100th Birthday

The hundredth anniversary of the Digby Weekly Cower has brought to mind some fond memories at cytained in the following historical chapter of the other. But first, I wish to congratulate the current shows a finer of the Courier, Mrs. J.M. (Edith) Wallis, for a job wall done over the years and still being well done. According to any record. I have at hand, the Digby Courier, in one hundred years of publication, was controlled under the same family management of Wallis Print Limited. The late J.J. We worked ten-hour days, six days a week.

J.L. and "Mac" sometimes worked overtime. I worked only the regular hours being paid a weekly wage which was comporatively good for those times and my lack of experience. I received four or five dollars a week for working after school hours to six o clock and on Saturday all day, and nine dollars a week for full weeks after finishing school. A two or three follar a week raise was offered to me in the fall of 1925 for me to stay on at printing, but, I had made up my mind to enter a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, starting salary of $500. The bank salary ingred out about the same per hour as for the printing job. then paid within three months. All nbscriptions remaining unpaid long or than that time, will be $2.00. I will be necessary strictly to enforce this rule.

This reduction in the price of the aper will make it more acceptable to a large number of the inhabitants witl whom the price is a consideration, and we would request our friends amongs the people, teachers, and clergy to take this opportunity of using their influence in one favor

v 1 - 1 - 1 To Subscribers and the Public

We again endeavor to impress upor the large number of our subscriber who still owe $1.00, and in some in tances $2.00, the necessity of paying up. There is still between three an four hundred of these separate dollar unpaid, and we presume that if those persons would consider that their apparently unimportant neglect might ossibly prove the rain of the concern they would make it their business to forward their dues. A number of small advertising and printing bills unimportant separately, but which in the aggregate amount to a consider ble sum, would be very acceptable jus now. We hope our friends will see the reasonableness of our claims.
