YEAR END REVIEW

Hon. Scott MacNutt, Minister of Labour

A new Trade Union Act and abour Standards Code high-ighted the legislative achieve-zents of the Department of abour in 1972. Long hours of Labour in 1972. Long hours of hard work went into the prep-aration of this legislation and I. would like to acknowledge the valuable contributions made by labour and manage-at the time these laws were being drafted.

If you oprate a restaurant or conteen, you are in the tourist business. If you you are in the touris business. If you are a service station or garage operator you are in the tourist business. If you operate a gift shop, novally shop, dread shop or any other shop there is every chance that you sell to a goodly number of tourists and so you are in the tourist humber. of tourists and so you are in the tourist business. Becuticians gain from the tour-ist trade. You can be eve be just a fisher-ment and leave it at that. If you're a fisherman, the hotel and restaurant overration, buy from you to feed the tour-lats who come to their establishments, so you are iterally in the tourist business. Bundry service, dry cleaning and most services increase as a result of the tourist are few if any people who There are few if any people who do not directly or indirectly profit by the tourist business. Therefore, it be-hooves everybody to attend he meeting in February to see what the Digby-Anhapolis Basin Tourist Committee has are mentioned a few of their suggest-ions. Read herm. Think about hem. Talk about hem. Think about hem. Talk about hem. Childze hem constructively and cover have the second relative tends about these. Criticize them constructively and come up with bigger and better vaggestions. The committee is open for ideas we are sure, and ideas have a hash of developing into prosperous enterprises. Yours might do just that. Tourism teverybody's business, no matter how you look at it. Those who cater directly to tourists and have a sin-care interest in the weftrer of the eres, support their local trades wherever pos-sible. They, in turn, deserve the support of those who profit indirectly by tour-ism.

ism. And just one added note. Even if you aren't interested for the sake of tour-ism, the suggestions of the D.A Basin Tourist Committee are all beneficial to residents of this area. That's your bushess too.

All for this time.

Mon has many mistaken notions. For a long time he axid that the earth was fast and the sky was an in-verted box/. Finite man is often wrong, though he won't admit it. The most far array assertion of all is the modern contenion that God is dead. Dead from dat age, suicide, or murdar we are not tod. It is convenient to bury God for all least three a portor dearch them at bury with for at least then a person doesn't have to reckon with im, nor obey His Word.

This should take the prize for stupfdity. How could a God Who has been all powerful, eternal and, self-surficient come to an end? Notice, they don't say the more existed, they say the died, in any case, it would be quite a coincidence that it should happen at this pre-rim moment in batter. in history.

A small h man god that man could invent had etter be dead. He is of no help. Any god that man could ush around is certainly not the real God of the Bible. could t is not that God is dead, but that man is so dead in sin, that he cannot parceive God and therefore courts thim out. If the Lord is dead than who is holding universe logenter, and keeping up the rotation of seed time and harvers time and harvest?

The man who believes in the death of God theory. Atteologian or plain person, is in danger of making him-self an idol. He is parading his intellect, and Hving in the hitle strength of his own brath ego.

A young person I know summed it up saying. I know God is not dead, for I was talking to Him just this morning". Remember He says about Himself, "I am, atte forevermore". That settles it. fore

Ottawa, January 26, 1973

This is my first effort at what I hope will become a weekly column in our local newspapers. Already I'm finding it difficult while in Ottawa to keep up with affairs in the constituency. News is always a fittle bit late ching here and of course I can only rely on weekly Wedning here and of course I can only rely on weekly interwappers and articles which appear in the provincial dealies to keep me abreast of what happens. I would because correspondence from my friends in the con-stwardy about problems which may not make news but which may be of concern. It would be extremely helpful so well, in representing the constituency, to have advance knowledge of things which are about to happen, which which discusted is our arms. are of importance in our area

Members of all parties are now getting settled in Members of all parties are now getting settled in togic offices and established on the Committees which perform a great deal of the work around Parliament Hill, you may be interested in knowing flart if maying on the commission of the set of

The Government's strategy has become pretty clear wer the past few weeks. Their objective is to avoid deal-ing with any legislation which possibly can become portraversial in the sense that it might bring about the period of the Government.

ee to investigate rising food prices and quite clearly give to investigate haing tool pince and one cleans, or member of the House could find any quartel with the fain objective of that. The Government did then venture spiring up for debate Bill C-124 concerning advances of from general revenue to the unemployment insu they more general revenue to the other poyneth incon-ce fund. 11% deal with that in more detail below. And by also indicated hast week that they would be bringing another Bitt relating to unemployment insurance, the tention of which is to restrict the ability of certain classes vorkers to obtain benefits from the fund.

I don't know what our Party position will be with registed to this Act, but my own view at the moment is that the proposed changes would create a nightmare of fact tape and place an unusual burden on the focal unimployment insurance employee to determine the eligi-imployment insurance employee to determine the eligi-bility of applicants depending on your point of view. It is apparent that the proposed changes would create unsupporter mar me proposed changes would create un-bearbole pressure on the unemployment insurance repre-sentatives themselves and from the point of view of an upplicant it would give individual unemployment insur-mee offices the power of life and death over their ap-teriors. It would remove all uniformity and objectivity in the application of the regulations and make legi-lishing for unemployment insurance subject to a value of the objectivity.

The New Democratic Party give notice in the bose on Wednesday of last week that they would vote ginner that Bill and the following day Mr. MacEachen, the House Leader for the Liberals, who had previously cleated that it would be deall with immediately by the give, advised the House that the Government was not which go to much priority to that Bill and that we would gived deal this week with Capital Punishment and some the previous of the transmission of matters which are of a non-partisan mature

On this subject of Capital Punishment there's no bubt that the debate will go on for a fairly lengthy priod and I would appreciate hearing the views of peoin our constituency

Now I want to deal at some length with this Bill 124 and the position which the Conservative Party has then in relation to it. Last week the matter was before Microllanceous Estimates Committee. This is a Com-eresponsible for studying government expenditures are additional to those expenditures which they and at the beginning of the year. This is a procedure at take place every year, the only difference is that year committee members are discovering that a great more money is involved than is the usual case. The est chunk of that money is to supplement the unsyment insurance fund

It seems that just before Parliament was prorogued August, the Unemployment Insurance Commission ed that its fund was in big financial trouble. Apparently, however, it was not in enough trouble at the time to warrant immediate action.

The Government delayed as long as possible and then by Governor General's warrant authorized 220 mil lion dollars to be transferred to the U.I.C. account. A sir ilar transfer of 234 million dollars was made in Decembe The importance of this is that Government without the consent of Parliament, even though it might have been conserve or namament, even mough it might have been obtained when the shortage of cash was foreseen, avoid-ed presenting supplementary estimates to Parliament and instead proceeded in what can only be described as a very sociative maniner at a time when the general election was pending. As Jed Baldwin, one of our front bench Members said in the House, "If a private corporation had presented a prospectus to prospective shareholders inviting their support by joining the company in the same manner as the Government did to the electors, then those directors would all be liable to go to jail".

There is serious question about the legality of the In the mean series and the proper information of the series of the serie There is serious question about the legisity of the sovermment's actions. By statute Pariliament imposed a zeiling of 800 million dollars which could be loaned from general revenue to the U.I.C. fund. The amount which the Sovermment loaned to the fund last. Fail exceeded that imit by nearly one-half billion dollars. There was means We have therefore seen that the Government offer hand meintains that i obtained degat opinion before trild nor satisfy the Throne Speech debate in order to jseking the Governor General's warrants, and therefore, with their legislation and that they then introduced (the its actions although unusual, were totally within the resolution for the appointment of a Parliamentary Com-

Progressive Conservative Members of the Miscel-laneous Estimates Committee take another view. They maincain that the Government's actions were not as liky-while as they seem - and in fact, that the Government has broken the law.

So, to the obvious chagrin of Liberal Members of the Committee, the Auditor-General (Maxwell Henderson) was asked to attend the Tuesday, January 23, 973 Miscelous Estimates Committee meeting

Mr. Henderson said, at the meeting, that he is not satisfied with the validity of the legal opinion on which he Government acted to obtain the Governor General's warmins. In fact, he said he is so dissatisfied that he inends to obtain his own legal opinion. Mr. Henderson etos said that in all his years as Auditor-General he knows of no instance where the government obtained public money over end above a ceiling amount set by Parliament

No wonder the Government wants to get rid o ell Hendo

The dispute is yet to be resolved -- and it is clear the Dispute is yer to be resolved -- and it is clear that Progressive Conservative Members of Parliament are not planning to back down. The next few weeks should be interesting.

The marriage of Eva Belle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tibbetts, Bear River, to Steven Charles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doneld Emmerson, Sandy Cove, was solemnized at the home of her mother on December 2, 1972.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked charming in her two-spice cove-ensemble of blue angelskin taffeta with a shoulder-length veil held [n place by a lacey pearl-beaded liara. Her consige was of crimson rosebuds. Her only altendent was Mrs. Valerie Emmerson, sister-linkew of the

The groom was supported by his brother, Robert Emmerson.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Millbury, Deep assisted by Rev. Donald Switzer, Bear River. During the signing of the register a solo was rendered by Rev. Donald

Following the ceremony a family reception was held. A beautifully decor wo-tier wedding cake was cut in traditional manner and served by the

S., overflys a Russian vessel during a routine patrol off the Nova Scotia coast. Tracker aircraft which formerly operated from the flight de& of the aircraft carrier Bonaventure, now carry out regular patrols off Canada's Allahic and Pacific coast, keeping a close wethich on all shipping, including the large forsign flahing fleet off the Grand Banks. An important task of these flights is to spot ships which illegally dump oil. During patrols along the Atlantic coast, the aircraft are in constant touch with Maritime Command Headquarters in Helifex. (Canadian Forces Photo)

<text> soffers, the parents will take the little one into their arms and make him feel secure and comfortable. This is a pic-ture of God as a loving heavenly Father.

True, we deserve nothing from Him, but by His more the will offer to us every treasure from hills heart of compassion. The grace of God is a term which means that He is not out 40 get even when we sin, but He is out to cover all our sins by His tenderness.

God is reasonable in not expecting us to be pe fect, which we can never be in this life. He is reason in not expecting us to do more for Him than He gives u strength to do. We are not to hide behind this as an ex-cuse for laziness and waywardness, but we are to know that He will receive us any time we come sincerely fo the victory there is in Christ

A Thought Starter

Rev. R. C. MacCormack United Baptist Church

Woodstock, N. B.

ASK "WHAT?" NOT "WHY?"

When upsets come to us, it is common to ask, "why?". Some even question God, as to why He would Got to railow it. A few may quit church, enter into biter-ness, forgenting that such procedure only brings further pain, and cuts the perion off from the only real help he can have. "Why?" may be the plea of despair, raiher than the mark of faith and trust in a loving Heavenly Father.

es of crisis, it is far better to ask "

"Cod, what are you trying to say to me-what are 10 learns from this experience; what are you showing me, while I am too far away to really get it; and in what way can I be a stronger and more surrendered Christian because of this event?"

Faith does not fluctuate on the tide of circumstan-ces, it is fixed and real regardless of happenings. The rougher the times, the more we need God, it is no time briding from time. A child with an injury will usually run to his maher or father for comfort and security, rather figh sway from them into desper londiness. This might well be the pattern for those who endure the hard kmocks of life, They need to core running to God, and to invite the futhess of His Holy Spirit.

Paul reached the place where he said, "what?" instead of "why?". He said, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?" He said this in a time of deep crisis.

God speaks through trouble, or He may speak in es of quiet. He may try to get through by the "still Novice", or He may need to speak to us through the small y

It is for each one to look up, and to listen.

- ABOUT THIS AND THAT -Brotherhood Week

We are now in the midst of 1973 Brotherhood Week. It is a week set apart each year to emphasize that all mankind is one no matter what the race, the color or the dread Brotherhood Work be-is one no malter what the race, the color or the creed. Brotherhood Week has been with us for many years, yet pre-judices in the realm of religion and race still persist in some quarters. As we enter Brotherhood Week of 1973, however,

COURIER

All WCCK races are achieving greater harmony, too, although there is still much room for understanding and respect for the other person's viewpoint can eliminate prejudices as we travel along life's high-way, each intent on the same purpose or destination. We are reminded of the story of three men who followed apath 'dhough the forest. One saw beautifut hother through the forest. One saw be through the forest. One saw beautiful scenery which he might share with others for he was an artist. Another saw quan-tity and quality of wood which could be meedy, for he was a builder. Still an-other tooked at the grandbur of the path-way in terms of poetry and song to glad-den the hearts' of others, for he was a poet. Sak had a noble purpose but dif-ferent. And so it is with our races and meed.

Brotherhood recognizes another's brotherhood recognizes another viewpoint and seeks to understand. May this Brotherhood Week accomplish more miles in the pathway of brotherly love with see that religious prejudices and bigoted religious ambilians to convert people of one faith to that of another are disappearing. People of different than ever before.

Thinking Day What is Thinking Day? Ack any Boy Sout or Girl Guide and they'll tell you it is a day set aside to commemorate the birthday of their foundes, Lord and Lady Boden-Powell. In fact there is a Thinking Week, but the special birthday is on february 22, today. The slogan is a full and happy life without God, and Scouts and Guides follow in their line of thinking. Yes, Boy Scouts and Girl Guides Yes, Boy Scouts and Girl Guides have many wonderful things to think about on their Thinking Day. They think of others and influence others to think of others not only on Thinking Day, but ery day as each one does one good every day as each one does one good turn a day. Youth Power. That's the slogan. It is one which might be heeded by par-ents and start them thinking during Thinking Week. The potential is great. Youh Power should be put to the high-est purpose. Think about that on Think-ing Day and support the groups and their leaders.

Make Electric Heating part of your Homemaking Plans < It's easy to match up the good warm qualities of letertic heating with the good things you want for your home. For instance; the cleaniness of letertic heat. There's no open flame, just constant radiant warmth. And how about that extra room you save by installing electric heat? There's no trunce, no fuel tank, no duct. You get more free room by room. Small wonder electric heating is becoming the popular choice among discriming home builders and home buyers. Some people should not drink

Maybe you think you're drinking too much. Maybe egining to worry you. Maybe it's worrying your y and friends, too. If so, what do you do? Where do o? youg

You go: Your first and immediate step should be to seek the advice of your doctor. Tell him the truth. He won't be adviced and he won't let your feel embarrassed. And the advice he'll give you will be based on the collective experience of the medical profession and his own intimate knowledge of you.

He'll probably start out by giving you some straight, down-to-earth facts about alcohol and alcoholism - two entirely different subjects.

entirely different subjects. He may tell you, for example, that about 95% of people who drink beer or wine or spirits do so moderately. But for the remaining 5%, unfortunately, the story is completely different. This group, he may point out, includes the immoderate drinkers, the abusive drinkers and the outright alcoholics. He'll probably explain that, for some reason as yet unknown to medical science, people in this group are not always able to control the amount or extent of their consumption of alcohol.

Your doctor may also explain that alcoholism is not a behavioral defect. Alcoholism is a disease. And penistent, immoderate drinking is a symptom of this second the second second second second second second we virtually unanimous that just as the use of sugar, itself, is not the cause of sugar dishetes; the use of alcoholi, itself, is not the cause of alcoholism. And even though scientists throughout the world continue their search and research, the unfortunate fact remains that, so far, no one knows for sure what causes the disease of alcoholism.

sure what causes the disease of alcoholism. The answer to In your own particular case, your doctor will work with you in trying to determine why you are drinking too much. Once he fully understands the nature and extent of your problem, he may simply recommend greater moderation in your dinking. Or he may tell you that you should not drink at all – neither beer nor wine nor spirits – because, in this context, there can be no distinction made between them.

We don't want to sound preachy, but we do ask you to serioutly consider this advice: If the question of dinking is becoming a matter of concern, we who are distillers and winters say: "Talk it over with your doctor. Let him decide."

Away With Abuse

The news this past week said that abuses in unemployment insurance were being pracked down upon. It is high time something is done to curb abuses of this nature

Anomer mistake which has been made is in high unemployment insurance pay-ments. Unless a person is endowed with high moral standards and a keen sense Curbing abuses in unemployment insurance is not deving anybody any-thing. The unemployment insurance fund was meant to aid the people who de-served it because they had, unfortunateof right and wrong, he is going to choose to be idle when he can receive as much ly lost their means of livelihood. It was unemployment insurance was put in its proper perspective - to help those in nt for people who did not want proper perspective — to help mose in need. The Digby Courier has been here Smith's Cove the Mountain Gap Inn has for more/than 99 years. During that time it has seen small industries come to the made a 60 unit expansion. There are smaller but most wortharea, some to thrive and some to go by the wayside. With pride it has chronicled all the individual new constructions and while and necessary buildings going up such as the Kingfisher Motel restaurant. There is the new Digby Firemen's half under construction and the recently comexpansions as they occurred but never pleted funeral home. It was less than a year ago that the McCleave Medical Centre was completed and opened and within the past year was held the official opening of the new.

Legion headquarters, the renovating for The Little Cinema and the re-establishing of a grocery store. To those more or less private co struction can be added such completed or contemplated construction as roads aging sign of prosperity. By so much evidence one can be justified in stating that Digby is really forging ahead. A prosperous trend seems to be evident and a determination to work together, making the most of the 1973 and each year following vear should guarantee the prosperity to con-tinue. Working together should include businesses, the employers and employees Wilh all the trend for the new and exiting there is also the responsibility to maintain in good standing those estab-lishments which by dint of hard work have been the backbone of Digby and municipality through the years. Their own determination and justified support from town and municipal authority should further the trend of forging shead through 1973 and thereafter.

Contributed by Coe, morning recently upon answer-ing the door bell, I found two young men Sharding on our verand in bitter cold weather. They requested permission to use the reliphone to coll a toxi. Their mission completed, they told me of the ordeal ptrough which they the dp assad during the hours of the night.

They grove their car past our home in Bay View on toward the ferry term-inal. This section of the Shore Road is known as The Indian Trail. It is located between the former Bay View Life Sav-ing Station road and the ferry terminal. ost of the view this section is uncared Most of the year this section is uncarea for, though during several months it is passable with caulion. However, during the winter months, residents of the area could not consider travelling over it. Strangers travel under the disadvantage of not knowing the situation, so the two youths drove merrily on. Finally the end came. They could not go on and because of snow could not see the six inch depth of ice which covered the road beneath. Since the hour was late they were marooned for the night.

The following morning a sand truck

Did: it ever occur to you that the Creator may have left the little sea-girt peninsula until the last That He may have reserved for it many of the treasures of His work shop? That after He finished His work shop? That after He tinished His great masterpice the may have spent econs in moulding those features of this Province which possess such delicacy of beauty, such stubilety of charm, that travel the world over, we find them unexcelled, and without peer?

Did you ever think that when this d was chaming out of chaos the ator might have set aside ever so orld Creator little of the congesting mass upon which to imprint His own special design? Have you not thought of the Divine Hand ng a finge upon the soft clay, and the same web, were not trapped for as long a period as that experienced by the two young men. However, this makes a total of three incidents occurring in the area.

Would it not be wise to post "Road would if nor be wise to post "koad Closed" signs at either end of this sec-tion of road or would it be better just to allow it to remain as now, an Indian Trail? It is not in as good condition as when the Indians used it.

The Shore Road section from the Ferry Terminal to Bay View is very picturesque and many tourists could en-joy scenery which in its beauty defies description, but which is now used as a garbage dump. Think on these things when considering tourist attractions which would help to keep our visitors in this area.

behold, a valley here, another there? Have you not seen in the wonderful contour of hills and mountains of this land the Divine imagery of what hills and mountains should be? and mountains should be? Have you ever heard in the babble of its brooks and the nummur of its tides and surge of its surf, the music of a Divine which sang praises while the Creator worked? Have you never yet heard through the forest, through the creates who are when the Brank orchards, over the meadows, the Breath orchards, over the meadows, the fresh that gave it life? Did it ever seem stronge to you that this is a land without tempest, or flood, or drought, or gale of pestilence and if you did, did you ever think that the reason may be, because it is God's land? (Horetic C, Crowell)
