Dr. R. Abel, Regional Pathologist, Addresses Drug Meeting

Alcohol excess can only lead to a sick body, a sick mind, a sick family, a sick community, a sick country, said Dr. R. Abel, M.D., C.M., F.R.C.P., F.A.C.P., Regional Pathologist, who addressed the Digby Commission On Drug Dependency on the effects of alcohol on the body. Dr. Abel spoke at the regular meeting of the Commission held at the multi-purpose room at the Digby Regional High School on Wednesday evening.

Dr. Abel described the affects of alcohol on various parts of the body. He said that the brain becomes wet and waterlogged. When this happens the signals get mixed up. The action of the heart and breathing are affected. The liver becomes fatty. The stomach over produces acid and often develops ulcers. Excessive use of alcohol often causes obesity and nutritional deficiency. The fatty liver causes vitamin and protein deficiency. The whole system has increased infection susceptibility.

Some unstable psychopaths may become destructive and aggressive with small amounts of alcohol, a condition called psychopathic intoxication. The speaker said, their destructive drive has been known to lead to murder. Other effects of long term drinking are tremors, liver failure, poor personal hygiene, startles easily, nervous, emotional changeability which may lead to hallucinations when sounds and shadows take on forms of insects or animal life. "Rumfits" - a common name for Alcoholic Epilepsy may precede D.T.'s. Delirium tremors usually occur the third or fourth night after withdrawal.

Many suicides are due to alcohol, the doctor continued. The more one begins the study of Alcoholism the more one realizes the multitude of harm it can do to the human body. No organ is immune. (danger to brain, nerves, eyes, ears, heart, lungs, liver, kidney, sex organs, stomach, etc.)

Brain damage through chronic use of alcohol can cause double-vision, unsteady gait, weakness of eye muscles, a patient is apathetic, listless, disoriented, in time and place, has mental dullness and poor memory. This may

Digby Red Cross Branch Holds Closing Tea

The Digby Red Cross Branch closed for the summer holidays with a combined business meeting and afternoon tea, held at the home of Mrs. H.M. Warne of Wednesday afternoon. There was a large attendance of members, also several visitors, including the newly appointed Regional Vice-President, Mrs. Lawrence Darres of Bear River, who brought encouraging news of Commissioner Hilsley's progress since his recent heart attack.

Rev. Ronald Stevens presided over the business session, which opened with the reading of the minutes by the Secretary, Mrs. Percy Robert, who also presented the Treasurer's report in the absence of Mrs. J.J. Brittain. The reports of committees followed, Mrs. Warne reporting for Women's Work that a final shipment of finished articles was ready for packing, comprised of 4 quilts, 176 tropical afghans, 12 girl's dresses, 1 sweater, and 7 prs. booties. In addition, there was a crocheted afghan made and donated to the Blood Donor Service by Mrs. Winfield. It was further reported that 20 yards of terry towelling had been received from Headquarters and turned over to Mrs. Winfield for the making of towels for Comfort Kits.

The Sickroom Loan report, presented by Mrs. Winfield, included 6 prs. of crutches, 3 walkers, and 2 wheelchairs which had gone out on loan during the past month, with one cane returned. Mrs. Winfield also reported that 7 second-hand quilts had been donated for Emergency Aid work, and that donations to the Ways and Means Committee had amounted to $11.00, in addition to which the receipts from the weekly teas had contributed $12.46.

A report from Mr. Gillis, Red Cross Campaign chairman, which was read in his absence by the Secretary, showed the following Campaign receipts to date: Digby Town - $772.25, Digby Rural - $840.60, making a total of $1612.85. The report also stated that six canvassers were yet to be heard from, thus it was hoped that the complete returns might approximate last year's, although it was felt that other campaigns held at the same time as Red Cross last March may have had an adverse effect.

The date for the fall reopening of Red Cross was set for Sept. 10th, at which time a Nominating Committee would be appointed for the Branch Annual Meeting. It was decided that the date for the Annual Meeting would be set later to coincide with the expected visit of Mrs. Flemming and Miss MacAdams from the Nova Scotia Division.

Following the conclusion of the regular business, Mrs. Warne reported on the special fund-raising project of the Women's Work Committee in raffling a very beautiful quilt, the top of which had been made and donated by Mrs. William Sutcliffe of Digby and Walpole, Mass. The quilt had been completed by the Digby Branch quilters, and tickets sold both by Red Cross members and at the Elite Shop, Digby, netting approximately $150.00. As a final effort at ticket selling, several Red Cross members took the quilt to the

Move to Revive Development Commission

John Englehart and MacLeod Rogers Q. C. appeared before the Council of the Municipality of the District of Digby on Monday to report on and determine the feeling of the Municipal Council regarding the reviving of the Digby and Annapolis Basin Development Commission. John Englehart is chairman protem of the organization.

The Digby and Annapolis Basin Development Commission was inaugurated in 1968 and has had its "ups and downs" since that period. There are appointments to the Commission from four municipal units, the town of Annapolis Royal, the town of Digby, the municipality of Annapolis and the municipality of Digby. It is understood that the revival is much in the hands of these four municipal units. A meeting in the Spring of 1975 favored the continuation of the Commission as a means to acquiring small industries for the area.

The delegation to the Council felt that several things would be necessary if the Commission is to function properly; full co-operation of the four municipal units, a good working committee of the councils and some funding for the Commission. The delegation felt that the organization should have a development officer who could devote more time to the organization and that the four municipal units could afford that outlay better than only one.

The purpose of appearing before the municipal council was to see if the municipal body believes in the concept of the organization as was originally formed.

The delegation feels that there could be more industry in the area, something more than tourism and fishing but not so much as to spoil the area way of life which is so admired by others and so satisfactory to ourselves. They felt this could be accomplished by the municipal units joining forces and channel the efforts through the Commission and to the powers that be. The effort would have to be in total agreement and free of bias.

The third annual Western area semi-staff postmasters conference was held at Mountain Gap Inn on June 24, 25 and 26.

On the agenda for the three day affair were talks by postal authorities, discussions, question-and-answer sessions and audio-visual presentations. Representatives were present from different departments of the Nova Scotia Postal District in marketing, personnel, public affairs, tenant services etc. The method of conferences is used by these postal servants to make opportunity to meet the area postmasters and keep them abreast of changes and new programs. By the conferences problems arising for postmasters are aired and discussed.

The conference which ended on Thursday was the third such conference held at Mountain Gap in Smith's Cove.

Ralph Childs To Visit Digby

Ralph Childs of Trotwood, Ohio (USA) will be arriving in Digby on Wednesday, July 2. He will be accompanied by two of his sons. Mr. Childs is coming to help out in the Vacation Bible School which will be held at Lighthouse Church of God beginning Monday, July 7 and continuing through Friday, July 11. He will also be singing in all of the evangelistic services which will be held on Sundays, July 6 and 13 and Monday through Thursday, July 7-10. This is his second appearance in Digby, having been here last summer when his ministry in music was enjoyed by many.

Ralph was in World War II and was injured. Later, he was in a plane accident and received further injuries. After that, he had a stroke which left him paralyzed from his waist down, but he did not let this be a cause for not working. He drives his own car and refuses to let stairs or other obstacles keep him from performing. With the help of his sons, he gets most anywhere he wants to go or is needed.

A few years ago, Mr. Childs became interested in helping the deaf, the blind, and ministering also to prisoners. By sign language, Mr. Childs interprets to the blind and from the blind for hospital, police etc. After research and study, the Childs-Ford Foundation was incorporated. Mr. Childs has several record albums and also does painting. Any money received from the Nova Scotia's Annapolis stronghold of the Baptist Valley is traditionally a Church.

NATIONAL PARK MOTOR VEHICLE LICENCE FEES GO INTO EFFECT JUNE 23

National Park motor vehicle licence fees in four National Parks in the Atlantic Provinces go into effect June 23, Mr. P. A. Thomson, Director of the Atlantic Region of Parks Canada, said today.

The fees, which were announced in March, are necessary to help cover the cost of $66 million of capital development and $97 million of operation and maintenance funds projected as required over the next five years for the seven National and 18 National Historic Parks of the four Provinces, Mr. Thomson said.

National Park motor vehicle licence fees will now be the same in all developed National Parks in Canada. Previously the fees had only been applied in National Parks in Ontario and Western Canada. New Parks under development will be excluded from the licence fee structure "until the state of development of their services to the public warrants the charge".

The National Parks affected in the Atlantic Provinces this year are: Terra Nova, Newfoundland; Cape Breton Highlands and Kejimikujik, Nova Scotia; and Fundy, New Brunswick. The period of fee collection ends after the Labour Day weekend.

The basic element of the licence fee is a $2.00 permit valid for unlimited entries and exits by private passenger vehicles during the day of issue. Motorists arriving after 8:00 p.m. will be issued a permit for the following day. After the day of issue, motor vehicles may be kept in the Park without charge provided no exits are made. For regular Park users, a $10.00 entry sticker valid for all National Parks in Canada will be available and will provide unlimited entries during the fiscal year of issue. A varying scale of rates applies to commercial vehicles being used for business in a National Park.

"It must be stressed that the fees apply only to motor vehicles being operated by actual Park users" Mr. Thomson said. Except for Kejimikujik, the Parks are located along transportation corridors where all through private and commercial traffic will pass free of charge as will bicyclists and pedestrians. "However, because the Cabot Trail through Cape Breton Highlands National Park is a scenic Park attraction in itself, motor vehicles travelling its full length through the Park will be charged". Travel to communities which can only be reached through a National Park is not subject to the fee system he added.

"Although some Western National Parks have been operating a few structure and entrance kiosk system for over forty years without serious difficulties, we will still be keeping a close watch on its application in this part of the country" Mr. Thomson said. For this year, "extra lanes have been provided where traffic counts have shown high volumes in the past and we have arranged to put on extra staff at peak times to avoid line-ups".

The functioning of the entrance stations and traffic flows will be continuously monitored and any needed improvements will be undertaken, he said.

The motor vehicle licence fees were originally scheduled to go into effect June 16 but minor construction delays on the traffic lanes set it back a week.

Coupled with increases in rates for facilities such as campgrounds, the Parks Canada fee system will ensure that the general taxpayer does not subsidize the National Park system to an unreasonable extent, the Director said. "Even with

Fortress Of Louisburg Stands Again

(Sheila McCook)

Down to the ancient-style hinges on the door, the hand-hewn beams on the ceilings and the perfectly reproduced tableware, the Fortress of Louisburg in Nova Scotia is an attempt to tell North Americans as accurately as possible about one of the more extravagant aspects of their past.

The fortress, constructed over the early part of the 18th century was a monument to a French king's overreaching pride in empire and to military planners' overconfidence about their ability to keep the enemy at bay by geographical barrier and gargantuan fortifications.

No sooner had construction been completed on a windswept peninsula of what is now Cape Breton Island, than the fortress fell to an invasion of New Englanders. The French planners had calculated that the fortress was impregnable by sea; they hadn't foreseen that an attack could come via the seemingly-impassable marsh and forest.

The 1748 treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle returned Louisburg to France but 10 years later it fell again, this time to the British.

In the two centuries that followed, the fortress site fell yet again—to demolition decay and quarrying.

Now Louisburg is once more open to invasion, but this time, the fortress is for the most part a reconstruction and the invaders are friendly tourists.

There was considerable information on the original fortress to facilitate plans to reconstruct a fifth of the original site.

The main structure is the barracks of the King's

monitored and any needed improvements will be undertaken, he said.

The motor vehicle licence fees were originally scheduled to go into effect June 16 but minor construction delays on the traffic lanes set it back a week.

Coupled with increases in rates for facilities such as campgrounds, the Parks Canada fee system will ensure that the general taxpayer does not subsidize the National Park system to an unreasonable extent, the Director said. "Even with visitors paying a greater share we are still only evening up our camping and other rates with private industry—which we have been unintentionally undercutting in the past year".

And, "while we realize that it is unfortunate to have to ask visitors to pay more, we can't hope to maintain a quality system of National and National Historic Parks without adequate funds".

Bastion, once thought to be the largest building of its time in North America. Within are the lavishly appointed Governor's Wing (with the most extensive collection of period French furniture on the continent), the cold and uncomfortable soldiers' quarters, officers' mess and kitchen. The chapel to the left of the main entrance was burned in October, 1974, but with the exception of some ornamental work, has now largely been restored.

Residences, fortress walls and service buildings like the ice house have been rebuilt on their original sites, reproduced as they were on the eve of the 1745 invasion.

One of the most extensive excavation and archaeological undertakings ever performed in North America, this project which started in the early 1960s and still continues has been aided by the wealth of information left behind.

Artifacts found at the site total about two million. Dozens of plans have survived time; Louisburg archives include over 500 maps, plans and views, and over half a million pages of documents and correspondence, all shedding light on the town's appearance and its inhabitants' way of life.

Open from May 15 to October 15, the fortress comes to life in ways that may surprise tourists. See a young man in tattered French military uniform, ask him what college he attends during the year, and he may snub you. He is more than a guide. He has studied the life of an actual soldier who lived at Louisburg (such is the wealth of information from two centuries ago that many residents' lives are known in surprising detail) and has now taken on his name and character.

He may stagger about like a drunk; he may wolf down his food ungraciously, or shout across the square in French to a colleague. He will also help tourists find their way about the site, but remains at least partially in character while doing so.

The rest of the time, he is performing jobs about the fortress in approximation of what his namesake did long ago.

There are many other attempts not to compromise efforts to recreate 18th century fortress life. The site is open to tourists only until 5 p.m. till June 15, and again after Labor Day; during the summer months it remains open until 8 p.m.

Keeping the fortress open to visitors later in the evening would require lighting, and anything as unauthentic as electricity wouldn't do.

Some attempts at duplicating authentic atmosphere have been hastily abandoned. Pigs once ran free on Louisburg streets; a day of that tried at today's Louisburg saw tourists running inside doorways and clinging to window sills. The pigs were installed behind a fence and peace returned to the fortress.

Louisburg is situated 23 miles from the city of Sydney. Admission to the Fortress of Louisburg National Historic Park is $2 for adults, 50 cents for children 16 years old and under. Maximum is $5 per family.

A bus transports visitors through the extensive park grounds to the fortress site.

For further information about Fortress of Louisburg National Historic Park, please contact the Canadian Government Office of Tourism, 150 Kent Street, Ottawa K1A 0H6, Canada.

The Bear River Courier

"FOR HOME AND COUNTRY"

EDITED BY WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

BEAR RIVER NATIVE HONORED

Prof. Edgar B. McKay of Bear River, Nova Scotia has been awarded the Donner Foundation Medal by the Association for Canadian Studies in the United States for "distinguished achievement" in the field of Canadian Studies in the United States.

Presentation of the citation, which accompanies the medal, was made at the banquet session of the bi-annual conference of the Association for Canadian Studies at Kellogg Centre, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich. Making the presentation was Association President-elect Dr. Edward Miles, Director of Canadian Studies, University of Vermont.

The medal first-ever by the Donner Foundation, was also awarded to Dr. Richard Preston, Director of Commonwealth Studies Program, Duke University. Special guest at the presentation ceremonies was Hon. Marcel Cadieux, Canadian Ambassador to Washington.

Prof. McKay, who has had a long and distinguished involvement in Canadian studies, was born in Boston but spent a good part of his youth and attended school in Bear River, Nova Scotia, the site of his family's original home. Over many years he has continued to return to the family home in Bear River for vacation periods. In recent years he has accelerated a program of restoration of the property.

Moving to Maine in 1919, Prof. McKay graduated from Colby College in 1930. Following graduation he taught school for some years and was Principal of Winslow High School. He then took his Master's Degree at the University of Maine and joined the faculty of the University in 1942, following his official retirement in 1973 he became Professor Emeritus.

Prof. McKay's interest in Canadian Studies was displayed throughout all his teaching career but especially so after he joined the teaching faculty at UMO.

There Prof. McKay took on the task of coordinating efforts with regard to a teaching program in Canadian Studies that had been underway at the University since 1925. Until his involvement, no systematic attempt had been made to coordinate these efforts or to develop a full-fledged Canadian program.

Prof. McKay undertook the task and during the 1950's and 1960's worked persistently to persuade faculty members and the administration that a major effort to study Canada was an eminently appropriate one for the University of Maine.

His efforts culminated in 1968 when the Board of Trustees approved the creation of the New England-Atlantic Province-Quebec Centre as the institutional unit to coordinate the University's Canadian programs. Prof. McKay was the Centre's first Director and since his retirement he has continued as an active and involved consultant to the Centre.

Under his direction the Centre has achieved a great deal. One of the major accomplishments has been the production of a Resource Bibliography on Canada. This bibliography is designed to make teachers in many fields at both elementary and secondary levels more aware of the wide variety of teaching materials available on Canada and the sources for these. The first edition, an outgrowth of a conference in 1969, was published under the direction of two Centre staff members, Professors Alice Stewart and William J. McAndrew.

The bibliography has now had its first revision and 8,000 copies were ordered by the Canadian Embassy for its consulates to distribute.

In his leadership at the NEAPQ Centre, Prof. McKay has worked in close cooperation with others in the University community at Orono. His efforts have resulted in the establishment of a Canadian Studies Centre foremost in the United States. He has also been among those influential in the formation of the Association for Canadian Studies in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. William Vidito, Clementsport, returned home on Friday from a five weeks visit to England. This is their first visit since coming home in April 1945 during war days. They live in a bungalow on the upper road and are enjoying life since retirement in April from CFB Cornwallis.

A number from here attended the "Pot Luck" supper and Birthday party of the Neighborly Club at Deep Brook Wednesday evening. The table was beautifully arranged with Covers laid for thirty members. Coping With The Problem Of Human Survival (Moncton)-- A four-day district convention of Jehovah's Witnesses in Moncton, July 10-13, will stress Divine solutions to human problems.

The meeting, expected to attract 6,500 delegates, will be held at the Moncton Coliseum. The Theme: "Divine Sovereignty."

E. Adamson, circuit overseer of the Maritime area, discussed the import of the program and stressed the human need of lasting peace and security.

"In recent decades," he said, "more and more talk has centered on the need for a world government of some kind. The problems affecting the human family are principally the same in all nations and yet solutions to these problems have eluded us."

"The lack of trust among the leadership of nations is apparent," Adamson said.

"For example, consider one result of this distrust. Though they see how unwise it is, nations nearly ruin their economies to spend billions of dollars on armaments that they hope they will never have to use."

"And yet," he said, "in view of the repeated breaking of peace treaties, nations can see no reason to trust one another, and hence, believe that there is no alternative to such arms races."

THE CAUSE OF THE PROBLEM

Commenting on the overall problem, Adamson said that the basic factor in the inability of men to solve global problems is human selfishness.

Citing the key problems: armament development and stockpiling, pollution, projected famine due to the worldwide population explosion and economic crisis with inflation, Adamson said they have become a matter of grave concern.

The effect of selfishness, he said, produces such problems to man. "It is not only prevalent in organizations and nations," he continued, "but exists in the very roots of human society."

Adamson emphasized that no one should get the idea that the earth itself is responsible for man's problems--that it is, for example, incapable of growing enough food for everyone.

Citing a report by the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization, Adamson pointed out that the earth is capable of feeding many times as many people as now live in the world.

"Humans," he said, "have been mismanaging earth's food production, as well as the distribution of that food."

"And too," he continued, "the energy crisis of the past two years has eliminated many prior demands to clean up our polluted air, water and soil. Thus, due to expediency, man is trying to delay reforms urgently needed to sustain human life in the future."

SOURCE OF RELIEF AT HAND

Adamson stressed that global problems are too difficult for men to cope with.

"That does not mean the situation is hopeless," he concluded. "Although many people refuse to accept Divine intervention in human affairs as possible, nevertheless, it is true."

"God's purpose is to bless humankind with a righteous world government that will unite all peoples on earth. Jesus Christ devoted his ministry on earth to telling people about this government. He urged his disciples to pray for it, saying, 'Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven.'"

Adamson said, God's kingdom will come in a shocking way to most people of the earth. It will bring an end to all unrighteousness he said.

"But the literal earth will survive that judgement and God will preserve righteous men to fulfill his grand purpose for our earth," he said.

Adamson said the convention program would be devoted to a full explanation of men's problem--human survival--and explain in detail how it will be achieved.

He said the public is invited. All seats are free and no collection is taken.

School's out. And the last thing the kids are thinking about is traffic.

Suddenly, the streets and roads are alive with people.

A good many of them are children. Out of school, out for fun, and with hardly a thought for the traffic.

Last year, 87 young people were killed in traffic.

If the children can't look out for themselves, the other road users must look out for them.

Weymouth High School Graduation 1975

Graduation ceremonies from Grades XI and XII were held at Weymouth Consolidated School on the night of Thursday, June 19, 1975. The welcome to the graduates was given by Mrs. Seretha Sabean, followed by an address from Warden Wilfred Swift, both of the Municipal School Board.

James Hanscomb, Supervisor of Schools, gave his report on a highly successful year at the school. Staffing appointments for next year were almost completed, he said, and all were looking forward to an equally successful year in 1975-76.

Three Grade XII students, Crysti Colwell, Marilyn Lewis, and Sherry Pleasant presented the Class History, the Class Prohecy, and the Last Will and Testament. Each of these students performed extremely well, and the audience found this an entertaining part of the proceedings.

The presentation of diplomas was made by Mr. Hanscomb, assisted by the Vice-Principal, Mr. Clayton and Mr. Sreenivasan.

The valedictorian was Arthur Hatt, who delivered a rousing address which was enthusiastically received by those present.

The distinguished guest speaker was the Honourable Catherine Callbeck, Minister of Health in the Prince Edward Island Legislature. Introduced by Mr. Clayton, Miss Callbeck spoke vigorously to the graduates, challenging them to go forward to meet the varying challenges which life has to offer in the world today. She could not promise that life would be easy, she said, but if the graduates would shoulder their responsibilities and be of good courage, she could assure them that life can be rewarding. She spoke of the need for citizens to involve themselves in public life, and hoped that many of today's graduates would do so. In conclusion, she wished the graduates well and ended with a sincere hope for their future success. She was thanked by Mrs. Elsie Stockdale.

University scholarship winners included Arthur Hatt, who was presented with a $1000.00 renewable scholarship to King's College, Halifax, and Earle Manzer, a $400.00 entrance scholarship to Acadia University. College Sainte-Anne representative Omar Blinn presented two renewable scholarships of $500.00 a year to Kathleen Burke and Judy Perry, and a $500.00 entrance scholarship to Lucille Thibodeau. Other scholarships were presented as follows:

Lewis Lumber Company Scholarship ($200.00) to George Rice

N.S.T.U. Digby Local Scholarship ($100.00) to Ardenia Gaudet

A New Approach To Industrial Problems

(John Munro)
(Minister of Labour)

In recent months, many voices have been heard expressing anxiety that Canada's industrial relations system has entered a period of crisis. Canada, of course, is by no means alone in this respect. There has been an unmistakable increase in industrial turmoil in all of the industrialized countries even those which up to now have been regarded as having largely solved their labour-management differences.

It seems obvious to me that if workable solutions are to be discovered, they will necessitate a common search by labour, management and government.

With the encouragement of labour and management, I recently convened an organizational meeting of a proposed tripartite labour relations council. The first formal meeting is scheduled for July.

The council is to be a continuing advisory body consisting of representatives of organized labour, management, and the Canada Department of Labour. It will seek to promote industrial peace by exploring methods and developing procedures emphasizing the joint resolution of labour-management problems. We hope it will enable to temper the adversary aspect of collective bargaining and develop improved, or at least less disruptive, methods of dispute settlement.

The council will be empowered to establish review panels to study specific subjects, publish the reports and analyses resulting from such studies, and recommend courses of action for the Minister of Labour to consider with his colleagues. In addition, it will review the role of Government in labour relations, examine existing legislation and recommend additional programs and services that could be provided.

The emphasis of the work to be undertaken will be in the federal jurisdiction. It is proposed that it be supported by a permanent secretariat established in the new policy group in the Department and will have available to it research and statistical resources.

It would be premature to speculate on the council's agenda. But among the things it may well include is the creation of an independent research institute that would be the source of reliable and generally accepted data.

Another needed change is the consolidation of bargaining units leading to industry-wide bargaining in some of the major national industries such as transportation, communications, ports operations, and grain-handling.

Still another area where experimentation is long overdue is that of industrial democracy and job satisfaction.

I see in these initiatives the prospect of getting at the root causes of industrial unrest. What we have to do is provide the stimulus, the framework, and the resources that will enable the practitioners themselves to modify their attitudes, their traditions, their bargaining structures—and in so doing, to restore the health of collective bargaining, and our faith in its superiority over any other method of resolving labour-management differences.

So far, the response to the idea of a tripartite council has been one of enthusiasm and co-operation. We hope this continuing dialogue will result in a realistic evaluation of the collective bargaining system and perhaps identify what alternative courses of action might be followed in specific instances.

Minimum Wage Increase

Labor Minister Walter Fitzgerald today announced Nova Scotia's minimum wage for experienced adult workers will be increased to $2.50 an hour from $2.25 on Jan. 1, 1976.

The Labor Minister said his announcement at this time fulfills the practice of the minimum wage board in giving a minimum of six months notice of change to the province's employers. "Many of these employers must set contracts for delivery months in advance and it is imperative that the length of notice give them time to adjust their costing accordingly."

The new minimum wage structure is as follows:

General order: Experienced adult workers, $2.50; persons under 18 years of age, $2.25; inexperienced employees, $2.25.

Road building and heavy construction order: experienced adult workers, $2.50.

Logging and forestry order: experienced adult workers, $2.50. Persons with no fixed work week, $4.90 a month.

Beauty parlor order: experienced adult workers, $2.50; inexperienced employees, first three months, $1.65; second three months, $1.95; third three months, $2.25.

Sports Day At Digby Elementary School

Tired, but with a sense of achievement, the students of Digby Elementary left happily for home on June 19th. They had participated in a "field day" of physical activities organized by Mrs. MacAlpine, in cooperation with Miss McCormick.

The complete day was filled with well organized activities which were appropriate to the different age groups. These activities took place on the ball field of the Digby Regional High School. The students were first divided into groups according to their age. For the younger students there were activities such as skipping, races, and games. The older students participated in such activities as the broad jump shot put, team relays, races and games.

The younger students, after enjoying a morning of physical activity, returned to their school. In the afternoon they viewed a Walt Disney film entitled "Big Red" which had been obtained for their enjoyment. The afternoon found the older students on the field once again where they enjoyed several "lug of wars" and a well played soft ball game.

Each activity was supervised by a teacher who encouraged the students to reach their greatest potential and practice good sportsmanship. Prizes donated by the Metropolitan and Save Easy, ribbons and cups gave recognition to those who had excelled in a particular event but it was the knowledge that each had done his best that gave the students their sense of achievement. Thus with the knowledge of a job well done and weary bodies to prove it, the students headed towards home.

Surveillance Underway

In preparation for a pending program of aircraft surveillance of traffic on Nova Scotia roads, Department of Highways work crews started last weekend to paint white markers, known as T-shaped gauges on some sections of highways.

Hon. Leonard I. Pace, Q.C., Minister of Highways, said in Halifax that the T-shaped gauges will be evenly-spaced over quarter mile "zone sections" so that motorists can be clocked from the air by an observer in a Cessna four-seater 172 aircraft, operated by Coastal Aviation Associates Ltd. The observer will work in conjunction with RCMP intercepter cars near the portion of highway previously marked out.

Mr. Pace said initial training phases of the aircraft surveillance program commence in Nova Scotia just prior to July 1. It is the first such operation here and will be carried out during subsequent peak weekend traffic periods as a joint effort to the Department of Highways and RCMP. Ground intercepter vehicles will be manned by RCMP officers.

The program will be phased in throughout the province as soon as possible. Major traffic arteries will have priority.

A motorist exceeding posted speed limits or impeding traffic on the specially marked sections, will be spotted from the air by the observer in the Cessna 172 who will radio to a ground intercepter vehicle details of the offender's movement. RCMP officers below then prepare to intercept.

Traffic offenders will be prosecuted. The maximum posted speed limit in Nova Scotia is 65 miles per hour. Mr. Pace advised motorists to become aware of the white T-gauge markers and to realize "that in no way do they indicate any hazard to safe, normal driving practices. They may be driven over at prudent speeds with no undue concern on the part of safety-minded motorists."

The Minister emphasized that the markers are precisely designed and applied so as to conform with all legal requirements as to marker dimensions, distances separating each marker, etc. RCMP officers are consulted as to legal measurement specifications prior to markers being put down on sections of roads. They are present during the painting process.

Though a variety of traffic infractions, accidents or vehicle malfunctions can be quickly seen from the air, the predominant traffic violation is speeding. Observers determine vehicle speeds by "clocking" a car from one marker to the next along the quarter mile strip of highway. One going 60 miles per hour will cover a quarter mile in 15 seconds and one mile in 60 seconds. Accidents and vehicle breakdown will also be reported to RCMP patrol vehicles.

Mr. Pace added that aircraft surveillance is a major step, by the Department of Highways and the RCMP, to enforce safe driving practices on Nova Scotia highways, especially with the approach of summer driving. "During the months of June, July and August over the past three years, there has been an average of 28, 32 and 38 deaths respectively on our highways. We are into this peak fatality season again and we are determined to reduce this death rate...even if rigorously applying existing laws means that we must protect some drivers from themselves."

A total of 268 people died on Nova Scotia highways last year. There were more than 18,000 accidents. There have been 81 deaths so far in 1975. "This is 12 fewer than at this time in 1974," noted Mr. Pace, "but the modest reduction is not good enough more has to be done by way of rigid enforcement of traffic laws so as to make our 370,000 licensed drivers constantly aware of the vital necessity to drive safely...as if their lives depend on it, because they do!"

The minister said that though traffic deaths are down slightly this year over those of 1974, "this is no reason to be complacent...every effort must continue to be made to cut the grim toll of highways fatalities, as well as diminishing the ensuring human misery, property losses and costs of taxpayers of long period of victims' hospitalization."

GRANDMOTHER'S OLD ARM CHAIR

By John Read

My grandmother, she, at the age of eighty-three, One day in May was taken ill and died; And after she was dead, the will of course was read By a lawyer, as we all stood by his side. To my brother, it was found, she had left a hundred pounds, The same unto my sister, I declare; But when it came to me, the lawyer said, "I see She has left to you her old arm chair."

Chorus: How they tittered, how they chaffed, How my brother and sister laughed; When they heard the lawyer declare Granny'd only left to me her old arm chair.

I thought it hardly fair, still I said I did not care, And in the evening took the chair away; My brother at me laughed, the lawyer at me chaffed, And said: "It will be useful, John, some day When you settle down in life, find some girl to be your wife You'll find it very handy, I declare; On a cold and frosty night, when the fire is burning bright, You can then sit in your old arm chair."

What the lawyer said was true, for in a year or two, Strange to say, I settled down in married life. I first a girl did court, and then a ring I bought, Took her to the church, and then she was my wife. Now the dear girl and me are as happy as can be, And when my work is done, I declare, I ne'er abroad would roam, but each night I'd stay at home And be seated in my old arm chair.

One night the chair fell down; when I picked it up I found The seat had fallen out upon the floor, And there before my eyes I saw to my surprise A lot of notes-ten thousand pounds or more. When my brother heard of this, the fellow, I confess, Went nearly mad with rage and tore his hair; But I only laughed at him, and I said unto him; "Jim, Don't you wish you had the old arm chair?"

The students of Westport School have recently been working on a project outside of school work. For the last two weeks they have been constructing a playground behind the school house. The students, with the help of their teacher, Ray Tudor, have been collecting barrels, tires from local people, getting poles and driftwood from the beaches on the island. When enough material was gathered, construction began. As soon as the objects were completed, an entire day was spent by grades 6, 7, and 8 in painting the various objects. The playground is now open to the children of Westport.

In the picture above are Jamie Swift, Randy Bezan, Dana Swift, Craig Glavin, LaReta Welch, Jerry Titus, Steve Glavin, Joyce Robicheau, Pam Lent and Sandy Delsey. The objects are painted a bright color and after looking at the paint on some of the painters it was hard to tell who got the most. They were very enthusiastic about the work they were doing.

A TALL TALE

I was walking along looking around, When suddenly I heard a sound.

I opened one eye, and looked up and saw a bunch of curved lines the size of my pa.

No you didn't, I said with a grin. I didn't, asked the wind rubbing his chin?

Well I'll scare you he said, taking a breath. I'll scare you 'til you scared to death!

My house went up- It went up high. I never thought our house could fly!

I could not move, I had to stay. I closed my eyes, and slept away.

I looked around, but nothing was there, I was pushed to the ground by a gush of air.

Who are you? I asked with a stare? My name is the wind. Did I give you a scare?

No you didn't I said backing away. I wasn't just sure what to say.

So he started to blow and OH! the breeze! It blew so hard, it shook the trees.

I was pushed to the ground By a big strong breeze, that old wind was sure a tease!

And when I awoke, I had a surprise! I couldn't believe, what met my eyes.

The wind had brought back our house, and had brought back more. Because of that, we're no longer poor.

Sing At Smith's Cove Drive-In Service

Licentiate Richard Moore of Deep Brook was guest speaker at the Smith's Cove Drive-In Service on Sunday evening, June 29. Special music was provided by the Clementsport Baptist Church Choir under the direction of Mrs. Alice Blacklock, pianist.

Following the singing of the hymn "In Times Like These" Mrs. Brenda Frail presented her testimony as a new Christian. Soloists were Kenneth Robinson and Franklin Thompson. The Men's Group of the church also presented a special number at the close of the service.

Mr. Moore took as his text Acts 5:1-12 the account of Ananias and his wife, Sapphira, who sold their property and held back some of the profits when giving to the Lord. Mr. Moore asked the question, "Are we willing to give all to Christ?" or are we lying to God and those around us as did Ananias and Sapphira. He emphasized that when we surrender our all to Christ we receive abundantly from Him, more than we ask.

Lic. Brian Harpell of Halifax and Mary Lee Wilson of Wolfville presented the Summer of Service '75 program which will be on the Deep Brook Pastorate from July 30 to August 3.

Next week the former pastor of the Smith's Cove Baptist Church, Rev. Charles Milbury, will be guest speaker. Special music will be presented by Cyril Middleton of Weymouth Falls and others.

plays "The Emperor's Clothes" and "The King's Legs" will be presented by grade seven classes.

The next review of provincial social assistance budget allowances and maximum payments will be January, 1976.

Those blind and disabled persons who receive a supplementary allowance to their blind or disabled persons allowance will also receive an increase to their supplementary allowance.

The maximum allowance for fuel will increase from $32 per month to $34 per month and the maximum amount for electricity will increase from $16 per month to $17 per month. All allowances are rounded to the nearest dollar.

On March 1, 1975, the minimum wage increased from $2.20 to $2.25 per hour. Provincial assistance maximum payments are being increased by a similar percentage of 2.27 per cent rounded to the nearest dollar.

For example, the maximum payment for one adult and two children is being increased from $326 per month to $334 per month. This new maximum represents an increase of approximately 25 per cent over the maximum payment of a year ago, July 1, 1974, when the maximum payment for one adult and two children was $267 per month.

The cost of these increases is estimated at $1.5 million for the remainder of the fiscal year which is included

Prices Up Again?

Four oil companies, Texaco, Shell, Petrofina and Gulf, who applied to the Nova Scotia Board of Commissioners of Public Utilities for increases in the price of gasoline and fuel oils have been partially successful, while an application from a fifth company, Irving Oil, has been rejected.

The orders issued followed a decision by the board regarding an application for increases by Imperial Oil Limited. The increases granted Imperial Oil were similarly less than the increases requested.

In all cases, the Board ruled that the increases sought by the Oil Companies "Are not just sure and reasonable."

Texaco Canada Limited applied for an increase of 2.2 cents a gallon in gasoline, heating fuels (stove and furnace oil) and Diesel Fuels, and 1.3 cents a gallon increase in heavy fuels. The Board granted increases of six-tenths a cent a gallon and four-tenths a cent a gallon, respectively.

The increases relate to dealer tank wagon posted prices, the price at which the Company sells to Service Station, the Consumer Tank Wagon Posted prices, and FOB Bulk posted prices.

In Texaco's case the dealer tank wagon posted price of gasoline will range from 38.4 to 41.3 cents a gallon for regular grade gasoline, 41.4 to 44.3 cents a gallon for Lead-Free gas and 43.5 to 46.4 for Premium Gas, depending on the area of the Province in which it is sold. Added to this cost is the 21 cents a gallon Provincial Sales Tax and normal dealer mark-up to determine the pump price paid by the consumer.

The cost of Furnace Oil to consumers will range from 35.4 to 38.3 cents a gallon, while the price of Stove Oil will range from 39.9 to 42.8 cents a gallon, depending on the area of the Province.

Shell Canada Limited requested increases of 1.9 cents a gallon in Gasolines, two cents a gallon in Aviation Fuel, 1.5 cents a gallon in Diesel Fuel Oils and two cents a gallon in Furnace and Stove Oils. The Company was granted three-tenths a cent a gallon increase in Gasoline, other than number 3 grade (no-lead) which was increased by two-tenths a cent a gallon, three-tenths a cent a gallon for Furnace and Stove oil, and two-tenths a cent a gallon for Diesel Fuel Oil.

Petrofina Canada Limited requested an increase of 2.2 cents a gallon for posted prices of all gasolines and fuel oils, and was granted an increase of six-tenths a cent a gallon in each instance.

Gulf oil Canada Limited requested increases of 1.9 cents a gallon for Gasolines, 2.2 cents a gallon for Diesel Fuel, two cents a gallon for Heating Fuel, Aviation Gasolines, Jet Fuel and delivered Bunker Fuel, and 1.3 cents a gallon for FOB Refinery Bunker Fuel, Domestic Marine Bunker and Domestic Marine Gas Fuels. The Board granted increases of three-tenths a cent a gallon for the posted prices of Gasoline, Grades 1, 2 and 3; Diesel, Stove and Furnace Oil; two-tenths a cent a gallon on Rack FOB Bulk prices of Domestic Marine Gas-Oil, Domestic Marine Bunker, Bunker Fuel and intermediate fuels.

Irving Oil Limited had requested increases of 2.2 cents a gallon for Gasolines and Fuel Oils, and 1.3 cents a gallon in the Halifax prices of Bunker C Oil.

The Board, in turning down the Irving request, said: "The Board, through its solicitor and by order requested additional information from the applicant, of which only a portion was supplied. The Board is of the opinion that because of the applicant's omissions, it has not sufficient information before it to determine the new just and reasonable prices of the Gasolines and Fuel Oils involved on the application."

Regarding all the requests for increases, the Commissioners said: "It is not the Board's intention to regulate the Petroleum Industry in Nova Scotia as a public utility monopoly, but rather to encourage it to operate efficiently as a competitive industry, which the Board believes it has the potential to be.

"The cost approach (as presented by the Companies) produced no definitive evidence either in support of the proposed prices or of intermediate prices. The Board has already made reference to the study it caused to be made of the cost approach as the determinant factor of a just and reasonable price in Nova Scotia and to the width of the spread in the increase of cost depending on the method used. The use of cost figures, without supporting revenue figures does not materially assist the Board. Likewise the use of National or Atlantic Region figures, either alone or combined are not of sufficient assistance.

"As already mentioned, in addition to cost figures, importance must be attached to marketing information, such as the prevalence of discounting to contract and service station customers, the profitability and financial health of the applicants, the applicants' possible production and marketing efficiencies, crude prices, the degree of competition that exists in the industry, prices in comparable markets east of the Ottawa Valley, economic conditions and other related facts."

First Calibre Craftsmanship

Early in May, with the assistance of an Opportunities For Youth Grant, three young people put into operation a non-profit craft shop in Annapolis Royal.

Located on St. George Street at the Queen's wharf, the Shop is a good representative of the fine crafts being produced in the Annapolis Valley.

Ian Lawrence, Kat Hagan and Annie Macintosh have something to offer every buyer, from knitted goods to pottery to wood work.

Standards set by the shop are very high, and only the best is accepted, with a variety of designs from traditional to contemporary.

As wages are paid by the grant and a local businessman has given the little shop rent-free, the group asks no commission and all proceeds are turned over to the craftspeople using the facility.

If you're looking for a gift with a local flavor or for something just for yourself, a visit to the Queen's Wharf may solve your problem or just drop in and see what fine handwork is being turned out by the residents of the Valley area.

No Nominations For Mayor

Nomination Day, Tuesday, July 8th, Digby closed at 5:00 p.m. without a name submitted as candidate for the highest office of the town, that of Mayor. Should there have been more than one name submitted an election would have been held on July 22nd. If there had been one submission that candidate would have become Mayor by acclamation. Nomination Day on July 8th produced no candidate so another Nomination Day will have to be set and plans again will get underway for a by-election to choose a Mayor for the town.

Digby has had the unhappy experience of having had two mayors resign within a few months. Glen Smith did not offer to run again for mayor when he finished. Six years of mayorality in the town of Digby January 1974. Willard Kinney took over the mayorship by acclamation in the fall of 1974 but owing to pressure of time and the responsibility of earning a living, Mayor Kinney resigned. Then Patrick Comeau by acclamation, followed Mr. Kinney in the Mayor's chair. His stay of office terminated by resignation in May 1975 because his health would not stand up to the stress and strain of steering the course at this particular time in Digby. Deputy Mayor Phillip Robertson has been occupying the Mayor's chair since that time.

Englehutt And Langille At Digby Town Council

John Englehutt of Digby and Harold Langille of Bridgetown appeared before Digby Town Council on Monday on behalf of the Annapolis Basin-Digby Development Commission. Their purpose was not at this time to seek funds but to find out from Town Council whether they still have confidence in the concept of the organization as that with which it began.

Mr. Langille reviewed the history of the A.B.D.D.C. from the time of its inauguration in 1967. It was at that time that the then mayor of Digby, Glen Smith and Reidar Bernsten met with the mayor of Annapolis and Mr. Langille and they endeavoured to get light industry here. They made good progress and were interested in the Funder Corporation but the project got stalled after a market survey.

The last meeting of the Commission on June 11, 1975, carried a motion to have a committee consisting of Mr. Englehutt, Mr. Langille and MacLeod Rogers, Q.C., to appear before the four involved councils, Digby, Annapolis Royal, Municipal Council in Annapolis and the council of the Municipality of the District of Digby.

Mr. Englehutt and Mr. Langille felt they should have a new vote of confidence in the concept, a unified approach, activity channelled through the Commission, active interest and support and a part-time or full-time person working on the projects. The last item requiring the four councils to fund jointly.

Mr. Englehutt and Mr. Langille felt that Digby and Annapolis Basin area had been losing out on small industry and felt that tourism is not enough alone to build up the area. They said nothing will be done unless the powers-that-be are badgered.

Mr. Rogers who was present at the meeting in another capacity explained that what was needed was a decision from the four councils before taking further steps. The fact that other organizations wanted to have the finances of the Development Commission turned over to them came up but the Commission felt they had no authority to do that.

Mr. Englehutt is chairman pro tem of the Commission. Council decided to table the request for more study.

which might occur regarding the event. Mrs. Macdonald mentioned that the downtown merchants have not responded well to the letters sent out for donations and the Natal Day committee felt they were to look after the program and not be responsible for raising the money. Town Council by regular motion decided to pick up any deficit not exceeding $700.

The meeting on Monday evening was presided over by the deputy mayor, Philip Robertson, who heard reports from most of the standing committees and a few employees of the town.

In their report the R.C.M.P. who police the town felt that the liquor situation in town is considered good. Councillor Gordon Ellis enquired about use of "dope". This was felt to be growing. Police had driven 1808 miles in June and collected fines to $250. for the town, $619. province and $45. for federal payment.

Charges were laid for motor vehicle offenses, assault, theft, false cheques, etc. Councillor Eileen Chipman nominated Charles Haliburton to the Digby Town school Board. By motion the nomination was passed.

25th Wedding Anniversary

The family and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Ring, Barton, Digby Co., gathered at their home to honour them with a surprise 25th Wedding Anniversary party. Their family hosted them to a supper at the Digby Pines Hotel and upon their return to their home they were greeted with a surprise party by their friends and daughter-in-law, Carol Ring, who had stayed behind to be hostess.

Sister Leaves For Vancouver

Sister Rita O'Keefe (Sister Mary Charles) left on Thursday for Vancouver where she will be serving at St. Vincent's Hospital of that city. Before departing Sister O'Keefe was honoured by various receptions and farewells. Among them were the Lions Club when she was made Digby Lions Citizen of the year; the Digby Regional High School Board and teachers; the Parish of St. Patrick's Church and the Knights of Columbus.

Rev. Father Maillett presided at the farewell given by the parish at the Knights of Columbia hall on Tuesday, July 1 when he presented a plaque to Sister O'Keefe on behalf of the parishioners. The inscription on the plaque paid tribute to Sister O'Keefe for her many years of devoted service to the community and its youth and expressed the prayer that Sister's future years continue to be filled with God's love. It was signed Parishioners of St. Pat's Parish, Digby, June 1975.

Other gifts, flowers and remembrances were presented by J. Patrick Comeau; Mrs. Noni Comeau on behalf of the women of St. Patrick's Guild and on behalf Sister's students during her 24 years service by a first year student, Mrs. Floyd Oliver, Parker's Cove, formerly Miss Ruby Clayton, Parker's Cove. Mr. Comeau in his presentation spoke of the fine basic training Sister O'Keefe gave to the youth and spoke from experience because his daughters had been influenced by the example of Sister O'Keefe during their years as students under her.

One of the pleasant functions at the July 1 reception was the introduction of Sister Stella of Saint John, N.B. who was in Digby for sixteen years having come twenty-four years ago, 1951, in company of Sister O'Keefe to establish training for youth of the community.

Among those who came to express to Sister O'Keefe their sentiments were Rev. Father Gaudet, F.C. Purdy, former superintendent of schools; Clifford Edward, inspector of schools and C.C. MacInnis, school superintendent, Digby.

In reply to all the salutations and presentations, Sister O'Keefe expressed appreciation for all the people had done for her in the past twenty-four years. She reminisced on the first years in Digby and showed a picture of her first graduating class. In so doing she said she had to fight the tears. She thanked her benefactors who held fund raising events so that the school equipment could keep up-to-date. It was wonderful, she remarked to belong to a community like Digby. She thanked those who came to the "At Home", those who sent cards and gifts and beautiful letters. One five dollar bill has on it a perfect picture of the Digby fishing fleet. She asked "Can I ever forget?"

Sister O'Keefe told the graduates that she had always hoped that they might be able to take some of her philosophy out into the world with them. She repeated a poem "The Teacher" which she often read in school and asked them to remember that the best teacher is life and the best friend is God. She reminded them to be kind for every one is fighting a battle and added a bit more philosophy "The future is purchased by the present, and Christianity is not a religion, it's a way of life."

Mr. and Mrs. Ring presented each other with gifts as well as money. Their family's gift to them was an engraved silver tray.

More Time To Study Proposed Office Set Up

With the prospects that municipal offices will be undergoing a change should items of the Graham report pass third reading in the legislature, Town Clerk Glen Pitman, in his report at Town Council on Monday evening requested additional office staff and passed around copies of his proposal in setting up duties of the staff. He felt this necessary before the 1976-1977 budgets are set and which he expects will be done in December. Councillor William Reid moved and Councillor Guy VanTassel seconded a motion to add to the office staff. The motion passed with Mrs. Chipman against. Councillor Chipman felt that a week, at least, should be used to study the set-up as proposed by Mr. Pitman. She felt nothing should be done until there is a new mayor elected and wondered if they should have professional advice or a government representative come. Deputy Mayor Robertson felt that the Town Clerk knows what is needed.

Prior to reading his report, Mr. Pitman had distributed a copy of his proposed set-up to each councillor with the stipulation that they be passed back as they were only proposals. Councillor Chipman did not return hers as the other councillors did, her reason being for further study. MacLeod Rogers, town solicitor told Mrs. Chipman that she should not have received the sheet with the proposal if she was not prepared to return it.

Mr. Pitman also spoke of the deplorable conditions under which the staff works in the Town Hall. It is dirty, there is not protection for the sun and heat and felt the town should either build a new Town Hall or clean up the present one.

As chairman of the Town Hall committee Councillor Chipman was asked to call together the committee and report back to Council on their feelings on recommendations.

During the meeting MacLeod Rogers apologized to Councillor Eileen Chipman expressing a wrong opinion re the last rate-payers meeting. He said that while he apologizes to Mrs. Chipman for the wrong opinion, Mrs. Chipman, herself, chose not to vote at the meeting. Mr. Rogers said no approach had been made by her to point out that particular section of the regulation.

Untidy Streets Scored

Both Councillor Eileen Chipman and Councillor Gordon Ellis on Monday evening at Town Council meeting brought up the subject of Digby's untidy streets. Mr. Ellis felt the cleaning of streets goes backwards year after year.

"Cardozas" National Conference Delegates

The Student Community Service Program is a Government of Canada program designed to strengthen and further develop voluntary organizations by improving their capacity to respond to changing community needs, and by channelling the energy and imagination of youth into the voluntary sector.

A project co-ordinator was appointed by the Board of Directors and four students were carefully selected to work on this project. The co-ordinator of this project is Mr. Hal Theriault and the students involved are: Jene Dugas, Karen Brown, Hubert d'Entremont and Daniel Haight.

Mrs. Chipman felt it was a disgrace to see the garbage on the street and on the beach including paper cups and boxes. Several suggestions were made, to start cleaning streets at 5:30 a.m. (this was passed), write a letter to offenders and placing garbage cans. Educating people to tidiness was another suggestion. Councillor Guy Van Tassel was asked to look into the matter and councillors felt that the town should not have to be responsible for private garbage collection.

Webster Dunn reported collections from the parking meters in June amounted to $496.32. There were 71 tickets issued and 16 of them collected. He also reported the white line being restored on the streets.

Karl Niemeyer, building inspector reported that building construction to the amount of $96,400 had been applied for and $90 in fees had been collected.

Hebert Warren and Harry Titus were named presiding officers for the by-elections in July and Mrs. Alice Winfield and Victor Thompson were named poll clerks.

CONSIDER PARAPLEGIC

Senior Citizens, those in financial need, those who are ill or handicapped in any way come in for assistance under social welfare. What about the paraplegic? Not that we think every paraplegic is in need of financial assistance. Not so. We find paraplegics are usually ambitious people who can make a respectable living despite the wheelchair handicap.

No. It isn't monetary social assistance so much that is needed for the paraplegic. The need is a real concern about their plight when it comes to conveniences which will help them get as much enjoyment out of life as possible. The number one inconvenience is their inability to climb stairs and to ascend and descend the sidewalk curbs on wheelchairs. In a letter from Harold MacLeod, Building Accessibility Officer for the Canadian Paraplegic Association, he says that if a wheelchair occupant cannot get up onto a curb, he is forced to travel in traffic. This, he says, could easily cause an accident where loss of life is the result. He finds that for safety and convenience, curb ramps are needed if the physically handicapped person is to maintain an independent existence. Because of this the Association is conducting a 1975 Curb Ramp Campaign.

Mr. MacLeod contacted each town of the province by letter but many did not respond. Digby was one of those. This omission, we feel, was not through lack of concern but simply a lack of time to take care of these matters. Besides, Digby Town, having had its ups and downs in personnel for the past year has had little opportunity to think about sidewalks either with or without ramps. If and when Digby does get to the sidewalk repair stage, we feel this important matter will be seen to in the process. We felt it is important enough to bring the case of the paraplegic inconvenience to the attention of our readers. Designers of sidewalks and buildings might keep the paraplegic in mind when the necessity arises.

NOVA SCOTIA THE BOOK YOU'LL WANT

Even if Digby area had been left out of "Nova Scotia" we would still have to give Harry Bruce credit for a most delightful book, filled with magnificent pictures in glorious array and much factual reading matter. Having somewhat of a prejudice so far as Digby is concerned, our first impulse was to scan the pages to see if any of them mentioned Digby. So often we had seen publications which more or less ignored Digby and area. Not so with "Nova Scotia".

"Nova Scotia" boasts of eighty pictures between its hard covers and out of those, five were from the Digby area and one or two others appeared to be from around this area also. That percentage, we consider to be quite good when the book deals with the province of Nova Scotia from Yarmouth to Cape Breton. The 9 X 12 hard covered 85 page book is worth all that the publishers are asking especially in a day when printing prices have inflated along with other climbing costs. Excuse us for being mercenary but we must add that the book is a tremendous advertisement for Nova Scotia, including our own area here.

The first picture referring to the Digby area is of Marine vegetation in the waters around Brier Island.

Another picture shows the moon and the mist having an evening competition on Digby Neck. Our guess is Centreville but one of these days we'll see for sure. There is a beautiful picture of Sandy Cove (including the two churches) and while the owners of the house is not mentioned there is a picture entitled Homestead, Digby Neck, which without a doubt is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe C. Krejci at Gullivers Cove. Mr. Krejci came to Canada from Czechoslovakia. Mrs. Krejci (Linda) was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Milberry of Bear River and the couple lived in Bear River until three years ago when they purchased the attractive home at Gullivers Cove. Mr. Krejci works at the Harbour Bakery, Digby. Having their home so vividly portrayed in the book might call for a courtesy copy for the Krejci family.

Added to the Digby pictures is one of a boy playing on the floating slip at the government wharves in Digby. This is entitled "Tides Out and So Is School." There is a picture of a beach and fish weirs which looks suspiciously like Sandy Cove.

Other pictures cover the territory at random from one end of Nova Scotia to the other on both the Valley route and South Shore route. Somewhere there will be relatives and friends who will be able to recognize the pictures of two distinct fishermen whose portraits appear.

Author Harry Bruce and his team of more than a dozen skilful photographers have captured for readers of "Nova Scotia" a perfect picture of the moods of the sea, the dawn of another good day, the sunset at night, the breeze that cools the air and the mist that so often settles around the coastal waters of the beautiful province of Nova Scotia. Quite readily the author and photographers have caught the way of life in various communities and are helping through the pages of "Nova Scotia" to preserve the beauty of the land, to publicize Nova Scotia and acquaint others with the occupations and habits of those who seek a livelihood in Nova Scotia. Nova Scotians in general will be proud to have such an attractive and informative publication available. It is useful for personal gifts and treasures and certainly, it does much to introduce Nova Scotia to Nova Scotians and to those outside the province.

Our thanks for the complimentary copy and our best wishes for a really successful launching of the book "Nova Scotia".

Mr. Bruce is a Toronto-born freelance writer who with his wife and family settled here in Nova Scotia in 1971. He has written stories for many Canadian Magazines and is considered by many critics as the best essayist in Canada. "Nova Scotia" is a book about Nova Scotia, with authorship and photography from Nova Scotia. It is published by the Hounslow Press, 173 Hounslow Ave., Willodale, Ontario for the small sum of $8.95. We'll be looking for it on the shelves of our book stores and libraries.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor and Readers:

During June the press gave front page headlines to stories relating to "areas of frustration" within the Digby Town Council, as defined by the recent mayor (Comeau) and his deputy (Robertson.) As I, the only female councillor, appear to be considered the "area of frustration," I would like to comment on the position to which I was elected last October.

The arena of municipal politics was far from being a new and strange domain. I had rarely missed a meeting of council, to which I was able to gain entry, in the past ten years, and more often than not, was the lone observer.

When my intention to become a candidate became known, officialdom seemed disturbed, and a vigorous campaign to prevent me from gaining entrance to the inner walls of the control tower swung into action. My nomination papers, (sponsored by men and signed by four male and two female citizens,) were soon followed by those of three incumbent male councillors and a fourth male newcomer. Officialdom came down to the people, and telephones and doorbells rang as never before. From the beginning, there were stumbling blocks every step of the way. When I tried to obtain a voters list from the town clerk, the price of two cents per name, (approximately $30.00) quoted, eventually came down to $1.44 - after considerable argument! On election day the clerk posted a notice at the polls which suggested that the voters were required to vote for three of the five candidates. Only after difficulty, and with assistance, was I able to have this misinformation removed.

In spite of the efforts of the small power structure, I led the polls over my four male competitors. Needless to say, this jolt to the male ego did nothing to enhance the relationship or prompt the delivery of red roses! On November 4, only three councillors appeared for the swearing-in ceremony.

In campaigning, I had told the people that I would strive to roll back the curtain of secrecy, behind which much of the town's business appeared to be conducted by too few, too long. As the curtain began to stir, and glimpses of back-stage appeared for the first time, through my occasional letters to the media, frustration in the secret chamber mounted. Petty situations were created to make me appear incompetent. Long and grueling sessions of interrogation and veiled ad-

SAFE BOATING WEEK. JULY 1-7 1975

Boating is a pleasurable pastime but one that requires a degree of expertise.

No parent would, or should, allow their teenagers to borrow the family car without being sure that they have received adequate driving instructions are are capable of handling the responsibilities involved. However, many children, some younger than the legal driving age, are allowed free access to all shapes and sizes of boats which are often highly powered and of fast hull design.

In 1973, the last year for which complete statistics are available, 1,226 Canadians drowned. Of this number 365 involved watercraft and 325 were children under the age of 15. In the case of the youngsters 9 percent involved watercraft.

A key to the reduction of these outrageous figures is proper training in the handling of all types of watercraft and the instilling of water safety consciousness in all persons disposed to this form of recreation.

To this end the Canada Safety Council strongly urges all boating amateurs to affiliate themselves with an organized club in the particular sport of their choice. Such clubs cover all facets of water sports such as canoeing, sailing, yachting, skiing, swimming, underwater diving, etc.

Enjoy our beautiful Canadian waterways- the safe way!

monition from the chair, while the deputy smirked his lips in approval, consumed hours of council time during the term of the most recent mayor.

On June 5 a special meeting was called. In a last ditch attempt, the stage was set for the assassination of my credibility as a public official. Male dignitaries arrived in Sunday best and nervously fidgeted with unaccustomed collars and ties, and lapels heavy with badges of bravery. The curtain rose on the "night of the knives." (Apologies to Bob Coates.) The press arrived from far and near and cameras from CBC and CJCH-TV rolled into action. I was cast in the leading role - and the script writer had forgotten to write my script! The deputy mayor took the chair. While the cameras focused on me, his prepared speech from the throne unveiled three charges laid against the female councillor. In grave and stirring tones, the deputy read the charges as follows:

(1) I called two committee meetings to interview applicants for dog catcher, which Councillor Chipman would not attend because one of the committee members was out of town. It only requires two of three members to hold a meeting.

(2) She also refused to attend a committee meeting to interview applicants for a building inspector.

(3) The town property committee, of which she is chairman, held a meeting to open tenders, of which there was only one, on the police car. The committee agreed to accept the tender and this was held up two months because she would not present the tender."

With added zeal and volume he continued, "I would hope these statements will give the citizens some idea of part of the reason why two mayors have resigned and why this council cannot function under these conditions."

The deputy also said that "nit picking had almost brought the business of the

Hodge Podge

Last week's holiday falling on Tuesday prevented much copy from reaching our desk before the deadline. Why complain when the weather was ideal for a holiday and the sun poured its blessings on Kiwanis Weymouth Day.

Sister Stella, Saint John, N.B. was in Digby to attend the reception given by the Knights of Columbia for Sister Rita O'Keefe. Many will remember her having been Mother Superior at St. Patrick's Convent during her 16 years in Digby. Sister Stella says she keeps in touch with Digby through The Digby Courier.

Competition is high in some places. No fewer than eighteen young ladies vie for the honor of Miss Newcastle (N.B.) according to the Miramichi Press in Chatham. Easier or not so easy on the judges. In any event, eighteen entries shows a lot of community participation.

We hope Kenneth S. Olsen of Williston, North Dakota, his received a copy of the June 19 issue of the Vernal Express, Utah, U.S.A. We got his copy on July 7. We didn't relay the copy to Mr. Olsen because we felt the cost and time element could be easier handled by Jack Wallis of the Vernal Express. Why do we mention it at all? Simply to let our subscribers to The Digby Courier know that it happens everywhere.

council to a standstill." Here are a few of my unanswered questions which might qualify for the term:

(1) Why was an alleged trespass on church property, (to service a developer) which resulted in a threatened lawsuit, first dealt with outside committee or council?

(2) Why was important parking meter business conducted outside, rather than within council or committee?

(3) Why was a request for approval of a liquor license not placed on the agenda of council and why were petitions from five protestant churches regarding this, not considered important enough correspondence to be read in council until insisted upon by the female councillor, and then read only after a vote of council?

(4) Why have taxpayers of fifty years been denied essential services while exorbitant amounts of their tax dollars are channelled into services to a development company, and why have eleven of sixteen insurance policies gone through the same door of an insurance and development office, without tender?

FREDERICKS - In memory of a loving husband and father Wilfred who passed away one year ago today, July 5th, 1974. One sad lonely year has passed. Since the great sorrow fell. The shock that I received that morn No one can ever tell. God gave me strength to meet it. And courage to bear the blow But what it meant to lose you No one will ever know. SADLY MISSED AND LOVINGLY REMEMBERED BY WIFE RUTH AND FAMILY. 48:10p

GOSSON - In loving memory of my brother, Richard Wayne (Rickey) who was killed in a car accident on July 13, 1971. This month comes with sad regret. It brings back a day we shall never forget. GOSSON - In loving memory of a dear brother, Rickey Gosson, who passed away July 13, 1971. There's nothing so treasured And nothing so rare As the love that a brother and a sister share Through childhood days of laughter and fears. We developed a closeness, that grew with the years. This love that we shared doesn't need to be spoken It's a wonderful bond and can never be broken For he was a brother I was proud to own. How much I miss him can never be known. ALWAYS REMEMBERED BY SISTER, RENA, TERRY, TROY AND TERRILLEE. 48:10p

GIDNEY - In loving memory of my son, and a brother Larry Walter who drowned July 11th 1949. In a quiet little cemetery close beside a country road Lies a son we loved so dearly. But we lost him twenty-six years ago. There's someone who misses you sadly. In a home where you used to be There's someone who wanted to keep you "Larry". But God willed it not to be. You left us some beautiful memories, and sorrows too great to be told But to us who loved and lost you. Your memories will never grow old. Your grave I visit often and I pray to God above Please take a message to "Larry" And give him all our love. Always remembered and sadly missed by Mum and Sister Brenda. 48:10c

Events In '76

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will be the host broadcaster for two major events of world-wide interest to be held in Canada during the summer of 1976. They are the United Nations Human Settlement Conference to be held in Vancouver, May 31 to June 11, and the Summer Olympics in Montreal July 17 to Aug. 1.

CBC President Laurent Picard said, "In accepting the host broadcaster role for these two historical events, we were quite frankly concerned what it would do to our regular program services."

"Now, after a great deal of planning by our English and French Services Divisions, we feel that an approach has been developed to minimize the impact on our regular services. While the disruption in our various studios for a period prior to these events will be high because of the drain of manpower and equipment, I believe we can look with a great deal of enthusiasm to the summer of 1976."

Don MacPherson, Vice-President and General Manager of the CBC's English Services Division, said that "except for the specific period of the Olympics, regular program services will be maintained and we will fulfill all of our commitments to actors and performers."

Church School Picnic

The Bear River United Baptist Sunday School held their annual picnic at Johnston Christian park on Monday afternoon, June 30th. Most of the children this year, other than to sign monthly bills at the clerk's desk, a few minutes before the regular monthly meeting of council?

If this is nit picking, and if it succeeds in slowing down this kind of business to some small degree, then the female councillor has not served in vain. She may even be honoured by a declaration of "Nit Pickers Week in Digby."

The phone just rang and I must bring this letter to a close. It was about a dog catcher meeting.... and I have fifteen minutes to get ready!

Eileen Chipman
Councillor

were transported by truck to the park which is always a happy ride for the children. There was a good crowd of adults and children attending the picnic amounting to about 75.

Soon after the children arrived they enjoyed a swim in the lake which was capably supervised by Mrs. Jean Marshall. Following this there was a ball game organized for the young people by Sunday School Superintendent, Frank Marshall. A number of adults also took part in this game. There also were races, peanut scramble, and games assisted by Esther Baubs, Jean Marshall and several other mothers.

There were prizes given for the winners, and treats for all the participants.

At 5:30 p.m. supper was served in the main building consisting of beans, salads, casseroles, pies, sandwiches, cookies and cake. Our pastor Rev. R. Seeley asked God's blessing on the food.

The weather was ideal and a good time was enjoyed by all. Thanks to the parents and to those who helped in any way to make the day a happy one for children which brings to mind a verse in Matthew 25:40 In as much as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me.

VBS Closing At Tiverton

(Mrs. John P. Outhouse)

A display of crafts and a program of songs, scripture reading, and a dialogue marked the closing of Vacation Bible School held in the Tiverton Christian Church, June 30 - July 4.

Minister Charles McNeil and Mrs. Robert Ruggles opened each session which began at nine o'clock with recess at 10:15 and closed at 12 noon. The first 15-20 minutes were spent learning new songs and choruses surrounding the week's theme, "Good News Is Jesus". Featured songs were, Smile, God Loves you! Stop Song, Count Down and others. Following recess, Mrs. Ruggles presented a Missionary story. The story related to the fact that some Russians are thirsting for the Word of God. She pointed out by way of on-the-spot photos and literature supplied by Christian missionaries that there are not enough New Testaments to supply the population of Russia. The speaker disclosed the people of Russia filled the church building to capacity to hear the Bible read and they left the windows of the building wide open so that the tremendous crowd gathered outside could also hear God's Word. The story also portrayed God's hand leading, guiding and protecting the missionaries during their ventures into Russian territory that was not always friendly.

The various classes retired to study areas for Bible lessons, and crafts. Once more classes assembled for an object lesson by Mr. McNeil and were then dismissed for the day.

During the closing program the students were awarded certificates by the teachers. Mr. McNeil distributed certificates to the teachers and their helpers.

Offering for the week amounted to one hundred and eight ($108.00) and will be used to purchase New Testaments translated in Russian and sent to Russia.

Prime Minister At Digby Pines

The Nova Scotia government's hotel, The Digby Pines, was the scene of much activity over the weekend when distinguished guests, Canada's Prime Minister, Pierre Elliott Trudeau, P.C., Q.C., Premier of N.S. Gerald Regan, Q.C., and sixty-five of a Caribbean Parliamentary Trade Delegation touring Nova Scotia made the Pines their headquarters for Friday and Saturday. The delegates returned to the West Indies on Sunday.

The Caribbean Delegation arrived in around 4:30 p.m. on Friday followed later in the evening by the Right Honourable Mr. Trudeau, PM and Premier Gerald Regan. Also accompanying were Miss Coline Campbell, M.P. for Southwest Nova and Joe Casey, M.L.A. for Digby and the Deputy speaker of the House of Assembly.

At 8 o'clock Premier Regan tendered a reception when the Caribbean delegates and local representatives were given and opportunity to meet the Prime Minister. On Saturday the Prime Minister had a busy day when he visited Port Royal Habitation. He then went to Annapolis Royal and later in the day attended functions at the Acadian Festival and introduced the chosen Gabriel and Evangeline (see Festival in other column).

The Caribbean Delegation and Nova Scotians have been studying possibilities of expanding trade between the two countries. A few weeks ago about six from Nova Scotia visited the Caribbean on a similar mission. While in Nova Scotia the Caribbean Delegation visited and studied possibilities of agricultural trade, fishing, shipbuilding, lumbering, fruits and many other products and services.

Senator Doctor Jess Noel, Trinidad-Tobago, was spokesman on Friday evening for the delegation from the fourteen Caribbean Commonwealth countries. Dr. Noel complimented Canada as a most appropriate political model. The delegation is also looking into the economics of Canada. They are looking forward to the confederation of Canada and the Caribbean Confederation to work together for position and strength to ensure the peaceful evolution of the Western Hemisphere. They are looking to renew and further strengthen historic ties and to develop new trade opportunities between long-standing trading partners.

In his remarks on Friday evening in response to those of Dr. Noel, Prime Minister Trudeau advised Dr. Noel that Canada cannot solve the problems of the Caribbean Basin and asked them not to look to Canada as a senior government which can tell them how to develop their country. Mr. Trudeau felt that Canadians and Caribbeans should discuss their problems together but Canadians cannot solve problems for the Caribbeans.

Dr. Noel recognized the feeling of brotherhood and the good qualities which are necessary for Canadian unity.

Mr. Regan said that this conference symbolizes solidarity of Canadian-Caribbean unity and he is comforted in the fact that Canada can stand as a lesson of light.

Mr. Trudeau said that in his several visits to the Caribbean countries his experience was that the Caribbean illustrated fine well thought out ideas. The feeling was that all would profit greatly by the visits which had taken place.

Premier Regan, as head of N.S. Government again entertained the Caribbean Parliamentarians at the dinner at the Pines on Saturday evening when men and women of the business community were given an opportunity to meet with the Caribbean delegation.

Victor Cardoza Honoured - Named Citizen Of The Year

Above (right) Deputy Mayor Philip Robertson congratulates Judge V.G. Cardoza on being awarded the honor of Digby's Citizen of the Year 1975. The decision of three judges was unanimous in their selection of the most worthy candidate. "Vic" was nominated by several individuals and groups with many names supporting each nomination.

In a short interview with Mr. Cardoza he expressed his deep appreciation in the honor bestowed upon him by his fellow citizens. Mr. Cardoza said that his appointment of Judge of the Citizenship Courts in Nova Scotia has given him an even greater appreciation that ever before of the value and meaning of citizenship as he deals with candidates applying for Canadian citizenship.

Although not born in Digby, his birth place being Waterdown, Ontario, Vic came to Digby with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. George Cardoza when he was seven years old. He married the former Eileen Crowe, R.N., of Bridgetown. They have one daughter, Elizabeth (Mrs. Owen Taylor) who resides in Ottawa.

SPARK TO FAN A FLAME

Digby was among the fortunate places last week to be visited by a fine delegation of people from the West Indies. Most of the delegation were representatives of government who have the interests and concerns of their people at heart. More than 14 different areas of the Islands were represented.

We recall some years ago, as a child, that the West Indies Islands were much more familiar to us than at the present time. We have recollections of salt cod fish and other products being shipped via wooden fishing schooners and the anxiety which built up until there was word that the ship had landed safely at its destination. The return trip, too, had its cargo of molasses, salt or other products which sometimes became somewhat hazardous being transported in the wooden sailing ships of the time.

In a somewhat different context, transportation will still present its problems if trade is increased once more with the West Indies. Improvement in the total transportation service will have to be worked on.

Trade with the West Indies on a larger scale looks to be a possibility. The delegation of such intellectual and conscientious and amiable people is probably the spark that will fan the flame of greater trade with the West Indies. The delegation, the people will not be forgotten. Likewise, we should not forget the mission which brought these people to our Atlantic area. It will need some far-seeing and earnest involvement by our Atlantic leaders and those of the population who know and are capable of applying themselves to the opportunity which has presented itself. Communication and marked liaison between the countries are a must if trade between the Caribbean and Nova Scotia is to expand.

Hodge Podge

Every once in awhile you hear something which makes your heart feel good. For instance, we happen along the street one day recently when tourists with the Tanch Tours were taking a walk and shopping. We talked with one lady, Lucille Rosenbloom from New York. She was just amazed at the politeness, friendliness and kindness of the young people in Nova Scotia. She mentioned the young people at The Digby Pines, the guides at the Habitation and every where you go. They are wonderful, she exclaimed and added "You just don't get that in New York."

How important is the job that our village correspondents are doing for us? How much does it mean to visitors to have their names in the paper and thereby keep in touch with relatives, friends or school buddies as each has gone his separate ways? How much? So much that we had a phone call from the middle West one day recently asking if we had a personal in the paper on their visit back home. From The Digby Courier right there on our desk we read the important words and the phone caller was content and happy to find that this important detail had not been overlooked. Correspondents, don't ever think your writing of village notes is of no value. They are worth a long distance phone call from a far distant city.

RE-ATRIPT TO THE ISLANDS OFF DIGBY NECK

Mrs. Edith Wallis,
Digby,
Digby Courier,
Digby N.S.

My personal observations are that this is an exhilarating adventure. My impression is such that it is cooperative that certain existing highway hazards should be brought to the attention of the Highways Department and those responsible for the present regulations.

DIGBY FERRY CROSSINGS

TIME SCHEDULES

Albeit the ferry Joshua Stocum plying between East Ferry and Tiverton has adequate facilities and capable operators its actual performance due to its timing schedule does not warrant recommendation.

Proceeding West down Digby Neck one arrives at East Ferry, say at 10 minutes to the hour, parks the car and waits, and waits. On the hour the Ferry will leave Tiverton and will reach East Ferry approximately five minutes later; debarks promptly. At this point cars awaiting transportation to the Islands must be very cautious and sure that all cars have debarked before proceeding to the boat, this may take another five to ten minutes. Cars may then embark on the Ferry. One then must enjoy (?) in most cases, valuable time consuming to await its departure for Tiverton on the Half-hour, arriving there some 5 to 10 minutes later.

My objection to the present schedule is this: A distance of approximately eleven miles must now be traversed by cars, trucks etc., in their attempt to arrive at the wharf in Freeport in order to embark on the Ferry there which operates between that point and Westport, on Briar Island, if such is their destination. This ferry leaves Freeport wharf on the hour. This has resulted in 30 minutes having expired between leaving East Ferry, and the driver has the extra hazard of various obstructions on the road, such as cars, children, pedestrians, animals etc.

While no major or minor accidents have not yet occurred in this respect it seems imperative that an updated time schedule should go into effect, particularly during the prevailing tourist season.

Could not a warning signal such as red, and - or green light - or a whistle manually operated be installed at the approach to the Wharf at East Ferry to advise cars awaiting embarkation there that the scow has been unloaded and it is safe to proceed around the turn to the slip and onto the scow. This no doubt could be arranged at a minimum expense to the Dept. and eliminate possible confusion to the Ferry operators.

Respectfully presented
An interested citizen.

Passes Borrowing Resolutions

Among the resolutions passed at Digby's Town Council meeting on Monday evening was one to borrow $50,000 for the purpose of running a water line down Digby Neck from Victoria Street to the town boundary and a new line on St. George Street from West Street.

A resolution for borrowing $35,000 covered the amount taken from the special reserve fund for paving which had been done on Est and King Streets.

Providing gutters on both sides of Carleton Street was also decided at the estimated sum of $2400.

Opposing the first two resolutions was Councillor Gordon Ellis who felt that there were other areas of long standing which should have priority. His motion that the $50,000 resolution for the Digby Neck and St. George Street water line not be done was defeated for the want of seconder.

Following adjournment of the business session demonstrations were given by Miss Mabel Marshall, Mrs. H. M. Warne and Miss Louise Daley on flower arrangements suitable for the Flower Show.

Miss Daley presented an arrangement of wild flowers in bud and bloom, representing entry No. 3 "Sweet Sixteen". Mrs. Warne showed a tall vase of green leaves mixed with leaves in shades of green and touches of white on edges. This was No. 4 "Fall and Handsome."

Miss Mabel Marshall presented two arrangements. One was number 5 "Here comes the Bride." White flowers were placed in a low handled bowl with the handle being covered with small white flowers mixed with pale green weed.

Number 2 was a dainty arrangement of blue pansies in various shades with touches of white. This was No. 9 "Something Blue."

Lack of knowledge on the part of the parents of the mentally retarded is a cause of very much concern. Therefore the objectives of the activity center regarding parents of the trainees include a) keeping them informed of the progress being made by their dependents, b) keeping them oriented to the program, aims, and philosophy of the center, c) expecting them to reinforce the training received.

In 1974 a Local Initiative Project (LIP) grant was attained and a foreman and four other workers were hired to carry out the objectives of the activity center. After this was over, the volunteer workers took over. This summer a group of students working on an Opportunity for Youth grant are running the center.

Summer camps were organized in past years along with special olympics for mentally retarded people. This year some mentally retarded people of the area will be going to a camp in Paradise from August 31st. to September 5th.

MAREK VANTASSELL

Burlington, Ontario, was the scene of a lovely wedding on May 17, 1975, in Pineland Baptist Church, when Linda Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald VanTassell of Burlington (formerly of Digby), was united in marriage to Kenneth Melvin Marek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Marek, Kingston, Ontario. Pastor Walter Kerber officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Upon the bride's arrival at the altar, Mel Vinter, cousin of the groom, gave a rendition of "The Lord's Prayer", and later he and his wife, Lil, sang "Take Our Lives." During the signing of the register a pre-recorded tape was piped through the P.A. system, with the bride and groom singing and speaking. Organist was David Corkum, son of Capt. and Mrs. Bill Corkum, originally from Nova Scotia, now neighbours of the bride.

The bride, given away by her father, designed and made her gown of shimmering crystal mist organza, accented with French blue. It had a square neckline, shirred bodice and slim midriff. The cut-away sleeves were fitted to the elbow and flared to the knee. Midriff and sleeves were made of blue and white flocked nylon. The many-layered skirt was gathered at the waist and grew wider by tiers, measuring eight yards around the bottom. Blue velvet trimmed the hem, sleeves and neck. A full-length, lace-trimmed veil was held in place by a tiara. The bride carried a nosegay of white carnations, pink sweetheart roses and blue baby's breath.

Debbie VanTassell, sister of the bride, Judith Balogh and Anne Bremer were bridesmaids. All wore floor-length gowns of blue and silver brocade with panels of matching solid blue. They were fitted at the waist with puffed sleeves and stand-up collars.

Junior bridesmaids were grand-daughters of Mrs.

Orbin VanTassell. Miss Rachael and Miss Rosalind VanTassell, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Richard VanTassell of Ottawa, stood at each end of the platform, facing the audience. They wore long pink gowns with front panels of pink and silver brocade, puffed sleeves and ruffled hem. All the attendants carried nosegays in smaller versions of the brides. The bouquets were made by the groom.

The men in the wedding party wore tuxedos of French brocade, which complimented the bridesmaids' gowns. Both fathers were in pearl grey. The bride's mother chose a gown of printed georgette in shades of turquoise, hot pink and white, with long puffed sleeves and ruffled scoop neck. Concert Closes Conference

The eighth annual Maritime Conference of the Church of God, Digby, came to a close on Sunday evening, July 13, when the guest worker, Mr. Ralph Childs of Trotwood, Ohio, presented a sacred concert following the Evangelistic Service.

The Conference week, July 6-13, was a busy, but inspirational time. The conference really began on Saturday afternoon when many took part in a parade through town, from the railway depot parking lot to the Evangeline Mall, advertising the Bible School and handing out special invitations to the services. The parade, led by an RCMP car, consisted of brightly decorated bicycles, doll carriages, cars, the church busses, and a pick-up containing the rhythm band, as well as others who walked.

The Bible School, under the direction of Mr. Childs, was held each morning, Monday through Friday, and included classes for all ages, singing, stories, and varied crafts. On Friday evening the children presented a program to parents and friends, demonstrating many of the things they had learned during the week, and displaying items they had made. An extra special visitor who had attended each morning to help teach a lesson, the "Kookie Monster", was also present at the program and distributed treats to the children. Besides the help of many local church members, Mr. Childs was assisted by two of his sons, Gary and Richard.

In conjunction with the Conference, Rev. Francis Burnett, pastor of the Digby Church of God, conducted Morning Devotions on CKDY, and one of the conference services was also broadcast over CKDY on Sunday morning. At the morning and evening services of both Sundays, and each evening, Monday through Thursday, Mr. Burnett served as conference speaker, bringing timely messages from the Book of Revelation. On four evenings, the pastor's wife, Mrs. Iris Burnett, did chalk drawings, using black-light, and these pictures were given to the one bringing the st for that service. ial music for the ser- es is presented by Mr.

Ralph Childs and the Gospel Light Trio.

During the week Mr. Childs paid a visit to the Children's Training Centre where he had an enjoyable time entertaining the children; and presented the Centre with gifts and records. He was accompanied by several from the church, and by the "Kookie Monster", who became quite a hit with the children, especially when he gave them cookies. Also during the week Mr. Childs and a group from the church conducted a service at Tideview Terrace.

The Digby Church of God felt very fortunate in having the services of Mr. Childs and his sons. Mr. Childs, who has faced many difficulties in life, is a paraplegic, paralyzed from the waist down. In spite of problems, he has a strong faith in God and a bright outlook on life, and a great desire to be of service to others rather than to be served. He prepares braille manuscripts and tapes for the blind, interprets by manual language to the deaf, and conducts an active ministry among the prisoners of many penal institutions. He plays several instruments, including accordion, and sings. He spends much of his time travelling throughout the states and parts of Canada, giving benefit concerts; and has four record releases.

Others who had a part in making this a successful Conference and Bible School were the local pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Francis Burnett; Mrs. Eunice Pearson, Director of Christian Education of the Digby Church; the many teachers and helpers; and

"The Bear River Waltz" Especially Written For The Bear River Cherry Carnival

The Bear River Waltz
by Leon J. Wild

Geese in a strawberry field is not exactly the long-renowned habitat of the species but they are serving a useful purpose. Geesepower is a project helping farmers as the geese are excellent at removing grass and weeds that defy hoeing and cultivation. One added benefit to this field in Lakelands, Nova Scotia, is that the geese don't eat the strawberries. As well, the geese add fertility to the growing plants. (N.S. CIC Photo)

"FOR HOME AND COUNTRY"

EDITED BY WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Guide And Brownie Leader Honored

On Wednesday, June 18th, the Girl Guides of the 1st Bear River Company, along with the Brownies, mothers, fathers, friends and members of the Local Association, were pleased to meet together at the Oakdene School Auditorium to honor their Guide Captain, Mrs. Shirley Williams, who is resigning from her position as Guide Captain of the 1st Bear River Company.

Through the efforts of the Local Association, a very pleasant surprise was given to Mrs. Williams at what she was told was to be an "official closing" of the Guides and Brownies for the summer season. After the Brownies had their "Brownie Ring" opening, the Guides, looking very impressive in their uniforms marched smartly into the hall and formed their horseshoe formation. At this time two Guides, Jolene Parker and Sandra Wagner, were presented with their Canada Cords, the highest award a Guide can earn. The girls were presented with a rose each from the Company and with their Canada Cord Pins from the Local Association. Two Guides, Melody Peck and Joan Cox, were presented with their All-Round Cords, which is the first of the two cords that may be earned by the girls. These girls were also given their All-Round Pins by the Local Association. Several badges and emblems were presented to the Guides and Brownies.

Following the close of this part of the evening, the Guides took their places on the stage to present their first surprise for Mrs. Williams. Through the efforts of Mrs. Betty Parker, the girls had secretly practised two songs which are special favorites of Captain Williams and which she had expressed a desire that the girls learn. The two selections, "Morning Hath Broken" and "Let There Be Peace On Earth" were well sung by the 21 girls of the Company and Rachel Wagner, Assistant Leader.

Mrs. Joyce Rice, President of the Local Association, presented Mrs. Williams with a gift on behalf of the Local Association and thanked her for her time and efforts on behalf of the parents. Guide Juli Harris presented the Guide gift and Brown Owl. Mrs. Jean Marshall presented the Brownie gift and the Brownies sang a special "Thank You" song to Captain Williams for all her help. Mrs. Kay Harris, Division Commissioner, presented Mrs. Williams with a gift on behalf of the District and Division and was pleased to inform the group that Shirley's retirement was very short as she will be the new District Commissioner replacing Mrs. Marlene Lefurgey whose term of office has expired, and who does not wish to continue to serve in this capacity. Mrs. Lefurgey was also surprised at this time to receive a gift from Commissioner Harris on behalf of the District and Division.

Following the presentation of several gifts, photos were taken.

Refreshments were then served to the group by members of the Local Association. Thanks were extended to all those parents and friends who took the time to come to this special meeting and help make it a complete surprise for Captain Williams, and let her know how much her time and efforts in working with the Girl Guide Association has meant to the people of Bear River and area. Thanks also extended to the Canada Cord Guides who are no longer active in Guiding—Karin Lacey, Marilyn Read and Cindy Marshall who came to this meeting and in so doing brought together all the guides, ten in number, that Captain Williams had worked with and who have gone on to earn their Canada Cord.

Thanks Shirley, and we hope we can continue in some way to keep up the good work you have started!

Vacation Bible School Closes

Daily Vacation Bible school was conducted at the Bear River United Baptist Church from June 30th to July 4th. The school was run by Miss Debbie Carter of Saint John, N.B. and Miss Cathy Watkins of Yarmouth assisted by Mrs. Goldie Sabine, Alice Seeley and several others helping out at times.

There was an average of 25 pupils attending and they had their closing on Friday at 6 p.m. when parents and others gathered to hear the pupils and see their work. Miss Carter and Miss Watkins were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Morine, with many members of the church also entertaining them in their homes. Good wishes and prayers go with these girls as they conduct other Daily Vacation Bible schools for children. It is the hope and prayer that children will come to know and accept Christ as their Lord and Saviour through these schools.

Matthew 18:16 Jesus said, "Suffer, the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of God."

Leon Wild Writes Cherry Carnival Song

Leon J. Wild of Buffalo came to Bear River in August 1974. Since he came to Bear River he has taken a great pride in the village and has written a song (both prose and music) called the Bear River Waltz. It is appropriate for the Bear River Cherry Carnival July 26.

To date Mr. Wild has composed 62 songs, ranging from religious songs and ballads. Generally he has written songs for the holidays and religious observances such as Christmas, Easter and Good Friday. He has been writing for some 20 years as a hobby.

Mr. Wild who came here as a landed immigrant had been a teacher of retarded children in Buffalo. He has given a hand at the Children's Centre in Digby and has worked with young adults as in the Hope Fellowship.

Mr. Wild has been a friend of Professor Fran Hardy who has been teaching in a Buffalo University before retiring near Bear River where he bought the cottage owned by Mr. and Mrs. Karl Young on Barne's Lake. Mr. Wild had done volunteer work in Jamaica and was on a teach-teacher deal in Buffalo. His reason for leaving the big city was to be able to relax.

THE BEAR RIVER WALTZ (Leon J. Wild)

People are dancing around in the street
To Bear River Waltz
Anvils are ringing and hammers now sing
The Bear River Waltz
The farmers in gardens are spading
And woodsmen are cutting the trees
The carpenters tools
And leathercraft jewels
Are part of the Bear River Waltz

Windmills are spinning on top of the hill To Bear River Waltz Candles are burning and yarn goods have spun
The Bear River Waltz
A ride to the Gallery's paintings
The Farmers Museum ahead

The storekeepers and The Blue Bus on hand
Are part of the Bear River Waltz

People are riding Acadian waves
To Bear River Waltz
Doorways are open for travellers to share
The Bear River Waltz
The Bear River Waltz

This song was written for the Bear River Cherry Carnival Day July 26, 1975.

Attractive in appearance on the exterior, the drive-in displays cleanliness and order with panelled walls, spacious counters and stainless steel kitchen utensils. The Russian-German War

In the pre-dawn hours of the morning of June 22, 1941, three million, two hundred thousand German soldiers crouched along the riverbanks of Central Europe about to embark on a historical attack that would eyewitness years of destructive human history.

Sunday, July 20, 11 p.m. - 12 a.m., ATV is telecasting the encore presentation of "The Russian-German War: the Politics of Fear" dealing with the cruelest war in history. The second episode of this three-part series is "The Killing Ground", airing Sunday, July 27, 11 p.m. - 12 a.m., an examination of the German invasion, the great sieges of Leningrad, Stalingrad and Moscow as the Russians finally hold their lines. The third and concluding episode is "Breakout to Berlin", telecasting Sunday, August 3, 11 p.m. - 12 a.m., which shows the Battle of Kursk and ends with the Russian entry into Berlin and their subsequent emergence as the second most powerful nation in the world. Never before has this, the unknown war, been the subject of a television program or series and CTV has undertaken the tremendous job of producing three one-hour specials which it hopes will shed light on a war that is still with us in terms of global politics. This is not a simple recital of dates and places, but an analysis of the politicians and the diplomatic moves behind the events.

CTV has obtained, from the Soviet Union, ten hours of remarkable historical film of the events as they happened, both from the Russian side and captured German footage. Most of this film had never been seen outside the Soviet Union and much of it is the only filmed record of very important events.

Weir Fishermen Air Problems

Between 25 to 30 fishermen of the Digby Neck area on the Fundy and St. Mary's sides aired their fishing problems at a fisheries meeting held at the Fundy Restaurant in Digby on Saturday. The meetings were chaired by Claude Westcott, Rossy and was attended by Miss Coline Campbell, M.P. for South West Nova; Joe Casey, M.L.A. Digby and Glenn Smith of the Digby fisheries department.

The complaint is similar to the one which caused a bit of a stir some years ago. The 35 to 40 net fishermen and the eighty weir fishermen complained that big seiners came nearer than the specified three mile limit. The men argued that when these big seiners invade the waters these fishermen suffer at the hands of Saint John, N.B.

The outcome of the meeting was a decision to forward a petition to Miss Campbell requesting a three mile closure on the Bay of Fundy side of Digby Neck shore in order to protect the gill net and weir fishermen.

The three mile limit would exclude seiners coming within the limits.

Another item of business brought up was fish marketing. A request was made for all levels of government and private industry to come up with alternate market for the catches. Presently there are few markets to which the fishermen can sell.

Another subject which arose was to try for a sardine factory to be constructed in Digby. No quota regulations apply to weir fishing.

Get $10,000. Grant

The Legion Hall at Freeport is in the process of being painted by members of the OFY project and already it is very much improved in appearance. A recreational grant of $10,000 has been received from the Provincial Government and plans are being made for the best use of this money. Comrade Edward Huston has been appointed as project director. This project will help to improve facilities and it is hoped to soon make a larger contribution to the community and also to be able to employ several community members for a period of time.

The D-Day supper put on by the Ladies Auxiliary was a success and after the supper a Social evening was spent.

Dominion Day, July 1st, a supper was again held at the Hall by the Ladies Auxiliary after which the usual social hour was held. The business meeting for both groups were held Friday, July 18th. A rummage sale was held by the Ladies Auxiliary on Saturday July 19th.

A bake sale and auction are in the planning stages for next month. These will be held both on August 23rd.

Task Force On Alcoholism

Police in Halifax spend so much time looking after Alcoholics that they are being distracted from their real duties, says the church of Scientology Task Force on Alcoholism.

A survey of cops on the beat conducted by the church reveals that 33 percent of police time is spent handling peace disturbing drunks. The group presented results of their survey to the commission on Drug dependency to point out the urgent need for improved services. Spokesman for the group Joanne Wheaton said "our police are supposed to be peace officers, not Alcoholic Counsellors". She said all those told felt current facilities were inadequate to handle the growing problem of Alcoholism in Halifax.

Some felt the answer lay in more detoxification centres, others thought treatment facilities were needed. 28.5 percent felt none of the current services were effective. The majority of police said they end up having to take drunks to local emergency hospitals. 33 percent said they just locked them up, and 9.5 percent said they put them into the local mental hospital. "All that happens" says Mrs. Wheaton "is they get help for a few days and end up back on the street. It's the revolving doors that is wasting valuable police time."

The group sees Alcoholism as a social and not a mental problem. The solution, they say, is to set up centres where the Alcoholic can be kept off the streets in a quiet peaceful environment long enough to provide a resocializing influence that will handle their problems through personal communication and understanding.

Mrs. Wheaton pointed out that the police force will continually be forced to handle the problem until adequate and effective services are provided.

Rodney Stark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stark, Bay View, has joined the Digby Courier staff in the advertising department. Mrs. Doris Brown of that department leaves Friday on a three weeks vacation to visit her parents in the U.S.A.

Eighteen year old Rodney is a graduate of Grade XI, Digby Regional High School. He has worked at the Atlantic Wholesalers, Digby, and at MacDonald Motors.

At four o'clock on Monday afternoon, the Digby Swimming Pool will be officially opened. Above are seen six young people who have been employed as guards and attendants for the summer.

Fisheries Minister Coming to Digby

Hon. Romeo LeBlanc federal minister of fisheries, intends to visit in the South West Nova constituency early in August. The exact date will be announced later according to Miss Colin Campbell, M.P. for South West Nova.

The purpose of the visit, Miss Campbell said is to meet the fishermen and get acquainted with the villages and learn the size of the fishing in the area of South West Nova.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodolph Doucet of Little Brook Station celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary at their home on Friday, July 18th, where their many friends congratulated them and wished many more happy years amongst them. They have seven living children of nine born, as follows: Gilbert, Ernie of Concession; Clarence, Little Brook Station; Jean at Church Point; Pierre, Saulnierville; Eddie, Cambridge, N.S.; George at his paternal home. One daughter, Angelina and a son, Louis passed away.

The couple were married in St. Mary's Church in Church Point in 1910. (Melanson Photo)

Mr. and Mrs. Coral Pothier of the village of Grosses Coques celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their home on Saturday, June 21st. Besides their many friends in Clare they were visited by the following people from the United States: their son, Joseph and wife Theresa, of Lynn, Mass.; Helen and Frank McInnis, Chelsea, Mass.; Tina Watts, Swampscott, Mass.; Earl and Melva Smith, Vermont; Betsy Griffin, Amston, Conn.; Mrs. Cora Malloy, Chelsea, Mass.; his brother of Waterville, N.S. Alfred and his wife also attended the celebration. Mr. Pothier is a veteran of World War I.

Live Dangerously — Mountain Climbing at Westport

On Saturday July 19 a group of young men from Dartmouth had quite an experience. They had heard of the towering cliffs at Westport so they came with the intent of climbing them. These are the 100 or more high cliffs of Green Head, at the southern shore.

There were some number in the group but only three tried the climbing— Dave Woodworth, Robert McNeil and Mark Webber. One of them got to within 15 feet of the top and could get no farther, the other two were halfway up.

The rock being much like shale would break off in pieces so that the men could not get a good hold. Dave got hit on the head by a loose rock and was knocked to a ledge. His brother Earl was on the beach and when this happened he went for help. The men of the village soon gathered with ropes, etc. and they hauled one up over the cliff. The other two were lowered down to the beach.

Dave was taken to the doctor at Freeport and when talking to him he said all he got from it was a bad headache, but admitted it could have been worse. Dave was 50 feet from the beach, leave the rest to imagination what could have happened. Interviewing the men and asking them what their reason was for trying to climb the cliff, the answer was "We like to live dangerously".

Walk-a-Thon

A Success

The returns are now in for the Swimming Pool Walk-A-Thon, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Digby on June 7. A total of $1900 was raised by this project. One hundred and thirty-four walkers, including local school children and Digby Kiwanians participated in the seventeen mile journey. Refreshments, donated by local merchants and citizens, were distributed to the participants along the way to help make the long hike more pleasant. Ages for those completing the walk ranged from seven years to sixty plus. Other than a few blistered feet and aching muscles, all who crossed the finish line were in pretty good shape.

A radio, donated as a prize by Digby Home Furnishings for the walker who brought in the largest return, was won by Rory Rogers with a total of $69.16. A $25.00 bank account, donated by the Royal Bank of Canada for the walker who brought in the second highest amount, was won by Christine LeBlanc with $54.83. A third prize, donated by Digby Home Furnishings, was won by David Ritcey with $45.00 returned.

The Digby Kiwanians expressed their appreciation to all participants, contributors and citizens who sponsored walkers and for helping to make this year's Walk-a-Thon a success. Those who have had an opportunity this summer to see the Pool in action will know that the money raised has been well spent.

Bear River Ghost Town — 1906

by Watson Peck

Photo taken by Bear River's first photographer Frank Miller (cousin of local Clinton Miller) who died at a Boston hockey game in his 60's.

Picture was taken after a freshet.

Building on the left was a water power mill, later became the Thelbert Rice stone shed or monumental works. Many a tombstone on Mount Hope came from here, and many were shipped all over the Maritimes. Some local foundations were built on the cast-off granite blocks. Thelbert Rice spent his later years in California, where he was the first to introduce fox farming in that State.

The next little building was Mabel Reed's store, later sold to Omer Rice.

The saw mill in the background was William Henry Rice's—father to Brinton Rice who later sold to J. H. Cunningham. The mill sawed wood staves for nail kegs.

The building in the middle foreground was used in making barrels—no building stands on that site to day. The peak of the building in back was the site of a major grist mill in Bear River.

Building on the right was moved down the street. A new building was built on the same lot by two sons of Omer Rice, Otis and Harold. As a young man Omer worked on the construction of the first Bear River draw Bridge, where he fell and broke his wrist. Doctors wanted to amputate his hand he refused. A poor reset was done and older residents remembered his crippled hand very well. Omer was in the building moving business—later to go in the grocery business where he remained until bought out by Clayton Harris.

Mr. Harris remodelled and added to and built a warehouse across the bridge, on the site of the old granite works.

Next to operate a grocery business in this building was Benie Baxter with Joe Dittmars as manager. The building was unoccupied for a few years until purchased by Robert Isles, proprietor of B.R. Aluminum Products Ltd. They also have remodelled the warehouse and carry a fine variety of building supplies.

New Horizons Visitors from Quebec

The Acadian Festival of Clare's special dinner for Senior Citizens New Horizons was a huge success and was held in the Columbus Club hall in Comeauville with 190 New Horizons members and guests attending the dinner. Special guests were Mr. Norbert Comeau, president of the Acadian Festival, Hon. Benoit Comeau and Mrs. Comeau; Mr. Omer Blinn, warden of the Municipality of Clare and Mrs. Blinn; Mr. Jean R. Doucet, regional director of Continuing Education for southwestern N.S. and Mrs. Doucet and twelve members of the Club L'Age d'Or of Miniwaki, P.Q. Rev. Renaud Cote, Pastor at Church Point.

Three New Horizons clubs were represented with 20 members of the Salmon River club, 22 members from Meteghan, 100 from the Clare Senior Citizens Club of Comeauville; 12 members from Miniwaki, 14 boarders of the St. Mary's Home at Meteghan Centre and 14 from La Maison du Coucher du Soleil at Saulnierville (a private home for the aged).

A delicious chicken dinner was served by Mrs. Alma Dugas of La Cave Restaurant and was served by waitresses engaged by her. If one is to believe the exclamations heard after the dinner was completed is any indication, all those who were present enjoyed the meal very much.

Group Singing took place while the waitresses were clearing the tables, with Rev. Renaud Cote accompanying on the piano and leading the group in a song. As soon as sufficient tables were cleared, card games were organized and over ten tables were used for this purpose.

Counsellors". She said all those told felt current facilities were inadequate to handle the growing problem of Alcoholism in Halifax.

Some felt the answer lay in more detoxification centres, others thought treatment facilities were needed. 28.5 percent felt none of the current services were effective. The majority of police said they end up having to take drunks to local emergency hospitals. 33 percent said they just locked them up, and 9.5 percent said they put them into the local mental hospital. "All that happens" says Mrs. Wheaton "Is they get help for a few days and end up back on the street. It's the revolving doors that is wasting valuable police time."

The group sees Alcoholism as a social and not a mental problem. The solution, they say, is to set up centres where the Alcoholic can be kept off the streets in a quiet peaceful environment long enough to provide a resocializing influence that will handle their problems through personal communication and understanding.

Mrs. Wheaton pointed out that the police force will continually be forced to handle the problem until adequate and effective services are provided.

Rodney Stark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stark, Bay View, has joined the Digby Courier staff in the advertising department. Mrs. Doris Brown of that department leaves Friday on a three weeks vacation to visit her parents in the U.S.A.

Eighteen year old Rodney is a graduate of Grade XI, Digby Regional High School. He has worked at the Atlantic Wholesalers, Digby, and at MacDonald Motors.

At four o'clock on Monday afternoon, the Digby Swimming Pool will be officially opened. Above are seen six young people who have been employed as guards and attendants for the summer.

will benefit our Community. What they have accomplished and contributed could not possibly be measured in tangible terms, and they just don't stop doing more and more, and looking for ways to improve our area.

We owe them much and can show our appreciation by giving our solid support to their upcoming Fair, and at the same time we can enjoy every minute of it.

A look at the programme of events, covering four big days, reveals at once that they have a varied series of events, well designed to provide us with four days of well filled entertainment and activity.

So it is High-ho, come to the Fair and help to make it the highlight of the summer as it already promises to be.

Lions Code Of Ethics

TO SHOW my faith in the worthiness of my vocation by industrious application to the end that I may merit a reputation for quality of service.

TO SEEK success and to demand all fair remuneration or profit as my just due, but to accept no profit or success at the price of my own self-respect lost because of unfair advantage taken or because of questionable acts on my part.

TO REMEMBER that in building up my business it is not necessary to tear down another's; to be loyal to my clients or customers and true to myself.

WHENEVER a doubt arises as to the right or ethics of my position or action towards my fellow men, to resolve such doubt against myself.

TO HOLD friendship as an end and not a means. To hold that true friendship exists not on account of the service performed by one to another, but that true friendship demands nothing but accepts service in the spirit in which it is given.

ALWAYS bear in mind my obligations as a citizen to my nation, my state and my community, and to give them my unswerving loyalty in word, act or deed. To give them freely of my time, labor, and means.

TO AID my fellow men by giving my sympathy to those in distress, my aid to the weak, and my substance to the needy.

TO BE CAREFUL with my criticism and liberal with my praise: to build up and not destroy.

Estari Night At St. Mary's Chapter

The evening of June 12th proved to be a very interesting one for the members and visitors of St. Mary's Chapter No. 35 O.E.S. After the closing of the regular meeting, Lic. John Jay, Mrs. Jay and Mrs. Bailey Gidney were welcomed into the Chapter Room. Lic. and Mrs. Jay sang a duet, "Jesus the Master" accompanied by Mrs. Gidney on the piano. Lic. Jay then gave a very inspiring and sincere talk on his being called to serve God in the Ministry, and said he has always been thankful for the guidance that led him to make the decision. He gave much credit to Mrs. Jay for the co-operation and assistance she has given him during his years of study for the Ministry, and also told of the help that awards from such funds as ESTARL give to those receiving them. In closing Lic. and Mrs. Jay sang another duet "Until Then", and the Worthy Matron presented them with a gift of money from the Chapter.

ESTARL means Eastern Star Awards for Religious Leadership, and little may be known about these awards outside of the Order of the Eastern Star. They are given to assist young people who have dedicated their lives to Religious Leadership, with the hope that ESTARL awards will make the pathway to achieving their goal a little smoother, and that others may be encouraged to take the same course. There is a growing shortage of students taking Divinity courses, and there is a shortage of ministers in each major denomination in the Atlantic Provinces, and because of this, it is hoped that it will be possible to give awards to a greater number of students in the coming years.

ESTARL first became project of the Grand Chapter of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island in 1954, since that time the interest and support of the members have grown until this project has become a vital part of the work of the Order. Each year the Worthy Grand Matron of Jurisdiction chooses Special Projects such as ESTARL, Cancer Research Fund for Crippled Children and others, and asks upon her official yearly to each Chapter, that in the name of the Chapter giving a personal gift, as was merely the custom, that the Chapter wishes to do so, a gift be given for her Special Project. Last year at G Chapter a cheque for $1 was presented to President of the Cancer Society, Nova Scotia Division, by the then Worthy Grand Matron who named Cancer Research her Special Project. During the past year the Worthy Grand Matron's project has been ESTARL, as it was the special project of Worthy Grand Matron years ago.

Chicken Barbecue

On Wednesday July 23rd the Lion's Club will hold a giant chicken barbecue at the side of the rink from 4:00 p.m. till 8:00 p.m.

A barbecue consisting of over 100 concrete blocks will be built. The chicken will be cooked on five racks, three of which were made by John Wightman of Bridgetown.

The Lion's Club will have a gigantic grocery bill after this affair. We have ordered 800 of each of the following: chicken slabs, coleslaw, butter of the following: chicken halves, coleslaw, butter slabs, chips, pickles, plates, cutlery, napkins. The chicken will be cooked over a fire which requires 500 lbs. of charcoal and 5 gallons of starter fluid. The barbecue sauce recipe calls for 7 gallons of vinegar, 3 1/2 gallons of water, 21 pounds of butter and 7 pounds of salt. The price of each meal will be $2.50.

During the meal over 20 Lions will be hard at work to satisfy your appetites and as well, there will be a band concert during the meal. Come on out and join us for what promises to be a very enjoyable event.

treated with regular inspections being carried out by the health department. Opened for the first time on July first of 1966, 6,000 admissions were recorded the first summer. In 1967, construction of the bathing house was completed. The official opening was held on July 19th, 1967 during Old Home Week celebrations with Hugh Noble, the then Director of Education for the province, performing the honour. A great deal of credit for the construction of the pool must be given to Mr. Clyde Everett who at the time was President of Clyde Everett Ltd. and lived at Carleton Corner. Mr. Everett gave untold hours of his time to supervise construction of the pool. He also hired the men and supervised construction of the bathing house and filter plant and even after a generous cash contribution to the pool fund, donated the colorful brick front for the bathing house. Another contributor of time and effort to the planning of the pool was the late Dr. R. Annand of Bridgetown. It would be impossible to list all the teenagers from town who have worked at the pool as supervisors and instructors for many years at a minimal wage. Possibly the greatest rewards to those who worked for the construction of a pool in our town and at water safety are unknown. How many lives have been saved from drowning, because so many children have learned Water Safety in this pool?

Bridgetown & District Memorial Rink

The destruction of the old skating rink by fire in the spring of '65 marked the end of a landmark and the scene of many hours of exciting and memorable hockey games, countless carnivals and skating periods. The replacement of this facility seemed almost an impossibility.

In August of 1965, the Lions decided there could be no harm in trying and set out to raise funds through dances, auctions, suppers, raffles, almost anything that would bring in the required monies. Spearheaded by D.L. Harlow, funds began pouring in and construction got underway, mainly through volunteer labor and a lot of services and materials being donated by local people.

Making a major fund raising contribution was the Hill Family, through ticket sales, walkathons, etc. Sidewalls were erected and for a year an open air rink was available with the roof work getting underway as money became available. The roof, an arched steel structure, posed a major setback when, in a wind-storm, it became a mass of twisted steel. This, needless to say, was most disheartening but once again the challenge was met.

Through the determined work of the Lions club and such people as Sgt. Steve Stevenson, the rink became a reality and was officially opened in April of this year by Premier Regan.

An artificial ice plant is in operation and through a bequest from the estate of the late Max Young, a maintenance fund has been set up.

During the winter, hockey and skating was enjoyed by many and a figure skating club started.

Work inside the rink has been carried out through the town's L.I.P. program resulting in improved seating arrangements and a bright new appearance.

There is a growing shortage of students taking Divinity courses, and there is a shortage of ministers in each major denomination in the Atlantic Provinces, and because of this, it is hoped that it will be possible to give awards to a greater number of students in the years.

ESTARI first became project of the Grand Chapter of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island in 1954, since that time the interest and support of the members has grown until this project has become a vital part of the work of the Order.

Each year the Worthy Grand Matron of Jurisdiction chooses Special Project such as ESTARI, Cancer Research Fund for Crippled Children and others, and asks upon her official yearly to each Chapter, that in lieu of the Chapter giving a personal gift, as was the custom, that the Chapter wishes to do so, a gift be given for her Special Project. Last year at the Chapter a cheque for $1 was presented to President of the Canadian Cancer Society, Nova Scotia Division, by the then Worthy Grand Matron who named Cancer Research her Special Project. During the past year the Worthy Grand Matron's project has been ESTARI, as it was the special project of Worthy Grand Matron years ago.

Leo Club

LEADERSHIP
OPPORTUNITY

Leo clubs are becoming more and more popular. This is why the Leo organization is growing at a fast rate. The Leo organization is now coming better known to the public. It's the LEADERSHIP they are providing in their communities. It's the friendship and working with each other, and has brought Lions and Leo's closer together with the young people. For over five years the Bridgetown Leo Club, comprised of the youth from the area, have similar goals as that of the Lions Club and both have benefited greatly from the work involved. Last summer the club built and ran a booth in the Lion's Fair and hopes to do the same this summer. The club also held a rock dance with the band Fox providing the entertainment.

After the harsh October storm a few members of the club picked apples. During the annual Lion's auction the Leo Club ran the clothing wagons as it has done in past years. A Leo-Lion hockey game took place in December with the Leos coming out on top with just a bit of help from the referees. Charter night was held in February and was a success.

A rockathon was held during the March break at the Anglican Church Hall all rocked the full 24 hours. The president of the club cooked breakfast for the ravenous rockers. Sometime prior to the rockathon president Ian Hutchinson turned the ropes over to Vice President, Steve Campbell till the end of the float building and is in charge of all float excursions this summer.

Perhaps the Leos biggest task this year was the building of the town float for the Apple Blossom Festival Parade, which involved hardwork, imagination, participation and leadership. Bridgetown again had a beautiful float which placed 3rd out of 137 entries in the most artistic division of the Parade.

Leadership, Experience, Opportunity, is what it's all about.

Thanks also are extended to Mr. Fergus Flanagan, Leo advisor for the past year, who left for California just a short time ago.

The Bridgetown Leo Club is open to all young adults between the age of 15-19. Many members will not be back next year as they have graduated from BRHS and will be seeking jobs elsewhere or going on to further study. New members with new and fresh ideas are needed.

Congratulations to the Bridgetown Lions Club for taking the initiative to organize an Annual Fair for Bridgetown.

May it be a huge success!

sellors". She said all she told felt current realities were inadequate to deal with the growing problem of alcoholism in Halifax. She felt the answer lay in the detoxification centres. "I thought treatment facilities were needed. 28.5 percent felt none of the current services were effective. The majority of those said they end up going to take drunks to the emergency hospitals. 60 percent said they just tied them up, and 9.5 percent said they put them in the local mental hospital. "All that happens" said Mrs. Wheaton "is they help for a few days and end up back on the street the revolving doors that waste valuable police time." She said the group sees Alcoholism as a social and not a mental problem. The solution, they said, is to set up centres where the alcoholic can be taken off the streets in a quiet, peaceful environment long enough to provide a socializing influence that can handle their problems through personal communication and understanding. Mrs. Wheaton pointed out that the police force will continually be forced to deal with the problem until adequate and effective services are provided.

Estari Night At St. Mary's Chapter

The evening of June 12th proved to be a very interesting one for the members and visitors of St. Mary's Chapter No. 35 O.E.S. After the closing of the regular meeting, Lic. John Jay, Mrs. Jay and Mrs. Bailey Gidney were welcomed into the Chapter Room. Lic. and Mrs. Jay sang a duet, "Jesus the Master" accompanied by Mrs. Gidney on the piano. Lic. Jay then gave a very inspiring and sincere talk on his being called to serve God in the Ministry, and said he has always been thankful for the guidance that led him to make the decision. He gave much credit to Mrs. Jay for the co-operation and assistance she has given him during his years of study for the Ministry, and also told of the help that awards from such funds as ESTARI give to those receiving them. In closing Lic. and Mrs. Jay sang another duet "Until Then", and the Worthy Matron presented them with a gift of money from the Chapter.

ESTARI means Eastern Star Awards for Religious Leadership, and little may be known about these awards outside of the Order of the Eastern Star. They are given to assist young people

Between 25 to 30 fishermen of the Digby Neck area on the Fundy and St. Mary's sides aired their fishing problems at a fishing

The three mile limit would exclude seiners coming within the limits. Another item of business brought up was fish

The Legion Hall at Freeport is in the process of being painted by members of the OFY project and already it is very much improved in appearance. A recreational grant of $10,000 has been received from the Provincial Government and plans are being made for the best use of this money. Comrade Edward Huston has been appointed as project director. This project will help to improve facilities and it is hoped to soon make a larger contribution to the community and also to be able to employ several community members for a period of time.

The D-Day supper put on by the Ladies Auxiliary was a success and after the supper a Social evening was spent.

Dominion Day, July 1st, a supper was again held at the Hall by the Ladies Auxiliary after which the usual social hour was held. The business meeting for both groups were held Friday, July 18th. A rummage sale was held by the Ladies Auxiliary on Saturday July 19th.

A bake sale and auction are in the planning stages for next month. These will be held both on August 23rd.

Task Force On Alcoholism

Police in Halifax spend so much time looking after Alcoholics that they are being distracted from their real duties, says the church of Scientology Task Force on Alcoholism.

A survey of cops on the beat conducted by the church reveals that 33 percent of police time is spent handling peace disturbing drunks. The group presented results of their survey to the commission on Drug dependency to point out the urgent need for improved services. Spokesman for the group Joanne Wheaton said "our police are supposed to be peace officers, not Alcoholic

Some felt the answer lay in more detoxification centres, others thought treatment facilities were needed. 28.5 percent felt none of the current services were effective. The majority of police said they end up having to take drunks to local emergency hospitals. 33 percent said they just locked them up, and 9.5 percent said they put them into the local mental hospital. "All that happens" says Mrs. Wheaton "is they get help for a few days and end up back on the street. It's the revolving doors that is wasting valuable police time."

The group sees Alcoholism as a social and not a mental problem. The solution, they say, is to set up centres where the Alcoholic can be kept off the streets in a quiet peaceful environment long enough to provide a resocializing influence that will handle their problems through personal communication and understanding.

Mrs. Wheaton pointed out that the police force will continually be forced to handle the problem until adequate and effective services are provided.

Rodney Stark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stark, Bay View, has joined the Digby Courier staff in the advertising department. Mrs. Doris Brown of that department leaves Friday on a three weeks vacation to visit her parents in the U.S.A.

Eighteen year old Rodney is a graduate of Grade XI, Digby Regional High School. He has worked at the Atlantic Wholesalers, Digby, and at MacDonald Motors.

At four o'clock on Monday afternoon, the Digby Swimming Pool will be officially opened. Above are seen six young people who have been employed as guards and attendants for the summer.

President's Message

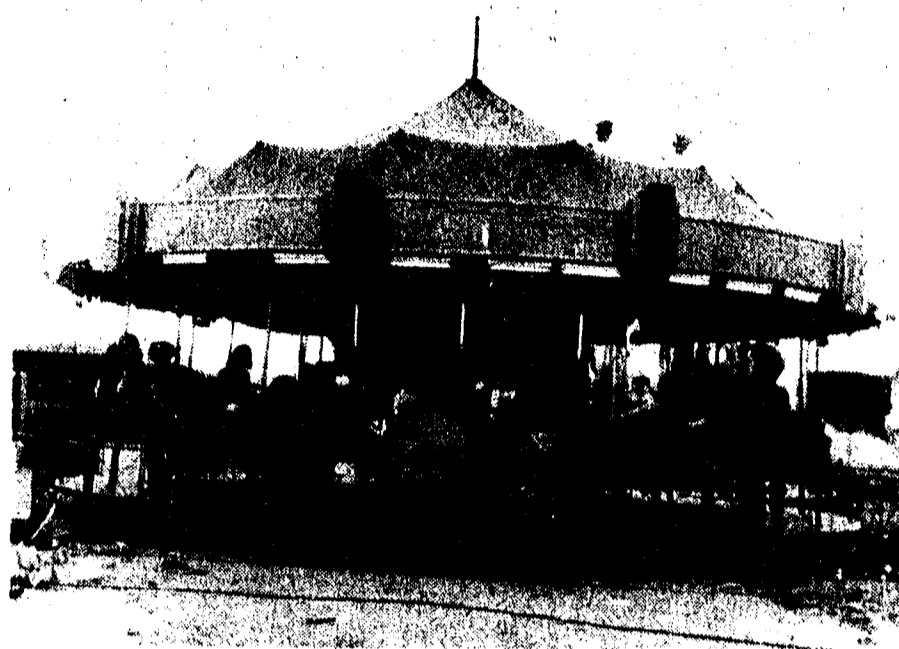

Once again, the Bridgetown Lions Club is pleased to present, the Lions Summer Fair. At the conclusion of last years festivities, the members of the Fair Committee were eager to make plans for this year's events. Consequently, a good many Lions have spent the last twelve months planning and preparing for the program for this years fair. As deliberations reach their final stages of completion, it appears that all is in readiness for an even bigger and better Fair this year.

The key, however, to all successful Lions activities are the citizens of the community and its surrounding areas. As we look back upon the many Lions Projects that have been carried out in the past, I must emphasize the need for support. As has always been the case, the success of this Lions Club can be directly related to the tremendous support that the people of this area have given to us.

Therefore, it is our hope that we can repay our thanks through the medium of the Bridgetown Lions Fair. It is our sincere wish that we can provide a source of meaning community spirit and enjoyment, and at the same time, raise the funds that are necessary to continue what I believe is a valuable service to our community and its people.

In conclusion I would urge that all join the Bridgetown Lions Club in making this year's Summer Fair a roaring success.

A delicious chicken dinner was served by Mrs. Alma Dugas of La Cave Restaurant and was served by waitresses engaged by her. If one is to believe the exclamations heard after the dinner was completed is any indication, all those who were present enjoyed the meal very much.

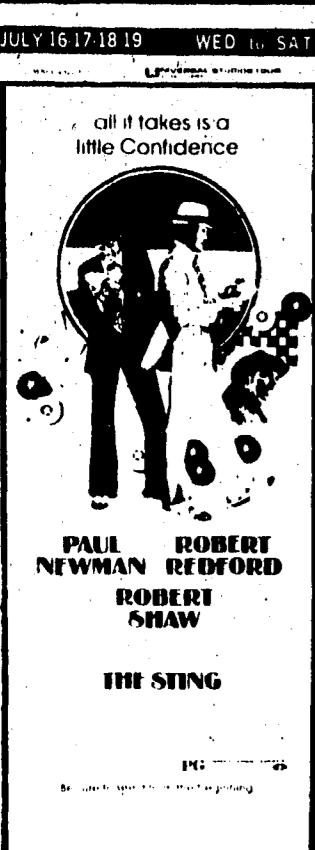

Group Singing took place while the waitresses were clearing the tables, with Rev. Renaud Cote accompanying on the piano and leading the group in a sing-song. As soon as sufficient tables were cleared, card games were organized and over ten tables were used for this purpose.

What Came Alive In '55

Back in 1955 our town - Bridgetown - needed something, but nobody seemed to know just what that something was... until a gentleman from Alabama came into our midst. He talked with the various business men of the town and the result was - "the Birth of the Bridgetown Lions Club."

The man from Alabama represented Lions International and he, on their behalf, presented the Lions with their Charter on September 21st, 1955. The sponsoring club was the Kentville Lions Club.

The new club consisted of 26 Lions, of which only six are presently still active for various reasons. For the past 20 years, meetings have been held at the Community Centre with fine meals provided by the Legion Ladies Auxiliary.

The first project the Lions tackled was the Swimming Pool at Bloody Creek. Here they erected a new dam and built bath houses and provided instruction in swimming and water safety. After several years, it was felt that due to the increase in traffic and the danger for children walking on the highway, a new modern pool should be constructed in the town. The new pool became their next major project and when completed they continued to operate and supervise it up to and including the present time.

The next successful undertaking was BASH in 1971. This was in the form of a big reunion. People from all over the country who had attended B.R.H. School and earlier were contacted and invited to come home and help celebrate. Everyone had a grand time greeting many "long lost" friends. Several persons stated they hoped to see another BASH in 1981.

A very successful Lions Fair was organized in 1974. This comprised of three days of fun and entertainment. The Lions are making it an annual event, due to popular demand.

The most recent project completed was the new Skating Rink in which the Lions played a major role. For several years the Lions operated the old rink, before it was destroyed by fire. They continue this interest in the new facility as members of the Bridgetown and District Recreation Assn.

The kind folks of Carleton Corner gave the Lions their Community Hall for a Club Room. The Lions are renovating the building under a "Little Red School House" grant and it is now used again for community card parties, dances, meetings, receptions, etc. Remember, that during this time many smaller projects were taking place, such as providing T.V. sets to local institutions, wheelchairs, a mist tent, many pairs of glasses, transportation to hospital for crippled children, Blood Donor Clinics, Driver Education Courses, etc.

How was all the above paid for? - by lots of hard work by the Lions Club and the generous support of Bridgetown and District. Their big money raising project is the Annual Lions Auction, followed by Nut Sales, Light Bulb Sales, Raffles, The Fair, etc. A great deal of money was raised to complete the above mentioned facilities that will benefit our people for many years.

A few years ago a Leo Club was formed under the guidance of the Lions Club. They have already made their mark and their efforts speak for themselves.

Their faithful pianist has added greatly to their still meetings and helps to make them a happy and en-

NOW YOU ARE NEEDED

The committee looking after the Bear River Cherry Carnival for Saturday and the committee looking after the Digby Natal Day for Monday have really put themselves into jobs and all with volunteering effort. Their jobs are not quite complete. Unforeseen circumstances bring changes to be made nearly every year and 1975 will, no doubt, be no different. However, those people who do this type of work frequently get in the habit of taking it on the chin.

The jobs of the committees are not quite finished. Saturday and Monday will be hard-working days. The fairs must run smoothly and anxieties kept secret. After all the days are meant to bring pleasures to the guests so workers get used to hiding their frustrations.

After all the strenuous hours of work gone into the planning of the Carnival and the Natal Day celebrations, the rest is up to you. You are the people who can attend and show your appreciation to those who are aiming to better their village and town. Proceeds go to worthwhile coffers. Now, it's up to you, you are needed.

PRONE TO DISASTER

After all the disasters which have come to Springhill, you might think the people should throw up their hands in despair. But, no, the Springhill people are not like that or, at least, they have shown themselves not to be quitters but people who pick up the threads and begin again. How many towns have gone through two or more serious mine disasters, two and more serious fires and take heart again as Springhill has and is determined to do again.

Our feelings are those of concern for all the people who lost property in the weekend fire in Springhill. Some we know and some we do not. Special among our Springhill business friends are Charlie and Richie Albon and Jack and Audrey Albon of the Springhill Record. This is the third time their business has met disaster by fire within a few years. Finer people in Nova Scotia you cannot find, whether in the newspaper circles or other. Why should they be so plagued? We expect and hope that they can again come up smiling and willing to start all over again.

SENIOR CITIZENS WEEK

Here we are right in the middle of Senior Citizens Week and our recognition of it seems to have been a casual announcement and a short story on municipal bodies proclaiming July 20-26 to be Senior Citizen's Week.

What with a visit to town by His Honor, Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau, the visit of the parliamentarians from the Caribbean, the Good Times Day at Smith's Cove and the Digby East Fish and Game Association Field Days, we did not get around to "Salute The Top Generation."

However, as with all those special weeks, the chief purpose is to focus special attention on some particular concern but from there the attention should continue throughout the duration and not be allowed to wane away or stop.

So, right here, we "Salute The Top Generation" (theme for the week) and we recommend that each week to follow should be one to "Salute The Top Generation."

The major objectives of the observance were to acknowledge those senior citizens who are actively involved in community activities or personal achievement; to encourage positive attitudes towards aging and the elderly; and to encourage elderly people to re-examine the programs provided by clubs in their communities with a view to becoming participants. He said there are a growing number of senior citizens in the province who are proving that age doesn't lessen the capacity to enjoy life by active involvement in social, educational and recreational activities.

A citizen is a citizen no matter if of the top generation or middle age or young adult or child. Being a citizen, knowing where is home, is a great pleasure and carries with it responsibilities whether young or aged. Most of the senior citizens of today can look back on life and assess it. What did they do to help Digby and area grow and be better for it as a citizen of Digby, for instance. Or, can they remember irresponsibilities which proved their deficiency and now can help others to evade such pitfalls.

Their experience is valuable for those who must bear most of the problems at present while the top generation is saluted for what they have given. It is a timely tribute.

A good citizen will, whether young or old, be worthy of the name as he or she helps to build up their own resources. This is not frowned upon unless it is overdone, but a good-citizen also has in mind the welfare of his neighbor, his associates and his friends of a different nationality or language or place. All are citizens of the entire world.

So, though a bit late, we salute the Top Generation in this Senior Citizens Week.

WHERE IN THE WORLD?

It is difficult to remember the names of all those fine people who came from the Caribbean to Nova Scotia a couple weeks ago. They were from every walk of government life. There were senators, deputy prime ministers, clerks of parliament, speakers, parliamentary secretaries, ministers of works, communication, agriculture, forestry, fish, health and housing. All this is interesting but included is an unusual case. The Hon. E.T. Joshua was here as Minister of Trade and Agriculture and his wife, Hon. Mrs. Ivy Joshua is leader of the Opposition. Where else in the world would you find such a unique situation

MOST DESERVING

The Citizen of the Year committee is to be congratulated on their choice of Digby Citizen of the Year 1975. There is no one more deserving of the honor than Judge V.G. Cardoza. His leadership and his effort for the good of the Town of Digby (and surrounding area) has been outstanding through many years. Others have had the honor as Citizen of the Year and in some cases it was motivated by Cardoza himself. Circumstances like that excluded the honor for Vic. All the people who were so honored also were deserving and there are others worthy for future but only one can be voted on each year. Sometimes circumstances decree that one or another should be chosen in any one particular year. It is most pleasing to have had Judge Victor Cardoza come into the honor this year of 1975 and we again repeat that he is most deserving of the honor.

Hodge Podge

- There are letters we cherish in this newspaper business. For instance, one we received from Sept - lles, P.Q. part of which follows:

Due to prolonged mail strikes I have just recently received some back copies of the Digby Courier but they are coming quite regularly now. It is so good to get the 'home news', to keep in touch even though we are so far apart.

It might be of interest to you to tell you that I have had the COURIER all my life, which will be 75 years if I am spared until August, 1975. My parents subscribed to THE DIGBY COURIER and THE FAMILY HERALD AND WEEKLY STAR, and I carried it on. Its a great country paper, I cherish every copy.

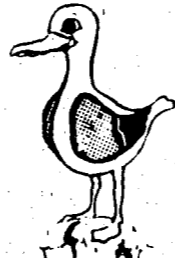

Please accept my hearty good wishes for continued success, and good health and happiness. (ISAIAH 26:3). Thank you for the kind interest you take in people, the Lord will reward you."

- From Richmond, Maine, we get another nice letter. The writer sent a copy of the 150th anniversary edition of their newspaper, the Daily Kennebec Journal. It had 200 pages. This is, he said, is a small way to say thank-you for the advertisement you ran in your newspaper and the wonderful result I got on my search of the Smith family history -

- Willard Kinney when he became Mayor some time ago, did so by election and not by acclamation. Sorry about that Willard. Then Gary MacKenzie informs us that the disturbance referred to in our newspaper last week did not start in Barnacle Bill's. Again sorry to be wrong.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor

I am a veteran of W.W.I. In 1958 I became disabled and got Veterans Allowance part of it was an allowance for my wife. When I got old age pension my allowance was adjusted accordingly, my wife doesn't get O.A.P.

When I asked why I didn't get the $3500 exemptions to my assessment the same as other senior citizens I was told my income was greater than $3500 which included my wife's allowance because it comes in my name. Can anyone give me a reasonable answer why the income of the wife of an old age pensioner is not counted on his income as well as on the Veterans.

I am sure some of them get more than I do.

Who ever conceived that rule surely delivered a (using a boxing term) T.K.O. to veterans.

Is that the just Society? W.W.I Veterans beware! Yours Truly, Elwood E. Mullen

Looking for information on the Frasers who came to Nova Scotia from Scotland on the ship "Hector" and settled around the Pictou area in 1773.

Dead Rats do not Phase Nancy

A dead rat falling unexpectedly on a person can be an unnerving experience. But not to a public health inspector. It is all in a day's work.

So discovered Nancy Blackmore, Nova Scotia's first female public health inspector, while carrying out an inspection of a basement apartment one day.

"I moved a panel in the ceiling and out dropped a dead rat in a trap, right on top of me," she said.

Despite such experiences, the 22-year-old Pictou County native finds her work, after two years, "interesting, challenging, at times, frustrating."

Her job takes her into restaurants, hospital kitchens, supermarkets, sewage treatment plants, new lots to examine sewage disposals and wells, and any number of foodhandling establishments. She inspects, reports, and recommends.

Her two-year course with field training included courses in medical and engineering technology, food processing, chemistry, physics, environmental health, microbiology, communication, and laboratory work.

The Atlantic Branch of the Canadian Institute of Public Health Inspectors has appointed Ms. Blackmore to its executive. She is its present secretary.

Many Home For Roll Call Services At Hill Grove Baptist Church

The 54th Annual Roll Call Services of the Hill Grove United Baptist Church were held on Sunday afternoon and evening, June 29th, with a large congregation at each Service as well as at the Fellowship Supper in the Church Hall.

Following the Opening Prayer the Pastor, Rev. M.K. Shaw, extended a welcome to all members and visitors.

As the Clerk, Mr. Lloyd MacNeill, called the roll of members, responses were given in person or by proxy. It was pleasing to note that a number of non-resident members were present for the Service and to respond to their names.

An "In Memoriam" Prayer in memory of two members who had passed away during the year, Mrs. Attie Hinxman and Mr. Bernard Smith, was given by the Pastor.

The soloist for the afternoon service was L.E.R. Winchester of Smith's Cove who sang "How Great Thou Art" and "He Touched Me," both of which were greatly appreciated by all present.

After the Fellowship Supper and time of sociability at the Church Hall, the opening of the Evening Service was conducted by the Pastor, and the special music was provided by the Parker's Cove Baptist Church Choir under the direction of their organist, Mrs. Myrtle Halliday, and consisted of three anthems. Mr. Stewart Rice, also of Parker's Cove sang two solos. All of this special music was much enjoyed by the large congregation, many of whom expressed their personal thanks to members of the choir, organist, and soloist after the Service.

A Prayer of Dedication for the new electric organ and Hymnals recently placed in the Church, was given by the Pastor.

The Guest Speaker for both services was Rev. Eugene Thompson, Area Minister for Western Nova Scotia. A strong, forceful speaker Rev. Thompson held the close attention of the congregations at both Services with his inspiring messages.

The Ordinance of the Lord's Supper was observed with the Pastor being assisted by the three Deacons, Messrs Thomas Franklin, Lloyd MacNeill and George Height, after which the Benediction was given by Rev. Mr. Thompson.

The new Church Guest Book in the vestibule of the Church, used for the first time at the above Services, and the new Hymnals, were both gifts from the Church Auxiliary to the Church.

Celebrate 50th Anniversary

The Three River Pastoral Change of the United Church will be sharing in the national 50th anniversary of the Church on Sunday, Aug. 3, at 2:30 p.m. The preacher is Dr. John Corstine, of Pine Hill (now the Atlantic School of Theology), and there will be special singing by the Weymouth Falls Gospel Singers, and visiting soloists. A church supper will be held after the service, and members of sister churches in the village are warmly invited to share in this celebration.

IN MEMORIALS

OUTHOUSE—In memory of Grace Young Outhouse who died July 27, 1968. Remembered with love by husband Sylvanus and family.

Off and again a leaf blown by the wind
Falls on the broad ocean and sinks below,
'Tis never lost; where'er it fate may blow,
The imprint of its settings left behind
And so with every life, where'er its kind,
It shapes itself a place, tis destined so,
If hence in peace or turmoil it should go,
It's influence ever lives, as 'twas designed.

AMERO—In memory of our dear cousin, Lloyd J., who passed away on July 25, 1971. He wished no one a last farewell

Past And Present

If the Admiral Sir Robert Digby of 1783 could see Digby now compared to what it was like here when he landed that year with his flagship, Atlanta in Convoy, there certainly would not be any comparison. Can we imagine the amazement to be able to turn time back on such a day as Digby's Natal Day.

Fire trucks giving pleasure rides to children at 9 a.m. on Natal Day, bicycle rodeo, a children's parade and a pet show to follow. People coming in cars, never heard of by Sir Robert, to assemble and enjoy a day of fun. There is to be a soap box derby, the time of the derby can be found on posters or in advertisements. There will be bands and majorettes from various places. The grand parade will be at 2:00 p.m. right after the solemn fishermen's memorial. The annual occurrence of presenting Digby's Citizen of the Year will take place at 3 p.m. and the official opening of Digby Swimming Pool will be at 4 p.m. Places to eat will be found, one being a fish chowder from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall. Various games and entertainment will be operating throughout the day.

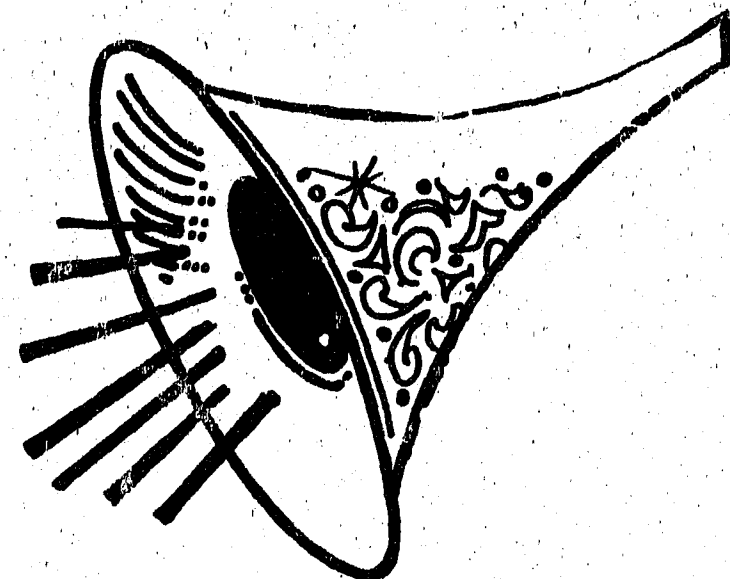

Many more attractions besides those mentioned here will be found and while enjoying all the festivities, let's try to think back to those early days when the Loyalists pioneered from New York. They arrived in Conway, June 1st 1783 and camped in the wilderness. One ship after another had come, bringing with them oak house frames for building houses or used logs coked with mass. This was the beginning and solid ground which matured to Natal Day 1975.

A census in 1784 shows that the Loyalist influx was large naming the population 2000 souls. It was in that year that the Assembly of the province passed an Act allowing Conway a member to represent them in the House of Assembly. He was Major Milledge. Later the settlement was named Digby in honor of Admiral Digby, Rear Admiral of the British fleet who manned the flotilla which brought the settlers. The settlers were hardy and brave. They fought their way to the top and their legacy is handed down to we, the people of 1975. Each generation tackled the problems which presented themselves and in 1890, eighty-five years ago, it was deemed wise and feasible to take advantage of incorporation which was felt would give the town advantage in aids to progress.

Digby's Miss Natal Day is being escorted from the queen's throne on Saturday evening by Eric Wood of Digby. Miss Natal Day, Miss Sharon George, was crowned by Digby's Apple Blossom Princess, Miss Gail Buckler, Bear River and was presented with a bouquet of red roses by Mrs. Glen Smith.

Best Wishes From Digby's Citizen Of The Year

It is my sincere hope that this year's Natal Day program in Digby will be an unqualified success and I take pleasure in commending the program to the readers of the Digby Courier. A good attendance of area people as well as visitors will do much to ensure the success of the day.

As one who was closely involved in the planning for and the conduct of the initial Natal Day Program in Digby as well as several following that first effort, I am familiar with the great amount of work, planning and preparation that goes into the Natal Day program each year. I am well aware also that it is only a relatively small band of dedicated workers who each year make Natal Day in Digby an actual reality.

These workers receive as their only reward for many long hours of work, worry and effort, the realization they have helped to bring enjoyment to those who attend and take part in the festivities. It is important, therefore, that there be a good attendance at this year's Natal Day program in Digby on Monday, July 28th, and that those who do attend come prepared to enjoy themselves.

In closing, I would like to thank the selection committee for choosing me as this year's Citizen of the Year.

For the past more than 35 years I have enjoyed the opportunities given to me to serve in a variety of capacities and I look forward to continued involvement in these voluntary endeavours in the years ahead.

Sincerely,
Victor Cardozo

Married 55 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook, Conway, celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary on July 12 when they motored to Yarmouth on a sight-seeing and shopping trip.

The bride of 55 years was the former Mary Germaine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Germaine, Digby, and the groom was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook, Weymouth North. They were married in Digby by Rev. Mr. Philips, minister of the Methodist Church in Digby.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook have three children, Dorothy (Mrs. Gerald Dunn), Conway; Edith (Mrs. Edith Gibson), Montreal and Arnold in business at Conway. There are six grandchildren and nine great grandchildren, three of whom were triplets.

Their anniversary was recognized at the Church of God on Sunday when the congregation stood in their honor as the anniversary was announced by the Rev. Francis Burnett.

Born in 1901, Mr. Cook moved to Digby in 1916. He was fireman on the Empress from Digby to Saint John, N.B. and worked for 23 years at the Lour Lodge, Digby. Since then Mr. Cook has kept mostly to farming and continues today to take pride in his sizable garden. One of his recent projects has been to help his grandson build a house at Bay View.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cook are enjoying good health and hope to take a short trip to the New England States to visit relatives. One of their greatest pleasures is visiting people. They read much and in winter they enjoy watching T.V.

Asked if there had been many changes in the area in the last 55 years, Mrs. Cook replied "More than I ever could tell you."

Dear Mr. Weatherwax:

We want to take our dog with us when we go away. Can you give us some travel tips to keep Queenie well and happy?

J.C.M.
If you are driving, exercise Queenie at least every two hours, on a sturdy leash in a safe place. She must always wear her collar and license in case she slips away. This is the law in most places and a protection for your pet every place. Never, never leave her in a parked car on a hot day; it can become as hot as an oven in which she can become overheated, dehydrated and maybe even die.

If you are going to fly, Queenie should have a comfortable carrier. Most airlines will supply a carrier when you make advance reservations. Ask them to load Queenie last so she will be the first one off when you reach your destination.

Remember, a change of water can be harder on a dog's system than on yours, and don't risk changing your pet's diet on the trip. Lassie and I travel between 75,000 and 100,000 miles a year! We always carry distilled water and several cans of Lassie's favorite Recipe Brand Balanced Dinners in case the stores aren't open when we arrive.

See Queenie's veterinarian before you go away. She must have a health certificate verifying her shots, and she may need a tranquilizer. Check ahead to be sure your hotel will welcome your dog when you arrive. Most accept well-behaved pets, but all require you to be responsible for any damage they do.

Teachers Take New Posts

Prior to School closing a staff luncheon was held at the I.C.S. at which the members of the staff had a get together at noon. Members of the group contributed salads, casseroles, dessert and all the other fixings to round out a most delicious lunch served buffet style.

At this occasion gifts were presented to Mrs. Susan Frenette and Mr. George Carmen who are leaving the staff to take up new teaching duties next term. Gifts were presented by the supervisor Keith Manzer. Susan and George will be missed both by the staff and the pupils. We hope they will enjoy their new schools and wish them "good luck". Mrs. Frenette goes to Windsor and Mr. Carmen to Digby to teach.

How To Protect

Those Important Baby Teeth

Primary teeth appear in the child's mouth in infancy and are there for a definite reason. It is Nature's plan that they remain there until the permanent teeth which follow them are almost ready to erupt. Premature loss is abnormal and often the forerunner of serious trouble and unnecessary expense to the parents.

The baby teeth ARE important and should be kept in a healthy state.

This means:

Brushing the teeth right after EVERY meal as well as after snacks. Rinsing the mouth with water after brushing and always after eating, if you cannot brush. Reducing sweet, sugary foods to an absolute minimum, especially the sticky kinds. Avoid them entirely between meals and before going to bed. Instead of candy, jam, soft drinks, gum, chocolates, cakes, sweet cookies and chocolate milk, substitute fresh fruit, raw vegetables, cheese, peanut butter, milk and unsweetened fruit juices.

Regular dental examinations from age three years to permit early discovery of cavities before they progress to the state where infection endangers the child's health or results in the premature loss of teeth; extraction if the tooth is beyond help, seeking your dentist's advice regarding some form of space holding device if it is required.

Getting your community to fluoridate its water supply. This is an inexpensive way to prevent at least two thirds of the tooth decay in baby teeth and in permanent teeth as well.

Primitives Have Better Teeth

Most primitive people have a much lower rate of tooth decay than do Canadians, Americans and Western Europeans.

For instance, the Eskimo is almost completely free from decay until introduced to modern foods such as sugar and other refined carbohydrates.

Apparently what makes the difference as far as the decay rate is concerned, is not the degree of civilization — but the foods eaten.

Primitive people usually eat foods low on sweets and so have less tooth decay. Also, the so-called primitives eat many "detergent" foods that require thorough chewing, resulting in natural cleansing of the teeth and gums.

Modern man, because of his diet, requires additional effort to help keep his mouth clean.

CANADIAN DENTAL ASSOCIATION

Dear Ann Landers:

Two weeks ago I walked into 15-year-old daughter's room and found an empty bed and a two-page note.

She wrote of her fears of being sent to a detention home and ended her letter with these words: "At least I feel better knowing you won't have to worry about what I'm going to do next."

I haven't seen or heard from my daughter since. I have no idea where she is or what she is doing. All attempts to get information have failed. The police were notified immediately but have no leads.

Since she reads your column faithfully I'm hoping she will see this letter and at least let me know she is all right.

I also want her to know I realize now that I didn't try hard enough to be understanding and if she does come home I will be more considerate of her individuality.

She had no money that I know of when she left. I'm praying she is safe. Please print this as soon as possible. I miss her. — Anxious Father.

Dear Father:

Do you have any idea how many empty beds and notes were discovered in the U.S. the day you discovered yours? Would you believe approximately 3,250? And nearly 33 per cent of those who left home are 14 years of age — or younger. Girls outnumber boys two to one.

Here is a message for all runaways: You can dial 1-800-231-6946. There will be no charge. A telephone operator will call your parents anywhere in the United States and give them a message. (Most runaways say, "Tell Mom and Dad I'm O.K. and not to worry".)

No one will trace your call or try to force you to go home regardless of your age. I hope and pray that thousands of runaways will follow these instructions and tell their folks, "I'm coming home. I've had enough of bumming around."

Leaves For Oregon

Following the regular Sunday evening service at the Digby Church of God, July 20, a farewell fellowship was held in honor of Miss Laura Brown. Laura, who is a recent graduate of Digby Regional High School will be leaving this week for a short vacation with relatives and friends in the United States, before enrolling in Oregon Bible College, Oregon, Illinois.

During the fellowship Laura was presented a cake, prepared specially for the occasion by James Ross, and was given a gift of money.

Laura, who is the daughter of the late Rev. Raymond Brown and Mrs. Doris Brown, will be greatly missed by the Digby church where she has been active over the past years in the youth work, as a Sunday School teacher, and as church organist.

Miss Brown will be accompanied to Oregon by her mother, Mrs. Raymond Brown and sisters, Jean and Nancy.

Getting Ready For Exhibition

With the Cherry Carnival to be over on Saturday and the Digby Natal Day on Monday, the Digby County Exhibition Association is steaming up increased effort for the exhibition which takes place in Bear River, August 27-30.

One of the changes to take place will be a ten percent commission on fancy work and cooked items sold on the exhibition grounds.

Blaine Hanshaw, formerly of Deep Brook, now with radio and TV will provide Country and Western music each day. Arnold Adams is convener of the entertainment committee.

Mrs. Esther Banks is in charge of a 4 H Musical Ride which will be a new feature to the 1975 Digby County Exhibition. The usual features from year to year will also have their place on the program. Still another change is that the time of judging paintings and domestic arts will be on the Tuesday evening prior to the exhibition.

The property of the Bear River Agricultural Society which harbours the exhibition, has been newly painted and sewage disposal and water supply are being improved. It is anticipated that the canteen will be enlarged. John Alcoon is Exhibition manager.

Iris Margaret (Nunn) Doullon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Nunn, Digby, received her Bachelor of Education degree from Dalhousie University on May 16, 1975. She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Dalhousie, Class of '74. Iris is pictured, immediately preceding this year's convocation, with her infant daughter, Terynn.

Programming Against Unemployment

A $150 million Local Initiatives Program will spearhead the Federal Program against unemployment this fall.

Manpower and Immigration Minister Robert Andras said that L.I.P. 1975-76 will be basically unaltered from the program that has created a quarter of a million short-term jobs in four years.

"The major change," Mr. Andras said, "is that we have doubled the size of projects for which municipalities can apply, to $150,000 per project. This will allow local governments to continue to fund innovative projects creating employment for Canadians."

The other significant changes are the over-all increased level of funding and the earlier starting date for projects. Last year's budget for the program was $96 million.

This year, projects may start operating November 3, one month earlier than last year. In exceptional cases, a project may be permitted to begin during October.

Applications will be available early in July at Canada Manpower Centres and must be submitted by September 12.

Another important feature of this year's program is that private companies can sponsor projects. Their proposals must be of community benefit and meet other project criteria. Any profits will be used to reduce the government's contribution.

"We believe that the initiative and expertise of the business community can be well put to use in community betterment schemes," Mr. Andras said.

"The creativity and initiative of Canadians will again play an important part in reducing unemployment this winter. I expect that Canadians will respond to this year's expanded L.I.P. program as enthusiastically as they have responded to past programs," Mr. Andras said.

L.I.P.'s strength as a job-creating measure in times of seasonal slowdown in Canadian communities has been demonstrated in four successive years. An economic study of the impact of the program has determined that program expenditures of approximately $490 million in those years resulted in an increase of $723 million in the Gross National Product.

The primary objective of L.I.P. is to reduce unemployment by inviting Canadians to submit proposals for community projects that will provide jobs. The projects will be funded by the federal government.

To be eligible, projects must:

- create new jobs;
- provide a worthwhile facility or service to the community;
- have the support of the local community;
- not duplicate existing facilities or services;
- have adequate financing for any costs over and above the allowable federal contribution;
- keep proposals to a maximum of $100,000 ($150,000 for municipal projects);
- employ only the unemployed;
- not support leisure activities solely for the sponsor;
- not primarily improve the property of individuals.

Mr. Andras also emphasized that those projects that tend to generate a continuing dependency on Manpower funds will not be approved unless it is demonstrated, in advance, that the projects will have a permanent source of support.

"We have no interest in funding projects that will cause undue hardships in a community once they have terminated," he said.

In the first year of L.I.P. Municipalities carried a major responsibility for making the program a success. This year L.I.P. support should add many new municipal jobs that would otherwise not exist. This is not an attempt to subsidize present municipal jobs but rather a desire to create new jobs in local governments.

The year L.I.P. wages must average no more than $125 per week - slightly higher than last winter's average salary. As in last winter's program, Constituency Advisory Groups-volunteer groups composed of departmental officials and local citizens nominated by the Members of Parliament-will play a role in choosing L.I.P. projects for their constituency. Final decisions on all projects will be left to the Minister.

"It has been clearly established through last winter's L.I.P. program that the answer to unemployment is the involvement of local communities. I am sure that all Canadian communities will devise proposals suitable to their locality that will at the same time provide an innovative means of solving some of the communities social problems," Mr. Andras said.

"I know the program will have a significant impact on unemployment this winter. The initiative of Canadians is the only ingredient necessary to make this program as successful as those in the past winters."

Miss Specht Entertains 100 At Rally

The special workers were Miss Helen Damon from New Germany with the flannel graph stories and messages; Mrs. Verna Horton, Middleton, with puppets; Mr. Archie Horton, Middleton, with Bible lessons on Christian character. Mrs. Ruth Berry, Centerville, told missionary stories each day.

Tourists Increase In Nova Scotia

A total of 65,686 automobiles entered Nova Scotia in June. This is an increase of 5,413 over the 60,273 that came to the province during June, 1974. Tourism Minister Bagnell said that this is a nine per cent increase and is a good indication of traffic expected during the popular July and August period.

Yarmouth registered a 17 per cent increase in United States traffic up from 3,638 to 4,272.

A five per cent increase to Canadian automobile entries was noted at Amherst, up from 39,155 to 41,136 - a growth of 1,981. American cars entering Nova Scotia at Amherst totalled 7,261, compared with 6,025 for June 1974, a jump of 21 per cent, Mr. Bagnell added. (No figures were given for Digby)

There were 117 tour buses in the province last month, against the 122 noted for the same period a year ago. However, U.S. tour bus arrivals here increased by one, from 66 to 67.

Over-all Canadian auto arrivals in June at six provincial entry points were 51,847, a six per cent increase over 48,851 a year ago.

Total visits by Americans entering by automobile in June were up by 21 per cent from 11,360 to 13,727.

Grace United Women Have Picnic

Unit 1 of Grace United Church Women, Digby, held their annual picnic at the summer home, "Idle Ours", of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph MacDormand, Haines Lake.

At 2 p.m. the ladies started to arrive for a leisure afternoon and a "Pot Luck" supper. However, two of the "lambis" strayed from the flock. After inspecting most of the cottages on Porter's Lake for the MacDormand cottage, they finally met Charles Hall who got them on the right path so they could return to the fold. Sincere thanks to you Charlie.

The hours passed quickly with much "chit-chat" and singing. At 6 p.m. the ladies sat down to a variety supper from "juice to dessert". The Blessing was asked by the Unit Leader, Mrs. Bryson Denton.

After the dishes and debris were cleared away the ladies returned to the sun deck for their Vesper Service, using as their theme, "God in Nature".

At 9.30 p.m., after signing the guest book and extending their sincere thanks to Mrs. MacDormand for a most enjoyable afternoon and evening spent at "Idle Ours", the ladies departed for home.

Plant For Smith's Cove

The Honourable Don Jamieson, Minister of Regional Economic Expansion, announced that 15 firms across Canada have accepted development incentive offers from his Department. An estimated total of 179 jobs are expected to be created by these projects.

Lawrence K. Banks, acting on behalf of a company to be incorporated, has accepted an offer of approximately $33,000 for a new facility at Smith's Cove, Digby County, Nova Scotia, to manufacture doors, window frames and other wood products. The project is expected to create an estimated nine jobs. The offer is based on a rate of 25 per cent of the approved capital costs, estimated at $46,000, plus 30 per cent of the approved wages and salaries, estimated at $74,000.

Guides Receive Canada Cord

At the recent Mother and Daughter Banquet held in the Community Centre the Guide leaders, Mrs. Winna Smith and Mrs. Erma Gillis presented the Canada Cord, the highest award in guiding to Brenda Walker and Tana Harris of the Ranger Company and Heather Goucher, Stephanie Troop, Marlene Walker, Tricia Harris and Cathy Dunnington of the 1st Annapolis Guide Co.

Mrs. Kay Harris of Digby Division Commissioner placed the Cords on the girls' uniforms and congratulated them on their achievement.

These girls have been Guides for four years and have worked hard to earn the many badges and requirements of the Canada Cord.

We are proud that four of the girls have been chosen to represent Nova Scotia in an exchange program, Brenda Walker visiting Quebec and Tana Harris, Cathy Dunnington, and Stephanie Troop going to Saskatchewan. As part of the exchange, this week 22 guides from Saskatchewan will visit Annapolis Royal, joining us Sunday morning for a "Guides Own" worship period and a tour of Fort Anne and Port Royal.

1975 has been designated as a year for "Guiding on the Move" as hundreds of girls have a chance to visit in other provinces and get to know Canada better.

Salvation Army Red Shield Over Quota

Although still receiving contributions to the S.A. Red Shield Drive held in March Envoy Peter Muise, Digby, informs this newspaper that the drive took them well over the quota. The quota for the Digby area was $2705 and the proceeds of the drive to date have amounted to $3000.

Envoy Muise extended thanks to the canvassers, the committee in charge and the public in general for the success of the campaign.

NOTICE Re HOLIDAY

The Town Council OF THE TOWN OF DIGBY HAS DECLARED

Natal Day July 28 A HOLIDAY

GLEN PITMAN, TOWN CLERK

"The Jordan River Group"

Once again, inclement weather held off in the local area as the cars gathered on the grounds of the Smith's Cove Consolidated School on Sunday evening, July 20, for the Drive-In Church Service. The service was conducted by Rev. George Bell of Smith's Cove, guest speaker for the evening.

Rev. Bell spoke on "Confidence In Christ" using as his text, Mark 4:35-41, where Christ quells the storm on the Sea of Galilee. He told of the question asked by the men in the boat, as they watched Christ's actions, "Who can this be that even the sea and wind obey?" He went on to say that this question is still being asked by many today. With many verses of Scripture, he continued to stress how we may have confidence in Christ when the bottom goes out of our life; the kind of confidence that makes us go out into the storm to carry on: that confidence that Christ is there in acts of mercy to others whose lot in life is worse than ours. He closed with the question to those present to ask themselves, "Do I have confidence in Christ?" stating that Jesus Christ is entitled to full out confidence by all Christians today.

Disturbances Downtown

Twelve were involved in a disturbance at Fundy Cove in downtown Digby on Friday evening. One person was taken to hospital and one girl received a head wound requiring five stitches. Charges will be laid.

Charges were laid against two persons involved in a disturbance the week previous which happened, it is understood, in or near Barnacle Bill's. Another disturbance at Barnacle Bill's on Thursday evening is being investigated by RCMP Digby Detachment.

"The Jordan River," the recently formed group of youth musicians of the Deep Brook Baptist Church, presented their arrangements of several old and new songs during the service. Gary and Wayne Selig were on guitars, Bill Hall on drums, and vocalists were Nancy Ecker, Lori

Museum-Exhibit

"The sea and ships", a romantic but factual portrayal of Nova Scotia's link with the oceans of the world over the centuries through the days of sail and steam is the theme of the exhibit open to the public in The Nova Scotia Museum in Halifax from now until September 1.

The golden age of sail, when Halifax Harbour and other maritime ports were a forest of towering masts of clipper ships and men o'war, is represented by scale models.

Samples collected from the oceans of the world by the famous research vessel H.M.S. Challenger, based in Halifax in 1872, are also on display, with some of the exotic souvenirs brought back by Nova Scotian sailors from faraway ports.

The age of steam meant among other things an increased transatlantic passenger service started by men like Samuel Cunard of Halifax. The elegance of these ships is represented by mahogany, furniture and assorted pieces of ship's crockery, silverware and menus. More models, such as those of the Empress of Britain and the Cunarder Ascania portray this era of steamships.

Fishing, which continues to be a part of Nova Scotian life, is represented as well. Curious specimens brought on board by fishermen are shown; such as walrus tusks, whale ear bones, shark teeth and giant clam.

Charts, photographs, posters and paintings are also included in the exhibit, selected from the museum's collections.

The Nova Scotia Museum is open to the public from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday to Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekends and holidays.

Hugh Forrest and Mrs. Forrest of Willington, Mass., are visiting Mr. Forrest's cousin, Aubrey Forrest and Mrs. Forrest for two weeks. Also visiting is his sister, Miss Muriel Forrest.

Hugh Forrest is a chief engineer with the Wentworth Institute in Boston and teaches both engineering and genealogy in adult circuits. While in Digby he is searching information on the place of burial of his sister, Edith Iverna Forrest who lived less than two weeks after she was born. He was fortunate to find the incident of her death in an August 1905 issue of The Digby Courier. His mother, accidentally picked up a bottle of carbolic acid for a bottle of castor oil which she handed to a helper to give to the baby. An investigation was held and no blame was placed on the parents or helper.

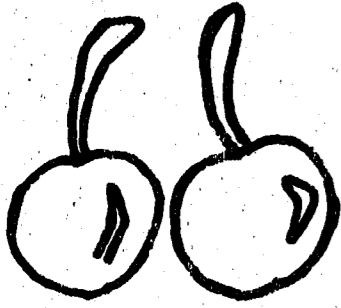

The Forrest family had lived in Digby, Mink Cove, Halifax and U.S.A. Hugh can speak Greek and Hindi and

The game produced six home runs, three by Brian Wong, two of which were grand slammers, he was also the winning pitcher for the K of C. Kirk Mackintosh, Paul Gidney and Gary Saulnier hit homers for the Kiwanis. NEW FIELD

It will be noticed that the new field is progressing well under the leadership of Donnie Brown. Every effort is being made to have it ready for our Natal Day, July 28, 1975. Thanks go out to the few you have given of their time and efforts - it is the hope of everyone contacted with Little League that many, many more will come forward and help in the future.

Leading the Astres to victory was Andy Mullen with a triple and 3 singles, Ivan Pleasant with a double, 2 singles and 3 R.B.I.'s, and Timmy Thurber pitching, allowing only 5 hits.

Digby's only bright spot was Butch Wong with a double and a single. We'd like to thank the people that attended and announce the next Bantam game for July 27, Sunday at 1:30 p.m. in Weymouth for a doubleheader against Liverpool.

Bantam Baseball Digby At Weymouth

On July 15 the Weymouth Astres defeated Digby by a score of 14-6.

ACTIVITIES OF WEYMOUTH MINOR BASEBALL

On July 9th Weymouth Astres defeated Bear River 13 to 6. Bear River was having its problems as some of their regulars weren't able to make it to the game. They had to use some of their younger players. Timmy Thurber was the winning pitcher. Ivan Pleasant hit a home run and Donald Cain had a double for Weymouth. For Bear River, D. Larkin had a single and two triples. At the field were canteen facilities which made a profit of $30.04 for the two games. We wish to thank the parents that attended.

Weymouth Astres ballplayers, played at Liverpool on Sunday, July 13, one game ending with Liverpool 10, Weymouth 9 and the other, Liverpool 12, Weymouth 9. Ivan Pleasant and Randy LeBlanc made two home runs. Liverpool will be playing in Weymouth on Sunday, July 27th with a double header starting at 1:30.

Merchants Softball Leads Valley League

The merchants softball team continues to lead the Western Valley League with an impressive fourteen and two win-loss record. To date, the best competition has come from Cornwallis in which the Merchants have had four closely contested victories.

Up and coming games with Clementsvalle and Bear River could be interesting as these teams are improving every time out.

In recent games, the Merchants have been led by the fine play of Roy Mansfield and the strong pitching of Charlie Tidd. Another plus for the Merchants has been the solid effort put forward by David Ryan in his first year of catching behind the plate.

Team line-up includes:

Discrimination Against Inuit Women

"Discrimination by 'virtue' of marriage has been the fate of Inuit women who have chosen to marry outside their culture," says Environment and Fisheries Minister Jeanne Sauve. "Until today, such women have been obliged by law to forego their domestic fishing rights, while the same penalty has never applied to Inuit men. Now, by clearly defining, in our legislation, the term 'Inuk' which means 'person' in native language, we can rectify that situation."

Immediately upon her return from a tour of the western Arctic, Madame Sauve announced implementation of an amendment to the Northwest Territories Fishery Regulations. Following consultations with Inuit representatives, "Inuk" has been defined by a June 12, 1975 Order-in-Council as one "who is a direct descendant of a person who is or was of the race of aborigines referred to as Eskimo and who possesses at least one quarter of Inuk blood". The Minister further decreed that any Inuk would be entitled to receive a domestic fishing permit.

The Minister pointed out that under existing regulations Inuit women who marry outside their culture

Due to the absence of the

Siamese Daisies

Little Reggie Robicheau thought he was seeing double when he picked a daisy near his home. That is, until he realized it was meant to be two daisies. The two had grown together, back to back, both the flower and stem. Reggie, Weymouth, found the Siamese daisy in the field by his home. It was sent to The Digby Courier by Mrs. Seldon Brooks.

pastor, Rev. Wallace H. Jordan the services at the Clementsport Baptist Church were conducted by Lic. Richard Moore of Deep Brook on July, 13th and on the 20th by Rev. George Bell of Smith's Cove at the 11: A.M. Services. A good attendance at both services.

D. W. Clark, President and General Manager of Bowater Mersey Paper Company Limited of Liverpool, has announced that the Company has donated $5,000. to the Kiwanis Club of Liverpool to help sponsor a Children's Camp in Greenfield, Queens County this Summer. The camp is to be called the Bowater-Kiwanis Camp for Children.

In making the presentation of a cheque for $5,000. to Dr. John Wickwire, President of the Liverpool Kiwanis Club, Mr. Clark explained that the money represented profits from the Mill soft drink and chocolate bar vending machines over the past several years. Also on hand for the presentation at the Queens County youth camp at Greenfield were Hugh Byrne, Camp Committee Chairman as well as three camp counsellors - Valerie Dyer, Debbie Jones and Gail Hazeldine, all of Liverpool.

The Kiwanis Club of Liverpool has operated camps in the County for several years for youngsters who would not normally have an opportunity to participate in a camp program. Again this year, the camps will be partially funded from a grant issued by the Secretary of State and will be administered by the local Kiwanians.

Last year two camps were held for children between the ages of 8 and 12 years. In all sixty (60) youngsters took part. With the involvement of Bowater, the camp will be expanded in 1975 with three one-week sessions for approximately 120 youngsters. The camp counsellors who are employed for the Summer months on other Secretary of State sponsored projects in the County have been active in the last several weeks interviewing children and their parents in preparation for the camps.

"FOR HOME AND COUNTRY"

EDITED BY WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Bear River

How did Bear River get its name? When and why did the Bear River Cherry Carnival come into being? The first question is rather a mystery. No one seems to be actually sure. It could have come from Captain Simon Imbert (pronounced in-bear) who in January 1613 had to take shelter at the mouth of the river while returning with supplies on a snow stormy day. Others say its name came from Louis Herbert, an apothecary at Fort Royal who settled in Bear River.

One of the popular attractions in the beautiful town of Bear River is the annual Cherry Carnival. It has been put on each year with few exceptions since 1902. It was organized by a local barber, George L. Cook who felt that the hard work of the farmers needed a holiday for a change and a rest.

The first settlers in Bear River built their houses of logs. The first frame house being built by Captain O'Sullivan in 1785.

Today it is scarcely believable that lumbering and shipbuilding were prime industries in Bear River less than 100 years ago. There was a period when 22 boats of one kind or another were under construction at one time.

This beautiful village, the "Switzerland of Nova Scotia" is where the Cherry Carnival will be held on Saturday. The wooden ship built by the town by the board but the wonderful people in Bear River, tourism and scenery are indeed assets for any small town. Wendy Morgan

Cherry Carnival Queen

Miss Wendy Morgan of Greenland was the chosen one by the judges to be the Queen of the Bear River Cherry Carnival 1975. Wendy competed with five other lovely girls from the area.

Wendy, 16 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Morgan, is presently taking a student summer course in surveying and resides in Annapolis Royal for a short time.

It is back to school again in September where she enters grade eleven at the Annapolis Royal High School.

She enjoys typing, cooking (on rainy days) and sewing patch work. The newly elected queen also enjoys sports which take her outdoors.

Miss Morgan was given the honor of queen at a tea held from 2 to 4 p.m. on Saturday at the IOOF hall. Judges were Mrs. David Armstrong, Annapolis Royal, David Crouse, RCM-P, Digby Detachment and Mrs. Vera Gustafson.

Pouring for the afternoon tea were Mrs. Verna Paul and Mrs. R.R. Winchester. In charge of the tea were Mrs. Mary Darris and Mrs. Dora Nicholl.

A. E. Denton, Bear River, who was in charge of the queen contest was master of ceremonies and Mayor Ben Gustafson of CFB Cornwallis interviewed the candidates.

Miss Morgan was crowned queen just one week before the big Cherry Carnival Day and the car transporting the queen on that day, Saturday, July 26 will be one of the leading cars in the Grand Parade which begins at 10:30 a.m.

The afternoon entertainment brings Bluenose Theatre at the Oakdene School Auditorium at 1:30 p.m. Water sports are on at 2 o'clock p.m. and land sports at 3:45 p.m. with respect to the tides.

One feature of Cherry

Carnival day is the trying out of the Bear River women's cooking. The dinner held at 11:30 a.m. and supper at 5 p.m. are expected to be on a par with all the previous excellent meals at the Cherry Carnival.

A feature in the evening impatiently waited for by many people is the auction held at the Fire Hall beginning six p.m. Already, much goods and many varieties are on hand at the hall for auction.

The Bear River Cherry Carnival is sponsored each year by the Bear River Volunteer Firemen.

A Thought Starter

(Rev. R.C. MacCormack)

WORKING AND EATING
Healthy people worth their salt are not content to sit around and live off someone else. We have many kinds of social schemes which provide crutches, often leading to idleness and loss of initiative.

The active, productive life, full of plans and dreams bring a person to the thrill of fulfilment and the joy of living. To be low on responsibility, is to quit before making much of a start.

There is a great difference between being poor and being beggarly. In visiting various parts of the world, we have seen some people who have very little by our standards. Yet, they walk briskly, work long hours and enjoy it. They may be poor but they do have self respect. This describes a typical man in Tokyo. It is a busy city, and over-populated, but with very little public welfare, and very little needed. The absence of easy hand-outs may be the key to the aggressiveness of most people there. Their income and standards of living are relatively low, but their life quality is high.

Diligence is a Christian quality. It seems that the new life in Christ puts vigour and ambition into a person. It makes people want to provide for themselves and their children. They want to redeem the time with work which will honor the Lord Who gave them life and strength in the first place. Certainly, a balance is needed, and relaxation to enjoy one another is part of God's plan for us.

A word from Scripture says: "You shall earn your daily bread." Ps. 128:2 (Moffat)

The Hope Fellowship Program

The members of the Hope Fellowship Summer Program spent the 15th and 16th in Halifax learning and observing more material that will help achieve aims in the summer project. A rewarding morning was spent with Mr. Malcolm Jefferys, a member of the provincial division of the Association for the Mentally Retarded in Canada. He gave an outline of the past history of the Association and told of the various things that have been done to help the Mentally handicapped. He also informed about the new trends in practical training and educating the mentally handicapped to be self-sufficient; in other words, to help them to get and hold a job and live successfully in a competitive world. Mr. Jefferys gave some valid information, in the form of books and pamphlets. He will be sending a slide presentation to accompany lectures, at the end of this month. It is hoped that Mr. Jefferys will be able to come and be a guest speaker at some of our lectures.

Another part of the trip was spent visiting Ms. Carmen Comeau, representative of the Secretary of State. She explained various parts of the Student Community Service Program, the program under which Hope Fellowship is working.

A float called the "Garden of Hope" will be entered in the Bear River Cherry Carnival, the Digby Natal Day, and the Annapolis Natal Day parades. This float was built by the members of the Hope Fellowship Summer Program, along with help from the trainees of the Conway activity centre. The theme of the float is taken from the yearly fund-raising campaign during which the "Flowers of Hope" are sold. The object of the float is to bring attention to the Hope Fellowship Activity Centre in Conway and the need for active support of it. A pamphlet will be passed out during the parades.

Supplies At Grace United

Sendell H. Barr, Carleton St., Digby, was supply minister at Grace United Church on Sunday morning. Rev. George Bell, who was supplying the pulpit for Rev. Ronald Stevens who is on vacation, was not able to do so on Sunday, having been called in New Brunswick to attend the funeral of a brother-in-law who was killed while working with a tractor.

Pastor, Wendell Barr, formerly of Weymouth, is a Church of Christ Disciples minister. His theological training was obtained at the Christian Theological School in Indiana. His last pastorate was at the Millville Christian Church in Pennsylvania.

Ill health brought Mr. Barr back to Nova Scotia in September 1974 for convalescence. Pastor Barr and Mrs. Barr live in Carleton St., Digby. Mrs. Barr is an operating room nurse at the Digby General Hospital.

Mr. Barr's message dealt with the "dropping in" and "copping out" of Christianity today. There is an in-tide and an out-tide he remarked. On the in-tide experienced with the church some years ago there appeared to be a prospering church. Outwardly it appeared successful. Today there seems to be a tide running out. People have gone to church because of their love for people, they enjoy the church, they like the minister, they are attracted to the building, etc., but none of these touch the central reason of Christ. People are copping-out when they give stone to those hungry for bread, when they have no time for teenagers or for those with long hair, they do not like the minister so they withhold their church attendance and also their money. Some are un-committed. The Lord, he said, experienced such "copping-out" in His day. The church is a bridge over troubled waters, the preachers said and referring back to his sermon text he asked "Will we too go away also?"

An appropriate anthem was sung by the senior choir under Mrs. Elton Arnold, organist.

CHRISTIAN EXHIBIT

Proudly the salesman shows his wares with the hope of attracting interest. A good product will sell itself.

We are God's workmanship, and to the world, Christians are exhibits of what He can do.

The way to spread faith is to show the world a Christian, a real one. We are sent out, not to argue people into Salvation, not to condemn nor threaten, and not to force nor bribe anyone into believing, but simply to attract men to Christ by the impelling beauty of this New Life in us, and by an invitation to receive it.

The test of a believer, might well be this. Will anyone else want what he has? Does he have the infectious kind of hope and serenity about him which will bring new vitality to those he is with? Are modern Christians really doing the job of displaying and sharing the Grace of God in Christ?

The down-at-heel, defeated, uncertain brand of so-called Christianity will do more to drive people away from the Kingdom of God than to bring them in.

Here is a fair but searching question. Are we all the kind of advertisements of the way of Eternal Life that God wants us to be?

If around the world the world, organized Christianity is failing to be heard, while other systems are making broad gains, then let the people of God examine themselves to see that they show the world a proper witness.

Committed and excited exhibits, living ones, are needed.

Victory is contagious.

Forest Travel Ban

A ban of forest travel in all wooded areas of the province was proclaimed at noon on July 17th by Hon. M. E. Delory, Minister of Lands and Forests.

The dry state of the forests because of lack of rainfall was the reason for the ban. Nova Scotia's forests are tinder dry with several fires breaking out each day.

"So far this year, the province has had more than 400 fires that destroyed about 3,000 acres of woodland," Dr. Delory said.

"Under the lands and Forests Act, the department can ban entry to forested areas to anyone for purposes of travelling, camping, fishing or any other reason, unless a permit is obtained from a forest ranger or other authorized person.

Senior Citizens Week

Social Services Minister Harold M. Huskison has declared the week of July 20-26 as Senior Citizens' Week.

The theme for the week is "Salute The Top Generation" designed to focus attention on the elderly of the province by creating a better awareness of both their strengths and needs.

Mr. Huskison said the major objectives of the observance were to acknowledge those senior citizens who are actively involved in community activities or personal achievement; to encourage positive attitudes towards aging and the elderly; and to encourage elderly people to re-examine the programs provided by clubs in their communities with a view to becoming participants.

The social services minister noted that there are over 90 organized senior citizens' clubs in the province. There are a growing number of senior citizens in the province who are proving that age doesn't lessen one's capacity to enjoy life by their active involvement in social, educational and recreational activities which are sponsored by these clubs.

Mr. Huskison said many senior citizens' clubs are taking advantage of the financial resources being made available under federal and provincial programs and cited the New Horizons Program of the Department of National Health and Welfare, the travel program through the federal Secretary of State's department and grants being provided by the province's Department of Recreation and the continuing education programs of the Department of Education.

The minister expressed thanks to all the church organizations, community groups and service clubs which have continually throughout the year assisted senior citizens; particularly those groups who have assisted in developing transportation services.

Thoughts On Your Mind

Since many people tell me expressing feelings is difficult, this article will deal with a few ways people can get in touch with their feelings and therefore more easily plan what to do about them.

Tension can often result if the wrong feeling is identified and the plan of action doesn't deal with the feeling.

For example, a mother may react very strongly when her child states he doesn't love her. She may identify the feeling as anger because the child has no respect for her. This identification may lead to an angry outburst and mother's ignoring the child.

More likely mother has felt hurt by the statement that something she has done has been seen by the child as meaning "Mum doesn't love me." Here the plan of action would be quite different.

mother would show the child she loved him instead of ignoring him. This therefore involves identifying the feelings of anger and hurt.

Sometimes the feeling may be confusion. If this is expressed at the time, rather than trying to clarify feelings, people may be able to help you sort out the confusion. If it is not stated as a feeling of confusion they may assume you are okay, add more thoughts and increase your confusion. The feeling of confusion is fact but again you must do something with that feeling even though it may be later.

There are a few tricks for getting in touch with a feeling, such as putting your finger on your abdomen, taking some deep breaths, closing your eyes. The best trick however is having someone there, you trust.

Digby Natal Day Draws Crowd

Had Digby's Natal Day been able to convene on Monday with good weather, the day would have been one of the best Natal Days the town has had. A reasonable crowd of people followed the proceedings on all occasions during the day considering the fact that Monday was proclaimed a holiday but Tuesday people had to go back to work. Heading the Natal Day committee 1975, was Mrs. Donald MacDonald, making the first time Digby's Natal Day festival had a woman as chairperson. (This is International Women's Year)

The day got away to a good start with children's program leading the way. Fire engines took children for rides, a bicycle rodeo was held and a soap box derby put on before the children's parade. This was followed by a pet show.

At 1:45 p.m. people had gathered at the federal building to witness the solemn Fishermen's Memorial Wreath Laying Ceremony. Rev. Alboni D'Entremont, a former priest at St. Patrick's, Digby, was Master of Ceremonies. The wreath was laid by Gerald Handsaker of Culloden assisted by Deputy Mayor, Philip Robertson, Rev. Mr. Hapeman of the Wesleyan Church. Digby opened the ceremony with prayer and Envoy Peter Maise of the Salvation Army pronounced the benediction. Others who spoke during the wreath laying ceremony were Glen Smith of the Department of Fisheries, Joseph Casey M.L.A. for Digby, and Captain Connors of CFB Cornwallis. All spoke of the hardships experienced by men at sea and the rightfull, justifiable and desirable ceremony to remember those who lost their lives by peril on the sea. Each speaker noted the heavy wind and rain storm which prevented holding Natal Day on Monday and related it to the lives of fishermen.

Glen Smith told the listeners the history of the memorial bell and how it reached Digby Town. The bell was constructed, he said, in 1967 by interested groups and individuals and the families of those whose names are inscribed on the memorial.

The bell originally had been placed on the Northeast point of Brier Island in 1897 by the Department of Marine and Fisheries to warn mariners of shoals. Mr. Smith said that all the 150 names on the cairn which supports the bell were people who were interested in the betterment of the community and the least we can do is to remember them annually.

The wreath was later to be taken aboard the Princess of Acadia and midway between Digby and Saint John, N.B. it was to be deposited in the sea. Mr. Smith quoted the inscription on the memorial plaque "O Lord, Thy Sea Is So Great, and My Ship so small."

Carnival Has Formal Opening

The 1975 Bear River Cherry Carnival (the 80th) departed from the usual yearly program when they had an official opening directly after the noon hour dinner. The Carnival was pronounced officially open by Ray Pierce of the Department of Recreation and Tourism substituting for Hon. Glen Bagnell.

Allison Denton presided at the official opening function when Opposition Leader John Buchanan introduced the speaker.

Cherry Carnival Queen Wendy Morgan introduced her princesses who were in the official opening party and others on the platform with good-will messages were Joe Casey, M.L.A. Digby; Councillor Byard Marshall; Frank Marshall, chairman of the Carnival committee; Bruce Davey and Fire Chief Allister Milner. Mr. Milner gave a few statistical facts about the 25 year voluntary Fire Fighting organization and its costs. The Bear River Fire Department which sponsors the Bear River Cherry Carnival, purchased a new fire engine in 1974 at a cost of $30,000. Operating costs amount to $10,000 per year. The B.R. department is one of about 40 well equipped fire departments and they are willing to go anywhere that the service is needed.

The Cherry Carnival at Bear River on Saturday was highly successful, being the best yet better in attendance and finances than any previous year. Estimated crowd was given at about 6500. Financial reports will be available later.

Vic Made Citizen Of The Year

Following directly after the grand parade on Digby's Natal Day on Tuesday the presentations were made to the newly appointed Citizen Of The Year, Judge Victor G. Cardoza. Tuesday's presentation was a postponement on account of the storm on Monday.

Rev. Father Alboni D'Entremont was Master of Ceremonies which took place at the Evangeline Shopping Mall parking area. Joseph Casey, M.L.A. introduced Mr. Cardoza, naming many of the achievements of the Judge during many years.

A plaque of the town crest was presented to the Judge by Glen Smith, Digby's Citizen of The Year, 1974 and a former mayor of the town. In his presentation Mr. Smith said that Vic, though not born in Digby, had devoted more than 35 years of time and energy most unselfishly for the betterment of the community. His influence Mr. Smith said is felt not only in town but in the county, province and Canada, all without remuneration.

Victor Cardoza, Mr. Smith said, not only talks of things to do but insures that they are done. He has always been down to earth and a good "teacher".

The presentation of the scroll was made by a former Mayor, Willard Kinney, who had resigned during the year. The key to the town was presented by Deputy Mayor Philip Robertson.

In reply to the presentations Mr. Cardoza said he had enjoyed the work he had done and was happy to know it was appreciated. He felt it was very important for a town to have its voluntary workers who are willing to give of themselves to better their entire communities. He paid tribute to his wife, Eileen, who made it convenient to do the volunteer work which he was able to accomplish.

The CFB Cornwallis Sea Cadet Band provided music before and after the ceremony.

Digby Neck Firemen Get Truck

A big red Fire Truck greeted the eyes of the Digby Neck Fire Commission as it convened for its regular meeting. The Meeting was called to order at 8:00 p.m. by the president, Sidney Westcott and was held at the Sandy Cove Community Hall. All members were present with the Digby Neck Firemen in attendance.

Councillor Daley introduced his guest, Fire Chief Vaughn VanTassell of Digby. Chief VanTassell gave the firemen a talk about the truck and answered questions. The firemen were then taken out for a demonstration on how to use the truck. All agreed that it was a most informative session and were grateful to Chief VanTassell for his patience and understanding.

During communications members were advised that the tender for the above truck had been accepted and that they were now the owners of the first Digby Neck Fire Truck. All that remains is the financing and the storage of the Truck. Plans have been made and the first meeting of the Digby Neck Fire Department was to be held on Friday, July 24.

The officers of the Digby Neck Fire Department are Reginald Comeau and David Taylor, Assistant Fire Chiefs. Captains are Louis Morin, Donald Addington, Thurston Theriault and Daniel Morton. Lieutenants are Dieter Oswald, Rodney O'Neil, Vaughn Tidd, and Claude Westcott. Drivers for the truck are David Russell, Lawrence O'Neil, Graham Merritt, Lewis Frost, Garfield Trask, Jr. and Eugene Shaw. Coordinating all this is Garfield Trask, Sr. in the absence of Russell McCullough, Fire Chief. The firemen will meet on a regular basis and a duty sheet will be made up. More volunteers are needed.

Digby In Rental Housing Project

Digby is included in another rental housing project according to information from the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation has approved $3,499,265 in loans for the construction of moderately-priced rental projects in six Nova Scotia municipalities.

Two of the projects are in Halifax, the others at Yarmouth, Sydney, Windsor, Stellarton and Digby.

Other proposals are under consideration, and it is expected that in the near future CMHC will be in a position to announce further substantial commitments by the Corporation under the limited dividend rental housing program.

The seven projects, to be started immediately, will provide a total of 182 apartment units containing from one to three bedrooms.

The loans, repayable over 30 years, represent 95 percent of the cost of construction, and are at an interest rate of eight percent.

In return for these favorable financial arrangements, the developers must agree to a rental scale over a 15 year period.

Mr. Calder Hart of CMHC said the projects would help to alleviate a shortage of rental accommodation and contribute to employment opportunities and a market for building construction materials in the province.

DIGBY- A $310,630 loan to Dee Properties Limited for a two-storey apartment building containing two one-bedroom units, nine two-bedroom units, and seven three-bedroom units.

$20,000. For Multicultural

Miss Coline Campbell, M.P., South West Nova, is pleased to announce on behalf Hon. John Munro, minister responsible for multiculturalism, that the West Nova Multicultural Association has been awarded a grant in the amount of $20,000.

The West Nova Multicultural organization represents 12 different cultural groups and aims at promoting greater understanding and cooperation between all cultural groups in western Nova Scotia as well as promoting their full participation in developing and preserving their cultural identity. The organization also assists recent immigrants and provides a means for the exchange of information between the various groups.

The grant will assist the group in covering some of their costs of operation. The Association is now well established with a coordinator and with the various ethnic-cultural groups in the area and has already organized cultural exchange evenings where one ethnic-cultural group has explained its cultural traditions to rest of the community. More of these sessions are planned for the future. The Association, a member of the recently formed Provincial Federation of Multicultural Associations, is also providing information to immigrants in the area.

Seventy-Five Greet Seniors

The senior generation was recognized at Tideview Terrace on Friday when Open House was held. Above left to right are Karen Trask, who provided piano music during the afternoon; Denise Harnish, volunteer worker visiting in Digby from Ontario; Miss Joy Fleet, volunteer and Mrs. Eleanor Rice, superintendent of nursing at Tideview. Seated is Mrs. Edna Rice, a guest at Tideview.

Different resident guests took turns at Tideview Terrace on Friday afternoon in attending the guest book when more than seventy-five townspeople and area people visited Tideview to honor the senior citizens during Senior Citizens Week.

Visitors were given a cup of tea, and breads and cookies and then were taken on tours of the building and to meet the guests. Joy Fleet and Denise Harnish, volunteer workers, assisted in guiding the visitors.

One of the unexpected rooms visited was the beauty parlor where the orderlies cut the men's hair and the nursing aides shampoo and set hair for the women.

Visitors had a look into the well equipped kitchen with its stainless steel utilities. There are two dining areas, one to eat and socialize after the meal and one for those who like to eat and go their individual ways. To accommodate the different meal time habits, the recreation room was converted into a dining room. Just off the lounge is a "cook-out" where any of the resident guests can make themselves a cup of tea.

On entering the hallway the first to greet the visitor is the business office and nursing stations. To the right is the infirmary and special car rooms. There is one double room at present which is occupied by a couple, the only couple in the institution presently. Private rooms are few and the superintendent, Mrs. Eleanor Rice expressed the wish to have more private rooms.

The tour on Friday took visitors to the sun room and also showed the special bath for geriatrics.

Mrs. Myrtle Dunn invited visitors to see her "just-like-home" room. House plants covered window sills and a table. Two of her collection were used during the afternoon reception for special adornment to the dining area.

Mrs. Dunn keeps busy crocheting afghans, working for the Red Cross, Christmas Daddies etc. In being wished by the visitors that she have health and happiness she replied "You couldn't do anything else, you get such good care here."

New Recreation Centre At Digby Pines

A spacious and modern recreation centre was completed on the Digby Pines property in May, having been ready for use at the opening of the hotel on June 7. The structure is of wood in color which harmonizes with the hotel and the laminated beams make a pleasant contrast. One of the noticeable features is the entrance ramp for the paraplegics.

The interior is done with cedar shingles and gyproc walls in beige. Comfortable furniture is found along the sides and the wide tiled floor gives ample space to place individual chairs for convention purposes. Sea patterned draperies in beige to blend with the floor enhance the beauty of the auditorium which can accommodate from three hundred to four hundred persons.

The auditorium is equipped with a 28 foot stage with dressing rooms, curtains and a full size screen for movies. The screen is equipped for cinema scope use and the auditorium boasts of a stereo system. Provision is made to tape speeches.

Games as shuffle board, ping pong, air hockey are there to enjoy and billiard tables have been installed for the benefit of guests and staff. Dances by staff members and or guests are frequently held.

The lighting is fluorescent down the sides of the auditorium with dimmer light fixtures. Attractive wash rooms are provided and ample storage space has not been forgotten. Wayne Hanson of the Pines staff in giving a tour of the newly built recreation centre expects there will be canteen service available in the future but to date there are no facilities for this purpose.

In general the Pines Hotel has been busy since the opening date of June 7. Many bus tours have come in, a number of major conventions have been held at the Pines as well as large

HE MADE HIS MARK

Just recently we chronicled the death of an elderly man, a man who reached ninety years plus. This elderly gentleman not only attained years to his credit but he also made his mark on life in general, influencing the youth as well as older. We refer to the highly respected Whitfield Barton, Acaciaville, whose death we had recorded last week. Mr. Barton lived his ninety-plus years well, attending Acaciaville Baptist Church and serving as deacon for many years. Of course, Mr. Barton was not alone in his aims and influences. Mrs. Barton, Louise, was always at his side, teaching, caring, checking finances, ordering supplies, helping with church suppers or serving in many capacities.

Whitfield and Louise Barton had many friends from every station, creed and race. But time moves on and the inevitable has to be faced. Both Mr. and Mrs. Barton had to watch others, more nimble, take up the challenge which was theirs. Deacon Barton's death occurred last week and Louise, who had been confined to hospitable for some time, is now a wheelchair guest at Tideview Terrace. Her family and friends who call on her there will note Louise's same pleading eyes and beautiful smile, reflecting goodness itself, have stayed with her through the years.

Whitfield Barton and Louise had served their family, their church and their community well. Mr. Barton had made his mark on the world and may Louise's smile continue for years to influence and to shed happiness to others whom she contacts through each day.

NOMINATIONS, PLEASE

August 12, 1975, is less than two weeks away. August 12 is the day when all the nominations for candidates for Mayor of the Town of Digby must be filed in order to be ready for an election a couple weeks later. We say hopefully "all the nominations" because that is as it should be. However, with two resignations from two Digby mayors in less than a year, the people, under such circumstances, might be thankful to attain one by acclamation without any fuss or bother. We certainly are not advocating that but circumstances alter cases and mayors elected by acclamation can be just as good as one who is duly elected by the people by ballot. The latter shows more interest and more alertness by the people which is good.

This is the second call for nominations for a Digby mayor in the last few weeks. No nominations were forthcoming in the first call. We, at that time, heard rumblings of two names, former mayor Glen Smith and Charles Haliburton (not verified) but this time we have not heard even one rumble and August 12 is soon here.

We wonder how many people are concerned enough about the difficulty in getting a mayor for the town to go out seeking some person who might run for the mayorship of Digby. The town is yours and ours. We all have responsibilities.

A mayor needs to be a no-nonsense person, yet some one who can get along well with people; a mayor needs to be friendly but firm enough to demand law and order. A mayor needs to be knowledgeable but not expected to know everything. Few of us ever do. A learning mayor, keeping abreast of the times, is more necessary for proper functioning of the town. It is well for a mayor to meet people in a courteous manner and uphold the dignity of the office. It is well for a mayor to have a knowledge of figures and take advantage of grants and other monies obtainable for establishing a progressive town. A mayor needs to prepare for hard work and long hours but should also know how to delegate work to subordinates in office. Good health and plenty time are attributes for a mayor.

In other words a mayor needs to know many things and be many things but so do the rest of us. Do you know someone who might fill the bill? If so, Nominations, please. August 12 is soon here.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sirs:

Two or three summers ago I listened or watched (I can't quite recall if it were a TV or Radio program) a program about the United Empire Loyalists who came to Digby. I had meant to write at the time and I trust it is not too late to get some information I would like.

I hope you will be able to help or even let me know where I can learn more about the families (names in next paragraph) whose parents or grandparents were supposed to have been United Empire Loyalists.

My grandfather was Samuel Lewis Mumford - he married Amy Elizabeth Hill.

I remember my mother speaking of living in Digby and she also spoke of Dartmouth. When my grandparents were married they went to Providence Rhode Island for their honeymoon and stayed there where my mother and her sister were born. They returned to Canada when mother was eight years old. From that time until they moved out west to Innisfail here in Alberta, (the girls were then in their early teens) I don't recall where the Mumfords made their home it could have been Dartmouth. There was a large family in both the Hill and Mumford clans.

I have given you some of the few things I can recall. It is important that I get as much information re-immigration of the above families to Canada as U.E. Loyalists-family history of S.L. Mumford and Amy Elizabeth Hill. This is for a documentary important for my brother.

Yours truly
Winnifred Evelyn Huppe

Dear Editor:

For how many more weeks as one drives off the scow to the village of Westport will visitors be greeted as one of the first sights of the island, the sanitary station demolished by vandals and remaining still for all to see in the same unrepaid condition.

Just this past week there was a tourist with camera and tripod taking pictures of this eye catching scene. Does anyone care? Will anything be done about it?

Months from now will we read an article (e.g.) Derelict Life on Briar Isl. or some such title, in a leading magazine. A Toronto publication had written articles before about our island. Can we become annoyed and embarrassed then and say "It isn't so"???

Apparently the name of the Vandals are known. Is there no representative for law enforcement. Constables Does our council not have any funds available for the maintenance of public property?

I know there are families on the island, young and old, who care about our morals but we can't "wash our hands" and go each to his own home and ignore these things.

Please for the sake of reinstating the good name of our village community show you care and do something.

Very sincerely yours,
Wretha Demone

Dear Editor:

Having been in Europe I was unable to attend the funeral in Bear River of my relative, Mr. Torrance Purdy, son of Mrs. John Purdy. I deeply lament the premature passing of this gracious and brilliant young man. In his late twenties he had become assistant to the President of one of our great banks. Such an appointment, I learned later, was given to young men of singular promise and with the intention of promoting them steadily to ever more responsible executive positions. Thus, in banking circles, Torrance Purdy was moving rapidly up the ladder. But, more than this, he was a Christian gentleman-- active in Blythwood Baptist Church, Toronto, a devoted husband and father, a man held in high esteem in all circles in which he moved.

Knowing these facts, from my close-up acquaintance with Torrance in Toronto, I wish to share them with your readers, and to add this further word of deep sorrow at the loss to church and country of so outstanding a young man.

Natal Day Parade Winners

It is understood that the inclement weather on Monday cut the Digby Natal Day grand parade in half. Floats and entries which could accomodate the parade on Monday could not do so on Tuesday. Expressions of thanks went out to all those who rearranged their time to take part in the successful parade and see the show go on. Visitors and participants came from Bridgetown, Yarmouth, Saint John, N.B., CFB Cornwallis, Truro, New Minas and other areas.

On the prize list for the grand parade were the most outstanding, Bridgetown Leo Club; most original, Western Nova Scotia Tuna Festival; best commercial, Blue Lite Canteen; best horse entry, Indians on Horses; best decorated vehicle, Scott and Grace Datson; best local float, Digby East Fish and Game; best majorettes, Yarmouth; judges' prize, Hope Fellowship. Special mention was made of the Town of Digby float and the New Minas Majorettes.

Though the heavy rain on Monday and the resulting postponement of Natal Day celebration had its effect on the number of entries on Tuesday, the calibre of children's parade was good. Here they line up for the judges. Prize winners were:

Most outstanding, Mary's Little Lamb, Mary Van-Tassel and the Arabs, John and Tammy Kynock; most outstanding bike, Flower Child, Murray VanTassel; Clown, Clark Pitman; most outstanding tricycle, Miss Jack In The Box, Heather Van Tassel; Comic, Arabs, Kynock children and Country Cousins, Mark Dexter and Jonathon Everett; most original, Peter Pan, Susan and Kathy Ritcey; 2nd Tiny Clown, Claudia Amero; youngest boy, Mark Dexter and youngest girl, Stacey Saunders.

Peter Robertson, Jimmy Stewart and Brian Jefferson won the Soap Box Derby.

Pet prizes went to Sheryl Trask, Judy Comeau and Arale Hattie, dogs; Wendy Parr, cats; Mark Dexter and Jonathon Everett, ducks; Boyd Bristle, turtle and Wendy George, goats.

Brothers Reunited After 46 Years

These two brothers had not seen each other for forty-six years. Don and his brother were separated those many years ago when the family was broken up after the death of their parents on Cape Sable Island, birthplace of both of them. During the years, members of the family had tried to contact each other, especially during 1946 when one brother died in WW2, but to no avail. Then this past New Year's Eve a phone call from Saskatchewan was received and Don heard Forrest's voice at last.

Forrest arrived in Yarmouth on July 31st for the happy reunion and to attend the wedding of his nephew, George, to Sandra Mailman of Annapolis Royal on July 19. Thus for twelve days these brothers spent many pleasant hours catching up on the news of the family before Forrest left on July 24th to return to Saskatchewan and to his wife, Mary, and two daughters.

Don and his wife, Fran, live in Marshalltown with their son, Tim.

Day Camp Full

The House of Roth Day Camp is filled to capacity and has a waiting list for all four weeks in August. A group of young people, trained to be House of Roth Counsellors applied for an OFY Grant to enable a larger staff of counsellors to serve a larger number of the area children and receive pay so as to keep the camp fee at a reasonable low rate.

The OFY Grant was not granted so some of the young people had to seek summer employment elsewhere, leaving many children disappointed not to attend the Day Camp and learn the many skills available in the program.

No reason was given as to why the OFY Grant of $2000.00 was not granted.

Drowning Accidents

Concern over last weekend drowning accidents in Nova Scotia has sparked an urgent message to bathers from the Nova Scotia Lifeguard Service, urging swimmers to take advantage of Lifeguard supervised areas on 16 provincial beaches.

No fatalities have occurred on the supervised sections of any of these lifeguarded beaches since the program was initiated three summers ago. This year, the number of beaches receiving lifeguard supervision was expanded from 11 to 16.

The unusually warm summer weather has pushed attendance at all provincial beaches to record numbers.

The 16 beaches supervised were chosen specifically because of high density of traffic by bathers, water hazards that prevail and past records of drownings.

Beach-goers are urged to follow the following recommendations of the Nova Scotia Lifeguard service:

1) Swim within the supervised area marked on the beach;
2) Consult with the lifeguard concerning possible dangers if you are new to the area, but otherwise refrain from talking to lifeguards who are on patrol;

3) Pick up your own litter and extinguish campfires;
4) Do not touch, and keep children from touching or moving lifeguard rescue equipment as it may be needed immediately should a rescue be required;
5) Do not drive motorbikes, cars or boats or ride horses in or near a marked supervised beach area.

The 16 supervised beaches in Nova Scotia are: Dominion and East Bay in Cape Breton County; Port Hood and Inverness in Inverness County; Lawrencetown, Crystal Crescent, Queensland and Martinique in Halifax County; Rissers in Lunenburg County; Lake George in Kings County; Summerville in Queens County; Maville in Digby County; and Elmwood Lake in Yarmouth County.

The Nova Scotia Lifeguard Service is a joint project of the Provincial Department of Recreation and the Red Cross Water Safety Service.

Program co-ordinator, Jane Wentzell, points out that three rescues have been made so far this season on supervised beaches - at Heather, Caribou and Maville.

"We would urge visitors and residents alike to swim in the areas of supervision for their own safety and to obey the simple rules of water safety devised for the beaches," Ms. Wentzell said.

Nova Scotia Lifeguard Service lifeguards can be recognized by their distinctive blue and yellow uniforms and white hats. They are responsible for protecting beach-goers by preventing potential drownings, eliminating the causes, treatment of first-aid injuries and the rescue of persons caught in situations that could not be prevented.

At the 16 supervised beaches the safe swimming area is marked off by blue and yellow flags on the shoreline and by bright red buoys in the water. All marked areas are limited to avoid specific hazards such

Rev. R. R. Winchester
Guest Speaker

Rev. R.R. Winchester was the guest speaker at the Drive-In Service held Sunday evening, July 27, at the Smith's Cove Consolidated School Grounds. In his message on Hebrews 2:1 "Therefore we must pay the closer attention to what we have heard, lest we drift away from it," he illustrated this scripture from life. He and his brother were out in a boat and became absorbed in their conversation, resting on their oars, so to speak, when they soon realized they were drifting further away from their destination. And so it is with Christians who "rest on their oars" and drift away from the close fellowship of God. Special music was presented by Pat Myers of Upper Clements, Marlene Potter and Gary Selig of Deep Brook, with Gary accompanying on guitar. Next Sunday, the Pastor of the Smith's Cove Baptist Church, Rev. Wallace H. Jordan, returns to bring the message from God's Word.

Baptismal Service

A baptismal service was held in the Freeport Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon, June 29 at 2:30 p.m. Around 150 people gathered to witness the ordinance of baptism administered by the pastor, Rev. Kitchener Daw.

Each candidate was introduced by the pastor and then they all gave a personal testimony of their faith in Jesus Christ before being baptized. The candidates were Junior Munroe and Perry Guier of Freeport; Nada Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. Arden Greenlaw of Tiverton.

The pastor brought a challenging message on (1.) The Divine Requirement - SALVATION "What must I do to be saved? Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved and thy house". (2) The Disciple's Request - BAPTISM "See, here is water; What doth hinder me from being baptized? Philip said, 'If thou believest with all thy heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.'" (3) The Delightful Realization - SANCTIFICATION "Know ye not that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ, were baptized into His death? For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ, have put on Christ."

During the service a number of selections were rendered by the New Life Singers from Chester Basin and two solos by Paul Haughn of the Pleasantville Baptist Church. Mr. Haughn also played for the service and accompanied the New Life Singers at the Hammond Organ.

At the morning service, Lic. Robert Daw, son of the pastor, gave his personal testimony of his faith in Jesus Christ and of his desire to give his all in service for the Master. Bob has just completed his first year at the Atlantic Baptist College and plans on continuing this fall. The Church also welcomed into its fellowship two new members, Mrs. Robert Daw and Richard Daw. The presence of the Lord was very real in the service as His Word was proclaimed.

DEVELOPMENT

TRANSPORTATION

The Nova Scotia Government is continuing to provide financial support for the Atlantic Provinces Transportation Commission.

The Commission negotiates freight rates for various products and provides an educational program for shippers through the organization of seminars and participation in transportation conferences.

Development Minister George Mitchell said he is "grateful to General Manager Craig Dickson and his staff for the valuable contribution they are making in obtaining the best transportation services possible for Nova Scotia industry as well as the shipping public."

The Commission has been very active in negotiating freight rates for various products which resulted in reductions of more than $2,000,000. Mr. Mitchell said "the benefits of the commission go far beyond freight rate negotiations" and "as a source of information and guidance to assist the provincial government in decisions related to provincial and federal transportation policy, its services are invaluable."

The Commission is financed entirely by the governments of the Atlantic provinces, Nova Scotia contributing 6-15, New Brunswick 5-15, Newfoundland 3-15 and Prince Edward Island 1-15. Nova Scotia will contribute $104,000 of the Commission's $260,000 budget this year.

ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I have a message for that clown who signed himself "Out With Teasers." Your letter has a familiar ring to it.

I'm not off my rocker about sex nor am I a sadist. And I don't need a shrink to analyze my sex drive.

I resent being called a teaser. It just so happens that I have an abundance of natural charm (sex appeal, baby) and your ego was bruised because I didn't tople like most gals you put the make on.

I can't help it if I have animal magnetism that drives men wild. It's THEIR problem if they can't handle it, not mine. Sign me - Chased But Still Chaste

Dear C. But C.: Natural charm and animal magnetism, eh? Well - since you just happen to be innocently cursed or blessed, whichever way you look at it I suggest you make a conscious effort to turn the voltage down a little before you electrocute every male with in a radius of 20 miles.

Dear Ann Landers: Two very close friends of mine were murdered recently and the person who committed the crime will neve. be found.

The murderer didn't shoot my friends with a gun or chop them up with an axe, but this wonderful gal and her unborn child are just as dead, regardless. Actually they died in a car accident because somebody stole a stop sign as a gag. The accident that occurred as a result of this prank was to horrible to describe.

Atlantic Ports To Be Closed To Soviet Fishing Fleet

OTTAWA- The Minister of State for Fisheries, the Honourable Romeo LeBlanc, today announced the closure of Canada's Atlantic ports to Soviet fishing vessels.

The Soviet fishing fleet made more than 400 visits to Canadian Atlantic ports in 1974.

Soviet overfishing of quotas set by ICNAF (International Commission for the Northwest Atlantic Fisheries) in areas off Canada's east coast brought about the Canadian action. Made under authority of the Coastal Fisheries Protection Act, the closure is effective July 28.

"Over the past year, the Soviet fleet has consistently overfished certain of its quotas," Mr. LeBlanc said. "Repeated attempts by Canada to bring these practices to a halt have met with no satisfactory response from Soviet authorities."

Prime Minister Trudeau is writing to Premier Kosygin to emphasize Canada's concern over Soviet fishing practices. Allan J. MacEachen, Secretary of State for External Affairs, expressed this concern to the Soviet Ambassador on Monday, July 21, and informed him of Canada's decision to close Atlantic ports to Soviet fishing vessels.

Among the major instances of Soviet overfishing has been the Soviet fishery for capelin. In June, 1974 Canada made repeated attempts to convince the Soviet authorities to halt their capelin fishery in an area near Newfoundland (ICNAF Sub-Area 3) after Canadian surveillance indicated that the Soviet fleet had reached or exceeded its quota.

Despite continual diplomatic representations in Moscow and Ottawa, the Soviet fleet continued to fish and by Canadian estimates overran its 85,000 metric ton quota by between 67 and 75 percent.

In 1975, the Soviet capelin fleet has shown the same disregard for ICNAF regulations. The Soviet capelin fishery near Newfoundland's Avalon Peninsula (ICNAF Division 3L) has exceeded its 28,000 metric ton quota, according to Canadian estimates, by more than 100 percent. The Soviet capelin fishery on the southern Grand Banks (ICNAF Division 2NO) has also exceeded its 62,000 metric ton quota. The Soviet authorities have also been presented with evidence of a large overrun in the silver hake fishery near southern Nova Scotia (ICNAF Division 4X) in 1974, and of significant Soviet overfishing in the 1975 herring fishery in the Gulf of Maine (ICNAF Division 5Y).

The Canadian authorities have also been disturbed at the continuing failure by the USSR to settle outstanding claims for damage to Canadian lobster gear in incidents off Nova Scotia in July, August, and September 1974. Although the Soviet authorities last November expressed their willingness to cooperate in working towards a speedy settlement of the claims, Canadian representations over the last several months have still met no satisfactory response.

"We have used every method available to bring all these matters to the attention of the Soviet authorities," Mr. LeBlanc said, "including a series of meetings in Ottawa and Moscow, and diplomatic notes and other communications. On quota overruns, their only response has been to question our evidence. We know that quotas have been overfished, and we cannot let this situation continue."

"We are also looking closely at the practices of other fleets," Mr. LeBlanc said. "The Spanish and Portuguese fleets have been involved in certain violations, using nets with undersize mesh, and discarding large tonnages of species they don't want without keeping records as required by ICNAF rules. Attempts to work through ICNAF to halt these practices have failed. Direct approaches had not previously been made to the Spanish and Portuguese governments on these matters, unlike the case of the USSR. Accordingly, the Atlantic ports will not be closed to their fishing vessels at this time. However, we are now making these same direct approaches to the Spanish and Portuguese governments, and if the performance of their fleets does not improve immediately our ports will be closed to them as well."

Soviet access to Canada's Pacific ports under the 1971 Canada-USSR bilateral treaty for the West Coast (extended to February 1976) will not be affected. Access to Atlantic ports will be allowed only in cases of distress and emergency (force majeure).

"Soviet vessels provide only part of the business' our ports get from foreign fleets. Nevertheless, the cessation of Soviet fishing fleet visits will have some negative impact on port revenue."

Mr. LeBlanc said. "This is however far outweighed by the importance of our own fishing industry to the economy and by the need to protect the fish stocks off our coast."

"We deeply regret that it has become necessary to close our Atlantic ports to the Soviet fishing vessels," Mr. LeBlanc added. "We hope that this action, taken together with diplomatic representations at the highest level, will bring about a change in Soviet fishing practices and the assurance of adherence in the future to ICNAF regulations."

Trailer Truck Overturns

Traffic was held up for the best part of five hours on Wednesday evening when a large Container Transport overturned on the Annapolis Causeway.

The transport owned by Jack's Warehousing and Forwarding, Ltd. of Digby was driven by a Mr. Cormier of the Weymouth area.

Heading toward Digby, the truck went out of control on a curve and overturned plunging up huge chunks of pavement, rocks and earth before coming to rest on its side along the guard rail.

The driver and his helper received only minor injuries.

They were taken to the Annapolis General Hospital and later released. RCMP from the Pictou detachment, Chief of Police Pineo and members of the Annapolis Royal Fire Department were on hand to direct traffic and help in the salvage operations. The accident occurred about 6:00 p.m.

A Grove crane from the building site of the new school was brought in but was unable to raise the transport.

Usually on a summer evening the cars of bass fishermen are parked along the causeway. Fortunately on Wednesday evening there was not one car in the area. Twice during the evening, traffic was allowed through to clear the back-up on both sides of the Causeway.

Detours were set up in Bridgetown by the RCMP and at the intersection in Annapolis Royal, by the Fire Department when it was found the transport would have to be dismantled before it could be moved. The truck was unfastened from the container trailer and Annapolis Firemen cut away jammed metal from a front wheel. This is the first time they have been called on to use their new metal cutting power saw. This piece of equipment is worth any price, for when it comes to freeing someone trapped in a car, it will prove invaluable. If it saves one life, it will be worth the price. The frame and wheels were removed from the trailer and the container was then loaded on to a second truck.

Along with normal summer traffic on route 1 and 1A, dozens of cars jammed the highway to see the big transport and the crane at work.

Spotlights, whirling red lights and the shower of sparks from the power saw cutting into metal made a spectacular show in the night. It was midnight before the debris was cleared away and normal traffic could resume.

Thirty-five senior golfers from District No. 1, the Valley and South Shore, converged on Eden Golf and Country Club on Friday for the Maritime Seniors Golf

As in previous years, there will be a special section for Juniors at the Annual Flower Show of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society being held at the Digby Fire Hall on Tuesday, August 12th. A four way tie with an 85 gross resulted with P.R. Ritcey, Ken Wo., Eldred Cleworth, Eden; C.D. Snow, Digby; and J. M. R. Beveridge, Ken Wo., carding identical scores. A decision was reached based on the best back nine holes with P. R. Ritcey of Ken Wo. emerging the trophy winner.

Prize winners were: P.R. Ritcey, Ken Wo., overall winner with an 85 gross and M.H. Harding, Liverpool, taking the honors in overall low net with a 61.

J.M.R. Beveridge, Ken Wo., carded an 85 for low gross in the first division, while C.D. Snow, Digby, captured the low net position with a 67.

Prior to starting, golfers enjoyed an excellent fish chowder meal, prepared by Mrs. Gaul, when "seconds" were the rule rather than the exception. Following golf, a buffet supper was enjoyed by all, topped off with home-made pie.

OLD TYPEWRITER STILL WORKS

The typewriter brought to The Digby Courier office on Thursday might have been dirty and dusty from age but that didn't impair the action. Sidney (Pete) Hall of the fisheries department came across the old typewriter in Comeauville and rescued it just before it was doomed for the garbage pile.

The Smith Premier Typewriter has a different keyboard from the modern makes. The number digits are placed up and down on the two sides, two rows of capital letters are across the top of the keyboard while two rows of lower case letters are also across the board. The capital letters and small letters are operated from two separate carriers. By spinning a cylinder shaped part of the typewriter, little brushes cleaned the keys.

Mr. Hall expects to thoroughly clean up the antique and preserve memories of by-gone days. Already he has found a typewriter ribbon to fill the aged model's requirements of approximately one and a half inches.

French Language Program Education Bursaries

A new government scholarship program for students about to enter the first year of a french-language post-secondary institution in Canada was announced today by the Minister of Education, William Gillis.

Under the program, 60 bursaries of $800 each are available to candidates who have completed the equivalent of grade 12 with an above average standing in French. The Bursaries are tenable for one year.

"We have noted the need for this kind of incentive," Dr. Gillis said. "It is a further step towards implementation of the principles of Bilingualism and Biculturalism. It is also a valuable addition to the existing financial assistance made through the Department of Education, in Co-operation with the Federal Government, to students and teachers in the area of french studies."

There are several qualifying french language colleges in eastern Canada, including L'Universite De Moncton, New Brunswick, and College Ste Anne, Nova Scotia. Enquiries should be addressed to Dr. Alphonse Comeau, Co-ordinator of the Bursary Program, Nova Scotia Department of Education.

At The Mercy Of The Weather

Snow, hail or rain, when one wants to go somewhere in this day and age of cars we can master the situation and get there. Once in awhile the weather becomes superior to man and man has to bow to the elements. That is what happened on Monday. The wind blew, the rain fell, and Digby's Natal Day festivities washed away.

Miserable weather also greeted the Bear River Cherry Carnival Day, Saturday, causing the committee concern, doubts, frustration and hesitation. After all there were hundreds of pounds of hamburgers and hot dogs for which to find refrigeration as other perishables. Fortunately, the sun broke out before nine o'clock and the Bear River Cherry Carnival was on its way for the 80th celebration in the kind of weather that the Carnival is accustomed to. As Councillor Byard Marshall said "Someone must have prayed for this". That could be true but we expect anyway that somebody, somewhere was sweating gundrops over the uncertainty of the weather for awhile. All's well that ends well. A most successful Carnival.

Monday, Digby's Natal Day turned out somewhat the same (rain and then sunshine) but the change from rain to sun came too late. By that time the Natal Day festivities had definitely been cancelled and word was sent far and wide to that effect. And, of course, rain came again around five in the afternoon.

Weather is only one of the obstacles which Cherry Carnivals and Natal

Day committees have to face. They work for weeks to have everything ready for the big day when the very thing which they dreaded might happen really does happen, the skies open and down falls the rain.

It is when something such as weather, interferes with these functions when we realize the responsibility and hard work that is taken on by the committees. Bands, orchestras, majorettes and special performers often expect remuneration for their services. With the day being washed out without bringing in revenue adds one more obstacle to be conquered. A backing for losses is quite necessary.

Both Bear River and Digby Committees and their chairpersons, Frank Marshall in Bear River and Mrs. Donald MacDonald in Digby deserve our applause real loud and long. Both planned programs were good. Their only hindrance being that they were at the mercy of the weather.

Open Swimming Pool

The opening of the Digby Kiwanis Swimming Pool postponed from Monday because of the rain and hurricane force winds, took place on Tuesday afternoon under a clear sunny sky. The postponement, of course, prevented many spectators from being on hand for the official opening at four o'clock.

The ribbon cutting ceremony was performed by Joe Casey M.L.A. after the guides swam with the enormous sized scissors to the spot where the ribbon was to be cut. Assisting Mr. Casey was C. M. Levy, who is one of the charter members of Digby Kiwanis Club and has been involved both in the old pool which was a nature made pool at the Racquette and with the newly constructed vinyl pool near the elementary school on Mount St.

R. MacLeod Rogers, Q.C., vice-president of the Digby

Kiwanis Club presided over the official opening and Deputy Mayor Philip Robertson brought greetings from the town to the Digby Kiwanis Pool Committee. Mr. Rogers especially thanked all those of the Kiwanis Club who made the pool possible and to friends who donated, to the Town of Digby, the Provincial Departments and the Federal Departments which helped to make the pool a reality. Mr. Rogers introduced the swimming pool staff headed by "Bill" Olsen.

Mr. Rogers admitted the project had been a costly one though most worthwhile and it will need contributions from groups and individuals to finance the operation and to lessen the capital expenditure debt. He solicited contributions at any time for the worthwhile and needed recreational facility for the town.

Thoughts On Your Mind

Last week a few tricks were suggested for becoming aware of a feeling and trying to identify it, such as closing your eyes, taking

Wade to visit his aunt, Mrs. Etta Parks, John Adams accompanied them on this trip by boat. This family also attended the Cherry Carnival activities, traveling by boat up the river to Bear River.

Master John Adams has left for Camp Reniel, Cedar Lake, Yarmouth Co. where he will attend camp for one week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson, David and Janet, have returned to their home in Arvida, Quebec, after spending holidays with his mother, Mrs. Janet Wilson.

Mrs. Samuel Hollahan and son, Frank and friend, Mrs. Eileen Earle have now returned to their home in Cornerbrook, Newfoundland.

some deep breaths. What does this do?

First of all, you admit to yourself that the situation you presently face has somehow affected you - indeed you are now experiencing a bodily reaction. Perhaps that person you dislike has again reinforced that dislike: close your eyes - don't take in any more! Now, focus on your inside reaction by, first of all, becoming aware of your body: take some deep breaths and figure out what area has the discomfort - not your sore ankle, or your fly-bitten neck which you may also be aware of. Try putting your finger on your abdomen: this is where feelings are usually easiest to identify. Now that you are aware that you have a feeling, let's try to name what it is.

Are you angry: is it a knot that is growing bigger and you are going to explode? Do you feel warm and sweaty and there is a headache coming on?

Are you hurt: is it a heavy weighted feeling that makes you want to slouch and run away?

Are you confused: are thoughts coming in quickly to make you feel weak and dizzy?

These are simply examples - there are lots of other feelings with other bodily reactions. Why don't you try telling a friend about your response to feelings. It's interesting to compare notes.

Tent Flammability

During the long winter evenings, thousands of Canadian outdoors men, women and children dream of pitching their tents and lazing by the water.

Well, camping season's arrived, and already some of those dreamers have taken to the woods... not to mention the backyards.

A word of caution, however: every year tent fires take their toll in human injury and death. So it's important for campers to realize just how flammable their tents are, and then to take steps to reduce the risk of fire turning their camping excursion into tragedy.

Remember that your tent is a textile article... and like all textile articles, it is flammable. Children's cotton tents, for example, will ignite and burn within a few minutes... and a large percentage of all tents are of cotton.

Paraffin treatment, used to make some tents waterproof, can actually increase flammability as well.

It is a good idea to buy only tents labelled "flame retardant", but don't let them lead you into a false sense of security. Even flame-retardant tents will burn if contact with flames or fire is maintained. Remember, although these chemically treated tents are more expensive, there is no effective home method to make your tent flame resistant.

And follow common sense camping rules:
- Build your campfire several yards from the tent.
- Make sure your fire is downwind from the tent.
- Keep only limited amounts of flammable liquids in tightly capped safety cans away from the children and from the tent.

Never use an open flame, such as a candle or a match near or in a tent. Carry a flashlight on your camping trip.

- If you are using an extension cord be sure the electric wire is of the right gauge to carry the current, and be sure the light bulb does not come in contact with or close to any part of the tent.

- Do not use open flame heating or cooking appliances in or near your tent.
- Keep a fire extinguisher in your tent.
- Make your children aware of fire dangers when camping.
- Have a plan of action in case of fire. Ensure your family is aware of what each member should do.
Following these simple safety rules, your camping trip should fulfill all your winter dreams.

Freezing Food

With the price of food going up, many people have decided that one way that might help the budget is to buy a freezer and take advantage of special sales and the abundance of seasonal fruits and vegetables now coming on the market.

There are many other important reasons for freezing food.

- 1) Freezing fresh food is a quick, convenient and easy method of preserving food.
- 2) Freezing retains most of the flavour, odour, texture and original nutritive value of the food.
- 3) Freezing fresh food provides a wide variety of otherwise purely "seasonal foods" in top condition, all year round.

Success in freezing food can be assured if you follow seven simple rules.

- select only fresh food of the highest quality. The condition of a food just before it is frozen determines its quality when eventually thawed and served.
- food to be frozen must be prepared both quickly and carefully

- it must be packaged in odourless, tasteless, moisture-and-vapour-resistant freezer containers or wrappings. This will protect it from drying out or absorbing other flavours. For short periods of storage (not more than two weeks) a double layer of waxed paper is usually sufficient for such foods as sandwiches and cakes; however waxed paper and light weight household foil should not be used for long storage

- after packaging, freeze food as quickly as possible at -18 degrees C (0 degrees F). If delay is unavoidable, food should be placed in the refrigerator as soon as the package is sealed - frozen food should be stored at -18 degrees C (0 degrees F), or even lower, with as little variation in temperature as possible.

- as food is needed, thaw it and use as soon as possible after thawing

- frozen food should be cooked carefully, according to directions (thawed meat and poultry are cooked the same as if they were fresh, and frozen vegetables should not be overcooked).

With the exception of pears, whole beets, egg plant and vegetables which are usually eaten raw such as celery, lettuce and cucumbers, almost all foods are freezable from fruits and vegetables through meat, poultry, baked goods, sauces, stews without potatoes, to tomatoes.

Tomatoes? Yes! That was a surprise. Just dip the tomatoes in boiling water for 50-60 seconds, cool quickly in cold water and gently slip the skins off. Add 1 teaspoon salt, dash pepper and 1/4 tsp. sugar to 2 pounds tomatoes and cook gently until tomatoes are tender (5-6 minutes). Pack in freezer containers.

In general, to realize the best results from your home freezer, it is important to:

- follow directions of the manufacturer about the care of the freezer, setting the controls (if this is necessary) and where to place the food to be frozen.

- freeze not more than 25-30 pounds of fresh food at one time, as a larger amount will raise the temperature in the freezer and lengthen the freezing time. Food should be thoroughly frozen within 24 hours. If it is necessary to freeze more than 25-30 pounds within a 24-hour period have freezing done at a locker plant. If this is not possible, keep extra amounts of food in the refrigerator until they can be put into freezer.
- have a system for budgeting freezer space so that a variety of frozen foods can be stored. Choose foods because the family likes them, not simply because they are plentiful or cheap. Avoid filling too great a portion of space with first products of the season.

- have an orderly arrangement of foods in the freezer--store fruits and vegetables in one part, meat in another and baked goods in another. A freezer that is systematically arranged will generally hold more than one that is poorly organized.

- label all packages with the name of the food, the date frozen and any other details that will be helpful when the food is to be thawed or cooked. To aid in finding foods stored in the freezer, use labels or strings of different colours on the different kinds of meats etc. and store small packages together in stockingette or large plastic bags.

- keep an up-to-date inventory or stock sheet of the contents of the freezer, making sure to record foods as they are put in and taken out.

- keep the freezer full; empty space is wasteful.

- use, don't save, the food in the freezer--the more rapid the turnover of food, the greater the economy.

- defrost regularly and keep the freezer clean so that undesirable "cold storage" odors will not develop.

- plan ahead, using imagination and ingenuity, watching for new ideas and developments and remembering that almost anything commercially frozen can be frozen in a home freezer.

- remember the seven steps to success in freezing foods as mentioned earlier in our article.

In case of a power failure or a mechanical breakdown, if the freezer is almost fully loaded and the door is not opened, the food will stay frozen for one to two days. If the freezer is less than half full, food will stay frozen less than one day. Chest-style freezers will retain cold longer than upright models. In either case, dry ice may be scattered over the food packages to help maintain a low temperature.

If there are still some ice crystals in the food, it can be safely refrozen. Refreezing itself is not harmful, but the texture and color will likely deteriorate.

The real danger is in refreezing thawed food that has already started to spoil.

With thoughtful planning, selective buying and good management, a home freezer filled with frozen foods can mean more convenience in meal preparation; nutritious, delicious, attractive and varied meals all year round; and a saving of time, effort and money.

It could be anything from converting that one room school house into a new community centre to writing and publishing a history of your city, town or village.

Starvation stalks millions. Whocares?

Training Schooner R—V Westward Visits Nova Scotia

This week the tall masts of a tall ship will be seen along the southern coast of Nova Scotia. The oceanographic research and training schooner Westward will visit Yarmouth on Monday (July 28) before cruising in the area of St. Mary Bay and Brier Island. She has just begun a six week cruise that will eventually take her to the northern tip of Newfoundland.

Built in 1961, Westward serves a college level academic program called Sea Semester. Twenty-one young men and women from all parts of the United States (including several from abroad) join a new cruise every two months to learn about the ocean. They serve as apprentice seamen and research assistants aboard the 240 ton staysail schooner.

They begin their semester, which is accredited by Boston University, with six weeks of intensive classroom studies ashore Woods Hole, Massachusetts. There they take courses in marine science, nautical science, and man's relationship to the sea. Students then turn to apprenticeship, learning by doing, as they actively (and strenuously!) participate in the mission of a working ship under sail.

Dr. Ellsworth Wheeler, from the University of New Hampshire, is aboard developing a reference collection of oceanic zooplankton and studying the reproductive behavior of large migrating copepods. In addition to other studies aimed at monitoring pollution and productivity at sea, Westward's crew is using longline fishing techniques to collect materials for Dr. J. Stegeman of the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution. Sharks are also tagged for the U.S. National Marine Fisheries Service. Dr. Wheeler will be joined by Dr. Peter Beamish, of the Bedford Institute in Dartmouth, N.S., and by two scientists from the United States. Westward will work her way northeast under sail to Newfoundland as the scientists continue a bio-acoustic survey of marine mammals begun last summer.

Operating areas will include the infamous Sable Island, the Grand Banks, and the Straits of Belle Isle near Labrador. There, students and scientists hope to collect data on a variety of whales. Sea Semester is operated by the Sea Education Association (SEA), a non-profit educational organization whose offices are at Church Street in Woods Hole, Massachusetts. Courses ashore are conducted at Woods Hole, and, this summer, at the Shoals Marine Laboratory on Appledore Island, (off the New Hampshire coast) where a joint program with Cornell University is currently in progress.

Westward carries 7,000 square feet of sail, including a course and rafter on the foremast. Steel hulled, she is powered by a 350 H.P. diesel auxiliary engine and equipped with a variety of pumps, refrigeration, AC and DC generators, and oceanographic winches. Her electronic outfit, in addition to scientific instruments, includes a Raytheon single side band radio, VHF, radar (48 miles), Loran and fathometer. Built for long endurance at sea, she carries 5,000 gallons of fuel and an equal amount of water. The ship logs an average of 20,000 miles at sea each year. Westward was designed by the Boston naval architects Eldredge-McInnis.

Twenty-one apprentices are supervised by a veteran staff of seamen and scientists, including the captain, three watch officers, steward, engineer, staff scientist, and up to three visiting scientists. In command is Captain John Metcalfe of Marblehead, Massachusetts. No stranger to Canadian waters, Captain Metcalfe was aboard Westward a year ago when she cruised the Atlantic coast and the Gulf of St. Lawrence. This is Westward's third visit to Canada.

A THOUGHT STARTER

(Rev. R.C. McCormack)

A SHOCKING TIME

When it seems like the roof is falling in, and everything is going wrong at once, what do you do?

It may be well to think about it, and be ready. To be calm and resourceful is not easy. To come through when others are losing their heads, is a sign of leadership. Whether it is a house fire, a war, a national depression, a sudden death in the family or whatever, there is one way out.

When Jesus was hanging on the Cross, it was a crisis for His disciples. Most of them fled and scattered. They panicked. One stood strong and noble at the foot of the Cross. This was John. After the resurrection, they were all reunited, and filled with the staying power of the Holy Spirit. For this reason, henceforth, they could face any emergency, including prison and martyrdom.

The Presence of Christ is the answer in our times of shock and stress. Our whole civilization is facing critical days. This is a time for change and for choice. The change is in revising our way of life to include the Lord Who can hold us up through all perils. The choice is in changing our loyalty from the tottering world of things to the solid promises of God.

Confusion and stress can be turned into joy and victory as we are obedient to Christ. To fail here is to meet a greater crisis at the final judgement. Then, it will be too late for deliverance.

How many children in your community have been injured needlessly because they are not familiar with the poisonous, explosive, corrosive or flammable symbols used on the labels of household chemical products?

For the past two years, the Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs has conducted a series of puppet shows across Canada on a no-charge basis. This program has provided students with work opportunities and taught children ages 4-10 years, the basic safety rules in an entertaining way. Our Summer '75 program finds Binkly and Doinkel, children from outer space, visiting Earth to compete in a safety quiz. As part of the Federal Government's Summer '75 program to provide students with summer work opportunities a bilingual team of puppeteers will be travelling through Nova Scotia. Megan Roy and Mike Taylor will be presenting shows in English and French at various children's centres, hospitals and playgrounds, etc. At the end of each show the children receive a safety sticker and an activity booklet.

On August 14, the puppeteers will be in Annapolis Royal, Digby and Carleton.

The cormorants colony at the causeway Pictou Harbour

To the east of the Pictou Harbour Causeway a group of poles are standing helter skelter with their feet in salty water. The piles are the remains of a wharf used in the hay days of coal in Pictou County to load ships from everywhere.

If you stop your car along the TCH 106, going north only, you'll notice that every available space is occupied with piles of seaweed and almost every space is filled with black, reptile-like cormorants. There is much activity as the old birds return to the nests laden with the spoils of their fishing expeditions, announcing their return with strange guttural grunts.

How strange that a bird normally so quiet should suddenly find its voice. Among the nest are a few double-high constructions. They're built on top of last year's nests. Some poles, weary of age, have tipped to their side. Shortage of nesting sites was alleviated last winter by men who built platforms on top of some of the single poles.

Distance enhances the glamour of a cormorant, or shag, colony. Closer inspection reveals a squalor rivaled only by that of the human race in the world's worst slums. Everything within range is generously whitewashed with cormorant excreta. The smell of it, mixed with the odor of drying sea weed, is certainly different from the odor that comes from the Scott Maritimes Pulp mill, just to your right at Abercrombie Point.

Large cormorant nestlings, when alarmed, regurgitate their dinners without hesitation. Food habits studied here reach the greatest of simplicity - the naturalist simply has to retrieve the unsavory messes before they hit the water. The entire food brought by the adults consists of fishes, up to six inches long. The sight of the voracious young cormorants delving with their bills into the depths of the parental gullet fills the observer with apprehension - surely they would do mortal injury to the patient old shags.

The nest itself consists of a bulky mass of seaweed, brought from the bottom of the harbour by the parents birds. After the courtship, which seems to consist of a lot of neck stroking, the nests contain an average of three shaglets each. Young adults, not ready for parenthood, or because of the housing shortage, spend their time off resting on the oil pipeline wharf, between fishing trips. After the birds land on the poles they spend a lot of time preening feathers and waving their wings in the air to dry them.

When cormorants first emerge from the eggs they're without a trace of down or feathers on their homely black skins, the general appearance is more reptilian than avian. The shaglets are very restless, their heads bob and roll, and the yellow skin of their throats pulsates rapidly as they shuffle continuously to work into the most advantageous positions. (If they get too pushy they fall into the water below and drown). They appear unhappy and discontented with their lot, their doglike yelping mixed with grunts of the other birds, can be heard from the shore part of the causeway.

The nesting site is protected by order of the Nova Scotia Dept of Forests, a sign reminds you of the fact. This provided a haven for this colony. It seems to have increased considerably since the causeway was first built in 1967. The heavy construction trucks and bulldozers didn't seem to bother the birds at all, neither do speeding automobiles going past at all hours or the lights along the highway that stay lit from dusk to dawn. This colony of cormorants is unique. In most areas the nests are built in trees in hard to reach areas. Not here. You just stop your car and stare as long as you want to. It's a favourite Sunday afternoon pastime for many Pictonians.

Agreement For Policing Of Ontario
Indian Reserves Signed

OTTAWA, Ontario, (July 18, 1975) The signing of a 3-year federal-provincial agreement for the improved policy of Indian Reserves in Ontario was announced jointly today by the Honourable Judd Buchanan, Minister of Indian and Northern Affairs, and the Honourable George Kerr, Q.C., Solicitor General of Ontario.

In making the announcement, the Ministers acknowledged the special contribution that has been made by the Indian Chiefs in Ontario and their colleagues to help improve law enforcement conditions for the Province's native people. The Chiefs have voiced their approval and support of this agreement which offers Indian communities the opportunity to freely take advantage of a range of policing services.

This improved police service, financed under the terms of the agreement, will stress preventive policing and community relations. It will be staffed by Indian band constables selected through consultations between Band Councils and the Commissioner of the Ontario Provincial Police. The constables will be recruited, trained, and supervised by the O.P.P., and will be assigned policing duties on the Reserves and in adjoining areas. They will have the complete back-up support and facilities of the O.P.P. for crime prevention and law enforcement.

Over the duration of the agreement, it is planned to hire 100 band constables. Estimated expenditures will be close to two million dollars.

The new agreement will provide for an increase in salaries for band constables, to complement their higher training and wider responsibilities. Transfer to the regular O.P.P. will be possible by meeting established standards.

To ensure that the policing service meets the specialized needs of Indian reserves, consultation will be made with Band Chiefs and other representatives of the Indian people, the provincial government, the Department of Indian and Northern Affairs, and the Ontario Provincial Police. It is planned that an evaluation of the program will be made in January, 1978.

In making the announcement, Messrs. Buchanan and Kerr pointed out that the new program would in no way disrupt established band police forces such as at the St.

Regis, Six Nations, and Gull Bay Reserves. Rather, it would strengthen the capabilities for better police work in those locations and improve working relationships with the O.P.P.

The Ministers also expressed their conviction that the program will "not only do much to improve Indian-police relations, but will also put Canada's first citizens at the protection end as well as the enforcement end of the law." They concluded by stating that an appreciation of, and respect for, the law is a prerequisite for the development of local government on Indian Reserves.

NO NOMINATIONS FOR MAYOR

Five o'clock p.m. on Tuesday, August 12th, brought Digby no further in their search for a mayor to preside over affairs of the town.

Following the resignation of Patrick Comeau as Mayor in June, a nomination day was called in July, but no response was forthcoming from that call. Approximately six months before the resignation of Mr. Comeau as mayor, Willard Kinney had found the job time-consuming and placed his resignation as the Mayor of Digby.

Since June the Deputy Mayor, Philip Robertson, and councillors have been doing a noble job in keeping the town affairs up to date and moving onward.

While citizens of the town are concerned and are disappointed to have no response to the call for nominations in two successive nomination days, they are looking still hopefully to a more positive response if a nomination day is called again for September.

World Volleyball championships while over the past five years he has served as an official in all of Canada's national tournaments for both men and women.

"I find the pressure of being a referee appealing. In Europe and South America volleyball is popular and it's not uncommon to officiate in front of crowds around 11 and 12 thousand. When you work a game in front of that many people who are really volleyball fans you really can feel the pressure of the game," says Barton, who, in June, completed the requirements for his international rating at the pre-Olympic tournament, in Montreal.

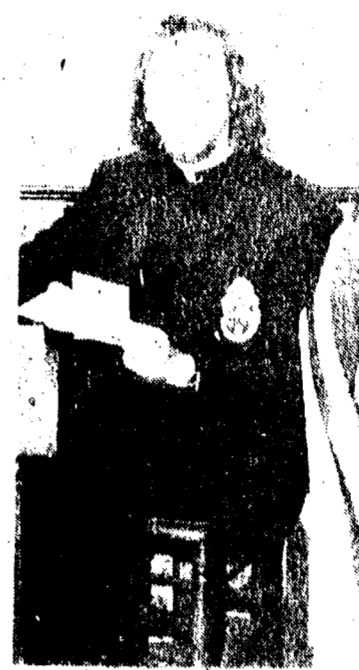

Canada's national volleyball body recommended Barton to the international group as a top candidate for the rating which now makes him eligible to officiate in the 1976 Olympic Games, an experience Barton is very excited about. "I probably won't get to do any of the real big games but it's such a great honour and thrill to be there that it doesn't really matter."

Local volleyball enthusiasts will get a chance to see Olympic squads from Canada, France, and the U.S.S.R. (one of the world powers), August 28 at the Halifax Forum and again in Fredericton August 30.

While it will give fans a chance to see some top notch competition, it will also provide them with an opportunity to see Brad doing his thing.

Brad is married to the former Judy Henry of Amherst and they have a three year old son, Jason. They live in Dartmouth. Before leaving on his trip he visited his parents.

He is well known in Digby for his interest in sports, from which he has won prizes, volleyball being one of his favorites.

Plan Memorial Service For August 25th

A memorial service commemorating the founders and workers in the United Church of Canada, Smith's Cove is to be held on Sunday, August 25th, we understand. The church, though still a possession of the Valley Presbytery of the United Church of Canada has been made into a museum under the sponsorship of the Smith's Cove Historical Society.

Dr. Corston of the Atlantic School of Theology will be special speaker.

The museum is open each day of the week from 2 p.m.

Start.

The new coordinator brings varied experience to her work in the Yarmouth area. For two years she represented Cornell University on an Exchange program with Hampton Institute in Virginia (a predominantly Black College) where she was Director of Psychological Services and Testing; Dean of Northfield Seminary in Massachusetts; Associate Professor at Kirkland College (new college for women and sister school of Hamilton College in Clinton, N.Y.) Director of Research, Associate Professor and Higher Education Associate at John Jay College of Criminal Justice, New York City. While there Professor Buszek was a regular lecturer at the New School for Social Research and a weekly consultant in Psychiatric Epidemiology at Columbia University. Last year was spent teaching extension courses for Acadia University and Le College Sainte-Anne in Bridgetown/Cornwallis area, and lecturing for the Mental Health Association throughout the county.

Professor Buszek will reside in Yarmouth area. Her two older children are in college in the United States and her younger son, a June high-school graduate, will attend Carleton University in the fall.

While evaluating the academic interests and needs of the Yarmouth area, Professor Buszek will offer credit courses beginning in September. The address and telephone number of the Yarmouth office will be announced shortly, as well as course descriptions, college requirements and program.

Academic counselling will also be provided. Dr. Buszek is well acquainted with Valley people and a number of Digby County people where she lectured extension classes at C.F.B. Cornwallis and St. Anne's College, Church Point. Dr. Buszek has been a popular speaker for various organizations such as V.O.N., health and youth organizations.

to 4 p.m. with the curator being Adrian Potter, formerly of Deep Brook and a summer assistant to the Anglican clergy of the area. His education was obtained at Kings College, N.S. and continues at Trinity College in Toronto. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Potter, Deep Brook. He has experience in the work at the museum, having been curator at Old Saint Edwards, Clementsport and at museums in Wolfville and Grand Pre.

Past president of the Smith's Cove Historical Society is Mrs. Cecil Raymond who was one of the instigators of the project and one who has given much time and effort to the project along with a special committee. President of the Society is David Irvine; Mrs. Darrell Warren, secretary and Frank Wightman, treasurer.

Since the church has been cared for by the Historical Society, they have painted and redecorated both the exterior and interior with all the features intact as previously. Repairs to the roof have been made and the church organ has been repaired in anticipation of the August 25th service.

Among the antiques and museum items is a dainty white dress with bustle and frills having been the property of Mrs. Minerva Sulis. Other museum items, pictures of old steamships, bridges, roadways, buildings of the area and other historical items of the church and village are preserved by the museum. The Communion silver service has been restored and on display at the church. The history compiled by the late Mrs. Hazel Clayton Smith's Cove and the neighhours gives details on the origin of the church. It is said that Deacon George S. Sulis of the Baptist Church had married as his second wife Minerva Sypher, a fine Christian of the Methodist faith (many can still remember Mrs. Minerva Sulis today). She always attended the Baptist services with her husband at the Baptist Chapel, later the Temperance Hall and the Smith's Cove Fire Department.

Mrs. Sulis, however, was not happy about the Baptist closed communion views but one day decided to remain and partake of the sacred ordinance. She was, however, passed by. She felt she did not want to live in a community where she could not partake of the Lord's Supper and her husband was in full sympathy with her. He gave a lot for a Methodist Church while she put on various functions to raise money for the building. In 1885 the church building was completed and paid for and worshipping began in the edifice. "Aunt Minerva" as she was called was a real pillar of the church.

Other items concerning the establishment of the Methodist Church by Wesleyan missionaries can be found in Smith's Cove and Her Neighbours until the formation of the United Church of Canada in 1925 from the Methodist, Congregational and Presbyterian faiths. Many of these churches have been celebrating the 50th anniversary of the United Church of Canada this year.

Here From Kilarney

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilkins of Kilarney, Manitoba, spent several days at the Admiral Digby Inn, Shore Road during the weekend. Mr. Wilkins is a retired newspaper publisher, having recently retired from the Kilarney Guide.

It is remembered that the Kilarney New Horizons visited Digby and the Digby New Horizons visited Kilarney early in the summer on Spring. Mr. Wilkins at that time gave the Digby members each a Shamrock bulb.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins are not following basic roots on their trip but are using back roads to view the countryside. Their plans are to visit four provinces and remarked that if he had a choice of where to move it would be Nova Scotia.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Levy, King St., Digby, adorned in a profusion of flowers of many kinds and every hue, was the scene of a

About 200 guests were entertained and partook of the beautifully decorated cake, made for the occasion by their daughter-in-law, Donna, and which graced the center of the dining table.

Digby Man Topnotch Referee

Brad Barton, son of Bradford and Mary Barton, Acaciaville, began refereeing high school volleyball matches in Nova Scotia upon his graduation from Teachers College in 1966. Today, he is one of only three Canadians internationally-rated officials qualified to referee in international tournaments.

Brad left Halifax Sunday for Europe, where he will tour with Canada's national women's team on their swing through Rumania and Bulgaria, returning in two weeks' time.

Now vice-principal of Graham Creighton High School and nine years a teacher in Halifax County, Barton's interest in volleyball began during his high school years in hometown Digby.

While at Teachers College, he was required to specialize in three sports; quite naturally, volleyball was one of his choices. "I used to enjoy playing but I knew I could never play at a real high level so I decided to turn towards officiating and be the best I possibly could be."

His officiating career is made up of progressive moves up the ladder, first as a provincial referee and then on to regional status.

He received his national rating in 1970 and last year attended the International Volleyball Referee's Clinic in Montreal, a 10-day affair, featuring the head of the International Officials Association, Hungary's Dr. Holvay.

October saw Barton off to Mexico for three weeks where he officiated at the Professor Buszek Appointed To St. Anne's

In order to research the real needs of the Yarmouth area in the field of extension services, College Saint-Anne has appointed a coordinator-researcher with headquarters in Yarmouth. In announcing the appointment of Professor Beatrice Buszek, a social psychologist, the president of the College, Louis R. Comeau, stated that such research will lead to an efficient and meaningful program of extension courses in the Yarmouth area. Mr. Comeau added that the courses offered up to now have not always fully met the needs of the people concerned. The College is presently revising its extension policy and hopes that it will be possible to obtain a degree through courses taken outside the University.

Professor Buszek, a graduate of Windsor Academy, in Hants County, obtained her undergraduate degree at Western Michigan University and her graduate degree at Cornell University with additional study and research at Duke University, the Radcliffe Institute for Talented Women and the London School of Economics. She served on the U.S. Civil Rights Commission and was a consultant for several years to the American Council on Education and Project Head

THE LEISURE YEARS: BOREDOM OR FULFILMENT?

(UNCHURCHED EDITORIALS)

Retirement. The word conjures up visions of endless hours of happy freedom. Why, then, is it such a disillusioning experience for so many people?

The natural tendency is to look forward to devoting unlimited time to travel, hobbies, grandchildren, sports and entertainment. All of which are enjoyable. But when one actually comes to fill day after day in these ways, life can soon pall. Fulfilment is not achieved so easily.

What's missing, according to psychologists and human relations consultants, is involvement in interests outside one's self. Taking part in community affairs, charities, church work or worthy fund raising projects offers such opportunities. Can you teach English to a new Canadian? Offer volunteer service to some social agency or hospital? Take a part-time job? There are many other ways by which you can make a worthwhile contribution.

As for hobbies, they can be wonderfully rewarding outlets for one's interests and energies. They can even prove to be the basis of a profitable second career. But to get the most out of any hobby, start taking it up in earlier years. Later, you'll have the necessary skill to allow you to get infinitely more fun and satisfaction out of your efforts. Especially if it's the kind of hobby you can share with others. Above all, leisure years are brightened by friendships, both old and new, and by maintaining a lively interest in the fascinating world around us. Given reasonably good health, you may well find that the November-December years are the best of your life.

COMMUNITY PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT IN BEAR RIVER

Contributed Editorial

Just recently the provincial government, through the Community Planning Division of the Department of Municipal Affairs and the Planning and Development Division of the Department of Tourism, made money available to the Bear River area for the first stage of its Community Development Program.

The money has been used to hire a Program Co-ordinator who is presently undertaking an information and organization effort in Bear River. The Co-ordinator is Barry Dixon, a native Nova Scotian and a student Planner with a background in community participation and environmental preservation work. His job is essentially to ASSIST a community group towards assessment of

- the current situation in the community
- residents' desires and needs for the future development opportunities and limitations
- capabilities and resources available for use and
- possible and probable development assistance.

Barry has no formal affiliation with any branch of the government or any established community group in Bear River. He is meant to be an employee of the community.

One of the immediate intents of the Co-ordinator is to point out to the residents of Bear River that change and development are happening there. New development particularly, though it provides employment, may not always be sensitive to the character of the community. It may cause damage to the scenic and environmental quality of Bear River, making it a far less attractive place to live. He maintains that if they want to, the residents can plan for change and development so that it will not disrupt their quality of life, nor the integrity of their scenic and natural resources which make Bear River such a nice place to live.

The first stage of the Program is to organize a community group which will work with the Co-ordinator and actively assist in the formulation of a strategy for future planning and development in Bear River. The Program can only be successful if it has the co-operation and assistance of residents especially. You are urged to become aware and become involved in this worthwhile endeavour.

—The Bear River Cherry Carnival raised over $7000 in 1975, we understand, and had $5000 clear. Congratulations. That is a good sum to go towards fire protection in the area. Frank Marshall and all his helpers did a magnificent job on the Carnival.

—Mrs. Marian MacDonald deserves much praise for the fine execution of the Digby Natal Day observance. Despite the adverse weather, the show was a really good one. We can only use our imagination on the success of the program if the weather had been accomodating on Monday. One point in favor of International Women's Year! —

—Never saw Digby have a finer looking float than the one for 1975. Congratulations! The float helped to make Digby look important to our Natal Day visitors, the Cherry Carnival visitors and the Annapolis Natal Day visitors. Top prizes were won at Annapolis and Bear River. —

—Dear Dirty and Disgusted: What might have been a worthwhile and progressive step in the protection of one of our valuable resources was brought to naught because you didn't sign your name. What a pity. The edition MUST have your signature even though it does not need to be published in the newspaper. —

—It's a two way street. Followers are not much good without a leader and, as we heard someone say the other day, it is not much good to have a leader unless there are followers. —

—Judges for the Natal Day grand parade were Mrs. Evelyn Cameron, Mrs. Noni Comeau, Mrs. Victor Kynock and Lt. Col. Stockwell, CFB Cornwallis. The children's parade was judged by Mrs. Glen Smith, Mrs. Gary MacKenzie and Vaughn Adams. Miss Sharon George, Natal Day Queen, presented the children's prizes. The contribution to the program by Lt. Commander M. Perreault and the CFB Sea Cadet Band was much appreciated as were other outside contributions for Natal Day. —

—We see by the Vernal Press down there in Utah that President Gerald R. Ford proclaimed July 24 as a National Day of Prayer 1975. Two hundred years ago, in 1775, the nation was asked to pray to preserve and secure civil and religious liberties and he pointed out that the liberties prayed for were answered. He sounded a warning in that material progress and human achievement often beckon mankind from spiritual virtues. The president expressed the hope that as the nation prepares to mark its 200th anniversary that it will not forget that it was prayer that helped them forge freedom and foster liberties. Good thought for any country! —

—Mr. Hainer of C.B.C. radio, Toronto, on his nine o'clock program on Tuesday morning gave the story of Jerome which is part of Digby history. He gave credit to the Digby Courier for the story located in its files. Several persons heard the program. —

Acaciaville Institute Completes Project.

Some four months back, the media reported that the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation had approved a grant of $18,450.00 to the Acaciaville Women's Institute under the Corporation's Emergency Repair Program. Since then much work has been done and the project has been completed.

With limited time and resources, it was not possible to undertake emergency repairs in all homes especially those requiring major repairs, it is understood. All the same, much work has been done. About twenty-one homes had various repairs done such as insulation, panelling, fixing windows, doors, ceilings, verandas, and stairways. As a result these homes are greatly improved and more habitable, the committee reported.

Many people contributed directly or indirectly in the project. The Acaciaville Women's Institute was particularly grateful for the generous grant given by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. In addition, the Institute was thankful for the special assistance offered by the staff of the Human Rights Commission at the Digby Office in facilitating the project. Mrs. Mary Borden, secretary of A.W.I. said the Institute feels indebted to the Co-ordinator of the project, Robertson Robinson, Jr., and all those who worked under him for the commendable workmanship shown.

Appointment

The Multicultural Association of Nova Scotia (MANS) is pleased to announce the appointment of Barbara Campbell above as Co-ordinator of the activities of the newly formed Association. The Association was formed as the result of initiatives by the Nova Scotia Department of Recreation and as a reflection of needs expressed to the Department by the various member organizations of the Association. Operating funds for the organization originate with the Department of Recreation. A strong consensus of the need for a provincial organization emerged at several conferences and workshops held in the past at various locations in the province to integrate and promote ethnic cultural activities into the overall lifestyle pattern of this province. The Association has consequently been formed and consists of a nine member Board, designated by the three already existing Multicultural Councils in Digby, Halifax-Dartmouth and Sydney. A four member Executive Council and the Co-ordinator are designated to direct the day-to-day operations of the Association. The current members of the Executive Council are: Victor Zahorski, President, Halifax; Shingai Hyajeka, Vice-President, Digby; Rhoda Gaum, Secretary, Sydney; Gyan Dosaj, Treasurer, Halifax. The essential function of Ms. Campbell will be to co-ordinate the activities of, and to provide services required by the member organizations involved in multicultural activities in Nova Scotia. The office of the Co-ordinator is located on the 4th Floor of the Student Union Building, Saint Mary's University, Tel: 423-6534.

and Pat Myers.

Mr. Harpell used as his text for his message, Luke 10:25-37, the story of the Good Samaritan. He stated that there are three philosophies in life illustrated by the characters in this tale:

(1) Robbers - "What is yours is mine and I'm going to take it."

(2) Religious leaders (Pharisees and Levites) - "What is mine is mine and I am going to keep it." - a philosophy often seemed to be held by Christians of today.

(3) Samaritan - "What is mine is yours and I want to share it." Christ came to share what was His with us. He gave His life that we might share and have eternal life by claiming Him as Savior. Good is continually reaching out to Man to accept and share His peace and gift of eternal life. Mr. Harpell challenged those listening to get up out of their comfortable pews-cars and to go to that uncomfortable place to share their Christ with others.

Mary Lee Wilson sang "Love Was When God

Became A Man" at the conclusion of this message. The team of Lic. Brian Harpell of Halifax, Mary Lee Wilson of Wolfville, Lic. Joe Umdid of Mount Hanley and his wife, Marie, were in the Smith's Cove area leading the youth, who gathered at the Smith's Cove Baptist Church beginning Tuesday evening, July 29, at a "Get Together" and held Bible sessions and group encounter sessions daily, with workshops on music and puppets during the week.

Outside activities were also enjoyed. Wednesday evening a softball game was held at Smith's Cove. Thursday afternoon the team and several of the youth reached out to contact youth in the Bear River and Clementsvalle areas. That evening a film was shown at the church. A beach party was held on a local beach on Friday night. Saturday afternoon the group held an outdoor service at Forte Anne national Historical Park. A Coffee Shop was on the evening program at Smith's Cove. Sunday morning the group also participated in services at should be located in either the Weymouth or Clare area.

The justification for this is that the survey registered thirty-nine mentally handicapped adults in and around Weymouth and another thirty in and around Clare. There may be more. We have available to us some monies and much enthusiasm to devote to the establishment of this important Centre. BUT, we need support, we need help.

First of all, a new Centre means a new building. We hope that someone will provide us with proper facilities in this regard. We will completely take charge of all maintenance of any room or building provided. The upkeep will include painting, repairs and landscaping. The trainees will be able to participate in the keeping of the grounds and possibly experiment in different farming methods.

In addition to these basics, our job is to establish a working plan for the trainees at the centre. However, this job is, unfortunately, only a summer one for us. Therefore, we must obtain and train sincere volunteers, who will take over the running of the centre once we return to our formal education. Obviously then, the ultimate success or failure of this extremely worthwhile project depends upon interested and willing citizens.

If anyone from the Weymouth or Clare area is sincerely interested in helping to organize and to run the centre, please do not hesitate in writing to us: The Hope Fellowship Summer Program, c/o Hope Fellowship Activity Centre, Conway, Digby Co., N.S.

COUNTRY ROAD

Vic Mullen, formerly of CBC-TV's Singalong Jubilee, announcer Frank Cameron, broadcaster Jim Bennet and Johnny Gold are the forsome heard regularly on this country music show from Halifax produced by Ira Stewart. Tthis series has a special "down east" flavor, engaging and informal that will delight any country fan, whether their preference is traditional or contemporary. Live concerts, a git of the week selected by Johnny Gold and humor by Bennet are heard each week. From time to time the program features different types of instruments and the kind of music they're best suited for. On Aug. 20 and 27, fiddler Cecil McEachern, formerly of the Don MMesser band, preforms, and the highlight Sep. 24 is a concert by the Lilly Brothers from West Virginia, who were brought to Halifax especially to record the Country Road show. Vic Mullen is a Digby County boy with Weymouth connections.

Chimes To Cherish

Newfoundland

There's a quiet kind of grandeur, That steals your heart away, And I found it here in Newfoundland, Where the land and sea mists play. Here, the rugged rocks dip downward, wedded to the restless sea, As a hush of early morning then becomes a part of me. Little boats lie close beside me, Tossed by tides that gently lie, 'Neath the harbour's gray cathedrals, Reaching to the morning sky. Sombre beauty... rugged beauty, I can't claim you for my own, But I shall keep a cherished memory, As I wing my way back home.

Artist Visits Tiverton

John Kelly, well known artist of Malibu, California, found the small fishing village of Tiverton, N.S., picturesque and its landscapes of coves, inlets, wharves and harbors, for boat moorings, fish shacks and the pond that shelters the boats during "off" fishing season, all worthy of his time to capture on film. From the films he plans to put all on canvas when he returns to his art studios at Malibu.

Actually, Mr. Kelly, who is on vacation, planned to stay at Tiverton only one day but he found the area so interesting and peaceful that he remained several days - spending a few hours at Westport, gathering pictures to add to his already immense collection of both photos and paintings.

The artist is familiar with Canada's west coast, having lived there for quite a number of years. He is a native of Glasgow, Scotland and was born of Irish-Scottish parents. Mr. Kelly's father, a merchant seaman, moved the family to Vancouver when he was a young lad of ten years. From his father, young Kelly inherited a love for the sea, and living in Vancouver, a seaport city, nurtured this love that was to play a part in his future work.

During his school years in Canada he also studied art and practised his artistic abilities to design and illustrate various annuals and events taking place at that time.

After high school, Mr. Kelly became a merchant seaman. He sailed to Alaskan ports aboard freighters and lighthouse tenders. In painting ships his training came first hand and the mood was and still is of the northwestern coast. He continued his art training while ashore and studied with Canadians, Sidney Baron and Clark Stevenson. Both urged Mr. Kelly to further his art education.

During his busy years the artist also acquired a musical talent which enabled him to enter the United States. In this way he attended classes at the Art Center School at Los Angeles while working as a musician in the evening. He proved his talent as night club drummer in the "Danny Thomas Show", "The Mickey Rooney Show", backing up Jimmy Rodgers in "The Herb Alpert Tijuana Brass Show".

However, it seems painting is his love and his reproductions of ships, sea, landscapes and people in his own unique style in soft, subtle though forceful handling of tones and glazes, have made his paintings favorites among galleries and discriminate collectors everywhere.

Mr. Kelly is married and has one son. He resides with his son and wife, Judi Kelly, a talented night club and television entertainer who had roles in "My Three Sons", "Mr. Novak", "Nuttie Professor", "Art Linkletter", "Woody Woodbury Show" and others. While in Tiverton, Mr. Kelly was a guest at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Thurber.

HOST CYCLERS

Robert Morrissey hosted two groups of cyclers (Bicycle) overnight with their tents. he opened his kitchen for them to cook their supper and breakfast. Some unusual dishes were cooked by the group. A neighbour went to lend a helping hand and found the young people to be very nice, mannerly and appreciative of Mr. Morrissey's hospitality. The young folks were from N.Y. State and vicinity, their destination being Halifax.

They seemed to enjoy their visit with a few horse rides and their tents up in a newly mowed field and asking a million questions about Nova Scotia.

C.A.H.A. National Midget Development Hockey Camp 1975

(Robert Dugas)

Recently, I had the good fortune of being chosen by the Digby Minor Hockey Association to be their representative at the first National Midget Hockey Camp held in Canada. It was based at St. Mary's University in Halifax with some testing done at Dalhousie University.

I have attended other hockey schools but nothing can compare with this camp. Besides being a hockey camp it was also a leadership camp. We were required to give speeches, personal evaluations and other such facets of oral communications.

A typical day at camp would start at 6:30 in the morning with everyone getting up. At 6:45 we would go for a 2 1/2 mile run through Point Pleasant Park Fitness Trail. We'd arrive back on campus at about 7:30 and have a quick swim in the pool before 8 o'clock breakfast.

Following breakfast at 9 would be a lecture which would last until 11. In the lectures, the topics ranged from prevention of athletic injuries to a test on the rules of hockey. Lectures on goaltending, checking, skating, puck control etc., were heard. Films on the Team Canada '74 series were shown at this time as well as slow motion action shots of shooting.

After the lectures, some sort of athletics would be played, ranging from basketball to lacrosse or soccer or track and field.

The camp was not all work though. We had a cruise on the Bluenose II around Halifax Harbor and we could have seen a rock concert but we all fell asleep during a lecture and for our punishment we had to go to bed at 9 o'clock.

On the last day of the camp a banquet was held. A first and second all-star team were selected and I had the good fortune of being chosen to the first all-star team.

The instructors at the camp were a great bunch of guys. They were ready to help you out but they wanted the best you could give.

Being a first in Canada, this camp had a few organization problems but next year I am almost certain that the camp will be twice as good as this year. I know everyone had a great time that attended this camp and benefitted much from this experience. I know I did.

In closing I'd like to thank Digby Minor Hockey for selecting me as their representative. It was a very rewarding personal experience for me.

Thank you
Robert Dugas

Seek Advice On Water Situation

The Digby Water Commission meeting in special session at the Town Hall on Tuesday evening decided to get expert advice on plans to improve the water situation in Digby. They will invite Russell Hooper, Kingston, the man who installed the three present drilled wells, for guidance on the matter.

The meeting was presided over by Robert Morgan, chairman and attended by Deputy Mayor Philip Robertson, Councillor Guy Van Tassell, Thomas Cleveland, Frank Robinson, streets and water superintendent and Glen Pitman, town clerk.

One of the immediate steps taken is to switch back to water from the lake because of the many complaints from residents of the discolored water coming through the taps. The water committee explained that the brownish water comes from the dam where there is a high iron content. Complaints are that bedding and other white items become discolored when washed in the water. Should there be volume difficulty or other difficulty in using the lake, the Commission will again revert to the dam, it was said.

Longer range plans were also discussed at the meeting on Tuesday evening. Mr. Morgan explained number two of the three drilled wells had broken down in 1973 and nothing had been done to restore it to usefulness. Eighteen months ago the well was repaired at a cost over a thousand dollars. Even after difficulty in getting a man to come to do repairs, the well only ran for six hours. Something serious was wrong with the pump, it was found. The Digby Water Commission was advised that the motor was cased in mud, wires had been melted. Repairs to the pump or a new pump would be in the vicinity of $1164 and the Ontario firm was waiting for instruction from the Commission as to procedure.

The well referred to was the "top" well in production and it was noted that the well wall had collapsed at about 165 to 168 feet. The economics of replacement was considered whether to repair this well and install a pump to produce enough pressure or to consider the possibility of drilling a 20 inch well and have it screened to avoid a collapse as experienced with well number two.

Time seemed to be a factor for consideration and it was reported that a 3 h.p., 3 phase pump could be obtained in Saint John for $741 and if the town's own motors could be used the price would be $125 less. It was noted that the town motors did not have pressure power but simply transfer power and were designed for pressure on the lake.

Consideration also was given to a booster pump for the chlorine plant, a booster pump had not been in possession by the town but one was needed presently.

Chairman Morgan emphasized that Digby needs water - good drinking water. For a new 20" well was guessed to cost about $25000 with $20,000 for the well and $5000 for a pump. It was felt that the lay people on the Commission had not enough knowledge about to construction of wells to deal with the matter and on motion of Deputy Mayor Philip Robertson and Councillor Guy VanTassell, it was decided to ask Mr. Hooper to a meeting to explain facts about the proposition.

Other discussions on the water situation arose at the meeting. It was suggested that the water would be better if there would be a free flow of water rather than the water being run into the dam by means of pipeline, Mr. Robertson and Mr. VanTassell made the motion which was passed that the Commission revert, as of former years, to free flow.

Another suggestion was to obtain more water in the dam by increasing the height of the dam.

Before the meeting adjourned Tom Cleveland moved and Philip Robertson seconded a motion to order a pump for the chlorinating plant immediately to step up water pressure at the plant. It is hoped that with a few adjustments the lake might be drained enough to enable the Commission to thoroughly clean out the lake bed. The lake is located 550 feet above sea level. Presently there is seventy-five inches of water in the lake. It was suggested that the lake be drained and cleaned in the Fall and the possibility of drilling for water further up the mountain should be explored.

The Commission reported that the present use of water today is 500,000 gallons a day but there are times when 729,000 gallons are used. In general more water is being used as housing moves ahead. The possibility that No. 2 well deteriorated because of lack of use was given thought although it was mentioned that the wells had been installed on a temporary basis.

Conway To Get Sidewalk

After months of effort by the Conway population and by the Council of the Municipality of the District of Digby, the Council has finally had official word from the Department of Highways that the department will bear the entire expense for a sidewalk on one side of Warwick St. This was announced at the Council of the Municipality of the District of Digby held at the Court House on Tuesday presided over by Warden Wilfred Swift.

The Council on Tuesday made a request to have a centre line established on the Digby Neck road.

Councillors Arthur Rice and Walter McAlpine, Weymouth, had at previous meetings requested Council to designate definite areas in Weymouth for each of the Weymouth councillors. This was granted by regular motion at the June meeting. At Tuesday's (July 29) meeting the motion was rescinded.

The matter of the Digby County Ambulance Company and its request regarding finances was brought again before Council. Councillors decided to write to the proper government department requesting that the John Gray (D.C.A.C.) claims for services be processed on a 30 day basis to relieve the financial situation for Mr. Gray.

Other matters of business on Tuesday dealt with regular municipal and hydro finances.

sport and the Minister of Development which involved a request for the reduction in costs on the Princess of Acadia. The recommendations were to be forwarded before a new contract is negotiated with the C.P.R.

On motion of Councillor Guy VanTassell, and Councillor Chipman, the Maritime Municipal Training and Development Board were supported in their plans for a short training course for the staff including labor relations and other topics. Hope was expressed that a seminar be held in this district in or near to Digby.

It was announced that engineers would be here during the week from the Department of Environment regarding the control of sewage on Victoria Street. About five ornamental trees in town have been considered for felling for safety protection. Council decided to get estimates on the cost of felling these trees by engaging persons with the proper equipment.

Digby Fire Department was granted permission to hold its Fair in town on Labor Day.

Proceeds of $325 from the Thomas Shows who were in town for three days were passed over to the Digby Fire Department.

Council verified the appointment of Mrs. Ruth MacKenzie as stenographer at the town office in Digby.

McBride Will Beautify Boulevard

Digby Town Council on Monday evening gave permission for Graham McBride to plant and care for trees on the boulevard on the street near his residence. Mr. McBride offered to do this and the town authorized a thank you letter be forwarded to Mr. McBride expressing the town's appreciation. Town equipment will do any necessary digging of holes.

Councillor Gordon Ellis brought up the subject of the Charles McBride Memorial Park and its care. Councillor Guy Van Tassell said that the grass is kept mowed and lights are kept but that

Digby Boy Wins $100.00

A total of 24 International Nickel employees at Thompson, Manitoba, recently received $1,175 for suggesting ways to increase plant safety and production and effect improvements in mining, processing and maintenance operations. Refinery employee Dave McKay earned the top award of $310 for his suggestion to improve maintenance procedures in the Refinery by reducing the number of matte leach revert pumps.

Among others who received awards was Refinery shear shed employee, Charlie Hawkins, who received $100 for suggesting that the sharp-edged piece of the fork lift truck booms be ground to avoid excessive wear.

Announces Low Rental Projects

The office of the Hon. Barney Danson, Minister of State for Urban Affairs, has informed Coline Campbell, M.P. for Southwestern Nova that two projects have been approved in her constituency by Central Mortgage and Housing Corp. for the construction of two moderately priced rental projects. The two projects are located at Yarmouth and Digby, N.S. In Yarmouth, a $422,073 loan was maintained to Prospect Associated Ltd. for sixteen duplex apartments consisting of three bedrooms each. In Digby, a $310,630 loan to DEE Properties Ltd. for a two storey apartment building containing two-one bedroom units, nine-two bedroom units and seven-three bedroom units have been made.

It is hoped that the two

Oppose Bills 127 And 146

Digby Town Council on Monday evening at its regular meeting went on record as opposing Bills 127 and 146 which deals with a change in the tax base and also the town's fiscal year.

In opposing the Bills, the Council supported the resolution sent to the Premier Gerald Regan and the Cabinet and also to the M.L.A.'s by the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Board of Trade. The resolution is an outcome of the Graham recommendation that the government tax the commercial establishments, leaving the municipalities to collect taxes from personal property.

The letter from the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities regarding place of settlement for those receiving social services was tabled until the town's social service committee has an opportunity to study the matter.

Council passed payment for $54,763 in July bills presented by Councillor Gordon Ellis.

Investigation into the possibility that a service station and restaurant outside of town limits having been connected with the town sewer will be made.

Reports on deficit finances were given both for the Public Housing Authority and the Digby Hydro utility. In reference to the Housing, Councillor Ellis remarked "another charitable institution". Rental increases were discussed. Over expenditures in the Light utility amounted to $8,059.

Digby Decision On Fence

Randy Cummings of 131 First Avenue, appeared before Digby Town Council on Monday evening and placed a grievance about his property being used as a thoroughfare for walking and driving. His property is adjacent to a town parking lot near to the Digby Dairy property. Mr. Cummings felt he should have protection from this intrusion by the town building a fence. A fence previously there had been demolished.

Councillor William Reid moved a fence be installed by the town. This was seconded by Councillor Eileen Chipman but the motion was defeated with Councillor Gordon Ellis advocating that costs should be established and a type of fence decided upon. He told councillors that there was more to it than just making a motion and seconding it. Mr. Ellis felt that since he is on the finance committee, he had a right to question such matters. Another motion to refer the subject back to committee was passed.

Cummings wanted the town to advise him what he should do with trespassers in the meantime. It was suggested that signs be erected and to use his authority to keep trespassers off his property.

The R.C.M.P. who police the Town of Digby presented their report for the month of July which included 19 traffic charges. There were four charges under criminal code, thirteen under motor vehicle. There were 67 complaints laid and sixty-seven investigated. Six businesses were found unlocked. Three articles were lost and three recovered, one bicycle stolen and one recovered. Offences came under illegal possession of liquor, intoxication, narcotic control, property damage and theft. Fines collected for the town $465 and for the province $235. Mileage was 1922 miles.

Councillor Chipman requested a change in the records which listed the names of those who attended the meeting to review tenders for a fire truck. Since Councillor Gordon Ellis was not present she asked that his name be deleted.

A letter from the Hon. Peter Nicholson, Minister of Finance was read in reply to a request for tax exemption for the Digby County Power Board considering the Nova Scotia Power Corporation is relieved of taxes. The reply was in the negative.

Reports for streets and water were given by Frank Robinson, superintendent, which showed usual repairs to streets and sidewalks. A dead-end sign was suggested for the South end of Montague Row for the benefit of tourist vehicle traffic. Councillor Chipman also suggested attention be given to Mount Street between King and Queen Street.

Webster Dunn, parking meter attendant reported collections of $554.11 for July. There were 91 tickets issued of which 42 have been paid. Information on the license number is acquired from the Motor Vehicle Branch and letters written to parking offenders.

Councillors of Monday evening rejected a proposal of advertising solicited by Pipe Publications for in the Nova Scotia Golf publication.

By regular motion the Deputy Mayor Philip Robertson and Town Clerk Glen Pitman were authorized to attend a meeting of the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities in Yarmouth on August 20. It was hoped that others, too, might be able to attend and profit by the meeting.

On motion of Councillor Ellis, seconded by Councillor Reid, Council supported a resolution by the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade and forwarded to the federal Minister of Tran-

Reginald Comeau Fire Chief

The Digby Neck Fire Commission congratulated the Digby Neck Firemen for having the new fire truck in the Digby Natal Day parade. At the regular meeting, held on August 1st, it was decided to accept the generous offer, made by Mr. L. Robicheau, to store the truck at his Lake Midway garage. The Commission has been informed that the Firemen will prepare the section designated by Mr. Robicheau and will use this for storage and planning.

The Fire Department will meet on 2nd and 4th Fridays of each month, at the Sandy Cove Hall, for instruction and discussion. Chief VanTassell, of the Digby Fire Department, has consented to instruct and all are invited to attend these sessions. More volunteers are needed and it is felt that people should not wait to be asked to join their friends and neighbors in this most worthwhile cause.

The first appointment as Fire Chief, Russell McCullough, is staying with the Armed Forces for another year and will not be available. The Commission has appointed Reginald Comeau of Centerville to be Fire Chief.

The Digby Neck Fire Commission is now discussing the planning and building of a Fire Hall to house the truck and have a place for meetings. This will give the communities a place for recreation as well. Land is needed in the Lake Midway-Centerville area or the Mink Cove Little River area. This would have to be donated land because everything is starting from scratch. The Commission will do its best, all they need is help from the people. The Ladies Auxiliary has made the first step and they can use more volunteers.

The weekly bingo has become a reality and this week's winner of the door prize was Mrs. Joan O'Neil. A prize, donated by Wilson's Hardware was won by Frank Jeffrey. Doug Brown, 2nd Vice-President and Bingo Chairman, says he can use more volunteers on Saturday nights.

Meetings of the Commission are held on the 1st and 3rd Fridays of each month at the Sandy Cove Hall. If you have suggestions or ideas we are ready to listen. The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. on Friday, August 15.

Working Conditions Not Good

Town Clerk Glen Pitman, in his report to the Digby Town Council on Monday evening said that working conditions at the Digby Town office were not good. The hall is so dirty he said that it is difficult to wear good clothes. He had brought up the same subject at the June meeting when plans were made to have the committee in charge and its chairperson, Councillor Eileen Chipman, to look into the matter of renovations.

Councillor Chipman posed the question of what is being done about a new town hall. She felt the Town Hall Committee was hindered in their efforts because they have not been informed on plans made by the New Town Hall committee.

Councillor Chipman felt that it would not be wise to spend too much money on the old Town Hall. In the process or conversation someone remarked that the floors had been scrubbed but Councillor Chipman had not noticed it. She commented that it does not smell too badly.

Councillor Chipman reported that she had called a Town Hall Committee meeting twice but on both occasions Councillors Reid and Hazleton could not attend. She decided to put the onus on them and call a meeting when they advise her that they are ready.

Councillor Guy Van Tassell suggested that the Town Hall should have a janitor.

Mrs. Chipman brought up several suggestions which had formerly been made to utilize existing constructions for Town Hall purposes, such as the Court House, old Fire Hall, old Tourist Information Bureau.

Councillor Gordon Ellis felt that they should take measurements and go ahead with renovations and make the place look presentable. He would like to see a respectable place for people to go into and to work in.

EDITORIALS

WHY THE DISINTEREST?

A few weeks ago in the provincial press in Nova Scotia, an editorial indicated that a British medical specialist claims that he has found both the cause and the cure of one of the dread diseases which afflicts mankind. His reference was to rheumatoid arthritis. There surely would be many people to rejoice in such a find. As the editorial said, medical science usually moves cautiously. That cautiousness is what gives people confidence in medical sciences. We welcome both the discovery and the caution but that does not give us the right to be complacent.

Which all brings us back to a remark made by Mrs. Terry Turner, Halifax, formerly of Digby and now employed with the provincial Arthritis Society, when she asked "What is the matter when so few in Digby are interested in the Arthritis Society?" Mrs. Turner along with Austin Sewell, also employed by CARS were attending what was supposed to be a regular meeting of CARS in Digby. Mrs. Debbie Miller, president and Mrs. Barbara Mount, secretary, were on hand and possibly two or three others but not enough for a quorum, yet there are many people in Digby County afflicted with arthritis. There is no wonder that Mrs. Turner asked "What is the matter?" We probably could say the same thing about other organizations but we'll forget those for the time and deal with the subject at hand, arthritis.

In general 1974 was a good year for the Canadian Arthritis Society and also the provincial level of the society. Mrs. Turner felt that lack of communication might be the problem in Digby. An editorial in a weekly newspaper is one way to communicate. At least we can pass on information given to us by CARS and try to stimulate interest in the meeting which is to be called in September.

CARS says that persistent pain, stiffness or tenderness in one or more joints, especially the lower back or knees, is enough to warrant a visit to your doctor. Other symptoms include tingling sensations in the fingertips, hands and feet; an unexplained weight loss, fever, weakness, or fatigue. It is impossible for a patient to know if these symptoms have been caused by an unusual strain, arthritis, or some other disease. A doctor must conduct a general examination as well as x-rays and special blood and other chemical tests to make a proper diagnosis. Arthritis affects every family in Canada, directly or indirectly; directly where a member of the family has arthritis, indirectly because of the widespread suffering and economic waste it causes. Over one and a half million Canadians have some form of arthritis. Women are affected three times as often as men. Juvenile rheumatoid arthritis often strikes children. About 3000 children in Canada have R.A. Early diagnosis is crucial if disability is to be prevented. Another form of arthritis striking older persons is osteoarthritis. According to CARS, arthritis causes 9,000,000 days lost production annually and 457,000,000 loss in Canadian economy. It is a root cause of poverty, says CARS. The Society warns arthritis victims to be aware of quacks offering secret, quick "cures" for arthritis.

Though the meeting at the Knights of Columbus Hall (referred to above) was discouraging because of small numbers present there was one glowing bit of news. We understood that the K. of C. has taken on the arthritis project just as Lions, Kinsmen and Kiwanis and other organizations take on some specific project. But let us not forget that K of C needs a committee or Society to work through. Maybe at the September meeting there will be enough persons on hand for the meeting that Mrs. Turner won't have to ask "Why The Disinterest?"

Hodge Podge

How often would you like to have that For Sale advertisement run, we asked a customer. Reply, "If I know The Digby Courier, once will sell it."

Some hours after our editorial was set we see where our friend, Dr. Peter MacGregor, a specialist in rheumatic arthritis, Halifax, in a Chronicle-Herald story gives us no hope that a recent claim to finding the cause and cure for rheumatic arthritis is real. Thousands, he feels, have been given false hopes. That is all the more reason the Arthritis Society should have more support in Digby than it has. It needs helpers to spread the facts of arthritis to the hundreds of people right in our area who have arthritis in some form or other and in varying degrees of intensity.

Ever seen that sign at Digby Municipal Airport in Hill Grove which says DIGBY municipal airport? That isn't fair, so we hear. And, do you know that there might be some reason for complaint. You see, that Airport belongs to the Municipality of the District of Digby and their money paid for it. That is, the original purchase.

Digby town should not have the credit, according to some sources, in having the name Digby more prominent than municipal. And, quite naturally so. The Digby Municipal Council is proud of that Airport, at least, most of them are, and they can well be. When all that government grant gets set to work we'll be proud of the airport for miles around. Besides the grant, credit must be given to members of the Flying Club and the Municipal Airport Committee for all the $40,000 of work put on the project on their own. With the airport situated in Hill Grove, wonder if it will ever come to be referred to as the Hill Grove Airport. Hill Grove might like that.

Weaving in and out of traffic is not so much a sign of a good driver as it is an indication of ignorance of the danger involved, the Registry of Motor Vehicles states. Passing increases the chances of a crash.

You paid seven dollars for a trip in the air for Airport Days but you could fly around the field in that airplane parade entry for twenty-five cents.

This sounds as though it could be arthritis month. Or, is all the arthritis material on this desk just ushering, in the September program, Carscope, the C.A.R.S. magazine, tells of a lady 84 years old who learned to swim because she was told water exercises would help her arthritis.

Pass Swimming Tests

Young people attending the House of Roth Day in Clementsport have experienced a week of varied activity. Some of the young people have passed swimming tests under the direction of Gloria Roth and her staff. These swimming tests have been evolved by Mrs. Roth who has received her American Red Cross Director's at Springfield College Aquatic School in Springfield, Massachusetts, and her YMCA Instructor's in addition. In the House of Roth testing program, no child is passed that has not achieved proficiency in a particular skill.

Those passing tests this week are as follows:

Woe Beginner Skills: Jason and Raina Susnick, Bear River; David Benville, Upper Clements; Timmy Wamboldt, Clementsvalle; Beginner Skills: Alana Swansberg, Annapolis Royal; Heather Grant, Annapolis Royal; Keltie Van Binsbergen, Annapolis Royal; James Brennan, Bear River;

Junior Skills: Charlotte Peters, Sydney, N.S.; Shelley Spinney, Upper Clements; Verna Dunphy, Clementsport; Rory Rafuse, Annapolis Royal; Scott McGinness, Round Hill; Intermediate Skills: Michael Hudson, Clementsport; Mary Neish, Halifax; Sarah Bryan, Granville Ferry; Debbie Lincoln, Clementsvalle; Joey Tumulty, Annapolis Royal.

House of Roth Day Camp is full for the last three periods in August.

LIGHTNING AND THE ANGLER

One of my angling friends won't go fishing if an electrical storm is playing about - and not because he's afraid of getting struck by lightning. "The fish stop biting when there's thunder and lightning," he says.

The friend told me this the last time I was getting ready to go fishing for smallmouth. Off in the distance thunder rumbled and the horizon was blotted out by sullen black clouds. He cocked an ear and listen to the muffled sounds. "You won't get any smallmouth for sure," he said. "The thunder puts them down quicker than it does trout."

I laughed and went off fishing and didn't catch a thing. I couldn't even move the smaller black bass and usually they're always obliging and hungry. "I told you so," the friend said. "Smallmouth don't like thunder and lightning."

I've talked with other anglers who, like the friend, thought it was useless to fish around the time an electrical storm took place. I've actually seen fishermen pack up their tackle and start home at the first crash of thunder. They all told me the same thing: Electrical storms stop fish from feeding and they won't start feeding again until the air clears up.

The estimate that the repairman must have written authorization from you before proceeding with repairs costing more than the amount you state. Most TV repair warranties apply only to work performed and parts replaced or repaired. In case you have further problems with the set it is important to get and keep an itemized invoice giving a full description of parts and services rendered. Be a cautious consumer. Join CAC, 801 - 251 Laurier Avenue West, Ottawa, Ontario, K1P 5Z7.

I've always wondered if fishermen believed this or if they used this reason to leave the stream because they were leery of lightning. An electrical storm is a frightening, awesome thing, especially if it's witnessed close at hand and out in the open. It also happens to be dangerous.

But to blame poor fishing on an electrical storm, especially poor trout fishing, seems a bit far-fetched. Possibly it's true that thunder and lightning bothers fish and stops them from hitting, but I've seen little evidence that it does. What I suspect is that we all have a basic fear of or respect for electrical storms and this affects our performance as anglers. A jittery angler who ducks at every thunderclap and who continually watches the sky won't catch many fish.

To treat electrical storms with caution is the sensible thing to do. I'm not suggesting for a moment that you ignore lightning and keep on fishing if you happen to get caught in a storm. Get the boat to shore if you're on the water. And don't stand around in the open on a river bank. You're just asking for trouble.

What I'm saying is don't give up going fishing because an electrical storm just passed or because one is rumbling and flashing around in the distance. You could miss some good angling.

After all, a storm often changes the air temperature and the atmospheric pressure. These changes, if they follow a long and muggy spell of weather, are often what's needed to start fish on a feeding spree. A weather front moving in during the summer perks fish up and makes them more active. This period of activity may only last a short while, so you have to get right out then and fish.

I think it's only coincidence if you happen to get poor fishing around the time an electrical storm is about. Most of our thunder and lightning storms take place during hot weather when the fishing is generally poor anyway. So why blame a storm if the angling has been slow all along?

My experiences indicate that thunder and lightning doesn't affect angling results to any great degree. more times than not, I've had good fishing before, during and after an electrical storm. The good fishing times outnumber the poor by a wide margin.

I recall getting caught once on a meadow during a savage lightning storm. Being young and a bit perverse (read stupid, if you wish) I kept on fishing. It rained so hard during the start of the storm that in minutes the river turned a milky colour. But neither the thunder and lightning, nor the discoloured water stopped the trout from hitting. The water boiled with rising fish and I had little trouble catching them.

On another occasion a friend and I ran into a severe storm minutes before we reached the lake we were going to fish. That storm was so bad that it was impossible to drive, so we stopped and waited it out. While we waited, the lightning flashed and cracked around us, smashing once in a to a nearby field. Half an hour after it stopped storming we were on the lake catching fish. According to my notes, it was the best outing I ever had for smallmouth.

I caught my largest speckled trout while an electrical storm flashed and boomed in hills several miles away. And while a boy I recall crouching under a bridge during a storm while a few yards away an angler hooked, played and landed a large brown trout.

It's experiences like these that make me chuckle when anyone says the fishing was poor because of thunder and lightning.

A Thought Starter

(Rev. R.C. MacCormack) MANY RELIGIONS

We live in a complicated world. There are many highways crossing the Continent. There are many brands of everything from soup to automobiles. And, there are many religions. In fact, there are old established ones, and cosy little private ones, for doesn't many a person say, "I have my own religion?"

How, then, can a person know when he is right? How can he make the right choice? Is there one way which is right to the exclusion of all others?

Examine the religions, and look closely at the foundation of each one. There must be one that is right! Some are based on the opinion of a man or woman of recent times, whose ideas have been collected and the interest of a crowd captured. Hence a religion is born.

Others are ancient, having grown out of the thinking of the various sages of Asia. These invented religions, ancient or modern, are all dead or dying. Their leaders are dead, and their tombs are shrines. Followers of these cults are praying to and trusting in the memory and influence of the departed.

What of Christianity? The grave of Jesus is empty. Because He died and lives again we have proof of life beyond the grave. Life is in Him, and we get it from Him alone. Prayer in the name of Jesus Christ is an appeal to a living Person. Dead leaders cannot help.

Homemade and man-made religion is worthless. But, the promises of God in His Word become our platform of existence forever. Christianity alone offers a Saviour. Man can have life in Him, and in no other. "He that hath the Son hath life." 1 John 5:12

Between June 29th and July 8th I had the good fortune of attending a leadership camp at Acadia University sponsored by the Royal Canadian Legion Branches throughout the province.

Forty girls and thirty-eight boys were in attendance along with six councillors and two chaperones. The main idea behind a leadership camp is to bring out the leadership qualities that a person possesses and this camp certainly accomplished its objective.

On the first day, the councillors had planned the activities for us to do but from there on it was left up to us. We were required to teach a skill in some sport and prepare a game in our sports session. A speech of some sort would be in order for oral communication. In this part of the course we evaluated each other, picking out our bad points and things we could improve on. We were also videotaped while we made speeches.

The highlight of the day was our dancing session. At first everyone felt foolish because they couldn't square dance but after the first two or three days everyone got to know each other and relaxed. Square dancing was the big favorite among the camp.

We also learned the tango, cha-cha-cha, different folk dances etc.

Probe and encounter was very interesting. Someone in your group would have a topic and he'd throw it out then the group would hash it out. The topics ranged anywhere from driving to prostitution.

In the evening, different groups were selected to have a half-hour program for the entertainment. Skits, sing-songs, treasure hunts etc. were the main themes. At the end of the late evening program one of the councillors or one of us were required to give a personal evaluation of the groups performance.

Following the late evening program we were free until the 12 o'clock curfew. We usually went to Wheelock and danced which was a good way to get to know each other.

I can honestly say that I was a bit skeptical about attending this camp at first and the first three days I hated it but as I look back now it has been one of the most rewarding experiences that I have ever had. I would recommend it to anyone. If you have a chance attend!

In closing I'd like to thank the Royal Canadian Legion Branch No. 67 for sponsoring me at this camp.

If I had the chance I would attend a camp of this kind again without hesitation.

Thank-you again

Robert Dugas

"Summertime Serenade - 1975" At The College Sainte-Anne

For the past two years a group of twelve musicians wended their way through the towns and villages of the Maritime Provinces, Quebec and Ontario, giving performances of everything "From Bach to Bacharach"; sometimes in village halls, on the local church lawns with the odd performance at the major hotel resort. They gave performances at "Man and His World" in Montreal, at the Charlottetown Festival, the Toronto Lakefront Theatre, and at the Nova Scotia Festival of the Arts in Halifax.

This year's edition of "Summertime Serenade" promises to be bigger and better - they will confine their activities to Nova Scotia, giving over 60 performances in every part of the province. They will wind up their season with a week at the Nova Scotia Festival of the Arts, this making their third successive year at this event.

The project is funded by the Opportunities for Youth Programme with added assistance from the Nova Scotia Department of Recreation and the Adult Division of Continuing Education. Many other stores and companies are contributing towards the welfare of this venture.

SUMMERTIME SERENADE programme includes choruses from Nova Scotia, French Canada, Operatic Arias, Songs from the Broadway Shows, Folk Songs a one-act Opera, in fact, "Everything from Bach to Bacharach".

SUMMERTIME SERENADE will be at the College Sainte-Anne on Tuesday, August 19.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: What did you think of the 27-year-old waitress in Somers, Conn., who is filing suit because she was fired for refusing to shave the hair off her legs?

The waitress claims her boss is sexist and that a woman has as much right to have hairy legs as a man.

The boss says he asked the woman to remove the hair from her legs after several customers complained that it spoiled their appetites.

The waitress insists no customer mentioned a word to her about her hairy legs until her boss made a point of it. "Then," she said, "everyone began to eyeball me."

My husband, who is in the restaurant business, agrees with the boss. I'm on the other side. Where do you stand? -- The Battling Browns in Battle Creek

Dear B's: If the court says women waitresses have to shave their legs, they should require male waiters to shave theirs, also.

A sensible alternative would be a requirement that waitresses, and waiters who wear knickers or Bermuda shorts, should wear opaque stockings while on the job.

Dear Ann Landers: I meant to get this letter to you for Mother's Day. After reading the gripe from the woman who dreaded visiting her mother in a nursing home for an hour on Sunday, I decided to send it late as it is. Here's the poem I wrote a few years ago:

A babe in your arms, I warmed to your caresses. Too young to walk, my faltering steps were guided by your outstretched hands.

When confidence arrived, you gradually released your hold.

I did not understand. Maturity brought new life, without memories of your sacrifices.

I regret that now. As you grow older, come close so I can hold you.

Because now I remember. It is my turn to love, and guide, and support you, Mother.

I shall not fail. -- A Son
Dear Son: The poem is lovely and your signature a surprise. I expected it to be "A Daughter."

Thank you for sharing a beautiful sentiment.

Dear Ann Landers: My mother has given me permission to write for your advice. The problem is hers, not mine.

Mom's sis (I'll call her Aunt Lulu) lives out of state. She keeps making up lies about my mother's health in order to take long weekend's off work.

Aunt Lulu especially likes to leave her job on Thursday and return on Tuesday. She has told Mom, "If anyone from the office calls to check, please cover for me."

No one has ever called so Mom has never had to lie. Yesterday Mom received a beautiful letter from a woman who works with Aunt Lulu expressing concern over her "recent surgery."

She closed with, "Our priest said a special mass for you and I am praying daily for your recovery."

How should Mom respond? -- Everybody's Healthy Here

Dear Ev: Mom should write and tell the woman she appreciates her concern but the reports of her surgery have been grossly exaggerated. She should then instruct Aunt Lulu to find another alibi because she will no longer cover for her.

Are your parents too strict? Hard to reach? Ann Landers's booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How to Get More Freedom," could help you bridge the generation gap. Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

Bridesmaid was Miss

Janice Comeau, sister of the groom, who wore a long gown of pink and white. Her bouquet was yellow and white mums.

The speaker said the visitors really like the Islands and are having an enjoyable visit here. Mr. and Mrs. Pugh said the temperature at New Hampshire was 105 degrees when they left their home several days ago for N.S. They said they found the cool fog of the Islands refreshing - they could sleep in comfort.

Program For People Contact

Judge Victor Cardoza on Monday evening presided over a meeting at the Digby Mental Health Centre, the purpose of which was to discuss action toward setting up an outreach purpose, designed to initiate and maintain supportive contact with people who through age, physical or mental infirmity or other such cause are isolated from their fellows. Approximately 15 attended.

Discussion led to the action of having a committee formed to contact the clergy of the churches to get an estimated figure on how many elderly and isolated people there would be in Digby and ten mile radius. The people for whom the project is designed are not always easy to reach. They are not found in homes for the aged or in drop-in centres for the elderly. The need is great for this form of community service the group felt. A good percentage of the group on Monday evening were members of the Digby New Horizons group. On the committee to establish the need are Miss Gladys Sulis, Miss Elsie Robertson, Rev. George Bell who met on Wednesday afternoon to plan a starting point while others of the group promised support and involvement.

It is understood that if the need warrants the action a sizable grant can be obtained from government departments for funding the first eighteen months similar the New Horizons funding. The New Horizons program in Digby was sponsored by Mental Health-Digby.

It was estimated that twelve percent of the population are 65 years and over and some of these are isolated so extensively that they are not visited for weeks at a time. Hope is that these can be brought into the social context of life once again. Part of the procedure will include telephone communication, it is expected and the group anticipate volunteers in that capacity. Another meeting will be called shortly.

Canada Tournament Of Roses

The Secretary of State for External Affairs, the Honourable Allan J. MacEachen, is pleased to announce that Canada has accepted an invitation to participate in the 1976 "Bicentennial" Tournament of Roses Parade. The Tournament Festivities have been designated as the official "kickoff" event for the United States' 200th Birthday by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration. Canada, as a close neighbour and friend to the United States, will present at the Parade a bicentennial salute to the American people. The special "All Canada Salute" seven-unit section, a first in the Rose Parade history, will be composed of units sponsored by two Canadian cities, (Calgary and Montreal), two provinces (Quebec and Nova Scotia), and all Canada units sponsored by the Government of Canada.

A floral banner and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Musical Ride will head the Canadian Bicentennial Salute segment. The city of Calgary and the provinces of Quebec and Nova Scotia are sponsoring individual floats again while Montreal will enter a float in the Parade for the first time. Interspersed among the floats will be two bands-the first "All Canada Pipe Band" composed of 140 pipers and drummers from all parts of Canada- from British Columbia to Nova Scotia- and the "Scarlet and Brass" Canadian Forces Band composed of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry of Calgary and the "Vandoos" the Royal Twenty-Second Regiment of Quebec.

The famous Tournament of Roses Parade is telecast nationally in the United States and presents a unique opportunity to convey greetings from Canada to the people of every State in the American Union at the outset of the Bicentennial Year.

Proving that Digby and area summer events can be fun as well as money-raisers are the smiles on the faces of (left) Jeffrey Irvine and Peter Webb.

Sea Cadet Band Highlight Of Training

The stirring navy march 'Heart of Oak' is not the only number the Sea Cadet Band at CFB Cornwallis plays but it is always a favorite on the base and in the surrounding communities where the young musicians perform during the summer.

Sea Cadets from six provinces undertake basic or advanced training at the base and the 100-member band is described by camp commander, Commander D.A. (Don) MacIntyre, as "a major factor in helping to make Cornwallis an exciting cadet training centre."

The bandmen, 14 to 18 years of age, engage in a number of activities while under training, including leading the march past at morning divisions, participating in natal day parades, and the staging of the colorful ceremony of the flags and sunset ceremony.

A highlight of this summer's program for the band was a recent performance at nearby Fort Anne during a visit by Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau.

"The band's activities are of considerable value in drawing public attention to the important youth-training programs carried out each year at CFB Cornwallis," says Cmdr. MacIntyre.

The band's director of music, Lieutenant Commander Marcel Perrault of Montreal, has divided the band into two sections to ensure that those cadets requiring additional training will be brought up to their level of competency before the six-week course ends.

"Practice makes perfect" is emphasized by the band instructional staff. During the course the cadets have an opportunity to practice with members of the Maritime Command Band in Halifax.

"Being exposed to professional musicians helps to impress upon the cadets the importance of continued self-improvement," says Lt. Cmdr. Perrault.

In any given period between the first of July and the latter part of August there are approximately 600 cadets at Cornwallis from Nova Scotia, Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario.

Supported by base personnel the camp instructional and administrative staff carry out a program that includes, in addition to the band, six-week courses in junior and senior leadership, two-week basic training courses for new cadets, and advanced training for senior cadets serving as instructor callouts. Cmdr. MacIntyre, a supervising principal in civilian life at Wabush, Labrador, says the overall emphasis is on such activities as sailing, sports, physical fitness and survival training for senior cadets, all in a disciplined environment.

This summer for the first time approximately 200 female cadets are taking training at Cornwallis during the first half of August. Earlier this year cadet corps received permission to enroll girls, their training being similar to that of the male cadets.

The Sea cadet program is jointly sponsored by DND and the Navy League of Canada and is open to youths 13 to 18 years of age.

Management Takes

Over At Tel and Tel

Telephone service in Digby has been disrupted since shortly after midnight on Saturday morning. Craftsmen and linemen, about 14 or 15 at Digby Tel & Tel, are out on strike, following in step with other Tel & Tel employees around the province, the purpose being higher wages.

Craftsmen and linemen at the Digby plant take shifts on the picket line while operators and other employees respect the picket line and do not attempt to cross it. There are in the vicinity of 25 long-distance operators at the Digby office who are out in sympathy with the strikers. One regular operator has been on service during the striking period while management personnel from Halifax office assist in giving long-distance users partial service.

A spokesman on the Digby crew would not hazard a guess as to when the strike would be over. His hopes were for the end of the week or sooner but there was no way to judge the time of duration.

Only Jesus Can Bring Peace

Dr. Alexander Marks, internationally known, blind Jewish evangelist, from the British Isles, sponsored by the American Board of Missions to the Jews, will be preaching in this area at the Digby Wesleyan Church on Sunday, August 17, 1975.

Dr. Marks is a world traveler, he has visited the Middle East eight times and also many European Countries, the United States, and Canada. He has made a special study of world events, in the light of Bible Prophecy.

Dr. Marks lost his sight while preaching in a large Baptist Church in Canada several years ago. He has a guide dog and they both travel 20,000 air miles a year. The Evangelist, does not believe there can be any political solution to the Middle East problem, as the Soviet Union does not want peace! Neither does he believe there can be any military solution to the problem. Dr. Marks teaches that only the coming again of the Messiah, the Lord Jesus, can bring peace to the Middle East and to the Whole World. He will be preaching at 11:00 a.m. on the subject "Jews for Jesus," and again at 7:00 p.m. on the subject "The Middle East and World Peace." We encourage you and welcome you to come.

Stimulate To Writing

The Nova Scotia Department of Recreation has distributed 1,000 booklets designed to stimulate more interest in writing as an enriching form of leisure-time activity.

"Self-expression through writing has, historically, been one of man's creative outlets and we want to do all we can to help develop the potential talent we have here in this Province," said Recreation Minister A. Garnet Brown.

He said many of the Province's writers have used the power of words to preserve the Province's traditions and history, its folklore and lifestyle and, "through the artistry of the novel, they have enriched the leisure hours of many readers."

"We hope that this booklet will be a stimulus and inspiration to many Nova Scotians to embark on a new and enriching form of leisure-time activity, possibly even a career," he said.

The 16-page publication was prepared for the Department by Halifax freelance writer, Marjorie Major, who, for a number of years, has been teaching evening classes in Creative Writing and runs a correspondence course on the subject.

Mailed to more than 80 regional and branch libraries plus more than 225 school libraries, the booklet contains such practical material as when and how to tackle the job, what to look for and how to earn money through writing.

Contained in the back of the booklet is a coupon which, if filled out and returned to the Nova Scotia Department of Recreation, will give officials a good cross-section of what the general writing conditions are for writers and aspiring writers in the various communities across the Province.

People are also asked for their suggestions on what could be done to encourage

New Rector For Yarmouth

The Rev. MacAllister Scott Ellis, Rector since 1966 of the Parishes of Pugwash and River John, Nova Scotia, has been appointed Rector of Holy Trinity Parish, Yarmouth, N.S., by Archbishop W.W. Davis, effective October 1st, 1975. He will succeed the Rev. W. Eric Ingraham who will move to Bridgewater on September 1st.

Born in Glengarry County, Ontario, in 1927, he received his early education in Ot-

Meteorologist Revists Tiverton

Joe Calvert and family of Saskatoon, Sask., called on Mr. and Mrs. Earl Leeman recently and offered Mrs. Leeman a stick of gum if she could recognize him. She lost thirty years had brought about many changes.

The last meeting between the caller and Mr. and Mrs. Leeman was thirty years ago when they, Mr. and Mrs. Leeman were lightkeepers at Boars Head Light and Alan, Tiverton. During World War 11 Mr. Calvert, meteorologist with the RCAF at Greenwood, N.S. was stationed at Boars Head. From there he sent up weather balloons and sent in weather reports twice daily to Greenwood Air base.

During Mr. Calvert's recent visit the three compared conditions at Boars Head during the time of their residency and the present.

During that time, the dwelling at the light was situated on the cliff that dropped straight down into the Bay of Fundy. There was very little space in the dwelling and with four children, Mrs. Leeman recalled she had to ask their guest to sleep on a couch in their living room.

There was no hydro-electricity to the lighthouse.

The light and fog alarm system was operated manually or by means of a gas engine with an air compressor. Water had to be carried 200 yards from the tawa and Westmount, and was ordained in Montreal in 1952 following theological studies at Montreal Diocesan College and McGill University. After a three year curacy at St. Columba's Church, Montreal and eleven years at Mount Calvary Church, Baltimore, Maryland, he came to Nova Scotia in 1966.

A Priest Associate of the Order of the Holy Cross, he has served as Chairman of Theological Conferences of the American Church Union at Versailles, Kentucky. He also served as Chaplain to the Anglican Sisters of St. Margaret in Montreal and later in Baltimore.

During the latter part of World War II he enlisted in the Black Watch of Canada and is at present Chaplain of the Royal Canadian Legion in Pugwash.

An accomplished piper he is Highland Chairman of the "Gathering of the Clans", Pugwash, and a past President of the Nova Scotia Pipers and Pipe Band Association, and of the St. Andrew's Society in Amherst.

Since 1973 he has served as Regional Dean of Amherst Region II. In 1949 he married Barbara Caley of Montreal and they have four sons and one daughter.

well to the house regardless of weather conditions, summer and winter. This served for drinking purposes, cooking even the family wash which Mrs. Leeman had to do on the washboard-every day. Mr. Leeman carried food on his back about a mile and a half from the store in the village, and the children walked about two miles to school. Mr. Leeman said when the winds were heavy, he carried the children, one at a time from the house on the cliff to the safety and shelter of the trees.

M. r. Calvert said that on his recent return to the area he visited Boars Head. He said the first thing that he looked for was the familiar little outbuilding. It was no longer there. He seemed surprised to find two dwellings located there; one occupied by regular lightkeeper, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Outhouse and family, the other, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas, assistant lightkeeper. Both are located well away from the cliff's edge. Both are supplied with hydro-electricity and all modern conveniences. The wash board was discarded long ago. The fog alarm system and the light are both automatically controlled now. There is a paved road practically to the back door of the dwellings, and no more toting grub on their backs is necessary, all this is done by car or jeep owned by the men who dwell there.

The three felt there have been tremendous changes over the past 30 years. Looking back, Mr. and Mrs. Leeman who have their own small bungalow, complete with all the modern conveniences in the village, wonder how, as lightkeepers they ever managed to struggle through all those years of hard work and anxiety in bringing up their family of four. But survive they did, and so did Mr. Calvert who was so much a part of the Leeman family during the war years.

In departing from his friend's home, Mr. Calvert remarked to Mrs. Leeman, "I'm coming back in two years, maybe you will get that stick of gum yet!"

Mr. Calvert is married and has several children.

Sunday School Class Of 1930's Meet

A joyous reunion was held when Mrs. Myra (Ernest) Richardson of Digby, formerly Mrs. Myra (Lauristan) Small of Tiverton, N.S. entertained her former Sunday School class of the 1930's at her summer cottage at Porter's Lake, Digby Co.

The organized class, "The Willing Workers", and their teacher of the United Baptist Church at Tiverton, enjoyed the day reminiscing about the pleasant meetings they'd had and the plays they had presented in the church and in Tiverton community hall during those early years.

The class of nine are all living and attended the event with the exception of one, Mrs. Rebecca Murphy of St. Stephen, N.B. who was unable to attend. Those present were Mrs. Rosena Outhouse, Mrs. Stella Thimot, Mrs. Barbara Greenlaw, Mrs. Mary Sollows, Mrs. Gertrude Thurbur all of Tiverton, Mrs. Philda Leeman of Freeport, N.S. and Mrs. Belya Garron of Digby.

A delicious turkey dinner with salads, cakes, and fresh strawberries served by the hostess was greatly enjoyed by the guests. In serving her company, Mrs. Richardson used an heirloom of china dishes that have been in her family for several generations.

The ladies, feeling very happy to have met with and entertained by their teacher of girlhood days departed in time to catch the 8:30 ferry for home.

C.A.H.A. National Midget Development Hockey Camp 1975

(Robert Dugas)

Recently, I had the good fortune of being chosen by the Digby Minor Hockey Association to be their representative at the first National Midget Hockey Camp held in Canada. It was based at St. Mary's University in Halifax with some testing done at Dalhousie University.

I have attended other hockey schools but nothing can compare with this camp. Besides being a hockey camp it was also a leadership camp. We were required to give speeches, personal evaluations and other such facets of oral communications.

A typical day at camp would start at 6:30 in the morning with everyone getting up. At 6:45 we would go for a 2 1/2 mile run through Point Pleasant Park Fitness Trail. We'd arrive back on campus at about 7:30 and have a quick swim in the pool before 8 o'clock breakfast.

Following breakfast at 9 would be a lecture which would last until 11. In the lectures, the topics ranged from prevention of athletic injuries to a test on the rules of hockey. Lectures on goaltending, checking, skating, puck control etc., were heard. Films on the Team Canada '74 series were shown at this time as well as slow motion action shots of shooting.

After the lectures, some sort of athletics would be played, ranging from basketball to lacrosse or soccer or track and field.

The camp was not all work though. We had a cruise on the Bluenose II around Halifax Harbor and we could have seen a rock concert but we all fell asleep during a lecture and for our punishment we had to go to bed at 9 o'clock.

On the last day of the camp a banquet was held. A first and second all-star team were selected and I had the good fortune of being chosen to the first all-star team.

The instructors at the camp were a great bunch of guys. They were ready to help you out but they wanted the best you could give.

Being a first in Canada, this camp had a few organization problems but next year I am almost certain that the camp will be twice as good as this year. I know everyone had a great time that attended this camp and benefitted much from this experience. I know I did.

In closing I'd like to thank Digby Minor Hockey for selecting me as their representative. It was a very rewarding personal experience for me.

Thank you
Robert Dugas

Thoughts On Your Mind

(Maureen Nowlan)

We have been talking a lot about feelings: how to identify them, how to get in touch with them, the importance of this - what about if you want to experience a feeling?

It would be expected you would want to change from a bad to a good feeling. How

Displays At Admiral Digby Library

By Carolyn Brown

The Admiral Digby Library is a cool retreat on a warm summer day. Besides ample reading material for all tastes, a visitor will find two displays of photographs depicting the history of the area.

During the last week of May, a project, called Heritage Digby, was held at the Digby Baptist Church Hall, coordinated by Mrs. Anna Ruth Rogers and assisted by other members of the Admiral Digby Library Association. People in the area were most generous in loaning their antiques and historical items of photographs of Heritage Digby can be viewed in the front room of the library.

The second display of historical interest is in the kitchen of the library showing photographs taken by David Banks, teacher at Digby Regional High School of Project: Acadia.

On May 22nd, students of English: Room 227, grades XII, and XI and X presented Project: Acadia in and around the multipurpose room area of the high school.

The frame of reference about which the project was constructed, emphasized the various verbal and written aspects of English as they could be integrated with the study of Acadian History. The students were enthused about their work and became involved with many people within the community in developing their individual and group projects. The cooperation of the community was tremendous.

The photographs show some of the parts of the Acadian Village held during the afternoon. Students carded wool, made candles, prepared soap, churned butter, made spruce beer, hooked rugs, etc. The students quilting, were amazed when Inspector of Schools, Mr. Clifford Edwards, and Mr. Joe Casey, M.L.A., sat down and helped quilt too.

Other photographs show the evening stage productions when an original three-act drama prepared by grade XII students was presented based on the life of Father Sigogne, a priest in the southwestern part of Nova Scotia for 45 years. He was a man of many hats including that of being a lawyer, a judge, a carpenter, as well as a man deeply devoted to his religious duties. He had left France at the outbreak of the French Revolution and arrived in Halifax on the 12th of June, 1799.

John Rogers of grade XII played the part of Father Sigogne, A Man to be Remembered, throughout the project.

The grade IX class of Miss Regina Tate prepared the project part depicting the Micmac Indians. They constructed wigwams, made baskets and prepared food and herbs for medicinal purposes, as well as taking part in the stage productions.

Tools, a replica of an Acadian dyke, and other articles are also on display at the library.

Mrs. Carolyn Brown, coordinator for the Project: Acadia, has received word this week that the news clippings, and play script have been catalogued for preservation in the Public Archives of Nova Scotia. Dr. Bruce Ferguson, Provincial Archivist and Miss Phyllis R. Blakeley, Assistant Archivist were most kind in giving assistance to the students for their research work. The project was completely based on historical facts.

One of the highlights of the stage production of the Glimpses of the Life of Father Sigogne, was the part played by Charles Haliburton as Thomas Chandler Haliburton, a cousin of his great-grandfather.

The students used books and materials from the Digby Regional Library, Western Counties Branch and the Library of College Ste. Anne at Church Point. Visit the Admiral Digby Library and relive history.

Training For Public Health Nurses

By Elizabeth Hiscott

"The best public health nurses know when to lead and when to follow. They are able to judge when it is time to seek the advice of others, and their judgement depends on their training and experience."

This comment was made recently by Mrs. Lois Acres, supervisor of the Atlantic Health Unit of Nova Scotia Department of Public Health.

"In delivery of services to the public the nurses must not only be competent but possess leadership abilities," Mrs. Acres said. She added that the public health nurses must demonstrate their ability to understand and carry out assignments, to adapt nursing techniques to home situations, and to keep abreast of current professional developments.

Public health nurses are R.N.'s, currently registered in the province, who hold a public health nursing diploma gained in a year of study in a recognized university; or currently registered nurses who hold a degree in nursing which includes acceptable public health courses.

Certified nursing assistants who work under the guidance of the R.N.'s are graduates of a one year certified nursing assistants' course offered in a recognized hospital, and are certified by the Board of Registration of Nursing Assistants in Nova Scotia. They are trained to assist the public health nurses. All receive a week of intensive orientation when first hired by the Department of Public Health.

Nurses and their assistants work under supervision of one of the eight health unit directors and the unit supervisor. The health director is a medical doctor with post-graduate training in public health, preventive medicine and respiratory diseases. He works in cooperation with local Boards of Health in carrying out the policies of the provincial Department of Public Health.

The goal of the personnel of each health unit is generally to prevent disease and disability and to promote health. The nurses' goal is to provide the highest quality nursing services to all members of the community.

seminars and other meetings and use reports, books, journals and other material as working references and to keep up with changes in their field.

Public health nurses lead and assess the performance of others. This includes nurses who work with them for field experience. These are students from university and hospital schools of nursing and R.N.'s studying advanced nursing courses in universities.

All the public health nurses are evaluated periodically by their supervisors in regard to such assets and traits as their knowledge, its application, their initiative, ability to work effectively with a minimum of supervision, and their judgment shown in work situations.

In this era of new attitudes to health care delivery, 'extended' roles of nurses, emphasis of health education for the public, and stress on preventive health care, the public health nurses have accepted the challenge of change and are coping with the new responsibilities it presents.

READY FOR SCALLOP DAY

The stage is set for the celebration of Digby Scallop Day on Saturday, August 23.

Large crowds are expected for the various events scheduled for the day largely attributable to financial and promotional assistance provided by Shell Canada Ltd. Financial assistance has also been received from the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade.

The day's activities will start off around 9 a.m. with guided tours visits to local fish plants in the town which will continue until about 11 a.m. A visit to a herring weir was planned but this was cancelled because of transportation problems.

Scallop Day will be of-Sandy Cameron, Provincial Fisheries Minister. This event will take place at the Bandstand and will feature the ceremonial opening of a scallop by Mr. Cameron.

This will be followed at 11 a.m. by a band concert at the same location.

One of the major attractions during the festivities will be the scallop shucking contests which will take place in the fishermen's wharf area between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. Clam shucking and fish filleting contests are also planned for the same location within the mentioned hours.

From noon until about 2:30 p.m., canoe and sailboat races will be held. The sailboat race will begin in front of the town and end in the same location. The competitions will be divided into various classes. A dory race is also a probability.

From 9 p.m. to 12 p.m., a dance will be held at the Evangeline Shoppers' Mall parking lot with music provided by the Bonded Stock.

Throughout the day, scallop dishes will be featured at local restaurants, motels and hotels.

This is the first attempt by the Annapolis Basin Tourist and Recreation Council at sponsoring such an event. But organizers hope the event will continue and expand in coming years.

Memorial Service Scheduled For August 25th

A memorial service commemorating the founders and workers in the United Church of Canada, Smith's Cove is to be held on Sunday, August 24th, we understand. The church, though still a possession of the Valley Presbytery of the United Church of Canada has been made into a museum under the sponsorship of the Smith's Cove Historical Society. Dr. Corston of the Atlantic School of Theology will be special speaker.

The museum is open each day of the week from 2 p.m.

to 4 p.m. with the curator being Adrian Potter, formerly of Deep Brook and a summer assistant to the Anglican clergy of the area.

His education was obtained at Kings College, N.S. and continues at Trinity College in Toronto. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Potter, Deep Brook. He has experience in the work at the museum, having been curator at Old Saint Edwards, Clementsport and at museums in Wolfville and Grand Pre.

Total 249 Exhibits

Two hundred forty-nine exhibits were judged at the successful Flower Show held on Tuesday August 12, by the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society.

Mrs. Louise Warne was awarded the prize for the best arrangement in the show and Mrs. Edith McClearn took that of the best specimen. Popular vote went to the arrangement of Mrs. H.H. Oliver, Smith's Cove.

The attractive baskets of flowers at the entrance to the Digby Fire Hall where the Flower Show was held were provided and arranged by Mrs. Hubert Warne. Mrs. Louise Stephen and Miss Edith Wightman provided the table arrangements. A successful show was planned by a committee who selected interesting subtitles for the fourteen categories, which provided wide scope for imaginative expression for those who participated in the decorative arrangements section.

The Society's Year Book, containing the historical record for activities for 1974-75 was on display at the Show after having been judged at the Nova Scotia Garden Club Association Convention where it received fifth place.

On this occasion the Judge for the Specimens was R.S. Morton, and for decorative arrangements, Wilfred Armstrong. In the Junior Division Mrs. Jack Harris, Bear River, was the Judge. The contribution of the young people toward the success of the Show was much appreciated. Miss Nancy Reid assisted with registering for the Juniors, Girl Guides and Brownies and others helped in serving afternoon tea.

Henry (Hank) Lewis shows a visitor the completed pieces of pottery on display at his studio in Barton.

Hank Takes To Pottery

Another young Digby County native who has seen much and gained much knowledge in his wandering miles from Digby, has returned to his native County because he feels there is the very best quality of life here. Here, he told The Digby Courier interviewer, you are taken as you are and become friends.

Henry (Hank) Lewis Jr., formerly of Rossy, now of Barton, N.S., has travelled across Canada to the West Coast, to New York, Florida and other Southern United States, to the Bahamas where he spent five years and he also lived in other Caribbean countries. It was particularly in Florida where he took up the art of pottery and pursued it to practically a professional standard. He served a term of apprenticeship following this course and at Halifax.

A former Digby Regional High School student whose strong point was debating, he purchased the Parker Lamberton house in Barton and moved there in March of this year. Prior to that he had connections for two years with the St. Mary's Bay Inn. The pottery studio at his new residence was ready by the first of June and opened on June 15.

Mr. Lewis has displayed his work at the Western Nova Scotia Arts and Crafts show, and will be displaying it at the Tuna Festival and anticipates showings in Ottawa and Halifax later in the Fall. He is a regional representative for the Nova Scotia Designer Craftsman Association for Yarmouth, Shelburne and Digby areas. Inquiries from craftsmen who would like to join are welcome.

The potter is qualified and willing to teach beginners on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings but the number that can be accommodated is limited. Visitors are always welcome and "Hank" takes pride in showing visitors around and explaining the pottery processing.

Pottery to Mr. Lewis is definitely an art, like painting, music and other arts, skills and crafts. You have to put yourself into it and interpret on your own to accomplish what you want. He explained that the pottery craft is an extension of your feelings. To him, the finished piece is real, it expresses achievement and satisfaction. Nothing pleases him more than to see his craft being put to use in someone's home, he remarked. He'd much rather see it put to use than to see it set on the shelf. He likes to produce the more durable and practical pieces rather than the more decorative pieces and stresses quality at every turn.

"Hank" Lewis explained to the interviewer on Friday and demonstrated his work to considerable depth and making it interesting and fascinating even to such a novice as the interviewer. To attempt to interpret the process to the readers without the practical demonstration would not be discernable except to those who already have some instruction in pottery. The craftsman said it took about two weeks after the beginning of an item to its completion.

Local clay cannot be utilized for Hank's craft. It lends itself to earthenware. He is strong on his insistence of good clay. He informed the interviewer that temperatures of 1700 and 2300 degrees were used in forming articles of stoneware and glazed pottery respectively. He advised against a rapid change of temperature in process. He demonstrated and explained "throwing," tooling, wedging and the art of bisque and informed on the cause of bubbles which create explosions in the kiln as well as to the difference of placing stoneware products and glazed products in the kiln.

On Dean's List

On hundred and thirty-five students were recently named to the Mount Saint Vincent University dean's list, according to Dr. Walter Shelton, academic dean.

Pines Golf Match On ATV

The Pines Hotel has been advised by Mr. Jim Hill, producer of ATV's programme "SPORTS SHOW" that the recent film shot on The Pines Hotel Golf Course of the golf match between sportscaster Leo MacIsaac and our assistant pro, Lyndon Garron, will be shown on Saturday, August 23 at 7:00 p.m. on Channel 6.

Of special interest to the adult members of The Pines staff will be Mr. MacIsaac's 10-minute interview with our retired golf pro, C.D. "Nick" Nickerson.

Closure Of Herring Fishery

Effective 8 a.m. Friday, August 15, fishing for adult herring, that is herring nine inches and over, by purse seine and mid-water trawl gear will be prohibited in ICNAF (International Commission for the Northwest Atlantic Fishery) Divisions 4XW (b), Jack Creeper, Acting Director General, Fisheries Management, Maritimes Region announced today. In making this announcement, Mr. Creeper said this prohibition applies to the waters of the Bay of Fundy and its approaches, including the Grand Manan Bank area as well as those waters off southwest Nova Scotia and Eastward to Beaver Island, Halifax County and that it applies to purse seine and mid-water trawl gear and does not apply to the gill net fishery or the Bay of Fundy weir fishery.

Mr. Creeper indicated this action was necessary because Canada's ICNAF quota of 68,500 metric tons for the area was about to be reached. The overall herring quota for ICNAF division 4XW (b) is 90,000 metric tons which was established at the annual meeting of ICNAF held in Halifax in June of last year.

A quota was first established for this fishery in 1972 when members of ICNAF became concerned about the decline in stock abundance. The 1972 quota was 65,000 metric tons, with Canada's share being 37,500 metric tons. In 1973, the quota was raised to 90,000 metric tons and Canada's share was 57,000 metric tons. In 1974 and 1975 the overall quota remained at 90,000 metric tons and Canadian negotiators were successful in having Canada's share increased to its present level of 68,500 metric tons.

Among them was Miss Anne Marie Belliveau of Clare. Her average mark was 87.8.

"To attain this honour, a student must achieve an average of 80 per cent or better in five subjects. Within the academic standing, a student may receive first or second class honors."

First class honours is awarded to students who have obtained grades of 90 per cent in five subjects, with no subject grade below 70 per cent. Second class honours is achieved by those students who have an average of 85 per cent in five subjects with no subject below 70 per cent.

Old Annapolis Road Hiking Trail

D.W. Clark, President and General Manager of Bowater Mersey Paper Company Limited, Liverpool, has officially opened the Old Annapolis Road Hiking Trail on Company lands near St. Margaret's Bay.

Mr. Clark explained that the trail was built by Bowater in an effort to allow the people of Nova Scotia to hike on lands owned and managed by a newsprint manufacturer. He said that the Bowater trail project was perhaps the first of its kind undertaken by private industry in Nova Scotia.

The trail was begun in May and was originally designed to follow the route of the Old Halifax Road built after the War of 1812. However, as construction got underway, the trail route was redesigned to include wooded areas to illustrate the Company's land management techniques. As a result, the trail route includes the Old Annapolis Road as well as several abandoned logging roads. This gives hikers an opportunity to see trees in several stages of regrowth and also travel through virgin stands of timber. For those hikers who would like to camp overnight, the Company has set aside an area near Rafter Lake which can be used as a campsite.

Although the Old Annapolis Road Trail is the first project of its kind for Bowater Mersey, two other Bowater mills in the Southern United States have had a great deal of success with both hiking trails and pocket wilderness programs.

With the high number of forest fires this summer, Company officials at Mersey are concerned about the possibility of fires in the St. Margaret's Area. However, they felt that dedicated hikers are the best people to travel in woodlands since they generally appreciate being given an opportunity to travel in the woods and understand the problems of forest fire prevention.

Hodge Podge

THE BIG THING FOR DIGBY COUNTY

Practically half the Nova Scotia Exhibitions for 1975 have been held. Others continue until the October 11 to 18 dates when the Atlantic Winter Fair in Halifax is the last one for the season. Among those still to be held is the Digby County Exhibition which begins next week on Wednesday, August 27 and continues thru August 30. This is the big thing for Digby County. There can be fairs and carnivals, natal days and all sorts of events but the four day exhibition is something else again. It has its own unique purpose in the scheme of things and can play a tremendous part in the life of each community in Digby County.

With the risk of repetition after repetition we once again try to impress on our Digby County people that this is a Digby County exhibition and to attain the most it can offer, the exhibition requires the involvement of all Digby County people and not just those who live in the vicinity of the buildings constructed in Bear River.

The Digby County Exhibition at Bear River remains for the most part an agricultural or farming event with a few shows and special entertainment thrown in for variety sake and to help maintain the interest of visitors from all walks of life. Art, homemaking, business and sports are all included in the four day fair but predominately it is farming oriented.

Probably there has been no time when the agricultural industry or farming needed to take prominence more than right now when such a large percentage of the world's population cannot find enough to eat! Something should be done to encourage more agricultural production. There are many ways this can be done but let us give the exhibition credit for contributing in some measure to building up the agricultural industry. Exhibitions have been referred to as the showcase of agriculture. This is correct and it is good. However, to be a showcase with that being the end of its usefulness would be neglecting its prime purpose. From this showcase farmers and friends learn how to improve their own efforts. The exhibition provides an opportunity to converse with friends who have the same problems to overcome a way to get qualified information from those who know.

Digby County seems to be going ahead in agriculture of late. Younger people are becoming more interested. In fact the interest is high and their aim seems to be to progress through the aid of workshops, seminars and field days. More is being heard from the Digby County Federation of Agriculture which embraces farmers from one end of the County to the other. There could be many exhibits for the Digby County Exhibition from the entire area.

The Digby County Exhibition is here on Wednesday. It has a purpose. It needs support. It needs to be progressive and that means it needs your help. The Digby County Exhibition is the big thing for Digby County. It can be still bigger when everyone shares the load.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Mrs. Wallis:
I am writing this letter to the Courier to inform the people of Digby and Annapolis Counties of an important event which took place 57 years ago on August 8th, 1918. As the result of this event Canada gained Commonwealth status in the British Empire. I refer to the Battle of Amiens which took place on 8th August, 1918 and lasted three days.

The Canadian Corps consisting of 50,000 Infantry and 30,000 Artillery led the attack together with 100 tanks, 2500 guns assisted by Australian, New Zealand, and French Units on a 12 mile front. The attack started at 4:30 a.m. and was a complete surprise to the German. It was a well kept secret and the beginning of the end for the Germans, 60 days later they were forced to sign an Armistice ending

W.W.I.

On the first day we drove them back 9 miles, the 2nd day 6 miles, and the third day 3 miles.

The 85th Nova Scotia Highlanders were among the Infantry of the 4th Division and took a full part in the Battle.

I happen to be one of the survivors of the 85th Br, together with 23 others in Digby and Annapolis Counties.

During the Battle the Canadian Corps took 19,000 prisoners, 240 artillery guns, 1100 heavy machine guns with a large number of wagons, horses, trucks, equipment and supplies of all sorts including food which we didn't think much of: mostly sausages, fat pork, black bread, (hard as rocks) and coffee made of burnt barley.

While we were completely successful in the Battle of Amiens we did not escape without some losses. The

- David Wong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Soon Wong, is being congratulated on receiving an $800. scholarship to study at University. Everybody is proud of David and of all other ambitious students like David in Digby County. But, do you know, we just don't believe that anyone can be more proud and happy of David as David's grandfather, the well known Warren Wong, who is a friend of everybody in Digby.

- We again hear from Avard Lewis (now age 86) of Saint John telling us to be sure to keep his Courier going. He'll see we are paid. He was a Freeport boy, he reminds us and he does enjoy the old native Digby paper.

Mr. and Mrs. John Aikens, Gimsby, Ontario, were visitors in Digby and took a trip to Long Island and Brier Island on Tuesday. This is the Aikens' third trip to Nova Scotia and while here Mr. Aikens takes the opportunity to search for ancestry names in papers, books and files. Mr. Aikens relates the story that in his second visit here, he was given a pair of clams to take home. He put them on the CPR wharf to pick up when boarding the Princess of Acadia. Mr. Aikens later found himself at the new wharf at Rattling Beach and the clams were on the old CPR wharf. Police came to the rescue, including the CPR police and the clams arrived just in time to accompany Mr. Aikens across the Bay. That is, by holding the boat for a few seconds. The clams never did arrive in Gimsby. Mr. Aikens was given small boxes by the boat staff and passengers helped themselves to the clams until they disappeared.

We've said all anyone can say about the state of affairs in Digby. On the whole we would appear better to the eyes of our neighbouring communities and maybe further afield if we could boast of someone jumping at the opportunity to be Digby's Mayor. But, don't let anyone get the erroneous idea that the place is falling to pieces. Deputy Mayor Philip Robertson is doing a good job in keeping command of the ship. But, there is one short to vote while he occupies the highest seat of honor. Better try again. Trying was never beaten.

When the 85th Memory Club was organized in 1919 we decided to hold our annual meeting on 8th August or the date nearest to it. At one time we had over 3000 members on our rolls. Time has done what the result of fighting could not do. That is carry off our members. We had 63 members last Saturday Aug. 16th at Acadia University and approximately 150 all told. Time has taken it's toll. 4 of the members present were 90 yrs. of age and I believe I was the youngest, 77 yrs. I am listed in Sept 15th, 1915, age 17 years. Mrs. Allison Borden, the wife of our first Commanding Officer, Lt. Col. Allison Borden, was present. She is 90 years old but you would never know it from her appearance and manner.

One never sees a line in the papers about what happened 57 years ago which is not surprising as only about 10 percent of the population of Canada can remember way back to 57 years ago. Perhaps it is just as well - as long as there are a few remaining veterans of W.W.I still alive we will remember and cherish the memory of comradeship shared and experienced so long ago.

Sincerely yours,
Kenneth P. Harris

Band Gets Two Grants

Joe Casey M.L.A. presented J. L. Dakin on behalf the Digby Civic Band, reorganized under the name of Digby Community Band with a cheque to the amount of $1000 from the Department of Recreation and one for $2600 from the Department of Education.

The grant from the Department of Recreation is an advance on a total grant of $2500 to be used for the purchase of band instruments. The Education grant is for the operating budget of the 1975 - 76 band season.

Registration in the band in 1974-75 exceeded instruments available. It is hoped that with the grant it will be possible to increase band membership for the fall opening to include the regular members and others who have indicated their wish to become members or anticipate doing so.

THE WATERS OF NOVA SCOTIA

With over 3,000 lakes in excess of 20 acres, at least 100 rivers and countless brooks, finding a fishing spot in Nova Scotia shouldn't be difficult. In all, the province has an estimated total of 655,000 acres of lakes, rivers and estuaries.

Queens has the largest percentage of water of any county. About 14 percent of its total acreage is under water. Yarmouth County is next highest with 9.8 percent acres of water. Halifax, the county with the highest total acres of land, has 7.8 percent of it under water.

When you talk about salt water fishing, Nova Scotia's rugged, handsome shoreline has to be considered. The irregular coast of the province has an estimated shore of close to 5,000 miles.

That's a lot of shore and a lot of area to fish.

"The province has two badly polluted rivers—the Cornwallis and Annapolis, both in the Annapolis Valley area and both the victims of sewage dumped from valley communities. The clean-up of these rivers has been made a Centennial project, and pilot studies have already been made into the problem." So read a press release in the Chronicle-Herald on April 12, 1966. And at the time it sounded like someone meant business when it came to striking at pollution in these rivers.

Now it's nine years later and what has been done? Some effort has been made to clean up the Annapolis but the Cornwallis is still as badly polluted as it was in 1966. If anything, it's worse.

Little has been done about pollution in the Cornwallis River. Unless you want to do the occasional study by university students and municipalities. And, of course, the odd press release now and then in the daily paper.

The best striped bass areas in Nova Scotia? You can almost take your pick since striped bass fishing is found along just about every stretch of shoreline in the province. However, striped fishermen tend to congregate more along the shores of the Annapolis and Minas Basin and Northumberland Strait. The waters of these areas are among the best when it comes to producing salt water bass.

The white perch is one of the most abundant fresh water fish in the province. Yet efforts to interest anglers in it have failed miserably. The brook trout is foremost in the angler's eye, while the perch is low on the list of angling prospects.

Only complete disappearance of the brook trout will change this.

Two of our popular trout, the rainbow and the brown, were introduced to the province. Of the two, only the brown has survived without continual restocking. The highly adaptable brown trout has taken over wherever it was placed and has spread out without assistance from man. The rainbow, on the other hand, is unable to reproduce in our lakes and has to be restocked year after year.

Suitable brook trout waters are supposed to be slowly disappearing from the province and an obvious result should be a drop in the season catches of brookies. But according to the department of lands and forest, catches have been increasing in recent years. Of course at the same time number of anglers has been increasing—license sales went from 73,110 in 1970 to 84,000 in 1974—and this probably has a lot to do with increased catches. A more vigorous stocking program could also have something to do with it. Last year the department raised a released 93,440 speckled trout.

Almost anyone who has angled in fresh water in Nova Scotia has tried for brook, rainbow and brown trout. But what about seago, grey trout and pickerel? These species are fresh water inhabitants of Nova Scotia, yet they're unfamiliar to many of our anglers.

Seago or landlocked salmon are native to the province and are found in the various lakes connected with the Shubenacadie Grand Lake watershed. Also a native, grey trout (lake trout or togue) are found in scattered lakes in Halifax and Lunenburg counties. Grey trout are gradually vanishing from the province.

Pickercel are said to be an introduced species but there is disagreement about this. The story goes that they occur naturally in some provincial lakes.

Regan Receives Proclamation

Premier Regan receives a proclamation drawing attention to women who have pioneered the development of Canadian aviation. The proclamation from Prime Minister Trudeau is addressed to all provincial premiers and has been flown to them in turn by women pilots in recognition of International Women's Year. Pilot Debby Burleson of Halifax, flew the proclamation from New Brunswick and presented it to the Premier. (N.S. CIC Photo)

Mr. Outhouse, groomer, performed the double ring ceremony with Mr. Robert Johnson officiating. The organist was Mrs. Richard Welch and the soloist was Mrs. James McDormand.

The bride, escorted up the aisle by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white polyester crepe. The dress had a fitted bodice, with a high neckline trimmed with lace, empire waist trimmed with daisies and a full skirt. The straight sleeves were made of the same material as the dress and were trimmed with lace. The elbow-length gloves of tulle also had lace trim. The bride carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The bridegroom wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and a white bow tie. He carried a white carnation in his buttonhole. The bridesmaids wore a floor-length gown of white polyester crepe. The dress had a fitted bodice, with a high neckline trimmed with lace, empire waist trimmed with daisies and a full skirt. The straight sleeves were made of the same material as the dress and were trimmed with lace. The elbow-length gloves of tulle also had lace trim. The bridesmaids carried a bouquet of white carnations.

The bride and groom were married by Mr. Robert Johnson, Minister of the Gospel.

sister of the bride, and Miss Susan Outhouse, sister of the groom. They wore floor length mint green gowns of polyester crepe and floppy hats to match. They carried baskets of daisies.

The best man was Mr. Lloyd Ossinger of Tiverton. The ushers were Mr. Leigh Hazelton of Cheggoggin, Yarmouth Co., and Mr. Frank James Jr. of Marblehead, Mass.

Mrs. Tim Joys and Mrs. Roger Outhouse served the bride's table. Mrs. Jack Dakin, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Boyd Outhouse, aunt of the groom, poured tea and coffee. Misses Sharon and Joan Dakin were in charge of the punch bowl.

For going away the bride chose a white polyester dress with jacket and wore a corsage of yellow roses. The happy couple motored to Marblehead, Mass. They will reside in Westport.

The marriage of Virginia Dale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cereno McCallough, Little River, to Gregory Allen, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Cereno McCallough, Little River, to Gregory Allen, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Perry Jr., Tiverton, took place in Centerville, Digby County, Church. RAIN HALTS OPENER IN ERIE'S "A" quarter finals. The first place Lions and the third place K of C started their quarter-final on Monday, August 18th, only to have it called off by Umpire Stan Locke in the top of the second with the K of C at bat and the score tied 1-1. The game has been rescheduled for Thursday, August 21st, at 6:15 p.m. Incidentally, this clash between the Haines coached Lions and the Vantassel coached K of C should be a real thriller—let's get out and support these teams.

NOTE TO PARENTS

It has become increasingly hard for the coaches to field full teams and writer would urge parents to have their lads attend practices and games, especially since these lads gave their names to play at the first of season.

Hope Fellowship Summer Program News

For the past couple of weeks, the Hope Fellowship Summer Program has been busy trying to establish activity centers in the Weymouth and Clare areas.

The members of the program in Clare have received a warm response and therefore, they have called a public meeting for the formation of a new branch of the Canadian Association for the Mentally Retarded. This meeting will be held at the Clare District High School on Tuesday the 26th of this month. Guest speaker for the occasion will be Mrs. Dresher of Adult Services. The meeting will be chaired by Steve LeBlanc, president of the Digby Branch for the Mentally Retarded. All interested people are urged to attend.

Meanwhile, the rest of the members have been working diligently to arouse interest in the development of a training and activity center around Weymouth. We have been talking with various groups and individual citizens throughout Weymouth and surrounding district. It appears now that we may have two possible locations for our new centre. However, we desperately need volunteers to carry on a program for the winter months for the Mentally Retarded in this area. We will provide the necessary training and we will aid in the development of the programs for the trainees. But our job finishes at the end of this summer.

Therefore, sincere workers are needed!! We have located some interested citizens, but we need people to take over the administrations of the centre. If you are interested, please do not hesitate to call us at 245-5391 or write us at C-o Hope Fellowship Activity Center, Conway, Digby.

On Wednesday, August the 27th, there will be a meeting at the Digby Activity Center Conway with Mrs. Dresher from Adult Services as guest speaker. Any people from the Weymouth area who are interested in helping to establish a center in Weymouth are urged to attend this meeting.

Hope Fellowship Summer Program Digby.

Thoughts On Your Mind

Many people ask me how they can relax. This is a difficult question since everyone I know relaxes in a different way. Often the easiest way to cope with feeling tense is to get out of the situation, but that isn't always either practical or beneficial - people who are always running away from life don't necessarily enjoy it.

Your bad feelings often make you lose sight of your abilities and strengths. Here's where differences in people's abilities to "cope" come in. Some people have such a strong faith that they can cope with huge amounts of pressure or tensions. For example, someone with a strong belief in God will amaze you with their strengths in tense situations. Someone who has a fairly good awareness of his own abilities (self-knowledge) may know that even though a situation may be tension-producing, they will come out of it okay. This person has resources and positive experiences upon which to rely: they have coped before and can remember those times in a tense situation.

It seems that the first thing to remember in facing a bad feeling is that fear may be there. That fear needs to be realistic - get rid of the unreal fears. Just because your boss is angry with you for the 4th time in one day, doesn't mean you are going to be physically attacked (usually!). The real fear may be that you are a failure. Start remembering all your successes in this job and other jobs. Start remembering the people around who are happy with you - Remember all those who respect your abilities. Remember that you are human and not perfect but that you can learn from mistakes. Remember that you boss isn't a grizzly bear but a person-just like you.

The fear may be that you will lose your job - Again, look at it realistically - employers don't fire people on hasty conclusions unless there is something more than your mistakes today affecting his decision. You must prove to him efficiency - get hold of yourself: take some deep breaths, walk around the office to take a break from the intensity, organize what to do next and cancel out all other thoughts. Do it well - you can and pat yourself on the back.

During the strike...

TELEPHONE SERVICE WILL CONTINUE.

Work stoppage by Telephone Company employees will not mean a breakdown of telephone service. However, since tasks of these and other employees who may be affected will necessarily have to be assumed by supervisory personnel, there will undoubtedly be problems in maintaining the normal level of telephone service throughout the Province. We ask your co-operation and indulgence.

Here's how your service will be affected:

LOCAL CALLING:

There will be no effect on the majority of local calls.

EMERGENCIES:

Since it may be difficult to reach the "operator", you are asked to please note fire, police, hospital and other emergency numbers and enter them in the spaces provided in the front page of your telephone book. Should the situation arise that the assistance of the "operator" is an extreme emergency, please contact your local police department or RCMP detachment, who will have special direct lines to the operator boards.

LONG DISTANCE

- Operator Service calls (such as credit card, reverse charge, etc.) will encounter some delay. No person-to-person calls can be handled.
- Use only Direct Distance Dialing, where available. Because the Direct Distance Dialing network will not be affected, your calls should go through without delay.
- For long distance numbers in communities not shown in your directory, dial Universal Directory Assistance — just dial "1", then the area code (if you're calling to points outside Nova Scotia or PEI) and then 555-1212. There's no charge for this service.
- Pay Phone and Hotel/Motel calls. Because of processing difficulties, only calls charged to credit card, a third number or reversed-charged calls can be accepted. No "time and charge" services, and no person-to-person calls will be handled.

TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICES:

There will be no interruption of the Company's telecommunications services for television and radio stations throughout the province. The broad range of other telecommunications services, primarily for business and government, such as Dataroute, Faxcom, TWX, Mobile Exchange Service, Defence Networks, data transmission, etc., will be maintained.

GENERAL SERVICE:

Repair service for residence and business phones and other telecommunications services (Television, Data, MES, TWX, etc.) will be maintained.

INSTALLATIONS:

Installations will be restricted to high priority and emergency services.

DIRECTORY ASSISTANCE:

It will be virtually impossible to offer any degree of local Directory Assistance service. You are asked to make full use of numbers and information listed in your phone book.

Maritime Tel & Tel deeply regrets any inconvenience to you and is making every effort to reach an early and equitable solution to the current situation.

Tremendous Response To Song Writing Contest

The tremendous response in volume of entries and the calibre of competition in Nova Scotia's first song writing competition drew praise today from Hon. A. Garnet Brown, Minister of Recreation.

"The hidden talents in music and composing potential which exists amongst Nova Scotians is amazing," the minister said. He expressed the hope that the joint project with the Joseph Howe Festival Society to develop a truly Nova Scotian song would blossom into a multitude of new Nova Scotia music.

"The Heritage, pride and identity of many areas is heralded daily in song on radio and television," the minister said, "and we in Nova Scotia have more to sing about than any other area. It's time the voices of our Musicians, composers and vocalists were heard."

Mr. Brown congratulated the Joseph Howe Festival committee on its ingenuity in devising a competition for budding Nova Scotia song writers.

The Minister of Recreation said the 110 high quality entries received in the less than two month duration of the festival theme song contest justified his belief that there are countless people in this province with talent who will emerge when given an opportunity to express themselves.

The contest winner was Duncan's Cove Musician-Composer, Bob Quinn. In congratulating him, Mr. Brown said: "Nova Scotia abounds with tremendous skill and ability when it comes to every sort of leisure time endeavour, whether it be song, poetry, arts and crafts or other form of expression."

The minister said his Department was happy to have been a part of the Joseph Howe Festival Society project by providing the $2,000 incentive to find the right theme song to symbolize the annual event. This year's festival runs from October 2 to 11. A suitable public presentation of the winning song and the awarding of the prize to Mr. Quinn will be scheduled in early September when recordings of the melody will be available.

Status Of Women Legal Advisor Appointed

(by Elizabeth Hiscott)
"Changes in the status of women in Nova Scotia will come; the time is right."
That statement by Susan Ashley, Legal Advisor to the seven-member Task Force on the Status of Women in Nova Scotia, echoes the optimism of this group.

Ms. Ashley's job is to suggest, to the Task Force members, changes needed in legislation affecting women, and to draw attention to implications of present provincial laws. She is also the group's primary researcher who compiles information on topics such as women's status and sex stereotyping in education, health, the economy, and law.

Appointed by Attorney General the Honourable Allan E. Sullivan, in April of this year, Ms. Ashley began her work by attempting to determine what the other provinces were doing to improve the status of women. She found that Nova Scotia and Newfoundland are the only provinces in which there had not been established a permanent Advisory Council or Women's Bureau.

She then undertook a study of the report of the Royal Commission on the Status of Women in Canada (1970), to discover which of those recommendations under provincial jurisdiction had been implemented in Nova Scotia. She noted that the federal government has taken action on many of the recommendations falling under its jurisdiction, but this province had not taken similar action on a large number of the recommendations.

Many of her research projects deal with sociological as well as legal and other aspects of women's status in the province. General information has been sent by the Task Force to many organizations throughout the province, including women's, recreational, volunteer, educational, church and other groups, institutions, and individuals.

Ms. Ashley then went through the statutes of Nova Scotia with a view to pointing out those which treat men and women differently. In this study, she found many which adversely affect women and some which discriminate against men. She said that "Laws should apply equally to all persons, male or female." She has presented a report to the Task Force specifying those statutes which she feels should be amended.

She noted that in some statutes of Nova Scotia there is blatant female stereotyping. Noting that some statutes appear to legislate morality, she referred to those acts under which adultery is a bar to certain rights, such as the Dower Act, the Intestate Succession Act, the Wives and Children's Maintenance Act and the Social Assistance Act.

"These statutes show just one area in which women are at a disadvantage. On a larger scale, the Task Force is trying to make proposals on the "Matrimonial Property" issue, so that a married woman will have some financial right to the assets of the marriage after the marriage breaks up. Several other provinces have made recommendations to their governments on this issue, and I certainly think that this Task Force will take a positive stand," she said.

Ms. Ashley, who is 26, years old, is not only a lawyer with a position as a legislative solicitor with the Legislative Counsel in the Department of the Attorney General, but is married and has a 10-month-old daughter, Katie. She graduated from Dalhousie Law School in 1973 and was admitted to the Nova Scotia Bar in 1974. After articling in the Department of the Attorney General, she worked for a few months in the Department of Justice in Newfoundland.

A women with a relaxed air of self-confidence she says that she "found (her) independence" hitch-hiking from France through Spain, Italy, Greece, Switzerland and other European countries, after her school days. She described her travels as "an education I could not get at school," and added that she "developed the ability to deal with the daily problems of survival." She continued, "I found out not only who I am, but how strong I am."

When not in the books Susan enjoys music (she studied piano for 10 years), and her hobbies include handcrafts, and 'jogging' round the Dalhousie University track field which is conveniently near her home. Some of her jogging is done keeping up with her little daughter.

About her work with the Task Force on the Status of Women, she says, "It is exciting being in a position where I might be able to help change things for the women in our society."

Above Digby Regional High School Board chairman, Austin Morehouse, Sandy Cove, presents Mrs. R.R. (Evelyn) Winchester with a gift from the Board in appreciation of her services. The banquet and dance was a joint project of the D.R.H.S. Board and teachers.

Education • Bursaries

A new government scholarship program for students about to enter the first year of a french-language post-secondary institution in Canada was announced by the Minister of Education, William Gillis.

Under the program, 60 bursaries of $800 each are available to candidates who have completed the equivalent of grade 12 with an above average standing in french. The bursaries are tenable for one year.

"We have noted the need for this kind of incentive," Dr. Gillis said. "It is a further step towards implementation of the principles of bilingualism and biculturalism. It is also a valuable addition to the existing financial assistance made through the Department of Education, in co-operation with the federal government, to students and teachers in the area of french studies."

There are several qualifying french language colleges in Eastern Canada, including L'Universite De Moncton, New Brunswick, and College Ste. Anne, Nova Scotia.

Enquiries should be addressed to Dr. Alphonse Comeau, co-ordinator of the bursary program, Nova Scotia Department of Education.

Miss Marie Dugas who retires from teaching was presented with a gift of appreciation of service by the Digby Regional High School Board. Above Mrs. Vivian Neil, a member of the D.R.H.S. Board makes the presentation at a banquet and dance sponsored jointly by the Board and teachers and held at C.F.B. Cornwallis on Thursday evening.

Worth Reading

PREPARED BY THE ANNAPOLIS VALLEY REGIONAL LIBRARY FROM THE COOKBOOK SHELF

New workers are usually surprised to see how many cookbooks circulate in a library. Some readers a different cookbook on each visit; boys and girls also love to take them home and try their hands.

Three new cookbooks are being reviewed today. FAMILY FAVORITES FROM COUNTRY KITCHENS originated in a notice in Farm Journal magazine asking subscribers to send in the best liked recipe at their table, from which ten thousand entries were received. Four hundred and fifty were tested and selected for the cookbook, which emphasizes standard North American food with only an occasional excursion into the exotic.

Visiting the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Ted Melanson, Lewiston Road Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Melanson Lower Sackville, Mrs. Melanson spent a week at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Freddy Thibault in Doucetteville.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Sampson, Halifax called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Melanson on their way to Yarmouth, and taking the south shore tour, Mrs. Sampson is a niece to Mrs. Melanson. Overnight guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Melanson were Mr. and Mrs. Reg Landry from At. Peters, C.B., they left early on the Princess of Acadia to go on to Fredericton on their Honda, to visit Mrs. Landry's brother, Reg, is a nephew to Mrs. Melanson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thibodeau were supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Melanson. An enjoyable evening was spent playing cards.

Kaye MacDonnell from Halifax called on Mr. and Mrs. Ted Melanson. Visiting for a week at the home of her brother and wife Mr. and Mrs. Ted Melanson were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Savoy from Nanaimo B.C. such as lasagna or enchiladas. This is not to say there are no new ideas: try Pumpkin Pie Squares, made with a crumbly oatmeal base, or Golden Crispies, a health food cereal including wheat germ and sunflower seeds. This book is conveniently arranged and the colour illustrations enticing.

Carl Lyten's book is entitled 365 WAYS TO COOK CHICKEN. This popular meat is now mass-produced so as to make it available for everyday at moderate prices instead of special for Sunday only. All the more reason to know a variety of preparation methods. Mr. Lyten, an experienced chef and food expert, begins by explaining what is on the market (yes, what you and I have said is correct—the new chicken is not as flavourful as yesterday's, and the cooking must enhance the taste), tells us how to buy and store it, and starts his recipes with a section on chicken stock. He goes on to soups, casseroles, roasts and all the specialties, including basic skills as well as foreign cooking; for instance Chicken Saute Chasseur and Chicken Kiev, which is breast of chicken wrapped around frozen butter and deep-fried. No pictures, but there is a good index to this useful book.

THE AFTER-50 COOKBOOK, by Donna Hamilton, is for one or two-person families and people on special diets. It is a treasury of substitutions, meeting the requirements for the low-sugar-restricted, low-calorie sugarrestricted, low-calorie or low-roughage diet. The author says that cooking after fifty need not be broiled steak or chops, leftovers and small cans of vegetables. She provides small recipes for salads, casseroles, breads and cakes. Make Peach Upside Down Cake, for instance, in a seven-inch pie plate or other baking dish and come up with a manageable amount—four servings. A bonus for tired eyes is the large print of the book.

The Leisure Years

Boredom or Fulfilment?

Retirement. The word conjures up visions of endless hours of happy freedom. Why, then, is it such a disillusioning experience for so many people?

The natural tendency is to look forward to devoting unlimited time to travel, hobbies, grandchildren, sports and entertainment. All of which are enjoyable. But when one actually comes to fill day after day in these ways, life can soon pall. Fulfilment is not achieved so easily.

What's missing, according to psychologists and human relations consultants, is involvement in interests outside one's self. Taking part in community affairs, charities, church work or worthy fund raising projects offers such opportunities. Can you teach English to a new Canadian? Offer volunteer service to some social agency or hospital? Take a part-time job? There are many other ways by which you can make a worthwhile contribution.

As for hobbies, they can be wonderfully rewarding outlets for one's interests and energies. They can even prove to be the basis of a profitable second career. But to get the most out of any hobby, start taking it up in earlier years. Later, you'll have the necessary skill to allow you to get infinitely more fun and satisfaction out of your efforts. Especially if it's the kind of hobby you can share with others.

Above all, leisure years are brightened by friendships, both old and new, and by maintaining a lively interest in the fascinating world around us. Given reasonably good health, you may find that the November-December years are the best of your life.

Children in Poverty - Canada's Shame

(Jeremy Akerman, MLA)

There are many definitions of poverty and each person will probably have his own. Some organizations have used a dollar level of income to determine the poverty level but such a method ignores individual circumstances and the ability and capacity of the individual circumstances and the ability and capacity of the individual to function within certain income levels.

Perhaps the best definition of poverty is that which has been determined by Statistics Canada as a situation wherein more than 62 percent of the combined family income is needed to provide the basic minimum necessities of food, housing, and clothing. When one comes to think about it, if a family has only a third of its combined income to pay for the things which really make life worth living or for the luxuries and diversions that people enjoy, it would seem to me that one is living in the state of poverty. Where the combined family income is low in dollar terms, the impact, of course, is much more serious, since a third of a disability pension of $200.00 is really going to do little for you in terms of providing comforts, entertainments, travel and other items which make life more pleasant.

The problems of people who live in poverty have been studied and re-studied by Governments and private groups alike and there has sprung up a body of opinion to the effect that people who live in poverty do so due to their own inadequacies and that in many cases people actually choose to live in poverty. I do not accept that argument but even supposing it were true it could only apply to adults because one clearly cannot blame children who live in poverty for the condition in which they find themselves since the children have no power or ability to elevate themselves socially, or economically. It is the appalling number of Canadian children who live in poverty which constitutes this Nation's shame. According to the latest statistics there are now in Canada one million six hundred and fifty-seven thousand and seventeen (1,657,017) Canadian children living in poverty.

To be a child living in poverty means a great many things and a new report issued by the National Council of Welfare entitled "Poor Kids" spells out what it means. "To be born poor is to face a greater likelihood of ill health in infancy, in childhood and throughout adult life. To be born poor is to face a lesser likelihood that you will finish high school, lesser still that you will attend university. To be born poor is to face a greater likelihood that you will be judged a delinquent in adolescence and if so a greater likelihood that you will be sent to a "correctional institution". To be born poor is to have the deck stacked against you at birth, to find life an uphill struggle ever after. To be born poor is unfair to kids."

The report of the National Welfare Council deals both with the general problems of poor kids and of some specific instances which are almost heartbreaking to read. The report recounts the 13 year old boy from Northern New Brunswick who is the eldest of seven children where the shack is cold and where the seven children sleep in two beds which have been pushed together to keep them warm because they do not have enough blankets. They recount the child who wrote to them to tell them that he stays up at night to watch so the rats will not bite the smaller children. The boy from Quebec wrote that he loves sports but could never participate because his family did not have any money for any kind of sports equipment.

The deprivation of such things as sports equipment may or may not strike a cord of sympathy, to me the most outrageous deprivation which is imposed upon children in poverty is that they are deprived for good health. The report clearly indicates that there is a huge body of evidence to show that poor kids are sick kids and that the diseases which they contract in their childhood often make the rest of their lives times of ill health.

The physical hardships are not the only problems with which children in poverty have to contend. The report outlines some of the very serious mental, emotional and social implications of growing up in poverty. They clearly draw a connection between childhood poverty and later trouble with the law. By implication they indicate that our country in keeping these children poor is really costing the taxpayers hundreds and millions of dollars for years and years to come and that by ignoring the problem we are not saving money but we are adding to the bills of the taxpayer in dozens of unseen ways.

Of the one and a half million children in Canada who live in poverty, it is interesting to note that nearly seventy-six thousand of them live in Nova Scotia. Which is twenty-nine point eight percent (29.8 percent) of all the children in our Province. Of these over forty thousand are living in the rural areas of Nova Scotia and a little over eleven thousand in our larger cities. The fact that nearly twelve thousand of these children are living in one-parent families headed by the mother indicates that all our boasts about progress being made on behalf of widows and deserted mothers is purely a bunch of baloney.

One can merely relate some of the statistics, indicate some of the trends, repeat the appeal for action and just hope, that in this so-called Christian Province, in a so-called Christian Country- some time soon we are going to do something about these children on whom our society is placing a curse - in most cases probably for the rest of their lives.

We Must Care For The Hungry

The tragedy that faces hundreds of millions of people throughout the world is perhaps best described by the retiring chief of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO). Mr. Adeke Boerma warned in Rome that a transformation in the situation that would give everyone enough food cannot be attained during the next decade. The World Food Council, meeting in Rome in June, was told that about one ninth of the world's population - or nearly 400,000,000 people - are either starving or malnourished so seriously that they cannot function. Only last November, U.S.

Secretary of State Henry Kissinger had told the World Food Conference in Rome (which created the World Food Council) that "within a decade no child will go to bed hungry and no family will fear for its next day's bread."

This was clearly wishful thinking by Mr. Kissinger - for the economic slump that has gripped the world was very apparent. The World Food Council is seeking to create a $1 billion international fund for agricultural development. Its prime aim will be to speed up food production in the poorer countries.

The nations most seriously affected by economic problems, drought and general poverty will have a very large food gap in the year 1975 to 1976 - ranging from 14 million to 20 million tons. These nations include populous countries like India, Pakistan and Bangladesh, as well as some of the smaller nations in the drought regions of Africa.

The duty of the richer nations is clear indeed. They must give more. They must adjust trade relations to help, not hinder, in feeding the world's hungry. They must be more concerned. They must see the world as a unit. Sacrifices made by wealthy and food-rich nations like Canada will pay handsome dividends in future decades. For us not to care would be both cruel and foolish.

Mount Saint Vincent University

A model day care centre is being operated this summer by Mount Saint Vincent University's child development students as a practical part of their training.

The students in this new two-year certificate course have planned, organized and are now operating the centre using the skills and knowledge they've gained during their course work over the past two years.

The centre is designed to provide a learning experience rather than a baby-sitting service. The 10 children attending are from 2 to 10 years of age. Using a variety of art, drama, music, fiction and outdoor activities to meet science, social studies and general child development objectives have created a stimulating environment for the children. The staff of the centre are working on their course work in nutrition and food preparation, the students serve a mid-morning snack and lunch to the children.

In addition to learning the administrative and operational details of running a centre, the Mount's students are gaining the invaluable experience of working with children of different ages from vastly different backgrounds.

The centre is operated in a large open space at the second floor of Assisi Hall and makes ample use of the Mount's campus for outdoor activity.

Children of the university community as well as the outside community attend from 8:45 a.m. to 4 p.m. every weekday.

Mount Saint Vincent's child development program began in January, 1974 with 11 students. Lacking in the traditional department of social services, the Windsor Foundation, the Bank of Montreal, the Royal Bank of Canada, the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, the Bank of Nova Scotia and the Mercantile Bank.

This August the program, which is now self-supporting, will celebrate its first commencement with 22 successful graduates. Most of these graduates have already secured employment opportunities for further study.

Nova Scotia Designer Craftsman

An Exhibition of Nova Scotia crafts plus a craft market plus Nova Scotia craftsmen demonstrating their skills to fellow Nova Scotians and their summer visitors adds up to just what you'd expect at the Nova Scotia Festival of the Arts where the tradition of craft involvement was established back in Tatamagouche. This year the responsibility for the preservation of that vital tradition is that of Nova Scotia Designer Craftsman, the provincial association which represents and serves Nova Scotian craftsmen.

Designer Craftsman '75 will be the third annual juried exhibition sponsored by NSDC in as many years. Any craftsman, resident in Nova Scotia since April 1, 1975 is eligible to submit up to three entries for assessment by jurors whose task it is to decide what is finally exhibited. Entry forms and information will be sent to anyone requesting them from Box 3355, St. John's, Nfld.

The exhibition will be installed in the Sculpture Court at the Dalhousie Arts Centre from the opening of the

The Princess Alexandra Children's Unit at the Nova Scotia Hospital was officially opened on Tuesday, July 22nd, by the Minister of Health, Mr. William MacEachern.

Mr. MacEachern, in his address to the 70 dignitaries in attendance, noted that the facilities had been "designed, decorated, and furnished to provide a homelike atmosphere so necessary to the successful psychiatric treatment of children."

The Princess Alexandra Unit is the first of two such units built to accommodate 30 children up to age 12 in each. Completion of the second unit is scheduled for the Fall of this year.

The tri-wing bungalowtype buildings are very spacious, airy, and take full advantage of natural lighting. The color scheme for each wing is different and bright throughout. Bedrooms are of one or two bed size, complete with individual built-in cupboards, desks, chairs, and other amenities. The central core of the building includes a large recreation-dining room area, laundry, reception areas and offices. Each of the three wings will be equipped with all facilities necessary for the care of ten children.

Mr. Donald Lynch, Chairman of the Board of Management, thanked the Department of Public Works for their valuable cooperation and assistance in the planning and construction of the Unit. He stated that "the services to children provided by this hospital have always been of an exceptionally high standard and with the new facilities now available, will be second to none."

Mr. Lynch's sentiments were echoed by Dr. J.B. Steele, Director of Children's Services. Dr. Steele commented that the new surroundings would definitely have a positive effect on the patients that will soon be residing in the Unit.

The Children's Unit was named after Her Royal Highness, Princess Alexandra, who "turned the sod" on her visit to Nova Scotia in July, 1973.

CHANGES TO PRIMITIVE ART

Above is Fred Trask, son of Harry Trask and the late Mrs. Trask brushing up and displaying his art which has taken a change from seascapes, landscapes and other subjects to a primitive style of art. In his primitive expression Mr. Trask says he will include animals and people.

Mr. Trask who has paintings at the Eye Level Gallery expects to have a one man show there in February. He is scheduled for a CJCH interview for September. He has appeared on TV, channel 1 in a half hour "shop talk" and on CBHT in a Round About program.

Apartment Damaged By Fire

DIGBY - The Digby Volunteer Fire Department was called to the scene of a fire at an apartment building on First Avenue on Sunday.

The fire was confined to one apartment occupied by Dale Trimmer, but one other received smoke damage and a lower apartment suffered water damage.

The fire alarm was sounded at 12:55 p.m. and the department remained on location for an hour and 35 minutes. Allants responded to the call.

Three families were living in the building at the time of the fire while another apartment was vacant.

Owners of the building, Jack King and Paul Van Tassel, had it insured to the tune of $25,000. No damage estimate was available at press time.

Restore Well To Service

The Water Commission decided to get well no. 2 back into production during a meeting on Wednesday, August 13.

The commission will purchase a new motor for the pump being used on the well in question and have the old pump repaired. When the repaired pump returns, Mr. Hooper will be engaged to install it.

When the no. 2 well joins the no. 3 well in production, the quality of the town water supply is expected to improve. In an interview on Monday, Commission Chairman Robert Morgan stated that the bacteria count in the town's water supply is getting back to a reasonable level and expected that the boil-warning would be lifted before too long.

In another decision, the commission decided to write to the Digby County Power Board requesting that three transformers be supplied to the wells. It was reported that only two transformers were being used on well no. 3.

During discussions on well no. 2, Mr. Hooper reported that he has sounded it and said it had collapsed near the 165-foot level, about 34 feet below the casing. He said this would not interfere with water coming from the hole and suggested that the pump be raised about five to ten feet.

Goat Island Baptist Church

(Mrs. F. Thompson)

A great deal of the struggle of the first settlers in our country is told in the histories of more than century old churches where congregations still gather today to worship.

On August 10th, the Goat Island Baptist Church in Upper Clements, standing on a hill overlooking Goat Island, celebrated its 165th Anniversary at the 11 o'clock Sunday morning service. A very cordial welcome was given to all by the Rev. Wallace H. Jordan, pastor of the Clementsport United Baptist Church, saying how glad we were to be descendants of the original church families worshipping with us today.

We are gathered today to worship the living God who calls men and women of every generation to love and serve him as Saviour and Lord of Life.

The church was filled to capacity with people who came from not only the local areas but from parts of Canada and United States. Rev. Wallace H. Jordan delivered the message: And now Abides Faith, Hope and Love. Music was rendered by the Clementsport United Baptist Church Choir with special numbers by Elaine Blacklock and Patty Myers in a duet "Through It All." The Men's Group rendered special "The Man on the Middle Cross" and "I Am Resolved". An anthem by the choir "In The Service of The King".

Mrs. Alice Blacklock presided at the old reed organ which has been in the church for many years and for a number of years played by Mrs. Dora Thomas.

A brief historical portrait of the Life and Ministry of the Goat Island Baptist Church, Upper Clements, was given by Miss Elizabeth Potter. The origin of the Goat Island Baptist Church has its roots in the spirited and evangelistic fervor of the early religious movement called, "The New Light Movement". This was an imported religious movement from New England which came with the early settlers of Puritan persuasion after the expulsion of the French Acadians in the 1760's. This movement got its impetus from the revivalist preaching of Rev. George Whitefield of the school of the Wesleys, which had deeply touched the communities from which the early settlers came. From 1798 to 1801 in Annapolis County it is said that this movement "swept over the country with the force and fury of a torrent, with occasional similar revivals..." One such revival took place in the town of Clements in March of 1810 and resulted in the founding of the Goat Island Baptist Church. One of the men greatly used of God in this revival was Israel Potter. The second son of Joseph Potter, Jr., he was born in Worcester County, Mass., Nov. 28, 1763. At the age of seventeen he served in the 2nd Mass. Reg't of the Continental Army in the Revolutionary War. After peace was declared, he moved to Nova Scotia and settled on his father's estate and engaged in farming, fishing, brick-making, lumbering and vessel building. In 1786 he married the former Mary Rice. They took up residence in Lower Granville in 1790 where most of his family were born. During residence there, he heard the gospel preached through the Lower Granville Baptist Church and was converted and later baptized. This church had been founded in 1780 by the powerful congregationalist itinerant evangelist Rev. Henry Aline. But after a decade it had adopted "believer's baptism" and

"closed communion" and became a Baptist Church.

It was not until 1810 that Israel moved his family to the old Potter homestead in Clements where he was instrumental in the revival which took place in that year. In a letter to Dr. Baldwin, Editor, Herald of Light, Springfield, Mass., dated May 12, 1810, he wrote about the revival. In the beginning of March last, a most wonderful and powerful reformation began in the lower part of this town which seemed to pervade the minds of old and young and many hope were brought to the knowledge of the truth.

About ten days afterward, the good work made its appearance in the middle of town. The people assembled from every quarter and it seemed that it might be truly said that God was passing through the place in a very powerful manner. The glorious work has since spread through every part of the town and some of all ages have been made to bow to the mild sceptre of the Redeemer. The ordinance of Baptism had been administered for five Sabbaths successively. Forty-five had been admitted to this sacred rite and a church had been constituted upon the gospel plan, consisting of sixty-five members to which further additions were expected.

If I should say that 200 have been hopefully converted to the Lord in this town since the reformation commenced I think I should not exceed the truth. At Round Hill, I understand there is a number to be baptised today. The province of Nova Scotia has been highly favored with the gospel.

For a time this newly founded church met in the old kitchen of the Potter house before the meeting house was built. We are told the preaching, the exhortation, the old songs of Zion, the shouting of the Saints - the bleating of the lambs and going down by the river side to be buried with Christ in baptism were part of that early ministry. It is probable that the meeting house was constructed in 1811 and first ordained pastor was the Rev. Edmund J. Réis. He was followed by the Rev. F. David Harris who pastored the church until 1825. In 1822 Israel Potter was ordained to the Pastoral ministry and became an associate pastor to Rev. Harris until 1825. From that time Rev. Potter was pastor of the church until his death on August 17, 1847.

During his ministry the Christian gospel was preached throughout the area of Clements and the Second Clements Church was founded on the Hezian Line (Clementsvalle) with the churches increasing in membership, the work proved too much for the aging pastor and Rev. Henry Saunders, then pastor of the First Hillsburgh Baptist Church, was called as co-pastor to the Second Clements Church in 1833. He remained as co-pastor until 1835. In 1837 Israel Potter, Jr., was ordained as co-pastor and became pastor after his father's death. With the work increasing Rev. E. Cogswell was called as co-pastor and continued after the death of Israel Potter, Jr., in June 26, 1860. In 1864, a new parsonage was built on Shaw's Point and was occupied by Rev. G.D. Cox until 1870. From 1871 to 1873 Rev. John Williams was pastor of the churches. He was succeeded by Rev. J.M. Parker who ministered for a decade in Clements. It was during the ministry of Rev. F. N. Archibald that the churches of First and Second Clements were divided by a resolution passed by the Brethren on August 9th, 1888. As a result the churches of Goat Island, Clementsport and Clements (Deep Brook) were organized into one Pastorate.

The following year during the ministry of Rev. J.L. Reid the Smith Cove Baptist Church which was known as Second Hillsburgh Church withdrew from the First Hillsburgh Church now Bear River Baptist Church and united with Upper Clements, Clementsport and Clements West (Deep Brook) Churches thus completing the Pastorate which is known today as the Deep Brook United Baptist Pastorate. Due to the migration of many of the church families during the turn of the 20th century the ministry of the Goat Island Baptist Church diminished to one or two services a month, then to a memorial service annually. A poem written and composed by Mrs. Sarah Costello "Goat Island Church" was also read at this Anniversary Service 1810-1975.

"Bluenose Ghosts" Released

The province's newest travel promotion film "Bluenose Ghosts" has been released for distribution.

Tourism Minister Glen Bagnall said the 22-minute film is based on the book of the same name by well-known Nova Scotia writer and folklorist Dr. Helen Creighton.

The film centres around 10 ghost stories representative of the hundreds of stories that have been passed down as family lore over the years in rural Nova Scotia. Most of the 10 stories were filmed on location along the province's Atlantic coast.

Seventy roles were cast and performed by professional actors and actresses.

The minister said the film is intended to show some of the folklore of Nova Scotia as part of the province's overall film presentations. Settings for the film depict some of Nova Scotia's well-known historic sites. Among the locations are Sherbrooke Village and Ross Farms.

The bulk of the film's distribution outside the province will be by the Canadian Government Travel Film Library. The Department of Tourism will co-ordinate local distribution. Nova Scotia's promotional films are shown in Canada, the United States and abroad.

Production of the film was undertaken by the N.S. Communications and Information Centre.

A Thought Starter

(Rev. R.C. McCormack)

The papers carried the story of a 6-year old boy who had lost his way in the woods. When found he was asked how it felt to be all alone, hungry and cold. This trusting little fellow replied, "It was scary out there, but I prayed and asked God to take care of me and He did".

This is the kind of story which reaches the heart, and hearts are woefully empty and in need of this kind of stirring. You see, the boy's experience is that of many who are alone, and lost in a big world of hardness and indifference.

Many lack the wisdom of this child, and in their fear, fail to ask God to take care of them. The wisdom of a child is a sermon to the mature, that God stands ready to reach down and to rescue the fallen and the forlorn.

To call upon the Lord is prayer, but many are too proud to pray. They are afraid prayer is a sign of weakness, or that they would drop in the esteem of their friends if found upon their knees.

Any who are looking for a way out of the jungle of despair and sin, ought to "become as little children", and really depend upon the Saviour.

If this is emotional Christianity, it is the kind of which we need more. God wants to be our refuge and strength.

(Rev. R.C. McCormack) SUCH LOVE

There is a pleasant story of two brothers whose farms lay side by side. On a certain night, after the gathering of the crops, one of them said to his wife, "My brother is a lonely man, who has neither wife nor children; I will go out and carry some of my sheaves into his field".

It happened that on the same night, the other said to himself, "My brother has wife and family, and needs the harvest more than I. I will carry some of my sheaves into his field". So, the next morning their respective piles were unchanged. The next night the good deeds were repeated, only this time the loving brothers met each other with arms full of grain, face to face. On that spot they vowed that this must be the place where God's love truly touches earth.

This love reaches its highest level in the lives of Christians. They know the one Who "so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him, might not perish but have everlasting life."

The greatest love story ever told is in the sinless life on the Cross being exchanged for sinners, that they might receive the free gift of Heaven.

Mayor $12,000 Per Year, Councillors $3,000

Beginning in January, 1976, the Mayor of the Town of Digby will get a $12,000 salary for a full time job. A motion to this effect was made by Councillor Reginald Hazelton and seconded by Councillor Guy VanTassel and passed at the regular meeting of Town Council on Tuesday evening. Councillor Eileen Chipman's vote was the only dissenting vote. Five others, Deputy Mayor Philip Robertson, who presided at the meeting and Councillors Gordon Ellis, William Reid, Guy VanTassel and Reginald Hazelton each gave a "yea" vote.

Councillor Hazelton and Councillor VanTassel also introduced the motion, which passed, to pay Digby Town Councillors $3,000 per year with a sum of $15.00 for each meeting attended other than the regular meetings. This motion had two "nay" votes, those of Councillor Chipman and Councillor Ellis.

Digby Town Council which requested nominations for Mayor on two occasions recently without result has again set a nomination day for September 23. The bi-election will be on October 7th providing the nominations result in the need of an election.

Additional Police

Digby Town Council on Tuesday evening decided on motion of Councillor Eileen Chipman, seconded by Councillor William Reid to apply for the fourth RCMP for the policing of the Town of Digby. Presently, there are three RCMP on Digby town duty but Sgt. Thomas Barow in his report on Tuesday evening indicated that another man is needed to do an effective job.

Councillor Gordon Ellis, chairman of the Finance Committee, questioned how much this would cost and where the money would come from when it is not contained in the budget.

"Where is our tax rate going?" said Councillor Ellis.

In his report (to appear next week) the Sgt. said that most of the breaks are done after 2 o'clock in the morning.

Another item in the police report dealt with acquiring the use of an "electronic secretary" for a few months.

The motion made by Councillor Chipman carried. The Sgt. felt that they were not getting all the calls because people are not acquainted with calling the Zenith No. 50000 when the police are out from headquarters.

Valued Church Members Honoured

Many friends and relatives gathered in the vestry of the Smiths Cove Baptist Church on Sunday evening August 24th in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Freeman and son Peter, who are moving from the area to take up residence in Greenwood N.S..

Rodger and Fran have been valued members of the Church many years and active in all departments of Christian work.

Rev. Wallace Jordan presented them with a large framed photograph of the area well known to them, from the members of all three Churches, Clementsport, Deepbrook and Smiths Cove and Mrs. Madeline Milner presented Fran with a beautiful bouquet of flowers and a gift of China roses, from members of the Ladies Auxiliary.

Mrs. Alice Brinton presented Peter with a gift of a students' lamp and Mr. Thurston Banks presented him with a desk set, hoping these gifts would be of help to him in his studies at Acadia University and in appreciation of his interest in the Sunday School and as organist in the Church.

Music for the evening was given by members of all choirs and friends present and was led by Rev. Jordan.

The Freemans will be greatly missed and we wish them all, much happiness, in their new home.

chance games provided the entertainment and money raising events at the New Digby Fire Hall.

Digby County Exhibition Has Good Week

In spite of showers on Wednesday and Saturday, crowds turned out in great numbers to attend the Digby County Exhibition this past week at Bear River. Interest was high as shown in the number of entries in the exhibits.

Marshall Wheelhouse, Chairman of the Vegetable Division, remarked that the quality was exceptionally good this year, especially considering the weather. Mr. Wheelhouse has been exhibiting for over 50 years, with the exception of one break of 5 years when he was serving overseas in World War II. (In spite of the fact that he was wounded in World War I, he re-enlisted, was accepted, and saw action in Europe.) In 1960 he accepted the position of Chairman of the Vegetable Division of the Exhibition, and has held that position through this year, which he says will be his last. He says he has seen a distinct improvement in the overall exhibitions in the last 10 years, and especially this year.

Another Senior Citizen, Mr. Howard York, remarked that he had attended several different exhibitions this summer, and that the vegetables shown at the Digby County Exhibition were far superior to those seen in others, due to more rainfall and a better growing season in this area this summer. Mr. York has been with the Association of Exhibitions for the Maritime Provinces since 1933. He was Secretary/Manager of the Digby County Exhibition for 14 years before retiring in 1967, due to ill health.

Most Outstanding Entry

Fred Woodworth, Bear River, age 92 years, was given a trophy at the Digby County Exhibition in Bear River for the most outstanding entry. Mr. Woodworth has been attending the Digby County Exhibition, formerly the B.R. Exhibition, for 60 years. He remembers attending the Exhibition when it was of only a half day duration. He continues to be a member of the B.R. Agricultural Society. He still cares for his garden and peels pulpwood.

Want Share Of Federal 10% Tax

The Council of the Municipality of the District of Digby met in monthly session on Monday when councillors were in sympathy with the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities in their effort to get a share of the federal ten percent a gallon tax on gas.

The road from Digby entering Highway off 101 came in for discussion. They decided to ask the Department of Highways to rectify the problems which make the intersection so dangerous.

Joe Casey M.L.A., who attended the session was requested to support their move to have the Digby County Power Board exempted from sales tax. The solicitor, Charles Haliburton was asked to prepare documents for the move.

The Council gave their support to L.I.P. grants to the Westport Recreational Centre, Freeport and the Digby Neck Fire Department.

Councillors L.E.R. Winchester, Mrs. Helen McNeil and Arthur Rice attended a regional meeting in Yarmouth to help prepare the program and resolutions for the meeting of Union of N.S. Municipalities to be held in Halifax.

Raise $341.55 For Fire Department

Three hundred and forty-one dollars was raised on Saturday to swell the coffers of the Digby Neck Fire Department. The money was raised by a pantry sale sponsored by the Digby Neck Fire Department Auxiliary of which Mr. Carol Addington is president. Other officers are Mickey Comeau, vice-president; Donnie Harris, treasurer and Mrs. Bonnie Trask, secretary.

The pantry sale proceeds at the Sandy Cove Community Hall and Camp Champlain amounted to $200.75; donations $111.50 and ticket sales on a decorated cake $29.30. Ms. Sandra Courtney was winner of the cake.

Hodge Podge

Don't know who wrote the following, but a Courier reader brought it in and we pass it on to you:

LIFE

Man comes into the world without his consent and leaves it against his will. During his stay on earth, his time is spent in one continual round of contraries and misunderstandings. In his infancy he is an angel; in his boyhood he is a devil; and, in his manhood he is everything from a skunk up. In his duties he is a fool. If he is a poor man, he is a poor manager and has no sense; if he is rich, he is dishonest, but considered smart. If he is in politics, he is a grafter and a crook; if he is out of politics you can't place him because he is an undesirable citizen. If he goes to church, he is a hypocrite; if he stays away from church, he is a sinner. If he donates to foreign missions, he does it for a show; if he doesn't he is stingy and close-fisted. When he comes into the world everybody wants to kiss him; when he goes out everyone wants to kick him. If he dies young, there was a great future before him; but if he lives to a ripe old age, he is in the way, only living to save funeral expenses. LIFE IS A FUNNY ROAD, BUT WE ALL LIKE TO TRAVEL IT JUST THE SAME.

CROC IN THE TUB? -- If you scratch a crocodile on the top of its head, it falls into a trance. The Financial Post brings you this information so that Canadians will know what to do when attacked by a charging croc. But they admit it's rather hard to verify. However, the burgeoning tribe of crocodile farmers in the coastal swamps of Papua New Guinea should be able to help us soon. There are more than 500 farms, and another 200 are being established - 12,000-head farm can net up to US $40,000 a year. Papua New Guinea is just getting independence from Australia. PNG has herds of both sea- and freshwater crocodiles. It supplies about 10 per cent of the fashion world's consumption of 250,000 - 300,000 crocodiles annually. But everywhere else the reptiles are just hunted, The Post reports. It's fairly easy to grow a crocodile.

Fifty pounds of fish a day will fill a dozen yearlings, which then spend the rest of the day happily asleep. At a year old, their belly skin is worth about $2, but at two it's $10, and at three $40. Crocodiles keep on expanding for years, ultimately reaching an appalling size. So the trick is to keep shoveling fish into them as long as you can. They are reported to be charming beasts, perfectly docile if fed regularly, just in case anyone feels like keeping one in the tub, FP says.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

My wife and I moved here from Halifax two weeks ago, hoping to make our new Digby home an "old folks" Haven, but we virtually got lost trying to get around. And the cause of most of our frustration is lack of adequate street signs. And the few that are on posts and trees are mostly hidden behind leaves. But that will be cleared up soon-when the leaves fall.

We know you haven't got a Mayor, but it shouldn't take the Towns top man to see that I am right and authorize many more signs, so that motorists won't be driving all over the place to get to a given destination. Or haven't you got the money it would cost? Better put up the signs and let some other less deserving project wait.

I set out to walk from our new home on Second Avenue to downtown the other day, but went around in circles and had to ask a motorist to put me on the right track.

We very much want to like your town and your citizens, and not be full of criticism, but if you Councillors don't do the job to which you were elected, then you're going to hear from me often.

Otto R. Hubley.

in Command. He is married with four children, two boys and two girls.

The Digby detachment employs ten officers, and two stenographers. At present three men are on town duty, two are on highway patrol, with the remaining five in charge of county duty.

Birthday surprises are better when they are not presented on the highway. Always signal your intentions so other motorists will not receive an unpleasant and possibly fatal surprise, warns the Registry of Motor Vehicles.

While it is true that seat belts may rumple your suit, wrinkles are far easier to remove than bloodstains, the Registry of Motor Vehicles states.

"Second to legal kill the highest mortality factor shown is auto kills."

When we translate this quote from the 1973 lands and forests deer mortality report into everyday language, it says that next to hunters, autos kill more deer than anything else in Nova Scotia.

In fact, since 1969, the number of deer being killed on highways has been climbing rapidly every year. The average number of deer killed yearly by autos in the last six years was about 240.

This pretty well is the gist of two reports I read recently on deer mortality. At least it's the gist of the reports from the hunter's point of view. A biologist would probably read much more than this from the data in the reports.

Looking at it from anyone's point of view, the sad fact is that in any one year a tragic number of deer are slaughtered on highways. And while losses of other wildlife on highways have never been counted, they're likely even higher than deer. Take a drive along a busy stretch of highway after the weekend, for example, and you'll be appalled by the number of battered porcupines, raccoons and birds.

While it's impossible to estimate the number of birds and smaller animals that are killed on highways, the annual kill of deer on roads is pretty well known. In 1974 a total of 341 deer were killed by autos. The total killed in 1973 was 276. In 1972 the total was 202.

As can be seen from these figures, the highway toll has been climbing yearly. One of the reports gave the highway kill for each year from 1969 to 1974. In those years the total highway kill was 1432 deer, or as I mentioned, an average of about 240 per year.

The rise in the number of highway deaths may be related to two factors: More autos are using the highways today and roads are better (faster) than they were years ago. With more vehicles using highways that lend themselves to fast driving, a natural result should be more wildlife being killed.

Of course this is pure speculation on my part. The only proof that this theory is correct is the fact that more deer are killed on highways in periods of high traffic density. More vehicles use the highways in summer months, a period according to lands and forests reports when more deer are killed.

In 1973, nearly half the 276 deer slain on roads were killed during May, June and July. In 1974 the peak periods were June, July and August when over one third of the year's total highway kill took place.

One or two other factors besides density may also account for a higher number of highway deaths in summer months. It was pointed out by a lands and forests technician that deer may be the vegetation growing there, making it more possible for them to be struck by vehicles. Also, more young vehicles. Also, more young deer are about during summer. It seems young deer are more liable to be auto victims.

In both 1973 and 1974, a higher proportion of the deer killed were fawns. It's interesting to note that the deer killed, a higher number were males. Perhaps the biologists can see some significance in this.

It's also interesting to note that some counties have more highway deaths than others. In 1973, Victoria County had the highest number of deaths with 36. Annapolis County was second with 24. In 1974, Victoria County almost led again with 36 deer killed on highways. In first place that year was Guysborough County with 41 deer killed.

If highway deaths indicate deer density, then hunters will be interested in the following figures:

In western Nova Scotia the auto kill climbed from 40 in 1969 to 122 in 1974. In eastern Nova Scotia the kill went from 72 in 1969 to 131 in 1974. In Cape Breton the highway kill went from 79 in 1969 to 88 in 1974.

These figures represent a tragic, irreplaceable loss of deer, a loss apparently ignored by people who seem more concerned about what hunters are doing.

If you enjoy thinking about what life may be like in the future you might enjoy WOMAN IN THE YEAR 2000, edited by Maggie Tripp. It is a collection of 26 essays on the changes women can expect during the next 25 years. Some of the more widely known contributors are Gloria Steinem, Bella Abzug, Alvin Toffler and Louis Gould. This book has a strong basis in the current "woman's liberation" philosophy, especially as declaimed on the eastern seaboard of the United States in general, and New York City in particular. This does not necessarily detract from the value of the work but it ensures that there is a built-in bias which must be taken into consideration. All-in-all, a novel approach to a rather over-worked field.

The death earlier this year of Per Wahloo unfortunately means that we have seen the last of one of the most interesting fictional policemen now appearing in print.

Since the mid nineteen-sixties nine police-procedural novels have been translated from the Swedish into English featuring a Stockholm police Inspector, Martin Beck.

In collaboration with his wife, Maj Sjöwall, Wahloo created a rumpled, likeable detective who nearly always got his man. The ninth book in the Beck series, COP KILLER, like the earlier books, offers a well-done mystery with much trenchant comment on contemporary Swedish society. Beck will be missed.

North Range United Church

Holds Annual Remembrance Service

The little grey church on Bloomfield Road was filled to overflowing on Sunday afternoon, August 24, when relatives and friends of departed members gathered for the annual remembrance service.

Baskets of roses, gladiolas, and other cut flowers adorned the altar and choir platform; while bright summer sunshine and gentle breezes greeted the worshippers and to some brought back memories of other services in the little "Methodist" church in years long past.

Mr. Lawrence Sabean of Barton, a member of the Church of Christ in South Range, acted as moderator. The Weymouth Falls Choir accompanied by Alfie Bright on guitar and the North Range Baptist mixed quartette accompanied by Scott Haight supplied the music which included the following selections: "Weymouth Falls; 'I Have Decided to Follow Jesus'; 'Hold on to Jesus'; 'I've Got a Mansion'; 'I'll Be Present When The Roll is Called'; a solo by Cyril Middleton; 'Some Glorious Morning'; 'In times Like These'; by the Weymouth Falls Male Voices composed of George Langford, Sydney Cromwell, Charlie Ashe and Alfie Bright, the latter accompanying on guitar.

Selections by the North Range group made up of Mrs. Ivan Bain, Mrs. Len Hannam, Miss Donna Haight and Scott Haight included, "Lifes Evening Sun and 'Where the Roses Never Fade,' also a duet by Scott Haight and his daughter, Donna. "Some Day There'll be No Tomorrow." Later in the service a solo, by George Langford with chorus, "Just a Closer Walk With Thee."

Mr. Melbourne Barr of New Tusket was guest speaker and took his message from the sixth chapter of Romans. He based his remarks on killing "diseases." Many of which can kill the body, he urged his listeners to beware of the disease which is the most Cancerous, killing the soul as well as the body. This disease is called sin.

Prayer was offered by Sydney Cromwell. Followed by the expression of appreciation of the committee to all who helped in any way to make the 1975 Memorial service a success.

This Little United Church of Canada is situated near the intersection of the Bloomfield and North Range roads and although only used once a year it still is kept alive by the committee as well as by fond memories.

Much credit is due Mrs. Florence Bacon of Barton who planned and made the arrangements for the service. This year's offering amounted to over $600.00 which is placed in a memorial fund to be used for repairs and the upkeep of the adjoining cemetery.

Weddings

ZIMMERMAN-NESBITT

A lovely summer wedding was solemnized in the Weymouth Church of Christ on Saturday, August 23rd, when Lorraine Nellie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nesbitt of Weymouth North, became the bride of Mark Alan, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Zimmerman, Weymouth North. The double ring ceremony was performed by the groom's father, and Mrs. Bessie Lewis, aunt of the bride, played the nuptial music. Victor McCullough rendered two vocal solos, "Let it be Me" and "We walk together Hand in Hand."

The bride looked charming as she entered the church on the arm of her father. Her gown was white poe de soie, fashioned in empire waist lines, with a half belt at the back. She wore a picture hat, and carried a nosegay of yellow roses, carnations and baby's breath. Cathy Weaver was bridesmaid, and looked lovely in a gown of soft green polyester with white picture hat. She carried a nosegay of pink roses, carnations and baby's breath.

Neil Zimmerman, brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were Ronnie Barr and Clarke McCullough.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church basement. Shirley Nesbitt was in charge of the guest book, and the brides table was served by Diane Wagner and Bonnie Marshall.

The brides table was decorated with pink and yellow roses, a three tier cake and white tapers in silver candlesticks. The brides mother was gowned in a pink length ensemble of pink polyester, and she wore a corsage of pink tinted carnations. The groom's mother chose a street length dress of green skirt, with a floral top, and her corsage was also pink tinted carnations.

For travelling the bride wore a dark green pant suit with a yellow rose corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman will reside in Weymouth. Mr. Zimmerman is employed in Bear River.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. Todd Zimmerman of Alberta, Mrs. Gary Bentley and baby of Bowmanville Ontario, Charles Nesbitt of St. John, Mr. and Mrs. Miller Stevenson of Fredericton, P.E.I. and Mrs. and Mrs. Kenneth Norris of Charlottetown PEI.

Housing

The Nova Scotia Housing Commission has received an additional $2,700,000 in federal funding for its co-operative housing program.

Housing Minister Walter Fitzgerald announced that the additional funds will enable the commission to process approximately 130 loans.

"While the demand under the co-operative program exceeds this amount we are satisfied that at least some additional funds have been obtained." Mr. Fitzgerald said. "I hope co-operative builders will react quickly to this increase."

The Minister said the loans have been allocated on the basis of demand to each of the commission's four regional offices. The loans will be dealt with on the basis of those applicants having priority with respect to the existing waiting list.

To date the federal government has committed funds totalling $19,200,000 for the program.

Merchants Down Kiwanis 15-10

In the first game of the quarter-finals of Series "B2" played on August 20th, the Comeau-Wood coached Merchants downed the Rithey coached Kiwanis by the score of 15-10. Burnell Burgoyne contributed a grand slammer and also gave a seven hit performance on the mound to lead the Merchants to their victory. The one advantage enjoyed by the winners was the wildness of the pitchers of the Kiwanis, they issued a total of seventeen walks. The Comeau brothers, Ronnie, Brian and David scored eight runs for the Merchants. Kirk Mackintosh with a triple and single lead the Kiwanis batting attack, Donald Ross had a triple, Paul Gidney with a double and Frank Jefferson with a single and double rounded out the offensive of the losers. This Series is not over yet for if the Kiwanis can get everything together they have the ability to bounce back.

Miss Susan Marshall spent three days tenting with Miss Paula McCullough.

What does your health have to do with your mind? The easy answer is to reply "A Lot!" When I don't feel well physically, it worries me. In that way our mind is affected. What about the reverse?

When people feel good they usually are happier. For instance, someone who has recovered from an illness, who is thankful and glad to be living, usually finds life more enjoyable. Also, people tend to feel better in summer when they can enjoy Nova Scotia, relate to people easily in the garden or at the swimming hole - life is easier and people feel better. What can be learned from this?

How about this: exercise and good food and doing things we like, make us feel better. Therefore, if we do this all year round we may feel as good in winter as we did in summer - or the chances are greater anyway.

The leaves are beginning to turn, the Valley had a frost, harvesting is going on - all say "Winter will be here again". Instead of only groaning let's get ready!

Make a few plans and make them now when you're feeling well because later you may start simply groaning and feeling too bad to plan.

1) Exercise: you may say you never do any but in summer you probably do walk more, stay outside more, work in the garden, do more work around the house or outside the house, and so on. When the weather isn't so fine, we need to make do - walk whenever you can anyway and set up a pattern its easier to stick to a pattern when winter comes if you start now. For instance, invite a neighbour in regularly for an exercise session - company makes it more interesting. Silly you say? Then remember when you feel good, you enjoy life more.

2) Good Food: There's a Vitamin called Thiamine (plus others) that's particularly for your nerves. Its a B Vitamin found in protein foods, for example. But, if you diet is a balanced one, which is more likely in summer with so many fresh vegetables, you will meet your vitamin and other nutritional needs. It just means that in winter you seem to need more attention given to making sure your diet is balanced.

3) Doing Things you Like: This takes some planning. How about an indoor garden, gathering supplies for handicrafts, registering for a course, setting up volunteer work at a Nursing Home, etc., etc.

People tend to have more energy during summer and also tend to take life easier. Let's try to continue that, keeping in mind these aspects of what makes that possible. You probably have more ideas about what makes you feel better in summer. Try planning to continue that through winter in another way.

Digby Horizons

Successful Project

A full program of activities for retired persons and senior citizens in the Digby area is being carried out by the Digby Horizons at their activity centre on the grounds of the Digby Mental Health Clinic, it was reported at a meeting of the executive of Digby Horizons last week.

Included among some of the activities reported at the meeting was a visit by some 31 senior citizens and retired persons to New Minas. The visit, sponsored by Digby Horizons, was one of a number of invitations accepted by the group from other senior citizens' organizations in various parts of western Nova Scotia.

The Digby Horizons craft workers also participated this year in the Western Nova Scotia Arts and Crafts Show in Annapolis Royal. Not only did the group from Digby have articles of handcraft on exhibition at the show, they also gave demonstrations of various handcraft activities. These included woodworking, fish net bag making, fly tying and lampshade restoration. Orders were taken at the show for many handcraft items and those from Digby Horizons participating in the program at Annapolis Royal reported a great interest in the work of the Digby group at the show.

It was reported at the executive meeting that more and more retired and elderly persons are making use of the facilities provided through the activity centre in Digby. Special programs are held every Tuesday afternoon and an open invitation is extended to attend and take part in these and other activities at the centre.

On the second and third Tuesday of each month a social program is carried out. Craft and handwork is a feature of the program on the fourth Tuesday while the regular business session of Digby Horizons is held each first Tuesday.

Meeting with the executive at their session last week was Major Paul Stehelin, Director of New Horizons for Nova Scotia. Major Stehelin praised the Digby Horizons organization for the "splendid work you are doing". He also had words of commendation for the officers and committees of the organization for the business-like manner in which the affairs of Digby Horizons are being handled.

Annual Summer Crusade Held

The annual summer Crusade meeting of the United Baptist WMS was held last Wednesday afternoon at the Church Hall in Ashmore. The President, Mrs. Alma Kinney was in the chair. Mrs. Bessie Hankinson was pianist, and Mrs. Catherine Langford of Weymouth Falls sang "The Lord's My Shepherd" and "I Would Love to Tell you What I Think of Jesus".

Following the welcome by the President the Devotional "Stepping Forward Through Adversity" was conducted by the Convenor, Mrs. Freda Doty and the Spiritual Life Study was given by Mrs. Bessie Hankinson. Instead of the usual study period following the business meeting, a short programme was conducted by Mrs. Gloria Mullen.

A monologue in the form of a telephone conversation entitled "The True Meaning of Missions", was given by Mrs. Alma Kinney, and a verse "The Story the Mission Box Told" was read by the Convenor. This was interspersed with solos by Mrs. Langford and the programme concluded with an exercise, "The Golden Chain of Missions" with Mrs. Bessie Hankinson, Mrs. Freda Doty, Mrs. Hattie Mullen, Mrs. Arthur Wold and Mrs. Marion Kinney taking part.

Following the meeting a social time was enjoyed, the room was decorated with arrangements of "mums" and dahlias, and summer visitors were present from other parts of the country New Brunswick and the United States.

Digby Wesleyan Church to Show Film

The Mindbenders, a 75 minute full color film, will be shown Sunday evening, August 31st, in the Digby Wesleyan church. The showing will begin at 8:30 p.m.

The Mindbenders presents a look inside a contemporary high school campus where a young man, respected by his peers, makes a consistent effort to relate his faith in Jesus Christ to others. It is a thrilling story and brings a stimulating challenge to Christian young people.

High School begins next week for most students in the Digby Annapolis Area, and we could think of no better film to show to encourage young Christians to live for Jesus on their school campus. We believe you will enjoy this film, and we extend a warm welcome for you to come view The Mindbenders.

Some thoughts for Labour Day

Much of the growth, and the strength of Nova Scotia, is due in large part to the contribution made by the women and men who make up the province's labour force.

A vital force, working for the benefit of all Nova Scotians.

The Department of Labour supports these hard working men and women in a number of important ways.

In protecting the safety and health of workers. In establishing and enforcing standards of employment that affect wages and working conditions.

In actively promoting and enforcing standards designed to prevent and protect loss of life and property from fire.

The Department also directs apprenticeship training.

And last, but by no means least, the Department works to promote better labour-management relations through impartial conciliation and mediation services to both labour and management.

Nova Scotia Department of Labour
Honourable Walter R. Fitzgerald, Minister
R. E. Anderson, Deputy Minister.

CORRECTION

In our last issue we reported a fire in an apartment on First Ave. By way of correction of this item, the apartment was occupied by Sandra Murphy, and not by Dale Trimper as reported. Also, in another edition we reported that Loren Banks had sold his home but he tells us he is just renting it.

As humans we tend to be subject to error, and we apologize for any inconvenience these have caused for those involved. Perhaps this might be the place to quote what was read in another weekly paper: "I know not what the truth may be; I told it as 'twas told to me."

Fishing At Its Best

by R.V. Mailman

The 56th Annual Convention of the Canadian Community Newspapers Association was held in Saskatoon, Aug. 13-16, attended by 350 newspaper representatives. Following the Convention 75 delegates and families availed themselves of an opportunity to spend three days fishing, compliments of the Province of Saskatchewan.

The first leg of the trip covered 300 miles by bus from Saskatoon to Lake La Ronge, the jumping off place to the Canadian Far North. For us, the next part was by float plane to Drinking Falls Lodge. Our pilot was Jim Stephens, a medical student at the University of Saskatchewan. Jim does about 500 hours flying during the summer to pay his college expenses the rest of the year.

Drinking Falls Lodge is one of the best fishing camps in North Saskatchewan, and as soon as we touched down on the Churchill River, we knew we had it made. The Lodge is run by Nick and Dorothy Fedun. We arrived just in time for the evening meal so not much was done the first day except to get settled and ready for the next morning.

Daylight comes early in the Canadian North and the Northern Pike like an early breakfast, so while we were devouring an embarrassing quantity of bacon and eggs, John Charles, our Cree Indian guide was loading the boat. Our first morning was not too successful as we discovered we had bought some bad fishing line, which meant we lost a number of lures and leaders. However, we did end up with more than enough for dinner and nothing tastes better than fresh fish cooked Indian style on the bank of a beautiful river. During the afternoon we had better luck and except for one that got away after breaking a 25-lb. test line, we ended up with some fine fish.

The next day we started off with a feed of Dorothy's blueberry pancakes and sausages. Dorothy has got to be the best cook in the Canadian North. This day we headed up the Churchill River in the opposite direction McKenzie travelled in his quest for the passage to the Pacific Coast, and this day our fish was Walleye. Walleye are smaller than Pike, but what they lose in size they make up in quantity and after the usual fillet for lunch we wound up with 24 after throwing that many back. This is the legal limit for three people per day.

Fishing is not the only sport in North Saskatchewan. We met one couple from California who were on a canoeing trip. They had covered 270 miles in 14 days and they had 160 miles and 7 days more to go. One of the highlights of their trip was one day when they went all day without seeing a single person.

Other guides employed at Drinking Falls include Obediah Ratt, Malachi Charles, Jonas Hartlott, Solomon Ballantyne and Harry Ross. We had an opportunity to visit Harry and Maggie Ross at their tent, where they live with six of their seven children. The two younger girls occupy one tent with their parents while the two boys, 12 and 14, with Sally, 17 and Nancy 19 have a tent of their own. This year Nancy will take her Grade 12 at Prince Albert while Sally takes her Grade 9. The oldest daughter Betsy, 23, just got married in July and her and her husband are spending their honeymoon tenting at a lake further north. When the Lodge closes mid September Harry will take his family back to their house at Stanley Mission, about 2 hours away by boat. In October he will leave to go 100 miles further north by boat to spend a couple of months trapping. Some men take their families with them but because of school, Harry will go alone. Although Harry understands very little English and speaks even less he wants his children to have an education. He is very proud of his family. Nancy hopes to go on to university and after receiving a degree wants to return to live the lifestyle of her forebearers. The Cree Indian is a very happy and independent tribe of people.

About 1000 Cree Indians live at Stanley Mission. They have one church, Anglican, that is the oldest church in Saskatchewan. The lumber and stained glass windows were brought by boat from England. One of Harry's major concerns is that his house will be damaged by young Indians under the influence of alcohol, but the church is never damaged. They have been told a road will be built to the Mission, but if Saskatchewan is anything like Nova Scotia, chances are this is nothing more than political propaganda. Stanley Mission is about four hours by boat from La Ronge.

Other people employed at Drinking Falls include Grace Hoffus and her daughter Leslie, 17. Leslie completed her grade 8 when she was 13, which is all that is required by law. Now she has decided she would like to go back to school and finish her education with assistance from Canada Manpower. Although Leslie is a white girl, she would like to live the kind of life Nancy Ross has planned.

For anyone who enjoys the outdoors and fishing, a week at Drinking Falls is highly

At House of Roth Day Camp Clementsport, the following children passed their various Swim tests. recommended. For information write to Nick's winter address, 205 Greenwood Village, 3223-83rd St. N.W., Calgary, Alberta, T3B 2P9 or in summer, La Ronge, Sask. Just one word of warning: come prepared to eat more than you should and catch fish like you wouldn't believe.

Tomorrow will be an unhappy day and even Nick's pot of coffee which he brings to the cottage at 7 a.m. will do little to help. The Beaver aircraft is expected to touch down at 9 a.m., ending a beautiful but short vacation.

Ed. Note: Publisher Roy Mailman, wife Freda and son, Bruce attended the 56th Annual Convention of the Canadian Community Newspaper Association in Saskatoon, August 13-16 and later enjoyed a three day fishing trip on the Churchill River. Mr. Mailman gives his account of the days spent at the Drinking Falls Lodge.

Swim Moose River

Three Senior Counselors at House of Roth, took a cold lengthy swim across the widest distance of Moose River, just as it empties into the Annapolis Basin. Estimated as one-half mile, the distance was swum as the yearly high tide was incoming on Sunday morning, August 10th. This means that the current and tide was pulling at its greatest of any time during the year.

Completing the swim were: Gary Brennan, Sydney, N.S.; Gwen Roth, from House of Roth; and Corinna Amaro, Clementsport.

The three young people have completed their Senior House of Roth Swimmers category and the next step is to swim under more severe circumstances than the outdoor pool.

Besides the current, and chopiness of the river, the low temperature of the water, floating sea weed and the 'unknown' lend an element of fear to swimmers.

Gloria Roth was in control the boat in case of emergency.

Senior: Cindy Harrison, Annapolis Royal

On Friday evening, August 29th, all children who have attended House of Roth Day are invited to return at 7:00 p.m. to show their parents what they have learned in the various activities and to watch the performance of "Cinderella" done by the campers attending the last week of camp. This will be a Water Pageant and call friends and relatives are invited to attend!

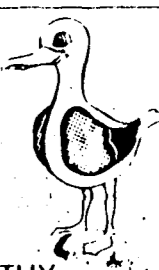

Provincial Secretary A. Garnet Brown received a cheque today for $89,249 from Olympic Lottery Canada as part of the province's share of the sale of lottery tickets. This brings to approximately $250,000 the funds turned over to the province since the lottery started for the promotion of physical fitness and amateur sport. Representing Olympic Lottery Canada was J.C. Gariepy, left. (N.S. CIC Photo)

The Bear River Cherry Carnival was a tremendous success this year and this was mainly due to the efforts of all the volunteers who worked so hard or were so generous in their donations of money, food, articles for the auction, etc.

On behalf of the Bear River Volunteer Fire Department, I would like to thank all of these people.

Frank Wm. Marshall, Chairman, Cherry Carnival.

SAMMY SEAGULL SAYS:

STAY HEALTHY USE PROPER SEWAGE TREATMENT METHODS

The following poem, contributed by a Courier Reader, was written by Mrs. Charlie Wyman, of Beaver River, Yarmouth Co.

THE SONG OF THE SEA
I love to stroll, in the Summer Dusk-Where the Shore-line turns-and twists,
And hear the shrill cry of a Lone-sea-gull
Come out of the wet-sea-mist.

Oh, give me a Home, by a wind-swept Shore,
Where the breakers surge high and wide,
For the "song of the sea" is Life, to me,
Where the Sea-weed drifts in with the Tide.

So, when I Die - Just let me lie
Where the wild waves pound the Shore,
And rock me to sleep
Where the Sea-gulls keep Their Vigils
For Evermore.

NOTICE TO ALL ROAD USERS

Important amendments to the Motor Vehicle Act

EFFECTIVE SEPTEMBER 1, 1975

1 Flares For Travel Trailers and Motorized Homes

But the additional mirrors must be removed when not towing the trailer or carrying such a load.

5 Alcohol Rehabilitation Program

The Registrar may require that a person whose driver's license has been revoked for an alcohol related driving offence to participate in an Alcohol Rehabilitation Program as a condition of restoration.

1975 Labour Day Message

By The Hon. Walter R. Fitzgerald Minister Of Labour

Monday, September First, 1975 marks the 81st anniversary of the observance of Labour Day in Canada.

I am pleased to have this opportunity to pay tribute to the hardworking men and women of this province. In spite of rapid changes in the economic state of world affairs, Nova Scotia, for the most part, continues to prosper. Our labour force, the men and women who toil daily at their various tasks, have guaranteed us this prosperity.

As we approach Labour Day, I ask each and everyone of you to reflect on this. By all means enjoy the holiday. And please drive carefully and help us to have an accident free Labour Day. But above all, take a moment to think about the tremendous contribution made to our way of life by our labour force.

During the past year we have had much success in the field of labour - management relations. Naturally, we have had some failures but by and large labour and management have proved that by working together, collective agreements can be reached without disruption in profits and pay cheques.

Regrettably, successful solutions to labour - management problems do not usually receive the same news coverage as do the more negative aspects of such negotiations. All of us are accustomed to reading headlines which state, "Strike", "Picket Lines Forming", "Workers off the Job" and the like.

These are the items that get publicized to the utmost in radio, television and the newspapers.

As Minister of Labour I can tell you that there is another side to the coin. It is the story of dedicated, hard working conciliation officers labouring long into the night and arriving at successful settlements. The patience and judgement of the men who make up our industrial relations team, plus the dedication of all parties involved, give us a good indication that labour - management relations will continue at a high level in the Province of Nova Scotia.

One of our jobs at the Department of Labour is to offer assistance, on request, to labour and management as they attempt to negotiate collective agreements. Sometimes two parties attempting to work out a solution to a problem are simply too close to the situation. At this point we are happy to supply a third party in the role of a conciliation officer to provide an impartial, objective outlook. As I mentioned a moment ago, you do not always hear or read about such successes. Perhaps there is too much emphasis on the negative side in the news media as it reports on labour-management relations.

I am happy to tell you now that there is a very positive side and a most encouraging side. The state of labour - management relations in Nova Scotia is in good shape; the collective bargaining process is serving us well and the evidence of this is clear when one realizes that already in the first seven months of 1975, 62 cases have been settled at the conciliation officer level.

As Minister, I am tremendously proud of the men and women who work with me to provide the many services of our department.

Some of our services may appear to be of an intangible nature but all of them are designed to help ensure the steady pay cheques, good working conditions and protection for workers against certain injustices which may, from time to time, occur.

We in the Department of Labour are aware of the great responsibility with which we have been charged. We are not complacent, we are not contented, we are constantly striving to do better.

I count it a great privilege to be Minister of Labour in these exciting days in Nova Scotia. I extend my personal thanks and the thanks of my department officials to the many labour organizations with which we work almost daily. I thank the management people for their continuing goodwill.

Most of all I thank the working men and women of Nova Scotia; the people who truly assure the prosperity of our great province; a work force that has great skill and talent; a work force that can hold its own with any region of the world.

Morehouse Reunion At Noel

by Mrs. Grace Morehouse Correspondent for Truro
Weekly News and Hants
Journal

The home of Mrs. Grace Morehouse, Noel (Burntcoat) was the scene of a happy event on the weekend of August 8, 9, 10, when 83 direct descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. Embree B. Morehouse, formerly of Centreville, Digby County held their third reunion in fifteen years. The first was held in Centreville in 1960 and the second in Kingston, N.S., in 1970.

Tents, trailers and cars parked on the Morehouse grounds as the weatherman cooperated fully. For many of the guests, it was the first viewing of the world-famous high tides of Burntcoat Head.

On Saturday at 6 P.M., the gathering was served a turkey dinner in the Noel Fire Hall provided by the ladies of the church and the church board of Stewards.

Following the dinner, each family contributed to an entertainment, showing a great variety of talent. There were readings, skits, solos, duets, dancing and poetry. Prize for the best family performance was won by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Marshall and family of Springfield, Mass. Prizes for individual performances were won by Debby Martin of Tupperville, Ontario, and Rebecca Hermann of New York City.

The large family worshipped at the Noel United Church on Sunday morning. Rev. David Turner, son-in-law of the late Ethel (Morehouse) Atkinson was in charge of the service. Lorne Morehouse of Toronto sang the solo, "How Great Thou Art" accompanied by Mrs. David Turner. Flowers in the church were in memory of the late Dr. Charles Morehouse and his sisters, Ethel (Mrs. Russell Atkinson) and Laura (Mrs.

Examining a 'priority flag' of the U.S. St. Lawrence Seaway Corporation are Ernest Hartling (left), master of schooner Bluenose II and N.W. Jannasch, Curator of Marine History, Nova Scotia Museum, Halifax, N.S. This week Captain Hartling turned over to the museum the flag and other gifts received by Bluenose II on its recent cruise to St. Lawrence River and Great Lakes ports. It was presented to him by officials of the U.S. seaway authority at the Snell Lock, the first one in the American portion of the seaway. The flag denotes priority of passage to other seaway vessels. After lunch on Sunday, several families departed, while others left later in the week.

The Morehouse family feels that this has been a truly memorable and wonderful experience for all concerned. Much of the success of this family reunion was made possible by the kind generosity of the friends and neighbours of Mrs. Grace Morehouse, who graciously shared accommodations with the many visitors.

The ten surviving members of the family of thirteen were all present for the event. These were: Amasa

Other members of the family attended from New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maine, Ontario, New Brunswick, as well as Nova Scotia.

The Morehouse family is looking forward to another reunion in the not too distant future.

Hope Fellowship News

In the past week the group working for the Hope Fellowship Summer Program has been engaged primarily in getting volunteers, seeing possible trainees and in establishing a new training centre in Weymouth.

Mrs. Carmen Comeau, representative from the Secretary of State, was in Digby, Tuesday, August 19th to discuss the progress of the group and the possible future establishment of the two training centres, one being opened in Weymouth and the other in Clare.

The group went on a trip to Halifax on Wednesday, August 20th for the purpose of visiting an Adult Services Training Centre to obtain ideas on work being done to assist in work with the training centres in the immediate area. The Adult Services Training Centre in Halifax truly demonstrates what can be done by the Mentally Handicapped Adults. In the training centre in Halifax the adults put in a full work day completing work contracts, making such items as Christmas cards, various containers, posters, silk screening, weaving etc.

These adults have gone beyond just being able to care for themselves and are able to work in with others effectively and construct saleable articles. We feel this should be the object of all training centres inevitably, giving the trainees confidence in themselves and in their ability to actively participate in society.

This is the last week we have to complete the work in obtaining a training centre in the Weymouth area and getting volunteers to be trained to work with the mentally handicapped adults. The success of this project depends entirely upon the people in the community. We have been given the opportunity to help the mentally retarded adults. These people have a right to all we can offer and with a little more effort on the part of the people in the area a great deal can be accomplished. Please assist us if at all possible.

This long weekend could be your last weekend.

During the long weekends last year, 22 people were killed on Nova Scotia roads.

Who killed them?
The biggest single cause of traffic accidents is inattention on the part of the driver.

It's a fact that about 50% of all traffic fatalities involve drinking drivers. Think about it. And realize that you just can't afford to relax until you get where you're going.

Highway Safety — it all depends on you the community supper the success it was.

Many women of the area cooked a large variety of delicious dishes while the men loaned a helping hand and even the children enjoyed running errands.

One man who stated that he is not a cook said he was on hand to greet the first dirty plate and so the dirty dishes never got ahead of him.

The proceeds from the Supper were for the benefit of the folk of Bay View who realized totaled over $165.00.

This is just another example of the fine spirit which prevails in the beautiful village of Bay View making it a desirable place in which to live and for young people to rear their families. Isn't it Wonderful?

Coastal Ship Stamps To Be Issued

OTTAWA—Postmaster General Bryce Mackasey has announced the issue of four eight cent stamps to commemorate Canada's coastal ships, which have contributed so much to the safety, prosperity and independence of Canadians. These stamps feature the Beaver, the Neptune, the Quadra, and the William D. Lawrence. The stamps were designed by Tom Bjarnason of Toronto and feature the Beaver, in dark green steel and gravure, the Neptune, in slate blue steel and gravure, the William D. Lawrence, in dark sepia, and the Quadra, in a lighter sepia.

A total of 26 million stamps, printed se-tenant by the British American Bank Note Company, Ottawa, will be issued on September 24.

"These attractive stamps are fitting tribute to our maritime heritage," said Mr. Mackasey. "We owe a great deal to the ships that have plied Canada's coastal waters for more than a century, and to the men who have manned them."

Canada has a long and glorious maritime tradition which is well represented by the Beaver, the Neptune, the Quadra, and the William D. Lawrence. These oceangoing ships contributed to our safety, prosperity and independence. They are typical of an era in which the square rigged sailing ship had reached its zenith and steamships were achieving a record of reliable and efficient service.

In 1834, the Hudson's Bay Company decided a steamboat would improve the Pacific coast trade. The Blackwell shipyard on the Thames built the vessel, a wooden paddle steamer approximately 101 feet long, 33 feet wide (including the paddle boxes) and weighing 109 tons. Christened the Beaver, the vessel travelled to the Pacific by sail because she couldn't carry enough coal to go by steam.

The Beaver, the first steamship in the North Pacific, proved useful in the fur trade. She overcame American competition on the coast, thus helping to preserve the area for Canada. Those who operated the Beaver used her not only to trade furs, but also to carry passengers and freight, to transport cattle, and to conduct surveys. Still hard at work, she ran aground in 1888 near Vancouver, was abandoned, and eventually broke up four years later.

Alexander Stephens and Sons of Dundee built the steamer Neptune around 1873. This shipyard produced many of the "wooden walls" of Newfoundland. The Neptune engaged in the Newfoundland sealing industry. During her career she brought in over a million pelts.

In 1884, the Canadian government chartered the Neptune for surveys in Hudson Bay. There was a proposal that a railway be built from the prairies to the Bay to open a new route for grain exports. An expedition set up ice observation posts and sought a potential railway terminus. Three years later, the government chartered the Neptune for the winter mail run to Prince Edward Island. The scheme failed because, although the vessel could withstand ice pressure, she wasn't an icebreaker. Early in the twentieth century, Neptune returned to the Arctic to help establish Canadian sovereignty there. She sank in stormy weather in 1943 near St. John's. Fleming and Ferguson shipyards of Paisley, Scotland built the Quadra in 1891 to Canadian government specifications. She was named after Juan Francisco de la Bodega Quadra, a Spanish explorer. The scholarly Captain John T. Walbran took command of the beautiful new ship.

Quadra reached British Columbia in 1892, ready to serve the Department of Marine and Fisheries. At the time, she was the only government vessel on the coast available for non-military purposes. The ship plunged into the work of servicing aids to navigation, of supporting government administration, of surveying, of transporting officials and dignitaries, and of policing the sealing and fishing industry.

In 1917, the vessel collided with another and was beached to prevent her from sinking. Refloated, she became an ore carrier. However, in 1924, the Americans seized her for rum-running and later auctioned her off for scrap.

Named after her builder, designer and owner, the William D. Lawrence was the largest wooden ship constructed in Nova Scotia during the age of sail, and the largest Canadian built square rigger. Constructed at Maitland between 1872

Editorial

Your faithful editor has been off on a well-earned vacation the past two weeks, and in her absence we have struggled to keep things on an even keel and the news coming your way in her traditional manner. Being short-staffed, she had suggested that we might do an editorial on "slave labor", but we have by-passed that idea, what with Labor Day just passed. Any errors in the past two issues were no fault of hers, so please treat her kindly when she returns.

In spite of all our modern inventions, this confusing and complicated world seems to be getting more confusing and complicated all the time. Here I sit, trying to master the metric system, and before I can get that all figured out I receive a communication on "desexing the language". If we follow all the rules given to us on this subject, trying to write the average news item will require more thinking than converting miles to kilometres, temperature to celsius, and ounces to millilitres, or whatever.

For instance, no longer can we use wording that assumes all readers are male. "You and your wife" has now become "You and your spouse". In regard to one's arising in the morning and preparing for the day, we should make no reference to shaving, though we can mention brushing the teeth! Precaution should be taken even in items of historical nature, as the use of such words as "pioneer", and "settler" must be such that can apply to both sexes. Occupational terms ending in "man" must be replaced, so that a businessman is now an executive, a fireman is a fire fighter, a mailman is a letter carrier, and a foreman is a supervisor, just to name a few. A housewife becomes a homemaker, and a cleaning woman or maid becomes a housekeeper or office cleaner. We must avoid even such titles as "woman doctor" or "male nurse".

Even the word "his", when referring to people in general, must be either deleted or changed to "their". So now, instead of the average Canadian drinking "his" coffee black, the average Canadian drinks black coffee. Cars, boats, and other miscellaneous machineries, so commonly called "she" in the past, have become "it". Where possible, avoid the titles of Mr. or Mrs., and use in place the full name, or first and last names.

Mankind is now humanity, and primitive man, the lucky guy (pardon me, I mean person!) that lived before the age of desexing language, is now a primitive people. In cases where man words must be used, pictures or other devices must be included to make it definite that such reference includes woman.

We are told that work should never be labeled as "woman's work" or as "a man-sized job"; and above all, never show a surprised attitude toward women who perform competently. In other words, we should no longer report in our pages such phrases as "though a woman, she did it as well as any man."

With all this in mind, I can see where I have already broken a few rules in the first paragraph. All I can say is that we will be most happy to have the editor return from "the" vacation so that future editions can carry on in "the" traditional manner, and so that someone else will have to worry about whether or not we have properly "desexed" the language. And here's hoping we can conquer the metric system and new language before someone comes up with something else to add to our already confused minds.

Don't know who wrote the following, but a Courier reader brought it in and we pass it on to you:

LIFE

Man comes into the world without his consent and leaves it against his will. During his stay on earth, his time is spent in one continual round of contraries and misunderstandings. In his infancy he is an angel; in his boyhood he is a devil; and, in his manhood he is everything from a skunk up. In his duties he is a fool. If he is a poor man, he is a poor manager and has no sense; if he is rich, he is dishonest, but considered smart. If he is in politics, he is a grafter and a crook; if he is out of politics you can't place him because he is an undesirable citizen. If he goes to church, he is a hypocrite; if he stays away from church, he is a sinner. If he donates to foreign missions, he does it for a show; if he doesn't he is stingy and close-fisted. When he comes into the world everybody wants to kiss him; when he goes out everyone wants to kick him. If he dies young, there was a great future before him; but if he lives to a ripe old age, he is in the way, only living to save funeral expenses. LIFE IS A FUNNY ROAD, BUT WE ALL LIKE TO TRAVEL IT JUST THE SAME.

SEE NOVA SCOTIA FIRST

How many people live in Nova Scotia who have not seen the beautiful villages, nooks and corners of their own province? A great many, we fear. They might be able to tell us about Florida or far away places but probably they never heard of Whale Cove in Digby County, the Islands as we know them and the beach at Sandy Cove and hundreds more. We could name a number of scenic rides off the beaten track as well as those seen from the highway.

Last week we had the opportunity to motor from Halifax through all the pretty villages to Sambro. It was a delightful ride. The villages, one and all, were picturesque. We had never been on that road before and felt a bit ashamed for not having seen those beautiful villages in our own Nova Scotia. Another day we had the good fortune to take a motor trip from Halifax to Bridgewater by going through the Blandford road. We've heard of Blandford before but only as a word or name. We had never been to the village of Blandford. For us that scenery had been lost until the ride last week.

We are not trying to work up business for these villages, nor do we want to take any glamor from our own villages but we could not help but think of the many scenic places that thousands of Nova Scotians have not seen in Nova Scotia. Of course, we want to broaden our horizons, to be sure, but for those who want a leisure holiday, Nova Scotia has many villages, nooks and corners of interest and beauty to explore. If someone from Digby had not been to Sambro and Blandford before then we are sure there are many Nova Scotians in the South and the East end of the province who have not seen all the beauties of Digby County. We are inclined to think that "See Nova Scotia First" would be a good motto for Nova Scotians.

SUMMER IS OVER

Although summer is not over until the 20th or 21st September, for all intent and purposes, it seems to be over now in Digby. School has started. People have made up their minds that vacation is over for families with school age children. Labor Day spells the last day of summer for most people.

Another reason to feel that summer is over is that all the summertime events are over. Digby and area have done well in providing summer festivities and recreation throughout the 1975 summer months beginning July 1st and ending September 1st, with the Digby Firemen's Country Fair at their new fire station. Weymouth Fair seemed to start things, or possibly we might go back as far as the preparation for the Apple Blossom Festival in May-June. Then there was the Bear River Cherry Carnival, Digby Natal Day, Digby Municipal Airport Day, Digby Scollop Day, Acadian Festival, Digby County Exhibition, Westport Day and Labor Day. Nine events and we almost forgot Smith's Cove Firemen's Fun Days which made ten. Not a bad effort for one summer.

Preparation and carrying out these functions successfully means an awful lot of work for some people and every credit should go to these people who manage these affairs which entertain tourists, provide activity for our own residents and generally earning money to make life just a little better each day in our communities.

Yes, managing and working at these events take time and energy. For instance, the Digby County Exhibition. How many man-hours went into preparation for that event? Until this year we had never thought of the amount of time it takes for the exhibitor to prepare exhibits. See the vegetable and fruit exhibition. We learned that you do not go to the garden and pull up just any vegetable. They have to be in good shape and meet the requirements of the particular exhibition. Some entries must be entered in specific numbers and choosing the best the garden has produced can take time. The satisfaction, however, is good. Then there is the placing of the entries to take time also. So, those of us who go to exhibitions merely to enjoy what others have done must feel a sense of gratitude to numerous persons who have given hours and days to these events.

The events for 1975 near and around Digby appear to have been over with Labor Day. So, let's face it, "Summer is over" and how we regret it.

Hodge Podge

— Expect our children have all gone back to school wearing their newly faded, wrinkled and frayed apparel. Can you just imagine mothers in "our" day letting their offspring travel off to school that way. It would have been a disgrace if mother had not replaced the old clothes which were threadbare with something new. Faded and wrinkled clothes were frowned upon. Ironing children's clothing was part of her duty. We saw one young teenager last week come home from the city with some brand new clothes and put them in the washer right there and then. While they swirled around in the washer we enquired of him "why he did that?" His answer was that he wouldn't be caught dead going to school with clothes that look new. Of course, he did not need to go to all that trouble either. You can buy the young people's clothing already faded, already frayed and already wrinkled to keep in the present day swing.

— The only hitch in taking the last two weeks for vacation is that we missed the Scallop Day which we hear was a decided success and the Digby County Exhibition which has been steadily improving every year. And there was the official opening of the housing units also.

Celebrates 90th Anniversary

Oda VanBlarcom - 90th Birthday.

On Tuesday, August 26, Miss Oda VanBlarcom, a guest at Tideview Terrace, celebrated her 90th birthday. The day began with preparation for the big event, and throughout the afternoon friends stopped by to greet her and extend their congratulations. She was presented with a lovely cake, boxes of candy, other gifts and many cards. Also during the afternoon she was taken for a drive in the country. In the evening she received special honor at the bi-weekly service held for the guests at Tideview by the Church of God.

Those who called on Miss VanBlarcom were entertained as she recalled many pleasant memories of her past life. She was born in Barton, the daughter of Hanford and Rachael (McNeill) VanBlarcom. She had two sisters, Muriel and Florence (Jones). She attended the Barton school, where, she recalled, she was punished many times, of which she hoped her parents would never hear of for it meant further discipline at home, the worst of which being sent directly to bed.

Miss VanBlarcom's father operated a store and the Post Office, and after completing her schooling she kept house for him and helped him in his business. Even after the post office was moved and the store changed hands, she continued to live in their home in Barton until February, 1974, when she moved to Tideview Terrace.

When asked if she had any comments regarding her birthday, she replied, "It's an awful job to be 90. I've been busy all day." However, she is looking forward, not only to her 91st birthday next year, but to the time when she celebrates her 95th.

Visitors of Miss VanBlarcom also enjoyed hearing her recite the following poem, which she had previously written:

Life is like a Birthday Book,
Each day marks a chapter;
Some are very dull and gray
While others speak of worth and laughter.

And some, when we read them through,
We wish that we might tear them out
And write them all anew.

But when we're finished with our writing
And our book is all complete,
We needs must blush and hesitate
To lay it at the Master's feet.

And when He reads, I wonder,
Will He frown at what He finds,
Or will His everloving eyes
Read between the lines.

25th Anniversary Surprise

Above are left to right, Mrs. Bertram Gidney of Mink Cove; Mr. and Mrs. George Height who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary and Mr. Gidney, who was Mr. Height's groomsman in 1950.

When Mr. and Mrs. George Height arrived home early Sunday evening after visiting relatives in Landdowne and Rossway, they were pleasantly surprised to be greeted by about forty relatives and friends who had assembled at the home to extend congratulations upon the 25th Anniversary of their marriage.

George and Dorothy (Ring) Height were married on September 2, 1950 at the Deep Brook United Baptist Parsonage by Rev. B. A. Cobham. The best man was Mr. Bertram Gidney of Mink Cove who was present at the anniversary. The matron of honor, Mrs. Gertrude (Height) Merritt, is deceased.

Mrs. Height wore a corsage of pink gladioli and fern and Mr. Height, a white carnation, as they did at their wedding 25 years ago.

Many gifts were received in keeping with their 25th anniversary and a monetary gift from the family was in Ten Dollar bills to form the numeral 25 on a silver background.

Mr. Height's gift to Mrs. Height was a silver pin with matching earrings, and Mrs. Height's gift to her husband was a set of silver cufflinks and tie clasp.

As the honored couple opened their gifts the cards were read by Mrs. Brian Kierstead, Misses Patsy and Maxine Height, Mr. Hazen Height and other relatives and by Mr. Bertram Gidney. A tiered anniversary cake was cut by the bride and groom of 25 years, and other delicious refreshments were served by the Misses Patsy and Maxine Height, Mrs. Hazen Height, and the Misses Sheila and Joanne Roope, with tea being served by Mrs. Brian Kierstead and Mrs. Archie Beaton.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Height expressed their thanks and appreciation for all the gifts received, and for the good wishes of their relatives and

Weddings

STARK WENTZELL

A quiet but pretty wedding, was solemnized at the United Baptist Church in Digby on Saturday, August 23rd, 1975, when Kathy Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Llewelyn Wentzell of Mt. Pleasant, became the bride of Rodney Emdon, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stark of Bay View.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Howard Hartlin of Port Wade.

The bride looked lovely as she entered the church on the arm of her father. Her gown was of chantilly lace over taffeta and her shoulder length veil was held in place by a small head piece made up of tiny white rosebuds. She carried a cascade of red roses.

Sharon Wentzell, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a floor length gown of pink peau de soie with pink nylon overlay and she wore a large picture hat to match her dress. She carried a bouquet of white shasta daisies.

Robert Stark, Jr., only brother of the groom, was best man and the ushers were Jerry Connelly, Jr. and Alvin Carty, both brothers-in-law of the groom.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a floor length gown of coral crimplene and wore a corsage of orange tinted mums to match her dress.

The groom's mother wore a crimplene floor length gown of multi colors and wore a corsage of green tinted mums.

A reception followed at the home of the groom where about 50 guests were present. The table and room were tastefully decorated for the occasion. A beautifully decorated cake which was made by Leona Mosher, sister of the bride, centered the table, and was cut in traditional manner by the bride and the groom.

The toast was proposed to the bride by Gerry Connelly and responded to by the groom.

They received many beautiful and useful gifts, along with a sum of money.

The happy couple left for a short trip, the bride wearing a long dress of assorted colors and white accessories.

They will reside in Mt. Pleasant where the groom is employed with the Digby Courier.

FIREMEN DOWN LEGION 10-6 AND EVEN SERIES

In a do or die situation the Smith coached Firemen played a steady game and gave support to their pitcher Brian Haynes to down the Legion 10-6 and even their Series at a game, a piece. This game was played on August 29th, and was indeed a real thrill for the Firemen who had waited so long for victory. The single cause of defeat for the Legion was the wildness of Derrick Jordan, who gave up a total of thirteen walks and only two hits while striking out fourteen. The Legion outthit the Firemen 8 to 2 but poor fielding and a listless attack spelled defeat for them. Forrest and Haynes got the only two hits off Jordan. Derrick Jordan with four for five (three singles and double) was the leading batter for the losers. David Margolian and Michelle accounted for four of the runs scored by the Firemen. Keith Mackintosh had two. The next game in this Series will be played on Friday, 5th September, at 6:15 p.m. It is a toss-up to who will win.

Behind the two hit pitching of Kirk Mackintosh and the steady play of his team mates the Kiwanis downed the Merchants 7-1 to deadlock Series "B" at a game apiece. This game was played on August 27th and there were several well executed plays by both teams. Mackintosh went the route for the winners, he allowed two hits, struck out sixteen and walked eight while Burgoyne gave up four hits, seven runs and struck out twelve while issuing seven walks in a losing cause. The Kiwanis scored a run in the first and second, three in the third and two in the sixth and the Merchants scored their only run in the third although they had the bases loaded on two occasions. Kirk Mackintosh had a double and two singles in four trips to lead the offence for the Kiwanis. Frank Jefferson got the other hit. Gary Saulnier, Perry Goucer and Paul Gidney combined for four runs reaching base on walks for the Ritcey coached Kiwanis. The Comeau-Wood coached Merchants could not muster a sustained attack and therefore lost the contest. The tie breaking game is anyone's and the team that comes up with a steady game will win no predictions.

LIONS ELIMINATE K OF C IN SERIES "A" BY SCORE 5-4

In the second game of this Series the Lions behind the three hit pitching of Joey Hattie eliminated the K of C by the score of 5-4. As in the first meeting of these two teams it was a pitchers' duel between Hattie and Wong. Wong gave up five hits (three for extra bases), struck out sixteen and walked two in a losing cause while Hattie struck out sixteen, walked three for the victory. The Cross And Switchblade Goes To Film

THE CROSS AND THE SWITCHBLADE is one of the outstanding films of recent months - an explosive motion picture that bares the raw needs at the core of drug addiction, racial hatred and violence. Never has a film been more timely.

Adapted from the autobiographical best-seller of the same title, the film relates the dramatic experiences of Rev. David Wilkerson, fresh from the country... defenseless and alone... facing the New York ghettos with its street gangsters and dope addicts, courageously proclaiming a revolutionary message of love and hope. "Death was not the only door out of the hell that trapped them." On three occasions this crusade nearly cost him his life.

THE CROSS AND THE SWITCHBLADE is a movie for people who care... for people who love... people who themselves seek "a better way." Here is a movie for you.

Pat Boone stars as David Wilkerson with co-stars Erik Estrada, Jackie Giroux, Dino DeFilippi and Jo-Ann Robinson. A special showing of THE CROSS AND THE SWITCHBLADE has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday September 12 and 13 at Yarmouth Mern. High School.

Tickets will be sold at the door.

For further information contact Bob Stewart Phone 742-4495.

Jehovah's Witnesses

"Jehovah's Witnesses from nine congregations of the more westerly counties of Nova Scotia will gather in assembly at the Dr. Geo. A. Burrage Vocational School in Yarmouth, during the weekend of September 13th and 14th" so announced Manfred Steimecke of the local congregation.

"The purpose of the two day seminar" said Mr. Steimecke "is to learn more about the bible and the application of scriptural principles in our daily lives. Also the strengthening of the family unit in true worship of Jehovah God as a safeguard against the difficult times in which we live. People are truly looking for a really safe refuge" he continued, "and many are finding it by 'the discovery' of bible truths. This is evidenced" he said "by the great number of newly formed congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses across Canada and throughout the world. The most recent one formed locally being the Barrington Passage Congregation".

Mr. Harold McCallum, District Supervisor for the Witnesses will deliver the public address on Sunday at 2:00 p.m. The title of the discourse is "How the Kingdom of God Affects You".

Potato Blight

Potato late blight has now been found in several locations in Nova Scotia including Halls Harbour, Pereau, Kings County and Havelock, Digby County. These findings would indicate that the disease is more widespread

It is therefore important for growers to continue with their regular fungicide spray program, especially since the cooler night temperatures are causing heavy dews on potato foliage. Prior to digging your crop, the field should be checked carefully for presence of blight and if found a top killer should be applied. The tops should be killed for 10-14 days and there should be no green tissue remaining for several days before digging, to ensure that the blight spores are dead.

Tomato growers are reminded that they should continue with their regular spray program as well.

Unprescribed Drugs And Birth Defects

What is a drug?
It is any substance used as a medicine or in the preparation of medical or chemical mixtures.

What is a narcotic?
A drug which, even when used in moderate amounts, causes an exaggerated sense of well-being, apathy, drowsiness or sleep. Narcotics also relieve pain.

What is meant by "addiction?"
Many (though not all) frequent users of narcotic drugs, tobacco or alcohol develop a physical dependence—that is, inability to stop abruptly and completely without severe physical suffering. This is known as addiction. Suppose a woman who is addicted to narcotic drugs becomes pregnant. Can her addiction affect the child?

Yes. Physical dependence on narcotic drugs can be passed by a mother to her child, with the result that the child may be addicted at birth.

Can cigarette smoking by an expectant mother affect the unborn child?
Yes. A recent report by the Public Health Service cites increasing evidence of "a strong, probably causal association between cigarette smoking and higher late fetal and infant mortality among smokers' infants." This means that stillbirths, and infant deaths occur more frequently among offspring of women who smoke during pregnancy than of those who do not. Smoking during pregnancy tends to reduce the weight of the baby, and low birth weight, in turn, increases the risk of infant death.

What about the effects of alcohol consumption during pregnancy?
Use of alcoholic beverages increases calorie consumption which can have adverse effects both on a pregnant woman and on her unborn child. Alcohol should be taken only as allowed by a physician who knows of the pregnancy.

What other categories of drugs are being widely used?
Hallucinogens, also called psychedelic or "mind-changing" drugs, are among those most widely used. The best-known of these is LSD. These drugs alter the user's sensations and emotions. They include LSD, mescaline, hashish and (when taken in large amounts) marijuana.

Can frequent users of these drugs develop addiction, too?
Not in the medical sense of physical dependence. But many doctors believe that frequent and prolonged use of the hallucinogens can cause psychological dependence which results in severe anxiety or restlessness if the user is deprived of the drug abruptly.

Do these mind-changing drugs have any medical value?
Some have been used experimentally by doctors, but none has been approved for routine medical practice.

Can their use affect the unborn child?
Some scientific investigators believe that use of LSD by pregnant women sometimes causes breakage of the chromosomes (the elements that determine heredity), and that this in turn can cause birth defects. According to a statement endorsed by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare,

"Until further research throws more light on the question, medical authorities warn that the drug (LSD) must be considered a definite risk, and women of child-bearing age are particularly advised not to use the drug."

What other kinds of drugs should one look out for?
The so-called "Up" and "Down" drugs are an important category. They include the Amphetamines or "pep" pills; the Barbiturates, which have a calming or sleep-inducing effect; and the Tranquilizers.

Is it safe for a pregnant woman to take these?
No. Not unless they are prescribed by a doctor who knows of her pregnancy.

What about vitamin pills?
Vitamins can be highly beneficial during pregnancy, and are frequently prescribed by doctors. But vitamins that are not prescribed can be harmful if the wrong kind is taken or the wrong quantity. The question of vitamin pills, and many other kinds of pills, belongs to still another category of drugs—namely, medicinal products or "home remedies" that are legally sold without a prescription and are commonly used without the advice of a physician.

What about all these unprescribed drugs? Can any of them be taken safely by an expectant mother?
No.
Why not?
Any drug, no matter how safe and reliable under other circumstances, could turn out to be harmful to a specific mother at a specific time. Medical science hasn't yet determined the answers to this problem. But we all remember, or have heard about, the terrible episode of a decade ago when a new drug—thalidomide—taken by expectant mothers produced severe deformities in their babies. Nobody wants that to happen again—least of all to his or her own child. And there is only one sure way to prevent it.

What way?
Use NO medicines or drugs during pregnancy unless prescribed by the one person who has sufficient information about you and your pregnancy and all the conditions surrounding it. In other words—your doctor. No unprescribed drugs? But that doesn't mean I can't take a mild laxative during pregnancy if I need one—does it?

No drug of any kind should be taken without asking your doctor. And laxatives are drugs. They may be harmful to you but not to your baby.

Suppose I get a little heart-burn, or that "gassy" feeling. Couldn't I take one of those pleasant-tasting digestive aids?
All digestive aids are medicines—drugs. If you have a problem, ask your doctor. And take only what he recommends.

What about aspirin for a headache?
Aspirin is medicine. Pills, tablets, capsules of any kind—all are medicine. None should be taken without the express approval of your doctor.

What about an ointment or salve to soothe an itch, a burn, an insect bite?
Ointments and salves are medicine, too. They can be absorbed into the body through the skin. Your doctor might suggest something you could safely use.

And those sleepless nights—couldn't I take a sedative?
No—not if a doctor who knows you are pregnant hasn't given it to you. A warm shower or sponge bath at bedtime might help you sleep. Or a cup of hot cocoa or warm milk taken after you get into bed. But an unprescribed drug? No.

What about a little wake-up pill when I'm feeling droopy in the daytime?
Definitely not. Wake-up pills, calm-down pills, vitamins, minerals, laxatives, nose drops, cough and cold remedies—they're all medicine. And ANY KIND OF MEDICINE COULD BE HARMFUL unless recommended by a doctor who knows you are pregnant.

Well, okay—but isn't that a pretty strict set of rules for a woman who just wants to have a baby?
You don't "just want to have a baby," do you? You want to have a normal, healthy baby. That means doing everything you possibly can to prevent birth defects. But look at the bright side: If you really need any medication, your doctor will give you what you need. The important thing is to TAKE NOTHING (REPEAT, NOTHING) that is not prescribed for you during your pregnancy.

$1000 Grant For Digby County Exhibition

The Digby County Exhibition was presented a $1,000 cheque from the provincial department of recreation, by Digby M.L.A. Joe Casey, at the official opening Wednesday night.

The cheque, presented to the exhibition president Rueben Mervin came under the department's capital construction of recreation facilities program, and was awarded to assist with general repairs to facilities on the show grounds.

Earlier this year, the exhibition society was awarded a $1,000 grant from the Digby municipal council.

Celine Campbell, M.P. for Southwest Nova, officially opened the exhibition.

She urged area residents to attend the show to view the results of Digby County's agricultural yields.

Can You Help Solve

THE MYSTERY OF TAFFY?

Taffy is a black Labrador Retriever with a white chest and four white paws. On the morning of Tuesday, 26 August, he vanished from his home in Granville Ferry and despite exhaustive search and enquiry throughout the area, no trace of Taffy has been found. He is too big a dog not to be noticed by someone if he had met with an accident, and he is far too intelligent to simply wander away and lose himself. Being friendly, he may well have allowed himself to be transported beyond the area he knows, or he may have been stolen. In either case he would soon escape and try to return home. The only possible clue is that a dog answering his description was seen, by a friend, who knows him well, in a Jeep station wagon similar to that possessed by his owners. This vehicle was believed to be green or yellow, and was seen in Annapolis Royal.

Taffy is being sorely missed, and any information leading to his recovery, or to the solution of the mystery of his disappearance, will be greatly appreciated and well rewarded.

THE DIGBY COURIER

A Matter Of Opinion

Some folks don't like a rainy day
But I don't mind 't all
In fact, I feel a calm content
That comes when rain drops fall.

The quiet hush that settles down
Brings rest from rush and toil;
Refreshing coolness seems to ease
Both mind and sun-baked soil.

It brings a halt to hurried strife,

A peaceful rainy day;
So, come on, little rain drops,
I don't mind how long you stay.

LAW ENFORCEMENT LINE-UP - An aircraft and four vehicles are some of the law enforcement units now patrolling Nova Scotia highways. Amendments to the Motor Vehicle Act, effective September 1, mean higher fines, stiffer penalties and longer suspensions for those convicted of traffic violations. RCMP Superintendent J.A.B. Riddell, H. Division, Halifax, and Honourable Leonard L. Pace, Q.C., Minister of Highways inspected the vehicles this week near Halifax. Left to right are an RCMP mobile breathalyzer, and interceptor car, a Cessna 172 patrol aircraft, a highways road transport car and a mechanical inspection vehicle that does random road tests of vehicles. Tribute to The Late Roy Laurence

Following is a tribute issued by Hon. Gerald A. Regan, Q.C., Premier of Nova Scotia on the passing of Roy Laurence, Q.C. chief Clerk of the Nova Scotia House of Assembly:

I was deeply shocked and saddened to learn of the sudden death of Roy Laurence, a most distinguished Nova Scotian who will be sorely missed by all who knew him.

It is difficult to know where to begin in paying tribute to Roy as he was a man of many parts whose colorful and varied career spanned so many areas of endeavour.

As a practising lawyer for 40 years he made a tremendous contribution to the legal profession of Nova Scotia. Aside from his private practise, he served as a crown prosecutor and was for several years town solicitor for Annapolis Royal.

Perhaps most Nova Scotians will remember Roy Laurence best for his immeasurable contribution to the public life of this province as an official of the legislature for 32 years. He began his association with the House of Assembly in 1943 as deputy clerk in which capacity he served for two years. From 1945 up until the present he was chief clerk of the Nova Scotia House of Assembly. I believe his record in this regard is unique in that he served under seven different administrations.

His vast knowledge of parliamentary rules and procedure over the years earned him an enviable reputation among parliamentarians not only in Nova Scotia and Canada, but throughout the British Commonwealth where he was an active participant in commonwealth Parliamentary Association activities.

I am sure that all members of the legislature share in the sentiment that Roy's untimely death brings to a close a most significant chapter in the illustrious history of the Nova Scotia House of Assembly.

The many friends and acquaintances of Roy Laurence in the legal, municipal and legislative fields will greatly miss not only his counsel and experience - but also the great charm and wit of the man. With the greatest respect, Roy was a wholly unforgettable character, colorful and a raconteur extraordinary.

At this time I wish to extend my deepest sympathy and regrets to the members of his family. Roy Laurence is gone but his memory will be perpetuated by the accomplishments he has left behind.

Tender Let For Meteghen Sewage System

The Clare Municipal Council has accepted in principle, tenders for the Sewage Treatment System in Meteghen. The project had been divided into three stages. Stage 1 which is the sewage treatment plant was awarded to Roscoe Const. Limited for $275,950.00. Stage 2 to Carl B. Potter Limited for $554,810.00 and stage 3 to Carl B. Potter Limited for $372,740.00. The three jobs are to run concurrently. The entire project should be finished within one year.

Inter-Provincial Engineering of Yarmouth designed the system and has been retained by the Municipality to supervise the construction of the project. Although the tendered price was approximately 20 percent higher than the estimates of one year ago, additional grants have been made available to municipal units for construction of sewage disposal systems. Those additional grants will still keep the cost for usage to the residents pretty much at the level of one year ago.

Camp Program Ends

House of Roth Day Camp had its Parent's Night program on Friday, August 29th and over 200 people were in attendance. The program consisted of parents viewing the progress their children had made in the various activities, plus an Aquatic Version of "Cinderella", and swim awards.

In the water version of "Cinderella", the youngest members of the Day camp became the little mice friends that decorated a pretty dress for Cinderella, with Adam Neish as "Gus" the lead mouse. As the story unfolded, the older boys were the "prancing white horses" that the Fairy God Mother turned from mice to pull the carriage, and the six top-hatted coachmen that came from green lizards. Counselors portrayed the Fairy God Mother and Cinderella and the prince in advanced synchronized swimming routines. As midnight tolls the hour, the older girls became the numbers of the clock and swam with the numbers and hands, followed by the prince searching for the girl who lost the glass slipper. Cheryl VanTassell symbolically portrayed "Cinderella".

In the House of Roth swim program, progress cards were earned this past week by the following: Senior, Susan Walsh, Brooklyn; Debbie Lincoln, Clementsvalle; Susan Bailey, Round Hill; Mary Neish, Halifax; Sarah Bryan, Granville Ferry. Intermediate awards went to: Scott Ritchie, Round Hill; Rory Rafuse, Annapolis Royal; Debbie LeCain, Round Hill; Sharon Lincoln, Clementsvalle; Perry Boone, Nashwaaksis, N.B.; Suzanna Cundill, Annapolis Royal. Junior cards were earned by: Barbara Cundill, Annapolis Royal; Cheryl VanTassell, Digby; David Robinson, Round Hill; Kim Longmure,

Much Needed Rain Hinders Attendance Exhibition

Heavy rains Saturday, although needed for people's water supply, ruined chances for record attendance at the Digby County Exhibition, exhibition president Reuben Mervin said Monday.

"Had the rain held off, attendance records would have been shattered."

"As it turned out, attendance for 1975 was slightly below last year, he said.

"Regardless of the weather, the show was an unqualified success with an increase in entries and 'tremendous' support from local merchants, service groups, and individuals," he said.

Close Of Application

Halifax- With only one week left until the close of applications for the 1975 Local Initiatives Program, officials of the Department of Manpower and Immigration have expressed some concern over the number of applications received to date.

"We have approximately 1,700 applications out in the field right now," said J.P. LeBlanc, Director, Manpower, Nova Scotia. "And so far, we have only received seventy-three back in their completed form."

Traditionally, people wait until the last week or so to file the applications. Mr. LeBlanc added, "I urge them to try and submit the completed forms as soon as possible."

The federal department is also anxious to see as many new sponsors as possible come forward this year. "New sponsors," said Mr. LeBlanc, "will bring fresh, creative ideas, that will ultimately benefit all citizens."

"One new feature in the Local Initiatives Program for 1975 is that private employers can submit proposals for projects that will create jobs, and improve their local community," he added. "These projects, however, can not contribute to the normal profit making activity of a business, or enhance the value of private property. At the same time, a company sponsoring a project would be benefiting its relationship with the community at large."

There are thirty-eight Canada Manpower outlets across the province through which people interested in making application for the Local Initiatives Program can receive information and assistance.

The deadline for applications is September 12th.

Fire Department Seeks L.I.P. Grant

At a meeting of the Digby Neck Fire Commissioners was held, on Friday, September 5th, at the Sandy Cove Community Hall. The Commission was informed that applications for a L.I.P. grant, and a recreation grant, have been made. If the grants are given, Digby Neck will have its first Firehall-Recreation center. A sizeable piece of land has been donated in Mink Cove and plans are hopeful that this will be the site of the new recreation center and firehall.

Reg Comeau, Fire Chief, attended the meeting and reported that he had received a donation of boots and jackets from the Middleton Fire Co. and a donation of hose from the Kingston Fire Company. These donations were gratefully acknowledged.

The truck is in its new home on Digby Neck and the firemen are working diligently to learn how to use same and see that it is ready in case it's ever needed. Classes are being conducted at the Sandy Cove Community Hall on 2nd and 4th Fridays of each month at 8:00 p.m.

Bingo continues to draw a good crowd on Saturday nights and the response has been great. During the past three weeks door prizes have been won by Richard Walker, Ellen Cann and John Gidney. A prize donated by Mrs. Violet Cann was won by V. Shaw, a donation of gasoline by Victor Titus was won by Mrs. R. Daley and a donation by Mrs. Marion Walker was won by Michael O'Neil. Jackpot winners have been Barbara Bishop and John Gidney.

The Commission will hold its meetings once a month from here forward. All business will be conducted at the Sandy Cove Community Hall on 1st Friday of each month. Next meeting will be Friday, October 3, at 8:00 p.m.

Villa Acadienne Officially Open

The official opening of the Villa Acadienne a home for the aged in Meteghan took place at 2 p.m. on August 25th with Hon. Harold Huskisson, minister of Social Services of the province and Hon. Benoit Comeau, minister of the Provincial Public Works, Miss Colin Campbell Federal Member for South-Western Nova constituency were on hand. A large number of invited guests were on hand.

Hon Huskisson speaking to the audience told the group that the new Villa Acadienne replaces the former St. Mary's Municipal Home in Meteghan Centre which had outlived its usefulness. The new Home represented the concern and work of many persons of the Municipal Council, architects and the Provincial and Federal Governments.

Many problems had been overcome. Today we have a staff of 18 to operate the Villa Acadienne with Mr. Henry Saulnier as administrator. There are 45 beds of which 21 are occupied today. The Villa provides facilities which were not present in the old Home.

The residents will enjoy the facilities of the new Home. I'm sure that we are all aware that it does not take great men or women to make a successful place as this a good place for the aged people but dedicated people. What you are, God gave to you but what you do for others is your gift to God, said Hon. Huskisson. Omer Blinn, warden of the municipality of Clare, spoke briefly, and stated the Council was very proud of the new Villa Acadienne with its facilities for the aged. We cannot but look to the future, said Mr. Blinn, we will need additional beds and provide nursing care beds.

The building is very modern and the staff is qualified to operate it for the benefit of the persons staying here, said Mr. Blinn. The building was estimated to cost $620,000.00 but actually cost $720,000 which figures to cost $15,000.00 per bed and I have been told, said Mr. Blinn, that in some such homes it has cost as high as $20,000.00 per bed.

The Board of Directors of the Villa Acadienne are: Hubert Comeau, Meteghan Centre, president; Gerard Lombard, Cobierrie; Maurice Robichaud, St. Bernard; Acapit Deveau, Salmon River; Yvonne LeBlanc, Little Brook; Evangeline Deveau, Mavillette; Henry Saulnier, Meteghan.

A buffet lunch was served immediately following the official opening speeches. All those present were invited to visit the entire Villa at their convenience before leaving. Spacious two-bed rooms were available to boarders and some single bed rooms were also available. Lounging rooms are spacious as well as the dining and reception rooms.

Survey Troubler Areas

At a committee meeting attended by Deputy Mayor Philip Robertson, Town Councillor Eileen Chipman and Cst. D.E. Lord, RCMP, it was decided to make a thorough survey of all the trouble areas in the town. This was reported at the Digby Town Council meeting on Tuesday evening by Sgt. Thomas Barow, RCMP. They also took a look at the loading zones and traffic signs. Sgt. Barow said the loitering situation at the War Memorial in down-town Digby has improved.

Seventy-seven complaints were laid in August the sergeant reported: Court convictions were 14 under the Liquor Control Act, 12 Motor Vehicle Act, eight under criminal code and three under the by-law section. There were eight cases of property damage. Twenty warnings were given and one criminal code case withdrawn. One bicycle was stolen, one found, one fire attended by the police and two businesses were found unlocked. Hours worked were 519 (regular and overtime) Fines collected $42 to town, $25.00 provincial and $100 to Federal level.

Another motion regarding fences was carried. Councillor William Reid moved that the Town represent its own fences on the business street and notify owners of businesses that they are responsible for their own down-town fencing. The subject was introduced because of the danger of small children slipping through openings to the shore.

Mrs. Chipman also suggested that there should be a by-law to have businesses closed at night because they contribute to the noise.

Building Applications Amount To $320,500

Carl Niemeyer, Rossway, the building inspector for the Town of Digby reported at Tuesday's regular meeting that three building permits were acted upon in August. One was for alterations and two for new construction.

Douglas French, Sydney St, was given permission to erect a three story, 18 unit apartment building with lot frontage on West St. Cost of construction is estimated at $250,000 fee $115.

Edwards Fine Foods Ltd., Herring Cove was given permission by Mr. Niemeyer to erect a Col Sanders Kentucky Fried Chicken establishment on a lot fronting Warwick and Victoria St. Estimated cost $60,000 to $80,000 Fee $40.00.

Mrs. Beatrice Vidito, Victoria St., was permitted to add a porch to the existing building at her home. Amount $500. Fee 2.00.

Total costs came to $320,500 and fees $157.

Mr. Niemeyer recommended Digby Town Council to give serious thought to zoning bylaws to designate commercial areas and residential areas.

Cards were printed with information of Permission to Build, Permission to Alter, Permission to repair and Permission to Demolish and Remove.

Canada Leads World With New Fisheries Chart

Canadian fishermen may soon be using new fisheries charts that are likely the most advanced of their kind in the world.

As a result of an extensive survey of fisheries chart users, the Canadian Hydrographic Service has produced two prototype charts covering the Browns Bank area off southwest Nova Scotia. The new charts are being circulated among fishermen in the Maritimes for their comments.

Basic changes in the prototypes (identified as charts 15124-F and 15134-F) involve the use of metric contour lines and colour shading to portray deep and shallow features of the sea floor, a coded-number method of indicating bottom roughness and composition, and the combined use of both Loran-A and Loran-C latitudes as an aid to electronic positioning.

Being able to quickly pinpoint shallow or deep waters and knowledge of the composition and topographic character of the sea bed are matters of vital concern to fishermen in setting their nets.

Questionnaires, together with free copies of the prototype and existing fisheries charts, are being distributed to chart users from the Fisheries and Marine Service regional headquarters at Halifax, N.S. Future production and or modifications to the prototype charts will depend largely on the results of this survey.

A display featuring the new charts will form part of the Fisheries and Marine Service's exhibit at the Nova Scotia Fishermen's Exhibition at Lunenburg, N.S. September 16-20.

Society Aids Bonny Lee Farm

Mrs. Louise Stephen was hostess for the monthly meeting of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society at her home on the evening of September 2nd. Mrs. B. Hutchins, President, presided. Twenty-three members and two guests, Mr. and Mrs. Donald White, were present.

The various committees gave reports on the activities carried on during the summer, at the areas under the care of the Garden Club.

A letter was read from Bonny Lee Farm, Chester, N.S., expressing appreciation for a donation received from the Garden Club. An invitation was given to the members to visit the Farm and learn what was being done for disadvantaged adults and children. The Club will send further donations.

Miss Marjorie Tupper thanked the Garden Club members who had conducted a plant table at the recent Hospital Fair.

Reports were given on the garden at the former Tourist Bureau, the Admiral Digby Park, Library window boxes, Loyalist Cemetery and concrete planters on Water Street.

All are cared for by committees and had produced many colorful blooms over the summer months.

The main business session was the report of the August Flower Show.

Town Gets Grants

Glen Pitman, Digby Town Clerk, reported on Tuesday evening that checks for $2000 and $800 had been received from government officials. The $2000 grant was for repairs to the bandstand and $800 was for the Information Bureau.

It was reported that the Digby Town float had won prizes both in parades at Bear River and Annapolis Royal.

Complaints were read regarding noise following dances at the Digby Branch Canadian Legion Hall. Also verbal complaints were made. A letter to request that the noise be rectified will be sent to the RCMP with a copy to R.G. Robertson, Queen St.

Discussion also centred around the traffic on Victoria St. where councillors felt an overpass should have been constructed. Traffic they said just sails through.

A letter will be sent to the Department of Highways with copies to Premier Gerald Regan and Joseph Casey M.L.A.

Makes Dean's List

Daniel Haight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Haight, Hill Grove, was named on the St. Francis Xavier University Dean's List. The honor was for academic achievement during the 1974-75 year. There was a total of 375 who made the Dean's List, 236 are Nova Scotia residents. Others were from New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland. Eighty-eight St. F.X. students reside in the town of Antigonish where the University is situated and in the County near by. Daniel has returned to St.

F.X. for his third year in Physical Education. He had graduated from the Digby Regional High School where he was interested in sports and had also earned a scholarship.

Mr. Haight was married in the summer of 1975 to Miss Linda Lewis of Doucetteville. Mrs. Haight is presently taking courses at the Antigonish High School.

Accompanying the couple to Antigonish were Daniel's parents who visited with Mr. and Mrs. Haight before returning to Hill Grove.

Michael Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Ross, Digby, left last week for Oregon, Michigan, where he will attend the Oregon Bible College. He intends taking a four year course.

Michael, 18 years, graduated from Grade XII at the Digby Regional High School where drama was his favourite activity. He had the leading role in The Match Maker which they played shortly before the 1975 summer vacation.

Three Speak Before Council

Charles Ramsey and Vincent Snow were on Tuesday evening accorded fifteen minutes each to speak before the regular Digby Town Council meeting as requested.

Mr. Ramsey asked Council to install a street light across from his home on Warwick St. and offered his reasons for making the request. He also referred Council to two bumps on the pavement near his house which are passed over noisily by trucks which also shake the house, causing cracks in the walls and floors.

Mr. Snow in his presentation referred to the letter read from the Nova Scotia Liquor License Board which advised that a hearing will be held on September 24 at the Digby Court House regarding an application of the Knights of Columbus, Digby, for a liquor license. Mr. Snow voiced his disapproval of such a license being granted and suggested that the town should show their opposition to a move for more liquor licenses in town. Councillor Eileen Chipman moved that a letter be sent to the Nova Scotia Liquor License Board opposing the granting of a license to the Knights of Columbus. The motion was defeated for want of a seconder.

Mr. Snow also suggested that the town should have a town manager with professional engineering qualifications. He felt that such a step would be more conducive to people running for the offices of mayor and councillors in Digby.

In the business arising out of the minutes Councillor Chipman referred to the fence requested by Randy Cummings between his property and the Town's parking lot on First Avenue. Mrs. Chipman made a motion to that effect which was defeated by five nay votes. The matter first came up at the August Council meeting when Mr. Cummings presented his case that vehicles were using his property to go to the town parking lot. Most councillors were of the opinion that building a fence there should be a 50-50 basis. To do

MIGHTY GOOD SUBSTITUTES

Excuse us if we repeat once more, "You don't miss the water until the well runs dry". Neither do you miss the phone until on the staff you can't rely. That is what happened a few weeks ago when the Maritime Tel and Tel craftsmen went on strike and the operators declined to cross the picket lines. We had no one to connect us with our long distance clients and friends. At least, not until you tried again and again in regular half hour intervals to get response. It was one way to find out that a telephone today is an essential service to be appreciated.

We do not intend to take sides in this dispute of the craftsmen with their company, the Maritime Tel and Tel. We know enough about running a business to realize that wages cannot continue to soar and businesses, even the size of the MT & T, (Pity the really small business) continue to survive. We also know that when employees in one type of work demand high wages, others will follow with like demands from their employers in other fields. It is almost necessary because of the vicious circle created by rising wages and spiralling commodity prices. We can readily figure that one out and wonder where it will stop. Looks as if adjustment might have to come from the top brass down.

But, that is not the intention of this editorial. We want to give a bouquet to the courteous management personnel who have filled in for operators during the MT & T strike. Service was good under the circumstances. The management actually sounded happy and eager to give the best service possible to the patrons. It was a real pleasure to ask for their service. Not that we have a quarrel with the regular operators, but there is a distinction when operating the switch board is not exactly the management's regular routine. Still, they sounded as though they were really enjoying the change and we've had other people express the same sentiment.

We take off our hats to the personnel who substituted in time of emergency. They have done nobly in keeping the M. T. & T. in the good graces of the public.

MONEY AWAKES?

Money talks, so they say but not in its sleep. Somehow money awakes. Or, so it seemed last week when radio and press made for their headlines "Mayor $12,000 per year. Councillors $3,000." It made conversation all the rest of that week and more to come no doubt. Yes, money awakes when it pushes the purse strings.

Whether the action of Town Council was a good move or not will be seen. It has both its merits and demerits and without question has a mighty lot of wrinkles to iron out. It is a many sided factor encompassing much and bears thorough analysis. So, at present we'll refrain from comment like Councillor Gordon Ellis, who told us he abstained from voting on the $12,000 salary for mayor. On the other vote on $3000 for councillors, Councillor Ellis voted a definite "Nay". That still leaves only one councillor who actually and definitely voted against the motions.

As we said, money awakes as well as talks which can be verified by the conversations around town since that Tuesday night of a week or more ago. Whether Digby Town people awake enough to nominate a mayor we'll probably not know until September 23rd. Nomination Day. So far we have not heard of any nominations submitted.

However, the action at the Council meeting and the conversation down town brings us to a point when we have to look twice in expecting town officials to sacrifice their business or that of their employers, and sacrifice health and recreation to meet the demands which go with running a town like Digby today. We fear that gone are the days when people take pride in serving their town as Mayor or councillor without some form of remuneration. Such a price tag, too, that everything does have to have a price tag. But, most people have no other choice than to earn a living in today's competitive world and where can you find enough retired persons to fill the seats of one mayor and six councillors. Meetings and numerous committee chores take hours of time. Remuneration of some kind should compensate in some measure for time and money lost in serving a community. Just how much is another question.

But, whether mayor and councillors are paid or not paid, we feel that our civic representatives do what seems to them to be right and deserve our respect whether for payment or gratis. We rather think that respect, interest and assistance are sought more often than remuneration. Definitely all councillors are not of the same opinion and towns-people are not always in accord with the thinking of councillors. Just the same there can be understanding and discussion to bring the subject into the light and come to a favorable solution for the majority. Instead of a negative criticism, those of our town heads need and want our constructive criticism.

How much are we, standing on the outside looking in, to blame for crisis situations which come to our small town management. Do we visit Council meetings because of our interest or just when we have a gripe or a chip to be knocked off our shoulder. What percentage of our people get out for civic elections or ratepayers meetings.

Whether last week's town council motions were right or wrong, there is the fact that they seem to have awakened the interest of many people in town and out of town. Money talks and money wakes. What the cost? That is another factor. What is to be done about it!

Hodge Podge

— Quoting Councillor Gordon Ellis at the town's regular session when referring to policing the Town "There's a lot of Court work. It's going up, up, up. Are the sentences going up, up, up?"

— We were privileged to stay at the Admiral Beattie Hotel in Saint John, N.B., recently. It has changed little or none since our earlier visits there. It remains practically the same and holds the homey atmosphere. While newer hotels or added-onto hotels lose a lot of that personal and friendly touch in their bigness. The usual courteous service is given and the best accommodation to suit the needs of the guests are made available. And all for a reasonable price, especially for children fourteen years and under. (We saw their advertisement in the Atlantic Advocate). With the exception of the change in the Princess of Acadia docking, M.R.A.'s torn down and the erection of a Mall about five minutes from the hotel that end of the city seems to be keeping its own. Stores on King St. and Charlotte St. seemed to be doing a good downtown business despite the new Mall. Makes a lovely "get-away-from-it-all" weekend and we feel this message can't detract from our own hotels as we are not likely to be putting up at our own anyway.

— Saw Sam MacKay in Bridgewater recently. He looks fine and will soon (if not already) move into the new Royal Bank of Canada building next door to the present Royal Bank.

Miss Mary Marshall gave a detailed account of the event. The report stated the various duties carried on by committees were a great asset in making the 1975 Flower Show an outstanding success. Mrs. Hutchins, as convenor, had assumed the responsibility of guiding the planning of the Show.

Bruce Gilliat, Agriculture Representative, N.S. Dept. of Agriculture, inquired if a meeting could be arranged to discuss the destruction caused by Dutch Elm Disease. A future meeting will be planned and open to the general public.

Two Garden Club members, Mrs. B. Hutchins and Mrs. B. Gilliat represented the Garden Club as delegates to the annual convention of the N.S.A.G.C. at Truro in August. They gave interesting reports, stating the convention was well worth while with a program of guest speakers, displays,

Letters To The Editor

The Editor
The Digby Courier

Dear Madam:

I wish to comment on the headline announcements of the Digby Courier dated August 28th, 1975, which reads: MAYOR $12,000 per year, Councillors $3,000.

Figures like these, when their impact falls upon the taxpayers of a community, in my view, should have been carefully analysed and a responsible and qualified statement issued in support of such expenditure.

During the last two years, it has been my privilege to sit on Council. First as Councillor and then as Mayor. My time during such service, was occupied with the many problems facing a responsible servant. My resignation from the office of mayor, was never meant to abandon the welfare of my town. So it is, as a private citizen, I must react positively, to this latest devastating blow to the financial structure of our town, even now suffering the burden of providing basic services which would assure a higher standard of health and environment.

It is my view, that compensation must be equal to the service rendered. Because I consider the adoption by Council, of a motion which will place very heavy tax burdens of the taxpayers of Digby, and because I am convinced such motion was adopted without thoroughly assessing the results, the enactment should be revoked and Council assume responsibility for provision of realistic government. Consideration should be given as to what guarantee the salary scale provided will have in securing qualified candidates. Municipal government is serious business, requiring basic knowledge of planning, development and attending economic consideration. Surely we cannot hope that an increase in salary will suddenly cure our problems. Qualification is a key word to look for in the selection of the team that must promote the interests of our town. Qualification and the desire to compromise in the best interest of the town will show the results that may encourage the citizens to reward in proportion.

To neglect to consider these facts is to feed inflation and I am disturbed this unstable economic view may become an increased burden in Digby.

Digby, N.S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

While home on our vacation we were especially pleased to be able to attend "Scallops Day '75" and think it's a wonderful idea and one that should become a tradition. We heard so many favourable comments from tourists and natives alike, regarding this event.

We feel that Garnet Oliver and Ronnie and Joan Donnelly deserve special thanks for generously donating their boat and time, taking people on sightseeing trips to the lighthouse.

It was a most enjoyable day.

Old Time Day Raises $2000.00

In spite of the inclement weather on Saturday, August 30th the "Old Time Day" at Westport was a success. There were many activities set up in the United Baptist Vestry - fish pond, book store, old time store, plant store, youth booth, recreation table, flea markets and an auction. There were crowds of people from many parts of Canada and United States present and attending were M.L.A. Joe Casey and M.P. Coline Campbell.

At the supper hour a fish chowder was served at the I.O.O.F. Hall by the ladies of the community. This was a great success as people rushed there until closing time.

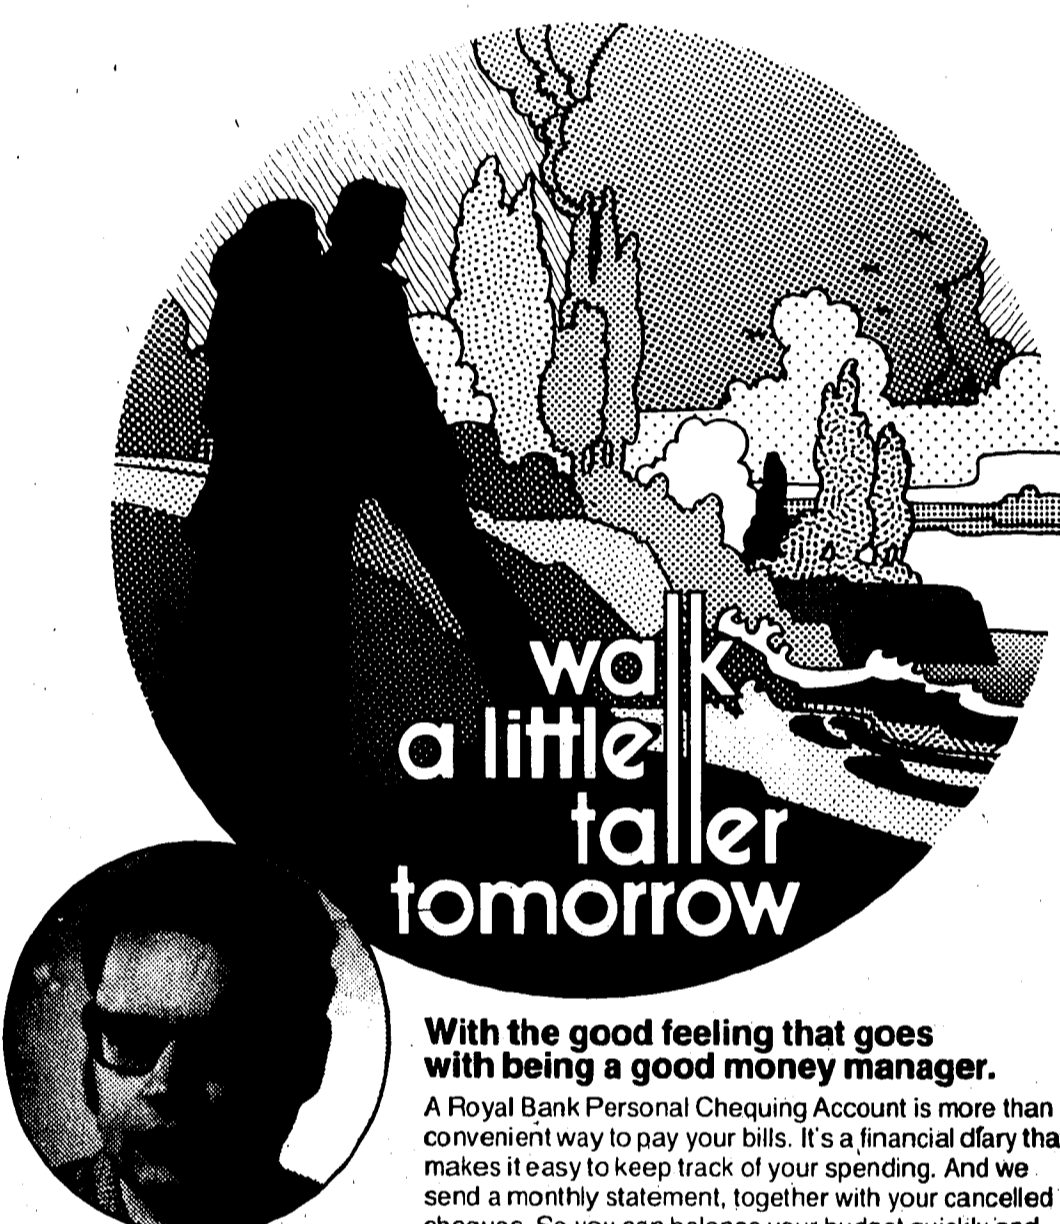

In the evening a Variety Show was put on to a full house. At intermission Joe Casey, M.L.A., spoke to the audience and he drew winning tickets for articles donated to earn money for the Fire Hall and Recreation Centre. The quilt top was given by Mrs. Marion Swift, batt and lining by Mrs. Winston McCullough and Mrs. Danny Kenney and quilted by the ladies of the village and was won by Mrs. Austin Denton Jr., of Little River; Afghan given by Mrs. Edgie Titus was won by Darria Mercer of Toronto; Ceramic shell dish given by Mrs. Henry Porter was won by Mrs. Burton Welch of Freeport; Ceramic pot bellied stove lamp given by Mrs. Charles McDormand was won by Mrs. Walter Martin of Coldbrook; decorated cake given by Betty McDormand was won by Tony Thurber, Freeport. Many donations of money have been given and many, many hours of time had been given by people of the village in making this day a success.

Due to weather conditions the children's parade was held on Sunday, August 31st, the costumes many and varied. After the parade the children met at the vestry where they were treated to chips and each a balloon.

A turkey shoot was held in the field at top of New Lane on the following Saturday.

All activities were sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of Westport.

Your Blood - The Gift Of Life

Do you want to save a life?

Then circle the date - Wednesday, September 17 - on your calendar, and if you are between the ages of 18 and 65, and in reasonably good health, make plans now to attend the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic to be held at the Digby Lions Club Hall between the hours 10 to 12 in the morning, 2 to 4 in the afternoon or 6 to 9 in the evening.

"Your blood was never more urgently needed, due to the dangerously low condition of the Provincial Blood Bank", according to the statement of E.B. Tufts, Red Cross Area Chairman, in announcing the dates for four Valley area Clinics scheduled for this coming week. "Although every Blood Donor Clinic is important", explained Mr. Tufts, "those following holiday week-ends always take on special urgency because of the drain on the Blood Bank from the increased number of accident victims". With the growing efficiency of Halifax as a medical center, more and more blood is also required for open heart surgery, as well as treatment for leukemia and other rare diseases, hence any deficit in the Blood Bank must be made up as quickly as possible in order to keep the hospitals functioning. The success of the Digby Clinic will play a vital part in helping to relieve the present critical shortage, as well as supplying our share of the 1000 pints of blood regularly required each week by the Provincial Blood Bank.

The Digby Clinic, which is under the joint auspices of the Digby Red Cross Branch and the Digby Lions Club, serves all the surrounding area from Bear River to Weymouth, Digby Area Blood Donor Committee, of which E.B. Tufts is general chairman, assisted by the following members: Stewart MacNaughton, vice-chairman; Rev. Ronald Stevens, President, Digby Red Cross Branch; Miss Linda MacIntosh, President, Red Cross Youth; Claude Westcott, President, Digby Lions Club; Deputy Mayor Philip Robertson; Mrs. H.M. Warne, all of Digby; Lawrence Henshaw, Bear River; Capt. Wheelhouse, CFB "Cornwallis"; Robert Ecker, Deep Brook; Mrs. Frances Berry, Smith's Cove; Ralph Cosman, Weymouth; Mrs. Walter Melanson, Plympton; Mrs. Lloyd Grant, Barton; Mrs. Vincent Raymond, Waterford; Mrs. Juanita Morehouse, Sandy Cove; Mrs. Eldred Frost, Little River; Mrs. Gordon Theriault, East Ferry; Mrs. Ivan Moore, Freeport. Any inquiries regarding the Clinic, including transportation, may be referred to the nearest member of the above committee.

While the Red Cross Mobile Unit is in the Valley area, Clinics will also be held in Lawrencetown on Monday, September 15; Middleton, September 16; and Berwick, September 18.

Be a Life-saver! Support the Red Cross Clinic!

Proper Centre For Alcoholics Not Mental Hospitals

Over 1,000 local Halifax residents feel that Alcoholics and Psychiatrists don't mix and are supporting a bid to move drinking offenders out of mental hospitals.

Today the Church of Scientology's Task Force on Alcoholism, presented a petition to the Minister of Social Services, The Honourable H. Huskisson, demanding that the Alcoholics ward of the Nova Scotia Hospital be closed down. The group feels it should be replaced by a modern Medical Facility which will provide the necessary treatment for resocialization.

According to the church group and staff, peace and community leaders are right behind the proposed move. The reason being that the majority feel it is a social problem and not a mental disease, others maintain that the stigma of being an alcoholic is hard enough to bear, let alone the added classification of a mental patient.

Joanne Wheaton, spokesman for the group stated "alcoholics don't want to be treated as mental patients, enforced into altering their behavioral pattern through psychiatric techniques".

The groups studies has revealed that currently the psychiatrists diagnose the alcoholics as suffering from some form of mental disorder, other than alcoholism, and therefore the drinkers of liquor never had this problem handled.

The group believe the true expert on alcoholism is the drinker himself and by providing a proper centre for problem drinkers, this will prevent excessive drinking and help alcoholics, because it would establish a service that would educate and help resocialize them to understanding.

The Task Force on Alcoholism has been campaigning for proper medical facilities for some time now. They maintain that proper centres for alcoholics are indispensable in granting the respect of alcoholics and other needs and will continue until these centres exist.

Clare Seniors To Visit Bear River

The Clare Senior Citizens Club, New Horizons, has held its weekly card parties at their centre, the Columbus Club Hall in Comeauville, on the golf course road, during the month of August. Card parties are held each week on Tuesday evenings and on Thursday afternoons.

The Tuesday evening card parties are open to the public and on the last Tuesday of the month a dinner is served at 5 p.m. This month's dinner consisted of baked beans with buns and ice cream at which over 60 participated. During the evening's activity was the monthly celebration of birthdays of members which fell during a day during the month. A birthday cake was on hand and following the singing of 'Happy Birthday' for the three persons present in the hall, a serving of cake was passed to each person in attendance.

Three persons were on hand to celebrate their birthday: Adolph Comeau, Comeauville; Edward Boudreau, Concession and Mrs. Dorothy Davis, guest of member Celeste Bourneuf of Grosses Coques. Mrs. Davis is from the United States. Although the idea of celebrating members' birthdays is especially for members, the club will include visiting guests.

The club has sold some craft items during July and August in the Arts and Artisan Shop operated by Opportunity for Youth Program Group near the St. Mary's Church in Church Point which was open to the public for six weeks.

A visit to the Bear River New Horizons club will be made during the second two weeks of the month of September. The exact date will be arranged later. The club has visited the following clubs to date: West Pubnico, Wedgeport, Round Hill New Horizons Club and will possibly visit the nearer clubs of Weymouth, Salmon River and Meteghan before the year is finished.

Entertainment programs for persons in the new Villa Acadienne in Meteghan, for aged Senior Citizens, and La Maison du Couché du Soleil at Saulnierville, as well as some invalids in the Municipality will be organized.

Craft articles will soon be started for the fall and winter months. During the summer months, the craft section has been at a standstill. Many items of craft work remain on hand and ways and means will be found to lower the stock on hand.

Honourable William Gillis, Minister

Think Quick. You've only got until September 12th.

If you've been toying with some ideas for the Local Initiatives Program, your time is just about up. All applications for LIP grants must be in our hands no later than September 12th, 1975. Your idea should be original and innovative and create useful jobs where there were no jobs before. It must also employ people registered at a Canada Manpower Centre. Your project can get underway anytime between November 3rd this year and January 26th, 1976, and must be completed by June 26th, 1976. So come on, do a little quick thinking. Who knows, the ideas you have this summer may be working for you this winter.

Above is the expanded business of Bill's Fish Market, Digby, owned and operated by William Ross. Mr. Ross recently purchased the grocery store, next door to the former fish market, from Roy Campbell and remodelled the layout to accommodate the expansion.

The fish market business is not new to Bill. From 1949 to 1967 he was on the road selling fish and later opened a wholesale market in Digby. He at one time purchased what was known as the "Bus Stop" and had a fish retail business there for awhile. That building is now occupied by Harding Real Estate and the Fish Market retail business has returned to its former stand.

Mr. Ross is married to the former Miss Julia Nicholson of Mabou, C.B., and they have five children (Rose Marie) Mrs. John Yurcak, Dartmouth; (Elizabeth) Mrs. Herado Gidney, Digby; (Cheryl) Mrs. Russell Titus; William Joseph Ross Jr. and Julie Ann.

Mr. Ross, born in Yarmouth was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wiley Ross, Culloden. His schooling was acquired in Halifax.

It's All In The Family

Preparing to serve a customer at the meat counter at Bill's Grocery at the corner of 1st Avenue and Carleton St. is the new owner, William Reid.

When William Reid purchased as a going concern, the grocery store owned and operated by Boyd Milberry at the corner of First Avenue and Carleton St. he had visions of help from his family. He was not mistaken. Both Mr. and Mrs. Reid work at the shop as well as their eldest son, Paul, 16 who works part time and also Nancy, 14, part time. Paul, Nancy and Margaret are students in the Digby schools. Julian is a pre schooler.

The store known as Bill's Grocery opened for business on June 18 but Mr. Reid had to wait until two weeks ago to make meats available to his customers. Mr. Reid did considerable renovating and adding to the store to meet his needs and serve his customers in an efficient manner with as many items as possible on the shelves and in the freezers. He built a new walk-in refrigerator and opened walls to accommodate meat counters. His line consists of groceries, confectionary, meats and some produce. Two offices are ready for use.

The building, we understand, was built in the early thirties by Mr. Milberry who continued to operate the store until 1975.

Mr. Reid was born in Kentville, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reid. He finished high school in Kentville and started to work ten days after his graduation. He began at the F. E. Wade Ltd., in Kentville and later went to Greenwood. For eleven and a half years Mr. Reid worked at the Digby IGA.

Mrs. Reid was the former Gloria Reeves, Cambridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Reeves.

$12,000 And $3,000. Motions Rescinded

At a special meeting of Digby Town Council held on Thursday evening presided over by Deputy Mayor, Philip Robertson, a motion made and duly passed at the previous regular meeting was rescinded. The motion at the regular meeting provided a yearly salary for a Digby mayor of $12,000 and that of councillors three thousand dollars plus $15 for each meeting attended which would not be a regular meeting. The motion on Thursday to rescind the earlier motion was made by Councillor Eileen Chipman and seconded by Councillor Gordon Ellis and carried. Mrs. Chipman's first motion on Thursday evening also added that no further decision on remuneration be made until the 1976 budget is drawn up. Before the motion went through Mrs. Chipman reworded it to simply rescind the motions of the regular meeting in September, referring to the $12,000 and $3,000 salaries. Voting for the motion as placed were Mrs. Chipman, Mr. Ellis and Deputy Mayor, Philip Robertson. Voting against rescinding the motion were Councillors Reginald Hazelton and Guy VanTassel. Councillor William Reid was absent.

There were approximately eighteen to twenty visitors attended the special meeting, among whom were former mayors, Glenn Smith and Patrick Comeau and former councillors, Paul Winchester, Howard Cotteau and Joseph Hattie.

Another subject on the agenda of the special meeting was that of the town sewer project. It was stated that with finishing the entire project at once there could be a saving by government assistance of some $200,000 or the plans could continue in phases if so desired. It was regularly moved and carried that tenders be called for installing the full sewer system. A second motion was carried to have Council go before the ratepayers after tenders are received. Full details were recommended before going to the ratepayers.

An interesting and instructive panel was held on Saturday when the Black United Front and the Nova Scotia Human Rights held a conference at Acaciaville Community Centre. Panelists were left to right, Blair Lopez, Sr. Project officer of Manpower and Immigration; Mrs. Jean Clayton, B.U.F. Outreach Co-ordinator; David Hill and Dr. W.P. Oliver, Halifax, Department of Education. The Conference led to the forming of a Black people's association for Western Nova Scotia to look into the possibility of establishing small businesses for the black people.

Black Leadership Conference Held

An important milestone in the history of the Black people of Nova Scotia was reached on Saturday, September 13, 1975 when representatives of Black communities in the Western Region of Nova Scotia convened in the Acaciaville-Conway Community Centre to explore the possibility of organizing a Western Nova Scotia Black Leadership Conference. The sessions were under the joint sponsorship of the Black United Front of Nova Scotia and the Human Rights Commission of Nova Scotia. Co-Chairmen were Mr. George McCurdy, Director, Human Rights Commission and Mr. Arthur Criss, Executive Director, Black United Front.

The conference grew out of a resolution proposed by Rev. P.A. Best Yarmouth, the proposal reads in part, "Due to the renewed interest in Black business enterprises as evidenced by certain objectives of the BUF Outreach Workers Program, the involvement of LEAP (Local Employment Assistance Program) in Yarmouth and Windsor and the successful operation of established Black businesses in Digby and elsewhere, be it resolved:

1. That those concerned come together at a conference to consider the formation of a Black Business and Professional Association of Western Nova Scotia.
2. That this be considered a pilot project to encourage the future formation of other like associations, e.g. Halifax County and Eastern Nova Scotia;
3. That this be considered a pilot project to encourage the future formation of other like associations, e.g.

Halifax County and Eastern Nova Scotia

3. That after a reasonable period, we might seriously consider sessions emphasizing "Black Power" in business with aims of obtaining tangible results like:

a) Influencing establishment of other Leadership Conferences in N.S.
b) Succeeding sessions consider seminars or workshops emphasizing Business Opportunities, principles and practices for Blacks.

c) Black Co-op Services, Housing Construction Co., Credit Unions, Acting as Registrars throughout the day were the Misses Pamela Francis, Conway and Shelley Clayton, Weymouth. Eighty delegates were registered and Mr. Criss opened the sessions by welcoming representatives from the ten Black communities in the Western Region. Among special guests introduced and welcomed were Mrs. Edith Wallis, Editor, The Digby Courier and Dr. Tony Johnstone, Ethnic Studies, N.S. Dept. of Education.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Criss stressed the historical aspect of the conference, stating Black Nova Scotians should take pride in their history and cited the life of Marcus Garvey, the American Black Entrepreneur, as model to be emulated. He suggested the theme of the conference should be "UJAMMA!" the Swahili word for "Co-operative enterprise" and encourage the delegates to use both the accomplishments and the shortcomings of the past to good advantage today.

Mr. McCurdy, in his opening comments, brought greetings on behalf of the N.S. Human Rights Commission and congratulated planners of the conference for their foresight in conceiving the idea upon which it is based. He spoke optimistically of the growing prosperity of Nova Scotians in general and stated the Blacks of Nova Scotia should also have a share in it as well. Adequate preparation, education, and conferences Please turn to Page 2

Digby Scallop Day Profits

David Irvine, Smith's Cove, president of the Digby-Annapolis Tourism and Recreation Council reported on Wednesday that a sum of $382, so far as can be reckoned to date was the profit on the Scallop Day in Digby. Receipts were $1000 from the Shell Oil Co., $500 Provincial Government grant and $25 donation. Expenses amounted to $1143. Appreciation was expressed to merchants and others who made donations of goods and he recommended to plan the events early for the 1976 Scallop Day. Eight were present at the Fundy Restaurant for the meeting.

Two visitors were welcomed, Town Councillor Eileen Chipman and Mrs. Addie Tufts who managed the Digby Tourist Bureau during the 1975 summer. Mrs. Chipman complimented Mrs. Tufts for a most successful operation of the bureau and especially where she had been the sole person on duty. Supported by Councillor Chipman the Tourist Council decided to write a letter of appreciation to Digby Town and request that the bureau be opened there next year and continue at the same location. Mr. Irvine felt the bureau had an impact for good on the economy of the town. Suggested for the future was more green grass, more tables and more trash cans. An opportunity to display crafts (not for sale) was suggested for the bureau.

A motion was also carried to suggest to the town a system of zoning and prevention of erecting buildings which might mar the scenic view now at the Digby Bureau. Mrs. Chipman offered to arrange a meeting with the Tourist and Recreation Council committee and that of the Town Committee to discuss these suggestions.

Disappointment was expressed that Digby had no boat launch.

Arrangements were being carried on with Miss Jean

Inventory Of Municipal Schools

A motion was adopted at the Digby Municipal School Board held at the Court House on Tuesday evening to have a total inventory of all schools in the municipal system available to the Finance Committee of the Municipality of the District of Digby by January 1st, 1976. The Board meeting was presided over by the chairman, Warden Wilfred Swift.

Mrs. Eleanor Elms, a member of the Digby Municipal School Board, requested to have the Board meet with a representative of the Nova Scotia Department of Education and Hope Fellowship Association to discuss special education for the handicapped. The Board accepted Mrs. Elms' request and steps will be made to convene such a meeting. Earl Waterman thanked the Board for their action re special education.

Approval was given to Mr. and Mrs. Melbourne Deveau and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Dugas, Weymouth to have their children attend the St. Bernard's School in Weymouth. The Board will pay the tuition.

Reports were presented by C. C. MacInnis, Superintendent; Jack Ritcey, Supervisor of Curriculum; Mrs. No.1 Jeffrey, Guidance; Keith Manzer, Supervisor at the Islands Schools and James Hanscomb, supervisor at Weymouth.

Mr. Ritcey introduced a change of time for the Barton School which was approved subject to its working satisfactorily. In his report Mr. Hanscomb informed that a teachers meeting was held on September 2nd and students at Weymouth started school on September 3rd. A full staff of 43 teachers was reported with Mrs. Eleanor Hankinson, Nelson Meuse and Clayton Lewis helping interested students with music. New teachers approved on Tuesday evening were Mrs. Delia Bell, Auxiliary; Miss Deborah Trask, Grade 1; Albert Driscoll, Junior High; Walter Gaudet; Barbara Waddell and R. Danie Swansburg.

Mr. Hanscomb reported a great deal of thievery at the school. Losses were not heavy but if the act is kept up when the new stock is purchased it could amount to much more. The canteen lock has been broken by the thieves, he said, and new and stronger locks on doors with steel casings will be used. He recommended that the

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Warne, Queen St., was the scene of their Golden Wedding Anniversary on Tuesday, September 9th, when a reception was held under the auspices of the Digby Red Cross Branch, of which Mrs. Warne has been a very active member for the past thirty-five years. Other neighbours and friends also assisted in welcoming the many callers during the afternoon and evening and in serving delicious refreshments from a table centred by a three-tier wedding cake. The rooms were bright with floral arrangements of autumn flowers from Mrs. Warne's garden and the gifts of friends, one outstanding basket of garden flowers in all shades of yellow having been presented by the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society, of which Mr. and Mrs. Warne are both members.

The guests were received at the door in the afternoon by Mrs. Ian Anderson and in the evening by Miss Ann Rogers, later being ushered to the dining room by Mrs. Wilmet Christie and Mrs. MacLeod Rogers. Those pouring during the afternoon and evening were Mrs. Ronald Stevens, Mrs. Allan Harris, Mrs. Raymond Lent, Mrs. J. J. Brittain, Mrs. Harold Emerson, Mrs. Percy Robert, Mrs. Ina

Both Mr. and Mrs. Warne have taken a keen interest in community activities throughout the years, having been actively engaged in the organization of the Digby Hospital in its early years, as well as the Navy League and Red Cross during the war years. The Board of Trade,

Editor Cecil Day - Artist At 75

By Ted Leather

Art is the latest form of communication adopted by G. Cecil Day, former publisher of The Advance, a weekly newspaper in Liverpool, Nova Scotia, and a past president of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association. After a full career in the newspaper business, Mr. Day found that retirement left him with some time to fill. He launched himself into painting at his winter home in Scottsdale, Arizona. "That was a couple of years ago, when I was 75," he said. "I was wondering what to do one day and saw a newspaper ad for oil painting classes. I figured I'd give it a try."

The try was quite successful. He found he had

Balance, composition and appeal are occupying the mind of artist G. Cecil Day as he works on his oil and acrylic paintings. The same topics were his concerns for many years in laying out and editing the Liverpool Advance, one of Nova Scotia's weekly newspapers. talent for painting and after learning some of the basic techniques of brush and palette knife he's gone on to do a wide variety of still life, scenes, landscapes and seascapes.

Mr. Day's paintings are about what he sees in his two abodes. Bright flowers and desert scenery from Arizona contrast with views of the rocky coast of Nova Scotia.

"I think my best painting is one of the Nova Scotian shore near Liverpool with the Atlantic waves washing against the rocks," he said. Aside from their artistic interests, Mr. Day shares another factor with his oil painting instructor, Sidney Wolf. Both men were afflicted with polio when they were young children. The disease left Mr. Day using a wheelchair. He gave up using crutches a few years ago after slipping in his home on Waterloo Street.

After achieving a measure of success with oil paints, Mr. Day decided to explore the techniques of acrylics. He found another teacher, Mrs. Gladys Aldridge of

TO CECIL

Our congratulations and best wishes are extended to our good friend, Cecil Day, former editor and publisher of the Liverpool Advance. We are proud to have his picture in The Digby Courier this week and get a glimpse of his new field of endeavour. We are inclined to think that he will be equally as successful in the field of art as he was in business and journalism. If you read all about Cecil in the article printed in this issue, you will surely have to wonder how one person, handicapped physically as Cecil was, could be so successful while others much less handicapped take advantage of all the hand-outs and forsake work to enjoy the most leisure obtainable. Not Cecil Day!

Cecil, without a doubt was a progressive and hard working newspaper man, the best going. He seemed to be the master of his calling rather than having his printing and newspaper business to be his master. Although his position was demanding, he and his good wife, Betty, found time to take trips to see the world and enjoy each day as it came around. Nor did Cecil let his physical handicap become a stumbling block. He could rise above that without much effort whether at the shop, or attending his many community participations, newspaper functions or just enjoying life in general.

Cecil Day had always time to help others, despite his handicap. Often, we at this plant had benefited by his kind assistance when we became bogged down and when his wisdom could be so helpful in making decisions for us.

As a former newspaper man and as a friend, all Canadian newsmen will welcome Cecil as honorary chairman of the Canadian Community Newspaper Association convention in Halifax in 1976. If our guess is correct, the convention will be a tremendous success with every detail well planned by Cecil, not as an honorary chairman but by his always dutiful and efficient handling of such events. He probably hasn't lost the knack.

Best luck to Cecil and to Betty, who is continually at his side.

OUR CORRESPONDENTS

We welcome today a new village correspondent to The Digby Courier. Mrs. Russell Cosman will take over the Weymouth correspondence while our long-time faithful correspondent, Mrs. Eleanor Hankinson devotes her time to teaching music in the Weymouth Consolidated School and our other faithful correspondent, Mrs. Loretta Journeay prepares to do more visiting around the families. As we welcome Mrs. Cosman we also say a special thank-you to Mrs. Hankinson and Mrs. Journeay for their many years of excellent service.

The loyalty of our two resigning Weymouth correspondents is manifested in the fact that they continued to do the correspondence until they found the right person as their successor. They would not let The Digby Courier down, they said. They further show their sincere respect for their home-town paper by offering assistance at any time to the new correspondent or correspondents.

Mrs. Hankinson has been, off and on, the Weymouth correspondent for more than thirty years, or all her married life. She was always there either as official correspondent or ready to substitute when a regular correspondent resigned for one reason or another. Coming from the Digby Courier newspaper family, Eleanor, had felt more than just an ordinary loyalty to this particular newspaper, without a doubt. Mrs. Journeay has also been a long-time valued correspondent. Our sincere appreciation to both is extended and we look for continued association with both of these persons.

No newspaper can make out well without their correspondents in the villages. Interest would soon wane should our readers not find news from their home village. We have long realized the importance of our village correspondents to the success of our publication and doubt that any newspaper has any more worthy correspondents than our own. Despite that importance of the correspondent to the newspaper the correspondent has a valued second function, in serving the newspaper, the correspondent is also rendering a valuable service to the home village.

Have you ever thought of the hours of time the village correspondent donates to keeping the home-village on the map and before the readers. It is good for the community and the better the correspondent the better the publicity for the village. Correspondents to small weekly newspapers could never take on the job as a paying proposition. Small papers cannot afford to pay the real value of the correspondence. That is why it is so necessary to have a correspondent who has an interest in and a love for the home-village to see it improve and prosper.

Thank you a million times, Eleanor and Loretta and welcome, thrice welcome, Mrs. Cosman.

OUR FAULT TOO

We will admit that Canada's mail service has deteriorated within the last few years. We've expressed that many times. Canada is not alone in that deterioration, of course. Other countries, U.S.A. for instance, also have slipped in mail service.

As far as The Digby Courier goes, we are ourselves to blame in some instances of irregular Courier arrivals these past few weeks. The staff is in the midst of designing an improved Courier mailing list and as with many other changes, human errors are bound to happen when there are approximately 4,000 or more papers to handle. The new system is for the benefit of the subscribers and sincere thanks goes out to all the subscribers for their patience during the mailing method change-over. Please check your address and advise as soon as possible if there are any errors. And once again, thanks.

Hodge Podge

Bears have been a matter of concern to rural municipalities for the past few years, including Digby and Annapolis counties. We expect to see a rush of traps and guns to diminish the bear population and save the sheep. Trapping can be done October 1 to December 15 and hunting November 1 to November 30.

Heard said last week that we are lucky to have Cape Breton so that tourists can stop here on their way!

Letters To The Editor

AN OPEN LETTER TO DIGBY CITIZENS

At the Digby Town Council meeting on September 2nd a motion to increase the mayor's pay from $500.00 to $12,000 (twelve thousand) per year was passed. A second motion to increase councillor's pay from $500 to $3,000 for the twelve regular meetings, plus $15.00 for all extra meetings of full council or committee, was also passed. Both motions were moved and seconded by councillors Hazelton and VanTassel. I was the only councillor who opposed both motions.

The second motion means that each councillor will receive $250, for each of the twelve monthly meetings, (whether he attends or not). The time specified for these meetings is eight to eleven p.m. on the first Monday of the month. Frequently they close earlier, but occasionally continue beyond eleven. Added to this, consider the cost of the town of all extra meetings. In my first ten months in office I have attended 92 meetings. That would mean 10 and $250.00 plus 82 and $15.00. Multiply this by six councillors, then sit back and smile, if you can, as you contemplate this addition to next year's tax rate.

These motions were introduced late in the evening and were not placed on the agenda for this meeting. As one of the three members of the finance committee, I had no previous knowledge of the plans, nor did Chairman Ellis call a meeting at any time to discuss them.

Previous to making the motion, Councillor Hazelton stated that he based these figures on the value of his own time. Bouncing in cheerily to support Hazelton, VanTassel said "I'll second that one, I think it's a good one to second," and added "apparently this is what the people in the town want."

Preceding his motion on the mayor's salary, Hazelton stated that a full time mayor "could attend to the business of the town, attend 'different things' in Halifax and be in Halifax frequently, talking to ministers of this or that."

"In fact," he said, "our mayor, instead of costing us his wages would be costing us nothing, he'd be paying us.....whatever that means.

My attempts to suggest that this should have been brought to council first as a proposal only, allowing time for the public to consider it, failed to receive support from any other councillor. For a supposedly unrehearsed drama, the performance was remarkably fast and smooth, and one got the impression that everything went along as planned. It is my intention, however, to make a motion at the next meeting of council to rescind both salary motions of September 2nd. I anticipate a jubilant seconder!

This is only one of the numerous examples of high-handed shot-gun motions that have been passed by your council in the last few months, a council which has become a "comedy of errors".....played to empty seats!

If you are concerned, as I am, about the deteriorating state of your town's business management, please express this concern by phone or letter to the provincial OMBUDSMAN, Dr. Harry Smith. The office of the Ombudsman was set up in 1971 to deal with complaints against town and county councils as well as provincial jurisdiction. In 1974 Dr. Smith handled more than a thousand complaints from Nova Scotians like you and me. Don't be afraid to write to him, there is no charge. The address is: Dr. Harry D. The Editor

The Digby Courier:

Again may I ask for space in your paper, to express my views on the most important matter of electing a mayor for our town.

I think it is deplorable, that a third appeal has to be made for a candidate to offer for such a worthy cause. I can only assume that the hesitancy is founded on lack of appreciation of the function of this office. I offer my views, knowing they are of no value unless compared to others.

The mayor is the chief executive officer of the town.

The duty is to cause the government of the town, to be conducted in accord with any law relating thereto. To supervise the conduct of all officers and employees of the town and, so far as practicable, to cause all negligence, carelessness and violation of duty to be prosecuted and punished and, to communicate from time to time to council and recommend measures as may tend to the improvement of the finances, cleanliness and appearances of the town, and the health, security and comfort of the citizens.

To accomplish these aims, the mayor requires the support of all standing committees which function under established by-laws. Such committees shall from time to time, report to Council, any special circumstances in respective order to services under their charge. Council may at any time, require standing committees to report on their charge.

Digby, in my view, does not require a full time mayor. I believe that a regular monthly meeting of full council can dispose with the routine business of the town. Special meetings should only be necessary, when the chairman of a standing committee reaches an impasse and the matter requires attention of full council. Under a comprehensive works program, with all personnel assuming their responsibility, all areas of administration can be maintained and supervised. The emphasis is on committees discharging their responsibility. By this manner, a mayor can give his attention to overall planning, inter-community relationship and joint development.

In my view, we cannot abandon the spirit of giving of ourselves. The emphasis on monetary requirement for participation in our community life, can mean inflation as rampant as our ego permits. Let us put our town on firm footing and then, assessing the contribution of mayor and councillors, consider remuneration.

Respectfully yours,
J. Patrick Comeau

Dear Madam:

I am making a study of the buildings designed by the once prominent Worcester, Massachusetts architect Stephen C. Earle (1839-1913). According to his biography, he designed a small church in Digby. Could you or any of your readers tell me what church this might have been and whether it is still standing?

Stephen Earle ordinarily built churches in romantic style in brick or in stone. But he also at times worked in wood. Most of the churches he designed were built between 1875 and 1892. The reference to the church in Digby indicates it was "small," whatever that may mean.

I shall be grateful for any help.

Yours truly,

DIGBY SCALLOP DAY MAKES SMALL PROFIT

Ross of the Nova Scotia Tourist Department to deal with a Tour Agency to foster tourism in the area.

Support was given to the Bear River Artisan's Guild in their application for a L.I.P. Grant. The president remarked that there was a tremendous potential for tourism and maintaining the character of the village of Bear River.

The report submitted from Jim Horsfall, committee chairman, revealed 19,000 copies of the Basin distributed. Prospects for next year are to increase the number and possibly increase the advertising rate. It was indicated that the Basin might come within a grant structure.

Disappointment was expressed in that the Wildlife Park did not materialize in 1975 at the former Percusky property park at Upper Clements.

The suggestion was made that personnel from the Department of Highways be invited to Digby or a delegation go to Halifax to get answers to some highway questions.

The duties of the Weymouth teachers were circulated to Board members by Mr. Hanscomb. These were approved by the Board.

Keith Manzer, supervisor at the Islands, reported a well-done maintenance job done during the summer. Partitions for a new classroom in Westport were completed and the new classroom will accommodate the reading specialist.

Mr. Manzer requested that the reading specialist be permitted to attend a reading conference in Halifax on October 9th and 10th. Permission was granted by the Board.

Going Away Party

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mullen hosted a going away party for Miss Beverley Mullen, New Tusket, on Thursday evening September 4th. Thirty-nine friends gathered and an enjoyable evening was spent. Beverley received $70.00 and many other useful gifts. She goes to Mount St. Vincent on September 9th for the fall term. Her sister, Miss Gaylene Mullen, left September 6th for the same college. We wish both girls success in their studies.

The Sunday Evening Service began with a Song Service under the leadership of Charles Ellis of Port Maitland. The old familiar hymns were sung.

Rev. Jack Stevens offered prayer.

Mrs. Arnold Stairs of Sanford presided at the piano. The special music for this service consisted of a mixed trio, a ladies duet and a solo entitled "Have you Been to Calvary?" These numbers were all provided by people from the Sanford Church and much enjoyed by the large number of people present.

Rev. Arnold Stairs of the Sanford Church read the Scripture Lesson which was taken from Romans. He gave an address to a church filled to capacity talking on "Power". He talked about the power of machines, but most important of all the "Power of Jesus Christ."

He said the Power of man was not great enough to turn a sinner into a Saint but that the Power of Jesus could turn a Sinner into a Saint. This Sunday evening Church Service concluded the three days quarterly meetings hosted by the Digby Church.

The guests present for the quarterly meeting who needed lodging were accommodated in the homes of the Digby Wesleyan Church flock and an opportunity for a time of fellowship with guests was enjoyed on Sunday with dinner and supper at the Legion Hall.

Sunday evening at 6 p.m. Rev. Douglas Hapeman conducted a youth Service.

649 At Assembly

The peak attendance at the Jehovah's Witnesses' two day semi-annual assembly in Yarmouth this past weekend was 649 including 14 who were baptized, by total immersion, as ordained ministers.

The highlight of this assembly was the discourse entitled "How the Kingdom of God Affects You" given by Harold McCallum, District Supervisor for the Witnesses.

"In this talk", said Manfred Steimecke of the Digby Congregation, "Mr. McCallum brought out that rulership by God is far from the minds of most people today despite the fact that Jesus taught his followers to pray for God's Kingdom to come, and also to seek the Kingdom first in their lives. The speaker further dealt with when the Kingdom began to exercise its power, how its activity touches our lives and how we should show appreciation for it."

Mr. Steimecke commented that the information received would be a real motivation to all assembled to preach the "Good News of God's Kingdom" with added zeal.

EDITOR CECIL DAY TURNS ARTIST AT 75

Michigan, who also spends her winters in the same apartment block in Arizona. "Acrylics are much faster than oils," he commented knowledgeably. "They dry in about 20 minutes against weeks for oils."

This past winter, Mr. Day finished eight pictures. "I have to be in the mood. On some days, I can paint and paint and paint. On others, I won't touch it. "No, it's not like putting out a weekly newspaper," he laughed. "I had to do that every week whether I was in the mood or not."

Born in Wales in 1898, Mr. Day was stricken with polio when he was three years old. He lost the use of both legs and had the use of his arms seriously impaired. In 1911, the Day family moved to Charlottetown, P.E.I.

Three years later, after regaining full use of his arms, Mr. Day enrolled in a pre-law course at Charlottetown's Prince of Wales College.

"I left after a year because of the expense and decided to get a job," he said. "This was my move into the newspaper business. I started with the Guardian at $3 a week as night news editor and the following year got $6 weekly as linotype operator."

"I had ambitions of becoming a reporter and did some sports writing for the paper. I never bothered to use a typewriter in those days. I wrote the stories on the linotype machine."

His interest in newspapers and his skill as a linotype operator brought Mr. Day to Nova Scotia. In 1916, wanting experience on a daily paper, he came to New Glasgow to work on the Daily News. This was the first of a series of jobs on Nova Scotian papers, both weekly and daily. The Sydney Post Record (now the Cape Breton Post) and the Pictou Advocate were others that used his talents as combination reporter and typesetter.

In 1931, Mr. Day moved to Liverpool to work for The Advance. "There was a chance of eventually buying into the paper and I decided that's what I wanted," he said. "The chance came in 1936 and I took over the paper. At that time, the circulation was only 700."

It wasn't going to stay there, not with Cec Day in charge. In his years of working for the paper, he'd come to know the town and know the people of the South Shore area. And they knew him.

It was hard work. On the paper he was owner, editor, photographer, reporter, photoengraver, circulation and advertising manager. His efforts paid off. The circulation climbed to more than 5,000 and The Advance was the recipient of several newspaper awards. The newspaper certainly was a major interest of Mr. Day but not an all-consuming one. He had time for his hobbies of rare books and ship-models. This led him to an understanding and appreciation of history, particularly of Liverpool and the South Shore area.

He served a stint on the Liverpool town council. After 33 years with the Kiwanis Club, he resigned and then helped organize the Liverpool Lions Club. From King Lion he became District Governor for Nova Scotia.

"Civic interests and responsibilities are as much as a part of a newspaperman's life as his weekly deadlines," Mr. Day said. "I didn't miss any of it." It was a busy 37 years he spent with The Advance. He sold the paper in June 1968 when he was 70 - that's later than the conventional retirement age these days. "But I still do the odd opinion column for the paper," he said. "I have a great interest in the paper and in the town of Liverpool."

Mr. Day, a past president of the Nova Scotia Weekly Newspaper Association and for many years a director of Class A Weeklies of Canada, retains his interest in the trade and next year will be honorary chairman of the national Canadian Community Newspaper Association convention in Halifax. This will bring weekly newspaper editors and publishers from all parts of Canada to this eastern sea-port city. All of them will know of Cec Day, many will have met him in his Advance.

The delegates will probably regard him as a newspaperman rather than as a painter. But Cec Day usually has some photographic reproductions of his artistic endeavors in his suitcase pocket. Not many delegates will leave the convention without seeing his explorations in oils and acrylics.

FIREMEN OUTLAST LIONS IN FIRST OF SEMI-FINALS 22-15

In a real team effort the Smith coached Firemen gave the Lions their first defeat of the season and went one up in the semi-finals by the score of 22-15. Brian Haynes lead his team with a perfect day at bat including three home runs, single and triple plus two walks. The difference in this game was the number of walks issued by the Lions' pitching (Hattie-Gidney). Joey Cottréau had a perfect day at bat for the losers with three singles and two walks. Joey Hattie had three for four and Randy Gidney, Jeff Learn and Cecil States rounded out the offence for the Lions. Michelle Margolian and David scored six runs for the Firemen while Gary French, Kevin Woods, Rick Wheeler, and Keith MacIntosh scored eleven to round out the scoring for the Firemen.

LIONS EVEN SEMI-FINALS BY THE SCORE OF 17-14

Behind the fourteen hit attack of their team and the combined pitching of Gidney and Hattie the Lions drew even with the Firemen by downing them 17-14. Again each team used two pitchers and the Hattie-Gidney combination allowed six hits, struck out nine and walked thirteen giving up fourteen runs, including a grand slammer to David Margolian. The Haynes-Wheeler twosome allowed fourteen hits, struck out six, walked three in a losing cause. States, Hattie and Gidney had three hits for five at bat while Learn and Cottréau had two for five for the winners.

Trophy Winners

At Pines

Ideal weather and perfect course conditions greeted the one-hundred Junior Boy and Girl Golfers who competed over the weekend at the Pines Golf Course.

Sixteen Clubs in Nova Scotia were represented and the turn-out was the largest one for this annual event.

Scores were high, attesting to the difficulty of this Championship Course in relation to others in the Province; in fact, only five were able to post a net score - that is their gross less own Club Handicap - under Digby's par.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Holcombs, principals of Jones Bottling, Weymouth, attended to present the Pepsi-Cola Trophy for low gross to Craig Barton, Ken-Wo, who had an 83.

Pepsi for many years have been the leaders in promoting Junior Golf in Canada.

The Jack Harris Trophy for Low Net was presented to Claude Pothier of the Digby Golf Club.

Terri Logue of Ken-Wo fired a 98 for low gross in the girls division with runner up Susan Baltzer, also of Ken-Wo, carding a 112.

Clare's Kevin Dugas recorded a 100 for low gross in the boys 12 and under class; Bruce Saunders of Bluenose notched a 92 for low gross in the 13 and 14 age group; Digby's Charles McCarlie carded an 85 for low gross in the 15 and 16 age group while Digby's Paul Doucette finished with an 84 to take top honors in the 17 and 18 age group.

LIONS ENTER FINAL BY EDGING FIREMEN 43-42

In the longest and highest scoring game in the history of Digby Little League the Haines coached Lions qualified to meet the Kiwanis in the finals by edging a very hard working and determined Firemen Club. With both teams unable to use their regular pitchers because of Little League rules (six innings per week) respective coaches had to rely on players who did not pitch all season. The Lions overcame a six run led in the bottom of the sixth to enter the Finals. One would be remiss if he did not congratulate the players of the Firemen team who gave their all in a losing cause.

Line-ups:
FIREMEN: D. Margolian, B. Haynes, J. MacInnes, M. Margolian, R. Dowhard, G. French, K. Mackintosh, K. Woods.
LIONS: C. Boodoosigh, C. States, J. Hattie, R. Gidney, J. Learn, J. Cottréau, J. Smith.
Umpires: Murray Mount, T. Woods.

KIWANIS DROP FIRST OF FINALS 6-3

Scoring three runs in the bottom of the first on two walks and an error and going ahead 3-1 the Lions remained ahead 3-1.

Scoring three runs in the bottom of the first on two walks and an error and going ahead 3-1 the Lions remained ahead for the remainder of the game and went one up in the Finals. The Kiwanis used Mackintosh for three innings, he allowed one hit, struck out eight, walked four and allowed six runs and Chucky Woods pitched two innings, allowed no runs, struck out three and gave up one hit. Randy Gidney went the distance for the winners he allowed three runs, struck out eleven, walked two and gave up three hits (singles to Mackintosh, Gidney, and Goucher) to nail down the victory. It was a pitcher's duel and both teams turned in stellar performances.

Baptismal

Gown Project

The Christian Womens Missionary Society of the Church of Christ, Weymouth, met on Thursday evening in the church basement, with Miss Leota Lewis in the chair. The project for the month was to bring in money to be sent to a mission in Jamaica for purchasing Baptismal Gowns.

Correspondence was read from several missionaries by the Mission leader, Mrs. Merle Zimmerman.

In October the project will be a special offering to go to the South East Asia Evangelizing Mission for the purpose of buying Bibles and Hymn books also printed in the Lisu language in Burma.

Bob Morse a third year student in Ozark University has recently visited this area, he has grown up as a child on this Mission field.

Now It's Gardens

Again this year, gardens in Weymouth are being raided. Several in the area have lost potatoes, corn, cucumbers, tomatoes, squash. The gardeners expenses and hard work throughout the summer has been useless.

One particular garden we understand that was raided, had been raised by Louis Comeau, who, although ill, worked so hard all Spring and summer. Mr. Comeau is at present seriously ill in Yarmouth Hospital. Several other gardens in the same area were raided. People who do this must either be very hungry or very demoralized.

Wedding

BOONE CHUTE

The Digby Wesleyan Church was the scene of a lovely candlelight wedding on Saturday, August 2nd, 1975, at 2:00 p.m. Pamela Lynn, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chute of Digby, N.S., exchanged wedding vows with Mark Anthony Boone, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Boone, Digby, N.S., in a double ring ceremony with Rev. Douglas Hapeman officiating. Mrs. Hapeman presided at the piano.

The sanctuary of the church was artistically decorated with large fluted white baskets of pale green commercial mums and white gladiolus with matching green bows. Two lighted candelabra containing tall green candles and pale green bows were located one on either side of the front of the church. The pew markers were of matching white and green and contained lily of the valley and small wedding bells tied with green bows. Stephanotis served as window decoration and completed the setting.

Previous to the bride's arrival at the altar, Rev. Hapeman and Mrs. Hapeman rendered a beautiful duet entitled "I Am Yours And You Are Mine". The radiant bride was escorted to the altar by her father and was given in marriage by her parents.

She looked lovely in a floor length gown of traditional white lace over taffeta, featuring a high lace neckline accented with tiny pink roses, long flowing lace train, long full sleeves gathered at the wrists. Her headpiece was tiara style with long matching veil. She carried a presentation style bouquet of red roses and baby's breath. It was tied with a white satin bow with flowing streamers. Miss Kathy Daley of Shearwater, cousin of the groom, was Maid of Honour. She wore a floor length gown of blue sheer nylon embossed with dainty flowers over taffeta with full sheer sleeves and a white picture hat trimmed with blue ribbon. Her corsage of red roses matched her bouquet.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Rose Chute of Digby, sister-in-law of the bride and Mrs. Judy McBride from Rossaway, friend of the bride. They were gowned in dresses having a high neckline fashioned exactly like that of the Maid of Honour, but mint green in color. They wore white picture hats.

Stephenie Daley, four year old cousin of the groom, was flower girl. She was dressed in a long gown of identical material to that worn by the bridesmaids and carried a bouquet parasol trimmed with red roses and mint green bow. Flowers held her hair in place.

Wayne Chute, brother of the bride, attended the groom.

James Chute, four year old brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Ushers were Michael Chute, brother of the bride and Joshua Peck of Bear River, friend of the groom.

The ring bearer and all the men in the wedding party wore white embossed tuxedos trimmed with black satin, black pants and they wore rose boutonnieres.

The bride's mother was attired in a coral floor length dress with long sleeves and wore a corsage of red roses.

A floor length dress of salmon pink crepe was chosen by the groom's mother, Mrs. Boone, who also wore a corsage of red roses.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Carol Potter gave a beautiful rendition of "O Perfect Love". She was accompanied by Tanya Trimmer at the piano.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Legion Hall where nearly two hundred twenty-five guests were received with out of town guests coming from as far as the U.S.A., Ontario, Halifax, Middleton, Bridgetown and area.

The bride and groom were both happy to have their maternal grandmothers present for the occasion.

Morehouse Reunion

By Marjorie Hudgins

NOEL - The home of Mrs. Grace Morehouse, Noel (Burntcoat) was the scene of a happy event on the weekend of August 8, 9, and 10, when eighty-three direct descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. Embree B. Morehouse, formerly of Centreville, Digby County, held their third reunion in fifteen years. The first was held in Centreville in 1960 and the second in Kingston, Kings County in 1970.

Tents, trailers and cars parked on the Morehouse grounds as the weatherman co-operated fully. For many of the guests, it was the first viewing of the world-famous high tides of Burntcoat Head.

On Saturday, at 6:00 p.m., the gathering was served a turkey dinner in the Noel Fire Hall provided by the ladies of the church Board of Stewards.

Following the dinner, each family contributed to an entertainment, showing a great variety of talent. There were readings, skits, solos, duets, dancing and poetry. Prize for the best family performance was won by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Marshall and family, of Springfield, Mass. Prizes for individual performances were won by Debbie Martin, of Tupperville, Ontario, and Rebecca Hermann, of New York City.

The large family gathering worshipped at the Noel United Church on Sunday morning, Rev. David Turner, Nashwaaksis, son-in-law of the late Ethel (Morehouse) Atkinson, was in charge of the service in the absence of the regular pastor.

Lorne Morehouse of Toronto, sang the solo "How Great Thou Art" accompanied by Mrs. David Turner. Flowers in the church were in memory of the late Dr. Charles Morehouse and his sisters, Ethel (Mrs. Russell Atkinson) and Laura (Mrs. Jack Cooke).

After lunch on Sunday, several families departed, while others left later in the week.

The Morehouse family members feel that this has been a memorable and wonderful experience for all concerned. Much of the success of this family reunion was made possible by the kind generosity of the friends and neighbours of Mrs. Grace Morehouse, who graciously shared accommodations with the many visitors.

The ten surviving members of the family of thirteen, were present for the event. These were, Amasa (Nick) and Gerald of Toronto; Willis, Poughkeepsie, N.Y.; Ralph, Moncton; Mrs. Viola Atkinson, West Head, C.S.I.; Gladys (Mrs. George Moody), Swampscott, Mass.; Annie (Mrs. Vernon Greens) Kingston, N.S.; Ella (Mrs. Chester Ryan) New York; Mrs. Myrtle McDougall, Bangor, Me.; Mrs. Yola Morton, Centreville, Digby.

Other members of the family attended from New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Maine, Ontario and New Brunswick, as well as Nova Scotia.

The Morehouse family is looking forward to another reunion in the not too distant future.

Sandy Cove

Mrs. Ralph Morehouse left on Saturday via "M.V. Bolero" to spend a week with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bartheaux, Haverhill, Mass. She was accompanied by another brother, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Bartheaux, Mt. Hanley.

Artistic And Musical Activities Resume At The Sainte-Anne

At the end of the Summer holidays and at the beginning of a new academic year, the artistic and musical activities which slowed down during the Summer months, will soon resume at the College Sainte-Anne.

The artistic calendar is not yet completed, but the dates of some events have now been set. The four concerts of the Jeunesses Musicales Series will be held on a Wednesday on the following dates: October 22, November 19, February 4 and March 2. These concerts will feature singing, flute, cello, guitar, piano, harpsichord and oboe. Season tickets will soon be on sale.

Digby Firefighters Instruct At Training School

Two weekend workshops to be held at the new Provincial Fire Training School at Waverley, Halifax County this month are expected to attract more than 300 volunteer firemen from all parts of Nova Scotia, as well as some from the three other Atlantic Provinces.

The first, a western workshop, to be held tomorrow and Saturday, will accommodate those fire departments in the Western areas of the province, as well as more than 50 from New Brunswick.

The second, an eastern workshop, will accommodate all departments from the eastern half of the province as well as more than 25 from both Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland.

This year, due to the growth, the directors allocated two weekends for the school so the men could receive more personalized instruction. As well, this year the instructors have been drawn from a number of areas of the province rather than just using local instructors as in the past.

Special facilities at the school, which will be used for the workshops, include a four storey ladder tower erected last year, a concrete block three storey building used for breathing apparatus training and rescue work, a flammable liquid training pit, superstructure of a steel dragger for ship board fire training and a portable lecture hall.

Co-ordinator for the two workshops this year is Peter Grant, Hampton, Annapolis County, while Gordon Smith, Halifax, Charlie Robinson, Halifax, are the Chief Training Officers for the workshops.

Digby Fire Department is among those providing instructors.

Third Try — No Mayor Nominations

"Try, try, try again you'll succeed at last," seems to be a motto applied to Digby town. Since May 1975, when Patrick Comeau resigned as Mayor of the Town of Digby three nomination days had been set to obtain candidates for the office of mayor for the town. None of the three nomination days were successful introducing even one candidate. The last scheduled nomination day was Tuesday, September 23rd. Five o'clock closing time came and not one name had been submitted at Town Hall. The result is that another nomination day will have to be established and an election day chosen accordingly. Should the fourth nomination day fail to bring forth a candidate the town will be in a position to try, try again.

In the meantime Deputy Mayor Philip Robertson has been sitting in the Mayor's chair and according to reports he is doing a fine job.

Some weeks ago the Digby Town Council by regular motion set a $12,000 a year salary for mayor and $3,000 a year for Councillors along with $15 for each meeting attended which is not a regular meeting. These motions were rescinded at a special meeting called a few days later.

Gets Chief Scout Award

DIGBY - Rory Rogers, of the 5th Digby Scout Troop has reached the height of achievement in scouting; the Chief Scout Award. The award, takes a lot of hard work to earn, and is certainly a worthy goal to strive for.

The Chief Scout Award has replaced the Queen Scout Badge, but works along the same strict requirements. Rory is the first Chief Scout in Digby, and the 5th Digby Troop is very proud of him. This coming April, in Halifax, the Lieutenant Governor of N.S. will present him with a parchment which will add the final touch to his three years of service.

"The people of Digby are very happy to have such young men as Rory, who are willing to work so hard to try and make themselves better citizens of the future.

Acaciaville Honours Native Son

Brad Barton, Dartmouth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Barton, Acaciaville, was honored on Saturday evening with a testimonial dinner held at the Acaciaville Community Centre when approximately 250 guests from Acaciaville, Digby and area and Halifax attended.

Mr. Barton Jr. was recognized for his accomplishments in the field of sports, particularly in Volley Ball and will be one of three in Canada to referee at the 1976 Olympics. Present at the dinner were Brad's wife Judy, and their son, Jason.

The dinner was presided over by George Barton, a Digby Regional High School Board member and president of the Conway-Acaciaville Betterment Association.

Many greetings, testimonials and gifts were received by the honored home-town boy who has made good in his field of endeavour. After completing his high school at Digby Regional High where he also did Volley Ball refereeing, he attended the Nova Scotia Teachers College. Presently he is vice-principal of the Graham Creighton High School, Dartmouth, and had nine years of teaching in Halifax County. He recently returned from a trip to Europe where he toured with Canada's national women's team in Bulgaria and Rumania.

Among those who spoke at the dinner were Rev. Donald Thomas, New Glasgow, who also asked the blessing and Judge V. G. Cardoza led in the toast to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth the second. Mr. Thomas is moderator of the African Baptist Association.

Miss Coleen Campbell MP for South West Nova, spoke of the honor accorded him and expressed hope to see him at the Olympics. Joe Casey M.L.A. extended greetings and complimented Brad for his achievements and said that it takes a good athlete to do what Brad has done. A message from the Minister of Education was read and two telegrams were read.

George M. Curdy of the Human Rights Commission, Halifax, was at the guest table and spoke of the fine standing of Brad and respect with which Brad is always greeted as a friend, educator, sportsman and community worker.

Other educators who heralded the remarkable advancement and achievements of Brad were F. C. Purdy, his former D.R.H.S. school superintendent, Professor Tony Johnson, Dalhousie University; Mrs. Eva Jessen, representing Nova Scotia Volley Ball; William Bent, physical education at the Graham Creighton School and T. B. Lingley, principal at Graham Creighton. Mr. Lingley said that one reason that Brad could make his presence felt was because of his belief in people and the worth of people. He knows what life is

Cardoza Represents Mental Health-Digby

Judge V.G. Cardoza represented Mental Health-Digby at the annual meeting of the Provincial Mental Health Association held in Truro on Saturday. Mr. Cardoza, president and chairman of the nominating committee, presented the slate of officers which resulted in Dr. Philip Carter, president; Everett Bean, Sydney, vice-president; Dr. Tom Parker, Halifax, second vice-president and Carman Carson, Halifax treasurer.

Andrew Crook, executive director of the Nova Scotia division of the Canadian Mental Health Association presented his report and stated that while psychiatric hospital beds are reducing in numbers, there are still large numbers of people who don't require hospital care but for whom no other facilities exist.

"The need for half-way houses and group homes for all ages is more apparent than ever, and the need to increase the staff in all our mental health centres is abundantly clear," he said.

Dr. Crook said the need to establish special education facilities and programs in the public schools of the province, more social rehabilitation programs and activity centres, the greater involvement of police officers, bartenders, clergy and other groups who encounter many human problems are more of the challenge facing the association.

Nova Scotia division president Dr. Philip Carter, Halifax, spoke of the need for unity within the organization and for determining priorities. He said the association faced the constant problem of too many aspirations and too little resources.

He said it was central to the objectives of the CMHA that is it only through the cooperation and social action of citizens and organizations at the community level that real progress in the care and rehabilitation of the mentally ill can be achieved.

Highlight of Saturday's meeting was an awards luncheon, when national vice president of the CMHA, Judge George Levette of Sydney, presented 14 awards of merit on behalf of the Nova Scotia division. These awards were presented to persons selected by the local associations across the province who had, on the average, contributed 15 to 20 years of volunteer service in the area of mental health.

A resolution was passed to write to the premier expressing the association's disappointment over the recent rejection of a request for a grant of $8,000 by the minister of health, and a request that the application be reconsidered.

Accepts Building By-laws

Councillor Richard Daley, Roxville, presented at the regular meeting of the Council of the Municipality of the District of Digby on Monday, a set of building by-laws. The building by-laws were accepted by Council to be effective March 1976. The by-laws presented on Monday were considered in the light of their effect on those whose means are limited.

The building by-laws stated that no person shall erect, alter, move, or repair any building or cause the same to be done without first obtaining a written building permit there from the building inspector, or municipal clerk when there is no building inspector.

When applying for a building permit the person proposing to erect, alter, move, or repair a building shall set out in a written application the form supplied by the Clerk, in addition to any particulars required by any other by-law of the Municipality. It must contain the name of the architect, if any, and the name of the builder or master mechanic who is to do the work on the proposed building, alteration or repair and give the estimated cost or value, which ever is the greater, of the proposed building, alteration or repair. A written permit is

Highways Department Pays 100 Percent

A letter from C. M. Sinclair on behalf of the Highways Minister, Hon. Leonard Pace was read at the meeting of the Council of the Municipality of the District of Digby on Monday. The letter stated that the Department will pay one hundred per cent of the cost of upgrading Warwick St. in the municipality, including the cost of one sidewalk on one side.

Another letter from Mr. Sinclair asked that mayors and wardens submit requests for shareable construction for 1976 by September 15th for maintenance on capital expenditure.

The executive director of the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities, in a letter dealt with the imposed ten per cent tax on gas by the federal government and setting forth a proposal whereby a portion of gross tax be paid over to the municipality by the government.

By motion the Council adopted the Bonus Act which permits Council to revoke taxes except one per cent (not less).

By motion the Council employed Miss Elaine Hersey on full time at the municipal office. It seemed to be necessary as paper work continues to increase every year.

They also passed the recommendation of the Finance Committee with

Former Sandy Cove Man And Wife Married 50 Years

Judge and Mrs. K.L. Crowell of Bridgetown were guests of honor at a reception held on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

The social event held at the Eden Golf and Country Club in Paradise was hosted by their family, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Crowell of Montreal and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Crowell of Middleton.

The couple was married fifty years ago in the United Baptist Church in Bridgetown.

Judge Crowell, who was admitted to the bar of Nova Scotia in 1922, practiced law in the Valley town until 1938. He was appointed judge of the County Court of Annapolis, Digby, and Yarmouth counties where he served at the bench for 24 years until his retirement in 1962.

A native of Sandy Cove, Digby County, Judge Crowell is a man of several careers. He studied engineering at Harvard school of engineering in Boston and began his career as an engineer in 1910 on the Panama Canal.

In 1914, the outbreak of war brought the young engineer back to Nova Scotia to enlist.

He served with the Canadian Armed Forces as a lieutenant in Canada, England and France. His military career was cut short in 1917 when he was struck by a machine gun bullet in the right knee which resulted in the amputation of

Digby Blood Donor Clinic "Over The Top"

With a total registration of 324 donors, Digby's Fall Blood Donor Clinic was one of the most successful ever held in this area. This was indeed fortunate due to an acute shortage in the Provincial Blood Bank which necessitated two urgent telephone messages from Red Cross Headquarters, requesting that certain types of blood be rushed to Halifax as soon as collected. Blood types A negative and O negative were those in the shortest supply and special radio appeals for donors of these types were issued by the Red Cross Chairman, E. B. Tufts, during the day of the Clinic. Although the Digby records do not include the blood types of the donors, it can be hoped that in a clinic of this size, sufficient blood of these types must have been obtained to ease the immediate shortage. There were three donations of the rare blood type, AB Rh negative, of which there are only three known donors in this area.

Much of the credit for the great success of the Clinic must be attributed to the large attendance from C.F.B. Cornwallis, and to the efforts of Capt. Wheelhouse of the Base in arranging the transportation for more than three busloads of servicemen and Wrens. There was also the usual support and full attendance from the Islands Area and from Bear River, without which the Digby Clinic would certainly fall far short of its quota. In commenting the success of the Clinic, the Chairman, Mr. Tufts, expressed his disappointment in the turnout of donors from the immediate area, who do not respond to the need in as large numbers in proportion to the population as do the surrounding districts. In spite of the fact that the hospital in Digby is using 500 to 600 pints of blood annually from the Provincial Blood Bank.

The Clinic was held in the Lions Club Hall under the joint sponsorship of the Digby Red Cross and the Lions Club. The thanks of the Committee are expressed to the High School boys who unloaded the equipment of the Mobile Unit in the morning and to members of the Lions Club who loaded it at the close of the evening session. Special thanks are also due Mr. Layton Hinxman who again assisted at all three sessions of the Clinic.

Assistance to the Red Cross team from Halifax was provided by local nurses under the convenorship of Red Cross Nursing Chairman, Mrs. C. D. Snow, R.N. Other registered nurses assisting in the Clinic room were Mrs. A. L. Robinson, Mrs. Sidney Smith, Mrs. D. G. Black, Mrs. Frieda Balser and Mrs. Desmond Woods.

Mrs. Allan Harris, Vice-President of the Digby Branch, was convenor of a large group of volunteers who served as registrars, ushers, or provided refreshments for the donors. Performing these various duties were Mrs. Frank MacIntosh, Mrs. Paul VanTassell, Mrs. Victor Comeau, Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. Alice Westcott, Mrs. Allen Stark, Mrs. Elliott VanTassell, Mrs. Andrew Thibodeau, Mrs. Norman Kennedy, Mrs. Burton Ellis, Mrs. Raymond Everett, Mrs. Frank Larche, Mrs. Rene Brazeau, Mrs. H. M. Warne, Mrs. Glen Smith, Mrs. Avery Crowell, Mrs. Bernie O'Neil, Mrs. Edith Hayden, Mrs. Helen Anderson, Mrs. Margaret Pyne, Mrs. Wilfred Comeau, Mrs. Carrie Clark, Mrs. Blair Daley and Mrs. J. J. Brittain.

The thanks of the Red Cross Blood Donor Committee were extended to all those who assisted in any way at the Clinic, and above all to the donors who heeded the call to "Give so that others may live".

Celebrates 96th Birthday

Mrs. William Burrell of Clementsport celebrated her 96th birthday on Thursday, September 18. On hand for the occasion were her son Edwin of Clementsport, and daughters Dorothy of Digby, and Marian, at home. Friends dropped in to extend congratulations. She received numerous gifts, cards and a beautifully decorated birthday cake.

R.C.M.P. in Digby not only supply police protection but they can also be found taking part in community affairs and doing a good turn for humanity. Above is Constable David Crouse of the Digby Detachment donating blood at the Clinic held in Digby on Wednesday. Attending Constable Crouse is Mrs. Margaret Brown, C.N.A., Halifax.

Although the day has crept up on us more or less unawares, we feel, though late, that we should remind our readers about the Electoral Boundaries Hearing at the Court House beginning at 10 o'clock a.m. The Electoral Boundaries Proposal and hearing which advertised for today, results from the Nova Scotia Graham Royal Commission on Education. Public Services and Provincial-Municipal Relations which studied and compiled information in a period of three years. It is important that people be at the meeting to present their views by written brief or by doing so verbally.

The proposals do effect Digby County somewhat. Instead of Valley connections the Digby County district is proposed for with the Yarmouth and Shelburne districts making what will be known as Yarmouth County. The number of Counties in N.S. according to the proposal, will be reduced to eleven. Digby County will be one swallowed up by the new proposal of Yarmouth County we believe. Have you given it any thought? Will it matter? Will it benefit our people more or less in the proposal? We expect to see many at the hearing which was duly advertised. There still might be time to present your own proposal made by the Royal Commission if you have a mind to go. It is important that you do.

TIME TO JOIN THE BAND

We read in the Nova Scotia Adult Education pamphlet recently that for young people, playing in a band is one of the most worthwhile activities possible. Many authorities maintain that bands are a sure way of combating juvenile delinquency, the article continued. The article referred to was "Come, Listen To The Band" by A.G. Scott-Savage. Of course, there are other worthwhile activities, too, which can help young people to stay out of mischief, however, if a band will do it, then, it is time to join the band. For the older who need relaxation or something to keep boredom out of their lives, they too can find much pleasure in joining the Band.

Digby has rightfully been proud of its Regional High School Concert Band under the direction of Donald Scott and we look for performances in 1975-76 to be equal if not better than the previous. Then, the Digby Community Band also started practicing last Thursday. They had more than forty attend the practice, ten of whom were new members. Approximately 60 are expected to join and there is still room to enroll. There is no need to be hesitant for if we believe Scott-Savage; then, you need not fear. Scott-Savage says that the majority of people can learn to play a musical instrument as long as they can detect the difference of tone in the high and low notes. So, you see, it is time to join the Band.

Digby Community Band has been fortunate in getting a grant of $1000. with the promise of $1500. more from the Department of Recreation and $2600 from the Department (Continuing Education).

Many of us recall the Bands of our youth. Then, as Scott-Savage says, T.V. was introduced and it was more comfortable to sit at home and watch the "google-box". Band players dwindled while the T.V. fans were busy, and using the amount of skill needed to turn the button "on" or "off" as wished or as Scott-Savage puts it, wiggle the rabbit ears.

Happily, Bands are coming into their own again and we are proud that Digby is one of the places where a school band and a community band exist. Mark you, there are some fine programs on T.V. if you know when or where, but, on the other hand, there is a lot of "trash" which the world would do well if it were omitted. Again, it is time to join the band and make your own music.

Scott-Savage in the pamphlet remarked about Nova Scotia being so fortunate in having some excellent leaders to direct the band. Digby Regional High School Band and the Digby Community Band come under that category. Another reason to join the Band now.

Scott-Savage quotes "Don't send the kids to join the local band, come along with them and get involved in your local music program." It is "Time To Join The Band."

OUR ENDANGERED PARLIAMENTARY SYSTEM

While most Canadians find their spending habits, lifestyles and future increasingly under restraint from the pressures of inflation and spiralling cost-of-living, no such restrictions are evident in our federal civil service.

Indeed, with a present list of more than 250,000 Canada's bureaucracy has increased 44 percent since 1966 and between 1969 and 1975 the number earning $20,000-a-year jumped 1,300 percent from 1,225 to 16,868. The days of dedicated men and women have rapidly been replaced with people who now know that the best place to make a good living is Ottawa.

Unless the control of Canadian decision-making, ranging from external affairs to fisheries, is returned to the Parliament of Canada and the civil service curbed and returned to implementing, rather than forming policies, the entire democratic process will be endangered by an enormous, secretive and Councillor R. E. L. Winchester, chairman, to purchase a calculator for $240.

Councillor Winchester reported that by the middle of September the budget for education had been overdrawn by $45,000. Accumulated debt for education since 1963 is $336,000. Mr. Winchester said the welfare costs for the municipality will also be reviewed but the year seems to be working well. Other than the $45,000 overdrawn, Councillor Winchester said education seems to be running smoothly. The reports were adopted.

Councillor Helen MacNeil reported on the committee's meeting with Hon. Fraser Mooney who said that out of 65 municipalities, 62 continually ask for assistance.

Mr. Winchester advocated a monthly report from the school boards to the Municipal Council, giving the present record and estimates of expenditures so that the Council can avoid over expenditures in this regard.

The Law Amendment's committee will look into the municipal by-laws to coincide with the Board of Health on the sewage and disposal system.

By motion passed on Monday, a letter will be written to the superintendent of the Digby County Power Board submitting the new rate increase for 1976 for consideration by Council. Moved by Mr. Winchester, seconded by Councillor Ervin Marshall, and carried that the municipality pay $30,862 owing to the Digby County Power Board and place it in the 1976 budget.

Councillor Helen MacNeil extended greetings on behalf of the warden and councillors of the Municipality of the District of Digby.

Rev. Jonathon Skier, Preston, and representing the Baptist Association, said that there are always problems to overcome but Brad walks tall, the world is open and he looks with pride to what Brad can accomplish. He linked the two words recreate and recreation, saying that recreation is next to religion.

Another who lauded Brad and brought greetings was Gerald Clarke, vice-president of the Black Association of Nova Scotia. He said that Brad puts everything in all he does. He was instrumental in making good changes in the school at Preston.

Mrs. William Clayton, wife of Rev. William Clayton who served the Acaciaville Church, spoke with pride and great joy as she looked back as well as to the future for Brad. He was active in the Church, was popular and liked by all and he was an achiever.

To all the solicitations Brad replied in thanks to his "Mom and Dad" for "pushing" him. He said young people do not realize how important parents are until they are away from home. He named all his brothers and sisters as he said that they were a close-knit family.

In that time they've had 25 first prizes and two seconds. Louis, now retired from mill work finds time in his leisure to do basket making. He felt it had been so long since he did baskets that he wouldn't remember how. By what we saw he has certainly not lost the art.

We'd hate to see the ground frozen before there is enough rainfall to make an impression on the wells.

usually unaccountable bureaucracy which exists for its own service and not that of the country.

Something has snapped in the machinery of government and most Members of Parliament will admit it but they also feel powerless to stop it in the face of such faceless numbers, combined with a nagging fear that the civil servants may be right -- perhaps government is too complex for mere mortals and only mandarins have the insight to rule.

This may be, but until Canadians are prepared to abrogate democracy for bureaucracy, then we suggest that Parliament spend some of its next sessions, both in committee and in the House of Commons, examining the role of its servants.

The role is still to serve and not to rule not necessary for repairing or building under $10,000. Provision is also made in the by-laws for Council to authorize any person to demolish any building.

The by-laws necessitate the appointment of a building inspector annually. The by-laws give a list of duties of an inspector.

Building permits will not be issued if the requirements of the accepted by-laws are not adhered to. Permission to build cannot be given if there is a detriment to health, if it is considered to be a fire hazard, if provisions are not made for proper sewage disposal and water supply. Provision for a building inspector will be included in the 1976 budget.

Details of the by-laws, it is understood, will be published for the benefit of people in the municipality.

According to the building by-laws accepted a person who violates a provision of the by-laws or a provision of the National Building Code of Canada is guilty of an offense and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding five hundred ($500.00) dollars and in default of payment of such fine, to imprisonment of a period not exceeding three (3) months.

Councillor L. E. R. Winchester proposed some changes in the regular by-laws of the municipality eg. time when council meets, compensation for mileage raised from 10 cents to 15 cents, abolishment of transfer tax. These proposed by-law changes will be reviewed by Warden Wilfred Swift, Eric Vantassell and Walter McAlpine of the law amendments committee and will make recommendations at the October meeting of the Council.

Urges Welcome

For New Citizens

The need for local organizations and individuals to extend a welcoming hand to newcomers to their area of Canada was stressed by Judge Victor Cardoza of Digby in an address to the Business and Professional Women's Club of Kings County at the Black Forest restaurant in New Minas.

Introduced by Miss Margaret Pushie, Vice-President of the association, Judge Cardoza noted that newcomers to Canada, particularly those from countries that differed greatly in culture, often found it difficult to adjust to their new life here.

He said that those who are landed immigrants here are, in a way, guests in our Canadian home. They should be made to feel welcome and encouraged to become as much as possible a part of the pattern of life here. When these people take out citizenship, he said, they become members of the Canadian family and as such share the rights, privileges and duties that are those of all Canadians no matter what their ancestry.

In his address Judge Cardoza traced the history of the development of legislation regarding citizenship. He urged attendance by members of the association at Citizenship Court ceremonies and said these provided and opportunity to indicate directly to the new citizen that they are welcome as a part of the Canadian family of citizens.

Canada, the speaker noted, is a nation of immigrants. Peoples from many lands, many cultures and ethnic backgrounds have added their heritage to the mosaic that is Canada, he said. He noted it is the official policy of Canada to promote and encourage maintenance of cultural heritages by the various groups that go to make up the population of Canada. This, he said, is one of the strengths of Canada that we can have a united nation with such a diversity in our population.

Gospelaire To Digby

The Gospelaire are perhaps the longest active gospel quartet in the Maritimes. Beginning with guest appearances at churches over eleven years ago, these gospel singers soon found themselves in demand in radio work and Sunday afternoon informal singingspirations. The group has appeared in upwards of 200 television programs and have held concerts with many popular gospel singing groups, such as: Blackwood Bros., The Speer Family, Cathedral Quartet, and others. They have recorded numerous L.P.'s and tapes. Their message is "To proclaim Christ that His name might be exalted."

There is no admission charge to the Harvest Time Gospel Sing. A free-will love offering will be received to meet expenses. Bring your entire family and friends to this evening of singing and rejoicing.

The Harvest Time Gospel sing will be presented in the Digby Regional High School Multi-Purpose room on Saturday, September 27, 1975. The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Appearing in the concert will be Dave Wilson and The Inspirations, and the special guests will be the Gospelaire from Fredericton, N.B. There will also be other local talent featured. Dave Wilson and The Inspirations is a local singing group that has ministered in many of the churches around the Digby area. They feel that their ministry is directed to the small church which normally does not have a lot of special music. The group consists of four young men: two from Digby, Dave Wilson, Manager of Jones Bottling Company, and Churchill Page, DRHS Biology teacher; and two from Saint John, N.B., Eric Brewster, Insurance man, and Don Flewelling, another school teacher. These men present the Gospel through music on their spare weekends and come to

SPORTS

LIONS COP CHAMPIONSHIP BY EDGING KIWANIS 5-4

Behind the three hit pitching of Joey Hattie the Haines coached Lions won the Digby Little League Championship by taking their second straight victory over the Kiwanis, this time by the score of 5-4 having won the first game by the score of 6-3. Both teams scored three runs in the first inning, the Lions got two more in the top of the third and held the Kiwanis to one in the bottom of the third. Hattie for the Lions faced the next nine batters and struck out eight and had one fly out. Mackintosh and Woods handled the pitching chores for the Kiwanis, they allowed two hits, struck out twelve and walked four while hitting three batsman. In every sense of the word this Series was a real pitcher's duel. Coach Ritcey used Mackintosh and Woods in both games while coach Haines used Gidney in the first game and Hattie in second. Congratulations to the Lions who also lead the League in regular play. To the Kiwanis our sincere thanks for giving their all, remember, someone has to lose, and it's not the winning that always counts but it's how you play the game.

To Hold Land Clearing Demonstration and School

Through the co-operation and sponsorship of the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture and Marketing, a Land Clearing School and Demonstration will be held September 29th to October 2nd to demonstrate to the farmers of Western Nova Scotia the new techniques in land clearing being used in other parts of the Province.

Robert Dechman, Annapolis County Agricultural Representative and Bruce Gilliat, Digby County Agricultural Representative, have co-operated jointly in setting up the program for the week and it is hoped that all farmers from Kings County to Yarmouth County will take part and see the new techniques right in this area.

Two areas have been chosen for land clearing and you will be able to visit the sites from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. daily.

The first part of the demonstration will be held at the Cameron Johnson farm, Bear River, and to proceed to this farm turn south at the west end of the new bridge at Bear River on Highway 101 and then follow the arrows to the site.

The second part of the demonstration and school will be held on the farm of Perry Freeman, Bear River East.

For those people travelling east toward Bear River you should turn left from Highway 1 and proceed to Clementsvalle Corner, turn right at Clementsvalle Corner and follow arrows.

For those travelling from the west, turn right at the west end of the new bridge at Bear River and proceed to the village of Bear River and follow the arrows to Bear River East.

The land clearing work will be done on two completely different types of tree cover, the first being of scrub spruce, old hoppings, juniper and a few rocks. The second one is covered with alders, other small trees and rocks of varying sizes.

This should give us an excellent idea of the costs in land clearing on these two different types of land as well as an indication of the amount of soil that can be saved using this program.

Burning of the debris will take place immediately following the initial clearing as well as the follow-up work by other equipment to complete the job which should be most interesting to people who have never seen this new technique of land clearing.

From this work we are very anxious to have some accurate cost figures on clearing land of the two types of tree cover mentioned earlier.

Today, with the cost of fertilizer and value for crop production, it is generally felt that we can no longer economically remove the large amount of top soils to be put into piles at the edge of the fields that can never be recovered.

Specialized land clearing equipment will be brought in from another part of the province for use on the sites. John Higgins, Extension Agricultural Engineer, Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture and Marketing, will be available with other Department people at the sites while the school and demonstration is being held. Bruce Gilliat stated that "other demonstrations of this type have been held in two other locations of the Province and he is very pleased that such an undertaking can be done right in our own area."

Bob Dechman said "this demonstration is something that the farmers of Annapolis County have indicated to him as being very useful for their area." He feels that all farmers, bulldozers owners and operators should make a special effort to take in these new techniques in land clearing demonstrations.

This demonstration and school is for farmers, bulldozer owners, and operators of the area, and the Department of Agriculture has kindly agreed to pay for a great deal of the costs involved, so, please make an extra effort to be at the site to view the work being done.

If anyone has any questions or further inquiries regarding this demonstration and school it was suggested that you contact either of the Agricultural Representatives at the following numbers, Lawrencetown 584-3324 or Weymouth 837-5160.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Warder and Mr. Warder's sister, Ms. Vida Dunke of South Hampton, Ontario, were guests at the Admiral Digby Motel on their tour through Nova Scotia.

WEDDING

MORRISON-THIBIDEAU

Holy Cross Church, Plympton, N.S., was the scene of a lovely summer wedding on Saturday, August 16th, 1975 at 2:30 p.m. when Faye Marie Thibideau, only daughter of Mrs. Marie F. Thibideau and the late Mr. Arthur J. Thibideau, Plympton, N.S., was united in marriage to Alexander Wayne Morrison, only son of Mrs. Iliah Morrison and the late Mr. Alexander Morrison, Sydney, N.S., Rev. Rene LeBlanc officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Clifford Doucette was the organist.

The church was beautifully decorated with pen markers of white dillies, pink net and daisies, tall urns at the altar rail of deep red dahlias and other flowers gracing the altar.

Before the bride's arrival, Mrs. David Marster, cousin of the bride sang "There is Love". She also sang three solos during the ceremony and at the signing of the register. The radiant bride walked to the altar on the arm of her mother. She wore a gown of white sheer organza over taffeta, high waist with an A-line panel of Spanish lace both front and back, accented by a small bow at waist-line front and back, a wide flounce, starting from sides of front panel forming a long train edged with matching lace. A high neck line with a tiny frill and full sleeves with a long wrist band of matching lace. Her head-piece was a Juliette cap of matching lace with tiny seed pearls, double veil to shoulders, then extending beyond the train of her dress. The bride carried a long cascade bouquet of red roses and fern. The groom's gift to the bride was a star sapphire pendant and matching ear-rings. Mrs. Ian Leadley of Halifax, N.S. cousin of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Terry Dell Jodrey, Kentville, N.S., friend of the bride, was a bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of pink sheer, flocked with tiny flowers over taffeta with a high frilled neck-line and wide frill around the bottom, high waist lines with narrow sashes and full long sheer sleeves. They carried white parasols trimmed with lace and pink bows and small nosegays on the handles, of pink shasta daisies and streamers. Four year old Kimberly Dawn Marsters, cousin of the bride was flower girl and she wore a dress identical to the bridesmaid and matching bonnet. She carried a white basket of pink shasta daisies and streamers. David Marsters, cousin of the bride was ring bearer, he carried a white satin pillow trimmed with lace and Lily of the Valley.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Thibideau chose a blue floral sheer gown over taffeta with matching A-line coat and silver accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses and silver ribbon. The groom's mother chose a yellow polyester crepe gown with matching coat and white accessories. Her corsage was of white roses tipped with yellow. The best man was Mr. Gary Nymark, Sydney, N.S., friend of the groom; and the ushers were Mr. Ian Leadley, Halifax, N.S., friend of the groom and Mr. Gerald Baker, Sydney, N.S. brother-in-law of the groom. The men in the wedding party wore black tuxedo pants, white jackets, with wide lapels edged with black and white ruffled shirts. Following the ceremony over 150 guests were in attendance at a reception dinner held at the R.C. Legion Hall, Digby, N.S. Coming from Malden, Mass., Cape Breton, N.S., Halifax, N.S. Bridgewater, N.S., Kentville, N.S.; Kingston and other parts of N.S. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wagner, Barton, N.S. acted as host and hostess. Miss Heather Morrison, sister of the groom was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Shawna Baker and Miss Sandra Morrison sisters of the groom served the bridal table. A four-tier beautifully decorated white frosted cake with bells, hearts and roses, made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Gus Melanson, graced the center of the table. Mrs. Gus Melanson, aunt of the bride and Mrs. Donald Buchanan aunt of the groom, presided at the tea table. Rev. Rene LeBlanc gave the blessing on the dinner and also proposed a toast to the bride after which the groom responded. The best man toasted the groom and telegrams were read by the best man.

Previous to the wedding,

Clementsport

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stevens, Burnaby, B.C., visited Mr. and Mrs. Ainsley Robar and family while on a trip across Canada. Mr. Stevens was a Lieutenant in the Navy during the War and he, his wife and two children occupied "Barra Nook". Others visiting with the Robars were: Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Coombs of Halifax and later in the day the Coombs enjoyed a family picnic at the Provincial Park at Upper Clements. The next day a few of the men resumed the work and will continue until the job of shingling and painting is completed.

Cape Breton Woman Guest Speaker

On Sunday evening, September 21st, the Christian Women's Fellowship met in the church vestry. Opening the meeting they repeated the C.W.F. Prayer in unison, followed by a moment of silent prayer in memory of Mrs. Hazel McDormand, who for many years was treasurer of the group.

The devotional was led by Mrs. Charles McDormand "A Sure Harvest", telling of the parable of the sower, the purpose of the parables and their meaning. Roll call word was harvest.

During the business meeting Mrs. Harold Thompson was elected the new treasurer, other plans were discussed and finalized.

The guest for the evening was Mrs. Phillip Welch of River Denys, C. B. Members were interested in the many things she could tell of their work among the Indians in Cape Breton Island. She says it is a real opportunity to present the gospel, but the work is slow and they get discouraged but after a time they can see the results of their work. The places open to them are the Whycoomagh and Barrahead reserves. This year they tried a weekend camp for the children and it worked out fine so plans for another year are in the making. Mrs. Welch says prayer is the key that unlocks the door and is the greatest need.

The group closed with the prayer and a time of fellowship followed.

Clement Belliveau of Belliveau Cove, one of Clare's famous wood carvers. He is seen here holding a lifelike duck which he carved for one of his customers. He is famous for wood carved birds and the most in demand is the seagull. He has made them in all sizes and also life sized. He says that there is a demand for many different birds, pheasants, woodpeckers, robins, etc.

He gave up barbering to put in full time at carving. He works long hours to fill the orders which come in from various places in the province and other places. Mr. Belliveau discovered his hidden talents several years ago when he visited his friend who was carving at the time. He thought to himself, "I can do that", and he gave it a try and was successful and from then on he continued to carve birds and animals. (Melanson Photo)

Over Three Pound Potato

The farm of Waters Comeau, Rossway, has outdone itself in the size of the potatoes it produces. Digging in one hill he found two large potatoes with the largest nearly a foot long and weighing three pounds and ten ounces.

In 1952 The Digby Courier recorded along with a picture, a potato on the Comeau property weighing two pounds and four ounces. The 1975 production outdoes that of twenty-three years ago by all of one pound and six ounces. Potatoes are growing bigger and better.

BE HAPPY

Louis, you've come a long way
In all fairness one must say
You've succeeded on your own
For all to see you have shown
All are proud, of that I'm sure You've unlocked many a door.

I offer a prayer to you
Be happy in all you do
The time has come, now you reap
None can take, always you'll keep Stand with pride on this your day
May happiness with you stay.

Poet Of The Camera

A collection of the photography of the late Wallace R. MacAskill will be on exhibition at the Digby Regional Library on the 25th of September to the 15th of October, 1975. The display, a first of a series of exhibits on great Nova Scotians, has been assembled by the Nova Scotia

Department of Recreation.

The collection pays tribute to a great artist who was born in the village of St. Peter's on Cape Breton Island. MacAskill began his career while still in school and at the age of fifteen had made the loft of his father's general store a darkroom. He took a professional course in photography in New York and then established a studio in Halifax.

"Grey Dawn" was exhibited in London by the Royal Photographic Society of Great Britain in 1924; while later, an exhibition in Boston of the "World's 120 Best Pictures" included MacAskill's print, "Storm Swept." The exhibition was sponsored by the magazine "American Photography". His photographs were in exhibitions in Tokyo, Budapest, Madrid, London, New York, Warsaw, Paris, London, and San Francisco. King Alfonso of Spain in 1928, awarded MacAskill a medal for his collection of Nova Scotia seascapes.

John Masfield, poet laureate of Britain, recognized MacAskill's great artistry and encouraged him to record the vessels of Nova Scotia and the East Coast of North America, because he knew the days of sail were numbered.

Images of the famed Nova Scotian schooner, Bluenose, taken from MacAskill's photographs, appeared on the 50 cent commemorative stamp issued in 1929 and the Canadian ten cent piece.

His wife, Elva developed what is a now obsolete art of tinting the black and white photographs in such a skillful way, that the mood of the original photograph was not disturbed, but enhanced. MacAskill died in 1956. His portfolio "Lure of the Sea" published in 1951 was dedicated "To my wife, whose love of the sea is as great as my own."

The collection is part of the Province of Nova Scotia's permanent art collection preserving examples of marine photography and scenes commemorating the days when Nova Scotians were known worldwide for their famous sailing ships and the men who walked their decks.

The Western County Regional Library will have a display of books to foster interest and involvement in photography as a form of recreation, in conjunction with the display of MacAskill's photographs.
