permanent Endowment

The five million dollar bequest made to Mount Allison University by the late Marjorie Young Bell, wife of the University's Chancellor, Dr. Ralph P. Bell, is to be permanently maintained as an endowment and used to promote the University's programme of excellence. It has been announced.

According to the terms of Mrs. Bell's will, the University receives approximately five million dollars, and ultimately will receive a further million dollars (together with some accumulated interest) from a trust fund established for another purpose. Rather than giving specific inflexible directions, the will provides that the money shall be expended as directed by Dr. Ralph Bell and his brother, Dr. Winthrop Bell; and after full discussion with the Executive of the Board, directions have been given which are wholly acceptable to the Board.

One direction is that one quarter of the annual income is to be added to the capital of the fund in order that the capital sum of the endowment will gradually increase over the years. Amounts not to exceed in cumulative total one and a quarter million dollars may be expended on capital projects approved by Dr. Bell, but any such capital expenditure from the fund is to be repaid either from money raised by the University or from the income of the fund.

It has been agreed that the Board may use income from the trust to increase the capital of the "Marjorie Young Bell Fund" (already over half a million dollars) by an amount not to exceed $100,000 in any three-year period, beginning in 1970. This fund was established by Mrs. Bell in 1953 to encourage and assist faculty members to pursue studies or scholarly work on leave and to attend and participate in research conferences and meetings of learned societies. A most enlightened gift, it was the first of her major benefactions to the University. In 1958 she made a gift of $850,000 toward the construction of the University's fine new Athletic Centre.

In commenting on the bequest and on decisions regarding its use, the President of the University, Dr. L. H. Cragg, expressed deep appreciation not only of the munificence of Mrs. Bell's bequest but of the freedom from restrictions in the use of it. "A University is, of course, always grateful for a generous gift, but is especially so when it has freedom to use it where and when the need is greatest." Because of the bequest, the University has already been able to move ahead more rapidly with much-needed building projects. The President was delighted that a way had been found to do this and still keep the bequest in the endowment fund.

Where Universities — and especially private Universities like Mount Allison — find it hardest to obtain adequate support is for year by year operating expenses, to meet the rising costs of providing quality education at the University level. It is tremendously en-

Cigarettes And Cancer

As far as evidence is concerned, it's official now, with the imprimatur of the United States Government, "Cigarette smoking is a health hazard of sufficient importance in the United States to warrant appropriate remedial action."

The nation's cigarette makers have recently agreed to an advertising code that ads will "not represent that cigarette smoking is essential to social prominence, distinction or success." Banned by the code also are testimonials from athletes, celebrities, or any one "who might have special appeal to persons under 21." The code also bans the free samples of cigarettes to any one under 21, and the promotion of smoking on school or college campuses, including advertising. These companies represented by the Tobacco Institute have appointed an administrator to enforce the code.

State and local school officials are urging the reactivation of teaching of legally required courses dealing with the dangers of cigarette smoking, and parents' organizations are urging school boards to begin these classes at the fourth and fifth grade levels on the hazards of smoking cigarettes, to keep the habit from developing among pupils in future years.

Students are heading up campaigns to obtain voluntary "no-smoking" pledges from their fellow class mates.

The National Association of Broadcasters has joined the mounting attack on the cigarette commercials designed to recruit new smokers among the country's youth. Early this year the broadcasting industry group adopted 2 amendments to its code of ethics which is endorsed by most of the major television stations in the United States.

1. "Care should be exercised so that cigarette smoking will not be depicted in a manner to impress the youth of our country as a desirable habit worthy of imitation."

2. "The advertising of cigarettes should not be presented in a manner to convey the impression that cigarette smoking promotes health or is important to the personal development of the youth of this country."

Additionally, the Defense Department, seeking to discourage smoking by military personnel, announced that it would ban free distribution of cigarettes in its 479 Air Force, Army, Navy, and Marine Corps hospitals and clinics. The department also announced that it would establish an educational program to point out smoking hazards to the 2.7 million men and women in the Armed Services.

Further, the Veterans Administration has prohibited the distribution of cigarettes and smoking tobacco in its 168 hospitals and domiciles. (Union Signal)

Rossway

Rossway Ladies Hold Meeting The Rossway Womens Club met in the hall last Wednesday afternoon for their regular monthly meeting with eleven in attendance. Two quilts were in the frames so everyone was busily engaged in quilting.

During the business period the sum of forty dollars was passed over to the secretary-treasurer to the hall. This makes ninety dollars that the club members have passed over to the hall treasury during the present year. Most of the money comes from quilting quilts.

Plans were discussed and made regarding the filling and distribution of the Christmas boxes for the over 70 and shut-ins, also a Christmas party for the club was agreed on.

The annual hall meeting was held in the Rossway Community Hall on October 26. Plans were discussed for renovating the interior of the hall. One side of the roof was shingled during the early fall. The new trustee elected for the new 3 year term was George MacKay. The other two are Mr. Darrell Lewis and Mrs. Edison Specht, who are secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Allen d'Entremont reported that 83 per cent of the community attended the tuberculosis testing clinic recently held in the Rossway hall. This attendance she said was unusually good.

Mrs. E. C. Brewer of Tuckerton, N. J. has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Bertha Hutchins for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurston Banks spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Andrews in Springfield, Anna Co.

Mrs. Frank Ryan of Digby visited her sister, Mrs. Darrell Lewis on Wednesday last.

Mrs. Hugh Cook and two children of Yarmouth were Wednesday overnight visitors at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Peters.

How to change a cold attic into a comfortable bedroom

add ELECTRIC HEAT

If your furnace can't reach that cold spot in the attic (or anywhere else)—warm it up easily, economically, with an electric heating unit. Plain insulation won't solve the problem. Additional electric heat will—and without the necessity for costly duct work or perhaps installing a larger furnace! An electric heating unit is simple to install, economical to operate. Wide choice of thermostatically controlled models—radiant, convection, and fan-type—to suit both your heating requirements and the decor of your home. Cut out cold spots, and you cut down fuel costs. No more overheating the rest of the house, trying to warm cold basements, attics and bedrooms with your regular heating system. Added electric heat will turn those cold spots into extra living areas. Ask your electric heating contractor for details and costs. Or discuss it with your local electric utility office.

Clare Chamber Of Commerce Passes Wharf Resolution

The Clare Chamber of Commerce held a general meeting at the Municipal Court House Thursday evening with President Bernard LeBlanc of Bellevue's Cove, presiding. Special guests were Mr. Emmanuel Adelaar of Weymouth, president of the valley Affiliated Boards of Trade; Lloyd Hill, tourist director for the valley, and Allen Farmer of the Industrial Development Field of the Department of Trade and Industry of the province of Nova Scotia, who was guest speaker of the evening.

Mr. Farmer stressed the fact that tourism is an industry of great importance to the province of Nova Scotia with a total of approximately $55,000,000 while thirty percent are from the United States. The American's stay in the province is less than the Canadian, being an average of 5 days, stated Mr. Farmer, but he spent $18,000,000.

Mr. Farmer stated that he was pleased to know that the Clare Chamber of Commerce is planning to open an information bureau in the vicinity of Meteghan. This is a good choice, said he, because the majority of tourists enter the Yarmouth port from the U.S.A. and the Municipality of Clare, in Digby County, is on one of the main thoroughfare that the tourists take to visit the province. Mr. Farmer explained to the group how the Nova Scotia Tourist Bureau operated and gave many suggestions to the tourist committee of the work that should be done to prepare for next year's tourist trade.

Dr. Louis Thibodeau thanked Mr. Farmer for his talk.

Mr. Camille Gaudet, of Little Brook, and part-owner of St. Mary's Bay Industries Ltd., of Meteghan, who purchased the Meteghan Shipyards a few months ago, presented a petition on behalf of the fishermen of the Meteghan area, asking that the fishermen's wharf at Meteghan be repaired and extended. Due to the large number of sixty ft. and larger boats tying up at the Meteghan wharf in recent years, the smaller boats of the fishermen are obliged to tie up at the land end of the wharf. This prevents their boats from leaving the wharf except at high tide.

Mr. Gaudet explained that the fishermen's wharf should have an extension constructed at approximately an angle of forty-five degrees from the present wharf to protect the fishing boats from westerly and northerly gales. The main government wharf runs parallel to the fishermen's wharf and the extension proposed would form a safe harbour. The existing fishermen's wharf is not being used to any extent due to its condition of disrepair.

The Clare Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution asking the Department of Public Works to repair and extend the Meteghan Fishermen's wharf as per plan submitted to the Board by Mr. Gaudet on behalf of the fishermen of the area.

Mr. J. Medrie Comeau, president of the tourist committee, presented his report regarding the work being done for the establishing of a tourist bureau near the Provincial Picnic Park. The report was quite favorable and the committee will continue the work started to bring it to its termination in time for next year's tourist trade.

The Kiwanis Club held their regular meeting on Monday evening at which time Mrs. B. Erjavee showed movies on Madagascar, an island off the South East of Africa, where Dr. Erjavee was stationed for seven years. Her pictures showed an annual fair held of the province, Planarantsoa, held in the town of Thosy, which is carried on for two weeks. The natives walk as far as 60 or 100 miles to attend this. School children from the surrounding villages come, with clothing which they have made, and each school presents a demonstration. Each village presents its own music, its own dancers, a team of wrestlers and their own produce. En route to the fair, each person has his own raffia carpet, and cooking utensils and food.

Remembrance At Weymouth

Remembrance Day was observed in Weymouth, with the usual parade of Legionnaires and Cadets to the monument, where wreaths were placed and two minutes of silence observed. Col. Stanley Hallett gave a brief address urging the people to support the Union Jack, which has flown over our country for so many years. Richard Powers of St. Anne's College was bugler.

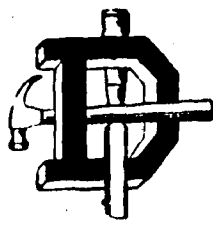

A service was held, following this, at the Legion Hall, with Cmr. Clare Ruggles in charge. Rev. Arthur Peters lead in a short devotional period and gave an address, in which he said that we must remember what the war dead gave their lives for that we have a free country, and by our right as citizens, we must keep it a free country by supporting civic activities and by voting whenever the opportunity arises.

Born in Wolfville in 1926, Mr. Rogers is the son of the late Norman MacLeod Rogers, Minister of Labour and Minister of National Defence in the Mackenzie King Government, and Frances Keirstead Rogers, formerly of Wolfville.

He received his early education in public and high schools in Ottawa and Kingston, Ont. He graduated from Queen's University with a Bachelor of Arts and is a graduate student of Dalhousie Law School, where he obtained his LL.B.

Mr. Rogers was admitted to the Bar of Nova Scotia in 1951 and practised law in Dartmouth and Halifax. He is a partner in the Halifax law firm of Palmer and Rogers.

He has been president of the Halifax Northwest Liberal Association since 1959 and as such played an important role in the federal election campaigns of 1962 and 1963 and the provincial contests held in 1960 and 1963.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, the former Anna Ruth Harris, of Weymouth, make their home in Bedford with their two sons and daughter.

MAKE PLANS

said. The radio operators have never held a convention in western Nova Scotia. Mr. Lake stressed the "hands across the border" effect of the convention, stating that there will be many operators attending from the New England area.

A resolution by C. D. Snow stated that the Amateur Radio Club should be welcomed to Digby, and that they should receive all possible assistance for arrangements for their proposed convention.

Mr. Hildburt announced that the annual meeting of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade will be held November 21 at the Cornwallis Inn, Kentville, and guest speakers will include the Hon. Charles M. Drury, Minister of Industry, Col. J. K. S. Mammel, president of the Maritime Provinces Board of Trade, and Mr. Dixon, executive manager, Maritime Transportation Commission; John Shaffner, Port Williams, and Bernardin Cornett, of Comeau's Sea Foods Ltd., Sault Ste. Marie.

The president announced that word from government officials says tenders will be called November 12 for dredging of Digby harbour. In speaking of new federal government regulations regarding fish processing plants, Keith Raymond told the group that the department of fisheries has allowed operators a longer period of time in which to meet the regulations. Included in the resolutions were: (1.) general highway improvements from Halifax to Yarmouth; (2.) erection of additional directional signs in the valley area to point out places of interest; (3.) urging continuation of D.A.R. passenger service through the Valley; (4.) urging the Travel Bureau of the Department of Trade and Industry to make a study of all salt water sport fishing available in the province and to give it more advertising space; (5.) Fundy Board of Trade urging the Provincial Government to conduct a survey of the importance of the crossing of Petite Passage with the thought that a more adequate means of crossing might be established, giving consideration to the possibility of the construction of a bridge.

At the annual meeting this Saturday the Digby Board will submit a resolution calling for an extra daily ferry crossing from Saint John to Digby during the summer months, either by the Princess of Acadia or by another boat. A letter was read from Acadia Lines Ltd., regarding bus service in the Annapolis Valley. In considering the proposed reduction in rail passenger service in the Valley, the letter pointed out reasons why the company believes they can supply as adequate a transportation system for Valley residents as that provided by the D.A.R.

Regional Vice-Pres. Addresses H. & S.

The November meeting of the Smith's Cove Home and School Association was held on November 10th at the school. The President, Miss Marie Morehouse, expressed her pleasure in seeing such a large number of parents present and welcomed all those who were attending for the first time, expressing her hope that they would return each month and give the association their much needed support.

Mrs. Alice Dunn, President of the Digby County Council, installed the following of officers for the year:

President, Miss Marie Morehouse; Secretary, Mrs. Roberta Potter; Ways & Means, Mrs. Alice Dunn; Programme, Mrs. Joyce Dunn; Membership, Mrs. Mary Warren; Adult Education, Mrs. Alice Dunn; Social, Mrs. Helena Comeau.

Other officers elected by the association but who were not present for the installation ceremony are: Vice-President, Mrs. Kay Young; Treasurer, Mrs. Pauline Robbins; Art, Mrs. Myrtle Adams.

After installing the officers Mrs. Dunn gave an inspiring talk on her reasons for being active in the Home and School Association and why all parents should take part in the associations.

The programme chairman, Mrs. James Dunn, introduced Mr. Walter Williams, Yarmouth, Regional Vice-President for Kings-Annapolis-Digby-Yarmouth, who gave an interesting and informative talk on the Aims of the Home and School Association. Mr. Williams said that parents should realize education, no matter what name is used in describing it, is of more importance to themselves than the children, for the children are now in the lead with the introduction of the new Math, the new Science and the Non-Graded Curriculum. He said we as Home and School must scan the material sent to us, read the important things, then act. By producing the proper type of programs and the correct use of common courtesy we could expect to have an active and profitable association.

A group discussion followed Mr. Williams' address. Those present parted into groups, discussed and answered a list of questions concerning what was expected from a Home and School Association and the good such an association can do for the children, the parents, and the community.

The pheasant was one of eight ten-week-old birds sent from Uplands Pheasantries in Ontario by the Canadian National to the Premier's Russell Ranch where it is hoped the pheasants will thrive, eventually becoming a new game species in the province.

Plan Teacher Exchange

Nova Scotia teachers have until Nov. 23 to apply for possible participation in the 1965 teacher exchange, S. E. MacKenzie of the Education Department said today.

Mr. MacKenzie, officer-in-charge of teacher exchange for the department, said the program is sponsored by the Canadian Education Association in co-operation with the Education Department.

It is aimed at improving the professional competence of teachers as well as contributing to national and international understanding.

An applicant must be at least 25 years of age and have at least five years successful years teaching experience. Teachers with a university degree may apply for exchange following three years of teaching experience.

Applications for exchange outside Canada are not accepted from communities with a population of less than 10,000, except for suburban areas and regional or consolidated schools with relatively large staffs.

Mr. MacKenzie, who is also supervisor of attendance with the Elementary and Secondary Education Division of the Education Department, said inquiries are received from 12-24 Nova Scotia teachers each year. About one-third of this number makes actual application.

The majority of the applicants wish exchange with the British Isles and this is not always possible.

"Nova Scotia teachers display an interest in offering themselves as candidates. The problem is the lack of the same display of interest in the United Kingdom," Mr. MacKenzie said.

The Canadian Education Association acts as the Canadian agency for arranging exchange among the Canadian provinces, and between Canada and the United Kingdom and Canada and the United States.

Application forms and additional information may be obtained from S. E. MacKenzie, officer-in-charge of teacher exchange, Department of Education, P. O. Box 578, Halifax, N. S.

Paris Welcome Symbol Is 75 Years Old

The Eiffel Tower, the sign and welcome symbol of Paris turns 75 this year. Designed by Alexandre Gustave Eiffel, the tower stands on the site of the International Exposition of 1889 which commemorated the centenary of the French Revolution.

Constructed by 300 Frenchmen, the tower is 984-feet tall and weighs 1,543,200 pounds. It was completed on March 31, 1889 and its cost was 5,600,000 gold francs. For 50 years it was the world's tallest structure.

Throughout its 75 years, the Eiffel Tower has kept friendly contact with the world. Since its opening in 1889, according to Air France, the Eiffel Tower has seen a parade of events which have included two World Wars, and great advances in science.

Today's visitors to Paris and the Eiffel Tower can enjoy the best of two worlds. Air France, the world's largest airline, underscores the fact that the City of Light is only hours from its North American gateways. Also that countless hotels with in sight of the Eiffel Tower offer true French atmosphere and comfort for about five dollars a day. Neighborhood restaurants serve meals for not more than three dollars.

In its 76th year, the Eiffel Tower remains a beacon of friendship and the Parisians, themselves, the city's greatest asset.

Weymouth Man Again Heads A.V.A.B.T.

Emanuel Adelaar

Emanuel Adelaar, of Weymouth, was on Saturday elected president of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade for the second consecutive year. The election was held at the annual meeting at the Cornwallis Inn, Kentville. Re-elected vice-president was Colin Stephens, Windsor, and Lloyd Hill, Middleton, will again be secretary-manager.

Guest speaker for the annual meeting was Hon. C. M. Drury, Federal Industry Minister. In addressing the Boards he said that while the Annapolis Valley has long been world famous for quality apples, not everyone is aware of the important industry that processes these same apples and other produce grown here. "The fact that this industry employs over 500 people annually, buys nearly four million dollars of fresh produce and pays over one million dollars in wages each year indicates its importance to the economy of the province and the country."

Mr. Drury said top quality dried apple slices and blueberries for pies, instant apple sauce and other quick-serving products have been developed which may have a far reaching effect on the processing of fruit and vegetables in the Annapolis Valley.

The department of industry is working with a Valley processing firm to try to solve the problem of disposal of apple pomace in connection with their processing of apple juice.

Canada and Nova Scotia are going to depend to an even greater extent upon those qualities of hard work, perseverance and initiative which if not exclusively a Maritime characteristic are nevertheless found in abundance here."

Among the resolutions endorsed were the need for a second summer crossing of the Bay of Fundy by the ferry Princess of Acadia or addition of a second passenger-auto vessel; adequate ferry crossings, causeway or bridge across the Passage, development of salt water sports fishing in the Bay of Fundy and in rivers and streams from Salmon River, Digby County, to Shubenacadie, Hants County.

Replacement of Victoria Bridge across Bear River with a causeway; an early start on a crossing of the Shubenacadie River in the Maitland, South Maitland and Princeport area were also supported by the delegates.

Also endorsed was a resolution for the constructing of an all-weather, heavy-duty main trunk highway between Bedford and Yarmouth via the Annapolis Valley.

The highway resolution called for a modern highway "to serve the economy of Western Nova Scotia 12 months of the year by the elimination of present long spring periods of road weight restrictions."

It was also pointed out transportation services of the railways was being curtailed in the area and the Atlantic Development Board recognized the importance of road transportation by contributing $3,000,000 to Nova Scotia to assist in constructing heavy-duty highways. Increasing registration of motor vehicles, especially commercial vehicles, has created an alarming traffic problem and it was urged that towns and rural municipalities be relieved of through traffic, it was stated.

The boards endorsed a request for the government to consider legislation whereby all motor vehicles not properly

Sid Isnor Retires

Sid Isnor retired this week after working with the Town of Digby streets department for more than thirty-five years. The 66-year-old gentleman has been a common figure throughout the town where for two generations he busily kept leaves, sand, ice and debris of any kind from collecting on Digby streets.

Digby area residents as well as many tourists who visit each year will miss the presence of Sid and his array of collection-carts and sleds. He told the Courier that he retired "not because I'm old or sick, but because I'd like to take it easy for a while". Mr. Isnor lives on St. Mary's Street, in Digby.

Retires After 40 Years Service

Marking the end of a 40-year career as stewardess aboard Canadian Pacific steamships engaged in Bay of Fundy service between Saint John, N. B., and Digby, N.S., Mrs. Janet (Jenny) Beckwith, of Saint John, receives farewell presentation at ceremony on the Princess of Acadia, third of the steamships on which she served. Others were the old S. S. Empress and S. S. Princess Helene, replaced by the "Acadia" in 1963. Making presentation is D. J. Hignam, of Saint John division, while Captain John Goodwin, the ship's master, looks on.

60th Wedding Anniversary

On Sunday, November 22nd, Mr. and Mrs. Carey Henshaw, of Bear River, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary.

They were married in Clementsvalle Parsonage by Rev. Mr. Balcorn and have resided in Bear River ever since. They have one son, Francis also living in Bear River. Two granddaughters, Mrs. Donnie Beattie residing in Annapolis Royal and Sandra of Bear River; also one great grandson, Dwayne Beattie. Mr. Henshaw will celebrate his eighty-fifth birthday in December and his wife is eighty three years of age, both are very active for their advanced years and have such clear memories of life in Bear River during that time. It is a pleasure to visit and chat with this elderly couple.

And when the Princess of Acadia took over the run in 1963, veteran passengers were delighted to find that Jenny Beckwith, in her familiar white uniform, was back on board to help brighten their journey as she had done in the years before.

During the war she was a veritable mother to thousands of servicemen and nursemaids to hundreds of infants and small children travelling in her care.

It has been said that the secret of her popularity as a stewardess was due to her warmth and understanding. "I've yet to meet someone I didn't like," she affirms. And Mrs. Beckwith has met passengers from practically every walk of life, including many notable. They have included prime ministers of England, of Canada and leading military figures.

Throughout her long career, Mrs. Beckwith took particular delight in caring for infants and tiny tots during the crossing. Hundreds made the crossing under her watchful eye, among them being infants in their baskets.

"I always tied the baskets to the leg of a table in ladies' lounge to prevent jarring in the crossing," she recalls, with particular reference to the turbulent war years.

She also recalls instances where children were less trouble to care for than adult passengers. One had to do with a service man's wife who was so excited at the prospect of meeting her husband at Digby that she disembarked without her baby. What's more, she had forgotten where she had left it. After conducting a quick search, Mrs. Beckwith located the infant asleep in his basket.

When the spanking new Princess Helene went into service, Mrs. Beckwith recalls, the vessel was equipped with the very latest in plumbing facilities. But the first lady to take a stateroom insisted it was not complete without that appliance so necessary in days before the modern facilities existed. To satisfy the nostalgic passenger a messenger was dispatched to the old S. S. Empress, forerunner of the "Princess", and returned with the traditional bedside piece before the ship sailed.

Just how Jenny Beckwith will spend her retirement years is anybody's guess. With her love of the sea and her many years on the Fundy Crossing, it is highly probable that she will spend a "bus-man's holiday" or two, retracing the course she had covered so often. With 40 years behind her as stewardess, however, the transition from the role of stewardess to that of a passenger may well be a difficult one for Jenny.

It would be difficult to imagine Jenny in the role of a landlubber, even in retirement. Her past record would strongly indicate that her future environs will remain within earshot of the shrill cry of the gull or the deep-throated blast of the "Princess", as it churns the waters of Saint John harbor for its scheduled crossing to Digby.

Adopt's Myriam

Myriam Elsa Caro

Weymouth Kiwanis Club has recently adopted Myriam through the Foster Parents Plan, Inc. Myriam a Colombian, will be seven years old on December 26. She is 3 ft. 1 inch tall. She lives with her family at home and is supported by the Kiwanis Club of Weymouth.

Myriam's father can read, but he cannot write. Her mother knows how to read and write, but has little more learning than this. The one great ambition these parents have is to see that all their children are able to have a far brighter future than these dark years of want. The father earns about $13.00 a week and there is no further income.

Myriam's older brothers and sisters are almost all going to school. These are Miguel (16), Gloria (15), Josefa (14), Alberto (12), Maria (7), Hugo (5) and Gladys (2), and her little twin, Mercedes, and then the baby, Ana. Maria does not go to school yet, nor does Myriam. They live in a hut built of bamboo and tin sheets, and a wooden floor. There are two rooms, shabbily furnished with no more than they need, and not even that. The home is redolent of the bitter poverty of those who struggle here for life and hope. The kitchen is an outside hut with only the naked earth for a floor. There is no toilet nor is there a washing place. The family's meals are made up of corn soup and bananas and bread, sometimes rice. They pay no rent, because miserable as this hut is, it belongs to them. It stands in the squalid district known as barrio Paris.

Myriam has green eyes and black hair. She has a slightly deformed chest cavity, and she is very small for her age. She is usually very shabbily dressed, but here she wears some clothing from PLAN's warehouse. She is a shy little girl and not used to having her picture taken. At home she helps her mother a lot with caring for the babies and the home. She likes to play games like any other little girl of her age.

PLAN aid assures Myriam of her chance for an education. A PLAN child must go to school. PLAN aid provides a monthly cash grant of $8.00, clothing, supplies and special medical care. It affords for a child and all her family the warm encouragement and the wise counsel of social workers and director. Aid to one little girl in this dark distress is assistance for a whole family toward a brighter tomorrow.

Seek Aid Of Auto Owners

All owners of 1959 Chevrolet in Nova Scotia are urged to take their vehicles to the nearest detachment of the RCMP to assist police in the investigation of the Nov. 13 Stewiacke bank robbery.

The car used in the robbery was a 1959 sedan, with a gothic gold (metallic brown) bottom and a light pink or light colored top. The vehicle had a short radio aerial mounted on the left rear fender.

The suspect in the crime is described as between five feet ten inches to six feet in height, in his early or middle 20's, with neatly trimmed reddish brown hair, of slight build and well-dressed.

The description of the car is one of the strongest clues which the police are now following up and through the co-operation of provincial government authorities, each RCMP detachment now has a list of 2,400 1959 Chevrolet owners in the province. A computer was used to compile the list from a total of 180,000 vehicles registered in Nova Scotia.

The list which they have does not show the color of the vehicles and a personal check of all such cars is necessary.

The RCMP is aware of the fact that most law-abiding citizens will wish to assist by coming forward with their vehicles to be checked and they are strongly urged to do so this will aid the police in the enormous task of checking and elimination.

Any person owning a 1959 Chevrolet car is requested to call in the RCMP detachment which covers the area where he resides so that his vehicle may be viewed by the police.

Red Cross Water Safety Program

Mr. Leslie Panchard, Director of Swimming and Water Safety for the Nova Scotia Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society, was the guest speaker at an evening meeting of the Digby Red Cross Branch held at the Court House last week. In spite of inclement weather, the meeting was well attended by local members, and a special welcome was accorded two representatives from the Weymouth Red Cross Branch.

Mr. Panchard directed his remarks on water safety not to the children who enjoy and profit from the Red Cross swimming lessons every summer, but to his adult audience, many of whom may never expect to go near the water, yet because of unforeseen accidents, may find themselves in danger of drowning. He emphasized the benefits of Red Cross training in the latest and fastest method of artificial respiration, and also in many other common sense practices for helping those in difficulty in the water, or keeping afloat oneself until help arrives. He also quoted statistics to prove that the number of drownings has decreased considerably during the past few years, proving that the active Red Cross program of Swimming and Water Safety is actually producing measurable results, with a drop from 7.3 to 6.3 drownings per one hundred thousand population. In Nova Scotia, the toll of deaths by drowning in 1963 was 22 less than in the preceding year.

In speaking of the Red Cross Campaign for funds, of which he is also Director, Mr. Panchard congratulated the Digby and Weymouth Branches on the success of their 1964 fund raising. He also reminded the Red Cross collectors that in campaigning for the approximately $200,000 which is the Nova Scotia quota, they should let the public know that in the Blood Transfusion Service alone, Nova Scotians are receiving $200,000 worth of free blood transfusions per year.

He stated that all the other Red Cross services might be considered a bonus, paid through Red Cross generosity from the wealthier provinces, while we are supporting only this one portion of the many other services from which we all benefit in one way or another.

Mrs. R. B. Lent, Digby Branch President, thanked Mr. Panchard for his address, and also gave a brief summary of some phases of Red Cross work carried on by the branch, calling on Mrs. Winfield to outline the Disaster Relief program, of which she and Mrs. D. J. Comeau are joint conveners. Following the meeting a sale of aprons was held under the chairmanship of Mrs. Allen Stark, with proceeds of over $60, which will help provide local Christmas Cheer.

The evening closed with the serving of refreshments by the Ways and Means Committee, under the convenship of Mrs. Ralph Bewick and Mrs. G. R. Weir. Tea and coffee were poured by Mrs. B. H. Ruggles and Miss Louise Daley, with members of the Women's Work Committee as servers. A number of attractive quilts made by the Women's Work Committee were also on display during the evening.

Keith Churchill Ordained

On November 10th Gordon Keith Churchill was ordained into the Ministry of the Church. The impressive service was held in the First Baptist Church, Amherst, where Mr. Churchill is Assistant Minister, and Minister of Christian Education. The order of Service was presided over by Rev. H. D. Carlin, Parish Moderator of the Cumberland Baptist Association. The Senior Minister of the Church, Dr. W. J. MacDonald gave the Invocation; Rev. H. A. Renfree, General Secretary, Atlantic Baptist Convocation read the Old Testament Scripture; Dr. MacDonald read the New Testament Scripture. Dr. M. R. Cherry, Acting Dean of Theological School, Acadia University, preached the Sermon.

A significant part of the "Laying on of Hands" was that Ministers of other Denominations, as well as Baptist, participated. The prayer of Ordination was given by Rev. E. C. Churchill, United Baptist Church, Windsor, father of the young man taking his vows.

The first official act of Rev. G. Keith Churchill was the conducting of the Communion Service, in which he was assisted by the Deacons of the First Baptist Church, with Mr. Carol Snell offering prayers. A reception was held in the Ralston Room, at which greetings from representatives of the Church, Town, Association, Ministerial Institute, and Convention were given. Dr. MacDonald read a telegram of congratulations from the Rev. Russell T. Loesch, and the Congregation of the Community Church of Christ, Cedar Grove, New Jersey, where Rev. Mr. Churchill was Student Assistant Minister for two years.

Mr. Churchill is a graduate in Arts of Acadia University, and in Theology of Union Theological Seminary, New York City. He served as student Pastor at Port Bickerton, and Spryfield in Nova Scotia, also as Student Assistant in the Community Church of Christ, Garden City, New York. ## About This and That

Councillors Go Unnoticed

So little is made of nominations to municipal and town government seats that councillors can serve and retire and be little recognized for their jobs.

In the town of Digby two councillors have gone in by acclamation. Another nomination for the third councillor will be called. What apathy! The same state of affairs exists in the Municipality of the District of Digby. In Weymouth, no nominations were forthcoming after having been called twice. A third calling is in order. After a year or two of troublesome times in the Municipality we are, of course, not too surprised at a reluctance to serve and really admired those who re-offered in spite of difficulties which arose during their terms of office. One village, only, worked up enough enthusiasm for an election. That village was Westport. We still feel elections are good and no matter who wins we think the village will be better off because of the election.

Yes, there is apathy in selection of councillors and after they have served for years there is often apathy about their retirement. This year the Deputy Mayor, Bruce Baxter, retired, without fanfare, from the town council after serving for a number of years and serving well for those years. This quietly retiring, of course, is not unique with Councillor Baxter. It has always been thus and likely always will. Their thanks and recognition comes mostly from within themselves in the fact that they are conscious of serving to the best of their abilities and have done something toward making Digby town or Digby Municipality a better place in which to live.

To those who have served well and retired and to those who have served well and continue to do so we extend our appreciation. Government business is big business these days and none the least on municipal levels. The business of the councillors (the streets, the schools, the welfare, the police or whatever) is big business and it is our business too. Let us not forget to show a thought of appreciation.

Good Publicity For Digby

We are sure we are not alone in our appreciation to the Chronicle-Herald for its fine publicity given to Digby, especially of late. The attractive pictures of beauty spots in Digby County by Field, of Weymouth, often accompanied by a short story, as well as other feature articles from the area, have been most valuable publicity. Tourism in Digby County should increase because of it.

Like ourselves, we think the Chronicle-Herald also feels that Digby town or County, either cannot feed the mouths of its people on scenic beauty alone or even by the revenue from the tourists which the beauty attracts. Digby town and County, both, need more than just beauty and tourists. The Chronicle-Herald attempted to do something for us by airing our problems and grievances before the public. It is time we got help from somewhere, for we seem to be like a voice crying in the wilderness. In fact, when we think of fishermen unloading their catch, as we understand it, jumping from one boat to another over nine or ten boats abreast, it appears as though we have really been left in the wilderness. Again on Friday last, as it has done at other times, the Chronicle-Herald came out with pictures and a story showing the problems of the fishermen and that of the ferry, Princess of Acadia, so far as the wharves in Digby go.

We hate it! We like to feel thankful for small mercies, but maybe we wouldn't be out of line in Digby to cry Depressed! Depressed! Other towns which have been far better off financially than Digby have done so. Just a few weeks ago we heard a gentleman, as he had a right to do, bragging of the many industries in the town and about the flourishing economy of the area. We couldn't help asking, "Is that the same town by that name which was assisted because of depression a few years ago?"

Yes, we're depressed in whichever sense you'd like to use the word. And, we'll feel mightily depressed until something more gets done around the Digby wharves to make them safer, more convenient, more useful and more efficient than they are at the present time. The horse-and-buggy days have gone and so has the little red school house. Surely the fishermen of today deserve something better than scrambling over boats ten abreast to unload their wares.

Our appreciation to the Chronicle-Herald in letting the people know Digby is here. Maybe Ottawa might catch on, too, and get a little hustle on.

We Were Not Chicken!

Several of our complimentary letters recently have commented on our school interests and a number of the female species, in particular, have commended the "Coffee at janes" column. We have been called "chicken" though because we wouldn't print The Kings County Record, N. B., reply to a recent bit of fun in the editorial column. The fact is that we were not chicken but lack of time and space prevented us from printing Louis McKenna's reply. Since you are so much interested, this is what the Kings County Record had in its About This and That column —

"Leave it to women to get things moving along the north-bound rails when the train should be going west."

Couple of weeks ago I had the opportunity to join Ken Chisholm, of Sackville, president of the New Brunswick Weekly Newspapers Association, and Roy Cook, Lunenburg, president of the Nova Scotia Weekly Newspapers Association, on the Neighborly News broadcast with Jack Brayley.

So Jack asks me a question about whether it's true weekly publishers work one day a week, and have the other six days off.

I tell him this is not quite right; that the only way most publishers of weeklies can keep away from the office on a holiday is to skip town. At least it is so in my case.

It's also true that I tried to point out that at least one publisher is not as inefficient as I. I referred to the fact that I had been in Digby, Nova Scotia, on Thanksgiving Day, and that while several members of the staff of The Digby Courier were working, one of them told me publisher Edith Wallis was at home.

I realized at the time there must be something wrong with me, when I have to come to the office on a holiday while the staff takes off; and that Edith Wallis — incidentally, she is a past president of the Nova Scotia Weekly Newspapers Association — could stay at home while the staff works. Immediately I realized she is a superior organizer, and when I had an opportunity to say so over the air, I paid her this tribute.

So then what happens? Edith Wallis turns around and writes in her editorial column, which by coincidence is headed About This and That, that I am fabricating when I say she is a better organizer.

As a matter of fact, the heading over the particular editorial is headed: "What Fabrication!"

Well now, Edith, if you hadn't branded me as a spreader of false statements, I might say something additional in your favor. I might even tell the people of Digby that when you get some 3 000 miles away from home, out in Vancouver, you still go to church on Sunday.

But I won't. They might think I'm fabricating to my own readers, who would have to believe I was in church to see you there. Come to think of it, though, my wife and daughters Susan and Jane were witnesses also, so I'll stick with my story about you being in church.

I hope this clears you with your readers for enjoying your Thanksgiving holiday."

Both President Lincoln and President Kennedy were concerned with the issue of Civil Rights.

Lincoln was elected in 1860; Kennedy in 1960.

Both were slain on Friday, and in the presence of their wives.

Both were shot from behind, and in the head.

Their successors, both named Johnson, were Southern Democrats, and both were in the Senate.

John Wilkes Booth was born in 1839; Lee Harvey Oswald was born in 1939.

Teacher-Nurse Recalls Varied Career

by Mrs. J. P. Outhouse

Miss Mariam Clifford, 55, a native of Tiverton, has retired from the nursing profession.

At an early age Miss Clifford began preparing herself for her career. She recalled her first school days in the Tiverton school.

"I started school when I was five years old," My first school teacher was the late Mrs. Hadley, Blackford of Tiverton.

After completing Grade Eleven, Miss Clifford attended summer school at Truro. Ten years of school teaching followed: one year at Bridgetown, five at East Ferry, one at Milk Cove, two at Bay View and one at Lake Midway.

Miss Clifford said that the first money she earned was not derived from teaching school, however. "Three farmers in the area asked me to drive their cows to and from the pasture at a distance of about two miles every day. They each paid me a dollar a month. That was during the depression and those three dollars looked pretty big."

After teaching school for 10 years, she entered the Sanitarium at East Saint John, N.B., where she underwent a two-year training period of nursing. Following this she became nursing assistant at Saint John General Hospital, where she became a registered nurse and returned to work at East Saint John Sanitarium and Rose Bay Sanitarium where

While at East Saint John, Miss Clifford became a patient in the hospital, where she had been so active in caring for other patients.

In 1953, Miss Clifford recovered sufficiently to resume her nursing duties. She entered Rose Bay Sanitarium where she remained seven years. From there she went to the N.S. Sanitarium at Kentville, where she served four years.

Miss Clifford is now at her home at Tiverton. When one of her friends mentioned to her that perhaps she might find life on the island a bit dull or lonely, she replied, "Why should I? I am home and happy to be with my family and friends."

Her family includes a brother Wilfred, who is a fisherman in the area, and their father, Byron Clifford at home; a sister Lillian, Mrs. MacCumber of Saint John, N.B., and a sister Laura, Mrs. Tidd of Whale Cove, N.S.

In Memoriam

RICE — In loving memory of Mrs. Bessie Rice, Bear River, who departed this life November 25, 1963.

We tell our lonely, aching hearts
God took her from us for the best;
That only He, the great Physician,
Could ease her pain and give her rest.
Alas, the hours without her are Too empty to be measured.
And we wish a thousand times each day
For the dear one that we treasured.

Always remembered by sister, Stella, and family. 14:1c

REID — In loving memory of our dear mother, Nellie B. Reid, Sea Brook, N. S. who passed away Nov. 30, 1955.

Dearest to us, that words can tell,
Was our mother we lost and loved so well.
Deep in our hearts her memory is kept,
We smile with the world but never forget.
We miss her voice and her loving smile,
And things that make life worth while;
Wherever we go, whatever we do,
Always mother dear, we're thinking of you.

Sadly missed and always remembered by her six sons, and four daughters. 14:1c

Safety Through December

From December 1st to 7th the Canadian Highway Safety Council promotes a national Safe-Driving Week across the country. Always on the same date each year, the object of the campaign is to bring vividly to the attention of drivers and pedestrians that in their vehicles and on the road, the lives of other people rest in their own hands. If you are a motorist, the Council's all-Canadian project will help you to become a better driver; if you are a pedestrian, this educational effort will help to avoid becoming a statistic.

The Holiday Hazard Campaign sponsored by the police is started off with the Safety Week, continues for the full month of December and embraces not only traffic safety but all the "Holiday Hazards" of the season.

In support of the Safety Week and continued safety throughout the holiday season The Digby Courier will insert in its columns advice issued for the purpose by governments and organizations.

Report From Parliament Hill

November 21, 1964.
In this column last week, I promised that this time I would write fully on the new Pension Plan. I rather regret that promise now. The Canada Pension Plan is contained in a Bill which has 125 Sections, and 85 pages. It is very technical and very complicated, and frankly it has not been discussed here sufficiently to enable one to write in any great detail with respect to it. The Bill was introduced the first of the week. It was discussed for three days and second reading was given, and it has now been referred to a special Joint Committee of the House of Commons and Senate for detailed study. The understanding is that the Government hopes to have the Committee report on the Bill back to the House within a month. Personally I think this is a serious error. This Bill affects everybody in Canada, millions of people. Many are wondering how much they will receive through the new plan. Many more are wondering how much they will have to pay into it. Many Canadians are now employed by Corporations which have existing Pension Plans. There are scores of different pension systems presently in existence. What effect will this new Pension have upon these existing pensions? The only reply I think it must be assumed that the two Pension systems can be integrated in some way. Just how are they to be integrated? Will the employer and the employees, who are presently contributing to a pension system pay the additional amount required by the new pension plan? Or continuously, will they reduce the amounts which they are now paying into the existing plans by the amount which they will be compelled to pay under the new plan? These are only a few of the questions which come to mind.

The Bill will require careful study by experts across the country who will then hope to come to Ottawa to make representations to the Committee with respect to it. It will be very difficult for them to do this, if the whole matter is to be concluded inside of a month.

The Province of Quebec has announced its intention to operate its own Pension Plan, and will "opt out" of the proposed Canada Pension Plan. Any other Province can, of course, "opt out" as well, provided that it establishes a Pension Plan of its own similar to that proposed by the Canadian Government. It is expected, however, that the remaining nine Provinces will operate under the Canadian Plan.

Canadians who are employed will start contributing to the Pension Plan at age 18. They will continue their contributions until they are 65, if they have then retired from employment. Otherwise, they will continue their contributions until they are 70. The Plan assumes that the pension will amount to 25% of the average earnings of a person, starting at age 65. Contributions will be made on earned incomes up to $5,000.00 a year. The maximum pension which anyone can receive, after a full term of contributions, will be $104.17 a month.

Collection of contributions will start in January, 1966. Persons who are now 67 years of age will not be eligible to receive any pension whatsoever, except, of course, the Old Age Pension, which is now in effect. A person who retires in the year 1968, and who is in receipt of monthly income of $100.00 will receive a monthly pension of $5.00. The pension, of course, increases, depending upon the income. For instance, if the monthly income is $200.00, the monthly pension will be $10.00 per month. The pension fund, of course, will continue to grow as contributions are made throughout the years. Therefore, in the year 1971, the $5.00 a month pension will have increased to $12.50 per month. By the year 1976, this will have increased to $25.00 per month.

The contributions at the present time will be 1.8% of the average income above $600.00. In other words, the first $600.00 of income is exempt from contribution. A self-employed person, the grocer, the garageman, etc., will pay double contribution of 3.6% of his income. In addition, of course, he will also have to pay 1.8% of the wages he pays to each of his employees, and will deduct from the wages another 1.8%. This is going to be a pretty heavy burden on those operating small businesses.

Women who are presently widows will not receive any pension under this scheme. However, those who become widows after their husbands have been making regular contributions to the pension scheme, will be eligible. The widow's pension will vary, depending upon whether or not there are dependent children. Widows over 45 years of age will receive a basic pension of $25.00 per month, plus 37.5% of the pension to which their husband was entitled at the time of his death. The system will be a very difficult and expensive one to administer. Deductions will have to be made from each pay cheque, but how does one know if the employee's income is going to amount to over $600.00 a year?

In the Valley, for instance, we have several hundred women who work in the fall in the processing plants. Perhaps some of them work other places, as well, and perhaps they don't. It is estimated that the number of refunds alone will amount to well over a million, possibly several million a year. There are very heavy penalties provided for anyone who willfully avoids the provisions of the Act.

All of the foregoing, of course, is subject to change, and I assume that some amendments will be made or at least recommended, during the hearings before the Committee. But the basic facts, I think, will remain pretty well as outlined above.

The delegates endorsed a resolution from the floor asking for more federal and provincial government attention to harbor, docking and fishing facilities in the Digby and Annapolis County area.

Affiliated Boards president Emanuel Adelaar reviewed the development of the organization.

There were big plans for the coming year in the tourist industry, he said. However, their success would depend upon co-operation of municipalities, towns and villages in supplying information on special attractions and resources.

Economy of the Valley was making progress in a modified way but industrial development was too slow in comparison with the rest of Nova Scotia and Canada, he pointed out.

Also in a panel discussion John E. Shaffner said that the Annapolis Valley could become a major industrial centre in the not-too-distant future. He said that the Valley had many resources to attract industry; availability of skilled labor was one of them. Vocational high schools were playing a large part in this but "we must do something more than just provide the young men with the training," he said.

"We must make sure that we don't export them," said Mr. Shaffner. "The employment should be made available right here for them."

Bernadine Comeau, of Saulnierville, spoke on the fishing industry. Giving an indication of change, he said fish landings in Nova Scotia had dropped by 11,000,000 pounds between 1957 and 1963 while the net value to fishermen had risen by $13,000,000.

The drop in landings was due to smaller catches of cod and other species. There had been an increase in lobsters, scallops and in the development of whales. All Nova Scotia landings, however, were over the total combined of New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Quebec.

Modernized boats and equipment had cut down the number of fishermen employed by about 2,000.

In regards to the potential of the industry, Mr. Comeau said with present government legislation and financial assistance in all branches of fisheries, we can expect an increase in potential in the number of fishing crafts and processing plants. Future development would include whale fishing, massive herring catching and processing, swordfish (longlining or trawling), tuna.

In a discussion of docking facilities, Mr. Comeau advocated one or two strategically located harbors in the area as being more feasible than widespread demands for wharfage at many different coastal points.

Craig Dixon, secretary of the Maritime Transportation Commission at Moncton, stressed the need to restore the intent of the Maritime Freight Act so that Maritime industries would have easy access to markets on a cost wise basis equal to the rest of Canada.

Federal Minister Drury, during his address, announced that two new industries with combined investment of three quarters of a million dollars and employing two hundred people had indicated their intentions to come to Nova Scotia.

In reply to a question by the board's president, Emanuel Adelaar, as to why tax incentives to new industry were the same in Nova Scotia as elsewhere in Canada, thus giving an advantage to Ontario and Quebec, Mr. Drury said the purpose of the program was to assist areas in Canada where there were "pockets of chronic unemployment."

These pockets were not confined to the Atlantic Provinces, therefore the tax incentive program was applied wherever they might be in Canada. The minister said there was no distinction made between areas of unemployment which were not confined to the Maritimes.

Mr. Adelaar said the Annapolis Valley was not a depressed area but that industrial expansion was much slower than any other part of Canada.

Federal and provincial governments were creating the climate for new industry — it was up to such groups as the board of trade to show where

janes

All those how-to-bring-up-little-monsters books tell us that the most important factor for their future mental health is consistency. If you yell at the kids one day for tracking mud over your kitchen floor, the books say, yell the next time too. Yelling is not exactly recommended, but at least the child knows that you like a clean kitchen. A consistently bad parent, we are told, is better than an inconsistent one.

I belong to that lowest category of parenthood, the moody mother. My disposition rockets from euphoric to gloomy if I run a stocking, and back again if I am complimented on a dinner. The children can commit terrible crimes, like paint themselves and the neighbor children blue, or have a coffee party with the coffee things left on the back steps by a careless neighbor (both of those stories are worth telling some time) on my good days, and I will think it very funny. On my bad days they get sent to their room for spilling milk.

In one of those dim corners of my mind, I have a recollection of reading that the children of inconsistent mothers tend to be more creative than those of more normal types. The one thing I remember about Lord Byron from my school days is a rather frenzied insistence that he had an inconsistent mother, though why this was deemed a necessary pearl of wisdom for a bunch of eleven-year-olds escapes me. Reflections along the line that one of my children may turn out to be a second Lord Byron or something fail to comfort me, so I try the second approach. I tell myself that my children will be more sensitive to subtleties of mood than most. With me for a mother, they will have to learn to evaluate my mood, assess my probable reactions, and act accordingly. This, I tell myself smugly, will make them finer people.

The one thing which remains consistent in my dealings with children is the almost inalterable pattern I follow when I tell them to do something. It goes like this, each part being delivered in a vocal tone three notes higher than the part before: 1. Would you please put the toys away. 2. I asked you to please, etc. 3. I don't think you heard me. I said please, etc. 4. WOULD YOU, etc. There is no time five. At that point, mother, who is in a state of blind rage, takes three strides forward, bashes Junior on the head solidly with the nearest maul, and spends the rest of the day, like the character in movie cartoons, trying to extract his feel from the floor.

We had reached that point just beyond step four one evening not long ago. I was lecturing my son severely, at the top of my voice, as usual, when a sobering thought struck me. "You don't know the difference between good and bad, do you?" I said. It was a question, not an exclamation. It was not delivered in my mean mother voice, but in sincere awe at the magnitude of my discovery.

The small culprit shook his head, very slowly. I asked the question again. Through his tears, the voice was very small, very childlike, and very alone, in a hostile world which was too big for him. "No," he said simply, and in that quiet word was all the gentleness and patience I will never have. I wanted to cry, and at the same time be grateful. I wanted to turn back the clock, and try to give him a better three years than those he had just had. I knew that he already knew more about good and bad than I know.

I tried to define it. "A good boy," I said, "is a boy who does what his mother tells him to do," and I knew as I said it that that was not a very good definition. Saints and heroes who were that only because they defied parental authority flashed into my mind. Most of the great things which have ever been done have been done by people with courage to defy authority, I thought.

But this, I decided, was not the time to try to sort out the differences between the virtue of defiance and the vice by the same name. The heroes will go on defying, and making the world better. Perhaps the destiny of us ordinary souls is to conform, and make the world tolerable. Not knowing whether the small person in disgrace before me was destined to be a hero, or one of us, I let the definition stand.

Not only stand. I drilled him in it.

As I tucked him in bed that night, I asked, like a good catechist, "What is a good boy?", expecting a word for word answer from a dutiful son who had learned his lesson well.

He gave me an impish grin as he wiggled down into the blankets.

"A fish," he answered.

Weymouth Garden Club Meets

A special meeting of the Weymouth Garden Club was held at the home of Miss Alison Killam on Thursday evening, Nov. 19, with twenty-five members present. At this time the presentation of the President's trophy was made by Mr. Arthur Hambleton, of Halifax, vice president of the N.S.A.G.C. Father Comeau, accepted the trophy on behalf of the club members. Mr. Hambleton commended the members on the work they had done and encouraged them to continue their project along Victoria Avenue on the D.A.R. property. The trophy, a rose bowl will be on display in one of the local store windows and it is hoped all citizens will view it as many assisted with donations of money, fertilizer, shrubs, lawn seed and plants.

Mr. Morton of the Department of Agriculture suggested the Garden Club erect a sign to show where their garden is as gardeners from other garden clubs were interested.

A donation for $25.00 from the village of Weymouth was gratefully accepted. The village clerk, Mr. W. Mullen in his letter stated the commissioners wished the Garden Club would write the Dept. of Highways, asking if it were possible to have their sandpile moved to another site. This would help in our beautification project.

The president, Father Comeau, moved a vote of thanks to Mr. August Bolsuete of Montreal for his donation this month, of ten loads of fill, and for the use of the grader. This will be a great help towards the spring work.

The committee in charge of the garden project were Mr. Wm. LeFort, Mrs. C. F. Granville and Mrs. H. W. Powell.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Canada Packers Limited is requesting consumers to immediately return KLIK Luncheon Meat with any of the following codes indented in the tops of the tins:

EST 7 09144	EST 7 09214	EST 7 09284
EST 7 09164	EST 7 09234	EST 7 10054
EST 7 09174	EST 7 09254	EST 7 10224

NO TINS WITH ANY OTHER NUMBERS ARE AFFECTED

Consumers in Ontario, Quebec and the Atlantic provinces who have purchased KLIK since September 14th and who are in possession of any tins bearing these codes are asked to immediately return them to their retailers for replacement or refund.

Tins embossed with EST 7A, EST 7B, or EST 7D are not involved as they were produced at other plants and are in no way affected.

The recall of these tins is a precautionary measure which has been taken because spice units, supplied to the Company and used in the production of KLIK Luncheon Meat at one plant, contained less than the normal quantities of one of the curing ingredients.

The effect of a smaller than normal quantity of this curing ingredient has not been clearly established by food scientists. KLIK is cooked during the canning process, however, curing ingredients are added in the spice mixture to assure its long-term keeping qualities.

The best scientific opinion indicates that the risk of impaired keeping qualities is small, but may exist. Therefore, there is a small chance that the product could deteriorate and might then cause serious illness if eaten.

All KLIK presently on retailers' shelves has been carefully checked by company employees to ensure that it is not from the lots in question.

RETAILERS—Your cooperation in accepting return of this product is requested. A Company representative will be contacting you.

is child's work

Give a youngster something to play with and, if it arouses his interest, whammo! he's lost.

All his efforts are bent on solving its secrets, making it go, building it up or knocking it down.

Usually he's dead serious about it... as he should be—because what looks like play to you is work to him! Thought-provoking, energy-burning work that you, the parent, can help maintain by seeing that he enjoys a good balanced diet.

Naturally we hope that his diet will include plenty of Ben's BUTTERMILK BREAD... a wonderful source of food energy.

Ben's BUTTERMILK BREAD tastes good too!

an Sees No Immediate Election

Hon. George Nowlan, in addressing the annual meeting of the Digby County Progressive Conservative Association on Monday night, did not predict a federal election soon. If the government appoints a commission on redistribution, there will be no election for a year and a half or two years, for it will take that long to put redistribution into effect, said Mr. Nowlan. The redistribution bill was passed recently. After the events of last week, Mr. Nowlan continued, no election will be held until a report comes down on the full inquiry into the matter which caused the "shock" in parliament last week. Mr. Nowlan referred to the Leo Rivard case which was brought before parliament by Erik Nielson, the Conservative member for the Yukon. Rivard is in jail in Montreal charged with smuggling dope into the U.S.A. The American government instructed a Montreal lawyer to oppose an application for bail for Rivard. Nielson stated in the House that he had reason to believe the Executive Assistant to the Minister of Citizenship and Immigration had offered a bribe of $20,000 if bail were not opposed. On top of that, when the bribe failed, Mr. Nielson had said the Executive Assistant to the Minister of Justice had suggested if bail for Rivard were opposed, the counsel for Rivard would get no more business from the Government of Canada. None of these facts had been reported to the Prime Minister and the two executive assistants were allowed to remain in government service for months. These charges were at first denied by the Minister of Justice and others, but later they decided for an inquiry in secret. This was not satisfying to the opposition and other members and was again changed to a public inquiry after the Parliamentary Secretary to the Prime Minister announced his retirement because he, too, had made representation to grant bail to Rivard.

In the matter of redistribution, Mr. Nowlan said that Nova Scotia would drop from 12 to 11 seats. He also said he had the uneasy feeling that if redistribution comes and if he is in the running at another election, that he might not be running for Digby County. The County in which he was born, where his great, great grandfather blazed the trail to Havelock and to the place known as Nowlan's Corner and where his forebears had served as municipal councillors he felt would become part of the Yarmouth Constituency in the redistribution.

Speaking on the Pension Bill, Mr. Nowlan said that the 3rd edition had now come down after the first and second had to be returned when found unworkable. They were poorly drafted and after much waste of time had to be sent back. This bill, the speaker said, affects every man, woman, and child, including the unborn. It affects the employer and the employee, Mr. Nowlan said, and added that it cannot be considered "pie in the sky". Everybody expecting to get something out of it had better stop to think, he said. Employer and employee, each are expected to contribute 1.8 per cent making 3.6 per cent. The self-employed will pay the 3.6 per cent himself. When considering the pension plan, medicare and other proposed government measures Mr. Nowlan said that it would be wise to have some evaluation to decide on priorities. Our greatest asset, Mr. Nowlan said, is youth and youth that is highly trained. He spoke about the needs of universities and the importance of education in order to keep up with demands.

The Honorable Mr. Nowlan was introduced by Dr. G. V. Turnbull and thanked by Edward Twohig.

Powell Wants Safeguard Small Plants

Speaking before the annual meeting of the Digby County Progressive Conservative Association on Monday night, Mr. Powell, M.L.A., said that he felt the small fishing plants should be safeguarded from going into oblivion. These plants in this area of Digby County, he said, run into a capital investment of buildings and equipment close to two million dollars. In peak seasons they employ over 800 persons. If too much pressure is put to bear on these plants for improvement, then these plants might be forced out of business and we will not need a member in the House of Assembly, but a contingent of welfare workers to take care of the needs of hungry people. Mr. Powell said that he was not against large plants or large industries, but he was definitely against killing off small industry which employs 800 persons to make way for a short time for one large plant to employ 300 people. He added that small plants can be improved, but the means should be made available for them to make improvements. To strangle fish plants with regulations will benefit no one in the area, he said. He also referred to pressures which were exerted upon small wood operators and apple growers, and hoped that the same pressures would not be forced too suddenly upon small fish plant operators so that we may lose the largest pay roll we have in the area and have nothing to take its place.

Reviewing the work done on the highways in Digby County, Mr. Powell drew to the attention of his listeners the re-paving of the road from Digby Town limits to Bear River Bridge, paving of the approaches to the Kinney Bridge, re-construction of the Weymouth North road by the Bay-side Farm, re-construction of the two miles of the Sissiboo in Bear River, re-construction of the Doucetteville road in the village, sandseal in various areas, and re-construction of a stretch on the Lansdowne road. Work done on the Broad Cove road consisted of widening the road from 14 feet to 24 feet, but weather conditions and pressure of time did not allow completion of the work. Other work done was crib work repair, ditching and graveling. He expressed his disappointment in that they were unable to obtain paving on County roads this year, but it was felt that the trunk highways were in need of greater attention and the County road paving program would have to take a holiday for a little while. He again expressed the need of a causeway across Bear River, a new crossing at Weymouth and some way in which the residents of the Islands can cross Petite Passage with a vehicle in safety for 24 hours of the day.

In speaking of the picnic park which was constructed at Plympton during the past year, Mr. Powell felt confident that the fresh water supply which was sadly missing in the summer of 1961 would be made available next year.

Mr. Powell said that criticism is often levelled at "They" for not bringing industry into the constituency. "They," he assumed, referred to the Provincial Government. But, said Mr. Powell, the Government does not place an in-

Call Nominations Third Time

Failing on the second call to receive any nominations for one of the Digby Town council seats, the third try will be made. Nominations will again be received from December 8 to 15th, and if necessary an election will be held on December 29.

Three seats were to be vacant for the coming term, those of councillors Bernard Bell, Melbourne Comeau, and Deputy Mayor Bruce Baxter. Bernard Bell, reelected and along with the nomination of A. G. Connolly, who enters the council for the first time, two of these seats were filled by acclamation. A second call of nominations for the third seat failed to bring a response.

Nason Gives Advice Reduce Dropouts

A meaningful course of study, sound teaching methods and a vital classroom atmosphere are necessary to combat backwardness in school and reduce dropouts, Dr. H. M. Nason, director of the Elementary and Secondary Education Division of the Department of Education, said today.

He told the annual conference of supervisory personnel of Nova Scotia schools in Halifax that school organization, teaching methods, instruction materials, and general school activities are matters which can be controlled directly to help the backward child.

"The good school provides a variety of approaches to the various subjects. Its organization and atmosphere should be reasonably free. It should possess the elasticity necessary to meet changing conditions."

"The first step necessary to combat backwardness is to provide the conditions in which backwardness will not develop."

Dr. Nason said two principles should always be kept in mind in dealing with backward children.

"The essential task is to help the child to achieve self respect and confidence." The second principle, he said, is that the backward child should never be asked to do anything which is completely beyond his ability to achieve.

"Backwardness in a percentage of the school population is a perfectly natural thing. It is inconceivable to think that all students should advance at the same rate. Whenever a number of people are engaged in any activity there will always be some who are relatively backward," the division director said.

"It is a mistake to think that slowness to adapt to changing school or community conditions is always a matter of intellectual defects. Slowness of pupils to acquire the interests, skills, and habits which are necessary for modern living may be due to physical, emotional, or environmental causes, all of which must be taken into account if we are to deal effectively with backward children who drop out of school prematurely."

The first thing to do when confronted with the problem of dealing with the backward child, Dr. Nason said, is to discover the nature and extent of his intelligence.

"Only in this way is it possible to determine whether his backwardness is remedial or not."

Industry in an area without the first move having been made by the area. The Government plays its part when it interests an industry to come to Nova Scotia, then the parties interested make a survey and select a place for their plant. The prospective firm interested in Nova Scotia is attracted to the areas which have industrial parks and offer other concessions. Naturally, he said, they go where the greatest tangible interest and inducements are offered by more than the verbal assertion, "We have a good place for your industry." When a firm has decided upon location, then "They," the Provincial Government, and its agency, Industrial Estates, take on commitments of providing funds in the form of loans for buildings and a percentage of the capital required.

Hopes Wharf Tenders Called Early In Year

When asked about prospects for the new Digby wharf, Hon. George Nowlan said on Monday night that the government and the C.P.R. are still in discussion on what each will pay of the costs but he hopes that tenders will be called early in the New Year. Mr. Nowlan expressed these hopes at the annual meeting of the Digby County Progressive Conservative Association held in Digby. A letter from the Department of Public Works indicated that the situation could be resolved in January, he said, and after submitting plans to the Treasury Board detailed plans would be made and tenders called.

It is expected the cost of the ferry terminal replacement will be approximately $2,500,000. Five hundred thousand is expected to be spent on the fishermen's wharf and $50,000 will be spent on dredging. He did not think the amounts of five to seven million dollars mentioned in a recent press report could be expected as there were other deep sea fishing areas in the district which also needed better facilities.

While tenders for the wharf are hoped to be called early in the new year, in the meantime, the dredging in the Digby harbour will be going ahead, Mr. Nowlan said.

In an interview with The Digby Courier before returning to Ottawa, Hon. Mr. Nowlan remarked that despite the accusations of waste of time there has been a lot of good work done through this session of parliament. To prove it Mr. Nowlan said that last week saw them pass estimates for eleven different departments of government, all of which had reasonably full discussion through the summer months.

The flag issue, Mr. Nowlan said was one of the most difficult problems for the Conservatives in which the tradition has been in support of the Commonwealth including the Union Jack. We have had a long history, he said, and any Canadian flag should have our history and background contained in it. The flag issue has dragged out and when closed still the accusation by millions of Canadians will be that we have betrayed our principle and quit because we are tired and want a vacation.

Moore of Digby, saw Saint Nicholas during his visit to the junior school for dependents of RCAF personnel serving at 1 Wing, Marville, France, St. Nicholas, the patron saint of small children, traditionally visits European schools early in December and plays a part similar to that of our Santa Claus. Robbie is one of 600 pupils at the Department of National Defence school at Marville.

Acadia Alumni Dinner Guest Speaker

Dr. J. M. L. Beveridge, President of Acadia University, was guest speaker at the Digby County Association Acadia Alumni dinner held at the Legion Hall, Digby, on Friday night. Also present was Professor Leonard Mayo, who, with a number of Acadia music students, provided music for the evening. Above are, left to right, Professor Mayo, Mrs. Edith Cunningham, Bear River, Dr. Beveridge and Mrs. Eva Wendell, President, who presided over the functions.

Seven Boats Go In Worst Storm In Many Years

Mrs. Wendell Heads Acadia Alumni

Mrs. Eva Wendell was on Friday night elected, for the second year, President of the Digby County Acadia University Alumni Association. First vice-president is Mrs. Mary Roberts; second vice-president, Miss Grace Vincent; and secretary, Mrs. H. M. Warner. The annual meeting was held at the Digby Branch Canadian Legion Hall after the Alumni entertained guests at a buffet dinner.

Guest speaker for the evening was Doctor J. M. L. Beveridge, President of Acadia University. He took as his subject Acadia's role now and in the future. He spoke of the many students who are waiting and qualified for going to university, and said that people have seen the value of education but it is possible that we have over-sold the students and parents on university education. He said it was in about 1951 and '52 that the first warning came as to what would happen in 1960 and through to the 70's with overcrowding at universities, but adequate steps had not been taken by either the Federal or Provincial Governments to cope with the situation. The Alumni, also probably failed to take its full responsibility. Now the only way out is by massive financial help by governments. Higher education, he said, should not be looked upon solely as a provincial matter, for it is a concern of the nation as a whole.

In dealing with the numbers who are waiting to enter university, Dr. Beveridge said that he felt enrollment should not be restricted to students in the immediate areas only, but that it should be made up of students of varied backgrounds. Interchange, he said, would be highly desirable in promoting national unity. Referring again to massive government aid for universities, Dr. Beveridge said that this did not mean that business, friends, and Alumni should give up their assistance to universities. He also stated that the greater the amount of money accepted from the Government, the less autonomy the university would have and some people already have tears in this regard.

He spoke highly of Acadia University which had acquired a reputation for scholarships for undergraduates and the dedicated faculty at the university which has carried Acadia on its backs. Acadia University has doubled in its enrollment since 1955, '56, and the question now is whether to expand or remain at a certain figure. He said a long range planning committee has been set up to study all the phases to be considered and all the facilities available to determine what way Acadia should proceed in the future. He said the Alumni should be concerned about the matter.

The speaker was introduced by William Parker, Wolfville, Director of Alumni Affairs. He was thanked by Keith Potter of Plympton. At the close of the dinner, Professor Leonard Mayo, along with a number of music students from the University, provided a musical half hour with solos, duets, and quartets. Participating were: Miss Margaret Wilsack, New Glasgow; Miss Margaret Allen, Wolfville; Miss Judith Wright, Halifax; Miss Corine Langley, New Glasgow; Kenneth DeLong, Halifax and Leon Langley, Middleton.

The evening's functions were presided over by Mrs. Wendell. C. C. MacInnes, Digby, proposed a toast to Acadia University, responded to by Charles Halliburton. Toast to the Queen was proposed by Mrs.

Seven different boats from East Ferry to Westport left their moorings in Tuesday's storm, most of which became a total loss. At Tiverton the Petite Passage Ferry boat, owned by David Outhouse, and Helton Sollows, broke loose from the quay while tied to the ferry wharf and sank about 3:30 on Tuesday afternoon. Ferryman at Tiverton said it was the worst storm they had seen for many years, and had never known of the seas to be so high. The ferry boat was a complete loss, and no ferry operated across the Bay since then. The day until time to go to press. Owners of the boats were away trying to find a replacement. It is understood that the boat was not insured.

At East Ferry, the 35 foot lobster boat of Edgar Pinc broke its mooring and landed on the beach at East Ferry a total loss. The same fate happened to the 50 ft. fish derrick owned by George Theriault. The 35 foot lobster boat of Emdon Young, also left its mooring in the height of the storm and, as far as is known, drifted to Meteghan and is expected to be a complete loss. The 45 foot fish derrick of Monday Stanton is also a total loss, having been beached at East Ferry in the storm.

At Tiverton, besides the sinking of the ferry, the lobster boat of Merle Outhouse was totally lost in the storm. It is understood that a fishing boat belonging to George Clements of Westport also went ashore, but the fate of the boat had not been learned at the time of going to press.

A fisherman from up the Bay of Fundy at Parkers Cove said that he had never seen the glass go so low as it was on Tuesday.

High seas still prevailed in the Bay of Fundy on Wednesday with some of the crew of the Princess of Acadia counting their trip on Wednesday the stormiest they had seen since they sailed on the present boat.

Shelburne Road Gets Phones

On Thursday of last week, phones were installed in four homes on what is known as Shelburne Road. This road branches off at the Acadia Valley not far from the Hillgrove Baptist Church. Until last Thursday the five families on this road have been without phone service. Four of the families were connected on Thursday.

As a Hillgrove lady said, "You never felt like calling off a meeting or function which the Shelburne Road people might attend, for there was no way to notify them. Most of the Shelburne Road families participate in Hillgrove Church and community activities."

The road, at one time, was built with the expectation that it would go directly through to Shelburne when finished.

Use Your Seat Belts At All Times: Seat belts are particularly important in winter-type skidding mishaps. Don't drive anywhere without them in place.

The seemingly childishness of grown up leaders debating and debating and debating over such a simple thing as a flag which was to represent the unity of the nation was annoying so far as waste of precious time was concerned. (The debate is being taken up again, this week.) But that We are not happy about events in Ottawa. We are disturbed. Are you?

Mr. Samuel Berry and Mrs. T. Richard and family of Wal-dee visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert Berry and family on Sunday.

Christopher's Story

A new little book for children is on the market. It was written by Mrs. Alice Gertrude Darres, Bear River.

Christopher is a kitty and the story in poetry takes Christopher from birth in the hay mow to his home in the big house where he made a lady and the big man happy with his company.

The little sixteen page booklet carries illustrations of Christopher.

Bear River Collects Many Items For Hospital

The annual Donations Day for the Digby General Hospital was held on November 20th and 21st, with all donations being left at the office of Mrs. H. E. Harris, to whom hearty thanks is due.

The response to this appeal was excellent as always, both from the village of Bear River and the out lying communities. The following articles were received: 90 jars of jams, jellies, pickles and canned goods; 2 lots of old linen; 6 large containers of potatoes; 2 large containers of cabbage; donations of other vegetables, squash and pumpkin and $32 in cash donations. Credit is due Mrs. Marjorie Alcorn and Mrs. Ruth Talles, who did personal collections, also to other solicitors who assisted in this necessary project.

Bear River Gets Dial Service

Dial telephone service will be introduced at Bear River on Sunday at 4:01 a.m., December 6th replacing the manually-operated switchboard that has served that area for many years. The new system will serve 445 telephone customers.

The dial switching equipment has been installed in a new building in the Bear River business section and is connected by trunk lines to the Digby Central office for long distance service.

Bear River will join the other dial exchanges in Nova Scotia and hundreds throughout the Continent on the All Number Calling System of telephone numbers. These numbers consist of seven digits with first three used as an exchange identification. Bear River's designation is 467 and, therefore, all telephone numbers will start with these three digits followed by four other numbers. This gives Bear River the standard-length telephone numbering plan which will permit long distance calls to reach Bear River direct from originating operators or subscribers in all parts of the Continent.

New telephone directories have been prepared containing Bear River Exchange listings which will be a supplement to the regular Western Directory. The next scheduled issue of the Western Directory is January 1965.

Sunday morning, December 6th Bear River will join Maritime Telegraph & Telephone Company's growing list of dial exchanges bringing to a close a long and complicated job of planning, installing and testing.

PLAY IT SAFE

Word to bicyclists - When the driver of a motor vehicle sounds his horn at you, he's trying to save your life.

So many cyclists take offence at this, and snarl ride remarks at the drivers who are living momentarily in fear of what the bicycle-rider will do next. A cyclist should be thankful that the motorist was aware of him and thoughtful enough to warn him of the approach of another vehicle heavy enough to crush both bicycle and cyclist.

An erratic cyclist can also cause a serious smash-up when he confuses a driver or forces a car out of line in traffic.

The bread winner in this household has been transferred. In a sense it came very suddenly. We had been told last April that the move was imminent, but the summer passed, and we remained. Toward the end of summer, rumor had it that November would be the month, but, somehow, we never really believed it. We used the possibility of a move as a very convenient excuse for not taking on jobs we did not want, but other than that, our lives did not alter.

Then, on Tuesday, His Highness called to, tell me the word had come. He was to start his new work the following Monday. I pictured our sad farewells, and pictured me, cleaning, polishing, scrubbing and packing until the end of the month, to get things organized for the movers. At Church Guild on Wednesday evening, I resigned my two year old job as treasurer, received the traditional silver spoon which our Guild gave to departing members, and thanked all my friends for their kind invitations to tea and dinners for the rest of the month. I felt warm and comfortable in the knowledge that they were trying to keep me from being lonely. The new treasurer was duly elected. We made a date for me to show her how the books were kept, and to help her with next month's report.

On Thursday morning, I was on my knees, scrubbing that toe space under the kitchen counters, where the dirt collects so dreadfully, and where it is so hard to see that I clean it about once every six months. I was wearing no lip stick, my hair looked the way hair does when one has been practically standing on one's head for half an hour. I was wearing a beat-up, loosely fitting, but too short, much washed print dress. There were muddy globes on the knees of my stockings, a result of kneeling in spilt wash water. The door bell rang, and I answered. When the jovial, neatly groomed representative from the moving company entered my kitchen I did my best to pretend I was a lady garbage collector. But he did not seem to be convinced. He calmly walked through my unempt house, surveyed the unvacuumed carpet, and the unmade beds, and announced that his men would arrive at 8:30 the following morning. The move, he said, could be completed by afternoon.

From all the stories I had heard about movers, I presumed 8:30 meant approximately noon, but I was wrong. They arrived, and I was unprepared, promptly on schedule. They worked quickly, and as far as I could see, efficiently. The furniture is still in storage, so I do not know if they have committed any of the atrocities moving men are rumored to have done in the past. One friend of mine, for instance, claims that when she got her furniture out of storage after a four year stay in England, there was, among her belongings, a four year old pot of coffee, packed right off the breakfast table the morning they left. Another friend claims she saw a mover pick a bobby pin off the floor, wrap it in paper, and place it carefully in the carton. If the number of blocks, pencils, and doll's shoes left on our floor was any indication, our movers were not quite that conscientious.

The farewell parties were cancelled. The dinner invitations were cut to two, which included all of us in our dirty working clothes. We were grateful for these. Preparing meals in the midst of all that bedlam did not appeal to me. By three o'clock in the afternoon, our little house stood empty, desolate, and incredibly dirty after our frenzied day of packing. I called, and said "goodbye" to my wonderful, half-day-a-week cleaning woman, who promised to go in the house the following day to clear away the mess, and we left, to spend the night in a motel before we started off to a new home, and a new way of life in a new city. My last act in our old town, was a frantic meeting with the new treasurer, the Guild president, and an adding machine. Now is the time to interject my little boast — the books balanced, after we found the thirty cent mistake.

We have found our apartment in the city, but we have not moved in yet. We lived in the city before — before we had two children. In those days every day in the city was a new adventure. Now, I am a bit leery of coping with two kids who have known only the freedom of a small town.

My new kitchen is very small, but there is still room for my coffee drinking friends. You'll be hearing from me!

Wish me luck.

THOUGHTS ON INSOMNIA

When sleep flees far away...
And flesh torment and soul
Lenny those that rest
And when free from pain

Why is it that, despite The weary work of eyes
That sleep the weary flee
And leave the full of sighs?

Oh, when will flesh be still
And retire from the fight?
Not till good prevails
And day uproots the night.

Federation Of Agriculture Holds Annual

Leonard Boudreau, of Concession, was elected president of the Digby County Federation of Agriculture at the annual meeting held in Conway last week. Other officers elected were Curtis Freeman, Lansdowne, vice-president; Chipman Chisholm, secretary; Mrs.

Elizabeth Chisholm, treasurer.

Directors elected included Arthur Gates, Forman Hurlburt, John LeBlanc, Ambrose Lombard, Lloyd MacNeill, Harvey Deveau, Charles Dugas and John Southon.

Donald MacNeill, of Yarmouth, who is in charge of 4H Club development for the Department of Agriculture in the eight western counties of Nova Scotia, was guest speaker.

In his address Mr. MacNeill said the 4H Clubs provide the best youth program found in Canada. The main aim of 4H Club programs is not to keep young people on farms, but to teach them to be good citizens and good leaders, he said.

Reports were given at the meeting from various committees of the federation. It was reported the directors had held four meetings during the year.
A brief had been presented on behalf of the Federation to the Royal Commission on pulpwood. A survey of woodlot owners had been undertaken during the year. This revealed there were 112 woodlot owners in the county.

Arthur Phinney, of Paradise, a provincial director of the Nova Scotia Federation of Agriculture, reported to the meeting on the activities of the directors of the provincial body since the last annual meeting. He stated a number of important items, including farm incomes, livestock production and other such matters, would be dealt with at the next federation annual in Truro at the end of December.

Four resolutions were adopted by the meeting on recommendation of the resolutions committee, headed by H. M.
Warne. These dealt with the need for continuation of the feed grain assistance policy; need for a full-time veterinarian to service all of Digby County; the need for the development of a definite program under ARDA in Digby County; and the establishment of a community pasture in the county.

The meeting also endorsed two resolutions adopted by the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade at their recent annual meeting. These concerned construction of an all-weather highway from Bedford to Yarmouth, and provision of additional ferry service between Digby and Saint John during the summer months.

PLAY IT SAFE

All it takes is a little square of ice in the right spot to immobilize the biggest automobile. The ice can form under the wheels while the car is parked. Be ready for it.
Carry some sand, a few old socks or a length of chicken wire to provide traction. Another ice-driving tip: spinning the wheel is no way to get off that ice or out of snow. Gently and slowly is the way.

Students Must Be Re-trained For Industry

Delegates attending the annual conference of supervisory personnel of Nova Scotia in Halifax were told today that students must be prepared so that they can be re-trained three or four times a lifetime.

G. E. MacDonald, assistant director of the Vocational Education Division of the Department of Education, said two important factors to consider in developing a program of vocational education are the needs of business and industry and the needs of youth.

"To ascertain the requirements of industry calls for continuous research. We are pleased to know that effective steps have already been taken by our governments to achieve this end.

"The needs of youth, it appears to me, can effectively be met by an adequate counselling and guidance service within the public school system."

Mr. MacDonald said people have become used to thinking of two schools of thought with respect to the kind of educational program that would prepare youth for the work world.

"A third school of thought, which I believe justifies our closest attention, stresses the importance of finding out specifically the requirements of industry in terms of what the worker would be expected to do what he should know to discharge his duties effectively and efficiently, and the interests, aptitudes, and abilities of youth through effective counseling and counselling."

"When these two factors are known much more could be done to match the capabilities of persons with the requirements of industry," Mr. Mac-Donald said.

"Less frequently would we then see companies employing high school graduates and only high school graduates sweep their floors."

I.E.L. Director Sees Plant Progress

Frank H. Sobey, President of Industrial Estates Limited, announced today that the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors will be held in Sydney, N. S., Dec. 7.

"This meeting is being in Sydney in order that the full board may assemble in this area of heavy industry and to visually observe the progress of the heavy water plant under construction at Glace Bay, N.S.," said Mr. Sobey.

Mr. Sobey went on to say that many of the directors had not yet had the opportunity to see the site of the $30,000,000 plant since construction got under way. I.E.L. holds more than 50 per cent of the equity shares in Deuterium of Canada Limited and the majority of Deuterium Directors are also I.E.L. directors.

"We also feel that it is helpful for I.E.L. directors to hold

By Janet Walker

Home Economist Dept. of Agriculture and Marketing

Centralizing your activities in the kitchen results in efficiency, organization and reduces steps. A centre is a place where you can do a particular type of work because the equipment, supplies, utensils and storage place for these, and the counter space needed for the activity are all located together. At least five centres are needed for meal preparation.

The Refrigeration centre provides a storage area for perishable food.

Proceeding on from this, we come to the Mixing and preparation centre where, as the name suggests food is prepared. Food is also stored in this area, as are mixing and baking utensils. It is desirable for the mixing counter level to be lower than standing counter height to facilitate stirring and mixing.

Clean up and dishwashing are convenient when placed close to the preparation area. This includes much more than the essential sink. Waste disposal units, dishwashers, storage units and possibly the laundry equipment, are located in this area.

A cooking area adjacent to this cleanup area is most convenient. The possibility of placing this area between the preparation and cleanup area can also be considered if necessary.

The most convenient place for the serving centre is immediately following the cooking centre. Here china and glassware, tablecloths, silver etc. can be stored.

Whether the dining area is included as a kitchen centre or a separate enterprise it should be close to the serving area. The fifth essential centre is the storage area where any articles for which there is no room in the area concerned may be kept. In addition, seldom used kitchen items may be placed here. The storage area may vary from one small cupboard to a whole wall of storage units depending both on space available and upon requirements.

A sewing area and a planning centre are not necessary sections but are desirable - especially the latter. A planning area can include a desk and chair or center top and stool. The telephone, storage space for bills and receipts, and a place for cookbooks and recipes. The sewing area is convenient near the laundry area where a swing-out ironing board might be included. A cupboard for storing unironed clothes and mending to be done is an asset in this situation.

Regardless of the overall size of the kitchen, the areas or work centres for these main activities should be located so that work (meal preparation, serving, and clean-up) progresses in a continuous uninterrupted path from one centre to the next. The idea of the work triangle (from frig to sink to stove and back again) must be borne in mind. The ideal triangle should not exceed a total length of 21 feet on all three sides. This means that you are not taking a lot of extra steps to get from one to the other.

In planning your centres and their locations remember that the basic operations taking place in the kitchen are food preparation and storage, cleaning and dishwashing, and cooking and serving food.

Additional centres must fit in with this triangle and not interfere with the progress of work from one centre to the next.

Next week a word about the ideal measurements for counter tops and work space and how you can adapt them to your requirements.

Perhaps while we are thinking about planning a kitchen, it is a good time to think about proper food handling and sanitation. More food poisoning occurs when foods are prepared in large quantities by inexperienced people than at any other time. With the entertaining season approaching let's make an extra effort to be careful in the storage, preparation and serving of food.

The most common cases of food poisoning are due to either food infection or food intoxication. Food infections are caused by toxins or poisons formed by the bacterial growth present in the food. In either case the spoilage may or may not be visible on the food. This means extra care must be taken in the actual preparation to avoid danger of contamination. If in doubt, boil the food before tasting, if you remain in doubt discard the food at once.

The greatest single factor in preventing the contamination of food is cleanliness. The food should be obtained from a clean, uncontaminated source. The preparation centre must be clean. The person preparing food should always wash her hands before handling food. Conditions under which food is cooked and served should be clean.

Hot foods should be served hot, not lukewarm. Bacteria can survive under warm temperatures but most are killed by heat. Cold foods should be kept cold - refrigerated until served if possible.

Keep these three C's in mind - Care, Caution and Cleanliness - when preparing and serving food so that your family and friends won't be a victim of food poisoning.

Here's another delicious way to use apples in your menu this week:

Festive Fall Pork Chops
Meaty pork chops, slowly braised with dried fruits in sweet cider, are oh-so-tender. Perfect for fall meals -

6 pork chops, 1/2 inch thick
1 1/2 cups apple cider or apple juice
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon salt
2 tablespoons water
1/4 teaspoon curry powder
6 dried prunes, pitted
12 dried apricot halves
2 tablespoons cornstarch
Trim fat from chops; heat trimmings in skillet. When you have about 2 tablespoons melted fat, remove trimmings. Slowly brown pork chops on both sides in hot fat. Combine apple cider with sugar, salt, and curry powder; pour over chops. Place dried fruits on top of chops. Cover; cook over low heat about 1 hour or till chops are thoroughly cooked and fork-tender. Remove meat and fruit to a warm serving platter. Blend cornstarch with water; stir into pan juices. Cook and stir till mixture has thickened. Serve with pork chops and fruit. Makes 6 servings.

Earlier Opening Hour For Lobstermen

Lobster fishermen who fish in districts open in the fall in certain areas of the Maritimes have requested an earlier hour for the first day of the season. They have been assured by Fisheries Minister H. J. Robichaud that, while it is too late to take any action this year, consideration will be given to the whole problem in good time before the openings of the districts affected in the fall of 1965. The opening time at present in all districts is 10:00 a.m.

Mr. Robichaud made his statement following receipt of a number of petitions from Lobster Fishing District No. 4 which includes the Nova Scotia counties of Digby, Yarmouth, Shelburne, Queens and Lunenburg and part of Halifax County. It asked that the opening time be made 8:00 a.m. instead of 10:00 a.m. The lobster fishermen requesting the earlier starting hour said they needed the extra time in order to get all their traps set on the opening day. On the other hand, in the late fall there is little daylight before 8:00 a.m. and an earlier opening could make it difficult to control the departure time of fishermen in the semi-darkness, and result in a possible unfair occupation of some fishing grounds.

Requests for an earlier opening hour had previously been received from District 1, which takes in Charlotte and Saint John Counties on the New Brunswick side of the Bay of Fundy. In reviewing the whole problem, the minister said he would also consider that district and District No. 3, which includes the Fundy shore of Albert and Westmorland Counties in New Brunswick and Cumberland, Colchester, Hants, Kings and Annapolis Counties in Nova Scotia.

Scholarships For Negro Students

The provincial government will appoint a Director of Social Development for the province's Negro population and proposes to allot $25,000 for scholarship aid to promising Negro students, welfare Minister James M. Harding said today.

Addressing the Truro Rotary Club, Mr. Harding said the new division within the Department of Public Welfare will be concerned mainly with housing, education and employment opportunities of the Negro.

Mr. Harding said an official announcement will be made shortly concerning the scholarship aid including its exact terms of reference.

One of the main concerns of the social development director will be unemployment.

"Employment and income are basic to a healthy, stable community," said Mr. Harding.

"There is no point in talking about improving housing or education opportunities if people have lost hope in themselves and their ability to improve themselves, are unemployed and living hand-to-mouth existence on relief, or unable to clothe their children properly to enable them to attend school," he said.

Mr. Harding said the province is now paying 50 per cent of the cost of the social worker employed by the City of Halifax Housing Authority in the relocation of the residents of Africville and will assist other municipal units in housing improvement projects.

"We are convinced that we must help not only our Negroes but also the aged and other needy groups to improve their housing accommodations."

He said a study made by the Dalhousie Institute of Public Affairs in 1962 indicates a proportion of school dropouts for Negro children far in excess of what might be considered average for the province.

The government's proposal of scholarship aid will be available at all levels, but will have its greatest impact at the pre-high school and high school level, as it is there that the greatest number of dropouts occur.

The new director of Social Development will be responsible to the Inter-departmental Committee of which he will be permanent secretary.

The Inter-departmental Committee, concerned with Human Rights was formed in 1962. The main task of the Committee is to find ways and means of improving the lot of the province's 11,000 Negroes.

Announcement By C. F. Headquarters

The construction of a post-war construction program of destroyer escorts for the RCN will be commissioned HMCS Annapolis Dec. 19 at Halifax Shipyard Limited. The ship bears the name of a river in Nova Scotia and perpetuates the name of a Second World War destroyer of the Canadian Navy.

The program of destroyer escorts of Canadian design and construction began, with the laying down of HMCS St. Laurent, name ship of the series at her class, in 1950 at Canamap Vickers Ltd., Montreal.

Seven more advanced destroyer escorts came off the ways of Canadian shipyards, followed by four of the further improved Mackenzie class.

The new Annapolis is the same ship of yet another class incorporating in the construction stage a hangar and flight deck for the all-weather operation of the Sea King anti-submarine turbopropeller. The ship also has variable depth sonar. A sister ship, HMCS Nipigon, was commissioned in May at Sorel, Que.

Ships of the original St. Laurent class are being converted to the same configuration so that they can match the capabilities of the most modern submarines.

The original HMCS Annapolis was one of the 50 destroyers the United States exchanged with Canada for the Navy's Atlantic bases off the East Coast in 1945. She was named after the Second World War. She was built at Canamap Vickers Ltd., Montreal, and was commissioned by the RCN at Halifax Shipyard Limited. VOLUME XC, No. 16

Frank Baxter New Foreman Town Works Department

At the regular monthly meeting of the Digby Town Council, held Monday, December 7, at the Town Hall, Mr. John Raymond asked permission to address the council concerning ditching along road above his land. He claimed water runs across his land because of poor ditching. It was pointed out to Mr. Raymond that an adequate ditch already exists on upper side of road and that there are several roads in town whose ditching on lower side is impossible.

Mr. Frank Baxter, senior member of the town work crew, was appointed foreman of works with an increase in salary. Mr. Frank Robinson, Supt. of Streets, has been asked to postpone his retirement until the end of the year, when arrangements will be made to relieve him of his duties.

Plans for 1965 Apple Blossom Festival were discussed. A grant has been given to Digby Board of Trade for years to defray expenses. The Board takes or delegates responsibility to one of the other service clubs.

Parking meters, installed new two years ago, have shown an increase this year of almost double. Modern meters and better supervision are given as the reasons for the increase.

Parking on the east side, only, of First Avenue has been put into effect during the month. This move was made because of safety factors. Parking space on and near Water Street is always a problem — recent changes to parallel parking have made the situation worse. Properties to buy or expropriate on west side of First Avenue for parking was discussed. A committee was set up to survey the properties. A motion was passed, on recommendation of the Police Chief, that First Avenue between Town Hall and Liquor Store, be reserved as a loading zone and that a no-stopping zone be made from Liquor Store to Church Street.

Relief costs were over $300, last month, two-thirds paid by Provincial Government.

The Civil Defence organization within the town has swung into action for the winter months. Full cooperation was asked of the Council and townspeople. Courses have started. A move to organize outside town is underway in the forming of a Home Nursing group in Marshalltown.

Replacement on the town Board of Health, caused by the death of the late Wilmet Christie, is sought. The board now comprises Councillors Dr. Lewis, B. Bell, M. Comeau, and Wm. Troupe, Jr.

Building permits were issued to Sid Isnor, Digby Baptist Church, George Balser, Archie Amblerman, George Robicheau and one to Digby Fire Department to install a radio antenna near the reservoir on Sidney Street. The Department is installing two-way radio.

Chief of Police Dunn was commended by letter from the CPR re traffic control at the head of the wharf during the past summer. A letter from the Nova Scotia Traffic Control also commended the town and police department on the move to parallel parking.

A request by a delegation of town business men some time ago to have the railroad track on First Avenue planked was turned down by the DAR for several reasons: expense of upkeep and installation, danger and time wasted clearing tracks, difficulty in inspection of ties were given as some of the reasons.

Considerable discussion of the town's participation in joint Valley Boards of Trade was had. A full-time promotional director has been employed, whose wages are paid by the municipalities and towns. $250. is the town of Digby's share, and it was agreed the expense is a necessary one tourist-wise, and for other reasons.

Some time ago a letter went forward to the Minister of Highways, Stephen Pike, asking for financial help in the upkeep of the abutment supporting Water Street from the Salvation Army to the band stand. The upkeep of the paving has been a shavable expense through the years. A

Ministers' Institute

The monthly meeting of the Ministers Institute of Digby was held in the Baptist parsonage on Tuesday. The chairman, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, presided at the gathering.

Arrangements were made for the annual Week of Prayer services to be held on the week of January 2nd, and which will include four meetings.

Considerable discussion took place on the proposed Religious Survey of the people of the town of Digby and adjoining areas. It was decided to conduct the survey of all homes in the area early in March. It is planned to have this work done so thoroughly as to provide an adequate fund of information concerning the religious affiliation and activities of all people in the area.

Rev. L. R. Atkinson was present as a guest at the meeting and he told of similar surveys conducted elsewhere and of their value to churches.

A special record card is being prepared for the survey and a large team of workers will be required to do the work quickly and efficiently. The co-operation of all denominations in the town will be sought to make the survey a success.

Celebrates 90th Birthday

Mrs. James Greene celebrated her ninetieth birthday, December 8th, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. C. Churchill, Windsor, N. S. Mrs. Greene is the last surviving member of the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Sabeau, New Tusket, Digby Co., N.S. She lived for over sixty years in the village of New Tusket where she and her husband were held in high esteem as operators of a large farm.

At Mr. Greene's death in 1941 Mrs. Greene went to make her home with her daughter, and son-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Churchill. With them she has resided since that time. One other daughter, Mrs. Warren Smith is living in Quincy, Mass. A son, Russell, predeceased her some two years ago. She also has a number of grand children and great grand children. This past summer Mrs. Greene was the oldest guest at the 50th wedding anniversary of her niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mullen, New Tusket.

Mrs. Greene enjoys a fair degree of good health. Her hearing is slightly impaired, which makes it inconvenient for her to converse with friends when they visit. But when friends call they will not doubt find her busy making patchwork quilts, or reading one of the many modern books or periodicals coming into the home, or knitting for the Church Auxiliary. In the latter activity she provides many pairs of mittens for the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Windsor Baptist Church. Mrs. Greene maintains contact with many friends through her regular correspondence with them. She can still prepare a good meal for the family or guests thus maintaining her reputation as one of the finest cooks in the village where she lived during her married life.

On the previous Monday night Mr. and Mrs. Snow entertained at a supper bridge. Ladies high prize was won by Mrs. John Butler; consolation, Mrs. Fred Fowlow; lucky, Mrs. J. M. Paul, all of Cornwallis. Gentlemen's high was won by Dr. L. F. Dolron, Digby, and consolation by Commander F. Fowlow.

Dr. Thomas Rogers, formerly of Digby, has been elected president of the Shelburne Boy Scout Council.

D. Rogers and Mrs. Rogers, the former Miss Jean Anderson, of Digby, moved from Yarmouth to Shelburne a few years ago.

As a result of recent heavy snowfalls it is expected that the Bear River ski run will be in operation during the week-end. Operators of the run say that two feet of snow is already on the slopes and that skiing should be excellent. This is considered early in the season for the ski run to be in use.

meeting of Mayor Snow and Minister Pike to discuss the matter is to take place soon. Boxing Day was made a holiday. Negotiations with Municipal Council to find land outside town for a dump will be arranged by the Arbitration Committee when the Municipal Council holds its regular meeting in February.

Digby Baptist Cub Pack Wins Trophy

Despite the severe storm on Sunday morning there was a fairly large congregation present at the worship service in the Baptist Church of Digby. The pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, in an Advent message spoke from the words: "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father." In his message he stressed the fact that in Jesus revelation of the seeking God we find the climax of man's search for Him, and that in His demonstration of a saving God we find God meeting man's deepest needs.

Due to the storm the afternoon service at Hill Grove was cancelled, and the service in this church next Sunday will be in the evening at 7:30 p.m.

At the Women's League meeting on Tuesday evening, members of the Women's Missionary Society presented a program. Gifts were received for the use of the Port Worker in Halifax. The meeting was well attended.

High honors were accorded to the 5th Cub Pack, sponsored last Saturday to engage with other Cub Packs in a series of contests. The boys of the Digby church pack received the most number of scoring points and won the trophy. One hundred and six Cubs in all took part in the events. Cub Pack Leader Bill Poole and John Comeau were in charge of the 5th group, assisted by Scouts Scottie Smith and Gregory Dondale.

It was the day of the big snow storm but one hundred and eleven people got to the polling booth to cast their ballots, even though there was only one way traffic due to a break down in the snow plow.

Two residents were the candidates, Mr. Whitney Derby and Mr. Wilfred Swift and the latter was elected with 100 votes to 11 for Mr. Derby.

New Co-Op. Store At Comeauville

Plans are being formulated to organize a co-operative store to be constructed on the corner of the Comeauville wharf road, in the early spring. Several meetings have been held, the most recent being at the St. Mary's Parish Hall in the basement of the Glebe House.

Special speaker was Alec Dan Doucet, of the Public Relations Service, Maritimes Co-operative Service Ltd., of Moncton, N.B. Mr. Doucet explained the principals of the movement and the duties of the members. "The new co-operative store" shall be your own and dividends shall remain in the district and you shall be masters of your own destiny and your own masters," said Mr. Doucet.

The site of the new store has been purchased and sale of shares in the co-operative will take place in the near future. Shares will be of the value of $10.00 each and the most number of shares allowed to any one person will be 200.

Pierre Belliveau of Exterior Service of the St. Francois-Xavier University of Antigonish, explained the rules and regulations governing co-operatives. Mr. William Lefont, agricultural representative of the region, was present. The campaign captains are: Leonard Boudreau, Concession; Edwin Comeau, Grosses Coques; Jacques Stuart, Church Point; Edward Comeau, Little Brook; Hubert Comeau, Comeauville and Etienne (Steve) LeBlanc of Saulnierville.

Mrs. Kathleen Titus, of Weymouth, spent Thursday in Digby.

Residents of the Islands have once more undergone the frightening experience of being isolated from the mainland.

The passenger ferry boat, "Petite Ferry II," the only connecting link with the mainland at East Ferry, was completely demolished during last Tuesday's storm. Every attempt to save the boat by operators, Captain David Outhouse, Hilton Sollows, Welton Ossinger, Wilson Outhouse, Edwin Ossinger and Woodrow Outhouse, failed when the high seas wrenched the boat from its moorings at the ferry slip at Tiverton. It was completely demolished.

No Tiverton fishing boats were available to operate the scow. However, one was located at East Ferry the following day. Many residents said they breathed a sigh of relief when they learned the "temporary" ferry boat was in operation. The scow was undamaged in the storm.

Though the feeling of being isolated from the mainland is by no means unique, it is none the less frightening. It could mean the difference between life and death. It has, many times meant the loss of hundreds of dollars worth of fish. It means no supplies can reach the Islands. There have been many occasions when business officials, wholesale dealers, etc., have been "caught" on the Island and were forced to remain until the rough seas abated sufficiently to allow crossing. Many islanders have had to remain on the mainland, too.

A causeway that will provide the islands with a permanent link with the mainland, is not in any way comparable with a child's toy that he wishes for and dreams of owning, it is a dire necessity for the welfare, and business of both islands, not to mention for the mainlanders and islanders who wish to "make it home to-night!"

Bridge In Season

Christmas decorations, Christmas prizes and other features in keeping with the season added a special Christmas flavor to a twelve table ladies' bridge on Saturday night. The hostesses, Mrs. L. F. Dolron and Mrs. Charles Hersey, entertained at the Marla Motel.

Prizes for the evening were won by Miss Marjorie Tupper, high; Mrs. Percy Robert, 2nd; Mrs. L. Carson, consolation; Mrs. A. J. Dillon, grand slam and lucky prizes and Mrs. Grace Hicks, trick with two of spades.

Amid the splendor of festive decorations Mrs. Edward Twigg and Mrs. Keith Raymond entertained ten tables of bridge at the Digby Branch Canadian Legion Hall, Shore Road, on Monday night. Mrs. Florence Purves won high prize and Mrs. Quentin Wenaus, second. Travelling prize went to Mrs. E. H. Anderson, lucky to Mrs. L. M. Saunders and consolation to Mrs. C. C. MacInnes.

On Friday, November 27th, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lent celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary by entertaining friends at mixed bridge. Prizes were won by Mrs. Leigh Jayne and Fritz Dakin.

Pass Exams

Two candidates from Digby County were successful in passing the nursing assistant examination for registration held in Nova Scotia in October of this year. They were Miss Anna Marie Deveau, Meteghan, and Mrs. June Marie Pyne, East Ferry.

Mrs. Emery Post and Miss Margaret Troffy were supper guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Weir of Conway.

Earl Cossaboom, Bonchville, N. Y., arrived in Digby on Wednesday for a week's visit in the vicinity and with relatives in Nova Scotia.

About This and That

Example To All Negroes

Rev. W. P. Oliver, Halifax, was recently awarded an honorary doctorate at the University of Kings College. We think the most important aspect of this is that Dr. Oliver earned this honor. Honorary doctorates are not handed out by universities unless they are warranted. Dr. Oliver did not obtain his doctorate because "civil rights" is so much in the news today and this honor gives the appearance of "civil rights." Dr. Oliver was not given this honor because this would be looked upon as a nice gesture toward the Negro race which has been facing difficulties throughout the nations of the world. No, Dr. Oliver earned his doctorate degree and for that reason he obtained it. Dr. Oliver had a concern for the people of his race and he did something about it. As one letter writer in the daily press put it, "What we need are more leaders like the Rev. Dr. W. P. Oliver, who has worked hard to bring about some of the changes we have seen over the years. He is a native-born Nova Scotian with a clear understanding of our true problems and needs."

We agree. What the negro race needs are more Dr. Olivers. Who of the white race could do so much for the negro race as Dr. Oliver, one of their own race? We congratulate Dr. Oliver on receiving his doctorate. It is, indeed, an honor and an honor well deserved. It is an honor shared by the whole negro race and the doctorate conferred upon Rev. W. P. Oliver stands out as a shining example of what the negro can attain. The dedicated life of Dr. Oliver is a fine example for every negro to pattern. Dr. Oliver went further than "the negro must help his individual self." He was a negro who saw the needs of his entire race and helped to change the lives of other negroes over the years, as the letter stated.

We have negroes living in our Digby County communities. They have been highly respected here by all races and we pride ourselves on little if any race prejudice. But, just the same, in many ways the negroes have not had all the advantages that the white people have had. We are glad to see that definitely in the field of education, at any rate, our negro friends have made much progress in the past few years and this in time cannot help but better their lives all around. We think Dr. Oliver had much to do with this betterment of the negro's lot here, too, although we are not forgetting other people whom we know also shared in this good work. We think that Dr. Oliver, in his position in the Department of Education, is in a good position to see the needs and relieve any situations to an even greater extent than before. It is now a challenge of the Digby County negroes, along with others, to take this fine man as an example and set out with vigor to help put the lives of all negroes in the province on a higher plain. We know of some dedicated men and women in our negro communities right here who can do much. We look for big things and fine leadership from them.

But the negro race or any other race cannot make the most of their lives unless all races work together. Our negro population here is not so large but it is in small communities where the seeds of racial kindnesses are sown and they then grow to wider proportions. We have an opportunity right here to prove that world betterment and elimination of racial prejudice is not just idle talk or lip service. This idea is no better expressed than in the words of the late Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt:

"Where, after all, do universal human rights begin? In small places, close to home — so close and so small that they cannot be seen on any map of the world. Yet they are the world of the individual person: The neighborhood he lives in; the school or college he attends; the factory, farm or office where he works. Such are the places where every man, woman and child seeks equal justice, equal opportunity, equal dignity without discrimination. Unless these rights have meaning there, they have little meaning anywhere. Without concerted citizen action to uphold them close to home, we shall look in vain for progress in the larger world."

Congratulations to Dr. Oliver. We are proud of his achievements and we know the negro people must be especially proud of him. His life is a fine example for all to strive for attainment.

Hazardous Work

So long as the weather is fine, commercial fishing can be a pleasure as sports fishing is a pleasure with its carefully chosen days. We've even heard fishing compared as easier than teaching five hours a day and we can easily see that it can be. Fishing, too, is generally financially rewarding when the fish are running well and weather conditions favorable. But it took only one day last week to make us realize that fishing can be one of the most hazardous of occupations and a most non-lucrative business at times.

In other parts of the province lives were lost in the stormy seas of last week. We are more than thankful that loss of life, the worst hazard for those who make a livelihood by the sea, did not occur in this area. At the same time we cannot disregard the fact that thousands of dollars went down to the bottom of the sea in the loss of boats. This comes as a hardship to the fishermen and in Digby County the Neck and Islands area was particularly hard hit.

Each fishing boat, large or small, represents a small industry or represents the livelihood of a family at least. In many cases money is borrowed to invest in fishing boats and gear in order to earn a living from the sea. Whether borrowed and fully paid back or only partly paid, there is a terrific sudden financial loss unless the boats and gear are well insured. To this must be added the loss of income while the boats and gear are being replaced if no other means to earn is made available. Last week's storm, coming the second day after the opening of the lobster season, must have been a keen disappointment to the fishermen who anticipated a good catch and some extra money for the Christmas shopping season.

PLAY IT SAFE

One of the big hazards of winter driving is the poisonous cloud of exhaust fumes spewing into the air in heavy traffic. Keep the car window open enough to let fresh air inside. If you begin to feel drowsy, pull out of traffic and walk around in the fresh air for a while. Carbon monoxide can be unnoticed, sickening, fatal. It can happen to you!

Mrs. Eustace Wright is spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Wright in Annapolis a fter returning from Digby General Hospital having had an eye operation. Mrs. E. Riley of Clements-port and Mrs. G. Riley and Julie of Granville Ferry visited Mrs. Howard Apt on Sunday. Mrs. Loran Potter visited her daughter, Mrs. Ronald Cooper and family in Halifax one day last week. Mrs. Russell Durkie of Kentville spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. John Wright. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown of Bear River visited Mr. and Mrs. John Wright on Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Murray Berry of Caledonia called on Mr. and Mrs. Robert Berry on Sunday. A double baby shower was held recently at the home of Mrs. Darrell Lewis, Gullivers Cove in honor of Mrs. Keith VanTassel and her daughter Mrs. John Kendall. They both received many nice gifts and all invited guests enjoyed the evening. Refreshments were served before the guests departed for their homes. Recent evening visitors at the home Mr. and Mrs. Waters Comeau were Mr. and Mrs. Loran Shaw of Centerville and Max Robbins of Digby. Miss Annie MacKay of Digby and Mrs. Hilda Burns of Marblehead, Mass. were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Oswald Mullen. Miss MacKay and Miss Burns left last week for Marblehead, Mass. Mrs. Laura Height of Waterford spent the weekend at her home here. Mr. Bernard Banks of Bedford called on Mr. and Mrs. Thurston Banks on Monday morning.

The fishing occupation is indeed a hazardous one to the owners of the boats and to those who do the fishing. We are distressed for those who lost boats, fishing equipment and loss of revenue from Tuesday's wildest gale. Indeed, they are not the only losers for any loss of revenue on the Digby Neck and Islands is felt further in Digby County than their own immediate vicinities. But it is to the direct losers of fishing boats and the ferry boat that we express our distress in the losses they sustained from last week's storm, considered the worst experienced on the Neck and Islands.

Small Fish Plants

Today the tendency is growing more and more to larger industrial enterprises. Farms are found to be operated more profitably on a larger scale than by many small farms owned by many different farmers. The trend seems to be the same in every business, even the newspaper business. Small businesses are finding it harder and harder to be successful as the years go on and they either fade away entirely or amalgamate. Despite this we feel that Baden Powell, MLA, has issued a sensible note of warning about the fish plants in this area. A story in last week's Courier tells of Mr. Powell's urging the protection of these small plants in our own locality.

The fishing plants on Digby Neck and Islands alone represent an investment of nearly two million dollars. Add to this the investment in Digby and in the Clare area and no small sum is figured. These plants are the main financial stay of the County. Indeed we have heard merchants in Digby town say that you certainly feel the effects in Digby when the fishing is poor on the Neck and Islands. We, too, feel every protection should be given these small industries if our economic condition in this area is not to deteriorate more than it has. We ask, what is there to take the place of these?

We do feel, however, that the protection of these small fishing plants, wherever located, must be a two way proposition. It doesn't take many spoilsports to put a quirk in the works for everybody and in the case of the fishing industry a few unsanitary and ill-kept fishing premises could probably bring down some hard and stricter measures to protect the consumer public. This is necessary, too, we must all realize.

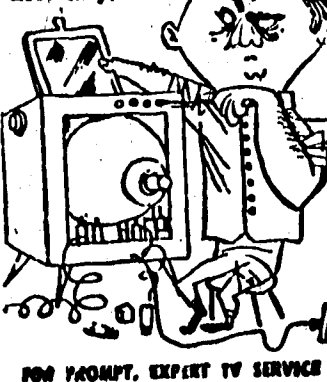

In any case we hope that the fish dealers and all working together can find a way to make the fish dealers' burdens less arduous and keep these small fishing plants operating successfully in our midst. They are the bread-and-butter of Digby County. We all need them. Any support we can give the fishing industry in the way of obtaining better facilities to make their jobs easier is returned to each and every one of us by a better economy for the entire area.

Your Editor's Tale Of Woe

If we print humor, people say we are silly.
If we don't, they say we are too serious.
If we print feature stories, we are ignoring important events in world affairs.
If we don't, we have no eyes for the human interest things of life.
If we reprint things from other papers, we are too lazy to write for ourselves.
If we don't, we are too fond of our own stuff.
If we don't print contributions, and bits of poetry, we don't appreciate true genius.
If we do, the paper is full of junk.
If we include extra pictures, we ought to have more reading stuff.
If we leave them out, our paper lacks sparkle.
And now, likely as not, someone will say we swiped this from some other paper.
Well, for the most part, we did.

If You're TIRED

Now and then everybody gets a "tired-out" feeling and may be bothered by backache. Perhaps nothing seriously wrong, just a temporary condition caused by urinary irritation or "ladder discomfort." That's the time to take Dadd's Kidney Pills. Dadd's help stimulate the kidneys to relieve this condition which may often cause backache and tired feeling. Then you feel better, rest better, work better.

Replaces Ferry Boat

The "Bonnie C" fishing boat is replacing the "Petite Ferry 11", passenger-ferry boat which operated on Petite Passage which separates Long Island at Tiverton from the mainland at East Ferry. The Petite Ferry 11 was completely demolished during last Tuesday's storm, while tied up at the ferry slip at Tiverton.

Boat Sinks

Murland Outhouse, Tiverton, high line fisherman of the area, watched helplessly as his fishing boat, the "Lackawanna", foundered in the heavy seas created by gale force winds. She finally sank at her moorings in the harbour during the height of last Tuesday's storm. Most of the traps that were piled on the boat, were retrieved as they washed ashore.

Murland Outhouse is married and has two sons at home, Wayne and Christopher.

Notice To Motor Vehicle Owners

Obstructing Snow Removal

In order that the Department of Highways may provide a reasonable standard of winter maintenance including snow ploughing on the highways it is essential that motor vehicle owners and operators observe the law governing parking on the highways during the winter months.

The Motor Vehicle Act, Section 121A provides that: 121A (1) ... no person wilfully shall park or leave standing a vehicle whether attended or unattended, upon a highway or any part thereof in such manner that it might interfere with or obstruct snow removal or winter maintenance operations on the highway.

(2) Where a vehicle is parked or left standing on a highway in such manner that it interferes with or obstructs snow removal or winter maintenance operations, the Department or a peace officer may cause the vehicle to be moved or towed to some other place.

(3) Any cost incurred by the Department or a peace officer in moving or towing a vehicle under subsection (2) may be recovered from the owner of the vehicle and such debt shall constitute a lien against the vehicle.

Winter parking is a problem for many motorists; the Department asks for your co-operation in parking YOUR vehicle well off the highway (especially overnight), so as not to interfere with snow plough operations.

Land Turned Over To Federal Government

The Provincial Government has turned over 93,600 acres of western Nova Scotia forest land to the Federal Government to be developed as a national park, Lands and Forests Minister E. D. Haliburton said today.

Mr. Haliburton said the Executive Council passed an Order in Council a few weeks ago authorizing transfer of title to federal authority.

The minister said it will cost the province nearly $1,000,000 to buy the privately owned land in the 146 square mile area to be known as Kejimikujik National Park.

"We hope this big investment will be returned many times over as the result of increased tourist trade in that part of the Province," he said.

"Most of the area is exceedingly park-like in terms of forest and there is over 13,600 acres of fresh water lakes, rivers and streams. Federal park authorities have said the new park will be one of the most attractive in all Canada.

"Climatic conditions will be favorable since the trails and campsites will be sheltered, warm and free from fog. Bathing facilities in warm lakes, canoe and hiking trails and some of the best fishing in the province will undoubtedly be developed."

"As a national park it can be assumed that the area will also be a wildlife sanctuary and this will make it unnecessary for the province to maintain the Tobaccie game sanctuary."

The Department of Highways will declare the same route within three miles of the entrance subject to the legislation which controls parkways, said the Minister.

"It is also understood that a small satellite park comprising coastal and beach areas will be selected and developed with the main park. When the federal authorities have designated the area, it will be acquired. If the area is not already Crown land it will be purchased and transferred."

The park area was made up of 19,800 acres of Crown land; 15,000 acres owned by Bowater Mersey Limited and the balance of 28,800 acres was privately owned.

Extend French Radio Network To Yarmouth Co.

Improved French network radio coverage in southern Nova Scotia was announced today by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

The director for the Maritime Provinces, S. R. Kennedy announced today in Halifax that a new low-power relay transmitter (LPRT) will be in operation at Quinan, N.S., on December 1 or shortly thereafter.

Located approximately fifteen miles east of Yarmouth, this 40-watt transmitter will broadcast on a frequency of 600 kilocycles and its call letters will be CBAS. It is the sixth French LPRT in Nova Scotia with others located at Wedgeport, Digby, Weymouth, Meteghan and Yarmouth.

CBAS will bring the full CBC French language radio service to the residents of this South Shore community and the surrounding area at a time when seasonal programs will be broadcast and appreciated by listeners.

Low-power relay transmitters are connected to the network, operate unattended, and are only able to relay programs within a limited local area. They cannot originate programs.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1964

was Mrs. Wilfred Cosman, using the theme: "Our Mission Under God", which is the call of God to witnesses around the world to his redemptive love. First, Mrs. Cosman referred to the Great Commission given by Jesus himself "to go into all the world". God is at work, and His followers are co-laborers with him. Men and women must first of all commit their lives to Christ and continue to grow spiritually, actions portray one's faith in Christ more than words. Important above all else in this day and age is a church alive to its mission under God. Now is the time for spiritual renewal in the life of the Church, and this will come when Christians awaken to their responsibilities and discover anew their mission under God", said Mrs. Cosman.

Letter to the Editor

North Range,
Dec. 7, 1964.

The Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

Where are our feathered friends this winter? Not a chick-a-dee at the feeding station by our window. Other years as many as half a dozen could be seen throughout the day clinging to the shingles or window sills waiting their turn for a feast of suet. Thus far, since the first snow-storm, the bird population in this section of Nova Scotia is nil.

Report From Parliament Hill

George C. Nowlan

December 5, 1961. The past week has been a stormy one, both climatically and politically. Of the climate, I can speak with some little authority, because as some of you know, I went over to Digby on Monday, the 30th, and was marooned there until the storm somewhat subsided on Wednesday. I think it was one of the roughest trips I have ever made across the Bay of Fundy, and that covers a long period of years. Certainly there was terrific damage to the fishing fleet generally, and particularly to the lobster fishermen who had just put out their traps prior to the storm. On that matter, there should be a discussion in the House of Commons, but due to the Rules to which I will refer in a moment, it has been impossible to raise it at this time.

Politically, Parliament was again dealing with the flag debate. This time it was a very technical debate. As everyone knows, the House of Commons, like every other organization, operates under certain fixed rules. In other words, we have an agenda the same as any other organization. The first item on the agenda of the House of Commons on each and every day of its sitting is "Reports of Committees". Now you will remember that many weeks ago the matter of the Flag was referred to a Special Committee. That Committee has finalized on its report, of which we have read a great deal in the newspapers. Technically, however, the Report has not yet been presented to the House of Commons. That is the matter with which Parliament was confronted this week. When the Speaker started calling off the agenda last Monday, his first item was

"Reports of Committees." The first Committee, of course, was the Committee on the Flag. There Parliament came to a full stop. We have been discussing the report of that Committee during the whole week. As a result, there has been no opportunity for questions or for any other routine business which usually comes before Parliament. Otherwise, for instance, I would have liked to raise a question as to what the Government intended to do to assist the lobster fishermen who lost tens of thousands of dollars worth of lobster traps last Monday. However, as I have pointed out above, under our Rules, this was not possible. We are caught in a straightjacket, because we must continue to deal with "Reports of Committees" until we have finished that item.

There are two arguments which could be advanced in this connection. There are those who undoubtedly will say, "Why do you discuss the Flag further?" "Why don't you finish it?" "Why don't you adopt the Committee's Report?" There are others, however, who say, "Why should the Government insist on going ahead with this matter when there are other vitally important matters which should be discussed?" After all, it must be remembered that it is the Government that is responsible for bringing in this Flag debate, not the Opposition. It is the Government who plans the business of the House from day to day, not the Opposition.

Of course in the meantime, other matters are being dealt with on Parliament Hill. One matter of interest will be the inquiry to be conducted by Chief Justice, the Honourable Frederic Doherty. Various parties involved in the inquiry have been busily engaged surveying the field of adequate Counsel in the Province of Quebec, and my grapevine suggests that there will be a large number of Counsel retained to represent the various parties whose names have been associated with this whole matter, prior to the appointment of Mr. Justice Doherty. Of course in the meantime, the situation has been aggravated by the report of the

Mixed Curling Saturday Night

Police Commission in Ontario which states publicly that they were given no information whatsoever by the Minister of Justice with respect to certain criminals in whose movements they were interested. The Minister of Citizenship & Immigration also is accused of not supplying information to the Commission. When this Commission was conducting its inquiries, by the way, Mr. Favreau was Minister of Citizenship & Immigration, and then Mr. Tremblay took over that post when Mr. Favreau became Minister of Justice. Altogether there is a rather smelly odour from this whole affair of charges and counter-charges, and it is to be hoped that Mr. Justice Doherty, with the assistance of competent Counsel, representing all of the Parties, will be able to bring to light all of the facts which are necessary for the Commission, and the public, to weigh the evidence and to reach conclusions.

Of course, as the snow is falling in the Gaspereau Hills as this is being dictated, everyone is naturally hoping to get home for Christmas. At the moment, that is an undecided factor. However, Parliament is master in its own House, and I have the feeling that before too many days have elapsed, it might be possible to adjourn this Session of Parliament and permit the Members to get away from here and have a much needed breathing spell before they return to their duties early next year.

I said earlier that other matters, besides the Flag, were being dealt with. The Joint Committee of the House of Commons and Senate is starting to review the Canada Pension Bill. This will be a much longer task than originally envisaged by the Government. It is generally understood that it was hoped by the Minister of National Health & Welfare that the Committee could conclude its study before the end of this year. That, of course, was 'wishful thinking' and I understand that the hope has been abandoned. The various groups and organizations have been urged to prepare their briefs prior to the end of the year so that they can be submitted to the Committee early in 1962. A careful study of these briefs will require several weeks of concentrated effort, and my guess is that the Pension Bill will not be reported back to the House of Commons until some time in February or March of 1962.

Homemaker's Corner

By Janet Walker
Home Economist
Department of Agriculture

One of the most important yet often least thought about factors in kitchen planning is lighting. Lighting brings beauty as well as efficiency to a kitchen. Eyestrain is one of the commonest causes of fatigue, therefore, must be given top priority in any plan.

A well-planned lighting system starts with a ceiling fix-ture or fixtures scaled in output to suit the size of the room. In addition to this general lighting, there should be fixtures under the wall cabinets in work areas and over the sink and range, table, desk and laundry area.

As a general rule, every 50 square feet of kitchen takes one ceiling fixture equipped with 150 to 175 watts incandescent (ordinary light bulbs) or 60 to 80 watts of fluorescent. Plan on a 30 watt fluorescent mounted 22 inches above the range, two 30 or 40 fluorescent lights on or in soffit or ceiling above sink; a 20 watt fluorescent set just under the cabinets over each 30-inch length of counter. A minimum of 150 watts incandescent is recommended in the eating area. Don't forget that colors and ceiling height can modify the amount of light needed.

Light is reflected when we see it. A dark color absorbs more light and light color reflects more; hence a kitchen with large dark areas requires more light than one with light counter tops and cabinets. Shiny surfaces increase the amount of light reflected and too large a shiny area may result in discomfort due to glare. High ceilings increase the amount of light needed.

Although the amount of light is very important the quality must not be neglected. All fixtures should be shielded with translucent materials such as enameled and flashed opal glass and plastics. Avoid something that will conceal but not break the glare. With the wide variety of materials and fixtures available today, it is easy to find the right type for any kitchen. The basis for adequate lighting is of course good wiring so plan your lighting and wiring at the same time.

Ventilation depends upon wiring too. Your kitchen is well ventilated only if the right fan system is helping you. Unlike the breeze from the window the fan is always there at your command. It is ready to remove food odor, grease, smoke, heat and moisture; protecting you and your kitchen. There are many types of hood-fan combinations, in which come in many qualities and prices. It is a good idea to shop around and compare the varieties. There are two basic types available - ducted and non-ducted.

Fan systems are often placed in hoods over ranges or cook-tops. The fan can be built into the hood area, mounted in cabinet space directly above the hood. With a ducted ventilation system, it is important to vent outside via the shortest and most direct duct walk. Extra elbows reduce air flow greatly. It still may be possible to have this system even when the range is on an inside wall. Non-directed ventilator are fitted in range or oven hood and may be hung on a wall or suspended below a cabinet where it is impossible to have a duct to an outside wall. This type reduces grease, smoke, and odors, but will not remove heat or moisture.

The basic principles of the two types are that a ducted ventilator removes the air completely, while in the non-ducted type the air passes through activated carbon or charcoal and is returned to the room.

C. F. M. refers to the performance of a ducted kitchen ventilating system rated on the basis of how many cubic feet of air are moved per minute. The larger the C.F.M. the greater the movement and the better the performance. Certified exhaust systems will carry a tag attached to the fan. This shows the number of square feet a fan will ventilate based on 8 foot high ceilings. Know the dimensions of your kitchen and your dealer will help figure out what C.F.M. you need.

CURLING RINK ROOF COLLAPSES —

Fortunately, no curling plays were in process when a section of the roof and two walls of the Digby Curling Club rink collapsed on Saturday morning.

The accident happened about six o'clock in the morning. By nine o'clock, about twelve or fourteen students from the Digby schools would have been occupying the rink for regular practice. It is understood, that seventy-five students use the rink each Saturday.

Heavy wet snow on the roof was considered the cause of the collapse of the 100 ft. by 30 ft. area which fell on the floor of the rink and forced out the west and south walls. The three lane ice surface was not damaged.

Immediately following emergency meetings, curlers and their friends began clearing out the debris. High school boys gave a hand at clearing up and salvaging usable materials Tuesday. The rink is attached to the west side of the Forum and is part of the forum. Plans were made at the meetings to reconstruct and "stay on the hill" as one spokesman put it; "the Forum needs us and we need the Forum".

Already $3580 has been pledged in support of reconstruction and a committee headed by J. J. Brittain was formed to seek additional revenue by means of a canvass and other fund raising projects. A pot-luck supper was held this week and a dinner planned for later in the week. Included in the $3580 was $1000 pledged by the Ladies Curling Club.

Replacing of the structure is expected to cost in the vicinity of eight to ten thousand dollars. J. J. Brittain, A. L. Robinson and H. G. Webber are on the building committee. Plans are to have a roof with more slant and supported by metal pipes.

Guild Elects Slate

St. Anne's Guild, Smith's Cove, held its annual meeting in the basement of the church on Monday. Due to the absence of the rector, Rev. W. H. Logan, who is a patient in the Annapolis General Hospital, Bishop R. H. Waterman chaired the meeting.

The President, Mrs. C. R. Curry, in her report, stated how gratified she was that this year St. Anne's Guild was able to donate money to the Parish and also outside the local church, showing a broadening of horizon. The Treasurer reported, after all commitments met, a balance of $91.95.

Officers duly elected were: President, Mrs. Earl Thomas; Vice-president, Mrs. Wilfred Paxton; Secretary, Mrs. Robert Huey; Treasurer, Mrs. Freeman Beeler.

The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Earl Thomas, Joggin Bridge.

Digby Regional High School Downed 7-5

Digby Regional High School Hockey Team went down to defeat here on Saturday in a 7-5 game against Lawrence-town School.

Score at the end of the first period was in favor of Lawrence-town 4-0 and again in the second by 5-2. In the third period Digby recovered making a tie score with the opposition but went down to defeat in the last period 7-5.

Scoring for the Digby team were Richard Cook with 2 goals and one assist; Donnie Doucette, 1 goal; Billy Nickerson, 1 goal; Andy Doucette, 1 goal, 1 assist, and an assist each went to John Coles, Gordon Robinson and Garry Tidd.

Lionettes Hold Party
On December 3rd, the Lionettes held their Christmas party in the Lions Hall. An enjoyable evening was spent playing games and exchanging gifts, followed by refreshments.

Rev. James Pike was a visitor last week in Halifax.

Mrs. M. S. Leonard and daughter, Joye, were visitors in Halifax last week.

SKATING RINK ROOF SAFE

Dr. J. R. McCleave, chairman of the Digby Recreation Commission, reported to the Digby Courier on Wednesday that the roof of the Digby Forum is perfectly good and solid. An experienced contractor was engaged to inspect the roof this week and found the roof in good condition.

It is understood that since the collapse of the roof of the curling rink, parents have been telephoning the chairman of the Recreation Commission expressing fears for the children's safety when in the Forum. The curling rink, part of the Forum building, was an addition constructed at a later time than the construction of the Forum. The new construction of the curling rink will provide a more slanted roof and other features of better protection. Dr. McCleave wants to assure the parents of the safety of the Forum.

Ski School Attracts Visitors

Bear River and neighbouring towns and villages will enjoy an unaccustomed run of winter visitors for two days in January. The ski school will meet in Bear River in January, when about 100 skiers are expected to be on hand.

Too bad we can't count on this additional tourist trade every winter. One hundred visitors must have places to sleep and eat and places to buy supplies. Somebody will benefit. Then, if a small percentage return to use the Bear River ski slopes after the school has finished, we will have gained from the school and because of the ski run in the beautiful "Switzerland of Nova Scotia."

Mr. Hartlin Brings Advent Message

Continuing his series of Advent sermons, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, the pastor of the Baptist Church of Digby, spoke to a near capacity congregation on Sunday morning on the text "There was no room for them in the inn." He stated that all through his life Jesus was shut out from many of the normal human relationships. Many of his contemporaries died without knowing Him. Most of the people who did know Him had no room for this great invasion of the life of God into the life of men. They were looking for a leadership of force rather than the kind of leadership that Christ offered.

Christ and Christmas, he said, comes reminding us to make room in our lives and civilization for humility. He comes telling us to make room for the obscure, the insignificant, the lowly, the commonplace. The people of that first century were so busy listening to the noisy things of the world that the Silent Night came and went unnoticed. That is also our danger.

We are also reminded by Christmas that something of the life of God is born into the world with the birth of every baby, and we must make room in our lives for respect and reverence for childhood. In a final note, the pastor said we must make more room for the spirit of good-will and in ways that mean something more than words. The powers of evil are everywhere, and only the spirit of Christian good-will and love have the power to overcome the forces of darkness and evil.

Christmas services will be held next Sunday with morning worship in the Digby church. In the evening the Canadian Girls in Training will conduct their Christmas Vesper Service. The service at 2:30 p.m. will be held at Hill Grove church and will include the Sunday School Christmas Concert.

The evening was spent in playing games followed by opening the many beautiful shower gifts which were presented to Evelyn in a decorated container.

Mrs. George O'Neill, mother of the bride, assisted the hostesses in serving a lunch at the close of the evening.

Kiwanis Gives $1,000.00 To Hospital

Above in the picture Mrs. Grace Edwards, administrator of the Digby General Hospital receives from William MacLeod, president of the Digby Kiwanis Club a cheque for $1,000. The Digby Kiwanis Club has been sponsoring the children's ward in the Digby General Hospital and will continue to sponsor the Pediatric ward in the new hospital. To the left of Mr. MacLeod is F. C. Purdy, chairman of the Digby General Hospital Board. Next to Mrs. Edwards is C. V. Snow, treasurer of Kiwanis.

Mrs. Edwards in a short talk to Kiwanis compared the present 152 square foot children's ward to the new children's wing which will be contained in the hospital. In the present hospital there are five beds, one crib and one bassinette. The new wing measures one thousand square feet. There are twenty beds in all sizes. There is a playroom of two hundred square feet. There are utility rooms, treatment rooms, bath, kitchen, nurse's station. It has a two way call system and there are two rooms for isolation cases or private rooms.

The children's wing which looks over the Annapolis Basin is done in a pale yellow color scheme. It is well lighted, cheerful and airy. The floors are tiled to blend in color scheme and draperies are of a nursery design. Mrs. Edwards remarked "It is fantastic, almost unbelievable".

Mrs. Edwards was introduced by Mr. Purdy.

Another important feature of Kiwanis held on Thursday night at the New Scotia Restaurant was the induction of three new members. They were Alvin W. Hendsbee, District Supervisor of the Department of Welfare, Digby; Capt. Paul Murray, Salvation Army, Digby, and C. C. MacInnes, principal of the Digby Regional High School. The induction was presided over by C. M. Levy and Mr. MacLeod presided at the meeting and other functions.

Mr. Levy gave some interesting facts about Kiwanis International and spoke on the re-organizing of Kiwanis here in 1944 and which has continued to grow since then with 30 members at present enrolled. He pointed out to the men the importance of attendance and said each was expected to do something for the club. He also referred to the original Kiwanis Club in Digby which used to meet on the Princess Helene. So far as he knew that was the only club known to meet regularly on an ocean going ship.

The pins were presented to the newly inducted by H. M. Warne. The new members were welcomed by Mr. MacLeod who stated that six new members had been inducted in the club in 1964.

Donald Brown, president elect, reported that Christmas trees would again be on sale by Kiwanis. Edward Twohig also reported a second lot of apples would be on sale.

Plans were made to have a Christmas Party at the Digby Legion Hall this evening with an invitation extended to Kiwanis Queens and the Weymouth group. Mr. MacLeod was to look after arrangements; Mrs. L. M. Saunders, Kiwanis Queen, refreshments; Joe Hattie, prizes and J. J. Brittain, program.

The president reported that greetings had been received from the Georgia Area Club, Atlanta and also from a club in Oklahoma, to whom he had sent scallop shells in response to a request for an article for use on their tables.

Dr. J. R. McCleave received the trophy for telling the best story.

"Bluenose" Off Christmas Day

The Canadian National ferry "Bluenose" will, as in past years, make no crossing between Yarmouth and Bar Harbor, Maine, on Christmas Day. Instead, she will remain at Yarmouth, and will resume her tri-weekly schedule by leaving there Monday, December 28.

The announcement was made Thursday by J. G. Davis, Maritime Area Manager for C.N.

The custom of not running the ferry on Christmas Day began when it was found that there was not enough traffic offering at this holiday to make the crossing worthwhile. For the crew of the sleek ferry the decision has a fringe benefit. It enables them to spend the holiday in the Yarmouth area with their families.

During November the "Bluenose" carried 1,313 passengers, 49 fewer than in the same month last year. The number of automobiles carried was 478, an improvement of 16 over the previous November. The number of trucks and truck trailers carried, 174, was also an increase over the total for the same period in 1963, when 18 fewer made the crossing.

Married 59 Years

Shown are Mr. and Mrs. Leander Doucette who celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary on November 23rd. Mr. Doucette also celebrated his 89th birthday on same day. Mrs. Doucette is 85 years of age.

In the evening relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Doucette, where a delicious lunch was served and they were the recipients of many gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Doucette have five children and seven grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

FERRY BOAT BEING BUILT

Transmitter Burns

Fire early Sunday did extensive damage to the CJCH television transmitter at the New Lookoff, near Canning, resulting in a disruption of service to the entire Valley area and northern Nova Scotia.

The 20,000 watt transmitter which services channel 10 in the Annapolis Valley, also feeds CJCH and CTV Network programs to channel 6, Digby, and channel 8, Amherst. As a result of the damage to the Valley station, the Digby and Amherst stations were forced off the air during Sunday and Monday. All stations were functioning normally on Tuesday. The fire was probably of electrical origin.

Though the burned transmitter will have to be replaced by a new one, CJCH officials say that equipment has been borrowed from the CBC so that service could continue until the new transmitter arrives from Montreal. On Sunday and Monday only the Halifax area was serviced on channel 5.

Customs In Renovated Post Office

The Village of Weymouth, was among those on a list from Ottawa which stated that tenders had been called for eleven more small revenue post offices.

The tender, which closed on Wednesday (Dec. 9) was actually called for "extension and alterations to standard post office, Weymouth" as the post office here was one of the first to be built under the winter works program of the federal government and was opened in July, 1959.

It is reported that the new addition to this building will provide an office for the customs department now housed in the Powell Building.

Miss Eileen Hallett is post mistress here with full time assistants, Albert E. Jones and Stanley Brooks and a part time assistant, Mrs. Harold Amiraull and there are four rural routes presently operating from the office.

Fish Plants Have Cleanliness Responsibility

The dual problem of water supplies and sewage disposal for fish plants in the Maritime Provinces will be satisfactorily resolved only with close liaison between provincial and federal authorities, the chief of the inspection branch of the Canada Department of Fisheries said in Halifax.

Speaking at the two-day semi-annual water conference of the Nova Scotia Water Authority, C. M. Blackwood said the most fundamental responsibility rests with the communities and the fishing industries concerned.

"However, the provincial and federal authorities also have an important role to play and it is only by having close liaison between public health engineering, Department of Mines, the Water Authority, and the provincial and federal fishery departments will the problem be satisfactorily resolved."

Mr. Blackwood said a top quality product must not only be of high grade in terms of its sensory perceptible quality factors, but it must also be handled throughout all stages of processing according to rigid standards of sanitation. "This is to ensure a product free from pathogenic bacteria and other potentially harmful substances, and one also of high aesthetic value."

Mr. Blackwood said industry and government have recognized the need to maintain minimum standards for the construction, equipment, and operation of all fish plants to attain this product.

"The latest development in this direction was the announcement by the minister of fisheries that, in April 1965, all fresh and frozen plants are

Arrangements have been made by the owners of the Tiverton East Ferry boat, which was lost in the recent severe storm, to have a new boat built in replacement.

This was the word received by R. Baden Powell, M.L.A., from the N. S. Minister of Highways, Stephen Pyke, when the storm damage in the area was brought to the attention of the minister by Mr. Powell. The highway ferry between Tiverton and East Ferry is subsidized by the government.

Because the operators of the ferry were able to charter a heavy duty fishing boat to use until the new boat is completed only 36 hours of non service between the Islands and the main land was experienced. Mr. Pyke pointed out that due to overall length, power and draft, it was impossible to either charter or provide a craft that could provide the same service as in the past.

The boat now in operation is not as heavily constructed as the boat that was lost and not as heavy as the new boat to be constructed. Therefore, it is expected that there will be periods during exceptionally rough weather when it will be impossible to operate the ferry. Mr. Pyke asked the co-operation of all using the ferry service to bear with any delays which might be encountered until the new boat is in service. He also extended thanks to those who voluntarily rendered assistance in attempting to salvage the remains of the motor vessel and in securing the scow.

Unit 1 Christmas Meeting

On Tuesday evening, December 8, Unit 1 of the United Church Women were invited to the Manse for their Christmas meeting. The worship service was conducted by Mrs. Oakley Turnbull, consisting of scripture reading by Mrs. William Clayton, poem by Mrs. Bryson Denton and a duet by Mrs. Ronald Denton and Mrs. Graham McPherson, followed by singing carols. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Police Promotion

E. Waldon Lewis, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellery Lewis of Halifax formerly of Danvers, Digby County, N. S. is receiving congratulations on his recent promotion, to the rank of detective, with the Halifax Police Department.

Detective Lewis joined the force in November 1957, working as a patrol constable until 1963, at which time he began work with the detective division.

Mrs. M. P. Gott Entertains Hospital Board

The Digby General Hospital Board held their December meeting on Tuesday evening at the Hedley House, Smith's Cove.

Following the meeting the members were served a chicken dinner.

to be registered. "After consultation with industry, the inspection service has developed the minimum standards for construction, equipment, and operation which must be met by all plants in order to be registered."

"We are presently revising our inspection regulations, and it has been further proposed by the deputy minister of fisheries that effective April 1966, all fish plants processing fish for export are to be registered."

Now minimum standards for the registration of these plants are currently under consideration by industry and the inspection service.

"We do, of course, have standards for most plants at the present time, but the revised regulations proposed for 1966 involve streamlining the present regulations as well as introducing a more comprehensive inspection program," he said.

About This and That

Be Thankful, No Tragedy

Can you imagine what a sad Christmas there could have been in Digby? Had there been 12 or 14 teenagers in the Digby curling rink when the roof caved in, possibly some or all of them might have been killed or badly injured. So let's be thankful that the accident happened at 6 a.m. on Saturday instead of 9 a.m. when the High School students would have been curling. Or at some other time when any of the 75 students who curl on Saturday might have been there. Or when the adults were curling, for that matter.

But being thankful that no lives were lost or limbs impaired doesn't excuse us from any responsibility. The fact that the accident could have happened when a few or a lot of people were in the curling rink should give us something to think about. Places where many people gather and especially where children gather, who are not always keen to seeing danger approach, should have periodic and thorough inspection. We are not saying that this accident was a fault of those in charge, but financing on a "shoe string" as the Digby Recreation Commission has to do could probably deter thorough examinations. If we are to have a Forum and a curling rink within its bounds, maybe it would be safer and wiser to get behind the Recreation Commission and see that they have funds to operate to the best of their ability.

Bouquets

Many have been the words we have heard in appreciation of a job well done by Sid Isnor, who has recently retired as employee of Digby town in the capacity of street cleaner. But, wasn't it a fine gesture of Rev. E. C. Churchill Windsor, formerly of Digby, to express his appreciation in print where Sid could see it and Sid's friends could read it? When such sentiments are put in print they make nice clipping mementoes to enjoy in later years. We, too, add our expressions of a job well done by Sid and extend congratulations and best wishes to him on his retirement.

Then last week we were called by telephone by a lady who wanted to hand our town streets committee and the workmen a bouquet. Said lady was to make a trip to the Digby General Hospital for a 9 o'clock appointment. She was most grateful to the town workmen who had the streets so well cleared so early in the morning after the big snowstorm. They surely must have been out very early in the morning, she remarked, and I feel they should know how much it is appreciated.

Again, we would also like to commend the Digby Lions Club for putting up the lights over town to brighten the place for Christmas. This has become an annual project of Lions.

In The Spirit Of Christmas

Two Kiwanis Clubs recently have truly exemplified the spirit of Christmas. A couple of weeks ago we reported that the Weymouth Kiwanis Club had undertaken to relieve one child of hunger and want. This week the Digby Kiwanis Club turned over $1,000 to the Digby General Hospital, an institution to relieve the ill and suffering. What better gifts could be given the Christchild than these? They are gifts of the heart as well as from the purse.

Sure, these gifts would have been given if the season of Christmas had not been so near. But, this just goes to show that the spirit of Christmas is not for one day only. It lasts the whole year through if we have a mind to keep it so.

Weather Matters

There was a time when we thought it amusing to be greeted by a person practically every morning with the words, "What did the weather say?" We just couldn't see how the weather could make too much difference in the day. We weren't going fishing or on the stormy sea. If you couldn't do the family wash one day, you could do it another. If you wanted to go somewhere the weather didn't matter so long as a car was available. And if the weather was too risky for your own car, there was always the train or bus.

We changed our minds last week when we wanted to go to Bridgewater via Middleton. The weather over the mountain at Albany can be quite different from that of Digby or the Valley, and you take a risk in attempting to travel that road by car in the winter time. And without private car, how do you get to the South Shore through Middleton? Passenger train service was taken off a few years ago. The bus service didn't last very long. We realized that the only way to get to Bridgewater by train or bus was to go to Halifax and along the South Shore route to Bridgewater. There was the other alternative of taxi.

So the weather does matter. And the weather has mattered to our railways and bus lines. Just the opposite to "fair weather church goers", we have been "foul weather passengers", only, on these public utilities during these years when every family owns a car. Passenger trains and buses have found difficulty in surviving on that type of passenger only.

We change our minds. Weather does matter even to the least of us. And, too, what is "foul weather" for one transportation is often "fair weather" for another financially.

Digby Tourist Count Down

The tourist trade in Nova Scotia climbed to an all-time high in 1964 we are told. A total of 826,392 visitors, an increase of 74,000 over 1963, were in the province.

Cars entering the province increased by 8.7 per cent over last year. Only two places in Nova Scotia showed a

Recently Married

Thibault - O'Neil

Mrs. George Thibault, Rossway, Digby Co.

A pretty fall wedding was solemnized at St. Patrick's Church, Digby on Saturday, November 28 when Evelyn Inez only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. O'Neil, Digby was united in marriage to George Augustine, son of Mr. and Father Stokes officiated at the double ring ceremony and holy mass. John Thibault brother of the groom assisted as altar boy.

The altar was tastefully decorated with bronze and decrease from 1963 in the number of cars entering. Make a guess, what was one point of entry which decreased? Digby. The other was Tidnish.

Of course, we are not directly engaged in the tourist business here at our shop, so we do not know whether there was an increase in tourist revenue or not. It could be that there were a great many tourists who entered New Brunswick via Digby on return. But if the hotels, motels, restaurants, and souvenir stores didn't have a good summer, then, maybe the fact that fewer cars entered Nova Scotia via Digby in 1964 than in 1963 should be investigated. After all, there were more tourists in Nova Scotia whether they were in Digby or not. Some places increased car entries by 20 to 26 per cent. Could it be that Digby is not so well known as it once was? There was a time that the Pines Hotel was so well advertised that everybody knew about Digby. Digby didn't have to publicize itself. Someone else did it for Digby.

Street Coasting & Playing Dangerous

Children coasting, playing hockey or any other playing in the streets can be dangerous. To say the least, it is a worry to drivers of vehicles.

Recently, we heard of a freak accident in town when a young boy, while coasting, passed beneath a truck which had started down the hill. Fortunately, the boy did not come in contact with the wheels of the truck and he remained unhurt. Truly, this was a freakish accident which rarely happens and was probably not a fault of the boy. But, also, it was sheer good fortune that the boy wasn't hurt. It serves to remind us that coasting in the streets can be dangerous at any time and should not be done. We'll admit that Digby's hilly streets can be tempting, especially when no special place is provided for coasting, but that does not excuse anyone for using the streets for coasting.

Another dangerous practice in the past has been to play hockey on busy streets. Usually these boys were so intent on their game that they were reluctant to move for a mere car that wanted to go by.

The worst we have seen so far this winter was children playing in the snow banks on the sides of the streets, kneeling or lying with their legs and feet protruding into the path of a car. They seemed to be entirely oblivious to the fact that a car could come along and not happen to see a pair of necessary limbs protruding unnecessarily into its path.

Parents should warn children that playing in streets used by vehicles can be dangerous any time and especially in the winter when cars are difficult to control on ice and snow.

mauve chrysanthemums. The guest pews were marked with miniature wedding bells and white satin bows.

Preceding the bride's entrance "Ave Maria" was sung by guest soloist, Mr. Charles Pitt accompanied by guest organist Mrs. Jean Olsen.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the traditional wedding march.

The bride looked lovely in a floor length gown of white tulle over tulle enhanced by appliques of flowers. The gown had a scooped neckline with long sleeves tapering to a point over the fingers. The full bustle back fell gracefully to a sweeping chapel train. Her finger tip length veil was held in place by a pill box hat covered with tulle and decorated with seed pearls. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of red tulle roses with white satin bow.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Shirley Stark of Halifax as maid of honour and Miss Marion McClaren, New Glasgow as bridesmaid. Both attendants wore street length dresses of peacock blue peau de soie. The gowns were identical with fitted bodice and full skirts with three quarter length sleeved jackets. Their shoes and pill box hats were of matching peacock blue. They carried nosegays of white and yellow mums with yellow streamers.

The groom was attended by his brother-in-law Mr. Leo Peters, Dartmouth as best man and Mr. Donald Robertson, RCAF Station Greenwood.

The ushers were Mr. Cameron Robbins, Rossway, Digby and Mr. Donald Amaro, Digby. For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother chose a brocade satin dress of periwinkle blue with matching jacket. She wore a white fur felt hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of white roses.

The groom's mother wore a brocade satin dress of aqua with white hat and black accessories. She also wore a corsage of white roses.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the Canadian Legion Hall. The main lounge was decorated with wedding bells and white streamers. The bride's table was centered by a three tier wedding cake. Mrs. J. R. McCleave was in charge of decorations. The toast to the bride was proposed by Dr. J. R. McCleave and fittingly responded to by the groom.

For their wedding trip Mrs. Thibault chose a three piece wool beige suit with red velvet hat and brown accessories. The couple will reside in Middleton where the groom is employed at R.C.A.F. Station, Greenwood.

The bride is a graduate of the Victoria General School of Nursing.

Catholic Teenagers Hockey Starts

Last Friday, the Knights of Columbus sponsored regional hockey league for teenagers opened with two hard-fought games.

In the first match, the Christophers, who suffered from the absence of some key players, went down to defeat at the hands of St. Pat's, 13-1.

The second contest saw a 2-2 draw between Marshalltown's St. Theresa's and Weymouth's St. Joseph's. Sherwin Donette scored Marshalltown's two markers, with assists from Jack Simms and Jim Melanson. John Comeau and Roderick LeFort accounted for Weymouth's goals. Three penalties were collected in a game that was close right down to the last second.

Some of the local men are assisting as coaches and referees this year, and an excellent season is looked for.

Bill Nickerson picked up eight points for the victors, five of them goals. Four points a piece were collected by Richard VanTassel and John Amaro, while the lone marker for the Christophers was tallied by Jerry VanTassel. Three penalties were handed out in the game.

Some Parts Of Clare Suffered Storm Loss

In the District of Clare area, only the 14 boats fishing at Cape St. Mary and Salmon River were really hard hit by the storm two weeks ago with losses averaging 80 per cent. Thursday after the storm the entire fleet there brought in only 350 pounds as some fishermen could only find about half a dozen traps to bait out of 150 set on opening day.

However in the remainder of the district the picture was reported much brighter. The Meteghan area reports only about a 25 per cent loss with catches Thursday averaging about 400 pounds. Church Point and Comeau-

The program will start on Tuesday, August 10th, with the annual Acadian Ball and the crowning of the Evangeline and Gabriel of the Festival; Wednesday, Festival Banquet; Thursday, Water Sports at Journey's Lake; Friday, La Jardiniere Garden Club's Annual Flower Show and a special exhibition of paintings and drawings by the people of Clare; Saturday, Chicken Barbecue, group singing, huge bonfire and other entertainment; and Sunday, Grand Parade of Floats. ## Given Appointment

Russell E. Banks and Dr. Carmen L. Piggott, scientists of the Defence Research Board's Naval Research Establishment, Dartmouth, N.S., have been appointed Scientific Consultants to the Maritime Command Atlantic, it was announced today (December 10) by the Chief Superintendent of NRE. Both are specialists in anti-submarine warfare research.

Mr. Banks, (above), 43, a native of Bear River, N.S., has been appointed to the staff of the Flag Officer Atlantic Coast. He served with the RCAF, 1941-45, then resumed his education, graduating from Dalhousie University B.Sc. and M. Sc. degrees in physics. He completed an additional year of study in oceanography at the University of British Columbia. Since joining the Naval Research Establishment in 1951, he has conducted research in physical oceanography in relation to anti-submarine warfare.

Mr. Banks resides in Dartmouth with his wife, Ada, and their four children.

Christmas has crept up on this household and caught it unprepared this year. We did not dare prepare too much before we moved, because we did not want to have to transport presents and fruit cakes as well as our collection of furniture.

Somehow, after we arrived, we forgot it was December. Now with Christmas only days away, I find myself without a single present for my two poor little ones. I am beginning to wonder if Santa Claus knows we have moved. I kind of suspect, if I do not get busy, he may not be able to find us.

This is not a new situation in this family. I do not remember ever having been prepared for Christmas. We have a little foster daughter in India through one of the several foster parent's schemes which support children in far away countries. Each year, around the beginning of October, we get a form letter from the head office of the organization to which we subscribe, suggesting that it is time we started thinking about Christmas presents. India, the letter gently reminds us, is very far away, and Christmas is not far away at all.

I usually take this letter as my cue to make my Christmas list, make elaborate plans about how I am going to slip enough money from the household funds to buy two presents a week, and start my Christmas nagging.

This last item seems to have a very prominent part in my preparations for the festive season. For weeks I insist to my husband that this year we have no money, I have not even got down town to look for presents, and if he had only been sensible and put some money aside each month he would have saved us all this worry. I am sorry, but this year we won't be able to have any Christmas presents. This Christmas nagging used to make my poor dear husband angry. This quirk in his personality I attributed to his short temper, and went on, because the nagging was for his own good. Of late years, he has simply ignored it. About ten days before Christmas each year, he calmly goes out and buys the presents. He pays twenty-five cents for something for the people I would be afraid I'd insult with less than a king's ransom, five dollars for the cleaning woman, and twenty-five dollars for some remote relative we have not seen in ten years, "because it's Christmas, and he'd like it." The shocking thing is that every one of these presents is exactly perfect. They always turn out to be exactly what our friends wanted, or what they would have wanted if they had thought about it. These my man brings back, deposits triumphantly at my feet, and with a look which says "What did you say you were worried about, little girl?" he proceeds to wrap them. Except for my two months of ritualistic nagging, we could have prepared for Christmas quite satisfactorily in one evening.

This year I am full of ideas for what to buy the kids. I want to get them all the toys they can use. So far, on my list, this does not include talking lions, and baking ovens. I want to give them cars and trains, and blocks and dishes, and doll's furniture, and toys to ride, and books, chalk, and crayons. This year, too, I have resolved to select my kids' books. Last year I judged them by their covers, and by which I thought were the biggest bargain, and I was stuck with some duds. The kids loved the duds, which makes it more, rather than less imperative that I get something a little better this year. To discuss the difference between a good children's book and a bad one is too broad a subject for the space I have here. Anyway, the books are copyrighted, so I cannot quote some of the less intelligent rhymes in a book we got in a package of five. One of the books in that package, a story about firemen, contained a line to the effect that the fat cook was too jolly to burn up in the fire. That, I thought, was being a bit stark, even to people who are used to giants who grind bones, and witches who cook children.

But, I have gotten away from Christmas. Our fruit cake will be "store bought" this year, but the tree will be fir, and the candles will be real, and, when you come to visit, there will be wrappings and ribbons all over the floor, and our hastily bought presents will be as exciting, if not as thoughtful, as your carefully selected ones and we've still got a week.

Pack proposed that a new Group Committee take over the duties for next year.

The Columbian Benefit prizes were won by Rev. Father R. Deveau, $100.00; Dr. L. F. Doiron, $50.00; and Mrs. David Daley, $25.00.

Man Lost In Woods Rescued

Robert London, 26, formerly of Saint John and now of Karsdale, Annapolis County, was taken to Annapolis General Hospital following his rescue Friday morning after spending a night lost in dense woods near his home.

London had gone rabbit hunting on the North Mountain with a companion Thursday. He strayed from his companion during the day, and when he did not return at nightfall, RCMP were notified.

Friday morning a search was organized, and an RCAF helicopter from Greenwood spotted London in the woods after he fired three signal shots with his gun.

The helicopter landed him on the Fort Anne Garrison Grounds, and he was taken by ambulance to hospital.

Hospital officials said he was suffering from shock, exposure and frostbite.

London had waded waist-deep in snow under 10-degree temperatures Thursday night.

Digby County Seaman Injured

Steven MacInnis of Lower Saulnierville, 18-year-old crew member of the scallop dragger "Lady Comeau," owned by Comeau Fisheries Ltd., Saulnierville, was landed at Yarmouth Friday noon after being injured at sea.

The "Lady Comeau" had been fishing and had about 5,000 pounds of scallops aboard when the accident happened. MacInnis was assisting in tying up bags of scallops on deck and was descending the ladder in one of the forward hatches when in some manner he lost his balance and fell a distance of about 9 feet and landed on his back.

A radio message was relayed ashore and an ambulance was at the public wharf waiting for the dragger's arrival and the injured man was rushed to the Yarmouth Regional Hospital.

The Lady Comeau, Capt. John Comeau returned immediately to the fishing grounds.

Holds Christmas Meeting

The Annie B. Croscup Unit of the Bear River United Church was pleasantly entertained on Thursday afternoon, December 10 at the home of Mrs. R. H. Purdy. This being the Christmas meeting, the devotional programme was in keeping with the season.

Yearly reports were made by the treasurer, which was most encouraging and gratifying as all financial reports showed an increase over last year.

Mrs. H. A. Lantz had charge of the study and gave the first lesson from the new study book "This Is Brazil" which promises to be an interesting study for the coming year.

Mrs. Wm. Morine read a communication from Mrs. D. S. MacLeod a former pastor's wife. A Christmas card and donation was also received from Mrs. R. Good, Sackville.

After the meeting was dismissed, a social half hour was enjoyed around the fire place where Mrs. Purdy served a dainty lunch.

Mrs. Stanley Sabine is spending a few days in Halifax with her daughter, Miss Rosamund Sabine.

The friends in Bear River of Mr. Murray Davis of Edmonton will be saddened to learn of his death the past week. Sympathy is extended to the family.

Clare Board Meets School Personnel

The Clare Municipal School Board held a supper meeting at the Clare District High School cafeteria recently with the principal and vice-principal, Mr. Stanislaus d'Entremont and Mr. Alain Doucet, respectively; Mr. William Doyeau, of the teaching staff and part time guidance officer of the school; the janitors and Inspector of Schools, J. Alphonse Comeau.

The first part of the meeting was taken up with discussion of various problems arising at the High School and the second part with other school board business. It was the first such meeting held in Clare.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

PLAY IT SAFE

In snow, clear the entire windshield, side and back windows. Vision is vital in winter driving. Never smear lemon, glycerin or beeswax on the glass; they only make a mess. Replace dead wiper blades with live ones. Fill windshield washer tanks with the recommended solution, not plain water. Drive with headlights, never parking lights, in reduced visibility. Parking lights distort distance to the oncoming motorist, if he sees them at all.

Use snow tires or chains where traction is poor. Letting some air out of today's low-pressure tires is no help and increases wear. Carry some sand or chicken wire to help the car off glare ice. Heavy loads of sand or stone in the trunk makes steering tricky and makes big skids out of little ones. In snow or on ice, start gently, give tires a chance to bite. Spinning melts the snow or ice, makes things slicker and digs the wheels deeper.

The Canada Pension Plan

The Canada Pension Plan, now being studied by a special Commons committee, will benefit virtually everyone in Canada.

For those who are already retired, the bill protects the real value of their old age pension, by increasing benefits as the cost of living increases.

For people now working, it assures a new source of continuing income, stable in value, when they retire or if they become disabled and unable to work. If they die, their dependents — widows and children — are assured of a continuing income. There is also a death benefit — payable in a lump sum, whether or not the contributor has dependents — designed to meet expenses at the time of death.

The plan, which is scheduled to start operation in January, 1966, covers almost every employee 18 and over who earns $600 or more a year. For self-employed people, contributions and benefits will be based on all self-employed earnings in excess of $800.

Federal civil servants will be covered and provincial governments will have the right to decide whether or not their employees will be covered. The largest groups not covered are the Armed Forces and the RCMP; both already have special plans providing for much earlier retirement.

A contributor's pension will not be reduced in any way if — he or she — changes jobs to another town or province. It ensures that a pension right once earned is never lost. For example, a woman who stops earning when she marries, will be entitled at age 65 to a pension calculated on exactly the same principles as the pension of a person who has had continuous earnings.

The bill establishes a permanent relationship between earnings and pension benefits — the pension will always be in step with increases in wage rates. All benefits will be adjusted annually in line with the cost of living.

The plan will apply initially to earnings up to a level of $5,000 a year. This ceiling will rise as average earnings increase.

The contributory portable pension will dovetail with the present universal old age pension and both will be available at age 65 — at reduced rates

— after the plan has been in operation for five years. Higher benefits will go to persons who wait until age 70 to retire. Benefits under the plan will amount to one-quarter of average earnings, with adjustments for early retirement (between ages 65 and 70) and cost of living increases.

A man who has been earning the maximum $5,000 a year or more will, at age 70, receive a monthly pension of $101.17, in addition to his regular old age pension. The two together would total $179.00.

The contribution rate for an employee is 1.8% of average earnings, to be matched by the employer.

A man earning $300 a month — the present average level of earnings in Canada — would pay $1.50 a month towards the plan. A self-employed person would pay double the individual rate.

Benefits for survivors, and disabled persons, will include both a flat-rate amount and a pension based on the earnings on which contributions have been made.

Initially, the flat-rate will be $25 a month, but it will rise as the cost of living rises.

A widow will get a flat rate of $25 a month, plus $25 for each dependent child to age 18 or 25, if full-time education is continued to an initial maximum of $101.17 a month.

In addition, a widow under 65 can be entitled to 37½% of the retirement pension her husband would have received had he lived to the pensionable age. A widower who was dependent on his wife, because of a disability, will be entitled to the same benefits.

A disabled contributor will also get a $25 a month flat pension, plus 75% of the amount he would have received had he continued working to age 65. To be eligible after 1975, a disabled person must have worked in at least five of the last ten years before the benefit is claimed, and for a total of ten years or of one-third of the number of years since the plan started or the contributor was 18. Before 1975, a claimant must have worked for at least five years.

A widow aged 65 or over — and therefore entitled to old age security — will not receive the $25 flat-rate amount. Instead, she will receive whichever of the following is the larger: 37½% of what her husband's retirement pension would have been plus all of the retirement pension which

Freedom In Their Souls

What is modern Africa really like? What lies behind the turbulent headlines as the peoples of this great continent grapple with the problems of new nationhood? What is the substance behind "Chinua", the latest cry for freedom and independence?

Some, at least, of the answers to such questions may be seen in "Freedom In Their Souls", the 28-minute colour film just completed by the Canadian Bible Society to be shown on Heritage, CBFT, she is entitled to in her own right, or 60% of her husband's pension plus 60% of her own. In a nutshell, the object of the bill is to provide for a nationwide system of social security for all Canadians whatever their individual circumstances, whatever moves they make, and whatever economic changes occur. (Liberal Bulletin, Dec. 3, 1964)

Channel 3, Sunday, December 20th, 2:30 - 3:00 p.m.

But "Freedom In Their Souls" examines the economic and political freedom of Africa and also the spiritual freedom the modern Africa is striving for as well. The film traces the development of the many African schools, made possible through the efforts of Christian missionaries and churches in the last century. It shows, too, the development of the church today in the hands of Africans, including the work of the Bible Society, where, increasingly, African Secretaries and Translators are completely continuing the work once regarded as the special preserve of Europeans.

All Fish Produced
Standard Sanitation

The Province of Nova Scotia will attempt to have all fish produced in the province processed in plants conforming to agreed sanitation standards. Fisheries Minister, E. D. Haliburton told delegates attending the semi-annual water conference of the N. S. Water Authority in Halifax that since the Inspection Branch of the federal Fisheries Department is concerned primarily with fish produced for export, provincial legislation affords a degree of control over fish produced for local consumption. "It is therefore hoped that in the near future, all fish produced in Nova Scotia will be processed in plants conforming to agreed sanitation standards."

Mr. Haliburton said, "It is our feeling that, provided education and enforcement go hand and hand, implementation of these standards, with due consideration for the factors involved in every case, will be carried out smoothly with a minimum of hardships on the plant operators who do not presently conform to these standards."

The minister also said the future well-being of Nova Scotia's fishing industry depends upon public acceptance of the product.

"Therefore, we must ensure that the consumer is able to enjoy fish in as fresh and attractive a condition as possible."

The two-day conference, attended by representatives from Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Ontario, and the federal government, ended Wednesday, Dec. 9.

PLAY IT SAFE

A holiday is a time for frivolity and carefree joy, a time to be convivial and friendly, a time to be intermittently host and guest. In the days when highways were laneways and Dobbin could find his own way home, Jovial Joe was comparatively safe on his junkies.

It's different today. Joe, still jovial and junkie, has command of a couple of hundred horsepower and a two-ton vehicle amid thousands of other similarly uninhibited celebrators. The same manoeuvre that dropped an alcoholic mist over his unfocussing eyes builds within him a boldness and recklessness that reduces his driving ability and produces an unguided missile that takes human life in horrifying quantity. Keep that effervescent Christmas cheer between the walls of your home or take a taxi. There'll come another Christmas and New Year's and you might want to be around, but not as a shameful memory.

Her knitting, for needy children and Red Cross and we feel safe in saying that hundreds of pairs of socks, mittens and sweaters have been done under her supervision over a very short period of time. So look over your yarn bags for any wool you don't need yourself, and turn them in for a good cause.

Islands School Loses In Badminton

On Thursday evening the "Islands Badminton Club" played host to teams representing the school in the season's first tournament for either club. The experience and superior strength of the host club members was evident throughout the entire evening as they convincingly emerged victorious by a margin of 12 games, 17-5.

Although the students were outplayed at the game they could not be matched in exuberance or desire. The tumultuous vocal support given to each student team, although a little unusual for a tournament of this nature added a lot of colour to the game, counter between the two the robust team spirit characterizing the school club.

After it was all over, the students who progressively improved during the evening play, all agreed that they had gained valuable playing experience and feel that they will give a much better account of themselves in the next event, counter between the two clubs.

Land Turned Over To Federal Government

The Provincial Government has turned over 93,600 acres of western Nova Scotia forest land to the Federal Government to be developed as a national park, Lands and Forests Minister E. D. Halliburton said today.

Mr. Halliburton said the Executive Council passed an Order in Council a few weeks ago authorizing transfer of title to federal authority.

The minister said it will cost the province nearly $1,000,000 to buy the privately owned land in the 146 square mile area to be known as Kejimikujik National Park.

"We hope this big investment will be returned many times over as the result of increased tourist trade in that part of the Province," he said.

"Most of the area is exceedingly park-like in terms of forest and there is over 13,600 acres of fresh water lakes, rivers and streams. Federal park authorities have said the new park will be one of the most attractive in all Canada.

"Climatic conditions will be favorable since the trails and campsites will be sheltered, warm and free from fog. Bathing facilities in warm lakes, canoe and hiking trails and some of the best fishing in the province will undoubtedly be developed.

"As a national park it can be assumed that the area will also be a wildlife sanctuary and this will make it unnecessary for the province to maintain the Tobecatic game sanctuary.

The Department of Highways will declare the same route within three miles of the entrance subject to the legislation which controls parkways, said the Minister.

"It is also understood that a small satellite park comprising coastal and beach areas will be selected and developed with the main park. When the federal authorities have designated the area, it will be acquired. If the area is not already Crown land it will be purchased and transferred.

The park area was made up of 19,800 acres of Crown land; 45,000 acres owned by Bowaters Mersey Limited and the balance of 28,800 acres was privately owned.

How many times have you come in after a session in traffic and beeped about the antics of The Other Driver. He's the nut who stole some of the road from you, or who raced through the green signal to cut you off, or who made a right-hand turn from the left-hand lane. He's the oddball who didn't signal when he turned or who was going a good 15 miles an hour beyond the speed limit.

Nova Scotia Tourist Trade Climbed

The tourist trade in Nova Scotia climbed to an all-time high in 1964. Trade and Industry Minister W. S. K. Jones announced today.

A total of $26,392 visitors spent $56,605,888 in the province from the June 1 - Sept. 30 period, an increase of 74,000 tourists and $2,000,000 over the 1963 figures.

"These facts confirm our belief that tourism is gradually becoming one of the province's major sources of income. Last year we saw an increase of nearly 50,000 visitors over the previous year. This year the increase over 1963 was nearly 75,000. Our estimated objective of 1,000,000 visitors in 1967 now appears realistic," the minister said.

The total car traffic was 87 per cent ahead of traffic in 1963. Canadian and foreign cars entering the province numbered 138,758 during the June-Sept. period. During the same period, 58,558 United States cars came to Nova Scotia for a combined total of 197,346 cars, carrying approximately 627,806 persons.

The greatest increase appeared in the number of cars entering the province at Carleton Place. The figure of 20,680 cars was up 26 per cent over the 1963 figures. North Sydney had a 20 per cent increase; Amherst, 11 per cent increase; Yarmouth showed a slight increase of 51 cars; Tisham figures were down from those of last year.

This year, 42,391 tourists came to Nova Scotia by train; 3,080 arrived by bus; 153,060 by airplane and the balance by ship.

From a representative sampling of tourists visiting the province, statistics show that each United States resident stayed in Nova Scotia for 6.85 days and spent $10.79 per day in the province. Comparable figures for Canadian visitors are 9.2 days and $7.22 per day. In each case, there was less time spent in Nova Scotia than in 1963, but a greater amount of money spent each day here.

Order Of Good Cheer

Perhaps the success of this Christmas celebration in the New World inspired Champ-plain to found the Order of Good Cheer - an order which exists to the present day.

To help pass long winter nights and to revive the inevitable sagging spirits, Champ-plain conceived the idea of appointing one man chief steward for a day. On that day, it was his duty to provide delicacies to add to the ordinary fare.

On his appointed day, the chief steward would have the cooks prepare the choice meats and fish he had gathered.

With the wand of office in hand and the collar of the order around his neck, he would lead the procession of order members, each bearing a tasty dish, to the banquet table.

Prior to the meal, the chief steward would hand over the vestiges of his office to his successor.

It became a successful venture as each steward, in turn, attempted to outdo his predecessor.

Not only did the practice relieve some of the long winter's monotony but served as a preventative against scurvy, which had plagued their earlier settlement in New Brunswick.

Although this order, the first fraternal order to be established in North America, ceased to exist after the country opened to settlement, it nevertheless became a warm memory for these stalwart Frenchmen.

Christmas Always The Same

There is one most impressive fact to consider when we think about the story of Christmas. Let us call it the importance - or the sacredness - of the story. Is it not surprising that a story so old, so oft-repeated, and many times translated from tongue to tongue continues to remain the same? Centuries of telling and retelling have not altered a single matter of site or situation. Many of the customs and traditions associated with the observance of Christmas may change with the times, often differ greatly from one country to another; yet the story of Christmas is forever the same. It needs no embellishment. In humble surroundings Jesus Christ was born unto the world. Until He died on the Cross of Calvary His life upon earth was one of humanity, faith, obedience and highest example.

Take Trouble Out Of Holiday Travel

Whether you're going home for the holidays or taking a winter vacation ... travelling in the series of wars that followed.

It remained nothing more than a memory until it was revived by the government of Nova Scotia as a bond between its people and the numerous tourists who visit the province each year. -- N. S. Newsletter, Christmas 1963.

We Are To Blame

Many times in our busy, work-a-day world we hear the cry that "Christmas is too commercial." Certainly, none may deny that there is much that is commercialized. If it is too much, the fault belongs equally to us all. It is necessary that we work so hard at "keeping up" with the folks across the street or down the block. We need not let our observance of the holiday get out of hand merely because others are unreasonable. Instead, we can work to promote among family and friends a realization of the true and complete meaning of Christmas. If we do this, we place emphasis where it properly belongs. We turn our thoughts and our footsteps to the church by the side of the road; we give thanks that on this day a Saviour was born.

New Wharf Construction Expected In January

People in Digby are encouraged by reports that the new wharf will get started in construction here in January of 1965, although the federal government and the Canadian Pacific Railway are still in discussion on who is to pay for certain areas of construction.

A new landing pier for the Princess of Acadia is expected to be built about 1,000 feet from the present one and the wharf used by the fishermen is to be reconditioned. The harbor will be also dredged.

Reports indicate that approximately three million dollars will be spent on the Digby construction. The new wharf is figured at a cost of 2,500,000; the reconditioning of the fishermen's wharf $500,000, and $100,000 for dredging.

Reports say that the new pier will contain two floating tidal ramps, a transit shed and railway trestle. Approaches to the new wharf, it is understood, will be constructed of 700 x 200 ft. rock fill.

The L-shape structure containing a dock of nearly 500 feet will form a protection for fishing boats and other craft.

Cleveland Again Heads Legion

Officers of Digby Branch Canadian Legion were installed recently by Zone Commander Ralph Wright as follows:

President, Thomas Cleveland; 1st vice-pres., Bernard O'Neill; 2nd vice-pres., Gordon Cowan; Sgt. at Arms, Calvin VanTassel; treas., Carl Melanson; Chaplains, George Hersey and William Barton.

The Christmas Party was held for the welfare of the Legion.

Acadia Delayed

Sixty miles an hour gales on Monday afternoon prevented the Princess of Acadia from leaving the Digby pier for her home port in Saint John, N. B., on schedule. She normally leaves at 5 p.m.

Although passengers were requested to be back on the ship by 10 p.m., the Acadia did not leave for across the Bay until 3 a.m. on Tuesday. Along with gale winds it is understood that the Acadia was prevented from leaving the wharf because a boat loading pulpwood was at berth.

William MacLeod was a visitor in New Glasgow last week.

Presents Piano Betterment Club

William MacLeod, president of the Digby Kiwanis Club, on Monday night made an official presentation to Rev. William Clayton, president of the Acadia Community Betterment Association, of a piano. The presentation was made at the Community Centre in Conway at a meeting of the executive, presided over by Mr. Clayton. The gift was accepted by a few words from both Mr. Clayton and Mrs. Mary Borden.

Present from Kiwanis were Mr. MacLeod, Donald Brown, president-elect, and Joseph Hattie. They were introduced by V. G. Cardozo, a director of the Acadia Community Betterment Association.

The piano was loaned to the association during the summer when a group from Cornell University conducted a vacation school in Conway for pre-schoolers and young people. At a recent meeting of Digby Kiwanis plans were made to present the piano.

Congratulations were extended at the executive meeting to Dr. W. P. Oliver on his receiving an honorary doctorate from Kings University. Sympathy was also to be extended from the Association to the family of the late Rev. Mr. Logan, Deep Brook, and get-well wishes to Mrs. M. P. Gott, Smith's Cove, who is a patient in the V. G. Hospital.

The report of Mrs. Mary Borden, chairman of the Employment Committee, was given. Employment Opportunity Forms were completed and cooperation was given by the National Employment Service. It was reported that the T.B. X-Ray unit would be at the centre in January.

Canvass Goes Over Top

The canvass for the British and Foreign Bible Society in Digby went over its objective by $51.07, according to the report of the chairman, Rev. H. B. Ricker. The objective was $500. Five hundred and fifty-one dollars and seven cents was collected, making the canvass in 1964 the most successful ever held for the B. & F.B.S. in Digby.

Mr. Ricker expressed gratitude to the donors, collectors and all who helped to make the canvass a success.

On Thursday evening of last week many Kiwanians and their wives and several guests had an enjoyable function at the Legion quarters. The program, under the direction of J. J. ## Christmas Services And Programmes Held

Digby Grace United

The C.G.I.T. Candlelighting Service, was held at Grace United Church on Sunday evening when the C.G.I.T. choir and senior choirs combined to provide the Christmas music.

Reading parts of the service were taken by Misses Patricia Morgan, Nancy Jayne, Marcia Task, Carol Kaye, Lynn Nickerson, Karen Jayne, Gail VanTassel and Mary Hawkins.

Several selections were sung by the C.G.I.T. choir, with Miss Lynn Nickerson soloist. The choir was directed by Mrs. R. H. Hughes, C.G.I.T. Leader. Mrs. Elton Arnold was organist.

Receiving the offering were Misses Colleen Cameron, Jeanette Cromwell, Nancy Jayne and Barbara Black.

Several musical numbers supplemented the C.G.I.T. choir. The senior Grace United choir sang two anthems, with Mrs. Gerald Wilson as soloist. Other musical numbers were: vocal solo, Charles Fitt; violin solo, David Nielson, Fredericton, N. B.; duet, Misses Quead Johnson and Maurine MacNutt; and duet, Norman Wright and Mrs. Gerald Wilson.

Christmas music featured the morning worship at Grace United when an appropriate sermon was delivered by Rev. R. H. Hughes. Mrs. Gerald Wilson was soloist.

Digby Baptist

The Christmas worship service in the Baptist Church of Digby was held on Sunday morning with a large congregation present. Special Christmas music was presented by the choir with two anthems and a duet, under the direction of the choir director, Mrs. Donald Brown, and the organist, Mrs. Jean Olsen.

The pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, brought to a conclusion a series of Advent sermons, speaking on the subject "Bethlehem Speaks To Our World". Every generation, he said, may have or may be given a message of some kind for the world. God has ways of breaking through into various channels of human life, and as a result we may have great periods in literature, art, science, or political and social enlightenment and progress.

In the birth of Jesus, however, there dawned the greatest day in the history of religious thought and in man's apprehension of divine truth. No act of God in human history was of more importance and significance than the coming of Jesus - the Divine Incarnation.

David Nielsen, Fredericton, is a guest of Miss Carolyn Arnold at the home of her mother, Mrs. Elton Arnold.

Bethlehem affirms the reality of man's soul, which men sometimes seem to forget they have, and it proclaims that man does not live by bread alone, Mr. Hartlin said. "Bethlehem proclaims a positive message to the world - a message of light, hope, peace and good will. Man, the speaker said, is not saved by such things as machinery, commerce, politics, education, science, or social reform. He is saved by a new spirit, and this new spirit must be reborn in every generation. That new spirit is found in Jesus Christ born on that far off Christmas day."

Bethlehem also speaks to our world of something that happened that was not meant to destroy our secular and materialistic culture but to redeem and save it. "What is really amazing is not that Christmas is so pagan, but that a pagan festival has become so Christian, so that one can hardly go into a store almost anywhere without hearing the music 'Hark, The Herald Angels Sing, Glory To The New-born King!'" The message of Bethlehem is that our secular and materialistic culture needs the infusion of the spirit of Christ, so that all that is good and worthwhile in our culture might be saved and used in the service of God and mankind, Mr. Hartlin said.

In the evening, members of the Canadian Girls In Training conducted their annual Christmas Vesper Service. The girls filled the choir loft and took part in the Candlelighting Service. A special selection was sung by the Explorer group. The service was under the direction of Mrs. Amelia Whalley, C.G.I.T. Leader, and assisted by Miss Doreen Atkinson.

Hill Grove

On Wednesday evening, December 16th, a combined meeting of the Church Auxiliary and the Women's Missionary Society was held in the Hill Grove Baptist church hall with twenty-one members and guests being present. A short business meeting of the Auxiliary took place when $100 was voted to the church and $10 to the Sunday School for the children's Christmas party. The next project of the Auxiliary, will be to put a new carpet in the aisles and on the stairs leading to the upper part of the church. Mrs. Darcy Roope reported on prices for same and also showed a sample she had obtained. The W.M.S. then took over the meeting with the president, Mrs. Vernon Jones, presiding. The subject of her devotional talk was "The First Christmas". Several Christmas carols were sung and "Silent Night" was sung as a special number by Mrs. John Murley, Mrs. Lloyd MacNeill, Mrs. (Please turn to page 7)

Digby Mayor C. D. Snow closes a circuit breaker to mark the official opening of the new 2,000 kva Digby sub-station of the Digby County Power Board. Left to right are Mayor Snow, Digby County Power Board Secretary Charles Haliburton and S. A. MacNaughton, superintendent of the Digby County Power Board.

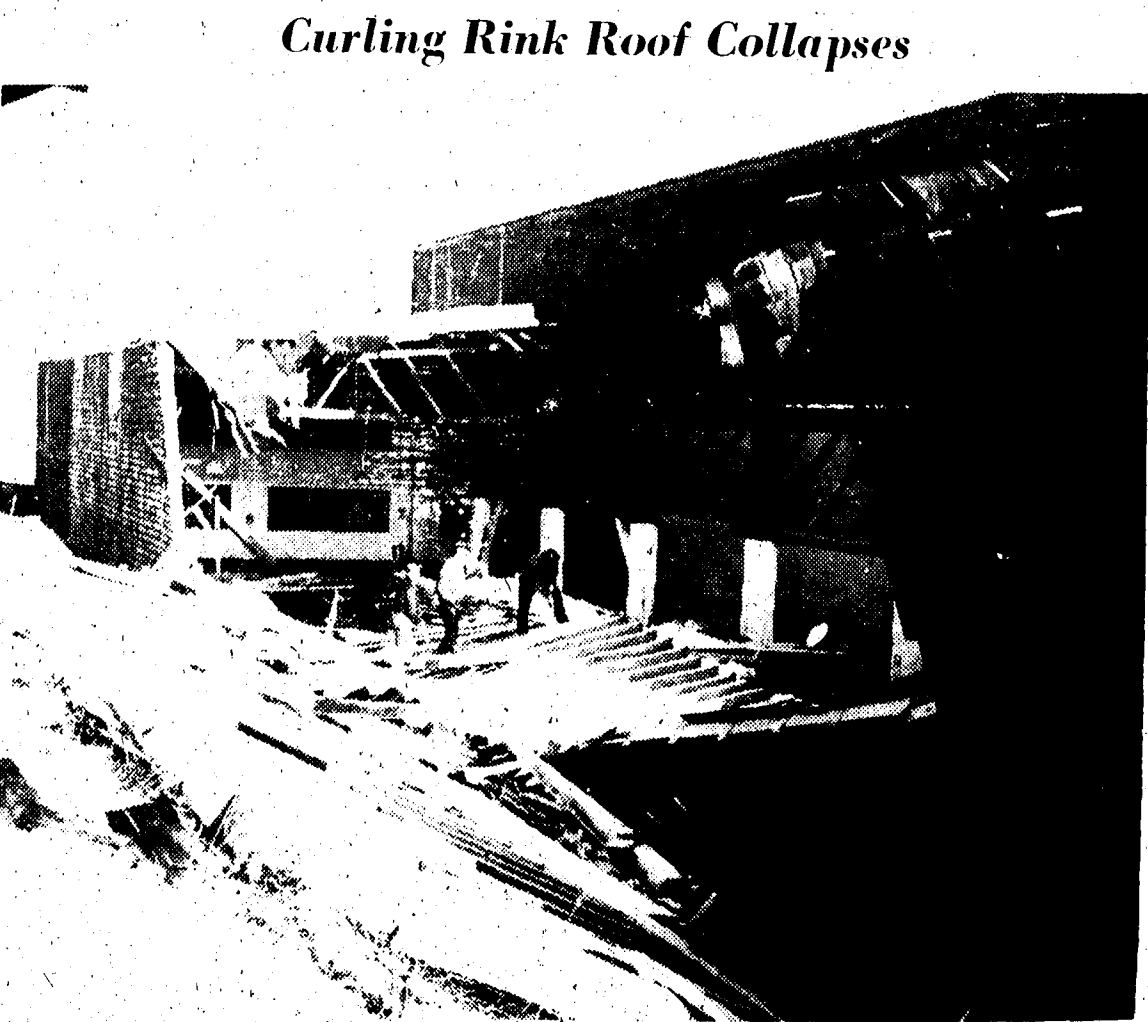

The plant is situated at the corner of Victoria St. and Warwick St. in Digby.

This new sub-station with 2,000 kva capacity replaces the 750 kva sub-station installed in the early 1940's. Circuit breakers in this former sub-station were oil breaker type as manufactured in the mid 30's. Current interrupting capacity in these old type breakers was rapidly being overcome, and replacement was long overdue.

The new sub-station, as installed by the Digby County Power Board, will provide for more and better service to the town. Transformer capacity is 3 times as great and can be doubled with ease when required. In addition, distribution voltage in the town will eventually be raised to 4,160 volts.

Present demand in the town is approximately 1,300 kva and peak during the Christmas season is expected to reach 1,600. Added to a normal growth or increase of 8% will be the supplying of power to the new Digby General Hospital expected to come "on the line" early in the New Year, and also to two new commercial buildings in downtown Digby.

A convenience offered by the new sub-station is that should a phase or ground fault occur at any time within the town's distribution system, then the circuit breakers will trip and subsequently reclose automatically should the fault clear within a pre set time interval (0.30 seconds).

Above can be seen a number of men cleaning up the debris after the collapse of the Digby Curling Rink last week. Heavy wet snow on the roof was said to have caused the collapse of the 100 by 30 ft. area forcing out the west and south walls of the rink.

The accident happened about six o'clock on Saturday morning, just about two hours before the Digby High School curling team would have been using the rink.

Construction for the new rink got underway. Wall studs have been erected and steel for the roof is expected to be here in December.

Donations and pledges have amounted to more than $4,500. Three hundred and sixty dollars was raised at a recent Benefit Plate, Bridgewater Curling Club donated $200, the Digby Ladies Curling Club pledged $1,000 and other donations brought the figure to the impressive amount above.

Authorized as Second Class Mail by the Post Office Department, Ottawa,

"Use common sense, take precautions, have a Happy Christmas," said Gay McLaren, NSL's general manager.

Mrs. William Fish and Cheryl and Wayne visited Mr. and Mrs. Leland Connell and family in Nietaux on Sunday.

PLAY IT SAFE

Traffic accidents happen one at a time. In almost every accident one person is responsible.

The obvious remedy is: each individual motorist and pedestrian must assume his responsibility to prevent the accident he is likely to cause. This isn't easy because there isn't a driver or a walker alive who will admit to being careless, thoughtless, inconsiderate or senseless in traffic, deliberately or otherwise. It requires an honest personal examination of conscience by everyone who walks or drives, then an admission of responsibility and a strong will to assume it. Try it. It may frighten you, but it may save your life.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

The Bible Today

The word "Christmas" falls on the ear like the music of many bells. Christmas is the season of wonderment. There is something subtle in the air of Christmastide that warms hearts and makes tired mouths smile.

But Christmas without Christ is shorn of its significance.

Millions of boys and girls, men and women, in the world today have never known the warmth of Christmas, nor the Christ whose birth it commemorates.

The story of Jesus - His birth, His life, His death and resurrection - is recounted in the gospels. This story has been translated into more than 1,000 languages and dialects. It has been distributed to millions of people. Yet there are millions who have never read of Him or been introduced to Him as yet.

Let us remember the Christ who gave us Christmas and the millions who knew neither this joyous season nor the One whose birth it commemorates.

350 Years Of Feasting

Christmas in Nova Scotia has been a festive occasion from the time of the first settlers at Port Royal in 1605 until the present day.

Although no specific references are made in the exhaustive annals of Champlain and Lescaurbot to celebrations around the Yuletide season, characters of these men and of Sieur de Monts are evidence that this special occasion in the New World would be a time of revelry and a respite from the demanding tasks being faced daily by the brave groups.

Their resources were limited but the bounty from neighbouring woodlands and rivers undoubtedly would provide a banquet fit for their sovereign, King Henry IV.

It's conceivable that Christmas brought a nostalgia for their homeland and, in an attempt to revive old French customs in this new land, they would toast the health of their King with wines from vineyards of St. Emilion, Clos de Beze, St. Georges or Chabertin.

In all probability, the cooks were assigned to bake the traditional 12th Night Cake that had become a part of Yuletide customs in France. Also, a creche honoring the birth of the Christ Child would undoubtedly become the center of attention for worship services at this time.

The plentiful woodlands around the Habitation would provide ample Yule logs for friendly gatherings around a blazing fire. — N. S. Newsletter, Christmas 1963.

a STRING of LIGHTS

By Don Wheeler

WE WERE in a dust covered box that sat in the corner of Mr. Barker's attic. All through the year no one ever bothered about us, but now, at Christmas time, we knew that once again we would be the center of attraction. Grumbling and grunting, Mr. Barker lifted our box into his arms and started down the attic stairs.

Being a rather plump fellow with a stomach that protruded so far he couldn't see his feet, he was, I regret to say, somewhat clumsy. About half way down the stairs he stumbled and our box went tumbling down the stairs. I was uninjured, but I'm afraid some of my friends suffered from the fall. A few minutes later we were all unpacked and laid on the huge dining room table.

"Well now, let's see, John," said Mrs. Barker. "We can use this string of lights, and this string and, oh! We don't want to use this old string again, John! They've been around here for years. Throw them out in the trash with these other things that were broken when you fell."

I was shocked! For years I had been used to decorate the Barker's Christmas tree, and now, simply because I was getting a little old, they were throwing me out! It is true that my popularity with the Barkers had declined through the years. When I was new I was used at the top, but each year

About halfway down the stairs he stumbled and our box went tumbling down the stairs.

I seemed to find myself placed lower and lower on the tree.

Unwanted Home

My friends, most of them broken in tiny pieces, and myself were cast upon the trash pile in the alley. I felt sorry for them. They had many years of use ahead of them had Mr. Barker been more careful, but now they could never be used again. But what of me? I wasn't broken; only a little old.

For two days I lay on the trash pile with my broken friends, and then, on the third day, a small child, who seemed to be searching the trash cans in the alley to see if he could find something of value, came upon me. With a cry of delight he gathered me into his tiny hands and scampered out of the alley and to the edge of the small town, where he lived in a broken down little old house.

How glad were his brothers and sisters when they saw me! That evening they trimmed their tiny tree. It was scarcely three feet tall, and I was the principle item of decoration. One of my lights was placed at the top of the tree and the rest were wound in and about from top to bottom. Then the tree was placed in the front window and for the first time in my life I was given the task of lighting an entire tree.

That evening it snowed and snowed and the wind whistled harshly about the corners of the house. I was glad that I was in a warm house instead of being on the trash pile in the alley.

A Visitor Comes

Suddenly there was a loud rap on the door. When Mr. Cullen opened it I heard a man's voice ask, "Have you seen the Granger boy? He was out playing this afternoon and hasn't come home yet. We think he's become lost in the storm. The whole town is out looking for him. Would you like to help, Mr. Cullen?"

Mr. Cullen quickly put on his coat and scarf and followed the man into the dark cold night. They had been gone only about twenty minutes when again there was a knocking at the door. When Mrs. Cullen opened it, in stepped a tall man, carrying a boy in his arms. The boy's ears and nose were blue from the cold, and his teeth chattered.

"Mrs. Cullen," said the man, "this is Tommy Granger. I'd like to leave him here while I go tell his parents we've found him and send word to the others to stop searching. It's no wonder he was lost in a storm like this. I was almost lost myself until I saw the light from your tree in the window."

How proud I was when I heard those words. My lights seemed to brighten and shine as they had never done before, especially the one at the very top of the tree.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Tradition of Poppy

The poppy loaf, traditionally a part of Christmas Eve supper in Lithuania, is a small loaf made of bread dough and baked hard in a bread pan. When cool, the loaves are dipped in a solution made of water and sugar and ground poppy seed which is also used as a traditional holiday beverage.

Tradition prescribes that the poppy seed should be ground in an iron kettle using an axe handle as a mallet, and no Lithuanian would think of grinding seeds for the Christmas poppy leaves by any other method.

A Family Gift Of Fun

No matter what the members of your family are planning to give one another, you can all pitch in and decide together on a major family gift. Do you like to travel? Then why not plan on a complete set of luggage for the whole crew? If you're camping enthusiasts, how about giving yourselves the "conveniences" which nowadays have become necessities — lanterns, camp stove, cooler, even a portable oven. Are you lovers of spectator sports? Think of investing in a box or group of seats for a season's worth of your pet game.

Mrs. Carl Wright of Princesdale visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aven Sanford on Sunday.

May the sounds of Christmas... happy children's bells—compose a carol in your heart. 128 XG 14 Form B

Christmas Gifts

Christ has made it possible for temporal gifts to reach Him: "Inasmuch as ye have done it to one of the least of these My brethren ye have done it unto Me".

The Magi laid their gifts at the feet of the infant Saviour; we may lay our gifts upon His heart by giving them to His needy ones. No coin of earth is current in Heaven, except those that have on them the image of Christ in Christian service in a needy and sinful world.

Glad Tidings
O'er all the world, in one glad voice,
Those Christmas tidings ring.
Making the sick and sad rejoice,
Telling of Christ the King.

Its message reaches to the stars
And passes o'er the waves,
It penetrates cold prison bars,
Dense forests and deep caves
In every land where Christ is known.
Its triumph swells in one glad tone!

— F. H. MacArthur, Charlottetown

It isn't far to Bethlehem town
It's anywhere that Christ comes down
And finds in someone's shining face
A welcome and abiding place.

Boys' Parliament

The Maritime Tuxis and Older Boys' Parliament will be convening at Acadia University, Wolfville, N. S. December 27th - 31st. Ninety young men, between the ages of 16-21, will be attending these sessions, which are designed to challenge them to Christian living, train them as effective leaders in Church and community, and through a practical, vivid experience give them a real understanding of the true meaning of democracy. Boys' parliament is fashioned according to the British House of Commons and all business is carried on in the traditional dignity and formality of a legislative assembly.

The legislation, outlined by the Premier and Deputy-premier elect for the forthcoming session, deals with topics such as: Christian family life, American influence in Canada Sunday observance, pacifism, bi-culturalism, public school devotions, Christian leadership and a publications act. Each member of the parliament will be on a committee headed by a cabinet minister. Each committee will be responsible for drawing up a resolution to be openly debated on the floor of the House.

The parliament is sponsored co-operatively by the Atlantic United Baptist Convention, the United Church of Canada, the Presbyterian Church, the Salvation Army, and the Church of Christ (Disciples). The Anglican and Lutheran communions will be represented by official observers. The parliament, which is in its forty-second year, will be directed this year by Rev. R. S. Latimer of Sackville.

Approximately ten per cent of those who attend enter the Christian ministry.

THE STAR STILL SHINES
The Star that shone first on Bethlehem.

Merchants were busy in the market-place, and government officials did the usual government business;

Camel-drivers cursed their surly beasts through narrow streets, where men sweated at their labor, and beggars whined for alms.

Only a few wise men looked up and saw the Star that shone for every man to see; and only those few men understood the Star's message of hope, newborn at Christmas.

The Star still shines on a world shrunk small;
yet, of all mankind, only those who are aware see the Star, and understand its message of hope, reborn at Christmas.

Though Christ a thousand times,
In Bethlehem be born,
If He's not born in thee
Thy soul is still forlorn.

Card of Thanks

MARSHALL. I wish to express my sincere thanks for the cards, letters, flowers, fruit and other gifts received while I was a patient at the Digby General Hospital. Special thanks to Dr. Black and to all the nurses who gave such wonderful care. Mrs. Eldred Marshall. 18:1c

HARRIS. I am moved at this time to write this message from the Digby General Hospital. The building is old but the new one is better you will have every reason to be very proud of it.

During the last nine weeks I have been a patient here. During that time I have had the attention of my doctor (whom I regard highly). All the Doctors I have seen here give their patients careful attention. The nurses all, to my knowledge, do their job cheerfully and well. The male attendants are of the very best. And let us not forget any one of the cleaning girls and office staff (we like them all.)

To all of those at this Christmas season I feel very grateful.

To those who remembered me through cards, visits, or gifts I wish to say I appreciate it very much.

To digress a little I may say I send my love to my wife and family whom through the years have had me to contend with.

To each one I recommend to read Roman 10. 9-13. To the patients and staff my prayer is "May the Lord care for you each and every one always." I wish a very Merry Christmas to all. — Ira M. Harris. 18:1c several residents of the community who are advanced in years. A social hour was then enjoyed, when gifts were exchanged and refreshments served by members of the Auxiliary.

Funeral mass was held on Thursday afternoon at 4 p.m. in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, Weymouth with Rev. Delbe Comeau P. P. officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery.

On Saturday afternoon the Hill Grove Sunday School Christmas Party was held in the church hall. After a period of game playing, gifts were exchanged and candy and nuts given to each one present. Refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served by the teachers of the Sunday School. On Sunday afternoon a combined church service and Christmas program by the pupils of the Sunday School was held at 2:00 p.m. Recitations, exercises and Christmas music by the pupils were given in a splendid manner. Special numbers were also sung by the Junior Choir and the Adult and Junior Choirs combined. Rev. H. S. Hartlin then opened his service by the singing of "Silent Night" by choirs and congregation, with a prayer being offered by him before each verse was sung and the closing prayer of this number being given by Rev. L. R. Atkinson. This was very inspiring to all present. Rev. Hartlin then announced that the church was remembering the four officers of the church who had served in their respective offices for over twenty years. He spoke a few words about the work of each office and the person who had held the same and then presented gifts from the church to Mr. Lloyd MacNeill, who has been Clerk of the church since March, 1943; Mrs. John Murley, Superintendent of the Sunday School for the same length of time; and Mrs. Darcy Roope, Organist since 1942. Although taken completely by surprise, each responded in a few words of thanks and appreciation of the thoughtfulness of the church members in recognizing them in this way. The service closed with the singing of "Joy To The World" and benediction by Rev. Hartlin.

There were five of the group on the hillside overlooking Bethlehem. It was really a fairly level place that had broadened out amongst the hills to give a spot of pleasant pasture and a safe place for folding the sheep. The eldest and leader of the group was Eli who, with his younger brother, Seth, owned the flock. There was Dan, an elderly servant, a rather saturnine but trustworthy shepherd not given to much speech, and there was young Caleb, about the same age as John (that is twelve or thirteen years of age).

Caleb was related to none of the others. Some years before when Eli, accompanied by Dan, had been making a brief trip to Jericho by hill paths known to them, they had come across a cleft in a rock where a youngster was sobbing bitterly beside the dead body of a woman, his mother.

On enquiry they learned that a group of travellers had been beset by a roving band of robbers and the men had been slain or carried off. The boy had seen his father cut down but not before the man had been enabled to command his wife to make her way to a safe hiding place. This she had done, taking the lad with her, but she had been wounded by a stray arrow, and after the fray was over and the robbers had made their way further back to a spot where the woman, exhausted, had died. The child stayed by her dead body till more than a day later when Eli and Dan had found them.

The lad sobbing bitterly and speaking in an odd mixture of what the shepherds were led to think was part Greek, part Aramaic, had told them as best he could what had happened. The shepherds had been unable to find their way to the scene of the attack and Eli, remembering his nephew, thought the only solution to take the youngster with them to their own little village.

Perhaps because of his tragic experience and inability to help his wounded mother young Caleb, for Eli had renamed him thus, had developed an uncanny skill with wounded and bruised lambs and sheep and too had grown to know every hillside path with a knowledge that was amazing. Eli and the other shepherds had encouraged the lad and had come to treat him as almost as if he were their

How We Came To The Manger

By The Wayfarer
F. I. W.

Roma the Capital

Dear Theopollis:

Twice before have I written to you telling something of what I place before we be came to, and something too of our mutual friend Paul, one time Saul of Tarsus. Well, Paul has gone from us now. Sooner or later we all knew it would come to pass and yesterday the summons came. The detail of soldiers seemed ashamed and cowed as they took him from the house, but Paul before he left us bade us be of good cheer and boldly promised a good testimony.

He was expecting the summons sooner or later and now it has come and our fellowship here is over.

I have put off writing to you before to tell you of my own youth and how one day I came to know Paul and while I did tell you something of what came to pass, I did not tell the whole story nor how I came to know it and I would like now to do so.

There were five of the group on the hillside overlooking Bethlehem. It was really a fairly level place that had broadened out amongst the hills to give a spot of pleasant pasture and a safe place for folding the sheep. very own and the two lads, he and John, had become close friends, and all five of the group worked in happy harmony. But Caleb was growing up, and it was evident that he hoped to travel further afield.

On the particular night of which I write Seth was speaking. "Eli," said he, "Eli, that black sheep Patch got me in a bit of trouble this afternoon."

"What's that Seth," said Eli. "How? And what happened?"

"We were leading the flock to a bit of better pasture over the hill," said Seth, "when we came to that bit of broken ground, where the old path leads down by the black ravine. The other sheep had followed along willingly enough but Patch, you know how willful she is at times, must have spied something. Anyway, with a bound she cleared the bad spot. Three others followed her, but the littlest lamb here came a cropper. Caleb here caught up with them and poured oil and balm on the bruises and with a bit of warmth and care here by the fireside, she will be all right."

"Good, good lad," said Eli. "I know how it is with Black Patch. She is such a willful one, but I love the old scamp more than the rest. She is really a wise one, too, to search out good fodder and her lambs are always strong."

For a while after that there was silence as the shepherds ate their evening meal and then Eli directed the others to gather more fuel, for said he, the night is cool and will be cooler.

It was a particularly brilliant night, that night, for while there was no moon, no early moon, the stars shone with an unusual brightness. The two lads listening to their elders speaking, now and then themselves conversed in low undertones. Said one, "It must have been on such a night as this on these very hills that our Shepherd King gave us those words 'The heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament showeth His handiwork.'"

"Yes," said Eli, who had overheard them whispering. "Day unto day uttereth speech and night unto night showeth knowledge. There is no speech nor language where their voice is not heard." "But listen, heard you not the sound as of distant music?" There was a something that caused them all to hush and stop their speaking. There was music ever growing louder, more clear. It was strange and stranger in that over against the other side of the fold they could see Dan evidently engrossed in some task involving the sheep there and seemingly unaware of any sound.

Now one star seemed to glow with greater brilliance than the others and "Look, father," said John, "it moves and seems now to stand right over the village afar off and its rays shine right down on that house. It must be the inn at Bethlehem. All the rest of the houses seemed silent and dark but from the inn or near it a light as of a lantern or candle could be seen. Who can be about at this late hour," said Beth.

But suddenly an even greater burst of music filled the sky and voices singing a mighty chorus, while a voice above all the others spoke: "Behold I bring you glad tidings of great joy which shall be to all people." Then a pause, and then "For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour which is Christ the Lord, and this shall be a sign unto you. Ye shall find the Babe wrapped in swaddling clothes lying in a manger."

Then another burst of music and all was still. "Come," said Eli, "Come Beth, John, Caleb, we will go to the manger. You, Dan," calling across to the other. "You, Dan, stand watch. We will be back in due course. We will go to the manger at Bethlehem."

Dan nodded. He was accustomed to taking orders. "And so we came to the manger. 'We? Yes we! I was one of them. I have told you how I was found by Eli and Dan and brought up by him and Seth and learned something of caring for sick and wounded sheep. And now I tell you how some time later three strangers stopped by our camp. We directed them to the inn and the Babe and when warned in a dream not to return by way of Jerusalem, I with Eli's consent, directed them through the hidden paths of the hills. With Eli's consent, I went with them and kind Melchior taught me more of medicine and enabled me to study with physicians, so one day I too became a physician and one day, too, I met Paul of Tarsus."

So, that magic day is almost here!

We put the tree up on Saturday. This is much earlier than I like trees up. The theory was, that we are going away for Christmas, and if we waited for later, we would not have time to enjoy our own tree. This may, or may not be a valid theory, but if we had waited until Monday, we would still have one day to enjoy it, and from Monday until Friday of the following week.

Perhaps I just do not like efficient Christmases. Perhaps that is why, year after year, I do so little to get the presents, or get them wrapped once we have them, until the last minute. I might make fruit cakes a few weeks in advance, but somehow the rest of the Christmas baking is always done in the last two or three days, and we always have far more than enough. I dislike hearing Christmas carols more than one week before Christmas, but then, I like them to be around constantly until New Year's. I like my Christmas decorations up no earlier than Christmas Eve, if that is possible, and I like to have them down by New Year's, so all the festivity is crowded into one gay and frenzied week.

Even the day before Christmas is not too late to pass on to you my favorite recipe for turkey dressing. This is just about right for a twelve pound bird. Vary the quantity according to the size of your turkey. This recipe is remarkably versatile. If you do not have some of the ingredients, they can be omitted or substituted with very little consequence.

Christmas Fire Safety

It would not be Christmas without the traditional Christmas tree and it is always a delight to see the shining eyes of the youngsters as they view this marvelous spectacle. However, unless proper precautions are taken, the holiday season can be turned into needless tragedy.

If we are to prevent fires at this time of year, the following information will prove helpful. 1. A tree is highly combustible and filled with pitch and resin, can burn with explosive violence in just 18 seconds.

Choose a freshly cut tree and keep it in a cool damp place until ready to use. Then make an angle cut at the base of the tree and keep the base in water or damp sand. The tree can be also made safer by dipping or spraying it with a flame proofing solution, a recommended mixture made with 1 1/2 lbs. of boric acid, 1 1/2 lbs. of borax and 3 gals. of water. Thoroughly saturate tree and allow to dry.

2. Do not place the tree too close to heating appliances or do not block exit routes.

3. Use only electric lights on the tree and these must bear the C.S.A. approval's stamp. Frayed electrical cords are also a fire hazard.

4. Provide a switch to shut off the current to these lights at some distance from the tree and never leave the lights burning when the room is vacant.

5. Metal ornaments should never be hung over electrical wires nor should electrical lights be placed on artificial metal trees — such practices could cause short circuits — use indirect lighting.

6. An approved fire extinguisher should be handy. Water is the best extinguisher for ordinary combustibles.

7. Christmas wrappings should be disposed of immediately after gifts have been opened.

8. No smoking near the tree and keep matches and lighter from small hands.

9. The holiday season is also a time for many parties. Extreme care should be taken and the house thoroughly checked after a party and your guests have left.

10. Should fire occur, get everyone out of the house and

Extra Child Care At Christmas

The holiday season introduces many new fire hazards into the home, Fire Marshal K. J. Partington warned today. While Christmas is a time for children, they have a greater danger from fire if left alone even for a short time.

The highly flammable Christmas tree, decorations and gift wrappings make it the duty of all parents to make sure their children are never without responsible supervision. There is also the added attraction of electrical lights on the tree that small children love to see burning. These, too, can cause fire and death if not properly cared for.

During the holiday season there are more parties and visiting and a tendency to leave children alone for just one moment. Remember, it takes only 18 seconds for a Christmas tree to burn furiously to charred wood. If you must go out and a sitter is not available, take the children with you. Those who are visiting will welcome them.

Remember Section 189 of the Criminal Code of Canada states: "Every one who unlawfully abandons or exposes a child who is under the age of ten years, so that its life is or likely to be endangered or its health is or is likely to be permanently injured is guilty

My Daily Prayer

Author Unknown
"This coming year I'd like to be a friend to everyone;
I'd like to feel each day well spent at setting of the sun;
I'd like to know that I have done
at least one kindly deed,
Before I lay me down to sleep that I have given heed—
To some one's cry for sympathy, or friendship or that I Have made the day seem brighter to some chance passer-by,
And that the world is better still just some little way, Because I've tried to live the very best I could each day.

"I'd like to be a ray of light when skies are overcast,
I'd like to help some one who failed to blot out all the past,
To start again despite the storms,
and find the skies are blue.
To know that in this good old world
there's lots that's fine and true.
I'd like to be the kind of person
everyone will love,
And make the world seem just a little more like heaven above;
I'd like in all my dealings to be true and just and fair,
That God will help me do these things shall be my daily prayer."

Season's Greetings

We come again at Christmas time,
To wish you Joy and Cheer,
To say those things we hope you'll keep,
Throughout the glad New Year.
We wish you Joy within your home,
And Happiness for all you love;
And then for friends, a hand-shake warm,
With Blessings showered from Above.
We wish you time for the angels' song,
And lasting Peace and Health;
With a will to work and heart to sing,
And Courage and Hope — and a little Wealth.
Through simple things we hope you'll find,
Christmas Magic and Joyous Cheer,
And discover some treasures
you left behind,
In the feverish rush of this dying year.

Holiday Feasts In 19th Century

Detailed accounts of Chris-mas in the early 1800's in Nov-Scotia reveal that the Chris-mas feast was a highlight each holiday season.

The delicious fare included geese, roasted with possible - the more one taste the more happy months of the year were assured.

Preparing and baking a plum pudding was a family fair. Every member of the household gave it a stir or good luck. Those who followed the English Yuletide traditions placed a ring, thimble and money in the pudding when it was being baked. The person who received the ring would get married; the thimble symbolized assurance of pre-money to be received; the thimble indicated celibacy or spinsterhood.

It was customary to taste
many plum puddings aspossible - the more one taste the
more happy months of the
year were assured.

Houses were gaily decorated with evergreen trees and branches laden with cake and candies. There was much merry-making in house-to-house visiting. Daytime recreations were skating, coasting and sleighing while dinners and gala balls occupied the evening hours.

One account of Christmas, 1813, states that 3 loads of wine at one dinner was quite an ordinary matter. Only one woman was brave enough to sample all of them and the account states that she walked away from the table as gracefully and erectly as she had approached it.

Few gifts were exchanged and they consisted of rings, unless it was a locket from a

The History Of Christmas Carols

If you've ever known the joy of singing Christmas Carols — and who hasn't — you may be surprised to learn how some of them came about.
"Silent Night", for example, was written in a few hours by an Austrian priest as a surprise for his parishioners. Did you know that Carols were originally dances, and not made to be sung? In fact, Christmas music at one time was very gloomy and sad; and one well-known author of the early 19th century predicted that Carols were on the decline and would "soon be heard no more."

The Psychology Of Giving

What makes some gifts so successful — while others, perhaps much more expensive, get a reception that's merely polite? Often, the difference is simply the knowledge of a little psychology. Do give a present that won't cause anxiety; a fragile knick knack is the wrong gift for a woman with children. Don't give cash it's like telling the recipient that you think he needs money. Do put flattery into your gifts; nylon tricot lingerie or sleepwear, for example, flatters a woman's femininity.
And do learn how to listen for hints — There's more of knack to it than you may realize!

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

lover to his lass, containing a lock of his hair — with room for hers. — Nova Scotia News letter, Christmas 1963.

History Of The Christmas Tree

To modern Americans the Christmas tree is a dazzling symbol of Yuletide gaiety; people flock to see famous fir-as the giant tree in New York's Rockefeller Plaza. But the history of the Christmas tree stretches far back, even to pre-Christmas times; the Romans decorated a tall conifer in celebration of the winter solstice. Primitive European tribes took fir trees into their spirits." The first decorated mas celebration? Credit Mar-

by the beauty of a starry night to put candles on a small fir-tree.

This Christmas you can add excitement to your gifts — without breaking the bank!
Just follow the advice given by experts. Stress quality: if you're buying an electrical appliance, for example, the material it's made of will make a big difference. Make it a luxury: people appreciate gifts they wouldn't ordinarily buy for themselves, but remember to keep it useful. Another tried-and-true rule of gift buying is to choose something that is easy to care for, not too fragile and pleasing to the eye.
It isn't far to Bethlehem town
It's anywhere that Christ comes down
And finds in someone's shin-

Letter to the Editor

The Digby Courier

Dear Mrs. Wallis,

I don't know if you will remember me or not. My name is Duke Drewes and I live in Dallas. I worked for Chester Outhouse of Tiverton for three months.

My summer in Nova Scotia will never be forgotten. I enjoyed myself every minute. I made many, many good friends while I was there. There are just too many for me to possibly write. I wonder if you have the space, if you would please wish every one in Tiverton a very merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

I think about them often. Chester was very good to me and made my stay a very pleasant one.

I was especially close to Cy Outhouse who is one of the nicest men I've ever met, and Gorham Elliott and his wife as well as David Outhouse and many many more.

I know I will have to come back to Tiverton some day. There are no friendlier people in the world than Nova Scotians. The people I met there will always be in my thoughts.

I'm a Sophomore at Henderson State College in Arkansas. I am still in pre-med and hope to become a doctor some day. I am kept busy with football in the fall and swimming in the spring. I am on a football scholarship. I would love to hear from anyone in Tiverton and would gladly write back.

I am getting your paper regularly and enjoy it very much. I was especially interested in your write up on the recent storm in Tiverton. If you can't get my greetings in I will understand. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year. Best wishes,

Duke Drewes
Address: Duke Drewes, Box 283, Henderson State, Arkadelphia, Ark.

We hand folks over to God's mercy, and show none ourselves. — George Eliot.

PLAY IT SAFE

Even with chains or snow tires it takes a lot longer to stop a car on ice. Avoid a sliding crash by increasing following distance in winter. Don't worry about the nut who races ahead and takes up that space. Let him have it, and stay well back of such a poor driver. Abrupt turns and sudden changes in speed can produce bad skids. Anticipate all turns, make them slowly and gently. A driver who finds himself in a skid should turn the steering wheel in the direction the rear-end is sliding, then straighten the front wheels as the car straightens. On a hill, get enough momentum to reach the top, then watch for stalled cars or obstacles on the way down. Be extra careful in temperature traps in shady areas and on bridges. Posted speed limits are for ideal conditions. Good judgment is the real speed limit.

Pump the brakes to slow or stop. Slamming them on produces loss of control. Ice or snow can be as slippery at 30-above as at zero. Heavy traffic at corners packs snow, spinning wheels polish ice and stopping becomes treacherous. Start to slow down ahead of the intersection.

Digby Wharf Dredging Contract Awarded

Weymouth Man Nominee

The name of "Mr. Annapolis Valley - 1964" will be announced on New Year's Day.

The names of 15 persons, ranging from the eastern to the western extremities of the Valley, were submitted following a call for nominations by the weekly newspapers in the Valley in co-operation with Evangeline Radio.

The fifteen names and the reasons submitted for their nominations were then presented to a panel of judges comprising Warden Malcolm Balem from Annapolis Co., Warden William T. Blair, in Kings Co., and Councillor Victor Aylward, representing West Hants when the Warden was unable to attend. The Managing Director of Evangeline Radio, Willard A. Bishop, was moderator.

On the basis of the reasons submitted and after discussion and vote the judges chose four of the nominees as having contributed the most to the economic, social or cultural development of the Annapolis Valley as a whole.

The four men then considered were:

Professor Jack Sheriff, of Wolfville, "originated the first summer theatre in the Maritime Provinces and has just completed a most successful year... recognized the urgent need for some cultural activity of interest to visitors during the summer months... brought to light a considerable volume of Nova Scotia talent and provided an opportunity for wide development in the musical field particularly."

Laurie S. Milne, of Kentville — "responsible, as chairman of the Finance Committee of the Kentville Hospital Association, more than any other person in the location in the Annapolis Valley of the excellent new Regional Hospital situated at Kentville..."

R. A. Jodrey, of Hantsport — "donated 'a large area of land on the tip of Cape Blomidon to be converted into a park. Through this donation and the subsequent establishment of a modern park, many benefits to many people, both financial and cultural will inevitably result... would also be a belated but fitting show of appreciation to a native son who has played such a prominent role in the industrial life of the Valley and the province of Nova Scotia during the past quarter century."

Emanuel Adelaar of Weymouth — "recently been elected to serve a second term as President of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade. This action was taken due to the fact that, although in the past presidents have only served one year, Mr. Adelaar's contribution to the organization was such that we felt that he was irreplaceable. During his first year as President he was responsible for instituting in the Valley area the hiring of a full time Executive Secretary and Tourist Director... in order to do this it has been necessary to correlate contributions from every municipality and town in the Annapolis Valley and also the wholehearted support of every Board of Trade in the Annapolis Valley."

The panel of judges then discussed the four nominees and considered, among other factors, the degree of completion of each nominee's project and the effect the project would have on the Annapolis Valley community.

A unanimous decision was reached and the name of the "Annapolis Valley Man of the Year - 1964" will be announced on the program "1964 In Review", to be heard over Evangeline Radio at 1 p.m. on New Year's Day.

The Honourable Alan J. MacEachen, Minister of Labor and Nova Scotia's representative in the Cabinet, advised Monday that the contract for the dredging of the Digby Harbour and Boat Basin has been awarded to Shelburne Contractors Limited, of Shelburne, Nova Scotia.

The contract calls for removal of 17,000 cubic yards, scow measurements, and is the first step in a three million dollar expansion programme planned for the Digby Harbour.

He further announced that other developments would be announced early in the New Year concerning the wharf expansion here in Digby.

The appointment of Clair W. Keen, of Shore Road, as Measurements Inspector, and James Gibson, of Smith's Cove, as Inspector of Deposits, was also announced. Both of these men are veterans of the Second World War.

The dredge for the use by the Shelburne Contractors Limited arrived on Tuesday, and it is expected that the work will commence shortly, depending on the weather.

Brings New Year Message

Speaking on the subject of Guidance for the New Year, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, pastor of the Baptist Church of Digby, said at the morning service last Sunday that the question Thomas asked of Jesus, "How can we know the way?" is an age-old question. It was asked in various forms by the ancient Greeks, Egyptians, Romans, Hindus, as well as in modern times. Man's search has been for the right way to live, to think, and to act.

Amidst all the confusion of modern life, the speaker said, there is only one certain answer to this question, that given by Jesus himself, who said, "I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life." No better or greater guidance can be given for the journey of life than that which comes from Him and through Him.

The important question is whether or not we are willing to heed and follow the guidance already given us. The Bible teaches us to pray, to worship, to be pure in heart, to love our neighbors, to witness for Christ and to trust in God. The Bible is full of guiding principles; could God trust us with any more instructions if we do not follow what we already have?

"Commit thy way unto the Lord, and he will direct thy paths," is an injunction we may well practice in the new year ahead.

On Sunday evening the annual Sunday School Concert was held in the church auditorium, with the School Superintendent, C. M. Levy, in charge. Members of Mrs. Shirley Clayton's class formed the choir, and a number of exercises, songs and Christmas carols were presented by the various classes of the junior, primary and beginners departments. At the close of the program Mrs. Boyd Haines gave an effective Christmas reading.

Following the concert a Christmas party was held for the children in the church hall with their parents as guests. Refreshments were served by the Sunday School teachers.

Cold In Terrace

While Nova Scotians were having an unusually mild spell at Christmas time, British Columbia was having really winter weather.

A letter written on December 22nd to The Digby Courier by Mrs. James Morton, Terrace, B. C., reported the temperature for the day to be one degree below zero. The week before saw the temperature drop to 16 degrees below.

Present Piano To Association

On Monday of last week William MacLeod made a formal presentation of a piano on behalf of Digby Kiwanis Club to the Acaciaville Community Betterment Association. Above, left to right, are Donald Brown, president elect Digby Kiwanis Club; Kiwanian Joseph Hattie; William MacLeod, Kiwanis president; Mrs. Imogene Barton, pianist; Rev.

William Clayton, president of the Community Betterment Association, who accepted the piano on behalf of the Association; Mrs. Mary Borden and Mrs. Eleanor Elms, members of the Association executive.

Mrs. Borden, in accepting the piano, said that this was a dream come true. We had hoped that we might some day have a piano. The Acaciaville Community Betterment Association undertakes such projects, adult education classes, library, social programs for the aged, and pre-school vacation school, course hooking and other activities.

To Study Digby County Diatomaceous Earth

Frank Wightman, of Smith's Cove, Digby County, who some years ago operated the diatomaceous earth deposits at Tiddville in Digby County, stated this week he has received word from the Hon. W. S. Kennedy Jones, Nova Scotia Minister of Trade & Industry, that the provincial government has instructed the trade and industry minister to request the Nova Scotia Research Foundation to have a study made as to the possibility of developing an industry based on the diatomaceous earth deposits in Digby County.

Mr. Wightman said that the trade minister's letter concerning the proposed study came in response to a request that such a feasibility study be made. It is understood the diatomaceous earth deposits at Tiddville, on Digby Neck, are the largest and most important in eastern Canada. The federal department of mines some time ago stated that reserves in the area amounted to 600,000 to 800,000 tons.

Quite a number of people in the local area have played a part in recent efforts to have a feasibility study made. Mr. Wightman stated. He said these include Digby Mayor C. D. Snow; R. Baden Powell, Digby MLA; Digby Warden Ronald Morehouse; Municipal Councillor Marion P. Gott, chairman of the municipal council industrial committee, and John R. Nichols, of the Digby Trade Board.

The diatomaceous earth deposits at Tiddville were worked by Scotia Diatomates Ltd. and International Diatomite Industries Ltd., who built and operated a plant at Tiddville in the late 1920's and early '30's. Most of the product was marketed in the United States. The deposit was later operated by the Wightman family in a small way between 1941 and 1955. All of the product was marketed in Toronto.

More than 25,000 tons of diatomite are imported into Canada annually with a value of approximately one and one-half million dollars. No diatomite is produced in eastern Canada and only about 300 tons annually in British Columbia. In Canada diatomite is used for filtration; in the production of ammonium nitrate fertilizers; refractories; concrete; insulation; for paper rubber and linoleum fillers and for other industrial purposes.

Temperature Difference 100 Degrees

Mr. and Mrs. "Ted" Woodman, along with their family and guests, received a telephone call at Christmas time from their daughter, Mrs. Arnold McCallum, Mr. McCallum, Ross and Scott, who live in Yellowknife, N.W.T. Part of the conversation compared temperatures. Yellowknife was shivering in 42 degrees below zero while Digby was Spring-like in a temperature hovering at 58 degrees above. A difference of 100 degrees.

Mr. and Mrs. McCallum, who left here in August for Yellowknife are enjoying life in the north and had a pleasant Christmas. Mr. McCallum, who was on the Digby school teaching staff, is teaching at Yellowknife and is especially interested and actively playing on the hockey teams.

The speakers respectively for the above services are: Capt. Murray, Rev. John Denchfield, Rev. H. Ricker and Rev. R. Hughes. All services will commence at 7:30 p.m.

"The Path of Prayer" will be the main theme of the meetings.

The Digby General Hospital Ladies Auxiliary will hold their monthly meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Clayton Snow, King St., at 8:00 p.m.

Addresses Kiwanis

In addressing the Digby Kiwanis Club last week, Captain Paul Murray said "for the despair of man there is an antidote — the Christ whose birthday we celebrate at this time." Christmas, he said, gives us hope for the future. The optimism of the season must give us optimism that will last through the calendar year, he continued.

In leading up to the main part of his talk Capt. Murray mentioned several factors which enter into the season. The factor of time to carry out our Christmas plans. There is an element of judgement even with our shopping and mailing. It reminds us of the judgement of God upon our efforts on earth, of the necessity of putting to good use our talents, our opportunities and time.

Christmas, the speaker said points out for us the predicament of man. Man has basically an underlying problem, he said when referring to the world situation. It is his own sin and selfishness.

New business was discussed and it was announced to the group that the Bishop, the Most Reverend Albert Lemenager, would soon pay a visit to the Digby C.Y.O. members.

The following evening a C.Y.O. Christmas party was held. The evening was conducted by Gerry Connolly, Bobby Smith and Richard VanTassel, all members of the senior social committee. The group enjoyed an evening of musical entertainment by "The Wildcats" and participated in a number of contests. An admission was charged and pop and chips were sold. All profits were used in helping needy families at Christmas, and the party was a great success.

New Constable

LeRoy Brooks has been hired by the Town of Digby as special constable. He replaces Luke Dugas, who has moved from the town.

said, "We can never fully comprehend the Christmas event, but we can be thankful. We are limited in thought, language, and voice, and, therefore, are limited in our comprehension. God sent Jesus Christ, His only Son, to express the love in His heart. We can ignore if we do not understand; we can decline or we can formally accept the Christ, but it is best to accept Him with the thankful heart." Mr. Hughes commented.

Report From Parliament Hill

George C. Nowlan

I suspect that the average Canadian who has never visited the House of Commons in Session, but who has read of its activities in the papers, assumes that it is always a very exciting place. Others who have visited the House will testify that sometimes the debates are monotonous and dull. There are times, however, when the proceedings and events are dramatic, and feelings run high.

To my mind, this has been the most dramatic week in the House of Commons since the culmination of the pipeline debate in 1956. On Monday afternoon, the Government moved closure to end the flag debate. We now know that many Liberals supported this move and others opposed it, but in the end, the Government decided to follow that course.

That was the first of several recorded votes which took place Monday afternoon. Monday evening and well into Tuesday morning. Then came the vote on the Conservative amendment which had been moved the previous Friday. The third vote was a Motion by E. J. Doherty, Member for Bow River, "that the Leader of the Opposition be now heard." The Motion was made because the Speaker had recognized the Prime Minister rather than the Leader of the Opposition. They had both risen to speak at the same time. This was to be the final speech. However, the vote was lost and the Prime Minister was allowed the last speech. I thought that this was a most unfortunate position in which the Government had placed itself. Having invoked closure, one would have been prepared to hear Mr. Diefenbaker wind up this debate. It must be remembered that since the Flag Committee reported the new design, Mr. Diefenbaker himself had spoken only once. However, the Government majority, supported by the Creditists and the Social Crediters, gave the floor to the Prime Minister, and he wound up the debate which had captured the public imagination for so many weeks, and which had dominated Parliament for many months.

Then came the final division on the Flag, a moment of high drama and of deep emotion. There was more than one Member in the House of Commons who had tears in his eyes as the vote was being recorded. This was approximately 2:30 in the morning of Tuesday, the 15th. All of this time the galleries were packed, and hundreds of people were standing in line, hoping to get in to see these last moments. I do not think there were as many people waiting in the corridors as during the pipeline debate, but certainly there has never been so many people trying to get into the galleries at 2:30 in the morning at any time since then. When the vote was finally announced, someone, perhaps realizing the divisive character of the debate which had just closed, jumped to his feet and started to sing "O Canada". Immediately all Members of the House of Commons rose and joined him. The galleries too were emotionally aroused and they stood and joined with the Members in the singing. Actually, of course, under the Rules, persons in the Gallery are supposed to remain seated and never speak, but this was not a moment to enforce the Rules. Immediately after that, served in World War II. His interest was in public school service, social welfare activities, music, sports and was a member of a number of lodges where he achieved high offices. Members of the family attended a private communion service in the chapel of Christ Church (Parish) Church, conducted by Ven. Archdeacon S. Coster, at 9 o'clock on Sunday morning.

A memorial service was held in the church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. It was conducted by Archdeacon Coster, assisted by Rev. I. D. Nichols. Shirley Eldon Aptt The death occurred at the D.V.A. Hospital in Saint John, N.B., on November 30 of a highly respected and beloved person, Shirley Eldon Aptt. Mr. Aptt was born at Victoria Beach in 1911, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Aptt. Before his illness, he was employed with the C.P.R.

He is survived by his wife, one brother, Murray, and his parents at Victoria Beach. The funeral was held from the Port Wade Baptist Church, with Rev. Arch MacLellan officiating. Interment was in the cemetery.

Letter to the Editor

Digby, Nova Scotia, 29 December, 1964.

The Editor,

The Digby Courier,

Digby, N. S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

Through the medium of the Digby Courier I wish to thank those who gave so generously to The Salvation Army Christmas Appeal for 1964. I am grateful that the response this year exceeded the giving of past years. Only through public generosity can the Salvation Army administer assistance to those in need. Once again this has been possible and we of The Salvation Army are grateful for the opportunity which has been ours to serve those in distress.

Most sincerely yours,

of course, we sang "God Save The Queen", in two different languages, in varying keys and sometimes off-key, but I have never heard the National Anthem sung with more feeling than in those early hours of Tuesday morning.

Now the House of Commons is debating the other half of the Flag Committee Report, the adoption of a Flag to indicate our membership in the Commonwealth. The Report recommends that this should be the Union Jack. I referred to this in my Report last week, and expressed the opinion that it was possible that the Government would decide to adopt the Red Ensign for this purpose rather than the Union Jack. This is being debated Thursday night, because Mrs. Nowlan and I have to leave shortly to go to Halifax for the christening of HMCS Annapolis, which she launched previously. Therefore, I do not know what the result of the debate will be, late tonight or on Friday. However, I am afraid the Government will not accept our amendment, and that we are going to have the Union Jack as our Commonwealth Flag. Certainly this is not the time to debate this question. I am sure that there are many people reading this column who will fly the Union Jack as our Commonwealth Flag or who will continue to fly the Red Ensign because it bears the Union Jack, during the rest of their days. I am equally sure that it will be a long day and a longer night before the new Flag will fly universally across Canada.

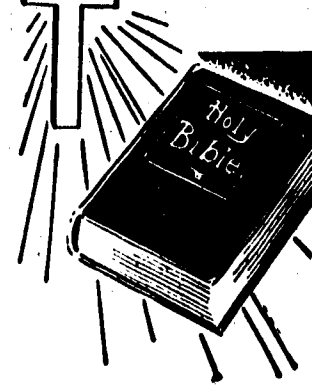

In the meantime, of course, the inquiry being conducted by Chief Justice Doherty has been sitting in Ottawa, considering the charges made by Mr. Erik Nielsen in the House of Commons a few weeks ago of charges of bribery and coercion against Executive Assistants to Ministers of the Government. I do not have to deal with that in this column. Newspapers across Canada have been headlining the evidence produced by the witnesses up to this time. Obviously I should not comment on this matter because the investigation is still continuing, and as we lawyers say, it is "sub judice".

At the moment we are all concerned as to when the House of Commons is going to recess. It can't prorogue because the Committee on Pensions has been set up, and if the House prorogues, the Committee would have to dissolve. Therefore, there will only be a recess, but there is some reason to think that the recess might be for several weeks, and it is my guess that it will adjourn sometime late Friday night. Therefore, the Editors will be glad to know that this is my last Report from Parliament Hill for this year, but I am looking forward to continuing this column when the House reassembles. In the meantime, may I take this opportunity of extending to all my constituents the very best wishes of Mrs. Nowlan and myself for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

PLAY IT SAFE

The motorist who makes a turn without signaling, well in advance, is inviting trouble. No motorist is a mind-reader. No motorist can guess which way you intend to turn. The only safe way — for you and for the others around you in traffic — is to signal every turn. It's a simple thing to do. Flick that little lever as soon as you know what turn you will make. If it isn't working, give the proper hand signal. But one way or another make it absolutely clear that you are going to turn and in what direction you are going to turn. There's no point in saving the tiny effort or the split second it takes to flick the turn signal then losing weeks in hospital or nursing your wrecked car through the complications of the aftermath of a crash.

Vandals Strip Christmas Decorations

A sad development in the Christmas season was the fact that many of the Christmas tree lights and decorations were stolen from the store fronts and the community Christmas tree in Bear River. The merchants and citizens of the town go to great trouble and expense to make the town an outstanding display area and it should be in the interest of the community to protect the decorations — not to destroy them was the comment of our correspondent.

Christmas Dinner With Two Great Grandmothers

The fact that children have Christmas dinner with parents is a common, accepted event. Christmas with grandparents is not rare, but Christmas dinner with two great grandmothers is an event that does not happen to every youngster.

Memories of Christmas dinner, 1961 is likely to linger long in the minds of Barry and Craig Buckman, school age youngsters, who with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Buckman of Tiverton enjoyed Christmas dinner at the home of their great grandmother, Mrs. Herman (Blanche) Elliott. Their other great grandmother, Mrs. W. V. Perry of Freeport was also present.

Present also were Mrs. Elliott's daughter, Mildred and her husband Delbert Clifford and their daughter, Barbara, who is studying a course in hairdressing and was at home for the holidays; granddaughter, Kay (daughter of the late Dorothy (Elliott) and Scott Perry of Freeport) who is employed with the Maritime Tel. and Tel. Company at Halifax, and Kay's sister, Nancy and her husband Delbert Buckman.

Both great grandmothers, Mrs. Elliott and Mrs. Perry, who are in their eighties, are keenly interested in Church activities and Mrs. Elliott occasionally participates in its functions.

PLAY IT SAFE

Remember this — road traffic is Canada's Number 3 killer. Only cancer and heart disease kills more Canadians than motor traffic. Driving in today's congested, speeding traffic is no round of pleasure, but when the oddballs move into the picture, a motorist could be safer with a loaded gun aimed at his chest. If you drive carefully, also drive defensively — give the nut his way — don't try to educate him then and there. Let him go. He may best you by a few seconds, but at least you'll stand a much better chance of getting where you're going. Give it a try. You'll like it.
