JOSEPH HOWE FESTIVAL

This week is set aside for the Joseph Howe Festival when pageantry will be enacted and many functions will be held in the province and around the city of Halifax where Joseph Howe lived and died one hundred years ago. Much has been written about Joseph Howe and hundred years ago. Much has been written about Joseph Howe and material to study is easily obtained. It is, however, too lengthy for this column so we shall suffice in drawing to the attention of our readers some of the admiral qualities of the man who became Nova Stotia's Lieutenant Governor for so short a time. Joseph Howe never lacked some good cause to champion, but is probably revered most for his success in achieving. Ireedom of the press in our success in achieving. Ireedom of the press in our letter accusing police and magistrates in Halifax of misconduct. He was taken to court for libel. For six hours he addressed the court in his own defence, so positive was he of being right and so staunch was he in his object of freedom of the press. He was a champion of right to be admired and would it that we had more Joseph Howe stotzer. Treedom of the press. Was a champion of right to be admired and suc the was a champion of right to be admired and so the only cause which Joseph Howe fostered. He had a deep loyally for Nova Scotia and its people and instilled this loyally in other persons. As an orator he was most convincing in arguments for his cause and his life yoheld the principles he championde so it was easy for pople to respect and admire him. We can do with more Joseph Howe deviced much of his life to service to Nova Scotia. Joseph Howe devoted much of his life to service to the public, in political circles, in community affairs and in the business world. We have some likenesses of Joseph Howe today but there could be more to stand up and be counted and render service. This is Joseph Howe Festival Week when we might try to adopt more of the principles of that fine Nova Scotia statesman.

PREPARE FOR FIRE PREVENTION WEEK Next week is Fire Prevention Week when the local fire department and provincial authorities will shower us with programs and materials to educate us in fire prevention and fire control. There is little new to learn about fire prevention. Don't be careless with matches, don't smoke in bod, get rid of rubbish and other preventive lessons are taught us. We learn ways of caution for baby sitters and children and means of escape if fire does occur. While most of us know these rules we are prone to disregard them when Fire Prevention Week is over. This should not be. Fire Prevention Week is over. This should not be Fire Prevention Week is over. This but the rules themselves must be carried out the entire year if we are to enjoy fire safety. Prepare now for the Week and also keep in mind that the Digby firemen are proud of their new building and will soon be wanting to show it of to the puble. Plan to see it and also make it your builages. Some are new and all are asseed your nearby villages. Some are new and all are assets of security to the villages.

We don't know how old "Young's Book of Secrets" might be but Wallace Amero came across one and left is at our office. Thanks, with the interest shown in riding horses today, he budght yo'd like to know how to make old horses appear young. You take one one of assisteriation, one once tature canturarides, one cames oil cloves, one ounce clanation, who ounces antimory, one onnee fanguresh, half galant nourby-torof travaly and let stand ten days. Give tan drops in more the travaly and let stand ten days. Give tand the hard more from the horse to key the whole year wo have to include a hard more from the mast everyday in their food and a small amount of red pepper in the winter. What price eggs!—

Hodge Podge (contributed) It looks as if we might need to call in the Pony Express, with Harley Denton and his contingent, if the mail service doesn't im-prove. One incident last week, when circulars were mailed our from Weymouth on Tuesday and were distread in Dighty the next Monday. Pretty hard on the advertisers paying for fly-abests and potage: The second, a lister mailed on Janaary 18th has not yet reached its destination in a distance of one mile. It imagine the pays express would be quicker. The old song, "through rain or shine, sleet or snow, the mail must get through" doesn't seem to apply any more.

In the House, last Monday, dehate on risking food prices was about food prices. In the House, last Monday, debate on rising food prices was initiated by P. C. Members who pointed out that in August Canada recorded the sharpest rise in food costs and a higher rise in food costs and a higher rise in food costs and a higher western countries which make up the OECD.

Progressive Conservative members also pointed out that only two of the many recommendations of the Special Food prices Committee had been

They called for immediate action on those recom-mendations which called upon the government to implement certain provisions of the proposed Competition Act dealing with consumer protection; new legislation governing the matritional content of flood south flood protection; new legislation governing the matritional labeling; federal-privincial co-sponsered programs so that muttitons food would be made directly available to children, senior citizens, shu-fins and the destitute; and to make funds senior citizens, shu-in-and he destitute; and to make funds available to consumer groups to make regresentations to the government where appropriate. These measures would help to alleviate the burden on the poor (22 percent of all family units in Canada) who are the hardest hit by rising food costs. One aspect: of costs, as it relates to Agricultural production, has not been deals with by the agricultural production, has not been deals of groups of the second second production, the second second family reality done any sectors thinking about it. That is that in the present uncertain situation farmers are becoming in-creasingly reluctant to commit agricultural products and no our cost, to produce mean in particular and other long term production. Until recently there was a rising market for agricultural products and no cordingly a certain splithing there are not any second time and the post term works there has been a fai-tering out of prodes and no cordingly a certain splithing the products and the part for works there has been a fai-tering out of prodes and no cordingly a certain splithing the for example, a very definition. The result has attered a mither to a failed from Canada which may be forewards of shortages to come in the winther with a beat comparing high protects. Simily ar receives, power and more that the government with have to take immediate action in have to take immediate action in the neutrice to head off that thind di order to head off that kind or reaction. They have not done so in this Session of Parliament and it would be very easy to conclude that they are not even aware of the problem. The House will be in recess again until October 15th, so my weekly column will likely be sporadic during the recess. Until next time...

TWENTY-EIGHTH IS MOVING UP

October 28 is moving up. And, we are not referring to Hallowe'en. We are referring to the date when the one trip a day for the Princess of Acadia comes into effect should the Canadian Pacific not being and the short of the shor Princess of Acadia.

As we have mentioned before, no private com As we have mentioned before, no private com-pany can loss that amount of money over an extended period. But, neither can the people of Western Nova Scotia be expected to do without sufficient tran-sportation service. Indeed, the people looked forward to the new Princess of Acadia to gradually build up the economy of this western end of the province. To cut the service would be a backward step and detrimental to the weifare of the area. Why should Western Nova Scotia people be expected to subsidize other ferries and be denied necessary transportation service themselves. service themselves other ferrites and he denied necessary transportation service themselves. One member of parliament, our MLA, our mayor, our warden, Board of Trade, and others have in-terceded for the CPR by resolutions sent to proper authorities. The Union of Nova Scotla Municipalities took up the challenge at its recent annual conference and New Brunswick has also make its feelings known. Surely the federal government must be aware of how the people think yet nothing has been done to assure the people think yet nothing has been done to assure the people think yet nothing has been done to assure the people think yet nothing has been done to hear from more of the ordinary people from the various walks of life rather than in official capacities. It's understood that individual letters have their impact. Want to try it? Digby and Saint John are two vital points in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. They need to be linked in order to facilitate the torist trade as well as in-dustrial and commercial progress. To be as privileged as to have the same facilities to aid progress as other parts of Canada (even Nova Scotia) the government should operate a ship between Digby and Saint John or assist another company in doing so. How about writing letters. Twenty-eight is fast moving up.

SAFETY ON HIGHWAY

Seldom can you go on the highway without ob-serving some misdoing or neglect which might cause an accident. We've seen cars pass two at a time on a double line, we've seen cars parked on a hill or other parts of the highway that is equally blinded. Then, also on Stunday while up the Valley we saw one motorist who couldn't contain himself enough to wait for a broken line to pass a creeping tractor but dashed right by, almost colliding head on with another car. We believe in slow riders pulling over for the more speedy to exercise their privilege to 60 miles per hour but what about the tractors? Definitely farmers must move these slow Speedy the Vertices their privilege to ownines per nour but what about the tractors? move these slow machines from one farm to another along the main highway and while there are few seen on highways near Digby there are quite a number on the Valley roads. Are there arough to warrant the highway to supply a special strip like a paved shoulder for them to travel on? Or, can motorists be educated to courtesy in order to keep safety on the highway. Possibly there are times when it is almost necessary to risk passing a slow tractor on a double line but this cannot be the general rule. With the sanction of the tractor driver it might be permissible, too, but hasts & generally detrimental to safety on the highway. It is botter to keep caim and collected until a safety zone is reached.

Life soon assumed the pattern of any community trying to develop. There was much work, but also much joy and inevitable sorrow. Sister Jacqueline's father, Major Emile Stehelin, brought his bride to their new little home on the hill overlooking the lake, the big house and the cluster of buildings lined around the square. Sister Jacqueline was the second of five children born in this house.

The landmarks were always the same, always interesting -the barn, the cookhouse with its open bread ovens, the singing of the anvii of the blacksmith shop, the chapel, the dog ken-nels, and the club house of the works

Each season brought new experiences, new howeldge, the delicious treat belanged to the aptimum of the same, wild birds and the moses belonged to the fall. The long summer meant the outdoors -swimming, gardening, writing and berry picking. The winter brought snow, Christman with trees and candies and a little time for learning reading and writing. In conjunction with 75th anniversary celebrations at Northeastern University in Boston, Mass, 'disinguished service on the part of ad-ministration and faculy' was recognized. Dean George W. Hankinon, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Hankinsen, of Weymouth, was chosen as one to be hanoured, and was presented with a citation and medallon at the academic luncheon in the alumni auditorium on Colober 3rd. Mr. Hankinson has been professor there for some years, and was promoted to Dean of Engineers several years ago.

The first great sorrow presaged the decline and ventual abadonment of New France. The grandmother died at New France in 1910 at a relatively young age. The grandfather relired to Weymouth where he died in 1917. The reduced family stayed on for another few years.

The final blow to New France came with the First World War. In 1914, six sons left to fulfill their military duties - four to the French Army and one, Major Emile Stehelin, to the Canadian Army Sister Jacqueline's father returned to live permanently in Nova Scotia. Sister Jacqueline went on to school and into religious life.

It is not surprising that she retained a real attachment to this part of her life, and deep affection for the first people she knew and remembered as friends of the family."

Mr. Cromwell closed his remarks by saying "Long may the bell of the Good Shepherd Convent, which Slater Jacqueline wished when blessed to be named "Marie Theresa" after her grandmother, call people together at the Southrille Church of St. Theresa and St.

Fellowship's 20th

An niversary Christian Mer's Fellowship celebrated their 20th as-niversary on Manday, October ist at the Christ This is a group of men, from various church denominations, who meet weekly to discuss moral and religious affairs, and to generally socialize together. The group was started by the late Rev. John Carr, and at their celebrations, Mirs. Carr and their daughter, Mirs. Faye Marshall, were special guests. Gifford Lewis, as president of the group, chaired the meeting, and special musical selections were presented by Griff Mid-deton, Gien Barr and Gifford Lewis.

dieton, Gien Barr and Gifford Lewis. Harry Lewis, who was the first president of the group, read some of the early minutes regarding the expanization. Rev. Wallace Jordan, minister of the United Baptist Church in Smith's Cove, brought an inspiring message to the group. Mr. Jordon was thanked by Thurston Mullen, who also brought the meeting to a close, after which refressi-ments were served.

WE KNOW

TO SAVE

It's called a Bonus Savings Account. And it's very helpful when you're saving for something special like a vacation or a trailer oa "mest egg." It helps you save faster because it earns a high rate of interest on your minimum monthly balance, and it's paid to you twice a year. Another great Bonus Savings fey"rie is that it's strictly a savings a unt. You don't have to fight the temp. ion of writing cheques. Of course, if you want to with-draw cosh at the bank you can, at any time, at no charge.

Come in and talk to us today about a Bonus Savings Account. The sooner we talk, the better for your savings.

"The 1.986 fires in 1972, in this province, involved a greater number of people, leaving them homeless, and in 10 cases childless. Are we going to stand by and watch 6,291,240 dollars going up in smoke again this

"Most of the lives lost from fire causes, 30 in 1972, occurred in the home. Of the 1.986 fire occurrences in this provid last year, 1,447 were dwelling fires. Most of those fires could have been avoided had we stopped for a moment and realized that we cannot regard fire safety as nonsense," Mr. N

Kerr said. "We all seem to have the unfortunate habit of dismissing most fires as unavoidable, as accidents, or visitations of bad luck. We do not take the time in our daily routine to see what we are doing wrong or are neglecting to do that may cause a fire."

Mr. Kerr asked the citizens of Nova Scotia to consider a few oints which may help prevent fires. _ Are the electrical fuses in our panel the right size? Do you use gang plugs in wall outlets? Think of what can happen when circuits are overloaded. Are extension cords placed under rugs where they are subject to damage by being walked on and the insulation is . being destroyed?

— Is the heating equipment checked prior to the heating season? How close are the smoke pipes to combustible materials, are they deteriorated to the point where they need replacing? - How about flammable liquids, where do you keep ed paints and thi ners, and the gasoline for the lawn Mower? In far too many cases, gasoline is stored in glass or unapproved plastic containers in the basement. Did you know that gasoline properly mixed with air has the potential ex-plosive force of dynamite, and that it can be ignited by an wiwctric spark from a switch,

Apathy towards the incidence of fire is a major deterrent to the progress of Fire Prevention

With an average of approximately 100 enderstanding and the statistics. With thirds of conflagrations os-curring in the home, it becomes obvious something is wrong. Of course something is wrong. furnace, motor or appliance, all found in our homes? Would you place dynamite in your home in such a way that it could be exploded by the act of turning on an electric light?

- How many of us smoke in bed, or is smoking in bed strictly against the rule in your home? Are there plenty of large, deep and no ustible ashtrays available for those who do smoke? Do you check upholstered chairs before you retire and are the contents of ashtrays kept separate from other combustible waste? Do you know that smoking materials caused almost 450 fires in Nova Scotia last year?

- Are you prepared for an emergency? You plan your vacation months in advance, bud do you have an emergency evacuation plan worked out for the members of your family? Have you a second means of m every room in the exit fro home? Does your family rehearse this plan? Are you guilty of saying "It can't happen to me"? It can.

papers and over the local radio station. Bear River and District is fortunate in being one of the first areas in the whole of Nova Scotia to receive the services of the new Government Dental Care Plan for children from birth up to and including 8 years of one station. Volenteers are desperately needed to help run this clinic. Their duits would be those of a receptionist to make ap-pointments and to help clean the clinic area at the end of the day. Anyone who is willing, and it is hoped that many will offer their help, please phone Mrs. D. Brennan at phone number 467-wee birth up to and including a years of age. This service which com-menced Monday, October 15th, includes inspection and treatment (fillings, extractions, etc.) for all children in this age bracket and is entirely free of charge. Breni 3089

We All Have Problems

A case for Land Planning architecture by Robert Camp-bell, Nova Scotia is a natural paradise of rock and water that bell, Nova rock and water that secretarized rock and water that secretarized the secretarian of the secretarian of Revere Beach or Provincetown. Pried chicken the outward signs that this in-treetidy lovely landscape is starting to be despiled, but the causet go ranch deeper. Having just get lack torem a vacation there, I was struck by a lot of similarities problems and some of ours.

Scotta s proutents and sent end An architect friend, who went to Nova Scotta to leach ar-chitecture but soon decided that land use planning was the real environmental ussue there, pointed out that until quite recently land in Nova Scotta was literally worldhes because it waart' arable. That gave it about the same vahe as a Texas offield before the invention of the automobile.

acout the same value as a Texas official barder be invention of the aidomobile. What change all that was the explosion in second homes. Today, and in Nova Sodin is being husiled by real estate speculators as for away as Boston and New York. I saw one plot that had just been bought for a summer borne by a sowner from New Mexico hat some people are willing to make.

Wandering on a stretch of rocky seaside so deserted you would have thought no one had been there since the Vikings, my wife and I rounded a boulder and found ourselves facing an enormous, 30 foot high Sioux-style teepee.

It proved to be the handiwork of a screenwriter from New York City, who it turned out, owned the last 500 fect of oceanowned the last 500 feet of ocean-front we had been walking over. All that stretch of ocean was owned by Americans, he told us; the next thousand feet of frontage, 50 acres in area, had just gone to another New Yorker for $20,000. "You can't buy oceanfront property for that anywhere else," he boasted.

That's nice for birn, but to the Nova Scotians il means they are losing control of their angle most valuable resource, their scenic land. Outside buyers from what is economically another universe drive prizes far beyond what the local people can afford. Of course, a few natives profileer temporarily in this situation, but many others get hut. get hurt.

get hurt. How they get hurt is illustrated by another anecoder. The answer, of course, is that we can't. The only way to solve these problems is for 'an enlightened government to step in with a fair and intelligent use plan and enforce it.

Thai's a concept that is still hard for many people to swallow, as some of the reaction to Sen. Kennedy's Island Trust Bill demonstrates, but H's going to have to come, and the sooner the better.

It's a kind of economic im-perialism, engaged in by per-fectly nice people who never would think of themselves as exploitive, but who only want "to get away from it all." to a second home in an "unspolled" place. Sounds like what's been happening in Nantucket: or along the coast of Maine? If land planning is urgent in a place as deserted as Now Scotla is, how can we get along without it here?

Roy Mcisace (immediate past Moderator) and Rev. Mr. Stevers, as group leaders . to give concentrated study to the structural changes and how it would affect the Association. The groups reassembled and discussed the coechack from the smaller groups. A major portion of the time was spect on discussing the cochack from discussing the cochack from Prastors-at-Large (which some preferred the term "Area Minister")—a structural change approved by the Atlantic United Bapits Covention - and one of four such appointments for the Atlantic United Bapits Covention - and one of four such appointments for the Atlantic United Bapits Lowenburg and Shelbarre, Lunchburg and Queens.

Liggy has been able to boast for some years about its quiet Hallowe'en. We expect nothing different this - Credit for the good behaviour on Hallowe'en night so again this year. - Young and older steady hear. They intend to do so again this year. - Young and older attend these parties and it is surprising the imagination and effort which goes into the costume is some the children. Preparing the costume itself is fine, creative handwork which adds to the knowledge and experience of the child co-cupying his time constructively even before the special event. Then on Hallowe'en might children are and out of mischiel because of the Lions party and the people of Digby and area reap the benefits. Their incentive for attending the party is enhanced by prizes and favors. - However, parents, teachers and leaders should observe Hallowe'en and learn the joy which can be derived from assisting others by good motives rather than doing mean and cruel tricks to others. - Brents, neighbours and friends have an orbigation to treat their Hallowe'en callers with safety chicke drivers, also have a responsibility to make the children's Hallowe'en one which is safe. Drive carefully. Don't make an occasion for laughter and fun tum into one of mourning.

oneness of the Christian Church. Mr. Boodoosingh called for more united Christians to play the vital role of the Christian Church today. He called for re-dedication in 1973 to the Christian principles of the Christian principles Christian principles of brotherhood as exemplified by Jesus Christ. In church life he asked that lesser things which happen in the church be not stressed as is so often done and stress be put on those things which Christians have in common instead of differences. The church is a universal horio common instead of differences, The church is a universal body, he said, with all churches baving one basic teaching of one Life, one Faith and one Baptism with Jesus Christ the four-dation. He exhorted his audience to look forward to the future of the universal church. The service was conducted by Sherman Rice., Clerk of the

A minor hockey coach - a good coach - must believe that he is there to teach hockey. He is not there to become a star, to attain recognition, but to impart to recognition, but to impart to the kids, in a developing manner, the skills that make the game the anjoyable and competitive sport that it is. He must assess his knowledge of hockey, stress authority and respect for it; give the team the will to win, but able to accept defeat; with the same stability with which they anonet width. the same stability with which they accept victory. However, all this, can be ac-complished, only from the very beginning by establishing complete control over his team and building a relationship with

Young People M eet In Bible Club

Recently the Bible Club of the Beer River Baplist Church met and entertained the Baplist Youth Fellowsking group from Parker's Cove. Pastor Paul Legge accompanied his young people. A lively song-time was enjoyed by all with Pastor Legge playing his accordion. Testimony and prayer 'lime' followed. Pastor Donald Switzer of the Bear River Church conducted a "Serendipity" lab with the young people. This is a Bible study plan in which a portion of Scripture is read and applied to BEAR RIVER - Mr. and Mrs. Norman Clark for Berwick were in the 'ullage on Sunday calling on old friends. Mrs. Clark will be remembered as Winnie Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sullivan, former residents of Bear River. Mr. Clarke, has one of the largest thereafter move out of the province. We believe that with respect to the question of non-resident ownership there has been a lack of leadership in protecting the future of this province. Several questions MUST be answered: 1. Why has so little study been done? We could get little statistical information from the assessment office, and the M.L.A.'s apparently have little more reliable data. 2. Why has the government

And most important of all-Whose human rights are more important-whose of Nova Sectians or nor-residents? We don't know the reasons, but here don't know the reasons, but we want some answers and some action! Nova Sectians don't want an industrial watschad or jungle of "Comey Islands". resident buying are having far-reaching effects now. What about the future? The totally unrestricted sale of land to non-residents has caused a wave of speculation.

Thousands of acres are being bought up and held for reals, which often occurs at auctions where the accurs at auctions wereasent. On its intended to be present. Many speculators only advertise properties outside the province. We feel that some of the so-called "real estate" agents appear to be little more than sophisticated, carget baggers who care nothing about the development of this province. They are not providing a valuable service in finding buyers, but are promoting morgages to dismal future for the citizens of this province.

Younger Nova Scotians are having great trouble, finding tand at reasonable prices. If this is the case now, what kind of future will be left for our children? Will they be strangers children? Will they be strangers to most of their own land, working for and paying rent to absentee landlords? Is this the

Are Nova Scotians who are spending their lives building up this province going to be forced to stand by while foreign buyers strip it of the best it has to offer? We length the least. In many cases buying has been selective, affecting only certain types of property; waterfront properties, farms, homes of historic or ar-chitectural interest have been particular cases. Of course,

WHERE PEACE DECINS November 11 is again fast approaching. It is the sarrifice of life and limb on the altars of World War and World War 11. Those were wars to end wars, so we were told, but the objective has never been reached, but the objective has never been reached, which explose the bass in the base of the world in open, while peace was proclaimed, we have really never probably to see less and less. Distance means nothing on this small planet anymore and we are no longer while peace was proclaimed, we have really never probably to see less and less. Distance means nothing on this small planet anymore and we are no longer while only a pretention of peace. Nevember 11 is the day we remember. We look fasting peace which it was supposed to bring. We are reminded, however, that even though wars, as we hink of them, cease, frap roclamation and the hope for reminded, however, that even though wars, as we have to face, harded and selfshiness. Along with rebuild lives are time should be invested in deeds of lasting peace and the should be invested in deeds of lasting brotherhood. # WANTED, MORE CHILDREN'S BOOKS

One week from today, November 15, begins Young Canada's Book Week. It is a national annual week jointly sponsored by the Canadian Library Association and the Canadian Book Publishers' Council. It is celebrated by young and older only or by whoever cares about children and their books. This year in particular, Young Canada's Book Week asks us to asks us to consider the fact that every year fewer Canadian children's books are published.

tewer Canadian children's books are published. Have you ever thought what a good book can do for a child' A good book can occupy and entertain a child in a most constructive and instructive manner. Have you ever listened to the vocabulary of a well read child in comparison to one who is deprived of books? Farley Mowat, patron of Young Canada's Book Week, says ''A good book for youngsters can influence the whole future life of the young reader.'' Their understanding of all other subjects in school Sog od reading material for children is money well invested. invested.

But there will never be enough good books for children unless more people write more children's books. Mowai admits that the hardest books in the world to write are books for young people but he adds "They are also by far the most rewarding."

"Iney are also by tar the most rewarding." Not only should children be exposed to good books for reading but children should be given opportunity to express their own thoughts by writing stories. We were pleased to see an attempt made in one or more of our school classrooms in children writing a book. To be a good adult writer, a young beginning can be quite a help. Not too long ago, the Nova Scotia Youth Agency was encouragin and urging the kids of Nova Scotia to write and the Agency collected stories from children (and probably are still doing so) hopefully to do a 70 page book. do a 70 page book.

So parents and teachers and others who care, what do you do from November 15 to November 22? The theme of the Week is "Read on - Canada!) We hope you'll encourage children and youth to read on and on and not only to read but to write also. And, who knows, there might be living in our midst a budding author or authoress of children's books. That's what Young Canada's Book Week intimates "Wanted, More Children's Books."

The Editor Dear Sir.

Dear Sir, Referring to your article in last week's Spectator entitled "Nova Scotia - Isi tor Sale", I world like to make one or two comments if I may. I agree mask one or two pernicious and detrimentil thing for the Province, and I would like to set is stopped. Most of this being done by Nova Scotians, unfortunately, and a comparatively small amount by people outside the Province. Property today is, I believe, versitement, because with the pressure of ever-burgeoning. property today (s, 1 behere, considered a very sound in-vestment, because with the pressure of even-burgconing urban populations, the value of rural property is not likely to decreases. And while it is un-fortunate that "younger" Nova Scotlans are having difficulty finding land at reasonable prices, it is equally regretable that the same problems apply to "tolder" Nova Scotlans about remember that for many yettable that the same problems apply to country properties were virtue and literally thearms were available of every low prices. Nova Scottars did not rand to out have more values have gene and the values have gene to out any properties then, but now the values have gene country properties then, but now, when the values have gone up people are calling for restrictive legislation. With much of your article I disagree most emphatically, and I feel that it is rather of-fensive in tone toward many fine people, both Foreign and out-of-Province Canadian, who development that we would like to see. Another point which I think is were junportant is that it is not merely the injection of foreign, capital that is an evil. It is the purchasing of control of Canadian Corporations by foreign interests. We must set on treatd Canadians, tempting to do basines, at least no more than it stops foreign interests from doing business here in the than it stops foreign interess from doing business here in Canada. For example, the advantage Americans have hitherto had in establishing subsiduaries here in Canada will be no greater than the advantages that our home grown Canadian has.

HOME CAN HELP TOO

EDITORIAL

HOME CAN HELP TOO The Town of Digby in co-operation with the merchants and service clubs is making an effort to brighten up the town for Christmas. Christmas is approaching fast and the town council and merchants have hurriedly taken a commendable step. Remember when the Lions Club took as their project one year to string colored lights along the waterfront from pole to pole. Remember how pleasing was the effect, specially viewing the town from the Smith's Cove area across the harbour. It was an incentive for people to visit Digby. onle to visit Digby.

people to visit Digby. These bulbs and wires along with their additions from year to year have deteriorated to the extent of replaced so why noi look into something different and attractive to replenish the castoffs. Some may say that it is strictly a commercial effort devoid of the real spirit of Christmas. This might in some respects be considered so but if people are going to spend for Christmas it might just as well be in Digby. Nor does the spirit of Christmas need to be forgotten. There is something exhilarating and joyous about shopping for Christmas under excitingly bright lights and soft bit or family, friend or the needy one, the lights symbols can enhance the spirit of goodwill and sharing which the gift giving symbolizes.

sharing which the gift giving symbolizes. Since the town and merchants are putting an extra effort into lighting up this Christmas, and we leave it to their good judgment regarding the supply of energy available, would in not be agood suggestion that home owners put forth an extra effort to put the Town of Digby on the map again by Christmas lighting. Digby is set on a hill and homes do show up from across the Bay. Why not make it a special light-up Christmas Homes can help to do it and citizens young and older, we trust will protect and respect the effort put forth.

CONGRATULATIONS TO CLIFF EDWARDS

Our columns last week carried a news item on an award received by C. E. Edwards, inspector of schools for Digby and Annapolis Counties. The award was the Edpress of America award acquired by his submission of an article "Media in Education" in a Nova Scotia Teachers Union publication.

Nova Scotia Teachers Union publication. To enumerate the accomplishments of C. E. Edwards would take columns. Our readers last week had the opportunity to read all those ac-complishments which added up to more than two and a haif columns. We'll not repeat them here but we cannot let this opportunity go by to congratulate Ciff Edwards on his latest achievement. Digby and An-napolis Counties and the education of the children here would be much the poorer without the leadership of this knowledgeable and talented inspector of schools. Indeed, this newspaper has been the richer here action of the Education of the children there here action the submissions either directly or indirectly to the media.

Congratulations to our very own Inspector of School

GREAT NEWS

Probably the greatest news we've heard in Digby since our last edition of The Digby Courier is the news that the Canadian Pacific Railway will continue its two trip will by of the Princess of Acadia across the Bay of Pundy from Digby to Saint John, N.B. So much has been already said on why this service is so vital to Western Nova Scotia that it is repetition to chronicle more words on the matter. It has, we are sure, come as joyous news to all Digby County people that the federal government is making up any losses the C.P.R. might have on the second trip and thereby maintain a more adequate service.

In the meantime it is the hope of all western Nova Scotia people that the government will take steps to assure the people that two trips a day will be on a permanent basis with three trips a day in summer. The uncertainty as well as the actual lessening of the number of trips per day would tend to have a detrimental effect on the economy of the area, we are sure.

Yes, it was great news to hear that the two trips a day will continue for the winter. It will be greater news when the people in western Nova Scotia can be assured that the service will become stable and improve so that the western end of the province can progress economically with other parts of Nova Scotia.

GET OUT TO VOTE

Maybe this is one of the liveliest town election campaigné ever carried on. House to house twistations are being made and each candidate has his own method of appearing before the voting public. There are four candidates trying to gain the seat of one councillor, on November 27. The vote should be big by the time each of the four candidates get ready ar, firmative responses from their closest friends and each has persuaded others to mark an "X" opposite his name on the ballot. We are taking no chances, however, so we addour few words of persuasion to the apathetic on behalf of the four candidates. apathetic on behalf of the four candidates. Any person who has sat in on town or municipal council sessions can readily see that this is big business today. Representatives on those councils should be chosen in a truly democratic way to be fair to each and all whom they represent. This can be accomplished only by all or as many as possible of the eligible voters getting out to vote. So, get out to vote on Tuesday. November 27, for your choice of four good men.

TIDEVIEW TERRACE

Tideview Terrace is an attractive name for the Home for the Aged and Infirm which has just been completed and which will be officially opened on Saturday. Theelvew Terrace is nicely located near the Medical Centre, the Digby General Hospital and in surroundings which are being built up in a more and the residents at the Home and it the south end of town continues to grow as it has within the last year, there will be plenty of activity for the residents to look out upon.

will be plenty of activity for the restance of the other plane. Thas very little institutional appearance either on the asterior or in the interior. The rooms are very much home-like which certainly will be up-lifting to the spirits of those who go to reside there. The greatest feature about Tideview Terrace; it would seem, is the fact that Digby town and County people who live there can be near to those whom they lowe best and want to see most often. Digby nown and Digby municipality need to be congratulated on their humane and positive outlook on life.

THE QUEEN! THE QUEEN! LONG LIVE THE QUEEN!

LONG LIVE THE QUEEN! It was the bride's day. Yes, it truly was the bride's day. Anybody could see that everything was done to have Princess Anne's wedding just as the bride wandet it - a simple but dignified suit as the more common people of the earth. The event was a relaxed one on the part of the Royal wedding part yet there was also the desire to do the right thing and to keep the religious aspect of the wedding in prominence. Most notable was the lack of point and show in the number of attendants - two nine year olds, a young brother and young cousin.

PRACTICE WINTER DRIVING SAFETY (CANADA SAFETY COUNCIL)

As we approach the winter driving season it is appropriate that all drivers be reminded of the many safe driving practices that must be observed to overcome the additional hazards faced during that difficult season. We all know that at the onset of winter's tricky light, bad weather and poor road conditions there is an inevitable rise in accident frequency that tapers off within a month or so as drivers become more familiar with winter driving conditions and remember how to combat them.

conditions and remember how to combat them. There is one technique in particular that all drivers can practice with a minimum of effort and use of the second second second second second second is called "following distance". There are two ways to establish the correct following distance. One is the long-established, one vehicle-length for every ten miles per hour of recorded speed. A newer method is to observe the two-second-interval between your car and the car ahead. A normal count of "One thousand and one – one thousand and two" is two seconds. Time it with the sweep hand on your watch. As the vehicle ahead passes any fused object start counting. If you pass the same object before finishing your count you are too close. Under really bad weather or light conditions make your count three seconds or even four seconds for an added measure of safety.

When you consider the matter, the only thing a driver controls in a traffic environment, outside of his own vehicle, is his following distance. This is his space cushion - his "living room". Observance of this "following distance" rule is number one on any list of safe driving practices.

Two briefs from the Digby area were submitted in Yar-mouth recently to the Select Committee of the House of mouth recently to the Scleet Committee of the House of Assembly on Non-Resident Ownership of Land, One was submitted by John Englehatt, Manager Real Estate Services J.J. Brittain Ld. and the other was submitted by Joais Wyles. The briefs were presented at public hearings. Mr. Englehutt, m his brief recommended that government not be basty in the formulation of legislation respecting non-resident ownership of land. He recommended that first the picture of non-resident ownership be established and charled on maps and a study be mide of the past, present and possible future use of that Land. Mr. Englehutt posed the made of the past, present and possible future use of that land. Mr. Englehutt posed the questions : is it the present use of land by residents that we want to preserve? Is it the possible future use of the land that we want to us? Is it the possible future use of the land that we want to control? These answers, he felt should be made clear. What we want, he said, must be defined and then proceed to that for the most proceed to that for the most proceed to that for the most proceeding prochased by more said that for the most proceed to the prochased by more said the to the prochased by the resident owner and land is being soft by individuals mainly for two saider by post of the capacity to pay.

Safe Driving"

Keep both hands firmly on the wheel-at 10 and two o'clock-and both eyes on the road.

2. Never tailgate-allow at least one vehicle length for every ten miles per hour of speed.

On wet, snowy or icy roads, reduce speed well below posted speed limits, depending on the severity of conditions.

Always signal intentions -turns, lane changes, passing.

5. Curves require special attention - slow down before entering, then apply power to wheels. Be alert for oncoming cars; they often cross the center line.

6. Never pass on hills or curve. On straightaways pass only when positive the way is clear.

Don't drive after heavy drinking. If you have been drinking moderately, allow one hour for each one ounce drink or beer (12 ounces) consumed, before driving.

Keep the car in good operating condition, especially brokes, tires, steering and front end suspension, front and rear lights, mirrors, turn signals, wipers, multier and exhaust pipe.

9. Always fasten safety belts and lock car doors.

10. Drive defensively: "Recognize the hazard; un-derstand the defence; act in - Hennester problems for roll-on roll-off operations where vehicles are driven directly from the dock to the ship. Quick turn around is of paramount interest to ferry operators for efficient ship usage; and avoidance of frustrating delays ranks up-permost in tourist, passenger and commercial traffic requirements.

Previously.CP Rail scheduled a maximum of two trips per day on the two and one-half bour run between terminals. However, out-model facilities employing elevator transfer of passenger vehicles' slowed turn around time to at least three hours. OR Rail scheduled a maximum of two trips per day facilities coming on stream, the ferry operator provided a new 10,000 gross ton vessel bearing the name of its predecessor, the the name of its predecessor, the Princess of Acadia. The 'Princess' can off-load and load its entire passenger and vehicular traffic in an hour and fifteen minutes. The in-creased volume added another trip per day, providing a boon to local Annapolis Valley meat, vegetable and fruit producers who rely heavily on truck and rail market transportation. Other perishables such as outer perishables such as Christmas trees and fish also go the way of the ferry, which cuts 500 miles off the alternate road mileage from Digby to Saint John.

The 'Princess' now provides The 'Princess' now provides for up to 159 standard automobile or 40 tractor-trailers 45 feet in length. The cargo carried is mixed, and the summer passages have catered to a burgeoming tourist trade that sees as many as 400 to 500 passengers aboard at peak sesson times.

The modern terminal provides 7 acres of parking and lounge facilities. More than 20,000 tons of rock fill were used to form the first stage of the parking compound in 50 of the parking compound in 50 of water. The 'Princess' has more than 500' of docking berth and The passengers exit via another hydraulically operated bridge, similar to those used between aircraft and airport ramps.

Officially completed in the Officially completed in the Spring of this year, the new Digby Terminal and Fundy Service is indicative of the growing importance of this type of transportation link.

OTTAWA -- January in-creases in Old Age Security pension and Guaranteed In-come Supplement payments were announced today by Arnie Gets $10 For $108.14 from $105.30. The maximum Guaranteed Income Supplement for a single person or a married person whose spouse is not a pensioner will go up to $75.85 from its current $73.86. Added to the basic OAS pension, this payment will produce a mon-thy total of $183.99.

for a married couple, both pensioners, will increase to $67,37 each from the present $55,60. Added to the basic pension, this will give each pensioner $175,51 for a com-bined payment for the couple of $351,02.

The members most generously contributed $90.75 for the Children's Home, Digly and this will be given to the Home sometime during the week. This was done rather than the members exchanging gifts amongst themselves. At the next meeting slated for Jan. 7th a Datch Auction is to be held a twhich time the members will bring oncharged items to be held at which time the members will bring packaged items to be auctioned. Also a skate ex-change will take place when anyone having children's outgrown-skates would like to trade or buy others may bring skates in before the meeting and hopefally find what they want want. It was decided also to inquire about a St. John Ambulance First Aid Course to be spon-sored by the group. If such a course can be held perhaps others besides the Home and

FROM LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR May I at this Christmas season express my sincere and best wishes for your happiness and well-being.

This year, we are particularly conscious of the 25th an-niversary of the Declaration of Human Rights. It is my fervent hope that as we attend our church this season, we reflect on the important meaning of this declaration and its effect on the lives of all peoples throughout the world.

May our family and neigh-bourly togetherness become even closer and warmer; and may our participation in the affairs of the church, the state, and with those less fortunate, be approached with renewed in-terest and dedication.

SHOTGUNS ONLY Bring own or use one of ours. Coffee and sandwiches will be served. For further details call Duncan Mallison 130-2 or Edgar Huston at 112.

Can You Hear The Music?

A number of years ago, Thomas Dreier, A number of years ago, Thomas Dreter, philosopher and writer, penned a little story about Christmas that has become a classic. There is inspiration and deep truth in it for these times and all times. Here is the story. The parents had taken their little boy with them on a Christmas shopping tour. As they were about o enter the swinging door of a big department store the little boy stopped and said "Oh, listen to the music".

store the little boy stopped and said "Oh, listen to the music!" His parents listened. They heard no music. All they heard was the honking of the sound of thousands of shoes scraping the sound of thousands of shoes scraping the swish of the doors as they turned and the raucous city noises. But the little boy repeated "Listen! Can't you hear the music, the beautiful music?" The parents, trying with all their might, kept and suddenly, as if by some magic, they heard to be the tot of the show the doorway of the store. Once heard, the little bells seemed to become as loud as cathedral chines. In these days of change, turnes and in-security, too many of us fail to hear the ting shiver bells gently reminding us of those things the last. We shut them out by listening only to the class. We shut the not by listening only to the class of the store of what is temporary. We fail to hear the real music.

A Prayer for Peace in the New Pear

Hopefully, prayerfully, we look forward to another New Year. Joyfully, thankfully, we accept the challenge and opportunity of the hours, days, months ahead. And in full recognition of our privilege, we pledge ourselves to strive for continued peace and prosperity.

With you, our friends and neighbors, we confidently meet the future.
