

Welcome to the Digital DIGBY COURIER 1877-1978

100th Birthday

The hundredth anniversary of the Digby Weekly Courier has brought to mind some fond memories as recounted in the following historical chapter of the paper. For first, I want to congratulate the current editor of the Courier, Mrs. J.M. (Edith) Wallis, for a job well done over the years and still being well done, good service rendered with great fortitude.

According to my recollection, I have at hand, the Digby Courier, in one hundred years of publication, was controlled under the same family management for 42 years, 1836 to 1978, under the control of Wallis Print Limited. The late J.J. Wallis became editor of the Courier in the second time, in 1929, and at the latter time of the second time, in 1929, and at which he had been running for some time previously and which became Wallis Print Limited sometime between 1929 and 1931.

I well remember the last year of the twelfth when I worked in the office with the husband and father of the Digby Courier. Sometime in 1919 or early 1920, the late J.M. Wallis (Mac), son of J.J., engaged me to work every day after school hours, Saturdays, and for some months after for the office of work was in the building of the present Digby town hall on First Avenue. J.J. Wallis then worked occasionally at the print shop but mostly across the street at the Courier office which was then located on land in the general area where The Royal Bank of Canada is now.

Wallis Job Print operated in this building of four consisting of J.J. Wallis, J.M. Wallis, Miss Elva Haynes, who later became Mrs. George Kicop, and myself. I was in the staff in early 1920.

Mac's job was to run the staff in the left upstairs. J.J. occasionally printing plant but mostly at the Courier office. "Mac" worked nearly full-time at all the different jobs at the Job Print, and I worked at various duties most of the time being spent at operating printing presses.

We worked ten-hour days, six days a week. J.J. and "Mac" sometimes worked overtime. I worked only the regular hours being paid a weekly wage which was comparatively good for those times, and my lack of experience. I received five or five dollars a week for working after school hours to six o'clock and on Saturday all day, and nine dollars a week for half weeks after finishing school. A two or three dollar a week raise was offered to me in the fall of 1920 for me to stay on at printing, but I had made up my mind to enter a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, starting salary of $200. The bank salary started out about the same per hour as for the printing plant those days, and experience however short, were helpful and appreciated to me.

J.J. was very jovial in his occasional trip to the print and did consider the kidding all in good fun. "Mac" was a witty person who noised in a good deal of sarcasm now and then for no reason or another. Elva must always had good answers to all the kidding she was called upon to take, and she usually held her own in a quiet sort of way, always in a setting type. We four all got along very well together. However, I do remember that some days all seem long and weary because of the transitory of some repetitious jobs.

In spite of the great demand for printing those last happy days of the twelfth, business generally being brisk, it looked in his that people had to work long and hard to make any decent profit. There was however, trials and finger ends were used and I was sent back to work.

New and then a printing job had to be put on the paper which required a new kind of printers ink which smelled very bad some days. I always dreaded it when "Mac" would say that it was the largest press, it was at the factory as always spent an outside day in lower trenches on the construction.

One of the jobs I had to do, with the paper and printers devil on the staff, was to do a printing job and then, one day not long after I started my job at the printing plant, I decided to show the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned in some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you getting on Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily, he thought the remark pretty good and amusing.

Sometimes the gasoline engine or a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and the "Mac" the fix it man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results. "Mac" would then stand back and cross out dramatically, then he would immediately start working. "Mac" would say, "all it needed was a bit of cleaning."

On other occasions when some piece refused to do its job, and seemed to be broken, "Mac" would say, "use a little oil" and sure enough after that is all it took. How often since, have I heard of the value of that remark and the actual need of oil in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and, in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I told "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring month of 1920 got together just before dark one evening and decided to utilize the newly built outdoor Fern Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just out of the pool, nobody else seemed to be around except the four boys, no thought or time for bathing suits up to the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in. The rest quickly followed and across the pool they swam. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Scouts Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the boys? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Carl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars, second world and Korea; now prominent druggist, for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale haberdashery merchant; and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day "Mac" said to me how about writing your version of the story told about "The Marooning of Jerome." I did it and read at least two somewhat different versions about the man who was found marooned on a beach in northern point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Digby County. When I read this man's tale, and then read and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome" appeared to have been a man of some considerable social standing and, possibly, of some considerable wealth. However the way the man could or would ever say after being found and cared for by some family in the French shore was, something that sounded like the story of a hero. He either would not, or would not, write anything about who he was or why he was left there. Well, it was, and is, one of Digby County's best kept secrets, and, different ideas have been put forward over the years concerning this man. However, the name of "Mac" was, I felt no urge to write anything about different about this man. The story seemed to have been very well explained in the story of many people, and he was a sort of a hero and many people who liked ways he was.

There were three print jobs that were quite interesting. One was a printing job for the street that had been closed for some time. The other was a printing job for the street that had been closed for some time. The third was a printing job for the street that had been closed for some time.

Digby 172 Years Ago

Compiled by David Lambert

From the files of the Courier of January 22, 1860, the following account has been compiled concerning Digby in 1860.

Among a number of old newspapers kindly sent to me by friends is a copy of the first issue of the Digby Courier of 1860, says the following and among other advertisements contained in the issue before us is one describing the town and furnishing of Digby, and offering for sale certain lots in the town. In this area we are told the town of Digby "retained from the Gulf of Annapolis westward to the extremity of the province of Nova Scotia, and contains about 125,000 acres." The town plot is thus described:

"The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles across. It is from the head of St. Mary's Bay. This land was then the water's edge, partly as land ground, and partly as the locality of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect, a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in where it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth of that name. It was occupied by Loyalists from New York in 1783, the most of whom went early to farm, or, moving to other countries, left the whole free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students one of which was J.J.'s daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Melvin G. Thibert, Freeport, Digby Co.). Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters. I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print." I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and trimming paper stock, making ink for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "ye", the printers name for a confined mass.

There was a taste of trying to sell job printing outside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried to make several calls around town, spent most of the time at one particular side to be hoped proved by about who were ready detached, but meetings with and sympathy, at some factory too. It has common spirit of the cause previous to 1860, could really be to be from many circumstances, probability of plot of some significance, the West India a sharp and of resistance. This about in the December, I was in the...

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 6, 1966

Premier Reviews Year 1965

As 1965 ends we can look back over the year with a degree of satisfaction. We have not accomplished all that we might have wished but we have made considerable progress. I think it is fair to say that the people of Nova Scotia are looking to the future in the confident belief that if we all work together we can take our place in the mainstream of Canadian life.

We have many difficulties to overcome, we have many problems that can be solved only by wise planning, hard work and the firm belief that we can help ourselves. Some times perhaps we have a tendency to emphasize our difficulties and minimize our accomplishments and our opportunities. Critical self analysis is good if it does not result in defeatism — it is good if it helps us to make necessary decisions and spurs us on to greater endeavours.

We have made considerable progress and statistics — although they may make dull reading — substantiate that statement.

We need a high rate of investment if we are to prosper. In 1965 new capital investment in Nova Scotia increased by approximately 26 per cent over the year 1964. Manufacturing shipments increased by over 6 per cent. Income from our fisheries, forests and tourist industry increased substantially.

Statistics may be dull but they do indicate an expanding economy, more opportunities, more jobs, more income and a better standard of living for our people. We must recognize, however, that some of our people have not shared adequately in this expansion.

Now we have a New Year before us and although forecasting is a hazardous undertaking I believe that 1966 will bring further progress to Nova Scotia. The way will not always be easy. We will probably have setbacks and disappointments but if we persevere we will continue to advance and life in our wonderful little Province will continue to grow more prosperous, varied and interesting.

Life is moving very swiftly. Change brings opportunity to those who are alert, but misfortune to those who ignore it. 1966 will therefore bring us new opportunities and new problems.

My wish for 1966 in Nova Scotia is that we will continue to work hard and harmoniously; that we will have the courage to make the right decisions even when they are hard decisions; and that a year from now we will be able to look back on 1966 with real satisfaction and pleasure.

I am delighted to have this opportunity to wish you a Happy New Year. I hope that the year 1966 will bring you health, happiness and prosperity.

Assessment $5,988,670

The assessment roll as submitted by the assessors, J. D. Hubley Ltd., was accepted at the meeting of the Digby town council on Tuesday night. Total assessment on the roll amounted to $5,988,670, which is 46% higher than in 1965. The assessment as submitted is one hundred percent assessment, it is understood.

The tax rate which has not been set could possibly be lowered because of the higher assessment. This was not gone into at the meeting as the budget for 1966 has not yet been drawn up.

Discussion was held on the rumor that some scallop boats were registering in other ports because the assessment in Digby was unfair in comparison with other ports.

It was pointed out by town clerk, Jack Whalley, that the boats are assessed where the owner lives and not where the boat is registered.

It was also the opinion of some councillors that there would be found little variation in assessment of boats in Digby and neighbouring towns in 1966.

Baudoux Named Valley Man Of Year

RCAF Station Greenwood's Commanding Officer, Group Captain E. L. Baudoux has been named "Mr. Annapolis Valley - 1965".

Group Captain Baudoux was the unanimous choice of the judges for his efforts to cement relations between the civilian public and servicemen and their dependents under his command.

Group Captain Baudoux, a native of Stellarton, enlisted with the RAF in 1939 and transferred to the RCAF in 1945. He has held command and staff positions in Alberta, Quebec, Ontario and the United States.

He held the position of Director of Air and Command Systems Operational Requirements in the Integrated Chief of Operation Readiness Branch at Canadian Forces Headquarters in Ottawa prior to his appointment as Greenwood's Commanding Officer in January 1965.

The three judges, Warden Stanton Sanford, of West Hants, Warden Robert Stevens, of Kings, and Warden Malcolm Balcom, of Annapolis, reviewed all nominations submitted and then considered four of the nominees for their contribution to the economic, social or cultural betterment of the Valley community.

Singled out for their contribution were Group Captain Baudoux, Lloyd K. Hill, B. R. Wade and Emanuel Adelaar.

Evangeline Radio will present Group Captain Baudoux with a plaque as "Mr. Annapolis Valley - 1965".

Completes 20,000 Hours Flying

Capt. Robert (Rob) Mills, Eastern Provincial Airways, recently completed 20,000 hours of accident-free flying while flying between Charlottetown and the Magdalen Islands. This number of hours constitutes approximately 4,000,000 miles, which is equivalent to 160 times around the earth.

Capt. Mills was born in Granville Ferry, N. S., on July 9, 1919, and received his elementary and high school education in Annapolis Royal, graduating in 1938. He joined the RCAF as aircrew in 1940 and trained as pilot at Brantford and London, Ont., receiving his wings in 1941. He was assigned to RAF No. 40 Wellington Squadron and flew two tours of operations, all in Wellingtons. He returned to Canada in 1944 as instructor at the Anson School in Yarmouth.

He joined Maritime Central Airways in January, 1945, on loan from the RCAF and received his discharge from the RCAF in June the same year. He was promoted to Captain with MCA in 1946 and was based in Charlottetown until November 1961 when he was transferred to Moncton. He was appointed check pilot with MCA in 1955, a position he still retains, together with his duties as line captain. He joined EPA in August when that company bought out MCA.

Capt. Mills has flown over 30 types of aircraft and is currently on DC-3, Herald and DC-4.

Nova Scotia To Jonesport Ferry Service Being Studied

Fritz Dakin, Digby, who has for some time been advocating Jonesport, Maine, as the shortest and most direct route from Nova Scotia to New England for a second ferry, has informed The Digby Courier of a meeting in Jonesport on Wednesday, January 5.

A letter to Mr. Dakin from Laurence Smith, of the Jonesport Board of Trade, advised Mr. Dakin of the meeting with a firm of Consulting Engineers from Halifax to inspect a site for a ferry.

Mr. Smith advised Mr. Dakin that several sites in Jonesport were available and that there is in the making an application for a breakwater and public pier to be constructed there, to cost upwards of a half million dollars with the government there helping to bear the cost of construction.

On Tuesday night at the Digby town council meeting, Mayor C. D. Snow also announced that a group of consulting engineers would be in Digby on January 6 on a study of locations for a second ferry between Nova Scotia and New England. The engineers will be in town today at two o'clock.

The announcement was made by His Worship and discussion on the Digby-Saint John service. Mr. Snow said it had always been his idea that two boats (Digby - N. E. and Digby - Saint John) could operate from the one terminal in Digby and he was most desirous to see this brought about.

Mr. Snow presented a copy of a letter received by Lloyd Hill, executive manager of AVANT from Hon. Mr. Pickersgill. Neither Mr. Hill nor Mayor Snow were satisfied with the content of the letter and Mayor Snow suggested that a committee should be formed to go to Ottawa to meet with the Department of Transport regarding the Digby-Saint John ferry service.

Revive Arbor Day

Digby town will revive the old fashioned Arbor Day of tree planting and general cleanup in 1966 if a proposition by the Town Planning Board materializes. In a letter to the town on Tuesday, the Town Planning Board suggested that in co-operation with the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society and with participation by the school children, the day be revived.

The town was in agreement with the plan if the Horticultural Society would head it up and choose a date.

Other suggestions made in the letter were that town by-laws be adopted regarding mobile homes, unsightly premises and buildings. It was the opinion of the town council that all of these are already covered by the town by-laws.

A letter was read from the Berwick Planning Board requesting a representative from the town to meet in Berwick on January 11 regarding a regional planning commission to study resources of the area, zoning by-laws and if possible to hire a qualified community planner for the Annapolis Valley area. Stewart MacNaughton was appointed to attend the meeting.

Picou County Resource and Development Commission (PICORD) also requested a representative to meet in Halifax regarding designated areas of the province. Picord's opinion was that Dartmouth and Halifax should be excluded from the designated area.

Notice was also given the council that a meeting would be held on January 6 regarding a new building for a Registry of Deeds office. The town clerk was requested to contact Dr. Julius Comeau, Meteghan, to find out whether the St. Anne's library centennial project was approved and accepted and if not the suggestion he made that the Registrar of Deeds office be financed through Centennial if possible.

On the committee from Digby town were named Gerald Connelly, Bernard Bell and Stewart MacNaughton. The project is one which involves Digby town, Digby municipality and Clare.

Mayor C. D. Snow also reported that he had been suggested to him that the old hospital might be converted for a welfare care establishment with Clare, Annapolis and Digby towns and municipalities cooperating. No action was taken on the subject.

Mrs. Irene Doucette had a surprise on New Year's day when her daughter, Mrs. Wilfred Merritt of Saint John, N. B. and her granddaughter Florence Merritt visited her. They also motored to New Edinburgh to visit Mrs. Merritt's father, Henry M. Doucette. Her sister, Mrs. Anna McIsaac, from Yarmouth, also visited her father for New Year's day. Mrs. Merritt was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Irene Doucette, and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Perry. Mrs. Merritt and her daughter, Florence returned to Saint John the same day.

Streets Report For December

Councillor Ralph MacIntyre, reporting for the streets committee at Tuesday evening's town council meeting, said that a total of $2,768.80 was spent by the town's works department during December.

The town men spent 605 hours at a cost of $623.40 on water, 408 hours at a cost of $419.00 hauling gravel on icy streets, 253 hours at a cost of $204.00 hauling snow, 40 hours costing $40.00 on the dump, 593 hours costing $601.00 on the streets consisting of cleaning ditches, gravelling Mount Street, cleaning front street, patching hard surface, putting up the Christmas tree, snow removal and sundry maintenance. The winter works crew spent 876 hours at a cost of $788.40 hauling rocks to the waterfront.

Mr. MacIntyre reported that poison has been placed on the town dump and close checks are being kept to assure that rats from the dump do not spread throughout town in search of food now that the dump has been closed.

Flag Half-Mast

Railway Station Occupancy Prospects

The Digby Town Council on Tuesday night expressed the opinion of being in favour of Fraser Supplies Ltd., of Berwick, to occupy the DAR railway station in Digby. The town clerk was instructed to advise the CPR of this with the added stipulation that all rights of the town be reserved as under an original agreement.

Taxes on both the building and stock, it is understood, will be paid by the Fraser Supplies Ltd. if the lease goes through Fraser Supplies Ltd. will use the building for a wholesale house. They deal in building, plumbing and electrical supplies and portable aluminum irrigation systems.

An alternative suggestion had earlier been presented by retiring councillor Ralph MacIntyre that the town take over the rental of the DAR station for offices, set up the basement for rest room facilities, have a bus depot and possibly a section for a public library.

The councillors decided it would be more profitable to have the station occupied by the wholesale company.

Rev. Hazen Ricker, of the Reformed Baptist Church, was the speaker when the first service for the 1966 Digby Week of Prayer was held at the Salvation Army Citadel on Tuesday evening. Mr. Ricker took as his subject "Does It Matter What A Man Believes?"

If there is one thing we need above all else and which we need more as time moves on, said Mr. Ricker, is the tremendous need of knowing what we believe, why we believe it and to have the Word of God to back it up. Your beliefs, said the speaker, make you what you are. In many things, he continued, we want to go on with others but when it comes to beliefs and what we know to be the right, we must stand up to them.

Beliefs, Mr. Ricker said, must be in the heart as well as in the head. If not, our living is inconsistent. Letting down standards so that the man outside cannot see the difference in the lives of those inside the church and those outside is not having the proper influence. Each person is either an influence in the cause of righteousness or of wickedness.

The service was conducted by Captain Fred Beach, of the Salvation Army, who also rendered a solo accompanied by Miss Deidre Morrell, who presided at the piano throughout the service.

Prayer was offered by Rev. H. S. Hartlin, Rev. J. L. Denchfield, Capt. Beach and Mrs. Small.

Scripture was read by Mr. Ricker, and Envoys Peter Muise, of New Aberdeen, Cape Breton, gave testimony. On Wednesday evening the service was in Grace United Church when Rev. H. S. Hartlin was the speaker. Tonight the services continue in the United Baptist Church with Capt. Fred Beach preaching and Friday night the speaker will be Rev. R. H. Hughes at the Digby Baptist Church.

Appointed Hunter Safety Instructors

Charles Leonard Bush, 75 Hillside Drive; Douglas Gary Bonner and John R. Bouchard, Conway, all of HMCS Cornwallis, have been appointed Hunter Safety Instructors by the National Rifle Association of America.

The appointments of the new instructors were granted after the successful completion of tests based on knowledge of firearms and safe hunting practices. A background of hunting experience is also required. An NRA Hunter Safety Instructor may conduct local classes in the operations of firearms, safe gun handling and demonstrate the techniques of shooting on the range and in the field.

They join more than 45,000 NRA Hunter Safety Instructors, who are available on a national basis to assist individuals and groups in the safe and efficient handling of firearms. Nearly 3 million people have attended NRA Hunter Safety Classes, since the initiation of this program in 1950.

Revenue from parking meters during 1965 was $6,513.29. This was $57.01 less than the 1964 total.

During December 1965 a total of 14 complaints were registered with the Digby police department. Six of these required field investigation and all except two have been terminated to the satisfaction of those concerned.

As a result of the investigation four persons were taken to court and all cases have been disposed of. Two cases are pending for later date. Two cases were under the Motor Vehicle Act, one under the Criminal Code, and one under the Nova Scotia Liquor Act. Twelve motor vehicle accidents were investigated. Fines amounted to $55.00. The town police report a quiet New Year's.

About This And That

Passenger Trains Used

True, it is not often that we make use of the passenger train for we are like many other people — the motor car is only a step from our front door and we so easily jump into it with all our untidy packing. Besides, the car, sometimes, is convenient to have on arriving at destinations. We do know of times, though, when we've parked our car for three days at a time in the small city of Halifax rather than to push through the traffic.

On the 23rd of December, we decided to leave the car in Digby and travel by railway to Sackville, N. B. How simple and easy! We boarded the train here at just about on schedule, we arrived in Windsor Junction almost on schedule and there boarded the C.N.R. from Halifax to Montreal. The C.N.R. happened to be a few minutes late so we stayed around in a comfortable station so far as warmth was concerned. And, who on a night in December is looking for an up-to-date station? We arrived in Sackville in quicker time than we could have made it by our own vehicle. The trip was most pleasant and we wondered why under the sun, with the many trips we've made to Amherst, N. S., and Sackville, N. B., that we hadn't made more use of this means of travel via Windsor Junction.

The point we want to make, however, is that the Dayliner had few, if any, vacant seats and most of the seats were occupied by two persons. We can't say that the C.N.R. sleeping cars were entirely filled nor even the coaches but on another day when we tried to get a passage on the C.N.R. from Sackville to Newcastle, N. B., there were no more coach tickets being sold. All the seats had been sold out and you took your chance on a cancellation only. Of course, we know that the answer to the above is going to be "That was during the Christmas season." True, but we notice in a C.N.R. report for 1965 that there was a rise of nearly 13 per cent in passenger revenue in the Atlantic region setting the seal of success on 1965. C.N.R. is forecasting continuing growth in the local economy in the new year, so the report says. The C.N.R., you might recall, inaugurated a passenger red, white, and blue day schedule which proved most satisfactory.

As you might imagine, our chief purpose in writing all this is because we are extremely worried about the fate of the D.A.R. dayliner passenger service from Yarmouth to Halifax. Passenger trains are being used, as we've noted, and the D.A.R. service should be retained even if the C.P.R. has to inaugurate an attractive Papa Bear, Mama Bear, Baby Bear schedule cheap enough to induce us to use the rail service rather than our own motor cars. And there, now we've hurt the feelings of car and gas salesmen. So, enough said.

Christmas Decorations

We were most grateful to receive the story from our Bear River correspondents on the Bear River Christmas decorations. We hope when our readers read the item that they will have the same reaction as ourselves. That was that we were most terribly sorry that we had not gone to Bear River during the Christmas season evenings. We hope they, too, will do as we did — mark in on our calendar for 1966. We hope the 1966 effort in Bear River will be just as good as the 1965 effort sounds. We also suggest an early description in 1966. It could attract many viewers to the village and incidentally, shoppers. Congratulations to Bear River.

Digby Needs

"Place a Book in the Hands of Your Child" is a motto being used by the Canadian Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation in their Centennial project. Their $50,000 project has an objective of reaching every parent over the next two years with urgent messages about the profound importance of books in the growth of their children. This prompted a parent to remind us that DIGBY NEEDS A PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Good suggestion and while we are thinking along these lines we might mention that the College of St. Anne at Church Point will be building a library on the college grounds as a centennial project. This will serve as a centre of Acadian literature as well as a public library. It is a consolation that even if Digby does not have a public library it will be possible to have access to a good library as near as Church Point, so long as St. Anne College continues.

Another suggestion for Digby (County) Needs was made. Someone to write a good history of the County. Come on you historians. How about it?

Majorities Are Dangerous

Democracy is not the rule of the majority! The popular opinion of the crowd can just as easily be stupid and cruel as it can be sensible and just. Mobs, for example, may kill or loot in a riot.

If Christopher Columbus had asked the crowd in his day, they would have told him that the earth was flat. Everyone thought that Galileo was mad to say the earth went round the sun when it was plain to be seen that the sun went round the earth. But Galileo and Columbus were right.

If a vote had been taken at the time of their invention, power looms, railways and aeroplanes would have been banned by law. Many considered it against the laws of God that man should try to travel faster than a horse could gallop, or a ship could sail. It wasn't natural, they said. If we use commonsense we know that counting heads is not the way to discover either truth or wisdom.

In these days when politicians clamour for large parliamentary majorities, we must remember the worst form of dictatorship has often been a so-called democratic government with an absolute majority. Hitler and Mussolini both had majorities behind them.

When a political party insists that all members vote according to party aims rather than personal principles, it is not being democratic but dictatorial. When the party in power is forced to listen to the good commonsense of an informed minority, dictatorial control is prevented.

Making the Most of Your Small Electrical Appliances

Many of you were perhaps the happy recipients of small electrical appliances for Christmas. But whether you have just received a new frying pan, blender, roaster, mixer, etc., or whether you've had one for some time you will want to get the best possible service from it. To do this you must, of course, look after it, keep it clean, stored properly and so on, but you should be aware of the endless jobs your appliance can do.

Everyone knows that an electric frying pan can be used to fry steak or eggs and bacon. Have you tried cooking a meal in your skillet? Baking custards in it? Using it at the table like a chafing dish? If not why not put it to use soon? And what about your blender? You can depend on it to aerate frozen or canned juices (makes them taste "fresh"); mince meats for sandwich fillings; make cashew or other nut butter; make bread, crackers, or cookie crumbs; chop chocolate pieces and nuts; all this in addition to its regular work making sauces, soups, purées, cakes and cookies.

Do you have a roaster in your oven, or a separate roaster unit? Have you tried barbecuing with it yet? If not try it soon — makes a pleasant change to have barbecued lamb roll, or barbecued beef burgers, or a barbecued pork roast. A mixer, whether of the stand type, or portable, is a popular appliance. It certainly makes light work of cakes and cookies. But, have you tried it for making pastry? Or for whipping up airy chiffon pies? You can also put it to work beating batter breads and squash, making meringue shells, mixing sherbets, ice creams, mixing butter and mayonnaise for sandwiches and a host of other ways.

In the next few weeks have further details for you on making the best possible use of your small electrical appliances. Some of these you may be familiar with; others perhaps you have never even thought of much less tried.

Think of your appliance as a working partner — keep it stored where it's handy for use — not away up there on the top shelf!

Dinner Will Be Ready In A Minute

The latest news about the electronic or microwave ovens comes from the United States where prices are now half what they were (about $400 will buy you a two foot wide, one foot high and 18 inch deep oven. This model, expected to be on the market for spring, heats a hamburger in 20 seconds. It is doubtful if it will ever become the primary oven in the home but will be an auxiliary unit for quick heating of frozen meals (T.V. dinners), hot dogs, and such. It isn't recommended for foods that need browning like steaks. Of course one could get used to eating grey steaks and white cookies perhaps. Sounds like an essential addition to a bachelor apartment!

Coffee

AT

Come join us!

It isn't coffee this Christmas night. It is tea, and a heavy, fruity, pound cake, made from a turn of the century recipe. The cake is topped with such a thick, buttery, frosting that one bite will wreck the strictest of diets for a month.

The TV set is on. We are watching the hockey game. All the lights are off, but we are basking in the blue glow of the electronic box, the warm green, yellow, red and blue lights of the Christmas tree, and the gentle flicker of eight candles. It has been a lovely, lovely day. My wish for you is that Christmas has been as peacefully Christmassy as it has been in this house.

Our kids, who, I fear, at times tend to be avaricious little beasts, have managed, so far, to maintain a charming, unspoiled, innocence about Christmas. They forget, from year to year, how much stuff they managed to haul in the last Christmas, and, consequently, they never expect very much. For weeks before this Christmas the little one worried that I would somehow accidentally give "her present" to someone else. It did not occur to her that she might get more than one present.

They hung up the stockings last night with much excitement, and much concern about the exactly right spot. The big one had noticed, when Santa Claus appeared at the Sunday School party last week, that the old gentleman had lost some weight. He was very anxious that we leave him a lunch so he would get fat again. I asked him what he thought would make a nice lunch. He suggested milk and a jam sandwich, but on reflection, decided a peanut butter sandwich would be better. Santa might get jam on his whiskers.

The little one was asleep by seven-thirty. It was nearing ten when the big one finally drifted off, but they managed not to wake up until after seven-thirty this morning. They came down to get their stockings, failing completely to notice the toboggan in the corner of the hall. They marched upstairs, leapt on our bed, and with squeals of excited glee, showed us their treasures.

It was several minutes later when it occurred to the big one to see if Santa had eaten his lunch. He came down to the dining room, where we had left our small repast, and where our tree is this year. From upstairs we heard a sort of muffled scream, and then the patter of excited feet. There was a pause as the feet reached the hall and then a resumption of the patter on the stairs.

A small boy, his blue eyes wide with disbelief, burst into our bedroom. Cradled in his hands was a huge, cheap, loudly ticking alarm clock. "Santa Claus ate his lunch," he gasped, "and left me a clock, and a truck this big." It took three four year old steps to demonstrate the size of the truck.

... and there's a doll all dressed like a nurse for Liz'bet, and ... he closed his eyes to impart the proper air of solemnity of the coming announcement, "... there's a 'boggan in the hall."

With all this waiting for us, two adults and two children hurtled, in pyjamas and bathrobes, down the stairs. It suddenly occurred to the little one that this must be the long awaited day when we could open those forbidden parcels under the tree.

An hour or so later four bedazzled figures emerged from the litter of wrapping paper and ribbon. In the confusion we were not entirely certain who had given whom what. The tags had been sort of disregarded in the general mayhem.

We ate too much turkey, and brazil nut dressing, giblet gravy, mashed potatoes, candied sweet potatoes, pickles, olives, celery, and cranberry sauce for dinner, and spent the rest of the day filling the holes with biscuits, cheese, chocolate cookies, and shortbreads. We played Christmas carols on our new record player until we had nearly worn the grooves thin. We had a few callers in the afternoon, and then took a pretty young mother who is not having as happy a Christmas as we are, to the hospital to see her five year old, who chose yesterday to break his leg. His daddy is already in hospital after having been hurt in a car accident several weeks ago.

Now, would you like another cup of tea, and another slice of cake? Christmas 1965 is over.

Present Pageant at Weymouth

On Sunday evening at the Weymouth Church of Christ, a large congregation witnessed the Christmas pageant presented by the Christian Youth Fellowship.

Invocation Prayer and introduction was given by the pastor, Rev. Russell Carr.

"And There were Shepherds" was a dramatic setting of the Christmas story according to Luke. The play opened with a scene on the hills of Bethlehem. Reuben, the restless young shepherd, dreaming on his hill about the coming of a new and better world into whose making he may share himself, finds the answer to his quest in the Manger King. Led by the Star, the shepherds move to the manger and back to the hills where they come to the full understanding of what it will mean to "build a new world".

Around a campfire beggar children, shepherds and an angel meet on common ground; here they pledge their lives to the making of the new day and it is here they are led to see some of the implication of a "New World" that all shall be new, not merely different.

Characters were: The Herald, Colleen Cosman; Four Shepherds, Hanford Lewis, Bruce Hankinson, Floyd Gale and Patrick Lewis; Beggar Children, Michael Stockdale and Judy Stockdale; Angel of Annunciation, Colleen Cosman; Asa, the Merchant, Michael Cosman; Abram, the Innkeeper, Brian Mullen; Joseph, Richard Cosman; Mary, the mother of Jesus, Julie Lewis; Angel, Maritza Adelaar; Choir, Christian Youth Fellowship members, each bearing a lighted candle making their way to choir loft led by the angel of annunciation; organist, Mr. Frank M. The News of a Lifetime

The Digby Courier has been reporting news about you for a long time. Think of how much has happened to you since you were born... that's when the first report appeared. And perhaps the next was your fifth birthday party.

Everything Important...

That's what has appeared in the paper about you. Your activities in the Boy Scouts or Girl Scouts. When you fell from the tree and broke an arm! When you made the high school basketball team, or starred in hockey. Or appeared in the class play or sang in the operetta. And then when you were graduated from high school. Perhaps military service next. The Digby Courier kept the folks back home posted on what you were doing there.

College, and After...

College next, and again this paper followed and reported your important activities. Proud day, when you received that degree - we saw it in The Digby Courier. And then you were married... your picture in the paper. What a fine-looking couple! Children follow... the cycle of news in the paper begins again. But you are not forgotten because of the new generation. The news about you continues so long as you live.

A Newspaper Service

The news of a lifetime... for you and yours. This is a service The Digby Courier gladly & willingly gives to this community.

Holiday Lights

The picturesque village of Bear River "The Switzerland of Nova Scotia" was beautifully illuminated for the holiday season. Everywhere one looked, from one hillside to the other, Christmas trees were burning and doorways outlined with colored lights.

An outstanding feature was the tall evergreen on the grounds of Miss Annie Banks where over two hundred colored lights showed the beautiful shaped tree, with an illuminated Santa at the base. Starting at the centre of town the merchants had tastefully lighted windows and store fronts. Driving down the River Road and then to the upper level were many lovely decorations, also around the "Bell" road and "Head of the Tide" were many outstanding displays.

Special mention should be made of the lovely tree and lights at the Dover House; the homes of the two Darnes, Elam and Aubrey and the grounds of Mrs. John Harris where Santa and his reindeer made their headquarters. It is impossible to name all those who made this an outstanding season as everyone contributed to the gala effect. Two new homes which were lighted for the first time at Christmas were those of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Clarke and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Miller. As both stand on the hill top the effect was very lovely.

Hearty thanks are due to all the residents who spent time and effort to beautify their homes and typify to all "The Light of the World".

In Memoriam

WELCH - In loving memory of our sons and brothers, David Gordon and Gerald Vernon who were lost at sea October 23, 1959, Dec. 18, 1963 respectively.

When last we saw their smiling faces Little did we know those days. It would be their last farewell. They left so suddenly their thoughts unknown. But left a memory we are proud to own.

Always remembered by Mum, Dad, sisters and brothers.

BUDD - In loving memory of dear father Elisha Kimberly Budd; of Sea Brook, N. S. who passed away January 4th, 1955. Its loneliness here without you Dad.

And sad the weary way, Your life was love and labor, Your love for your family true;

You gave your best for all of us, What more could anyone do; Someday we hope to meet you, Someday - We know not when -

To clasp your hand in the better land Never to part again.

Lovingly remembered by six sons, and four daughters.

Two events marred the Christmas festivities for several members of the community. The passing of Clarence H. Outhouse several days before Christmas brought grief to his widow and two children, Delma and daughter Cornelia. Mrs. Owen Outhouse, also two grandchildren, Minerva and Luena Outhouse, and many friends who miss his cheerful hospitality extended to all who visited him at his home. Sympathy is extended to the family.

The other event occurred when Mr. Elmer Wyman suffered a stroke and was a patient in Digby Hospital during Christmas. His many friends will be pleased to know Mr. Wyman is improving though he is still at the hospital.

At least five members of the community observed their first Christmas. To most of Christmas Day was just another day that featured no more excitement than the regular bathing, powdering and feeding they had grown accustomed to within the last month to approximately 7 months of their lives. The newcomers are: Sherry Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Outhouse; Shauna Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Outhouse; Crystal Lynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Perry Jr.; Lisa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ossinger; a young son of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Stanton, and a young son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Outhouse.

Contrary to former years, Santa Claus did not make his usual appearance following the concert. Instead, he visited the class rooms the following morning to distribute gifts to the children.

Candlelight Service

The traditional Candlelight Service was beautifully presented by members of the Christian Church, Tiverton, under the direction of minister, Ivan Rayner. Approximately 50 residents attended the service which commenced at 11:30 Christmas Eve.

Organist was Miss Maxine Guler and also Mrs. Robert Ruggles who accompanied soloist, Miss Guler as he sang "Put Christ Back Into Christmas" and "Little Son of Mary".

Special selections by the choir were "Joy to the World" and "O Little Town of Bethlehem".

Mr. Rayner also conducted a New Year's service at 11:30 p.m. Friday.

"Santa Clausing" Traditional

by Mrs. John Outhouse

If you were to visit Tiverton area during evenings of the last week in December or the first week of the New Year you would be likely to rub shoulders with some weird appearing characters similar to those you meet up with on Halloween night you might meet an "old man" 103 years old who requires a cane for support, or a "tramp" in patched clothing and a slouch hat, even "pirates" brandishing swords and you would likely to keep your eye on the cowboys who are waving their sixguns about shooting up the town! This custom is known as "Santa Clausing" and is traditional in this area.

It is not known how or when this custom originated or if it is confined to the Island area alone. Until the past year or so adults also participated in the masquerade but have gradually lost interest in the event.

Disguised youngsters visit each house and delight the occupants with the appearance and antics.

Some residents feel children should not accept treats of candy etc. offered them by the housewives during their visit. However most housewives have voiced pleasure in doing this for the young "Santas", and have their treats all prepared well in advance.

This custom of "Santa Clausing" has been observed for many years and has brought pleasure to many people, especially shut-ins who enjoy the clowning antics of children. During their visit in a home recently a santa reigned a blow on the head of an "old" man who crumpled in his chair. Another Santa, standing nearby was heard to remark, "They just don't make old men the way they used to, anymore!"

Senator Come in Passes

Canada's longest practising politician, Senator J. Will Bennett, of Comoxville, B.C., died today at the age of 87. He died at the Victoria General Hospital. The day morning funeral services will be held Friday, 2:00 p.m. at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Church Street.

Parish priest Rev. John A. Mearns will officiate at the services. Interment will be in the family lot, Church Point Cemetery. The body will be in the family home in Corns Valley until the time of a funeral.

Until his illness, which began a little more than a week ago, Senator Comeau had no intention of attending the coming session of parliament. Last week he submitted his resignation from the senate because of ill health.

Senator Comestau, who would have been 90 on March 12 was in politics for 58 years. He was elected to the Nova Scotia Legislature in 1907, and was continually returned until the Rhodes victory in 1925. He was appointed to the Executive Council that year. When that body was abolished in 1928 he again ran for the Legislature and was elected continually until he was called to the Senate in 1948. While in the Legislature he served as minister without portfolio.

Proud of the unity and harmony in which the English and French population live in Digby County, the Hon. M. Comeau was of the opinion that Quebec could do the same. He was gravely concerned about English-French relations in Canada and prided himself on the fact that his strongest and best supporters in politics were the English of his constituency.

Senator Comeau was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. L. Comeau and was educated at St. Anne's College, Churcho Point. Besides a politician he was a farmer, fish dealer, school teacher, and fox rancher.

The late senator always took an active part in church and community life. Pope Pius XII conferred upon him the Order of Saint Gregory the Great in 1955 for his outstanding contribution to both the moral and political life of his country.

The senator is survived by his wife the former Zoe Doctet, Comeauville; eight daughters, Regina (Mrs. Gilbert Bellevue), Bellevue's Cove; Pauline (Mrs. Dennis Comeau), Montreal; Catherine (Mrs. Camille Deveau), Lower Compton; Adele (Mrs. Louis Thibideau), Church Point

Geraldine (Mrs. J. A. Blinn
Halifax; Yvonne, at home
Jacqueline (Mrs. Louis Thibault), Comeauville; and Roseanne, Sister Ann Zoe, Gloucester; and six sons, Adelaire, Meteghan; Raymond, Boston, Mass.; Benoit, Little Brook; Norbert and Medard, Comeauville; and Camille, Dartmouth College. and three sisters, Mary (Mrs. Henry D'Entremont), Meteghan; Lorette, Montreal; and Eulalie (Mrs. Ulysses Belliveau), Belliveau's Cove; and two brothers, Gustave, Comeauville and Adolphe, Montreal.

He is also survived by 3 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

About This And That

Municipality Mourns Three

When the Digby Municipal Council meets on Monday, January 24, one man, in particular, will be missed. The chair of Councillor Victor Finigan, of Freeport, will be vacant. The vacant chair and the fact that Councillor Finigan's long term of office has seen him so recently sit in that chair will make his absence and the loss of his wise counsel most pronounced. Heads of his fellow councillors will be bowed in deep respect and tribute to the late Mr. Finigan.

At the same time, the councillors will also remember in silent tribute a former warden, the late Warden Harvey Chisholm, and also a former councillor, Blanchard Morrell, whose passages came within the past year.

In remembering those who have served so faithfully on the Municipal Council in the past and have now completed the course and recognizing those who continue to serve, we draw the attention of our readers to their tremendous responsibilities.

In accepting either town or municipal office, the councillors take solemn oath to perform their duties for the people who they serve to the very best of their ability. This service can be performed only on the basis of these men and women, indeed, as one views the outside world, their responsibility is often, because more than human knowledge and ability, can come with the burden of steering the affairs of our communities. More and more, as the world grows, their responsibilities are falling on the shoulders of our local governments and only those who interest themselves can see the weight which grows year after year. These councillors take on the responsibility of economic growth for their municipalities, they have tremendous educational problems; they assume health and welfare direction. The expenditures entailed in these services have grown to enormous amounts. They continue to grow to figures which would stagger the most competent of business heads, and yet these councillors endeavour to cope with them to the best of their ability. True, higher governments contribute more towards these services but the services themselves continue to increase to such an extent that the municipal and town councillors have more and heavier responsibilities each year.

We pay tribute to the late Mr. Finigan, Mr. Chisholm and Mr. Morrell who have given so much for the benefit of their communities and municipality and urge our readers to a deeper and more sympathetic understanding for those who remain to direct our municipal affairs.

Get Most Out Of Tourism Product

These are the days when we should be making our plans for tourism in Digby. Strange to say, we can never seem to think of tourists until the sun begins to get high in the heavens in May. And then, to behold, the idea strikes us that the tourists will soon be coming, i.e., those who find their way, here to our fair town and county. But, alas, it is too late to do anything about it this year, but next year we must start early. And next year repeats itself and we have to make the most of our materials for a good tourism product.

Yes, tourism is a product we have to sell and like any other product its value is just as good as the work which goes into it. There is little magic to it.

To illustrate from industry: a plain bar of iron is worth $5.00; made into horseshoes, the same bar of iron is worth $10.50; made into needles, it is worth $3.285; made into guitar springs for warthogs, it is worth $250,000. The time, the effort and the money put into the products made the difference.

It is what you put into a product that increases its value. So it is with tourism. We have the same climate, the same scenery, or better, the same ingredients as our neighbours for a good tourism product. It is what we put into the product, the time, effort and money, which will increase the value of our tourism to us.

Digby Needs

Our Digby Needs suggestion this week comes from Westport. It, we believe, is a repetition of a former suggestion or former suggestions but we do not mind repeating these suggestions. Repetition denotes their degree of interest and urgency.

To our Westport shopper the most urgent need in Digby is to supply public rest rooms. "When we come to town," said the shopper, "do you think we like having to bother private businesses and private homes? Yet, that is what we have to do."

While our visitor was suggesting rest rooms, he also suggested that the tourists, in summer, should have a nice shady place to sit. While not exactly a practical "Need," the Westporter felt that Digby could benefit by having the area from the old Salvation Army Hall to the Band Stand made into a parking space and a place for tourists to while away some time, enjoy the salt air and view the scenery. But, it should have a canopy to protect visitors from the sun when necessary, he suggested.

Digby Needs

We were interested to see kind comment in the Liverpool Advance about the column "Digby Needs". We hope our readers also appreciate the space and continue to make use of it, at least, until we have run out of suggestions for Digby's Needs. Think we ever will? Surprising what can come out of a suggestion!

We noted from another issue of the Advance that Editor Day was requested to start a similar column in the Advance as the Digby Needs in the Digby Courier.

Again, we repeat, thanks for the suggestions. Keep them coming and help to build Digby.

Safety Tips For Winter Driving

(From the Canadian Highway Safety Council)

Don't forget the anti-freeze in the car's cooling system and windshield washer. Check blades and pressure on the windshield wipers. Properly operated heater-defroster in the modern car is an important safety device in winter, to eliminate ice and fogging on the glass.

Check headlights, tail lights, turn signals. Seat belts protect the car's passengers at all times but are particularly valuable in winter driving. A rusty, leaking muffler or exhaust pipe can send deadly carbon monoxide into the car, a major hazard in winter driving.

Keep slush and ice off headlights, tail lights and direction signals in winter. Check them every day. Adjust all the way to winter driving, get "the feel of the road" and take all precautions on snow and ice.

Dobu Island, I read last night when I was doing some research on people's beliefs in supernatural beings, lies off the southern shore of eastern New Guinea, in the d'Entrecasteaux group. The life and culture of the Dobuan people, according to Ruth Benedict's account, is quite weirdly interesting but since my main interest was in the supernatural, I confined my reading mostly to the section of the book which dealt with that subject.

The Dobuans, Ruth Benedict says, have no gods, as most other cultures have. Their supernatural beings are certain magical names, the knowledge of which gives the power of command. Very few Dobuans know these names. They are commodities which can be bought and sold, and inherited. Nobody knows a name for which he has not paid, or which he has not inherited. Supernatural names are never spoken aloud, but mumbled under the breath to prevent unauthorized persons hearing.

I drifted from thinking about supernatural beings to thinking about names. Names have always fascinated me. When I was in school I used to write down the names of my classmates, and contemplate them the way some people contemplate the poetry of Keats, or the structure of the atom.

I used to keep the happy hours I have spent reading the telephone directory as one of my dark, guilty secrets, but I am no longer ashamed of it. I have discovered that one of my favorite people, a woman whose intelligence is beyond doubt, indulges in this hobby. I can now bear the incredulous stares of people who prefer more substantial reading matter. I suppose my interest in the telephone directory began because I was blessed, or afflicted, with a sort of unusual maiden name. There were two spellings, one not at all uncommon, and curs. Whenever I went away from home, I made it sort of a ritual to look through the directory for people who spelled their name the way we did.

And who did I marry? A man with a downright odd family name. And, guess what? There are two ways to spell it, one which is not quite so rare, and ours. One of those foreigners, the people who spell their name the other way, has found his way into Who's Who. With our spelling, we sometimes get on the voters' list. When we were in London last spring, I carried out my little ritual duty with the multi-volume London directory. In that great city, there were fifty of the a/cor branch in the family. Of ours — not a single representative.

Have you ever noticed how given names go in fashion cycles? In the fairly small village where we live, there are at least half a dozen four year old Jeffries, and the same number of three year old Terrys. Lately it has been the fashion to name little boys old-fashioned, or Biblical type names, which would have been laughed at a dozen years ago. Mark, until the mid-fifties, had been lost for a generation. Now everybody has at least a cousin named Mark. Simon, Matthew, Luke and Jonathan, which were sort of, rube names not many years ago, are rather sophisticated today.

The fashion in girls' names, like the fashion in women's clothes, changes more noticeably, I think. I do not know the current favorite name, but the wave of Cindys has reached town. The Cheryls are now six. The Debbie's and Susans are now in their teens, and the Lindas and Dianes have children of their own.

People's names become, to varying degrees, part of themselves. Some people carry their names lightly, others have their lives changed by them. Some names are so descriptive of their owners that they are almost a caricature. Other people have names so at variance with their personalities that they develop a sort of incongruous appropriateness.

I wonder if a person's name ever influences his choice of a career. Would anyone dare to be Judge Judge, or Parson Parsons, or Plummer the plumber? Although somewhere in antiquity, we have all heard, most of our names came about because one of our ancestors was a smith, or a miller, or a carter. Is there any reason why football players all have long, Slavic sounding names? Why do novelists rarely have a middle name or initial, but businessmen nearly always do?

What do you suppose would happen if we allowed kids to name themselves when they got about ten years old?

Obituaries

William Smith Cress
The water link between Jonesport and Freeport is the shortest distance between Nova Scotia and New England.

Another factor Smith brought to the attention of the Canadian representatives was that a proposed new highway, a branch of Interstate 95, is in the planning stages. The highway, he said, would stem from the Bangor area through Washington County as far as Calais.

In his closing remarks, Smith reported to the Canadian representatives that Jonesport is expected to be the site of a $500,000 breakwater and public landing to be erected by the Army Corps of Engineers.

Smith said the size of the breakwater will depend upon whether or not the ferry terminal is located at Jonesport.

In his correspondence to Digby, Mr. Smith said that in the Freeport-Jonesport route there would be no rides to bother the straight sheltered route.

In Digby Mayor C. D. Snow, Charles Halliburton and Stewart MacNaughton met with the engineers on their visit to the town last week. Sites around Digby were brought to the attention of the engineers who were shown the sites where the federal government had been planning to build a wharf and also the Green Point area near the Pines Hotel.

As to the matter of accommodation, Mayor Snow felt convinced that this would take care of itself if the ferry were chosen to come to Digby. As far as freight was concerned, Mr. Snow again took a forward look and said that the volume of freight shipped in the last 10 years with outdated transportation was no indication for the future with up-to-date means.

Again Mayor Snow advocated one terminal for a New England-Nova Scotia ferry and for the Digby-Saint John ferry.

Hockey Underway

The opening of the Digby Industrial Hockey League schedule got underway at the Digby Forum on Thursday, January 6th, with two games — one at 7:30 and the other at 8:45.

Results of the first game between Marshalltown and Digby are as follows:
The first period showed little signs of being able to score on either side. Ernest Marriot, goalie for Marshalltown, proved himself a real net minder, while Ron VanTassel also showed his skill by kicking out some hard shots.

Second period opened with signs from both teams showing their attitudes were changed somewhat from the first period. Paul VanTassel, assisted by Bob Carey, opened the scoring race at the 3 minute mark, making the scoreboard 1-0 for Digby. It was soon tied up by Charley Graham, from Roy Simms, for Marshalltown, at the 11 minute mark. Again, Marshalltown scored at 13 minutes, Roy Simms from Charley Graham, making the score 2-1 for Marshalltown. Then came Paul VanTassel, assisted by Junie Daley at 19:10 minutes and later, at 19:50, Paul scored again from Bill McLeod, making the end of the second period Digby 3, Marshalltown 2.

The third period was also hard fought, yet no penalties arose out of the entire game. At 5 minutes of play Jimmy Simms tied the game 3-3, assisted by Jack Marshall. Again Jimmy scored, putting his team in the lead at 8 minutes of play. He was assisted by Joe Bond. Digby team couldn't seem to take the feeling of being behind, so Rodney Bell scored from Paul VanTassel at the 9:30 mark and again Digby scored — Junie Mullen, assisted by Bill McLeod — making the score 5-4 for Digby, ending the game.

Both goalies were on their toes during the entire game and both teams earned what they got.
Results from the second game between Bridgetown and Clementsport are as follows:
Bridgetown opened the scoring race at 4:50 minutes with Devenney assisted by Lockett. It was at 11:35 when Clementsport suffered a holding penalty with Sanford sitting out for 2 minutes, which gave Bridgetown the odd man advantage and they scored again at 12:10. It was Tidd assisted by Lockett. At the 13:45 mark Bridgetown scored again, this time B. Austin from Tidd. The first

Meteghan Downs Church Point

Meteghan Bruins continued their winning ways to remain at the top of the Clare Bantam League when they defeated Church Point Black Hawks 3-1 in an exciting game. Russell Deveau put Meteghan ahead 1-0 in the first period and Mike Germain and Raymond Robicheau each scored again for the Bruins to put them in front with a 3-0 lead. In the third period Carl LeBlanc cancelled the goose egg against the Black Hawks and spoiled a shut-out for Melvin Deveau in the nets for the Bruins, when he scored alone. Brian Comeau played a stellar game on the defence for the Bruins, while Daniel Comeau played a sensational game in the nets for the Black Hawks.

Saulnerville Maple Leafs, of the Bantam league, downed the luckless St. Bernard Canadians 3-4. The Maple Leafs took a 3-1 lead in the first period on goals by Allain Comeau, Gabriel Comeau and R. Maillet, while Eric Gaudet scored for the Canadians. Each team scored one in the second, with Paul Comeau scoring for the Canadians and Allain Comeau for the Maple Leafs, to make it 4-2 for the latter team. In the third period the Maple Leafs scored 4 to 2, with J. P. Boudreau, R. Maillet, T. LeBlanc and Allain Comeau scoring for the winners and Marcel Gaudet and George Comeau tallying for the losers. The Maple Leafs took a firm hold on second place, while the luckless Canadians remained in the cellar, though their game is improving steadily.

The Digby rink plans to enter a team in the Nova Scotia provincial playdowns and Dominion Silver "D" Championship, to be played the week of January 23 in Lunenburg.

Enter Team

The first meeting of the season of the Digby Ladies Curling Club was held Wednesday evening, January 5. Club officers consist of Ina Dillon, president; Connie Wenaus, first vice-pres.; Marg. Carson, second vice-pres.; Jo. Donale, secretary; Ginny Turnbull, treasurer.

Digby ladies curl Monday and Thursday afternoons and Wednesday evenings.

Saturday "Young Hockey Night"

It's "Young Hockey Night" at Cornwallis arena Saturday night when the powerful Kentville Wildcats meet the Cornwallis Cougars in a return match of their two game exhibition series.

Every child accompanied by a parent will be admitted to the game free.

Last Tuesday evening, in Kentville, the Wildcats edged the Cougars 7-6 in a fast, well-played contest.

The Kentville team holds the distinction of beating the impressive Halifax Junior Canadians in an early-season exhibition game.

Hockey fever is running high at the naval base this year and a large turnout is expected in support of the Cougars who won the All-Maritime Intermediate "B" Championship last year.

Indoor Swimming Championships

Phase two of the Nova Scotia Open Indoor Swimming Championships will be held in HMC's Cornwallis on Saturday and Sunday, 29th and 30th January, 1966.

The meet is sanctioned by the Nova Scotia Amateur Swimming Association and teams are expected from New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. Entries will close at midnight on the 19th January, 1966. The meet will get underway with heats of both days starting at 1 p.m. on Saturday and 9:30 a.m. on Sunday. Finals on Saturday will be held at 7 p.m. and on Sunday at 2 p.m.

Teams will be competing for the women's and men's aggregate trophies plus individual awards will be presented to winners of all final events.

Among the record holders competing will be Beverly Britton, Doug Sitland, Lynn Palmer, Ann Marie McCarthy and Jack Smith, all from the Province of Nova Scotia.

Miss Britton, from the Cornwallis Swim Club, holds records in 100 metre free style, 200 metre back stroke and 100 metre breast stroke.

Delegation To Conference

Among the six member delegation headed by Nova Scotia's Deputy Minister of Fisheries, Brian Meagher, who will attend the Canadian Atlantic Offshore Fishing Vessel Conference to be held in Montreal February 7-9th will be Leonard Small, fisheries engineer.

Other members of the department to attend the Conference will be John Watt, Fisheries Director; B. F. Calvin DeBaie, Fisheries Department Economist; W. S. Hines, Director of Vessel Construction; Michael Myketyk, Vessel Construction Engineer.

Also attending the two-day Conference will be the Federal Deputy Ministers of Fisheries and their advisors and representatives of fisheries departments from the other Atlantic provinces.

Western Valley League Formed

The Western Valley Hockey League will operate this year with three teams participating — Cornwallis, Digby and St. Ann's College, of Church Point — with the first game scheduled to be played at St. Ann's against Digby on Sunday, January 16th, at 2:30. On January 19th St. Ann's will be at Digby and on January 25th St. Ann's will play at Cornwallis.

J. Scott was elected president of the league, from Cornwallis, replacing Frank Jubis, of Meteghan. The secretary-treasurer is J. Smith, Cornwallis.

The Western Valley Hockey League did not operate in 1964-65 hockey season. Jack McLeod, of Digby, was appointed referee-in-chief. With but three teams entered and Bridgetown not entering a team this year due to their pink having burned down last spring, the schedule will be a short one.

Father Rescues Son From Icy Waters

Young Greg Glavin was saved from drowning by his father, Charles Glavin, who swam 15-20 feet in ice-cold ocean waters to rescue him.

Life was restored to the youngster by Archibald Nickerson by mouth to mouth respiration.

Greg Glavin, 3 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glavin of Westport, accompanied his father to Freeport Friday morning. While outside playing with friends Greg slipped and fell into the brook at the edge of the ocean. The ebbing tide carried the young lad considerable distance from shore.

Mr. Glavin rushed to the scene, plunged into the icy waters, swam 15 to 20 feet and rescued his son.

Said Mr. Nickerson who took young Greg to his home at Freeport, "I pronounced him dead. He was blue and was not breathing. I rolled Greg over a barrel to get the water out of his lungs. Then I tried mouth to mouth respiration. I could see he was trying to breathe. My that time Dr. Birsel was there and he tried mouth to mouth respiration. Greg started crying then."

Mr. Nickerson said, "what kept him alive must have been because he was lying face down in seaweed. The seaweed kept him afloat."

To prevent possible pneumonia resulting from exposure, the lad was taken to Digby hospital by Island's ambulance operated by W. MacIntyre, Freeport.

Must Make Concerted Effort Re Digby-Saint John Ferry And Wharf

Mr. Dakin Accepts Sharp's Invitation

This end of Nova Scotia is becoming sterile and stagnant because of transportation and the economy of the whole of Nova Scotia is effected by the inadequate Saint John-Digby ferry service and conditions at the wharf, said J. Patrick Nowlan, M.P., when addressing the annual meeting of the Progressive Conservative Association for the Electoral District of Digby on Wednesday. A concerted effort by both federal and provincial members and governments should be made to provide the type of transportation necessary for this area, he said. He strongly advocated trying to achieve one ferry first and not dissipate efforts in too many directions.

Another problem facing the area, Mr. Nowlan said, is the Dayliner which affects all the people along the D.A.R. line. He disapproved of the high cost of tickets and the fact that freight and luggage were not transported so that you had to get "your trunk one way and your body another". He felt the people should find out what is the intention of the C.P.R.

Speaking of transportation across Petite Passage, Mr. Nowlan said that a causeway with harbour facilities is logical. He suggested that the people find out the cost which the federal government is paying to add piers to wharves and relate this to the dollar value of fish landed on the Islands and Digby Neck. He claimed it would be more beneficial to make a larger expenditure for the causeway which would benefit the economy of all Western Nova Scotia.

Mr. Nowlan denounced the difference to the two Bay of Fundy shores regarding seiner restrictions.

Annual Meeting Trinity Parish

Reports presented at the annual meeting of Trinity Parish, Digby, Monday evening indicated the parish had enjoyed a successful year in all departments. The Rector, Rev. James Pike, reported increased attendance at services during the year. He stated a total of 139 public communion services were held during the year in addition to other regular services. Attendance at the communion services for the year totalled 2,804 and was an increase of some 200 over the previous year. Mr. Pike reported eight baptisms during the year, six marriages and six burials.

A successful year was also reported by the various women's organizations, with the guilds renovating and redecorating the parish hall, renewing a room at the rectory and donating $300 for church organ repairs during the year, in addition to other accomplishments. The Women's Auxiliary reported a year of increased activity in support of the church's missionary program at home and abroad.

Improvement was noted in the attendance of the Sunday School and successful completion of a course in the new curriculum for the teachers was reported. It was stated by the superintendent, Dean White, that the new curriculum is working satisfactorily.

The parish financial report revealed that collections have improved by about one thousand dollars over the past three years. An addition of ten new envelope contributors during the year was noted. It was stated all accounts for the year had been paid in full. This, however, does not include full payment of diocesan assessment and apportionment, it was stated. On these accounts a total of $714.18 was paid during the year, an improvement over the previous year. A grant of $1,600 from the N.M.B. was noted in the receipts for the year.

Funeral Held For Keith Raymond Senator Comeau P.C. President

The funeral of Senator J. Willie Comeau, of Comeauville, was held Friday at St. Mary's Church, Church Point.

The requiem mass was conducted by the Rev. Jules Comeau, parish priest. He was assisted by Rev. Raoul Deveau, of Weymouth, as deacon, and Rev. Raymond LeBlanc, vice-president of St. Anne's College, as sub-deacon. Serving the mass were students of the college.

Following is an extract from Mr. Dakin's letter to Mr. Sharp: "For the last twenty-five years we have been trying to get the Federal and Provincial Governments interested in a permanent crossing of the Passage that separates Long Island from the mainland of Digby County. The distance across Petite Passage is only twelve hundred feet so a permanent crossing should not be a very difficult or expensive operation."

The economy of this district is entirely dependent on fishing, and the only way that the people can get their fish to market is on a small Scow driven by a motorboat. In stormy weather it is impossible for this small ferry to cross, and there is always the possibility of the fish spoiling. In the case of sickness and badly needed hospitalization the situation is desperate. About three years ago, a man had to get to a hospital for an emergency operation. It was only through the expert handling of a small boat, and the nerve of the men operating it that this man is alive today.

At the present time, we are promoting Freeport situated at the lower end of the Island as the Nova Scotia end of the new second Ferry run with Jonesport, Maine as the United States Port.

Honorary pallbearers were Sen. J. J. Kinley, representing the Senate; Hon. George A. Burridge, representing the government of Nova Scotia; Gerald A. Regan, representing the Liberal Party of Nova Scotia; and Dr. J. E. Comeau, representing the Societe d'Assomption.

Among those in the funeral procession were Samuel Nichols, Yarmouth, Professor W. Belliveau and Louis A. d'Entremont, representing the Knights of St. Gregory.

Also in the procession were Judge Hanson Dowell, a former MLA; T. A. M. Kirk and Fred Armstrong, former M.P.s for Shelburne - Yarmouth - Clare; Victor Cardozo, former MLA for Digby; Dr. Hector Pothier, MLA for Clare; Mrs. E. H. Spinney, Yarmouth, president of the Nova Scotia Women's Liberal Federation; Mrs. D. McDevitt, the association's secretary - treasurer; Irving Pink, Yarmouth, president of the Shelburne - Yarmouth - Clare Liberal Association; and a number of presidents of district Liberal federations.

Also present was the rector of St. Anne's College, Rev. Lloyd d'Entremont, and the entire student body.

Trainer Mayor At Liverpool

Frank Trainor, Liverpool, who is proprietor of the New System Laundry and Dry Cleaners, was elected mayor of the town of Liverpool. Mr. Trainor also became the new president of the Liverpool Kiwanis Club. He is also interested in V.O.N. and Board of Trade activities in Liverpool and is a member of the Board of Trade in Digby, where he has an outlet for his business.

Have Christening On Anniversary Occasion

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Amoro, of Acadia Valley, observed their 42nd wedding anniversary on Sunday, January 16, at the home of their daughter, Anna, and her husband, Samuel Ryan. Present also was another daughter, Eileen (Mrs. Harry Ryan).

Gifts and messages from other children who could not be present, also flowers and a beautifully decorated cake, added much pleasure to a happy occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Amoro have eleven children - seven daughters and four sons. Their youngest son, Joseph, is at present serving with the Canadian Army in Cyprus. The others are in various parts of Canada as far as Edmonton, Alta.

They also have fifty-seven grandchildren. The youngest, Natalie Rose Keast, was born on December 31, 1963, and the christening was on Sunday, the 42nd anniversary of her grandparents.

Red Cross Active In Christmas Welfare Work

One hundred and thirty-one children received Christmas gifts through the welfare program of the Digby Red Cross Branch, according to the report presented by Mrs. George Winfield at the January meeting of the Branch. Mrs. Winfield reported that she and her co-conveners, Mrs. Daniel Comeau, had distributed 24 boxes of toys, mittens, etc., together with 22 Christmas dinners from the Salvation Army, and expressed thanks to Hubert Warne and Philip Woolaver for providing transportation.

The area covered included Conway, Acadiaville, Mount Pleasant, Plympton, North Range, Centreville, Rossyway, and Gulliver's Cove, in addition to Digby town. Besides the many donations of second-hand dolls and toys which had been made "as good as new", thanks to the skill of Delbert Forrest, over $50 was expended for new toys, and the committee gratefully acknowledged a contribution of $10 from the Conway Club and $10 from the Red Cross Ways & Means Committee, in addition to smaller amounts from individuals.

Mrs. Winfield expressed thanks for toys received from the Eastern Star Lodge, dolls from Mrs. Jack Ritey and Mrs. William Marshall, and mittens from Mrs. Alma McLennan, Mrs. Alex Wentzell, Mrs. Clayton Snow and others. Thanks were also expressed to those who had assisted in dressing dolls, and an appeal was issued for helpers to assist in an early start on next year's Christmas program, with plans to procure yarn immediately for the knitting of mittens, which were in short supply this year.

In addition to the Christmas welfare program, Mrs. Winfield reported a layette provided in response to a call from the Digby General Hospital, together with a coat and other clothing for the mother to return home with her baby. A request from the Digby School was responded to with clothing for a 12-year old boy who was reported to be without underwear or sufficient warm clothing of any kind.

Mr. B. B. Lent, Branch President, was in the chair at the business session which marked the reopening of the Red Cross work room after the holiday season. The minutes were read by Mrs. J. J. Brittain, Assistant Secretary. Mrs. B. H. Ruggles presented the Treasurer's report, which included a $15 donation for the use of a Red Cross wheelchair.

Mrs. Lent called attention to the Red Cross Home Nursing Course which is to be given on television, and expressed the hope that many would participate in the lectures, as well as the practice sessions to be given locally by Mrs. Sidney Smith, R.N., Nursing Director of the Digby Branch.

The Women's Work Committee reported materials on order for sewing and knitting, also flannelette for local welfare work. Mrs. Warne mentioned in her report that records completed at the year's end showed that the Digby Branch, which had always been very active in quilting, had now completed a total of 2,190 quilts. Although this was an outstanding record, Mrs. Warne also pointed out that there had been a great drop in sewing as older members of the Branch had dropped out, and an appeal was issued for new members to assist with this work, particularly in helping sew layettes.

The report of the Ways & Means Committee, prepared by Mrs. Ralph Berwick and presented by Mrs. Loran Hayden, showed a total of $109.75 raised by the sale of aprons made by the Branch before Christmas. This exceeded any previous returns from apron sales, and had enabled the Branch to finance the Christmas welfare program. Ten Cent Tea collections for December had amounted to $4.90, and the thanks of the committee were extended to all those who had contributed refreshments.

The meeting concluded as usual with the serving of tea by members of the Ways & Means Committee.

Pierre Belliveau Club President

The members of the Richelieu Club of Church Point and their wives assisted at the installation of officers for the new year of 1966 which was held at a banquet at College St. Ann's, of Church Point, recently. Mr. Jean R. Doucet, past president, officiated at the special ceremonies. Rev. Lloyd d'Entremont, president of St. Ann's College and the personnel of the college, which consisted of the other priests of the Eudiste Order, were also present.

The guest speaker of the evening was Rev. Lizotte, Director of Studies of the college. He spoke chiefly on the problems that must be met in regards to the youths of today and the responsibilities that the parents have in the overall picture. Rev. Lizotte was introduced by Mr. Gerard d'Entremont and thanked by Dr. Philippe H. LeBlanc.

Four new members were accepted into the club previous to the installation of officers who are: President, Pierre Alphonse Belliveau, of Belliveau's Cove; Vice-President, Felix Thibodeau, Church Point; Secretary, Edouard LeBlanc, Saulnierville; Treasurer, William Dugas, Church Point; Master of ceremonies, Dr. Jean-Eudes Comeau, Weymouth; Directors: Bernard Belliveau, Belliveau's Cove; Gerard d'Entremont, Meteghan Station; and Norman Pothier, Meteghan. Honorary President, Jean R. Doucet, Church Point.

In presenting his report of activities of the club for 1965, past president J. R. Doucet remarked that the club had distributed the sum of over $1,000 on behalf of the youths of the area, which showed to the youths of Clare that they could count on a group of men who are interested in helping them.

The Richelieu Club holds its semi-monthly supper meetings at College St. Ann's main dining room every first and third Wednesday of each month.

Three Ministers Have Birthdays

A pleasant evening was spent on Friday, January 14th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Porter when Mrs. Porter entertained three local ministers, Rev. Frank Smith, Rev. Burton Long and Lic. Albert Marshall, all of whose birthdays fell on the same date, January 14th. Other guests at the same time were house guests Mrs. Katherine Gardiner, Miss Amy Rowe, Miss Gladys Sulis, also Mrs. Burris, of Truro, sister of Mrs. Porter, and Mr. Burris. A bountiful supper was served by Mrs. Porter, which included a gaily decorated birthday cake made by Mrs. Porter. Mr. Smith received many gifts and cards from relatives in England and Wales, also from friends in Ontario, Montreal, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

Reviews N.S. Govt. Projects Digby Area

We cannot say that nothing is being done in Western Nova Scotia by the provincial government, said R. Baden Powell, when reviewing projects accomplished since he became a member of the Provincial House in 1963. Mr. Powell was speaking before the annual meeting of the Progressive Conservative Association of the Electoral District of Digby on Wednesday night when he reviewed the projects. Best of all, he said, the government is taking an interest in the area.

Among the projects reviewed were the paving and rebuilding of roads, Savary Park, Lake Midway picnic park, fruit and vegetable farm, community pasture, government buying of Pines Hotel, retail liquor store, reopening of Weymouth Industries through Industrial Estates, surveys of Bear River crossing and Petite Passage Crossing.

Speaking of the fruit and vegetable experimental project on Digby Neck under the Land Settlement Board and operated by Mr. Jamieson of Florida, Mr. Powell said that the experiment to show how to farm in a big way is being watched from all over the province.

Mr. Powell felt that the Bear River bridge or causeway project would not be too long in coming about. He said he would like to see a three quarter mile gate causeway at Bear River but urgency of the project might force us to go along with a bridge.

The Pines Hotel, Mr. Powell said, would be operated in the same manner as Keltie Lodge. The advertising of the hotel will be good for western Nova Scotia just as the advertising for Keltie has been good for Cape Breton.

Nurse Has Busy Month

December was the busiest month for the Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada Local Association since last March, according to the report presented by the nurse-in-charge at the regular meeting of the Board on Tuesday. One hundred and forty-four visits were made, 90 of which were for nursing care. There were 61 patients enrolled with the V.O.N. on December 31.

It was reported that the car had been repaired after the accident when it slid on icy roads before Christmas.

Plans were made for the annual meeting to be held in Trinity Hall before April 1st. In charge are Mrs. E. H. Anderson, Mrs. D. E. Lewis and Mrs. Victor Thompson.

It was decided that the president, John Nichols, would approach the municipal and town councils for an increase in grants.

O.E.S. Chapter Meets

Cherry Blossom Chapter, No. 46, O.E.S., held its regular monthly meeting on Monday evening, January 10th, with the Worthy Matron, Sis. Sue Winchester, presiding.

Degrees of the Order were conferred upon Mrs. Dorothy Harding, Bear River.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the committee and a social hour enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hattie and Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Turnbull left last Thursday to visit for two months in California.

Presbyterials Amalgamate

On Thursday of last week the Annapolis Presbyterial of the United Church Women and the Windsor Presbyterial met in Kentville where the two were amalgamated to form the Valley Presbyterial United Church Women.

Elected president of the new Presbyterial was Mrs. B. L. Walker, Mosherville, Hants Co. First vice president is Mrs. R. J. Turner, Kentville, 2nd, Mrs. Ronald Sanford, Walton; 3rd, Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby; recording secretary, Miss A. M. Rose, Middleton; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. D. Van Zoost, Middleton; treasurer, Mrs. Raymond Creed, Windsor.

Those from Digby on the committees and as portfolio secretaries are Mrs. Clinton MacInnes, community friend, ship and visiting, and Mrs. J. M. Wallis, group one area vice president, which includes the western area of the Presbyterial.

The inaugural address was given by Mrs. Roy Vail, Rockingham, president of the Maritime Conference United Church Women. Mrs. Vail, in her address, reviewed the reason for forming the United Church Women, stating that it was so the Marthas and the Marys could work together and study together.

Mrs. Vail mentioned the vast amount of money spent on dog food and alcohol and compared it with the small amount that is spent to feed and educate the needy.

She urged the women to nourish the children spiritually as well as physically and said they were the challenge for vocations replacing those of retiring missionaries. It was stated that in 1964 the United Church of Canada was requested to send 159 missionaries overseas and 20 were sent, in 1965 the request was 187 and 24 were sent.

The afternoon service was presided over by Mrs. James Parker, Windsor, assisted by Mrs. Ellis, Sheffield Mills, Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Maurice Spicer, Berwick. Greetings from the Presbyterial were extended by Rev. Mr. Sullivan, Kentville, who also administered the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

A budget of $10,876.00 was accepted for the Valley Presbyterial and a decision made to give $121.00 to the Sherbrooke Lake camp for dishes and supplies.

The Annapolis and Windsor Presbyterials met separately in the morning when reports for the year were presented. The report of the treasurer, Mrs. Elton Arnold, Digby, showed the Annapolis Presbyterial had met its allocation for the year, $5,188.80, and had $110.00 for Over and Above gifts.

Representing the Digby area at the meetings were Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby, and Mrs. K. M. MacNeil, Bear River.

91 Years Old

Centreville's oldest lady, Mrs. Ingram Dakin, will be 91 on January 28. Since June 1964 she has been a guest at the Hubley Nursing Home, Bear River, but spent six weeks last summer at her home in Centreville, on Digby Neck. Mrs. Dakin enjoys quite good health and is reasonably active for her years. Her sister, Pearl, Mrs. Frank Todd, will be 79 on January 25.

Mrs. Dakin's children are: Mrs. Violet Banfill, California; Mrs. Lina Bucci, Worcester, Mass.; (Mae) Mrs. Arthur Walker, Ancel, of Medford, Mass.; Harley and Hilbert, of Centreville, N. S. She also has 32 grandchildren and 100 great grandchildren.

A new slate of officers was elected, including president, Mrs. Eva Fleet; secretary, Mrs. Ronald Denton; treasurer, Mrs. Graham MacPherson and program conveners, Mrs. Bryson Denton and Mrs. William Clayton.

At the close of the evening a lunch was served.

Citizens Hear About Centennial Programs

Deputy Mayor Bernard Bell, chairman of Digby's Centennial Committee, chaired a meeting held at the Court House on Thursday when L. V. Hutt, Coordinator of Centennial Programs for Nova Scotia, showed films and suggested programs which could be carried out in communities for the celebration of Canada's centennial year, 1967.

The first phase of centennial plans have come nearly to a close. These were plans for building some permanent project. The second phase has now begun. It includes celebrations of various kinds in the centennial year.

Mr. Hutt informed those at the meeting that Digby would be visited by two foreign warships, Canadian ships and supersonic type aircraft. Acrobatics will be performed by planes, the navy will participate in programs in Digby and the Caravan will visit Digby on June 14, 1967. The confederation caravan consists of eight motorized trailer caravans which will stop at 700 communities which will not be visited by the confederation train.

Canada's birthday will be celebrated in 1967 by personal and family parties as well as community affairs. Family reunions are expected to be common and tree planting ceremonies on private properties are expected to be held frequently. Town celebrations are expected to run for a week with the celebrating beginning by open air church services with massed choirs.

Mr. Hutt showed pictures of celebrations in other provinces, particularly the centennial celebrations in Prince Edward Island where were featured barbecues, school displays, choirs, regattas, parades, baby shows, town criers, square dancing, parachute jumping, Centennial baby, tug-of-war (ladies and gentlemen), picnics, tree planting, track and field sports and many other entertainments and celebrations.

Besides the idea expressed through film, Mr. Hutt had a list of ideas which could be used such as beautification programs, including cleaning of war memorials, getting natives back home for celebrations, planting of peonies and Miss Canada rose, park benches, drama groups, plaques and signs for buildings, stress Indian participation, dress in old fashioned costumes, historical pageants, clean up swimming beaches, use centennial place mats, restore graves in cemeteries, paint trash disposal, utensils for streets, centennial calendars, fireworks displays, churches have interfaith lessons, sermons and hymns, centennial themes for meetings in 1967, badges, book covers, music festivals and concerts, competitions in theatre and story writing and poems, etc.

Another idea advanced was to pick a name of a family and celebrate one day as this family name as a theme and invite back home for the day all people of this name connection.

He reminded the Digby Centennial Committee that it is easy to put on a celebration if they obtain plenty of help from the citizens and work together on the project.

About This And That

Lack Of Transportation Loses Trailer Visitors

A total of 942,000 travellers registered at the camping, trailer and picnic sites operated by the federal and provincial governments and by private individuals during the summer of 1965. Compare this figure with that of 1962 when 233,000 persons registered and we come up with the phenomenal growth in this business of four times greater in three years.

What percentage of that phenomenal growth did Digby enjoy? Or will Digby enjoy in the future? We can't imagine too many visitors are going to haul their trailers into Digby and then retrace their steps. More than likely when it is discovered that trailers cannot be accommodated on the Princess of Acadia, either for entrance into Nova Scotia or departure from Nova Scotia, that Digby is not often considered on the trailer route.

This is just one more instance where lack of proper transportation at Digby is detrimental to the economy of Digby County and much of the Valley.

Add the above loss to the disadvantage in the Princess of Acadia not being able to accommodate commercial trucks and trailers and it takes little observance to see the effect on the economy of this area.

Number one priority in ferry service is definitely something really adequate for our needs from Digby to Saint John. Considering the fact that the shortest route from New England to Nova Scotia is in the vicinity of Digby or in Digby County, what should prevent the second ferry from being considered for this area also? It surely is not that we are undeserving. How long must we wait for the breaks?

Digby Needs

Digby town NEEDS its very own Centennial project, so we hear. That is, a project of lasting nature, besides whatever celebrations are to be planned. Of course, this all takes money and on such grounds any project might be turned down completely. The sewer project, for instance, was a necessary and worthwhile project but had to be abandoned for want of financial approval by the ratepayers.

Then, we heard someone say that the best Centennial project we could have in Digby is to clear the Forum of debt by 1967. Quite a project to be sure. But, then, Digby NEEDS a Forum, so they say.

We were met by a town business man last week who said "I'm convinced that one of the greatest NEEDS in Digby is public rest rooms. He went on to say that the institution which he manages, has had to frequently accommodate tourists with rest room facilities. His sympathy also went to Digby's out-of-town shoppers.

Black Mink For Mi'Lady

"Black mink have made a fortune for a couple of Nova Scotia breeders, according to The Financial Post. The Mullen brothers found two jet-black kittens in a litter six years ago, but kept the secret until they were sure a dominant black mutation had been established. Meanwhile, The Financial Post reports, the fur is flying at the winter auctions. A new wave of demand has lived bidding and boosted prices of mink and other furs - some 25 per cent. And Canadian mink ranchers are eagerly expecting a recovery from last year's slight slump. Stores across Canada report a fresh interest in fur, and some January sales have been jam-packed. Retailers expect demand to continue strong for the remainder of the season."

The black mink producers, the Mullen brothers, above, are no strangers to most of the readers of this paper. They are Wallace and Edsel Mullen of New Tusket, not many miles from the village of Weymouth.

Finding the black mink has, indeed, made the Mullen brothers and the village of New Tusket in Digby County, famous. The find has brought an improved industry and considerable wealth to the family and village. Our heartiest congratulations, along with those of our readers and their friends, are extended to the Mullen brothers. It gives us pride to be part of an area where two such enterprising persons live and work and where fame and good fortune have resulted from their endeavours.

We understand that the last of a $1,000,000 consignment of the black mink left the Mullen ranch last week for London and Copenhagen. Besides, we understand, prospective buyers are in Norway, Finland, Sweden, Holland, Belgium, France, Poland, Germany, Spain, Italy, Austria and possibly Russia. Before last May, though the Mullen brothers harboured their secret until they were sure of their find, no one knew of the black mink. In a few short months, the fame of the little animals and the Mullen ranch has gone far and wide. It has made manufacturers of furs and buyers of furs conscious not only of black mink but also of mink in general. The find of the Mullen brothers has been exceptionally good for themselves and we believe, indirectly has been advantageous for other mink ranchers, of which there are several in the county. The mink ranching industry in Digby County is growing, spreading its measure of prosperity around.

Simpsons-Sears Ltd.'s spring catalogue has weighed in at 2 lbs. 10 ozs. That's 4 oz. heavier than its T. Eaton Co. counterpart. It also has a longer "reach" (676 pages to Eaton's 628). The Financial Post reports. Note the fashion outlook. Simpsons says women's skirts are shorter this year, between one and two inches above the knee, while fashion pants are tighter. T. Eaton Co. says: "Although our skirts are shorter than last year, we are staying at the knee."

Our advice - we must, simply must, keep in style but we must, simply must, consider what is most flattering to the individual wearer. Why abandon appearance to indulge in unflattering fashion? There is always a sort of compromise to which we can resort.

What About The Executioner?

Even those who endorse capital punishment believe execution is an awful thing. You can see this from the way we carry out the death sentence - in the middle of the night, with a kind of solemn ritual that is almost religious. We allow only a few unfortunate people to face the ordeal of being witnesses.

"I firmly believed in capital punishment until I heard the public executioner give evidence before the Royal Commission," said the late chairman of the 1954 Commission that studied capital punishment. The executioner, of course, is anonymous. Who wants to be known as an executioner?

When those men in Ottawa consider capital punishment they might think of that mysterious figure, the executioner. He must be quite a chap. He designs the scaffold, weighs the criminal, measures the rope, and then at a certain pre-determined time and date releases a bolt and drops a fellow man through a trapdoor into eternity. That's really something!

Should the state ever employ a person who is ready and willing to do this for a sum of money? The government asks people to do some fairly shocking tasks in wartime and even in times of peace, but this job is probably the worst. Remember that One whom the world reveres and worships, prayed for his executioners as He suffered capital punishment. And well He might! (The United Church of Canada)

Capital Punishment

We print the editorial above as one view, and one view only, on this controversial subject of retaining or not retaining the death penalty as a punishment for murder crimes. There are other arguments put forth for abolition of capital punishment. The one above is in no way the most important and is printed here merely to advance another thought on the subject.

And thoughts on the subject are necessary right now. Capital punishment, without a doubt, will come before the new parliament sooner or later and each and every one of us should be seriously considering what will be the outcome of parliament's decision, whatever that might be.

As for ourselves, we have not seen justification for taking a life for a life. We do feel that severe punishment must be meted out to offenders and the public protected against such crimes as murder. Whether capital punishment is the most protection, we do not know. It definitely prevents a second offence by the one person, but whether it is a protection against offenders in general is difficult to say. It could be, but in most cases people do not grow up to do right in fear but by love and charity. We doubt that when an individual has already sunken to the state of being able to commit such a crime as murder that he ever stops to think until the crime has been committed that he will have to pay for the crime with his life. Then, by observing the attitude of some sentenced criminals it would appear that life doesn't mean much and to die is an easier punishment than to live the rest of his natural life behind bars.

We must consider that most of us are laymen on the subject of capital punishment and our views could be wrong. Those who deal with criminals might certainly have a better understanding of a criminal's motives and characteristics. They might know through study (and we do not doubt but that a study is made of prisoners) whether capital punishment is necessary to be retained either for the protection of the public in general or for the protection of law officers who protect the public.

Again, we repeat, we see no justification of taking a life for a life but we do feel that those who make our laws should be sure of what they are doing on such an important issue.

We need everybody thinking on this subject. We hope we have started our readers to think if they have not already done so.

Coleman-McCormick

Christmas decorations provided a setting for a New Year's eve wedding at the United Baptist Church, Bear River, when Maurine Evelyn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett McCormick, was united in marriage with Leading Seaman Henry Gordon Coleman, son of Mrs. Henry Coleman Sr., and the late Mr. Coleman of Lachne, Que.

Rev. Roland McCormick, uncle of the bride and pastor of the Barrington United Baptist Church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor length gown of white lace over satin, with long tapered sleeves. Her ornaments were pearl necklace and earrings, gift of the groom. Her shoulder length veil fell from a tiara of rhinestone and pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Roger Lalonde, Dartmouth, was a charming matron-of-honor, in turquoise, with hat and shoes to match, she carried a nosegay of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Little Miss Robin McCormick, cousin of the bride was flower girl, in rose velvet, trimmed with white lace and white headband and accessories. She carried white and pink carnations.

The groom was attended by Petty Officer Roger Lalonde, Dartmouth, as best man.

Guests pews were marked with red roses tied with white satin streamers. During the service, Rev. Howard McCormick, uncle of the bride, sang "The wedding prayer". During the signing of the register he sang "Oh Perfect Love".

The organist was Mrs. Elmer Porter.

The ushers were Allan McCormick, brother of the bride and David McCormick, cousin of the bride.

The bride's mother, Mrs. McCormick, wore a blue wool dress with gold hat and accessories, and a corsage of pink and white carnations. The groom's mother Mrs. Coleman Sr., wore a gold brocade dress with gold hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of pink and white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church vestry, under the capable direction of Mrs. Lila Harris, assisted by Mrs. Rose Cress and Mrs. Maurice Dunn. Friends of the bride served. The vestry was tastefully decorated for the occasion. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Howard McCormick and responded to by the groom.

The bride's table, covered with a white tablecloth, was centered by the wedding cake flanked by tall white candles in silver candlesticks. Following the reception the happy couple motored to Deep Brook leaving the following day for their new home in Dartmouth. For travelling the bride chose a dress of blue wool, and wore a corsage of red carnations.

The groom is on the complement of H.M.C.S. Restigouche and the bride is a stenographer with Maritime Air Command, Halifax. Out of town guests were: Mrs. Henry Coleman Sr., Gordon Brindley, Lachne, Que., Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Snell, Miss Margaret Snell, Saint John, Mrs. Clara Parker, Mr. Andrew Brooks, Somerville, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Snell, Springfield, Miss Judy Miller, Halifax, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lalonde, Dartmouth, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brown, Digby, Rev. and Mrs. Ronald McCormick, Barrington.

You were asking about the Hospital Tax ?

The following are some of the many questions that are most frequently asked of the Hospital Tax Division of the Provincial Tax Commission and the answers thereto.

(1) Q. Are purchases of second hand merchandise taxable?

A. Section 3 of the Hospital Tax Act imposes tax on all purchases of tangible personal property at the rate of 5 per cent of the purchase price. If a lawn mower, motor boat, trailer, or other taxable item is purchased from a neighbour, friend, or some other person, tax is payable to the Province on this purchase. This would include purchases made over the various radio, classified advertisements, or other media. Records supporting these transactions must be maintained so that the purchase price may be ascertained. Collection of the tax payable to the Province is administered by the Hospital Tax Division of the Provincial Tax Commission.

(2) Q. Can a registration certificate be used to purchase merchandise that is not normally resold in the ordinary course of the vendor's business?

A. No; the specific purpose of this certificate of registration is to enable the vendor of a particular item of merchandise like groceries or men's clothing to purchase the merchandise tax free and to collect the tax at the time of the retail sale. The vendor must pay to his supplier the tax on all purchases of tangible personal property that will be consumed by the vendor, within the operation of his business or otherwise.

(3) Q. Is there an obligation on the part of a registered vendor to collect and remit tax on the sale of tangible personal property?

A. Yes; under the Hospital Tax Act the vendor is liable for payment of all tax monies that he collects; or in the event that he fails to collect, he may be assessed for an amount equivalent to the amount he fails to collect under Section 32 (2) of the Hospital Tax Act.

(4) Q. Are vendors obligated to maintain records and books of account?

A. Yes; under Section 14 of the Hospital Tax Act vendors must maintain records in specific detail so that liability for Hospital Tax may be determined at the time of audit by a member of the audit staff of the Hospital Tax Division. If the vendor fails to maintain these records, the Provincial Tax Commission has the right to determine and assess for such liability by such procedure as the Commissioner may deem adequate and expedient.

(5) Q. Are farmers and fishermen allowed any special exemption for payment of tax?

A. Farmers and fishermen may purchase tax free certain items that would be taxable when purchased by others. These items would be items that the Hospital Tax Act recognizes as being essential to their function as farmers and fishermen. A listing of these items can be obtained by writing the Provincial Tax Commission. When purchasing items that are taxable, farmers and fishermen must complete and sign a prescribed Farmers' and Fishermen's exemption certificate. It is essential that a certificate be obtained in each case. These farmers and fishermen are reminded that the exemption certificate may be used only for the purpose of purchasing the items prescribed in the Regulations. The purchase of all other items are taxable.

(6) Q. Are the vendors of normally taxable tangible personal property sold exempt to farmers and fishermen without having an exemption certificate signed, liable in any manner?

A. Yes, vendors who neglect to have a certificate signed on the sale of normally taxable tangible personal property to farmers and fishermen can be assessed for an amount equivalent to the amount that they fail to collect as provided for by Section 32 (2) of the Hospital Tax Act.

(7) Q. Are purchases made outside the Province of Nova Scotia by a resident of Nova Scotia and brought into the province for consumption, liable for the payment of Hospital Tax?

A. Yes, under Section 5 of the Hospital Tax Act, tax is payable on the purchase price of such purchases of taxable tangible personal property. This would include residents of Nova Scotia who travel to another province, purchase taxable merchandise and return to the Province of Nova Scotia bringing with them this merchandise for consumption in this Province. This would also include residents of Nova Scotia who purchase taxable merchandise through a sales catalogue or some other sales media.

(8) Q. If a contractor who is a resident of Nova Scotia purchases from outside the Province of Nova Scotia tangible personal property such as items that would be consumed in the performance of a lump-sum contract, would he be liable for the payment of Hospital Tax?

A. Yes, contractors are regarded as the consumer of all materials, machinery, tools, instruments, and other articles which they consume in the performance of a lump-sum contract and are required to pay the tax on the same. Section 5 imposes tax at the rate of 5 per cent of the laid-down cost of these materials, et cetera.

(9) Q. Would the above apply on non-resident contractors performing a lump-sum contract in the Province of Nova Scotia?

A. Yes, non-resident contractors performing a lump-sum contract in the Province of Nova Scotia are deemed to be carrying on business in the Province of Nova Scotia at that time and are, therefore, subject to the provisions of Section 5 and all other sections of the Hospital Tax Act.

(10) Q. If a vendor discontinues business, should the registration certificate be returned to this Commission?

A. Yes, the Hospital Tax Regulations provides that when a vendor ceases to carry on business in respect to which a registration certificate has been issued, the certificate should there upon be void and he or she shall return the same to the Commissioner within 15 days of the date of discontinuance. If a vendor changes his business, then the registration for the old business should be returned and application made for the new business at which time a new certificate of registration will be issued to him.

(11) Q. If a person sells a trailer or some other item that he built for sale from goods that he purchased and on which the Hospital Tax was paid at the time of purchase, is he responsible for collection of tax on the selling price?

A. Yes, he is required to collect tax on the sale price of the trailer or other item notwithstanding the fact that the goods were taxed at the time of purchase. The purchaser is liable to pay tax whether or not the seller collects this tax at the time of sale.

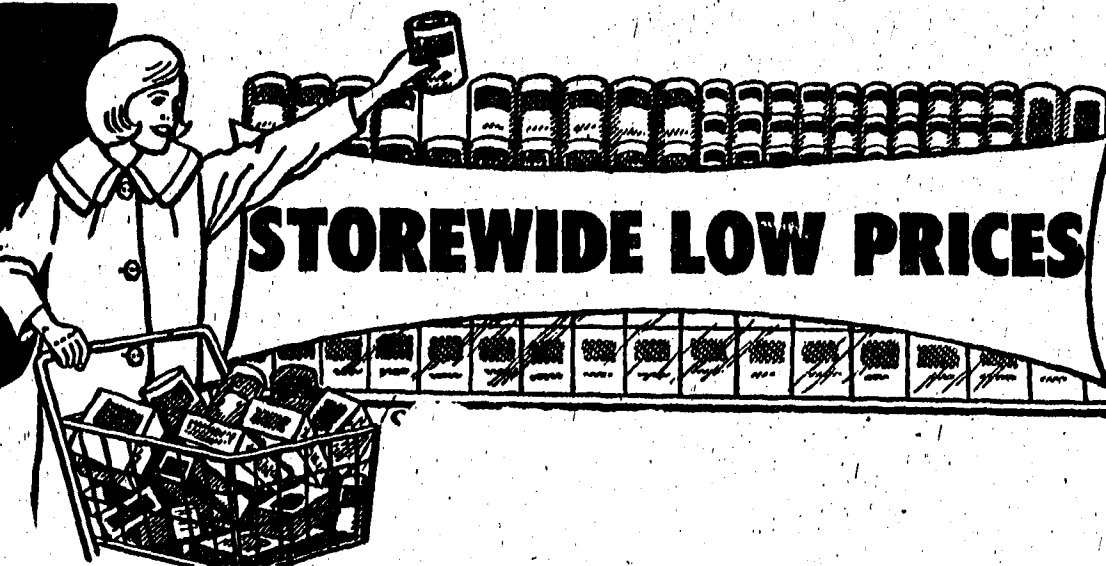

(12) Q. Is the person that builds the trailer or some other item for sale entitled to a rebate of the tax that he paid on the goods that he used?

A. Yes, he may apply to the Hospital Tax Division of the Provincial Tax Commission for a rebate of the tax that he paid on the goods if he sold the trailer or other item and did not at any time use it personally.

It is an offense to fail to comply with the provisions of the Hospital Tax Act and Hospital Tax Regulations.

Letters to the Editor

Digby, Nova Scotia,
January 17, 1966.

Mrs. Edith Wallis,
Editor Digby Courier,
Digby, Nova Scotia.
Dear Mrs. Wallis:

May we impose upon your usual kindness to make use of your columns in order to direct parental attention to the present uncertain status of our school lunch program. We do, however, wish to assure parents that it is our intention to carry on the lunch program until such time as it has become financially impossible to operate successfully.

In 1948 a carefully planned lunch program was established at our Regional High School and until 1960 continued to operate at a student cost of 15 cents. Because of rising food costs it then became necessary to advance the price to 20 cents. At the end of 1965 the program was operating with a deficit in excess of $1000. Effective January 4, 1966 the price was advanced to 25 cents. Since the last price advance there has been a decline in the numbers patronizing the lunch. This trend, should it continue, will seriously jeopardize continued successful operation of the program.

School authorities are seriously disturbed over the increasing number of students who no longer patronize the school lunch and who are frequenting the business district in town. This noon hour influx of students on the front street is creating certain problems which could, quite conceivably, result in action embarrassing to both the home and the school. We are of the opinion that many parents are not completely aware that students are rejecting the opportunity to benefit from a nutritious and well balanced lunch in favor of pop, chips and french fried potatoes at a cost considerably in excess of the cost of a school lunch ticket.

Unless greater support for our program is forthcoming from the home and student groups, it may become necessary to discontinue this service. The program cannot continue to operate as a stormy day convenience to our students.

Do parents fully appreciate the value of this service? How seriously would cancellation of the program affect general student welfare? Constructive suggestions regarding these questions would help to formulate future policies. In order to operate successfully we must maintain a regular daily minimum student participation of 200. Constructive criticism of the lunch program would be welcomed and the school administration would be prepared to consider adjustments that could be reasonably effected within the limits of the 25 cent charge.

Parents who sincerely feel that the lunch program performs a valued service can as-

Bear River U.C.W. Hears Reports

Mrs. B. C. Mayo, president, presided at the regular meeting of the Bear River United Church Women held at the home of Mrs. Fred Harris on Monday afternoon when reports were heard from officers and committees of the organization and also from the Valley Presbyterial U.C.W. held in Kentville on Thursday.

Mrs. K. M. MacNeill, Bear River, and Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby, who attended the Presbyterial, presented the report of the program for the afternoon, (see reports elsewhere). Mrs. Wallis also used the visit to the Bear River U.C.W. in an official capacity as vice president for group number one sist us by insisting that their children become fairly regular patrons of the school lunch. We hope that with adequate parental and student support, the program may continue to operate throughout 1966 and on a successful basis.

Thank you, Mrs. Wallis, for providing us with this opportunity to discuss an important school problem with those whose welfare is concerned.

Sincerely,
F. C. Purdy,
Supt. of Schools.

Comeau Again Heads Anglers

Louis L. Comeau, of Beaver River, was re-elected president of the Cape St. Mary's Anglers Association at the annual meeting held at the St. Alphonse school auditorium. Other officers are: vice-president, Dave Jubis, Meteghan; secretary, Raymond Deveau, Mavillette; treasurer, Norman Pothier.

The directors are: Dr. Robert Belliveau, Meteghan; Herman Doucet, Cape St. Mary's; Dr. Hector J. Pothier, Beaver River; Rev. Louis Comeau, Salmon River; Leo Comeau, Meteghan; Basil Belliveau, Bellevue Cove; Michael Deveau, Mavillette; Melvin Boudreau, Meteghan River; A. P. Melanson, Church Point.

The directors plan to formulate plans for the coming deep sea fishing season which includes tuna fishing. The Cape St. Mary's fishing grounds is one of the best such grounds in the western part of Nova Scotia and tuna has consistently been caught each year on these grounds. It is expected that a larger number of sports fishing boats will be available during the new season which will commence in May or June.

The directors feel that a good start has been made at the Cape with the construction of a modern clubhouse for its members and all those who are interested in sports fishing in the waters of St. Mary's Bay.

Meteghan Holds One Point Lead In Hockey Loop

Meteghan shook up Weymouth in a WCHL league match by defeating them 6-1. Meteghan led after the first period 1-0 on a goal by Gerard Comeau. Weymouth tied it up early in the second period on a goal by Thurber but Meteghan was in high gear after that and scored four in a row with Gerard Comeau scoring two, Ricky Hill and Paul Robichaud one each. In the third, Gerard Comeau scored his fourth goal of the game for the only score of the period.

Weymouth retained its league lead with 7 wins, 2 draws and 3 losses. Belliveau Cove is second with 7 wins, 1 draw for 15 points against 16 for Weymouth.

Belliveau Cove Thunderbirds downed Saulnierville Pirates 4-0. Maurice Soule and Denis Comeau scored in the first period to give the Thunderbirds a 2-0 lead. Coral Amirault scored in the second period and Guy LeBlanc in the third period.

CYO Ice Sports

On January 16 the CYO boys of Weymouth and Plympton clashed in a free-wheeling hockey game at the Forum.

Weymouth opened the game with 3 goals in the first five minutes of play. Plympton tried valiantly to tie the score but when the first period bell rang the score was 5-0 in favor of Weymouth. The game was well played and had its rough periods with the result that 7 penalties were handed out, 4 to Weymouth, 3 to Plympton.

Nothing spectacular happened during the second and third periods. Final score was 8-1 for Weymouth.

Goals were by: John Comeau (4), George Comeau (2), Dicky Ford and Paul Comeau.

A girls' broomball game between Digby and Weymouth followed and proved to be exciting. The first period opened with a bang when Joan Comeau, assisted by Diane Cottréau, whacked in a goal at the four minute mark. This was followed three minutes later by a goal off the broom of Weymouth's Susan Burke, to tie the score. Evie Amero, of Digby, was given two minutes for roughing. Finally Digby won the game 2-1 on another goal by Joan Comeau, assisted again by Diane (Hard Rock) Cottréau.

Digby To Receive New CBC Signal

The first phase in the improvement and expansion of CBC television service to south and southwest Nova Scotia has been completed. Phase one of this improvement plan was the increase of tower height of CBHT-1, Channel 12, Liverpool, which brought the station's signal into hundreds of new homes for the first time.

The next phase in this project will be the increase of power of CBHT-3, Channel 11, Yarmouth, together with a relocation and heightening of the tower. These changes will assure improved television reception to much larger areas of southwest Nova Scotia. Grade "A" reception from channel 11 is expected to reach as far as Saulnierville, Digby County, and it is understood that the town of Digby can expect to receive "B" grade reception. The new service is expected shortly.

Programs on channel 11 are relayed from CBHT, Channel 3, the CBC-owned television station in Halifax. The Digby area now receives the CBC signal through their affiliate CHSJ-TV, Saint John, N. B. When channel 11 begins its new operation it will mean that for the first time the full daily CBC television schedule will be available to thousands of Western Nova Scotia viewers. CJCH-TV, channel 6, makes available the full CTV schedule to the Digby-Annapolis area.

In his report to the congregation at the annual meeting the Rector, Mr. Pike, who is leaving the parish at the end of January to take up new duties as Rector of the Parish of Cornwallis in Kings County, paid high tribute to the co-operation and support he had received from the corporation, organizations and congregation of Trinity Parish during the nearly eight years he had served as Rector.

At the parish dinner preceding the annual meeting a purse was presented to the Rector and his wife on behalf of the congregation. In replying to the presentation Mr. Pike said he was deeply grateful for the support and encouragement he had received from the people of Trinity Parish during his ministry in Digby. The invocation at the dinner session was given by Rt. Rev. R. H. Waterman, retired Bishop of Nova Scotia.

During the business session of the annual meeting approval was given for a fifty percent increase in insurance coverage on parish property including church, parish hall, rectory and church organ. It was reported at the meeting that approval had been given by the vestry to the stipend increase recommended by the Synod.

At the election of officers G. B. Hayden and V. G. Cardozo were re-elected parish wardens. Elected to the vestry were Ralph Berwick, Ira Davis, Victor Thompson, A. E. Dickson, LeRoy Warner, Dean White, Dr. G. V. Turnbull, Cecil Jones, H. O. Turnbull, K. E. Woodman, A. E. Grimmer, Kenneth Harris. Miss Virginia Turnbull was re-elected Vestry Clerk and Dean White, vestry secretary. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Berwick were re-elected lay delegates to Synod and Miss Marjorie Tupper was elected parish convener for the Diocesan Times. Mrs. Berwick was re-elected parish correspondent for the Diocesan Times.

It was reported at the meeting that the vestry had approved the purchase of a funeral pall for the church as a memorial to the late Aubrey Adams, an active and devoted churchman and a former vestryman of the parish. During the meeting a moment of silence was observed in memory of those of the parish who had passed on during the year.

Letter to the

R.R. 4, Weymouth, N.S. January 7, 1966.

The Editor, The Digby Courier, Digby, N. S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis: Would anyone have information regarding the following? I have a metal disc about three inches in diameter, around the top are the words, Registered Motor Vehicle, at the bottom, Motor Vehicle Law.

In the centre are the numbers 928 with Nova Scotia printed below them. There are two small holes, one on either side for attaching to vehicle. This must have been a license plate and I am wondering if anyone would know if it would be one of the first plates issued, that year vehicles were first registered in Nova Scotia etc.

Anyone having any information on the above, kindly answer through The Digby Courier.

Yours truly, Justin R. Marshall.

The Digby Courier Dear Editor:

In reading the paper I see where the town Council are in favor of letting the D.A.R. Station be occupied by the Fraser Supplies Ltd. of Berwick. I heartily agree with Mr. Ralph MacIntyre when he says the town took over the rental of station and used it for the good of the town and the outside people who go there to shop, or to wait for the bus or train. Digby likes the outside shoppers' money but provide no rest-room for them. And if you wish to travel by bus you have to stand out doors in the cold. One day not long ago I noticed a young mother holding a small child in her arms waiting in the cold for the bus, so why not keep the station and provide a rest-room and a bus depot for the travelling public and shoppers? And a public library would be just great. Please think it over and give it a try.

Yours truly, A Country Shopper.

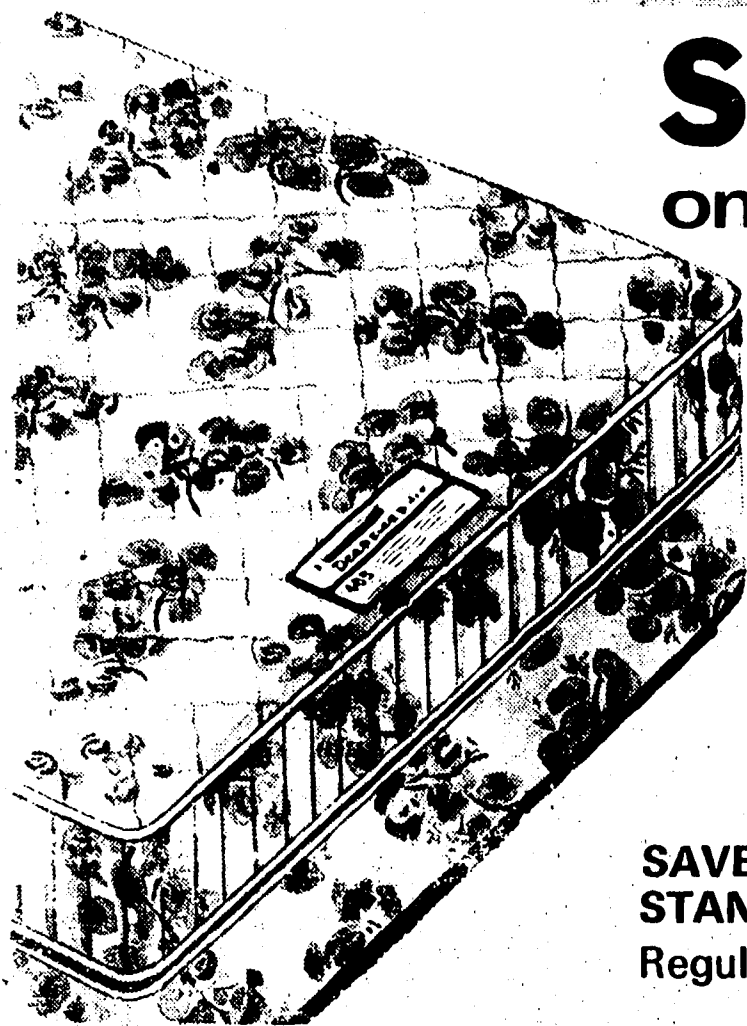

Bear River East Sorry to hear Mrs. Fred Jefferson is on the sick list. She expects to enter the V. G. Hospital on Thursday. We all wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Margaret Rosencrans spent Thursday afternoon of last week with Mrs. Murray Potter in Clementsvalle.

Lindsay Raymond, Miss Beverly Frost had an impressive devotional entitled "Jesus, the Light of the World."

Blenkhorne-Morine

The Grand Bay United Baptist church was the scene of a pretty fall wedding when Patricia Jean, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott B. Morine, Parnassia, N.B.; and also only granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Morine, Bear River, was united in holy matrimony to Richard Herbert Blenkhorne, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Blenkhorne, Parnassia, N.S. Rev. Peter Downey officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Barbara Saunders, the guest soloist, was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. David Crabtree.

The church was decorated with arrangements of small bronze and large white mums. The guest pews were marked with nosegays of small white doliies and pink roses and pink ribbons.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in an original floor length sheath of white, flowered dress fashioned bateau neck-line. The back of the gown was accented with a chapel train of white peau de soie and two rosettes of peau de soie at the waist. A three tiered shoulder length veil of scalloped nylon tulle was held in place by a headress of chiffon pearls and pearl accents. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of red Yuletide roses and stephanotis.

The matron of honor, Miss Wayne McCully, cousin of the groom from Parnassia, was attired in an original floor length sheath with Empire waist line of gold peau-de-soie. The back of the gown was accented with a floor length train falling from a floor length bow attached to the back of the dress. Her head-dress was a rosette of gold peau-de-soie matching veiling and leaves. She carried a cascade bouquet of gold and white feathered mums.

The bridesmaids Miss Carol Logere and Miss Sandra Robertson of Lancaster were attired identically to the matron of honor, only in turquoise peau-de-soie. Their headresses were rosettes of the turquoise peau-de-soie with matching veiling and leaves. They carried cascade bouquets of turquoise and white feathered mums.

The flower girl, Miss Wanda Murchison, Grand Bay was attired in a street length dress of white flowered brocade. It had a turquoise sash tying in a bow in the back. Her head-dress was a tiny turquoise rosette of peau-de-soie with matching veiling. She carried a basket containing gold sweetheart roses and miniature white pom pom mums.

The groomsmen was John W. Ellis, brother-in-law of the groom from Kearney Lake, Halifax County. The ushers were Douglas S. Morine, Donald E. Morine and Gary W. Harris, Bear River, N. S. brothers and cousin of the bride, respectively. The ring bearer was Master Emdon L. Fleet, cousin of the bride of Grand Bay.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Morine chose a golden brown two piece suit with matching hat, dark brown gloves and shoes and fur neck piece. Her corsage was of orange delight roses.

Miss, Blenkhorne chose a two piece teal green suit with matching hat and accessories. Her corsage was of orange delight roses also.

Miss Esther Fleet, cousin of the bride, of Grand Bay was in charge of the guest book.

The reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Grand Bay United Baptist Church. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Mr. Downey with the groom responding. Presiding over the silver tea services were Miss Eleanor J. Morine and Mrs. John H. Harris, aunts of the bride from Bear River, N. S.

Serving the bride's table were Mrs. John Ellis and Mrs. Ralph Taylor, sister and cousin of the groom. Serving the guests were Theresa Blenkhorne and Miss Nancy Parker, sister and cousin of the groom.

For travelling the bride wore a celeneze crepe dress with matching long sleeved jacket. A matching flowered was accented with a chapel train of white peau de soie

sage was of pink and white miniature feathered carnations.

The couple left on a trip to various places of interest in Nova Scotia and will reside at Pitt Street, Saint John. Among those attending from out of town were the great grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Clarence Morgan, Yarmouth, N. S. Others were from Parnassia, Bear River, Yarmouth, Halifax, Cape Bauld and Toronto.

The bride was honored at a shower at the home of Mrs. Harold Lawson, Grand Bay and a dinner party at the Moon Palace by the General Plant Department of the N.B. Telephone Co. Ltd., previous to her marriage. She was also guest of honor at a party in Parnassia following the wedding.

The bride is on the staff of the N. B. Telephone Co. Ltd. General Plant Department and the groom is employed with the Saint John Tug Boat Co. Ltd.

Philathea Class Had Busy Year

The annual meeting of the Bear River Philathea Class was held at the home of Mrs. Ruth Tolles on January 13th with the president, Mrs. Mary Kaulback presiding. The theme of the devotional period was on a Christian's plan for the New Year as this is a fitting seasonal time to take an inventory of our lives.

Two quilts were made and quilted for the Temperance Federation, and forwarded to the N. S. Temperance Federation and to an injured choir singer of the N. B. Bible Institute. One hundred and eighty five sick calls were made and Home Quarantines, cards, flowers, cheer-boxes were sent during the year. At Christmas a White Cross box was packed, and thirty-four cheer boxes were taken to the shut-ins which ended a year of happy fellowship together.

Routine business followed and a slate of officers elected for 1966. Pres. Mrs. Mary Kaulback; vice pres. Mrs. Lilian Wagner; secy. Mrs. Ethel Smith; assistant secy. Mrs. Phyllis Read; treas. Sunday At

Bear River United

Rev. R. M. McNeil returned after spending the Christmas holidays with Mrs. McNeil's mother and also visiting Mr. McNeil's parents.

Rev. K. M. McNeil's sermon on Sunday was based on the topic of Jesus' Baptism, referring to it as an event for us. While John's baptism was one turning point in Christ's life it had a most significant meaning for Him. His Disciples and all who followed after Him.

Three young choir members sang "Just a Closer Walk with Thee". The Trio was Linda Wamboldt, Beverley Mayo and Sheryl Brennan.

The Adult Bible Class met at the manse with Mrs. McNeil in charge of the lesson. A most interesting study on the three temptations of Jesus was discussed.

This class is open to all who are interested in further study of the book "Jesus Christ and the Christian Life". The meetings are held at the manse at 10 a.m.

Incinerator Creates Lively Municipal Discussion

John Nichols, Digby barrister, came before the Wednesday morning session of the council of the Municipality of the District of Digby on behalf of 163 ratepayers, approximately twenty of whom were present at the session, who had signed a petition complaining about the operation of an incinerator installed last fall in the vicinity of Seabrook and Marshalltown. The incinerator is the property of Digby Salvage and Disposal Co. Ltd. and caretaker is Richard Thomas.

Specimens of old cans, partly burned chicken carcass, lobster claws, a paint can with label still attached and partly burned wrappers were among the articles on display in presentation of the ratepayers' arguments against the incinerator.

The session, which by vote went far past the 12 o'clock time for adjournment, ended with Warden Ronald Morehouse promising to have the whole matter carefully looked into with the most possible consideration for the ratepayers.

Mr. Nichols' request was to have the municipal council to take action to have the incinerator removed from its location, but he felt the ratepayers would not object if regulations to regulate any type of incinerator were drawn up by the council and adhered to.

Charges made by Mr. Nichols on behalf of the ratepayers were that the incinerator created a fire hazard, a health hazard, public nuisance and pollution of water.

In presenting the complaints of the ratepayers Mr. Nichols said there had been no representation made to the ratepayers before the incinerator had been established. The ratepayers were from about a four square mile area around the incinerator location. Mr. Nichols said that properties in the area would decline in value, other homes would not be erected and industry would not come to an area where there was a lack of control over such matters by council.

Mr. Nichols said the incinerator was on top of a watershed area which drains in a south-east direction toward the Franklin pond and out to the Joggins. Cattle drink from the pond, trout have been stocked there and the pond is used for skating. He said that Mr. Franklin had sold ice from the pond in the past for a period of 31 years.

Mr. Nichols said rats had already found their way to the incinerator area and if they were not destroyed at the old Digby dump the rest would find their way out to the incinerator. Instead of dry ash being left as a residue there have been found pieces of meat, lobster, etc., and the incinerator has been found left without a caretaker there.

People in the area have complained about the odor which would be intensified in the Spring weather, Mr. Nichols said. They complained about the effect of smoke on clothes on the wash line, garbage scattered about which should be protected by nets, and the tooting of horns among other complaints.

In defense of the incinerator, Councillor M. P. Gott said that the Board of Health had given approval for establishing it in the locality chosen, it had passed inspection of water authority and the department of lands and forests for fire safety. Mrs. Gott read correspondence in support of her arguments and said council took guidance from these.

Mrs. Gott through correspondence also revealed that before the incinerator was established the Franklin pond had tested gross contamination.

On Friday Mr. Thomas, caretaker of the incinerator, will appear before council to answer to the charges made against the operation of the incinerator, including that nets have not been used to cover the garbage trucks.

F. C. Purdy and Warden Ronald Morehouse were in Toronto last week on business of an educational nature. Warden Morehouse returned on Monday via Princess of Acadia but owing to the heavy storm in Ontario, Mr. Purdy was detained until Tuesday.

Municipal Council In Session

In deep silence on Monday the council of the Municipality of Digby remembered those who had passed away since the last annual meeting of the municipal council. Death had recently claimed the life of Councillor Victor Flinigan, of Freeport, who had been a member of the municipal school board for 16 years and on the council for 10 years. Also remembered were a previous warden and a councillor, Warden Harvey Chisholm had served for 25 years on the council, eighteen of which he served as warden. Blanchard Morrell had been a councillor for several years. Tribute was paid to the memory of the men by Warden Ronald Morehouse in his address; Eugene Outhouse, who opened the session with prayer; Baden Powell, MLA, and H. Warren.

Warden Morehouse having been detained enroute from Toronto, the session was presided over for the opening by Deputy Warden Clyde Cosman.

The Warden in his address reviewed industrial progress in agriculture, fishing and lumbering. In fishing he said the catches had been lower in 1965 but that the landing value was higher so the fishermen had a good year. Lumbering remained at a steady pace.

Speaking on education he noted plans for building of the addition to Islands Consolidated School and efforts to have a vocational school located here.

He spoke highly of the Digby General Hospital services. The council was addressed by R. Baden Powell, MLA, who also reviewed industrial progress in the area. He said that this area depended on primary industries and we must be alert to protect our small industries. Fishing in the area, he said, had been one time healthier than it is now and agriculture had been going backward. He said he hoped the present Jamieson project (on Digby Neck and Marshalltown) of farming in a big way would fill a great need in the area. He also mentioned the community pasture as a forward step.

Mr. Powell said he was pleased that the government had decided to purchase the Pines Hotel to operate in the manner of Keltic Lodge. He felt this would also be an inducement to others to establish here and the advertising of the Pines would be particularly beneficial to the area.

Mr. Powell said there is a place for municipal government and he would not want to see the municipalities done away with. He realized the financing problems of the municipality where raising taxes can reach a saturation point, or to refuse to go on with services is to lower the standard of living.

Mr. Powell was questioned on matters of welfare, health and T.V. reception.

Transportation, Mr. Powell said, is the biggest problem in Western Nova Scotia and noted the Digby-Saint John service of paramount importance. He felt the Bear River crossing project was not too far in the distance, surveys have been made on Petite Passage and the problem at Weymouth is where to locate a bridge. Speaking of Petite Passage, he said the provincial government is willing to go ahead with the approaches if a harbor-causeway is approved.

The council was addressed by Mrs. Edith Wallis who spoke on the importance of good publicity for the council and said that it was to the advantage of the council to seek publicity as the readers were looking for council news. Adequate news coverage, she said, prevents false rumors from being circulated.

B. M. MacArthur, from the Canadian National Institute of the Blind, told the council of the work of the institute in providing employment for the blind, the library service, prevention program, the rehabilitation and recreational programs, social service, pre-school department recently established and the eye bank.

Accept Assessment $10,714,886

An assessment roll amounting to $10,714,886 was accepted on Tuesday at the annual session of the Municipality of the District of Digby council. This figure is $145,376 more than that reported for the 1965 assessment.

Membership fees to the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities were accepted at $281.60. This was approximately double the previous fee as a full time secretary had to be employed, a permanent office set up in Halifax and money was needed for surveys in the growing municipalities.

Wednesday morning session began with Mr. Douthwaite and Mr. Pratt appearing before the council respecting Emergency Measures Organization. They said that the E.M.O. is set up to face disaster not only for national disaster but also for natural disaster. It works in complete cooperation with other organizations such as St. John Ambulance and Red Cross. They explained the financial sharing expenditures with the higher levels of government and the benefit financially of having joint municipal organizations.

John Nichols appeared before council asking for an increase in grant to the Victorian Order of Nurses Local Association, Digby, explaining the nature of the work and the expansion of the Digby service. The warden brought to the attention of Mr. Nichols that the municipality paid an outright grant to the V.O.N. of $100, shared up to 65% of one school grant of $300 to the V.O.N. and to 75% of another for $500. Councillor Outhouse also posed the question of the rest of the municipality having advantage of the V.O.N. while Long Island and Brier Island did not have the same advantage. In attendance to supply information was the Digby V.O.N., Miss Brown.

Other groups requesting grants were the Salvation Army and the Mental Health Clinic.

Councillor Eugene Outhouse advocated at the meeting of the Municipality of the District of Digby council on Tuesday that local municipal police officers be given specific directives in regard to their offices. He suggested that a resolution be drawn up to be presented to the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities requesting government authorities to issue a booklet with directives for police in all the local municipal districts in Nova Scotia.

A letter from the Nova Scotia Attorney General stated that on investigation it was not justified to have an RCMP stationed on Brier or Long Island. The municipality had previously by resolution made the request for an RCMP on the Islands.

Trinity Evening Guild will meet with Mrs. H. R. Bishop Tuesday evening.

The action came from the fact that consideration is being given by the Lands and Forests department to requests to have bounty removed from black bears and give them protection as game animals.

To Promote Blueberries

A public meeting has been scheduled for the Oddfellows Hall in Tiverton on the evening of February 1st at eight o'clock to discuss the possibility of commercial growing of blueberries on Long Island.

Speaker at the meeting is to be Robert Murray, small fruit specialist with the Department of Agriculture. Arrangements for the meeting are under direction of William LeFort, Digby County agricultural representative.

During the evening's program a film on the care, growing and harvesting of low bush blueberries will be shown.

It is understood a five hundred acre tract of land has been purchased in the Tiverton area for low bush blueberry growing. Work of readying this land for blueberries is already underway.

The meeting on the evening of February 1st is being held in an effort to interest island residents in blueberry growing. Agricultural officials are said to favour the area for blueberry culture. Climatic and soil conditions are stated to be favourable for such a development.

Digby Baptist Church Holds Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Baptist Church of Digby was held last Wednesday evening in the Sunday School room. Mr. Gordon Turnbull was appointed chairman of the meeting.

The pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, conducted a brief devotional service during which he called for a period of silence in tribute to members and adherents of the congregation who had died during the year 1965.

Reports were received from the various officers, boards, committees and organizations of the church.

It was shown that the youth program carried out by the church during 1965 was vigorous and successful. Groups including Scouts, Cubs, CGIT, Rovers, Explorers and Baptist Youth Fellowship had a busy year and, in some cases, reported an increase in membership.

Mr. C. M. Levy, reporting for the Church School, stated that there had been a good average attendance at the Sunday School classes during the year.

In the report brought in by the Christian Youth Council a recommendation was included that the Sunday School funds be integrated with the regular church funds, and that all accounts of the Sunday School be paid out of the current operating expenses of the church.

This recommendation was adopted by the church. It was also proposed by Mr. Levy that the Sunday School pupils be provided with special envelopes for their Sunday School offering.

The work of the Women's League was contained in a report that showed much activity and that a substantial amount of money had been raised by the League for church purposes. The Women's Missionary Society, with a membership of 23 women, reported a good year in attendance, interest, and in missionary contributions.

The Flower Committee, under the convenship of Mrs. C. M. Levy, and the Choir, directed by Mrs. Donald Brown, gave a brief review of the important work performed by these groups in the services of the church.

Mr. R. B. Bell, chairman of the Board of Trustees, outlined the work done on church property during the year - notably the painting of the church building and the beginning of the church extension project which, he said, would be completed this winter with the interior work being done.

Reporters produced by the church Registrar, Gerald Dunn, and the Treasurer, J. J. Brittain, revealed that there had been an increase in contributions for current expenses in both the regular offering envelopes and in the loose collections. In addition, more than $1900 had been received toward church improvements. The sum of $2,100 had been paid on the Missionary & Extension Fund allotment and some other contributions had been made for benevolent purposes. The sum of $500 had been received from the Edith Mullen estate and this amount had been invested in debentures. The Treasurer stated that fire insurance on church property had been increased to $100,000.

In reporting for the Cemetery Committee the Treasurer stated that the property had been well cared for, and that the funds available to this committee for cemetery purposes had been more than sufficient for the needs of the year. Some contributions had also been made for investment purposes. Tribute was paid to Mr. George Donnelly, caretaker of the cemetery, for the excellent work he had done in looking after the property.

Reporting for the Finance Committee, Mr. Gordon Turnbull said that in view of the fact the operating expenses of the church were on the increase, and that there were other improvements yet to be made on church property, it would be necessary for the congregation to increase its giving for 1966, and also that our "Giving For Others" should be brought up to a higher level.

In his report the pastor stated that 24 new members had been added to the church membership by baptism and transfer. He thanked the officers, boards, committees, organizations and members of the congregation for cooperation and support of the work of the church during the year. He urged that even greater effort should be made during 1966 in all departments of the church's program.

Regret was expressed in the meeting that a veteran member of the church, Deacon Maynard C. Denton, could not be present for this annual gathering. By unanimous vote of the congregation the Clerk, Mrs. Shirley Clayton, was asked to send a letter of sincere good wishes to Mr. Denton.

Rev. L. R. Atkinson moved a vote of thanks be extended to the pastor of the church for his work during the year.

Following the meeting refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Sidney Smith, president of the Women's League.

Digby Ladies Doing Well

The Nova Scotia women's curling championship got underway Monday in Lunenburg with 21 teams taking part.

A team skipped by Floss Lewis, representing Digby, won their first game over Cornwallis 13-6. Others on the team are, Kiki Nichols, mate; Mary Lou Raymond, second; Laura Nichols, lead. In their second game, against Greenwood, they lost 11-7. The third game, played against Truro, was won by Digby 9-6. In Wednesday's play they were scheduled to meet Sydney Mines in the morning and Halifax Curling Club in the afternoon.

The Nova Scotia winners will proceed to the Diamond "D" championships, to be held in Vancouver.

Mixed Curling At Rink

Last Saturday evening mixed curling at the Digby club was enjoyed by a small but enthusiastic group of curlers and guests.

Winning the second division were Emerson Cook, Jo Donahue, Bobby Dakin and Erma Alge.

A lunch was served by Jo Donahue, Elizabeth Ritey and helpers.

Frank Wightman and Kiki Nichols were duty skips.

Digby Curler On Cross Country TV Series

On January 8th and 22nd the Ron Franklin Curling Team from Halifax Mayflower Curling Club and Nova Scotia Representative at the 1965 Dominion MacDonald Brier Competition in Saskatoon, took part in the Cross Country Curling TV Series.

One of the members on the Franklin team was John Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Hawkins, Digby. John's curling career started at the Digby rink where he played on the high school teams.

The Mayflower team in their first appearance upset the reigning Dominion champions, Winnipeg's Terry Braunstein. In their second appearance they were beaten by British Columbia. The series is a single knock-out game. The games were played in Winnipeg the first of December.

CYO Ice Sports

On Sunday, January 23, the CYO boys of Digby staged a hockey game with the Plympton team at the Digby Forum.

The game commenced with some fancy skating by both sides and this drew roars of applause from the crowd as one team then another had a scoring opportunity.

Finally the game settled down to a slower pace and Digby began to show their superior passing and shooting ability.

The Plympton team could not get organized against the Digby barrage and one by one the goals started to flow. The final result was 13-1 for Digby.

The big guns for Digby were John Amaro with 9 points, Danny Doucette with 10 and Bill Nickerson with 5 points. Other marksmen for Digby were Jerry VanTassel (1) and Richard VanTassel (1). The lone star for Plympton was Lloyd Robicheau.

Undoubtedly the star of the evening was Danny Doucette, who played a brilliant game from start to finish.

A girl's broomball game between Plympton and Weymouth followed the hockey session. This game produced many thrills and is the highlight of each Sunday night's CYO ice time. This game was particularly interesting in that the young ladies are becoming more and more expert at it, which resulted in a rough game of swats in the face and pushes from out of nowhere. In this game Weymouth defeated Plympton 2-1 on goals by Linda Thibeau. The scorer for Plympton was Joan Melanson.

It is hoped future games will be just as interesting and enjoyable.

New Fishermen's Plan To Cover Gear, Buildings

The federal department of fisheries has announced a plan to extend the fishermen's indemnity plan to cover "certain types of fixed fishing gear and shore installations." Plans call for an extension on a one-year experimental basis to be available to fishermen of the Atlantic coast provinces and British Columbia.

Covered under the plan would be such items as cod traps, herring traps, herring weirs and similar devices which are reasonably durable and represent an investment of several hundred dollars.

Shore installations will include net lifts, salting sheds, boat repair sheds and any building that has four walls and a roof. In its current form the plan covers only lobster traps and fishing vessels.

In announcing the plan, federal fisheries minister H. J. Robichaud said that the insurance would be available on and after February 1. Coverage would be provided for assets valued at from $300 to $15,000.

During 1965 Nova Scotia's 587,000 fishermen caught about 387,000,000 pounds of fish and shellfish, representing a landed value of more than $45,000,000. This was an increase of $13½ in pounds and 12% in dollars over 1964.

The premium under the new indemnity plan will be the same as that assessed under the vessel plan — one percent of the appraised value of the asset insured. The indemnity for total loss is limited to 60% of appraised value and a lesser indemnity for partial loss is provided for in regulations.

The insurance will provide protection against natural perils such as storms, ice damage, and fire.

The plan will be reviewed after it has been in effect for twelve months at which time a decision will be made as to whether or not it will be continued and, if so, what amendments would be desirable.

Meteghan Bridge Opened

The new wood constructed bridge at Meteghan River is now open to traffic and the three mile detour is a thing of the past. The new bridge is a large one replacing an iron single lane bridge over the Meteghan River in the village of the same name.

The new bridge was constructed by Bernard & Gerard Lombard Construction Company, of Corberrie. The same company constructed a new road to bypass a sharp curve on the old main highway near the Theriault's shipyard. The old one lane bridge was a bottleneck in the main highway system of the Municipality of Clare and with the completion of the new wood bridge with its two lanes and pedestrians' lane, traffic will now be able to continue through the village of Meteghan River unhampered and with ease.

The people who reside on the detour road will find it rather dull from now on as the traffic will be diverted to its normal route. The detour followed the Meteghan Station Road to the Cross Road going through the village of St. Benoni and coming back to the main paved highway via the d'Entremont Road in Meteghan River, a distance of approximately three miles. When the detour was first opened to traffic, due to the dismantling of the old iron bridge, cars, buses and trucks whizzed by the homes of the citizens of St. Benoni and one lady was heard to say: "I have no time now to do my housework because there is so much traffic passing by." This quiet Acadian village was awakened by the noise of cars going through and to many of the older folks it made them feel as if they were in a big town. Now this is past and St. Benoni will resume its quiet ways once more.

The village won a nice paved highway in the bargain. The highway passing through was probably slated for paving but the fact that the detour went through their village hurried the matter up. The detour caused some discomfort and did affect sales in the local garage operated by Bernard Comeau due to the rerouting the traffic to the detour road and the famous Riverside Inn was caught in the middle with traffic diverted.

Business will return to normal once again in Meteghan River and can now thank the Department of Highways for having a new bridge constructed in their area.

Kiwanis Sponsor Park

At a recent meeting at the Goodwin Hotel, the retiring President of Weymouth Kiwanis Club, Raymond D. Rice, gave the yearly report of the Club's activities for the year 1965.

During the summer the club sponsored Water Safety and Swimming Classes, free to all ages, at Journey's Lake. This year, Mr. Daniel Haugh of Bridgewater was secured as Swimming Instructor. One hundred and twenty-six persons registered received swimming and water safety instruction of which 76 per cent of those registered passed their tests. The remaining 24 per cent did not complete their courses due to vacations, illness or irregular attendance. For the first time, classes were conducted for adults, many took advantage of the classes and are grateful.

The Club (which consists of 25 members) maintains the Kiwanis Park at Journey's Lake for public service - with picnic tables, bathing houses, wading pool for small children, a Life Guard and swimming instructor on duty Monday through Friday, operate a canteen and installed a water pump for sanitary human consumption purposes.

Each year a Little League baseball team is organized under the supervision of a coach. This group continues to support an orphan child, Myriam East, of South America, through the Foster Parent Plan. Letters from this child express her humble and very grateful appreciation. Apart from Myriam, members this year gave considerable assistance in transportation of children to local T.B. clinics, etc.

As an international gesture during the Good Will and Public Relations Week, two delegates, Emmanuel Adelaar and Bernard LeBlanc, travelled to Weymouth (Mass.) Kiwanis Club, U.S.A., where they presented the club with the new Canadian flag; Weymouth (Mass.) Kiwanis returned the compliment with the presentation of an American flag.

In September, Basil Bellevue represented the local group at the Ontario-Quebec Maritime Convention, held at the Sheraton Mount Royal Hotel, Montreal.

Prior to Christmas over $100 worth of candies and fruit were distributed in the area to underprivileged children.

A new public address system was purchased, and is proving very useful for the club's activities. Through this facility they provided Christmas music for the entire village.

One of the outstanding highlights in the program is the re-organizing of the 1st Weymouth Boy Scout Troop, last fall, John Jones is to be Scout Master and Alvin Atwell, Assistant Scout Master. Both leaders are now enrolled in the Scout Basic "A" Leadership Course. Registration or first Scout gathering for boys took place on January 21st with a large number of youth interested.

Operational funds are achieved mainly through sponsorship of July 1st Weymouth Day, which entails many hours of toil and concern, for a successful event, the preparations for parade, band, baseball, booths, canteens, midway, gigantic Ox and Horse pull, Thomas Show, barbecued chicken, fireworks, etc.

Other fund raising projects were the pantry sale at Weymouth and the annual water carnival at the lake, in these endeavors the Kiwanis Queens ably assisted.

All proceeds are used for local service projects, as mentioned above in the promotion of youth work, to develop serviceable citizenship, building better communities, or in other words "Build youth for leadership and develop each to his full capacity."

One object of Kiwanis International is "To Cooperate in creating and maintaining that sound public opinion and high idealism which make possible the increase of righteousness, justice, patriotism, and good will."

The annual meeting of St. Peter's Parish, Weymouth was held in Killam Hall on Monday evening, with the Rev. A. G. Peters in the chair, Mr. C. R. Ruggles as secretary. In the rector's report he named some of the highlights of the year, the 175th anniversary of the parish being celebrated with special services in which a former rector, Rev. J. E. He said that he expected this year to be one of advancement.

Reports were given from the various organizations within the church, both financially and reports showing the work being done within them. All groups should progress and enthusiasm in all they had undertaken. Youth work in the church showed a most encouraging improvement, there being two active Sunday Schools, two girls groups and a boys group. Mr. Gordon Campbell commented on the splendid staff of the local Sunday School, and gave a summary of things accomplished there this year.

The treasurer's report showed that all obligations had been met and a proposed budget for 1966 was discussed. Discussion also arose over a cent-a-meal box, and the possibilities of using this means for raising money toward a new Rectory.

Why wait for spring?

In winter, men are available. Materials are available. And special off-season discounts are often available. So, doesn't it make a lot of sense to have those repairs and renovations done now. Not simply construction and building jobs—but things like having the lawnmower fixed on the screens mended; having the drapes cleaned and the rugs shampooed; having the furniture re-upholstered and the electrical appliances repaired. All jobs which can call for a long wait come Springtime—but which can be handled quickly, efficiently and easily during the winter season. What's more, government-sponsored, low-cost Home Improvement Loans are available through your bank, to assist you in carrying out all kinds of renovation jobs you've been meaning to do—up to $4,000 with up to ten years to repay! No doubt about it—winter is the best time to spruce up your home or place of business. Do it now!

Perhaps the others have not found their booklets yet. I found mine the morning after the meeting. As I wiped up the orange juice my daughter spilled on the living room carpet, I noticed a peculiar lump. I lifted the corner, and — you guessed it. It had been missing since before Christmas. I mentally waved goodbye to my chances to be named House-keeper of the Year for 1966.

We may not be the most efficient church guild in the world, but in 1965 we carried out a project which I think is unique, and which won us a mention in the church paper. We packed up one of those boxes which used to be called "missionary barrels" into which we did not put one piece of used clothing. We held several sewing meetings, to which we brought portable sewing machines, new material, and armloads of patterns. We cut, and sewed, and made up dozens of beautiful little garments. We probably favored little girls a bit. Everybody knows it is more fun to sew for little girls than little boys, but we bought a few boys' clothes to even up the score. For our Christmas meeting, instead of the usual exchange of gifts, we each brought a new toy to put in the box.

Actually, the January meeting went very well. The roof did not fall in. I remembered the proper order for the meeting, the sandwiches were decent, and nobody spilled any tea. If I do no worse than that, I might survive the year.

Letter to the Editor

Digby, N.S.

Editor
Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.
Dear Editor:

One thing that Digby needs and should have are some good church services on Sunday afternoon or evenings. There are a lot of people who have to work on Sunday mornings, but who would also like to attend church but can't. I am one of those people myself. R. C.'s are bound to attend church on Sundays but those who have to work on Sunday mornings just can't do it. They must work in order to live, therefore I think that these people should be given the opportunity to attend church in the afternoon or evenings. I am sure that a lot of people would be glad to have a church service to attend on a Sunday afternoon or evening. I do hope that something will be done in this regard. Thank you Mrs. Editor I am yours truly

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1966

Saunders Defends Incinerator Operation

Graham Saunders, managing director of the Salvage and Disposal Company which operates a recently established incinerator in the Digby Neck-Marshfield area, appeared before the Committee of Health of the Municipality of the District of Digby on Friday to advise the committee regarding certain conditions that were purported to be existing in respect to the operation of the incinerator. Present for the meeting were Councillors M. P. Gott (chairman), Aubrey Forrest and Warden Ronald Morehouse. Members of the council were invited to sit in on the committee meeting.

On Wednesday John Nichols, Digby barrister, on behalf of some 163 ratepayers, appeared before the full council and laid complaints about the operation of the incinerator and the location of the plant.

When questioned on whether or not the incinerator was a fire hazard, Mr. Saunders advised the committee that Donald Brown, forest ranger, had inspected the site on several occasions when the burner was in operation and found it satisfactory and not dangerous in relation to fire hazards.

Mr. Saunders said that the company employs a man who stays at the incinerator from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. for six days of the week. He had not seen any rats. Councillor Walter Wood defended the incinerator also on this score stating that when he was there there had been no evidence of rats. Warden Ronald Morehouse, who also visited the site, collaborated with Councillor Wood on the question of rats on the premises.

Mr. Saunders said that he had made personal inspection of the burner four or five days per week and that there had been no remnant of garbage after going through the burner.

Mr. Saunders said that a load of garbage could remain in the incinerator over Sunday if it were brought on Saturday night. He said that the Robb Engineering Works inspected the incinerator and said it was working properly.

A survey of smoke from the incinerator was made, Mr. Saunders said, and he had never seen smoke cross the Digby Neck road or across the highway leading to Yarmouth.

Mr. Saunders said that Mr. Richard Thomas had been instructed to have the truck covered at all times and this had been done and would continue to be done when transporting the garbage.

Mrs. Ditmars 93

Mrs. Robert Leslie (Emma) Ditmars of Clementsport is 93 years today and enjoying the many good wishes of friends and relatives. A birthday cake will be in evidence for the occasion.

Shortly before going to press the editor of The Digby Courier telephoned to extend best wishes and make an appointment for an interview with Mrs. Ditmars on her interesting life. We enjoyed the telephone conversation and we are looking forward to a visit next week and get a picture. Certainly when Mrs. Ditmars answered the phone her voice did not reveal her 93 years but sounded as one of many years younger. There was no difficulty with hearing either.

Memory? That was good, too, for as soon as she heard who was speaking she remarked, "I was to call you when I got to be 93". She made the promise last summer when we met at the annual service of the Old St. Edwards church. While snow made travelling a bit difficult during the past few days, Mrs. Ditmars agreed that we had a good winter so far. She remarked, "We can use the money which would be spent on snow shovelling to educate the children." A good way to keep young at 93 is to think of the young, we expect — especially in Youth Week.

To Move Speech From Throne

Dr. H. J. Pothier, Member of the Legislature for Clare constituency, will move the Speech from the Throne when the House opens Feb. 16.

Dr. Pothier was first elected to the Legislature in the general election of 1963. He is 74. Seconding the Throne Speech will be another doctor, Dr. Paul Kinsman, MLA for Kings West. He also was first elected to the Legislature in 1963. Dr. Kinsman is the head of the committee on youth established by the Conservative caucus following last year's session.

Dr. Pothier is the second Nova Scotian of Acadian extraction to move the throne speech in three years. In 1961, Gerald Doucet, then a private member and now provincial secretary, in his initial Legislative speech moved the Throne Speech, speaking in both English and French.

Dr. Pothier lives in Beaver River, Digby Co., where he continues medical practice. Dr. Pothier, before entering politics, had practiced medicine at Weymouth, where he was active in all community affairs.

Cars Through Digby Increase By 395

Trade and Industry Minister W. S. K. Jones said that there was a substantial increase in the number of visitors travelling by automobile to Nova Scotia last summer. During the period from June 1 to September 30, the number travelling by car was 693,510 compared with 627,806 in 1964, representing an increase of 10.5%.

The number of cars entering by way of Digby was 5,846, an increase of 395 over the previous year.

The Amherst entry point showed the greatest increase in automobile traffic. A total of 156,171 cars entered the province at Amherst, compared with 137,521 cars in 1964. Figures for other entry points in 1965 were: Caribou 20,762 vehicles, an increase of 82 cars over 1964; North Sydney 4,037, an increase of 812; and Yarmouth 12,456, an increase of 1,017 cars. The figure for Tidnish was down 823 cars from 19,030 cars in 1964 to 18,207 in 1965.

For the first time, a round-the-clock count was taken during October at Amherst. Records show that 20,414 Canadian and foreign and 3,851 United States vehicles entered at Amherst during that month.

Tourist trade in Nova Scotia was estimated to be worth more than $58,000,000 for the 1965 season. An estimated 902,429 visitors came to the province. Of these 26.5 per cent were United States residents and 73.5 per cent were Canadian and foreign.

Although both Canadian and United States tourists stayed in the province for a shorter time than in the previous year, they spent more money during their visit here.

From a sampling of tourists, statistics show that each United States resident stayed in Nova Scotia for 6.2 days and spent $13.11 each day here. Comparable figures for Canadian visitors are 7.05 days and $8.34 per day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pierce have returned from a visit with their son, James, Mrs. Pierce and family and also Allen and daughter, Mrs. Calvin Grant.

Good Water Supply Needed For Industry

Glen Smith, Digby, attended a meeting in Berwick last week when water pollution was discussed by leading authorities. Over 100 mayors, councillors and civic officials of the valley region attended the meeting arranged with cooperation of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade. On a discussion panel were: Prof. D. H. Waller of the N. S. Technical College; J. F. K. Jones, N. S. Department of Mines; R. B. Bacon, supervisor of public health inspectors, and Frank Holden, Canadian British Engineering consultants.

There were many communities in the Annapolis Valley where the environment and water supplies were continuously endangered by pollution. Inspector Bacon warned. He said cooperation of planning boards, local boards of health and other groups was bringing about improvements in the area.

A. F. Wigglesworth, general manager of the Water Authority, who chaired the meeting, said existing pollution by industries was by far the largest in quantity; by municipalities the most serious in health hazards; and by scattered house holds, farms and such like, the most difficult to control.

Hon. I. W. Akerley, Nova Scotia's minister under the Water Authority, said that the use of the province's rivers as open sewers "is disgraceful, and pollution from industrial sources is a very real problem."

The minister was speaking at the first in a series of meetings to inform the general public of the dangers of pollution and objectives of the authority in assisting and co-ordinating diverse interests in the field.

"This province is blessed with an abundance of clean, fresh water and because of this, Nova Scotians have grown up with little concern for the future," said the minister. "It is a mistake to think just because we have always had lots of water, there will always be a plentiful supply."

Nova Scotia was expanding rapidly in the industrial field and a good water supply was one of the first things large industries looked for. Continued effort by the Water Authority and cooperation of industry and municipalities was required to reduce the threat to supplies, Mr. Akerley said.

Youth Sunday Observed

Cubs, Explorers and C.G.I.T. attended Grace United Church in a body on Sunday morning to observe Youth Week which began on Sunday. Each group repeated its pledge and the C.G.I.T. rendered a special musical selection.

Susan Turnbull of the Explorers led in the reading of the Psalm. Mary Hawkins, David Marshall, Nancy Lee Rice and Rodney Spidle received the offering.

The newly elected elders of the church Gerald Hoare (re-appointed), George O'Neil, Shirley VanTassel and Sherman Rice were ordained.

Rev. R. H. Hughes, in his sermon, explained to the youth groups and to the congregation the responsibilities of an elder of a church. He said the session of which the elders are members has spiritual oversight of the church. An elder, he said, is chosen by members of the church to share with the minister and fellow elders the important task of preserving, enlarging and enriching church fellowship in the congregation. The minister is a teaching elder and the others are ruling elders.

Mr. Hughes explained the many responsibilities of the elders, among them being the duty toward the various youth organizations of the church and the Christian training of the youth.

The senior choir sang the anthem "Come Thou Almighty King" with Norman Wright as leader and Mrs. Elton Arnold, organist.

Fire Protection For Municipal Area

Arrangements were made at the Digby Municipal Council last week whereby the municipality would levy and collect fire tax at the rate of seven cents from the residents of Smith's Cove and after deduction of two per cent for costs would remit the remainder to District 16 Fire Commission for the purpose of obtaining fire protection from the Bear River Voluntary Fire Department. A similar arrangement for the Bay View, Shore Road, Lighthouse Road, Neck Road and Mount Pleasant area with the Digby Fire Department had to be postponed for further particulars.

Report of the arbitration committee revealed that joint sharing expenditures between town and municipality in 1966 would be 65% municipality and 35% town.

J. D. Hubley was appointed director of assessment and Philip Dondale was appointed assessor.

Dr. D. E. Lewis was named jail physician.

Those on the building committee for additions to the Weymouth School were Councillors Clyde Cosman and Richmond Journey and Warden Ronald Morehouse.

In regard to the request from the Islands Consolidated Home and School for a rumpus room and water facilities for the addition to be built to the school, the council was to inform the Home and School that it was their understanding that the present plans and specifications were approved by the various departments concerned with respect to the four room addition and that the council had no recommendation from the Municipal School Board on the matter.

Promises Look Into Closure For Seining

Hon. H. J. Robichaud, Minister of Fisheries in the Canadian government promised J. P. Nowlan, member for Digby-Annapolis-Kings, that he would look into the matter of the closure to fishermen along the New Brunswick coastline of the Bay of Fundy.

Mr. Nowlan brought the subject before the House of Commons last week when he asked the minister to tell the house and the people of Nova Scotia why the New Brunswick coastline along the Bay of Fundy remained closed to fishing while the coastline along the Nova Scotia side remains open to all. He wanted to know when a change in this policy of discrimination against Nova Scotia inshore fishermen could be expected.

Lion. Mr. Robichaud promised to give an answer in writing to Mr. Nowlan and assured him that the matter would be looked into. He suggested that the closure does not affect the interests of Nova Scotia fishermen to the extent that Mr. Nowlan may be led to believe.

The matter of discrimination against the Nova Scotia seiners in the Bay of Fundy has been a subject of much concern to the Fundy Board of Trade, the Digby board and the A.V.A.B.T. The boards welcome the news that the matter is receiving the attention of the minister through Mr. Nowlan.

Youth Week At Digby Baptist

Sunday morning's service marked the opening of the observance of Christian Youth Week in the Baptist Church of Digby. A large number of young people of the congregation attended the service and sat together in pews reserved for them.

Members of the C.G.I.T. occupied the choir loft and led in the music. Two special numbers were sung, one of them jointly with members of the Explorer group.

The pastor was assisted in the service by Hugh Britain, president of the Baptist Youth Fellowship, and Barbara Nichols, of the C.G.I.T.

In speaking to the congregation, the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, used his topic "Do Not Be Left-Sided," and pointed out the importance of a fully developed personality, including a healthy training of the body, mind and spirit.

A similar service was to have been held in the Hill Grove church in the evening, but had to be cancelled because of the storm.

Youth Week activities will continue for the remainder of the week at the regular meetings of the young people and climax on Saturday evening with a Youth Party in the church hall. All youth groups in the church will share in the program with skits, stunts and demonstrations of various kinds. Refreshments will be served.

In addressing the speaker of the house, Mr. Pearson said, "Although I do not want to single out new members, because I would have to stand on my feet longer than I expect I shall have to, I should nevertheless like to single out the member for Digby-Annapolis-Kings because of the affection and respect that we all had for his father" (Hansard).

Propose DRHS Expansion

A proposal to expand facilities at the Digby Regional High School which would cost between $350,000 and $400,000 was presented at the Digby Municipal Council on Friday. The proposal includes an additional 18 to 20 new classrooms, science laboratory along with other facilities. The proposal was outlined at council by C. E. Edwards, school inspector.

Mr. Edwards stated the additions were necessary not only for the comprehensive school program being developed for Digby Municipality, but also to provide for present needs of the school. He noted that the Digby Regional High School built to house 300 pupils has an enrolment of approximately 1,000. Laboratory and other facilities as well as classroom space have become inadequate.

A number of the proposed new classrooms would be for commercial education, he said, and the cost of these would be met 100 per cent by the federal government. The cost of the additional accommodations would be borne jointly by the town, municipality and province on a cost sharing basis.

Mr. Edwards said there was difficulty in trying to maintain complete programs in Weymouth and the Islands schools, and said the comprehensive program had been developed to overcome these. He said the general course for the municipality would be carried on in Digby as would the commercial program.

A brief presented to the Digby Regional School Board, and which is to be presented to the Municipal Board, outlines the program. There would be a continuation of the academic program at Weymouth, and the Islands Consolidated School for all grades, primary to 12, but consideration might be given to discontinuance of grade 12 at Freeport.

Cecil Jones, chairman of the Municipal School Board, presented a report of the work of the Municipal Board for the year and also presented the school capital budget for 1966. This included proposed expenditures at Weymouth of $75,000 and expenditure of $3,800 for Freeport; $2,045 for Smith's Cove; $900 for Barton and $700 for Westport.

Tribute was paid to the work of Mr. Jones, who is retiring as chairman of the Municipal School Board. Warden Morehouse commended Mr. Jones for his work and expressed regret that he had decided to retire.

In Memoriam

COOK - In loving memory of mother, Mrs. Aug. Cook, who passed away February 5, 1959. Dearest to me than words can tell.

Was the mother I lost, and loved so well.
Deep in my heart, your memory is kept.
I smile with the world, but never forget.

I miss you, your voice, and loving smile.
And things that make my life worthwhile.

Wherever I go, whatever I do,
Always dear mother, I think of you.

It broke my heart to lose you, But you did not go alone.
A part of me went with you. The day God called you "home".

Always remembered and sadly missed by daughter, Verla. 24:1p

STEELE - In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Oresia Elizabeth Steele.

In our heart your memory lingers.
Always tender, fond and true; There's not a day, dear mother, We do not think of you.

Sadly missed by daughters Winnifred, Marguerite, Florence, Evonne and the grandchildren. 24:1c

THERIAULT - In loving memory of my mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Theriault, who passed away Feb. 3, 1955 and Feb. 29, 1956, respectively.

We who love you, sadly miss you
As it dawns another year, In our lonely hours of thinking, Thoughts of you are always near.

Always remembered by daughter Freda. 24:1c

Officer Promoted

Canadian Forces Headquarter's have announced the promotion of Commissioned Officer J. F. McGuire, LRAM, CD, RCN, Bandmaster of the HMCS Cornwallis band to the rank of Lieutenant.

Lieutenant McGuire, a Halifax resident, commenced his musical career in the Navy in 1943 when he joined the HMCS Stadacona Band as a clarinetist. Since that time he has seen service in the Pacific during World War II and served as both bandman and bandmaster in HMCS Ships Warrior, Cornwallis, Quebec, Magnificent, Ontario, Stadacona, Shearwater and Bonaventure.

In 1960 Lieutenant McGuire, then a Chief Petty Officer First Class, was drafted to RCN School of Music, HMCS Naden, as senior instructor of the Bandmaster's Course; it was during this tour of duty that he was selected to attend the Limited Duty Officer's Qualifying Course. After qualifying as an Officer, Lt. McGuire was appointed to HMCS Cornwallis.

Besides holding the Degree of Licentiate of Music, Royal Academy of London, Lt. McGuire holds diplomas in arranging and composing from the University of Chicago.

During the RCN's 50th Anniversary Celebrations in Victoria, Lt. McGuire composed a march entitled "Salute to Victoria" which was played as part of the Navy's Salute to Victoria during the Centennial year.

Recently he helped to produce the Navy's new Flag Ceremony. Three original arrangements written specifically for the ceremony were "Fan Fare for Flag Ceremony", played prior to the marching on of the entire parade; "March-Guard and Band", a strictly Canadian theme based on "The Maple Leaf Forever"; and "Trooping of the Flag", an adaptation and development of the "O Canada" theme.

Lose Boat In Storm

During the storm on Sunday January 30th, a 38 ft. fishing boat "Mary Paul" belonging to local fisherman, Lou Bailey broke loose from its mooring and came ashore on the beach in front of his home. It was noticed about 6:30 p.m. by one of the young men passing by. The men gathered around to see what could be done, but nothing at that time, except tie it to the wharf. The next morning the boat had been so battered by the seas that she was declared a total loss.

Due to the high winds this past week, the fishermen who have traps in the water are expecting a loss of gear. Most of them due to the good price have left all their traps in the water.

In 1962, after serving in various ships and establishments in the Eastern Command he was selected for training as a Commissioned Officer at the R.C.N.'s Preparatory School in Victoria, B. C. Since 1963 he has been a Training Officer in the Communications School at HMCS Cornwallis.

Lieutenant Parish is an ardent sportsman and enjoys playing golf, squash, soccer and is a curler of note. He and his wife, the former Connie Martin, of Chatham, Kent, England, have 3 children and are presently living in Cornwallis. Looking back over his long career, Lt. Parish, or "Rog" as he is known by hundreds of East Coast sailors, recalls an experience in 1947 that stands out above all others. While undergoing a Petty Officers leadership course he found himself being evaluated by a British Naval Officer (a lieutenant) who later became a well known international figure. The officer was H.R.H. Prince Philip.

Lieutenant Parish recalls that he was assessed by Prince Philip as "very good." He adds with a smile, "It must be more than a coincidence — we both married well."

Petition For Building Wharf For Fishermen

At a second meeting of the fishermen of Meteghan and surrounding villages as well as interested citizens, it was unanimously voted to support the petition signed by the fishermen and citizens which is to be sent to the Hon. Minister of Public Works petitioning that the rebuilding of the fishermen's wharf at Meteghan be proceeded with without delay.

The petition contained reasons why work should be proceeded with the minimum of delay. Some of the reasons stated are: extensive damage sustained on the old fishermen's wharf is such that it is presently unfit for use; the wharf as well as other wharves are of the same dimensions as they were 20 years ago despite the increase of the size of the fishing fleet and tonnage of the boats involved; lobster boats must be tied to the wharf six or eight abreast, thus creating hazards to life and property on stormy days and serious loss of time in moving in and out of the harbour; unloading of the catch is difficult; accommodations restricted causing loss of local fish plants from obtaining fish that they would otherwise purchase at certain periods of the season; lobster cars must of necessity use an accessible and sheltered portion of the present public wharf; foreign vessels have been unable to use the public wharf due to congestion and its unsafe condition, thus adversely affecting the export of pulpwood from the area; fishing boats enter the port of Meteghan from time to time for repairs and refitting, taxing the available docking facilities; the present situation at the wharf causes the fishermen to position their fishing boats in such a way that they cannot take good advantage of the tides, having to leave or enter the ports when the tides are high so as to reach available mooring facilities for their boats, due to the larger draggers using the greater portion of the wharf facilities; during the herring season which lasts from spring to fall, 35 to 40 seiners from New Brunswick and other parts make Meteghan their home port; 40 lobster boats operate out of Meteghan from December to May 31st during the lobster season; 7 scallop draggers also make it their home port and 40 ground fish draggers operate out of Meteghan; 222 men from the immediate area are employed on the fishing boats attached to port of Meteghan and many others employed in activities associated with the fishing industry; landed value of fish at the port of Meteghan for 1965 is valued at over $1,640,000.00, an increase of $373,900.00 over the previous year.

It is essential that this valuable industry be maintained and expanded to assure the economic stability of the area involved; adequate port facilities that will allow movement of boats at all times and sufficient space to accommodate these same boats both in fair and stormy weather is essential to maintain the fishing enterprises of a large segment of our population in a competitive field.

The rebuilding of the fishermen's wharf, the petition states, would provide a safe docking place for fishing boats; protection for the public wharf; adequate space for all the boats that must of necessity operate out of Meteghan; undertake a long range view of port facilities in order to provide not only for the needs of today but also for the needs of years to come, since it is evident that the growth in fishing boats and equipment witnessed in recent years will continue in the future at an accelerated pace.

Approximately 500 persons attended the meeting held in the parish hall, which represented the fishermen and interested citizens of the area. Fishermen from the surrounding villages who use the port of Meteghan were also in attendance.

Mr. Bernadin Comeau, of the Comeau Seafoods Ltd., of Saulnierville, spoke briefly to the group. He stated that the new wharf under construction at Saulnierville, when completed, will not be large enough to handle even the fleet of the company and with the construction of a new fishmeal plant by the company at Saulnierville the available port facilities at Saulnierville be taxed heavily. His company will have to continue to use the port of Meteghan, after discharging their catch at Saulnierville and therefore his company has an interest in having a suitable fishermen's wharf constructed at the port of Meteghan. He asked the fishermen to work together and ask for a deep water harbour to meet the present and future needs of the fishing industry of the area.

Rev. Louis Theriault, pastor of Meteghan, acted as chairman of the meeting and Mr. J. Alphonse Comeau presented the petition to the meeting.

Rev. Theriault told the group that by the large attendance at the meeting manifested their interest in the demand being made to the authorities of the government for better facilities at Meteghan and it showed unity among the fishermen who are working for the common good. Rev. Theriault thanked the Clare Board of Trade for initiating the movement and asked all clubs and associations of the Municipality of Clare to support their demands.

INCINERATOR

Asked if the persons in the vicinity had been approached by Mr. Thomas to see if they had any objections to the site, Mr. Saunders replied that he did not know. He stated that during the ten weeks when the company was preparing the site and building the road, that no one, to his knowledge, visited the site or asked what they were doing.

Mr. Saunders stated that he is preparing to place a gate at the entrance and lock it when no one is there in attendance at night and on Sundays. He said that he has found garbage thrown on the property by persons unknown to them when the site is unattended. Angle iron, he said, had been taken to the site to fence the entrance to the incinerator.

Mrs. Gott advised Mr. Saunders that a license would be required for operating the incinerator as soon as the license committee had secured necessary legislation. She asked Mr. Saunders if he understood that "this Board" or representative of the Board of Health has authority to close the incinerator at any time if it is found to be operated improperly. Mr. Saunders answered in the affirmative.

Donald Tupper, with the Department of Health, spoke before the council on Thursday and stated after having just returned from the site that the incinerator was operated in a satisfactory condition and advised that he had made periodic inspections.

With The Services

Lieutenant Lorie Joudrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Joudrey, Joggin Bridge, has informed us that he is travelling to Newfoundland to take part in Exercise White Caribou (10 Jan. - 25 Jan.).

Lorimer, an officer in the 1st Battalion Black Watch, Camp Gagetown, N. B., has been very active in the year 1965 with the following courses:

Winter Warfare Course — Camp Wainwright, Alta., during the month of Jan. This was a preparatory training for Arctic and Norwegian exercises. While at Wainwright Lorimer took the opportunity to visit his sister, Marjorie, and her family in nearby Edmonton.

Bisley Rifle Competition — Bisley, England, for the last week in June and all of July. Lorimer was Adjutant of the Canadian Army Rifle Team in this, the world famous rifle competition. Preceding the week of shooting he was able to visit France, Belgium, Luxembourg and many parts of England.

Advance Anti-Tank Course — Camp Borden, Ont., for the month of September. Lorimer

More Winter?

On this day, commonly known as "Groundhog Day", this woodchuck or marmot, emerges from hibernation in his hole in the ground. He comes to the entrance and surveys the outside world for the weather forecast. If the skies are dull and dark, he prepares to stay up and take up life where he left off.

If the sun is shining, and he sees his shadow, he decides that there will be six more weeks of winter. So back he goes and tucks himself in again. At least, that's the legend.

If any belief can be put in the old groundhog story, the Digby area can settle back for a wee bit more winter weather. Although yesterday was generally cloudy, the sun peeked through just about long enough for Mr. Woodchuck to see his shadow.

is the officer commanding the Anti-Tank Platoon in 1st Black Watch.

Special Warfare Course — Fort Bragg, North Carolina, U.S.A., for the month of November. This course was conducted by many special forces personnel who have recently returned from Viet Nam. Lorimer hopes to be returning to Fort Bragg for a four months course starting April, directed towards Counter Insurgency training. This is a relatively new field to the Canadian Army although highly developed by other world powers.

Following Exercise White Caribou the 1st Black Watch returns to Camp Gagetown and begins preparation for a six weeks exercise in Norway (Exercise Winter Express) — mid February and March). This is in keeping with Canada's commitment to the Ace Mobile Force (Land). This allied force acts as a deterrent against possible enemy movement into Norwegian territories.

Two hundred and sixty youngsters, ranging in age from seven to seventeen, will participate in the Minor Hockey Week program in Digby, being held during the week of February 7th to 12th.

To mark the week minor hockey league games will be held at the Digby Forum on Tuesday evening, commencing at five o'clock. On Tuesday evening another minor league program, featuring hockey and other games, will be held at the Forum, beginning at seven o'clock. Tiverton Get well wishes are extended to Mr. Oscar Messenger who is a patient at Digby Hospital.

Snow, snow and more snow since early Friday morning has resulted in blocked roads, slippery roads, and in some areas no roads at all. Schools were closed Friday and Monday. However, youngsters have taken advantage of the situation to try out the sleds and toboggans they received at Christmas.

In spite of the inconvenience and interruptions of daily routine caused by the enormous quantity of snow, one can almost agree with the youngsters that said Friday morning, "Isn't the Island pretty?"

A reception was held for newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Prime (nee Carolyn Outhouse), in the L.O.O.F. hall at Tiverton on Friday evening. About 40 were reported to have attended the event. The couple received many gifts. Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Prime.

IN OBSERVANCE OF NATIONAL ELECTRICAL WEEK FEBRUARY 6-12

In tribute to Thomas A. Edison, whose family were at one time residents of Digby, and other pioneers whose inventive genius launched the electrical era three-quarters of a century ago.

Do You Remember When?

We used the frost-laden pump in the back yard? Mother used the old scrub board and tub? We had lopsided cakes baked in the old wood stove? Grandma read the Bible with a magnifying glass by the flickering light of the smokey oil-lamp? The laundry froze on the clothes line? The milk and butter were kept cool in the well? Fresh fruit and vegetables were hardly available in the winter, and meats spoiled in the heat of the summer?

Would You Like To Go Back?

Surely we would all like to go back to those horse and buggy days... but only to reminisce. There were many happy times and pleasant thoughts, but gradually each phase of this past was improved by modern inventions and the applied use of electrical energy. Electrical power has done more than any single development to improve our ways of living and complacency still has no place in electrical progress and engineers are still discovering and developing even greater things for us all.

Don't You Agree?

That National Electrical Week is therefore worthy of recognition? That National Electrical Week is a proper tribute to Thomas A. Edison who opened the doors to our modern electric living that we enjoy today? Then let us wholeheartedly salute the pioneers in electricity who have done so much for humanity!

Releases Report On Petite Passage Crossing

A consultant's report released today by Highways Minister Stephen T. Pyke says the original cost of a bridge, across Petite Passage would be approximately $3,882,000.

The passage is located between Digby Neck and Long Island near the southern tip of the province.

Assuming an interest rate of five per cent, the annual cost of financing this over 25 years would be $276,000, or a total of $2,760,000 over a 10 year period. In addition, necessary maintenance over a 10 year period would be $90,000. This would mean a cost of $2,850,000 over the first 10 years only.

Mr. Pyke said the consultant's study included three alternatives to the bridge crossing, but concluded that they had the common disadvantage of a causeway.

A causeway type structure might interfere with normal fish movement through the Passage and might adversely affect catches. Although a causeway was considered by the fishing companies operating in the area as a means toward better harbor facilities, tidal effects could result in damage by flooding.

The report, however, does conclude that a permanent crossing might contribute to an expansion of the fishing industry facilities which are projected for the area. It also concludes that living standards as well as social services would be improved and that this would have an effect on a future population increase.

It said that a population decline can be partially attributed to the movement from rural to urban areas, however, it is reasonable to conclude that some of the population decline is a result of people moving from Long Island and Brier Island because of transportation facilities between the former and the mainland.

The population in 1911 was more than 2,000 and in 1961 was less than 1,300 persons, including the two islands.

A ferry now links the mainland and Long Island and another ferry, Long Island and Brier Island.

Reporting for the agriculture committee, H. M. Warner spoke of the recent agricultural developments in the area and of the great potential which still exists. Retired president Charles Halliburton praised the work done by H. M. Warner in sparking the program under development.

David Boudreau reported for the Apple Blossom Festival committee and announced that a special meeting would be held on February 14 to plan for the festival in Digby on May 23. Present at the meeting will be Lloyd Hill of the A.V.A.B.T. and representatives from Annapolis, Bear River, Clare, Weymouth and the Islands.

He expected tenders for dredging to be called soon.

It was reported by the fisheries committee that a strong delegation from Digby Neck and Islands and Clare had attended a meeting with the Atlantic Development Board recently and discussed regulations on water and sewage.

In reporting for the tourist committee Ralph MacIntyre expressed pleasure in the fact that the provincial government had purchased the Pines Hotel which will be operated along the lines of Keltie Lodge. He especially mentioned the advertising advantages for Digby.

Clare Board Holds Special Meeting

More than 300 fishermen and other citizens of the area attended a special meeting of the Clare Board of Trade, held in Meteghan.

The need for a new wharf for the Meteghan fishing fleet was fully discussed. The old wharf has been battered by recent heavy winds. Fishermen are presently using the main public wharf which is congested far beyond a safe mooring place for small lobster fishing boats. Fishing boats, small and large, are tied up four abreast in spots along the wharf frontage.

Observes 91st Birthday

On January 31st Mrs. Edgar Warner quietly observed her 91st birthday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Warner, where she now resides. She received many gifts, cards and telephone calls during the day and evening; a special call being from her daughter, Mrs. Jack Harris, in Toronto, who also sent flowers for the occasion. Many friends and relatives called in the evening when games were played and refreshments served, including a beautifully decorated birthday cake made and presented to Mrs. Warner by Mrs. John Bouchard.

Mrs. Warner keeps active for her years and enjoys knitting and other hand work, and is keenly interested in current events, and eagerly awaits the arrival of the daily and weekly newspapers.

Sincere wishes are extended to Mrs. Warner for many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. J. M. Wallis rendered a vocal solo, accompanied by Miss Deldre Morrell.

February Session, Digby Town Council

May Move Town Offices To Court House

At the February session of Digby Town Council, held Monday evening, it was decided to look into the possibilities of moving the town offices out of the present building and into the court house. The town pays approximately $1,500.00 yearly toward the upkeep of the jail and court house properties, and it was generally felt that the move could bring about a substantial saving of money, including lights, water and heat. A decision was made to meet with the Municipal Council for further talks on the matter. It was stated that the Municipal offices are at present in the court house where they are receiving free services, and that if space permitted the Town offices should be situated there too.

Culloden District Will Have Fire Protection

Councillor Aubrey Forrest, of the Digby Municipal Council, addressed the Digby council concerning fire protection in his district of Culloden. Mr. Forrest said that at a meeting earlier with Digby fire department officials it was agreed that the department would be prepared to provide protection to the Culloden district for $600.00 for the coming year. Taxpayers in his district are prepared to pay as much as ten cents per $100.00 assessment towards fire protection, Mr. Forrest said. It was the decision of the Digby council that the Digby Fire Department provide protection for the municipal district of Culloden, as follows: starting from the boundary of the Town on Shore Road running north, both sides; all of Bay View including road to Point Prim; then in a southwesterly direction both sides of Light-house Road to the Town boundary including property of Roy VanTassel and Arch Ellis; then starting on the Mount Pleasant Road, both sides from Cecil Cosman's to the Notch Hill or Manford Amers' and Arnold Handspeker's; then on the Neck Road, both sides from the Town boundary including Mrs. Frank Hazelton and Chester Budd, running westerly both sides to the Post Brook or Rowlett's; then on the Bay Road from Frank Doogue's both sides to Olyn Sproule's.

To Seek Service Of Engineer

The council discussed the possibility of securing a qualified superintendent of streets and water, as recommended by the Water Commission of the Town. Estimated cost of an engineer and an assistant trainee would be about $5,000 per year. It was decided to have the Council and Water Commission meet with Percy Take, a retired engineer, who could possibly be secured for the position.

Garage To Be Torn Down Council reported that Irving O'Leary is presently in the process of securing tenders for the purpose of tearing down their garage building on Water Street, formerly occupied by Central Motors.

"Shabby Treatment"

A letter was read from E. Adelaar, of Rudolf Van Der Walde Ltd. regarding "shabby treatment by the town works department" to residents on the south end of Queen Street and in particular around their mill site. The letter was mainly concerned with recent snow plowing and removal. The council stated that if unfair practices existed, they were not intentional and that all care would be taken in the future to ensure that residents in this section of town receive "fair treatment." It was also decided that the dump road in the south end of town would continue to be maintained until further decision by the council.

E.M.O. Report

In reporting for the Digby Emergency Measures Organization councilor Gerald Connelly said that Deputy Director Carl Melanson has taken over local duties while Reg Turnbull, director, is on a leave of absence for holiday purposes.

Fourteen candidates were registered for the radiation monitoring course held in December. Certificates were presented to eight of these in January. Eleven candidates are now attending a local course in rescue, which started January 10. Mr. Connelly reported. Six of these have not previously been registered with E.M.O. This now makes the total enrolment 186.

An application has been completed by Capt. Fred Beach to attend a further advance course at Arnprior, Ont., in May, in connection with emergency clothing.

Mr. Connelly reported that the local E.M.O. is cooperating with those taking a home nursing course TV series from Saint John. Before completion of this year there will be local courses given in rescue, fire, (Please turn to page 3)

Saint John-Digby Ferry Among Resolutions

Headed by John M. Murphy, president of the Maritime Provinces Boards of Trade, and A. Parkes, manager, a delegation from the organization met with the Premier, Hon. R. L. Stanfield, and other government officials today to present a number of policy resolutions for consideration by the government.

Among the resolutions was one dealing with the Saint John-Digby ferry service.

The resolution related to the curtailment of ferry services between Saint John and Digby each year while the ferry is taken off for a month with no replacement. This has caused a lot of concern and inconvenience to citizens in the two provinces and particularly the truckers endeavouring to get their goods to markets at the earliest possible time from Nova Scotia, the resolution stated. While the ferry boat is back on at this particular time we would ask that when the particular occasion arises, you do endeavour to impress upon the Canadian Pacific Railway the need for continuing ferry service across the Bay of Fundy, the delegation asked.

The delegation also brought to the attention of the government officials that the shipping service operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway across the Bay of Fundy between Saint John, N. B., and Digby, N. S., is of very considerable importance for the Provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, in terms of freight movement, passenger service and the tourist industry and that mention has been made of the possibility that this service, could be abandoned within the next few years. It is felt, the delegates said, that this would so seriously affect the economy of the two Provinces and, in a broader sense, the Maritime economy, that action taken now would by no means be premature.

The resolution which was passed at the annual meeting of the Maritime Provinces Board of Trade and which came before the government officials was as follows: "Be it resolved that the Maritime Provinces Board of Trade shall make representation to the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Federal Government aimed at the continuation of its Bay of Fundy services, presently operated by the 'Princess of Acadia'. Be it further resolved that the Board shall express a vivid interest in the economies of this service, and that the Board shall solicit the assistance of organizations such as the Atlantic Development Board and Maritimes Transportation Commission to devise ways and means for co-operating with the C.P.R. towards the improvement of the operational results of this service."

Other resolutions brought to the attention of the premier and government ministers dealt with mobile dental units, medical facilities for rural communities, care of the mentally ill, signals and signs on highways, railway crossings, point system for motor vehicle operators, uniform school curriculum, learning skills, uniformity in liquor legislation, daylight saving time, curtailment of export of round wood, fire fighting equipment in rural communities and a proposed corridor road.

Mr. Connelly reported that the local E.M.O. is cooperating with those taking a home nursing course TV series from Saint John. Before completion of this year there will be local courses given in rescue, fire, (Please turn to page 3)

Nearly 1,000 Names On Petition

The Digby Board of Trade decided on Tuesday night to bear the costs incurred by Frank Miller, Smith's Cove, on behalf of the citizens of the area, in his efforts to obtain photostatic copies of a petition for a causeway across Bear River. At time of the Board of Trade meeting on Tuesday night there had been approximately 850 names on the petition. The number is expected to reach more than 1,000 citizens before it is presented to government authorities.

The petition asks for a permanent crossing which would not require continual repair and maintenance as a steel bridge would require.

Since it is understood that the D.A.R. railway bridge across Bear River is in need of replacement, the petition suggested that a new crossing should be constructed to satisfy both railway and motor traffic.

The petition requested the construction of a causeway rather than a bridge whether it be of control water level permitting entry of sea water or with permanently maintained level of river water for use for local citizens and tourists who visit the area.

The opinion was expressed at the Board meeting that if restrictions can be removed from the river as navigable waters a causeway would be feasible.

To Grow Blueberries At Tiverton

(Mrs. John P. Outhouse) Kenneth Wheeler, native of U.S.A., and his wife, the former Evelyn Chaplin, native of Musquodoboit, N. S., and 3-year residents of Tiverton, N. S., are attempting to establish a new industry in a village where, until now, fishing has been the predominant method of obtaining a livelihood.

Mr. Wheeler has cleared approximately 600 acres of land in preparation for growing blueberries on a commercial basis. He claims there are two things riding for the successful production of blueberries in the Tiverton area: the rich fertile mossy soil so necessary for their growth, and the climate which is usually not too hot or too dry during their season.

When asked what prompted them to produce blueberries in the Tiverton area, Mrs. Wheeler explained that shortly after they moved to the area they had an opportunity to buy a plot of land. The idea of owning land appealed to them and without having any idea of the use it would actually be to them they bought it. Later, as they explored their few acres they found the soil so rich and fertile, perfect for growing blueberries. "You see," they added, "we once owned 400 acres of land at Musquodoboit where we grew blueberries so we know just which type of soil is necessary for the growth of the berries."

Mr. Wheeler feels it will not be necessary to import a large quantity of bees to pollinate the blossoms of the blueberry plant. He said because there are no extensive flower gardens or orchards the bees will not be distracted from the berry blossoms.

Mr. Wheeler, who has cleared most of the land himself usually burns the brush and piles the trees as he cuts them. Fire extinguishers have been supplied to Mr. Wheeler and to Wilson Outhouse by the Department of Lands and Forests to prevent spreading of fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler laugh at the critics who lack their faith in their project. He is enthusiastically certain that all the hard work and the long hours he has spent in the enterprise will result in a bountiful harvest of blueberries.

The name of Fred Fullerton was inadvertently omitted from the names of the newly appointed elders of Grace United Church last week.

Town Planning Subject Of Speaker

D. A. Hiltz, consulting engineer for Digby town planning was guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Digby Board of Trade held at the Curling Club rooms on Tuesday night. He was introduced by Dr. D. E. Lewis head of the Digby town planning committee for Digby. Mr. Hiltz of Hiltz and Stanone, Kentville is engaged by the towns of Digby, Annapolis, Middleton, Berwick and Kentville.

In introducing his subject Mr. Hiltz quoted from Charles G. D. Roberts book, "The Beautiful City," the address and people of Digby and remarked on the many assets which the town possesses. To these he added public services, sewer, water, business area, transportation, recreation and education to make up the ingredients for a town plan. The wise use of the resources and the proper distribution of them throughout the community is of prime importance, he said.

Mr. Hiltz showed a plan map of Digby of now in the following proportions: residential single family homes 186 acres; duplex, 6 acres; residential apartment 4.5 acres; business 63.7 acres; industry 5.1 acres; agriculture 83.5 acres; institutional 42.4; recreational 5.15; public land, 11.5; vacant land 86.5; streets 74.2; right of way for streets 13.2; area under water 186.6 acres. Total 824. Above water total 638 acres. He said the general arrangement of the town in the future will not alter greatly from the format he presented.

Since the physical layout of the town is fairly well established it is now a matter of the town planning board, the speaker said, to decide in what manner they wish the town to grow and to institute rules and regulations covering the use of the land areas within the town viz zoning. Zoning regulations and maps when prepared, he said, will contain all the necessary restrictions to ensure an orderly growth in the town. Land areas will be set aside for carrying on all the town's varied and complex needs while making the best use of the land areas available.

Mr. Hiltz said that the citizens have the final say in the matter for they are the ones who will approve any zoning by-laws before they become law. He strongly emphasized intelligently educating the public as to the need for regulations.

The dinner was presided over by Charles Halliburton, president, Rev. R. H. Hughes asked the blessing.

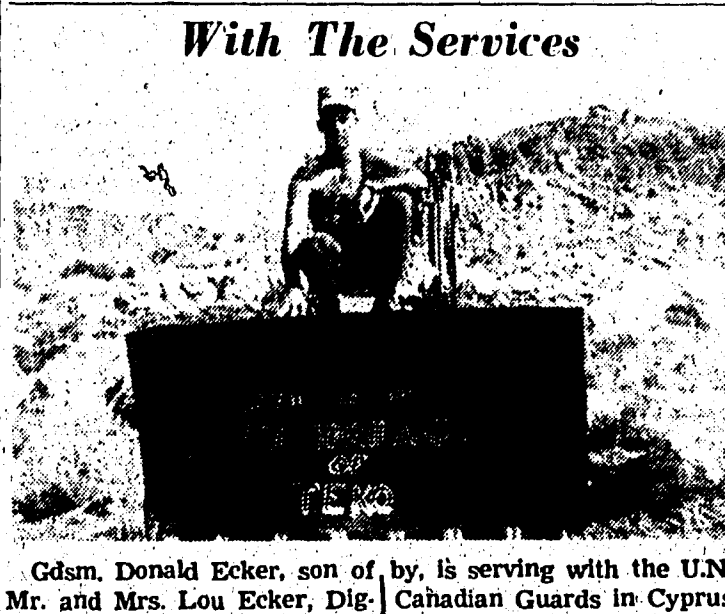

A. Parkes, Moncton, executive manager of the Maritime Provinces Board of Trade, spoke at the business meeting which followed the dinner, urging the board not to confine their interests entirely on the local level but to also look regionally and nationally.

Mr. Parkes said that a new form of Board of Trade council was being inaugurated when staff members of the national organization would interview board members and citizens who are not board members to arrive at solutions to problems. Documents would be sent to boards after the interviews which he hoped would suggest ways in which the boards could be made more efficient and more active.

The speaker strongly recommended factual industrial brochures to describe the area to prospective industrialists. He cited examples where industry in cities had snowballed because of a brochure.

Emanuel Adelaar, of Weymouth, director of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and past president of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, spoke strongly against the forces which are making inroads on our freedom of enterprise. He challenged all those in business who wanted to make a profit to speak up against those who try to wear down our free enterprise. He urged that work in this regard be done through the high school students, explaining to them the merits of free enterprise.

About This And That

D.R.H.S. Expansion

Our readers saw in the last issue of the Courier that plans are underway to expand the Digby Regional High School with facilities amounting to an approximate $400,000.

To many who have seriously studied their assessments and now wait in suspense for the tax rate, this expenditure on education will be looked upon with some concern. But, in our looking, let us not forget that money spent on education can not really be classified as an expenditure. It must be looked upon as an investment. It is an investment which will pay large dividends in the future lives of our presently growing children. By investing in education, we are investing in our economic future. As knowledge is the key to Canada's economic future (quoting from Economic Council of Canada) so is knowledge the key to the future of Digby. We can hope that Digby will have industry and means to make use here of this educational investment into her youth but if not, she is preparing her youth to find its place and meet the challenges of the world beyond and thereby lessening unemployment at home as well. We would prefer, of course, that it were possible that the fruits of the investment remained right here.

Fishermen's Wharves

Right on the heels of Digby's urgency for a new fishermen's wharf to replace the present one, which has to tie up boats ten abreast, comes an appeal from Meteghan for a new wharf, where it is stated that fishing boats, both small and large, are tied up four abreast in spots along the wharf frontage.

It certainly is true that both these projects are urgent and it would indicate that there has been quite some neglect in government provisions to keep up with the growing fishing industry in this whole western area.

Judging from news reports during the past two or three years, the Digby wharf state is worse than any and requires immediate action. But that in no way belittles the urgency which also exists at Meteghan and maybe other fishing ports in Digby County. Persistent approaches to the government for the things which are needed here will eventually bring results, no doubt. There has been evidence that the government has not grasped the full importance of the general transportation problems and lack of facilities for fishermen in Digby. It could be that statistics in Ottawa do not correctly reveal how many depend on the fishing industry and transportation in the area for livelihood. The fishing industry and the tourist industry, both of which depend on wharves and ferries, are important to the economy of the area.

Music Festival In April

The Digby Music Festival is set for the week of April 25. That might sound like a long time but with practice and plans, the time will quickly speed by and the date will be upon us. And then, let us not forget that all entrants must be in the hands of the committee by March. That is less than a month. Entry forms, it is understood, can be obtained from Mrs. Dan Hankinson and Mrs. Elton Arnold. No doubt these same people can supply the syllabus to anyone who did not get a copy. The syllabus has been prepared and distributed. On the syllabus you will find room has been given to both vocal and instrumental music. There are to be solos, duets, and trios in both vocal and instrumental. There have been plans made to accommodate group singing, choirs, singing games and dances.

We draw the attention of parents to this special event, the Digby Music Festival, and ask that they make the festival a special activity, adding to both quantity and quality of preparation. Sincerely the parent who must encourage and urge the child to participate. It is the parent who must urge the child to practice daily in order to achieve the requisites of time, rhythm, form, tone and harmony and other qualities which make for good music.

Music Festivals have their way of bringing greater happiness to the world. They bring happiness to the lives of the participants and joy to those who listen not only during the festival hours but through the entire lives of performers and listeners. They tend to create appreciation and excellence in an art which can aid in dispelling grief and providing happiness for mankind.

Digby Needs

First on our list this week is Digby Needs a new elementary school building. Likely the thought was prompted from the news in the Courier last week of the newly proposed extension to the Digby Regional High School. This school is relatively new and has been added to and has remained expanded while the elementary school is old and has remained fairly stagnant so far as physical improvements are concerned. Maybe somebody will write a letter to the Courier explaining. Anyway, our reader who suggested a new elementary school said the present one is drafty, it is smelly and there are awkward classrooms in the basement. Should really see if the taxpayers are willing, suggests our reader.

Second on the list this week is Digby Needs a promenade deck along the water side of the street between the old Salvation Army building and the bandstand.

Third, Digby Needs more picnic sites. Should have a nice children's playground, so they say. Also stated that last year when trying to picnic near the Life Saving Station, they had to pick up old cans, etc., to find a place to picnic.

A fourth Digby Needs was more of a Digby Needed. Digby needed someone to think of Indian Fields as a location for an air strip. No fog and no trees, so we are told. Then Digby Needs a road straight through to Indian Fields and on to Shelburne.

We enjoyed this Digby Needs submitted by a service man. Digby Needs a good reporter. Reason? Because he was British auto sportsman R. R. C. Walker (above) has had a life long devotion to fine machinery. Obviously he knows something about cars but one thing he didn't know was how remarkably quiet the 1966 Ford is.

"1966 Ford quieter than my Jaguar? Not jolly likely!" said Rob Walker

... then he drove the Ford.

Ford's Quiet Men, who recently demonstrated the extraordinary quiet of the 1966 Ford to owners of some of the world's most expensive luxury cars, here discusses the '66 Ford LTD with Rob Walker at his family's estate in Wiltshire, England.

Compare your car with the quiet of Ford's solidly built body. Take a "Quiet Test" today.

British sportsman Rob Walker was skeptical about comparing the quiet of the '66 Ford with his hand-finished Jaguar Mark 10.

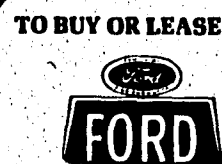

But then he drove both cars, and said, "This really is astonishing... I believe this Ford of yours really is quieter. Astonishing!"

Compare your car with the '66 Ford and you'll understand his astonishment. Ford's quiet ride is a direct result of more built-in quality—a strong, solid body that gives you quietness that compares with the world's most expensive automobiles.

This quiet quality means more value for you because today's Fords are built for years of dependable operation, years of owner satisfaction.

And with it all, of course, come Ford's wonderful new ideas for your comfort and convenience. Stereo Tape players. Silent-Flo ventilation. A "Magic Door" on wagons that swings out like a door, and down like a tailgate. And a host of other features offered first by Ford.

Visit your Ford Dealer for a quiet revelation of the solid quality you get in a Ford.

The minutes of the special meeting of Council on December 7, 1965 were read.

Moved by Councillor Gott, seconded by Councillor Snell that the minutes of the special meeting of the Municipal Council dated December 7, 1965 be accepted. Passed.

The Warden, Ronald Morehouse being present, presided over the Session.

The Warden addressed the Council as follows:-

Members of the Council and Friends, First of all I want to extend my sincere good wishes to you for a Happy and Prosperous 1966, as we gather here for the opening meeting of the Annual Session of the Digby Municipal Council.

Our Session this year are tinged with sadness for we meet without the presence of one of our most valued members, the Councillor for Freeport, Victor Finigan whose efforts on behalf of his District and the whole of the Municipality were outstanding. Councillor Finigan's contribution to the Municipal life of Digby through his involvement in the work of the Municipal School Board for 16 years and the Municipal Council for 10 years will long stand as a memorial to his great interest in the welfare of the people he knew and loved, both young and old.

It is with a profound feeling of sorrow that I record here today, not only the passing of Councillor Finigan but also the loss of two former members of our council, both of whom served with dedication and distinction. I refer of course to former Councillor Blanchard Morrell of Freeport who served his District and the Municipality faithfully and well and former Councillor and Warden Harvey E. Chisholm of Bear River who was a member of the Municipal Council for 25 years and Warden of the Municipality for 18 years.

I would ask you now to stand and observe a minute silence in tribute to these men all of whom served this Council and their fellows with a sense of dedication and devotion, may their efforts long stand as a memorial and a challenge to those of us who follow.

The year just passed has brought a number of significant changes and developments in the life of our Municipality. In Agriculture, we have seen the beginning of what is hoped will be a very forward move in large-scale farming in Digby Municipality. I refer to the Seabrook farm project on Digby Neck and at Marshallow where the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture is co-operating with U. S. interests in the development of a 300 acre farm project. I am happy to say that our Council has played a part in this development through the sale of the former Municipal Home farm property for use in the Seabrook farm project.

Another significant development in agriculture in our Municipality during the past year has been the establishment of the Community pasture at Roxville. Those involved in this co-operative venture are to be commended and it is my sincere hope that this, along with every other effort being undertaken to improve the agricultural life of Digby Municipality will be crowned with success.

In the fishing industry, Digby Municipality has fared reasonably well over the past years but landed value has been below those of previous years but landed value has been higher. Our Lobstermen enjoyed a good winter season with exceptional high prices. The only dark spot in the fishing industry was that of the lake fishing off the Islands of Digby Neck.

In connection with the fishing industry, it was encouraging to learn, late last fall, that extensive improvements are to be made to the Fisherman's Wharf in Digby. It is also encouraging to learn that preliminary studies are underway with respect to the possible provision of a permanent crossing for Petite Passage. Such a crossing is vital to the economic life of the Islands and it is my earnest hope the studies which are being undertaken will indicate the economic feasibility of providing the suggested Causeway-Harbour Complex at Petite and that work of construction will be then undertaken.

The Lumbering Industry of our Municipality continues at a steady pace although indications are that overseas markets may not be as buoyant this year as in 1965.

In the field of services to our people, I am happy to report that in Education, a Contract has been let for construction of an addition to the Islands Consolidated School. Negotiations are also underway toward the establishment of a new Vocational High School to serve the County of Annapolis and the Municipality of Digby. The advantages of placing this school within the Municipality of Digby have been urged upon Provincial Authorities and suggested sites submitted. A decision from the Provincial Authority is now awaited.

I am sure all of us have been impressed with the demonstrated worth of the new Digby General Hospital which was officially opened last fall. Any doubts which may have been previously held concerning the wisdom of this development have long since been dispelled. Facilities such as the New Hospital are part of the fabric of good services we of necessity must play our part in providing.

In closing I wish to take the opportunity of thanking the Municipal Clerk, Office Staff, together with all Members of our Council for their support and co-operation for carrying on of all Municipal Business. Respectfully submitted January 24th, 1966.

Moved by Councillor Gott, seconded by Councillor Forrest that Council grant an extension of time. Passed.

Letter to the Editor

Weymouth R.R. #3, February 7, 1966. The Digby Courier, Digby, N. S.

Dear Editor: Would you please insert the following and entitle it "Weymouth is progressing?"

I wonder what the merchants of Weymouth would do if everyone stopped patronizing their stores? If they did I think the merchants should be ashamed of the way they let the snow stay piled up on the sidewalk and around some of the stores when it is such a small area to clean up in the first place.

This has been going on now every winter since I don't know when. And especially in this day and age, I don't think there is any excuse for it. In other places it is carried away by truck. There should be some kind of an arrangement like that here. Most of the time there is only a cow path to walk through and it is usually very slippery and dangerous.

Personally I think it is very disgusting to want all and not give any. This is just what is happening in Weymouth. This shows how much the merchants appreciate the patronage of their people. I call it very selfish and inconsiderate.

It seems Weymouth can't do anything right, that everything they attempt becomes a failure. It is going back instead of ahead. No wonder we're not getting any help down this way from the government. We or I should say most of the people down here, haven't got the determination and grit to fight for what we need.

There must be some arrangement the merchants could make among themselves to help this problem but I also know without mentioning any names some who won't cooperate on anything when it comes to money out of their own pocket.

Here's hoping this will encourage more letters on this subject.

Signed: Mrs. Shirley D'Entremont.

CYO Ice Sports

On February 6, Digby CYO played against Weymouth in a rousing hockey game at the Forum. Digby's passing and shooting was above reproach as also was Weymouth's. Both teams fought earnestly and each had their opportunities. Digby, although playing well, had all it could handle in keeping pace with the high-flying Weymouth team with the end result that Weymouth won the game on goals by Bernie LeFort, Andy Burke (2), Digne LeFort and Ronnie LeFort. Digby's markers were Jerry VanTassel, Donny Doucette and John Amoro (2). The score would have been much higher if not for the magnificent goal-tending by Digby by Paul Theriault, who made some fantastic saves.

The goal by Danny Doucette was one of those rare goals on which Danny has the chance to show his first-class skill. He obtained the puck in a scramble at centre ice, charged a blistering shot from 30 feet out. Another five goals of the evening came from the stick of John Amoro. He obtained a pass from Bill Nickerson and then drove a shot, which whizzed into the net, percariously close to the goalie's head.

A girl's broomball game followed in which Plympton trounced Digby 3-1 on goals by Emma Thibault and Joan Melanson.

The goal for Digby was by Mary Jane Ameriault.

Minor Hockey Week in Canada is probably the nation's most successful amateur sport promotion, and if we are to keep in step with Canada, we must support its observance.

"Not only is it our duty to support the national observance but to support the volunteer workers who make it possible for our local youngsters to participate in Canada's National Sport. The local organization is made up of a fine group of good citizens, and I call upon all our people to join in paying tribute to their efforts by visiting the Forum during the minor hockey programs this week.

"We all know that practically every community in Canada, from Newfoundland to Victoria, has a minor hockey organization of some kind, and will be actively participating in Minor Hockey Week. The minor hockey organization

Mr. Adelaar urged the Digby Board to keep fighting for improved transportation but to bear in mind that the transportation problem has become a nation wide problem. He suggested resolutions on a general terms and of a general importance but which would be in line with the local situation also.

A present were Colin Brown, Weymouth president of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Board of Trade and Lloyd H. F. executive manager of AVATE, who spoke briefly. Thomas LeBlanc, president of the Digby Board of Trade, brought greetings from the Digby organization and cautioned against letting any Board of Trade projects become political in nature. Boards, he said, can achieve their aims without politics entering into the project.

R. Baden Powell, MLA for the Electoral District of Digby, addressed the meeting stating that he came principally to listen and learn about the problems and then to take them home, analyze them and find where he can be effective in helping to execute a solution. He spoke of the work done to date on such matters as the Bear River crossing and Petite Passage crossing. Mr. Powell suggested that the Board bear in mind that they must be consistent in the things for which they ask the government and also consider whether they are financially feasible.

Mr. Powell thanked H. M. Warne for introducing the

New Dragger Launched

A new scallop dragger "Lady Monica" was launched Friday from A. F. Theriault and Son Shipyard, at Meteghan River. Built for Cometa Seafoods Ltd., of Saint-Jovite, the vessel was named after the grandmother of the company president and general manager, Bernard A. (Ben) Cometa.

The 102-foot craft is fitted with 750-hp. motors and will be in charge of Capt. Fidelis d'Eon, well known Middle West Pub'co. skipper. Mrs. d'Eon officiated at the christening, smashing the traditional bottle of champagne as the sleek craft slid down the ways.

provincial government to the people who are managing the farming project at Seabrook. It was stated that the farmers in the Annapolis Valley are working with great interest the project which is being plotted at Seabrook.

RELEASES REPORT

Despite the decline in population, ferry usage had been increasing each year; from 9,500 in 1950 to 29,000 in 1964. The maximum annual capacity of the existing Petite Passage ferry is about 50,000 vehicles and, based on the present rate of increase, would be reached shortly after 1970. A larger or second ferry would then have to be provided.

Commenting on the contents of the report, Mr. Pyke said that the results of a preliminary survey carried out by the Department of Highways approximately three years ago, were borne out by the report of the consultants.

Taking all factors into consideration, such as income from a ferry and a bridge, the cost of financing a permanent crossing would be approximately ten times that of the ferry operation each year, even if the province itself operated the ferry.

He estimated that to recover the capital cost and necessary financing, the vehicle toll would have to be of the order of $18.50 per trip, which is obviously prohibitive.

Mr. Pyke also commented that he had been made aware, by R. B. Powell, M.L.A. for Digby County, of the suggestion put forward by the local people, that they felt improved harbor facilities were very urgently needed in the area and expressed the thought that possibly some form of permanent highway crossing could be incorporated in the structures necessary for the creation of a harbor for the very large fleet of fishing craft in that area.

With regard to this proposal, Mr. Pyke said he felt certain that the province would be quite willing to consider the possibility of incorporating a highway crossing in any permanent structure which might be designed with a view of creating a useful harbor. The creation of harbors is not, as pointed out by Mr. Pyke, a responsibility of the province.

John Nichols, in support of the organization, told council that nearly all of their $800.00 budget is spent within the town, and that two-thirds of their 1700 calls last year were made in Digby. The service has been expanded, Mr. Nichols said, and we feel that Digby is fortunate to have this necessary service. Miss Brown, the local nurse, who was also at the meeting, is the only V.O.N. between Yarmouth and Kentville. She makes regular calls between Weymouth and Annapolis Royal, including Digby Neck.

Bell Heads Regional Apple Blossom Committee

Digby Dist. Boy Scout To Attend Jamboree

At a recent regular monthly meeting, the Executive Committee of the Digby District of the Boy Scouts gave approval in principle to financing the cost of sending one Scout from the Digby District to the British Columbia Jamboree this summer. Each Scout Troop in the District will be permitted to nominate one boy, and a special committee of the District Council will select the boy who will go from this area. A special troop of approximately thirty boys, selected in the same manner from all districts within the Province, will represent Nova Scotia at this Jamboree. This Troop will be formed and travel together for approximately 3 weeks this summer.

During the executive meeting, presided over by the District President, Victor Cardoza, Digby, the District Commissioner, C. H. Humble, outlined the plans for nine various short courses for Adult Leaders of Scouts and Cubs, which will be held in the District during the next five months. Mr. Humble reported that many new Leaders had been appointed this year to Groups within the District, and that enthusiastic participation by the Scouters in the Adult Training programme and regular Troop and Pack activities was greatly increased over that of the past few years.

The District Finance Committee was directed to prepare a proposed budget and submit it for approval, at the February meeting of the Council Executive Committee. The meeting also heard J. M. Reid, of the Organization and Expansion Committee, report that several meetings had been held with Sponsoring Bodies and Group Committees within the District during the past six weeks, in an attempt to keep these Groups advised on the Policy Organization and Rules of the Boy Scouts of Canada, and to remind them of the assistance that is available to them from the District Staff and Executive Committee.

Mr. Reid also reported that a new Scout Group is being formed in Weymouth under the sponsorship of the Weymouth Kiwanis Club.

If present plans materialize, this Group will be enrolling boys to form a Scout Troop before the end of January, and it is hoped to expand the group during the year by adding a Cub Pack.

Was 93

The oldest resident of Clementsport, Mrs. Robert (Emeline) Ditmars, celebrated her 93rd birthday on Thursday when friends called to wish her well and shower her with cakes, flowers, other gifts and cards.

Although, because of a broken hip about ten years ago, Mrs. Ditmars relies somewhat on a wheelchair, she can manage her household duties remarkably well and gets about from room to room in her large home, which dates back to 1779.

Mrs. Ditmars was born at Mount Denson, Hants County, daughter of Captain Freeman Coffill and Louisa Wickwire Coffill. Her father was lost at sea when Mrs. Ditmars was only three months old. Her older sister and brother are deceased and other than nieces and nephews her nearest living relative is a cousin, also 93 years, widow of Dr. Colin MacArthur, Truro.

Mrs. Ditmars had lived in Wolfville, N. S., and Lynn, Mass., where she was a store clerk before coming to Clementsport with her husband in 1924.

Possessing a keen mind and an alert memory, Mrs. Ditmars talks on many phases of life both past and present.

Mrs. Ditmars has used practically all modes of modern travel and enjoys the airplane. Another year, she said, Bernard Bell, deputy mayor of Digby was on Monday night elected chairman of the Apple Blossom Festival committee for the region which includes Annapolis Royal, Cornwallis, Bear River, Digby, Long and Elder Islands, Weymouth and Clare. Mrs. Helen Bowe was elected secretary for the committee. The meeting was presided over by Mr. Bell.

Present at the organizational meeting held in the Digby Lions Club Hall were A. G. Buchanan, Kentville, president of the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival Committee; Lloyd Hill, Middleton-executive manager of the A.V.A.B.T.; Bernard Bell, representing Digby Town; David Boudreau, Digby Board of Trade; Lieutenant J. W. Williamson, Cornwallis; Charles Hall and H. M. Warne, Digby Kiwanis Club; Raymond Thibault, Digby Fire Department; Mrs. A. D. Pynn and Mrs. T. G. Adams the Annapolis Royal branch I.O.G.E.; Mr. Pynn and Mr. Adams, Annapolis Royal town; Vincent Snow, Mrs. J. M. Wallis and V. G. Cardoza, publicity.

Both Mr. Buchanan and Mr. Hill brought the delegates up to date on the Festival plans to date. It was emphasized that the Festival for 1966 under combined efforts of the Apple Blossom Festival Committee and the A.V.A.B.T. had taken on a New Look and this New Look would be centred around youth activity. The Festival which has been a feature in the Valley for the past 33 years is expected to be used to open the tourist season here in relation to the New England States.

The next meeting of the regional meeting will be called by chairman Bell to meet on Monday, February 21. Mr. Bell will again call for two representatives from each of the above regional areas.

Several suggestions were made for the regional part of the Festival to be held in Digby on May 23 but no final arrangements or decisions will be made before the meeting on February 21. Among the suggestions were dory racing, scallop shucking, singing, dancing, bands, parade, princesses for each community, visit of war ship, water sports, air drop, tug of war, flag ceremonial.

Mr. Buchanan and Mr. Hill outlined the overall program to take place in Digby on May 23 and which will continue in other Valley towns to May 31 and ending by three days of celebrations at Kentville. It is expected that the Savage Shoe Co., baseball team will be challenged for games with Valley teams during the festival; a noted high school band of 105 pieces from Portland, Maine is expected; teenage Go-Go dances will be held; a Mardi Gras in Windsor; golf; horse racing; musical programs with noted music artists; home production concert of approximately 100 voices chosen from music festivals from Clare to Windsor; semi sacred concert; church service in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, Kentville, are among some of the plans already made for the week long occasion.

she might fly to Florida to see a nephew.

She attributes her long life to the fact that she had few cares. When she didn't feel well she didn't have to work. Mrs. Ditmars had no children. Living in her house are Mr. (postmaster) and Mrs. Walter Robar.

New Rector For Digby

The Rev. George Morris, who is presently serving as an assistant in the Parish of St. John, the Baptist, Kidderminster, Worcestershire, England has been appointed by the Rt. Rev. W. W. Davis, Bishop of Nova Scotia, as Rector of Trinity Parish, Digby, effective May 1st, 1966.

Mr. Morris will succeed the Rev. James Pike, who became Rector of Cornwallis Parish, near Wolfville, February 1st. As Senior of three curates in his present parish, he was chosen to take charge of the Parish during recent months until the arrival of the new Vicar. He has a keen interest in sociological studies particularly related to coloured people in a predominantly white society and has had considerable experience in this field in Britain. He has been highly recommended to Bishop Davis both by the Lord Bishop of Worcester and also by Dr. Cuthbert Simpson, Dean of Oxford, who acts as Commissary to Bishop Davis in Britain.

On Thursday evening Mrs. Jayne and Mrs. Outhouse entertained nine tables of ladies' bridge when a buffet supper was served.

Red and white chrysanthemums and bright red tulips adorned the hall, extending the Valentine theme into the floral decorations as well as in the table setting and score cards.

Prizes were won on Wednesday night by Mrs. Wilnot Christie, Mrs. Gordon Turnbull, Mrs. D. G. Black Mrs. J. R. McCleave, Russell Harris, C. M. Levy, Clinton MacInnes and Fritz Dakin.

$ Days Again

Once again Dollar Days come to Digby. Most merchants in town will offer special bargains during the three-day period February 24, 25, 26. This is the third consecutive year that Digby merchants have joined forces in a co-operative effort to bring extra shoppers to town.

Communion Supper For Knights

The Knights of Columbus, Digby Council No. 5648, received Holy Communion in a body at the 5 p.m. Mass in St. Patrick's Church on Sunday, February 13th. Rev. Father D. Mills being celebrant. Rev. Fr. Robert Burton, chaplain at Cornwallis Base, preached an appropriate sermon.

Following the Mass a supper was held in the parish hall for the Knights and invited guests. The guest of honour, Father Robert Burton, also addressed the gathering. The theme of his talk was on Christian unity, fraternity and cooperation between groups, service clubs, societies and individuals regardless of church affiliation and religious belief. Brothers Aiden Mullen and Stewart MacNaughton, assisted by John Melanson, Roland Theriault and Junior Mullen, prepared and served the supper.

$100 For V.O.N.

The funds of the Digby branch of the V.O.N. were augmented by over $100 Tuesday afternoon when a successful auction - coffee party was held at the home of Mrs. Herbert B. Warren, 157 Queen Street. Guests included members of the board, past and present, as well as others interested in the work of the V.O.N.

Much of the credit for the success of the event is due Victor Cardoza who acted most ably as auctioneer, adding both zest and humor to the proceedings.

The committee choosing this means of raising funds as their project for the year was comprised of Mrs. Percy Robert, convener, Mrs. Quentin Wenaus and Mrs. Herbert B. Warren. Assisting the committee were Mrs. H. R. Bishop, Mrs. Fritz Dakin, Mrs. D. E. Lewis, Mrs. Sidney Smith and Mrs. V. A. Thompson.

Mail Carrier Retires After 42 Years

A small man in Digby willing to complete, with a smile, an errand for any person in the community.

A party was held in his honour at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mullen, Easton, when his friends met to show their appreciation for the faithful service he had provided them. His daily bicycle trips, always on schedule, will be missed for a long time by many Easton residents.

Lloyd Mullen, a mail carrier in the community since 1923, in that time he has made over 13,000 trips, totaling approximately 83,000 miles. He first carried the mail between the Easton and Havelock post office, a journey of 3½ miles. Then in 1958 with the beginning of the rural route in Havelock, he began travelling from the Easton post office to the Hilltown corner, a journey of 1½ miles, to meet the Weymouth rural route two mail delivery. His retirement became necessary when the Easton post office was closed and the village included in Weymouth rural route two.

The most unique thing about Lloyd's services as a mail carrier is that in all 42 years, he didn't use a horse or a car to make his daily trip. Yet, the mail driver could always depend upon Lloyd being on time. The first two years after gaining the mail contract he delivered the mail on foot. Then he bought a bicycle which, weather permitting, he has used ever since. In bad weather, however, he often used a sled and snowshoes. Often during the winter months, he made the trip after dark, and frequently through the woods. Whether walking or riding, he usually carried the mail in a sack strapped to his back.

Lloyd Mullen lives in Easton, close to the spot where his grandfather, Enoch Mullen, built the community's first log house many years ago. He is sixty years old and has remained single.

Lloyd is a small man and has never weighed more than 125 pounds but was capable of carrying a heavy load, especially at Christmas, when he would be almost completely covered with parcels and bags. Then, too, he was always

To Discuss Arbor Day

The tree committee of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society will meet with the Town Planning Board to discuss the matter of re-instituting an active Arbor Day program in Digby. It was decided at the February meeting of the society, held last Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Jack Russell.

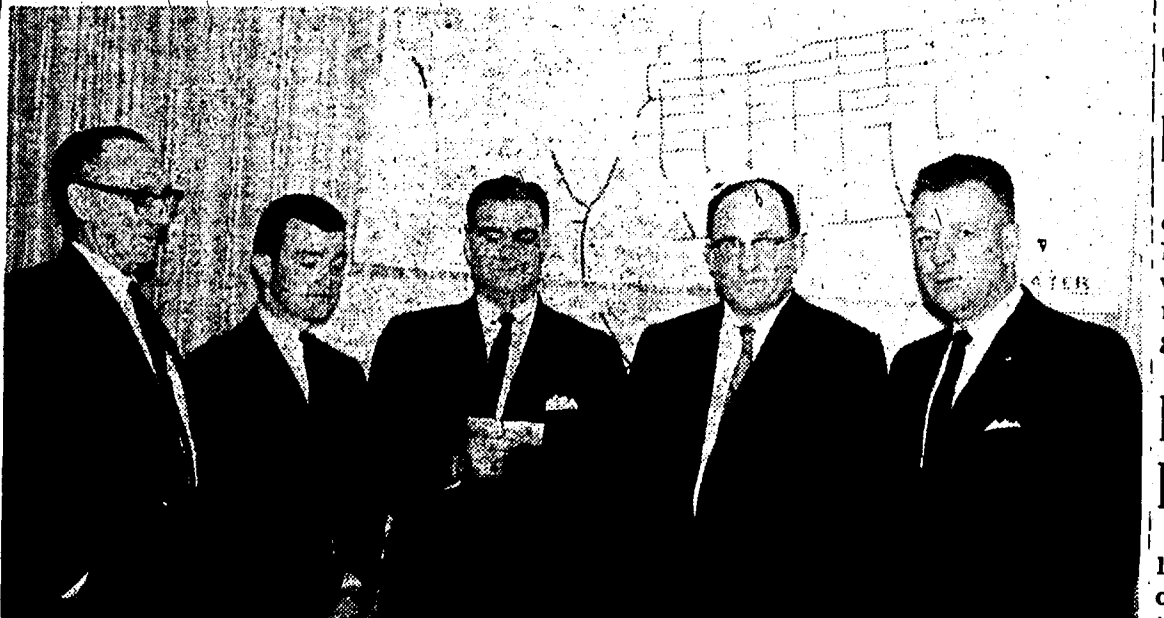

Decision to meet with the Town Planning Board was made following a request from the Digby town council asking that the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society take part in Arbor Day celebrations. The letter to the society from the town council stated the Planning Board wanted to re-institute Arbor Day in Digby with the children of the town taking part.

Horticultural Society president Kenneth Blackwith reported on a meeting held recently in Weymouth, to discuss plans for the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Association of Garden Clubs, to be held in Weymouth in July.

Decision was made at the society meeting to enroll again in the Digby Area Film Council and the treasurer was authorized to pay the annual dues of ten dollars. The treasurer reported a balance of $564.10.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Miss Marjorie Tupper.

Board Addressed On Town Planning

Digby & Saulnierville In Federal Estimates

Digby and Saulnierville were included in the public works estimates tabled in the House of Commons.

In Digby will be started a two million dollar harbor improvements including dredging and construction of marginal wharf along shore, 150 foot extension to ell of spur wharf, extending from CPR pier, reconstruction of stem of spur wharf and new 320-foot long finger wharf built from existing public wharf, $200,000.

No provision was made for the wharf commonly known in Digby as the C.P.R. wharf and which more than a year ago was expected to be listed among those being replaced by new wharves or to undergo extensive renovations.

Saulnierville will have four completed harbor improvements, $260,000.

Want Heavy Water Plant In Western N.S.

The Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade issued a statement Friday making a strong bid to have the Canadian General Electric heavy water plant located in "Industry starved Western Nova Scotia".

The statement, issued by executive manager Lloyd K. Hill, said the AVAAT favors a site for such a plant near an ice-free port, ensuring year-round, cheap, water borne transportation.

The people of Western Nova Scotia feel that since the establishment of Industrial Estates Limited in 1957, to promote and expand industry in all of Nova Scotia, little consideration has been given to the western end of the province, he said.

Mr. Hill said that before a final decision as to the location of a heavy water plant is made the advantages of being located in Western Nova Scotia will be fully considered.

$45.39 For C.G.I.T.

At a Valentine Tea and Variety Sale, held at the Grace United Church parsonage, on Monday afternoon, $45.39 was realized for C.G.I.T. purposes. Mrs. Bryson Denton, leader, was assisted by Mrs. Clayton Snow, Mrs. D. Black and Mrs. R. H. Hughes.

Diecie Morrell entertained at the piano during the tea hour. Guests were greeted by Marcia Trask and Jeanette Cornwell. Tickets were sold by Coleen Cameron, and Mary Hawkins had charge of the variety table. Those who served were Cheryl VanTassel, Beth McInnis, Mary Lou Rice, Linda Weir, Rebecca Trask, and Susan Titford. Others who helped were Heather Hallday and Lynn Cornwell.

Fancy work, not sold during the sale has been donated to the Ladies Hospital Auxiliary.

1965 Fish Catch Increased By $934,756

Fishing has become the main industry in the Municipality of Clare in Digby County, with the value of the catch placed at $2,432,182.00, an increase of $934,756.00 over 1964.

Adelard Comeau, fisheries inspector serving the District of Clare, said when he first was appointed in 1949, the total catch in this area was valued at $25,000. This represents better than 7-fold increase in 17 years.

In 1965 the lobster catch for the month of December alone showed a value of $324,090. In 1949 the starting price for lobster was about 25 cents per pound, rising perhaps to 35 cents. Last December the lobster fishermen received around 90 cents per pound.

The largest catch was the herring, which amounted to 131,128 cwt., followed by the halibut with 35,434 cwt., pollock 15,467 cwt.; lobsters 6,947 cwt.; catfish 1,599; W. flounder 6,945 cwt.; C. groundfish 2,283 cwt.; cod 18,075 cwt.; Irish moss 835 cwt.; herring scales 286 cwt.; other fish 29,835 cwt.

Not included in the above were 30 whales, landed at Saulnierville on an experimental basis, for a value of $40,554.

Former Digby Boy In Drama

The Acadia Drama Workshop announces its first full-length all-student production of the famous Broadway perennial comedy hit, "You Can't Take It With You," February 16-19. Among those taking part is Eric Mullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Mullen, Wolfville, formerly of Digby and New Tusket.

Most of the students participating are members of Prof. Jack Sheriff's evening drama class, English 240. While the course is primarily an introductory course into the production problems of plays, the unusually large and talented group this year has given rise to the production of two full-length productions by the students themselves. The first "You Can't Take It With You" the comedy by Kaufman and Hart, who also created the equally noted "The Man Who Came To Dinner". Scheduled for production in March is Shakespeare's "Othello".

About This And That

False Image Condemned

If we have written this story before, we'll run the risk of writing it again. The wife of a church minister coming from Ontario to a parish in a fishing village in Nova Scotia some years ago looked a bit threadworn, a bit old fashioned and definitely not as up-and-coming as the wives of the fishermen of the parish. Needless to say, the people were somewhat taken back by this appearance and in some cases a sympathetic heart went out to the "poor" minister's wife. But it wasn't a one-sided shock. It was later discovered that the minister's wife, who was being most charitable and Christian in her witness, was also shocked at the affluent state of the fishing village. She had left her better clothes in Ontario for she didn't want to be overdressed among the "poor" fisher folk! We must admire the minister's wife for her Christian thoughtfulness, but we must condemn false impressions of fisher folk.

We do not think that the minister's wife looked on the fishermen as unsociable, dirty, smelly and wine-and-women individuals any more than people in other occupations. Her charity was beyond that, but as Ben Comeau, president of Comeau Sea Foods Ltd., Saultnierville, intimated, people often do get such impressions. We were glad to see that Mr. Comeau endeavoured to counteract any such impressions when at a conference in Quebec last week. We were glad he gave the correct picture of the regular fisherman as an honest, hard working but generally prosperous (considering the natural elements in favor) individual with a fair education and socially acceptable. Take what is generally referred to as the French Shore in Digby County and you find the best kind of fishermen earning a comfortable living and enjoying proud and distinctive families. That goes for other areas in Digby County, too. That goes for many fishing areas in Nova Scotia. Possibly a few unemployment insurance fund grabbers, here and there, might tarnish the picture somewhat.

Boy Scout Week - Feb. 20-26

A wholesome and healthy movement that has grown to international proportions is that of the Boy Scouts. This organization for boys is planned to inculcate in them the concepts of honour, courage, good fellowship and democracy, with respect for everyone's race, creed or colour.

The Boy Scouts organization was first organized in England in 1908, by Sir Robert Stephenson Smyth Baden-Powell and from a small beginning has spread to almost every country in the world.

The members are trained to take care of themselves in the outdoors, to practice resourcefulness and self-reliance. The Boy Scout is taught handicrafts and naturecraft. He must also help others by doing at least one good deed each day. Their motto is "Be Prepared".

Boy Scout Week is held in February, the date including February 22, the birthday of the founder (1857-1941). This year, the "Week" will be from February 20 to 26.

Brotherhood Week

In 1934, a Catholic priest in Denver, Colorado, remarked to his Bishop what a great thing it would be if — just for one day — everyone would live up to the ideal of the Brotherhood of Man.

His suggestion was passed on to the National Conference of Christians and Jews where it was quickly adopted. That same year the Conference organized an observance of "Brotherhood Day" in about 300 communities in the United States. The project was an instantaneous success and more and more communities participated in the observance until 1946 when "Brotherhood Day" gave way to "Brotherhood Week" because a single day proved too short for the wide variety of programmes scheduled.

In Canada, Brotherhood Week was first celebrated in the city of Guelph in 1948. Guelph was the only community in Canada to observe Brotherhood Week that year but year by year the observance has grown until today almost every community participates.

The purpose of Brotherhood Week, February 20 to February 27, is to give people an opportunity to rededicate themselves as individuals to the basic ideals of respect for human life and human rights which are the cornerstones of our democratic way of life; to dramatize the practical things which every individual can do to promote an understanding and realization of these ideals; to enlist the active support of a large number of people in every community in year-round activities to build a true spirit of Brotherhood; to provide an opportunity for Canadians of every race, colour, creed and ethnic origin to meet one another in a friendly atmosphere and to learn more about one another's culture.

Taking A Long, Close Look

Reports are sifting into this office from two or three of the county exhibition centres and they indicate that exhibition authorities are taking a long, close look at the kind of buildings which they are going to construct for exhibition purposes in the future.

This is certainly good, sound, sensible thinking, since, in the past, too many buildings have been constructed to be used for exhibition purposes, only, and then left vacant for month on end until the next week rolls around a year later. Now the trend seems to be that before a building is constructed, the use of the building is going to be considered from all angles.

It takes a long time to effect a change, sometimes, but when the change comes, as in this case, it will be a very worthwhile one, and will be one which will certainly have the full support and blessing of all concerned. (Farm News)

Digby Needs

Our Digby Needs this week was submitted through letter by Douglas Foley, Victoria Beach. He says Digby Needs the continued operational service of Digby, Port Wade, Victoria Beach Ferry Service. Digby needs to relate expression of appreciation, by municipal grant, that this service may be continued. Due to the fact a new ferry is needed there is no need to explain request. To be, or not to be, what do you say Mr. & Mrs. Digby?

One rather irate person called us to tell us that Digby Needs some repair work done to its streets. Why under the sun are all those holes in the streets, jolting your car as you go over them? she remarked.

Another person living on the Shore Road, we are sure, would say, "You haven't seen anything. Come out our way if you want pot holes." A lady living down there didn't ask us to put it in Digby Needs, but she did say something like "Come, Spring, soon. Finish up our road work. It's desperate! And such a short distance from town!"

By word of mouth we were advised to suggest in this column — Digby Needs a senior citizens home. Sure, the little kiddies need a new school as was suggested in last week's Digby Needs, but don't forget the older people need some attention, too, was the remark.

Giving Endorsations

Message from your Better Business Bureau in Halifax

From time to time the Better Business Bureau learns of Church or Service Groups lending their names to sales organizations who have promised to increase the organization's funds in return for the use of their names. The money thus earned may be a small amount in comparison to the total sum which is taken out of the community. These group endorsements are usually most active in small communities where everyone is known. Such an endorsement may be sought for the sale of magazines, with the promise that a wheel chair will be donated to the local hospital in the name of the local group. Or it may be in the sale of advertising. A local ladies group is invited to sponsor the publishing of a cook book, in return for the receipt of 10 free copies for their own membership or to sell to friends and neighbors. This usually sounds like a real opportunity to raise funds. However, the Club may find they are obligated to supply a club member to accompany a publisher's representative to the local business firms, where pressure will be applied to sell advertising. This could be a mild form of intimidation. Although the Club representative may not be required to say a word the businessman is made to feel that if he does not subscribe to the advertising idea he is a pretty low specimen.

Sometimes rural civic officials have been persuaded to give letters of endorsement to "fast buck" promoters. The official concerned listens to the presentation and feels that the general idea is good. But he may know nothing of the integrity of the firm or the individual involved.

One such scheme involved an offer to municipal and town secretaries of "free" waste receptacles, to be placed on street corners about town. The town secretary or Mayor is then persuaded to give a letter of endorsement to the promoter, who, with this, visits every local business and professional man and pressures them into buying advertising to be placed on these receptacles, demanding a cash deposit in advance. One promoter of this type has been the subject of complaints on various types of promotions in the Bureau files for a number of years. The R.C.M.P. have this particular matter well in hand now, but had these rural officials taken the time to investigate the integrity of the man before giving him their endorsement their local businessmen would have been saved many dollars.

There are many types of unethical promotions. It may be a professional promoter who is attempting to sell tickets to some show or special function and in seeking a "gimmick" to make more sales. He may approach an orphanage or Veteran's hospital with an offer to take some of their people to a "free" outing. Once this offer has been accepted he then puts his boiler room crew to work, persuading business and professional firms to buy tickets to be donated to this "worthy" cause. However, what the purchasers of these tickets may not realize is that this type of promoter never accounts to any official as to the number of tickets sold in proportion to the number of people who actually receive free tickets. In other words, he may sell 1,000 tickets on this basis, and actually give away fifty.

Take time to consider all the possible implications before you give someone else the right to use the good name of your group or your own position in the community.

Always remember — it pays to INVESTIGATE BEFORE YOU INVEST.

"Look, Lady," said the black object that lives in a case in the hall, "you've been neglecting me shamefully for the past few months."

"I know," I said, swishing a dust cloth over its surface, "but I've had so much to do lately."

"So much to do!" echoed my typewriter with that insulating snort with which anybody who owns a dusty, neglected typewriter must be familiar. "Don't give me that stuff! For a while there last year you and I were doing all right — for you."

The contempt in the explosive "for you" indicated that my pounding the keys was only incidental. The typewriter figured it was pretty well on his initiative that he and I had managed to actually get paid for four articles last year.

"Well," I apologized, "there was that convention we went to, and then the church supper. After that there was Christmas, and then that banquet, and then we moved into this great big house, and I have spent every minute since then trying to find the things we misplaced in the move."

"I'm here," the typewriter told me, with infinite logic. "You have had no trouble finding me."

"Okay," I know when I am defeated. The house was in reasonable shape as my house ever gets anyway. I could afford to take the day off, I rationalized. Anyway, the thought of a new spring wardrobe purchased with the proceeds of a day's writing loomed temptingly large. I picked up the typewriter in one hand, and the dust cloth in the other, and marched to the kitchen, where I do most of my writing.

The sparrows began to congregate on the tree outside the kitchen window. I left my train of thought to get my can of bread crumbs, cookie crumbs, and other scraps which I salvage from the children's feasts for the birds. I threw out the scraps. The birds flew away. I rounded up the two cats, who sit under the birds' tree, with their cat mouths watering, eagerly awaiting their free meal. In about five attempts to get the door closed, I got them in the house.

I returned to the kitchen. The birds began to cluster around the tree again. I got out the camera and waited by the kitchen window and waited until they had assembled themselves into a suitably picturesque group to be photographed. "Twenty good minutes wasted," I said to the typewriter as I sat down again.

That hyperactive dynamo which I call a daughter climbed up on the automatic washing machine which came as part of the house. As she slid down the front, she jostled the knob, and the machine started through its cycle. My knowledge of mechanics being severely limited, the only way I knew to turn off the beast was to do a washing. Daughter and I went upstairs to gather up a load of white clothes. Another fifteen minutes had been wasted.

I returned to the table. The typewriter and the paper stared blankly. I had no idea for anything to write. Small daughter leapt into my lap to give me a kiss, and to inquire "What number is that?" of each letter on the machine. "I wanna go out," demanded child. The day was bright and sunny. The thought of up to twenty child-free seconds in which to write was wonderful. There began that search for mittens, boots, hats, and the other scattered paraphernalia of three year olds in February. The search was complicated by the need to chase said exuberant three year old several times to get another piece of clothing on her. Half an hour later, she went out the door.

"See," I said to the typewriter. "I really haven't the time to write. There are too many interruptions."

"Make time," the black machine replied curtly.

I sat in the sunny kitchen. Not an idea crept into my head. The sparrows looked in from their perch on the tree outside, but I had given them all my scraps earlier. Through the window, I could see the trees and telephone wires still wearing the dazzling coat of snow they received in the last snow storm, ten days ago now. They sparkled invitingly in the sun. The clothes in the washer entered the spin dry part of the cycle.

I plugged in the kettle. A cup of coffee might help me get some inspiration. The washing machine stopped. I loaded the clothes in the dryer.

Well, old typewriter, I still have too much to do. I guess this is not the day you and I earn that summer wardrobe.

Report From Parliament Hill

Pat Nowlan, M.P.

February 4th, 1966.
Money replaced votes as the topic of conversation this week.

The initial spice was provided by the Auditor General's annual Report to Parliament. The Auditor General is the watchdog of Parliament on the spending of Government money. He is completely independent and respects no party line. His Report was for the fiscal year ending March 31st, 1965, and while he has an office staff of only 200 persons his sleuthing on out-dated procedures, uneconomical operations and wasteful practices makes James Bond seem like an amateur.

For anyone interested in Government, and any tax payer should be, I recommend the Auditor General's Report. It is not the tome you might expect, rather the language is clear and precise and the report is most readable. However I do suggest you read it long before making out your Income Tax Return. A 75 cent money order directed to the Queen's Printer, Ottawa, will provide you with a copy.

At the year end Canada's net debt is over 15 1/2 billion dollars. The two largest items of expenditure continue to be interest on that debt totalling 1,051 million dollars and civil salaries and wages amounting to 952 million dollars which together represent almost 28% of the total budgeting expenditures for the year.

The Auditor General can move wherever he wishes in the public service checking, questioning and reporting. The recital of the errors and omissions in the conduct of the 7 billion dollar government business in 1964-65 is up to standard.

While the Government continues to grow larger each year (only 6 out of the 35 major departments reported a reduction in the number of employees, one small department remained unchanged, and the remaining 28 reported staff increases of over 6%), the human quality of its administration is seen in questionable decisions, ranging from a bomb-toss computer selected in 1959 which, after preliminary work, amendment of the contract and for change in defence policy, resulted in the expenditure of almost 6 million dollars for a weapon which in 1964 was out-

East Walcott

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Crosby of Annapolis Royal and son Donald Crosby of Toronto, called on Mr. and Mrs. Guy Haight on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Geyer, Sr., are receiving congratulations on the birth of a grand-daughter, Sandra Elizabeth, born to Mr. and Mrs. James Scriven, Halifax.

Mrs. Paul Geyer spent a week recently with her daughter, Mrs. James Scriven, Mr. Scriven and family, Halifax.

Mr. and Mrs. Manning Banks of Kingston, N.S. were guests on Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Durling and attended the funeral of their uncle, the late Mr. Everett Pyne, Clementsvalle.

Mrs. Thane Long and Mrs. Ronald Dukeshire were co-hostesses at a card party held at the former's home on Saturday evening, Feb. 5th. Proceeds of $6.45 was for the Walcott East Hospital.

of date, to an annual insurance premium of $2,800.00 on 12 of the senior officers of EXPO with the beneficiaries in all cases being the estates of the insured officers.

Whatever may be found to criticize in the work of the public service as a whole it is important to note that section of the Auditor General's report which says that losses suffered by the Crown due to frauds or omissions of a public officer amounted to only $7,270 in departments other than the Post Office, with recoveries totalling $2,826. Losses suffered by the Post Office totalled $67,969, of which $35,743 was recovered. A total loss in a year of $36,660 for these reasons in a $7,000,000,000 business is regrettable but not, I would guess, frightening. It suggests there are remarkably few dishonest civil servants.

The Auditor General points out that the morality of the general public is not so reassuring. There is falsification of reports, and even municipalities doing winter works designed for the unemployed in many cases used permanent staff.

The comparison between the morality of the public service, to the doubtful behaviour of other Canadians puts the public service in a good light.

This week Parliament went into Supply, again for the government year ending March 31st 1965. Supply is the method whereby monies are supplied to the various departments for their work. Parliament is supposed to review the departmental estimates before Supply is granted. But because of the Election and other factors the money has already been spent and Parliament's present review of last year is akin to checking the barn door after the cattle have escaped. Ordinarily there are 4 Supply Motions during the year, but to expedite business all parties agreed to telescope these 4 into one Supply Motion to clean up last year's business. Then, after Mr. Sharp's Budget in March or April, Supply for the business year 1965-66 will be reviewed, hopefully before the expenditures are actually incurred.

Where Parliament is, in effect, now called upon to ratify the monies spent for last year, without ever having reviewed them, the importance of the office of the Auditor General is clearly seen.

Letter to the Editor

Digby, N. S.

To The Editor:
In the battle for the destruction of elements of our society, the main effort has been directed to the minds of men, even slavery can be seen attractive if it is presented as something else - democracy, say, because thinking has become abhorrent and few there are who dare to indulge in it.
Yours truly,

Plants Killed By Too Much Water

Too much water is probably the most common cause of death among house plants and many gardeners, in their enthusiasm and determination to look after their plants, water lavishly and finally kill their plants with kindness, this probably explains why some plant lovers are said to possess a green thumb whereas, on the other hand, there are also people who just cannot seem to keep plants growing.

Plants need water, of course and some need more than others but excess watering must be avoided. A plant, therefore, must not be watered unless it needs it. To determine whether a plant needs water or not, the soil in the pot should be carefully examined and, unless it has almost dried out, the plant should not be watered. On the other hand, the pot must not be allowed to dry out completely because some plants, under such conditions, do not recover.

A good rule-of-thumb to follow is that a pot that requires water will ring when it is tapped. If it is tapped and emits only a dull sound, water is not needed. Then, again, when a plant needs water, the pot will be comparatively light in weight. In addition, it should be noted that the soil will be lighter in colour than when no water is required.

Don't Take Failure Too Hard
What is a person supposed to do when things go backwards? Anyone who thinks that there will never be any reverses, is in for a shock.

Our national economy is going forward, yet on a day to day basis there are minor retreats. The country that wins a war will be able to look back and see that there were lost battles even on the way to victory. A person who makes some bad decisions may yet reach the top in his field. No one is infallible. Many times I have watched great baseball batters swing at the last strike in vain and strike out.

Often failure can teach us what success cannot. When others do not accept all our advice and ideas, who knows, they may be right? Anyway, this is a humbling thing, and what is wrong with being humble? Constant success shows us only one side of life. What is more, there would be no success without failure, because both are real only when compared to each other. The person who has been sheltered and pushed ahead, may think he is failing, until he sees someone else, or reaches the place himself where the bottom really drops out.

When failure comes, it is a lesson to get up and go on. The young toddler learning to walk, may fall often, but he doesn't stay down. Up he gets, fortunately. Ice skaters in their learning days may have the same thing happen.

When knocked down by temptation, when hit hard by emotional and spiritual storms, success is in keeping on the right course. The Christian learns this. Ideas to doubt, morals are part of the storm. It is keeping on for the right which brings highest success.

A perfect Sunday night supper or quick lunch dish is Puffy Omelet with Velvety Cheese Sauce. The fluffy light omelet is made extra nutritious with the addition of velvety evaporated milk. The same evaporated milk makes the cheese sauce creamy smooth and lump free. To complete the meal, serve steaming cups of hot coffee creamed with evaporated milk. The convenient form of milk brings out the flavor of coffee... just like cream but it costs much less. And there is no spoilage since unopened cans of evaporated milk stay fresh on your pantry shelf indefinitely.

Firemen Save Shop

Prompt action Friday afternoon by Weymouth Volunteer Firemen contained a fire in the Clarence Gaudet welding shop to the inside of the building. The fire, believed to have started from a wood stove, apparently burned undetected during the noon hour when the shop was closed. Intense heat prevented the firemen from entering the building. Firemen had the pumps from the two tank trucks in operation in addition to a third pump in a nearby well. The building, housing the welding shop, is owned by H. J. Lewis and is located at the rear of Consumers Market and a home presently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Gandhi. No estimate of damage was available but Mr. Gaudet's welding equipment, which was not insured, was saved.

Mulse Re-elected Fire Chief

Camille J. Mulse was re-elected Chief of the Weymouth Volunteer Fire Department for a second term at the annual meeting held in the Fire Hall. Other officers are: Deputy Chief, Jerome LeBlanc; Captain, Willis Mullen; Lieutenants, Stewart Sabean, Peter Melanson; President, Ralph Cosman; Secretary-Treasurer, R. S. Hallett.

During the year the Department answered thirteen calls consisting of five chimney fires, five grass fires, a fire in the saw dust near a manufacturing plant and two Mutual Aid calls. Sometime ago it became necessary to restrict fire calls to the village limits but during the past year arrangements were made to include within the protected area, a part of Weymouth North when the residents arranged to pay the village $100.00 per year for this service. An arrangement was also made with the Lewis Lumber Co. Ltd., which is situated outside the village on the Weymouth Falls road.

The ratepayers purchased a new 1965 GMC truck for the department which has been equipped with a 100 gallon tank, a gift from Imperial Oil Ltd., and a booster pump. The firemen have spent many hours in preparing this truck for service and have invested money they have earned in providing additional equipment for the truck. The department has a second truck equipped with a 750 gallon tank and this equipment has already proven very valuable in an area where the water available is usually a well. There is also a trailer pump. Both trucks are equipped with electric sirens and P.A. systems.

In September three of the men, Jerome LeBlanc, Willis Mullen and Stewart Sabean attended the Maritime Firemen's Workshop in Saint John, N. B. A Fire Emergency phone has been installed in the village with a 24 hour answering service. The men have been meeting weekly for work sessions and business meetings followed by recreational periods but in addition to this time, the volunteers have spent many hours in preparing the equipment and improving the interior of the Fire Hall.

Agriculture Minister

John Joseph Gordon, M.P. for Bonaventure, was named Minister of Agriculture for Canada on December 15. He was born at Bonaventure June 21, 1920, and completed his high school education at the University of Toronto schools.

Mr. Gordon, who is the first federal agriculture minister from eastern Canada, since 1911, was first elected to the House of Commons in the 1963 general election. Since then he has served on House committees dealing with privileges and elections, industrial relations, veterans affairs, and railways and telegraphs. He was co-chairman of the House committee on consumer credit.

He was also a delegate to the 54th Inter-Parliamentary Union Conference at Dublin in March, 1965, and to the group's plenary session held later in the year at Ottawa.

LITERALLY SPEAKING
Mrs. A. — I don't want my child taught that new method in Sunday School. I take the Bible literally word for word. How about you, Mrs. B.?
Mrs. B. — So do I. It is shocking the way the truth is being twisted.
Mrs. A. — Then why don't you get up and speak your piece like I do.
Mrs. B. — Because I take the Bible literally and literally speaking, St. Paul said in 1 Corinthians 14:34, "Let your women keep silence in the churches."
Mrs. A. — Oh, we don't have to be that literal, do we?

C.W.F. Meets
The Christian Womens Fellowship of the Westport Church of Christ met for the February meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles McDormand with president Mrs. Edgar McDormand presiding. The opening prayer was followed with the devotional "Called as Witnesses" using scripture 1 John 1:13 and Isaiah 43:10, being led by Mrs. Allison Swift. The circle of prayer was led by Mrs. Guy Thompson.

Roll Call was answered to with a verse of scripture with the word "Shepherd" in it.

A letter was read from Miss Alice Porter who is the living link missionary to India and who has been on leave to Canada and is returning there in a short time. A sum of money was decided on to be given toward the hospital in Bilaspur.

Bible study was with Mrs. Albert Welsh on "The Word with Power". One subject was that great stress is laid in the Bible on Christ's ambassadors and to the work in the days of the early Christians this was done, to the world, for in the days of Christ. Another part was the World Mission and Church Unity, and a problem to face is the many denominations that stand in competition with one another in the missionary endeavor. We all know that unity is beyond the power of man. Unity is a gift from above.

Mission study with Mrs. Harold Swift was from the book "Six Million Americans" dealing with the trials of the migrant workers.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and Mrs. E. McDormand.

Distinguished Family In Digby History

(As reported by Rev. Thomas B. McDormand, Th.D., D.D., LL.D. President, Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Philadelphia, Pa.)

As Canada grows older, its early history becomes increasingly significant. We are made aware of this truth by Canada's centennial observance in 1967. In the history of the Digby area one of the world's most distinguished families played a part — a fact which must not be allowed to perish from our memories. I refer to the Edison family, whose most illustrious member, Thomas Alva Edison, became, through his astonishing career as an inventor, the "father of the modern technological era."

It has been my privilege in the past three years to become personally acquainted with Hon. Charles Edison, of Waldorf Astoria Towers, New York, a son of Thomas A. Edison. Mr. Edison is a distinguished son of an eminent father. He is a former Governor of New Jersey, and a former Secretary of the Navy of the United States. He is a prominent industrialist with membership on the Boards of Directors of a dozen leading American corporations. He has received honorary degrees from a dozen universities. He has championed many inspired causes devoted to the task of preserving the noblest elements in the democratic way of life.

During the American Revolution, Thomas Alva Edison's great-grandfather, John Edison, remained loyal to the British crown. This steadfastness forced him to seek haven under the flag he had honored. Thus in 1783, he escaped from the new American nation and took up residence in the Digby area. His son, Samuel, then sixteen, later married a Nova Scotia girl named Nancy Simpson. A son was born to the couple in 1801, and was also named Samuel. The father was, soon after, made a captain in the British militia in Canada. In 1811, John Edison and his son, Captain Samuel, with their families, moved to the vicinity of Vienna, Ontario, to take up a 600-acre land grant offered by the government in a program to populate the areas vulnerable to possible American invasion with loyal British subjects. In 1828, Samuel Edison, son of Captain Samuel, became involved in the Papineau-McKenzie Rebellion, and with its collapse, fled across the border to make a new home in the vicinity of Milan, Ohio.

Thus, from 1783 to 1829 the Edison family were loyal Canadians, and 28 years of that period were spent in the Digby area of Nova Scotia. Through Nancy Simpson Edison, Nova Scotia blood has flowed in the veins of this distinguished family for more than one hundred and fifty years.

Hon. Charles Edison is firmly interested in the Canadian background of his family, and supplied me, at my request, with the data appearing above. I am grateful to him for it, and proudly share it with readers of the Digby Courier, for my own people also settled in Digby, from the United States, in 1763.

Congratulations

Congratulations to our friend, Dave Friesen, on twenty-five years of publishing the Red River Valley Echo in Altona, Manitoba. The paper started as the Altona Echo back in 1941. It wasn't long after that when we met that very fine couple, Dave and Mary, while at a newspaper convention in Saskatoon. Dave has made his paper what it is and what it should be by always using the finest principles in his operating and publishing. In 25 years, from humble beginnings the paper has grown to be one of the best weeklies in Manitoba.

Church Young People Enjoy Ride

On Wednesday evening the Junior Young People met in the Church vestry at 6:30 followed by Prayer Meeting at 7:15. On Friday evening the Senior Young People enjoyed a sleigh ride followed by hot cocoa at the vestry.

On Sunday morning the Pastor spoke from the 4th chapter of Ephesians, the title of his message being "The Walk of The Christian," at which time he said that the Christian should walk in humility, for when we see ourselves before God, we should be humble. A story "Harbored In Jesus" was read by Misses Marilyn and Cheryl Dukoshina.

In the evening the message was from the 2nd chapter of James on "The Case of The Sinner's Faith." After the message, the Communion Service was held.

Plan Blueberry Project

Bob Murray, Trustee, blueberry consultant of the Agriculture department and agriculture representative, William LeForte, small fruit specialist of the department of agriculture, with Kenneth Wheeler of Terveton who hopes to produce blueberries in the Terveton area held a meeting in the I.O.O.F. Hall at Terveton. The purpose of the meeting was mainly to stimulate an interest in growing blueberries on a commercial basis.

Movies pointing out the different stages in the growth of blueberries were shown and the care, handling and preparation for market were explained. The importance of bees in regards to the growth and production of the berries was stressed; unless the blossoms are well pollinated the berries will not attain a large growth the speaker said.

Mr. Murray and Mr. LeForte urged those who attended the meeting to clear their land, cultivate it and prepare to make it suitable for production of blueberries.

An open discussion followed the close of the meeting. About 37 adults and several children attended the meeting.

The force of the printed word was feared by P. T. Barnum, the noted circus man, who said: "If you have $10.00 to put to good use, put one for the article and the other nine for advertising. I can out-talk any man on earth but a printer. The man who can stick type and the next morning talk to a thousand people while I am talking to one is the man that I am afraid of. I want him for a friend."

Wildlife Posts Difficult To Fill

Demands presently in existence for fisheries biologists and the lack of institutions to train personnel has made it impossible to fill vacancies within the Wildlife Division, Merrill Prime told the Nova Scotia Fish and Game Association yesterday.

Mr. Prime, newly appointed Director of the wildlife conservation division of the Department of Lands and Forests, said many factors such as salaries offered and location, apparently serve as a deterrent to interested applicants.

The Nova Scotia Water Authority, Mr. Prime said, is making good strides in preventing the destruction of many rivers. Natural features of our important streams must be protected and this can only be accomplished through cooperative efforts by the public and resource managers, Mr. Prime said.

He stated he was referring specifically to cutting along river banks and tributary streams which pays a major role in altering or destroying fish habitat by erosion, increased water temperatures and lack of shade.

A significant step made in 1965 as far as fishing in the province was concerned, Mr. Prime said was the initiation of the fishing licence. The licences were required by both resident and non-resident anglers and a portion of the funds derived from the licence will go a long way towards hiring additional personnel, providing more equipment for research and enabling the department to embark on habitat improvement projects.

Approximately 70,000 licences were issued during 1965, Mr. Prime stated. It is necessary to emphasize the importance of anglers returning the end stub from the licences. The Department has received to date 50 per cent of the stubs and are processing the data.

CANADIAN FURS POPULAR

Recently, Canadian mink ranches offered approximately 950,000 of the season's mink pelts in a series of outstandingly successful fur auctions. Buyers were out in full force and excellent clearances were achieved, with the result that over half of the 1965 Canadian mink crop, estimated at the total 1,500,000 pelts, was sold.

The small quantities of wild furs were offered in December, although insufficient to test the market, indicated a lively interest in most varieties, commonly available in Canadian fur auctions with competition for lynx, fox and raccoon being fairly keen.

EMO Minister "Shocked" At N.S. High Rating

Provincial Secretary Gerald J. Doucet confessed himself "shocked" to learn Nova Scotia's Emergency Measures Organization set-up is rated one of the best in Canada by Ottawa.

Mr. Doucet, minister in charge of EMO for the province, told a day-long meeting of the organization's public information officers there was "definitely some fog" with Nova Scotia's being able to attain such a high rating. He expressed dissatisfaction with the general state of readiness of EMO in the province, adding it was time some pointed questions were asked at the municipal levels where the bulk of responsibility rests.

Mr. Doucet also expressed concern over lack of public awareness of the role of EMO. He said he felt the public was not being properly informed about what the organization is doing and most people were largely unaware of the necessity for providing not only protection from wartime dangers but aid in the case of peacetime emergencies.

He blamed weaknesses generally on lack of cohesion at the municipal level.

In addressing the luncheon meeting, A. M. Straton, Ottawa, chair of the EMO National District and head of the federal EMO information service, said "unless, for some reason, Canada as it did the United States during the Cuban crisis, we must be prepared to fight in an atmosphere of general public disinterest."

But he added public apathy should not produce correspondingly listless efforts on the part of organization workers.

He said, generally speaking, people will listen to EMO messages "if it's not too much bother" and most had adopted a "what's the use" attitude to the organization's civil defence programs.

He advised public information officers not to try to make EMO a "daily conversational piece" but to concentrate on getting across "one vital important message at a time" laying heaviest emphasis on the role the organization has to play in peacetime disasters. (Chronicle-Herald)

Man Well Known In Bear River Passes

Businessman, civic leader and former mayor, Horton Wheelock Phinney, 83, of Lawrencetown, Annapolis County, died Wednesday evening, at Soldiers Memorial Hospital, Middleton. The funeral service was Saturday at 2 p.m. at Lawrencetown Baptist Church.

Born in Lawrencetown, he was the son of Norman Hemminger and Jessie Wheelock Phinney. He spent several years with the Royal Bank of Canada, before joining the family business, known as the Phinney Music Company.

In 1912, Mr. Phinney moved to Halifax. In 1918 he returned to the Valley, making his home in Wolfville for seven years. During this latter period he took a keen interest in Acadia University and served as mayor of Wolfville.

Returning to Halifax in 1925 he held offices in many organizations. He was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Phinney served as president of Maritime Finances Limited, the General Trust and Executor Corporation and Scotia Gold Products Limited, all of which companies he formed and guided for many years.

Later he became interested in the potential of Nova Scotia as a tourist province and spent much of his time at Kedge Lodge Limited as its president.

Always interested in the welfare and affairs of his birth place, he served in varied capacities in provincial and federal politics. In music circles he formed and directed bands in Wolfville and Lawrencetown during his younger years and was on the Lawrencetown School Board, Red Cross executive and was a Mason.

In 1930 Mr. Phinney was appointed on a Royal Commission to cover Nova Scotia's expanding apple industry.

Mr. Phinney was predeceased by his first wife, the former Florence Gertrude Purdy of Bear River and by one son, Harold Randolph and a brother, Harvey T.

Surviving are his wife, Olive G., and two daughters, Gertrude (Mrs. F. B. Young), of Lawrencetown; Bernice (Mrs. J. R. Frizzle), St. Margaret's Bay, Halifax County; a son, Norman D. Building Designs For Handicapped

Hon. Stephen T. Pyke, minister of Public Works, endorsed the program of the Nova Scotia March of Dimes in encouraging architects, engineers and private enterprise to implement the features of the National Building Code as they apply to handicapped persons afflicted by some form of physical disability.

Frequently the handicapped are unable to accept jobs for which they may be fully qualified, because of restrictions imposed by buildings in which provision has not been made for their special needs. When these architectural barriers are removed, buildings become safer and more easily accessible for everyone.

It is in the interest of all Canadians, particularly those concerned with the design and construction of buildings, to acquaint themselves with the new standards.

Mr. Pyke listed narrow doorways, steep steps, heavy doors and inaccessible rest room and canteen facilities as the more common architectural barriers.

The minister commended the March of Dimes in Nova Scotia for their initiative in this matter and assured them of the full support of his Department.

Fishermen Get $150 To $200 Supplements

The federal Department of Fisheries reports that many fishermen have applied for the Fishermen's Income Supplement made available by this Department. The fishermen's income supplement was designed to give a payment of up to $150 to a single bona fide fisherman and up to $200 to a bona fide fisherman with dependents. In some cases, the supplement will be in conjunction with unemployment insurance payments.

However, if a fisherman does not qualify for unemployment insurance benefits, the amount of $150 and $200 are paid by the Department of

Speaks Out On Transportation Problems

J. Patrick Nowlan, M.P., for the Digby-Annapolis-Kings constituency spoke out during the federal commons debate last week on the transportation problems in the Maritimes, and especially as they affect Digby. Following is, in part, the speech given by Mr. Nowlan particularly as it affects the immediate area.

"Seriously, sir, addressing the chairman, transportation is one of the most urgent problems affecting the Maritimes in general, Nova Scotia in particular and Digby-Annapolis-Kings specifically.

I do not intend at this time to refer to the construction or transcontinental routes by train and air, which always end in Montreal, and then with transshipment and delay the journey is completed to the east. For the time being I shall stay silent on that problem in scheduling, which is as sterile as the policy which allows it. What does give us concern are services of a more local character which adversely affect regions which can ill afford it. It seems a strange paradox in this day of science and communication, when we reach for the moon, that as far as local transportation is concerned we are worse off than in the days of sail.

I wish mainly to discuss the sea - the only service in western Nova Scotia which provides a link with the rest of Canada. But before I do, rail and air deserve some comment. We in the east join in the chorus of protest over the rail line abandonment and cut back in service of the C.P.R. We look with apprehension at what that corporate body has already done. We fear what it may still do. We await with anticipation some guide lines of direction from the government to strike, not a balance in the books from red to black, but a balance of responsibility between the community on the one hand and the corporation

Continue To Urge Causeway

The Fundy Board of Trade, Freeport, continues to press the provincial government to construct a causeway-bridge complex, linking the mainland with Long Island, across Petite Passage.

The request was made this week in a brief to Premier Stanfield, Highways Minister Stephen Pyke, and Lands and Forests Minister, E. D. Haliburton. Baden Powell, M.L.A., accompanied the delegation.

The brief said a causeway complex would create a much needed harbor for fishing boats in the Digby County area, and the District of Clare.

The brief also pressed the provincial government to provide improved ferry service for both passengers and vehicles between Westport and Freeport across Grand Passage and between East Ferry and Tiverton across Petite Passage. It asked that ferry service be extended from its present day-light service to 2 p.m.

The committee feels that the present ferries could extend the service with present equipment, possibly with the addition of electronic equipment which is needed anyhow.

The brief said that there had been tremendous growth in the fishing industry in the Digby Neck and Islands area in recent years, but that any further growth or expansion is held back by not having proper harbors for the fleet.

A spokesman from the Islands delegation reported on returning home that Hon. Robert L. Stanfield was most happy to meet with them. He said the premier intends to check further with the federal government and the consulting engineers who had conducted the initial passage crossing survey. The suggestion was made by an interested party that a joint meeting between the federal and provincial governments be held to discuss plans with the hopes of some development and of coming to some agreement. It was understood by the spokesman that the provincial government would be prepared to build approaches to a causeway if the decision was made to build a structure providing a causeway and creating a useful harbor.

Representing the Fundy Board of Trade were Gerry de Borst, chairman of the transportation committee Keith O. Raymond, C. D. Harris, F. H. Theriault, L. F. Small, R. E. Robicheau, and D. B. Kenney Jr.

Resources Development Elects Officers

Activities of various sub-committees of the Digby Area Resources Development Council were reported at the annual meeting of the Council, held Tuesday evening at the Digby Community Mental Health Centre.

Reporting for the agricultural sub-committee, chairman Lloyd MacNeill noted the successful development of the community pasture. He also referred to the Digby farm project at Seabrook and the St. Mary's Bay Marshland program.

In his report Mr. MacNeill said there were still many matters relating to agricultural development in the area that needed study by the committee and the resources council. Included in those he mentioned were an assistance program for artificial insemination, development of more effective marketing practices, storage facilities for fish.

Vincent Snow, reporting for the fisheries sub-committee, stated a number of the projects discussed and studied by his committee had been undertaken through the board of trade and the fish packers' association. He said his committee had prepared a list of some ten projects as requested by the area development council and submitted these.

Studies have been undertaken in the use of waste lumber products and visits were made by some members of the forestry sub-committee to commercial plants utilizing waste wood, stated Arnold Marshall of the forestry sub-committee in reporting for that committee.

Following the presentation reports there was a discussion of the continuing function of the resources council. Opinion was expressed the sub-committees should meet regularly to study and explore resources and development possibilities affecting their segments. Projects and programs arising from these studies should be documented and presented to the resources council at its sessions, it was suggested.

Charles Haliburton was re-elected Chairman with V. G. Cardoza as secretary. Lloyd MacNeill was elected to head the agricultural sub-committee. Knowlton Oberlander was named chairman of the tourism and recreation sub-committee and Harry Lewis was named to head the forestry sub-committee. William MacLeod was named chairman of the Welfare and Education sub-committee. It was decided to ask the Digby Industrial Commission to suggest a nominee for the chairmanship of the industry sub-committee and Vincent Snow stated he would propose a nominee for the fisheries committee at the next meeting.

It was decided the resources council would hold its next meeting on April 14th at the mental health centre.

102 On Monday

Mr. Benjamin Campbell of Freeport, N. S. will celebrate his 102nd birthday on February 28th. He was born in Freeport and has lived there most of his life, with exception of a few years spent in British Columbia where he pursued occupation as a fisherman.

Mr. Campbell is still enjoying good health, and is up and around every day. He very much enjoys having friends calling to see him, and usually has a joke to share with them as he has very keen sense of humor.

Until a few years ago, he had a hobby of making model ships and entertaining people with his fiddle playing. He enjoys going on short car drives, occasionally.

Mr. Campbell's wife passed away a number of years ago and his two sons Clarence and Guy are also deceased.

He has two daughter's Violet Mrs. Alton MacNeill, Freeport; Myrtle, Mrs. Walter Floyd, Central Grove; four grandchildren; eleven great grandchildren; two great great grandchildren, several nieces and nephews scattered from coast to coast. Also one sister Tina Robinson of New York and Florida.

Mr. Campbell now makes his home with his granddaughter Virginia, Mrs. Watson Crocker, Mr. Crocker and family.

Open House is planned for his birthday on the 28th when it is hoped that many will call to see him and wish him a "Happy Birthday".

Apple Blossoms

Where have all the blossoms gone? A beautiful sprig of apple blossoms was presented to the North Range correspondent by Mrs. Warren Haight on February 15. Mrs. Haight noticed what apparently were buds already to break open on a tree near her window. She broke the branch from the tree and put it in water. In a short time they were open in full bloom and with the delicate fragrance of the May blossoms. At seven degrees below zero on Monday we just wonder what has happened to the buds left on the tree.

Karen Fund Grows

Some time ago, The Digby Courier featured a news story about the students of the island's Consolidated High School raising a fund for Karen Campbell, who is afflicted with a condition whereby her bones are brittle and break easily. As a result of the story, donations have come from New Hampshire, the Women's Institute in Lower Seama, Harris County, and donations from Digby County. Donations are accepted at the Bank of Nova Scotia, Freeport. The objective of the students is $1,000 for the Karen Fund.

The Karen Fund was brought to the attention of the newspaper in January. Karen and her mother, Mrs. Campbell, had another fracture, this time the collar bone. Medical treatment was rendered by the local physician and hospitalization not required.

The fund is to aid in getting full time care for Karen.

Fish Meal Plant Changes Hands

National Sea Products Limited announces purchase of the Digby Fish Meal Plant at Mink Cove, Digby County, Nova Scotia.

Loss of two fish meal plants last summer, one at Digby and the other at Shippeagan, New Brunswick, seriously affected service to the Digby plant's fish meal customers.

Acquisition of the Mink Cove plant will restore service to customers formerly supplied from Digby. The plant will be operated by Digby Division and the Digby fish meal plant will not be rebuilt.

A new fish meal plant is now under construction at Shippeagan and will be back in service this year. Additional capacity at both locations will increase the Company's overall production of fish meal and fish oil.

A new Men's Club, taking the place of the Brotherhood organization was organized at Grace United Church on Saturday.

A further meeting was held on Monday night of this week presided over by Bernard Bell. Owing to the wintry weather only five were present. They were Mr. Bell, Stewart MacNaughton and Mrs. Helen Bowe, Digby, and Allison Denton and Jack Harris of Bear River. Additional plans were made but none finalized pending a future meeting when weather is more favorable.

Room In Memory Of David

The plaque on the door of the private room number 206

at the new Digby General Hospital reads "In Loving Memory of David A. Robertson." The room is sponsored by David's grandfather, an eighty-six year old gentleman, F. A. Robertson, Yarmouth. In the picture above, David's father presents a cheque to F. C. Purdy, chairman of the Digby General Hospital Board after which the room was officially dedicated in David's memory on Friday afternoon.

David Aubrey Robertson was a victim of spina bifida and used a wheel chair all of his life until he was bed ridden seven years ago. For nine and a half weeks he was a patient at the Digby General Hospital where he passed away on November 27 at the age of 27 years. During those nine and a half weeks Mrs. Robertson visited the hospital every day three times a day.

The greatest of care had been given David during his seven years in bed and previous to being a bed patient and David, though tremendously handicapped, never failed to reveal his cheerful disposition and bright attitude toward life. David's sunny disposition won for him many friends and the Robertson home was never without young people who helped to pass the time for David.

Though David moved about by wheel chair he was not hindered in his earlier years from taking part in youth groups. He was active in the Baptist Young People's and served as its treasurer. He was also an ardent Boy Scout, taking part in whatever activity he was able. Being sports minded he took a great interest in hockey and baseball though he was denied the privilege of engaging in the activity.

Baptists Hold Annual

Reports presented at the annual meeting of the Riverside United Baptist Church, Weymouth North and the Bethel United Baptist Church, Ashmore, showed both churches to be in good standing. The joint meeting held in Ashmore was chaired by the pastor, Rev. C. R. Barkhouse and opened with a short devotional period. Church clerk, Parker Manzer was secretary of the meeting.

Reports were received from the treasurers of both churches, from Mrs. Merle Mullen on behalf of the United Baptist Women's Missionary Union and from Mrs. Scott Kinney on behalf of the Sunday School at Ashmore.

He also intimated that he was looking forward to retiring from a full time pastorate within the year and would be entering his resignation to the field later in the year.

Two hundred books have been given away to a sister library and offers of new books are refused because there is no more shelf space. Two hundred and forty six people have borrowed books and one hundred books are in circulation week by week.

A gift of a building to house the library has been made by Miss Jessie Falvey, postmistress for many years, in memory of Miss Hilda Hogan, the last postmistress who died in December. The building was used as the Weymouth North postoffice for many years.

The Weymouth Garden Club is sponsoring this new venture, with the help of various community groups. This will be tied in with the beautification project at this corner.

A committee of men has gone over the building to find out what is needed before the books can be put there. Two partitions must be removed, walls must be refinished, electric lights installed, a heater provided and various smaller repairs made and shelves put up.

Paint has been given for the exterior and timber has been given. Some time is being donated to work on the building, and a gift of money has already come from Church Point. The Garden Club will give a

Caught By Tail
Hector Barr, Weaver Settlement, is well known as a trapper and trout fisherman. He has trapped many of the different furbearers and this winter has caught six wildcats.

Wildcats are caught, either by snaring or trapping and when taken by traps are ordinarily caught by the feet. Mr. Barr was much surprised recently when tending his traps to have one very much alive and caught by the tail. This is the first one he has taken in this manner. A wildcat's tail is about four inches long and to quote Mr. Barr, "that cat must have sat right down on the trap".

Wildcats still seem quite plentiful and Mr. Barr hopes to take several more during this winter.

On Wednesday evening prayer meeting was held in the vestry.

On Friday evening the Senior Young People met in the Vestry for Bible study and following this they discussed their plans to have a Billy Graham film on February 26 at 8 p.m. in Oakdene School.

On Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. Howard McCormick spoke from the 5th chapter of Ephesians on "Walking As God's Dear Children." We should walk in love and follow God, he said. Paul reminds us that we are being watched by others as we travel through this world, therefore we should live in such a way that others will know that Christ is in our hearts. With Christ in our hearts we have "New Faith", "New Hope", "New Interest" and "New Life".

A solo "I know Who Holds Tomorrow" was sung by Laurence Henshaw.

In the evening the sermon was found in the third chapter of James, the title being "A Subject That Is In Everyone's Mouth". The choir sang "I'll Be A Friend".

Mr. Harris Talks On Soil Preparation

The February meeting of the Hill-N-Dale Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Aaron Darres. After general business was taken care of, Jack Harris gave an interesting talk on the preparing of soil for seeds and transplant.

He also reported the Azalea seed had arrived from England. It was decided that Mr. Harris would plant them and the members to share some plants when ready to be transplanted.

Mrs. Darres displayed cotton plant, on which three nice large cotton balls had opened. She had gotten her seed from Willard Stanley in Smithfield N. C. when on her way from a visit in Florida. She also read a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Stanley in which they told her about the cotton planting here and that spring planting was well under way where they lived.

A social time was then spent by those present. Mrs. John Harris to be hostess in March.

Mr. Speaker: Permit me at this time to offer sincere thanks to the Department of the Interior and the National Park Service for the donation of the Nova Scotia Provincial Park to Wedgeport and Cape St. Mary last August. It was a huge success. We are pleased to learn that this donation will be resumed again this year and that, up to now, the Executive Committee reports one more country to enroll in this March 31st celebration and many thanks are due to the personnel of the N. S. Travel Bureau for their untiring efforts last summer to assure the success of this internationally known sport that gives Nova Scotia world wide publicity.

Mr. Speaker: May I mention briefly the subject of our Highways. The largest Highway Program in the history of our Province mentioned to be undertaken in last year's Speech from the Throne, is well on its way. Extensive improvement and modernization of the main trunk highways in many parts of the Province, such as replacement of old and dangerous bridges, re-topping of pavement and elimination of sharp curves, is a most welcome blessing to the travelling public.

Sir, permit me at this instance, on behalf of the constituency of Clare, to extend most sincere thanks to the Honourable Minister of Highways and his able staff for the fine bridge now awaiting final touches at Meteghan River with the elimination of the dangerous curves at both ends of this bridge.

Mr. Speaker: Allow me, at this time, with your indulgence, to speak a few words in French.

Mon, l'honorable Les Acadiens, je me permets de vous adresser, au nom de la Nouvelle Ecosse, mes félicités et mon admiration pour le succès de votre province. En effet, le désir de s'établir ici se manifeste de plus en plus au sein de notre communauté. C'est une conséquence de la prospérité économique que nous connaissons. Les Acadiens, en occupant de développer leur propre personnalité et leur talent naturels. Par suite, nos Acadiens, disent l'assurance évidente d'un bel avenir permanent avec la certitude de leur gain-pain.

Mon, l'honorable Les Acadiens, manifestent un intérêt plus qu'un vouloir prendre part à un programme d'action qui contribue au bien commun de la Nouvelle Ecosse. L'éducation et la préparation de notre jeunesse pour vivre dans cette nouvelle province, exige des dépenses très considérables. Les relations multiples, dans une société qui prend de nouvelles formes de vie et d'activités, placent une responsabilité trop lourde et trop dispendieuse sur les petits organismes de notre société, pour que seul ils puissent pourvoir à une administration efficace. Les chefs de nos organismes sociaux, guidés par la raison humaine qui provient d'une loi naturelle, éternelle et prévisible, comprennent la nécessité urgente de coordonner leurs efforts avec d'autres organismes, afin d'atteindre les objectifs qui assureront le bien commun de la société. Eux, seuls, ne pourraient arriver à ce but.

Mr. Speaker: The Acadians of Nova Scotia continue to be happy in this Province, and more and more our young people show a desire to establish themselves here. Under this new era of economic growth, the Digby Pines Hotel at Digby will be of great assistance towards tourists' first-class accommodation in our part of the Province. We note also of their personality and natural gifts, they can see evidence of intentions to introduce legislation to recommend terms for their permanent future for their Act, in order to improve the Scotia-New England Ferry.

more interested in wanting to take part in this program which is contributing to the common good of all Nova Scotia. The education and the preparation of our youth for this new era is becoming costly. Multiplication of stations at society, with its many different forms of life and activity, is placing a responsibility which is too heavy and costly for small communities to work alone. Our community leaders, being guided by human reason of the eternal law which is natural and almost irrepressible in man, see the needs for joining together with other communities to obtain the objectives for the common good, which are beyond the capacity and means at the disposal of single individuals or communities.

Mr. Speaker: The Speech from the Throne demonstrates and makes us realize the complexity of the work of a government in this fast changing world. In this new era of science, technology and economics, governments have to assume the responsibility for the common good. Our own Government, in co-operation with other levels of governments, uses suitable means, structures and methods to protect the individual citizen in this socio-economic field. It helps him to develop a sense of responsibility, a spirit of enterprise, and proposes to help everyone who wants to promote his own advancement in the field he

On the other, Surely a company which helped to build this nation and received a sizeable portion of it, cannot now cut the umbilical cord which was and is transportation, with the cessors of a profit and loss statement.

In the valley there has already been one attempt at the Dominion Atlantic Railway, the only rail route between Halifax and Digby. There is no double track here. But at the moment there is, and has been for over 50 years, a morning and evening train service between Kentville and Halifax. And regardless of the doubling of fares and cut-back in service and co-ordination with the Canadian National Railway out of Halifax, it is still, for many, the only way to travel between the valley points and the financial and business centre of the province. Regardless of tourists in our centennial year, the provincial take over of the Digby Pines, and students at our schools and universities, there are scores of people who go to Halifax by rail for medical and hospital care because they cannot choose.

Mr. Speaker: I, therefore, move that the following Address be presented to the Lieutenant Governor in reply to the Speech with which His Honour has opened this Session of the Legislature, and I move the same do pass.

travel by road. If the "Dominion" can be cut, what about the Dominion Atlantic Railway. Here is another area where the people long for federal direction - and, if necessary, intervention.

I come now to a service which has already been eliminated. I refer to the status of R.C.A.F. Greenwood as an alternate stop for Air Canada planes when Halifax international airport is fogged in. I know the minister from the maritime has a special fondness for it. But I challenge him, with all his nautical ability and experience before the wind, be it political or otherwise, to dock the schooner he once possessed at Digby wharf in any type of gale.

Mr. P. Kerskill: I have lost her, so it would be impossible. Mr. Nowlan: "Well, it is difficult even if you have a ferry. Like the one we had, which plies to Saint John. I know the minister has heard the many representations which have been made about the inadequate wharf at Digby, and the archaic ferry service to Saint John. In the days of sail and early steam Nova Scotia had, for those days, sufficient transportation service to the New England and upper Canadian markets. But while there has been progress in every other field the present and only ferry-connection for all western Nova Scotia to the rest of Canada and the market of Montreal, via Saint John, improve an essential service has continually slipped behind. Can members of this committee believe in this day and age of tractor-trailer transport that the C.P.R. ferry between Saint John and Digby cannot take any vehicle larger than a half-ton truck. And this is supposed to be the eastern terminus of a national company discharging its responsibility to the people of the maritime.

Mr. Chairman, the lack of modern transportation facilities to the markets of New England, Montreal and Toronto, is crippling the growth of western Nova Scotia. Not only does this gap in transportation prohibit any growth in industry, but it is stifling what we already have. Not only are we handicapped in getting our goods to market, but because of the complicated and lengthy transshipment process we have hurdles to overcome in getting machinery and parts to service our plants.

I believe the minister has already acknowledged that this ferry service is an essential link in our national transportation network. If it is essential, it is certainly not now effective. I appreciate a commission is now studying maritime transportation problems, but we do not know when it will report. There is some rumour that it will not be for 18 months, and we all know that can be two years or more. Why is it necessary to wait that long before any move is made to improve an essential service which even the minister himself admits is essential, and which all people in the east recognize as ineffective? Surely negotiations should be underway with the C.P.R. to define the areas of responsibility and start action on improving a service which is worse than the horse and buggy days.

There is a precedent for action, the type of action which a dynamic government could take. For several years I lived and worked in British Columbia. I think that experience was a broadening one. While Premier Bennett and I did not see eye to eye on several subjects, he does get things done. For years in B. C. the C.P.R. was providing an ineffectual service to Vancouver Island. People complained. The economy suffered. Finally Mr. Bennett took action. He took over the ferries and his service is now the showcase for the entire Pacific northwest.

The responsibility for the maintenance and improvement of this service rests primarily with the federal government. If the C.P.R. will not live up to its obligations, then the government has to act. The cloaking of the issue in a commission does not solve the present problem. A half-ton truck may provide transportation, Mr. Chairman, but it does not provide service. The people look for action. We hope the minister will act, and activate the present inactive situation.

Powell Speaks Supporting Throne Speech

On Wednesday of last week R. Eaden Powell, M.L.A. for the Electoral District of Digby spoke in the Legislature in support of the Speech from the Throne. Following is Mr. Powell's address.

Mr. Speaker:

I am pleased that again you are honored to preside over our deliberations. From experience we are again assured of unbiased and regulated discussion throughout this session.

May I add my congratulations to those already expressed to the Mover and the Seconder of the Reply to the Speech from the Throne. I feel honored to be associated with members who so ably voice their thoughts in this Assembly.

Since the last session of this House we, in Digby-Annapolis-Kings have undergone a great loss. This loss to me has been more than just the passing of a great Canadian who served well the people he represented and his country. In the passing of the late Honorable George C. Nowlan I have lost a personal friend, a special friend to me and to my constituency. After his stewardship was completed he left his son to carry on in the tradition he established.

I wish to express the appreciation of my constituents to a Government which, during the past few years, has given tangible evidence of its concern with the problems peculiar to my constituency. This, Sir, in spite of the heavy load carried by the Premier and the Ministers brought upon themselves through their fruitful efforts to place this Province on a parity with other areas not only in physical evidence but in a spirit of optimism replacing our traditional feeling of despair.

The Government's program, as outlined in the Speech from the Throne, assures us that, after nine years of diligent work, we are going to receive a continuation and an expansion of the services by this administration.

We are going to have a continuation of efforts which, in the years, has changed a Province from an area of despondency to one of planned economy, accompanied by a spirit of optimism.

The proposed measures in agriculture I know will be received by my constituents with interest, as they already are seeing the results of a modern approach towards farm development tangibly encouraged by this Government.

The proposed enlarged fisheries training program, I welcome, and I hope the training will flow over into other Government levels, so those responsible will realize modern vessels require modern docking facilities. Throughout my entire constituency, where fishing is the main industry, there is not a single dock or harbor that can accommodate the present demands. Expansion cannot come until we have at least one central harbor where a fleet of one or two hundred modern vessels can dock or find shelter at anchor in a storm.

This deficiency for harbour facilities, which let me remind you, is not the responsibility of this Government, is so great that a neighboring province is concerned.

Hospital Board Institutes Austerity Program

F. C. Purdy, president of the Digby General Hospital Board, "brought down" a strict austerity program for hospital operation when presenting his annual report at the annual meeting of the hospital board on Thursday night. Following are the seven points of austerity recommended by the president to be initiated immediately:

(a) All departments must be operated as economically as possible without seriously jeopardizing essential services.

(b) The new 1966 approved salary scales for all personnel will become effective on April 1st and be not retro-active to January 1st.

(c) The number of personnel in certain specified departments be reduced to a bare minimum, particularly in the areas of administration, housekeeping, dietary and possibly maintenance.

(d) There be inaugurated a more careful utilization of the professional staff with particular attention given to those areas requiring special care. Board policy now requires that where the attending physician recommends the services of a special nurse, this service now becomes the financial responsibility of the patient and cannot be supplied by the hospital. Past experience indicates that such service supplied has adversely affected our budget to an amount in excess of $1,000. This cannot continue.

(e) That future requests for the purchase of additional hospital equipment be more carefully reviewed and that approval be withheld except for those items deemed mandatory for the provision of essential medical services.

(f) Immediate reduction of all salaries in excess of Commission approvals.

The Medical Staff be advised regarding this new policy with regard to special nursing services and be urged to set up a drug formulary for more effective control of expenditures for medical and surgical supplies.

In presenting the rigid program Mr. Purdy said that it is appreciated that the policy of rigid austerity is bound to impose hardship upon certain hospital personnel and it is hoped that the staff will understand and fully appreciate the necessity of such board action. "It must be pointed out that Commission consultants consider our hospital is presently overstaffed," stated Mr. Purdy. He said it is, therefore, board responsibility to ensure that there be the most effective utilization of all personnel, that all salaries be kept in line with Commission approvals and a policy of rigid economy be effected in all departments. He added that it is also a board responsibility to ensure, through the professional and administrative staffs, that medical services and patient care be maintained at their present high standard.

Leading up to the presentation of his austerity program Mr. Purdy said:

"Those responsible for planning and construction of hospital facilities can fully appreciate the magnitude of capital involvement and the degree to which this involvement affects the participating municipalities and Town of Digby. Monies raised by these authorities totalled $650,000, for which the hospital authorities have committed the annual per capita grant from the Province of Nova Scotia, together with all income available through differential revenues. This action has virtually directed the Board of Trustees of all working capital and new necessities and a rigid economy coupled with efficient administrative procedures. Only through the most effective utilization of all hospital personnel can the Board expect to keep within the limits of its 1966 approved budget. However, through careful management and efficient control exercised over all departments, it will be possible to keep expenditures in line with budget approvals.

On and to report, following a careful examination of our accounts and an assessment of assets and liabilities, in their opinion, the hospital can be established in a sound financial position within a period of four to five years, providing that in any one of these years expenditures do not exceed budget approvals. However, through careful administration or improvement control over departmental expenditures budget approvals are exceeded, we could be faced with serious financial situation."

As President of the Board of Trustees, I consider it to be my duty to sound a note of warning regarding this position. Our 1966 budget projections of expenditures have been reviewed by the Hospital Commission and has been reduced by some $87,000, mainly in the area of salaries which have been drastically cut to the tune of $70,000. The approved budget has been carefully examined by our Accounting Department and our Accountant-Adviser. Through the imposition of rigid economy and reduction in certain personnel it will be possible to operate within the limits approved by the Commission.

Mr. Purdy expressed appreciation of the high standard of service rendered by the medical staff, the professional and administrative staffs and all other hospital personnel. Special recognition was extended to the administrator, director of nursing and accountant for the organization and efficient operation of all departments under their control.

Mr. Purdy also recognized the effective leadership of Mrs. A. J. Dillon, past president of the Digby General Hospital Ladies Auxiliary. He mentioned the contribution of $25,000 by the ladies in support of the new hospital. He expressed wishes of success under the leadership of the new president, Mrs. Hilda Cossaboom.

Mr. Purdy paid tribute to the memory of the late Dr. L. F. Doiron who at the time of his death was vice-president of the board. He also expressed regret at the resignations from the board during the year of W. L. Troop and Charles Hargreaves.

Mr. Purdy reviewed the history of the new hospital, the construction of which was completed in December 1961 but which was occupied only at Easter of 1965 and officially opened in September of 1965. The total cost of construction, including furnishings and equipment was in the vicinity of $1,750,000. Civic governments made $650,000 available, voluntary contributions were in excess of $110,000. Mr. Purdy said that he found it difficult to find words to adequately express gratitude to the people who had given so generously.

F. C. Purdy Re-elected

F. C. Purdy, above, was on Thursday night re-elected president of the Digby General Hospital Board. Ronald Monchouse, Centerville, was elected vice-president; E. B. Richardson, chairman of the finance committee; and Mrs. Grace Edwards, secretary-treasurer. The election was held at a trustees meeting following the annual meeting of the hospital board when Reigh Jayne, Joseph Hattie and Harry Titus were re-elected to the board. Also elected to the board on Thursday were Dr. D. E. Lewis and Victor Thompson. Others on the board are Mayor C. D. Snow, Greg Gilliat, Mrs. M. C. Gott, Eugene Outhouse, Roy Snell, Melodie Comeau, George Jefferson, E. B. Richardson, Mrs. A. J. Dillon, Vernon Bent, A. Grimmer and Dr. J. R. McCreavey. H. R. Doane & Co. were appointed auditors.

In her report as administrator, Mrs. Grace Edwards said there were 483 patients cared for in the old hospital in 1965 and 1,437 in the new, making 1,920 patients for 15,451 patient care days. Number of operations were 1,098. Meals served were 69,936 on an average of 98 cents per patient raw meal.

Mrs. Mary Wood, supervisor of nurses, reported a staff of 54 nursing personnel. At the opening of the hospital there were 43 but the pediatric unit had to be staffed with six nurses in September. Included in the 54 are 4 supervisors, 5 head nurses, 3 operating room nurses, 1 recovery room nurse, 2 central supply, one emergency out-patient, and 38 which include registered nurses, C.N.A.'s, nurses aides and male assistants. This provides 34 nursing hours per patient in 24 hours.

Mrs. Percy Robert gave the report for the Ladies Auxiliary showing amount raised by projects to be $11,691.54, making in all total receipts for 1965 to be $11,974.10. Expenditures were $11,846.61. Balance $127.49.

Reports were given by Mrs. M. C. Gott for house committee, Harry Titus for building and grounds, E. B. Richardson for standards committee and Dr. D. E. Lewis for the medical staff who especially recognized the work of Dr. Earl Spencer, radiologist, and Dr. Birel for internal medicine. Mr. Purdy made special mention of Mr. Richardson who has served on the hospital board for 25 years and to Mr. Titus who has given many hours of service on the building and grounds without any remuneration.

The report of the auditors showed shareable revenue of $55,290.30 from patients, payments by provincial plan, other shareable revenue and under-advanced monies to a total of $485,468.69. Shareable expenditures including $323,501.03 for salaries, $26,675.00 for depreciation on equipment and $68.50 doubtful accounts to a total of $485,468.69.

Total capital assets amount to $1,864,387.30. Liabilities including loans payable $979,385.61. Plant capital surplus is $885,001.69.

street service can be arranged for Friday, March 18. On Saturday, March 19, a mammoth youth rally will be held in the Baptist Church when youth choirs of the Baptist and United churches will be in attendance and other churches participating. On the final day, Sunday, Mr. Clarke will be at Grace United Church in the morning, and at the Salvation Army in the evening when Grace United Church choir, under the direction of Norman Wright, will be heard.

Major Denton Passes

Major Maynard Curtis Denton, retired building contractor and former Mayor of Digby, passed away suddenly at his home on Saturday. He was 89 years of age. Born in Watford, Digby County, he was a son of the late Wallace C. and Mary (Bell) Denton, of that place.

Prior to World War I Major Denton served with the Canadian Militia. During the First World War he served overseas with a forestry company. After the war he re-entered the contracting business with the late Morris Condon and this firm built many public buildings, wharves and other structures in western Nova Scotia. Among the buildings constructed by the firm in Digby and area were the Dominion Atlantic Railway station and the Bay View Life Saving Station.

In addition to his work Major Denton took an active interest in the problems of war veterans and was an active member of the Great War Veterans Association and a charter member and former President of the Digby Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion.

He was active in community affairs also and was a charter member of the Digby Kiwanis Club and the Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club. He was also a member of St. George's Lodge, I.O.O.F. He also served as Mayor of the Town of Digby in 1936, 1937 and to Nov. 1938; and was for a number of years a member of the Board of Assessors. He was also active in the Digby Board of Trade for some time and maintained throughout his lifetime a close interest in all matters relating to the welfare of Digby.

A devout member of the Digby Baptist Church, Major Denton served his church in many capacities. He was until his death a Deacon of the church and until his retirement two years ago had served for more than forty years as Clerk of the church. He also served as chairman of the Board of Trustees and the Cemetery Committee for many years.

Twice married, his first wife was the former Maude Mary Syda, of Digby. His second wife, by whom he is survived, is the former Mary Blanche Sproule, also of Digby. A son Seymour C. Denton, former Digby town clerk-treasurer, predeceased him several years ago.

Surviving in addition to Major Denton's second wife is a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Nancy Denton; a grandson, Ronald Denton, of the staff of the Digby Regional High School, and two great grandchildren.

The body rested at Jayne's Funeral Home in Digby until Tuesday when funeral service was held from the Digby Baptist Church at 2:30 p.m. Rev. H. S. Hartlin officiated and interment was in the Baptist cemetery. A Canadian Legion service was also held at the church, conducted by officers and members of Digby Branch No. 20, Royal Canadian Legion.

New Owners For Lodge And Cottages

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Gozma, who have operated the Harbour View Lodge and Cottages, Sandy Cove, for the past 20 years, have announced their recent sale of the business to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Collins, Arvida, Quebec, who will continue to operate the business as a summer resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Gozma purchased the business from the late Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Sypher who had operated the hotel successfully for 20 years previous to the Gozma's.

Mr. and Mrs. Gozma reside in Yarmouth where Mrs. Gozma is manager of the Lakelawn Motel and Mr. Gozma is general manager of Forchu Enterprises. They left on Wednesday to spend some time in Florida.

Education Week

Education week will be observed by the schools in the Town of Digby during the week of March 6 to 11 inclusive. During the week of March 6 to 11 the Urban schools will be open to parental visits and inspection on two days. These are as follows:

Monday, March 7 - The classrooms of the school will be open from 2 p.m. to 3:15 p.m. to give the parents an opportunity to see the class rooms in actual operation. At this time, it is not intended that the parent use this period to interview the teacher, rather it is thought the parents will use it to see the classroom environment and perhaps see the child in his classroom setting.

On Wednesday, March 9 - The buses will run at 12 noon to take the students home. Interested parents may board the buses on their return run to Digby and visit the individual teachers in their classrooms. It is during this period students may be discussed and teachers consulted. For this purpose, the teachers will be in their classrooms from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Also on Wednesday, March 9, the student staff of the Fundy Light will serve an afternoon tea commencing at 3:15 p.m. as their contribution to education week.

In each of the urban schools exhibitions of student work, such as projects, art displays, notebooks and posters will be arranged.

The school authorities hope a large number of parents will make use of the facilities extended in this program. It is also the school's desire that the parents will help convey to our children the thought behind the slogan of education week 1966, which is: "Education - The Gateway to Progress".

Honored At Tea

Mrs. M. V. Barteaux, Moschelle, N. S. entertained a number of ladies at an afternoon tea, on February 26th. Guest of honor was her mother, Mrs. Stewart F. Small of Central Grove, N. S., who on that date was celebrating her 84th birthday.

Mrs. Small has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Barteaux for a few weeks. Mrs. Small reads, knits, sews and is helping on a hooked rug, without the aid of glasses. Mrs. Small was well remembered with gifts and cards including a telegram from her grandson-in-law, P.O. Peter Townsend with the H.M.C.S. Bonaventure.

Three Baptized

Three were baptized on Sunday morning at Grace United Church, with Rev. R. H. Hughes officiating. They were Leslie Marilyn Urquhart, daughter of Constable and Mrs. Ronald Urquhart; Denise Mary Patterson, two year old daughter of Constable and Mrs. Denis Patterson; and John Edward MacInnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. MacInnes.

In his sermon, Rev. Mr. Hughes observed the first Sunday in Lent by preaching on the conflicts of Christ in the wilderness or Temptation. The choir under the direction of Norman Wright and Debbie Morrell, organist, led in hymn singing and sang "The Lord Bless Thee and Keep Thee" for the baptismal ceremony.

World Day Of Prayer

Mrs. Fred Fullerton, president of the Grace United Church Women, Digby, was special speaker at the World Day of Prayer service held at Grace United Church on Friday. The theme was "Ye Are My Witnesses." Mrs. Fullerton based her talk on witnessing in the home, the church, the community and the world, stating that only by witnessing in the areas near home can we make possible effective witness to the world abroad. In order to be a witness for Christ, she said, others must see Christ in us.

Mrs. Fullerton stressed the importance of parents and adults being good witnesses to the children in the family of the home for children's attitudes are reflected from those who are older.

The speaker referred to the church in the time of Paul the Apostle to find real fellowship and witness in the church and community and stressed witnessing to the nation and the world in order that peace in the world might be brought about as others see Christ in us.

Others taking part in the service were Mrs. R. E. Lent, Mrs. J. J. Brittain, Mrs. Allan Harris, Mrs. H. S. Hartlin and Mrs. Hubert Marshall.

Mrs. Gerald Wilson rendered a solo.

EARLY LAMBS

Mrs. Stewart Spaul Tiverton, reports the arrival of twelve early lambs. The first was born on January 21.

Digby Library Association Formed

A group of interested citizens, meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Norma Joy, Queen Street, formed the Digby Library Association. The group hopes to be registered shortly. Possibilities of establishing a public library for the town of Digby and surrounding area were fully discussed.

A generous donation of two sets of encyclopedias, valued at $300.00, was made by Walter Letteney. Books have been offered from various sources, and it was generally felt by the group that a good number and variety of books could be obtained through public donations. Mrs. Louise Stephen and Kenneth Connell were appointed to look for a suitable place to be used as a storage room or library. Several possible locations were discussed.

A further meeting is planned for Friday evening, 8:00 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Percy Robert, 152 Queen St.

Reports On Presbytery

Mrs. J. M. Wallis reported Sunday morning, February 20, at Grace United Church on the Valley Presbytery meeting held in Kentville on Wednesday and attended by Mrs. Wallis, V. G. Snow and Rev. R. H. Hughes, Digby.

One of the most important topics discussed at the meeting, Mrs. Wallis said, was recruiting for church vocations.

Especially in the case of ministers is the lack of recruits serious, she said. In seven years, 1957 to 1964, the number of United Church candidates for the ministry in the Maritimes decreased from 181 to 88, a drop of 52%. On the national level, 103 began training in the 1964-65 term while in the 1965-66 term only 90 to 95 began training. Only about 5 from the Valley have gone into ministerial work in the past 10 years. It is expected that by 1968-69 year fewer will be ordained than those who will be removed by death or retirement. The church itself is growing which makes the lack of ministers even more critical. Add to this the fact that many ministers are going into specialized fields and it becomes a grave concern for pulp replacement. Lack of recruits for the ministry is not a problem only in the United Church of Canada but it is also a problem in other denominations.

A suggestion was made that church vocation counsellors should be at High School career days. In Kentville the church sponsored a career night at the school for Grades X, XI and XII. Great responsibility was placed on the home, the Session of the church and the minister for recruitment.

Married 60 Years

Sixty years ago on March 1st Miss Effie Belle Marr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marr, Bloomfield, became the bride of Hantford Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foster, North Range. The only reason that March 1st happens to be the day to celebrate is because a big snow storm prevented the wedding on February 28th. Rev. Mr. Baneroff, the Baptist minister at Barton, could not make his way through the snow to perform the wedding ceremony at the home of the bride in Bloomfield on February 28, 1906, as scheduled. By much shovelling, he was able to get through the 4 miles by horse and sleigh the following day.

On Tuesday evening of this week the bride and groom of the year 1906 celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Reginald Andrews, North Range. Present for the occasion were all of their six children: Charles of Cambridge, Mass.; Arthur, Barton; Stella (Mrs. Henry Charte), Ainsbury, Mass.; Ethel (Mrs. Harris Andrews), Barton; Alice (Mrs. Reginald Andrews), North Range; and Ruby (Mrs. Herbert Fleet), Point Claire, Quebec. Three of Mr. and Mrs. Foster's grandchildren were present for the celebration: Joy (Mrs. John Andrews), Point Claire; Robert Andrews, Barton; and Miss Maxine Andrews, North Range. The other two grandchildren are Effie (Mrs. William Stevens), Dartmouth, and Reid Andrews, of Dorval, Quebec. There are six great grandchildren.

Mr. Andrews was a farmer most of his life, but worked in the H. T. Warne lumber mill for 14 years when they lived at Hill Grove. In 1914 they moved to Bloomfield and the past ten years were spent at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Reginald Andrews, in North Range.

About 50 guests enjoyed a hymn sing Tuesday night and Mr. and Mrs. Foster were presented with a money tree on behalf of the family by a great granddaughter, Kim Andrews.

Special Speaker At Churches

Capt. William Clarke, Evangelist with the Salvation Army for the Maritime Provinces, who visited Digby in January 1965, will be here again between the dates March 13-20 when he will display his talent for music and address audiences in several churches.

The program for Mr. Clarke will begin on March 13 when he will be in the United Baptist Church in the morning and at the Salvation Army in the evening. During the week services will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Monday in the Church of God; Tuesday, Reformed Baptist Church; Wednesday, Baptist Church; and Thursday at the Salvation Army; and it is hoped that a

About This And That

Digby Needs, What?

Several times we have had in our Digby Needs column the suggestion that Digby needs industry. Anybody with a grain of common sense would know that. Anybody with the smallest grain of economic reasoning would know that even if one other large size industry came to the area there would be a substantial increase in economic good fortune for the future.

But here is a puzzler that causes us to say in slang style, Digby Needs, What? Digby has an industry. The people of Digby, along with many others, own it, with the people of Digby being the biggest shareholders. We refer to that $1,750,000 investment, the Digby General Hospital. The puzzling thing is, where were those shareholders when the annual meeting of the Digby General Hospital was held on Thursday night?

Yes, here is an industry in which each one of us has a stake. Here is an industry which in 1965 paid salaries to the amount of $317,536.03. That is a lot of money to circulate in Digby. Yet, the only people, practically, who were at the annual meeting were those who represent us on the Board or were prospective representatives: those who had to make reports from Board or Auxiliary and some of those who were recipients of the $317,536.03 paid out in salaries and maybe a wife or husband of these came along. Other than those who had connections because of the above reasons, there were probably no more than four present including ourselves who went both for interest of the hospital in the community in which we live and for the interest the press usually shows in any meeting advertised for the public.

Elsewhere in this issue, you will read accounts of the hospital reports. One of the most important being that of the chairman who made public the austerity program which the hospital must exercise in order to operate successfully. It is important that the people know of this condition. It is important that the people know that it is necessary to keep all expenses to the minimum. It is necessary that people are aware that nobody can go to the hospital expecting to get service over and above courteous, and efficient care. And where could the people have.

Did you know that in 1732, Bach composed a little burlesque extolling the virtues of that wonderful brew which gives this column its name? Well I didn't, until I read it tonight, in an article in, of all things, a medical journal. In 1732, there was a good deal of controversy about the benefits and evils of drinking coffee. The COFFEE CANTATA came out in favour of the brew, but its libretto made fun of its devotees, as well as mocked some of the angry protests of the anti-coffee faction, which claimed, among other things that it caused barrenness in women.

Physicians and maralists of every century have argued the virtues and villanies of coffee. The first written record we have of the beverage was written by an Arabian physician named Rhazes in the 10th century. He approved of it. It was invaluable, he said, in sustaining the faithful Moslems through their lengthy devotions. In 1511, however, coffee houses in Mecca were closed. By that time, the Moslem point of view was that coffee was an intoxicant, like wine, and therefore forbidden by the Koran. Through the centuries, coffee houses in the east have been alternately banned and reopened, according to which theory was current.

A Cretan, Nathaniel Canopus, is said to have brought coffee to England early in the 17th century. The first English coffee house was opened at Oxford by one Jacob the Jew, in 1650. A gentleman named Pasque Rosee, who opened one of the first coffee houses in London advertised his product as a very wholesome and physical drink, many excellent virtues, closes the orifices of the stomach, maketh the heart lightsome, is good against Eyesores, Coughs or Colds.

learn of this except through the chairman's report? How could they learn of it when they were not there to hear? Of course, there is the courtesy of the Board to the press. It was probably fortunate for all the Digby General Hospital "shareholders" that the motion went through, on Thursday night that the report of the chairman of the Board at the open-to-the-public meeting be released to the press. In this way, at least, "the shareholders" can learn something about the past operation and future operating plans of the $1,750,000 industry in which the public shows too little interest to bother to attend the open-to-the-public meeting whether or not they wanted to pay the price of voting privileges.

Digby Needs, what? Since one industry attracts another to a locality (especially a hospital) maybe what Digby needs most is a show of interest in that which we already have.

Rhumes, Consumption, Head-ach, Dropsie, Gout, Scurvey, King's Evil, and many others."

London coffee houses in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries were gathering places for intellectuals, and the "witts" sat of the times. Within the last decade, this sort of coffee house has been enjoying a revival. We almost immediately associate coffee with bearded young philosophers. Revolution, wit, wisdom, trade, discovery, poetry, philosophy and friendship are discussed, strengthened, and warmed over cups of coffee.

Bismark is reputed to have said: "The recipe for good coffee is simple. Use a new pot every time." This recipe could prove expensive, of course. An alternative, real connoisseurs say, is to wash the pot after every use with scalding water, baking soda, and detergent, paying particular attention to the spout, and any ridges. No coffee maker, according to the experts, at least, performs efficiently if filled to less than three-quarters of its capacity. Never boil coffee. Too high a temperature injures the volatile oils which give it its flavor and aroma. Bring the water to a boil, then sharply reduce the heat to allow the coffee to simmer. Serve coffee fresh. It begins to deteriorate almost as soon as it is made.

The Coffee Brewing Institute, an association within the coffee trade, recommends two tablespoons of coffee to three-quarters of a measuring cup of water. Most of us use slightly more than half that amount, which is easier on our pocket books, but which, the institute claims, is making us into a nation of coffee dullards. A demi-tasse, or espresso brew, calls for the strength of a full cup concentrated into half a cup — four tablespoons of coffee to three-quarters of a cup of water.

Bismark and Bach were far from the only people famous in other fields to have made quotable quotes about coffee. Though we do not all like coffee whether black or sweet, we cannot deny the picturesqueness of Talyrand's declaration that good coffee must be "black as the devil, hot as hell, pure as an angel, and sweet as love."

In Memoriam

DOUCETTE - In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather Eben Doucette, who was killed in Ontario February 27, 1965.

One sad and lonely year has passed
Since our great sorrow fell
The shock that we received
No one can ever tell
God gave us strength to meet it
And courage to bear the blow
But what it meant to lose you
Dad, no one will ever know.

Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by daughter Lillian, son-in-law Lorimer, grandchildren Lorimer, Paul, Gary, and Jeffrey. 28:1c

WEIR - In memory of my dear husband, Stanley Weir who passed away March 4, 1965.

Every day brings sweet memories.
Every memory brings a tear,
Deep within my heart I cherish
Thoughts of you, I loved so dear.
Yet I know we are not parted.
You're but on the other side.
For with Jesus thou art dwelling.
And with me, He doth abide,
So together still we're dwelling.
Naught can come 'twixt me and thee,
For while thou dost gaze on Jesus,
He is looking down on me.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by wife Leta. 28:1p

CLAYTON - In loving memory of Hazel M. Clayton who passed away March 5, 1961.

O happy hours we once enjoyed,
How sweet their memory still,
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
Ever remembered by daughter, Helena and granddaughters Sandra and Pamela. 28:1c

PETERS - In loving memory of Ralph Peters, lost in the sinking of the S. S. Novadoc March 3, 1947.

Deep in our hearts his memory is kept,
To love and cherish and never forget.
Always remembered by mother, brothers and sisters. 28:1c

"Canadians" To Play Here?

There is a good possibility that the Halifax Junior Canadians will be playing at H.M. Cornwallis within the next couple weeks. The Courier learned yesterday from E. B. Tufis, chairman of the Recreation Commission, that the Canadians would play a team composed of players from Cornwallis and Digby. Part proceeds will be for the Digby Recreation Commission's Youth program.

C.Y.O. Ice Sports

On February 27, Digby C.Y.O. boys played Plympton in the final game of a two game total goal, semi-finals. This proved to be an impressive display of hockey skills by both teams.

First period goals were by: Danny Doucette (Paul Cornely), John Amoro, (Danny Doucette), Robert Wagner, (Lloyd Robicheau), Plympton; Richard VanTassel, Jerry VanTassel, (Danny Doucette). Penalty to Paul McNis, Plympton for tripping.

Second period goals: Wayne Thibault, Joe Ryan, Robert Wagner, Paul McNis (Plympton). One Digby goal by Danny Doucette. Three penalties given to Digby's Bob Smith, Richard VanTassel, Danny Doucette.

Third period goals: Lloyd Robicheau (Plympton); 4 Danny Doucette (Digby); Richard VanTassel, Jerry VanTassel. This period saw Lloyd Robicheau and David Vantassell assigned penalties for holding. Final score Digby 11, Plympton 6.

Since this is a two game total goal series Plympton must now overcome a 6 point gap in order to win the series and enter the finals against Weymouth.

Following the hockey game a broomball game, two game total goal semi final, was held between the C.Y.O. girls of Weymouth and Plympton. Although this is considered foolery by the spectators, the girls work themselves up to feverish pace each Sunday by working hard at playing to win. This game resulted in a 1-1 tie on goals by Paulette Gaudet of Weymouth and Plympton's by Joan Melanson.

The winners of the games next week meet the teams of Weymouth's Holy Cross and Digby's St. Pat's respectively in the finals.

Stonehouse Skips Winning Team

A team skipped by Russell Stonehouse won the Salvia House Trophy during the weekend by defeating all competition in the two day bonspiel held at the Digby Curling Club. Other members of the winning team were Verna Stonehouse, mate; Emerson Graham, second; and Virginia Graham, lead.

Sixteen teams entered the bonspiel. Runner-up position went to Pop Hanson's rink, with Marlon Hersey, mate; Ricky Olsen, second; and Gail Hersey, lead.

At the conclusion of the bonspiel the trophy was presented to Mr. Stonehouse and his team by Bob Dakin, last year's champ.

Bridgetown-Digby Bowl-off

The second half of the annual Bridgetown-Digby Bowl-off was held Sunday, February 20, when three teams of Digby ladies met the Bridgetown ladies in Bridgetown.

The two point lead enjoyed by the Bridgetown ladies from the previous Sunday's bowling was increased to 14 points with the final score Bridgetown 55, Digby 41.

Ladies' high single of 148 was held by Joan Sproule, of Bridgetown. High triple was won by Shirley Comeau, of Digby, with a 342. Muriel Wilson, of Digby, won high average with 102.7.

Congratulations are also in order for the Bridgetown men who took the Digby men by a score of 60 to 36. Even though there was a big difference in points the pinfall difference was very small with Bridgetown 18,200 and Digby 17,907. The high single of 138 was made by Bill Long, of Bridgetown, while Vince MacCarlie won the high triple of 382 and had high average of 111. Allen Bishop, of Bridgetown, finished a close second for high average of 110.2.

Church Point Defeats Saulnierville

Church Point Blackhawks of the Clare Bantam League defeated Saulnierville Maple Leafs in overtime 6-5 to win the second game of a best two of three semi-final series with standings at 1-1. The Blackhawks had a 3-1 lead in the first period with Real LeBlanc scoring 2 and Gennette one while Alain Comeau scored for the Maple Leafs.

In the second period Saulnierville scored 4 and Church Point 2 to tie it up at 5-5. Bobby Doucet, and Bobby Comeau scored singles for Church Point while Alain Comeau scored 3 and Thomas LeBlanc a single. There was no scoring in the third period.

In a sudden death overtime period Gennette scored on a pass from Joel Melanson to win the game.

Meteghan Tops St. Bernard

Meteghan Bruin Bantams defeated St. Bernard 4-2 to eliminate the latter in two straight games in the semi-finals. St. Bernard opened the scoring in the first period with Paul Comeau scoring but Meteghan came back with two with Brian Comeau and Michael Germain scoring single. Meteghan added two more in the second period while keeping St. Bernard scoreless. Brian Comeau and Michael Germain came through again for singles in this period. Paul Comeau scored the only goal of the period on a pass from Nelson Doucet for the sole tally of the period.

serve on committees including Evangelism and Social Service, Centenary of Confederation, Worship, Church and Industry, Pine Hill Divinity Hall and Mount Allison University. Mr. Snow was also appointed representative of Presbytery on the Bible Society.

The Valley Presbytery was commended for its increase in missionary giving last year, having increased by 5.92 per cent while the Maritime Conference increase was 3.98 per cent and the United Church of Canada increase 1.59 per cent.

Rev. K. M. MacNeil, Rear River, reported on the committee on Church and Industry. The church is beginning to involve itself, Mrs. Wallis said, not only of the United Church but all denominations. The church is going out to the people and their problems, including their economic problems. Mr. MacNeil attended a meeting of APEC and reported on it. Plans were made for Mr. MacNeil and Mr. William Mulhall to attend an Atlantic Industrial Conference in Fredericton in May.

A resolution on Wednesday opposed any move to lower the age limit allowed for consumption of alcoholic beverages from 21 to 18, or lower. Rev. William Van Zoost brought in the resolution, pointing out that a move to lower the age limit had been voted down twice by the Canadian Association of Police Chiefs.

Halifax Chief of Police Vernon Mitchell was commended for his stand in opposing the change, and a copy of the resolution will go to him, as well as the Maritime Conference of the United Church.

High praise was given to the Hospital Chaplain service rendered by Rev. Dr. M. A. MacMillan, Halifax. Patients from United Church families in Nova Scotia visited in hospital were 1615 and 95 were from outside Nova Scotia, making a total of 1710 visits. It was also noted that 2060 patients had been visited by the Chaplain for the Nova Scotia Sanatorium.

Rev. C. R. Morse reported that 20 guests had taken up residence February 1 in the United Church Senior Citizens Home in Windsor. Nine of the twenty-nine rooms are still available.

The Berwick Camp Worship Committee hopes to have a choir made up of singers from all the valley churches for Berwick Camp in 1966. Rev. R. H. Mills hopes to get the singers together in May and June, Mrs. Wallis reported.

It was learned from the report of the Valley U.C.W. president, Mrs. B. L. Walker, Mosherville, that there are approximately 1700 women in membership. They have accepted an allocation of $10,876 for mission work. William Swetnam, of Sheffield Mills, said the United Church Men have had sponsored a school for stewards and elders at Chev-

"Honorable Sir: We, the undersigned, owners, captains and crews of the herring-seiners, pumers, draggers, carriers, etc., who during the major part of the fishing season, fish along the Nova Scotia coast of the Bay of Fundy and who find it a necessity to harbour at the Port of Tiverton, Digby Co., Nova Scotia and, since inadequate facilities here are such as to cause overcrowded conditions, and, since the harbour, during a storm, gives protection to only a small portion of our fleet, we do hereby petition and endorse the early construction and completion of the proposed Bridge-Causeway-Complex at Petite Passage, Digby County, Nova Scotia. We petition immediate action of this serious situation."

There are, sir, 191 signatures on this petition and the home addresses of those who signed are Campbell, N.B.; Portland, Maine; Scarborough, Maine; Wilson's Beach, N.B.; West Jonesport, Maine, Deer Island, N. B.; Brunswick, Maine, St. George, N. B.

Mr. Speaker, when we in Western Nova Scotia ask for a shelter harbour, we are not only asking for ourselves but apparently also for our friends of New Brunswick and Maine. I hope the Honorable Federal Minister of Public Works will heed the plea not only for my people but for those outside our Province. Since, Sir, it is quite possible to meet the harbour demands and although these demands are of international import, I feel I should acquaint this Assembly of the size of the problem. Many of these vessels seeking harbour in our Province, and so provide additional employment for shore labour.

Bride-to-be Honored

On Saturday afternoon a surprise wedding-shower tea was held for Miss Crystal Kaulback at the home of her aunt Mrs. Leland Oickle. Guests included members of the choir, Sunday school teachers and a few of her classmates.

After the bride-to-be had opened her many lovely gifts, refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Neva Rice.

Those serving were Mrs. Mary Kaulback, Miss Linda Harris, Miss Mary Lou Parker and Miss Leanne Oickle.

DRIVE CAREFULLY!

At this time I wish to extend the thanks of my constituents for the interest of this Government in the Petite Passage permanent crossing project. I trust that Ottawa assumes its responsibility in harbour facilities and these can be incorporated into a joint project. (Continued next week.)

- NOTICE -

The purpose of this notice is: (1) To inform people, who do not know, and remind others who do know, of the magnitude of the beverage alcohol problem in our society. (2) To appeal to all people for support in helping to find a solution to this problem.

Without making any unduly harsh statements, the sponsor of this ad believes that greater interest and concern needs to be given to the present worldwide social problem resulting from consumption of alcoholic beverages, which problem, according to competent authorities, has become an enormous social evil.

Alcoholism is now the fourth most serious disease in the world, but, even this, as large as it is, is possibly the smaller part of the whole social problem resulting from the sale, promotion, and use of beverage alcohol.

Alcoholism, and diseases related to the beverage use of alcohol now constitute a major health problem in Canada. Use of this beverage is also playing a large role in adding to public welfare costs, crime, violent deaths, injuries, and losses of goods and property, and at the same time, adding to high rising insurance rates and taxes. A number of American State Government surveys seem to clearly indicate that financial losses to the public, as a result of beverage alcohol consumption, are always considerably greater than the net government revenue received from the sale of alcoholic beverages.

For the important reasons given above, and because the Nova Scotia Temperance Federation is a branch of the Canadian Federation on Alcohol Problems, is, through its scientifically oriented alcohol education program, making a commendable contribution for a more enlightened society, for a safer, sater, healthier and happier world, all people are urged to support this program. Please make donations to the Nova Scotia Temperance Federation Executive Office, P. O. Box 662, Bedford, Nova Scotia, from which official receipts will be mailed to you.

You can see how great Handi-Van is from the back.
But the most important thing is on the front.

It's that GMC nameplate that makes the difference. Not the plate itself of course, but what it represents. GMC has a reputation for Engineering Leadership. For instance: realizing most Handi-Vans would be city-operated and subject to road moisture and salt, GMC engineers started at the bottom. Sheet metal in exposed areas is first galvanized, then covered with aluminum paint, phosphated... then, after all that, undercoated! No wonder Handi-Van stands up so well under the worst a Canadian winter has to offer. And no wonder GMC has earned that reputation for leadership. When you're thinking vans—think Handi-Van by GMC.

Library Gets Council's Support

John R. Nichols, representing the Digby Library Association and Institute appeared before Digby Town Council Monday evening seeking financial assistance for the establishing of a lending library and reading room in the town. Mr. Nichols said he represented about 600 interested citizens and urged the council to consider a grant for the library purpose.

He said that estimated yearly costs of maintaining the proposed library was about $1,500.00. No salaries were included in his estimate. Included were heat, lights, water and other necessities. All work would be done on a volunteer basis, he said, and the location decided upon by the association, the second floor of the old Salvation Army Citadel, on Water Street, has been offered rent free. Arrangements are being made for the securing of books, and with the town's assistance this long-awaited dream could become a reality, he said.

In discussing the subject the council in general felt the group should be commended for their efforts in securing a library for the area, and promised to lend all possible moral and financial assistance towards "one of our biggest obligations."

The Town of Digby Police report for February showed a total of fifteen complaints registered with the department, eight of which required field investigation. All of these except two have been terminated to the satisfaction of persons concerned. As a result of the investigation six cases warranted court action, two under the criminal code, four under the Nova Scotia Liquor Act. Four motor vehicle accidents were investigated during the month, one car was stolen and recovered, and two break and enters are under investigation. During February two persons were charged with theft and one with impaired driving.

Among February bills passed for payment were: Relief, $234.39; Accounts, $2,554.94; and Streets, $1,618.30.

Mayor C. D. Snow announced that he will be attending an Emergency Measures Organization course for Mayors to be held in Arnprior, Ontario, in April.

Building permits were granted to L. M. Saunders to rebuild the portion of his property that was destroyed in a recent fire, and to Fashion Cleaners Ltd. to erect a building, 60 ft. by 30 ft. on property between the Metropolitan Store and Digby County Power Board.

Council granted permission for the following tag days: March 25, Digby Hospital Auxiliary; May 13, Victorian Order of Nurses; June 3, Legion Auxiliary. It was decided to restrict tag days in the town to one a month.

Council gave permission to the town's works department to put a drain trough around the band stand for the protection of flowers. The flowers, recently donated by Mrs. Eva Wendell, will be planted by the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society.

Councillor Stewart MacNaughton will head an industrial development committee which is being organized for the town and outside area.

By motion the council decided to have Digby adopt Daylight Saving Time between April 24 and October 23.

C.G.I.T. To Hold Service

The C.G.I.T. of Grace United Church and the Digby Girl Guides will have their prayer and commitment service at the church tomorrow (Friday) evening. The story will be "If All Depend on Tamar."

The theme for the World Day of Prayer for 1966 is "Ye Are My Witnesses" and the program has been prepared by the Scottish Committee of the Women's World Day of Prayer. The young people's program is adapted from that prepared by the same committee. The service was originally scheduled for February 25 but had to be cancelled due to storms.

Elect Trustees For Library

About thirty interested citizens attended a meeting Friday evening of the Digby Library Association, held at the home of Mrs. Percy Robert. The group decided to be known as the Digby Library Association and Institute, to comply further with the Nova Scotia Library Association Act. A declaration was formally drawn up in readiness to be filed with the registrar. Victor Cardoza assisted the group by referring to the Nova Scotia Statutes.

The board of trustees was elected, consisting of the following sixteen members: Mrs. Norma Joy, Mrs. Louise Warren, Mrs. Mary Robert, Lieut. Marjorie Tupper, Mrs. Maxine Connell, Kenneth Connell, John Nichols, Leigh Everett, Major Alfred Boutilier, Mrs. Carolyn Brown, William Saraguna, Mrs. Marion Gott, Mrs. Herbert Warren, Mrs. Alice Winfield, Mrs. Joyce Anderson, Mrs. Louise Stephen.

It was decided that as many trustees as possible meet the following day to inspect the various locations available. It is expected that a decision on the vital matter of location will be settled at a meeting tonight, Thursday at the home of Mrs. Donald Brown.

In view of the fact that March 26 begins National Library Week a speedy movement "to get the ball rolling is underway."

John Nichols agreed to have the library's declaration drawn up and to present it, along with expected expenses, to the Digby Town Council at their meeting on March 7. A request was to be made to the council for financial support of the new organization. (See results of Council session in another story in this issue).

Issues Statement

Premier Robert L. Stanfield

At all levels of government, increasing amounts of time, energy, thought and money are being devoted to the expanding and improving of our educational system. This represents a vital investment; and it is one from which gratifying returns are to be confidently expected.

Nova Scotia children today need more and better education than their parents and grandparents received. The complexity of modern life and work requires an increasingly higher level of education for proper development of the individual, the member of family and community, the successful working citizen. On satisfactory products from our schools rests the future of our province.

In addition to its value in developing each student's mind and personality education is a sound economic investment. A person's income is likely to rise in relation to the amount of education he obtains. Increased provincial and national revenues result from the greater income and productivity brought about by more and better education. Thus education increases the productivity and strength of our country, and society recovers its investment in education, with interest.

I am glad to have this opportunity to endorse Education Week and to encourage the citizens of Nova Scotia to take part in activities arranged to highlight the subject of education at this time.

Parking Problem Chief Topic

The parking problem that exists along Digby's main street was the main topic of conversation at Tuesday evening's Board of Trade meeting, held at the Town Hall. President Leigh Jayne was in the chair. There were eleven members present.

Upon the suggestions of Mayor C. D. Snow and Vincent Snow it was decided that a committee, headed by Allan Pyne, should meet with Digby Town Council as soon as possible for the purpose of discussing the parking problem. Vincent Snow also suggested that, with the backing of the Trade Board, the council should continue their plans to expropriate land along First Avenue. Original council plans were to widen First Avenue to street width and to provide additional parking space for the town. Hubert Warne said that much of the problem could be eliminated if merchants and employees along Water Street could be convinced to leave their cars home and thus provide more parking area for their customers. Allan Pyne suggested that revenue derived from parking meters in town should go towards providing additional parking space, instead of into the town's general funds.

Permission was granted to Ralph MacIntyre to spend a sum not exceeding $75.00 for the purpose of erecting Digby marker signs at both highway, No. 1 entrances to the town.

By motion it was agreed that Vincent Snow's name should be added to the membership committee.

President Leigh Jayne told the group of a film "Pearl of the Atlantic," a story of the scallop fishing industry, is available to be shown in this area, and suggested that some of the local fishermen may enjoy seeing it. The film, he said, was shown at a recent meeting of Digby Kiwanis Club.

Reporting on Digby's plans for the Apple Blossom Festival, Ralph MacIntyre said that many local organizations will take part. The celebration, to take place in Digby on May 23, will be a joint effort between Annapolis Royal, Bear River, Cornwallis, Digby, Weymouth and the Islands, with assistance from other communities. Mr. MacIntyre said that ball games, a tug-of-war, water sports and parades have already been arranged.

Roads Closed

Highways Minister Stephen T. Pyke has announced that all public highways in the province will be closed to vehicles with a single axle weight in excess of 8,000 pounds, effective from 12:01 a.m. Tuesday, March 8, until further notice.

The action was taken under Section 19, sub-section (1) of the Public Highways Act.

Baptists Hold Social Evening

More than 125 people gathered in the hall of the Baptist Church of Digby last Sunday evening for a congregational social gathering.

The meeting was opened by a singing led by Chester Levy. The pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, welcomed the members, adherents and friends of the congregation who had gathered for the occasion.

The program consisted of vocal and instrumental selections of music. The church choir, under the direction of Mrs. Donald Brown, and Mrs. Jean Olsen at the piano sang two members. Solos were sung by Mrs. Shirley Clayton and Stewart MacLean. A duet was sung by Mr. MacLean and Miss Kauback of Bear River. A piano solo was played by Miss Gail Hersey, and a reading was given by Mrs. Boyd Haynes.

An appealing motion picture in color, emphasizing the theme of Christian Stewardship, was shown. Rev. L. R. Atkinson spoke a few words of introduction concerning the picture and with some comments following its showing.

Refreshments were served by members of the C.G.I.T. groups, under the direction of Mrs. Russell Harris and Mrs. Amelia Whalley.

Fuller Addresses Society

The monthly meeting of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society was held at the home of Miss Marjorie Tupper on March 2nd. Twenty-one members were present.

A short business session was conducted and permission was granted to the cemetery committee to purchase an Almie Flowering crab tree for spring planting in the Loyalist Cemetery, as a centennial project for 1967.

The garden club president, has been approached by a representative of a town committee, in connection with Digby's participation in the Apple Blossom Festival, to learn if the club members would assist with organizing the doll carriage entries. Two members were appointed to meet with the committee for further planning.

Correspondence was read from the Weymouth Garden Club, discussing the annual convention of the Nova Scotia Association of Garden Clubs to be held in Weymouth on July 29-30, and extending a warm invitation to attend on that occasion.

Registration will take place on July 29th and a dinner will be held on July 30th. Members were requested to signify their intentions of attending the dinner so the necessary arrangements could be made as soon as possible.

The meeting was adjourned and Mrs. H. M. Warne introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Fuller, Agriculture Representative for Annapolis County.

Mr. Fuller gave a most interesting and helpful talk in preparing and maintaining an attractive and healthy lawn. He stressed the basic needs as proper soil, fertilizing, time of seeding with quality grass seed, a knowledge of moisture required and not too close clipping. He also suggested that occasionally clippings be allowed to remain on the lawn. Grass to be in good condition should be fairly fine and of a bluish green shade, rather than green.

A question period followed with members receiving advice on soil problems.

Kenneth Beckwith extended a vote of thanks to Mr. Fuller on behalf of the garden club members.

Refreshments were served by Miss Tupper assisted by co-hostesses Mrs. P. Robert and Mrs. V. Cardoza.

To Give Recital

Miss Carolyn Arnold, contralto, a candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Music, will be featured at a recital at Acadia University Hall, Wolfville, Friday, March 18, at 8:15 p.m.

Carolyn, who celebrated her twenty-second birthday yesterday, March 9, is the only child of Mrs. Arnold and the late Elton G. Arnold, of Digby. She received her Licentiate of Music in May, 1965.

To quote Professor Leonard Mayoh, of Acadia University, "Carolyn showed signs, whilst she was still in school, of developing a lovely contralto voice and this has been confirmed and strengthened during her four years in university. She has been prominent amongst Acadia's singers, having won several scholarships, and having appeared in recitals and concerts sponsored by the school of music. She has been a member of the Acadia Chapel Choir since its inception and I have valued her services greatly."

Carolyn will spend a year in Woodstock, New Brunswick, as a school music teacher.

Church Holds Annual Meet

The annual meeting of the Hill Grove Baptist Church held on Wednesday evening at the Church Hall, opened with prayer by Rev. H. S. Hartlin. Rev. Hartlin was then appointed Chairman of the meeting with Lloyd MacNeill as Secretary.

The minutes of the 1965 meeting and clerk's report for the year were given by Mr. MacNeill in which he stated that seven members had been received into the church by baptism and one by letter. That the church had lost two members by death and one by transfer and that the church now has a membership of 119, 67 of which are resident and 52 are non-resident members.

The treasurer reported receipts of approximately $2900 and expenditures of about the same amount. In reporting also for the building committee Mr. Franklin stated that new cement steps had been made at the church entrance and at the church hall leading up from the street. Gov.-Gen. At Project Hospitality - 66

A Hospitality Seminar sponsored by the A.V.A.B.T. will be held in the Cornwallis Inn, Kentville, N.S., on the 16th of March, 1966. This Seminar is intended for tourist bureau operators, owners, operators, and section managers of all businesses involved with the travelling public. Round table sessions with discussions on how to welcome and serve our visitors and how to promote our attractions will be conducted. The Seminar will stress the importance of the individual in the tourist industry; the sloppy waitress; the careless service station attendant; the rude or indifferent store clerk; can completely nullify all the work done by people who are really interested in the community.

The opening portion of the program will be audio-visual, covering the importance of tourism and will be conducted by the Canadian Tourist Association Staff. The next portion of the program will be in concurrent sessions for specific interest groups; restaurant employees, accommodation field employees; retail store clerks, and service station attendants.

The final portion of the program is indicated as an inspirational address. Governor General George Vanier will give a prestige laden and dignified message on how important individuals are to the tourist industry.

Lloyd Hill, executive manager A.V.A.B.T. said "we trust that this Seminar will help to overcome the basic problems in providing adequate service for the tourist. There is a reluctance on the part of some salespeople to spend time and effort when the customer probably will not be a repeat customer. The thing to be remembered, however, is that this "visitor customer" gets only one impression and that impression influences what he says about the Annapolis Valley. We feel this Seminar will assist in showing that gracious service can leave the tourist with the impression that he has visited a friendly valley and shopped in a well run store, whose employees are polite and gracious salespeople."

Agriculture: In the spring of 1965 a community pasture was established in my constituency through the co-operation of the N. S. Land Settlement Board and ARDA. I look forward to improvement and expansion of this property, which this summer proved its value to some of the farmers of the area.

The farmers of Digby Municipality have, in the past, been forced to exist on marginal farms, looking to other sources for funds to supplement their farm income. But of late a different trend of thought is being embraced, due in some measure to the positive approach the Department of Agriculture is taking to the farm problem in the area.

Possibly the greatest incentive to this trend is the development being carried out by the Jamerson project.

In this project over two hundred acres will be ready to plant this spring in vegetables and strawberries. Methods carried out in large unit farming of California and Florida are being used. Export markets for the produce are assured and will also offer an outlet for surplus from other farmers if properly prepared for export.

The results, Sir, of this large undertaking, if successful, can well mean the beginning of large unit strawberry and vegetable plots in the district. What was once non-productive land will contribute to the economy.

About This And That

Our Future Not Bright With C.P.R.

Despite the fact the C.P.R. has just announced its plans for building a $34,000,000 hotel at Montreal, we in Digby can see little to brighten our future so far as the C.P.R. is concerned. Not that we are blaming the C.P.R. for taking advantage of the World's Fair. They would be foolish not to do so. So would the rest of us, if we could.

But according to news in the daily paper last week, the C.P.R. has left us no doubt as to where we in Digby fit economically so far as the C.P.R. is concerned. And certainly Digby, along with all of western Nova Scotia, is not going to advance economically until we get some more modern transportation facilities.

For some time the people in Digby, who have always considered C.P.R. close to their hearts, have been reluctant to too much boldness against this long-time friend. This week's news just about divorces us from any responsibility on that score. It just about says "Look to the federal government for your economic future so far as transportation is concerned."

So there we go. Another wharf to be considered. Engineers, we understand, have given warning that the present Digby "C.P.R." wharf, as it is referred to by so many here, can last only a few years more.

Just another case where we'll take wharf (and more modern boat) vs. knowledge for this time.

Wharves Vs. Knowledge

"Knowledge is power" were the words of Francis Bacon about four hundred years ago. It remains the same today. We do not quarrel with the Economical Council of Canada which makes the statement that "Knowledge is the key to Canada's economic future". We believe that too, to a great extent. It could even apply to Digby County — "Knowledge is the key to Digby County's economic fortune". Certainly we can never get all the knowledge we can use, but knowledge is not everything for a bright economic future in Digby.

Digby County has several naturals. It has, for instance, beauty. This along with a few other assets, gives it potential for a great tourist haven. Apply some knowledge on operating a good tourist industry and Digby County has one segment of its economic future made.

But Digby County can't live and prosper on tourism alone. So Digby County looks to another natural. This time we consider its expanse of sea which is the natural habitat of fish. Knowledge is power. Knowledge is the key to Canada's economic future. Knowledge is the key to Digby County's future, so we apply it here. What do we come up with? Our present knowledge for building larger fishing boats, our present knowledge for improving the size of catch brings us to the place where we do not have wharf accommodation for the fleet. In Digby County in 1965 the value of fish landed was $1,000,000 more than the year 1964. Think of our prosperity if there was wharf accommodation to match the knowledge of building boats and knowing how to fish in Digby County?

Digby Neck, Digby town, Meteghan, are all crying for more and better wharf facilities. One fisherman in a village on Digby Neck complained to us a short time ago about no breakwater to accommodate his boats. More than $40,000 worth of boats by one fisherman laid idle all winter because of lack of wharf accommodation. Fishing could be carried out all year with proper facilities, he said. As it is, the boats have to be laid up all winter and in his particular case putting 3 to 4 men out of work. Even if a village nearby had better accommodation, this fisherman said, it would be a great convenience. Two of this man's boats were at Meteghan for harbour protection and two at Digby, but this was a long distance from the Bay of Fundy village on the Neck.

Meanwhile, the same two ports, Digby and Meteghan, are short on wharf facilities. In Digby, where we must confess, some wharf construction is going on, we understand that boats are laid up seventeen abreast at times and not ten as we wrote before. In Meteghan they lay four and five abreast. In all these places, wharf facilities are inadequate to accommodate more and especially the larger built boats which seek harbour facilities.

To add to what we have already written above, we quote R. B. Powell, M.L.A., "Throughout my entire constituency where fishing is the main industry, there is not a single dock or harbour that can accommodate the present demands. Expansion cannot come until we have at least one central harbour where a fleet of one or two hundred modern vessels can dock or find shelter at anchor in a storm."

Yes, we need knowledge. We need knowledge in so many areas of our economy. We even need it in the fishing industry if we are going to progress from where we are today. Yes, give us knowledge, but right now, in the Digby County fishing industry, we'll have to say Wharves vs. Knowledge.

The thermometer had risen above freezing, for the first time in weeks. The pavement was wet. Trickles of water braided their way along the shoulders of the road. Under those layers of snow which had been accumulating since last October, there seemed to be a faint smell of something damp and green. It was a perfect day to escape the confines of the house. I bundled the kids and the dog into the car, and went to visit those university acquaintances of ours I had heard lived a few villages down the road.

I found the house with no difficulty. I rang the doorbell, and waited in eager anticipation for the gasp of recognition. The door opened. The man I had known in my college days looked at me, blankly polite, for several seconds. My expectant smile faded into a silly grin. I told him my name. I could see his mind losing the struggle to associate some memory with it. From somewhere inside the house, his wife's voice called. She sounded tired, and in no mood for company, but at least she remembered me. The dog gave a jerk to her chain, which nearly precipitated me, sprawling, into the house.

We gathered in the living room. The hostess brought the tea in. We smiled uneasily at each other over our tea cups, and made pointless remarks about the cake and sandwiches, groping for conversational ends to a thread of communication which had been misplaced a long time ago. "So these are your children!" they exclaimed, and then introduced theirs. "Have you heard from . . . ?" we would all ask together. Then we would all sigh and settle back in our chairs. "No." "I don't know." "I've lost track." We tossed around names we had not heard for years, and faces we had forgotten, searching for something which would bring a mutual flash of memory. They were both working, they said. She was teaching mathematics at a nearby university. I realized, with a terrible wrench that I had grown very far from my university days.

My children sat solemnly on either side of me, realizing in some vague way that I was trying to imagine them out of my life. They were incongruities which somehow hindered my search for a self I had left behind. My host and hostess tried to steer the conversation in several directions, but I was lost in the world of the kitchen sink. They gave up. The conversation drifted to banalities. Part of me loved them for their kindness in being banal on my account, and part of me hated them for their cruelty. Suddenly, I was painfully aware that I was speaking in cliches, and I knew that this must be my habitual means of expression. I felt myself wince with each sentence. I didn't always express myself in hackneyed cliches.

We talked about the years between, the years when we had not known each other, and we began to grow warmer. Now we could be complete strangers, telling each other our life stories as we got acquainted. We finished our tea. We promised to see each other again some time, but it was not the promise of old acquaintances with a friendship to be renewed. It was the promise of people who have met for the first time, and who see the possibility of a friendship developing.

As I drove home, I remembered my mother-in-law once remarking that we do not learn how to live until we are eighty, and then it is too late. I did not agree with her. I cannot see that because we constantly change our outlooks and attitudes as we grow older, that we necessarily change them for the better. We are prone to say "When I was younger, and more foolish, I thought that. Now I am older, and wiser, and I know this." Why should the conclusions we come to in later years be more valid than those we arrived at earlier?

For my part, I think that the girl who loved nothing more than a good fight about philosophy, or religion, or ethics, was a better person, and a good deal more intellectual, than the woman who talks in uncontroversial banalities about the dishwashing.

His morning topic was "The Greatest Problem in the World Today". He stated that "sin" was the problem and that it had to be dealt with and not ignored or excused. He stated that God had met the sin problem in the person of Jesus Christ, who came to seek and save the lost.

From the letter of James he stated several things that were going on in the church and are still found in the church today, such as fault finding, wrangling, desire for power, worldliness, and criticism. He said there needed to be prayer for the brethren and humble submission to God.

In Memoriam

HARRIS — In loving memory of a dear father, Harry B. Harris, who passed away March 11, 1964. Just a thought of sweet remembrance. Just a memory fond and true. Just a token of affection. And a heartache still for you. More and more each day we miss you. Though our thoughts are not revealed. Little do they know the sorrow That is within our hearts concealed. Sadly missed by daughter, Rowena, son-in-law, Franklin, and grandchildren, Linda, Roger and Joanne. 29:1c

HARRIS — In loving memory of a dear father Harry B. Harris who passed away March 11th, 1964. We do not forget you, nor do we intend. We think of you often and will to the end. Gone and forgotten by some you may be. But dear to our memory you ever will be. Always remembered by son Carleton and daughter-in-law Kathleen. 29:1p

HANDS-PIKER — In loving memory of our father, John C. Hand-piker, who passed away March 10, 1941. The month of March comes with regret. It brings back a day we shall never forget. You fell asleep without a good bye. But our memories of you will never die. Always remembered by his daughters, Bessie and Della. 29:1c

OUTHOUSE — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Ronald E. Outhouse, who passed away March 19th, 1956. Precious forever, are memories of you. Today, tomorrow, and all life through. Till memories fade and life departs. You'll live forever in our hearts. Unseen, unheard you are always near. Still loved, still missed and ever dear. Always remembered by wife, Evelyn, daughter, Marina, sons Melbourne, Donald, Sheldon, Clyde. 29:1c

MELANSON — In loving memory of our father, Morris Melanson who passed away March 6, 1965. His smiling way and pleasant face. Are a pleasure to recall; He had a kindly word for each And died beloved by all. Some day we hope to meet him. Some day, we know not when. To clasp his hand in the better land. Never to part again. Always loved and remembered by daughters, Katherine, Estella and Lucy. 29:1c

ROBBINS — In loving memory of my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. Robbins, mother passed away March 23, 1949 and father, March 14, 1962. God gave me wonderful parents. Their memory will never grow old. He fashioned their smiles out of sunshine. And moulded their hearts of pure gold. Beyond the blue horizon, Neath the gold and blue of the skies. They live in a land of beauty. Where loveliness never dies. Sadly missed by daughter Roba, son-in-law, Clarence, and grandchildren Norman, Douglas, Robert and Linda. 29:1c

HARRIS — In loving memory of a dear husband, Harry Byron Harris, who passed away March 11th, 1964. He is gone but not forgotten. And, as dawn's another year. In our lonely hours of thinking. Thoughts of him are always near. Days of sadness will come o'er us. Friends may think the wound is healed. But they little know the sorrow That lies within the heart concealed. Sadly missed by wife, Edith. 29:1c

The Digby Minor Hockey Week

The Digby Minor Hockey League wish to thank the merchants of Digby and Lionettes of Digby who made the Digby Minor Hockey Week a success. A special appreciation goes to the Lionettes of Digby, who put on a benefit dinner. A profit of one hundred and sixty dollars was made to buy equipment for the hockey teams.

The following merchants are thanked for the donation of prizes which added to the great deal of success of the Digby Minor Hockey Week: Metropolitan, Stedmans, IGA Foodliner, Banks' Nu-Way Market, Jack's Irving, Digby Power Board, Canadian Tire, Margoliass, Earl Morrell Esso Service, Cornwallis Restaurant, Levy's Drug Store, Earl VanTassel Fina Service, Amirault's White Rose, Scallop Bowl, Fundy Restaurant, C. B. Connell Store, Fundy Motors, MacDonald Motors and Garon's Barber Shop.

The grand prize, which was a bicycle, was won by Larry Amaro. (adv.)

Meteghan Wins First Game

Meteghan won the first game of a best three of five series in the WCHL finals by defeating Bellevue Thunder 8-0. The first period went scoreless with both goals kicking out sure goals. Meteghan scored three in the second period with Jean P. Vallee scoring a hat trick with three unanswered goals.

In the third period Meteghan scored 5 goals, with Alain Comeau scoring 2, Paul Emile Robicheau, Gerard Comeau and Jerry Comeau 1 each. The Thunderbirds did everything but score with Meteghan players checking closely within their own zone preventing too many good shots on goal and whenever the losers had a good chance to score, Raymond Thimot in the nets for Meteghan spoiled their chances.

VON Bonspiel

The seventh annual VON Mixed Bonspiel is to be held on March 18th and 19th at the Digby Curling Club under the auspices of the local branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses.

The Lynch Trophy, emblematic of Mixed Curling supremacy in this area, was presented to the local branch of the VON by members of the family of the late Mrs. T. E. G. Lynch, who was a Charter Member and very active in the Victorian Order of Nurses.

It is expected that a buffet supper of sandwiches and cakes will be available during the one and a half day affair, with the proceeds of all monies raised going to the work of the Victorian Order of Nurses here in the Digby area.

All persons are invited to participate in this bonspiel, whether members of a Curling Club or not. Last year's Lynch Trophy winners were the team of Frank Wightman, Helena Wightman, Doug Miller and Elizabeth Ritcey.

It is expected that twenty-two teams or more will sign up for the play with attractive prizes for the winners of the main and second events.

CYO Ice Sports

Under the expert coaching of Carl Saulnier, the Digby boys' CYO went on to defeat Plympton in the second game of the semi-finals by the score of 14 to 1. Led by Danny Doucette, John Amaro and Bill Nickerson with ten, six and seven points respectively, Digby outplayed, outshot and outmanoeuvred the luckless Plymptonians.

A great deal of credit for the win belongs to Larry Amaro, of Digby, who pulled off some sensational saves all evening.

Another person who deserves credit is Paul Connelly, who played a magnificent game despite the fact that there was half an inch of water on the ice.

Another factor which helped win the game was the play-making of Bill Nickerson who scored goals all along, including one from his own blue-line.

Plympton might have won if they had retained their control of their emotions.

Girls' Sports At D.R.H.S.

After Four Straight Wins, Digby Girls Lose Out to Middleton

D.R.H.S. once again wraps up another basketball season. The only difference this year, is the record built up by the girls' basketball team. The Senior girls team was extremely strong and worked its way higher than few previous school teams have ever been able to do. The games played by the girls were of high quality and by far the most exciting series played by the Digby High School this year. Although defeat was suffered at the last, there was a feeling of pride and accomplishment to the players who had performed so well. Here the girls became a definite threat for the Congress Trophy and fought for that goal with sportsmanship and surprising agility. The games became popular with fans who continually increased in numbers and support.

The members of this team were: Forwards, Chris Diche, Vanya Turnbull, Linda Lewis, Jo Outhouse, Penny Hill; Guards, Cathy Raymond, Lynn Hall, Sandra Raymond, Lynn Nickerson.

Before the actual Congress games, there were a number of triumphs for the girls in exhibition games: Digby defeated Clare District High School (in Meteghan); Digby defeated Clare District High School (in Digby); Digby defeated Bridgewater in Digby by a score of 76 - 15.

Over the Christmas Holidays a dual-school tournament was held at Annapolis High between Annapolis and Digby. Here the "A" girls defeated the Annapolis "A" team.

In the Congress Play, Digby showed her colours and walked away with four straight wins, totally defeating two Congress schools. Digby-29, Annapolis-26, (in Digby); Dig-a broomball game was fought in which Weymouth defeated Plympton 4-2.

Both these teams now advance into the finals.

by-32, Annapolis-29, (in Annapolis); Digby-38, Bridgetown-23, (in Digby); Digby-38; Bridgetown-30, (in Bridgetown); Digby-30, Middleton-33, (in Digby); Digby-31, Middleton-38, (in Middleton).

Once again Digby has been narrowly edged away from a sporting triumph but they have shown their potential and spirit for the game in an effort that is more of a win than a loss.

Digby "B" Girls Place Second in Valley Tournament

The "B" girls have also been having an exceptionally good year compared to previous ones. There appears to be some strong material for next year's teams.

Members of the teams are: Forwards, Claire Doiron, Shirley Melanson, Barbara Black, Nancy Morehouse; Guards, Judy Gates, Brenda Young, Linda Warren, Mary Hawkins.

In the first exhibition game of the season, they defeated Clare District High School by a score of 15-10.

The next week, they again defeated C.D.H.S. Shirley Melanson was high scorer with 18 points.

In the tournament at Annapolis over the Christmas Holidays, the girls Digby "B" 14, Anna "B" 9; Digby "B" 5, Anna "A" 20.

In regular Congress play for the "A" teams, only one "B" team played each week. Thus the girls played only three games. They defeated Anna "B" in Digby. Then they edged Bridgetown 17-15. The only other game was with Middleton. The score was 12-12 for a tie.

To replace Congress games, there was a Valley Tournament held in Annapolis on and once February 19th. Scores from that tournament: 1. Digby 15

Letter to the Editor

Milford N. B.,
February 24th, 1966.

Sports Editor,
Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.
Dear Sir:

May I respectfully submit a challenge to any Senior Women's Basketball Team in the Digby area.

We have been told by the authority of the High School team that it is not possible for the High girls' team to play at this time.

The Milford Senior Grades team wish to come to Digby late in March or early in April for the trip; over on the SS Princess of Acadia in the morning and back the same night. The basketball game can be played even though the time is short. Milford will foot all their expenses and will pay for their meals.

In this Saint John area there are three levels of Women's basketball; the Jets and the Alpines are big Senior teams able to play Montreal. The mid-level is made up of over a dozen teams like Milford who are together through the years. The third level is the Interscholastic teams. (Lancaster also has levels of Grade seven, eight and nine in leagues.)

Milford feels that it is good business for Digby to support a Senior Women's Basketball vs. Anna. 12; 2. Digby 4 vs. Middleton 8; 3. Digby 16 vs. Bridgetown 14; 4. Digby vs. ton. The score was 12-12 for a tie.

As a result of these games, the Digby girls placed second in the tournament and once again showed the colours of D.R.H.S.

THE Digby Courier

THURSDAY, MARCH 10, 1966

team (pardon us). (Should be good business for your restaurants and stores.) Why haven't the Digby sporting people, masculine or feminine, done something about it

Mr. Editor, will you please try to get the plan going, even though late in the season? (The reason the Milfords want the game late is because they want to walk around a little and see Digby. It's a bit bigger than Milford! I visit Digby every summer!

Yours for Sport in Digby,
Jimmy Fox.

P.S. When the teams from the Saint John area begin to come to Digby to play Digby teams, won't it also be good business for the Boat? Help to get better wharves?

Many times we are content to be a bystander in the battle, but we should always be ready to carry the good news of the Gospel of Truth, the preacher said.

A duet, "Walking With Jesus" was sung by Crystal Kaulback and Stuart McLean.

In the evening the title of the message was "The Truly Wise." Scripture was taken from the 3rd chapter of James.

This project, receiving encouragement from the Department of Agriculture, assures me that our Government is most anxious to help farmers find their way into the type of farming which is forcing the small farm unit out of existence. The keen competition in marketing felt across the continent forces our farmers to adopt the methods of production and marketing used by these competitors. These methods of production and marketing are being demonstrated by the Jamerson Project with the assistance of a progressive Department of Agriculture.

I wish, Sir, to express the gratitude of my constituency to the Minister of Agriculture and his staff for the encouragement given this venture and providing the way to a market for those who wish to follow the methods demonstrated by the operators of the project.

Red Cross Campaign In Progress

Reports that the Red Cross annual campaign for funds is well under way in Digby and vicinity were heard at the March business meeting of the Digby Red Cross Branch, held at the Court House last week, with a large number of workers in attendance. The town campaign is under the co-operation of the branch president, Mrs. R. B. Lent, assisted by Mrs. Allen Harris, while Alfred Grimmer is chairman of the campaign in the rural areas. Thanks were expressed for the donation of space in the Rexall Drug Store for a window display of Red Cross quilts, sewing and knitting, which were on exhibition the opening week of the campaign. The window featured a beautiful "Star" quilt, pieced by Mrs. Oscar VanTassel and quilted by members of the Women's Work Committee, which received many favorable comments and could have been sold several times over, had it not been Red Cross property and reserved for donation to victims of disaster at home or abroad.

Following the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Percy Robert, and the treasurer's report by Mrs. B. H. Ruggles, the report of the Women's Work Committee was presented by Mrs. H. M. Warne, showing the receipt of considerable new material for Red Cross sewing and knitting during February; also the shipment of finished articles to Halifax headquarters, including 6 quilts, 20 prs. infants' booties, 12 elderdown blankets, 12 prs. men's socks and 800 gauze wipes for the Blood Transfusion Service. Among the new materials received were heavy wool for mittens and over 30 yds. flannelette for local welfare work. Mrs. Warne expressed thanks to the many workers who were in attendance at the weekly meetings and who were also assisting with sewing and knitting at home, thus greatly increasing the work accomplished by the branch.

Mrs. George Winfield, in reporting for the Disaster Relief Committee, solicited donations of old blankets, sheets and towels which could be used for an elderly bed-patient in need of such assistance. One layette had been provided during the month, also clothing for another case, according to Mrs. Winfield's report, and she acknowledged 22 prs. children's mittens knit by Mrs. John Handsaker, also 20 prs. mittens and 2 children's caps knit by Mrs. Arthur Hersey, these being in preparation for Christmas boxes.

Dukeshire Heads Bear River Fire Commissioners

Walter Dukeshire was last week elected chairman of the Commissioners For Fire Protection at Bear River at the annual meeting held at the fire hall. Howard Yorke was re-elected secretary-treasurer and other directors are Curtis Rice and Denton Orde. Mr. Dukeshire succeeds Byard Marshall as chairman.

Reports for the year were presented, of which the treasurer's report showed total receipts to be $4,348.49, total expenses $3,844.07, leaving a balance of $504.42. Budget for 1966 includes $2,909.10 for maintenance, $700 for capital expenditures, to a total of $3,609.10. Mr. Yorke was commended for keeping tax arrears reduced each year. While the cash position was most favorable, the commission was reminded that the truck and equipment is growing older and repairs and replacements can be anticipated.

The report of Fire Chief A. C. Milner showed that the Bear River Fire Department had responded to a total of 34 calls during the year ending December 31, 1965. There were 18 fires in the town, causing

Son Fights To Clear Late Father's Name

While J. Patrick Nowlan, member for Digby-Annapolis-Kings in the federal government fought to have Prime Minister Pearson clear before the house the name of his late father, Hon. George Nowlan, in the Munsinger case, Mrs. Gerda Munsinger, according to reports on Wednesday is said to have stated that she never knew George Nowlan.

Pat Nowlan was elected last fall to the same seat in parliament which his father, one time minister of revenue and finance, held until his death last spring. J. Patrick is said to have stated that he would have to consider giving up his commons seat unless his father's name is cleared of all connections with the Munsinger case. The son is reported to not be satisfied with the statement of the prime minister when he said "George Nowlan was my friend, and a man for whom I had admiration and respect. Nothing I have read or seen in any report or anything has changed that admiration or respect or modified in any way the high regard I have had and always will have for him." J. Patrick described the statement as "equivocal".

The case arose in the House last week when Justice Minister Cardin linked the name of Mrs. Greta Munsinger, now in Germany, in an alleged sex-and-security case with members of the cabinet under the Diefenbaker government. The Conservatives demanded that Justice Minister Cardin name names to the Commons so that the names of innocent former Diefenbaker cabinet ministers would not bear the stigma of sex-and-security involvement.

After four days of many words and much anger and ranting over the affair, the Conservatives submitted to the government's terms of reference for a judicial inquiry into the sordid allegations made with regard to the whole Munsinger case.

Meanwhile, it is understood, that Conservatives in Digby-Annapolis-Kings are said to have stated that J. Patrick Nowlan would again be nominated if by any chance he should relinquish his seat over the affair.

Note: Through a report to the Courier, too late for this issue, it was learned that J. Patrick Nowlan will be heard on Valley radio stations at 6:15 p.m. on Sunday, March 20, (in Pat's words) "if we are still here."

damage of $8,865. In the Annapolis County protection area there were ten fires with no damage and in Digby County there were six, with damage amounting to $7,900. It was specially noted that of the above loss $6,065 loss was caused by starting grass fires. A $5,000 loss was believed to have started from smoking in a barn and a $1,000 loss by burning garbage.

It was made known that if residents wanted grass burned the fire department would undertake to burn it.

Four hundred and fifty man hours were spent at fires in 1965. There were seven false alarms.

During the year 500 feet of 2 1/2 inch hose and 400 feet of 1 1/2 inch hose was bought at a cost of $1,300. Mr. Milner reported. He suggested that a two-way radio be installed as soon as possible.

Mr. Marshall reported that three reservoirs were erected in 1965, one each on the properties of Ronald Rurdy, Dale Robbins and Benson's Meat Market.

Several changes in electrical wiring at the fire hall were recommended by M. H. Cox.

Digby-Saint John Ferry

(R. Baden Powell, M.L.A., N. S. Legislature)

Mr. Speaker:

I beg leave to draw attention of this House to the biggest obstruction to economic progress in my constituency and Sir, of the entire area from Middleton to Shelburne. This obstruction has been growing in adverse importance since 1930. I refer, Sir, to that solid barrier placed by the lack of transportation from our part of the Province to other provinces of Canada.

In 1928 a steamboat connected Annapolis Royal and Saint John, N. B. Five years before Confederation, before central government in Ottawa, the Nova Scotian Government realized the importance of a link between the villages and towns of Nova Scotia and Saint John, N. B. a link to carry on traffic between the two areas. An annual subsidy of $2,000 was paid to a Steamship Company to provide transportation between Windsor, Annapolis Royal and Saint John.

Forty years ago six independent steamship companies provided connections with Bridgetown, Annapolis Royal, Bear River, Digby, Weymouth and Yarmouth with Saint John, N. B., and so eliminated the long rail haul around the Bay of Fundy on goods consigned to or from New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario. These steamers gave competitive rates and also carried on trade between towns and villages of Nova Scotia.

In 1929 the Eastern Canada Coastal Company bought out most small companies so that control of these steamers was centered principally with East C.P.R. For various reasons Eastern Canada Coastal discontinued service after service until only the Yarmouth-Saint John motor vessel, which also serviced Long and Brier Islands, and the Digby-Saint John service remained. In the spring of 1965 the Yarmouth-Saint John service ceased to operate.

These small steamers served well the economy of our section of the Province for approximately one century. But trucks have taken over much of the trade that formerly found outlet by sea. But the truck carriers stop on the wharf at Digby, beside the ship which brings and takes away commodities to and from Annapolis, Digby and Yarmouth Counties to and from the rest of Canada. The alternative route is the long road haul up the Valley, then to Amherst, hundreds of extra miles added to charges by the carriers.

The present ship and landing facilities at Digby can accommodate nothing larger than a half-ton truck. Truck transportation so essential to present day industry cannot be accommodated across the Bay of Fundy by way of Saint John. Bus service with tourist coming to our section of the

Omar Blinn Heads Co-op

Willard Dornier was guest speaker at a banquet of St. Mary's Co-operative Ltd. held at Dugas' Restaurant at Little Brook for members and friends. Mr. Dornier spoke on the work that co-operatives have undertaken in Canada with a brief account of the formation of the Maritime co-operative services with headquarters at Moncton.

Co-operative stores' profits remain in the area and the movement is a safeguard to control. The trend in business today, stated Mr. Dornier, is to be gobbled up by national concerns with profits leaving the area. Co-operatives are good for the community and the residents.

A film entitled "Together" was shown by William Lefort, agricultural representative of the region, which showed what co-operatives are doing for Sweden.

Over 50 Percent Nursing Visits Outside Town

Forty-four years of service in Digby were completed by the Victorian Order of Nurses at the close of the year 1965. It was noted in the Nurse's Report, at the annual meeting of the Digby Branch, held Monday afternoon, March 14, at Trinity Parish Hall. The vice-president, Rev. R. H. Hughes, presided in the absence of the president, John Nichols.

The president's report showed an active year with increased costs, as a result of expansion in services. The secretary, Mrs. Wilmo Christie, reported 11 meetings held during the year with average attendance of 13. Mrs. H. R. Bishop, in her treasurer's report, showed a total of $1,367.84 had been raised through various projects with total revenue amounting to $5,486. Letter On Causeway Encouraging

Frank Miller, of Smith's Cove, informed The Digby Courier this week that he had an encouraging letter from Hon. Stephen T. Pyke, Minister of Highways for Nova Scotia, after a visit of a local delegation to the office of the minister last week in the interest of a causeway across Bear River to replace the Victoria bridge. Mr. Pyke expressed his interest in the petition, and the delegation's presentation of the local people's views regarding the major project and stated that he wanted to do his best to provide facilities to meet the approval of the public. He stated to Mr. Miller that the department would further examine the whole problem with the object of discovering whether a causeway is practicable and within the financial resources of the department to meet the requests of the petition.

Those who went to Halifax last week to present the petition were Mr. Miller; Allison Denton, president of the Bear River Board of Trade; A. L. Robinson, Digby, and P. H. Take, a retired engineer living at Bear River. R. Baden Powell, M.L.A., was also present at the meeting and introduced the delegation.

Mr. Miller said that the petition presented and bearing 1,035 signatures, urged the replacement of the present bridge built in 1887, and which has become inadequate for present needs, with a causeway. It pointed out that a causeway would provide a permanent crossing and would not require the repairs and maintenance of a steel bridge.

It was also stated that the Dominion Atlantic Railway bridge, which crosses the river mouth close to the present highway bridge, is nearing the time when it will also require replacement and a causeway would satisfy both needs of a highway and railway bridge.

The petition further stated that the construction of a causeway, with controlled level, at or near the three-quarter tide mark, permitting entry of sea water, would create a valuable recreation area for use by local inhabitants and for promotion of tourism in the area. An ample supply of appropriate material for the construction of a causeway is available immediately adjacent to the site, it was stated in the petition.

It was also denied in the petition that a causeway across the mouth of the Bear River would create any hazard, or obstruction to commercial use of the river by vessels. It was stated that no ship has used the river, for the purpose of navigation, during the last nine years. It was further stated that the petitioners understood that both bridges crossing the river have been sealed and cannot be opened to permit passage of vessels.

Witnesses To Hold Convention In Digby

Digby has been chosen as the site for the next semi-annual convention for Jehovah's Witnesses of Western Nova Scotia. Mr. H. McLaren, presiding Minister of the Digby congregation, announced last week. The theme of the convention is "Make Disciples of People of All the Nations". The convention will be held April 8, 9, 10. About 300 delegates are expected. "The purpose of the Digby Convention is to provide additional Bible instruction for the Witnesses, and to enable them to apply Bible principles more fully to their everyday lives," Mr. McLaren stated.

The local witnesses will be calling on the hotels and motels, as well as on the residents of Digby at their homes seeking accommodations for the many visitors expected. "Warm hospitality was shown us the last time we had such a convention here," said McLaren, "and we are sure that this time the same warm-hearted response will be forthcoming."

Mrs. Douglas Allen, Toronto, is visiting her son, William R. Allen and Mrs. Allen, Birch St.

Library Well Under Way

At a meeting Thursday evening of the Digby Library Association it was unanimously decided to use the second floor of the old Salvation Army building, on Water Street, as library headquarters. The building has been made available, rent free, through the generosity of John R. Nichols. Thursday's meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Donald F. Brown, Queen Street.

Association by-laws were drawn up and pro-tem chairman of various committees appointed. Election of officers will take place at a meeting to be held tonight (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. Calerie McKendry, Montague Row.

It was decided that local clubs, churches and organizations as well as certain colleges, publishing companies and individuals be contacted by mail requesting their support.

On Thursday afternoon a small group representing the association visited Miss Constance Carr's library in Weymouth North. Many helpful suggestions were made available to the association.

The Digby Library is to be a free public library, open to all. Persons may become members of the association by paying a minimum fee of $1.00. Donations over $10.00 entitle the member to a sustaining membership. The library is to be operated solely on a volunteer basis with no paid salaries. It is anticipated that a great many public spirited citizens will offer their assistance.

Draws 9-10 Years For Manslaughter

A 9 to 10 year sentence in Walpole, Mass., was meted out recently to an ex-convict who pleaded guilty before Judge Lewis Goldberg in Suffolk Superior Court for manslaughter in the death of Lawrence McEwan, 52, of Ashford St., Alton.

The prosecution charged that Ralph K. Kitchell, 34, of Heath St., Jamaica Plain, pushed McEwan down an elevator shaft in a building at 66 Thayer St., South End.

The incident occurred Oct. 22, 1964, and was at first believed to be an accident. It was not until July, 1965, that the woman involved had a twinge of conscience and reported the incident.

Lawrence was a son of the late John McEwan, of Bear River.

Digby Needs

Digby Needs some suitable erection in tribute to Thomas A. Edison who gave a gift to mankind in the utilization of electrical power. What worry says our suggester, whether Edison's grandfather lived at Conway, Marshalltown, or any other place in Digby County? Everybody thinks of Digby having the Edison connection so why not have something erected in the town and avoid any discord for establishing a location, was the further suggestion.

You know, we think that suggestion is worth something. How about it?

The next suggestion was that Digby Needs more parents who take an interest in their children's activities in school, church and community.

Also see a letter in this issue for further suggestions.

Youth & Parents Get Blame

Our intention was to write about youth and their foolishness in depriving themselves of the very things which they seek. But just before we pried up this pen to write the phone rang making a suggestion that Digby needs parents who take more interest in youth — even their very own flesh and blood children. So, here we go.

We were prompted to write about an incident which happened, not in Digby, but, in altogether another province than Nova Scotia. The school was having open house and so high school students from other nearby high schools were invited. Rather than appreciate the kind invitation, some of the students obtained alcoholic drinks, became unruly and gave the teachers chaperoning the function one hectic time. What did they get from the racket? Nothing except that they have now deprived themselves and their friends of any further such invitations. These probably are the same students who complain of nothing to do for entertainment. The truth is that they don't have the very privileges which they crave to enjoy. We cited but one incident. All incidents do not go down the same. As parents are not alone but the youth are also responsible for the incidents by permitting the situation to develop.

That Forum

Youth needs, parents need to channel their energy.

So Kind To Us

There are those times when we wonder what our readers make of some editorials and news copy which we find out to be duds by no fault of our own. For instance, last week the editor prepared the column About This And That and then took a few days leave, only to return and find the typist had played tricks on the most important argument in the editorial. We meant to argue that we need wharves and to state that one fisherman had $40,000 boats laid up all winter and 30 to 40 men were therefore unemployed. The typist neglected to release the zeros and we had 3 or 4 men instead. Quite a difference! Especially when these figures are multiplied in case of five or six other fishermen who employ men. Oh, well, this gives us another opportunity to plug for more wharves.

And while we are on this particular strain we would like Jane to know that many are the compliments which come to our desk by letter, phone or personal visit in favor of the column "Coffee at Jane's". Thanks to "Jane" and thank you, all you readers, who have been so kind to tell us that you like "Coffee at Jane's" so much.

Each section was deftly introduced by Mrs. Elliott with either a poem, scripture reading a brief story or a dialogue to illustrate the meaning of each section.

Highlight of the service was the meditation eloquently read by Mrs. C. Chute.

Mr. Ivan Raymore of the Christian Church who evoked prayers throughout the service and 23 women, members of the two churches. What's New In

Cornwallis To Host Windsor Sunday

The largest crowd of the season is expected out when the Windsor Maple Leafs meet the Cornwallis Cougars in Cornwallis Sunday, March 20, at 3:00 p.m., in the second game of a two game total goal series. The first game will be played in Windsor Saturday night at 7:00 p.m.

The Cougars expect to run up against their toughest opposition so far in their quest for the Provincial and Maritime title they won last year. Windsor has swept aside all opposition in their playoffs including the Halifax Armed Forces team.

In exhibition games the Maple Leafs have split games with the Intermediate "A" Brookfield Elks (who eliminated Greenwood last weekend) and they downed the Kentville Wildcats, another Intermediate "A" club.

The winner of this round will be declared Nova Scotia Mainland Champions and will meet the Cape Breton winner April 28. First game will be played on the mainland.

CYO Ice Sports

In the first game of the finals, Digby fell before the onslaught of Weymouth's power and went down to a defeat of five to two. Weymouth won on the strength of goals by John Comeau (3), D. LeFort and Rennie LeFort. Digby's goals were scored by Bill Nickerson and John Amaro.

Digby might have won the game if not for the outstanding goal tending of the Weymouth goalie. These teams now advance into the second game of the finals on this coming Sunday evening at six o'clock.

Digby's grim broomball team under the coaching of Anthony Saulnier did much better. Fighting to a 2-2 tie at the end of regular play they went into a sudden death overtime. But at 5:40 of the first overtime period Weymouth scored to win their second game of the evening clinching the first game of the broomball finals.

Win In Two Straight Games

Meteghan won two straight games in a best three of five finals series of the WCIL when they defeated Belliveau Cove Thunderbirds 1-3 in a fast and close game. The Thunderbirds lost the service of their goalie, Alain Comeau, when he was cut near the eye with a flying puck early in the third period and Meteghan played with but nine men.

Meteghan led 2-1 in the first period when J. P. Wallace scored two and Coral Amirault scored a single for the Thunderbirds.

Coral Amirault put the Thunderbirds ahead 3-2 early in the third period and J. P. Wallace scored his third game of the game and Gerard Comeau scored a single for Meteghan clinching the game.

Plan Sports Night

FERRY

Prox. from New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario, following a Canadian route are geographically barred from our part of the Province. A tourist with a trailer is turned back at the wharf at Saint John.

We, in the counties of Annapolis, Digby and Yarmouth can not expect favorable consideration by industrial concerns, looking for location of plants, while the present transportation problem prevails in our area.

We can expect no increase of bus tours to our part of the Province from the rest of Canada, following Canadian highways, until the present transportation facilities across the Bay of Fundy is capable of carrying the trade of the present day with rates to make such travel feasible.

I am informed from different sources that an outstanding obstacle to expansion of business in the area is the poor transportation which is now available to Western Nova Scotia for interprovincial trade. I have been formed of work in one industry being suspended for a period of time, waiting for fittings which took three weeks in transit from Ontario.

We in Western Nova Scotia must lag behind the rest of the Province principally because the Bay of Fundy service is not equipped to carry out the demands made by present day economic and industrial activity.

Today's business and industry demand portal to portal transportation. That demand is not being met in Western Nova Scotia and until it is we will continue to lag behind the rest of the Province. With transportation rates as they are and the uncertainty of delivery of goods to Western Nova Scotia from the rest of Canada, the problem should be first on water transportation problems of Eastern Canada.

At the turn of the century the D.A.R. too over the rail service from Halifax to Yarmouth, which had been in three units from Halifax to Windsor, the Annapolis-Windorsor Railway and the Western Counties Railway from Annapolis to Yarmouth. At the same time the D.A.R., anxious to consolidate, ran steamers from Digby to Saint John and from Yarmouth to Boston. The D.A.R. bought out competition where it existed.

Now from recent press articles we gather the C.P.R. is prepared to opt out its commitments in Western Nova Scotia and the Annapolis Valley. Curtailment of D.A.R. rail service and the refusal to go along with modern demands of an attempt to discourage passenger rail service by excessive rates, makes it imperative that the Federal government take over the entire system and holdings of the C.P.R. and incorporating them in the C.N.R.

If my memory serves me right, the founding of the C.N.R. was promoted for that very purpose — continuation of essential service in rail and sea transportation in places where private ownership had been unable to carry on such services. So in advancing this take-over by the C.N.R. we have historical precedent to justify our demands. We have examples within our own Province. When I was a boy the Intercolonial came to Halifax, the Halifax and South Western rail service from Yarmouth to the Prince Arthur and Prince
George sailed from Yarmouth to an American port.

With three C.N.R. ferries operating in the Bay of Fundy year round service can be sustained at two outlets from Western Nova Scotia, one to New England and one to Saint John, N. B.

Employee problems will arise but surely arrangements can be made so the rights of section of the province.

The report of the Ways and Means Committee, prepared by Mrs. Ralph Berwick, showed a balance of $15.51 on hand, after receipts of $11.45 from Ten Cent Teas and donations, and expenditures of $21.17 during the past month. The sum of $100 had been paid to the branch treasurer in February to assist with the major expenditures of the Branch. Its amount having been procured of Ten Cent Teas and upon sales held in connection with Red Cross meetings.

The report on Sickroom Equipment acknowledged with thanks the donation of one pair of crutches by Rev. Mr. P. Ke.
Authorization was also given for the purchase of 6 pairs of new adjustable crutches, these being in replacement of a number of pairs of crutches which have been borrowed and not returned during recent months.
It was hoped that contact could be made with some of the hospital patients who had received crutches on leaving hospital and that the crutches could be recovered by the branch, as their loss meant not only a drain on Red Cross funds, but also the frequent failure to keep enough crutches on hand to supply other calls as they are received.

In concluding the meeting, the president reported that a total of 30 members had registered for the T.V. Red Cross Home Nursing Course
now being programmed by Station CHSJ, and that there had been an attendance of 15 at the first practice session given by Mrs. Sidney Smith, R.N., Chairman of the Nursing Services Committee of the branch. Refreshments were served following the business session, and the proceeds again added to the funds of the Ways & Means Committee.

employees can be transferred ing seniority and pension privileges. These can be carefully of the two transportation companies and the various unions.

Mr. Speaker, I feel the time has come for definite measures to be taken to give modern ferry connections between Western Nova Scotia and the rest of Canada and an efficient rail service from Yarmouth to Halifax through the Valley, with rates comparable with those standard throughout Canada.

This, Sir, would give us in Western Nova Scotia the assurance that we are still a part of Canada and so recognized by Ottawa. We, in the outpost of the Province, hope the benevolent Government of Ottawa, of which we are heirs so much of the late will expend some of its generosity in a tangible manner. We hope we do not receive a two and a half million dollar promise which will melt away in a spring thaw as happened in 1965.

I make no apologies for treating a Federal matter in this Assembly. The problem affects all of us in Western Nova Scotia, if not in passenthe Halifax and South Western rail service from Yarmouth to the Prince Arthur and Prince
George sailed from Yarmouth

EDUCATION

Educate them against all wrong.
Teach them faith that is true and strong.
Give them knowledge that greed and hate
Makes no man good nor great.

minds
The love of country, that binds
Race and color and creed.
As one in the time of need.
Help them to pattern their love
Of man, by the Pattern above.
That the world may truly see
What a country united can be.
Education! A weapon more Effective than any war.
This is the Canadian way
We must leave to our children some day.

And education will be
The power to keep them free.

Wildcat & Man

Equally Startled

A large wildcat was shot by John Haight at North Range on Friday. The animal measuring three feet in length was first seen near the site of the former D.A.R. station and apparently was having a meal from an old porcupine carcass.
It was startled and growled angrily.

Mr. Haight reported that he was just as startled as the cat and quickly returned home for a gun which minutes later put an end to the vicious creature.

Patron Of Canadian Library Week

Mr. Pearson's message reads:

I welcome with deep pleasure the opportunity offered me, once again, to lend my patronage to Canadian Library Week.

Canadian Library Week aims at focussing attention on the wonderful world of books which is there for us to discover and enjoy. Through books we can all enlighten our minds with the thoughts of those, living or dead, who have left a legacy rich in experience, profound in thought and delightful in entertainment.

This year's theme of "Reading a Key to a Changing World" invites us to reflect on the important role which books play in our pursuit of a better world, by making human knowledge readily accessible to all. Books become an invaluable instrument in man's step-by-step conquest of the almost infinite sphere of intellectual activity. It is through the knowledge found in books that man derives inspiration for still greater creative work.

The general accessibility of books of all kinds makes it a greater necessity for each of us to become more selective in our choice of reading material. There exists an art of reading, but there also exists the important art of distinguishing the books which are worth reading. It is this second art that has made the role of the professional librarian so much more important to all of us. From the young child whose enquiring mind awakes for the first time to this source of knowledge to the professional who is involved in highly specialized research work, the librarian brings to their assistance his knowledge and experience, and through his competence it becomes possible for anyone to obtain the works of quality which best suit the need for which they are required.

My love of books, and of good books, makes it a privilege and pleasure to commend Library Week to all.

50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weir, Victoria Beach, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Tuesday, March 15th.

A party in their honor was held at the home of Mrs. Weir's sister, Mrs. Clifford Coolen, and Mr. Coolen, Port Wade.

Among other guests attending were two other sisters, Mrs. Harry Nokes, and Mr. Nokes, of Saint John, N. B., and Mrs. Bessie Morgan, of Annapolis Royal. Also one brother, Mr. Loran Ellis, and Mrs. Ellis, of Port Wade, attended.

The couple was presented with a set of large table lamps and other items.

Refreshments were served, including a wedding cake, which was cut in the traditional manner.

Will Celebrate Birthday

Willis Tibbets, of Brighton, Digby County, will be 85 on March 28. He will be at home on the 29th.

Many know of Mr. Tibbets' generous acts, especially at Christmas time when still at the age of 84 he made his annual visits on Christmas Eve with toys and goodies for children in the community.

R. Baden Powell M.L.A. and Mrs. Powell, Plympton, were in Digby on Monday enroute to Halifax where Mr. Powell is attending the Nova Scotia Legislature sessions.

Approximately Forty Boats In Digby On Seining Operations

Approximately forty boats connected with the seining operations, mostly from the New Brunswick shores, were in Digby on Wednesday and berthed at the Digby Fisheries wharf. These included 21 seiners, 10 pumpers and approximately 10 carriers and/or scalers.

In New Brunswick there are restrictions placed on seining of herring over a large area of the Bay of Fundy which grants considerable protection to the weir fishermen there. In Nova Scotia there are, no such restrictions and New Brunswick seiners take advantage of the Bay of Fundy waters on the Nova Scotia coast much to the disapproval of Nova Scotia fishermen. The subject has been one of heated controversy for some time, bringing resolutions to the federal government from Boards of Trade and other organizations throughout the whole Valley area to Long and Brier Islands, Digby and Clare. These have been supported by Affiliated Boards and Atlantic Boards.

One weir fisherman complained bitterly to The Digby Courier on Wednesday stating that four of these New Brunswick seiners had fished near his weir and he estimated they had taken about four hundred hogsheads of herring. In his complaints he brought to the attention of The Digby Courier that there were approximately forty boats tied up at the fishermen's wharf at the time and practically all the regular scallop fleet was out fishing. "Come with your camera," the fisherman said, "and get a good picture to go along with your Digby Needs column. Surely, the federal government will see the desperate need for better wharf accommodation."

Accommodation for the scallop and general fishing industry at Digby is at a low ebb with some seventeen boats, at times, having to be crossed to get from the last moored boat to the wharf. Add to these the forty boats engaged directly or indirectly in the seining operations and the situation becomes what the fishermen consider "intolerable." "Insult to injury" is added, they think, when the New Brunswick seiners operate out of here because of the fact that a law forbids them to operate in certain areas of the Bay of Fundy on the New Brunswick side, protecting the weir fishermen there and penalizing those on the Nova Scotia side who are not getting the same protection.

Capt. Clarke At Baptist Church

Work on the extension project of the Baptist Church of Digby is now proceeding quickly with the engagement of carpenters to complete the job. Much of the preparatory work on the interior had been done during the winter by voluntary labor under the direction of Bernard Bell.

The enlarged choir room and two extra classrooms are receiving their finishing touches. Carpenters are also engaged in renovating the main vestibule of the church. This is a project supported by the members of the C.G.I.T.

Members of the C.G.I.T. groups formed a portion of the choir at the youth service held in the Baptist Church last Saturday evening. They were assisted by a similar group from Grace United Church, Capt. W. Clarke, of the Salvation Army, gave the message and sang several selections at the service.

Capt. Clarke was guest speaker at the service in the Hill Grove church last Sunday afternoon. Building his message in word and song around the events of the last days of Jesus before He went to the Cross, Capt. Clarke held the close attention of the congregation. Capt. Fred Beach assisted in the service.

The pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, announced to his congregation at Digby on Sunday morning that class in preparation of candidates for baptism and church membership is now being held every Sunday morning following the worship service.

Mrs. M. S. Leonard is in Halifax this week on business.

"Penny" Gott Heads Mental Health

A successful year for the Digby County Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association was indicated in reports presented at the annual meeting held at the Digby Community Mental Health Centre. According to the Financial Report, total income for the association during the year 1965 amounted to $3,439. This included campaign receipts of $2,339. Expenditures totalled $2,905, including $2,854 for the support of the Digby Mental Health Centre.

In his report the retiring president, V. G. Cardoza, paid tribute to the organizers and canvassers in last year's campaign. The results of the campaign were the greatest to date and indicated a growing interest in the work of the association.

The report of the secretary noted completion of resource handbooks in the field of education and welfare and it was also stated that a survey had been made in an effort to determine the usefulness of the handbooks. This indicated that they are proving of great help.

Dr. R. A. Armstrong, executive director of the Digby-Annapolis Mental Health Service Board, Inc., reported on the work of the Mental Health Centres in Digby and Bridgetown. The total number of interviews conducted by the clinic staff were as follows: psychiatrist - 1,764; psychologist - 615; social worker - 287 plus 73 family interviews. Dr. Armstrong expressed appreciation of the support given to the Mental Health Centre in Digby by the association.

Andrew Crook, executive director of the Nova Scotia Division of C.M.H.A., complimented Digby branch on its efforts during the year and paid tribute to the branch for their contribution to the 1965 annual conference of the Nova Scotia division. He noted that this year's annual meeting would be in Halifax during April and stated that the emphasis at the meeting would be on education.

During the business session the board of directors for 1966/7 was elected, and at a meeting of the board in a special session the officers for the year were elected as follows:—

President: Mrs. M. P. Gott; Vice-President: Rev. H. S. Hartlin; Secretary: Mrs. N. M. Armstrong; Treasurer: Ed. Twohig.

Dragger Burns, Crew Safe

The scallop dragger, Ferguson, beached and burned on the Bay of Fundy shore near Culloden, Digby County, Saturday.

The vessel sent out a distress call Saturday morning and reported a fire in her engine room. An Argus aircraft from Greenwood spotted the Ferguson beached and burning.

A coast guard vessel took off the two man crew, Frank Comeau and his son. Neither was injured.

Guides & C.G.I.T. Hold Service

The C.G.I.T. of Grace United Church and the Girl Guides combined for a Day of Prayer service held at Grace United on Friday evening.

A welcome was extended by Rev. R. H. Hughes and the call to worship was by Miss Mary Hawkins.

Parts of the service were taken by Miss Barbara Wenau, Confession and Penitence; Miss Ann Burroughs, Adoration and Thanksgiving; Miss Mary Lou Rice, Act of Dedication; Miss Laura Daley, Intercession.

The story was read by Miss Julie Warner and the scripture by Miss Heather Halliday. Offering was received by the Misses Mary Lou Rice, Beth McInnis, Jeanette Cornwell, and Bonnie Warner. Miss Rebekah Trask was usher.

The C.G.I.T. sang an anthem and Rev. H. S. Hartlin pronounced the benediction.

Back To Ottawa

J. Patrick Nowlan, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Digby-Annapolis - Kings, was back in his Commons seat Monday.

Mr. Nowlan left the Commons last Tuesday as a gesture against Liberal reluctance to clear his late father from involvement in the Munsinger case.

At his home in Wolfville Sunday, Mr. Nowlan said "the duty to my constituents transcends my personal emotional reaction to the situation."

He said he had made his "protest and point" and that he would stand again after the judicial inquiry into the case is completed "and ask that the record that carries this oblique reference be clarified."

Mr. Nowlan said he had received overwhelming sympathy from his supporters and constituents in his move but there had been, in some cases, misunderstanding as to "the distinction between not sitting in the House and resigning from the House."

Band Concert In April

An event of great interest to many people of Digby and the county will take place in the auditorium of the Digby Regional High School when the Foxcroft Academy Concert Band and Varsity Choir will present a concert on the evening of April 21st.

Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Digby, the Band Concert group, the Varsity Choir and the Majorettes, comprising in all about 103 members, will present a two-hour long concert for the enjoyment of music lovers.

Headed by Mrs. Lilla Atherton and Roger M. Thorne, of the Foxcroft Academy of Dover-Foxcroft, Maine, the large music party will arrive in Digby on Thursday, April 21st. Previous to their arrival here they will have presented their concerts in Yarmouth and Liverpool.

Foxcroft Academy enjoys the distinction of building up one of the largest high school concert bands in the State of Maine and also a varsity choir of over 100 personnel. They have performed in a number of places with great acceptance.

A street parade of the concert party is also being planned by the Kiwanis Club on their arrival here.

While in Digby the members of the large travelling travelling group will be entertained in Digby homes.

Early Frog

Spring arrived on Monday, and with it came news of early arrivals — flowers, birds, yes, and frogs! A certain frog wasted no time coming out of winter hibernation. Clyde Roop brought the frog on a "visit" to the Courier office. It was found on the Digby Pines property where Mr. Roop is maintenance man.

Mrs. Thurber Featured In Magazine

The February 1966 edition of "The Canadian Composer" contained a feature story with picture of Digby's Helen R. Thurber.

The magazine, published in Toronto for Composers, Authors and Publishers Association of Canada Ltd., says "Mrs. Helen R. Thurber, enterprising composer-conchologist, of Digby, Nova Scotia, literally harvests the sea when she is not courting the Muses or engaging in her many other activities. Born in a light-house off the coast of Nova Scotia, she has composed music inspired by the sea and has now opened the Maritime Shell Shop where curios from the sea bounding the East Coast are sold.

"In the winter of 1964, Mrs. Thurber collected shells, drift-wood, fish nets, buoys, skates, egg shells and seaweed from the shores of Annapolis Basin, St. Mary's Bay, and the Bay of Fundy. From them she fashioned candle holders, jewellery, ornaments and ash-trays.

"When she opened her shop in Digby last year, the decor featured orange fish nets, spider crabs, stone crabs, hermit crabs, lobsters, seaweed and star fish. After an appearance on television in Halifax, many people brought her strange sea denizens and she became a researcher and lecturer on sea life.

"She has been granted permission to use the Nova Scotia tartan to bedeck her curios. Her work has been displayed at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto and has been submitted for Expo '67.

Four of Mrs. Thurber's compositions have been recorded on Dominion label. They are: Eight Sails in the Breeze, Ballad of the Bluese, Land of Blue, Blue Tartan, and Hello Maritimes, published by Canadian Music Sales, Toronto. Currently she is composing a book of "Songs of the Maritimes."

Observe Mothering Sunday

Mothering Sunday was celebrated this week at St. Anne's Anglican Church, in Smith's Cove, and was attended by the parish A.Y.P.A. with Wayne James in charge, assisted by David Sutherland, of St. Edward's and Reed Darres, of St. John's as readers.

Padre Hatfield, of Cornwallis, was preacher. After the service Simmel cake was served at tea in the church crypt. This cake is an old English "receipt" and is not too unlike a Dundee cake and is traditional for the fourth Sunday of Lent.

Reorganization Weymouth Board Of Trade

The Weymouth Board of Trade, which has been more or less dormant for the past two years, was reorganized at a dinner meeting held at the Goodwin Hotel on Wednesday. Mr. Emanuel Adelaar, director of the Maritime Board of Trade and director of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, presided as chairman. He outlined the functions of the Board and the many advantages which accrue from the activities of the association.

Two past presidents, R. S. Hallett and A. E. Jones, spoke briefly on the past achievements of the Board and urged all members for their continued support.

The following directors and officers were elected for the current year:

President, K. O. Sweeney; vice-president, Desi Belliveau; secretary, D. C. MacNeill; treasurer, Perley Charlton; membership committee, Emanuel Adelaar; public affairs committee, A. E. Jones; transportation committee, Ronald D. Kinney; tourist committee, Roy Rice; retail merchants committee, Desi Belliveau.

A discussion on retail store hours came under review and it was decided that the executive of the board would meet with the local merchants to finalize changes currently being studied. It was also recommended that the executive look into the question of increasing the power output of the T.V. satellite station in Digby and thus make this outlet available to the citizens of this area.

Immediately following the general meeting the new executive met and discussed plans for the ensuing year. The executive will meet monthly on the second Tuesday, except for the months of July and August.

A brochure depicting the advantages of Weymouth as a vacation resort, which had been widely distributed a few years ago, is to be updated and reprinted.

Books Donated To Library

At a meeting of the Digby Library Association, held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Valerie McKendry, proposed by-laws were discussed and revised. Copies of the Declaration of Intention were also presented and a few minor revisions made.

The library building, on Water Street, is open for a period each day, and a number of generous citizens have stopped with contributions of books, chairs, and other items during these hours.

It is expected that association officers will be elected at a meeting of trustees to be held this evening.

Miss Arnold Gives Fine Performance

In September 1962 Carolyn Arnold, a young contralto from Digby, began her studies at Acadia University School of Music as a 'voice major'. Her previous experience had been limited to school music and a few appearances in her native Digby.

It was a pleasant and rewarding experience, therefore, to many musical and other discerning Digbyans who attended Miss Arnold's graduation recital last week in Wolfville's University Hall. In the four intervening years the enthusiastic school girl had accomplished a remarkable metamorphosis. She had become a charming and elegant recitalist who enjoyed the confidence and approbation of her audience from first to last.

Her program was typical Acadia School of Music repertoire and it would assuredly have been a challenge to a far more seasoned performer. 'Attila's Song' from Purcell's 'Don Quixote' was sung with warmth and style and with a good deal of authority. The lower range of the voice seemed lighter than on previous occasions and the intonation took a little time to settle down.

It was apparent that Miss Arnold was more comfortable in Schumann's 'Frauenliebe und Leben' for in this work she was able to display the subtle colouring of her voice in presenting the changing moods of the work.

A short operatic group followed, consisting of two arias, 'Che Faro, senza Euridice' from Gluck's 'Orfeo' and 'Connaistu le Pays', a poignant aria from Thomas' seldom performed 'Mignon'. Again the changing moods were well realized, though in the Gluck aria the intonation was slightly faulty.

Three songs by French composers concluded the first half of the program — and here Miss Arnold was very successful indeed. The high levels of voice were heard to advantage and technically the tone was always under control. In Poulenc's 'Physique' there were a number of rhythmic errors but the artist recovered well and never lost the charm and poise which characterized the whole program.

Five selections from Herbert Hughes' collection of Irish County Songs concluded the recital, and here elegance gave place to witty charm and friendliness which made a splendid setting for the whimsical humour of Irish folklore. Miss Arnold's offerings were enthusiastically received and there can be little doubt that she has the ability to communicate and interpret, which is the hallmark of the professional recitalist.

Miss Arnold, who studied under Professor Leonard Mayo, was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. M. J. Kalejs, also a professor on the Acadia University staff.

Miss Arnold's stage appearance was one of beauty, poise and grace. Her tasteful attire of a floor length royal blue velvet gown cut on straight slender lines, sleeveless and low neck line, above elbow white gloves, a single strand of pearls and silver bracelet complimented her gracious manner. The stage at University Hall, adorned with baskets of yellow roses, added to the whole setting.

Following the recital a reception was held at Dennis Hall where Carolyn, her mother, and David Nielsen, of Fredericton, received the guests. Mrs. Ethel Kinsman, dean of women at Acadia University, and Mrs. Kalejs arranged the reception and Mrs. Kinsman presided over the tea cups at a table centred with mums and roses. Student friends of Miss Arnold served, among them being Miss Leslie Anderson, Digby, formerly of Acadia University.

Those from Digby who attended the recital were Miss Arnold's mother, Mrs. Elton Arnold, and grandmother, Mrs. Gordon Arnold; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Snow; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Atkinson; Mrs. E. H. Anderson, Leslie and Ian; Mrs. J. M. Wallis; Miss Deldre Morrell; Mrs. Norma Joy; Miss Carol Young; Miss Lynn Nickerson; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wright; Mrs. Gerald Wilson;

Receive Caps

Miss Patricia Hankinson

Miss Greta Miller

Miss Cheryl Tidd

Miss Patricia Hankinson, of Weymouth, Miss Greta Miller, Smith's Cove, and Miss Cheryl Tidd, Little River, were among the student nurses who received their caps at the Yarmouth Regional Hospital Friday, March 11.

Capt. Clarke At Kiwanis

Capt. W. Clarke, of the Salvation Army was the guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Club held in the New Scotia Restaurant last Thursday evening.

It being St. Patrick's Day, Capt. Clarke sang several Irish songs accompanied by music from his accordion. This was the second visit of Capt. Clarke to the club, having been the guest speaker at a meeting of the club last year during his visit to Digby.

Definite arrangements are being made by the club for the forthcoming visit to Digby of the Foxcroft Academy Band and Varsity Choir. Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Digby, the Band and Choir with a total of about 103 members, will present a concert in the Digby Regional High School auditorium on Thursday, April 21st.

The Easter Seal drive, sponsored by the club, is now well underway, and upwards of 2,000 letters and seals have been mailed to prospective contributors. The funds are used to aid crippled children.

Kiwanis Lieut. Governor, M. Fred Colpee, of Shelburne, was a visitor to the club meeting and gave a brief address.

Mrs. Emerson Graham and Mrs. William Marshall. Also attending were Miss Margaret Snow, Halifax; Miss Marilyn Atkinson, Acadia University; Mrs. Gordon Campbell, Weymouth; Mrs. E. C. Churchill and Mrs. Eva Wendell, Acadia University staff, all formerly of Digby. The large audience included many relatives and friends from Halifax, Kentville and other Valley points, besides several members of the faculty and students of the university.

Women Present Gift

Mrs. Barton welcomed the guests, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Cossaboom, Miss Hattie and Mrs. J. M. Wallis.

During the business period it was planned that a course under the Home Economics Department in Home Decorating and Home Sewing would be undertaken by the Institute.

Two fund raising projects were planned — a rummage sale on April 23 and a sale of vanilla to obtain a coffee urn.

About This And That

Citizenship Day

In less than two months, May 20, to be exact, Canadians will celebrate Citizenship Day. Early to think of it, maybe, but who is there in Canada so apathetic as not to be aware at any time that he is a citizen of Canada. It is just natural to think of Citizenship Day.

Citizenship Day should be an important event in 1966. Leading up to that "all out" recognition of Canada's Centennial in 1967. Quoting from Citizen, a publication issued by the Department of Citizenship and Immigration, "Citizenship Day is not a public holiday, but a day on which many school authorities, community organizations and public bodies take the opportunity to sponsor exercises and observances stressing the value, privilege and responsibility of citizenship".

Citizenship carries with it responsibility as quoted above. It requires responsibility in the highest of places in our Canadian life and down to the lowliest of stations. By example of others, we learn good citizenship. Therefore, we would not want to see schools re-enact the drama of the 27th Canadian Parliament as a Citizenship Day exercise. There might have been a time when teacher and pupils could have picked up Hansard and quoted words of wisdom in characterizing leaders of government. But you can't do it from the Hansards of 1966 for it could be possible that there would be little to choose from except the Spencer and Munsinger cases recorded. Such drama would not serve to produce good ordinary Canadian citizens, much less to aid in developing good responsible leaders for future Canadian governments.

Citizenship Day in Canada should be a day when we can stick out our chests and tell how proud we are to be a citizen of Canada. Can we do this today? We hope there will come a day when we can forget such disturbances as Rivard, Spencer, and Munsinger affairs. Then we'll again be proud to say "we are citizens of Canada". Sad, but true, it could be possible that Citizenship Day, 1967, Canada's Centennial year, might slip by before our resurrection from the "death blows" caused by recent events in that once high plane of democracy known as Canadian Parliament — that which should be the ultimate in the example of good citizenship for citizens and leaders of tomorrow.

Maybe the greatest citizenship exercise which could be staged for Citizenship Day should be entitled "Think Before You Speak". It could be that higher-ups, of both our major political parties lacked restraint and good manners in that regard in the past few weeks. Something caused an upheaval which will bear a scar for years to come. But more and more apathy on the part of citizens is not going to solve our problems nor make for better citizenship. Quoting again from Citizen, issued by the Department of Citizenship and Immigration, "Apathy is the enemy of democracy" and "to lack interest in or concern for current happenings . . . is to admit to a form of mental stagnation that is considered below the standards expected of a responsible citizen" and yet another quote from Citizen "the strength and vitality of the democratic system depends substantially upon the choice of representatives to carry on the affairs of government".

Citizenship Day is coming in 1966. There is much which we would want to forget about Canada in recognizing this event in 1966. Recent events have projected an image of Canada so utterly unlike the proud image we, as Canadians, have had of Canada and which other nations have had of us. The best celebration we can have of Citizenship Day 1966 is to hear the resolve by word and action from every Canadian, in every walk of life to help restore that one time image of Canada.

Back To Ottawa

The first news we heard over the weekend was the decision by a former Nova Scotia M.P. to resign to Ottawa and to join the staff of the young member of the federal government who had already made a fine contribution to his country in the short time he has been in the House. No matter what side of the government he represents, he has been admired by all for his consistency, for his open, frank and unafraid presentation of the problems of his constituency. Many were looking forward to even greater participation by Mr. Nowlan in affairs of government and so far, concerning the area he represents, to have had Mr. Nowlan out of his seat for any length of time would definitely have been a loss to all. We can rejoice that he has returned to Ottawa.

While some might think that concern whether to occupy his seat or not was definitely an unnecessary consideration, most people were in sympathy with the young member under the unusual and unusual circumstances to which he was subjected because of the Munsinger case, a case to which the name of his late father loomed so prominently. He had through what was later termed a "misinterpretation" as true as it was, young Patrick Nowlan was earlier in the term greatly admired for his general concern on all matters. Like many another young member he was disillusioned. He expected at the "old timers" to settle down to business but he found that they waited to do. This did not happen and has not happened for a number of years. He was disappointed. But Nowlan registered his disappointment and he did so before this latest episode which brought about his further protests.

Now, and here we need to be aware of the fact that the members of his constituency are in a fix. It is the hope of many with whom we are associated that J. Patrick will take up the task again in the future. It is a great pity that the young member should have had to resign. It is a pity that the young member should have had to resign. It is a pity that the young member should have had to resign.

Canadian Library Week

By train from other villages, towns and cities throughout Canada in celebrating Canadian Library Week, March 26 to April 2, for Digby now has its very own library, due to the foresight and generosity of some interested citizens.

To thousands of people, a library holds almost the status of a university. To many men, women and children of limited education, their library card can be their key to the learning they could otherwise not afford, learning that is available in thousands of dollars worth of valuable books, free for generous periods to the student or researcher.

The intellectual is not the only one to benefit from the library shelves. The school drop-out can improve through the local library. There is much for the person who seeks relaxation and the therapy of humour. The dreamer who cannot afford to travel to those faraway places can settle down in his armchair and visit via the printed page. Fed up with her own cooking, the boredom of planning meals, the housewife can find cook books galore for gourmet foods.

For the man or woman planning their life after retirement, there are books on hobbies, handicrafts and suggestions for the leisure days.

Parents, relatives and friends who would like to start a youngster on his literary road without the aid of comic strips, would be well advised to have a talk with the local librarians — librarians are very understanding of children and can usually prescribe the books to fit the child's years and tastes — as well as the financial status of the donor.

Visit your library often and make use of the books available. The theme for Library Week is appropriately, "Read — The Key To A Changing World." Your world is changing and the library will help you meet the changes. Or, does your world need changing? It can change pleasantly for you through the pages of a good book from your village or town library.

Digby Needs

Now that Digby has a library located, rent free, over the old Salvation Army building, facilities for the comfort of those who spend some hours in the library should be provided. What a delightful place for out-of-town shoppers to pass away time among books after the shopping has been completed. Certain comfortable accommodations are necessary for patrons of this sort.

Pi, Pie, Pied

We had pi alright. We resembled a pie (the magpie) when we tried to assemble the oddments and, like a magpie, we chattered and fumed and fussed in doing so. And bless us, we all felt pied seeing red, yellow, green and purple!

Now that explains why some of you were more than a day late in getting the March 17 issue of The Digby Courier. And you, you thought we were celebrating St. Patrick's Day. Well, maybe we were!

The phone rang. A frantic voice says, "Mrs. Wallis, two pages of the Courier fell off the press." Well, why all the excitement?" she asked. "Here's the foreman, he'll tell you" was the reply. It wasn't long before we realized what was meant by "two pages of the Courier fell off the press." Just as frantic as the phone call was our dash to the office. There on the floor lay two whole pages of Courier type. That's what you call "pi" in printing and, believe us, you don't eat it. To be specific, Webster tells us pi is a mixed, disorderly collection of printing type. And, that is what we had — a whole two pages of it on the floor.

There were 2,000 run off when the accident occurred. Another 1,500 had to go. So we picked up the pieces, the damaged cuts and type, too. We salvaged what we could, made up new type for what was missing and in another whole day we were ready to roll again. Was your Courier late? Did you find a few undetected misplacements? Or, any nips on the type? All you needed to do was to see the Courier staff trying to salvage the pieces of the jigsaw puzzle from the floor and you wouldn't register even one complaint.

Such are the joys of running a newspaper! We'll have to count that issue in the red, maybe, but, at least, eventually all our subscribers got a copy of the March 17th issue of The Digby Courier. You talk about the "luck of the Irish".

Preaches On Judgement

The topic of Mr. Marshall's sermon at the Bear River Baptist Church on Sunday morning was on judgement taken from Romans 2, 1-16. He stated it was a subject neglected today, but was still a part of the gospel. A truth that we cannot get away from is that whatever a man sows, that shall he also reap.

He said that judgement is unescapable and that God would judge according to truth and according to the deeds of the flesh. It would be an impartial judgement and according to the gospel.

The pastor also said God did not delight in judgement and had sent his Son that we might believe and accept the gospel.

In the evening Mr. Marshall spoke from the 4th chapter of James and said that James took religion into all parts of life even into business. It is well to plan, but not to exclude God, he said. Today, man could destroy himself or the Lord may return at any time.

A solo was rendered by the pastor at the morning service, "I met my Saviour In the Twilight Dim".

Sendel Barr Visits U.N.

Sendel Barr, of Christian Theological Seminary, Indianapolis, U.S.A., was one of eleven CTS representatives to attend the United Nations-Washington, D.C., Seminar.

The group travelled via bus and were accompanied by Dr. C. Porter and Dr. L. MacAlister as Faculty Advisors.

Arriving at New York, with accommodations at Beaux Arts Hotel, they were joined by 24 students who were companions for the week. A three block walk found them at the United Nations complex for a tour of the three unit structure, the General Assembly Building, Secretariat Building and the U.N. Library. Another day they were briefed on the U.N., its organization, history and peace keeping operations. Some students attended committee meetings, and all heard a presentation by Rev. W. C. Spooch, an East German, now of New York, who spoke on the church in Eastern Europe. After a dinner in the Church Center for the U.N. was a presentation entitled "Relations with Communist China" by Dr. M. Searle Bates.

The second day brought briefings on UNESCO, W.H.O. and the U.N. and Human Rights. Dr. Frank Graham revealed many of the U.N. efforts in action, a history lesson and his role as an officer for the U.N.

The third day they were greeted by two delegates: Mr. Thambi Srinivasan, of India, and Dr. Hin Mousheaj, of China, at the U.N. Building. At Washington, D.C., they were welcomed at the National City Christian Church for dinner and an informative briefing on the State Department and its operation. The following day they toured the Capital complex; visited congressmen and observed the House and Senate in action; later visited the State Department and received briefings from the Asian Communist Affairs Office and a discussion of the Viet Nam situation. Mullen Confuses Dates, Marriage And Drama

As a result of a large number of requests for another showing of the Acadia Drama Workshop's most successful hit comedy, "You Can't Take It With You", the show will now be presented as part of the Convocation Exercises on Monday, May 9th, for one performance only, at 8:30 p.m., in the Main Auditorium.

The Broadway hit comedy played to capacity audiences recently in the studio. However, for the single repeat performance, in order to accommodate the Convocation crowd, the production will be transferred to University Hall stage. The Alumni Office is in charge of ticket arrangements.

Starring in this production is Eric Mullen, of Wolfville, as Grandpa. An interesting event that took place the afternoon prior to the last performance of "You Can't Take It With You" during its run in the studio was Mr. Mullen's marriage. Because of an accident in arranging dates, Mr. Mullen was obligated to fulfil his acting commitment the evening of his wedding day. The bride, former Jocelyn Cameron, of Wolfville, sat in the audience and viewed the performance.

on the Main No. 1 highway, caught in a spruce hedge and was stopped at the door steps of the home of Marvin Smith, on the adjacent property on the Lent Road.

Three or four hours later
Mr. and Mrs. Smith smelled smoke and a second call was made to the department. It was found that sparks from the earlier fire had gotten in the wall of Mr. Smith's home and were still burning there in the walls. When the cause was located the fire was extinguished.

The previous evening men from the department spent several hours burning grass in areas, judged to be potential fire hazards.

Another serious fire was quenched which had threatened the Lewis Lumber Mill, on Saturday, this followed a smaller grass fire at St. Edward's Convent. The fire department is to be commended on their promptness and efficiency.

THE Digby Courier

THURSDAY, MARCH 24 1966

Letter to the Editor

Tiddie,
Digby Co. N. S.
March 7, 1966
To: The Editor

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

I get a copy of the Courier each week at L. M. Tidd Grocery, and I read the notice put in your paper by the Nova Scotia Temperance Federation. I don't believe any one has to be informed of the drinking problem. Anyone with fair eyesight can surely see what a curse alcohol is to our country, with the bootleggers at our communities who are a curse to all mankind, and who are robbing little children of their food and clothing by selling alcohol to parents. Those bootleggers should be classed with the lowest thing on earth which is a snake.

Our government legally picks the pockets of every alcohol addict, and gets away with it. And then if a man is found drunk he is taken to court, and fined a sum of money. Now I ask you if this isn't some kind of a government pick pocket scheme. I would like to know what it is.

I read yet in another paper where the Liberal government is trying to get the legal drinking age down to the age of 18. This should really make the Communist smile, because it will surely help more to under-

Rossway

The Brotherhood Group met at the home of Mr. William Hersey last Tuesday evening. Sunday afternoon visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cook were Mr. and Mrs. Helen Sabean and two children Carl and Ann of Havelock.

Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor and family of Kingsport spent the day with their youth and our country.

And I also condemn the crime that is undermining our youth and our country by saying there is no harm in a social drink. It is a fact that from the 19th century a great oak tree grew, so from the social drink grows an alcohol. I do not believe that God is in those churches. He is still standing on the outside knocking and trying to get in.

The notice also asks for donations and also a solution to the problem. We'll praise the Lord I have the solution and it doesn't cost a cent, it's free. Here is the recipe: Kneel down on your knees and look to God above and ask him to deliver you from the awful curse of alcohol, and to cleanse you from your sin. Ask believing and He will deliver you, and keep you in His care as long as you live for Him.

Simple recipe, isn't it? And it's a sure cure. How do I know? He did it for me nine years ago and He did it for many more.

Thank you for printing this letter in your paper. I hope and pray this may help some alcoholics.

Yours truly,
Hartford Raymond.

What's New In

CYO Ice Sports

In the most exciting games of the year Digby St. Pat's defeated Weymouth in two overtime games.

In the hockey game Digby and Weymouth fought to a 1-1 tie at the end of regular play. The two teams then went into a ten minute overtime. At the end of this period Digby scored only to have the goal declared invalid because of an offside. A sudden death overtime then went into effect and at 3:40 of this overtime Digby scored again and it seemed the game was over, but the goal was disallowed. Digby protested. But after ten minutes of arguing the play again commenced.

At 15:46 of this sudden death Richard VanTassel received a penalty for tripping and it seemed that Digby would have a hard time winning. But 20 seconds later, while Richard was still in the box, Danny Doucette received a pass from John Amoro and Paul Connelly and fired a slap shot which caught the upper right hand corner, bringing the game to a rousing close.

After congratulations had been extended to Digby, it was generally agreed that the whole Digby team had played their best game of the year. This proves what can be accomplished if the boys use teamwork and work toward a common end. Special credit for the win, though, must be extended to Danny for his splendid performance of 4 goals out of the 5 scored, and to John Amoro and Bill Nickerson. These three, this writer considers, are the best players a team could have.

In the broomball game Digby managed to win on a goal by Mary Jane Amirault after a tedious one hour and forty-five minutes of play.

The credit for this win goes to Anthony Saulnier and his superb coaching. Other mentions must be awarded to Diane, Jean and Terry.

Clay-Chuvalo Fight On CTV

The controversial Cassius Clay-George Chuvalo heavy-weight boxing fight in the Maple Leaf Gardens, Toronto, on March 29, will be telecast four days later on Saturday April 2, over the CTV network on CTV's Wide World of Sports.

The special 90 minute telecast for which CTV has exclusive Canadian rights, will present full coverage of the bout and will include dressingroom after-fight interviews with the boxers and their managers.

Commentators for CTV's Wide World of Sports telecast of the Clay-Chuvalo meet will include footballer Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns.

Wightman Rink Wins Bonspiel

Twenty teams competed in the seventh annual V.O.N. mixed bonspiel held last week end at the Digby Curling Club, under the auspices of the local branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses.

A rink skipped by Frank Wightman was named winner of the Lynch Trophy. Other members of the team were Helena Wightman, mate; Jack Ritey, second; Elizabeth Ritey, lead. The Lynch Trophy, emblematic of mixed curling supremacy in this area, was presented to the local branch of the V.O.N. by members of the family of the late Mrs. T. E. G. Lynch, who was a charter member and very active in the Victorian Order of Nurses. This is the second year in a row that a Wightman rink has captured the trophy. Last year's winning team was composed of Frank Wightman, Helena Wightman, Doug Miller and Elizabeth Ritey.

This year's runner-up team was skipped by Hymie Webber, with Fern Webber, mate; Jack Nichols, second; and Laura Nichols, lead.

At the conclusion of the fundraising bonspiel, Kelsey Raymond, chairman of the bonspiel, presented the Lynch Trophy to Frank Wightman, and each member of his team with engraved silver spoons, and also presented the runners-up with suitable trophies. These prizes were purchased by the chairman through the kind co-operation of Wallis Print Limited, Digby County Power Board and Saunders Jewellers. The runner-up prizes were donated by MacDonald Motors Limited, Digby.

The winners of the consolation prize received trophies presented for the seventh time through the kind co-operation of Smith's Drug Store (Digby) Limited and the kindness of Sydney Smith and Robert Bearne, who also provided booby-prizes for the rink with low points, consisting of skip, Charlie McBride; mate, Margaret Baxter; second, stone, Al MacKay; lead, stone, Linda Lewis.

During the evening a supper was served by the members of the committee, headed by Mrs. Douglas Lewis, and the ingredients were donated through the kind co-operation of the individual members of the V.O.N. board and organization.

The twenty team entry was a great increase over the last year entry, with several family teams entered. Three mixed teams from the Digby Regional High School, a Royal Bank

"God Is Dead" Sermon Topic

Taking as his topic the much discussed expression recently made "God Is Dead", Rev. R. H. Hughes, on Sunday morning stated that through Christ we learn that God is not dead, but alive forevermore.

Some people, the speaker said, feel no need of God and the truth is that the people are spiritually dead. Man has lost the way to God and has made religion the way, the speaker said, and then they say "God Is Dead". Man today he said, is faced with a choice - religion or Christ - and this is the real issue. Jesus Christ, he said, is necessary because it is only through Him that we can come to the real God. If we have made mental images (false gods) created by our own lives and minds, then if God is dead, we thank God. Without Jesus Christ there would be no clear understanding of God, the minister continued.

Witness is needed, Mr. Hughes said, by committed people who can stand up against the evil of the day. He urged the Christian people to take a stand against looseness of sex life, the flood of liquor and racial discrimination. Peace, he said, is no longer an option but a necessity. Today we have no longer a good war or bad, it is total war. We live in an atomic age with pre-atomic ideas.

Education or civilization are not the answers to sin, Mr. Hughes commented. Education can come to grips with ignorance but only Jesus Christ can come to grips with sin. Through Christ we learn that God is not dead but alive forevermore.

At a special installation service, Reginald Turnbull was installed into the Session of the church.

The choir under the direction of Norman Wright sang an appropriate anthem with Mrs. J. M. Wallis as soloist and Miss Deidre Morrell as organist.

Capt. Clarke Concludes Services

A series of Evangelistic Services conducted in Digby by the Salvation Army's Maritime regional Evangelist, Capt. William Clarke, came to a close on Sunday night at the Salvation Army Citadel in Digby.

Capt. Clarke brought a stirring message to a large audience both by address from the Psalms and in song, by voice, organ, and piano, for his concluding service.

Capt. Fred Beach conducted the service and two anthems were rendered by Grace United Church Choir under the direction of Norman Wright and Mrs. Elton Arnold, pianist.

On Sunday morning, Capt. Clarke and Capt. Beach were at the church.

The regular choir of the church rendered an anthem.

During the week, Capt. Clarke visited other churches and service organizations as noted in other columns of this issue of the Courier.

Grace United Church where Capt. Clarke delivered the sermon interspersed by vocal selections as illustrations. For the morning service Capt. Clarke chose the text from St. Paul's words "I beseech you, therefore, brethren by the mercies of God that you present your bodies a living sacrifice . . . which is your reasonable service". He chose three words from the text upon which he expounded - beseech, sacrifice, present. Capt. Clarke sang "In Time of Need and My Task."

Previous to the sermon prayer, Capt. Clarke told the children's story followed by the song "The Whole World In His Hand."

The service was conducted by Rev. R. H. Hughes, minister of the church, assisted by Capt. Beach, who led in prayer and also sang the solo "And Is It So A Gift For Me" written by Capt. Clarke, who, though almost totally blind, is a musician, arranger of music and a poet.

The regular choir of the church rendered an anthem.

Quiet Morning At Fisherman's Wharf In Digby

The pictures, from left to right, show: (1) boats moored on the left hand side of the spur; (2) boats at the end and out right hand corner of the spur; (3) boats at the right angle section of spur and main wharf on the right hand side.

When the above pictures were taken few, if any, scallop boats were at the mooring. The forty, it is understood, were mostly from New Brunswick and engaged in operations pertaining to seining. If the above picture shows a quiet morning, little imagination is needed to visualize the state of overcrowding in the evening when the scallop boats returned from the fishing grounds.

No need to ask — "Does Digby need a new fisherman's wharf?"

Vocational Evening Classes Close

W. Darrell Mills, Director of Vocational Education for Nova Scotia, was guest speaker on Monday night when the Digby area Vocational Evening Classes held their closing.

Mr. Mills noted the changes in vocational education within the past 20 years and more specifically in the past five years. In 1960, he said, there was a modest program of vocational evening classes with about 6,000 in attendance. Now, he remarked, there are six Vocational High Schools with approximately 3,000 in attendance while in 1960 there were two vocational high schools with an attendance of 700. In 1960 there were correspondence courses offered, there was a small marine engineering navigation school at Halifax and a land survey school at Lunenburg. Often the programs were carried on in makeshift buildings or rooms.

Vocational training offers three kinds of training: training for the unemployed person, apprenticeship classes and a new program for training technicians who have gone through high school and who wish to continue education but not at university. The Institute of Technology at Halifax offers mechanical courses, electronics courses, electrical courses and medical laboratory technology. Expansion includes the Institute of Technology near Sydney where instruction is in mining, motor vehicle mechanics, heavy construction industrial, millwrighting, etc.

Earl Hardy New President

The regular monthly meeting of Digby (East) Fish and Game Association was held Tuesday evening at the Firemen's Hall, Maiden Lane bldg., with president Charles Hall in the chair.

The nomination committee brought in the following slate of officers for 1966: president, Earl Hardy; first vice, Basil Lewis; second vice, Jack Nichols; treasurer, Harold Nichols.

Retiring president Charles Hall extended thanks to association members for co-operation and support during the year and gave assurance of his continued help in the future.

The new president, Mr. Hardy, expressed thanks to the club for the faith they have placed in him. "Any club is only as good as its members", he said, "and judging from last year's progress report our association has earned high regard throughout the entire Digby area."

The treasurer's report revealed a financially successful year for the club, and indicated that some $1,500.00 has been paid towards repairs and extensions to association property at Haines Lake.

Future plans for the club include a spring raffle, a free membership banquet, and an association fishing trip, among other projects.

Variety Concert Goes To New York

Digby is to be "invaded" by a throng of high school students when more than 100 young people, with their directors and chaperons from the Foxcroft Academy, Maine, descend upon the town on April 21st.

Scheduled to present a variety concert at the Regional High School on that date, the students will be entertained in various homes of the community.

Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Digby the large concert party will give a lively performance of band music, choir selections and majorette acts.

It is being featured as one of the highlights of the season for the people of the town and county of Digby. It is expected that hundreds of people will witness the musical event.

Anticipation is also keen to witness the street parade of the visiting musicians previous to the concert.

Various committees of the Kiwanis Club are busy making adequate arrangements for the concert and the entertainment of the visitors.

Miss Valerie D. Outhouse, Tiverton, has been chosen to represent "Sparkling Waters" Theta Rho Lodge, Freeport, at the "United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth" at New York in July.

Greg Stonehouse Selected

Gregory Stonehouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stonehouse, Digby, has been selected from Grade X students of Digby Regional High School as representative to attend a one week orientation course on engineering and architecture to be held at the Nova Scotia Technical College, Halifax, from June 19 to June 25. There have been thirty-three other students selected throughout Nova Scotia.

Brenda Berry First Queen

Brenda Berry, of Smith's Cove, was crowned Queen of the first school sports night, staged Friday at the Digby Forum. The evening's entertainment was given entirely by students and the student council of Digby Regional High School, assisted by the staff and Miss Marjorie McClenick, and was deemed a great success. The $200.00 net of the program has been turned over to the Digby Recreation Commission. Over 800 people were sold by students of Grades X, XI and XII.

Miss Berry, a Grade X student, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Berry. She was crowned by C. C. MacInnes, D.R.H.S. principal, who also presented the prizes and flowers. The Queen wore a black velvet gown trimmed with ermine, and she had a gold crown. Her princesses were Martha Spencer, from Grade XI, and Betty Ann Nichols, from Grade XII. They were adorned in blue capes and wore crowns. The Queen's prize, donated by Cecil Jones, was a hand-carved wooden bowl. All prizes were donated by interested individuals and firms in the Digby area. Choice of the Queen was made by selecting the princesses representing the grade selling the greatest number of tickets to the program. Page boys for the crowning ceremony were Billy Troupe and Harold Burroughs. They were dressed in red with traditional caps and feathers.

Other features of the evening included a broomball game in which a number of D.R.H.S. male teachers defeated a girl's team; two minor league hockey games; and free skating to the general public. Prizes were also presented to winners of fourteen races, held for boys and girls of various ages from 5 to 18 years.

Receives Degree

The Rev. Harold A. Kay, Vicar of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Woodbury Heights, New Jersey, and a native of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, received the degree of Master of Arts at the February graduation exercises of Temple University, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, U.S.A. Mr. Kay holds a Bachelor of Arts from Dalhousie University, the L. Th. from the University of King's College, Halifax, and the Bachelor of Divinity degree from Trinity College, Toronto. At present Mr. Kay is registered at Dropsie College, Philadelphia, where he is continuing his studies in Hebrew. He plans to enrol in the graduate school of the University of Pennsylvania, in the Fall of 1966, where he will work toward his Doctorate in Oriental Studies. Mr. Kay is married to the former Edith Hills, of Tusket, N.S., who holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Dalhousie. They have six children. He was ordained by Bishop Waterman in 1952 and served in parishes in Nova Scotia before leaving to study in the United States.

Urge Action On Petite Passage

The Fundy Board of Trade at its March meeting received the report of the transportation committee. The members were courteously received by the premier and cabinet ministers when they presented a "brief" on a permanent crossing and harbor development of Petite Passage.

By unanimous vote the board decided to send to the Commons representative a request to interview ministers of fisheries and public works on the subject.

Urbain Belliveau Heads Fish Packers

The first annual meeting of the Western Nova Scotia Fish Packers Association was held in Yarmouth recently and largely attended. Twenty-two new members were admitted bringing to 51 the number of members presently enrolled and located from Hubbards in Halifax County, westward through Lunenburg, Queens, Shelburne, Yarmouth and Digby to Westport on Brierley Island.

There were discussions on Nova Scotia's Springtime Highway restrictions as it affects present day transportation requirements and on the Provincial Hospital Tax applicable to Fish Plant refrigeration and other machinery. It was stated that representations would be made to the proper authorities for the easing of these regulations.

Koith Raymond, Centreville Digby County retiring president and largely responsible for this association thanked the members for their interest and support. Urbain Belliveau of Belliveau Cove was elected president and Crosby McLeod of Port Mouton, vice president, while Gerry deBorst of Freeport was re-elected secretary treasurer.

The new president said that the need for the grouping of these fish processors was clearly shown by the large number of owners and managers of fish plants who had driven many miles to attend this meeting.

Panel On Comprehensive School System

Four of educational and architectural authority were in Digby on Tuesday evening when a panel on the new comprehensive school system was held. On the panel were George MacKenzie, Chief Inspector of Schools for Nova Scotia; W. Darrell Mills, director of Vocational Education; L. J. Page, Consultant and Professional Architecture Advisor for the Department of Education; and C. E. Edwards, Inspector of Schools for Digby municipality and Annapolis County.

The panel followed a dinner, presided over by F. C. Purdy, supervisor of schools for the Digby area, attended by members of the school boards and councils of the area.

The discussion period was presided over by Mr. Edwards who stated that Digby had one of the finest school programs in the province and because of this good students are staying in school longer.

Mr. MacKenzie explained the basis on which the new comprehensive program is being developed to meet the needs of all but to which stage the program has not yet reached. He said that many pupils still do not stay in school long enough to develop their possibilities and the educational program is constantly being broadened as there is a growing necessity for higher level of education for all pupils.

Mr. MacKenzie outlined in detail the structure of the comprehensive program and explained the administration for the same. In planning the comprehensive program, the speaker said, it must be borne in the mind that a suitable program is to be made available for today's pupils who must live in tomorrow's world. Suitable buildings must be designed with flexibility for the program. Economy of construction must be combined with functionalism and planning should be done to take advantage of federal grants.

Mr. Mills outlined ten areas of the comprehensive system, commercial and regional vocational — noting physical aspects and expected grants for the purpose. Garden Club Plans Activities

La Jardiniere Garden Club of Meteghan held its first spring meeting at the residence of Mrs. Catherine Melanson at Church Point with Steve LeBlanc of Lower Saultville, president, presiding. Mrs. Adolph Comeau and Mrs. Denis L. Comeau of Meteghan, Mrs. Catherine Melanson and Steve LeBlanc were selected to represent the club as the Quiz Team.

The president Steve LeBlanc and Mrs. Edouard LeBlanc of Saultville were appointed as delegates to attend the Convention to be held at Weymouth on July 29th and 30th next with the Weymouth Garden Club acting as host of the convention. The local club will assist the Weymouth Club.

La Jardiniere Garden Club decided to present their annual flower show again during the Acadian Festival and the date set for the flower show this year will be Friday, August 12, and will again be held in the Clare District High School auditorium. Mrs. Catherine Melanson of Church Point was appointed chairman of the flower show and she will appoint other members of the flower show committee from among the members of the club. Mrs. J. Alphonse Comeau of Meteghan River was appointed as chairman of the afternoon tea committee.

The club voted to enter a float in the Acadian Festival again this year and president Steve LeBlanc was appointed chairman of the float committee. The club had won a first prize for floats entered in last year's Acadian Festival parade.

One of the main projects of the Meteghan Jardiniere Garden Club this year will be: Each member will be asked to plant two trees of their own choice but preferably the Continental tree or blue spruce. Each member is also asked to encourage their neighbors and friends to plant trees near their homes, stated president LeBlanc.

It was brought out at the meeting by Professor Andre Guay, that he has noted a great improvement in the landscaping and more pleasing well kept lawns being developed in the Municipality of Clare in the last ten years. Some credit for improved grounds around the home may be attributed to the La Jardiniere Club. Its members have encouraged many others to improve the surroundings of the home by improving their own and with contests.

Rescuers Complete E.M.O. Training Course

Eight candidates out of a class of eleven have completed and passed an eight week rescue course conducted by Emergency Measures Organization (Digby) under the direction of Vaughn VanTassel, chief of rescue for the Digby organization. He was assisted by Buddy Barr and Joseph Doucette. They have all had advanced training as instructors in Annapolis.

Three of the candidates completed the course but were unable to be present for the exams and will be given their tests at a later date. Certificates in recognition of their excellent training are to be presented shortly.

Members of the provincial organization giving the exams were deputy co-ordinator for Nova Scotia, R. Douthwaite; J.

Orlik, training officer for the province; J. S. G. Pratt, western zone controller, and Mr. Laybolt.

This now brings the total number of persons trained in rescue work in Digby and the area to twenty-five. Members of Digby Fire Department are also taking a refresher course at the present time in rescue work, which is important to fire duty.

Members of the provincial organization have expressed satisfaction in the candidates and the instructors in connection with these courses.

Accident Victim

Ronald Spicer, 10, of Freeport, was seriously injured when he was accidentally hit in the eye with a bat while playing ball on the school grounds at Freeport, early Thursday.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

I just read the article in your paper by Hartford Raymond and was thrilled to think that there are still a few folk who uphold the faith of our fathers.

Jesus, when here, once asked the question, "When I return, will I find faith on the earth?" He, being God, knew the conditions that would exist prior to his second coming. Truly we are living in the last days.

I will sure stand back of Mr. Raymond in his statements concerning liquor. I know a good many whose homes have been broken, children neglected and wives heartbroken because of the curse of liquor. I am not ancient, but I feel that a girl we never knew what it was to see a person drunk, but our children seldom see some folks sober.

How thankful I am that there are enough folk who feel as I do and voted accordingly so at

Perhaps some folks may believe if there were enough Christians who would have enough backbone to stand up for what they believe or would back up others who did have the backbone something could be done to slow up the boot-licking industry.

I agree with Mr. Raymond in his statement concerning liquor. I believe if there were enough Christians who would have enough backbone to stand up for what they believe or would back up others who did have the backbone something could be done to slow up the boot-licking industry.

I believe it's high time that every minister preached against the sin of Alcoholism right from the pulpit and would read the Bible name, sin, and then tell the congregations that there is enough power in the blood of Jesus Christ to cleanse all from all sin.

I was older folk who know that dangers of drinking do not warn our youth, who will do as they please.

Perhaps there are other Christians who feel as we do. If so, why not voice your opinions in our friendly paper.

The Digby Courier.
Thank you, Mrs. Wallis, for printing this letter.
Yours truly,
Mrs. Milledge Tidd.

Cease Fire!

(D. R. MacFarlane)

The CPR's recent decision to discontinue one of its transcontinental trains — a move, incidentally, upheld by the Board of Transport Commissioners — has made it the target for an amazing amount of criticism from the west.

Perhaps it's time someone asked these snipers how often they travel by train. The results would undoubtedly make interesting reading — and produce some mighty red faces. For somebody sure as shooting isn't travelling by rail.

Figures produced by the CPR at a recent session of the House of Commons Standing Committee on Transport and Communications showed the railway has regularly lost money on its passenger operation during the last decade. Today, some 95 per cent of necessity travel is done by private automobiles, buses, and airplanes. Which leaves railway slim pickings for both ways.

In spite of this narrow market, the CPR intends to continue in the railway passenger business for many years to come, company chairman N. R. "Buck" Crump testified. However, the CPR will "withdraw those passenger services for which the effective demand has disappeared."

This isn't as unreasonable as it first appears. All the CPR is proposing is that it will continue to offer rail passenger service where the demand is sufficient to make the service profitable. The cost of providing the service. Any other policy, the CPR brief suggested, is an economic waste.

CYO Ice Sports

In the third and final game of the playoffs, the powerful Weymouth team defeated the fighting St. Pat's by the close score of seven to six.

The game promised to be a dandy fight from the first faceoff and it proved so when both teams immediately began to play a rough, fast type of hockey seldom seen except in playoffs.

Following the hockey play-off, the third game of the girls' broomball game finals was played with Digby defeating Weymouth 2 to 1. The game was a real thriller with close calls on both teams.

The result of the winter's hockey and broomball have been encouraging and it is hoped that these sports will be held again next year in the Forum.

An All Star team from the three C.Y.O. clubs will play a Junior All Star team from Yarmouth next Sunday, April 3, at the Forum. Proceeds will go to the Forum.

Dedicate Gift

At the morning service in the United Church of Canada, Bear River, Rev. Kenley MacNeill dedicated a large Hymnary, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Balser in memory of the late Harvey Chisholm, who for many years was a faithful attendant, giving of his time and ever ready to help in any way, the church he loved. Mr. J. E. Langley presented the gift for dedication and Dr. Brennan received the gift.

Pre Easter Service

The pastor's topic for Sunday morning was the question "Pilate asked, What shall I do with Jesus which is called Christ?" He said this was a question which has been asked by all men in all time and is still asked today, but is a question each must answer for himself.

He said there were some alternatives offered, such as administration, rejection, crucifying afresh, or accept Him and crown Him Lord of Life.

In the evening he spoke again from the book of James on prayer. He said God was not weary by our asking too often, but was concerned with each one of his children, that he will give wisdom generously and answer the prayer of father.

Special numbers by the male choir were "When the Mists Have Rolled Away", and "The Home Over There."

Home and School Aid Blind

The March meeting of Oakdene Home and School Association, Bear River was held on Monday evening with the president, Maurice Darres, conducting the meeting.

It was noted that the dental hygienist would be at Oakdene School commencing the latter part of April. No definite plans regarding the dental clinic for Oakdene School can be made at this time.

Mrs. Chester Kaulback, program convener, made mention that Mr. MacGregor, Regional Director of Adult Education would be the guest speaker at the April meeting. This talk should interest many people as he will explain the various courses in education that could be made available if enough people desired them in the area.

The book award was won jointly by Miss Hubley's class and Miss Schmidt's class.

The first part of the program consisted of a reading by Mrs. Chester Kaulback entitled "If You Have Loved These Things" and an interesting matching contest. The guest speaker was Donald F. Brown, District Forester for Digby County, who explained his work with the Department of Lands and Forests. Following his talk Mr. Brown showed two films, which were enjoyed by the group, the first film called "The Water Dwellers" showed scenes from British Columbia and the second film "Free From Care", was a fine new film by Margaret Perry, setting forth the beautiful scenery and the sporting activities to be enjoyed during a vacation in Nova Scotia for the winter months.

1600 square foot construction to house thirty students station but the Board would qualify for a first shop for twenty students. Associated with the shop would be a classroom of 800 square feet for the thirty students. Other ideas to be considered on share basis are hallways, toilets etc. Mr. Mills made a similar outline for the regional vocational school requirements and gave student grade qualifications necessary in each case.

Mr. Purdy spoke of the continued necessity of solving the problem of construction of the present regional school at Digby. Since it was first designed for 300 students, it has been expanded to 1,000. Now, when a new school is built, it is designed for 1,000 students.
