100th Birthday

The hundredth anniversary of the Digby Weekly Cower has brought to mind some fond memories at cytained in the following historical chapter of the other. But first, I wish to congratulate the current shows a finer of the Courier, Mrs. J.M. (Edith) Wallis, for a job wall done over the years and still being well done. According to any record. I have at hand, the Digby Courier, in one hundred years of publication, was controlled under the same family management of Wallis Print Limited. The late J.J. Wallis became didner of The Courier, the second time, in 1929, and at the same time of Courier the second time, in 1929, and at the same time of Courier the second time, in 1929, and at the same time of Courier the second time, in 1929, and at the same time of Credits spanes. which he had been running in and which became With between 1929 and 1931

J.L. and "Mac" sometimes worked overtime. I worked only the regular hours being paid a weekly wage which was comporatively good for those times and my lack of experience. I received four or five dollars a week for working after school hours to six o clock and on Saturday all day, and nine dollars a week for full weeks after finishing school. A two or three follar a week raise was offered to me in the fall of 1925 for me to stay on at printing, but, I had made up my mind to enter a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, starting salary of $500. The bank salary ingred out about the same per hour as for the printing job. This laid out from the water's edge, partie on level of that name. It was settled by Loyalists from New York in 1783, the most of whom went early to farms, or, moving to older countries, left the whole free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students one of which was a J.J.'s' daughter. Florence (now Mes. Melvin O. Tibert, Freeport, Digby Co.) Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters; I had the impression that his man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well. I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print" I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some learning eabout things like embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and trimming paper slock, mixing inks for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "pi", the printers name for a confused mess.

CURIOSITIES OF GRAPTINO.—In 1866 Mr. Carliett, of Vincenner, France, took two young port trees, each of which was worked on the quince stock, and one of these, the Beutro de Aremberg, was made to serve as the stock, while the other, the Beutro de Charnen, was grafted in an inverted position, having its roots fully exposed to the air. The operation was provided to the air. The operation was aumment the stock grew virgously and boto two fruits, while the scion tree threw out buds and shoots from the quince and shoots from the quince and two of these succeeded. The sap thus passed from quince roots through Bautre de Arembesty, thirdly through the inverted Beurre de Charneu, then through the quince again, and finally into the two vurieties of pear.

HOT WATER FOR PLANTS.

HOT WATER FOR PLANTS.

I Inhalong been known that the roots of plants encased in earth would stand where so hot as to be quite uncomfurthed to the hand. M. Willermoz, in the Journal of the Society of Practical Horticulture, of the Rhone, France, relates that plants in pots may be treatized with hot water when out of health, the unal remedy for which has been reporting. He says when ill-health ensures from add sub-traness contained or generated in the soil, and this is absorbed by the roots it acts as a paison. The small roots are withered and cases their action, consequently the apper and younger shoots of the phort turn yellow, and the spets with the soil, close the soil close the post of the phort turn yellow, and the spets with the post of the phort turn yellow, and the spets with the soil, close the post carefully, seening good drainage, and often with the best results. But the experience of several years inas provide, with him, the unfailing efficacy of the simpler treatment, which consists in watering abundantly with hot water at a temperature of about 145 degrees Fabrenheit, having previously stirred the soil of the pots to find a might before with the pots. In his experiments, the water came out clear; afterwards I was sensibly three-desired the soil of the pots of the simpler treatment, which consists in watering abundantly with hot water at a temperature of about 145 degrees Fabrenheit, having previously stirred the soil of the pots of the simpler treatment, which consists in watering about the soil of the pots of the simple them without injury to the roots. Water is then given until it runs freely from the pots. In his experiments, the water came out clear; afterwards I was sentily time-gate and the soil of the pots of the simple the soil

We find, upon examination that the mode of operation to obtain or create these corporative bodies, is precisely the same in this country as in that. As few men,—some wealthy, some schemers,—concoct a scheme upon a large scale, whereby they may all become rich. They employ a lawyer, who at the bidding of his employers, prepures an act of incorporation. The first step is, as quietly as possible, to obtain for this prepared act, the sanction and authority of law. To comply with lax legislative rules, a little notice, of intention to make application to be incorporated, is given in a sky covere of some nowspaper. When the ingislative body convenes, some member, who has been previously approached, arises at the opportune mopronched, arises at the opportune moquiet, and offers it, this child-like and bland act of incorporation. In ductino, and with little, perhaps, no examination, it passes through the different stages of legislative enactment, and becomes LAW. The deed is done. Private rights are stricken down! They are trampled upon, and are crushel under foot. This simple little act, when put into operation is fund to be clothed with extraordinary powers: right of way, donation of lands, subsidies, right of way, donation of lands, subsidies, right of taxation, issuint of bonds, are but a few of the and offers it, this child-like and nos, susuates, right of action, issue of the ivileges it has obtained. FOX LEGENDS IN JAPAN.

fOX LEGEXDS IN JAPAN.

The fox plays a considerable part in Japanese mythology. Kitsue for such as keynard's name there, is by turns seared, witty, perfidious and diabolical. They rendered him homage, and again ridicale him, but are soldom without some dread of his mallice. One of the favorite pligrimages near Jackle, are the gardens and orchards of Olif Inari, which have from time immomorial been under the invocation of Kitsne, who honors them with his special protection. His little temple perfectly covered within with votive offerings is reached by m areaned fined with red banners. The path is mountainous, winding, full of roots and can be accounted only by stooping. In this posture, you reach the lawn before the July law, and pass between two malicious granite foxes. The votaries bow respectfully, perform their ablutions, drep some money late the bax, and kneel to pray on the

The votaries bow respectfully, perform their ablutions, drop some money into the bax, and kneel to pray on the temple-steps. On the 17th day of the first month, the place is crowded. After off, in the marshes, can be seen the great tree, around which, the proceeding night, the faxes hold their annual Sabbath Persons who profess to have seen them are eargerly genetioned. According to the reports of those who have witnessed the gathering—each fox presided by a will-off the-wips, a courteous to the reports of those who have winessed the gathering—each for preceded by a will-of the wisp, a courtous visuateer from the rice swamp—prognostics are formed as to the coming year, its crops, its lucky or unlucky character for war, love or commerce. Then, in the ten-honses, they discuss the mysterious influence of the fox in human affitirs. What is chauce? What is good fortune? Whence does it come? If you cannot explain, kitsne is as good a solution as any other, at least to a Japanese mind.

CUSTOMS DEPARTMENT

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as womierful and as satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or facied hair to its youthful color.

It removes all empirions, itching and dandurd. It gives the head a cooling, soothing sensation of great confort, and the scalp by its uso becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glauds to their normal vigor, preventing haddness, and maling the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing, nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and enrefully sevelected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEAT PARTAMETOS for its intended purposes."

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER.

FRIDAY, 23rd MARCH, 1879.

GUR PUBLIC SUMOOLS.

Continuing this subject from our last issue, we premise that the people have done their duty nobly, thus far, in support of the common schools of untry. When we reflect upon omparatively small population province, and the bad conformational affairs prior to assage of our common school the passage of our common school lar, we are amazed at the extraojodin-nely, faw days since, in the the following statements in this report; in the system. Think of the great nume her of sections throughout the provation, and the special properties of the school strategies and all brills the system of sections throughout the provation of the statement of the st Inspectors, teachers pay, cost of books and school furnitive, and we have an and school furnitive, and we have an and school furnitive, and we have an and school furnitive, and we have an and school furnitive, and we have an and school furnitive, and we have an and school furnitive, and we have an and school furnitive, and we have an and school furnitive, and we have an and the handle have a must be for successions agreement and the present the popple, which is simply imarvel. Insufer our money should have a small the proposed that the masses of the popple where therefore, the statement so frequently made that, the masses of the popple contertain "the idea that paying school thanks is simply throwing away money." Ruther, the question with them is, "have we got our money's worth for our great outlay?"

Believing as we do that the people have done their part well, it follows, that if the results are not all they should be, the fault must be in the system or in the manner it is administration of school affairs.

It was during the autumn of fast, year that we made up a party to explore the mountain scenery of North Wales.

There were just six of us—myself—and my purents, Maud Carruthers, Charlay Esauchamp, and my cousin, Diek Dalton. The two latter were brother officers and Indian heroes, with bornozed faces and flowing beards.

I think there never was such a beard as Dick Dalton's—so long, and of such as Dick Dalton's—so long, and of such a sunny auburn brown. Ito had thick early hair to match, and a pair of wonderfully deep, pleasant, laughter-boring blue eyes.

Bonny Richard Dalton! I thought him the handsomest follow this world possessed, even though I was and had been engaged for some months to his friend Charley Beauchamp.

I did not wonder that all the girls I there negaged for some months to his friend Charley Beaucham, I he girls I introduced him to work welling in each to worship him; and I was not sur-prised when they told mobe was the nicest follow in the world; and I foll proud to possess such a cousin as Dick Daton.

It was very provoking. I did my best to make matters more amenable,
