1877-1977

Now and then a printing job had a save in parchment paper which required a special kind of printers' ink which smelled very bad some days. I always dreaded it when "Mac" would take you to the largest press in spite of the fact he always opened an outside door to lessen the odors on the room itself.

One of the jobs I had to do, besides putting and grinding down the staff, was to... I cleaned one and then... One day not long after I started to get to the grating plant. I decided to climb the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned for some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily. He thought the remark pretty good and whole.

Sometimes the gasoline engine, a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and the "fix-it" man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results. Max would then stand back and come over dramatically then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of fixing."

On other occasions when some people would say, "let it be," and seemed to be brokenhearted, I would say, "use a little oil" and vice versa, after that is said, "use a little oil" and vice versa, after that is said, "let it be." They often since have I heard of the value of that remark and the actual need of oil in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and in the right way.

place and, in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the June I told "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1943 got together just before dark one evening and decided to mutilate the newly built outdoor Pease Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just out of the pool, nobody else seemed to be around and the four boys, no thought or time for bathing suits, up in the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in. The rest quickly followed and across the pool they swam. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story was something like, "Four Boy Swims Officially Open Pease Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the boys? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars (second world and Korean), was awarded the Vietnam Cross; Sidney L. Smith, now prominent draughtsman for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby telephone installer and electrician; and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day, I was asked to contribute about writing your version of the story told about "The Marooning of Jerome". I did it and read at least two times what I had written about the man who was found marooned on a beach in some point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Duffy County. When I read this man's tongue had been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome appeared to have been a man of considerable social standing and, possibly, of considerable wealth. However, the only thing I could or would ever say after being asked not to by some family in the Forest was something that sounded like the name of either, yulid nut, or, would not, yulid nut, who he was or why he was left there. It was, and is, one of Digby County, and, different ideas have been put forward as to the reasons concerning this man. However, "Mie" was, I felt no urge to say anything different about this man. The only thing I have been very well explained to me is that

The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Bay, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles distant from the head of H. Mary's Bay. This land, and not from the water's edge, partly is level ground, and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having on an eastern aspect a view of the Annapolis Bay, and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in extent, it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth at that name. It was secured by Leyden's tract, New York in 1643, the land of which went nearly to Britain, or, moving to other countries, left the shore free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students, one of which was J.J.'s daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Morton of Tibet, Prospect, Digby Co.). Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters. I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print." I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and trimming paper stock, trying inks for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "po," the printers name for a confused mess.

There was a taste of trying to do things outside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried it. Made several calls over most of the time at home particular

ONLY SIXTEEN, GIRL VERY SICK

Tells How She Was Made
Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

New Orleans, La.—"I take pleasure in writing these lines to express my gratitude to you. I am only 16 years old and work in a tobacco factory. I have been a very sick girl but I have recovered wonderfully since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now looking fine and feeling a thousand times better."

St. Clair, Pa.—"My mother was alarmed because I was troubled with suppression and had pains in my back and side, and severe headaches. I had pimples on my face, my complexion was sallow, my sleep was disturbed, I had nervous spells, was very tired and had no ambition. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has worked like a charm in my case and has regulated me. I worked in a mill among hundreds of girls and have recommended your medicine to many of them."—Miss ESTHER MACQUEEN, 110 Thwing St., St. Clair, Pa.

There is nothing that teaches more than experience. Therefore, such letters from girls who have suffered and were restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be a lesson to others. The same remedy is within reach of all.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

MEDICAL INSPECTION OF SCHOOLS IN TORONTO

By W. E. STRUTHERS, B.A., M.D., L.R.C.P., M.R.C.S.
Chief Medical Inspector

GENERAL CLEANLINESS.

To obtain this result is always a herculean task. But teachers, nurses, and doctors have daily admonished, persuaded, and rebuked, and the constant iteration has produced its effect—but this is a big daily task that possibly must remain so for some time—at least until housing conditions and facilities for cleansing purposes are considerably improved. But constant effort to have the children come to school with clean teeth, clean noses, clean bodies, clean boots, clean clothes, clean bodies, is driving home the great lesson of cleanliness of the person and of the home. Much better results could be obtained were there better facilities in the home or in the school to obtain cleanliness. It is difficult to get body or clothes clean without hot water and soap.

SHOWER BATHS.

The establishment of shower baths in the schools, and especially in the down town schools, is an urgent necessary undertaking. It is a progressive, necessary and economic step. It appeals to me that this can be done at an inconsiderable expense compared with the great benefits that will accrue to the children under your care. It is perhaps wholly unnecessary for me to point out that many children in the schools have meagre if any facilities at home for keeping their bodies clean. Nor need I tell you how much a child's self respect is increased, its moral tone uplifted its health and general welfare improved by being kept clean and sweet and wholesome. Without the necessary facilities it is difficult almost impossible, for the doctor and nurse in charge to obtain the best results.

THE FOREST SCHOOL.

Nothing in the modern development of the public school has given more satisfaction than the forest school. From everywhere comes the report of the remarkable stimulus received by the child in its outdoor life, and the great improvement in its physical development. Such schools have proved to be an economy, not an expense. Children accomplish in half the school lesson hours as much as their stronger fellows in the regular school. The other half of the lesson periods are given to nature study, play, gymnastic exercises and drill. Children are given three wholesome meals a day, plenty of milk, and two hours' rest and sleep every day. Such regularity of life in work, play, meals, and rest produces remarkable results in a very short time. The Forest School opened on June 20th, 1912, and closed Sept. 20th. In all about seventy children were in attendance; the average attendance, however, fell somewhat below fifty. In this tentative effort to demonstrate the value of such open air school work, we had, of course, some difficulties and a number of handicaps. The children had to learn that although the school was in the woods, that although the method of teaching and studying was different, it was still necessary to maintain discipline. Some of them did not seem to know what obedience meant. Many were under the impression that this was not a regular school in any sense—that even in attendance they could come and go as they pleased. In many ways, too, our facilities were limited, and of course, our difficulties increased. All of the children were examined by the School Medical Inspectors before being selected. The Dental Inspector examined 58 children in attendance and reported many mouths in a very poor condition, with abscesses, inflamed gums, and decayed teeth. All children were provided with a Huxley tooth brush, and after each meal the nurse put them through the tooth brush drill. Every child was thoroughly instructed in the use of a tooth brush and made to use it. The Dental Inspector removed jagged roots, and stain and tartar from the teeth. At the closing of the school he is able to report as follows: "I wish to draw your attention to the beneficial results of the regular and careful brushing of the teeth by the children under the nurse's guidance. At the close of the school the mouths of these pupils were practically in every case models of cleanliness. If the same regular care that was practiced in the Forest School could be carried out in all our public schools, it would revolutionize the mouth conditions among children."

During fair weather the children spent ten hours in the open. They usually arrived at the grounds about 8:30 a. m. and left for home about 6:30 p. m. After a breakfast of cereal, milk, bread and butter the nurse took charge of one class. They were divided into junior and senior classes. At 10:30 they were served with a glass of milk, and bread and butter. At 12 o'clock there was a general wash up. Dinner consisted of soup, potatoes and meat, bread and butter, milk, and a kind of pudding. Supper consisted of bread and butter, milk, jam, light cake or oatmeal cake, or bread and milk, etc. After each meal each child took its own cup with some water and under the watchful eye of the nurse thoroughly cleansed its mouth and teeth. At 1 o'clock came the rest period; all were required to go to sleep for two hours. The cot provided for this purpose allowed complete relaxation of the body so that the children's sleep was sound and refreshing. These cots had woven wire springs and the ends so arranged that they would readily swing under the bed. They were thus easily handled. The rest of the equipment was a double military blanket and small pillow. For wet weather a rain proof covering at the foot of the cot was so arranged that it could be rapidly placed over bed and blanket. During the first week the Forest school was open, all but three children gained in weight. That gain varied from one half to four and one-half pounds. Naturally that gain did not continue at the same rate in the weeks to follow. But to judge the benefit accruing to these children from the point of view of the gain in weight would not be fair. The gain in weight is important for it should indicate increased vitality and strength. But this is not the only result. Children come to the school dull, stupid, unresponsive, with little evidence of developing mentally. It was a great pleasure to watch the awakening and quickening intelligence, to see apathy and dullness and stupidity replaced by intelligence, alertness and activity, to note the bright eye, and quickened movements, to see the natural interest in everything that surrounds a child evidencing a developing mind. But even this quickened mentality is not the only result, for the child has learned something in deportment, to lift his hat to a lady, to smile back "thank you" for a service rendered, to eat and drink decently at the table, to appreciate the beauty of a few wild flowers, the lure of the open woods, the majesty of the rolling sea, to recognize his Creator in the things of Nature. There has been an uplift in his whole moral being, the effect of which, I believe, will never entirely pass away. I know of nothing that would be a greater blessing to the children of this city, that would do as much to produce and maintain that vigorous physical health so essential to mental development and moral being. I know of nothing that will do so much to prevent debility, consumption, and all wasting diseases, that will do as much to restore vitality, and produce the physical and mental development that means efficiency and usefulness to the city and to the State. The Forest School means a preventive; means a wholesome and vigorous body, a quickened and disciplined mind, clean and regular habits of life; means health, efficiency, usefulness, independence, content and happiness; means children saved from misery, crime, and degradation. In the face of such manifest benefit to child life, and the striking success not only of this tentative effort here but also of the open air schools of America and Europe it is very desirable that such a type of school should be continued and extended.

FEIBLE-MINDED CHILDREN.

During the year many efforts have been made to secure municipal and provincial care of these children in Institutional Training Schools, and it is regrettable that not much has resulted from these efforts. Many people still have confused or hazy ideas on this subject. Written on the mental states of children vary somewhat in classification, but the following is probably the simplest:

1. The supernatural or unusually bright; these sometimes need as much care and supervision as the feeble-minded.
2. The normal child.
3. The subnormal children but educable though permanently slow or sluggish in mental or physical action. These are abnormal.
4. The abnormal and irresponsible. (a) Morons or the feeble-minded; capable of earning a living under favorable circumstances, but incapable of competing on equal terms with their normal fellows or of managing themselves or their affairs with ordinary prudence. Educable to some extent and can be trained in manual work, sometimes becoming fairly proficient but never responsible. The high grade moron may reach the mental development of a child of twelve years or thereabouts, but does not pass this stage of intelligence.

(b) Imbeciles—Can feed themselves, guard themselves from physical danger, but incapable of earning their own living.

(c) Idiots—Unable to attend to their personal wants and unable to guard themselves from physical danger. Not sufficient mentality to recognize danger. All abnormal children, therefore, should be segregated at an early age and under continuous supervision for the protection of the State, the good of the race, and for their own happiness. It is no evidence of kindness for parents to keep these children in their own homes and send them to Public Schools nor any evidence of sound sense or political economy for the government to permit it. These children are happier with their kind. They are a great handicap to other children in the Public School. They become the butt of ridicule of their normal fellows, which is bad for all. These children should be in Government training schools, educated as far as is possible, trained in trades or agriculture, they should go from the training school to homes for feeble-minded men or homes for feeble-minded women, and there remain until they cross the Great Divide. The money spent by the Government in this great and long neglected work would be in the interest of true economy, and the highest evidence of the State's recognition of its humanitarian responsibilities.

BACKWARD CHILDREN.

There are still many strenuous advocates who maintain that the palium supplied in the Public Schools should consist of a knowledge of reading, writing, and arithmetic. Many today would add to this diet a knowledge of spelling, grammar, composition, history and geography. Quite a number would add to this by way of dessert a little knowledge of art, music, domestic science and manual trades. Heretofore this diet has been served up to the child, irrespective of its physical condition. Many a child got dyspeptic and dropped out. It is more deeply realized every day that the whole function of the Public School, primary and secondary, is to fit the child physically, mentally, and morally for its place in the State, to develop its body as well as its mind so that it may become an efficient member of the community. For many years the child's body has been neglected and its mind coddled and spoon fed. Educationists failed to realize the tremendous importance of the physical condition upon mental development and mental training. In the higher grades we find fewer children with physical defects. The mental tests have been a thorough physical test. Those with physical defects have been hampered or stopped in their school progress; they have never reached the higher grades. It has been said that in our own Public Schools "children are taught to fly before they learn to walk, to use their imaginations before they learn to control their bodies." But parents, educationists, and governments serve up the same school paladium to the nervous, half blind, diseased, semi deaf, anaemic, ill nourished, rachitic, ptomaine poisoned child as to the normal child. What a burlesque on common sense and what refined cruelty! The embittered, wasted, criminal lives of many children cry out against this haphazard, irresponsible. Good help for much sickness and suffering because its quality determines our resistive power. With poor blood we are languid, susceptible to colds, lack natural energy and ambition and the gradual decline of strength makes prompt and careful treatment necessary. Drugs or alcohol cannot make blood and must be avoided.

Poor Blood is Responsible

SCOTT'S EMULSION is nature's grandest blood-maker because of its wholesome medical nourishment, so carefully predigested that it assimilates without taxing digestion and quickly increases the red corpuscles of the blood, strengthens the organs and tissues and rebuilds the whole system.

us method of dealing with child life. Where parents fail the State should fit the child to receive an education. Therefore the State should be the over parent, and see that parents properly feed, clothe and care for their children. It is the highest and truest economy for the State to see that every child gets its fair chance in life. A true knowledge of child care should be more general. Personal and general hygiene should have a far more prominent place in the school curriculum. Clean and right life habits will mean more for a child in life than a smattering knowledge of art and music. Many children are backward, vicious, immoral, criminal, simply because of remediable physical defects, the result of neglect, improper feeding, and poor housing. The child never had a decent chance to develop physically or mentally. Special classes for these children with removal of physical defects—and the Board should insist that every child admitted must have their physical defects removed—with special instruction and careful health supervision will rescue them from the criminal life and develop them into useful citizens. These classes also act as a dragnet for feeble-minded children. If the measure of their intelligence does not fall below the normal, more than three years, they are likely to develop into normal children.

During the year about 540 children were referred to the medical inspectors for examination. Of these 400 were declared merely backward, 120 feeble-minded, and 20 imbecile. I would judge that 120 is a low estimate for the feeble-minded, and that a further and more careful examination would likely show that number increased. If a provincial or municipal training school is not soon provided for these children then they should be placed in a special school for they are a handicap to normal children in other schools. Classes for backward children have been established in three schools.

COMMUNICABLE DISEASES.

The Board of Health aims to make the best use of its facilities to get control of communicable diseases, and our aim is to keep communicable diseases out of the schools, so that we all work cordially for the same end. The Board of Health sends a list every morning to our department of the contagious diseases that have been reported to them, giving us the age of the child, the address, and the school district. The principal and medical inspector of the school concerned are immediately notified from the head office. Even if the patient is not a school pupil, the notification is forwarded that the principal, medical inspector, and nurse may have an adequate idea of the prevalence of contagious disease in their school district. Any unusual prevalence in one district calls for an extra effort from the medical inspector and nurse to discover, if possible, the cause of the spread. All cases of contagious disease found in the schools by the medical inspectors are given an exclusion card, sent home, and the Board of Health at once notified.

The Board of Health at the request of the Board of Education abrogated the rule that called for the closing of a school classroom where two children had developed diphtheria. This request from the Board of Education was the result of closing two rooms in the Parkdale Public school. In this school we had an epidemic of diphtheria in which 80 cases of clinical diphtheria and diphtheria carriers were isolated. Almost at the outset a classroom was ordered closed under the old rule. Before the order could be carried out I had the medical inspector take out the child at his disposal before dismissal, with the assistance of a school nurse, took cultures of 27 children, and 10 out of the 27 proved positive, and of course, were quarantined. None of these cases showed the presence of exudate or membrane, and there were but slight clinical symptoms; only those children whose throats showed a slightly angry appearance were swabbed. But many later cultures were taken from throats that showed no evidence of inflammation present likewise proved positive, and the Board of Health placed these as diphtheria carriers. This outbreak began with a child who had been home sick "with a cold" for a short time without medical attendance. Notwithstanding the mild attack slight post diphtheritic paralysis followed. The family physician, being out of the city the child was taken to another practitioner, who mentioned the possibility of the illness being diphtheria, but did not take a culture. The nurse found this child in school, and sent it to the medical inspector, who took a culture, and also cultures from two other children at home; all three proved positive. An effort was made at once to get control of the source of infection. I sent four medical inspectors and four nurses to the school and the Board of Health promptly and rapidly furnished us with culture tubes. Altogether 335 cultures were taken, of which 80 proved positive.

We have a bylaw requiring all children absent from school for two days or more on account of illness or suspected illness to report to the medical inspector before being admitted to the class room. We have endeavored to teach parents the danger of allowing children having contagious disease to play with well ones and also the fact that mothers may carry the disease to others, and to place before parents their grave responsibility not only to their own children, but also to those of their neighbors. A very slight attack of contagious disease in one house may mean later death of a child in a neighbor's house. It is a sorry reflection on human kindness that many such deaths occur through the criminal carelessness or absolute indifference of some parents. Through information obtained from school children and teachers this department was able to report many cases of unreported contagious disease to the Board of Health. During the year there were 84 children with diphtheria, 42 with scarlet fever, 113 with measles, 497 with chickenpox, 175 with whooping cough, 52 with mumps, 292 suspected contagious disease, and 728 exposed to contagious disease turned back from the schools, making a total of 803 children that had to be excluded for these contagious diseases, and a total of 728 children who were exposed. Besides these 366 children had to be excluded for other conditions. In our work we have found quite a number of diphtheria carriers, children who had no clinical symptoms of the disease but had the bacilli of diphtheria in their throats. I am convinced that the spread of disease, and its mortality would be very greatly decreased if the throat of every member of a household where diphtheria existed were carefully swabbed before quarantine was raised. To test how commonly children in our city were diphtheria carriers every one of the medical staff agreed to swab one class of children; these were to be of different ages. This would have meant the testing of 1,000 children. It is to be regretted, I think, that the Board of Health were unable to supply us with culture tubes for this purpose. One great difficulty we have had in endeavoring to control the spread of the minor contagious diseases in the schools is the fact that after we have excluded these children from school we find them playing with other children on the street after school hours. This breaking of quarantine we have reported to the Board of Health.

THE SCHOOL NURSE.

The first regular employment of trained nurses in connection with work of medical inspection of schools was begun in New York City by Miss Lina L. Rogers, our present Superintendent of Nurses, in 1902. During September and October of that year Miss Rogers worked alone, and in November she was given charge of twelve nurses. The improved results in the schools supervised soon led to the appointment of nurses in all schools. Since that time experience has proved that medical inspection fails to produce results without the trained nurse, and the best developed systems have two trained nurses to one medical inspector. Nurses are essential to systematic follow up work, and it is only by follow up work that anything is accomplished for the child. The nurse becomes the instructor of the pupils and parents and teachers in the principles and practice of sane hygiene. She becomes the link connecting the home with the school. I think, without exception, the teacher always welcomes the school nurse, although they occasionally have rebuffs in the home. Nurses are especially helpful in reducing the number of exclusions for minor contagious skin diseases and infected heads. Those that are excluded she follows to their homes at once, and sees that treatment is begun. She has been a great help to the school from such epidemic diseases as diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, chickenpox, mumps, and whooping cough. Many cases are first discovered by her visit to the home, and brought under proper supervision. Many mothers have expressed to me their deep appreciation of the assistance the nurse is to them in teaching their children habits of cleanliness, daily brushing of the teeth, and neatness in the care of their person. Many a mother, too, has reason to bless the school nurse as an angel of mercy who has brought out a sick child and comforted and relieved the sick child and over-tired mother, advised, directed, and brought order out of untidiness, uncleanliness, discouragement, and distress. The school nurse has interested herself in the home, brought food and fuel, boots and clothes, and made it possible for the children to get back to school. "The Lancet," one of the foremost medical journals in the city, says: "The public school nurse in Toronto is doing much good. The patients that come to the hospital for treatment present a much cleaner appearance than formerly."

Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club.

TUESDAY NIGHT'S DINNER AND SMOKER A BIG SUCCESS.

One of the most successful events in the history of the Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club, was a dinner and smoker, held at the Waverly Hotel Tuesday night. The dining room was tastefully decorated with bunting for the occasion, and presented a handsome appearance. The following is a copy of the menu:

SOUP
English Mince and Chicken
FISH
Baked Dressed Halibut
Celery
MEATS
Roast Prime Rib of Beef
Dish Gravy
Roast Potatoes
Apple Sauce
ENTREES
Lobster Salad
Mayonnaise Dressing
Cream Mashed Potatoes
French Green Peas
PASTRY
Custard Cream Pie
Apple Pie
English Plum Pudding
Hard Sauce
Canadian Cheese Crackers
Mixed Pickles
Mixed Cake
Vanilla Ice Cream
Tea and Coffee
Cigarettes

Commodore O. S. Dunham, Vice-Commodore Howard Anderson, and Rear Commodore J. F. Cripps presided at the tables, the commodore tilling the duties of toastmaster. The toast list was as follows:

- I. The King—Proposed by the Commodore responded to by singing the National Anthem.
- II. Town of Digby—Proposed by T. E. G. Lynch, responded to by Mayor H. B. Short.
- III. Foreign Yacht Club Members—Proposed by H. E. Jones, responded to by Mr. Wellington Dunham, St. John's.
- IV. Our Next Annual Cruise—Proposed by Dr. V. D. Schaffner, responded to by Commodore O. S. Dunham.
- V. Violin Solo—Fritz Dakin, piano accompaniment.
- VI. The Ladies—Proposed by P. W. Holdsworth, responded to by W. E. VanBlarcom.
- VII. Song—Roy W. Wynne, piano accompaniment.
- VIII. Our Host—Proposed by J. L. Peters, responded to by W. E. VanBlarcom.

The after dinner speeches were excellent, and many appropriate remarks were made by others than those whose names appear on the above list. Both musical numbers were loudly enjoyed.

Nearly all the speakers referred to the splendid way in which the menu was served, and the genial manner in which Mr. Agate, the popular proprietor of the Waverly Hotel, and his staff entertained the officers, members and guests of the W. N. S. Y. C., of which Mr. Agate is also a member. Letters of regret were read from Major Daley and Mr. H. T. Warner, who were unable to be present. The club's annual cruise starts Monday afternoon, Aug. 3rd. July 17th will be ladies' day.

A Record Trip.

SCHOONER DOROTHY M. SMART STOCKED $2,402.25 IN THREE DAYS ON BROWN'S BANKS.

As the following accurate figures will show, the schooner Dorothy M. Smart, in charge of Capt. William Snow, has made a record trip in the fishing business for the port of Digby, and as far as can be learned, for the Province, and we think has never been excelled from the port of Gloucester, during the month of March.

The schooner Dorothy M. Smart, in charge of her high line skipper, sailed from Digby on Sunday the 22nd inst., and returned to Digby Saturday morning, the 28th, with 100,130 pounds of fresh fish caught in three days on Brown's Banks. These fish were purchased by the Digby branch of the Maritime Fish Corporation. The vessel stocked on this trip $2,402.25 and the crew shared $35 each. This is the Smart's third trip of fish from Brown's during the month of March. Her total stock for this month is $7,739.88 and her crew have shared $236 each.

Other fishing vessels have also done well and the high line fish for the month of March stand as follows: Schooner Dorothy M. Smart, Capt. William Snow; Dorothy G. Snow, Capt. Ansel Snow; Albert J. Lutz, Capt. Arthur Longmire, and Loran B. Snow, Capt. Arthur Casey. The schooner Dorothy G. Snow, Capt. Ansel Snow, which got away on her first trip in advance of the remainder of the fleet, is high line for the number of fish caught during the entire haddock season.

The Bijou Dream Theatre.

Mr. Cripps has been giving his patrons some good entertainment since our last issue. The Young Adams Co. presented "St. Elmo" Friday night, and "The Girl from the Sunny South" Saturday evening. Both entertainments were appreciated by full houses. The specialties were also good, being among the best ever enjoyed in our town. To-morrow night, among the other pictures will be shown "A Dash for Liberty." A woman detective is one of the interesting characters in this two reel Lubin picture. She fascinates the defaulting bank bookkeeper, and all but has her case complete when he scents trouble, jumps on a locomotive and dashes away. The flight, the pursuit and the capture make an exciting series of events as can be imagined.

Millinery Openings.

We wish to call particular attention to Digby's millinery openings which take place Tuesday, April 7th. Both of Digby's establishments, H. Haver & Co. and Miss E. Collins, are by special arrangement, holding their openings on the same date this year which is much appreciated by the ladies who can visit both stores on their one trip down town, compare prices, styles, workmanship, etc., and then select to suit themselves. We guarantee the public satisfaction at both places and we trust that the proprietors and their staffs will be very busy for many weeks to come. In other words there is no need to send abroad for either cheap or expensive head wear, for all can be accommodated who desire to buy at home.

Contracts Awarded.

We understand that the following contracts have been awarded by the Dominion Government for breakwaters in Digby County. The one at East Ferry to the Engineers and Contractors, Ltd. At Calder's Cove and at Peapack, to Mr. Landry, of Antigonish.

Adrift in the Bay.

Mr. Leander E. Ellis, keeper of Point Prim Light, reports an unknown barge which was anchored twelve miles off the Gut, dragging to the westward at sunset last night. There is no tug in attendance.

Arrivals at Joseph E. Snow's this week: Schr. Dorothy G. Snow, 59,800 lbs. of haddock; 7,200 lbs. of cod, 9,200 lbs. of shuck; Schr. Loran B. Snow, 72,000 lbs. of haddock, 10,600 lbs. of cod, 4,450 lbs. of cusk, 292 lbs. of halibut; shipped, 850 boxes of tinman haddies, 420 boxes of fillets, 1,000 lbs. of fresh cod, 3,000 lbs. of fresh haddock.

Tuesday's Yarmouth Times: Capt. Norman Robbins, of Tiverton, with crew of twenty men, arrived yesterday to take charge of the schooner Nelson A., and today they are busy bending her sails. Big things are looked for from this schooner. She has an able crew picked from the best fishermen in Nova Scotia. They expect to get away on Monday for their first trip.

The Gloucester Times says: The first mackerel to reach the New South Boston fish pier were landed on Monday. To be sure they were only tinkers, but nevertheless mackerel and nice ones for the kind, too. They were landed by the steam trawler Great, five in all being counted out with the trip. They were taken out on Georges last Wednesday and sold at fifteen cents each.

The following vessels have reported at the Digby Customs house since March 27th: Inward—28th, schr. Elmer, Hays, Canning; 30th, schr. Dora, Canning; 31st, schr. Loran B. Snow, Caneby, fishing. Outward—28th, schr. Elmer, Hayden, Clement; 30th, schr. Susie Pearl, Clarke, St. John; 31st, schr. Loran B. Snow, Caneby, fishing; Schr. Dora, Canning, Annapolis, April 1st, Dredge Provincial No. 1, McLeod, St. John.

Richard Malton, who was a seaman on the wrecked steamer Coquid, left Yarmouth on Thursday for Halifax, to take passage by the Allan liner Albatross for England. Malton was the chief sufferer of all those who for two days were exposed to great hardships on the stranded Coquid and has been in the Yarmouth hospital ever since. He was severely frost bitten and only last week became sufficiently recuperated to be sent home.

Malton is being provided for by the British Board of Trade through the local shipping master. His home is in London, to which city he will be sent when the Albatross arrives at Liverpool.

The Gale at Westport.

A special telephone message to the COURIER yesterday afternoon stated that a northeast gale was kicking up a big sea at Westport. In the harbor were the Digby fishing schooners Dorothy G. Snow, Dorothy M. Smart and Loran B. Snow. The latter, which was dragging ashore, during the afternoon was rescued by Capt. C. F. Lewis in the tug Helena. The Westport schooner, J. Colgate, Capt. Hicks, went ashore at Irish Cove, but is thought will be floated without serious damage.

An Odd Coincidence.

Captain Burns, master of the government steamer Lansdowne, was 63 years old Wednesday and it was a coincidence that his orders from the marine department brought the Lansdowne to Digby, his native town. The genial captain received the congratulations of his numerous friends. Captain Burns has been following the sea for forty five years, during which time he has been in all parts of the globe.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR: Having seen a letter in your edition of last week attributing the great laxity of morals and lack of interest in church work throughout the civilized world today, to too much military spirit, I beg to make reply through the pages of your valuable paper.

Suppose that all military training, all building of battleships, all fortifying of the coast were suspended in Great Britain. Then suppose a heathen nation, take China for example, coming in and finding things in this condition making an easy conquest of the country. Which do you suppose would be the greater blow to Christianity, being ruled and governed by a nation corrupt in morals and pagan in religion or to so fortify ourselves that we might, if necessary, repel the invader?

The writer says that even the school boys are taught that to butcher their fellow men is to cover themselves with glory. Now I have trained as a school cadet for four or five years and never have I been taught that there was glory in butchering men. I have been taught that war is a necessity and that the only glory in war consists in our being willing to sacrifice our lives in the interest of our freedom, homes and religion.

Again there is another phase of the subject. It has been proven time and again that men have been benefited physically by military training. I myself have seen round shouldered, sleepy-eyed men changed by six weeks' military training into straight, alert specimens of manhood.

What then is the great evil of this military training? It helps us to defend our homes and gives us stronger bodies so that we are better able to serve God and man.

Should we never hear the thunder of war at our gates; should the pagan invader never appear on our horizon; we will reap the value of money expended in Canada fourfold in the better physique of our sons.

C. W. MACINTOSH
Weymouth, N. S., March 29, 1914.

Presentations at Weymouth to Mr. and Mrs. Ryan.

(widow or tribute).

On Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Ryan arrived from Weymouth and are at present the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Goudge. Mr. Ryan will at once assume the charge of the drug business purchased by him from Mr. R. B. Dakin of which notice was given in the Times of last week. In Weymouth, both Mr. and Mrs. Ryan were deservedly popular, their leaving being a matter of much regret. A large number of friends gathered at the station to give them a royal send-off, many tears being shed as the train pulled out, carrying away to another town these much respected and greatly beloved citizens.

On Monday night, the O'Learys were presented Mr. Ryan with an emblem chain for his watch chain, accompanied by an appreciative address. On Tuesday night a number of the leading citizens of Weymouth gave Mr. Ryan a delightful surprise by the presentation of a handsome gold chain and an address. The address contained many flattering expressions of regard ending with the following verse:

Then here's to you old pal,
May you live a thousand years,
Just to keep things pleasant in this vale of tears.
And may we live a thousand years
Lacking just one day.

For we would not care to be on earth
When you had passed away.
On Monday night, Mrs. Ryan was unexpectedly lured to the Goodwin Hotel parlors, where the ladies of Weymouth were assembled. They presented her with a case of sterling silver spoons, ice creams, sherbets, cake, etc., were served and a social hour enjoyed. Windsor extends to Mr. and Mrs. Ryan hearty greetings.

Shipbuilding Dropped Back.

There was less shipbuilding in Canada last year than the year before, and with the exception of the years 1910 and 1911, it was less than usual. The tonnage of vessels built last year and registered was 24,325. This includes practically no vessels built for pleasure purposes, the tonnage of which is growing fast, but these are seldom registered and there is no record kept.

The tonnage of the Canadian vessels registered last year was 39,225. This is about the same as the year before. The outgoing and inland water tonnage, out and in, was 57,849,783, which is an increase of about five millions and the coasting tonnage was 73,644,713 an increase of nearly seven and a half millions.

Military Training.

The Bridgetown Monitor says: The classes in Military Training, which was held in the warehouse from the 9th to the 14th inst., were well attended and great interest was taken in them. Sgt. Graham, the instructor, has spent a week in Belle Isle, instructing a class there, and has now come to Bonaville, where he will remain a week, when he returns to Halifax. He has served sixteen years in the permanent army, has been active service in South Africa, and during his stay with us, made many friends.

Presented With a Park.

Lawrencetown, Annapolis, is to have a public park, through the generosity of Samuel E. Bancroft, who has recently purchased an island adjoining the town, and which he has presented to the citizens at a public meeting. The island lies at the south of the village, nesting between hills in the bosom of the Annapolis river and consists of two acres and has now been donated to the town. The park is bordered with shrubbery and covered by a number of stately oaks, elms and other trees.

25 Years Ago

[From the Yarmouth Times files.]
W. T. Sterritt, Meteghan, advertised for tenders for shipping owned by the late Theophilus Conning. He offered Mr. Conning's interest in the Anierid, Emily L. May, Emil. Stedehorn, Monrovia, Palermo, San Sweden and Tallinn.
The Dominion government issued a call for tenders for the work of completing the Western Counties Railway (Digby to Annapolis).

Liquor From the Cobequid.

The Yarmouth Times says: On Saturday three men pleaded guilty to having in their possession liquor from the wrecked steamer Cobequid. They were fined $50 and costs each. E. N. Clements appeared for the government.

The Fence No Strain Can Sag

Maritime Fence remains taut and trim after years and years of hard usage. It simply cannot sag or get out of shape. Made from extra-heavy imported hard-drawn steel wire, thicker, stronger, and galvanized so it is peel-proof.

Maritime Fences are tested rigidly before leaving our factory. We know they will withstand far greater strains than any they are likely to endure. The simple lock with the bull-dog grip—never lets go.

Our Fencing is made from Standard Gauge Wire. Other makers use SCANT WIRE. WE DON'T. Full weight, full measure, 16 oz. to the pound in every case. It would pay you to act as our agent.

Meteghan.

Mr. Irene Doyon and Mr. Jule Doyon, of Mavillette, were in town Sunday, 22nd inst.

Mr. Nicholas Mallet and Miss Isabelle Mallet, of Mavillette, were in town on the 22nd inst.

Sgt. Mina Gorman, Capt. Gorman, left Saturday, 21st inst., with a load of piling for the American market.

Mrs. Victor LeBlanc, of Meteghan Centre died Monday, 10th inst., at the age of 60 years. She was suffering with typhoid pneumonia. Interment took place in the Stella Maris cemetery, under the direction of Undertaker Doyon, Rev. A. B. Cote, officiating. Her daughters, Miss Evangeline LeBlanc and Mrs. Thomas Doyon, of Haverhill, Mass., attended the funeral.

Mr. Albert Coteau, of Cape St. Mary, passed away on the 17th inst., at the age of 36 years. The late Mr. Coteau had been sick for about six years, suffering with tuberculosis. He leaves a wife but no children. He was born at Wedgeport, a son of the late Louis Coteau. His wife was a daughter of the late Agapit J. Doyon, of Mavillette. Interment took place at Salmon River, under the direction of Undertaker Doyon, of Meteghan. Deceased belonged to the Society of the Artisans Canadiens Francais.

We are glad to see Capt. Benson back in our midst. He is to begin work on his marine railway immediately, as he has on the ship the steamer Brunswick, and also due a large three-master. This will give a lot of work in Meteghan this summer. Messrs. Jule and Basile Robichau will have work also on their marine railway, for their reputation of first class carpenters is spread far and near. There will also be work on a new breakwater at Comeau's Cove, and the greatest boon of all, the Meteghan Creamery, which will soon resume its operation under the brightest of auspices for this year. Farmers, you are the bones and sinews of the country, you are not obliged to expiate yourselves to gain an honest living, for you are the true millionaires of the earth. Put your shoulder to the wheel, by tilling your farms by the latest method, and in spite of every obstacle, Meteghan will lead it with pleasure also, that we see several of our friends here start in the profitable business of poultry raising.

For Beautifying Your Hair

The Ladies in this Town are Simply Going Wild over Harmony Hair Beautifier. And no wonder, because to make the hair lustrous, soft and silky we believe there's nothing else—and we sell about all the various hair preparations made—that anywhere near comes up to Harmony Hair Beautifier.

Ask any one of the many women in this town who use it—she'll tell you she "loves" it. Just look at her hair, and you'll come to us and get some yourself.

HARMONY HAIR BEAUTIFIER

Is just what its name implies.—Just to make the hair glossy, lustrous, more beautiful.—Just to make it easier to dress, and more natural to fall easily and gracefully into the wavy lines and folds of the coiffure.

It leaves a delightful fresh and cool effect, and a lingering, delicate perfume. Will not change or darken the color. Contains no oil; therefore doesn't leave the hair sticky or stringy. Simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. But first, make sure that your hair and scalp are clean, by using

Harmony Shampoo

—A liquid shampoo to keep the hair clean, soft, smooth and beautiful. It gives an instantaneous, rich, foaming lather, penetrating to every part of the hair and scalp. It is washed off just as quickly, the entire operation taking only a few moments. It leaves no lumps or stickiness.—Just a refreshing sense of cool, sweet cleanliness.—Just a dainty, pleasant and clean fragrance.

—Both in odd-shaped ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops.

Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00.

Harmony Shampoo, 50c.

Both are guaranteed to please you, or your money back.

These Stage Beauties Endorse Them

There is no class of women who know better how to discriminate in the use of things to make them more beautiful than actresses. Among the many celebrated stage beauties who use and enthusiastically praise both Harmony Hair Beautifier and Harmony Shampoo are:

Use PUKITY FLOUR and do justice to your baking ability

Your bread, pies, cakes and pastry can be no better than the flour you use. For the sake of your family's health and your reputation as a cook you should always use PURITY FLOUR.

Tell your grocer that you want a sack of PURITY FLOUR. Give it a fair trial—an actual baking test—and if it does not prove to be the best flour you have ever used your money will be returned.

What more evidence do you require of the superior baking qualities of PURITY FLOUR? Doesn't it stand to reason that PURITY must be the best and purest flour milled? Otherwise we could never afford to guarantee it so liberally.

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

COAL mining rights of the Dominion, in Yukon Territory, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 250 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be sketched out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. Any fee shall be paid on the merchantile value of the mine at the rate of five cents per acre.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with an account, showing the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $100.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, April 10, 1914

Death of Mrs. Charles Marshall.

A HIGHLY RESPECTED RESIDENT OF DIGBY HAS PASSED AWAY.

Mrs. Harriett D., wife of Mr. Charles Marshall, died at her home, King street, Digby, Saturday morning, April 4th, aged 80 years and nine months. She had been an invalid for several years, but had borne her suffering patiently. Mrs. Marshall will be greatly missed, not only in her home circle, to which she was very much attached, but by a large number of friends for she was a woman of sterling qualities, highly respected by all who knew her. She leaves to mourn their loss a husband, two sons, Frank and Fred, of West Africa, Mass., and five daughters, Mrs. E. A. Warner, of Digby; Mrs. W. E. Nichols, of Charles River, Mass.; Mrs. Harry Dunn, of West Medford, Mass.; Mrs. W. J. Robbins, of New Britain, Conn.; and Mrs. James Dunn, of Halifax, N. S., the youngest daughter, died seven years ago. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. L. R. Harris, of Plympton, Mass., and one brother, Mr. William VanBuskirk, of Bloomfield, Digby county; also a number of grandchildren.

The funeral, which was largely attended, took place Monday afternoon, April 6th, at 2 o'clock, from the residence of Rev. L. Daniel, pastor of the Digby Methodist church, assisted by Rev. J. D. Brehaut, pastor of the Digby Baptist church. Interment in the Methodist cemetery.

Death of Francis Dennison.

Mr. Francis Dennison, of Digby, died in the Victoria General hospital, Halifax, on Monday, April 6th, aged 72 years. Several weeks ago the deceased had his left leg amputated below the knee, the result of blood poisoning from a blistered heel. He was a bachelor and a well known resident of this town, being the eldest surviving son of the late James Dennison, Esq., Judge of Probate. He had been a member of the government building since its erection in Digby thirteen years ago. He was a regular attendant of the Methodist church and a very liberal contributor. He was a member of the Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club and owner of one of the few sail boats belonging to the club at the present time, having never interested himself in a motor. He is survived by one brother and two sisters: Walter, of Lynn, Miss Lucy Dennison and Mrs. A. J. S. Copp, of Digby.

The remains arrived from Halifax via Wednesday's express, the funeral taking place immediately with interment in the Episcopal cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. William Driffield, rector of Holy Trinity church. Rev. L. Daniel, of Grace Methodist church, was also in attendance. The pall bearers were: Sheriff Smith, Customs Officer E. A. Gidney, W. B. Stewart, Esq., Municipal Clerk, and Mr. Charles Turnbull.

It Was The Barge Louis H.

SEE WAS OFFERED ASSISTANCE BY R. S. YARMOUTH AND LIFE BOAT DARING.

The unknown barge reported in last Friday's COURIER adrift in the Bay was the Louis H., of St. John, owned by J. B. King. She broke away from her tug the previous morning which, after circling around her proceeded northward, with her other two barges in tow. The Louis H. experienced a terrible night in the Bay. She was spoken during the afternoon by the north, northwest, of Point Prim by Captain McDonald, of the S. S. Yarmouth, who reported her by wireless to Partridge Island. Friday morning the life boat daring, in charge of Capt. John W. Hayden visited the barge, which, in the meantime, was anchored in smooth water near the Cove. The captain of the Louis H. informed Captain Hayden that he did not want any assistance, but wished to be reported by telephone at Windsor.

During the same afternoon the tug Gypsum King returned to the barge and resumed her tow up the Bay.

Easter Presentation.

Thirty members of the Bible Class in the Digby Baptist Sunday School, of which B. H. Jones, druggist, and his brother, Capt. Robert Russell, formerly in charge of tug boats and other craft on Digby Basin, St. John and elsewhere, have purchased the grocery business which was being carried on by their father, Mr. John A. Russell, in the McMullen block, Water street. The new firm will be known as Russell Bros. and by strictly attending to business and carrying a good line of goods, will no doubt receive a good share of the public's patronage. The Covenant wishes them every success. We understand it in their father's intention to move to Western Canada.

The New Light at Point Prim.

The revolving white catoptric light has been changed to a flash light. Flash every 7 seconds for half the time between flasher, or 3 1/2 seconds, the light will be totally eclipsed. For the remainder of the time a light of 700 candle power will be visible, through which the stronger light shows. This change was made April 1st, 1914. Naked light, 700 candle power. Flasher 20,000 candle power. Illuminant, petroleum vapor, burnt under an incandescent mantle.

Death at Bear River.

Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Harry Purdy, Bear River, in the loss of their little daughter, Edith, who was taken suddenly ill in school on Friday and passed away on Saturday night. The funeral took place in that town Tuesday afternoon, Rev. A. Daniel officiating.

OF A LOCAL NATURE

—Rev. J. D. Brehaut will preach in Ouliven next Sunday at three o'clock. —The first degree will be conferred on seven candidates in St. George's Lodge of Oddfellows to-night. —Mr. G. I. Letteney gave a lecture last Monday evening in the Methodist Hall on the life of Abraham Lincoln.

—Several casks of liquor, saved and otherwise obtained from the wrecked steamer Colquhoun, were sent to Halifax Wednesday.

—Staff Captain Coombs, of St. John, gave an illustrated lecture on the life of General Booth in the Salvation Army hall last night.

—There will be appropriate sermons and special Easter music in the various churches next Sunday, all of which should be well attended.

—Under the C. P. R. rules the various employees of the Dominion Atlantic Railway Co., are being officially examined at Kentville.

—The officers and members of St. George's Lodge, I. O. O. F., will attend divine service in Grace Methodist church Sunday evening, April 5th.

—Mr. L. Ruggles, formerly of Weymouth, has our thanks for a photo of the Victoria Hockey Team, of Regina, amateur champions of the world, for 1913.

—A story of the Teachers' Institute held in Weymouth this week reached us too late for publication, our forum having closed early, owing to the holiday.

—The Teachers' Institute, in session in Weymouth this week, is being attended by Inspector L. S. Morse, Principal N. W. Hogg and teachers from Digby.

—As to day is a public holiday the COVENANT forms were put to press last night crowding out a quantity of village notes and other correspondence which will appear next week.

—A telephone message received from Weymouth as we go to press announces the death of Mrs. Kemp of Weymouth and Mr. Geo. Munzer at Ashmore, further particulars of which will appear in our next issue.

—Mr. W. E. VanBlarcom, whose advertisement appears in this issue, is filling orders from Cape Breton for a large quantity of his famous Plymouth Rock eggs for hatching, which are becoming very popular all over the province.

—There will be special Easter music in the Methodist church next Sunday. The subject of the sermon in the morning will be, "The Necessity of Christ's Resurrection," John 20 and in the evening, "The Hidden Life," Colossians 3:3.

—Preaching services in the Baptist church next Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Morning subject, "The empty tomb, and the risen Christ" special Easter sermon. Evening subject, "The saving Christ, or the lifted curtain and the glorious vision."

—We received a copy yesterday of the Churchill County tale, published at Fallon, Nevada, Saturday, March 21st, which contains a column and a half article describing the marriage of Mr. J. P. Hunt, formerly of Acadiaville, Digby Co., to Miss Midge Spoon, of that city.

—Tuesday's millinery openings were largely attended in Digby and both B. Hays & Co. and Miss E. Collins had busy days. Their displays were good and the large amount of orders looked at both establishments, besides their day's sales, will keep the milliners busy for some time.

The St. John schooner Oriole, which was ashore last Friday at Tiverton, has been floated and will go on the blocks at Meteghan for repairs. The Oriole was from St. John for Weymouth, to load pulp for New York. She was built in St. John in 1884, is 134 tons, and is owned by Christopher Spanio and others of St. John.

Schr. Rolfe Towed In.

CAPT. NEIL PICKED UP BY STEAMBOAT CAPTAIN WHOSE WORK WAS APPRECIATED.

A despatch from Bridgetown says:—The steamer Valinda arrived in port on Friday, one day behind schedule. She had left St. John in the Thursday morning in company with the Bear River. After an hour out both steamers were compelled to turn back. On the way over on Friday, Captain Genser sighted a heavily laden schooner with a flag of distress flying. The Valinda ran down to her and spoke the Rolfe, Captain Neil, from Parrsboro for Digby with coal. The schooner's mainmast had gone sky-high and his foremast buried, and he wanted a tow but he did not want to be skinned, and shouted: "Captain Genser, I want a tow into Digby, but don't skin me." Captain Genser shouted back: "I will tow you in at the regular River rate of so much per hour." Captain Neil was delighted after his already great loss to find a savior with a white heart. His crew soon past out a bawler and in two hours he was inside the basin safe and sound. He was picked up twelve miles out. The Rolfe had left Parrsboro the day before and had spent all night in the bay tossed about by a sixty mile hurricane. The schooner had lost her sails except a small piece of the jib, but was not leaking.

The Misses Mary Phinney, Mary Palfrey and Mildred Wheelock, of the teaching staff of the Bridgetown schools, are attending the Teachers' Institute at Weymouth this week. Miss Mabel Marshall, of the Clarence West school, is also in attendance at the Institute.

Mr. A. Shortliffe's oldest daughter, Miss Nettie, has just completed the preliminary course at the Massachusetts General Hospital Training School for Nurses, Boston, and having passed the examinations very successfully, has been accepted into the training by the authorities of the above mentioned place.

Miss Lois Marshall, who has been one of Mr. J. W. Munroe's employees for a number of years and who is a faithful worker in the Salvation Army as Corps Cadet, left Monday for St. Stephen, where she expects to spend the summer, accompanied by her sister Beatrice. They will be greatly missed by their friends in Digby.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Digby Courier:

DEAR SIR:—I would ask the farming community of this county to be very careful as to the quality of potato seed that they are planting this season. If your seed has come from New Brunswick, observe carefully whether your potatoes have any dark scales on them. If you find one such potato do not plant any of that lot—if you do you will have your land cursed for seven years. To the writer's knowledge such potatoes are now for sale and have been sold in this county. Look over the potatoes you grew last year and see if there are any scales underneath the surface. If so get some new seed of unquestioned quality and lay your ground down to grass. It will be easier to get this cause than to get clear of it.

Reduce the cost of living by eating more bread

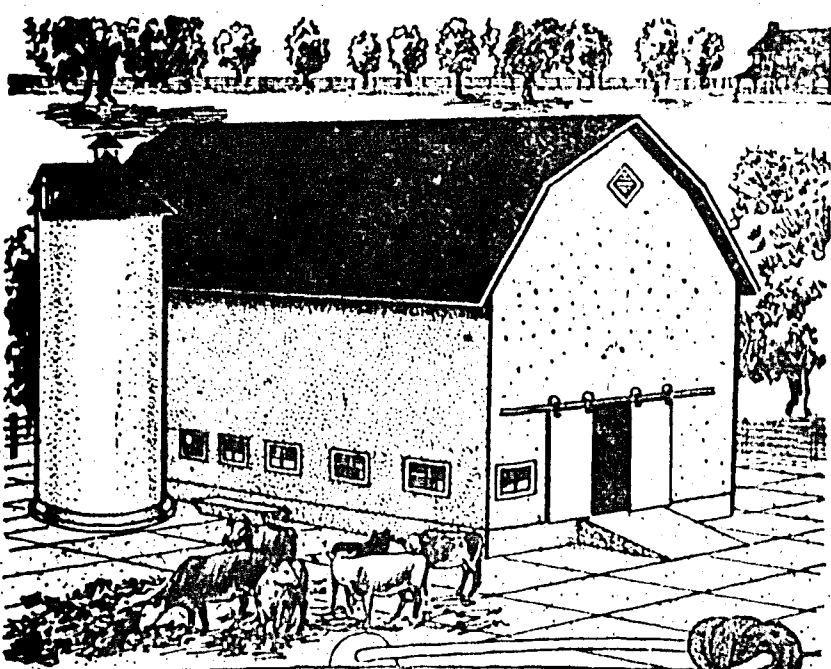

Stop worrying about the high cost of living. The "Staff of Life" is cheap. Good, plain, wholesome Bread—Bread made with PURITY FLOUR is more nutritious than meat.

Bake Bread with PURITY FLOUR—and buns, rolls, biscuits, cakes, and pies. Give the children plenty of Bread. It's the best food for growing boys and girls. And better than heavy meats for all of us. And—cheaper far.

Order a sack of PURITY! Test it by actual baking. You'll find it makes the tastiest, most appetizing Bread you've ever baked, and the buns, rolls, cakes and pies you'll make with PURITY will delight the whole family.

PURITY FLOUR

"MORE BREAD and BETTER BREAD"

Build Concrete Barns and Barnyards

YOU will find that they are best at first and cheapest in the end. Concrete buildings cannot burn and many dollars are saved in lower insurance rates. They need practically no repairs and never need painting.

Concrete barnyards make the best kind of a feeding-floor and save many dollars in feed bills, as your stock gets every particle that you feed to them.

Send for this free book "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." It shows just how to build your own concrete barn, feeding-floor or any other building that you may need.

NA-DRU-CO TASTELESS PREPARATION OF GOD LIVER OIL

The Wonderful Spring Tonic

If you have had a hard winter, Na-Dru-Co Tasteless Preparation of Cod Liver Oil will help you to recuperate quickly and avoid the coughs and colds so prevalent during the changeable spring weather.

In this preparation the nutritive and curative properties of the best Norwegian Cod Liver Oil are combined with Hypophosphites, Cherry Bark and Malt Extract in a form that is really pleasant to take and easily digested even by the most delicate.

Thus the great objection to Cod Liver Oil is removed and every one who is run down or suffering from throat or lung troubles can take advantage of its unique medicinal and strengthening qualities.

Add to this the Tonic Hypophosphites, the healing Cherry Bark and the invigorating Malt Extract, and you have probably the finest food-tonic known.

Town Council.

The Town Council met March 30th at 8 p. m.
Present His Worship the Mayor and all the councillors.
The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The report of G. A. Vye, Superintendent of streets and water, was read as follows:—
Digby, March 30th, 1914.
To His Worship the Mayor and Council:
I beg to submit the following report on the work of the water department during the month of March.

The principal work this month was cleaning the drains of ice and snow to keep the water from overflowing the streets. The sewerage plant on Prince William St. had to be thawed out as it was clogged with snow and ice.

There were eight service system pipes taken up owing to their being frozen and the pipes leaking. The one at Mr. J. C. Snow's fish shed was frozen for thirty feet to the depth of three and one half inches.

The reservoir is now about full of water.
(Sgd.) G. A. Vye.

On motion of Councillors Rice and Warner the report was received and adopted.

The report of the Finance Committee submitting the estimates for the year 1914 was read.

On motion of Councillors Wightman and Rice the report was received.

A letter signed by W. P. Read and 21 other rate payers of the Town protesting against the changes made in the Assessment Roll by the Assessment Appeal Court was read, also a letter from O. C. Jones objecting to the increase made by the Assessment Appeal Court in his assessment.

Also a letter from E. K. Mead asking for a house of the lower part of the pavilion opposite Manhattan Hotel, also a letter from P. J. Broderick, Chief of the Halifax Fire Department, in reference to a Convention of the Chiefs of the Fire Departments of the Cities and Towns in the Province, also a letter from Charles Small in reference to the dumping ground near his place.

The following persons were heard in reference to the changes made in the assessment roll by the Assessment Appeal Court.

T. E. G. Lynch objected to the lowering of the Assessment on property of the Estate of Louisa Bacon.

A. D. Daley objected to the increase in the Assessment of the Digby Electric Light Co.

He also objected to the assessment of his income.

D. Sprad objected to the increase in the assessment of his property.

W. E. VanBlarcom objected to the increase in the assessment of his coal stock. He also asked that the assessment on his real estate be lowered as reductions had been made in the assessment of property of other parties in the neighborhood of his place.

George R. McNeil objected to the increase in the assessment of the Pines Hotel property.

Howard Anderson objected to being assessed on income. He also objected to the lowering of the assessment on property of J. E. Snow. He also objected to the assessment of the Racquette Bait Freezer Co.

Clarence E. Woodman on behalf of Mary C. Woodman objected to the increase of assessment on her property.

A. A. Shortliffe objected to the assessment on stocks of Tainball & Co. and H. T. Warner & Co. Limited, being lowered without lowering the assessment on his stock in proportion. He also objected to the increase in assessment of his household furniture.

S. W. Titus objected to the increase in assessment of his personal property.

H. B. Short objected to the increase in assessment on his stock. He also objected to being assessed on income. He also objected to the Assessment on box shooks of The Maritime Fish Corporation. He also objected to the assessment of the Racquette Bait Freezer Co.

C. S. Dunham, Manager of the Courier Pub. Co. objected to the increase in assessment of the property of the Company.

Dr. W. F. Read objected to being assessed on income.

Dr. Shaffer objected to being assessed on income.

F. W. Nichols on behalf of Mrs. Isabella Brown objected to the increase in assessment of her personal property, also of the Goucher house, also the Gaudy house.

J. L. Peters objected to being assessed on income.

James A. Taylor objected to being assessed on income.

M. O. Denton objected to being assessed on income.

O. H. Warner objected to the increase of assessment on his stock.

Mr. G. E. Torrie objected to the increase of assessment on house.

Rev. Wm. Duffield addressed the Council in reference to the care and protection of feeble minded people. He asked the Council to pass a resolution in favor of a Home being established by the government for the care of the feeble minded.

The following resolution was moved by Councillors Warner and Jordan and carried:—

"Resolved that the Town Council of the Town of Digby place itself on record as being in favor of a Home being established for the care of the feeble minded."

The following Bills were read.

H. L. Donahoe $ 62.38
John Dickey 132.00
H. W. Bowles 56.67

On motion ordered to be paid Bill of A. Mite Fraser was read amounting to $20.48.

Moved by Councillors Warner and Wightman that the Bill be paid.

On the motion being put Councillors Warner, and Wightman, Rice and Winchester voted for the motion and Councillors Jordan and Troop voted against it. The motion carried.

On motion of Councillors Warner and Troop the Mayor was appointed a representative of the Town of Digby to meet with the representatives of other Towns and Municipalities to discuss and decide upon the establishment of County Clinics and District Hospitals for the treatment of tuberculosis.

As the hour was late on motion of Councillors Warner and Troop the Council adjourned till Thursday, April 2nd, at 8 p. m., to take up the unfinished business.

FREE

A Set of Dainty Aluminum Jelly Moulds

An opportunity, like this, to get a set of stylish individual aluminum jelly moulds free will probably never occur again in your lifetime. This Free Offer is simply a quick way we've adopted to introduce

Shirriff's Jelly

You simply purchase three packages of Shirriff's Jelly Powder from the grocer. He will then give you, without any extra charge, three of these jelly moulds. Or he will give you the complete set of six different shapes with six packages.

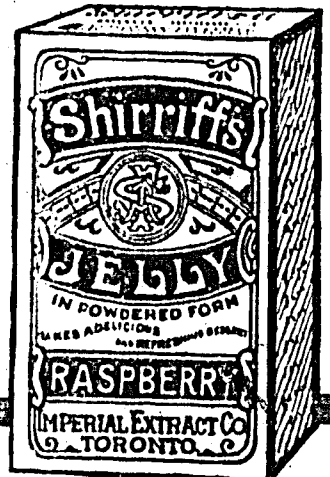

Six packages merely provide a nice assortment of flavors—flavors that are fruity, well-pronounced. Shirriff's Jelly is high-class, delicious. You'll serve it often once you've commenced.

And individual jellies—a jelly for each person—make such attractive and fashionable table decorations that nothing less than the complete set will satisfy you. Especially will you want the set, because the moulds are in six different stylish designs, and because they are made of aluminum, which every well-informed woman knows is the world's best material for cooking utensils.

Your grocer is probably exhibiting the moulds and Shirriff's Jelly in his window to-day. Call or phone him at once.

10c. a package. 3 for 25c. 6 for 50c.
One package makes six individual jellies. Especially delicious when served in combination with fresh or canned fruit, or with whipped cream.

WELL THAT'S A GOOD JOB!

and it will last, too

The way to estimate the cost of keeping your house properly painted is to divide the cost of paint and labor by the number of years the paint will last.

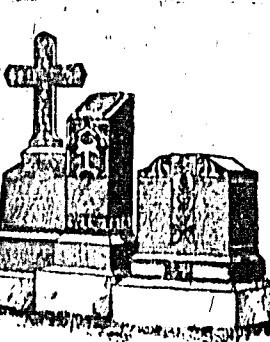

Brandram-Henderson's "English" Paint

is the paint of longest service - the 100 per cent pure paint - because it contains 70 per cent Brandram's B. B. Genuine White Lead and 30 per cent White Zinc, ground in pure linseed oil, turpentine and dryer for all paints that can be made on a white base.

Figure its cost, not merely by the space a gallon will cover but by what it will keep covered. To the painter the formula of B-H "English" gives a feeling of confidence from the start.

Makes Hard Work Easy!

DUSTING, cleaning and polishing hardwood floors is hard, back-breaking work. An almost never ending task and seldom satisfactory the old way. But it is easy, quick and satisfactory the new way—using the O-Cedar Polish Mop. With it you can spend a few minutes doing what it now takes you almost half a day. You simply pass the O-Cedar Polish Mop over the floor and every particle of dust and dirt is taken up and held. The floor is given a hard, durable, lasting polish and finish.

O-Cedar Polish Mop

Is also used for the dusting and cleaning of the tops of high furniture, between the banisters of the stairs and is so made that you can get to the far corner under the bed, beneath the radiator and other hard-to-get-at places.

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Refunded

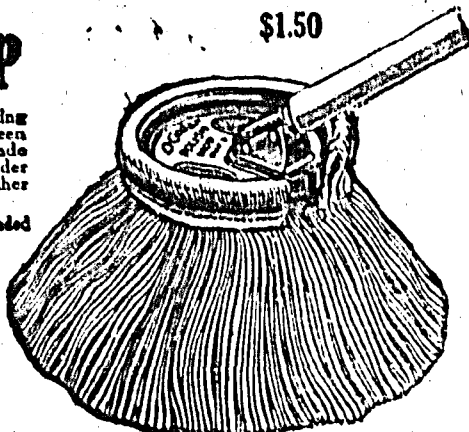

Try an O-Cedar Polish Mop for two days at our risk. Test it every way for two days and if you are not delighted with it we will promptly refund your money.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and enclosed "Tender for purchase of hull of dredge 'George MacKenzie'" will be received until 1:00 P.M., on Wednesday, April 22, 1914, for the purchase of the above mentioned hull.

This dredge has been dismantled by the department and the hull is now lying at Port Hawkesbury, N. S., where intending bidders should examine the hull and acquaint themselves with its present condition. The hull will be turned over to the purchaser at this place in its present condition.

Tenders will be required to furnish the department with a statement that this hull is not to be used as a dredge.

Tenders will not be considered unless signed with the actual signature of the tenderer. The party whose tender is accepted must make cash payment before taking possession of the hull.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works, for ten per cent (10 p. c.) of the purchase price. The cheque will be forfeited to the Department if the tenderer refuses to enter into an agreement to purchase the hull. The amount of the cheque will be taken to be part payment of the purchase price. If the tender is not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the highest or any tender.

Yes, they are neat!

And they're just as comfortable as they look. I have worn this kind for years and I never knew what hose satisfaction was until I got them. You should try Penmans Hosiery—they retain their shapeliness—set snug to foot and limb and wear much longer than ordinary hose. Penmans Hosiery is made for men, women and children, in cotton, cashmere, silk and lisle—in any weight and all popular colors.

"ORANGE LILY SAVED MY LIFE"

These words or expressions having the same meaning are contained in hundreds of the letters I have received during the past year. Many were from women who had suffered agonies from falling of womb; others from women who had escaped dangerous surgical operations, as the tumor and uterus had been removed by the action of Orange Lily; and others who had suffered from suppressed menstruation, leucorrhoea, painful periods, etc. For all these and the other troubles known in general as Women's Disorders, Orange Lily furnishes a positive scientific, never-failing cure. It is applied direct to the suffering organs, and its operation is certain and beneficial. As a trial actually proves its merit, I hereby offer to send, absolutely free, a box worth $10, sufficient for ten days' treatment, to every suffering woman who will write for it. Enclose 3 stamps. CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR:—Would you please allow me a short space in your valuable paper to say a few words in regard to our popular friend, Mr. F. W. Wallace, the founder and editor of the valuable magazine called the Canadian Fisherman. This splendid magazine has proved to be of great interest to the fishermen and also a great boon for a wider and better market with higher prices for our fish, smoked and cured fish in our home market. My sincere plea to the fishermen of the Maritime Provinces is to assist Mr. Wallace to carry out his grand work to secure this better market. Gentlemen, it is for your own interest that he is working and with our support he will prove a great success.

Mr. Wallace, as a delegate representing the Eastern Fishermen's Association at the 1913 proved to be a great boon to the fishing industry of Nova Scotia which gives us today a wider and better market. Through his magazine our firms are known throughout Western Canada as the best fish curers of North America.

I had the pleasure of being ship mates with Mr. Wallace in the schooner Albert J. Lutz, of Digby, on a high line halibut trip to Anticosti in the spring of 1913 and found him to be a gallant shipmate and navigator and I do trust that the people of the Maritime Provinces will subscribe to his excellent magazine and learn of our great future market which Mr. Wallace is striving to procure for our benefit. I ask the readers of this paper to lend a helping hand to Mr. Wallace, as I promise to be a banner year in the history of Canada. Thanking you very much for this space in your paper.

Yours truly,

FRANK NELSON CALDER.

Farmers' Meeting at Meteghan.

Saturday evening, 28th inst., Mr. T. O. Clarke, of Moncton, addressed quite a large meeting of our farmers at Meteghan on the great subject of sheep raising. Mr. Clarke is a very enthusiastic speaker. He pointed out the necessity of starting in such an industry, showing the source of wealth it would bring to the farmer on account of the increasing demand and price of mutton. If some of the farmers were to take hold of such a scheme, along with the creamery it would mean a great source of wealth to them, and also to the community at large. These meetings are held at the request of Mr. Jameson, our federal member. Mr. Clarke, the lecturer, in company with our correspondent, took supper at Mr. Ben. H. L. Blane's Sunday evening.

Yarmouth Times: Capt. Skelfield, of the American schooner Angie B. Watson, will have to be more careful or he will get into trouble. Last week he shipped an extra hand on his vessel which is against the law. He does not know when or where he came aboard as he was not discovered until they were three miles off the cape, and immediately on discovery he jumped overboard in an effort to swim ashore but probably perished on the way. It was a large raucous, one which must have weighed at least fifty pounds. It is not known whether the animal was aboard at the wharf, or whether he swam aboard from Bay View while the vessel was at anchor in the back channel. The first time he was noticed by the crew he was hiding behind a nest of dories. An effort was made to capture him but he jumped overboard and was lost.

Hants Journal, of Windsor, says: Mr. R. B. Dakin having sold out his drug business to Mr. C. A. Ryan, of Weymouth, desires to thank all those who have favored him with their patronage during the thirty-two years he has been in business, and would ask for a continuance of the same to his successor, Mr. Ryan. Mr. Dakin's time and attention, from now on, will be devoted exclusively to the optical work, to which he has given much study, having taken a course from the Northern Illinois College, of Ophthalmology, and also practical work with Dr. Ferguson, of New York, in optometry, embracing ophthalmoscopy, retinoscopy, etc.

Representative Donovan of Connecticut has introduced a bill in Congress, asking for the establishment of one hundred Federal fertilizer plants along the Atlantic Coast from Hatteras to Eastport. The bill provides for bounty upon all fish which prey upon food fish and their manufacture into fertilizer. The Bureau of Fisheries reported adversely against a bill of somewhat similar character introduced by Senator Johnson of Maine not long ago.

Refuse herring heads, skins, bones, tails and bellies, formerly sold by Eastern Maine operators to farmers for fertilizer, will now be used in the manufacture of oil, if the plans of an Eastport man are carried out. It has been proven that there are nearly 50 gallons of good oil, worth 20 cents a gallon, in every ton of refuse, and the man referred to hopes to produce 10,000 gal. on this month.

North Sydney Herald: A representative of a motor manufacturing concern, who was in town last week on his way to Newfoundland, stated that one concern in the Ancient Colony had given him an order for 1,000 gasoline engines, to be used in fishing boats. This order, if correct, is the largest of its kind ever given in the Western hemisphere.

St. John Times: Wm. Cosmopolitan, proprietor of Harbor View Hotel, Smith's Cove, N. S., and his wife are in the city, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sharpe, West End. They were visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Flagg for a few days and will return home tomorrow.

Two men in Queensland, Australia, have made $250 a week catching turkeys, each of which weighed from 200 to 600 pounds.

The New York Fishing Guide says: Salt codfish are in fair demand and prices steady. Nova Scotia haddock are in good demand and prices firm.

May Flowers at Yarmouth

The Herald says: Mrs. Charles Reeves, of South Ohio, sent us on Saturday a box containing several full bloomed May flowers picked at Springdale, which were sweet harbingers of spring.

Strongest and Most Stylish-Looking

MARITIME Ornamental Fencing and Gates have the quality. There is no gainsaying that. Only first quality tubing is used for the gate frames. We could, like many makers, use second quality and save one-third to one-half the tubing cost. We could also use small wires and save some more. But we use large, strong, stiff No. 9 wire. This wire is more smoothly, thoroughly and heavily galvanized than the wire generally used for fence and gate purposes. You know what that means. Strongest, most lasting, as well as most stylish-looking. Write for free catalogue, showing the different designs, and from them choose a gate you'll be proud of.

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

COAL mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be stated out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish to the Agent with sworn returns of the quantity of coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to use the coal for any purpose. Surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $100 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. COLEY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

SYNOPSIS OF DOMINION LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY person who is the sole head of a family, or any man over 18 years of age, who has owned a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta, the Yukon Territory, or in person or by his agent, the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agent for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of the head of the household.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a section along the side of his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-empt six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has established his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $10.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

SUFFERED EVERYTHING

For Years, Restored To Health
by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Canadian women are continually writing us such letters as the two following, which are heartfelt expressions of gratitude for restored health:

Glanford Station, Ont.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and never found any medicine to compare with it. I had ulcers and fulling of womb and doctors did me no good. I suffered dreadfully for years until I began taking your medicine. I also recommend it for nervousness and indigestion."—Mrs. HENRY CLARK, Glanford Station, Ont.

Chesterville, Ont.—"I heard your medicines highly praised, and a year ago I began taking them for falling of womb and ovarian trouble. "My left side pained me all the time and just before my periods which were irregular and painful it would be worse. To sit down caused me pain and suffering and I would be so nervous sometimes that I could not bear to see any one or hear any one speak. Little specks would float before my eyes and I was always constipated. "I cannot say too much for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, for there are no medicines like them. I have taken them and I recommend them to all women. You may publish this testimonial."—Mrs. STEPHEN J. MARTIN, Chesterville, Ontario, Canada.

A good idea of the fish traffic between Digby and the Upper Provinces is given by the shipments made from here during March. The figures show that 410,000 pounds of haddock and 200,000 pounds of fresh fish went by the St. John boat to Ontario, Quebec and markets further west. Besides this, there were several big shipments of boneless dry fish, the demand for this kind of table fish increasing every year.

The schooner E. Mayfield, now undergoing repairs at Annapolis and which was sunk in the river there last fall by colliding with one of the ice piers while bound to St. John with a cargo of brick, is chartered by the Bloomfield Lumber Company, to load hard wood plank at Digby for St. John, for shipment to England.

The Royal Mail steam Packet Co's. steamer Colquhoun which was recently wrecked in the Bay of Fundy will probably be declared a total loss. She was insured on a value of $30,000, but the underwriters are only liable for the excess of $10,000 for particular average claims.

Steamer Balford sailed from St. John on Sunday for New Zealand with a general cargo, including 440 automobiles, which is the largest shipment of motor cars on any steamer from any port in the world.

Mr. Frank Richards, wife, daughter and son, of Boston, Mass., were among the passengers by steamer Prince George on Saturday morning and proceeded for Woodville, Digby Co., where they will reside.

Mrs. Florence Millett arrived home on the 3rd inst., to visit her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Powell. Mrs. Powell has been very ill for some weeks.

Mr. John Jackson, merchant, of South Wharf, St. John, is here on business connected with the F. B. Lent & Co. Ltd. He is staying with Mr. E. C. Bowers.

The lobster fishing is almost a failure to a great many of our fishermen. Some few have done fairly well. The end of this fishing as a remunerative one is drawing to a close.

The north east storm of the 2nd inst., was quite violent. Capt. Stuart Hick's vessel, the Colgate, parted her chains and dragged ashore, but was not injured to any great extent.

Mrs. S. T. Payson has gone to St. John to visit her son, Harold Payson, of the Quebec Bank. Mrs. Harold Payson leaves for Quebec to attend her brother's wedding at Easter.

The pastor of the Baptist church, has tendered his resignation to take place on the 12th inst. The family sail for Glasgow in the S. S. Leontine, leaving St. John on the 18th inst. We shall miss him very much. The ladies of the Baptist Aid Society at their monthly meeting read a parting address to Mrs. MacKenzie and presented her with a sum of money. She has been a faithful, energetic Christian lady while in our midst. Miss Georgina Gilliat read the following poem at the close of the address:

God be with you; oh my sister, as you leave our little town,
"Till you come to the harbor, where the St. John flows down,
May you find your quarters pleasant, as you And the captain, and the officers, show due respect to you.

We know we'll miss you, sister, in our mission-ary aid,
For you never were a laggard, and you never seemed dismayed,
Even when others were discouraged, you brave, I strive to win,
And always sweet, persuading, more members to come in.

And we know that those who miss you, who are poor and sick, and weak,
When the message does not reach them, that you for us will do the best,
And we'll miss you, sister, in our gathering here and there,
And especially will miss you at the House of God in prayer.

Against the hosts of Satan, you always were at;
Where the fight it was the hardest, it found you to the fore,
By day and night you labored for the right as all could see,
And you tried to lead us onward, in the march to victory.

May no iceberg from the Arctic, make you reel in the lost,
As the good ship ploughs the ocean, on her journey to the East,
And when you sight the homeland, may you quickly reach the place,
On Scotland's soil, where you will meet your kindred face to face.

And when your knees are bended, in that far off distant land,
May you now and then remember this little mission land,
And pray the Lord of harvest that as the fields are white,
The grain may be garnered, and darkness changed to light.

Now when the warfare's ended, and we lie down to rest,
May none be absent sister, from that City of the blessed,
But may each one bear the laurel, from the voice of God's own Son,
Your faith and works have conquered! An abundant entrance won.

Joe Howe's Father.
Surrounding Halifax as an aura is an atmosphere of the association of days gone by romantic as it is interesting. And the one chief link binding the Garrison City of Here and Now with an illustrious past is the Good, old Halifax "Recorder," still printed "blanket sheet" style and scoring the services of the modern type setting machine, though published daily as a newsy journal. Here is a very fair sample of its musings:

"Quite a land of liberty was old Chebucto, Halifax, but the rowdies could hardly help having a wholesome respect for, at least, one of the magistrates, who was able to exercise his power after the following fashion: One Sunday afternoon when John Howe, Esq., father of the famous Joseph Howe, was wending his way homeward, bible under his arm, his son, Joseph, trotting by his side, he came upon two men fighting out their little differences. The old gentleman sternly commanded them to desist, but very naturally they only paused long enough to answer him with abusive words.

"Hold my Bible, Joe," said his father, and taking them by the head, and swinging them to and fro, as if they were a couple of newspaper boys, he bumped their heads together for a few minutes; then, with a lunge from the left shoulder, followed by another from the right, he sent them staggering off, till brought up by the ground some twenty or thirty feet apart.

"Now lads," calmly remarked the valiant magistrate to the prostrate scamps "let this be a lesson to you not to break the Sabbath in future," and snugly replacing his bible under his arm, he and young Joseph resumed their walk homewards."

The Baby.
The baby was slow about talking and his aunt was deploring that fact. Four year old Elizabeth listened anxiously.

"Oh, mother," she ventured at length, "do you think he'll grow up English? We couldn't any of us understand him if he turned out to be French."

20 Years Ago.
(From the Yarmouth Times files.)
H. L. Jones, M. P. for Digby County, was notified from Ottawa that the plans required before commencing work on the missing link (Digby to Annapolis) were about ready and that operations would be begun in a few weeks.

Forwarded.
"Mr. Grimes," said the rector to the vestryman, "we had better take up the collection before the sermon this morning."

"Indeed!"
"Yes, I'm going to preach on the subject of economy."

Evenness Accounted For
"Mammy," said her mistress, after dinner, "how do you nitch your pies so evenly around the edge?"
Mammy rolled her eyes, proudly. "Ah, uses mah false tef, misces, day wa't mak' em so regular."

Vital Statistics for Nova Scotia.

We have received from Mr. Arthur S. Barnstead, the Deputy Registrar General, a copy of his report for the year ended September 30th, 1913.

12,533 births and 7,225 deaths occurred in Nova Scotia during the fiscal year and 3,259 marriages were solemnized. The birth rate of the Province is 25.2. The births outnumbered the deaths by 5,328.

The number of marriages was greater by 322 than in the previous year. Of the total number 2,555 were performed by license and 704 after the proclamation of banns. Our marriage rate is now 6.5 per 1,000 of population. The returns of marriages by banns were more numerous by 193 than in the previous year.

Of the total number of deaths 3,892 were of males and 3,333 were of females. The death rate of the province is 14.5. 20 per cent of the deaths were of persons under one year and 29 per cent were of persons over 70 years old. 12 persons died over 100 years of age. One man died in Halifax County who had reached his 107th year.

Tuberculosis in its various forms caused the death of 885 persons, 441 males and 444 females. 794 of these died of tuberculosis of the lungs. It is noteworthy that the same number died of this malady in the previous year. Tables and diagrams are given showing the death rates from tuberculosis in the various counties and in our principal towns. Details are also given respecting the deaths from the other principal diseases. 23 tables at the end of the report give full details respecting all the births, marriages and deaths that were reported during the year.

Rod and Gun.
Rod and Gun for April is out with a bill of fare designed primarily for the fisherman. The cover cut, which this month is specially attractive, depicts a fisherman holding up to view a 17 lb. prize salmon trout secured last year in Algonquin Park. Bonny castle Dala contributes the leading article "Halibut Fishing in the North Pacific"; H. Mortimer Batten, a well illustrated article on "Trout Farming"; and other stories and articles follow that describe fishing experiences, etc., in various parts of the Dominion from Atlantic to Pacific. Prof. Edward Prince, Dominion Commissioner of Fisheries and an authority on both fish and game, writes of "The Prong Horned Antelope of the West," which is said to be in danger of extinction unless immediate protective measure are adopted for its preservation. The regular departmental reports are all well maintained.

A Hard Life for Girls.
The average term of service of the 125,000 telephone girls in the United States is only three years. The average number of calls they must respond to is 140 per hour; and each call is not completed by four flashes of light. The continuing flashing frequently results in eye strain, and this in head ache, dullness and exhaustion. Considerate telephone users will bear these in mind and speak gently to the Operators when things go wrong.

Taking Advantage of It.
A sharp boy in Georgetown walked into a grocery shop.

"Please, sir," he said to the proprietor, "mother told me to ask you whether there is such a thing as a sugar trout!"

"Of course, there is," was the answer.

"Well, then, mother wants to be tested for two pounds."

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is little evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Deaths at Ashmore.

MR. GEORGE MANZER AND MRS. CALVARETTA RICE HAVE PASSED AWAY.

At the home of her brother, Mrs. Oliveretta Rice was called to higher service March 15th, 1914, aged 60 years. Through months of suffering she was sustained by her Saviour. In early youth she united with the Weymouth Baptist church. She was twice married, her first husband being Mr. Harvey Brooks, Weymouth, who was drowned at sea in 1890. She leaves to mourn the loss of a kind mother, two daughters, Mrs. J. Parsons, Providence, R. I.; Mrs. Clarence MacCarrick, Malden, Mass., one son Earl, Malden, Mass., who came a few weeks before his mother's death and patiently waited on her. She also leaves two grandchildren, two brothers, Capt. Hiram B. Doty, Dorchester, Mass.; Mr. Gilbert Doty, at whose home she was tenderly cared for, two sisters, Mrs. Albert Tupper, Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. Joseph Webb, Malden, Mass. Her elder son Frank, in 1895 started on what proved to be his last voyage as the vessel was never heard of.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Mr. Bennett and Susan Doty. In 1905 she married Mr. W. H. Rice, of Bear River, who died August, 1910.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. Webb, with interment in the Weymouth Baptist cemetery.

On April 8th, 1914, Mr. George Manzer passed to his eternal reward. He had been in poor health for a few years, and kept falling and at the last was confined to his room about three weeks. He bore his sufferings with Christian fortitude. In early life he made a public profession of faith in Christ as his Saviour and was baptized by the late Rev. J. W. Bancroft (of precious memory) and united with the Weymouth Baptist church. Thirty-four years ago he married Miss Lalah, daughter of the late Mr. Ephraim and Ruth Brooks, who survives him. From this union he leaves two sons, Fred and Lloyd, living in Ashmore, four daughters, Mrs. Muir Bristol, New Hampshire; Rena and Inez at home; Veda with her sister, Mrs. Muir. Three infant children predeceased him, Frank, Clara and Clyde. One brother, Mr. Henry Manzer, Ashmore; one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Brooks, Fort Point, are living. He was a loving husband and father, an obliging neighbor and will be much missed by all who knew him. He was a member of Oarward Division, S. of T., and a large number of its members, followed his remains to his last resting place. He had been post master for a number of years and kept a small grocery store.

The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon which was largely attended, the services were conducted by Rev. J. Webb, pastor of the Weymouth and New Tuxet churches, assisted by Rev. W. Nightingale, Methodist.

We extend to the bereaved ones our deepest sympathy.

Sunday School Convention.

The Annual Convention of the Digby and Bear River District Sunday School Association was held in the 8th Cove Baptist Church on Thursday afternoon and evening, April 2nd. Owing to the very unfavorable conditions of the weather the meetings were not as fully attended as they would otherwise have been, but Rev. Dr. Brown, the Field Secretary, was present, and as usual, delivered very interesting and helpful addresses.

Reports were received from twelve schools in the district. Decided advancement had been made during the year in the Elementary, Adult, Temperance I. B. R. A., and Missionary departments.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, R. C. Bonalle,
Vice, C. W. DeLong,
Secretary, F. J. Austin.

Superintendents of Departments:
Elementary Division: Mrs. Chas. Carty; Secondary Division: Mr. Harvey Weir; Adult Department: Mr. R. D. Russell; Home: Mrs. Wm. Miller; I. B. R. A.: Mrs. Georgie Helms; Missionary: Mrs. H. T. Warne; Sunday School Education: Rev. L. H. Randall; Temperance: Mr. John Nichols.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR.—Doubtless you have often thought "if you have time to think at all," how very suddenly the Sibley fire fund stopped and you, and all those who were kind enough last summer to give to that fund have heard nothing as to what became of the money, so I will tell you, and them, all about it. When the last mite had been sent in, Mr. Mowbray was able to place to the credit of Mrs. Sibley one hundred and eighty-six dollars. About that time an aged woman died, leaving a very nice little property to her brother. A message was sent to me that we might be able to buy this small farm. Upon enquiry I found there were other heirs, another disappointment. Still I did not despair, I had my heart set on buying that farm for the Sibleys and their family of thirteen children, and I felt sure a way would be opened in time. Imagine my joy, when yesterday the aged owner came to me with a deed duly signed by all these good kind people making it possible to complete the sale. Now, Mr. Editor, I ask the favour of you to start the fund in next week's issue to help us raise one hundred and fifty dollars more, to pay the balance on this nice little home for these honest, hard-working people, and I ask the public to be kind enough to give what they can, and as soon as they can, thereby winning the reward of Him who said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of one of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

Again thanking you, dear Sir, Believe me,

Very truly yours,

MARGARET MERKEL.

The Clothing King's Awarded Contract.

A. M. King & Son have again been successful in procuring the contract for making the uniforms for the conductors and brakemen of the D. A. Ry and Midland Division. The work will give employment to a large number of old hands and means a rush for their Tailoring Department during the coming spring season. This is the second season they have been successful in procuring this contract which speaks well for the class of work sent out by this well known firm.

A Miraculous Escape.

Mr. Edgar Denton, of Little River, while putting in a window in his house to give more light in the bath room, fell off the roof and landed on his head on the ground, a fall of more than 10 feet. Mr. Denton weighs over 200 lbs. and his friends will be pleased to learn that he did not even injure his head.

Wedding at Deep Brook.
A quiet but very pretty wedding took place on the morning of April 8th at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bartlett, Deep Brook, when their only daughter, Annie Josephine, was united in marriage to Mr. Thomas Moore, of the Foundation Company, a resident in Bear River. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John L. McFadden, of which the guests enjoyed a beautiful wedding breakfast. The bride was very becomingly dressed in white serge trimmed with white silk and tulle. The gifts were many and beautiful, conspicuous among them being a very choice collection of fine silver, consisting of a flower set and spoon, knives and forks, tea set, soup spoons, two dainty trays and a handsome double carving set from the Foundation Company, which gave ample testimony of the high esteem in which Mr. Moore is held by his friends. A car glass pitcher from Clark Bros., where Mrs. Bartlett was formerly employed, a charming dish from her mother-in-law, silver, cut glass, embroidered linen and other tokens from her neighbors, all testified to the affection and good will felt for the bride by all who knew her. Mr. and Mrs. Moore left for a short wedding trip followed by showers of rice and confetti and the heartiest good wishes of all their friends.

Married in Florida.
At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Raymond, Owanita, Florida, April 2nd, was the scene of a very pretty wedding when their niece, Miss Mildred Ada Chute, was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur N. Charter. Rev. Geo. T. Raymond performed the ceremony. The bride looked very pretty in a handsome gown of white tulle and lace, over white silk, with shadow lace and pearl trimmings. She carried orange blossoms. Mr. and Mrs. Charter left the south with the best wishes of a host of friends via Washington and New York for Boston, where they expect to make their home. Mrs. Charter is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Chute of Bear River, and has been spending the winter with her aunt and uncle in Florida. Mr. Charter is a well known business man of Boston.

This Fence Has Vast Strength

For a fourth less than the price we pay, we could get hard-drawn steel wire. But that kind, though used in most other wire fences, hasn't the life, the springiness, the strength we insist on for Maritime Wire Fence.

So we make this fence of extra-heavy hard drawn steel wire of nine-gauge. Constantly we test it for quality. And so we know this fence has more strength than it probably will ever need.

Yet the price of Maritime Wire Fence is no higher than you must pay for ordinary fence. But the life of the Maritime Fence is far longer—and the fence surely reliable.

On this extra-quality wire we put a smooth, even heavy coat of galvanizing. We put on more than enough—that's our way. You gain by the longer life of this better fence. And we lock laterals and uprights rigidly, yet springily, with a cross-leverage lock that simply CANNOT let go under the hardest strain.

You can bank on the strength of this fence. Make the test for yourself and your neighbors. Then get the agency—it will pay you well. Address: NEW BRUNSWICK WIRE FENCE CO., Ltd., Moncton, N.B.

12 Tumors Removed Without An Operation

Dear Mrs. Currah—I am enjoying better health than I have for eight years, and I think I am entirely cured. I have none of the old symptoms. I am very grateful for my present health, and think orange pills to be the greatest treatment for women the world knows. Its use in my case caused 12 tumors or growths of some sort to be expelled. Some were as large as a hen's egg, and others smaller, down to the size of a walnut. You may use my case in your advertisement, for it is the solid truth, and you cannot describe all the good it has done for me. Mrs. Louise B. Holteville.

This letter gives an indication of the positive benefits that always follow the use of Orange Pills. It is an applied treatment and comes in direct contact with the suffering organs. It produces results from the start in all cases of women's disorders, including painful periods, falling of womb, irregularities, leucorrhoea, etc.

I will send a sample box containing 10 days' treatment absolutely free to any suffering woman who has not yet tried it. If she will send me her address. Enclose 4 stamps and address MRS. FRANCES E. CURRAH, Windsor, Ont.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Courier

DEAR SIR:—I notice in your issue of the 13th inst. Mr. Armstrong takes issue with me in the matter of the cause of the religious declension of the present time. He has evidently read into my letter thoughts not contained therein. I did not say that the war spirit of the present time was the only cause, I said nothing of abolishing war ships or shore defences. Under the present order of things these are necessary. What I did say and still maintain is: that the spirit of war is antagonistic to the spirit of true Christianity. Jesus and his apostles preached a gospel of peace and the inspired book declares that when His Kingdom is established in full "men will learn war no more." The war craze that is sweeping the nations at the present time is a matter of serious import to any thoughtful person, especially as we see it gaining in intensity from year to year. Allow me to quote the sums spent by some of the so-called Christian nations during the year 1912: Great Britain 380 millions, Germany 318 millions, Russia 288 millions, France 200 millions, United States 250 millions, Austria 115 millions, Italy 120 millions, Spain 40 millions, Holland 20 millions, Belgium 11 millions, Canada 12 millions. The above figures are millions of dollars and are within the mark. Many of them should be from a half to three quarters of a million more, and these amounts will be much larger for the present year and that in a time of almost world wide peace. What the end of such enormous taxation upon the peoples of those nations is to be we can only conjecture. It certainly cannot advance the cause of Christianity. If your correspondent has read the history of the most recent wars, such as the civil war in the United States, or the South African war, he could not have failed to notice that the historians when describing the most bloody scenes of the war have frequently used the very words I used, declaring that the victors "covered themselves with glory," and in neither of those conflicts were the British or the northern armies fighting for their "homes or their religion." The statement that the expenditure by Canada for military training is worth four times its cost as a matter of physical exercise is too ludicrous for second thought. In the olden times we teachers had a system of physical exercise in which we drilled our pupils and which cost the country nothing, and I trust I did not charge with egotism if I say that I think the predecessors of the present generation went out to fight the battles of life quite as well equipped, both physically and mentally, as will the present boys and girls notwithstanding that military training and athletic sports claim so large a portion of their time and attention. A bad feature connected with military training is the amount of idleness they entail. Such armies are only employed a small part of the time. "Idleness is the mother of vice," and the word soldier has long been a synonym with idleness. The Bible does not sanction idleness. "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread," was the decree of the Creator at the first, and the new dispensation teachers that we should be "diligent in business." No provision is made for drones or parasites in the human hive, and every thing opposed to the laws of God is in opposition to the principles of Christianity.

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER
Digby, April 24, 1914

Death of Nelson F. Douglas.

Mr. Nelson F. Douglas, of Calcedonia, Queens Co., died suddenly at midnight on Wednesday, after a few days of acute suffering. He returned home from Veymouth on Thursday night previous, attending a meeting of the Douglas Lumber Co., and visited on Friday his mill at Calcedonia. On Saturday morning he got up about the usual time and did some work about the house. Shortly afterward he complained of feeling sick and lay down on a couch remaining there during the forenoon. About 1 o'clock he was seized with a violent pain in his chest. Dr. McLeod was hastily summoned and remained with him during the afternoon. As his condition did not improve, Dr. Cole, of New Germany, was called in consultation. Both doctors worked over him for hours without much signs of improvement. Sunday morning it was decided to call Dr. Hogan, of Halifax, who arrived about 6 o'clock in a special train. About three hours previous, however, a decided improvement had been noticed, and Dr. Hogan found it unnecessary to perform an operation, and returned to Halifax about 7 o'clock. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday Mr. Douglas continued to improve, until early Wednesday evening he became greatly distressed. About 12 o'clock he experienced a severe pain in his chest, and was immediately summoned. Following this he was taken with pain in right arm and side, immediate collapse followed, death resulting in a few minutes. He was 61 years of age and leaves a widow, two sons, three daughters, his aged mother, two brothers and five sisters. The funeral took place on Sunday.

"What Happened to Mary?"

"The Escape from Bondage" being the first story of "What Happened to Mary" was shown at the Bijou Dream last Tuesday evening and was enjoyed by a large audience. Manager Cripps has from time to time made unsuccessful efforts to secure these pictures but could only get the promise of them. On his recent trip to St. John he made arrangements to have the use of them at once and a "What Happened to Mary" picture will be shown every Tuesday until the entire series have been shown. The first picture of this series was shown in Digby some time back, but the management wishing to begin right decided to use it again and in order to do so put on two extra reels with no raise in price of admission. The show on Thursdays will be well balanced and Saturday's show will always be a big feature of the week. Mr. Gillespie, the new pianist, hails from St. John and his music for the pictures will be greatly appreciated by music lovers. This Saturday's feature will be a Selig animal picture, "Wamba, a child of the Jungle" in two reels. Pathe's Weekly and three other reels will complete the bill.

Perry's Return Engagement.

The people of Digby are pleased to learn that manager Cripps, of the Bijou Dream theatre, has secured a return engagement of Perry's Peerless Players. This company will present the great rural comedy drama, "When the Harvest Days Are Over," in Digby Wednesday evening, April 22nd. Seats are now on sale at Holdsworth's drug store and at the house and will be crowded. We would advise all who intend to be present to secure their seats in advance. Dan Malloy and other members of the company, all of whom are popular with Digby's theatre goers, will introduce new specialties between the acts.

I. O. O. F. at Tiverton.

Rainbow Lodge, No. 113, held their annual turkey supper on Monday evening, April 13th. A large number were present and a good time was enjoyed by all. Following the supper, which was well served by the Oddfellows, a nice program was rendered by some young girls, after which a number of excellent speeches were given by members of I. O. O. F. lodges. An I. O. O. F. sermon will be preached in the Baptist Church there on Sunday, 20th, by Rev. F. Eaton, a member of the Order.

Death of a Summer Tourist.

Word has reached here of the death of Mrs. Spring Vincent, sister-in-law of Bishop Vincent, of South Ohio. Mrs. Vincent died at her home in Cincinnati. She had spent her summers in Digby for the past eighteen or twenty years, and had always been a guest at Lour Lodge. Her death will be keenly regretted by a large circle of friends. She took a deep interest in church work and was of great assistance to Holy Trinity church, Digby, during the summer months.

Service at the Alma House.

Rev. Father Thebault, of Plympton, held service at the Alma House, Sunday evening, which was very largely attended. The Rev. Father was assisted by Mr. A. F. Hache, of Meteghan. Holy Communion was celebrated at nine o'clock the following morning. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Marshall, the keeper and matron of the Institution, in their usual genial manner, made things very pleasant and convenient for all who attended the services.

Mexican Affairs.

The American flag is now flying over Vera Cruz, which cost the Americans the death of six men and thirty wounded. It is estimated that the Mexican loss was several hundred. The latest despatches state, that the Mexicans may unite to fight Americans.

Entertainment at Bear River.

A comedy play in three acts entitled "Ferguson of Troy," will be presented in Oakeside Hall, Bear River, on Wednesday evening, May 6th. The play will be given by local talent, and they will be assisted by Miss Annie L. Clarke, soloist, and the Hillside Orchestra.

More Presentations.

Tuesday's Yarmouth Times says: The presentation of the plate donated by the owners of the S. S. Obequid and the sum of gold donated by the Town Council and board of trade to the two Capt. MacKinnon will be presented to them on Monday evening, April 27th, at the Y. M. C. A. hall.

J. W. Comeau, M. P. P., and H. H. Marshall, M. P. P., returned to Halifax Monday.

Mr. George Lutz, who was the guest of his grandparents at Digby, has returned to Acadia University.

Mr. E. M. Robertson, manager of the Nova Scotia Fish Company, was a passenger from St. John Monday.

Mr. Harry Raymond, who is a night watchman on a dredge in St. John, was a passenger to Digby Wednesday.

Mr. Reginald St. Clair Rogers, of Moncton, spent the Easter holidays with his father, Mr. Michael Rogers, Digby.

Mrs. O. F. Oakes and Miss Annie Oakes passed through Digby Monday, from Yarmouth for Boston, via St. John.

Miss Ida Dakin and Miss Eroll Banks, of Centerville, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Woodworth, Mt. Pleasant.

Mr. William Holdsworth, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Holdsworth, Digby, returned to Lynn Tuesday.

Among the passengers from St. John yesterday were: George W. Gilliat, of Digby; Benedict VanTassel and son Martin, of Mt. Pleasant.

Messrs. M. O. Denton and M. A. Condon were passengers to Comeau's Cove, Wednesday on business in connection with the new breaker at that port.

Capt. Cardiff, master of the S. S. St. George, was in Digby Tuesday. We understand the George is coming on the St. John Digby route about May 25th.

Councillor Ansel Casey, of Port Wade, was a passenger to Bridgetown Monday to attend the semi-annual meeting of the Municipal Council, of Annapolis County.

Mr. Vernon Jones, of Bear River, who met with a serious accident at Seal Island in January, has resumed his duties as engineer, on S. S. Mouton, Clark's Harbor.

Yarmouth Times: Mrs. J. J. Wallis and little daughter Florence, who spent the Easter holidays in Yarmouth, the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Elderkin, returned home on Friday.

Miss Lillian Winchester, of Victoria Bridge, was a passenger to Halifax Saturday, and went through an operation on Monday. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Edward Winchester.

Messrs. R. Cosaboom and Chester Warner, who have been attending the St. John Business College, have returned to their homes in Smith's Cove, having successfully passed their examinations.

Among the passengers from St. John Tuesday were Dr. and Mrs. V. D. Schaffner, Capt. F. A. Robinson, Roy Robertson and Frank Hayden, of Digby, and L. H. Outhouse, of Bridgetown.

Mr. W. A. Chute, of Bear River, returned home yesterday from Centerville, where he successfully raised the wrecked schooner Theodore Roosevelt, and also moved a barn for Mr. Watson Holmes, of that village.

Capt. John W. Snow, of Port Wade, who recently purchased the schr. Oliver Killam, and Capt. Fred Prime, of Digby, are in Yarmouth superintending the fitting out of that vessel, which is receiving new rigging, etc.

Mr. J. B. McCormack, of St. John, representative of the S. F. Howser & Company's oil and gasoline storage systems, was in Digby this week. Monday evening he visited Yarmouth, his native town, for the first time in eleven years.

Miss Estella Jones, teacher in the graded school of Centerville, Digby county, spent the Easter vacation at her home in Clementsport. Miss Robbins, also of the same place, spent Easter at Clementsport with her aunt, Mrs. Melbourne Purdy.

We have received the following wedding announcement: Mr. Fred M. Manning, Mrs. Dora A. Davis, married on Thursday, the sixteenth of April, nineteen hundred and fourteen, Providence, Rhode Island. At home after May the first, 112 Daboll St.

Professor and Mrs. Adams, who spent the winter in Digby have returned to St. John. Professor Adams was leader of the Bijou Dream theatre orchestra, had a large musical class of pupils around town, gave excellent satisfaction and his departure is very much regretted.

Mattapoint Courier: Mrs. A. D. DeLong, who was thrown from the wagon in front of Abbe & Griffin's store about two weeks ago, breaking her ribs and badly scratching her face, is getting along well, and is also doing finely from the trouble from which she has suffered so long.

Last week, on the sixth of April, our genial friend, B. B. Hardwick, of Annapolis, completed his forty second year on the road in the service of the well known Pyle's Pearline Company. During this long term Mr. Hardwick has travelled a distance equal to nearly thirty-seven times around the globe. The Canadian Gleaner of recent date contains a fine write-up of Mr. Hardwick's wanderings and an excellent cut of him, showing the smile that won't come off.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Eaton, who have so efficiently managed Eaton's Hotel for the past thirteen years, during which time they have become very popular with the travelling public, and made many friends in Digby, leave next week for Halifax, where they have assumed the management of Hillside Hall, Hillcrest and Alexandria apartments. We wish them every success in their new field of labor. Their son Roy, will spend the summer with his grandmother, Mrs. M. J. Romkey, Crescent Beach, Lunenburg County.

Arrivals at D. Sproule & Co.'s this week: 1784 lbs. of mixed fish from boatmen.

Schr. Onward, Capt. Johnson, is anchored off Port Wade with piling for Boston.

Simr. Pastores, Capt. H. A. Henshaw, arrived at New York from Kingston, April 14th.

Schr. Dorothy M. Smart, Captain William Snow, is in the Raccoquet receiving her summer rig.

The schooner Lotus passed out Saturday loaded with piling from Clementsport for Boston.

Schr. Ravola, Capt. Lewis, is loading piling at Port Wade, for Boston, shipped by J. F. Morrison.

Schr. Flora M., which arrived Monday from Boston, proceeded to Port Wade to load piling for Boston.

Schr. Oliver Killam, at Yarmouth, is being made ready for sea. She will sail for Digby in about two weeks.

Joseph E. Snow's shipments this week: 193 boxes of fanned haddies, 28 boxes of fillets and 80 drums of dried fish.

Fishing schooner Wilfred L. Snow, Capt. James Stocumb, sailed Sunday, having taken in her ice and supplies.

Tern schooner Alvina Theriault, from Yarmouth for St. John, is anchored off Digby, arriving here Wednesday night.

The steamer John L. Cann will be granted a renewal of the subsidy for the Yarmouth St. John service for another year.

Tern schr. Alvina Theriault has been on the marine railway, Yarmouth, having her bottom painted. She was put aloft Tuesday morning.

The steamer Percy Cann sailed from Yarmouth for Weymouth to get a number of trap rocks for the Chegoquin and Port Maitland traps.

The tern schooner F. O. Lockhart, Captain King, sailed from St. John on Saturday for Weymouth and later in the day put back for shelter.

Mr. David Sproule has shipped his motor boat, Tourist, to Long Point, Inverness Co., Cape Breton, where she will be used in the lobster fishery.

The Norwegian steamer Frances and the schooner John E. Coyle, are due at Weymouth, the former to load pulp for New York and the latter to load lumber for Havana.

The schooner Rolfe and Lottie W., which rode out Friday's storm at Brier Island, sailed Saturday, the former for St. John with brick, and the latter bound up the bay in ballast.

Schr. Maple Leaf, Capt. Baird, arrived here Wednesday afternoon and was docked at Turnbull's wharf yesterday morning by tug Moto. She has a cargo of soft coal from Parrabro for W. E. VanBlarcom.

Capt. Manning Trask's schr. Harry L., arrived at Little River last night from Meteghan, where the owner had installed a 24 H. P. Lathrop gasoline motor, having sold the vessel's former motor to Mr. S. D. Munroe, of Digby. The latter will be installed in a pleasure boat to be used in the tourist business.

The wrecked schooner Theodore Roosevelt, at Centerville, has been raised sufficiently to receive a new keel and other necessary repairs. The raising of the vessel was in charge of Mr. W. A. Chute, of Bear River. The repairs will be made by Mr. Deveau, of Meteghan, who has with him a number of excellent workmen.

The following vessels have reported at the Digby Customs house since April 17th: Inward—April 20th, schr. W. M. Richard, Richard, Vinal Haven; 23rd, schr. Maple Leaf, Baird, Parrabro; Outward—21st, schr. Myrtle L. Longmire, fishing. In for harbor—21st, schr. Hattie McKay, Card, Annapolis for St. George, N. B.

The schooner Hattie McKay, Captain Card, with a cargo of 40,000 brick, from Annapolis for St. George, put into this port Monday for a harbor and in hauling into a berth that night for a supply of fresh water, fouled the wharf, carrying away part of the forward rigging. The Hattie McKay carried a cargo of coal from Parrabro, her home port to Annapolis. She went to sea again Wednesday.

Schr. Dorothy G. Snow, Capt. Ansel Snow, which left here Wednesday for St. John for bait, was in collision with the American schr. Anthony in that harbor during Wednesday night's squall, both vessels having their head gear carried away. Full particulars were not available up to the time of going to press. Her owner, Capt. Joseph Snow, was a passenger to St. John, via S. S. Yarmouth yesterday afternoon.

The St. John schooner Oriole is ashore and full of water near Mt. Desert. It is feared she is badly damaged. The Oriole sailed from Weymouth, N. S., last Wednesday for Boston. The Oriole has had considerable trouble this month. She sailed from St. John about April 6th for Weymouth and on April 8th she went ashore near the government breakwater at Tiverton. It was thought at that time that she would prove a total loss but she was floated and repaired only to again meet with a mishap on Thursday night.

Captain Richard, of the tern schooner W. M. Richard, which arrived Monday from Vinal Haven, where she discharged 18,000 bushels of salt from Turk's Island, reports experiencing heavy weather in the bay for several days after leaving Vinal Haven and during which period she made Digby light three times before succumbing in getting in through Digby Out. Her first run up the bay was on Wednesday the 15th, and the heavy blow on that day sent her all the way back to the Lighthouse at the mouth of the bay. The Richard loads lumber here and at Bear River for the West Indies, the cargo being supplied by the Bloomfield Lumber company and Clarke brothers.

DIGBY COURIER NEWS

Supplement to the DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

DIGBY, FRIDAY, APRIL 24, 1914

Port Wade.

Mr. Adams, of the life boat Daring, made a short call in this village Saturday.

Mrs. James W. Snow and Mrs. Albert Hudson are reported on the sick list.

Miss Minnie Snow spent the Easter holidays at home with her parents, Capt. and Mrs. J. W. Snow.

Mr. James W. Snow will go to Boston this week to inspect the unloading of piling from schooner Rewa.

Messrs Will and George Kinghorn have purchased a fine power fishing boat and will use it in the bay this season.

Mr. H. Ramsay, of Perotte, with his friend, Miss Rice, spent Easter at the home of the former's brother, Mr. Fred Rainey.

Mr. Ralph Hayden went to Kentville Saturday to visit his wife, who is spending a few months at the Provincial Sanatorium.

On Tuesday of last week a 10c tea was held at Mrs. Ansel Casey's, by the helping hand of the Baptist church. A goodly sum was realized and a pleasant evening spent.

Capt. J. D. Apt, the past few days, has been making the air on the shore resonant with the ring of ox bells, working a dry dredge. Cap doesn't seem to be one of the chosen, when he is doing his own dredging; but with the assistance of F. R. Parker and his brindles, he is doing a fine job.

Capt. and Mrs. George S. Johnson were very agreeably surprised on Saturday evening, Apr. 4th, when a large party of neighbors and relatives visited their home, the occasion being the birthday of Mrs. Johnson. The evening was happily spent in music, games, refreshments, ice cream, etc. The gift of the evening was a fine silver butter dish.

Messrs J. W. Snow and Ansel Casey, with Herbert Johnson assisting, brought into port the fishing schooner Grace Darling on Thursday morning, 9th. The vessel is American, and will be renamed, remeasured, registered and fitted with new dories and all modern conveniences. She is an 8 dory vessel, and Capt. Casey will be in command.

Weymouth North.

Mr. Jack McEwen spent the Easter holidays here.

Mrs. H. L. Jones left on Tuesday for a few weeks' trip to Halifax.

Mr. Norris Rand spent a week recently at his former home, Canard.

Mr. Colin Campbell spent Easter with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Campbell returned last week after quite a lengthy visit in New York.

The American schooner Orleans finished loading and was towed to sea on Tuesday by S. S. Westport.

Mr. Tibert, who attended the Teachers' Institute here last week was the guest of Capt. and Mrs. Fitzgerald.

Mrs. Tibert, who has been ill at her daughter's, Mrs. Fitzgerald, is better and expects to return in a few days to her home in Little River.

Coun. and Mrs. Vroom and Miss Vroom attended the funeral of Mrs. Kemp, whose death took place at the V. G. Hospital, Halifax, on the eighth and brought here for burial.

Mr. George Oakes has returned from the U. S. and is putting the finishing touches to the bungalow on the knoll, preparatory for Miss Oakes, who expects to arrive about May first.

Litchfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ellis visited friends here last week.

Mr. Edward Wilson has purchased a new horse.

Miss Mary Hamilton returned home on Sunday where she had been visiting friends in Litchfield.

A number of our young people attended an Easter concert at Hillsburn.

Miss Helen McCaull spent Saturday and Sunday with friends and relatives in Hillsburn.

Rev. Mr. Cornwall, of Lower Granville, preached in the Litchfield church Sunday, 12th.

The fishermen from the two fishing vessels Albert J. Lutz and Dorothy G. Snow are home for the summer.

Mr. Ewart McCaul has returned home from Amherst, where he has been spending the past few months.

Our school teacher, Mr. Ronald Doughty, went home on Friday to spend Easter with his parents in Paradise.

Miss Ada L. Roop, who has been spending the past week with her sister, Mrs. M. G. Brown, returned home Saturday.

As the old saying is there was great joy in the camp when on Saturday, April 7th, a little girl baby arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sproule.

Good Friday was nicely celebrated playing ball in the afternoon, and in the evening the young people met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wilson and spent a very enjoyable evening in games and gramophone music.

The angel of death visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Turner and took from their embrace the little girl baby Helena May, aged three months and a half. Funeral service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Davis on the sixth of April. Our sympathy goes out for the young parents.

Westport.

Mrs. Ethel Davis left on the 13th, via Weymouth, for her annual spring visit to Yarmouth.

The S. S. Westport brought a goodly supply of fresh gaspereaux on the 11th inst. for our fishermen.

NEW YORK LETTER.

Delightful Weather Was Greatly Enjoyed During the Easter Holidays.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR:—Perhaps you will find space for a few notes from this city that might have a passing interest to some of your many readers. The Easter holidays were made more than usually interesting because of exceptionally fine weather. Clear skies and a moderate temperature enabled shoppers to meet all their wants and Easter Sunday furnished an excellent opportunity for the display of the many creations in dress and millinery. Every place was crowded and many of the costumes certainly striking.

It is estimated that on Good Friday about twenty thousand Canadians came into the city from points near Toronto and Montreal and indeed the other provinces contributed a liberal share. The Premier of Canada came on Thursday, probably to get a rest as well as a change of scene, and it is certain that New York is equal to the task of supplying both.

Considerable excitement was created at the time, owing to the date of execution of the desperadoes, who shot Rosenthal, having been fixed by the Court of Appeals for Easter Monday. Three of the four were Jews and the Jewish Rabbi made a most pathetic appeal to Governor Glynn to delay the execution until after Passover, claiming that evidence would be secured that would render a new trial imperative. The Governor was further besieged by their relatives, all of whom urged executive interference. To all, the Governor denied a reprieve, claiming that the evidence made it clear to his mind that the men were guilty. He told them that he was greatly moved by their appeal, and if he yielded to the impulses of his heart rather than to his duty to the State, he would readily grant their request.

An appeal was then made to Judge Goff, who had presided at their trial to grant a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence. District Attorney Whitman opposed the application and after spending all Saturday of enormous listening to the arguments the Judge refused to accede to the application and the last hope for the unfortunate young men vanished. Early Monday morning the four were put to death in the electric chair at Sing Sing. With the exception of one all had to be assisted to the chair, having completely broken down under the strain. A form of confession was made by one of them who said he would not reveal all he knew for fear of the vengeance of the survivors of the gang being wreaked upon his family. Becker, the police official, who was convicted as the leader in the conspiracy that culminated in the death of the gambler and sentenced to death was granted a new trial by the Court of Appeals. He is now in the Tombs and the District Attorney has moved in Court to have his second trial fixed for May 5. Public opinion against Becker has apparently been intensified by the execution of the assassins. People say that these ignorant young men from the criminal classes of the East side, most fertile ground for the development of the worst type of toughs, are less guilty than the man who worked up the plot and turned them for one thousand dollars to do the deed. Hence they claim that justice will never be fully met until Becker suffers a similar penalty and appearances indicate at present that his chances of escape from the electric chair are very slim. It is certain that Dist. Atty. Whitman will leave no stone unturned in order to secure his conviction. Mayor Mitchell's police bills were turned down by the Legislature at Albany, probably at the instance of interested politicians in this city, and the result is that New York loses its chance of securing the services of Col. Goethals, now Governor of the Panama Canal Zone, as Police Commissioner. With a man like him at the head of the police force, with full authority to control, the occupation of the gunmen would soon cease to exist.

The insolent attitude of President Huerta, of Mexico, has brought things to a crisis and President Wilson has ordered 11 battleships and 7000 men to the Gulf of Mexico. The haughty Mexican obeys the command of the U. S. Government, things will become warlike in Mexico very soon. This course of the President is very popular and affects the clamor raised against him that he is surrendering to Britain in the matter of the Panama Canal tolls.

The Steamship Vandal of the Hapag American Line, is due here on her first trip May 21st. She is 5800 tons, 950 feet long and 100 feet wide, the largest ship afloat. A few days after, the S. S. Aquatania, of the Cunard Line, a little smaller than the Vandal, is due on her maiden voyage. A large expenditure of money is being made to deepen channels, clear out obstructions and enlarge docks to accommodate the great ships coming to this port. The British, another monster of the White Star Line, is being fitted out in England and will arrive later.

Col. DeLesseps and his wife, who is a daughter of Sir William McKewen, of the firm McKewen & Mann, the Canadian Railway men, sailed from here on the S. S. Columbus of the United Fruit Line, last Saturday for Colon to view the Panama Canal. His father was in charge of the construction of the great canal when the French Gov't had it in charge.

Miss Eleanor Wilson has been here purchasing her wedding outfit in view of her approaching marriage to George W. W. Adams, who made himself famous whilst in charge of the construction of the Hudson tunnel. He is a man of great ability, a widower about 53 years old. Miss Wilson is the President's youngest daughter and is about 21. The wedding is expected to take place early in May.

The public gardens and lawns indicate plainly that spring has arrived. Tulips and hyacinths are growing and the lawns are covered with green grass. Business is reported to be good and the big stores report the largest Easter trade for many years.

But I must not trespass further upon your space. As with best wishes, Very sincerely,

P.

SWP

SWP means Sherwin-Williams Paint (Prepared). This is the best paint for you to use because it is made of pure materials—pure lead, pure zinc, pure Linseed Oil, and pure coloring pigments which are thoroughly mixed and ground in scientific proportions by powerful machinery.

It is better than the old fashioned hand-mixed paint because the materials are put together according to correct chemical formulae which have been tested out in a practical way. Its fine grinding makes it cover nearly 50% more surface than hand-mixed paint.

SWP is an economical paint because it will cover the greatest amount of surface, wear longest, and look best.—Ask us for color cards.

Foolish To Suffer

From Stomach Ills

What's the use of suffering from heartburn and the other disagreeable things caused by Dyspepsia and Indigestion, when we offer you the privilege of using B-Kall Dyspepsia Tablets, entirely at our risk, with the distinct understanding that, if they don't relieve your stomach trouble and make you stomach comfortable and your digestion easy, they will cost you nothing. If they don't do all you expect them to, tell us and let us give back your money. We know what they have done for others, and what they are made of. That is why we have confidence in them.

Among other things, they contain Pepsin and Bismuth, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medical science. They soothe and comfort the stomach, relieve heartburn and distress, promote the secretion of gastric juice and help make the bowels regular. We believe them to be "by all odds" the best remedy for indigestion or dyspepsia ever made. We believe you will say so, too, once you have used them. If you don't, they will cost you nothing. Sold only at the more than 7,000 B-Kall Stores, and in this town only at our store. Three sizes, 25c, 50c, and $1.00. P. W. Holdsworth.

"ORANGE LILY SAVED MY LIFE"

These words or expressions having the same meaning are contained in hundreds of letters I have received during the past year. Many were from women who had suffered agonies from falling of womb; others from women who had escaped dangerous surgical operations, as the tumors and uterus had been removed by the action of Orange Lily and others who had suffered from suppressed menstruation, leucorrhoea, painful periods, etc. For all these and the other troubles known in general as Women's Disorders, Orange Lily furnishes a positive scientific, never-failing cure. It is applied direct to the suffering organs, and its operation is certain and beneficial. Antimo O. Doucette, petitioner, and Camille M. Comeau and William S. Melanson, respondents.

Petition under "The Municipal Controversies Act," Chapter 72, Revised Statutes to set aside as null and void, the election of the respondent, Camille M. Comeau, as Municipal Councillor for District No. 10, Municipality of Olare, and claiming the seat for petitioner.

The Poll was taken on November 4th, 1914, and Comeau declared elected by the casting vote of the presiding officer, William S. Melanson, the other respondent herein.

The grounds of the petition are that the presiding officer unlawfully voted at the election by depositing a ballot in the ballot box and upon it being found that there was an equality of votes, 82 for each candidate, gave an oral casting vote in favor of Comeau and declared him elected.

The petition does not allege any fraud or corrupt practices on the part of any person, and the evidence would not sustain any such allegation, the election was conducted fairly and it was admitted on both sides, that there was nothing wrong apart from the depositing of the ballot by the presiding officer, and his subsequent vote with respect to it.

That the deposit of the ballot by him was an irregularity cannot be denied. There is no contradiction as to what occurred, the witnesses on both sides, including the petitioner and respondents, the poll clerk, and the representatives of both candidates with the exception of a very few trifling discrepancies agree as to the facts.

The respondent, Melanson, who has acted as presiding officer at Dominion, Provincial and Municipal elections for many years, inadvertently, as he says, and without thinking of the rule that the presiding officers in municipal elections can only vote in case of a tie, cast a ballot for the respondent Comeau. He stated to the poll clerk and others present that he was going to vote and no objection was made. Almost immediately after he had voted he realized that he had made a mistake and said to the poll clerk and others that he had blundered in depositing the ballot, as he could not vote except in case of a tie, and that he would have to rectify his mistake at the close of the poll.

During the day he stated to both of the candidates that he had made a mistake and would have to correct it when the poll closed. At the close of the poll, when the poll clerk, the presiding officer, the two candidates and their representatives were present, he stated that he was going to take out of the ballot box a ballot for the candidate for whom he had voted, and make it a spoiled ballot, which would not be counted, so that the ballots in the box would remain the same as if he had not voted. The candidates assented to his doing so, and no one present offered any objection. He says he thought it was all right to adopt that course.

He took out a ballot for Comeau, spoiled it by marking an X in the lower space opposite Doucette's name and placed it on the table and proceeded to count the ballots remaining in the box.

The poll clerk, and the two candidates tallied the votes as the ballots were taken out by the presiding officer and the tallies agreed, the result being a tie, 82 ballots for Comeau and 82 for Doucette. No dissent or objection being then expressed or made by any person present.

The presiding officer after the count, made up the usual return, and locked up in the ballot box all the ballots and other papers connected with the election, including the poll book and subsequently delivered the box locked and sealed to the Municipal Clerk.

I have no hesitation in finding upon the evidence that the irregularity committed by the presiding officer arose from inadvertence and mistake, without any fraudulent intent or corrupt motive either on his part, or on the part of any of the persons who were present and assenting to it.

This is not such an irregularity or error of the presiding officer as would render the election void, unless it affected the result of the election or created such an uncertainty that the correct result could not be ascertained.

In Woodward vs. Sarsons (a leading case) 10 C. P. 733, it was held that the admitted error of the presiding officer which did not affect the result did not render the election void either at Common Law or under the Ballot Act.

A number of cases to the same effect might be referred to but it is not necessary.

The inquiry now has to be whether the irregularity affected the result of the election or caused an uncertainty as to who was elected.

The Presiding Officer Melanson and the Poll Clerk James Stuart, who was a witness, both state, that according to the poll book the number of ballots deposited, including the ballot cast by the presiding officer whose name is recorded on the poll book as having voted number 12 was 104. That the counting of the ballots resulted in finding in the box 82 properly marked ballots for Comeau and 82 properly marked ballots for Doucette. I think that, which was rejected, and 1 ballot with X in the upper right hand corner above the top line, which was also rejected, making 2 rejected ballots, that the ballot cast by the presiding officer and previously taken out of the box and spoiled, was not counted, and there were 2 other spoiled ballots, accounted for in their evidence and not put in the ballot box nor counted making as shown by the evidence and the return, 3 spoiled ballots.

It will be seen at once that there is a discrepancy of one ballot here, 104 ballots counted, 2 rejected and 1 remained from the ballot box, total 107.

The return in the poll book is as follows:

Number of votes for Camille Comeau,	82
" " " " Antimo Doucette,	82
Majority for Camille Comeau, with the spoiled ballots,	1
" " " " rejected,	3
" " " " spoiled ballots,	101
" " " " spoiled ballots,	104
" " " " spoiled ballots,	107
" " " " spoiled ballots,	110
" " " " spoiled ballots,	113
" " " " spoiled ballots,	116
" " " " spoiled ballots,	119
" " " " spoiled ballots,	122
" " " " spoiled ballots,	125
" " " " spoiled ballots,	128
" " " " spoiled ballots,	131
" " " " spoiled ballots,	134
" " " " spoiled ballots,	137
" " " " spoiled ballots,	140
" " " " spoiled ballots,	143
" " " " spoiled ballots,	146
" " " " spoiled ballots,	149
" " " " spoiled ballots,	152
" " " " spoiled ballots,	155
" " " " spoiled ballots,	158
" " " " spoiled ballots,	161
" " " " spoiled ballots,	164
" " " " spoiled ballots,	167
" " " " spoiled ballots,	170
" " " " spoiled ballots,	173
" " " " spoiled ballots,	176
" " " " spoiled ballots,	179
" " " " spoiled ballots,	182
" " " " spoiled ballots,	185
" " " " spoiled ballots,	188
" " " " spoiled ballots,	191
" " " " spoiled ballots,	194
" " " " spoiled ballots,	197
" " " " spoiled ballots,	200

The same discrepancy of one ballot shows in this return, which is incorrect. 2 rejected ballots, 104 properly marked ballots and 151 unused ballot papers make 320 ballots received from the Municipal Clerk, not 319. Then it will be noticed by this return the number of unused ballot papers returned to the Clerk is 160, whereas the number unused is 151, an apparent loss of 1 ballot not explained in the evidence nor by the return. The presiding officer not only blundered in depositing the ballot, but he has blundered in making his return. He has got muddled over the lost or missing ballot and in trying to make his return agree with his count, he has still further mixed up matters.

It would have been a much better and simpler plan for him to have left his own ballot in the box and counted it with the others and at the close of the count to have subtracted one from the total number of votes for Comeau.

I have with the aid of W. B. Stewart, the Clerk of this Court, examined all the documents and counted all the ballot papers as returned to the Municipal Clerk, and which were all put in evidence by petitioner, and after accurate count, verified by the Clerk of the Court, I find that the whole number of ballots returned and now locked up in the ballot box in the custody of the Clerk of the Court, is 320, made up as follows:

Properly marked ballots for Comeau,	82
" " " " Doucette,	82
Rejected ballots,	2
Spoiled ballots, including the ballot deposited by the presiding officer,	3
Blank or unused ballots,	151
All the ballots are thus accounted for, and total 320.

From the foregoing statement, which is accurate, it is certain that the properly marked ballots, the rejected ballots, and the spoiled ballots are all in the box and they agree in every respect with the evidence given by the presiding officer and poll clerk. It follows, therefore, that the missing ballot is among the 320 returned and it is obvious that the result depends upon that ballot.

Was it a blank or a spoiled ballot, a properly or improperly marked ballot, or if marked for which of the two candidates, and can the question be answered with certainty, from the evidence oral and documentary which we have.

I think the question can be determined. I have already shown that the missing ballot (so called) must be among the 320, but can go further than that. The properly marked, the rejected and the spoiled ballots having been all satisfactorily accounted for and all the ballots received by the presiding officer having been returned by him, it is obvious that this ballot must be one of the 151 unused ballots, and therefore a blank, the incorrect return 150 instead of 151 and the working out of the 320 ballots in the foregoing statement prove this conclusively. I am convinced that it was a blank ballot and I so find.

It is unnecessary and useless to speculate as to how the discrepancy of one vote occurred, different explanations might be offered, but they would only be conjecture. The presiding officer got badly mixed up and made a mistake. Neither he nor the poll clerk can explain how it was made, neither can I do more without further evidence than I have, than form an impression as to how it occurred.

I am convinced that this ballot was a blank, and no matter how it was used or what became of it during the counting at the close of the poll, the result cannot thereby be affected.

There was a tie and the presiding officer properly used his casting vote to elect the respondent Comeau.

I think that this result could have been reached by a simple recount under the provisions of chapter 70 Revised Statutes without all the trouble and expense to the Municipality and the parties of an election petition especially where all the facts were known to both parties and there was no fraudulent or corrupt practices. Said Camille M. Comeau was duly elected and returned.

The petition is dismissed with costs to the respondent Comeau to be taxed, such costs when taxed not to exceed one half the maximum amount ($100.00) allowed under said chapter 72.

The respondent Melanson is not entitled to any costs. He has caused the whole trouble by his blunders.

Teachers' Reception at Weymouth

HOW THEY WERE ENTERTAINED THE FIRST EVENING IN OUR HISTORIC TOWN.

(Special to the Courier.)

The reception given to the visiting teachers at the Simsbury hall by the people of the town was opened brilliantly by the local orchestra. Afterwards Mr. J. A. Grierson, Secretary to Trustees for Weymouth School Section No. 18, District of Digby, in a few well placed remarks showed the great progress of education in our town, and introduced the very prominent speakers of the evening, Inspector Morse in a masterly speech pointed out the great advantage of education, and his good words will be remembered by all. Then we were given excellent music and songs by local talent and by the school children. It was very pleasing to see how well the school children behaved on the stage. Their recitations were very good and the music was above praise. The grand band given by the whole force of citizens and the singing of "My Old Canadian Home" was rendered beautifully, and the charms of our children were particularly brought out in their fancy dresses representing the different nations. Let us hope that they will always shine with an ever increasing lustre.

Miss Gwendolyn McCormack treated the audience to very choice songs and the freshness of her voice did not belie her youthful figure. Among those more meritorious in the school children were: Miss Freese, the Misses Oliver, Miss Bartlett and Miss McDonald. And last but not least dainty little Allison Killam. Master Fletcher Bartlett was the star of the evening and Masters John and Victor McNell, together with Master Andrew Comeau and Phillip Brun, were very good.

But we had a great disappointment and that was that not a single one of the one hundred and twenty five fair lady teachers present was on the stage. Now was it through some fault of management or through some error, I do not know, but I do know that

COAL mining rights of the Dominion, in the Maritime Provinces and in the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the land applied for shall be described by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchandise produced by the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with a statement of the full quantity of merchandise coal mined and sold, and the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such statement should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights, but the land may be permitted to be purchased under available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the District in which the rights are situated.

W. W. COLE,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

WOMAN SUFFERED TEN YEARS

From Female Ills—Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bellefonte, N.S., Canada.—"I doctored for ten years for female troubles and did not get well. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. I wrote now to tell you that I am cured. You can publish my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. SUZANNE BABINE, Bellefonte, Nova Scotia, Canada.

Another Woman Recovers. Auburn, N.Y.—"I suffered from nervousness for ten years, and had such organic pains that sometimes I would lie in bed four days at a time, could not eat or sleep and did not want anyone to talk to me or bother me at all. Sometimes I would suffer for seven hours at a time. Different doctors did the best they could for me until four months ago I began giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and now I am in good health."—Mrs. WILLIAM H. GILL, No. 15 Pleasant Street, Auburn, New York.

The above are only two of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which show clearly what great things Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound does for those who suffer from female ill.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

The Yarmouth Line.
INCREASED NUMBER OF STATEROOMS ON THE "PRINCE OF GEORGE" AND "PRINCE ARTHUR."

Extensive preparations are being made by the Boston & Yarmouth S. S. Co., Ltd., to handle satisfactorily the large volume of summer tourist travel. The number of staterooms on the "Princed George" has been increased from 40 to 120, and the new rooms are all on the main and upper decks. All are outside rooms, comfortable and airy. This steamship is already in commission; and the same improvements are now being made on the "Princed Arthur" at Bath, Maine.

The present four-trip per week service is proving of great benefit to shippers by enabling them to reach the Boston market four days in the week, and the travelling public find the additional trips very convenient to travel to and from Boston.

The Yarmouth Line can certainly be commended for the unexcelled service now provided for its patrons.

A Busy Place.
A COURIER representative, who visited Mr. Evan E. Dunn's lost shop Wednesday evening, found it a busy place. In the yard were two new boats about ready for shipment, one for Mr. Gough Campbell, Collieries, and one for Mr. David Sprague, Digby. Inside the boat shop is one under construction, which Mr. Dunn says he is building for himself. He is receiving orders every day for new work and will evidently be a busy man for some time to come.

The Legislature of New Jersey has passed a bill providing for the construction of a bridge across the Hudson River and two more tunnels underneath it. With all the subway surface cars, elevated trains, ferries and bridges now in use, the requirements of traffic are not fully met, hence new subways, construction and the systems to result from this legislation.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

This, little, colorless and odorless hair in mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge. There is nothing so destructive to the hair's lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, May 1, 1914

—This is the season of the year for work on the country roads and not in the middle of the summer as has too often been the custom in the past. We are pleased to state that in some districts the work has already been completed before planting time among the farmers, but in others it has been sadly neglected.

Our attention has been particularly called to that portion of the Light-house Road between Mount Beaman and Point Prim. This piece of road is said to be in a terrible state and three bridges are about gone. This is used a lot more than some country highways, and should be attended to at once. We would suggest that the Council for that district look into this matter immediately and do everything in his power to have the Municipality or local government grant a sufficient sum to at least protect the public from driving accidents, which will sure to occur in that vicinity in the near future if repairs are not made at once.

Rural Telephone Lines.

We wish to call particular attention to an article in today's Courier copied from the New Glasgow Evening Times entitled "Many New Rural Telephone Lines." There are still a number of places in Digby county without telephone connection, such as North and South Range, Doucville, Marshalltown, via old Bay Road, and a few others, but the main lines cover the county quite thoroughly. The Rural Telephone Act makes it possible for farmers to construct lines of their own, form companies with their neighbors and get a connection with the main lines at very little expense. We would advise some of our leading farmers or anyone who is interested, to write Mr. J. W. Garon, contact superintendent with the Maritime Telephone and Telegraph Co., 90 Hollis Street, Halifax. There are a few rural telephone lines now under construction in Annapolis county, but there is room for many more. In asking for information, kindly mention this item in the Courier.

Another Good Entertainment.

FERRY'S PEERLESS PLAYERS IN "WHEN THE HARVEST DAYS ARE OVER."

G. Herbert Perry with Dan Malloy, Hazel Corinne and his excellent company played "When the Harvest Days are Over" to a good house in the Bijou Theatre Wednesday evening. The acting was good and the specialties very much enjoyed by all present. This is the second time that this piece has been presented to a Digby audience and of course was not as much appreciated by our theatre patrons as a new piece, but it was put on even better this time than before and brought forth a lot of applause. The visits of Perry's Peerless Players are looked forward to with considerable interest and he and his company are always greeted with a good house in Digby as in all the towns in which they appear. The COURIER wishes them continued success.

Death of Harold Blackford.

The death of Harold Blackford, nineteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Blackford, Tiverton, Digby county, took place at the General Hospital, St. John, on Tuesday. He had been accidentally shot in the foot some months ago and had been taken to the hospital for treatment of the blood poisoning that had supervened. The deceased was an only son and the bereaved parents have a large circle of friends who are extending sympathy. The body was taken to Tiverton by the John L. Gath on Wednesday. The funeral, which was largely attended, took place from his home in Tiverton yesterday, with interment in the village. The COURIER extends its deepest sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Death of Mrs. Auster Dares.

Mrs. Doriada, wife of Austen Dares, of Roway, Digby County, died at the home of her son, Clayton L. Gilliland, 200 Chatham St., Lynn, Wednesday morning, April 22d, aged 61 years, after a short illness of pneumonia. The deceased is survived by a husband and eight children: Mrs. Theodosia Potter, Lynn; Mrs. Lena Stoltman, San Francisco; Mrs. Laura Perry, Los Angeles; Mrs. Annie Whitman, Kittery, Maine; James Burton Gilliland and Alfred Gilliland, Washington, D. C.; Clayton L. Gilliland, Lynn; and Charles Theobald, Roway. The body arrived here Saturday and was conveyed to Roway by undertaker Rice, where interment took place the same afternoon.

Died at 10:30 P. M.

A confident connected with the death of D. F. Keith that escaped the obituary notices of the famous vaudeville manager was the time of his death. When the magnificent Keith theatres in Boston and Philadelphia were erected, Mr. Keith issued a stringent order that the final curtain for the day must be rung down at 10:30 p. m. to the second. He said in his instructions that he did not mean 10:20 or 10:31, but 10:30. For years in these houses that was the instant when the last curtain descended. Mr. Keith dropped dead at Palm Beach March 20th, at 10:30 p. m.

Death of Another Summer Tennis.

Word has reached here of the death of Mrs. John B. Lord, which occurred at her home in New York last Friday, April 24th. She is survived by a husband and one son. Mr. and Mrs. Lord have spent the summer in Nova Scotia for more than twenty years, the last time being at Harbor View, Smith's Cove. Mrs. Lord had been in poor health for several years and had borne her entire illness with great patience. She was highly respected wherever she was known, and her death has cast a gloom over a large circle of friends.

OFFICERS AND MEMBERS OF ST. GEORGE LODGE ATTEND DIVINE WORSHIP.

More than seventy members of St. George Lodge, together with a number of visiting brethren from other I. O. O. F. lodges, attended divine service in Grace Methodist church, Digby, last Sunday evening and listened with much interest to an eloquent and a very appropriate sermon preached by Rev. Leander Daniel.

REV. LEANDER DANIEL
Pastor of Grace Methodist Church

the regular pastor of the church, who is also a member of the order.

The Methodist choir is noted for its excellent music, but a special programme had been arranged for Sunday night and additional violin music was furnished by Mr. Fritz Dakin, of Holy Trinity choir.

The other instrumental and vocal music and the quartette by regular members of the Methodist choir were nicely rendered and greatly appreciated by the congregation.

The church was beautifully trimmed with potted plants and cut flowers, three links, the popular emblem of the order, being formed with Mayflowers.

The entire edifice was crowded to the doors, its seating capacity being taxed to its utmost to accommodate the large congregation.

The parade on the street was in charge of Maj. M. C. Dutton, Past Grand of St. George Lodge.

The ferry boat Port Wade, in charge of Capt. Edw. Keane, who is also a member of St. George Lodge, brought a large number of the three link brethren and their friends from across the harbor.

Next Sunday evening the officers and members of Friendship Lodge, I. O. O. F., attend worship in the Bear River Methodist church and if the weather is favorable, quite a number will be present from Digby.

The South End Lawn Tennis & Quilt Club.

The annual meeting of the South End Lawn Tennis & Quilt Club was held at the residence of the Secretary Monday evening, when a number of important matters were discussed. The report of the Secretary, showing the finances of the Club to be in a flourishing condition. A committee was appointed to get particulars of the cost of erecting a Pavilion on the Club grounds and report at an adjourned meeting to be held on June 1st. A large number of applications for membership were read, but as the Secretary's books showed the membership to be up to its limit, it was decided to make a change in the by-laws making the final date for payment of subscriptions June 1st and those whose subscriptions remain unpaid on that date will in future cease to become members.

The officers were elected as follows: Dr. W. F. Road, President; J. F. McArthur, Vice-President; E. H. Snowball, Secretary-Treasurer; Executive Committee—The above officers with Mrs. H. E. Jones and Mrs. V. D. Shaffer. Ten Committees—Mrs. H. Green, Mrs. E. McVernon, Mrs. C. E. Webster, Mrs. W. F. Road, Mrs. J. W. Nichols, Mrs. J. F. McArthur. Committees to arrange for building a Pavilion—Dr. W. F. Road, Dr. Shaffer, E. H. Snowball and F. W. Nichols. P. W. McArthur and Roy Whynacht were appointed auditors.

A Successful Affair.

The tea held in Trinity Parish hall, Wednesday evening, by the girls' branch of the Woman's Auxiliary was a very successful affair and netted to their funds the sum of fifteen dollars and twenty-five cents, thus enabling them to pay their pledges to the Diocesan Branch in full.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Potter, of Middleton, arrived here Wednesday from the Canadian west via St. John. Besides visiting their sons in Medicine Hat where we understand Mr. Potter has purchased some real estate, they visited Calgary and many other places of interest. Mr. Potter says they had a delightful trip. He also visited many Masonic and Oddfellows' lodges in the west and a number of old Nova Scotia friends, many of whom had "made good" in their new places of abode.

Medicine Hat Times, April 3: Mrs. Doty was a bridge hostess yesterday afternoon, six tables being at play. Mrs. Doty received her guests wearing a pretty cream striped voile gown with touches of rose. Miss Doty wore a handsome blue gown with trimmings of lace. The lucky prize winners were Mrs. McNeely and Mrs. Crawford, the former winning a cut glass vase. Mrs. Doty's sister, Mrs. Brown, assisted and had on a pretty pale pink gown with chiffon trimmings. This beautiful home was decorated with many bouquets of daffodils.

We Can't Run Without Money.—We regret we are compelled so frequently to call attention to our delinquent subscribers and ask them to remit what they owe. But it appears that if we did not do this at least two or three times a year, our income would certainly be a small one. We cannot understand why people will read a paper every week which has not been paid for. They must realize that no concern can run without money. Let us hear from this class of subscribers next week. We would also appreciate a prompt remittance from advertising and job printing accounts.

SHIPPING AND FISHING

O. G. S. Curlew, Capt. Milne, was in port this week.

Pad. out Saturday, schr. Onward, Port Wade for Boston.

Although the schooner Pesquid went out of Digby a couple of days ahead of the schooner Genevieve, the former was behind one day in arriving at Boston. The Pesquid loaded piling at Bear River and the Genevieve had a similar cargo from Annapolis.

Schr. Snow Maiden, (formerly the Haine Bros.) Capt. O. M. Hickes, which arrived here Sunday, loaded a cargo of fish in the Racquette and sailed yesterday for Vinal Haven, Maine. Her cargo was purchased by Mr. A. E. Oakeshott, Tiverton, agent for the Lano Libbey Fisheries Co.

Some anxiety for the safety of the Nova Scotia tern schooner Eddie Theriault, Capt. Sabourin, is entertained in Halifax, as she is now 34 days out from Barbados and twenty-four days overdue. The Eddie Theriault sailed from Barbados on March 27th, with a cargo of molasses, and is owned by F. K. Warren. She is a vessel of 168 tons net and was built at Belliveau's Cove in 1904.

American lobster smacks have started the season's operations on this coast. Several have been in at Yarmouth and cleared for the fishing centers down the shore. Among them were two regular platters to Digby yesterday, the Marion McLean, Capt. Allyn, and the Eve M. Martin, Capt. Martin, the former from Rockland and the latter from Southwest Harbor. Soon as the lobster fishing season closes on the Yarmouth boundary, they will come Digby way and continue on up the bay as the season's fish with in each district. Digby firms are making quite extensive preparations for fishing lobsters at Eatonville and other places at the head of the Bay of Fundy. The close season thereabouts always bring the wind up of the yearly operations in the bay.

Our Home Women Have Beautiful Hair

Next time you go to the theater or to the "movies" just notice, if you please, how many of our home ladies have beautiful hair—glossy, lustrous, and well dressed. Then, if you will pick up five or ten of those whose hair seems to be particularly pretty and will ask them what they use on it, we feel sure that at least more than half of them will say "Harmony Hair Beautifier."

It is fast becoming the rage with both men and women who are particular about the appearance of their hair.

Sprinkle a little Harmony Hair Beautifier on your hair each time before brushing it. Contains no oil, will not change color of hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick, thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, 81 00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold only at the more than 7,000 R. X. L. Stores, and in this town only by us. P. W. Holdsworth, Digby.

THE WORLD'S WORK DEPENDS ON THE WORLD'S DIGESTION

From the captain of industry to the hod carrier—from milady in the auto to the woman with the scrubbing brush—the accomplishments of every one of us depend absolutely on the accomplishments of our stomachs. Backed by a good digestion, a man can give the best that is in him. When his stomach fails, he becomes a weakling.

To this loss of power no one need submit. Right habits of eating, drinking, sleeping and exercise, aided by Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, will restore and maintain the full efficiency of the human mind and body.

Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets contain the active principles needed for the digestion of every kind of food. They go to the assistance of the weakened stomach, and enable the sufferer, right from the start, to assimilate and get the benefit of the food eaten. With this assistance, the digestive organs regain their tone, and soon the use of the tablets is no longer necessary.

If your stomach is not working properly, try Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, 50c, at your druggist's. National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Montreal.

IF YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED

Look Mother! If tongue is coated, cleanse little bowels with "California Syrup of Figs."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children need not be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

Mrs. J. D. Spurr spent a week with her sister, Mrs. Longley, at Paradise, N. B.

Miss Minnie McClelland, of Boston, is visiting her sister, Miss Emma McClelland.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Paino, of Dublin's Corner, N. B., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Vroom.

The death of Mrs. Jane McClelland, aged 82, widow of the late David McClelland, occurred here on Friday evening, the 19th inst., after a short illness. The deceased leaves a sister, six sons and five daughters, to mourn their loss.

The funeral, which took place Sunday afternoon, was largely attended, the members of the Dorcas society attending in a body. The remains were conveyed to Annapolis for interment by Mr. Dargie, undertaker.

We extend our sympathy to the bereaved ones in the loss of a kind and loving sister and mother.

Lower Granville

The schooner Onward sailed from Littlewood's wharf on Saturday with a load of piling for Boston.

A very valuable ox owned by Mr. John Robble, had the misfortune to break his shoulder recently.

Mrs. John K. Winchester returned home from Lowell, Mass., where she has been spending the winter with her daughter.

Rev. Stephen Cornwall took the services in the Baptist church on Sunday for the last time. Rev. Mac Williams will be his successor and take charge in May.

Tenders are out for the government pier at Lower Granville. Prospects are growing very bright over what has been asked for in previous years and proved to be worthy of notice.

Mrs. Joseph Croscup returned from Lynn, Mass., on Saturday, where she was called about four weeks ago on account of the serious illness of her little granddaughter, Doris Cunningham. We are glad to report there are strong hopes of her recovery.

Plympton Station.

Master Bonnie McLeod, who had his hand cut very bad, is well again.

Mrs. William Height and daughter, Mrs. William McLeod, visited Mrs. George Amoro, of Plympton, this week.

Miss Bertha Amoro, of Plympton, is very ill and is being attended by Dr. Harris, of Barton. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Amoro.

Mr. Ralph Height was home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Height, for a few days getting ready to build a new barn. He has returned to Riverdale to attend work.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. George C. Amoro, April 13th, a daughter.

Hillsboro.

Mrs. Lillian Frost and two children spent the week end with friends at Delap's Cove.

Mr. Henry Longmire spent Sunday with his daughter, Mrs. Samuel Milbury, at Delap's Cove.

The young people met at the home of Mrs. Fred Longmire on Sunday evening, and a sing was enjoyed.

Mr. Wallace Longmire is having his house repaired. Mr. Sandy Ritchey, of Granville Ferry, is the mason.

A Valuable Agency.

Messrs. Dakin Bros., Digby, have again secured the local agency for the celebrated Brandram-Henderson "English" Paints, and house owners and others requiring supplies for spring painting should call and place their order at once.

"B-B" English White and this are guaranteed made on a base composed of 30% Pure Zinc and 70% Brandram's B. B. Genuine White Lead, the finest White Lead the world has ever known.

As our readers are probably aware, "Brandram" has been the standard white lead in England for over a century and a half and it is universally recognized today that all paints made with Brandram's Lead as a base are dependable both as to beauty and lasting qualities.

Your Last Chance for Farm Help

The secretary of Industries and Immigration advises us that a number of thoroughly experienced farm labourers will arrive with their families in a few weeks. These men will ask $25 a month with free house, etc. In the party will be some single men who will want work at from $18 to $25 a month and found. Any farmer who is not fixed up for the season with help should send in at once to Mr. Arthur S. Barnstead, Secretary of Industries and Immigration, Halifax, for an application form. Both experienced help will be available. The highest wages possible should be offered if these men are to be kept from going West to fill higher paid jobs.

An Enthusiastic Oddfellow.

A recent issue of the Chelsea, Mass. Record devoted a half column space to Sammaritan Encampment, I. O. O. F. In referring to an address given by Dr. Newton L. Briggs, District Deputy Grand Patriarch, the Record quotes from his remarks as follows:

"I am proud to be the deputy of Sammaritan Encampment for he had learned from the Grand Scribe that the Chelsea encampment of the jurisdiction of Geo. A. Coleman as chief patriarch for the year of 1913, there were added to the roll of membership 35 members."

(The Mr. Coleman above referred to has a residence at Brighton, Digby county, where Mrs. Coleman and family at present reside.)

Another Addition to the W. N. S. Y. O.

The Yarmouth Times says:—Mr. and Mrs. Oakes arrived from Boston on Wednesday and proceeded to Weymouth North where they will spend the summer.

Fred A. Weston, one of Massachusetts' best boat builders, came with them and will build a most up to date power launch for Mr. Oakes. The boat when completed will be upwards of sixty feet long and will be equipped for pleasure cruises.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR,—I should like to be put in correspondence with any of your readers who have cottages or small farm houses to rent in country districts. A number of thoroughly experienced farm labourers with families are coming out to this Province within a few weeks. These men will require to be housed apart from their employers. The farmers, who have not done so, will find it to their advantage to have separate cottages for their help. They are more likely to secure a permanent type of labor and hence more satisfactory service. I would ask correspondents kindly to state amount of rental asked. All letters will receive prompt attention.

Yours truly,

ARTHUR S. BARNSTAD
Secretary of Industries & Immigration.

Death of Charles W. Smith.

[From the Allentown, Penn., Leader.]

Hundreds of youths and young men are today mourning the death of Chas. W. Smith, physical director of the Allentown Young Men's Christian Association, who passed away at 5 o'clock this morning at his home at 233 South Madison Street, after an illness of two years with a lingering fever.

Mr. Smith was 40 years old. During the past year he had not been on duty. Mr. Smith was born in Lynn, Mass., and was a graduate of the Harvard School of Physical Directors. He served in turn as physical director of the associations at Lynn, Holyoke, Brattleboro, New Bedford and West Philadelphia, and in 1911 became the physical director of Lehigh University. When the Allentown Association erected its $200,000 building, Mr. Smith was secured 11 years ago for this city.

He did a great amount of work and was a wonderful factor for good. He became the center of the sporting spirit among the young men of Allentown. He was the father of the city team. Ball League and introduced basketball and the Marathon races into Allentown. He was a specialist in gymnastics and track work, and established the annual track event at Muhlenberg College.

He stood only for clean, moral sport, and thousands of young men under his instruction were instilled with a love not only for athletics, but also for Christianity. Captain Elbridge, secretary of the Allentown Y. M. C. A., declared Mr. Smith was the cleanest type of physical director he ever knew. He never drank or smoked, and the doctors, marveling over his vitality, said that if he had done either he would have died ten months ago.

During his successful career at Allentown Mr. Smith sent at least a dozen young men into physical directorships.

Mr. Smith was a son of Mrs. Ellen and the late George W. Smith. He married Bertha May Wagner, a native of Nova Scotia, who survives with six children—Miss Ethel Smith, stenographer for District Attorney Lawrence H. Rupp; Mrs. Laura Deere, Miss Leah Smith, Leah Smith and Walter Smith. His mother and one brother, T. Clifton Smith, lived with him.

Mr. Smith was a trustee of the Linden Street M. E. Church and taught a Sunday School class there, and while in Bethlehem was assistant superintendent of the Fritz Memorial M. E. Sunday School.

Out of respect to the memory of Mr. Smith, the flag on the Y. M. C. A. is at half mast.

[Mrs. Smith is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wagner, of Riverdale, Digby Co., N. S., who sympathize with their daughter in this sad hour of bereavement.]

Death of Mrs. Thurber.

[From the Glace Bay Gazette.]

The death of Mrs. R. E. Thurber occurred at Dominion at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rennie.

Some two years ago Mrs. Thurber contracted a heavy cold, finally developing into tuberculosis, which caused her death after being laid ill for the past eight weeks. She was 27 years of age, and is survived by her husband, three children, the youngest of whom is eight months old, her parents, eight sisters and two brothers.

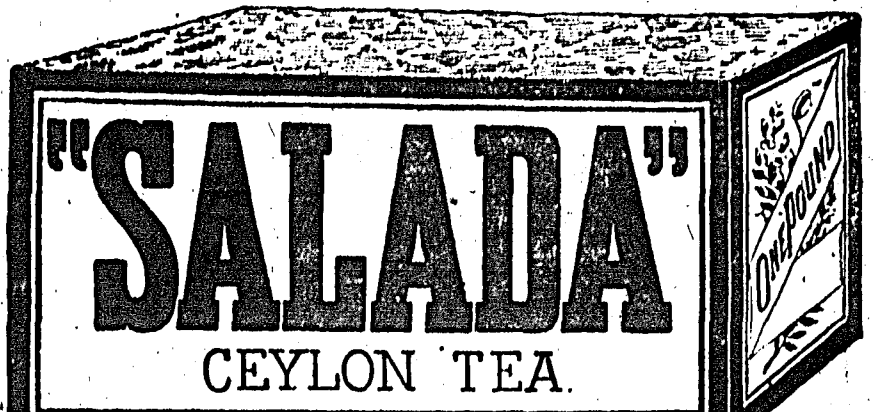

The sisters are Mrs. L. A. Phillips and Miss Isabel, in Prince Albert, Alta.; Mrs. Lou Martell, Boston, Mrs. J. W. McMillan, Glace Bay, Mrs. D. A. McQuibb and Mrs. Hugh McIntyre, Dominion; Mrs. Hugh McDonald, Bridgeport, and Misses Bessie and Margaret at home. The brothers are John in Vancouver, and William in Edmonton.

The late Mrs. Thurber was widely known in the colliery districts and Sydney and was much beloved and respected by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. Before and after her marriage she was prominent in musical circles, and was a valued member of Chalmers church choir and the Victoria Relief lodge of Dominion. Her services at musical entertainments were, before her illness, much in demand and she generously responded to every request upon her time. Kind and generous, and of a sterling character, she made and held friendship wherever she went, and there are many who will regret that she has been called to the great beyond just in the prime of her young womanhood. The family and husband will have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in this, the first bereavement in a family of eleven.

The funeral services were held in Chalmers' Presbyterian church, Dominion, of which she was a member, and were conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. A. McGlashen. The funeral was very largely attended and the floral tributes were numerous. Among the wreaths received were one from the Robekah Lodge, one from the teaching staff of Sydney Academy, of which Mrs. Thurber was at one time a member, members of the family, Supt. of mines, J. D. Maxwell, and Mrs. Maxwell; Mrs. J. J. Lowe, Sydney, and others.

[Mr. R. E. Thurber is a native of Pictou, Digby county, and is receiving the sympathy of a large number of relatives and friends in his sad bereavement.]

The Apple Maggot.

The attention of all fruit growers is called to the Apple Maggot, a pest of the apple that has caused considerable trouble to the fruit growers of Canada and the Northwest States.

Mr. Woodworth, editor of the Devonshire Register, states that this insect has been present in Nova Scotia for at least ten years. It was reported last summer by Mr. George Sanders and its distribution was subsequently investigated by one of the provincial inspectors working under the direction of Dr. Robert Matheson. It has been found to be quite widely distributed in parts of Digby and Yarmouth counties and further investigation may reveal the fact that it is present in other sections. For this reason, it seems desirable at the present time, that all orchardists be acquainted with the appearance and work of this pest.

The parent insect is a small two-winged fly with four black bands crossing each wing. They appear in July and lay their eggs in the young fruit. The eggs hatch into small white maggots that bore in all directions through the pulp, frequently completely honey-combing the fruit. The walls of the tunnels are eaten and the maggots continue their work from the tree, whereupon they bore their way out and enter the ground, remaining there until the following July. This insect should not be confused with the Codling Moth which does not bore through and through the apple, but usually feeds in and around the core and then bores a single large round hole to the cheek of the apple.

Early fruits and sweet varieties are most susceptible to attack, but nearly all the sweet or subacid varieties of winter fruit may be infested. Orchards where a good system of spraying and cultivation is practiced are rarely attacked. When once established in an orchard, however, there is often difficulty in eradicating it. The following remedies are suggested:

The regular Codling Moth spray with arsenate of lead, applied just after the blossoms fall is believed to be of advantage in controlling this pest. All drop fruit, especially the varieties above mentioned, should be picked and destroyed, either by fire or by feeding to stock, but not buried. This should be done once every week with early varieties and once every two weeks with winter varieties. This method, if properly carried out, should eventually eradicate the pest, but it is well to keep in mind that those who take proper care of their orchards have little to fear from it. Nevertheless, experience has shown that, under certain conditions, it may become a serious pest. The Entomological Department will make a careful survey to determine the distribution of the apple maggot and will be glad to learn of any new outbreaks.

Bravery Recognized.

THE CAPTAIN'S MCKINNON PRESENTED WITH PIECES OF PLATE FOR GOOD WORK AT TIME OF CORQUET WRECK.

YARMOUTH, N. S., April 27.—Mayor Fuller, of this town, officiated at a very pleasing function tonight when, on behalf of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, of England, he presented Captain Adolphe Leslie MacKinnon, of the steamer John L. Cann, and Captain John Edgar MacKinnon, of the steamer Westport III, each with a splendid piece of plate, suitably inscribed. Both pieces are alike except for the names of the recipient and of the ship he commands. It will be remembered that these are the two captains, who, at great risk of their lives, rescued the passengers and crew of the R. M. S. P. steamer "Cobquid" when that vessel came to grief on Trinity Ledges on January 13, last.

The inscription on the plate reads as follows:
To Captain John Edgar MacKinnon, from
The Chairman and Directors of
The Royal Mail Steam Packet Company in grateful remembrance of the services rendered by the Westport III, 14th and 16th January, 1914.
The other differs only in the name of captain and vessel.
The plate was accompanied by letters to each of the captains. Each was also presented with $50 in gold from the town council of Yarmouth.

The Weight Eleven Pounds

OTTAWA, April 27.—The post office department has issued public notice calling attention to the fact that all parcel post restrictions with regard to the weight of parcels up to eleven pounds. Instead of a six pounds, as originally provided, has been increased. The department announced some weeks ago that weight limit had been raised to eleven pounds, but apparently the public is not yet fully aware of this change and the postal authorities now desire to emphasize it. The additional fee of five cents which was at first charged on parcels mailed for local delivery in places where the letter carrier delivery is in operation, has also been abolished and this additional fee is now charged.

Freight Wrecked on the Midland

TRURO, April 26.—A wreck occurred this morning on the Midland division of the Dominion Atlantic Railway. A special freight in charge of Conductor MacKenzie had got to a point one mile east of Clifton when five cars went off. Wrecking cars and engines were sent out, and the crews succeeded in clearing the track and replacing the damaged rails and roadbed at five o'clock this evening. There was not much damage done to the cars or contents.

Death at Weymouth North.

The death of Mr. Wm Jones occurred on Sunday 10 h. At one time Mr. Jones was an active and influential citizen of Weymouth, but for a number of years has been an invalid, being confined to his bed the greater part of nine years, which he so patiently bore. He is survived by a wife, formerly Miss Ruggles, of Annapolis, who has been a loving and devoted nurse during his long illness. Mr. St. Clair Jones and Mr. Norman Jones, are brothers of the deceased.

CORRESPONDENCE.

A Very Much Needed Protection.

To the Editor of the Courier:

Sir,—Very often we hear people say, "What would become of Meteghan if a fire were to start up during a high wind? What a havoc it would cause among all those wooden buildings so close together, and what calamities we would have to deplore, with nothing efficient to fight a fire." But that is as far as the matter has been carried. We are lamenting over what would be the fate of the village, in the midst of a conflagration, but so far no steps have been taken for our protection. If fire were to start in the centre of the village, where the buildings are so close together, it would be nothing short of a miracle, if a single one would remain intact. What we greatly need, in the first place is an efficient hose and reel with a hook and ladder Co., similar to the one at South End, Yarmouth. But to have that we must be up and doing. We must discuss the affair, call a public meeting, appoint a committee with suitable officers, put out subscription lists, and call around for subscriptions. When we will know the amount subscribed, as well as the amount we will surely receive from outside friends, we will then know what we will be able to do. But let us be in earnest, set to work at once, and we will be surprised at the result. Let us not wait till it is too late and have great losses to deplore. Already we are fully aware of what can be done on the co-operative plan, for we have a paying industry started amongst us, that basis, which has given magnificent results. United together, we can accomplish great things. Let us then unite our actions, and take immediate steps to assure the protection of the properties and buildings of our fair village of METEGHAN.

Meteghan, April 23th, 1914.

50,000 Rifles Landed in North Ireland.

NEARLY FOUR MILLION ROUNDS OF AMMUNITION FOR DIFFERENT POINTS IN ULSTER.

LONDON, April 27.—The feeling mentioned in a despatch of Friday last that a secret importation of arms into Ulster might be coincident with the sudden mobilization of volunteers at Belfast that day, was well founded.

In the early hours of Saturday morning over fifty thousand rifles, with three and a half million rounds of ammunition were landed at Larne, Bangor and Donaghadee from the steamer Mount Joy.

From Belfast to Larne harbor, a distance of thirty miles, the coast was patrolled by strong bodies of Carson's pickets, while the streets around Larne were lined with officers and men standing about expectantly. At that time the town was cut off from contact with the outer world by telephone and telegraph, while any attempt at egress, except to those giving the pass word, was prevented by the pickets.

When the steamer Mount Joy, whose maiden name Kenny, had been covered over, moored at the Larne docks, large gangs of volunteers rushed through the closely guarded dock gates to help the crew unload. With much greater celerity than professional stevedores, these volunteers seized the checked packages, dumping them into waiting motor cars.

While the Mount Joy was discharging her cargo a second vessel came alongside, followed by a third, both of which received cargo from the first and then sailed away apparently to distribute arms elsewhere.

The authorities were absolutely ignored throughout the proceedings, though in any case they were too hopelessly outnumbered to offer any resistance, and they were also unable to appeal for outside assistance owing to the interrupted communication.

The attitude of the citizens was reflected in brightly burning lamps in all windows throughout the night. That the government has become alarmed was shown by an emergency cabinet meeting being called Saturday afternoon, after which the prime minister returned to his country residence for the week end.

Princess Mary is Seventeen

LONDON, April 25.—Princess Mary, the only daughter of King George and Queen Mary, celebrated her seventeenth birthday today. Many presents were received at Buckingham Palace from the members of the British Royal family and from relatives on the Continent. In token of the anniversary flags were displayed on all the Government buildings today and at noon the customary salutes were fired in St. James Park and at Windsor.

Pirates Fired A British Steamer.

HONG KONG, April 27.—Pirates last week attacked the British steamer Jason, bound up the West River, north of Macao, and set fire to the vessel, which was burned to the water. Incoming steamers rescued 163 of the crew, but it is reported that 180 passengers and the British chief engineer are missing. The steamer Jason was of 4,800 tons register.

Why We Guarantee This Stomach Remedy

If there are one hundred people in this town who suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia, or any other form of stomach complaint, we believe we can suggest a remedy that will relieve at least ninety-eight of them, and perhaps every one of the hundred. We'll do more than suggest the remedy—we'll promise to give back the money to each and every one of the hundred that are not relieved. That's how much faith we have in Rezall Dyspepsia Tablets. Containing Pepsin and Blumuth, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medical science, as well as other necessary ingredients, Rezall Dyspepsia Tablets soothe the inflamed stomach lining, aid the secretion of gastric juice, check distress and heartburn, promote regular bowel action and make it possible for you to eat what you like without fear of consequences.

A BETTER REMEDY THAN NASTY SALTS

Few people like to take physic, especially salts, because they are so disagreeable to take and because of the griping and pains they cause. Rexall's Osmolite enables you to take less physic, and all without griping, purging or excessive looseness. Salts and harsh physics usually give only temporary relief and often leave the bowels worse off than before.

Rexall's Osmolite moves the bowels promptly and soothes the tone and strengthens the intestinal muscles, leaving them healthy and regular in action. They taste like candy, and the movement they cause is as easy and natural as though your bowels were in perfect health and you never had to take any physic at all. We have so much faith in Rexall's Osmolite that we urge you to try them with the understanding that, if they do not satisfy you in every way, all you have to do is get your money back to tell us. We honestly believe them to be the best bowel remedy made. In vest pocket tin boxes; 10c, 25c, 50c.

10 CENT "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Cure Sick Headache, Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath—Candy Cathartic.

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches, how miserable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish bowels—you always get relief with Cascarets. They immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet and head clear for months. They work while you sleep.

Many New Rural Telephone Lines.

MEN ARE AT WORK ALL OVER COUNTY PLACING POLES PREPARATORY TO ERECTION.

(From the New Glasgow Evening Times.)

Ever since the days when the fiery cross was litched back and forth across the heather clad hills of old Scotland, so long has man of every nation and clime been striving to invent or discover some newer and quicker means of communication between their fellows when at a considerable distance.

The researches in this matter have in many instances met with signal success. Morse with his ingenious code made telegraphy possible as a medium of communication between men, and for years it was the standard means of communication as it is today, but without any rival that could be termed modern and up-to-date.

Finally, great minds bent their energies in this direction feeling convinced that there was something that it was possible to discover or invent, some other means of transmitting sounds at a distance, which would be equally satisfactory, of course, using electric current as what might be termed, motive power.

Then came the telephone and it was found that it had a purpose to fulfill, where telegraphy did not fit so well, later and more recent years that great magician, and master mind of Muncie invented the wireless, which also proved that it had a work to do and a very important one at that, and today we have all around us, underneath our feet, and over our heads, multitudes of mediums of communication with our fellow men.

In all this time, and with all the improvement that has come it was found by reason of experience that rural telephone lines were of great value to the farmer in a great many ways and therefore the Nova Scotia farmers, and in fact, the Canadian farmers in general, organized rural routes, and today we have the farmer, figuratively speaking, so far as communication is concerned, standing outside of the departmental store window viewing the goods whilst in reality he may be at home toasting his toes by his own fire side.

Possibly in no other year in our existence has Pictou county seen so many rural telephone lines established within her bounds. During the winter season just passed the farmers in the out lying districts got busy, congregated together and formed telephone companies or federations, known as rural mutual telephone lines.

In driving through the length and breadth of Pictou county today we find that along every road that leads to a settlement of any importance, of traverses a fertile stretch of country, men are at work erecting poles and stretching wires.

One of the newest of these lines is the Lovett Rural Telephone company. This line will run through Lovett and other adjacent settlements and finally connect up at Salt Springs. It is about fifteen miles in length and will handle from twenty five to thirty stations. The men are at present placing the poles in position and as soon as this is completed the wires will be strung.

Another and perhaps newer concern has started up in the Caledonia district. This firm will take in all the country adjacent to Caledonia and will connect up with the East River Rural Mutual Telephone Company at Bridgeville. This line when completed will be about thirty miles long and will have about fifty stations. Preparations are now being made to erect the line.

So convenient and in fact so necessary did the inhabitants of West River find their rural mutual line that they are putting an extension of no less than ten miles on their line. The extension when completed will take in Mount Thom, West River, and will run through to Salt Springs. When these lines, now in the course of erection, are completed, Pictou county will then be well telephoned from border to border, and no doubt the erection of telephones through the county will mean much to the trade and commerce of this end of the province.

THE MEXICAN WAR

Tension Over the American-Mexican Situation Somewhat Relieved.

PRESSURE FROM THE BIG POWERS OF EUROPE—THE AMERICAN FLAG FLYING OFFICIALLY OVER VERA CRUZ

EL PASO, TEXAS, April 27.—The relations between General Carranza and General Villa suddenly became the one topic of conversation here today on dissemination of information brought in by refugees and the sudden departure of Villa for Carranza's headquarters at Chihuahua.

The two leaders were to meet tonight, it was expected, to compare their differences over the attitude which the Constitutionalists shall hold toward the United States and over grave problems of military command.

Refugees brought word that all fire between them had reached a stage where one or the other must accept a distinctly second place in the revolution.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The tension of the Mexican situation was distinctly relieved today as the representatives of Argentina, Brazil and Chile, supported by pressure from all Latin-America and from all the foremost powers of Europe, concentrated their powers toward a pacific adjustment of the crisis.

The success of the first steps toward mediation—the prompt acceptance by the United States and the announcement of the Spanish ambassador that Huerta had accepted the tender of good offices—produced a feeling of distinct hope which was reflected not only in administrative quarters but in congress as well where "war talk" gave way to a spirit of conciliation.

Throughout the day the three South American envoys, who have undertaken the task of mediation, held frequent conferences to arrange the preliminaries of procedure.

Meanwhile the navy and war departments were continuing their efforts to care for refugees and perfecting the machinery of the army and navy for any unexpected turn in events.

Secretary Daniels announced that he had telegraphed the full text of the mediation offer and its acceptance by the United States to both Rear Admirals Badger and Howard with instructions to have the commanders of all ships on the east and west coasts spread the news throughout Mexico. By this, Mr. Daniels hopes the feeling toward Americans may be alleviated and refugees enabled to depart without molestation.

VERA CRUZ, April 27.—With all ceremony, the firing of a salute and dress parade, the American flag was raised today over the division headquarters of Rear-Admiral Frank F. Fletcher. Over the customs house the flag has been flying since the landing of the American forces, but until now there had been no ceremony indicating the formal occupation of Vera Cruz.

New Fish Discoveries.

On the southwest coast of Ireland there has been discovered a new deep-water fish with several remarkable features. The only specimen obtained had a body about 7 ins. long, without including caudal fin and lower jaw. It bore a filamentous barbel many times longer than the body. The color of the scales was velvety-black, and the barbel was gray. A purplish gray, cord like band of luminous tissue, partially embedded in the skin, formed a close loop on the anterior part of each side of the body. There was also a large photophore behind and slightly below the eye, occluded by skin save for a narrow slit. Very small photophores, scarcely visible externally, were present in lateral and marginal series.

A Set of Dainty Aluminum Jelly Moulds

An opportunity, like this, to get a set of stylish individual aluminum jelly moulds free will probably never occur again in your lifetime. This Free Offer is simply a quick way we've adopted to introduce

Shirriff's Jelly

You simply purchase three packages of Shirriff's Jelly Powder from the grocer. He will then give you, without any extra charge, three of these jelly moulds. Or he will give you the complete set of six different shapes with six packages.

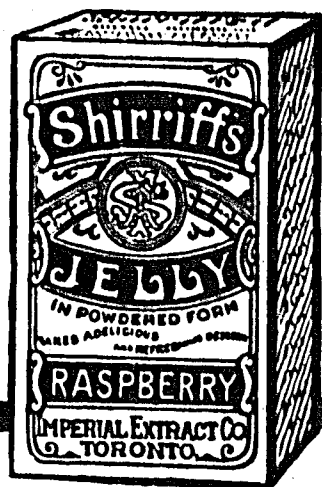

Six packages merely provide a nice assortment of flavors—flavors that are fruity, well-pronounced. Shirriff's Jelly is high-class, delicious. You'll serve it often once you've commenced.

And individual jellies—a jelly for each person—make such attractive and fashionable table decorations that nothing less than the complete set will satisfy you. Especially will you want the set, because the moulds are in six different stylish designs, and because they are made of aluminum, which every well-informed woman knows is the world's best material for cooking utensils.

Your grocer is probably exhibiting the moulds and Shirriff's Jelly in his window to-day. Call or phone him at once.

10c. a package. 3 for 25c. 6 for 50c. One package makes six individual jellies. Especially delicious when served in combination with fresh or canned fruit, or with whipped cream.

VENUS AND MARS.

The Theory That Life Exists Upo Both of Those Planets.

We are bound to hold life to be a general phenomenon in nature, developing wherever the stars are shining or their attendant planets, and thus wherever a star twinkles in the depths of the firmament.

Now as for Mars and Venus, in our own system, it need hardly be said that they are surely inhabited by living beings of some kind. Observations show that Mars has a rare atmosphere a day thirty-seven minutes longer than our own, seasons of the same type, but longer duration; and show caps at the poles, and thus water vapor, though the amount is small. Mars is a desert planet, with a very rare air, about like that in the higher regions of the Himalaya mountains. But as life on the earth extends to the highest plateaus and mountains, except when perpetually frozen, it may also exist on the planet Mars, which has a moderate temperature, as shown by the formation of clouds in the twilight belt, after the sun has set for the Martians.

The probability of Venus being inhabited is much greater than that of Mars, for Venus rotates in 23 hours 21 minutes and in all respects so closely resembles the earth as to be called her twin sister. Venus has an abundance of air, clouds, water and also mountains and therefore seas, lakes and rivers. The seasons are like ours except they are shorter, the year being 224 days in length. Why should not such a planet be inhabited? If a man were transported to Venus and landed there without injury it seems certain that he could live and flourish physically under the air and temperature of this beautiful planet.—T. J. J. See in 'Les He's.

GLOOMY CARLYLE.

His Pessimism and His Wonder at the Optimism of Emerson.

Thomas Carlyle's friendship with Ralph Waldo Emerson is a matter of history, but Charles Eliot Norton tells in his published letters that Carlyle marveled at the optimism of the American philosopher. Writing in 1873 Norton says: "As we were sitting together just after my coming in this afternoon, Carlyle spoke of Emerson. 'There's a great contrast between Emerson and myself. He seems very content with life and takes much satisfaction in the world, especially in your country. One would suppose to hear him that he had no troubles there and no share in the darkness that hangs over these old lands. It's a veritable striking and curious spectacle to behold a man so confidently cheerful as Emerson in these days.'

"I agree with ye in thinkin' that the times that are comin' will be worse than ours, and that by and by we may through long pain and distress learn to obey the law eternal of order, without which there can be neither justice nor real happiness in this world or in any other. The last man in England who had real faith in it was Oliver Cromwell.

"Well, it may be as you say. I'm not such a veritable bloody-minded old villain after all there a cordial laugh, not quite so horrid an ogre as some good people imagine. But the world is veritable black to me, and I see nothing to be content with in this brand new, patent society of ours. There's nothing to hope for from it but confusion."

A Scoop.

John L. Toole, the famous English comedian and practical joker, and Mr. Justice Hawkins, who was afterward Lord Brampton, were great friends. They were at supper together one evening discussing the events of the day. The judge incidentally mentioned that he intended on the morrow giving the man he had been trying fifteen years because he deserved it.

As Toole was leaving he blandly inquired: "Oh, would you mind calling at the newspaper offices and telling them about that fifteen years? It will be a tip for them—exclusive information, you know—and will do me no end of good with the press."

"Good gracious! No, sir!" exclaimed the judge, who took the precaution of accompanying Toole to his hotel and seeing him safely to bed.

Mohammedan Serenity. A Mohammedan people enjoy one great advantage over all others—they never suffer from the anticipation of that which is to come, and, as a natural result, they can always enjoy the present, although only a few hours may separate them from disaster or even from death. Their implicit belief in an ordained future imparts a dignified repose and calm to all their actions.—Blackwood's Magazine.

The Feminine Paradox.

The uneducated woman has often the quickest perception, the finest tact, the most vivid sensibility. She will feel without speaking; she understands your inmost thought; she knows without being told.—London Black and White.

The First Skyscraper.

The first skyscraper was planned (but not built) by a Parisian architect in the year 1601. It was to be more than 300 feet high and provide rooms for 500 persons.

A Good Example.

Father—Why did you run away, Frank? Franz—Because mamma was so unkind. Father—That is no reason. Do I run away?

Good manners are the blossoms of good sense and good feeling.

QUEST OF EL DORADO.

That Elusive Land of Gold and Jewels in South America.

Gulana is bounded on the north by the great river Orinoco and on the south by the still greater river Amazon. These two grand rivers are connected with one another, the Ciquire, a branch from the Orinoco, falling into the Rio Negro, a tributary of the Amazon. Within Gulana itself are many rivers of very considerable size.

The kingdom of El Dorado was reputed to exist somewhere between the Rio Branco and the Essequibo, called by the Indians the Brother of the Orinoco. Manoa, the capital, was said to be somewhere between the Rio Branco and the Rupununi, a tributary of the Essequibo. From the thirteenth to the sixteenth century some eighteen expeditions had been sent by the Spaniards to Gulana in search of the golden kingdom. Diego de Ordaz, one of the captains of Cortes at the conquest of Mexico, led the first attempt in 1531. After him followed many a brave cavalier, but all was in vain, and disasters as well as failure attended nearly all the expeditions.

From a state paper in the public record office, London, it appears that in 1580 persons who traveled in America had reported that there was a place where the women wore great plates of gold, covering their whole bodies like armor. In every cottage pearls were to be found; in some houses a peck. Banqueting houses were built of crystal, with pillars of massive silver, some of gold. Pieces of gold as big as a man's fist were to be found in the heads of some of the rivers. Raleigh read accounts of these expeditions, but their want of success did not deter him from attempting to find the golden region.—Blackwood's Magazine.

A LIGHT IN AN AUTOMOBILE.

Use One of the Spark Plugs When You Have No Matches.

Did you ever while making an automobile tour find yourself on a lonely country road, perhaps miles from the nearest house, and suddenly discover that you had no matches? If you were anxious to light the lamps or eager for a smoke such a discovery would not prove at all conducive to the smoothness of your temper.

There is a simple way in which any one may secure a light without the aid of matches. You may be anxious for a smoke or it may be getting dark and you want to light your lamp, but in any event you can secure the necessary light if you will follow these directions:

Unscrew one of the spark plugs and let it lie on the cylinder head. Wrap a small wisp of waste around the end of any small stick of wood or if there is none handy wrap it around the end of a screwdriver or any other tool. Dip the waste in the gasoline until it is thoroughly soaked. Of course you should have only a very small piece of waste; otherwise the blaze will be too big for you to handle. After dipping this in the gasoline lay it close to the spark plug and turn the engine over until this plug sparks. This will ignite the waste and you will have a little torch sufficient for lighting your lamp. Even if there is a heavy rain or snow, you can secure a light in this manner sufficient for your needs.—Detroit Free Press.

Fear of Old Military Service.

A prisoner's appeal to the court of criminal appeal for a longer sentence, although the first on record before that tribunal, is not altogether unparalleled at the assize, for offenders who have had the advantage of inside knowledge of the working of the prison acts have been known to ask the judge to give them penal servitude instead of a short period of hard labor. They shrink from the more Spartan diet and severer restrictions that attach to the nominally lighter sentence. A century ago, when capital punishment was inflicted for many trivial crimes, a prisoner was sometimes given a choice—death or service in the army or navy. And the services in those days had such a terror for some criminals that many elected to be hanged instead of serving their country.—London Spectator.

Government of Japan.

The government of Japan is not an absolute monarchy, the mikado being largely responsible to the parliament and, to a degree, to the people back of the parliament. Under the mikado is the house of peers, composed of the princes of the blood and the nobility and the representatives of the vested interests, and the house of representatives, which is made up of some 300 members, representing the masses of the people.—New York Journal.

An Exception.

Little Mary was coloring pictures with her set of paints. She used a tint that failed to please and exclaimed: "Oh, I didn't mean to do that! However, what's done is done and can't be undone except above lace."—Chicago News.

Poor Dora.

"Dora must have suffered some terrible disappointment. One never sees her smile now. What is the matter?" "She's had two front teeth pulled out."—London Telegraph.

Up in a Balloon.

To remain motionless and watch the earth fall away from you as rapidly as a baseball falls from you when dropped from a window is the sensation of going up in a balloon.

There is only one cure for public distress, and that is public education, directed to make men thoughtful, merciful and just.—Ruskin.

A Real Nerve and Body-Building Medicine

We believe Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is the best remedy made for toning the nerves, enriching the blood, building up wasted tissues, renewing health, strength and energy—the best medicine you can use if you are run down, tired out, nervous and debilitated, no matter what the cause. It doesn't depend for its good effect upon alcohol or habit forming drugs, because it contains none. It may not make you feel better in a few hours, but it will make you feel better, we are sure, just as soon as the tonic and food properties it contains have a chance to get into the blood and, through the blood, into the rest of the system. Pure Olive Oil and the Hypophosphites have long been endorsed by successful physicians, but here for the first time, they are combined into one preparation which, as a nerve food and a builder of strength and health, we believe, has no equal.

If you don't feel well, begin taking Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion today, and build your health and strengthen your system against more serious illness. To convalescents, old people, puny children and all others who are weak, run down or ailing, we offer Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion with our personal promise that, if it doesn't make you well and strong again, it will cost you nothing. If we didn't have the utmost faith in it, we wouldn't offer it with this guarantee, nor even recommend it to you. We are sure that once you have used it you will recommend it to your friends, and thank us for having recommended it to you. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town at Messrs. S. J. O. P. W. Holdsworth, Digby.

A Shocking Affair Took Place At Ohio, Yarmouth County.

EBENEZER HILTON THREW A LIGHTED LAMP AT HIS WIFE, WHICH SET HER CLOTHING ON FIRE, CAUSING HER DEATH—CORONER'S JURY RECOMMENDS THAT HILTON BE TRIED FOR MURDER.

(From Friday's Yarmouth Telegram)

Early Wednesday morning the citizens of Yarmouth were horrified to hear reports of a supposed murder at Ohio, about six miles from town. It was stated that Mr. Ebenezer Hilton, during a quarrel with his wife, had thrown a lighted lamp at her, which broke setting her clothes on fire and fatally burning her, besides cutting deep gashes in her face and nose.

Hilton was at once arrested, brought to town and lodged in jail. He told different stories about the trouble, among them that in his excitement he knocked the chimney off the lamp, which ignited oil, bursting the lamp, and that he dropped it on the floor. Mrs. Hilton in the excitement fainted, fell upon the burning mass, which ignited her clothing, and cut her face. He called for his son and then put out the fire, but Mrs. Hilton was badly burned, as were also Mr. Hilton's arms. Dr. Hawkins was called and did all he could to alleviate the woman's sufferings. Mrs. Hilton died at 2 o'clock yesterday morning.

A coroner's inquest was held at 10 o'clock yesterday at Ohio before Coroner Perrin, with the following named gentlemen as jury: Ross B. Allen, foreman; Asa Wyman, J. A. Ellis, Benjamin Symonds, Dr. Z. Hawkins, Rev. J. B. Hogan, Albert Blackadar, Ingles Porter, Gordon Cook, N. H. Moses, Daniel E. Porter, Osbourne Churchill.

Among the witnesses sworn were two of the children of the deceased: Lizzie, 12 years old, and Austin, 16 years. Miss Lizzie, who was in bed with her mother, had followed Mr. and Mrs. Hilton from the bedroom after he had awakened her, to the kitchen, where a quarrel over the lamp ensued. Mrs. H., wishing to retire, wanted the lamp extinguished, while he did not, and during the squabble he got her by the hair and she begged him to let her go. He did so, but when she was about ten or twelve feet from him he threw the lighted lamp at her, striking her in the face, and breaking the lamp. She received five large cuts and six smaller ones, all being to the bone. She was burned from her head to her waist, and her nose was almost entirely cut from her face. The son, Austin, who was in bed upstairs, hearing the noise, came down and entered the kitchen just in time to see his father throw the lamp at his mother. The oil spilled over her, her clothing took fire and she died the following day from the result of her burns.

A verdict was rendered as follows: That Susan Hilton, of Ohio, Yarmouth Co., Province of Nova Scotia, on the 23rd day of April, A. D. 1914, at her home in the dwelling house of Ebenezer Hilton, of Ohio, aforesaid, came to her death as the result of being struck in the face by a lighted lamp, thrown at her by her husband, the said Ebenezer Hilton. The lamp breaking on her head scattering the oil over her chest and head, catching fire and burning her so severely that the burns caused death. We, the aforesaid jurors, as well as Coroner Perrin, recommend that immediate steps be taken by and on behalf of the Crown to have the said Ebenezer Hilton tried for the murder of his wife, the said Susan Hilton.

The kitchen was a most shocking sight, blood being spattered everywhere, and the body, while still on fire, was covered by an old rubber coat, leaving Mrs. Hilton still alive, where she practically cooked until the arrival of the doctor.

Arrangements are being made for the arraignment of Hilton for trial in the supreme Court.

(From Tuesday's Yarmouth Herald.)

The case of Ebenezer Hilton, of Ohio, who threw a lamp at his wife, who died from its effects, as reported last week, was before Stipendiary Pelton on Saturday afternoon, under a charge of murder. He was remanded until Monday, May 4th, when he will again be brought down for preliminary examinations. The case is a most shocking one, many details being too horrible for publication.

The sudden death of Mr. Michael Whyte by heart failure occurred at Victoria Bridge on Sunday last. The body was brought to Bear River and embalmed by undertaker J. F. Rice, prior to having the remains sent to the home of the deceased in Berlin, N. H. Mr. Whyte having been an Oddfellow, on Tuesday morning a number of the members of Friendship Lodge, 122, I. O. O. F., gathered at the room where a hymn was sung by those present and prayer offered by Rev. Mr. Randall. Four of the members accompanied the hearse to the station and saw that the body received due attention at the train.

To Restore Peace in Mexico.

UNITED STATES RESERVES RIGHT TO CALL OFF NEGOTIATIONS IF ANY FRESH OUTRAGES OCCUR AGAINST AMERICANS

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The scope of mediation plans for the settlement of the Mexican crisis was suddenly broadened tonight so as to include the entire range of Mexican affairs—not alone the critical issue between the United States and the Huerta regime, but also the conflict between the elements of northern and southern Mexico which have rent the republic for many months.

This signal enlargement of the mediation programme followed the receipt, late in the day, of a formal acceptance by General Carranza, chief of the Constitutionalists force, of the principle of mediation, as proposed by the ambassador from Brazil and the ministers from Argentina and Chile.

Earlier in the day the mediators made another decisive move in asking the United States and General Huerta to agree to an armistice by which all aggressive military movements would be suspended pending the outcome of the negotiations. The mediators confidently expect both sides to accept the armistice proposal.

A separate proposal for an armistice as between Huerta and Carranza will also be made, and with its acceptance all the warring elements throughout Mexico as well as the United States forces, would maintain a military status.

The United States government in its formal reply to the armistice proposal will expressly stipulate that any untoward act toward Americans will be regarded as an infraction of the armistice.

CARRANZA WILLING FOR ARBITRATION

WASHINGTON, April 29.—General Carranza, head of the Mexican Constitutionalists, late today notified the Latin American intermediaries of his acceptance of the principle of mediation in the difficulty between the United States and Mexico. He expressed willingness to confer on the subject.

This announcement was made by Secretary Bryan on being informed by the three South American envoys.

It is understood a proposal for an armistice, which had already been submitted to the United States and General Huerta now will be presented to General Carranza.

TAMPICO IN GREAT DANGER

WASHINGTON, April 29.—In view of the very serious situation at Tampico, where the town is in danger by the rapid accumulation of undisturbed oil from the great wells nearby, the state department has appealed to the Constitutionalists in that vicinity to agree to a neutralization of the territory including the oil fields and tanks. The British legation in the city of Mexico is at the same time making an effort to induce Gen. Huerta to join in this scheme of protection.

EMPTY THE "FOULEST PRISON."

VERA CRUZ, April 29th.—The fortrees of Juan De Ulos, notorious for centuries as perhaps the foulest prison on the American continent, has been ordered by Rear Admiral Fletcher to be completely vacated immediately.

When the American sailors and marines occupied Vera Cruz there were in this prison, which is constructed in the form of a little island in the harbor, some 400 prisoners, most of whom were confined for political offences. Three hundred of these men already have been released or transferred to other prisons, but there remain 116, and now these men are to be sent elsewhere.

The appearance of the prisoners was pitiable. Emaciated creatures, stunted forward to thank the inspecting officers for their delivery. Many of those imprisoned were once prominent in society, in politics and in the army.

AMERICAN BOMBARD MANZANILLO

MEXICO CITY, April 29.—The port of Manzanillo on the Pacific coast was bombarded yesterday by a United States warship, according to a telegram received today by General Blanquet, Mexican minister of war, from General Jos Maria Mier.

According to General Mier's message the warship entered Manzanillo harbor at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of April 28. At 4.30 the telegraphers left their posts carrying their instruments with them and at five o'clock the bombardment began.

The telegram says the wharves and adjoining buildings were destroyed by shell fire.

Narrowly Escaped Death.

A man named Ford was found on the railway track near the Myrtle House Saturday night suffering with heart trouble. He was removed about twenty minutes before a special passed by, which would certainly have killed him. Chief of Police Bowles looked him up for the night. Sunday he was somewhat better and was able to leave town on an east bound special.

He had been employed on one of the railway bridges.

PETITE FOG ALARM.

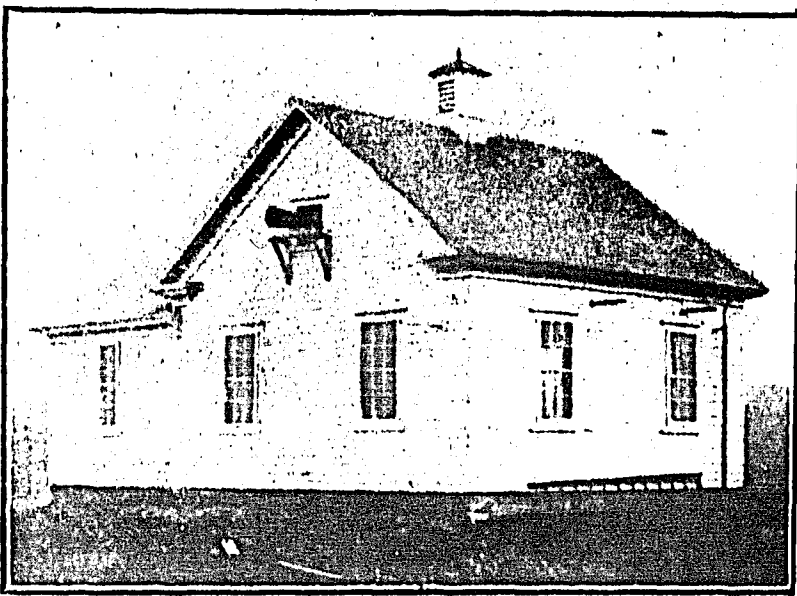

The New Station Recently Erected at Boar's Head.

THE BUILDING IS SIMILAR TO THE ONE AT POINT PRIM—DENTON & CONDON, OF DIGBY, WERE THE CONTRACTORS—MACHINERY INSTALLED BY THE GOVERNMENT.

Accompanying this article is an illustration of the new fog alarm station at Boar's Head on the west side of Petite Passage at the Bay of Fundy entrance.

This alarm, which was obtained by Mr. Jameson, Digby's enterprising representative at Ottawa, is much appreciated by the large number of mariners who pass up and down the Bay of Fundy and especially by the hundreds of fishermen who are continually in that vicinity in thick weather. It can also be heard from St. Mary's Bay.

The building is 23 x 23 feet with an ell 12 x 14 feet. It has a concrete foundation and contains under the first floor a concrete cistern 7 x 23 feet with a depth of five feet, which holds fresh water for the motors.

On the first floor in the main building all the machinery has been conveniently arranged and properly installed by engineer Lewis, of the St. John Agency of the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

The plant consists of two four horse power Fairbanks Morse gasoline motors, two large compressors, the necessary tanks, engineer's bench and full set of tools, the best that could be obtained for the purpose.

In the ell is the engineer's room comfortably furnished for himself and an assistant.

Upstairs is the discharging or alarm itself which extends out of a back window as shown in the illustration. During thick weather at least one of the motors will be kept running to supply compressed air in the tanks, but there will always be enough pressure to instantly salute a passing naval vessel, steamer or yacht.

The building was erected under contract by Messrs. Denton & Condon, of Digby, the former being present almost during the entire construction. The foreman was Mr. Charles Prime, of Tiverton, and the government inspector, Mr. Howard Ossinger, also of Tiverton. The blasting for the foundation was in charge of Mr. James Cosaboom, of Lakeside. Mr. Elsie Everett, of Freeport, did the brick and cement work and the painting, both inside and out, was in charge of the contractors, Mr. M. C. Denton assisting with the work personally.

The lumber was purchased from Mr. H. H. Marshall, M. P. P., and the cement and builders' hardware from W. H. Thorne & Co., St. John.

The whole structure was under the general supervision of Mr. J. A. Brown, of the Halifax agency of the Marine and Fisheries Department. It was afterwards thoroughly inspected and officially taken over by Engineer MacDonald, of the same agency.

Contractors Denton & Condon and everyone connected with it gave the government a good job which is much appreciated by the inspectors. The alarm is now in operation officially and is in charge of Mr. Frank Ruggles, keeper of Boar's Head Light, who has with him an assistant, Mr. Elmer Wyman, of Tiverton.

Death of Earle Perry

Mr. Earle Perry, only son of Bowman and Maria Perry, of Digby, died at the hospital, Halifax, on Sunday, April 28th, aged 35 years. He had been taking treatment for tuberculosis for two years and was doing fairly well until recently it developed in a more serious nature. It was borne with almost infinite patience. The remains arrived from Halifax via Wednesday's express, the funeral which was largely attended, taking place at 3.30 in the afternoon in the Baptist cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. J. D. Brebant. The floral tributes were beautiful. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones.

One by one earth's ties are broken
As we see our loved ones
And the hopes so fondly cherished
Brighten but to pass away.
One by one our hopes grow brighter
As we near the shining shore,
For we know across the river
Wait the loved ones gone before.—Com.

Begging for a Church.

Mr. Harry Gennor, of Parker's Cove, has been in Digby soliciting funds for a church. His cash collection must have reached a considerable amount. He said it was for "a church across the river," but neglected to state what denomination.

Yarmouth County Court.

The session of the County Court opened Tuesday morning at the Court House Yarmouth, His Honor Judge Pelton presiding.

There were two cases before the Court:

The case of Moulisong vs. D. A. R. was settled.

The case of Alpha Babine vs. Edward J. Moulisong for an accounting. Landry & Cameron for plaintiff; J. Grierison, K. C., and H. L. Dennison, K. C., for defendant.

Mr. Sanderson made a motion for the adoption of a child by R. H. Goudy.

A motion for a special commission to take evidence in a Digby County case—Nichol vs. McNeil—R. S. McKay for motion and H. L. Dennison, K. C., opposing.

$80,000 Fire at Bathurst, N. B.

BATHURST, N. B., April 29.—The fire on Tuesday which did about $80,000 damage to the two chief business blocks of the town was completely subdued today and only a few smouldering embers remained. Early this morning a strong wind sprang up and fanned the embers into flame but the firemen on duty soon drenched them and during the afternoon the last traces of fire were drowned out. The blocks on both sides of St. George's street were completely wiped out. The boundaries of the burned area are marked on the south by the Robertson House and on the north by the curling rink. This space is about 800 feet square and contained what were said to be the best buildings in the town.

Counting the Cost

The Good Book says with much other instruction for man's physical and spiritual welfare, that he who contemplates building a house will first consider Cost. The great Julius Caesar, when Shakespeare calls the "Foremost man of all the world," considered well the Cost before he crossed the Rubicon. Likewise my sturdy friend, the Farmer will figure on Cost and learn there is another place in town where he can get his Shovels, Hoes, Forks, Rakes, Netting, etc., etc. The Builder, too, will count the Cost and then come here for his Roofing, (Regal), Tar Felting, Metal Sheathing of all kinds, Nails, Spikes, Screws, Tin, Lead and Zinc, etc., also Tools. Counting the Cost will bring the Fisherman here for Gasoline Engine Supplies, Fittings of all kinds. Tanks to order at short notice.

than you can get with other paint:

Longer Protection, because B-H "English" is primarily an endurance paint and will successfully withstand the effects of weather longer than others;

Greater Economy, because you will not have to repaint nearly as soon as with other paints; and Greater Satisfaction, because B-H Paints retain their beauty and weather resistance for years.

The Reason, for this is that all B-H "English" Paints that can be made on a white base contain

70% Brandram's B. B. Genuine White Lead
30% Pure White Zinc.

A combination that produces paints unexcelled in covering capacity, beauty, brilliancy and durability. This formula is positively guaranteed by the makers.

DAKIN BROS.
DIGBY

You paint your house to improve its appearance and to protect the material of which it is built from the wear and tear of the weather. Therefore, the best paint that you can buy is the most economical as it will last longer and look better than cheap paint.

Put paint on your buildings as insurance against the ravages of the weather—SWP (which means Sherwin-Williams Paint, Prepared) on the cans of paint you buy is paint insurance. It means that you get the best and purest paint.

It is reckless extravagance to buy cheap paint. A paint at $2.50 a gallon that lasts five years or more is much cheaper than a paint at $1.50 a gallon that only lasts two years. In the first case you get paint protection at 50c a year and in the second case your paint protection costs you .75c a year and at the end of two years you have to assume the whole expense of repainting. BOWSER'S GRIEF.

So Poignant That His Left Eye Goes Into Mourning.

A COUSIN AND A FIDDLE.

The Former is the Cause of Mr. Bowser's Sorrow and the Latter of His Wrath—A Riotous Neighbor Figures in the Story.

By M. QUAD.

[Copyright, 1914, by Associated Literary Press.]

AS Mr. Bowser rode home in the car the other passengers looked at him and whispered to each other.

"Poor man!"

"What do you think it is?"

"He's probably been telephoned to that his wife is dead."

"I'm a good mind to offer him a cigar."

Reaching home, Mr. Bowser paused at the gate and sighed.

He climbed the steps and sighed twice.

There was a tear in his left eye as Mrs. Bowser opened the door and exclaimed:

"You haven't heard that mother was dead?"

"No, but two hours ago I received news of the death of Hiram Gordon."

"And who on earth is Hiram Gordon?"

"My second cousin in Nebraska. Yes, poor Hiram's troubles are over."

News to Mrs. Bowser.

Mrs. Bowser had no recollection of any second cousin, and, besides, Mr. Bowser was not the man to let the death of a distant relative grieve him to any extent.

As they sat down to dinner she began to chat of the events of the day, but he looked at her reprovingly.

"Mrs. Bowser, this hilarity is altogether out of place under the circumstances."

"I am not hilarious," she replied.

"But I do not see why the death of a second cousin whom you have not seen for twenty years should plunge our house into the depths of gloom."

"If you do not I do, and you will oblige me by keeping your levity for some other occasion."

The meal over, Mrs. Bowser assumed a determined attitude.

"Now, then," said she firmly, "I want to know who Hiram Gordon was. Was he one of your distant relatives, who was always trying to borrow five or ten dollars?"

She meant to rouse Mr. Bowser, and she accomplished her purpose. His face flushed up, and he turned on her:

"Is that the way to speak of a person who has just been laid to rest? Woman, you are heartless."

"But I am not. It seems that you had a second cousin named Hiram Gordon, but I never heard you mention his name. I don't say we should rejoice, but I don't see why we should weep."

Stern Reproof.

"Woman," shouted Mr. Bowser, "I sorrow because I have the heart of a child with the body of a man! When we were babies together Hiram and I occupied the same cradle. In childhood we played horse together. True, we lost sight of each other for a score of years, but we always carried a soft spot in our hearts for each other. A person with the heart of a hyena can not understand this, but there are others who can."

Mrs. Bowser thought it policy to maintain silence. For five minutes the house seemed to be deserted. Then came a sound that brought Mr. Bowser to his feet.

"What do you call that?" he cried.

It was a fiddle next door. It squeaked and wailed and squawked as it was being tuned up and then started off like a colt galloping across pasture.

"Think of it!" gasped Mr. Bowser.

"My second cousin died, and I scarcely get a word of it and sit down and grieve when a human hymn next door starts in to work a jig time on an old fiddle!"

"But our grief is our own," replied Mrs. Bowser. "We can't expect nor do we ask the world to grieve with us."

"I know that, don't I? But the world has no right to play a blundered old fiddle under our nose when we are feeling low we do tonight."

"Tell the cook to warn that fiddler in human form to shut up or take the consequences!"

"But she wouldn't go on such an errand as that. Don't let such a little thing disturb you. He may not play five minutes longer."

"You bet he won't!" exclaimed Mr. Bowser as he started down the hall.

"I'll see that he doesn't."

Mrs. Bowser begged and pleaded, but he was firm.

Preliminaries to Battle.

It was the man of the fiddle who answered Mr. Bowser's ring.

"I want this riot stopped!" said Mr. Bowser.

"What riot?" asked the neighbor.

"You are playing on the fiddle!"

"Yes, but I am in my own house. I think you live next door, don't you?"

"Exactly, and while I am grieving tonight over the death of my second cousin in Nebraska you are mawing away on a blundered old fiddle!"

"What is your second cousin to me? How dare you come here and say what I must do?"

"Will you stop this squawking or not?" demanded Mr. Bowser.

"No, I won't and you'd better beat it."

"Sir, my second cousin!"

"Turn your second cousin, and you too!"

Thereupon words were supplemented by action. Mrs. Bowser saw them roll down the steps and over the ground, and the cat looked on and said to herself that it was the prettiest scrap she had witnessed in many a day.

But five minutes of war sufficed for Mr. Bowser. Then he departed from the field of battle, his clothes in tatters, his nose bleeding, a shutter over his left eye and a damper on his fighting prowess. His condition boded ill for Mrs. Bowser. They met in the hall. Mrs. Bowser all solicitude, Mr. Bowser a steely glitter in his working optic.

"Women, retire to your room!" commanded the master of the Bowser ménage.

"But I want to get the arnica and camphor and alcohol and a sponge!"

"Woman, retire!"

At that moment Mr. Bowser was a dangerous man. Mrs. Bowser did not stop to argue.

When she had gone upstairs, her legs sank upon the lounge, and the cat heard him mutter: "Yes, Hiram's troubles are over, but mine are not. I suppose this eye of mine will take its own sweet time in getting back to normal."

A Token of Pity.

"But, darling," murmured the love-lorn youth, "every night for two weeks I have been on my bedded knees before you. Have you no pity?"

"I certainly have, Horace," spoke up the pretty flirt as she reached for her hand bag. "Here's a whole quarter. Go have your trousers pressed. After so much bending they must be baggy at the knees."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Hoping Against the Worst.

Turning to the newspaper reporter who was his passenger, the aviator exclaimed:

"It's all off; the propeller is broken, and we are doomed to fall 6,000 feet!"

"Great guns!" cried the reporter. "I hope we don't fall into the water. I can't swim a stroke!"—Lippincott's.

Suited to the Occasion.

"Why is your little brother crying?"

"'Cause he doesn't like my new suit."

"But what difference does it make to him?"

"Lots. He knows he's got to wear it when I've finished with it!"—Pearson's.

On Maternal Authority.

"Now, children, can you name any other creature who belongs to the brute creation?"

"I can, teacher."

"Then name the creature."

"My papa. My mamma says so."—Baltimore American.

It Certainly Will.

It Must Be Shocking.

The gown she wears may have cost a pile. Its texture and color it may be fine. It may be made in athletic style. And it may become her in every line. But how can it gladden her heart unless it catches a glimpse of her stolen stock-

For nothing is now an assured success if it isn't arranged to be somewhat shocking.

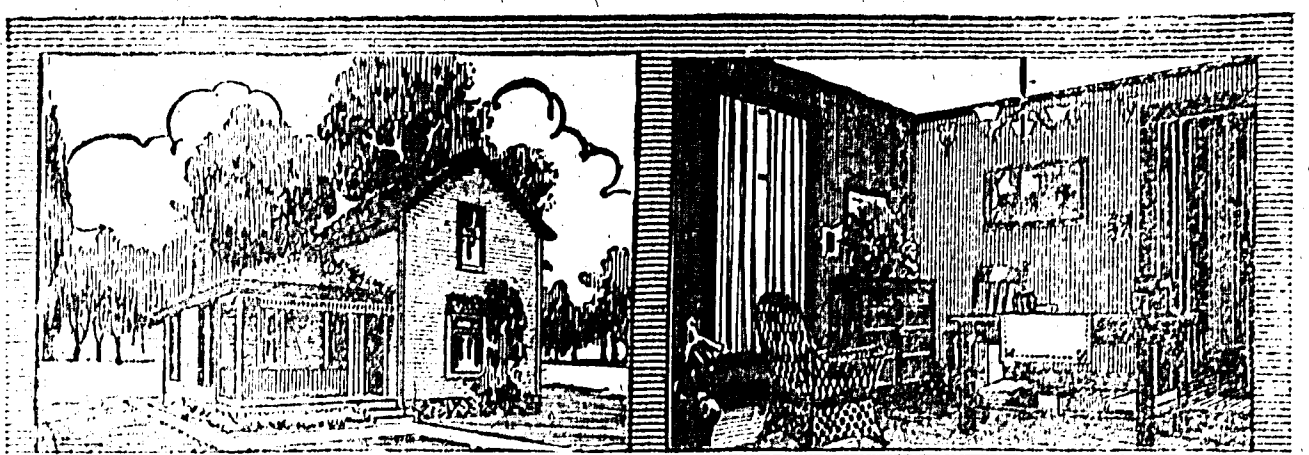

Your play may be full of dramatic force. It may teach a lesson that all men need; but lacking a shock, it will fail, of course. And none will notice and none will heed. And the book you write, if you keep it close.

Will bring no profits to fill your stock-

For nothing goes now, no you may have seen.

Unless it contrives to be rather shocking.

—Chicago Record-Herald.

The economical decoration of your home is largely a matter of knowing the right finishes to use.

For the exterior of your home there is no better paint than Sherwin-Williams Paint (Prepared) SWP. It is made of the purest of materials, combined in correct scientific proportions with the aid of special machinery. The result is a far spreading, long wearing paint in liquid form, all ready to apply.

For floors, the easiest finish to apply is S-W Inside Floor Paint, and this gives particularly good results even on old worn or discolored floors. On a good hardwood floor the best finish is S-W Mar-not, a hard-drying waterproof floor varnish.

For the walls of your home, while water paints, such as S-W Decotint, give pleasing effects, they have not the durability which means true economy. Sherwin-Williams Flat-tone is unquestionably the best paint for walls. It is an oil paint that dries with a soft, flat, velvety finish. It is very durable and can be washed with soap and water. S-W Flat-tone comes in twenty-four beautiful colors, the selection of expert decorators.

For the varnishing of interior work such as wainscoting, doors, furniture, etc., we recommend S-W Excellor Varnish, or S-W Kopal, an old fashioned, general purpose varnish, which can be used inside and outside and is just the thing for varnished woodwork in kitchens, bathrooms, or for front doors, porch ceilings, etc. For floors use S-W Mar-not, a special waterproof floor varnish, will not turn white when water is spilled on it, nor does it show scratches and heel marks readily.

We can take care of your every paint and varnish need. Drop in and discuss your paint and varnish problems with us.

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, May 8 1914

I. O. O. F.

FRIENDSHIP LODGE, BEAR RIVER, ATTENDS DIVINE WORSHIP.

Friendship Lodge, No. 122, I. O. O. F., Bear River, presented a splendid appearance last Sunday night when its officers and members marched to the Methodist church in that town and listened with great interest to an address on the subject of "The Kingdom of God is Within You," delivered by Rev. A. Daniel, the regular pastor of that church. Mr. Daniel is not a member of the order, but appeared to be well informed of the good work it is doing.

REV. A. DANIEL

Pastor of the Bear River Methodist Church and a brother of Rev. L. Daniel, of Digby.

in various parts of the globe and his entire address was certainly a very appropriate one for the occasion. The choir rendered excellent music, both vocal and instrumental. After the members returned to their lodge room several of the brethren, including those from Digby, were called on for short addresses, all of whom referred particularly to the sermon and music.

The parade on the street was in charge of Mr. Warren Wright, Past District Deputy Grand Master, who is one of Bear River's most enthusiastic Oddfellows.

An Attractive Window.

To those interested in boats, automobiles or gas engine supplies of any kind, the firm of Dakin Bros., Digby, has one of the most attractive windows ever seen in this part of the province and it is said by many who are in a position to know, that it is not surpassed in St. John, Halifax, Montreal or any of the Canadian cities. The south window is marine. It represents a scene on the shore, contains a quantity of small pebbles, light house, etc. In the background are the regular side lights, required by law, in the centre of which is a big steering wheel containing a large variety of boat fittings, attractively displayed on the rim and spokes. This wheel is continually revolving. At the top of the window, also in the light house and side and masthead running lights, are electric fish lights which makes the whole arrangement particularly noticeable during evenings, when many of the other stores around town are in darkness, a habit that some of our merchants have contracted since electric meters have been installed to measure the current consumed.

In the north window is a display of gas engine fittings, the variety being difficult to surpass.

Here the motor boat enthusiast or automobile owner can select almost anything he desires.

What a change since 1900 when a yachtsman could not even obtain a flag staff socket in the town or a small British flag made of bunting. While Dakin Bros. were the local pioneers in marine yachting hardware, there are a number of other dealers today, but none with a greater variety.

Obituary Visit the Alm-House.

THE WARDEN, MUNICIPAL COUNCILLORS AND MAYOR SHORT.

Warden Purdy, the Municipal Councillors and Mayor Short, who enjoyed an auto drive to Marshalltown yesterday morning to officially inspect the Alm-House, was more than pleased with the condition of affairs at that institution under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Marshall. The entire property shows neatness and cleanliness throughout. All the forty-five inmates were happy and contented and have nothing but the highest praise for their keeper and matron. Under the careful supervision of Mr. Marshall the farm has grown so much produce that an additional storage room has become necessary. The committee on tenders and public property now have in view the construction of a 12x45 annex on the barn, together with other improvements.

The public is fortunate in securing the services of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, and it is hoped that they will continue for many years in their present capacity.

Death of an Old Resident.

[From the Marquette (Michigan) Journal.] John D. Davis, a resident of Marquette for the last 43 years, passed away this morning at St. Mary's hospital after a long illness. Mr. Davis was survived by three daughters, Mrs. George W. Hager, Mrs. Truman W. Durham, of Marquette, and Mrs. Edward C. Bailey, of Hammond, California.

Mr. Davis was born in Westport, Nova Scotia, in 1828. He was a member of the Baptist church, for many years. The funeral was held Monday at 3 p. m. from the residence of Mrs. Durham, 317 E. Hewitt Ave., Rev. E. M. Martinson, of the Baptist church, officiated. Interment in Park cemetery.

The Bijou Dream Theatre.

Manager J. F. Cripps has two advertisements in this issue, both of which contain valuable information about his moving picture theatre. He is certainly putting out a good lot of pictures and is drawing big audiences every night. "What Happened to Mary" is featured every Tuesday night. This theatre is now running four nights per week.

S., of the Amiraull fleet, will go into commission in a few days as a hauler. The Westport schooner Curlew on Saturday sold a fare of 2,000 pounds halibut and 5,000 pounds shuck to the Consumers' Fish Company.

Miss Bowley's Entertainment

Miss Bowley will give "The Princess" at the Methodist Hall on Monday evening, May 11th. This romantic play has much sparkling comedy, combined with touches of pathos. "The Princess" is an American play in London. The Princess Alice, haughty and spoiled, is the daughter of a king and queen, and is betrothed to a prince. The play is a comedy of errors, and is a most interesting plot.

More Rewards For Bravery.

The captains and men of the Bay of Fundy steamers Westport and John L. Cane have received from the British and Foreign Salvage Society watches of honor from Admiral Nelson's famous ship the Victory, in recognition of their bravery in the Colquhoun rescue.

Victorin Rink.

Mr. C. E. Walker, proprietor of the Victoria Rink, has decided to have another special prize week. The prize last Monday evening was won by L. Chain Hesser, Tuesday by Ralph Baxter and Wednesday by Arthur Baxter.

Rev. J. D. Braham will preach at Collierville next Sunday in the afternoon at three o'clock.

The young ladies of Holy Trinity church will hold a 15 cent tea in Trinity Hall the last Wednesday in May.

The ladies of Holy Trinity church will hold their annual garden party on the rectory lawn the first Wednesday in August.

Mr. John Raymond has sold his property at the Racquette to Mr. Edward Brommer, of the Bay View Life Saving Station.

The Municipal Council held their semi-annual meeting in Digby this week, the official proceedings of which will appear in our next issue.

Don't forget Miss Irene Bowley's entertainment in the Methodist Hall next Monday evening, May 11th. The programme will be a good one.

Mass will be celebrated in St. Francis' church, Indian Reserve, Bear River, Sunday, at 11 a. m. Mass each morning of the week at 9 o'clock.

Mr. John A. Russell, of Digby, has been appointed, temporarily, to the position of caretaker of the government building, rendered vacant by the death of the late Mr. Francis Dennison.

Mr. Guy Dunn has sold his pleasure launch to Mr. G. W. Gilliat. We are pleased to note that this launch will remain in the W. N. S. Y. C. Mr. Gilliat has named this boat "The Big Chit".

Punching services in the Baptist church next Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Morning subject, "The power of the church," third sermon in the series on the church. The pastor will preach a special gospel sermon in the evening.

The second degree will be conferred on a candidate in St. George's lodge tonight. Next Friday night a degree from Friendship Lodge, Bear River, will be conferred on the third degree in St. George's lodge, Digby, at which there will no doubt be a large attendance.

The Winchester House, formerly Eaton's Hotel, was opened to the public last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Winchester intend running a first class all-the-year hotel. They pay strict attention to the comfort of their guests and are already getting a good share of the travelling public. We wish them every success.

SENT TO ANDOVER FROM DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA.

(St. John Globe)

Digby, May 2 Yesterday was "moving day" in Digby's Western Union Telegraph office as well, but the shift was in the person of the local manager, Mr. Ray D. Robertson, who is a St. John boy. He has been transferred to Andover, N. B., and left for that town yesterday by the St. John boat. Mr. Robertson's removal has brought forth expressions of regret from the general public and the business community in particular. The transfer is in line of promotion for the genial young operator, as his new charge is a very responsible one, serving as it does, the thriving twin towns of Andover and Perth. In social and musical circles, Mr. Robertson will be greatly missed and the day before his departure some of his young friends were entertained by him in honor of his twenty second birthday. His assistant, Miss Lucille Parker, of Bear River, has been promoted to local manager and her place has been taken by Miss Nora Smith, of Kentville. Mr. W. H. Doyle, of St. John, W. U. auditor, was here making the transfer. Before leaving the Western Union at Digby, Miss Parker was engaged in the central telephone exchange at St. John, and her many friends in that city and elsewhere will be glad to hear of her rapid advancement as a telephone operator.

Introducing Grade Oil Engines.

Capt. E. Linde, representing the Swedish Steel & Engineering Co., Montreal, spent several days in Digby recently in the interest of the Bolinders' crude oil engines, manufactured in Stockholm, Sweden. There is no doubt Capt. Linde has a good proposition for those desiring marine engines and we believe his company has a good representative, who is capable of demonstrating and putting their machinery on the market. The genial captain sailed Wednesday on the schr. Albert J. Lutz, enroute to Cape Breton and Newfoundland before returning to New Glasgow, N. S.

Women Who Take

this universally popular home remedy—at times, when there is need—are spared many hours of unnecessary suffering—

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Sold every where. In boxes, 25 cents.

Na-Dru-Co Laxatives accomplish their purpose with maximum efficiency and minimum discomfort. Increasing doses are not needed. 25c. a box at your Druggist's. National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited.

HAVE PRETTY HAIR

Thick, Soft, Fluffy, and no Dandruff—Use Parisian Sage.

If your hair is losing its natural color, coming out and splitting, or lacks that enviable softness, gloss and beauty, do not despair—pretty hair is largely a matter of care. If it is too thin, make it grow. If it is harsh and brittle, soften it up—lubricate it. If you have dandruff it is because the scalp is too dry and shakes off. Fresh on up the scalp with Parisian Sage—all dandruff disappears, falling hair, and itching head cease, your hair is doubly beautiful.

Parisian Sage, sold by H. E. Jones, and all drug counters, is just what you need—a large bottle costs but 50 cents. It surely makes the hair lustrous and twice as abundant. You cannot be disappointed in Parisian Sage.

HAD TO STOP WORK FROM THE PAIN

Suffered Ten Years Until "Fruit-a-tives" Cured Him

ST. THOMAS, ONT., May 22nd, 1913.

"I was troubled for ten years with the most distressing Constipation and Indigestion of the worst form."

No one could have been worse with these troubles than I was for this long time.

The pain from indigestion was so severe that many times, I have had to stop work and lie down until the acute spasms passed away.

I took a lot of medicine—in fact, I guess I took about everything that was advertised—and gave them all a fair test—but got no relief. About a year ago, however, I was advised to try "Fruit-a-tives". I am mighty glad I did so for they seem to be made exactly for me.

They gave results in a very short time and I am now free from these diseases and enjoying perfect health.

My wife also used "Fruit-a-tives" and we both think they are the best medicine ever made."

Z. J. RIDGEWORTH.

Counting the Cost

The Good Book says with much other instruction for man's physical and spiritual welfare, that he who contemplates building a house will first consider Cost. The great Julius Caesar, whom Shakespeare calls the "Foremost man of all the world," considered well the Cost before he crossed the Rubicon. Likewise my sturdy friend, the Farmer will figure on Cost and learn there is another place in town where he can get his Shovels, Hoes, Forks, Rakes, Nethers, etc., etc. The Builder, too, will count the Cost and then come here for his Roofing, (Regal), Tar Felting, Metal Sheathing of all kinds, Nails, Spikes, Screws, Tin, Lead and Zinc, etc., also Tools. Counting the Cost will bring the Fisherman here for Gasoline Engine Supplies, Fittings of all kinds Tanks to order at short notice.

For Canada to Compete in Cuban Trade.

CUBAN CONSUL AT HALIFAX URGES CANADIAN SHIPPING MEN TO BREAK UNITED STATES MONOPOLY ON MERCHANDISE.

The Halifax Herald has been informed by Major Nicholas Perez Stable, consul for the republic of Cuba in Canada, residing in this city, that the Cuban government has decided to issue a monthly statement in which all public matters pertaining to Cuba's five provinces will be commented upon and where any news of interest regarding the progress and prosperity of Cuba will be published, so that all countries which have any commercial relations with that republic will have official information of all important matters occurring there.

Canadian capital has been invested freely in Cuba, such enterprises as the Central railway, which crosses the island almost from end to end and has some 700 miles of tracks in use; the Royal Bank of Canada, with 23 branches scattered in different cities through the island; the Bank of Nova Scotia, the Camaguey company, which controls the electric plant and tramways of that city, and whose head office is at Halifax, etc., clearly show that Canadian enterprises and energies are well represented there.

The political situation, at present, is very satisfactory. Although the political factions are being reorganized in some provinces, it is a pleasant sign to note this is being done in perfect order, relations between one faction and another are running smoothly, there is no fear that the public order will be disturbed at all.

The economic situation is good every where. The outlook is very favorable for a splendid tobacco crop, which is one of the off-putting features this year, on account of low prices ruling at present in the sugar market, yet the unbounded resources, both agricultural and industrial, of the island are being developed with all possible activity, although an improvement of the sugar situation is not expected and chances are slim for a raise in prices.

The bubonic plague is confined only to Havana. The sewerage system and pavement of Havana will be completed in the course of a year, which will be a material improvement, not only to the beauty of that capital, but also to its sanitation and it would not be exaggerated to state that when the work is finished, Havana will be one of the cleanest cities in the world.

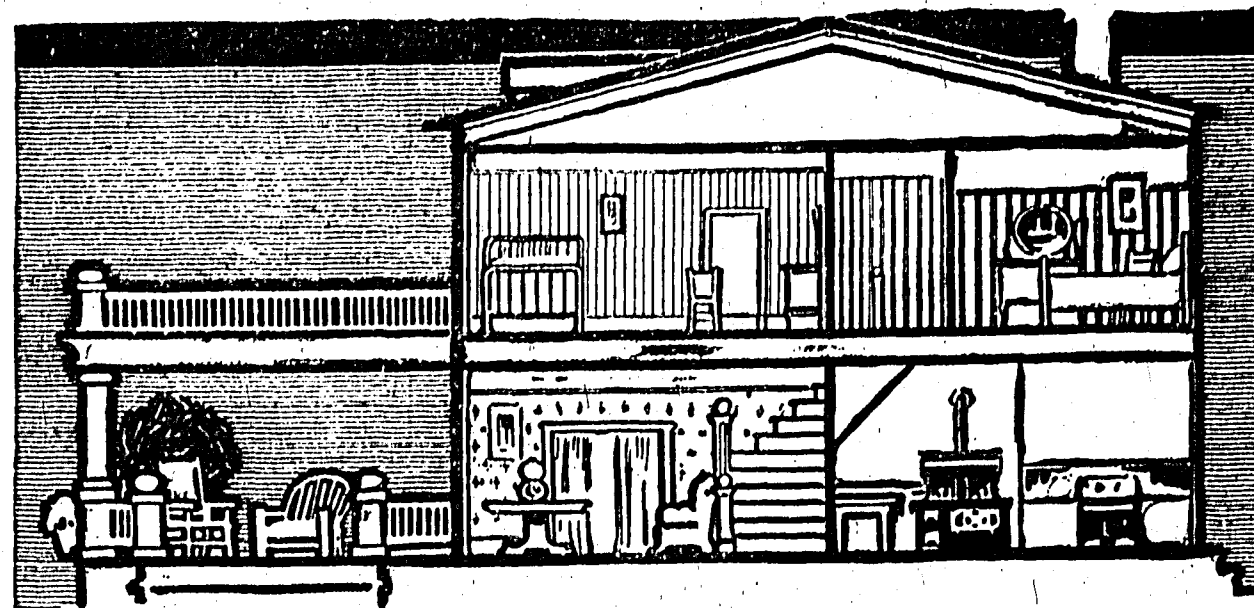

It will be of interest to Canadians to learn of the progress and increase of our commercial relations with Cuba. According to the official statistics published by the Canadian government, our trade with that country has increased considerably. The total commerce between Canada and Cuba in 1902 amounted to $813,804. This sum has kept a steady increase and the total interchange for the 12 months ending March 31st, 1913, was $1,272,415, which is the best evidence of the progress of our trade with Cuba in the last decade. The following is a summary of the commercial interchange between Canada and Cuba for the fiscal year ended March 31st, 1913, as published in the report of our department of trade and commerce.

EXPORTS.
Products of the mines.....	$ 852

Other articles.....	8,253
Total.....	$2,745,572

The above figures should not be overlooked and it is up to our shippers to try and obtain a share of that wealthy and prosperous market, whose exterior commerce last year amounted to $3,900,000, 68% divided as follows: Exports, $1,990,433; Imports, $1,910,425.

One of the bills now before the Cuban government is the reduction of the duty on food products and petitions have been made to that government by agricultural societies, the Cuban Cigar Manufacturers' Union, Boards of Trade of almost every city in the island and other associations of the island. If a reduction of the tariff is made Canadian exporters will be on an equal basis with exporters in the United States and obtain therefore a larger market for some of our products which have never been exported to Cuba to any extent. There is a good possibility that the mentioned project will become law, as both the senate and congress have the matter in hand. That their government recognizes the advantages of such law is shown by the last message of President Menocal to the congress. Therefore in case a reduction of the tariff is made, we should be prepared to introduce in that market our flour for as soon as the 30 per cent preference given American goods is rescinded, which will no doubt be in 1916, when the United States will admit sugar free of duty, Canada's with production and crops almost similar to those of the United States, will be in an excellent position to place her flour on that market, whose commerce is at present of more volume than the Central American and all the West Indian market put together.

A bill granting exemption from duty on fruit and vegetable crates material, lumber and veneering prepared and cut for their manufacture, shipped into Cuba in "knock-down" form when imported by growers direct, was presented February 21st, in the senate. The republic of Cuba wishes to establish closer commercial relations with Canada, an evidence of this is the expected promotion of the consulate at Halifax to the rank of consulate general for the Dominion of Canada July next, a council of career has been named at Toronto, and a special commission to name consuls at Montreal and St. John has been approved by the congress. This plainly shows that Cuba is preparing herself to make a close study of our market, let our shippers, therefore, be alert to the opportunities that can be derived from that market if business is handled in the proper manner.

there is a particular Sherwin-Williams paint, varnish, stain, or enamel for every different use.

Paint the outside of the house with SWP, Sherwin-Williams Paint (Prepared), made of pure lead, pure zinc, pure linseed oil and the necessary coloring pigments and driers. Saves you money because it covers most, lasts longest and looks best.

On the steps and porch floors use Sherwin-Williams Porch Floor Paint. Withstands the weather and frequent scrubbing.

Varnish the hall-floor and stairs with S-W Mar-not-tough and elastic under foot. No better floor varnish made.

For bedroom walls use S-W Flat-tone, a flat finish oil paint for walls and woodwork. Can be repeatedly washed with soap and water. Twenty-four artistic shades, suitable for decorating the living room, the dining room, and the bedroom. Flat-Tone is a durable and sanitary finish.

Bedroom furniture and woodwork can be refinished with S-W Floorlac or S-W Family Paint. Floorlac gives a stained and varnished finish resembling expensive hardwoods. S-W Family Paint produces a bright, gloss finish in attractive colors.

Give the kitchen floor a smooth, hard-wearing coat of S-W Inside Floor Paint, easy to keep clean. S-W Family Paint will help keep cupboards and woodwork fresh and sweet.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, indigestible food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a 60-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

THE Prohibitionist with me. With pain his breakfast viewed. "I cannot stay here, sir," said he. "For all these years I've stewed." —Cincinnati Enquirer.

At luncheon I was very sure. His palate would be pleased. Said he: "Such slight I can't endure. Those wretched beers are picked." —Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

When dinner came I felt at ease. With good things we were housed. But he refused some nice head cheese. Because the stuff was soured. —Indianapolis Star.

I took him to a night cafe. To make him drink a cup Of coffee, but he ran away— The place was all lit up. —St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

I took him to the seamy gay. He said, "Even though I'm paid, I cannot take a dip today. For fear of dysentery." —Birmingham Age-Herald.

I took him home to dine one night. He left us on the run. Exclaiming: "What a dreadful sight! The butler's on a bun!" —Detroit Free Press.

He entered in a restaurant. But from it quickly abscond. Explaining to the waiter, "Sir, Your coffee isn't a tank!" —Kansas City Star.

Envi'd Booth Tarkington's Hand. Booth Tarkington, like many litterateurs, writes a wretched hand. Of this he said in New York recently: "Once, crossing to Naples, I sat in my deck chair with pen and fountain pen at work on a short story. A young Peorian stopped before me. 'By gosh,' he said, 'I wish I could write as well as you do.' 'I smiled, and the Peorian resumed his promenade. The next time he passed me he said again: 'Gee, what a hand! If I could only write like that!' 'Again I smiled a flattered smile, and the Peorian made another round of the deck, then said a third time: 'Oh, if I could only write a hand like yours!' ' nettled a little by this third interruption, I said: 'Well, what would you do if you could?' 'Go to China,' said the Peorian, and write labels for tea boxes." —New Orleans States.

This Fence Has Vast Strength

For a fourth less than the price we pay, we could get hard-drawn steel wire. But that kind, though used in most other wire fence, hasn't the life, the springiness, the strength we insist on for Maritime Wire Fence.

So we make this fence of extra-heavy hard drawn steel wire of nine-gauge. Constantly we test it for quality. And so we know this fence has more strength than it probably will ever need.

Yet the price of Maritime Wire Fence is no higher than you must pay for ordinary fence. But the life of the Maritime Fence is far longer—and the fence surely reliable.

On this extra-quality wire we put a smooth, even heavy coat of galvanizing. We put on May Find Help in This Letter.

Swan Creek, Mich.—"I cannot speak too highly of your medicine. When through neglect or overwork I get run down and my appetite is poor and I have that weak, languid, always tired feeling, I get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it builds me up, gives me strength, and restores me to perfect health again. It is truly a great blessing to women, and I cannot speak too highly of it. I take pleasure in recommending it to others."—Mrs. ANNIE CAMERON, R.F.D., No. 1, Swan Creek, Michigan.

Another Sufferer Relieved.

Hebron, Me.—"Before taking your remedies I was all run down, discouraged and had female weakness. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash, and find today that I am an entirely new woman, ready and willing to do my housework now, where before taking your medicine it was a dread. I try to impress upon the minds of all ailing women I meet the benefits they can derive from your medicines."—Mrs. CHARLES ROWE, R.F.D., No. 1, Hebron, Maine.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (Confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

COAL mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. No applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Unless the months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres, or he may be occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister. In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section adjoining his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Unless the months' residence upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $5.00 per acre. Duties—Shall reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $200.00.

Power Boat Races.

A BIG EVENT WILL TAKE PLACE IN ST. JOHN NEXT JULY.

The third power boat race in the series of five to be run for the handsome sterling silver shield offered by Messrs. Norton Griffiths Company, the great English firm of contractors who are engaged in the stupendous development, outcries in the upcoming place in St. John harbor, East, New Brunswick, will be run in St. John harbor on Friday, July 17th, at 7 p.m.

This race is open to the world for power boats 40 feet and under, and it is expected that some fast boats will enter from among the motor boat fleets of the New England States.

The contest will be under the jurisdiction of the Eastern Canada section of the American power boat Association, and their rules will apply. Their rating certificates of measurement will also be accepted. The course will be a straight away from the North Market Wharf in St. John harbor to and around the Bear Cove buoy and back, five times, the entire distance to be covered being about twelve miles.

The object of these races is to stimulate an interest in motor boat racing in this part of Canada, and also to show to those who visit St. John the enormous development that is going on, and the opportunities for trade that there are at the winter port of Canada.

All entries should be sent to Mr. Harold Allison, Secretary of the Eastern Canada Section of the Power Boat Association, St. John, N.B.

MRS. MERIWEATHER

A young man about twenty five years old, his dress smacking of the kind worn by gentlemen in London, entered the gateway of a country residence, went up to the front door and rang the bell. His summons was answered by a maid, who took him into a drawing room. Presently a young woman several years his junior, in plain apparel, came down the broad, winding staircase and advanced to receive him.

"I have called," he said, "as a neighbor. I own the property adjoining this and have learned that a Mrs. Meriweather during my sojourn abroad has bought this property, and I would like to welcome her into the neighborhood. Is she at home?"

Now, the properties of Mrs. Meriweather and her caller, Mr. Hinchelwood, had originally been one tract of land. A lawsuit had arisen between Mr. Hinchelwood's father and Mrs. Meriweather's uncle involving the title to Mrs. Meriweather's part of the estate, which had become so formidable that it threatened to swamp both sections under a load of court costs and lawyers' fees. Finally the two lawyers representing the Meriweather and the Hinchelwood interests got together and after a conference it was intimated to Mrs. Meriweather, a widow, and Mr. Hinchelwood, a bachelor, that if a match could be made between them it would make two defective titles perfect, and litigation and save two valuable properties.

Hinchelwood, who had been sent to England to be educated and had remained there ever since, concluded to come home and look into the matter. He arrived when his attorney happened to be out of town and, with out waiting to learn anything of the widow and other features pertaining to the case, resolved to make a neighborly call with a view to informing himself.

"She is indisposed this morning," the girl finally replied. "I shall tell her of the object of your call, and I am sure she will appreciate your motive. Won't you be seated?" she added, since the gentleman remained standing.

"Thank you a few minutes. Will you convey to Mrs. Meriweather my regrets at not seeing her and tell her that it will give me pleasure to call another time."

"Mrs. Meriweather would be disappointed if you do not," was the reply.

"Is Mrs. Meriweather—an elderly lady?"

"She is not young."

"Um. She has been described to me as a remarkably fine woman."

This was for pumping purposes. The lady had not been described to him at all.

"She has friends," was the sententious reply.

"That is true of all of us."

"Quite so."

"I'm very ignorant," Mr. Hinchelwood proceeded in this unadorned dialogue, "of everything that has been going on about here. I haven't been here for a matter of ten years."

"That's a long while for one to be away from home."

Now, it must not be inferred, because the two confined themselves to these commonplace remarks that they were bored with each other. Mr. Hinchelwood gathered from the young woman's quiet though impressive demeanor that she was a person of character, and, though he smacked of Kotten and Piccadilly, she gathered that he was nobody's fool. After some ten or fifteen minutes of these preliminaries they fell to chatting about places abroad, and the lady showed herself as familiar with them as the man. The ice at last broken, they enjoyed a chat which Mr. Hinchelwood was surprised to notice by his watch after leaving had occupied more than an hour. He would have liked to ask the lady's position in the household, but was too well bred to do so.

Later a meeting was arranged between Mr. Hinchelwood and Mrs. Meriweather to occur in the office of her attorney, ostensibly, with a view to making some mutual concessions that would better the situation as to their properties. But the real object was, and was so understood by both parties, to give them an opportunity to have a look at each other to determine whether the difficulties might not be overcome by a union of interests by marriage.

Mr. Hinchelwood, remembering the few words he had heard about Mrs. Meriweather from the person who had received him at her house, was indignant, but consented to the meeting. When he was confronted by the young woman he had met before he supposed she had come to represent her principal. When he was introduced to her as Mrs. Meriweather he stood gaping at her.

"You are Mrs. Meriweather?" he asked.

"I am."

"You told me"—

"No falsehoods. I said Mrs. Meriweather was at home, but indisposed. I was not feeling very well that morning."

But the real object was, and was so understood by both parties, to give them an opportunity to have a look at each other to determine whether the difficulties might not be overcome by a union of interests by marriage.

Mr. Hinchelwood, remembering the few words he had heard about Mrs. Meriweather from the person who had received him at her house, was indignant, but consented to the meeting. When he was confronted by the young woman he had met before he supposed she had come to represent her principal. When he was introduced to her as Mrs. Meriweather he stood gaping at her.

"You are Mrs. Meriweather?" he asked.

"I am."

Power Boat Races.

A BIG EVENT WILL TAKE PLACE IN ST. JOHN NEXT JULY.

The third power boat race in the series of five to be run for the handsome sterling silver shield offered by Messrs. Norton Griffiths Company, the great English firm of contractors who are engaged in the stupendous development, outcries in the upcoming place in St. John harbor, East, New Brunswick, will be run in St. John harbor on Friday, July 17th, at 7 p.m.

This race is open to the world for power boats 40 feet and under, and it is expected that some fast boats will enter from among the motor boat fleets of the New England States.

The contest will be under the jurisdiction of the Eastern Canada section of the American power boat Association, and their rules will apply. Their rating certificates of measurement will also be accepted. The course will be a straight away from the North Market Wharf in St. John harbor to and around the Bear Cove buoy and back, five times, the entire distance to be covered being about twelve miles.

The object of these races is to stimulate an interest in motor boat racing in this part of Canada, and also to show to those who visit St. John the enormous development that is going on, and the opportunities for trade that there are at the winter port of Canada.

All entries should be sent to Mr. Harold Allison, Secretary of the Eastern Canada Section of the Power Boat Association, St. John, N.B.

MRS. MERIWEATHER

A young man about twenty five years old, his dress smacking of the kind worn by gentlemen in London, entered the gateway of a country residence, went up to the front door and rang the bell. His summons was answered by a maid, who took him into a drawing room. Presently a young woman several years his junior, in plain apparel, came down the broad, winding staircase and advanced to receive him.

"I have called," he said, "as a neighbor. I own the property adjoining this and have learned that a Mrs. Meriweather during my sojourn abroad has bought this property, and I would like to welcome her into the neighborhood. Is she at home?"

Now, the properties of Mrs. Meriweather and her caller, Mr. Hinchelwood, had originally been one tract of land. A lawsuit had arisen between Mr. Hinchelwood's father and Mrs. Meriweather's uncle involving the title to Mrs. Meriweather's part of the estate, which had become so formidable that it threatened to swamp both sections under a load of court costs and lawyers' fees. Finally the two lawyers representing the Meriweather and the Hinchelwood interests got together and after a conference it was intimated to Mrs. Meriweather, a widow, and Mr. Hinchelwood, a bachelor, that if a match could be made between them it would make two defective titles perfect, and litigation and save two valuable properties.

Hinchelwood, who had been sent to England to be educated and had remained there ever since, concluded to come home and look into the matter. He arrived when his attorney happened to be out of town and, with out waiting to learn anything of the widow and other features pertaining to the case, resolved to make a neighborly call with a view to informing himself.

"She is indisposed this morning," the girl finally replied. "I shall tell her of the object of your call, and I am sure she will appreciate your motive. Won't you be seated?" she added, since the gentleman remained standing.

"Thank you a few minutes. Will you convey to Mrs. Meriweather my regrets at not seeing her and tell her that it will give me pleasure to call another time."

"Mrs. Meriweather would be disappointed if you do not," was the reply.

"Is Mrs. Meriweather—an elderly lady?"

"She is not young."

"Um. She has been described to me as a remarkably fine woman."

This was for pumping purposes. The lady had not been described to him at all.

"She has friends," was the sententious reply.

"That is true of all of us."

"Quite so."

"I'm very ignorant," Mr. Hinchelwood proceeded in this unadorned dialogue, "of everything that has been going on about here. I haven't been here for a matter of ten years."

"That's a long while for one to be away from home."

Now, it must not be inferred, because the two confined themselves to these commonplace remarks that they were bored with each other. Mr. Hinchelwood gathered from the young woman's quiet though impressive demeanor that she was a person of character, and, though he smacked of Kotten and Piccadilly, she gathered that he was nobody's fool. After some ten or fifteen minutes of these preliminaries they fell to chatting about places abroad, and the lady showed herself as familiar with them as the man. The ice at last broken, they enjoyed a chat which Mr. Hinchelwood was surprised to notice by his watch after leaving had occupied more than an hour. He would have liked to ask the lady's position in the household, but was too well bred to do so.

Later a meeting was arranged between Mr. Hinchelwood and Mrs. Meriweather to occur in the office of her attorney, ostensibly, with a view to making some mutual concessions that would better the situation as to their properties. But the real object was, and was so understood by both parties, to give them an opportunity to have a look at each other to determine whether the difficulties might not be overcome by a union of interests by marriage.

Mr. Hinchelwood, remembering the few words he had heard about Mrs. Meriweather from the person who had received him at her house, was indignant, but consented to the meeting. When he was confronted by the young woman he had met before he supposed she had come to represent her principal. When he was introduced to her as Mrs. Meriweather he stood gaping at her.

Steamer Landowne Disabled.

LINK FOULED PROPELLER OFF BLACK POINT.

(Thursday's St. John Telegraph.)

The government steamer Landowne was disabled yesterday morning at 11.30 when a line caught in the propeller of the vessel while she was preparing to take the Black Point buoy in tow. Captain Burns dropped anchor and endeavored to remove the cause of the trouble but finally had to hoist distress signals at 3 p.m.

The tug Lord Kitchener went to the assistance of the Landowne and the disabled steamer and the buoy were docked at the government berth, west side, at 7.15 p.m.

A buoy has been placed south of Partridge Island to replace the Black Point buoy for the summer.

Mrs. Jarvest Thibault visited relatives in Bear Cove and Cheticamp last week.

Mrs. Ramie Thibault was in Corberrie last Friday attending the funeral of her brother in law, Placide Gaudette. Mr. Eddie Thibault, of this place, is now book-keeper in the Hectanooga store in the place of John Thibault, who left on the 11th inst. for Toronto, to attend a college in that city.

Feet in His Boots

An Irishman entered a tavern and seated himself, took out his pipe, and put it in his mouth.

"You can't smoke in here," said the conductor.

"I know it, sir; I'm not smoking," said the Irishman.

"But you've got your pipe in your mouth," continued the guard.

"Yes, sir," retorted the Irishman "an' I've got me feet in my boots, but I'm not walking, sir."

His Testimony

Little Johnny Smith suddenly asked to a startling voice: "Mamma, is that bay rum in the bottle on your table?"

"Mercy, no, dear," she replied.

"That is muscage."

"Oh!" said little Johnny. Then, after a moment's pause, he added reflectively, "Perhaps that's why I can't get my hat off."

The Sealing Fleet at St. John's.

St. John's, Nfld., May 3.—The steamers Diana, the last of the sealing fleet, returned today from the Northern ice, doing with 2,000 young and 3,500 old seals about one-third of a full cargo. This ends the seal-fishery for 1914 with a total catch of 210,000 pelts, valued at about half a million dollars.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DRAIN SINK.—At the meetings of the United Kingdom Alliance in Manchester, England, leading doctors all over the world, including Chinese Physicians, of the highest rank and reputation in their profession were present. They all spoke of alcohol as a dreadful protoplasmic poison which lowers the vitality and renders the system more liable to disease, especially consumption. This most terrible of all diseases is the most deadly disease in the world. A great Paris doctor found that there was no question that the man who took alcohol in however small quantities introduced into his blood that which tremendously lowered the power of the white cells to overcome the microbes. That has been proved directly and indirectly by statistics of persons who have visited Paris in order to be treated of various diseases.

Digby, May 15, 1914

CLEAN UP THE TOWN.

This is the time of year to clean up back yards, remove all rubbish and give the town a good appearance. We wish to call attention to the fact that dumping of rubbish is now strictly prohibited at the Racquette and that all must use the regular south end dumping ground in the future. We would also suggest that more care should be taken in reference to throwing waste matter on our streets, especially through the business section of the town. Supt. Vye and staff endeavor to keep our streets as clean as possible and they should be rendered assistance in the good work by every citizen using precaution in the matter of throwing fruit skins, papers, etc., on the streets. A gentle reminder to our careless ones should be sufficient. While we are on the subject of town affairs, in the interest of the public, we wish to call attention to the number of young girls and boys, especially the latter, who are not in school as the law directs. What is our school board doing in this respect and is the trustee officer strictly on his job? A few years ago Chief Police Bowles visited the schools every morning, got a list of the absent ones and made an investigation. One or two arrests were made which, as usual, kicked up a fuss. But good results followed and for a time every boy and girl obliging were at school. The compulsory school act should be strictly enforced and if it is not, the authorities are amies in their duties.

The Canadian Amusement Co.

WILL PRESENT TWO PLAYS IN DIGBY, "THE WHIRLPOOL" AND "PEACEMAKER."

Manager Clippis, of the Bijou Theatre has booked the Canadian Amusement Co. for Saturday and Monday nights. It will be their first appearance in Digby. Tomorrow night they will play "The Whirlpool" and Monday night "The Peacemaker." Both are said to be good pieces and should draw a large audience. The prices are 25, 35, and 50c. A number of the reserved seats are at 35c.

One of our exchanges contains the following: Louis Neville and his big stock company were the attraction at the Nickel Theatre, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of last week. The plays drew large and appreciative audiences, Thursday evening's attendance being especially large. Saturday evening "The Whirlpool" was considered the best play of the series presented, the star actor and actress, Louis Neville and Miss Fern Wayne, as Jack Hunter and Mildred Baxter, appearing to fine advantage, winning much applause; indeed the whole company were fine in this play, which is a very pretty and captivating one. The first act concerns Wall Street, and many beautiful costumes are in evidence. In the second act the scene changes to a Mountain Ranch. Mr. Neville and his fine company will be welcomed on a return engagement.

Another Good Entertainment.

The three-act comedy "Ferguson of Troy" was played at Oakeside Hall, Bear River, last Wednesday evening to a packed house. The characters were exceedingly well taken and it is spoken of as one of the best productions ever given by local talent. Mr. H. N. Harris, as Walter Hawley, an elder of the Reformed Church, caught the audience in the first act and played the three acts more like a professional than an amateur. The soloist, Miss Annie L. Clarke, was in good voice, and several encores were called for.

Caught the First Salmon.

Mr. G. A. Vye, Digby's street and water superintendent, who spent Sunday in Middleton, left that town by train at 4:30 Monday morning, was driven to a favorite pool on the Annapolis river, arriving at 5:30. Before 7 o'clock he had captured a nice one, returning home via the afternoon express, bringing with him the first salmon landed in Digby this season and the only one reported up to the present.

Miss Bowley's Entertainment.

Miss Irene Bowley, the well known elocutionist, was greeted with a big audience in the Methodist hall last Monday evening. Her program, as usual, was a good one and was certainly well delivered. Miss Bowley is very popular with a Digby audience and her engagements here are always looked forward to with great interest.

Successful Trout Fishermen.

Rev. J. Denton Neely, of Gloucester, Mass.; Mr. J. A. Walker, of Arlington, Mass., and Mr. Beverly Cornwall, of Shortville's grocery, Digby, returned Tuesday night from a successful fishing trip, on Spotting Lake Stream, visiting several of the larger lakes. The editor wishes to extend thanks for their kind remembrance, bringing him the first fish of the season.

The Joggin Bridge.

A special train containing engineer, Mils, of the public works department, G. E. Torrie, fishery officer for Digby County, P. Giffins, general manager of the D. A. R., and other railway officials, visited the Joggin last week in reference to the filling in of the bridge, which is being objected to by the boat fishermen in that vicinity.

The Yarmouth Telegram Shocked.

Friday's issue of the Yarmouth Telegram contains the following: "The silly Digby correspondent of the Halifax and St. John papers again makes the startling announcement that the Fishery Officer, Mr. G. E. Torrie, has been ordered to fill in the Racquette and to return to Halifax from that place, and the Halifax and St. John papers are silly enough to publish the ridiculous statement."

Married in the West.

(From the H. River, (Alberta) Times.)

On Wednesday afternoon, April 22nd, the marriage of Miss Catherine Bond, youngest daughter of Mr. W. M. Bond, and Mr. James Ward Dick, youngest son of the late Capt. S. W. Dick, was solemnized at St. Benedict's Church by the Rev. T. B. Winter.

Promptly at three o'clock, the bridal party entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Gertrude Dick, sister of the groom. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. James N. Bond, and attended by her sister, Miss Mary L. Bond, the groom being supported by his cousin, Mr. Walter Dick, of Calgary.

After the ceremony, the bride and groom, with their immediate friends, repaired to the home of the bride's father, which was prettily decorated for the occasion.

At the conclusion of a light luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Dick left by motor for Calgary, amid showers of rice and the good wishes of those present. Returning from Calgary they will leave at once for their ranch home at Willow Creek.

[The bride is a native of Barton, Digby County, and has many friends in Digby and Yarmouth Counties, who will join the couple in extending best wishes. The bride's parents moved to Western Canada about eighteen years ago. The groom is a son of the late Capt. S. W. Dick, formerly of St. George, N. B., who also has many friends in the Maritime Provinces.]

More Recognition For Bravery.

DIAMOND LODGE OF ODDFELLOWS, RECOGNIZES THEIR MEMBER'S READINESS TO GIVE ASSISTANCE.

(Yarmouth Telegram.)

A pleasing incident at the regular meeting of Diamond Lodge, L. O. O. F., last evening was the presentation to Capt. Adelbert L. MacKinnon of a handsome gold pocket watch, the emblem of the order, on one side and a suitable inscription on the other. The gift was a recognition by the lodge of its member's readiness to give assistance to those in need.

The presentation had been deferred until Capt. MacKinnon happened to be present, and was made by Bro. G. Harry Allen, chairman of the committee having the matter in charge, in a neat speech voicing the kindly feelings of the lodge towards the recipient. Capt. MacKinnon was completely surprised and after an effort succeeded in expressing his appreciation and thanks for the gift.

Another New House.

MR. GEORGE KERN'S COTTAGE ON KING STREET ABOUT COMPLETED.

A COUNTRY representative was shown through Mr. Geo. Kern's conveniently planned cottage on the east side of King street one day this week. The basement is built of cement with cement floor and pillars. This contains a wood furnace for heating the entire cottage.

On the first floor are the kitchen, pantry, dining room, parlor, front and back halls.

On the second floor are four bedrooms, bath room, closets, etc. The interior is splendidly finished in hard wood with hard wood floors down stairs and in a portion of the rooms upstairs.

The view from the house is an excellent one and the convenient way in which the entire structure was planned by the owner makes it a very desirable dwelling.

The plumbing material was purchased from and installed by Mr. W. L. Holdsworth.

Where is Annie Comeau?

Boston American, May 5: The police of Salem, Lynn and Beverly have combined in a search for Annie Comeau, missing from her home at No. 10 Glendale street, Salem, for ten days. Miss Comeau was a Nova Scotia girl. She came from Truro, N. S., to this country only a short time ago and went to work in a Salem shoe factory. When she disappeared she had about fifty dollars in money, and wore a gray suit, black shoes and a light straw hat.

Small Pox in Queens County.

There is small pox at Caledonia, Queens Co., and the residents are quite a bit scared. The Quebec Herald says: "With over two hundred people being vaccinated the past week and the disease checked, our people are beginning to breathe easier." The churches and schools have been closed and a strict quarantine established.

Codfish Swallowed a Baby's Boot.

Mr. Ernest Raymond, of Centreville, while trawling fishing in the Bay of Fundy last week caught a codfish which had swallowed a baby's boot. The little shoe has been on exhibition in the Maritime Museum, and is now in the possession of Mr. J. P. Milbray, the popular manager of that establishment.

Rev. D. W. Dixon, of North Brookfield, who was for several years pastor of the St. Mary's Bay and Hill Grove Baptist churches, made us a friendly call yesterday. Mr. Dixon has many friends in Digby county, who were pleased to greet him. He is a hard worker in the church and always very popular in whatever community he visits. He says he appreciates the County's weekly visits, and considers it one of the best papers on his list of subscriptions.

Association Day.

Association Day will be held in all Sunday Schools throughout Nova Scotia on Sunday, May 24th. It is hoped all schools in our county will observe this day. Its purpose is to help all work of the Sunday School Association.

Programmes have been sent to all schools in the County but if any school is without these programmes a card sent to headquarters' office, Metropole Building, Room 57, Halifax, will secure you any number of programmes needed. The collection taken on Association Day is to be sent to your District Secretary, and these collections help pay our County Apportionment which is $80.00, so that we would ask for a liberal collection from all schools.

The Sunday School Association expects every school to do its duty on the 24th of May.

Joseph E. Snow's arrivals this week: 4,805 lbs. of haddock from boatmen, shipped 212 boxes of finnan haddies, 17,132 lbs. of salt cod, 32,200 lbs. haddock, 1,146 lbs. of eusk, 4,100 lbs. of hake, 21 tons fish skins.

The Norwegian steamer Frances, which is chartered to carry a cargo of coal from New York to St. John, is a boat of 600 tons register, and left Weymouth a few days ago for New York with a cargo of pulp shipped by the Campbell Lumber Company.

Yarmouth Times: On Saturday the schooners Eddie James arrived with 1,300 pounds halibut, 2,200 cod and 800 shad; Nelson A., 2,200 halibut, 3,100 cod and 700 eusk; Nathalie 450 halibut, 1,000 cod and 350 seals. These vessels belong to Henry A. Amiraunt's fleet, he purchasing the fares.

St. John Globe:—W. S. Troop, proprietor of the Manhattan Hotel, at Digby, is at the Dufferin. Speaking to a reporter Mr. Troop said the Digby fishing fleet had made exceptionally good catches during the winter and spring seasons, and owing to the ready market and good prices vessel owners and fishermen had made money.

The following vessels have reported at the Digby Customs house since May 8th: Inward—11th, Stmr. St. George, Cardiff, St. John; Schr. Snow Maiden, Hicks, Westport; Schr. W. M. Richards, Richards, Bear River; 12th, Schr. Cora Gertie, Crocker, Freeport. Outward—11th, Stmr. St. George, Cardiff, St. John; 12th, Schr. Cora Gertie, Crocker, Little River, Schr. Snow Maiden, Hicks, Westport.

Yarmouth Times: There is an exhibition in Kirk Brothers' window, a picture of the ship Witch of the Wave, one of Boston's clippers of 1859. It was the property of Captain Carlsen, of the Norwegian ship Malbala. The picture is a work of art. The water and sky are painted but the vessel is worked entirely in silk with real silk sails. The artist's name was Willis. Charles H. Taylor, jr., of the Boston Globe, who is in town, saw the picture this morning and purchased it at once to add to his collection of over 800 similar marine views, and it will likely be taken across tomorrow.

A Yarmouth despatch on Wednesday says: Today has been another good day in fish circles. The Digby schooner Dorothy G. Snow, which has not been here for some time, took a good fare of halibut to the Consumers' Fish company. The Yarmouth schooner Nathalie and Eddie James arrived, the former with 3,000 pounds of halibut and 5,000 pounds of shad, and the latter with 2,000 pounds of halibut and 5,000 pounds of shad. Both fares were sold to Henry A. Amiraunt, who also purchased a number of small boat fares, totalling about 15,000 pounds of cod and shad. Another big shipment of live lobsters is going forward tonight, consisting of over 400 crates. The shipments are keeping up remarkably well considering that there are almost twenty Maine smacks here picking up the fish.

W. N. S. Y. C.

The cold weather this spring has somewhat delayed work on Digby's pleasure fleet. The only boats in commission as yet are the Oakealla and Big Chief. The Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club's Intrepid will be put down in a few days. The caretaker will be on duty at the Club house, beginning Monday, June 15th, continuing to September 15th, as usual. The Club's regular meeting will be held on Monday evening, June 9th. In the meantime payment is requested from those who are in arrears for dues for 1914. Several new members have been recently added to the list.

Victoria Man Kills Wife

VICTORIA, B. C., May 12.—Archib Young murdered his wife in her bed today and then attempted suicide with the same weapon. He is in St. Joseph's hospital in a dying condition. He cut his wife's throat from ear to ear. Jealously is believed to have been the motive.

Passed a Large Derelict.

ABANDONED CRAFT HAD NO FUNNEL—MAY BE THE HULK OF BURNED COLUMBIAN.

SYDNEY, N. S., May 13.—The steamer Karama, Captain Mogg, which arrived at Sydney yesterday from London to load rails for Sydney, Australia, brings word of a large abandoned steamer or having been passed in mid-Atlantic. The Karama has a wireless message on May 8 from the steamer La Tour, since the effect that the latter had passed the derelict the day before in latitude 41 17, longitude 30.13 west and that it was considered dangerous to navigation.

The abandoned steamer had no funnel and shipping men are unable to make any conjecture as to her identity. Captain Mogg advances the suggestion that it may be the hulk of the burned steamer Columbian. He states that she would have to drift at the rate of eleven knots an hour to make the spot where the derelict was passed.

The captain of the Karama also reported having seen the wreck of the steamer Georgic on May 6 stating that the latter had passed a bell buoy in 40 22 M., 45 05 W.

10 CENT "CASARETS"

FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Cure Sick Headache, Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath—Candy Cathartic.

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches, how miserable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish bowels—you always get relief with Casarets. They immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet and head clear for months. They work while you sleep.

I OWE MY LIFE TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

They Did Me More Good Than All Other Treatments Combined

Mrs. H. S. Williams

PALMERSTON, ONT., June 20th, 1913. "I really believe that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-tives'. Ever since childhood, I have been under the care of physicians and have been paying doctors' bills. I was so sick and worn out that people on the street often asked me if I thought I could get along without help. The same old stomach trouble and distressing headaches nearly drove me wild. Some time ago I got a box of 'Fruit-a-tives' and the first box did me good. My husband was delighted and advised a continuation of their use. 'Fruit-a-tives' completely cured me. Today, I am feeling fine, and a physician meeting me on the street, noticed my improved appearance and asked me the reason. I replied, 'I am taking Fruit-a-tives'. He said, 'Well, if 'Fruit-a-tives' are making you look so well, go ahead and take them. They are doing more for you than I can'.

Mrs. H. S. Williams. "Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

and adopted, and the amounts set out therein paid forthwith, viz:

A Satisfactory Service.

S. S. YARMOUTH, CAPT. ANDREW MACDONALD, HAS CHOSEN THE DAY IN ALL KINDS OF WEATHER.

Notwithstanding the boisterous weather of 1913 14, the S. S. Yarmouth, under command of Capt. Andrew MacDonald, has performed the winter service across the Bay of Fundy between St. John and Digby with as much regularity as an express train could have done it on land.

The Yarmouth made her last trip for the present Saturday afternoon, after which she sailed for Halifax to go in dry dock for a thorough overhauling.

S. S. George, Capt. Cardiff, came on the route Monday and it is expected will perform the service with a speed of 22 knots per hour.

When the double daily service across the Bay commences, which will be earlier this year than usual, the S. S. George will leave St. John for Digby at noon on the arrival of the Atlantic express, connecting with a fast train at Digby for Halifax.

Surprise Party at Marshalltown

A pleasant social event took place at Marshalltown, on Friday evening, May 8th, the occasion being a genuine "surprise" for Mr. James Hutchinson on his seventy-fifth birthday. A large number of relatives and friends were present and thoroughly enjoyed the evening, which was spent in music and social chat.

Tea was served early in the evening, the table being beautifully decorated with artificial flowers and evergreens and bountifully spread with all the delicacies of the season, the centre piece being a huge birthday cake which attracted the attention of all. During the evening a number of letters and cards were read, expressing regrets from absent friends and wishing Mr. Hutchinson long life and happiness. The members of the family who were not present were all represented by letter.

A number of nice presents were received including a handsome cash amount. The party broke up at a late hour, wishing Mr. Hutchinson many happy returns of the day.

ONE PHRASE.

I. O. O. F. Anniversary.

YARMOUTH, May 10 - Diamond Lodge, I. O. O. F., celebrated the ninety-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Order in America, by attending divine service at Temple United Baptist Church this morning. There was an unusually large attendance and a very impressive sermon was preached by Rev. H. P. Smith.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

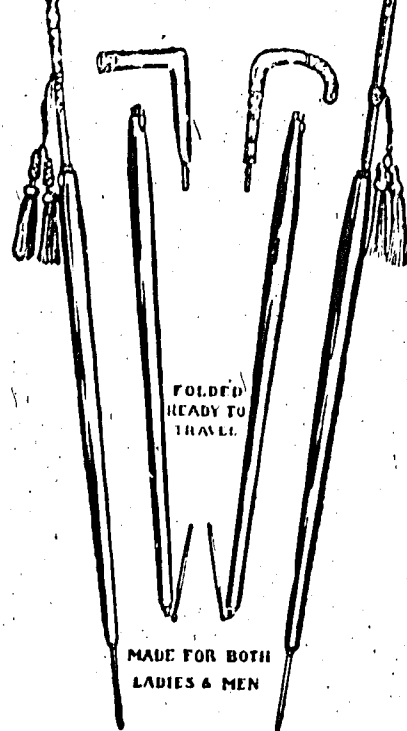

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; it is dandruff—that awful scourge. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

"More Mileage per Gal."

White Rose Gasoline

Competition is the life of trade, in the Gasoline business, as in any other business and without a doubt the very reasonable price of Gasoline today is due to this competition. Do away with the competition and the price will probably change. Thus it will be plain to see that in the long run it will pay to support the price. But the main reason why you should buy White Rose is the fact that it is an absolutely clean Gasoline. When you buy it you are paying for an A1 quality Gasoline that will give you first-class engine service and your machine will always run sweet and steady. Then again test the lasting qualities against any other gas. It's easily done by trying a gal. of the different kinds of gas in your tank and testing the time they will run. That will convince you that you ought to buy White Rose even at a small advance in price for it will be the cheapest in the end.

Makes Hard Work Easy!

DUSTING, cleaning and polishing hardwood floors is hard, back-breaking work. An almost never ending task and seldom satisfactory the old way. But it is easy, quick and satisfactory the new way—using the O-Cedar Polish Mop. With it you can spend a few minutes doing what it now takes you almost half a day. You simply pass the O-Cedar Polish Mop over the floor and every particle of dust and dirt is taken up and held. The floor is given a hard, durable, lasting polish and shine.

O-Cedar Polish Mop

Is also used for the dusting and cleaning of the tops of high furniture, between the balusters of the stairs and is so made that you can get to the far corner under the bed, beneath the radiator and other hard-to-get-at places.
Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Refunded.
Try an O-Cedar Polish Mop for two days at our risk. Test it every way for two days and if you are not delighted with it we will promptly refund your money.

Amherst Pianos Educational Contest is Extended to June 2nd

During the last week of April so many requests came in for particulars of our Great Educational Contest and since that date so many answers have been received to the questions asked, that we have, after careful consideration, come to the conclusion that it would be only fair to extend the time a little longer and thus permit these rather late comers to participate in this great contest.

We, therefore, have much pleasure in announcing that the Contest will not be closed until Tuesday, June 2nd. No paper received after that date can be considered.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR: I notice in your edition of the 7th ult. a communication from Mrs. Margaret Merkel concerning that Sibley fund. Now I think it concerns the good name of Digby to see that the one hundred and fifty dollars be raised at once. Now let us take a new start. I will send another $200 and I will ask all those who subscribed last fall to again send in a small amount and I am sure that the good charitable people of the town of Digby will appropriate a little of their spare money to this worthy object. Then let the little of the place be made out so that the place cannot be taken away from them at any time. If hard times should come upon them in the future, put it in the town's name for the use of the Sibley family as long as they wish to inhabit it. Now get on a hustle. I will read the names each week in the COURIER and I am looking for some $5.00 subscriptions.

Yours truly,
E. C. BOWERS.

Death of a Former Plympton Man.

Gloucester Times, May 6: Michael Amero, a well-known resident of East Gloucester, died suddenly at his residence, 63 Haskell street, at 7 o'clock Sunday night, at the age of 63 years, 10 days. Mr. Amero was stricken with a paralytic shock a short time ago but it was not believed to be serious. His death, although not entirely unexpected, came rather suddenly Sunday night. He was a native of Plympton, N. S., and was the son of John and Mary (Domeau) Amero. He has lived in this city for many years and for quite a period was a contractor and pile driver. He was twice married, his second wife being Pauline LeBlanc, who survives him with two daughters: Mrs. Frank Deveau, of Saultville, N. S., and Mrs. John Walsh of Salem; also a son, James Amero, of this city. He also leaves two brothers: Sylvester and Edward Amero, of Plympton, N. S., and three sisters: Mrs. Charlotte Doucette, of Plympton, N. S.; Mrs. Jane Amero, of Barton, N. S., and a married sister in Ipswich.

Bomb Placed in London Church.

LONDON, May 10—A bomb placed by suffragettes exploded this afternoon in the gallery of the Metropolitan Tabernacle in South London, an edifice made famous by the late Rev. Charles H. Spurgeon.

Little damage was done by the explosion. It is believed that the bomb, which consisted of a canister containing about two pounds of powder, was placed in the gallery during the morning service, which ended about half past twelve o'clock. An hour later the caretaker in the Tabernacle was startled by the explosion where the bomb exploded was a card on which was written: "Put your religion into practice and see that women obtain their freedom."

Newspaper Men in Mexico Arrested.

VERA CRUZ, May 8—Walter Whiffen, correspondent of the Associated Press, a photographer for the Washington Post, Oliver M. Hueffer, correspondent of the London Express, and another English correspondent named Bourke, were placed under arrest by the Mexican authorities at Mexico City Thursday evening. They had just arrived from Vera Cruz and the police were waiting with coaches when the train drew into the station. All were taken to the jail under guard, and Messrs. Whiffen and Bourke were held for investigation. The two Englishmen were released, and the officer who arrested them was reprimanded.

Man's Body on Floating Ice Cake.

CHARLOTTETOWN, May 10—On Saturday morning a lobster fisherman employed at S. C. Clarke's factory at Blooming Point on the north side of the island, found the body of a man frozen fast in a floating ice cake about half a mile from land. Having nothing in his boat with which he could cut the body loose from the ice the fisherman had to abandon it. A heavy gale coming up the boat had to make for land, and could not return to the body which was carried out to sea.

The dead man was evidently a sailor or fisherman judging from his clothing and is thought to be one of the Newfoundland sailors who perished in the recent disaster.

Seized Twenty Cases of Arms.

DUBLIN, May 9—The customs authorities today seized twenty cases of arms and ammunition from a ship, from Baltimore. The contents of the cases were described in the invoices as fowling pieces manufactured in the United States. They were consigned to an English firm at Wolverhampton for delivery at Dublin.

The Lord Charlemont sailed from Baltimore, April 18, and arrived at Belfast on May 4, where she discharged a portion of her cargo.

Winter Weather in England.

LONDON, May 2—May was ushered in with a pleasant northerly wind. The sun shone heavily for five hours but infused little warmth into the atmosphere, and furs and overcoats were worn generally.

Intense cold prevailed in Scotland and all the leading mountain ranges had a fresh covering of snow.

Two Men Drowned.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., May 3—Two Port Hammond men, John Thompson and David Auvazat, were drowned yesterday afternoon in a small lake six miles from here. Up to the present, the bodies have not been recovered. The men were out fishing, and it is surmised that the boat upset, as it was found bottom up.

Canning Factories Will be Inspected.

The work in connection with that portion of the meat and canned foods act of 1910, which relates to canned fish and lobsters has been transferred to the marine and fisheries department, and the fishery officers in the various counties of the Provinces have been notified to inspect the canning factories in their districts.

The reason is quite easy of solution as the quality and value is incomparable. Get a packet today and become one of the millions of others getting unbounded satisfaction—but of course you must insist upon getting "Balanda" and not a substitute.

FALLING HAIR AND ITCHING SCALP

Needless—Use Parisian Sage

Now that Parisian Sage can be had at any drug counter it is certainly needless to have thin, brittle, matted, stringy or faded hair. No matter how unsightly the hair, how badly it is falling, or how much dandruff, Parisian Sage is all that is needed. Frequent applications and well rubbed into the scalp will do wonders—it acts like magic. The hair roots are nourished and stimulated to grow new hair, itching scalp, dandruff and falling hair cease—your head feels fine. Best of all, the hair becomes soft, fluffy, abundant and radiant with life and beauty.

You will be surprised and delighted with Parisian Sage. Try at least one fifty cent bottle from H. E. Jones he will refund the purchase price if you are not satisfied.

END STOMACH TROUBLE, CASES OF DYSPEPSIA

"Pape's Diapyslin" makes Sick, Sour, Gassy Stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of distension, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach-headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes. Put an end to stomach trouble forever by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapyslin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder. It's the quickest, surest stomach doctor in the world. It's wonderful.

Westport.

When the weather is good our fishermen meet with good success.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Adams, of Bear River, are visiting at Councillor H. P. Bowers.

Mr. George Clements reports his pens up two inches, pretty good considering the cold spring.

We regret to learn of the illness of Mrs. S. T. Payson and hope that her recovery may be rapid.

George Dakin is rendering his home beautiful this spring by a liberal use of paint both inside and out.

Mr. E. A. Payson, who has been sick since Christmas, is again getting around, and it is good to see him filling his place once more.

Mrs. F. C. Bowers made a flying trip to St. John, leaving Tuesday and returning Saturday. Her place in the invalid's room was kindly and acceptably filled by Mrs. H. P. Bowers.

Mr. John Churchill has been ill for some time. John is too good a man to have to lie in bed and is missed very much from his store. Our wishes are to see him soon in his old haunts.

Rev. Edwin Crowell arrived on Saturday evening and preached on Sunday in the Baptist church to a large congregation. He left the 11th for Yarmouth, via Weymouth, on the S. S. Westport.

Mrs. S. T. Payson has returned from St. John, where she has been on a three weeks' visit to her sons Harold and Franklin, the former is in the Quebec Bank and the latter in the Bank of Commerce.

Mr. Benjamin Gower and wife arrived on the 9th from St. Andrews, via St. John, on the S. S. Westport. Friend Ben has been absent some 4 or 5 years and brings a Norwegian lass for his better half. We hope that he may remain with us for a time.

We notice that the gardeners are at work planting their early vegetables. Owing to the quality of our soil, as soon as the frost comes out our land is ready for planting. Mr. George Clements was the first to break ground this year, followed by Mrs. William Kent, who was a close second.

Lines written on the departure of the Rev. Donald Mackenzie from Westport, April, 1914.

You're going soon, yes very soon, across the trackless deep,
You're trending towards old Scotland's hills,
Where you're forefathers sleep;
Your hearts are yearning now to clasp the dearly loved one's hands,
Then warm will be the greeting shown in those far distant lands.

Once there, you'll tell of battles waged 'gainst storm and stress and sin;
Perchance you'll tell of emigrants, that this land gathers in,
Discourse of its broad areas, its prairies and its lakes,
And of its rich and fruitful soil, that independence makes.

You'll speak of its vast mountain range capped with eternal snow,
And of the rushing stream that through vast canyons ever flows;
Then of the three bright lands of steel that run from coast to coast,
And of the mighty inland seas, and of the fleets they boast.

You'll talk of our great heritage and of its fields of wheat,
Show how they use the great machine to plough and sow and reap;
Speak of its wealth of fur and fish from Northern wilds and sea,
Then show how here is an empire grand whose heart beats loyal.

Perhaps you'll tell of pastures in country and by sea,
And of the friends you leave behind, who will remember thee,
Then of the woods, and hills and streams and of the village street,
Oh, you will tell of these two ways and where their surges meet.

Yes 'e'en this land where it projects way out in Fundy's Bay,
Antelope how fishermen go forth in motor boats each day,
When you then look on hill and glen in Caledonia's land,
Your heart will thrill with ecstasy as all can understand.

'Tis thus almost with every one where e'er their lot is cast,
Their thoughts go backward to their home, with visions of the past;
Was not your Scottish poet spoke in words that in us burned,
Of that vile wretch whose waking thoughts have never homeward turned.

How we will pray God go with thee, and with thy partner dear,
And with the bairns whose little forms you take with you from here,
Then when you see its firrns and braes, the heather and its flowers,
We'll ask your thoughts to sometimes turn to this dear land of ours.

Old Tim.

Meteghan River

The Clare creamery is now in operation and with its system of gathering the cream it will have a good chance to cover a larger territory this year.

Mr. Ducy Comeau has opened a new store in the place with a pool room in the same building, which is quite an attraction for the young men and boys.

The scho. Fleetly, laden with lumber, sailed last week for Porto Rico. When towed out of this port by the Harry L., she struck on a bank of gravel and great excitement was expressed that she was going to meet with trouble, but the Harry L. kept on pulling hard and succeeded in dragging her out of the harbor, causing a great surprise to those present. Capt. Trank has a good right to be proud of his little boat, because she tows well for her size.

Freeport.

Spring house cleaning is the order of the day.
Mrs. George Lent is spending a few days in St. John.

Schr. Cora Gortie has resumed her weekly trips to Digby.

Mrs. Maria Thurber has left for St. John to visit relatives.

Mrs. Rudolph Campbell is spending a few weeks in St. John.

Miss Neta Nass has returned from her visit to Kingston, Mass.

Mrs. Leslie Finigan spent the week end with relatives at Westport.

Mr. Gordon Stenderon was called home suddenly on account of his father's illness.

Mr. Elias Everett has been engaged at mason work at Long Beach for the past two weeks.

We are glad to report the new lights in the Freeport Baptist church a decided success.

We are glad to report Mrs. David Thurber and Miss Oressa MacNeil improving in health.

Master Holland Outhouse, of Tiverton, is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Young.

Mrs. Jane Nickerson has arrived from Yarmouth to spend the summer months with her daughter, Mrs. Samuel Thurber.

Messrs. Jos. and Rob Moran, of Philadelphia, are making a short visit at home on account of the illness of their mother, Mrs. H. Stenderon.

Mr. Waitstill Wyman, of St. John, is at home for a short time. His house on Pleasant St. is being improved by the addition of a fresh coat of paint.

The members of the B. M. C. Club met for their last meeting this season, May 4th, at Mr. J. A. Crocker's ice cream parlor. The event was celebrated by refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake. The majority of the members were there and all reported a good time. A play was given by the members of the club in the winter and the sum of $30.00 was realized which was given towards church purposes.

Mr. J. F. Morrison, with a crew of workmen, are building an addition to the Victoria Beach breakwater.

Capt. E. Keans will have his fishing schooner, Florence M. overhauled and newly painted throughout. Painter, P. G. Kendall.

James Delap, of Lower Granville, has made a number of purchases of live stock recently, among others being a yoke of oxen from R. H. Hayden, a yoke of oxen from James W. Snow and a horse from David Hayden. Cattle are in good demand here.

Lakeside

The farmers are sowing, the grass is a growing, the alder and maple are putting forth leaves, the gander is quacking, the geese are a-talking, and the swallows are building their nest in the eaves. The birds are singing, the chickenhawk swinging above in a circle enroute for his prey, while housewives are scrubbing and painting and drubbing for house cleaning as us by night and by day. Theirs is entrancing, the cattle are prancing, and wild geese are wending their way to the north, the bull frog is grunting, and the skunk is a hunting for the old hen that's waiting for chicks to come forth. The young folks are courting, the children are sportng while their mothers are busy at making new mats, and anon are discussing (and sometimes are cursing) the outrageous styles of T. Eaton's spring hats. All nature is humming and summer is coming, and soon the mail auto will be at our door, and spite of the breakdowns and numerous shakedowns, is a wondrous improvement on the service of yore. So in planting and sowing and reaping and mowing and dwelling with nature our purpose is bent; at peace with our neighbors, with strength for our labors, and all else we need, our hearts are content.

Mr. John Snow, of Port Wade, and Mr. Frank Lent, of Digby, were in the village on Tuesday on business.

Mrs. John H. Post spent a few days in Digby with her mother, Mrs. Mary Ann Adams, who is very sick.

We are glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Deamond and daughter Edna, of the United States, in their summer residence here.

St. Pleasant.

Mr. John Stark, of St. John, spent a few days this week with relatives in this place.

Mr. Cornell Woodworth had the misfortune of losing one of his horses on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Vantassel, of Digby, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Grenier.

Mr. Pike, of Centerville, spent a few days last week with his friend, Mr. Reuben Woodworth.

Mr. Venning Handsphaker has sold his yoke of oxen to Mr. D. J. Morehouse, of Sandy Cove, for the sum of $250 and has purchased another yoke from Mr. John Freeman, of Lansdowne.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Vantassel spent Sunday in Roxville, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McKay.

Mrs. Frank Lent and daughter Olive, of Digby, spent one day last week with Mrs. Archie Handsphaker.

Miss Viola Handsphaker, who has been in Digby the past few weeks, returned home on Monday suffering with an attack of rheumatism.

Meteghan.

Mr. Melbourne Comeau was at Church Point Sunday afternoon.

Mr. James Geddrie, Station Agent at Meteghan Station, and Mrs. Geddrie drove to Salmon River Sunday, 10th inst., returning back Sunday.

Mr. J. A. Doveau and his friends Mr. George V. Comeau, Mr. William Saulnier and Mr. Jule Comeau were at Salmon River Saturday, 9th inst., returning back Sunday.

We are having a treat of spring weather these last few days, and every where the fields are putting on their beautiful robes of green. It is only a few weeks that everything was wrapped up in a mantle of white, and vegetation seemed dead, but under the beneficent rays of the king of day new life is all around apparent. The swallows, the joy of young and old, have returned, and the ponds, swamps and woods resound with the notes of nature's orchestra. The farmers are busy in their fields planting their seeds. On the briny waters of the bay the fishermen are also busy, profiting of the clemency of the weather to bring rich harvest of crustaceans and other fishes. Speaking of the fishermen, the weather for some time past have been so unfavorable, occasioning loss of gear, etc., that now to compensate for their hard luck, it seems it would only be just that the lobster season be extended for a couple of weeks. The harbor front is also awakening to the fair notes of spring. The schr. Florence E. Melanson, is on Robichau's marine slip undergoing extensive repairs. The tug Wasson, of St. John, N. B., left several days ago altogether renovated by Robichau Bros. On the 29th ult., being still in the harbor, flags and bunting were displayed from her masts floating gaily to the breeze in honor of her owner's marriage, Mr. A. W. Adams, St. John, N. B. The breakwater is needing repairs, and the federal grant of $8000, comes right up to the point. The Meteghan Creamery is in full blast since the 15th ult. We are equipped to make first class butter; but that can compete with any in the Dominion. We are not using sour cream coming from twenty miles around exposed to the scorching rays of the sun, but fresh and pure milk taken to the creamery every day. Our friend Master Andrew Robichau, is learning to become an expert butter maker. We wish our esteemed friend success, as Mr. Robichau is a very promising young man who will make his mark in the world.

Weymouth North.

Mrs. Musselle is the guest of Mrs. H. Journeay.

Mr. Smith, of St. John, is the guest of Mr. Freeman Nichol.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Journeay are off on a fishing expedition.

Miss Mariel Nichol returned from St. John and will spend the summer at home.

Rev. J. Taylor, also Mr. H. L. Jones are attending the closing exercises at King's College.

The rite of baptism by emersion was administered to five candidates on Sunday, the 10th, by Pastor Webb.

Lower Granville

The telephone men have been repairing this line the past week and were at the River View over Sunday.

Mrs. Frank Robles and little son Gilbert left on Friday, via St. John, by train to visit her parents in Passaic, N. J.

Vernon Clark sold a very fine yoke of oxen on Saturday to Ira Gilliat, they being the second pair he has sold to the same man this spring.

THE MEXICAN WAR

Villa Now Has Control of Mexico's Second Seaport.

FEDERAL GUNBOATS WITHDRAW TO OUTSIDE HARBOR—CARRANZA'S TROOPS ARE PRACTICALLY OUT OF AMMUNITION AND MUST LOOK TO FOREIGN SOURCES FOR A SUPPLY.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Constitutionalists here are authority for the statement that after the battles of Tampico and Saltillo, now being fought, the rebels will have little ammunition left with which to continue the fight against Huerta. With a practical embargo on the importation of munitions of war across the American border in effect the rebels believe their only chance of getting additional munitions will be from abroad.

News of the fighting at Tampico came in brief despatches to the navy department. First, Rear Admiral Mayo reported firing since 5 a. m., continuing until the afternoon. He stated that the federal lacked ammunition and could not hold out. Shortly afterward reports came from Admiral Mayo that the federal evacuation had begun.

The taking of Tampico, the port next in importance to Vera Cruz, will raise many interesting questions as the Constitutionalists have hitherto held no sea coast towns. It is possible that the federal gunboats outside the harbor, reported by Rear Admiral Mayo, may seek to prevent arms and supplies from landing at Tampico, but such an interference with international commerce might not be tolerated by the big foreign ships lying there and complications are possible.

FEDERALS EVACUATE TAMPICO.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Evacuation of Tampico by the Mexican Federal garrison began at 12:50 p. m. today, according to a relayed wireless despatch to the navy department from Rear Admiral Mayo. The Federal troops were leaving by the railroad.

That the rebels encountered desperate resistance in their final attack on Tampico and that they were compelled to carry their fight to the heart of the town was indicated by Admiral Mayo's report. He stated that at 1 o'clock this afternoon, when it was reported the rebels had occupied Tampico, there was heavy rifle firing in the place and that big gun firing continued.

Advices received by Constitutionalists here stated the Federals were evacuating Tampico, but details were lacking.

The federals were retreating by way of the railroad leading to San Luis Potosí, and it was assumed that they hoped to reach Pachuca, the terminus of a railway line that leads indirectly to Mexico City. The railroad out of Tampico to Monterey is held by the Constitutionalists.

MEXICAN GUNBOATS QUIT TAMPICO.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Rear Admiral Mayo at Tampico reported to the navy department tonight that at 2 p. m. the Mexican federal gunboats Bravo and Zaragoza steamed out of the Panuco river and anchored near the foreign warships outside.

The gunboats have been the chief support of the garrison, and their flight was accepted by naval officers here as meaning that the Constitutionalists were about to occupy the town.

REBELS SPURN ALLIANCE WITH HUERTA.

NOGALES, SONORA, MEXICO, May 13.—A proposition from the secretary of the interior at Mexico city that the Constitutionalists send a commission to the capital to arrange for the amalgamation of all contending parties in Mexico, was transmitted yesterday to General Alvarado by General Teller, the Huerta commander at Guaymas.

Teller offered to send a formal commission to the rebels to make preliminary arrangements, but Alvarado replied that he would promptly execute any emissaries sent into his lines. In his reply, Alvarado said the Federals were murderers and traitors and that the destinies of Mexicans were in the hands of Carranza.

Unemployed in the West Cause Trouble

THOUSANDS OF MEN IDLE, AND RAILWAYS ARE LITTLE WORK IS OFFERING.

EDMONTON, Alta., May 12.—The unemployed, headed by organizers of the I. W. W., are again becoming a troublesome element to the police. On Monday they held a demonstration on market square, where two thousand people gathered and sang Marsellaise and other revolutionary songs. Today another big parade is being arranged, and delegations will wait upon the civic and provincial governments demanding that they be given work. Employment agencies for various railways say there is very little work offering at the present time, but a number of men will be required in the course of a few weeks.

Halifax Vessel Wrecked

CHARLOTTETOWN, May 12.—Peter McNutt and Sons, of Maplegrove, received word today that their 130-ton 22-year old schooner Sir Louis, bound from Halifax to Maplegrove, with a cargo of general merchandise, was wrecked off Arichat, C. B.

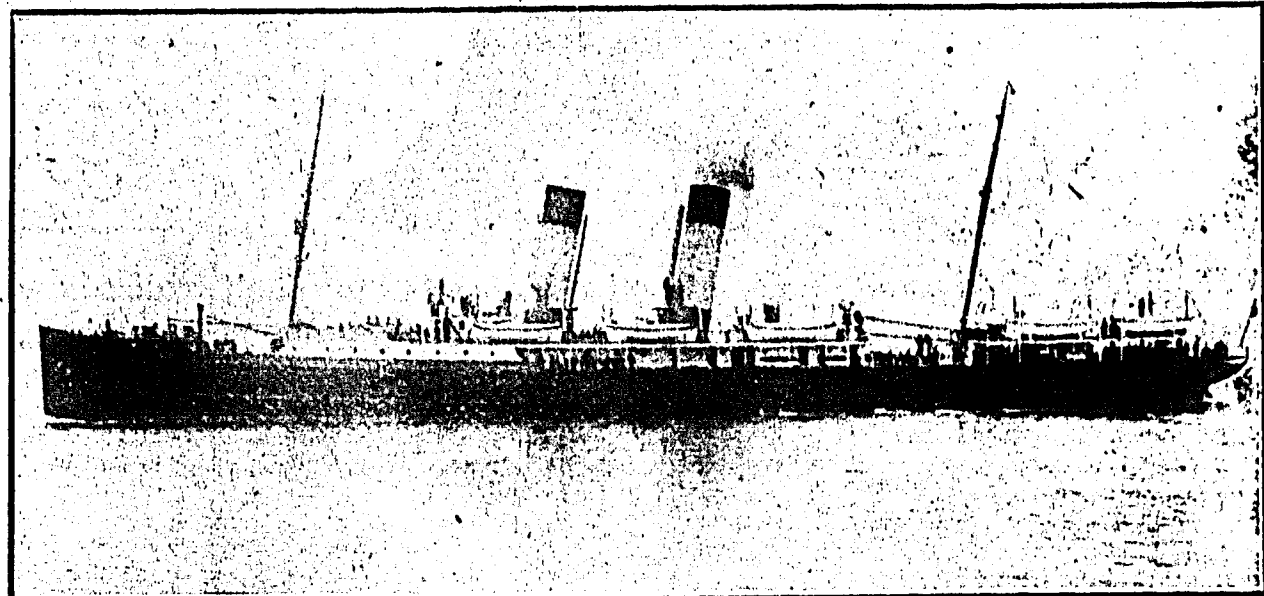

Captain Landry and crew of five were saved. The vessel struck a rock and sank. The cargo floated ashore. The schooner was valued at $2,000 and the cargo at $5,000. Both were fully insured.

The S. S. St. George

THE C. P. R.'S FLYER AGAIN ON THE DIGBY-ST. JOHN ROUTE.

The S. S. St. George arrived here Monday morning from St. John under command of Capt. Cardiff, and almost an entire set of new officers. On her return trip to St. John Capt. Cardiff was taken ill and remained ashore at that port suffering with tonsillitis. Capt. Amos Potter, late master of the S. S. Prince Rupert, was placed in command Monday night and is still in charge, making record time in the Bay and docking the big flyer on both ends of the route with the promptness and skill for which he is noted by the travelling public and those on the wharves who like to see a ship cleverly handled.

Another popular officer on the S. S. St. George is Purser A. S. Potter, who has been on the bay route on the steamers Prince Rupert, Yarmouth and St. George. Mr. Potter is very quiet, but is obliging and courteous with the patrons of the line. He strictly attends to his company's business and lets other people's business alone and with his other good qualities, many of which we could mention, is bound to succeed in his present capacity.

The following is a complete list of the ship's principal officers:

J. S. Barclay, Chief Officer.
J. T. Kelly, Chief Engineer.
A. S. Potter, Purser.
G. McDonald, Chief Steward.
W. Flanagan, 2d Engineer.
H. B. Lovell, 3d Engineer.
L. S. Kelly, 4th Engineer.
J. N. Tennison, 2d Officer.
V. Williams, 2d Steward.
E. Harlow, Wireless Operator.

His many friends will join the Captain in wishing Capt. Cardiff a speedy recovery from his present illness.

Wednesday's St. John Telegraph contained the following: "People along the water front were treated to a splendid exhibition of skill in manoeuvring a camera when Capt. A. G. Potter, acting commander of the C. P. R. steamer St. George, swung the big tubular camera against the fresh yesterday morning with remarkable steadiness and dispatch and headed the flyer towards Digby in a manner that elicited much praise from admiring spectators. The St. George and the Governor Cobb arrived last evening at 5 o'clock and both vessels were docked against the wharf with ease and precision—and without the aid of a tug."

A Carnival of Lobsters.

165,000 BROUGHT TO MONSTON IN 48 HOURS.

(Boston Post, May 10)

Boston is enjoying a lobster festival, for during the past 48 hours 165,000 live lobsters, averaging about a pound each, arrived at this port from Nova Scotia.

This is a record receipt for so short a period and resulted in causing the dealers' prices to drop lower than they have been for many years at this time of year.

The steamer Boston yesterday brought about 33,600 live lobsters from Yarmouth, N. S., and the schooner Little Elsie brought 10,000 from Clark's Harbor, N. S. The schooner Clara A. Marston brought 9,500 live lobsters and the schooner C. A. Dolliver brought 7,500, both from Clark's Harbor, N. S. The coasting steamers Prince George and Halifax brought approximately 50,000.

This was the largest consignment ever brought to this port in a single day. Quotations were: Live weight, 18 to 20 cents per pound for the large and 16 to 18 for the "chicken" sizes.

Tritonia in Danger.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., May 13.—The Donaldson Line steamer Tritonia which has been caught in the ice fields at Notre Dame Bay for the past two weeks, sent a wireless message to agents here today saying she was in danger of being driven on Fogo Shoals by insular winds. The ice pack made her unmanoeuvrable.

A request was made that a sealing steamer be sent to the Tritonia's aid. The Allan Line's Mongolian, arriving here from Glasgow, reports the worst conditions regarding the number and size of the icebergs from the Brank Banks, ever experienced by anybody on board.

The steamer Tritonia from Glasgow, icebound, in Notre Dame Bay wireless and asking the agent to have a sealing steamer available to help her if insular winds threaten to drive her upon the rocks in the vicinity where she is now lying. The steamer Bollaventa is accordingly being made ready for the service if required.

Van Tassel Not the Man Wanted

YARMOUTH, N. S., May 13.—Harry Van Tassel, the Digby man, who was arrested here at the instance of the New Hampshire authorities, has been released. An officer who has arrived here from New Hampshire declares that he is not the man wanted.

Little River.

Mr. C. Denton spent Sunday with his family.

Mrs. John Tibert has returned from Weymouth.

Mrs. Walter Denton visited friends at Sandy Cove last week.

Mrs. Evelyn Morehouse picked a strawberry blossom last Saturday.

Mrs. Omer Denton went to Weymouth Monday, returning Tuesday.

Mrs. John Trask visited Mr. Wm. Eldridge at Sandy Cove last Sunday.

Mrs. Roy Trask and Mrs. Oscar Trask spent Wednesday with friends at Tiverton.

The Misses Muriel Denton and Hilda Trask spent a few days last week at Tiverton.

Mr. Hugh Denton left for Eastport last week where he has a good position. We wish him success.

Mrs. Wm. Denton has a small cluster of daffodils growing in her garden that has 52 blossoms on it.

Mother's day was observed in the church here Sunday evening, and appropriate music rendered by the choir for the occasion.

Mr. Darrell Cheney, who purchased schr. Trinity from part in Fro-port, has returned from St. John. We are sorry to report he had the misfortune to hurt his foot while installing an engine in her.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Collins have moved into their house recently purchased from Mr. Sydney Denton, having enlarged his father's house, Mr. Harding Denton's, and living in one part of it, on account of his father's ill health.

The marriage of Miss Lottie Powell of Central Grove, to Mr. Sylvester G. Pine took place Tuesday evening, May 5th, at the home of the groom, Mr. Charles W. Pine. Our pastor, Rev. Mr. Kinley officiating. Only the immediate family being present.

A very pretty wedding took place at the Baptist church Thursday evening when Miss Helena Trask and Mr. Shirley Tidd were united in holy bonds of matrimony. Our pastor, Rev. Mr. Kinley, performing the ceremony. The church was prettily decorated for the occasion by her many friends and was well filled, the service being very impressive.

The bride was dressed in a handsome blue suit with white picture hat and looked very charming.

The Temperance Hall, which has lately been remodeled and made a two story building by Messrs. Speights Bros., of Barton, has been completed. The lower flat has a slanting floor with enlarged stage and up to date ante rooms. Side walls are finished in beaver board while the ceiling is finished in a pretty design of metal. The upper story will be used for suppers and other social functions. This is certainly a great addition to the community. The reopening was Saturday, when a social evening was spent in speeches, music, readings, etc., given voluntarily, after which a collection was taken up and the sum of $11.00 realized for the benefit of the hall.

A three act farce entitled "The Voice of Authority" was put on by local talent in the new hall last Saturday night.

CHARACTERS.

Jean Campbell—Stenographer.

Mrs. John Trask.

Priscilla Carter—Newspaper Woman.

Although not a pleasant night the house was crowded and the sum of $25.00 realized.

The young ladies under Mrs. Omer Denton will shortly give another three act farce entitled "Lucia's Lover. Please be on the lookout for posters.

Another Revolt in Venezuela.

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, May 12.—Venezuelan revolutionists, who are believed to have made their way down from the British Guiana frontier, have seized the small towns of Imataca and Tucupita on the Orinoco river.

The collector of customs at Imataca is a prisoner; one official at Tucupita was shot. There are both United States and Canadian interests at Imataca.

Gun Running Operations Continue.

WARSHIPS ORDERED TO MAINTAIN A MORE VIGILANT WATCH.

BELFAST, May 13.—The gun running operations of the Ulster Unionists have been renewed on a big scale and twenty machine guns have been landed on the coast of County Down during the past two nights, according to information received by customs authorities here today. This information was reported to the Admiralty and warships patrolling the Ulster coast have been instructed to maintain a more vigilant watch for filibusters. Coast guards along the shores of northern Ireland have been instructed to watch the coasts closely and report at once to the warships the presence of any mysterious craft which might prove a filibuster.

The garrison at Holy Rood barracks is under orders to be ready for any emergency. This indicates a general confiscation of arms if the Ulster volunteers keep up their filibustering.

Automobiles, owned by wealthy Unionist residents of Ulster, are being used by the volunteers for the transportation of arms.

The presence of dozens of autos making mysterious trips towards the coast at night has given evidence that fresh munitions are being received secretly despite the watchfulness of the Government.

TORONTO, May 12.—Lindsay Crawford cables from London to the Globe, under date of yesterday.

Sir Edward Carson was in the House of Commons today. His approaching marriage to a niece of Moreton F. Rowen, a former Cork O'Brien member and a cousin of Winston Churchill, has upset his Ulster colleagues and supporters, as they cannot reconcile threats of civil war and marriage bells.

A Banquet for the Ex-Premier

OTTAWA, May 13.—Fifty years ago young Wilfred Laurier, who had just graduated from an university, made his first public speech. Forty years ago the young man made his initial deliverance in parliament. The Liberals of parliament will commemorate both anniversaries by tendering their distinguished leader a banquet before the close of the present parliament session.

The event will take place in the parliament buildings. The date has not yet been formally fixed, but will probably be within the next two weeks.

Such was the decision of the largely attended caucus of Liberal members and senators held this morning. It was the first Liberal caucus ever held on Parliament Hill to which the Liberal leader was not invited, and of which he was in total ignorance.

Langford Unable to Fight.

Boston, May 13.—When Battling Jim Johnson, of New York arrived in town yesterday to begin his final training here for a bout with Sam Langford at the Atlas A. A. next Tuesday night he was bitterly disappointed to learn that owing to an injury to his foot Langford would be unable to box.

"Now I am here," said Johnson, "and it is no fault of mine that the bout has fallen through. I think you should get no other opponent. I'll meet any man, white or black, big or little, that you can dig out."

The club took him at his word and watched him to meet Dan (Porky) Flynn, so the fans will get a chance to get a line on Mr. Johnson after all. There will be three other bouts, which will be announced in a day or so.

P. E. I. Farmer Killed.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., May 13.—John C. McCarthy, aged seventy-five, a prominent farmer of Sea Cow Head, near Tignish, was killed Monday night while driving from the latter place to his home in a truck wagon. Two men found McCarthy underneath the overturned wagon on the road a short distance from his home. His neck was broken.

It is thought the horse ran away, throwing the man out with fatal results.

Five Drowned

LONDON, May 13.—The sinking of a Cardiff pilot steamer and the loss of her crew of five resulted from a collision this afternoon in the Bristol channel between the pilot boat and the steamer Star of New Zealand. The former sank in three minutes.

THE LARGEST SHIP

ALL RECORDS FOR SIZE ARE BROKEN—THE NEW SHIP BEKNABLES HER FORMER SISTER, THE IMPERATOR—THE NEW VESSEL REPRESENTS THE VERY LATEST IDEAS OF ARTISTIC ELEGANCE AND MECHANICAL WONDER.

HAMBURG, May 13.—The greatest interest is being taken here in the departure to-morrow of the steamship Vaterland on her maiden voyage to New York. The Vaterland has the distinction of being the largest craft in the world. She belongs to the Hamburg American Line and a number of the high officials of that company are going on her initial trip. In addition, the big ship will carry a thousand or more first and second class passengers, among those on the booking lists being many Americans and Europeans of prominence.

HER DIMENSIONS.

While closely resembling her famous sister ship, the Imperator, the Vaterland exceeds her in all dimensions. The new queen of the seas measures 950 feet, or nearly five city blocks, in length. She is 100 feet in width and has a tonnage of 58,000.

Not only does the Vaterland eclipse all previous records for size, but has very latest ideas of artistic elegance and mechanical wonders. Some of the leading decorators of Europe were engaged to design and furnish her magnificent saloons, dining rooms, grand hall and suites. The main saloon is the largest hall of its kind ever constructed on shipboard. The woodwork is of solid mahogany. There is an open fireplace, and natural light floods the hall through a number of drawing room windows. The hangings consist of almost priceless tapestries, and Oriental rugs of finest weaves cover the floors.

The main dining room resembles the banquet hall of a great hotel. It will accommodate 800 diners at one time. The great size and steadiness of the vessel have made it possible to furnish the dining room with movable chairs, in place of the swivel seats attached to the floors, common to ocean steamships. In addition to the main dining room the ship has a Ritz-Carlton restaurant, a grill room and a palm garden.

Everything on the Vaterland has been designed to look as much like a sumptuous hotel and as little like a ship as human ingenuity can do it. The windows are shaped and curtained like a private house. Elevators take 600 passengers from one deck to the other. For the millionaires the staterooms are as beautiful as the skill of the first decorators of the world can make them. In the regal suites, as they are called, there are two bath rooms, two bedrooms, a dining room and reception room. The beds are of brass, without a suggestion of the bunk about them. Special attention has been paid to the arrangement of the lights and the closet space. The suites are furnished in a variety of decorative styles and color schemes to satisfy every taste.

THE SECOND CABIN.

The second cabin has its special social and dining rooms, ladies' lounge and smoking room. The third cabin also has its separate public rooms, and its staterooms are built to accommodate two and four persons. In the steer, age of the Vaterland the passengers instead of being placed in one large room, as on most ships, have separate cabins, arranged for families and for small groups of men and of women.

Every conceivable precaution has been taken in the construction and equipment of the Vaterland to assure the safety as well as the comfort of the passengers and crew. Like all great ocean liners constructed since the Titanic disaster, the big ship has a complete inner skin, extending far above the waterline. The water tight compartments are so arranged that even though a large number of them were flooded the ship would still float. An innovation is a complete fire department, with a system of signals covering every part of the ship, and a staff of fire fighters recruited from the fire departments of German cities. There are, of course, in addition to this numerous other safety devices, such as submarine signals and lifeboats and rafts sufficiently to accommodate everyone aboard. Her powerful wireless apparatus will enable her to keep continuously in touch with land.

The Vaterland will make the run between Hamburg and New York in seven days, at an average speed of about twenty two knots an hour. Her four powerful propellers set a new standard for size in such construction. Each has a diameter of nineteen feet seven inches and weighs nearly fifteen tons. The propellers are made of the finest quality of manganese bronze. Triple expansion engines, driven by a dozen double boilers will propel the great steamship. For navigation purposes a Krosel compass pointing always to the true pole, will be used. This instrument is entirely independent of the earth's magnetism.

"ORANGE LILY SAVED MY LIFE"

These words or expressions have the same meaning as having to hundreds of the letters I have received during the past year. Many were from women who had suffered agonies from falling of womb, others from women who had suffered dangerous surgical operations, as the tumors and ulcers had been removed by the action of Orange Lily and others who had suffered from suppressed menstruation, leucorrhoea, painful periods, etc. For all these and the other troubles known in general as Women's Disorders, Orange Lily furnishes a positive scientific, never-failing cure. It is a true actually proves its merit. I hereby offer to send, absolutely free, a box worth $1.00, sufficient for ten days' treatment, to every suffering woman who will write for it. LOST OPPORTUNITY.

No Matter How Smart We Are, We Miss Some Good Things.

At a convention of automobile salesmen in the middle west the big agents in the business were making speeches demonstrating that their particular concerns and machines were the best in the world. Oratory was splashed about, tremendous figures were flung around, and superlatives bounded against the ceiling.

Finally the limit was reached when a gentleman arose and remarked as follows:

"My company is the most wonderful known to the business. Our salesmen have proved that they can give all other salesmen cards and spades and yet beat them out. As the result of a close calculation and minute investigation I am now ready to assert that for every minute in the past year one-half of a machine made by our firm was sold. There you are—half a machine sold every minute!"

An envious, pallid, thin chested man arose in one of the far corners of the room and made this helpful suggestion: "You're overlooking 50 per cent of your field, brother. There's a whole sucker born every minute!"—Popular Magazine.

Pleasing Customers.

The telegraph operator remembered that she had been there about ten minutes before. "Let me have that telegram I wrote just now," she commanded. "I forgot something very important. I wanted to underscore 'perfectly lovely' in acknowledging the receipt of that bracelet. Will it cost anything extra?"

"No, ma'am," said the accommodating operator as he handed her the message.

The young woman drew two heavy lines beneath the words and said: "It's awfully good of you. It will please Arthur ever so much."

"Don't mention it," said the operator. "If you would like it I will put a few drops of violet extract on the telegram at the same rates."

"Oh, thank you! You don't know how much I would appreciate it. I'm going to send all my telegrams through this office, you are so obliging."

And the smile she gave him would have done any one good, with the possible exception of Arthur. — New York Globe.

The Wise Janitor.

The lady of the house was chilly. There was no heat in the radiators. She sent for the janitor.

"Do you want to freeze us?" she demanded.

"Madam," replied the janitor, "I fear you do not read the papers."

"What have I missed?" she coldly asked.

"The statement by a leading scientist that steam heat ruins beauty."

What could she say after that?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Reporting Progress.

"How are you getting on in society?" "First rate," replied Mr. Currox. "I observe that we are inviting an entirely different set of people from those who came to our first party. And instead of laughing and enjoying themselves they stand around awhile and then say, 'Good night. We've had a charming evening.'" — Washington Star.

Tellers of a Big City.

"Well, Si, I see you're back from New York. Lively town, that, eh? I s'pose most everybody there has a job."

"Yep. I even saw men leadin' dogs for exercise in th' mornin' an' dahn' it es carefully es though they was paid fer it!"—Judge.

Sensitive.

Higgins-Twiggins is always bragging about his den at home. Wiggins—And yet he got mad when I spoke of it as a kennel.—Boston Globe.

In the Barnyard.

"Why is the sun like me?" asked the hen, as she proudly strutted about. "Well, the conceit of her!" quacked the duck. "That's conceit; it's a fact," retorted the hen. "We are both set in our ways."—Baltimore American.

Sanctum Pleasantry.

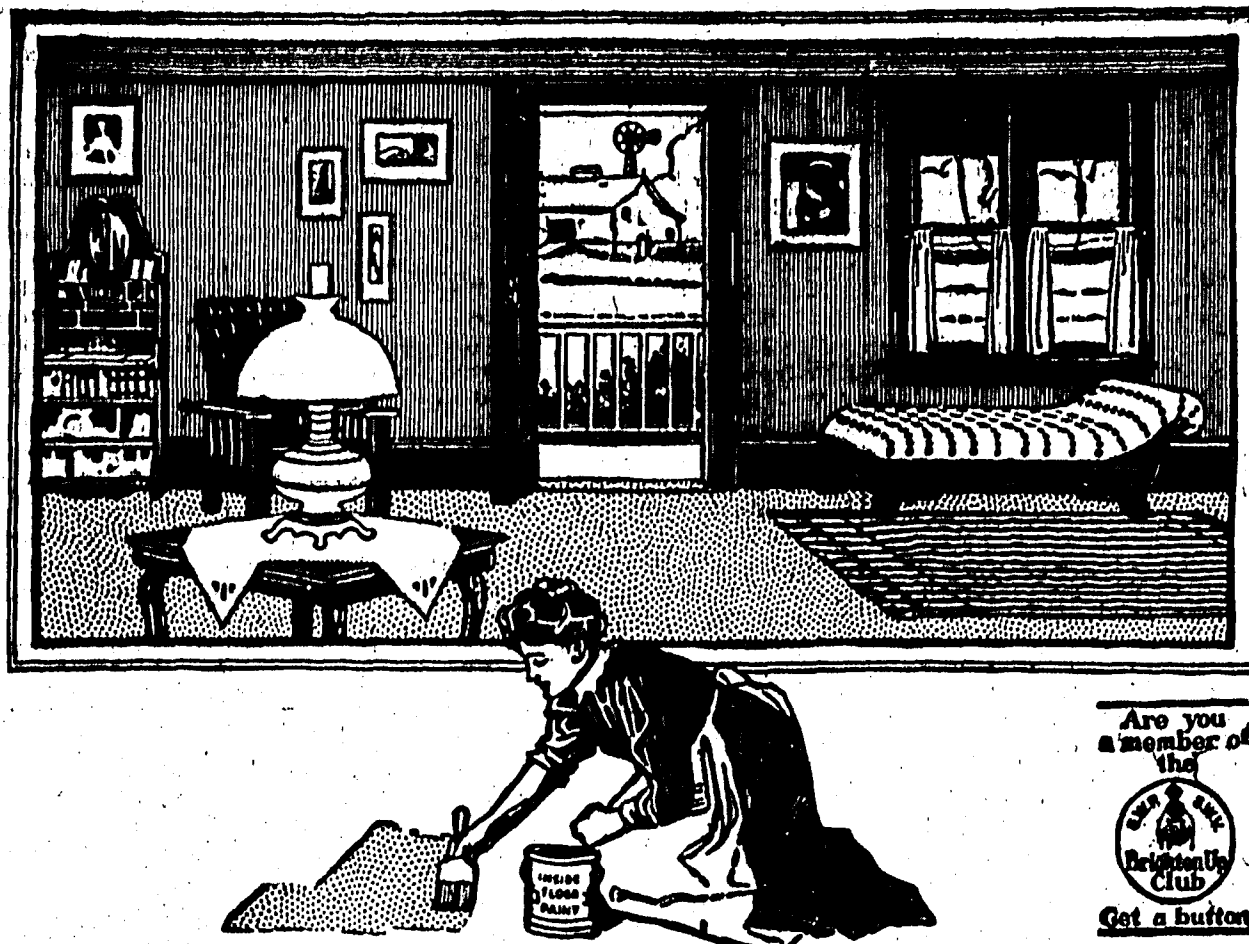

"So this is your idea of wit, eh?" said the editor as he read Wagg's jokes. "Yes, it is," said Wagg. "Well, the idea is certainly original," said the editor.

Self Sacrificing.

Alay—Mother, I may as well tell you the truth. I've married a chorus girl. Mother—Oh, oh! How could you? Alay—I did it to save father. He was desperately in love with her.—Life.

We all appreciate comfortable, attractive homes, but we don't realize how much modern paint-making will help us in improving our surroundings.

Nowadays people are giving more attention to the interior decoration and furnishing of their homes than they ever did before. The standard of living has been raised. What satisfied us a few years ago will not do now.

The Sherwin-Williams Co. has given particular attention to the making of finishes for the interior decoration of the home and they have succeeded so well that their finishes are used for every purpose in the most elaborate mansion, and also in the most humble cottage.

The walls of your home can be finished with S-W Flat-tone, a durable flat-drying oil paint, absolutely sanitary—can be washed with soap and water—or S-W Decotint, a special water paint for this purpose. Use S-W Inside Floor Paint for your floors, or if you prefer a stained and varnished finish use S-W Floorlac. On hardwood floors use S-W Mar-not, a durable waterproof, floor varnish.

For the cupboards, woodwork, doors, etc. use S-W Family Paint in any color you desire. Use S-W Kopal Varnish for varnishing wainscoting, base boards, doors, and any kind of interior woodwork on which you require a varnish finish. There is a Sherwin-Williams finish for every kind of surface and for every purpose. Come and talk to us about your finishing problems.

Strongest and Most Stylish-Looking

MARITIME ORNAMENTAL FENCING AND GATES

MARITIME Ornamental Fencing and Gates have the quality. There is no gainsaying that. Only first quality tubing is used for the gate frames. We could, like many makers, use second quality and save one-third to one-half the tubing cost. We could also use small wires and save some more. But we use large, strong, stiff No. 9 wire. This wire is more smoothly, thoroughly and heavily galvanized than the wire generally used for fence and gate purposes. You know what that means. Strongest, most lasting, as well as most stylish-looking. Write for free catalogue, showing the different designs, and from them choose a gate you'll be proud of.

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

COAL mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

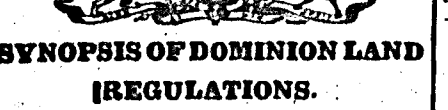

In surveyed territory the land must be described by section, or by lot, and the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $100 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.
N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

SYNOPSIS OF DOMINION LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of the homesteader.

Within 60 months residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within one mile of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt quarter section along side his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Justices must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has established his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $100 per acre. Justices must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

TWO WOMEN SAVED FROM OPERATIONS

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Their Own Stories Here Told.

Edmonton, Alberta, Can. — "I think it is no more than right for me to thank you for what your kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have done for me.

"When I wrote to you some time ago I was a very sick woman suffering from female troubles. I had organic inflammation and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend your medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills, and think they are fine. I will never be without the medicine in the house."—Mrs. FRANK EMBLEY, 903 Columbia Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta.

The Other Case.

Beatrice, Neb. — "Just after my marriage my left side began to pain me and the pain got so severe at times that I suffered terribly with it. I visited three doctors and each one wanted to operate on me but I would not consent to an operation. I heard of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing for others and I used several bottles of it with the result that I haven't been bothered with my side since then. I am in good health and I have two little girls."—Mrs. R. B. CHILD, Beatrice, Neb.

The Faithful Few.

When the meeting is called to order
And we look about the room,
We are sure to see some faces
That from out the shadows loom,
Who are always at the meeting
And stay until it is thru;
The ones that I would mention
Are the always faithful few.

They fill the vacant offices,
They're always on the spot,
No matter what the weather—
It may be awful hot;
It may be damp and rainy,
But they are true and true—
The ones that we rely on are
The always faithful few.

Then there are lots of neighbors
Who come when in the mood,
When everything's convenient
They can do a little good;
Of course they're always welcome
But the ones that never fail us
Are the always faithful few.

If it were not for these faithful,
Whose shoulders to the wheel
Keep the moving onward
Without a rest or a reel,
What would be the fate of others
Who claim so much to do?
They surely would go under
But for the faithful few.

SWEET SIXTEEN.

In the alcove leading from their bedroom sat the judge and Mrs. Parker. During the frequent parentheses of their conversation, Mrs. Parker, ensconced in the window seat, gave a mechanical attention to the waist she was embroidering for her daughter. The judge was at the table making a cursory excursion through a magazine.

"There comes Dean Cutler," he said. "I recently remarked Mrs. Parker, after a desultory glance at the walk below, where she espied a boy of 20 striding up the steps."

"Did Virginia invite him to dinner?" queried the judge looking over his spectacles in a peculiar, owlish way, which was especially dictatorial to his wife.

"I suppose so," came the negligent reply. And Mrs. Parker went on sewing.

The judge pushed aside the magazine, removed his spectacles and began polishing them with one of his wife's handkerchiefs.

"Doesn't it strike you," he then significantly intimated, "that this Cutler boy is seeing a good deal of our girl?"

Mrs. Parker's hands fell idle. "Seeing a good deal?" Why, Thomas, what do you mean?"

"You don't think there's anything serious?" tentatively, his dubious tone half way refusing the suggestion.

"Thomas!" exclaimed his wife in elegant denial. "The ideal Virginia and Dean are still boy and girl together. He's barely 20 and she's just 16. More children! If she's been moping lately, it's because he hasn't asked her to the dance tomorrow night. But as for anything serious between them!—what put such nonsense into your head?"

"Oh—nothing!" he hesitated, dissuaded. Then thoughtfully, "Only weren't we just about their age when—"

"Oh, but you and I were different," with placid assurance. "Don't you suppose I know my girl?"

Downstairs in the flickering fire broken twilight of the parlor sat Dean and Virginia.

Dean was in a low chair before the fireplace; Virginia was on his knee, one fresh, round arm thrown around his ruddy, unburned neck, the other clasped in both his hands.

He dropped a kiss in the hollow of her elbow near his shoulder, then questioningly looked up at her.

Her rebuke died prematurely in her eyes as she shrank against him, and, tremulously compliant, bent her flower-like face toward his upturned lips.

"Do you love me?" he whispered, holding her face near his.

Her "Yes" was muffled as she buried her face in his curls.

"Are you going to the dance with me tomorrow night?"

"Yes—yes. Why didn't you ask me before?" she wistfully demanded, drawing back with a helpless sigh.

It was bewildering how the anger she had felt at his remembrance fled at a look—at a kiss! Would she never cease to be as putty in his hands?

"I know you wouldn't go with any one else," he said, with egotistical assurance, reluctantly letting her go as, at a sound from the stairs, she jumped up and made for the electric switch.

When she came back and posted herself on the arm of his chair, the full streaming light discovered to her two cuts on Dean's face, one on his temple, unobscuredly concealed by a lock of hair, the other on his cheek, red and angry.

"Why, how did you do this—and this?" she cried in alarm, her brown eyes wide with question as she held back the curls from his forehead.

Rising, Dean stopped to the mantle and examined his hurts. "Oh, that's nothing!" he vaguely replied, turning his back to the fire and pocketing his hands.

"How did you do it?" she repeated, with insistent curiosity.

He perceptibly hesitated. Then, "I took a tumble last night—bowling—at the new alley," he mendaciously supplied, jingling a coin in his pocket.

"Bowling—last night!—what time?" she took him up, narrowing her eyes as she became cognizant of his uneasy manner.

"Why—I don't know!" he parried, kicking a stray cylinder back on to the hearth. "Some time between 9 and 11—"

"And then what did you do?" she probed, rising slowly and approaching him.

A vague presentiment was tugging at her heart. Having been to the new alley herself last night, she knew that he had lied. But why? Was there some ugly truth to conceal?

"Oh—just bumbled around town with Tom Baker and the bunch," he reluctantly admitted, pressed to the point of irritation.

"What do boys do when they just 'bum around town'?" she went on earnestly, putting her hands on his shoulders and turning him toward her.

In her love was something of a mother's yearning, a dread of pitfall and disaster.

Then, like a flash, came two and two together! Her face blanched, and her hands fell like dead weights at her sides. She remembered now!

After she and Cousin Wes had left the bowling alley they had stopped in to see the last act at the Empire.

When they came out it was nearing midnight. As they passed a certain alleyway that sneaked off Centre street a noisy group of boys turned in.

She had distinctly seen the loose-bellied figure of Tom Baker and another—curly headed, hatless! But she had immediately argued herself out of believing her eyes. Now she felt convinced.

And only this morning had the newspaper, in a flagrant attempt to injure a certain party in power, incidentally made public to Virginia that "Columbine alley, in the heart of town, is a network of gambling houses where the moral scum of the city and many of the out-sowing sons of 'best families' are drawn together in the evil of cards and drink."

It was all very vague to Virginia's uncomprehending innocence, but the alley was evil and Dean had entered with a whoop of joy. A deathlike chill came over her.

"D—Nothing special," Dean was saying.

"I saw you down town last night," came from Virginia's lips like a frozen tone unlike herself.

"Where?" demanded Dean, flushing darkly.

"Centre street, between First and Second west, in an alley."

"Virginia! You didn't! I wasn't there. Someone's been talking! I just let an catch—"

"I saw you myself. Don't lie to me again!"

It was an un-dreamed of Virginia who confronted him!

No yielding child now, easily soothed and won to his way, Dean looked at her in consternation.

He felt the impulse to make her melt to him again by force, by clutching her to his breast; but something told him she was not to be touched.

"I—only went in with the boys—to look on," he defensively offered instead. Her sternness put him at a disadvantage—but anything to hold her!

"You said you were at the bowling alley last night, and you weren't. You didn't stumble and hurt yourself. How did you come by those cuts?" she cannonaded, her eyes like the judge's now, alien, severe, detached, with something of judicial impartiality in their arranging coldness.

Stumped, confused, Dean hurried with the truth.

"Well, then—I'll tell you. Only you mustn't be too hard on me. A vag hit me here with a billiard cue."

HOW CHILDREN GROW

Children grow by nourishment—not overloads of stomachs or rich foods but qualities that are readily converted into life-sustaining blood; too often their digestive powers cannot process these qualities from ordinary foods which result in weakness, dullness and sickness.

If your children are under-size, underweight, catch cold easily, are languid, backward, pale or frail, give them Scott's Emulsion which is pure medicinal nourishment. It sharpens the appetite, builds healthy flesh, firm muscles and active brains. Scott's is growing-food for children. Refuse alcoholic substitutes.

In a joint on Columbine alley. And the way I got this—we had a little booze, of course—and you know dad!

Well, the boys had to sober me up somehow, so they took me up to the creek and I held my head under. I gu—sa rock—"

"Oh—Dean?" Shuddering under the destruction of hope and faith—a shattered ideal—Virginia hid her face in her hands and sank into a chair.

"Don't, Virgin—don't! I can't stand it. I've told you the truth now. You're going to forgive me and go on loving me, aren't you? You believe me—you believe in me, don't you? Virgin, don't you!"

He put a supplicating hand on her shoulder, and winced as she shrank away.

"I can never believe in you again," she said with the blankness of finality, clasping her hands in her lap and staring vacantly at the fire.

A moment of silence followed and then he spoke, his voice sounding strange and unnatural.

"Do you mean its all over between us? Are you going to break up with me?" cried Dean in a panic of love, the homely phrase poignant with dread.

Virginia nodded, lowering her eyes. "Look at me," he pleaded, falling on his knees beside her and attempting to raise her chin.

But her head only sank lower, and she pushed away his hand. "I can't look at you any more. It wouldn't be—the same."

Dean stood up. He looked around the big familiar room, suddenly grown strange and hostile, and then at the dark head bent because of him.

She was like a flower still, but lifeless, bitten by the frost. A sob clotted his throat, and he tried what proved to be the hardest thing of all.

"Virginia, I'm not fit to touch your hand—but—can't you forgive me, Virgin—please?" he implored, bending over her with trembling lips and heart smitten with remorse.

But her one vulnerable spot had been pierced. Pain had quenched the flame of her love, and the ashes lay like stones in her breast.

"I don't know. It isn't that. Whether I forgive you or not, it would never be the same," she repeated dully.

Sixteen and twenty—but the light ning had struck!

Dean straightened his shoulders. "Do you want me to go?"

"Yes," she replied with a suggestion of eagerness. "And you had better take this with you."

Rising, Virginia handed him his signet-ring.

He took it from her, stared blankly at it for a moment, and thrust it in his pocket.

The tragedy was complete. This last concrete instance of their parting was as the closing of the curtain in a funeral service. Dean felt for his hat, and, turning, looked at her as Adam must have looked at the locked gates of Paradise.

The front door closed, and a man of twenty stumbled down the steps.

Virginia, didn't you hear the dinner bell?" prominently called her father from the dining room.

"No—I—I don't want any dinner," replied Virginia from the hall where she stood, outwardly calm as a statue, inwardly nauseated with the pressure of unshed tears.

"Nonsense! Hurry in here! We've got noodle soup. Where on earth is Dean?" he demanded her father, looking up from a steaming tureen, ladle poised in the air, as Virginia crept alone into the dining room.

"He—didn't stay," she quietly remarked, slipping into her place at the table.

"What's the matter? Didn't he ask you to the dance?" interrogated her mother, righteously indignant.

"Yes—but—I'm going with father if I go," was the astounding reply.

"Certainly you may go with your father," largely consoled the judge, with a comprehending wink at his wife.

"Of course! That's the very nicest way to go! And what are you thinking of wearing?" pursued Mrs. Parker with careful enthusiasm.

"I think—I'll wear—I'd like to wear my old white—" but at the thought of that dress and its intimate history she could no longer keep back the tears. Choking with sobs, she buried her face in her napkin and groped her way from the room.

"No, mother," advised the judge, as Mrs. Parker made a movement to follow. "Let her have her cry out alone. That young scoundrel—he didn't ask her to the dance at all! Confound him!"

"I suppose not. And those things mean so much when one is just sixteen. You didn't imagine it was anything else?" she suggested.

"Of course not! Just a spat! He'll call up again to-morrow," and the judge began on his soup with a relish.

"And yet—we were about their age when we had our quarrel," renewed Mrs. Parker, and heard herself with alarm. Thirty years ago, and this was the first mention of it since that day! Mrs. Parker had been able to forget when she decided to forgive—

"I know, mother," said the judge, reaching over to pat her hand across the table. "But as you say—they're children! We were—different!"

Buying a house paint merely because it is cheap is poor economy. You get your house painted, of course, but the paint won't last.

Before painting, investigate

Brandram-Henderson's "English" Paint

It gives you the utmost service and satisfaction - and is as dependable as Gibraltar. When you paint with B-H "ENGLISH", you know you will get the service you want, because it is made according to the guaranteed formula: 70 per cent Brandram's B. B. Genuine White Lead and 30 per cent Pure White Zinc for white and tints.

Exceptional endurance is a quality of B-H Paints that has been demonstrated by generations of painters. If the job is done with B-H "English" it will be as lasting as paint can make it.

We sell it. Call! There is a booklet waiting for you which tells about Paint and Painting.

Increase Your Dairy Profits

by giving your dairy herd the most comfortable quarters that can be built. Be your own dairy inspector and insure the absolute purity of your dairy products by building your stable and spring house of a material that insures sanitary conditions, and which, at the same time, is economical.

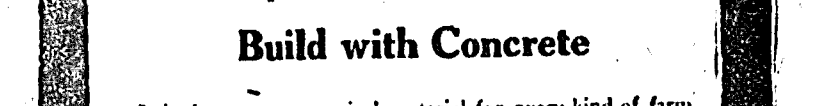

Build with Concrete

It is the most economical material for every kind of farm building, for it requires no repairs, never wears out and never needs painting. Dairy stables of concrete are clean and sanitary. They keep the herd warm and comfortable in winter, and tend to increase both the quantity and quality of the milk.

Whether you build a stable, silo, spring house or other farm building, concrete is the cheapest material to use.

"What the Farmer Can Do with Concrete" is the title of a beautifully illustrated free book that tells all about concrete farm buildings and how to build them to save money.

Fresh Water Fishermen

Mr. G. A. Vye and Sheriff Smith returned home Saturday from a day's fishing at Salmon River. Mr. Vye caught two handsome salmon, weighing eleven and twelve pounds respectively. The editor can vouch for the quality of the fish and can assure Mr. Vye that his kindness was much appreciated.

Mr. W. S. Troop returned home this week from a successful trip. Messrs. W. B. Stewart and H. L. Dennison, E. G. returned home from Silver Lake Stream on Monday after a very pleasant outing. Mr. Dennison has the editor's thanks for some beautiful trout.

Messrs. J. F. Milberry, James Ellis Roy Whynacht and Elmer Weir returned Tuesday night with what a salt water fishermen would call "a trip," and the editor is indebted to Mr. Milberry for a number of large and handsome trout. As a novelty in connection with this outing the members left the W. N. S. Yacht Club House, Digby, in Mr. Whynacht's canoe and paddled the entire trip to Bear River. Mr. G. A. Lindstrom and Mr. C. A. Bowles, who left here Saturday morning, returned Tuesday night with not as pleasant an outing to report as on their previous annual trips. What marred their pleasure was the illness of Mr. Bowles which occurred soon after they arrived at the fishing grounds. He is confined to his bed. Prince William street, but is now out and we trust will soon fully recover.

Several of our local sportsmen spent the week end on near-by streams and met with great success.

New Signal System on the D. A. R.

In order to unify the signal system over the entire C. P. R. route, a course of examination and instruction was held at the railway station, Digby, by J. B. Smith, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, for employees of the D. A. R. section from Yarmouth to Digby. Train and station employees were examined in signals and routine work of the C. P. R. system which differs from those used on the D. A. R. for which the employees have been preparing during the past months—the changes to go into effect June 1st. Because of the impossibility of assembling employees of any extensive section on week days, these examinations have to be held on Sundays. The first examination was held on Sunday, May 17th, at 10 o'clock, leaving Digby before the hour scheduled, some of the employees missed their chance of spending the night at their own homes.

I. O. O. F.

One of the pleasant evenings ever spent in St. George Lodge of Odd-fellows, Digby, took place last Friday night, when the third degree team from Friendship Lodge, Bear River, conferred the degree on several candidates. The team was in charge of Dr. Lovett, with Mr. Thelbert Rice as Noble Grand. The whole degree, but especially the floor work, was excellent and must have required a lot of practice by a painstaking instructor. Refreshments were served, followed by a social gathering. More than three hundred and twenty-five were present. These fraternal visits are not only of great assistance to the lodges, many of which were represented, but is a benefit to both towns to bring the citizens together on such occasions. We trust that more of these meetings will take place in the future.

The Canadian Amusement Co.

LOUIS GEORGE NEVILLE AND ASSOCIATE PLAYERS VISIT DIGBY.

It is to be regretted that The Canadian Amusement Co. did not draw larger audiences during their visit in Digby. Saturday night they presented "The Whirlpool," and Monday night "The Peacemaker." Both plays were well put on. The specialties Saturday night were better than Monday night. Mr. McVie, the star of the company, has with him several very good actors, especially Mr. Peter Cragg, who was loudly eulogized in his specialties and who was particularly good as Alexander Percival Green in the Whirlpool Saturday night. Next week the company plays return engagements in Middleton, Bridgetown, Lawrenceton and other Valley towns.

Victoria Bink.

The following is the list of prize winners at Victoria Bink beginning Monday evening, May 18th:

May 18th, 1st Prize: 6th, Ralph Baxter. 2nd, Arthur Baxter. 3rd, Ethel Moe. 4th, Ethel Moe. 5th, Ethel Moe. 6th, Ethel Moe. 7th, Ethel Moe. 8th, Ethel Moe. 9th, Ethel Moe. 10th, Ethel Moe.

Mr. Walker, the genial proprietor of the rink, informs the Courier that he will give a prize to-night and to-morrow night (Friday and Saturday).

Digby's Half Holiday.

We trust that the half-holiday arrangement which was commenced last year will be continued this season. It is said that it will be changed to Friday for the season of 1914 and that it will commence on Friday, June 12th, and continue until the last Friday in August. There has been no meeting of the merchants to consider this proposition. Perhaps it would be well for the clerk to start another petition which, no doubt, like the year, would be signed by the most prominent and enterprising merchants.

New Bank Man in Town.

Mr. M. E. Hopkins, of the Royal Bank of Canada, Yarmouth, has been transferred to Digby, and arrived Wednesday to take up the duties of Accountant, made vacant by the resignation of B. D. Franklin. Mr. Franklin has been very popular with the Bank's customers, and all regret that he has decided to give up banking and engage in other business. We wish Mr. Hopkins every success in his new position.

A Popular Summer Hotel.

Seabreeze House, Deep Brook, has issued a handsome booklet, which is well written and neatly printed. Seabreeze House is one of Deep Brook's most popular summer hotels. Its genial proprietor, Mr. Dittmar, is a very reliable man to do business with and his patrons are always more than satisfied with a vacation spent at his house.

Miss Annie Tupper returned from Boston yesterday for the summer.

OF A LOCAL NATURE

—Halifax's rate for this year is $2—one cent higher than last year.

—Messrs. Denton & Ondon, contractors, have purchased a new automobile.

—Mass will be celebrated in St. Patrick's R. C. Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

—The weather this week has been delightful and farmers are busy putting in their crops.

—Mr. J. O. Dakin and staff have been busy this week putting up awnings, a sure sign that summer has arrived.

—Yarmouth has its half holiday this year on Friday, extending through the months of June, July, August and September.

—Manager Orlipps will give his patrons six reels of pictures to-morrow (Saturday) night and a comedy juggling act for 10c.

—Next Sunday will be Association Day and also Mother's Day in the Methodist Sunday school. A full attendance is requested.

—The D. A. A. A. will give a musical show in the Bijou Dream theatre Tuesday evening, June 2nd, which we trust will be well patronized.

—As Victoria Day comes on Sunday, all the principal places of business in Digby will be closed on Monday, the 25th, which is a public holiday throughout Canada.

—Monday afternoon there will be a special train to the South Bay Tennis & Quail Club, when the grounds will be open for play, weather permitting. All members are requested to be present.

—Bridgetown Monitor: Arrangements are being made to hold an Odd-fellows' picnic at Digby on Saturday, June 27th. The intention is to invite all Odd-fellows from Kentville to Digby to join in the rally.

—Mr. Gerald Merkel returned from Kentville Saturday night with a new seven passenger automobile purchased from Mr. Arch Pelton. He intends using it as a public car and is soliciting business through an advertisement in today's Courier. We wish him every success.

Death of Mrs. Binyay.

(From Friday's Yarmouth Times)

Mrs. Margaret Jane Binyay, widow of the late Thomas B. Binyay, died at the home of her son, T. V. B. Binyay, in Yarmouth, early this morning, in the ninety-first year of her age. Mrs. Binyay was endowed with a strong will and mental ability, and in her middle life was prominent in the religious work of the Church of England, of which she was a member, and in the social life of the town. For many years she had been confined to the house, but enjoying perfect health until about two years ago, when a fall injured one of her hips, and she was confined to her bed, suffering considerably at times, until she passed quietly away.

Mrs. Binyay was of United Empire Loyalist descent, being a granddaughter of Colonel James Moody, a prominent figure in the revolutionary war, who located in Weymouth, N. S., in 1783 after the war, where Mrs. Binyay was born in September, 1823. Her father, James Moody, moved to Yarmouth and established a business at Moody's Corner. At his death the business passed over by the late Elisha W. B. Moody.

She had six sons, and one daughter who died in infancy. Five sons survive: George and Thos. V. B. of Yarmouth; Henry U., of Waltham, Mass.; John, of Windsor, N. S.; and Jacob, V. B., of Mexico.

Death of An Aged Resident.

MICHAEL DOUCETT PASSED AWAY SATURDAY MORNING.

Mr. Michael Doucett died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Michael McKinnon, Prince William street, at 6:30 Saturday morning, aged 81 years. The deceased was a native of Doucettville and was highly respected wherever he was known. He is survived by a widow, who resides with her daughter in Digby, two sons, William, of Haverhill, Mass., and Joseph, of Weymouth; and two daughters, Mrs. Moses Theriault, of North Range, and Mrs. Michael McKinnon, of Digby. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Hildie Thibodeau, aged 83 years, and Mrs. Mark Amero, aged 87 years, both of Doucettville. The funeral, which was largely attended, was held Monday with interment in St. Croix cemetery, Plympton, the services being conducted by Rev. Father Theobald. The floral tributes were beautiful.

Fish Plentiful at Yarmouth

YARMOUTH, May 21.—The fishermen are taking advantage of the fine weather and are reaping a harvest. Fish are very plentiful off here and it is a poor fish day when a small boat is not able to stock $30 and they average higher than that. The Digby schooner Myrtle L., is the only vessel arrived today. She had 25,000 pounds of shuck, which was sold to Henry A. Amblard. There will probably be some arrivals during the night and tomorrow.

The Cranberry Headtrap took three large mackerel today and the Sanford trap eight. Lobster fishermen are still shipping large quantities. Last night 450 crates of live lobsters went forward and tonight there will be over 500.

Are Now in Rome.

Archbishop McCarthy, of Halifax, and Bishop LeBlanc have arrived at Rome on their visit to His Holiness Pope Pius X. A post card received from Bishop LeBlanc at the palace on Saturday, announced that the party had arrived in Constantinople on the return from the Holyland, and said that they would arrive in Rome on or before May 15th. His lordship spoke of the great pleasure he enjoyed in touring the Holyland, and said that he and all the others were enjoying the best of health. It is expected that he will arrive home about the latter part of June or first of July.

Foxes and Deer in Annapolis.

MIDDLETON, May 20.—Wild game appears to be abundant in this vicinity. One day this week, as P. F. Reagh and A. J. Banks were working on a farm at Melville Bay they for some time watched a couple of deer playing like young calves, and yesterday, as Havelock Neely, of Brooklyn, and his sons Parker and Reagh Neely, were working in their pasture, their dog started a fox farm from its den. In the den were four young foxes about four weeks old. The pups are red and are doing nicely.

YOUR HAIR NEEDS PARISIAN SAGE

It Quickly Removes Dandruff.

Just because your hair is full of dandruff, thin, streaky, dull and never will do up to look pretty, do not despair. Beautiful hair, thick, fluffy, lustrous and absolutely free from dandruff is only a matter of care.

Parisian Sage frequently applied will work wonders. Just one application cures itching head, removes dandruff and all excessive oil. It goes right to the hair roots and furnishes the nourishment needed—the hair becomes soft, fluffy, abundant and radiant with life.

Parisian Sage not only saves the hair but stimulates it to grow long and heavy. Get a 50 cent bottle from H. E. Jones at once. There is no other "Just-as-good."

D. D. D. Opens New Era In Cure of Skin Disease

Mr. Burns' case of eczema was known to many in the hospital and his cure is reported throughout the city of Port J. His letter is another interesting demonstration of what is being accomplished by the famous specific D. D. D. Prescription.
"I will consider it a favor if you will allow me to add my testimony to the many hundreds you no doubt have in possession of the great cures effected by the D. D. D. Prescription. I was a sufferer for two years with eczema of the face and neck. I tried three or four different doctors and none of them did me any good. I got tired of trying the various remedies. I then went to a skin specialist, but he was no better than they.
I secured a trial bottle of D. D. D. and it did me so much good that I sent for a dozen bottles, and a cake of soap. That is all I used and I am perfectly well. You are at liberty to use my name for a testimonial for D. D. D. the great remedy in use." I. W. CORNELL, 21 Givens St., Toronto, Can.
A skin disease today for D. D. D. Prescription. He'll tell you it cures the itch instantly—and soon there are signs of cure. We have handled the remedy for years and regard it as the specific for skin troubles of all kinds. Come in or ask us about D. D. D. Prescription, also about D. D. D. Soap, especially for tender skin.
We offer the first full size bottle on the guarantee that unless it stops the itch at once, it costs you not a cent.

Sacred to the memory of Mildred G. Chalmers by Eva S. Annis.

My dearest friend sleeps 'neath the flowers,
Two pale hands clasped o'er her breast,
I remember well my anguish
When they laid her there to rest.

She was my friend in trouble,
My friend of happy years,
She shared my joy and sorrows,
My early hopes and fears.

She is sleeping, sweetly sleeping,
In her lowly narrow bed;
But I know to me she is faithful,
And I cannot think her dead.

I loved her, yes, I loved her,
But her favour loved her best,
And to his home hath taken her
There ever more to rest.

Canning is Stirred

(Kentville Advertiser.)

The Evangelistic services at Canning conducted by Rev. E. W. Kenyon, assisted by Messrs. Gibbons and Nelson and the pastors of the town are bearing good results. The Baptist church which was engaged for these services is being filled most every evening and the Sunday services are of special interest with big audiences. The Orchestra which assists in the music is a most excellent one and the members are most faithful in attendance at each service.

Nearly every night sees many manifesting a desire to accept the Saviour as their Guide. From the earliest meetings a deep impress has been made upon the people in attendance. Before this campaign ends it is expected that the service at Canning will be one of the most successful in soul saving of any yet conducted in this county.

On Friday last a special train from Kentville and Centreville brought over 150 people to the service that evening. Mr. Kenyon's address was short and a great many testimonies of the power of God to Save and Keep, were given. So pleased were the visiting brethren with the service that many desired to attend again and a special train will leave Kentville for Canning this Friday evening returning at 10 p. m. The train will leave Kentville at 7.10 p. m.

[Messrs. Gibbons and Nelson are now conducting an Evangelistic campaign in Centreville, Digby Co., and the churches believe much good will be done.]

—Mr. Bernard Peck, of Massachusetts, has purchased the James Letteney property on Carleton street.

Snow, 686 lbs. of haddock, 1,515 lbs. of cod, 650 lbs. of hake; schr. Cora Gortie, 12,704 lbs. of haddock; schr. Dorothy G. Snow, 13,938 lbs. of cod, 12,138 lbs. of haddock, 74,500 lbs. of cusk, 4,600 lbs. of pollock; other sources 33,346 lbs. of cod, 7,311 lbs. of haddock, 11,235 lbs. of hake, 2,744 lbs. of halibut.

Halifax Chronicle, May 16: What is said to be an entirely new departure in the method of fitting a new shaft in a steamer was successfully tried yesterday at the marine slip, where the Dartmouth Marine Railway Co. are repairing the C. P. R.'s Bay of Fundy steamer Yarmouth. The old propeller shaft had been condemned, and the usual method of fitting a new one is to lift it over the decks of the steamer, though the deck into the engine room and then in place, which involves a great amount of labor and time. To offset this the contractors on the Yarmouth job merely took out several plates on the starboard side of the ship just forward the stern post, of sufficient size to admit the shaft and allow it to be fitted in place. The repairs and general work on the Yarmouth will occupy five or six days more before she comes off the slip.

Boston Post, May 13: The British bark Edna M. Smith made port yesterday afternoon with 38,105 bushels of salt after the worst passage from Turks Island in the 52 years' experience of Captain J. A. Reed. It took 25 days to make the run up here, 17 days of which were spent plugging into the teeth of a continuous driving gale with choppy head sea which swept the decks of the bark clear of everything not lashed down. The struggling bark fought her way northward under reefed topsails, not for a day daring to carry more canvas in the blustering squalls which beset her. Captain Reed is 72 years old, and will retire after this trip. He was master of the old time schooner Cynthiana, which brought every stone used in the construction of the Boylston market, now the Continental Clothing house, on Washington and Boylston streets, and says he has seen so much of the sea and foreign countries that he will spend the remaining years of his life "seeing America," the dry land glories of the Canadian and Rocky Mountains.

Death of Capt. A. J. Thurber.

A Freeport correspondent writes: The death occurred on May 11th at his home, Freeport, of Capt. A. J. Thurber, aged 69 years. The deceased had been in failing health for the past four years but his cheerful disposition led him to take an optimistic view of life all though his sickness, while his natural fortitude led him to bear with patience through the different phases which characterized his long and trying illness. Brother Thurber's life gave evidence of the graces that mark the Christian. Always ready to extend financial aid to those in need, and to every object that meant advancement to Christ's Kingdom.

He leaves to mourn his irreparable loss, a widow, two daughters, Mrs. (Dr.) McVicar, Lynn Mass.; Mrs. (Capt.) Morehouse, of Vancouver, B. C., who was with him at the end; Frederick O. and Irvin Thurber, of Freeport. Our Pastor, Rev. Frank Eaton, conducted the burial service assisted by the I. O. F. of which the deceased was a member. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones.

SUBURBAN NOTES

What is Going on Outside the Town in Neighboring Villages

PICKED UP BY CORRESPONDENTS IN DIGBY COUNTY AND ELSEWHERE—MARRIAGES, DEATHS, PERSONALS AND OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Westport.

The stork deposited a fine boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Garon on the 16th inst.

Sunday was the finest spring day we have had this season and display of new hats and gowns was one of its features.

We have now two lobster canning factories destroying the future of this valuable industry and our fishermen are helping them all they can.

Mrs. C. A. Payson, who has been in Yarmouth for the past eight weeks seeking medical advice, has returned somewhat improved in health.

The Sunday excursions of the motor boats commenced the 17th inst. Mr. Edwin Titus in his fleet motor boat with some friends made a flying visit to Port Maitland, returning in the early evening.

Mr. Milton Haines, of the firm of Haines Bros., of Freeport, and wife sailed over to Westport in the afternoon. Mrs. Haines visiting her sister, Mrs. Olsen and Mr. Haines calling at the residence of E. C. Bowers to visit the invalid.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Adams, of Bear River, who have been visiting the past week at Councillor Bowers', left by the S. S. John L. Cann on Saturday evening to spend a few days at Yarmouth with their former pastor, Rev. G. W. Schurman.

Owing to the moderate weather of the past week our line and lobster fishermen did fairly well. Capt. Chas. Hicks has been purchasing the large and medium codfish at highly remunerative prices for a firm at Vinland Haven, Maine. Capt. Charles is a hustler.

Rev. A. L. Crowell filled the pulpit of the Baptist church very acceptably on the 17th inst. We have not as yet understood whether a call loud enough to reach him will be given or not. If not in all probability we will have several visits from the clerical profession during the coming weeks. We notice that not in many cases is the first applicant chosen.

Several trips were made during the early mornings of last week to the bars that jut out from the southwest end of our island for the purpose of duck shooting. The parties were very successful and many dozens of water fowl were brought home to be cooked. Baked duck is quite an agreeable change of diet at this season of the year. Your correspondent was not forgotten but a large plate filled with toothsome viands found its way to him. Thanks!

Mr. Alonzo Titus, who has been residing in the U. S. for some years, has purchased the property formerly occupied by Holland Graham. We prophesy for Mr. Titus all the hard work he needs, and success in his new venture. We would like to see more returning to help build up their own country, but it is mostly the other way—the young people keep leaving for the great trading marts of the neighboring republic. The latest one to leave is Miss Nettie Titus, youngest daughter of Capt. Howard Titus, who left for Boston on the 13th inst. to join two sisters who have homes of their own there already.

Eschmore

Mrs. Roland Doty is on the sick list.

Mr. Fred Pollard has returned home.

Mrs. W. F. Kinney and baby Alice have returned from New York.

Mrs. (Capt.) Oliver Comeau is suffering from an attack of erysipelas.

Miss Hilda Urquhart, Barton, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. A. Doty.

Major D. C. McKay, Acaeville, was entertained at the home of Mrs. Lalah Munzer recently.

Mrs. Esley Prime and children are the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kinney.

Miss Laura Kinney came home from New Tuskat Saturday, where she had been spending a few weeks.

Mrs. Fred Munzer and children visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Flynn Prime, New Tuskat, last week.

Mr. George Potter, Smith's Cove, agent for Massey-Harris, was entertained at Mr. H. W. Kinney's on Monday.

Port Wade

Miss Whinnie Johns is ill of pneumonia.

Capt. D. Hayden is buying fish down the Bay in the schooner Elmer.

Schooner Wilfred L. Snow, Capt. Slocum, was in the harbor over Sunday.

Farming and gardening are progressing here in spite of the backward weather.

Mr. William Emery, of Victoria Beach, is quite ill, also Mrs. Elsworth Taylor is very sick.

Schooner Onward, Capt. Johnson, arrived from Boston Friday last and will load piling for Boston, Schooner Grace Darling, Capt. Ansel Casey, was in the harbor over Sunday, ready for the fishing grounds. We omitted last week reporting the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Charles McWhinnie. Congratulations! Rev. McWhinnie entered upon his pastorate in this section on Sunday, 17th, preaching from an exhortation of St. Paul "Forgetting the things that are behind," etc. Quite a large audience attended.

Barton.

Rev. A. H. McLeod will have service Sunday, May 24, at North Range, at 10:30; Barton, 3 p. m., and North Range at 7:30.

Thirteen converts were recently baptized by Rev. A. H. McLeod at Barton and fifteen received into the United Baptist church fellowship.

Mr. T. R. S. Smith, of the Goodyear Rubber Co., has moved into the Barton House. Mr. Smith is one of our Barton boys, who having done well elsewhere, has come back home and we hope to stay.

Dr. W. O. Harris has sold his beautiful property in Barton to Dr. Dickie, who begins his work as a medical practitioner this week. Dr. Harris and family have taken a great interest in the social and civic life of the community and will be greatly missed by all classes. We are very sorry to lose him and hope he may have a successful experience in city practice in Western Canada.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. S. J. Milbury, Plympton, on Monday, May 11th, at 10:30, when Hattie, their daughter, was married to Harley L. Brooks, of Ashmore. The immediate friends of the contracting parties were present and Roland Kinney was best man, Miss Gladys McDonald bridesmaid. A ring ceremony was used. Rev. A. H. McLeod was the officiating clergyman. A delicious luncheon was enjoyed. The bride received many presents. We take this opportunity of wishing them many years of happy wedded life.

Beaver River.

Mrs. J. S. Parry is on the sick list. Mrs. Radio Crosby is visiting her sister, Mrs. E. S. Peters, at Wolfville. Miss Lottie Wyman arrived from New York last week, also Mr. Walter Thomas.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hall on the arrival of a daughter on the 8th.

Mr. George N. Crosby, who spent the winter in Brooklyn, New York, has returned home.

Mrs. Rainsford Chute and Miss L. W. Beveridge visited friends at Port Maitland recently.

Mrs. W. H. Curry, of Windsor, arrived on the 9th to visit her mother, Mrs. W. V. Brown, who is ill.

Four candidates were baptized and given the right hand of fellowship last Sunday by Rev. E. A. Mason.

Rev. Roy Durkee and wife, of Kenneville, spent a part of last week with Mr. and Mrs. George Durkee.

Mr. Clyde Sanders, of Georgetown, Mass., spent a few days with his mother, Mrs. John Sanders, last week.

Miss Anna Vivian Durkee celebrated her sixth birthday recently. She entertained twelve little friends at tea.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ellis, of Allston, Mass., who have been visiting relatives and friends in this place, returned to their home on the 11th.

A large company gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Cassar one evening last week and enjoyed a pleasant hour with games and music.

Weymouth.

Several fishing parties have met with good success recently.

The Susie Davidson sailed with a cargo of pulp the last of the week.

The three masted schooner Rosefield completed her cargo of lumber this week.

Among the students arriving for the holidays are, Gerald Jones, Colin Campbell, Stanley Hallett, Emilio Amorio and Karl Elsbek.

The D. A. R. Co. is repairing and strengthening the old bridge. A number of men were engaged in that work last week and are continuing the work.

A number of piles are being driven. George Balcum is conductor, and H. Dalton of Yarmouth, is foreman of the crew.

Last week construction work was begun on the new bridge. About fifty workmen were employed. The first pile on the east end was begun, and good progress is being made. Simultaneous with this work, the placing of machinery in position, and other preparatory work and are being done. On Saturday afternoon S. S. Bear River came in port towing several scows owned by Messrs. Powers and Brower, which are to be used in obtaining gravel for the concrete works. The Company is about completing a contract at Hantsport, after which several of their workmen from there will come here to augment the present number. Next month a night crew will be employed.

Amherst Pianos Educational Contest is Extended to June 2nd

During the last week of April so many requests came in for particulars of our Great Educational Contest and since that date so many answers have been received to the questions asked, that we have, after careful consideration, come to the conclusion that it would be only fair to extend the time a little longer and thus permit these rather late comers to participate in this great contest.

We, therefore, have much pleasure in announcing that the Contest will not be closed until Tuesday, June 2nd. No paper received after that date can be considered.

White Rose Gasoline

Competition is the life of trade, in the Gasoline business, as in any other business and without a doubt the very reasonable price of Gasoline today is due to this competition. Do away with the competition and the price will probably change. Thus it will be plain to see that in the long run it will pay to support the price bucker. But the main reason why you should buy White Rose is the fact that it is an absolutely clean Gasoline. When you buy it you are paying for an A1 quality Gasoline that will give you first-class engine service and your machine will always run sweet and steady. Then again test it the lasting qualities against any other gas. It's easily done by trying a gal. of the different kinds of gas in your tank and testing the time they will run. That will convince you that you ought to buy White Rose even at a small advance in price for it will be the cheapest in the end.

ASKING THE IMPOSSIBLE.

The One Test of Which a Samson Stands in Fear.
"EXCUSE me, sir," said the thin passenger with the sandy side whiskers, "but I judge from your conversation that you are known as the human Hercules?"
"Yes, sir; that's who I am," answered the strong man proudly.
"You can lift ten tons in harness?"
"Yes, sir; that's my record."
"You can hold five hundredweight at arm's length?"
"Yes, sir."
"And put up 600 pounds with one arm?"
"Yes, sir."
"And sixteen hundredweight with two?"
"Yes, sir."
"Well, then, would you kindly raise this car window for me? It's evident by stuck a little."
"You'll excuse me, sir," said the strong man stiffly, "but my manager makes all the arrangements for my tests of strength and endurance. Besides," and it was noticed that the modern Samson was ill at ease, "I'm not in training."—Puck.

The Demands of Courtesy.

"Won't you have my seat?" he asked. She was clinging to a strap, and she was almost beautiful.
"Thank you," she replied.
He got up rather reluctantly, and she sat down. Then he clutched the strap directly above her head and stood in front of her.
"I am very glad to be able to give you a chance to ride in comfort," he said.
"It is so good of you," she answered.
"There seems to be few men who are willing to stand for the sake of the ladies," he continued.
"Yes," she assented.
"I always am glad to offer my seat to a lady who appreciates my courtesy."
"I am sure the ladies must always do that."
"No, I am sorry to say that they don't. They generally say thank you, but that is easily said."
He looked down as if he expected a further assurance of her gratitude. She returned his gaze for a moment and then coldly asked:
"Well, did you expect me to kiss you?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Martyr For His Country.

"My grandfather ain't got any arm, cos he was in the war at Gettysburg," boasted a young woman of seven years.
"My dad was in the war, too," said another.
"Did he fight in any battles, darling?" asked an older person.
"Yes—Bull Run and Antietam and Chattanooga."
"And was he wounded?"
"No, but he had awful headaches from the sound of the cannon!"—New York Post.

Obedient Daughter.

"Did that young man kiss you last night, Ethel?"
"Yes, mother."
"And you allowed him to?"
"Why, he just did, mother."
"Why didn't you stop him?"
"Why, mother, you told me I must never interrupt any one."—Yonkers Statesman.

Utterly Unworthy.

"That so?"
"Yes. Positively she couldn't think less of them if they were her own."—Detroit Free Press.

The use of good paint around the town or country home is a great economy. The cost of paint to protect your buildings against the ravages of the weather, is small compared with the expense of repairs, soon necessary on unpainted houses, barns, or other buildings.

For your buildings use Sherwin-Williams Paint (Prepared) SWP. SWP is made of pure lead, pure zinc, pure linseed oil and the necessary coloring pigments and driers. These are put together in correct proportions, according to a tested scientific formula, proven best by forty years experience, and are mixed and ground by special machinery. The result is a smooth, far spreading paint, even in color and giving a painted finish of great durability which protects your buildings for the longest possible time.

For buggies, automobiles, porch furniture, boats, canoes and other surfaces subject to severe usage, S-W Buggy Paint gives longest wear and looks best.
For shingle roofs and sidings use S-W Creosote Shingle Stain which protects and beautifies these surfaces.
For buildings of rough lumber, fences, work shops, etc., use S-W Creosote Paint, a satisfactory paint at an economical price, for such work.
For wagons, farm implements, garden tools, etc., use S-W Wagon Paint. It keeps the wood from checking and cracking and the metal parts from rusting.

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

COAL mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre.

Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights are applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be stated out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not awarded, but not otherwise. A royalty, shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only,

but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre. For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior,

Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY, Deputy Minister of the Interior.

Toronto, Ont. — "Last October, I wrote to you for advice as I was completely run down, had bearing down sensation in the lower part of bowels, backache, and pain in the side. I also suffered terribly from gas. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and am now entirely

Consider Well This Advice.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for nearly forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham

Friendship.

Have you a friend, one true, strong friend,

AN APPEAL

Dr. Worthington was the physician of the upper ten thousand—not a physician of the upper ten thousand, but the physician of that class. He was thirty five years old and considered the handsomest man of the city in which he lived and practiced his profession.

One night a lamp exploded in the home of a young widow, setting fire to the clothes of an old lady, a member of the family, and burning her so severely that she lived but twenty four hours after the accident. Every doctor in the neighborhood was called in, among them Dr. Worthington. There was little that could be done for the patient, who was known to every doctor there, but there was a great deal to be done in calming those present. As soon as the physician of the upper ten thousand entered practicising a beggarly $5,000 to $10,000 a year instinctively withdrew into their shells, and when he spoke in his musical baritone voice a few words enjoining quiet, a calm fell upon every one in the room.

Mrs. Allandale, the young widow in whose house the accident occurred, was so impressed with Dr. Worthing-ton's aristocratic bearing, his self control and that influence he possessed over

AN IMPORTANT NOTICE.

During the next few days bills will be sent to all our advertisers and to all patrons of our job printing department. We expect payment of these accounts on or before June 15th, as our financial year ends this month and it is important that all accounts be balanced at that time. Subscribers in arrears will also take notice of the date on their address labels and remit promptly, thereby saving trouble and unnecessary expense.

A Long Cruise.

MR. ROMANS' YACHT HANOOK CARRIES THE W. N. S. Y. C. BURGHE THE YOUTHERST FROM HOME.

Mr. Romans' cabin launch Hanook returned to Bear River early Tuesday morning after a 300 mile run to head waters of the Bay Fundy, breaking all records for a member of the Western Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron.

The Hanook had a terrible rough trip, but proved herself an excellent sea boat and her Buffalo motor ran more than eighteen hours each way without a stop or a skip, totalling about a forty hour run from the time she left Bear River until her return.

The Hanook sailed from Bear River at 9 o'clock Saturday night, passing out by Point Prim about 10.30. She had on board her owner, Mr. W. M. Romans, the popular and efficient manager of the Royal Bank of Canada at Bear River; Mrs. Romans, Carl Stinson, Harry Anthony, Douglas Jones and her faithful engineer, Chas. Wilson.

Rough weather was encountered the entire trip. Off Port Lorne at midnight the tender parted its painter and went adrift. At Cape Split a terrible sea and tide rip was encountered. The rough water continued right up through Minas Basin and Cobequid Bay until the yachting party reached their destination at Folly Village, near Truro, at 10.30 Sunday morning.

Maliland was also visited across the harbor.

Miss Helen Jones was here added to the party and the Hanook sailed on her return trip at 1.40 Monday afternoon, reaching Point Prim at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, arriving at Bear River as soon as the tide would permit, thus completing without a mishap the longest cruise in the history of the Hanook and of the club to which she belongs. The previous honors in this direction had been held by Mr. Fritz Dakin's Phyllis I. and Commodore Dunham's Oakesella.

"Alma, Where Do You Live?"

THE WELL KNOWN PLAY WELL PATRONIZED IN DIGBY.

The above is the title of the play now before the public in the largest towns in the maritime provinces. It is under the personal direction of Miss Adelaide French with Mr. Carl Zellner as travelling manager. Mr. Zellner first visited Digby with a show fourteen years ago and has since been here several times with such productions as the Richards Stock Co., Robert Mantel, Paul Gilmore Co., "Billy the Kid" and others and the public is always assured of a good company when Mr. Zellner is at the head of it. "Alma" is a French musical comedy which gives one an idea of gaiety in the city of Paris. The star of the cast is Miss Nellie Wilson as "Alma" who acts her part to perfection and is well supported by Steve W. Brott and Alexander Loftus as "Theobald" and "Pierre Le Peach," but the entire company are good actors.

The show drew a big audience in Digby, the majority of whom were evidently well pleased with the production. They went from Digby to Wolfville and will also play Parrsboro before opening in St. John.

Railroad Appointment.

The Courtenay is pleased to announce this week, the appointment of Mr. Stanley A. Keen (Junior member of the firm of Jas. M. Keen & Son) as one of the watch inspectors of the Dominion Atlantic Railroad, under the new regulations, which have been recently adopted by this company for the carrying and use of watches and clocks throughout their entire system. The importance of this added service as a factor for increased safety, which provides that watches only of the highest grade can be used by employees and kept in the highest state of efficiency, is one that cannot be overestimated, and should receive the hearty approval of the travelling public being in line with the action taken by all the great railroad systems of this country and the United States.

South End Lawn Tennis & Quilt Club.

One of the most successful teas in the history of the Club was held on Monday afternoon, Victoria Day, on the grounds of the South End Lawn Tennis & Quilt Club. More than one hundred members and guests attended, many of them playing the game for the first time this season. Tea was served by the lady members and all voted the affair a very pleasant way of spending the afternoon of the holiday. The adjourned annual meeting is to be held next week when the question of building a club house will be discussed.

Increased Coastwise Service.

The International division of the Eastern Steamship Corporation has increased its coastwise service to three trips per week between Boston, Portland, Eastport, Lunenburg and St. John. This is a very popular route with tourists and the general travelling public. The scenery is beautiful and the service excellent. The company's direct line between Boston is also very popular, hence more tourists arrive here annually via St. John than any other route.

Will be Operated on in Montreal.

The following left Digby Friday for Montreal to receive special medical treatment: Dr. V. D. Shuffner, Mrs. N. W. Hogg and Mrs. H. H. Marshall. They were accompanied by Dr. Ross, M. F. P. of Digby, and Dr. Ross, M. F. of Lawrenceville. Mrs. Shuffner is in Lawrenceville during the doctor's absence.

OF A LOCAL NATURE

—Rev. J. D. Brehaut will preach at Oulleton Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

—There will be Divine service at St. Paul's chapel, Marshalltown, next Sunday at 3 p. m.

—Dr. Read expects to be home from his fishing trip and ready to resume his practice on Saturday.

—The Girls' Sewing Circle, of Holy Trinity church, held a successful tea in their hall Wednesday evening.

—Onions are selling in Digby at 10c per pound and lamb at 25c. Farmers cannot complain at these prices.

—Wednesday was the hottest day of the season in Digby, the thermometer reaching 80 degrees in the shade.

—W. Fairweather had the first lamb of the season in his market last Saturday. He sold it at 20c per pound.

—The D. A. R. ran a special train yesterday from Wolfville to Digby to accommodate the students and their friends returning from Acadia.

—The members of the Junior Auxiliary Branch, of Holy Trinity church, were entertained by Miss Kate Tobin at her home Wednesday evening.

—There will be extra vaudeville attractions at the Bijou Dream theatre next Monday and Tuesday evenings which the public cannot afford to miss.

—The date for the Oddfellows' picnic to Digby has now been set for Wednesday, June 24. A special train will leave Kentville at 8.30, returning leave Digby at 7.15.

—Owing to the rector's expected absence at St. John the Confirmation class will not meet at the rectory next week but will reassemble on Monday evening, June 8th.

—Rev. L. Daniel has accepted a unanimous invitation to become pastor of the Shelburne Methodist Church. Mr. Daniel was stationed in Shelburne some years ago.

—Messrs. G. Fred Barr and Frank Robinson have been awarded the contract to get the ballast for the new breakwater at Caldwell's Cove on the Bay Fundy shore.

—Mr. C. H. Campbell has sold his property in Sandy Cove and purchased a property in Freeport known as "Spruce Cottage," where he expects in future to reside.

—Many are asking if it is the intention of the merchants to close their places of business Friday afternoon, beginning June 12th and continuing until August 28th.

—The Synod of the Diocese of Nova Scotia will meet in Halifax next Tuesday. The Synod services will take place in All Saints' Cathedral and the business sessions in St. Paul's hall.

—Mr. T. D. Burnham, of New York, who arrived here last week, is having his cottage on Queen street, southeast, thoroughly repaired, electric lights installed and other modern improvements.

—As next Wednesday is the King's Birthday all the principal places of business will be closed throughout the British Empire. Advertisements must reach us Tuesday to be inserted in Friday's issue.

—Mr. F. L. Fultz, of the marine department, Halifax, was at Point Prim Light this week installing a new clock and pedestal, the former one having been injured in transportation from Point Prim, Ont., where it was manufactured.

—Teaching services in the Baptist church next Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Morning subject: "The Power of Prayer," evening: "The Mighty Hand." As Sunday will be observed by Baptists as Judaea's day, a special offering will be taken both morning and evening for foreign missions.

Lost Bicycles Recovered.

A year ago two English Evangelists, while conducting a service at Lunenburg on a Sunday afternoon had their bicycles stolen. The matter was reported to Digby's Chief of Police. Both machines were very valuable ones, having been brought to this country from across the Atlantic. No clue to the thieves could be obtained at the time. In the meantime the Evangelists have visited various parts of the world. One day last week one of them, Mr. Richard Stanley, visited Bear River and discovered a strange bicycle track on the street, which he thought resembled his long lost wheel. He traced it to a house on the Baltic line several miles from Bear River and learned from whom its present owner had purchased the machine. Mr. Stanley communicated with Chief of Police Bowles with the result that two young men now locked up in Digby Jail awaiting a preliminary examination and the Evangelist's two bicycles have been discovered.

Price Webber in Maine.

The Ashland Gazette says: H. Price Webber's excellent company gave a very fine performance of the pleasing comedy drama "The Governor's Wife," to a well filled house in the New Old Fellows' Hall. Mr. Webber as usual carries a first class company and Elwina Grey, the talented leading lady, is always welcome here. We were glad to see so many present, as Mr. Webber well deserves the patronage of the whole American public; as his efforts during his 30 years' management have all been directed towards the uplifting of his profession in which he has actually succeeded. He will return later in the season.

Death at Weymouth Falls.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Langford, after five months of suffering with consumption, Theresa Bell Langford passed from labour to reward at the early age of nineteen years. She leaves to mourn a kind mother and father, eight sisters and two brothers. Her end was peace. She trusted in her Saviour.

First Mackerel of the Season.

Mr. Benjamin Baxter caught the first mackerel of the season in his weir Wednesday night. The number was thirty-two and the size and quality No. 1. Mr. Baxter has the editor's thanks for a handsome one which measured 22 inches in length.

Henshaw assisted him. The latter has since qualified for a captaincy and during his stay in Middleton he is assisting Mr. Ruggles, who with his other duties has not been able to give as much attention to the cadets as he wished. Mr. Henshaw is a splendid instructor and the boys are profiting by his training.

Death at Bay View

ROLAND HINXMAN, A PROMINENT RESIDENT, PASSED AWAY MONDAY EVENING.

Mr. Roland Hinxman, one of Bay View's most prominent and highly respected citizens, died at his home in that village Monday evening, May 25th, aged 62 years.

The deceased was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Hinxman, and is survived by three brothers and one sister: Thomas, of Digby; Charles, formerly of Lansdowne, but now of Bay View; James, of Marshalltown, and Miss Margaret, who also resides at Bay View.

The funeral took place from his late home Wednesday afternoon and was largely attended. The services at the house were conducted by Rev. G. R. Kyle and Rev. R. Lindsay. The interment took place in Forest Hill cemetery, Digby, the services at the grave being conducted by the rector, Rev. Wm. Driffield, and by St. George Lodge of Oddfellows of which the deceased was a member.

We have been requested to publish the following:

The death of Mr. Roland Hinxman occurred at his home on Monday evening, 25th of May. He had not been well for several months, but a few days previous to his death he seemed to be improving and was becoming more like himself.

About six o'clock Monday evening he turned suddenly ill and was unconscious for over an hour; the Dr. did all in his power to bring him to, but without avail.

He passed away very peacefully. The funeral took place Wednesday at his home. Rev. O. R. Kyle and Rev. R. Lindsay conducted the service at the house and Rev. Wm. Driffield and I. O. O. F. took charge at the cemetery.

"Rollie," as we all know him by name, was much loved and respected by the people of Bay View, and even strangers were not long strangers with him, because of the freedom and openness of his nature. He will be greatly missed but long remembered by the children of the community because of his good heartedness and cheerfulness of his spirit. He will be missed as a neighbor. As such he was always willing to help others. He was peaceable and friendly. It is not to be wondered at, that we should mourn for we have lost a friend and helper. He will be missed as a brother, specially by his sister Margaret, with whom he shared the burdens of life. He was devoted to her and was constant in attendance to her.

We would here express our deepest sympathy for the sorrowing ones and pray that the God of all comfort and the Father of all consolation will sustain and help them in this hour of bereavement, that they may feel his presence, and hear his whisper of love and hope. "Weeping may endure for a night but joy cometh in the morning." God shall wipe away all tears from their faces.

Victoria Day in Digby.

Victoria Day, which was observed on Monday as a general holiday in Digby, passed off very quietly. The weather was pleasant with the exception of a strong south west breeze which some times interfered with local yachting.

The S. S. St. George brought quite a large number of excursionists from St. John.

As will be seen by another item in this issue, the members of the South End Lawn Tennis and Quilt Club spent a very pleasant afternoon on their grounds, which are pleasantly situated between Montague street and First Avenue.

Another attraction during the afternoon was a ball game between a local nine and a team from the bridge crews on the D. A. R. which resulted in a victory for the visitors.

Quite a large number spent the day out of town among whom were many fishing parties.

Brought Home For Interment.

The remains of Mrs. Alma A. Snow, who died at Lynn, Mass., May 20, aged 70 years, arrived in Yarmouth on Saturday morning and were forwarded to Smith's Cove, Digby Co., for burial.

Sister daughter Mrs. Bedford B. Cook and daughter Miss Daisy Cook, accompanied the remains.

The remains of Mrs. Evangeline LeBlanc, who died at Everett, Mass., on Monday afternoon, May 18, after an illness of twelve days, aged 31 years, arrived in Yarmouth on Wednesday morning and were forwarded to Saintville, Digby Co., for burial.

Her husband, Mr. Joseph LeBlanc, accompanied the remains. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Sandler, of Little Brook, Digby Co., and leaves a sister, Mrs. William Mallett, now living in Everett, Mass.

SHIPPING AND FISHING

The four masted schooner Rosefield is at Weymouth loading lumber for New York.

Schr. Vora Roberts, with piling for Boston, which harbored at Digby, sailed Tuesday.

Torn schr. Mary A. Hall, deeply loaded, harbored at Digby Tuesday, sailing again Wednesday.

Schr. Emma Potter, Capt. Walker, with piling from Clementsport for Boston, is anchored off Digby.

Arrivals at Joseph E. Snow's: From Boston, 7,417 lbs. mixed fish; shipped 1,125 lbs. fresh haddock.

D. Sproule & Company's arrivals this week: From boats, 11,150 lbs. of mixed fish; shipped 2,000 lbs. of lobsters.

Schooner Verna O., from Swan's Island, Maine, is still in port buying up live lobsters and will remain for a full load.

The vessels from Digby county ports fishing out of Yarmouth did fairly well last week, but the dogfish are interfering somewhat with their catches.

A number of mackerel were caught in the Smith's Cove weir Wednesday night as well as in the Joggins. A report of the latter appears in another column.

Schr. Cora Gertie, Capt. M. G. Crook, arrived from down the bay ports Wednesday night with a cargo of fresh fish for the Maritime Fish Corporation.

Schr. Dorothy G. Snow, Capt. Ernest Firth, sailed yesterday for the fishing grounds, having been fitted with her summer rig while in the Racquette.

Capt. Norval Turnbull, of Bay View, was a passenger to Halifax yesterday to join the steamer Briardean on which he sails today as chief officer. The Briardean is bound to a Mediterranean port.

The torn schooner Inga, Capt. Hayward, is chartered to load lumber at Gold River, N. S., for New Bedford. From there she comes to Annapolis in ballast to load lumber for Barbados and back to Halifax with molasses.

It is reported that the steamer Yarmouth, now receiving an extensive overhauling at Halifax, will take up the morning trip of the Digby-St. John service about the 10th of June, when the St. George will perform the afternoon service.

The following vessels have reported at the Digby customs house since May 22nd: Inward—28th, schr. Clara Banner, Melanson, Port Wado. Outward—23rd, schr. Britannia, Morrill, Port Lorne; 28th, schr. Dorothy G. Snow, Firth, fishing.

Fish arrivals at Yarmouth: May 22—Schr. Eldio James, Capt. John Sinn, 8,000 lbs. halibut, 12,000 lbs. mixed fish; 25—Schr. Nelson, Capt. Norman Robb, 5,000 lbs. of halibut, 15,000 lbs. mixed fish. These two cargoes were sold to Henry A. Auer.

Arrivals at the Maritime Fish Corporation this week: Schr. Wilfred L. Snow, 7,066 lbs. of cod, 4,240 lbs. of haddock, 849 lbs. of hake; schr. Elmer, 4,325 lbs. of cod, 2,040 lbs. of haddock, 415 lbs. of pollock, 2,340 lbs. of hake, 167 lbs. of halibut; schr. Cora Gertie, 34,321 lbs. of haddock; schr. Grace Darling, 14,700 lbs. of cod, 6,171 lbs. of haddock, 2,270 lbs. of hake; other sources, 37,071 lbs. of cod, 6,973 lbs. of haddock, 1,917 lbs. of hake, 9,970 lbs. of pollock, 1,180 lbs. of halibut.

Lightship No. 19, built in Scotland for service off Halifax, having almost completed her maiden voyage struck Crook's Ledges off the mouth of Liscomb harbor during a thick fog Friday night, and all hands on board perished. The lightship is a total loss. It is thought that twenty were on board. Her captain, officers and crew belonged on the other side of the Atlantic. Several bodies have been discovered. Female clothing and a child's stocking have been found among the wreckage.

Forest Fires.

THE FLAMES SPREAD OVER AN AREA OF MORE THAN TEN SQUARE MILES.

Forest fires made their first appearance of the season in this vicinity Sunday afternoon. On Monday the fire was in the Hill Grove district, about six miles from Digby, in the yard of the Old South Road mill and was quickly fanned to a flame by strong south-west wind which spread it to the dry brush of the roadside. Dozens of all sorts of the fire soon spread over an area of ten square miles. The homestead of Stephen Marshall barely escaped being demolished by the flames, and it was only by a miracle that the old mill was saved. The fire spread into the lumber district of Mr. B. T. Varne and caused much damage—the extent of which is not yet known. Mr. Varne was in Wolfville attending the closing exercises of Acadia university, when he was notified of the fire. He returned immediately in his automobile. Mr. John Balser is also among the heavy losers. His loss is estimated at about $1500. Calm weather and yesterday morning's rain has reduced the progress of the fire.

THAT SKINNER BOY

Resolves to Mend His Ways and Gets Into Trouble.

AN OBJECT OF SUSPICION.

Has an Experience Which Shakes His Faith in Human Nature and Prepares Him Against Doing Kind Turns For Neighbors.

By M. QUAD.

(Copyright, 1914, by Associated Literary Press.)

"HUMPTY," said Mrs. Skinner on Saturday, "Mrs. Johnson was telling me that her alarm clock is out of order."

"Yes, mother."

"You know that an alarm clock won't alarm unless it is in order."

"It won't, mother."

"I told Mrs. Johnson that you would take it to the jeweler's and have it fixed."

"Gladly, mother."

"You'd better dust right along, and when you get back I want you to shovel the snow."

"I'll dust, mother, and I'll shovel."

"Look here, young man, what's all this silliness?" demanded Mrs. Skinner.

"Mother, dear, I have resolved to be a better boy."

The mother looked after him and said to herself:

"There's a boy who is pretty sure to get his jacket tanned before night!"

Humpty started for the jeweler's, swinging the clock in his hand by the ring. He had gone a block when he met a man who had just asked a builder for work and was glad to be told that there was nothing doing. He saw the clock and the boy, and he called out:

"YOU STOLE THAT CLOCK!"

"Here, young man, what are you doing with my clock?"

"That's yours?" was the reply.

"You stole that clock?"

"It's Mrs. Johnson's clock."

"Here, what does this mean?" demanded a policeman.

"It's got my clock!" said the man.

"It's Mrs. Johnson's clock!" shouted Humpty.

"Both of you come to the station!" said the officer, but the man took to his heels. Then Humpty told his story.

"You can go, boy," growled the officer, "but you have had a narrow escape from state prison!"

Humpty was only a block from his destination when a man came out of a bakery, collared him and exclaimed:

"Here is the rascal!"

"Let me go!" shouted Humpty.

"Not much I won't! I've looked for you too long. Where's the spade you stole from my yard last fall?"

"I never did!"

"But didn't I chase you as much as ten blocks?"

"No, sir."

"Why, you've got the spade under your arm now!"

"It's a clock, sir," said Humpty as he showed it.

"Well, I'll take the clock for my trouble."

But Humpty was too quick. He jumped ahead a passing car to ride back. Through all his troubles the clock had kept very quiet, but no sooner had he sat down between a woman with a lame leg and a man who had a green patch over one eye than the alarm went off.

"Oh, Lord!" exclaimed the woman with the lame leg.

"Where's that infernal machine?" shouted the man with the patched eye.

Humpty Skinner dashed the whizzing, wheezing, whirling thing on the floor, reached the platform and jumped off. It was an hour later when he got home.

"Well, did you get the clock fixed?" asked Mrs. Skinner.

Humpty told his story. She listened grimly and then said:

"I thought all the time that it was your instead of the clock that needed fixing. Come out into the woodshed with your darling mother and I'll fix that alarm in short order!"

UNDER A LEOPARD

And Just Within the Reach of the Jaws of Death.

COOL NERVE OF A BRAVE BOY

Courage, Presence of Mind and a Lucky Knife Thrust Put Him Out of Peril. Curious Experience With a Vicious Man Eaten in South Africa.

"Bulala" Taylor was one of the early settlers in the South African country that is now Matabeleland. He was the Chartered company's right hand man in those days, and the natives held him in wholesome respect. More than once he checked threatening disorder almost single handed, and whenever there was an uprising it was Bulala who took command of the white forces. But this is a story of Bulala junior, his son, a stocky little chap of the old block. It happened during one of the father's absences in the field.

The youngster, left in charge of the family commissariat, spent two or three evenings each week in hunting—and with invariable success, for he was a "crack" shot, for all his youth.

One morning he was late—hours late. His mother became anxious and sent some Kaffirs out to take up his spoor. A little way out they met his horse limping home, shivering and bleeding from many wounds.

The little boys must be killed! The Kaffirs were off along the track as fast as their feet would carry them. They wanted to save the boy's remains before the lion could eat them. They found the remains—of a leopard—and Bulala junior was calmly skinning them. A few feet away was the torn carcass of a freshly killed buck.

In awe the Kaffirs squatted round and with only the interjection of an occasional "Aough!" of admiration listened to the man-child's story.

"Instube," said Bulala junior, addressing himself to the oldest Kaffir, "you see the little dukkerbok. I killed him, and he afterward saved my life. I thought the bok would be enough meat for all of us, and was slowly riding home. The ground was stony and the bush thick. The sun made me drowsy, and I wasn't careful to look about me. The horse had to pick his way. Just as he turned that big bush he almost ran over this leopard."

"I don't know which was most surprised, the horse or the leopard or I. The leopard had no time to turn back; he just had to spring. Before my eyes could open and close twice the leopard was on my horse's shoulders, trying to get a grip with his claws into the bolt in front of me."

"The horse squealed and jumped, my gun flew out of my hands, and I found myself lying on my back on the ground. The little bok was lying across my stomach and legs, and the leopard was clawing and biting him frantically. I felt the blood from his body trickling through my shirt. Instube, I was frightened!"

"From the corners of my eyes I saw my rifle, but it was too far off to reach. I just had to lie and play dead. If I moved a muscle and the leopard saw it he would give me one blow and finish me. Once or twice he looked up at me, and through my half closed eyes I saw the blood dripping from his jaws. It was lucky he was so hungry."

"At last his hunger wore off, Instube. He got to his feet, and came and smelled my face. Spots of thick blood dripped on to my cheeks. Oh, Instube, did you ever lie and let a snake's tongue lick your face? He breathed over me and smelled me carefully, then, satisfied I was dead, went back to his meal."

"For minutes which seemed like hours the leopard tore and chewed and as he became less hungry he became more particular. Two or three times he changed his position and each time I wanted to shout in fear. If I could only get at my hunting knife, which I could feel in my belt; but I dared not move."

"At last the beast began to drag the bok off me in order to get at its other side. As the bok slipped off I moved with it as part of it. And I grasped my knife. Even then I dared not get up. I just waited and waited. At last a chance came to make my one stab. I was desperate, and I took it. The leopard stood up to stretch himself and looked away from me."

"I jumped to my feet and made a blind dash at his hind quarters. Then I sprang away; not a bit too soon either. See my shirt, Instube?"

"He leaped on me and his fore paws grazed me and threw me on my face. When I scrambled up again and reached my rifle he had collapsed and was snapping and spitting like a cat. My wild cat had hamstringed his rear hind leg."

"He only sat and snarled for an instant though; then the pain and anger made him mad and he rushed at me on three legs."

"I shot him. See how the hair is shag round the bullet hole, Instube?"

"You're a Companion."

Explained at Last.

"At your age," said young Robert's father, "I was compelled to wait and eat at the second table when we had company."

"Mother," the child remarked, "you have often wondered where dad got his table manners. Now we know."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

HALLOWEEN.

WHEN October's growing colder
And the days are getting colder,
When the leaves grow red and rustle,
When the weather makes us hustle,
Then we think of Halloween.

When the days are dark and dreary
And the evening fires are cheery,
When the frost begins to bite us
And the northern wind to smite us,
Then we think of Halloween.

When the pumpkins get so mellow
That it sort of makes a fellow
Wish Thanksgiving time were nearer,
Wish the weather colder, clearer,
Then look out for Halloween.

When the turkey starts to fatten
And its feathers get like satin,
When the squirrel's in the thicket
And when home has gone the cricket,
Comes the spook of Halloween.

Then we gather round the fire
As the flames leap high and higher,
And we watch for ghosts and witches,
Stories tell of love and riches,
So we keep our Halloween.

Looked Bigger.

"How do you get away with the holdup game, Shorty?" asked Bill, the burglar, as the two friends were resting themselves at the Crooks' Retreat before starting out for the night's work.

"Oh, that's easy."
"But I should think that some big man would pick you up with one hand and carry you to the station or at least that he could identify you easily next day."

"That is where I have a complete alibi. They all report me to the police as a strapping big six footer."

Gave It a Setback.

"You have mortally offended the mother of the baby."
"How could I? Didn't I praise the shapeless bundle and say it looked just like its father?"

"Sure. That was where you made your mistake. A rich uncle was standing by whom the mother wanted the child to make a good impression on."

Stronger Test.

George Washington, the records say, cut down a cherry tree one day. His father said, "Who cut this, say?" But George did not deceive him. Had he sought out the northern goal and hacked a silver from the pole, though he had sworn upon his soul, would any one believe him?

Has to Be Set On.

"That Molly Flighly is such a flirt."
"But I hear you are not so slow at that game yourself."

"Why, I never flirted in my life."

"Sure of that?"

"Well, at least she is a dozen laps ahead of me."

Nearer Home.

"Senator, in regard to our foreign relations."

"Well, what about them?"

"How do you stand?"

"They don't bother me any. It is my wife's relations I have to stand for."

Time to Stop.

"He has been given up by the doctors."

"I suppose they exhausted all of their resources?"

"Not exactly. They exhausted all of his."

Used, but Good.

"What's this you are running?"

"A secondhand matrimonial bureau."

"Secondhand?"

"Yes, we deal only in widows."

Mysterious.

"I hear Maude is engaged."

"I can't understand it."

"Why not?"

"This isn't leap year."

Comes Out Whole.

The kicker may not get his rights
Nor all his battles win,
But when they hand him defeat
They do not rub it in.

A Synopsis of What is Going on Every Week in Our Neighboring Villages

Meteghan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Doveau were in Church Point Sunday, 24th. Special Visitor D'Entremont made his official visit to our school Friday, 22nd inst.

J. A. Doveau, J. P., was at Salmon River Wednesday and Thursday of last week on legal business.

Mr. Hector Pothier, of Eel Brook, Y. Co., a medical student at Dalhousie University, was at the Bay View Hotel Sunday, 24th inst.

Mr. Desire Comeau, of Meteghan River, returned Monday from a two weeks' visit to Eel Brook, Wedgeport and Pubnico among his relatives and friends.

Rev. Fr. Comeau, of Baltic, Mass., is visiting the Rev. A. B. Cote as well as his parents and friends. He will leave on Tuesday to return to his field of labor.

Mr. A. F. Hache left on Saturday, 23rd inst., for Moncton, N. B., in the interests of the A. C. F., of which society he is special organizer for the Maritime Provinces.

The woods back of Meteghan are almost a solid blazz. Already several wood lots have been consumed. Fanned by a high wind, and being so dry, the fire is making good progress.

We are pleased to see Mrs. Nicolas Maillet, of Mavillette, back to health after her long sickness. She was visiting her sisters in law, the Misses Adelino and Marie Maillet at the Globe House last week.

Mr. William German, the genial proprietor of the Bay View Hotel, and Mr. Tom Ellis were out on the back streams fishing last week, and returned the next day with eighty one good sized trout.

Miss Lucie Comeau, teacher at Salmon River, Miss Maggie Foley, the Misses Marie and Catherine Doveau, of Salmon River, and Miss Leonice Doveau, of Mavillette, spent Victoria Day at Grosses Coques.

Miss Louise Pothier, principal teacher at Salmon River, spent Victoria Day at the Bay View Hotel, and Miss Hattie D'Entremont, principal teacher at Mavillette, and Miss Evelyn Robicheau, teacher at Lake Doucett, at Meteghan River.

Mr. L. P. Robicheau, our popular young grocer, left on Monday, 25th inst., via Yarmouth, to St. John, in the interests of his commerce. During his absence the public frequenting his store will be cheerfully looked after by Miss Hortense Theriault, clerk for Mr. Robicheau.

Mr. Ben Aymar and Mrs. J. A. Doveau, Mr. Daly Sheehan and Miss Louise Pothier were at Vespers at Church Point, Sunday, 24th inst. They then drove to Comeau's Hotel, where a succulent repast awaited them, the genial hostess, Miss Adelino Comeau, being always ready to accommodate visitors. The travelling public will find it to their interests to patronize the Comeau Hotel when in Comeauville.

Thursday, 21st inst., the students of St. Anne's College, Church Point, made their annual visit here. They came aboard the S. S. Sisiboo, and were met at the wharf from where they were escorted processionally to the church, to the accents of the church bells, and the sweet strains of the College band. Solemn High Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Fr. Dion, of Weymouth Bridge. The church was filled to its utmost capacity. In the afternoon a band concert was given on the grounds in front of the glebe house. Solemn Vespers then followed. Professor Ulysse Comeau, organist at Church Point, presided at the organ, the singing being rendered by the college students. Flags were displayed from different parts of the village.

Miss Celeste Lombard, of Heberton, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Dr. McDonnell, of Cape Breton, on Wednesday, 20th, inst. The marriage took place in the church at Heberton, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Fr. Bracy. The happy couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Robicheau. After the wedding breakfast they took the train for Meteghan to Mr. Philémon Robicheau's and in the afternoon they went to Yarmouth where they took the S. S. Prince George en route for Boston and Montreal. Your correspondent had the pleasure of meeting the party on the train. To the newly married couple we extend our hearty congratulations and best wishes in their new sphere of life.

Mr. Eddio Aymar left on Saturday for Salem, Mass., to spend the summer months with his brother, Mr. Fred Aymar. He was accompanied as far as East Boston, by his friend, Mr. J.

Doveau.

The night across being fine and warm, an agreeable evening was passed on deck of the good S. S. Prince George in company with Mr. Bernio Gaudet and others. Mr. Doveau returned back Wednesday after having visited friends in Haverhill, Mass. He was met at the Yarmouth wharf by his old friends, Mr. J. C. LeBlanc and Mr. Laurent Doucett. They drove to the Hawthorne Hotel, where they took breakfast together, passing in review reminiscences of bygone days. Mr. Tom J. Doveau also left on the same day for the same place. We wish our genial friend, Mr. Aymar, a speedy return amongst us, for we greatly miss him.

Lower Granville.

Capt. George Johnson's schr. Onward is loading piling at Littlewood's wharf for Boston.

Miss Olivia Roblee returned home from Boston on Saturday, where she spent the past winter.

John K. Healy, lightkeeper, is having his house painted, the work being done by Robert McKenzie.

Rev. Henry Mellick and his wife have been spending the week end with Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Roblee. The postmaster of this place went to Upper Granville and spent a few days with friends, returning on Saturday.

Miss Ella Shafner returned from Boston on Wednesday, after spending the winter with her sister, Mrs. Harold Clarke.

Mrs. Walter Troop and Mrs. Gilbert Calnick, of Granville Ferry, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Clarke on Friday.

Mrs. John H. Shafner went last Monday on the H. & S. W. train to visit his daughter, Mrs. James D. Harris, Upper Granville.

Mrs. George Hines, who has been spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Shafner, went to Shelburne on Monday to remain in a definite period.

Mrs. John K. Roblee and Miss Olivia Roblee went on the H. & S. W. Ry. to Belleisle on Friday to visit their sister, Mrs. Archie Troop, returning Sunday evening.

Mrs. Alma Littlewood, who has been spending the winter here with her sister, and returned to her late home at Ingomar, Shelburne Co., left on Monday, via H. & S. W. Ry., on a business trip and will return later making this her permanent home.

Mrs. Horace Johnson received the sad news the past week from India, that her sister, Miss Jennie Corbett, was very sick in the hospital there with that dread disease pneumonia. Sympathy goes out for the family and hope there is favorable news for them.

St. Pleasant.

Mr. Charles Tibbitts, of North Range, was in this place one day last week.

Mrs. Lottie VanTassel spent Sunday in Roxville, the guest of her mother.

Mr. E. C. VanTassel spent Sunday in Roxville, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Hutchinson.

Mr. Wilfred Cox, of St. John, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barnes the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Rice, of Lansdowne, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Venning Handspiker.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Bell, of Marshalltown, spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. C. L. Woodworth. Mrs. W. S. Winchester and two sons and Mrs. Bernard Cosaboon, of Digby, spent one day last week with Mrs. Elizabeth Daley.

Hill Grove.

Mrs. Etta Warner, of Digby, spent a few days at the home of Mrs. W. J. Warner.

Miss Annie Nichols, of Digby, has been visiting her sisters, Mrs. W. W. DeLong and Mrs. James Roope.

An ice cream social was held at the home of Mr. James Roope on Wednesday night. The sum of eleven dollars was realized.

The Acadiaville school was reopened again on Monday of last week by Mrs. Frank Roope, the former teacher. Miss Eva Lane had to go home on account of the illness of her mother.

Belliveau's Cove.

Mr. Jean Belliveau, of the Roads and Bridges Dept., Halifax, was a visitor to the Cove Sunday.

Mrs. Theophile Gaudet died on the 18th inst., after a brief illness, leaving a sorrowful husband and one daughter to mourn their loss. The deceased was aged 66 years.

Port Wade.

George B. Johnson has gone to St. John for employment.

Miss Minnie Haynes, of St. John, is visiting relatives here.

Mrs. W. Reed went to Contreville, Digby county, last week to spend the summer.

Miss Winnie Johns, who was reported last week as having pneumonia, is convalescent.

James Hayes went to Plympton last Saturday to join Capt. Gibson's vessel, the Rowa.

Schooner Onward, Capt. Johnson, is here at anchor, piling loaded, awaiting a chance for Boston.

H. H. Martell, travelling optician, and G. H. Snow, of Hampton, were in the village last week.

Mrs. Thomas Wood and daughter Ruby, of Annapolis Royal, spent the week end with friends here.

Schr. Wilfred L., Capt. Slocum, made a very good catch in the Bay last week. He harbored here over Sunday.

Miss Irene Bowley, elocutionist, entertained quite a large audience at the Methodist church Saturday evening, 23rd.

Mr. Jones, lumber dealer, of Weymouth, Digby Co., is in the village having his schooner Flora M., loaded with piling for Boston.

The death of William Emery occurred at his home, Victoria Beach, on Monday afternoon. Intermont took place Monday afternoon at Port Wade, Wednesday, Rev. Mr. MacWilliam (Baptist), officiating. He leaves a widow and two young daughters to mourn their loss. The sympathy of the community is with the bereaved.

Tiverton.

Dr. B. S. Bishop is in town.

Mr. T. G. Digby, is in town.

Mr. Samuel Gidney, of Mink Cove, was in town last week.

We are sorry to report Mrs. Norman Robbins in poor health.

Mrs. Reta Young recently spent a few days with her parents at Freeport.

Mrs. Cutler Snow, of Sandy Cove, is spending a few days at her home here.

Miss Alice Howard and Miss Erna Outhouse, spent Sunday last with friends at Westport.

We are sorry to report Mr. Isaiah Vantassel in poor health and wish him a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Elbridge Outhouse and Mrs. Simons Outhouse spent Sunday last with relatives at Westport.

Mrs. Sinclair Walker spent a few days last week with her mother, Mrs. S. Theriault, East Ferry, who is very ill.

Mrs. John Fisher was suddenly called to Belmont, Mass., to attend the funeral of her father, Mr. Amasa Loomer.

Mr. Bernard Outhouse and son Melbourne, also Mr. Rody and Mr. Willis Howard spent Sunday last at Westport.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Foote on the arrival of a daughter, also Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Outhouse on the arrival of a daughter.

Karadale.

Geo. McKenzie returned from Boston on Monday last.

Schr. Onward was loaded with piling at Littlewood's wharf last week. Schr. Flora M., Capt. Brooks, is now being loaded with piling at Port Wade. Both vessels will proceed to Boston.

It is reported that James F. Morrison's tender for the construction of the pier at Goat Island has been accepted. Mr. Morrison is now making excellent progress with his contract on Battery Point pier.

We notice by the papers that what your correspondent intimated in his last letter to the Courier from New York as the probable outcome of Becker's second trial has resulted, the ex-policeman has again been convicted of murder in the first degree.

An appeal will be taken and many months elapse before that is finally disposed of. Nothing can be more certain, however, than the electric chair for this unfortunate man who placed personal gain before faithful discharge of an important public trust.

Litabfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Burns spent Sunday with friends in Belleisle.

Captain Jones has been here buying piling and rafting it to Port Wade.

Little Brother Speaks.

Florence, who was an ardent admirer of her own vocal qualities, had been selected to sing a solo at a church entertainment.

The following morning at the breakfast table she remarked to her younger brother:

"Well, I never thought my voice would fill that large hall!"

"Neither did I," answered her brother unforgetfully. "I thought it would empty it!"

THE SUDDEN DEATH OF A NATIVE OF DIGBY COUNTY.

Charles W. Bacon, of 45 Bay State Avenue, Southville, Mass., an engineer on the Boston & Maine railroad, while making a run from North Lawrence to Boston with a heavy freight, leaving the North Lawrence Station at 3:30 o'clock Friday morning, May 15th, was stricken suddenly with heart failure and dropped dead in his cab, when near the Audover Street crossing at South Lawrence. His driver immediately stopped the train and a physician was summoned but Mr. Bacon was dead. The body was taken to North Lawrence and placed in charge of an undertaker who forwarded it to Somerville on the 2:48 o'clock train Friday afternoon.

The funeral services were conducted at his late home Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Moss, of the First Baptist Church, Malden. Burial was at Forestdale cemetery, Malden.

Mr. Bacon was a member of Good Samaritan Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of Reading; Royal Arch Chapter, of Reading; Orient Council, of Winter Hill; Boston Commandery, Knights Templar; Aleppo temple of the Mystic Shrine; Security Lodge, I. O. O. F. of Reading; Enterprise Robekah Lodge, I. O. O. F. of Reading, and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

The bearers were representatives from the different Orders and large delegations from each were in attendance to pay their last respects to one who was a kind husband, a loving father and a general favorite with all who knew him. The floral offerings were most beautiful and costly which showed the great love and high esteem the deceased was held in. The music was furnished by the Apola Quartette of Somerville.

The deceased was 40 years of age and leaves a sorrowful wife and two children to mourn their sad loss. He was a son of the late John D. Bacon, of Barton, N. S.

Golden Wedding Anniversary.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN LAWRENCE SULLIS HAVE BEEN MARRIED FIFTY YEARS.

On Tuesday, May 19th, Mr. and Mrs. John Lawrence Sullis, of Smith's Cove, Digby Co., celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. During the afternoon and evening a number of friends and relatives called and congratulated them on the completion of a half century of happy wedded life.

In the evening a collation was served and Mr. and Mrs. Sullis entertained their guests with reminiscences of bygone days. Among those present was Mrs. Minerva Sullis who was a guest at their wedding fifty years ago.

Mr. Sullis has the gloves which he wore on that occasion.

They received from friends and relatives in Digby county and elsewhere, gifts appropriate for the occasion, beside a shower of cards and letters of congratulation.

Mrs. Sullis before the marriage was Miss Dianah Rice, daughter of Levi and Margaret Robinson Rice, of Annapolis.

Mr. Sullis was born at Smith's Cove, January 27th, 1830, the son of Cabot and Eliza Potter Sullis. Since their marriage in 1851 they have resided in Smith's Cove.

They have always been actively engaged in the community in every way. Mr. Sullis still leads an active life, taking much interest in church work and the general events of the day. They have three children; Mrs. Alonzo Yarrigle, of Woburn, Mass., Mr. Henry A. Sullis and Mrs. George A. Cossitt, of Smith's Cove, also two grand children.

Their many friends in Digby and Annapolis counties and U. S. A. join in the congratulations and in sincere wishes that Mr. and Mrs. Sullis may enjoy many more years of useful and happy married life.

Twentieth Wedding Day.

About 50 friends of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bath, of 75 Verona Street, Lynn, made an unexpected call at their home Friday evening and gave them a surprise. The occasion was the 20th anniversary of their wedding and as the principals had not appeared to be inclined to observe this date their friends did it for them. There were present at the gathering Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Fainworth, who were witnesses at the wedding 20 years ago in Nova Scotia, together with friends from Cambridge, Swampscott, Saugus and Lynn. During the evening Charles S. Withers presented Mr. and Mrs. Bath with a handsome large red rock to which both responded feelingly. There were many other gifts of china and bric-a-brac. The company was regally entertained with readings and phonograph music and songs by Mr. Withers.

A collation was served by Mrs. Lulia Weston, Mrs. Fannie Todd and Mrs. Lizzie Winchester. The affair was in the hands of Mrs. Farnsworth and Mrs. Weston. Mrs. Bath is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Clark, of Lower Granville, Nova Scotia.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR,—I noticed with gratitude a letter from Mr. E. C. Bowers, of Westport, re the Sibley fund, in last week's issue, and wish to thank him through your paper for his interest as well as for his generous gift. Just after the fire, the people of Digby came to the front splendidly in the way of clothing, etc., but the home is what they need, some place of their own to encourage them to work, and when providence put this farm in our way, I feel I must now press on, until I get enough to pay for it. No man with a family of fifteen to provide for, losing everything by fire, could possibly buy and pay for a home. It is true, three of the older boys are out earning their food and clothes; this is a little help. Dave and his wife are working like trojans, putting in seeds of various kinds for next winter. I do hope subscriptions of only one dollar, will come in now so that by the 27th of next month, one year since they were burnt out, we may have the building made up. As these people spend every cent they earn, right in Digby, I shall hope to hear from the merchants soon. Stop and think, you may not have the opportunity a year hence of doing a kind act, or leaving the niche we have filled the better for having been here.

I remain,

Very truly yours,

MARGARET MERRILL.

DEAR SIR,—Your editorial notes of last week cannot but meet with the warm approval and sanction of all lovers of clean streets and yards, as also the remarks regarding the absence of the public school. Here at Westport the compulsory section of the school act is generally passed at our annual meeting, but there it ends. Dozens of boys and girls who should be in the school house can be found idling their time in the streets or elsewhere. Fully ten per cent. of our young folks cannot read. If the parents have no regard for the future of their children or have not backbone enough to force them to attend school, then the trustees should appoint a truant officer who should compel them to do so. We have a school of four depts. The three lower depts. are pretty well filled, but the high school has an average of probably ten scholars at this time of

BRAZIL AND ITS COLORS.

Flag Day There Has Now Become the Great National Festival.

In the republic of Brazil, where the ruling language is Portuguese and a welcoming hand is extended alike to the European and the Asiatic immigrant, great attention has been paid for some years to the cultivation of a spirit of patriotism.

The cult of the flag has become more and more ardent in the hearts of that people, and the "feast of the flag" each recurring November is celebrated with more and more pomp and enthusiasm all over the immense empire and on every Brazilian ship, wherever it may be. In a country noted for its numerous saints' days the celebration of Flag day has become the true festival day.

Commenting on this, Le Brest Ecomique of Rio Janeiro says: "Our people are imaginative and simple. A flag undulating in the breeze as it passes by to the strains of martial music, that the officers salute with the sword and before which everybody uncovers, speaks more strongly to the heart of the people than any dry historical date which presents nothing in the concrete and which to the ignorant recalls nothing of significance."

The lesson of the flag is taught to all the children of the schools in Brazil, and on Flag day they gather in the public squares of the city and town and, as in the United States, sing patriotic hymns.—Indianapolis News.

COLLEGE HAZING.

It Was Called "Wrecking" In Carthage In St. Augustine's Time.

At most American colleges it is called "hazing"; at West Point it is called "cravelling" and at English schools "fagging" is often applied. When St. Augustine was a boy, they called it "wrecking."

In a translation of his "Confessions," for which I am indebted to a learned clerical friend, St. Augustine relates what the boys did at the University of Carthage:

"I would take no part in the wild doings of the 'wreckers,' a cruel and devilish name, which was looked upon as the stamp of the best set. I went about with them, and of some of them I made friends, yet I always disliked their ways of going on their wreckings, their wanton attacks upon the shyness of freshmen and the unprovoked affronts with which they carried on their malignant amusement. Nothing could be more like the conduct of devils, and what name could be fitter for them than 'wreckers.'"

That sounds as if the Carthaginian sophomores were fully as much endowed with self importance as the American sophomores. I may add that St. Augustine's criticism of "wrecking" is one more ancient proof that "boys will be boys."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Labby's Long Walk.

In this Bohemian Days in Fleet Street" is this Labouchere incident, which happened when he was in the diplomatic service and was sent on a mission to St. Petersburg:

Before starting he had a dispute with the foreign office about his expenses. The foreign office had its idea of the scale; Labouchere had his. But the office refused to reconsider its decision. Labouchere took his leave, crossed the channel and was to all appearance lost. A week after the appointed time he had not arrived at St. Petersburg. A representative of the foreign office was sent out on his trail. He was traced to Paris and from thence to Vienna, where he was run to earth. In reply to his discoverer he coolly said, "The foreign office refused to pay me my expenses, and I'm walking to St. Petersburg."

Precocity.

Little Willie is really too precocious. I met him the other day with his school bag under his arm.

"Well, well," said I, "and so you go to school now, eh?"

"Sure, Mike," said little Willie. "Ain't I over six?"

"And do you love your teacher?" I asked.

"Aber nit!" said little Willie. "The old hen's too old for me."—Washington Star.

Adam's Apple.

The projection in the front of the throat in men, denoting the position of the thyroid cartilage, is styled "Adam's apple." It develops rapidly usually when the voice "breaks," being comparatively small in both children and women. The name arose from the tradition that when Adam attempted to swallow the apple in paradise it stuck in his throat, giving rise to the swelling since seen in all his adult male descendants.

THE ART OF SELLING.

Real Salesmanship Is a Light That Can't Be Obscured.

The boss wants lookers, because he knows the looker of today is the buyer of tomorrow and he wants to make the lookers feel that his store is "the best place to trade," which is only another way of saying that it is the best place to do one's looking. He also knows that the looker of today can sometimes be converted into a buyer before the day is over. All he requires to accomplish what he desires is salesmanship among his salespeople.

Does he get it? Not from all of them. If he did there would be less need for commissions to inquire laboriously into the relation between shopgirls' wages and shopgirls' chastity, for real salesmanship will get the money wherever it is practiced and by whomsoever it is practiced. Real salesmanship is one light that can't be hidden under a bushel. It's a light that can't be obscured. It's a light that will shine above department heads and floorwalkers and reach clear up to "the old man" in his private office, if you keep it burning long enough.

What is salesmanship? No one quite knows. But if you will take care of the lookers, if you will make all the lookers pleasantly remember what you showed them and how you showed it to them when they were merely looking, you will have mastered one very important branch of retail salesmanship.—Collier's Weekly.

SPEED OF GAME BIRDS.

The Hazel Hen Said to Be a Wonder in a Short Spurt.

What is the fastest game bird that flies? Of course, in seeking an answer to the question, as a writer in the Scotsman points out, one must assume equal conditions of atmosphere and cause for flight, for all creatures, human or other, seek their highest rate of speed under the influence of fear.

A recent writer declares that in a race of, say, 200 yards he would back a bird which, though not found in Britain, is indigenous to most of the rest of Europe and is especially familiar in Scandinavia—the hazel hen or gullinotte.

Yet, curiously enough, this is one of the forest haunting birds which, like the American "fool hen," usually fly up into a tree when flushed and, rejecting further attempts at escape, elect to be shot sitting. "But," says the writer referred to above, "on the rare occasions (and that they are rare) I readily admit when one catches a gullinotte in the open I have never seen any bird fly so fast nor move its wings with such extraordinary rapidity."

Next to it at any rate one must surely place the teal, which has a marvelous knack of getting under way quickly. Some experienced observers would give the third place to a bluecock pigeon—the wild, not the Hurlingham variety.

Inflammable Celluloid.

Celluloid, being first cousin of gun-cotton and closely related to nitroglycerin, is highly inflammable and should never be brought in close proximity to a flame. Celluloid is a compound of cellulose or vegetable fibre, reduced by acids to gun-cotton. Cellulose is found in all vegetable life, particularly in young plants. It is a starchlike substance. Cotton fiber is principally cellulose. After the cotton fiber is cleaned it is submerged in acids, which quickly reduce it to cellulose in the form of a thick, pasty, semi-transparent mass. Camphor is added further to thicken it, and the required coloring matter is thoroughly mixed in, after which the celluloid is molded by heat and pressure into various useful and ornamental objects, such as combs, boxes, pens, paper cutters, ornaments, etc.—New York World.

Learn to Write Well.

First legibility, second slightness, should be the endeavor in handwriting and let the "character" and the "individuality" take care of themselves. If you wish to devise a signature hard to forge that is another thing, but one's everyday handwriting should be plain and as good looking as one can make it. The art of writing a neat, legible, well punctuated, correctly expressed and spelled letter should be long to every high school graduate, much more to every college graduate, and the thanks of the community are due to those who are testing and trying to improve our methods of education; but they must remember that the letter style is properly more loose and conversational than any other and therefore should not be criticised in just the same way.—Kate Upson Clark in Leslie's.

Within the Law.

A real negro mammy of the old type came up the walk through the old fashioned garden to the side porch. She had a basket of "fresh algs" on her arm and was offering them for sale.

"Are you sure they are perfectly fresh, nuntle?" asked the lady who came out of the house.

"Yes'm, they sho is all right, Miss Bess. Ain't nary disorderly nig amongst 'em."—New York Post.

White Rose Gasoline

Competition is the life of trade, in the Gasoline business, as in any other business and without a doubt the very reasonable price of Gasoline today is due to this competition. Do away with the competition and the price will probably change. Thus it will be plain to see that in the long run it will pay to support the price bunker. But the main reason why you should buy White Rose is the fact that it is an absolutely clean Gasoline. When you buy it you are paying for an A1 quality Gasoline that will give you first-class engine service and your machine will always run sweet and steady. Then again test it the lasting qualities against any other gas. It's easily done by trying a gal. of the different kinds of gas in your tank and testing the time they will run. That will convince you that you ought to buy White Rose even at a small advance in price for it will be the cheapest in the end.

THE CLARE COUNCIL

Semi-Annual Meeting Held in May, 1914.

CLARE CREAMERY RELIEVED FROM PAYING TAXES FOR THE PRESENT YEAR—APPOINTMENT OF OFFICERS—A LIST OF BILLS ORDERED PAID, AND OTHER MATTERS OF INTEREST.

The semi annual meeting of the Municipal Council for the Municipality of Clare, was held in the Court House in Clare, on Tuesday, May 5th, A. D. 1914.

Present, Thomas German, Warden; Mathurin U. Comeau, Deputy Warden; Ivan Pothier, Camille M. Comeau, Auguste Gaudet, Agno M. Comeau, C. F. Sabean and Mando Bonnanfant, Councillors.

Minutes of the last meeting read, and on motion adopted.

Moved, seconded and passed, that the report on the Felix Mill Road be sent back to the Committee to have an agreement drawn for land damages with the two remaining owners of said land and in case said owners should not enter into such agreement, then to proceed by arbitration.

Ordered that the Clerk write to the Attorney General to find out if the Municipal Council has a right to collect pole mileage from the several Telephone Companies mentioned in the Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Company, bearing date the 12th day of March last, as they claim they do not own said line.

Moved, seconded and passed, that the Clare Creamery Co., Limited, be relieved from paying taxes for this present year.

Moved, seconded and passed, that Elise Robichaud be relieved of paying taxes on two hundred dollars on account of his flour mill.

Moved, seconded and passed, that the petition of Herbert Sabean and others re Rabbit Road, be entertained and that a committee be appointed to look into the advisability of opening said road and to stake out the same, if advisable, and that J. Hartley Sabean be a committee to lay out said road.

Moved, seconded and passed, that the bill re Joint Accounts of the Municipalities of the Districts of Digby and Clare be placed on file.

Moved, seconded and passed, that the depositions of Venerable Thibodeau, re residence of Mrs. Catherine Weston be received.

Ordered that the Clerk proceed against Blackadar and Co. for the amount of Statute Labor ($7.50) in Road Section No. 113, District No. 12, for the year 1913.

Moved, seconded and passed, that Ulyse J. Comeau's bill, re making Electoral Lists for the year 1914 be reduced to eight dollars and that of Felix Gaudet to seven dollars.

Moved, seconded and passed, that the following bills, viz: Dr. Thibault, examination, $5.00; Dr. Deveau, do, $5.00 on account of Francois M. Comeau, be collected from him or his guardian, Augustus M. LeBlanc, for attendance.

After reading the communication of Dr. Hattie, the Provincial Health Officer, and the account therein referred to it was ordered that the same be placed on file.

After hearing the petition of James A. Comeau and others read, asking for the dismissal of A. A. Theriault, the Municipal Clerk and Treasurer of the Municipality of Clare, it was moved by Councillor Camille M. Comeau and seconded by Councillor Mathurin U. Comeau, that the said petition be entertained.

An amendment by Councillor Agno M. Comeau and seconded by Councillor Auguste Gaudet, the said Clerk and Treasurer be not dismissed, was lost, by two votes being cast for the amendment and five against.

The original motion being therefore put to vote, it was carried by five votes being cast for the motion and two against the motion.

The Clerk and Treasurer was accordingly dismissed.

It was ordered that Isaac H. LeBlanc be Acting Clerk and Treasurer, until such time as a successor to A. A. Theriault be appointed.

The Acting Clerk and Treasurer immediately took the oath of office, as required, and entered upon his duties.

APPOINTMENT OF OTHER OFFICERS.

Sanitary Inspector—Ambrose A. Amiralet, District No. 9, in place of Ambrose R. Amiralet.

LATEST ESTIMATES

Mr. Jameson, M. P., Secures More Public Works for Digby County.

A SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE COURIER LAST NIGHT, FROM OTTAWA, ANNOUNCES GOOD NEWS FOR DIGBY COUNTY.

Supplementary estimates contain the following for public works in Digby county:

Quilliver Cove breakwater..... $3,000
Salmon River extension to wharf..... 2,500
Little Cove wharf..... 3,500
Little Brook repairs..... 1,500

These works will be much appreciated not only by the residents of the various villages in which the work will be done, but by the general public for they are all matters of importance, and all help to demonstrate the great interest that Mr. Jameson, Digby's enterprising representative, manifests in the welfare of his constituency.

Disastrous Fire at Wolfville.

TWO ACADIA COLLEGE BUILDINGS TOTALLY DESTROYED.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., May 26—Fire which broke out in the Acadia College gymnasium at one o'clock this morning, speedily demolished that building and, fanned by the high westerly wind, swept on to the students' residence, the historic college building itself, the Ladies' Seminary and finally threatened the town of Wolfville. Thanks to a change of wind and the countless efforts of the local fire fighting force the students' residence, and the gymnasium were the only buildings destroyed. When the fire had spread along Main Street and the red hot embers had started a blaze in four residences in that section, the wind which had been blowing hard from the westerly changed to the southwest quarter and the town was then out of danger.

The two college buildings which succumbed to the flames were totally destroyed and only a small portion of their contents were saved. The students' residence, known as Chipman Hall, was insured for $16,000 and $1,400 was carried on the gymnasium. This will cover the greater part of the loss.

Sixty students were sleeping in their dormitories at Chipman Hall when the fire first started in the gymnasium but were warned of their danger before the fire spread to their own building. When Chipman Hall caught fire they immediately set to work tumbling out their trunks and other personal effects but had little time for this work, and a quantity of clothing and other of the students' belongings were destroyed. The furniture in the residence was practically all destroyed.

The college building, containing many valuable books and documents which it would be difficult if not impossible to replace, caught fire three times and was saved only after the most strenuous fight, the firemen taking up their position on the roof and extinguishing the flames as fast as they broke out.

Explosion at Karsdale.

MORRISON BROS.' STEAM SAW MILL WRECKED AND MR. GEO MORRISON SERIOUSLY INJURED.

(Special to the Courier.)

The community was startled on Wednesday afternoon when the word got circulated that Morrison Bros. steam saw mill had been wrecked by an explosion of the boiler and Geo. Morrison, the junior brother, had been seriously injured. Dr. Smith was on the scene as soon as possible and found Mr. Morrison had his hip fractured in two places and was badly scalded about the breast and arms. Every thing was done to make him as comfortable as possible and he is now in the hands of a trained nurse. No complications setting in it is hoped that gradual recovery will take place.

At the time of the disaster Mr. Morrison was standing near the boiler whilst a colored man was near the end of the mill and received a severe blow on the head from some of the flying debris. Another colored fellow in the bottom of the mill ran out the opposite end and escaped injury. These were the only ones in the building at the time. Mr. Morrison's escape from instant death was miraculous judging from the position he occupied when taken out of the wrecked building.

The firm have the sympathy of the community, not only because of the physical suffering of the injured member, but the great derangement to their business plans as well. The mill is completely ruined. A piece of the boiler weighing probably 100 lbs. was hurled about 200 feet, passing over a barn in its course.

Mr. Morrison's many friends wish him a speedy recovery. Our readers will remember that two years ago he was in the hospital at St. John suffering from appendicitis. He has been the victim of a number of severe accidents throughout his life.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Alcohol and Efficiency.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR—Does anyone doubt the impairment of efficiency by alcohol? The Christian Guardian publishes the statements:

"It is a very old delusion that alcohol adds energy, and although to day the delusion is less tenable than ever, it seems hard to kill. And yet every new scientific study of alcohol helps to demonstrate more conclusively than ever that alcohol is a foe to work."

Professor Emil Krapelin, of Munich University, has been making some remarkable experiments in this direction, using the ergograph. He first took a total abstinence and measured his muscular efficiency ten times a day for some weeks. He then gave the man a glass of Bordeaux wine after each meal and proceeded with his measurements. In every case the worker showed a decline in efficiency varying between 7.0 and 10 per cent. After experimenting with a number of German men the Professor tried the same experiment with men of other races and under different climatic conditions with practically the same results.

"He then proceeded to experiment as to the effect of alcohol upon the mental powers. He tested the ability of some recruits to add four columns of figures. They first worked without alcohol, and then each was given four cupsful of claret a day. On the very first day their work fell off 3.1 per cent and it steadily declined until at the end of two weeks the loss was 15.3 per cent in daily efficiency. His next experiment was with printers' composition and one week of alcohol lessened their speed 0.6 per cent."

"In all these cases there was no evidence of intoxication, and doubtless each man would have denied that his working efficiency was impaired in the slightest degree, but the test showed otherwise."

It is now pretty generally known that alcoholic liquors, even in moderation, lessen muscular and mental power, and a young man seeking a position is usually asked two questions "Do you drink?" "Do you smoke?"

CANING THE 'CULPRIT.'

The Marks It Leaves Look Worse Than the Whaling Feels.

In a London police court recently a teacher in a public school was prosecuted for assaulting a pupil by caning him. The magistrate decided that he had not used undue violence and therefore discharged the master.

In this case the father of the boy who had been caned took him to a physician on the evening of the day of his chastisement and this doctor found about fifteen wheals on the lad's back. This was evidence of severe punishment, but the magistrate considered it was not too severe for the offense which had caused it, and said that parents had formed an exaggerated opinion of the amount of force that had been used.

Commenting on this the London Lancet says:

"A blow from a cane causes at the time an appreciable amount of pain (which, by the way, is what it is intended to do), but it leaves behind a mark quite out of proportion in its formidable character to the amount of suffering which it causes after the first stinging has been endured. If any one doubts this, having perhaps avoided the opportunity to observe it in the course of an exemplary boyhood, the experiment is easily made. Any small boy will be willing to do his share by inflicting upon the seeker after truth a sharp cut or two, the results of which will no doubt be distinctly felt for a time, but only for about an hour, while there will be visible on the well protected and tender skin of the back for some days wheals, which would harrow the heart of any mother."

In other words, a boy's back after a caning looks far worse than it feels.

HARDY TUSCAN WOMEN.

One Vigorous Old Dame Who Acted as a Mountain Guide.

Illustrative of the hardness of women in Tuscany, Sir Francis Vane relates in "Walks and People in Tuscany" the experiences of two Englishmen who were traveling in Italy and who appealed to a village innkeeper for a trustworthy guide to conduct them over the pass between the mountains of Rondinajo and Tro Poteuze. To their surprise an old woman appeared and announced that she had come to make arrangements for the journey. They concluded she must be the mother of their guide.

"What was our amazement to learn that this elderly dame was our destined leader, and indeed she was got up for the fray in long boots and short skirts."

"On we tramped, she always ahead, walking with a fine military swing which a life-guardian might have envied. The path was difficult and could not be used by vehicles. Our guide led us up the steep way which follows a small and rushing stream issuing from out the side of Rondinajo, and up it we ascended for an hour or more until the pass was reached."

"We here had the merciful intention of sending the old woman back, as intention, however, she very strongly opposed. It was only by allowing her to come some few miles farther on that we could induce her to leave us before she had seen us safely to the end of the journey."

Father and His Daughters.

The habits of a lifetime which began a generation or more ago, the habit of being a source of maintenance and the need of keeping in hand the means of maintenance, the habit of power and of keeping hold of the source of power, may make a man less than fair perhaps in dividing his acquisitions with his wife, but when it comes to the daughters whom he is going to leave in the world when he quits it he is all for securing to them as far as he can a full share of all that is worth having. Hardly can sex selfishness squeeze in between him and his girls. As between them and all males, he is for them. He wants them to lose no good thing that may lawfully be coming to them. He wants no man to bully them, no man to impose upon their generosity, no man to bring them to want, to borrow or a hungry heart.—Edward S. Martin in Atlantic.

A Maker of Cripples.

Dr. Charlton Wallace once investigated with great care 400 cases of hip joint disease—tuberculosis of the hip. He found that of this number 70 per cent came of tuberculous families or had lived in houses where there had been known cases of active tuberculosis within a year. In both cases the explanation was the same—exposure to infection. When the tubercle germ cannot murder a victim it does its best to cripple him. The only safeguard is to make sure personally that your house does not harbor the greatest of human enemies.—Chicago Journal.

Inappreciative Man.

"You say you occasionally smoke one of your wife's birthday cigars?"
"Yes; I dug 'em up the other day, and they are a great help in my present situation."
"What is that?"
"I'm trying to quit smoking for good."—Albany Knickerbocker Press.

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, June 5, 1914

AN IMPORTANT NOTICE.

During the next few days bills will be sent to all our advertisers and to all patrons of our job printing department. We expect payment of these accounts on or before June 15th, as our financial year ends this month and it is important that all accounts be balanced at that time. Subscribers in arrears will also take notice of the date on their address labels and remit promptly, thereby saving trouble and unnecessary expense.

Died in Seattle.

THE REMAINS OF MR. FRANK BACON, FORMERLY OF DIGBY, WILL BE BROUGHT HOME FOR INTERMENT.

Word has reached here of the death of Mr. Frank Bacon, which occurred in the hospital at Seattle, May 28th, whose illness was noted in our last issue. Mr. Bacon had been ill for two months. He was 41 years of age and a son of Mrs. (Maj.) John Daley, of Digby. Beside his mother he is also survived by his step-father, one brother, Mr. W. A. Bacon, one sister, Mrs. Herbert Green, all of Digby, and one half brother, Mr. Harry R. Daley, of Yarmouth. He had been absent from Digby for more than sixteen years, but still has many friends and former school companions here who will regret to learn of his death. The remains are expected to arrive in Digby tomorrow for interment in the Episcopal cemetery. The Courier extends its deepest sympathy to the bereaved ones.

The Lobster Season.

CLOSES IN DIGBY COUNTY JUNE 15TH, 1914.

For the benefit of those interested we are publishing the following circular issued by order of the department: "In the past, the practice has been to allow the fishermen three clear days after the lobster fishing season ends to get their gear ashore. While they were not permitted to bait their traps during those three days, lobstermen found in the traps were permitted to be taken ashore. This practice has not proven a desirable one, and acting on the advice of the Fisheries Advisory Board it has been decided to modify it. Hereafter, fishermen will, as in the past, be allowed three days to get their gear ashore. Lobsters that may be found in traps which are baited during the fishing season ends must be liberated. Under ordinary circumstances, there should be no excuse for fishermen having fishing gear out for more than three days after fishing season ends."

A Heavy Squall.

TWO FISHERMEN SPENT THE NIGHT IN THE BAY.

A sudden squall from the northeast which struck here Thursday night, May 28th, kicked up a big fish squall. During the worst of the gale a large gasoline fishing boat deeply laden with fish was rescued by the life boat Daring and she and her crew brought to a place of safety.

Telephone messages from Digby Neck, Brier and Long Islands report no damage from the heavy squall. Herman Theriault and his fishing mate had a terrible experience in the Bay. Their motor became disabled and after being adrift all night, they got their machine going at daylight and reached their homes at East Ferry Friday morning with four tubs of fish after their friends had given them up as lost.

Westport Man Found Drowned.

HOWARD DAKIN'S BODY WAS RECOVERED BY FREEPORT FISHERMEN.

The body of Howard Dakin, a boat fisherman, of Westport, was found in the Bay of Fundy Wednesday afternoon, May 27th, by two Freeport lobster fishermen, about two miles east of Cow Lodge. An inquest was held before Coroner Bishop and a verdict returned of accidental drowning.

It is thought that Dakin fell from the Government pier, Freeport, while endeavoring to board his motor boat. He is survived by two brothers and two sisters, Sinclair and George Dakin, of Westport, Mrs. Harvey Perry, of Beaver River, and Mrs. Charlotte Dyer, formerly of Digby. The funeral was held Friday afternoon, May 29th, with interment in Westport. The services were conducted by Rev. Frank Eaton, pastor of the Freeport Baptist church.

Soule's Box Factory.

We are glad to know that Mr. S. L. Soule's box factory has opened up again, and with increased facilities for work. As is well known, his boxes are of superior quality and the printing clear and legible. He expects to be able to supply the home market as well as to take orders for outside work. We are always ready to encourage all industries that go to the up building of our town, giving employment to our men and bringing us in line with other progressive towns in our Province.

Death of Another Summer Resident.

Mr. Geo. N. Jarvis, chief Cashier of the National Bank of Cooperstown, N. Y., died at his home in that city last Friday. Mr. Jarvis, accompanied by his wife, spent the past seven or eight summers in Digby and had a large circle of friends here. He was very fond of boating on our beautiful Basin and was well known among the various boatmen. He was one of the leading citizens in his home town where his death is keenly mourned.

OF A LOCAL NATURE SHIPPING AND FISHING

—The two boys who were examined for stealing bicycles have been sent up for trial.
—Mass will be celebrated in St. Patrick's R.C. church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.
—Work was commenced yesterday morning on the South End Tennis and Quail Club's new pavilion.
—Nearly all the local pleasure boats are now in commission. Mr. Dakin's Phyllis was launched Wednesday night.
—The evening services in Digby's churches will be changed to 7:30 for the summer months, commencing next Sunday.
—Owing to Wednesday being a holiday a quantity of village notes received on that day has been omitted from this issue.

The horse belonging to Morris Githro, of Roxville, ran off the government pier last night and was lost.
—Mr. James F. Cripps made a run from Annapolis to Digby during last night's easterly gale in his open launch Phylis.
—A meeting of the Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club will be held in their rooms next Monday evening at which a full attendance is requested.
—There will be preaching service in the Sydney street Christian Church next Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. The preacher will be Rev. L. W. Theriault.

A memorial service in memory of those who were lost in the Empress of Ireland disaster will be held in the Salvation Army hall on Sunday, June 7, at 8 p. m.
—The Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club house was opened for the season Monday morning, June 1st. The former caretaker, Mr. Leslie Hamilton, is again on duty.
—Mr. John Raymond towed Mr. S. D. Munro's new boat from Bear River to Digby Wednesday night. A further description of this boat will appear when she goes into commission.

We wish to call particular attention to Mr. D. C. McKay's advertisement which appears in our column, and trust that the company will get away in full strength, and meet with good success.
—Wednesday, the King's 49th birthday, was observed in Digby as a general holiday. The town, which was prettily decorated with bunting, presented a handsome appearance, especially from the harbor.

The Funeral of Mr. Thomas.

(From a Local Paper)
Largely attended by relatives, neighbors and friends, the funeral of George B. Thomas was held at his late residence, 55 Atkins avenue, Friday afternoon, May 22nd, at 2 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. Lewis F. Causey of Ludlow, Vt., formerly pastor of St. Luke's R. C. church of this city, who united Mr. and Mrs. Thomas in marriage 20 years ago. Mrs. Grace Trafton bears about three selections, "The End of My Way," "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Abide with Me." There was a profusion of beautiful floral pieces from the family and friends. Among them were a standing wreath of roses and sweet peas from Glenmere lodge, 130, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of which he was a past grand; a similar wreath from Causey W. C. T. U.; a wreath from the neighbors; one from the girls in the office of A. E. Little; Z. J. Chase & Sons sent a wreath of roses; the Lakeside church, of which Mr. Thomas was a member, sent a spray of pinks, and there was a large basket of roses from the family.
Following the regular church services those of the Odd Fellows were performed by Noble Grand William E. Mansson and Chaplain Murray M. Caverly of Glenmere lodge. A large delegation was present from the lodge. The bearers were Edward Wilson and Howard E. Johnson, neighbors, and James T. Ryther and Edward E. Pinkham, past grands of Glenmere lodge. The burial was in Pine Grove cemetery. Beside two sons and four daughters, Mr. Thomas leaves a wife, Mrs. Hattie S. Thomas, and a stepson, Fred E. Torrence.
[The late Mr. Thomas was a native of Smith's Cove, Digby county.]

Bijou Dream Theatre

MANAGER CRIPPS SECURES A NUMBER OF GOOD VAUDEVILLE PERFORMERS.

"Queer and Quaint," the special performers at the Bijou Dream Theatre this week, are certainly good dancers and gave the public excellent satisfaction.

On Tuesday and Wednesday evening the special vaudeville performances will be given by the Misses O'Neill and Dane. In referring to these artists, recent visit in St. John the Telegraph says: "To be moderate in the use of adjectives in passing an opinion on the efforts of the talented ladies O'Neill and Dane, appearing at the Lyric theatre, one can only say they present a decidedly worthy act. Violin selections, dances and singing are the principal ingredients used in the serving of their delightful vaudeville menu, each portion of their programme receiving special attention with the result that the most dainty are both pleased and satisfied."
Miss Dane, who by the way is a Yarmouth girl, demonstrates her ability as a musician in true style by her various selections on the violin, the melody of Irish airs being particularly enjoyable. Her partner, Miss O'Neill, is the possessor of a sweet voice, a charming personality and is most graceful in her dancing numbers. The combined efforts of both ladies result in a delightful entertainment.

Accident at Sandford, Yarmouth County.
Last Saturday as Mr. George Shaw, of Sandford, was coming alongside of the breakwater of his motor boat, a boat belonging to Mr. Ernest Ritchie swung around by the tide, and to avoid an accident Mr. Shaw put his foot on the boat. His foot slipped and jammed him between the two boats. He received severe injuries and is suffering intense pain.

Will Meet in Liverpool.

The annual meeting and sports of the Nova Scotia Guides' Association will be held at Liverpool, July 1st and 2nd. This will be the largest gathering of its kind ever held in the Province of Nova Scotia. A very rich prize list has been subscribed and every licensed Guide in the Province should make an effort to attend.

The schooner ferry boat Premier, in charge of Capt. Dakin, of Digby, arrived here Thursday night, May 28th, in tow of steamer Bear River after a rough experience in the Bay. She was bound to Miramichi, to be used in towing logs. It has been decided to abandon the voyage and her machinery is being removed and placed on the government pier, where she is now docked.

The steamer Briardene, Capt. Faulkner, which has for several years been in the service of Pickford & Black, and lately under charter to the Royal Mail Steam Packet Co., is now en route to Manchester from Halifax, lumber laden, her charter for the West India service having expired. From Manchester she will proceed to a Mediterranean port to load salt for A. N. Whitman, of Halifax.
Capt. Norval Turnbull, of Bay View, is chief officer of the Briardene.

The following vessels reported at the Digby customs house since May 28th: Inward—May 27th, S. S. Premier, Dakin, St. John, N. B.; May 30th, schr. Maple Leaf, Baird, Parrsboro; June 2nd, schr. Cora Gattie, Crocker, Little River; schr. Britannia, Morrill, Port Lorne. Outward—May 29th, Verna O. Bridge, Port Wade, N. S.; June 1st, schr. Rose W., Greenlow, Lubec, Me.; 2nd, schr. Britannia, Morrill, Port George; schr. Cora Gattie, Crocker, Little River.

Sudden Death of William Shaffner.
A GOOD MAN FROM ANSAPLES COUNTY HAS PASSED AWAY.

Wednesday's Bridgetown Monitor says: The sudden death of Dacon William Shaffner, of Williamston, has cast a shadow over a large section of country. He was a man of sterling worth and integrity, a good neighbor and staunch friend. His own family has met with a great loss in his "going on before."
Surviving are Mrs. Shaffner, E. C. Shaffner, Williamston; Mrs. Fred Bishop, Paradise; Ralph Shaffner, and Dr. Vernon Shaffner, both of Lawrenceville. Mr. Shaffner had not been quite well during the winter but kept up bravely, saying "good bye" to Dr. Vernon, who was going to Montreal for medical treatment, without mentioning his own pain. Too late to save came the prompt medical assistance and loving care. Pneumonia was the cause of his death. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. H. G. Mellick, assisted by Rev. J. Hadden Belmont. Interment took place in Nicomus. A large number of people gathered to pay their last tribute of respect to one whom we can really say "He was a good man."

Married in Digby

TRANK-DALRY
A happy event took place at the Baptist parsonage, Digby, Wednesday morning at eleven o'clock, when Rev. J. D. Brebant, united in marriage Mr. Byron Trank, of Little River, and Miss Gertrude Daley, of Mt. Pleasant. The bride was prettily dressed in white and carried a bridal bouquet. After the ceremony the happy couple were conveyed by Hayden's automobile to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Milberry, Second Avenue, where luncheon was served, after which they left for their home in Little River, via the same automobile, where a reception was held during the evening. The bride's travelling suit was blue with hat to match. Among those from out of town who attended the wedding were: Mrs. Edgar Morehouse, Mrs. W. B. Trank and Mrs. Annie Morehouse, of Little River. Miss Eunice Milberry accompanied the bride party to Little River. The Courier extends best wishes.

A F. A. M.

On Wednesday next, June 10th, the Grand Lodge of Freemasons of Nova Scotia will meet in Halifax. After the opening ceremony at the Grand Lodge, with visiting brethren, will march in procession to All Saints Cathedral, where Divine Service will take place and the sermon will be preached by Right Wor. Bro. Rev. William Driffield, Grand Chaplain.

RHEUMATISM ARRESTED

Many people suffer the tortures of lame muscles and stiff joints because of impurities in the blood, and each succeeding attack seems more acute until rheumatism has invaded the whole system. To arrest rheumatism it is quite as important to improve your general health as to purify your blood, and the cod liver fish oil's Emulsion is nature's great blood purifier, while its medicinal nourishment strengthens the organs that expel the impurities from your system. In Scott's Emulsion is helping thousands every day who could not find other relief. Refuse the alcoholic substitutes.

White Rose Gasoline

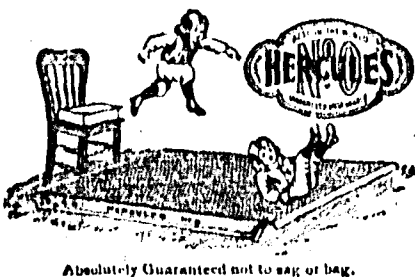

Competition is the life of trade, in the Gasoline business, as in any other business and without a doubt the very reasonable price of Gasoline today is due to this competition. Do away with the competition and the price will probably change. Thus it will be plain to see that in the long run it will pay to support the price bucker. But the main reason why you should buy White Rose is the fact that it is an absolutely clean Gasoline. When you buy it you are paying for an A1 quality Gasoline that will give you first-class engine service and your machine will always run sweet and steady. Then again test it the lasting qualities against any other gas. It's easily done by trying a gal. of the different kinds of gas in your tank and testing the time they will run. That will convince you that you ought to buy White Rose even at a small advance in price for it will be the cheapest in the end.

Don't neglect your barn, which is the most important building on the place.

Of course you use paint on your house and out-buildings, and for the same reason you should use paint on your barn. Paint is not only meant to make buildings look better but its most important use is on account of the protection it affords against the attacks of the weather.

A well painted barn will keep in good repair for a century while an unpainted, neglected building will go to pieces in a quarter of that time. Come and see us today about special barn paints.

Town Council.

The adjourned meeting of the Town Council met May 29, at 8.15 P. M. at the Council Chamber.

Present His Worship the Mayor and Councillors Rice, Wightman, Winchester, Jordan and Troop.

The minutes of the last meeting of the Council were read and approved.

The report of G. A. Vye Supt. of Streets and Water, was read as follows:—

Digby, May 29, 1914.

To His Worship Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN,—I wish to submit the following report. About one mile of road was built with road machine and one thousand feet of same covered with gravel. A sidewalk was made on the east side of Montague Street from Mount Street to railway crossing. Sidewalk on Warwick St. from Mr. W. Isaac's to cemetery road, also removed the bushes from same. Removed a quantity of sand from the North Esplanade Hill to insure safety to automobiles. Repairs were made to Green Hall Road and sewerage removed from Chapel Hill, Mount, Birch and Church Streets. One 36 ft. cross-section of 8 in. T. C. pipe was built on Church St. Another 36 ft. pipe was built on Cook Road. Another side of earth on the south side of Esplanade Hill has been filled in. Both dumping grounds have been cleaned up.

Two water service systems were taken up and repaired, four leaks on main pipe line were repaired. A one inch water pipe was laid from the reservoir to Church St. and one service system was placed on the Lawn Tennis Court.

(Sgd.) G. A. Vye.

On motion the report was received and adopted.

Report of E. DuVernet, M. D., Health Officer, was read as follows:

Digby, May 29, 1914.

To His Worship Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN,—I herewith submit my report for the quarter just ended. During that period the town has been free from infectious diseases. I have to report that there have been no cases of smallpox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, or any of the other diseases which are so common in the winter months.

A very offensive sink drain coming from the house on the corner of Montague and Warwick Streets was found on the site of the street. The owner of this property has refused to comply with the order issued by the Health Officer and has refused to have the drain removed and have a proper drain put in.

The owners of several unsanitary outbuildings have been notified to have them removed and proper lines connected in their buildings.

I would recommend that a system of ventilation be installed in the school during the holidays according to the attached diagram. This can be put in with very little expense and will ensure plenty of fresh air with no direct draft.

Vital statistics for the quarter, 8 births and 4 deaths.

(Sgd.) E. DuVernet, M. D., Health Officer.

On motion the report was received. Mr. William Oliver addressed the Council in reference to the drain complaint of the report of the Health Officer.

On motion of Councillors Troop and Jordan the Council decided to inspect the different places referred to in the Health Officer's report that have not complied with the By-laws and also other places in company with the Health Officer on Saturday, the 30th inst. at 8 p. m.

Letter of Dr. W. H. Battle was read stating that the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis would meet in Halifax on the 13th and 14th of July next and asking that the Council send the Health Officer as a delegate to the Convention.

On motion of Councillors Jordan and Rice the letter was laid on the table.

Letter of S. W. Titus asking that the street in front of his house on Warwick St. be watered by the watering cart was read.

On motion of Councillors Rice and Wightman the letter was referred to the Street Committee to ascertain what arrangement could be made in the matter.

Letter of F. W. Nichols, Sec'y. of the Digby Board of Trade, asking the Council to place signs at the different corners of the streets was read.

On motion of Councillors Troop and Rice it was decided to place signs at the corners of the principal streets and that the Street Committee make the necessary arrangements to purchase the necessary signs and have them placed in position.

Letter of Dr. F. E. Lawlor Milledge Marshall was read and on motion ordered to be placed on file.

Miss Kate Tobin was heard in reference to her assessment. She stated that she was absent from the Province and therefore unable to appear from the assessment.

On motion of Councillors Jordan and Rice such portion of Miss Tobin's taxes were remitted as to make the tax to be paid by her the same as last year.

On motion of Councillors Troop and Jordan the Supt. of Streets was requested to make a report in reference to what has been done to the proposed ditch across land of Mrs. Etta Warner and have the statement signed by the witnesses who were present when he was on the ground prepared to go to work.

The following bills were reported up by the Finance Committee and on motion ordered to be paid:

Freeman Hand-picker	$ 7.25
Fred McHugh	2.00
A. McPherson	21.00
E. DuVernet, M. D.	5.00
H. W. Jones	69.12
H. L. Denison	20.80
Bundy Corporation	9.45
Martine Tol. & Co.	2.25
W. H. Graham	0.80
John Daley	7.51
Pay Roll (Streets and Water)	120.25

Councillor Troop brought up the matter of the additional street lights that were being placed and stated that Mr. Daley had not placed the lights where he had been directed to place them. The Light Committee had therefore notified Mr. Daley that the Town would pay for no lights unless placed according to the instructions of the Committee.

On motion of Councillors Troop and Winchester the Council confirmed the action of the Committee.

The Mayor brought up the matter of the dirty condition of the streets caused by the throwing of paper, banana and orange skins, etc., on the streets. On motion of Councillors Troop and Rice the Clerk was instructed to have signs printed and put up in prominent places along the streets and that thereafter all persons found throwing paper, banana or orange skins or other matter on the streets be prosecuted in the Police Court.

On motion of Councillors Jordan and Rice Charles Small was appointed to look after the dump at the Joggins at a salary of $5.00 a year and that he report to the Town Clerk all persons who shall violate the regulations in regard to the dumping of material there.

On motion of Councillors Troop and Jordan license fee for J. F. Clippa's Moving Picture Theatre was fixed at $50.00 for the year 1914. Councillors Rice and Winchester voted against the motion.

The Council adjourned at 11 p. m.

SUFFERED AGONY WITH NEURALGIA

Nothing Helped Her Until She Tried "Fruit-a-lives"

CAMPBELLVILLE, ONT., May 5th, 1913.

"I cannot speak too highly of 'Fruit-a-lives'. For over thirty years, I have suffered from Chronic Neuralgia and Constipation, experiencing untold agony. The Neuralgia settled in my lungs and I took bottle after bottle of medicine without relief. The doctor told me I would not get better but 'Fruit-a-lives' proved that the doctor was wrong, by giving me quick relief and finally and completely curing me.

I would not have my present health if it was not for 'Fruit-a-lives' and I am glad of the opportunity of giving you this letter about such a splendid remedy as 'Fruit-a-lives', for the guidance of other women who may be similarly affected."

MRS. NATHAN DUNN.

"Fruit-a-lives" is the only medicine made from fruit juices and is particularly suited to women because of its mild action and pleasant taste.

"Fruit-a-lives" is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c, or may be obtained from Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

WEALTH OF HAIR

Parisian Sage Makes Thin Lifeless Hair Soft and Abundant

Beautiful hair, thick, soft, fluffy, lustrous, and free from dandruff, is one of woman's greatest charms, yet so many have streaked, thin and lifeless hair and think there is no remedy. Pretty hair is largely a matter of care.

Frequent application of Parisian Sage well rubbed into the scalp is all that is needed—it acts like magic. Try it tonight—you will really be surprised with the result. Not only will the hair become soft, fluffy, radiant with life and really doubly beautiful, but all dandruff disappears, falling hair and itching scalp cease, your head feels fine.

All druggists sell a large bottle of Parisian Sage for fifty cents. Get it from H. E. Jones, he will refund the money if you are not satisfied.

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

COAL mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase any surface rights available which may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY, Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N.B.—Unauthorized publication of the advertisement will not be tolerated.

MARINE DISASTER

Norwegian Steamer Storstad Collides
With the C. P. R. Steamer Empress Of Ireland.

THE LOST TOTALS 1021 AND THE SAVED
432. THE SAD AFFAIR OCCURRED ON THE RIVER ST. LAWRENCE, WHERE MOST OF THE PASSENGERS WERE KILLED IN THREE MINUTES.

Despatches last Friday morning after the Council had gone to press brought the news of the most terrible marine disaster that has ever occurred on the Canadian coast.

While the C. P. R. steamer Empress of Ireland was proceeding down the St. Lawrence river from Montreal for Liverpool during a dense fog, she was struck by the Norwegian steamer
Storstad with coal from Cape Breton for Montreal, the Empress of Ireland sinking in less than ten minutes. The collision occurred about 25 miles from Brimston. The Empress had on board at the time 1,470 passengers and crew, of which as near as can be learned 432 were saved and 1,021 were lost.

SALVATION ARMY CHURCH START.

QUEBEC, May 29.—The Empress of Ireland sailed from here yesterday afternoon with more than 1,300 souls on board and as she steamed away the brass band of a party of the Salvation Army played sacred music, including the hymn "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," which makes the setting of the awful tragedy a near parallel with that of the heroic band of the ill-fated Titanic.

CAPT. KENDALL'S OFFICIAL STATE-MENT.

REMEDIOS, May 30.—Suffering deeply from anguish of mind and bodily exhaustion, Captain Henry George Kendall, commander of the lost Empress of Ireland, told his story today of how hundreds of souls perished when his great liner was rammed and sunk by the collier Storstad.

"The Empress of Ireland left Quebec at 4:20 p. m., May 28," he said.

"After the pilot was dropped at Father Point, the weather being clear at that time, we proceeded at full speed. After passing Cape Point Gas hazy, I sighted the Storstad, it then being clear.

"She was then about 1 point, 12 degrees, on our starboard bow. At that time I saw a slight fog bank coming from the land, not knowing it was going between the Storstad and myself.
The Storstad was then about two miles away. Then the fog came and the Storstad's lights disappeared.

"I ordered full speed astern on my engines and took the way off the ship so as to stop quick. At the same time
I blew three short blasts on my whistle, meaning, 'I am going full speed astern.' The Storstad answered with the whistle, giving me one prolonged blast.

"I then looked over the side of my ship into the water and I saw my ship was stopped. I then stopped my engines and blew two long blasts, meaning, 'My ship is stopped and has no way upon her.' He answered me once again with one prolonged blast.

"The sound was then about 1 point on my starboard bow. It was still foggy. I then looked to where the sound came from.

"About two minutes after I saw his red and green lights. He would then be about a ship's length away from me. I shouted to him through a megaphone to go full speed astern, as I saw the danger of a collision was inevitable.

"At the same time I put my engine full speed ahead, with my helm hard port, with the object of avoiding a collision, if possible. Almost at the same instant the Storstad struck and cut us down between the funnels.

"I then shouted to the Storstad to keep his ship full speed ahead to fill the hole. He backed away. The Empress then began to fill and stuck up rapidly.

"When the Storstad struck us I had stopped my engines. I then rang full speed ahead again when I saw the danger was so great.

"My object was to try and run her ashore to save the passengers. Almost immediately the engines stopped, the ship filling and going all the time to starboard.

"I had, in the meantime, given orders to get the lifeboats launched. I rushed along the starboard side of the boat deck and threw all the grips out of Nos. 1, 3, 5 and 7 boats; then I went back to the bridge again. I saw the chief officer rushing along the bridge.

"I told him to tell the wireless operator to send out distress signals at once.
He then told me this had been done.
Then I said, 'Get the lifeboats out as soon as possible.' That was the last I saw of the chief officer.

"In about three to five minutes after that the ship turned over and foundered.
I was then shot into the sea myself from the bridge and was taken down with the suction. The next thing I remember was seeing pieces of furniture. How long
I was on it I do not know, but I heard some men shout: 'There's the captain!'
Let us have him!

"They got to me and pulled me into the boat. It already held about thirty people. I then did my best with the people in the boat to assist in saving others. We pulled around and picked up twenty or twenty-five more.

"Seeing we could not possibly save any more we pulled to the Storstad, which was then about a mile and a half away.
I then got all those people put on board and then left the Storstad with six of the crew and went back and tried to save more. When we got there everybody had gone. We searched around and could not see anybody alive, so we returned to the Storstad.

"There was no panic. I had full control of the crew. They fought to the end.
There was no panic in passengers or crew.
Everybody behaved splendidly. But four boats were launched. These were the four of which I loosened the grips as the ship sank and as the water rose these boats floated away.

"The people who were saved were saved by the Empress' boats and by the wreckage.

"The Storstad had three or four of her boats out and they pulled around the wreckage and took people off the wreckage."

Board of Health Meeting.

A meeting of the Board of Health was held June 1st, in the Council Chamber at 8 p. m.

Present: His Worship the Mayor and all the Councillors and Dr. E. Du-Vermet, Health Officer.

The Mayor as Chairman stated that the Board was called together to discuss the report of the Health Officer and the Sanitary condition of the Town.

The Health Officer said he had gone over the Town with members of the Board and they had found conditions as he had stated in his report. They had inspected the Oliver drain and found it could not be tolerated. They had also investigated conditions in First Avenue and found them in a very bad state. He thought that either a sewer should be laid in the Avenue and compel all residents of the Avenue to join it or else compel the owners of properties on that street to have sewers connected with their premises and flush closets installed. Conditions were also very bad in Jew Cove while the worst conditions existed on the premises of the N. S. Fish Co. Limited.

He had notified Mr. Robertson, Manager of the Company, to remove objectionable matter but he had not yet done so. He wanted the Board to stand behind him and back up what he had done to endeavor to improve the sanitary condition of the Town.

Moved by Councillors Wrightman and Winchester that the action of the Health Officer in reference to the sewer drain of Mrs. Oyer be confirmed and if the instructions of the H. O. are not carried out that legal steps be taken to compel her to carry out such instructions. Carried nem. con.

Moved by Councillors Jordan and Troop that the house at the corner of Church St. and First Avenue, owned by the estate of Mrs. Bennett, be condemned as unfit for a dwelling house and that the owners and occupants be notified that the occupants shall vacate the premises within one month.
Carried nem. con.

Moved by Councillors Jordan and Warne that Mr. E. M. Turnbull, owner of the Levery on Beaver St. be notified to put in a sewer and flush closet under the premises and that Mrs. J. L.
Peters be notified to put in a sewer in the house on First Avenue known as the Hawkesworth House and have flush closets installed for the different tenants, and that C. A.
Gidder, owner of a property on Queen St., be notified to put in a sewer from his premises to carry off such water, etc. Carried nem. con.

Moved by Councillors Troop and Rice that E. M. Robertson, Manager of N. S. Fish Co., Ltd., be notified to remove the fish off from their premises and also to put the fish off within ten days. Carried nem. con.

Moved by Councillors Wrightman
and Rice that the fish drive be notified not to put on the fish drive of May till the 1st of October in each year, no gurry shall be removed from their premises between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. and that no gurry be delivered to any one unless they have properly constructed carts or waggon and cover the gurry as required by the By-laws. Carried nem. con.

Moved by Councillors Troop and Winchester that the owners of properties in Jew Cove be notified to clean up their premises and keep them clean and if they do not comply with such notice that they be prosecuted as provided by the By-laws.

The Board adjourned at 10:15 p. m.

Notice to the Public

THE FOLLOWING NOTICE having been sent to the Town Council in Digby, we hereby give notice that we will not be responsible for any damage caused by the defective sidewalk or platform on town property opposite our property on the east side of Water Street.

NOTICE
We, the undersigned, property owners and ratepayers of the Town of Digby do hereby notify the Honorable Members of the Town Council and Street Committee that part of the Wooden Side walk (Town Property) has broken through and is a menace to the people walking over it. Owing to the increase in the cost of keeping up the premises on our side of the street and considering the care taken of the other side, we do not feel that we should have any more expense on the above and will not be liable for any damages caused by any one injured by travelling over the above Town Property. The above property is situated in front of the premises of the undersigned, the store of Dakin
Bros., being one and the Western Nova Scotia

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

COAL mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of one year or an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights are to be leased.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the net marketable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of marketable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Interior, Ottawa, Ontario, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

D. C. COY, Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

SYNOPSIS OF DOMINION LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must be of legal age, of the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certificate supplied by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Butler—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres, or on a homestead occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt quarter sections along side his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Butler—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption site in each of three years. The date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has not yet earned his homestead right cannot obtain a pre-emption site either for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Butler—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $200.00.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills exactly meet the need which so often arises in every family for a medicine to open up and regulate the bowels. Not only are they effective in all cases of Constipation, but they help greatly in breaking up a Cold or La Grippe by cleansing out the system and purifying the blood. In the same way they relieve or cure Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headaches, Rheumatism and other common ailments. In the fullest sense of the words Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are

A Household Remedy
Can't Do Without Them
Gin Pills the only things that keep him well.

FRANK RIVER, Ont.
"Enclosed please find 50c. for which kindly send me a box of GIN PILLS, as I don't feel that I can remain long without some of them in the house. I find them so good that if I am out of GIN PILLS, the house seems to be all wrong somehow. Kindly send pills by return mail."

RICHARD HANLYN.
If you have any trouble in getting GIN PILLS in your neighborhood, write direct to us, enclosing the regular retail price, 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, and we will fill your order by return mail, at the same time giving you the name of a nearby dealer who handles GIN PILLS.

There is no other remedy in the world that acts so quickly and so effectively in relieving Pain in the Back, curing Kidney and Bladder Troubles, Suppression or Incontinence of Urine and driving Rheumatism out of the system. Sample box free if you write us, mentioning this paper. National Drug and Chem. Co., of Canada Limited, Toronto, Ontario. Four Blood Tablets purify and enrich the blood—especially good for women and young girls. 50c. a box. 203

Are you one of those to whom every meal is another source of suffering?
Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets will help your disordered stomach to digest any reasonable meals, and will soon restore it to such perfect condition that you'll never feel that you have a stomach. Take one after each meal. 50c. a Box at your Druggist's. Made by the National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited.

Mr. Taylor is attending the Synod meetings of the Church of England in Halifax this week.

Dr. A. F. Hogan has been spending several days in Boston, whither his family has been visiting for a few weeks.

Mrs. W. F. Journeay and Mrs. Rudolph attended the meetings of the W. A. of the Church of England last week at Lunenburg.

Among the guests at the Goodwin last week, for several days, were Mr. Fraser, of Halifax, and Mr. and Miss Godfrey, of Yarmouth.

Messrs. Wm. Butler and Percy Journeay, accompanied by friends from Haverhill, spent a few days here recently on a fishing trip.

Mr. J. Nesbitt cut his foot badly on Monday while working on the new bridge. Work is progressing most favorably at present on the bridge.

Mr. Guy Blackadar has moved his family into the H. Oakes house, and Mr. George Comeau has his family in his house, recently occupied by Mr. Blackadar.

On Tuesday afternoon, at high water, another attempt to pull the Rosefield off the flats was made by the S. S. Sissiboo, which proved to be successful.

Wednesday was generally observed as a holiday here. A cricket match, the married men versus the single, was played on the W. A. A. grounds in the afternoon.

Mr. J. Powers, Superintendent of the construction work, with Messrs. Powers and Brower, arrived from Hantsport with workmen last Friday and is engaged in work here now.

The three masted schooner Rosefield, in being towed down the river last week had the misfortune to get on the flats, and the first of this week she was still there, despite the efforts to pull her off.

The junior baseball team drove to Church Point Saturday afternoon to play the College boys. Owing to the rain the game was not concluded. The score stood in favor of the Weymouth boys when they ceased playing.

Messrs. Powers and Brower, accompanied by a party of gentlemen, among whom were Messrs. E. Giffins, of Kentville, and engineer Hare, of the C. P. R., returned on Monday from a fishing trip. The railroad officials left for Kentville on their private car the same morning.

Madeline, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pius Comeau fell through the railroad bridge on Sunday afternoon, while crossing the structure with some companions. She struck her head in falling and was rendered unconscious for a time, but fortunately escaped further serious injuries.

Mr. Elijah Wagner, of Danvers, was driving his automobile in town Saturday afternoon and attempted to cross over the railway crossing just as the west bound express train came to the station. Miraculously he and his auto escaped injury, the engineer on the train and Mr. Wagner doing all they possibly could to avert a collision.

The warmest sympathy of the community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jones in the passing away of Fred, their youngest son, on Tuesday afternoon, at the early age of twenty five. A year ago, while residing in California, he suffered a serious illness, but recovered sufficiently to return home last summer. His condition continued to improve, although it was evident he was a victim of tuberculosis, until within a month, when a decline ensued. He was about the house on Sunday, being in bed only two days before the end came. Mr. Jones was a favorite with everybody, his cheery disposition and affable manner endearing him to his acquaintances. Many and sincere have been the expressions of sympathy during his illness, showing the esteem in which he was held.

Mrs. Silas Balcom returned from Lynn on Wednesday last where she spent the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Lemuel Morrison.

R. T. Chisholm, of Granville Ferry, and friend Miss Anthony, of the Island, visited Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Chisholm Sunday.

We are very pleased to state that Mr. George Morrison is slowly recovering from his very serious accident, in which he so miraculously escaped death.

Mayflower
The Misses Frances and Jeannette Thibault were visitors to Yarmouth last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Doreau left Saturday for Quincy, Mass., to be gone all summer.

We are pleased to see Mr. Ben Jeddrie on the road to recovery after his recent illness.

We are pleased to see Mrs. Joseph Thibault, who arrived from the V. G. Hospital, much improved in health.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Thibault on the arrival of a son, May 30th, named Edward Leo. Mother and son are both doing nicely.

Lower Granville
Mrs. Byron Chesley, of Clarence, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Stephen Thorne.

Miss Hattie Mills and her friend, Mr. Earl Poole, of Bridgetown, were visiting at the River View Cottage on Sunday.

The latest news from Mrs. Horace Johnson's sister, Miss Jennie Corbett, Missionary in India, who was so very ill in the hospital there, is very encouraging and it is hoped that still later news received by her friends here will still be more so.

Beware of Outbreaks for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.
as mercury will surely destroy the system of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescription from a reputable physician, as the damage they do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hillsdale Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. By buying Hillsdale Catarrh Cure you are sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle. Take Hillsdale Family Pills for constipation.

What came near being a very sad affair occurred Thursday, May 28th, when Herman and Oscar Theriault, were out trawling. A very sudden squall came up making it so rough that the boat nearly swamped, which had a load of fish, while at the same time the engine stopped working. They anchored their boat and tried to put up a signal, but it was impossible, the wind blowing so hard. A boat went out to look for them, but of no avail. Darkness coming on they had to return

Digby, June 12, 1914

AN IMPORTANT NOTICE.

During the next few days bills will be sent to all our advertisers and to all patrons of our job printing department. We expect payment of these accounts on or before June 15th, as our financial year ends this month and it is important that all accounts be balanced at that time. Subscribers in arrears will also take notice of the date on their address labels and remit promptly, thereby saving trouble and unnecessary expense.

The South End Lawn Tennis & Quoit Club

W. H. Graham has just completed a handsome new Club House for the South End Lawn Tennis & Quoit Club, which is a credit to the builder, the town and this progressive young Club. It will be opened with a tea on Saturday afternoon, June 13th, the hostesses on that occasion being Mrs. Mowbray, Mrs. Morse, Miss Burnham, Miss Coulter and Miss Marion Daley, assisted by P. W. Holdsworth and Charles Moore. The Club has provided dishes and kitchen utensils, and each member is asked to donate a small sum of 15 cents towards defraying the cost of same, which will do away with the members bringing their own dishes, etc., on each tea day as was done in the past, and the committee have arranged that four ladies and two gentlemen will provide all the refreshments on each tea day, so that after a member's turn as hostess is over, she will not have any more trouble in providing for the season. This is a great improvement on the old system, which called upon each member to provide something for each tea. The membership of the club is now eighty-five, and the counts are in excellent condition, so that with good weather, everything points to a successful tennis season. Quoits and croquet are provided for those who do not care to play tennis, and it is now proposed to add Lawn Bowls, a game very popular in England at the present time.

Yacht Club Meeting.

The regular June meeting of the Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club was held in their club rooms last Monday evening and was attended by many of Digby's most prominent citizens. Mr. W. M. Romans, of Bear River, was also present. The report of the club for the past season was read and the club was placed in position at the landing yesterday.

Many matters of importance were discussed, committees appointed and all bills presented at the meeting were ordered to be paid and checks issued to cover the same. An extension of fifty feet has been placed on the Club's private landing which will be much appreciated by the members and by visiting yachtsmen, who happen along at extreme low tides. The slip is now over 500 feet long. A vote of thanks was extended to Messrs. A. A. Shortliffe and G. W. Wrightman for presenting the Club with a new electric light pole which was placed in position at the landing yesterday.

The first important club event this season will be ladies' day, Friday, July 17th, which is being looked forward to with great interest by the members and their lady friends.

Supreme Court

The Supreme Court opened at the Court House in Digby on Tuesday 9th inst., Judge Graham presiding. Barristers R. J. Coe, K. C. Denison, K. O. Jones, K. C., Mr. Grierson, Mr. F. H. Nichols, Mr. F. W. Nichols. Full attendance of Grand and Petit Juries.

King and Frank Andrews for appropriating another man's bicycle; sentence suspended for one year. Recognizance taken on open court $100.00 each; two sureties in $50.00 each. The King and Handford Andrews, same offence and like penalty. The King and Thomas Francis, Jr., pleaded common assault. Fine of $10.00; recognizance to keep the peace for two years, himself in $100.00 and one surety in $100.00 taken on open court. The King and Samuel B. Rice same offence and like penalty. The King and Arthur Bourdon for making false entries in books of the Society "Aes Artisans Canadenses-Francose." Verdict of not guilty and prisoner discharged.

CIVIL SIDE. Dominion Atlantic Railway Company and John Barr for damage to bridge over the Sissiboo River. Application for further pleadings and continued.

This finished the Docket.

Digby's Half Holiday.

The clerks have signed a petition asking the merchants to close their stores every Friday afternoon during July and August. We trust that the merchants will grant the request and thus put Digby in line with all the other towns in the Province, nearly all of which are having a half holiday either Friday or Saturday afternoons. It is said that not more than two local merchants failed to comply with this arrangement last year and surely the remainder of our business men will not allow these two to dictate to them what they shall do in the matter.

A Busy Man

Mr. W. A. Chute, Bear River's popular building master, is certainly a busy man. John H. Chute went to Trout Cove and straightened up the schr. Theodore Roosevelt, the blocking from which was washed out during last week's gale. The vessel was uninjured. Wednesday he removed his hoisting gear to Digby and is removing the engine and boiler from the ferry boat, Premier. Mr. Chute is accompanied by his son Harry.

Frank Bacon's Funeral.

The funeral of the late Frank Bacon, whose remains arrived here from Seattle, via St. John, last Saturday morning, took place this afternoon at noon from Linden Terrace, the residence of Major and Mrs. John Daley. Interment took place in Forest Hill cemetery, the services at the church and at the grave were conducted by Rev. Wm. Driffield, rector of Holy Trinity church.

OF A LOCAL NATURE

Rev. J. D. Brehant will preach at Colliodon next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Nova Scotia's Masonic Grand Lodge was in session this week in Halifax.

In future Sunday visitors will not be allowed at the Almas house, Thursday being visitors' day.

Several government officials visited the lobster hatchery at Long Beach Pond, St. Mary's Bay, this week.

A meeting of all those interested in cricket will be held in W. J. Oshon's barber shop next Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

A new telephone line will be built from Meteghnon to Weymouth. The company, which is a local one, expects in time to run their line from Yarmouth to Digby.

J. Arthur Rice of Bear River, has been appointed a Commissioner for Annapolis County under Section 1 of Chapter 35 of the Revised Statutes of Nova Scotia, 1900.

A mouse passed near Mr. W. C. Warrington's barn at Mt. Pleasant about 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. One also swam across Bear River recently and was seen at Smith's Cove.

The Yarmouth-Digby accommodation trains now arrive here every night, returning to Yarmouth the following morning which gives the public better accommodation than during the winter arrangement.

Work is about completed on the new U. P. R. bridge at the mouth of Bear River and the superintendent, the various foremen and their crews are leaving this week, some for their homes and others for work in new places.

Mr. Lloyd G. Irons Married.

FORMER MONCTON MAN NOW MANAGER BANK OF N. S. AT PORT WILLIAM.

The following is from the Times Journal, of Port William, where the groom is manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia:

"A pretty house wedding of much interest took place this afternoon, Tuesday, June 2, 1914, at 2 o'clock, when Miss Pearl Irons, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry West, 25 Hill street, Mariday Park, Port Arthur, was married to Mr. Lloyd Garrison Irons, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Irons, of Moncton, N. B. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Cranston, Port William, at the home of the bride's parents. They were unattended, the bride wearing a becoming costume of cadet blue silk moire. With this she wore a blouse of French lace veiled with tulle. The hat was a smart poke shape with pretty crown of white silk and tulle, the leaf of the hat being of shawl pink. The gift from the groom was a diamond ring which she wore. The ceremony was performed under a lovely arch, composed of smilax and roses. Mendelssohn's Wedding March and other appropriate musical compositions were played by Miss Laura Demuth. The bride's bouquet was of white roses and lilies of the valley, from which were hanging dainty streamers of tulle and knots of the lilies. Mr. Henry West, the bride's father, gave her away. After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served. Mr. Henry West wore a gown of black satin with corsage of lilies of the valley, and a mauve hat. Mrs. W. Maurice Road was in blue tulle. Mrs. W. H. S. Gordon wore a white shadow lace gown with corsage of lilies of the valley, and the bride's youngest sister, a white serge costume. Mr. and Mrs. Irons left by the steamer Harmonic for Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo and other eastern cities and on their return will reside at 531 South Marks street, Port William. The bride received some beautiful and very thoughtfully chosen gifts."

[Mr. Irons was formerly a member of the Bank of Nova Scotia staff in Digby and has many friends here who will extend congratulations.]

Additions to the Commercial Fleet.

MR. S. D. MUNRO'S NEW BOAT ESPECIALLY DESIGNED FOR THE TOURIST BUSINESS.

A COURIER representative visited the south end of Queen street Monday morning to get a description of Mr. S. D. Munro's new boat which he especially designed for the tourist business and which was built by Mr. R. C. Bonson, of Bear River. This new boat, named Minniehaha, is 35 ft. long, 7 ft. beam with a draft of two feet three inches. She has a short cabin forward, the remainder of the boat finished in an open cockpit capable of seating about 40 people.

A four cylinder four cycle Palmer gas engine will move this boat along at a good cruising speed enabling her to run afternoon excursions to Annapolis, Bear River and elsewhere or private trips to any part of the Basin or out in the Bay. The workmanship is excellent and has already attracted considerable attention. We wish the new boat every success.

Mr. Bonson is now finishing a boat for Mr. Alex. Adams, of Bay View, which will also be engaged in the tourist business.

Married at Chance Harbor.

BRADSHAW KELLY.

[Wednesday St. John Telegraph.] At the residence of Rev. J. D. Westmore, Chance Harbor, N. B., a wedding of interest to friends in St. John was solemnized by Mr. Westmore, when Miss Florence M. Kelly, daughter of Michael Kelly, temperance orator, was married to Walter E. Bradshaw, engineer for the Dominion Bridge Company, who is at present stationed in St. John. The ceremony was witnessed by many immediate relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw will reside in Delhi street. They received many nice presents, testifying to their popularity.

Policeman Leaves.

St. John Telegraph says: Allan H. Shortliffe, who has been a very efficient member of the police force for the last three years, tendered his resignation on Saturday night to Chief of Police Clark and it was accepted. Mr. Shortliffe became a member of the force in 1911 and during the three years he has executed his duties as a policeman in a capable manner. Mr. Shortliffe's recent illness has been one of the chief causes for his leaving.

[The Mr. Shortliffe above referred to is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Shortliffe, of South Hango, and a brother of Mr. A. A. Shortliffe, of Digby.]

Miss Margaret and Miss Anna Muldon and Miss M. Mulvey, of Chicago, are guests of Miss Collins and Miss Agate at the Waverly Hotel.

Prof. Lawrence (Billie Bochner), the well known actor, passed through Digby Monday from Boston to visit Annapolis Royal, his native town.

Rev. William Driffield, Mr. S. A. Keen and Mr. H. H. Marshall, M. P. P., attended the sessions of Masonic Grand Lodge in Halifax this week.

Middleton Outlook: Mrs. O. W. Potter, of Smith's Cove, with her son Gerald, is spending several weeks with her mother, Mrs. J. H. Charlton.

Mr. George R. McNeill, proprietor of the Pines Hotel, and Mr. W. S. Troop, proprietor of the Manhattan, were among the passengers from St. John Wednesday.

Among the passengers from St. John last Saturday were: E. M. Robertson, Frank Conwell, Chas. Vye, Mrs. W. E. VanHornum, Digby; Edgar Outhouse, Tiverton.

Mr. R. H. Goudley, Yarmouth's well known headstone and monument manufacturer, whose advertisement appears regularly in the COURIER, was in Digby Saturday.

Mr. E. A. Gidney, of Mink Cove, was in Digby Friday, returning from a trip to Halifax where he had been visiting his son who is in the city for special medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Daley, of Yarmouth, arrived in Digby Saturday to attend the funeral of the late Frank Bacon, a notice of whose death appeared in our last issue.

Mr. J. G. Gates, of Weymouth, spent several days in Digby this week, returning home Wednesday with Mr. J. A. Grierson and Mr. Arch Beaton in Mr. Grierson's automobile.

Mr. Thomas Woodworth passed through Digby Tuesday en route to Boston, via St. John. Mr. Woodworth expects to be absent about two weeks before returning to his business at Meteghnon River.

Mr. Geo. Holdsworth, of Saugus, Mass., is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Holdsworth, Carleton street. Mr. Holdsworth is accompanied by his friend, Mr. Fred Hutchinson, of Foxbury, Mass.

Middleton Outlook: Mrs. V. Harris, of Bear River, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lenest Ruggles. Mrs. P. H. Reed and Miss Harriet Reed arrived from Bear River and spent a few days in Middleton.

St. John (Tele): Mr. C. Fred McBride, C. P. R. steamship agent at Digby, came to St. John Wednesday by the St. George on business relating to the Bay service and returned home this morning. Mr. McBride is a very popular member of the C. P. R. staff in Nova Scotia.

Mr. Thomas W. Fleet, of South Nelson, N. B., owner of the ferry boat Premier, has made many friends during his stay at this port who will regret his departure. After the machinery is removed Mr. Fleet will offer the Premier for sale. It is not clear how he may have been towed to St. John.

Shelburne Gazette: Rev. Leander Daniel, of Digby, has accepted an invitation to the Shelburne Methodist circuit for the next pastoral year. Mr. Daniel was stationed here about twenty-two years ago, and his many old friends will be glad to learn that he is to return for another term.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rufus, of New Glasgow, were in Digby Wednesday. Mr. Rufus is very popular here, having been local manager of the Annapolis Digby division of the Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Co. until he was transferred to Kentville and afterwards promoted to wire chief at New Glasgow.

SHIPPING AND FISHING

Schr. Prometheus arrived at Boston from Bear River June 6th.

Schr. Princess sailed from Boston for Barton, N. S., June 7th.

Schr. B. B. Hardwick sailed from Boston for Weymouth June 6th.

Schr. Marion McLean arrived at Boston from Westport June 7th.

Schr. Annie arrived at Boston for Salmon River, N. S., June 7th.

D. Sproule & Company's shipments this week: 17 bbls. of lobsters.

Schr. Souvenir, Capt. L. H. Outhouse, is in port from Bridgetown for Tiverton.

Joseph E. Snow's arrivals this week: 38,000 lbs. of mixed fish from boatmen.

Schrs. Little Elsie and Mary C., sailed from Boston for Westport, N. S., June 3rd.

Schr. Mary Weaver sailed from Vineyard Haven for Weymouth, N. S., June 7th.

Fish arrivals at Yarmouth June 4th: Schr. Eddie James, Capt. John Denton, 22,000 lbs. halibut, 7,000 lbs. shuck.

Auxiliary schooner Conqueror, Capt. Pendleton, and Rose W., Capt. Mitchell, are in port buying fish for the sardine factories at Lubec.

Schr. Quickstep at Sproule & Company's wharf has been made ready for fishing and will probably sail tomorrow in charge of Capt. Arthur Casey.

Quite a large haul of small herring was taken from the wharves at the South End Monday morning's tide. These are being shipped to canning factories across the Bay.

The tern schooner Catherine, from St. John in ballast, was towed to Bear River Tuesday to take in part cargo of lumber for the West Indies. She will come back to Digby for her deckload.

Yarmouth Telegraph: Mr. Henry A. Amoro has purchased the Digby schr. Eddie J., from Tiverton parties who owned her, and has added her to his fleet of shore fishermen. She is 24 tons register.

Schr. Venus, Capt. John W. Snow, is at Port Wade ready to sail for Dipper Harbor with a fleet of gasoline boats which Capt. Snow will have employed catching fish in that vicinity during the summer months.

The recent rough weather did considerable damage at Trout Cove. Several gasoline boats were injured, the blockading washed from beneath the schr. Theodore Roosevelt and work more or less interfered with on the new breakwater.

The schooner King Josiah is in from New York with 281 tons of hard coal for W. E. VanHornum. Captain Patrick reports taking Thursday night's heavy blow twenty-five miles down the bay, during which the vessel labored heavily and sail had to be shortened.

The Yarmouth fishing schooner Eddie James, Capt. John Sims, sought shelter at Digby Saturday from a lively breeze in the bay. The troublesome dogfish are so prevalent to the westward that Capt. Sims went further up the bay to fish. He had a small catch, several thousand pounds, including some halibut.

Maritime Fish Corporation arrivals: schr. Cora Gattie, 12,001 lbs. of halibut; schr. Wilfred L. Snow, 2,800 lbs. of cod, 753 hake, 712 halibut; schr. Grace Darling, 7,574 lbs. of cod, 6,338 lbs. of haddock, 757 lbs. of hake; other sources, 11,042 lbs. of cod, 3,265 lbs. of pollock, 4,963 lbs. of haddock, 1,230 lbs. of hake.

The schooner Elsie B. Nickerson, Capt. Ernest Morehouse, from St. John for St. Mary's Bay ports with a general cargo, is at this port waiting for favorable weather to proceed. During the north-easter of Thursday the Nickerson had to leave the Trout Cove breakwater, where she sought shelter, and run up the bay to Digby for a harbor.

S. S. Yarmouth arrived here Tuesday in charge of her popular commander, Capt. Andrew Macdonald, and is again on the Bay route after a thorough overhauling, new painting, etc. Capt. Macdonald has with him his same officers and is as usual running as regularly as an express train. The S. S. St. George is laid off for painting before beginning the double daily service.

Schr. Albert J. Lutz, in charge of her popular skipper, Capt. John Apt, arrived at Casco Tuesday with 60,000 lbs. halibut and 25,000 lbs. cod, the result of a trip to Anticosti, notwithstanding the rough weather which has prevailed ever since the vessel left Digby. This extra good trip was purchased by the Casco branch of the Maritime Fish Corporation of Montreal.

Schr. Gabriel A., in charge of Capt. "Jim" Daley, who has on board his wife and family, sailed from Digby for St. Andrews Sunday morning, returning to Digby the same night. When interviewed by a COURIER reporter Capt. "Jim" stated that the weather was rough in the Bay and after carrying away his job he had decided to return to port. He says his vessel is an excellent sea boat and that he will proceed first chance.

Captain John Morrissey has assumed command of the schooner Clara A. Bonner, Captain Samuel Melanson, her owner, remaining ashore to look after other interests. The Bonner was to take a load of pickled fish for the Maritime Fish Corporation to Portland, but is now loading hard wood plank for St. John, from which port it will be shipped by the Furness Line to England. After her return from St. John, the Bonner will make the Portland trip. For carrying this hard wood plank to St. John a good rate is given, and the schooner Maple, Capt. Baird, cleared on Saturday with a load instead of going to Annapolis for brick.

The following vessels have reported at the Digby customs house since June 4th: Inward—Gib, schr. Grace Darling, Casey; fishing; schr. Cora Gattie, Crocker, Little River; Gib, schr. King Josiah, Faulkner, Port Ambury; Schr. Rose W., Mitchell, Lubec, Mo.; schr. Conqueror, Pendleton, Lord's Cove; schr. Britannia, Marshall, Port George; Gib, schr. Conqueror, Pendleton, Indian Island, Ont. Ward—June 6th, schr. Cora Gattie, Crocker, Freeport; schr. Clara Bonner, Morrissey, St. John; Gib, Grace Darling, Casey; fishing; schr. Quickstep, Casey; fishing; Schr. Britannia, Marshall, Little's Harbor; schr. Conqueror, Pendleton, Eastport; schr. Rose W., Mitchell, Eastport.

Died in His 101st Year.

The death occurred at Abram's River on May 28th of Reim LeBlanc at the advanced age of 100 years. The deceased, who was well known and liked by all who knew him, had been in good health up to within a few months of his death. He retained his faculties up to the time of his last illness and would talk most interestingly of the events of seventy or eighty years ago. He was twice married, his first wife being Henrietta Duquette of Tusket, and the second Madeline Francoeur, of Salmon River, Digby County, both of whom predeceased him. His descendants who survive are four daughters and three sons, forty-eight grandchildren one hundred and eighteen great grandchildren and thirty-five great great grandchildren. The old gentleman had never rode in a train, automobile or trolley car.

The interment took place on Sunday the 31st May in the Catholic cemetery at LeBlanc, the Rev. Father Leichtenberg officiating. The funeral was one of the largest ever seen there, as the deceased was well known and liked throughout the entire county. A number of Yarmouth people were in attendance including Mr. and Mrs. Harry McKinlay. Mrs. McKinlay is a grand daughter of the deceased. Mr. LeBlanc was a life-long conservative and never missed an election from the time he was old enough to vote.

Bay of Fundy

St. John people are very jealous of the good name of the Bay of Fundy, and well they might be, for it is a very important factor in the commerce of the port. Last year alone 2,269 steam and sail vessels traversed the Bay to St. John, representing 1,381,502 tons. The number of casualties was infinitesimally small. And this condition has not been peculiar to this particular year, for during the 18 years since 1896, with a total tonnage of 42,029,262 tons entering the port of St. John, the casualty average was only .033 of 1 per cent. This is very low indeed, and should go far to establish the almost absolute safety of the Bay of Fundy from a navigator's standpoint. Last winter, when the West India liner Cobqueid, twelve miles off her course, stranded on Trinity Ledges, off Yarmouth, there was a good deal of criticism thrust at the Bay of Fundy from marine arm chair critics in Montreal, Halifax and elsewhere, and a good many things were said that in the light of some recent deplorable disasters would have been better unsaid. Experience has shown the wisdom of indulging in boasting comparisons. Just when a port "thinketh it standeth" is the time when a "fall" may be on its way. So far from the Bay of Fundy being dangerous to navigate, as some of its critics have claimed, it is quite the reverse. Nature has devised a great breakwater in the peninsula of Nova Scotia to protect the Bay of Fundy from Atlantic swells, and it is this huge breakwater which makes the Bay so easy of navigation. It is true there are rocks and shoals along its shores, but if navigators adhere to either one or other of the broad channels by which the Bay is entered, there is nothing to dread from these obstructions. In recent years many improvements have been made to the lights, buoys and fog signals in the Bay, so that a careful navigator finds little trouble in entering or leaving the port of St. John.

Celebrated Silver Wedding

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD O. OSBORNE
GIVEN SURPRISE AT NORTH DUXBURY.

A very pleasant event took place in North Duxbury hall Saturday evening, May 9, when the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Edward O. Osborne, met to celebrate their silver anniversary. It took the form of a surprise and Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Hartford escorted the couple to the hall.

At 8:30 Mrs. George Belknap headed the march that ushered Mr. and Mrs. Osborne into the hall. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin I. Dill, who assisted them in receiving the assembled guests. At the close of the reception a pleasant entertainment was enjoyed. Miss Mabel Hartford, of Simmons College, at the piano; Miss Haley of Simmons, reader; Miss Irene Day accompanied by Miss Bernice Belknap, sang charming selections and Messrs. Hannigan and Simmons played selected duets on piano and violin.

Acollation was served in the banquet hall and a beautiful decorated wedding cake was cut by the bride of 25 years, and passed to the guests. Mrs. Hartford read a very appropriate poem.

Mrs. Dill then presented to Mr. and Mrs. Osborne, a case of beautiful solid silver. They were deeply touched by this evidence of friendship and responded in a few brief words of thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Osborne were married in Lynn, Mass., May 9, 1889, by the Rev. Jason Mariner. Mrs. Osborne was formerly Winifred A. Campbell, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benj. R. Campbell, of Freeport, Nova Scotia.

Corinthian Sank Str. Oriole

LONDON, June 6.—The Allan line steamer Corinthian, from Montreal for London, collided with and sank the steamer Oriole, a small vessel which plies on the River Thames, off Greenwich, tonight.

The Oriole had just landed her passengers at London Bridge, five miles above Greenwich, and was returning to her moorings when the accident occurred. The crew of 17 were saved.

Orders a Blockade of Tampico

MEXICO CITY, June 10.—The foreign office sent a note to the legation this afternoon notifying them that the port of Tampico had been blockaded by order of President Huerta. The United States government was also notified through the Spanish minister at Washington.

The First Ship.

PANAMA, June 8.—When the Alliance, the Panama Railroad ship, passes through the Gatun lock on next Monday, she will be the first passenger vessel to use the locks of the canal. The ship, which is awaited here with great interest, will be made in order to give the locks a thorough test.

Three Master On Its Beam Ends

HALIFAX, June 7.—Steamer Halifax, from Boston, on arrival here tonight, reported a three-masted schooner, beam code off Cape Negro (N. E.). There was no sign of the crew and the ship's boats were gone. The schooner's bows were stove in.

The Menace of the Fly

(Issued by the Department of Public Health, Nova Scotia.)

It has now been established that flies are not only a nuisance, but that they are very active distributors of disease.

While by performance they invest places where filth abounds, they are of ubiquitous habit, and pass cheerfully from the manure heap, the privy, the garbage pail or the sick room to get the first taste of food intended for our dining tables, to deposit on it such filth as they are able to conveniently carry and mayhap the germs of such diseases as typhoid fever, tuberculosis, infantile diarrhoea, etc. The infection of the dreaded infantile paralysis is very probably carried by the stable fly, which in biting the little victim inoculates it with this disease.

The chief breeding places of flies are collections of garbage and manure—particularly horse manure. In such places they multiply with great rapidity. Each adult female fly deposits several hundred eggs, which pass through the cycle from egg to fly within eight to ten days. Seven to ten generations are bred annually. Thus the progeny of a single female fly, which has survived the winter, may amount to several billions in but one season. The Merchants' Association of New York estimates that the progeny of one pair of flies for one summer, if all survived, would occupy a space of 14,000,000 cubic feet, even if pressed together. There is good reason, therefore, why the campaign against the fly should be commenced at the very beginning of the season.

Our houses (particularly the dining room and kitchen, and all sick rooms) our food (including fruits and vegetables which are eaten uncooked), and the faces and bodies of infants should be protected against flies by suitable screening. Every fly should be killed on sight. But the principal means of controlling the fly pest is by doing away with the breeding places.

Particular care should be given to the removal of stable manure, which, during warm weather, should under no condition be allowed to remain at a less distance than a quarter of a mile from a human habitation. Garbage, contents of privy vaults, and refuse of all kinds should be similarly removed if the preferable destruction by fire cannot be carried out. Manure pits, garbage receptacles, etc., should be made very tight (to prevent the maggots from getting into the underlying soil) and should be systematically and completely emptied at least every four days during warm weather. They should moreover be carefully guarded by screens or otherwise made fly tight, or should be sprinkled liberally and frequently with chloride of lime or a solution of sulphate of iron. Privies and privy vaults in particular should be thoroughly screened.

Cupboards should be given special care. A little solution of formalin (a teaspoonful to a pint of water) should be placed in each cupboard. This solution, sweetened with sugar and exposed in saucers, will kill flies in a room.

It is important to carry out these precautions from the very commencement of the warm weather, and to persist in them throughout the fly season.

The presence of flies indicates the presence of filth or of insanitary conditions in the neighborhood, and is a certain sign that a cleaning up is necessary. The trapping and swatting of flies is undoubtedly of value, but reliance must especially be placed on the elimination of breeding places.

Do not patronize dealers in food stuffs whose wares are not kept carefully screened from flies.

Two P. E. Island Vessels Wrecked

CHARLOTTETOWN, June 7.—The schooner James Ryan, loaded with gunnysacks, from Egnout Bay on P. E. Island, was wrecked off Egnout Bay on Saturday morning. The marine office ordered the Brant to her assistance, where she lay on the bar about one and a half miles from shore. No lives were lost as was first rumored.

CHARLOTTETOWN, June 7.—Hyndman & Company have received information of the loss of the Freddie A. Higgins, which was totally wrecked at Waterford on the west side of P. E. Island some time on Friday last.

The Freddie A. Higgins was owned by Capt. McLeod, of New London and was loaded with oats by Peter McNatt & Son, of P. E. Island, and was a total loss. The crew was saved.

Hole in Bottom of Sea

A hole nearly a mile deep was formed in the bottom of the sea off the coast of Panama by the recent Central American earthquake, according to apparently authentic reports. As a result of these earthquakes, a sub marine cable was broken, and a cable ship was sent out to make repairs. The ends of the cable were found to be buried under enormous masses of material, and where the Government charts, published in 1904, showed a depth of 1,000 feet, soundings made from the cable ship found a depth of 5,000 feet. This remarkable depression is located off Los Santos Province, about fifteen miles from the mainland, and is about half a mile wide.

Smallpox Detains 300 Passengers

QUEBEC, June 10.—The steamer Canada, of the White Star Line, arrived at the Quebec pier quarantine station today with a case of small pox in the steerage. About 300 passengers who have been exposed to contagion have been held for observation.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Hospital News.

To the Editor of the Courier:
DEAR SIR:—For some years there has been a growing anxiety over the rapid increase of insanity. An American Government Commission reported that it is increasing almost three times as rapidly as the population. Asylums for the insane are becoming a great financial burden. They are all filled to overflowing and there is constant complaint of lack of room. People who think seriously of the evil yet begin to wonder how long it will be till the insane are in number those of sound mind. The number of the insane is only a part of the evil for there is a very large number whose nervous systems are ruined who do not require asylum treatment. Thus we are fast becoming a nation of neurotics.

Finally Science turned her searchlight on the subject and demonstrated that not only is insanity really increasing more rapidly than the population, but that the main cause is the drinking habits of the people. This knowledge was slow in coming because people generally are unwilling to admit that drink was the cause of insanity in a member of their family. Many times when making out papers for admission to an asylum, I have been asked not to answer that question.

However, a more hopeful outlook has arisen in several countries. Now that the cause is known in many countries they are trying to remove it. Great news comes from Kansas. During the last seven or eight years, prohibition has been well enforced, with the astonishing result that out of 105 counties, 87 have no insane, whereas Ontario has not a single county without a number of insane. The asylums of Kansas promise soon to be almost empty, as many of their jails and poor houses are already empty.

This is very encouraging and for ever puts an end to the controversy regarding the principal cause of insanity. Renewed hope has arisen and a determination to lessen the evil as rapidly as possible. May this hope determine us to light the drink evil till our asylums are empty or nearly so.

H. ANSTOTT, M. B., M. C. P. S.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR:—Will you kindly allow me space to show the public what we Digby county fishermen consider a gross injustice. The fishery laws are absurd. The Yarmouth fishermen begin operations three weeks before we put down our traps, thus giving them the monopoly of the lobster business when the prices are at the top notch. To make things equal we are allowed to fish until the 15th of June, but what is the result? Yarmouth fishermen keep right with the lobster business as far as the boats. They bring the catch to Westport and sell to the American smacks, thereby supplying them with all they require, to the detriment of our fishermen, both in price and demand. It would appear to us that some steps should be taken by those who have supervision of these matters in hand to stop this illegal business of fishing after the close season.

Are there no patrol boats in Yarmouth county to look after this matter? Thanking you kindly in advance for space in your valuable paper, I remain, yours,

FISHERMAN.

Westport, June 3, 1914.

In Memoriam.

Lines in memory of Edith Purdy, fourth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Purdy, Beaver River, who departed this life on April 4th, 1913, aged 8 years. In school, as usual on Friday afternoon, early the following evening, she was not, for God had taken her.

Eight short years the Father lent us
From the garden of His love
A fragrant blossom, full of promise:
Now it blooms for Him above.

Without warning, came the message
From an angel passing by,
Little Edith thou art wanted
For the Father's home on high.

Sadly, sadly, low we laid her,
On the hillside 'neath the green,
And her smiling face will never
In our home again be seen.

Years will pass, but still we'll miss her;
Still our hearts will throbb with pain,
For the sunbeams of her presence,
Just to hear her voice again.

But through tears our faith beholds her
In the city of delight,
Where the crystal river never Bears our loved ones out of sight.

Gentle Edith, may the angels
Cherish thee with tender care
May you grow a stately flower
In His garden bright and fair.

Thou in the home place I vacant,
May your spirit sweet and pure,
Hover 'round us on life's pathway
Till we rest in Heaven secure.

Till the morning breaks in splendor
And the shadows flow away,
Then with rapturous joy we'll greet thee
There to spend eternal day.

Princess Pat May Soon Wed.

LONDON, June 7.—Announcement will be made at an early date of a romance which will not be altogether surprising: the betrothal of the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Strelitz and the ever popular Princess Patricia of Connaught.

The Grand Duke has long been an admirer of the Princess, as no one doubted who observed the marked attention he paid to Her Royal Highness when visiting England last summer.

The illness of the Duchess of Connaught has caused the Princess to take her mother's place amidst the duties of the household, and the Duke of Connaught to the Governor-Generalship of Canada. Hence the delayed announcement.

The Duke's term of office ends this year, and the Connaughts will again reside in England. The wedding is not expected to take place until early next year.

37 Medals for Montreal Firemen

MONTREAL, June 11.—Thirty-seven members of the Montreal fire department were selected to receive 37 medals as a mark of the city's gratitude for deeds of heroism performed at fires. They include one deputy chief, three chaplains, three district chiefs, one inspector, seven captains, eleven lieutenants and ten firemen, while Chief Tremblay is also said to be a prospective recipient. The date of the presentation has not yet been decided upon.

"Prevention is Better Than Cure" Screen Doors and Window Screens

By providing a few of the above you will save yourself the annoyance caused by mosquitoes and other biting pests and save the interior decorations and furnishings from the destructiveness of the house fly; also the family from the diseases carried by this pest. Our Doors are strong, neat and attractive; being well finished and some of the styles are varnished. Our WINDOW SCREENS are from the latest designs and we can fit any window.

Doors in Price $1.00 to $1.40

Windows in Price 22c to 40c

D. D. D. in Hospitals Standard Skin Cure

How many hospital patients, suffering the frightful itch, the raw scorching pain of skin disease, have been soothed to sleep by a soothing fluid washed in by the nurse's hands? That fluid is the famous D. D. D. prescription for eczema.

The Supervising Nurse of one of our prominent Catholic institutions (name of nurse and institution on application) writes regarding a patient: "The disease had eaten her eyebrows away. Her nose and lips had become disfigured. Since the use of D. D. D. her eyebrows are growing, her nose and face have assumed their natural expression."

How many eczema sufferers are paying their doctors for regular treatment and are being treated with this same soothing, healing fluid?

Dr. Geo. T. Richardson frankly writes "D. D. D. is superior to anything I have ever found. Soft and soothing, yet a powerful agent."

To do the work D. D. D. Prescription must be applied according to directions given in the pamphlet around every bottle. Follow these directions—and see!

And it certainly takes away the itch at once—the moment the liquid is applied. The skin is soothed—calmed—soothed—refreshed—delightfully cooled.

All druggists of standing have the famous specific as well as the efficient D. D. D. Skin Soap.

But we are so confident of the merits of this prescription that we will refund the purchase price of the first full size bottle if it fails to reach your case. You alone are to judge.

D. D. D. Soap Keeps Your Skin Healthy

BEAUTIFUL HAIR—CLEAN, COOL SCALP.

Use Parisian Sage. It Makes the Hair Fluffy and Abundant.

It is needless for you to have hair that is anything short of perfect. If it is falling out, losing color, splitting, or if the scalp burns and itches, immediately get from H. E. Jones or any drug counter a 5-cent bottle of Parisian Sage—use it frequently—the first application removes dandruff, invigorates the scalp, and beautifies the hair until it is gloriously radiant.

Parisian Sage supplies hair needs—is perfectly harmless. It contains the exact elements required to make the hair soft, wavy, glossy and to make it grow thick and plentiful.

You will surely like Parisian Sage. It is one of the best and most delightful hair tonics known.

Now is the Time to Plan for the Summer

We will not give a summer vacation this year as a number of students from long distances would be inconvenienced thereby.

Then, our summers are so deliciously cool that St. John is a harbor of refuge during the hot season, and study just as pleasant as at any other time. Students can therefore enter at any time.

Send for catalogue.

GOOD SUGGESTION TO DIGBY PEOPLE

It is surprising the amount of old, foul matter the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler's, drains from the system. This remedy became famous by curing appendicitis and acts on BOTH the upper and lower bowels so thoroughly that ONE DOSE relieves stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation almost IMMEDIATELY. We are mighty glad we are Digby agents for Adler's. H. E. Jones, druggist.

200 Years' Experience in Piano Building

That's the total of the combined experience of the heads of the various departments that build Amherst Pianos and Player Pianos.

That's what stands back of every Amherst Piano or Player Piano. Amherst Pianos, Limited, have gathered together from many different parts of this continent, as experts for the various departments, men who have gotten their experience with the oldest and best known Piano or Player Piano factories in the world. Men who are "real" experts in their particular branch of Piano construction. Men who know what a good Piano is and should be. Men who are by practical demonstration showing how good Pianos and Player Pianos can be.

Drop us a line and we shall be delighted to tell you more about Amherst Pianos and Player Pianos.

UNFAMILIAR FACES

Historical Characters of Whose Looks We Know Nothing.

THEY LEFT NO PORTRAITS.

Many of the Famous Figures and Heroes of Colonial and Revolutionary Times are as blank to us as far as their Personal Appearance is concerned.

In the search for a portrait of Thomas Willett, the first mayor of New York, the committee from the City club visited nearly every print dealer in the city in addition to scores of private collectors of Americana. But there was no portrait to be found.

Any one who has ever attempted to make a collection of the pictures of the big men of early New York soon realizes that there are many blanks. For instance, of the four Dutch governors Peter Stuyvesant is the only one of whom we have a correct portrait. Of Peter Minuet, William Kieft and Wouter van Twiller there is absolutely nothing accurate, although various caricatures have appeared from time to time.

The same is true of a still more eminent New Yorker, William Bradford, the first printer, who founded in 1725 the New York Gazette, which was the first newspaper printed in the province. Bradford was so prominent a man and so active for years, both in Philadelphia as well as in New York, that it is rather surprising not to have something worthy of being called a true portrait. If there was, perhaps his features might be on the tablet erected on the site of his printing office, now of the Cotton Exchange, at Hanover square.

The lack of an authentic portrait of Nathan Hale, the martyr spy of the Revolution, is somewhat better known, although the sculptors MacMonnies, Partridge and others have not allowed this to restrain them from depicting the features of the young soldier in stone or bronze. Of Colonel Ethan Allen there is no known portrait, and the same is true of the doughty warrior, General Nicholas Herkimer.

One of the heroes of Bunker hill, Colonel Richard Gridley, has left no portrait. He was the artilleryist and engineer who built the fortifications the night before the battle. Other prominent Revolutionary fighters of whom no pictures exist are Colonel William Ledyard, the defender of New London, who was killed by a British officer when Ledyard surrendered the fort; General Thomas Conway, leader of the notorious cabal to depose Washington from the command of the army in 1777; Colonel Seth Warner, who was prominent in the attacks on Ticonderoga and Crown point and in the battle of Bennington; General Seth Pomeroy of Massachusetts, and General Samuel Holden Parsons, one of the board which tried Major Andre and was appointed by Washington as the first judge of the northwest territory.

No accurate portraits exist of two of the fifty-six signers of the Declaration of Independence, John Morton of Pennsylvania and John Hart of New Jersey, although a portrait which is said to be that of Hart hangs in Independence hall in Philadelphia and is said to have been painted from a miniature.

There is nothing extant of the father of George Washington, Augustine Washington, nor have any portraits been discovered of Colonel Hall, father of Mary Washington, mother of the general, or of John Dandridge, father of Washington's wife, Martha Washington.

A portrait which a great many collectors of old New York material would give a good deal to obtain is that of Samuel Fraunce, the West Indian tavern keeper, whose best known house was the old Fraunce's tavern, now owned by the Sons of the Revolution, restored since they purchased it a few years ago to its original condition. It is on lower Broad street, on the corner of Pearl street, and the famous long room in which Washington took farewell of his officers has been restored as closely as possible to its original form.

There is no portrait of William Cunningham, the heartless keeper of the provost jail in a corner of City Hall park during the Revolution. Betsy Ross, the celebrated maker of the first stars and stripes, has no portrait. Captain Miles Standish is among those who have left nothing of their personal appearance, nor is anything known of the intrepid French explorer Joliet, who traced the sources of the Mississippi.

Others of more or less note of whom there are no portraits are the old English dramatist, Christopher Marlowe; Richard Savage, another well known English dramatist, who died in 1743; Marquis Duquesne, from whom Fort Duquesne, now Pittsburgh, got its first name from the French; George Clinton, royal governor of New York from 1743 to 1753 and father of the British general in the Revolution, Henry Clinton; Colonel John Henry Cruger, General Oliver de Lancey, Governor William Tryon, General John Forbes, Baron Dieskau, General Robert Howe and Bourlenne, Napoleon's famous secretary, who wrote an excellent life of the great French emperor.—New York Times.

Advice is seldom welcome. Those who need it most like it least.—Dr. Johnson.

A short answer seldom helps things along.

The man with money to burn may not love the smell of smoke.

Now, if Orville Wright would only invent a stabilizer for Mexico!

Paying back $20 you have borrowed is one way of settling an old score.

If you would avoid indigestion shun the person who delights in telling bad news.

Many a man has more money than he knows what to do with, but the rest of us can tell him.

Many New Year's resolutions are still on straight, but their wearers are beginning to wobble.

One physician recommends sugar as a heart tonic. But sweethearts always have been bracing.

One naturally wonders, who held James Bryce while they tacked "vis count" to his name.

Parisian beaux are dyeing their hair to match their clothes. What are the bald heads wearing?

The Atlanta penitentiary is remarkable for the list of distinguished guests it has been able to secure.

Orville Wright says flying now is fool proof. This is gratifying—because it is the only thing that is.

The only man who has managed to remain famous because of his family quarrels is Ferdinand P. Earle.

Pleasant thought for the day—neither a pound of meat nor a dozen eggs costs as much as a pinch of radium.

The death and accident statistics of 1913 show that 1914 has a splendid opportunity to profit by the "safety first" idea.

Physicians in Chicago declare that there is altogether too much surgery. The answer would seem to be, "Cut it out."

The cold storage man who says that frozen eggs are better than no eggs at all expresses the situation in a nutshell.

As regards the watchful waiting policy in Germany, the crown prince seems to be giving the kaiser a man's job to handle.

Wrestling as a profession is not so bad, but one always has to be called a "giant grappler," which is a considerable drawback.

China, by successful competition in the storage egg market, again calls attention to its supremacy in the domain of the antique.

The editor of London Punch has been knighted by King George, and we presume that now Punch will be far more serious than ever.

The latest theatrical sensation in New York is "The Family Cupboard," but some who have seen it say that there is nothing in it.

As in the cases of numerous other discoveries, scientists are forced to admit that radium cannot do all the things at first expected of it.

It does not make a man richer to take money from one of his pockets and put it into another; he must take it from another man's pocket.

Paris dressmakers may succeed in copyrighting their gowns, but they will hardly persuade the wearers to display the labels necessary to protect them.

News that a hen has laid an egg bearing the date of 1914 may stimulate some of the cold storage plants to bring their output across the century line.

Dr. Anna Shaw says Wilson would rank with Lincoln if he would give women the vote. Let Dr. Shaw tell us how the president can give women the vote.

The average American citizen did not believe there was a man alive who could be so close mouthed as the president, then the president discovered John Lind.

A Frenchman, according to a Paris cable, lived for a year without a brain, but that's nothing—we've known of men who got along without one all their lives.

When an entire town up the Hudson is exchanged for a twenty story skyscraper on Fifth avenue, New York, we get a new kind of romance in real estate operations.

A Hoboken (N. J.) woman is suing a dentist for making her homely. To the ornate feminine mind the ordinary possibilities of torture in the dentist's chair are nothing compared to this.

Greece is putting out a $100,000,000 5 per cent loan at 87%. Both the total and the interest rate indicate that the late war was a costly luxury even to the Balkan states that got most out of it.

Plans are being made for the erection of another tallest building in New York. Erecting the tallest building in New York appears to be as futile as building the biggest battleship in the world. As soon as the tallest building is finished a taller one is begun.

Wallace Gower, jr., was badly hurt by the fly wheel of his gasoline engine, and was laid up for some time.

Mr. Fred Gower, wife and son, and also Mrs. Randolph Gower visited Tiverton on Sunday, 31st, in his motor boat, returning the same night.

Many of the friends have received cards from Rev. D. McKenzie and family since their arrival at Glasgow on the 27th ult. They had a very pleasant passage across.

We are sorry to say that J. H. Churchill is still confined to the house. You have an estimable and capable nurse, friend John, and for that we should always be thankful.

Mrs. Sarah A. Perry, of Beaver River, arrived on the 29th to attend the funeral of her late brother, Howard Dakin, who was accidentally drowned at Freeport a few days previous.

Capt. Howard Titus took a flying trip to Boston on the 29th, returning on the 27th. His daughter, Nettie, who had been visiting her sisters in Massachusetts, also came back with him.

Capt. Thos. German, of Meteghan, visited Westport on Wednesday last, calling on E. C. Bowers and his many friends. Captain reports that his vessel business is in a prosperous condition.

Thomas Pugh, jr., is at present in Yarmouth painting the residence of his brother, Judson E. Pugh. Judson is employed by the Parker Eakins Co., Ltd., as manager of their wholesale fish dept.

The Curlew, Capt. Geo. Denton, has been very successful this spring in the halibut fishing. The free entry into the American markets of our fish has and will be no doubt work greatly to the advantage of other fishermen of these provinces.

The Westport Packing Co., has disposed of their machinery for shredding fish to the Gateway Fish Co., of Yarmouth. It was shipped on the 27th ult. This ends a business that was started with every prospect of success but by bad administration came to naught.

Schr. Nellie, Capt. L. F. Barkhouse, is discharging a cargo of Springhill coal for the E. C. Bowers Co., Ltd. We understand that he will then proceed to Grand Manan to convey several cargoes of weir stakes and material from the N. B. shore and the American coast to Seal Cove. The captain keeps things moving.

Capt. Chas. McDormand has been beautifying his residence with a coat of paint and making things look cheerful all around. Charles is a worker. F. B. Lent and Geo. Dakin have been placing cement steps at the entrance of their grounds and are now piping water into their homes from a distance of about 100 feet in the rear.

Mrs. Judson Morehouse, who received a serious injury last fall from the kick of a cow while milking, left on the 20th for Boston to consult a spinal specialist. Mr. and Mrs. Morehouse's many friends showed their regard and testified to the high respect in which they are held by contributing a hand some sum of money towards defraying the expense of the trip.

The hour I spend awake at night. Am not as peevish or heads to me. I count each time these hours strike. And long the morning light to see. With nerves all tense, the motor boat strikes on my ear with dismal note.

For want of sleep, each hour I lose
The wearied frame, and seek repose.
The values of the night are lost,
Then comes the day with all its woes.
The weeks go by, we long for rest,
It's hard to think this way is best.

The memories that come by night,
When sleep we vainly seek to win,
Reach round the world, see every sight.
The present, past and future view;
Our thoughts distrust and make us wild.
We cry for sleep as when a child.

These days and weeks and months pass by,
To those who lie on beds of pain.
They often dread when night is nigh
And look for rest by day in vain;
But hark those words in accents sweet.
"He giveth his beloved sleep."

Mrs. W. J. Henderson and children of Boston, arrived here on Monday to visit her parents, Capt. and Mrs. John Bain.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Small and son George, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Vantassell, Mount Pleasant.

Miss Welthe Hutchinson and Mrs. Handford Daley spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. E. C. Vantassell, Mount Pleasant.

The gale on Friday was quite severe along the shore. Several of the fishing boats were at their moorings and all rode out the gale with safety except one, which filled with water and washed away a portion of her gear.

Two lobster crates broke from their moorings and were lost. A slight damage was done to the Coldwell Cove breakwater. It was the worst gale ever experienced at this time of year.

At the Yarmouth Y. M. C. A. Boys' Camp, held at Tusket Falls in August, I found MINARDS LINIMENT most beneficial for sun burn, an immediate relief for colds and toothache.

ALFRED STOKES,
General Secretary.

MAN'S TWO MINDS.

To Make an Evenly Balanced Person Both Must Be Used.

Expounding a theory that man has two minds, or a double consciousness—objective and subjective—Mr. Benson has compared the two activities to an upper and a lower room separated by a trapdoor. Dreams are due to the subjective consciousness working without check from the objective consciousness.

The man who usually claims to have an evenly balanced mind is the one who has shut the trapdoor and remains in the upper room, and those who have closed the trapdoor and remain in the lower rooms are commonly found in lunatic asylums.

The man of really even balance either remains between the two rooms or keeps the trapdoor well oiled.

Napoleon, in the lower room, conceived ideas for ruling Europe and in the upper room put his ideas into practice; Raphael created combinations of colors and then expressed them on canvas, and Beethoven in the lower room composed his sonatas and in the upper room reproduced the notes on paper.

The events of childhood are remarkably clear in the recollection of very old people, though present happenings are forgotten. This may be explained by the decay of the objective consciousness, and it is curious that as this decays the subjective consciousness becomes more acute.—New York Press.

SHORT CIRCUITS.

Mission of the Fuse When the Wires Become Crossed.

"Another short circuit!" One of the commonest reports heard in all electrical works.

A "short circuit" means that the electric wires have become crossed or connected so as to form a bypath or shunt of comparatively low resistance, through which so much of the electrical current passes as practically to cut out that part of the circuit through which the current originally flowed. In other words, a "short circuit" has replaced the normal circuit, which may be considered a long circuit. The cutting out of the resistance of the long line permits the power to rush over this path of low resistance, and if the apparatus were not protected by the fuse or circuit breaker the electrical machinery would do itself serious harm.

To prevent serious effects from accidental short circuits of electric lighting wires in buildings a "fuse" is inserted in the circuit just inside the building. In case a nail or some other falling object short circuits the electric wires in the house this fuse blows out—namely, melts out—and throws the circuit open so that no electricity can flow through the wires in the house until the "short" has been found and corrected.—New York World.

Made a King's Leg Shorter.

In "Random Recollections," by Canon Woodville, the English war artist, is a story about Edward VII. Woodville painted an equestrian portrait of the king, who, says the artist, was greatly pleased with it until he examined the legs.

"Oh, Mr. Woodville," he said, "what a pair of magnificent legs you have given me! They are simply splendid. But look at my short ones. You will have to make these in the portrait shorter."

"I pointed out," says Woodville in telling the yarn, "that in some of his photographs his legs appeared to be quite as long as I had painted them, but no argument could convince him. A piece had to come off, and it did."

Hildebrand's Gate.

St. Paul by the Tiber, last of the Roman basilicas, which has been restored, has a great bronze gate inland with silver, presented in 1070 by the Roman Consul Pantaleo. His agent in ordering the gate was the archdeacon and the abbot of St. Paul, who happened to be in Constantinople, where metal inlayers alone could be found. The agent's name is inscribed on the gate. "Hildebrandus Venerabilis Monachus et Archidiaconus." In 1070 the "venerable Hildebrand" did not mean much, but he became Pope Gregory VII.—Exchange.

HOG TYING A LONGHORN.

Jatohing, Tripping and Roping a Steer in Twenty-seven Seconds.

To rope, "bust" and "hog tie" a wild Texas longhorn single handed in two minutes is a sport which represents the daily work of the range. Men of quick eye and steady nerve each start their fifty feet behind the longhorn, which any jump the arena fence like a deer and again and again dodge when it snags the first swish of the rope. The rope often breaks on the tautening, or the saddle may slip, as in the case of Bill Mahaffey, who landed on his head with foot caught in the stirrup and but for the splendidly trained cow pony might have been dragged and killed.

There goes Cuba Crutchfield! He overtakes his sister. Swift, swift! His lariats slip through the air—a beautiful throw over the horns. Then the cow pony braces, and the rope tightens like a harp string. Watching, anticipating every move of his horned adversary, the cowboy now circles the animal so that the rope is brought from the horns around the hind legs. A word, and the knowing pony makes a sudden start. Thud, and the steer is tripped or "busted." The rope tautens, and the rider is already running afoot with a short cord in hand toward the steer, depending for his own safety on his trained cow pony to hold that rope taut and the steer in position. With marvelous dexterity he "hog ties" with a number of half hitches looped about the hind feet and one forefoot of the steer. The man stands erect, raises both arms in the air, and Crutchfield has not only won the steer roping championship, but has ridden a steer in twenty-seven seconds, within six seconds of the best record ever made.—World's Work.

VIOLINISTS UNMASKED.

Edison Tells the Secret of How They Strike the Right Note.

Thomas A. Edison, who has an expert knowledge of every known musical instrument, from the oboe to the aeolian harp, was discussing the great violinists of the present age. He spoke with deep feeling.

"I have to admit," he declared sadly, "that for a long time those fellows had me completely bewildered. I used to watch them in amazement. Every time one of them shot a finger halfway down the neck of his fiddle and stopped it in exactly the right place for the sounding note I gasped in astonishment. Every time, it seemed, he could stop that finger correctly within one thousandth of an inch. That's what he had to do in order to make the right note. And I concluded that he and his fellows were in some way superior to all other kinds of people in the matter of judging distances."

"But I know better now. After long and careful observation I have discovered the truth. Those fellows shoot their fingers up and down with an air of great confidence, but they never know exactly where the fingers will stop. Like any other human being, they guess at it. Then just as the note is begun by the scraping of the bow their trained ears catch the defect, and they readjust their fingers. Consequently, although the public doesn't know it, the great violin geniuses of the world fill their work with a lot of notes that start falsely."—Popular Magazine.

A Change That Worked.

Little Alice was writing invitations for her birthday party and had been instructed by her mother to write the sentence "Please bring no presents" at the bottom of each invitation.

The little guests arrived at the appointed time, but each came with a gift for the hostess.

Alice upon being taken to task for having forgotten the sentence said:

"No, mamma; I put in every single letter of that note. I only changed the 'no' the least little bit."

The note read, "Please bring on presents."—Ladies Home Journal.

Only His Little Joke.

A clergyman who was a widower had three grownup daughters. Having occasion to go away from home for a few weeks, he wrote home from time to time. In one of his letters he informed them that he had "married a widow with six children." This created a stir in the household. When the vicar returned home one of his daughters, her eyes red with weeping, said:

"Where's the widow you married, father?"

"Oh, I married her to another man. I ought to have told you that."—London Telegraph.

THE WORD "YES."

We Are Charged With Rarely Using It In This Country.

In the United States "yes" is pre-eminently a book word, though it is also scattered somewhat thinly through the conversations of everyday people and is employed habitually by a negligible number of individuals who are both highly cultured and careful of their speech. Furthermore, as compounds or set phrases tend to preserve old forms and old sounds, "yes" regularly occurs in all stock combinations. That is why persons whose habitual affirmative is ordinarily "yeh-a," or "eh-a," "eh-up," "yeh-up," never say "yeh-a, sir," "eh-a, to be sure," "yep, madam," "eh-up, indeed," or "eh-a, thanks," for example.

"Yes," a group which in various states, but especially in New England, is occasionally employed as an emphatic exclamation (and without any humorous intent) in addressing girls or women—"yes, sir," "yes, sir," an accentuation as common and illogical as that in "I hadn't any reason to go," or in "He's a married man." Then what is "yes, sir-ee?" Well, like "no, sir-ee," it is as characteristically American as "yes, sir-rab" is Elizabethan; but that final "ee" is mysterious—possibly a decayed remnant of "ye" or "thee," possibly nothing but an emphasizing vocative appendix, like the "o" which cheerful Britons often add to "right."—Richard T. Holbrook in North American Review.

POLLUTED WATER.

Two Simple Tests by Which Its Impurity May Be Noted.

Every one knows and admits the necessity for pure water. When you are away from home and are not sure of the character of the water supply it would not be a bad idea to make a few simple tests. The results may prove that it was decidedly worth while to take the trouble, says the New York Sun. Here are two tests that you can make very easily:

Fill a tumbler with water, drop in a lump of white sugar, cover it with a saucer and let it stand overnight on the bricks at the side of the range, on the kitchen mantelpiece or, in fact, anywhere where the temperature will not sink below 60 degrees. If next morning the contents are clear the water is pure. If, on the other hand, the liquid is cloudy some source of contamination is indubitably proved.

The second test is to drop a few grains of permanganate of potash into a tumbler of water, cover and let it stand for an hour. If the water is still of the bright rose color to which the "chemical" turned it, it is perfectly safe for drinking. If it is of a brownish color it is impure, although the impurity may be of the kind that boiling will rob of its power to harm.

You Are Cause and Effect.

You are the effect of a cause.

You are yourself that cause. You are an acme of things accomplished and an encloser of things to be. What you were yesterday, plus your efforts, is the cause of what you are today. And it depends upon yourself whether you will treat your present self as a mere effect, resting in that consciousness, or as a cause to be worked for and with, to the end that your future self be greater and more powerful for good than it is now or has ever been in the past.

It is up to the man. A d no amount of sophistry can absolve him from the obligation to choose the highest each and every day, choose to do his best under all conditions.—Elizabeth Towne in Nautilus.

No Sourness.

Assistant Professor Charles T. Copeland had reproved his students for coming late to class. "This is a class in English composition," he remarked, "and added with sarcasm, 'I'm not conducting an afternoon tea.'"

At the next meeting of the class one of the girls was twenty minutes late. Professor Copeland waited until she had traversed the room and found her seat. Then he remarked blithely, "How will you have your tea, Miss Brown?"

"Without the lemon, please," Miss Brown answered gently.—Lippincott's.

A Dear Dog.

Fred Kelly was negotiating with a street dealer for an Alredale pup.

"How much?" asked Kelly.

"Three dollars."

"Well, I'll be along this afternoon again, and I may buy him."

"Better take him now. He'll probably be $5 by then."

"Why the raise?"

"Oh," said the dealer, "probably I'll become attached to him by that time."

QUEER STYLES IN HATS.

The Kokoschnik of Russia and Winged Headpiece of Alsace.

In Russia the maiden who is fancy free may dress her locks as she wishes. But not so the wife. She must bide her hair. So, as a recompense for this sacrifice, she dons a hat which may well be called weird. In shape it is not unlike a bishop's mitre, and it is adorned as the fancy or the purse of the wearer dictates. Gold, silver and even precious stones have been used in decorating this kokoschnik, as it is called.

In certain parts of Spain a hat similar to the Russian style is worn. Particularly is this popular with the dancers among the Toledo peasantry, although it must be very hot and uncomfortable for this purpose.

The Dutch maiden of Amsterdam pins her faith—and her head—to a hat which resembles in shape an inverted flowerpot. It may not be the style most suited to her round, placid face, but she would not change it for the latest "thing" in millinery.

On the island of Marken, in the Zuider Zee, the fashionable hat is again of the mitre shape, but with the addition of wide, flapping wings. Farther north, in Norway, a maiden on her bridal day dons a traditional erection which can best be likened to an eccentric castle.

In the province of Alsace-Lorraine the women wear huge winged head-dresses. The wonderful thing about the Alsatian hat is—how is it supported? Are there concealed wires? And how does it "stop on" in a high wind?—London Answers.

THE HUMAN SKIN.

Its Evolution Forecasts the Coming of an Ultra White Race.

Professor Daniel Berthelot, eminent French specialist, declares that the skin of the human race has undergone great changes since our primitive ancestors. He finds notably that, while the whitest of modern skins reflect almost all the colors of the spectrum, the skins of the more primitive races absorb the colors of higher and finer vibrations and only reflect the stronger colors at the spectrum's lower end.

For instance, the skins of the primitive negro races reflected practically no colors at all. The red skinned races reflected only the reds at the lower end of the spectrum and the so called yellow races only as far as the yellow in its center. The white skins of the races of today are able to reflect not only the blues, but also the violets at the top of the visible spectrum, although the strength and clearness of the reflection vary with each individual skin.

But no skin has been found so far capable of reflecting the ultra violet rays, which, although present in almost all light, vibrate at a rate too high to be visible to the human eye.

It is therefore believed that the past evolution of the human skin foretells the existence in the distant future of an ultra white race, which, in addition to its other capacities, will have a skin capable of reflecting the invisible ultra violet rays.—Indianapolis News.

Interrupted the Firing.

It is told of Lieutenant General Leonidas Polk of the Confederate army that he rode into the midst of an Indiana regiment late in the evening at Perryville. He had observed a body of men firing upon his troops and supposed that those firing were Confederates and were shooting by mistake. He rode over that way to order the firing to cease and found himself confronted by a Hoosier colonel. General Polk wore a dark blouse, and the dusk of the evening saved him. He was asked as to his identity when he ordered the firing to stop, but making a threat to show them who he was, rode away. As soon as he reached a copse of wood he put spurs to his horse and rapidly drew away.

Old Things Are Better.

"I mean to write a sermon on this text some time," said the prettiest woman in the group. "We are all going crazy nowadays over novelty—new fashions, new inventions, seeing new places. But I tell you the old things are half the time better—the old friends, always the good old furniture, which is so often discarded for newer patterns not half so really nice. And I love a good old dress that I am used to and that has become a sort of part of me. And old shoes—there's anything on earth quite so comfortable and delightful as a pair of soft, flexible old shoes."—Leslie's.

Stories of Shaw.

One of Bernard Shaw's dramatic criticisms is the shortest on record. It was about a play called "Poor Jonathan," and Shaw's notice was simply "Poor Jonathan."

After the production of his first play, "Widowers' Houses," he met with so mixed a reception that he wrote, "I became infamous in a single night, and if the play did not achieve a success it created an uproar."

Foreign Relations.

"What does the committee on foreign relations have to do?"

"I can't exactly say. But if it has to keep track of the foreign relations that our rich girls acquire by marriage it has some responsibility!"—Washington Star.

Cold Feet.

"They say that a man who has cold feet is pretty sure to have an active brain."

"Yes, either that or a well filled purse."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Healthy Demand

THERE'S always a healthy demand for bread and pastry made with

REGAL FLOUR

Your family know a good thing when they taste it, and they know things made with Regal are invariably good. There's no time like the present for trying it, for the sooner you'll reap the advantages of using a superlatively good and absolutely uniform flour. Buy a barrel of REGAL from your grocer to-day. Your money back if you're not satisfied with it.

The St. Lawrence Flour Mills Co., Ltd.
Montreal, Canada

Keep your buggies, waggons, farm implements and tools well painted and you will save money.

There is economy in the use of paint on your farm equipment. Paint keeps wooden parts from checking and cracking and iron and steel parts from rusting. Use Sherwin-Williams Buggy Paint on your buggies, automobiles (it is also good for painting boats, canoes, porch furniture, flower boxes, etc.). Use Wagon Paint for the waggons, mowers, binders, and all kinds of farm machinery. Use Sherwin-Williams Commonwealth Barn Red on your barns and out-buildings.

One of the greatest economies on the farm is to have everything well painted. Come and see us about your painting and ask us for color cards.

BOWSER, SAVANT

Our Hero Disputes a Theory and Will Prove It False.

HE'S GOING TO BE FAMOUS.

Has No Patience With the Ignorance of Mrs. Bowser and Begins Fateful Vigil to Wrest Secrets of the Magnetic Current From a Hole in the Ground.

By M. QUAD.

(Copyright, 1914, by Associated Literary Press.)

"WHAT'S happened now?" "Nothing very startling."

"But you are not sick?" "Never felt better."

"And you are not going to paint or anything?"

"You will know in good time."

"Mr. Bowser had come home unusually early and had a laboring man and his shovel with him. The man was at once set to work at digging a hole in the back yard. When finished the excavation was eight feet long, three feet wide and two feet deep, and then Mr. Bowser stretched two electric wires the length of it and made the ends fast to pegs. Mrs. Bowser had a lively curiosity to know what all this meant, but she forbore to ask questions. The cook's curiosity partook of trepidation."

"I'll ask you, ma'am," she cautiously whispered as she walked around on the back porch and glanced over her shoulder. "If that is a grave they are digging out there?"

"I don't think so," replied Mrs. Bowser.

"Then, is he boring an oil well?"

"He can't be."

"Is he digging for Captain Kidd's gold?"

"Hardly that."

"And it isn't a coal mine?"

"No."

"That's what scares me, ma'am. I've thought of this and thought of that."

"He gave her a look of contempt and motioned her to be gone."

"He's like my brother Patrick," said the cook, as Mrs. Bowser returned to the house. "You can never get Patrick to suck a lemon when he don't know who's going to hit him with a brickbat."

At a quarter past 10 Mr. Bowser sat still in his chair waiting for a magnetic tremor.

At half past he was expecting one every minute.

At 11 he felt sleepy and wondered if the current was not taking a night off.

Asleep at the Switch.

At midnight two policemen and a citizen entered the yard by the alley gate and Mrs. Bowser, who was keeping vigil from an upper window, went down and joined them. Mr. Bowser sat in his chair with his chin on his breast and his hat fallen off and he was fast asleep. The magnetic current was playing tag through the earth, but he heeded it not.

"Is he watching for cats or rats, ma'am?" softly asked one of the officers.

"No, it's an experiment," she answered.

"With a new sort of burglar alarm?"

"I think so."

"Then I hope it will prove a success. Can it do anything more for you?"

Mrs. Bowser thought for a moment and then replied:

"Why, why, he would have more room out in the alley."

"Sure he would. Take hold of the chair, Mike. Now go softly."

Mr. Bowser was softly and safely transported to the alley and placed with his back to a cowshed and all went away and left him. It may have been one of the policemen that five minutes later asked a tomato can that way with such true aim that it rattled against Mr. Bowser and woke him up with a yell. It took him fifteen seconds to realize that a magnetic current had thrown him over the fence and was still after him, and after another wild yell he fled into the darkness down the alley and returned home.

"Well, was it east or west?" Mrs. Bowser called.

"None of your business!" growled Mr. Bowser as he made his way upstairs and to bed.

Easily Explained.

"Wasn't that young Harry who passed us just now?"

"The same."

"Odd, wasn't it, that he didn't see you?"

"Not at all. He borrowed $5 from me last week."—Baltimore American.

my hand, and I shall not miss the faintest tremor."

"I don't see what you are to gain if you do establish a new theory," she said after awhile.

He'll Become Famous.

"Great Scott, woman, but you must be brutal!" he exclaimed. "If I can establish the fact that the magnetic currents pass from east to west I'll be the most famous man of the day. My name and discovery will go down to posterity along with the greatest. I shall have honor, fame, medals, riches, a crown of laurel. It's the one chance of my life, the one great chance, and I hope you will say nothing to discourage me."

"I—I won't," she said, "but if you are going to sit by that hole all night you ought to suck a lemon at intervals or you will get hoarseness."

"Heaven above, but such a lemon at such a supreme scientific moment!" he gasped at her. "Woman, don't run this thing into burlesque. If the world heard that I established my new theory while sucking a lemon I'd be driven to suicide in a month. No; there will be no lemons or candy tea or bread and butter with sugar on it. You let me alone and don't worry."

From that hour until 10 o'clock Mr. Bowser was nervous and uneasy, as all men are when on the point of making a great discovery. He read up on magnetic currents in the encyclopedia, and he got down his map of the world and figured out the countries an east and west current must pass through. He was in quite a nervous state when he finally started for the back yard, and the cook whispered to Mrs. Bowser:

"He looks as if he was going to the dentist's to have three teeth pulled and his jaw broke!"

Mr. Bowser carried a chair with him, and when he had placed it he attached what he called his circuit wire to the main ones and sat down with the end coiled about his hand. He was pale, but dignified. He was nervous, but determined.

"You are sure you won't have a lemon?" asked Mrs. Bowser, who had followed him out, with the cat tagging on behind.

He gave her a look of contempt and motioned her to be gone.

"He's like my brother Patrick," said the cook, as Mrs. Bowser returned to the house. "You can never get Patrick to suck a lemon when he don't know who's going to hit him with a brickbat."

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, June 10, 1914

THANKS

We wish to thank those who have responded to our appeal of the last few weeks for a settlement of their accounts. There are some, however, who have neglected to attend to this important matter and we wish to impress them with the fact that we certainly expect to hear from them next week.

Death of Mrs. Melville Johnson.

A FORMER BRIDGETOWN LADY PASSED AWAY SUDDENLY IN BANQUO, MAINE.

Word was received here Monday of the sudden death of Agatha, beloved wife of Melville Johnson, Esq., of Kingman, Maine, which occurred in the Eastern Maine General Hospital at Bangor, on Sunday, June 14th, where she had gone for special treatment. She was 67 years of age. She was highly respected by a large circle of relatives and friends and the news of her death will be learned with deep regret by all who knew her. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. E. B. Johnson, of Bangor. She also leaves two brothers, Charles and John McCormick, of Kingman, Maine, and Fred, of Bridgetown, two sisters, Mrs. W. B. Stewart, of Digby, and Miss Eliza, of Halifax. The late Richard McCormick, founder of the COURIER, was also a brother.

The remains arrived here Tuesday, via St. John, accompanied by Mr. Johnson, Mr. John McCormick and her niece, Miss Agatha Stewart, of Digby, late of New York.

The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon with interment in Round Hill, the services being conducted by the rector of the Church of England, of which denomination the deceased was a devout member.

Among those from Digby who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Stewart and daughter Miss Agatha. The COURIER extends its deepest sympathy to the bereaved ones.

A Popular Lobster Dealer.

MR. ALDEN ELLIOTT, OF TIVERTON, HAS A VERY SUCCESSFUL SEASON.

Two well known lobster smacks owned by the A. C. McLoon Co., of Rockland, Maine, arrived here Wednesday afternoon, and left yesterday for Port Wade. They were the power smacks Louise McLoon, commanded by Capt. J. P. Alley, and the aux. schr. Marion McLoon, commanded by Capt. L. W. Alley, a son of the former skipper.

In an interview with the captain of the Louise, the COURIER learned something of the big lobster business that Mr. Alden Elliott, of Tiverton, carried on during the season which closed on Monday.

Mr. Elliott, who is one of the biggest dealers along the coast, supplied the Louise with six trips averaging over $1500.00 per trip and the Marion with two trips.

The Louise, which is powered with a 25 h. p. Lathrop motor and a 10 h. p. Hinchey, took her last trip last week when she left Tiverton Thursday night for Rockland, landed her fare and was back to Tiverton again before four o'clock Sunday afternoon for another cargo.

When she arrived at Digby Wednesday night she had on board Mr. Elliott, who with the genial captain of both crafts, made the COURIER a friendly call yesterday morning.

"Where the Trail Divides"

No author of recent years has written more successful plays than has Lem B. Parker, the author of the new "Where the Trail Divides". As usual, he has combined the many sparkling dramatic scenes with play of good, clean, witty comedy, the kind that all enjoy. Among some of his most successful plays may be mentioned "The Phantom Detective", "Dora Thorne" and a score of others, but in not one of these has he so happily blended the many intense dramatic and amusing situations together with the story of human interest as in this latest play, "Where the Trail Divides", which will be presented with a large and capable cast and a complete scenic production at the Bijou Dream, Digby, Wednesday evening, July 1st, 1914.

New Boat for St. John.

The new twin screw trawler cabin boat F. & A. B. arrived here at 2 o'clock Monday morning from Meteghan for St. John, sailing again the same afternoon, reaching St. John about 10 p. m. This new boat was built at Meteghan by Messrs. John Threlkeld and son Willie for Mr. F. & A. B. of St. John. While in Digby she had on board besides her owner and builders, H. Norris, H. Bisset, W. Campbell, L. Jenkins and L. McIntyre. The F. & A. B. is 30 ft. 8 inches over all, 9 ft. beam and is powered by two 7 1/2 hp. cylinder Mianus motors, turning twin screws. She is intended for both pleasure and commercial purposes and is well designed for the business in which she will be engaged. We wish the new boat every success.

Along the Imperial Highway.

The above is the title of a valuable book 13x10 containing many pages of beautiful half tone photos and descriptive matter of the cities and towns from Vancouver to Halifax, including many parts of New Brunswick. It is published by MacDonald, Ltd., Vancouver, B. C., and a copy of the same should be in every home in Canada. We would advise our readers to write the Anglo Canadian News Service, 118 Rogers Building, Vancouver, for further information about this work, at the same time mentioning in what newspaper they saw this item.

S. A. Notes.

Meetings led by Staff Captain and Mrs. Coombs from St. John, June 20 and 21st in Salvation Army hall.

Welcome meeting Saturday night at 8 o'clock. Sunday meetings: 7 a. m., Knocksill; 11 o'clock meeting; 7 o'clock free and easy; 8 o'clock, great Salvation meeting. All are invited.

OF A LOCAL NATURE

—Mayor Short is making extensive improvements on his residence, Queen street.

—The Epworth League will hold a service at the Almshouse next Sunday afternoon.

—Mr. S. D. Munro picked up a pair of glasses last week and is endeavoring to find the owner.

—We wish to call attention to the Insular S. S. Co.'s special notice which appears in today's COURIER.

—All pieces of business will be closed in Middleton every Wednesday afternoon during the summer months.

—Hag's circus is to visit the Province in June or July. The show is larger than when last in the Province.

—An I. O. O. F. excursion from the Annapolis Valley is expected to arrive here next Wednesday via special train.

—A large number of Digby people were at Church Point Sunday to witness the special Catholic services in that village.

—Work is nearing completion on the Waverly Hotel which when finished, will be a very convenient commercial or tourist resort.

—Capt. John Beaman's boat landing is being put down this week to accommodate the commercial boatmen who are engaged in the tourist business.

—Owing to the absence of the pastor there will be no service in the Digby Methodist church next Sunday. Sabbath School will be held at the usual hour.

—Mr. W. A. Chute, of Bear River, was in town again this week. This time he moved a building on Maiden Lane for M. Webber and returned home Wednesday.

—Chief of police Bowles arrested two men in Digby Tuesday, suspects of stealing money at Victoria Bridge. Their preliminary examination takes place this morning.

—Mr. Edw. Webber has purchased a new seven passenger Studebaker automobile and will run regular trips between Digby and the Pines Hotel during the tourist season.

—The officers and members of King Solomon Lodge, A. F. & A. M., will attend divine worship in Holy Trinity church next Sunday evening. The members are requested to meet in the lodge room at 8:30 p. m.

—It appears odd that so many people write letters to the press who are even afraid the editor will know the name of the author. Such communications soon reach their proper destination—the waste basket.

—The Methodist conference is in session this week in Lunenburg. Revs. L. Daniel, of Digby; A. Daniel, Bear River; W. Nightingale, of Weymouth, and Munro, of Bermuda, are among those in attendance.

—The fourteenth annual meeting of the Canadian Association for the prevention of tuberculosis will be held at the Technical College, Halifax, N. S., on Monday and Tuesday, 19th and 20th July, 1914, beginning on Monday at 10 a. m.

—As near as we can learn the merchants will not agree to have any weekly half holiday this season. The Banks, Dental offices, Law offices and Court office will close every Saturday afternoon during June, July and August, as in the past.

—Nearly all the summer hotels are open and tourists are arriving daily. As usual the majority of Digby's regular visitors come via St. John. A number of hotels in Deep Brook and Smith's Cove have all their rooms engaged for July and August.

—The enterprising firm of Dakin Bros., tinmith, hardware and kitchen furnishes, and dealers in all kinds of motor boat supplies, have placed a tide table on the front of their store, which will be changed daily. This will be greatly appreciated by our summer visitors and the general public.

—Has the Board of Fire Escapes made its annual inspection of the public buildings in town to see that they are all provided with the necessary fire escapes before the tourist season is in full swing? Should a fire occur which resulted in loss of life the members of the Board would be more or less responsible.

—The regular tea for members will be held on the grounds of the South End Lawn Tennis & Golf Club tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon. All members are entitled to be present. The hostesses for the day are Mrs. Mowbray, Mrs. Morse, Miss Burnham, Miss Collier, Miss Marion Daley and Messrs. P. W. Holdsworth and Charles Moore.

—Every night a number of fast gasoline fishing boats can be heard on our harbor, but no lights can be seen moving. When will the authorities compel these boats to carry lights, before a fatal accident occurs or afterwards? Every boat should be examined during the day to see that she has the proper equipment on board for running at night, and if not, towed to a place of safety until she is fully equipped. This work might be added to the duties of the government patrol boats along our coast.

The Centreville Revival.

The revival at Centreville is being steadily marked by an increasing interest. Many have renewed their fellowship with the churches, others continue to confess Christ, the entire community has received an uplift, and we hope the happy results from the infusion of new life will be a reality. We regret that so many regret the failure to nobler ideals and still conviction.

The interest is becoming more widespread. Plans were made for the evangelists (Gibbons and Nelson) to go to Newway and possibly to Sandy Cove. But they are now called to Sussex, N. B., at the camp ground where they are to meet their colleagues and co-workers, Rev. E. W. Kenyon, and the campaign in Centreville will close next Sunday night. We hope the evangelists will be able to return to the Neck at some future time.

The people in Centreville gave expression to their gratitude to Rev. H. L. Kinsman for his aid in helping to promote the revival by presenting him with a new raincoat. The pastor wishes to take this opportunity of expressing his heartfelt thanks to each and all for their thoughtfulness. "Kind hearts are more than coronets and simple faith than Norman blood," and we feel sure all the people appreciate the fact that pastor Kinsman was only one among a great many christian people who contributed to the success of the campaign.—Cont.

Sea Serpent Seen Near Thatcher's.

CREW OF WEYMOUTH SCHOONER FLORA M. SAW HUGE MONSTER OFF CAPE ANN.

The crew of the British schooner Flora M., on her arrival at Gloucester last week from Port Wade, told an amazing story. Off Cape Ann Tuesday afternoon, while the two-master was sailing with a fair wind, there suddenly appeared above the surface of the water the head and part of the body of a huge marine monster.

Every man on board from Captain George Brooks to the cook saw the animal, and are willing to take oath to the fact. They declare it was no hallucination and any suggestion that the monster may have been a whale or porpoise is resented. Capt. Brooks declared it was the worst looking "animal" he had ever seen, and the other six men bore him out.

Capt. Brooks was averse to telling the story to reporters, fearing ridicule, but finally gave the facts. The skipper has never been a believer in sea serpents and has never before seen anything in his long years at sea that could in any way be mistaken for one.

"We were five miles east of the northeast of Thatcher's Island," says Capt. Brooks, at 6 p. m. Tuesday, making our way toward Boston with a fair breeze, when Mate Frank Walker, who was at the wheel, shouted to me to come on deck. He pointed to an enormous object about 20 yards off the port bow.

"At first I thought it was a big gas buoy adrift. It was situated at a sharp angle and the water appeared to be boiling under it. Then it lifted its great head which resembled more than anything the head of a horse. It gradually rose out of the water until we could plainly see fully 25 feet of its enormous back. The mate sprang for his glass and ran up the rigging to get a better view, while most of the crew followed him.

"I stood on deck too astonished to move. Suddenly the monster plunged beneath the surface and its entire body disappeared. In an incredibly short time it came up directly ahead of the schooner and closer than before. Its head was turned toward the vessel and its big black eyes were focused upon us.

"I tell you it gave us all a creepy sensation, for I had heard of sea serpents, but had always laughed about them. Mate Walker watched him through the glass and yelled down from aloft that he looked as big as a house. From the vessel's deck it looked as if his back was fully 14 feet across. He remained for a time with his head perfectly motionless and we had a good opportunity to see him clearly.

"I gave the wheel a twist to swing the schooner away from the monster, and just as we changed our course he disappeared, stirring up the water for some distance. If I had had a camera I could easily have taken a snap shot of the creature."

Capt. Brooks was so impressed by what he saw that he told the boarding officer about it. He said in his opinion the animal must have been 75 feet long. Capt. Brooks is about 45 years of age and is a respected citizen of Weymouth, N. S. The crew is composed of seasoned mariners who have long followed the sea.—Gloucester Daily Times.

Bijou Dream Theatre.

WEYMOUTH, N. S.

This theater opened Saturday, June 13th, and every thing taken into consideration, the opening proved a successful one. It is located in the I. O. O. F. Hall and although small it is the only place at present suitable for the purpose.

It seems a pity that Weymouth with all the population in the surrounding country to draw from, has not before now had a theatre suitable for any show that should come along. We venture the assertion that some one will in the near future build a suitable theatre. Should this happen we hope the parties will request the advice of a practical theater man in regards to the kind of building necessary.

The Bijou Dream has a very small seating capacity and no stage room. This makes it a Moving Picture-house only.

The equipment consists of one No. 6A Powers' Camera with Stereoscopic attachment. This was installed by Mr. James F. Cripps, of Digby, and is working perfectly. But current is used. The current is developed by a dynamo driven by a large gas engine and the plant is in an isolated spot about 500 feet from the theatre. The picture obtained by this current is the best suited to this sort of work.

Messrs. Powers Bros. are the lessees and managers and in intend running the theatre with strict order. They intend catering especially to women and children and assure them every protection from any rowdism.

The show for this Saturday is a very strong bill and consists of the following: A two reel feature "In Love and War," a really notable production and two working Biograph comedies "The Mystery of the Milk" and "The Janitor's Revenge."

Bomb in St. George's.

PEWS DAMAGED AND STAINED WINDOWS BROKEN IN THE PLACE OF WORSHIP WHERE MANY FASHIONABLE WEDDINGS TOOK PLACE.

LONDON, June 14.—A bomb was exploded in St. George's church, Hanover Square tonight. There is evidence to show that the explosion was the work of suffragettes and coming so close upon the bomb outrage in Westminster Abbey the desecration of this famous edifice has increased alarm as to how far the militant women intend to go.

The caretaker of St. George's had looked the church after a careful inspection on the conclusion of the evening service. A few minutes after 10 o'clock a passerby heard an explosion and summoned the fire brigade. The firemen, forcing the doors, found the church filled with a dense white smoke. Three pews in the fourth side and three stained windows were damaged by the explosion, while a pew immediately in front of the lectern was blown down.

The firemen found a square tin box and several pieces of candle in the overturned pew, and a member of the congregation said that the pew was occupied at the evening service by a woman in a checked dress. An envelope was found in the church, on which was written: "A protest against the torture of women."

St. George's church was built in 1713-24. It has long been a favorite church for fashionable weddings. Premier Asquith was married in this church in 1894, and Ex President Roosevelt was married there in 1886.

While the judges of the high courts were attending service in St. Paul's cathedral today according to the annual custom, several suffragettes interrupted with protests against the torturing of women. The services were delayed several minutes, while two women who were chained to seats were removed. As they were carried out they shouted: "God save Mrs. Pankhurst."

Looks Like War in Balkans.

A CLASH BETWEEN TURKEY AND GREECE APPEARS INEVITABLE.

ATHENS, June 15.—War between Greece and Turkey is inevitable, according to the newspaper, Hestia, which is considered as voicing the majority of Greek public opinion.

The Government has not as yet received any intimation of the nature of the sublime Porte's reply to the Greek note demanding that Turkey cease its persecution of the Greeks in Turkey and make reparation to them for the losses incurred. It is feared here that in accordance with the usual method of Turkish diplomacy the Turkish note will contain vague promises and denials, and will seek to delay a settlement. But public opinion is strongly opposed to dilatory tactics, says the Hestia, and will compel the Government to insist that the persecutions cease, or war will follow at once.

It is reported there have been several encounters between Turks and Christians in the Asiatic littoral, and that the Turks are concentrating arms and ammunition at various points. Several sailing vessels with Greek refugees aboard, it is also reported, have been captured by the Turks.

Jumped to Liberty.

TORONTO, June 13.—Elmer Brooks, aged fifteen, jumped from a window of the waiting room in the Morality Department yesterday afternoon while awaiting removal in the police patrol wagon to the Children's Shelter, and has not yet been recaptured. Brooks was arrested Thursday night on information supplied by the father of a girl whose affections he had secured and who refused to discontinue her intimacy with the boy. Remanded by the commissioner of the Juvenile Court to a week in the shelter. Brooks was sitting in the Morality Department office with two policemen at a desk, a yard from him, the deputy chief's office only a few feet down a passage and people entering and leaving all the time.

Cricket Team Sails.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Thirteen star cricket players of Haverford College sailed from New York today for England to pit their skill at the game against some of the best teams on the other side. The schedule calls for seventeen games, nearly all of which will be played in the vicinity of London. It will be the fifth time that a Haverford College cricket team has invaded England.

New Flag Orders.

OTTAWA, June 15.—Militia orders have been issued cancelling all previous orders with respect to the flying of the Union flag from drill halls, armories and forts, and ordering that the flag is to be flown daily from all military stations, forts, armories and drill halls in the larger cities and towns in Canada.

Aviator Killed.

TOUL, France, June 13.—A corporal of the aviation corps was killed to night when the aeroplane which he was piloting fell 150 feet. A sapper, who was a passenger, was probably mortally injured.

John L. Lectures at Westville.

THE EX CHAMPION OF THE WORLD LIVES AN INTERESTING ADDRESS.

WESTVILLE, June 13.—John L. Sullivan, pugilistic ex champion of the world, lectured here tonight in the Empire theater. He held his audience by his interesting stories and witty reminiscences. His main lecture was a story of his life, told in a plain, frank manner, and at times developing into a more serious strain. It is worth hearing a life story of a man who has seen both sides of life and lived through experiences of which very few men have a chance. He does not bragging and in his tales of various battles he gives his opponents all credit. Mr. Sullivan can certainly bring out a few good moral facts with effect. He is a man of exceptionally powerful physique, standing over six feet and weighing three hundred and forty pounds. His appearance tonight is the opening of a tour throughout Nova Scotia, visiting Sydney, Glace Bay, Inverness, North Sydney, New Glasgow, Truro, Halifax and a few intermediate points.

Another Body From Lightship

GOLDBORO, June 13.—Captain Charles O'Hara, on a small fishing vessel from Drumhead, found the body of a man floating about four miles south of Isaac's Harbor gas buoy today. It had on a life belt and ten fathoms of three and a half inch new rope around the body under the arms. It was fully dressed, excepting hat and boots; blue scarf round neck, red hankkerchief; jack knife, one penny and three envelopes were found in the pockets addressed to Mrs. M. Muir, 57 McLean street plantation, Glasgow. The man was judged to be about seventy years. Undertaker McLeod, Goldboro, has charge of remains, which will be buried at Sea harbor on Sunday afternoon.

DIGBY FOLKS

ASTONISH DRUGGIST.

We sell many good medicines but we are told the mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Alder-ika, is the best we ever sold. Digby folks astonish us daily by telling how QUICKLY Alder-ika relieves constipation, gas on the stomach and indigestion. Many report that a SINGLE DOSE relieves these troubles almost IMMEDIATELY. We are glad we are Digby agents for Alder-ika. H. E. Jones.

Angels Overworked.

"I don't want to ever be an angel," announced small Harold, one evening. "Why not dear?" asked his mother. "Cause the angels have to work too hard lightin' all the stars at night an' blowin' 'em out in the morning," he replied.

Family Menagerie.

Johnny—It's funny, ain't it, that everybody in our family's some kind of an animal?
Father—What do you mean?
Johnny—Why, mother's a deer, and baby is a little lamb, and I'm the kid, and you're the goat.

Giving Her Away

Host (to visitor)—Ah, what a pity you did not come a minute sooner; my wife has only just cleared away the coffee.

Little Willie—Yes, and she nearly broke a cup in her hurry.

A Little Different.

"I am sorry to learn your mother is ill," said the sympathetic teacher to the little girl who had come in late. "Is she sick abed?"
"Not quite," replied the truthful child. "She's sick a sofa."

Did Not Include Him

He (trying to strike up an acquaintance)—"What. Only you here? Where have all the other nice girls gone?"
She (bitingly)—"They've gone off somewhere with all the nice boys."

Amherst as A Piano Building Centre

This is the first of a series of three or four advertisements which we intend publishing regarding Amherst as a Piano building centre and the factory of the Amherst Piano, Limited. These advertisements should prove of interest to every music lover.

As can be readily understood, it is absolutely necessary that the best quality of wood be used in the building of Pianos. Amherst Piano, Ltd., are particularly fortunate in their situation in this respect. Pine is the best that there is for the purpose of making the case, or ground work of a Piano. For backs the best possible wood is birch. Amherst is situated in the very heart of a birch and pine district, and the best quality birch and pine can be delivered at the factory for about one-third the price that other factories are compelled to pay.

Venues are imported through the English markets and Amherst is as near this market as any other factory. Direct steamers from England to Halifax, and thence by rail to Amherst, assures quick deliveries and low freight rates.

Now is the Time to Plan for the Summer

We will not give a summer vacation this year as a number of students from long distances would be inconvenienced thereby. Then, our summers are so deliciously cool the St. John is a harbor of refuge during the hot season, and study just as pleasant as at any other time. Students can therefore enter at any time. Send for catalogue.

A Synopsis of What is Going on Every Week in Our Neighboring Villages

Meteghan.

Miss Madeline Gaudet, of Little Brook, was the guest of Miss Lizzie Aymer last week.

Corpus Christi was ushered in by a fine display of fireworks by the young people of the village.

Hon. J. W. Comeau, M. P. P., and Mrs. J. W. Comeau, of Comeauville, were at the Royal Hotel Saturday evening.

Mrs. James McCully, Miss Isabelle Mallot and Miss Elise Fountain, of Cape St. Mary, were in town Monday, 15th inst.

Mrs. Amy Dugas is having the exterior of her house painted. Mr. Rodolph Comeau, of Meteghan River, is doing the job.

Corpus Christi or the feast of the real presence of Christ in the Sacred Host was solemnly celebrated here.

The procession was solemn and impressive as became the presence of the God of Hosts.

Mr. Theodore Melanson, Acting Preventive Officer, attended the procession of the Corpus Christi at Saulnierville Sunday afternoon, having been specially invited to aid in the singing of the different hymns.

Walter Walsh, Esq. J. P., a venerable old gentleman of 82 years, died Monday, 8th inst., after a few days' illness. The late Mr. Walsh had always been a good practical catholic, and was loved and endeared by all. The funeral took place Thursday morning.

Mrs. Helen Gaudet, of Meteghan Centre, peacefully breathed her last, Tuesday, 9th inst., at the age of 62 years. Mrs. Gaudet had been suffering for some time with tuberculosis, and had always endured her pains and hardships with the greatest christian patience and fortitude. The funeral took place Thursday morning.

A little son of Mr. Frank P. Deveau, of Meteghan River, about eleven years old, met with a very painful accident last week. While riding on a cart heavily loaded with stones, somehow or other he fell down, and before help could be rendered, the wheels had gone over him, crushing his arm in three places, and also the calf of his left leg. Dr. MacDonald, the family physician, was called to dress the wound, and now under the circumstances, he is doing fine.

Mr. Brown, Government Inspector of public works, Halifax, was at the Royal Hotel last Friday. He was on his way from Cape St. Mary where he had been inspecting the fog alarm station recently erected there under contract, by Mr. Siffroi Robicheau, of Meteghan Centre. Your correspondent had the pleasure of making his acquaintance, and he made very eulogistic remarks in reference to Mr. Dunham, the courteous editor of the Digby Courier, having met him on the occasion of a similar visit at Brier Island.

Our creamery is continuing to give general satisfaction in every way. The yield of milk and consequently of butter is on the increase and the true farmers are satisfied with the results. Those who want to eat good butter, a butter that has not its equal in the whole county of Digby, should address themselves to the Meteghan Creamery. Those in doubt of the veracity of the above should come and buy a pound and be convinced. Mr. Narcisse Robiege, our head butter maker, and his genial assistant, Mr. Andrew Robiege, are always on hand to accommodate visitors and buyers.

Plympton.

Miss M. C. Smith spent the week end visiting friends in this place.

Miss Winifred Troop spent the week end visiting friends in Weymouth North.

Mrs. T. B. Adams and daughter Miss Jennie, of Brighton, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Wm. M. Warner.

Sorry to report Capt. Samuel Milbury, who has been confined to his bed for some time, not improving in health.

Schr. B. B. Hardwick, Capt. Troh, and C. T. W., Capt. Comeau, are both here and are caulking, after which they will load for American ports.

Our community was saddened on Saturday by the news of the sudden death of Mrs. Leander Comeau, who a couple of weeks ago went to Victoria General Hospital to undergo an operation which proved successful, but she passed away nine days after.

A very pleasant surprise party was given our teacher, Miss Winifred Troop at the home of Mrs. Watson Height on Wednesday evening last. It being her birthday, she was presented with a little token of remembrance by her Pympton friends.

Rev. C. A. Munro occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church in this place Sunday afternoon. He preached an able sermon on the greatest commandment, "Thou shalt love the Lord Thy God," etc. His many friends here were glad to welcome him back again. He proceeded on Monday morning to attend Methodist Conference which is in session at Lunenburg, after which he returns to Bermuda for another year.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Outhouse welcome them back to their old home, after spending the past year at Bridgetown. They have returned feeling there is no place like home.

Mr. Elmer Wyman assistant fog alarm keeper at Boar's Head, has gone to Boston to undergo an operation in the hospital there. He was accompanied by his wife who will remain with him until he is able to return. His friends wish him a successful operation. During his absence his position at Boar's Head will be filled by his brother, Mr. Boyd Wyman.

We are sorry to chronicle this week the death of Capt. Charles Robb, who occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Stephen E. Outhouse, on Sunday afternoon, June 14th, at the age of 78 years. He was a well known master mariner, visiting nearly all places of the globe in his younger days. For a number of years he has made his home with his daughter who cared for him until he passed away. He was a member of the Seventh Day Advent church for the past 28 years. A firm believer in the Bible who tried hard to serve his Maker. For the past three months he has been failing in both mind and body. He suffered much pain during the past three weeks and through it all he trusted in his Saviour, and his end was peace. He leaves to mourn their loss, two daughters, Mrs. Stephen E. Outhouse, Tiverton, N. S.; Mrs. W. D. Bryant, Berlin, N. H.; Four sisters, Mrs. Abram Bently, Middleton, N. All Important.

A certain young mother had one pronounced weakness, and that was for millinery. Hats on shelves, hats in boxes, hats everywhere—and weighty affairs had been known to hang in the balance while a decision was being made from among the distracting collection.

One morning she was dressing for the street, and her four-year-old son was idly watching her and at the same time seeking to shake his thirst for general information.

"Mamma," he said, "did George Washington go to heaven?"

"Of course, my dear."

"Mamma, will you go to heaven when you die?"

"I hope so, dear."

A moment given over to silence, then another question fell:

"Then, mamma, when you go to heaven, will you meet George Washington?"

"Yes, dear, I suppose so." Her tone was a trifle abstracted.

"Then, mamma"—and the voice was hushed with the import of the question—"what hat'll you wear?"—New York Times.

Proof Enough.

"I'm bigger 'n you are!" claimed the first East Cleveland four-year-old.

"You ain't either. And anyhow my birthday comes next week, an' yours doesn't come till May, so I'm older 'n you are."

"You ain't either. I'm grown up already. I'm a big man!"

"Aye! You ain't either!"

"I am, too, and I can prove it."

"How can you?"

"Mamma paid my fare three times on the street car last week, an' never kicked about it!"

That settled it. The child might as well have been dressed in long trousers.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Business Call.

"I shall call upon a fortune teller this morning," said Mr. Blubb. "Going to try to learn something about the future?" asked Mr. Waggles. "Yes, I'm going to ask him when he expects to pay the arrears of rent for that cottage of mine he is occupying as a School of Astrology and Institute For Psychical Research."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Gallantry.

"The marquise is very thin, isn't she? What would you think our ages were?"

"Well, she seems ten years older than she is, and she's ten years older than you. Then you seem years younger than you are, so that makes thirty years' difference between you."

—Pete Mele.

A Shell Game.

"Genevieve, I notice you like to write your name on the eggs you pack."

"Yes," admitted the dairymaid. "Do you object?"

"Not at all," said the farmer. "You have a pretty name. Write it upon all the eggs you please, but don't set down any dates."—Kansas City Journal.

Saving Trouble.

Church—And you say your neighbor's prodigal son returned?

Gotham—He certainly did.

"And they killed the fatted calf, I suppose?"

"They didn't have to. It had been in cold storage for months."—Yonkers Statesman.

Time Saving.

"That eminent statesman makes very brief speeches."

"Yes," replied Senator Borghum. "He doesn't have to say much. He always manages to let you know what he wants you to do before he begins to talk."—Washington Star.

What He Said.

She turned on him with withering scorn.

"I shudder to think," said he, "what she would have said to me if her scorn had been strong and fresh."—Detroit Free Press.

All They Left.

"Did they cut out anything when you went to the hospital?"

"Yes, I think they cut out about everything they could get hold of except the bill."—Baltimore American.

COMPENSATIONS.

I DO not own a railroad, but I am far from sad. I might have wrecks And strikes to vex My quiet if I had.

I haven't got a palace. Yet should I rave and yelp? I need not fret And fume and sweat To keep a troop of help.

I don't possess an auto, but I do not lament. For puncture bills And engine ills Do not cost me a cent.

I work for humble wages, but what my income lacks Is offset by The fact that I Dig up no income tax.

—Pecora Journal.

Not Guilty.

"In Paris," remarks a New York lawyer, who has had the unpleasant experience of being knocked down by a taximeter and then brought to book for being in the way, "they run you down and make you pay for the privilege." Perhaps the old colored man who had a trying experience near Mobile, Ala., not long ago was sufficiently traveled to fear a similar outcome.

There had been a railway collision near that city, and a shrewd lawyer had hurried to the scene of disaster. He noticed the aforesaid old man with a badly injured head and hurried up to him where he lay moaning on the ground.

"How about damages?" began the lawyer.

The injured one waved him aside.

"Go on, boss," he protested. "I never hit de train. I never done sech a thing in all my life. Yo' can't git no damages outa me!"—Detroit Free Press.

Explained.

Hank—How did ye get th' black eye—chopping wood? Tom (just married)—No, refusin'—Chicago News.

A Good Salesman.

"What?" cried the careful housewife, "you charge me $1 a bushel for these potatoes?"

"Yes, ma'am," answered the polite grocer. "That is the very lowest price we can sell them for."

"How is it that I can get them from Brown's for 90 cents, then?"

"I cannot say, madam. Perhaps Mr. Brown has taken a fancy to you. He is a widower and you are beautiful. Unfortunately, I— Yes'm, $1.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Sensitiveness.

"I'm horribly afraid," said the popular young actor, "that my wife will take a notion some morning to get a divorce."

"Well, you might prevent her from doing that by refraining from giving her any excuse."

"I know, but one hates to be called eccentric."—Chicago Record Herald.

A Small Tragedy.

"No, Gladys," said Mrs. Camroz, "you cannot go to the party tonight."

"Why not?"

"Because we cannot be out of fashion. There is only one set of rainbow hair in the house, and I am going to wear that myself."—Washington Star.

Ethel—Oh, that's nothing! He said the same to me a year ago.

Kitty—I know that, but as one grows older one's taste improves, you know.—Boston Transcript.

On the Job.

"Do you keep 'Far From the Mad-ding Crowd'?" asked the lady at the book counter of the department store.

"No, ma'am," replied the girl attendant. "I can't. I have to work here bargain days too."—Yonkers Statesman.

Misunderstood.

"I've come," said the woman politician, "to ask you to support me."

"I'm sorry, miss," replied the man, "but you're too late. I've been married for years."—Detroit Free Press.

Relative Values.

Little Light on Empress' Loss

FIRST OFFICER OF SUNKEN C. P. R. LINER CORROBORATES CAPT. KENDALL, WHILE THE COLLIER SKIPPER IS POSITIVE THAT HIS STEAMER WAS NOT TO BLAME.

QUERIE, June 17.—Out of a welter of testimony that threw very little fresh light on the disaster of the Empress of Ireland, which sank off Father Point after collision with the collier Storstad May 29, the dominion commission, inquiring into it today, managed to extract a few more points, which, however, only serve to make the confusion worse confounded, and to indicate that the evidence of the Empress and Storstad officers, conflicting as it does, suggests that a similar state of cross purposes may be found to be the final explanation of the wreck.

At the morning session Butler Aspinall, K. C., acting for the C. P. R., extracted an opinion from Chief Officer Tuftes of the collier that, according to a diagram he had drawn of the respective positions of the ships when they saw one another just before the collision in the fog, he thought the Empress, which was travelling fast should have cleared the Storstad.

Mr. Aspinall tried to prove the C. P. R. claim that the liner was standing still, otherwise she would have passed across the Storstad's bows, but the witness clung fast to his contention that the Empress was moving.

Later Mr. Aspinall sought to show that because the collier rammed herself straight into the liner for twelve feet the Storstad must have been going at a high rate of speed, while the liner was stationary, because if the collier had been going slow the only other way this could have been accomplished would have been by the Empress approaching her like a crab. Something that was, of course, ridiculous.

To substantiate the theory of the Storstad officers that the collier struck the Empress a glancing blow as she rushed across her bows, Mr. Tuftes contradicted Captain Kendall's claim that the boilers were pierced as shown by the sheet of flame that poured out at the collision. The witness said he only saw friction sparks, while there was no rebounding of the Storstad, as sworn to by Captain Kendall, only a slight jar being felt.

As yesterday, Lord Mersey proved a humorous diplomat, and his subtle comments when awkward situations arose smoothed out all difficulties. He was challenged as the chief humorist of the court by an Irish seaman from the Empress, John Carroll, who provoked loud laughter by telling that he was forty eight but not sure of his age and by constantly referring to the chairman as "Your worship." At another time Mr. Carroll corrected Mr. Aspinall, who asked him if he "saw" the Storstad's lights, by saying he "seen" them, with an emphasis on the correction.

COLLIER COULD CUT LINER IN TWO AT FULL SPEED.

Captain Anderson of the Storstad was heard. He dealt a severe blow to Mr. Aspinall's theory that the twelve foot penetration of the collier's nose indicated that her speed indicated the striking power by saying that loaded as his vessel was she would have gone clear through the Empress travelling at ten knots.

From the comments made by Lord Mersey the fact that Mr. Tuftes did not call Captain Anderson directly he saw the fog coming, in accordance with the captain's instructions, this use of his discretion by the chief officer of the Storstad, who was in charge of the collier prior to the accident, assumed a grave aspect, though Captain Anderson, while agreeing he should have been called earlier, said it would have made no difference, as the fact that he reversed his engine directly he came on deck was only due to the appearance of the Empress, which was not expected. Lord Mersey pointed out that had the Storstad's engines been reversed earlier the calamity would not have occurred.

FIRST OFFICER CORROBORATED KENDALL.

Edward Jones, first officer of the Empress of Ireland, who was on the bridge when the collision occurred, told much the same story as did Captain Kendall. He claimed the Empress was stopped and the collier moving and C. S. Haight, acting for the Storstad owners, tried to indicate by his cross examination by this witness that the Empress' master had disobeyed the navigation rules by stopping in the fog when the regulations required him only to go slow and under the other ship's stern, after ascertaining the position of the Storstad.

The confusion over the whistles, that is as far as the stories of the two sides are concerned, was only heightened by Mr. Jones, Mr. Haight claiming that misleading signals were given. Lord Mersey pointed out that the officers of the Empress seemed to have followed the rules in this connection.

FIRST OFFICER OF EMPRESS.

Edward Jones, the first officer of the Empress of Ireland, was examined by Mr. Aspinall and testified he was on duty on the bridge and that after they dropped the pilot at Father Point he saw the masthead lights of the Storstad, about six miles off on the starboard bow. The course of the Empress was changed shortly afterwards, and a little afterwards the fog came up. Then we went from full speed ahead to full speed astern and gave three short blasts. The other vessel answered with her whistle.

The Empress again gave three short blasts, and later two long blasts to mean that the ship was stopped. The captain looked over the side of the ship and later went on to the upper bridge. He only saw the masthead lights of the Storstad and not the green lights.

When the collier collided with them the Empress was stopped. The Storstad must have been under way, though he did not see anything to prove this on account of the position he was occupying on the bridge. He was sure the Empress' engines were not working. He took off his coat and ran along the boat deck and was opposite a boat when the siren sounded, meaning all hands to boats. He saw the crew come up the companionway. He himself got away their boats on the starboard side. He slid into the water when the slant on the ship got nearly perpendicular. After swimming for a while he was picked up, he was told, by an Empress boat. Passengers and crew were in the boat, and after putting them on the Storstad they returned and picked up eight ladies and three or four men. These were given to the Eureka and once more the boat went back, but found only four corpses.

Crossed examined by Mr. Haight, Mr. Jones said that as a vessel ports its helm after leaving Father Point to north 72 east, magnetic the master considers his ship started on its voyage. This course was taken by the Empress. Under the general rule it would be quite proper for the captain to go below then if the weather was clear, but it depended on the captain. After the course of the Empress was changed to north 72 east magnetic, and after they first sighted the Storstad the collier would be a little less than three points on their starboard bow. When he first saw the masthead lights of the Storstad they were nearly in line. He understood she was steaming up the river. Up to the time the fog came up the Storstad was still bearing on their starboard bow. The distance of the ships apart would decide whether the starboard hand rule required the Empress to port to bring the lights of the Storstad on their port bow so as to show red to red. The way the Storstad was bearing did not cause him to consider that rules 19 and 22 of the navigation regulations called him to port, show red to red and pass under her stern. It would not have been an absolutely safe maneuver, because that would have been green to green. He did not see the colored lights of the Storstad, but concluded by the masthead lights that she was showing green. He looked for the colored lights with a binocular.

Lord Mersey said he did not see why the witness did not see the green lights.

Helped Celebrate Birthday.

(From the Lynn Evening Item.)

Mrs. Rachel R. Morehouse was very pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening, when about 25 of her friends called at the home of her son, Wilbur Morehouse, 511 Western avenue, whom she is visiting, and helped her celebrate the 69th anniversary of her birth. All through the day Mrs. Morehouse received many callers, who came to congratulate her upon reaching the age of 69, but she expected nothing like the ovation which she received last night.

Many beautiful presents were given to her and the flowers were sufficiently numerous to start a good sized florist's shop.

A supper was served at 7.30 o'clock. The table was a handsome sight. Huge bouquets of flowers, tastefully arranged, weighed it down. During the evening Mrs. Morehouse kept her guests interested in experiences of her childhood in Nova Scotia, where she was born and now resides. Supper was served by Mrs. Daisy Morehouse, assisted by her daughters, the Misses Eva and Jennie Morehouse, and the Misses Daisy and Helen Holdsworth.

After supper an entertainment was given, to which nearly all contributed. There were piano selections by Miss Edna Holdsworth, a quartet, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pension, Mrs. Stewart Gates and Miss Edna Holdsworth, delighted with several selections. Mrs. Dame Morehouse, Mrs. Gates and Miss Helen Holdsworth also sang.

When the guests departed for their homes each carried a rose.

Mrs. Morehouse was born in Centre ville, Digby County, N. S., and has always made that place her home. At present she is visiting her son, Wilbur Morehouse, of 511 Western avenue.

Friends were present from Brighton, Dorchester, Swampscott and Saugus.

Presumed to be a Cripple.

(St. John Globe.)

Mrs. J. Murphy, Britain street, was threatened with a beggar's curse on Friday afternoon, when Robert Kane, who appeared in the police court this morning on the charge of begging from door to door, threw down three cents on her table and said "May it bring you ill luck." Norman W. Earle said the man went to his door and held up a crumpled hand and asked for money. Earle told him "There wasn't anything doing." Then the fellow went upstairs threatened Mrs. Murphy, when she said she had nothing for him. The man is about 40 years old and is not a cripple. He was remanded until Monday.

[A beggar answering the above description was in Digby Tuesday and collected considerable money from those who are benevolently inclined.]

Prisedale.

Mr. and Mrs. George McClelland spent Friday at Noble Dondale's. Mrs. Robinson, from the Bay Shore, is visiting Mrs. Albert Fraser. Quite a number from here attended church at Virginia East Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Manning Dondale and daughter Elsie spent Friday at Deep Brook.

Mr. Roginold Weir, of Smith's Cove, visited his friend, Miss Jeanette Fraser, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Thibodeau and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Eustace Wright.

Messrs. Lloyd Wright and Earl Weir, of Smith's Cove, visited relatives here Sunday.

Mrs. Leslie Baird and children, of Clementsvalle, visited her sister, Mrs. Elder Fraser, Sunday.

Mr. Thomas Milner and his three sons went to Lake La Rose Tuesday to work at carpenter work.

Miss Annie and Mr. Bernard Seely, of Marshalltown, were over Sunday guests at Mr. Forman Wright's.

Miss Nina Hutchinson, who has been visiting friends here the past week, returned Monday to her home at Roxville.

Mrs. Wm. Anderson entertained about twenty five of her friends Friday evening. Ice cream and a good time were enjoyed.

Mr. William Anderson, who has been spending his vacation with his family, returned Saturday to his police duty in Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Wesley Scott and three children, of Ipswich, Mass., arrived Monday to spend the summer with her sister, Mrs. Angus Wright.

Dear River.

Miss Mary Read, of Middleton, is visiting friends in town.

Mrs. W. M. Miller returned from a visit to Wolfville on Saturday.

Mr. R. N. Harris spent a few days the first of the week on a fishing trip.

Mr. Earle Jones recently spent a few days in town with his friend, Mr. Carl Stronach.

Mr. Guy Brooks, of Boston, is visiting at Mr. Reuben Alcorn's and renewing old friendships in town.

Mrs. J. Arthur Rice and Mrs. W. M. Romans were hostesses at the first Tennis Tea of the season on Friday of last week.

There will be a meeting in the Methodist church on Sunday morning at the usual service hour conducted by Cadet Guy C. Harris, of the Salvation Army. On Sunday afternoon Cadet Guy C. Harris will conduct a Praise meeting in the Salvation Army Barracks and a farewell meeting in the evening.

Concession.

We are sorry to announce the sickness of Mrs. John Belliveau, of Belliveau's Cove, who was taken suddenly ill while visiting her sister, Mrs. John McDonald, a sister of Mr. Chas. A. Gaudet. We all hope for his speedy recovery.

Among the visitors for over Sunday, we were pleased to have Mr. C. A. Gaudet, of the Victoria House, Digby, accompanied by his friends, Mr. Geo. German, Wm. P. Comeau, Jane Titus, Edgar Handsaker and Master Arthur Comeau, all from Digby. They arrived here Saturday night in Mr. Harry Gavel's auto. While stopping here they visited Mrs. John McDonald, Concession Hotel, who is a sister of Mr. Gaudet. Before moving to Digby Mr. Gaudet was one of our best merchants and we are hoping for his return.

25 Years Ago.

(From the Yarmouth Times Files.)

A telegram from Tacoma, W. T., announced that John R. Young died there on Monday. The deceased was born at Brighton, Digby county. He went to California in 1849 in the Mary Jane with a number of Yarmouthians. He made money there, returned to Yarmouth, and established the firm of Young & Baker. Later he was a member of the firm of Young, Kinney & Corning. He built the first brick block in Yarmouth (Baker's building). He was one of the promoters and original directors of the Western Counties Railway and was interested in the Lake George water scheme. He was in his 70th year.

A correspondent wrote that he had struck a plumbago mine at Specht Cove, Digby county. The belt, he said, was fifty feet wide. The same correspondent claimed that he had struck a red point mine, half a mile wide, at Gilbert's Cove, in the same county.

The steamer New Brunswick was advertised to leave Digby for Boston every Tuesday and Friday afternoon.

Four Killed in Auto Accident

OMAHA, Neb., June 11.—A Union Pacific train struck an auto at a crossing one mile from Millard late last night, instantly killing three persons, and a fourth, who was injured seriously, died in the hospital early today. The dead are Oscar Krug, 81, Louis Carl Baer, Omaha, and two unidentified women. Baer, who was driving the machine, became confused at the railroad crossing, and drove directly in front of the train. The machine was carried by the engine for a distance of seventy-five yards.

The Methodist Conference.

WHERE CLERGY ARE TO BE STATIONED.

LENEXBURG, June 17.—Though cloudy weather prevails, the enthusiasm of the Methodist ministers is not dampened or disturbed in anywise.

The review of the work showed that two of their number, Revs. W. H. Evans and J. Hiram Donkin were becoming supernumery, the former permanently, and the latter for one year on account of broken health.

While the unofficial have been sleeping or living otherwise, the stationing committee were toiling upwards in the night and made some changes, although they are only tentative.

The Bay of Fundy Cricket League Schedule.

YARMOUTH, June 16.—Representatives of the clubs of the Bay of Fundy cricket league men in conference at Digby yesterday afternoon and drew up a schedule of games for the coming season for the teams of Digby, St. John and Weymouth, the three towns composing the league. At the meeting of the Digby cricket club last evening the schedule of games was read, and arrangements for more strenuous practice were made in anticipation of the first game of the season, which is to be played on Dominion day at Weymouth. It was also decided that the club's minstrel concert should be held on the night of Thursday, 25th June. A letter was read from the secretary of the Weymouth cricket club asking that the Digby club reproduce the concert in Weymouth. This was received with enthusiasm, and a committee was appointed to make arrangements for the performance at Weymouth.

Bear River Wedding.

ALEXANDER-REID

An interesting event took place in the Bear River Baptist church at 8.30 Wednesday evening, when Rev. Mr. Crandall united in marriage Mr. Burpee Alexander, of Houlton, Maine, and Miss Harriette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Reid, of Bear River.

The bride, who was prettily dressed in brocade satin, was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Reid, while the duties of best man were performed by Mr. J. C. Madigan, also of Houlton. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride at which a large number of guests were present. The bride and groom were conveyed by auto the same evening to the Winchester House, Digby, and left via yesterday's boat via St. John en route to Clifton, N. S., where they for the present will reside. The gifts were numerous and costly showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held by their friends. The Courier extends best wishes.

GLORIOUS HAIR

Girls and women of all ages want to be beautiful and attractive, but ungloriously, thin and lifeless hair destroys half the beauty of a pretty face.

If your hair is losing its natural color, is falling out, dull, streaky, full of dandruff, too dry, or if the scalp itches and burns do not be alarmed, use Parisian Sage. Rub it well into the scalp. It will go right to the hair roots, nourish them, and stimulate the hair to grow long and beautiful. It removes dandruff with one application, stops itching scalp, falling hair and makes the hair feel fine.

Parisian Sage supplies the hair with what is needed to make it soft, fluffy, thick and gloriously radiant. It is sold in fifty cent bottles by H. E. Jones, and at all drug counters. Look for the trade mark—"The Girl with the Auburn Hair." Accept no other.

Notice to Mariners

Desperate Attack By Mountaineer

WHITING, Ky., June 11.—Two men are dead, four are believed to be dying and a small boy lies fatally wounded, as the result of an attack by William Day, a mountaineer, on officers who sought to arrest him at Neot, near here, last night. One of the men killed was an officer and the other was Day himself. Day's weapon was a shotgun.

Day was killed by a posse man, who trailed him to the mountains, whence he fled after making a desperate stand at his home. Day was wanted on a minor charge and resisted arrest.

Prince of Wales Attends Banquet

LONDON, June 11.—The Prince of Wales attended his first official banquet last night, when he went as a guest to the annual dinner of the officers of His Majesty's Yacht Club at the Hotel Metropole. The young prince, who was accompanied by Commodore Douglas R. E. Nicholson, who presided, and Admiral Sir Michael Seymour, were evening dress, with the ribbon of the garter. As is customary on these occasions, there were no speeches, the only toast being to the king.

By M. QUAD.
(Copyright, 1914, by Associated Literary Press.)

WE read that before Noah sailed with his ark he drove into it a male and female of every species of animal on earth. As America was not discovered until thousands of years later, we used to wonder how he got his coons and possums and skunks. It was not until we had been flayed by a deacon, an elder and a minister that we decided to cease wondering and put in more time in the "later patch."

I believe that every man is the better for having something to struggle for. I have been struggling for years to get a second pair of trousers ahead, but every time I have accomplished it my wife has been quick to give the old pair away to a tramp, leaving me as before. Still, I have had the excitement of the struggle, and the tramps had the little glad surprises.

I think that a husband, no matter how long he has been married, nor how long since the romance departed, should now and then surprise his wife with a bouquet. I think so, and yet every time I have tried it the wife has invariably replied:

"Very nice of you, Lisha, but I really wish you had brought some rat poison instead."

People say that I am getting very forgetful, but there's an offset to console me. When my wife asks me for a dollar I can forget the amount she named and put her off with 15 cents.

Give things a chance and they will even up. My neighbor sued me for keeping a barking dog, and the suit was not yet decided when he had to abandon his own home on account of his wife's singing.

I have been told that you can judge a man's character by his whiskers. Maybe so, but it was an old chap with whiskers who stole my dog; it was a man with burn-sides who picked my pocket; it was a man with a goatee who highway robbed me, and it was a chap with a moustache that I found in my house at midnight. I doubt if you can tell by the hair on a dog whether he will bite or run.

I have known men of fifty to dye their gray hair and whiskers that the world might take them for forty, but the world didn't do so such thing; it added five years to their age and called them fools besides. The world at large refuses to be perturbed over any one's age, but it doesn't like the smell of hair dye.

I met a man the other day who had no suggestion to make as to how fathers should bring up their sons and mothers their daughters. You will regard this as unbelievable until I add that the man was in a lunatic asylum and had been there for twenty years.

My wife and the wife of a neighbor quarreled over the question, "Should a young lady be fed apple sauce or prunes?" and they didn't speak to each other for seven long years. Then a doctor told them that both had been wrong, and it took the state a year after that to get tipped back on a level keel.

Her Promise.
Life looks—well, pretty good to me. Since I have heard her say "With good and gentle modesty, 'Shall I marry the some day—' If I will give up smoking, If I will go to church, If I will give my friends and leave My old chums in the lurch, If I'll be always pleasant, And never swear or scold, If I am at present, And not get sour and old; If I will be an angel— And that is easy, good— If I can seem just like her dream, She says she'll marry me!"
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

IT WAS ONLY A DREAM.

The Best of Intentions Come In For an Unkind Jolt.

"THERE is a young couple in my apartment house," he remarked, "that my wife and myself took quite a fancy to. They used to come in occasionally, and we got very fond of them."

"Quite so."
"I used to sit and think of how I'd like to do something handsome for them if I ever got rich. You know how a fellow will dream about those things. Ever sit and speculate on what you'd do for your friends if you ever got hold of any money?"

"Oh, yes."

"Well, I'm quite a hand for dreaming that way. For one thing, I was going to give this young couple a fine party. They are both musical, and this was to be an event of some magnitude. I figured I'd have Caruso to sing and Paderewski to accompany him. Some class there, eh?"

"Yes, indeed!"
"I used to dream by the hour of the big party I was going to give this young couple if I ever got rich. But they ditched the whole scheme."

"How was that?"
"Gave a big party and left us out of it."—Judge.

Cold Scorn.

Two New York men were touring Ireland last summer by automobile. On a hot July afternoon they came to an inn. Stopping, they went into the bar. A red checked peasant girl was the barmaid. The travelers ordered Irish and soda. The girl served them and then went on with her interrupted work of wiping the bar. One of the men tasted his drink and found it tepid.

"I say, my girl," he said, "won't you please put some ice in these drinks?"

Her mouth went wide open, and the mopping cloth was poised in midair. Amaze held her silent for a moment. Then she found tongue in a hurry.

"Ice, is it? And who the — ever heard of ice in July?"

Whereupon she fell to polishing again. —New York Times.

The Fastest Afloat.

The commander of the sixty-knot ocean greyhound had ended his career and had crossed the Styx with old Captain Charon. The commander proudly introduced himself to a venerable shade who was sitting on the bank of the river.

"I was the skipper of the fastest vessel afloat," said the commander.

"My name is Smith."
"So was I," replied the venerable shade. "My name is Noah." —Cincinnati Enquirer.

SYNOPSIS OF DOMINION LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Land Agency or sub-agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of the homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister. In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt quarter section along side his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-empt six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has cashed a tax on his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and set a house worth $300.00.

FEELS LIKE A NEW WOMAN

As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Dispelled Backache, Headaches and Dizziness.

Piqua, Ohio.—"I would be very ungrateful if I failed to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the praise it deserves, for I have taken it at different times and it always relieved me when other medicines failed, and when I hear a woman complain I always recommend it. Last winter I was attacked with a severe case of organic weakness. I had backache, pains in my hips and over my kidneys, headache, dizziness, lassitude, had no energy, limbs ached and I was always tired. I was hardly able to do my housework. I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on one other occasion, and it had helped me so I took it again and it has built me up, until now I feel like a new woman. You have my hearty consent to use my name and testimonial in any way and I hope it will benefit suffering women."—Mrs. ORPHEA TURNER, 431 S. Wayne St., Piqua, Ohio.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

The Days Gone By.

Oh the days gone by! On the days gone by! The apples in the orchard, and the pathway through the rye; The chirp of the robin, and the whistle of the quail; A-hopped across the meadows sweet as any nightingale; When the bloom was on the clover, and the blue was in the sky; And my happy heart blimmed over, in the days gone by.

In the days gone by, when my naked feet were tripped By the honey-suckle tangles where the water lilies dipped; And the ripples of the river lipped the moss along the brink; Where the placid-eyed and lazy-footed cattle came to drink; And the lifting snipe stood fearless of the trout's wary wink; And the splashing of the swimmer, in the days gone by.

O the days gone by! O the days gone by! The music of the laughing lip, the lustre of the eye; The childish faith in fairies, and Aladdin's magic ring; The simple, soul-reposing, glad belief in everything— When life was like a story holding neither sob nor sigh; In the golden, olden glory of the days gone by.

Scotch Railway Wreck

LONDON, June 18.—Three women were drowned, and it is feared that a dozen more persons perished today when a passenger train went through a culvert and into a torrent at Carr Bridge, 25 miles south of Inverness, Scotland.

A thunder storm that ravaged the north of England and Scotland was responsible for the accident. The train from Perth was crossing the culvert, and became derailed, and the culvert, which had been undermined, collapsed, and the passenger coaches fell into the water.

It is feared that besides the known drowned, a dozen other persons were caught in a submerged coach.

Many persons on the train escaped from the cars, but drifted about in the stream and were badly injured before being rescued. One of the passengers, a man from New York, saved himself by gripping a tree.

The scene of the wreck is a desolate spot, where it was difficult to obtain assistance.

A REVERIE OF OLD JAMESTOWN.

Coming from Fort Monroe, northward by the James river, the boat stopped at Jamestown. There are two most important spots historically in the United States, Jamestown and Plymouth Rock, the former being the more important from its age. I was curious to see it, and leaving the boat, remained there long enough to lose myself in a reverie concerning it.

There is nothing there today to dream about unless it be the tower of the church built by the inhabitants of the settlement who went there a little over 300 years ago. No more interesting spot in itself exists in America. It is an open flat space on the northeast bank of the river, whose yellow waters have eaten away a considerable part of the site of the town.

And now for my dream. The report of a gun fired out on the bosom of the yellow waters. I looked and saw a miniature ship very high in the stern and forward, much ornamented and the sail on the mainmast bearing the arms of England. From the shore a boat was about to put out bearing a huge cask. I got aboard and was pulled to the ship.

"What's going on?" I asked of one of the oarsmen, who, by the bye, all wore doublets with broad collar, knee breeches and hose.

"Sale of redemptioners," was the reply.

When we boarded the vessel, the Royal James, rum was served from the cask, and the sale commenced. There were twenty men and four women to be sold to whomsoever would pay their passage money from England, with a handsome bonus to the person who had advanced the funds. They were to be bound to their purchaser till they had worked out the amount he had paid and until then were held as redemptioners, which meant a limited period of slavery.

Several men were sold for sums ranging from £50 to £100, though the amount was paid in tobacco. All the women were sold for wives with their consent. There was one damsel not twenty years old who was so comely that I approached and asked her what had induced her to come out to so melancholy a place as Jamestown.

"Please sir," she replied, "I come from bonnie Scotland. My mother diana like it because I wouldna marry auld Roderick McTavish and shut me up. But I got out and a man with gold a plenty sent me out as a redemptioner. He must be paid £60 for my passage and a the profit there is in me."

"And if I pay the £60 will you marry me?"

"That I will," replied the girl, "because you're so much better than auld Roderick McTavish, and I'll na have to work out the money owing for sending me here."

And so I paid the £60 in tobacco, which went back to England in the ship, and the girl was carried ashore with me. On landing we went up a beaten path leading to the church. I found the parson, and we were married.

This was when Captain John Smith was indefatigable in keeping the colony together and supplying our wants, but after a time he left us to make explorations of the coast and then to go to England. Our men became discouraged and would not work. Food must be got by hunting or tilling the earth, and the people would do neither. So hunger and sickness came upon us, and we diminished rapidly. Some went back to England, and some, leaving Jamestown, went back from the river into the country.

When I saw that Jamestown was doomed, taking my Scotch wife with me, I went back from the river into the interior and, settling myself on a piece of land, built a house and raised tobacco. I prospered, and other families settling near me, in time we became a community. Though my wife and I grew old, our children grew up after us to be men and women, and the country about us lost its primitive loneliness. But the river was always the same. At times I was obliged to go to it for the purpose of shipping my tobacco, and it always gave me the blues.

But we on the peninsula between the river and the bay were a merry lot, meeting oftentimes at each other's plantation; where our children danced and feasted, for we were not the outly lot we were when we settled at Jamestown. Some proud families in England who had met with reverses, or younger sons, also the Cavaliers who had been beaten by Oliver Cromwell, came over and settled among us. We gave them welcome and a helping hand, and in time they became, like ourselves, successful planters.

This was my reverie as I sat on the bank of the James river looking at the melancholy scene about me. Yet it was no creation, but what I had read in the annals of my family. My first ancestor in America was a citizen of Jamestown, and he married a redemptioner of Scotch nativity. They became planters in the neighborhood of Williamsburg, and their grandson was a professor in William and Mary college. The branch of their descendants from which I sprang gravitated after the Revolution northward, and in the war between the states we fought against our brethren in the peninsula where our first American progenitors raised tobacco.

Wireless Rules Made Public

TERMS UNDER WHICH GOVERNMENT WILL ISSUE LICENSES TO OPERATORS

OTTAWA, June 21.—A long list of regulations under the Radio Telegraph Act have been issued by the Naval Service Department. They set forth the terms and conditions under which licenses to operate stations and licenses to operators shall be granted, prescribe the nature of equipment which must be used, the wave length to be employed by different kinds of stations, etc.

It is provided, for instance, that large sea going vessels besides the ordinary wireless apparatus must carry an emergency source of power, instantly available, placed in all cases in the upper part of a ship and capable of operating the wireless apparatus for six hours with a range of eighty miles.

A constant watch must be maintained at wireless stations on all large sea going vessels, while enroute and two certificated operators must be on hand, while constant watch between certain prescribed hours must be kept by the operators of smaller vessels.

Wireless messages may be censored by the master of the vessel from which they are sent. All operators on coast, ship or land stations must be British subjects.

Different classes of licenses are issued to different kinds of stations, such as limited coast stations, public commercial stations, private commercial stations, experimental, amateur, technical or training school stations. Different wave lengths are also prescribed so that messages may not interfere with each other, while it is provided that if an amateur wireless station interferes with the operation of a commercial business, it must cease to operate when notified.

American Golf Champion Fared Badly

PRESWICK, Scotland, June 19.—Francis Ouimet, open golf champion of the United States, again fared badly today in the British open champion ships. A score of 85 in the third round of eighteen holes brought his aggregate for the first three rounds to 250. He had taken 85 and 79 for the first two rounds.

With only another round to play, this left him in an almost helpless situation, 24 strokes behind the leading competitor. John H. Taylor, five times winner of the open champion ship title, and its present holder, led the field at the end of the third round with an aggregate of 226.

He did the round in 74. The first and second rounds he had made in 71 and 78 respectively. Harry Cardon also five times holder of the title, followed Taylor closely with an aggregate of 228 having taken 78 for the third round. His preceding rounds had been better as he had made them in 73 and 77. J. L. C. Jenkins, the British amateur champion, played splendid golf today. He went the third round in 73, making his aggregate 232 or only six strokes behind the best total. His first two rounds had taken him 79 and 80.

A MISTAKEN IDEA

There are some people who still resort to drugged pills or alcoholic syrups to overcome colds, nervousness or general debility, and who know that the pure, unadulterated nourishment in Scott's Emulsion is infinitely better, but refrain from taking it because they fear it may lead to excessive fat or obesity.

This is a mistaken idea, because Scott's Emulsion first strengthens the body before making flesh. Its blood-forming properties aid nature to throw off sickness by building health from its very source, and flesh is formed only by its continued use. Avoid alcoholic substitutes for SCOTT'S.

TERRIBLE MINING DISASTER.

Explosion in Hillcrest Colliery Entombs All the Workmen.

ONLY FORTY SURVIVORS TAKEN OUT AND FEW OF THEM UNINJURED—HOPE OF RESCUE OF 200 MEN REVERED FRUITLESS—STUBBORN AND DOCTORS RUSHED ON A SPECIAL TRAIN.

HILLCREST, Alta., June 19.—In what is one of the worst mining disasters that ever occurred in the history of Canada practically the whole male population of this town was wiped out today. Nearly 200 homes mourn the loss of father, son or brother, and the women folk sit around in their homes and on the neighboring hills watching the gruesome truck loads of dust begrimed bodies as they are brought to the surface with monotonous regularity.

The explosive fire damp has done its treacherous work. Twelve hundred feet down in the bowels of the earth, where the men labored, in one brief moment, 195 of the two hundred and thirty six men who went to work this morning were hurled into eternity. Some of them are believed to be beneath tons of coal, some are found with their picks in their hands, and others are propped against the walls of the mines, tools in hand, as though ready for work. Only 11 of the shift came out alive.

All day long since the explosion occurred there has been a funeral procession of bodies passing from mine to washhouse, where the bodies are dressed. From there a rapid procession is leaving for the town. All day long women and children have traversed the same path in hope of hearing some cheering news from their loved ones, and in their path they would meet mothers and sisters returning broken hearted to their homes.

At the mouth of the mine, husky, grimy men labor with herculean endurance as back and forth the rescue trucks grind with their ghastly loads of human remains. Men decked with oxygen helmets, slide quickly in and out among the crowd of anxious watchers and then, as silently disappear into the bowels of the earth, only to reappear with corpses as cannon balls.

There is no confusion, everything is orderly. The miners appear to accept death as a matter of course, and the women weep in silence when they watch the bodies of their loved ones brought to the surface wrapped in rude blankets and conveyed away to the temporary morgue. For this purpose the washhouse of the mines has been turned into a morgue. Some of the bodies brought up are bruised, torn and broken, but the cause of death in the majority of cases must be attributed to suffocation.

A large number of corpses have been brought to the surface. The eighty tired and willing workers at the rescue work have apparently made up their minds that not a living soul remains in the mine. To the question put to General Manager Brown, of the Hillcrest collieries, the only answer is a shake of the head and the delectful words: "We have no hope."

OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

MONTREAL, June 19.—The following statement dealing with the disaster at the property of Hillcrest Collieries, Ltd., was issued tonight by J. M. MacKie, managing director:

"We received a wire this morning advising us of an explosion in the mine and stating the extent of the damage is unknown at present. We have 377 men on our pay roll, including other help and outside labor. It is probable that 250 men were in the mine at the time of the explosion. A wire received at the C. P. B. offices here states that sixty five men have been taken out alive, but at this writing we have no direct report. Our men are doubtless too busy, at rescue work to communicate with us.

"In planning our mine we constructed two distinct entrances about a half a mile apart, which are connected underground and great precaution has always been taken in the ventilating of the mine. Our engineers' weekly report, just received, states ventilation good in all parts. We are at an utter loss to understand how such a tremendous catastrophe could have occurred."

Later in the evening Mr. MacKie received a wire as follows:

DEATH LIST OVER 200.

"The explosion was in No. 1 mine. This is the mine where most of the men work. No. 2 mine is where our new development is going on. Two hundred and thirty two men went into the mine this morning at 7 o'clock. The explosion occurred at 9.30 o'clock. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon thirty men had been taken out alive and thirty two dead bodies recovered. The missing at present number 170. The work of rescue is progressing steadily and artificial respiration constantly and vigorously applied to those brought up. Excellent order prevails and the best of equipment is available for rescue work."

Considerations as to how the disaster would affect the business of the company were not discussed yesterday, officials of the company being overwhelmed by the reports of heavy loss of life. Supplementing what is contained in the formal statement above, J. M. MacKie who spends part of each year at the property, stated that all development work had been carried out in such a way as to guarantee a maximum of safety and in the absence of more detailed information he could form no idea as to how an accident had happened. In addition to the two main entries, there were some eight outlets, which were of easy access at important points in the workings.

Mr. MacKie will go west tomorrow and personally superintend the handling of the unexpected situation which has developed.

Hillcrest Collieries, Limited, was organized here some five years ago to take over the property of the Hillcrest Coal & Coke Company, in which M. P. Davis and a group of Ottawa men were largely interested. The mine had then been in successful operation for some years, the new company was capitalized at $1,000,000 preferred and $2,000,000 common with a bond issue of $325,000. Of the preferred, there has been issued $705,000 and of the common $1,000,000.

The directors and officers of the company are:

C. B. Gordon, president; C. More-dith, vice president; H. S. Holt, W. D. Mathews, J. S. C. Fraser, J. M. MacKie, G. H. Duggan, M. P. Davis, C. P. Hill, C. R. Hamilton and John Brown, directors.

ONLY 40 SURVIVORS.

HILLCREST, Alta., June 19.—Practically all hope of any of the entombed miners remaining in the Hillcrest colliery, where an explosion took place this morning, being rescued, has been abandoned. The total loss of life is now estimated at 197 men. Forty survivors only, of whom 27 were uninjured, have been brought to the surface. Fifty two bodies have been brought out, forty one of them having already been identified. Rescue parties are doing all possible to rescue any who may still be alive in the mine.

189 PERISHED.

OTTAWA, June 21.—The sympathy of the Canadian government in the Hillcrest mine disaster was expressed by telegrams sent by Premier Borden yesterday to the officials of the Miners' Union at Hillcrest, and the manager of the mine.

The message expressed the prime minister's profound sympathy with the sufferers, and announced the desire of the government to assist in the work of relief. Advice was requested as to the best method of assisting in such work.

J. D. McNiven, an officer of the labor department in the west, has been despatched to Hillcrest, and the services of the Mounted Police have been offered.

The latest information which the government has received shows that there were 237 men in the mine at the time of the accident, and that forty eight were saved. The number of bodies recovered is given as ninety.

FUNERAL OF 150 VICTIMS.

HILLCREST, Alta., June 21.—Almost directly under the Turtle mountain, the natural graveyard of victims of the Frank slide of a few years ago, was enacted this afternoon the last scene of the Hillcrest disaster. Over 150 bodies were buried, while around stood widows and children.

Canadian Forestry Association

Preliminary to the Dominion Forestry Convention to be held in Halifax on the 24, 25, 26, 27 of September of this year it has been arranged to have given a series of free illustrated lectures by Mr. James Lawler, Secretary of the Canadian Forestry Association. The lectures open at Antigonish on the 23d of June, and the following engagements have been made, New Glasgow 24th June, Liverpool 25th June, Shelburne 30th June, Yarmouth 2d July, Weymouth 31 July, Bear River 4th July, Annapolis Royal 6th July, Middleton 7th July, and four other towns will be fixed before winding up this series at Halifax. Nearly one hundred pictures will be shown and special mention made of local forestry conditions and the proper handling of wood lots. These lectures have been given in nearly all the other provinces and have been well attended. This is the first time in Nova Scotia. The subject is of great importance, and the welfare of the province depends to a very large extent on the wood supply. More than twenty million feet of lumber are annually used in the coopersage required for fish, apple and potato export. The collieries of the provinces are investigating not only the immediate but the future supply of Pit Props, and there is an increasing home demand for lumber. The conservation of Nova Scotia forests and the growing of timber as a crop whether it be hoop poles or deals for export is not a matter that can be deferred for future consideration. The lectures to be given are an appeal to the public to become interested in what can be done for the good of their own province.

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, June 26, 1914

THANKS

We wish to thank those who have responded to our appeal of the last few weeks for a settlement of their accounts. There are some, however, who have neglected to attend to this important matter and we wish to impress them with the fact that we certainly expect to hear from them next week.

Redistribution, Its Cause and Effect.
THE NEW SEATS ARE OFFICIALLY KNOWN AS DIGBY-ANAPOLIS AND YARMOUTH-CLARE.

By the terms of the British North America Act, which is the constitution of the Dominion of Canada, the representation in the house of commons is redistributed once in ten years, after the taking of the census, and the result goes into effect at the following general elections.

The unit of representation is determined after each decennial census, by dividing the population of the province of Quebec by 65, the number of seats to which that province is entitled, to which that province is entitled, the unit, which is now 30,800, has since confederation grown steadily higher with the increase of population in Quebec.

At confederation in 1867 Nova Scotia had 19 members; by the census of 1871 she received 21, which she held until 1891, when the census of that year reduced the number to 20; in 1901 the number fell to 18, and by the census of 1911 this province was entitled to 10 members. In the province of P. E. I. the number of seats was reduced from 6 to 3, and N. B. from 16 to 11.

By the present redistribution the province of New Brunswick lost 2 seats, Prince Edward Island lost 1, Nova Scotia lost 2, and Ontario lost 4. Quebec stood, as provided by the Act of confederation, at 65, while all the provinces of the west gained seats. The next house will have 234 members, where the present one has 221.

In order to arrange for the changes necessary a committee of nine members of parliament, selected by the leaders from both sides of the house, was appointed, and they presented an unanimous report as to 23 of the seats, that of Richmond, O. B. being the other. By the report of the committee, which was adopted without division, 19 of the existing constituencies in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces were merged.

The island of Cape Breton having a population of 122,181 was entitled to retain its four seats, and therefore an arrangement had to be made on the mainland whereby the reduction of two seats could be effected. The counties of Antigonish, (population 11,002) and Guysboro (population 17,018) which adjoin, were therefore formed into one constituency. The other change was made in the west, where the three counties of Annapolis (18,581) Digby (20,107) and Yarmouth (23,220) had together the population necessary for two seats.

The county of Annapolis consists of one municipality, the county of Digby is composed of two municipalities, namely Digby and Clare, both separate and independent as regards their municipal government, while Yarmouth has the municipalities of Yarmouth and Argyle. By forming one constituency of the municipalities of Yarmouth and Argyle and another of the municipalities of Digby and Annapolis the necessary population was secured for each, without disturbing municipal boundaries.

The counties of Digby and Yarmouth have a large Acadian population, chiefly settled in the municipalities of Clare and Argyle. While the Acadians in New Brunswick have two members in the house of commons, those of Nova Scotia, although their number 51,740 have no representative there. The new riding of "Yarmouth-Clare" will have a total population of 32,007, of whom about 18,000 are Acadians. The riding of "Digby-Annapolis" is principally composed of people of British descent.

The rearrangement will not come into effect until the next Dominion election, at which time instead of the electors of the municipalities of Digby and Clare voting for a representative, the electors of the municipalities of Digby and Annapolis will vote for their candidate, while the people of Yarmouth and Clare will vote for another. In no other way does redistribution effect the municipalities or counties concerned.

The new constituencies are officially known as Digby-Annapolis and Yarmouth-Clare.

A Modern Undertaking Establishment.
A CORNER representative was shown through Mr. J. F. Rice's undertaking establishment this week. Mr. Rice has just completed a two story annex on his business block, First Avenue, which has entirely separated the undertaking from his furniture business.

On the first floor with entrance from First Avenue, is a chapel 18x21 with reading desk, organ, etc., capable of seating near a hundred people. This will be used for funerals and inquests when circumstances warrant it. Back of this on the same floor is the morgue 22x18, fitted with all sanitary conveniences. Next to this is the shipping room 18x17, containing wardrobe, fixtures, etc.

Upstairs is the trimming and hardware room 17x18, back of which is the stock room 40x15 with rear entrance. In front is the show room 11x18, containing a great variety of outfits, some of which are the most costly that can be obtained in the maritime provinces.

The South End Lawn Tennis and Quoit Club.

The regular tea of the South End Lawn Tennis and Quoit Club held on the grounds last Saturday afternoon was fairly well attended in spite of the heavy rain, which continued until 3 o'clock. The new Club House was thrown open, and while the courts were too wet to play tennis, the members had an enjoyable time discussing the affairs of the Club, and all enjoyed an excellent tea.

The ladies were for tomorrow will be Mrs. J. F. McLaren, Mrs. J. L. Peters, Miss Blanche Sproule, Miss Collins and Miss Dora. Yarmouth assisted by Aubrey Turnbull and Archer Turnbull.

"Where the Trail Divides."

O. E. Wee's scenic production of the successful four act melodrama "Where the Trail Divides," by Lem B. Parker, will be at the Bijou Dream on Wednesday, July 1st. The whole story is thoroughly American; it is lively and breezy throughout, with an abundance of good hearty laughs, and a story of adventure, and a play that will please. The cast includes Miss June Bridges, a young and clever actress, in the part of "Dolly," a part similar to that of "June" in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine." The balance of the cast includes a number of well known and exceptionally clever people.

Bent's Restaurant.
IT IS NOW AN UP TO DATE ESTABLISHMENT AND A CREDIT TO THE TOWN.

Mr. Vernon Bent has improved his restaurant until it is now the best that Digby has ever possessed in that line. The dining room, which is about 25x10, is capable of seating 40 guests. The south side and front is almost entirely plate glass which not only gives a great quantity of light, but also presents an attractive appearance from the street. The whole affair is equipped with up to date improvements such as gas heated tea and coffee urns, steam serving table, etc. The latter contains apartments for fish, meats, vegetables, sauces, etc., and is giving excellent satisfaction.

Next to the street near the entrance is an attractive "silent salesman" well stocked with cigars, cigarettes, tobacco and other smokers' supplies.

In connection with this restaurant is a ten room lodging house to which may be added more room in the near future.

The carpenter work on these improvements was in charge of Mr. Ralph Oliver, of Digby. The whole establishment is lighted throughout with electricity.

Mr. Bent is certainly in a position to do some good business, and will no doubt be well patronized. We wish him continued success.

Freeport.
Dr. Bishop had the misfortune to slip on his concrete steps hurting his knee badly.

Councillor Edgar Haines, who has been dangerously ill, we are glad to report recovering.

Mr. Fairfield Morrell and wife, who have been spending the winter in Peabody, Mass., have returned home. About thirty five pupils from the three schools, Tiverton, Freeport and Westport are taking their exams, in the Academy here. Rev. F. H. Easton acts as examiner assisted by Miss George Lent.

Death has again entered our village and claimed for its victim Mr. Henry Stenderon in the 76th year of his age. He leaves beside an aged mother, one half brother, Mr. Roland Haines, one son Gordon, and one daughter, Mrs. Melbourne Israel, who were with him at the time of his death.

Mrs. Zilpha Thurber died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wellington Ring, Friday, June 19th, in her 73rd year. She has been a patient sufferer for the past few years but bore it bravely, trusting in her Saviour. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Ring and Mrs. Charlie Haines, also three sons, Frank, of Peabody, Mass., Herbert and Rudolph of this place.

SUBURBAN NOTES

What is Going on Outside the Town in Neighboring Villages

PICKED UP BY CORRESPONDENTS IN DIGBY COUNTY AND ELSEWHERE—MARRIAGES, DEATHS, PERSONALS AND OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Westport.

We understand that J. W. Denton has sold his wharf premises to Mr. A. Pugh.

Mrs. Alma Nelson, of Bridgewater, is visiting her cousin, Miss Sarah Ruggles.

Miss Marion Bailey leaves next week for St. John to take charge of one of the school play grounds for the season.

Capt. Edgar McDormand has purchased a motor boat from Mr. Glavin. Mr. Glavin is having a new one built at White's Cove.

Cards are issued for the marriage of Mr. Moore and Miss Mabel Gower, on Wednesday 21th inst. Congratulations to Mr. Moore.

Capt. Fred Gower has sold his motor boat to his brother Wallace, and is having one built at the factory of Barwell Outhouse, Tiverton.

A few of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kent called upon them on the 16th inst., to tender good wishes on the 5th anniversary of their marriage.

Mr. Alonzo Titus, who lately purchased the farm of Holland Graham, has been adding to his estate by the purchase of the lands contiguous to it. We wish him success.

Miss Harriet Ruggles is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ruggles. Miss Ruggles is one of Boston's best nurses and has attained high proficiency in her profession.

Mr. Frank Lafoly, wife and family, of Florida, are here for the summer. This was Mr. Lafoly's old home. His mother is still living here. They feel the change of climate keenly.

Mrs. Giesmer and child and Mrs. Currie, husband and children, daughters, and Mrs. Geo. Denton arrived from Boston last week to spend a few weeks' vacation at their old home.

Capt. Colin Thompson arrived from Portland on Sunday, where he had landed a cargo of fish for Messrs. Lord Bros. Capt. Thos. Hicks' sehr. Snow Maiden, is now loaded for the same destination.

Mr. Allen Buckman, of Danvers, Mass., who purchased the residence of the late Jas. A. Peters, is here for the purpose of placing the same in good condition for the removal of himself and family next fall.

If the amount of blossoms are indication of fruit, then our plum, apple, pear and small fruits should give us a good crop this season, as they are and have been one mass of white during the last week or two.

Mrs. F. O. Best and daughter Gladys have arrived for their annual summer vacation. Dr. Best is a throat, eye and ear specialist and resides at Providence, R. I. Mrs. Best purchased some two or three years ago the residence and grounds of her grandfather, the late H. E. Payson, and has rebuilt and placed in good condition the old homestead.

Rev. Chas. Turner, of Edgartown, Mass., occupied the pulpit of the Baptist Church both morning and evening of the 14th. Mr. Turner is a relative of Capt. M. G. Craker, of Freeport, and was here a few days for a vacation with his wife. The church here would like to engage Mr. Turner's services, but we are afraid the call will not be loud enough and the salary insufficient. The great trouble is, that our churches want to obtain the services of a thousand dollar man for about six hundred, the same figures as were paid 50 years ago. It is a great pity that Eaton does not have them in stock at reduced prices.

Con

Plympton Station.

Mr. Emory Comeau, of Bloomfield, is visiting friends in this place. Sorry to report Mrs. Clarence Frotten in poor health at the time of writing.

Miss M. C. Smith took tea with Mrs. Jeremiah Thibideau on Saturday last.

Mr. Charles Thibideau, who is working at Horton's Landing, spent Sunday last with his family.

Mr. Jeremiah Thibideau, who is working at Donnettsville, spent Sunday last with his family.

Mr. Ernest Gossion, of St. John, is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Gossion.

Messrs. Bernard, Paul and Chas. Steadlin, of Weymouth, spent Sunday last with friends in this place.

An accident occurred on Wednesday, June 17th, when Jerry Thibideau, jr., badly cut himself while chopping in the woods. Dr. Dickie, of Barton, was quickly summoned and dressed the wound. We are glad to say the patient is doing fine.

Mrs. Arthur MacDonald and daughter Audrey, of Plympton, spent a few days at Mrs. Henry Gossion's last week.

Miss Marguerite Warner, of Plympton, and Miss Jennie Adams, of Brighton, made a short call in this village recently.

Mr. Henry Gossion has lately removed his barn, the work being done by Mr. Ambrose Robishaud, of Donnettsville.

Mr. R. P. Whitman, manager of the stove mill, has pitched his tent on the premises of Mr. Henry Gossion, and intends to bring his wife here for the summer months.

Mr. Robert Melanson, and family, of Gloucester, have just arrived and is improving his residence by raising his house and building an addition. All welcome Mr. Melanson back to his native place.

Our school held a public examination on Friday afternoon, June 19th. A number of visitors were present, all of whom were greatly pleased with the program which consisted of songs and recitations. Much credit is due our teacher, Miss M. C. Smith, for the way she has conducted the school during the term.

Ashmore

Many of our boys left Monday via special train for Aldershot.

Mr. Joseph Doty was an over Sunday guest of Mr. Gilbert Doty.

Mr. Byron Prime, New Tasset, visited at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fred Manzer, recently.

Mr. David Kinney, Amherst, is spending the summer with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Kinney.

We are pleased to report Mrs. Roland Doty doing well after having a cancer removed by Dr. Elderkin and Hallett.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Parsons and Miss Floris Doty were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Kinney, June the 12th.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Parsons, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. Parsons' uncle, Mr. Gilbert Doty, returned to Lynn, Mass., June 13th.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

A mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good they may possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by E. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price 50c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN H. SMITH

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

ONE reason why a woman needs a new fall suit is that if she doesn't have one the neighbors will think that John isn't doing very well.

It is a smart woman that scares her husband's gambling gains. Any wife shares the losses.

A million dollars will, it is said, bring many friends, but who has a million dollars?

A fly man doesn't necessarily make a good aviator.

Some marriages make the impatient observer think that the contracting parties must have had a grudge against themselves.

It frequently happens that the only person that we deceive in regard to our behavior is ourselves.

If some women were offered a free ticket to heaven they would think of three perfectly good reasons why they couldn't go on the date punched on the ticket.

The more an angry man talks the less he is likely to do any damage.

It is easy enough to do what you like, but to do what you don't like as if you like it is what tries men's souls.

Two wrongs never make a right, but the second wrong often makes a fellow feel all right.

We can't see what is before us, and we would like to quit seeing much that is behind us.

There are some of our brethren who can't distinguish between bad luck and inefficiency on the part of themselves.

You can't get a man with a painful corn to admire the works of Mother Nature very extensively.

When we hear an old bachelor railing against matrimony we wonder which one of the girls that turned him down has just met.

The Situation.
"I think suburban life must be dreadfully stupid."
"Stupid!"
"Yes."
"That shows you don't know anything about it."
"Well, what is there exciting about it?"
"Exciting? Why, the struggle to escape is the most exciting thing you ever saw!"

Wound It Up.
Their love ran along like the brook in the song
Till once in a frenzy he slapped her.
She packed up her trinkets and whispered,
"Be long."
And that was the end of the chapter.

Human Nature.
"There will be no more divorces in Portugal."
"I thought the new government was going to give them out just for the asking."
"It is."
"Then what will stop them?"
"If people can get them they won't want them, will they?"

Brute.
"Are you fond of children?"
"Children?"
"Yes."
"I am, in a way."
"How is that?"
"Same as I am of dogs—I like to see them, but don't care to own them."

The Defeated.
Hurrah for the victor who captures the prize.
Whose palms with the silver is crowned
But in your rejoicing reserve a few sighs
And sob for the fellow who lost.
The winner without your indorsement can live.
The world with a smile may face,
But who consolation large hearted will give
To him who lost out in the race?

The hero, repentant, has plenty of friends
To slip him a collar as cheer,
And it is a favor if he unbends
To listen to those who are near.
The poor, sorry dub with the bruises and bumps
Who wasn't acc'd to the scrap
May still have a heart that with tender-ness thumps
And be a most likable chap.

The victor feels hardly the need of the fawns
Around him not friendly and thick.
He listens with much indignation and yawns,
For he has companionless pick.
The one who went down in the heat of the fray
Finds little enough friendly talk
And no one to toss him a single bouquet,
Though once he was cock of the walk.

Then come to the front for the man who is down,
Who cannot a favor bestow.
There is plenty to cheer for the pride of the town
And hail him an all of the show.
It cannot be said that for money you wait
On him who is laid on the shelf.
And who can assure you that sooner or later
You may not be down there yourself?

DRYSDALE, ONT., June 15th, 1913
"I am a general storekeeper at the above address, and on account of the great good I have experienced from using 'Fruit-a-lives', I recommend them strongly to my customers. They were a great boon to me. I can tell you, for about two years ago, I was laid up in bed with vomiting and a terrific pain at the base of my skull. The pain nearly drove me mad. Doctors feared it would turn to inflammation of the brain but I took 'Fruit-a-lives' steadily until I was cured. I have gained fifteen pounds since taking 'Fruit-a-lives' and I verily believe they saved me from a disastrous illness."

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

(COAL mining rights of the Dominion, in the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1.00 per acre. More than 2,500 acres will be made to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights are applied for.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the land applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns, according to the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 per acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of the Dominion Lands.
