

Welcome to the Digital DIGBY COURIER 1877-1978

100th Birthday

The hundredth anniversary of the Digby Weekly Courier has brought to mind some fond memories as recounted in the following historical chapter of the paper. For first, I want to congratulate the current editor of the Courier, Mrs. J.M. (Edith) Wallis, for a job well done over the years and still being well done, good service rendered with great fortitude.

According to my recollection, I have at hand, the Digby Courier, in one hundred years of publication, was controlled under the same family management for 42 years, 1836 to 1978, under the control of Wallis Print Limited. The late J.J. Wallis became editor of the Courier in the second time, in 1929, and at the latter time of the second time, in 1929, and at which he had been running for some time previously and which became Wallis Print Limited sometime between 1929 and 1931.

I well remember the last year of the twelfth when I worked in the office with the husband and father of the Digby Courier. Sometime in 1919 or early 1920, the late J.M. Wallis (Mac), son of J.J., engaged me to work every day after school hours, Saturdays, and for some months after for the office of work was in the building of the present Digby town hall on First Avenue. J.J. Wallis then worked occasionally at the print shop but mostly across the street at the Courier office which was then located on land in the general area where The Royal Bank of Canada is now.

Wallis Job Print operated in this building of four consisting of J.J. Wallis, J.M. Wallis, Miss Elva Haynes, who later became Mrs. George Kicop, and myself. I was in the staff in early 1920.

Mac's job was to run the staff in the left upstairs. J.J. occasionally printing plant but mostly at the Courier office. "Mac" worked nearly full-time at all the different jobs at the Job Print, and I worked at various duties most of the time being spent at operating printing presses.

We worked ten-hour days, six days a week. J.J. and "Mac" sometimes worked overtime. I worked only the regular hours being paid a weekly wage which was comparatively good for those times, and my lack of experience. I received five or five dollars a week for working after school hours to six o'clock and on Saturday all day, and nine dollars a week for half weeks after finishing school. A two or three dollar a week raise was offered to me in the fall of 1920 for me to stay on at printing, but I had made up my mind to enter a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, starting salary of $200. The bank salary started out about the same per hour as for the printing plant those days, and experience however short, were helpful and appreciated to me.

J.J. was very social in his occasional trip to the print and did consider the printing all in good fun.

"Mac" was a witty person who noised in a good deal of sarcasm now and then for no reason or another. Elva must always had good answers to all the kidding she was called upon to take, and she usually held her own in a quiet sort of way, always in a setting type. We four all got along very well together. However, I do remember that some days all seem long and weary because of the transitory of some repetitious jobs.

In spite of the great demand for printing those last happy days of the twelfth, business generally being brisk, it looked in his that people had to work long and hard to make any decent profit. There was however, trials and finger ends were used and I was sent back to work.

New and then a printing job had to be set in the printing paper which required a new kind of printers ink which smelled very bad some days. I always dreaded it when "Mac" would say that it was the largest press, it was at the factory as always spent an outside day in lower conditions on the construction.

One of the jobs I had to do, with the paper and printers devil on the staff, was to set a new job at the printing plant. I decided to set the floor that apparently hadn't been checked in some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you getting on Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily, he thought the remark pretty good and amusing.

Sometimes the gasoline engine or a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and the "Mac" the fix it man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results. "Mac" would then stand back and cross over to the side, then he would immediately start working. "Mac" would say, "all it needed was a bit of oiling."

On other occasions when some piece refused to work for the end, wanted to be broken, "Mac" would say, "use a little oil" and sure enough after that is all it took. How often since, have I heard of the value of that remark and the actual need of oil in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and, in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I told "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring month of 1920 got together just before dark one evening and decided to utilize the newly built outdoor Fern Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just out of the pool, nobody else seemed to be around except the four boys, no thought or time for bathing suits up to the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in. The rest quickly followed and across the pool they swam. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Scouts Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the boys? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Carl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars, second world and Korea; now prominent druggist, for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale haberdashery merchant; and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day "Mac" said to me how about writing your version of the story told about "The Marooning of Jerome". I did it and read at least two somewhat different versions about the man who was found marooned on a beach in northern point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Digby County. When I read this man's tale, and then read and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome" appeared to have been a man of some considerable social standing and, possibly, of some considerable wealth. However the way the man could or would ever say after being found and cared for by some family in the French shore was, something that sounded like the story of a hero. He either would not, or would not, write anything about who he was or why he was left there. Well, it was, and is, one of Digby County's best kept secrets, and, different ideas have been written over the years concerning this man. However, the name of "Mac" was, I felt no urge to write anything about different about this man. The story seemed to have been very well explained in the story of many people, and he was a sort of a hero and many people who liked ways he was.

There were three print jobs that I did in the street that I did luck and I was not a good printer, and I remember the name "J.J." was in the paper.

Compiled by David Lambert

From the files of the Courier of January 22, 1861, the following account has been compiled concerning Digby in 1861.

Among a number of old newspapers kindly sent to me by friends is a copy of the first issue of the Digby Courier of 1861. The first issue of the Courier was published on January 22, 1861. The first issue of the Courier was published on January 22, 1861. The first issue of the Courier was published on January 22, 1861.

The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles across. It is from the land of W. Mary's farm. This land was then the water's edge, partly as level ground, and partly as the locality of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect, a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in where it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth of that name. It was owned by Loyola, from New York in 1861, the most of whom went early in 1861, or, moving to other countries, left the whole free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students one of which was J.J.'s daughter, Florence (now Mrs. McLean of Thbert, Freeport, Digby Co.). Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters. I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print." I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and trimming paper stock, making ink for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "ye", the printers name for a confirmed fool.

There was a taste of trying to sell job printing outside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried to make several calls around town, spent most of the time at one particular side to be hoped proved by about who were ready detached, but meetings with and sympathy, at some factory too. It has common spirit of the cause previous to 1861, could really be to be from many circumstances, probability of that of some disappointing, the West India a sharp and of resistance. This about in the December, I was in 1861.

DIGBY COUNTY NEWS

Supplement to THE DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

DIGBY, FRIDAY, OCT. 7, 1910

ATTORNEY - GEN. MACLEAN'S SPEECH.

Great Forward Plan for Good Roads in the Province of Nova Scotia.

The Government Proposes to Spend Millions in Permanent Improvement of Highways.

(From the Halifax Chronicle)

Mr. Maclean dealt with the road question, so-called, frankly and at length in his important speech. Every person must concede the value of good roads to the state and society. Our highways alone afford the means of travel and traffic to the major portions of the province and to the majority of our people. Notwithstanding the volume of transportation conducted by railway and sea, the common highways in a country, largely rural, still remain the great transportation routes. The traffic reaching railways and steamships is received originally from the highways, at least in a very large measure, but a tremendous traffic originates and ends upon our public highways. From the view-point of transportation alone the condition of our highways is obviously important. Their condition, therefore, as avenues of traffic, affects the cost of transportation and ultimately the matter of the profits of the producer. Equally obvious is it that the condition of our roads determines the cost of speed and frequency with which they are used. It follows also that they are a factor in the social welfare of rural districts, especially good roads will often reflect social status in homes and communities, which is of primary importance to the state. From all view-points the great importance of good highways is so obvious that it needs no argument to support it. It is fundamental.

THEIR ECONOMIC VALUE.
Mr. Maclean referred to these facts merely to state well-known truths which, unfortunately by many are frequently forgotten. He feared that the economic value of good roads was not appreciated. Their value was too frequently appreciated by the other standards which though substantial are not economic. If good roads serve as time savers, if they reduce and minimize the wear and tear of vehicles, prolong the period of service of an animal, or if they enable an increase in load haul, then good roads have an economic value, which if properly appreciated would generate a deeper and more practical interest in roads, than now generally exists.

In ordinary commercial affairs everything that eliminates waste of time, increases production and promotes efficiency is readily recognized and if possible is secured. Can this most interested in roads? To a considerable degree he feared it could not. This was regrettable, because if the public generally did not perceive that reasons existed for good roads, which are fundamental and economic interest in and desire for good roads would likely be indifferent or intermittent. Too many there are who are interested in good roads is determined by the fact whether or not they can entirely escape any responsibility.

WHAT HALIFAX IS DOING.
This was particularly true in past years. At present there were many indications of a greater personal interest in roads; and there was manifest desire in many places to accompany this interest with a willingness to shoulder some responsibility in the direction. Some practical interest in this awakened interest had been given notice since entering the Government. The highway question from Dartmouth to Cow Bay in Halifax County, has recently been reconstructed and macadamized. The people along this highway took a deep personal interest in this work and contributed money and labor thereto, and succeeded as well in securing contributions from non-residents. The result was a splendidly constructed road, which might be classified as a permanent one. The improved road, while, of course, desirable and beneficial, was not so encouraging and interesting as the spirit manifested by the people. It is true the Government gave assistance to this particular road, but the responsibility and performed their part with willingness and success. There are other similar instances in Halifax County, all indications of an awakened interest in good roads on the part of the individual and the public.

A GROWING INTEREST.
This interest, he believed, was on the increase in every county throughout the province. An aroused and intelligent interest in good roads on the part of the public will be a greater factor in hastening the enactment of good roads than statutes or cash. There was no inspiration harvestable from a lecture on good roads from one who evades his statute labor or who views our statute law as a mere legal requirement in a perfunctory and disinterested manner. He had never been able to realize either that there is anything to learn from the leaders of the Conservative Party whose functions upon this important subject seem to be confined to the passage of beautifully vague resolutions, and the unqualified and senseless condemnation of the Government without the proffer of any suggestion practical or unpractical. Perhaps he did an injustice to his political opponents, but he must frankly state that he did not for one moment imagine that the matter of good roads occupied their attention and energy in the same proportion as did their desire for power. He referred only to the leaders of the Opposition party, and not to Conservatives generally. The latter he believed, desired good roads. He had a suspicion that our roads could hardly become bad enough to suit the wishes of the former.

WHAT IS THE POSITION.
He did not wish to unduly depreciate the interest of our people generally in good roads, nor did he intend. He was simply pointing out conditions which existed and which are not calculated to hasten reform. Nor did he wish to say that our roads or our road system suffer by comparison with any other province of Canada, or any State of the American Union. On the whole, he thought that taken throughout the year, our roads were better probably than in any other province of Canada. Our highways are doubtless better than in many states of the American Union, while in some cases probably they were not. Isolated roads are to be found in all parts of Canada and in the United States, but some of them might safely be stated even by one not experienced in road building. First, last and always it was necessary to have individual and public interest in good roads. The effect of good highway laws unsupported by an interested citizenship was futile. Any good road movement should have the support and sympathy of every citizen, and every citizen should willingly and

GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT.

That the desire for improved highways existed today in this province was unquestionable. This was more apparent than ever before. This was also true of all parts of North America. The tendency in Nova Scotia was but a part of the good roads movement going on throughout the continent. It was of recent origin, even in the largest, oldest and wealthiest states of the American Union. Its importance was only now being realized. The necessity of better roads and construction and improved methods of repair were only now being appreciated. This was not to be wondered at. The North American Continent was comparatively new so far as settlement was concerned. Pioneering duties and other immediate and important National and Provincial or State problems so engrossed the public and individual attention of a new country, that the question of roads ceased to be important, or was lost in the sea of pressing and alluring personal or individual interests, when they reached the indifferent condition or passable stage. Most of the European countries experienced a very sad history. The difference was merely one of time. Today, having disposed of immediate and pressing duties and problems incident to new countries, Canada and the United States had reached a stage in the matter of roads which the European countries passed many decades ago. We only obtained wisdom and knowledge from experience, and experience that is productive is not gathered in a day, but in many years. He wished to consider what had been and what were the chief difficulties confronting us in our efforts for improved highways, what were the chief objectionable features of our roads generally today, and what should we do, if anything.

THE CHIEF DIFFICULTIES.
Assuming that our highways were liable to betterment, for public and individual advantage, which every person would concede, were there conditions which rendered improvement difficult? If so, what were they, for they must be honestly faced and counted. Any remedy for betterment must necessarily be colored or modified by such conditions. He said one might with justification occupy much time in enumerating the most prominent conditions prevailing in this Province which have in the past tended to operate against ideal road conditions, but he would content himself for the present with an enumeration of the principal and obvious difficulties.

EXPECT OF CLIMATE.

First, our highways were not originally surveyed and located with care or system, and in many cases without even ordinary sense, and the initial construction was generally improperly performed. A variable climate with sudden changes from frost to thaw, and sunshine to rain is an enemy of good roads. The necessity of usage of roads for heavy traffic in Winter, Spring and late Fall when climatic conditions are variable, usually tends to the destruction of seasonal repairs, and in many cases of original construction. The lack of suitable road building material in many localities renders road work very difficult. Such were some of the principal difficulties which confronted us, when considering the question of roads.

The immediate and most obvious wants of our roads as existing today was a matter of personal judgment, but some of them might safely be stated even by one not experienced in road building. First, last and always it was necessary to have individual and public interest in good roads. The effect of good highway laws unsupported by an interested citizenship was futile. Any good road movement should have the support and sympathy of every citizen, and every citizen should willingly and faithfully perform his legal and moral obligations to the State in reference to the roads.

PROPER CONSTRUCTION.

Next in importance to a correct public opinion was the proper construction of roads. He thought proper construction rendered repair and maintenance comparatively easy. Any degree of permanency in repair work was only possible where there had been a proper initial construction. The opponents of the Government complain that its annual expenditures upon roads were wasted. Government expenditures upon roads produced at least as good results as the statute labor performed by our citizens; in fact, on the whole, better results. He thought the criticism that the Government's expenditures upon roads were not secured. It should be remembered however, that Government expenditures were largely in the nature of repairs, and consequently widely distributed; and the efficiency and permanency of repair work largely depended upon the efficiency of original construction work upon the roads required. With proper construction to start upon, maintenance and repair became possible, otherwise it was a difficult task.

MUST BE RECONSTRUCTED.

He thought, therefore, the reconstruction of our roads was a step precedent to good roads. This would include proper drainage upon the road sides in all cases, and under-drainage in others, the removal of rocks, the substitution of concrete or stone for wood in the small bridges in order to minimize the cost of annual repairs, and the elimination of the most objectionable gradients.

SECTION MEN FOR REPAIRS.

We should also have some provision for the continuous and immediate care and repair of our roads. How this should be done was perhaps debatable. The system obtaining upon railways of having sections permanently employed for maintenance operations seemed the most practical and effective. The system of let contracts, or construction in force account were worthy also of consideration. Certain it was, however, that repairs confined to a few weeks in each year, with our climatic conditions was ineffective. Every damage, whether caused by rain, traffic or otherwise, should be immediately repaired and in all seasons. With the extensive adoption of auto machine-ry this should not be difficult.

Again, he was led to the conclusion that the dual control by roads by Municipality and Government, was not sound or at least was subject to improvement. There should be a stronger central control over all road work than now obtains. Statute labor and Government aid, should work more closely together and be under a common direction and control. Without further elaboration upon this point he submitted there was room for improvement and it should come. In a small province it should be possible, even if absolute government control were adopted. He was not blind to the difficulties in working this out, but still he thought it capable of solution.

IT HAS DONE WELL.

Now the Government of Nova Scotia had no reason to apologize for its policy respecting roads in the past. Relatively speaking it had done more than any other province of the Confederation. The cry about the waste of public money upon our roads was largely the song of the partisan. These moneys were expended largely for pressing repairs, and the amount being comparatively small and the distribution wide, results in the shape of permanent construction could hardly be expected in any appreciable degree within a few years.

TORY DO NOTHING POLICY.

He did not propose discussing on this occasion the criticism directed against the Government upon the road question by the Conservative Party. Criticism about the suggestion of an alternate policy did not deserve attention. The resolutions of Conservative leaders never got beyond the point of wholesale and unqualified condemnation. They were always naked of practical suggestion or policy. However, while the opponents of the Government were apparently powerless to suggest any forward movement or policy on the subject, it was still the duty of the administration to improve this great public service. It was possible, practical, and within its financial reach. The Government was not eternally wedded to existing laws or systems on this or any other subject. It realized as did all Governments on this continent, charged with the administration wholly or partially of public roads, that all legislation or systems developed weak features.

A FORWARD STEP.

The good roads movement was now occupying the attention of all Governments and citizens in Canada and the United States. As he had previously remarked, in Nova Scotia there had been a marked increase of intelligent interest in the subject, and the Government were of the opinion that the time had arrived when the province might and should take a forward step and establish a system of roads to be maintained for many years meet all reasonable demands. The Government had concluded that a large expenditure was necessary to construct or reconstruct the highways; they believed this expenditure should be made under the direction of specially qualified men, and followed a plan of survey and study of our roads and the surrounding conditions. This would mean a large expenditure involving some millions of dollars. If expended under the direction of qualified men, he felt it could give to our people good highways, which if properly cared for, and repaired by the Government, would follow a plan of survey and study of our roads and the surrounding conditions. This would mean a large expenditure involving some millions of dollars. If expended under the direction of qualified men, he felt it could give to our people good highways, which if properly cared for, and repaired by the Government, would follow a plan of survey and study of our roads and the surrounding conditions.

WILL MAKE SURVEY FIRST.

He said the Government would not be wretched in embarking upon such a large capital expenditure for road construction without first making an intelligent study of the roads of the province, so as to ensure a uniform system or policy in the expenditure, and the organization of a Board or staff to direct and control the expenditure. The Government were, therefore, now considering the advisability of asking Parliament at its next session to grant authority for the expenditure of a sum of money to defray the expenses of a survey and study of our roads during next year, to be conducted by a competent staff, who if not obtainable in Nova Scotia would be procured elsewhere. Some of the points which this staff would be expected to study and report upon, would be, without costs incurred, and the best method and means of doing so, as well as the cost; what sections of highways might profitably be relocated; what gradual observations and location of available road material throughout the province, and how best available localities where no suitable material was found; the nature and quantity of road machinery necessary and most suitable in the different districts of the province; the preparation of accurate plans of our highways accompanied with such data as would always furnish ample and complete information to the Government officials concerning all our highways; the most effective method of preserving in good repair a road once properly constructed; what roads require to be under-drained; and what sections might profitably be macadamized; how to deal with road construction and maintenance in sandy or clay districts. Such were some of the matters which this staff might or should study and report upon. These were, however, merely his personal views as to the scope of the enquiry of such a staff, and might not all be regarded as practical by qualified and experienced men.

WILL BEGIN NEXT YEAR.

He said the Government had under contemplation the appointment of such a staff of experts, in order to secure the fullest information possible of the fullest information preceding the expenditure on capital account, so as to ensure the best possible results. The Government had not definitely concluded its policy in detail in this respect, but in some manner or other it proposed to secure the fullest information possible of the best professional advice available, and secure the organization of a competent force before commencing the expenditure. He felt this would meet with the full approval of the citizens of the province. It was the preliminary to the expenditure could be completed during 1911, which would place the Government in position for the preparation of the requisite legislation and preparing the organization for the expenditure of the spring of 1912.

A Friend of sport.

King George of England is an ardent devotee of all sorts of sports. He recently became patron of the amateur and professional football associations. King George very rarely misses a service football match, and generally attends the games accompanied by his sons, who are also enthusiastic over the various sports.

When a schoolboy, the King excelled in cricket and football, and during the last few years has kept all programmes of the games he attended. This collection of programmes is kept with a collection of walking sticks, the property of the late king, which he naturally bequeathed to his son together with other famous sporting trophies.

Potatoes For Cuba.

The Gloucester Daily Times says: Of 400,000 barrels of potatoes consumed annually in the island of Cuba, more than half are shipped there from Canada. That is something to think about, especially after the money the United States has spent on behalf of the island. Our merchants are talking about markets in the far east. What is the matter with giving a little more thought to this market?

An Interesting Calculation

HERE is an interesting calculation for young housewives or old ones for that matter. A pound of the best bread in the world made from ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR costs less than four cents. A pound of the best beef steak costs 25 to 30 cents. Yet a pound of bread made from ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR contains more working energy than a pound and a half of beef steak. Whether figured by the pound or by actual units of health and strength, bread made from

Royal Household Flour is the most economical food in high quality grain. The beautiful white color of ROYAL HOUSEHOLD FLOUR is natural. It indicates the richness of the wheat from which it is made. Wine And Wit

He had been making a night of it, but he had forsaken his companions. He was acquainted with an undertaker named George, and decided at 3 o'clock in the morning that he must see this particular man. Accordingly, he found George's undertaking establishment, over which George had his sleeping apartments. The intoxicated young man rang and rang George's bell, and at last awoke him. The undertaker put his head out of the third story window, expecting to find this funeral services were required immediately. Instead he recognized his friend Frank.

"Well, Frank," he exclaimed, crossing his arms, "what do you want?" "Just what you tell me," said Frank, "that you're the last man in the world I want to do business with."

Bill Would Make Him Sweat.
At the bedside of a patient, who was a noted humorist five doctors were in consultation as to the best means of producing a perspiration.

This sick man overheard the discussion, and after listening for a few moments, he turned his head toward the group, and whispered with a dry chuckle:

"Just send in your bills, gentlemen; that will bring it on at once."

Indian Baby squawks.
Little George was looking at some Indian pictures.

"Ma, what is an Indian woman called?" he asked.

"Why, a squaw, my son," was the reply.

After some deliberation, George started in by saying:

"Then the Indian baby must be a squawker."

Bird Flights.
Each bird has its own peculiar flight, just as each man has a different walk. The bird that moves its wings the fastest is the swallow. Long-winged birds are strong and swift fliers; the short-winged ones are feeble in flight. The wren and the sparrow have a flight as feeble as that of a very young bird. The blackbird, so bold and swagger in his gait that he proclaims him a robber, has a heavy, hurried flight, often just avoiding fences and no more. Wagtails have a beautiful, undulating flight, with little apparent use of their wings. They look like greyhounds bounding through the air.

Rheumatism.
CURED BY BOOTH'S KIDNEY PILLS.

T. E. Foster, of St. John St., Fredericton, N. B., says: "I have found more actual relief from Booth's Kidney Pills than in all other I have ever tried for rheumatism. The pains in my limbs have lessened greatly, and I am stronger than in years previous. My appetite has come up, and I eat and sleep better than I have in over three years. My general health is greatly improved and I can credit this only to Booth's Kidney Pills."

This is the best of all kidney pills. These wonderful Pills are sold under a guarantee to refund your money if they fail to relieve any sufferer from Rheumatism or any trouble having its origin in the Kidneys. They cure Backache, dull shooting pains, thick and cloudy urine, gravel and stone, rheumatism and diseases of the kidneys and bladder.

Booth's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and dealers, box, or postpaid from The B. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont. Sold and guaranteed by H. E. Jones.

Had a Better Story.
"Did you see the account of that flash of lightning that burned the hair from a boy's head without otherwise hurting him?"

"I did," answered the cheerful liar, "and I was pained to note the incompleteness of the story. Now, I happen to know of a case that is really remarkable. The lightning entered a barber's shop and not only under took the task of singeing a man's hair, but it ran up the proper amount on the cash register."

No-Excuse the Better Place?
The Saloon Near Man About Town has this to say:

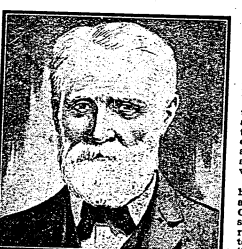

"For the first ten days of November this year there were eight arrests for drunkenness as against 78 arrests for drunkenness during the first ten days of November last year. Let's that rather eloquent testimony for 'no excuse'!"

Finest Geography.
Teacher: "What is a volcano?"
New Boy: "Please, Miss, it's a mountain with the cork out."

Quite Reluctant.
"On what grounds does your father object to my being asked?"
"On what grounds with a mile of our house," she answered.

"Fruit-a-tives" Keeps Health Perfect

WILLIAM PARSONS, ESQ.

Obstinate Constipation, Paralysis of the Bowels and Stricture of the Bowels have positively no action on the liver. They do not increase the secretion of bile, hence lining the intestines. One may as well try to cure Constipation with common purgatives. "Fruit-a-tives" is the only true liver stimulant. "Fruit-a-tives" is fruit juices and nerve tonics, and will always restore the liver to its proper condition and cure the most obstinate cases of Constipation.

DIGBY COUNTY NEWS

Supplement to THE DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

DIGBY, FRIDAY, DEC. 2, 1910

NOT SO DEPENDENT.

How of Digby and Annapolis On Reciprocity.

THE CANADIAN MARKET WILL SOON TAKE ALL THE FISH THEY CAN CONSUME. CAPTAIN JOE, WHO HAS FISHED OUT OF AMERICAN PORTS AND HAS AMERICAN PAPERS, SAYS: "OUR MEN HAVE GONE TO GLoucester WOULD COME BACK HERE IF WE HAD FREE FISH. THEY WOULD SPOONER FISH OUT OF A HOME PORT. IT WOULD BUILD UP THE INDUSTRY ALL ALONG THE COAST. WE HAVE THE MEN, THE MONEY TO BUILD THE SHIPS, AND WE CAN BUILD THEM; BUT WE HAVE NOT THE MARKET."

(J. M. Fraser in Halifax Chronicle)
Digby is interested principally, so far as export is concerned, in fish and lumber. The most of the latter goes to the South American market.

On the fish question, I got two exactly opposite expressions of opinion. Mr. E. B. Short, Manager of the Maritime Fish Co., thinks the Americans would never ask for reciprocity if they did not expect to get a lion's share of its benefits. The Maritime Fish Company ship fresh and smoked fish from Halifax to Vancouver. Their chief market is Quebec and Ontario. They ship by express and refrigerator cars. They will ship 100,000 boxes of haddies this season. They ship a good deal of fresh cod, but are working up a trade in salt fish. Fresh haddock is a big item with them; they ship about one million boxes. They do not ship any fresh fish and very little of any kind, to the States.

THE CANADIAN MARKET
"I think our market in this Province is the home market—the Canadian market—for fresh and smoked fish, and for salt fish the West Indies and South America," said Mr. Short. There are times when we can send fish to the States—usually when their catch is off. When the Canadian Government increased the duty from 10 to 15 cents we were able to capture the trade of the Upper Provinces, and the Americans now send little, if any, into our market. If fish were admitted free to the States they would secure this market."

Mr. Anderson, of the same Company, said: "When I came here twenty-five years ago the fish dealers were calling for reciprocity, but I never agreed with them. We have a good market right here in the Dominion for our fish, and it is only a matter of a short time when we will consume in the Dominion all we can produce. This fall we will ship nearly 1000 tons of hake all over Canada, when not long ago there was no market for it except in the Spanish West Indies. For the past few weeks we have been catching all the fish we can handle." The schooner Albert J. Lutz was at the wharf discharging 70,000 pounds of hake, haddock, cod, and haddock, caught twenty-five miles from Yarmouth. "We have a market in Quebec and Ontario for all the fish we catch. I believe reciprocity would kill our fresh fish business in Montreal and the West generally."

CAPTAINS FOR RECIPROCITY
Captain Joseph and William Snow are in agreement with that. Captain Snow and Bill are not in the market for a general fish business and they could increase it vastly if they had free entrance to the American market. They have both fished in Gloucester and Digby for over twenty years. At present they keep their vessels busy for only a few months of the year. This summer is not to them as they have lost the American market for salt fish. For free fish they would give the Americans all the privileges they themselves enjoy. Their whole trouble is lack of a market. "If I saw a prospect of free fish," said Captain Joe, "I would build two extra vessels at once."

NOT MUCH INTERESTED.
Annapolis appears to regard this question of reciprocity with a somewhat detached air. They export more than twelve million feet of lumber yearly but very little of it goes to the United States, or would go. Hemlock cut on order, is all that goes there, and they would take that duty or no duty. The fish trade is all in dried fish and is confined to the West Indies and South America, only hake, haddock and fish of that class being shipped.

The reduction of duty from $2.00 to $1.25 has not made much difference to us," said Mr. T. W. Pickles. "We ship nearly all our lumber to the West Indies and South America, and this is true of all Western Nova Scotia. We cut tails, boards and scantling only. Hemlock, cut on order goes chiefly to the States. If they want our lumber in the States they will pay the price duty or no duty, and if they do not want it we can not sell it under any conditions. The removal of the duty would not affect us in the least. We do not derive the benefits of the present reduction of the lumber duty, they get that. As shipbuilders, we would like to see free cordage. At present sizes for lobster rope and binder-twine is free. Other cordage pays 25 per cent, with a preferential of 20 per cent."

"Dressed lumber cannot be shipped in vessels as it will have to be redried and it suffers damage besides. It is all dressed to order, there and shipped wherever wanted. The only saving would be in the cheaper labor here. Nearly all the lumber business in the States is done in carload lots. They want free lumber but it will be no advantage to us."

WHAT DO THEY OFFER?
"We want to know what they have to offer us. We want free cordage for our shipbuilding trade. Free cotton for sails would be welcomed by the shipbuilders. Why should we not have free oil for both illuminating and lubricating purposes, from the United States? The duty should be off gasoline for all tests."

Mr. Mills said that, "everything for ship's use comes in bond. The price of Canadian beef is now about equal to American with the duty added. Canadian $20 a lb. St. John's American, $15.75 in bond, St. John's. Duty $2.25. In this case the packers got all the duty. Would like free beef and pork, but it would probably cost us more than at present. Canadian would come down in price and American would go up. Cotton is now so high that we are using hemp canvas for ships. It comes from England. For three or four years past we have been importing English cordage. The preferential tariff enables us to get a little under the Canadian price."

THE NATURAL MARKET.
"We ship about ten or twelve million feet of lumber yearly. The removal of the American duty on lumber would give us more profit and a bigger market, but we would not have the staff to send them. The removal of the duty would not divert the lumber from our other export markets. Generally speaking, however, reciprocity should be an advantage to us. The New England States is our natural market."

"Reciprocity in fish would not help our dried fish business at all," said Mr. F. C. Whitman. "We do not ship any to the States from this port. Our best market is the West Indies and South America. There is no fresh fish handled here at all. None even for the table."

Annapolis has not even enough agricultural products for local consumption; the farmers do not raise them. Last year they had to import hay. There were no fresh eggs to be had in town, so the hotel people told me. Here are some of the local prices: Turkey, 25c lb. potatoes, $1.25 bbl.; eggs, 25c to 30c; butter, 25c. Even the orchardists do not seek a buyer. They do raise a lot of turnips for the Boston market, between there and Yarmouth.

Mr. Patrick Burridge is home from New York for sometime. On Tuesday, the 22nd inst., occurred the marriage of Mr. Joseph Dulong, of Stoneham, Mass., to Miss Olive Robinson, daughter of Mr. Peter L. Robinson, of Millville, Clare. The bride was tastefully attired in white with hat to match. The bridesmaids were Miss Marie Robinson, sister of the bride, and Miss Marie Robinson. The groomsmen were Mr. Raymond Geddy and Mr. Peter H. Melanson. They will leave on the 30th inst. for Stoneham, where they will reside. Joy and prosperity to the happy couple.

Wedding Bells at South Range.

A very pleasant event took place at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Joseph H. Sabon, South Range, on Wednesday evening, 26th, when his sister, Mrs. Westly E. Marshall, was united in marriage to Mr. F. Herman Heigh, son of Mr. Benjamin Heigh, North Range. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. C. E. Armstrong, pastor of the Christian church. Promptly at 8 o'clock the bride entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march, which was played by Miss Edna Johnson. One corner of the parlor was prettily decorated for the occasion with potted plants and the bride looked charming in a suit of navy blue serge with white embroidered silk waist and carried a bouquet of white roses and caryanthemums. Mrs. Joseph E. Sabon acted as bride's maid in a suit of cream waist. The groom was accompanied by Mr. Joseph H. Sabon. After the ceremony and congratulations, refreshments were served in which the bride's little daughters, Lottie and Blanche Marshall, assisted in waiting on the guests. Among those were Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Smith's Cove. Only intimate friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony, about 35 being present. As a testimony of the high esteem in which the bride and groom are held a long table was filled with valuable presents of silver and china and other valuable presents. At a late hour the happy couple were driven to their home in South Range, where they will reside at the Howard Marshall farm. We extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Heigh and wish them a long and happy life.

New Form of Government.

The City of Lynn, Mass., has adopted government by commission. An exchange says: "Lynn, Massachusetts, which has always had a good civic government, has decided that there is no reason why she should not have a better. The city has accordingly adopted government by commission. The city has 92,000 population, and there are to be five members of the commission, elected by popular vote, and subject to recall by vote on a petition of 500 voters. The new city charter provides for five departments of city government, for one of which each of the commissioners shall be directly responsible. All ward lines are abolished, and the initiative and referendum are adopted. Provision is also made for a public meeting, at which official records and city contracts shall be submitted for inspection."

Oysters

Have the Tang of the Sea

You will be surprised when you see Sealshipt Oysters—more surprised and delighted when you taste them.

In buying SEALSHIPT OYSTERS remember there is no liquor, nothing but SOLID MEAT. The liquor is what spoils common oysters. It is melted railway fat.

If you want to know the flavor of the real oyster, come into our store, take a pint of SEALSHIPT home with you. A pint will go as far as a quart of ordinary oysters, because there is no liquor—all solid meat.

While in the store also ask for a copy of our free book, "Seaside Oyster Dishes." It contains many fine shore receipts.

Your Grocer Knows

EVERY good grocer is willing and anxious to please his customers. Sometimes if he happens to be out of the goods you ask for, he may recommend a different brand rather than keep you waiting. But when it comes to flour, he knows that Ogilvie's is one of the things for which there is no substitute. No other flour is "just as good." Ogilvie's "Royal Household" is in a class distinctly by itself. To offer a substitute for "Royal Household" would be like offering oleomargarine to a customer who wanted prime dairy butter. No good grocer would do it. When you tell him you want Ogilvie's Royal Household Flour, he will send that and nothing else.

"Ogilvie's Book for a Cook," with 125 pages of recipes that have been tried and tested, will be sent free if you will send us your address and mention the name of your dealer.

Father Morrissey's No. 10 Strengthens Weak Lungs

The person whose air passages, from the nostrils to the innermost cells of the lungs, are lined with vigorous, healthy membrane, can pass unharmed through exposure to cold or wet, or even to the germs of consumption itself. Under similar exposure one whose air passages are weak at any point, or whose vitality is low, will be almost certain to fall a prey to some form of throat or lung trouble. Every common cold neglected weakens your defenses at some point. A succession of them leaves you an easy victim for bronchitis, pneumonia or consumption. Father Morrissey's No. 10 (Lung Tonic) protects you from this danger. It not only stops the cough and drives away the cold, but it repairs the damage done to the delicate membrane, making it as strong or stronger than ever to resist throat or lung diseases. Being entirely free from opium, morphine or any harmful drug, Father Morrissey's No. 10 is perfectly safe for the youngest or the oldest. Trial size 25c. Regular size 50c. At your dealer's.

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clear, healthy thoughts. He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh. It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. Constipation is the most unclean uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe. Easy to take as candy.

MORSE'S TEA

In every spoonful is cleverly blended the rich strength of Fine Indian Tea and the delicate smoothness of young Ceylon leaves.

PURITY FLOUR

This Feeding Floor Could Be Built in The Fall

and it would help greatly to preserve the condition of your live stock in the Spring. The live stock mired down into the mud and almost lost around-greatly to the detriment of their physical condition. By building a Concrete feeding floor in the yard, this trouble is done away with. A Feeding Floor of comparatively small area and built this Fall, would pay for itself next year. Concrete is the only material that can be used in this way at a moderate cost. Will you ask for your copy of the book which we have prepared for you? "Why the Farmer Can Do With Concrete?" It's free--and, take our word for it, you'll find it one of the most interesting pieces of such literature you ever read. And profitable, too--because it will save you money.

Eczema's Tortures

At treatments failed for three long years—Cure complete with DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

Mr. Link, 15 Walker St., Halifax, N. S., writes: "After three years of terrible itching and sleepless nights, and a dozen remedies without obtaining any relief, I was cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment. After the third or fourth application of this cream I obtained relief, and after four more I was cured. It is six months since I have had no return of the trouble. I consider the cure a permanent one."

Such cures are not brought about by lotions and substitutes for Dr. Chase's Ointment. It is therefore necessary for you to be certain that the name and signature of A. V. Chase, M. D., the famous Receipt Book author, are on the box you buy. 60 cts. a box, all dealers or Edman, Bates & Co., Toronto. Write for a free copy of Dr. Chase's Receipts.

Germs in Her System.

EVERY WOMAN SHOULD READ THIS ADVICE AND THE GENUINE OFFER THAT GOES WITH IT.

The number of diseases peculiar to women is such that we believe this space would hardly contain a mere mention of their names, and it is a fact that most of these diseases are of a catarrhal nature. A woman cannot be well if there is a trace of catarrh in her system.

Some women think there is no help for them. We positively declare this to be a mistaken idea. We are so sure of this that we offer to supply medicine absolutely free of all cost in every instance where it fails to give satisfaction, or does not substantiate our claims. With this understanding no woman should hesitate to believe our honesty of purpose, or hesitate to put our claims to a test.

There is only one way to overcome catarrh. That way is through the blood. You may use all anodyne, douches or like remedies for years without getting more than temporary relief at best. Catarrh in general is a diseased condition of the system that shows locally most frequently in the mucous membrane. Local treatment should be assisted by internal treatment for the general diseased condition if a complete cure is to be reached. That internal treatment should be scientifically devised and faithfully administered.

Reckall Mue-Tone is scientifically prepared from the prescriptions of an eminent physician, who for thirty years made catarrh his specialty. This remedy is admirably adapted to the treatment of the catarrhal ailments of women. It purifies and enriches the blood, tends to stop mucous discharges, aids in removing impurities from the system, soothes, heals and strengthens the mucous tissues, and brings about a feeling of health and strength.

We want you to try Reckall Mue-Tone on our guarantee. If you are not benefited, or for any reason not satisfied, simply tell us and we will hand back your money. Reckall Mue-Tone comes in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Reckall Remedies only at—The Reckall Store, P. W. Holdsworth, Digby, Ryan & Blackadder, Weymouth.

His Hairlooms. "An heirloom," explained the farmer's wife to her thirteen-year-old boy, "is something that has been handed down from father to son, and in some instances is greatly prized."

"I prize these hairlooms I'm wearing," remarked the youngster, "a good deal more if they wasn't so long in the legs."

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is a remedy as good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The "Discovery" has on its outside wrapper the Signature of Dr. J. C. Pierce.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine or severe, overwork, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, they granules, easy to take as candy.

Save Signs OF KIDNEY TROUBLE. If your back is constantly aching and if you experience dull shooting pains, your kidneys are out of order. If your urine is thick and cloudy or your passages frequent, scanty and painful, your kidneys and bladder are really most frequently in danger from mucous membrane. Local treatment should be assisted by internal treatment for the general diseased condition if a complete cure is to be reached. That internal treatment should be scientifically devised and faithfully administered.

Reckall Mue-Tone is scientifically prepared from the prescriptions of an eminent physician, who for thirty years made catarrh his specialty. This remedy is admirably adapted to the treatment of the catarrhal ailments of women. It purifies and enriches the blood, tends to stop mucous discharges, aids in removing impurities from the system, soothes, heals and strengthens the mucous tissues, and brings about a feeling of health and strength.

We want you to try Reckall Mue-Tone on our guarantee. If you are not benefited, or for any reason not satisfied, simply tell us and we will hand back your money. Reckall Mue-Tone comes in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Reckall Remedies only at—The Reckall Store, P. W. Holdsworth, Digby, Ryan & Blackadder, Weymouth.

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER OF A LOCAL NATURE

Digby, December 16, 1910

Spencer-Pugh Nuptials.

A very pretty home wedding took place in Digby, Me., on Saturday evening, Dec. 10, at 8 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Spencer, Central street. The contracting parties were Benjamin Spencer and Miss Annie Blanche Pugh, of Lynn, N. S. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Frederick J. Ward, pastor of the Baptist church. Promptly at the appointed hour the bride and groom, accompanied by the bridesmaids and groomsmen, entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, which was played by Miss Alice Parsons, of Ipswich. The couple took their places in front of a hand-somely arranged arch of evergreen, ivy and holly, and were joined by the officiating clergyman. The bride wore a gown of white silk and carried a bouquet of white and pink roses. The bridesmaids were Misses Eudora and Emma Stevens, of Nova Scotia. The groom wore a tuxedo and carried a boutonniere of holly. The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of friends, and the couple were pronounced man and wife. The best man was Cameron Greenough, of Lynn, and the bridesmaid was Miss Annie MacPhail, of Ipswich. Hattie LeBlanc Acquitted

THE VERDICT FOR ARCHAIC GIRL WAS A POPULAR ONE.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Dec. 14.—Hattie LeBlanc's petulant plea that she be allowed to go back to her old home in West Archet O. B. with her father was granted today, when a jury, after deliberating an hour and a half, decided that she was not guilty of the murder of Clarence E. Glover at Waltham on the night of Nov. 20, 1900.

The verdict was a popular one—so popular in fact that the traditional decorum of Massachusetts courts was swept aside while men and women cheered, shouted and wept for joy.

The demonstration continued for fifteen or twenty minutes, and the court officials were utterly powerless to stem it. The crowd in the corridors took up the cheer of the throng that was packed in the court room, and there came answering cheers from more than 200 men and women who had assembled on the quadrangle in front of the court house, and in the surrounding streets of East Cambridge.

Minard's Enlistment Cases Gargled in Cows

Schir. Foundered Off Seal Cove

CAPTAIN AND CREW OF THE GENTIE HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

PARRISHO, N. S., Dec. 12.—The schooner, Gentie, from Joggins for Digby, with a cargo of coal sunk yesterday off Seal Cove near Eatonville. She left Joggins yesterday morning and while proceeding down the Bay she suddenly sprang a leak, and the captain tried to get her into Seal Cove but she foundered in seventy feet of water at high water, and her command crew had a narrow escape. They reached the shore in the boat, saving only what they stood in. The schooner will be a total loss as the howitzer and jibboom floated up after she went down. It is likely the spars will be carried out by the swift current. The schooner was built at Winton, N. S., in 1893, and is 45 tons register. She was owned and commanded by Captain William Ogilvie of Joggins. The hull was partly insured, but there was nothing on the freight.

Miners Crashed in St. John Harbor

ST. JOHN, Dec. 13.—While backing 8:30 o'clock this evening, the Donald Mitchell, ran aground, the E. M. S. Empress of Britain, Captain Murray, with great loss to the vessel. The vessel was considerably damaged. The Canadian apprehension for her safety on the trip across to Glasgow. She has less than 1000 tons of passengers.

Tugs had hold of the Empress at the time of the accident, and it is not clear just how the big ship was allowed to come so close to the Empress of Britain which is docked a short distance below the Donaldson line's wharf.

The agents of the boats tonight were inclined to minimize the damage, but it is known that the accident was serious, and that it might very easily have been much worse.

Wedded in St. John

Tuesday's St. John Standard says: In St. George's church, Carleton, at 6:15 o'clock yesterday morning, Leonard Wilf Jones, of Alaska, and Miss Annie Maudie, daughter of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, of Carleton, were united in marriage. The bride was given away by her brother, Benjamin Jones, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. W. B. Sampson. Mr. and Mrs. Jones left on the Boston train for a visit to Massachusetts and will return to Weymouth to spend Christmas with the bridegroom's parents. Mr. Jones will return to Alaska in the spring and will return later for his bride, when they will take up their residence in San Diego, Cal.

[The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jones, of Weymouth, and the bride is a native of the same town, but has lived in St. John for several years.]

Married in Alberta

We copy the following from the Strathcona (Alta.) Herald of Nov. 18th: The marriage of Miss Elsie Thompson, formerly of Birmingham, England, and Mr. Harold W. Dakin, formerly of Digby, Nova Scotia, now both of Edmonton, was solemnized in Holy Trinity Church, Strathcona, last Saturday evening, November 12th, with great force and interest.

Archdeacon Grey, of Edmonton, was the officiating clergyman. Only relatives and intimate friends were present. Both bride and groom are well known and popular in Edmonton, especially in musical circles, and have been under the recipients of many beautiful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Dakin will make their future home in Edmonton.

Death at Mill Village

The death occurred at Mill Village on Wednesday afternoon of last week of Lillian, wife of William Solomon. Mrs. Solomon was a daughter of late Leander Ford, ex M. P. of Milton. Dr. Starr Ford of Cincinnati, and Dr. E. E. Ford of Liverpool, are brothers, and Mrs. Rufus Morton, of Minneapolis is a sister of the deceased.

We have received a copy of the half century souvenir edition of the Montreal Daily Witness, an immense paper of 60 pages.

Bad Death at Tiverton

Our Tiverton correspondent writes: We have to chronicle this week the sad and sudden death of Mrs. Laura Oseinger, wife of Mr. Vesie Oseinger, at the age of 25 years. Although she had not been well for some time she was never known to complain, and until last Tuesday night had attended to the duties of her home, when she was taken suddenly ill, passing away on Friday evening at 7 o'clock. She was a member of the Guiding Star Com-panton Court, sons of Amperance, and of the Baptist Church. She leaves to mourn their loss a sorrowing husband, two small children, the oldest two years of age and the youngest a babe of five weeks, two sisters, Miss Yreana Lewis and Miss Lottie Lewis, and a grief-stricken mother and father. She was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Lewis of Freeport, who with their youngest daughter were with the deceased at the time of her death. Word was sent to Miss Yreana, at St. John, but she arrived too late. The funeral was held last Sunday and was largely attended. Rev. Mr. Saunders, pastor of the Baptist church, conducted the service at the church and grave. The last tribute of respect that could be paid to the departed was done so by the members of the L. O. Foresters, proceeding in a procession ahead of the casket. We extend our sympathy to the sorrowing husband and other relatives in their sad loss.

Fire in Lynn

The six-story brick shoe factory of Patrick Sherry, Lynn, Mass., was destroyed by fire early on Friday morning. The loss is placed at $30,000. An explosion of 40 gallons of gasoline on the second floor toppled the fire fighters. No lives were lost, as no one was in the building at the time. The fire started in a pile of rubbish on the third floor and the blaze was seen by a patrolman on the street.

His many friends in Digby regret to learn that Capt. Charles F. Veigel will shortly be leaving for the Salvation Army barracks near Digby, and will from here go to St. John to await further orders. We are pleased, however, to state that while in that city he will participate in a happy event, for on Jan. 11th he will be united in marriage to Capt. Sarah A. Coleman, S. A., at present in Winnipeg. The ceremony will be performed at the S. A. club, by Mr. and Mrs. Digby. Capt. Veigel has made many friends during his stay in Digby, and he wishes to thank all those who have been kind to him and in any way assisted him in the good work in which he has been engaged. The Couriers wish him every success in his new field of labor.

Wedding at Hill Grove.
A quiet wedding took place at Hill Grove Wednesday evening, Dec. 23rd, at eight o'clock, when William H. Cosman, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Cosman, of Brighton, was united in marriage to Mary M. Dyer, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dyer, of Bloomfield, by the Rev. Mr. Dixon. The bride, who was attended by her becomingly dressed in a travelling suit of brown with hat to match, and the happy couple were pronounced man and wife they were conveyed to their home in Brighton where they will in the future reside. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cosman have many friends throughout Digby county and elsewhere who will join the Couriers in wishing them a long and happy wedding life.

Two Heavy Stocks.
The two high line vessels at Digby this year from Oct. 11th to Dec. 23rd are the schooner, Dorothy M. Smart, Capt. Harry Ross, and the schooner, Albert J. Lutz, Capt. John A. Lutz. The Dorothy M. Smart, a 200-ton schooner, has been at Digby for the past two weeks, and the Albert J. Lutz, a 200-ton schooner, has been at Digby for the past two weeks. It is said that this is the highest amount ever stocked by a Digby vessel for a similar period at this season of the year. Both are up-to-date vessels, with enterprising captains, good crews and we wish them continued success.

A Handsome Boat.
A Couriers representative was in Westport recently when Mr. E. W. Southern and son Allen shipped a new open launch to the Atlantic Hotel, St. John. This trim little craft, which is up to date in every respect, was designed by Mr. Alden Southern and built on Peters Island by his father and himself. She is 23 ft. overall, 6 ft. 2 inches beam and 3 inches deep. She will be propelled by a Manassah gasoline motor. The builder did not know what horse power would be installed but we venture to say it will prove quite a fast runabout very suitable as a family launch on the St. John river or elsewhere.

Calendars.
One of the handsomest calendars released this week is one from Mr. G. Turnbull, proprietor of the South End Grocery. Mr. G. Robertson, of Montreal, manufacturers of competition for printers' rollers, also has our thanks for a calendar received on Wednesday. Messrs. W. L. Holdsworth & Co., townships and plumbers, have our thanks for several designs of calendars. The furthest sector, "Making it hot for her," as well as the bath room pictures are all good.
