1877-1977

One of the jobs I had to do, besides putting and grinding gravel on the staff, was to... I cleaned one and then... One day not long after I started to get to the grating plant, I decided to clean the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned in some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily. He thought the remark pretty good and said:

Sometimes the gasoline engine, a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and the "Man" fix it. A man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results. Man would then stand back and come over dramatically then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of coaxing."

On other occasions when some papers refused duty for the and, seemed to be broken, I would say, "use a little oil" and use anner, after that is all it took. They often since, have I heard of the value of that remark and the actual need of oil in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I built "Mac," all four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1958 got together just before dark one evening and decided to mutate the newly built outdoor Pools Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just east of the pool; nobody else seemed to be around except the four boys, no thought or time for bathing rights, so in the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in. The rest quickly followed and across the pool the swim-

"Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Scouts Officially Opeo Pitkin Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the four? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars, second world and Korean, was awarded the Victoria Cross; Sidney L. Smith, now prominent druggist, for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale importer of hardware and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day, "he" said to me how about writing your version of the story told about "The Marooning of Jerome". I said I would and read at least two somewhat different versions of the main who was found marooned on a beach at some point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Darby County. When I read this man's tongue and legs cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was tragically left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Joe" appeared to have been a man of considerable social standing and, possibly, considerable wealth. However, the subject could or would ever say anything about it for by some family in the French area something that sounded like "the money" either yielded out, or, would not, and who he was or why he was left there it was. And in one of Digne County, France, different ideas have been put forward concerning this man. However, "Joe" was, I felt no urge to go into the different about this man. The subject has been very well explored as far as people, and he was a sort of a people who lived where he lived.

From the files of the Chamber of January 23, 1967, the following account has been copied concerning India in 1965:

Adding a number of 60 newspapers which sent it to be friends is a copy of the Saint John Gazette of May, 1881, says the Telegraph and among other advertisements contained in the issue before us is one describing the town and township of Digby, and offering for sale certain lots in the town. In this area we are told the township of Digby "extends from the Gut of Cansuque westward to the extremity of the province of Nova Scotia, and contains about 124,000 acres." The town plot is then described.

The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and thence runs from Annapolis Town, and six miles distant east from the head of W. Mary's Bay. This laid out first, the water's edge, partly on level ground, and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in extent. It terminates with the Fort and River's mouth at that name. It was surveyed by Loyalists from New York in 1782, the point of which went early to Britain, or, moving to other countries, left the shore free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students, one of which was J.J.'s daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Morton of Tibet, Prescott, Digby Co.). Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters. I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print." I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like: embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and running paper stock, making ink for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "po", the printer's name for a confused mess.

There was a taste of trying to sell the product inside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I loved it, made several calls, sweet most of the time at one particular order, but

Prospects Of $120,000 Industry

Emerson Graham, Digby, has told The Digby Courier that he sees prospects of people collectively earning up to $120,000 a year in cutting and curing seaweed from the Digby County shores, if people want to really work at it. Seaweed is a marine company which operates at Woods Harbour, Shelburne County, is looking for other shores from which to reap the product and along with Mr. Graham chartered a boat to view the Annapolis Bay area and other areas in Digby County. They were pleased with what they found and have already been hoping seaweed from cutters in the county. Mr. Graham has stressed to the Courier that he is not connected financially in any way but is helping to promote the industry here solely for the benefit of the Digby County area.

Among the men who are engaged in cutting operations are Duke (Roland) Weir, Conway; Don Woodman, Conway; Curtis Selig, Ronald Thomas, Conway; Melville Pugh, Westport; Aubrey Elliott, Tuxton and Clarence Comeau, Meteghan. Mr. Graham feels that if not enough cutters are available here that those from Woods Harbour who have been making a living from this business will come to this area. He said it was an excellent way to supplement an income. The first van loaded with dry seaweed left Smith's Cove for Woods Harbour on Wednesday. The weed, when cut, is laid out to dry and a baler is employed in drying it for shipping. Mr. Graham felt there were prospects for a commercial dryer being erected if enough weed cutters can be obtained. Selling the weed dry, Mr. Graham felt was much more advantageous than selling wet as the price for dry is so much more in comparison to that for wet weed.

About This And That

Natal Day

Our editorial contribution to Canada Day has been the story provided to us by Wendell Everett, taken from "Canada 1864" and dealing in most part with the planning of Confederation. The story leading over from last week will be good reading another day.

This week we want to mention another birthday, or Natal Day. It happens to be one just as important to Digby people as Canada is to all Canadian people. Without towns, villages and communities like Digby, there would be no Canada. To be a citizen of Canada one must be first an individual, a member of a family, a community, a province and then the nation. All have helped to build Canada and while we remembered Canada on July 1st, looked back into her history, considered her present problems and accomplishments and hopes for a bright future, our own little town, too, has a history, it has its own problems, and accomplishments. We have bright hopes for its future. We recognize its past, its people who labored to found it, nurture it and bring it to the present status, the heritage passed on to us.

Digby's Natal Day will be celebrated July 28. The day's activities should reflect the pride and regard in which we hold the town where we live. While we have no objections to Natal Days, fairs or other legitimate events to raise money for useful purposes, we do admire the attitude of Digby's Natal Day committee in making it more of a day to make Digby's citizens and visitors conscious of her rather than make the Natal Day a money making event.

As we took pride in celebrating Canada's birthday, so will we take pride in celebrating Digby's birthday, too.

Small Industries

Tall oaks from little acorns grow and a hundred pennies make a dollar. So it is with small industries. If we are not so fortunate as to get any million dollar investments, why not have enough small industries to add up to the million?

One of these small industries in Digby County is the chinchilla industry. There are several small chinchilla ranches around here but few of us know much about them. We are grateful to Bob Gates for his interesting account of the chinchilla business. Bob operates his chinchilla ranch while working also at the Co-op in Conway. It is understood that the chinchilla industry is one which is expanding rapidly. In Nova Scotia, increasing from about six ranches in 1957 to thirty-five at the present time, and it should be quite lucrative. Cost to feed one animal per year is about $3 and although chinchillas love cars, only three minutes of time per animal each day is necessary. The selling price, however, is around $75 per pair. Want a coat anybody? One hundred and fifty pelts will do it.

We note another small industry seems to be popping up outside of Digby. More about that later, but we were told it could expand to $250,000. Don't dream on our small industries. Collectively they add up to dollars and sometimes individually to large ones.

Public Relations

What is public relations? We suppose we are especially conscious of public relations right now since the Canadian Public Relations Association just completed its convention at the Pines on Saturday and therefore we ask the question not as a query but as an introduction.

If you have a prospective customer, you take him out to dine and maybe to wine. That comes under public relations and actually firms are allotted so much to legitimately spend for such "advertising". Some firms hire public relations staff who spend all their time thinking up ways of creating "good will". Of course the best public relations any person or firm can have is its own sincere personal and good product. But public relations besides this can take on all sorts of forms with its chief purpose being to create a happy desirable opinion towards the management and/or the company and product and not without expectancy of gain. Some firms sponsor rodeos or races or donate gifts or put on banquets for the purpose of public relations.

More often than not, public relations takes the form of publicity through news media. It is quite alright to be a good guy within one's own association; to have a good church or organization, known by its members only and to make the best mouse-trap, known only to the craftsman who created it, but for the sake of progress, it's much better if the outside world knows about all of these accomplishments. And so we have "public relations" to make it known.

Public relations can be good. And, mind you, it is good. Some of it, however, is downright thievery and no place experiences that more than a newspaper office. Most of the time, it works out that the garbage man and the only garbage man is the one who gains by the whole production of public relations. The publisher who is showered with all sorts of public relations material from every known source, business, politics, government, education, culture, sports, amusement, church, etc., etc., loses no matter which way he moves. If he pays his staff to set up the copy, make up the composition and to spend hours on printing "free advertising" which comes under the name of public relations, he loses. If he doesn't he still loses for the garbage man has to be paid. One thing we have noticed, when somebody takes a customer out to dine in the name of public relations the restaurant proprietor is not asked to provide an extra meal for the purchaser of one meal. We doubt if there is any company which is expected to give one extra car for the purchase of one or any company which is expected to hand over a second tube of toothpaste to the person who purchases one. Yet, many two inch advertisements come to a newspaper desk accompanied by ten inches of other copy from the p.r. desk which has been conveniently marked "news releases".

Public relations, the creating of a happy desirable opinion about ourselves, our work, our product, in the minds of people is itself desirable and good. But we like to see it honest and sincere. We quote from "A Guide To Church Reporters" put out by the United Church of Canada: "Straight-forwardness is vital to long-lasting press relations. Never submit through the advertising department. The news people don't think that's honest, and they're right". We would have put it "Never submit advertising through the news department", but there's little difference. Whichever way you put it, it simply means "stop trying to 'sneak' in free advertising when it should be paid for". In other words, keep the public relations good honest.

Ritey, Colchester M.L.A., in addressing the Cyn Club in New Glasgow said "We have a need for education but the day of the large educational complex has long since passed its usefulness and 'humanness'." In the United States," he said, "there is a definite trend to smaller community colleges. The cost level is reduced by the reduction of living quarters, more practical buildings and in other words, more money for education, not for buildings," he said. Statements like these augur well for the retention of the small College Ste Anne at Church Point.

College Ste Anne, that innocent small educational community has again become the subject of much comment during discussions at the Nova Scotia Tribunal on higher education moves about the province. There have been suggestions that College Ste Anne become a "community college" with trade, vocational, and adult education programs, as well as its present academic, and establishment of a second bilingual college in another predominantly French region of the province. The place for the college, most often heard suggested at the Tribunal (other than Church Point) was Cheticamp on the Eastern end of the province. And we have seen editorially the suggestion by question that Yarmouth could be considered as well as Church Point for the proposed trade, vocational and community college type of institution. Should Cheticamp and Yarmouth be chosen then Church Point is left out in the cold.

Neither of these suggestions sits well with us as open minded as we are in this era of change. We have visited Cheticamp on Nova Scotia tours and while we admire the people, their talents and their bilingualism, we cannot see what that small village has to offer more than Church Point for the site of a college for higher education. Our same arguments still hold good as far as Yarmouth vs. Church Point is concerned whether the school be one of trade or higher education. Schools and universities, do not necessarily have to be situated in densely populated communities or even communities of the size of Yarmouth. We cannot see change solely for the sake of change and would want to see some good purpose in changing the College Ste Anne location before we could be content.

For 80 years or more the people of Church Point have supported the college as a prize possession. To rob these people of the college not only robs them of the future to which they pressed but would give them the frustration of knowing that what they and their ancestors had striven for has all been for naught.

We support those briefs presented at the Tribunal which stressed the continued need of College Ste Anne with an improved bilingual character and that the college be maintained at Church Point where it can play a role in preserving the French culture and heritage. If there is money to be put into higher education with this unique bilingual opportunity Church Point should be given first consideration with its long standing College Ste Anne name and its "all ready" fine buildings.

The humanness of which Mr. Ritey speaks is not to be spurned in this age of cold, factory-like institutions of learning. What is the point in learning to make a living unless we learn to live? College Ste Anne, situated in Church Point, has and can continue to add much to "learning to live" in its unique French-English setting. Why try to find another place?

Not For A While

Newspapers and television, Hon. Eric Kierans said, face death by public indifference. We deny such a statement. Why, the pile of government propaganda we have stored up at The Digby Courier for use or for reference would keep us going for several years. We can't die for a while. Or, is that the copy which the public is so indifferent to? At least, it was allowed through the Post Office channels since Mr. Kierans' time and for some purpose. It is generally marked "news release". Granted, there is little income in it to keep a newspaper from dying.

Hodge Podge

After last week's Hodge Podge, a lady told us she agreed that the mini-skirts were rather attractive on the young girls. It is the mini-mini-skirts to which she objects.

What would make any supposedly normal adult (?) throw a beer bottle out of a car to have it break in the path of other cars? Would orange juice do the trick? Or, was there beer in the bottle which caused some grandeur halitosis? Or, what would cause it?

We see that columnist Basil Deakin in The Chronicle Herald says he was brought up, professionally, to understand that among newspapermen, dog does not eat dog. That theory still holds good in many cases. Not in all, we've found.

National News Week in this paper was given over to V.O.N. last week. We also salute the fine, warm-hearted, efficient nurses in white as well as blue.

Among the ten most wanted men is one who can see his own faults before he sees the faults in others.

The parking in this town must be detrimental to the merchants. We heard that remark from a not too far out-of-town business man the other day. A remark by a tourist when he passed The Courier office on Saturday was "This town doesn't provide any parking space. Now, they wouldn't like it if we parked our car right here." Wonder whether it might be wise to have directions to parking areas marked better.

We see in Kenilworth they are on the move to have stores open for shopping on Thursday night and Saturday afternoon. Somewhat, we expected economic might demand more hours later. Could be we wouldn't have to strain in planning for so much leisure.

Really slushed. Sale price 99 cents. But the sale is over so we had better peak at the regular price. Oh, no, it can't be 89 cents. Since that was in Digby we know there was a mistake. Tags got mixed, maybe?

There was a time when the unshaven and tattered looking were passed by as a risky individual to meet. With the present trend of dress and grooming you could be slighting your best friend's favorite son.

Well, to say the least, Drop-In gives everybody something to think about. Even today's column. Strange, either few are thinking or they prefer not to answer.

Celebrities Are Human Beings. Too. Those words were the heading of a column in a Nova Scotia Weekly recently. From experience we would not know but from newspaper reports and in conversations we would gather the famed and the rich are as much in need of friendship and companionship as the humble and poor. Riches and fame are not everything as many of the younger generation are trying to point out. Anyway, visiting committees and do-good committees should not forget that heading. "Celebrities Are Human Beings, Too" and not stand aloof. Sort of reminds us of the expression "The poor you have always with you".

So far this season Canada has had 1,548 fires with damage of $3,000 acres as against the average of the past ten years of 2,115 fires and 37,900 acres. The summer, however, still has two or more anxious months when weather can be abnormally dry. No time to slacken precautions.

The book clubs have found, in my husband and me, the perfect suckers. We cannot resist those glossy ads in magazines which promise us adventures in round-the-world cooking, at one three dollar and ninety-five cent plus postage volume for life, or all the treasures of the great museums of the world, beginning with the Louvre, at $7.95 per month, or $2.00 more for the deluxe edition.

Admittedly our nineteen volume novel library, our ten volume set on the art of the world, and our twenty books about the great ages of man, look terrifically impressive and intelligent on our bookshelves, but not very much of the intelligence contained in them has been transferred to us.

Stashed on the second topmost shelf of our built-in bookcase, so high that I have to climb up the first couple of shelves to reach it, is our book club purchase of the complete works of Shakespeare. It runs to forty blue-bound, gold printed, books, including one volume of poems, one of sonnets, and one collection of letters, documents, and contemporary writings about the great bard.

I went on another one of those list-writing, self-improvement binges the other night. I forget exactly what triggered this one, but more than likely, somebody said something about "Falsely, worse in kings than beggars" to which I probably replied that it must be wonderful to know your Bible like that, and was left, standing red-faced in the middle of the room, resolving for the forty-seventh time this month, never again to thrust my feet so far into my cultural muck.

Whenever I make a resolution, in fact, whenever I move, I have to make a list about it, so, naturally, when I made up my mind to rehabilitate my literary self, I made a list. It began with "Between now and the end of this year, I shall read at least three of Shakespeare's plays" and, being fired with fervor at the time, I determined to begin that night.

I climbed up the two bottom shelves, and stood, balancing precariously, with my toes on fairly solid ground, or should I say wood, and my heels waving in mid air. That formidable line of blue books, the contents of most having been untouched by human hands, or human minds, glowered down at me.

But I had taken the plunge, or the climb, as the case might be. To make my choice easier, I moved the poems, sonnets, and biography to the far left of the shelf. Then I moved all the plays I had actually read. That took care of Hamlet, Macbeth, Romeo and Juliet, and King Lear, all of which seem somehow to have gotten read by school days. The choice was narrowed down to thirty-three books. I had some vague memory of having once read Julius Caesar and A Midsummer Night's Dream, but I could not quite remember when. I eliminated Richard the Third, and The Taming of the Shrew, which I had seen as movies, then The Merry Wives of Windsor, which was really cheating, because I had seen it as an opera, and could not exactly claim to be able to quote any of it from Shakespeare. I still had twenty-nine books from which to start my cultural development. I pushed Coriolanus to the end of the shelf. I had heard it on the radio once. Ah! I remembered about it was the name, and the pleasant feeling of smug snobbishness I had had when I listened.

I tried several of those methods we inductive people use to make a choice, counting ten, alphabetical order, titles with more than fifteen letters, but it still could not make up my mind. Finally, leafing through the bibliographical book, I came across a chronological list, which solved my problem. I read The Comedy of Errors, which was funny, took less than an hour, and made me wonder why I had not brushed up on my Shakespeare long ago.

But, now that I have done my Shakespearean duty, I shall probably crawl back into my illiterate shell, until some future literary blunder forces me to read Love's Labour Lost.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

Through your good service I wish to express my thanks to the Digby Pines Hotel management, and in particular to the some 170 young ladies and men, who played such a major part in an outstanding conference for the Canadian Public Relations Society.

I am sure that the other 25 Ottawa delegates will, like myself have fond memories of the courtesy and service extended to us by the university students employed by the hotel. And, in particular, we will

It was unfortunate that time did not permit me to see more of your part of Canada. I hope to return to your part of Canada in the future and to the pleasure of delegates to the opportunity to enjoying your scenery and hospitality, and many stayed on in the area to holiday.

I can assure you that I will be returning to make up for what I missed. And I look forward to meeting you personally at the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association Conference in Halifax in August.

Sincerely yours,

Notes from Bird Haven

ANNUAL BREEDING SURVEY

The alarm went off at 3:30 a.m. and by 4 a.m. we were on our way to Sandy Cove. It was a glorious morning, no wind, just a little fog in patches, ideal for birding.

We started counting at 5:30 a.m., stopping every half mile for 3 minute intervals by stop watch. This count is done yearly throughout the Maritimes.

Our route took us up the Neck Road to Lower Cross Road, through Marshalltown, Acacia Valley, thence to Lansdowne, completing our 25 mile route with 50 stops.

The highlights of our trip was a Scarlet Tanager, Mourning Dove, Orioles and a nesting Killdeer that played crippled to lead us away from her nest.

Our total count was 711, either seen or identified by song, 44 species in all.

A phone call from a hay-maker on the Ridge told me of a nest he had found while haying. He saw a bird rise from the ground to carefully avoided that spot with his machine.

On going out to see if I could identify the nestlings found to me to be five Bobolinks about ready to leave their nest. Daddy bird was hovering around with a juicy green bug in his beak.

Bobolinks were very rare around here until a few years ago. This year they are particularly plentiful. A black bird with white patches on wings and yellow patch on back of head.

Sunday a Red-eyed Vireo was brought in with a slightly injured foot, unable to stand. He was put in a cage with food and water and by morning was as spry as any little bird should be so was released and flew off to a tall spruce tree to sing many more songs, I hope.

The Robin brought in by some children was also released.

The story of the bewildered duck next time.

Golf Gossip

BY Herb Warren

There were no Digby Golf Club tournaments scheduled over the past weekend. However, members are reminded there will be a tournament this coming Saturday, July 5th - the Four Man Now Let Team Play for the large Earl Vanassel Trophy.

A group of ten from the ladies section of Digby Golf Club journeyed last Thursday, June 26th, to the Eden Golf Club - appropriately located in Paradise - 4 miles east of Bridgetown, to take part in a Women's Field Day hosted by the ladies of the Eden Club. Other entries were from Liverpool, Paragon, Greenwood, Ken-Wo, Chester, Lunenburg, Ashburn, Brightwood, Windsor and Oakfield clubs. The only Digby winner was Verna Stonehouse for the fewest number of putts.

Bob Winchester, Smith's Cove, is in charge of junior development at the Digby Golf Club and is doing an outstanding job. Bob gives us the following report in connection with junior activities:

National Golf Week sponsored on behalf of the juniors was a real active and profitable week for the Digby Golf Club Juniors. Over $100 of tickets in support of the eight Junior tournaments sponsored by the N.S.G.A. were sold by the following Juniors of the Pines Club: Randy Bar, Sezen Binsel, Rachael Brown, Rebecca Brown, John Nichols Jr., Mary Robinson and Tommy Sutherland. Their voluntary effort is much appreciated. Our club (Juniors) will receive 25% of all tickets sold.

The first evening of a series of four Friday evening golf clinics, sponsored by Digby Club Pro Nick Nickerson and Digby Club Assistant Captain Don Fleet, was very successful with a turnout of twelve juniors. These clinics are held at no cost to the juniors. It is encouraged that all juniors avail themselves of this professional instruction.

While on the subject of juniors we are most pleased to report a hole-in-one by Brian Cook on Hole No. 8, on Monday morning, June 30th, while playing a friendly match with Peter Amiraull. Brian accomplished this feat on the 145 yard hole using a 7 iron. So far as Club Pro Nick Nickerson is aware, Brian's ace is the first to be made by a junior in his more than eighteen years as Digby Club Pro. Heartly congratulations to Brian on his accomplishment in which I am sure all Digby Club members will join. Brian is now a member of a select group at Digby Golf Club. Move over Buck!

We are sorry to learn Ralph Campbell of the CFB Cornwallis section of Digby Golf Club will be leaving the Club shortly after three years as a popular member and willing worker in Club affairs. Ralph is being posted to HMCS Cape Scott and expects to be at sea upwards of eight years. Bon Voyage! One thing about hitting a golf ball off a ship, Ralph, you don't have to pick it up!

by the psychiatrist, psychologist and social worker, followed by lengthy discussion periods.

Other aspects of the course included a reading program with reports to be submitted on each book, the reviewing of a video-tape of the lectures given by Dr. Victor Frankl, psychiatrist, a daily program of visitation with patients in the Sanatorium, and individual weekly counselling sessions with the course supervisors. Each participant was required to do special reading in one particular "problem area" and present a particular situation to the group which was then role-played by various members in the group. This was followed by group evaluation.

The main thrust of the course was to prepare the pastors to do more effective counselling and to work more effectively with the sick and troubled. The point of departure was a deeper understanding of the self through the sensitivity groups, and a deeper understanding of the problems of life through the clinical seminars, role plays and problem presentations. All who took the course felt it to be a healing experience as well as one of growth in understanding persons and human needs.

On Sunday morning Mr. Robertson expressed his appreciation to the members of the church for allowing him the time off from Monday to Friday for the six-week period in order that he be enabled to participate in this most valuable experience. He remarked that his life and ministry would be the richer for having undertaken the training.

Good Programme Planned For Acadian Festival

Honorable Gerard Pelletier, M. P. of Ottawa will be guest of honor of the Acadian Festival of Clare on July 11th and 12th. Pelletier will officially declare the festival open on that date, said Jean R. Doucet of Church Point, president of the Acadian Festival.

This year will mark the 14th annual Acadian Festival of Clare in Digby County and the theme is "The Acadian of Today". Originally started in 1956 by the Clare Board of Trade, the festival has continued through the years with its chief aim to make this area known and it has achieved this purpose quite well.

Mr. Doucet stated that this year's program will take in the following days, July 11, 12 and 13th. Activities will commence on Friday, July 11th with the official opening of the festival at the Festival grounds to be held at the Clare District High School auditorium. The activities of the day will take place on the high school grounds and auditorium and other parts of the school during the day, at Meteghan River. At 2 p.m. the Acadian exhibition of arts and crafts will be on display in conjunction of the Cultural Division of the A.A.V.I. Education branch, which promises to be very popular. The exhibition is opened to all persons of Acadian descent in Nova Scotia.

From 3 to 4:40 p.m. there will be a Tea served by the ladies of St. Anne's Anglican Church of Meteghan and during this period, a fashion parade of style of years ago will be staged and sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of the St. Anne's Anglican Church of Meteghan. An afternoon tea will be held at Meteghan River. At 6 p.m. a dinner for the Secretary of State, Hon. Gerard Pelletier will be served at the Bluefin Restaurant at Meteghan. 8:30 p.m. Hon. Pelletier will officially declare the festival open and this will be followed by the Acadian dance at which the Evangeline and Gabriel of the 1960 Acadian Festival will be selected and crowned.

On July 12th, Saturday: the morning and afternoon will be set aside for the youth of Clare. A track and field meet will be organized on the Clare District High school grounds at Meteghan River, where all the activities of the day will be held. In the evening at the high school spacious auditorium the Square Dance Jamboe sponsored by Les Danseurs Acadiens square dance club of Clare will be held with Little Bailey from the State of Maine will be guest caller. Les Danseurs Acadiens will be wearing the traditional Acadian costume, which is very colorful and attractive.

At 4:30 the giant chicken barbecue will be held and will continue until 11 p.m. at the Clare District High School grounds. Canteen service will be provided and at 11 p.m. a fire works program will start. At 12 o'clock, midnight, a special mass will be celebrated at the St. Anne's church for all those wishing to attend. Everyone is welcomed.

Sunday, July 13th, will see the parade of floats decorated with cars, bicycles, horses, etc., starting at Little Brook road and winding its way over a 2 1/2 mile route to terminate on St. Anne's college campus grounds at Church Point. Here also the annual bazaar will be operated by Les Danes Patronesses de la C.A.A., starting at 1 p.m. and terminating at 5 p.m. The same group will serve the famous Acadian dish, Tripa-Sa-rapure from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Tripa-Sa-rapure is made of grated potatoes which have been sautéed to remove the water and starch content, then mixed with certain amount of hot water, placed in a flat pan with chicken meal generously placed throughout. It is baked for four hours.

At 8 p.m. a Talent Show with a special guest not yet named will participate and act as a number of entertainers while local talent take part. This will end the festivities for the year 1969.

An open golf tournament is planned by the Clare Golf and Country Club on their course at Concession which will be a three day affair, commencing on July 11th and terminating on July 13th, stated David Gaudet, president of the club. The golf tournament fits into the Acadian Festival program.

A deep sea fishing sports tournament will be organized by the Cape St. Mary's Anglers Association at Cape St. Mary on Sunday, July 13th, stated David Juhin, president of the tournament as an item of the festival, this year.

The June monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Westport United Baptist Church met on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Arthur Titus. Mrs. Lawrence Shaw presided.

"Radio drama isn't play acting, it's re-living people." This has been the credo of CBC radio drama supervisor, Esso W. Ljung since the mid '30s when he began his act-producing career with the Corporation. Since then, the Swedish-born man for all theatre has produced hundreds of plays for the Stage series, CBC Tuesday Night, television, as well as school broadcasts and opera. He has won many awards and honors for the CBC, his contribution of Canadian talent is immeasurable. This August, when he will be 65, Ljung retires from the CBC. But his heavy schedule is as crowded as ever—he's off to Europe for special projects on behalf of the CBC, this summer he'll be teaching at the Banff School of Fine Arts, and come fall his itinerary includes visits to many universities where he'll continue to give of his boundless theatrical experience.

Poetry Corner

You And I
Let us walk together
You and I
French, Celt, Saxon and Scot
To the river, the river ours.
Yours and mine.

Let us watch together
You and I
French, Celt, Saxon and Scot,
The ruffled waters.
Yours and mine.

Let us again, you and I
Fly the silver knighted skies,
We once made ours
Yours and mine.

Let us, together
You and I
Walk towards God,
A God of ours.
Yours and mine.

Let us, together
You and I
Forget quarrels,
That are not ours
Nor yours, nor mine.

For some day, together
Very still... you and I
French, Celt, Saxon and Scot,
Will lie in this land
Your very yours, my very mine!

Mission Band Holds Closing At Westport

On Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock parents and friends met together in the Baptist Church hall to enjoy closing exercises of the Mission Band of the United Baptist and the Church of Christ. The children were dressed in Indian costume. The girls in their colorful saris and jeweled head bands and the boys with the costumes of the brave complete with bow and arrow.

Mrs. George Kenney, the leader, who has been able to assist during the year by Mrs. Earl Webber, announced the numbers of the program and warmly welcomed those present. Mrs. Albert Bailey presided at the piano and led the band in several choruses.

The numbers of the band responded to the roll call with a verse of scripture.

There was an exercise by the Primaries entitled "Oh the Careful" and a Bible reading by Ruth Ellen Robitson and Gregory Bailey.

A solo by Edith Ingersoll "I Would Be Like Jesus" was much enjoyed.

Mrs. Kenney told a story about Missions showing that many of the Missionaries were called to serve Christ on the Mission Fields, because of their early training of the Mission Band.

A trio "A Book I Love" by Faye Lent, Dana Swift and Marilyn Denton was enjoyed. Another pleasant feature of the evening came when Mrs. Lawrence Shaw, president of the Women's Missionary Society presented gifts in appreciation of their work by Mrs. Kenney and Mrs. Webber. The closing song was followed by prayer by the Mission Band group.

Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

Chevrolet Pacesetter Values

This year's cars at less than last year's prices.

You already know where most prices are going. Up. So you'd naturally expect the brand-new '69 cars shown here to cost a lot more than last year. Fact is, many cars in this year's line-up from Chevrolet cost less than last year's models. For instance, the 2-door Impala, equipped with power disc brakes, 200 Hydramatic transmission, whitewall, wheel covers and head restraints, plus a bigger motor than last year, is yours for $12,050* less than last year's figure. And comparable savings are waiting for you on many Nova, Chevelle and Camaro models.

In other words, you can buy many of this year's cars at less than last year's prices. Which is what putting you first is all about. From the top, Chevy Nova, Chevelle Malibu, Camaro and Impala.

Prevention Main Mental Health Function

Dr. A. A. Armstrong, Director of the Digby Mental Health Clinic, appeared before the Digby Town Council on Monday night requesting that the annual grant of $750 be provided to the Digby Mental Health Clinic for the purpose of preventing work in the mental health program. Since the introduction of M.S.I., this method of finance could be considered as a means of preventing the cost of operation of the Digby and Bridgetown Clinics under the Mental Health Board. There is still the public health function of prevention of mental disturbance to be taken care of. The Board hopes to set up a Family Service Centre for this purpose.

The P.S.C. will be designed to assist people who are in trouble but who are not ill. Behind the centre will be committees on welfare, education, religion, finance, mental health, employment, etc. One of the biggest problems Dr. Armstrong said is that people are not aware of the resources available. The P.S.C. would be a community effort.

Represents Youth On Hockey Question

Mayor Glen Smith expressed to Robert Stanley Vidito on Monday night the deep appreciation of himself and the Digby Council for what the Digby Oil Kings hockey team had done for the town. The hockey team had done much to bring access and fame to themselves and to put the name of Digby "on the map". However, informed Vidito that the council had nothing to do with the operation of the hockey team and how the proceeds were spent. He regretted that while the Oil Kings were champions there was no trophy, no crest presented and the young people were anxious to know how much money had been received by the team and if and where it was used. Vidito is not a member of the team.

Vidito was advised to seek the information from the Digby Recreation Commission and it was suggested the heads of both the Commission and hockey team would meet with him to provide the information. Town Clerk Jack Whitley, who is also president of the Digby Recreation Commission, said that a list of the income passed to the team from the Commission had been given to the chairman of the Commission.

SITES FOR HOUSING GIVEN O.K.

Mayor Glen Smith informed the Digby Town Council on Monday night that six sites for low rental housing in Digby had been given the O.K. by the Central Mortgage and Housing and that a survey had been started. An architect is to be in Digby on July 17 when preliminary plans for the housing will be presented and then they will be able to proceed with the working drawings and employ a land surveyor. It is expected there will be twenty-two units for senior citizens. It was announced that the Gordon Barr property had been purchased for the low rental housing project.

Digby's Tourist Of The Week From Puerto Rico

When Mr. and Mrs. John Toulouin of 54 Kings Court, Sackville, San Juan, Puerto Rico, were stopped by Digby, Chief of Police, Webster Dunn as they disembarked from the Princess of Acadia on the C.P.R. wharf, they had some misgivings. Their anxiety was for but a moment. Grant Mims, secretary-manager of the Annapolis Valley Affiliate of Boards of Trade was right on Webb's heels to ally any dismay with the announcement that this couple had been selected as Digby's Tourist of the Week if it might be convenient for them to take advantage of the courtesies offered. Shown in the picture is Mr. Toulouin accepting the certificate of the Order of Good Cheer being presented by R. Baden Powell, M.L.A., Chief of Digby, Ontario, and to right are Mrs. (Regina) Toulouin; Russell Stonehouse, president of the Digby Board of Trade; Chief Dunn; Mr. Mims and Mayor Glen Smith. Immediately after the Tourist's arrival extended and had registered their delightful surprise at such hospitality and courtesies, they were whisked away by police escort to Digby Town Hall where they signed the visitor's book and were given an official welcome by Mayor Smith. Others present for the occasion besides the previous mentioned were Town Councilors Ian Dillon, Charles McFadden and Victor Halliday; Town Clerk, Jack Whitley; Digby Municipal Councillor Eugene Ouchette; Director, Dr. May C. D. D., where Mrs. Toulouin had visited a number of times before. They particularly liked the friendliness of the Maritime and enjoy the combination of timber and sea (Please turn to page 6)

Acadian Festival

The Acadia Festival of Clare was organized and sponsored by the Clare Chamber of Commerce in 1956. The idea of the festival came as a result of the 1955 Bicentennial celebrations and the Acadians' participation in those celebrations at Grand Pre.

A. P. McLennan of Charlottetown was the President of the Clare Chamber of Commerce at that time and he says that the members thought that a festival to encourage and promote Acadian customs was appropriate.

Mr. Purdy came before the regular meeting of the town council for approval of equipment to be placed in the new extension. The request applied to the multi-purpose room and will be fully paid by the federal and provincial governments. The equipment had already been approved by the Urban School Board, Inspector E. C. Edwards, Business Education services and other inspection services. The approval given by the town council on Monday night sets in motion the action of calling tenders for the equipment.

ROAD PROPOSAL WOULD HAVE TWO-WAY ECONOMICAL EFFECT

Concerned about the economy of Digby town should the new road to the proposed new wharf and ferry take the course which has been understood to be planned, a number of citizens gathered at the town hall on Wednesday morning to discuss a counter proposal. The meeting was called by A. L. Robinson of Digby Board of Trade Industrial Committee and Mayor Glen Smith was asked to preside.

R. Baden Powell was invited to attend the meeting composed of chiefly of town councilors and Board of Trade members.

It had been understood that the provincial government had plans to build the road from the Battling Beach area along the Shore Road, past the Pines Hotel to the Racquette Bridge and then by-pass the town and other built-up areas directly to a point in Marshalltown about a mile or more west of the underpass. It was the opinion of those at the meeting that passengers to and from the new boat would not back-track to come to Digby town and the town would be the losers.

On the grounds of a two-way economical effect, another proposal came out of Wednesday's meeting. It was felt that if the new road followed the present road from Digby town to the Marshalltown area, and continue along near the Victoria St. route directly to the Racquette to meet the Shore Road already planned, this would not be a detriment to visitors shopping in Digby and would be a boost to Digby economy. It was also pointed out that most of this road has already been built and cost savings to the government would be a tremendous item.

Careful analysis of the proposal revealed that few properties or homes would be disturbed by the proposal which the group had to submit.

It was decided to contact authorities at once, requesting them to visit the area when the proposal will be present.

TRAFFIC AT RACQUETTE CAUSE FOR CONCERN

Chief Police, Webster Dunn, was deeply concerned on Monday night when he approached Digby town council about the dangerous conditions for Racquette traffic, particularly on Saturday night. He brought to their attention that four heavy streams of traffic converge on the Racquette Bridge on Saturday evenings. They are those going and coming from the Pines Golf Course, Mount Pleasant, the Knights of Columbus dance at the Racquette, the Pines Hotel and the Legion dance on the Shore Road. He drew to their attention that in three of these places liquor is served. The lighting is not good, he informed council, there are no guard-rails and traffic in general is congested. He expressed himself that he is really concerned that a serious accident may occur.

Chief Dunn said the Pines cannot be moved, nor the Golf course, nor the Legion Hall. He suggested that the K. of C. dances might be held at the Forum and will contact the K. of C. to get their opinion on the situation.

Because the area of concern might be taken care of when approaches to the proposed new wharf are made, Mayor Glen Smith brought council up-to-date on road plans for the area. He said that Mr. Sinclair had been here from the Middlefield and agreed that any major changes should be delayed until the new highway construction in the new wharf was completed or underway.

Mayor Smith reported that consideration had been given to widening and strengthening the road from town to the Racquette.

Strawberry Acreage Burns Improved 300 Percent

Two fires in June called out the Digby Fire Department. It was announced Monday evening at the Town Council meeting. One was a rubbish fire and the other was caused by a flooded oil burner.

A fire in the Nova Scotia Horticultural Project in July was attended by the Digby Fire Department. The fire was efficiently extinguished by the Digby firemen. About a half acre of strawberries were burned but this was no serious consequence. It is thought the straw which covered the plants had been accidentally ignited.

Other functions of the fire department were escorting Queen Annapolis and washing streets.

Mr. A. J. Dillon was congratulated on receiving her certificate for a course in EMO taken at Annapolis. A firefighter course under EMO was given at Little Brook and St. Bernard's when 41 received certificates.

Water Supply Improved 300 Percent

Councillor Gordon Ellis reported that the Digby Water Commission that Digby is 300 percent better off for water in 1959 than it was in 1958. It made his report to the Digby Town Council on Monday evening. On June 26 the town changed from the dam to No. 3 well and the lake and found the combination good.

Water level in the lake dropped 1 inch, remaining at 70 inches in the dam dropped by 15 inches. The No. 3 well retained the same level after using the water for six weeks on a trial basis.

Reporting on sewer problems, Deputy Mayor Paul Winchester warned that it costs money to retrieve toys lost by children, taking out mops, uniforms and jugs of Panda cold cream.

No Hasty Decision Re No Reservations

The decision to not have reservations for crossing cars over the Bay of Fundy by Princess of Acadia was not a hasty decision, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company informed the town of Digby, Mayor Glen Smith and Grant Mims, executive director of the Annapolis Valley Affiliate of Boards of Trade, had made inquiries regarding the "first come first serve" method of handling present car transportation.

The C.P.R. indicated that other places using this method had been reviewed to satisfaction and the method now used seemed to be of greater benefit to the town and province both for and when the new boat is on the Bay of Fundy run. It was suggested that two or three trips a day might be made with the new boat.

Request Sunday Rock n' Roll Outdoor Concert

Councillor Charles Hall, Police Chief Webster Dunn, Mayor Glen Smith and Deputy Mayor Paul Winchester volunteered to go on a committee to Monday at eleven o'clock in the morning with the Purple Candles group to discuss the matter of a Rock n' Roll type of Sunday afternoon outdoor concert. The Mayor had been approached by the group of young people to put on a concert from three o'clock to four o'clock. President of the group is Robert Marshall Jr., Montague Row.

Two self-evident hindrances were immediately noted. There could be no charge to enhance the revenue of the Purple Candles Secret and there would have to be a strict enforcement of non-alcohol.

Mayor Smith, in presenting the young people's request to town council on Monday night, mentioned that the group have a responsibility not only to a few citizens of the town but to all the town including young and old. He indicated that the town here the young people out.

Not all the council were in accord with the Mayor's sentiments with one councillor remarking that it would be "ridiculous to let them" and further remarked that "we've taken on great steps to help youth while we drive the older people insane."

HEALTH & SAFETY

Mainly for Mothers

by Carol Hart

World's Greatest Tasters Are in Playpen Set

The most adventurous tasters in the world are under the age of five. They will taste anything they can touch. Annually, thousands of children, most of them under the age of five, sample medicines and household products of a nauseating variety. Although most recover, the experience can be a harrowing one — and it is preventable in almost all cases.

The Council on Family Health, a non-profit organization created to promote health and safety in the home, has some pertinent suggestions.

Most important is to look at your home through the eyes of your child. To him, it's an exciting, colorful place with hundreds of things to touch and taste. (Recently a safety expert with a new addition to the family carried out a room by room inspection of his home and found 21 potentially poisonous substances within reach of a crawling child. He removed each one.)

The room with the highest concentration of poisons is the kitchen. Detergents, bleach, insecticides, floor polish, disinfectants, room deodorizers and even paints are often stored in floor-level cabinets behind open-toe doors. These products should be removed to a higher location, removed from food cabinets. Store pots and pans in the floor level.

Knives, corkers, can openers and other sharp objects are often kept in waist-high drawers, within reach of a child. They should be placed on wall racks or a high shelf.

Electric outlets not in use can be covered with special plastic caps.

During meal preparation, pets and pans should have their handles turned inward, away from a child's grasp.

are his wife, the former Anne Farnsworth; two daughters, Leticia aged 8, and Crystal aged 6; two sons, Randall aged 5, and James aged 4.

Also surviving are his mother, Mrs. Mollie Mullen; five brothers, his twin, Ivan, of Weymouth Mills, Clayton and Glenison, of Hasset, Burgess, of Conn., U.S.A., and Basil, of Wellington; four sisters, Jean (Mrs. Austin Mullen), Nellie (Mrs. Henry Green), of Kempt, Mrs. Joyce Ford, of Hasset, and Miss Harriet, of Hasset.

Interment was in Hasset.

Margaret Florence Romain

The passing of Margaret Florence Romain occurred on June 30th at her home in New Edinburgh. She was 73 years old and was born in New Edinburgh. She was the daughter of the late Raymond Lombard, New Edinburgh, and Gertrude Gaudet Lombard, St. Bernard. She was a member of Les Dames Paroissiales and Dame St. Anne.

She leaves to mourn one son, Philip, Quebec; two daughters, Edna (Mrs. Raymond Faux), St. Catharines, Ont.; one brother, Julius, New Edinburgh; two sisters, Kaile, U.S.A., and Nellie (Mrs. Raymond), New Edinburgh. She also has nine grandchildren and one great grandchild and several nieces and nephews. Her husband predeceased her over a year ago.

Funeral service and burial were on July 3rd at the St. Bernard Roman Catholic Church with Mgr. Eli LeBlanc officiating.

Delbert Leslie Forrest

Delbert Leslie Forrest, 61, of Mount Pleasant, Digby Co., passed away suddenly at his home on Friday, July 4th. He was a magistrate in Digby and was caretaker at the Court House in Digby for twenty-two years, until his retirement from that job two years ago and was also the operator of the Digby oil distilling plant since its installation. He was a member of the Grace United Church, a past Noble Grand of the IOOF and was a member of the Orange Lodge. He was active in the Red Cross Society and a member of the Admiral Digby Garden Club.

He was a son of the late Thomas and Myrtle (Woodworth) Forrest.

He is survived by his wife, the former Helen Olivia Bremner; two daughters, Carolyn (Mrs. George Souley), of Halifax, and Muriel (Mrs. Jack Parent), Digby; two brothers, Aubrey, Lawrence, of Digby, and Douglas, of Halifax; and a sister, Rose (Mrs. Brock Chapman), Saint John, N. Golf Gossip

BY Herb Warren

The tournament played Saturday, July 5th, on the Pines Hotel Golf Course for the Earl VanTassel Trophy given for Four Man Low Net Team Play was won by the team of Jack Harris, Tim Collins, Clayton Snow and Dave Delley with a low Net of 208. In this tournament members of teams do not play together but are separated in different foursomes with their scores put together for a four man team total at the end of the play. Best individual score in the tournament was made by Bruce Hutchins with a low Net of 70.

The next Digby Golf Club Tournament on the Pines Course will be held Saturday, July 12th, and will be the Mixed Scotch Foursome Low Gross for the Dr. Perley Out-house Trophy. This type of tournament can be a lot of fun, so it is hoped a good number of lady and gentlemen members will enter.

A recent visitor to the Pines Hotel Golf Course was the distinguished movie actor Cliff Robertson, star of the award winning movie, "Charly", now playing in Halifax. Mr. Robertson was accompanied by his wife and two daughters. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson and the eldest daughter played the course and were delighted with it even though there was a bit of rain that day. The Robertsons spent four days in Digby at the Pines Hotel.

DIGBY CLUB MEMBERS AND OTHER PLAYERS PLEASE NOTE: Owing to more golfers than ever before using the Pines Course, it has been found necessary, in order to avoid having players held up waiting their turn at the first tee, to have starting times from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. commencing Saturday, July 12th. We think all players will agree that having starting times during the crowded part of the season is the best way to avoid tiring waiting to see off.

Digby Club members are reminded that there will be a dinner in the Clubhouse on Thursday, July 17th, or July 24th. The date decided on will be posted in the Clubhouse and Pro Shop.

JUNIOR CHEDDERS which have been held on Friday, will be held on Tuesday from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. for the next four weeks.

Referring to an item in an earlier column, we notice Nick now has his sign for golf balls changed to read simply "3 balls for $3.75" (No, not "cheaper by the dozen")

Little League Ball News

by: Bob McVeigh
Legion Takes Over: On Monday, June 30, the Legion overtook the Merchants 22-4. It was the first game of the season and the Merchants although out hit and out scored demonstrated they will be contenders for the Little League title before the season is over. It was indeed good to see sophomore players show some of the plays that produced such good games last season. We are looking for another successful Little League season.

Digby Grabs Defeat Weymouth
A team coached by Ken Skinner and Bernie O'Neill trounced Weymouth by the score of 28-3. It was an exciting game played on the Weymouth Ball diamond. This was the first start for the Weymouth Little League but knowing Weymouth, they'll do much better the next time out. This game was part of Weymouth's celebration for July 1. It was attended by a large crowd.

Loss Down Kiwanis: On Wednesday, July 2, the Lions led by Bobby Wood at the plate and on the mound defeated a very determined Lions team by the score of 9-2. At the plate Bobby had a perfect day, four for four including two home runs. On the mound he struck out 16 batters and only allowed three hits including a home run by Mitchell Belliveau. First year man, Barry O'Neill collected two hits, both singles, and scored a run. Mitchell Belliveau did the mound chores for the Kiwanis, he struck out eleven, gave up nine hits while walking only two.

Kiwanis Drop Second: On Monday, July 7, the well balanced Legion team behind the pitching of Pat Theriault and Paul Doucette took the Kiwanis team by the score of 8-3. The Legion collected only seven hits but errors and poor fielding caused such a high score. Mitchell Belliveau pitched a brilliant game, striking out fourteen batters, most of his strikeouts came at crucial times in the game. Brent Potter played a very steady game at short and collected one hit while scoring a run. Both catchers, John Dalton and his brother Scott turned in good games. Bobby Cottreau and Gary Melanson scored one run each for the Kiwanis. Mitchell Belliveau was named for the circuit. Freshman, Brian Stark for the Legion scored a run after having been hit by a pitch. The Jerry Campbell coached Legion took the test to beat by their first two outings.
Exhibition Game Saturday
On Saturday, July 12, at 2 p.m. a return game will be played with Weymouth on the Digby diamond. All you are able should attend this game as they will be treated to good baseball by the Little League.

Mayor Smith urged the councillors to attend the Union of Nova Scotia Municipal Regional meeting in Yarmouth on July 15 and the 64th annual conference of the Nova Scotia Municipalities in Halifax on August 27 and 28. Mr. Smith said it was educational to attend the meetings and the Union needs the support of the municipalities as well as the municipal bodies need the union. Deputy Mayor Paul Whalley (town clerk) and councillor Charles M. Budge were named voting delegates.

excellent method of achieving this aim.
The story of two young lovers separated by the Expulsion of the Acadians in 1755 inspired the poet Longfellow to write his immortal "Evangeline".
The poet gave a vivid description of the Acadians gathered around the lives of the two heroes, Evangeline and Gabriel, from their childhood at Grand Pre, their happy youth amid their many friends, and the solemn engagement. Then, the deportation and the two lovers must take separate paths in a new country on the Mississippi River, through the bayous of Louisiana, on the Atchafalaya lakes, on the Teche River, through the Michigan forests.

In her search Evangeline meets many Acadian "villages" like herself and some have seen Gabriel but, grief-stricken, she also roams from lakes and forests, involuntarily eluding her. Having reached what she believes to be the end of the road in her search, Evangeline devotes her life to the care of the sick and, alas, one day she recognizes Gabriel as one of her patients, aged and dying.

This young couple is the soul of Acadian folklore and it was felt fitting that the Acadian Festival of Claps should officially open with the selection of an "Evangeline" and a "Gabriel" to reign over the various events.

Each year a young Evangeline and Gabriel are selected to reign not only at the festival but to participate in other events during the year. The 1968 Evangeline and Gabriel represented most admirably, the Acadians at the Apple Blossom Festival.

This year they have added several new items: Open Golf Tournament on July 11, 12, 13 at the Claps Golf and Country Club; International Square Dance Jamboree on July 12

PLANE LANDS

The plane was noticed flying low just before the landing but not until the pilot knocked at the door of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Murphy of Point Prim Lighthouse for help was anyone aware of this unusual forced landing.

The family was enroute from Irtifax to St. Stephen, N. B. to their home after visiting their parents. As the pilot was anxious to return home he decided to chance a take off from the field and requested permission to have a strip cut for a take off. Keith Dunn cut the hay to make the longest possible runway so the plane could take off over the cliff at the lighthouse.

By excellent flying ability he just cleared the cliff after removing his jacket and leaving his wife and daughter at the field. He flew to the Digby Airport. His wife and daughter were taken by car to the airport where they continued their trip some the worst of this amazing experience.

Few saw this incident as it all happened within two hours between 6 and 8 p.m. Tuesday night.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY WORKS ON ADMIRAL DIGBY WELL GARDEN

There was a good attendance at the monthly meeting of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society, held at the home of Mrs. H. M. Warner on July 2nd. The president, Mrs. Lillian Nichols, presided.

Mrs. Louise Daley reported meetings had been planned at the Admiral Digby Well area and the garden cleaned and weeded.

Miss Marjorie Tupper for the Loyalist Cemetery Committee, stated the roses were growing well and hedges had been trimmed.

The committee in charge of work being done at the new Library building reported the beds had been planted in the window boxes and at a later date, shrubs will be placed on the surrounding lawn.

A History and a Year Book have been prepared and forwarded to the annual meeting of N. S. Association of Garden Clubs, being held at Dominion, N. S. this month. Points are awarded in this competition.

Posters, advertising for the Rose Show on July 9th at Bear River, have been received and entries were solicited from the Digby group.

It was suggested five dozen tea plants be purchased for use at the annual Flower Show and Tea. This was generally approved by the members.

The August meeting will comprise a short business meeting and work party at the Regional High School, in preparation for the August Flower Show and Tea. Miss Mary Marshall, convenor, gave a final report on work to be carried out at this time.

Mrs. Blanche Porter gave an illustration with a poster, place mats, dishes and flower containers as to what was necessary to make an attractive display or arrangement for flower show exhibits. The theme this year will be "Modesty and Flowers".

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Warner, assisted by hostesses Mrs. Porter and Miss Dora Warner.

Since preparing the foregoing, we of the Garden Club have learned of the passing of one of our most valued members, Delbert Forrest.

A quiet, unassuming man, Delbert was ever ready to give of his time and ability to carry out any project undertaken by the club.

It was through his efforts that the garden at the apartment he greatly missed by each and every member of the society.

- IN MEMORIAM -

DELBERT FORREST

In the passing of Delbert Forrest the Digby Red Cross has met with an irreparable loss. Throughout the thirty years since the organization of the Digby Branch in 1939, Delbert Forrest has been an indispensable part of the organization, and one of its most dependable members and workers.

During the war years when the Red Cross was constantly active at the Court House, his assistance made much of this work possible. Later, as space in the Court House became congested, it was Delbert who willingly shared his office with the Red Cross and thus allowed the work to continue.

When the Sickroom Loan Service was established, Delbert became its Chairman and dispensed hospital beds, wheelchairs and crutches from the Court House headquarters. There was never a blood donor clinic in which Delbert did not play some part, and in the meantime, there was always a supply of battered dolls and toys on hand, on which he worked in spare moments, and from which came freshly painted and repaired gifts for the Red Cross "Christmas Cheer" parcels.

Above all this was the cheerful and willing spirit with which he responded to each and every call for assistance. To work with him was to know and appreciate his dedication, his good citizenship, and the quiet, unassuming manner in which he carried out his many good deeds. The Digby Red Cross Branch will long remember Delbert Forrest with affection and gratitude.

The Fickle Sea

Calm, peaceful surface of the sea
Your glassy countenance belies
What force of strength you can show.
When a gale does suddenly arise,
Reflecting all the glory of
A beautiful summer day.
When sunset turns your blue to gold
How deceptive and meek you can stay.
But a breeze can quickly make you show
A change in mood or fibre
And in a short space of time you can go
From calm to vengeful anger.
You stretch forth your mighty arms
And take of human life and ships,
Without a murmur of remorse,
Or regret from your salty lips.

Oh, fickle, treacherous, deceitful sea!

Tales of the bathroom

We've come a long way from the cellar to the recreation room, and we've come a long way from the backhouse to the bathroom.

I don't know whether you call that progress or not. There's something to be said for both sides.

You can't store coal and potatoes in the recreation room, for example. A definite disadvantage. On the other hand, you couldn't have a shower in the backhouse, unless the roof leaked and it was raining.

A vanity! A vanity! I said as much to my wife. And she said approximately ten times as much to me. Ce n'est que du vent, dit-elle. Turquoise (figures). New wallpaper to pick up the turquoise in the toilet and the gold flock in the bathroom. A vanity! A vanity! A vanity! A vanity!

Do you know how much plumbers are getting these days? Of course you do. And electricians? Well, I hereby swear once more a mighty oath, and with all you witnesses, that I'll never install another new bathroom so long as I'm both alive. Me and the bathroom, that is. When I'm dead, my wife will be right into the bathroom for another new one, probably in deep purple.

What gets me is that there isn't a thing wrong with the one we had. It had a perfectly good white cast-iron tub. (The only thing I enjoyed about the whole installation was watching these plumbers move the 800-pound monster down the stairs.)

There was nothing wrong with the tub except that it was too big for the hole in the drain or the water would run out. And as I like to soak for an hour, I had a towel rack and a soap dish, and up to my wife's right specifications. I'm going to demand that a whole new tub be pulled out for the installation of a set of electric toilet-calls.

Much ado about nothing. But I'll get my own back. When everything is complete, and up to my wife's right specifications, I'm going to demand that a whole new tub be pulled out for the installation of a set of electric toilet-calls.

VOLUME XXIV, No. 48

MINISTER DECIDES TO REVERSE-SENER SITUATION SOON

Makes Trip By Canoe

It has been a long time, if ever, since anyone paddled a canoe the seven and a half miles from New Edinburgh, below Weymouth, across the St. Mary's Bay to Sandy Cove on Digby Neck. David Burke, of Weymouth and Tommy Thibault, employed as police guard at Halifax accomplished the feat last week. They admit that they almost upset the canoe going into the cove when one of them put excess enthusiasm into wading to spectators on shore.

For The Sake Of Memory

The flowers presented to Digby's Tourist of the Week at the town hall were a gift from Flowers by Gabrielle. Instantly, The Digby Courier is pleased to name the presenter.

DIGBY TRADE BOARD CONTINUES PURSUIT NEW PIER ROUTE

The transportation committee received blessing from the Board of Trade, to further pursue, along with the Town of Digby and in collaboration with the Nova Scotia Minister of Highways and, or engineer, a suitable route from the proposed new ferry pier to number 1 highway. Head of the committee is A. L. Robinson. Authority was given by a resolution of the Digby Board on Tuesday evening. Activity suggesting a route close to Digby than the one understood to be proposed by the highways department began last week when Mr. Robinson initiated a meeting of town officials and Board members along with B. Baden Powell, M.L.A. and later a meeting with Murray Merash, Mr. Robinson Tuesday evening on the suggestion and activity to date.

Mr. Robinson informed the Board that his understanding of the department's proposal was to follow the present Shore Road from the proposed pier at Baiting Beach to the Racquette through to Thibault's Crossing, over Digby Neck road to the main No. 1 highway and by-passing Digby. He made proposals which he felt would save the economy a half million dollars, make the road a half mile shorter and bring people to see Digby to save the economy.

What's In A Name?

The caption on a picture in a daily newspaper this week read "Digby - the Nova Scotia port for the Bay of Fundy service via the S. S. Princess Helena." Just a little outdated. It is now via Prince of Acadia.

But what's in a name? The above ship is Carino II. You've guessed it. The former Princess Helena, Credit goes to the New Brunswick Maritime Historical Society (F. A. Thomas) for the picture. Capt. Roy Conley, former master of the Helena is president of the society. The Carino II owned in Greece is operating in the Mediterranean.

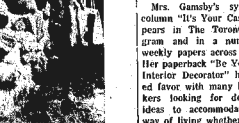

Well Known Writer Visits Digby

much impressed with the Lord (see page 1). A. J. Galloway, Moncton, Halifax and Yarmouth. While in Digby she was privileged to see the village of Bear River with its hills and surrounding country and she returned home with the popular church supports in Bear River. Enroute from Yarmouth to Digby the author was captivated by the large and beautiful churches in the villages of Clare.

Mrs. Margo Gansby, well known columnist and author of several books and editor of two magazines was a visitor at the Pines in Digby. Seen above by the Admiral Digby Well, Mrs. Gansby, her husband John, an Estate Planning Consultant, and two teenage boys, Bob and Dan, live at Charlton, a village just outside Toronto.

Mrs. Gansby's mission to Digby was to obtain a couple of the Maude Lewis paintings of which she had heard so much, prepare for a feature story on Maude Lewis and to visit the Maritimes. She was keenly disappointed to hear Mrs. Lewis was hospitalized and she returned home with the paintings she desired.

Mrs. Gansby visited Fredericton, N. B., where she was for more than a year to visit the area. He had heard about the weir fishermen, their advantages and problems and conflict of interests in the St. Mary's Bay and he was trying to make up his mind whether to set, in a very special situation, a life cutting across the Bay to protect the weir fishermen by a pre-serve.

The minister expressed greatest concern regarding the economics of the situation. It would be foolish, he said, to close off the Bay to the detriment of the fishermen. If the fishing is a good thing now,

Golden Wedding Anniversary

On January 1st, 1919, the Freeport Baptist Church was the scene of the wedding of Alton, son of William and Lily Grant and of Violet, daughter of Benjamin and Alice Campbell. The minister officiating at the ceremony was Rev. Walter West.

Fifty years later, on July 20th, 1969, Mr. and Mrs. Alton MacNeil celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home in Freeport. For the occasion, the wedding was celebrated with a centrepiece of yellow and bronze mums, candles and a 3 tiered cake. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young, and Mrs. Lucille Flanagan who were in attendance at the wedding.

it should be kept a good thing. He gave commemoration to the license limitation, the rights of which could be passed on by the weir fishermen or could be sold by the fishermen.

As busy as I am minister, Hon. Mr. Davis said, I want to make as few notes as possible but this is a special situation, Trinity Lodge where the bearing spirit, he said, must be protected.

At the luncheon were Mayor Glen Smith, chief fisheries officer in Digby district; Robert McCafferty and Victor Halliday, fisheries officers; Grant Nimmo, executive director of

Seeing Eye Dog On Duty 10 Years

Quoting from a new article recently written in a Gardner, Mass. newspaper may be of interest to many especially in the Digby Neck area - Babbie, a German boxer is a faithful companion to her blind owner, Mrs. Constance Theriault of 172 Prospect St., Gardner, Mass. The seeing eye dog, which was born in Massachusetts, N. J., celebrated her twelfth birthday, April 1.

Bambi was honored at a meeting of the Worcester County Adult Blind Chapter meeting, in Digby on Tuesday to visit with the children and to enjoy the superintendent on one of the already made roads from Woodman's Corner or River's Corner through to the Racquette and angular route across the West of King St., using King St. and follow the direct route to the Racquette where it would continue on the department's proposal.

Commission Avails Itself Of Resource Persons

The services of a volunteer panel of resource persons from a wide variety of backgrounds and a wealth of resources in many fields are to be made available to the Annapolis Basin-Digby Development Commission. The members of the resource panel who have agreed to assist the development commission were asked to outline some of their thinking in the matter of development at a dinner meeting held in Deep Brook, to which they had been invited as guests of the commission.

Included in the panel members joining the development commission are Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Knowlton of Charlton, Mass. Mr. Knowlton is a freelance writer of scripts for industrial motion pictures and has had a considerable experience in a number of areas of development. Other members of the resource panel include Mr. B. H. Hicks of Bridgetown, a retired electrical engineer with a wide experience in his field and has been interested in development of tidal power; Ross Parsons of Bear River who is a retired company executive who just retired prior to retirement was involved in work in Australia; Robert Thuermer of Deep Brook, top executive with a well known United States management firm, and Dr. A. D. Pickett of Deep Brook, who is retired after many years of varied and varied experience in agricultural development.

Dr. Pickett suggested at the meeting that consideration should be given by the commission to the possibility of returning instead a low quality farm lands in the area to forest production. Dr. Pickett said this might be done in such a way that the production of desirable timber crops would be encouraged. He noted

ENGINEER MEETS ON ROAD PROPOSAL

C. M. Sinclair, Middleton, engineer with the Nova Scotia Highways Department and Murray Morash met with officials of the town and the Digby Board of Trade on Thursday to hear suggestions regarding a proposed route from a highway number 1 to the proposed new ferry terminal which was claimed would save the province much money and bring tourists into Digby, thereby boosting the lagging economy of Digby's front street. Present at the meeting was R. Baden Powell, M.L.A. The meeting followed one held earlier in the week which was instigated by A. L. Robinson, chairman of the Digby Board of Trade transportation committee. Mr. Robinson became concerned when he learned that the department's proposed route would bypass Digby. Digby, he stated, has been bypassed for the past hundred years. It might be time, he said, for us to know what it is like to live on a main route.

The engineer definitely stated that it was not too late for a re-examination of the route and remarked that the government heads over backwards to investigate suggestions or complaints. He reminded the gathering that the purchasing of homes in the town would be a town responsibility should such a route as proposed by the committee be used. When asked by the Board of Trade president whether the proposal sounded feasible, Mr. Sinclair said yes, but improved with the Board of Trade. Figures were presented on traffic which were based on the data presented by the Canadian Pacific Railway in February stating the new ship would carry approximately 150 cars and about 44 trailers or trucks. It was noted that many of the trucks would be transported by rail rather than highway and other traffic would be heaviest only two months of the year. The figures presented on Thursday did not coincide with the department's projected figures. Mr. Sinclair felt that the first thing which had to be done was to substantiate a traffic figure.

Clearly Is Here

"Clearly" actor Cliff Robertson was seen on the theatre screen in Digby last night and will continue on the screen until the 19th. Digby has a special interest in the movie "Clearly" since its star, Mr. Robertson, his wife and daughter were guests at The Pines two weeks ago.

One of the pleasures which the family enjoyed while in Digby was a fishing trip with Captain Joe MacBarnard. The actor said he had heard a lot about Digby but this was his first trip here - then added, "but it won't be the last."

HOLD PARENTS BAY

More than 25 parents gathered at the Children's Home in Digby on Tuesday to visit with the children and to enjoy the superintendent on one of the already made roads from Woodman's Corner or River's Corner through to the Racquette and angular route across the West of King St., using King St. and follow the direct route to the Racquette where it would continue on the department's proposal.

Given honorable mention in the Weymouth Day parade was an antique car entry from Weymouth Motors Ltd. Seen above in period costume are Mrs. K. M. Harkinson, wife of Weymouth Motors Ltd. manager, and their son, Owen, graduate in Science from Acadia University, who is employed for the summer with the company. (Courier photo)

Golf Gossip

BY Herb Warren

While the Pines Hotel Golf Course welcomed the heavy rain on the weekend, it did wash out the Mixed Scotch Foursome Low Gross for the Dr. Perley Outhouse Trophy. As there is no tournament scheduled for the weekend July 19-20, play for Perley's trophy will be postponed until then unless arrangements are made with Club Pro Nick Nickerson to run-off some matches during the week.

IT USUALLY HAPPENS: The day, July 12th, that starts with a heavy rain to go into effect was the day they were not needed owing to the heavy rain.

We were very pleased to have the opportunity last week to visit and play for the first time the new (now in its second season), Clare Golf & Country Club 9 hole golf course at Conesville, Digby County, Nova Scotia, where we were given a very cordial welcome by Club Pro Gordon Shaw and his charming wife, Joan. The course of 5,680 yards (2,840 out and 2,840 in) plays to a par 68 (ladies, 74). We found the course most interesting especially the 160 yard par 3 water hole which lies off from a hill. This hole requires a reasonably straight and at least 140 yard shot or else your ball is gone, and gone permanently! The course, in common with others in the area, was starting to dry and I imagine the weekend rain would have been most welcome to Pro Gordie Shaw except for the fact that the Open Golf Tournament in conjunction with the Festival Acadien de Clare was scheduled for July 11-12-13 and had to be postponed to a later date on account of the wet weather. We hope members of Digby Golf Club and other clubs in this general area of Western Nova Scotia will find the time and opportunity to visit the Clare Golf Course and enjoy playing its interesting layout which is continually being improved. The club has grown to 160 members from 40 just over a year ago, which is an indication of the interest which is being taken in golf in the Municipality of Clare.

Maritime Seniors Golf Association members in Western Nova Scotia are reminded that the District No. 1 Field Day will be held in our area this year at Eden Golf & Country Club on Thursday, July 24, 1969. Tee off time is from 12 noon.

CONGRATULATIONS TO: Rae McLeave on his recent marriage. Does a golfer's wife have to have perfect form?

CONGRATULATIONS TO: Donnie Hattie on breaking 80 with a 79 last week, his lowest score ever! Donnie apparently is getting in training to beat Father Joe when he arrives home next month on his annual vacation.

DOCTOR GOLFERS HEAR THIS: A young golfer had to rush his wife to the hospital in a terrible hurry but didn't quite make it and the baby was born on the well-lit hospital lawn. In due course the doctor's bill was received and included an item, "Delivery Room, $35.00". The new father returned the bill, pointing out the injustice and demanding an adjustment. The bill came back promptly with the disputed item revised to read, "Green Fees, $35.00". How about that, Dr. John?

The dog took her owner over to a man who had been struck on a heart seizure and was lying face down on Main Street in Gardiner. Bambi would not continue walking until the individual had been removed from the spot and taken to a hospital. Mrs. Theriault has been guided by her friend in many locations, including New York, Boston, Springfield, Worcester, other cities, and in Canada where she and her husband vacation, every summer.

COMMISSION

Mr. Thurber noted. In his remarks Mr. Thurber referred to the western part of Nova Scotia as the "coming corner" of the province. He said other areas had progressed without nearly as much potential as this area has and he said one requirement was to increase the speed and acceleration.

Mr. Parsons suggested contact with the federal trade department to determine the small industry product imports of the area. After this has been done, he said, exploration could be made of the possibilities of the manufacture of at least some of these ter Sandy of Toronto, Mrs. Allison Herritt and three children of Mink Cove and Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Ross of Seawall.

Mrs. David Balser and her daughter Ruth, have returned home after spending the past while with Mrs. Balser's daughter, Mrs. Jerry Kelly and Mr. Kelly at Greenwood.

here, Mr. Hicks spoke at some length about the hydro-electric possibilities of tidal power and the potentials in this regard of the Bay of Fundy, the Annapolis Basin and St. Marys Bay.

The need for studies to determine land use, manpower and labour skills and other such research was stressed by Edward Knowlton. He suggested that after such basic studies had been made a pilot industrial project might be attempted, based on the findings.

Mr. Knowlton said he felt the potential of the area needed first exploring and then developing. He said it bothered him that raw materials which might be processed here were being shipped away. He cited herring scales as one of these. He also noted that semi-precious stones which exist in the area in considerable abundance might form the basis of a productive development.

Mr. Knowlton, who has had considerable experience in the chemical reduction of seaweeds, also spoke of the potential of the newly developed seaweed harvesting in the area. It was noted that many tons of seaweeds are available along the shores of the Bay of Fundy, the Annapolis Basin and St. Marys Bay in the area and that only recently has there been any real effort made to capitalize on these.

It was agreed at the meeting that the development commission would continue to work on a number of projects already underway as well as widen its approach to include a number of suggestions made at the meeting. Full advantage will be taken of the generous offer of the members of the resource panel to assist the commission, it was stated.

Rain Dampens But Does Not Squelch Clare Acadian Festival Spirit

Despite torrential rains that squashed the parade and the outdoor activities planned for the Acadian Festival at the Clare District High School on Saturday during the day and evening. The first square jamboree, which was sponsored by Les Danseurs Acadiens of Clare square dance club in the evening, was the most successful of the day without a doubt. Over

Digby Youth In Useful Work

Citizens of Digby and tourists who frequently roam through the old cemetery in the Trinity Anglican Churchyard for the sake of sentimentality or historical purposes will find a great improvement in the appearance of the old burying ground in 1969.

Youths from the Drop-In Centre at Trinity Parish Hall have taken on the project of cleaning up the historical cemetery. They have raked and cleaned the plots and have taken to brush-and-scrub on the old moss-covered tombstones.

Responsibility of youth came much to the front when, after burning the old grass number of the youth tented overnight in the area in order to keep vigil over the yard and protect it from danger of a serious fire breaking out.

polio Valley and Yarmouth were in attendance and the host club, Les Danseurs Acadiens, were the traditional Acadian customs, which is very attractive and colorful.

Favorable comments were passed on by visitors to the exhibition, fishermen and the wildlife displays as well as the jamboree. Willie Bailey of the State of Maine, was guest caller and the popular square dance caller attracts square dancers in droves and it was well proven at the Jamboree.

Activities of the day which were to take place on the High School grounds in the morning, afternoon and evening were cancelled when the rain fell heavily throughout the day. A track and field meet had been on the agenda and had to be cancelled. A miniature athletic meet was held in the high school gymnasium because a group from L'Acadie, Cape Breton had arrived to participate in the track and field meet which was postponed. The chicken barbeque planned had to be cancelled when heavy rains made it difficult to have the barbeque held out doors. Rain could have been coped with but the heavy winds of gale force was another matter.

On Sunday, the rains continued during the morning and most of the early part of the afternoon, but not on such scale as on Saturday. It was decided to hold the annual parade despite inclement and treacherous weather. Drizzle threatened to become a heavy rain storm on several occasions just before the parade got under way from Little Brook, a village two miles from Church Point where the parade terminated. The weather held up nicely once the parade got under way and continued on through the entire afternoon, although dark clouds continued to pass overhead with always the threat of rain. The bazaar was cancelled Sunday afternoon when the rains of the preceding night had blown down canvas shelters and the threat of continuing rains for the day. From 2:30 to 7 o'clock, the rains held off. A supper was served by Les Dames Patronesses of Church Point at St. Ann's college with the famous Acadian dish, la patate a la rapure being the main dish served.

Yves Albert, Quebec folk singer of renown, entertained over 100 at the Boite a Chanson at St. Ann's college which was under the direction of the Jeunesses Franco-Canadiennes de la Nouvelle Ecosse in the "Odeur" room which was a night club atmosphere prevailing throughout the evening.

Yves Albert, singing both in French and English fascinated the audience with his expressive singing and the audience applauded him generously and he was called back three times to take a bow at the termination of the concert. This year's "Boite a Chanson", was the most successful to date with all the available space being taxed to its maximum. Yves Albert was sponsored by the Cultural Department of the Quebec government.

The afternoon parade was the best of many years and the largest with eight of the larger floats out of twenty which were to enter the parade but did not due to heavy rains in the areas where they were to leave in the several villages of Clare; marching unit from CPB Cornwallis, the Cape Peln, N. Roll Call Has 48th Consecutive Day Of Good Weather

Starry skies again greeted members of the congregation of the Hill Grove Baptist Church on Sunday when the annual Roll Call services, always a special day in the yearly history of the church, were held. Roll Call services have been held in this church for forty-eight consecutive years and never in that time has there been a stormy Roll Call day.

The well attended afternoon service opened with a worship service conducted by the pastor, Rev. D. E. Robertson. As Mr. Lloyd MacNeill, clerk of the church, called the roll of members, many responses were given in person and by proxy, and several messages were received from absent members and friends of the church. An "In Memoriam" service was conducted by the pastor in memory of two members who had passed away during the year — Mr. William Franklin and Mr. John Marley. Special music for the afternoon service was by the Young People's Choir of the church, who sang "Whispers of Jesus" and "There's a Song in My Heart". The evening service opened with an inspiring hymn sung by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Beebe, pastor of the Little River Baptist Church, read the Scripture and offered prayer. Special music for the evening service was by the Little River Baptist Church choir, under direction of the organist and choir director, Mrs. Lindsay Raymond, and consisted of two splendid anthems by the entire choir and two selections by a ladies' double trio, with Mrs. Beebe taking the solo parts.

The guest speaker for both afternoon and evening service was Rev. A. G. Robertson, of Aylesford, a former

Sandy Cove

One of the fairest of them all is a little hamlet
Nestled down in the circular hills,
Away down Digby Neck.
With crescent shaped beaches all a-glow Stretched from Fundy to St. Mary's.
With a little lake snug between
Where many a fisherman laves.
Sparkling sand and splashing waves,
Where agate and Jasper abound,
And wheeling gulls and fishing boats
And vacationers are found.
Miniature mountains
Pine scented walks
Rolling hills
Interesting rocks:
Near white houses
Flower gardens too,
Three little churches
Each with a view
As old as since time began,
All for the delight of every man!
Sounds like your village? Then share with me,
The matchless beauty that God has made free!

The parade was completed, and the weather remained dry until the parade was completed. The Acadian Festival Committee is very pleased with this year's festival and the leaving of the two day's parties of Friday and Saturday to the Cape District High School where a large portion of the activities were held indoors, was a very good move. The Acadian Festival will continue again next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Minns of Middleton were judges of the parade. Mr. Minns is executive director of the Acropolis Affiliated Boards of Trade. The three day golf tournament at the Clare Golf and Country Club was also washed out. The tournament was to be held during the 3 day festival.

Her elbow-length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a cluster of white roses trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a posie bouquet of golden ranunculus and yellow roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Cecile Prime, New Tuxford, as matron of honor and Misses Linda Louise Weymouth, Linda Hines, Halifax and Mrs. Bernard Haines of Weymouth North as bridesmaids. LIEUT.-GOVERNOR AND MRS. TOWN COUNCIL GIVES GO-AHEAD OLAND MEET DIGBY PEOPLE Signal On Housing Projects

His Honor Lieutenant Governor Victor deB Oland and Mrs. Dorothy Smythe as superintendents at the Children's Home.

Mr. Oland, expressing his desire to return to Digby more often in the future. He told of his intention to call on councillors in the rural areas to get a chance to see what people are doing.

A presentation was made to His Honor by Mr. Smith, Councilor Mrs. Dillon, who presented the program, presented Mrs. Oland with a bouquet of roses. David Daley, president of the Digby Golf Club presented the Lieutenant Governor with an honorary membership in that organization.

Following the signing of the town's guest book, Mayor Smith called on His Honor to address the guests. Recognizing the fact that there are many problems to be dealt with in municipal and civic governments, His Honor emphasized the need of strong town and municipal governments and Boards of Trade.

Mr. Oland remarked on Digby's assets as a tourist resort and was pleased to see that accommodation for tourists to enjoy the salt water was increasing. Seaside, too, he said had improved in quality and number of places making an effort to serve it.

The Lieutenant Governor recalled his visits at the Digby schools and hospital in the Spring and particularly noted

At the afternoon tea, Mrs. Gordon Ellis, wife of councillor Ellis and Mrs. Winchester, wife of Deputy Mayor Paul Winchester presided over the tea cups. Mrs. Beanie Hayden presided at the piano for the entire function.

His Honor and Mrs. Oland who were spending a week vacation at the Pines Hotel, were on Thursday entertained in Yarmouth. On Friday morning Mr. Oland was entertained by Councilor Victor Halliday when he was taken on a scenic tour of the Bay and harbour on a tourist boat.

On Saturday the Lieutenant Governor visited Digby Neck and islands, the first time that a Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia is known to have visited there.

Digby Town Council at a special meeting on Thursday afternoon gave the go-ahead signal to a twenty-one unit, senior citizens home in Digby and an eleven unit low rental housing project for the town.

The decision was made after plans submitted by Stan Landis, architect with the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation were viewed. At the meeting were also O. G. Hickey from Nova Scotia Housing Commission and Gary Hickey of Central Mortgage and Housing.

Architects took advantage of the attractive hill on King St. to design the 145 ft. by 10 ft. plans for the senior citizens home. This affords either a first floor or second floor entrance from outside so that the tenants do not have to climb stairs. The design with two cup, Mrs. Beanie Hayden presided at the piano for the entire function.

doors are of aluminum and are to be of sliding type with in. There is to be a six car paved parking area with shrubbery and terraces for enjoying the outdoors. There will be two sitting out areas for the senior citizens.

The fully carpeted 23 x 27 lounge and lobby for meeting guests and admiring the pleasant view will be attractive with flower pots or space where the senior citizens can continue to enjoy flowers and green. All needs for the seniors will be on the same floor so there will not be necessity of going up and down. Toilets for use by guests as well as tenants will be provided, washers and dryers will be on either floor. Heating will be zoned or regulated heating by oil and hot water, either by baseboard method or radiators. Plenty of storage and closet space will be provided. Ventilation and pressurized corridors have not been neglected in the plans.

The senior citizens building will contain six bachelor apartments and fifteen larger apartments.

The low rental housing for younger persons with families will be gathered housing of 4 units, 3 units and two 2 units making in all eleven units of either detached or semi-detached type. The basic house consists of two bedrooms, dining room, kitchen. There are also combined dining and kitchen arrangements or a family room. Bedrooms are designed so they are large enough for children to study.

It is expected the low rental housing project will get underway first and within about two months. The senior citizens job is a custom made job and more complex. It is expected that three or four months will lapse before this home will begin construction. Machinery is now in motion for preparing tenders calling them and obtaining the contract for the low rental construction. Paving, lawns, trees, driveways, etc. will be included in the contract but landscaping will be separate.

Celebrates 50th Anniversary

The 50th Anniversary of Saint Anne's Chapel, sometimes referred to as the "Birch Chapel", will be observed with special services on Sunday, July 27th. The day will begin with a Celebration of the Holy Communion at 8 a.m., and Morning Prayer will be said at 11:15. The preacher will be the Very Rev. Harold L. Nutter, Dean of Christ Church, Fredericton. Dean Nutter will represent Frederickton Diocese, of which the Right Rev. John Richardson, founder of the chapel, was Bishop. The Right Rev. R. H. Waterman, now residing in Smith's Cove is giving the leadership in the 50th Anniversary observance.

Anniversary Observed

On Sunday, July 20th, the service held in the Bay View United Church commemorated the 90th Anniversary of its dedication, and the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fleet was baptized.

The service was conducted by the Rev. R. H. Hughes and a short address was given by Dr. F. W. Hodgson. Dr. Hodgson took the congregation back 35 years to the days when he was starting his ministry in the Digby charge and where he served for 17 years. Dr. Hodgson recalled incidents, remembering names of both villages of Bay View and tourists and the activity of the Bay View Church which used to be filled to the doors. He recalled the time when a service each Sunday was requested and he preached each Sunday in Digby town, in Bay View and Smith's Cove.

Mrs. Hughes administered the rite of baptism to Lisa Dawn Fleet, in the presence of a congregation which included the child's parents, grandmother and sister Joy. Mrs. Owen Young of Bridle, New Jersey, played the organ. The flowers were supplied and arranged by Mrs. Paul Emerson, these were in shades of blue, pink and white. About 30 people attended.

MUSICAL ERRORS

There is a game of Musical Chairs and a game of Musical Broom and many other types of musical games. The Digby Courier seemingly has been playing one of Musical Errors. One particular game ends to-day. The Courier was right in the first place that flowers presented to the Tourists of the Week at the Town Hall were from Cameron's. The hon. guest also received a corsage from Flowers by O-bridge which were presented at the dinner held at Harbour View House and Cottages, in Smith's Cove. Both corsages were fittingly acknowledged by the recipient or those in charge of the Tourist of the Week program. J. G. Mimm, Executive Manager of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Board of Trade, acknowledged the Cameron corsage and said that the honored guests were hopefully preserving it as a memento of hospitality & friendship in Digby. His letter added "I am sure the word of mouth publicity that we were given by the Courier will be a reminder that Gabrielle's received a similar letter from the guests."

DIGBY NATAL DAY PLANS FINALIZED

Plans for the Digby Natal Day programme for Monday afternoon are finalized following a meeting of representatives of various organizations involved in the day's programme. During the final organizational meeting Mayor Smith complimented the representatives of the various groups for their continued interest in the Natal Day arrangements as expressed in the confidence that the day would be a successful one.

It was reported at the meeting that a good many entries had been received for the Children's Parade, scheduled to start at 11 a.m. on Monday. Entries for the Grand Street Parade, which will be held at 1:00 o'clock, were also most encouraging. It was stated. Contingents and band groups from the service buses in the valley area as well as majorities and other units from various communities would be taking part. It was reported. In addition there will be a sizable number of decorated cars, trucks and floats. The number is expected to be considerably more than in previous years.

A good program of water sports has been arranged. It was reported at the meeting that the water sports will take place at 11:00 a.m. and will include shore duty racing. It is hoped water skiing will also be a part of the program and arrangements have been underway to make this possible.

Following the water sports, the children's parade and the grand street parade, all of which will be held on the main street of the town, events will move to the Digby Forum and the ball park adjacent to the Forum. At 2:30 a Horse Show will be held at the ball park and at 3:30 there will be demonstrations by the Majorettes and dancers by the pupils of Frances Peters in the Forum.

Included in the program at the Forum will be a tug of war. A karate demonstration will be held at 6:00 p.m. and at seven o'clock there will be a western show. HOPE CAPTURES N.S.A.G. TOURNAMENT

DIGBYTES JOIN WORLD IN WATCHING MOON LANDING

All eyes in Digby County were united with those world wide as they were glued to television on Sunday, July 20, 1969 to witness the American, Neil A. Armstrong, land on the moon, the first time in history that such a monumental feat was accomplished.

It was shortly before midnight when Armstrong left the spacecraft, Eagle, in which he and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. had landed on the moon some 36 hours earlier. Aldrin ejected from the craft some minutes later than Armstrong while another astronaut, Michael Collins, piloted the command ship Columbia in an orbit around the moon some 69 miles above and at an approximate 240,000 miles from earth.

The blast off of Apollo 11 from its American base, was made on Wednesday, July 16 and the ship experienced a smooth cruise through to space making the landing and stepping onto the Eagle in a relatively uneventful accomplishment of the mission.

earlier than scheduled. On the moon they placed an American flag and gathered up rock and dirt from the lunar surface to bring home to American laboratories. Strict quarantine was started immediately by the men returned to the mother ship orbiting the earth.

Returning to the mother ship was felt as crucial an experience as descending to the moon's surface from the ship. The landing with Columbia, was made easily on Monday, approximately three hours after they collected away from the moon. The link up was three minutes later than planned.

Today Digbyites again await with the rest of the world, the splashdown in the Pacific which announces the arrival of Neil Armstrong, "Buzz" Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins, whose mission was the most daring and most momentous the world has ever known. Time only will reveal the magnitude of the achievement.

Bear River Cherry Carnival Bigger And Better

The weather for the Bear River Cherry Carnival held Saturday was ideal. No threat of rain showers however yet the sometimes blistering sun did not stir the day either. The result was that the carnival proved to be bigger and better than ever before. Approximately five hundred people were in the Oddfellows Hall at noon and reports indicate that the restaurants and canteens in the village were worked to fullest extent.

Although Bear River Cherry Carnival each year comes up with one of the finest parades in the area, the uniqueness, thought and effort which characterized the 1969 parade made judging a difficult task. By Russell Merrill of Wolfville, Mass. Gerald St. Lawrence, N. H. and Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby.

Before the parade made its long journey from the crest of the hill, down into the village and around the Head of the Tide, the carnival chairman, Allan Denton extended a welcome to the visitors and introduced the parade judges.

First winners in the parade were: Best Decorated Car, Dianne Brittain; 2nd Camp Arcadia; 3rd Borden Hobbey; Best decorated float general, special telephone prize H. C. 2nd Baptist and Advent Christian; Best of the restaurants and canteens in the village were worked to fullest extent.

Notably absent from the parade this year were the accustomed group of oxen. Substituting were two goats led by Debbie Simpson and Sarah Brooks and representing the story of Heidi. Also worthy of mention was the toy car driven by Michael Lowe and depicting both child safety and safe driving.

What the children's parade lacked in numbers in the afternoon was made up by the quality of entries. Prizes went to Phyllis Harlow, 3rd; Lexie Peck, bicycle; 2nd, Joycelyn Robicheau, 3rd; tri-cycle; Philip Green, cart; Clara Harlow, costume.

Among other competitive sports were canoe, boat and pole races, bag races. List of prizes for these available next week. There were the Cart Races and Trail Riders, Country Music Show, Thomas Midway and other attractions. (Please turn to page 6)

About This And That

A Monumental Feat - Man on the Moon

No words can properly describe the monumental feat of man landing on the moon at a time of writing hopefully will be returned to earth safely within the space of a few hours. Our limited space, time and vocabulary for this newspaper makes anything we write to be completely inadequate to describe the happenings of the last week and speculate into the unforeseeable future.

There are those who feel "so what". What has man accomplished? Were there no better ways to use the money than just to achieve a dream, a wish, an ambition? What might have been done with the million and a half spent for the scientific device, which now lays useless on the moon's surface? Why use billions on this achievement when man has not achieved the appeasement of hungry and starving people?

The same could have been said of the Wright Brothers and their "foolish" invention, of Christopher Columbus and his adventure almost 500 years ago, of the scientific research for development of radio and T.V. which we now take so much for granted. All these required money, big money in terms of the year each was invented or achieved. Do we ever stop to think that each one of these was a step towards the monumental feat of last week of man landing on the moon, yet at the time no one would have dreamed that they were to play a part in such an achievement.

Those who live for ten, twenty, of fifty years or who are living in 2009 might look back and see this monumental feat to be just one more step towards a whole new opening of "man's" universe. Who can tell the wonders there might be?

It is all too fantastic, too tremendous for many of us to comprehend. We know not where it will lead, yet we cannot but think there is room for this sort of exploration along with feeding the world's hungry. How much do we waste on needless personal wants and indulgences? Add him up and they too would make billions.

All glory to those who had a part in the monumental achievement.

His Honor and "Her Honor"

Digby was privileged last week to have a visit from the Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia and his gracious wife. In fact, Digby has had the distinctive privilege of having two visits by His Honor Lieutenant Governor Victor deB Oland within a few months. One of the outstanding features in each case was His Honor's interest in learning all he could about the people of Digby, their institutions, their way of life, their problems and concerns.

Victor deB Oland is a man with whom the people are at ease in their first few words of conversation. He radiates friendliness at all times and his wide experience in business, military, educational and civic life affords him ready conversation for those whom he encounters from many walks of life. Mrs. Oland too, is most captivating in her friendly and graciously dignified manner so suitable to the station to which life has led her. Those who met her at the reception on Friday spoke with great admiration of her courage and insistence on not disappointing people who had looked forward to meeting her through her own physical strength was not really up to doing so, having contracted pneumonia a day or two previous. They were understanding guests who saw her retire early from the reception to return to the Pines where the honored couple had been vacationing.

Natal Day

Copy in other sections of this issue of The Digby Courier reminds our readers of Digby's Natal Day on Monday when the citizens will forget business to enter fully in recognition of Digby's founding. A short historical sketch of Digby has been written for this special occasion, merchants and business houses have supported the Natal Day committee by specially advertising the day in the local newspaper and readers have an opportunity to follow the events as laid out in the program contained in these pages.

We salute the day. We wish every citizen to be committed in the day being blessed with fine weather and tremendous crowds. It takes just you, only you, who are reading these lines about Digby's Natal Day to see that the day is a success so far as attendance is concerned. You be there.

A Place To Live

Digby lends itself as "a place to live." "A place to live" is a good industry. This was about the sum and substance of Hyson Sutherland's report to the Digby Board of Trade last week. He was reporting, really from a meeting of the Annapolis Basin-Digby Development Commission which had availed itself of advice from several resource persons. One of these resource persons wondered if Digby was "banking up" wrong tree" in wanting heavy industry. Digby is "a place to live" according to the advice given and as Mr. Sutherland added "People create employment". Not being of quick judgement we listened carefully without comment but we were far from convinced that Digby could maintain itself on just being a place of clear, uncontaminated air, good weather, beautiful scenery, peace and quietness or "a place to live". How could we earn enough money to support schools, good streets, sewers and other necessities, buy food, maintain a car, keep up with the latest fashions and have a few luxuries with no resource within the town except "a place to live"? We didn't tell Hyson Sutherland how far off we thought his "resource" was. Lucky for us, we did not.

It wasn't two days after this when K. W. Heinz of Hamilton, Ontario, a tourist, came into the shop to get the local newspaper. (By the way, you would be surprised how many tourists do just that.) Before he left we were convinced that Digby wasn't only "a place to live" but it was next to Paradise (Not, necessarily Paradise up the Annapolis Valley) and Hyson Sutherland's report was not so far-fetched as we had thought. Mr. Heinz's sincerity was most convincing as he tried to impress on us that we people in the Maritimes cannot fully comprehend the blessings we have. He, too, felt it was "a place to live" where the people are extremely friendly and helpful. He was amazed at this exceptional feature. People here do not use their elbows to push their way through, he remarked. The pace of life is much slower, the traffic habits are slower he noted and there is general quietude and unhurriedness. The air is unpolluted, the water is clean for the scenery is beautiful, he remarked. Of course, he admitted, there is greater prosperity in Ontario, more money can

Unsensably Sensitive

Isn't we being a bit unsensably sensitive when we can't joke about ourselves even to the advantage of drawing the attention of a few more tourists to us?

Personally, the only objection the Courier editor can see to the Digby road signs sponsored by the Board of Trade and which seem to be of originality. Twenty-five hundred friendly people and a half-dozen sore heads (or something similar) wasn't exactly new to us. But, there are probably many younger people to whom the caption on the sign was original, catching and humorous. Can't imagine

Coffee at Janos

Not so long ago, the only people who ever read astrology columns were neurotic office workers, and a few spooky old ladies with grey faces, who lived in decaying, unpainted houses on the edges of towns.

If things ever worked out in the sensible or obvious way, in this age when the moon has practically become one of the suburbs, that once alchemy or alchemy should be a piece of ancient folklore, like alchemy or alchemy. Instead, astrology is enjoying a great comeback.

Suddenly it has become almost as fashionable to consult the stars before a great adventure as it was, I say, the time I first heard of Zodiac until the last five years or so, I had always believed to be the first day of Scorpio.

Lately, several astrologers have been saying that Scorpio begins on October twenty-fourth, which makes me a Libra. I protest. I feel like a Scorpio.

The second reason why I cannot easily map my life according to the dictates of the stars, is that our local daily paper will not cooperate. Our paper comes out in the afternoon, and we do not get it until the evening.

What the paper used to print its horoscope column (which at least said Scorpio begins on October twenty-third) on the day it came out, the day would be nearly over before I found out what was supposed to happen to me.

There must have been somebody else who had the same problem, because one day, several months ago, the paper ran two horoscope columns, one for that day and one for the next. Ever since, they have printed horoscopes for the next day. That way, at least, you can prepare your life day before for any disasters which may befall you.

Also, I still go blundering into my daily quota of disasters quite unprepared against the influence of the planets. I read my horoscope every night, as soon as the paper arrives, but I never can remember it until the next day.

On dear, my horoscope for yesterday said I could get involved in some legal complaint today, and if I am at fault I had better make every effort to avoid further litigation. I am treasurer of the Recreation Council and I have not yet paid for its insurance policy. I had better rush that cheque right off, before somebody breaks his leg on the playground or falls into the swimming pool.

VIETNAM

The main reason that I am against any war, is that innocent people are getting killed. The Americans appear to have again made the stupid mistake of involving themselves in what appear to me as a civil conflict. The North Vietnamese against the South. Judging from incidents that have occurred in the past twenty years and even before it seems that the U.S. feels that it is its singular privilege to intervene with its great military strength wherever such a conflict arises, and without U.N. sanction. I wonder what American reaction would be if the Soviet Union suddenly decided to ship half a million men, planes, guns, tanks, and billions of dollars to Biafra to aid in their fight with Nigeria, (another civil war).

The sole reason the Americans give for their part in this immoral war is that they are protecting the people of South Vietnam from the Communists. They're going to keep the people free if they have to kill them to do it. But underneath the very noble and courageous exterior of American involvement in Vietnam are some less noble and perhaps more important reasons.

Firstly, there is the matter of vast American interests in Vietnam and elsewhere in Southeast Asia. Is this interests rather than the freedom of the South Vietnamese held by the U.S. is protecting? How can they feel concern for the freedom of these people when they do not appear concerned with the freedom of the Negro population of their own country?

Secondly, what about pressure put upon the U.S. government by the big industries in the States who are making huge fortunes from the war and therefore wish it to continue? A war has always brought a boom in the economy of a country. This is one of the main reasons that the war continues for such a long period, even though a great portion of the American population is against it. The cost of keeping the American economy booming for the past five years may have been the lives of countless Vietnamese and thirty-five thousand American soldiers.

The U.S. tries to justify its presence in long lists of atrocities committed by the Viet Cong. It makes little difference to me; I think that both sides are wrong. It doesn't matter if a person is burned to death by a flamethrower held by a Viet Cong, or if he is burned to death by a napalm bomb dropped by an American jet; he's just as dead either way.

I think that the great number of draft-dodgers and deserters (over sixty thousand in Canada alone) and the many anti-war demonstrations staged by many different types of people in the States shows that the hearts of many American people are not behind their government in Vietnam.

CONTRIBUTORIAL ROAD

SIGNS ERECTED

On Wednesday, July 16, the second of two 15 ft. highway signs were erected by volunteers of the Digby Board of Trade.

The two signs, each 15 feet long and 5 feet high, were

them 1/2 mile west of Woodman's Corner and the other about 1/2 mile west of Joggins

Bridge.

The signs were approved by the Board of Trade last March and the Tourist committee was instructed to procure the signs immediately. It was pointed out by a former secretary of the Board that the highway signs had been under discussion and argument since sometime prior to 1952 and he expressed relief that something was to be done.

The committee was confronted by representatives of the town requesting "joint participation" in the purchase and erection of the new signs. As a result of this meeting, it was agreed that the Board of Trade would purchase the signs and the town of Digby would have them erected.

The signs were ordered and received in Digby during early

June and were stored in a place of safekeeping. However, at this stage the message on the sign was taken exception to by the town representatives and although verbal action on the signs was at a high level, physical action in having them erected was nil.

Some weeks later the volunteers from the Board of Trade

ment, bolts, paint and tools and rented a truck (two trucks 48 a matter of fact) and proceeded to erect one of the signs. Last Wednesday, July 16 the other sign was put up.

It is most unfortunate that a project over 17 years in the making has been subject to outrage criticism and that a so-called co-operative project was so uncooperative, but the committee feels that the signs will serve the purpose for which they were intended, bringing people to Digby.

Acknowledgements for outside help appear elsewhere in

The Scotch Foursome Low Gross Tournament for

the Dr. Perley Outhouse Trophy, postponed from Saturday, July 12th on account of rain, was played for Saturday,

July 19th, five groups participating. The Tournament, listed as a low gross, actually was played as a Low Net and won by Clayton Snow and Mrs. Laura Nichols, with a 71. (Had the score been taken as Low Gross, this team still would have won.) Runners up were Bruce Hutchins and Mrs. Verna Stonehouse with a Low Net of 75.

Six foursomes were entered to play this tournament and preceding Saturday and some of the more courageous ladies insisted on starting their foursomes at 1 p.m. during a lull in the rain and actually did play 9 holes when it became impossible to go on. It was reported that some of the beautiful haidros the ladies started out with were a sad mess by this time.

The next Digby Club Tournament will be the

Joe Turnbull Memorial Trophy for Low Net and Runner

Up which will be played for, Saturday, July 26th, with tee-off time at 12:45 p.m. We would like to see a large turnout for this tournament in memory of Joe and top the

delegation from C.F.B. Cornwallis section of Digby Golf Club for this tournament?

To honor Digby Club president, Ed Porter and his good wife, Mary, soon to leave Digby, a mixed Play

Tournament, taking the form of mixed 2 ball foursomes was greatly enjoyed up to and after dark Thursday, July

17th. There was no winner as darkness prevented completion of the event. After the play, a potluck supper was served in the Clubhouse. Following a sing-song, a presentation was made to president Ed (the actual gift has not arrived, and will be given later) and a 5 wood presented to Mary by the ladies section of the Club. Ed has been a hardworking and popular president during his two year term of office and he and Mary, one of our better women golfers, will be greatly missed by the club.

One of the highlights of Ed's term was the adoption of a new constitution by the club earlier this year. All good wishes for success and happiness in their home in Charlottesville are wished to Ed and Mary by their host of friends in the Digby club. The writer of this column, who is a vice-president of the club, regrets very much missing

this occasion owing to being out of town during July weekends excepted.

It was noticed in this Mixed Play Tournament that Club Pro Nick Nickerson had a new partner, one "Samantha" Woodman. Better look into this, Jessie, and arrest any developments!

Following our piece on the Clare Golf Club, we

have recently played the Course. From the course, Bucky seemed to have a bit of trouble. Congratulations on the 79 though, Billy!

Club Pro, Nick, was very pleased with the turnout of 20 juniors at the Tuesday Night Clinic last week, which is conducted by himself and Donnie Fleet. Nick says this number is more than the entire membership of Digby Golf Club when he first arrived as Pro in 1951.

The membership that year was 19. It is over 200 this year which is an indication of the increasing interest taking in golf in Digby especially at the junior level.

Support is urged for the Juniors who are selling raffle tickets on golf equipment to finance the four of their number who qualify to go to the C.P.G.A. sponsored tournament in Amherst on August 5th. This will be the first time Juniors from Digby club have ever participated in a C.P.G.A. tournament. Matches will be completed

CHERRY CARNIVAL

The Bear River Cherry Carnival, sponsored each of the late years by the Bear River

Volunteer Fire Department, had its beginning back the year

1952. It was a barber

George Brooks who initiated the event because he felt the shipbuilders, who were many in Bear River at that time, needed a day of relaxation.

Because Bear River was noted for its cherries, the trees having been brought to the village by early English settlers,

Brooks struck on a day which might also make profit in sales.

Funds from recent carnivals are used to improve the fire

tered several sparkling plays

by both sides. Graham Baxter and Bob Morgan playing at rorous ball for Digby while

Shawn Doucette and Danny Le-

Blanc shone for Weymouth.

Mitchell Belliveau hit a triple

for the Grads. Roy LeBlanc

Federal Member Lions Guest Speaker

Louis R. Comeau, M.P.

Louis R. Comeau, M.P., representative of the Southwest Nova constituency was guest speaker at the Metepan Lions Charter night held at the Blue fin restaurant.

Mr. Comeau stated that he would come when the working class would become masters of the means of production to abolish capitalism. Mr. Comeau said that the capitalist is far from abandoned and the working class has a much higher standard of living than his ancestors ever thought of having.

In speaking of the role of the politician, Mr. Comeau said, the politician must find the solution to the problems as to please both the majority and minority portion of his constituency. They receive mostly only the complaints and for this reason the problems appear to somewhat more acute. The authors of the complaint are not satisfied with statistics showing that they are in minority. They turn toward the government and plead of them to come to their aid.

Mr. Comeau congratulated the Lions Club for the humanitarian job that they were doing and also all other clubs involved in this type of work in the Municipality of Digby Co.

Mr. Comeau stated: "Permit me to state some of the objects of the Lions Club. To promote the theory and practice of the principles of good government and good citizenship and to take an active interest in the civil social and moral welfare of the community. What interests me most is the fact that you people are doing something; you are helping society. You are concerned about your environment, particularly local environment, if nothing else. As business men, you are discussing together and this has greeted better relations among you."

Mr. Comeau went on to say that about a hundred years ago, Karl Marx published a book "Capital" in which he said that the society was composed of two classes, the exploiters or capitalists and the exploited or the workers. Marx had predicted that a time mead your close attention and study of the affairs in Canada and the world in general and I want to tell you again that we must all be friends and participate in order to create a better world to live in."

Mr. Louis R. Comeau is a native of Metepan and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Desir Comeau and is the eighth son of a ten children family. Mr. Desir Comeau was elected member of the Nova Scotia legislature about thirteen years ago and represented the Municipality of Digby by County for four years.

Louis R. Comeau, who is federal representative was a professor at St. Ann's College in Church Point prior to being elected as member of the southeast Nova constituency.

Frank Juby, past president of the Metepan Lions Club

resided at the charter night banquet and turned over the duty of president at the end of the dinner to Emile Boudreau, successful merchant of Metepan. Mr. Boudreau in accepting his office of presidency told the group that he was pleased with the confidence that the club has placed in him and it was his plan to make this new term a successful one even more than last year.

Invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Steve LeBlanc, representing the Richelieu Club of Church Point; Paul Collette, president of the Yarmouth Lions Club and Dick Baxter and Bob Myles, both of the same club with the latter acting in his capacity as Deputy District Governor of Litanism.

Miss Denise David Comeau were selected as Evangeline and Gabriel of the Festival to reign over the festivities of the three day festival. They were selected among fourteen couples, representing various clubs and business firms of the area. Other contestants were: Marjorie Coleman and Guy Belliveau, 4th Club of Digby; Simone and Michel Comeau, representing the Digby Branch No. 52, Canadian Legion; Dany's and Albert Gaudet, Le Club Amical de W. Publique; Yvonne and James Comeau, La Cave Restaurant, Church Point; Valerie Truitt and Yvonne Comeau, Les Dames Patroennes, Church Point; Alice Boudreau and Melvin Doreau, Riverside Inn, Metepan River; Judy Sautier and Alphonse Comeau, Metepan Woodwork; Carole Doreau and Alphonse Gaudet, Metepan Home and School; Rosella Doreau and Justin Pothier, Metepan Fire Dept.; Celeste Thibodeau and Ernest Dugas, The Richelieu Club, Church Point; Edith LeBlanc and James Boudreau, Les Danciers Acadiens square dance club; Marjorie and Jean Comeau, La Jardin.

At the official opening of the Festival at the Digby District High School Festival dance at Metepan River, Mr. Pelletier told the hundreds of persons who filled the auditorium that he was glad to be among the Acadians and he was struck by the facility that existed to talk with the many persons he had the pleasure to speak to during his short visit and by the friendliness of the Acadians. He said that his visit was not solely a polite visit, but also a cultural one.

If we can see in Canada, outside of the province of Quebec, French speaking people who may have been menaced, we wish to see that it ceases. We, in Canada have made a choice of being multicultural with two official languages, stated Mr. Pelletier. He advised the "Acadians of Digby to be proud of their mother tongue. Mr. Pelletier spoke in French.

Returns After 35 Years

After an absence of thirty-five years, Ellyr Woodman, New York, returned to visit at the home of Donald Woodman, Conway.

Mr. Woodman, a retired welder, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Woodman and was brought up at Smith's Cove. He has a brother, Russell, living in Wolfville.

Mr. Woodman has seen great many changes in Digby during the past thirty-five years, most of them being improvements and a boost to Digby's better local economy.

He recalled the days when he was a young lad coming from Smith's Cove or Joggins to attend the school at the shore and to skate.

SKIPPY, The Bush Kangaroo, an exciting family adventure series set in the bushland of Waratath National Park, near Sydney, Australia, is seen each Saturday, on the CBC, TV network. Ed Doreaux (right) plays the park's head ranger Mat Hammond, assisted by his two sons, Sonny and Mark, played by Gerry Pankhurst and Ken James. Tide's Out
Rivulets of water trail through the mud
Grey winged gull feeds on the flats;
Boats are aground leaning on their keels,
The tide's out now, but it'll come back.

Sun sends out sparkles
From a shiny wet shore,
Green sea grass drooping
In bunches round the rocks.
Clams squirting water
When you touch them with a stick.
But it'll come back!

Tide of opinion
Sweeps o'er everyone
Trying to engulf them
In a helpless delirium.
Just keep up your courage
Of integrity do not lack.
The tide's out now

DIGBY NATAL DAY—JULY 28

DIGBY — The town of Digby, which marks the second annual celebration of its Natal Day on July 28th, this year, was founded by United Empire Loyalists from New York and the New England States in the summer of 1783, just 106 years ago.

Actually there had been a settlement in the area, later to be named Digby, much earlier than this. In 1765 a grant embracing the territory now included in Digby was made by Letters Patent to Alexander McQuesten, James Clarke, Michael Clarke, Anthony Henderson, William Mitchell and Sebastian Zuercher.

The grant made in 1765 was conditional that fifty families should be settled thereon in one year, to each of which 360 acres should be allotted. The town thus created was named Conway in honour of General Sir Henry Seymour Conway. In 1766 a party of English settlers, originally from the Valley of the Brandywine in Pennsylvania but living in Annapolis, settled in the new community but the settlement was very short lived and by 1783 it had broken up entirely.

The United Empire Loyalists from New York who came to the area now known as Digby in 1783 were conveyed here by Admiral Robert Digby with his flagship, the Atlanta, and in his honour the settlement was named "Digby". The Admiral was much taken with the area and visited it on a number of occasions and also erected a dwelling here. It is recorded he much enjoyed hunting and spent a good deal of time in pursuit of game birds and animals.

The first of the UEL settlers who came to Digby left New York in May of 1783 and landed in what was later called Digby on June 1st. They built camps in the wilderness and shortly afterward other ships bringing more settlers arrived. Many of these early settlers brought oak house frames from their former homes. Others built houses of log, corked with moss. Many of these were later covered with shingles and stood sturdy and attractive for well over a hundred years. A number of the early Loyalist houses still stand in Digby and provide home for the community residents.

A census of the new settlement taken in 1784 credits it with a population of 2,000 which would serve to show that the original Loyalist influx was a sizeable one although many of the earliest settlers did not remain for more than a few years. Among the early Loyalist settlers were Samuel and John Edson and their families, ancestors of the famed inventor, Thomas Alva Edison. The Edson family stayed in Digby until 1811. While here they played a prominent part in the life of the new community. John Edson was a director of the town marsh from 1789 to 1809 and an assessor of poor rate. Samuel Edson was the overseer of the sheep marsh. The marshland areas were very important as they provided the only real grazing for the sheep and cattle owned by the new settlers.

Space will not permit a fully detailed history of Digby. It can be noted, however, that the community has continued to develop over the years. So far as the town of Digby itself is concerned, it became incorporated as a town in 1896 and the first Mayor was Thomas C. Shreve, Q.C. From that period forward the civic government has provided for the community various utilities and has been responsible for the development of educational facilities, health services and other amenities which have helped to make Digby an excellent place in which to live.

OVER 3,000 AT NATAL DAY CELEBRATIONS

Despite threatening rain an estimated 3000 came to Digby to see the parade and enter into Digby's Natal Day function on Monday.

The day started off with the P.R. Department providing rides for children on the bright red fire engines. This was followed by the children's parade held at the bandstand when the following were winners: V.C. bicycles, Peter Robertson (Apollo); 2nd Frances Cullen; Dollencarrage, 1st Brenda Burgoyne, 2nd Cheryl Speilich; Trike, 1st R. Robert; 2nd Mary Matheson; Best original, Kathy Cheryl and Round Donnelly; Best all-around Chris Theriault; Special prize Trophy Shepherd of the Children's Home. The children's parade was led by the Digby Lions Majorettes and their drum and hula bands which was organized six weeks ago. Nearly twenty entered the parade.

While the children's parade was in session water sports were taking place in the harbour where visitors saw water skiing, water polo, and water skiing. The grand parade at one o'clock was led by bands and majorettes. The parade in charge of Jack Nichols featured more than seventy entries from Digby, Cornwallis, Bear River, Smith's Cove and Weymouth. Prizes went to Diane Johnston with her entry "Mary Mary Quite Contrary", the 5th Digby troop of boy scouts with their woodland scene, Chab Council's men's band and the Digby chapter of the Knights of Columbus.

A memorial service was held at the memorial bell and cairn honoring the memory of those men from Digby lost at sea over the past 100 years. A prayer was said at the memorial by Rev. R. H. Hughes of Grace United Church and a wreath was laid by 88-year-old retired fisherman Walter Handspiker. V. G. Cardoza was master of ceremonies and Grant Munro of A.V.A.R.T. was in attendance. The wreath given by the Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club will be placed on the waters of the Bay of Fundy.

A horse show by the members of the Digby County show horse club was featured during the afternoon.

During the afternoon program of entertainment the Digby Lions majorettes presented several numbers and dance pupils of Mrs. Frances Peters performed. An accordion band was played by David and Jill Stone. An entirely new performance was a demonstration of karate by pupils of Terry Joseph.

In the evening a program of western music was presented and the Pines Hotel sponsored a square dance program. Digby's young music aggregation the Purple Cadeaux performed at the Pines for a terrific dance. The day's activities ended with a fireworks display.

Lieut. - Governor Visits Islands

His Honor Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia, Victor de la Plante, visited Long Island and Bear Island on Sunday, July 27, this being the first time that any Lieutenant Governor has visited the islands while in office.

His Honor was met at Port Perry by Councillor Eugene Outhouse, Trenton, Curtis Prime, Precept, and Wilfred Swift, Westport, and transported to the islands and on a cruise around the islands in the Blackfoot's tourist and fishing boat. The Lieutenant Governor was shown the South Shore of Long Island and was so enthralled about the scenery that he intends to come back another day to spend several days at a cottage.

At Westport the party proceeded to the Denton House where Mr. and Mrs. R. Williams had prepared a dinner of scallops for the Lieut. Governor. They visited the Salmon cairn and plaque and toured the two lighthouses at the most westerly point in Nova Scotia before making the return trip and leaving Precept and Trenton.

News that the Lieutenant Governor was expected on Bear Island was received by the children and several of the Westport gave cheerful and spontaneous evidence of their enthusiasm by loudly waving the Union Jack.

Service Of Re-dedication

An event of interest will be held next Sunday evening in the Acetiville Baptist Church when a special service will take place to re-dedicate the interior of the church building and also that of the church hall.

Under the leadership of the late Rev. L. R. Atkinson, who was begun about two years ago on the renovation of the church auditorium, and carried to completion within recent weeks. In addition, a new furnace had been installed in the church. Interior work has also been recently carried out within the church hall, which will also receive a coat of paint on the exterior. All expenses incurred in these improvements have been paid for by the congregation.

A few months ago a beautiful Communion Table was presented to the church by the Atkinson family in memory of the late Rev. L. R. Atkinson who served as pastor of the church until his death in 1960.

A fine interest in the work of the church is being taken by the members of the congregation with an increasing attendance in the Sunday School. The annual Roll Call service of the church was held three weeks ago with an encouraging response. The church has assumed its allotment toward the Acadia Divinity College building fund, and the first payment was made recently.

The Service of Re-dedication next Sunday evening will be conducted by the Rev. H. S. Hartin. Guest preacher for the occasion will be the Rev. Herman Spinney, now living in Paradise, N.S.

Mr. Spinney, a native of Nova Scotia, spent most of his years of his ministry in the United States as a preacher and pastor of some large Baptist Churches.

The music will be supplied by the choir of the Lequille Baptist Church.

Spencer, x-ray technician; Robert Murphy, Sheet Harbour; John Applejohn, laboratory technician; Marilyn Snyder, Sheet Harbour; and Neil Trimper, Bear River. The students will take up new duties in small hospitals throughout the province. Bruce Wright will leave for Arichat. Neil Trimper, Cole Harbour; Marilyn Snyder, Sheet Harbour; Robert Murphy and Jocelyn to Annapolis Royal.

The students received their diplomas from Dr. G. D. Porter, chairman of the Digby General Hospital Board and the capping was done by Mrs. Lynn Gregory, laboratory teacher. Richard Moore was the x-ray teacher.

The ceremonies on Friday were presided over by E. V. Porter, hospital administrator, who thanked Dr. Spencer, Mr. Applejohn, Mrs. Biddle, Cossaboon and Miss Maril Smith, Mrs. Lynn Gregory and Richard Moore for their splendid leadership in providing the students with knowledge and pleasant atmosphere so necessary to their success. In addition, the students, Mr. Porter, advised, especially the boys, that if they like their chosen field then they should go back to school and complete their Grade 12.

Mr. Porter charged the students to go out to their new fields aiming high and remembering the standards set by the hospital and director where they had trained. He said it was because of the excellent facilities and personnel at the Digby hospital that the course was made available to them.

Mr. Porter paid tribute to the administrative work of E.

Y. Porter who was engaging in his last official function before leaving the hospital to take up new duties at the Prince Edward Island Hospital in Charlottetown.

Parents and visitors were entertained at the close of the ceremonies at an afternoon tea held in the hospital cafeteria. Mrs. Linda Kimpke poured.

Discuss Home For The Aged "Birch Chapel" Observes Fiftieth Anniversary

Digby Municipality is now financing 43 in out of County Homes For The Aged, James MacLacsa, Director of Municipal Welfare for the province of Nova Scotia, learned at the Digby Municipal Council in regular session on Tuesday.

Mr. MacLacsa appeared before the council following a discussion on indigent funerals and remained to place before council information about the Homes For The Aged.

A Home For The Aged should be the concern of everybody, Mr. MacLacsa said as he gave a summary of the homes in the province and their approximate price per unit for constructing. These ran from $7000 per bed to $15,000. For a region of such sparse population as Digby, Mr. MacLacsa favored a plan on a regional basis.

Mr. MacLacsa told councillers that 90% of the cost of construction to a maximum of $7000 can be redeemed from Central Mortgage and $1000 per bed, if in standard of nursing, can be obtained from the provincial government. The municipality would provide the land which would include such criteria as population, centre, medical, health, sewage, water and fire services. The municipality would also be responsible for administration and salary costs. It was noted that guest fees could be adjusted to meet the operating expenses and it was noted that costs to the municipality for maintaining the aged in outside areas might be exceeding what they would have to pay in charitable costs.

No action was taken at Tuesday's meeting but more details on the plan will be submitted to the council for study until January.

Men Win Slide Honors

The 19th annual convention of the Nova Scotia Association of Garden Clubs was held on July 18 and 19 at Dominion Cape Breton. All members attending were shown a sample of Cape Breton hospitality. Club members from this district attending were: Mr. and Mrs. D. Harris, Bear River; Mrs. Lillian Nichols, Digby; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Porter, Weymouth; and Mrs. Steve LeBlanc, Louisbourg.

In this year's colour slide contest Edgar Mackay, Bear River won first prize in the class for close-up study of any individual flower or plant. Jack Harris also showed slides in this contest. He won third place in the class for slides taken at a flower show, also second place in the class for autumn colours. Two other slides were given honourable mention.

A record number of entries with 177 slides by 16 competitors were shown this year. The program for the two days consisted of addresses, debates, forums and lunquets with the theme "Wonderful World of Flowers". Reports of various districts were given with Jack Harris reporting for Western Nova Scotia, Bear River section and Ann Hinkley for the more westerly section. H. Ted Selig reported for the Valley. The reports gave details on the work of each individual club. It was noted that Weymouth had won 1st prize in Digby County Rural Beautification, and in the Bedford area the club had centered much attention on re-planting and beautifying old buildings and supplying flowers for churches.

"Birch Chapel" Observes Fiftieth Anniversary

Reading his discourse on the eighth chapter of Kings which related to the dedication of the temple in Jerusalem, Very Reverend Harold L. Nutter, Dean of Christ Church Cathedral, Fredericton, presided the fiftieth anniversary sermon at St. Anne's Chapel (Birch Chapel) Smith's Cove on Sunday morning. He reviewed that for which the temple was built, so that the people of the earth may know the Lord is God and there is none else. "The church is here today," he said, "to remind that God is love. While the buildings are important, it is not within the walls of the building that importance exists but it is out to the people where God's presence must be made known. This is the task, he said, "to which we are called for we are His people and His servants." He charged the people to identify with the community and the world.

Robert Handspiker

Robert Handspiker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Handspiker, Digby, Mrs. Handspiker and daughters, Sherrice and Kinley, moved to Port Perry for their new two-year posting at C.F.S. Alaska, Saksatchewan. He was formerly with C.F.B. Stadacona.

On their way they visited friends in Lunenburg, Quebec, and spent a week's stopover in Burlington and Toronto, Ont., visiting relatives.

Upon leaving, Toronto they moved to St. John's where they crossed into the States, returning to the Canadian side again at Port Perry, where they finished the trip to Alaska.

Canadian Forces Station Alaska is a rural base on the Pine Tree Line and Robert will be responsible for its personnel and emergency care of dependents. Upon arrival Robert was promoted to the rank of Master Corporal.

MUNICIPALITY TURNS DOWN AIR PORT OFFER

The Digby municipal council, meeting for the first time in July under the new system of four times per year rather than annually and semi-annually, turned down an offer presented by the Annapolis Basin, Digby Industrial Council to purchase the Digby Airport at Hillgrove. It was turned down on motions of Councillor Richard J. Jurek and Penny Goff because of high initial costs and expectations of improvements and upkeep.

Posted To Atask, Sask.

On the A.D.I. Commission's request for a grant of $500, the municipal council settled on a compromise of $275. The commission had made a request in the towns of Digby and Annapolis Royal for $250 and the municipalities for $500. Digby Municipal Council, felt equal shares of $375 would be more suitable.

Mrs. Ruth Joyce of Joyce's Funeral Home and C. Ross of the Department of Public Welfare appeared before the Digby Municipal Council on Tuesday afternoon regarding a controversy over paying funeral expenses for indigent persons. Joyce's Funeral Home appearance was for requesting advance payment for indigent persons' burials. The welfare does not pay for services not already received. The controversy arose over the fact that since every case must be investigated by the Welfare Department before passed there have been cases turned down by the department after burial had been made and the Funeral Home has not been able to collect their fee. Mr. Joyce advised the council that the welfare funerals had been held in a row and another sixteen were held. In many cases, he remarked, the people responsible for payment walk by the Funeral Home on their way to the liquor store.

In general it was felt that municipal councilors in each district would be a good source to look to for knowledge of a person's ability to pay. It was also noted that a certain budget has been laid down and there is no cost sharing on what is over the budget. Risks of many types of business came into the discussion with some businesses having to wait eight months or more for payment. No action was taken by council on Tuesday.

V. G. Cardozo requested the usual grant for the purpose of Mental Health preventive services. He was substituting for Dr. A. R. Armstrong who is hospitalized in Digby hospital.

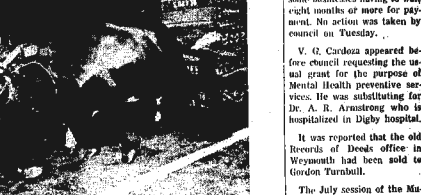

It was reported that the old Records of Deeds office in Weymouth had been sold to Gordon Turnbull.

The July session of the Municipal Council began on Monday afternoon was opened by prayer given by Councillor Eugene Outhouse. A minute's silence was held in memory of a former councillor, John Murley, Acetiville, who had passed away in June.

Leaves For Charlottetown

E. V. Porter, above, came to Digby three years ago this September to become administrator of the Digby General Hospital. On Tuesday he left for Charlottetown where he will take over the administration of the 200 bed Prince Edward Island Hospital.

Mr. Porter was born in Medford, Mass., and moved with his family to Digby in 1932. (Please turn to page 2)

Ox teams competing in the contest are required to be not over 3,000 pounds and not over 3,600 pounds. A good team can haul 6,000-7,000 pounds on a drag sled. Golf Gossip

Saturday, July 26th, was the day of the Digby Club Tournament for Low Net and Runner Up. The tournament had 12 flights, the largest in the three years since the inception of this tournament and was played under the perfect golfing weather on the Pine Course. The winning Low Net of 69 was tied by Tic Collins and W. Garon (C.F.B. Cornwall) and the Runner Up position also was tied by Dr. John McLeave and Digby Lynch at 71. These ties will be played off at the earliest opportunity.

Congratulations to Jack Brittain on his hole-in-one Memorial Tournament. Another new member in the selection of No. 16 water hole while playing in the Joe Turnbull Pine Hotel Course Hole-in-One Club in which Bucky Snow is the king with four aces!

The weekend of August 2-3 is one of the few open weekends of the season so far as tournaments are concerned, there being none scheduled for these dates.

Bob Winchester, who is in charge of junior development at Digby Golf Club, submits the following:

Junior Golfers: The weekly golf clinic sponsored by Digby Club Pro, Nick Nickerson, assisted by Don Fleet and "Bucky" Snow, attended by approximately 20-25 juniors, has been a complete success. The co-operation of all concerned is most appreciated. Three qualifying rounds of golf were played by fifteen juniors to determine the four who would represent the Digby Golf Club at the first Canadian Professional Golf Association Maritime Junior Low Gross Net Tournament. The four whose scores won their privilege of participating in this tournament to be played August 5th on the Amherst Golf & Country Club Course, Amherst, N. S. are: Low Gross, Randy Barr and Gary Dunn; Low Net, Peter Amirauf and Joey Turnbull. Congratulations lads, and may your game be keen at Amherst.

Beginning August 7th, each Thursday at 4 o'clock of course, has been established as "Junior Tee Off Time". Here is a good opportunity for juniors to be teamed up with other juniors, boys and girls. The ladies have invited the Junior Girls to tee off with them on Tuesdays at four o'clock. Let's turn out and get warmed up for the coming Senior-Junior Tournament for which a trophy has been donated. Other prizes will also be presented. Juniors will be allowed their full handicap for this tournament - please post all your scores on handicap cards. Good golfing and good fellowship, Juniors!

ing, Tom's first drive on a 600 yard hole is a hole-in-one!

Pro Shop Pattern: St. Peter and St. Thomas are golf. St. Peter is a little irritated and snaps: "All right, Tom, let's knock off the miracle and play golf!" We don't know whether Jack Brittain regarded his ace, mentioned above, as a miracle or just good "Jack Brittain" playing! Are you going to "bronze" the ball for posterity, Jack?

Little Canadian League Playoffs:

The province is divided into four sections, Digby, Annapolis Royal, and Weymouth will play a tournament in Weymouth on August 16, 17 to determine a winner to represent Western Nova Scotia in the tournament. This is series C. This means that it will be either held in Weymouth, Digby or Annapolis Royal. Teams have been entered from Kentville, Greenwood, Liverpool, Milton, Chester, Sydney, A. Sydney B, New Victoria, New Waterford, Dominion, North Dartmouth, Springfield. This is the first year for such tournaments and the local fans should definitely become involved for this writer feels that we have a very strong entry.

Lions vs. Legion Rescheduled (July 23):

The regular scheduled little league game between the Legion and the Lions could not be played because of lack of players. This is not good when the players are not interested enough to come to the game. Your coaches and umpires are there each night, there is no excuse for not being there or the least a player can do is call the coach and give him the reason he cannot be there. Now, boys, let's play the game. A pick up game was played with players available. It was a very good game ending in the score of 6-3.

Kinvals vs. Merchants Game Postponed:

Due to the Natal Day celebrations (Horse Show) the regular league game for Monday July 28, was called off. It will be played at a later date.

Island Fishermen Beef About Dragger

by Mrs. John P. Outhouse
Fishermen in the island's area feel they have sufficient grounds to substantiate a "beef."

One of the laws of the sea seems the saving of small lobsters for the purpose of consuming. Illegal. This is understandable. To further ingratiate the fear of this law in the minds of the fishermen, patrol boats, keep vigil and fishery officers are ever alert to catch the poachers during the lobstering season. A fine, payable money or a term in jail is the penalty paid for the dire offence.

But, say the fishermen, while the law so conscientiously concentrates on the protection of the small lobster in regards to man, the possible poacher, nothing appears to be being done to protect the lobster or the lobster fisherman from yet another enemy, the dragger.

They say; apparently there is no law that prevents draggers from entering within lobster ledges and the lobster's habitat in search of fish. As a result the unprotected lobster is utterly and obtrusively being demolished by the intruding dragger.

Fishermen of the area feel that because the draggers have the whole of the Bay of Fundy and St. Mary's Bay to fish from, the lobster fishing area should be regarded as out-of-bounds to them.

Fishermen also agree that if the draggers are allowed to continue to drag within the lobster regions, lobster will become extinct in the area. This, say those concerned, would result in a black future indeed, for the many lobster fishermen and their families in this area.

Roths Entertain Touring Groups

On Wednesday evening, July 23, the House of Roth Square and Round Dance Workshop were hosts to members of the Wally Ryan Altruism rafter caravan who are Western Square Dancers. The Annapolis Royal Mayor, Dr. Kerr and Town Council members under an invitation issued by Council member Harold Dunnington, asked House of Roth to provide the Caravan with entertainment.

Last year 29 couples, many who were personal friends of the Roths, came to House of Roth during the Caravan stay.

Later in the month, House of Roth have been asked to host a group of Teens coming from Saskatchewan, in an exchange program. The House of Roth Teens Square Dance group are invited to come and will be notified of the date.

Memorial To Deceased Sister

The regular meeting of Zelma Rebekah Lodge No. 78 was held on Monday evening. During the meeting a memorial service was held, at which time the Charter was draped in loving memory of Sister Helen Davis, past president of the Rebekah Assembly, who recently passed away. Sister Helen Daley and Virginia Graham sang "Break Thou the Bread of Life" with Sister Betty Roche presiding at the piano.

Four members expect to represent Zelma Lodge at the Sessions of the Rebekah Assembly of the Grand Lodge of the Maritime provinces, which will be held in Moncton, August 11th to 15th. Following the meeting, games were enjoyed and refreshments served by the Committee in charge.

The next meeting of Zelma Lodge will be held August 25th.

Suggestion From Comeau

Louis R. Comeau, M.P.

I want to suggest very strongly to all people concerned about the economy of our area, that it is essential that we concentrate our efforts and press hard for the establishment of an Irish Moss Extraction Plant in South Western Nova Scotia.

The statistics show that we have enough Irish Moss in the Maritimes to warrant such a plant according to Miss C. MacFarlane, seaweed director of the Nova Scotia Research Foundation. In the province the greatest amount is being harvested in the South Western part.

If some interested group decides to set up this type of industry in the Maritimes, then we should go all out to try and attract it into our area.

TENDER AWARDED
Elliott Doucet, contractor, Bellevue Cove, was the successful bidder to install a cement curb in front of the Federal Building grounds in Church Point.

He also received a contract for completing a similar job at Bellevue Cove Post Office. The new job at Church Point Post Office will beautify the grounds and works well into the Beautification program sponsored by the La Jandiere Garden Club in conjunction with the Women's Institute of the province.

EARLY!

Since your editor takes off on Tuesday for the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association meeting in Halifax, it is hoped that all copy needing the editor's special attention will be submitted on or before Monday.

Town Extends Water and Sewer

Permission was granted to the Town of Digby by the Nova Scotia Water Resources Board with installing the water and sewer extensions up Sydney St., across Third Ave. and Church St. This area then becomes open for building lots. The town decided at a special meeting to undertake the project.

Permission was given to Roy Durrant at the same meeting to erect a duplex construction on Third Ave., north of Warwick St., measuring 60 ft. x 34 feet.

French Course Successful

The first immersion course in French to be offered in Nova Scotia was held at College St. Ann's at Church Point from July 6th to 26th with students from Acadia following the three week course. Students ages ranged from 15 to 20 when high school students to a county court judge were interested in the course.

The intensive course in speaking French had classes beginning at 8:30 a.m. and continuing until 5 p.m. each and were conducted by Mr. Goumarre of Paris, France and at present professor of French at the University of California and Mr. Pierre Loe of Montreal.

St. Ann's College setting allowed the students to pursue social and recreational activities in a completely French setting. Acadia homes in Clare Municipality were lavish in their entertaining of the visitors and the French atmosphere at St. Ann's College enabled the students to speak entirely in French, including at meal times as the student lived at the residence building also had their meals at the college dining room.

The project, which began experimentally this year at St. Ann's College of Church Point, has been very successful and many of the officials had dared to hope and plans are already underway to enlarge the course to accommodate a larger number of students next summer. With ideal weather during the course, it really was a 2 weeks vacation in French for the students following the course.

Shower Held

A Pink and Blue Shower was held at the home of Mrs. Lorin Shaw recently in honor of Mrs. Gerald Inglis. The evening was spent in playing games and a sing-song. Following this Mrs. Inglis opened her many useful gifts for the baby expected in the near future. At the close of the evening refreshments were served by Mrs. Dorothy Raymond, Mrs. Winifred Gidney and Miss Karina Titus.

Poetry Corner

Panacea

"A book of verses underneath the bough?"
The question, sweetheart, is, whose verses?
Some modern poet's endless riddles
Littering the page? Come now,
Who wants to hear a flock of words
That pitifully chirp like starving birds?
I like a bit of melody and rhyme
Especially at such a time.

And what about that bough?
Be careful, love, what tree you choose:
(My allergies, you know.) Select it well.
It's no fun in the long night watches
To be and scratch my itching blotches.

Oh let's forget the whole idea
And find another panacea.

Enjoy Week Of Camping

Recently the Digby Baptist Sunday School attempted a new venture by planning a week's program of camping for all members of the Sunday School who were able to attend. The camp was held at Johnston Christian Park from July 21-25 with 50 campers in attendance, aged 5 to 18. It proved to be a valuable and worthwhile experience.

The leaders for the camp were as follows: Rev. Donald Robertson, Murrel Frankland (Sunday School Superintendent), Vera Robertson, Alice Haynes, Fred Handwerker, Vesta Warner (camp nurse), Joyce Atkinson, Nancy Goucher, Fred Goucher (camp cook), Robert MacCario, Maxine Sabean, Bonnie Warner, Nancy Wong (swimming instructor).

Each day the camp was scheduled by Mr. Robertson's schedule at 7:30 a.m. The campers, with their counselors, arrived at 7:30 a.m. Following breakfast the children were divided into two sections which alternated a swim period and a Mission study period. In the afternoon, in addition to swimming and sports, Carline Robertson conducted a session in handicraft with the campers.

After supper each evening a vesper service was held in the chapel, conducted by a different leader each night. The day closed with a campfire program, featuring singing led by Vera Robertson, and various skits by camper and leaders. Then a hot lunch and lights out.

On Thursday night a special cake was presented to the best camper, and since it was impossible to single out any one, all were declared winners. Quite a number of parents were on hand for the evening program of vesper and campfire.

Appreciation was expressed by Mr. Robertson to Fred Goucher, the camp cook, for his excellent meals. To add to the menu, Hubert Warner made a generous donation of strawberries, Bob Marshall and Vic MacCario donated watermelon and chicken, and the women of the church donated cookies, cake, and canned fruit. Joe Wong donated apples and Jack Brant donated potatoes for the camp. Many others made donations of money. Tom Sabean led the

For the latter, the Canadian government's new policy is a smoke-screen to cover failure. For the young Indians, disruption of the reserves is like burning your boats behind you. For the middle-aged and elderly, it is like a cancer on the back of the neck.

The Indians don't want assimilation. They want help to get on their feet and some redress for 200 years of being considered second-class Canadians.

Some reserves are worthless, some are great. Some are extremely valuable as potential resort areas. How does one body get a fair share if the lands are handed back to the Indians themselves, for disposal as they see fit?

You're not going to settle that in five years, folks. Bill.

by Carol Hart

Newborn Counts in Medicine Chest

What is rectangular, often impressive-looking and may contain a treasure trove of medicines, is a chest of drawers. It is found in the halls of shops, backrooms, and many a dusty attic. It's generally known as a chest.

The most valuable of all chests is the medicine chest. But while it may contain a treasure trove of life-saving items, it also may cause trouble in your household if it is not properly maintained.

The Council on Family Health, a non-profit organization created to promote health and safety in the home, has a few suggestions worth considering.

Your youngster is by nature a would-be mountaineer. Somewhere he may decide to climb the bathroom sink and explore that shiny box on the wall. Keep him from getting into it by putting a snap lock on the door.

Mothers may think the chest is full of all those strange-looking bottles. But if the labels are badly soiled or missing, they should not rely on memory. Display all those which are not clearly and completely identifiable.

If you go to the medicine chest at night, be sure to turn on the light. You need a clear, alert mind when you select the medicine you need.

Your medicine chest should be cleaned more carefully than any other place in your home. Ideally, there should be no extra cabinet, but houses only medical supplies but most mothers have only one to work with.

First, the cabinet should be divided into two sections. The upper section should be reserved exclusively for medicines and the lower part for toilet and other grooming aids.

Medicine chest should be divided into two sections.

The medicine section again should be subdivided into two parts — one for internal medicine, those that are swallowed, and the other for external medicine, those that are applied to the surface of the body.

A handy marker or white-on-black tape should be used to identify each section so the family knows where items belong and will help keep the cabinet neat.

These simple measures will help keep your family constantly alert to the need for careful handling of medicines to assure each is used only for the purpose for which it was intended.

A THOUGHT STARTER

BY RONALD C. MACCORMACK
THE SIN OF EXPECTING TOO LITTLE

How does the church of today compare with the church of New Testament days? We look around and see that the body of Christians now is rich in refinement, equipment and in prestige. The church lacks nothing that money can buy.

Looking deeper, it may be noticed that while the early church expected miracles to happen, we do not. They were not surprised at the supernatural, but we have taught ourselves not to expect anything extraordinary to happen. Looking at early Christians it may seem that they were rather a poor and uncultured group. Let it be seen, however, that for the most part they were people of vigor and conviction far beyond our own. To endure and propagate they must have had something which could only be described as miraculous. They were rich in the Spirit. This counts more than anything.

There was born just two hundred years ago, a pioneer missionary to India, William Carey. To the short-sighted people of his day, he said, "Expect great things for God". Is this the challenge we need?

Little of faith and blessing may come because little is expected. If we could only be a people of more faith and willingness to see God work, then the Church, the world over, would move and conquer.

There is a sin which is not often considered such. It is the sin of expecting too little from God. All things are possible with the One Who is Almighty.

A new vision of the kind of God in Whose Name we meet together every Sunday is most sorely needed. How can such an exalted realization be found? Simply all we urge, "behold and believe".

Charles Edison, a former governor of New Jersey and son of the inventor, Thomas Alva Edison died of a heart attack on Thursday in New York City.

One of the most meaningful and one of the most admired entries in both the Bear River Cherry Carnival parade and the Digby Nalal Day parade was that of young Michael Lowe, Bear River. In many cases Michael first prize but then isn't always the category open to accommodate every type of entry. Michael did get honorable mention at the Cherry Carnival. The Digby Courier takes special pride in singling out Michael's entry as a thoughtful, meaningful and outstanding entry. The picture tells the story, one which we are sure the Hon. J. W. Akerley would give his stamp of approval. Even the baby in the car window, so intent on Michael, enjoys the "half toy - half useful vehicle" or it is getting the message so plain and simple.

50th Anniversary

The fiftieth anniversary of the consecration of St. Anne's chapel, held on Sunday, July 27, 1909, meant more to St. Anne's than their own. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. McIntyre had also the unique distinction of being the first persons baptised in the church, to most people. The anniversary brought beautiful

Lost In Fog Almost Four Hours

Fred Cormier, Mrs. Lillian Robicheau, her son and daughter, Timothy and Cindy Robicheau left around five thirty on Wednesday evening to dig race claims by the property of Murray DeAmorose in Brighton, Digby County. What was meant to be a pleasure trip came night to be a tragedy and a harrowing experience until they arrived safely at the Head of the Bay on an island owned by Charles Jones at the late hour of 8:25 p.m.

Fog set in thickly around them and they completely lost their sense of direction. Starting about six o'clock to return home, they walked in a haze and a half when they realized definitely they were lost. They dropped buckets of claims and hawks to be free to swim for survival if necessary. They started again but walking for another hour only brought them back again to their utensils.

Next they picked what they thought to be a straight line and found themselves walking right into the tide so they reversed and made another attempt and walked for another two hours or more.

It was then that Timothy thought he sighted trees in the fog although others of the party were convinced he saw rocks. However, on checking they were found to be trees.

They suffered cuts and bruises on their feet but the tears Mrs. Robicheau said were from sheer joy knowing they had finally hit land after their trying experience.

ST. ANNE'S CHAPEL CELEBRATES 50TH ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday, July 27, St. Anne's Chapel, Smith's Cove, celebrated its 50th anniversary of consecration.

The chapel was consecrated July 1919 by Right Rev. John Richardson, whose mind was behind its erection. Bishop Richardson, of the Diocese of Fredericton, was a summer visitor at Harbor View Hotel on which property the chapel was erected. The land was given to the church by Mr. and Mrs. William Cosaboon, owners and proprietors of the hotel. Another who figured prominently in its initial stages was Miss Edelle Ogden. It was built by Ralph Cosset as master carpenter under the chairmanship of Daniel Turner. Mr. Cosset, who is nearly 80 years, attended the eight o'clock communion service on Sunday and in the afternoon a presentation was made to him at his home.

St. Anne's Chapel is rustically set among the evergreen and hardwood trees forming a unique background for the birch log steps, rails and trimmings of the exterior. The same rustic birch log trim is used for the interior trim, altar rail and furniture. A beautiful stained glass window above the altar adds to the beauty of the place of worship.

Visitors helped to make financing of the church possible.

Many of the old family names are recorded on the various memorials in the Chapel: its Altar, Prayer Desk, are economic. Therefore I will not be surprised if many of the power weirs disappear over the next decade," Mr. Davis said.

Above, leaving the birch wood chapel following the service on Sunday are, left to right, Dr. William Dunphy, of the diocese of Pennsylvania, who read the scriptures; Very Reverend Harold Nutter, Dean of Christ Church Cathedral, Fredericton, who preached the anniversary sermon; Right Reverend R. H. Waterman, Smith's Cove, who conducted the service and gave leadership in the anniversary plans.

The announcement by the Minister, which marks the end to a long standing dispute between the weir fishermen and the seiner fishermen, some disappointment was expressed that the closure of the bay to the seiners would not be effective until next year.

Claude Westcott, one of the St. Mary's Bay weir operators, expressed the opinion that the seiners, sometimes more than fifty of them, would continue to operate throughout the rest of this year, taking all the herring. He said the summer had been the poorest in years for the weir fishermen and stated there had not been any good catches in the past month and a half.

The weir fishermen are reported as being pleased with the "freeze" that has been placed on the number of weirs operating in St. Mary's Bay. They feel this, plus the absence of the seiners, will give them a chance to make a profit. Claude Westcott expressed the opinion that a line had to be drawn somewhere or every one would be going into the weir fishing. He said it was the present operators who worked to get the closure of the bay and should reap the benefit.

It is expected that the weir operators would rebuild their weirs for operation again next year even though this year has been one of losses. Cost of reconstruction is in the vicinity of $4,000 while a new weir can run as high as $12,000. Most of the weirs are cooperative enterprises with from four to six men involved. Success in the weir operation can mean a good living for these people. The success of the weir fishing also has an effect on the economic well being of the whole area.

Digby To Get New Chain Store

Plans for the construction of a new department store on Digby's main street were approved at the August meeting of the Digby town council. The new store, which is to be a branch of the "People's Store", a national chain, will be built on the site of the Wright's of Digby Ltd. store which was recently torn down.

The new building will be some 150 feet in depth with a 63 foot frontage, according to plans presented to the council.

Approval was also given at the council meeting to the agreement providing for the reconstruction of thirty three low rental housing units in Digby. Twenty one of these will be located in the senior citizens housing project and twelve will be low rental dwellings. Plans for the low rental housing project had previously been approved by council and it is expected that for these may be called later in the month.

The council at their August meeting also gave approval to an application from Vernon L. Brevett for construction of an addition to his store on King Street. Approval was also given to an application from Roy Peters for an addition to his house on the Shore Road.

James MacIsaac of the provincial department of welfare appeared before the council to outline proposals concerning provision of accommodation for senior citizens requiring nursing or personal care. Mr. MacIsaac detailed action being taken in other parts of the province to meet needs of those senior citizens and explained financing provisions.

In his presentation Mr. MacIsaac stated in some areas joint action had been taken by the municipal units within a county to provide accommodation for their aged. In other areas one municipal unit had provided the accommodation with agreement from the other units to use the facilities. He suggested the seeking of cooperation between municipal units and said for this area an accommodation having between sixty and seventy beds might be a wise decision. He noted the general rule is the provision of two nursing care and two personal care beds for each thousand of population.

Mr. MacIsaac noted that certain criteria had been established for location of the homes. These included proximity to medical and hospital services. The homes must also be located where municipal services such as water and sewer are available, he said.

In his remarks Mr. MacIsaac pointed out that Digby municipality is at present housing (Please turn to page 6)

Golf Gossip

BY Herb Warren

The C. M. Levy Trophy for 36 handicappers and the Digby Hotel Furnishings Trophy for 12 to 25 handicappers were both played for over last weekend, August 2nd & 3rd. However, owing to adjustments having to be made in some of the participants' handicaps the names of the final winners are not available at this time but will be given in next week's column.

Early morning play in these tournaments had to know where the greens were located as they hid out into the fog. Visibility was limited to less than 100 yards on some holes. Heavy fog has been the rule on the Pines Hotel course over the past week but the avid members of Digby Golf Club are undeterred by the weather and keep on playing.

Coming this weekend, August 9th and 10th, is the Knights of Columbus Medal Play Tournament to be played on the Pines Hotel course. Tee-off time both Saturday and Sunday is 8:30 a.m.

Notice to Digby Club Members: In view of the K of C Tournament starting times for Digby Club and other players will not be before 1:30 p.m. this coming Saturday and Sunday, August 9th and 10th. It would be advisable to telephone Club Pro Nick Nickerson for confirmation of starting times on these dates to avoid unnecessary waiting at the first tee.

Owing to scheduled conventions and the Maritimes Senior Tournament later this month the J. J. Brittain Tournament for left hand players will be postponed until next month.

Six Digby club members journeyed to Clare Golf & Country Club at Comausville last week to play in the Clare Invitational Tournament and five were winners. Billy Nickerson won the Low Gross with a 73 and Runner Up was Donnie Fleet with a 75. Low Net prizes were won by Don Brown, Hedley Stark and Jack Harris.

We understand a lady from New York claims a hole-in-one on No. 8 on the Pines Hotel course last week. However, we have to tell the lady, if she reads this column, to be official a hole-in-one has to be attested to by the Club Pro at the course where the hole was made.

And some just agitate it.

Billy Nickerson Wins Golf Trophy

by Harold Robicheau

The first Clare Open Golf Tournament was held from August 1st to August 3rd.

The tournament, held at the Clare Hotel, was the first of its kind in the history of the Clare Hotel and was a great success.

Charles Myles, of Saint Bernard and chairman for the tournament committee said, "he was pleased with the turn out and also very grateful with the way the pro, Gordon Shaw, prepared the course for this event."

He went on to say, "visitors from outside Clare playing in the tournament were amazed to see the good condition of the course since its opening last year."

He also stated, "we are planning more renovations to both the club house and the course this fall and next spring."

The membership has quadrupled since the opening of the course. It is hoped the support of the Clare people and its neighbouring communities will continue to increase.

Winner of the directors' trophy with a low gross score of 73 was Billy Nickerson of Digby.

Gustave Godfrey from Clare won a trophy for overall low net with a score of 61.

TOWN 100% ON WELLS

It was reported at the meeting that an analysis of water from the wells had shown it to be well below the level that would be regarded as "hard".

Thomas Cleveland was appointed to the Digby Water Commission to succeed Charles Hall whose resignation from the council made it necessary for him to resign from the commission.

Mayor Smith informed the meeting that the water supply for the town has now been finalized and the town is awaiting grants. These should amount to $18,000, he stated.

It was noted at the meeting that the 100% of the West Nova Scotia Regiment is to be held in Digby on August 31st.

A parade will be held at 10:30 that morning, followed by a drum band service at the bandstand. Hon. Milton Gregg, V.C., is to be the guest speaker.

The Digby fire department answered seven calls during the month of July. It was reported that six of these were for fire out of town. Fourteen complaints were dealt with by the police department. It was reported.

Councillor Ina Dillon, reporting for the license committee, stated it had been decided that no new taxi licenses would be issued at this time. She noted ten taxis are already licensed in Digby and said the committee had decided to await changes being made in the licensing by law before further action.

A financial statement presented at the meeting showed that all departments were well within budgeted expenditure figures as of July 15th. Mayor Smith congratulated the committees on this.

The council voted support of a resolution from Windsor asking that the provincial government increase its hospital bed grants from the present $2,000 to $10,000. It is understood the resolution will go to the annual meeting of the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities.

Approval was given at the council session to the decision of the building committee for the extension to the Digby Regional High School for concerning acceptance of tenders for some $9,000 worth of equipment and furnishings for the commercial department. Total cost of this equipment and furnishings will be met from federal and provincial funds, it was stated.

The council decided to withhold action on a request from the department of agriculture for appointment of a weed inspector pending further information regarding costs.

Clare Municipal Offices Under One Roof

The Municipal Council of the Municipality of Clare in Digby County plan to modernize and have all municipal service offices under one roof in the Municipal Office in Little Brook, stated warden Bernard LeBlanc following a meeting of the building committee recently. The Hydro systems office has been moved from the private home of the manager, Vincent P. Melanson at Church Point to the former Council chamber which has been renovated and from August 1st all Hydro business will be made at the new site.

A new council room measuring 14 feet wide and 32 feet long is presently being constructed, a private office door will be installed in this Municipal Office from the main hallway. Formerly one had to go through the Municipal main office work section to reach the clerk's private office. An assessor's office will be completed early in 1970, Mr. LeBlanc stated. All remodeling work will be paid from current revenues.

due to excessive interest rates on borrowed funds, said Mr. LeBlanc.

The abolishing of the jail cells in the Municipal building has enabled the space formerly used for these cells, to be remodelled into offices. Thus, all service offices will be on the ground floor. The court room, judges chambers, judges, lawyers and jury rooms will be on the second floor, stated Mr. LeBlanc. The court room will put at the disposal of the population of Clare for public meetings.

This year, 1968, a change has been made in school construction plans, said Mr. LeBlanc. The Municipal School board will now have to prepare a five year Capital Budget for the department of Education committee of the province and this committee is headed by the deputy minister of education. The committee will make on the spot surveys or studies before an approval of the request for capital expenditures is made, to determine the need for the requests made. In the meantime, the committee will consider only emergency requests.

In spite of the fact that the provincial government has created an assessment region comprising of the Municipalities of Clare, Yarmouth, Annapolis and the town of Yarmouth each unit will be maintaining their respective local assessment offices in their areas. Each municipal unit is sharing a portion of the overall cost with the provincial government and in return several units will receive a rental from central headquarters in Yarmouth, stated Mr. LeBlanc.

Inspect Berries

In addition to instructing strawberry pickers at the Digby Horticultural Project Farm at Seabrook, Nova Scotia, these field supervisors or walkers must inspect each flat of berries regularly. The supervisors were trained through a special two weeks course sponsored jointly by the Department of Manpower and Immigration and the provincial government. Shown left to right are Arnold Jarvis, Leona Langford, John Igoe, and Ralph Jarvis.

Children's Flower Arranging Show Successful

Take two pairs of flowers, add a handful of children and the result is a small-scale flower show. Such was the case when on Tuesday evening July 31st, fourteen enthusiastic flower arrangers, aged six to fifteen years, met for a class of instruction preparatory to the Annual Flower Show sponsored by the Adirad Digby Horticultural Society.

Following a two hour work period under the supervision of Mrs. Blanche Porter and Mrs. Hubert Wane the numerous and attractive arrangements were judged by Mrs. Lillian Nichols, President of the Garden Club and Miss Mary Marshall, Chairman of the Flower Show committee. The winners were: Mothers' 1st, Nancy Turnbull; 2nd, Donna MacDonald; 3rd, Kym Myr. Tri-Color, Red, White & Blue - 1st, Marlene Bisset; 2nd, Ann Rogers; 3rd, Katie Bisset. Miniature Garden - 1st, Robert Bisset; 2nd, Peter Turnbull; 3rd, Paul Turnbull. Sugar and Cream Set - 1st, Peter Turnbull; 2nd, Robert Bisset; 3rd, Paul Turnbull. Daffodil 1st, Rebecca Brown.

It has long been the aim of the Flower Show Committee to interest the children in making and entering flower arrangements. In this way they acquire an appreciation of the beauty of nature and develop a spirit of good sportsmanship. As a result of a similar class held last year the Junior Division was one of the major attractions of the show. Judgments are that it will be even bigger and better this year.

The Annual Flower Show is a community project and entries are welcomed from all residents of Digby County. Prior to the children's class three well attended adult work shops were held which were open to anyone interested in flower arranging. It is hoped that by working together and helping each other in this way the 1969 Flower Show will be the best yet.

Historic Sites Bring Visitors

Canadian Government Travel Bureau surveys indicate that historic sites are the fourth major tourist attraction in the country.

Although the Fortress of Louisbourg National Historic Park is not officially open, annual visitors have increased from 30,000 in 1962 to 195,000 in 1968. Total for the seven year period is 798,000. It is estimated that by 1972, at least 500,000 tourists will be visiting annually.

Completion of the present reconstruction project at Louisbourg is not anticipated before 1972. When completed, the Fortress of Louisbourg will rank as one of the most impressive and authentic historic reconstructions ever undertaken, and will be an attraction comparable in almost every respect with Colonial Williamsburg, Virginia.

The Fortress of Louisbourg, a $12 million project, will be

Joy

There's a world of joy in the simplest song
A smile for the greatest care;
So much that's worthwhile wherever you are
As long as there's happiness there.

You can build a beautiful castle of dreams
With a heavenly "Rose Garden", too.
And then in your heart someday you will find
That dreams can so often come true.

That each day of life is a beautiful one;
Filled with joy of a rare special kind.
And each little sadness can soon be forgotten
If you'll just put it out of your mind.

For there's joy in each star, that shines up above,
And if you're never noticed before,
There's a smile and a song in each living thing
That is growing right outside your door.

There's a whole world of gladness wherever you are
And of our whole life, it's a part...
But the joy that's most precious and dearest of all,
Is the joy that you have in your heart.

RESPONSIBILITY GOES WITH FREEDOM

"Freedom of the press must be accompanied by responsibility of the press — and we must not allow the free press to become irresponsible. I don't think it has, but this public analysis is very much in the public interest — and I think in your favor too." Senator Keith Davy told some publishers of weekly newspapers across Canada who held the annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association in Halifax last week. Mr. Davy is chairman of a special Senate committee investigating control of Canada's mass media.

The convention celebrated the 50th anniversary of C.W.N.A. and its publisher, Cecil Day, Jr., of N.S. The Senator was speaking to publishers of a media with more than ten million weekly readers.

Research, at a total cost of $100,000 on the media, should be completed by Labor Day, and hearings attended by publishers will begin shortly after. Senator Davy said he is still aiming for an April target for publication of the report and recommendations of the 36 senators on the committee, studying a $1,000,000 industry.

In defence of the Senate which he termed "the least known and understood political institution in this country," Senator Davy said that body was ideally suited for conducting such a study.

Sensors have the time and the expertise for investigation, and its duty is to guarantee regional rights and be a form of "sober second thought."

1969 HORTICULTURAL PROJECT SUCCESS

A supervisory training course and picker recruitment program at the Digby Horticultural Project Farm has been formed by federal and provincial government officials as "quite successful."

The strawberry farm located at Seabrook, was started in 1966 by the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture. This year a joint training program for 18 field supervisors or field "walkers" and the registering of more than 500 pickers was undertaken by the Department of Manpower and Immigration and the provincial government.

Robert Deelman, manager of the practical project farm, said the training of the walkers was instrumental in the success of the strawberry crop this season.

"While the actual crop was not as plentiful as was first anticipated," he added, "the pickers under the direction of the walkers were able to pick everything in the fields."

"Despite poor weather, last year's production has been equalled and we still have about one week remaining," Mr. Deelman added at time of interview.

E. G. Cannon, Canada Manpower District Superintendent for Nova Scotia's South Shore said, "A frozen food company representative from Claremont, P.E.I., is visiting the farm with the intention of possibly hiring 60 to 80 persons to assist in harvesting for his company on the island."

"They want pickers to help in the harvesting of crops like spinach, broccoli, cauliflower, and brussels sprout. This would mean employment for many until late fall," Mr. Cannon stated.

Mr. Deelman said all the strawberries from the project farm are being exported through the provincial farm to the United States market.

"Some of the berries are shipped immediately to the United States," he explained.

"The ripper ones from the project farm are processed, frozen, and shipped later on in the year."

James J. Potter, manager of the Digby Canada Manpower Centre (CMC) said the supervisory course was held during (Please turn to page 6)

Signs Defaced

Never were two signs erected in Digby (outlets) which have caused more controversy than the two which along with announcing there are more than 2000 friendly people also declares Digby has a few sore heads.

The signs were erected in early summer as a cooperative venture of the Digby Town and the Town of Digby after controversy between the two sponsors as well as complaints from citizens detailed erection.

Within the last few days some one or persons have taken out their vengeance with paint brushes. The words "few sore heads" has been eliminated from view.

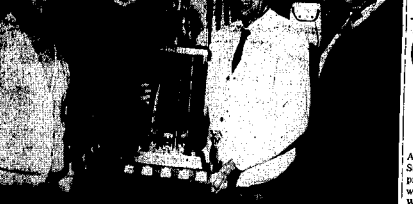

Salvation Army Captain Arrives

Captain Joan Lawlor has arrived in Digby to take over the duties at the Digby Salvation Army Corps, succeeding Captain Donald Bowers and Mrs. Bowers.

Born in Halifax, daughter of Scott Lawlor and the late Mrs. Lawlor, Captain Lawlor served in Bridgetown, Nova Scotia and recently arrived from serving the Corps at Portage la Prairie, Manitoba.

About three hundred weekly newspaper publishers from across Canada gathered in Halifax for the annual Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association convention last week. Some forty took a post-convention tour of Nova Scotia while in the province. Enroute from Yarmouth to Annapolis Royal, where luncheon was provided, the party stopped at the Pines, Digby, where they were entertained at the Digby Courter. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Edith Wallis, publisher, and her daughter, Mrs. Keith (Ruth) Chappell, Bridgeview. While here the touring publishers met a few of the Digby town and municipality people. Bidding them farewell and "bon voyage" from the Pines steps are rear, left to right: R. Baden Powell, MNA for the District of Digby; Ronald Morehouse, Warden of the Municipality of Digby; Russell Stonehouse, President of the Digby Board of Trade; Roy Forhan, Manager of the Pines Hotel, Digby, and C. In front Mrs. Snow, right, is standing with Mrs. Joan Fox, of Detroit, Michigan, who happened to be visiting at the Pines. Mrs. Fox is publisher of five weekly newspapers outside the city of Detroit. Government Thinks Road Proposal Has Merits

A delegation consisting of A. L. Robinson, Mayor Glen Smith and Russell Stonehouse proceeded to Halifax last week where they met with Hon. J. W. Akerman regarding the new approach road to be built to the proposed new ferry wharf. The delegation made proposals which would bring the road from the new boat wharf cutting to No. 101 closer to Digby than had been considered in the plans designed by the highways department. In reporting to the Digby Board of Trade on Tuesday evening, Mr. Robinson said the committee was given to understand their proposal was considered to have merits and that the government would advise them before a definite decision was made.

A letter of appreciation was authorized to be sent to the Hon. Jack Davis, Federal Minister of Fisheries and Forestry for closing St. Mary's Bay to seiners. Hon. Mr. Davis came to Digby a few weeks ago to talk with their fishermen and to get an understanding of their problems. The operation of seiners in St. Mary's Bay had caused a feud between their fishermen and seiners for a number of years. Were fishermen will now operate on license but this is reported to be pleasing to the weir fishermen. Mr. Davis made his announcement about the closing last week.

The Digby Board moved that their ballot be cast in favour of A. A. Adelaar, Weymouth, as a director of the

BACKS DIGBY COUNTY EXHIBITION

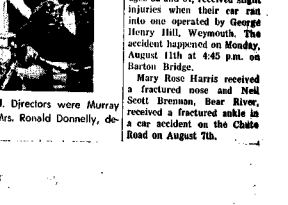

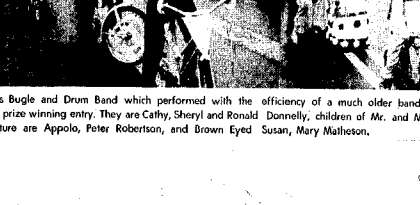

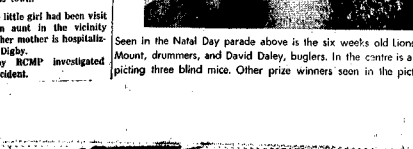

Determination by the Digby District Federation of Agriculture to meet its share of the county federation's dues in requirements to the provincial organization has already paid off to the extent of $127.00, it was reported at the August meeting of the Digby District, held at the Digby Community Mental Health Centre.

The Digby District's commitment to the amount owed the provincial body totals some $800.00, it is understood and plans were discussed at the district meeting for raising of the balance still outstanding. One of the suggestions made was that the district federation should explore the possibilities of operating barbecues and refreshment booths on a concession basis at activities sponsored by the Digby District.

While wet weather was predicted for both days of this tournament, Mayor Glenn Smith, a Past K. of C. State Deputy, passed another miracle (the other being on Digby Natal Day last month) and the rain held off until 1 P.M. Sunday when the tournament was finishing. Glenn is now a real water authority both local and heavenly!

A group of 29 players from the Yarmouth Golf Club played on the Connallys section of Digby Golf Club over the weekend when the Low Gross winner was Freddy Munro. Further information was not available as the score sheets had been retained by one of the groups.

A representative of Time Magazine was a recent visitor to the Pines Hotel course in connection with an article to be done on the course and the Pines Hotel for a forthcoming issue of the magazine.

In last week's issue of the Toronto Star Weekly Canadian Magazine section, is an article on the 18 toughest holes on golf courses across Canada. It is interesting to read that the 565 yard No. 7 hole on the Pines Hotel course, Digby, Nova Scotia, is ranked 13th on the list. This is a par 5 hole and is not parred too often although Donnie Fleet, of Digby Golf Club, does so fairly regularly using a 3 wood, 9 iron and putter.

Acting President Dave Daley, of Digby Golf Club and wife, Helen, have returned from Halifax where they played in the Husband & Wife Tournament held by Brightwood Golf Club. Following a master development plan, the park has been zoned to provide for a gradual return of the land to its natural wilderness state.

In certain zones a complete wilderness atmosphere will be maintained. Travel in these areas will be by canoe or on foot and small overnight shelters are provided.

Bill Smiley

An unexpected guest

My young brother and I are very close. We always have been. We slept in the same bed, we shared the same room, we spent our summers together at the family cottage, and fought together about such things as who was going to get the bike that day.

Even the war didn't keep us apart. We both served in the air force and trained as fighter pilots, sometimes at the same stations. We were both shot down. We ended the war with the same rank. The only real difference was that he could put the letters D.F.C. after his name. But I was able to counter that with better tales about my own exploits.

I've been very close. So close that we sometimes remember to send a card at Christmas. And we make a point of corresponding every three or four years. It's been almost a decade we have a visit.

It happened this past weekend. There's a lot to get caught up on when you meet your brother after so long. "How do you do?" "How do you do?" "How do you do?"

I learned a lot of things. That I still owed him $9 for my share of the bike. That his cool child has married a very wealthy Englishman and has four kids. That he's the only money in the entire family connection, as far as I know, but I can't see why I'm going to get my hands on any of it.

And I learned this is how close our family is that a favorite uncle of mine had died over a month ago. Uncle Omar had reason to defend me. As an infant, I had cried lustily and steadily throughout his marriage, which took place in my parents' home.

Rossway
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cormack and daughter Cathy, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. spent the weekend with Mrs. Cormack's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Lewis. Mr. Cormack returned home on Monday while Mrs. Cormack and Cathy are remaining longer.

Mr. and Mrs. John McBride and daughter Anna May, granddaughter Carol and grand son Brian Chase of Waterville were Wednesday visitors at the home of Mrs. McBride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Theriault.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Robbins of Milton, Mass., are visiting Mr. Robbins' sister, Mrs. Waters Coomes, and Mr. Coomes and visiting his mother, Mrs. Wilfred Robbins at the Hulseby Nursing Home in Bear River.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Greaves and daughter of Halifax were weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Theriault.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Lewis were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Melanson of Corbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Neimeyer of Alaska have returned to their home there after spending the past month at their home at the Sea Wall and with Mrs. Neimeyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Westcott.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tremblay of Amherst and Mr. and Mrs. Royce Tremblay of Ottawa were last Tuesday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Haight.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thibault and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thibault and two daughters of Berlin N. H. have returned home after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Lewis for the past week.

Sgt. Eugene Coomes, RCMP in Ottawa and his son Mark have returned home after visiting Sgt. Coomes's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Waters Coomes for the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Lealand Lewis and son of Wolfville, Mrs. Francis King of Saint John, N. B. and Carl King of C. M. Meatsport were last week visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Haight.

Engagement Announced

COCHRANE - RAYMOND

The marriage will take place August 16th, 1969, at 3 p.m. in the K.C.S. Chapel, Windsor. Miss Raymond is a graduate of the Payzant Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Windsor. Mr. Cochran will be working towards his Bachelor of Physical Education at St. Mary's University.

April and June of this year. It consisted of two weeks of instruction by Victor Johnson and Dennis Dawson of the Atlantic Regional Work Studies Centre in Halifax.

During the first week they dealt with supervisory development and actual supervisory training in the work place. The second session was devoted to job instruction and three days of practical training in the work place.

The need for pickers was made known through a 40 mile radius by the supervisors and the use of advertisements and posters, Mr. Potter added.

More than 500 persons registered for work at a number of the sites. Many of those registering were students, while housewives made up the majority of 50 adults who signed on.

Mr. Cannon said the project has also helped alleviate unemployment in the area, by nearby farms to help in the strawberry harvesting.

Eighteen male and female walkers gave the young pickers instructions before the picking started and additional assistance during the actual harvesting.

Five of the walkers are school bus drivers who transport many of the youngsters to and from the fields daily. Pickers work from eight to ten hours per day and are paid 60 cents per flat. A flat holds 12 pints of berries. A bonus is paid to the top pickers.

Joggin' Bridge

(Mrs. Alice Branton)

Miss Gail Adams returned to Halifax on Sunday after spending a week's vacation with her mother, Mrs. Lloyd Adams.

The Society of Friends held their regular meeting with Mrs. Diane Branton on Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harrison accompanied by Arnold Harrison of Digby motored to Halifax on Sunday to meet Reginald Harrison of Toronto, Ontario, who will be their guest for a week.

Mrs. Ernest Lowen and three children, Pamela, Cathy and James of Virginia, arrived on Saturday to spend a month with Mrs. Lowen's father, Capt. James Ian MacPherson.

Dahlia - To What Heights!
Can you top this? Percy Weir, Digby, says he's been growing nice dahlias for a long time but he has never seen anything like this.

Often he has seen dahlias climb to the height of four feet but this year his garden produces dahlias six feet high in height. They have all been in bloom and are still blooming.

DANGEROUS PLAYGROUNDS - Few things are more attractive to an inquisitive child than a railroad. And few places are more hazardous than railroad property. Canadian National officials say today's trains can travel the length of a city block before most people can count one, two, three, four. A child playing on or near the tracks could be struck by a train before he sees or hears it. Parents should explain to youngsters time and again the dangers of using railroad property for a playground. Risky practices include climbing on the cars, putting objects on the rail, riding bicycles in the yard, crossing railway bridges.

Study Habits Scallops Off Digby

The life and time of Bay of Fundy scallops and herring will be closely observed next month from a mini-submarine manned by scientists of the Fisheries Research Board of Canada.

It's the second year the board has employed the services of a sub — last year researchers completed assignments from a two-man "re-mersible." This year's model holds four persons.

About 22 feet in length, the small craft will arrive from Florida by truck.

The sub's crew and scientists will work in conjunction with a "mother ship" the Canadian transport ship, C. D. Howe which will provide their living quarters during assignments.

The C. D. Howe has a 15 ton crane that could lift the sub out of the water and on deck if necessary.

Fisheries scientists will study the habits of scallops, herring, off the mouth and queen crab in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The sub will be able to descend as low as 600 feet during these observations.

A feature of the craft in which crew and passengers can speed up to five or six knots, is its decompression lock-out chamber which will enable divers to go directly from the sub to pick up samples. Costs of the underwater enterprise are being jointly financed by the research board and the Bedford Institute of Oceanography.

The Institute will use the services of the submarine to conduct geological and oceanographical studies on the shelf off Nova Scotia.

The Boss Brass

During its two appearances in Toronto, the newly-formed Boss Brass, led by trombonist-conductor-ranger Rob McConnell, has drawn rave reviews and record crowds. On Friday, August 29, CBC radio will present the Boss Brass at the CNE Bandshell. The show will be taped for broadcast on the Stage series, September 6 at 7:03 EDT on the CBC radio network. Two of McConnell's previous nightclub shows have already been heard on the series.

Dreams Of Home

Take a valley, give it sunlight
On waters, making gems of gold,
Watch flowers on the hillsides
See this beauty bloom and grow.
Build a white church like a temple,
With a steeple to the sky,
Symbol of a faith and purpose,
Reaching out to God on high.

Take a river, run it gently,
Past the hillsides, let it go,
Mirror for the small white houses
Reflected in the depths below.
Bring a sunset, flood the valley
With a crimson, golden glow,
This is home a place for dreaming,
Dearest spot on earth I know.

Take a valley, give it memories,
Dreams that are your own,
Then in gossamer wings of fancy
Flout you'll dream of home.

Anne Kaye

And The Band Played On

The show must go on! But what is wrong with celebrating a wedding anniversary with already provided music, lights and gaiety.

Mr. and Mrs. Loraine Thomas, owners and operators of the Thomas Midway Shows celebrated their thirty-fourth wedding anniversary in Digby on Friday evening. The show which stayed here until Saturday night still went on while Mr. and Mrs. Thomas entertained some thirty guests from the show and ten or more from town. Helping to celebrate were their son and son in law.

On Vegetation

It might have been a rock from the moon. Some guessed it to be a potato, more thought it looked like a beet, others thought it was a dahlia root. It took a long time for spectators to come up with a right answer to an item brought to the office by Bonnie Tibert from the field planted by James Wambach on the jail property.

It was simply a cerroded, hardened rubber ball through which vegetation had grown from various points on its circumference. The mystery was solved and the only disappointed moment was that it can't be proved that it was a chunk of the moon kicked down by the footprints of Neil Armstrong.

Council Requests Extended Area Telephone Service

Digby Municipal Council which began on Monday afternoon concluded its session on Wednesday at noon. Before closing on Wednesday, a letter was authorized to be sent to the commercial manager of the Maritime Telephone and Telegraph Ltd. at Kentville, requesting telephone amalgamation within a radius of 25 miles from Digby town and if possible to include the exchange on Long Island.

The hydro commission of the Municipality of the District of Digby was authorized to investigate and report to council regarding possible purchase of the line at Lansdowne from the Nova Scotia Power Commission. It was also moved to discontinue the hydro lines from Bay View to Colborne and a new one installed for the missing link. The matter of regulations for service charge was tabled.

Two letters were read on Monday, one from the Minister of Agriculture, Honorable H. V. Veinot regarding the appointment of a weed inspector and the other from Harold Emerson, Bay View, in regarding to dumping rubbish on the Shore Road. The matter of paying for municipal burials was left in the hands of the Welfare Committee.

Regarding internal matters, the municipal council decided to have the municipal office closed on Saturday mornings and that councillors be paid 12c per mile for travelling expenses instead of 10c per mile.

He is lowered in a boatswain chair and does the painting, which is quite a job when one considers that he is working on a person. Another painter must remain on the ground to take the paint or whatever is required and to look after which the boatswain chair is lowered or raised, as the case may be.

The society started with a small group of members and needed an exhibition hall. As no building was available, the society built a hall on the river's edge, known as the Bear River Exhibition Hall, which secured a large lot of land. About This and That

Too Late To Lock The Door

The service is practically over. It is too late to lock the door. In two more weeks there will be no reason to have a policy of reservations on the Saint John to Digby ferry, for there will not be that many cars travelling to need reservations. First-come-first-served policy will be plenty adequate to accommodate all the vehicles which will want to cross the Bay of Fundy. There will be few, if any, days, until next July that the passenger vehicles looking for accommodation via Saint John to Digby will exceed 90 per day.

The worst feature about the no-reservations policy of the present summer is the adverse publicity. Word-of-mouth publicity is pretty effective. To allay the influence of the 1969 policy will require a strong counteracting advertising campaign for another year.

There are those who see merit in the first-come-first-served policy so far as Digby is concerned. Restaurants, shops, motels, they think, gain financially from those who are compelled to wait for the next boat. We, the Courier, can scarcely feel this short-term convenience can undo the disappointment, ill-feeling and consequent adverse publicity which the uncertainty of no-reservations policy effects. In fact, we talked with people last week who, because they had to come to Digby in the early morning hours to be assured of vehicle transportation across the Bay, were not in any shopping mood.

Albert von Schweun, Toronto, was another disappointed visitor here and was not backward in expressing his disapproval of the no-reservations policy. He is a business man and had definite business appointments in Nova Scotia. He was told in Toronto that he didn't need boat reservations so left Toronto, drove all night and when arriving in Saint John, N. B., his car along with 30 other cars waiting, were uncertain whether or not they would be making the ferry across the Bay. Expressions heard were "Stupid Canadians," "They don't need to advertise Nova Scotia as an ocean playground." One child, from Virginia, he said, was displaying his disappointment in no uncertain terms much to the dismay of his parents. He definitely felt that the no-reservations policy was a tremendous loss to tourism in the area. The von Schweuns returned via Bar Harbour. They wouldn't think of it again.

Of course, being fair about the whole situation we must relate the joy of another couple who went to Bar Harbour to cross to Yarmouth. On arriving they were disappointed to learn that vehicle passage had been booked up for two weeks ahead. They beat it off for Saint John, N. B., arrived early in the morning as one of the firsts and were soon on their way to Digby. Be that as it may, we figure the two-week advance booking on the Bluenose could have resulted a great deal from the "word-of-mouth" advertising of no-reservations on the Princess of Acadia.

The C.P.R. wanted to prove a point. We understood. It was a trial arrangement to prepare for the new ferry service. What their conclusion is, we do not know. We feel that as far as 1969 is concerned it is "too late to lock the barn door, the horse has escaped" and the end of his nights as he went. It is quite possible the Saint John-Digby route can be redeemed with the inauguration of the brand new service and its, no doubt, intensive advertising campaign. We can hope.

Newer, Better, Bigger Exhibition

All eyes will be peeled on Bear River next week when the Digby County Exhibition opens its gates there on August 28. However, according to reports from the committee eyes are going to be divided for attention after visitors reach the new parking lot on top of the hill. They tell us the view is magnificent, absolutely marvellous and if there were nothing else to go to the exhibition, for this view would give the visitors their money's worth. We're going. We want to prove, from right about the scenery as well as view the exhibits.

By the way, eight new flood lights make the parking lot easy to enter at night. They tell us there's no difficulty there.

Several new items have been added to the Digby County Exhibition program this year, we note. There is to be a horse show and the ring has been enlarged to 90 x 150 feet, filled and gravelled to accommodate this.

The space for the poultry and pets has been doubled and it might be interesting to visitors to know that the Muller Brothers Milk Ranch at New Tuxford is entering some milk exhibits. All commissions have been sold, we understand, with some new companies taking space this year.

Weeklies, Not Weeklings

As we thank those who so kindly telephoned or wrote to greet The Digby Courier as it entered its 95th year of publication today, we are proud to be one of those Nova Scotia Weeklies which are Not Weeklings, as the Chronicle-Herald so aptly put it in a recent editorial. There are 34 weeklies in Nova Scotia, with a combined circulation of 139,410, the editorial states. It didn't give the readership figures but just multiply by four.

Quoting from the Chronicle-Herald

editorial: "No matter how important or how sophisticated the events of the world, there is still an intense interest in the great roots news from the old home town. It is this public quest to keep in touch with old friends and familiar surroundings on which the weekly newspaper depends for its continued popularity. Like its cousin in the daily newspaper field, the weekly is not without its problems. It is frustrated by high costs for postal services, machinery and newsprint, among other things."

How true!

Baptist Women Meet

The United Baptist Women's Missionary Union of the Atlantic provinces will meet in annual convention at Wolfville, N. S. from August 20th to 28th, 1969.

The meetings, to be held in University Hall, Acadia University will be chaired by the President, Mrs. T. W. Howard, Halifax, N. S.

Mrs. R. B. Gullison, B. A. B. Th., returned missionary from India will be the key speaker on Tuesday evening, August 26th.

Mrs. Gullison and her husband, Dr. Ben Gullison have recently returned to Canada after serving for 33 years in India under the Canadian Baptist Overseas Mission Board, where they have made outstanding contributions in the treatment of leprosy.

In addition, Dr. Gullison is renowned in the field of eye surgery.

Mrs. Annie Cook of Cambridge and Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Bradley of White River, Vermont, visited Mr. and Mrs. Earl Haight on Saturday. Supper guests at the same home on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Gullison and her husband, Dr. Ben Gullison have recently returned to Canada after serving for 33 years in India under the Canadian Baptist Overseas Mission Board, where they have made outstanding contributions in the treatment of leprosy.

— There are several things on our minds. We hope they are being given serious consideration by others. First, we hope the long-range consideration is being given to the replies for extended area service by the Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Co. Ltd. Private persons should consider employment advantages as well as the price of the private telephone bill. (2) The success of the Digby Horticultural Project has been most gratifying. Our aim is to keep the project here to benefit our Digby County people. (3) The letter by Mrs. Enid Warren last week on the milk situation from the consumers point of view was appreciated. It gives demanding employees something to think about. (4) We noted Harold Emerson's plea to the municipal garbage dumping. (5) The parking problem in Digby continues. (6) The importance of the century old D.A.R. (6) How far is Kedge from Digby on those brochures? More about all these later. How about you? Anything to say on them?

— It was blood, sweat and tears on the part of the Digby Board of Trade tourist committee and Board of Trade helpers which erected those Digby signs containing the criticism, too. (3) We saw several signs. It seems if they don't blame they also want the credit and no blame to them for that. We apologize for having said in a news story last week that was a cooperative effort. Frankly, we saw nothing wrong with the sign that the Board bought, paid for and spent hours of labor on. If you want to know what we are talking about, see the signs on highway 101 near the approach to Digby. Somebody, person or persons, tried to eliminate "and a few soreheads" with paint and brush.

— So "Coffee at Jones" gave Bob Lockhardt some ammunition for Talk of the Town. We don't mind being quoted and Ottalie Murphy and Mr. Murphy deserve the praise and admiration they got for being so kind.

— The Antigonish Casket has not yet received that marked copy of The Digby Courier with the story about Emerson Cook, his wife and family. Dodge-it, it did go out. Where is it? Anyway, the Casket agrees with the Courier that Emerson Cook is a very nice man and "we are confident that all our BILLS will arrive promptly," says the Casket.

— Mr. and Mrs. Henry Finkbe, New York City, vacationed in Nova Scotia and stopped for a few days at the Pines. "Charming" is how they described Nova Scotia. They had no complaint about the Pines. They found the meals good and the fish well cooked, but they did complain about not being able to get good fish generally in Nova Scotia. So-called fresh fish is really not fresh but frozen, they remarked. Fish generally deep fried, no matter what kind, when it should be baked or broiled. They also liked to get their full seven per cent exchange but found that in some cases it was too much effort for the attendant to keep informed of the rate of exchange so took on the five per cent and made out at that. We can all profit by the honest and constructive criticism of our visitors. And they'll be back again.

— "Keep your mouth shut when you talk." Literally that motto would not please an ecologist but we did think it was a good one for a business operation. Somebody told us, they had adopted it for their plant.

— Mr. and Mrs. Henry Finkbe, New York City, vacationed in Nova Scotia and stopped for a few days at the Pines. "Charming" is how they described Nova Scotia. They had no complaint about the Pines. They found the meals good and the fish well cooked, but they did complain about not being able to get good fish generally in Nova Scotia. So-called fresh fish is really not fresh but frozen, they remarked. Fish generally deep fried, no matter what kind, when it should be baked or broiled. They also liked to get their full seven per cent exchange but found that in some cases it was too much effort for the attendant to keep informed of the rate of exchange so took on the five per cent and made out at that. We can all profit by the honest and constructive criticism of our visitors. And they'll be back again.

— "Keep your mouth shut when you talk." Literally that motto would not please an ecologist but we did think it was a good one for a business operation. Somebody told us, they had adopted it for their plant.

Radar To

Fishermen

Radar, one of the greatest boons to fishermen and those who follow the sea, was invented late in the nineteenth century based on the groundwork laid by such scientists as Oer-sted of Copenhagen who discovered the connection between electricity and magnetism, and the German scientist Heinrich Hertz who discovered that electromagnetic waves can travel without the medium of wires.

RADAR denotes Radio Direction And Range. Today most large fishing boats, liners, airplanes and even ferry boats are equipped with this device, a radio transmitting and receiving apparatus which sends out waves of ultra high frequency in a narrow beam; these waves rebound when they strike an obstruction, and indicate, on the receiving apparatus, the location of the obstruction. Therefore, the radar device is invaluable to navigators and especially in search and rescue operations.

From Where Have The Little Dogs Come?

Two straggled young dogs were found wandering about alone on the shore of the Bay of Fundy.

To see puppy dogs about is not unusual on the island but to find two helpless little pups wandering about on a lonely beach about a mile off the highway and away from the village is unusual.

Mr. Allen Prime of USA who with his family is vacationing in Tiverton found the pups in a cove known as Flower Cove at Centerville while walking in the area. He said, "Poor little things, they looked so lonely I took them home with me. They were really starved!" She fed them and made them comfortable in her basement.

The pups, judged to be about 2-4 weeks old are thoroughbreds but resemble part bird dog and part rabbit hound.

The question is, where did they come from? Someone

Fishermen Rescued

Llewellyn Young, Tiverton, and Corcoran Thurber, Freeport, spent dreary night drifting about on the Bay of Fundy in dingy boat.

Having completed trawl fishing operations a short distance from Freeport shore last Monday morning, Mr. Young, owner of the craft and mate, Corcoran Thurber, discovered their fuel supply was exhausted.

They drifted about in the dense fog for the remainder of the day and all night Monday. Residents sent out SOS to Search and Rescue centres at Halifax, Yarmouth and Digby. Quite a number of local fishermen joined in the search on Tuesday.

Late Tuesday morning the two over-due fishermen were spotted by radar off the coast of Grand Manan, N. B., and were rescued by Mr. Young's brother, Edward of Freeport who was patrolling the area with his dragger.

Both Mr. Young and Mr. Thurber are married and have children.

Digby And Clare Included In Regional Library

Nova Scotia's tenth regional library is now being established! The Western Counties Regional Library will provide library service to people living in the Districts of Yarmouth, Digby and Clare and the towns of Lockport, Digby, Shelburne and Yarmouth. Headquarters for the new region will be located on the lower floor of the Isaac Walton Kilham Memorial Library, Yarmouth. The Isaac Walton Kilham Memorial Library will be the Yarmouth branch of the Western Counties Regional Library. Present services from the Kilham Library will cease as of August 21, 1969, and the official opening of the Western Counties Regional Library is tentatively scheduled for late September or early October. The opening date depends upon how quickly the necessary equipment and supplies can be obtained from suppliers and books do not yet have been ordered. A definite opening date as soon as possible.

It is expected that service will be available first from the Yarmouth branch with the branch libraries in Digby and Shelburne to be opened as soon as possible thereafter. Readers have been called for a bookmobile which will travel throughout the regional library area and mobile library service will begin when the bookmobile is delivered. Any resident living in the area served by the Western Counties Regional Library may borrow from any branch library or from the bookmobile, and all residents will be visited to use the Yarmouth library service since the Regional Library is supported partly by local taxation and partly by Provincial Government grants.

The Regional Library will open with a brand new book collection containing a variety of books for general reading as well as reference books and magazines. A selection of books and magazines in the French language will be provided as quickly as possible. The initial bookstock will be made up of 6,000 books presently on order for the Western Counties Regional Library, approximately 3,000 have been delivered and will be ready for the shelves when the library opens in the fall. Book processing is one of the services provided to the regional libraries by the Nova Scotia Provincial Library. In addition, a loan service is available from the Provincial Library through which books not available in the Western Counties Regional Library may be requested from other libraries.

Creation

(By Bertha Cornwall Pearson)
Beneath the earth's soft loamy sod
I tenderly placed a small seed pod.
A fine-sprayed shower and warm sunshine
Interchanged their blessings by design
To nurture the seed. A mystic force
Has pushed a shoot on its upward course.
A bud so tiny and lightly bound
Has begun to unfold without a sound!
Oh, fragile beauty with delicate hue
With glistening drops of early dew,
Your fragrance is so rare and sweet
That my awed of God is now complete;
I bow my head and humbly pray:
God's power and grace were here today;
His power, so marvelous and divine,
Performed a miracle with that seed of mine!

(Mrs. Vaughn (Bertha Cornwall) Pearson, of Nashua, N. H., well known in Digby who had the first poem ever submitted by her to the Pejepscot Press, Brunswick, Maine, printed, has given permission to have the above poem "Creation" printed in The Digby Courier. It is copyright of 1969, published by the Pejepscot Press, printed in Maine Writer's Conference Annual Chapbook No. 11, selected prose and poetry of authors in the Maine Writer's Conference.)

COMMAND CHANGES HANDS AT COLORFUL CEREMONY

On Thursday, August 21, 1969 at 4:30 in the afternoon the command of the Canadian Forces Base Cornwallis, Nova Scotia, was officially turned over from Capt. J. M. Paul of Edmonton (on the right) to Capt. H. R. Tilley of Halifax and Ottawa (left). Spectators numbered 300 watched the colorful ceremony which included a first for the Canadian Armed Forces. This was the first time that the command of the base had been turned over to a new commander in the presence of the gun carriage. Until this time, such a ceremony was typically the involvement of the male officers.

The emotion of the occasion was felt by all those present as the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Band led the procession to the strains of "Auld Lang Syne" and "Heart of Oak" past the assembled parade, who gave "Three Cheers" for Capt. Paul as he passed by and on to the Main Gate.

To those with whom Capt. Paul has been associated during the past five years his departure created a feeling of sadness. He now takes up the reins of Base Administration Officer at Canadian Forces Base Halifax, Nova Scotia.

There was also a very sincere feeling of good wishes to the new Base Commander of CFB Cornwallis, Capt. Tilley, as many "Welcome Aboard" greetings were heard at the reception held later at the Officer's Mess.

Captain Paul saw service in W. II in HMCS St. Laurent and in the Korean action on HMCS Halifax. Following this he took command of the frigates Penitence (1954-55) and Outrigger (1955-56). In 1956 he was appointed officer in charge of cadetship division at HMCS Cornwallis, then in 1957, promoted to the rank of captain and became base commander of HMCS Cornwallis then the new entry training establishment of the navy and captain of the ship.

Captain Paul is second in command of CFB Halifax, replacing Capt. G. H. Hayes. Capt. Tilley entered the Royal Canadian Navy as a cadet at Halifax in 1941. While training and service was in ships of the Royal Navy and the Canadian destroyer Iroquois and the Canadian destroyer Iroquois. After the war he specialized in navigation direction and was navigating officer of the destroyer Iroquois during a tour of duty in the Korean theatre.

Capt. Paul then became executive officer of the naval air station at Shearwater. He was promoted to the rank of captain in June of 1964 and became base commander of HMCS Cornwallis then the new entry training establishment of the navy and captain of the ship.

RADIO TECHNICIANS NOT BURGLARS

Annapolis Valley Radio is nearing completion of stage one in a three-stage improvement and expansion program, according to Managing Director, Willard A. Bishop.

The program included relocation of the Middleton transmitter, installing facilities to provide improved coverage in the Central Valley area, adjustments to the Kentville transmitter, and a frequency swap between Middleton and Kentville.

The new establishment of a new A-M station in Digby.

Mr. Bishop said the development is being handled as a multi-phase project so that all equipment can be utilized and, at the same time, the existing stations can continue broadcasting without interruption.

Mr. Bishop said radio engineers, under the direction of a consultant from Montreal, will begin work on the broadcasting pattern for the Middleton Station within the next few days.

The work will be carried out as a nighttime operation from midnight to 6 a.m. and Mr. Bishop advises residents of the area (Spa Springs to

Fishing Boats Towed

The Lady LVA, manned by Captain Lawrence Corbett of Sandy Beach, and built in 1941 by St. Mary's Bay Industries Ltd., six years ago, caught five fish and was towed to Yarmouth on Saturday.

The 61 foot fish dragger with her wheel house completely burned, the electric equipment damaged and the engine room badly scarred after a fire of undetermined origin. The ship was brought in by Capt. Howard Nickerson of the herring service, Chiloche Lake.

According to Capt. Corbett of Sandy Beach, Yarmouth County, who bought the dragger in May, he and his helper, John Cosman, Sandy Beach, were using the dragger as a herring carrier this summer and when the fire took place were on their way to sea.

About two miles off Chiloche Point the flash fire broke out.

RECENT MARRIAGES

Tall urns of red roses and cedar decorated the front of the Bethel United Baptist Church, Ashmore, on the occasion of the marriage of Miss Lois Katherine Kinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott W. The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length white gown of full tulle, fastened with an empire waistline, lace bodice and sleeves ending in a point at the wrist. Two rows of lace encircled the bottom of the gown. A train of full tulle with lace inserts on each side and across the bottom was held in place above the waistline with two bows. Her four tier veil of net with scalloped edging was held in place by a looped pearl tiara and her bouquet was of red and white carnations.

Mrs. Spurgeon Rascoe, Inver, N.W.T., the bride's sister, was matron of honor and wore a floor length gown of peacock blue chitra moss crepe with empire waistline and white cotton jacquard sleeves. A gathered train fell from a bow at the back and her headpiece was a peacock tulle, fastened to a matching tiara. Her bouquet was of yellow and white mums. Mrs. Robert MacDonald, Mid-dleton, N. S., cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and Miss Patricia MacDonald, Mid-dleton, was flower girl. Their gowns were identical to that of the matron of honor and the flower girl carried a basket of yellow and white mums. David A. Cosman, Weymouth, the groom's cousin, was best man and the ushers were the groom's brother, Bruce Hankinson, Weymouth, and the bride's brother, Paul Kinney, Brampton, Ontario. The reception which followed was held in the Church of Christ, Weymouth, when the toast to the bride was proposed by Paul Kinney and responded to by the groom. Rev. Clayton asked the bride to be served. The bride's table was set by Mrs. Boyd Kinney, Dutton, Ontario, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Carolyn friend of the bride. The bride's mother wore a gown of pink chitra moss crepe with pink lace coat, white hat and gloves, silver shoes and bag. Her corsage was of pink carnations. The groom's mother chose a two piece dress of lilac lace over tulle with white accessories and her corsage was of white carnations tipped with lilac.

Hankinson - Kinney

For her wedding trip in the Maritimes, the bride chose a yellow and white knit jersey dress, with white pleated bottom and white accessories. Her jewelry was a gold heart shaped locket, a gift of the groom.

The groom is a graduate of the N. S. Institute of Technology, Halifax, and the bride is a graduate of the N. S. Teachers' College.

They will reside in Weymouth.

The flower girl was little Lorinda Sabine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Sabine, who looked charming in a floor length yellow dress and yellow headpiece. She carried a basket of yellow and white mums.

The best man was Larry Sabine, cousin of the groom and ushers were Pete Sabine, cousin of the groom and Roy Marshall, the bride's cousin.

The bride's mother wore a mauve sheer cotton with hat of the same material and complementary accessories. The groom's mother chose a light green in lace and crepe and matching accessories.

A reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall with guests from Grand Manan, St. George, Halifax, Digby, Weymouth and nearby areas. Miss Sandra Grant was in charge of the guest book.

For going away to the Cabot Trail and other provincial centres the bride wore a crumpled dress in aqua with matching accessories. Her corsage was white carnations.

The happy couple will reside in Timberline, Halifax Co., where the groom carries on a carpenter business and the bride is so the vice president of the Victoria General Hospital.

The title "Postmaster General" over 300 years old in Britain, is slated to disappear in 1980 when the British postal operation becomes a public corporation.

Flashing Red Lights On School Buses

Flashing red lights on Nova Scotia's school buses will be introduced September 1. Their message to all motorists is simple, — STOP!

Flashing red will replace flashing amber on the school bus stop signal under a revision of the Motor Vehicle Act approved by the Provincial Legislature this spring.

Nova Scotia Highways Minister, Hon. I. W. Akersley, in announcing the change-over, appealed to all Nova Scotia motorists to practice extreme caution when driving in school and school-bus areas until they become familiar with the new procedures.

Flashing amber signals on a school bus will now denote that a bus is preparing to stop within approximately 500 ft. to discharge or pick up passengers.

Mr. Akersley said that under the revised regulation motor vehicles may pass with caution, any school bus displaying flashing amber lights but should be prepared to stop if the signal changes to red.

Mr. Akersley accentuated that motorists travelling in either direction must stop when a stopped school bus flashes red lights front and rear. Failure to stop when required to do so, he said, carries a penalty of five demerit points — "and could lead to needless tragedy."

"Remember that careful children forget and education is necessary for their safety," he said.

The Highways Minister explained that an intensive program of public education is being launched by the Department of Education and the change in school bus regulations.

Some aspects of the educational program include publication of a school bus drivers' manual, for distribution to both school boards and bus operators.

An intensive advertising campaign will also bring the changeover to the attention of motorists via daily and weekly newspapers, radio and television.

Existing highway signs concerning school buses will be revised to carry a red tab, warning of the necessity to stop on the flashing red signal.

Mr. Akersley said that the changeover to flashing red lights will be completed by September 1.

Poetry Corner

School Days

"Good-bye, Mom," he says
As he steps out the door,
He's gone.
He's not mine any more.
With his shiny, sweet face
And his book-bag, bran new,
I just realized how fast the years flew,
When a little boy goes to school.

"No kisses, Mom, that's sissy stuff,"
So I wave as he goes on his way,
He's gone.
That's all I can say,
And I wipe away a tear
One for each year,
That a little boy
Was all mine.

Now the house is so empty,
No prattle and noise
Made by gay, happy boys,
And I'm lost.
In a world alone,
Like all mothers who own
Little boys, who go off to school.

Roll Call At Centreville

The Annual Roll Call Service for Watford and Centreville was held in the Centreville Church, Sunday evening, August 10th led by the pastor, Lic. Jackson Willett with Rev. Maxwell Spencer, a former pastor as guest speaker.

Mr. Spencer brought an inspiring message on the theme, "Building." Scripture was from Nehemiah 2:17 and Nehemiah 4:1-6 where Nehemiah and his people rebuilt the wall of Jerusalem for the people had been told that they were builders, as in Nehemiah's day and they must have a mind to rise up and work, dig deep, that the foundation be truly laid. He said they should be willing to let God clean up the rubbish and sin in their lives, and as God's love fills their hearts, then build a wall of testimony so high that it will be noticed by all.

Mr. Vincent Raymond called the roll for Watford and Centreville, a number of members and friends from the field gathered at the parsonage for a hymn sing, after which refreshments were served, a social hour was held.

The roll was called by the Clerk, Mrs. A. Dutton Sypher, who also read the responses from absent members.

Special speaker was Rev. W. Bryant, assistant General Secretary to our Atlantic Baptist Convention, who took for his theme, "Our Gospel." Taken from 11 Corinthians 4. His wife, Mrs. Bryant, sang two inspirational songs, "Ood An-swers Prayer" and "It's Real."

The offering was in the amount of $127.15.

Minister's Message

I am sitting in the living room of the "Berry Box" on "Berry Hill Farm" at Centreville, Digby County, Nova Scotia, Canada. To westerners, Nova Scotia seems a long way to go for a vacation. And, unless one travels by plane, it is a long way indeed.

In the month of October, 1945, I was on duty as a Navy Chaplain on Midway Island. Mrs. Berry and our two boys were living in Boston, Mass. A dear friend, Mrs. Bertha, sang hymns with the guitar accompaniment.

Preaches At Drive-in

On Sunday evening many of the choir of the New Tuxedo United Baptist Church attended the Overton Drive-in Church and participated in the service.

Rev. W. P. Clayton was the guest speaker. Several special hymns were sung, two duets by Mrs. Harvey Mullen and Thera Mullen and a family group. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Mullen and their three daughters, Sheila, Gaylene and Beverly, sang hymns with the guitar accompaniment.

DIGBY WATER SUPPLY GOOD

It was reported that a sewer line had been installed at the St. Patrick's Convent and that the 3rd Avenue sewer had been started and quite some pipe laid. Again vandalism and petty filling of the 30 foot trench with rocks had caused more than an hours delay of work each morning.

Amalgamation Of Boards Imminent

Mayor Glen Smith in reporting to Digby Town Council on Tuesday night on the annual meeting of the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities held at the Hotel Nova Scotia in Halifax last week said that it looks as if amalgamation of school boards in the province is imminent. He advised to go with it in the Digby area and if it is implemented, he suggested that the three Digby school boards amalgamate as a start. Amalgamation, he said, is deemed necessary for the new comprehensive program.

Mr. Smith thought that the vocational school would be the centre of the amalgamated region. Considering the fact that the Digby North students presently have to travel a total distance of 140 miles per week to vocational school, Mr. Smith felt that the Minister of Education should be approached about a vocational school for Digby County.

Questions on costs regarding amalgamated boards, Mr. Smith said that until amalgamation took place there would seem to be no way to know the break down of costs.

Regarding the amalgamation of municipal units which the mayor reported was given considerable time at the conference, he said that he did not know what zone Digby would be in as Digby is basically a fishing area and the Valley is basically agricultural.

Mr. Smith reported that the former Malcolm Baleam, Annapolis, N.S., was elected president of the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities, Mayor Fred Knapp, Yarmouth is vice-president and the Digby mayor is on the executive so the western provinces are well represented.

Also delegates to the conference from Digby town were Deputy Mayor Paul Winchester, Town Clerk Jack Whalley.

BY
Herb Warren

The Maritime Seniors' 45th Annual Tournament was played on the Pines Hotel Golf Course last Thursday through Saturday under perfect weather and course conditions with 174 entries, the largest ever. One of the highlights of the tournament was a hole-in-one on the 12 water hole by Dr. Carl Lumsden of Ken-Wo Club. What made this hole more remarkable is that Dr. Lumsden is a one-armed golfer 79 years old. So far as Club Pro Nick Nickerson is aware this is the first hole-in-one made in North America by a one-armed amateur player in tournament play.

The overall winner of the Seniors' Tournament was T. K. Stewart, of the Algonquin Club, St. Andrews, N. B. Digby Club was represented in the winner's list by Karl Young who won Class "B". Other Digby Club prize winners were John Wighlman, Chet Levy and Herb Warren.

Chet Levy had a little "worm" trouble on the 5th green the first day of play when just as he was about to hit his putt a worm stuck its head up by the ball, which threw Chet off for a second, and then pulled in again. First time Chet could blame a worm for missing a putt!

With the large number of players in the Seniors' this year extra caddies had to be found, some of whom were inexperienced. A senior after teeing off on one of the early holes asked his caddy for a club. The young fellow enquired what hole it was and on being told it was No. 7, handed him a 7 iron.

The Seniors' Tournament was marred by one accident off the course. Seniors Art Atkinson, Lunenburg, and Ken Blakeney, Halifax, with their wives, were returning to Smith's Cove after the Seniors' reception early Friday evening in Mr. Atkinson's car when it was in collision with another car at the junction of Prince William and Queen Streets. Fortunately, injuries were minor but both cars were damaged. We think a "STOP" sign at this intersection instead of the "YIELD" there might have prevented the unfortunate happening. As this is the fourth year accident at this intersection in recent years we suggest the sign now be changed to "STOP" to prevent further accidents.

At the annual meeting of the Seniors' held in the Banquet Room of the Pines, Bob Emerson, of Saint John, N. B., was elected President of the Association for 1969-70. He was announced next year's tournament will be held in St. Andrews, N. B., at the Algonquin course, August 29th - September 2nd.

The C. D. Snow Match Play Trophy was won by

by Bob McVeigh

In a sudden death game the league leading Lions defeated a very determined Merchant team by the score of 10-9, thus entering the finals in the Little League playoffs. The Lions led 9-7 going into the top of the sixth but the Merchants scored two runs on three hits before Michael Ross was called out at first. The game was tied going into the bottom of the sixth when Bob Wood for the Lions blasted a home run to centre field, well over the head of the centrefielder. Glen Hall was the winning pitcher. He allowed 9 runs on 9 hits, walked 6 and struck out 12. Jimmie Warner handled the mound chores for the Merchants, allowing ten runs and six hits, walked 3 and struck out 12. Incidentally, this was the first time that Warner pitched. More will be heard from this lad in the future. He also collected two doubles and a walk in four trips to the plate. Graham Baxter hit a home run and Mark Milbury a triple in a losing cause. Bobby Wood supplied the power for the Lions hitting two home runs, double and single in four times at bat. The Ken Slitter coached Merchants are now sidelined.

Billy Nickerson after a close round with the other finalist, Donnie Hattie.

Three Digby Golf Club members, Hedley Stark, John Langley and Hyman Webber, left early this week to play in the Dartmouth Open being held at Brighwood Golf Club. Another member, Billy Nickerson, left yesterday for Halifax to play in the Atlantic Open Pro-Am Tournament being held at Oakfield Golf Club. Good luck fellows!

Head On The First Tee: A new member of the Seniors' Tournament, after missing his first swing entering remarked, "They were right - This is a tough course."

Pro Shop Father: A Digby club member was explaining the day's game to his young son - "Today your father got to hit the ball more times than anyone else. That's one way of covering a poor round!"

Cattle entries, sheep, ponies and riding horses were entered in greater numbers than previous years. Notably down were the vegetable exhibits, but those exhibited were done attractively and were of good quality. Among the admired booths were the fine display of flowers, quilts, rugs, 4H Club exhibits and school work.

Several new entertainment features attracted visitors to the 1969 exhibition and included the pleasure horse shows, the Southville Troubadours and Fred Hight (Gramps) and his great grand daughter, Sherri Hall, and the other Hight family story of makers. The horse and pony pulls and races continued to draw spectators and the Thomas Shows commanded much attendance particularly from children. $5,000 FINE FOR WATER POLLUTION

Highlights of the Canada Water Act are that together with the provinces, the federal government would designate as a water quality management area any body of water where there is significant natural interest. Pollution of waters in such designated areas would be punishable by a fine of up to $5000 for each offence. Each day this pollution continued it would be regarded as a separate offence.

Together with the provinces or alone if necessary on inter-jurisdictional waters, the federal government would enforce water quality management programs in designated protection areas. These programs would be administered by agencies which would recommend objectives of water quality and steps to achieve these objectives. Agencies would be charged with implementing approved water quality plans. Water quality management agencies would design and operate sewage treatment facilities, collecting charges for the treatment of wastes delivered to those facilities.

Ottawa would enter into agreement with any province to establish intergovernmental committees or agencies to advise on water research, planning, management, and development, and to help coordinate and implement water quality management programs.

Together with the provinces the federal government would establish joint commissions, boards or other agencies to conduct water management programs. Such programs they would be concerned with the supply, quality, distribution and other aspects of water, a comprehensive approach to multi-purpose water resource management.

Descendant Here For Church Service

The special mid-summer memorial service of Goat Island United Baptist Church, Upper Clements, held recently when the pastor, Rev. Charles Milbury was assisted by Rev. Jose Costello retired, Malden, Mass. Mrs. Costello is a descendant of the late Israel Potter, first pastor of Goat Island Church who served the church for 40 years.

Goat Island United Baptist Church, Upper Clements, is thought derived its name from an island in the Annapolis Basin, not far from the mainland where the church stands.

The church was built in 1810 when members of the denomination decided to build a place of worship. Furnishings included box pews complete with nameplates on the doors. Regular services are no longer held.

Sunday School Picnic Held

The Sunday School department of the Smith's Cove United Baptist Church held its annual picnic on Wednesday afternoon, August 27th at John's Christian Park, South Range, under the direction of the superintendent, Clayton H. Woodman, assisted by Pastor Charles Milbury and teachers, Mrs. Charles Foster, Mrs. Geraldine Porter, Mrs. R. H. Winchester and Mrs. C. M. Woodman.

First event for the afternoon was swimming with Larry Woodman as lifeguard. Then the young people scrambled for peanuts with Paul Byson and Susan Berry emerging as pea scramblers. Badminton was also enjoyed by some of the folk as well as broad jumping where several proved their ability at long jumps.

The youth also participated in a nature walk during which they saw various species of the birch, maple and coniferous trees, an ant nest, and a "witch's broom". In a fern filled valley the young people noticed several types of moss and the sprouting type of soil on which they walked. The hikers concluded their walk by resting a few moments at the outdoor chapel site where they talked of the things they had seen, closing their observations with a short prayer and the chorus, "For God So Loved The World".

A picnic supper, served by the ladies of the Bible Class to the 44 members and guests present, brought the outing to a close.

Poetry Corner

Brambles

Oh Brambles black and juicy
Of berries, you're the King
You thrive where ferns grow weary.
O'er rocks where thorns cling.

You issue forth a challenge
As in the maze you stand
A prize you are truly
You are the iron brand.

Your essence is regal
Mysterious purple called
Your King in oldest legend
Defended, proud and tall.

BOARD WANTS COMMITMENT OF FUNDY FERRY SERVICE

Exhibition Booth Attracts Visitors

One of the new booths at the Digby County Exhibition was that of the Brookside Fur Farm Ltd., operated by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mullen. Mink mutations in violet, pink, blue, dark, and sapphire were on display. Sixty percent of all the mink sold, it is understood, is pasted because it blends with the majority of costumes.

In an interview with Mr. Mullen it was learned that forty-two percent of all the ranches in Nova Scotia are in Digby County. Licensed ranches in the province in 1969 are one hundred and twenty-seven of which fifty-three are in Digby County. In 1968 there were one hundred and twenty-eight ranches with fifty-three in Digby County, and in 1967 there were one hundred and thirty-nine ranches with fifty in Digby County.

Fifty-six percent of mink pelts marketed from Nova Scotia are raised in Digby County. In 1968 there were one hundred and six thousand, nine hundred and forty-five pelts marketed in Nova Scotia with sixty thousand, two hundred and seventy-four from Digby County. In 1967, ninety-five thousand, five hundred pelts were marketed from Nova Scotia, of which one hundred and fifty-five thousand, three hun-

Mr. Mullen said that the money of this million dollar industry is mostly new money brought into Canada, with Italy being one of the best quality buyers. Germany, he said, has come into the place of one of the high buyers this year and Montreal has jumped past New York as a market. Most of the mink are sold by

A motion at the Digby Board of Trade last Tuesday evening will get the area Board of Trade to consider their transportation committee's request to ascertain the wants of the people of Western Nova Scotia regarding the Bay of Fundy ferry service and endeavor to bring a commitment from the CFB, pertaining to the trips per day they will be making and the rates of transportation across the Bay. The information will be presented to the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Board of Trade in the form of a resolution or brief for their attention and will also be followed up by the local Board.

Two new wharves and a new ferry, it was stated at the meeting, do not guarantee that a situation similar to the past summer will not exist. There was a bottleneck in

"GERDA" CAUSES MINOR DAMAGE

Digby and vicinity got away with minor damage from the winds of "Gerda" 70 mile an hour force. Fallen trees, telephone wires, electrical wires, broken windows and some minor damage to buildings were reported. The most serious effects in Digby area were felt on Digby Neck where 15 poles down on a long Island Isolated Freepoint Exchange from the rest of the world.

Individual wire breaks also isolated Sandy Cove Exchange and interrupted 75% of the long distance line service on Weymouth Exchange.

Similar reports were received from many parts of the Southwestern Nova Scotia where the force of "Gerda" was estimated to be 70 miles an hour. In Digby, the power was interrupted. Tuesday night, Early Wednesday morning the storm had moved through Central and North-eastern parts of the province knocking more lines out. Finally, "Gerda" reached Prince Edward Island and isolated the New London Exchange before moving out of the area.

A small fire in a building which housed Mrs. Helen Thurburgh's shop in Digby was started when the winds John depend on the across-the-Bay transportation the members felt. Perishable goods have been a weekend and holiday shipping problem from Digby, members reported.

The brief of resolution which arises from the motion at the Digby Board of Trade will be forwarded to all Western Nova Scotia Boards for support and eventually to the Minister of Transport.

Dave Irvine, chairman of the Digby Board's tourist committee, reported he had met with the AVAFB committee and CFB officials to discuss the no-reservation policy of the Digby-Saint John ferry. He felt Digby was helped by the tourist car being committed to stay most of the day in Digby but advised that tourists who come to Saint John to cross the Bay should have some place to secure a ticket (he might be forced to see the car passage would be assured. He said if the CFB is set on the no-reservation policy for another year they will need to do a lot of advertising to counteract the adverse publicity and ill-feeling of the 1969 summer.

Hope To Begin Housing Soon

Mayor Glen Smith is hopeful that the two new housing projects will get underway in Digby within a matter of weeks, according to an interview on Wednesday. Further plans will proceed after a meeting Friday, as advertised in this issue of The Digby Courier.

The projects are low rental and senior citizen rentals to be built under joint ex-gratia of the federal government and the province. The projects are in the percentage of 75 and 25 respectively. Digby town has provided most of the land but changes in plans have delayed some purchases. It is understood that the projects are in the choice of places on existing sewer and water lines. The senior citizens project is to be located on King Street opposite (in general terms) the RCMP barracks. Two of the single low rental units will also be on King Street, a duplex on 3rd Avenue and two other duplexes on other streets.

The 12-unit low rental project will consist of 10 semi-detached four-bedroom units and two single detached four-bedroom units for families on low income. A 21-unit project will consist of a two-story building containing 15 one-bedroom and six bachelor units for single citizens.

Revs will be related to income. Operating deficits will be shared by the federal and provincial governments and the town. The projects will be administered by a local housing authority.

Christine Louise Dickie, B.T. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Dickie, who graduated on Sunday from the Halifax Infirmary School of Medical Technology.

Christine was also among those who successfully passed the Registered Technicians examinations set by the Canadian Society of Laboratory Technicians.

Golf Gossip

BY Herb Warren

There were no Digby Golf Club tournaments slated last weekend but about 40 members of over 300 of the Atlantic Association of Broadcasters in convention at the Pines played a convention tournament on the Pines course.

This coming Sunday, September 14th, will be the day for the Vernon Best Memorial Trophy donated recently by Wallis Print Ltd. This tournament is for both seniors and juniors and the Digby Golf Club executive committee as many members as possible will take part and hold sign the play sheet posted in the Pro Shop by midday, September 13th. Bob Winchester, who is in charge of this tournament, says flights will start at 2 P.M.

There is one hazard in golf not mentioned on the core cards and that is HORNETS! This year, they are particularly heavy everywhere and both lady and gentlemen members of Digby Golf Club have been plagued with these insects on the course. One gentleman player was stung on the eyelid and it was quite serious for him as he is allergic to insect bites. Appearance of wasps or hornets on the fairways should be reported at the Pro Shop so steps may be taken to discover the nests and eliminate them as is the practice. Speaking of hornets we recall an experience last year by a Digby Club member, Bob Morgan, who, while playing down No. 7 fairway, was stung twice in a personal place by a hornet which got up on his pantleg. Bob had to hurriedly disrobe before more damage could be done as he was being over-ruled by the referee. No, his playing companions would not allow any additional handicap strokes (aiming the happening to be a natural hazard).

Coffee at Janos

My washing machine was only three years old, and I liked it. To be sure, it had developed a battery of idiosyncrasies, but whenever it acted up a couple of washes in the right place soon showed it who was boss.

Then Eleanor, the teen-age daughter of some old friends, came to spend the summer with us. When Eleanor tried to wash her fluffy nightgowns, in my temperamental machine, it spun them around until they were tied in knots. When she washed tomboy blue jeans, it rinsed them until the water sloshed out of the mechanical monster, all over the basement floor. I had learned to live with the machine's inconveniences, but just as a dog cannot teach a man its sense of smell, I could not explain to Eleanor my instinct for when, where, and how hard to kick the washer when it did not behave.

We had been thinking for some time that it would be fun to take a little holiday some time next month, without the kids. If we did, we would have to hire someone to keep house, and if we did that, we could not expect her to cope with an intractable washing machine. Somewhat reluctantly, I called the repair man.

The repair man arrived with a little black bag which I could have sworn was filled with things like thermometers and blood pressure cuffs. He examined the machine thoroughly, and then pronounced it very sick. It would cost, he said, sixty-five dollars to repair it.

That seemed like an awful lot of money, especially just weeks before a long dreamed of holiday. I told the man to call me later, after I had talked to my husband about it.

When the repair man called back, I had good news for him. The man in my life thought sixty-five dollars was too much money to pay for having an old machine repaired. We might as well buy a new one. The eldest gentleman at the other end of the telephone line did not seem to have any doubts. The virtues of all the washing machines he had in stock. None of them was exactly what I wanted. I told him to wait a day or two while I thought it over.

By the time he called again, I had thought it through that sixty-five dollars was, a lot less than two hundred dollars, and that we may as well have the old machine repaired after all. It might last us ten more years on that much money.

"I'll come and get it tonight," the man said tightly, trying to mask his annoyance. "I'll bring along a courtesy machine for you to use while yours is out."

The courtesy machine was built in 1946. The winder does not work, and it has no pump. You have to empty it by running water out into a bucket on the floor. I had a machine almost like it, which we bought, second hand, for thirty dollars, for the first five years I was married. Now I am spoiled. It seems a colossal inconvenience. Yesterday the lever which starts the agitator stuck. I washed a line of sheets by hand.

My sister expressed my feelings exactly, when she stopped in to visit me the other day. "That," she remarked, "is not courtesy, that is revenge."

In the first game of a two out of three series the Ring coached Lions downed the Nicholson's coached Kiwanis by the score of 7-4.

Bobby Wood was the winning pitcher, he allowed four runs on two hits, struck out sixteen and walked four. Mitchell Belliveau pitched for the Kiwanis, he allowed seven runs on seven hits, struck out fifteen and walked two. He hit a home run with one on in the bottom of the sixth. The Lions collected five home runs named by two Wood and Morgan and one by Glen Hall. Philip Bess pulled off the outstanding catch of the game off the bat of Bobby Morgan in the top of the sixth.

The calibre of ball was up to play-off standards but the Kiwanis lacked the will to win. Probably, this was because they felt they were over-classed, but a game is never over until the last out.

Notes from Bird Haven

"DOC" — THE STORY OF A PURPLE FINCH

I am a Purple Finch and was named "Doc" after a neighbouring doctor who rescued me from a cat when I was a fledgling, but not before one wing had been injured so I could never fly again.

I was carried across the street to a friend who said she would try and save my eye. If it hadn't been for her tender care I would never have lived to tell this story.

She put me in a nice roomy cage with law pyrites, plenty of sand, water, and rolled sunflower seeds for me until I was big enough to shell them myself.

Things seemed very strange to me at first but I soon became used to the huge humans who tended and watched over me. One day I was taken from my cage and allowed to hop around a large room watched over by Lassie, an English Setter, who later proved to be one of my best friends.

As the summer passed I grew bolder in the garden and found my way to the rose bed where I found lots of aphids. Missy would hold me up and let me pick them right off the leaves. There was no need of spraying when I was around.

One day I hopped too far from Missy's eyes and I fell in the little pond at the end of my garden. It was a horrid experience but Missy got me in the nick of time so it taught me to keep away from that corner of the garden.

One cold day in early December Missy brought another cage with a little brown bird with a white patch under its throat which I at once recognized as a White Throated Sparrow, later named Sandy. He was very timid at first but after seeing how much at home I was, after a few days settled down to spend the winter.

Time passed quickly from then on until January and in came another boarder — this time a Baltimore Oriole. He was found trying to eat the remaining frozen grapes.

Goldie, Sandy and I got along beautifully together. Every morning when Missy cleaned our cages we were given a plate of water on the floor for a bath. The others were able to get in but I had to take mine in what the others splashed over the sides.

Our last visitor to join our happy family was a Mocking Bird. He arrived late in January. A friend of Missy's sent her meal worms from New York. These were given to us as a special treat.

We always had bread and milk for our breakfast with the family, Goldie and Micky going to the table. Sandy and I had ours in our cage. Goldie grew so bold, mind you, she drank right from the milk pitcher.

When the warmer days came Missy put little silver bracelets on Sandy, Micky and Goldie and let them fly off in the great outdoors. Goldie and Micky I never saw again but Sandy came right back in. Missy finally took him to the country where there were lots of his kind. I really thought the night he took him, he was such a dear little fellow, but he was not crippled so must be allowed his freedom.

One day I was helping do a spot of fall gardening and after visiting my pet rose bed decided to go a little further afield and finding the cellar door open felt led to see what it was like down there.

It wasn't very long before Lassie and Missy were looking for me. Lassie soon found me sitting on the wood pile. She wagged her tail as if to say at last I have found you, you runaway.

I believe I am the only little wild bird that ever visited a hospital. Matter had to be in hospital for several weeks, and I was taken in a beautiful basket to see him. I spent the time going the rounds. Everyone seemed glad to see me, but I was glad to get back in my cage. That was home to me.

This is my sixth Spring and I am growing old and like to be kept quiet.

I am sure when I go to Little Bird Haven my other pets will be waiting for me, but I am afraid they have not fared as well as I have at Bird Haven.

Aprons or diplomas?

Why don't girls just get married, the way they used to? What is this desperate thing in modern society that insists a girl must get a degree or become a nurse or learn a skill, such as punching an adding machine?

Frightened, frantic parents, with the shadow of the reputation pecking over their shoulders, are ransacking their wardrobes, with all its something they can "fall back on."

The irony, of course we want them to get married. Eventually, to a nice boy with a nice job and prospects, a nice home, nice children, a nice neighborhood and at the end, a nice pension.

But first we want them to get "education" so they'll have something to fall back on. If they do get married, they're going to be abandoned, divorced, or their husbands are going to die at 35. So they have to have something to fall back on.

Why don't we just let them get married and let their husbands for a little? My wife has been falling back on me for almost 25 years. I'm still in respectable condition. Even though my back has fallen a bit into my front, I suppose you think this is just a diatribe. Well, you're right. But there's a reason for it.

My wife and I have turned and cursed and whined and needed our daughter through high school. She hated it in Grade 11, loathed it in Grade 12, and abhorred it in Grade 13.

But by a combination of blackmail, bribery and pious whining, we made her stagger through the process.

I promised, "If you just get your Grade 13, you can do whatever you want. Go to college. Get a job. Drop dead. But you've never regretted it."

Already she's regretting it. Now she has to go to university, which she's about as much interested in as she is in catching leprosy.

This whole column is inspired (or uninspired) by the harrowing effort of getting them organized at university. She thought she might be

IN MEMORIAM

HANDSPRINGER - In loving memory of our mother, Mrs. John C. Handspinger, who passed away September 10, 1968. There is always a face before us. A voice we would love to hear. A smile we will always remember. Of a mother we loved so dear. Always remembered by daughters, Bessie and Della. 4:1p

MCCULLOUGH - In loving memory of a dear mother who passed away September 12, 1968. He suffered with courage. The face we loved so dear. We thought he would get better. But all was in vain. And so God took him. To His garden of rest. And is true what they say. He takes only the best. Always remembered by daughter Beulah, Jimmie and family. 4:1p

RYAN - In loving memory of our father, Mr. Fred Ryan, who passed away September 21, 1968. He has gone across the River To the shores of evergreen. But the river flows between. Some day time our eyes shall see. The face we loved so dear. Some day will clasp his loving hand. And never say farewell. Always remembered by his wife and children Edith, Daisy, Josephine, Sanford, Arnold, Stanley, Tommy and the grandchildren, Clifford, Ray and Billy. 4:1p

ROBICHEAU - In loving memory of our son and brother, Reginald Robicheau who passed away Sept. 12th, 1968. You have gone across the river. To the shore of evergreen. But the river lies between. Jesus met you by the river. Gladly took you by the hand. But you came and live forever. Over in that promised land. When the roll is called up yonder. And this life on earth is o'er. There will meet you some glad morning. Over on that golden shore. Always remembered by Mom, Dad, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Robicheau, brothers, Teddy, Nelson and Ed, sisters Viola and Evelyn. 4:1p

RICE - In loving memory of a dear husband, father and grandfather, Gordon, who passed away Sept. 15th, 1967. We miss you more than anyone. As each day passes the emptiness grows. The tears in our eyes we can wipe away. But the ache in our hearts will always stay. Lovingly remembered and sadly missed, wife Blanche, daughters Carol and Sheila and family. 4:1p

FROST - In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. Gerald Frost, who passed away Sept. 8, 1968. Nine years have passed since that sad day. God called my loving mother away. I loved her then, I love her now. And only God can show me how. To live my life the best I can. Till I can meet with her again. Ever remembered and sadly missed by daughter Ann (Flynn), Bishop's Falls, Nfld. 3:1p

DO NOT PASS WHEN RED LIGHTS FLASHING

This year the all-important flashing STOP lights are red. In accordance with the revised Motor Vehicle Act, some 1300 school buses have had the familiar amber flashers replaced with red flashing lights. But to make doubly sure there will be flashing amber lights, too. These amber lights will signal that the school bus is preparing to stop within approximately 500 feet. You may pass the bus when the amber lights are flashing, but you are warned to do so with utmost caution.

When those flashing red lights come on — STOP! Failure to do so will carry a penalty of 5 demerit points.

Evening Courses

Who can enroll

Any adult regardless of age, residence, previous schooling or experience may enroll in the courses listed.

What is the cost

For most courses, there is no fee. For non-academic courses, there may be a small charge. Costs of courses are shown by the school board and the Department of Education, and sometimes by a sponsoring organization.

When & where to register

Registration for most courses will be during the week of September 15th and will be held at the school conducting the course. Further information as to time and duration of courses, etc., will be available when registering.

If you don't see what you want, ask for it

The course you want to take may not be listed as available near your home. Go to the local administrator of evening classes and tell him what you are looking for. Others may also be asking for this course.

If ten people want it, and a teacher is available, the course can probably be arranged.

You may find, looking over this listing, that there are no evening classes for adults within reasonable distance of where you live. Again, "if you don't see what you want, ask for it." Ask your school inspector, or your High School principal, or a member of your school board.

It could be that your school board is waiting for a sign of interest from you and your neighbors.

There is always the possibility, too, that the course you want is being offered this year, but that it was not arranged in time to be listed here.

General Education Development Tests

I. What are GED Tests?

General Education Development Tests, high school level batteries, consist of five comprehensive examinations: English, Social Studies, Natural Sciences, Literature and Mathematics. The tests have been constructed somewhat differently from the usual school achievement tests, which measure the immediate objectives of instruction of specific facts and ideas. The GED Tests have been designed to measure as directly as possible the attainment of some of the major objectives of the secondary school program of general education. The emphasis is on intellectual power rather than detailed content; on demonstration of competence in using major conceptualizations, concepts, and ideas, and on ability to comprehend exactly, evaluate critically, and to think clearly about concepts and ideas. Approximately two hours are required to complete each test; however, no time limits are imposed.

II. Who is Eligible?

Any person who has been a resident of Nova Scotia for at least six months, has reached nineteen years of age and out of school at least one full academic year. Previous high school enrollment is not required, but the school classes of students who last a member, must have graduated. This simply means that if the candidate has been in school for at least seven, the class of which he was a member, must have graduated. The candidate is required to furnish proof of his last year in school.

Many people who have been out of school for a long time, but who have not graduated, may be eligible.

III. How to Apply:

Application forms may be obtained from anyone of the six regional offices of Continuing Education, Department of Education, and if the eligibility qualifications are acceptable, the candidate will be duly advised as to time and place for taking the test. An administration fee of $2.00 is payable at the time of applications. This fee is not refundable.

IV. When are Tests Given?

The tests will be administered in an appropriate center when a guidance counsellor who is qualified to administer the test is available and when a sufficient number (minimum of 10) of applications have been received. Satisfactory identification must be presented at the time of application and at the time of examination. The identification will have a specimen of the applicant's signature which will be verified with signing of the roster at the time of the testing.

If a person who fails one or more tests, enrolls in a course or course, he may retake the GED Tests immediately in completion of satisfactory completion of the course.

V. Why?

It is recognized that many of the adults who did not finish high school may have acquired through formal and informal educational experiences, an educational maturity at or above the level of high school. They are designed to help determine the level.

The candidate who successfully passes these tests will be awarded an appropriate certificate by the Minister of Education. Certificates will be awarded to those achieving at or above the standard levels. Those who achieve at the Grade 11 and 12 level will be awarded a diploma.

In the United States, the equivalency certificates are widely accepted in lieu of a high school diploma. It is expected that employers, high education institutions, trade union programs in Nova Scotia will accept the certificates. Negotiations are currently being carried on with a number of these institutions to facilitate the program.

Especially for Homemakers

Home Sewing is the most widely offered and popular course offered by the Adult Education Program. The purpose of the course is to teach women, and give them practice in, sewing skills so that they will be able to sew for themselves and their families.

The course provides an opportunity for each student to complete at least one garment and teaches women how to buy economically the materials and sewing accessories they need. The course is designed to be completed in 30-40 hours. It must be commenced, sewing is taught one evening a week, for two hours an evening for 15 to 20 weeks.

Typing and Bookkeeping

Beginning typing and elementary bookkeeping courses have been provided to be rewarding to homemakers. These are not vocational courses in that they are not designed to qualify the student for employment. They are meant to provide an adult with skills for his or her personal use in letter-writing and keeping family accounts. Vocational courses, which are designed to provide opportunities for adults to improve their positions in their present occupations or to gain employment in a business office are also available. Students registering for typing courses should be aware of this difference and be sure they register for the course which will best fulfill their purpose.

New Math for Parents

This is a non-credit course offered in response to requests from baffled parents. It is designed to teach parents the principles and methodology of "New Math" so that they are competent to assist their children with home work.

Conversational French

In the Spring of 1966, the Curriculum Committee made a survey of text books and supplementary materials being used by teachers of evening classes in Conversational French. Some of these materials and methods known are being used in these classes. "New Math" is being used in these classes. This information is available for all teachers of Conversational French in adult classes.

"GERDA" LIFTS COLLEGE ROOF

Half the roof was torn off the new wing at College Anne, Church Point, last week "Gerda" whirled her mightiest.

Sinclair Thibodeau saw the roof raise to a height of ten feet, drop down again only to be raised again to even higher when another terrific gust grabbed the raised roof, twisting and turning it until it broke loose.

Flying through the air, borne by high winds, it drifted over to the wooden building, hit the eaves, gashing a hole, blowing off the shingles on the awning as it plucked towards the south end to come crashing to the ground in a heap on the tennis court.

A large chimney cap, made of concrete, approximately four to five feet square, was also hurled to the ground. The mass of wreckage of what was once about half the roof, was dumped ungraciously in practically one spot.

The huge wooden cross in the cemetery, which marked the site of the second and third churches built at Church Point, broke and was thrown to the ground.

The Little Brown Fire Department stood by as it was dangerous for fire breaking out from electrical wires which could have been broken when the roof was being wrestled from its moorings by the gale.

Makes Extensive Tour Of Europe

Miss Margaret Prime, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Prime, Prepost, returned on August 18th from Europe. Miss Prime, who is a graduate of Acadia University, spent months touring the British Isles and continental Europe. Accompanied by several friends she sailed on May 12th from Montreal on the Friends of England. Several days were spent travelling through England and Germany in London, Berlin, Paris, travelled by car through Spain, stopping at Madrid and Barcelona. They spent a week of sun on the French Riviera before moving on to Italy. While in Rome they visited the Colosseum, Roman Forum, Sistine Chapel, St. Paul's Basilica and many other attractions. They visited Paris, Austria, Switzerland and Germany. In Switzerland they enjoyed a stay in the most beautiful region, where they reported the scenery was breathtakingly beautiful.

Married 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith have been living in Digby and vicinity for the past thirty years, coming here from Church Point, Digby County. They were married in the Saint-John's Roman Catholic Church just 36 years ago on September 28th.

Mrs. Smith was the former Chantal LeBlanc, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. LeBlanc of Saint-John's. Mr. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John LeBlanc Smith, Saint-John's. Their attendants were the bride's cousin, Selena Fournier, now Mrs. Leo DeLoe, and the groom's brother, Derome Smith. The bride and groom of 50 years have seven living children, three daughters and four sons. Only one, Joseph D. Fournier, was able to be here for the anniversary.

After a most enjoyable trip.

In other areas of the parish flying broken branches, flying out houses or other short distance above the house were hurled by the heavy winds. A dog house owned by Norbert Cousens, of Conception, sailed in the air as if it had a jet engine, hovered overhead for a short spell before continuing on its journey. At the time a young man was in the house and the dog house was not far from the house. It, as well as luck would have it, went along unharmed.

Windows were broken in some sections by flying debris. In other areas of Clare, hydro poles were broken, wires broken disrupting power lines which got in its way.

For about five hours during the night, in Meteghan, a house under construction in Meteghan South had the platform with the frame rise and put in place by the hurricane "Gerda", which hovered over the telephone poles before crashing down on the highway, breaking telephone lines which got in its way.

Executives of the West Nova Scotia Regimental Association which held its 20th annual reunion at Digby on Labor Day weekend, which proved to be the most successful reunion in years. GERALD A. REGAN ADDRESSES ARCHITECTS AT MOUNTAIN GAP

Members of the architectural profession should take a more active part in public affairs, suggested Gerald A. Regan, Nova Scotia Liberal leader, in an address at the annual fall meeting of the Nova Scotia Association of Architects at the Mountain Gap Inn at Sault's Cove near Digby.

Mr. Regan said he would like to see architects do more to put forward their profession and participate more in the democratic process.

He noted that at a time when a "sickling" proportion of the capital expenditures of public monies involves matters that were the essence of the architectural profession, the architects' association could be more active in making representations to governments.

Architects, Mr. Regan said, seemed to be particularly in their involvement directly and indirectly in public life. He said also that there were no architects among the federal members from the province.

Mr. Regan said it was his opinion the architectural profession in the Maritimes has kept a good public image and its members were well respected. He said the architectural profession had also kept a high percentage of its members in the area.

Many potential clients were turning to developers rather than architects, it was noted, because these clients were unaware they could secure the same service on a professional basis from architects.

Tenders Within Few Days For Public Housing Project

Building contractors, electricians, plumbers, suppliers, excavators approximately twenty in all, from Digby, Belliveau, Cape, Church Point, Yarmouth, Annapolis Royal, Bridgewater and points between who gathered at the Digby Town Council chambers on Thursday afternoon were informed that the Nova Scotia public housing in Digby may be called within ten days.

The meeting was called by Mayor Glen Smith and presided over by Mr. Smith. Present for the meeting were P. J. Osborne and John Robinson of Central Mortgage and Housing and Laurie S. Lake from the Nova Scotia Housing Commission. The purpose of the meeting was to acquaint contractors and representatives of trades with the planned thirty-three units of public housing before tenders are called and give them an opportunity to ask questions about aspects of the proposed construction.

Mr. Osborne explained that two tenders are expected to be called. The first will be for the family units or low rental units and the second tender will be for the senior citizens home.

The low rental will consist of twelve units, semi attached to scattered locations. Four are to be on King St., four back of King and Third Avenue and four on another Third Avenue location. The senior citizens home is also proposed for King Street.

An all inclusive contract is expected for the construction of the twelve units and will include grading and trees. Mr. Osborne showed plans of the site, the contours and elevations, the fencing, flower beds and windows etc. and types of materials, all of which are standard usage. Each family will have a separate meter and separate utility. The heating is to be oil fired forced air heating.

Mayor Glen Smith made a plea that as many as possible local people be employed in the construction. Mr. Osborne also stated that while there is federal or national money involved they, too, like to have local people employed in the jobs where possible.

Digby "In The Red" In Blood Bank

Preparations are under way for Digby's semi-annual fall Blood Donor Clinic, to be held at the Lions Club Hall on Friday, September 26th, from 24 in the afternoon and 69 in the evening. Plans are finalized by the District chairman, E. B. Tufts, following a recent visit to Digby by Roy Miller, Director of Red Cross Blood Donor Panels in Nova Scotia. The Digby Clinic will complete the week's schedule for the Red Cross Blood Donor Panels in Nova Scotia.

On these four clinics will depend the entire supply of blood for Nova Scotia hospital patients and accident victims for the ensuing week, and that will require on the average about 1,100 pints.

view, "Blood," he said, "can only be supplied by a volunteer donor, and without sufficient donors, lives may be lost. The need for blood is therefore becomes literally a matter of life and death."

Records obtained from the Digby General Hospital show the Digby area to be badly "in the red" in relation to blood. In 1968, a total of 659 pints have been used, indicating an increased total for the entire year. In addition, the Red Cross also supplied the Hospital with R.H. Immune Globulin. On the credit side, only 470 pints of blood were donated in the two Red Cross clinics held in 1968, leaving a deficit of one hundred pints to be made up by other parts of the Province. This year's spring clinic obtained 216 pints, but it is necessary to have a very generous response for this Clinic. If the 1969 deficit is not to be even greater than that of last year.

The variety of uses for the volunteer donor's pint of blood is well explained in a bulletin issued by the Red Cross under the heading "More Medicine Would Not Be Possible Without Blood Donations". It goes on to list the following:

1. Fresh from the head to the foot, blood is used in the treatment of blood diseases. 2. Cryoprecipitate, containing blood clotting factors. 3. Packed red cells, for some types of anemia. 4. Platelets, vital in the treatment of leukemia. 5. Gamma globulin, used to combat some infectious.

About This and That

GED

What have you done during the years since you left school? Did you marry? Raise a family? Did you see those children through their grammar school, high school and on to university? Did you try, like many parents we know, to help those children through their educational problems even though you had far less schooling than your child? If so you had been educating yourself without knowing it.

Have you enjoyed reading since your last formal year at school? Did you job require some studying on your own? Some reading? Have you been associating with well read or educated persons? Have you joined clubs and organizations which required some research or writing on your part? Any of these were educating you to educational advantages and you were absorbing knowledge unknowingly.

Have you listened to radio, watched T.V. or read the daily and weekly newspapers and magazines? You were educating yourself then.

So if you left school at Grade IV or Grade VII or any other grade you might now be educated to a Grade VIII, Grade IX or X or XI standard. Who knows?

Who knows? If you don't know you can find out by GED.

And what is GED? Two large advertisements in last week's issue of The Digby Courier (September 11) explained the General Education Development Tests. They are tests to show what grade you are equivalent to at present though you might not have achieved so high a standard when you really were going to school. As we tried to make clear above, many adults who did not finish high school may have acquired by now through either formal or informal education and experience a higher understanding a higher education than their school certificate indicates. The GED tests help to determine what level of grade you now have.

By paying $2.00 you can apply for these tests. When you have found your present level of education there are numerous adult evening classes available to further improve your grade.

The day has come when an education is paramount to life. Education no more ends in childhood or at teenage as in former years. Adults must continue to be educated to keep up with demanding jobs, for advancement, for higher "educating for living" or making life more worthwhile by enjoyable creative pursuits and self-fulfillment.

There are numerous courses which can be undertaken through the Nova Scotia Adult Education courses or vocational schools. For those interested in upgrading their academic qualifications there is the whole gamut from basic education to university, preparatory or matriculation. For individuals needing or wanting to learn, or to improve work, or vocational skills there are the vocational subjects such as home sewing, office practice, typing, engineering, carpentry and others. For the adults desirous of getting acquainted with or pursuing the cultural areas of learning there are such as painting, music, drama, etc.

Should you have mislaid your Courier from last week, we do have some overruns to accommodate you. Or, why not contact John R. Doucet, Regional Representative, Continuing Education Program, Department of Education, Provincial Building, Yarmouth, N.S., and get further information on the Adult Evening courses which are offered. We understand our neighboring counties are far ahead of Digby County in taking advantage of the tests.

Hodge Podge

— For the benefit of business in Digby sign that form from the Maritime Telephone and Telegraph Co. for extended telephone service. What you pay extra on your telephone bill you might save on taxes if Digby and area has improved business conditions. Use the schools, recreation and other services. Improved telephone services attract business. This is over and sign as your conscience dictates.

— It pleases us to learn that traffic stops when school buses flash red lights and traffic is cautioned by the amber lights. This is much more in consistency with the general traffic. The amber stop lights were often confused with amber caution lights on other vehicles. It is in consistency, too, with general caution lights and the usual stop lights. Of course, habit is a difficult thing to break and those of us who found it difficult to get accustomed to stopping for an amber light on a school bus must now be re-educated.

— Never mind having someone ask for one of those pamphlets on the Digby scallops with a sort Digby historical sketch. Therefore we are happy to send one to Pete Martinez way down there in Florida. Don't know how he found out about them to request one. Some other tourists, maybe, told him.

— Having heard complaints about fish dinners in Nova Scotia not being served often and not cooked well, we've been trying them out. The two fish dinners we had at the Pines were excellent, so were the scallops at Fundy View and way down at the Milford House, the fillet of sole was well prepared. We visited another dining room last week where fillet of sole was on the menu. All we can say is that if the fish was as good as the chicken nobody could complain.

— It definitely pays to advertise in the Courier a store keeper told us last week. He went on to say how many of a certain item he had sold and everyone mentioned they had seen the advertisement in The Digby Courier.

— Sounds to us like a sound idea. Paul Longmore suggests the revival of boat excursion trips between Bridgetown and Digby as an added tourist attraction in the summer. With a lot of good advertising we are inclined to think there would always be a ready crowd and tourist.

— Haven't heard, so far, about that meeting to be called for discussion of a swimming pool. Smaller towns and villages than Digby have supported such a project and kept the children healthily employed for the summer. (No restrictions to just children, of course.) Larger towns than Digby also got into swimming pool sponsorship problems. Organizations live and die. They are here and gone. Our sponsorship suggestion is that the town remains forever.

— It pays to advertise in The Digby Courier. Our tourist friend has his lower set of dentures following a Lost and Found advertisement in the Courier.

TOPS Penalty A Pig

The Digby T.O.P.S. Club has resumed regular meetings at the Digby Mental Health Clinic on Thursdays at eight o'clock, having held brief weigh-in meetings over the summer months.

The Club consists of a Leader, Co-Leader, Weight Recorder, Treasurer and Secretary and is limited to 20 members. Each meeting is opened by a weigh-in and those who have gained since the previous week are penalized by a fine of 25c, while those who stay the same are fined 5c. (By the way, each person who has gained is required to wear a paper tag pinned on their clothing for the remainder of the meeting.) Those who stay the same wear a "turkey" and those who have lost some weight wear a "red ribbon."

After the brief business meeting the Programme Committee takes up the evening's enjoyable events have been spent by the group exchanging recipes, discussing modelling, paper hats, exercising, etc. On some occasions the club has been treated by guest speakers. They included Dr. N. Birrell, and Mrs. Irene Smith, Area Supervisor.

At an Area Meeting held at Digby this summer Mrs. Irene Smith spoke to a group of members of TOPS Clubs from Bridgetown, Annapolis, Sackvilleville and Digby.

TOPS is an International Club and is open to men, women and children of all ages.

Our Queen of the Summer who was crowned at the meeting on September 1st, weighed 12 pounds for the month of July and August and a total of 31 pounds since the group started on April 26th, 1959.

Anyone who is interested is welcome to drop in at one of our meetings.

Striving To Correct Imbalance

"Managers and staff of Canada Manpower Council throughout the Atlantic Region are striving to correct the imbalance between skills available and skills in demand," John P. LeBlanc, Director of Manpower Operations, said here today.

"This is particularly true in the managerial, professional, and technical categories," Mr. LeBlanc stated, "including such fields as science, engineering, education, medicine, law, industrial arts, administration, management, and technology. We have no difficulty in getting orders for this type of talent but we don't have as many of them registered with local CMCs as we would wish."

All Canada Manpower Centres in the Atlantic Region are reviewing their placement service in the managerial, professional, and technical categories in an effort to correct any imbalance in the local labour market.

"What we are endeavouring to do is to attract more of these highly qualified clients to meet increasing demands, and decrease the percentage of hard-to-place and unskilled clients," he said with us.

"We are also trying to improve the education and skills standards of the region's labour force through our Occupational Training for Adults Program. In the 1960-70 fiscal year, roughly 37 million dollars will be spent by the federal government on O.T.A. training and living allowances for trainees. However, the demand for highly qualified people is critical and we are taking steps to try to meet—and match—this demand."

Technical support and assistance is provided to the CMCs in this area of employment development by the Employment Development Section of the region's Technical Services Branch, Regional Office, Halifax.

Let's Reminisce

September 14, 1894 —

One of history's frequent repetitions appears to include last year's water crisis. The following item appeared in the Digby Weekly Courier seventy-five years ago.

"Let every rate payer who has the welfare and prosperity of the town at heart attend the important meeting to be held on Saturday 22nd, to take into consideration the best possible means for procuring the long-felt-of Water Supply. The question is a vital and important one, and the necessity of a water system for this town has never been more seriously felt than during the past summer months. Let there be but one voice in the matter, and let the verdict be in favor of the privilege enjoyed by all other towns in the province, viz., an abundance of pure and wholesome water."

September 18, 1919 —

The Digby County Exhibition was scheduled for 25th and 26th, in honor of this some advertisers declared special prices, while others offered competition prizes at the exhibition, or an invitation to visit their booth. A news comment stated, "There is every indication of having a record attendance at the exhibition here next Thursday and Friday. We are informed that a large number of exhibitors have already been extended and that all the available booth space has been taken up."

All looked well for the Exhibition — but if you were a tax delinquent you had other concerns. This notice appeared in the classified section:

"All the councillors of the Municipality of Digby are urged to see that the collectors in their various districts GET BUSY at once. Warden"

September 14, 1944 —

School expansion was in its infancy a quarter century ago when St. Pat's made the news.

"The new St. Patrick's School informally opened on Monday of this week with 121 pupils registered for regular school classes and 12 registered for commercial courses. The formal opening and dedication of the new school will be held on Thanksgiving Day, October 9, when the building will be opened for public inspection."

Those were the days when wartime regulations figured predominantly in headlines, as indicated by excerpts from the same issue of the Courier.

"The Digby Board of Trade at their meeting in the Town Hall Tuesday evening, passed a resolution requesting the town council to petition the federal government to revert to standard time during the winter months. In the discussion which took place over the matter it was pointed out that in the winter season 'daylight time' imposed a definite hardship for many, particularly to the school children in the rural areas."

H. J. Campbell, superintendent of the Digby County Power Board, stated that going back to standard time for the winter months would not seriously affect the load on the hydro system."

And —

"Nova Scotia has become 'used car-minded.' War-time Prices and Trade Board officials declared woefully last month as countless inquiries regarding all aspects of new regulations governing sale and distribution came from hundreds of prospective buyers and district dealers."

Most disappointed of those who sought information were car owners who have purchased a used car since December 31, 1943, they will not be eligible for another car until January 1, 1945, unless their present car is destroyed or stolen."

The article goes on to describe regulations governing tradings, price ceilings, advertising — "Individuals who advertise a car for sale are required to indicate the year, make, model, serial number, accessories, as well as the owner's name and address, with the price asked."

Mrs. Trask Entertains WMS

The monthly meeting of the Little River W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. L. M. Trask, assisted by Mrs. Rupert Trask, vice president presiding. Nine members were present.

Following the roll call with such number responding to a spiritual verse containing the word Praise, a duet entitled "Wonderful Word" was sung by Mrs. Alaney Tidd and Mrs. Edgar Trask. An article, "Missionaries in Bolivia" was read by Mrs. Leo Trask, followed by prayer by Mrs. Alaney Tidd.

Plaintiff Mrs. Lindsay Raymond.

A social hour was enjoyed with refreshments served by the hostesses assisted by her sister, Mrs. Royce Edger.

Coffee at James

My husband is a romantic gentleman, with a delightful habit of presenting me with little gifts for real occasions, imagined occasions, or for no occasions at all. Once, after he had been away for a weekend, it was three red roses. A couple of times, the florist has arrived at the door of an evening, carrying an armful of roses. Sometimes his gift has been an absurd story, or a poem, or he has written, or copied because he thought I might like it.

The last time I was away for a weekend, my good husband presented me, when I got back, with a cookbook. This is no ordinary cookbook. It is hardly likely to keep me in the kitchen turning out Quoque or Coq au Vin.

My new cookbook is called the NORTHERN COOKBOOK. It is edited by Eleanor A. Ellis, illustrated by James Simykins, and published by the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development. It is paper bound, and costs $3.50. My husband bought it in Saint John, because it must be sold purely as a tourist item, because, as a cookbook of the North, it takes itself very seriously indeed.

Who in Saint John, for instance, or Digby, is going to cook Roast Prime Ribs of Sweetgrass Buffalo this week? or Elkburgers? or Stuffed Moose Heart?

Some of the recipes read as if they might be pretty good. Moose Sukiyaki, which calls for 1½ pounds of moose steak, salt, oil, soy sauce, mushrooms, onions, green peppers, and garlic, might be quite nice. So might Ragout of Duck, the ingredients of which include, beside ten pounds of duck, half a cup of brandy and three cups of dry red wine. My somewhat gastronomically conservative stomach, however, turns slightly at the thought of Michigan Special, the first ingredient of which is one muskrat. I cannot say I find the thought of Seal Brains au Gratin, Lynx Stew, or Jellied Moose Nose exactly appalling either.

Four of the book's twelve chapters are directly devoted to cooking wild game animals, birds, fish, and sea mammals. Chapter XII is called Hunting in the Northwest Territories and a Summary of the Northwest Territories Game Regulations. Chapter XI is called Pointing. "If you don't have a bent straw for a stick in bend partridge to use the sport of a teapot substitutes nicely," I think I'd have to be pretty sick to drink from the spout of a teapot.

"Whenever possible," the chapter on meal planning advises, "use foods that are available locally, rather than ones which have to be shipped in. 'Seal liver,' it assures us, "is just as tasty as calves liver when properly prepared."

The Northern Cookbook does offer some hope to any of us southerners who might wish to become southerners. The appendix lists all that we may use beef as a substitute for buffalo, caribou, deer, elk, moose, reindeer or venison. (I thought deer and venison were the same thing.) If we do not happen to have lynx on hand, we may use seal.

I have not tried any of the recipes yet, but I intend to, even if it is on a day when I am temporarily out of muskrat, rabbit, squirrel or woodcock, and I have to use chicken instead.

Once Excursions To Digby

The steamship Valinda, a freighter between Bridgetown, N.S. and Saint John, N.B., before World War I used to make excursion trips between Digby and Bridgetown in the summer months. The Valinda had been operated by Paul Longmore.

As an added present time tourist attraction, Mr. Longmore would like to see the excursions or some boating cruise white-oiled to The Digby. He also suggests more model facilities in the area.

Mr. Longmore is in the real estate business.

Huge Puff Ball

Ever see a puff ball to weigh several pounds. No exaggerations. It was weighed on the Courier scales for proof.

When Mrs. Lily Small, of Central Grove on Long Island, Digby County brought this huge white object to The Digby Courier on Friday, the first impression was "a great big puff ball." She had to take some time to convince the staff that it was a seven pound puff ball and she had never seen one like it before. Around the circumference measurement was forty-five inches.

Visita Daughter

Philip G. Shaw of Atkinson, New Brunswick, has returned to his home after spending a week with his daughter, Mrs. R. M. Winchester, Mr. Winchester and family.

Mr. Shaw is no stranger to Nova Scotia and Canada. He is a native of Bangor, Maine, but moved to Sudbury, Ont., in 1880 when he was four years old, and the next year to North Bay, Ont., where his father was an engineer on the Canadian Pacific Railway. He returned to the states following graduation from high school and resided in Medford, Mass., before retiring from Southern Railway Company, Boston, and moving to New Hampshire. He now lives with his other daughter, Mrs. Walter Fingree in Atkinson, N.B. His son, Richard E. Shaw, lives in Bow N.H.

In 1957 Mr. Shaw accompanied his daughter, Phyllis Winchester on several trips to Smith's Cove while renovation work was being done on the home of Mr. and Mrs. Winchester. While here on this visit he enjoyed visiting in several homes and renewing old friendships made during his previous trip. He motored to Halifax with the family and visited Halifax Island.

In earlier times the mail was delivered only once a year in the Arctic. Today, mail delivery takes place once a week in most of the Yukon and Northwest Territories.

Golf Gossip

BY Herb Warren

The rains have put the Pines Hotel Golf Course in wonderful playing condition for various tournaments just played and yet to be played.

Four tournaments were played over last week end:

The play for the Joe Turnbull Memorial Trophy was won by Bill Gentry, of the Cornwallis section of Digby Golf Club. Runner-up was Tim Collins.

The Ladies' 9 Hole Tournament for the Digby Golf Club was won by Florence Snow, who took the Low Gross. Low Net was won by Tietle Dakin.

The Vernon Bent Memorial Trophy for Low Net Senior-Junior play was won by the team of Sherman Rice, Senior, and Gary Dunn, Junior, by a wide margin. Congratulations follows -- with a Low Net of 142 you certainly outdistanced the field.

With the golf season drawing to a close the remaining tournaments on the calendar have to be run off over the next two weekends. This weekend will see the all-member 36 Hole Medal Play Handicap Tournament for the Digby Golf Club championship, with the winner taking the J. B. Prince Trophy. Also, this weekend the Jack Brittain Tournament for Left Hand Players will be played. Jack will be missed winning his own trophy last year, by one stroke -- watch him go this year!

Digby Club Pro Nick Nickerson reminds all members that the Clubhouse and Pro Shop will close September 30th this year (latest event). However, play will be permitted on the Pines Course until the end of October.

Pro Shop Patron Pro Nick says the old rule that everything that goes up must come down does not necessarily apply to golf handicaps!

Heard Sunday on the First Tee: "I suppose we should not have gone golfing today -- we should have gone to church this morning." "I couldn't have gone to church this morning anyway, Russ, the wife is very sick!"

New Concept R.C. Parish Missions

Catholic parishes in the Valley Decey are planning a renewal project new to Maritime areas this autumn.

In past years, the custom existed of holding Parish Missions, each parish in its own calling in special preachers every few years, and for several days running. Special services would be held, with the accent on the preaching, and the object being a renewal in the Christian commitment of the parishioners.

More recently in some places, avenues for dialogue, such as discussion groups, question and answer periods, for example, of visual aids, etc., have been incorporated into these sessions. The need for this has become especially great since the general renewal in the church since the Vatican Council because of an element of misunderstanding connected with certain of the changes.

This October, such a renewal program is being planned on an area scale. Ten parishes will conduct it simultaneously, with the aid of a team of four parishes. It will last for three weeks and each parish will have two evenings each week of talks, discussion, question-and-answer periods. In addition, each parish will have a special day for youth, and an annual youth rally for the entire Valley will be held in connection with the program.

Some parishes will begin preparing a month ahead of time, by the use of "Reflection groups", i.e., discussion groups studying some of the topics to be dealt with when the area mission begins. At a recent meeting of representatives from participating parishes, some of the topics were suggested, such as Man and the Image of God, Faith in a Changing World, Marriage and the Family, Freedom and Responsibility, Hope in Our Times, The Church and Society, Changes in the Church. Other suggestions may be incorporated into the program.

The area renewal begins on October 13th.

Child Boasts Of Fifth Generation

Mrs. Lucy Turnbull, Digby received word of the birth in British Columbia of her great granddaughter. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Turnbull's daughter, (Betty) Mrs. Fred Taylor, Port Moody, B.C., formerly of Digby.

The new baby can boast of being the fifth generation living on its father's side of the house and made the British Columbia papers because of its achievement.

George had a son, Robert who became Sir Robert Digby. Robert married Lettie Fitz Gerald. She was left a widow and was made Baroness Offaly on the same day her son Robert, was made Baron Digby of Gashill. Lady Offaly's great grandson, William, fifth Lord Digby, inherited Sherborne Castle.

William's eldest son died and his grandson, Edward, died a bachelor, but Edward had a brother Henry, who had a son Edward and a daughter Charlotte. This Edward is Lord Digby and Lord Lieutenant of Dorset but had died in 1956, unmarried.

Lady Charlotte's son, George, a nephew of Edward, inherited Sherborne Castle. This George Winfield took the additional name of Digby and in 1959-60 restored Sherborne.

A nephew, John Winfield died in 1888, leaving a son John Kenelm Digby, who had a son, Frederick James Kenelm Winfield Digby. Frederick's son, Simon Winfield Digby, born 1910, is now owner of Sherborne. He has been represented Dorset West in parliament since 1941.

No one has lived in the castle for 10 years, but it is open for public inspection. The Guide to the Castle reveals the Digby estate, portraits and beautiful furniture which can be seen at the castle. All these are described in detail but The Digby by Courier is hopeful of some first hand information which will describe the castle at a later date.

That Dahlia Only A Dwarf

Ott. T. Hubley, Halifax has written to say that the seven foot dahlia reported in the Courier by Percy Weir is "only a dwarf". He has one in his back yard which is over 10 feet tall.

Mr. Hubley, manager at the Halifax Publishing Co., where the Twin City Review is printed, sent along pictures to prove his statement and says that back in 1964 he had 600 dahlias in his garden. The ten foot measurement can be vouched for by Mr. Hubley's daughter (Dorcas) Mr. Richard Leys, of Digby, who helped to measure the dahlia plants.

OUR SYMBOL...

The Continuing Education Symbol is based on the four above symbols. These four symbols were used from ancient times to the Middle Ages. It was designed to identify and communicate the importance of the symbol of life long learning.

"... All citizens should have reasonable access to any part or level of the system at any time in his life and with reasonable convenience to his circumstances." This was the main proposal for the educational system and adults in a White Paper put out by the Canadian Association for Adult Education in 1964. The School Boards in Nova Scotia in cooperation with the Continuing Education Program of the Department of Education have not by any stretch of the imagination fully accomplished this recommendation, but it's coming. Last year 61 Boards named 104 administrators of adult education programs. The approximate registration in this growing program was 20,000 adults.

The number and variety of subjects and courses offered in the various programs covered a most interesting spectrum. For those interested in upgrading their academic qualifications there was the whole gamut from basic education to university preparatory or matriculation. For individuals needing or wanting to learn, or to improve work, or vocational skills there were the vocational subjects such as: home sewing, office practice, typing, stationery, steam engineering, carpentry and others. For the adults desirous of getting acquainted with or pursuing the cultural areas of learning there were basic and more advanced courses in the arts and crafts — music, painting, writing, drama, weaving, silver jewellery, embroidery and ceramics.

People enrolled in these courses for all kinds of purposes. Some wanted to satisfy a need to be creative and self-fulfilled. Others wanted to improve their possibilities for employment. Another number wanted to better their present position. Some of the parents wanted to learn enough to be able to help their children with their school work. Then again others wanted to learn skills and get knowledge to help them in their functions as citizens and members of communities.

The year 1969-70 is going to be even a bigger year for the Continuing Education Program in the province. Programs are sponsored and organized by the school boards in each area. $8.00 Per Week - Regional Library Underway

The brochure on Millford House at South Millford possibly dates back to the early 1900's, if not earlier. A. D. Thomas was proprietor. Advertised in the brochure was "terms, eight dollars per week (families by agreement) or $1.50 per day for each person. Wood for open fires in cabins would be charged for extra and the exclusive use of a canoe or boat would cost $2 per week to costs. For fishing trips the proprietor would provide each sportsman with a guide, board for both, tent, canoe and campsite for $4.15 per day. In 1969 instead of eight dollars per week the rate per day exceeded that amount at the Millford House near the Kedgie Park.

While rates have advanced a visit to Millford House off Sunday revealed that cabins on the lakes have been kept in the rustic and much similar to the days of the brochure above and down through four generations of Thomas. Indeed, it is understood the year after your tourists at Millford House, like it like that for a number have bought the place to keep it as they liked it. Warren "Bud" Miller continues to be manager.

One special item noticed in the cabins was a reclining chair, possibly a one hundred years ago forerunner of the La-Z-Boy. It could easily be made into a bed and locked in place. Today electric power lights the house and cabins.

Portions of the show were recorded for broadcast on the radio network's On Stage series and will be heard Saturday, September 20 at 8:00 p.m. (ADT). Production by Stewart of CBC Halifax.

Business Closes

Church Point Produce Ltd., of Meteghan Centre, a wholesale food, feed, groceries and building supplies establishment owned by Charles Comeau, has closed its doors.

Church Point Produce Ltd. was originally started at Church Point over forty years ago. It did not operate very long under its original owners, and Mr. Arcade L. Belliveau became the sole owner. The principle business was the selling of flour and feed at the retail level.

Upon the death of Mr. Belliveau, Mr. William St. Amant operated the business, adding a line of biscuits and later confectionery. He operated the business until his death and his widow, Mrs. William (Lucille) St. Amant, sold it to Mr. Charles Comeau, of Meteghan Centre.

Mr. Comeau transferred the business to Meteghan Centre and added groceries and building supplies as well as other lines, going into the wholesale business. He served the large number of stores in the Municipality of Clare as well as the schools, selling paper towels, toilet tissues, hand soaps, scrubbing soap and other cleaning material used in schools.

Due to failing health, Mr. Comeau decided to close the wholesale business and thus Clare lost a very useful business. Church Point Produce Ltd. served the district of Clare very well and gave considerable employment with warehousemen, salesmen and truck drivers being employed, as well as manager and office help.

It is rumored that a new wholesale grocery firm will be established in Clare in the very near future. This business will be operated by a prominent Clare businessman.

Jay Kincaid, who has also had experience in library work, has been appointed to the position of head of the Memorial Library will be glad to hear that Mrs. Van Killam, Mrs. Dorothy Fleet and Mrs. Mac Woods have been appointed to the staff of the Western Counties Regional Library and will be working in the Yarmouth branch.

The tender for the bookmobile chassis has been awarded to Motor Mart of Yarmouth, and the body will be built by G. R. Paterson Co. Ltd., Saint John, N. B. It is expected that delivery of the bookmobile will take approximately six months. The Regional Library Board also decided to call for tenders for a station wagon. This vehicle will be used for book deliveries and exchanges and for library promotion.

The headquarters office for the Regional Library system is now being established in the Killam Memorial Library. Equipment has been ordered and new books have been arriving. It is hoped that the bookmobile will be ready in approximately one month. The exact date will be announced as soon as possible. This branch may be used by all residents of the regional library area.

Kiwanis Project "Operation Drug Alert"

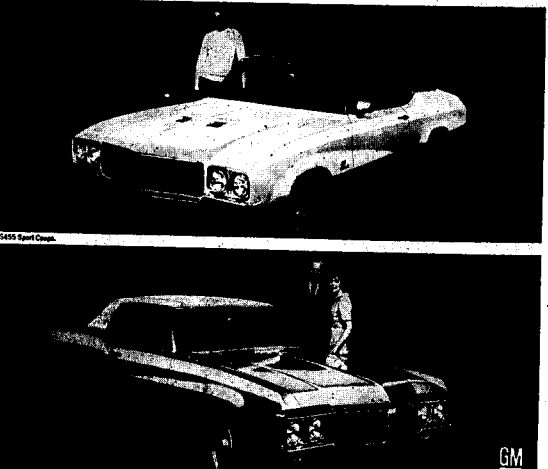

Halifax City Alderman, Hedy G. Ivany, Past President of Armdale-Halifax Kiwanis Club, was elected Lieutenant Governor of Division 20, at the 33rd annual conference of the Ontario-Quebec-Maritime-Kiwanis Club, which was held in St. John's, Newfoundland during the week of August 24 to 27.

The conference in cooperation with all the clubs of the International Organization voted to adopt a one major emphasis program for 1970 called "Operation Drug Alert". The Operation Drug Alert will not interfere with the individual clubs regular program of service in a particular community. Mr. Ivany is hoping to emphasize the Drug Program in the Halifax Area and in his district will encourage greater attention to: (1) The Student Driver Training Program; (2) Mental Health Participation Program; (3) Senior Citizen's Housing.

By survey the Kiwanis considered the drug project one of greatest need out of sixty replies to a questionnaire.

Objectives of Kiwanis as vice-presidents secretaries and other officers will meet to plan and map out the year's program.

This will bring prompt and detailed response.

Local Manpower Officer's Advice To Students

"The accelerating pace of technological change is making it more important than ever for young people to acquire a full education," according to Mr. J. J. Potter, Manager of the Digby Canada Manpower Centre. In a statement urging students to return to school this fall, Mr. Potter said, "Recent studies have confirmed that many job opportunities are disappearing for those without adequate education or training. At the same time, there is a continuing heavy demand for persons with technical or scientific training." Studies indicate that as early as next year, 40 percent of those entering the labour force will require a minimum of high school education, and at least 10 percent will need trade, vocational school, or apprenticeship training. Ten percent will require university graduation and another ten percent will need to be qualified nurses, teachers, or graduates of technical or other non-academic training courses. MAKE HERRING AND SCALLOP STUDY

A comprehensive attempt is being made to find out whether the herring stocks are being over-fished. Studies started recently in the Trinity and Lurcher shoals areas off Yarmouth and Digby counties in the Bay of Fundy.

To do this Digby intensive study six biologists from the fisheries research board of St. Andrews, New Brunswick, have joined forces with the Bedford Institute in doing their observations from a mail-slab chartered from Florida for $70,000. This amount covers studies in several areas which started August 11 in the Gulf of St. Lawrence and concluded on September 17, after several research boats had been concluded in various sectors. A 23-foot multi-submersible operated in Trinity-Lurcher area for 10 days by being lowered from the mother ship twice a day.

E. C. (Ted) Sellows, Yarmouth based research boat technician, said that board of officials added for the co-operation of fishermen operating in the area. He said he hoped the fishermen would be careful during the survey and that any time they saw the Canadian Coast Guard C.D. Howe in the area they would automatically know that the little submarine was in operation and extreme caution should be exercised.

Following the herring survey another 10 days or so would be spent surveying the scallop grounds. The latter shell fish like the herring has shown a decrease in landings during the summer and concern is being expressed by the industry.

MANPOWER

All but 7 1/2 percent of the labour force will need at least recreational school to be able to compete for employment.

"In terms of job opportunities," said Mr. Pottler, the most drastic changes predicted are the rapid increase in the demands for those in the professional and skilled groups and the relatively rapid growth projected for clerical and service occupations."

Jobs in construction and public utilities are expected to grow more rapidly than total employment. Also projected is a sharp increase in employment opportunities in government, finance, and business.

A decline is indicated in primary occupations associated with agriculture, mining, and fisheries.

DEER LAW PROPOSALS

D. W. Bower, Shelburne Fish & Game Association. The steady decline of the deer population in Nova Scotia has now reached such a drastically low level, that sportsmen in general are much concerned about the loss of hunting opportunities and the possibility of eventual extinction of the species.

In addition to the loss of a recreational sport to our own people, we have already lost the valuable business of the non-resident hunter, and we have lost 32 number of pounds of valuable venison which was produced annually when we had a good sustainable herd not too long ago. Our deer herds which one time were a most valuable resource, have been decimated to the point that even with careful attention, it will take years to bring them back.

To bring the deer back it is generally felt that we definitely have to stop killing deer and fawns. It has been proven through studies by both the Department of Land and Forests and experienced woodsmen, that wildcats take a large toll of the deer population. The department reports that wildcats can kill deer the year round. Bears also take their share of deer. With people, wildcats and bears all killing off the breeding stock, namely the does, it is most natural to decline. Since we can't stop the bears and cats from killing the deer when they are heavy with fawn in the early spring, then it becomes logical that we, the hunters, should stop killing what we left at the breeder in the fall. There are also some fawn hunters, when they find deer in comparison to deer.

Mr. Doucet has declared professional development days throughout the province as 1969. He is well known to the citizens of Digby for his work with the Digby Fire Department and St. John Ambulance.

At this second annual show, more than 120 exhibitors will display and demonstrate latest developments in education equipment, materials and services.

WOODLOT OWNERS TO HOLD MEETINGS IN DIGBY COUNTY

For the past two years a Nova Scotia Woodlot Owners Association. Soon after it was established this province wide association set up a number of committees to study and recommend solutions to some of the most serious problems facing woodlot owners. Some of the topics being looked into by these committees are: Pulpwood Marketing, Forest Taxation, Christmas Tree Production, Sawlogs, and Woodlot Consolidation.

The St. Francis Xavier University Extension Department was contracted to carry out the organizational work. The work is now in its final stages. Only the six Counties remain to be organized.

John MacLellan, a Nova Scotia woodlot owner, has been hired by the University to do the organizational work. He has worked in Cape Breton Island and in Annapolis County and is now stationed in Yarmouth where he will be working with woodlot owners from the Digby-Yarmouth Shollars area. During the next few months he will hold a series of public meetings at a number of locations throughout the area. The first will be held in Digby County. Meetings will be advertised as widely as possible through the mail and in the papers. A woodlot owner or anyone interested in the wood industry is welcome to attend. Discussion will center around the future Association and what its objectives should be. Mr. MacLellan will be working toward the establishment of county or regional associations in the area. It is thought that this would help owners acquire the power to exercise some degree of control over the marketing of their products and over policy making decisions which affect them. In Quebec woodlot owners have acquired this power and now their roadside pulpwood prices are close to $20.00 per cord. In Nova Scotia prices may be long and hard but it can succeed with strong organization. Mr. MacLellan remarked, A start has been made in this direction but the support of all woodlot owners is required to insure success.

At the meetings there will be an opportunity to ask questions. In the meantime for more information about the organizational program, contact John MacLellan, Sunset Hotel, Box 1150, RR 1 Yarmouth (Halifax).

Stock Car Club Closes Season

The last race of the year for the Stock Car Club was held at Gilbert Cove September 27th. Winner of the trophy for the most points was car 37 driven and owned by Ed Tidd of Tidville, sponsored by Fred's Shell Station at Weymouth North. Mr. Tidd has held the trophy for his second year.

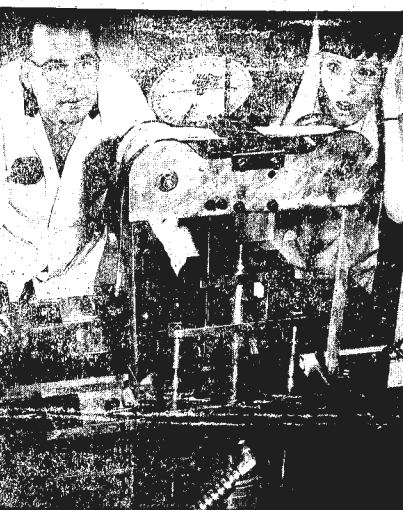

The season proved to be a successful and exciting one. Cars from the Greenwood raceway took part on one Sunday. Spills and thrills were provided by the members of the club.

On Sunday, September 14th, several cars from the club travelled to Greenwood to compete for points. Ed Tidd entered his car in the race and was winner of a race. Doug Giney took 2nd and 3rd place in two races and the Frank brothers entered car 77 and put on a good performance. Only 10 points separated the winners and the local boys.

Paul Theriault placed first, running the two mile race country in 9 minutes, 50.6 seconds. In the "B" Boys' division David Larri-more placed first with 12 minutes, 4 seconds. In the "C" Boys' division Pat Theriault placed first with 11 minutes, 56 seconds. The final winning race was Digby with 25 points.

The first soccer games of the season were held at Corn-wallis between Digby and Bridgetown. Although the outcome was not very successful, all four teams were pleased that they played to the best of their ability. The first scores were "A" Girls 3-0, "B" Girls 3-0, "A" Boys 2-0, "B" Boys 4-0. Even though Bridgetown emerged the victory was promised to outscore them in the games next week.

The highlight of our new year will be the opening of the new section on our school. Both the staff and student body are looking forward to the new facilities and are very grateful for the privilege of having this addition.

New Church Women Guests At Manse

Mrs. John Ritey and Mrs. C. C. MacInnes were in charge of the program on Wednesday night when Mrs. R. H. Hughes entertained the women of the Grace United Church at the Manse, with the new women of the church at special guests.

Given a special welcome by Mrs. W. R. Creelman, president of the U.C.W., were Mrs. S. W. Thompson, Mrs. James Turnbull, Mrs. Samuel Ramey, Mrs. E. G. Stacey, Mrs. A. M. Lawley and Mrs. Neil Cullen.

Games were played and refreshments served at the ladies social evening.

Improved educational opportunities amount to only one phase of social improvement; there must also be more and better opportunities for skill, employment and for progress and promotion in the various fields of endeavor. This can only come through public awareness of the problems faced by minorities and the challenge must be met by a public commitment.

Refutes Allegation

Replying to statements made recently in the Press the Nova Scotia Road Builders today stated that the industry places continued stress on the need for safe practices to protect both the travelling public and the employees on road construction projects.

Safety is constantly emphasized and in the six years during which a national safety contest for the industry has been staged, the Road Builders in this province have twice won the top Canadian award.

This kind of performance does not happen by accident and Safety Seminars run by the Nova Scotia Road Builders Association are conducted specifically to teach safety to industry personnel.

A constant drive for a zero accident frequency rating keeps the whole industry on its toes and the effectiveness of the safety campaign is evident in the decrease in accidents achieved.

Workers on road building projects are very conscious of the important role they play in safety in the industry and would question statements from any source suggesting lack of adequate safety precautions in the industry.

The use of intensive, internal education programs has resulted in the very creditable record that, since 1965 to date, no single highway accident has been recorded as being caused through road construction works.

BLUE HAS

Maritime Blue Shield Cross has announced that it has received a grant of $100,000 for the first year of the year. Blue Shield of Nova Scotia, T. L. Doyle, president of the health plan, said that the grant was a vote of confidence in the plan. The grant will be used for the benefit of the plan's members. The plan has been operating since 1965 and has a membership of 170.

Mr. Doyle told members that the loss from continuing to operate the cost of medical services, and a grant to greater use of the plan's resources. The plan has been operating since 1965 and has a membership of 170.

The increasing use of the plan's resources has led to a greater need for the plan's resources. The plan has been operating since 1965 and has a membership of 170.

In his report to the committee, meeting for its quarterly session, Mr. Doyle pointed out that despite the introduction of government health insurance plans in Nova Scotia and Nova Scotia, the Association providing Blue Shield or Cross benefits for nearly 100,000 residents of the Province. Of this number, 100,000 enjoy the benefits of the plan. The plan has been operating since 1965 and has a membership of 170.

BLUE CROSS HAS DEFICIT

Maritime Blue Shield - Blue Cross has announced an operating loss of more than $900,000 for the first seven months of the year. Blue Cross president, T. L. Doyle, told members of the health plan's executive committee of the Board of Trustees that membership revenue for the seven month period ending July 31, 1969, amounted to $6.8 million while benefit payments and administrative costs totaled $7.7 million for the same period. Total operating losses were $910,170.

Mr. Doyle told executive members that the loss resulted from continuing increases in the cost of medical benefits and services, and a continuing trend to greater use of services by the Plan's half million members in Atlantic Canada. "The increasing use is a reflection of the many advances that have been made in medicine in the past few years, plus a greater need and readiness to use Plan services by over 47,000 members in the Atlantic Provinces," he said. The executive committee decided that for the time being, Maritime Blue Cross should continue to meet operating losses from reserve funds. Blue Shield - Blue Cross rates in the Atlantic Provinces have not been increased for the last 10 years, although this is the third year that the Association has had an operating deficit.

In his report to the committee, meeting for its regular quarterly session, Mr. Doyle pointed out that despite the introduction of government-sponsored Medicare plans in Newfoundland and Nova Scotia last April, the Association was providing Blue Shield or Blue Cross benefits for nearly a half million residents of Atlantic Provinces. Of this number, nearly 150,000 enjoy prescription drug benefits, and a substantial increase in the number of members covered for dental care had occurred during the year.

The Show Must Go On

Despite the approximate $800 dollar damage hurricane Gordon inflicted upon the townships of the Thomas Enterprise Fair which was set up and ready for action at Central Grove, the entertainment proceeded as scheduled but without the ferris wheel which was damaged.

Mrs. Thomas who with her husband, own the fair, said, "We had thirty ropes attached to the ferris wheel and the men held them which prevented it from collapsing. But it was blown out of line and will have to be repaired. We spent a very hard night during the storm but we will have something for the children so they won't be disappointed. We just thank God no one was hurt."

The following evening the fair opened. As there had been no school sessions that day because of a power failure resulting from the hurricane's blast, children were allowed to take full advantage of all the delights of the fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas who are from Mahone Bay, said their next stop would be at Shelburne, N.S.

Triple Trouble Plus

Mrs. Chester Amero, Plympton found life worrisome and demanding last week. Her husband was a patient at Camp Hill Hospital, Halifax; her daughter, Mrs. John Bilan was a surgery patient in the Halifax Infirmary and her grand-daughter, Cathy Wagner was a patient at the Children's Hospital also undergoing surgery.

Adding to the confusion the storm had cut off power lines and telephone service. One bright spot has been seen over the horizon. She went to Halifax this week to get her granddaughter who is released from the Children's Hospital.

Canada's Finest Folk Festival

Joan Boaz held the audience transfixed when she appeared on the top attraction at this summer's Mariposa Folk Festival on Toronto Island. She is one of many fine artists who will be seen and heard when CBC television presents Mariposa: A Folk Festival, Sunday, Sept. 28 (9:00 - 10:00 p.m. EDT, in color). The hour-long program is an attempt to capture the atmosphere of the festival, not a formally structured concert.

Unemployment Insurance - Any Questions Please?

Q. Are employers who do not keep contribution records in regard to their insurable employees liable to prosecution?

A. Yes, if they disregard the provisions of Section 79 of the Unemployment Insurance Regulations under which they are required to keep books, records, accounts and other documents sufficiently complete to allow a UIC inspector to determine with reasonable facility, in respect of every such employee, the total of contributions due, the date on which they were payable and the date of their payments by the employer.

The appropriate provisions are described in full in a booklet entitled: "Information for Employers on Unemployment Insurance" which can be obtained free from any UIC office.

Q. I just received an increase in my monthly salary which brings my annual income above the $7,000 contribution ceiling.

The increase has six months' retroactivity. My employer has taken Unemployment Insurance contributions from my pay for the six month period.

Can I get this money back?

A. No. Under UIC Regulations the $7,000 ceiling was not exceeded until you actually received payment of the increased salary. It therefore follows that your pay was subject to deduction of Unemployment Insurance contributions for the six month period in regard to which you have now received the retroactive salary increase.

If you have paid contributions for at least 30 weeks in the 104 week period immediately preceding the date you received the increase, that put you over the $7,000 ceiling, you may continue to be insured as a voluntary contributor if you make application to the UIC office with which you deal. In that case your employer may deduct his share of the contributions as well as your own share from your pay, so that the cost to you would then be double the rate of contribution applicable to those who are compulsorily insured.

Autumn Magic

Be still, my restless mind,
Let me dream though I disturb
The magic of this sacred hour.
Let not my thoughts loose destroy
The Autumn music in my soul.
For I would capture once again
This mystery of crystal air.
Reflected on velvet of rain,
These mellow hues, golden and blue,
Then softly forming a fairy dance
Sway gracefully in fond fantasia.
To ageing, summer's final song,
Be still, watch Autumn's final play,
Vivid, bold and beautiful,
One brief, bright moment - night within
The rain-wash of Eternity.

Bill Smiley

Fly, don't walk, Kim

They got away just in time. My nerves, stretched like a rubber band, were about to snap. Tonight, as I sat alone with the cat, in blessed peace, I felt as though I might last for a bit yet.

The last my Rotten Kids has gone off to college, and her mother, reluctant as ever to ride her wing and let her kick go, went with her. The latter will be back in a few days, and the former will probably be back in a few weeks, but it's a wonderful respite. Even the cat looks more relaxed. But maybe that's because she's pregnant. She's eating like one of those dogs in the TV commercials, so it looks suspicious.

Getting a girl ready for college is something like outfitting an entire expedition to Outer Mongolia, as I've discovered in the last few weeks. First, you have to talk about it for an average of seven hours a day. Then they spend hours making up lists of "indispensables," like a razor and shaving cream. The lists are lost and new ones begin. Then there are hours of talking about clothes: turning up hems, lowering necklines, raising waists, what goes with what, what clashes with what. That's why I've been hiding in the bathroom and the back yard for a couple of weeks, during these alterations (that's not alterations).

That, of course, produces heated accusations that "You don't even care! Why can't you show some interest?" This, in turn, makes me join them for a modelling show, at which I mutter, "That's pretty. Yeah, I like that one. That looks pretty good on you." Again, this brings forth heated accusations.

The fact is, I have about as much interest in women's clothes as I have in choosing wallpaper. If the plaster is OK, whack it on. Same with women. If it looks OK, I say so. If it doesn't, I have enough sense to keep my mouth shut. During this preparatory period, I have felt like The Invisible Man. I have had two dinners cooked for me in two weeks. I have done all the shopping. I have broken up innumerable feminine squabbles. (Kim's taste and her mother's, in clothes, are as far apart as the R.C.s and the Communist's philosophies). And I have stripped my every bank account to the barest of bones.

If that kid drops out, at so many bright youngsters do, I'm going to take all her effects, piano, those records that drive me out of my skull, the lot, and burn them in the back yard. Invited to this soiree will be a number of parents I know. We have recently formed an organization called POKK. It stands for Parents of Rotten Kids. And it's spreading like wildfire. Within a year, I'll be bigger than the Rotary Club.

By the way, anyone who wants to join the organization is welcome. There are no fees. All you have to do is drop me a line, explaining briefly why you think you qualify. Anonymity is guaranteed.

Charter members are a couple with a son of 15-plus IQ, who is making toilet seat his disposable; like a razor and shaving cream. The lists are lost and new ones begin. Then there are hours of talking about clothes: turning up hems, lowering necklines, raising waists, what goes with what, what clashes with what. That's why I've been hiding in the bathroom and the back yard for a couple of weeks, during these alterations (that's not alterations).

That, of course, produces heated accusations that "You don't even care! Why can't you show some interest?" This, in turn, makes me join them for a modelling show, at which I mutter, "That's pretty. Yeah, I like that one. That looks pretty good on you." Again, this brings forth heated accusations.

Label Can Be Margin Between Safety, Accident

Medicine labels are a recipe for health and, like any good recipe, they have to be read carefully for maximum benefit. Accidents are prevented by the inclusion of margins, and that margin can be a label.

The Council on Family Health, a non-profit organization devoted to the promotion of health and prevention of accidents in the home, points out that the name of the medicine, its active ingredients and the exact doses are on a label for good reason: to help a sick person regain his health.

A medicine should be given to a patient exactly as it is spelled out on the label. For much on the label is so important to the young child who cannot understand the label, it is especially important to the mother who cannot understand the label.

The mother should read the label carefully and read the label three times. When she takes it out of the medicine bottle, she should read the label carefully and when she returns it to its proper place in the cabinet.

This is particularly important at night. She should read the label so she can read the label in the morning. She should read the label so she can read the label in the morning. She should read the label so she can read the label in the morning.

Medicine never should be given under any circumstances if the label cannot be read clearly and accurately. Keeping a container of medicine with a daily
