

THE DIGBY COURIER

CENTENNIAL EDITION

SEPTEMBER 18, 1974

Welcome to the Digital DIGBY COURIER

1877-1978

100th Birthday

The hundredth anniversary of the Digby Weekly Courier has brought to mind some fond memories as contained in the following historical chapter of the writer. But first, I wish to congratulate the current editor of the Courier, Mrs. J.M. (Edith) Wallis, for a job well done over the years and still being well done, good service rendered with great fortitude.

According to any record, I have at hand, the Digby Courier, in one hundred years of publication, was controlled under the same family management for 42 years, 1931 to 1973, under the control of Wallis Print Limited. The late J.J. Wallis became editor of The Courier the second time, in 1929, and at the same time of the business, which he had been running for some time previously and which became Wallis Print Limited sometime between 1929 and 1931.

I well remember the last year of the twenties when I worked in the office of the son with the husband and father of the late J.J. Wallis, the Courier. Sometime in 1928 or early 1929, the late J.M. Wallis (Mac), son of "J.J." engaged me to work every day after school hours, Saturdays, and for some months after full time. The place of work was in the building of the present Digby town hall on First Avenue. J.J. Wallis then worked occasionally at the print shop but mostly across the street at the Courier office which was then located on land in the general area where The Royal Bank of Canada is now.

Wallis Job Print operated in 1929 with a staff of four consisting of J.J. Wallis, J.M. Wallis, Miss Eva Haynes, who later became Mrs. George Kicup, and myself. I was the youngest of the staff in early 1929.

Eva's job was to run the staff in the left up-stairs. "J.J." occasionally worked at the printing plant but mostly at the Courier office. "Mac" worked nearly full time at all the different jobs at the Job Print, and I worked at various duties, most of the time being spent at operating printing presses.

We worked ten-hour days, six days a week. "J.J." and "Mac" sometimes worked overtime. I worked only the regular hours being paid a weekly wage which was comparatively good for those times and my lack of experience. I received four or five dollars a week for working after school hours to six o'clock and on Saturday all day, and nine dollars a week for full weeks after finishing school. A two or three dollar a week raise was offered to me in the fall of 1929 for me to stay on at printing, but I had made up my mind to enter a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, starting salary of $300. The bank salary figured out about the same per hour as for the printing job. Nevertheless, the congenial atmosphere of the printing plant those days, and, experience however short, were helpful and appreciated by me.

"J.J." was very jovial in his occasional trip to the Job Print and did considerable kidding all in good fun. "Mac" was a witty person who mixed in a good natured sarcasm now and then for one reason or another. Eva most always had good answers to all the kidding she was called upon to take, and, generally held her own in a quiet sort of way, always busy setting type. We four all got along very well indeed. However, I do remember that some days did seem long and weary because of the monotony of some repetitious jobs.

In spite of the great demand for printing those last boom days of the twenties, business generally being brisk, it looked to me that people had to work long and hard to make any decent profit. There was including treatment of the hands. However, nails and finger ends were used and I was soon back to work.

Now and then a printing job had a dose on parchment paper which required a special kind of printers' ink which smelled very bad those days. I always dreaded it when "Mac" would do that job on the largest press, in spite of the fact that we always opened an outside door to lessen the effects on the constitution.

One of the jobs I had to do, being the junior and printers' devil on the staff, was to clean up now and then. One day not long after I started my job at the printing plant, I decided to clean the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned in some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily, he thought the remark pretty good and suitable.

Sometimes the gasoline engine or a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and after "Mac" the fix-it man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results, "Mac" would then stand back and cuss quite strenuously, then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of cussing."

On other occasions when some gadget refused duty for me and, seemed to be broken, "Mac" would say, "use a little oil," and sure enough, often that is all it took. How often since, have I thought of the value of that remark and the actual need of "oil" in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and, in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I told "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1929 got together just before dark one evening and decided to initiate the newly built outdoor Pines Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just east of the pool; nobody else seemed to be around except the four boys; no thought or time for bathing suits up to the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in, the rest quickly followed and across the pool they swam. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Scouts Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the four? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars (second world and Korean), was awarded the Victoria Cross; Sidney L. Smith, now prominent druggist for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale lobster king merchant; and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day "Mac" said to me "how about writing your version of the story told about 'The Marooning of Jerome'." I had heard and read at least two somewhat different stories about the man who was found marooned on a beach at some point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Digby County. When found this man's tongue had been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome" appeared to have been a man of some considerable social standing and possibly of some considerable wealth. However the only thing the man could or would ever say after being found and cared for by some family in the French shore was, something that sounded like the word "Jerome". He either could not, or, would not, write anything about who he was or why he was left the way he was. Well, it was, and is, one of Digby County's mystery stories, and, different ideas have been expressed over the years concerning this man. However my response to "Mac" was, I felt no urge to write anything more or different about this man. The mystery seemed to have been very well explored in the mind of many people, and, he was a sort of curiosity for many people who visited where he lived for many years.

Three years later, I was quite alone in the street that I lived back and forth, led a boat clanking noise, powered by a small engine, and a "plur", and as I remember it, it was a "plur". "J.J." was noted for his sense of humor and his sense of humor.

Digby 172 Years Ago

Compiled by David Sanford

From the files of the Courier of January 23, 1867, the following account has been copied concerning Digby in 1800.

"Among a number of old newspapers kindly sent to us by friends is a copy of the Saint John Gazette of May, 1802, says the Telegraph and among other advertisements contained in the issue before us is one describing the town and township of Digby, and offering for sale certain lots in the town. In this area we are told the township of Digby extends from the Gulf of Annapolis westward to the extremity of the province of Nova Scotia, and contains about 130,000 acres." The town plot is thus described:

"The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles across land from the head of St. Mary's Bay. This laid out from the water's edge, partly on level ground and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect, a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in where it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth of that name. It was settled by Loyalists from New York in 1783, the most of whom went early to farms, or, moving to older countries, left the whole side to be bought proved by about who now reside detached, built dwellings with orchards, and some fishery and. It has communal parts of the common provisions in a cheap, built readily to be from many circumstances, probability of place of some shipbuilding, the West India a cheap and of residence.

This advertisement, dated at Digby, December, 1800, were to be a No. 100.

free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students one of which was "J.J.'s" daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Melvin O. Tibert, Freeport, Digby Co.) Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters; I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print". I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like: embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and trimming paper stock, mixing inks for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "pi", the printers name for a confused mess.

There was a taste of trying to sell job printing outside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried it, made several calls around town, spent most of the time at one particular house, and got an order, but,

The Elderly People in the Digby

THE RAPIST CHURCH HAS A GOODLY NUMBER OF AGED MEMBERS—NOTES OF A FEW.

The Baptist church in Digby stands high in the estimation of the church of the denomination in the western counties for the number of its elderly members. The saying that the wisdom of young people is hardly applicable to people, will find confirmation in a list of the elderly members of the church.

Mr. Francis Hutchinson was born in Digby, N. S., in 1810. He is now 84 years of age. His father, Mr. J. Hutchinson, was a farmer and a successful business man. Mr. Hutchinson has been a member of the Baptist church since 1830. He is a very pious and God-fearing man, and is a great blessing to the church and the community.

Mr. Timothy T. was born in Digby, N. S., in 1810. He is now 84 years of age. He was a farmer and a successful business man. He is a very pious and God-fearing man, and is a great blessing to the church and the community.

Carpets and House Furnishings.

I am better prepared this season than ever before to furnish anything required in the above line of goods.

I am showing for the Spring trade a splendid assortment of

CARPETS

In all the leading lines, and invite the attention of intending buyers to the Stock. We have special values in Wools, Unions and Straw Mattings.

In fact these goods are lower than ever before.

Tapestry, Moquette, Oil Canvas and Linoleums.

In addition to these goods I have also a line of manufacturers' samples for which I will take orders for the better lines of Tapestry and Brussels Carpets.

And these special lines not having to be carried in stock, I will quote at a very small margin of profit. The great advantage to the purchaser in this case is obvious.

I will make special prices to parties who require to purchase quantities of any of the above named goods.

In Lace Curtains, Portieres, Art Muslins and Sateens and Spring Roller Blinds

We also show a large variety.

Woven Wire Mattresses, Cots, Mattresses

OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

DINNER, TEA AND TOILET SETS.—We are in a better position than ever to sell low.

Last year we had our banner year in the Furniture line, but we want to increase our trade in this year. See our lines of Chamber Suites, Fancy and Common Furniture, Oak and Rattan Rockers, etc.

We would like the opportunity of showing these goods to purchasers, and we are confident we can do so for them, if not better, at wholesale prices, as any parties from abroad and thus encourage the home trade.

A Talk

We have made recent additions to our printing plant, which is now one of the best in the country and are prepared to execute the best of work. By the increase of capacity we are enabled to compete, in excellence of work with any city firm, and can in every case promise thoroughness and best attention. The merchant or other business man who does not use correct business stationery is to speak colloquially behind the times. The use of a new type or letter head with corresponding envelope adds much to the appearance of a communication.

C. GATES, SON & CO.:
Dear Sirs.—I have been troubled with liver ailment, and used quite a number of medicinal whips I call them. It was not until I came to you and bought a bottle of your SYRUP, that I got rid of my troubles. I feel better than I did for many years. Please send me another bottle if you think fit. Yours truly,
JOHN TAYLOR.

Weak, Tired, Nervous
Women, who seem to be all worn out, will find in purified blood, made rich and healthy by Hood's Sarsaparilla, permanent relief and strength. The following is from a well known nurse:
"I have suffered for years with female complaints and kidney troubles and I have had a great deal of medical advice during that time, but have received little or no benefit. A friend advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla by means of law, and from my personal experience," I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a most complete blood purifier." Miss C. Chockovitz, 71 Cumberland St., New York City.

IMPROVEMENTS

To Meet Requirements of Trade.

Having made considerable alteration in my store on Water street, and also an addition to my staff, I am now able to serve my customers better than ever before.

Goods will be delivered as usual to any part of the town free of charge.

Our stock of Flour, Corn Meal, Feed and Groceries is well kept up, and will be sold as low as the lowest, considering quality.

I look for a full share of public patronage.

Yours for trade,

E. BURNHAM.

New Drug Store.

Having transferred my Drug and Apothecary Business to Mr. L. R. MacLaren, I wish to thank the Public for their generous support and would ask a continuance of the same to my successors.

Yours truly,
T. S. KINSMAN.

In reference to the above, I would say we will constantly have on hand a complete stock of Drugs, Patent Medicines and Chemicals and, having 12 years experience in the business, I would ask a share of the public patronage.

Yours truly,
L. R. M.

The sch. Brenton sailed for Rockland with a cargo of soft wood last Monday night.

We are glad to see the Courier improving so much. It is really a readable paper.

Our postmaster, Mr. Stephen Conner, met with an accident by running his foot against a rusty nail which penetrated his foot and drew the blood. He is better to-day, and he will escape his leg being amputated.

It is a pleasure to know of the loss of the sch. Bess, Capt. James Conner, owner. The captain, Vincent Conner, and crew are very thoughtful for the owner, even though they lost everything but what they stood in. We have heard of a collision between the sch. Bess and the sch. Bess, Capt. James Conner, owner. The captain, Vincent Conner, and crew are very thoughtful for the owner, even though they lost everything but what they stood in.

It is to be regretted that the Ottawa authorities could not see their way clear to allow the lobster fishery to continue. The lobster fishery is a valuable industry, and it is a pity that it should be so restricted.

That Gasoline Launch.
To the Editor of the Courier:
DEAR SIR:—Your issue of the 20th inst. has a paragraph regarding the gasoline launch which is being built for the Wolfville people and built a gasoline launch for the Annapolis Basin. Please inform me where such machinery is made and your honest opinion about what the prospects would be for such a craft on the Basin.

North Ohio.
We would advise you to correspond with the Harris-Johnson firm of Harris, Ohio. It has been the best source of information that we can. Our latest information is that the launch is not too expensive to build. It is at least worth the trial.

Digby Weekly Courier.

Digby, June 5, 1895.

There is an air about road making that is very little understood. Any one who hears of road from Yarmouth to Halifax will discover this fact and to his regret. The country roads throughout the province are greatly improved upon those of a few years ago but there is still much room for further improvement. Much money has been spent of late on this work and much of it wisely. But there have been expenditures that have seemed at least unjustifiable and much of that has been applied to what has not been made use of as it might best have been.

Digby county roads should, we think, receive more attention. There has been hardly as much stress put upon the right and wrong methods of road making as there should be. It is as easy to do a thing right as it is to do it wrong and the road maker who allows twelve inches of hards and enough to be thrown into the road with hardly a thought of the result, is not doing his "speckable" walking man" should think upon his ways and mend them better than he mends his roads. We have seen in other counties the most admirable work done in the road making to state labor on the roads. The only object seems to be to fill in the days and empty the ditches and while it is certainly easier to talk the road, surely better methods could easily be put in practice.

The roads in the other end of the county are good. The Metropolitan highways are hard level and well graded. Near Digby there are some disadvantages, among the mountains especially, where it is almost impossible to make a smooth carriage way. The roads are not so good as they are in the other end of the county and compare very favorably with any district in the province. Now that the season of road repairing is again upon us, it is well to consider the road makers and others to study up on methods. How about a road making machine? Other counties have tried the experiment and found it to be satisfactory.

DEPARTMENT.

A Talk

We have made recent additions to our printing plant which is now one of the best in the country and are prepared to execute the best work. By the increase of capacity we are enabled to compete in excellence of work with any city firm, and in every case promise thoroughness and best attention. Merchant or other business man who does not use commercial stationery is to speak colloquially behind the times. For example a neat note or letter head with corresponding envelope adds much to the appearance of a communication.
