The report of Carl Niemeyer, Building Inspector, presented at the Digby Town Council on Tuesday evening, showed permits for new building construction in the Town represented an amount of $458,160. Alteration amounts were $9,000.00 and repairs $83,684, making a total amount for the year 1976 of $550,844. Permit fees amounted to $565.25.

Council by regular motion on Tuesday evening decided to divert a street near the National Sea Products property to give the company an opportunity to construct a 24 ft. extension to National Sea Products. The extension will serve to complete production of their products here which now are completed at the Lunenburg Plant. This will employ 25 more in the Digby area. National Sea Products will be responsible for the costs of conversion of street and water lines.

The company was represented on Tuesday evening by Robert Snair, superintendent of the plant.

Corporal James Webb presented the report for the R.C.M.P. policing on Tuesday showing 84 complaints received and 84 investigated. There were 9 liquor cases and Corporal Webb reported that the liquor conditions were Eight business houses were found unlocked. There were 4 break and enter, 6 damage to property and 3 drug cases. A quantity of liquor had been stolen in the break and enter. Four R.C.M.P. officers were on duty and fines collected for the municipality amounted to $290.00. $24,990 For Docking Facilities

Approval of two Job Creation projects for the federal constituency of South-Western Nova was announced today by J.P. LeBlanc, Director Manpower - Nova Scotia.

The two projects, which will provide 25 jobs, will receive federal funding totalling some $50,990. Approximately 300 manweeks of employment will be created by these projects. Mr. LeBlanc said that "because of additional funding we have now been able to approve some 28 community-oriented projects valued at $540.514 for this particular federal riding."

"The additional funding was made possible when the federal government announced that Nova Scotia would be getting $6.3 million in extra monies for job creation projects this winter," he said.

The federal government, through Manpower and Immigration, has now invested $10,047,000 in Nova Scotia as part of its Job Creation program effort.

Docking facility repairs in Digby will get $24,990, creating 14 jobs of 147 weeks.

AVABT Will Stress Need For Commission

(Chronicle Herald) By Ken Miller

KENTVILLE - The Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade (AVABT) will continue to press for a royal commission in 1977 to determine the overall transportation requirements of Atlantic Canada, according to the AVABT yearend review prepared by executive manager H.E. Smale.

The AVABT will continue a close watch on the rates and services provided by East Coast Marine on the Digby-Saint John ferry to ensure that this service does not deteriorate, the review says.

Other projects to receive attention in the new year include a firm commitment from the provincial government on highway 101, new access roads to Bear River and Smiths Cove and upgrading and maintenance of highway one.

In 1976 the AVABT pressed the federal government for continuation, of the service provided by the Princess of Acadia Ferry and recommended that it be taken over by CN and operated under the same terms and regulations as the other ferries operating in eastern Canada. This would result in the opportunity for the use of public funds in the operation of the vessel and no loss of employment in the Digby area.

This recommendation was acted upon and the Princess of Acadia was taken over by CN and operated by East Coast Marine

The AVABT review says results have not been "too satisfactory" in support of the Yarmouth, Board of Trade's search for a new and better vessel for service between Yarmouth and the eastern seaboard of the United States. The AVABT has been invited to participate with agencies and associations representing the private sector and the department of development m a discussion on a number of specific issues dealing with the federal government's intended new transportation policy.

The board made, submissions to the minister of municipal affairs on behalf the agricultural processing industry regarding abolition of the inventory tax on the food processing industry. It appears this inequitable form of taxation will be eliminated in tax dollars.

The AVABT has maintained its support for Acadia University as the most logical site for the proposed Atlantic provinces veterinary college, although the Maritime Premiers have picked Prince Edward Island as the site for the college.

The review pledges continued support for a grain drying facility for Kings County and greater use of the Port Williams wharf for the movement of Valley commerce.

Establishment of three industrial parks in the central, western and eastern areas of the Valley, is also favored by the AVABT. The AVABT review is concerned about the overall tourist traffic in 1976, a decline that was universal across the country.

This year for the first time $1,250 was given to each participating tourist bureau to be utilized for operating or capital costs as determined by the individual tourist bureau's governing body.

The AVABT's "tourist of the Week" program was highly successful with press coverage in the New England states focusing attention on the Annapolis Valley.

Anxiety And Discomfort With the construction of the Joshua Slocum ferry for Petite Passage at Tiverton in March, 1974, the government probably felt that here was the ferry of all ferries which would put an end to the complaints of Island residents who were pushing hard for a permanent link between Tiverton on the Island and East Ferry on the mainland. However, Islanders have not ever disbanned the idea, the desire, in fact the dire need of, a permanent crossing. Occasionally that need comes sharply into focus.

One of those occasions occured and was related by Rev. Mr. Chute who with his wife spent Christmas holidays with their son at Middleton. On their return they reached East Ferry at 3 p.m. with supposedly a half hour to wait for the ferry. Their waiting period, as well as that of many others in the long line-up of vehicles, stretched out to five hours. The clutch had broken down in the ferry and required that length of time to be repaired.

Rev. Mr. Chute said if it had not been for the kindness of Miss Burla Sollows who resides near the ferry landing, they would have spent a very long, cold five hours. She invited them into share the warmth and comfort of her home. They were truly grateful to her.

Also waiting in the line-up was- to mention one more of many- Rev. K. Daw and Mrs. Daw who were on their way from Guysboro Co., to spend a few hours with their daughter, Mrs. Cheryl Guier and her family at Freeport.

Residents- and it is noted, several M.P., - are asking why Islanders are required to continue in this "Good-enough- for them" type of ferry system. Why, when the government has allotted money all throughout Nova Scotia for other worthwhile projects, can they not set up a causeway or bridge complex that will be there when it is needed.

Editorials

THE PETITE PASSAGE FERRY

Because the editor happened to be one of the stranded is no good reason to complain about the Petite Passage Ferry. Otherwise, of course, we might not have heard of the ferry delays on Sunday. And if Sunday gone by were the only day in which the broken down service inconvenienced people we would have little reason to make note of it here.

The editor was with a party who took advantage of the beautiful sunny Sunday afternoon to visit relatives on Long Island. Twenty-one cars were lined up at East Ferry waiting to cross while the Joshua Slocum ferry remained for some time having, what we understood to be a steering chain repaired. While there was delay, it wasn't so very long and an until-four visit could be pushed ahead to an until-five visit before returning from the Island. This five o'clock ferry however, was delayed at the Tiverton dock until eight o'clock because the Joshua Slocum was to have a steering chain repaired. In fact, there seemed to be some doubt whether or not there would be service to the mainland on Sunday evening at all and people began telephoning children left home for the afternoon and making arrangements for having cows milked and other necessary chores and responsibilities. The eight o'clock sound of the Joshua Slocum engines starting up was sure a welcome sound and we must confess the delay was somewhat compensated for by "moonlight - cruise" across the Passage.

An interruption like in the Sunday service January 2, would not necessitate too much mention. It is expected to happen at some time and it would be expected to be remedied without complaint. Our concern here is that the Islands people have informed us that there have been many Petite Passage ferry interruptions within the past few weeks. One vehicle and occupants had a four hour wait. The last time this editor was on the Islands, in June, at the Islands Consolidated School Sports Banquet there was a delay and we watched the Joshua Slocum as she came into the Passage from Meteghan where she went for repairs. We also recall a municipal councillor from the Islands being delayed in arrival in Digby because of a ferry breakdown in early Fall. If these breakdowns are frequent as we have been informed, especially recently, then it is our concern. The Petite Passage service should not be allowed to deteriorate.

Our sympathy was with the management and crew of the ferry on Sunday and probably would have been on all other occasions of ferry delay at Tiverton or East Ferry. Our feeling is that this is a matter for the Department of Transport. Is the Joshua Slocum wearing out? Will interruptions and break-downs occur more frequently as her years add up? Has the Joshua Slocum been the best designed ferry for Petite Passage or is the "ship" more of a quiet water boat? Will she stand up to the wear and tear of that choppy and tidal passage?

Long Island and Brier Island cannot afford to have a run-down ferry. A good ferry means too much to their comfort, security and livelihood. It means a great deal to businesses and especially to a growing tourist business for the summer months of each year.

The Petite Passage Ferry is not a concern of the Islands people alone. Has any taxpayer ever figured out the cost to operate the Petite Passage ferry? The Department of Transport can give you the figures. If you ask, the department will know there are people who want to see them maintain the best service possible across Petite. We might have reason for a bridge. What would be its price for construction today? The last resort of course, would be to replace the Island people to the main land but swimming would be more palatable to the Islanders than that, we are

At least we can all keep an eye on the ferry performance and let the Department of Transport know if it is not giving the service expected. We will admit the Joshua Slocum has its commendable improvements over prior transportation. Let's just not let it deteriorate.

NON SMOKING WEEK

January 9 to 15, 1977 is National Education Week On Smoking. "Join the majority". Be a non-smoker is the motto which the special committee for the Week has chosen. Words can be written on the virtues of non-smoking or the perils of smoking but when all said and done, influence by others is the best educator to reach the non-smoking goal. In this regard we list parents, teachers, doctors and public figures as

In the paper "Evaluation of Anti-Smoking Programmes by Norman C. Delarne, M.D., M.S. (Ton.), FRCS (c), FACS, FCCP we read in the paragraph "Parental and Family Influence".

"It is at this level that the exemplar influence of adults is most important. The major difference between students who smoke and those who do not is that students who smoke belong to families who smoke far more than nonsmokers do. Indeed, the most striking differences are seen in the proportion of heavy smokers - in boys this proportion is more than twice as high, and in girls more than 7 times as high in families where both parents smoke than in families in which both parents are nonsmokers. The child is also likely to be influenced by the smoking habits of his older siblings, and one important influence against smoking seems to be the deterrent produced if there is an older sibling who does not smoke.

It has also been found that the smoking habits of 21 year olds can be predicted by their smoking habits at 15, since 88 per cent of those who smoked at 15 will still smoke 6 years later with a considerable increase in the amount smoked. It is obvious that dissuasive efforts at this stage must include a demonstration to parents of the fact that their own smoking habits are related to the start of the habit in their young children, impressing upon them in the process the fact that by the age of 15 the habit is already

Parents have always found it comforting to entrust schools with the education of children and to expect that they will help them make better choices about smoking of cigarettes then the parents have made themselves. They can no longer escape their responsibilities in this fashion."

In the topic "Influence of Teachers" we read "Teachers have been slow to recognize the fact that their own influence at this age group stands but a short step below the parental influence. Innovative, creative classroom experience and stimulating audi-visual aid materials about smoking, lose their effectiveness if the student knows that the teacher smokes. A teacher's concern for the well-being of his students, if it is sincere, and not a moral judgement, probably has more effect on young people than teachers have wished to accept as fact. Not only, therefore, must teachers tell students about the effects of cigarette smoking but they must demonstrate effectively that they have charted their own course accordingly. Fitting actions to words does not mean repairing to the Faculty Room for a "quick one" between periods or at lunch. It means nothing less than total abstinence in school, near school, or anywhere the teacher may be seen by students. Nothing less will do.

Attitudes are catching and attitudes which show belief in an idea, concern for a person, and enthusiasm for building a positive life will be caught. School personnel can inject these attitudes and in this triad of knowledge, attitude. and behaviour it is the personal rather than the professional action which becomes more important.

It is, of course, important also to realize the teaching about smoking and health does not end with the elementary school. Any good curriculum provides for reinforcement and consideration of the topic in greater depths at higher grades in which education on smoking must finally become education on health with a consideration of the multiplicity of factors that are related to smoking and health, whether they be physical, mental or social. This support for the student's resolve not to smoke is imperative, if his resolve is to withstand the buffeting it will take from social and environmental influences at a later age."

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I am trying to locate descendants of Leander and Charlotte (Berry) Fraser. They have a son named Lloyd. It is believed that Lloyd's descendants are living in around the South Shore: Lunenburg, Bridgewater, Caledonia.

I am trying to bring the Fraser family on my father's side up to date.

If anyone knows their descendants or they read this or information on them, please contact Timothy L. Sanford, R.R.1, Clementsvale, Anna Co., N.S. B0S1G0

WANTED: War Brides

With a view to publication, I am in the process of collecting material related to the experiences of overseas wives of Second World War Canadian servicemen. One of this group of immigrants myself, I am hoping to contact women who came to Canada from Britain, Holland, Belgium or France.

If any of your war bride readers have interesting stories to tell of the 1940s and since, I should be very pleased to hear from them with their personal accounts, or about their clubs.

Information from people connected with the transportation of war brides and children, would also be appreciated.

I shall be happy to answer any inquiries. I thank you.

Joyce Hibbert (Mrs.) 214 Laurier, Drummondville, Quebec. J2B 5E2

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

My first desire, is to express to you my sincere appreciation for the many hours that I am sure you give to the promotion of the ideals of a better way of life for us, the citizens of Digby and neighbouring Communities. To say thank you and that you may have health and happiness in the new year is my sincere wish.

Reading your editorial in the December issue of The Digby Courier, I am inspired to make a few observations and comments.

Because of my previous involvement in the difficult task of administering the affairs of my town, I feel I can honestly say that some decisions by Town Council the resulting achievements are worthy of commendation. Realizing that providing services in any one area of town may invoke criticism, nevertheless, when this is done on a sound priority basis, I am in concurrence. This is in regards to paving of the streets, patching, and the provision of storm water runoff, which will protect private property and reduce street shoulder maintenance. Well done.

On the matter of pollution abatement program, I would not be honest to declare I am in favour of the program as it has been finalized. My opinion is that a phasing program would have been a lesser burden on Digby's taxpayer. With substantial agreement from responsible people, supporting the phasing program, I stand in opposition to Council's adoption of the total program.

I am happy to note a revival interest in a new town hall. Not because I have had the privilege of preparing detailed plans of a structure to house our administrative offices but rather, because I feel this is a much needed facility. May I quote from a press release of mine shortly after my resignation as mayor: - "One more concern, was my totally unacceptable accommodation, known as the town hall. This in my view. is below the dignity of the citizens of Digby. It is inadequate in the areas of physical communication for our elderly and handicapped citizens. There is also much to be desired in the provision of office and suitable record storage space. Maintenance of this structure should not. be long entertained, if our image is considered."

There is another area of concerned. The tabulation of or cost accounting on labour and machine operation is sound. This was a part of my own submission to members of Council during 1974, in order to compare town staff operational cost to public tendering. It was also my objective to set up an organizational flow chart, grouping staff in accordance with responsibility and accountability. This study would have helped determine if the then present organization was preferable to a town manager concept.

I would expect to learn shortly, if the present cost of supervising public works, is being evaluated with the above in mind. This has become a costly item and should be used as a determinate factor.

Thanking you for the privilege of expressing my views. I am.

Very respectfully yours. J. Patrick Comeau

Born in Saint John, New Brunswick, June 3rd., 1893, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alford S. Fielding, he could truly be called a Moving Picture Theatre Pioneer and Developer.

Digby Dragons Basketball Team Successful

The Digby Dragons Junior Girls Basketball team has become one of the most successful teams in the province. Their rise to power has been so sudden that most people in the community have not recognized it. This rise has not been an easy one. The team had to put many long hours into practices and fund raisings.

The fund raising's were necessary to equip the team with balls, uniforms and other equipment which teams in other schools get naturally.

In 1975-76 the Dragons started as an inexperienced rookie team which had to go back to the most elementary basics. Their first 9 games were complete disasters as they lost all 9 by large scores. The time during that period was used to settle their defense and improve individual skills. Thev continued to improve and by February, 1976, they were winning as many games as they were losing. In February they travelled to Newfoundland where they won 4 of 6 games.In April

In the first case the team needs competition in order to continue to improve at a satisfactory rate. This looks like it will be accomplished by playing a number of games against senior teams.

The second case is a more difficult one. Transportation for teams is the major drawback for any team in this area. In order to solve this problem a committee was formed to look into and try to find a solution to the problem of transportation. The committee is headed by Mr. Don Hattie.

In order to encourage public support for the Dragons the team has started a campaign to better inform the public of its activities. Over the next few weeks this paper will carry a number of articles on the guards, forwards, centers. new players, managers and coach of the Digby Dragons.

Digby Downs Argyle 49-24

The Digby Junior Girls Basketball team played the Yarmouth league leaders, Argyle, on Thursday and came away with a 49-24 victory.

The Dragons started slow as they were able to hit for only 2 points in the 1st quarter while the Argyle team out-hustled and outplayed the Digby team scoring 8 points.

The second quarter was not much different as the Dragons tried to put into effect a new offense which they have been working on.

1976 Year-end Review

Nova Scotia Department Of Social Services

William Hon. MacEachern Minister of Social Services

The work of the Department of Social Services touches the lives of every age group in Nova Scotia from the very young in day care programs to our older citizens in homes for the aged.

In November 1976, 215 pre-school day care facilities were in operation. Sixtyeight centres were offering full day care services and 40 of these were subsidized by the province. There are 3,304 children enrolled in these pre-school day care facilities.

At the end of the fiscal year March 31, 1976, there were 2,441 children under the guardianship of the Administrator of Family and Child Welfare and the children's aid societies as wards. During that fiscal year, April 1, 1975 to March 31, 1976, there were 357 children admitted to care and guardianship by the family courts. Thirty-six per cent of these new wards were children of unmarried mothers.

Maintenance of these wards under care was increased by 50 cents a day to bring the gross per diem to $5.00 per day. This amount must cover board, clothing and medical care.

We project that by the end of March 1977, the Family Court collection of maintenance orders will exceed $3 million.

The responsibility for the Provincial Ambulance Subsidy Program was transferred to the Department of Social Services from the Department of Municipal Affairs on April 1, 1976.

division. new Rehabilitation and Community Services, was formed during the year which brings together the former Rehabilitation Division, all services to the mentally and physically handicapped, and the Social Development Program.

The primary thrust of this new division is to develop more adequate programs and enable handicapped persons to live in the community in boarding homes and group homes, rather than in institutions. The Nova Scotia branches of the Canadian Association for the Mentally Retarded and the Canadian Mental Health Association have assisted in this effort and 10 group homes have been established during the past two years. Plans are underway to establish a comprehensive system of community services throughout the

Two municipal hospitals and 650 post-mentally ill residents have been transferred to this division from the Hospital Insurance Commission. These facilities will become regional rehabilitation centres in which the emphasis will be on providing a rehabilitation program which will enable the residents to return as quickly as possible to a more normal life in the community.

The rehabilitation section of this division, in cooperation with the Department of Education and the federal Department of Manpower and Immigration, has placed 384 persons in vocational training during the past

CHRISTMAS CARDS

This is January 2nd as my cards are spread out before me, I enjoy looking at them again. Many of them have little personal notes that I did not have time to read carefully when they first arrived in the mail. So sitting here in the quiet kitchen, the sun streaming in so warm and bright, the glistening white snow and the bright blue sky outside, I am looking at them again, and enjoying them even more than I did the first time. Perhaps it's in a different way, I find enjoyment in them, for I have time to look, read and reflect, and give some thought to the friend or relative who was kind enough to think of us and send a card. Each one is different, and all are colourful and cheerful. Many have verses of encouragement and wishes for our happiness in the coming year. One I particularly liked has this verse in it-

"There is no prayer too great or small To ask of God who hears them all-So put your problems in God's hand And do not ask to understand." Helen Steiner Rice

Now what do you do with your Christmas cards? The ones with notes in them, seem almost as though the sender of them had breezed in for a short visit with bits of news. All are far too nice to put in the garbage, so I recycle them, by making some of them into gift cards. The Christmas wrapping paper i. so bright and colourful, I feel a plain gift card is quite acceptable. So where it's possible I cut out the greeting from the inside of the card. This makes a neat little card and can be cut to fit different sized packages. Some greetings are traditional, some are humorous, and many of them rhyme so there is no end to the variety. Another way to use the card, is to go old fashioned, and wrap your gift in plain white tissue paper, and then use a colourful card to tuck under the ribbon or fasten on with scotch tape.

My Christmas tree is now outside standing quite close to the window. There is also a large old apple tree limb right beside the birdfeeder. The birds like to light on this before they hop into the feeder. One morning I tied the carcase of our Christmas turkey on the limb. The birds enjoy pecking away at it getting the last morsel of meat from the crevises of the bones. To our surprise on Sunday night when we came home from church we saw large criss cross markings through the snow around the bird feed, and all in front of the house. It wasn't until the next morning we saw the carcase had disappeared with not a shred of bone or meat anywhere. I have never seen any stray dogs around, but what else could have done it?

As of March 1976, there were 114 boys in the Nova Scotia School for Boys in Shelburne, and 59 girls in the Nova Scotia School for Girls in Truro. A new chapel was dedicated in December at the Nova Scotia School for Girls in Truro.

Since the establishment of the Atlantic Adoption Exchange in May, 1975, there have been 66 children placed for adoption in the Atlantic region through the exchange program.

The maximum payments for recipients of provincial assistance were increased in 1976 according to increases in the Consumer Price Index and the minimum wage. The cost of these increases for 1976 amounted to $2.9 million.

The maximum supplementary blind allowance increased during 1976 from $143 to $167 per month. Last January the special needs allowance for blind persons was increased from $20 to $55 in recognition of those special needs for blind persons during their daily activities.

During the past year, three extensions were opened in municipal homes for the aged. These were: a 35-bed extension at Mountain Lea Lodge in Bridgetown; a 22-bed extension at Richmond Villa in St. Peter's and a 68-bed extension at Glen Haven Manor in New Glasgow.

In addition, two homes for the aged were opened. Roseway Manor is a 65-bed home for the aged at Sandy point. Shelburne County and opened in October.

Seaview Manor in Glace Bay opened in November. Seaview Manor has 80 care beds and 10 double housing

During the past year the Social Research and Planning Division received a grant of $495,000 from Health and Welfare Canada to develop, update, and improve the total Management Information System of the department. The grant will extend over a 30-month period.

The department has been involved at the federalprovincial level in a review of income maintenance programs and the development of a new Social Services Act to replace the Canada Assistance Plan and the Vocational Rehabilitation of Disabled Persons Program.

We have worked closely with Canada Manpower in the establishment of community employment programs in Guysborough County and in Halifax North and Spryfield.

New Charts Show Canada's 200-Mile Fishing Zones

Canada's 200-mile fishing zones, which come into effect January 1, 1977, are now officially in place on four new navigation charts just issued by the Department of Fisheries and the Environment.

The limits of the zones are set out on three new East Coast charts - No. 4001 (Gulf of Maine to Strait of Belle Isle), No. 5001 (Strait of Belle Isle to Hudson Strait), and No. 7010 (Davis Strait and Baffin Bay). On the Pacific Coast the 200-mile zone is indicated on a single chart - No. 3000 (Juan de Fuca Strait to Dixon Entrance).

The new charts, priced at three dollars each, are now available from chart dealers across the country or from Chart Marine Office, Distribution Canadian Hydrographic

Digby New Horizons Parties And Programs

Due to inclement weather the December Digby New Horizons birthday party on the last Thursday of the month had to be cancelled. On December 23rd fifty attended the pot luck luncheon and Christmas party. The lounge at the Centre was gaily decorated in keeping with the festive seasoncomplete with a decorated and lighted tree.

After lunch was over the ticket was drawn on the quilt and Mrs. Guy VanTassel of Digby was the lucky winner.

The singing of Christmas carols, recitations and music was then enjoyed until Santa made his appearance and distributed the wrapped gifts under the tree to each participant attending- not for getting a gift for Santa himself.

Thanks were extended to Santa for taking time to make the party more enjoyable- as he departed the group sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Cards were then enjoyed until Don Scott and some of his musical group arrived to perform. Don Scott of Digby playing the trumpet- Tim Wright of Cornwallis the clarinet- Doug Myra, Digby the trombone, and Stew Brian of Cornwallis the tuba.

Christmas carols were played with group singing. Thanks and appreciation were extended to the musicans also.

The group departed late in the afternoon wishing everyone A Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year. Second Oil Spill

Two trucks in collision on the Annapolis Causeway around 4:00 a.m. Thursday morning caused the spill of some 2500 gallons of oil. A Trimac tanker truck driver by Edward Miller of Kingston and a dump truck driven by Enos Doucette of Yarmouth, collided during a winter storm which caused icy road conditions. Both drivers escaped without injury. Damage to the trucks amounted to approximately $3000.

Department of Highways crews were on the scene early to clean up the spill. Loose sand was used to soak oil-covered snow was hauled away. Department of Fisheries men were also on hand. It is estimated that very little of the oil would find it's way into the waters of the Basin. The area will be kept under surveillance to make sure that as little oil as possible gets into the water.

Not too many weeks ago another Trimac tanker left the road in Upper Granville and overturned causing a large oil spill in a field owned by George Bent. Ditches were dug and large amounts of the oil were bailed out.

Bird Haven Notes

THE HAPPY ROBIN

About two weeks ago a gentlemen called saying he had picked up a robin much the worse for the cold weather. "What can I do with it? he asked. I lent him a cage and told him what to feed it.

I saw him a few days 6,0 and he is in first class condition, eating well and singing everyday, thanking the chap for his kindness.

Am sorry to say many other robins haven't fared so well, many have been found frozen.

Have had a visit several times from a Sharp shimed hawk and how the little birds vanish is miraculous. Of course, they have to eat, too, but you hate to see them take one of your little trusting birds.

Have had a male gold finch and a purple finch added to my out door visitors. They are staying a little later every day at the feeders. My canary has lost a great many feathers and at one Diller. Was told he had had a nervous breakdown. No wonder with Cindy barking at the pidgeons and now the dogs are on the rampage again, so she has to bark at them.

Picked up some suet balls rolled in bird seed at a local store last week. For feeding the birds, run a string thru them and hang on a branch. Good for Chick-a-dees.

Don't forget to put out your Christmas tree and pour melted fat over the branches. That way it does double duty, making the birds happy as well as the children. They also provide a bit of shelter.

More calls about Dovekies being found on land. Take them to salt water as soon as possible, as I have said before. They can't take off on land.

YEAR END REVIEW

The Connors Brothers fish plant at Freeport was demolished during the Feb. 2nd storm.

TO ALL SUBSCRIBERS TO MARITIME MEDICAL CARE:

EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 1977, THE NOVA SCOTIA PHARMACEUTICAL SOCIETY HAS REQUESTED ALL PHARMACIES IN NOVA SCOTIA TO REFUSE TO ACCEPT THE "PHARMACARDS" OF MARITIME MEDICAL CARE INCORPORATED (MMC).

MMC ASSURES SUBSCRIBERS THAT ALTHOUGH THEY MAY BE INCONVENIENCED BY THE SOCIETY'S ACTION THEY WILL NOT LOSE ANY OF THE BENEFITS COVERING PRESCRIPTION DRUG EXPENSES UNDER THEIR AGREEMENT WITH MMC.

HERE IS WHAT TO DO IF YOUR REGULAR PHARMACY REFUSES TO HONOUR YOUR MMC PHARMACARD:

- USE ANY CHARGE CARD ACCEPTED BY THE PHARMACY OR PAY CASH.
- OBTAIN A DETAILED RECEIPT OR A COPY OF YOUR PRESCRIP-TION.
- MAIL THE RECEIPT TO MMC AND YOU WILL BE REIMBURSED PROMPTLY -- PROBABLY BEFORE THE CHARGE SHOWS UP ON YOUR CREDIT CARD BILL.

IF YOU SHOULD DECIDE TO HAVE YOUR PRESCRIPTION FILLED AT A PHARMACY WHICH WILL HONOUR YOUR MMC CARD (NOT ALL PHARMACIES HAVE ACCEPTED THE SOCIETY'S ULTIMATUM) PHYSI-CIANS WILL, MMC HAS BEEN TOLD, REISSUE PRESCRIPTIONS SO THAT YOUR NEW PHARMACY MAY HAVE AN ORIGINAL AS AUTHORITY.

MMC IS ASKING MEMBERS TO BEAR, TEMPORARILY, THE INCON-VENIENCE BEING IMPOSED BY THE NOVA SCOTIA PHARMACEUTICAL SOCIETY FOR TWO IMPORTANT REASONS:

FIRST, IN DEFENCE OF THE PRINCIPLE OF FREEDOM OF CHOICE WHICH MMC DEEMS BASIC TO GOOD HEALTH CARE.

SECOND, TO PREVENT EFFECTIVE ELIMINATION OF COMPETITIVE PRICING OF PRESCRIPTION DRUGS WHICH MMC BELIEVES WILL RESULT IF THE SOCIETY ECONOMICS COMMITTEE IS PERMITTED TO CONTROL CONTRACTS FOR ALL PHARMACIES IN NOVA SCOTIA.

SINCE ITS FOUNDING IN 1948 MMC HAS OPERATED ALL ITS HEALTH CARE PROGRAMS ON THE PRINCIPLE OF FREEDOM OF CHOICE. FREEDOM FOR THE SUBSCRIBER TO SEEK A PHYSICIAN, DENTIST, OR PHARMACIST OF HIS CHOICE. AND FREEDOM OF THE PROVIDER OF INSURED SERVICES BE THEY PHYSICIAN, DENTIST, OR PHARMACIST.

THE ISSUE IS NOT A MATTER OF MONEY. MMC PRESENTLY PAYS THE GOING RATE TO PHARMACISTS - COST OF DRUG PLUS A MAXIMUM DISPENSING FEE OF $3.05 PER PRESCRIPTION. MMC DOES BELIEVE, HOWEVER, SURRENDER OF THE FREEDOM OF CHOICE PRINCIPLE IN FAVOUR OF RULE OF ALL THE RETAIL DRUG OUTLETS IN THE PROVINCE BY A COMMITTEE OF THE SOCIETY WILL BE DETRIMENTAL.

MMC WILL NOT SIGN ANY AGREEMENT WITH INDIVIDUAL PHAR-MACIES OR THE SOCIETY WHICH WOULD RESTRICT THE FREEDOM OF A SUBSCRIBER TO SELECT HIS PHYSICIAN OR PHARMACY OR RESTRICT THE RIGHT UNDULY OF A SUBSCRIBER'S PHYSICIAN TO PRESCRIBE THE DRUGS HE DEEMS APPROPRIATE IN THE QUANTITIES HE CONSIDERS PROPER. NOR WILL MMC ENTER INTO AN AGREEMENT WHICH IMPAIRS A SUBSCRIBER'S PHARMACY'S FREEDOM TO DEAL DIRECTLY WITH MMC.

IN OUR OPINION ACCEPTING THE CONTRACTUAL ULTIMATUM OF THE NOVA SCOTIA PHARMACEUTICAL SOCIETY WOULD SERIOUSLY IMPAIR FREEDOM OF CHOICE AND HAVE A NEGATIVE EFFECT ON ONE OF CANADA'S OUTSTANDING PROVINCIAL HEALTH CARE PROGRAMS.

Reflecting To 1947

Our first issue of The Digby Courier 1947 seemed to just not be around. We therefore, skipped the reflection into 1947 through this column.

That brings us to January 9, 1947 where the late Guy Morehouse was being acclaimed for 33 years service as mailman down Digby Neck. The story interestingly written reads "Guy E. Morehouse of Digby has an enviable record; for 33 years, well over a quarter of a century, he has without a break, been responsible for the transportation of His Majesty's mails and passengers to the villages of Digby Neck, Long and Brier Islands. Guy now commences his 34th year on a job which includes "errand boy" for the Neck. During the Christmas season the bus could be seen (or could not be seen) leaving Digby each day so heavily loaded was it with mail bags and parcels piled high on the back, the roof and inside. In 1946 Guy increased his service to the travellers on Digby Neck by providing an extra bus making connections with both afternoon and morning trains in Digby. Guy's youngest son, Paul, a veteran of the Second World War, is working with his father on the bus run as is also Harry Saunders of Sandy Cove." (Paul continued in this service until the renewal of the contract in 1976 when a lower bid was accepted by the Post Office Department for this route.)

Plans were underway to form a Digby Branch Royal Canadian Legion Auxiliary.

Friendship was the keynote in the W.M.S. of Grace United Church. Members had made 447 calls on sick and those needing friendship in December 1946.

J.W. Merkel praised his staff at the Digby Post Office. Often during the Christmas season the staff returned until late at night. During Christmas week 50,000 one-cent stamps were passed out through the wicket and more than 20 bags of American parcels were handled.

Question: Who decides whether or not I am entitled to Unemployment Insurance Benefits?

Answer: The Agents of the UIC working in the assessment and adjudication departments are responsible for making decisions on all claims for benefits. After all the facts have been presented and studied and the UI Act and Regulations have been taken in consideration, a decision is

Question: Yesterday I asked a fellow employer to lend me a Record of Employment (Separation Certificate) Form as I had none on hand. He advised me that I had to contact your office as he couldn't lend or give me any due to certain policies. Could you please explain these policies?

Answer: Records of Employment are all numbered for control purposes. When a request is received for a supply of these forms, they are charged out to the employer under his National Revenue Taxation Employer Account Number. Upon receipt of these forms, the employer is responsible for both their safety and issuance. If the Unemployment Insurance Commission needs to trace a certain form, we have a record of the form number and the employer to whom it was sent. This policy was implemented for two main reasons:

1) The protection of the employer.

2) The provision of a control over the usage of the Record of Employment.

Question: Who is eligible for Maternity benefits?

Answer: You may be eligible if you have worked in insurable employment at least 20 weeks during the past 52 or since the start of your last claim, whichever is the shorter period. You must also have been working and or receiving Unemployment Insurance benefits for at least 10 weeks between the 30th and 50th week before the week in which the baby is expected to be born. This is required to ensure that you were in the labor force at the time you became pregnant.

Question: If the actual date of birth is different from what my doctor has put on my Medical Certificate, does it

Answer: Yes. You should provide the UIC with the actual date of the baby's birth. Otherwise, it could result in a loss of benefits.

REV. MICHAEL BOYD ORDAINED AT TRINITY

For the first time in the history of Holy Trinity Anglican Church, Digby, an ordination service was held on Thursday. The Right Reverend Leonard F. Hatfield, Bishop Suffragan, The Diocese of Nova Scotia ordained The Reverend Michael Stephen Boyd to The Sacred Order of Priests. Reverend Mr. Boyd has recently come to the Parish of Trinity as rector, succeeding Rev. Isaac Butler, who has retired. Included in the parish are all Saints Church, Rossway and St. Peters, Weymouth.

The service began with a most colorful and impressive procession led by Frank Collins, crucifer and including choirs from the three churches of the Parish and clergy of the Annapolis region of the diocese. Wardens of Trinity, F.C. Purdy and Ernest Ryan carried the staves and in the Bishop's Procession were Keith Haynes, Bishop's Crucifer, Digby; Rev. Lloyd Ripley, Clementsport, Bishop's Chaplain; deacons and subdeacons and others participating in the service. The music for the processions was provided by The Reverend Dr. Robert Crouse, Department of Classics Dalhousle University who presided at the organ throughout the entire service.

The Rev'd MacAllister S. Ellis, Rector of Holy Trinity Parish. Yarmouth delivered the ordination sermon. Referring to the Baptism of the Lord and the place which John the Baptist played, Rev. Mr. Ellis defined the place of priests in the church. As John, he said, a priest of today must state what he claims to be. He can be a very ordinary man giving fellow Christians a right to his services. He is the centre of unity, bears the sacraments and his prayers are for his people. In his discourse Rev. Mr. Ellis also defined the duties of the people to take the ordinand to heart, receive his blessings and pray for him that he may use his priesthood to their grace. Prayer is essential, prayers of the faithful are important, the preacher continued as he asked the congregation to remember Rev. Michael Boyd in prayer.

The Old Testament Lesson was read by Rev. John E. Boyd of the Baptist Church, Mahone Bay and a brother to the ordinand. The Epistle was read by Rev. Peter Harris, Holy Trinity Parish, Tangier, N.S. and the Gospel Message was read by Rev. Wayne Lynch.

Bishop Hatfield gave the Exhortation and Examination of the Candidate and gave the Prayer Over the Candidate prior to the Laying On Of Hands. The Rev. Michael Boyd was vested by Rev. Mr. Lynch and Bishop Hatfield presented the Bible, Chalice and Paten after which the Eucharist was celebrated with the Bishop and Rev. Mr. Boyd celebrants. The offering was received by Kenneth Connell, Harold Emerson, Harold Sulis and Harold Dunn. At the close of the service a reception was held in the church hall when Mrs. Ernest Ryan, Mrs. Keith Potter, Mrs. W.H. Troupe and Mrs. Harry Walker poured. The reception was catered to by the women of the three congregations. Mr.

Boyd was presented with his Letters of Orders by Bishop

Presents Paper On Past Christmasses

An interesting paper on "Christmasses Past" in the local area was presented at last week's meeting of the Admiral Digby Library and Historical Society by Citizenship Court Judge Victor Cardoza.

Introduced by Mr. Harold Emerson, the Judge prefaced his paper with brief remarks on the new Citizenship Act. Stressing the fact the new Act is not yet in effect, he said it would be proclaimed early this year.

Among the provision of the new Act, he said, are provisions that applicants will all be treated alike, regardless of sex or country of origin; the period of residence in Canada before application can be made is reduced from five to three years and the age of application is reduced from 21 to 18 years of age to correspond with voting age.

In presenting his paper, Judge Cardoza noted that, prior to the Victorian era Christmas was not the festive occasion it has become. Essentially it was a religious event and not one that featured the gaiety or even the family participation that is now the case. He said the first Christmas tree in Canada is credited to a Halifax merchant, William Pryor, who in 1846 cut one to please his German born wife and decorated it with glass ornaments brought from Germany.

It can only be speculated how the earliest European settlers of the area, the French, marked Christmas in the period following 1605, the speaker said. From accounts of the banquetting that featured the Order of the Good Time and other

His letter to Gerald Wade, principal at Smith's Cove school, said the circumstances of the discovery are particularly interesting since another prehistoric stone artifact was recently discovered from the Bay of Fundy off Digby Gut. Mr. Wade, speaking on behalf himself and the concerned students said "We are very excited about the discovery".

Mr. LeBlanc said the females advanced the most in percentage price the past year because of fashion's demand for smoother, finer coats. Males, which are considerably larger than females are usually worth twice as much as the females.

Average price for dark mink, which makes up 75 to 80 percent of the mink produced in the province, was $40 for males and about $26 for females.

Noting that the cost of fuel, electricity and labor had increased considerably this past year, Mr. LeBlanc said "we have to get these prices to stay in business."

The show which many mink ranchers look to as an indication of whose breeding stock to buy, attracted 270 entries in eight different color classes.

Royal Bank Constructs New Building

A landmark of long standing in the village of Church Point, in the business section, was demolished last week to make room for progress. The contracting firm of Elzee Doucet of Belliveau Cove had the task of demolishing the store building previously known as "Coin du Sport" store (Corner sports st re) which was situated on the south corner of the Patrice road which starts at the wharf and terminates in Corberrie. The original owner of the store building was the late Louis A. Melanson who was postmaster, merchant and spruce gum king. August Comeau of Meteghan River operated the store for a number of years and was sold to Audrey Frankland and he in turn sold it Jos. A. LeBlanc of Little Brook. Jos sold it to Josephine LeBlanc of Halifax and Church Point and the last owner was Ville Francaise Enterprizes Ltd.

It is expected that the proposed building will be constructed to the rear of the present building and with more land between the new proposed building and the main highway will serve as parking area for the bank's customers. A little over a year ago, the department of highways put up "no parking" signs on the east side of the highway due to a dangerous intersection of the Patrice Road with the main highway. Cars parked on the east side of the highway caused some inconvenience to traffic intersection with the main coming to Church Point on the Patrice road causing a blind area. MacASKILL SUPPORT NON SMOKING

January 9 to 15 has been designated National Education Week on Smoking, and Nova Scotia Health Minister Dr. Maynard MacAskill said he'll be enthusiastically supporting it.

Dr. MacAskill, himself a non-smoker, who does not allow smoking in his office, sent out letters to all employees of the Department of Public Health, the Health Services and Insurance Commission, and the Commission on Drug Dependency seeking their co-operation.

He also wrote to all of his fellow cabinet ministers and deputy ministers, and to all hospital administrators in the province.

Dr. MacAskill said that those involved in the health care delivery should be an example to the rest of the public.

"Smoking poses dangers not only to the smoker themselves, but also to those who are forced to share in the habit by inhaling secondhand smoke," Dr. MacAskill said.

"For that reason I have asked the employees of the Department of Public Health and the other agencies of which I am minister to refrain from smoking during the week, in meetings or public areas of the department."

In his letter to the Premier and other members of cabinet Dr. MacAskill said. "As Minister of Public Health, I am asking your personal assistance in influencing the lifestyles of the employees in your department....I hope you will publicly support this week both in the news media and within your department."

Dr. MacAskill pointed out that the purpose of National Education Week on Smoking is to influence young people not to smoke - to point out the health hazards of smoking - and to promote the right to breathe clean air, unpolluted by tobacco smoke.

This letter from the minister to the administrators of the province's hospitals said. "Hospitals are major influences within the community and have the opportunity to change public lifestyles especially in regard to smoking habits. I encourage you and your staff to institute a no-smoking policy within the hospital, to set up displays of anti-smoking literature, to encourage hospital staff not to smoke and to advise patients to quit now."

The Health Minister said he hopes that many will heed the message being put out by the Nova Scotia Council on Smoking and Health, of which the Department is a member.

WATCH YOUR INSULATION JOBS AND COSTS

Rising fuel bills have led to a rapid increase in the number of home insulation contractors, many of whom have had little or no experience in this field and may not be able to do a competent job, warns the N.S. Department of Consumer Affairs.

'Some may be fly-by-night operators who will not be around when problems occur," says the Department's chief executive officer, Harry M. McIlroy. "Unfortunately, insulation is hidden from view and the consumer is unable to determine if the product has been installed properly to reduce fuel consumption. It is only after at least one winter of use that the consumer is able to determine any benefits through reduced fuel bills."

To avoid problems, Mr. McIlroy says consumers should take special precautions when dealing with home insulation contractors.

Check the reputation of the company. How long has it been in business?

Check the credentials of the sales person or estimator to determine if he is really an expert. Check the credentials of the applicator. Is he trained for the job?

Check the warranty provisions. It is only as good as the reputation and financial stability of the company.

Obtain three estimates from different applicators. Be suspicious of low estimates. They may imply low quality or poor workmanship. estimates. They may imply low quality or poor workmanship.

Check with at least five previous customers who have had the product installed for at least one winter. Ask them if there have been any problems and fuel savings.

If considering foam insulation, ask for specifications on shrinkage and fire resistance qualities, Mr. McIlroy says. Just before the application, get a sample of the actual product that will be foamed into your walls. Measure it as soon as it hardens and again in 24 hours to determine shrinkage. If chemicals have not been properly mixed by a competent and trained applicator, problems can arise, he warns.

If you are contacted directly by field sales representatives or estimators who solicit your business by mail, telephone, or door-to-door, the company and sales staff are required to be licensed and bonded by the Department of Consumer Affairs. For your protection ask the salesman for his direct sellers license and only do business with a licensed company, Mr. McIlroy says.

If you have had unsatisfactory work performed or if you've been contacted by a contractor who does not seem competent, Mr. McIlroy says his Department would like to hear about it to warn other consumers. Please call the Consumer Services Bureau nearest you. Offices are located in Halifax, Sydney, New Glasgow. Port Hawkesbury, Springhill, Antigonish, Amherst and Lawrencetown, Annapolis

RECOGNIZE VALUABLE SERVICE

An opportunity to recognize persons who have given outstandingly to the community has been offered by the Department of National Health and Welfare. Such a recognition has its merits, tending to lead people in valuable service than in driving them. The award giving method is one which lends encouragement to those who have given of their best and who continue to work on the Canadian Lifestyle. It serves to bring their influence and example to others to serve.

In many local communities, there are individuals who volunteer their time and talents to improve the lifestyle of their fellow citizens, remarks the Department of National Health and Welfare. These are the people who have worked for many years, often unrecognized, to expand community services and raise the level of health awareness in their areas.

The Department of National Health and Welfare feels that these people should receive the recognition they deserve. To this end, the Lifestyle Award has been created to acknowledge the invaluable contributions made by these Canadians in the promotion of positive health lifestyle.

It is hoped that those people honoured by the Award will be encouraged to continue and expand their efforts towards improving the community health lifestyle. It is hoped, also, that the example set by the Award wini ars will provide the incentive for other capable Canadians to become involved and volunteer their much needed services to change and better the lifestyle of their communities.

The nominee must be a resident of Canada. The nominee must have actively given of his time, talent and energy to the improvement of the health lifestyle of his community or has had significant involvement in the improvement of provision of health-related facilities and ser-

The nominee must have undertaken such activities on a voluntary basis and not for remuneration.

The nominee must have been active in promoting an improved lifestyle either for a period of two years or for a shorter period during which time a significant number of individuals may have been personally affected.

An individul may be nominated by:

- a) an individual, provided the nomination is supported by two co-sponsors not related to the nominee
- b) an accredited news media representative c) a national, provincial or community
- organization d) a provincial or municipal government
- the Minister of National Health and e) Welfare

Do you know of a person who fits the above requirements?

Dear Madam:

As you are probably aware Bill C-20 to amend the Canadian Citizenship Act was given Royal Assent in July 1976 and we expect it to be proclaimed in February 1977. Anyone who is eligible to apply for Canadian Citizenship under the present Act and wishes to do so is advised to contact the Citizenship Court representative at the Canada Manpower Centre, Water Street in Digby, Nova Scotia on Tuesday, 1 February 1977 between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon.

When Bill C-20 is proclaimed all applicants, adult and children, will be required to bring two photographs when applying for Canadian citizenship and the statutory fee is expected to be increased. The new Citizenship Act is more equitable and therefore the same requirements apply to men and women, Aliens and British Subjects. residence requirement is reduced from five of the be surmised that these festivities were suspended at Christmas.

In the early days of the Loyalist settlement here Christmas was essentially a religious and family occasion. Earliest record of the church celebration of Christmas in Digby is that of Rev. Roger Viets, first Rector of Trinity Parish, who records in his parish notitia the holding of a Christmas Day communion service in 1787 attended by 41 communicants, 19 whites and 22 blacks. The service was held in a house owned by a Mr. Francis James. On that same Christmas Day, 1787, Mr. Viets united in marriage James Tobin and Ann Sparkenburgh, "both of Digby". A sad sidelight on that Christmas marriage is that Mr. Viets parish notitia for December 11. 1788. records the burial of the "male child of James Tobin -still-born". Mr. Viets in his records for 1787 notes the christening on Christmas Eve 1787 of a "male child of Conradt Handspiker, named

Referring to the period of some 100 years ago to more recent years, Judge Cardoza noted there was a good deal more evidence of the secular celebration of the Christmas season, although accounts of actual celebrations are scant in the local press. Judge Cardoza pointed ou. that, while Christmas cards were first introduced in England in the early 1840's, Canadians did not start making their own until the 1870's although English cards were available before then. Among early advertisers of Christmas cards in the local area were Dakin's Drug Store in Digby and Charles Burrill of Weymouth Bridge in 1886. Burrill's advertisement noted that "3,000 Xmas and New Year Cards will be shown" with the first date for inspection, December 1, 1886. The cards were said to be direct imports.

In his remarks the speaker quoted a number of interesting and amusing items regarding Christmas from early issues of the Courier. He referred to Christmas teas and sales held by local churches and accounts of activities to mark the season. He concluded his paper with quotations from an article, written in 1368, concerning the celebration of Christmas in Ottawa in the year of Confederation, 1867. The article, in a publication called "Manners", also gave advice regarding Christmas tree decoration with edible ornaments.

Mrs. Donald Brown thanked the speaker for his paper which she termed interesting and informative.

Cosmetic science has extracted a skin beauty substance from the bean of a tropical plant that works wonders by making rough, lined face and dry chapped hands look years younger fast. Use it tonight and you should see vast improvement in the morning. ### Legionaires And Cougars Battle To 9-9 Draw

Cornwallis Cougars battled to a 9-9 draw at CFB Cornwallis on Sunday in what was classed as the most exciting W.V.H.L. game of the season. Although the score was high it did not indicate the calibre of play in the high spirited game in which 20 penalties were called including six majors. The Cougars led 4-2 at the end of the first period as Graves and Bertrand each scored twice while Simms and Belliveau were the marksmen for the Digby squad.

In the second period the Cougars took a commanding 7-2 lead on goals by Yurchak, Robinson and Lefort before the Legionaires came back with three tallies of their own by Griffiths, Simms and Belliveau to bring the score to 7-5 in favor of the hosts at the end of two frames.

The third period saw the Digby team narrow the gan to 7-6 as Oliver scored, only to have the Cougars tally two more as Hanlon scored and Robinson got his second marker of the game to put the Cougars out front 9-6. The Legionaires again fought back as Wood scored once and Simms and Belliveau each completed their hat tricks to bring the final score to 9-9. Digby's tying goal was scored by M. Belliveau with 14 seconds to go in the game after Digby had taken out their goaltender in favour of an extra attacker.

Digby Defeats West Kings

The Digby Dragons travelled to West Kings last Wednesday to play their 4th league game. As was expected the Digby team came away with a victory. However, the game did provide for some interesting moments. For instance, the Digby team was assessed 3 technicals for having illegal numbers. This is a problem which Digby will always face in Highschool federation play because their uniforms and their numbers conform to International rules. Nova Scotia happens to be one of the few provinces which has two sets of rules. The High schools play under American rules and the Amateur federation plays under International or F.I.B.H. rules. For a team to play both they need 2 sets of uniforms, one with N.C.A.H. Numbering and one with F.I.B.A. numbering. This increases the cost for teams. New

Island, Newfoundland, and

Quebec play F.I.B.A. but in Nova Scotia the 'two provincial bodies seem to want to disagree rather than agree. Unfortunately it is the players who lose. The Dragons found this out in the game against West Kings. The First half ended with a 29-8 lead for Digby. However in the third quarter Digby was out scored 8-5 as the Digby team seemed to stop moving. The technical fouls were at the administered beginning of the third quarter. This may of had a bearing on the Digby team.

However, in the fourth quarter the Dragons poured it on to score 18 more points. The final score was 56-20 for Digby. Top scorer for Digby was Kim Roy with 23 points. .Top assist getter was Pam Griffiths with 10. Top rebounder was Darlene Haight with 10. Most valuable Defensive player was Cheryl Trask.

Hawks Withdraw From W.V.H.L.

In an abbreviated game at the Digby Forum Thursday, January 6, the Digby Legionaires were leading the Bridgetown Hawks 10-4 when the visitors left the ice and refused to finish the game at the 12:36 mark of the second period. Since that game a league meeting was held Sunday, January 9th at CFB Cornwallis and the Hawks decided to withdraw from the Western Valley Hockey League thus leaving only two teams, Cornwallis and Digby. However the College Ste. Anne team has decided to return to the league and the W.V.H.L. plans to carry on with these three teams for the remainder of the current season.

DIGBY NECK & ISLANDS

Tiverton (Mrs. John P. Outhouse)

First, we would like to thank the Courier Editor for the editorial, "The Petite Passage Ferry," and for allowing residents space to air complaints regarding this most vital link between the Islands and the Mainland. It is hoped that in the not too distant future the government will realize the power of the tides in this area, and consequently, how vital a permanent, "stable" link is in the lives of the Islands' people. Thank you. Editor, for your understanding. Saturday was the first time in quite a number of years that Digby Neck and islands were without mail. The mail carrier delivered Friday's mail to Westport, the last stop for the day but was unable to return to Freeport Saturday morning because of a ferry breakdown between Freeport and Westport. The ferry boat, without the scow, crossed part of Saturday, but the mailman was unable to get his truck across. Perhaps the mainland is the most advantageous place to reside especially for mailmen!

Freeport (Mrs. Virginia Crocker)

Christmas and New Years Day have come and gone and the holidays are over until another year. Quite a number of parties, dances, concerts, etc., took place in the village before and during this time and quite a number of "Freeporter s" arrived back on the Island to spend the holidays with relatives and friends.

The annual Christmas Concert was held at the Islands School and the many parents and friends attending thought that this was a most successful event. Much thanks should go to the teachers of the Elementary Department, Mrs. Ruggles and Mr. Floyd Gale and the High School Girls who played and sang Christmas and all the many different dishes were tasted and pronounced delicious. Everyone went home feeling much like a well stuffed santa stocking.

The same evening the staff of the school gathered at the Gordon Kinney's for a Buffet "pot luck supper". A most enjoyable evening was spent

The day school closed for the holidays, Santa Claus arrived at the school with treats and presents for all the elementary students.

Santa also arrived at the Sunday School concert to pass out treats to all the children after their very nice concert was presented on Sunday at the Church.

The Legion assisted by ladies of the auxiliary were also hosts to a goodly number of children on Sunday when Santa Claus arrived on the Island via MacIntyres' ambulance to distribute gifts and treats to the children of the members and also their grandchildren.

A Christmas dance and also a New Years dance were held at the Legion and a number of New Years parties were held at various

The play was created by the students of Grades V and VI of Westport School, and with the help of their teacher, John/Townsend, was recently presented in the Oddfellows Hall. As the only student group presenting a program in Westport this year, they pleased the audience by rounding out their play with a number of musical presentations as well. The group hoped also to raise their own funds for a trip to Cornwallis later in the year.

It was gratifying to see the effort and interest of this small group and their teacher in preparing this program and to see them bring out the theme of the triumph of the true meaning of Christmas over modern destructive ideas.

Digby Neck Firehall In Full Use

The January meeting of the Digby Neck Fire Commission was held at the Digby Neck Firehall with Sidney Westcott, president, presiding.

It was revealed that the hall, though incomplete, is being used to capacity. A successful New Year's Eve dance was held and plans are now made for a Teen-age dance to be held on Friday, January 14th, a party on Valentine's Day for the smaller children and a Valentine's Dance, on February 18th, with Bonded Stock furnishing the music. During January classes are being held for those interested in learning about nets and gear for fishing.

A commendation has been received from the Department of Recreation for the work being done and the efficient way in which it is being handled. This is a credit to all those that have helped in any way. Much discussion was held regarding "bingo" and it was decided that there will be bingo parties on Thursday nights, starting Janua 13th. The same format will be used except that the Baby Jackpot will be won each nite. Jackpots and regular games, as well as the regular raffle will be held. It is expected that the canteen will be open, so refreshments will be on hand.

The Ladies Auxiliary are furnishing the kitchen and canteen cupboards, and will be serving at all functions of the Department.

year, CN Marine carried more than two million passengers on its ferry services in Atlantic Canada and eastern United States.

CN Marine operates yearround services between Newfoundland and Nova Scotia. Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and Nova Scotia and the State of Maine. A seasonal service between North Sydney, N.S. and Argentia, Nfld., is provided during the summer months.

The 1976 total of passengers carried represents an overall decline of 7.9 per cent. The decline was largely attributed to less tourists travelling in the Atlantic Provinces during the summer months when the majority of passengers are transported on vessels operated by CN Marine.

For the second straight, various tourism departments in the Atlantic Provinces show an overall decline of close to 10 per cent for the 1976 tourist season.

> The decline was caused. according to tourism officials, by the bicentennial celebrations and election preparations in the United States, the Olympics in Montreal and increased costs of auto travel and lodging.

The largest percentage decline in passengers carried was recorded on the Maine - Nova Scotia service where the number of passengers transported fell 15.8 per cent from 104,995 to 88, 429. The smallest decline was shown on the North Sydney - Port aux Basques service with a 1.6 per cent drop from 294,698 in 1975 to 289,913 last year.

The Saint John- Digby service service showed a percentage drop of 7.7 from 202.741 to 180,070. The 1976 figure includes totals for that service from January 1, 1976. but CN Marine did not take over operation of the service from Canadian Pacific until Figures released by the September 1, 1976. Atlantic Shipyards Ltd. purchased the Clare Shipbuilding Co. Ltd., at Meteghan and began operating under J. H. Deveau, president and general manager. They constructed both wooden and steel ships as well as yachts and other craft. The Meteghan shipyard was the largest one in Canada building wooden ships in 1947.

The advantages of the new Rural High School policy of the Department of Education were outlined to the Digby School Board and Town Council by Chief Inspector H.A. Weir. Mr. Weir said the new policy would be the answer to the criticism that the rural pupils of Nova Scotia are not receiving the educational advantages of the urban pupil. Mr. Weir said he hoped the new schools will become community centres for those areas in which they are located and he used ten hours a day rather than five and a half hours.

The annual report of Mrs. J.M. Wallis, V.O.N. secretary, said the outstanding accomplishment of the year was the fulfilling of that long cherished dream of Victorian Order minded persons in Digby - the purchasing of a car. While most of the runds for the car had been made available by the efforts of Board members, donations from the Digby Kwanis Club and friends in 1945 yet the car was purchased only in 1946. A.R. Turnbull was named president at the annual meeting, succeeding Dr. T.W. Hodgson who served in that capacity for eleven years.

Canada's 200-mile fishing zones, which come into effect January 1, 1977, are now officially in place on four new navigation charts just issued by the Department of Fisheries and the Environment.

On the Pacific Coast the 200-mile zone is indicated on a single chart - No. 3000 (Juan de Fuca Strait to Dixon Entrance).

The new charts, priced at

Reflecting To 1947

Our first issue of The Digby Courier 1947 seemed to just not be around. We therefore, skipped the reflection into 1947 through this column.

That brings us to January 9, 1947 where the late Guy Morehouse was being acclaimed for 33 years service as mailman down Digby Neck. The story interestingly written reads "Guy E. Morehouse of Digby has an enviable record; for 33 years, well over a quarter of a century, he has without a break, been responsible for the transportation of His Majesty's mails and passengers to the villages of Digby Neck, Long and Brier Islands. Guy now commences his 34th year on a job which includes "errand boy" for the Neck. During the Christmas season the bus could be seen (or could not be seen) leaving Digby each day so heavily loaded was it with mail bags and parcels piled high on the back, the roof and inside. In 1946 Guy increased his service to the travellers on Digby Neck by providing an extra bus making connections with both afternoon and morning trains in Digby. Guy's youngest son, Paul, a veteran of the Second World War, is working with his father on the bus run as is also Harry Saunders of Sandy Cove." (Paul continued in this service until the renewal of the contract in 1976 when a lower bid was accepted by the Post Office Department for this route.)

Plans were underway to form a Digby Branch Royal Canadian Legion Auxiliary.

Friendship was the keynote in the W.M.S. of Grace United Church. Members had made 447 calls on sick and those needing friendship in December 1946.

J.W. Merkel praised his staff at the Digby Post Office. Often during the Christmas season the staff returned until late at night. During Christmas week 50,000 one-cent stamps were passed out through the wicket and more than 20 bags of American parcels were handled.

Question: Who decides whether or not I am entitled to Unemployment Insurance Benefits?

Answer: The Agents of the UIC working in the assessment and adjudication departments are responsible for making decisions on all claims for benefits. After all the facts have been presented and studied and the UI Act and Regulations have been taken in consideration, a decision is

Question: Yesterday I asked a fellow employer to lend me a Record of Employment (Separation Certificate) Form as I had none on hand. He advised me that I had to contact your office as he couldn't lend or give me any due to certain policies. Could you please explain these policies?

Answer: Records of Employment are all numbered for control purposes. When a request is received for a supply of these forms, they are charged out to the employer under his National Revenue Taxation Employer Account Number. Upon receipt of these forms, the employer is responsible for both their safety and issuance. If the Unemployment Insurance Commission needs to trace a certain form, we have a record of the form number and the employer to whom it was sent. This policy was implemented for two main reasons:

1) The protection of the employer.

2) The provision of a control over the usage of the Record of Employment.

Question: Who is eligible for Maternity benefits?

Answer: You may be eligible if you have worked in insurable employment at least 20 weeks during the past 52 or since the start of your last claim, whichever is the shorter period. You must also have been working and or receiving Unemployment Insurance benefits for at least 10 weeks between the 30th and 50th week before the week in which the baby is expected to be born. This is required to ensure that you were in the labor force at the time you became pregnant.

Question: If the actual date of birth is different from what my doctor has put on my Medical Certificate, does it

Answer: Yes. You should provide the UIC with the actual date of the baby's birth. Otherwise, it could result in a loss of benefits.

SCHOOL BUDGET $3,009,093., TEACHERS CONTRACTS, STORMY DAY SCHOOL BUSING

Councillor Richard Daley, recently elected chairman of the Digby Municipal School Board, presided at a regular meeting of the Board on Thursday evening when the teachers contracts, a controversial subject in Nova Scotia, came up. The Board accepted the contract with little change.

Teachers contracts, procedures on stormy day school busing and $3,009,093 school budget were the three chief topics which came before the Digby Municipal School Board on Thursday evening presided over by the chairman, Richard Daley. The teachers' contract came before the Board at the December meeting, it is understood, but was rejected by the Board which voted to meet with Robert Street, arbitrator and the municipal solicitor to discuss the contracts. After much discussion on Thursday evening a motion by Mrs. Helen McNeil, seconded by Wilfred Swift to accept the contracts with the exception of deleting clause 401 was carried. The vote including that of the chairman was 4-1.

before passing the contract motion, it was noted the contracts would represent approximately 18 per cent increase for 1977. No new contract had been signed since 1972, it was learned. The Board in discussion wondered how much the taxpayer can afford. They felt their hands were tied as they reasoned that refusing the contract would bring the matter under arbitration which costs, or then to County Court and to Supreme Court which would all be expensive creating turmoil and upsetting the Board. Teachers can strike, the Board agreed but Board's can't Admiration, however, was expressed by the Board for the teachers who are part of the community.

According to discussion

A letter from parents of a Weymouth Mills student of Weymouth Consolidated School was read in which they complained that their child had been left behind at school on December 17 when school buses left early because of a storm. Other transportation had to be arranged. The Board by regular motion decided to write the parents expressing their concern and advising that an investigation into the alleged incidence would be made. Cancellation of school bus schedules on stormy mornings was discussed. A motion at a previous Board meeting in December authorized authority on the bus supervisor and the assistant supervisor together on the decision whether or not the buses run on any particular stormy morning and then communicate their decision to school supervisors. On Thursday the Board discussed the possibility of notifying students by radio about busing as early as 7:15 a.m. and give parents opportunity to use their own discretion as to the child's attendance.

A Digby Municipal School Board total budget of $3,009,093 for 1977 was approved and by regular motion expenditures for December 1976 were accepted.

It was decided to tender for both fuel oil and gas with the lowest tender not necessarily accepted. Repairs on school buses also came in for comment in reference to the school expenditures. A dear little Doveki was brought in last week that had been shot. It died in my hands within a few minutes. Why would anyone think it was sport to shoot one of these dear little birds. Poor sportsmanship I call it.

A couple of reports of ducks being picked up and being kept in bathtubs, one with a slight coating of oil. This can be scraped off with a knife and then washed carefully with a mild detergent. Unless they are injured it is best to return them to salt water, where they can get their proper food.

P.S. Tuesday morning If I thought I had birds before, you should see the yard today. There must be several hundred. Mocky has allowed the evening grosbeak to come to the trays and get their share of sun-flower seeds.

Nancy Jyl, Digby's New Year Baby, Born At Digby Hospital

Each year the Ladies Auxiliary of the Digby General Hospital gives a gift of an engraved silver spoon to the first baby born in the New Year in the Digby Hospital. The honors this year went to Nancy Jyl (more definitely to be called Jyl), daughter of Constable and Mrs. Greg Cougle. Brighton, Digby County. Nancy Jyl, born at 7:46 p.m. on New Year's Day, weighed ten pounds and eight ounces. The name of the new arrival was revealed and presentation of the spoon made at the January meeting of the

Auxiliary. The Auxiliary of the Digby General Hospital was, as always, active in the weeks prior to Christmas. Tickets were sold on a doll and wardrobe, won by Jessie Nickerson. A committee chaired by Hilma Woods and Linda Black prepared plates of treats and fruit for an unusually large number of patients in hospital over Christmas.

The Resusci-Annie doll which the Auxiliary has purchased for use by hospital personnel as a teaching aid has arrived. Future plans include tickets on a Valentine Cake. winner to be announced at the February Pantry Sale. Hall.

TRUTH IN DINING

Watch out. Your menu is advertising and advertising must be truthful or you are in trouble. The Canadian Restaurant Association Digest just published, volume 2, number 1, spells it out in plain simple language.

Possibly you might get away with calling a waitress the world's loveliest and best but you can't say any of the food you serve in your restaurant or dining room is the world's finest unless you can qualify that statement. So watch for such expressions as Canada's famous, best blend, finest quality, fresh daily, home style, our own special and such like. You prove it or take the consequences. Now while it might be difficult to establish whether or not you can claim "the world's finest" watch out for those pictures on your menu. That illustration of a dinner plate might show more meat than gravy. If it does, be sure the dinner you serve has on it more meat than gravy. If several large pieces of meat are shown, then the product must not contain many small chunks of meat says the C.R.A. Digest; if full mushroom slices in a gravy are pictured, the gravy must not be composed of chopped mushrooms or if strawberry flavoured ice cream shows whole strawberries, the ice cream served must contain whole berries.

Few of us scrutinize a menu enough to detect any flaws in advertizing except whether or not that price needs to be that high. Tourists, in particular seem to complain about the cost of eating-out in Nova Scotia. Maybe this is an area where "Truth in Dining" should investigate. Are prices of six, seven or sometimes more really necessary for a sea-food dinner in a province where fishing should be counted a main industry. Price scrutiny regarding food services would not be a bad plan when considering ways to hold tourists into our area. Grant you, the plates are delectable generally. Of course, you do take for granted that a sea-food plate would contain a slice of that delicacy, lobster. Once we were fooled on that score while at another restaurant the cold canned shrimp spoiled the plate somewhat. We figured that business had been good and food supplies for the day were running low. Tourists might not do so.

So restaurateurs, look forward to a good 1977 season and help promote tourism by keeping Truth in Dining.

NOBODY CARES ABOUT FATHERS ANYMORE

For years women's magazines and books have helped women meet the changing demands of motherhood. They still teach techniques of child care. They examine the needs of children and of mothers. They offer advice, sympathy, humor, and counselling -- they provide challenge and inspiration -- for being a mother.

Now look at men's magazines: sports, business, investment, seduction, hobbies - but nothing to help a man be a father to his son or daughter.

So where does a man learn to be a father today? The old techniques just don't apply. Once upon a time, a son worked by his father's side, sharing the satisfactions and the frustrations, the successes and the failures of the field, the barn, or the shop.

What model does a father follow today? Some fathers choose the army model, demanding discipline and obedience. Others choose to be pals, playing street hockey or swapping teenage jokes, being just one of the boys.

Jesus described God primarily as Father -and father doesn't mean much any more. Who wants to be a disciple to a Father-God preoccupied with sexual prowess, or constantly chasing investment opportunities, or pursuing popularity, or a God who's a frustrated sergeantmajor?

For every mother, there's a father, Fathers have roles and responsibilities, just like mothers.

But how does a father fulfil what's expected of him? Fathers need help too.

It's time our society took fatherhood Service clubs, community and business meetings, church groups -- all should be discussing this subject.

Why not?

No newspaper likes holidays (preferred or snow-blown ones) on Monday or Tuesday. Correspondents are going to be disappointed in not seeing their village notes this week. As we write these lines many of them are stuck somewhere along the way because of those six foot drifts. Like everybody else we made the best of the forced holidays.

Luck had it when two young boys bearing shovels came to our house on Monday evening about nine o'clock. We had just tried three doors which led to the outside world when we found the snow drifts was no respecter of any one of the three. Didn't sound too comfortable an idea should a fire start. Anyway, we were glad to know that there were high schoolers who enjoyed working even at shovelling snow at nine p.m.

How did we get to such a financial situation? Kenneth McDonald says "Deficit spending living on borrowed money- created an artificial feeling of affluence. Everyone wanted more. The country went on a consumption binge". That applies to the life of individuals as well as nations.

Digby does get heard about. For instance, Suella MacDonald, a grade six student of Edgewater Park School in Thunder Bay, Ontario, wants a copy of The Digby Courier. Glad to do so.

- A disabled person can't make it alone. His courage is not enough. You can help by giving to the Ability Fund campaign. When the Ability Fund canvasser calls. Or, if you receive an invitation to help by letter, you can be generous.

Did you know what we read in the 1947 Digby Courier files? "The tourist business in Digby is dead and gone". That was thirty years ago and in 1977, better or worse, the industry is still around. Expect it will be around thirty years hence, 2007, if somebody still keeps pushing.—

Letters To The Editor

To the Editor:

ALL ABOUT US and HERITAGE CANADA invite the people of your community, and especially the students, to join the "Great Canadian Heritage Hunt".

February 21, 1977 is Heritage Day across Canada, a day to appreciate surviving complishments of earlier community builders, and to talk with the people who were young when our country was young.

Each community has its own heritage visible in the buildings, craftmanship, customs and values of older times. These treasures can be discovered, particularly if our young people will lend their considerable energies to the search. We invite school-age Canadians to record their findings in original drawings, paintings, stories, poetry and interviews, and sent them to ALL ABOUT US. They will be published and exhibited across Canada.

ALL ABOUT US and HERITAGE CANADA are both non-government, nonprofit organizations working together to encourage the appreciation of Canada's heritage, and the conservation of the best of our built and natural environment.

Please send materials about your community's heritage or write for an information kit to ALL ABOUT US, Box 1985, Ottawa, Canada, K1P 5R5. We want to discover how our young people view their country, for it is they who will carry the good things of the past and present into the Heritage Day is a time when people of all ages can share in appreciating their own heritage. Join the celebration!

Letter to the Editor Dear Mrs. Wallis:

After reading your Editorials, the Petite Passage Ferry and Non Smoking Week, I am sorry that you had to be one of the stranded to find out just what is happening with respect to the ferry service. Do you know that if you come to the ferry and miss it by seconds. you have to wait an hour before you can get over to either side of the passage? I know as we have had to wait that long, several times since the ferry has been in service across Petite Passage Trying to catch the ferry causes speeding down Digby Neck and through the Island. We also have had to wait for broken down service to be repaired.

If we have appointments and the ferry can't cross because of weather conditions or broken down service, inconvenience. When we are in Digby shopping, we usually have to leave without getting all of our errands done, to catch the ferry on time, especially in winter months. Inconvenience. We can't go and come freely and relax, we have to watch the time clock as the minutes tick off. If our car is damaged while crossing or driving off the ferry or while on the ferry, we have to accept the incident as an Act of God.

We are not expected to complain, as you said in your Editorials, the Joshua Slocum has its commendable improvements over the prior transportation, but it is still inadequate to provide the ferry transportation we Islanders need. In an emergency illness, how could we get across the passage if the passage is too rough to cross? Yes we have good reason for a bridge, but there is some doubt. Could we have a bridge that would be faithful to us, and not break down? The cost of .

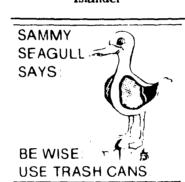

keeping the Petite Passage Ferry could probably give us a toll bridge that wouldn't let us down, we would hope. While on the subject of transportation, may those who are responsible, please don't let us be caught in mid December with snow blocked highway and our snow plow off the Island.

With deep interest I read

Non Smoking Week. It appears that the non smoker does not have any rights or consideration from those who should care. He or she has to eat in restaurants and sit in doctor's waiting rooms with smokers. Even in hospitals you have to endure smoke of other patients and visitors as well, who come on the wards and smoke. We are being made to feel that we shouldn't complain, as we feel that we are in a minority class, and the majority always wins, right or wrong. If smoking is a proven health hazard, how can the non smoker protect himself from the effect that smoke has upon him? If we can't tolerate smoke, we have to stay away from public buildings as much as possible, and feel that is what we are expected to do. We are not telling the smokers not to smoke. That is their business, if they want to take the chance of ruining their health, as many already have. Consideration would be appreciated by those who can't tolerate cigarette smoke in many public service buildings. Thank you for bringing these important circumstances to the attention of the public, in your Editorials.

Digby Branch Appoints Chairman For Red Cross Campaign

The Digby Red Cross Branch met at the Court House for its first business session of the New Year with the President, Harold Emerson, in the chair. Minutes of the December meeting were read by the Secretary, Mrs. Mary Robert, followed by the report of the Treasurer, Mrs. J.J. Brittain.

It was reported by the President that Mr. Lee H. Savage, manager of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, had agreed to accept the chairmanship of the March Red Cross Campaign for the Digby area. This appointment was ratified by unanimous vote of the members, a number of whom expressed their willingness to meet with Mr. Savage and assist in sorting the Campaign material and assembling the canvassers kits. A letter from Don MacNeil, Campaign Chairman for the Nova Scotia Division, advised that the 1977 objective for the Digby area had been set at $2465.00, and it was hoped that this quota might be reached or exceeded. Reports of standing committees included that of Women's Work, presented by Mrs. H.M. Warne, who stated that a shipment of finished articles had gone. forward to Headquarters in January, consisting of 447 items, as follows: 388 Infant's Diapers, 50 Infant's Flannelette Blankets, 5 Tropical Afghans, 1 large Afghan and 1 small Afghan. both donated, and 2 double bed quilts. It was further reported that new materials for both sewing and knitting were to be ordered immediately.

Warren Wong And Tree

Warren Wong admires his six foot Christmas tree as it stood adorned in the Wong apartment over the House of Wong downtown through the Christmas season. Peculiar about Warren's tree is that it didn't stop growing just because it was cut for Christmas decorating. It continued pushing out fresh light green shoots throughout several weeks while standing in a container of water.

Mrs. Alice Winfield presented the report of the Sickroom Loan Committee which showed the constant use which is being made of the equipment which the Branch has in this department of Red Cross service. During the past month loans had been made of 1 hospital bed and mattress. wheelchair, 2 walkers, and 4 pairs of crutches. During this same period 4 pairs of crutches had been returned together with donations of $14 for the use of equipment.

The Ways and Means report, presented by Mrs. Allan Harris, showed a total of $136.78 on hand, the proceeds of teas and donations. Mrs. Harris suggested that with this amount to our credit, it might be advisable to purchase further equipment for the Sickroom Loan cupboard. After discussion it was left with Mrs. Winfield to secure prices on adjustable crutches, since there never seemed to be enough on hand to fill all the requests for this item.

The President reported for E.B. Tufts, Blood Donor Chairman, that consideration was being given to holding a winter Blood Donor Clinic, at the request of the N.S. Division, and the Branch agreed to assist in the usual way, also expressing the hope that the weather would permit a successful clinic.

After further informal discussion of Red Cross interests the meeting adjourned for tea, which was served by members of the Ways and Means committee.

After some faltering, coffee prices again have established new record highs, writes W.L. Dack in The Financial Post column "Commodities Corner." In New York, several large food chains have begun a quiet boycott action similar to the move in Spring, 1974, when sugar prices skyrocketed The stores are advising customers to curb coffee purchases in an effort to reverse the six-month price spiral. Commodity traders do not expect this action to show visible results for at least four to five months. Even should it have effect, there is little / likelihood of any big downward break of the nature of the 1974-75 sugar price reversal. Although the price action of cocoa has nearly paralleled that of coffee, this commodity is beginning to look more "toppy." It has been running into tougher price resistance recently and for the last seven weeks has held to a $1.41-$1.42 a pound price

On Saturday evening, Jan. 15th, a Musical Concert was presented at the Port Maitland Wesleyan Church. The church was well filled for the program which was arranged and directed by the minister of song, Mr. Paul Mullen of Fort Fairfield, Maine. He is well known to many people of this area and he travels extensively in Canada and the U.S.A., engaged in his chosen field of song evangelism.

He was commissioned a song evangelist many years ago by the Atlantic District of the Wesleyan Church.

The theme song, "O Lift Up Jesus'' was sung and prayer was offered by Rev. Ronald Morehouse, after which the choir sang the opening number, "One Lost Sheep", an ever favorite number, which was requested, was sung by Paul Mullen. He was accompanied by Mrs. Steve Adams at the piano.

The next number was about Calvary and was sung by Rev. Stewart Steeves and Paul Mullen. After the singing of the duet Mrs. Perry Ingersoll joined the two evangelists for a trio number.

Two visiting churches, the Yarmouth Wesleyan Church and Sanford Weslevan Church, both contributed to the musical concert by supplying duet numbers and

Rev. Michael Boyd, Rector of Trinity Parish, who was recently ordained a Priest of the Anglican Church, presided over the annual meeting of Trinity Parish on Prior to the Sunday. meeting the eucharist service was held and this was followed by a seafood chowder served by the ladies.

In a brief report to the meeting Rev. Mr. Boyd noted it was his first experience at presiding at an annual parish meeting. He expressed his gratitude and appreciation for the support shown him by the Parish since his appointment and at his ordination. He made special mention of Rev. Butler, former Rector of the Parish, for his assistance as well as that of Mrs. Butler who is serving as church organist.

Mr. Harold Emerson, Vestry Clerk, read the minutes of the last annual meeting which were approved. The financial statement, read by Mrs. Mary Robert, the treasurer, revealed the Parish finances in a reasonably stable position. Envelope receipts were slightly over those of the previous year. According to the financial statement, the ladies organizations had contributed a total in excess of $3,000 toward Parish operations during 1976.

Reports of the various and parish church organizations showed all had enjoyed an active year. The ladies' guild activities included a most successful auction and other fund raising undertakings during the year. A motion of thanks and appreciation to the ladies for their excellent work and support of the parish was moved by Judge Victor Cardoza and passed unanimously. Miss Mary Marshall, in Tufts was re-elected as presenting the report of the Altar Guild, paid tribute to the faithful and untiring work of the volunteers who Essays must be postmarked not later than March 11, 1977, and mailed to Box 842, Armdale, N.S. B3L 4K5. Prizes will be awarded before the end of May.

Special Recognition For Carnival

Early in November, the Bear River Cherry Carnival received special recognition from the Nova Scotia Department of Tourism. Mr. Frank Marshall, Carnival Co-ordinator, was invited to speak at the Pictou County Eastern Shore Festivals Seminar held in New Glasgow.

These seminars sponsored by the Department of Tourism, are staged to teach community leaders the basics of organizing and operating a community fair. The seminar leaders are usually representatives from successful fairs in other parts of the province.

At this seminar, Mr. Marshall attributed the remarkable success of the Bear River Cherry Carnival to a number of factors. According to Mr. Marshall, the strong community spirit in Bear River is perhaps the most significant factor. The long histories of successful Carnivals gives the event special significance to the community. Because the Carnival is only one day long, volunteer help and donations have never been a problem. Almost everyone in the community has one day a year to spare for the Carnival.

Mr. Marshall noted that the Carnival is the only major source of funding for the Bear River Fire Department. Although the official data are not vet available, Mr. Marshall estimates that in 1976, the Cherry Carnival raised about $5,000 for the fire department.

The Bear River Cherry Carnival has been so successful that the Nova Scotia Department of Tourism no longer gives a grant to the annual event. The Department, according to Mr. Marshall, feels that financial assistance is not required.

Farmers Save Income Tax By Knowing Regulations

Although most income tax regulations for 1976 are the same as last year, farmers who study their tax guides will find some new provisions that could save them money.

One of the amendments in tax rules of consequence to producers applies to livestock destroyed under the Animal Diseases and Protection Act. When Agriculture Canada orders a herd destroyed to prevent the spread of a serious animal disease, the federal government pays compensation to the herd owner. This compensation is taxable income and, in the past, some farmers have been caught with this income in one tax year and the cost of replacing their herd in the next. Beginning with the 1976 tax year, farmers now may defer such compensation income to the following year if they are not able to replace their herd until that time.

There are also two changes in the capital cost allowance, effective May 25. 1976. Farmers may write off a single tool, such as a chain saw or welding equipment. worth up to $200, if it was bought after May 25. The former maximum write-off in one year was $100. Producers building roads or paving laneways and other areas can take advantage of a higher depreciation allowance on these costs. The depreciation has been increased to eight per cent per annum from four percent. Roads completed prior to May 25, 1976, are not eligible for the extra four percent.

The accelerated capital cost allowances on pollution control equipment that were to have expired last year have been extende to apply to pollution control systems fices.

built or purchased in 1976. Special rates of capital cost allowance ranging up to 50 percent may apply to these systems. As the Farmer's and Fisherman's Income Tax Guide explains, information on this tax program is available from the federal environment department.

Something which is not new this year, but which farmers should be aware of. is the investment tax credit. Farmers and other businessmen can deduct five per cent of most new investments in machinery and buildings from their federal

For example, a farmer who buys a $20,000 tractor can subtract $1,000 from his federal tax payable.

The tax credit applies to most items in the capital costs schedule if they are purchased between June 23. 1975 and July 1, 1977. There is no tax credit for used farm machinery, tile drainage or the cost of acquiring milk quotas or similar assets.

For farm buildings under construction on June 23, 1975, only the costs incurred after that date can be counted toward the tax credit. However, on buildings begun before July 1, 1977, the entire cost may be used in calculating the tax saving, provided the footings installation or other base support was started in the two year period mentioned above and the building was completed in accordance with plans and specifications agreed to in writing by the taxpaver before July 1, 1977. Form T2038 for the calculation of this credit and Interpretation Bulletin No. IT-331, entitled 'Investment for Credit', may be obtained from district taxation of-

A Thought Starter

By Rev. R.C. MacCormack

A HARD ENEMY There is a hostile power in the world with which we all have to deal. It is hard enough to face a visible enemy, but it is a greater problem to face a foe that we can't see. Call him Satan or the Devil; he has well proven his existence and his merciless ways. Knocking a person down is his aim, and leaving that person down is to complete his vile task. Many masks are worn by this monster. and he always tries to imitate decency. Casting himself as an angel of light. this foe in sheep's clothing, "Goes about seeking whom he may devour".

This archenemy of the soul cannot be interpreted out of the Bible, and he himself is the inventor of any attempt to soft-pedal his vicious nature. To deny his presence, then to go on locking doors at night and paying policemen for protection is a contradiction. Every prison, every horror headline, every lustful thought, and even the notion that Christ is not important, all stem from the evil heart of this destroyer.

It is not pleasant to believe in a personal devil, but it is truth that has to be faced. Jesus came purposely to break the satanic power, and He has done so in conquering sin and death. Our sole hope of resistance and victory is by being centered in Christ and stiffened by His Grace for the temptations and

battles of life.

Home gardeners who take pride in their lawns all summer may be abusing them during the winter.

R.S. Morton, Department of Agriculture and Marketing horticulturist, says skating rinks, traffic over frozen lawns and snowmobiles can cause considerable damage.

Skating rinks cause trouble when the ice begins to melt. Because it takes the ice longer to melt than snow, mould and disease are encouraged by the high humidity trapped between the layer of ice and the ground surface.

Breaking up the ice in the spring so the air can get through to the ground surface will help solve the problem.

Mr. Morton advises people who enjoy fine lawns not to make skating rinks on top of Traffic across a lawn during the winter causes the snow to compact, Mr.

Morton says . It may take the lawn most of the spring to recover from this type of abuse. In severe cases where the turf has been continuously used as a pathway, the lawn may be killed.

Mr. Morton suggests homeowners take the extra time to use sidewalks and paved pathways and that they avoid walking on snowcovered lawns.

Snowmobiles, like skating rinks and compacted pathways also cause an ice layer that encourages growth of snow mould which damages lawns.

During refueling of snowmobiles, care should be taken not to spill gasoline or oil on the snow since these petroleum products can also kill turf grasses.

Also, Mr. Morton suggests that when shovelling away salt-laden slush that drops from cars care should be taken to keep it off grass areas if at all possible since the salt can kill grasses.

Blueberries Land Clearing In Digby County

An additional 378 acres have been approved in 1976 for clearing under the department's lowbush blueberry land clearing policy, Agriculture Minister Jack Hawkins announced today.

Under terms of the policy blueberry growers receive assistance amounting to $50 per acre for the clearing of land which will be used for blueberry production.

Mr. Hawkins said that during 1976 acreage approved included 17 acres in Antigonish County, 56 acres in Cumberland County, 20 acres in Digby County, 56 acres in Guysborough County, 15 acres in Halifax County, 38 acres in Hants County, five acres in Lunenburg County, 85 acres in Pictou County and 10 acres in Yarmouth County.

The minister noted that lowbush blueberry production is a $2 million industry in the province with 3.500 tons of blueberries being harvested from 16,000 acres in the past year. A large portion of the crop was sold in the United States but in the past two years, he added, about 2,500 tons annually were sold in Europe with West Germany accounting for approximately 75 percent.

Mr. Hawkins said the Department of Agriculture and Marketing, in cooperation with the federal Department of Regional Economic Expansion, was attempting to expand the out put of lowbush blueberries in the province to meet new markets being developed for the crop.

BY SUSAN HORNE

HOME ECONOMIST OF AGRICULTURE & MARKETING

FREEZER FAILURE

This time of year with frequent storms and the threat of larger ones coming, there is always the worry of a power failure and what to do with your freezer full of food. Also, since there could be a chance of your freezer breaking down or someone accidently disconnecting if there are some guidelines that should be kept in mind.

First of all, you should try to determine how long it has been off, or will be off even before opening the lid, if possible. Food in a fully loaded closed freezer will keep for two days; if it is less than half full, the food will not keep any longer than one day.

Remember too, a freezer full of meat does not warm up as fast as a freezer full of baked products.

If it does not look like the freezer will be operating within a day or two, put dry ice in the freezer. Fifty pounds of dry ice should hold the food at freezing for three or four days in a 20 cubic foot freezer that is full, in a half full freezer, two to three days. Never touch the dry ice with your bare hands, always wear gloves. Place the ice on top of large pieces of cardboard, not directly on the food packages. Cover the freezer with blankets. Make sure you do not cover the air vent openings.

If there are frozen food lockers, or neighbors with space available in their freezer, transfer the food to them if it doesn't look like your freezer will be operating within a few

If you were unaware that your freezer wasn't working, and discover a freezer full of partially thawed food, then you are in a different situation altogether.

Present in all of our food is bacteria. The growth of bacteria is only slowed down during the freezing process. Food that his been thawed or partially thawed has an increase in bacterial activity. This is where the danger can come in with refreezing thawed food, that is, the bacterial count can reach such a level that the cooking temperature reached cannot kill all of the bacteria.

All packages must be checked. If there are ice crystals remaining in packages of meats, vegetables and fruits, it is safe to refreeze them. There will be some deterioration in quality of flavor and appearance, however, they will be safe.

Let your "nose" and eyes be a good guide as well. Unusual odor and color will be an indication of beginning spoilage; in such a case do not refreeze, even though ice crystals remain.

No thoroughly defrosted foods except very strong acid fruits should be refrozen. Remember that defrosted low-acid foods, vegetables, shellfish and precooked dishes may be spoiled although they have no telltale odor.

Unless fresh pork has quite a lot of ice crystals, it's better to cook and serve it or cook it fully in a combination dish and freeze the dish for later reheating.

Thawed poultry is more perishable than beef, veal and lamb, so it would be safer if fully cooked than refrozen.

Frozen prepared, ready-to-heat-and serve foods should be given careful consideration. If they have been thawed then they should be discarded. If partially thawed they should be used within a day.

You can refreeze plain cakes, uncooked fruit pies, bread and rolls. Cream pies, eclairs, etc., should not be refrozen. Remember all foods that have been refrozen, will have a deterioration in quality and these foods should be used up fairly quickly.

CN Marine operates yearround services between Newfoundland and Nova Scotia. Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and Nova Scotia and the State of Maine. A seasonal service between North Sydney, N.S. and Argentia, Nfld., is provided during the summer months.

The 1976 total of passengers carried represents an overall decline of 7.9 per cent. The decline was largely attributed to less tourists travelling in the Atlantic Provinces during the summer months when the majority of passengers are transported on vessels operated by CN Marine.

Figures released by the September 1, 1976. The 1975

For the second straight, various tourism departments in the Atlantic Provinces show an overall decline of close to 10 per cent for the 1976 tourist season.

> The decline was caused. according to tourism officials, by the bicentennial celebrations and election preparations in the United States, the Olympics in Montreal and increased costs of auto travel and lodging.

The largest percentage decline in passengers carried was recorded on the Maine - Nova Scotia service where the number of passengers transported fell 15.8 per cent from 104,995 to 88, 429. The smallest decline was shown on the North Sydney - Port aux Basques service with a 1.6 per cent drop from 294,698 in 1975 to 289,913 last year.

Atlantic Shipyards Ltd. purchased the Clare Shipbuilding Co. Ltd., at Meteghan and began operating under J. H. Deveau, president and general manager. They constructed both wooden and steel ships as well as yachts and other craft. The Meteghan shipyard was the largest one in Canada building wooden ships in 1947.

The advantages of the new Rural High School policy of the Department of Education were outlined to the Digby School Board and Town Council by Chief Inspector H.A. Weir. Mr. Weir said the new policy would be the answer to the criticism that the rural pupils of Nova Scotia are not receiving the educational advantages of the urban pupil. Mr. Weir said he hoped the new schools will become community centres for those areas in which they are located and he used ten hours a day rather than five and a half hours.

The annual report of Mrs. J.M. Wallis, V.O.N. secretary, said the outstanding accomplishment of the year was the fulfilling of that long cherished dream of Victorian Order minded persons in Digby - the purchasing of a car. While most of the runds for the car had been made available by the efforts of Board members, donations from the Digby Kwanis Club and friends in 1945 yet the car was purchased only in 1946. A.R. ### Multicultural Group Holds Annual

Cultural sharing activities promoted and sponsored by Western Nova Multicultural Association increased awareness and understanding of the many diverse cultures represented in the population of the area served by the association, George Bell, Association coordinator, told the annual meeting of the group on Saturday.

In his annual report the coordinator listed the many activities in which the association was involved over the year. These included cultural sharing programmes and projects in Yarmouth, Church Point and Lequille. In addition, the association was also active in the promotion of literacy councils in the area. These groups were developed in part as a response to an expressed need for training in English as a second language.

Assistance was also given by the Multicultural Association to ethnic groups and organizations as well as other groups in development of projects, the co-ordinator stated. He also noted that he, as coordinator had spoken to a number of groups including the Kiwanis Club and the students of the Annapolis Royal Regional Academy on multiculturism, the work of the association the role multiculturism in overcoming prejudice.

The association had received many requests from individuals and groups over the year for assistance and information in their respective fields, Mr. Bell said. These included information to individuals on citizenship application; labour and employment prospects and other such matters.

During the past year, the coordinator noted, the constitution of the Western Nova Multicultural Association had been rewritten to make the group more effective. association had also played an active part in the meetings of the Nova Scotia Multicultural Association and in the Ethnic Festival sponsored by that body in Halifax. In addition, the

Association Names Representatives To Digby-Annapolis Mental Health Board

The Board of Directors of the Digby Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association met on January 19 in the Digby Community

Mental Health Centre. In the business arising from the minutes the President, Vernon Wessell. reported no further information had been received concerning the L.I.P proposal. He also stated nothing further had been heard regarding a Help Line proposal.

The President informed the meeting he had undertaken a search of previous minutes and had determined that the terms of office of the appointees from the Digby Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association to the Digby-Annapolis Mental Health Service Board have now expired. He noted there was an urgent need to appoint representatives to the Board and said the custom was to appoint three for a period of two years and three for a period of one year. The purpose of this is that it avoids the expiration of the terms of office of all appointees at the same time. This matter had evidently been overlooked, he noted, and should be remedied.

After considerable discussion, it was moved by Victor Cardoza, seconded by Mrs. P. Robert and passed that Messrs John Englehutt, Joseph Hattie and John Stokee be appointed to the Digby-Annapolis Mental Health Service Board as representatives of the Digby Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association for a period of two years; and that Messrs B. Cullen, James Gillis and Ernest B. Tufts be appointed to the same board as representatives of the Digby Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association for a period of one year.

It was agreed that the action of the meeting be subject to ratification by a majority of the Board of Directors. It was also agreed that the President. Mr. Wessell, advise the Chairman of the Digby-

Electric Units Viable And Two Not Viable

According to information reported to the press from the Clare area on the $25,000 Technical & Financial Study of the Digby County Power Board, the units of the municipalty of the District of Digby and that of the Municipality of Clare of the Digby Co. Power Board, are not viable operations. Digby Town Unit has a viable operation and Weymouth is on the border line according to the report.

The study made by Canadian British Consultants Ltd., Halifax, reported that there appears to be only two reasonable alternatives open to the D.C.P.B. The individual units of the D.C.P.B. must either amalgamate into one utility or it must sell out to the N.S. Power Corporation.

Clare, according to the press, finds both these suggestions undesirable in that amalgamation would require so much money from the Clare Municipality that little would be left for other purposes. An increase in rate structures amounting up to 10 percent could take place also.

Planning Needed Before Sale Or Lease Of Airport Property

A motion carried at the annual meeting of the Municipality of the District of Digby Council on Monday morning delayed any action in either to sell or lease property on the Digby Municipal Airport at Hill Grove until some plan looking forward to the future is drawn up. The motion was made by Councillor Richard Daley, seconded by Councillor Reubin Mervin.

Councillor L.E.R. Winchester, chairman of the Airport Committee, introduced the subject when he told of their anticipation of establishing an Industrial Park but through lack of communication they lost out on two or three small industries. Now another application to establish a small industry to manufacture housing components and employing five or six people is anxious to locate on the property. The business would be working under the Projects Implimentation Group of Nova Scotia. The majority of Councillors were pleased with the prospects of an industry located here but felt the Municipality could not go ahead without some plan. Mr. Winchester was disturbed by the fact that the government had planned to put in needed facilities for the airport but it has been learned that the 300 feet air strip is all that can be expected. Whatever money he felt which would come from the sale or lease of the property would serve to establish roads for an industry.

Councillor Winchester announced that the Digby Flying Club would be disbanded directly and be replaced by the Hill Grove Flying Club Ltd. Replying to the question of Councillor Ruebin Mervin as to why the D.F. Club is disbanding Councillor Winchester said it would be impossible for the area to support two flying clubs. Mr. Mervin noted that the Hill Grove Flying Club has no agreement with the Municipality as yet for use of the airport. On motion of Winchester, seconded by Councillor Eric Van Tassell and carried the Council decided that the municipality would assume the liabilities and assets of the Digby Flying Club and authorize all bills paid and proceeds be returned to the municipality with a copy of both the assets and liabilities.

Councillors requested copies of a recent study made for the Digby County Power Board and paid for by the municipality.

Councillor Winchester of the Finance Committee told council that the Annapolis Basin Industrial Development Commission in which the Municipalities of Digby and Annapolis and the towns of Digby and Annapolis had an interest, went out of existence in March 1976. Their bank balance is $807.62. Mr. Winchester said he tried to influence the Commission to keep going and become involved in the Industrial Development Park planned for the airport but they were handicapped in not being able to elect a full-time chairman. Questions arose at Council on Monday as to whom the money belongs and who can authorize its disposal. Mr. Winchester recommended the money be given to the Digby-Annapolis Tourist and Recreation Council. He made the motion, seconded by Councillor Reuben Mervin that the warden call a meeting of the groups representing the

Request Opening More Clam Beds

Now that CFB Cornwallis' new sewer system is completed or about to be completed, clam diggers a d others of the Digby area interested advocated to the Digby area Department of Fisheries officers on Friday that more clam beds could be opened or reopened in the Annapolis Basin. The meeting was called by the Department on request of Vincent Snow and Audrey Frankland, area clam dealers. The fishermen will press strongly for an area survey regarding the safety of opening new areas or reopening areas. Mr. Snow suggested areas in the Basin which might be re-opened, one being Moose River (Near Clementsport) where tides are capable of flushing the clams. The meeting was presided over on Friday by Fisheries Officer Douglas Mac-Clafferty. Present was Glen Smith, recently promoted to a position which requires his headquarters in Yarmouth.

The idea was set forth regarding closing of clam flats in winter from the middle of December to the middle of March. This action was lost by vote. The purpose of the motion was to maintain the loss of supply.

Another suggestion made was to alternate closing and opening of clam beds but in general it was found that much overseeing would be needed in such arrangement.

Restrictions to the number of licenses granted to clam diggers such as the lobstermen and scallopers was thought about but clam diggers in most part opposed licensing.

A NEW LOOK AT WORK

The work ethic is something that has appealed to generations of Canadians as an example of what is right. It is quite simple, if you don't work, you really shouldn't eat. Nations that have invested heavily in various forms of welfare are often regarded as having a slightly rotten core. Examples of thrift, frugality and hard work are held up as a model for human

The work ethic, that almost indefineable concept that the fruits of a person's labour is what they are most generally judged by, is an honorable ethic and of itself requires no real defense. But, as unrelieved welfare has proven to be almost more destructive of people than the ills it was designed to mitigate, so does blind devotion to the work ethic foster simple answers to the complexities of modern life. Instead of less welfare and more work, perhaps we need to define what work means. The mindless, soulnumbing drudgery of the assembly line or garment factory is work but it does little for the innate creativity that lies in each human being's personality. Is it so decadent for a person to be allowed to dream a little or write a gentle sonnet or look at the leaves just for the sheer uplifting of the Soul? Yet too often work, whether it be for wages or for selfaggrandizement, destroys that essential part of mankind's being, his soul.

Perhaps, rather than merely returning to the work ethic as a solution to our ills we need to find a new ethic, an ethic based on human relationships, on caring and sharing, on living within a natural environment.

We need to return perhaps to that ancient vision of humanity that saw us as multidimensional beings, not simply narrow economic creatures fated forever to work in order to merely survive. Certainly work is part of that multi-dimensional view, but it must never be the whole view and that perhaps is the failure of technological man more than any other.

Technological man has forgotten that he is a (Unchurched Editorials) whole creature.

MINOR HOCKEY WEEK

Several months have passed since the Digby Minor Hockey Club put forth a special effort to get the Minor Hockey players on the ice. "I Support Minor Hockey" was a slogan the adults and youngsters sold to raise funds. Skatathons and other events were staged to raise the required dollars to pay ice-time and other expenses. The Minor Hockey Club was grateful to the many persons who responded to their financial appeal.

This week Minor Hockey is again in the limelight. On Monday, January 24, began Minor Hockey Week. As far as we know there is no special fund raising campaign in the town or County for this special week but we urge observance of the week in an even more important way, that of parental and adult interest in the lives of the young performers. Then, too, those who are giving of their time and skill to teach and guide these young lives by the game of hockey would without doubt get much encouragement by an appreciative word from parents and other adults.

For those who can make it to the games, be there. The Minor Hockey kids get a big lift from vour interest.

Minor Hockey deserves your support this week and for many weeks to come. It provides opportunity to bring up your child in a healthy, robust activity, it gives your child an opportunity to learn fair-play, responsibility and manly habits. Many are the merited influences which Minor Hockey bestows on the youth.

FERTILIZERS USED TO MELT ICE

"Salt, commonly used to melt ice during the winter, can damage plants," says R. S Morton, Department of Agriculture and Marketing horticulturist.

 Mr. Morton suggests that homeowners, concerned about damaging their lawns and gardens, consider using urea instead of salt to melt icy sidewalks

Urea is a nitrogen fertilizer which also works well to melt ice at temperatures as low as -15 C. Mr. Morton says that urea is particularly useful to melt ice on walkways bordered by lawns and cedar hedges. In addition to protecting your plants from salt damage during the winter months, urea will also in the spring. Mr. Morton says the resultant run-off will help serve as a fertilizer for your lawn or your plants plants begin their growth in the spring.

Urea contains 45 per cent nitrogen and, if used to excess, can damage plants. Mr. Morton suggests that it should be scattered on icy areas only when necessary.

Urea can be purchased from most garden supply centers. -Farm News

INSULATION - PURPOSE by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation

Why are Canadian houses insulated? To keen out the cold? To be technically accurate, it is to keep heat in. Heat generated by the heating system quickly spreads to other parts of the house, but it eventually goes right through the walls and ceiling to the air outside. Insulating the walls and ceiling simply slows down this heat transfer process. Insulating material contains millions of dead air cells or air that is not in motion. Air that moves about dissipates heat rapidly, but if the air is motionless the spread of heat is much slower. Heat in winter is synonomous with comfort. Insulation also helps reduce the fuel bill - a particularly important factor in this day and age.

The letter from Ms. Betty Koharek, New York on the schooner Effie Morrissey, fits in quite nicely with Pierre Berton's letter re Heritage Canada of last week. Heritage Canada Day is February 21, 1977. Ms. Koharek's letter and the relative copy in this issue is of much interest to many of our readers.

Sue Bragg, our North Range correspondent wants to remind us of the snow blizzard which came up February 27 and February 28 some years back when those attending Digby Adult Education classes had to spend the night and much of the next day in school. The storm on January 17 and 18 brought that event in mind. But Sue's dates of February 27 and 28 do little to brighten our future outlook for the remainder of this winter. Nor does the date of February 2

We hear the old scow was put into use for crossing Petite Passage last Wednesday and continued for some days. We've heard that bigger engines on the Joshua Slocomb might do the trick. We, of course, are not engineers. We just want to get the "show on the road."

The Ability Fund people tell us it takes so little time to write a cheque or money order to the Ability Fund, yet how very much can be done with the contribution (We can't promise that all physically disabled can throw away their braces, \( \) crutches or wheelchairs, but the Ability Fund campaign can promise that, with your dollars, the physically disabled can receive the clinical care, education and training to enable them to lead better lives. Isn't this a good way to make your dollars work? Give your contribution to the Ability Fund.

Dear Mrs. Wallis: National Education Week on Smoking Jan. 9-15-

THE DIGBY COURIER

Thank you for your cooperation with us in informing the public of the hazards of tobacco smoking and the benefits of quitting smoking.

Without your help, the Week would not have been the success it was, and we look forward to our contact again in future.

With the combined efforts of the organizations listed below, along with you in the media, surely we can increase the awareness of everyone to the dangers of tobacco smoke not only to themselves but to the "passive smokers" around us, particularly children.

Yours sincerely, Ralph E.J.Ricketts, Chairman

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

Thanks to you in the media, the Christmas Seal Campaign has been successful and we have reached our goal of $175,000.

There is no doubt in the minds of any of us involved in this health field that without your cooperation and genuine concern the public would not have been aware of our faltering campaign in December. While we attributed this to the fear in the public mind of another postal strike, the unemployment figures in Cape Breton and in Pictou Counties, still, after news releases from you, the public responded to the need.

We look forward to our contact with you each year.

Yours sincerely. Ralph E.J.Ricketts, Executive Director

Open Letter To The Hon. Romeo LeBlanc, Minister of Fisheries and Environment, House of Commons, Ottawa, Ontario.

Dear Sir:

Your remarks on the CBC program Cross Canada Check-Up re the protests of the people of Kitimat, B.C. to development of oil tanker docking were of much interest to citizens of the Lorneville, Saint John, N.B.

A gas line and deliquification plant to supply United States needs is proposed for this district.

You said that a thorough ecological survey must be carried out in Kitimat. In local news broadcasts we have been informed that, although it is not mandatory, the company involved would carry out a survey. No mention is made of government involvement. Millions of dollars have been spent and construction held up for studies of miles of unpopulated frozen wastes in the north, which is necessary and all to the good. Why is it not equally necessary to be as careful of such a populated area?

The British Columbia opponents of the development list rocky coast line, high tides and fog onequarter of the year as reasons for stopping the project.

New Brunswick opponents

may claim all of these, rocky coast line, the highest rise and fall of tides in the world, fog approximately one hundred thirty days of the year, PLUS gale force winds much of the fall and winter, including hurricanes. The city of over one hundred thousand population is within five miles of the site, with a brand new nuclear plant between. The nuclear plant and the proposed gas deliquifying plant will be built on a confirmed geological fault which could cause a tremor or earth quake at any time. United States authorities have passed legislation that this type of installation not be built within a safety zone of any populated area. If it is too dangerous for United States citizens, why are we so anxious to put our lives on the line? Is it worth the one hundred permanent jobs promised, and will the jobs be taken by local people or by imported technicians?

It was madness to allow the nuclear plant to be built. There are no words to describe the permission to build a further hazard to life and property.

According to the Canadian Bill of Rights, part 1 (a) "We have the right of the individual to life, liberty, security of the person and enjoyment of property and the right not to be deprived thereof except by due process of Law". It would seem that the least requirement, if we are to be deprived of the right of security and enjoyment of property, that it be through due process of law.

In the event of an accident at the gas de-liquification plant with a fire ball and subsequent involvement of the nuclear plant, what would be the estimated cost in human life, injuries, property damage and environmental loss?

What would be the radius of involvement? Should the people of Nova Scotia and Maine be concerned?

With much concern, Constance Long, 874 Manawagonish Road, Saint John West, N.B. E2M 3X1

Dear Ms. Koharek,

As you may be aware, there is an effort underway to bring back the "Effie Morrissey" to the United States. I believe your father owned the vessel from 1905 until 1909. I have written an article on the "Effie Morrissey" (see attached newspaper), however, I have very little information on your father's use of the vessel. I would appreciate, greatly, any further information or photographs you have on the vessel, and would hope you might join the Committee of the Friends of the "Effie Morrissey"- "Ernestina". If you come to New York. please call me at my office at the United Nations. My Reports on the dog situation were pronounced good but Mr. Winchester announced that at the next meeting he would introduce a motion regarding disturbance by barking dogs. To date there is nothing in the bylaws to cover such. A resolution giving authority to municipal constables regarding the enforcement of taxi bylaws will also be introduced.

Council was opened on Monday morning, led in prayer by Councillor Helen Mac Neil, the deputy warden. The first item of business dealt with correspondence from the Department of Highways in respect to the requested crosswalk in the Conway area and the requested change of speed zones in area of Joggin Bridge and railway tracks at Mountain Gap Inn location and also on the Lansdowne Road to the Old Post Road. Correspondence from the Safety Division of the Department of Highways related to defining the areas concerned and if the municipality was prepared to pay for the crosswalk and overhead lighting.

The Council meeting resumed in the afternoon after the Council attended in a body the funeral of Kenneth Woodman who had been a long time employee of the Council through his service with the Digby County Power Board.

Appearing before Council at the afternoon session were Emanual Adelaar on behalf the Weymouth Kiwanis Club and Colonel Smale, administrative secretary of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade. The Weymouth Kiwanis Club requested tax exemptions on their property used for swimming and recreation for children.

Colonel Smale gave a short review of the accomplishments of the A.V.A.B.T. and discussed such topics as Digby County Exhibition; lack of radio service on Digby Neck and Weymouth area; telephone service in the rural areas back of Weymouth village; wharf damage, slow progress of Highway No. 101 construction and effect on economy of ferry rates.

to MANS for a three year tribute to the Western Nova Multicultural Association for its efforts in furthering understanding between individuals and groups of many diverse cultural and ethnic backgrounds in the area. He stressed the need for these efforts in order to promote this understanding and to combat prejudice and discrimination which thrive on misunderstanding.

Saint Peters Hold Annual

Tuscan Masonic Lodge attended the morning service at St. Peter's Church on Sunday, as their annual church service parade. Following the service, the congregation met in Bethel Baptist Church vestry for luncheon, arranged by the ACW and held their annual meeting.

Rev. Michael Boyd chaired the meeting, and, discussion followed the reading of the minutes, by Owen Hankinson. Two major discussions were in regard to Killam Hall and St. Thomas' Church. A motion was made that the rector contact the Bishop regarding these buildings, asking for deconsecration of St. Thomas Church, and renaming St. Peter's Churchthe Church of St. Peter and St. Thomas.

The treasurers report by John Shaw, showed a healthy condition financially.

Rev. Michael Boyd, in his report, expressed thanks for the help he had received from the congregation since he has been here. Special thanks was given to the Rev. and Mrs. Reg Savary for all their help.

Names of deceased members were read, and a moment of silent prayer was observed.

Mr. Boyd stressed the need of Christian education in the church, and asked for helpers in leading a Sunday School. He said that Christian education is so necessary, both with young people and adults, and proposed an Adult Bible Class, with Rev. Reg. Savary as a possible leader. He asked for other leaders to cooperate with Mr. Savary, and for suggestions and cooperation in this group.

Physical needs were outlined, such as repairs and refurbishing the Guild Hall. He said painting the building both inside and out, and making it usuable was a real necessity, for the use of groups in the parish. He also stated the stained glass window in the church, which was battered in the February storm, was scheduled to be re-paired in the Spring.

He finished his report, by asking for support of the parishioners by their presence in church and at meetings, by their prayers. and by their givings. He said that if the parishioners all shared in these efforts, the church could be selfsupporting.

Reports were given for St. Peter's ACW by Mrs. Jane Shaw, and St. Matthew's Guild report was given by Miss Evelyn Jarvis, both reports showed themselves to be quite active.

Parish wardens appointed were Keith Potter, and Mrs. Eileen Cottreau, replacing Harry Walker, who resigned because of ill health, and Stanley Hollett. Members voted to the vestry were Stan Hallett.

Synod were Donald Filleul and Lilly Johnson and Mr. Filluel was appointed auditor. Keith Potter thanked all those who had given leadership in various organizations during the past year, with special thanks to the outgoing wardens, Harry Walker and Stan Hallett, also to Rev. R. Savary. Margie Brown thanked the church, on behalf of herself, Karen Brown and Andrew Walker, for the generous gift they had given them for their services. These young people have been helping with the altar work during the past

Mr. Boyd with a gift of money, on behalf of the church, as a remembrance of his recent ordination, Mr. Boyd graciously thanked the congregation with special thanks to all those who had helped in any way with the ordination, to those who came to the service, the choir, and those who sent food for the reception. He also thanked the ladies who had helped with the luncheon

Spruce Budworm Controversy

The continuing controversy over chemical control of spruce budworm in Eastern Canada will not be satisfactorily resolved by emotional outcry against insecticides. The Entomological Society of Canada according to its President, Dr. Ellen MacGillivray, is concerned by the danger that incomplete information in the public debate may jeopardize the legitimate and realistic use of available crop protection strategies, including conventional chemical insecticides in both forestry and agriculture.

The Entomological Society, an organization of close to 1000 scientists who work on insect problems, recognizes that our nation's livelihood and standard of nourishment depend upon the ability of farmers and foresters to protect their crops from the ravages of pests-diseases and insects. Unfortunately, at the present time, for many crops the only reliable and available method of protection is with broad-spectrum, chemical pesticides.

Insecticides, like most pesticides are poisons. They can be dangerous to people if misused or abused. Even when properly used they may, like other activities of man, disturb the environment. So when an insecticide is used, it becomes a trade-off benefits against risks.

Government agencies are actively aware of the risk factors including risk to health. They attempt to regulate the licencing and application of pesticides to minimize adverse health and environmental consequences. And like other public health practices-vaccination, medicinal drugs-there always remains the trade-off expectation of biology and economics. In Eastern Canada it extends over 130 million acres and health of forest industries in Quebec, parts of Ontario and all the Atlantic Provinces. Without protection for several years, the susceptible forests and the kind of environment they present would be lost and with them the prospects for sustaining harvests for the next 50 years. The decision of whether to protect growing stock has implications for the jobs, the financial and the living environment of a whole generation dwelling in the infested regions.

The public controversy around the use of these insecticides hinges not so much on economic values as on questions of human health and ecological integrity. Dr.

MacGillivray says that the Entomological Society of Canada is concerned that the public must be made fully aware of the health implications of insecticides and additives used in the aerial spray programmes across Eastern Canada. Society urges government health agencies to explain the risks. At present the information role is being exploited by sections of the news media for its sensational value. The recent television programme

"Omsbudsman" (Sunday,

January 9) offered a biased view of health risks and a distorted presentation of an important public issue. Without reference to published research or to pesticide specialists, such presentations can only leave the Canadian public in a state of alarm and confusion, not justifiable from known forest spraying in Quebec and New Brunswick have been monitored for several vears: and the survival of songbirds, small mammals, fish, aquatic insects, beneficial parasites and predators, pollinating bees and other components of forest ecosystems, have been investigated annually. A government report by Dr. I.W. Varty on environmental monitoring in New Brunswick makes an assessment of the ecological effects of sprays in 1976. It considers environmental damage to be tolerable. But, the report also makes a plea for a stronger effort in monitoring processes. The Entomological Society of Canada supports the public in its demand for nonchemical alternatives for spruce budworm management. But these alternatives, the troduction of parasites, growth interfering chemicals, mating inhibitors, and biological insecticides such as bacteria and viruses, are not yet ready for use on the budworm. Furthermore, the long advocated practice of silvicultural management can not solve the problem immediately, although it could play a major role, if implemented, in limiting future budworm outbreaks.

The Entomological Society of Canada strongly urges that more resources-funds and manpower-be allocated to select, develop, and apply the more promising of these alternatives without further delay. Meanwhile, however, none of these alternatives will be available for use in 1977, according to a New Brunswick Task Force of experts led by Dr. Gordon Baskerville. That group of scientists concluded that spraying with conventional chemicals, at least over the next four years, will be required if the softwood growing stock is to be preserved. In addition, says MacGillivray, those who demand the alternatives must recognize that it is unlikely that any one remedy--chemical or otherwise-will solve the budworm problem. The Entomological Society of Canada has recognized the need for a strong biological research base to resource conservation and crop protection practice. The Government of Canada has tended to downgrade research funding during the 1970's as a result of general economic retrenchment. In particular, entomological expertise has been allowed to erode. This trend must be reversed if the public demand for alternatives to chemical insecticides is to be met. The experience with spruce budworm shows that more financial support and research on insects are essential if we are to cope with present and future pest problems. Also, accurate and clearly presented information on insects must be supplied to the concerned public.

On January 25, the New Brunswick Department of Natural Resources sponsored a "Conference of Eastern Resource Ministers on Collaborative Approaches to Forest Protection Against the Spruce Budworm".

Planning for the day you retire or buy your first home means having a master plan for your investment in the future. So we have two plans to help. A Retirement Savings Plan, and a Home Ownership Savings Plan. They both earn you valuable tax savings, and when you subscribe to either one, or both plans your contributions can be applied to any one, or a combination of these investment vehicles:

1. Royal Bank RSP and HOSP Deposits. Interest-bearing deposits with The Royal Bank of Canada, offering a high interest return. geared to the general deposit rate structure. Because of the longterm nature of these deposits, it is possible to pay a higher rate of interest than on conventional savings deposits. 2. Income Fund. High-yield bonds, deposit instruments and mortgages insured under the National Housing Act make up this portfolio which is actively managed by professionals. The policy is to achieve as high a current income as is compatible with maircaining reasonable price stability as well as moderate capital appreciation.

3. Equity Fund. Investment mainly in Canadian common stock portfolio which is actively managed by the same professionals. Long-term capital growth with reasonable current income is the objective of this fund.

I know I'll be out on the snow, casting for fat brookies in my driveway. By the way, Reg (Baird) told me that the other morning he hooked and landed a beautiful six pound brown. The only trouble was that he woke up before he could show it to me.

"We're all a little crazy and I hope we infect everyone that fishes. It would be nice to see more fishermen casting a fly and caring about the rivers and the fish. To see fly-fishingonly stretches and fishing for fun areas. My biggest hope is to see the (trout catch) limit dropped from 15 to at least 10 if not lower. I feel that to be able to kill 15 trout a day is prehistoric."

George mentioned the possibility of starting a fly fishing club in western Nova Scotia. "For the purpose of protecting our water and our trout. A well-organized group of fly fishermen would do a lot to ensure quality wild trout fishing for years to come."

I'll probably have more information on the club for readers later on. Most likely somewhere around the time the fishing season opens.

Meanwhile, that's it. All this talk about angling is getting to me. I have to go look over my fishing rods and the new reel I got for Christmas.

Many Nova Scotians have visited Keiimkuiik National Park in the summer months. enjoying such activities as camping, swimming, fishing, hiking and canoeing. With the onset of cold weather visitation to Kejimkujik decreases drastically. Many people think the Park closes for the winter but, in fact, it's open year-round. Although the main campground is closed, there are winter camping facilities located near Jacques Landing. Several trails in the Park have been designated for cross-country skiing and snowshoeing. A picnic shelter Merrymakedge Beach has been winterized and provides a cooking-warm-up area. Short excursions can be made on several Nature Trails along the Main Park Road while longer trips on such trails as Peter Point, McGinty Lake and Big Dam

So get out your skis or snowshoes and see what Kejimkujik is like in another season. If you're a hardy soul try your hand at winter camping.

Plans Available For Farm Buildings

"Farm operations today demand well-designed farm buildings," says J.D. Gunn, Supervisor, Agricultural Engineering, Department of Agriculture and Marketing.

"This means structures should be well-planned and ensure that they are safe, functional and economical. The agricultural engineering service of the Department of Agriculture and Marketing provides design information for Nova Scotia farmers through local agricultural representative offices. "Much of the assistance to farmers is provided through Canada Plan Services (CPS) plans," says Mr. Gunn. CPS prepares plans for constructing modern farm buildings, livestock housing systems, storages and equipment. All necessary structural details are specified on the plans which are available free of charge to farmers, contractors and others who wish to use the service.

The plans are prepared by committees of experts from provincial agriculture departments across Canada.

Mr. Gunn says the plans are designed in accordance with the Canadian Code for Farm Buildings and meet standards the Municipalities in Nova Scotia.

Plans are continually updated to incorporate changes in design codes and improvements in materials.

The Canada Plan Service design centre originated at the Ontario Agricultural College in Guelph in 1954. It was moved to Ottawa in 1969.

OFFICIAL OPENING OF NEW BANK

The Royal Bank of Canada's new building in Weymouth situated near the Weymouth post office.

(Royal Bank of Canada, Weymouth)

The Royal Bank of Canada, Weymouth Branch, officially opened its new location in this village, with an Open House and an official ribboncutting ceremony, on Tuesday.

The new building, located near the Weymouth post office, provides the Royal Bank staff of nine, with considerably more working space than the old location had allowed. The bank had been in the old site for over seventy years.

The change in location doesn't mean a change in the service manager Fred Ross and company will provide; although a night deposit service has been added.

Joe Casey, Digby MLA, did the ribbon cutting honours. The ribbon was held by Royal Bank veterans, Estelle Doucet and Rosa Comeau. An Open House followed, during which coffee and doughnuts were served.

Guests for the opening were welcomed by Mr. Ross, who subsequently introduced Demone, Retail Manager for the Royal Bank in Western Nova Scotia and Jack Moran, Manager of Market Development for the region.

After remarks by Mr. Demone and Mr. Moran, Mr. Ross called on a few words. Mr. Casey was presented with a gift by Mr.

A plaque in memory of Donald D. Brooks was to have been presented to his brother, Robert Brooks of Lequille, but Robert was unable to attend the ceremony. The plaque had hung in the old Royal Bank building. Donald, a former staff member, died in World War I.

Others present on Tuesday included village commissioners Sherman Prime and Morton Franklin and Royal Bank managers Roy Surette, Church Point, Jim Gillis, Digby, Bill Cox, Bear River and Marcel Volitaire, Metegan. Retired manager Ernest LeBlanc of Church Point, was also present.

Granville Ferry Woman Scores On Playwright Scene

Nova Scotia has a new playwright on the national scene now. Her name is Peggy Armstrong, and she lives in Granville Ferry, Annapolis County. Last year she entered a playwriting contest she saw advertised in the Writers' News, a bimonthly publication of the Writers' Federation of Nova Scotia. Sponsored by the Canadian professional playwrights' organization, the Playwrights' Co-op, the competition was part of the International Women's Year activities, and as such was open only to women playwrights, both professionals and new writers.

Mrs. Armstrong competed against the phenomenal number of 293 women from across Canada who submitted plays to the Playwrights' Co-op. script was described by the officials as "a solid, funny, commercial, situation comedy, ideal for community theatre groups." Her play, titled Undercover, placed 4th overall in the three-act play category. An extraordinary achievement against such large and substantial competition from playwrights all across Canada.

Peggy's involvement in writing for the theatre began at the community level with a local production of her first two one-act plays, THE HASKILL HOUSE and THE LEGEND OF THE NIGHT, by the Annapolis District Drama Group (A.D.D.G.). Before trying her hand at writing plays she had been involved with the group for over twenty years as an actress, a stage hand, Secretary, and Publicity Chairman. The A.D.D.G. hopes to produce the winning UNDERCOVER this spring as part of its twenty-fifth anniversary celebrations. Ontario's Kawartha Summer Theatre Festival has inquired about production rights for their

A graduate of King's College (B.A.) and Acadia (B.Ed.) she is the busy mother of 2 boys, 2 girls, and the not-so-silent partner of her husband's "back to the land" movement, centered around the establishment of an experimental peach orchard. ### CFB Cornwallis Has New Sewage Plant

A new sewage treatment plant equipped with chlorine and phosphorous filtering systems has gone into operation at Canadian Forces Base Cornwallis, N.S.

The plant, which opened late in November at a cost of $1,425,000 was financed through the Department of Environment's (DOE) environmental clean-up program. It replaces a septic tank system in use since the base opened in

In an effort to better protect Annapolis Basin shellfish from pollution, the new plant was designed as an advanced wastewater treatment system, capable of producing a final effluent of higher quality than normally required by DOE.

The Cornwallis plant was the biggest defence project financed through the federal clean-up program during 1976.

Between April and November, $2,173,000 of the $2.4 million allocated for the fiscal year was spent to clean up pollution problems at military bases across the country. Another $225,000 paid for modifications to vacuum sewage systems and oily water separators previously installed on DND ships.

The DOE has allocated $1,392,000 for 15 more clean-up projects at defence establishments during the 1977-1978 fiscal year, including $250,000 to upgrade sewage treatment facilities and make sewer improvements at CFB Greenwood and Camp Aldershot, Nova Scotia.

Another $785,000 will be spent on DND ships and auxiliary vessels.

About $100 million in all will be spent to clean up pollution problems caused as a result of federal activities, before the program ends in 1980.

The Treasury Board is providing the funds through DOE. which is responsible for recommending project priorities. estimating costs, and suggesting solutions. The clean-up program is in its third year of operation.

Merchants All-Star Shade Legionnaires

by Lindon Carron

On Thursday evening January 13 the Digby Forum was the site of a very exciting hockey game between the Digby Merchant All-Stars comprised of players from the Digby District Hockey League and the Digby Jr. "C" Legionnaires. The Merchants emerged the victors by a score of 9-7 in a hard fought game which saw many excellent plays and fine goal tending despite the high score. For the majority of the game it was a brother vs brother act which saw Murray Baxter in the goal for the Merchants with the exception of the second period when Lee Wentzell took over, and Graham Baxter in goal for the Legionnaires. The game was a seesaw battle which saw both teams have the lead but never by more than one goal until the Legionnaires scored 3 straight goals toward the end of the second frame, therefore taking a 6-4 lead into the third period. It seemed all but over for the Merchants. However they came out strong in the third period, outscoring the youthful Legionnaires 5-1 thus carrying them to their 9-7 victory. Leading the way for the Merchants were L. Garron, F. Smith, J. Furlong and V. Simms, each with 2 goals, with D. Potter scoring the other goal. A 2-goal performance was also turned in for the Legionnaires by Todd Simms. Other goal scorers for the Legionnaires were R. Oliver, A. Griffiths, C. McCulley, R.

Morgan and B. Wood.

The Merchants have proved that Digby has two excellent hockey teams so make sure you don't miss their next game.

Solar Energy For Home Heating

By Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation

A possible alternative to heating homes with fossil fuels, is harnessing the energy of the sun. Rising oil and gas prices, plus the knowledge that these and other fossil fuel resources will become harder to get and eventually exhausted, have provided the impetus for serious exploration of solar energy as a home heating source.

The knowledge to construct a solar-heated house has been around for 30 years. The problem is to make the house economically attractive to a large portion of the Canadian population.

A solar heating system is simple in concept. Water is heated by the sun on the roof of a house and piped to the basement for storage. This heated water is then circulated through the house, as required, providing radiant heat to the rooms.

The water is heated on the roof by means of a collector which is a large flat plate, painted black and enclosed in a glass-covered box. When the suns rays strike the plate at the correct angle it can generate heat of up to 200 degrees fahrenheit.

The collector plates need only be the size of the roof area of an average-size house. When water is circulated through pipes attached to the plate, the heat from the plates is transferred to the water. A well insulated tank in the basement, is used to store the hot water for nightime use or when the sun doesn't shine.

An existing house would require a storage area of 27,000 cubic feet, the rough dimensions of a large basement or swimming pool. A properly-insulated house would need a space with only one-third the water storage capacity of the older dwelling. One idea currently being studied by the federal government is seasonal storage. Can heat from the warm months of the year be stored for use in the winter?

Perhaps this could be done by building larger collectors. However, this approach would be uneconomical for the individual home owner. The system could be feasible, though, for a cluster of dwellings, all served by a central solarheating system.

Concurrent with solutions to the technical aspects of solar heat, there will have to be an effort to make this type of heating psychologically acceptable. People are reluctant to accept something new.

Builders who construct and sell houses with oil, gas, or electrical heating may feel they would be risking their livelihoods to venture into an uncertain market for solarheated units.

Financial institutions will also require reassurance before they start lending mortgage money for what seems like a radical innovation.

Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, the federal housing agency, is studying the uses of solar energy in the broader context of house and community design. Solar energy could be part of a system of autonomous servicing that involves the recycling of solid and liquid wastes, the generation of electricity using wind power, as well as capturing the sun's energy for heat.

The CMHC study is even looking into ways of reducing the use of building materials that have a high cost in fossil fuel-either in the content of the materials themselves or in the process used to manufacture them.

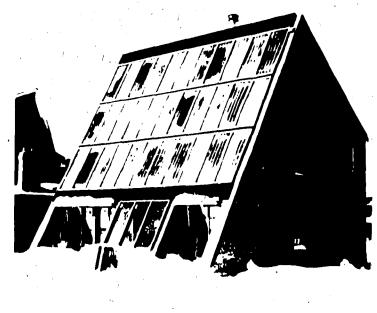

If successful, these study projects will show us practical, ordable ways of designing houses and communities that have minimal environmental impact in terms of resource depletion and pollution.

There are already half a dozen demonstration projects in various development stages in the Ottawa area, Prince Edward Island, and British Columbia. With the help of architects, planners, builders, other governments and local residents, federal authorities are building communities incorporating new technological designs and approaches to community organization.

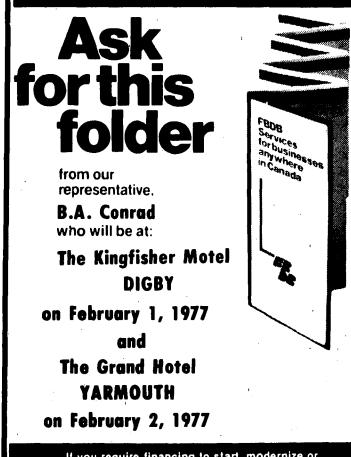

These projects are not wild-eyed schemes. They must be economically capable of being reproduced, with appropriate modifications, anywhere in Canada.

Solar energy for heating is an important aspect of these innovative approaches to community design. The sun's heat is wide-spread and cheap. And we don't have to worry about running out, at least not for a few million years. That makes it a good bet for our future needs.

The Bird Lady

by Larry Duchense

Though not blessed with great material wealth. Digby is a town rich in its inhabitants. Each inhabitant has a story. Take our Bird Lady for example, a unique citizen. A lover of birds and friend to all living creatures.

Louise Daley, 164 Queen Street, is already quite wellknown throughout Digby County through her regular column on birds which appears in the Digby Courier. Other bird lovers have been finding her help and advice readily available for many years. Louise's reception by the reading public is such that we decided a little insight into our Bird Lady is in order.

Birds got into Miss Daley's life at an early age. When she was six, she and her father took in a robin with a broken leg, spliced it with an all-day sucker stick, kept it for six weeks and proudly let it fly to freedom. Well, from then on, Louise had begun a relationship with birds which would increase as the years rolled by. Today, some 69 years later, as much or more of her time is devoted to her "hobby" as ever before.

Aside from looking after the Orioles which she provides a home for during the winter months and ministering to the "cripples" one can always find at her home, Miss Daley spends countless hours observing and enjoying the presence of numerous bird species which use her land as their principal feeding grounds. The landscape is a bird's paradise - with plenty of trees, berry-producing shrubs, a fresh-water supply and a number of well stocked bird feeders.

As might be expected, our discussion with Miss Daley got underway with a description of the variety of birds found feeding on her property in recent days. The day before, for example, found feeding all at the same time, purple finch, tree sparrows, song sparrows, white-throated sparrows, three different English sparrows, a gold finch and a

Leaving the outside visitors, Louise went on to speak of her inside feathered visitors and residents, six Baltimore Orioles, a rosebreasted Grosbeak and 15 cripples. Digby residents generally know where to bring their injured birds. Unfortunately, of the cripples she now has, some of which have been with her for some time, only one will ever be set free, a Hermit Thrush picked up in snow near the Shopping Mall, a few weeks age. Most of the remainder suffer from irrepairable wing damage most often received from cats or firearms.

But all the cripples seem quite content in Louise's bird paradise and all manage to quickly adjust to their new way of life.

Louise has been writing her popular bird column for nearly 10 years, but she rarely runs short of material. "Nearly always something turns up", she says, "I love to do it."

Anything someone devotes themselves so ardently to is bound to bring some Still, most of Miss Daley's time is spent pleasantly and she manages to make about 10 trips daily to replenish her bird feeders with sunflower seeds, scratch grain and other goodies.

on what to do with injured birds often come three to four times daily into the Daley home. During the course of our discussion, one gentleman called to say his rob in had lost interest in eating apples and was now being supplied with bananas.

In her working life, Louise spent eleven happy years working in this area's provincial tourist information bureau, until the Liberals brought down the former P.C. government of Premier Smith. At the time of the change of government, she recalls, the Liberals promised that all employees newspaper.

SLOW COOKERS

Over the years food technology has developed many new foods, which are very much part of the household. These new foods gained in popularity.

However, in recent years there has been a change in peoples buying and cooking habits. With inflation everyone is concerned about getting quality and value in food, and along with that, people are becoming aware of the relationship between diet and health, additives in

Today, more and more people are getting back into the basics of old-fashioned cooking and eating. Because of this recent trend and also to suit more peoples lifestyle, one of the popular food developments in the home is the one-pot-meal.

The typical one-pot-meal includes a protein, such as meat, chicken or fish, a carbohydrate such as rice, potatoes or pasta, and vegetables for vitamins and minerals; all cooked together in one pot to blend meal is the electric slow cooker. It is designed to cook a meal in a covered pot at an even low temperature over a long period of time.

The original crock pots have a lining of thick stoneware, that evenly conducts heat through low wattage heating elements around the sides and bottom of the pot. The energy consumed by the slow cookers is about equal to a 100 watt light bulb, this varies with each brand as well.

Slow cookers maintain the cooking temperature around 200 degree F, so that cooking is slow and steady. Some have high and low settings, so that food can be cooked faster in the beginning and then slowed down towards the end.

There are a few essential rules to follow when using a slow cooker for best results:

-Do not remove the lid from the slow cooker during cooking. This can alter the cooking time by as much as 30 minutes and also prevent the sealing in of nutrients and juices.

—Use a little more seasoning when using the slow cooker than you would ordinarily. Since evaporation isn't occurring, neither is the concentration of flavor. -Vegetables must be cut in smaller pieces to insure that they will be cooked. --Fat meat should be browned on the top of the stove before hand. This will cut down on a "fatty ' meal. Lean meat does not require browning beforehand. According to some ratings on slow cookers, there are a few points you would consider before buying one.

Some nutrients are lost during the long, slow cooking process, so you do not necessarily end up with a more nutritious product because you used a slow cooker.

If the liquid does not cover the meat entirely, it might not cook, unless you are able to turn the meat over part way through the cooking process. Some slow cookers are equipped with a "warming" unit. Caution should be exercised here and directions followed closely. If food is kept warm for too long, bacteria can grow. All slow cookers operate above 140 degree F which is the minimum temperature to kill bacteria, so it is just the warming feature where you need to exercise caution.

Cookers that have glass or stoneware liners cannot be taken directly from the refrigerator and be turned on immediately. This sudden change in temperature can cause the liners to crack.

Maritimes' Irish Moss Fishermen To Get Aid

OTTAWA - A $375,000 program has been announced by federal Fisheries Minister Romeo LeBlanc to assist hard-hit Maritimes fishermen who rely for part of their income on the harvesting of Irish Moss.

Mr. LeBlanc said the federal government has decided to implement a twopart program to deal with problems of fishermen in the moss fishery. This would involve (i) a deficiency payment plan of one cent per pound for wet moss landed in 1976 and (ii) introducing in 1977 a system of regulation and licensing to make Irish moss harvesting a limited entry fishery.

"We feel that introduction of a limited-entry fishery is the best way of providing fishermen who depend on Irish moss earnings with a decent income" Mr. LeBlanc said.

The Minister also announced that the Fisheries and Marine Service was instituting an active market exploration and development program to help stabilize the demand for Irish moss products.

"This program was developed through consultations with fishermen, particularly the P.E.I. Fishermen's Association, which has devoted a lot of time and energy in trying to increase and stabilize moss fishermen's earnings," said Mr. LeBlanc. The Minister added that he also had the benefit of valuable consultations with the P.E.I. Minister of Fisheries, the Hon. George Henderson, in the formulation of the program. Some inshore fishermen are dependent for up to 40 per cent of their total income on what they receive from harvesting Irish Moss along the shores of Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and in 1976, coupled with a decline in market demand for Irish Moss products, such as carageenin, has adversely affected incomes in the past year.

The 1970-1975 average landings of Irish moss in Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia was 97.7 million pounds, valued at $2.8 million. In 1974 landed value reached a peak of $5.8 million, declined to $3.3 million in 1975, and for the first ten months of 1976 amounted to only $1.3 million.

Landed price to fishermen for wet moss has dropped from 5.5 cents a pound (plus free transport) in 1975, to 4.5 cents a pound, minus transport costs (about 0.5 cents a pound) in 1976.

Under the deficiency payment plan, to be administered by the Fisheries Prices Support Board, it is estimated that just over $200,000 will be paid out to 400 P.E.I. fishermen, $120,000 will be shared among 900 Nova Scotia fishermen and proximately $8,000 will go to 30 New Brunswick fisher-

"Fishermen will immediately be informed of the procedure by which they make application for the subsidy" the Minister stated.

Another Look At The U.I.C.

QUESTION: I am not sure how long my job will last as it is seasonal work and it depends entirely upon the weather. I would like to know what are the conditions I must meet or abide by when drawing Unemployment Insurance benefits.

ANSWER: In order for you to become eligible and maintain your entitlement to UI benefits, you must meet the following obligations:

Reporting Earnings- While claiming benefits, you must report all monies received as a result of present or past employment. This includes earnings from part-time em-Elevment as well as holiday pay or any other separation allowance that you may have received from your last emplover. When completing your form, you must show the gross amount and indicate whether it represents holiday pay, separation allowance or earnings from employment.

Available for Work- Unless you are claiming benefits for a period of sickness or under the maternity provisions of the Unemployment Insurance Act or are attending a course of instruction for which you are receiving a training allowance, you must prove that you are available for work. Being available for work means that you are ready, willing and able to take employment immediately. If you are unable to meet these conditions, you must report this on your report form giving the dates and reasons.

Actively looking for Work- In addition to being available for work you must also make a genuine search for work, including periodic contacts with your Canada Manpower Centre. You should keep a record of all the contacts you make as you may be asked for this information at a later date. If you have applied for either sickness or maternity benefits, you are not required to look for work until you have recovered.

Written Directions- While in receipt of Unemployment Insurance benefits, you may be requested to attend an interview at the Unemployment Insurance or Canada Manpower Centre. The purpose of these interviews is to assist you in your search for employment and to ensure that you are eligible to continue to receive UI benefits. In addition, you are obliged to advise your UIC office of any changes that would affect your receiving benefits. such as change of address.

Maclear

Front Line Hospital Lessons Unlearned As Civil Conflicts Escalate

In a report from Belfast. Correspondent Michael Maclear profiles a front line hospital, the Royal Victoria, in the age of urban guerilla conflict. This hospital sees a thousand cases each year providing the clearest yet bloodiest focus on the civil disorder that is raging through the war-torn streets of Belfast.

Now renowned throughout the world for their emergency treatment techniques, which include developments in plastic surgery, traumatic amputation, brain injuries and skin grafts, the hospital has also developed more efficient procedural techniques for dealing with large numbers of emergency patients. It's a system that even experienced medical personnel must harden themselves to, and it is called triage.

Triage simply says that there are three kinds of victims: those who will survive without immediate surgery, those who won't with immediate surgery and those who must be aided promptly in order to save lives or limbs.

many foreign medical personnel studying here, Maclear queries whether this senseless bloodletting in the streets is just in Belfast or in the nature of man, for many of these visiting medics are here studying the surgery of violence.

As a front line city hospital, the Royal Victoria is unique but not enough are paying attention to its history of conflict. The attention it is getting from foreign medical staff has grim implications.

"They are here," warns Maclear, "learning the techniques, fearing the lessons of violence will go unlearned. The lesson is that violence can escalate in cities and become acceptable as it has in Belfast.

Digby Girls Win

Digby travelled Liverpool on Wednesday January 19 and defeated the Liverpool team 56-46. Digby continues to be plagued by a listless style of basketball. Relying on their offense the team seems to have trouble playing good defense.

Digby fell behind 16-0 in the first quarter, but continued to come back so that by the end of the half they had drawn within 10 points of the Liverpool squad. Digby outscored the Liverpool team by a 2-1 margin in the 2nd half.

The game was actually a one girl show as Susan McClary dominated the game from start to finish for Digby. She dominated the statistics coming away with top scorer hitting for 19 points, top rebounder with 22 and top assists with 6. Most valuable defensive player was Susan McClary, Kim Ken Horn, who also won Mrs. Evelyn Outhouse Roy scored 18 points to also

Reflecting To 1947

Back in 1947 around this date, according to The Digby Courier the annual session of the Municipality of the District of Digby was visited by H. J. Campbell, superintendent of the hydro electric municipal distribution system and H.H. Marshall, Chairman of the Digby County Power Board. Reports showed the D.C.P.B. sold a total of 4,617,944 kilowatt hours during 1946, an increase of over one million from 1945. Revenue for 1946 was $72,804,82, with expenditures of $63,945.75. During the year a new 11,000 volt three phase, four transmission tie line was constructed from the Nova Scotia Power Commission sub station at Acaciaville through Hill Grove, North Range, South Range and Doucetteville to Sissiboo Falls. Mr. Campbell reported the municipal system during 1946 had increased sales with 642,269 kilowatt hours sold to 1310 customers and revenue of $32,145.30. Operating surplus for the year was $1,827.56. A further extension was forecast. During 1946 some 170 K.V.A. had been installed for $4,000 in order to give better service. There had been a reduction in rates made in June 1945 and with higher depreciation and sinking funds and extra repairs the surplus was less than the previous year.

Another important item of business at the Municipal Council in 1947 was a resolution giving the Digby Municipal School Board permission to go ahead with plans to adopt the rural high school plans for Digby County schools. Present was Inspector T.A.M. Kirk who dealt with school problems and explained in detail the working of the governments' rural school plan and its tremendous benefits.

The Municipal Finance Committee budgetted for ex-. penses $87,239.67 and revenue of $16,105.04 leaving an amount to be raised by taxation $71,134.63. Expenses of $4500 for citizens in homes outside the County besides the Nova Scotia Hospital was criticized and plans were made to have better facilities at the Home in Marshalltown.

H.M. Warne was re-elected president of the Digby Board of Trade. At the Board annual, C.M. Levy drew attention to the fact that the Port Wade-Victoria Beach, Digby ferry was no longer operating. This he said adversely effected business in Digby. The Department of Highways was to be contacted because the ferry service was subsidized.

(Who remembers the "Bluenose"? That is the Bluenose Express?) According to The Digby Courier of January 30, 1947 the Boston-Yarmouth steamship service would resume in May and the Dominion Atlantic Railway would also operate its fast express train, the Bluenose, to provide quick connections from Halifax to interprovincial points. The Bluenose express had not operated since 1939.

The Digby Crafts organization was busy planning a handcraft exhibition.

At the Clare Municipal Council a committee was formed to study the possibility of erecting a hospital at Meteghan Centre. Named to the committee were the warden and clerk, Drs. P.H. LeBlanc, R. Melanson and V.E. Belliveau. Clare municipality total revenue for the year was $74,1346.97 and expenditures $27,750.61. Net surplus $6,386.36 for the year. Cash in bank at the end of the year $24,367.41. The pay of councillors raised for five dollars a day to eight dollars a day.

New life for the annual Digby Hospital Fair was being planned through more advanced publicity and originality in advertising. Mrs. H.M. Warne headed a special committee.

He stated that there were some young people not so fortunate as to have the necessary guidance and that leaders of organizations do a miraculous job in this area. He stated that the Boy Scout Organization was not only an organization where boys could find fellowship; but where they were helped to develop their skills and receive guidance which one day would help play an important role in the making of good citizens. He conveyed his admiration of leaders and summed up his talk by saying that leaders of organizations such as the Boy Scouts were a very important part of a boy's life and that often the leaders are the people after who the boys pattern their own lives. Doris Dares, President of Digby District, thanked the Guest Speaker for his interesting talk and thanked both he and Mrs. Casey for

Charles Haliburton Elected Trade Board President

Charlie Haliburton who declined to run as a candidate for mayor in the October 1976 Town Election was on Tuesday evening elected president of the Digby Board of Trade at its annual meeting held at Grace United Church Hall. Mr. Haliburton, who had served a term as M.P. for South West Nova had filled out the term of mayorship by the resignation in 1975 of Patrick Comeau. He succeeds Ernest Ryan in the Board of Trade.

Other officers elected on Tuesday evening were Leigh Savage, first vice-president; Willard Kinney (re-elected) second vice-president; Mrs. Patricia Wilson, secretary and James Gillis (re-elected) treasurer. The nominations were placed by Gordon Marshall, chairman of the nominating committee, Vincent Snow and Rene Richard.

The dinner began with the blessing asked by Rev. Murray Shaw, Digby Baptist Church and the function was presided over by the president Ernest Ryan. Mrs. Elton Arnold presided at the piano for the dinner music and for a

The guest speaker, Colonel H. E. Smale, was introduced by Joe Casey, M.L.A. Digby. Taking as his subject Tourism Plans For The Annapolis Basin Area and What The Digby Trade Can Do To Promote It, Colonel Smale said that tourist expenditures in 1976 amounted to $11,600,000. He broke down the number of visitors according to month as June 38,635; July 72,977; August 80,970; September 53,689; October 27,214 and November 16,303.

Colonel Smale traced the seven tourist regions of Nova Scotia which are interconnected by highways, which lead to picturesque and scenic historical and interesting points. The Travelway system is designed to encourage longer stays and these, The Evangeline Trail, The Glooscap Trail and The Lighthouse Route are marked on the map. The Department of Tourism, Colonel Smale said is now embarking on a new phase which is the creation of a major destinaton area in each Tourist Region. This major destination areas are based on natural, historic, or a a man-made special attraction such as Fortress Louisbourg, Sherbrooke Village, and the Annapolis Basin Resort Area.

The idea for the Tourist destination area, he claimed, came from here in Digby County. Over the past several years the members of the Annapolis Basin Tourist and Recreation Council worked hard to put together a proposal for just such a concept. A tourist destination area consists of major AT-TRACTIONS such as: Fort Anne, Port Royal, and the rugged natural coastline. ### Origin Of Clare Village Names

By Albert Melanson

the villages along the French shore in the Municipality of Clare of Digby County prove to be interesting. These villages are strung out along the shores of St. Mary's for a distance over thirty miles. well worth mentioning is that these villages abut one Another feature which is another, each being 2½ to 3 miles long from the borders of Weymouth village, St. Bernard village to Beaver River. A portion of the latter is in the municipality of Clare.

The division of each village is indicated by sign boards along the highway and it is the only means to let the traveller know when he is leaving one vilage and entering another, along the French shore. Actually the villages combined together from what was called "La Ville Française" many years ago when Clare was first settled.

Starting at the eastern end of the municipality of Clare, on the shores of St. Mary's bay and with the Sissaboo river bordering we find the village of New Edinburgh. The name is derived from an England or Scottish town. Acadian settlers were the first arrivals in this area and settled on part of the land. In 1783, 3 loyalists of scottish descent and plans were drawn up to form a town with streets laid out and some

The origin of the names of building started but the plan was abandoned, the loyalists moved out. These loyalist came from the United States. The Acadians were allowed to hold their lands upon the arrival of the loyalists.

Several villages derived their names from names of saints, such as St. Bernard at the eastern end of the main highway No. 1; St. Joseph, a small village south-east of Concession; St. Beloni, which is situated south-east of Meteghan River; St. Martin east of Meteghan. Both St. Beloni and St. Martin are inland secondary roads. Alphonse, was formerly called "Cheticamp" meaning a place which was difficult to live on. It was changed to St. Alphonse de Clare, which is the official name of the village, but "de Clare" has been eased out when the village was named.

Belliveau Cove was so named because several Belliveau families settled in the area. It was established by Jean Belliveau. It is in this village that an area called "Pointe-a-major" (Major's Point) is situated, at the southern end of the village with a road leading to the point near the Grosses Coques river bridge. It is at the point in Belliveau Cove that the first cemetery in Clare exists since 1769 which is an Acadian historical site.

Grosses Coques in French

As a direct result of this pioneering work the Annapolis Basin Area has been selected as the pilot project for the first such destination area to be developed in the province, he remarked. Seven day trips, that is, suggested trips to local points of interest which will entice visitors to remain in the area one more day, he continued and promotional literature is being produced and these trips will be made available to the tourist this coming season. In addition, consultation is now underway between the Provincial Government and the Federal Government on a joint agreement which should provide funds to further develop the Tourist Industry in our

To make visitors aware of the attractions of our Basin Area, twenty of the top travel agents in the Maritimes are being brought to the Digby Area in May, the speaker said.

During the period June 9th-12th the Canadian owners and Pilots Association will fly into Digby Airport and enjoy our hospitality. There will be between 200-250 pilots attending this convention and there could be up to 100 aircraft land here. In September the International Fisheries Exhibition is to be held in Halifax. This Exhibition will be the largest Exhibition held in Atlantic Canada and will attract 15,000 International visitors to Nova Scotia. Many of these will spend time visiting the other areas of the province and the Digby Basin Area is an area of prime interest. Mountain Gap Inn, in October 1976 booked over 225 bus tours for the coming season, that is almost a 25 percent increase over any previous bookings at this time of year.

Colonel Smale said that the first most important requirement facing Digby is to make the visitors feel welcome, Sincerely Welcome. Therefore the Digby Board of Trade should introduce a tourism awareness program to make the citizens of the area aware of the economic value of the tourist industry.

A key element in the success of the destination area concept is communication, the speaker advised. This means telling the tourist when he gets here what there is to do and see, where he can stay, and where he can find good food. This means a local tourist bureau is a much needed facility. The operating costs can be borne by a 50-50 grant from the Department of Tourism. In addition, this year under the auspices of the Canada Works Program the A.V.A.B.T. is prepared to provide an additional staff member who can be used to relieve the regular staff, help extend the hours, or the season, and to serve as a guide to local points of interest.

The Board of Trade can also be of aid by supporting the A.V.A.B.T.'s Tourist Of-the-Week program, he said. In this program the Boards co-operate with each major town in the Valley and provide one visiting family overnight accommodation, and an evening dinner with the Mayor and local dignitaries before sending them on their way.

He stressed that the Board of Trade can accept the challenge of developing Digby Scallop Day into a major Nova Scotia Festival. It will take co-operation between ABTRAC, The Board of Trade, the Municipality, and the Town Council.

At the opening of his remarks Colonel Smale showed a 12minute film of the Niagara Grape and Wine Festival held at St. Catherine's, Ontario, hoping that some of the ideas might be useful in planning Digby Scallop Day.

Colonel Smale was thanked by Charles Haliburton. President Ernest Ryan gave a resume of the activities of the Board during the year, the highlight being a successful meeting sponsored by the Board when RCMP and citizens met to discuss the rise in vandalism acts.

Mr. Ryan was extended a vote of thanks for his services through the past year.

Vincent Snow reported a membership of 92 presently in the Digby Board of Trade and made special reference to Rene Richard who was a member as far back as 1938. About 45 attended Tuesday night's banquet but more than 80 tickets had been sold for the occasion.

The head table was adorned with a flower arrangement presented by Cameron's Florist and red candles. The flower arrangement was presented to Mrs. J. M. Wallis in recognition of services rendered to the Digby Board of Trade as president (the first woman president of a Board of Trade in the Maritime Provinces) and as secretary and as secretary pro tem and for other supply offices during the years. Mr. Ryan made the presentation.

means Big Clams when translated in English. It is because an abundance of large clams found on the beach of St. Mary's bay in the area that the village was given its name. It is also where the first chapel was constructed and a stone. cross marks the site where the chapel stood, which is another historical site.

Church Point, is the seat of the first parish to be established by the Roman Catholics in western Nova Scotia in 1799. The village got its name from the fact that a church was built in 1786 on a point of land thrusting out into St. Mary's bay and was named "Pointe de l'eglise" by the Acadians.

The site of this church was easterly from the present lighthouse, a short distance away. It was the first church built in Church Point. "Pointe de l'eglise" refers to a point of land where the church is. It was settled by Pierre LeBlanc and Francois Doucet in 1772.

Little Brook received its name from a little brook which ran through the village and emptied into St. Mary's bay. This brook runs to the east side of the home of Vincent Gennette.

Several villages derive their name from the first settlers such Comeauville, settled by

Kiwanis Club Ut Digby Behind Many Community Projects

The financial statement of the Kiwanis Club of Digby was presented to the Club members by the treasurer James Gillis, on January 27th.

The year was highlighted by a successful swimming pool fund raising campaign from which source the capital debt on the swimming pool was reduced by some $12,000.00 bringing the actual amount now owing down to $5,000.00.

Another successful project during the year was the Easter Page in The Digby Courier and thanks to the efforts of Kiwanian Chet Levy the sum of $1,150.00 was realized from this source. This has become one of the Club's most

An important project in St. Mary's parish in Church Point has commenced a few weeks ago. This relates to the painting of the interior of St. Mary's church, which is a tremendous task due to the height of the interior of the church. The ceiling rises 65 feet above the floor and scaffolding has been built to be able to paint but a small section of the ceiling in relation to the overall ceiling.

It is the second painting of the interior of the church since it was built in 1906. To give an idea of the largeness of the church it must be considered that the building is 190 feet long, transept is 135 feet wide and central nave width is 65 feet. It s steeple rises to 185 feet above the ground. The belfrey contains three huge bronze bells, imported from France, made at the Piccardy Foundry in Arras. The largest bell has the tone of "F" and weighs 1727 pounds; the second largest one has the tone of "G" with a weight of 1,172 pounds and the smallest having the tone of "A" weighs 844 pounds for a total of 3,740 pounds.

Paintings on the ceiling are the work of the artist St. Pierre a french Canadian from the province of Quebec. The altar in the vestry is from the previous church which was built in 1820 on a

Digby Municipal Electric Rates Increase

As a result of the hearing held in Digby November 26, 1976 before the Board of Commissions of Public Utilities, the Municipality of the District of Digby Electric Light Distribution will raise in price by seven-tenths of a cent per kilowatt hour. The Municipality of the District of Digby Electric Light Distribution had requested an increase of one cent per kilowatt hour in all energy charges such as domestic, two wire service, three wire service, commercial beneficial endeavours and it is now an annual event.

The Kiwanis Club is also responsible for the annual Easter Seal Campaign and through these efforts approximately $2,500.00 was raised. One half this revenue is distributed to the Nova Scotia Rehabilitation Council for their activities with crippled children and the remainder is used for projects with handicapped children in the Digby

During the year the Club made donations to the Digby Little League, Christmas Daddies and the Canadian Association for the Mentally Retarded.

For several years the Kiwanis Club has sponsored a Foster Child and during 1976 a young lad in the Philippines was the recipient of this assistance. Regular correspondence is received from the Foster Child and Club members take turns in replying.

Another successful Kiwanis "Walkathon" was held in the spring under the direction of Kiwanian Jack Ritchie. In excess of $1,200.00 was raised from this source and the funds were used to help operate the Swimming Pool.

Club members are busy preparing plans for fund raising activities for 1977 and several projects are now being

The Kiwanis Clib of Digby thanked all who assisted them in their many endeavours during the past year.

Looking forward to the present year, Digby Kiwanians have applied for a Young Canada Works grant. They hope to have fund raising projects and look forward to the generous support from the town's people as previously.

President of the Kiwanis Club of Digby is Ernest Ryan. Past president is R. MacLeod Rogers Q.C.; treasurer is James Gillis and secretary, Leigh Savage.

The Municipality of Digby is also applying to Central Mortgaging and Housing to come under the designated areas to take advantage of the Neighbourly program for aid in repair and fixing up homes.

Joe Casey, M.L.A., Digby, also visited the annual session of the councillors of the Municipality of the District of Digby when the chief topic of discussion was paving of the Old Post Road

Gordon MacPherson, in Smith's Cove and the crossroad connecting the Old Post Road with the road through the village.

Colonel H. Smale, executive director of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade was Council. The chief topic for welcomed to Council and discussion was Senior spoke on several pertinent Citizen Housing. With the points of interest to Municipal Councillors. One of his objectives is to revive the Fundy Board of Trade on the Islands. He expressed fears for small industry in the proposal of doing away with inventory tax. This would be deterimental to the tourist industry and other seasonable businesses such as fish plants, lobster buying businesses and others. Appointments made on Tuesday were James Wamback, Court Crier; Haliburton and Comeau, solicitors and H. R. Doane

HELP UNEMPLOYMENT SITUATION

Who are we to judge when the clam beds in the Annapolis Basin are free from toxicity and usable? More scientific minds than ours can rule on that. Nevertheless, the clam dealers in the area have a point when, according to our columns last week, they are requesting that more clam beds now be opened.

The dealers and clam diggers, too, base their request on the fact that, as also reported last week, the CFB Cornwallis sewage treatment has been completed. Further up the Basin and along the Annapolis river towns have been taking care of their environment by constructing proper sewage treatment plants. Digby is in the process now of installing proper sewage treatment here.

All in all, it takes no special grant, nor requires any building construction so there should be no delay once the shores are rid of contamination, to simply announce that the area is ready to use. This would supply employment for hundreds of diggers and dealers. Other means of providing employment often require much financial assistance. Other than equipment necessary for processors, a hoe is generally sufficient to earn a day's wages for a

Should our works and environment people overlook this ready-made employment outlet, we add a reminder to those of the dealers and diggers.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

Having read on several different occasions, accounts of Square Dancing activities in the "Courier," I thought of you immediately upon reading the enclosed article. Perhaps your readers would be interested in reading all or part of it.

The January 20, 77 Courier arrived here today- such a nice surprise to see Miss Louise Daley, and Mr. Warren Wong both pictured. and so nice to find them both looking so well and happy, as I remember them both a good 20-25 years ago!!)

Also of interest to me was your most recent snow storm, pictures and account of which brought to mind similiar storms we had when I was a child-the one most memorable to me being in winter of (I think) 1952-53. when the building housing Turnbull Bros., Connell's Stationery, Fidell's Beauty Salon, and Mr. and Mrs.

Harry Hersey's apartment burned

While I'm writing, let me say that on three different occasions in the past two years, I've written letters to your paper in praise of Councillor Chipman, but each letter managed to get lost in my purse, or behind the car seat, and by the time I'd see it again, it's message was long overdue. Although, in retrospect, it seems that praise is one thing "better late than never"! I hope the voters in Digby realize the treasure they have in Mrs. Chipman and continue to support her. And Mrs. Chipman should remember that "when those about you are losing their heads, and blaming it on you," then, to the majority, her shining Concession, a village to the east of Church Point, is inland, was named from the word concession in french which means, grant of lands.

The first settlers were, Pierre LeBlanc, coming from Comeauville. The parish of Notre Dame de Mont Carmel was founded by Rev. Pierre Marie Dagnaud, then pastor of St. Mary's parish in Church Point, and the Concession was a mission of the Church Point seat of the St. Mary's parish.

St. Joseph, to the east of Concession, 4 miles inland from Concession village was settled by Charles Anselme Comeau in 1853 and Gatien Thibault. Most of the land owners originally were interested in the forest land. It is about half way to Corberrie from Concession.

Linda E. Jonsalves Sigogne, the first resident pastor at Church Point who lived near a village in France named "Corbery". The late Professor J. Willie Belliveau of Belliveau Cove said that he passed a sign board showing the town of Corbery in France about 20 years ago when he was visiting in Europe. The first settler was Frederick Robicheau in 1836. established himself near Wentworth Lake. Mathurin McGollough and Germain Corporan also arrived in Corberrie at the same time, coming from Salmon River. Robichaud left Meteghan to go to Corberrie. That, at least, for the non-smoking area constituted the passengers to Bridgetown where our good friend, Miss Donalda Fraser, joined our ranks. Somewhere along the line we picked up a few other passengers for our car, but few. Definitely it wasn't a money making proposition even at the rate of $15 plus for the single fare. Space in galore was the only commodities offered for the $15. The return trip from Halifax was by bus. From experience you knew you needed to choose your seat a half hour ahead of time. Nevertheless, the seating didn't seem crowded and the fare was almost half that on the Dayliner. No porters, of course, on the Dayliner but neither was there anyone to show too much interest in dragging luggage. For luggage convenience we'd give the bus the score. The Dayliner road bed is anything but smooth and the sway is none too confortable. We have no intent to tell the D.A.R. how to run its transportation business. We're just wondering why the price is so high, what difference is shown on a financial statement when so few seem to use the service at "twice the price". Yes, space unlimited seems to be the chief commodity the D.A.R. has for sale, yet wouldn't we yell if the

The letter printed in our columns last week from Betty Koharek has aroused an interest in the old schooner Effie Morrissey. Material on the Effie Morrissey will be gathered for a future issue of The Digby Courier, possibly from information in the Roving Fisherman by Frederick William Wallace.

Who could ever make such a mistake? Not anyone who has lived in Digby for a long time. The story on Louise Daley last week in reference to her position at the provincial tourist bureau remarked that 23 of the 24 tourist bureau employees were turned out. The reference seemed to be connected with the Liberal government making the change. Miss Daley wishes that to be corrected to the Conservative government.

Comeauville. Meteghan Centre, was settled in 1785 by Paul Dugas, and Joseph LeBlanc. It was called "La Pointe Noire" (Black Point) and was so named because a family of a negro had settled on a point of land in the area. It is still called "Pointe Noire" by the Acadians. It is a division of the village of Meteghan, in other words it was divided into another village as the main village of Meteghan spread out years

Meteghan Station, inland was a part of Meteghan at one time and the Dominion Atlantic Railway established a station inland east of Meteghan River, two or three miles from the main highway. This area has been divided into sections called "Lac des Negres" (Negro Lake) and Bangor. Bangor is the area where the families of Alphonse (A Jos)

Comeau settled and two sawmills of Ben and Amedee Comeau operate sawmills.

Meteghan was established in 1785. Its name is derived from the Micmac language "Mitihikan" which signifies blue rocks. It was settled first by Prudent Robicheau and his son Armand; Olivier Doucet, Etienne Thibodeau, Jean Trahan, Charles Doucet, Joseph Trahan, Charles Theriault, Sylvester and Ezre Theriault and Etienne Thibault. St. Alphonse was derived from a name of a saint and was originally called Cheticamp, meaning a place of poor land. It was changed many years ago to St. Alphonse de Clare. The latter part of the name "de Clare" is no longer used by the Acadians.

Mavilette derived its name from Lord Mavilette, who was aboard a sailing vessel that was shipwrecked in the area and was drowned. Others say it is derivative of "ma villette" in french which means "my village" with Villette meaning a mini village. Cape St. Mary's, a mile from Mavillette, on the shores of St Mary's Bay is situated on the cape of the same name and is a fishing Saulnierville Station is so called because the Dominion Atlantic Railway built a station in this part of Saulnierville when the railway went through.

Mayflower was possibly named because the flower of the same name was found in the area. Beaver River, portion of which is Clare appears to be named after a river in which beaver was found to live on. Havelock, Hassets and New Tusket on the Weymouth to Corberrie highway may have received their names from English towns and New Tusket because the Tusket river originates in Clare and to distinguish from Tusket in Yarmouth County.

Notes From Bird Haven

BITS AND PIECES

Six weeks more before Spring will be here. It has seemed like a long winter. Guess I must be getting old.

Lots and lots of Purple finches. Still getting calls from all parts of the country asking what the red birds are. Even had a letter from up the Valley with a perfect drawing of one with all the colours marked in.

Sunny mornings after the Orioles have had their bath, they are starting to chirp a bit and the little white throated sparrows in the kitchen cage are starting their beautiful song. Am waiting for the Hermet thrush to start his cathedral song.

Several Dovekies have been brought in during the last week. All have been taken to the beach where they will be able to look after themselves.

I don't think I have ever told you about the rescue of the little song Sparrow and family in the currant bush. They had built a cozy nest in a bush. Four bluish white speckled with brown eggs were laid. All went well, all hatched, but after a few days along came a heavy rain and August gale. The nest was upset and the wee babies were scattered on the ground.

I picked them up, put them in the oven to keep warm while Dad nailed a strawberry box to a stick and drove it in the ground.

The nest was placed in the box and the warm dry fledglings replaced in the nest.

All the time the worried parent birds were watching the procedure from a nearby tree. After we went in the house the birds returned to the nest and the family lived happily everafter.

Middleton Dumps Digby 10-4

Digby started the game at a very slow pace and allowed J. MacAlpine (D), K. the home town squad to out Mackintosh (D), M. Hyson score them 7-1 in the first (D) period. Digby played a very scrambly type hockey and could not seem t keep pace with the home town squad.

A birthday cake was on hand to make the celebration more teresting.

Activities at the activity center have been hampered by the weather in the month of January but only one day was the clubhouse closed for the activity day of Tuesday when a two day snow storm raged in the Municipality of Clare. Snow lowered the attendance on three occasions when about 20 members reached the centre. Others fearing a blowing snow storm did not dare to take the chance.

LOOK AT IT THIS WAY!

What really impresses you as a real estate client, buyer or seller, in newspaper advertising? Is it pretty pictures? Imaginative descriptions? Size of the ad? Number of properties advertised? .... Or is it PER-FORMANCE that really counts?

A recent survey carried out by the Canadian Real Estate Association across Canada revealed that by far the highest percentage of clients surveyed had selected their real estate agents on the basis of word of mouth recommendations from satisfied clients.

In the 18 months since our Digby Office opened, the staff of Harding Real Estate have consistantly tried to make the satisfaction of the client the ultimate objective on the assumption that accumulation of good will and good friends of the company are more important to all of us than the accumulation of quick bucks. Money is soon gone - friendships and good will are (hopefully) more permanent assets.

It is with great satisfaction that we announce that during our brief period of operation in Digby this office has been able to satisfy the real estate needs of over 200 clients. Just think of it. That's almost 12 new friends each and every month since we opened. That makes us feel pretty good.

So look at it this way. If the property you want is available we can probably find it for you and help you put together the best possible financial approach. If you want to sell, our record speaks for itself. Talk to any of the people who have had dealings with us. You probably know some of them.

We now have 18 offices around the Province and good referral connections in every other province in

Planning for the day you retire or buy your first home means having a master plan for your investment in the future. So we have two plans to help. A Retirement Savings Plan, and a Home Ownership Savings Plan. They both earn you valuable tax savings, and when you subscribe to either one, or both plans your contributions can be applied to any one, or a combination of these investment vehicles:

1. Royal Bank RSP and HOSP Deposits. Interest-bearing deposits with The Royal Bank of Canada, offering a high interest return, geared to the general deposit rate structure. Because of the longterm nature of these deposits, it is possible to pay a higher rate of interest than on conventional savings deposits.

2. Income Fund. High-yield bonds, deposit instruments and mortgages insured under the National Housing Act make up this portfolio which is actively managed by professionals. The policy is to achieve as high a current income as is compatible with maintaining reasonable price stability as well as moderate capital appreciation.

3. Equity Fund. Investment mainly in Canadian common stock portfolio which is actively managed by the same professionals. Long-term capital growth with reasonable current income is the objective of this fund.

Reflecting To 1947

A bit of history is preserved in the February 6, 1947 issue of The Digby Courier when an address given before the Y's Men's Club by the Digby Neck mail driver, Guy Morehouse Sr. was recorded. He told of his experience with teams of horses on the route in days when it took two days to get mails to the Islands. The entire mail at that time for the Islands was contained in two rubber lined bags. In 1947 he was delivering 60 bags. The story tells us that the first automobile in Digby County was brought by ship from Boston to Sandy Cove. In 1947, according to the story, the remains of the car was in Westport where it had been sent for repairs. (Is it still there?) Speaking of the roads in his early years of driving the Digby Neck and Islands mail, the speaker said the roads were just like a track and alders brushed the side of the wagon. Snow drifts were hazardous and as a means of combatting this, Mr. Morehouse invented snow fences by laying rows of spruce trees. The department of Highways gave him permission to continue the experiment in other

We see where an Islander in 1947 is complaining about the road between Tiverton and Freeport through a letter to the editor. It was taking nearly an hour to go that distance by car when it should have taken only twelve minutes. The Island, the winter claimed is an important part of Digby County and the road was like the bombed and shelled roads in Europe with its innumerable holes, ruts and mires. (Today's Tiverton to Freeport roads are paved.)

Women seemed to be active in Board of Trade work or in civic work in Bear River in 1947. The Digby Courier reports that J.L. Warren, president of the Bear River Board of Trade commended the work of the women in civic affairs and congratulated the ladies for the interest and influence as shown by their presence and in the work accomplished. Several projects for the year were discussed, the paving of the Loop and the erection of a dam on the river which would beautify the town and provide canoeing and bathing, also a modern bridge to be built to replace the old Raymond Bridge on the River Road.

A letter from "Futurist" wanted to know if nobody thought of the Excel Inn property for building a new Memorial Town Hall. (That was 30 years ago.)

A letter to the editor on Feb.6 1947 offered advice on constructing a tidal dam or barrage at the mouth of the Annapolis River, at Goat Island or at Digby Gap. The writer went into some detail on different constructions and the industrial advantages. The elevated ground on each side of the Gap could provide a site for a second basin and generator to make the service continous as in the Severn double tidal plan. Or, the second generator might be coal or oil burning. The Brittany plan was an alternative, borrowing a few hours on each tide electricity from a nearby system or from the Provincial Government owned but unfinished hydro development on Paradise Lake. Besides industrial advantages the writer also mentioned the strong tourist attractions of the Annapolis Basin.

Mrs. H. J. Anthony was in charge of a show for "Digby

The Digby Wesleyan Church was about filled to capacity on Sunday a.m., January 30th. The Christian Youth Crusaders Honor Council was held during the church service. Mrs. Ruth Wilson is CYC director.

The Christian Youth Crusaders attired in Uniform marched in the church with some 30 or more present and in addition to this number a young teenage group of children were also present. The special service opened with the singing of the hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers". Following this the CYC children gave Pledges to the Canadian Flag, the Christian Flag and the Holy Bible which they displayed at the front of the church. The Christian Youth

Crusaders continued to participate in the service by giving the Herald Pledge or the Cadet Pledge, depending on which group they were registered in. They sang "Happiness Is" in addition to at least one other song with which they delighted the many people present.

The Christian Youth Crusaders is a group of youth divided into three parts. The first part, The Joy Bells. a pre school age group of children age 2-6 is the youngest groups, the newest group and perhaps the largest group of CYC er's. This group under the leadership of Nancy Riley, Tanya Trimper and Sandra Hudson began this year. These children were presented with certificates.

They are taught by: Mrs. Judy MacBride-Grade 1; Mrs. Gloria MacBride- Grade 2: Mrs. Carol Potter- Grade three: Mrs. Grace Brewster- Grade four: Mrs. Anne Cook-Grade five.: Mrs. Beatrice Trimper- Grade six.

Many CYC children from grade one to grade six were presented with awards for the work they had achieved. Their teachers made the presentations.

In the grade six group,

under the direction of Mrs.

Beatrice Trimper, the two newest Christian Youth Crusaders, Martha and Shirley Robinson, have completed their requirements and for this achievement each were presented with a scarf and a pin.

Mrs. Fernley teacher for the young teenage group of children, presented an award to Rickey Hudson for being the top winner in a Scripture contest. Following the singing of the Hymn "Oh to be Like Thee" the Sunday School Superintendent spoke a few words to the congregation saying it is a pleasure to have the children in the Sunday School and in the Church.

To conclude the special service the Pastor gave a brief address saying "The Christian Church has always been a small church but we can win the battle if we let God work through us."

Regan Speaks At First Acadian Conference

A series of Acadian Conferences being sponsored by College Ste Anne, Church Point, was officially kicked off by a visit from Premier Gerald Regan.

The principal topic under discussion was provincial bargaining power with respect to negotations with the federal government. However, a number of other contemporary problems also came up during a question and answer period.

Mr. Regan said a "new set of checks and balances" and an "entirely new set of rules" can be expected as a result of the Partie Quebecois victory in Quebec. He later added, "We may see new era in federalprovincial bargaining than in the bad old days before the Quebec election in November."

After explaining how the Canadian provinces united to form a confederation instead of a "unitary" nation, Mr. Regan noted the domination of the federal government is established by the "power of the purse - possible especially in dealings with smaller premiers which never have enough money to meet their legislature ex-

The Premier went on to criticize the power of Ottawa bureaucrats, expressing feat at the degree to which the initiation and application of programs has been turned over to non-elected bureaucrats. He explained how the federal government is setting provincial priorities through costsharing programs.

He also criticized L.I.P. programs which, he said, often involve areas of provincial jurisdiction such as Day Care Centres, and present services not available to the province as a whole. Also, the province may be placed in a position where it will have to come up with finds to replace such L.I.P. programs when federal allotments run out.

Returning to federalprovincial negotations, "I government with its tremendous array of experts behind it, yield or amend a position as one result of must determined or continued assault on the rational of its

Tideview Terrace Refused Expansion

At the regular monthly meeting, held January 27, 1977, the Board of Management of the Digby Fown and Municipal Housing Corporation, owners and operators of Tideview Terrace, St. Marys Street, Digby, N.S., was informed by the Provincial Department of Social Services that approval cannot be given for cost sharing in maintenance of additional patients for the Digby area which would result in an expansion at Tideview Terrace and that priorities must be given to other areas of the province.

Tideview Terrace opened its doors November 24, 1973 and six months after opening reached 100 percent occupancy which it has maintained over the past three years. The operation has at its disposal 55 beds, 29 for personal care and 25 for the Infirmary care and one isolation bed.

It should be mentioned at this time that the municipal bodies involved, which are the Municipality of the District of Digby and the Town of Digby had great foresight and should be commended for their efforts in bringing about the construction of a Home for Special Care such as Tideview Terrace which was a much needed service for the Top Generation of the area. The original planning and request from this level of Government during 1971-72 was to construct at least a 75

More Than Thirty Sign Petition

More than thirty fishermen fish dealers and vessel owners of East Forry, Digby County, signed a petition which was forwarded to the Honourable Minister of the Environment, the Department of Environment, The Director of Small Craft Harbours, the Member of Parliament for Southwest Nova, and the Member of the Legislature for Digby. The petition requested that an immediate and meaningful harbour development program for East Ferry be undertaken in order to provide the facilities which the industry based in their community deserves in terms of its (a) existing and potential fish landings; (b) in terms of the support it gives to the based processing community is approximately industry; (c) in terms of the employment it gives both at sea and ashore; (d) in terms of the earnings generally outside the province and outside the country; and (e) in terms of the efficiency of the industry in relation to the capital investment employed in producing substantial

The petition reasoned that the fishing industry is one of the major industries in Nova Scotia and the fisheries based on Digby Neck, particularly at East Ferry, is a significant segment of that industry. The landed value of fish is in the vicinity of one million dollars and the eventual value of the processed fish leaving the position by some or all premiers", Mr. Regan said.

One federal advantage, he said, is their ability to say "we had to impose our decision because the other ten provinces couldn't agree." Mr. Regan explained that ten different provinces are bound to produce different viewpoints. Public opinion. he said, is about only strength the provinces have had to this point in time.

Mr. Regan felt the P.Q. election in Quebec will result in the provinces being more meaningfully involved in constitutional negotiations.

Prior to November, he noted, the federal government advised it would repatriate provinces. But he believes the situation has changed now.

The federal government, he said, will have to look for one support of the other provinces for changes needed in the years ahead to maintain the "unity, indeed the existence of our country as we know it."

While speaking of this need era in federal-provincial negotiations, Mr. Regan said he can't think of "anything more disastrous" occurring than the separation of Quebec from Canada.

He noted our problems would be greatly magnified if we were divided from the other provinces. Investors would be wary of an area whose survival was in doubt. He also said the maritimes would lose a strong ally in negotations with the federal government should Quebec separate.

The Premier ended his lecture by stressing the importance of all provinces taking a flexible position to change the constitution to satisfy the majority of Canadians, including those in Quebec who want to be Canadians.

After his address, the Premier answered, or evaded as the case may be, several questions from the audience.

Effie M. Morrissey

According to Frederick Wallace, in his book, The Roving Fisherman, the fishing schooner, Effie Morrissey was 18 years old in 1912. That makes the schooner to have been built in 1894 and brings her up to the age of 88 presently. This is the same schooner which is now in the news as being preserved for historical records and tourist promotion. According to Mrs. Betty Koharek, New York, a committee has been formed with the intent of bring the famous Effic Morrissey back from the Cape Verde Islands off Africa to the United States.

Why should the Effie Morrissey arouse interest in Digby? Simply because she was owned at one time by Betty's grandfather, Captain Ansel Snow of Digby. Families and relatives of Captain Snow reside in the area.

According to The Roving Fisherman, the schooner was built in Essex, Mass. The 110 ton schooner was built to compine fair sailing qualities with weatherliness, and a great hold capacity for salt fish. Cost was $16,000.

It was around 1905 when the Effie Morrissey was sold to Captain Snow. Fred Wallace made several trips on her under Captain Harry Ross, encountered storms and viewing schooner races and knowledge of sailing in preparation for his authorship. His book describes the catches and the various trips of the Effie Morrissey and uses pictures to impress readers with the weather and life of those who followed the salt fishing industry. His poem entitled The Log of a Record Run in the Roving Fisherman uses the name of Mary L. MacKay instead of the Effie Morrissey.

With years of honor behind her, the Effie M. Morrissey (Ernestina) is at the Cape Verde Islands, off Africa, from where the committee hopes to bring the ship to the United States. Storms hindered her arrival for the United States bicentennial but Ship Notes by Michael Platzer in the Sea History Magazine leaves no doubt about her degree of

"Other commercial ships were removed from the slipway and 60 carpenters, welders, mechanics and other laborers were put to work on the Ernestina from seven o'clock in the morning until seven o'clock in the evening. People in the port city had never seen the shipyard workers work so hard on a vessel. It was indeed a labor of love. The Ernestina is a part of their sea heritage (there is even a song about the Ernestina), and represents a living link between the United States and Cape Verde. The present owner of the Effie Morrissey is Capt. Alberto Lopes.

The Effie Morrissey has been referred to "one of the most famous two masted schooners in the world". Well known in Digby as a fishing schooner, she sailed under United States registry under Captain Snow but out of Digby with a Canadian Captain and crew. Captain Snow remained her skipper until 1909 and later other captains were Captain Miller, Captain William Ryder of Port Wade and Captain

The Effie Morrisey seemed to go through a period of neglect. In 1914 she was sold to Harold Bartlett of Newfoundland and registered in Canada. It was in this period that she stranded on ledges off the Cape Breton, N.S. coast and for several years lay at the bottom of Halifax Harbour. Later being extensively repaired she finished a season of fishing off Labrador and was later taken to New two million dollars.

The petition further stated that existing harbours and wharves in the general area are overcrowded and inadequate and completely lacking at East Ferry requiring those fishing from East Ferry and landing their catches at East Ferry to undertake very serious risks for their lives and safety, as well as their boats and equipment.

Outstanding Town Taxes High

When Councillor Gordon Ellis, Chairman of the Finance Committee for the Town of Digby presented his report at the regular council meeting on Monday, it came as a surprise to many of the councillors that outstanding taxes to the end of 1976 amounted to $145,344.04 This was broken down into $51,987.72 for residential and $93.356.32 commercial. Outstanding taxes prior to 1972 were $1,255.02; from 1972 the amount is $1,431.78; 1973 amount $6,658.26; 1974, $8.757.02; outstanding for 1975 is $43,952.81 and for 1976 the taxes outstanding are $83,289.15.

Kenneth Eavis, town clerk, whose duty it is to issue tax statements, expressed the desire to have no of the town council in issuing the tax statements. This sparked excited discussion to which Mr. Eavis added that he had been aware of interference having been done before. Another at the meeting testified to the same statement. Though Councillor Guy VanTassell felt he had a right to know where and who interfered, no names were divulged. Council decided to advertise in the local press regarding the payment of delinquent taxes. One reason for Councillor

Ellis being so disturbed about delinquent taxes was because of the fact that the town has to borrow money to operate while the taxpayer earns interest on his money in the bank. Councillor Ellis interference from members gave a report on the town's

Crime Decreases In Digby

Although much concern was expressed during the past year regarding the crime problem in Digby, crime actually decreased by twenty-three percent over This was the report made by Corporal James Webb, R.C.M.P. at the monthly meeting of Digby Town Council held on Monday evening and presided over by His Worship, Mayor Stuart Mac-Naughton.

This is worthy of note, the Corporal said, since most communities have experienced increases in crime during that time. However, there was a thirty percent increase in the number of complaints during the year but many were unrelated to criminal acts and were of an assistance nature.

During the year, according to the reports, there were 170 adults charged in the courts with criminal offences plus 27 juveniles. (This does not include traffic related prosecutions.) Break and enters decreased by 30 percent from 1975, auto thefts were down to 3 from 10 in 1975. Thefts under $200.00 value including shoplifting and other petty thefts were down by 42 percent over 1975. Disturbances increased by about 25 percent while vandalism remained about the same as in 1975. Drug offences were up 3 percent while liquor infractions remained the same as in

During the year 204 persons were prosecuted for traffic offences including impaired driving, suspended driving, breathalizer refusals, motor vehicle act infractions and town by-law traffic offences. Total accidents rose slightly and there was one fatality in town during the year.

The decrease in the overall crime picture can be attributed to many factors Corporal Webb said. Early morning patrols every day, the addition of one man to the unit in July 1976 and increased awareness by the business community and citizens in general all contributed to this healthy decrease in crime. Many business places have installed alarms and many have tightened their security measures.

The officer remarked that the police cannot solve the social problems that contribute to much of this crime, however, a concerned and aware public can greatly assist in reducing the crime rate. He encouraged all citizens to promptly report any unusual incident, suspicious person or anything that appears to be related to criminal activity. The Digby RCMP detachment has received excellent business brought up at the February, directors meeting of the Digby County Inshore Fishermen's Association was plans to meet in Yarmouth on haddock quotamanagement for 1977. Also a proposal for the herring fishermen coming out of that meeting was to urge the Department of Fisheries for a three mile limit in the months of June, July and August. The fishermen feel this is necessary in order to carry on a productive industry. The herring fishing area referred to is from Point Prim to Boar's Head. Attending the meeting was Arden Greenlaw of Tiverton. Community Service Officer of the Department of Fisheries. Another meeting on February 15 will include business regarding the lobster fishermen of St. Mary's Bay.

On motion of Councillor Ellis and Councillor Van-Tassell, council disposed of the % ton truck at the tender bid of $300.

The report for Social Services was given by Councillor Robert McNutt. One aspect of social services to be looked into is the cost of burials in the province. A uniformity of rate is desired. Cyril Reddy of the Department of Social Services is looking into the matter.

February 21, 1977, was declared by council to be Heritage Day in Digby, when flags will be flown and dignitaries will visit schools to talk on Heritage. Other functions have also been planned for the week, it is understood.

An invitation will be extended by council to Col. H. E. Smale, executive manager of the Annapolis Valley Afilliated Boards of Trade, to visit the next regular session of Digby Council. representative of the Digby Board of Trade will also be

Mrs. Irvin Everett appeared before council requesting a tree to be removed from blocking her driveway on Birch Street. Another tree referred to for part demolition was that on Montague Road on the former Whyman property.

Four Take Oath Of Allegiance

Four took the Oath of Allegiance before Judge Victor Cardoza of the Canadian Citizenship Court in Digby on Tuesday, February 1. In the presence of members of their families, friends and representatives of groups, the impressive ceremony bestowed Canadian citizenship on Mrs. Kathleen Martha Banks, Smith's Cove: Catherine Doucet, Concession, Digby County; Mrs. Jane Doucet, Church Point, and Mrs. Martha Jeanne Kaetz, Bear River.

Before Constable D. M. Martin R.C.M.P. announced the entrance of the judge, Wayne Bowers, acting court clerk instructed the candidates on procedures. Court opened with the singing of O. Canada.

Judge Cardoza welcomed each candidate as the Clerk called each to take the oath of allegiance to Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II and to obey the laws of Canada. In his address to the candidates and visitors he noted that those who received their citizenship were no longer guests in Canada but were now a part of the Canadian family, they have a sense of belonging and having a part to play in the country of Canada. Judge Cardoza reminded those present that all races and religions are represented in Canada. It is a nation of immigrants from outside the country and that included the Indian and Eskimo race. He remarked on the many cultural and Ethnic patterns which have helped to make Canada great.

Being good citizens does not mean that the ways of the neighbours have to be adopted but differences of opinions can be held and expressed in a free country. Citizenship, he said, demands more than flag waving and song but it must be worked at. Citizens need to be enlightened and live with an open mind. So often, he finds that citizens by birth take too much for granted.

Welcomes to the new citizens were extended by several persons and representatives of groups. Mrs. A. S. Viall, Plympton, representing the Catholic Women's League, presented each with a gift. Others extending welcomes and best wishes were Rev. George Bell of Western Nova Multicultural Association; David States of the Human Rights Commission, Mrs. J. M. Wallis and Harold Emerson of the Digby Red

The ceremony closed with God Save the Queen.

THANKS FOR 25 YEARS

We have always bragged on keeping our news and editorial matter as local as possible. Going all the way to England in our wanderings today to write a few lines about Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth II might not seem to be in keeping. But, it is.

Princess Elizabeth became Queen twentyfive years ago on February 6 under sad circumstances. Her father, King George VI, died while Princess Elizabeth and her husband, Prince Philip, were officially visiting in Africa. Her call back home and to the duties of the throne were sudden and sorrowful. So well we remember the days. To some of us, this Queen seemed but a "child" of eighteen years and a common phrase we made in those awesome days was "That poor dear child. God help her,". We felt that the burden on such young shoulders was Now 25 years have passed. True they were in many instances difficult years but Her Majesty became a solid rock on which the empire rested. She can be credited with giving great stability to her people under an influential leadership.

Queen Elizabeth, we believe, was brought up in a family of sterling qualities which have stood her well throughout the years, not only in her role as Her Majesty before her empire but as a dutiful, kind and loving wife and mother.

Queen Elizabeth, though far away in miles is very near to many of her subjects in spirit. Her influence as a good mother, a considerate and kindly person as well as a dutiful monarch is felt here in our own very midst. Her life shall not be in vain. Thanks for 25 years and "Long Live The Queen" for more long years to come.

MAROONED ON INDIAN TRAIL By Frances Adams

One cold snowy evening recently I answered the door bell. A young man requested permission to use my telephone because he needed the assistance of a wrecker. He said he was stuck on the shore road in the unpaved section located between the former Bay View Life Saving Station and the ferry terminal. This section of the road which is known as the Indian Trail has had many other vehicles, over the years, trapped on it and so this incident was not an uncommon one.

Most of the year this section of road, just over one mile long receives little care. It is passable with caution several months of the year but in winter residents of the area could not consider travelling on it. People somewhat strange to the area do not know and they become entangled in the web and so once again some unfortunate person was marooned in the snow on the Indian Trail.

This young man was lucky that the hour was early enough that he might receive the necessary assistance because back in March 1973 on a bitter cold snowy night two young men were faced with a similiar situation on this road and forced to remain all night in their trapped car due to the late hour in which the incident occurred.

Would it not be wise, in Winter at least, to post Road Closed signs at either end of this section of the road or would it be better just to allow it to remain as now an Indian Trail? It is not in as good condition as when the Indians used

The Department of Indian and Northern Affairs has published a book by Eric W. Morse on the Canadian Fur Trade. This book "Fur Trade Routes of Canada - Then and Now" recalls the life of the voyageurs and describes the routes as of today. The book is in two parts with part one introducing the subject as seen through the eyes of the real hero of the story, the Canadien (or Indian, or Orkneyman) voyageur, to outline the economic and geographical influences and part two describing in detail the old routes as they look now. The book contains a Foreword by Rt. Hon. Pierre E. Trudeau. cooperation from the citizens of the town in the past, he said and are looking forward the same kind of cooperation in the future. They are hoping for a reduced crime rate in 1977 but this can only be accomplished, he felt by the public being concerned and assisting the police in bringing the offenders to justice.

Among the reports given on Monday evening was the report of the Police and License Committee presented by the chairperson, Councillor Eileen Chipman. The report recommended Roger LeDrew for the position of dog tax collector and dog control officer, on the following terms: Remuneration for license collecting based on a percentage of the license fee. (2) $2.00 per day board for 72 hours for unclaimed dogs and (3) $4.00 per hour plus mileage for answering complaints.

Mrs. Chipman's report stated that a letter dated January 12, 1977 from underwriters of the Canada General Insurance Company, Halifax advised that insurance coverage on a 1974 Pontiac Laurentian, being used as a taxi, had been cancelled, effective January 10, 1977, the town by-laws requires at least $100,000 coverage on all taxis within the town, the report noted enforcement of this by-law was not included in the last contract with the RCMP.

According to her report the town has not received for consideration, a new contract with the RCMP. The last contract expired in March 1976. In view of the limited services provided in the last contract, excluding enforcement of some of the town's most important bylaws, she said it might be in the public interest to explore other police services with a view, in particular, to foot patrol and night telephone services which would provide privacy to the caller instead of the present system of relaying citizens calls from Halifax to Digby RCMP by radio.

Council decided to raise the dog violation from $1.00 to $3.00 Council is presently making a by-law to cover barking dogs. The by-law has been sent to the Dept. of Municipal Affairs for approval.

bed Home, but the Provincial Government refused this number of beds by saying that such a number as this could not be substantiated for the Digby area.

As time went on and the Home came into being it was not too long before the demand and need for beds became such that a waiting list came into existence. The demand for beds in a setting such as Tideview Terrace is becoming more pronounced each year within our immediate area. Reasons for this demand are easily explained.

1. Statistics and surveys prove that this area has the least number of beds for the care of the aged than any other part of the Province. Whereas certain areas of the Province have a surplus of the Municipality of Digby are more people per capita over the age of sixty-five than any other part of Nova Scotia.

3. Medical Science has proven with proper Health Care Services, Tideview Terrace is an integral part of in the local setting, people are living longer and consequently must be cared for in the setting best suited to the individual.

Clarification should be made also concerning who operate Tideview Terrace. This Home for Special Care is owned and operated on a 50-50 basis by the Municipality of the District of Digby and the Town of Digby under incorporated body known as the Digby Town and Municipal Housing Corporation and not by the Provincial Government of Nova Scotia.

The Home accommodates both cost sharing and private paying guests. Tideview Terrace provides care and the necessities of living required by elderly and infirm persons who are unable to maintain themselves or be maintained in the community. Those guests on cost sharing pay whatever income they have towards their maintenance, the Town or Municipality from whence they come is billed for the Balance. the Canada Through Assistance Plan the province receives from the Federal Government contributions which allows them to set up a sharing formula by which it assists the Municipal units in covering the remaining balance for the maintenance of such persons in Homes for Special Care as Tideview

Terrace. The demand and need for additional beds at the Terrace is becoming more pronounced each month and the Board of Management believes priorities should be given to the area for a sixty bed expansion which would be necessary to maintain a standard of Health Care Services that the Digby Area and its residents are entitled

The local Department of Social Services have made their own surveys concerning this need of beds and as far back as 1975 the Board of Management was told by Social Services that the area was short of beds for this type of care. With priorities being placed as they are, the Board will continue to pursue for the expansion of Tideview Terrace to alleviate the need.

NO TURNING BACK

You and I are travellers. We do not have a return ticket, because this is a oneway journey. We can look back through memory, but to go back is contrary to the laws of time.

The crowd laughed when a film is run backwards. People seem to walk in reverse; they return to their starting point; and those who watch can see the old route once more. We might like to go back in reality and correct the old mistakes, and bask in the finer experiences, but there is no going back.

However, we might wish for a reversal of the reel of life, still that reel goes forward. To think of going back to make amends is only a dream.

But, how can the past be made right? Only by the mercy of God can forgiveness come to sweep our yesterdays free from sin. We cannot go back and do it; but the power of the Cross can restore and heal the past which is otherwise out of reach.

Remember today will soon be yesterday. Sow the witness of joy and kindness. Sweeten tomorrow's memories by living in the faith of the Son of God today.

Time is a river flowing toward the ocean of eternity and carrying our little lives in its current. Each one asks, "How soon does the stream touch the ocean"? Here the answer is different for each person. It may be today, but the child of God need have no fear, for that ocean is the expanse of God's love and goodness. Eternity is not a nightmare, but the golden sunrise.

All The Messiah's Men

Thursday, February 10

10:30-11:00 pm EVANGELISM NEARING

'Chuck' Colson, one-time Nixon hatchetman, and Eldridge Cleaver, the onetime radical Marsist Leninist and spokesman for violence, would have very little in common. But they do and it is their common interest that Correspondent Michael Maclear examines in the next episode of "Maclear", titled "All The Messiah's Men", telecasting Thursday, February 10, 10:30-11:00 p.m., a report on the Evangelistic religious awakening that is drawing a awareness over America, a mass conversion that has reached the miracie state with the coming together of Colson and

Cleaver as converts to Christ. Certainly both were political extremists who went too far. As 'born-again' Evangelists they have become converts to a movement that includes onethird of the entire American electorate, all part of the most significant religious crusade of the Seventies now preparing for entry into Canada and eighty-five other countries.

Filmed at speechs in some of the hundreds of cities being blitzed by the Campus Crusade for Christ, the largest, richest 'born-again' movement, Colson and Cleaver., with the election of a 'born-again' President, have become part of what

Time Magazine calls 'the year of the evangelical.' In the studios of the Christian Broadcasting Network with Eldridge Cleaver, Colson preaches the word of conversion.

"I could never imagine that I would have anything in common with Eldridge Cleaver...I believed that by going into Government I could, through legislation and laws, shape the kind of country we lived in. And Eldridge believed you could do it by rioting in the streets. And both of us have found that neither one of us, or indeed any man can do it, but only the power of God working, working through us." .

"Cynicism sometimes comes hard," cautions Maclear. "But when men least known for honesty and morality now preach it. doubts are advisable. Both enjoyed power and attention. Currently there is no greater political power than the Evangelist movement, extremist in its emphasis on patriotism, American virtues and in its global ambitions." "The charitable view," he comments. "is that they have found the power of the Lord. The uncharitable view. they have found the power of the Bible band-wagon."

"Maclear" is produced by Don McQueen for CTV's News, Features and Information Programming Department. Michael Maclear is Correspondent.

On Tuesday, Jan. 24, the high school teachers took to the ice against the High School Hockey Team.

The High School Hockey Team had not been winning and their spirits were low, so the teachers held back their power players and allowed the Hockey Team to out score them 7-4.

It was a general iseling throughout the players and the few fans that attended the game that the teachers thoroughly dominated the play and could easily sore at will.

The next match up beween these two teams will be on Feb. 17 at 3 p.m. in a ful length game during D.R.H.S.

winter carnival. Richard Saulnier coached the teachers during this brief game, however, in the next encounter the teachers will be ably coached by Mr. Ross principal of D.R.H.S. Stan Locke was coach of the weaker High School Hockey Team and it is hoped he will have enough courage to attempt it again during Winter Carnival.

Scoring for the teachers were Jean Blin (2), Mike Sweeney, and Richard Ross, while those who tallied for the High School Hockey Team were Danny LeBlanc, Hyson, Mackintosh and Jim MacAlpine.

K.C.A. Trips D.R.H.S. 44

On Wednesday, February 2, Digby played host to K.C.A. in a 3 o'clock encounter at the Digby Forum. The two teams displayed some excellent hockey in front of 172 fans comprised of forty-four from Digby Neck, who stayed under special arrangement.

It was a very mild contest as referee Robbie Morgan passed out only nine minor penalties, five to the visitors. Both teams stuck strictly to hockey and the fast skating, good passing was evident throughout the entire game, with Digby and shooting the visitors 53-34.

The strong line of Mark Hyson, Ronnie MacAlpine and Barry VanTassel for Digby and a stellar perby KCA. formance Goaltender Gerry Pherson held the score close throughout the entire contest.

Sunday, February 6 was the date of a very exciting hockey game between the Digby Merchant All-Stars and College Ste Anne played at the college. CSA edged the All-Stars 4-2 with the game being decided early when St Anne's scored two goals before the game was three minutes old. The All-Stars fought back but they just couldn't make up for that early two goal deficit.

Wayne Doucet lead the way for the winners with 3 goals while Earl Harding scored the other. Scorers for Digby were Vernon Simms and Jeff Miller.

wind up its season at home, of the Annapolis Valley High School Hockey League as they went down to an 8-5 defeat to Windsor Regional.

It was an exciting hockey game with the action fast, and a number of end to end rushes. Windsor dominated the game in the scoring column but Digby narrowly missed on a number of occasions.

Mark Jeffery played an excellent game in nets for Digby and seemed to have lax defence by allowing the Windsor players to move with ease in the Digby end. IST Period

> My father told of this day, but no clue of the date. It was old Malti who lived to be 101 years, 9 months who helped mostly this story, also Joe Louis (now of MicMac, Shubenacadie) filled the gaps of the tale.

In the late 1920's . I well remember Malti, Eli and Sim as they sat on the logs by the Cunningham Mill, resting. Malti was the one who pulled my greatgrandfather out of the East Branch River after drowning in a log jam. I listened well, but not often enough, to their tales and wisdom.

Knowing his age and when he died, being 18 on that cold day, we pinpoint it to a cool Friday of 1853 or 54, not knowing the month.

We would like to hear from others who have information on cold days of the past. Surely it was cold other than Bear River area.

LORNE GREENE'S LAST OF THE WILD EDGE OF LIFE

Sunday, February 13 6:00-6:30 p.m.

RICH WILDLIFE OF RIFT VALLEY STUDIED IN FACE OF MAN'S CON-TINUING

CROACHMENT Lake Victoria, Africa, like the centrepiece of some Imperial crest, is framed by the rich savannah of the great Rift Valley while nourishing the most varied array of animal life in the world. This wilderness garden is the subject of the next episode of "Lorne Greene's Last Of The Wild",

titled "Edge Of Life",

telecasting Sunday, February 13, 6:00-6:30 p.m. on ATV, a study of how Nature here took the opportunity to play every variation on the evolution theme.

The terrain around the 26,000 square mile lake provides a variety of habitats. The marsh beginnings of the lake in the Noarth create lush tropical playgrounds for hippo and crocodile. To the West, rich woodlands boast huge populations of tree dwellers. The great plains of Serengeti to the East, stretching thousands of miles, offer grassy pastures wildebeest and zebra while the near-desert savannah of the South is a refuge to herds during the rainy season as they work their way North through the again progressions of the dry Once widespread throughout the continent, the animal's territories fall prey to man's encroachment, reduced daily by the advance of cities. This great circle of wilderness may well be the final edge of life for half of the world's animal species if we fail to honour their domain.

"Lorne Greene's Last Of The Wild", is produced by Peter Backhaus for the CTV Television Network in association with Heritage Enterprises. Lawrence Hertzog and Skip Steloff are executive producers.

Roch Carrier At College Sainte-Anne

The well-known French-Canadian author, Roch Carrier, will be at College Sainte-Anne, February 14th to read excerpts from his works. Poet, novelist, dramatist. Carrier is a teller of tall tales, who has become as popular, by translation, in English Canada as he is among his Quebec readers. Born in the Eastern Townships area of Quebec, he obtained a Master's degree from University of Montreal, taught in Edmundston before moving on to Paris, where he obtained a Doctor's degree from the

Theatre du Nouveau Monde, in Montreal.

His career as a poet started while he was still a College student, but his great success as a writer came with La Guerre, Yes Sir!, Floralie, Where Are You? Is it the Sun, Philibert?, works which seem to express the authentic flavour of a certain Quebecois type. Roch Carrier is essentially a story-teller. His characters are taken from his French-Canadian folk milieu. But he transforms them into satirical expressions of the society where they live and breathe, with a keen sense of humour,

Marine Cruiser Time Accommodates N.S. Truckers

The Marine Cruiser, in biweekly service between Yarmouth and Portland this winter, will lay-over at the Maine terminal until 6 p.m. Mondays and Fridays.

The schedule change, effective February 14, will give Nova Scotia truckers time to deliver traffic to the Boston market area and get back aboard ship within a day, according to a spokesman for CN Marine.

There is no change in the Yarmouth departure time of 10 a.m. Sundays and The Cruiser Thursdays. started the winter service November 28 with the crew from the Bluenose and will an earthy wit, and a creative imagination that places them in almost unbelievable adventures.

All this expressed in a language that bears the stamp of authenticity, derived from the Quebecois Folk culture, always humorous and lively, the language of a born "raconteur".

The public is welcome to attend Mr. Carrier's reading at College Sainte-Anne, February 14th, at 4 p.m., in La Grande Salle d'etude.

operate until April 30.

The Bluenose tied up for the winter and will return to Yarmouth-Bar Harbor operations with the seasonal increase in business. Approximately 85 percent of the passenger and vehicle traffic over the route moves during the summer.

And That Was The Weather In 1923

Lillie Small of Central Grove has sent us a copy of her grandmother's diary of January 1923.

The days of January 4,8,10,12 and 13 were described as fearfully blustery days. On January 20, the diary read "A fine day, sunshine all day and that is the first since the month came in" although January 2 also reported "a beautiful day, washed clothes, dry at noon." Other days were chronicled as fair, looks stormy, windy except for heavy rains on January 21 . 22 and 25. The diary belonged to Mrs. Mary S. Delaney, born 1840, died

Snow, snow and more snow

This has been a week of "never before have I seen-." First, and foremost, so much snow. Second, a flock of evening grosbeak at the bird feeder.

Third, a pine gros beak on a tree near the house. In Toronto, snow soon turns to dirty brown slush. Most unsightly and unpleasant to walk through. The machine to clean the snow off the streets is a large dump truck. It has a large rectangular pipe like thing on one side, standing upright and reaching from near the ground to up over the box part of the truck. The snow is drawn up this pipe and blown into the box. Its usually wet and dirty. Now, I just know, my son would say, "Mother, it isn't like that at all." Then he would describe it in a more technical way, which I wouldn't be able to follow at all.

Traffic can get terribly tangled up and it sometimes takes a motorist coming home from work three or four hours longer than the usual one hour or so.

Travelling is difficult even in good weather, with bumper to bumper traffic on the main arteries both morning and evening. So I'm glad to be away from it all. Even being snowed in for three days, with no mail delivery, isn't as bad as all that slush.

The whiteness of the snow lasts so short a time in the City, but out here in the country it is beautiful. Sunshine and shadow, morning and evening light, always changing always interesting. In the evening, pink sunshine on white snow. Lets enjoy it while its here. In the early spring, we will surely get our share of mud.

W5-At the palatial Winfield Farms in Toronto, and his estate

Bassett and Field Producer Peter Reynolds, revealing unusual insights into himself as the grand old man of Canadian industry and economy. The program also features some hearthwarming advice on schemes to keep fuel costs in line in cold weather with Consumer Specialist Ruth Fremes.

We were so pleased to see the pretty yellow grosbeaks. There were 10 of them and such a cheerful colour. I caught only a glimpse of the pine grosbeak. Thought it was a robin at first, until I consulted my new bird book. I was delighted to see the "Bird Lady's" picture. I plan to visit her some day. I have several questions to ask her.

Elders Ordination

An impressive ordination service was held Sunday morning in the Tiverton Christian Church.

Ordained as Elders were Alger Sollows and Milton Outhouse. The Ordination and installation of the elders was carried out by Rev. Charles MacNeil, regular pastor of the church and Rev. J.W. Derby, retired Church who served in this area for many years. Special guest speaker at the service was Rev. Merle Zimmerman of Weymouth Christian Church who also gave the charge to the newly elected elders. Mrs. Zimmerman accompanied her husband to the service. Soloist was Mrs. Paul Pyne who sang "Only One Life". Ruggles.

Between 20 and 25 members of the Middlers, Junior and Senior groups of the Tiverton United Baptist and Christian Churches and leaders, their Miss Katherine Cossaboom and Rev. Floyd Gail enjoyed an evening of bowling at Digby recently.

Church Groups Go Bowling

They had taken their skates in anticipation of an evening of skating at Digby Forum, but learned on their arrival that the rink had been previously engaged. But the group enjoyed bowling, a sport not often indulged in by Islanders as in this area.

However, for Tammy Outhouse, pre-teen daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Outhouse, the evening was not so enjoyable. Shortly after their arrival at Digby, Tammy was stricken with a severe ear-ache. Miss Cossaboom and Mrs. Paul Pyne who had accompanied the group, took Tammy to the hospital where the problem was diagnosed as a bad infection. Tammy was taken home without having an opportunity to participate in the evening's fun.

Others who drove vehicles for the group were Mrs. Shirley Elliott, Mrs. Merrill Dixon and David Farstad.

Produce Treats

Carrots and turnips can be cut into strips or into interesting shapes and stored in airtight containers or plastic bags in the refrigerator. Whenever you get hungry between meals, reach for a supply of these good nibblers. Both of these vegetables are low in calories and there is the added bonus of vitamins and minerals. They are not only good for you but they are tasty as well.

Both of these vegetables have good keeping qualities when stored in the crisper of your fridge.

Low calorie treats grown by Nova Scotia vegetable producers should always be handy on the refregerator shelf. Not only can you enjoy the unique flavour of raw vegetables but you get excellent nutritional value from colorful carrots and rotund rutabagas.

Community Service Rebekah Watchword

"Meals-on-Wheels" - hot meals delivered to the door is a community service meals, with any amount project started recently by the Sunset Rebekah Lodge in Westport. The service came about as a result of a request last year from the International Assembly of Oddfellows and Rebekahs that each lodge create a project which would benefit the community of which it was a part. The meals are prepared voluntarily by lodge members and delivered by other volunteers to members of the community who have problems preparing their own meals, either permanently, or temporarily because of illness. To date, the service has been mainly to senior citizens who live alone, but the community at large has been notified that the service is available should the need arise. It was started in November of last year, and from four to ten people have received a hot meal once or twice each week.

Help, advice and support were also given by the doctor and public health nurse in planning the project. A modest fee is charged for the above the expenses being put towards the various charities supported by the Rebekahs. Some of the works which the lodge supports are the Walter Callow Wheelchair Bus, Muscular Dystrophy Research, Visual Research, travelling eye clinics in N.S., and World Hunger Fund. Rebekahs and Oddfellows also support a nursing home in the province and many youth projects such as educational loans.

Sunset Lodge also raised funds through a recent pantry sale to start another community service - a small Red Cross loan cupboard. This will be administered by the Rebekahs, but will be financially supported also by a number of other community groups. It is planned to purchase a few pieces of sickroom equipment which will belong to the community, and will be available on loan to any citizen in need. Hopefully this service will grow with the years.

forwarded to the Digby Courier the article referred to above by Mary Engels. It relates to the new U.S.A. president and his wife, Jimmy and Rosalynn Carter and their interest in square dancing.

Two huge square dances and concerts were planned as part of the Inaugural Week in Washington at the National Visitors Center. Up to 8000 could attend the

Quoting from the Mary Engels article

"Never before has an inaugural committee recognized such a broad slice of our heritage; the plans delight us,'' said Bardyl Tirana, who, with Vicki Rogers, is in charge of the committee.

Statistics show there are about 7.5 million square dancers in the U.S., Canada and Europe. There are clubs in every state of the Union. and many boast there's always a place to square dance within a 30-minute drive.

Staten Island alone has four clubs - the Staten Square Set, the Richmond Dancers, the Ocean Waves. and the Isle Squares. These groups belong to the Northern New Jersey Square Dancers Association, which includes 32 clubs in Jersey. and Richmond and Rockland counties in New York.

Ask a square dancer what he gets out of the pastime, and you'll almost always hear "fun and friendship."

It's great for togetherness." said Bob and Doris Delaney, the presidents of the Richmond Dancers, as they skipped the light fantastic last week at a dance given at St. John's Lutheran Church auditorium in Rich-

Before they took up square dancing, Bob said, they "did not do things together. We used to go our separate ways. She to the Y with her girl friends. Me? A night out with the boys.

"Heck, yes," he said, adding that he had not been a dancer.

Most dancers agree if you can walk to music. you can learn to square dance. But still one does need lessons to learn basic movements.

Gabe and Sila Dell'Angelo, who head the Staten Square Set, said their group offers classes in St. Adalbert's Youth Center in Mariners Harbor every Monday evening.

"Anyone interested can learn, but each couple has to attend at least 23 out of the 26 dance classes to be proficient." Mrs. Dell'Angelo said. "There are 75 basic steps, and age is no barrier. We even have a teen auxiliary."

The Dell'Angelos, as well as Joe and Helen Knepple, who head the Ocean Waves group in Tottenville, are among those advocating the square dance as a national dance.

"Square Dancing goes back to our earliest beginnings, when the people immigrated here, bringing their traditional folk dances with them," the Knepples explained. "As they moved

2. Thou shalt not be a snob, considering thyself too good to dance with any and all, sitting out the mixers, or leaving a square lest thou be required to dance with those whom thou deemst unworthy of thy talents, for the gods of retribution are zealous gods, and will visit their mischief upon thee, and thou wilt be the one to goof the square. # Skin Care A Year-Round Concern

Sunburn may be the furthest thing from your mind during a Canadian winter but for those lucky enough to be heading south for a dip in the surf or for those active enough to be hitting the ski slopes, a few tips on shielding your skin from too much sun may be timely.

In moderation, sunlight can be very relaxing and beneficial. Besides tanning your body into exotic shades of brown it supplies you with Vitamin D and can actually improve many skin conditions. But chronic exposure to sunlight over the years may lead to aging of the skin, robbing it of elasticity and leaving it wrinkled and dry. And even periodic sun exposure may induce reactions in people taking certain drugs or using ingredients found in perfumes and deodorants.

If you're determined to get a healthy tan on your trip south, use common sense. Limit your first sunbath to 15-30 minutes for each side depending on your skin type and the sun's intensity. Take particular care of the sensitive parts such as your nose, lips, ears, kneecaps and the tops of your feet. never get a burn on purbos thinking it will turn into a tan before you have to board the plane back home. # Reflecting To 1947

A bit of history is preserved in the February 6, 1947 issue of The Digby Courier when an address given before the Y's Men's Club by the Digby Neck mail driver, Guy Morehouse Sr. was recorded. He told of his experience with teams of horses on the route in days when it took two days to get mails to the Islands. The entire mail at that time for the Islands was contained in two rubber lined bags. In 1947 he was delivering 60 bags. The story tells us that the first automobile in Digby County was brought by ship from Boston to Sandy Cove. In 1947, according to the story, the remains of the car was in Westport where it had been sent for repairs. (Is it still there?) Speaking of the roads in his early years of driving the Digby Neck and Islands mail, the speaker said the roads were just like a track and alders brushed the side of the wagon. Snow drifts were hazardous and as a means of combatting this, Mr. Morehouse invented snow fences by laying rows of spruce trees. The department of Highways gave him permission to continue the experiment in other

We see where an Islander in 1947 is complaining about the road between Tiverton and Freeport through a letter to the editor. It was taking nearly an hour to go that distance by car when it should have taken only twelve minutes. The Island, the winter claimed is an important part of Digby County and the road was like the bombed and shelled roads in Europe with its innumerable holes, ruts and mires. (Today's Tiverton to Freeport roads are paved.)

Women seemed to be active in Board of Trade work or in civic work in Bear River in 1947. The Digby Courier reports that J.L. Warren, president of the Bear River Board of Trade commended the work of the women in civic affairs and congratulated the ladies for the interest and influence as shown by their presence and in the work accomplished. Several projects for the year were discussed, the paving of the Loop and the erection of a dam on the river which would beautify the town and provide canoeing and bathing, also a modern bridge to be built to replace the old Raymond Bridge on the River Road.

A letter from "Futurist" wanted to know if nobody thought of the Excel Inn property for building a new Memorial Town Hall. (That was 30 years ago.)

A letter to the editor on Feb.6 1947 offered advice on constructing a tidal dam or barrage at the mouth of the Annapolis River, at Goat Island or at Digby Gap. The writer went into some detail on different constructions and the industrial advantages. The elevated ground on each side of the Gap could provide a site for a second basin and generator to make the service continous as in the Severn double tidal plan. Or, the second generator might be coal or oil burning. The Brittany plan was an alternative, borrowing a few hours on each tide electricity from a nearby system or from the Provincial Government owned but unfinished hydro development on Paradise Lake. Besides industrial advantages the writer also mentioned the strong tourist attractions of the Annapolis Basin.

Mrs. H. J. Anthony was in charge of a show for "Digby

Hold Christian Youth Crusades Honor Council

The Digby Wesleyan Church was about filled to capacity on Sunday a.m., January 30th. The Christian Youth Crusaders Honor Council was held during the church service. Mrs. Ruth Wilson is CYC director.

The Christian Youth Crusaders attired in Uniform marched in the church with some 30 or more present and in addition to this number a young teenage group of children were also present. The special service opened with the singing of the hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers". Following this the CYC children gave Pledges to the Canadian Flag, the Christian Flag and the Holy Bible which they displayed at the front of the church. The Christian Youth

Crusaders continued to participate in the service by giving the Herald Pledge or the Cadet Pledge, depending on which group they were registered in. They sang "Happiness Is" in addition to at least one other song with which they delighted the many people present.

The Christian Youth Crusaders is a group of youth divided into three parts. The first part, The Joy Bells. a pre school age group of children age 2-6 is the youngest groups, the newest group and perhaps the largest group of CYC er's. This group under the leadership of Nancy Riley, Tanya Trimper and Sandra Hudson began this year. These children were presented with certificates.

The next two groups of CYO children, the Heralds and the Cadets, are each divided into groups according to their age. They are taught by: Mrs. Judy MacBride-Grade 1; Mrs. Gloria MacBride- Grade 2: Mrs. Carol Potter- Grade three: Mrs. Grace Brewster- Grade four: Mrs. Anne Cook-Grade five.: Mrs. Beatrice Trimper- Grade six.

Many CYC children from grade one to grade six were presented with awards for the work they had achieved. Their teachers made the presentations.

In the grade six group,

under the direction of Mrs.

Beatrice Trimper, the two newest Christian Youth Crusaders, Martha and Shirley Robinson, have completed their requirements and for this achievement each were presented with a scarf and a pin.

Mrs. Fernley teacher for the young teenage group of children, presented an award to Rickey Hudson for being the top winner in a Scripture contest.

Following the singing of the Hymn "Oh to be Like Thee" the Sunday School Superintendent spoke a few words to the congregation saying it is a pleasure to have the children in the Sunday School and in the Church.

To conclude the special service the Pastor gave a brief address saying "The Christian Church has always been a small church but we can win the battle if we let God work through us."

Reubin Mervin, president of the Digby County Exhibition Society has announced that the Society has been approved for an L.I.P. grant of $24,000 for the purpose of erecting a covered Ox and Horse Pull Stadium. This building will replace the present open air facilities, provide seats for 400 people, and make possible the holding of these popular events in any weather. It will also act as an entertainment centre, and will have sufficient floor space to be used as an ice rink for young people.

The grant received makes possible the hiring of nine workmen from Jan. 4th until June 7th. The work is now in progress, and the entire new building is being pre-fabricated in the dining room and will be set up when weather conditions permit in the spring. Assistance of all friends of the Society is needed to make this project a success Mr. Mervin said. While the grant will take care of the wages, an invitation is extended for help in the purchase of the materials. This can be done by donations of money, lumber, or any other of the construction materials, the president advised. Donations. large or small, will be of great encouragement to the Society and should be sent to Mr. Jack Harris, Bear River, the Treasurer of the Society, he added, all gifts received will be earmarked for the purchase of materials only, to ensure the full completion of the project.

Island Home And School Sponsors Panel On Education

Is education today giving students what they need and want, and is it preparing them for life after graduation? This question was discussed by a panel of teachers and students at the regular Home and School meeting of Islands Consolidated School.

The panelists held the interest of over thirty parents, teachers and students as they discussed their views of the three main topics, comparison of the content and quality of the curriculum with that of several years ago. The contribution of extracurricular activities, and the value of education as a preparation for a future life and career. Both teachers and students sound positive and negative aspects of all three areas. All felt that extra-curricular activities contributed to both physical and social development, though, there is still room for improvement in organization of time and types of activity and avoiding clashes with schoolwork.

It was generally agreed the subject content has definitely improved in scope, but also that perhaps we have gone too far too fast, to the detriment of over-all quality. There were many different comments on the contribution of education to life preparation and a program from Grade 1-12 to number of suggestions for improvements, especially stressing career counselling. One idea emerging from this discussion was the holding of career days, with contributions from members of the community as resource persons. Mr. K. Manzer, principal, who chaired the panel, asked each member for remarks in summary. Mr. Theriault. English teacher, felt that there was a definite need to revamp the whole language prepare students in literature and the use of their own language, as well as a

McDormand Aid To Fishing Community

For almost three years, Richard McDormand has worked for the Nova Scotia Department of Fisheries as one of seven Fisheries Representatives.

During this time he has filled a gap between the Department, fishermen and the industry.

The first task of the Fisheries Representatives was to open lines of communication. The Department now receives on a weekly basis hundreds of requests for information and assistance of both a technical and financial nature from Richard and his counterparts.

His acceptance by fishermen and the industry has been excellent primarily because he is not considered in the traditional sense a government employee. He is one of the "boys", living in the area in which he works and having his roots in the industry.

Because he lives in the area he serves, Richard is available at all times to aid the fishing community. He constantly travels throughout his region and has established an office in his home where he can be reached by phone.

Many of the problems encountered in his day-to-day operations involve other provincial or federal departments. agencies or commissions. He is able to obtain answers and solutions to a vast majority of problems.

Richard is also an asset in the training programs of the Department by assisting in recruiting students by finding locations for mobile outport courses and by acting as a local co-ordinator between the Department and Canada Manpower Centres.

He assists the Fisheries Loan section of the Resources Development Loans Board in the provincial Department of Development in dealing with both loan problems and investigations. To have knowledgeable people in each region has proven to be an asset and Richard has come to know the work and financial habits of most fishermen in the area. His opinions on the status of various fishing enterprises has gained respect.

An important aspect of Richard's role is to initiate locally the various cost-sharing programs of the department. These programs run the gamut from salt fish tanks and bait freezers to ice-making equipment and other port-related facilities.

In addition, the Department's Resource Utilization Division calls on him from time to time to perform a variety of functions such as encouraging some fishermen to try new gear and techniques as well as demonstrating their ad-

As a Fisheries Rep he assists in the organization of various demonstrations by manufacturers and distributors of machinery for both plants and boats. Quite often this new technology makes some of the industry's occupations easier to perform and the operations themselves more efficient.

Periodically he helps in market developments, and on occasion has been able to obtain a better, more equitable deal for various sectors in the marketing process.

Besides being a "problem solver", Richard is deeply involved in a public relations capacity explaining policies and programs related to the fishery. He acts as information officer by distributing brochures and publications, speaking to varied groups including school students, and showing slide and film presentations at numerous meetings and

Although his duties are many, Richard's most important function is keeping a constant check on the pulse on the fishing industry, reporting local needs and aspirations, as well as studying and surveying the fishing industry's different components. His findings are most often weighed when programs and policies are being considered. Richard McDormand's area runs from Weymouth in Digby County to Cobequid Bay in Hants County. He is always busy...but not too busy that a problem doesn't get rapid attention. He has even found time to be an active member of the Fundy Scallop Advisory Committee. Having worked in the industry for many years at lobstering and herring seining, some problems and questions can be solved and answered by him on the spot. But if further information is required. Richard will find it quickly, whether it pertains to provincial or federal jurisdiction.

HERITAGE DAY

It was announced through our news columns last week that the Digby Town Council had declared February 21, Heritage Day in Digby. The Digby Kinsmen Club, too, is going ahead with programs to make our citizens aware of Heritage Day being observed throughout Canada. Our own Digby museum recently opened at the Admiral Digby Library goes to show that some of our people are already conscious of our Heritage. (By the way the Admiral Digby Library and Historical Society Annual Meeting is the same day.)

What is Heritage Day for? Why are these people interested? In past years Canada has lost many physical reminders of her heritage. Even, in our own town we can look back on the buildings and historical possessions which were allowed to slip out of our hands. Throughout Canada people forgot the values of conservation as neighbourhoods, fine buildings and green spaces gave way to the bulldozer, the highrise, the pavement and "progress". Today many people find a richness and depth in life when lived among the works of the ages instead of among the products of a single generation and fortunately the numbers of people involved became more and more until we have today a new organization called Heritage Canada. And there is where we come in to play our little part in our own little circle. Heritage Canada is a charitable organization, founded in 1973, to promote the conservation of heritage structures and natural landscape. The Heritage Canada organization is financed by a federal government grant, gifts and membership fees. We particularly draw the attention of our young readers to correspondence in our Letters To The Editor column for involvement in Heritage Canada by joining "The Great Canadian Heritage Hunt". We note beginning in their own community.

Dear Editor: At the regular meeting of the Digby Town Council on February 7th it was revealed that outstanding taxes at the end of 1976 had reached an all time high of $145,344.04.

The Council was advised by the present clerk that during the period in which Glen Pitman held the position of town clerk, the deputy clerk, Robert Theriault, had a delinquent list made up for collection and was told "not to bother with it and not to send it out." He "threw it in the basket." The question of who gave the order was unanswered in council.

As pointed out by the solicitor, the Town's Act requires that the clerk perform the duties of collector of taxes, and it is the function of the court to collect if the clerk doesn't do his job. The council itself, has no right to withold or advance the procedure. The solicitor further commented, "The allegation is, I take it, that council has, at some stage in the past, said, 'whoa, don't go against this person, don't go against that person,' and that is improper." (The present clerk stated that this has not

If a member or members of council interfered with or halted the collection of taxes, one would expect the clerk to immediately report this misdemeanour to council. Although this was never brought to light by Pitman, one councillor, Robertson, once again haughtily sprung to the former clerk's defence in this action. Why?

The present list of unpaid taxes represents one more example οf discrimination which exists in the conduct of public business in Digby, and glaringly points out that the pensioners and minimum wage earners keep the wheels turning by carrying more than their share of the load while real estate companies, developers, clubs, lodges, lumber dealers, fish companies, drug companies and many of

I contacted the Digby Municipal Power Board and pointed out that their supplier (Nova Scotia Power Corporation) had not yet received permission to increase rates. They agreed.

My next question was: "When and if Nova Scotia Power Corporation are granted the right to increase rates, will you add the total amount of such increase to the .70 cents increase now in effect as from the beginning of the year?" They could not give me a definitive answer, but I was left with the inference that they would add a great proportion or all of the Nova Scotia increase to the new rate.

I, like many others, listened to the wooing noises Nova Scotia Power Corporation was making in 1974 and specified electrical heating. I am now listening to the exhortations to insulate- if we do much more we will have to walk single file in the house! Digby Municipal Power Board gets permission to increase its rate (although its supplier's has not changed yet)- the consumer has a feeling of trying to run up a down escalator!

Other than P.E.I., Nova Scotia has the highest rates in Canada- where does that put the Municipality of Digby?

Finally, what value is added for the consumer by passing Nova Scotia electricity through the Digby Power Board? Does this justify such increases- or any increases at all?

There may be extenuating circumstances of which I am unaware, but only a public disclosure of the relevant facts will clear the air for me and, I am sure, for other people in the same situation.

A copy of this letter has been sent to the Digby Municipal Power Board.

Dear Editor:

As a taxpaver and a person not interested in flying, it might have upset me to read in the Courier that the municipal council had decided to take over the assets and liabilities of the Digby Flying Club. However as a member of the Digby Flying Club, I was pleased.

On close examination, it appears the assests will nearly offset the liabilities and the liabilities themselves have proved to be an asset to the municipality in that they were incurred for the development of the

As a past member of the Digby Flying Club and its acting chairman this past month, in talking with other members, the concensus of opinion seems to be that this move on the part of L.E.R. Winchester (D.F.C. treasurer) is indicative of the operation of this club.

The club, since its inception, has been piloted by Lou Wyles who has led it to a membership of 35 or 37 members and back to a point where he could not get enough members to a meeting for a quorum.

Even if the executive of a club is doing all in their power to further the organization it is not sufficient if all members are not aware of what is going on at all times, this was true of the D.F.C. and is part of the reason for the formation of the Hilgrove-Digby Flying Club Ltd., which is a corporation and all members are shareholders. Most of the active members of the D.F.C. at the end of 1976 are now members of the H-

D.F.C. Under the pilotage of Lou Wyles the D.F.C. could not engage the services of an instructor, though they tried for two years or more. Lou is also fixed base operator (airport manager) with a contract with the municipality and is the reason some have expressed a disinterest in joining a flying club at Digby or otherwise becoming involved with the airport here.

The municipal council and especially the airport committee may take note that this could be the reason the H-D.F.C. Ltd., has not applied for or otherwise made arrangements for an operational permit at this airport.

The airport committee has said there is not sufficient use by a large enough number of residents to warrant snow removal at this airport and I ask - how. then can they justify accepting one-half million dollars or more of federal and provincial funds for what amounts to a damn good snow mobile run?

Also under the guiding hand of Lou Wyles this airport has been engineered to be a very large airport. That is to say, basic things have been done in construction that would be necessary for a large commercial operation and not for a local airport of general aviation use.

In view of the recent happenings with Atlantic Central Airlines and Air Halifax, a commercial operation at Digby on the scale pictured by the Fixed Base Operator does not seem practical at all.

Ground work has been

In summary, I would like to say, it is my personal opinion that those who accept the laurels for the airport facilities must also accept the thorns for the obvious lack of facilities and the complete uselessness of the airport as it now stands.

It seems in those days travel was easy between Bear River and Milton and maybe Mr. Peck knows how they made the journey. They visited often and I met Joe Harlow one time and saw Joe Pinol who was a great fiddler and the Milton Indians had dances when Joe was there.

I love to reminisce over those days and can't seem to find out what ever became of my friend Avon Pictou with whom I worked with a lot I am not sure if Avon was a Bear River Indian or not. I believe he was.

Neil Cullens, superintendent of the Mulgrave Memorial School and centre of a year of controversy over the way he ran the institution, has been fired.

Joe Jello, chairman of the Mulgrave School Board, announced Friday in a news release that the board took the "difficult" decision Thursday to dismiss Mr. Cullens immediately.

The controversy began when Mr. Cullens suspended a 19 year-old grade 12 student January 22, 1976 for what was called gross insubordination and rudeness. (Mr. Cullens and Mrs. Cullens were some few years back members of the Digby school teaching staff.)

Pensioners Must Re-Apply Before March 31 For Supplement

Health and Welfare late December or early Minister Marc Lalonde reminds the more than one million Old Age Security pensioners, who receive Guaranteed Income Supplement benefits, of the March 31 renewal deadline. If pensioners fail to re-apply by then, their benefits may be interrupted.

Application for the federal government's Guaranteed Income Supplement, paid to pensioners with limited incomes, must be made each year. The Department of National Health and Welfare sent application kits (containing informative booklets and application forms) to all

Supplement recipients in January. Two reminders will also be sent before the March 31 deadline.

As a further way of ensuring that pensioners continue to receive their Supplement regularly, the department will operate 76 satellite offices in small towns across the country between now and March 31. The dates, hours of operation and locations of these offices will be announced locally.

J.L. Gillis Heads Heart Campaign

J.L. Gillis of the Royal Bank of Canada, Digby, will again head the annual February campaign for the Heart Foundation funds in Digby Town. The announcement was made last week by W.K. Johnston, Provincial Heart Fund chairman. Mr. Johnston, referred to Mr. Gillis as one of the area's most actively involved community leaders. Others in Digby County to head campaigns in their districts are Ray Surrett, Church Point; Hubert Comeau, Meteghan; Joseph Mombourquette, Salmon River; Mrs. Flora LeBlanc, Saulnierville and Fred Ross, Weymouth.

The Nova Scotia division of the Canadian Heart Foundation expects to raise some $350,000 in February , Heart Month, to be used for research demands. Since the first national campaign in 1956, the Heart Foundation has invested over 48 million dollars of public contributions in heart research. J.J. Fortune, President of

Young People Must Establish Credit

Young people are one of the largest consumer groups in Canada and must learn a whole new aspect of money management when trying to establish buying power, says Harry M. McIlroy, chief executive officer of the N.S. Consumer Affairs Department.

There are many ways and opportunities for them to establish credit, but before any "charges" are made, he says, some basic principles must be kept in mind.

First of all, Mr. Mcllroy says, in order to get credit, you must have some kind of reliable income. Usually this means that you must have been working for a few months. Since you have no credit references at the outset, a wise first step is to open a chequing account at a local bank and to keep the account well balanced. Many credit applications want to know your bank and account number. Then, decide on one or more small purchases you would like to make and choose a place where these purchases can be made. Apply for credit and then make the purchase. For your first credit purchases, he says, aim at paying the bill before the interest charges are applied, usually thirty days, so that in effect you pay only the real cost of the item. Doing so will also give you an idea of how much of a balance you can handle at the end of each month. In addition, you establish a record for good payment which begins the good credit history you are airning for.

Credit on the installment plan might then be considered for major purchases of durable goods, Mr.

a considerable investment and Canadians should be proud of the dividends resulting from this effort. He went on to say that there are thousands of Canadians alive today who would be prematurely dead if the 1953 death rate still applied. Since that date the overall death rate from heart and blood vessel diseases in Canadians under 65 years of age has dropped by 27 percent. Many other contributions have been pioneered by Canada's relatively small scientific community - some being the pacemaker to control irregular heart rhythm valve replacements; coronary artery transplants; coronary care units; hypothermia techniques and open heart surgery. Heart research in other countries has provided heart-lung machines, organ transplants, artificial valves, artery grafts, cardiac catheterization and new reducing

He was former Director of Maritime Youth for Christ and the "Light of Life Hour", heard in the Maritimes and Maine on radio. He has served for 8 years as Pastor of First Baptist Church in Corner Brook, Newfoundland, where he had a daily T.V. program and often appeared on radio to preach the Gospel of Christ. Mr. Campbell makes an appeal to all ages and firmly believes that the Lord Jesus Christ has "The Answer" to the dilemna of modern life and that the Gospel is relevant to our problems. The public is warmly welcome!

ISLAND HOME SCHOOL AND

Continued From Page 1 need to stress language accuracy in all subjects. He also felt that education is at present in a state of chaos and needs to be re-evaluated. Mr. Outhouse, Science teacher, agreed with the latter and added that changes are taking place too quickly to be evaluated, needing more organization and also consultations with teachers prior to changes. Carter, Miss Home Economics teacher, felt that the scope of education is now too broad, and we need to concentrate on reaching our goals, defining our objectives more clearly, and improving methods evaluation. All the teachers felt there was a need for better types of examinations and other evaluation tools.

In the closing remarks of the students, Randy Elliott felt there was a need for more continuity in subjects throughout the high school years, and Debbie Stanton felt there was a special need for more information on various careers and on the choosing of subjects earlier in the high school years. Jane Thurber stressed the positive aspects of sports in preparation for later life, and also felt that small classes were a definite advantage in teacher-student relationships and conducive to better learning.

The main topics of discussion at the business meeting were the continuing of the weekly card parties and their success, and the plans for a Spring Tea and Bazaar to which, hopefully, both students and parents will contribute. General discussion after the meeting led to many favourable comments on the presentation, and, largely, agreement with most points in the summing-up. Hopes were also expressed that more Home and School meetings of a similar nature will be planned.

Q. How can I tell when I should use credit and when I should not?

A. A good question — and the answer may surprise you. You can only use credit safely when you are currently spending less than you take home. Remember, you have to keep on paying all those regular bills, plus making the monthly payments on the new credit. You don't use credit just because you've spent all your cash. Credit is a budgeting tool, it isn't extra income. What credit can do is allow you to purchase something which costs too much to take out of any one paycheck, and spread the payments over several paychecks so you can handle it. That way you can get it when you need it and have the use of it while you pay for it. Don't forget, however, that credit costs money. You should always know exactly how much, and be sure having the thing now is worth what it costs.

Plan Education Week

Education Minister George Mitchell was presented with a copy of the Education Week resource file, Tuesday, during a brief ceremony in Halifax.

The file, prepared and published by the Provincial Education Week Committee contains potential topics for debate and discussion on a wide ranging number of education issues.

The presentation was made the minister by Provincial Education Week chairman Les Walker, Mr. Mitchell has endorsed the week as "a time for many people to become more involved and more aware of educational needs".

Mr. Walker said the theme of this year's week-long observance is "back to basics? what? why? how?" It is hoped the theme will encourage broad public participation in local education week activities, he said.

"So much has been said on the question of 'basics' that the committee felt it should address itself to the many auestions which surround this controversial theme".

The provincial chairman said the committee's hope was once people got out and visited schools, saw programs in action, and talked with teachers, "they will assess the situation differently. When people see the extremely broad range of programs being carried out and see how, in so many more cases, the individual needs of children are being catered to in our school systems, we think they will understand better just what our schools are achieving. What better time than education week?

Members of the provincial committee, in addition to Mr. Walker, who is communications officer with the Nova Scotia Teachers Union, include Mrs. Jane Archibald, Nova Scotia School Boards Associations and Mrs. Fav Lee, department Education.

More than 700 copies of the 1977 file have been sent local program committees, school boards, home and school associations, NSTU locals, media and communityminded groups, Mr. Walker

In 1979, MT & T projects cable relief in the Bear River area at a cost of $130,000; extended area service in the Sandy Cove-Digby area at $136,000; extended service in the Gilbert's Cove-Weymouth area at a cost of $345,000; and additional switching equipment in Digby costing $267,000.

Additional switching equipment in Bear River costing $31,000; and cable relief in Sandy Cove at a cost of $55,000 is proposed to be undertaken in 1960.

While these proposed capital expenditures are intended to provide better service in this area, the projected rate increases will certainly generate more revenue for the privately owned utility. THE BRAVE ACTION and presence of mind of Mrs. Lorraine Marion Perkins, Bear River, at the scene of a tragic single motor vehicle accident on the night of May 7, 1976, led to her award of the Royal Canadian Humane Association Bronze Medal for Bravery yesterday in Government House, Halifax. With great risk to herself, Mrs. Perkins pulled one injured person from the burning wreckage of the car and warned a person moving near the wreckage away from it after the vehicle exploded. She did not abandon her rescue attempts of two other people trapped in the car until after it was engulfed in flames. The two died in the fire, Mrs. Perkins receives the Bronze Medal from Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Gosse. (Wambeldt-Waterfield)

New Horizons Plan Historical Project

The Bear River New Horizons Centre held their third annual meeting and heard a full report of all activities and the financial statement under the chairmanship of Clint Miller. The Secretary, Mrs. Emily Hall, detailed the operation of the Centre over the year and each Activity Convener reported on the work of the group under their direction. The members have taken full advantage of the Life Long Learning programme and shared in the musical offerings of the Jeunesse Musicale series presented at College St. Anne during the winter months. It is hoped that an application for a Canada Youth Grant will be allowed to enable student field workers to spend the summer interviewing all another supper end of senior citizens in the village area, tape recording their memories of the past days, and photographing such historical data as letters, paintings, old deeds and documents. # Digby Legionaires Down Liverpool 8-5

Joey Hillier, Bobby Wood and Todd Simms each scored a pair of goals and McCulley and Belliveau added one each as the Digby Legionnaires downed the Liverpool Rovers 8-5 in a return exhibition hockey match played at Liverpool on Saturday night, February 12. Home team scorers were Chute and Miller with two each and a single by Monley.

The first period started slow with Digby opening the scoring at the 11:36 mark on a goal by McCulley. The Legionnaires then went alread 2-0 on Todd Simm's first of two goals. However this lead was short-lived as Liverpool came back with four straight goals before the end of the period.

The second period saw Digby score two quick goals to tie the game only to have the home team score their last goal of the evening.

By the end of the second period Digby had tied the score at five all.

The third period was all Legionnaires as they scored three straight goals without a reply from the home squad. Only nine minor penalties were called during the game.

Teachers Trim High School Team

(R. Ross) Friday, February 11, will long be remembered by the high school hockey team. This was to be the second time the hockey team would show the "old" teachers how to play the game of hockey.

The hockey team certainly did an excellent job of displaying how to "hog the puck", pass poorly, not to back check, poor goal tending, poor shooting, poor penalty killing and poor forechecking as the teachers downed them 10-7. The high school hockey team pulled every trick in the book, as they had biased refereeing from Lindon Gairon and Vance Hazelton; Kelly MacKintosh repeatedly "making" the score look good on the time clock and coach Stan Locke playing his strong lines (if he could find any) against the weaker lines of the teachers. It was also noted that approximately one half the high school boys didn't remain to carry out the traditional hand shake at the end of the game.

Garry Morrison, coach of the teachers, stated that possibly next game (during D.R.H.S. Winter Carnival) that Mark Jeffery and John Perry should carry Ron VanTassells goal equipment and in return Ron may give them a few pointers on how to cut down the angles. Kevin Locke and Danny LeBlanc handled most of the scoring for the high school boys as they repeatedly took turns putting on "one man shows." The teachers scoring however, was very sevenly distributed through the team and there accurate passing is evident in the assist column.

Nova Scotia." The Board, said Hon. Mr. Gosse, felt the province was fortunate in having been able to attract to this important position a man of the calibre of Dr. Fergusson.

The Lieutenant Governor noted that Dr. Fergusson has had "a most distinguished career." A native of Port Morien, he was Governor-General's Medallist at the Provincial Normal College, while attending Dalhousie University was awarded seven scholar ships and prizes. He was the leading distinction graduate of his year, upon completion of his B.A. course. He was active in extracurricular activities at Dalhousie University, being president of the Speaking Club, secretary-treasurer of Sodales Debating Society, and leader of the Dalhousie delegation to a model Assembly of the League of Nations. He won the Bennett Shield for Inter-faculty debating and a gold "D" for inter-university debate.

He also participated in athletics, particularly hockey and softball at university, and played baseball in the Cape Breton Colliery League.

His special subject at the University of Oxford was British Colonial Policy, and his doctoral thesis was entitled "The Colonial Policy of the First Earl of Liverpool as President of the Committee for Trade 1786-1804".

While at Oxford, he played tennis for his college (Exeter) and hockey for the university, not only in England, but, also on the European mainland. He also attended the Junior Empire Conference in England.

After returning to Canada, he was employed for a time at Eastern Air Command Headquarters in Halifax. He then moved to Ottawa where he was employed in the Examination Branch of the Civil Service Commission of Canada. He was also chairman of the Ottawa Youth Federation. Most would-be crosscountry skiers make the same mistake when buying equipment. Unfortunately, most salesmen let them. If there's one piece of advice to heed above all else, it's that your choice of boots is far more important than that of skis, poles or bindings. The comfort and support of a well-fitted boot will serve you better on the trail than the flashiest, most expensive skis. If you're tied to a budget, skimp on everything GOOD PAIR OF BOOTS. Another rule to remember is that style is a completely secondary consideration. A boot should have ample toe room and no pressure points to encourage blisters. The heel must be held snugiy. Iry on boots with the same sock combination that you'll wear when you ski, and fit to the larger foot.

Stiffness is important but, unlike hiking boots, height is not a good indicator of this quality. Rather, a crosscountry boot must be torsionally rigid. describes a boot's resistance to twisting from side to side. On the snow, this determines the responsiveness of your skis to your feet. To test for rigidity, grasp the heel and toe, then twist the shoe as if wringing out a washcloth. The more resistance, the better the boot. Different skiers require different types of footwear. For general touring, lightweight, low- and medium-cut boots are the only way to go. Backpackers may choose hiking boots notched at the heel to accept heavier cable bindings. Mountaineers require stiff, thicklyinsulated boots to control their heavy barrel-stave skis and maintain warmth in harsh conditions. Unless your feet are still growing, your boots should last several seasons. And they will last even longer if good care is taken of them. After skiing, knock all snow off each boot and stuff them with newspaper to absorb moisture. Let them dry in a warm place, away from artificial heat. Coat the boots occasionally with a good wax-base treatment. giving particular attention to the welt. Oil and grease are not recommended, as they will seal the leather's pores.

The differences between cross-country and alpine skis are more than superficial.

Skis that lack the correct number of laminations, or the proper mix of hardwood and softwood will be susceptible to warping and loss of camber — the all-important natural flex of the ski.

The advantages of synthetic skis are obvious: no warping, cracking, splitting or variation in quality from one ski to the next. But the carbon-copy similarity of fiberglass and plastic skis make them more difficult to evaluate. In the continuing battle to catch a buyer's eye the store, many manufacturers substitute glossy cosmetics for competent workmanship.

Bindings Your choice of bindings is dictated by the type of boot you buy. Compact, three-pin bindings are by far the most popular. These toe-clamps give excellent lateral support and maximum freedom of movement. They are light, dependable and, you'll be pleased to know, inexpensive. Updated versions of the once-popular cable binding are necessary for those skiers who choose to wear hiking boots while skiing. They are restrictive and cumbersome, and are only recommended for backpacking and mountaineering.

In the last year or so there has been a lot of concern expressed over the bacteria content of food.

Bacteria may be found almost anywhere in nature. They are carried by air currents, river and streams, and are in the air we breathe and the food we eat. They multiply very quickly if the environment is right. However, this growth rate can be decreased or inhibited by altering temperature moisture, air, presence of chemicals, for example: salt.

There are many ways in which bacteria provide important beneficial contributions for man's well being.

-Bacteria aid in the digestion of food. The bacteria are present in the intestines and help break down food so the body is readily able to absorb the nutrients.

-Common foods such as cheese, buttermilk, pickles. olives, sauerkraut, and tea, depend on bacterial action for their production.

-Industrial production of food supplements, enzymes. organic acids and medicinal agents often depend on bacterial -Bacteria decompose dead animals and plants thus providing nutrients to make the soil fertile.

-Bacteria make the soil more fertile by converting nitrogen from the air into nitrogen compounds which are used by plants to make protein. These are just a few of the many ways in which bacteria can play an important positive part in your everyday lives. On the other hand, there are some bacteria which cause Food illness bacteria, like any other micro-organisms, can be transferred by anyone or anything that harbours bacteria and comes in contact with food in an environment where illness bacteria growth will be slowed down or stop-Proper handling of food will help avoid a health hazard.

Here are a few guidelines that we should keep in mind in handling of food. -Before preparing food, hands and nails should be thoroughly washed with soap and water. Hands should be rewashed if the food preparation is interrupted by a telephone call, sneeze or cough, scratching the head, etc. -Cuts and sores harbour bacteria, so they should be onto the table. -The use of the same spoon for stirring and tasting should be avoided. The spoon may transfer bacteria from the mouth

-Perishable foods should not be held at room temperature since this promotes rapid bacterial growth. -The colder the food, the slower the bacterial growth, so extremely perishable foods should be refrigerated at less than 40 degrees F (4 degrees C). -Perishable food should never be left in a warm car while you are visiting or doing other errands. Try to do your grocery shopping just before you are ready to go home. All of these points may be considered elementary but, for those of you who have experienced bacterial contamination of food, these steps are worth the extra effort they require to avoid the experience again.

Whatever the material, good poles have tips that are curved forward to ensure grip at the end of each stride and easy withdrawal from the snow. (The straps should be adjustable so that different thicknesses of handwear may be worn.) In the common test for proper length, the poles should fit snugly under your armpit. While it's hard to put an arbitrary price on a complete outfit, count on spending at least $80 to $90. A rough breakdown would be: boots-$30, skis-$40, poles-$10 and bindings $8.

Cape Breten Youngsters Perform On CBC T.V.

"SHOWCASE" As we all know, Nova Scotia has provided Canada with lot of its talent. And Cape Breton has played no small part of that contribution. It continues to be so. Fiddling, singing, piano playing, the pipes and the Gaelic...all examples of the cultural heritage of Cape Breton and Canada...are not about to die with the older generation. These necessities of life will live on in people like the stars of "In Your Footsteps", a CBC-TV program recorded on film in beautiful Cape Breton late in 1975. Those stars are Alvin Gillis, 12, of Sydney. He sings the Gaelic, and very well, too. Kyle, Shamus, and Stewart MacNeil, teenagers of Sydney Mines - musicians already display professionalism and love for tradition. Doug MacDonald,

8, of Queensville...fiddler par excellence...a truly dedicated musican already. And, The Iona Pipe Band - a group ranging in age from ten to thirteen, already in demand for festivals and gatherings throughout Nova

All are extremely talented representatives of the traditions which have and will continue to be at the heart of Nova Scotian cultural heritage.

Watch "In Your Footsteps" on showcase, Feb. 21, at 7:30 p.m. on CBC-TV.

Bleak Prospects For Canada's Prisons Uncovered

Canada's prison population is among the highest in the world, our general population is among the least reformist, and together, they make a volatile combination that erupts in violence too often. To find some of the reasons behind this explosive combination Correspondent Michael Maclear travels to Kingston, Ontario, a city surrounded by seven Federal prisons and finds that Kingston's jails show the pattern for the rest of Canada, in the next episode of "Maclear", "Canada Behind Bars," telecasting Thursday. February 24, 10:30-11:00 EST

Public attitudes are hardening in Canada, becoming more punitive. The people of Kingston complain that prisoners are treated too softly, that Kingston is no longer safe that prisoners live better on the inside than some folks on the outside.

The saga of an American Family, spanning five generations, has been acclaimed as the most ambitious television event ever undertaken. Millions watched the premiere showing in the United States just two weeks ago, and made it the highest-rated series in television history.

The 12 Hour dramatizing the author's search for his heritage in Africa and in Black America, will be shown every Tuesday on ATV, beginning February 15. The opening, 2-Hour episode will be seen at 7:30.

Parental guidance is suggested, as the scenes are realistically and accurately depicted. ' However, this well-researched story has great historical value for all members of the family. The line-up of top-name includes Edward Asner, O. J. ### The New Avenuers

THE NEW AVENGERS ARE LIKE THE OLD AVENGERS ..... ONLY DIFFERENT!

"The NEW Avengers" are now three, Patrick Macnee. Joanna Lumley and Gareth Hunt - three partners in mayhem - each with equal status, and equal action, each Tuesday at 8 pm on John Steed (Patrick Macnee) has always been first in the Avengers and the New Avengers is no different. He is still as immaculate as ever, bowler hatted and spreading British good manners wherever he goes. But he has acquired two new partners, and good friends.

Cool, beautiful, Joanna Lumley is "Purdey", Steed's latest femme fatale. She's sexy, liberated, feminine and a superb athlete.

The latest addition to the avenger team is Mike Gambit, played by Gareth Hunt. "Gambit", with dark good looks and penetrating eyes, moves easily into the high-powered world of espionage and corruption. The three, as a team, are the most exciting Avengers ever. "The New Avengers" is dramatic, with humourous undertones but still retaining the bizarre qualities of the original series.

Explanation

The Province of Nova Scotia will receive an estimated $349.5 million in payments during 1977-78 under the newly revised equalization program, the Government of Canada has announced.

Equalization

This amount is $56.5 million more than the province is expected to receive for the 1976-77 period under the old agreement which terminates March 31. 1977, and $90 million more than the federal government paid to Nova Scotia in the 1975-76 fiscal year.

Payments to Nova Scotia in the current year are equivalent to $416 per capita. In recent years equalization has made up approximately 25 per cent of the general revenues of the provincial government.

Equalization is a program of federal payments made to alleviate regional income disparity in Canada. It provides for a sharing of the country's total tax revenues by annually transferring a part of federal revenues collected from all parts of Canada to provinces which are below the national average in their capacity to raise revenues from their own sources. The payments are intended to enable provincial governments to provide services to the public at reasonable standards without having to resort services to the public at reasonable standards without having to resort to excessive rates of taxation.

Those provinces receiving equalization payments are: Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia. New Brunswick, Quebec, Manitoba and Saskat-

Equalization payments have existed since 1967. Since that time, the federal government has distributed approximately $17 billion to the provinces.

British.

The irregular wave and altering heights directions of wave flow create an obvious stress on moving parts. Hydro generating plants don't have the same difficulty because the water is fresh and the pressure is constant as it is translated into a straightline force.

While technological problems are consistent on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean, on the European side the waves are larger, much larger. In fact, Vandall says, the waves striking the British shore are about twice as large as those hitting the Nova Scotian coast and they carry about ten times as much energy. Those figures apply to the months of December, January and February.

During the summer, the waves off the European coast tend to carry about twice as much energy as those off the North American east coast.

Obviously the best wave generating months coincide with the months of greatest power needs, but that fortunate coincidence may never be of any benefit, unless more efficient techniques are developed for changing wave forces into electrical energy, he says. When considering the size and motion of waves the patterns and dimensions of winds must be looked at in the same context. Bascially the flow of water in the ocean follows the pattern of winds.

In the Atlantic Ocean the winds move in a clockwise direction blowing across from Spain to the area of the Caribbean and then up the North American coast - the Gulf Stream which runs up the eastern seaboard is following the path of the prevailing winds. After blowing up the coast the winds then head in an easterly direction across the North Atlantic to the North Sea and down the European coast, completing the cir-

The BIO oceanographer says waves that are generated off the coast of Nova Scotia reach their maxium height about the middle of the ocean and maintain most of this height for the rest of their eastward

Scientist Paul Vandall of the Bedford Institute of Oceanography in Dartmouth, Nova Scotia, receives data on the height of waves in the North Atlantic Ocean from sensitive electronic equipment. Mr. Vandall has been doing research on waves for the last six years. (N.S. CIC PHOTO) Not only is the general direction of waves moving away from the North American east coast but, within sections of the ocean, the winds will alter the direction of segments of waves. In storms the wave direction may vary up to 45 degrees, Vandall says.

The altering wave direction compounds the problem of harnessing them for power sources. The lack of straightline forces created by the moving waves means the devices that use the wave force must be structured in a manner that permit them to move so the water flows through them.

As waves approach the shoreline they generally have the most regular patterns that occur in the sequence of wave production and movement.

But the closer waves come to the shoreline the more vulnerable they are to losing some of their energy. Energy from a wave is transmitted below the surface to a depth of one-half the length of the wave (a wave length being the distance between the wave peaks). This occurrence is called "feeling the bottom". And that is exactly what the waves do off the eastern coast.

For example, the depth of the continental shelf out past Sable Island is less than 250 feet. Yet the average waves are about 500 feet in length. That means most of the waves off the coast are losing energy that might

Many difficulties lie ahead but the modest success of the British and Japanese scientists suggest that in the distant future North America may be importing less energy and more expertise - a cheaper commodity.

Must Understand Past To Appreciate Present

Canadians need to have an understanding of the past in order to appreciate the present in Canada, Citizenship Court Judge Victor Cardoza told students of St. Patrick's Academy and the Digby Elementary School in Heritage Day addresses here.

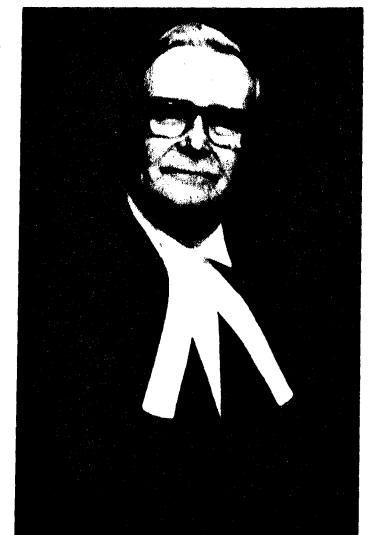

In his remarks Judge Cardoza traced some of the history of Canada and of the local area. He also outlined the work and purpose of Heritage Canada and explained the purposes of Heritage Day. He noted that in order to understand our Canadian neighbours we must understand the heritage they brought with them to Canada. We must also have an understanding of our own heritage and how it has contributed to the development of Canada.

The need to preserve artifacts from our past was stressed by the speaker. He expressed regret that many important historic landmarks in the local area had been allowed to disappear and urged his listeners to value the links with the past.

Tracing the history of Canada, the Judge urged the students to become familiar with Canadian history, both that of the nation and its provinces. Only through a proper understanding of how our nation began, how it developed and grew as a nation and the factors that were involved in this can we fully understand and appreciate the Canada of today, he said.

At St. Patrick's academy, Judge Cardoza was introduced to the student audience by Aralee Hattie. The thanks of the Assemblage to the speaker were expressed by Timmy Robicheau.

Following his address on Canadian Heritage, Judge Cardoza also spoke briefly to the Grade 111 class of St. Patrick's Academy which has been studying local

Energy From Wind Power

Funds for financing a wind methods generated electrical research project for the district of Clare, Digby County, is being requested of the provincial government by a recently-formed alternate energy production committee.

The committee wants financial support through a $24.5 million federalprovincial fund - part of which is to study alternate

Municipality Of The District Of Digby Hydro Electric Distribution System

The application of the Municipality of the District of Digby in respect of its electric utility, hereinafter referred to as the Applicant, for an order approving amendments to its Schedule of Rates for the Supply of electrical services to all customers with the exception of Street Lighting, was heard by the Board after due public notice at the Court House in the Town of Digby, Nova Scotia, on November 26, 1976.

The Applicant made no projections for any anticipated increase which could result in the wholesale rates from the Digby County Power Board resulting from the present application before the Board of the Nova Scotia Power Corporation. Likewise, no increase was projected for the effect that fuel oil increases in the latter part of the year 1977 may have on energy prices. CONCLUSION

It is difficult for anyone to presently determine the Applicant's proposed operating costs in the year 1977 with any accuracy due to the large increase that could result in the cost of energy to be purchased by it. With the exception of the energy cost figures, the other estimates of operating costs for the year 1977 appear to be reasonable. The suggested energy cost of $60,000 of the Applicant for the year 1977 is based upon the wholesale rates of the Digby County Power Board that became effective on October 31, 1975. The Board's rates are in turn based upon the existing rates of the Nova Scotia Power Corporation. The Power Corporation has applied to this Board for an increase with respect to Municipal rates amounting to 61 per cent for the base charge and 27.9 per cent for the energy charge made up as follows: Present Rates . . Proposed Rates % Increase Base Charge.

IMPRESSIVE REPORT

The statistical report of activities of the Digby County Agricultural representative has recently been released from the office at Weymouth. It is an impressive report that will bring satisfaction and admiration of those who have an opportunity to look into it. For instance sum up the hours which the representative devoted in the year 1976 to close personal contacts in making 461 farm calls, 566 specifically farm office calls and 509 other office calls or interviews. There were 74 meetings held with an attendance of 2,608, all of whom benefited from association with and from the wisdom imported through the representative, Bruce Gilliatt. These also benefited by the specialists in different fields who addressed these meetings. With the aid of a diligent secretary, Mr. Gilliatt was able to distribute a total of 3,012 letters and 9,359 circulars. Without a doubt, this communication has been of assistance to the farmers in the area and it can readily be seen that farming in its varied aspects is on the up-grade in our county.

Working along with the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture through Mr. Gilliatt, the Digby County Federation of Agriculture has improved and has lent its aid throughout the county. Likewise, the Digby County Exhibition Society providing a show window, another communication media and visual comparison of agricultural products has done our farming industry much good. Add to these the 4H Clubs, the hog producers, the mink ranchers and many other branches of Agricultural outlets to improve the industry in Digby and a progressive County can be assured. Neither do we want to forget the Women's Institutes which in their own way aid in a good, pleasant and happy farm life.

Another area which has been needed in farming has been the business management connected with farming. This for many years was lacking and of times made for the difference in a prosperous farm or not. It is good to see such programs as the Farmer and Chartered Banks, Estate Planning and other related programs on the Digby County Agricultural calendar for the winter. The report from Digby is impressive.

LET THE HUNGRY FEED THEMSELVES

"Given up anything for Lent?" That used to be a favourite question in the recent past. But church goers today are much more serious about self-discipline and sharing with the less for-

Five Canadian religious denominations, for example, are embarking upon their seventh annual joint campaign for World Development and Relief. Two, the Anglican and Roman Catholic, are focusing on Lent but the other three, while observing the same starting date of February 23rd, expect some congregations will campaign at other times during the year.

This financial campaign follows immediately after the educational program called "Ten Days for World Development," supported by the same denominations. Sponsors estimate that a total of between eight and nine million dollars will be raised for the varied projects of each denomination.

Theme of the inter-church effort is "Let the hungry feed themselves" which, at first glance, seems cynical and callous. It's a striking reminder, however, that feeding the hungry of the world is a much more complex task than sending them some surplus food or a few contributions in cash. Church members will learn from a variety of promotional items included in a world development kit that "the hungry need the practical help and support which we can provide ... the rice seed, the fish nets, plows, tools, fertilizer, pumps."

Emphasis is also given to the need for teaching skills in agriculture and a wide range of vocations. Money given in response to the 1977 campaign will enable participating denominations to send trained personnel as well as money and materials.

Where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise. Those $6,321 (some of them) wage earners didn't know they were considered in the poverty class until they read it in a pamphlet the other day. Just think of all the sleepless nights from here on. If $6,321 and below is poverty where do those $3,500 people fit in that poverty.

We'll get it right yet, Dave. It is not the Annapolis-Digby Tourist and Recreation Council. It is the Annapolis Basin Tourist and Recreation Council. Therefrom we get ABTRC. Must have been that other organization which was the Annapolis-Digby Industrial Development Commission. That's the one that "is" or "is not" a dead issue except for several hundred dollars lying dormant and which gives troublesome rules of ownership every once in awhile. By the way, Penny, you did a good job on T.V. Of course, you didn't credit much to the municipal bodies. We thought that area was picking up. Don't run the risk of discouraging.

In recognizing our heritage in buildings and objects let us not overlook our culture.

The East side of Birch Street, Digby, might still come into its own. The "sidewalk" was plowed and the "sidewalk" was well gravelled once this winter. Who knows there might be some pavement laid one of these days. We are still, by the way, thankful for good neighbors when the snow drifts pile.

Tourism in Digby seemingly can get a big boost with such an asset as the Municipality of Digby Airport at Hill Grove. Airports don't just happen. They need co-operative support so the walls don't come toppling down.

Mrs. Wilfred Miller would like to commend the Postal Service in both the U.S. and Canada on always getting their mail through. Opinions expressed in the Letter to the Editor column in this newspaper are not necessarily those of the editor.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

Friday, March 4 next is called "World Day of Prayer" by the church throughout the world.

The undersigned is reminded of a statement made in the quarterly Newsletter of the Canadian Bible Society, Nov. '75 by Rev. Kenneth G. McMillan, General Secretary: "The power of prayer is so real and the need for prayer is so great we should do everything possible to encourage fervent and continual prayer. However, prayer is not a substitute for action nor an escape from responsibility. It is possible to continue to pray for God's guidance and for God's help when already the course of action is clear and the spiritual resources are available." It seems to me that it is very probable that never since the world was created has there ever been a time, until now, when all people of goodwill need to pray together to God for His Holy Spirit to have full and free expression of His love and power through His created human race. There is no doubt in my mind about our human dependence on The Holy Spirit. Let us acknowledge the truth of dependence by such presenting ourselves (joined together as one body of believers) at a special meeting called for Friday, March 4, 1977 at 7:30 pm, at Grace United Church, Prince William Street, Digby.

Students Down Teachers

On Wednesday, Feb. 16, the students took to the ice against the teachers in a Winter Carnival game played at the forum.

The teachers played well considering the age difference between the two teams but the teachers eventually fell prey to the more powerful students.

With the strict refereeing from the officials the "Bad Men" of the D.R.H.S. teachers were put in their Such players as Richard Ross and Bill Daichun, were repeatedly escorted by the men in black and white stripes to the penalty box.

Dan Ross, coach of the losers was invited to Stan Locke's, coach of the young "winning" men house for tea and to get tips on how to coach.

Such stars like Charlie Walker. Bill Olsen and Richard Ross will be guests at the next D.R.H.S. hockey practice, to learn how to pass and shoot and of course, how to skate.

Ronnie VanTassel will be given tips from Mark Jeffery and John Perry on how to play nets and how to put goalie equipment on properly.

Most of the goals for the teachers were scored by their imports, such as Rod Robicheau Fred Smith and Bill Nickerson.

The highschool hockey team would like to note that Bill Nickerson should play golf on a golf course instead of on the ice.

The students are not laughing at the teachers, but with the hopeless odds of winning and a hopeless team to win with it can be easily understood why the students won and the teachers lost.

I.C.S. Captures SAR Invitational

With their new name, the I.C.S. Clippers emerged as champions of the 1977 Sainte Anne du Ruisseau Invitational Basketball Tournament, held on February 12 at Sainte Anne du Ruisseau. True to their name, the Clippers trimmed the Barrington Barons 40-39 in an action-packed and very entertaining game. The winning basket was scored by Kendall Ossinger of the Clippers late in the fourth quarter. Stephen Comeau led the scoring for I.C.S. with 16 points followed closely by Randy Elliott with 14. Top Scorer for Barrington was David Isles with 18 points. The Clippers then advanced to the finals against Sainte Anne du Ruisseau. They led by 16 points at half-time. SAR mounted a strong comeback much to the excitement of their fans, however they could not overpower the rather determined I.C.S. boys. The final score was 57-47 for the Clippers. Stephen Comeau led the Clippers with 19 points. Stephen was chosen as the MVP of the Tournament and Randy Elliott was nominated to the All-Star Team. We would like to express our appreciation to the organizers of the 1977 SAR Invitational for the hospitality extended to us in pleasant and enjoyable one.

Board to the Applicant, then the cost of energy purchased by the Applicant in 1977 could be approximately $885,000 for the full year as compared with the estimate of $660,000. The applicant's estimated operating profit of $117,950 in the year 1977 resulting from the proposed rates is much lower than the possible annual increase in fuel cost of $225,000.

It would be preferable if this decision could be held up until the Board has approved the Nova Scotia Power Corporation's new rates and charges. As the hearing on these rates is still progressing, it would appear that the new rates of the Corporation will not be set for some time yet. Likewise, a hearing must subsequently be held to determine the Digby County Power Board rates to the Applicant.

However, in view of the fact that the Applicant is presently operating at a large deficit, the Board is of the , opinion that new rates should be approved at the present time to enable it to operate at a near break even point until the future rates to be paid by it for the purchase of power are determined

The Board notes that the proposed rates of the Applicant are based on the assumption that the existing energy charge adjustment clause in the schedule of rates for each class of customer would become inapplicable because of the possible changes which will result when new base and energy charges are passed on by the Digby County Power Board. Taking into consideration this possibility and the need of the Applicant for additional funds, the Board concludes that a reasonable solution to the application is to reduce the proposed increase in the Applicant's energy rates from 1 cent per kilowatt hour to .7 cent per kilowatt hour and leave the energy charge adjustment clause in the new schedule. This will enable the Applicant to pass on any additional energy charges, but not the increased base charges, of the Digby County Power Board as soon as they are determined without a further hearing being required immediately. However, the Board is of the opinion that it will be necessary for the Applicant to review all its rates as a result of the increased rates being passed on by the Digby County Power Board. The Board would therefore suggest that the rates and charges as set out in the attached Schedule be considered as temporary and directs that the Applicant make a further application to the Board on or before June 30, 1977, for approval of a revised schedule of rates and charges.

The Board also directs that the Street Lighting charges be amended as set out in the Schedule.

An order will accordingly issue to approve the schedule of rates and charges attached to this decision.

RCMP Links With NEELS

Canada's ability to quickly locate equipment to contain and clean up oil and other spills has been strengthened by the addition of over 3000 potential communication posts. The linking of the RCMP, and through them other provincial and local police forces, with Fisheries and Environment Canada's computer-based National Emergency Equipment Locator System (NEELS) was announced today by Solicitor-General Francis Fox and Fisheries and Environment Minister Romeo LeBlanc.

Police are often the first to be advised of environmental accidents. Through access to NEELS the response time to emergencies can be reduced.

The police link to the system is being achieved through the National Police Services Information Centre (NPSIC) computer terminal, at RCMP located headquarters in Ottawa, and the national Canadian Police Information Centre (CPIC) computer system. Police participation in with the names and telephone numbers of those who control equipment located near the spill.

NEELS is an inventory of emergency equipment stockpiled or available at about 600 locations across Canada, and in the State of Michigan, for use in combating accidental spills of oils or other materials hazardous to the environment. The system assists officials at a spill scene to pinpoint the nearest source of essential equipment along with contact names and telephone numbers.

The system is capable of listing a series of locations in increasing order of distance from the spill scene until sufficient spill-fighting equipment has been located. A request can be made for a list of all equipment at the nearest location, a general type of equipment - such as booms or skimmer pumps or a specific piece of equipment which is known to have particularly useful characteristics.

Most unusual, however,

Mackie started working with Ross 10 years ago when she did a TV special with the

on Broadway". "Diana just knows what to do with clothes", said Mackie. "She was born to wear them. When we did her upcoming show, the curtain went up, she stood on stage with her arms open and the audience stood up. She has a terrific presence"

This bird breeds in Alaska and Northern Tukon and winters in Southern British Columbia. One was known to winter near Fredericton in 1960. I got in touch with Dr. Tufts in Wolfville and found one

A Board of Trade Clinic was held in Digby with chief speaker being Lawrence G. Ecroyd, Eastern Field Service Representative, Canadian Chamber of Commerce. Representatives were present from the Fundy Board of Trade and the Weymouth Board of Trade. Main issues of concern were the transportation problem between the Islands and Digby Neck on the mainland, and Digby wharf improvements. Objectives of a Board of Trade, it was noted. was to ascertain the views of businessmen on economic and legislative questions affecting the financial, commercial. social, agricultural and industrial interests in Canada, and to present those views to the public, the government and government departments. The reports emphasized the importance of Digby as a terminus for CPR and a logical port for the taking on of fuel oil, since facilities already established would store upwards of a million gallons. The Clinic was sponsored by the Digby Board of Trade with H. M. Warne, president.

David J. Daley, acting bandmaster of the Digby Civic Band announced equipment had arrived for the Sea Cadet Drum and Bugle Junior Band. Training was going to be done by Fritz Dakin, M. H. Barnes, C. F. McBride and Robert Marshall.

A Ladies Auxiliary to the Digby Branch Canadian Legion was formed with Mrs. Rae Powell, the first president. Other officers were Mrs. Anne Wilson, first vice president; Mrs. Alice Winfield, second vice president; Mrs. Beatrice Sibley, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. John R. McCleave, chairman, presided over the Board of School Commissioners when the Board took steps to secure proper and adequate fire escapes for the Digby Academy. School reports showed low attendance because of the prevalence of measles, mumps and other contagious diseases. The Board decided to meet on regular basis of once a month. An architect was to come to Digby to meet the Board on the prospect of constructing a Rural High School.

A heavy gale with snow wrought havoc in Clare, cutting off electric power, wrenching the Meteghan River lighthouse from the wharf, and breaking a high voltage wire in Meteghan shipyards.

The February 13, 1947, issue of The Digby Courier had a story on the most unpredictable weather of the time. February seemed to come in with springlike weather, bare roads and scarcely any frost in the ground. An overcoat was hardly necessary with temperatures 40 degrees. This was followed by torrential downpour, then lower temperatures and snow. The writer elaborated on the beauty of Digby with the snowfall. The view over the hill from Water Street was one that made the spectator gasp with sheer wonder. The streets resembled picture postcards.

Senior Citizens Week June 19 To 25

Social Services Minister Bill MacEachern has requested municipal councils in Nova Scotia to designate June 19 to 25 as Senior Citizens Week.

For the fourth year, the Nova Scotia Senior Citizens' Commission and the Nova Scotia Federation of Senior Citizens and Pensioners have requested that the province observe the week in order to focus attention on the elderly.

In supporting their request, Mr. MacEachern noted that participation in Senior Citizens Week has increased each year since it was established in 1972.

"In some communities". he noted "special committees have been appointed by the councils to co-ordinate and publicize special programs."

Main objectives of the week are to promote awareness of opportunities in the community for the elderly and to encourage as many senior citizens as possible to join in these activities.

Care For The Elderly Paramount Problem

The problems of what to do with the elderly who are not what are normally considered acute hospital patients, but, in most cases, cannot be looked after at home was one of the chief problems aired in the report of Ralph Stacey, Digby General Hospital administrator, before the annual meeting of the hospital on Thursday evening. These patients need some type of institutional care, the administrator said. He reported that within the next month the Standards Committee, which consists of Board Members, Medical Staff and Administrative Staff, will be gathering information with the hope of supporting the Municipalities in their request for more Nursing Care beds.

Mr. Stacey's report looked on 1976 as a difficult year. The Digby General Hospital, as all hospitals in the province, was called upon to stay with a 9 per cent increase in funds but had to pay from 12-20 per cent in salary increases. With most other expenses of a fixed nature and inflation, it was soon noted, he reported that the hospital would be in very difficult

Another legislative change made in 1976 requires the assessor to treat mobile homes as real property and to assess them to the owner of the lands upon which they are located. Occupiers of mobile homes will also be mailed an occupancy assessment for the first time. Any mobile home owner who requires a breakdown of land and mobile home can obtain it from the assessment office.

Property owners who feel they qualify for the tax exemption should direct their inquiries to the Municipal Clerk.

A Confederation is only as strong as its many and diverse parts Mr. Pichette advised and only through the recognition and understanding of the fact first European settlement that cultural diversity is not separatism can we survive as a nation. He said no Parliament, can legislate tolerance, understanding and goodwill. No government can enforce such a concept, the basis of which is allowance of public office in trust and respect. Yet, tolerance, understanding and goodwill are all that is needed.

In referring to the Official

Languages Act of Canada, the speaker reminded the audience that the Act adopted by Parliament in 1969 is nothing new. It simply, he said, recognizes the equality of both English and French as the two official languages of Canada. It provides for equality of service in either language, where feasible, in the institutions of Parliament and of the government of Canada. Nothing more. It provides no penalties, no sanctions for non compliance with the Act. In other words, it forces nothing on anyone. The onus is clearly on the government, not on the citizens, he remarked and is part of the continuing process of democracy first introduced in this Province and extended later to the newer provinces. "It is part of our Heritage."

There are, the speaker noted, a million point five francophones living outside the Province of Quebec, in every Province of Canada. In the Maritimes, they are known as Acadians. Their roots are here, not in Quebec. They will not disappear overnight and the vast majority has no intension whatsoever of moving elsewhere. When the Premier of Quebec suggests that they can all come and live there, he will convince establish a heritage. only a handful, precisely because of the force of their part which is of paramount importance. Many events during the years, the speaker said have influence on the freedoms and liberties of today beginning with the North of Mexico at Port Royal in 1604, the abolishment of slavery in Nova Scotia, establishment of the University of Laval, the first Anglican diocese outside British Isle in Nova Scotia, Quebec of Jews and Catholics and Responsible Government introduced in the colonies.

Mr. Pichette charged that Canadians are careless with their heritage and so often take it for granted. What does it mean to us, the speaker asked, to have this precious something which is to be preserved and handed down from generation to generation, this rich tradition on which this country was built and on which its future depends.

Referring to the subject of separation by the Province of Quebec, Mr. Pichette said the Canadian people in general can have an influence on the outcome of a referendum by a positive, constructive and decisive outlook. He said that if ever there was a time for Canadians to individually define their national goals, it is now and through sound understanding of the common heritage of Canadians unity can be achieved.

The Kinsmen Club meeting was presided over by the president, George Churchill, who also introduced and thanked the speaker. The program was in charge of Bryan Norris and Brian Coker who introduced and interpreted the film from the National Film Board based on life in Montreal for various ethnic groups who came to make their home there and

A most interesting and informative question and answer period followed the minimum loss in operating funds of under $10,000.

The Board is continually upgrading the hospital wid not to purchase in 1977 a new type respirator for the Special Care Unit: an additional cardiac monitor for the Operating Room; an Incubator for the Nursery; some additional scope equipment and a Chemistry Machine for Laboratory (in lieu of hiring more technicians to handle the volume) and the usual replacement of worn-out and obsolete equipment.

The meeting was presided over by R. MacLeod Rogers, Q.C., president of the Board who expressed deep appreciation of the hospital and medical staff and Board members in the efficient operating of the hospital in 1976. He said the financial restraint program of the Nova Scotia government with respect to hospitals, came to full bloom shortly after he assumed the presidency. The Hospital's Budget was cut by the Hospital Services and Insurance Commission to about $80,000.00. He said the Board met on several occasions to deal with this matter and the Administrator Mr. Stacey. presented several plans to meet the emergency, and eventually they developed a plan to achieve a good portion of the savings necessary to live within the reduced budget. He remarked that because of persistent pressure on government, the Hospital Commission relented somewhat in its rigid interpretations of the program and during the summer they were given an additional $45,000.00, leaving a shortfall of approximately $35,000.00 in the 1976 needs. However, because of the exercise of restraint within this Hospital, he reported, they ended the year with only the $10,000.00 deficit.

No sooner had they begun to effectively grapple with the restraint program, the president informed, when the Hospital Service and Insurance Commission provided the Hospital and the Digby-Annapolis Mental Health Clinic, along with other hospitals and mental health clinics in the Province, with a near ultimatum to merge their services under the Hospital Board. He said this ultimatum, caused much controversy through the Province but in Digby the merger took place on time and the present situation is that the Digby-Annapolis Mental Health Clinic is now a separate department of the Hospital and comes under the general supervision of the Hospital Administrator and the Digby General Hospital Board. The Digby-Annapolis Mental Health Service Board continues, however, as an effective advisor to the Board of the Hospital on mental health services, and provides two voting members to the Digby General Hospital Board. It is hopeful that soon the government will give approval to the use of the Old Hospital building as a base for extended and expanded mental health services to the community.

Miss Muriel Smith presented her report for the Superintendent of Nurses which showed 81 persons on the nursing staff. Three are supervisors, five head nurses for wards one operating head nurse and one head nurse for central supply and out patient. The others are registered nurses, certified assistants, aides, orderlies and ward clerks.

Miss Smith's report showed 215 babies were born in 1976 at the hospital, 61 less than in 1975. All other wards were busy during 1976 and the outpatient department work-load had increased causing consideration of enlarging. For six months the paediatric ward was closed due to the government restraint program and six beds had to be reserved on the surgical ward for paediatric patients.

There were 2,136 admissions to the hospital in 1976; 2013 procedures in operating room; 44,041 x-ray units done; 942,891 lab; 2199 cardiograms; 5817 physiotherapy patients and 13,442 outpatients.

The report for the Ladies' Auxiliary was presented by Mrs. Jan Gordon, secretary. This organization has a membership of 36 with an average attendance of 14. They manage the Auxiliary Canteen by a manager, Mrs. Beatrice Height and 40 other volunteer helpers. They made 175 visits in 1976 to hospital patients. Members feel that the recreation centre should be a source of recreation for everyone from the infant to the aged that can get out to it. Therefore, items and games and "fun things to do" should range in variety from sand boxes, exercise mats, bicycle exercises, possible weightlifting, ping pong, and other activity items. MORE CARE NEEDED FOR ELDERLY

Digby, it is being found more and more. needs more care for its elderly. Major care services when needed by the elderly are found in the Digby General Hospital and Tideview Terrace. These, however, are not enough. There is a missing link.

Elderly people who become ill can be accommodated at the hospital. After a period of time they are ready to be released from hospital but where can they go? They still require some care and are unable to look after themselves properly at home. The hospital cannot turn them out without having provision for their accomodation elsewhere so beds needed for acutely ill patients become in short supply.

Tideview accomodates elderly who need a home and they have an infirmary to care for those who need such attention to certain limits of care time. It is plain to be seen that there is need of space somewhere for those elderly who are not seriously ill but still require medical or professional care.

This problem is one of the major ones facing our health and welfare establishments and our town and municipality. It is one that each citizen might ponder and lend support to making such a place to care for the elderly a reality.

There are ways of trying to get over-to churchmen that inflation also strikes churches and relative programs. We liked this one in the newsletter issued by the Church of God, Digby:

Letter To The Editor

Opinions expressed in the Letter to the Editor column in this newspaper are not necessarily those of the editor.

Editor Dear Sir

You will perhaps recall that in 1971 I sent to you the news of the passing of Zenas Minard ("Jack") Sanford, author-genealogist of East Aurora, N.Y. Mr. Sanford was born at Brooklyn Street, Kings Co., in 1900. His grandfather, Richard Harding Sanford, was merchant, way officer, and Justice of the Peace in Clementsvale, Annapolis County, over one hundred years ago. Jack Sanford's research over a thirty-year period led to the publication in 1966 of the JOHN SAN-FORD GENEALOGY, now in its second printing, with copies in many homes and libraries in U.S.A. and Canada.

I have recently received word of the sudden passing, in East Aurora, N.Y., on January 28, of Jack's widow, Nettie (Cooney) Sanford. My purpose in writing is to ask that you convey this sad news to your readers, some of whom will have met Jack and Nettie at their home in East Aurora, or enjoyed correspondence with them.

Belliveau. In 1944 the responsibility of administering the education system in Clare became the task of the newly established Municipal School Board. Teachers salaries and operation costs of the schools came under the Municipal School Board. The construction of schools still remained in the hands of each Municipal School District and payment of existing debts on schools built by the trustees of the district also was to be paid by each school district.

The teacher's salaries were raised and were set according to teacher's licenses or certificate. The minimum wage at that time was $1,200.00 per year instead of the previous $500.00 salary. In this period Rev. Thomas Gastonguary, pastor of Saulnierville parish, had the first consolidated school constructed in his parish. The total cost of the school building was to be paid by the Saulnierville school district and it replaced all one and two district.

In 1955 the provincial school system was again changed. Previous to this time all high schools in the province were built by the government of this province. With the change of the education system, it was the municipalities who were responsible for the construction of high schools with the assistance financially the Provincial Government. At that time the ration was 75 per cent by the government and 25 per cent by the municipality of School Board decided in 1955 to have a high school constructed after a study of the Municipal School system. It was discovered that the average grade in the Municipality of Clare was grade 6, the lowest in the province. Further study showed that too many one and two room school houses in Clare. Children of these small schools were not receiving the same attention as the four room schools. It was not the fault of the teachers but it was their excessive work load.

It is doubtful that teachers would like to teach in one and two room schools today, with grades from 1 to 11 being taught. The School Board decided that something had to be done. It was also discovered that in 1955 there were only 5 grade twelves in the Municipality of Clare. Something had to be done to improve the education system.

Despite some opposition towards the construction of a high school, the Municipal School Board demanded that the Municipal Council have a thirteen room high school built as soon as possible. Plans were drawn up and approved by the Minister of Municipal Affairs of the province.

The high school was built on the Meteghan Station road in Meteghan River and two years after the school was in operation there were 450 students registered from grade 7 to grade 12. This compared with 386 students in the same grades in 1955. The high school was enlarged several years ago and today the enrollment is in the vicinity of 900 for the same grades. Another project undertaken by the School Board was the forming of roomed houses in that consolidated school districts and building of larger school units with all purpose rooms. These were constructed in Salmon River, St Alphonse, St. Bernard and Havelock. This did away with all other small school buidlings. This left only Belliveau Cove, Church Point, Comeauville, Concession and Meteghan with 4 room schools.

The project of building a larger school in Meteghan or the St. Martin road onsolidated that area. The old school building had had an extension built at the rear several years previous and this school building is still being used. This year the old portion of the school was totally remodeled to modern lines.

In 1975 a new consolidated school names Joseph Dugas School was constructed at Church Point on the Patrice Road, but commonly called the Church Point Station Road, replacing the schools in Concession, Church Point and Comeauville, which had become obsolete to today's standards.

The Municipal School Boards have furnished the tools for the student body to take advantage of and now it is up to the students to make good use of them, stated Mr. Melanson.

Rev. and Mrs. Walter Fernley entertained some of the older members of the Digby Wesleyan Church recently at the Church Parsonage.

There were twelve guests present when a buffet supper was served on Thursday evening February

The men who were few in number did not participate in the games which followed the supper hour but the ladies did enjoy playing two games. The first game required one to use their memory and the second one was a guessing game.

A time of Christian Friendship and Fellowship was enjoyed by each and every person present.

superb game collecting a "hat trick", (his first this year). Hopkins, Cleveland and McAlpine were the standouts as they continuiously kept the pressure on the Bridgetown defence and goal tender. The Digby team displayed some hidden talent as they had nine players on their roster from the minor hockey Midget team and they outshot the visitors by a very wide margin. D.R.H.S., by virtue of this victory, advances against Middleton in the final (two

Legionnaires Win Junior C Opener

Backed by the solid goaltending of Graham Baxter and the two goal effort of Robbie Morgan, the Digby Legionnaires downed the Chebucto Atlantics 4-1 at the Digby Forum on Sunday. Rounding out the scoring for the Digby squad were Wood and Sutherla.d, while Fraser scored the lone marker for the visitors. The game was the first of a two game total goal series between the Legionnaires and Atlantics in the Nova Scotia Junior C. Hockey playdowns and was played before the largest crowd of the season at the forum. The Atlantics had just recently beaten out the Pictou Maripacs in their first playoff round. The next game between these two teams will be played on Chebucto's home ice on March 13 with the winner going on to meet the Cape Breton winner in the next round of play.

The Digby Legicnnaires are sponsored by Branch No. 20, Royal Canadian Legion, Digby, and so far have played 31 games this season, winning 21, losing six and tying four. The team has played extremely well despite losing several key players and are strong contenders for the Junior C. Unable to enter a Junior C.

League this season due to travelling distances, the Legionnaires joined the W.V.H. L. which is an intermediate league composed of CFB Cornwallis, College Sainte Anne, Digby, and at one time Bridgetown Hawks. The Digby squad is at present involved in semi final playdowns with College Sainte Anne in this league as well as their playoff with the Junior C. Chebucto Atlantics. In their first encounter with College Sainte Anne in the playoffs the Legionnaires emerged the winners by a 6-2 score.

Digby County Has Unique Friendliness

Digby County as a whole, has a unique friendliness. according to her experience, said Mrs. Eleanor Elms, who addressed Grades V and VI at St. Patrick's Public School for Heritage Day. Whether Indian, French, English, Black or white or other race, you feel happy with each other. She felt this to be moreso in Digby County than any other county in Nova Scotia. She saw a sincere friendship and genuune welcome in communicating.

Mrs. Elms , in an intriguing manner kept the attention of her youthful audience as she imparted to them the history and heritage of the black race to which she belongs. Back in the 1600's she said black people came here with white people as their slaves but it was in the 1700's when the black people came here in sizable numbers.

Mrs. Elms said that during the American Revolution, the black people were offered their freedom if they fought on the side of the British but after the war they still returned as slaves.

Going back to 1783, Mrs. Elms told of her black race being granted land near Bridgetown and Shelburne in Nova Scotia but for a long time the land did not prosper greatly and it was difficult for the people to exist. They could raise some potatoes and hired out working in the fields, later the white pioneers and the black pioneers sharing the crops together. However, this still did not provide a living and the black people went back to U.S.A.

The speaker mentioned several black persons whose lives had a direct good influence on the black race of people whom they encountered. One was Boston King. Not all the black people left their homes in Birchtown, Shelburne County for U.S.A. and the people who stayed found life difficult, selling blankets and good clothes for five pounds of flour, according to some records. Thinking other areas better than Birchtown, they followed Boston King to Halifax, Yarmouth and Digby, but it seemed that wherever they went they were without good living quarters and proper tools so had to get along the best way possible with "shack" ac-

Nine Skidoos And 77 Persons

Crusaders of the Digby Wesleyan Church and their leaders gathered for a skidoo Party at a Winter Wonderland in Conway on Saturday February 12. The property of Robert Wilson was the scene of much activity when 77 people gathered to enjoy the Winter Sport of Skidooing.

There were nine Skidoos used to fill the needs of the many young people present who participated in the enjoyable sport. One of the Skidoos was brought from Parker's Cove. It was loaned by Mr. Jessie Magarvey while a number of kind hearted church people loaned the other Skidoos. The generosity of each and every one was appreciated. Before this event which was enjoyed by the many present concluded, one of the C.Y.C. requirements.

The Christian Youth buildings on the near by property of Mr. Harold Sulis might have slightly resembled a well patronized restaurant because it was here that the hungry, well exercised, CYC children and their leaders gathered. They were warmed by a drink of hot chocolate and received other goodies which were fast to disappear.

> The Pastor, Rev. Walter L. Fernley, who celebrating his birthday that day, was honored with a birthday cake which was made by Mrs. Donald Trimper of Greenland.

Previous to the Skidoo Party the Christian Youth Crusaders were taken on a one mile hike. The hike not only provided them with fresh air and exercise but helped them meet their #### commodation.

Religion played a big part in the black pioneer lives and they never lost their faith. Special to this part of their lives was Richard Preston who was able to read and taught the black people the Bible. Preston came to Shelburne with the Loyalists and later came to the Joggin, Bear River and on to Greenland in Annapolis Co. A church was constructed in . Greenland, the black people following the Baptist faith. Somewhere between 1784 and 1796 Preston went to Granville, Bridgetown and over what they called Granville mountain where they formed another church. It was in this church that the African Baptist Association was formed.

Mrs. Elms told her listeners about another group of black people who migrated here from the West Indies. These were called Maroons. They settled around what is known as Jordantown and were of the Anglican faith so that one road today has blacks of one faith and another of another faith.

These people underwent hardships coming from a 90 degree temperature to a 0 degree temperature. They worked hard with pick and shovel, the speaker said. Two names, with descendents still in the Conway and Jordantown areas, were singled out. They were Barton and Miller, who took pick and shovel and dug a connecting road through the field, the road now referred to as the New Road.

Touching on educational and cultural heritage of the black people, Mrs. Elms said that the religious ministers were the main source of education. She spoke of one minister's wife who was very sympathetic with the people and took the black children into her home to teach them the 3r's. The white people and black people got along fine, Mrs. Elms told the children. By the 1800's the government had granted money for education and a formal school was instituted by the 1900's until a new school was built in 1934 to accommodate 40 children. In 1956 an extension was made to the building and today the building is the Conway-Acaciaville Community Centre.

It was in 1934 when the black students were first admitted to the Digby High School and not until 1958 that the black students were integrated into the Digby grammer school grades.

Mrs. Elms was introduced on Tuesday by Lesleigh Landry and thanked by Keith Macintosh. Supervising the Heritage Day program were Sister E. Walsh, Sister Catherine Stoler and Miss Mary Johns.

Speaking of culture Mrs. Elms said her race liked to sing and singing helped them to overcome their setbacks and suffering. She said that even when the old slaves were whipped in the fields, they did not lose faith but continued to sing.

Oil Paintings Exhibition At Ste Anne's

An exhibition of oil paintings was held in the former study room, in the wooden building, of Ste Anne's College on Monday evening, February 21st starting at 8 p.m. which was followed by a wine and cheese party for all those visiting. Gerald Boudreau was in charge of the wine and cheese table. A good turnout of interested persons attended the exhibition and among them many budding artists in oil painting were

The exhibition was put on by Mrs. Judy Turner-Williams who is a former student of the college. She was attending Ste Anne's in 1966 to 1969. A presentation of the paintings will be made to the college and they will be placed in the library section of the new four story building which is nearing completion.

Mrs. Turner-Williams explained most of the paintings of which several were the work of her grandmother and her mother, Helene Sanders and Hope Sanders, respectively. Other artists painting were displayed among them was an oil painting by Romney (1734-1802) which consisted of a painting of Lady Hamilton. 'Boso', American 1955, had a painting of Hope Sanders.

Besides oil paintings there were many pen and ink sketches, crayon work, which were displayed on special stands throughout the room. Comfortable chairs were available for those who wished to rest a while.

Mr. Boudreau stated that Ste Anne's college is interested in receiving oil paintings from Acadian artists of the province which would be placed on the walls of the many rooms in the cultural (Acadian) portion of the new library building. The first and second floors of the building will house the cultural section, which will consist of meeting rooms, lecture rooms and many others. The library will occupy the next two floors above.

The various groups represented countries from the World Association, the Digby Guides representing Japan and the Brownies representing Trinidad and Tobago. Another of the week's activities was a church parade to the Trinity Anglican Church on Sunday February 20th where Rev. Michael Boyd spoke to the Scouts and Guides.

On February 22nd, an Enrollment Night was held for the Guides and Brownies of the Digby area. Division Commissioner, Mrs. Shirley Williams, Bear River, conducted the enrollment ceremony when ten girls Plans and programs in the field of wildlife have been outlined by Hon. Vincent J. MacLean, Minister of Lands and Forests.

He was speaking to the Metropolitan Wildlife Association meeting at the Metro Centre in Sydney.

Mr. MacLean said his department was planning for a satellite wildlife park on Cape Breton Island and a moose-hunting season this year for which 650 applicants will be selected. There has been no moose-hunting season in Nova Scotia for the past two years. "The Lands and Forests

Act Part III dealing with game has been long overdue for a complete overhaul if nothing more than to clarify its objective and to develop workable legislation convenient to the people it serves and those charged.

Arabia. The best of luck is extended to him in his new position. Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Connell and son Kevin motored to Halifax, to keep an appointment at the V.G. Hospital for a check up for Kevin following his accident. Everything is O.K. We are happy to report that Bobby Sweeny, who underwent surgery, is recuperating at home now. Get well wishes are extended to Mrs. Louie "Millie" Blinn of Plympton, and Mrs. Lorraine Blanchard of Lewiston Road., who are patients in the Digby with responsibility for enforcement," he said.

The new Part III dealing with wildlife is before a cabinet committee and should be made law within the next year.

Mr. MacLean urged the necessity of a mandatory hunter education program. The initial phase is complete with the establishment of firearm ranges in all counties of the Province. Instruction in the use of firearms and their field testing are future steps in the program.

The Forest Improvement Act, recently proclaimed, regards the forest as a multi-use resource including the wildlife aspects. "The Act will chart a forest for course management which will consider economics, recreation and other values applicable to the needs of future generations," Mr. MacLean said. The minister listed 13 other programs of the department that are of interest to wildlife groups. Included were designation of crown islands as wildlife management areas, implementation of the furbearer license in the 1976 hunting season, and studies of lakes, beaches and watersheds. In relation to the wildlife park for Cape Breton Island, Mr. MacLean said several locations are being considered and a decision should be made soon.

Bobby Wood scored twice while singles went to Morgan, Robinson, Hillier, and Cleveland as the Digby Legionnaires came from behind to capture the W.B.H.L. title in two straight games from College Ste Anne. Scoring for the College were Doucet with a pair and Gallant Comeau and O'Brien with one each. It seemed that the College team would force a third game in the series as they held off the Legionnaires in the first period while scoring two goals to lead 2-0. In the second period Ste Anne's increased their lead to 3-0 before Digby finally scored at the 9:45 mark and again less than a minute later. Ste Anne's came back with a goal late in the period to give them a 4-2 lead at the end of two. In the final frame the Legionnaires fired three in a row to go out front 5-4. Ste Anne's came right back to tie the score and it seemed like there would be overtime until John Cleveland scored with only nine seconds remaining to give Digby the win.

outscoring Digby 44-11. A week later, the same two teams met again in Digby for a return match. The final score - I.C.S. Clippers 74, Digby Warriors 55. Stephen Comeau led the scoring for I.C.S. with 30 points while Chris Nickerson had 31 for Digby. Kendall Ossinger played a strong game for the Clippers scoring 18 points. Both teams concentrated on their offence which resulted in numerous "fast breaks". The Clippers now with a 4 game unbeaten streak visit Annapolis on Feb. 22 and host the Warriors on Feb. 24.

Student Parliament Sponsors Atlantic Symphony Orchestra

The Atlantic Symphony Orchestra will be presenting a concert in Digby on March 8th in the Digby Regional High School Multi-Purpose Room at 8 p.m. The renowned orchestra will be under the direction of Claro Mizerit. The Symphony is currently touring western Nova Scotia, and will be sponsored in Digby by the Digby Regional High School Senior Student Parliament.

The Atlantic Symphony first visited Digby in 1975 and performed for a sell-out audience at the High School which gave them a standing ovation. The tremendous success of this first concert led to another equally successful appearance by the Symphony in 1976.

It is now thought that the symphony concert will become an annual event in the Digby Area. Proceeds from the concert go to support the orchestra and the student parliament.

Tickets are on sale at Levy's Drug Store, Bear River Drug Store, and the Weymouth Drug Store at nominal prices for this type of entertainment.

Student Parliament Prime Minister, Gertrude Melanson, and members of her cabinet who are looking after sales and advertising for the concert report that community support for the symphony appearance is running high. They are looking forward to a record turnout on Tuesday night.

Naughton took the students back to the origin of the people by the name of MacNaughton and their effort to maintain their tradition and heritage by the clan assembling each year. He spoke of the legacy handed down to those places such as Antigonish and Pictou in Nova Scotia where the Scottish ancestry is prominent.

The Grade III students heard particularly about Digby's Town Council, tracing its beginning at incorporation of the town to the present day. The Mayor was favored with a vocal selection, Amazing Grace, by the students.

What the Nova Scotia Agriculture College and the company are trying to find out is whether sheep raised by commercial farmers can meet the necessary standards of health and hygiene. If they can, then Dominion Biologicals will be looking for sheep blood from the flocks of the province. While testing is still in progress, preliminary results look very promising according to Mr. Brushett. He says he "has been field marketing the product" and the "procedure looks viable.'

The company has been located in the air industrial park at Debert, outside of Truro, since the fall of 1976. Previous to its present location the company was in the town of Truro, from the time of its founding in 1972.

The company has grown quickly and quite spectacularly. Sales in its first year were a modest $18,000. For the current fiscal year they are expected to amount to more than $500,000.

The present experiment with the help of the Agriculture College is far from the first experience Mr. Brushett has had with the provincial institution. In fact he says its presence was the primary business reason for establishing in the Truro area because it has such good personnel available to consult on problems with animal husbandry. He describes his relationship with the college and the veterinary pathologists as "particularly good."

So with continued positive test results, sheep farmers around Nova Scotia soon will be able to echo the words of Sam Brushett: economics of the thing are starting to shape up."

Canada became a part of the naturalization of aliens after a three year residence. Uniform legislation across Canada regarding naturalization was not secured until the Dominion Naturalization Act of 1881. however.

> his address Judge Cardoza dealt briefly with later legislation and pointed out that Canada was the first of the Commonwealth countries to adopt a distinctive citizenship Act. This, he said, was the Act which came into force on January 1st, 1947, which has now been replaced by the new Citizenship Act which was proclaimed on February 15 of this year. In closing, he reviewed the provisions of the new Act.

Lion Arthur Everett introduced the speaker and the thanks of the club were expressed by King Lion Pat Fletcher.

The tests are being done to determine if sheep raised by commercial farmers can supply blood to meet the rigid standards of a young company exporting blood byproducts to a world-wide market.

Sam Brushett, manager of the company, Dominion Biologicals Limited, says using local sheep could bring "up to 50 per cent increase in the dollar yields of sheep."

He adds: "Within six months of going into production using local sheep. we could use all the blood from the entire annual Nova Scotia kill." Department of Agriculture representatives estimate the number to be 5,000 sheep,

The company supplies the blood reagents- or as they can be referred to in general terms, diagnostic productsto hospitals and labratories in both the international and domestic markets.

The reagents are used primarily for three things: To identify human blood groups: To check for compatibility between blood from donors and recipients: and to check for the presence of infectious diseases in human blood.

Biologicals Dominion makes its reagents in labratory processes using sheep, rabbit and cattle blood. The rabbit blood comes from a number of the animals raised on the grounds of the company. At present cattle and sheep blood must be imported, and this is where provincial farmers come onto the

ROBBING GOD

At several points in Old Testament history, God's people failed to prosper and wondered why. Things were bad. They were hit by drought, pestilence, and vicious neighbours.

Clever people banded together in improvement committees. Everyone talked about the reversals, but no one could find the solution.

A wandering prophet appeared, named Malachi. Many listened intently to his words, "will a man rob God. Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say, wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings. Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye have robbed me..." Malachi 3:8-9.

If a man robs a bank, or his neighbour, the law puts him away. If he robs God he runs at large, though shackled by failure and inner distur-Men of all generations are blind creatures. They haven't yet figured out the cause of their plight. Listen again to the prophet. Today, if people who claim to believe God, would give Him what is rightfully His, problems would be solved, and life would be lifted.

Our society spends 50 times as much on military defence as on church projects, and 10 times as much on liquor. To be obedient to God, we must give Him at least 10 per cent of all we have. This is the tithe. In addition we must make ourselves His property.

Only then will a man have a clear conscience. That which we keep we lose; that which we give we truly save.

miles of gas pipeline. Henuset was invited to bid on both projects, just as the company has bid on hundreds of similar projects in the past.

> • • • As it turned out, however, these contracts were awarded in a rather unorthodox manner. Although Henuset's bid was the lowest in both cases (by about $5 million total on a combined bid of only $17 million), the company lost both tenders!

What went wrong? The key appears to be union pressure tactics. On November 25th, deligates at a convention of the Alberta and N.W.T. Building Trades Council ordered, according to a newspaper report at the time, their executive to "take whatever steps necessary" to bar further "non-union" pipeline contracts. #### Books for Westport

By Hattie Densmore Staff Reporter Chronicle Herald.

Westport Elementary School on Brier Island, about 40 miles from Digby, has more than 100 resource books donated by residents in the area, due in part to a letter printed in the Voice of the People in The Chronicle-Herald and The Mail-Star last Saturday.

The letter was written by Mrs. L.G. Norwood, a mother of five students and wife of the school principal. She said in a telephone interview "we are so delighted to receive these books." The children only had one encyclopedia to use and there were only a few books in the school. The nearest library is in Digby, 40 miles and two

HOME ECONOMIST POTATOES

Potatoes play a major role in our daily diet. They are valuable sources of vitamin C, the B vitamins and minerals

Contrary to popular opinion, potatoes are not fattening. Weight is gained only when the calories consumed exceed those expended as energy. One medium potato supplies 100 calories, a small percentage of the daily recommended level. If your calorie intake should be reduced, eliminate those foods which provide empty calories, rather than potatoes, which have their calories backed up by valuable nutrients. For the money spent on them, potatoes give a high return in nutritional value.

When purchasing potatoes, buy the best quality - firm, smooth, well-shaped, free from cuts blemishes and decay. Buy the size that is best suited to your needs, and only in the amounts that can be stored and used within a reasonable period of time.

There are both provincial and federal regulations governing grading. Potatoes are graded according to size, shape, maturity and relative freedom from dirt, blemishes, disease or injury. They are not graded according to cooking quality. The most popular grade is Canada Number 1.

Potatoes should be stored in a dark, cool place (around 40 degrees F). Higher temperatures may cause sprouting and shrivelling. while a lower temperature tends to develop a sweet flavor. Light causes the potato to turn green and acquire a bitter taste. Store only good quality potatoes. Use bruised or cracked ones as soon as possible. If potatoes are stored properly, they will keep for several months.

If potatoes are cooked in their skins they will retain most of their nutritional value provided they are cooked properly. If peeling is necessary, keep the peelings as thin as possible. Do not soak potatoes in water, as water drains vitamins and minerals. To prevent baked potatoes from exploding in the oven prick the skin with a fork or make a slit big enough to allow the steam to escape.

If you like a crusty baked potato shell, just wash and dry the potato before baking. If you like a tender, crisp skin, rub the potato lightly with salad oil, butter or bacon fat.

ferry trips from the school. Mrs. Norwood said they are hoping to begin a library for the 65 students from grades one to eight. She said it would be a tremendous asset to the school because there are no extra curricular activities for children on the island. Although a bookmobile comes to the island once a week, weather permitting, it only stops for 45 minutes and it is very crowded with both adults and children seeking reading material. Mrs. Norwood said the parents and children verv much appreciate the assistance of the newspaper in getting the material the students need both for projects and for extra reading on assignments.

A Halifax man, Raymond

Shaw, of 5 Forrest Hill Drive, Halifax, is collecting books for the library. Mr. Shaw, a senior citizen who served nearly five years in prisoner of war camps in Germany during World War Two said: "I am so sick of reading about wars and hearing about strife in the world. I am happy I can donate some of my books to this school."

He is donating part of his own book collection which is mainly for adults. Neighbors and one store keeper have already offered him books of particular interest elementary school children.

He now has over 45 books collected which will be picked up by tish buyer Daniel Kenny, of Westport.

Mr. Shaw was captured by the Germans while on board the Imperial Oil tanker Canadolite off the west coast of Africa in 1941. A native of St. George's Bay, Nfld., he was a fireman on the ship when she was boarded by the Germans and taken into occupied France.

Power Board Seeking Approval To Borrow

Digby Town Council, Monday night, gave support to a request from the Digby County Power Board that the act be amended to permit the Board to borrow an additional $150,000.

The request did not specify what the money would be used for but Councillor Ellis figured it would be used to carry current accounts. Before proceeding with its plans, the Board has yet to get approval from the three other municipal units (Weymouth, Clare, District of Digby).

There were no objections to the motion, but Councillor Chipman had suggested that a recent study on the power board should be considered first.

In other business, a motion was passed to extend the period of borrowing for the $1,840,000 sewage system loan, for a period of not more than 12 months.

The town agreed to a request from the CBC to lease a piece of land near the Hydro property for $500 annually over five years, with two one-year options thereafter.

A town resident was informed he would not have to pay a frontage charge on sewer line running along his property, since he would be unable to hook into the system. Councillor VanTassel voted against a motion to this effect.

Charles Haliburton, president of the Digby Board of Trade, informed council that the Board has formed a tourism committee in the hopes it would be prepared if asked to take over operations of the tourist bureau. He noted, however, that financial aid would be required in such an event.

The town's arbitration committee is to meet with the municipality's airport committee regarding possible participation in the upcoming COPA convention.

Charles Haliburton and Robert Wigmore were elected to vacant posts on the Water Commission. The two other nominees were Alfred Boutilier and Eugene Dexter.

A sponsor will be sought to give the town representation in the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival. Councillor Robertson voted against a motion to advertise for the sponsor via the local media.

A motion from Councillor Eileen Chipman, which would have required all taxi drivers using the downtown stand to pay a fee of $50, was defeated. Mayor MacNaughton voted to break a 3-3 deadlock.

Voting against were Councillors Robertson, VanTassel and Ellis; Councillors Chipman, MacNutt and Journeay voted in Mayor MacNaughton was appointed to the urban school board in place of Councillor Robertson.

Miss Mary Marshall, Montagne Row, Digby, secretary of the Admiral Digby Historical Society and Museum was the 100,000 th visitor to view the Canada West Museumobile which set up at the Evangeline Mall, Digby for several days last week. Miss Marshall who had been a school teacher in Montreal returned to her native Digby on retirement and has made use of her retirement by educational and historical pursuits of benefit to the several communities in the area.

Jerry Rakobowchuk, manager of the museum on tour, was pleased that their 100,000 th visitor was someone so interested in museum work and was also pleased that an estimated more than 2000 visitors signed the log on their tour while the museum was in the Digby area.

Six interpreters were with Mr. Rakobowchuk on the tour. Those greeting Miss Marshall, the 100,000th visitor were Michael Tymchuk and Miss Patricia McLean, Ottawa.

The Secretary of State for External Affairs, the Hon. Don Jamieson, and the Minister of Fisheries and the Environment, the Hon. Romeo LeBlanc, announced that a Reciprocal Fisheries Agreement between Canada and the United States of America has been concluded, and that the following Joint Communique has been agreed for release in Ottawa and Washington,

"The United States and Canada today signed in Washington a Reciprocal Fisheries Agreement to permit continuation of fishing by fishermen of each country off the coasts of the other for 1977, following extension of their respective fisheries jurisdiction to 200 miles. The agreement vas signed on the Canadian side by L.H. Legault, Director General, International Directorate, Department of Fisheries and the Environment, and on the United States side by Ambassador Rozanne L. Ridgeway, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Oceans and Fisheries Affairs. The agreement will enter into force upon completion of internal proceedings by both sides.

The agreement was concluded following discussions between President Carter and Prime Minister Trudeau. The two leaders concurred that a fisheries agreement for 1977 should be concluded on the basis of the same spirit of cooperation which marked their overall discussions. They also reviewed the principles which would ensure that the interests of each in the fishing zone of the other are accommodated reciprocally for the remainder of this year.

The two sides looked forward to longer term arrangements which are yet to be negotiated. They welcomed the signature of the agreement as an important step in the evolution of their fisheries relationship and as a contribution to their close ties as neighbouring states."

WHY INSULATE?

Why insulate? Why get excited about the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation Home Insulation Grant and- or the Home Insulation Loan Program offered by the Nova Scotia Housing Commission? Our reasons could be selfish. The program seems to have every aspect of a moneysaver for you and for me.

The C.M.H.C. grant and the N.S.H.C. loan did not really have to be launched to make most people aware of the benefits of insulating. Many people have already done just that, others have known the benefits but neglect or lack of funds prevented carrying out such a program. Oil was not knowingly scarce, electricity was fairly reasonable in price so many merely lived on with comforts of life as they were.

Times have changed. Inflation has struck. Prices are high. Money just won't stretch. What is worse is that supplies of electricity and oil have dwindling. Each of us has some responsibility to conserve,. So insulate is the seemingly sensible thing to do in any case and with the CMHC and N.S.H.C. support, there probably is no time more opportune than at present. There is an out-and-out gift of $350 to $500 and then there is a loan to $1500 if needed.

According to the literature put out by the Energy, Mines and Resources Canada called "keeping the heat in", it could be possible to reduce fuel bills to half with a well insulated and comfortable house. Drafts from windows doors, cold walls, attics and cellars can be eliminated. Insulating is considered one of the best investments a home maker can make and the booklet goes to great length to describe each step and each method deemed practical for each type of

For those who wish to have help to prepare their homes to withstand the chilly blasts of another winter must first of all get an application form for the CMHC's grant. When this application for the grant is accepted by CMHC and the contractor and material approved; the applicant can apply for a loan if desired. The grants made available are $350 for materials installed by the applicant or up to one third of the cost (maximum $500) for work done by a contractor. The maximum loan is $1500 or $3,000 for conversion from electric

The building which comes under the above requirements and benefits could be a residential unit in Nova Scotia; self contained family housing units; buildings containing hostel accomodation and mobile homes. They must be permanently occupied (not summer home), occupied before January 1, 1977. The types of work coming under these stipulations include insulation of ceilings, basement, walls; weather stripping; windows; storm doors, etc.

In this issue of The Digby Courier appears an advertisment outlining the governments' insulation proposals. See it as well as advertisments inserted by dealers. Remember all materials must be acceptable to CMHC and the local supplier or contractor is familiar with the standards required.

-Remember when church services were first broadcast by radio? There were fears that people would sit home and not attend church services. Much the same sentiments were heard about telephones back in 1879. Quoting from the Ottawa Citizen of November 24, 1879 "The only trouble anticipated is that people who are not invalids may desire telephonic connection with their churches and eventually it will result in clergymen ascending their pulpits on the Sabbath to preach to a wooden box, while congregations rest comfortably at their respective firesides and receive the usual Sunday instruction without experiencing the fatigue of walking to church and bowing to the contribution plate." What prompted the Ottawa Citizen's alarm was that the service from the Dominion Methodist Church had been transmitted by telephone to the bedside of an invalid. In 1879 it was necessary for the Citizen story to describe the telephone for the phone was still a novelty in most Canadian communities.

Fred Robinson of Digby spoke highly of the Francis family and brought greetings from the Robinson family.

Among the letters of congratulations was one from Honorable Gerald Regan, Premier of Nova Scotia, who on behalf of the government and himself extended wishes for good health and happiness. examine again, the substance of a "good education", how it may be made available to all and how we may assist our citizens to become of greater value to themselves and to Canada.

The public, given the opportunity to make such a scrutiny may well discover that our schools are better appointed and staffed than ever before. Our programs are carefully planned and allow for considerable enrichment where appropriate; and our provincial standards projects show little or none of the decline that is being alleged against the system.

We may also discover that we have a problem of priorities, rather than basics, and further planning, based on these priorities may well be necessary.

Education Week may not determine or settle the direction of all priorities. It can, however, be a time for many people to become more involved and more aware of educational needs. I hope, and urge parents, teachers, pupils and 'the public' to participate fully in the activities marking the occasion of Education Week 1977.

event was Welly Halliday who spoke on fishing in the area with special emphasis on the weir fishing industry. He also showed an interesting audio visual presentation on the measures taken by some fishermen to ensure that they land top quality fish for market. The film was of special interest to the audience since parts of the film featured Digby Neck fishermen. His talk was followed by a number of questions by the Cubs and Dads which were well responded to by Mr. Halliday.

During the Banquet some of the Cubs were presented with stars and badges which they had earned during the month of February. Scott McMillan was the recipient of a black star while David Reid, Stephen Hazel and Matthew Raymond were awarded red stars.

Sincere thanks were extended to the mothers who did an outstanding job of preparing such tasty dishes, to the kitchen staff who kept the ball rolling during the meal, and Mr. Welly Halliday for the most interesting talk on a subject which is of special interest to everyone in this area.

The service was divided into three parts. Part number one which consisted mostly of various readings was entitled "Love Gives Hope" Part two, "Love Risks Life " contained the main address of the evening. Two duet numbers were sung by Eva Mae Cromwell and Clayton Langford. They were "If that isn't Love" and "Amazing Grace."

Part three of the service was entitled "Love Becomes Action". During the service many hymns were sung and just previous to a Prayer offered by Mrs. David Howlett of the Salvation Army, the hymn "Faith of our Fathers" was sung. Periods of Silent Prayer were observed. The offering was received by the ushers of the evening, Mrs. Celeste Hall, Mrs. Lois VanTassell and Mrs. Frances Adams also Joseph Hattie who represented their respective churches. Anglican, United, Wesleyan. and Roman Catholic.

Patchwork Pieces

by Hannah Dale

This patchwork piece is coming from Edmonton, Alberta. There is just a small amount of dirty grey snow here, with patches of brown grass on the lawns. The sidewalks are icy and there are puddles of water on the roads. The temperature is well above freezing during the day. At night it is somewhat cooler. This is an unusual winter as far as weather is concerned. Nova Scotia must have received some of the snow that should be out here. The plane ride out here was my first experience flying. The trip from Yarmouth to Halifax was not long. But the wonder of looking down onto soft cotton wool clouds is difficult to imagine until you have actually seen it. Occasionally there would be an open space in the clouds, and away down below could be seen roads, rivers, houses and trees, unbelievably small and far away. After arriving in Halifax there was a three hour wait for the plane going out West. The airport is very large with many people milling about. There are lunch rooms, and snack bars, and plenty of places to sit and relax. There is also a gift shop with many beautiful handcrafts.

President Reports on Digby Neck Fire and Recreation Centre

Commission met with the heads of the various committees, that have been formed by the firemen to help in putting the Digby Neck Firehall-Recreation centre to good use. The President of the Commission, Sidney Westcott, outlined the feelings of the Commission and made the following statement:

"About a year and a half ago, the Digby Neck Fire Commissioners came into action. It was emphasized. at the time, that the Commission was necessary in order to have a Fire Department and the Department was needed in order to have an Ausiliary. One cannot work without the other

Our task was to plan a Firehall-Recreation centre that would benefit all of Digby Neck. We involved the entire community in our fund-raising effort and we asked them to support us in obtaining a fire-tax levy. The public responded as well as the federal and provincial governments. We have our building and now is the time to plan for the future.

Initially it will be the firemen that do the planning and carry on with these We hope that members of the community will join in these plans and become members in either the Department or the Auxiliary. It is not necessary to be a member of either, in order to be part of the overall picture. We want, and need, every available person that will

Rental for the hall is based on the use of same. We expect that any plan will give space for Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, Brownies, etc. as well as time for Senior Citizens. This is for the community and is to be used by same. The Commission has asked for one night for their use for the bingo parties'. This is the only business that the Commission is/in and all proceeds go to the general fund. These funds are used for maintaining the hall and getting equipment, etc. for the Department. As per our bylaws, given us by the

The Digby Neck Fire Province when we incorporated, we must apply for all loans, and grants, that may come from any federal. provincial or municipal unit. At no time do we intend to overlook any funds that may be available. If anyone knows of monies that might be had, please let us know. We will do our best.

> We feel that a plan, for use of the building, is necessary. The part that is designated as 'Firehall' is to be run by the firemen and they are responsible to the Chief. In turn the Chief is responsible to the Commission. A room has been designated for use of the Ladies Auxiliary and they are responsible for the Canteen. Kitchen cabinets have been donated by the Auxiliary and will be furnished with dishes. It is suggested that these cabinets be locked and any use of dishes, by others, must be paid for to the Auxiliary. The kitchen must be available to any group renting the hall, if facilities are required.

In our plans for the Hall, it is requested that no bottles be brought in by anyone. This has been relayed to the Chief and it is hoped that the firemen will use restraint in their section. When an affair is planned and an open bar is expected, the committee keeps the bar, etc. under strict supervision. We do not want to become known as a haven for drinkers. When plans are made for use, by others, the above must be made clear to them. Rental rates should reflect the use. not abuse, by persons already paying their fair share of fire-tax.

All youth activities should be properly supervised. At the present this means firemen, but they surely can call on others in the community. Get others interested and together we will have something that we can look to with pride. This is a first for Digby Neck and we'd like to see it used to capacity."

The meeting was opened for questions and answers. Many questions were asked and it was felt that answers were satisfactory. The Commission looks forward to a good working relationship with the various committees.

Line Losses Major Factor For High Electrical Costs

The report by Canadian British Engineering Consultants on the operations of the Digby County Power Board has cited line losses as one of the major factors contributing to the high cost of electrical energy in Digby County.

Line losses, according to this report, "have a very direct impact on the rate structure."

Line losses are losses in electrical energy as it is carried from the generator to the consumer. These losses arise from underrated insulators, undersized transmission lines, and a variety of other causes.

This report notes that line losses in the whole Digby County distribution system average about 16.8 per cent. The Nova Scotia Power Corporation normally exof nine percent.

The rural utilities in the District of Digby and the District of Clare, suffered the greater line losses at 17.8 per cent and 18.5 per cent. respectively. Line losses in Weymouth are marginally lower at 11.1 per cent, while in Digby Town, these losses total only 1.2 per cent.

In lay terms, these line losses mean higher electrical charges. According to these consultants, the line losses "increase the cost of power...decrease your system's capacity...and increase further as demand rises."

The consultants are quite explicit in their remarks to the Power Board, "in our opinion, you can and should reduce your line losses." In translating these needed improvements into costs, the consultants have estimated a capital requirement of $2.58 million to bring line losses down to an average of 10 per cent. Almost all of these capital funds would be spent in upgrading the distribution nects line losses in the order system in the geographic area of Digby and Clare Districts. Only a small amount is required in Weymouth, while in Digby Town, there is no requirement.

> It is noted by the consultants, that a portion of

to be generated from higher electrical rates.

The subscribers to the Digby County Power Board face only two viable alternatives: to have the Nova Scotia Power Corporation serve the entire area or to stick with a revamped Power Board.

From the prospective of local control, a redesigned Power Board is viable only if it generates its own power. At present, all energy these capital funds will have requirements are purchased from the NSPC.

> There may be many opportunities to generate power in the Digby area. The NSPC generating facilities at Weymouth are underutilized, if used at all. At its present capacity of 25,000 kilowatts, the Weymouth installation can more than meet the entire electrical needs of the geographical area of Digby County.

Legionnaires Host Ste Anne's Tonight

The Digby Legionnaires will host College Sainte Anne in an exhibition match at the Digby Forum tonight at 7:30 p.m.

On Sunday, March 13, the Legionnaires travel to Spryfield where they meet the Chebucto Atlantics in the second game of a two-game total goal series in the Nova Scotia Junior C playdowns. Game time is set for 3 p.m.

The Legionnaires won the series opener 4-1 on their home ice over a week ago and although missing several of their regular players are still considered a threat for the Junior C crown. If the Legionnaires should get by the Atlantics it is possible that they will have a couple of their players back before the next playoff round ends.

Win Plaque

Girls Senior Basketball Team, Islands Consolidated School, has been on the "go" this past couple of months. They have been to Bridgetown, Annapolis and Wolfville to name a few places where they have played games. Although not always the winner, the team came home from their last trip from Wolfville where they were overnight guests of their opponents elated as they won a plaque in the games there. The boys basketball team had won a trophy recently so the girls are not far behind them as far as the winning goes. Good luck girls in your future games.

One Hundred Ten Children Can Win Prizes

More than two hundred thousand school children in Nova Scotia are invited to participate in an essay and poster-art competition to foster awareness of travel attractions in their province.

Hon. Maurice E. Delory, Minister of Tourism, announced here that the competition is on now and ends April 15.

It is to be part of a Travel Industry Awareness Program sponsored by the Department of Tourism, in co-operation with Nova Scotia's travel industry, and is endorsed by the Department of Education.

The contest was announced in Joseph Howe School, Halifax.

School children from primary grades through high school are eligible to enter the six-week competition.

Youngsters can submit artwork and essays. Individual and classroom entries will be accepted for consideration by a panel of judges.

"In inviting students to participate," said Dr. DeLory, "they not only will become more aware of the role of the travel sector in their province, but will also be encouraged to learn more about Nova Scotia in classroom work."

It is the first such province-wide competition. There will be 110 winners' awards of cash, scholarships, plaques and gift certificates. Some awards will go on the road as part of a travel industry awareness program mobile display.

Six hundred and fifty contest kits will be sent to school administrators throughout Nova Scotia.

When her moment arrives, she breaks through the great ocean waves to find herself near a ship. Upon the bow she spies a handsome young prince and falls madly in love with him. When the Enchantress of the Seven Seas comes seeking shipwrecked sailors, the Mermaid saves the prince from an awesome ocean storm. carrying him to the safety of the beach. ROCKY MOUNTAINS NORTH AMERICA'S LAST WILDERNESS

Geologic and biologic time follow different clocks, and the Rocky Mountains of North America, though over 300 million years old, are still considered to be a very young chain. In the next episode of "Lorne Greene's Last of the Wild", "The Last Refuge", telecasting Sunday, March 13, 6-6:30 EST. on ATV looks at these geological teenagers, and the animals that inhabit their slopes.

Teachers Local Sponsors Education Week Display

The Digby Local Nova Scotia Teachers Union is observing Education Week by a display of student's work and information on various educational fields conducted in the Elementary Schools of the area including Barton, Smith's Cove, St. Patricks and Digby Elementary. The display was arranged at the Evangeline Shopper's Mall on Friday and will continue to Friday night of this week to provide the public with the opportunity of viewing the children's work and converse with those supervising the display at the time.

Of special interest is the continuous moving film of local schools and the students, giving students an opportunity to see themselves at work and parents an opportunity to see their children in action. The film is directed and commented upon by Barry Jennings, teacher.

All classes from Grades I to VI, also the Digby Junior High School have work on display, including Resource Maps of Nova Scotia, which teach the students on transportation development.

Among other subjects are writing, spelling, history, geography, and other subjects dealing with animals of the past, seasons etc. The Digby Regional High School had particularly a display of crafts, woodwork, ceramics, quilts, rugs, etc. String craft by students was on display.

Arranged on one table are three publications. These are the Smith's Cove Consolidated School Education Week Chronicle, the Barton

The Digby Local Nova Scotia Teachers Union has also gathered work submitted by students which appears in this issue of The Digby Courier.

In commenting on the Digby Local N.S. Teachers Union Education Week project Mr. Jennings noted that the local Union had changed the Education Week theme from "Back To Basics. What. Why and How" to "Back to Basics Plus", since they felt schools did not at anytime get away from the basics.

"Hi teacher", said David, came zooming by. It was going so fast it blew Flossie and her friend high in the air finally when she came down she didn't know where she was, neither did her friend. So they looked around. They couldn't find anything usual so she just jumped on the next jet that came, luckily it was going slower.

When she was about ten yards from a mountain she jumped, but there was one piece of snow that was blocking an avalance, she just hit that exact piece and down went the avalance. Flossie got away just in time. A few minutes later she heard shouting from the middle of the mountain. She went down to see what had happened. When she got down she saw that the avalance had wrecked three houses. She went down a few more yards. It was very hot then, she saw why. She was near Canada. She was near the Rocky Mountains. So she just went up the mountain.

WHAT HERITAGE MEANS TO ME By Timmy Brown, Grade 5

It means for me to know what it was like when your mother's mother was a child. It means studying about olden days, my grandmother said that every thing was hard to do and that they never had the things we have today. It also means studying my ancestors, who of which pioneered this land, and studying the history of my forefathers and what they did. Things were cheap in those days because there wasn't much money to go around. We have a Heritage Day display in Miss Hersey's room, it consists of several items such as: an old velvet tophat belonging to Sherri Johnson's great grandfather, an old fashioned eggbeater from the year 1891 plus we have old fashioned postcards, old fashioned spectacles, old clay jars and old fashioned photographs. That is what Heritage means to me.

Reflecting To 1947

The plans for Rural High Schools for Digby County pupils continued in the news of The Digby Courier for March 13, 1947. The annual session of the Digby Municipal School Board discussed the matter thoroughly and made long strides, according to the news. Meetings were being called with secretaries and trustees of outside Digby sections with the Digby area containing the sections of Smith's Cove, Conway, Hill Grove, Marshalltown, Brighton-Barton, part of Plympton, Acaciaville, Culloden, Bay View, Mount Pleasant, Roxville, North Range, South Range East and South Range West. The Weymouth area was to include, Gilbert's Cove, Ashmore, Weymouth Point, Weymouth North, Weymouth Falls, Sissiboo Falls, Danvers, Riverdale, Plympton Station, Doucetteville and part of Plympton . Areas were also defined for Digby Neck and Bear River. Teachers were in short supply according to the report of the school inspector, T.A.M.Kirk. At least two schools were vacant since November and as high as eight had been vacant for some period. There were 23 teachers with only permissive licenses. The Municipal School Board granted the Town School Board $2500 for tuition for students attending school from Acaciaville, Culloden, Smith's Cove, Bay View and Mount Pleasant.

Town employees were on strike for a ten per cent raise. The strike was short lived, it having been settled that evening after announced at five o'clock p.m. The increase was granted. That gave the three of the streets and water departments sixty and sixty-five cents per hour.

A petition was circulated in the Riverdale area to have the lines of the Digby County Power Board extended through that area. The petition was to be presented to the Municipal Hydro Distribution System for the Municipality of Clare. Extension of lines through New Tusket had already been considered.

An unusual accident happened to an ox owned by Adolph Martin when it fell through the ice at Lake d'Afrique. The ox was hauling logs and ran away following an old logging road which led across the lake. About 300 feet from the shore the ice gave away. Help was called by passing D.A.R. sectionsmen but rescue was impossible. The ox had to be slain.

A fine addition was made to the business section of Weymouth when a 65x45 foot garage, Weymouth Motors Ltd. opened with K.M. Hankinson president and manager.

Transportation facilities on Digby Neck, particularly the ferry service at Petite and Grand Passage, came in for considerable discussion at the Digby Board of Trade. (Transportation by Petite Passage ferry was a problem on Monday, February 28, 1977 for councillors to get to meetings

INSHORE FISHERMEN DETERMINED

Fishermen of the Digby County Inshore Fishermen's Association are determined to stand together to the very end to protect their very existence in livelihood. The proposal advanced was Regulations relating to the catching of herring on the South side of the Bay of Fundy, have been a contentious issue for several years. The regulations afthe Northern side of the Bay of Fundy appear to be substantially different than those on the South side of the Bay of Fundy and it is the view of this organization that the regulations discriminate against land based and inshore fishermen resident in Nova Scotia.

During 1976, members of this Association experienced substantial difficulties with operators of herring seiners. These herring seiners are

During the 1976 season. members of our association involved in the gill netting of herring had a number of their nets destroyed within three miles of the coast line; they saw the market for food sardine market flooded with area of Digby County weirs capable of ranging over broad areas and earning their living elsewhere. At the same time weir operators in Digby County were forced to recover what they could from the sale of their catches to fishmeal plants. The proposals which we believe would be of great positive advantage to the inshore fishing industry in Digby County would affect the operation of an estimated half dozen seiners which is a very small proportion of the overall seining fleet and which seiners could reasonably be expected to earn an adequate return in spite of this policy proposal.

It is our belief that the policy which we propose will permit weir fishermen and gill net operators to become more viable and that these methods of catching herring will permit in the overall scene a more productive herring fishery. It will increase the productivity of hand-line operators and trawl operators within the area. It will protect stationary gear from destruction and will permit the level of the herring population to increase to provide better feed

This herring and in particular the association therefore proposes that the apfish caught in the immediate propriate authorities of the Department of Fisheries and but caught by seiners Environment institute a three mile limit in the herring fishery restraining herring seiners from operating within three miles of the south coastline of the Bay of Fundy over an area extending from Point Prim in the east to Boar's Head light in the west and that such restraint or restriction be in effect for the months of June, July and August of each year."

According to a spokesman for the fishermen there had been rumors that the government personnel were not looking favorably at the proposal and this important meeting has been called for Saturday evening so that they can impress the powers that be that the fishermen are determined to stand together for their very existence.

Other subjects to be discussed on Saturday evening are mesh size for cod ends and the holding of two licenses per vessel, such as for scalloping and ground fishing instead of a choice of one or the other.

It is possible, the spokesman said, that a proposal out of a lobster fishery meeting might be ready for presentation also on Saturday.

Investigating More Ways To Attract Tourists To Basin

The Annapolis Basin district may yet be some time away from having a Marina here, but ABTRAC, the local tourist and recreation organization, is looking into ways to improve conditions on The Basin.

At this month's meeting of the council, the members decided to investigate various possibilities such as setting out courtesy buoys and providing water and gas service to boats. Members of the council feel access to, and use of the Basin, are important to the development of tourism potential in this area.

Another committee has Travel agents from New been formed to arrange a schedule for use of the former Prescesky property by local craftsmen during the summer months. Lance Woolaver advised the group that the property would be available if a program could be drawn up and run at no

Coline Stands Behind

South West Nova Liberal Coline Campbell has complained about the transfer of lobster licences from small boats to herring seiners, and the resultant encroachment on the inshore fishery in her

Speaking during a meeting of the Commons standing committee on fisheries, the Liberal MP said the transfer of licences to the seiners has resulted in a "concentrated effort" on the inshore fishery.

As a result, she complained, the inshore fishermen in her area were experiencing reduced lobster catches.

Miss Campbell said she could not understand why the fisheries department would permit herring seiners to take part in the lobster fishery within the 50-mile inshore area.

This was especially hard to understand, she added, in light of the fact that the herring quota in the Chedabucto Bay area has not been taken.

Douglas Johnston, director-general of fisheries for the Maritime region said there had been a few transfer of lobster licences to the seiners, but that practice had now been "frozen", pending a study of the impact on their activities on the inshore fishery.

Mr. Johnston said the rationale behind allowing the seiners to obtain the licences was to enable a greater catch of lobsters in the smaller boats of the inshore fishery were unable to go. . If the department was

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN ON

As noted by a news story in this issue of The Digby Courier, the Red Cross Campaign for the month of March is well in progress. What does Red Cross do with the dollars you give to the organization when it holds its annual drive? If you knew, you, might decide to stretch the amount of your donation to double its size.

There, of course, is the Blood Donor program, but what else. For instance, did you know that last year some 25,000 Nova Scotians, both able and disabled, learned to enjoy water sports safely because of courses offered by Red Cross Water Safety instructors?

Did you know Red Cross loaned over 8,000 wheelchairs, pairs of crutches and other sickroom equipment aids to people who needed them? This free service saved a lot of people

Did you know that over 9,300 people took courses that prepared them for coping with illness and health emergencies in the home? Or that many senior citizens entered programs that drew them back into the life of the community? Or that 50,000 young people learned to be better citizens by working on Red Cross projects?

The list goes on and on. Red Cross is everywhere in Nova Scotia, though only a few of us realize it. What it does affects us all.

BACK TO BASICS PLUS

Education Week is over. We can commend the teachers and students in the area for their efforts to bring the subject of Education before the general public during the week and we were pleased to be able to devote space both to the students and those in charge of the Education Week program. We regret that all the Education Week submissions to the paper could not be accommodated last week. It is our hope that this issue will continue the Education Week submissions. After all, education is a continuous thing and not something we shut off at 12 midnight on a specific seventh day.

The theme of Education Week was "Back To Basics. What? Why? How? ". We noted the Digby theme was slightly changed to "Back to Basics Plus". We were more or less pleased to see that theme used. If there is one thing which disturbs us is the habit of going to extremes, swinging the pendulum full speed to left and then to right or vice versa. We would hate to see our education system return entirely to the old basics or methods even if we can agree that some move in that direction is necessary. There is definitely some problem in reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic. On the otherhand when was there an age when high school students, for example, were wiser, more intelligent and capable than the present age. A few frills can enrich the school and future lives of the elementary and high school students of today. How about keeping the best of both systems, so to speak. They each have their merits. The theme "Back to Basics Plus" sounds most reasonable and expresses a point that can well be taken.

Hodge Podge

So we have dog problems! So have others. For instance, a recent meeting of the council of the Municipality of Lunenburg, spent most of Tuesday afternoon and all day on Wednesday discussing dogs and dog by-laws. For 20 years the dog problem has been an issue with them according to their weekly newspaper. Several outside Council spoke on the dog problem suggesting the only way to curb the increasing problem of stray dogs was to allow only licensed people to sell dogs and to provide for suitable elimination of unwanted strays. Summer visitors, they felt should be required to have licenses for their dogs. In one case, it was noted, that a four-year-old girl had been dragged 100 feet by a stray dog. One visitor to Council reminded Council that it cost the Municipality $200 to prosecute someone for not controlling their dog and the fine was only $10.

Letter To The Editor

Opinions expressed in the Letter to the Editor column in this newspaper are not necessarily those of the editor.

Dear Editor;

I have a complaint and don't believe I am the only

We are asked for more hydro money. Then we have terrible power. Just a week ago I had to have a new motor for the furnace (low voltage). To-day off again twice for a few minutes each time. The electric clock on the stove gone.

Lately had the side by-side freezer looked Then over what I usually pay for power on top of that now extra I've been told I needed 100 and 200 watt bulbs on account of my eyes to use. I am so glad I didn't get them. Talk of power going up, stopped me. You only have so much to live on and a lot of people not that

Its just terrible and half of its not needed. If you got any saved for burial expenses have to be used, I think to help out.

Phones walk of going up and why?

Then the ferries off so much, you never know if you can go away and have one to get back here on or not when you get to a wharf to come back. If a bridge causeway had been done, yes a big cost, but a fare and more tourists and traffic year round would pay off and no engine troubles and that would mean a better ferry we'd hope for this run.

Open Letter To A

Teenager

(The Police Department at Pendleton, Oregon has relayed the following "Open Letter to a Teenager," which had been issued over the name of the Denver Juvenile Court to the Oregon Council on Alcohol Problems.) Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teenagers; What can we do? Where can we go?

The answer is go home! Hang the storm windows, paint the woodwork, rake the leaves, mow the lawn, shovel the walk, wash the car, learn to cook, scrub some floors, repair the sink, build a boat, get a job . Help the Church, visit the sick, assist the poor, study your lessons, and then when you are through- and not too tired- read a book.

Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your town does not owe you recreational facilities. The world does not owe you a living. You owe the world something. You owe it your time and talents so that no one will be at war, or in poverty, or sick or lonely

In plain simple words, grow up! Quit being a cry baby; get out of your dream world and develop a backbone, not a wishbone. Start acting like a man or a lady.

Town Urged To Get Behind Tourism

The key to success in the tourist destination area pilot project to be undertaken in the Annapolis Basin district is communications, Col. Smale, executive manager of the AVABT, told members of Digby Town Council Monday night. Tell the visitors what to do; what to see; where to eat, he ad-

Mr. Smale attended the town's monthly council session for a double purpose. Before going into his discussion on tourism, he asked that council continue its financial support of the Affiliated Boards of Trade.

But most of his time was devoted to the discussion on tourism. He stressed the importance of tourism to this area and urged the town to work with the Annapolis Basin Tourist & Recreation Council (ABTRAC) to make the tourist destination area a success.

had been taped for presentation on CKDY the following morning. Mr. Emerson also expressed his thanks to the five or six members who had assisted in the two work sessions held in the evenings at the Canadian Bank of Commerce when the Red Cross kits were prepared for the canvassers, many of whom were contacted during these meetings. It was further reported that the Campaign chairman, Mr. Savage, had secured the assistance of the Rebekah Lodges in Westport, Freeport and Tiverton to canvass in the Islands.

Reports of the active committees were presented, that of Women's Work being given by Mrs. H. M. Warne, who stated that a shipment of materials for sewing had recently been received, consisting of 50 yeards of pink and blue flannelette for baby blankets and 33 yards terry for towels. A donation from Mrs. Alice Winfield had also been received for the new sales cabinet which is being set up at Red Cross Headquarters. This consists of three complete baby sets jacket, bonnet and bootees each, and one baby afghan, all beautifully crocheted and much appreciated. Mrs. Warne made reference to the two beautiful quilts which were in the frames at that time, one being the intricate "Grandmother's Flower Garden" pattern, pieced and donated by Mrs. Wm. Sutcliffe, which would be sold by ticket when completed.

The report of the Sickroom Loan Committee, prepared by Mrs. Winfield, showed that one wheelchair and two pairs of crutches had been loaned during the past month, while one bed and mattress, also two pairs of crutches, had been returned.

The Ways and Means Committee report of Mrs. Allen Harris stated that the sum of $12.81 had been received from the weekly teas in February. In accordance with last month's report of the need for more walkers and crutches, the matter had been investigated and the purchase made of 2 walkers and 2 pairs of crutches, complete with pads and rubber tips, at a total cost of $74.82.

In conversation with the Blood Donor Chairman, E. B. Tufts, Mr. Emerson had been informed that the winter Blood Donor Clinic.

CORRECTION:

The first paragraph of Digby Town Council story last week stated "The Digby Town Council gave support to a request from the Digby County Power Board that the Act be amended to permit the Board to borrow an additional $150,000". Councillor Gordon Ellis has advised the Digby Courier, and hereby its readers, that the sum was not a $150,000 additional, but $75,000 previously, plus $75,000 now bringing the total borrowing to $150,000.

Mr. Smale also suggested that Council accept the challenge of making Scallop Day a major festival. Cooperation with other local organizations in this effort could bring significant financial rewards, he said.

Referring to destination area project, he noted the AVABT is prepared to provide an additional staff member as a guide to local points of interest, or to keep the town's tourist bureau open longer during the tourist season.

He stressed the impact of tourism in this area, stating that tourists spend an estimated $11,600,000 in the Annapolis Valley region annually.

The Colonel noted that designating major destination areas in the province is a new phase of the department of tourism's tourism policy. The idea was put forth by ABTRAC, the group which has since devised a 7-day trip routes aimed at keeping / tourists around for at least one day longer.

A sum of $8,000 has been put into an advertising program (shared jointly by the department and AB-TRAC) aimed at this area. As well, Mr. Smale said, negotiations are underway to expansion of Clements Wildlife Park). Also, he added, the department has written to tourist services in the States pointing out alternative services available (i.e.

Speaks At Charlottetown

Charlottetown Scotia women's rights activist took a broad swipe Friday at what she called blatent sexism in education.

"Blatant sexism as restrictive as racism in the development of healthy attitudes in our children as such is totally unacceptable today,' to Canadians which had been under consideration, was decided by Headquarters to be inadvisable at that time. Mr. Tufts stated that a Spring Clinic would be held, the date to be announced later.

Although Mrs. Darres had no report on Red Cross work to give at the present time, the members were sorry to joint federal-provincial advisory councils on the status of women meeting said. "For seven years the elimination of sexism in education has been a primary goal among women's groups in this country. This goal can be achieved only governments establish this as a high priority." Mrs. Logan said schools must have the co-operation of all Canadians if they are to overcome the problem of sexism in the schools.

The concern for Nova Scotia's situation is based on two statistics, both of which cause serious concern among most women there, learn that both Miss MacAdams and Mrs. Burnham, of the Headquarters staff had suffered falls and were out of the office at the present time. Regrets and best wishes were expressed.

The meeting adjourned for afternoon tea, which was served by the Ways and Means Committee.

Statement Of John M. Buchanan, P.C. Leader Of Nova Scotia

I again wish to bring to the attention of the Federal Government and the Provincial Government the plight of our inshore fisherman. It is not right that our own draggers, and foreign draggers in particular, are permitted within 50 miles of the shoreline to ravage the inshore banks. It is imperative that the 12 mile limit for dragging should be extended to 30 to 50 miles in order to assist our inshore fishermen. By extending the inshore limit, the ravaging of the inshore banks would cer se. I have previously called upon the Federal Fisheries Minister and the Provincial Government to take the necessary

Always understanding and kind. She suffered much in silence Her spirit did not bend.

She faced her pain with courage Until the very end. She fought so hard to stay QUESTION: Due to the bad weather it took me 2 weeks to put out my lobster pots. I did not make any money before the third week, when I hauled and sold my lobsters. What do I show on my weekly report form for the first two weeks that I was setting my traps, also what period should my expenses be considered?

ANSWER: Upon the sale of your fish your earnings should be reported equally to the number of weeks it took you to make the catch. For expenses you may deduct one of the following.

1) the wages you paid out to your helpers plus 25 percent of your operating expenses or

2) you can deduct your helper's wages plus your actual expenses provided you keep records to show all your expenses

If you have not sold your fish then you should estimate your earnings, deduct your expenses as per above and report your earnings equally in the number of weeks it took to make the catch.

QUESTION: What should I do if I have already sent in my two week report form covering the period I was dumping my lobster pots and reported no earnings?

ANSWER: You should contact your nearest Unemployment Insurance Office so amended report forms may be sent out to you. Upon receipt of these forms you should complete them showing your earnings forward declarations to the Regional Pay Centre where the required corrections will be made.

QUESTION: What is the earliest that a fisherman with all fishing contributions stamps) may qualify for benefits?

ANSWER: The earliest possible date a fisherman may qualify for benefits would be the Sunday of the week which the first of November falls. If you were working as a year-round fisherman on a designated vessell you could possibly qualify at an earlier date. For this, if you are not sure, you should contact your nearest UIC office.

QUESTION: Can fishing contributions and regular contributions (stamps) be mixed and used together?

ANSWER: When you apply for benefits you should send all your records of employment from all the employers for whom you have worked in the last 52 weeks or since your last claim.

QUESTION: If you have both types of contributions will my weekly rate of benefit be determined on my regular or fishing contributions?

ANSWER: Your rate of benefit will be determined by averaging your insurable earnings during the last 20 weeks of employment. This could include both your regular and fishing records of employment. If you do not supply all your records of employment then you could get either overpaid or underpaid. If you are overpaid then you will be required to pay back to the Unemployment Commission the difference between what you were entitled and what you actually received. If you are underpaid then you are not receiving your correct rate of benefit and therefore you are losing part of what you are entitled to.

Fishermen's Association Gets $50,000

Nova Scotia Fisheries Minister, Hon. Dan Reid, M.D., has announced that the Provincial Government will be providing additional assistance in a renewed effort to organize the province's fishermen.

The funding $50,000 is in the form of a grant and will be provided to the Atlantic Fishermen's Association with the stipulation that these funds be used by this democratically organized group of fishermen to promote a province-wide association.

Since 1974, the province that bona fide commercial fishermen could supply the leadership and direction for a provincial association. To date, because of limited money and manpower, this has not materialized, although the Atlantic Fishermen's Association is presently the largest association within the province with representation chiefly in Southwestern Nova Scotia and Cape Breton. Dr. Reid stated that both his Department and the Government of Nova Scotia has funded the Atlantic believe that an organization Fishermen's Association representing all fishermen of with small grants, hoping the province is a very desired objective providing that the direction of such an organization comes from fishermen themselves.

The Atlantic Fishermen's Association will thus be given a new mandate to organize fishermen - from all facets of the industry - so that collectively they may present a more united approach on problems of common concern and take advantage of opportunities aimed at benefiting themselves and their families. The Atlantic Fishermen's Association will be asked to de-centralize its operations from its present base in Yarmouth and in addition, will henceforth be known as the Nova Scotia Fishermen's Association (N.S.F.A).

It is hoped that this "startup" grant will be a one shot proposal and that after the current year of operation, the organization will become self sufficient and sustain itself by its own membership dues.

Dr. Reid noted also that he had a request from another group claiming to represent Nova Scotia fishermen who are seeking funds to research the possible means by which fishermen in the province could be organized.

"This group, however, was not led by bona fide fishermen nor did they have the broad base to start from in building up such a provincial organization as does the present Atlantic Fishermen's Association," the minister said.

Dr. Reid said that the Atlantic Fishermen's Association will restructuring itself to some degree to carry out this organizational task. He added that the N.S.F.A. was assured of complete recognition and support the provincial Department of Fisheries.

Fisheries and Marine Service on a four month trial basis, the measure was adopted upon the urging of industry representatives on the Offshore Scallop Advisory Committee. The Committee is composed of federal and provincial government, union, scallop processing company and vessel captain representatives.

In addition to being limited to 30,000 pounds, no offshore scallop vessel will be allowed to stay at sea for more than 12 days per trip, measured from the time of departure to the time of arrival. Since it takes some 24 hours steaming both going to and coming from Georges Bank Scallop grounds, it will have the affect of limiting vessels to approximately 10 days fishing per trip. The offshore

CBC News Special Focuses On Education

It has been said that "education is life itself". It is surprising, then, that so little of our time is devoted to considering the basic questions of education while other subjects, like cruise ships and Rose Bowl floats, take up much of the legislative debate in the Maritimes.

Public indifference to the educational questions is just one of the aspects considered in a CBC News Special on schools to be broadcast on March 23rd at 7:00 p.m.

Also to be considered will be the question of whether or not schools are doing a good job at what many feel is the primary job of the system: to provide the

David Steinberg

LUNATIC HUMOURIST RIP TAYLOR WREAKS HAVOC ON "THE DAVID STEINBERG" SHOW ON

To get Doyle Livingston (Rip Taylor) a guest spot on "The David Steinberg Show", telecasting Tuesday, March 22, 10:30-11:00 p.m. on ATV, the producers of the show agree to give him a dressing room the same dimensions as David's.

hadn't What they bargained for, however, was that a running feud between David and Doyle, (worse says Vinnie than between the Hatfields and the Malloys) would break into the open. Proof of how far apart they are is that Doyle has taken a liking to Johnny Del Bravo, whose only reason for appearing on the show is to appease family pressure. Meanwhile Vinnie. (Bill Saluga), James the security guard (Dave Thomas). Margie the waitress (Trudy Young) and Kirk Durkwood (Joe Flahyerty), all take turns at trying to con each other into being the person who has to break the bad news about Livingston to basic skills and training that used to be taken for granted.

Preparation of this special report on Maritime education took CBC newsman Ian Porter to Cape Breton's Memorial High School - 'the latest and the best' - and to Fredericton to find out what happens when provincial governments take total control over education. The questions and answers are never ending but CBC News adds one more question.. Are the changes in education already underway going to serve the government's convenience or the people's needs? Watch this CBC News Special, March 23rd, 7:00 p.m., on CBC television.

David.

And that's not even the worst of it. When David is taking a break across the street at the Hello Deli, he turns on the show to find that Livingston has taken over. Rushing back to the studio, David is determined to settle, once and for all, whose show it really is.

"The David Steinberg Show" is directed by Perry Rosemond with Arthur Weinthal as executive producer for the CTV Television Network. Writers are David Steinberg, Ziggy Steinberg (No relation) and Fanelle Silver.

Improved Coverage For CBC Proposed

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has applied for an FM licence to re-broadcast programs originating from CBH Halifax. The application requesting licensing of 100.000 watt FM transmitter and an assigned 90.5 MHz frequency will be heard April 4 by the Canadian Radio Television and Commission.

Keith Morrow, CBC Director for the Maritime region, stated that simultaneous broadcasting of CBH AM programming on FM will resolve many of the problems related to reception and outside station interference experienced by our audience, especially in the South Shore area. "The FM signal will reach areas of the province that now lose CBH programming in the evening and early morning due to pattern changes. Since all AM stations must conform to international regulations related to frequency protection, FM was the obvious alternative", he stated. FM provides a high quality, interference free signal without the pattern constraints associated with AM transmissions.

The proposed FM rebroadcaster will be installed at Geizer's Hill in Halifax and share tower facilities. with existing CBC television and FM stereo services. Mr. Morrow stated that if this concept is acceptable to CRTC, the new FM service would be available before the end of this year. The CBC Regional Director also stated that plans are being developed to extend CBC radio and TV coverage to the Annapolis Valley area to remedy coverage deficiencies there.

Sunday, March 20, 11-12 p.m. ATV's "W5" has a report on a recent survey conducted with university students that show there are differences in attitudes towards violence among Canadians and Americans.

The report shows it is social attitudes which create violence in our society and these standards are being imposed upon the young. Canadians have been found to be more conservative in nature, bringing more strictness to bear on their children. Too many children are being raised without love or physical closeness, and the result is a cycle of violence begetting violence.

Bartering- the exchange of goods for service or service for goodseven reaches into the high realms of corporate wheeling and dealing. Canadian Heavyweight boxing champion George Chuvalo took nine rounds to dispose of opponent Bob Felstein in a title match at the North York Centennial Arena in Toronto and many sportswriters and fans are wondering why he bothered. Aging, overweight and away from the ring for almost three years Chuvalo remains an institution, although a crumbling one, in Canadian boxing. With scenes from that match and from interviews with the man about his life and his work, "W5" Reporter Isabel Bassett provides an in-depth study of the gray days of Chuvalo's boxing career in the next episode of "W5", telecasting Sunday, March 20, 11-12 p.m. (AST) on ATV.

Other topics scheduled include a story from Investigative Reporter Robert Reguly about the uncovering of one of Canada's largest auto-theft rings involving such cities as Montreal. Toronto. Edmonton and Vancouver. Operating with professional skill and speed, thieves are capable of breaking into and stealing a

Haddock Quota For Fishermen

HADDOCK QUOTA FOR FISHERMEN FROM SOUTH WESTERN NOVA AREA. REQUEST FOR ASSURANCE NO REDUCTION

Miss Coline Campbell (South Western Nova): Mr. Speaker, my question is for the Minister of Fisheries and the Environment. Is the minister aware that the larger boats which have been excluded from the gulf have come down to the Brown's and Germa Banks and increased the effort on the allotted haddock quota for this area? If so, can the minister give assurance to the fishermen of South Western Nova that their boat quotas will not be reduced in the month of June or the rest of the year, in light of this increased effort by the outsider boats on the haddock quota?

Hon. Romeo LeBlanc (Minister of Fisheries and the Environment): Mr. Speaker, the fishing plan for 1977 tries to assure a fair share for all concerned, and tries to ensure that there will be no undue dislocation of traditional fishing patterns. Before considering the exact details of the hon. member's question I would have to look into this matter, and her. (Hansard) report

Home And School

By Carol Welch The Islands Consolidated Home and School is requesting all parents and friends of the students, as well as the students themselves, to contribute their efforts to the fund-raising bazaar which is to be held on Saturday, March 26.

At their regular meeting. on March 7, the members of the Home and School discussed final plans for the spring tea and bazaar, as well as projects for which the money will be used. One project which will be of great benefit to the sports and extracurricular activities in both Freeport and Westport is at present being looked

munity, asking for their support in donations for the tables and for their attendance at the event. The Home and School would like to invite everyone's support for the school in this important event, and would especially appeal to the students to back up the Home and School by contributing their own efforts. Telephone members to request pick-up service will be available in each community.

Plans are also underway for a Safety Patrol banquet, probably in April. The card parties on Saturday nights at the school continue to be well attended. Everyone is welcome to come on Saturday for an evening of 45's and fellowship.

Reflecting To 1947

To March 20, 1947 issue of The Digby Courler did not lend itself well for stories particularly interesting to our 1977 readers. The lead story was a meeting of provincial and municipal officers on the proposed Digby Rural High School. much of which had been reported previously.

Weather always makes a good topic for conversation and in some cases readers of today might have wished for a 1947 winter in 1977. From the middle of January until late in February there was practically no snow. There was a big January thaw and the result of the open winter was a cut in lumbering operations. Lack of ice on lakes helped to slow operations also. Another short story reminded the 1947 readers that the next day was Spring. Daffodils and crocus had pushed their sprouts several inches out of the ground and grass was being burned on vacant lots. The Courier says "Actually we have been enjoying springlike weather most of the winter".

Casey's Reply Urges Petite Passage Power

The potential power in Petite Passage and also in Digby Gut, should be thoroughly explored said Joe Casey M.L.A. for Digby in replying to the Speech from the Throne in the Legislature of Nova Scotia before its recess last week. His reply suggested that barges with vertical turbines could be anchored in the passages. These would not interfere with navigation or fisheries as would a dam. These barges could also offer protection to the existing harbours, making them safer places to moor the fishing fleets. Turbines anchored on the bottom below the ground swell and waves could also be considered.

SISSIBOO RIVER HYDRO

In the same address, Mr. Casey urged the Nova Scotia Power Corporation to start on expansion of the hydro generating system on the Sissiboo River at Weymouth Falls. He advised that the present system is generating 25 megowatts of electricity but there is a further potential of 25 megowatts that has been untouched. He felt that with the rapidly increasing cost of oil this facility would now be economically feasible. This, he said, would not only cut down on oil imports but would create much needed employment. Mr. Casey felt that it is high time that people of the Digby constituency get a fair share of capital expenditures and he communicated this fact to the government in his reply to the Speech from the Throne.

Duane Kenley Reelected

Duane Kenley was reelected chairman of the Digby Water Commission at the monthly meeting on March 16. Guy VanTassel, town councillor, was reelected vice chairman for the year. Letters were read from Charles Haliburton and R. Wigmore stating their acceptance of appointments to the Digby Water Commission.

The secretary read a letter from the Department of Highways (C. N. St. Clair) dated March 8, 1977, re damage to Digby water supply main, Victoria Street, caused by vibrations, stating that Department of Highways had taken seismographic readings using a Benkelman Bean Truck which imparted a consistant monitoring load of 20,000 lbs at the stop sign at the corner of Victoria Street and Racquette Road. On motion of Mayor McNaughton and Vaughn Van-Tassel, it was moved that the Secretary write a letter to the Department of Highways to the attention of Mr. C. N. St. Clair requesting a reevaluation, using a heavier load on the test vehicle, 40,000 lbs, as well to take the test during peak periods of traffic when normal flow to and from the Ferry is in effect and when the road load restrictions are lifted. Motion was

The Secretary read a letter from the Insurers' Advisory Organization, dated February 25, 1977, re the Digby Elementary school in which the organization stated as a result of the flow test taken February 7, 1977, on the hydrant on King Street in front of D.R.H.S. with the flow from the corner of King and Church Streets, that as a result of the tests it could be readily seen that it is considered poor for fire protection purposes, and there would be no value at this time to run a water line from King Street to the Digby Elementary

The chairman stated that the new water main on Victoria Street providing a larger volume and multiple pressure would alleviate this pressure problem and this would be looked into again on completion of the new water

The secretary again presented the Young Canada Works application for cleaning of the VanTassel Lake and stated that the department required a statement to the effect that the Water Commission shareable portion be available. On motion of Councillor VanTassel and Mayor MacNaughton, it was moved that the Water Commission portion of Young Canada Works program of $5,800.00 be set aside if the program is approved.

David Burnhum, water meter reader and repairman, was given permission to attend a 2-day training period on trouble shooting and repairing water meters at the Neptune Meter (Tridant) in Halifax.

Bills payable for the month of February, amounting to $927.00, were presented and approved.

Cost-sharing Remains Same

Municipal Affairs Minister Bagnell announced that the municipal cost-sharing percentages for this year will remain the same as during 1976, under the Municipal Services Act.

Following is the text of Mr. Bagnell's statement in the House of Assembly:

I wish to announce that the municipal co-t-sharing percentages which will apply to the Municipal Services Act, have been set for the 1977 municipal year.

In using the Pothier Fromula, combined with the latest assessment information, the calculated percentage would creat an even larger spread between the sharing available to rural municipalities and the urban areas, than exists

My department has been on record since early last fall, that the financial formulas must be revised and that a task force has been established to suggest the revisions. It would not be appropriate to adopt a formula calculation that reduces assistance for urban services in urban areas, while maintaining that assistance in rural areas.

Therefore, during this year, while the task force is examining these formulas, we will maintain the formula levels of 1976 for the Municipal Services Act, as well as for Education.

It must be obvious that any reduction in the Education Department assistance to a municipality, the Municipal Affairs Department, since it picks up the difference of 100 per cent of the residential shareable cost, would have a larger amount to make up, and combined with the earlier reason I gave, the province has adopted the only equitable course of action. Mr. Speaker, it is unfortunate that undue concern caused been municipalities by premature release of some of the information on which the Cabinet based its decision. It was certainly a dirty, rotten REFRIGERATED TRAWLERS

Mr. Casey brought up the fact that many of the makeworks programs stop when the project is completed. "They are like a wheelbarrow, only go as far as they are pushed" he said. He then offered a suggestion which would carry on as long as the good Lord continues to put fish in the ocean. It was that the federal and provincial governments start a joint venture in which the federal government would build several large refrigerated trawlers. These vessels would have ice strengthened hulls so they could fish further north than most of the existing Canadian fleet in places such as Hamilton

Inlet and along Greenland Coast. They could also be used to fish for under utilized species such as squid, silver hake, grenadiers etc. Mr. Casey suggested a pilot project and if successful to continue. Ships of this nature would cost from six to ten million dollars each, he said, and suggested small fish plant operators and the catch divided equally so as to prevent overloading of these plant facilities. He said this would give much needed employment during winter months in plants that are working on an average of thirty percent capacity due to the fact that they are mostly supplied by inshore fishermen who cannot fish due to severe weather

A meeting of the Digby County Inshore Fishermen's Association was held at the Fire Hall, Sandy Cove, on Saturday evening when a previously drafted proposal was accepted which replied that CFB Cornwallis would ask the government to restrain herring seiners from operating within three miles of the is certainly an active South coastline of the Bay of Fundy over an area extending from Point Prim to Boar's Head for Anglophone recruiting the months of June, July and August. Above seated are Eddie Tidd, Association president: Standing, Douglas McClafferty, Department of Fisheries, Brad Titus, secretary. Digby; Rodney O'Neil who presided; Joe Casey, M.L.A.; Miss Coline Campbell, M.P. for Western Nova Scotia and Lawrence O'Neil.

Insist On 3 Mile Limit

In a well attended, well organized and orderly meeting under the chairmanship of Rodney O'Neil, the Digby County Inshore Fishermen's Association agreed to a proposal previously granted and sent government the requesting that herring seiners be restrained from operating within 3 miles of the south coast line of the Bay of Fundy for the period of June, July and August. The meeting was held on Saturday evening at the newly constructed Digby Neck Fire Hall, Sandy Cove. Fishermen came from all parts of the Neck. the Islands, Culloden, Digby and Clare Members and oboccupied the servers auditorium for convenient Besides the voting. Association members were Miss Coline Campbell, M.P.; Joe Casey, M.L.A.; John Couton, Executive Director of the Atlantic Fishermen's Association, and Douglas McClafferty, Fisheries Officer, Digby, and other members of the department work team.

Miss Campbell, Mr. Casey and Mr. McClafferty each expressed their pleasure in seeing that the fishermen had organized and Mr. McClafferty extended regrets that Glen Smith, Head of the Fisheries Department in the area, could not be present because of illness.

By those who addressed the chair on the subject, there was the general consensus that the fishermen be determined in their effort to have the 3 mile limit declared so that all can have their rightful share of the herring. The new rights of fishermen, they said, have trick and I would wish to apologize for any part, any member of my staff may have played, in this publicity, but I hope my statement clarifies our program, and exhibits our government's genuine concern for municipalities.

laws to protect them. Seiners must stay off their shores so why shouldn't the Digby County Fishermen's Association people be protected in their livelihood?

The fishermen said the majority of fish depend on herring for food and when the seiners come to shore, the herring are depleted and there is no food.

Present at the meeting were dragger fishermen, gill net fishermen, ground fishermen, lobster men, weir fishermen and others, most of whom expressed the same sentiments and determined action to have the 3 mile limit. One seiner, Walter Titus, expressed himself as being opposed to the 3 mile limit or any limit because they already have a limit to one mile of a weir, and also they are limited by the type of gear to one half mile off due to the depth of the water. He said that a 3 mile limit imposed would affect about 30 men in the area-the seiners. The boats, he said, represent a cost of $150,000 on the average. Mr. Titus is also a lobster fisherman.

Darrell Lewis, Culloden; Len Theriault, East Ferry; Bailey Gidney and Garfield Trask. Sandy Cove and including the others association executive, stood by the 3 mile limit and voiced their opinions. Mr. Theriault said there is no way in which this can be allowed to go on when pressing a limit. Among other subjects discussed were marketing and processing.

It was agreed that a meeting be set up with the Department of Fisheries in the near future. Mr. Casey, in promising to talk with the Minister of Fisheries, said that there are so many types of fishing going on that one conflicts with the other.

The dragger fishermen had a short meeting within the intermission for the Digby County Inshore Fishermen's Association and returned with two proposals which were approved by the Association. The first proposal was that the net mesh size be 41/2" for cod ends for all fishermen and the other proposal was that all fishermen have the right to a double purpose license. The net mesh size referred to all Canadian boats and was purposely proposed because the Bay of Fundy is a small growth area and the smaller mesh is needed. The second proposal referred to 65 foot fishing boats in the Bay of Fundy and Brown's Bank area and should include those who now hold scallop or fish dragger licenses. The licensing did not refer to lobster boats.

Mr. Casey felt the double purpose license would be good in that it would supply younger fishermen with licenses who do not have them now. Miss Campbell took note of the mesh size proposal and the licensing to bring to the attention of the Fisheries Minister in Ot-

Increase To 100 New Recruits A Month

Miss Coline Campbell, M.P. for South Western Nova, in questioning before the House, reminded the Minister of National Defence, the Honorable Barney Danson, that in the past, there have been runors that CFB Cornwallis is to be closed. She asked him to tell the people of South Western Nova the status of CFB Cornwallis at the present

The Honorable Mr. Danson centre. Not only is it continuing, but its size is being increased by about 100 new recruits per month. Base operations are going on. There are refittings for a new mess hall and expansion of existing facilities, so the honorable member can be assured that Cornwallis is strong, alive and producing mighty fine troops for our armed forces.

conditions. It would also create jobs in shipyards, Mr. Casey said. Many of these fish would be shipped to international markets, helping with balance of payments. Further Mr. Casey added the type of vessel needed would not require a restricted license. Many young ambitious fishermen, he said, have captain's licenses who cannot get a license for a conventional fishing vessel. EROSION OF COASTLINE

Mr. Casey's reply to the Speech from the Throne noted the rapid erosion of the Nova Scotia coastline. There are, he said, homes, villages and highways in immediate danger. He suggested that crews of unemployed men be put to work on crown lands cutting trees and peeling them and making them available where most urgently needed for cribwork to stop the erosion. HIGHWAYS

Mr. Casey's speech showed concern about highways in his constituency that lead through many villages. Most of these roads are unpaved, narrow and crooked. The main concern of the villagers is to be rid of the pot holes and the ever present dust, he remarked. He noted that this did not call for purchasing land or destroying lawns and trees or any astronomical expense.

OIL SPILLS

Mr. Casey's speech mentioned the oil spills which happened last year in close proximity to the Nova Scotia coastline. Our very existence, he said, depends on the safe passage of these ships anywhere along the East coast as the disasterous results of an oil spill has far reaching effects. He urged the provincial government to make strong representation to Ottawa to work internationally to make certain that incidents such as those experienced this past winter are not repeated in the future. GROUND HOG DAY

In his speech Mr. Casey reported an almost complete recovery made from the Ground Hog Day storm of 1976 with the help of government financing. St. Mary's Bay Marsh, some 700 acres of dyke land was salvaged and the largest crops ever produced on the land were produced last year. Private fishing weirs and buildings were re-built, road and paving restored etc.

THIRD PARTY DEMANDS

Although strictly a federal matter, Mr. Casey suggested the Nova Scotia Minister of Finance might pass on to the Federal Minister of National Revenue that fish processors and buyers are constantly being sent third party demands by the federal taxation department. This is a garnishec order if a fisherman owes the department back income tax. It is mandatory that it be collected by the buyer. If the buyer fails to do this he is liable to the amount not collected and a fine. Mr. Casey's speech said that this makes the fish buyer a tax collector without pay. It continued that the buyer seldom has the staff to do the job. The fishermen, he argued are selfemployed and in no way are employees of the fish dealer.

MacNutt's Resignation Shows Need For Change In Compensation Board

spokesman for the Nova Scotia New Democratic Party, says that the abrupt resignation of Scott MacNutt as Chairman of the Workman's Compensation Board is "strong evidence of the basic need for sweeping changes in the personnel at the top of that board".

Mr. MacEwan said the New Democratic Party has been calling for years for a "small scale purge" among the members of the Board itself and their medical advisory staff and "Mac-Nutt's withdrawl indicates what we have been saying more than anything else which has happened in the recent past".

Mr. MacEwan said Mr. MacNutt came to the Workman's Compensation Board "well-qualified, having been Minister of Labour for several years reporting for the Workman's Compensation Board to the House, and also Chairman of the Select Committee which redrafted key portions of the Workman's Compensation Act in 1973-4". NDP MacEwan was member of the committee and said that during the committee's work he had "always been impressed with Scott MacNutt's progressive views and desire for reforms in the field of workman's compensation".

The NDP spokesman said he was not surprised that Mr. MacNutt found himself "totally incompatible with the neanderthal type of thinking found on that Board where, it would appear, every injured worker is viewed as a potential rip-off artist and all conceivable Paul MacEwan MLA, obstacles are put in the way of getting a claim paid".

> Mr. MacEwan said he was sure that if "I were asked to work elbow to elbow with Willard MacKenzie, Dennis Aucoin, and Dr. Thomas Dobson on a day to day basis I, too, would resign within five days".

The NDP spokesman said that as a "minimum program of reform" Commisioners Aucoin MacKenzie, along with Dr. Dobson, should be replaced by "men or women of sympathy and compassion for the injured and maimed victims of industrial accidents".

Mr. MacEan said that the New Democratic Party would press the compensation issue "vigorously" when the House of Assembly reconvenes next Tuesday.

Editorials

THIS AF LECTS YOU

A letter in this issue of The Digby Courier tells the story much better than we could do so. so we intend only to call your attention to it and let you, the readers consider it with an open mind. We refer to the one which deals with the amendment to the Court and Penal Institutions Act put forward in the legislature. Our writer deals with the subject only from the standpoint of the District of Digby Municipal costs but to that can also be applied thousands of dollars for which the Town of Digby also has been billed. So this affects you and me and those tax purse strings. Mr. Comeau has explained the situation clearly which can leave municipal taxpayers paying high rates for prisoners kept in any penal institutions in other parts of the province. It is a subject which has been coming up before the Town and Municipality for the past months.

WHOM DOES IT EFFECT

As we wrote just a few weeks ago after a trip to Halifax on the Dayliner, the service was certainly being ignored by the public. Few were the passengers who came and went or who came and stayed on the distance from Digby to Halifax. Indeed, the train travelled all the 35 miles from Digby to Bridgetown without a stop.

Why weren't the people using the DAR? One reason could have been the price. For instance between Digby and Halifax the fare was between $15 and $16 (single) while to travel by bus the rate was $8.40. Then when comparing the trips by rail and bus, it was not easy to find any difference in comfort or accommodation. Easy access to the bus or train service would depend on where you live, of course, but in general the score would seem even.

Missing the passenger service by rail down the Valley, if it should be denied, won't stand up as a legitimate complaint for too few are using the service anyway. We know of no other use being made of the Dayliner except passenger, nevertheless, it might be well to have citizens thinking about this possibility since the news informs us that buses could replace passenger rail throughout the Atlantic provinces.

We have more than once given credit to the regular Acadian Lines service. It has, of course its limitations, one being lack of seating capacity for its clientele. We've seen passengers have standing room only from C.F.B. Cornwallis to nearly or in to Kentville. If indeed improved bus service (whatever company provides it) should take the place of rail passenger service accommodation for more travellers would certainly find a place. This is in the Valley anyway.

In speaking of comfort and accommodation, we had mentioned earlier that the rail-road bed was rough which did not add to the comfort of the Valley trip. Since then we have been reminded that railways have to keep up their own roadbeds while buses travel on roads kept up by taxpayers money. There is also an employment question to consider so we might give the question some thought before the decision is final. Whom does it effect.

Hodge Podge

Other newspaper publishers have the same trouble. Quoting from one "It seems that second class postal service has slowed down by another two weeks since Christmas and is now running roughly a month for out-of-province subscribers." It is time we did something fairly drastic, was a further remark, like "picketing" the Post Office, although we trust the last remark was in jest.

Universities might be able to pay their way by lessening the academic and increasing its catering. See where one organization is meeting this Spring at a University for nine for singles and seven dollars per person double as against $25 to $30 approximately in a hotel. They could be filled up and more at the University with rates like that.

Speaking of catering, who sticks to ten per cent tip for waitresses? Few do. Even so, as the price of a dinner rises to $7.00 even that meager ten per cent makes dinner for one $7.70. When can we expect the catering employers will pay waitresses enough so that tipping can be eliminated except for "beyond the call of duty service". Might even be able to keep our tourists here longer.

Letter To The Editor

Opinions expressed in the Letter to the Editor column in this newspaper are not necessarily those of the editor.

AMENDMENT TO ACT. RE MAINTENANCE OF PRISONERS WILL COST TAXPAYERS $100,000 Dear Mrs. Wallis:

It is apparent that the people of Digby County are not aware and are not made aware by their M.L.A. about business being conducted in the Provincial Legislature directly affecting our County.

A bill called "An Act to Amend Chapter 67 of the Revised Statutes, 1967, the Court and Penal Institutions Act" recently went through second reading in the Legislature. It now goes to the Law Amendments Committee and from there through third reading after which it will be proclaimed. Section 32A (1) of that Act is as follows:

MAINTENANCE OF PRISONERS

32A(1) Where a justice or judge presiding in a municipality orders imprisonment in a place of confinement in another municipality, the municipality where the justice or judge presides shall during the committal period pay to the municipality operating the place of confinement the per diem costs approved by the Attorney General.

(2) Where a prisoner is transferred from one place of confinement to another pursuant to this Act, the municipality where the justice or judge who ordered the imprisonment presides shall during confinement elsewhere pay to the municipality operating the place of confinement the per diem costs approved by the Attorney General unless the prisoner is also lawfully confined under an order of a justice or judge presiding in the municipality operating the place of confinement."

Clause 3 of this amending statute makes the Act effective

Therefore, what this Act does is to force the Municipality into paying for prisoners transfered or sentenced to the Kings County Correctional Centre or the Halifax Correctional Centre. These prisoners are people sentenced by Judges (Magistrate's Court, County Court or Supreme Court) sitting in Digby County. Do the ratepayers of Digby County know that this Act will mean the Municipality will have to pay to the Municipality of Kings and Halifax a total something in excess of $100,000.00?

Certainly, this act makes for further and stronger argument that the Province of Nova Scotia should take over the total cost of the Administration of Justice. Why should the Municipality of Digby pay for someone who comes from Halifax County and commits a crime in this County? That person has to be tried and sentenced by the Courts in our County. To correct this uneven and unfair predicament the total cost of the Administration of Justice (i.e. paying for prisoners' accommodations, etc.) should be divided equally among all Nova Scotia by having the Provincial Government pay.

It is also very interesting to note that the cost of taking care of a prisoner for one day in any one of these Correctional Centres amounts to as much, if not more, than the cost to stay at the luxurious Chateaux Halifax for a day.

Is it not our M.L.A.'s responsibility to inform the people he is representing that these monies will be reflected eventually in the Municipal Tax Rate? Is it not the duty of our M.L.A. to vote against a bill like this that will have a detrimental effect on our County from January 1, 1976, on into the future?

Mr. Casey has informed the Municipality that he voted against the bill. This sounds good but when one asks where did he vote against the bill, the answer is, not in the House. but in his own party's caucus. Certainly, the majority of members of Mr. Casey's Liberal Caucus do not have to worry about paying arrears for the maintenance of prisoners. Why wasn't the Cabinet pressured into not envoking a retroactive bill? Doesn't Mr. Casey have any say in his own party or is he just a yes man.

The proper place to vote against such a bill is in the Legislature where the vote counts for something. Even if an elected member does not want to go against his own party members, his constituents should be informed what is happening. Publicity has always helped a just cause. Why didn't Mr. Casey inform his constituents in time to help him bring pressure on the government to stop this bill.

The Provincial Government has taken over many areas that were Municipal responsibility. We in Digby County remember last year when the Province took over the Administration of the Assessment Act, an area which is better handled locally than the Administration of Justice. Why not take over the Administration of Justice?

Finally, the most undemocratic aspect of this Bill is that it is made retroactive. In other words, the monies are payable from the 1st of January, 1976. The Provincial Government had always been telling the Municipality they were responsible for the maintenance of these prisoners. Why then did the Provincial Government pay in 1974 and 1975. The reason is the original "Court and Penal Institutions Act" had no provision for the payment for maintenance of prisoners lodged outside the Municipality. It is unfair to force the rate payers of Digby County to pay for something that was expended in 1976 which at that time they were under no legal obligation to pay.

The alternate result is that if this bill goes through (which it will, unless the citizens of Digby County pressure the Government) the tax rate will have to go up. Where else will the Municipality get the $100,000.00.

An Open Letter to the Citizens of Digby

On June 20th., 1974 a history making meeting of the Digby Town Council, chaired by (then) Mayor Willard Kinney, was called at 12 o'clock noon, when a motion by Councillors Pat Comeau and Bill Reid to engage the R.C.M.P. to police the town, was carried unanimously. Previous discussions within the police committee (Robertson, Hattie and Winchester) resulted in the recommendation to discontinue the services of local police. At this time Chief W.F. Dunn and Constable Stanley Vidito were carrying the work load, with only part time occasional assistance. although it was known that extra trained constables were available from the Prince Edward Island training college. meeting, Councillor Gordon Ellis' statement that the two full time policemen, Dunn and Vidito, should be dismissed from their duties. raised discussion on the legality of the dismissals, when the two officers had been appointed for the full year 1974. Information from the town solicitor however, disclosed that the town was not obligated to pay the two policemen any more than the required notice under the Labor Standards Code.

Previous to the announcement, the taxpayers of Digby were not given an opportunity for expressions of opinion or participation in discussions leading to this important decision.

The Council has now been left appoint an extra enforcement officer, and former Chief W.F. Dunn, the veteran of twenty-two years of police service to the town, has been called back and approved by the Attorney General's department to act in this capacity!

This means that your calls become public information and may be heard by anyone who has a radio with a police band. Although R.C.M.P. officials emphatically state a preference fo this system, the benefits of which appear to lean more than the citizens, I am far from being convinced of it's an abuse of citizen's rights to privacy in communication with police.

Although the town's contract with the R.C.M.P. expired in March 1976, a fourth constable was added to the town force in July of

Municipalities To Pay Costs Of Their Prisoners In Other Municipalities

Amendments to the Court and Penal Institutions Act provide for payment of per diem expenses of a person imprisoned in an institution not located in municipality where the person was sentenced, and the transfer of a prisoner from one institution to another under certain circumstances. The amendments are contained in a bill introduced in the Legislature by Attorney General Leonard L. Pace, and are deemed to have been in force since Jan. 1, 1976.

Mr. Pace said amendments would require that judge municipality A orders a person to be imprisoned in municipality B, the former municipality shall pay to the latter the per diem costs of operating the place, of confinement as anneoved by the attorney general for each day of the prisoner's confinement. In addition, where a prisoner is transferred from one penal institution to another by the attorney general, the inspector general of penal institutions or another designated person, the municipality from which the prisoner was originally ordered to be imprisoned shall pay to the municipality operating the institution to which he is transferred the required per diem operating costs. An exception to these provisions covers any period during which a prisoner is also liable to serve imprisonment ordered by a payer, should have a part in this decision which consumes many of your tax dollars. Please make your opinions known, pro or con, to your elected representatives. Remember, it is not one of those deals that guarantee ''goods satisfactory or money refunded."

Education

It has been said that "education is life itself". It is surprising, then, that so little of our time is devoted to considering the basic questions of education while other subjects, like cruise ships and Rose Bowl floats, take up much of the legislative debate in the Maritimes.

Public indifference to the educational questions is just one of the aspects considered in a CBC News Special on schools to be broadcast on March 23rd at 7:00 p.m.

Also to be considered will be the question of whether or not schools are doing a good job at what many feel is the primary job of the system: to provide the basic skills and training that used to be taken for granted.

MORE FOR YOUR MILES CARS

On the 29th and the 30th of March, the grade XII Drama class of D.R.H.S. will present the full-length play I Remember Mama, at 8 o'clock in the M.P.R. This is a heart-warming story of a young woman's recollections of her Norwegian immigrant family's life in San Francisco around 1910. Based on a real family, the play centers around Katrin. whose ambition is to be a writer, and her Mama, who is the epitome of what mothers should be: comwarm, forting,

Haddock Quota For Fishermen

Miss Coline Campbell (South Western Nova): Mr. Speaker, my question is for the Minister of Fisheries and the Environment. Is the minister aware that the larger boats which have been excluded from the gulf have come down to the Brown's and Germa Banks and increased the effort on the allotted haddock quota for this area? If so, can the minister give assurance to the fishermen of South Western Nova that their boat quotas will not be reduced in the month of June or the rest of the year, in light of this increased effort by the outsider boats on the haddock quota?

Hon. Romeo LeBlanc (Minister of Fisheries and the Environment): Mr. Speaker, the fishing plan for 1977 tries to assure a fair share for all concerned, and tries to ensure that there will be no undue dislocation of traditional fishing patterns. Before considering the exact details of the hon. member's question I would have to look into this matter, and her. (Hansard) report

The annual World Day of Prayer was held in the Westport United Baptist church vestry on Friday afternoon March 4, with members of United Baptist and Church of Christ taking part.

Mrs. Lawrence Shaw. president of the W.M.S., welcomed all present and opened by reading of the Call to Prayer, with Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Charles McDormand and Mrs. Stanley Moore as readers. The scripture I John 4:7 - 21 was read by Mrs. Earl Webber. Special music was a solo "The Love of God" by Mrs. James McDormand.

Guest speaker for the afternoon was Rev. Charles MacNeill of the Westport Church of Christ, who brought an interesting and challenging message on the theme "Love in Action". The word Love was used by Paul at Ephesus "Walk in Love". He stated that people

Home And School

By Carol Welch The Islands Consolidated Home and School is requesting all parents and friends of the students, as well as the students themselves, to contribute their efforts to the fund-raising bazaar which is to be held on Saturday, March 26.

At their regular meeting. on March 7, the members of the Home and School discussed final plans for the spring tea and bazaar, as well as projects for which the money will be used. One project which will be of great benefit to the sports and extracurricular activities in both Freeport and Westport is at present being looked

munity, asking for their support in donations for the tables and for their attendance at the event. The Home and School would like to invite everyone's support for the school in this important event, and would especially appeal to the students to back up the Home and School by contributing their own efforts. Telephone members to request pick-up service will be available in each community. Plans are also underway for a Safety Patrol banquet, probably in April. The card parties on Saturday nights at the school continue to be well attended. Everyone is welcome to come on Saturday for an evening of 45's and fellowship.

Love And Understanding Develop New Personalities

During last Sunday evening's service in the Tiverton Christian Church. Minister, Charles MacNeil read a letter missionaries, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Cass at Indonesia. They said they hoped to visit Nova Scotia during 1978 and hoped to visit the Christian Church in Tiverton during their stay in the Province.

Slides portraying the lives, surroundings, and teachings in the Colorado Christian Homes for Children of the Church of Christ (Disciples) in that area, were shown by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ruggles in the Tiverton Christian Church Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Ruggles were privileged to visit the Home at Colorado last summer. Mrs. Ruggles, in a brief, informative talk, explained that the children in the Home are victims of broken homes, or have been abused and illtreated in their homes etc. They are taken into the Christian Home where well qualified teachers and counsellors devote their time to helping the youngsters overcome their emotional problems brought on by the unatural childhood beginning. Most of all, continued Mrs. Ruggles, they are given love, unbiased, uninhibited and genuine.

Mrs. Ruggles pointed out that when trouble erupts between parents in the home, their frustrations, anger, etc., are usually "taken out" on the child. The youngster is then likely

The title of the film was "The Forgotten Child" and was complete with synchronized sound.

Reflecting To 1947

To March 20, 1947 issue of The Digby Courler did not lend itself well for stories particularly interesting to our 1977 readers. The lead story was a meeting of provincial and municipal officers on the proposed Digby Rural High School. much of which had been reported previously.

Weather always makes a good topic for conversation and in some cases readers of today might have wished for a 1947 winter in 1977. From the middle of January until late in February there was practically no snow. There was a big January thaw and the result of the open winter was a cut in lumbering operations. Lack of ice on lakes helped to slow operations also. Another short story reminded the 1947 readers that the next day was Spring. Daffodils and crocus had pushed their sprouts several inches out of the ground and grass was being burned on vacant lots. The Courier says "Actually we have been enjoying springlike weather most of the winter".

There was a follow-up story on the policeman's prize hen which was stolen. The late Chief of Police Thibault did not get the hen returned but some conscience striken thief put a Light Sussex hen in a crate, addressed it to the Chief and placed it on the steps of the Digby Branch of Nova Scotia. The columns say "early risers on their way to work were amazed and amused to see the hen proudly chuckling away in the crate on the bank steps."

The cultural centre will be co-ordinated by ABTRC this summer in conjunction with Western Nova Multicultural Association. It is expected that three students from the area will be hired to staff the Cultural Centre and that the programs and exhibits jointly hosted by Western Nova Multicultural and ABTRC will reflect the area's many founding cultures as well as recently arrived cultural groups. The central theme will be "cultural sharing" and it is hoped that the exhibits will be of interest to the many thousands of visitors that are attracted to the area each summer, as well as the local population.

One thousand five hundred and sixty seven visits were made by the Victorian Order of Nurses in the Annapolis and Digby area during 1976 an increase of 100 visits over

The announcement was made by the Rev. G. Butler, president of the V.O.N. Board of Directors at their annual meeting which was held at Soldier's Memorial Hospital on Tuesday, March 22, 1977.

Mr. Butler reported to the 20 people attending that the highlight of the year had been the National Convention which was held in Halifax, and was attended by several board members and Mrs. Pauline Gates, nursein-charge of V.O.N. work in Annapolis and Digby Counties.

The president stressed the need of more support for the V.O.N. work and expressed the hope that the Government would be more financially involved in the work in the coming year. On behalf of the Board Members and other guests attending the meeting, he expressed thanks to Mrs. Gates, Mrs. Karen Turnilty, Mrs. Cora Amberman, Mrs. Hope Dragon and Mrs. Monique Hiebert for the excellent home nursing care they are doing in the two counties. Mr. S. McNaughton, in his financial report, stated that the excess of receipts over disbursements for 1976 was $2,657.41.

The secretary report was presented by Mrs. Jane Elliott who will be filling that position for 1977.

Mrs. Gates, speaking on the 1,567 visits which were made, pointed out that the cost of each visit worked out to $11.88.

"However, as you all realize all of these visits are not paid in full. Of this figure, 989 visits were paid in full, 342 were partially paid, 215 were free and 21 were not chargeable."

BILINGUAL SIGNS

Are bilingual road signs a hazard? Highways Minister Fraser Mooney seems to think so. However, we disagree. Our support goes to that segment of the Clare population seeking to have the Acadian fact along St. Mary's Bay recognized by our provincial highways department. We, in Digby, can't speak for the Clare Acadians, but we figure... if they want bilingual signs, there's absolutely no reason they shouldn't have them.

A number of interesting events have taken place along the shore in recent weeks relating to the bilingual signs issue. Several weeks ago, an unknown "Robin Hood" visited several communities and posted original French names of communities currently known by their English equivalent. The quality of the unknown artist's work was widely acclaimed.

However, the French signs have since disappeared, the work of yet another unknown nighttime prowler.

But none of this changes the lack of rationale behind Mr. Mooney's position on bilingual sign-If we understand the situation correctly, the minister stands against bilingual signs because he feels they would be a distraction to motorists. If the minister is concerned about motorists being distracted he should do something about the unsightly billboards erected by businessmen along some of our scenic highways. These serve a double purpose... distract motorists and spoil the view.

Bruce Cochran, M.L.A. (Lunenburg Center) today released the following statement:

Freedom of information, the public right to know, is a theme that's growing in popularity in this country, and one that our provincial government, thanks to opposition pressure, is now committed to.

Two years ago I introduced a private member's bill which would provide freedom of information and which would have reversed the current situation which denies you, as a citizen, the right to any government information unless specific legislation allows the government to give it to you. My bill would have turned this whole thing around and provide for all government information to be readily available to you and me except that clearly covered by exemption.

Being an opposition member, my bill didn't get very far. But this year, to my surprise and delight, the government announced, through the Speech from the Throne, its intention to introduce its own freedom of information legislation this session.

We are making some public scrutiny of matters headway.

Now we - you and I - must press for an early introduction of this bill and ensure it is meaningful and practical when it is eventually passed.

What shall we 'ook for?

First, as I said before, it must establish the right for all citizens to obtain government information easily and quickly through a simple and inexpensive process.

Second, it must spell out the exemptions ... and there will be exemptions. Negotiations for industrial development, for example. The proceedings of cabinet meetings. Criminal investigations.

Third, there must be a method of appeal. If the government official who has custody of the requested. document feels it falls into one of the exempt classes, it

LAW AND ORDER IN WEYMOUTH

A group of ratepayers and interested citizens living in and near the established boundaries of the village of Weymouth were asked to attend a meeting in regard to a better system of law enforcement. This was Sept. 2, 1976. Since then we have not heard anything from the village commissioners as to the degree of progress made.

In speaking with a commissioner and the village clerk I was led to believe that the powers- that -be suggested that it was too expensive to adopt a system that would satisfy most people.

I am of the opinion that Law and Order has no ceiling as far as cost is concerned. Our forefathers didn't count the cost of the beautiful system they left with us, and which, I might add, has been greatly reduced, one part of such system being law and order which equals justice, a word which seems today to have lost its meaning.

In speaking with the police, I mentioned a system which, if put into use, would apprehend a criminal who was breaking and entering. The reply was - "too costly." What price tag does law and order warrant? Let's take a few dollars that our politicians are wasting and blow it on law and order.

I'll be speaking again on the subject if this should happen to fall on apathetic ears regarding law and order plus justice, the most important work of all.

While others may heat with oil or even that clean though expensive electric power, these, above, at Tiverton, Digby Co., set a good example to others when it comes to conservation of oil and electric energy. ## Cost Sharing Proportions Same As 1976

The cost-sharing proportions used in computing the amount of financial assistance the provincial government will make available to school boards in 197? will be the same as last year, Education Minister George M. Mitchell announced.

Mr. Mitchell said the government decided to maintain the 1976 proportions for financial assistance to avoid having the municipal authorities make additional levies on the commercial and industrial establishments in their areas. This is part of the government's program of increased assistance to municipal units education purposes.

Under the provisions of the Education Act, the ratios by which the provincial government and the school boards share the costs of the Foundation Program are recalculated each year.

The sharing ratios are determined for each school board by relating the shareable costs of the Foundation Program provided by the board to the municipal unit as reported by the Revaluation Commission.

When the value of property in a municipality or the shareable costs of its education program, or both of these factors change, the sharing of the costs between the Province and the local authorities changes accordingly. For example, if the property valuation in a municipality increased while at the same time the Foundation Program costs remained constant, the municipal share of the costs would increase. If the opposite were true, i.e. the valuation remained constant while the education costs increased, the Province's share of the costs would increase.

Mr. Mitchell said 'the recalculation of the ratios for 1977 has now been completed and new percentages for the sharing of costs between the municipality and the provincial government have been determined for each municipal unit. However, the Government has taken the unprecendented step of not using the revised sharing percentages.

There has not been any major increase in the Foundation Program costs under the scales of support effective Jan. 1, 1977, primarily because the Anti-Inflation Board did not approve proposed increases in teachers' salaries. At the same time, the Revaluation Commission has reported increases in property all the valuation in municipal units.

The result of these two elements is that the 1977 recalculation of cost sharing ratios produces a drop in the proportion of the cost to be borne by the Province in almost all of the municipalities. If the 1977 ratios were to be used, there would be a reduction in provincial aid to nearly every school board and increased funds would be required from the municipal

Mr. Mitchell said "this would be contrary to a recently stated policy of the Government. The Education Assistance to be made available to each school board by the provincial government on the basis of a recommendation from the Education Assistance Committee. Since it is the intention of Government to assume an increased portion of the cost of education, the Education Assistance has been Committee requested to use the 1976 cost-sharing proportions instead of the 1977 proportions in making its recommendations for the Province's financial assistance to the school boards in 1977.'

This procedure will be followed for all boards except those for which the provincial proportions increased from 1976 to 1977. In such cases the 1977 proportions will be used.

"As a final point, if this action were not taken, the municipal authorities would

Salt Damage To Salt, spread on a roadway,

sisters Mrs. Sevina Wagner helps clear ice and snow when the temperature doesn't fall too low. It does something else. Salt and moisture combine to form brine, and the brine attacks any metal whether its part of the highways structure, bridge or vehicle. The result, after time, is rust.

Aside from the salt spread Cross Church, Plympton to clear ice and snow, there is with Father R. Deveau ofa serious effect in coastal areas ficiating. Interment was in from sea salt. Rust sets into metal most quickly in warm and humid conditions, brine is most damaging in weak solutions. Passing vehicles splash salt brine against car windows. the brine seeps down into door wells where some of it can be trapped to start corrosive action. Salt brine combines with dirt on paved roads, and becomes packed into hidden areas of a car. Dirt and stone thrown up by turning wheels can chip away protective coatings, leaving the bare metal

One of the best, and cheapest, methods of combating salt is washing. Give your car frequent wintertime washing of all exterior surfaces, including those underside areas that can be reached in order to help prevent a buildup of corrosive

I very three months polish your car with a good wax recommended by the manufacturer, to protect the paint and bright metal surfaces. At the same time, make a check of the drain holes in door panels to ensure they are not plugged.

The spring washdown with large quantities of clean water is particularly important to avoid the possibility that watered-down brine solution will stay at work through the mild, warmer weather, especially on humid days.

Parking in an open-air lot, driveway or unheated garage is preferable to leaving your car in a heated garage, since warmer temperature, in combination with brine, speeds up the corrosive process.

Rust in cars caused by salt has attracted the interest and concern of government, consumer groups and motorists as the use of salt in Eastern Canada has increased.

search for employment? A. While drawing Unemployment Insurance you are obliged to work at looking for a job, right from the day you file a claim for benefits. You can do this by registering for employment with your local Canada Manpower Centre and renewing your registration with them once every 28 days. Q. Is there such a thing as higher benefits for individuals who have dependents?

A. Due to large increases in other government social security programs, especially family allowances, the Unemployment Insurance Commission has removed its special rate of benefits for claimants with dependents. As a result all claimants will now receive the same rate of benefits which is 66 two-thirds percent of your average weekly insurable earnings.

Q. Please answer the following questions for me: (1) What are the minimum and maximum insurable earnings for 1977?

(2) What is the highest rate of benefits a person may draw

A. (1) Minimum weekly insurable earnings $44.00; Maximum weekly insurable earnings $220.00. (2) A person who has paid the highest premiums (stamps) in 1977 and has worked 8 weeks or more since 2 January could be entitled to $147.00 in benefits prior to Income Tax.

Q. Can a person who is drawing benefits leave the area and still be entitled to benefits?

A. If the person is leaving the area for a holiday or in order to visit friends, relatives etc., that person may not be entitled to benefits. The reason for this being that that person cannot be ready, willing and capable of accepting an immediate offer of employment if one was available.

If the person has been sent out to another area by Canada Manpower in order to look for employment then chances are the person involved could remain entitled to benefits.

VD: EVERYONE NEEDS TO KNOW

I don't believe that most for gonorrhea by a people are really open minded when it comes to talking about venereal disease (VD).

Instead, people feel that they either know everything there is to know, or that they don't need to know anything at all.

Everyone needs to know about VD. Not should know. NEEDS to know.

Standard information about syphilis and gonorrhea (the two most common venereal diseases) has been fairly well publicized the past few years. But the average person still can't tell you the basic facts.

VD is the name given to a group of communicable diseases that are passed from person to person through intimate sexual contact. There is no immunity to VD; all kinds of people can and do get it. You can get VD time after time.

Knowing the basic facts is, of course, the best defence against VD. If you're not sure you know them, get a pamphlet or book from your local library, or from the provincial department of health.

Although the greatest number of people who get VD are in their teens and early twenties, two new facts about these diseases are important for everyone to know.

The first is that more than 80 per cent of all women who have gonorrhea HAVE NO SYMPTOMS. This means that most young women have two alternatives: they must rely on the man to tell them. they may be sick, or they must be regularly checked physician.

It's risky to rely on anyone but yourself when it comes to matters of health. Especially when it comes to VD, when, because of fear and embarrassment people don't help or talk to each other. Women must simply protect themselves, or risk sterility and severe illness later in life.

In addition, more and more men have gonorrhea with no outward signs or symptems. Burning upon urination and milky discharge from the penis used to be classic, almost universal symptoms in men. But not so any more. Now it is possible for both men and women to have gonorrhea and not know it - passit along to someone new - and not get treated themselves.

The second fact that is important is that there are kinds of VD that can't be treated with the usual penicillin. You must return to your doctor for a 'test of cure" after treatment to make sure the disease is gone. Ant it's impossible to treat yourself - you MUST see a doctor.

There's one last thing to remember. Even if you have sexual contact with only one person, can you say the same of your partner? If your partner has been with someone else who is infected, then you could be infected, too. It's best to be checked by a doctor, just to protect yourself.

VD isn't something to ignore or fool around with it's a deadly disease that will keep spreading until WE ALL decide to stop it.

Mr. McPherson said that it had taken a year and four months to build the 11 millionth vehicle and that he had been on the job as GM of Canada President only a few weeks when the 10 millionth vehicle, a 1976 Chevrolet Monte Carlo, had rolled off the Oshawa assembly line on November 5, 1975. He said that GM of Canada sold more cars and trucks, employed more people and disbursed greater payrolls in 1976 than in any year in the Company's

"All of our moves will be marked by aggressive competition, but the next year will be a period of great opportunity and extraordinary achievement for General Motors of

GM of Canada records show that it took 30 years to build its first million cars and trucks in Canada, 13 years to build the second million, five and a half years to build the third, five years to build the fourth, three and a half years to build the fifth millionth vehicle, just over three years to build the sixth, two years and one month to build the seventh, two years each to build the eighth and ninth, a year and nine months to build the ten millionth and only a year and four months to build the 11 millionth.

THE DIGBY COURIER

More Discussion On Dual License

The Digby County Inshore Fishermen's Association which met at the Fire Hall at Sandy Cove on Saturday, March 19th, has through its directorate, decided to give more discussion to their proposal of dual licensing of all fishing boats. The presentation of this proposal will be delayed for a later date after more discussion is held, vice-president Rodney O'Neil informed The Digby Courier. Saturday night's meeting had agreed to send the proposal to the government but it will be delayed.

Mr. O'Neil felt the fishermen are anxious to have improved harbour facilities. They need a deep water harbour for draggers anywhere on Digby Neck. He said there are rumours the representatives from the Islands had been in Halifax to discuss harbour facilities but there were no representatives from Digby Neck. He hoped that at any meeting with government officials, all Associations would be notified. A letter will also go to Glen Smith, Chief Fisheries Officer asking to have a meeting with government officials set up regarding their proposal of Saturday evening on a three mile limit for seiners on the South coast line of the Bay of Fundy for the months of June, July, and August. Reporting on a meeting of the Digby County Inshore Fishermen's Association, Mr. O'Neil said that at a meeting of the Association held on February 15th, was proposed that a new subarea be established for lobster fishing in St. Mary's Bay.

The sub-area would be delineated by a line extending across St. Mary's Bay from the wharf at Long Beach, Digby County, to Grosses Coques, Digby County, and encompassing that area lying eastward of such a line.

It is the collective opinion of the Association, he said.

that the establishment of a split lobster season for the upper St. Mary's Bay area would provide for an increased lobster catch and, hence, a more valuable fishery. The fishermen fishing in the area designated are subject to the same weather conditions in attempting winter fishing as those in other areas. However, in the upper St. Mary's Bay area, additional difficulties are created, he remarked, because: Subject to weather conditions, ice problems may arise early in the present season and invariably prevent fishing effectively after the end of December, also aside from ice packs floating in the bay preventing effective fishing operations, the harbours along the St. Mary's Bay tend to be frozen or filled with ice preventing reasonable access and imposing additional risks and because of the St. Mary's Bay being shallow and extremely tidal, water temperatures vary greatly from summer to winter, and the lobsters, which are in St. Mary's Bay, bury themselves in the bottom mud during the coldest part of the winter, thereby, rendering that portion of the season useless to fishermen.

The lobster season in the fall of 1976 was considered disastrous for the fishermen operating within the defined area of St. Mary's Bay, the spokesman said. This fisher y has been subject to declining catches over the past number of years and the fishermen engaged in the lobster fishery in St. Mary's Bay are unable, by reason of location or by regulation, to move their fishing activities into other areas which might be more productive, he added. This brought about the proposal and it was further proposed that the trap limit in the area be reduced to 300 to reduce any risk of overfishing.

Zone Youth Rally Hosted By Digby Wesleyan Church

On the 2nd weekend of March the Digby Wesleyan Church was host for a Zone Youth Rally.

The Rally began on Friday evening. The highlight of the evening service was to have "His Likeness" present to participate in the service. This group of six students from Bethany Bible College at Sussex, N.B., provided a ministry of Song. The group is composed of Donald Ingersoll, Janet Ingersoll, Mark Gorveatte, Brenda Currie, Shirley Ryder and Douglas Ingersoll.

Donald Ingersoll gave the evening message and spoke to a large congregation made up largely of the younger generation.

A Social hour was held in the church basement when refreshments were served. On Saturday at 9 a.m. the Protestant Chapel at CFB Cornwallis, was where the Young People gathered for a morning devotional period. The host pastor Rev. Walter L. Fernley was the speaker and a sing song was enjoyed. There was a question period entitled "On The Hot Seat" which gave the young people a chance to ask the pastor Dinner was served at the Base with a wide variety of food to choose from.

The young people who were spending the day at CFB Cornwallis, visited some of the various places on the base which included the Library. During a visit to the arena they watched skating. They visited the Social Center and the recreation center where games were being played.

The young people, participated in sports at the base gym and were privileged to enjoy a time of swimming at the Base Pool. The Ladies Auxiliary of the Digby Wesleyan Church fed 150 people at the IOOF

Hall and following the supper hour a film entitled "Blood on the Mountain" was shown at the church. The church was filled beyond regular seating capacity for the evening service at 7:30

D.M. The well known group, "His Likeness" again participated in the evening service. In addition to various Gospel numbers presented by the group, Donald Ingersoll sang a solo number and the Male Trio consisting of Donald Ingersoll, Douglas Ingersoll and Mark Gorveatte rendered one or more numbers.

The Congregation participated in the service by singing action songs such as: "I Will Make You Fishers of Men", "Hallelujah," and Love is the Flag Flown High."

Some young people who were guests in the area served as ushers to receive the evening offering.

There was a large response to the alter call and following this a number of young people testimonies. There were at least 130 young people registered for the Rally. Over 100 were provided with overnight lodging on Friday Night because they were guests in the areas. Twentyfive young people from the Digby Church were registered, however a larger number did participate in the Rally from the Digby

This Rally was considered the most successful ever with a record attendance. The Rallies began approximately five years ago and the last gathering of this nature to be hosted in Digby was in February 1974. Eight of the zone churches were represented at this Rally and the guests, young people were from Ingomar, Sandy Beach, Woods Harbour, Liverpool, Yarmouth, Port

The services at the Digby Wesleyan Church continued on Sunday with the youth who regularly attend the services here taking part.

During the Sunday School Hour it was learned that the bus attendance had reached an all time high with 22 people on board that a.m.

The ushers for the A M. service were Mark Chute and Ricky Hudson. There was a Youth Choir of 15 people present, "He's Got the Whole World in His Hands", was the cipir number which they rendered in a very fine way.

Mrs. Banks of Fredericton. N.B., who is a sister inlaw of Mrs. David Wilson sang a beautiful solo num-

Nancy Riley, Sandra Hudson and Tanya Trimper sang a Girl's Trio number entitled "Shout it on the Mountain Top".

The Pastor spoke to the youth mainly but he also spoke to the congregation present at the AM service. He took the scripture from St. John,

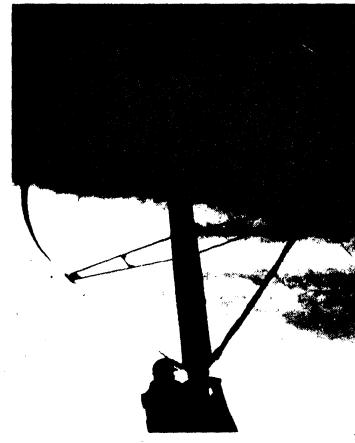

Chapter 5. He said "God speaks in a still small voice" He also remarked "If you shun the wrong and do the right you will be alright."

The evening service continued with a Youth Emphasis. The Chorus "At Calvary," was sung. A piano solo rendered at offering time was by Tanya Potter. I've Got the Lord was the title of the number sung by the youth choir. Hymn 307, "He Keeps Me Singing" was sung just previous to a Girls Trio entitled "God Said it and I believe It." The girls Trio was composed of Tanya Potter, Wanda Wilson and Beverly Trimper.

Tanya Trimper who presides regularly at the Church Piano rendered a piano solo just previous to the evening message which was given by the pastor. He spoke from the Old Testament, Book of Daniel about Shadrach. Meshakh, and Abed nego in the flery furnace and from the 6th Chapter of Daniel spoke about Daniel in the Lions Den. In both cases he spoke about how God had protected these men. To conclude his message he addressed both the younger and older generations and said, "God is Your Counsellor".

The Hymn "Stand Up For Jesus", brought the evening service and the successful youth rally to a close. It is expected the next Rally will be held in May.

Yes, It's A Windmill Phone System

New Canadian-designed "Darrieus" eggbeater windmill powers MT&T phones for some 30 families on Pictou Island, with enough left over to beam calls to mainland long distance center. Fifteen foot windmill is an "off the shelf" device built in Mississauga, Ontario, with symmetrical shape offering an equal surface to wind from any direction. Power is taken off at base of shaft, and automatic "spoiler" flap deploys to prevent overspinning and selfdestruction in high winds. Company officials said windmill was chosen over fossil fuel power generation on Pictou Island because of its economy of operation. There is no commercially available power on the Island. Windmill's maker, Dominion Aluminum Fabricators, Ltd., states annual inspection and oiling is major part of general upkeep. MT&T says so far the wind powered phones are working fine.

As the last embers smouldered, my sentiments on the destruction of one more segment of our fast were fading heritage, summed up as follows:

Farewell, old school, the fate you least deserved Is yours, through hands not knowing what they do; Vain were your pleas of innocence, unheard, Vain your appeal for mercy and review. And now your agonizing sentence passed, And you must burn until your timbers strong Have crumbled 'neath your stalwart frame at last..... You who have served so faithfully .... so long.

And I had oh, so proudly hoped for you To stand, in gracious memory of the years;

Once more to fly the red and white and blue. And peal again your bell, for children's ears.

To open wide your gate, that youth may see The symbols of your cherished heritage.... Old men return - to days that used to be, Rememb'ring childhood joys ...... forgetting age.

The blackboard, in it's place upon the wall. The bracket lamps, with chimney's shining clean, The teacher's bell, for recess time to call, water in Spring bucket.....crystal clear, (So quickly drained, as children reached for more And passed around the dipper, hanging near.)

The desk, with letters carved, "John loves Christine." And sitting on a table by the door.

The stove that thawed the mitts and leggings, too, As fire crackled through the open grate;

And girls with crimson cheeks and eves of dew. Hurried to take their seats .... lest they be late.

The mini outdoor houses, side by side, "FOR BOYS" - "FOR GIRLS" - in winter, fall and spring ..... A refuge often used, the time to bide When from the hall, the bell was heard to ring!

And now your days of proud career are o'er: Your children's children ne'er again may see The R's of learning through your humble door ... The heritage of days that used to be. And smould'ring in the darkness of your fate You lie in ashes cherished by the few Rememb'ring, many men who passed your gate Have reached their heights

While there the Digby team took a 93-47 score from the St. Catherines Seniors. However, the l..ghlight was the demonstration of sportsmanship by the St. Catherines teams.

Right now there are Canadian cancer research scientists investigating viruses as a possible cause of human cancer; others are concentrating on the body's immune defense system; still others are examining basic life processes within cells. This is a sampling of the many projects devoted to understanding and controlling cancer. Help support the research effort in Canada by giving generously to the Canadian Cancer Society's annual campaign.

Campaign For Funds For Cancer Society To Begin In April

The fund-raising campaign for the Canadian Cancer Society is almost underway and the volunteers of the Weymouth and District Unit which includes the Municipality of Digby will be devoting time and effort to see that the fight against cancer continues. We know that cancer can be beaten and we won't rest until we know that cancer is wiped out completely.

The funds which are raised each year for the Canadian Cancer Society are channeled in three directions: Cancer Education and Information, Research and Services to Patients.

In Education, the aim of the Unit is to help people take better care of themselves. Information is available in pamphlets, posters, films, attendance at clinics, health talks as well Radio and T.V. discussions, etc. It takes two to detect cancer - you and your doctor. Let us review and try to follow the Seven Steps to Health.

(1) Have a Medical and Dental check-up. (2) Watch for any change in

(3) Find out about any lump or sore that does not heal. (4) Protect yourself against too much sunlight.

(5) Do not smoke. (6) Have a Pap test.

(7) Do a monthly breast self examination.

Research - Each year the Nova Scotia Division provides grants for its locally-based researchers who are devoted to the cause of a cancer cure. At the present time, a project on leukemic diseases called "Study Group A" under Dr. Alan Pyesmany is being carried out at the Isaak Walton Killam Hospital for Children, Halifax. In 1976 the Nova Scotia Division continued to support a research project on the incidence of female cancer in Nova Scotia as well as the specially funded Gosse Visiting Lectureship Award which enables the Division in co-operation with Dalhousie University and the Victoria

General Hospital to have experts in the field of cancer research anywhere in the world, visit, participate in rounds and give lectures to the medical, paramedical and lay communities.

Services to Patients probably this is the area in which the public is more aware of our own local activity. All dressings needed are made locally and given freely to all cancer patients. Supplies from a loan cupboard, including a hospital type bed is available and other things to assist in home nursing. Assistance with transportation costs to the Halifax Tumor Clinic is available to those within a certain income. Weymouth and District Unit gave assistance to 41 patients last year.

The quota for the Campaign for Funds in Digby Municipality this year is $3400. Please be generous when the local volunteer calls on you.

3 Girls 3

Trio Selected Following Auditions by More Than 300

Young Women A nationwide search for three talented but undiscovered female performers to headline network television's newest and most unique variety program has culminated in the selection of Debbie Allen, Ellen Foley and Mimi Kennedy as stars of "3 Girls 3". The fast-paced variety mini-series will premiere on ATV, Monday, March 28 and will be colorcast on four successive Mondays in the 10-11 p.m. period.

The girls were selected following auditions by more than 300 young women, and have been described as "multi-talented showstoppers", who are equally skilled at singing, dancing and doing comedy. The format of "3 Girls 3" will allow Debbie, Ellen and between actual on-stage variety performances and backstage vignettes about three unknowns who have been given starring roles in a network variety series. Gail Parent and Kenny Solms will be the producers and head writers of "3 Girls 3". Parent, one of the original creators of the popular syndicated TV series, "Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman," and Solms have been a writing team for several years. collaborated on "The Carol Burnett Show" for four years, and wrote the highrated "Rhoda's Wedding" episode of "Rhoda", as well as other series segments and comedy specials. They also wrote the screenplay for Parent's novel, "Sheila Levine Is Dead and Living in

New York". Executive producers of "3 Girls 3" are the Emmy Award-winning duo of Gary Smith and Dwight Hemion, who recently teamed up on the highly acclaimed 'Neil Diamond Special" on CTV. Tim Kiley will be the director and Alan Johnson will be the choreographer of the mini-series.

Debbie Allen, a native of Houston, Texas, was a dancer in "Purlie" and was featured in the role of Beneatha in "Raisin", both on Broadway. Last season she played J.J.'s junkie girlfriend in a two-parter on TV's "Good Times." A graduate of Howard University, Washington, D.C., she also had done several television commercials (she's the girl whose headache goes away) and taught at Washington's Duke Ellington School of Performing Arts. Ellen Foley had her first professional show business job in "The Borscht Review" in New York's Catskill hotel resorts. She played Adelaide in the St. Louis University Theater production of "Guys and Dolls" and Rosalie in the same group's production of 'Carnival". She performed in the national tour of 'The National Lampoon Show" and in the off-Broadway plays, "The Company Stow" and "Boy Meets Boy". She is a native of St. Louis, Mo.

Mimi Kennedy, who

actress, was born and raised in Rochester, N.Y. She played Jan in Broadway's long-running musical hit, "Grease", and the roles of Sybil and Millie in "All Over Town", also on Broadway. She has had parts in the Indiana Repertory Theater's productions of "The Doctor in Spite of Himself" and "Musical Mirage Express."

Now" and "Journey of the Fifth Horse". "3 Girls 3" will preempt "Sanford and Son", and "Pig 'n Whistle" March 28 and

"Rheingold", "Who's Happy

April 4, 11 and 18. Maclear

Imagine a tropical isle where citizens don't work. yet are wealthy, where money is given for the asking where all vital services are free, yet there is no taxation. In the next episode of "Maclear", titled "Land of Muck and Money", Correspondent Michael Maclear takes a look at this seeming Utopia, Thursday, March 31, 10:30 -11:00 on

ATV. Nauru, the world's smallest, independent republic, is situated in the Pacific approximately halfway between Sydney and Honolulu. This remote island once served as a rest area for migratory birds. Their wastes mixed with marine deposits to form what is considered the world's purest concentration of phosphates.

"Each bite of the land is worth fifty dollars, each truckload a thousand dollars'', states Correspondent Michael Maclear. "An acre of Nauru is removed every 2 or 3 days. This tiny republic is exporting the very land at a suicidal rate of 100 acres a year. Four times a year, Nauru's some 4,000 citizens each receive a royalty of approximately $32,000, their share of the national wealth that comes from the sale of phosphates".

Nauru's President Hammar du Roburt, a hardworking former school teacher, holds numerous government portfolios and appears to govern Nauru almost singlehandedly. He is aware of the limited future of his country.

"The question and the real problem is where we should resettle", states du Roburt. "We were originally a fish and coconut people and we were very happy. I understand that we are less happy now".

Nauru citizens have no need to work. Most of the country's businesses and industries are manned by foreigners. Half of Nauru's population is made up of imported, indentured workers who sign for a six year stay- their families may join them after one year. The average indentured laborer earns $2.80 a day, a fortune to those from neighboring islands. Food and housing are free, but the laborers cannot become citizens or receive rovalties and they are always considered second-class residents. 'Constant affluence has left Nauruans with little concept of monetary value; a naive trust in the continuation of the status quo is apparent", explains Maclear. "Now they are destroying themselves. Whatever their final choice, it must mean a very reduced nation, for they'll have sold the very land itself. Nowhere more than Nauru does the old question arise does money mean happiness?" "Maclear", with Correspondent Michael Maclear, is produced by Don McQueen for CTV's News, Features and Information Programming Department.

"Two's Company" Debuts April 9th,

Two's Company, a six-part situation comedy series, starring Elaine Stritch and

On CBC-TV

Donald Sinden, begins on CBC television, Saturday, April 9th at 8:00 p.m. The Muppet Show, normally occupying this time period, has moved to Monday nights at half-past seven.

Elaine Stritch in her first comedy series, plays Dorothy McNab, a wealthy American writer of thrillers who decides to live in England. She advertises for a butler, who turns up in the person of Roberts (Donald Sinden), anti-American, anti-feminine, and very British. No holds are barred. and no trick is too cunning as the American Eagle attempts to outwit the ever watchful British Lion.

Two's Company... a CBC presentation ... Saturday evenings at 8 o'clock.

purse of $45,000.00 Although men's and women's strength may differ they are equal in skill and timing. Even at the professional level golf is truly everyone's game. It hasn't always been that way though.

Golf, after a hundred years or so, received the Royal Seal of approval in the 1560's with one of its most ardent players being Mary, Queen of Scots. Begun in Scotland, it spread to England and eventually found its way to the colonies. By 1888 there were clubs in Ontario and Quebec and even the U.S. entered the field. British golfers dominated until 1913 when a Canadian-born American took first place. By the time the First World War came along it was a part of everyone's life.

Although Andrew Lang, a Scottish poet and scholar, once said there were ....excellent reasons for objecting to the flutter of petticoats on the green". those pettcoats kept increasing, and today, women's golf offers the same much-anticipated excitement wherever a tournament is held.

Each day, n one or another of our rivers and lakes, we see the signs of spring in the annual breakup of ice. It's a welcome sight, but the danger of young children falling through the soft ice should be cause for concern by parents.

The Red Cross Water Safety Service claims that many young lives are lost annually in this season. Most young people are attracted to the shores of lakes and rivers to assist Mother Nature in the act of breaking the ice. The water levels begin to rise, and the velocity of the streams increases, with the result that all ice becomes very unstable. It's best not to trust even the shoreline ice; one false step and the waters can be unbelievably cold! For every "hotdogger" on the skate board, there are a thousand little boys with spring sap running hot in their veins who will challenge spring by stamping holes in the ice or leaping from chunk to chunk of thick ice. (This is the adventurous, reckless spirit of the budding male - girls are usually more sensible about getting their feet wet).

Springtime Ice is Unsafe. Keep Children Off the Ice During Spring Breakup. And Set Them a Good Example by Staying Off Yourselves.

RICHARD HARRIS THE RETURN OF A MAN CALLED HORSE

Kejimkujik National Park

Fishing season Kejimkujik National Park begins April 1, 1977 and the Park Superintendent reminds fishermen about the regulations this year.

Fishermen are advised that a National Parks Fishing Licence must be purchased to fish in the Park. These licences will be available from the Warden Staff at any time, from the Park Administration Office on weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., or the Wardens' Housing Area as you enter the Park. The Licence fee is $4.00.

This year Park Wardens will be conducting a creel census study with the cooperation of the fishing public. From such information Park Wardens will be able to determine fishing pressures and the best fishing months or hours of the day for every game species. Ageing the fish will show the normal growth fluctuations from year to year. The creel census will also indicate either the expansion in numbers of some species or the gradual reduction of others. This information will give us insight into future management of this valuable natural resource. Park Warden Bob Thexton, who is co-ordinating the census project, is optimistic about fishing conditions in the Park this year. Once the ice leaves the lakes the Wardens expect a successful season for fishermen.

Under the small vessels regulations it should be noted that all canoeists and boaters must carry approved lifejackets and each vessel must be equipped with a bailer.

Fishermen are invited to contact the Park office at 242-2770 for information if required. If you would like to write to us the mailing ad-

LINES AND WRINKLES

Cosmetic science has extracted a skin beauty substance from the bean of a tropical plant that works wonders by making rough, lined face and dry chapped hands look years younger fast. Use it tonight and you should see vast improvement in the morning. Many small lines around the eyes and mouth may already have disappeared and wrinkles you have given up as hopeless should start to vanish in a few days. But that isn't all. That discouraging weatherdarkened old-age skin tone fades away. But don't take my word for it . . . use this exciting substance yourself for 7 days . . . satisfaction is guaranteed or return for refund. It's the tropical unt extract that works wonders for wrinkles and lines. It's called Cocrema Dry Skin Creme.

Reflecting To 1947

Problems attending the reconversion of the fresh, frozen, salted, smoked, pickled and canned fish industries to peacetime operation and matters dealing with expansion, production, processing and marketing of fisheries products were being discussed at a conference to be held in Charlottetown, P.E.I. This was to be the first of its kind to be held in Canada. Representatives were to be present from the Atlantic and Gulf of St. Lawrence area.

Strong winds thrashed the Nova Scotia shores playing havoc among the lobster traps along St. Mary's Bay. As many as 25 buoys were found with no traps attached.

Arrangements were completed between the Commons Commission of the Town of Digby and representatives of the Tourist and Publicity Department and the Department of Highways regarding the sale of land on the waterfront of the town as a site for a modern tourist bureau. The new bureau was to be on land opposite the Manhattan Hotel. The building plans were reported to be for an attractive structure and contain quarters for an exhibit of Nova Scotia handcraft work. A provision was made in the Bill of Sale that if it became necessary to move the Band Stand, this would be done by the provincial government.

The huge skating rink at the naval base "Cornwallis" had been sold to the Athletic Association of North Sydney and was being torn down to prepare for shipping. It had been built and equipped in 1944. It had a huge rounded roof like the top of a giant Nissen hut which stood out among other buildings on the base. The artificial ice plant had been removed shortly after the base closed in 1946 and was sent to Esquimalt, B.C. The Digby rink committee had made inquiries relative to purchasing.

Rev. George Bell of Yarmouth addressed Digby Kiwanis Club at their Youth Night. Mr. Bell said "Religion has been left out of the curriculum of life and the world is suffering as a result - world leaders, instead of working side by side to work out a solution of the world's problems, are suspicious of each others motives." He declared that as long as there is this attitude of suspicion and distrust, satisfactory agreements between nations cannot be reached.

According to an American writer, it seemed that growing dulse had been poisoned in the area because the Canadian Army had been dumping, shells, bombs, shrapnel depth charges and poison gas into the sea. Just why the area at the junction of the Fundy and Atlantic had been used he could not explain nor why the stingers were not removed from the explosives before they were dumped. With the scarcity of candy, nuts and gum, some operators of the coin machine vendors had been turning to packaged dulse as a replacement. The writer said "It is more effective than the "Digby Chickens" (little salted and smoked herring) but apparently it will be some time before dulse recovers from the setback it has been dealt by the public impression the Canadian ammunition dump has poisoned it."

Three gift counters for selling handcraft were being set up. One was at Wright's store, another at the Myrtle House and one at Mrs. Ted Dakin's home.

Decision was made at the Digby Badminton Club to add the game of tennis to their program. Badminton was to be closed for the season and tennis continue through the summer months. The committee to handle the move were Dudley Brimble, Clayton Snow and Ernest Tufts.

A going-away party for Mrs. Raymond Winchester was held at the home of Mrs. Raymond Lent. Mrs. Winchester was leaving to take up residence in Saint John, N.B.

Sunday visitors of Mrs. Nellie Graham were Mrs. Guy Outhouse of Centreville and Mrs. Sydney Westcott of Waterville, also her son ,Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Graham who just returned from a vacation in Florida.

A Plan To Stop Smoking That Works

Making it easy to quit smoking is the guarantee of the Five-Day Plan, commencing Sunday, April 3 at the I.O.O.F., King Street, Digby, at 7:30 p.m.

Director of this public service plan for the area, Pastor Terrence Davin, reports that over 12 million people have quit through the Five-Day Plan without drugs or major withdrawal symptoms. The purpose of the Plan, a Seventh-day Adventist free community service, is to show how to meet the smoking babit on all levels of life at one time and how to win. It consists of five one-how evening programs of films and group therapy by a minister-doctor team. "Those who have availed themselves of this program praise its principles toward better health and a sense of mastery over what is well known as a death trap," says Pastor Davin.

The smoking public of Digby are invited to call 245-2466 or 467-3434 for reservations and information.
