ROMAINE'S STEAM FARMER A Remarkable Agricultural Imploment at the Glasgow Exhibition.

A working model of a remarkable agricultural implement is on show in the Canadian court of the Glasgow exhibition, which is sure to attract the attention of farmers. machine is the invention of Mr. Romaine, of Ottawa, who thirty years ago began working out a system of cultivation which should thoroughly pulverize the soil without disturbing the subsoil. His steam farmer, as the new implement is called, will, it is said, plough, prepare the seed bed and sow the seed at one operation, and subsequently, when harvest comes, cut the grain and thresh it at the same time. The machine is a locomotive, supported on a series of broad carry ing wheels, which operate the apparatus. In order to cultivate, hoe earth up, and stir the soil between the growing rows of grain or root crops, the machinery and apparatus are suspended high enough above over the growing crops, until the latter have attained a height of four feet, without injuring them. The new implement consists of four steel zirders, braced transversely, and covered with a strong and creosoted plank flooring, forming a kind of portable bridge, about 25 feet long and 16 feet wide, which adapts it for cultivating or harvesting at one time a strip of land about 221 feet wide. Four wheels are placed at each end, which travel on parallel strips of soil about eighteen inches wide, which are not disturbed at any time for purposes of cultivation. On these strips of land indertations are made by shallow and slightly bevelled grooves, formed by projecting flanges attached to the centres over the whole width of land to be when taken hot.

it is taken in too great a quantity. Some drink too freely of water, especially during the heated term. There is, however, a class largely made up of women who do not at any time drink sufficiently of that element essential to health. As a rule they suffer from constipation. Every one ought to drink about two quarts of water daily to meet the needs of the system. "Water is fattening" is an expression of some truth. Very fleshy, people are proverbially thirsty, and when they attempt a reduction in weight to lessen as much as possible the quantity of fluids habitually taken is one of the recognized rules of treatment. But a rigid adhérence to it, is dangerous for many, if not all. Unless advised by a physician to do differently, they should drink all they crave, within reason, excepting dur ing the hour before and the hour after meals. With the food only the is allowable.

A SAD STORY,

Which Contains a Moral and a Warning that Should not be Lost Sight Of.

Last April a young and rather pretty girl of eighteen summers, whose people live at Dutch Village, near Halifax, became acquainted with a young fellow who claimed to be a native of Reading, Pa. He was in Halifax as a visitor. The pair became infatuated with each other. The man made regular visits at the girl's home. The parents of the girl rather liked the young man, but after a time the old couple suspected that he was not a fit and proper person to keep their daughter company. One evening they informed him that he must cease his attentions to their daughter. The girl grew very angry and threatened to leave home unless her father and mother changed their minds. The stern parents remained unmoved and vowed that if the young man in question entered the house again he would be ejected forcibly. At last the young man left Halifax and returned to the States. The girl received letters from him, and he asked her to come on and live with him and his people. Finally the girl, who had been working in a tailoring establishment gave up her situation and without notifying her parents, bid Halifax adieu and left to join her young man in New Bedford, Mass. On arriving in New Bedford she found things quite different from what she had expected, Instead of finding a comfortable home, she found quite the reverse. The young man met her at the station and drove her to the residence of a clergy-

Rossway, Oct. 2nd, 1888.

DEAR COURIER,—In your last I promised few remarks for this issue on fire protection and insurance companies. In order to put the matter fairly I must cite a case. In 1880, policy for $2000 was taken out on property on the front street in Digby, at 2½ per cent, $50.00, at that time we had no fire protection, and this was all that was asked by one of the best insurance co's. in the land. This insurance company representatives met to-gether, and decided to form a Syndicate and ncrease the rate of insurance at the expiration of each policy in Digby in their respective offices which was done. The above rates was increased to 33 per cent increasing the sum total from $50.00 to $75.00, which sum | Commbination Sets, had to be paid. After the completion of our arrangements for fire protection, strong representations was made by the agents of the co's here asking their co's for a reduction, Ladies and Gentlemens this was made of 20 per cent, which in some cases brought parties back to where they were, but in the case cited left it at 3 per cent, or $60.00 A furthur change has now brought it to 23 per cent or $50.00 annually, what it was at first. The point I want to make is, had we not secured a steam fire engine, I would still be paying $75.00 per year on $2000 insurance, instead of $50.00, as now, leaving $25.00 to credit against fire tax, in Turkeys: 1st Harding Brooks, 2nd John this one item. This must be the experience of every man having insurance on houses or when our fire protection will cost us less—as it certainly will—than it does now, we will the peace of mind and reasonable security to life and property, that must be shared by all the inhabitants of the town plot of Digby since the inauguration of our fire Brigade That the people of Digby have been unfairly Fancy Dress Trimmings, treated by this Syndicate, must be apparent to everyone. If parties were to stick out, there is not the slightest doubt but we would get better terms, from this purse proud Syndicate, or more reasonable rates from non-tariff companies outside, which are doing an increasing business here at present, and theremoderner for tor for those that require ONE WHO PAYS FIRE TAX.

now taken up a new system of securing bait for their trawls, which will soon render Digby Basin and our other fruitful herring grounds even less productive of profit than our in-shore line fishing. The shoals of small, lat summer herring so well known all over the world as "Digby Chickens" (when dressed and smoked by skilful operators) are fast forsaking us, and although this summer seen swarming for a short time near our weirs, were very soon so successfully frightened and driven away that "Digby Chickens" are now not found for either home consumption or exportation.

The driving away of these delicious fish was accomplished by our own line fishermen who, instead of getting herring for bait at a cheap rate out of the weirs, were permitted to capture them by the unlawful and destruc-ated with paraffine, herring approaching weirs were enticed to the surface of the water by the light, and dil ped by scoop-nets into boats thus frightening them away from the weirs and rendering the water so offensive by means of the floating paraffine as to break up the schools and drive the fish entirely away from our shores.

The Fishery Report of the Dominion Government last year cleearly pointed out to the fish inspectors and overseers, as well as to the general public, the utter destructiveness of this unlawful practice. But summer after summer, on every dark calm night, we have seen it going on, and no effort, so far as we know, has been made to prevent it. Shall we tamely stand by and see a very valuable fishery utterly destroyed? Will not the newspapers make a determined and persistent effort for the recovery and preservation?

Starvation in the United States.

- FAMINE IN DAKOTA. St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 5 .- A horrible story of widespread destitution comes from Ramsey county, Dakota, where the entire population is said to be on the brink of starvation. Mayor Smith received yesterday an appeal signed by county officials and prominent citizens of Ramsey, urging the people of St. Paul to take steps at once to alleviate the distress existing in the county. The appeal for aid is accompanied by a statement to the effect that recent frosts destroyed thousands of bushels of wheat and left destitute the residents of all but one of the townships in the county. Application has been made o the county authorities for assistance, but it has been discovered that the want is so great that it would financially ruin the county to attempt to alleviate it.

Drugs and Druggists Sundries were put away down below what the people here had been accustomed to pay for these articles. This was done because we found we could, in a great many instances, reduce the price onehalf, and then make a fair profit. We shall continue to sell goods in the lines mentioned, at this enormous reduction in price. In the line of Patent Medicines the case is different. These have a fixed price everywhere, at which they are sold at a moderate profit. People know this, and expect to pay the regular price. Occasionally, however, some dealer, in a desperate effort to keep before the Public, cuts below these prices, pring Petant Medicings as a describe roll. to entrap the unwary. Now we do not believe in any such policy, but when others adopt this course we want it understood that we do not intend to be undersold in course. we do not intend to be undersold in anything. Hence, we take this method of informing our customers that they will always find our prices in every line, as low as, if not lower than at any other Drug Store in this country. With a stock complete in every department, entirely new and fresh, and of the very best quality, we hope to merit a continuance of

A TERRIBLE TEN YEARS.—Mrs. Thomas Acres, of Huntly, Ont., suffered all the tortures of Liver Complaint for ten years. Four bottles of B. B. entirely cured her, making her like a new woman again, after other medicines had failed to rélieve her.

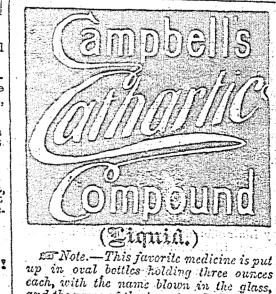

Mr. Alex. Robinson, of Exeter, in writing about one of the most popular articles, and one that has done more good to the afflicted than any other medicine has during the short time it has been in existence, says: "I have used four bottles of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Dyspeptic Cure, and have been cured of Dyspepsia that troubled me for over ten years. Part of that time I had it very bad, and was at considerable expense trying to get relief; but this excellent remedy was the first and only relief I received." TRIED AND PROVED .- "I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for summer complaint, and have proved it, after a fair trial a sure cure, both in my own case

A British Columbia fishing vessel recently returned from a trip, the object of which was to discover the feeding grounds of the black cod, with a full fare. The result of the trip was to prove that along the west coast of Queen Charlotte Island, at a distance of about two miles from the shore, the water abounds in cod, which may be taken there all the year round. As the trip was largely an experimental one the vessel was only scantily supplied with fishing appliances, but succeeded, neverthelss, in get-ting a full cargo in a very short time. A trawl with 300 hooks was extemporized and put down for three-quarters of an hour. It took three hours to haul it and take the fish off. A mile off shore halibut banks were found, where fish, some-Poor Digby; who does not sigh for thee that loves thee? The fading verdure, the autumn tints, even the animated nature, (cows, etc.) tell us that we must look at home for mutual pleasures and improvements. Now let us see what we have. The first and largest organization, in fact, the only one, Freemasons excepted,) is the Temperance odge. The profit and amusement that this body affords to a large number can only be realized by a close communing with it; the regret is, that this fellowship does not embrace the grand whole. But as it does not, can we not bring to

TO THE PUBLIC:--When this Store was opened the prices of Drugs and Druggists Sundries were put away down below what the people here had been accustomed to pay for these articles. This was done because we found we could, in a great many instances, reduce the price onehalf, and then make a fair profit. We shall continue to sell goods in the lines mentioned, at this enormous reduction in price. In the line of Patent Medicines the case is different. These have a fixed price everywhere, at which they are sold at a moderate profit. People know this, and expect to pay the regular price. Occasionally, however, some dealer, in a desperate effort to keep before the Public, cuts below these prices, using Patent Medicines as a decoy by which Sulphur, Sponge, Tinctures of all kinds.

Number Two. (From the Boston Traveller.)

There are many foolish people in this world who go off on an alleged vacation and never hate even the remotest approach to one. The worst of it is, too, that they go and do the same thing over and over again year after year, until they get into such a moral and mental condition that there would be imminent risk of their reason being dethroned if they should ever chance to have a real bona fide, all-wool-and-good-wear vacation, such as you can have in Digby, for instance. I know several misguided persons who yearly immure themselves in a 6x10 yard farm away up in New Hampshire, 40 miles from any water but a duck pond, and a day's journey from civilization, when they might just as well be down in br ezy, picturesque, delightful Nova Scotia, where they can find something better to do than to enter into a political discussion prevalence of hawthorn hedges, which, trimwith mosquitos, or sweep the horizon every day for signs of a fresh breeze.

Whatever the extent of your vacation is whether it is a week of a summer, you can use it all to good advintage if you make Dig-by your heady laters. The town, resting as it does, on the high, sloping shore of the MAGNIFCIENT ANNAPOLIS BASIN.

The 30 flaming intritive properties, is unequaled not only lined the route. The 30 flaming is a remedy for Consumption, but for all carriages in which the emperors and Chronic Diseases of the their friends drove from the station Liver, Blood, and Lungs, all had gilded spokes in the wheels horses dragged the couple of emperors, both of whom are light, at least physicially. The dinner that had been cooked was stupendous. The emperor both ate and drank heartily In fact it was, not to put too fine a point upon it, a good old-fashioned German drinking match. The Austrian Empress, it was observed, did not even touch a morsel. The details of dinner were most artistic. The Hungarian generals wore scarlet tunics, scarlet tights and high boots. There were privy councillors all embroidered in gold. Knights of Malta in searlet; cardinals in flowing robes; archbishops in purple; every imaginable foreign uniform—in short, a grouping of stuffs and colors such as no comic opera could even imitate. QUINCY, ILLS., October 11.-A grand stand was erected yesterday to accomodate 5,000 people who were to witness a display of fireworks. The ampitheatre was crowded with people and probably not less than 500 were upon the seats. Scarcely had the first rocket been fired when the supports at the west end of the structure gave way and and 800 feet of seats slided over and the vast multitude were hurled upon the ground to be buried in the mass of lumber which fell upon them. The air was filled with the cries of the injured while the panicstricken sought escape from the debris. With the descent of the platform the electric lights which were intended to light the grounds, but which were extinguished to aid the display were incapacitated for service and the darkness of the scene

The other day a leading solicitor in-Australia received instructions from London to hunt up a young man who had quitted England ten years previously and a draft for £300 was enclosed to pay his passage home. After a course of advertising a member of a charitable society called in and directed the solicitor to a certain hovel in Lower Alexander, Sydney.

The solicitor, knowing the 'lay" of the country judiciously sent his clerk down to catch the fever instead of doing it in person. The well-dressed young man explored the barbarous region, dodging through back lanes and over mud piles and among broken tences that hung wearily and lobsidedly amid abysses of mud, and at last he arrived at a hut which boasted a box and a pile of rags and straw for its sole furniture. A weary woman, who had once been handsome and who under happier auspices would be handsome again, begged that they should not be turned out of their dismal abode until her husband was better, and a hollow-eyed. invalid stretched on a pile of rags in the corner echoed the petition. And these two were the heirs to a fortune of $150,000.

A SEVERE TRIAL. - Those who endure the torturing pangs of neuralgia, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, and similar painful complaints are severely tried, but there is a speedy relief in Hagyard's Yellow Oil, as thousands who have used it joyfully testify. It banishes pain and lameness quickly.

How Vanderbilt Made $105,000,-000 After He was 65 Years Old ...

A Saratoga Tetter St. Louis Globe Democrat says; It is singular that just as Saratoga loses the Vanderbilts she gains Gould. "The old Commodore," as the elder Vanderbilt is called, and "William H.," as the late president of the New York Central is invariably referred to, appeare at Sartaoga as regularly as the season came round. The heirs have cut the Springs and spent the summer at Newport and other resorts: The old Commodore was a great man to sit da the versage hand talk with anybody and everybody. An old-timer says he once sat in a group which included the old Commodore and William, H. Seward, who so narrowly missed the presidency, in 1860 They were talking about money making. "Commodore," asked Mr. Seward, "you are not always successful in your business plans, are you?" "No," replied Mr. Vanderbilt, with extreme frankness. "Sometimes I l se $50,000 or $75,000 or $100,090, but I generally come out a leetle ahead at the end of the year." Another veteran of 30 Saratoga

tral, and doubled another. And fit of all suffering as I-did.', finally he took in the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern and his Western property, and doubled his estate the third time. Thus when he was at the age when most men are thinking of making their wills his estate jumped from $15,000,000 to $30,000,000 by the purchase of the Harlem, from $30,000,000 to $60, 000,000 by the purchase of the Hudson River, and from $60,000,000 to $120,000,000 by the purchase of the wonderful Vanderbilt fortune. "Forgot! A man who knew that he was to go at a certain date, and that he was to take a sleeper, forget? I cannot exchange with you." I know he thought me boorish, but had I exchanged he would have trusted to luck next time, thinking to meet some good hearted rellow and perhaps have got no berth at all.

My refusal angered him, but it made him realize future responsibility. The city ordinance says no horse shall be left unhitched on the street. I am careful to observe that ordinance, no matter what the bother. Another is not. His unhitched rig walks into mine and takes a wheel off. I demand pay and he is astonished that he should be held liable for what he calls an "accident." He calls me all sorts of hard names, but

The ordinance specifies that alleys shall be kept clean. I go to trouble and expense to live up to that ordinance. My neighbor dûmps his garbage into the alley and I notify the sanitary police, and he is fined. It is a great shock to him that he can't break the ordinance at will and offend the nostrils of a whole neighborhood. He calls me a crank and a mean man, never dreaming that all the trouble came from his own-

The San Francisco Millionaire. James C. Flood, of San Francisco, who is worth thirty mil ion dollars, is reported to be dying of Bright's disease in Germany. He is head of the greatest banking institution of San Francisco, and was generally regarded as the ablest of the "bonanza millionaires." Mr. Flood has a wife and two children, a son and a daughter, both unmarried. Of the great California quartette -Mackay, Fair, Flood and O'Brien -one died some years ago, Wm. O'Brien. The history of these four men, all Irishmen, and all rich beyond the measure of even the millionaires of California, is a tale as wild as any the most audacious novelist has invented. James Clair Flood was born in Ireland in 1825. In the spring of 1851 he sailed from and of bank. The brilliant, gifted Steerage of the ship Elizabeth Ellen. sought self-destruction.

Flood and O'Brismwere to run-the saloonand supply Mackay and Fair with what money they could spare, and hat tooks and provisions they needed. Mackay and Fair were to prospect for gold, and, later on, for silver. Flood, O'Brien, Mackay & Government of Nova Scotia. Fair, the richest firm in the world afterwards, were to share alike in the mineral discoveries. Flood & O'Brien made money from the start. Their saloon, the Auction Lunch, was located in what proved to be a busy part of the city, Speculators and business men dropped in to drink, and took a great fancy to Billy O'Brien, who had a mitted. genial, whole-souled way which won him wide-spread popularity. The speculators talking with one another In quiet moments he and O'Brien would lay their heads together and in selecting the really valuable ones.

Flood & O'Brien were in the habit of receiving from the miners their gold dust and locking it up for them, apply to the Principal, at the same time plying them with questions as to the "paying qualities" of such and such a mine or if any new mine had been In the Supreme Court, 1888. preempted they found it out. Little by little they worked, until one fine morning all San Erancisco was startled by the knowledge that "Flood and O'Brien were proprietors of the Hale and Norcross, a very rich mine. Next they sold out the "Auction Lunch" and "boomed out" as possessors of a rich share of the Comstock lode, holding it until it depreciated value, and shifting their burd operators who bought it wien it was valueless. Flood talked very little of his elevation in the world, but O'Brien "cashed in" before he had a chance to use his wenter, warring to a host of netces

Mackay and Fair took the mine, which subsequently became famous to the world as the "Consolidated Virginia," from whose depths millions in silver ore have been taken. Flood, in spite of his enormous wealth, never withdrew from business affairs until last spring, when TO BE SOLD AT PUBLIC AUCTION, he settled up his affairs and went to Europe to try to recover his health, He seemed to care little or nothing for pleasures of any kind, his whole attention being apparently taken up These interests are so extensive as lots and parcels of to have necessitated the establishment of a bank as a sort of clearing house for the affairs of the firm. Dr. Parker, of City Temple London, one of London's famous preachers who a few weeks ago was expected to take the pastorate of Plymonth Church as the successor of Henry Ward Beecher, is evidently insane. His eccentricities of late have alarmed his congregation and now a letter of his to the Daily Chronicle. plainly shows that he has lost his mental epuilibrium.

The witness stood it with commendable patience for about an hour, when according to the local paper, he requested the court to adourn. "What for?" asked the court. "Your Honour, I would like the court adjourned for five minutes while I go out and lick this infernal lawyer." "I was just goin out to do it myself, pard," replied the court, "but if you won't be over five minutes I'll adjourn, and Jim licked the lawyer, to the intense amusement of the crowd, who now want to make him Mayor of the town.

The report of the English commissioners of inland rever ue just issned shows that there has been a decrease of $1,000,000 in the liquor bill of the Englis', people for the last fiscal year. Despite this, the consumption of beer and spirits is still enormous, and though the temperance fr aternity may feel encouraged at, the reduction, there is still a vas', evil for them to attack. The revenue derived by the government om the liquor traffic for 1887-8 was $279,594,770. For the first time since 1883-4 there was an increase in the consumption of spirits chargeable with duty. -It amounted to 436,114 gallons, considerably more than half of which was consumed in Scotland. In the three kingdoms, during the year the vast quantity of 26,117,254 gallons of spirits was consumed as a beverage. or something over a gallon and a half per head. The export increased by nearly 405,000 gallons. The receipts from the beer were $43,557,-665, the highest ever reached. It is curious to note that the increase is partly attributed to the celebration of the queen's jubilee, which at this rate must have promoted a great amount of thirstyness among her majesty's loyal subjects in the three kingdoms. The whole court at Berlin is en-irely composed of new people. The friends and personnel of the ate, emperor have disappeared. The emperor and empress are appround. ed with new faces and people entirely their way of thinking. The empress had no choice in the matter, having no individuality apart from her husband, who, treats her as all Gérmans of his school treat their wives. She is a mother of future emperors, and with that any woman should be satisfied. Her babies needle-work, and the small gossip of the court suffice for her entertainment. She is so absolutely in leading strings that she reads no books save those recommended to her by Court Chaplin Stocker. The emperor has his time entirely engrossed with military matters for the moment, and is quité contented. Those brought into contact with the court and court life at Berlin say it is impossible to imagine anything more complete than the effacement of every trace of the late emperor's in-

"Rocks of Ages, cleft for me!" 'Twas a woman sung them now Pleading and prayerfully Every word her heart did know Rose the song, as storm tossed bird Beats with weary wing the air; Every note with sorrow stirred, Every syllable a prayer!
"Rock of Ages, cleft for me, Let me hide myself in Thee!"

"Rock of Ages, cleft for me"-"Lips grown aged sung the hymn Trusting and tenderly, Voice grown weak and eyes grown dim Sung as only they can sing Whe life's thorny path have prest; Sung as only they can sing Whe behold the promised rest. "Rock of Ages cleft for me,

"Rock of Ages, cleft for me"-Underneath, all restfully, All life's joys and sorrows hid-Never more, O storm-tossed soul, Never more from wind or tide, Never more f.om billows' roll Wilt thou need thyself to hide! Sin,—The gravity of the political situation here and the duties of those voters who are of English birth, but still consider England the mother land, constitutes the apology 1 hereby offer for intruding for information. Mr. Cleaveland's message to Congress on the fishery question justly excites our alarm, and compels us to seek further knowledge before finally casting our votes for him, as we had intended to do. Many English citizens have for years refrained from being naturalized, as they thought no good would accrue from the act, but Mr. Cleveland's administration has been so favorable and friendly toward England, so kind in not enforcing the retaliatory act passed by Congress, so sound on the free trade question, and so hostile to the dynamite school of Ireland, that by hundreds—yes, by thousands—they have become naturalized for the express purpose of helping to elect him over again. NO REASON FOR DEATH. Dr. William Hammond Believes

Death Unnecessary.

OR AT LEAST IT IS SO AT THE TIME IN THE CASES OF MOST PEOPLE WHO DIE DEATH COMES FROM IGNOR-ANCE OR CARELESSNESS.

People die through ignorance of the laws which govern their system, and also from their inability or indisposition to obey the laws with which they are acquainted. We are told in the first chapter of Genesis, that before Adam ate the forbidden fruit the life of man was to be eternal, but with the acquisition of the knowledge of good and evil death became his portion. It seems to me that it would be more in accordance with the actual state of affairs at the present time, to believe that death came through his loss of knowledge rather excess of ignorance.

We know that man's life is conmetal into a salt through the action of an acid, and electricity is set free. In the body the brain the heart, the liver, the muscles, all act through the destruction or rather alteration of the substance of which they are Between-Grorge F. MILLER and WATcomposed. With every thought that emanates from the brain, with every motion which it feels, with every act of the will which it originates, with every conception which it experiences, a certain portion of the central tissue is broken down TO BE SOLD AT PUBLIC AUCTION, into simpler substances and through various channels is excreted from the body. Will any of our readers try it, and oblige us with a report? "When spokes and felloes shrink, and the wagon tires become loose in consequence, it is the custom to have the tires reset, at the usual expense of fifty cents each. It is far cheaper and better for the wheels, to saturate the woodwork with hot linseed oil. It can be applied with a rag tied to a stick. This fills the pores, and causes the timber to swell, and fill the tire as when new. With a coat of hot oil once in a year or two,

Nothing so suddenly obstructs the perspiration as sudden transitions from heat to cold. Heat rarifies the blood, quickens the circulation and increases the perspiration, but when these are suddenly checked the consequences must be bad. The most common cause of disease is obstructed perspiration, or what commonly goes by the name of catching cold. Coughs, colds, sore throat etc., if attended to in time are easily sub dued, but if allowed to run their own course, generally prove the fore-runner of more dangerous diseases. Nine-tenths, of the consumptives date their affliction from a neglected cold, and the diseases that are caused by wet feet, damp clothes, or exposure are more numerous than are generally supposed. One of the most efficacious medicines for all diseases of the throat and lungs is Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It promises a free and easy expectoration, which frees the lungs from viscid phlegm by changing the secretions from a diseased to a healthy state.

The foundation of the first colony by the French may be dated from 1764. At the treaty of Paris,

February 10th, 1763, all the French possessions in North America passed into the hands of the English. According to the terms of this treaty the French were allowed the privil ege of drying their is hou the islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon. In the same year Baron de L'Esperance was sent out to take possession of these islands in the name of France. On the following year the first fishing establishments were built by the French. Among the first settlers were some Action who preferred remaining under French rule. In 1778, during the revolutionary war with the United States the English seized the islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon, destroyed their fortifications and compelled them to seek refuge in France. The population of the colony at that time was about 1,800. Pive years later at the peace of Versailles, September 3, 1783, the islands were restored to France and the French at once sent out more colonists. In 1723 the English again took possession of these islands, and on the following year shipped all the inhabitants to France. This time the town of St. Pierre was not immediately destroyed, but in 1795 when Admiral Richerie was sent out by the Franch to destroy the En-
